Pontiac Press Photo

CIRCUS ARRIVES — The gray dawn revealed a strange spectacle this morning to Pontiac's early risers. There were mountains on the horizon! As the night gave way to daylight, the mountain range became a long, restless line of elephants, impatiently tugging at their chains, as if anxious to get to work on their task of pulling up the big top. In a matter of hours, the deserted field at Walton Blvd. and Baldwin st., had blossomed into a circus fairyland and King and Cole Bros. big parade made its way through the downtown streets. The circus is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The night performance will start at 8 p. m. and the doors will open one hour earlier.

W. E. Slaughter Fired by Senate From Pike Post

Birmingham Man Fails to Win Reappointment as Authority Chairman

LANSING (UP)—William E. Slaughter of Birmingham was ousted yesterday as chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority which ran into opposition on its proposal to build a toll road from Rockwood to Saginaw.

The State Senate rejected Gov. G. Mennen Williams' reappointment of Slaughter to the authority which he had directed since its inception in 1953.

The vote against approving Slaughter was 15-5.

Governor Williams called Slaughter highly qualified and a "highly successful Republican businessman." He said Slaughter's rejection by the Senate "was accompanied by no adequate explanation."

"This won't stop the turnpike, but it ought to make a lot of people stop and think," Williams said.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville), chairman of the Senate business Committee which passes on all Williams, appointments, reported Slaughter's name to the full Senate without recommendation.

Hutchinson said Slaughter, a gasoline dealer, was a "controversial appointment to an authority which in itself is a very controversial agency."

DELAY DEFEATED

Since the business committee did not recommend Slaughter, Hutchinson said he would not vote for his confirmation.

Sen. Charles Blondy (D-Detroit) tried to postpone the vote until July 14 "when the entire Senate membership will be present." But his motion was defeated.

Blondy said it was "unfortunate that some senators had gone home already and unfair to vote without the full membership."

Democratic Sen. Patrick Doyle of Dearborn, where the toll road was bitterly opposed, urged the Senate to reject the appointment of Slaughter.

The bill to eliminate the authority died in the Senate Highway Committee.

Adjourn at 1:47 a.m. After Passing Tax

Legislators Stay at Desks Past Midnight to Wind Up Session; Budget Balanced

LANSING (UP)—The Michigan Legislature ended its 1955 session at 1:47 a.m. today, claiming a balanced budget for the next year.

Smashing rules and precedents in late night session, the Legislature increased the business receipts tax enough, so it said, to balance the 273 million dollar general fund budget approved for the next fiscal year starting July 1.

Whether this was true rested with the tax collectors.

There was evidence that the business receipts tax would produce about 21 million dollars next fiscal year, and about 28 million dollars in the succeeding fiscal year—athough the general fund budget for next year was 27 million dollars above existing revenues.

Some Senate sources, familiar with finances, said that current revenue estimates were overly optimistic and that the budget for next year probably would end up about three to four million dollars in the red.

But the lawmakers went home happy that they had broken an apparently insoluble deadlock over new taxes.

HUTCHISON 'HERO'

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) emerged as the 'hero" of the session

Single-handedly, Hutchinson stopped in its tracks an attempt by Senate taxation leaders to stall solution of the revenue issue until the usually-perfunctory, two-day sine die (final) adjournment session July 14 and 15.

Hutchinson took the floor at suppertime Friday to charge that the Legislature had "happily" voted millions of dollars worth of expenditures and now faced the responsibility of raising revenues to meet that cost.

Hutchinson blocked two attempts to adjourn the session right then, insisting that the Legislature buckle down to a solution of a revenue problem.

COMITTEE BUCKLES

He appeared to have an overwhelming majority of the Senate, Republicans and Democrats alike, behind him and the stubborn House-Senate Conference Committee on Taxes buckled before the obvious desire for a solution.

The conference committee was in sharp disagreement at that point Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) Senate tax leader, was

But Demands Arbitration of Differences

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

DETROIT — CIO Presi- Walter Reuther accepted Ford Motor Company's offer to set up a $55,000,000 job security fund today on the condition Ford would agree to arbitrate union and company differences over whether the fund should be used to guarantee an annual or semi-annual wage.

Ford Motor Company did not reply to the offer immediately. A new negotiation meeting was set for 3:30 p.m. and the company was expected to reply at that time.

Reuther said that by permitting this issue to be set aside for arbitration later the two sides could immediately begin considering such other disputed matters as wages, pensions, duration of contract, health benefits and other matters.

Jack Conway, chief administrative assistant to Reuther, said the union's strike deadline set for Monday against Ford still was in effect.

"Unless all other issues are settled by the deadline there will be a strike against Ford Motor Company Monday," Conway said.

Reuther said the union has accepted Ford's offer to contribute five cents an hour per worker for one year, six cents an hour per worker for the second year and seven cents an hour per worker for the third year to build up the fund.

But Reuther said the union and company have been unable to agree whether the fund would be big enough to guarantee wages for six months or a year.

He suggested that the company agree to arbitrate the matter with the final decision going to a board of seven nationally prominent arbitrators appointed by Chief Justice Earl Warren of the U. S. Supreme Court, if necessary.

Meanwhile, negotiations between the UAW and General Motors, the nation's largest auto maker, also quickened in tempo as separate closed-door talks went on in the General Motors Building.

GM PACT ENDS

The GM pact covering 350,000 workers ends midnight Tuesday and a meeting of the UAW's National GM Council has been called for Monday morning. The council will decide on either a strike or extension of the GM agreement.

However, observers agreed that the ford parley holds the key to the UAW's demand for a guaranteed annual wage.

GM's offer was said to parallel Ford's "prosperity in Partnership" package which UAW rejected. However, the GM plan reportedly was 25 cents higher in its offer for retirement benefits and a cent an

Russian Papers 'Boring' Claims Their Own Press

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press is boring. The papers are so much alike it is difficult to tell one from the other and the general quality of Russian journalists is low. That is the tenor of recent articles appearing in influential Communist party periodicals.

All of the articles demand that the papers be made more colorful, less boring and less stereotyped.

Two of the most condemnatory articles about the Soviet press appeared recently in Party Life and in Kommunist. These are respectively, semimonthly and monthly journals of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the U.S.S.R.

The two party journals said the Soviet press is big—7,100 newspapers with daily circulation of 47 million; 1,500 magazines and other periodicals. But the articles agree the papers are boring, much alike and the general quality of Soviet journalists is low.

Party Life's article complained about "dry and stereotyped writing." It demanded that more Russian journalists specialize and not try to be "know-it-alls."

It charged selection of Soviet journalists is on a low level and maintained there should be "more selection of people who have a real calling for the profession."

"A journalist is above all a political and public figure who should have a highly developed feeling for the new thing and at the same time be a master of words who can express himself," the magazine said. actually, it continued, there are too few of these in Soviet press ranks and too many dolts and loafters.

NAM to Meet on GAW Issue

Business Leaders Plan Conference June 15 to Discuss 'Crisis'

CHICAGO (AP)—Many of the nation's business leaders will meet in Chicago June 15 to "seek a solution" to labor's demand for a guaranteed annual wage.

The conference is sponsored by the National Assn. of Manufacturers, which termed the annual wage "America's economic crisis."

"In the light of recent events in Detroit and the serious implications for all segments of our industrial community, we, as executives, have a mandate to sit down in common counsel and appraise the facts and seek a solution," said Gen. Charles C. Haffner Jr., conference chairman, in announcing the meeting last night.

Firm Asks Order to Halt Troy's Incorporation Vote

Attorneys for the Vickers Corp. asked the Oakland County Circuit Court late yesterday for a restraining order to halt the Troy Township incorporation election scheduled Tuesday.

Charging that the proposed new city does not have sufficient population to meet the state's requirement of 500 persons per square mile, the firm's attorneys have asked that the incorporation backers show cause why the voting should not be stopped.

The announcement by the Vickers Corp. that it would build a $2,000,000 plant in Troy Township started the incorporation move. Vickers officials and Royal Oak officials stated they wanted the plant site at Crooks and 15 Mile Road annexed to Royal Oak.

Troy residents balked at losing the valuable tax base and filed incorporation papers to forestall the annexation.

Troy Township Supervisor Norman R. Barnard said today he had received no official notice from the secretary of state's office as to whether the rechecked census showed enough residents.

MAY BE 77 SHORT

He added that unofficially he had heard that only 13,673 names were included. This would be 77 short of the required 13,750, if the area to be incorporated measured 27.5 square miles.

"This last minute move by Vickers is an attempt to hold up the democratic process," Barnard stated, "and I hope everyone will still turn out at the polls Tuesday. The election is still planned, until called off."

The exact area of the portion of the township to be incorporated also is clouded. The number of residents required will shift if this is changed from the 27.5 square mile figure used in present talks.

The hearing on the restraining order is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Monday before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

2 Money Bills Going to Senate

Vote Is Due Monday on Funds for Labor and Health Departments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate is to vote Monday on two major appropriations bills—the fifth and sixth of the dozen on its yearly calendar.

As approved by the Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday, the bills carry $2,404,055,600 for the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare Departments, and $5,882,379,500 for 17 separate agencies.

Among increases the committee voted over House figures was about 22 million dollars extra for research by the National Institutes of Health into cancer, heart disease, mental ailments, arthritis and other diseases.

Also approved was $1,600,000 for checking on Salk polio vaccine, asked by the administration after the House had passed the bill.

The largest of the 17 independent agencies covered in the other bill was the Veterans Administration, for which the committee voted $4,469,130,000, or $6,004,000 more than the House had approved.

Vice Squad Officers Make Their Point

Sgt. Raymond E. Meggitt and Detective Herbert C. Cooley, armed with warrants to conduct a vice raid early this morning, were slightly detained enroute to their destination.

Cruising slowly near Brand and Wessen Sts., the officers were attracted by the sound of "gallop-dominoes" and the yell "seven come eleven."

Four men were huddled next to a building with a flashlight.

"You're under arrest," announced the officers.

Answered one of the men, "Snake eyes and the pot's yours, policemen!"

Pontiac Motor Division Production Reaches Peak

Records continue to be shattered at Pontiac Motor Division as R. M. Critchfield, vice president of general motors and general manager of the Division, announced that the first five months production of 267,729 Pontiacs this year is 145 per cent of the similar production period during the previous record-breaking year of 1950.

Pontiac's production, compared with the like period last year shows an even greater increase, Critchfield pointed out, as it represents 160 per cent of the 1954 output.

"Even with this record production, dealer stocks are below normal for this time of the year," Critchfield said.

Ohio's Lausche Buddy-Buddy Now With H.S.T.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio's Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, often cool to Harry Truman in the past, last night called him "one of the great presidents of our country."

Lausche, at odds with national Democratic leaders recently over his refusal to attend a political confab of Democratic governors in Washington, heaped praise on Truman in a welcoming speech at a $100-a-plate dinner for the Truman library fund.

"The goodness of his deeds and the soundness of his policies will be judged as time goes on," Lausche said. He said that although Truman's policies were criticized "there has been no effort made to change them."

That, Lausche said, attested to the goodness of the policies.

"Harry Truman," the five-term governor concluded, "will go down in history as one of the great presidents of our country."

Truman, 71 years old but in jaunty good health, whipped through a long day of activities in Cleveland.

He told the capacity crowd of 600 at the dinner that he might disagree with some of Eisenhower's policies, but he thought every American should support the President on foreign policy.

Conrad Wins British Title

Texan Beats Slater, 3-2, in 36-Hole Links Finale at Royal Lytham

ST. ANNE'S-ON-THE-SEA, Eng. (INS)—Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., won the British Amateur golf championship today by defeating Alan Slater of England, 3 and 2, in the 36-hole final at Royal Lytham and St. Anne's.

ST. ANNE'S-ON-SEA, Eng. (INS)—Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., was three up with five holes to play today in his 36-hold British Amateur golf championship match with Alan Slater of England.

Conrad, a U. S. flying lieutenant, was 4 up at the end of the morning's 18-hole round and increased that margin to 5 up on the 1st hole after lunch. Then Slater suddenly found his game and slowly pecked away at the Texan's huge lead, until he was only 1 down at 27 holes.

Pontiac Car 'Chief' Jailed in Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—John Big Tree, the Onondaga Indian chief whose nose adorns the nickel, is in trouble with the law.

Chief Big Tree was charged yesterday with driving while intoxicated. Police said it was the first time the 79-year-old chief had been arrested.

The Indian head on the nickel is a composite, patterned after models chosen from various tribes throughout the nation. Big Tree also has modeled for the head that appears on Pontiac automobiles and has appeared in the movies.

He was held in lieu of $250 cash or $500 property bail for arraignment today in Syracuse Traffic Court.

Korean Neutral Zone Invaded by Wild Animals

SEOUL (AP)—Nearly two years of armistice has opened a 3-mile strip stretching 150 miles across the Korean Peninsula—the demilitarized zone—to an unexpected invasion.

"Tigers, foxes, wolves, mountain cats and all kinds of birds and beasts are swarming into the area," the Seoul Daily News complained.

Tigers of the fierce Siberian species have mauled at least six Allied soldiers, it said. A South Korean soldier recently captured three tiger cubs.

The truce zone is closed to civilians. A few Allied and Communist soldiers patrol it.

Soldiers fought bitterly for dozens of hills in the area in the closing days of the war. Crashing barrages drove animals to the quiet mountain fastnesses of the north.

Check Deviates in Sex Murder

A roundup of sex offenders went on as funeral services for the child were held yesterday at the new apostolic church.

Police were seeking a sex criminal recently released after an eight-year term in Southern Michigan Prison. He has relatives living near the rural area where Jeanie's body was found Wednesday, two weeks after her abduction and murder.

At Jeannie's funeral bishop Carl Strang of Chicago told mourners, "ours is not to condemn but to consider the source of the sinner's condition."

Detectives mingled with the funeral crowd on the chance the killer might attend the service and make some slip that would betray him.

Kalamazoo civic groups asked all interested organizations to attend a meeting June 16 to join forces in a war against similar crimes.

Area Weather Outlook Damp for Weekend

Weather outlook for the weekend in Pontiac may be dampening both to plans and spirits since the weather bureau forecasts RAIN.

Clouds gathering in Pontiac skies tonight will bring rain tomorrow and Sunday night too—though the forecast says the mercury will keep high. Expected low tonight is 60 to 65 degrees and Sunday's high will be about 82 to 86.

Yesterday's high in downtown Pontiac was 76 degrees, the low, 51. Today's low. before 8 o'clock, was 62 degrees and the mercury mounted toward an expected 86, reaching the 79 mark at 1 p.m.

Two Getting Degrees

DELAWARE, Ohio (UP)—Auto executive Roger M. Kyes and cartoonist Arthur Best Poinier, both of Detroit, will receive honorary degrees Monday at the Ohio Wesleyan University commencement. Kyes is vice president of General Motors Corp. and Poinier is the editorial cartoonist for the Detroit News.

Farmers Want Freedom

President Happy With New Small Plane, Gifts of Livestock at Gettysburg Farm

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was difficult to tell whether President Eisenhower was happier over his sleek new twin-engine plane or the gift livestock he received for his farm.

No doubt about it, he was tickled about both.

The President used the speedy light plane. A four-seater attached to the Air Force, for the first time yesterday on a trip to the farm at Gettysburg, Pa., and back to Washington.

At the farm, Eisenhower flashed a delighted smile in accepting from the donors a 300-pound Berkshire sow and three Black Angus cattle for his growing herd.

As for the plane, which he probably will use quite a bit in the future for shorter trips, the President put it this way at the farm:

"Boy, that's an easy way to come here compared to that car." Always before he had traveled to Gettysburg by automobile. The 85-mile trip ordinarily takes about two hours through fairly heavy traffic.

Yesterday he zipped up there in 32 minutes and was whisked back in 22, pushed by a brisk tail wind.

"That's a lot better than two hours," Eisenhower observed with a smile as a climbed out of the plane at National Airport here.

Eisenhower's next trip in the light plane may be to Pennsylvania State University, where he will deliver the commencement address June 11.

At his Gettysburg country place, the President received a 1,300-pound Black Angus cow, and his wife—who remained in Washington—got a 150-pound calf of the same breed from the Brandywine Aberdeen Angus Breeders Assn. Eisenhower laughed heartily when the calf decided it was time for a snack.

'Aha! Lunch time on the farm," the President chuckled. "We'll get her on the nurse cow. We have a nurse cow."

Late in the afternoon Eisenhower took a long look at the animals, a quick glance in the direction of Washington, and then announced with a note of regret:

"Well, it's about time, I guess, to go back to the salt mines."

Settlement Efforts Bog Down in Britain's Rail Walkout

By STANLEY GODFREY

LONDON (AP) — A threat of violence crept into Britain's crippling seven-day-old rail strike today. With thousands already jobless, settlement efforts bogged down and a seamen's wildcat strike tied up the New York-bound Mauretania at Southampton.

A few more trains operated in the 24 hours ending this morning in response to peace appeals by government and trade union leaders.

But at Stockport, members of the nonstriking National Union of Railwaymen complained that striking union men had come to their homes ad threatened them if they continued to man the trains.

Said one NUR official: "The conduct of some of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen amounts to intimidation of the first order."

* * *

James Baty, ASLEF strike leader, went home to rest after a strenuous week. A union spokesman said there has been no invitation to any meeting with anybody at this stage.

The rail strike appeared to be as far off from settlement as at any time since it began.

The striking unions demand more pay. Involved are 80 per cent of Britain's locomotive crewmen.

With a parallel strike of dock workers at six major ports idling 167 freighters and affecting Britain's exports, 130 seamen of the crew of 545 marched off the Mauretania as passengers for New York were going up the gangway of the luxury liner. The men demand a shorter work week.

hour above Ford in the annual improvement factor.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission said today "it will be impossible" to given an opinion on what effect a guaranteed annual wage might have on unemployment compensation until exact terms are spelled out and the attorney general's office has ruled.

"The commission is guided by terms of the state legislation defining compensation, remuneration, wages, paid holidays, vacation pay, severance pay, etc. Most of these terms have been spelled out in the law, and the inclusion among their number of anew type of income would have to be submitted to the attorney general's office for an opinion as to the type of payment which that income represented, in view of the contract language and surrounding circumstances.

"Until the commission can view the exact terms of any contract, and have them interpreted, it will be impossible for us to give even an opinion on what effect the variously described proposals . . . would have upon our payment of benefits."

Says Milk Products Are 15 Pct of Budget

DETROIT (AP) — The average Michigan housewife spends 15 per cent of her food budget for milk and milk products, and, in so doing, buys 30 per cent of her family's nutritional needs.

So says the Michigan Milk Producers' Assn. in a statement promoting June Dairy Month.

The Association says this is because the consumer received nearly two dollars worth of food value for every dollar spent for fluid milk.

Fluid milk accounts for 71 per cent of the milk shipped to Detroit. The rest goes into cheese, butter, ice cream, cottage cheese and other dairy products.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Edward Richards

Service will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. in the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints, 19 Front St. for Mrs. Edward Richards, 38, of 3855 Joslyn Rd. Elder Claude Cook will officiate with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mrs. Richards died Thursday at Pontiac General Hospital, after several months illness. Friends may call at the Huntoon Funeral Home.

Mrs. Mary Roegner

Former resident of Oakland County for many years, Mrs. Mary Roegner, age 91, died Thursday at 8:15 p.m. after a short illness. She was the mother-in-law of Congressman George A. Dondero of Royal Oak.

She resided on a farm in Troy Township for 35 years prior to 1942 when she took up residence in St. Clair.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. George A. Dondero of Royal Oak, Mrs. H. V. Rahm of Oxford and Irma Rahm at home; one son, Herman W. Roegner; seven grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Roegner was born in Detroit Oct. 27, 1863. Her parents were Carl and Christine (Holz) Blanck.

The Rev. Robert Burgess will conduct the funeral service at Bowers Funeral Home in St. Clair at 3 p.m. Sunday. Burial will be in Oak View Cemetery, Royal Oak.

William Scott

William Scott, 83, of 101 Lull St., died Thursday at his home after an illness of eight months.

Born Jan. 25, 1872, in Chatham, Ontario, Canada, he was the son of William and Eliza Marshall Scott. He was married in Detroit in 1916.

Mr. Scott came to Pontiac from Chatham 51 years ago.

Besides his wife, Lillian, he is survived by six children, Jennie Clay of Ypsilanti, Stanley Scott of Detroit, Clarence, Rosa Fletcher, Nettie Fowler and Velma Pippens, all of Pontiac.

Also surviving are a sister, Lena Parrish of Detroit, 25 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in the New Bethel Baptist Church with the Rev. J. Allen Parker of the Newman A.M.E. Church officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Scott will be at the William F. Davis Funeral Home after 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Baby Girl Young

Prayer service was held this morning at 10:30 a.m. in the Sparks-Griffin Chapel for the baby girl of Roy and Evelyn Walker Young, 3808 Morgan Rd. The Rev. Perry Horton of the Church of God officiated with burial following in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery.

The baby was born yesterday at 1:30 p.m. at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and died several hours later.

Williams Signs 2 Bills on Juvenile Delinquents

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today signed two of five bills designed to encourage counties to send juvenile delinquents to foster care homes instead of state institutions.

Williams put his signature on bills which would require counties to pay one-half the costs of children committed to the Michigan Children's Institute in Ann Arobor and the Girls' Training School in Adrian.

Compulsory Dog Vaccination Bill Dies in Senate

An amendment to a state law, which would have forced Pontiac to require vaccination of dogs, has died in a Senate committee, according to Oakland County Dog Warden Dr. Frank R. Bates.

The county Board of Supervisors passed a dog-vaccination law May 5, 1952, but Pontiac fought the measure and won exemption through a Circuit Court decision.

The amendment would have voided the grounds on which the city won the previous legal battle.

"The vaccine has been very beneficial," Dr. Bates said today. "We have not had a rabies case in the county-controlled area since July 17, 1954.

"We still haven't been able to inoculate a high enough percentage of dogs to insure a good safety factor, but there is no doubt the program has reduced rabies considerably. Fewer county residents have had to take the Pasteur treatment for rabies since the project was launched."

Gobel in Dutch With Church Group in Texas

Some 1,000 delegates to the conference's 116th annual meeting unanimously approved yesterday a board of temperance report which criticized the TV star for allegedly saying last Saturday night:

"You've heard that you can't buy happiness. You can. Go out and buy a fifth."

The temperance report asked the 185,000 conference members to wire or write protests to Gobel and his sponsors, the Pet Milk Co. and Armour & Co.

DENVER (AP)—Victor A. Weig, 45, interrupted the decorum of Denver Police Court yesterday to admonish Judge George M. McNamara that he "shouldn't look so sober."

McNamara thought the reverse of Weig, a witness in a police case, and ordered him to jail for drunkeness.

Legislature Passes Business Tax Boost

pressing to let the tax solution go over to July 14 and Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), the House tax boss, was accusing the Senate of balking any attempt at a solution.

Hutchinson smashed their belligerence and forced resignation, indirectly, of enough conference committee members to produce a new committee dedicated to reaching a solution.

The solution obtained did this:

It boosted the business receipts tax levy from four mills to 6½ mills, left the public utility rate at the present 1½ mills, allowed business to deduct depreciation on real estate, and set up a three-factor formula for computing the tax on multi-state business.

SALES ONLY

The three-factor formula would charge such businesses for 50 per cent of their in-state and out-state business activity on sales destination, physical assets and payrolls.

The present law covers only sales factors.

This was the big fight in the revenue bill. The Senate wanted to continue the one-factor formula and the House wanted the three-factor formula. The Senate desired a six mill levy and the House a seven mill rate.

Democrats hovered like hawks in the hope that the purely Republican tax fight would give them an opening for Gov. Williams' corporations', profits tax.

In a final post-midnight debate, Senate Democrats tried futilely to upset the tax program, expressing hope that Williams would veto the business tax increase.

AID ON LOCAL LEVEL

Conlin said three state taxes paid by business would amount to about 102 million dollars next year, plus "millions of dollars" in personal property taxes to local governments.

This, he said, was proof that Republican tax bills do not favor big business."

Gov. Williams climaxed the 1955 session with an impromptu address to the Senate in which he said that "as legislative sessions go, this was a most productive one."

He complimented the lawmakers especially for enacting fair employment practices legislation, for starting a "modern, arterial highway system," for boosting aid to public education and for legislation stimulating foster home care of child wards instead of institutionalizing them.

PARTIAL AGREEMENT

Williams hinted that he did not agree with all legislative decisions and would have more to say about that later, but he sent the lawmakers home with a pat on the back.

The general fund budget of 273 million dollars approved was in addition to 357 million dollars of restricted funds released by the Legislature for highways, conservation, airports, school aid and hospital construction.

Registration Set for Kindergarten

Parents Are Invited to Enter Children's Names Next Week

Parents of Pontiac's new kindergarten enrolees for September are invited to school next week to enter their children's names on the school record.

A registration schedule issued today by Gerald White, elementary coordinator for the Pontiac school district, requested that all parents bring the birth certificate of the child to be enrolled.

Any boy or girl who is five years old on or before December 1 of 1955 may enter school in September, he said.

An immunization chart listing the dates of shots given and the physician's name is also required.

White said that the following schedule will take care of the elementary schools of the district:

BAGLEY: June 8, 9, to 11:30 and 1 and 3. Regular kindergarten classes will not be in session.

BALEY: June 9 from 9 to 3. Regular kindergarten classes will not be in session.

BALDWIN: June 7 from 8:30 to 3:45. Register in the kindergarten rooms. Regular kindergarten classes will not be in session.

Service will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. for Mrs. Marie O'Rourke, 18453 Mendota, Detroit, who died at Mt. Carmel Hospital Thursday following a short illness. She was 55.

Wife of the late John O'Rourke, retired Detroit police officer who died in 1953, Mrs. O'Rourke is survived by a daughter Mrs. Jane Chitkin of Detroit; a brother, Herbert Cutting of Birmingham; her mother, Mrs. Charles D. Cutting of Birmingham, and three grandchildren.

Burial will be at Woodlawn Cemetery.

Lansing Makes Bid for Mason Remains

LANSING (AP)—Legislators planned to meet next week with Mayor Cobo of Detroit to obtain the body of Stevens T. Mason, Michigan's first governor, for reburial in the capitol grounds.

The Legislature yesterday adopted a resolution proposing that Mason's body be moved to Lansing.

The casket of the "boy governor" was removed this week from Capitol Park in Detroit to make way for a civic renovation program. Plans are to rebury it in about three weeks in the same park.

But Sens. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing) and Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) proposed in a resolution that the body be honored by burial at the Capitol.

Hittle said he had received word from Cobo's advisers that the mayor would discuss the proposal with lawmakers next week.

Mason was appointed acting governor of Michigan territory in 1831 at the age of 19 and was re-elected first governor of the state four years later. He died in New York in 1843 and was reburied in Detroit, on the site of the state's first capitol, in 1905.

"Scot free" originally meant without payment of a scot, or tax. Today, this expression means "safe" or "without penalty."

How it Works:

Business Receipts Tax

LANSING (UP)—Here is a brief explanation of the changes in Michigan's business receipts tax adopted by the Legislature early today to balance the budget.

The legislation increases the tax rate from four to 6.5 mills on businesses and from one to 1.5 mills on public utilities.

Tax payments will be figured on the basis of sales, payrolls and property involved in business operations.

Depreciation on real estate will be deductible.

Local bus lines operating under a franchise will pay the utility tax rate of 1.5 mills.

Businesses in which payrolls are a major cost factor will be given a small, extra deduction.

It was estimated these changes would produce an extra $23,500,000, producing a total tax take of $53,500,000 in fiscal 1955-56. Receipts were expected to increase to $61,000,000 the following year.

Town Produces Gift Advertising

Coshocton, Ohio, Rates as Nation's Center for Calendars, Other Items

COSHOCTON, Ohio (UP) — If there's an advertising calendar, ashtray, blotter or any other useful item with a company name on it in the house, the chances are good that it came from here.

This is the nation's center for advertising give-aways, or "specialty advertising," as it is called in the trade.

The most obvious item is the calendar, ranging from the nature and pin-up girl types to expensive-looking little leather desk holders.

Advertising give-aways are 68 years old. The original item was a canvas school bag with an ad printed on the side. Similar bags can still be seen in some places.

He bought the Age from Joseph Medill, who went to Chicago and there founded the Tribune. Like most small-town printers, Meek also did job work, but in the community there was little to be done.

One day he saw a schoolboy drop his books on the ground. He helped pick them up, and with them picked up the idea of a bag—a bag with the name of a store on it.

A shoe dealer bought his idea — radical for the time — and ordered some bags. Other merchants did the same for horse blankets—the kind used to keep off summer flies.

The idea took off fast from there. By the beginning of the century Coshocton was already known in advertising circles.

Today it is a major business. The idea is that a person with a useful item will have the advertisement constantly before him. He is also likely to feel some gratitude to the company for giving it to him for nothing.

Besides comparatively cheap items, such as blotters and calendars, Coshocton firms turn out "class" advertising items such as leather billfolds and desk sets, barometers, clocks and even cigarette lighters.

Royal Ear Infected

LONDON (UP)—Princess Anne, 4-year-old daughter of Queen Elizabeth, has a "slight ear infection," Buckingham Palace announced today. She will have to cancel her first airplane trip, a flight tomorrow with her 6½-year-old brother Prince Charles to London from Balmoral Castle, Scotland.

Vets' Chief Hits Clinic Closing

VFW Official Claims Grand Rapids Center to Be Shut Down by VA

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Leon B. Buer, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, says he has learned the Veterans Administration in Washington plans to close down the VA medical service substation in Grand Rapids.

Buer said yesterday he learned from Washington sources Wednesday that west Michigan cases usually handled by the substation are to be processed through the VA offices in Detroit as an economy move.

Buer said the Michigan VFW will protest the planned move to the state's congressional delegation.

Protests also will be sent to Harvey Higley, VA administrator, and Dr. William Middleton, chief VA medical officer, Buer said.

MORE EXPENSIVE

"It is ridiculous to consider closing the substation here as an economy move," Buer said. "It would be more expensive to send patients to Detroit for processing and less prompt or efficent."

The substation here cares for veterians in the Lower Peninsula west of U.S. 27. It dispenses some 2,000 treatments monthly and sends approximately 30 patients to veterans hospitals each month.

"West Michigan always has been a Siberia as far as the Veterans Administration is concerned," Buer said.

Canada Indians in Need of Cash to Battle Taxes

SARNIA, Ont. (UP)—Canada's Indians are asking the federal government to turn the key to their war chest so they can finance a court battle against paying income tax.

Micmacs from the Maritimes, Capilanos from the Pacific Coast and tribesmen from the forests, plains and farmlands in between votes this week to ask the government to allow tribal councils to dip into tribal funds for the fight. The funds are earned by rental of tribal lands and similar means.

* * *

The action was taken at the annual convention of the North American Indian Brotherhood, which speaks for many of Canada's 151,000 Indians. Indians are not taxed on reservation income but argue the exemption should be extended to off-the-reservation earnings.

1,909 Will Graduate at MSC on Sunday

EAST LANSING (UP)—Michigan State College will confer 1,909 student degrees and 13 honorary doctor of laws degrees at commencement exercises Sunday, MSC officials announced today.

The centennial year graduating class of 1,724 undergraduates and 185 advance-degree candidates will receive official designation at the ceremony but will wait until next month for their diplomas.

The senior class voted to wait until July 1 for diplomas bearing the title "Michigan State University." The recent name change becomes law on that day.

An estimated 20,000 guests at the 97th annual MSC commencement will be addressed by Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff. His speech will deal with "The America Mission."

Radford will be among those receiving honorary doctor of laws degrees.

Rochester Area Residents Flock to First Home Show

Lions Sponsor Building Exhibit

Displays Will Be Open Until 10 Tonight and Sunday

ROCHESTER—Residents of the Rochester area began streaming through the village's first home show today, viewing the exhibits of the growing building industry that is booming in their community.

In Rochester, the high school band marched to Halbach Field, where Village President Clarence Burr officially opened the show.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Rochester Lions Club, and proceeds will be used for club activities.

MANY EXHIBITS

Supplementing inside exhibitions, local auto dealers have reserved space outside the tent for their latest models. The show will be open until 10 p.m. today, and from noon until 10 p.m. Sunday.

The week of May 30-June 5 has been proclaimed "Rochester Home Week" by the village council, in honor of the event.

BOOSTS AREA

"Whereas the Rochester Lions Club has undertaken to organize a 'Rochester Home Show' in order to publicize the many advantages of living in this area, with its excellent location, neighborly citizens and forward-looking businessmen" were the reasons cited by the council in issuing the proclamation.

One of the many prize features will be a lion hunt, with $100 going to the person who finds the man with the lion.

Boat Trip Set for Sunday

Water Level Survey Planned by Group at Williams Lake

A tour and documentary film will be made Sunday of the problem areas in connection with the Williams Lake water level, Lee Kaines, chairman of the water level committee, has announced.

Making the four-hour trip will be committee members and lake lot owners effected by the water level. The group will leave by boat at 11 a.m. from 2881 Lansdowne, Williams Lake.

Explanation of the level problem will be given by Kaines. The group will see related points of interest at Williams Lake, Maceday Lake, Van Norman Lake, the controlling dam at Waterford, and upper stretches of the Clinton river.

The group will disembark at Waterford, so it will not be necessary to retrace the rout, Kaines said.

"Movies of the water course affecting the Williams Lake level will serve to give a clearer idea of the problem.

"Interviews with many of the persons concerned reveal a startling amount of inaccurate, preconceived notions of the cause, effect and geography of this problem," Kaines said.

Williams and Maceday Lakes are connected by a causeway and water culvert. When the water from Williams Lake goes down during dry seasons, the lake has no water source to bring the water level back to normal, Kaines explained.

"Opening the culvert from Maceday lake is one source of water, said Kaines. "Now the residents of Maceday think such a move would cause their water level to fall. "But that notion is not entirely true, and that's the reason why the tour will be made Sunday — to give all parties concerned a sensible, positive picture of the problem," Kaines concluded.

Bank Planned at Union Lake

Community National to Construct Office if U. S. Approves Move

UNION LAKE—Provided the federal government sanctions the move, Community National Bank will erect a new branch here at the corner of Union Lake and Cooley Rds.

A Community National official yesterday said the bank has applied to the U. S. comptroller of currency for permission to construct a branch on a 158x250 foot plot at the southwest corner of the intersection.

* * *

The bank recently purchased the property for more than $47,000.

The branch, which would be at a point midway between the bank's Walled Lake and Keego Harbor units, would be of one-story design and offer safety deposit box service, the official said.

At the hub of four townships—White Lake, Waterford, Commerce and West Bloomfield—Union Lake is in the heart of a rapidly developing residential area, he pointed out.

56,000 IN AREA

Bank surveys show there are an estimated 56,000 persons now living in the four-township area, representing an increase of 13,000 residents during the past four years.

In the first nine months of 1954, building permits were issued for 1,267 new dwelling units in the townships. Within a 2½-mile radius of the proposed branch live 15,000 people.

The bank began surveying the area about six months ago, the spokesman said.

Community National has its main office and a branch in Pontiac. Branches are in Waterford Township, Keego Harbor and Walled Lake.

Milford Woman to Aid Viet Nam

Miss Alexandra Rolland With MSC Research Unit to Leave for Far East

MILFORD — Miss Alexandra Rolland of 3510 Commerce Rd. will be one of a Michigan State College team of specialists who will go to South Viet Nam to help that government strengthen its civil operations.

Currently a research assistant in MSC's Governmental Research Bureau, Miss Rolland will leave for Saigon Aug. 24, where she will serve as a research associate for a two-year period.

Michigan State's assistance program for South Viet Nam was formalized April 20 in the signing of a two-year contract at Washington by MSC officials and the Foreign Operations Administration.

The fund agreement provides for a staff of 30 at Saigon, including nine MSC staff members.

Purpose of assistance program is to "help the people of Vietnam in their struggle to establish and maintain a democratic nation," MSC President John Hanns explained.

Efforts will be directed to reorganization of government offices and re-training of police in South Vietnam.

MARRIED 50 YEARS — Mr. and Mrs. Burt Ashley of Oxford will be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday. The Golden Wedding festivities will include an open house party Sunday afternoon at their home at 55 West Burdick St. The party was planned for them by their daughters, Mrs. Lawrence Bradford of Squirrel road and Mrs. Jack Gonyou of Grey road, who are inviting all the friends of the couple to attend.

County, Milford Officials Air Wixom Road Issue

MILFORD — Oakland County road commissioners met with village President Bartlett Smith, Milford Township Supervisor Howard Reid and Wixom Road Improvement Assn. members yesterday to discuss what is to be done about finishing the blacktop project on Wixom road.

County road commissioners informed the group that the county budget does not permit finishing the Wixom road.

Road Commissioner Robert said, "There is no hope for completing that road this year, and possibly next. We don't know when the road can be finished."

The controversial seven-mile stretch of road between Wixom and Milford was partially blacktopped last year, and residents had assumed that the resurfacing was on a two-year basis and would be completed this year, according to Charles Ash, president of the Wixom Road Improvement Assn.

A bad S-turn on the road was straightened out and a new bridge was built at a cost of approximately $60,000. Another sharp turn at Sleeh road has been improved and three miles of roadbed is now ready for the blacktop job.

Smith pointed out that if the road was not completed at this time it would cost the taxpayer an excessive amount to re-prepare the roadbed for blacktopping.

Road Commissioner Sol Lomerson estimated it would cost about $75,000 to complete the last three miles to Milford.

Club Plans Picnic

METAMORA — The Metamora Hills Extension Club will hold a picnic at Richfield Center Park Wednesday. Members will meet at Mirror Lake at 11:30 a.m.

Metamora Set for Edison Vote

Township Will Decide on Franchise for Firm to Supply Power

METAMORA—A special election will be held Monday in Metamora Township to vote on a Detroit Edison Co. franchise to supply electricity for public and private use in the township.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Metamora Township Hall.

The franchise was approved by the Township Board on April 13. Confirmation by voters is all that is now needed to put it into effect.

The franchise provides for the "distribution of electricity" and grants permission to erect or construct poles, pipes, and other such apparatus needed to maintain the service.

Hospital Auxiliary Sets Annual Tea Wednesday

MARLETTE—The Marlette Community Hospital Auxiliary will hold its annual tea, starting at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

The program will include a skit, "Mad Hatter Chatter." A group of instrumental and vocal selections, "Teen Tunes," also will be featured.

Mrs. Walter Wood and Mrs. Ford Boyne will serve the tea.

Imlay City Kindergarten Class Is Graduated

IMLAY CITY—Forty-five members of the kindergarten class were graduated to the first grade when they received certificates this week.

A greeting by the group was followed by songs, poems, baton twirling and selections by the rhythm band. Miss Florence Baur is the kindergarten teacher.

Marilyn Kreger Married in Evening Church Rites

MRS. EVAN WOOD

CLARKSTON — First Methodist Church at Clarkston was the scene of the wedding of Marilyn B. Kreger and Evan William Wood Saturday evening.

Rev. Robert B. Atkins read the double ring candlelight ceremony in the presence of 250 guests before an altar banked with white snapdragons and gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of the Ralph Kregers of 8051 Perry Lake Rd. The James E. Woods of Willoughby, Ohio are the parents of the bridegroom.

Marilyn wore a floor length gown of white crystalette, fashioned with portrait neckline, fitted bodice and long fitted sleeves forming points over the hands. The full hooped skirt fell into a formal cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil was held in place by a headpiece of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

Mrs. W. David Williams of Royal Oak was the bride's matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. William Brown of Royal Oak, Maxine Kreger of Franklin, cousin of the bride and Jean Wood of Willoughby, Ohio, sister of the bridegroom.

Serving Mr. Wood as best man was Wayne Tegner of Willoughby, Ohio. Ushers were Roger Hammerstrand of Painesville, Ohio, Lloyd Hodgin of Sarnia, Ontario, Canada and Thomas Houston of Detroit.

A reception for her guests was held at Clarkston High School. Following a trip through the New England states, the couple will reside on Manchester Road, Birmingham.

MOMS Set Meeting

WATERFORD — The Waterford Village MOMS Unit 36 will meet with Mrs. Robert Van Marter at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Diana Sibrel, David Harter Speak Vows

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Diana Sibrel and Capt. David Harter were united in marriage recently at a double ring ceremony in St. Mark's Evangelical Church on Evergreen road.

Diana is the daughter of G. L. Sibrel and the late Mrs. Sibrel. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Harter of Walled Lake.

The bride wore a gown of white tulle over satin, which was topped by a lace jacket with long sleeves. A juliette lace cap secured her fingertip nylon net veil and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis, likes of the valley and white roses.

Maid of honor was Peggy Laakso.

Council, Jaycees Air Parking Plan

Long Range Proposal for Oxford Developed in Joint Study

OXFORD—At a special meeting this week, the Oxford Village Council and representatives from the Oxford Chamber of Commerce heard a long range plan to provide adequate parking in the business district.

The plan is the outcome of a study by a village council and C. of C. joint committee.

It proposed immediate action to provide off-street parking at the township hall, and advised discussing with Methodist Church officials the possibility of converting unused church property adjacent to the east side shopping area into a parking lot.

Committees were formed to look into both possibilities.

The plan also recommended improvement of existing parking area between Burdick and Stanton Sts., as follows:

1. Asphalt as much of alley as possible.

2. Set up parking stalls on east side of property.

3. Install proper rails on east side of property.

4. Install parking meters.

5. Allow 1-way traffic south only.

6. Install adequate signs designating the parking area.

Officials expressed the hope that by following a long range plan and using money from the parking meter fund to effect improvement, parking difficulties eventually could be solved without undue cost to the taxpayer.

Walled Lake Rotary Honors 3 Students

WALLED LAKE — The Walled Lake Rotary Club will honor three Walled Lake High School students and their parents at a farewell party at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the Walled Lake Methodist Church, as part of their regular monthly meeting.

The students, Mary Roach, Shirley Wooden, and Bill Duckwitz will leave for Germany on June 15 to spend 10 weeks on a "Youth for Uuderstanding" tour, jointly sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches and the Rotary Clubs. They are among 30 Michigan honor students selected in the summer exchange program.

The local Rotary is paying the round trip fare from Walled Lake to New York for the students, and giving each of them $50 spending money.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be the German consul from Detroit.

100 Homemakers Will Attend 3-Day Camp

Over 100 Home Extension Club members from Oakland and Lapeer Counties have registered to attend a three-day Homemaker's Camp at Waldenwoods.

The Camp will open with a one-hour registration period at 7 a.m. Sunday and end with an evening square dance Tuesday night.

Workshops on various crafts are scheduled, along with dances, songfests and get-acquainted sessions. Specialists in fields related to home crafts will give talks.

Camp directors are home demonstration agents Mrs. Frieda Bennett and Mrs. Mary Hixon of Oakland County and Mrs. Dorothy Pohl of Lapeer County.

Lady of Grace Shrine Receives Rose Crown

Assisting Rosemary were Coleen Horecki, Rita Schlaud, Joan Repic and Alma Lou Ford. Members of the Rosary Alter Society and the children's choir formed part of the procession to the Shrine.

Highway M-181 Slated for Early Completion

METAMORA—Highway M-181, a 13-mile stretch of road between Metamora and Highway M-53, will be completed this summer, Charles Zeigler, state highway commissioner, has announced.

Work was started on the west half of the road in 1953, and grading of the east half was completed during 1954.

County Deaths

MILFORD—Service for Mrs. Silas M. (Edith Mae) Johnson, 72, of 2042 S. Milford Rd., will be held at 3 p.m. today from Hudson Funeral Home, Ellettsville, Ind., with burial in Ellettsville Cemetery. She died Thursday.

Surviving are her husband; two sons, Harold of Milford, Ross of Lapeer; one brother, three sisters and four grandchildren.

Edwin Mills

ROCHESTER—Service for Edwin Mills, 76, of 763 Elizabeth St., will be held at 11 a.m. Monday from the William R. Potere Funeral Home, with burial in Dryden. He died Friday.

Surviving are his widow, Ida Mae; two daughters, Mrs. Walter Buzzell of Lansing, Mrs. Lester Hirtzel of Detroit; one son, Robert of Leonard; one sister, Mrs. Lottie Nicol of Cass City; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

3 Churches Plan Daily Vacation Bible Schools

IMLAY CITY — Daily Vacation Bible School at First Baptist, First Congregational and St. Paul Lutheran Churches will start Monday, with classes from 9 to 11:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, for two weeks.

The program at the Lutheran Church will include Bible lessons, a song period, handicraft, chapel, flannelgraph and recreation periods. The classes are for youngsters 3-14 years of age.

On opening day at the Baptist Church a parade is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Theme of the lessons will be "Sailing With Christ."

A Sunday School picnic will be held on June 16.

Clarenceville Class Scholarships Listed

CLARENCEVILLE — Valedictorian of the 1955 graduating class, Bytas Petrusevicuis, has been offered a civil enginering scholarship by Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Senior Joseph Mitchell will attend the University of Michigan on a Ford Motor Co. fund scholarship.

Sharon Moreland has been presented the nursing scholarship of $200 by the Livonia Business and Professional Women's Club. She also plans to attend the University of Michigan.

Baccalaureate Services Set for Sunday

High school seniors in several areas of Oakland County will participate in solemn baccalaureate exercises tomorrow, symbolically turning over their places in the schools to members of the junior classes.

After more than a decade of classroom life, a few deliberate steps will crack the scholastic shell, and a new cadre of citizens will emerge.

Milford

"The Road Ahead" is the topic the Rev. Robert Hall of the Milford Baptist Church has chosen for the 7:30 p.m. service at the high school.

Several vocal numbers by the high school choral ensemble will be featured throughout the program.

Oxford

Ceremonies at Oxford High are scheduled for 8 p.m.

Beginning this year, only one local minister will participate in the service. The Rev. G. E. Behnke of the Oxford Lutheran Church is the speaker this year.

Lake Orion

The baccalaureate address will be given by the Rev. William C. Hamm, of St. Mary-in-the-Hills. His topic for the 8 p.m. service in the high school auditorium is "Magnifying the Lord."

The Rev. Walter C. Ballagh, of the Baptist Church, will give the invocation and benediction.

Troy Township

The Rev. Marvin V. Turner is the speaker for the rites at Troy Township High School. His topic is "A Postgraduate Course With God."

The service will be held at 8 p.m. at the high school.

Auburn Heights

The Rev. Harvey J. McCann of the Presbyterian Church will deliver the sermon at the 8 p.m. service for seniors of Avondale High School.

The Rev. Elden H. Cummings of the Free Methodist Church will give the invocation and benediction.

Dryden

County Calendar

Southfield Township

The Cambridge Bridge Club will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. William Sennett, 27230 Shagbark Dr.

Troy Township

The Mulberry Bunko Club will meet with Jean Usalak, 300 Wattles, at 8 p.m. Monday.

To Wreck Boat Built in Garret of U. S. Shrine

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) — You've seen miniature boats in bottles. Now here's one about a boat in an attic.

It's a 27-foot craft built 73 years ago by William K. Howard, who lived at Kenmore, a home near here that once was inhabited by George Washington's sister and is now a shrine.

* * *

When he finished the boat, Howard found he couldn't get it through the small attic window. Howard was only 20 at the time and his mother wouldn't let him make the opening larger.

So all these years the boat has been drying and gathering dust in the attic. Now, Robert Frink, director of Kenmore, thinks a house cleaning is in order. But before breaking up the boat he'll contact Howard's descendants to see if they're interested in the craft for sentimental sake.

Free Highway Map Issue Stirs Up a Hornets' Nest

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Harold M. Ryan of Detroit, the Democratic floor leader, ran into a hornets' nest yesterday when he condemned State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler for issuing free highway maps to motorists.

He said the state would have another $100,000 to spend on highways annually if the state saved the $35,000 spent on maps, matched it with federal funds and auctioned off to an oil company the right to issue an official highway map.

Ryan charged there was no legal authority for the state maps.

Sen. Donald E. Smith (R-Owosso) charged Ryan with a "cheap, picayunish, insincere, hypocritical publicity stunt."

30 YEAR PRACTICE

Smith said that Democratic-Republican highway commissioners had issued the free maps for 30 years. He said Democratic senators had no equal in stamping their names on the maps and hailing them to constituents to curry political favor.

Sen. Lewis G. Christman (R-Ann Arbor) said the maps cost Ziegler 3-100,000ths of one per cent of the highway fund. Not many roads can be built with that sum, he said. He called Ryan "ridiculous."

Sen. Bert J. Storey (R-Belding) said former Democratic Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner had painted his name on "every sign and toilet" in Michigan and that Ziegler stopped this practice.

Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman) said he never had seen an oil company road map that was as accurate as the State Highway Department's map.

Welfare Agency Issues 19,254 Pounds of Food

A total of 3,918 persons were supplied with 19,254 pounds of government surplus food during May, according to Oakland County Social Welfare officials.

Foodstuffs, including butter, cheese, shortening, dry milk, beans and rice, were valued at $6,422.37, an average of $1.63 per person. The Welfare Commission secures the foods from a storage plant in Fenton.

Surplus commodities are furnished by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture in cooperation with the distribution section of the Michigan Dept. of Administration.

Broomfield Expects to Head Committee

State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), yesterday said he expects to head a legislative committee to investigate the rapidly expanding business of debt management.

The Senate Wednesday approved Blomfield's resolution calling for the investigation and allocating $1,500 to finance it. The senator promised a "complete investigation" of the growing business of handling problems of indebted persons if the Senate makes him chairman.

The lawmaker said the probe was necessary to determine whether the business of debt management should be licensed and regulated by the state.

Beware of Unknown Building Contractors!

In the last few weeks, Pontiac area house owners have been flooded with out-of-state offers of re-siding and modernization jobs "at cost or below."

This is the old "model home" racket in which the prospect is apparently offered a substantial discount if he will only let the salesman use this home as a model.

In a particular instance, which occurred in the last few days, the home owner was promised a "$1,600 job for only $1,030." A local contractor's bid on the same job was only $850. Other known examples follow the same pattern.

1. Out-of-state contractors have no local responsibility — you're stuck with the job.
2. If you have signed with a contractor who does not have a state license, your contract is void.
3. If you permit work to be done on your house without a city or township permit, you may be in trouble.
4. Always get at least two bids.
5. For your own safety, deal only with local, reputable contractors.

Pennsy Planning for New Station

New York City Site of Old Terminal Will Get New Structure

NEW YORK (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad has announced it has reached agreement with the real estate firm of Webb & Knapp Inc. on "terms for building a new railroad station and the world's largest commercial building on the present site of Pennsylvania Station" in New York City.

The station is the nation's biggest and busiest. It is used by about 70 million passengers a year.

The agreement is in addition to one reached between the Pennsylvania and Webb & Knapp in April giving it title to two blocks of Pennsylvania trackage near the station for the purpose of erecting a huge building, tentatively estimated to cost 100 million dollars, in air rights over the tracks.

The papers will be signed by William Zeckendorf, president of Webb & Knapp; and James M. Symes, president of the Pennsylvania, on Tuesday morning, it was announced.

A spokesman for Webb & Knapp said the agreement called for a year's study of possible plans before any building can be undertaken. This, he explained, would entail approval by the New York City government of such architectural details as building setbacks.

Pennsylvania Station, a massive structure of classic Roman design, stretches from 31st to 33rd streets and between 7th and 8th avenues in Manhattan.

The building covers 7½ acres on a 9-acre plot. The first train ran there in September 1910, six years after the building site was excavated.

At present the world's largest commercial building is Chicago's Merchandise Mart, which has 4,023,400 square feet of floor area.

It Pays to Observe Water Safety Rules

With the outdoor season now in full swing and with one life already lost by drowning, it is high time to talk about water safety.

Water safety is important wherever swimming, boating and fishing are enjoyed. It is especially so here because Oakland County's 400 lakes lure such throngs of visitors from the metropolitan area. Each summer several lives are lost in our lakes because of failure to observe the common sense rules governing the safe enjoyment of these healthful sports.

★ ★ ★

A first rule for swimmers, no matter how expert, is never to go in the water alone. Second, and equally important, no one should go swimming until at least an hour and a half after eating, or dive into water of unknown depth. Young children, naturally, never should be permitted to go beyond their depth.

One of the rules of safe boating is never leave shore in an overloaded craft. Safety obviously requires that no one attempt to change seats in midlake. All should avoid that hazardous pastime of rocking the boat.

Fishermen, as well as everybody else, no matter how skilled they are in the operation of boats, should be careful not to run down swimmers. All likewise should make for shore the moment there is any sign of a squall or a storm.

Common sense also must be used in the relatively new sports of aqua planing and skin diving which have become so popular. Our many lakes make Oakland one of the Nation's most favored counties for summertime enjoyment of all water sports.

Let's avoid anything that might make these sports dangerous by always keeping safety uppermost in mind.

Court Rules Haymes Can Remain in U. S.

U. S. District Judge Burnita S. Matthews has rejected the Immigration Service's contention that Haymes could be deported for re-entering the country illegally after a visit to Hawaii.

The deportation order, issued last November and now cancelled, was the outgrowth of Haymes' 1953 trip to see Actress Rita Hayworth, whom he later married. Grounds cited for the order were that his re-entry into the United States constituted illegal return from "a foreign port or place or from an outlying possession."

In her decision Judge Matthews reached the conclusion that Haymes couldn't be deported because he never had left United States territory. She also added that legally "outlying possessions" means only American Samoa and Swains Island, one of the American Samoa group in the South Pacific.

Our Government's contention all along has been that Haymes is ineligible for citizenship because he claimed neutral status during world War II and didn't serve in our armed forces. Haymes points out, however, that later he was classified for military service but was rejected because of a heart condition.

Judge Matthews' decision can be appealed by the Government. If Haymes didn't actually dodge or duck military service, he deserves "in." If he did, he never deserves another smidgeon of consideration from this country. As far as we're concerned, he can live with the Eskimos.

Instruction Essential for Safe Skin Diving

Drowning of 15 year old Andrew Miceli tragically emphasizes the need for some kind of organized instruction in the use of skin diving equipment.

Andrew lost his life in Waterford Mill Pond while experimenting with a rented aqua-lung. According to reports from the scene, the youth never before had used such a device and never had had any instruction in its use. Later examination of the equipment by an aqua-lung club member is said to have shown it to be in perfect working order.

The need for instruction is heightened by the fact that skin diving has grown greatly in popularity. Reports reaching us say there are at least 200 devotees of this fascinating new sport in the Pontiac area.

We also understand that some Pontiac High School skin diving enthusiasts, aroused by the Miceli tragedy, hope to revive the Frogmen's Club with the idea of offering a course in the safe use of aqua-lungs.

Experts say that with proper instructions and equipment the sport is safe at depths down to 35 feet. But no one, no matter how skillful a swimmer he may be, should attempt use of this underwater apparatus without adequate instruction.

Competition Helps

Spurs GOP Legislature to Act Constructively

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING — Competition, the life blood of business, has proven a boon to Michigan's government, too.

• • •

Competition—the desire to attract public support with a better product—has spurred the Republican legislative majority to do its best job in years in the 1955 legislative session.

True, Gov. Williams is busy complaining that the Legislature didn't do this and didn't do that, objecting that it didn't go far enough and even seeking to give the impression that the Legislature hasn't done some of things it did do.

But this type of political attack seems to be Williams' principal stock in trade and this year he is having more trouble than usual in crying down the accomplishments of the lawmakers.

HATS OFF TO SOLONS

It is true the Legislature didn't do all that Williams asked, but whether it should have is largely a matter of personal prejudice. It is true, probably, that the Legislature didn't do some things that most folks would agree it should have done.

• • •

But let's take off our hats for the accomplishments and the evident desire of the Republican majority to put a good record before the people. It has not always been so.

The Democrats can say with accuracy that none of the achievements would have been possible without Democratic votes. This is as true as that they could not have been achieved without Republican votes and Republican leadership.

The Democrats can say with considerable truth that many of the achievements would not have been obtained if the Democrats hadn't prodded and pointed up Republican failures—and beaten the Republicans time after time at the polls.

LEARNING LESSON

This proves that competition is a boon in government, that the Republicans appear to be learning the lesson of past defeats and that the Legislature—the last GOP stronghold in Michigan—is determined to produce a positive program which will convince the voters.

• • •

An arterial highway program has been started, fair employment practices legislation has been removed from the political arena and turned over to the administrators, public education has been better financed than ever before, state aid in building classrooms has been provided, a forward step has been taken to divert child wards from institutional life;

The public pension system has been improved, a start has been made on a mental research center at the University of Michigan which, if it develops, might set the pattern for the nation, labor's lot has been improved even though not as much as labor wanted, and a host of other steps have been taken to meet the people's needs.

• • •

On the reverse side, the Legislature probably fell short most of all in failing to grapple decisively with the problems of prison growth and college growth.

Let it be said at the start that both of these cost immense sums of money and let it also be said that the Legislature has not ignored the problem.

Days of All Faiths

Sunday Commemorates Christian Trinity Doctrine

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Sunday, June 5 is Trinity Sunday, a special day observed by both Protestants and Catholics.

According to Christian doctrine, God exists and is known to man in three Persons: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Most of the days in the Christian year commemorate events in the earthly life of Jesus, the Second Person of the Trinity.

This phase of the year ended on Ascension Day, 17 days ago. Last Sunday was devoted to the coming of the Holy Spirit, the Third Person, 10 days after the Ascension.

No entirely acceptable definition of the Trinity has ever been made, and this writer has no intention of attempting one. Some understanding can be gained, however, by seeing it as man's effort to talk about the three ways in which God has revealed Himself: as "Our Father Who art in Heaven," as incarnate in the human body of Jesus; and as the "Spirit that worketh in us."

Trinity Sunday itself came rather late in Christian history. About 620, Robert, Bishop of Liege, Belgium, had a Trinity service drawn up for his own diocese, and over the years it gradually spread to the rest of the Church.

It was not until 1334, seven centuries later, that Trinity Sunday was made a universal observance —by Pope John the 22nd. It is one of the festivals that was not dropped by the Protestants after the reformation.

BODY OF CHRIST

In the Roman Catholic Church, and in sections of certain other churches, Thursday after Trinity Sunday is the Feast of Corpus Christi (the Body of Christ).

This colorful festival honors the Sacrament of the Mass (also called Eucharist, Holy Communion, and Lord's Supper) in which the Body of the Lord is received by man. This is why it is always on a Thursday—Jesus instituted this Sacrament on Thursday of Holy Week, the day before His Crucifixion.

Both the day and its name are the direct result of the doctrine of Transsubstantiation, which was rejected by Luther and most other non-Roman Christians. This doctrine states that the consecrated bread in the Mass becomes in substance the Body of the Lord.

Although widely believed for many centuries the doctrine was not made official until 1215.

JULIANA'S VISION

It is said that a Belgian nun named Juliana, soon after 1215, had a vision in which she saw the moon, brilliant except for one dark spot, and was told that the dark spot referred to the Church's lack of a festival in honor of Transubstantiation.

She went at once to her Bishop and persuaded him to authorize such a festival, for which she had written a service. By 1264 the day was universally observed throughout the Western Church.

In all Catholic countries, Corpus Christi customs are — and have been since the beginning—some of the most beautiful of the whole year. The feature of the day is the great procession through the streets, in which the sacred Host (consecrated bread) is carried and the path ahead is strewn with flowers.

MEANING OF 'BIBLE'

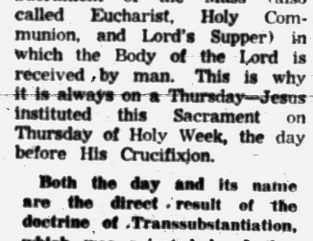

"Bible" as the name for the collected Jewish-Christian sacred writings is a comparatively new term. Even up to the time of the King James translation (early 17th Century) these writings were called only "The Holy Scriptures."

Back in the Jewish and early Christian days they were thought of as many books, not one.

The word bible comes from the Greek biblos, which originally meant the bark of the papyrus reed. After a while the word was applied to the books that were written on the papyrus bark.

But it was not until many centuries after our sacred books were gathered together that the word was used for this one volume. Literally, bible simply means book —any book. It is only our tradition—and recent tradition at that —that has made it mean to us the "book of books."

Voice of the People

Labor, Management Must Look to God for Guidance in GAW Responsibility

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

The decision to be made by the workers will be more far-reaching than many even remotely suspect. A great responsibility is thrown upon the union members as well as upon the Ford management.

Ford is in a position to take independent action and must look to God Himself for inspiration to do the right thing.

Christian employers should be in the forefront. Love and cooperation are such constructive forces, while hate and antagonism never built anything. If Ford's are trying to do this, they deserve the support of everyone, who wishes to do the right thing. And of those who believe in the right to private property and those other inalienable rights.

The union leaders for a long time have been instilling into the minds of the workers the idea that only the guaranteed annual wage could bring stable working conditions. Ford's should have been educating them more on their plan if they felt they could not grant annual wage.

I do not question the sincerity of the union leaders, but I question the wisdom of drawing such a hard and fast line. It is not that workers should think of giving up their unions, but the leaders can always be changed.

Communism hopes to capitalize on this and widen the breach between capital and labor. We are in a moral crises. It is either Christianity reborn or the Catacombs.

Mrs. Roy Foote Appalled by Theft From Graveyard

Whoever stole two little birds off a baby's grave in the Avon Cemetery in Rochester must be very proud of himself. It may have been children but since there isn't much attraction in a cemetery for children alone, the parents or someone must have been there, too. Why didn't they see the birds were put back? Can anyone be so small?

'Most Workers Thankful for Their Many Blessings'

I note in the Press that Reuther is again on the war path, insulting the mental ability of the average working man.

These working men, in good faith, decided to sign up to accept the salary offered. Most of them have a high school education, which should enable them to take care of their own affairs.

Anyone with July and August 1954 and January 1955 editions of the Reader's Digest can easily see for themselves the undemocratic union procedures. May I ask if there is no law in the country to protect the working man and woman? If so, why is it not enforced?

Men who are paying for homes lose them, their families go hungry, the teenagers get into trouble when their allowances are stopped. The entire life of the family is upset.

Let delegates in all voting be abolished and let the vote of the individual worker be heard. If ministers are mixing in these discussions, let them take their choirs with them and let them sing 'Count Your Blessings' and then be thankful for the many things we have.

No other country has the many things we have, and I'm sure the majority of workers are thankful.

Rising Individual Debt Brings a Bank Warning

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—People are getting deeper into debt. It's a side line of the general prosperity. And, in fact, increasing debt helps many industries to look as prosperous as they do.

The auto boom is riding a crest of on-the-cuff car buying. Americans owe 11¼ billion dollars on their cars. The Federal Reserve Board reports auto installment debt rose 429 million dollars during April.

Total installment credit went up 539 million dollars in April to a new high of 23½ billion. In April a year ago the climb was 45 million.

Businessmen are borrowing more this year, too. The Federal Reserve reports bank loans to business are now 781 million dollars higher than this time last year and now total 23½ billion. So far this year loans have gone up 212 million dollars, in contrast to a drop of 1½ billion dollars during the similar period a year ago.

Easy credit terms and plentiful money supplies have sparked the building boom. Recently there have been signs that money is getting tighter and that lenders in some areas are beginning to balk at extra easy terms.

All this borrowing tends to keep business booming. At the consumer level it means higher retail sales totals. At the corporate level it means expansion.

The momentum of the recovery movement is great enough to carry through the rest of the year, the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago believes. But in its June letter, out today, the bank adds this warning:

"Economic activity can hardly enjoy for long the stimulus of present rapid increases in installment and mortgage debt without risking overextension of borrowing and a consequent interruption to the expansion movement."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Supposed Sterility Often Simple Case of Failure to Understand Sex Function

Maria was unhappy because she couldn't have a baby. And she dreaded the surgical operation which had been recommended to her. It was a bona fide type of surgery, but wasn't necessary in her case, as the following data show. Use common sense medical procedures before you seek surgical operations.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-348; Maria L., aged 26, has been married for two years.

"Dr. Crane, I wish you'd give me a little frank advice," she asked as she served as my waitress at a restaurant near my Chicago office.

* * *

After the customers had thinned out and she had a little spare time, she stopped at my table.

"Dr. Crane, my doctor says my womb is tipped and I should go to the hospital for a suspension operation.

"Is that a proper type of operation to increase my chances of having a baby? Besides, it will cost me about $300 for the doctor, plus hospital charges.

"And I'd lose several weeks from work, too, so I don't know what I should do. But my husband and I are crazy to have a baby and I have never become pregnant in the two years I've been married."

NOT PRACTICAL

But we still have occasional doctors of the textbookish sort who have no more practical gumption than the braintrusters who infested key political posts in Washington some years ago.

"Has your husband been checked to see if he is sterile?" I asked Maria, and she shook her head.

* * *

"Then your supposed sterility may not be your fault at all, and a $500 operation still wouldn't remedy matters if your husband proved to be sterile," I added.

Then I asked Maria if she had received a Rubin test to find out if her tubes were sealed shut, and she shook her head.

Even with a suspension operation to correct a tipped womb, there could still be no pregnancy if Maria's Fallopian tubes were closed.

"Have you ever made an adequate test of pregnancy?" I asked and she professed ignorance of what I meant.

So I briefly outlined the facts which I presented in yesterday's Case Record about Constance. I explained the "rhythm theory." She told me she was usually on about a 30-day cycle.

ALKALINE DOUCHE

And from the other facts she advanced, I told her that the following Thursday would probably be the most likely day in this month's cycle for her to conceive.

As a final bit of insurance, I suggest she employ the alkaline douche.

* * *

"Then, if all of these measures fail over a period of the next six months, you can always fall back upon that suspension operation of your womb as a last resort," I added.

"But millions of women have tipped wombs, and still get pregnant without difficulty, so a tipped uterus in itself is no sure evidence to explain sterility."

Since I was away on an extended tour for several weeks, I didn't have a chance to dine at Maria's restaurant for a month.

Then she immediately came over to my table with sparkling eyes and announced that she was going to have a baby.

Now I don't want you readers to expect such immediate results in every case for often a married couple may require several months for this to occur. But please note that Maria conceived without an expensive surgical operation, just by following simple practical medical procedure.

TRY EASY WAY

Many people, however, fail to use the simple measures first and rush into an expensive hospital visit that would never have been necessary.

So send for my booklet, "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Hospitals are for patients who really need them so don't go there till you have used common sense measures first.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Writer Suggests Nehru Try Brady Somersaults

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

"It is impossible," India's Nehru is quoted as saying, "to take the world seriously while looking at it upside down." He does some keep-fit exercises every morning, including standing on his head. The guy ought to learn about your "somersaults" (forward rolls)—or is he too old? (D.F.J.)

Answer—From his pictures I judge his age at 62. If he can stand on his head forward rolls should be easy for him. I do not advise Nehru or anybody else to do 'em. I merely say I do six first thing every morning, along with half a dozen movements from the Last Brady Symphony—the ones described and illustrated in Little Lesson No. 16, The 7 Keys to Vite, for which send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope. Ask for the pamphlet about "somersaults" (forward rolls) at the same time.

I believe castor oil causes warts to disappear. Applied a drop on each wart every night for four months, and they just seemed to dry up and disappear. Those warts were not only conspicuous but they kept cracking and bleeding . . . So I'm grateful . . . (J. B.)

Answer—All I know is that it can do no harm. A good many correspondents have assured me such daily application of castor oil cures warts.

* * *

I now drink three glasses of milk daily, since I learned from your column the value of milk as a source of calcium. I'm sure my general health and vite has benefited . . . booklet about heart and artery trouble . . . (G. H.)

Answer—Everyone needs not less than three glasses (1½ pints) of milk or its equivalent daily to maintain optimal nutrition, vite, good looks, youth. For the heart and artery booklet—C V D —send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Daughter, college freshman, is getting more and more worried about examinations a month ahead . . . (Mrs. O. B. L.)

Answer—Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Stagefright and Examination Jitters. A school or college instructor knows or should know which students merit a passing mark, without the final examination farce.

* * *

Our family is an allergic . . . we have your hay fever pamphlet, and since keeping our calcium intake high the year around he (presumably pop) has suffered the least ever . . . (Mrs. D. W.)

Answer—An additional merit of calcium prophylaxis is that it is harmless in any case and beneficial in various other common ailments. For pamphlets on Hay Fever send stamped, self-addressed envelope. If you'd like also the booklet The Calcium Shortage enclose 25c in addition for it.

* * *

I and others I know in this office suffer from excessive sweating. The air conditioning apparatus is set to keep the temperature always between 68 and 72 degrees F. . . . (R. L.)

* * *

I have a grown son who was raised on your baby book. I was a very young mother and very green . . . my belated thanks and all best wishes that you may continue to enlighten millions more. (Mrs. J. M. A.)

Answer—Thank you, Ma'am. Every young married couple should read Together No. 4 Little Lesson Preparing For Maternity. For booklet send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

In 1942, upon your recommendation, I received diathermy treatment for infected tonsils. I have never been bothered since. The treatments gave me little discomfort. Wouldn't mind having them again is necessary. At our house what you say goes . . . (E. G.)

Answer—Goes where—into the scrap basket? Thank you for your report. It is only rarely that anyone troubles to send such a report when he doesn't want anything. In my opinion diathermy (electro-coagulation) treatment is the method of choice for infected tonsils, provided you can find a doctor who is skilled in the difficult technique. Few tonsil snatchers have sufficient skill.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Prosecutor Told 'Many' Officials Violate Law

State Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh has informed Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem that "many" municipal officials and school board members in Michigan are violating the law by engaging in business activity with the unit they represent.

The statutes prohibit any such person from dealing commercially with the school board or municipality they serve, Kavanagh explained.

"I don't know of any such violations in Oakland County," said Ziem, "but any citizen who does should contact our office immediately."

EXPERIENCE PAYS BUT WHO COLLECTS?

A baby comes into the world without inhibitions or experience; he quickly learns that a lusty yell brings instant relief—that's his first experience. Later, at home he is led to believe that he is invincible; during the first few days at school experience teaches him that he isn't. In business, experience teaches him hard and unbreakable lessons; he must give value received for expended time, services or merchandise—lessons never forgotten. Now he realizes that experience pays or subtracts; unscrupulous practice subtracts while honor pays like a gilt edged bond. Beyond this payment experience leaves a trail marking the path for those who follow him. This is the plus, the extra dividend.

M. E. SIPLE

Experience lays down fundamental laws; to break those laws one finds himself in the mire of hopeless defeat; to abide by them one collects bountiful rewards.

Retail Outlook Great for June

Businessmen See Sales Breaking Records This Month

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen are counting on consumers making June a month of roses. Retail sales may well set a new high for the month. Some expect sales to total 15½ billion dollars.

Industrial leaders at the same time are well aware that the month will have some thorns. Labor-management bargaining will come to a head in both the auto and steel industries. And production in both is expected to reach its peak and could start tapering off by the end of the month, even if labor peace is maintained.

* * *

But what is confidently expected to be the nation's greatest vacation season will begin this month. Resorts, motels, hotels, transportation companies and the like will prosper.

People are in a spending mood. Merchants expect summer clothing to sell well this month. Gasoline dealers expect to pump more fuel than ever into the nation's cars. Grocers report consumers buying freely of better quality food.

The home building boom is rolling along with so much momentum that the construction industry expects this June to be one of its best.

Purchasing agents report that new orders are on the upgrade, insuring good industrial activity this month. A tendency to increase inventories has replaced the former drive to cut them. And this too will help keep factories busy.

Industrial production in general, back now to its 1953 peaks, is expected to hold high in June before the usual summer vacation slump in July and August. Unemployment has been declining slowly.

Car dealers, with inventories of new cars at a record high, look for June to be a record sales month. That is the seasonal pattern. This year some customers may be influenced to buy because of worry over the labor outlook. If a strike develops in the industry, dealers might do a land office business for awhile.

* * *

But there are other thorns besides the labor strife. Some observers say that the record auto sales earlier in the year could mean that the usual June buying fever won't develop on schedule.

Prison Term Given to Shrimp Gambler

HOUSTON (AP)—Robert Wesley Brewer, 28, who gambled away his employer's $10,000 truck load of frozen shrimp, has been sentenced to 15 months in federal prison.

The St. Augustine, Fla., man pleaded guilty last week. Federal Judge Allen B. Hannay pronounced sentence yesterday.

Brewer claimed the poker game in which he lost the shrimp to five Houston gamblers was rigged. Federal agents recovered $4,900 in cash from the gamblers, who had sold the shrimp.

Brewer was charged with theft from interstate shipment. He was supposed to have delivered the shrimp to Detroit from Brownsville.

Thwarted Fire Takes Revenge on Hydrant

While he was inside the fire station telephoning home, the truck rolled down a grade, knocking down a mail box and a fire hydrant and crashing into an oak tree.

The town was without water for six hours while the hydrant was repaired.

Polar Isle Has Warm Springs

Volcano Just Off Icy Antarctica Is Haven for Whalers, Explorers

WASHINGTON — Off the ice-capped Antarctic Continent where nearly all the water is salty or frozen solid, nature provides one island with hot and cold running water.

Deception Island, a part of the South Shetland chain about 325 miles southeast of Cape Horn, was once a volcano. Fires still smoulder underground, melting snow that fills fresh water wells. Several hot springs bubble on forlorn, black-ash beaches.

In addition to serving as a watering place for ships, the island enfolds a remarkable, land-locked harbor, the National Geographic Society says.

For these reasons Deception is one of the best-known islands near the south polar continent. American sealers used it in the early 19th century. Whalers and explorers of many lands made it a headquarters and haven.

The island itself is a curiosity. Years ago a cataclysm blew off its volcanic cone, leaving a ring of towering black cliffs and a colossal crater. Erosion, perhaps, opened a narrow passage to the sea, forming a spacious harbor.

From open sea Deception, nine miles in diameter, hides its fine anchorage, a delusion that probably accounts for its name. From the air, the island resembles a big horseshoe with the ends almost nipped together.

Deception's volcanic heart is far from dead. As late as 1842 an American sealer reported the whole south side of the island seemed to be afire. Recent visitors have described the sulphurous stench of hot springs, ghostly vapor, earth tremors, and the perpetual warmth of the inner basin's sand and shallows.

A Britisher first sighted the South Shetland Islands in 1819. But Deception was discovered by the American sealing captain, Nathaniel Palmer, in 1820.

Palmer met Russian explorers in a dense fog near Deception in 1821. The oldest published account appears in "Fanning's Voyages." It quotes the Russian commodore as saying:

"We had sight of those islands, and concluded we had made a discovery, but behold, when the fog lifts, to my great surprise, here is an American vessel apparently in as fine order as if it were but yesterday she had left the United States; not only this, but her master is ready to pilot my vessels into port; we must surrender the palm to you Americans."

Since World War II, Deception's ownership has been disputed by Great Britain, Argentina and Chile.

Votes of State Congressmen on Recent Bills

SENATE

On President Eisenhower's veto of 8.6 per cent postal pay increase bill, veto sustained by vote of 54 for overriding, 39 against overriding (two-thirds majority required to override): McNamara (D) for passage over veto; Potter (R) against.

* * *

On amendment to substitute administration's highway bill for Democratic-sponsored measure, defeated 60-31: Potter (R) for the amendment; McNamara (D) against.

On Bush (R-Con) motion to send Democratic highway bill back to committee (thus shelving it), defeated 50-39; Potter (R) for the motion; McNamara against.

HOUSE

Death Toll Reaches 4 in Building Collapse

DALLAS (AP)—The death toll in a building collapse here has risen to four.

The fourth body, identified as that of Norvell Emerson, 40, was recovered from rubble yesterday 24 hours after officials said they believed nobody else was in the wreckage.

An old three-story building being torn down collapsed Wednesday night on a smaller building housing a music store, food shop and tavern. Three bodies were recovered shortly afterward. Eight other persons were hurt.

Rescue workers renewed efforts yesterday when a doctor at St. Paul's Hospital said Emerson was missing. Emerson was a hospital employe. A waitress who was injured said Emerson was in the tavern.

Legislature OKs Institution Funds

Over $72 Million Total Included for Schools, Other State Units

LANSING (AP) — Settling a major issue yesterday, the Legislature sent to the governor a $57,908,699 grant for higher education and $14,186,735 for institutional construction.

Organ Chimes to Be Dedicated

Candlelight Communion Scheduled for 7:30 P.M. Sunday Evening

The Rev. Fred R. Tiffany will dedicate the new organ chimes at the 9 and 11 o'clock services in the Bethany Baptist Church Sunday morning. The chimes were given by Bob and Helen Quin in memory of their parents.

The Rev. E. Floyd Norton, Michigan director of Christian Education will speak and the Junior High Choir will provide the music at the early service.

At 11 o'clock, the Senior Choir will sing and the Rev. Ralph T. Andem D. D., Ex. Sec., Michigan Baptist Convention will be guest preacher.

A Candlelight Communion Service will be held at 7:30 p.m. Reita Smith, director of Christian Education will speak and new members will be received.

Communion will be served by the Junior Deacons and Deaconesses (high school boys and girls. The senior choir will again provide the special music.

Besides dedicating the new chimes, Bethany Baptists are celebrating their first anniversary in the new church sanctuary. Elda Sutter, church organist, will play the organ at all services.

Miles of Pennies Contest Will Pay for Church Bus

The Sunday School department of the First Open Bible Church is sponsoring the purchase of a bus to help with the transportation problem.

A Miles of Pennies Contest is in progress to pay for the bus. The pastor, the Rev. Trenton Staton, will dedicate it Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, with the entire Sunday School taking part.

The first trip will be made to the Youth Rally at Pine Grove, Detroit.

Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

Confident Living

Remedy Cures Self-Pity, Brings New Happiness

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

For a number of years I have been spending a short time each winter at a Florida hotel. It was there, just a few years ago, that I met a pathetic individual who has since become a great friend of mine.

This man was from the West. He looked old and tired and he was rich. But, although he was, as they say, rolling in money, he wasn't well, nor was he happy. He had nurses to take care of him around the clock, three shifts of them.

DR. PEALE

When he went outside, one of them would help him along, ease him into a chair, put a blanket round his legs and fix a pillow under his head. She would sit with him and fan him when the sun got too hot. When mealtime came, she would lead him into the dining room and help him take his place at his table.

After watching this go on day after day, I asked the doctor how sick the man was. "He isn't a bit sick physically," the doctor said. "It's all in his thoughts. That man is so filled with self-pity and concern for himself that it's pathetic."

• • •

Then he went on to tell me that he had once become so irritated with this gentleman that he said to him, "Mr. So-and-so, I wish you'd stay out of my office because I do not have time to treat anyone but sick people." That had kept him away for about a week. He had the disease of self-pity and self-centeredness, as later he freely admitted.

The doctor thought I might be of help and I tried to talk to the man, but found it hard to penetrate his mind. So I prayed for guidance in helping him. And I got an answer so simple that I was almost hesitant to use it.

But that day I sat with him on the porch after his afternoon nap and asked him, "Have you done anything for anybody today?"

"Why no," he answered. "I'm sick."

"Well," I said, "see that poor old lady over there? Why don't you go over and talk to her? Say something nice, do something nice, even if it is no more than to pull up a chair for someone to sit down on. Do something for somebody and by that method get away from yourself."

ENERGETIC, HAPPY

I saw him again this year, but I hardly recognized him. He had no nurses and he looked much younger and acted quite energetic and happy. But he stopped me and said, "Do you know that what you told me three or four years ago made me well?"

I'd forgotten exactly what I'd told him, so I asked, "What was that?"

• • •

"You asked me this question: 'Have you done anything for anybody today?' "

"And did that help make you well?" I inquired.

"Well, I got to thinking about how unhappy a life I was leading and how I wasn't even practicing the religion I'd been brought up to believe in. And I'd been an official in my own church for years.

'I had to admit that I was filled with self-pity, thinking only of myself. So I started helping people. As a result, I feel better, I'm happier and life really means something to me."

GREATEST, SIMPLEST

Now that's a simple story and you've heard others like it all your life, haven't you? But the basic things about religion are simple, just as some of the greatest words in the Bible are the simplest. Everything in the Bible is down to earth and very practical.

For example, it tells us to love one another. It doesn't urge this just because it is a nice thing to do, but because love is a cleansing, healing and renewing force.

• • •

God wants us to enter into the fullest and richest experience of life. He wants us to be strong and healthy. He wants us to be filled with power and peace. He tells us how to be that way in three simple words from the Bible: "Love one another."

So if you do not feel well, try this remedy! Do something for somebody.

Homecoming Day Slated for June 26

Committees for the 35th Anniversary Homecoming Day of the Oakland Ave. United Presbyterian Bible School to be held June 26, were appointed at a recent staff meeting. Dr. A. E. Kelley of Pittsburgh, Pa., will be guest speaker.

Dr. Kelly is Secretary of the Board of Administration of the United Presbyterian Church and Moderator of the General Assembly at the present time. He has just completed a tour of the United Presbyterian mission stations in the Sudan, Ethiopia and Pakistan.

Eldon Powley, Mrs. William Coffing and the Rev. Theodore Allebach, pastor of the church, are on the program committee.

Mrs. Ernal Lloyd and Mrs. Park Wagg are a committee to locate addresses of former members.

Invitations are being prepared and mailed by Mrs. Jack Martin, Mrs. Noble Meredith, and Virginia Lee Osborne and the committee of hostesses includes Mrs. Guy Caswell, Mrs. Ralph Osborne, and Mrs. Peter A. Niemi.

Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them.

McColl Family Attend Daughter's Graduation

"Conquering With Christ" will be the subject of the Rev. Elwood Dunn's sermon when he preaches Sunday morning at the First Christian Church. He is a former pastor of the church and will speak in the absence of the Rev. Duncan D. McColl, the pastor.

The McColls with their son, Donald, will be attending the graduation of their daughter, Margaret from Purdue University Sunday. Following graduation Margaret will begin work as a home-agent apprentice in Portland, Ind.

The regular monthly meeting of the official board will be held at the church Tuesday evening. The boards of deaconesses and deacons will meet at 7:30 and the entire board at 8 o'clock.

I have been young and now am old; and yet saw I never the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging their bread.

Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills Senior Classes Hold Baccalaureate

The senior classes of Kingswood and Cranbrook Schools and Bloomfield Hills High School will attend a joint baccalaureate service Sunday, June 5, at 4 p.m. in Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills.

They will hear an address by the Rev. Robert W. Woodroofe Jr., rector of Grace Episcopal Church in Newton, Mass. The Rev. Woodroofe served as curate at Christ Church Cranbrook from 1934 until 1940 when he became a chaplain in the United States Army.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, he received his theological training at the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Cambridge, Mass.

Catholics Take Positive Approach in Campaign

By Religious News Service

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—A Roman Catholic group here is using a positive approach in its campaign against indecent movies and comic books.

Under the name of the Aubuquerque Committee for Juvenile Welfare, it publishes an advertisement each Saturday morning which lists movies that are rated good for the whole family. The movies are those named "Class A" by the National Legion of Decency.

The committee also has prepared a list of recommended comic books. This has been distributed to churches here.

The group is an arm of the Albuquerque Holy Name Society and includes one man from each of the city's 17 Catholic parishes.

The committee hopes to extend activities in time and become a civic organization.

"We feel that it's everyone's business to protect our children's minds," he explains.

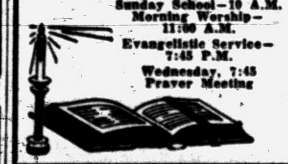

REV. J. E. PALMER

Revival Meetings will start at the Beulah Holiness Church, corner of Osmun and Going Sts., Tuesday, June 7, with the Rev. J. E. Palmer of Ironton, Mo., as the evangelist. The Rev. John W. Burgess, pastor, states that services will be held each night beginning at 7:30 and the public is invited.

Michigan Recognizes Eastern Orthodox

The Eastern Orthodox Church was recognized yesterday by the state of Michigan as one of the major faiths. The U.S. Armed Services have given the church the right to receive EO on the identification tags.

JUST MARRIED — Standing under the Chupah are Mr. and Mrs. Morton Eugene Golditch, who have just been married by Rabbi Henry A. Hoschander (center) at Congregation B'nai Israel in a recent evening wedding. Mrs. Golditch is the former Esther Zeta Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gilbert of Pontiac and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Golditch of Detroit. The Chupah is covered with white satin edged with gold fringe and decorated with pink peonies and pink and white snapdragons. White candles and fern form a background. As is the custom, the men are wearing skull caps. Rabbi Hoschander has told the meaning of the wedding customs in the following article.

Everyday Religion

The Third Trumpet

A musician friend tells of an incident in the life of the great composer Sibelius. He was attending a rehearsal of one of his symphonies. It happened that the third trumpeter was absent. Sibelius listened for a few moments, then cried out, "I can stand it no longer—the only thing I hear is the trumpet which is not here."

As his sensitive ear noticed the absence of one rather unimportant instrument, so the One Perfect Musician, who is the Author of all harmony, and whose ear is so sensitive He can catch of cry of a child across the limitless areas of space, must sense with sorrow the absence of a member of His Orchestra in the symphonic song of human brotherhood.

Even the common worship service in your church suffers from your absence. If you are not in your place on Sunday you are proclaiming to others that your religion does not come first in your life. Your absence may speak louder to listening ears than the presence of the congregation.

In times of national crisis, when every citizen is expected to do his part, when nation is crying out against nation and hemisphere against hemisphere, "where duty call or danger be never wanting there."

We must all be loyal to the cause of right. We must stand for justice to all men, for truth at any cost, for kindness and sympathy and love. The only plausible excuse that can be offered for political leaders who vote against the equal rights for all men of all races is that they are ignorant of, or unresponsive to the spirit of the Constitution and untaught in the principles of the Master.

In these trying days the Divine Director lifts His baton for a rehearsal of His chorus. Are you in your place? Can He depend upon you? And will you be on hand for the grand premiere of this two-world symphony on the morrow?

It matters not what part you are to play, or how talented you are. It matters only that you are loyal to your task. You may be only a hird trumpeter but you are essential to the perfect performance.

As Sibelius was hurt by the lack of a single instrument, so the Greater Maestro will be hurt by your absence and he too may say, "The only thing I can hear is the trumpet which is not here."

Druggists Ban Indecent Books

Pharmaceutical Group Works to Remove All Objectionable Literature

By Religious News Service

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — The Minnesota Pharmaceutical Association has announced that it will proceed with its own ban of indecent literature without waiting for action by the state legislature.

Association members will receive lists of literature considered by the association as unfit for juvenile reading. Druggists participating in the program will refuse to display or sell such literature, George W. Wilharm, new president, said.

Co-operating druggists will be given window decals and signs to be placed over their newsstands, proclaiming that they are working with the anti-obscene literature campaign.

"We intend to push this campaign vigorously," Mr .Wilharm stated, "so that the public will know that Minnesota druggists are in full accord with any plan to keep from our magazine and book racks all literature which is obscene, indecent and objectionable."

Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

Adventist Community Lives by Golden Rule

By Religious News Service

KEENE, Tex.—This community of 1,000 persons, 95 per cent of them Seventh-day Adventists, has elected the first police officer in its 62-year history. It also elected its first mayor and alderman.

Keene's inhabitants live entirely by the Golden Rule, and it is believed to be the only sizeable town in the world that has never had a felony. It also has no debt.

Almost everyone tithes, almost no one smokes or drinks alcoholic beverages or coffee, and there are no meat markets because most of Keene's people are vegetarians.

The town is noted for its attractive young girls but they wear little or no makeup. That also goes for the many coeds among the 387 students at Southwestern Junior College here.

Dr. Conrad Rees, president of the college, said only about 10 of the students are not working their way through school.

Most of them are employed part time either in the school's big printing press which does work for churches and business firms all over the country or in the mop factory, one of several town industries owned by the Adventists.

What man is there of you, who, if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone?

Rabbi Henry Hoschander Explains Jewish Wedding

Prior to the actual ceremony uniting man and woman in holy wedlock, extensive time is consumed in pre-marital discussions between bride, groom, and Rabbi. Immediately before the ceremony, the groom in the presence of two respected witnesses pledges to uphold a documnt which he signs and which is subsequently presented to the bride, wherein he vows to love, honor, and cherish his betrothed, to support her as befits her station in life, and to live with her as man and wife.

The actual ceremony commences with a procession, first the groom and his family then the bride and hers.

The religious ceremony is basically divided into two parts: (1) A formal religious engagement, and (2) The marriage. In ancient days the engagement was effected by a separate ceremony performed approximately a year before marriage.

Presently both are recited while standing under a CHUPAH, a canopy symbolic of a home, separated only by the Rabbi's charge to the couple and the public proclamation of the KESUBAH.

The Bible preaches that the ideal marriage is not one wherein the individuality and uniqueness of one necessarily falls prey to that of the other, the ideal marriage is not one wherein the likes and dislikes of one fall supine before the likes and dislikes of the other. Marriage is not an institution for "yes" husbands or wives.

It is rather a binding agreement on the part of two intelligent individuals to fuse their destines, to be a helpmeet one to the other, and if need be, become a KENEGDO, a force that disagrees, a force that eliminates apathy, a force that spurs one on to ever greater heights. This latter is conceivable only when each partner in marriage is allowed to retain and continue to develop the qualities and virtues which originally attracted one to the other. The past is not dead. It must forever serve as model for the present and the future."

Subsequent to this charge the KESUBAH is recited followed by seven distinct blessings composed of prayers of adolation, blessings for the happiness and welfare of the couple, and a reminder that man is created in God's image and must live up to the obligations inherent in it.

The final part of the ceremony is the breaking of a glass emphasizing that as long as the Holy Temple which once stood majestically in the heart of Jerusalem and from which issued forth many of the universally accepted codes of morals and ethics lies destroyed and that as long as people yet are hesitant in accepting one the other as children of one God, no joyous occasion, and this includes a marriage, can be complete.

Following the reading of the Kesubah during the middle of the ceremony, the groom places a simple gold or silver wedding band upon the front finger of the right hand of the bride and recites the following pledge which dates back to Jewish antiquity: Behold, thou art betrothed unto me with this ring in accordance with the laws of Moses and Israel.

Children Join Grace Lutheran

Youth Choirs Combine to Sing Hymn of Praise Sunday Morning

Grace Lutheran Church has chosen Trinity Sunday for the reception of 18 children into communicant membership in the 11 o'clock service. Immediately following their confirmation, these children will join the congregation in the reception of Holy Communion.

The Children's Choir, Junior and Senior Choirs will combine to render the St. Francis Hymn, a metrical version of St. Francis' Canticle to the Sun which praises God for His glories in nature. The arrangement is by W. B. Olds for multiple choirs.

The choirs will sing at both 9 a.m. and 11 a.m., and will be directed by Mrs. James B. Forman. Henry Elling is choirmaster and organist. The pastor, the Rev. Otto G. Schultz, will officiate for the services.

Foods Course Stresses Nutrition and Budgeting

After all the work comes the fun—it shouldn't be too long now before these gals at Pontiac High School can taste for themselves just what kind of bakers they are. While their teacher (right) Mrs. Claude Meade of North Sanford street, looks on, Dorothy Sebastian of South Edith street, Mary Cervantes of Perkins street and Marjorie Rankin of Osmun street put the finishing touches on their miniature cakes. Nutrition is also stressed in the food courses, with health and age of the individual taken into account.

Pontiac Press Photos

Pat Stinson of West Howard avenue and Rose Davis of East Ypsilanti avenue (from left to right) find that four hands are better than two when it comes to the kitchen clean-up detail, thus disputing the theory that "women's work is never done." Along with solving the problem of budgeting both time and money in the foods course at Pontiac High School, the tenth graders take up first aid, home nursing and child development.

Safety is one of the points stressed in the course on foods instructed at Pontiac High School. Tenth grader Nancy McIlhargie of East Columbia avenue makes good use of her pot holders as she opens the oven door to inspect her party loaves. The girls also study kitchen planning and equipment, buying food for quantity as well as quality, preservation by canning and freezing and the planning, preparation and serving of food.

Tragedy Led Mother to New Life

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Recently I stopped over for a day in a New England town which is brimful of historic sites.

I was anxious to see some of the interesting places, but had no idea of how to get to them.

Without a car—or a sense of direction—it seemed a hopeless proposition.

Also, my experience had been that most sightseeing tours were so mass-produced, so to speak, and so impersonal that I didn't want one of them.

ON A HOTEL DESK

Then a little folder which was on the hotel desk came to my attention.

It offered individual tours, in a private car, on an hourly basis.

Next thing you know, I was picked up at the hotel by a brisk, white-haired woman whose story was every bit as interesting to me as were the places she drove me to.

"I've always lived in this section," she said, as we drove toward the suburbs, "and my family before me, for hundreds of years. I love every inch of it.

"More revolutionary history went on here than any other place I know of.

"All my life, I've driven around, and I know every building and every historical site as well as I know my own hand."

I could see that she did, and asked more about her. Like most New Englanders, she was rather reserved, but before long she began to realize that my questions were based on real interest, not just idle curiosity.

Here is her story: Mrs. G. was married quite young and had only one child, a son.

After they learned that they would have no other children, Mrs. G. and her husband lavished their affection on the small boy. From the time he was very little, Mrs. G. took him on tours around the countryside.

He shared his mother's interest in the old revolutionary battles and in the story of many of the historic places.

TRAGEDY STRUCK HOME

And then, when he was fourteen, he died in a traffic accident.

"It was several years before I even began to recover," Mrs. G. said. "I just lost all interest in life.

"My husband and the doctor were wonderful, but I just couldn't care about anything.

"Finally, the doctor told me that I would have to find something to do, something that I was interested in and cared about, or he wouldn't be responsible for what happened to me.

SHARE IT WITH OTHERS

"That's when my husband suggested this sight-seeing business," she concluded. "He knew how I loved this place and that I had to keep busy.

"So he suggested that I share my love of the place with other people. He said it would get me out of myself and it has."

She smiled and began telling me about the house we were approaching.

She never said another word about herself, but she didn't need to.

I kept wishing that other women, when they face tragedy, could find as wonderful a solution as Mrs. G. found.

PAUL GENE HICKMAN BOB GRANT DUNN

Pontiac High School will be represented by two of its 1955 graduates at the annual awards banquet to be given Monday evening by the Engineering Society of Detroit. Bob Grant Dunn, a January graduate and Paul Gene Hickman, who will receive his diploma on June 16, are two of the 74 honor students who will receive certificates of merit. Students were selected for their outstanding records in science subjects and stated intention to enter the field of engineering, architecture or the allied sciences.

Zonta Club Hears Talk on Music

Jewish Holidays Are Explained by Mrs. Rosenthal

Mrs. James Rosenthal spoke to the Zonta Club of Pontiac Thursday on the significance of Hebrew music as related to major religious holidays.

* * *

For the gathering held at Hotel Waldron, Mrs. Rosenthal used records of the music as well as some interpretive records explaining the significance of the holidays.

Those holidays included Rosh Hashannah, the Jewish New Year; Yom Kippur, day of atonement; Succoth harvest celebration; and Channukah, festival of lights — liberation from the Assyrians.

Purim, festival of Queen Ester; Passover, liberation from the yoke of the Egyptian pharoahs, and Shavvos, commemorating the gift of the Ten Commandments to Moses on Mt. Sinai, were other holidays explained.

Mrs. George Richmond was program chairman and introduced Mrs. Rosenthal.

The annual June breakfast will be held Sunday at Rotunda Inn at 10 a.m. New members will be honored and there will be an installation of officers for the 1955-56 season.

The annual meeting will be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Russell Evans of Lake Angelus.

Shower Honors Arleen Sofko

Arlene Sofko, bride-elect of Lawrence Kelly of Coopersville, was honored at a bridal shower given by Joan VanBelle and Jean Guenther at the former's home on Orchard Lake road.

Others present were Mrs. Priscilla Neumah, Mrs. Patricia Whalen, Sally Broadman, Margaret Schmidt, Barbara Lawless, Patricia Barker, Carol Monroe and Barbara Kemp.

Piano, Organ Pupils to Present Recital

A piano and organ recital will be held Sunday at 4 p.m. in St. John Lutheran Church on Hill street.

Those participating will be Sandra Meade, Helen Nelson, Susan Folsum, Hugh Robertson, Robert Burwell, Jeanette Bailey, Wilma Bailey, Sharon Drew and Lenore Hoginson.

Others taking part will be Duane Bailey, Nicki Folsum, Donna Steinkamp, Lynn Thompson, Vera Thompson, Judy Thurman and Ruth Kelly.

Final Meeting Held by Mothers' Club

All through until September is the Pontiac DeMolay Mothers Club, which held its final meeting of the season Thursday evening at the Masonic Temple on East Lawrence street.

Mrs. Fred Mittledorf, president, announced that the Pontiac Order of DeMolay Boys would be assisted with its project on June 11.

MSC Water Carnival Staged This Weekend

By DELORES WEST

EAST LANSING — Floats and music on the Red Cedar River hold reign over this weekend's activities at MSC, as the senior class presents the 1955 Water Carnival.

* * *

Spring term activities float to a finish with this event which was presented Thursday and Friday evenings and will be presented again this evening.

Since this is the last official function of the senior class, it ends with a happy note. The theme chosen to be portrayed this year is "Sense and Nonsense."

Several Pontiac area students are among those who have actively participated in preparation for the 1955 carnival. Committee chairman of the band and entertainment for the event is Ron Nightengale, Birmingham senior.

* * *

Paul Phillips, also a Birmingham senior, is the committee chairman for judges and trophies. Entries in the Water Carnival will be judged and trophies awarded to the winners.

IMAGINATION USED

A great deal of time, money and imagination is put into the show by dormitories, fraternities, sororities, and other living units.

This year's carnival is composed of 32 floats, each float being the combined effort of two living units. Each float is built around the theme chosen by the units constructing it.

Helping construct the "Sense and Nonsense" floats are junior Bill Flynn, of West Walton boulevard who is chairman for Delta Sigma Phi fraternity, and Jan Elkins of North Perry street who is chairman for Delta Delta Delta sorority.

The Water Carnival which is presented strictly for fun, is the senior's final fling to State. Each year the Carnival attempts to get bigger. This year a portable waterfall will be added to the scene.

* * *

After attending a graduation party at the Hotel Olds in Lansing, Maureen Kelly of Mohawk road will be attending the carnival tonight.

Along the award winning line, Carolyn Lorenz of Le Baron avenue at a recent tea was awarded a scholarship for next fall term. She was among five MSC recipients of the Faculty Folk Scholarship. Carolyn is a freshman.

Two Birmingham seniors have been initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society. They are Mary Ann Chenault and Catherine McQueen.

* * *

OFFICERS CHOSEN

When fall term officers of Alpha Delta Sigma, men's professional advertising fraternity were chosen, Bill Poirier, of Birmingham, was elected treasurer. He is a junior.

Several Pontiac area students are pledging sororities at present. Kitty Schoomaker, a Birmingham freshman, is pledging Alpha Chi Omega.

Community Club Honors Workers

As an award for assistance given during a recent clean-up drive sponsored by the Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club, the club acted as host for a hot dog roast held at Oakland Park.

Guests were some 60 Camp Fire and Blue Bird Girls from Hawthorne School and 35 Brownies and Intermediate Girl Scouts at Owen School.

Also attending were the girls' leaders, Mrs. James Dodd Jr. Mrs. Christopher Voydanoff, Mrs. Andrew Golob, Mrs. Frances Mapes, Mrs. Martin Butler, Mrs. Vern Rollison, Mrs. Arthur Cloutier and Mrs. Carl Vallad.

Others were Mrs. Henry Sibary and Mrs. Marie Evans.

Ceremony and Inspection Are Held by Iraq Caldron

Iraq Caldron, Daughters of Mokanna, held the annual ceremonial and inspection Wednesday evening at the VFW Hall on South Saginaw street.

Mrs. Gladys Reusch of Cleveland was the supreme deputy inspector. She was introduced by Mrs. Murray White, mighty chosen one of Iraq Caldron.

Honored guests introduced by Mrs. Fred Crossman, Lalla of Iraq Caldron, were Mrs. E. A. Perkins of Bay City, Mrs. M. A. Richter of Cleveland and Mrs. Otto Koch of Ann Arbor.

Other special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Jones, Mrs. Melvin Dillon of Cleveland, Mrs. Meredith Steele of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Franklin Carl of Toledo.

THOSE INITIATED

Initiated into the order were Mrs. Bernard Kelyon, Mrs. Floyd Sinkler, Mrs. B. J. Hansen and Mrs. Lewis Schaar.

Others taking part in the cast were Mrs. Dee Pritt, Mrs. William Koggenhopp, Mrs. William Anderson, Mrs. Fred Crossman, Mrs. Robert Snyder and Mrs. Walter Stafford.

Completing the list were Mrs. Benjamin Richardson, Mrs. Eugene Bragan, Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. Roger Smiley and Mrs. W. J. Morris.

Mrs. Bodamer, Mrs. Earl Anderson and Mrs. John Thomas served on the hospitality committee and Mrs. Ted Arnold, Mrs. Doyle Jones, Mrs. Mott Bodman and Mrs. Bertha Clendenning served on the refreshment committee. Favors were supplied by Mrs. Russell Marion.

The September meeting will be an advanced officers' night.

THOMAS L. MOORE

Thomas L. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Moore of North Paddock street, will receive a bachelor of science degree June 12 from Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant. He is president of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity at the college and plans to enter Vanderbilt University in the fall to study law.

Reading Classes Held at Webster

There will be reading instruction this summer at Webster School under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Welch and Mrs. Marion Hinkley.

The classes are carefully adapted to meet individual needs.

Courses in arithmetic will also be offered on fourth, fifth and sixth grade levels. Classes will begin June 20 for a six week period through July 29.

Work will be intensive and stimulating and the groups will be kept small.

Piano Recital Held in Donelson Church

Mrs. Albert Leighton gave a reading.

Celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary on Sunday are Mr. and Mrs. William Clikeman of Pioneer avenue. They have just returned from spending the winter in Whittier, Calif., with Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Marsal, their daughter and son-in-law. The couple has one grandchild and two great-grandchildren.

SYLVIA MARIE DORAN

Sylvia Marie Doran graduated from Mercy School of Nursing in Detroit on May 28 as president of her senior class. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Joseph Doran of Euclid avenue.

Tea Bags Set in Cups Are Simpler

But Author Says Another Method Is More Proper

By EMILY POST

A woman writes me as follows: "When friends come in to see me in the afternoon, I usually serve them tea.

"I would like to know if it is in good taste to prepare the tea in cups using the little tea bags. I think it simplifies matters to be able to do this and means merely having a kettle of boiling water on hand to pour over the tea bags.

"I would very much like your answer to this question."

Answer: To me, the sight of a used tea bag being lifted, limp and dripping, by its string out of a cup is very unattractive.

Furthermore, I cannot see that it is any easier to drown the tea bags in the cups than it would be to put them where they belong, in a teapot, and pour boiling water on them, let them steep properly and then pour the tea.

Or if you have a silver tea ball, there would be no objection to using this for one or two cups of tea.

"Dear Mrs. Post: At our table we serve bread that has been cut in half slices. Is breaking this half slice once again, before buttering, proper?

"An aunt who lives with us thinks that my children should be taught to break only as much as they can put in their mouths at one time.

"Isn't this very mincing?"

Answer: Breaking a half slice once again is sufficient. In fact, if the half slices are not too big, they need not be broken again at all. Breaking bread into mouthful bits is an example of mincing exaggeration.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Five of our friends have served as references for us in the adoption of a baby.

"I have thanked each of them personally, but feel that is not enough. Would it be proper to send each one a small gift as a token of appreciation."

Answer: I think your thanks are sufficient, and later on there may be something that you, in turn, can do for these kind friends.

Festivities Slated at Orchard Lake

The entire membership of Orchard Lake Country Club is especially invited to attend festivities at the club Sunday.

Champagne punch will be served at a noon reception in the lounge honoring visiting tennis stars. Lunch will be served preceding the dedication of a new tennis house.

Fred Otto and Don MacKay will meet Chet Murphy and Earl Clark Jr. on the tennis courts at 2 p.m. for an exhibition. They are the top doubles talent available in Michigan this year.

Acquaintance Club Plans Two Events

Immediate plans of the Widow and Widowers Acquaintance Club include a cooperative dinner at Oakland Park on Sunday and a special program on Tuesday, when the women will entertain.

The group meets Tuesdays at Malta Temple on Perkins street. Persons interested in joining in the club activities may contact Adeline Cox, president, or Margaret Clark, vice president.

Called to Indiana

Mrs. V. T. Wagner of North Sanford street has been called to Knightstown, Ind., due to the critical illness of her father.

Coming Events

1939-40 Proficiency Club will meet Monday at 8 p.m. with Mrs. Arthur Augustine, 1234 Atkinson St.

Group 2, OES, will meet Tuesday for 12:30 cooperative luncheon with Mrs. Ann Powers, 1796 Lakeland Ave., Sylvan Lake.

Skirt Is Flattering, Sleeves and Neck Interchangeable

Toni Owen cuts a fashion deal three ways, and each one comes out a winner.

Ideal for the career girl with an important date after office hours, it can go to work with the short-sleeved shirtwaist top, appear at five in the square-necked, buttoned shoulder alternate.

The collar of the shirtwaist is sewn to neckband in the authentic manner, and is top stitched as are the cuffs and button placket.

The flared four gore skirt is the style that is flattering to every figure. Make it in polished cotton, and match the tops or choose pique or linen as a contrast.

For fall, you'll want the skirt in wool as a base for many other blouses and sweaters as well as for either or both of these, possibly in silk.

Bust	Waist	Hips	Sizes
34	24	35 inches	10
35	25	36 inches	12
36½	26½	37½ inches	14
38	28	39 inches	16
40	30	41 inches	18

Size 12 requires 1¾ yards of 36 inch material for shirtwaist blouse style I, 1⅛ yards of 36 inch material for square necked blouse style II, 4 yards of 36 inch material for skirt and ⅝ yard of 35 inch material for interfacing.

To order Pattern No. 1220, address SPADEA SYNDICATE, INC., P. O. Box 535, G. P. O., Dept. P-6, New York 1, N. Y. State size. Send $1.00. Airmail handling 25c extra.

American Designer Pattern Booklet No. 11 is available for 25c. If paying by check or money order, make it payable to Spadea Syndicate, Inc. and add 4c for handling.

Men's Clothes Go 'Heliotrope'

Heliotrope, or "helio" as it's often called, is a color that has had a varied career in men's clothes. It was introduced several years ago in shirts, then dropped from sight. It was revived again in shirts in the past several seasons and as a decorative color over black in ties.

Essentially a lavendar, it has not become as popular as pink, perhaps because most men think of it and a slim blonde (in a fresh lavendar dress) at the same time.

Never say die, however; helio is used in small flecks and pin point patterns on some of the new spring tropical worsted suits, frequently on a medium or dark brown background.

Stork Shower Is Given

Mrs. Earl H. Hotchkiss of Warringham drive was feted at a pink and blue shower given by Mrs. Arthur Novotney of Woodbine drive. Mrs. Arthur Silverthorn was co-hostess.

Guests at the Wednesday shower were Mrs. Darwin Tondu, Mrs. Stan Vitasinsky, Mrs. Herbert Leh, Jeanette Foster, Gladys Silverthorn and Mrs. Larry Komp.

Others were Mrs. Herbert Novotney, Mrs. Eugene Smith, Mrs. Harry Bock, Mrs. William Silverthorn, Mrs. Stan Fruscher, Mrs. Charles Hotchkiss and Mrs. Olaf Sesvold.

Also invited to the party were Mrs. Robert Hotchkiss, Mrs. Ray Jacobson, Mrs. Fremont Thoe, Mrs. Alfred Franks, Mrs. Charles Scully and Mrs. Lyle Passmore.

Completing the list were Mrs. Basil Foisy, Mrs. Gordon Morrell, Mrs. Thomas Sachler, Mrs. John Hotchkiss, Mrs. Lyle Mavis, Mrs. Theophil Dobski and Mrs. V. C. Healey.

Parents Reveal Engagement

The engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janice Ann, to David Taylor Hayhow is announced by Mr. and Mrs. William E. Bosserman of Hillsdale. The couple will be married June 25 in the First Methodist Church of Hillsdale.

Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hayhow of Hillsdale, former residents of Pontiac. Upon graduation from Michigan State College, David will become a member of the Pontiac Press advertising staff.

Says Men Are Funnier Than People

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

It was Colonel Stoopnagle, I think, who said "people are funnier than anybody." But I do believe men are funnien than people. They drive girls crazy.

They put on a wild chase, then don't know what to do about the girl when they've caught her.

They make a girl fall flat on her face, then can't be bothered to pick her up. Men are somethin'!

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm going steady with Jack and I like him very much, but the other night at a party I saw Tom, a boy I used to like. Now I'm in a frenzy.

"I talked to Tom and he seemed to be having a good time.

"But every time I'd kiss Jack, Tom would look at me as if it were breaking his heart! Now I'm undecided. Please tell me what to do."

You're undecided whether to continue going with Jack as you have been, or whether you should break free and try for Tom again.

But what a tease Tom is! Those faces of his have you imagining all sorts of things. But he didn't say straight out that he wanted to go with you again.

He didn't beg you to break off with Jack in his behalf. He made no mention of feeling serious about you. He was just teasing when he made those funny faces.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've fallen very hard for him, and he has asked me out, but now he tells everyone how much I like him and is beginning to become very conceited.

"I'm not a very fast worker, and he's been very shy until now. I know I don't control him, but I just don't see how he can go out with other girls if he likes me.

"I've told my friends I don't like him any more, but it's not the truth. I see him every day; isn't there something I can do about him?"

Answer: His bragging about your affection makes you feel awkward and embarrassed. But can't you see that it's a shy boy feeling very pleased that you like him?

He feels a bit embarrassed about it, too, and can't resist showing off slightly.

RELAX YOUR TENSION

And relax your tension over his dates with other girls. He hasn't indicated yet that he wants you to be his only girl, and until then he has a right to percolate.

You see him every day, so be nice to him. Be glad to see him—friendly and interested. A sustained attack on your part may work the magic spell on him.

"Dear Miss Woodward: He asked me to wear his bracelet, and though he lives only a block away made no attempt to see me.

"So I asked him to a dance and we had a wonderful time. After that, no attempt to see me.

"At school he has asked me many times to wait for him before classes or at lunch, then he never shows up. I asked him if he wanted his bracelet back, but he said he wanted me to keep it.

"I'm so mad at him for not saying he's sorry when I wait for him and he doesn't show up. What can I do or say to him?"

Answer: I wouldn't say anything, but I wouldn't do any more waiting. "I will if I can" with a gay little shrug will make him do some waiting for you.

Your lad wants you to wear his bracelet, but he forgets that it ties him up with some responsibilities, too. Having staked you out as his girl, he's supposed to do something about it.

"What's the point of wearing your bracelet?" is a question you might very well ask. It might remind him that you're beginning to doubt its worth.

"Dear Miss Woodward: The other night I went to a dance with my parents — it was mostly for grownups — and my steady beau couldn't go with me.

"There was one boy my age there, so we danced together. The next day everybody started talking. They told him I was through and wanted to go steady with this other boy.

"I talked it over with him and he said he believed me that it wasn't true. But I know something is wrong by the way he acts.

"Was it wrong for me to dance with that other boy? How can I prove that I love my steady and him only?"

Answer: It was logical that you should dance with that boy — nothing wrong with it at all.

Your boy friend is disturbed by all that talk, that's all. He isn't so sure of you in his own mind that he can't help being upset just a little by the stuff people have been tossing at him.

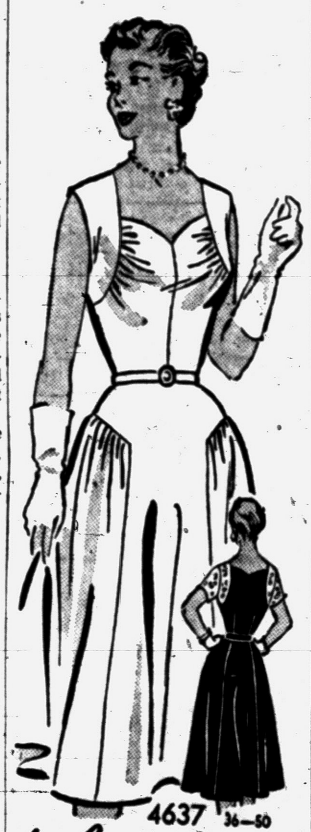

You told him how it all happened, and he wants to believe you.

He'll forget the whole thing as soon as he has a couple of nice moments with you to remember. Play up to him quietly and efficiently.

Defer to his judgment. Admire him right out loud. Make a big point of not going to something just because he won't be there.

If he's tempted to believe a rumor, he'll be even more tempted to believe what he hears and sees of your affection.

Woman Thief Reveals Occupational Hazard

NEW YORK (UP)—A plump New Jersey woman accused of stealing thousands of dollars over a 10-year period from cash registers of stores and hospitals to bet on the horses has this advice for others: "Don't do it. It doesn't pay . . . You can't sleep at night."

Speaking was Mrs. Mary Pado, 46, who gave her address as Hoboken, N.J. She was arrested by detectives yesterday as she was released from a women's prison in Clinton, N.J.

Police said she is wanted in Pennsylvania, Detroit, and Washington State. They estimated the alleged thefts amounted to $100,000.

Eyes Boycott of Graft Firms

Sen. Ervin Wants U. S. to Stop Buying From Pay-Off Companies

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Ervin (D-NC) said today the Pentagon should bar from further contracts any firm found to have paid graft to government employes.

Ervin is a member of the Senate Investigations subcommittee now investigating what he termed "a rotten situation" in the buying of uniform items for the armed forces.

The subcommittee, under chairmanship of Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), hopes to wind up next week public hearings at which it is seeking evidence of corruption in big scale purchases of those items.

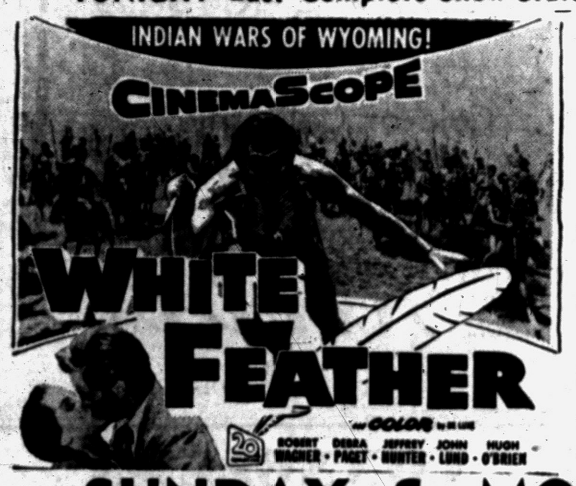

The hearing are in recess until Tuesday, when the subcommitte announced it will question Harry Lev, wealthy Chicago hat manufacturer, concerning a two million dollar contract he received for the manufacture of white sailors caps.

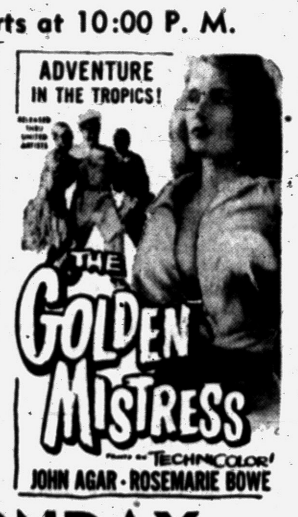

Lev, a reputed millionaire, has been named in hearsay testimony received from a business rival as the source of some alleged bribe payments. New York manufacturer Leon M. Levy has sworn he heard from Marvin Rubin, a former business hustler for both Lev and Levy, that Lev paid $50,000 to Air Force Capt. Raymond Wool to get the white cap contract in 1953.

Third 'Wife' Mitzi Gaynor Comes Into Gobel's Life

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Former Democratic National Committeewoman Katie Goetz Savage is back from her trip to Europe and very active. She is the head of the Aramaic Bible Foundation and was instrumental in presenting the first Aramaic Bible to the Library of Congress.

She made the presentation to President Eisenhower, and he in turn gave it to the library. It cost a million and a half dollars, and now Katie is out to collect some more money to finish paying for it.

GEORGE'S 3RD WIFE

George Gobel must be feeling like a sultan now that Mitzi Gaynor is set to be his wife in "Lady Eve." Mitzi comes up George's third "wife" counting Jeff Donnell, who is Mrs. Gobel on TV—and Alice Gobel who is Mrs. G. in real life.

Over a million dollars has been raised for the Boston Children's Cancer Research by Joan Crawford, Spencer Tracy, and now Jimmy Cagney. Jimmy put his own money into making a film which will be shown on TV and in theaters.

Jimmy is photographed with a little boy who has leukemia. The child throws a ball to Jimmy and says, "When I grow up, I'm going to be a baseball player." It tears your heart out.

Jimmy is now driving across country with his son, Jimmy Jr., to Martha's Vineyard where he'll stay until he returns to MGM for "All Our Yesterdays."

LILI, REX PFF-FT

I received a letter telling me that Lili Palmer and Rex Harrison are reported definitely separated. Lili is being seen everywhere with Carlos Thompson at Bilbao, a seaport in Spain where both are co-starring in "Thunderstorm."

Sexy-Rexy has been reported seeing Kay Kendall, London papers printed this news.

LIBERACE SAYS NO

Liberace had to say "no" to the Hollywood Bowl, because he'll be busy on his Warners picture, "Sincerely Yours," and he's been warned by his doctor not to overdo.

Jeannette MacDonald and Gene Raymond celebrate their 18th wedding anniversary June 16. How well I remember carrying a typewriter under my arm to their wedding so I could get my story first.

Charles Farrell will be guest speaker at his alma mater Boston University tomorrow night. He'll then go on to New York to see the stage version of "Seventh Heaven," his biggest movie success.

Cheerful Bandit Gets $573.75 From Bank

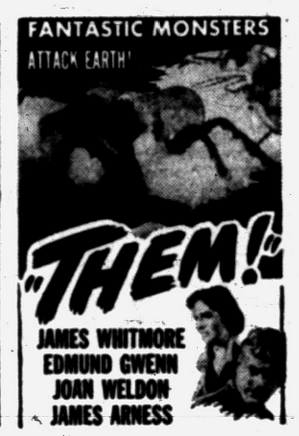

WHITTIER, Calif. (UP) — Whittier has had its first bank robbery. But at least the fellow was cheerful.

He greeted Cashier Lee King yesterday with a bright 'Hello, how are you today?"

She replied, "Fine." The bandit pushed a note toward her and said: 'You won't feel so fine when you read this."

The note said, "This is a stick-up." Simulating a gun, he took $573.75 from Miss King and fled.

U. S. Is Paper-Happy

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States uses more paper and paperboard than any other nation, reports the American Forest Products Industries, Inc. Per capita consumption stands at nearly 800 pounds a year. Since wood came into common use for making paper about 75 years ago, the consumption of pulpwood has increased seven-fold.

Sentenced in '51 Killing, Woman Wants Gun Back

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Fred B. Cramer told of this visit yesterday. A woman recently released from Marysville Reformatory where he had sentenced her for a 1951 shotgun slaying walked into his office and announced:

"I want my gun back."

The judge, who did not identify the woman, said she didn't get the gun.

Uranium Millions Play Havoc With the Simple Life of Utah Miner

NEW YORK (UP)—Jack Turner, a mudfence-plain, leather-tough citizen from Utah who grew up among cattle, sheep, cactus, and acres of throwaway dirt containing a worthless mineral called uranium, is in town with a look of misery on his face.

* * *

He is struggling under a monstrous burden: $21,000,000. And it's growing bigger all the time. Being a multi-millionaire can weigh down a fellow like . . . well, like a yoke of solid gold.

Turner came out of the Army broke at the end of World War II. Before the war he had made a so-so living mining vanadium around his native Moab, Utah. When he was drafted, he sold his four mines. (One of them, in Wild Steer Canyon, which he sold for $500 has since made $5,000,000).

He was working at a $4,000-a-year-job in California when, in 1948, he read that big money was beginning to be paid for the uranium-laden ore that he used to throw away in big scrap piles.

He hurried back to Moab, traded his antiquated Chevvy for a truck, and began hauling ore from dumps that he knew about.

SHOVELED UP DIRT

Turner, at 37, is a wiry sort with blue eyes, horn-rim glasses, a receding hairline, and the slightly lined face of an outdoor man. He has a tendency to talk like Herb Shriner, the Hoosier entertainer.

"I went out, soon as I got back," he said, "to one mine I'd had—well, it was right outside town, was where it was—and shoveled up dirt I had thrown away before, and I got paid for it. That was the initial start.

"In California, working for an oil company, I set on my hind end and twisted knobs. It was a dewaxing plant, was what it was. My first year in the uranium business, 1948, I doubled the $4,000 I'd made the year before.

"In 1949, I doubled my intake of 1948—and I just kept on doubling. My wife, Aggie, used to drive a truck and come out and do the cooking for us when I was getting started."

* * *

In 1952, Turner discovered one of the most valuable ore bodies in the whole uranium-rich region. Now he owns some 7,000 claims, 15 to 20 operating mines, and as many more non-operating mines.

JUST WORK HARDER

How does it feel to make a quick switch from low income to millions?

"The only difference it's made for me is work harder, that's all. It's a terrible lot different from working with a pick in a mine. It just seems to keep a guy busy every minute, that's all—conferences, mergers, lawyers, paperwork. I'd like to be able to spend some time with my family.

* * *

"I want to do things I'd expected to do if I'd a-had that much money. Make a few trips. Why, I been planning a fishing trip to Vancouver for 18 months now. Aggie is waiting for me right now, to come get her and make that trip. And she's running out of patience."

Didn't he turn his millions into some luxury living for himself?

"We're simple people," Turner said. "We have two cars, is all. We remodeled our house some. It's a three-bedroom place. I think we have the nicest kitchen in Moab.

"Aggie built that kitchen just the way she wanted it. She's a wonderful cook, can cook better'n my mother, even, and that's going some.

"My boy Kent, he's 10, and my girl, Kathy, 7, go to school in Moab. Aggie was a classmate of mine in the same school."

* * *

Moab has jumped from 1,200 population to 6,000 in the last year and a half. But the Turners are thinking of moving to Salt Lake City, and getting a new house. Aggie wants a five-bedroom place.

Aussie Has Big Lead in Round-Robin; Mike Souchak 2nd

GREAT NECK, N.Y. (AP) — Australia's young Peter Thomson, who has been crossing the Pacific for three years in quest of Yankee dollars, is close to his first big jackpot in American golf.

Thomson, with 22 plus points, and Souchak, with 13, are bracketed in the same foursome, playing also with former National Open champion Julius Boros and Johnny Palmer.

If the Aussie can maintain his deadly putting touch, he has a good chance to put a virtual lock on the $3,000 first prize in this unique $15,000 event. He has the tournament's two hottest shooters —Cary Middlecoff and Ted Kroll— behind him.

Thomson not only is leading in points but also is playing the best golf, not always the case in this mathematical merry-go-round in which each player matches scores with each of the others in the select 16-man field.

He has had consecutive rounds of 69-67-68 over the 6,693-yard, par 70 Deepdale course and has added steadily to his point total. Work around the greens has done it.

On both his rounds yesterday he finished with spectacular birdie 3s, chipping in from 40 feet off the green in the morning and sinking a 20-foot downhill putt in the afternoon on the final hole. He sank five putts of from 12 to 20 feet.

Souchak has had rounds of 68-71-71. Doug Ford who picked up 15 points in his afternoon round, is in third place with plus 11, followed by defending champion Sam Snead, plus 9; Ted Kroll, plus 8; Marty Furgol, plus 7; Johnny Palmer, plus 6 and Gene Littler, plus 1.

Thomson is a 25-year-old protege of Norman Von Nida, well-known Australian pro. The good-looking Victorian has never been better than second in his stabs on the tough American pro circuit but he has impressed observers with his sound, all-around game.

He won the British Open last year and later captured the British PGA crown at St. Andrews, Scotland, where he will defend his Open title next month.

"I only hope I can putt the way I am doing this week," he said. "I generally do better on British courses."

Pontiac, London in OT Opener

City Officials to Take Part in Ceremony at Wisner Field

Dignitaries will be on hand Sunday afternoon at Wisner Field for the opening game of the Old Timers Baseball League between Pontiac and London, Ontario.

In the pre-game ceremony at 1:30 p.m., city manager Walter K. Willman will pitch the 1st ball to catcher Dave Ewalt, secretary of the Pontiac Baseball Federation. The game will start at 2 p.m.

Other guests will be Major Savage from St. Thomas in Ontario; Dean Gee, London writer; Al Mueller from Toledo; and "Lefty" Brew of London, vice-chairman of the league board of directors.

Playing personnel are infielders Bob Oliver, Tom Pearsall, Chuck Mason and Clell (Mutt) Morse; outfielders Orville Reaver, Bill Darby, Bill Barbe, Joe Kelly, Mickey George, Bill Mason, and Leslie; and pitchers Bruce Hetherington, "Lefty" Wolf, and "Lefty" Greenless. Reaver also will do some hurling.

Good Trout Fishing Looms for Weekend

LANSING (AP) — Some excellent trout fishing can be anticipated for the weekend, the state conservation department reports.

Most trout streams were normal and clear. Fly hatches were making evening fly fishing for trout and bluegills excellent.

Caddis hatches started Wednesday night on the main stream of the Au Sable river at Grayling.

4 From Area Win Letters at Olivet

Four Oakland County area athletes have just been awarded athletic letters at Olivet College. They include James Sturdevant of Franklin who set a new Olivet high jump record, and was named most valuable member of the track team. Others are Columbus Burton, former PHS ace golfer, Edward Bryant, Farmington and Bill Leckie of Birmingham, all golf letter winners.

Kuenn, Ashburn Leading Hitters

NEW YORK (AP) — Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies saw his batting average slump 38 points last week, but he still maintains the National League hitting lead with a mark of .366. Don Mueller of the Giants is 2nd with .357, and Duke Snider of Brooklyn, who batted at a .545 clip last week, vaulted into a 3rd lace tie with Cardinal rookie Bill Virdon.

* * *

In the American League, Detroit's K-Boys, Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline, continue to run 1-2. Kuenn rested a pulled muscle and batted only 4 times, but made 2 hits to keep the lead on a .380 average. Kaline climbed 16 points to .376. Vic Power of Kansas City is 3rd with .338.

Stengel Right, Trouble Starts for His Yankees

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Casey Stengel, known far and wide for his baseball wisdom even though it is difficult at times to fathom the meaning of his double talk, knew wherefore he spoke when he declared the honeymoon was over for his New York Yankees.

The grizzled Yankee skipper made the remark in a few thousand words after the American League leaders had left the friendly confines of Kansas City's Municipal Stadium and headed for Comiskey Park, home of the pesky Chicago White Sox.

The Yankees were riding high on a record of 19 victories in their last 22 games, including 14 out of 16 against the favorite sparring partners — the Washington Senators, Baltimore Orioles and the Kansas City Athletics. And their record since leaving home stood at 7-1.

But last night they arrived at Comiskey Park, where Stengel predicted the trouble would start. It did with the White Sox winning 3-2 behind the hitting and pitching of Jack Harshman. Since the Cleveland Indians were unable to take advantage of the Yanks' setback, losing 3-1 to Washington on Mickey McDermott's 3-hitter, the top of the standings tightened.

Three games still separated the Yanks and the Indians but the Pale Hose found themselves only a half-game out of second place today.

In other American League games the Detroit Tigers defeated the Orioles 7-2 as Ned Garver won his first game in more than three weeks and the Athletics edged the Boston Red Sox 4-3 on Wilmer Shantz' 2-run homer.

The National League leaders both came through with triumphs. The Brooklyn Dodgers continued to slug the ball to all corners of the lot, thumping the St. Louis Cardinals 12-5, while the second place Chicago Cubs turned back the slipping New York Giants 4-1 on homers by Gene Banks, Eddie Miksis and Bob Speake. But the Dodgers still held a 7½ game lead on the Bruins.

Bill Bruton's 10th inning homer gave the Milwaukee Braves a 4-3 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies and the Pittsburgh Pirates nosed out the Cincinnati Redlegs 7-6.

The White Sox-Yankee game, witnessed by a crowd of 40,020, lived up to its advance notices. Harshman set down the New Yorkers on nine well-spaced hits and drove in two runs and set up the other.

The league leaders had the lanky southpaw on the ropes several times but couldn't cash in except in the fourth when Bill Skowron hit his sixth homer and again in the sixth when Mickey Mantle connected with his 12th. The victory was Harshman's first over the Yanks after losing four to them last year.

* * *

McDermott, who shut out the Indians 3-0 in his last clash with the American League champions, fanned six and walked five in recording his fourth win. Mickey Vernon and Roy Sievers hit homers to provide McDermott all the runs he needed. Bob Lemon (7-5) was the loser.

The Cardinals used eight pitchers, tying the National League record, in an attempt to stop the Dodgers. But it was no use from the time the league leaders belted starter Tom Poholsky for four runs in the first inning as Duke Snider connected with his 17th homer and Roy Campanella got No. 15.

* * *

Stan (The Man) Musial gave the Cards some solace when he hit his 300th homer with two mates aboard in the fifth. The circuit blow placed Musial in a select group of 13 major leaguers who have hit 300 or more homers.

Garver Sparks Tigers' Victory Over Orioles

Wins 1st Game Since May 11, Knocks in Two Runs in 7-2 Win

DETROIT (AP)—Ned Garver, tired of losing, took matters into his own hands last night and pitched and batted the Detroit Tigers to a 7-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The 29-year-old righthander hadn't won a game since May 11—a frustrating stretch of more than three weeks. Practically every time he took the mound, his teammates suddenly would stop hitting.

So Garver decided to do something about it.

First, he switched lockers in the Tigers' dressing room for a change of luck. Then he took more positive action, stopping the Orioles on only six hits while knocking in two of the Tiger runs with a single and double.

It made his record 4-7—not too impressive—but his victory came at a time when manager Bucky Harris had run up a distress signal over his pitching.

Garver's win wasn't the only good news for Harris. He learned that Steve Gromek who reinjured his back Thursday probably would miss only one pitching turn instead of being out of action for 10 or more days.

And he learned, too, that Harvey Kuenn may be ready to play full time sooner than expected. Kuenn took a brief whirl at shortstop. He made an error but knocked in one run—on a solid single to center.

Victory was the 3rd straight for the Tigers following their miserable four-game losing streak over the Memorial Day holiday.

Five of Detroit's runs last night were unearned, but the Tigers aren't complaining. They certainly gave away enough tallies last week.

Young Starts Comeback Try With Victory

Although the blond Irishman from New York's Greenwich Village is only 26, he hasn't been working steady at his trade since he lost to Bobo Olson in their 1953 match for the American middleweight title.

"Maybe I'm finally getting smart," said Young last night after he had pounded out an unanimous 10-round decision over Billy McNeece at Madison Square Garden. "I used to be a big bettor at the track but now I'm down to $2. I've got to get serious with two kids to take care of."

$750 Purse Offered for Feature Contest

Tommy Taylor, who was injured at the start of the 5th Heat last Sunday is still in the hospital.

Children are admitted free if accompanied by an adult.

GOOD ROUND FIGURE — Stan (The Man) Musial, St. Louis Cardinal star, smiles as he points to the "300" chalked on his bat to mark his joining the select group of 12 players who have hit 300 or more home runs during their major league careers. Musial's 300th came with 2 mates aboard in the 5th inning against the Dodgers last night in New York, but failed to lift his team high enough as the Dodgers won, 12-5. It was his 8th of the year.

Grady Johnson Turns Pro, With Frayer and Richards

Already co-pilots of Pontiac middleweight Gene Linscott, the Frayer-Richards team has added lightweight prospect Grady Johnson to their professional "stable."

Frayer announced the signing of the 23-year-old Johnson this week. The 5-10, 135-pounder is a native of Buffalo, but has been living in Pontiac for 4 years.

He takes a brilliant amateur record into the pro game, having won 70 and lost only twice. He held both the lightweight and welterweight Golden Gloves' titles of the East Coast and was a member of an all-star American amateur team that toured in Italy, Germany and France.

Johnson is expected to be ready for action in about 2 weeks. His managers hope to land him a spot on one of the Motor City arena fight cards. Grady is rated as an excellent boxer, very fast afoot.

While not considered primarily as a puncher, Frayer reports that he nevertheless can hit very well, particularly with his left. Grady's most recent competition has been a pair of bouts in Sault Ste. Marie. He won both.

The training of Johnson (Grady) will be undertaken by "Speedy" Johnson, a former pro himself. During his own career, "Speedy" was in the ring with such top-flighters as the great Henry Armstrong and Wes Ramey. Also a fine "corner man," Johnson is considered a very capable trainer.

Meanwhile, the state title campaign of Linscott has been sidetracked temporarily. The former National AAU welter titlist will lay off for a time until he has fully recovered from an ear injury. No bouts are set for him for the immediate future.

The Frayer-Richards combine have their eyes on another good-looking pair of amateurs who may be ready to turn pro shortly.

Titan Gridders Plan Fall Drills at Brighton

Head Football Coach Wally Fromhart announced the University of Detroit football squad will leave Aug. 31, for pre-season practice at Brighton.

The squad will conduct workouts until returning to U. of D. campus, Sept. 16, just one week before the opening home game with the University of Toledo Rockets, Friday night, Sept. 23.

Annual Horse Show Under Way Today

Optimist Club's annual Junior Horse Show will be held today and Sunday at Northville Downs, marking its fortieth year of competition in Northville.

A record 400 entries in 25 classes are expected for the two-day show, sponsored by the Northville Optimist Club for the benefit of underprivileged children. Starting time both days is 1 p.m.

Northville's show is also the season opener for Junior Olympic jumping League teams. Twelve teams are registered, six from Oakland County.

New to the show this year is competition in trotting and pacing. Two Oakland County entrants are listed—Frances Lobeck from Pontiac, driving Pastime Kay, and Randie Grant of Bloomfield Hills.

Many Oakland County 4-H members will attend Sunday. The 4-H awards determined today at South Lyon will be presented Sunday.

Junior Show Sunday

Junior Dixie Saddle Club will hold its junior horse show Sunday at the Glenn Ellis farm, 9331 Dixie Highway, north of Pontiac. Starting time is 11:30 a.m. There are 14 events scheduled, three English and 11 Western.

Joe Conrad Beats Weather to Grab Four Hole Edge Halfway in British Finale

ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Joe Conrad, a Tiny Texan with big shots, led Alan Slater of London by 4 holes after the morning round of their 36-hole match for the British amateur golf title.

The 25-year-old U. S. flier was only 1 up after nine holes but Slater struck a streak of wildness off the tees coming home and by the time the two had slogged their way through 18 holes he was 4 down.

They started their day-long duel for the title no Briton has won in 20 years in a downpour of rain and with a cold wind howling throug the trees. By the time they had reached the 9th, the rain had stopped but the wind continued.

It was Conrad, from San Antonio, who conquered the weather conditions first. He halved the 1st two holes with his British rival and then grabbed the next three in a row. It wasn't until the 7th that Slater, a 36-yer-old engineer, could cut into the margin.

The American was 2 up after 12. Then came Slater's streak of wildness. He flubbed his drive on the 13th and the ball trickled into the rough. The Briton gained a half, however, with a spectacular 2nd shot. Conrad's drive was a 210 yarder.

Slater lost the 14th when the Texan placed his 2nd 50 feet from the pin and the Briton missed a 15-foot tap. On the 16th Slater lost again. This time he drove into the rough and then sent his 2nd into a trap. Conrad had a 250 drive and an easy par 4.

Slater again had trouble off the 17th and Conrad won to go 5 up with a margin that was cut to 4 when the Texan sent his drive into a trap, and lost the 18th.

Only a handful of spectators braved the wind and rain.

Conrad eliminated two Englishmen yesterday, R. B. Bayliss, 5 and 3, and Phil Scrutton, 5-4. Slater beat former champion Joe Carr of Ireland, 2 and 1, and Arthur Perowne of England, 3 and 2.

Santee Runs 4:01.2

Ashenfelter Sets New American 2-Mile Mark

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—Horace Ashenfelter, the flying FBI man from the New York Athletic Club, possesses a new American two-mile mark of 8:49.6 today.

But Wes Santee, the perennial pursuer, has yet to unravel the secret of the 4-minute mile.

Santee ran a sparkling 4:01.2 in last night's Compton Invitational Mile, pushed by Bob Seaman of UCLA and Fred Dwyer, the ex-Villanova star. Seaman was clocked in 4:01.4, Dwyer 4:01.9, to make it the first time three Americans ever bettered 4:02 in one race.

For Ashenfelter, it was just a matter of pacing himself. He defeated Fernando Ledesma of the University of Southern California by nearly 30 yards and cracked Gunder Hagg's 12-year old American record of 8:51.3. Belgian Gaston Reiff holds the world mark of 8:40.4.

Ashenfelter was named outstanding athlete of the meet.

The running of J. W. Mashburn and Mal Whitfield also thrilled the crowd of 7,500. Mashburn won the 440 in 46.5, fastest quarter mile of the year, and Whitfield took the 880 in 1:48.5. The two hooked up in a great duel in the mile relay, with Mashburn's 46-second anchor lap giving his Oklahoma A&M team an eyelash victory over Whitfield of the Los Angeles AC, clocked in 45.9.

PYC Starts Season's 'Lightning' Race Series

Pontiac Yacht Club's regular summer series of Lightning sailboat races starts Sunday at Cass Lake, Commodore Ken Raymond reports.

Wednesday night's series of races gets under way June 15. Sunday and Wednesday events will continue through Labor Day.

Sunday's Lightning race begins at 10:30 a.m.

Watkins Lake Boat Club will hold its weekly club races Sunday, featuring competition in Lightning, Thistle and Snipe classes. Two series of nine races will be run every Sunday until mid-September, eight events counting for point standings.

Realty 9 Hands Elks 13-6 Loss

Nicholie's nine erupted for seven runs in the 3rd inning to sew up the game. Three Elks relief pitchers paraded to the mound after starter Bill Hurd was chased and 12 men batted in the wild inning. The winners also tallied in three other innings of the 5½ stanzas played.

Dick Womack was the starting hurler for Nihcolie, but gave way to Dick Lewis in the 3rd frame when Elks scored three runs to take a temporary lead. Lewis received credit for the victory.

One Swimmer Quits, Another Keeps Going

She was pulled from the water 7 hours and 14 minutes after she started to swim the treacherous 18-mile stretch of water between here and Port Angeles, Wash.

Still continuing across the strait was Bert Thomas, 29-year-old former Marine from Tacoma, Wash. He was well past the halfway mark when Miss Russell gave up.

Your Neighbor's House

Booths Build on Oxbow Lake Shores

A man in the building business picks easy-to-care-for interior materials for his own home. Harold E. Booth of 551 Hilltop Drive, Oxbow Lake, did just that when he constructed his new house.

In a three bedroom, two bathroom, duo-floor contemporary design, Booth has only one small living room wall area which has to be painted, one bedroom and the upper section of the kitchen wall. The other walls of the home are paneled.

Paneling, he has found, ages with more distinctive lines and color tones, when alternating strips of pine and cedar are used

Located on the eastern shore of Oxbow Lake, Booth has 150 feet of lake frontage with the home taking up 80 feet of this site. It is placed on a higher elevation with the front yard running down to the lake.

FLOOR PLAN

The floor plan includes an office which can double as a den, a living room, combination kitchen and dining room, sun room, three bedrooms and two bathrooms. On the basement level, there is a large recreation room with fireplace and a laundry room. There is also an area for bath house accommodations which has its own separate entrance from the lake.

In the office, built-in desks and bookcases are done in pine. The floor is a matchstick-patterned inlaid linoleum and the full wall of Briar Hill stone fireplace of the living room extends into the office and forms a separating planter and railing for the stairs which leads to the basement floor.

Mrs. Booth has selected matchstick draperies for these rooms. These require a minimum of care and exercise the right amount of light control.

For kitchen colors, Mrs. Booth picked turquoise for the upper walls and yellow for the counter top hue and for the leather upholstering on the contemporary kitchen chairs.

TWO-WAY BUILT-INS

On the dining side of this room, the built-in cupboards have drawers and doors opening from the central kitchen unit to facilitate movement of dishes and linens.

Draperies for the living room are Chinese red with carpeting and one wall in a gray-beige to harmonize with the stone of the fireplace.

A covered front entrance porch provides two important care and comfort factors, said Mrs. Booth. It prevents tracking in and gives more adequate heat control with the second entrance getting only part of the winter winds.

The exterior of the Booth home is vertical strips of frame painted a burgundy shade and soft gray brick for the lower portion of the house. Trim is white.

There is also a two-car garage included in the home plan of the Booths.

10 Point Program Will Clean Slums by Year 1960

Impressive results in wiping out unfit living conditions are being chalked up throughout the nation with a record number of 237 cities reported engaged in firm housing law enforcement, Walter S. Dayton, Bayside, N. Y., chairman of the Build America Better Council of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, said today.

The group adopted also a plank of "Ten Principles of Neighborhood Conservation" during the meeting. The platform proposes practical methods for eliminating slum, blight, and unfit housing conditions in any community within five years, the New York realtor added.

He said that since 1952 and through May 16, 1955, the BAB Council has received reports from local real estate boards indicating that a total of 237 cities were firmly enforcing their housing health, safety, and sanitation codes. This figure compares with 188 so engaged in May, 1954, and 208 listed in January, 1955.

COMMUNITIES GAINING

"Other communities making substantial progress in their anti-slum drives include Atlanta, which has seen more than 20,000 dwelling units improved under code enforcement; Norristown, Pa., and Pasadena, Calif., both of which is less than six years have virtually wiped out all major housing code violations; and Newark which has already covered some 230 blocks of housing in its dwelling-by-dwelling inspection program," Mr. Dayton pointed out.

During its Chicago session, the Build America Better Council adopted a 10-point set of principles of neighborhood conservation, in which enforcement of city housing standards plays a basic role.

Mr. Dayton summarized the council's statement as follows:

1. To overcome neighborhood deterioration—in all of its degrees—a cure that basically employs conservation is needed.

2. Property ownership is an essential privilege that carries with it the responsibility of maintaining the property up to adequate standards of health and safety.

3. Demolition should be used as the treatment of unsalvable structures in a conservation area—not as the sole remedy for a problem area.

4. New construction can be successfully placed on available vacant sites in older neighborhoods to stand side-by-side with older buildings that are maintained up to adequate standards.

5. Uniformity in architecture and age of buildings is not essential to healthy, attractive, and stable neighborhood environment.

6. Use of the power of eminent domain to acquire property in carrying out neighborhood conservation should be confined to taking the structure on the land, or the use of the land, wherever possible, leaving the original owner undisturbed in his ownership of the land.

7. Widely allocated property ownership is an element of health in our land economy, and our attack on slums should not be used to encourage the evil of vast concentrated land ownership.

8. Cities can—and should—undertake housing code enforcement on a scale sufficiently large to bring at least one-fifth of all existing non-complying properties up to ordinance standards each year.

9. Slum prevention is just as important as slum elimination.

10. Rehabilitation has proved to be a sound investment when done in connection with neighborhood conservation.

"We can be a nation without slums — that is, without major housing code violations—by 1960 or sooner through full-scale use of neighborhood conservation. Some cities are now getting results consistent with this goal."

background for LIVING

Pontiac Press Photos

PINE KITCHEN — Pine, again, marches into the kitchen of the Booth home. Used for the cupboards, it is highlighted with hammered wrought iron hardware. A U-shaped unit, working counters are covered in yellow Formica and the cooking facility is a countertop stainless steel stove. The oven is built in and matches the stove in material. Wainscoting for this room is also done in pine with the upper walls painted a soft turquoise shade. The matchstick curtains are in a natural shade.

"House of Tomorrow" Causes Speculation

The house of tomorrow always is the subject of so much speculation on the part of architects and designers as well as the public that we seldom realize how near it is. Many of its dream features are in existence now, waiting to be fitted into the puzzle of how people want to live.

Trends in household equipment indicate that the kitchen, as we know it today, may be on its way out. It may disappear as completely and logically as did the quaint butler's pantry and the old time scullery.

This should be no shock to the manufacturers of kitchen equipment. They have already produced all the types of equipment needed to make it practicable for us to eat sociably in various parts of the house far removed from the kitchen—in the game room, the living room, the television den, on the porch or terrace and out on the lawn. It's no longer necessary to traipse all the way to the kitchen for every whistle-wetter and snack.

* * *

Imagine the convenience of dropping your book in your lap, opening a mahogany cabinet used as an end table, reaching for your favorite beverage, ice-cubes and water without leaving your chair. Cold cuts in the library would save the effort of a raid on the kitchen.

MODERN VENTILATING

None of the smoke and fumes from table appliances would be necessary with a hooded vent over the burners. Another little refrigerator here would eliminate trips to the kitchen for milk, cream, butter, fruit and ice.

* * *

Barbecue fireplaces have been working out fine in family rooms and on porches. Since we can serve charcoal broiled steaks with these conveniences, why run to the kitchen for chilled foods? Refrigerators of almost any popular size can be built into a wall, or hung up cabinet style.

* * *

About the only kitchen features that may stay in one place might be the dishwashing machine, sink and refuse disposal unit. Even now these comprise only a small electric group requiring only a corner, so it seems unlikely they'll rate a separate room.

Choose Stakes in Colors of Flowers

An ingenious grower of flower garden seeds has developed a means of showing garden-makers exactly what color flowers each seed will produce. This enables garden-planners to work out their color schemes in advance and to be sure they will have exactly what they want at blooming time.

To prepare them, the seeds are poured into a mixer containing powder of the color that the flowers will be. The powder—combined with a plant food and soil conditioner—dissolves when the seed is planted.

Houses Need Garages, Today

Helps With Storage, Provides Work Table Space

If so, then you're probably under the mistaken impression that a garage is basically a big box in which one should leave one's car overnight, over the weekend, or at least until it's cleaned.

Well, it isn't. A garage (where have you been?) is for much more nowadays than a car. A new precise home dictionary could logically define it as "the home's single largest storage unit, usually attached or semi-attached to the house, in which anything can be stored, including even a car."

Every new home should have a garage: virtually every new home of value does. But that's not really enough, if you're looking for true, practical quality in your new home. There should be provision for built-in storage in your garage—a place for garden tools, your children's toys, and various household accessories.

If you've had the good fortune to inspect a new home where the architect has specified for ample garage storage, the chances are you've found a home value. More likely than not, he has also included ceramic tile bathrooms, durable work surfaces in the kitchen, and other quality features in the home. When one area has been planned with care, such as the garage, then other areas will be wisely planned, too.

Storage space behind sliding doors at one end or on the side of the garage is the most practical. Even a work bench for the family handyman can be built right into this storage area. Picnic gear, heavy luggage, as well as furniture can be kept there.

BUSINESSMEN SET UP PLAYLAND — Jubilant Douglas Ted Heite of Mission, Kan., isn't afraid of this pelican with the vulnerable jaw. In fact, the fish that will someday go into the godfish bowl will have nothing to fear either. For the creature is only make-believe, being one of many model animals and birds set up by the Kansas City, Kan., businessmen for the children of their district.

Precautions Save Home

Vacation Months Call for 'Neighborliness,' House Care

Vacation-minded homeowners are urged to think ahead to their return least they be "summer-wise and fall-foolish!"

A few simple precautionary measures now, says one group of home authorities, will assure a sound, safe and comfortable house when you return from vacationing.

For example, furnace people advise that contrary to current practices, you should not turn off the furnace. Leave it on, but set the thermostat so that it will automatically call for a minimum of heat during your absence. A low, steady temperature not only prevents mildew from forming on fabrics and furnishings, but it will eliminate the damp, clammy feeling familiar in unoccupied houses.

However, if you're planning an extended vacation, they recommend asking a neighbor or serviceman to check its working order frequently while you're away, since failure of the heating system could lead to an expensive freeze-up in an unexpected cold snap.

The engineers warn that even a temporarily empty house can become a playground for rodents and insects. Close the dampers on stoves and place a screen or board over the fireplace opening so that mice and squirrels cannot enter. Spraying with a good insecticide before leaving is well worth-while, and be sure that there are no open food supplies around to attract unwelcome visitors. All food should be removed from the refrigerator, ice trays emptied, the unit defrosted and electricity disconnected and the door left open.

Ask your neighbor to check the basement for flooding or backed-up sewers if there are heavy rains while you're away.

For safety's sake, the experts caution, all electrical units should be disconnected during your absence—lamps, radios, TV sets as well as small appliances—to prevent short circuits and fires. And, for fire prevention, store matches in metal boxes and have a general throw-out of all oily rags, accumulations of old paints, cleaners and other combustible materials.

Finally, see that al lwater taps are turned off, and sink stoppers not left in the drains to cause a flood should a leak develop. Leave a key and list of service phone numbers with a neighbor, lock all windows and doors; and you, and the house, are ready for a safe—and worry-free—vacation.

Lumber Graded for Many Needs

Framing lumber needs to be strong to give a home stiffness, so may have some knots, as in the case of the widely used Douglas fir dimension.

But, when lumber is intended to be used for exterior siding and trim and for interior paneling, sash and doors and trim, it must be attractive with lovely texture and grain such as red cedar.

Be sure you buy the right grade and kind of lumber for each job; it will save you money.

Cooling Fences

You can have an air-conditioned yard with plenty of privacy if you design your fences to allow for a free flow of breezes. Many new designs add charm to your red cedar fences while still keeping you cool. You can use fence boards set as louvers, or alternate flat boards on either side of top and bottom rail and many other styles.

Fireplace 'Weather' Now

Time to Start Plans for Next Winter's Comfort

Hot weather may soon be here, but just the same it's time to think of fireplaces, if you want one in the new home you are planning.

If you are like most homemakers, you probably do want one, for nothing can give the same cheerful and friendly effect that a blazing fire on the hearth does. So, even though it may have an efficiency of only about 10 per cent the fireplace remains one of the most desired of all features in new homes.

Plan it carefully, however. There are fireplaces and fireplaces. Some don't draw well, and therefore are never used. Some are situated badly so that furniture arrangements are difficult. Some are badly designed and detract from the appearance of the living room.

Pay careful attention to flue size. For a fireplace opening 28 inches high, 28 wide and 16 deep, the flue should be 8½ by 13 inches, or 10 inches in diameter if it is round. For one 30 inches high, 40 wide and 18 deep, it should be 13 inches square, or 12 inches across if the flue is round.

Plan your furniture layout when you plan your fireplace. There should be room on each side of it, so that furniture can be grouped there easily. Traffic should not have to pass in front of the fireplace, or those viewing the fire will be inconvenienced.

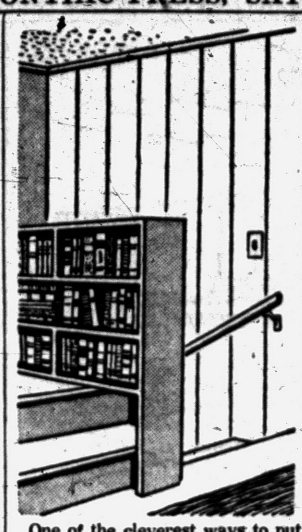

Study the proportions o fthe proposed fireplace very carefully. Does it fit in well with the room? Is it too small (many are)? Is the mantel at the right height? Or would it look better with no mantel at all?

Remodeling Important

Practically two out of three families plan some remodeling at home this year, no matter how small. In an older home a kitchen re-do usually comes first. The trend today is toward a larger room designed for multiple activities. Ceramic tile is often specified because of its versatility as a practical yet decorative material. And adhesive installation have cut costs way down.

One of the cleverest ways to put your banister to work is to turn it into a bookcase. This one forms an interesting and useful divider wall. Built of western red cedar, it matches the lovely autumn toned walls of the stairwell. It provides added book shelves for a growing library which is handy to the downstairs playroom. Your stairwell need no longer be a hazard when tiny children are around.

News in Tile

The small amazingly rugged units of ceramic tile that you see on kitchen and bathroom floors are actually set in place — not one at a time — but in large, fixed patterns. These units come pasted on to large sheets of paper and are set right in the adhesive or mortar a sheet at a time. The paper is easily removed after installation. This method saves time and insures uniformity of design and spacing.

Open Planning Can Remove Kitchen

Open planning — the elimination of many interior partitions —has been a big factor in the development of the new trend toward more free areas in modern homes.

Kitchens have been opened to view, sometimes separated from living rooms merely by a snack bar. The idea has made the housewife a member of her own family again—a guest at her own parties.

This new openness has had a big influence on the design of kitchen equipment, spurring the use of color and finished woodwork for cabinets and other equipment.

Even the ovens have been glamorized, separated from top burners and built into walls with only a chromium or copper clad door visible. With all of the tricks now being done with insulation, a walnut or blond mahogany oven door seems within the realm of possibility.

So the kitchen stove is vanishing and the kitchen may be next to go.

Who will object? Probably the housewife when she has to wander all over the house to make out her shopping list for the refrigerators of every member of the family. But most likely she won't find this out until the kitchen is gone. Then we'll all have to be our own shoppers!

Mothproof Now With a Liquid Type of Spray

You can make your woolen fabrics inedible to moths. It can be done with a special liquid spray which actually penetrates the wool fibers and makes them distasteful to moth worms.

These liquid protectors must cover every inch of the fabric, to be effective, and the treated article must be thoroughly wet. The moth protector can be used on clothing, upholstered furniture and rugs.

It is applied with a hand sprayer, or the sprayer attachment of your vacuum cleaner. But, be sure the fabrics are fast to water. Don't use the liquid sprays unless you are certain that the fabrics are fast to water.

Remember too, mothproofing liquids are not the same as insecticides which kill moths in various stages. This is done before the growth and development of the moth for protection against the worm stage.

Repeat Pattern on Walls for Harmony

One of the easiest ways to achieve harmony in the character of an interior decor is to repeat a pattern from fabrics or wallpaper on the smaller accessories.

All you'll need for a professional-looking job is scraps of drapery or slipcover material or bits of paper and a foldup metal tube of household adhesive.

Cut a single motif, such as a flower or bird, from the fabric or paper, squeeze a sufficient amount of adhesive from the tube to cover the back of the design. and press it firmly in place on the object you are decorating.

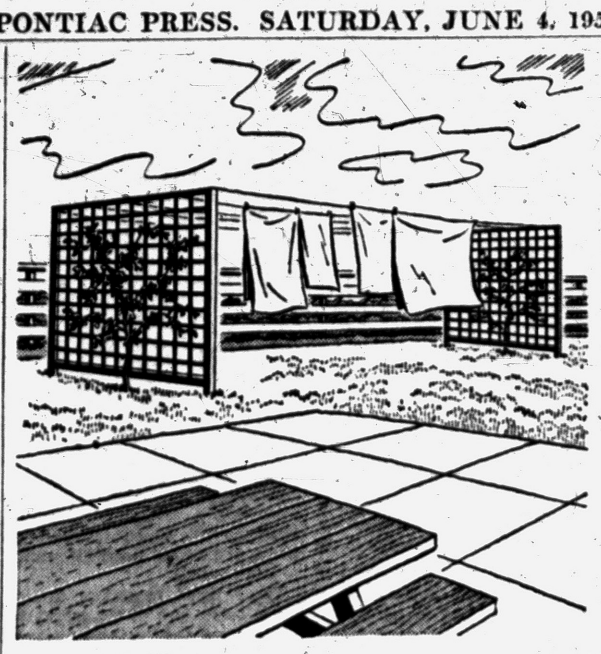

The idea works well on lamp shades, cigarette boxes and ash trays, magazine racks and waste baskets all of which can be "tied in" this way with the over-all theme of the room.

Align Windows With Putty Knife

Because of undue shrinking or swelling of the wood or because of building settlement, interlocking weatherstripping on casement windows may get out of alignment, the Weatherstrip Research Institute says.

When this happens, use a flat instrument, such as a putty knife, or a flat wood block and a hammer, to move the strip to its original position.

MONDAY'S billowing wash needn't rob you of the use of your patio You can screen off the clothesline with a simple yet attractive lattice fence at each end of the lines. This lattice screen can be built of western red cedar to match the yard fence. Climbing roses or other vines along the screens will make them even more effective so the hostess doesn't have to feel uncomfortable about a wash in full view. Inexpensive, these screens can be made decorative enough to add charm and interest to the landscaping.

Elegant Flooring Takes to Walls

Many home remodeling fans are discovering a new and different wall surfacing which has elegance and beauty but costs no more than regular wall paneling.

It is vertical grain flooring, either fir or west coast hemlock and because of the tongue-and-groove is easy to install snugly.

You can change the appearance of a room by building one or two walls with this flooring which can be bought at any retail lumber yard. It can be buffed and sanded smooth, then finished in any of many wonderful ways.

Vacuum Helpful

Think how completely we have forgotten old-fashioned methods of cleaning rugs and carpets as we glide our vacuum cleaner over them in a dustless and almost effortless way, says the editor of a popular magazine.

The vacuum cleaner is the most helpful, the most versatile of all the electrical household equipment which we take so for granted these days.

Free-Up Windows

When painting window sash, keep the window open slightly to avoid clogging, the Weatherstrip Research Institute points out. After the paint begins to dry, move the window daily until the paint has thoroughly hardened.

Adjustable Spotlight Helps Cutting

If mounted over and back of the saw about 3 feet, the hobbyist will never be bothered with shadows one would get with ordinary light fixtures.

To Take It Off

Bigger Bedrooms Now Popularly Priced!

with SPACEMASTER folding doors

You don't have to remodel to enlarge your bedroom. No partitions need come down. Just put "Spacemaster" doors on your closets or entry doors—and you pick up all the space that swinging doors waste.

"Spacemaster" doors fold within the doorway, never out into the room. You can put beds, night stands, lamps closer to closets . . . and still have plenty of room to move in.

First cost of "Spacemaster" is at a new low. Maintenance costs are nil. You clean them with soap and water. And there are no installation costs since you can put them up yourself in 15 minutes.

Color Kitchens in Demand Now

Big News Switches From the All-White Rooms

The big news today is color in the kitchen, and pink is now in first place in the color parade, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

Manufacturers are meeting the consumer demand for color by producing kitchen appliances and other equipment in the most popular decorator shades. This makes it easy for anyone to work out a coordinated pattern, as you can buy gas ranges, refrigerators, kitchen cabinets and even sinks in matching colors.

But, even if you are not in the market for new appliances and equipment, you can achieve the "new look" by using paint as your main miracle-worker.

For example, to create a candy pink kitchen, start by painting the walls and ceiling a pinkish gray, GAMA suggests, with the ceiling a few shades lighter than the walls. Next, paint all the woodwork and cabinets your favorite shade of pink. Finaly, choose floor covering and counter tops the same shade of gray as the ceiling.

Against this background your white gas range, refrigerator and sink will provide exactly the contrast you need to highlight the pink in your "dream" kitchen.

Mirrors Add to Decorator's Bag of Tricks

Leading decorators have added mirrors to their bag of tricks. They are using this masterpiece of architectural double talk to banish darkness from a corner, whisk the out-of-doors, indoors, double the size of a room and often create beauty where none existed.

A home with a dark foyer can profit by using a large mirror placed on the wall, at a strategic point, to pick up vistas from the living room. The difference that the mirror can make is amazing.

Mirrors can be used to bring ever-changing pictures to a room. A mirrror placed opposite the picture window in a living room can bring a living picture to the opposite wall ever-changing throughout the seasons.

A low ceiling can be made to seem high with mirrored valance boards. A narrow room can be given the feeling of width by the use of a mirrored panel on one of the walls.

Shortest length of time served by any President of the United States was the term of William Henry Harrison, March 4, 1841, and dying April 4, 1841.

Veneers Compete With Solids Now

In the 18th Century styles and in many of the newest of the furniture offerings now in the stores, veneering has been used to add beauty.

If you go to a reputable dealer, you needn't be afraid of veneers cracking or splitting. With our dependable synthetic rosin glues and our newest production methods of manufacturing, even relatively inexpensive pieces using veneer have a long life if cared for properly.

Eliminate Wood Burn

A steel brush will remove much of the glaze from sanding disks and belts so that they will continue to do good work without burning stock, power tool experts point out.

Calm Experts Say We Are Not Overbuilding

Are we in for a "bust" in the current building boom? We are if the construction industry as a whole is overbuilding. Some alarmists say it is overbuilding, but calm experts who have assessed the facts claim it is not.

1. Housing starts have not yet caught up with new household formations. Since 1946, for instance, non-farm families increased about 9,300,000; yet only 8,600,000 new homes were built.

2. Besides homes, the fast-growing population will require more schools, determined slum clearance, hospitals, commercial and institutional buildings. This construction alone is enough to keep the industry vigorous.

3. Widespread use of real quality materials in new home building attests to the solid footing of construction.

An unhealthy boom would see cheap, inferior materials being used in a hasty frenzy of building. Recognized manufacturers of biulding materials known for quality performance, such as ceramic tile, topgrade paints, and selected number vouch for this. More and more of these materials are being used in the mass-produced house.

Brazil's River of Doubt was discovered by Theodore Roosevelt, the name being given to the discovery by the skeptical press.

Foreclosures Drop Today

Financier Says Record Is Reflection of Nation's Economy

Reflecting the nation's prosperity, home foreclosures continue at near an all-time record low rate, the president of the United States Savings and Loan League reported today.

"There's no better testimonial to the state of health of the nation's economy than the current exceedingly low rate of home foreclosures," said J. Howard Edgerton, League president. The League is a nationwide trade organization representing 4200 savings associations and co-operative banks.

He disclosed that in 1954, for the tenth consecutive year, the ratio of foreclosures to the number of new home mortgage recordings ran below one per cent.

The 1954 total of 26,000 foreclosures was .75 of the 3,450,000 mortgages recorded during the year. It compared to 21,400 foreclosures in 1953, or .68 of the year's recordings.

TODAY'S LOAN FLEXIBLE

"On the basis of this information, it is clear that the recession last year had little, if any, effect upon American home owners," said Edgerton. "This indicates not only the limited extent of the recession, but also that today's home loan contract is a far more flexible instrument than in pre-depression days."

Edgerton added that in view of the economic upsurge now under way, the number of foreclosures in 1955 is likely to be under the past year.

In 1941, last year before the United States entered World War II, there were 58,559 foreclosures, or 3.59 per cent of that year's mortgage recordings. In 1933, at the height of the depression, there were 252,400 foreclosures.

DIVORCE, DEATHS, FACTORS

Edgerton said that, so far as can be determined, economic distress is the major cause of foreclosures in only a minority of cases. More important factors, he said, are divorce and deaths in the family.

The League officials also emphasized that in a number of unemployment trouble spots in late 1953 and early 1954, such as South Bend and Detroit, the "flexible" mortgage contracts adopted by savings and loan associations prevented some foreclosures that might otherwise have occurred.

"In the case of some families, the prepayment provisions in their mortgage contracts had enabled them to pay far enough ahead to ride out the period of unemployment," said Edgerton. "In the case of others, some associations collected only the interest and taxes due each month, and deferred the principal."

Air-Conditioners Need Paint, Prevent Rust

The room air-conditioner that cools your home or office depends upon paint to keep it functioning year after year.

Wherever moisture and oxygen are present in abundant quantities, metals rust very rapidly. The rate of rusting depends upon the rate at which water and oxygen reach the affected area.

Air-conditioners in operation handle large volumes of moist air and are naturally prime targets for attack.

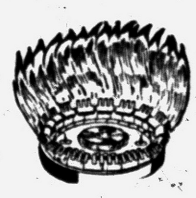

The compressors and evaporators, the metal grilles and the metal shelf of the unit itself, must all be given suitable protective coatings. Otherwise, the demon rust would take its toll and the unit would soon be useless.

Housewife Looks for Real Materials

Man is the dreamer and woman is the practical one, so we're told. If choice of a home is any criterion, then it is true that practicality is characteristic of the homemaker.

A recent study shows that the representative housewife looks for honest materials, convenient storage, and simple design in a new home.

Her preference runs to time-tested materials like ceramic tile in bath and kitchen, efficient storage and a frank, clean, unadorned design both outside and inside the home.

She prefers surfaces that are colorful, durable and easy to keep clean. She wants space enough for a growing family and economy in upkeep. To her, this spells out a practical, really livable home.

Earth Colors Are Friendly, Warm

Open kitchens, designed for family enjoyment as well as work, should be done in colors and materials that are warm and friendly when seen from anywhere in the house.

To meet this demand, leading architects have been specifying natural, life-lasting materials like ceramic tile for kitchen floors, walls and work surfaces. Popular colors have been the basic earth tones of light brown, green, and quarry red. These colors blend well with the natural wood finishes of cabinets and shelves.

Workshop Wiring

When wiring your workshop make sure your power tools and lights are on two different circuits, power tool experts advise. Should a power tool in operation overload and blow a fuse, the lights in the workshop will remain lighted. Never use more than 20 amp fuses.

Salesmanship Depends Upon Quality House

Consumers know that homes can be traded in and new ones purchased almost as easily and profitably as automobiles are.

Salesmen-builders are responsible for this vast turn-over in home buying by following three major trends:

1. The consumer has been made quality-conscious. For example, today's demand is for bathrooms and kitchens surfaced with a quality material such as ceramic tile which lasts a lifetime and never loses its practicality.

2. Color, inside and out, is used very effectively. Builders have learned the psychological benefit of color and they'll never forget it.

3. Modern "open" styling is a great sales-builder. Rooms flow into each other by openness and blending of materials.

Architects Employ Tile for Decor Now

Recent studies show that quality homes being constructed in the mushrooming suburban areas around the country have more tile in their bathrooms, kitchens, and outdoor patio than any other type of home building.

In fact, waterproof tile is preferred something like three times as much as any other single material for wainscot surfacing in the bathroom.

In the kitchen, durable tile that is impervious to food stains is being used most often in new ways as a surfacing for work counter-tops and splashbacks.

It is also in the suburbs that architects are treating tile more creatively. They're using it in a bigger way, for example, as decorative and practical, weather-proof exterior.

Painting Screens Helps Prevent Future Rusting

To facilitate the job of applying screen enamel, there are special applicators available that resemble blackboard erasers. Pour a little screen enamel into a shallow pan, dip in your "eraser" and you can complete the job in short order.

Paint both sides of the screening, of course. When you tackle a screened porch, it simplifies matters if there are two on the painting team—one to work inside; the other, out.

Consumption of lettuce in the U. S. has increased by more than 40 per cent since the close of World War II.

You Can Spruce Up Lawn Furniture

Outdoor living is part of the American scheme of enjoyment. So garden furniture has come into prominence.

Bamboo, rattan, redwood, wrought iron, aluminum, stainless steel and plastic are just a few of the materials that bring the outdoors into the realm of easy living.

Redwood is popular, easy to refinish and to keep looking new with this method: Sand, smoothing away wood fibers, using a holder for the sandpaper. Remove all wood dust with a clean dry brush or lint-free cloth.

METAL FURNITURE

Outdoor metal furniture may be rejuvenated by washing, sandpapering rough or glossy surfaces, cracks and rust spots, and then painting. Give bare metal a coat of metal primer.

Stir a speed enamel that is a nonfading weather protector. Use a clean soft-bristled brush. Place tables upside down so you can do legs first.

Eighteen colors are available in this enamel. High style colors include antique white, cream, dusky black, aqua, pale pink and coral this year. You can sprinkle a little gold metallic powder on newly painted surfaces before the paint dries for a special treat.

Bamboo and rattan are also being painted in a dull black finish—better for patio or covered terrace, however, than in the broiling sun. Reds, vivid green and blue paints are being used on other wood finishes. Cracks or nail head indentations should be filled in wood chairs with a spackling material before sanding and painting.

PROTECT FENCE POSTS

Fence posts and trellises may be protected from fungi and borers by using a wood preservative. Surfaces must be clean before applying liquid.

Garden walks and patios may be coated in gay colors with a waterproof enamel that provides weather protection. It has a plastic rubber base, easy to use on concrete and flagstone.

Screens can get rustproof protection with a special screen enamel that does not clog wire mesh, helps to prevent oxidation and streaking of sills and sidewalls by copper and bronze screens.

Mildew growths on outdoor furniture, trim, etc., can be stopped by adding a mildew preventive to paints and lacquers.

Don't Paint Cords

Weatherstrip Research Institute says paint on sash cords hardens them and causes breakage; paint on pulleys makes windows hard, if not impossible, to open and close.

Dos, Don'ts for Garages

Pointers on Ways to Take Proper Care of Doors

DO . . . repair a sagging garage door at once. Constant dragging of the door will make the condition progressively worse.

DO . . . hold the door in an open position and place a wooden wedge under it so that it hangs exactly the way it should.

DO . . . check all the hinge screws to see whether they are loose; if they are, you've probably hit the cause of the trouble.

DO . . . in such event, fill the screw holes with plastic wood or wood putty, allow to harden and redrive the screws, using new ones if the others are rusted or bent.

DO . . . if loose screws are not at fault, screw a wooden brace to the inside of the door, running it from the top of the door (near the hinge) diagonally across to the bottom—or buy and use a rod and turnbuckle for the brace.

WATCH HINGES

DON'T . . . be satisfied merely to tighten loose hinge screws, as the same trouble will occur again in a short time.

DON'T . . . forget that, if a wooden brace is used, it should be painted or given other protective finish before it is attached.

DON'T . . . buy a rod and turnbuckle brace that is too small for the purpose . . . an error you can avoid by giving your dealer the dimensions of the door.

DON'T . . . neglect to install a third hinge midway between the other two if there isn't one there all ready.

Bathroom Glamor

This beautiful, decorative shower curtain is easy to make, say Desley fabric designers. It hangs over an inner plastic one. All you need is 4⅛ yds. 36-inch decorator fabric; rings; 4 yds. 36-inch plastic; plain and eyelet iron-on-tape. First, cut fabrics in two even lengths.

Kitchen Wax for Pianos

Makers Recommend Cleaning Keys This Way

The problem of safely cleaning piano keys has been solved with the use of creamy kitchen wax.

Before the development of this type of wax, piano and organ manufacturers recommended the use of lukewarm, mild soap suds. Some people used ammonia-in-water. These methods were considered hazardous, however, as the water from the suds sometimes entered the wood and caused swelling or warping, and the ammonia-water contributed to yellowing ivory keys. These dangers are eliminated through the use of kitchen wax.

Most major piano manufacturers now are using plastic keys, both black and white, but they recommend kitchen wax for removing smudges, fingerprints or foreign material on both the plastic and the ivory-on-wood types.

The method is to pour a little kitchen wax on a cloth (preferably cheesecloth) which has been dipped in cold water, wrung out as dry as possible, then folded into a small pad to fit the fingers. Work the wax into the cloth until it is fairly well saturated, but not too wet. Apply the wax to several keys at a time, rubbing enough to loosen the soil.

Polish immediately with a clean, soft cloth. The lighter the coat of wax, the better the gloss. To dust piano keys, go over them with a soft, dry cloth.

Tile Plays Role in Fine Homes

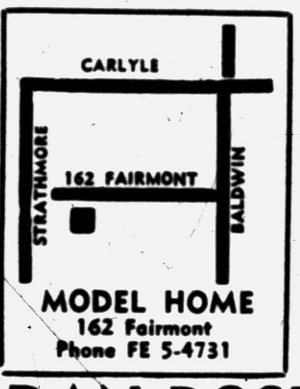

Fine new homes, may differ one from the other in size, structure and layout, but they all have one distinction in common: an appearance, inside and out, that's fresh, natural and simple.

The creative use of nature's own materials is one big reason for this. Most popular example is the increased use of ceramic tile throughout the home.

Frenchmen Not All Gay Blades

Average Worker Poor, Aging, Recent Report on Nation Shows

PARIS (AP)—The average French citizen is a poor and aging workman, outnumbered by women and likely to be survived by them, with less and less chance of finding a comfortable home for his last years.

Of about 43 million Frenchmen, 19,200,000 have a job or want one, and 6,454,000 of those call themselves workmen. Only a few—17 per 1,000 — actually are unemployed. The first figures show nothing on earnings, but they are known to be low by American standards. The minimum wage in France is 126 francs (36 cents) an hour, and less on the farm.

* * *

If, like the 2,300,000 others, a Frenchman has an independent business, he is likely to be among the 1,739,000 who work alone or have no help but members of their own families.

The French population is aging. Since the turn of the century the number over 65 has increased 57 per cent, the number of children only 3 per cent.

Women dominate the country, at least statistically, 22,347,000 to 20,600,000. There are more boys than girls up to the age of 15. After that the women start gaining. The result: 2,968,000 widows and 1,400,000 unmarried women keep busy chasing 1,200,000 bachelors and 736,000 widowers.

* * *

Although the building industries lead the rest in the number of workers employed—1,360,000—only 200,000 houses were built in 1954. To meet the current shortage and the expected population increase, 320,000 a year would have to go up for the next 30 years.

Though badly housed, the Frenchman is traditionally well fed. There are 3,985,000 people on farms, 770,000 dealing in food and farm products, 540,000 working in bars, hotels, restaurants and tobacco shops, plus 230,000 bakers and pastryeooks. Some of the 115,000 "itinerants and peddlers" also sell popcorn.

After long years of a stationary and even declining population, the postwar rise in the birthrate makes it likely that the country will have another 3 million citizens by 1970.

Get Water from Air

WASHINGTON (INS) — Farmers extract water from the air on Lanzarote in the Canary Islands, where annual rainfall may be only 2 inches a year, the National Geographic Society says. Lanzarote has no wells for irrigation. Consequently farmers strew seeds on arid ground; then 4 or 5 inches of lava are spread over them. The lava acts as a condenser, drawing moisture from the sea air.

Pills Tenderize Beef

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Two scientists here say they are producing bulls that produce meat almost as tender as that of steers by injecting them with synthetic female hormones. Pellets of diethylstilbestrol are implanted under the bulls' hides behind their ears.

Fire Makes Gun Fire

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A shotgun blast awakened Frank Gaines Jr., and he sat up in bed to find his house was ablaze. The heat had discharged the gun, possibly saving his life.

Good Samaritan Act Pays Off Immediately

GLOUCESTER, Va. (AP) — W. N. Gray was glad he acted the part of a good Samaritan and called the fire department to a blaze in a nearby house in the middle of the night. While the firemen fought the flames Gray took a look at another section of the night sky. A house he owned was burning too.

The firemen moved over to Gray's personal blaze and managed to save a farm building although they couldn't do much about the house.

Of the women in the U. S. who will reach age 65 this year, about one-fifth will go on to reach the age of 88.

Mine Officials Testify in Court

Claim Exact Amount of Damage Is Unknown in Suit Against Union

MARQUETTE (AP)—Two witnesses for Calumet & Hecla, Inc., testified yesterday that exact damages suffered by the copper firm's Calumet Division because of a union walkout cannot be determined until the strike is ended.

Calumet & Hecla is suing the CIO United Steel Workers, who struck May 2, for 3½ million dollars on grounds that the walkout was illegal and that smelters and mines were damaged because the union refused to permit maintenance.

Testifying in U. S. District Court that damages can not be determined exactly until the walkout is ended were Charles Jilbert of Hubbell, who retired Wednesday as director of smelting and refining after 41 years with Calumet & Hecla, and Colan A. Campbell, director of mines.

Both testified there was probability of considerable damange to equipment and to mines where pumps were unmanned for a time. They said an assessment could not be made until the equipment is inspected and an attempt made to use it again.

The company has contended that its five mines were damaged by water seepage while pumps were unmanned in the beginning of the strike, which has idled 2,200 Calumet Division employes in Houghton and Keweenaw counties.

Two Area Men Are Appointed Ford Stylists

Two special staff stylists were appointed today by George W. Walker, newly-elected vice president and director of styling of Ford Motor Company, to assist him in the company's expanded Styling Office.

Joseph Oros and Elwood P. Engel, both long-time associates of Walker in the industrial design field, will work with the various Ford studios on exterior and interior styling projects covering all vehicle lines.

Oros, a native of Cleveland, was graduated from the Cleveland School of Art in 1939. He continued his design studies in Europe under a traveling scholarship until his work was interrupted by the war. He is married, has four children and lives at 5141 Winlane Drive, Bloomfield Hills.

Engel was born in Newark, N. J. He was graduated from Pratt Institute in 1938 and started his career designing displays and buuldings for the 1939 New York World's Fair. During World War II, he served in the European theater with an army reconnaisance group. Engel is married, has three sons and lives at 6005 Wing Lake Road, Birmingham.

Waterford Jaycees to Hear State Head

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Gene Phiffer of Saginaw, newly elected president of Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be the guest speaker when the Waterford Jaycees hold their first anniversary banquet at 7 p.m. Monday at Decker's restaurant in Drayton Plains.

Roy Larmee, Waterford High School principal and Waterford's "Man of the Year" for 1954, will be master of ceremonies for the program.

Pontiac Man Winner in National Contest

Ed Furgol himself was the main prize in the unique contest that caught the fancy of golfers across the country. The six regional first-prize winners are being visited in their home towns by Furgol, who will give each a playing lesson.

Utility Official Predicts Government Approval of Lake Erie Project

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Robert E. Ginna, executive vice president of Rochester Gas & Electric Corp., looks for early government approval of plans to build an atomic plant near Detroit.

Ginna said yesterday RG&E is joining with 10 other utilities in a project which he described as an "experiment, pure and simple," to produce more fuel at a cheaper price.

The plant is to be built on the shore of Lake Erie about 50 miles south of Detroit, he said.

The utilities now are marking time, Ginna said, awaiting the reply to the proposal. He said he expects the reply to be "favorable."

He estimated it will take five years to build the plant and get it operating, after approval. The RG&E, he said, and other utilities have spent about 5½ million dollars in the past thre years working on plans.

Detroit Edison Co., he said, will build the atomic powered turbine electric generator and distribute the power over its lines.

Car Output for Week Lowest This Year

DETROIT (AP)—Ward's Automotive Reports said today that walkouts and the Memorial Day holiday cut motor vehicle output this week to the year's lowest point.

The agency estimates this week's assemblies at 159,017 cars and trucks against last week's 198,182. It counted 132,774 cars and 26,243 trucks in this week's total compared with 167,455 cars and 30,727 trucks in the preceding week. In the comparable 1954 week 95,015 cars and 16,299 trucks were built.

Canadian factories, Ward's said, will build 11,101 cars and week they produced 9,412 cars and 2,245 trucks. In the comparable 1954 week dominion factories built 7,062 cars and 1,312 trucks.

Ward's put U.S. car output so far this year at 3,709,741 units compared with 2,547,541 in the like 1954 period. This year's truck assemblies to date are placed at 542,813 units against 486,128 in the same 1954 period.

New Certified Mail Plan Starts Tuesday

Insurance coverage will not be provided and the fee for the new service is 15 cents. The minimum registration fee of 30 cents for articles on which no indemnity is payable will be discontinued the same date, Dean explained.

"If the sender wishes a postmarked receipt of mailing, he must present the article at the stamp window. Mailing forms are available there and in the post office lobby," Dean said.

The new certified mail service goes into effect at all post offices Tuesday, except those in Washington, D. C., when the system will be opened June 6.

Past Reflected in Store Windows of North Branch

Fines Total $750 After Vice Raid

Fines totaling $750 were imposed by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum on six women and 20 men today after their arrest during an early morning raid by Pontiac Police vice squad members.

Paying $25 fines each, 20 pleaded guilty to loitering in an illegal liquor place and four others pleaded guilty to loitering in a gambling place.

William A. Black, 54, of 3 Grant St., pleaded guilty to maintaining and operating an illegal liquor place and paid a $100 fine. His wife, Mavis, 41, pleaded guilty to aiding and abetting. She paid a $50 fine.

Sgt. Donny Ashley, head of the vice bureau, said 38 points of liquor, playing cards and money were confiscated during the raid.

Led by Sgt. Raymond E. Meggitt, the raid was made by Detective Herber C. Cooley, of the vice squad, and Patrolmen Patrick F. Weaver and Roy Hudson.

The ancient Mayas had a five-day "month" at the end of each year, and 18 other months, each of 20 days' duration.

Pontiac Girl Wins Nursing Scholarship

Among 10 Michigan girls recently chosen to receive Blue Cross nursing scholarships was Norma Bloodworth, 18, of 22 Steinbaugh Court.

The $300 award will be sent in her name to the Hurley Hospital School of Nursing in Flint, where she will study. Miss Bloodworth will be graduated from Pontiac High School, June 17. She ranks in the top 10 per cent of her class with an all "A" scholastic average.

Winners were chosen on the basis of a written application, scholastic grades, the report of the school principal, and achievement on a standard test.

Two other Oakland County girls, Nancy Van Horn and Jane Sherwood, both of Royal Oak, were also contest winners.

Okay Minimum Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Labor subcommittee has recommended legislation to raise the minimum wage in interstate commerce to $1 an hour—10 cents higher than President Eisenhower recommended.

The present level is 75 cents.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I tried to do a different kind of interview with Cleo Moore. When we got together, I didn't try to break the long-kiss record.

★ ★ ★ ★

"When I'm an old grandmother, I'll still be known as the 'long kiss girl'," she supposed, sitting on the floor in her suite at the Plaza, doing push-ups with a couple of phone books to keep in shape.

CLEO MOORE

"Every newspaperman," she said, "thinks he has got to break the record. And it's not much fun kissing, standing up, and with somebody holding a stopwatch . . ."

"There's always a stopwatch?" I asked.

Miss Moore long-kissed Jackie Eigen on a Chicago TV station Feb. 16, 1954. Subsequently — for the benefit of photographers —she kissed George Jessel, Bob Hope, Ezio Pinza and scores of reporters whom she probably wouldn't have kissed otherwise. On a 60-city tour she's just finished for a picture called "Women's Prison," she found out that nobody seems to think she can do anything else but kiss.

"In Houston," she said, "the red-blooded Texans almost tore my clothes off.

"There were about a dozen boys 16 or 17. All of a sudden they wanted their kiss and they pulled a ruffle off of my blouse as a souvenir.

"My worst experience was at the opening of a picture here at the Holiday Theater when the ads said, 'Get a kiss from Cleo Moore in person.'

"Actually I was giving out candy kisses. One man grabbed me around the throat and said, 'I won't settle for that—I want the real thing.'

Down in Alabama, Cleo met up with somebody also famous for kisses—Governor "Kissin' Jim" Folsom.

"Did you kiss him?" I asked eagerly.

"I thought I shouldn't," Cleo said. "His wife was so nice—she sat in the lobby of the theater with me while I signed autographs."

Cleo, who was once married to Palmer Long, baby son of Huey Long, now gives most of her kisses, long and short, to Tony Travis, a singer who's also in the building business, and to Charles Simonelli, a New York movie publicist.

"I have a building business myself," Cleo mentioned.

"My Dad and I build houses. I design them; Dad does the labor.

"That's around Van Nuys. When I got to California, I had $5,000. I bought 7 lots, and ran that $5,000 into a $100,000 house I now have. Which isn't bad for a little girl."

"You're not little!" I retorted.

"Nobody'll believe me," she said, "when they hear my blood pressure's down to 90 and that I've got shots all over my body given to me by a doctor. They all say I look so healthy."

She certainly does that.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP:

We love Debbie Reynolds, but how come she can't live in N. Y. (with Eddie) and "have a career"? Girl named Grace Kelly does pretty good from li'l ole New York.

MARTHA

Martha Wright, the "South Pacific" gal, will finally get to do it in her home town, Seattle . . . Actors James Dean and Lee Marvin will drive cars in the Pebble Beach sports car races.

Senators Plan Study of Aid in Far East

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two members of the Senate Appropriations Committee will tour the Far East for an on-the-spot inspection of the foreign aid program.

The report to be brought back in a month by Sens. Clements (D-Ky) and Dirksen (R-Ill), is certain to influence the committee's consideration of President Eisenhower's 3½ billion aid program for the year starting July 1.

They will leave tomorrow for visits to Japan, Korea, Formosa, the Philippines and Indochina. Dirksen also will visit Europe.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Keys Quads Mark Fortieth Birthday

The four sisters were born June 4, 1915 to Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Keys of Hollis, Okla. Mr. Keys died six years ago.

The girls are Mary, Mrs. Jack Anderson of McKinney; Roberta, Mrs. Jack S. Korn of Houston; Mona, Mrs. Robert Fowler, and Leota, Mrs. Robert T. Hall, both of Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Anderson will play host to her sisters and their families, their mother, who will be 73 in August, and an older sister, Jacqueline, both of whom live in Oklahoma City.

Defense Aide Reveals Level Spending Plans

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Deputy Defense Secretary Robert Anderson says defense spending will not be cut or increased drastically.

He said in an interview yesterday current policy calls for avoiding "the costly peaks and valleys" that go with building up and cutting back forces to meet the ups and downs of world tension.

"Our present budget is going to have to remain constant," he said.

Anderson, whose home is Vernon, Tex., is here to receive a Texas Heritage Foundation award as "Texian of the Year" and address University of Texas commencement tonight.

Boost Teachers Pay

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City's 40,000 public school teachers will get a $300 pay increase for the next academic year and an additional $150 in 1956-57, Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced the pay boost yesterday, saying it will cost the city $23½ million dollars over the two-year period.

House Won't Probe Political Donations

LANSING (AP) — House members slammed the door yesterday on a plan to investigate large contributions in political campaigns.

Rep. Herb Clements (R-Deckerville) moved to send back to committee a resolution setting up a four-man legislative committee to investigate campaign finances.

"We've been sharpshooting enough at labor this session," Clements said. "There has been too much criticism of labor unions on the part of the Republican high brass."

Leaders of both parties have been involved in a verbal battle over campaign spending for months. Republicans demanded an end CIO-Political Action Committee. Democrats said large Republican-controlled corporations were equally free with political contributions.

Cave Yields Tools Used Over 100,000 Years Ago

NEW YORK (AP)—A South African cave discovery has yielded fossil evidence that man's ancestors first learned to use tools and perhaps fire more than 100,000 years ago.

Word of the discovery was received yesterday by the Wenner-Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research, with Dr. Raymond A. Dart informing the foundation that teeth fragments of early man have been found in caves along with crude stone tools.
