Seamen Shout Their Approval of New Contract

Unemployment Benefit System Included; Strike to Be Halted

NEW YORK (AP) — By a voice vote, 5,140 National Maritime Union members today shouted their approval of a new contract agreement, clearing the way for the end of a coastwide work stoppage.

The terms provide an unemployment benefit system for seamen. A meeting of the union sailors here, largest segment of the Galveston-to-Maine union, voted unanimous approval.

Partial basis for a settlement between the NMU and Atlantic and Gulf Coast shippers had been reached earlier, but details had not yet been ready for submission to the striking workers.

It was estimated that benefits paid by the employers to supplement state unemployment insurance benefits would give an idle seaman a total of $40 a week for up to 26 weeks.

The agreement affects 16,000 NMU members.

Francis T. Greene, chairman of the employers' bargaining committee, said he had "great hopes" that meetings would be held early today with two other maritime unions and that settlements would be reached quickly.

He said "our ships will sail immediately" if the agreements are reached.

Despite the passenger ship-freighter agreement, the NMU remained on strike against tanker operators.

Almost 1,000 ships — including transatlantic liners — and 33,000 men are involved in the four-union dispute.

Representatives of both sides plan to start today on the job of putting the terms on paper. No union membership vote on ratification is required.

Senate Passes Draft Extension

But Fate of President's New Reserve Program Still Undecided

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speedy Senate passage last night of an extension of the draft act left undecided the fate of the new reserve program President Eisenhower says the nation must have.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash), a member of the Armed Services Committee, said the reserve bill now "appears to be hopelessly snarled in the House," where it was shelved after approval of a provision to bar segregation of races in reserve and National Guard units.

A four-year extension of the regular draft and a two-year extension of the doctors' draft won shouted Senate approval last night after brief debate during which Sen. Russell (D-Ga) termed the draft the "keystone of our national defense" and predicted additional extensions will be required in the years ahead.

The measure now goes back to the House which, although it had passed a slightly different version of the selective service extension for four years beyond June 30, has not acted on the doctor draft act.

PHS Graduates Complete High School Careers

SENIORS HEAR PRESIDENT—David Tarr, president of the June 1955 graduating class is shown addressing the audience which attended the graduation exercises last night at Pontiac High School. Some 359 seniors heard Dr. W. W. Whitehouse speak on the challenge of "Youth Faces Tomorrow." This commencement marked the final graduation ceremonies for retiring principal of Pontiac High School, John Thors Jr. Pontiac Press Photo

Commencement Held

Pontiac High Graduating Class Advised to 'Accept Responsibility and Reliability'

Dr. W. W. Whitehouse, principal speaker at the Pontiac High School commencement last night, told 359 members of the senior class that the main key in facing the challenge of tomorrow lay in "accepting responsibility and reliability, plus a sense of independence."

The president of Albion College pointed out in his speech, titled "Youth Faces Tomorrow," that this generation must maintain a steadfast faith, the right spirit and a balanced sense of values to succeed in the present day world.

"You are facing," he stated, "the second 50 years of a great era. You must set your direction, follow your trend and reach your predetermined goal."

The lack of independence of thought, Dr. Whitehouse continued, has led to many of the great disasters of our time, and has been conducive to such things as the spread of communism.

"In a democracy such as ours," he concluded, "you must do your own thinking and not be misled by false ideals. Only in this way can we guarantee the freedom of the classroom, the pulpit, and the press."

GRIFFIN PRESIDES

Presiding over the commencement program was Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Board of Education. His remarks were followed by the Pontiac High School Band's rendition of the processional "Grand March." Dale C. Harris is director of the band.

Rev. Duncan McColl, pastor of the First Congregational Church, offered the invocation. The band presented "Concert Tango."

The president of the senior class, David Tarr, made a few remarks on behalf of the senior class, followed by the main address of the evening.

"The Quick Step March" offered by the band preceded the presentation of awards. Presenting the awards was the retiring principal of Pontiac High School, John Thors Jr.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiaic Public Schools, awarded the diplomas.

Russians Expel U.S. Attaches

Three American Staff Employes Charged With 'Improper Activities'

WASHINGTON (AP)— Russia was reported today to have expelled three American attaches who were part of the embassy staff in Moscow.

Informed officials said the Soviet Foreign Office declared them persona non grata because of alleged improper activities.

The phrase in diplomatic language means they are no longer welcome to stay in the country.

These informants declined to name the American military officers involved or to say whether they have already left Russia as ordered.

The latest Soviet moves comes almost a year after Russia expelled two other American embassy attaches. Last July 3, the Soviets forced the departure of Lt. Col. H. Felchlin, assistant military attache, and Maj. W. McKinney, assistant air attache. Both men were charged with attempting "to carry out espionage work."

House Backs Ike on Dixon-Yates

Appropriation Measure Includes Money to Build New Transmission Link

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a big victory for President Eisenhower, the House has voted its approval of a transmission link between the Dixon-Yates private power project and the Tennessee Valley Authority system.

A $1,372,122,800 public works appropriation bill including the project passed by voice vote yesterday and was sent to the Senate.

Supporters said they expected little difficulty getting approval in the Senate, where a marathon debate was waged over the private power plan last year.

House Democrats who had hoped to kill the project tossed in the sponge after an initial setback. They lost by a standing 198-169 vote their fight to allow the TVA to start work on a generating plant at Fulton, Tenn. This would have provided the power which the Dixon-Yates private utilities group has contracted to furnish.

* * *

They made no effort, after that defeat, to carry on a planned battle to prohibit the TVA from spending 6½ million dollars to build a transmission line from its system to the middle of the Mississippi River.

The Dixon-Yates group has contracted to build a power plant at West Memphis, Ark., and to deliver power to the TVA at a pickup connection in the middle of the river.

The fight centered around Republican claims that continued expansion of the TVA system would result in socialization of the nation's power facilities. Countering this, Democrats contended the Dixon-Yates contract was an initial step toward destroying the big TVA system.

New Junior High Contracts Let

Three City Contractors Submit Low Bids, Get School Project

Three Pontiac contractors submitted low bids to take contract awards for building Pontiac's new junior high school at a board of education meeting last night.

Ward W. Ross, Inc. was named general contractor with a bid of $937,000. Eames & Brown, Inc. will do the mechanical trades for the school at a cost of $220,000 and the Ballard Electric Co. has been designated for electrical trades at $84,646.

Competing with Ross were five other concerns, three of whom were Pontiac firms. Bundy Construction submitted a bid at $953,000; Schurrer Construction, $994,100, Krieghoff Co., Detroit at $1,048,529; J. C. Nielsen, Royal Oak, $1,095,218 and J. A. Fredman of Pontiac at $1,118,039.

Runners-up for mechanical was Conrad Co. of Walled Lake at $229,000 and for electrical trades, Fred W. Moote, Pontiac, at $92,984.

H. E. Beyster & Associates, a Detroit architectural and engineering firm, is serving as architects for the school.

Pansy the Pig Moving in With Ike the Farmer

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Pansy the pig is about to move in with the nation's best known farmer—President Eisenhower.

Of course, it's not going to be the White House, but then the President and the pig's present owner, 11-year-old Emmy Lou Murphy, agree that the city is no place to raise a pig.

Emmy Lou and her 16-year-old brother George wrote to the President asking him if he wouldn't take the 6-week-old pig and raise her on his farm in Gettysburg, Pa.

Yesterday, they received a letter from the President saying he would be glad to take her, that he would treat her well and that if he remembered he'd send Emmy Lou a picture of Pansy when she came of age.

The President agreed that the city was no place to raise a pig.

Senate Debates Austrian Treaty

Solons Are Expected to Give Overwhelming Approval to Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate takes up the Austrian treaty of independence today with overwhelming approval considered certain.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee unanimously recommended ratification Tuesday. Austria already has ratified.

The document was signed formally in Vienna May 15, subject to ratification by Austria, the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia. The agreement broke a years-long deadlock between Russia and the Western powers.

Occupation troops are to be withdrawn, under terms of the treaty, within 90 days after ratification.

'A Nice Guy' Slugs Wife for Dirty Dishes

CHICAGO (AP)—A young mother testified in Circuit Court yesterday that her husband beat her twice because she left dirty dishes in the kitchen sink.

Mrs. June T. Dunne, 26, testifying in her divorce suit, said she didn't have time to do the dishes—she had to go to her office job. She said her husband Thomas, 35, a truck driver, had insisted that she work as a secretary.

* * *

"This seems a trivial thing to break up a marriage and cause a child to grow up in a fatherless home," remarked Judge Charles S. Dougherty as he granted Mrs. Dunne a divorce.

The Dunnes have a 5-year-old daughter, whose custody was awarded to Mrs. Dunne. Dunne did not contest the divorce suit.

Judge Expands Turnpike View

Cities Cannot Interfere Unless Route Changes Existing Roadways

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr. has ruled the Michigan Turnpike Authority needs municipal consent for its proposed toll road route only if it intends to change, alter or open any established street or alley.

* * *

In expanding an earlier decision that held the turnpike law valid in every respect, Judge Breakey said yesterday:

"The turnpike will not be a road, street or public alley and therefore will not come under the reasonable control of cities and villages."

Judge Breakey said the State Legislature in creating the authority did not vest it with the power to vacate, change or alter the route of any road.

But at the same time, he ruled, the State Legislature did not intend that villages and cities have an absolute veto on the route and terminal points of a turnpike.

ADDS STRENGTH

Frederick Besimer, attorney for the authority, said Judge Breakey's expanded decision added strength to the powers that the State Legislature intended to confer on the Turnpike Authority.

"This additional explanation certainly clears up many points," Besimer said. "The judge pointed out that it would be possible for a turnpike to go through a city or village without providing ingress or egress to the turnpike in that community."

In that case," Besimer added, "the authority would not need the consent of local officials to plan, build and operate a turnpike."

Opponents of the proposed toll road have planned an appeal to the State Supreme Court in October.

Weather to Remain Warm for Weekend

Continued warm weather is expected in the Pontiac area Saturday and the four days following, according to forecasts of the Weather Bureau.

The thermometer may go up to 88 on Saturday, says the weatherman, and temperatures will average from 8 to 10 degrees above normal for the four day period ending Wednesday. Little or no precipitation is expected.

This morning's low in downtown Pontiac was 61, but the mercury mounted steadily to hit a "warm" 87 by 2 p.m.

Peron Blames Reds, Promises End of Assaults

Urges Priests to Obey Police; Says Rebellion Directed by Navy

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Roman Catholic churches in Argentina were attacked by rioters climaxing yesterday's revolt against the regime of President Juan D. Peron.

This was confirmed indirectly today by Peron himself. In a broadcast to his countrymen, Peron blamed Communists for depredations against the churches and counseled priests to obey police orders.

He promised the government will not allow any further depredations against churches. He gave no details, but unconfirmed reports reaching Montevideo had it that six or seven churches in Buenos Aires had been set afire.

Peron spoke to Argentines by radio for 13 minutes, at noon Argentine time. In a similar broadcast last night, he announced the revolt was over, that the navy was responsible for it, and that Argentina was under a state of siege.

In today's speech he expressed condolences to relatives of those who died in yesterday's air attacks by about 40 planes which struck mainly the Government House. This rambling building in the Plaza de Mayo in central Buenos Aires houses the principal government offices, including Peron's own.

There was no reliable estimate of the total casualties in Buenos Aires or other parts of Argentina, but they were unquestionably heavy.

At the time Peron spoke today direct communications with Buenos Aires had been blacked out for 15 hours.

Peron promised justice will be meted out to those who tried to stage the coup against him, but declared all this will be done under the law. Practically all due process of law is suspended in Argentina under the state of siege.

Peron sought to blame Roman Catholic priests as in part responsible for the start of the rebellion. He has been seeking for seven months to curb powers of the church in Argentina. Yesterday, just before the revolt began, Peron was excommunicated by the Vatican.

U.S. Open Golfers Start Second Round

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bright skies and crisp air greeted today's early starters in the second round of the U.S. Open.

Tommy Bolt was the first day leader with 67.

The usual early morning fog along the coast line had disappeared as the first threesome, little Bob Inman of Detroit, Louis Barbaro of Deal, N.J., and Bob McKendrich of Oswego, Ore., left the first tee.

Inman had a first round 76, Barbaro 80 and McKendrick 85.

The 37-year-old Bolt initiated his bid for the valuable title and the $6,000 top money with a 3 under par 67 yesterday.

'Pay-as-You-Go' Roads Not a New Idea in County

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

Toll roads were functioning in Oakland County long before most of us were born.

The pay-as-you-go idea behind the proposed Flat Rock-to-Saginaw turnpike was first boomed in Michigan more than 100 years ago.

Gov. Epaphroditus (no less) Ransom, elected in 1847, was a great believer in planked roads.

During his two-year tenure he signed charters setting up about 50 plank-road companies. They constructed highways to "last forever" made of oak boards three inches thick laid crosswise on heavy stringers, or directly on the ground.

Most of the roads were operated on a toll basis for many years, but gravel surfacing was later substituted for the "everlasting" planks which proved short-lived.

Arthur W. Selden, of 5480 Cooley Lake Rd., recalls three toll roads still operating here in 1899—one on what is now Woodward Avenue between Pontiac and Detroit, another on Orchard Lake Road from Pontiac toward Farmington, and a third on Auburn Avenue from Pontiac to Mt. Clemens.

Baldwin Avenue had been a pay road shortly before that, said Selden, and called the Steam Mill Road.

According to Pontiac Press writer and Oakland County historian Joe Haas, toll gates at one time or another were located:

On South Saginaw Street near present South Boulevard.

On Orchard Lake Avenue, near the present corner of Voorheis Road.

On Auburn Avenue, near what is now East Boulevard.

On Mt. Clemens street, near current Paddock Street.

On Perry street, near present Montcalm Street—later moved out near Bald Mountain.

Toll rates originally were two-cents-a-mile for vehicles drawn by a team of horses and one-cent-a-mile for a single-horse conveyance.

A farmer could herd 20 sheep one mile along the "highroad" for a half-cent, but if he were in the cattle business it cost one cent to move 20 cows a mile.

The plank-and-toll system, however, was killed by a combination of faulty financing and unsound construction.

A full day's traffic at some gates totaled under $2—and gate keepers by law received at least $1 per day. They were making more money than the investors who had snapped up stock in the firms expecting bonanza-like returns.

On a road from Detroit to Rochester the largest weekly return during the period 1854-64 was $32.88.

Holiday traffic in those days seemed no particular problem. On July 4, 1863 tolls on the route amounted to nine cents.

From the start the roads were difficult to maintain. The most buggy-worthy stretch was the route from Detroit to Pontiac.

It was 12 feet wide and, on good sections, four-horse stagecoaches could hit a "rapid" 10 miles an hour. The road cost $1,000 to build.

In contrast, the modern day Flat Rock-Saginaw turnpike is planned as a divided four-lane highway and will speed traffic over its 113 miles in less than three hours. It will cost about $1,250,000 a mile.

Most of the plank roads were plagued by washouts, leaving the timbers at times suspended two or three feet in the air, or sinking them deep in mud. Rotten boards collapsed with the weight of horses and water splashed on passengers.

Occasionally a piece of roadway would tilt up and snap off a wagon wheel.

Their condition seemed to be summed up by writer Mark Twain who spoke at Grand Rapids shortly after the planked-road era began.

When asked how he found the roads, the author replied he wouldn't have found them at all if some scoundrel hadn't thrown a board across them here and there.

U.S. Gets Wires Crossed in Crop Control Snafu

EMERGENCY PRESS HEADQUARTERS, Operation Alert (AP)—Despite government telegrams indicating otherwise, the Agriculture Department wants it known that all crop controls continue in effect.

And the wheat referendum, which like crop controls almost became a casualty of Operation Alert 1955 will be held as scheduled on June 25.

* * *

The Agriculture Department, as part of its mobilization role, dispatched telegrams to many if not all states yesterday announcing cancellation of acreage allotments and farmers' marketing quotas on all crops except tobacco—and forgot to mention that the orders were just make-believe.

There was momentary consternation in the field offices, for the telegrams sounded urgent and were signed "Benson."

* * *

The wires also called off the wheat referendum on June 25—the idea being to unleash full farm production for a supposedly ravaged nation at war.

A department official here sadly admitted: "It was a mistake of course." A second round of telegrams was sent out to explain what had happened.

* * *

It was doubtful that Secretary of Agriculture Benson knew anything about it.

BIG DAY FOR GRADUATES — "It's great to graduate!" That was the sentiment expressed by these pre-school graduates, as they looked over their diplomas and strutted in their caps and gowns. Left to right, they are Connie Bookmyer of Woodale Road, Birmingham; Rusty Ross, Samoseh Road, Royal Oak; Christine Lahti, Fairfax Street, and Robbie Sellers, Aspen Road, both of Birmingham. The youngsters are among a group of nursery school graduates at the Redeemer Lutheran Church of Birmingham.

Investigators Probe Gutted Home Today

Investigators from the State Police fire marshal's office today were slated to sift through the fire-swept ruins of the East Long Lake road home of Detroit department store magnate Otto Kern.

The home, located on a 120-acre estate split by the Bloomfield Hills-Bloomfield Township boundry line, was gutted by a breeze-fanned blaze yesterday morning. Unofficial estimates of damage to house and contents was set at more than $100,000.

According to the Kern cook, who discovered it, the fire started on the roof of the approximately 50-year-old house, near a chimney. Cause has not yet been determined.

Strikes, Shortages Idle 72,000 at GM

DETROIT (AP)—Idleness in the vast General Motors industrial network shot up to 72,600 today as strikes and parts shortages closed 25 of the company's 119 plants around the country.

"The strikes that hit the first part of the week finally are catching up with us," a GM spokesman said.

Seven plants and 17,600 workers were idled directly by strikes. Another 18 plants and 55,000 workers were caught by gaps in the firm's highly integrated production-supply system.

About 42,000 of the idle total are in Michigan.

Okay on Stock Issue

LANSING (AP)—The State Public Service Commission today authorized Consumers Power Co. to issue 100,000 shares of preferred stock and 373,689 shares of common stock.

Safe Containing $1,000 in Cash Reported Stolen

A 1,000-pound safe containing about $1,000 in cash and $2,000 in checks was reported stolen last night from a Rochester auto agency.

According to Rochester Police Chief Samuel Howlett the thieves also took a new car from Houghton and Son Inc., located at 528 N. Main St. He said the car apparently was used to take the 5x2-foot safe from offices of the agency.

The thefts were discovered at about 7 a.m. by workers at the firm. Howlett said entry was made by breaking a small window.

Hospital Plans Deadline Is Set

Blueprints for Addition Must Be Completed by Sept. 1

Pontiac General Hospital trustees last night set a Sept. 1 deadline for completion of plans for a new $3,000,000 wing.

Willis M. Brewer, chairman of the property committee, was instructed to tell Leo J. Heenan, architect, and Adolph H. Roessling, consultant, that the completed plans must be ready for presentation to the City Commission by Sept. 1.

Various tentative drawings of the addition, approved by voters last November, have been prepared by Heenan and Roessling. Board of trustee members have worked closely with the two, Lauretta Paul, hospital director, and medical staff members in developing the plans.

In other action, the board turned down a motion by Mrs. B. B. Rousch which would have eliminated the hospital's practice of sending letters of inquiry to patients after they are released.

Miss Paul said the letters which request comment or recommendations on the hospital, its personnel and services, are "a very valuable administrative tool" and "well worth the cost" (about 5 cents each).

The board also took under study an overtime pay request for employes who work more than one shift in a 24-hour period.

Water pressure in the ocean is about one ton per square inch for every mile of depth.

The Day in Birmingham

Summer Play Programs Readied for Youngsters

BIRMINGHAM — The YMCA today begins its Da-Y program for boys and girls 8 through 14 years of age. The program continues five days weekly through August 26.

Edwin Kirbert, executive secretary of the Y and supervisor of the Da-Y program, said this summer's program will include horseback riding, boating, crafts, swimming, tours through industrial plants, four overnight hikes, a trip to Bob-Lo, and a trip July 7 to the Detroit Tiger-Chicago White Sox baseball game at Briggs Stadium.

Kirbert said all groups will be under the supervision of college students who are spending their summer vacation as counselors, and junior leaders who are learning to be future leaders.

The Birmingham Recreation Board's summer program, also for youngsters, starts next Monday. The city program will run through August 12.

Among the activities offered are swimming, rifle shooting, radio dramatics, baseball, a junior sports program, golf, music, a day camp and supervised playground activity.

Swimming will be at the Barnum pool with classes for non-swimmers. The pool will be open five days weekly from 12:45 through 5:15.

Boys and girls must be at least 9 years of age to participate in rifle shooting at the police range, Cranbrook and Lincoln. The season opens next Tuesday and closes June 29.

At Birmingham High, radio dramatics will be offered for teenage children only. Those taking part in the course, which runs from June 27 until August 5, will assist in producing radio shows for local stations.

At the city's 11 baseball diamonds, facilities are provided for scrub games in mornings and afternoons with organized play — the Little League, Babe Ruth League and American Legion League — scheduled for evenings.

The junior sports program, including basketball, badminton, volley ball, roller skating and table tennis, will be open each day from 9 a. m. until noon at Birmingham High.

Golfing and day camping will be held at Springdale Park, tennis at Eton Park. The music courses will be offered at Baldwin School with expert instruction provided. Classes also will be held for the non-players in all instruments.

The Secretary of State's branch office in Birmingham has been transferred from Edwin Dowd to George Schutz of Schutz Motors, Inc., 912 S. Woodward. Dowd, appointed to the office last January, said he had to give up the branch manager's job because of his own business.

* * *

All or part of 62 streets in Birmingham are tentatively scheduled to be oiled this summer. Confirmation of special assessments for the program will be completed at the City Commission meeting Monday.

Mrs. Jack Karr has been elected president of the Collegiate Sorosis. Mrs. George Jones was elected vice president, Mrs. Earl Ramsey, secretary and Mrs. William L. Doerr, treasurer.

10 Hurt as Cap Blows Off Well

Gas Bursts in Flame at Large Pennsylvania Installation

RENOVO, Pa. (AP)—The capping valve of a natural gas well, believed to be the nation's largest, blew off yesterday and escaping gas burst into flame, causing injuries to 10 men.

Millions of cubic feet of gas were still burning today as Paul (Red) Adair, a specialist in extinguishing well fires and recapping them, flew to this northwest central Pennsylvania area from Houston, Tex.

The well, described by workmen as a "wild one," was brought in only last week. Gas was flowing from the well at an estimated 150 million cubic feet a day.

The capping valve, weighing 2,500 pounds, flew off early yesterday. In the afternoon another loud explosion signaled the start of the fire.

The injured were all employed by firms working the well. One man, Francis Gavin, 32, of Andover, N.Y., was reported in serious condition with third-degree burns of the entire body.

The well is owned by the New York State Natural Gas Co. of Pittsburgh.

Really Beat-Up Car Goes for First Bid

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—When a customer brought a well-battered car to a dealer and asked for a price on it in exchange for a new one, the dealer looked, winced and named a rock-bottom price.

To the dealer's amazement, the customer replied "I'll take it".

Seems hee had become angry at the running eccentricities of the car and had beaten the windows out of it with a baseball bat.

New Nike Site Slated in Area

Construction Scheduled to Begin 'in Very Near Future'

Construction of Oakland County's third guided missile site will begin "in the very near future," it was revealed today.

The new "Nike" missile-launching base will be located on a 69-acre section of land in the Proud Lake Recreation Area in Commerce Township, the Detroit District office, Army Corps of Engineers, said.

Contract for construction has been awarded to J. A. Fredman, Inc., of Pontiac, which is now completing work on a base near Auburn Heights. The contract is for $821,563, higher than the Auburn Heights base. It includes barracks, a Fredman spokesman explained.

Also nearing completion is a site in Farmington Township.

The bases are part of a rough circle of defensive missile stations being built around the metropolitan Detroit area. Others near Utiac in Macomb County and at Selfridge Air Base, are completed.

An Army official said the new base, located at Commerce and Wise Rds., is the last slated for the county, but added that could change at any time.

The Fredman spokesman said work on the Proud Lake site will begin "in the very near future."

Brothers Waive Exam on Breakin Charges

Two brothers waived examination on a breaking and entering charge when they were arraigned before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle yesterday.

The pair, Clayton, 25, and Clyde Ortwine, 23, of Farmington, were returned to Oakland County Jail on $5,000 bonds each pending arraignment in Circuit Court June 27.

They are charged with the June 12 breakin of a products firm. State Police of the Redford post arrested the pair this week.

Juvenile Crimes Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—Juvenile delinquents (children under 16) in New York's Domestic Relations Court rose 15 per cent between 1953 and 1954. The number of 16-to-21 offenders in other courts rose nearly 53 per cent in the same period.

Senate Probe to Feature Nude Pictures of Marilyn

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Marily Monroe's nude calendar pose becomes a prime exhibit today as the Kefauver subcommittee investigating juvenile delinquency winds up its local stay.

* * *

The Senate probers get into the art and literature phase of the three - day hearings. Subpoenas have been issued to a dozen operators of what committee members term "smut mills." All are expected to be unfriendly witnesses.

Among the exhibits will be a mail order advertisement for "Marilyn Monroe playing cards" featuring Miss Monroe's undraped torso.

* * *

The subcommittee yesterday heard a parade of movie biggies defend Hollywood's contribution to culture, despite charges that recent movies have been laden with sex and violence.

Dore Schary, Jack L. Warner, Y. Frank Freeman, Harry Joe Brown, George Murphy and Ronald Reagan all appeared.

Freeman, head of Paramount Studios, lashed back when stung by one question.

"Drinking, liquor, divorce—we didn't start them," he said. "When you wind it all up you'll find it comes right back to the rearing of the child in the home."

Jack L. Warner of Warner Bros. said much of the blame for juvenile delinquency must be laid to the prohibition era and the world wars.

* * *

George Murphy defended his studio's production of "Blackboard Jungle."

"I had misgivings when I read the book," he testified, "but when we made it into a movie I was proud. The story was not overdrawn and it focused national attention on a serious educational problem."

Kindergarten Piano Crushes Detroit Tot

DETROIT (AP)—Five-year-old Paul Gallo was crushed to death yesterday by a piano that fell on him in a kindergarten class.

The teacher, Miss Harriet Andrews, 26, said she was pushing the heavy upright to the center for the daily music hour. Paul ran to help her. The piano apparently hit a snag in the floor and toppled on the lad.

Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien held the teacher blameless and termed the accident "the most pathetic case I've ever handled."

Dan'l Boone Nabbed for Reservoir Swim

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (AP)—Daniel Boone, swimming in the San Fernando Reservoir, was booked at city jail yesterday—as soon as police got him back into his buckskins.

"I was havin' a grand time; I saw the 'no trespassing' signs but I figured I wouldn't get caught," said Boone, 35. He was charged with violating the municipal code by swimming in a reservoir.

OUR BIRD FRIENDS—5
The Redheaded Woodpecker

There are many kinds of woodpeckers in different parts of this country, but none is handsomer than the red head. He should make a fine addition to your collection. Color his head bright red. His back and breast are black and white as shown.

Woodpeckers have stout, chisel-shaped bills with which they can pound holes in trees to get out harmful worms and grubs. Two of their four toes point up and two down, so that they can cling tightly to tree trunks. They work hard for a living.

The red head is about as big as a robin and he isn't as common as he used to be. One reason is that red heads have never learned to be careful about crossing streets. Large numbers of them are killed each year by automobiles. In spite of their pretty colors they must be a little dumb.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

FRIDAY, JUNE 17, 1955

Splendid Man Available for Oakland Position

Clark J. Adams has officially declared himself available as a candidate for Oakland County's fourth circuit judgeship.

This is good news.

Mr. Adams is especially capable.

The appointee will serve until the next general election which takes place in November of 1956. The term of office will start January first.

★ ★ ★

The Press believes that the Governor will do Oakland County a great service if he names this outstanding and capable individual. Already experienced through a period on the Supreme Court, Clark Adams possesses a judicial mind and a contemplative attitude towards life in general.

★ ★ ★

He holds the good will and respect of Oakland County attorneys and citizens alike. American courts will be forever safe as long as they're in the hands of men like Clark J. Adams.

Ike Asks Senate to Pass Adequate Reserve Bill

President Eisenhower has done well to direct his appeal to the Senate for early favorable action on a suitable military reserve bill.

In so doing he wisely emphasized his objections to legislative riders in general. In particular he hit at those riders which, instead of aiding the cause intended, served only to sidetrack the reserve bill in the House.

★ ★ ★

One of these was the amendment introduced by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell. It would have prevented assignment of reservists to segregated National Guard units. Rep. Powell, of course, was trying to speed the end of segregation in our armed forces. But his amendment stirred up so much antagonism among Southern lawmakers that the bill had to be shelved.

★ ★ ★

We hope the Senate is receptive to the President's plea for prompt action to ensure adequate military reserves. The need for such reserves has been increased by the action of Congress in approving manpower reductions asked by the Administration. It is heightened by Russia's recent revelation of its expanded air power.

A further argument for Congressional enactment of a reserve bill free of crippling amendments is that it would strengthen the President's hand at the forthcoming Big Four conference at Geneva.

President Eisenhower highlighted the need for our reserves to be well trained by asking a question. Pointing out that in the event of enemy attack every city and hamlet would become a front line, he continued:

"If this is true, why do we not want someone in those front lines that is trained and ready to do something sensible . . . ?"

Soo Locks 100 Years Old

Next Saturday, June 18, is important to the people of Michigan, the Great Lakes area and the Nation because it will be the 100th birthday of the Soo Locks.

Much has happened since the first ship to use the new locks, the Illinois, passed through into Lake Superior on June 18, 1855. Then the St. Mary's River was chiefly famed for its turbulent water and delicious whitefish. Today it is a vital link in the world's busiest inland waterway system.

In that first year cargoes carried through the locks totaled only 14,503 tons. Over the years tonnage grew steadily however, until it reached 129,000,000 in 1953. During the century ending this week cargoes weighing a grand total of more than four billion tons have been transported through the locks.

Much of that tonnage was made up of millions of bushels of wheat from the Northwest and millions of tons of iron ore bound for the steel mills of the Midwest.

★ ★ ★

Because the capacity and efficiency of lake ships also have increased steadily through the years, the cost of moving this vast tonnage has been kept down. This, in turn, has helped keep down the prices of products manufactured from the iron ore and foods made from this wheat.

★ ★ ★

Credit for first bringing to fruition the dream of locks so large ships could bypass the St. Mary's River rapids belongs to Charles T. Harvey, an agent of the Fairbanks Scale Co. As a result of this promotional spade-work construction was started June 4, 1853, by a firm organized by the Fairbanks Brothers.

The Old Sorehead favored us with a meteorological opinion. "It's done about got to where," he said, "the weather does about as much harm as it does good."

The reason a prejudiced person is against so many things is that he's against almost everything he can't understand.

Assembling Much Valuable Material on Local History

Road map: What tells everything except how to fold it.

Among those who are working to gather and preserve the historical material about Oakland County, none is doing more than

Mrs. E. V. Howlett,

Historian of the local pioneer and historical society. For many years she has been engaged in this work, now comprising several thousand items. During the past year alone, besides the great volume of other data, 1,034 cards of a biographical and genealogical nature have been added to the files, and a rather extensive correspondence carried on.

A very welcome letter comes from of Wyandotte, which says, "I am on the road for a Detroit petroleum company, and among the twelve cities that I visited on Flag Day, Pontiac had the best display of them all."

That's When It'll Be Tough

David Lawrence Says:

Big 3 Is Trying to Guess Just What Soviet Wants

NEW YORK — An adventure in the realm of appraisal — guessing the Soviet mind — took up most of the time of the three foreign ministers at their sessions here. About all they could focus on was that the Communists probably have something very definite in view besides mere propaganda.

* * *

This is an accurate analysis because everything for several weeks has pointed to the strategy of the Soviets as aimed at achieving definite gains at the conference table and not just a point or two for further debate on the radio waves.

Certainly the Communists are after something definite. They want to isolate Germany and Austria and want the United States troops withdrawn from Europe.

They would like to see the German people tempted by the bait of reunification so that no German troops will ever join the Western defense. They would like to weaken the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, too. All this is part of a deliberate program.

BIG 3 CAUTIOUS

What Dulles, Pinay and MacMillan, representing the United States, France and Great Britain, are trying to do is to figure out some way to meet this unusual form of attack. Naturally the three foreign ministers are cautious. When they meet with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov in San Francisco next week they will not try to settle anything except procedures — that is, how the Geneva conference of the four heads of state is to be conducted.

* * *

Thus far there is no formalized agenda, which means that nature will have to take its course once the "summit" conference gets going.

But already it is announced that in the three or four days of the historic four-power conference nothing is to be decided on the major issues except the manner in which these issues are to be tackled thereafter.

Shall it be by the establishment of an agenda of subjects with special meetings of commissions to consider the pro and the con? Shall the United Nations be asked to take up some of the problems?

WIDE AGENDA

Certainly the four-power conference at Geneva will mention every subject that today tends to disturb the peace of the world and some one of the participants will urge that something be done about each.

But it is too early to say whether anybody will come up with a solution for the simple reason that no one knows if the Soviets have in mind the removal of the basic causes of the world unrest — their own aggressive operations throughout the Western countries.

* * *

So the three foreign ministers after a long conference here have concluded that it is necessary to keep open minded and on the alert. Foreign Secretary Macmillan of Great Britain put it this way afterward, in a public speech:

"There are signs of a new look in Communist policy, a certain reduction of tension, a greater flexibility. But really that makes it all the more difficult not to make mistakes . . .

THE BEGINNING

"What this meeting should be is not the end but the beginning. It should be the beginning of a new and fruitful phase. The heads of government could take a broad survey of the field, however wide.

* * *

"They would not seek to reach final agreements, but rather to agree upon the scope of the problems be solved and the methods by which agreements could eventually emerge.

"They would plan the outline of the work for the foreign secretaries to carry on. This in some cases might best be carried out by other international procedures, such as the United Nations."

Macmillan didn't say a word about "compromise" nor did he hint that another Yalta type conference was in the offing, as did Adlai Stevenson in his speech earlier this week. Macmillan is purposely vague because no one knows how much faith or trust can be put in the Communist proposals.

COMPROMISE

The Daily Worker, Communist publication here, is of course all in favor of compromise and in an enthusiastic editorial Wednesday morning commends Adlai Stevenson for his speech and denounces Republicans who disagree as well as "some of Stevenson's own colleagues in Congress" for their skeptical attitude toward the big four conference.

* * *

Plainly the only safe attitude for the Western statesmen to adopt toward the Russians is best expressed by the old American slang: "You've got to show me."

Pontiac Visitor Asks Parents to Instruct Children With Guns Not to Violate Law

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I am visiting in Pontiac. Saturday afternoon I saw three boys in the neighborhood. Two of them had guns. I am always suspicious of boys with guns but as I was a stranger and didn't know your city regulations, I didn't feel it was my place to interfere.

A short time later one boy shot into a tree; something fell out. They looked at it, threw it into the bushes and went on. So I went over to see what they had shot and found, to my horror, it was two baby cardinals. Shortly after, the father cardinal came looking for his young ones. As you know the cardinal, one of our most beautiful birds, is protected by Federal law.

Yesterday I inquired at your new City Hall and learned that shooting a gun in the city limits is against city laws.

Why do parents allow children to have guns, and then not teach them the laws concerning them? Perhaps some publicity in regard to the possession and use of firearms in the city would help insure the protection of birds.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Rebellion Against Peron Hinges on His Loyal Army

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

Students of Latin-American affairs have been wondering for years just when Argentina would blow.

* * *

First they thought it would come when Dictator Peron revolutionized the country's economy, clamping down on the wealthy cattle breeders, planters, business men and industrialists.

He has always made his pitch to labor, taking advantage of discontent over low wages, which he ordered raised, and of anticlericalism among the workers.

* * *

But, with the aid of his late wife Evita, who created numerous government financed foundations and the like to aid the working class, he beat off the counterattack of what he called the oligarchy. The clincher came when he proclaimed a government monopoly to exports. Under this plan, he fixed prices for the nation's products lower than those of world markets and the government pocketed the difference.

Argentina had ruffled the feathers of the United States during the war with a soft attitude toward Nazi Germany, and followed through after the war with a similar attitude toward Communist Russia. There were times when an open break appeared imminent.

* * *

About this time evidence began to appear that Peron was working on a grandiose scheme to take both political and economic hegemony over all South America or at least those countries which were close neighbors of Argentina and not tied so tightly to the United States.

Then he lost the great appeal Evita had for the public through her death. Predictions that he wouldn't last long after that were rife.

* * *

His opponents were encouraged to attempt the organization of a new political party, closely kin to the heavily Catholic Christian Democratic parties of Europe, but with distinct Socialist tinges. The Communists, although Peron pretends to despise them as of no importance in Argentina, attempted to infiltrate this movement, though not welcomed by Catholic elements.

The dispute with the Church itself, resulting in deportation of its chief prelates from Buenos Aires, in Peron's excommunication from the church, and the military revolt which began yesterday, apparently grew out of Peron's rage at the attempt to form the new party, although no formal connection between it and the Church itself has been established.

* * *

First reports of the upheaval were too vague to give any insight on the actual forces at work.

The keystone is the army which apparently remains loyal to Peron.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE O-359: Bobby K., aged 11, is angry at his parents.

"We have always given Bobby a weekly allowance since kindergarten days," his mother said. "We adjusted it to his age and needs.

* * *

"Now we pay him $1.00 per week. But he argues that he needs more money than that because all the other kids get more.

"But we can't afford to be as indulgent as some of the wealthier parents whose children also attend the same school with Bobby.

"Dr. Crane, Bobby is becoming sassy and ugly to us. He thinks we are tyrants, so what should we do?"

STOP ALLOWANCES

Never start a child on the allowance plan, for this simply cultivates the dangerous psychology of the "dole".

People should not be trained to expect something for nothing. The primary purpose of child education is to educate the child to be able to face the problems of real life.

* * *

Well, real life makes allowances for nobody. The motto of society is that merit gets its reward. So don't cultivate parasites.

Start at the kindergarten age and let your youngster earn his own spending money. Then he will begin to realize that coins represent minted human life.

Dimes and quarters and dollars will then stand for sweat and toil and sacrifice. So the child will have a better respect for money and make sure he gets a bargain when he finally does spend it.

NOT MERCENARY

"Oh, but doesn't that encourage a mercenary attitude in the child?" some squeamish sentimentalists may protest.

No, it definitely does not! Ask any parents of children who earn their own money, and they will tell you their children are more co-operative and more generous when they thus realize the true significance of money.

And look at Bobby, who has been reared on the "allowance" plan. What does his mother say about him?

Sassy and ugly and uncooperative! His parents are tyrants! He is hostile and talks against them behind their backs.

ADAPT WORK

So get wise to practical psychology and start your child on the sensible earn-as-you-go method. Then he can have $2 or even $5 per week if he wants to work that hard, and he will not blame his parents.

* * *

Adapt the tasks to his age and strength. Kindergarteners can thus make their own beds or get Daddy's slippers for him or run minor errands.

Older children can be paid for special weekend chores, such as washing windows, ironing the flatwork, carrying out ashes, mowing the lawn or washing the family automobile.

Children are motivated better by immediate goals which they can see vividly. So pay a child each day. Don't hold up his wages for a weekly or monthly check.

* * *

Some mothers have also found that it perks up their child's incentive to stick a dime on each window with Scotch tape and then, when the child washes the window, he gets to pocket the coin.

KIDS NEED MONEY

Every child from kindergarten age onward needs to have money so he can feel independent and become a shrewd shopper.

But it is wrong to cultivate the habit of expecting something for nothing, so you hamper your child by giving him a regular allowance.

The best training in American business is obtained by newspaper boys, so when your sons get into high school, encourage them to handle a newspaper route.

Send for my bulletin "20 Ways Children Can Earn Spending Money," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Cod Liver Oil Treatment Still Helpful in Rheumatiz

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

A sovereign remedy for rheumatiz — chronic joint disability — back in the days when medicine was a profession, before the businessmen discovered how much more they could make out of "arthritis," was plain cod liver oil.

* * *

Not just a dainty teaspoonful after meals for a week or two, but a tablespoonful twice daily, or two tablespoonfuls (a fluid-ounce) every day the year around—with perhaps a month off each summer, for good behavior.

Among other nutritional elements in cod liver oil, the patient who downed his beaker of oil like a little man—a little woman would take it without any fuss and ask "who's for pachisi?" got what recognized nutrition authorities consider the optimal daily requirement of vitamin D, a little more than I recommend for one with the rheumatiz; and also an optimal daily ration of iodine, a little more that I recommend for everybody.

That wasn't all. The individual with chronic joint disability (physical degeneration, not "arthritis") got about 18,000 units of vitamin A in the cod liver oil, and that, too, is an optimal daily ration, that is to say, the amount calculated to maintain the most healthful nutritional condition.

HELPS RHEUMATIZ

Now it is my belief—and remember I'm no authority about anything—that the cod liver oil treatment was as helpful as any other treatment for the rheumatiz (not "arthritis") then or now.

* * *

To the best of our present knowledge, the remedial effects of cod liver oil are entirely attributable to the vitamin A, vitamin D and iodine the oil contains.

Today any or all of these principles may be taken in virtually tasteless form, small tablets, and fish liver oils or so-called concentrates which still retain fishy odor or taste are as obsolete for preventive or remedial use as calomel and bleeding.

Provitamin A (carotene) is so abundantly available in fruits and vegetables and natural vitamin A in milk, cream, butter, cheese, egg yolk, liver, sardines, etc., that clear evidence of A deficiency is rare in America, except, perhaps, moderate "night blindness" (poor dark adaptation) and xeroderma (abnormal dryness of the skin). These manifestations of A deficiency seem unrelated to rheumatism.

DIET LACKING

But, as you will find explained in detail in the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz (for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope), there is a great deal of scientific, empirical, clinical and practical evidence that the modern ultrarefined American diet does not supply adquate daily amounts of certain essentials to maintain good nutrition, notably these: (1) vitamin B, (2) iodine, (3) sunshine vitamin D, and (4) calcium.

* * *

If is my belief, theory, opinion, notion, whatever you please to call it, that in most instances the rheumatiz (not arthritis) is physical degeneration of joint tissues due to these nutritional deficiencies.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Baby Bears Will Carry Own Birth Certificates

SCHROON LAKE, N.Y. (UP)—Black bears in the Catskill and Adirondack mountains of New York State may have birth certificates put on their chests for hunters to "squint at" before shooting or running.

Assembly speaker Oswald D. Heck made the suggestion in remarking on an old conservation law which makes it a misdemeanor to shoot black bears less than 12 months old.

Gets Coffee Headache

CHICAGO (UP) — Too much coffee gave George Welter, 20, a headache. The coffee—6 quarts of it—was in a steel urn that fell off a 15-foot hydraulic lift and hit him on the head.

Study New College for Bay City Area

SAGINAW (UP)—A committee representing Midland, Bay and Saginaw Counties will make a detailed study to determine whether it is feasible to establish a college in their area.

Gov. Williams has signed a bill authorizing the three counties to join in operating junior or community colleges. At present, there is only one institute of higher learning in this area—Bay City Junior College.

A committee of 30 conducted a preliminary survey last night and decided to place the project in the hands of a larger committee, which in turn will hire a director to survey the possibilities.

Under consideration is the possibility of starting a four-year college as well as a junior college.

Korean Couple to Stay in U.S.

Pair at MSC Granted Reprieve; Not Going Back to Asia

EAST LANSING (UP)—A Michigan State College couple, fearful of Communist violence if forced to return to their Korean homeland, have been handed a reprieve from terror by U.S. immigration authorities.

Kyu Yawp Lee said federal officials in Detroit promised that Lee and his family could remain in the country indefinitely.

Earlier, federal officials had informed him he would have to return to South Korea immediately because his student's visa had expired.

Rep. Don Hayworth (D-Mich) intervened in the case, introducing a bill in Congress to grant the couple American citizenship.

Because he had served with the U.S. Army as a tranlator during the Korean War, Lee feared he would fall victim to the strong Communist underground if he were forced to return to South Korea.

The underground, he said, has "ways of getting people."

Lee fled the Communists in his native North Korea in 1947, and entered the U.S. on a student's visa. His wife came to the U.S. two years later.

Lee holds a bachelor's degree and is doing graduate work at MSC. His wife has a master of music degree.

The couple is especially anxious that their two children, 18-month-old Irene and Nelson, a month old, can remain in America.

The Army has offered Lee a job teaching Korean in a California language school, but immigration authorities told him he could not accept it until he won his citizenship.

June 16—All officials responsible for the churchmen's expulsion were excommunicated.

Russia Seeking Neutral Japan

Soviets Demand U.S. Troops Be Withdrawn or No Peace Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)— Russia is now seeking to neutralize Japan as well as Germany in a probable strategy aimed eventually at extending its influence over both key industrial nations.

U.S. officials said today that Russia's designs on Japan stand out clearly in the reported price tag which Moscow has put on making a peace treaty with Tokyo—withdrawal of U.S. troops 90 days after the treaty became effective.

When the United States and most of its World War II allies signed a peace treaty with Japan, a separate agreement was negotiated. It said American forces may remain in Japan as long as a danger of Communist aggression exists and the Japanese are unable to meet it effectively.

The State Department made no comment on the Tokyo reports. Officials said the treaty discussions between Russia and Japan, being held in London, are formally no affair of the United States. Russia's designs are a matter of intense interest here, however.

What now appears to be true is this: The Soviets have discovered that strong-arm tactics such as they were using as recently as last winter merely strengthen antagonism against them. Without abandoning their major objectives, they now are using completely different tactics—the tactics of good will and peacemaking.

The major purpose defensively is to split the United States apart from its allies in Europe and Asia—to leave it isolated and to leave Allied countries without the source of military strength which this country has provided since the cold war began.

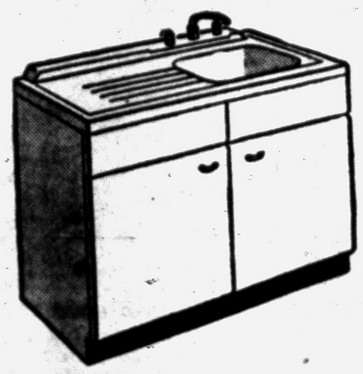

Their purpose offensively, while smokescreened by peace talk now, is eventually to extend their power over Germany and Japan, whose industrial resources could swing the military balance in Europe and Asia.

In Europe the Soviets can try to lull French fears of a revived German military machine with neutrality arguments. In both Europe and the Far East they can hold out the lures of a peaceful future.

Want Big 4 Test of Russian Aims

Suggest Ike Lay Down Statement of Principles to Measure Soviets

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) proposed today that President Eisenhower lay down at the July Big Four conference a "pattern for peace" to provide an acid test of Russian world intentions.

Agreeing that a statement of Allied principles is needed, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) suggested in a separate interview that Democratic leaders such as former Secretary of State Dean Acheson be invited by the administration to sit in on its drafting.

* * *

Knowland, Senate Republican leader, said Eisenhower should be prepared at the meeting with the Premiers of Britain, France and Russia to state the free world's position on such vital issues as free elections in the Soviet satellites and the conditions for reuniting Germany.

"I think the opportunity will be there to demonstrate that the free world is seeking peace," Knowland said. "The President could lay down a pattern by which peace could be achieved.

* * *

"That would put the Russians on a spot. If they refuse even to discuss elections in the satellite countries, for instance, the world will quickly see through the sham of their professed peaceful intentions."

Louisville Now Burro Center of Mid-South

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Louisville acquired an unusual burro population because William M. Cissell wanted a pair of the "mountain canaries" as pets for his children.

Cissell asked his firm's New Mexico distributor, Phillip Voss, to round up a couple of burros in the Jemez Mountains near Albuquerque.

Voss found rounding up the wild burros hard going at first, but after a few weeks he managed to trap two in small corrals near waterholes. Meanwhile word had gotten around that Voss wanted burros, and Mexicans and cowhands began bringing them in. Before he knew it, he had 22 of the animals.

Voss loaded all 22 on a truck and brought them here. Some are on exhibit near Cissell's plant, the rest are stabled at the state fairgrounds.

Cissell, meanwhile, is busy trying to find Kentucky homes for 22 burros. He has one good bet in horse-conscious Kentucky — many thoroughbred horses are fond of the burros, and some racing stables keep them around as mascots.

Death Has 3 Lives

by Brett Halliday

Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Lucy Hamilton, frightened by threats, delays telling Private Detective Mike Shayne, that she had harbored a fugitive in her apartment. Mike already had forcibly ejected a policeman who tried to force his way in to make an illegal search. Now Mike has learned that the fugitive, a former friend of Lucy's named Jack Bristow, is wanted for murder.

V

Shayne shook his head in sudden irritation while three deep creases formed between his eyes. He muttered, "I think I'd like to hear a lot more about this Jack Bristow."

* * *

He looked at his watch as he settled himself, said quietly, "I admit you've got me in a spot, and that I pulled Will Gentry into it with me when I chased the sergeant and his men away. If I decide it will really accomplish anything to tell the exact truth about your pulling the wool over my eyes, I'll do so. But if an anonymous phone call will bring the same results, I'll try to keep you out of it. And myself and Gentry, incidentally. So don't waste time with any explanations, give me his description and what you know about him."

Keeping her voice as flatly unemotional as she could, Lucy complied. She heard a disbelieving grunt from Shayne when she explained that she hadn't seen Jack for years—and then only once briefly in New Orleans, and had no idea where he might go to in Miami. She did explain that he claimed to have been shot by a dead man and had come to her for help because he knew no one else, and knew her address from his sister.

Shayne nodded curtly when she finished. "I'll go downstairs to call that information in. Don't go in the bedroom. If they don't pick him up fast, I'll try to lift his prints from in there for the police to work on."

His set face told her nothing when he returned, but he sat down and took a sip of cognac and told her matter-of-factly, "It's pretty bad. There's a city-wide alarm out for him, and your description may help. A girl," he went on moodily, "strangled in a rooming-house on Eighteenth Street. A taxi driver picked the fool up a block from the girl, and brought him directly to this address.

CABBIE REPORTS

He remembered him and how oddly he acted, and when he heard about the girl later over the radio, he told the police. There was nothing about any shooting," he added "no gun found on the girl nor any blood around."

"I know there's some mistake, Michael. I just know he wouldn't strangle a girl."

Shayne shook his red head angrily. "It isn't that easy, Lucy. And now, just between the two of us, why did you hold out on me? I can maybe understand you're not calling a doctor after the story he told you. But why not me? I'd have listened to him. If he was in trouble and innocent, I might even have helped him."

* * *

She drew in a long breath and lifted round, luminous eyes to Shayne's intent gaze. "I guess it doesn't matter now," she said simply, "but he threatened to tell you we were lovers if I brought you into it."

"What sort of heel do you take me for? If you can't trust me any further than that . . ."

"What?" she asked faintly.

"Then it's time you started looking for another job."

"I will," she agreed. "Tomorrow morning."

He stopped abruptly in his pacing to glare at her. "Not without giving me two weeks' notice, you won't. You listen to me, Lucy."

"I'll not listen to you," she interrupted defiantly.

He hesitated a further moment, but Lucy did not look up or reply. He turned and jammed his hat down on bristly red hair, stalked out of the room.

Michael Shayne's car was parked in front of Lucy's apartment house and he gunned it around in a U-turn with wholly unnecessary violence to head toward the 18th Street address he had been given when he made the anonymous call to police headquarters. He was seething inwardly, and his big hands gripped the wheel hard as he sent the heavy car leaping crosstown. Inside, he was all mixed up and in a turmoil about his feelings toward Lucy.

The Northwest section where the murder had occurred was one of the older sections of the city, one of the better residential sections many years previously, consisting mostly of old two and three-story residences which had been converted into rooming houses to meet the servant problem and the high cost of upkeep.

The block that Shayne sought was quiet and tree-shaded, inadequately lighted with street lamps two blocks apart.

* * *

Half a dozen police cars and an ambulance were parked at the crub in front of a big house near the center of the block. Little groups of curious onlookers were gathered on the sidewalk, and two uniformed men were in the street impatiently waving traffic onward.

As Shayne slid past slowly, he noted Chief Will Gentry's private car wedged between two radio cars.

He got out and sauntered back, wondering how best to explain his own interest in the case without revealing the truth about Jack Bristow. A policeman stood at the head of the walk leading in to the house, waving back those morbidly curious who were intent on getting closer, and he recognized the redhead with a grin when Shayne came up.

"Chief Gentry's inside, Mr. Shayne. You mixed up in this?"

Down With Cynics Who Oppose Dad's Day!

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—In the more cynical circles of society in this otherwise sweet and sentimental land, there is a feeling—or rather, a lack of it—about Father's Day.

The cynics prefer it should drop dead.

* * *

They claim that the day is a crass commercial venture and that anybody who gets caught pampering the old man on the third Sunday in June is nothing but a boor and a sucker.

You should be kind to dad every day, is their theory, and don't go for that special day stuff because it is only a get-rich-quick scheme plotted by the merchants.

On behalf of my father, who is responsible for two devoted boors and suckers, I say: Come off it, non-conformers.

The idea of being good to papa every day of the year is a peachy one, but it is like warning a child in January that he'd better behave or Santa Claus won't drop around in December .. . a wholesome philosophy, to be sure, but ineffectual.

NEEDED REMINDER

Father's Day is like Mother's Day, Christmas, Memorial Day, Valentine's Day, birthdays: A reminder that the world is full of a number of things besides just ourselves, and an excuse to g i v e them credit and honor. Without these reminders and excuses, we could each live—inwardly, outwardly and miserably—for ourselves.

* * *

As for the commercial aspect, Father's Day was founded 45 years ago by a woman with worthy and honorable intentions, and the name of Mrs. John Dodd.

She conceived the idea in her Portland, Ore., kitchen where she was simultaneously doing the family ironing and wondering what to get her father, William Smart, for his birthday.

When the idea struck, she rushed out (reportedly laying waste to one of her husband's shirts) and suggested to the local ministerial association that a special Sunday be set aside to "call attention to father's place in the home."

* * *

That's how it happened—as noncommercial a project as Wednesday night prayer meeting. Mrs. Dodd wanted the day to fall on her father's birthday, which was June 6, but the Portland ministers said they couldn't prepare sermons on such short notice, so the third Sunday in June was decided upon.

MADE IT OFFICIAL

William Jennings Bryan made it official by proclaiming with his sterling larynx, "Too much emphasis cannot be placed on the relationship between parent and child." The movement caught on fast and, by 1916, President Woodrow Wilson was having "Father's Day" buttons pressed in the White House.

Eight years later, Cal Coolidge recommended that it become a nationwide observance, to be recognized by families everywhere.

* * *

And it did, and they do . . . except for the aforementioned circle of cynics.

The commemoration has mushroomed, of course, till now there are full-page ads in the newspapers, promoting gifts for dad. This is what really gnaws at the inwards of the Father's Day critics; then can't bear to see anybody making money off sentiment.

You can't talk back to people who reason this way. Reminding them that merchants are fathers too will gain you only a supercilious "Oh yeah?"

So the only comeback, I guess, is to the effect that any dad, who is really a dad, will glow just as vividly at a "thank-you" as a polka-dot tie.

To sum up: My father can lick your father! And that's because he knows he's got a strong rooting section . . . filial cheering can do wonders for a dad.

Tough to Extinguish

DENVER (AP) — Firemen thought they had come across a new type fire while battling a house blaze in downtown Denver. The fire laddies poured streams of water on a red glow in a bedroom for several minutes with no apparent results. They later discovered it was a bed lamp with a red shade.

Nabbed Trying to Steal Roof From Over Guard

TORONTO (UP) — Carl West, 17, and his brother Earl, 16, awaited trial today for attempting to steal the roof over a watchman's head.

They were arrested after the night watchman heard them noisily prying copper sheets from the roof of the city garage and called police.

Look-Alike Beach Wagons Bewilder Market Shopper

BOSTON (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Boardman, of Manchester, came to Boston on a shopping trip yesterday—and there began a very confusing day for her.

* * *

She parked her beach wagon on Newburh Street and went about her shopping. She returned to the beach wagon, deposited her purchases and went off again for more shopping.

When she returned to the beach wagon the second time, the first bundles she placed there were missing.

Philosophically, she retraced her steps and bought duplicates of the missing articles.

She placed those in the beach wagon and drove off toward home.

In the Charlestown district she discovered she wasn't driving her own beach wagon. She had somebody else's and—unknown to her—police had tabbed it as a stolen car.

Mrs. Boardman drove back to Boston and found her own beach wagon with the first purchases she had made.

* * *

The beach wagon situation was straightened out—but Mrs. Boardman wound up with two of everything she wanted only one of.

'Lovers' Snatch $245

CHICAGO (AP)—A young couple walked into a loan office and said they wanted a loan "to get married." The man, asked for identification, pulled out a pistol, took $245 and fled with his "fiancee."

Reward Offered for Missing Pair

Search Fails to Uncover Absent Jurist and Wife; Kidnaping Suspected

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Rewards totaling $11,500 were offered today for the return of missing Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth and his wife.

The family designated the Rev. Harry H. Waller, pastor of the First Methodist Church, as intermediary, indicating a belief the wealthy and highly respected couple may have been kidnaped.

Sheriff John F. Kirk, weary from two days of intensive search for clues, had no comment on the kidnaping theory.

* * *

The family, speaking through the sheriff, asked that "only persons who are positive concerning the Chillingworths' whereabouts contact Rev. Waller."

The sheriff said luminous dust, brought from the Miami Police Department, uncovered a greater quantity of blood on a lower step leading from the house to the beach where the 58-year-old jurist and his wife Marjorie, 57, disappeared sometime Tuesday night.

* * *

More bloodstains also were found around a small shelter on the beach below the house, Kirk said.

Courthouse associates of the veteran jurist expressed belief he may have been kidnaped for ransom or revenge.

* * *

"If anybody has intended to end their lives, they would have done so right there and not carried them away," said Phil O'Connell, state attorney.

John Hiatt, county investigator directing the field work, said:

"This could be anything—a kidnaping for ransom or carrying the couple away for revenge."

* * *

Robbery was ruled out because jewelry and money were still in the house. Most authorities discounted revenge because the judge had not handled criminal cases for years. If it was kidnaping, no ransom note was found.

Palm Beach offered a $5,000 reward and the Palm Beach County Bar Assn. $6,500.

At the turn of the century there were less than 130,000 miles of hard surfaced road in the United States compared to more than two million miles today.

Orson Welles' Sea Epic Leaves Critics Reeling

LONDON (AP) — Orson Welles brought the epic sea story of Moby Dick to the Duke of York's theater last night in a stage version written by Orson Welles, produced by Orson Welles and with the two top roles acted by—that's right.

Its impact left the critics reeling, some in raptures but all at least impressed.

Welles produced the Herman Melville classic as if it were being rehearsed on a bare stage by a 19th century American theater company. He played both the company's manager and Captain Ahab Melville's one-legged whaler skipper.

With no props except a few packing cases and a tangle of fly ropes, Welles set out to create the drama of Ahab's ferocious search for Moby Dick, the fabulous white whale. The climax of the story—Ahab's fatal battle with the whale—he fought out standing on a table set down from the stage among the seats. The whale didn't show.

* * *

But Welles himself spewed and roared to such effect that he sputtered a direct hit in the eye of Daily Mirror critic Fergus Cashin, sitting seven rows back. Cashin said he forgave the spit because the performance "was a magnificent effort, tremendously exciting and effective."

The News Chronicle critic called the whole thing "outrageous and impossible . . . But it comes off . . . It left me breathless with admiration."

Chinese Implicated in Symonds Death

SINGAPORE (AP)—Police investigating the fatal beating of American news correspondent Gene D. Symonds jailed a Chinese truck driver today on charges of being a member of the mob believed responsible for the attack.

The driver, Ong Ah Too, was ordered to stand trial June 24.

Symonds, a native of Dayton, Ohio, was beaten to death May 12 during riots that accompanied a bus workers' strike here.

The current wave of strikes in Singapore, meanwhile, appeared to be waning. Nearly 300 of the 6,000 striking busmen returned to their jobs and elsewhere large groups of workers indicated a desire to go back to work.

Soo Locks Mark 100 Years This Saturday

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — One hundred years ago Saturday, on June 18, 1855, a small wooden steamer opened traffic through the Soo Locks, key to the world's greatest inland waterway.

* * *

The steamer was the Illinois, and this relatively tiny vessel was the forerunner of a stream of traffic that has been unbroken for a century except for the winters of a hundred years.

The production record of this parade of long ships in that time reached a total of 4,288,552,898 tons at the end of the first century's operation of the Soo Locks, more formally known at the St. Mary's Falls Canal.

About one-fourth of the total has been handled by the locks in the past 10 years, a total of 1,072,755,708 tons. Tonnage in the first year of operation totaled 14,503 tons, not even a good load for one of today's modern carriers.

* * *

In the record-breaking season of 1953, 128,510,232 tons were transported through the locks. This was more than the total of all freight handled by the canel in the first 40 years of operation.

ONCE WAS BARRIER

Prior to 1855, Sault Ste. Marie was the barrier to navigation between Lake Superior and the lower lakes. It was at the Soo that the waters of Lake Superior tumbeld down over the St. Mary's River rapids to the level of Lake Huron waters, a drop of about 20 feet.

* * *

For the first 200 yards of Sault Ste. Marie's European history, the rapids were but one of many barriers to the fur traders who were the first commercial users of the Great Lakes waterway. It was only one more portage for the intripid canoemen who ranged thousands of miles in quest of pelts.

These fur traders were aware of mineral wealth in the Lake Superior area, but their birchbark canoes were for furs, not iron ore and copper.

A "copper rush" to Michigan's Upper Peninsula in the 1840s changed all that; it was followed by discovery of the "iron mountains" in what is now the Marquette Range.

These fabulous discoveries would remain in the earth, however, unless an economic method could be devised to put them to man's use.

BASIC REQUIREMENT

Cheap transportation was the basic requirement, but as long as cargo had to be unloaded at Sault Ste. Marie, portaged around the rapids, and reloaded, cheap transportation would be impossible.

In the early 1850s, a young scales salesman named Charles T. Harvey showed up as Sault Ste. Marie. He looked over the mineral areas of the Upper Penninsula at first hand, and saw the potentialities of the region.

But he also saw that a ship canal would be required at Sault Ste. Marie in order to tap those riches economically.

A group of Eastern capitalists formed the St. Mary's Falls Ship Canal Co., and for a land grant of 750,000 acres, set out to construct the canal in what was still virtually wilderness.

Harvey was appointed general agent. He and his crew of 400 men arrived at the Soo on June 1, 1853, to start work.

For two summers and two winters, the work went on, through a cholera epidemic, local strife, and construction setbacks. Harvey and his men had a construction deadline to meet, or the 750,000 acres would be lost, and meet it they did.

MICHIGAN FAILED

They had succeeded where the state of Michigan had failed in its canal-building attempts in 1839. On June Capt. Jack Wilson brought the steamer Illinois into the canal to open the first Soo lock.

* * *

For 26 years, the State Lock, as it was called, handled all shipping to and from Lake Superior.

Two important events in Soo locks history occurred in 1881: The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers took over operation of the canal from the State of Michigan, and the Weitzel lock was opened to traffic.

Meanwhile, the United States was on the verge of a great spurt in its industrialization, and steel was king. Steel required ore; ore carrying required larger, more economic ships; they required larger locks and deeper channels.

The Canadian government opened its ship canal at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., in 1895, and the U.S. government finished construction of the Poe Lock in 1896. It was built on the site of the old State Lock.

The Davis Lock followed in 1914, and the Sabin in 1919. The newest lock, the MacArthur, named for General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, was constructed in record-breaking time in 1942-1943, and opened to traffic on July 11, 1943.

TIGHT SQUEEZE

Even the newest lock is a tight squeeze for some of the newest lake freighters that have been built in the postwar period. The Poe Lock is obsolete, and is used only for emergencies.

* * *

To commemorate the 100th anniversary of the locks, residents of both Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Ont., have joined together in a summer-long centennial celebration opening June 28. A marine exposition, pageants, parades, and other special events are planned, and centennial beards under cultivation since winter are everywhere in evidence.

It will be the Soo's solute to Michigan's Miracle Mile.

One-Sided Invitation for Weekend

Would-Be Host Unknown to Wife, Should She Go?

By EMILY POST

A wife writes me: "One of the men with whom my husband works has invited both my husband and me to spend a week end with him and his wife at their summer place.

"My husband is all for going, but I do not think it would be proper for us to go without a message of some sort from his wife. The wife is a stranger to me and I met the man just once at my husband's office.

"Don't you agree that it would be wrong to go on his invitation alone?"

Answer: You are right. She should write a note to you seconding her husband's invitation. However, she may not know that this is expected of her and if your husband wants to go, I would not advise you to be too formal and refuse.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is three months after a death too late to send a message of sympathy to one who has lost a member of her family?

"A friend of mine thinks it would be wrong to send it at this time as it would only be opening the wound anew. As I was away I could not send a message at that time.

"Will you please tell me if it would be proper to offer condolences at this time?"

Answer: It is never too late to show sympathy. Write in your own handwriting across the card, "I have been away and have only now heard of your great loss" and sign it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the proper way for mother and me to sign greeting cards and cards enclosed with gifts to people we both know? Mother is a widow and I am not married. We live together."

Answer: To those who call your mother by her first name, sign the cards "From Jane (your mother) and Lucy."

To those who do not call her by her first name, you write "From Jane Smith and Lucy."

Dried Beef Adds Color to Casserole

Mrs. B. W. Muse's Scalloped Corn Is Good for Pot Luck

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Scalloped Corn with an unusual twist. Mrs. Bernard W. Muse adds dry chipped beef to her mixture before baking it. This casserole dish would be a good one to carry to a picnic. If wrapped in several layers of newspaper, it should keep hot for a long time. Mrs. Muse often takes it to Pot Lucks.

Mrs. Muse gets her greatest pleasure from having her grown children and her eight grandchildren around her. She enjoys the fellowship of church work. For a hobby she lists sewing.

SCALLOPED CORN
By Mrs. Bernard W. Muse

1 cup bread crumbs
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Mix together all ingredients except crumbs and butter. Pour into a buttered baking dish. Brown bread crumbs in butter and sprinkle over the top. Bake in a moderate oven about forty minutes or until firm. Serves 6.

Dream House Can Be a Nightmare

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some weeks ago, we discussed the pros and cons of buying a house in the country, either for the purpose of retirement or as a source of additional income.

We pointed out the dangers of such a move, particularly for people who dream of supplementing their income with a huge orchard on the side, which they think they can easily manage over the weekend.

Recently, I received a letter from a wonderfully sensible real estate agent, who commented on what we had said here and gave some additional pointers.

He writes, "Nobody should jump into a venture like this.

"It takes lots of planning and looking around, if you are to get a valuable piece of property at a good price.

JOB IN TOWN

"First of all," he says, "if you plan to farm on the side while keeping the job in town, many things must be taken into consideration.

"The place must be near enough to town for decent commuting—not longer than thirty minutes.

"It must be on a road which is open winter and summer—no charming houses on rustic dirt roads!

NOT TOO LARGE

"Unless you have a fortune for major alterations, it must have decent plumbing, electricity and good water supply. And it must be the type of property for which there is pretty steady demand through the years.

"Too big a house or too old-fashioned a heating system or any number of factors may make it almost impossible to sell.

"If you lose your job or your firm transfers you to another location, salability is a very important consideration.

SECONDARY CONCERN

"Second," he continues, "don't bite off more than you can chew.

"If you have a real job, you must make the country place a secondary concern — and that means a good garden and a couple of hens at most.

"If that works out well and you get 'on top of it,' later on you may be able to get hired help and expand your activities.

"But you'll be a long time making the transition and it doesn't ever pay to be too ambitious at the start."

GOOD BOOKS

There are many good books on the subject of selecting a place in the country.

If you'd like a list of them, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, in care of this newspaper.

In any case, take your time, read a lot and look around plenty before you make an investment like this.

Gal Wants to See Her Gob Before He Sails

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm engaged to a boy in the Navy whom I haven't seen for two years. He's stationed halfway across the country from where I live.

"He's 19 now and I'll be 19 this summer. Would there by anything wrong in my going out there this summer to see him?

"He has written and asked me to come. We would have only eight days together. He will be going overseas in the fall, and those eight days will be all we'll have for another two years.

"He wants to pay my transportation. Should I let him, or wouldn't it be proper since we're not married?"

Answer: It's easy enough to understand your eagerness to go halfway across the country this summer to see your fiance, and under the proper circumstances I see no reason why you shouldn't go.

But you shouldn't go alone, nor should you let your fiance pay your way.

The ideal solution would be to have your parents or some close relative or friend accompany you. You could drive out, making a real vacation trip of it.

A companion could share the expenses of the car and hotel accommodations, and could be with you when your fiance isn't free to be with you himself. Such a solution might get your parents' approval.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

But consider this, too. You haven't seen your fiance for two years. There's going to be natural and normal shyness and strain at first when you're together. You will find changes in each other.

It seems to me that this great reunion would be more comfortably staged on your home ground.

If your fiance has eight days of leave, why not suggest that he fly halfway across the country to visit you? You and your family could make him very comfortable, you could spoil him to death, your friends could rally to entertain him

You'd be able to spend more time with him actually. And you, at least, wouldn't feel like a stranger in a strange land.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm a farm boy of 22; I met Susie at a sale barn a year ago and we both liked each other right away.

"I saw her every Saturday at the sale, but recently her father decided that the rough language around the barn is not fit for a girl. The last time I saw her I told her I loved her and she said she loved me.

"Maybe that's why her father won't let her go to the sales — that rough laungauge routine was just an excuse. What shall I do?"

Answer: Drive, walk or ride mule back, but get yourself over to Susies farm to see how she is and whats going on!

Find out once and for all what sort of reception youll get. And let that be your guide.

Khrushchev Actual Leader of U.S.S.R. Government

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

It looks as if the Big Four meeting to be held in Geneva will not be a "conference at the summit."

Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, as the head of the Soviet Government, will lead the Russian delegation officially.

As of now, however, it is uncertain whether Nikita S. Khrushchev, the First Secretary of the Communist Party, will even be there.

* * *

If Bulganin goes to Geneva without Khrushchev it will be a meeting of heads of government all right, but it will not be the "conference at the summit" which has so long been discussed.

If there is any real "summit" in the Kremlin right now—which is somewhat doubtful—it is Khrushchev.

Russia has accepted the allied proposal for a four-day meeting—July 18 through July 21 inclusive.

It is not proposed that the heads of the four governments shall make any decisions on world problems. They are to hold an exchange of views and define issues on which the Big Four foreign ministers will negotiate afterward.

But Bulganin is unlikely to be able even to engage in any authoritative "exchange of views" unless Khrushchev is at his elbow.

When Khrushchev and Bulganin went to Belgrade to see President Tito of Yugoslavia, Khrushchev went out of his way to show he was the head man on the Russian side.

There is no real comparison, of course, between the Belgrade and Geneva meetings.

* * *

The Soviet leaders went to Belgrade to see a man who was not only head of his government but leader of his own Communist Party.

It looked then, however, as if Khrushchev certainly would be the real No. 1 delegate at any Big Four conference—not officially but actually.

But Khrushchev won himself a lot of bad publicity in Belgrade by his lack of tact and his loose talk.

That made it seem questionable whether he would attend the Big Four meeting even as the power behind the scenes.

If Khrushchev does not go to Geneva, presumably Bulganin will have to refer back to Moscow for instructions whenever he is confronted by an unexpected development. A lot of time could be lost in that way in a meeting of limited duration.

* * *

Western diplomats have no disposition to belittle Bulganin. He is a man of great ability, with a friendly manner. He is 60 years old. He is recognizeable at once, in his pictures, by his goatee. He started out as a Communist organizer way back in 1917. He became an able government administrator. In World War II he became a political marshal in the armed forces. He succeeded Georgi M. Malenkov as premier last Feb. 8.

The trouble with the situation in the Kremlin now is that Khrushchev has succeeded Josef Stalin as Communist leader and Bulganin has succeeded him as premier. There is no longer any real summit.

Pontiac Junior High School Scheduled for Perry Street

Pontiac's modern million dollar junioir high school will take shape on the Perry St. site within a short time with contract awardee Ward Ross of Ward Ross, Inc. stating that the academic section may be completed for February 1956 occupancy.

The Ross bid was $937,000 with Eames and Brown, mechanical trades, $220,000, Ballard Electric, electrical, $84,646. This totals the school construction cost at $1,241,646.

The contract was awarded at a special meeting of the board of education Thursday night. Chissus Construction took low bid for the rehabilitation projects to take place at Wisner, Central and McConnell schools.

The Chissus bid was $36,970. Construction is to begin immediately on these projects. There were five other bids on this program with the next bid in the $37,000 range and the highest hitting $46,500.

To be placed on the 100 acre plus site owned by the Pontiac school district for many years, it is located south of the railroad viaduct and has naturally sloping terrain.

ARCHITECT DESIGNS TO CONTOUR

The Architect, H. E. Beyster & Associates of Detroit, has utilized the contour of the site by placing the gymnasium over the cafeteria section in the area where the hill drops off.

Designed for a functional program, the new school has much to offer esthetically with its beauty derived from simplicity of line and the employment of natural materials.

The new junior high school is the result of cooperative planning which involved school administration, the teachers who will work in the building, board of education and the architect.

Dr. Otto P. Hufziger, administrative assistant in charge of building for the Pontiac school system, worked with the school planning from its inception. He reviewed the complete bids Thursday night before the board of education, the architect and the contractor.

"Steel was an important factor in the determination of a completion date," said Dr. Hufziger. "The availability of masons for the brick work was another serious consideration in arriving at a move-in date."

C. Henry Haberkorn, general manager of Beyster Associates, said that he worked with Ross to establish a satisfactory coordination of material.

"We already have commitments for the steel, for the roof deck and we have obtained a source of glazed tile," he said.

BOARD DOES OWN BUYING

The board of education, pointed out Dr. Hufziger, will obtain its own built-in and free-standing equipment items for the new junior high school. These items include equipment for art room, kitchen and serving equipment and walk-in refrigerators and compressors.

Other types of equipment listed in the classification are homemaking room facilities, science room furniture, shops, library, lockers, and a public address system.

Under construction at this time by the Pontiac school district is a new school on Lake Street. This is a 10 room primary building designed also by H. E. Beyster & Associates and costing $225,000. Provision has been made for future expansion. According to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, this school will be officially named by the student body after it is completed.

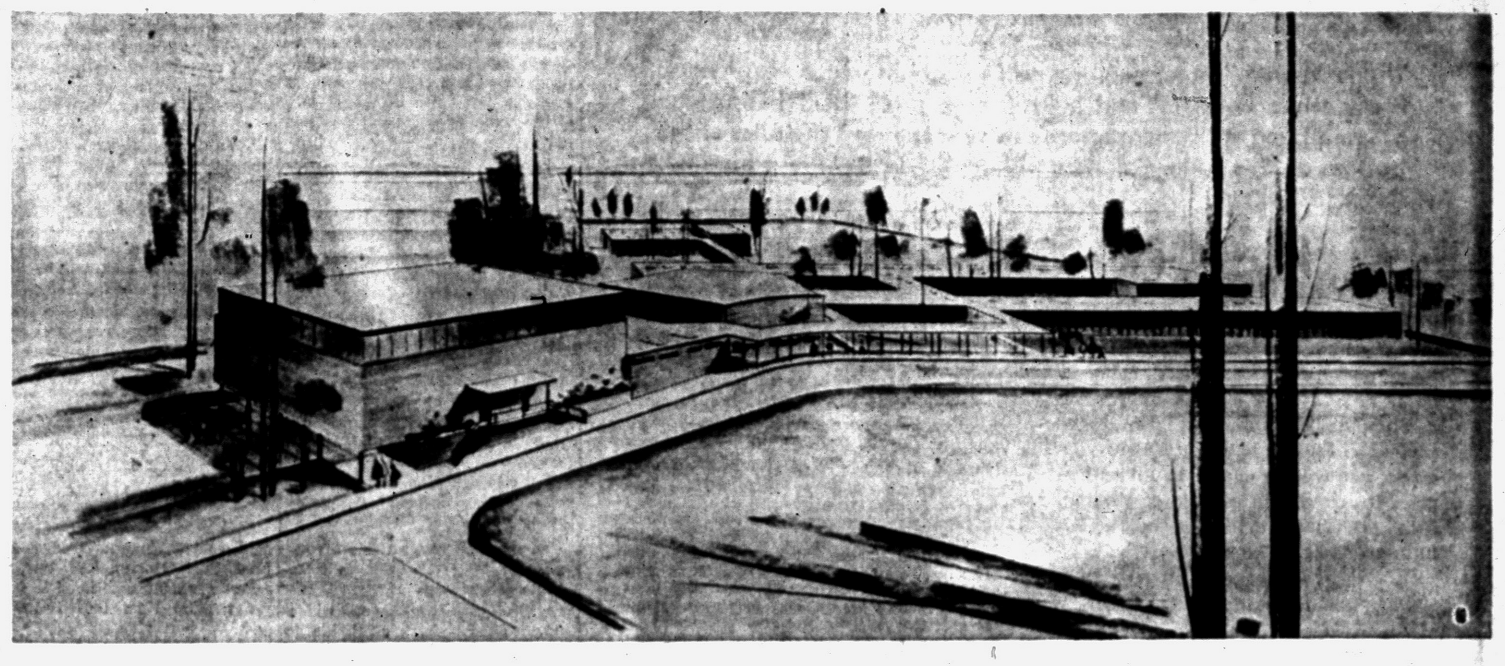

Also to be built within a short time is the new Linda Vista school. This will cost about $387,000 and will have two special orthopedic rooms which which will be financed by the special education program of Oakland County. Location of Linda Vista is between Perry and Mt. Clemens Sts., just south of East Boulevard, and this school is designed for 14 elementary classrooms.

At Daniel Whitfield School, a seven room addition is under construction at a cost of $150,000 and Wever school which is presently being used as a junior high school will be reconditioned at a cost of $15,000 for use as an elementary school.

The enrollees of this school will be moved into the new junior high school when it is completed with George Jansen, present principal, assuming the leadership at the new school.

Architect for Linda Vista, the Whitfield addition and the Wever rehabilitation is H. E. Beyster also.

William C. Zimmerman Associates, Pontiac architectural firm, has the contract for designing the reconditioin projects at the other schools.

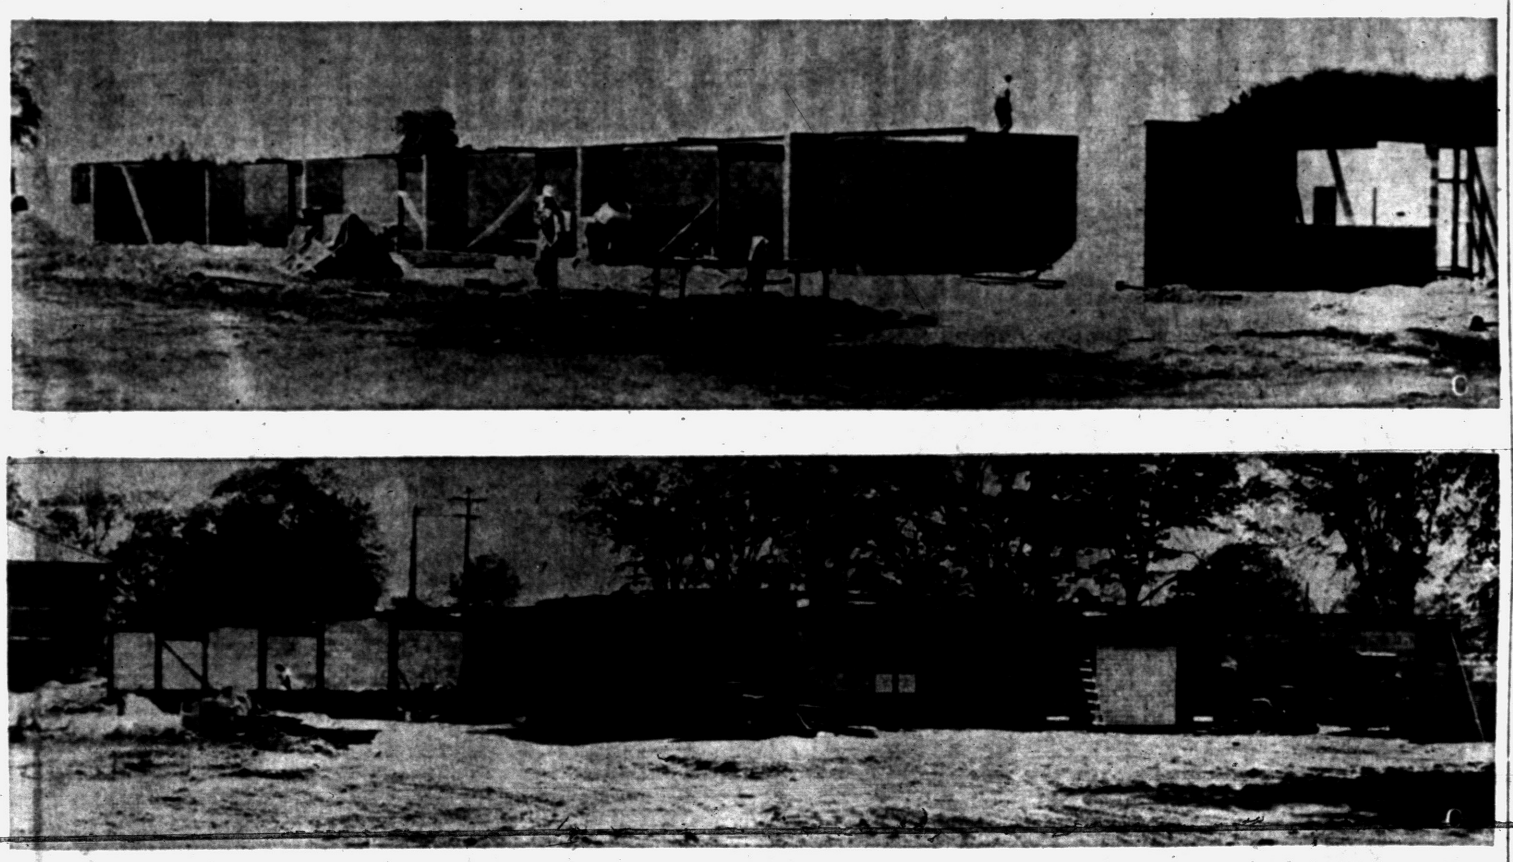

PONTIAC'S NEW JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL—Architectural design of the new Pontiac junior high school which will be placed on the large Board-of-Education-owned site on Perry St. north of the railroad viaduct. The academic wings of this structure designed by H. E. Beyster & Associates, architectural and engineering firm of Detroit, are at the right and of one-story construction. Note the plastic roof domes which provide an abundance of natural lighting for the classrooms. Court areas around which the classrooms are placed will be landscaped. This is the wing, according to Ward Ross of Ward Ross, Inc., which will be complete first probably in time for the second semester in February of 1956. The large section of the building at the left shows the gymnasium placed directly over the cafeteria. By utilizing the natural sloping of the land, the architect achieved functionalism as well as beauty and practicality in this facility. Built for a 600 student body at present, the building is designed for future expansion.

Pontiac Girl, 12, Breaks Arm in Fall From Bicycle

Janice Hudson, 12, of 309 N. Paddock St., was treated for a broken left arm at Pontiac General Hospital last night after she fell from her bicycle, Pontiac Police said.

She said she fell from the bike when another girl made a sudden right turn in front of her. They were riding down a hill on Moreland Ave., near Stephen Ct.

The upper photo shows the Lake Street School under construction. This new building is being built by A. N. Nickson of Pontiac and the school addition in the lower photo at Daniel Whitfield is under construction by the same company. At Lake Street, there will be 10 rooms for a primary program. This school will cost $225,000. The Whitfield addition contains seven classrooms and cost $150,000. Of one-story design, these schools have self-contained classrooms.

U.S. Industrial Farm Potential Strong Despite 'Destruction' in Operation Alert

EMERGENC Y PRESS HEADQUARTERS, Operation Alert (AP)—This theoretically bomb-blasted nation found its farm and industry potential sufficiently intact today to avert collapse and support a war effort despite mock casualties numbering 14¾ million.

That was the assessment of government officials at the start of this third and final day of "Operation Alert 1955," designed to test the nation's civil defense preparedness and its ability to shake off the devastation supposedly wreaked in Wednesday's sham nuclear assault.

* * *

The Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) reported that 4¼ million persons were "saved" from death or injury by simulated evacuations in 24 of the 61 cities subject to the make-believe attack.

But 24 millions were calculated to be homeless refugees. These persons, FCDA Administrator Val C. Peterson said, would be "the most pressing problem" of the home front if the synthetic war were real.

The casualty count, still incomplete and coming in slowly, supposed 8,200,000 were dead and 6,550,000 injured in the continental United States, not counting the toll in territorial cities.

* * *

Meantime President Eisenhower and 15,000 evacuated government workers, operating in 31 posts away from Washington, poured out dummy decrees designed to pump money, manpower, food and medicine into the supposedly wounded civilian economy.

It hoped to have ready, for a meeting of Eisenhower and the cabinet in a secret underground Pentagon today, a breakdown of military and essential civilian demands, balanced off against anticipated production from the supposedly crippled metals industries.

It was apparent that the industrial arsenal of the northeastern states had suffered the worst theoretical damage, with at least 206 "essential" plants in just five of these states knocked out. The hypothetical count was New York 74, Connecticut 52, New Jersey 36, Massachusetts 34, and Rhode Island 10.

Fifty industries were said to be "destroyed or seriously damaged" in Knoxville, Tenn. In the Houston area, only 30 per cent of power, gas and other utilities had been "restored," and in industrial Providence, R.I., 60 per cent of the utilities were presumed lost.

But Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told newsmen:

"When you add it all up, we have got a tremendous lot of industrial complex left that would go on functioning and tend to rebuild and get back."

Humphrey said there was "no question" but that the country could wage a war with the industrial mobilization base presumed to have remained intact or be capable of repair.

Despite great patches of make believe radioactive fallout, the state of agriculture was reported "surprisingly good" by Acting Secretary True D. Morse.

The feeding of evacuees, he said apparently would not be an "insurmountable problem."

* * *

But he disclosed that the department, in one of its earliest mock actions of the three-day test, "requisitioned" all food supplies in the northeastern states and turned them over to civil defense authorities for distribution.

As for consumer rationing, Morse said, the authorities would let a reassembled Congress decide whether nationwide rationing should be imposed for the long pull.

House Ups Appropriation for Flood Control Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—A half-billion-dollar flood control and navigation program—fattened by more than 52 million dollars—headed to the Senate today for possible further increases.

The normally economy-minded House tossed over recommendations of its Appropriations Committee yesterday, adding $52,722,000 to the Army Engineers' budget for construction, general investigations and the Mississippi River in the year beginning July 1.

It brought the total in the engineers' portion of the huge public works appropriation bill to $526,219,000-roughly 13½ millions above the amount asked by President Eisenhower.

Teenage Dance Set Tonight in Township

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The first of three teenage summer dances held by the township recreation department, will be held this evening at the CAI building.

The Belmont Trio will be on hand to provide the music, and table tennis and shuffleboard will be feautred in the game room. The dairy bar will also be open.

The dance will be held from 8:30-11 p.m., with all boys and girls in grades 9-12 in or near Waterford Township invited.

The next two dances will be held July 22 and August 19.

City Recreation Facilities Described

Now being distributed by the Parks and Recreation Dept. is the spring and summer edition of its pamphlet describing recreational activities offered Pontiac residents.

It notes that for the youngsters the city's playground program will open Monday at 19 fields. Activities include arts and crafts, music, dramatics, games and athletics.

Next, for boys 7 through 13 and girls 9 through 12 is the Frog Hollow Day Camp held in 5-day sessions beginning June 27 at Pontiac Lake Recreation Area.

The camp program offers fishing, swimming, hiking, cooking, camp craft and other outdoor activities. Although the limit for boys has been reached, there are still openings in the 2nd, 5th, 6th and 7th sessions for girls, the department reports.

For youngsters and adults alike, the department offers horseshoes and shuffleboard on lighted courts at Murphy and Oakland parks open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

In addition, there are 16 tennis courts at Murphy Park, the brochure states. Instruction and tournament programs are slated.

Mens and women's softball leagues function evenings on lighted fields at Beaudette and Northside parks.

Players 8 through 18 play baseball daily in organized leagues at Oakland Park and Washington field. Adult amateur baseball teams play daily at 5:30 p.m. at Wisner Field, admission free.

At the parks, open since May 1, the department offers general facilities for family recreation, including grills, picnic tables and benches, and swings and slides. Attendants sell charcoal or wood.

The department also is continuing three activities carried on through the winter months.

Members of the "Fashion Your Figure" and "Fashionettes" clubs learn "what experts say about trimming waist lines, hair styling, cosmetics, hats and dress fashions," the pamphlet states.

Activities include gym games, calisthentics, social meetings, movies and lectures.

Meeting one night a week, the Chess and Checkers Club is open to both men and women. It holds regular tourneys.

For the oldsters, the department sponsors the Sunset Club, which offers "potlucks, trips, dancing, dramatics, music, picnics and games" for persons over 60 years old. Meetings are held from 1 to 5 p.m. Thursdays during the summer at Oakland Park.

One of the department's major summer activities is the Municipal Golf Course, on Golf drive, between Telegraph and Bagley street. It features two 9-hole layouts. Rental carts and clubs are available.

Four Students Thank Teacher Via Paper

CINCINNATI (AP)—Fourth-grader George Biedenbach, 10, telephoned the Cincinnati Enquirer yesterday to insert an advertisement thanking his school teacher Mrs. Lucille S. Webb. Three schoolmates joined in the tribute.

"We don't know how to express our feelings and thanks," George's proposed advertisement read. "We can never repay what you have given this year. Thank you so much."

George told the ad taker—a reporter—that the teacher "learned us our arithmetic and our spelling, brought our reading up terrifically and brought our arithmetic up tremendously."

The feelings of the four schoolmates were expressed free of charge as a news story in the Enquirer.

Incidentally, reports are due today.

Coffee drinking is on the increase, according to the Pan-American Coffee Bureau. It says a recent nationwide survey hows the average American of coffee-drinking age downs 2.67 cups a day. Last year it was 2.60 cups.

Rising incomes are given the credit for all the buying and consuming. Average weekly factory earnings have touched a new high of $76.11, about $5 ahead of a year ago. Employment has been rising and unemployment dropping.

'Bonanzagram'

Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will appear in the Press June 24.

CLAIM CHECK

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 15 is published Friday, June 24. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 15

S. T. Bright, an old Harvard and Boston Blue Sox pitching great, and currently a major league scout in the Boston field organization, had spent three weeks in the South scouting a young converted infielder. The Sox desperately needed another starting pitcher, and if he happened to be the unusual combination of pitcher plus .300 batting average, so much the better. Therefore, the success of Bright's mission was of the utmost importance. He had observed the boy carefully, both on the field and off, and had arrived at an opinion. The lad was attracting attention, so Bright decided that action was imperative and wired the front office. With opposition scouts hanging around the telegraph office, he found it necessary to use a code that he and the club's owner had worked out for such occasions. This involved omitting letters from certain pre-arranged key words. As an enemy scout, can you decipher the message in order to report to your own front office how the Blue Sox scout rated the young prospect?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation will help solve the message but is not necessary to win.

All missing letters must be correctly inserted to win a Bonanzagram prize. Punctuation will not be considered in judging a correct answer.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p. m. Tuesday, June 21. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, June 21 for Bonanzagram No. 15. Address "Bonanzagram," % Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." Postmark on this letter must be not later than 5 p. m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employes of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employe's household.)

2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.

3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly Bonanzagram. If more than one winning answer is received, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.

4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize, but there is no limit on number of entries.

5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.

6. Judges' decision will be final and contestant's submission of entries indicates acceptance of these rules.

7. No liability is accepted for entries that fail to reach us.

8. The Press reserves the right to alter rules and/or discontinue the contest at its discretion.

Widow Allowed Funds Pending Probate Action

(Following is the first instalment of a two-part interview with Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E Moore, who discusses financial problems of widows. The interview concludes a series of 10 articles on investments carried by the Pontiac Press.)

Q. What is the first step a widow should take estate-wise on the death of her husband?

A. She needs to decide just what her financial situation is. It is usually advisable to go to her family lawyer and take the will, if one was left, plus a list of any of the holdings which her husband may have owned.

Q. How might this simplify matters for her?

A. This could result in avoiding probate proceedings if the estate is under $500 or in simplifying the probating of the estate if it does not exceed $3,000.

Q. If most of the money is in her husband's name, how will the widow maintain herself until the estate is settled?

A. The law allows her a widow's allowance during the administration of the estate—but not to exceed one year—of an amount reasonably necessary to permit her to live in her accustomed manner during that time.

Q. Can she rely on this allowance or is it advisable to take some safety step?

A. Generally speaking the widow should always have available to her, even when her husband is well and healthy, a bank account or similar assets on which she can draw so that in event of death, incompetency or other emergencies affecting the husband and her means of support, she would have funds to tide her over the difficult period.

Q. Must all holdings go through probate?

A. Depending upon the circumstances and wording of the will, certain properties, such as joint bank accounts, deeds held by husband and wife, or stocks and bonds held jointly, may not need to go through probate.

Usually second-hand autos can be turned over to the wife, but new ones are generally of a value necessitating their being listed for probate.

Q. What about debts owned by the husband or contracts he may have entered into?

A. Outstanding debts are not to be paid until they have been proven and allowed in Probate Court, nor should contract payments be made until careful study shows it is both necessary and advisable, although these contracts are enforceable after death.

Director Figures Out Message From Secretary

This is the way the director figured out the secretary's message:

AFTER HOURS is better than AFTER YOURS, AS OF TODAY. There is no indication that a message had been received from the director, and the story clues told us that the message was sent at closing time in the New York office. The secretary has stayed late to send the director a friendly, private tip, knowing that she can reach him at his office because of the difference in time.

AS OF TODAY, ALL SET MARION MONROE FOR PERSONAL APPEARANCES. This is one of the matters that "had been decided upon during the day," as stated in the story clues. Therefore, ALL SET fits the situation better than any other combination, such as ALL WET, I'LL GET, and so on.

YOUR PLAN FOR START OF NEW FILM ASKED ABOUT. The story clues gave the information that the director was "supposed to be ready to begin shooting an important new picture." START OF NEW FILM reflects this information better than any use of STARS or FILE.

As for YOUR, instead of PERSONAL APPEARANCES TOUR — the addition of TOUR would be unnecessarily explanatory in a hurried message. It is the information on YOUR PLAN that the secretary wants to get across; PLAN is more meaningful than PLAY in this context. ASKED ABOUT is more tactful that ASKEW.

Since the star is to make personal appearances, naturally the schedule would be ASKED ABOUT; the secretary would not be apt to suggest the plan was ASKEW. Also ASKED ABOUT is more in accord with the story clues than the vague ABOUT SEVEN.

For the definite statement SEVEN DATES FOR FUTURE BOOKING OK, is another of the matters "decided upon" during the day. DATES and BOOKING tie in better with PERSONAL APPEARANCES than any other combination of DAMES and LOOKING would. WARDROBE, PHOTOS NECESSARY (a preliminary to the PERSONAL APPEARANCES, of course).

STUDIO TO ARRANGE SITTING, for the photos, since they are mentioned last. FITTING would have been better phrasing if this had referred back to the WARDROBE. Nor is FITTING SUGGESTION a likely phrasing.

There is a hint of casting problems later in the message, so that SUGGESTION: MATURE WOMAN FOR ROLE OF LADY ANN fits the situation. It is a more likely phrasing than NATURE WOMAN FOR ROLE OF LADY (or LAZY) ANN, and is part of the "friendly advice" mentioned in the story clues.

A RATHER UNDEFINED CHARACTER. We were told that the director was "somewhat dilatory," and this is something that has been put off. The character is still UNDEFINED in his mind. If she had been UNREFINED, the casting problem would be much easier to solve, and need not have delayed him.

BETTER TAKE PLANE. The story clues said the director "went into immediate action" and this is obvious action for him to take, since he is in Hollywood. It is preferable to MAKE PLANS, especially since HURRY is mentioned later.

TO EXPLAIN SITUATION IN HUDDLE WITH BOSS is better advice than the rather obvious statement SITUATION IN MUDDLE, WITH LOSS BECAUSE OF DELAYED SHOOTING. If the director can TAKE PLANE promptly, he can be in the New York office in the morning for HUDDLE WITH BOSS, and straighten out matters before anything else has been decided. The last sentence of the message also indicates that he is expected to arrive.

The tip on the chief's "disposition" was mentioned in the story clues, hence BIG BOY HAS TAKEN ON A NEW LIFE. If he had taken a NEW WIFE, the director would undoubtedly have known about it, so that the secretary would not have needed to inform him.

SUCH GUSTO! a more likely exclamation than MUCH GUSTO) expands the idea of NEW LIFE, and is intended to underline the change in the chief's attitude, so that the director will know how the situation must be handled.

The message goes on with a warning — SLOWING OF WORK AND CASTING COMMENTED ON. This fits the facts better than SHOWING OF WORK AND CASTING COMMENDED. Therefore, it is not IN HURRY, but HURRY!

Logically the next sentence is YOU MAY WIND UP AT OFFICE ON A BIG SPOT, rather than MAY FIND US AT OFFICE OF A BIG SHOT. The director is in trouble, and will be ON A BIG SPOT if he doesn't take immediate action. A SUPRISING CONTRAST AWAITS YOU is another indication of the change in the chief; he will no longer tolerate delayed shooting and incomplete casting but is demanding speed and results.

CONTRACT would not fit here, for supposedly the director already is under CONTRACT.

The signature is not MAY CAST or MAY FAST. It is reminiscent of an old-timer in movies, MAE WEST ("through many a year" was the phase in the story clues). It is also connected with the secretary's geographical position in the sending of this teletype, and is MAY EAST.

Local Area Included in Bug Control Plan

LANSING (AP) — The State Agriculture Department today started setting some 10,000 traps to determine what areas of the state need to be sprayed for Japanese beetles.

C. A. Boyer, chief of the department's plant division, said the traps would be set from Detroit to Lake Michigan and as far north as Muskegon and Bay City.

The heaviest concentration of traps will be set in Berrien County and Detroit proper, where most of the beetles were found during last year's trapping.

Besides trapping for the beetles, the state will begin a gypsy moth trapping program near the end of the month, Boyer said.

In this program, 5,000 traps will be set in a 1½ million acre area around Lansing.

Just a Spoiled Kid

DENVER (AP) — Superior Judge Mitch Johns was lecturing parents of a 17-year-old boy who had been brought into his court.

"Frankly, I think he's just a spoiled little boy," Johns said, then paused and added thoughtfully: "But I can understand it — I've got a 7-week-old son — and he's spoiled too!"

Much-Delayed Execution Due

Caryl Chessman, Sent to Die 7 Years Ago, Also Awaiting Book

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Caryl Chessman, sex terrorist, author and self-tutored law student, has two big dates looming just ahead in his enigmatic 34 years of life.

July 11 the second book he has written in condemned row comes off the press.

July 15 he has a date with death in San Quentin's gas chamber.

Publication of "Trial by Ordeal" is certain, but scheduled execution of the "Red Light Bandit" of lovers lanes around Los Angeles is by no means a certainty.

* * *

The wavy-haired convict has avoided it for seven years as occupant of "Cell 2455, Death Row" —title of his first book. (His eighth year in death row begins July 3.)

The lives of 63 men and one woman have been snuffed out by the lethal hydrocyanic gas in the tiny steel chamber while Chessman has lived on in his 11½ by 4½-foot cell on the fourth floor of condemned row.

* * *

There since he was 27, he has listened to the radio, written two books, plotted legal maneuvers and done a lot of thinking. He has an intelligence quotient of 178, rating of a genius.

His only time outside the cell has been the daily exercise between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. with others in condemned row, a population which has ranged up to 30. Or to go to the dentist. Or to be visited by his lawyer or his sweetheart, a divorcee.

* * *

A third big date for Chessman also lies ahead. That will be the day, as yet undecided, when his attorneys file for a writ of review and a stay of execution with a justice of the United States Supreme Court. If a review is granted, execution will have to be stayed at least until the court reconvenes for the October term.

SAVANNAH, Tenn. (AP) — "We were sitting there fishing," Murel Copeland told police. "He got up, told me goodby and jumped into the creek. He never came up."

The body of Raymond White, 48, was recovered from Indian Creek yesterday. Coroner P. M. Wade Sr. ruled the death a suicide.

Ike Winding Up A-Alert Study

Meets With Key Aides at Emergency Pentagon in Cleanup Appraisal

EMERGENCY WHITE HOUSE, Operation Alert (AP)—President Eisenhower travels back to the underground Pentagon today for a cleanup appraisal of the mock atomic attack on major U.S. cities.

He arranged to meet there with key aides to review the "damage" and "casualty" reports on Wednesday's theoretical assault, and to assess operation of the government's test evacuation to relocation centers.

* * *

Afterwards he will drive to his country home at Gettysburg, Pa. He will return to Washington either tomorrow night or Sunday morning in time to fly to San Francisco, where he will speak Monday at the United Nations 10th anniversary ceremonies.

Eisenhower spent much of yesterday afternoon conducting government business as usual. He signed 25 bills, most of a minor nature; asked Congress for $35,200,000 in grants to states for free polio vaccine for children and for administration of the program; and spent an hour and a half working on his San Francisco U.N. speech.

Less than 1 per cent of U.S. crop land is devoted to growing tobacco.

June 30 Picked as Date for Bids

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The Waterford Township Board of Education last night set two dates for special meetings.

On June 30, bids will be received at 8 p.m. for the three new elementary school buildings.

July 7 was named as the day the board will hold its reorganizational meeting, to elect new officers. At the August 18 meeting, the board will hear requests from parents who wish their underage children admitted to kindergarten.

Mrs. Donald Adams and Marshall Smith were appointed to recommend names for the three elementary schools, and another under construction.

Hedy's $51,000 Jewels Turn Up in Her Home

HOUSTON (AP) — Actress Hedy Lamarr said yesterday that the $51,000 worth of jewels which disappeared from her home here about three weeks ago had reappeared.

Oilman W. Howard Lee, the actress' husband, told police the gems were found on a sewing room shelf yesterday. They were all there, he said, in a satin bag.

Miss Lamarr reported the loss May 25 when she told police the jewelry vanished from a dressing table drawer.

Mislaid 'Rotisserie' File Puts Policemen in Stew

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — City detectives thumbed through a file tagged "electrical appliances" but found no record of a stolen electric broiler.

"Rotisserie?" said the filing officer. "That's filed under jewelry!"

The trouble, said a detective, was that they had no luck in the gem files either. "We're down to the section of carpenters' tools now," he said glumly.

State Laws Big Barrier to Jobless Benefits in Auto Contracts

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ford and General Motors didn't sign their lives away. Their agreement to pay laid-off workers has built-in protections. Roadblocks must be overcome. And theirs is not a true guaranteed wage at all.

The roadblocks:

1. The plan dies unless the federal government lets the companies treat as deductible expenses on their income taxes the contributions they put into their funds for laid-off workers.

* * *

2. The plan dies unless states containing two thirds of Ford and GM workers say they can, if laid off, collect both the pay from the companies and the full unemployment insurance given by the states. The deadline for approval is June 1, 1957.

Most, if not all, states have rules or laws, varying from state to state, against giving an unemployed worker any state insurance, or in some cases full state insurance, if he is collecting payments from his old company.

* * *

Ford has 140,000 workers scattered over more than 25 states. GM has 350,000 workers in even more states.

The companies will set aside in trust funds 5 cents on each hour's work done by their employes until, in the case of Ford, the fund reaches 55 million dollars, and, in the case of GM, 150 million dollars.

* * *

In case of layoffs, they'll pay their unemployed workers out of those funds, reducing their payments by 20 per cent if the funds drop to 13 per cent of the maximum level and stopping payments altogether if the funds drop to 4 per cent.

A true guaranteed wage plan assures workers either steady employment or approximately full pay for as much as a year if they lose their jobs. The Ford and GM plans do neither.

* * *

Company officials have described their agreement as a supplemental pay plan.

They'll give their workers between $2 and $25 for a maximum of 26 weeks. How much each worker gets from them depends on how much he earned on the job, how long he worked at it and what state he lives in.

* * *

All states pay unemployment insurance but they vary in amount and duration. Some give the insurance for 16 weeks; none gives it for more than 26. The companies agree to pay their unemployed people for no more than 26 weeks. They state their case this way:

Their unemployment pay, added to the state unemployment insurance a worker gets, could give him up to 60 to 65 per cent of his take-home pay when he was working.

Funds Raised by Blacksmiths in Shoeing Bee

LAKESIDE, Calif. (UP) — The blacksmiths of San Diego County have their own ideas on how to raise money for crippled children.

Last January, the smiths got together and held a "spit and whistle" party where people paid to hear oldtimers spin yarns about the horse and buggy days. Unfortunately the idea netted only $53.56 for the March of Dimes.

So they decided to play an anvil chorus for the Children's Hospital on Kearney Mesa this March.

Each of 10 smiths guaranteed to shoe three horses apiece at $8 a head with the $240 proceeds to go to the hospital. The horseshoers worked before ever-changing crowds that numbered more than 500 at times and watchers contributed another $50.

Between shoeing exhibitions, 35 crippled children and other more fortunate ones took rides on ponies, a miniature stage coach, a wagon and a surrey. The crippled ones rode free; the others paid 10 cents each which went into the fund.

Peiping Reports Arrest of 82 by Red Authorities

HONG KONG (AP)—Chinese Communist newspapers arriving in Hong Kong today reported that Red authorities arrested 82 "secret agents, criminals and counter-revolutionaries" in Peiping last month.

Among them, the papers said, were eight persons seized in raids who "clandestinely possessed firearms and radio stations." "The other 74 taken into custody reportedly were "counter-revolutionaries concealing themselves in hotels in Peiping."

ORDINANCE NO. 19

An ordinance, granting to Consumers Power Company, its successors and assigns, the right, power and authority to lay, maintain and operate gas mains, pipes and services on, along, across and under the highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to do a local gas business in the Village of Lake Angelus, Oakland County, Michigan, for a period of twenty years.

The Village of Lake Angelus Ordains:

Section 1. That wherever the word "Grantee" appears in this ordinance, it is hereby intended to designate, and shall be held to refer to the Consumers Power Company, a corporation duly authorized to do business in the State of Michigan, its successors and assigns.

Section 2. The right, power and authority is hereby granted and vested in said Grantee to lay, maintain and operate gas mains, pipes and services on, along, across and under highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to do a local gas business in the Village of Lake Angelus, Oakland County, Michigan, for a period of twenty years.

Section 3. In consideration of the rights, power and authority hereby granted, all of which shall vest in the Grantee for a period of twenty (20) years as aforesaid, said Grantee shall faithfully perform all things required by the terms hereof, and such performance by the Grantee shall be in lieu of all license fees, rentals or charges of every name and nature, except property taxes, which the Village might otherwise levy and impose.

Section 4. No highway, street, alley, bridge, or other public place used by said Grantee, shall be obstructed longer than necessary during the work of construction or repair, and shall be restored to the same good order and condition as when such work was commenced. No part of the highways, streets, alleys, bridges or other public places of said Village shall be permitted to remain in a dangerous or unsafe condition, by reason of anything done or omitted to be done by the Grantee, and it shall be liable for such damage as may be suffered by any person or corporation by reason of its negligence in the use of such streets, alleys, bridges or other public places, and shall save harmless said Village from all damage and liability on account thereof.

Section 5. The Grantee shall be entitled to charge the inhabitants of said Village for gas, the rates as shown by the schedule now on file in the office of the Village Clerk, unless and until the Michigan Public Service Commission or its successors, to which Commission the authority and jurisdiction to fix and alter gas rates in said Village is hereby granted and conferred for the term of this franchise, shall fix and establish different rates, in which case the rates so fixed and established, if just and reasonable, shall prevail. Such rates shall be subject to review and change at any time, upon petition therefor being made by either the Village of Lake Angelus, acting by its Village Commission, or by said Grantee.

All bills for gas furnished by the Grantee shall be payable monthly. The Grantee may collect the minimum charges as specified in said schedule. The Grantee shall also furnish and maintain commercially accurate meters to measure the gas so furnished, and it shall, by its representatives, have at all reasonable times, access to the premises of its customers, for the purpose of reading, inspecting, removing and replacing such meters.

Section 6. Said Grantee shall construct and extend its gas distribution system within said Village, and shall furnish gas to applicants residing therein, whenever the amount of gas to be furnished thereby shall provide an adequate and reasonable return upon the cost of making such extensions and providing such service.

Section 7. The rights and authority herein granted are not exclusive. Either manufactured or natural gas may be furnished hereunder.

Section 8. Said Grantee shall, as to all other conditions and elements of service not herein fixed, be and remain subject to the reasonable rules and regulations of the Michigan Public Service Commission or its successors, applicable to gas service in said Village.

Section 9. The franchise granted by this ordinance is not subject to revocation, and shall be and become valid and binding only upon its approval by the affirmative vote of at least three-fifths of the electors of the Village voting thereon at a regular or special municipal election to be held in the manner provided by law. Such franchise shall not be submitted to the electors unless the Grantee shall, within thirty days after the adoption of this ordinance, file with the Village Clerk its written acceptance thereof, subject only to such approval; and such franchise, when accepted by the Grantee and approved by the electors as herein provided, shall constitute a contract between the Village and the Grantee, and shall be in force and effect for the term of twenty years from and after the date of approval by said electors.

We hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was duly enacted by the Village Commission of the Village of Lake Angelus, Oakland County, Michigan, on the 14th day of June, 1955.

H. L. WALTON,
Village President.

Attest:
ROBERT W. HODGE,
Village Clerk.

Atom Authority to Join GM Staff

Dr. Lawrence Hafstad, Nuclear Power Expert, to Head Lab Division

DETROIT — Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, 51, prominent physicist and leading atomic energy scientist, will join General Motors later this year as director of its research staff, it was announced by Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors.

Dr. Hafstad will succeed Charles L. McCuen, vice president of General Motors and general manager of its Research Laboratories Division since July 1947. McCuen will retire from the company sometime this year, after 29 years' service.

Since last January Dr. Hafstad has been director of the Atomic Energy Division of the Chase Manhattan Bank in New York, and was named first director of the Atomic Energy Commission's Division of Reactor Development in 1949.

A graduate of the University of Minnesota, Dr. Hafstad was a recipient of an American Association for the Advancement of Science Award in 1931, for research and development of a 1,000,000-volt vacuum tube.

He was awarded the Medal of Merit from the Secretary of Navy in 1946, and received the Atomic Energy Commission's Distinguished Service Award in 1954.

In 1946 the British government conferred upon him the "King's Medal in Defense of Freedom."

Dr. Hafstad, credited by his colleagues as being perhaps the world's foremost authority on harnessing the atom for industrial power, will make his headquarters at the General Motors Technical Center in Detroit.

Live Up to Mail Motto

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — In addition to being undeterred by sleet or storm of night, the couriers of the U.S. Post Office have also managed to deliver a letter from someone in Syria to the State Conservation Department. The letter, inquiring about vacation cabins, was addressed: "Holly River, 1592 acres near Webster Springs, Webster County, 9 cabins, U.S.A."

Cunard Lines Air Lift Stranded Travelers

LONDON (AP) — Cunard line officials chartered a fleet of planes today to carry more than 1,100 stranded in Britain by a wildcat seamen's strike. The travelers will save at least $14 on the deal—plus the tips they won't have to pay.

* * *

The 1,500 strikers, who have tied up eight transatlantic liners, were warned they face drafting into the army. Merchant seamen are exempt from the draft while at sea but can be called up if they go 14 days or more without a ship.

* * *

Cunard provided the special airlift for passengers stranded by the cancellation yesterday of the 81,000-ton Queen Mary. Officials of the line said 200 of the 1,175 passengers from Britain already were en route — 60 on regular flights and the rest on two chartered planes.

Kiwanis Club Helps Outfit Camp Oakland

KEEGO HARBOR — The West Bloomfield Kiwanis club has taken on the project of helping the youngsters at Camp Oakland enjoy the summer.

They have donated 50 fish poles, complete with lines, hooks, sinkers and bobbers, a set of bases for the softball diamond, two bats and a softball.

Bees Swarm Over Car

LONG BRANCH, N.J. (AP)—Thousands of bees swarmed over Mrs. George Richter's car, parked on Broadway yesterday. Nobody knew where they came from. Traffic jammed. Crowds gathered. Mrs. Richter, afraid to move the car, got a summons for overtime parking. Finally, her impatience conquering her fear, she drove away. What happened to the bees? "They just flew off," she said.

Find House Sites of 1607 on Jamestown Island

JAMESTOWN, Va. (AP) — These row houses so common in eastern cities had an early beginning in America. Foundations for row houses have been discovered on Jamestown island, site of the first permanent English settlement in the New World.

* * *

They indicate a structure 170 feet long and 21 feet wide, which could have contained five or six adjoining houses.

* * *

Row houses were a feature of architecture in England as well as the "cittie" of Jamestown in the period—1607.

Of all the motor vehicles involved in fatal crashes during 1954, 78 per cent were going straight ahead in clear weather and on dry highways.

Plant to Make 300 Tons of Ammonia Every Day

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — A new plant is going up here to produce 300 tons of ammonia a day for fertilizer. It will use hydrogen, a byproduct of gasoline production, and nitrogen distilled from liquid air.

Farmers use special equipment to inject ammonia into the soil to replace nitrogen used by plants. The plants cannot use nitrogen until it is combined with hydrogen, as in ammonia, or some other element. Agronomists say the growing of 60 bushels of corn on an acre will remove 95 pounds of nitrogen from the soil.

Almost one-fifth of the food planted by man is destroyed by diseases and insect pests before it is harvested and made ready for consumption.

Extra Steers Steered Into Pasture in Storm

WINFIELD, Iowa (AP)—When their 24 head of cattle broke out of the pasture during a night storm, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Underwood went out in the dark to round them up.

Next morning, instead of 24 animals, they found 45 critters in the pasture. The extra 21 steers, they learned, belonged to another farmer three miles away. They also had stampeded during the storm.

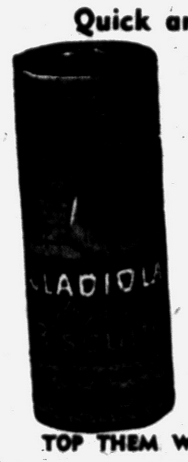

Most species of sea fish are found only in restricted areas.

Boy Gets 8 to 20 Years in Hammer Death of Aunt

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 17-year-old boy who admitted slaying his great aunt with a hammer, was sentenced yesterday to an 8 to 20-year prison term on a second-degree murder charge.

William Wright, in admitting the slaying of Mrs. Evelyn Thomas, 68, here last Jan. 26, testified he killed her when he thought she was going to telephone his mother and "upset" her.

Wright said he came here from Grove City, Pa., where he was serving a term at a boys correctional institution to discuss his troubles with Mrs. Thomas.

East Germans Will Attend Big 4 Meet as Observers

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist East German government says it is sending a delegation to the top-level Big Four conference in Geneva next month.

In a statement issued last night, the Red regime demanded that delegates from both parts of divided Germany be allowed to present their views on the German problem to the East-West meeting.

One source said Premier Otto Grotewohl might head the Soviet Zone delegation.

Novelist Faulkner Tells of Movie Writing Chores

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Movie writing career of William Faulkner was disclosed today in a rare interview with the Nobel and Pulitzer Prize winner.

* * *

Writing for the movies is a little known aspect of the career of the noted author, yet he has been working off and on in the Hollywood mills for more than 25 years. He talked about this and other matters via telephone from Memphis, Tenn., where he was attending a preview of "Land of the Pharaohs." He was one of the writers of the screen play.

* * *

Speaking in soft, Southern-shaded tones, Faulkner said he enjoyed writing films for his long-time friend, producer-director Howard Hawks. Besides "Pharaohs," he has helped Hawks on the scripts of a couple of early Bogart-Bacall items, "To Have and Have Not" and "The Big Sleep."

* * *

"We first met when I was out here in 1930 at MGM," Faulkner said. "I was working for Irving Thalberg on a short story of mine, 'Turnabout.' It was released as 'Today We Live' with Gary Cooper, Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone.

"I like working for Hawks. Writing for pictures is not exactly my racket, but I get along with him. We usually go over a scene and he says, 'This is the way to get the meat out of a scene.' Then I go and write it.

* * *

"When I show it to him, we might argue a bit until we get it right. No, I don't work with any other writers. Hawks will combine the efforts of myself and others to get what he wants."

About screen writing: "It's not exactly what I framed for myself. I know my limitations. I hope to do some more screen writing. I get a lot of satisfaction from it."

* * *

Are films a writer's medium?

"Anything that tells a story is a writer's medium. Some stories are told best in movies, some in short stories, novels or plays. You have to pick whatever medium is most suitable."

He said he is not working on any literary project at present. Is he thinking about one?

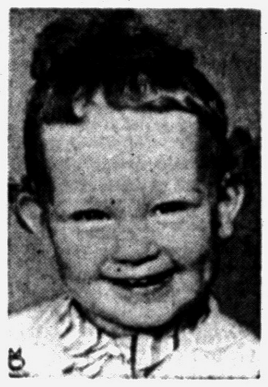

"No writer is ever free of that curse," he said rather wearily.

Total annual earnings of all employes in Minnesota iron mining declined from $100,000,000 in 1953 to $75,000,000 in 1954.

Slow Growth, Yellowing Shows Lack of Nitrogen

Is your garden growing slowly? Are the plants turning yellow? If so, you probably are faced with a nitrogen deficiency, according to John K. Bray, assistant Oakland County agricultural agent.

Nitrogen exists in the soil largely as a constitutent of organic matter. Through decomposition of the organic matter the nitrogen is changed from forms available to plants.

Since the decomposition of the organic matter is caused by living organisms, nitrogen availability in the soil is influenced by temperature, moisture, and aeriation. Thus, the supply is extremely variable.

This explains why plants sometimes are found to be starving for nitrogen in soils which are high in organic matter. This occurs generally during cold wet seasons, but sometimes during dry spells. It happens even on the most fertile soils.

APPLY FERTILIZER

Nitrogen-starved plants will benefit from applications of soluble fertilizer.

Nitrogen deficiency in crops is usually evidenced by general yellowing of the entire plant and by slow growth. The leaves first become light yellow and gradually turn yellow.

The old leaves on the plant, those nearest the ground on an upright plant, are first affected. Even after the old leaves die from a lack of nitrogen, the new leaves may be a dark green because the nitrogen is translocated from the old to the new leaves.

If nitrogen deficiency is indicated by the slow growth and yellowing, side-dress the crop with 1 pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of garden.

One pound of nitrogen is the amount contained in either of the following: 5 pounds of ammonium sulfate, 3 pounds of ammonium nitrate, or a little over 2 pounds of NuGreen.

Early peas, sweet corn, and leafy crops, such as cabbage, cauliflower, celery, and the greens almost always benefit from side-dressing, no matter if the symptoms are evident or not.

To place the application, dig a trench three inches to the side of the plant extending two inches below the seed level, and place the soluble fertilizer.

Be careful not to get the nitrogen too heavy or too close to the plant, as an excess of nitrogen is sure to kill.

Accepts Challenge for Milking Contest

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Perley I. Fitts, New Hampshire agriculture commissioner, has accepted Vermont's challenge to participate in a milking contest at the Vermont State Dairy Festival at Rutland June 22. He was undaunted by the fact he would have to milk a Vermont cow.

"I'll just milk her as we would milk a New Hampshire cow," he said. "I understand some of the critters are inclined to be independent because they outnumber people in Vermont. They know they could win an election if given a chance to vote."

The first coffee was introduced to the New England colonies about 1670. For the next 150 years, coffeehouses flourished as social meeting places, merchants' trading houses, and centers of political gatherings.

THEY'RE THE BERRIES—Mrs. Albert P. Hudson of 497 E. Montcalm St. holds a golf ball beside the outsize strawberries she grows in her back yard garden, to illustrate just how big a strawberry can grow. Her husband, Albert, says they taste just as good as they look. Despite putting in about 10 hours a day managing her own household goods store on Joslyn Avenue, Mrs. Hudson says she can't resist taking time out to garden.

Grows Outsize Berries

By WILMA GREENWAY

Sometimes the busiest people seem to be the ones who always have time to accomplish one more thing.

That's the way it is with Mrs. Albert Hudson and her strawberries.

It's really not the berries. It's just that in spite of putting in about 10 hours a day running the store she owns at Joslyn and Montcalm, keeping her home in tip-top shape, and pursuing her hobby of fishing, Hasel Hudson just didn't have quite enough to keep her busy.

START OUT

So she started fooling around with a garden.

And now she's got these luscious, huge strawberries. They are so big that some of them measure over six inches in girth and stand two inches high. Nine grandchildren eat them like apples, a bite at a time.

Even the smaller berries average five inches "around the middle." Mrs. Hudson already has harvested about 13 quarts from her garden plot, and she expects to collect as many more before the season ends.

Mrs. Hudson started the plants a year ago last October. When they reached flowering state, they developed blossoms the size of a half dollar, she says.

The Hudson garden started out in a very unpretentious manner. Five years ago it was just a sorry hollow. Hasel and her husband, Albert, a foreman with Pontiac Motor Division, started filling it in with tin cans, ashes and assorted junk.

When it was leveled, Mrs. Hudson began looking around for fill dirt. One day she noticed the street cleaner had a load of dirt he had picked up from Pontiac streets, and she asked him if she could have it. He agreed.

NOTHING GREW

It looked like rich, black dirt and Hasel started out to garden in earnest. Nothing grew. Everything she planted died.

Finally she learned that the dirt contained salt from the streets, and this was thwarting her efforts to have a fine garden.

Next step was to transport some rich black muck dirt from an old lake bed. The Hudsons weren't stingy with it. They bought about 10 yards.

HITS "PAY DIRT"

But it was real "pay dirt." From then on, anything Hasel planted grew, and grew with a flourish.

Mrs. Hudson's only formula for success is weeding. She weeds and hoes religiously.

"I once bet a friend she wouldn't find one weed in my garden," Hasel said, "—and you know, I won. She couldn't find a single weed."

Last year Mrs. Hudson had a fine crop of Kentucky wonder beans, and her tomatoes grew "higher than your head."

This year it's strawberries.

Next year this versatile gardener plans to go in for roses.

You can bet your bottom dollar they'll be good ones!

Thin Oriental Poppies

Rip up and discard volunteer oriental poppies—marking the ones you want to save. They are stubborn plants, once established, and persistent in the face of discouraging treatment.

Distribute Seeds

If you want to increase your supply of forget-me-nots, pull the plants when seed heads are ripe and shake the seeds where you want next year's bloom—and the tulip beds are a good place for them.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—Which trees would make an espalier tree against a brick wall?

A—Pear, apple, golden laburnum, hawthorne and firethorn can be trained as an espalier. Fruit trees are most commonly used for this purpose.

* * *

Q—What might cause my onions to rot in the middle as they start developing?

A—Maggots are probably to blame for the rotting. Dust or spray the soil with Dieldrin or Lindane before planting the sets. If seed—treat with 2 parts Calomel and 1 part seed before sowing. Onions must have a fertile, well limed soil, abundantly supplied with nitrogen.

* * *

Q—In 1954 we cut our daffodil foliage down to the ground as soon as they finished blooming. This year no flowers at all. What can be done now to insure blooms next spring?

A—First, do not remove any foliage until it has yellowed and withered. Second, fertilize with a mixture strong in phosphorus—one with an analysis of 4-12-4 or 5-10-5. And for good luck, plant a few new bulbs next autumn.

* * *

Q—Is Michigan peat moss any different or better than the imported varieties? Do you agree that lime should be used with Michigan peat?

A—All peat mosses act similarly. They add a valuable humus to the soil, help break up clay soil and aid in the retention of water in sandy soil. Some gardeners prefer the imported peat because, being coarser, it lasts longer in the soil than our domestic varieties, which in many instances are almost powder. Since none have any food value, some consider them on their price per pound. Do not add lime to the peat unless the soil is very acid.

Plant Insects Giving Trouble?

Lists Ways to Control Bugs That Attack Trees, Garden Plants

The Oakland County Extension Service is receiving a number of calls these days on the method of controlling the insects that attack the early garden plants, according to Lyle Abel, county agricultural agent.

The big worry of most gardeners is cutworms. These pests attack cabbage, tomatoes, and many flowers.

Treatment should be applied the day the plants are set out, Abel says. Dust around the stalk of the plant with a 5 per cent DDT dust, or spray with 2 level tablespoons of DDT to one gallon of water.

DDT will damage cucumbers and should be applied before the plants come up by dusting over the rows. The tar paper cover fitted around the stalk of the cabbage or tomato plant will drive away the cutworm.

APHIDS COMMON

Aphids or plant lice are common at this season of the year. They cause a wilting of the leaves. To control them use nicotine sulfate or rotenone, or if it is on plants not to be eaten, some of the newer sprays containing malathion are excellent.

* * *

For the little black flea beetle that causes the shot-hole like opening in the leaves of tomatoes and potatoes, the gardener should use rotenone or methoxychlor.

For the small home garden the most convenient method of ocntrolling many of these pests, is to use a general purpose garden dust which can be purchased in a convenient cartridge.

Another pest that has been causing homeowners concern recently has been bladder gall on maple trees. These small globular shape galls on the upper sides of the leaves actually do very little harm to the tree, but are unsightly and have resulted in many people calling the office.

There is no control required at this season of the year. A lime sulfur spray applied at the time the tree is dormant is the control.

Prune, Fertilize Flowering Dogwood

Many flowering dogwoods would benefit from fertilizing and pruning to encourage the development of blossom buds for next year.

Since a flowering dogwood needs full sunlight for maximum bloom, it is often advisable to reduce the number of inside branches, permitting more sunlight and a better circulation of air.

The worst enemy of the dogwood is a borer. Sawdust kicked out of borer holes on the trunk is a telltale sign.

Look for this evidence and, if found, poke into the hole with a wire hoping to kill the borer. Then plug up the hole with a soft soap mixed with a little 5 or 10 per cent DDT.

Yule Tree Growers to Convene at Hart

The Michigan Christmas Tree Growers Association will hold a two-day meeting at Hart July 23-24. Purpose of the convention is to foster and improve Christmas tree farming in Michigan.

Lower demand for Minnesota iron ore in 1954 reduced tonnage shipped by one-third from 1953.

Folders Will Aid in Selecting Plant Varieties

If you want to know what vegetable varieties will do the best in your garden, get a copy of Michigan State College's extension folder F-179. It's called "Recommended Vegetable Varieties for Michigan," and it is available at your County Extension Office.

Or you can drop a card to the Bulletin Office at Michigan State College, and you'll get the folder in the mail.

The folder is just off the press and lists the varieties that have been doing well in Michigan for several years.

Blazing Putter Gives Bolt Open Lead on 67

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)— It's true what they've been saying about the golf course where the best golfers in the land are playing in the National Open tournament.

* * *

They've been saying that the Lake course of the Olympic Country Club, scene of the 55th annual classic, is tough. And only Tommy Bolt, with a sparkling three-under-par 67, found it otherwise yesterday as the field of 162 took off on the rugged 72-hole test.

Bolt, swinging a putter so hot he used it only once on 12 of the 18 tricky greens, took a three-stroke advantage into today's second round of play over the 6,700-yard par 35—70 layout which nestles between the Pacific Ocean and Lake Merced.

* * *

In the runner-up slot was Walker Inman, Jr., little-known Augusta, Ga., pro, with an even par 70. Third another stroke off the pace, was Jack Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and fourth, with a two-over-par 72, came four-time titlist Ben Hogan.

It was the rough the boys complained about in practice and which the U.S. Golf Assn. ordered trimmed. But it still was the rough, narrowing the fairways and putting a premium on accurate drives—which was tripping them up yesterday. Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., pro who carded a 77, put it into words neatly.

* * *

"Man," he said coming off the 18th green, "if we had that kind of grass down in Texas we'd bale it up and sell it."

Three players—Bill Meyers of Daytona Beach, Fla.; Mike Barbato, Baton Rouge, La., and James Molinari of San Francisco gave up in disgust along the way. That left only 159 still going for the gold which added up to $24,000 today as the result of a 20 per cent bonus announced by the USGA. The winning pro will pocket $6,000 about the time the sun sets Saturday.

* * *

The field was split almost exactly in the middle between the "under 80s." There were 79 with scores hitting 80 or above, 80 with totals under that figure. The feeling was that anything adding up to 154 would survive for tomorrow's 36-hole finals when the field will be trimmed to the 50 low scores and ties.

* * *

Bolt toured the course in 35-32 for his 67, using only 24 putts in the process. His putter was as hot as those of defending champion Ed Furgol and Hogan were cold. Both veterans needed 35 putts, Furgol winding up with a six-over-par 76.

* * *

Hogan's 72, although five strokes off Bolt's scorching pace, failed to evoke much worry from long-timers on the pro golf circuit.

"He's right where he wants to be," was the general feeling. "He does his best when he can sneak up from behind."

Knotted with 73s in the fifth spot were Mike Souchak, ex-Duke football player; Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and Babe Lichardus of Westfield, N.J., who made the tournament as an alternate.

* * *

Harvie Ward of San Francisco, Walker Cupper and ex-British Amateur champion, turned in a 74.

* * *

And one of the 80 "under 80s" was Sam Snead, who came in with a 79 in another bid for this Open title which has eluded him throughout his entire career. And, with his first day's score, it seemed certain to be out of reach another time.

OUT OF TROUBLE—Ed Furgol, defending champion, blasts out of a sandtrap onto the 2nd green during the 1st round of the U. S. Open over the Olympic Club Lake course at San Francisco Thursday. He took a bogie 5 on the hole and was 6-over par at 76 for the 1st round.

Beats 'Boudreau Shift'

Williams Hikes Batting Average to .415, Makes Bosox Hottest 9 in Junior Loop

BOSTON (UP)—Ted Williams, the irrepressible kid despite his 36 years, has fired the Boston Red Sox into the hottest American League club with his .415 batting average—and display of hustle.

* * *

Williams got three of the eight hits off Kansas City pitchers yesterday including a 450-foot home run in Boston's 7-6 victory. It was the eighth win in nine games for the Sox.

"That's just the level of hitter Ted is," commented Manager Mike Higgins after the game when informed Williams has boosted his average to .415.

"I've often wondered why Ted doesn't hit .500," Higgins added.

* * *

In the fifth inning Williams tied the score 2-2 with his sixth home run of the season, a towering drive that hit 15 rows up in the right field bleachers beyond the Boston bullpen. His single to right in the third put Billy Goodman in position to score from third on an error.

With the Sox down 6-2 in the eighth, Williams got a rally going by reaching out to punch a single to left against the famed shift and the man who invented it—A's pilot Lou Boudreau.

* * *

Williams, who had faked a bunt twice the previous day against Ray Herbert before singling, dropped one down the line on the first pitch but it rolled fou. With the count 2-2 Boudreau sent third baseman Jim Finigan from shortstop to a position behind second and Ted promptly curved a hit into the vacated spot.

"It was a changeup I hit to left field," Williams said afterward.

"It's up to Ted whether he tries to hit to left or not," Higgins replied to a question. "He knows what he's doing. He always plays to win."

Cooper Paces State Entries in U.S. Open

Knollwood Pro Cards 75; Harbert Is at 75, Burkemo at 82

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Pete Cooper of Knollwood Country Club topped the 7-man Michigan contingent in the U. S. Open golf tournament after first round play today with his tie for 7th place.

Cooper and eight other golfers shot first round totals of 75 yesterday to trail leader Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn., by eight strokes.

Three other Michigan golfers were among the 19 entrants tied for 9th with totals of 77. Joe Thacker of Knollwood shot a 40-37, Chick Harbert of Meadowbrook carded a 37-40 and Max Evans of Utica wound up with a 40-37.

Behind them were Walter Burkemo of Franklin Hills, with a tie for 14th with eight others on his 41-41 — 82, Larry Tomasino of Grosse Pointe, tied for 16th with 11 others with a 39-45—84, and Fred Challen of Birmingham, tied for 19th with John Hoetmer of Seattle at 43-46—89.

PACESETTER —Tommy Bolt, the colorful southerner, who is equally well-known for great golf rounds and flying clubs, is the 1st day leader in the National Open golf tournament at San Francisco. Bolt, now playing out of Chattanooga, Tenn., fired a 3-under-par 67 to take a 3-stroke lead over the field.

Broncos Edged by Deacons in NCAA Final

Wake Forest Comes From Behind to Win Baseball Series

OMAHA, Neb. (UP)—Wake Forest from the baseball-minded state of North Carolina reigned as champion of the college baseball world today.

The Deacons came from behind to defeat Western Michigan 7-6 last night in the final of the NCAA college World Series.

Catchers played an important part in the final contest.

Lin Holt, Wake Forest's ace receiver, singled home Luke McKeel in the 8th inning for the winning run. McKeel had walked and moved around to third on a pair of passed balls by Western Michigan catcher Frits Messner.

Wake Forest jumped to a 3-0 lead only to see the Broncos push across three runs in each of the 3rd and 4th innings to grab an edge.

But the Southern nine tied it with its own three-run cluster in the 6th and set the stage for Holt's heroics.

Meanwhile, newsmen covering the tournament named Tom Borland, Oklahoma A and M senior southpaw, as the outstanding player of the series.

Borland won two games for the Aggies and saved another in relief to run his season record to 11 wins and no losses.

Morse Tosses No-Hitter for Jewelers' Nine

'Mutt' Blanks Ashland, 3-0; Elks, Stadium Inn, NS Service Win

Ciell (Mutt) Morse hurled a no-hit, no-run game Thursday night at Northside Park as Shaw's Jewelers blanked Ashland Flying Octane, 3-0.

Morse' achievement was the highlight among three well-pitched contests in men's city league softball.

Only two batters reached base off the offerings of Morse, one by a pass in the 4th inning, the other by being hit with a pitched ball in the 2nd. The Shaw's twirler struck out 11 and officially pitched to just 21 men, par for the course.

Clarence Beers pitched creditably for the losers, but was overshadowed by Morse. Beers permitted only two singles, struck out two, and did not walk a man. Both of Shaw's safeties came in the 3rd stanza when two runs scored.

Elks club came from behind to edge Riteway Softwater, 2-1, in extra innings, at Beaudette. The winners knotted the count with a single run on two hits in the 7th, then capitalized on two errors to score the winning run in the 8th. The Elks' Al Emsley outduled Cal Atwood, each allowing four hits.

In the nightcap at Beaudette, Verle Sheldon turned in a three-hit chore as his Stadium Inn mates shut out the Knights of Columbus, 5-0. Sheldon had flawless control and struck out 12 batters.

Northside Service scored four times in the 1st inning to defeat Chuck & Louie's Market, 5-3, in last night's opener at Northside. Maurice Stack clouted a two-run homer in the initial frame.

Lions Complete Deal for Quarterback Harry Gilmer

DETROIT (UP) — Coach Buddy Parker said today there were "seven reasons" why the Detroit Lions traded two rookies and an undisclosed sum of cash to the Washington Redskins for former Alabama ace Harry Gilmer.

The Lions announced yesterday that they traded Bert Zagers, their 7th choice from Michigan State in last winter's draft, and Bob Trout, an end from Baylor who was drafted in 1952 but has been in service since then, for Gilmer.

The two-time members of the Pro Bowl squad would serve as "insurance" for Lion quarterback Bobby Layne first of all, Parker said. The Lions needed someone to replace Layne if he should get injured because Tom Dublinski, former sub Lion quarterback signed with the Toronto Argonauts this year.

Parker said the Lions probably would also use Gilmer as a defensive halfback.

He said the Lions were forced to use offensive backs in key defensive roles last year but he hoped to use Gilmer as a 5th defensive back this year.

While they were arranging the trade for Gilmer, Redskins officials returned to Detroit the rights to Jim Hill, defensive halfback, who Detroit traded to the Redskins earlier.

It has been rumored that Hill would jump to the Canadian League next season.

Hill was sent to Washington during a winter trade along with Lion center Lavern Torgeson. The Lions obtained Jim Ricca, a middle guard, and former Kentucky end Walt Yaworksy in the trade.

Gilmer, an ace passer who was Washington's first draft choice in 1948, has been hobbled by injuries throughout his pro career. Last season he was used as a defensive halfback when he wasn't injured.

Mile, 880, 440 Are Featured in NCAA Test at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (INS)—The University of Southern California is heavily favored to take its 7th straight championship today as America's premier track meet, the NCAA trials, opens at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

USC, which has won more NCAA championships than any other college in the nation, will compete with 90 other universities for qualifying trials today and finals tomorrow. Other schools which are figured to be highly the running are UCLA, Michigan, Kansas, Illinois and Penn State.

The feature of the two-day meet is the mile race which will pit UCLA sensation, Bobby Seaman, again NCAA champion Bill Dellinger, Oregon and Billy Tidwell from Emporia State, Kansas.

Seaman, after losing to Dellinger, in the mile a week later in 4:01.4 while trailing Wes Santee by a lap.

Another race of interest will be the 880 in which Arnie Sowell of Pittsburgh and Tom Courtney of Fordham engage in a rematch of their army race last month at the Coliseum Relays.

In that race Courtney finished first but was disqualified for cutting in on Sowell.

The 440 is expected to develop into a competition between J. W. Mashburn of Oklahoma A & M, Kevin Gosper of Michigan State and ULA's Russ Ellis.

GMC Beats Jets on Big Inning

Anderson 9's 4-0 Lead Goes Out the Window in Class A Tilt

General Motors exploded for five runs in the last half of the 6th inning to chalk up a 5-4 victory over the L. C. Anderson Jets in Class A city league baseball Thursday night at Wisner Field.

It was a heartbreaking loss for the Jets, who seemed to have the game in the bag until GMC's big rally. The Jets had tallied three runs on four hits in the 3rd frame and two safeties in the 5th had pushed across one more to give them a 4-0 advantage.

In the Coachers big 6th, a walk, two singles, and a pair of doubles, plus an error, did all the damage. Vernon Rains was chased from the hill in the inning, Jim Williams taking over. Rains was the losing pitcher.

* * *

Dick Goldsworthy started on the mound for the Coach club, but gave way to Herman Bishop during Anderson's three-run 3rd stanza. Bishop took credit for the win.

Two men's city league softball games are scheduled tonight at Northside Park. Drive-In Cleaners faces Franklin Products, at 7 p.m., and Bicmar meets KC in the 8:30 cap. Both are make-up contests.

9th Inning Miseries Still Plague Bengals

BALTIMORE (UP)—As the Detroit Tigers prepared to meet Baltimore tonight (in what they hope will be a nice, quiet game), they had one slender consolation: They won't have to play in Yankee Stadium again until Aug. 5.

But even that probably will be too soon for manager Bucky Harris' Bengals, who have played the world's greatest eight - inning games in the New York ball yard this season—only to fall flat on their faces in the ninth inning.

The Tigers have won only one game in Yankee Stadium this season. That's bad. They have lost four there, blowing three of them with a 9th-inning collapse. That's worse.

Yesterday rookie Frank Lary of the Tigers breezed into the bottom of the 9th with a 2-0 lead. The strong-armed righthander had allowed only five hits and seemed on his way to his 1st big league shutout.

But teammates Billy Hoeft and Al Aber should have warned him about the 9th.

Back on May 14, Hoeft blew an apparent victory to the Yanks when the New Yorkers pushed across three runs in the 9th inning. And last Tuesday, Aber made a throwing error which enabled the Yanks to tie the game in the 9th, and give them the opportunity to win it in the 10th.

Elston Howard wrecked Hoeft last month with a 9th-inning triple. It was the same Howard who brought Lary's downfall, smacking a clean single to center in the 9th to climax a three-run outburst and give the Yankees a 3-2 win.

But it wasn't only Howard's hit which kept the 9th-inning "jinx" going.

With one away in the 9th, Lary walked Mickey Mantle — and Yogi Berra hit the next pitch for his 12th home run to tie the score, 2-2.

The homer, by the way, was a Yankee Stadium "cheapie" — barely fair and just clearing the wall in right, a mere 300 feet away.

That must have rattled Lary. Irv Noren followed with a single, Eddie Robinson was hit by a pitched ball and pinchhitter Joe Collins walked — and the bases were full. Howard then delivered his game-winner.

It was a crushing defeat for the Tigers, who, with a break here and there, conceivably could have swept the three-game series with the Yankees.

Instead, they limped into Baltimore with a 1-2 record to start their long, testing 23-game road trip—one which may make or break their first division aspirations.

Steve Gromek, the sore-backed veteran, was slated to pitch for Detroit against Baltimore tonight. Don Johnson was scheduled to oppose him.

Sox Purchase of Busby Makes Fast Outfield

NEW YORK (UP)—When the Chicago White Sox purchased Jim Busby from Washington they provided the missing link for the fastest outfield in baseball — on the basepaths anyway. The fleet-footed trio of Busby, Jim Rivera and Minoso have combined to steal 22 bases, tops for any outfield combination in the majors.

Busby's steal last night against his old mates gave him six for the season, putting him right behind his outfield partners in the American League race. Minoso and Rivera lead the league with eight steals each.

Berg Holds Big Lead in Tourney

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (INS)—Patty Berg, freckle-faced veteran from St. Andrews, Ill., held a comfortable 18-point lead today with two rounds to play in the Triangle Round Robin golf tournament.

Patty, the leader since the opening day, shot a third-round par 72 yesterday to ballon her point total in the complicated round-robin scoring pattern to plus 47. Runner-up Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., shot a 75 for a plus-29 total.

Carol Bowman of Oakland, Cal., an analytical chemist when she isn't golfing, equalled the course record with a 71, picking up 20 points, but she still was in eighth place wth a minus-2 tally sheet.

Drug 9 Slips Into Township Loop Lead

Drayton Drug moved a half-game into the lead of the Waterford Township Softball League Thursday night with a 4-3 victory over Sylvan Center in part of a double-header at Drayton's Township Park.

In the other game, Day's Sanitary Service drubbed Gidley Electric, 7-1.

Drug trailed the Sylvan club 3-2 going into the 5th, but came up with the winning 2-run rally on Stu Hutchinson's single, a triple by Jerry Hesse and Lynn Wyckoff's double. Bill Goulet hurled 1-hit relief pitching for 4 innings and got the win.

Day's tallied single runs in the 4th and 5th and put the contest with Gidley's away in the 6th with 3 runs. Roy Cummings had a double and 2 singles for the winners, who got 2-hit pitching from Al Webster.

U.S. May Get Winter Games

Even Russians Favor Holding '60 Olympics in California

PARIS (UP) — Squaw Valley, a little-known resort along the crest of California's Sierra Nevada range, even had the Russians on its side today as it sought the 1960 Winter Olympic Games.

The United States lost out in its bid for the 1960 summer games yesterday when Rome was chosen over Detroit, but most delegates reportedly were ready to pick Squaw Valley over three Alpine sites for the winter games.

Representatives from Innsbruck, Austria; St. Moritz, Switzerland, and Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, also placed bids before the International Olympic Committee.

However, even the Russians seemed to favor an American site for the winter games.

"It seems the simple and healthy atmosphere of Squaw Valley will guarantee that the winter games are held in true Olympic spirit," said Constantin Adrianov, head of the Russian delegation.

Adrianov stressed the words "simple and healthy" in an obvious rebuke of the plush, deluxe atmosphere of St. Moritz and other Alpine resorts.

Argonauts Confident Ex-Lions Are Theirs

TORONTO (UP) — The Toronto Argonauts were confident today they would retain quarterback Tom Dublinski and lineman Gil Mains following the dismissal of an application by the Detroit Lions for an interlocutory injunction.

The Lions filed a breach of contract suit after Dublinski and Mains signed with the Argonauts last winter. The two players had played the 1954 season with Detroit of the National Football League and their 1954 contracts contained options on their 1955 services.

The Detroit club sought a temporary injunction to keep the two from playing with the Argonauts until the suit is heard.

Old Timers Tackle Detroit 9 Sunday

The Pontiac Old Timers baseball team will clash with Billy Rogell's Old Timers of Detroit Sunday afternoon at Stogell Park in Windsor, Ontario. Game time is 2 p. m.

Sunday's contest will end a 2-week layoff for the Pontiac club. The Old Timers made London a 10-6 victim June 5 at Wisner Field in the inaugural game of the International Old Timers League 1955 season.

Manager Bud Leslie requests team members to assemble at the VFW hall on South Saginaw Sunday at 10:45 a. m.

Orioles Sign Wisniewski

ANN ARBOR (UP)—Marv Wisniewski, who compiled a 21-8 pitching record with the University of Michigan over a three-year span, has been signed to a professional baseball contract by the Baltimore Orioles. The 20-year-old lefthander accepted a $4,000 bonus and assignment to San Antonio of the AA Texas League.

Old-Timers Dickson, Trucks, Byrne Show Younger Major Leaguers Up; Sox Stay on Heels of Yankees

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some of the old pappy guys got together and really showed the crewcut class in major league baseball a few tricks of the trade Thursday.

There were Murry Dickson (38), Virgil Trucks (36) and Tommy Byrne (35) to name a few. Those figures aren't uniform numbers, either. That's the number of years the gents have tucked away.

* * *

Byrne did the real bang-up job, stopping the still-wet-behind-the-ears Detroit Tigers 3-2 on four hits and becoming the first pitcher to go all the way for the American League leading New York Yankees since June 1.

* * *

Trucks kept the Chicago White Sox within two games of the Yanks with his second straight shutout and fifth straight victory, a six-hit job that beat Baltimore 8-0.

And Dickson, who has led or tied for the most-games-lost title in the National League for the past three seasons, squared his mark at 4-4 by whittling down the Milwaukee Braves on four hits as the Philadelphia Phillies won 3-0.

* * *

At the same time, Warren Hacker, a young sprat of 30, cut off a Chicago Cub losing streak at three games by stopping the New York Giants 2-1 on five hits. That pulled the Bruins to within 10½ games of National League leading Brooklyn as Cincinnati topped the Dodgers a second straight time, 6-5, in 10 innings.

St. Louis made it two straight by beating Pittsburgh 5-0.

* * *

The other American League games wound up with Cleveland holding off Washington 8-5 and Boston overhauling Kansas City in the ninth 7-6.

* * *

Trucks, who has won seven, breezed in as Baltimore suffered its 11th shutout of the season and fourth in five games. Loser Duane Pillette and Joe Coleman gave up 15 hits—three each by George Kell, who drove in four runs, Nellie Fox and Walt Dropo. Fox now has hit in 12 straight games.

Dickson didn't fool with the Braves, who got only one man as far as second base. The little right-hander walked just two and doubled to score the Phils' second run off loser Bob Buhl.

* * *

Brooklyn's 15th defeat came on Ted Kluszewski's two-out homer—his second of the game—off reliefer Jim Hughes, who had just retired 14 in a row.

Washington had 12 hits, but Cleveland smacked 15 as Bob Lemon won his ninth with Mike Garcia's help in the last inning.

Boston warmed up for a four-game set with Cleveland by winning its eighth in nine games on Billy Klaus' two-run homer in the ninth. It came off reliefer Johnny Sain, an old guy who missed.

Slow Growth, Yellowing Shows Lack of Nitrogen

Is your garden growing slowly? Are the plants turning yellow? If so, you probably are faced with a nitrogen deficiency, according to John K. Bray, assistant Oakland County agricultural agent.

Nitrogen exists in the soil largely as a constitutent of organic matter. Through decomposition of the organic matter the nitrogen is changed from forms available to plants.

Since the decomposition of the organic matter is caused by living organisms, nitrogen availability in the soil is influenced by temperature, moisture, and aeration. Thus, the supply is extremely variable.

This explains why plants sometimes are found to be starving for nitrogen in soils which are high in organic matter. This occurs generally during cold wet seasons, but sometimes during dry spells. It happens even on the most fertile soils.

APPLY FERTILIZER

Nitrogen-starved plants will benefit from applications of soluble fertilizer.

Nitrogen deficiency in crops is usually evidenced by general yellowing of the entire plant and by slow growth. The leaves first become light yellow and gradually turn yellow.

The old leaves on the plant, those nearest the ground on an upright plant, are first affected. Even after the old leaves die from a lack of nitrogen, the new leaves may be a dark green because the nitrogen is translocated from the old to the new leaves.

If nitrogen deficiency is indicated by the slow growth and yellowing, side-dress the crop with 1 pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of garden.

One pound of nitrogen is the amount contained in either of the following: 5 pounds of ammonium sulfate, 3 pounds of ammonium nitrate, or a little over 2 pounds of NuGreen.

Early peas, sweet corn, and leafy crops, such as cabbage, cauliflower, celery, and the greens almost always benefit from side-dressing, no matter if the symptoms are evident or not.

To place the application, dig a trench three inches to the side of the plant extending two inches below the seed level, and place the soluble fertilizer.

Be careful not to get the nitrogen too heavy or too close to the plant, as an excess of nitrogen is sure to kill.

Accepts Challenge for Milking Contest

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Perley I. Fitts, New Hampshire agriculture commissioner, has accepted Vermont's challenge to participate in a milking contest at the Vermont State Dairy Festival at Rutland June 22. He was undaunted by the fact he would have to milk a Vermont cow.

"I'll just milk her as we would milk a New Hampshire cow," he said, "I understand some of the critters are inclined to be independent because they outnumber people in Vermont. They know they could win an election if given a chance to vote."

The first coffee was introduced to the New England colonies about 1670. For the next 150 years, coffeehouses flourished as social meeting places, merchants' trading houses, and centers of political gatherings.

Grows Outsize Berries

By WILMA GREENWAY

Sometimes the busiest people seem to be the ones who always have time to accomplish one more thing.

That's the way it is with Mrs. Albert Hudson and her strawberries.

It's really not the berries. It's just that in spite of putting in about 10 hours a day running the store she owns at Joslyn and Montcalm, keeping her home in tip-top shape, and pursuing her hobby of fishing, Hasel Hudson just didn't have quite enough to keep her busy.

START OUT

So she started fooling around with a garden.

And now she's got these luscious, huge strawberries. They are so big that some of them measure over six inches in girth and stand two inches high. Nine grandchildren eat them like apples, a bite at a time.

Even the smaller berries average five inches "around the middle." Mrs. Hudson already has harvested about 13 quarts from her garden plot, and she expects to collect as many more before the season ends.

Mrs. Hudson started the plants a year ago last October. When they reached flowering state, they developed blossoms the size of a half dollar, she says.

The Hudson garden started out in a very unpretentious manner. Five years ago it was just a sorry hollow. Hasel and her husband, Albert, a foreman with Pontiac Motor Division, started filling it in with tin cans, ashes and assorted junk.

When it was leveled, Mrs. Hudson began looking around for fill dirt. One day she noticed the street cleaner had a load of dirt he had picked up from Pontiac streets, and she asked him if she could have it. He agreed.

NOTHING GREW

It looked like rich, black dirt and Hasel started out to garden in earnest. Nothing grew. Everything she planted died.

Finally she learned that the dirt contained salt from the streets, and this was thwarting her efforts to have a fine garden.

Next step was to transport some rich black muck dirt from an old lake bed. The Hudsons weren't stingy with it. They bought about 10 yards.

HITS "PAY DIRT"

But it was real "pay dirt." From then on, anything Hasel planted grew, and grew with a flourish.

Mrs. Hudson's only formula for success is weeding. She weeds and hoes religiously.

"I once bet a friend she wouldn't find one weed in my garden," Hasel said, "—and you know, I won. She couldn't find a single weed."

Last year Mrs. Hudson had a fine crop of Kentucky wonder beans, and her tomatoes grew "higher than your head."

This year it's strawberries.

Next year this versatile gardener plans to go in for roses.

You can bet your bottom dollar they'll be good ones!

Thin Oriental Poppies

Rip up and discard volunteer oriental poppies—marking the ones you want to save. They are stubborn plants, once established, and persistent in the face of discouraging treatment.

Distribute Seeds

If you want to increase your supply of forget-me-nots, pull the plants when seed heads are ripe and shake the seeds where you want next year's bloom—and the tulip beds are a good place for them.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—Which trees would make an espalier tree against a brick wall?

A—Pear, apple, golden laburnum, hawthorne and firethorn can be trained as an espalier. Fruit trees are most commonly used for this purpose.

* * *

Q—What might cause my onions to rot in the middle as they start developing?

A—Maggots are probably to blame for the rotting. Dust or spray the soil with Dieldrin or Lindane before planting the sets. If seed—treat with 2 parts Calomel and 1 part seed before sowing. Onions must have a fertile, well limed soil, abundantly supplied with nitrogen.

* * *

Q—In 1954 we cut our daffodil foliage down to the ground as soon as they finished blooming. This year no flowers at all. What can be done now to insure blooms next spring?

A—First, do not remove any foliage until it has yellowed and withered. Second, fertilize with a mixture strong in phosphorus—one with an analysis of 4-12-4 or 5-10-5. And for good luck, plant a few new bulbs next autumn.

* * *

Q—Is Michigan peat moss any different or better than the imported varieties? Do you agree that lime should be used with Michigan peat?

A—All peat mosses act similarly. They add a valuable humus to the soil, help break up clay soil and aid in the rentention of water in sandy soil. Some gardeners prefer the imported peat because, being coarser, it lasts longer in the soil than our domestic varieties, which in many instances are almost powder. Since none have any food value, some consider them on their price per pound. Do not add lime to the peat unless the soil is very acid.

Plant Insects Giving Trouble?

Lists Ways to Control Bugs That Attack Trees, Garden Plants

The Oakland County Extension Service is receiving a number of calls these days on the method of controlling the insects that attack the early garden plants, according to Lyle Abel, county agricultural agent.

The big worry of most gardeners is cutworms. These pests attack cabbage, tomatoes, and many flowers.

Treatment should be applied the day the plants are set out, Abel says. Dust around the stalk of the plant with a 5 per cent DDT dust, or spray with 2 level tablespoons of DDT to one gallon of water.

DDT will damage cucumbers and should be applied before the plants come up by dusting over the rows. The tar paper cover fitted around the stalk of the cabbage or tomato plant will drive away the cutworm.

APHIDS COMMON

Aphids or plant lice are common at this season of the year. They cause a wilting of the leaves. To control them use nicotine sulfate or rotenone, or if it is on plants not to be eaten, some of the newer sprays containing malathion are excellent.

* * *

For the little black flea beetle that causes the shot-hole like opening in the leaves of tomatoes and potatoes, the gardener should use rotenone or methoxychlor.

For the small home garden the most convenient method of ocntrolling many of these pests, is to use a general purpose garden dust which can be purchased in a convenient cartridge.

Another pest that has been causing homeowners concern recently has been bladder gall on maple trees. These small globular shape galls on the upper sides of the leaves actually do very little harm to the tree, but are unsightly and have resulted in many people calling the office.

There is no control required at this season of the year. A lime sulfur spray applied at the time the tree is dormant is the control.

Prune, Fertilize Flowering Dogwood

Many flowering dogwoods would benefit from fertilizing and pruning to encourage the development of blossom buds for next year.

Since a flowering dogwood needs full sunlight for maximum bloom, it is often advisable to reduce the number of inside branches, permitting more sunlight and a better circulation of air.

The worst enemy of the dogwood is a borer. Sawdust kicked out of borer holes on the trunk is a telltale sign.

Look for this evidence and, if found, poke into the hole with a wire hoping to kill the borer. Then plug up the hole with a soft soap mixed with a little 5 or 10 per cent DDT.

Yule Tree Growers to Convene at Hart

The Michigan Christmas Tree Growers Association will hold a two-day meeting at Hart July 23-24. Purpose of the convention is to foster and improve Christmas tree farming in Michigan.

Lower demand for Minnesota iron ore in 1954 reduced tonnage shipped by one-third from 1953.

Folders Will Aid in Selecting Plant Varieties

If you want to know what vegetable varieties will do the best in your garden, get a copy of Michigan State College's extension folder F-179. It's called "Recommended Vegetable Varieties for Michigan," and it is available at your County Extension Office.

Or you can drop a card to the Bulletin Office at Michigan State College, and you'll get the folder in the mail.

The folder is just off the press and lists the varieties that have been doing well in Michigan for several years.

Blazing Putter Gives Bolt Open Lead on 67

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— It's true what they've been saying about the golf course where the best golfers in the land are playing in the National Open tournament.

* * *

They've been saying that the Lake course of the Olympic Country Club, scene of the 55th annual classic, is tough. And only Tommy Bolt, with a sparkling three-under-par 67, found it otherwise yesterday as the field of 162 took off on the rugged 72-hole test.

Bolt, swinging a putter so hot he used it only once on 12 of the 18 tricky greens, took a three-stroke advantage into today's second round of play over the 6,700-yard par 35-35—70 layout which nestles between the Pacific Ocean and Lake Merced.

* * *

In the runner-up slot was Walker Inman Jr., little-known Augusta, Ga., pro, with an even par 70. Third, another stroke off the pace, was Jack Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y. and fourth, with a two-over-par 72, came four-time titlist Ben Hogan.

It was the rough the boys complained about in practice and which the U.S. Golf Assn. ordered trimmed. But it still was the rough, narrowing the fairways and putting a premium on accurate drives —which was tripping them up yesterday. Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., pro who carded a 77, put it into words neatly.

* * *

"Man," he said coming off the 18th green, "if we had that kind of grass down in Texas we'd bale it up and sell it."

Three players—Bill Meyers of Daytona Beach, Fla.; Mike Barbato, Baton Rouge, La., and James Molinari of San Francisco gave up in disgust along the way. That left only 159 still going for the gold which added up to $24,000 today as the result of a 20 per cent bonus announced by the USGA. The winning pro will pocket $6,000 about the time the sun sets Saturday.

* * *

The field was split almost exactly in the middle between the "under 80s." There were 79 with scores hitting 80 or above, 80 with totals under that figure. The feeling was that anything adding up to 154 would survive for tomorrow's 36-hole finals when the field will be trimmed to the 50 low scores and ties.

* * *

Bolt toured the course in 35-32 for his 67, using only 24 putts in the process. His putter was as hot as those of defending champion Ed Furgol and Hogan were cold. Both veterans needed 35 putts. Furgol winding up with a six-over-par 76.

* * *

Hogan's 72, although five strokes off Bolt's scorching pace, failed to evoke much worry from long-timers on the pro golf circuit.

"He's right where he wants to be," was the general feeling. "He does his best when he can sneak up from behind."

Knotted with 73s in the fifth spot were Mike Souchak, ex-Duke football player; Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and Babe Lichardus of Westfield, N.J., who made the tournament as an alternate.

* * *

Harvie Ward of San Francisco, Walker Cupper and ex-British Amateur champion, turned in a 74.

* * *

And one of the 80 under 80s" was Sam Snead, who came in with a 79 in another bid for this Open title which has eluded him throughout his entire career. And, with his first day's score, it seemed certain to be out of reach another time.

OUT OF TROUBLE—Ed Furgol, defending champion, blasts out of a sandtrap onto the 2nd green during the 1st round of the U. S. Open over the Olympic Club Lake course at San Francisco Thursday. He took a bogie 5 on the hole and was 6-over par at 76 for the 1st round.

Beats 'Boudreau Shift'

Williams Hikes Batting Average to .415, Makes Bosox Hottest 9 in Junior Loop

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams, the irrepressible kid despite his 36 years, has fired the Boston Red Sox into the hottest American League club with his .415 batting average—and display of hustle.

* * *

Williams got three of the eight hits off Kansas City pitchers yesterday including a 450-foot home run in Boston's 7-6 victory. It was the eighth win in nine games for the Sox.

"That's just the level of hitter Ted is," commented Manager Mike Higgins after the game when informed Williams has boosted his average to .415.

* * *

In the fifth inning Williams tied the score 2-2 with his sixth home run of the season, a towering drive that hit 15 rows up in the right field bleachers beyond the Boston bullpen. His single to right in the third put Billy Goodman in position to score from third on an error.

With the Sox down 6-2 in the eighth, Williams got a rally going by reaching out to punch a single to left against the famed shift and the man who invented it—A's pilot Lou Boudreau.

* * *

Williams, who had faked a bunt twice the previous day against Ray Herbert before singling, dropped one down the line on the first pitch but it rolled fou. With the count 2-2 Boudreau sent third baseman Jim Finigan from shortstop to a position behind second and Ted promptly curved a hit into the vacated spot.

"It was a changeup I hit to left field," Williams said afterward.

"It's up to Ted whether he tries to hit to left or not," Higgins replied to a question. "He knows what he's doing. He always plays to win."

Cooper Paces State Entries in U.S. Open

Knollwood Pro Cards 75; Harbert Is at 75, Burkemo at 82

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Pete Cooper of Knollwood Country Club topped the 7-man Michigan contingent in the U. S. Open golf tournament after first round play today with his tie for 7th place.

Cooper and eight other golfers shot first round totals of 75 yesterday to trail leader Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn., by eight strokes.

Three other Michigan golfers were among the 19 entrants tied for 9th with totals of 77. Joe Thacker of Knollwood shot a 40-37, Chick Harbert of Meadowbrook carded a 37-40 and Max Evans of Utica wound up with a 40-37.

Behind them were Walter Burkemo of Franklin Hills, with a tie for 14th with eight others on his 41-41 — 82, Larry Tomasino of Grosse Pointe, tied for 16th with 11 others with a 39-45—84, and Fred Challen of Birmingham, tied for 19th with John Hoetmer of Seattle at 43-46—89.

PACESETTER —Tommy Bolt, the colorful southerner, who is equally well-known for great golf rounds and flying clubs, is the 1st day leader in the National Open golf tournament at San Francisco. Broncos Edged by Deacons in NCAA Final

Wake Forest Comes From Behind to Win Baseball Series

OMAHA, Neb. (UP)—Wake Forest from the baseball-minded state of North Carolina reigned as champion of the college baseball world today.

The Deacons came from behind to defeat Western Michigan 7-6 last night in the final of the NCAA college World Series.

Catchers played an important part in the final contest.

Lin Holt, Wake Forest's ace receiver, singled home Luke McKeel in the 8th inning for the winning run. McKeel had walked and moved around to third on a pair of passed balls by Western Michigan catcher Fritz Messner.

Wake Forest jumped to a 3-0 lead only to see the Broncos push across three runs in each of the 3rd and 4th innings to grab an edge.

But the Southern nine tied it with its own three-run cluster in the 6th and set the stage for Holt's heroics.

Meanwhile, newsmen covering the tournament named Tom Borland, Oklahoma A and M senior southpaw, as the outstanding player of the series.

Borland won two games for the Aggies and saved another in relief to run his season record to 11 wins and no losses.

U.S. May Get Winter Games

Even Russians Favor Holding '60 Olympics in California

PARIS (UP) — Squaw Valley, a little-known resort along the crest of California's Sierra Nevada range, even had the Russians on its side today as it sought the 1960 Winter Olympic Games.

The United States lost out in its bid for the 1960 summer games yesterday when Rome was chosen over Detroit, but most delegates reportedly were ready to pick Squaw Valley over three Alpine sites for the winter games.

Representatives from Innsbruck, Austria; St. Moritz, Switzerland, and Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, also placed bids before the International Olympic Committee.

However, even the Russians seemed to favor an American site for the winter games.

"It seems the simple and healthy atmosphere of Squaw Valley will guarantee that the winter games are held in true Olympic spirit," said Constantin Adrianov, head of the Russian delegation.

Adrianov stressed the words "simple and healthy" in an obvious rebuke of the plush, deluxe atmosphere of St. Moritz and other Alpine resorts.

Argonauts Confident Ex-Lions Are Theirs

TORONTO (UP) — The Toronto Argonauts were confident today they would retain quarterback Tom Dublinski and lineman Gil Mains following the dismissal of an application by the Detroit Lions for an interlocutory injunction.

The Lions filed a breach of contract suit after Dublinski and Mains signed with the Argonauts last winter. The two players had played the 1954 season with Detroit of the National Football League and their 1954 contracts contained options on their 1955 services.

The Detroit club sought a temporary injunction to keep the two from playing with the Argonauts until the suit is heard.

Morse Tosses No-Hitter for Jewelers' Nine

'Mutt' Blanks Ashland, 3-0; Elks, Stadium Inn, NS Service Win

Clell (Mutt) Morse hurled a no-hit, no-run game Thursday night at Northside Park as Shaw's Jewelers blanked Ashland Flying Octane, 3-0.

Morse' achievement was the highlight among three well-pitched contests in men's city league softball.

Only two batters reached base off the offerings of Morse, one by a pass in the 4th inning, the other by being hit with a pitched ball in the 2nd. The Shaw's twirler struck out 11 and officially pitched to just 21 men, par for the course.

Clarence Beers pitched creditably for the losers, but was overshadowed by Morse. Beers permitted only two singles, struck out two, and did not walk a man. Both of Shaw's safeties came in the 3rd stanza when two runs scored.

Elks club came from behind to edge Riteway Softwater, 2-1, in extra innings, at Beaudette. The winners knotted the count with a single run on two hits in the 7th, then capitalized on two errors to score the winning run in the 8th. The Elks' Al Emsley outduled Cal Atwood, each allowing four hits.

In the nightcap at Beaudette, Verle Sheldon turned in a three-hit chore as his Stadium Inn mates shut out the Knights of Columbus, 5-0. Sheldon had flawless control and struck out 12 batters.

Northside Service scored four times in the 1st inning to defeat Chuck & Louie's Market, 5-3, in last night's opener at Northside. Maurice Stack clouted a two-run homer in the initial frame.

Orioles Sign Wisniewski

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Marv Wisniewski, who compiled a 21-8 pitching record with the University of Michigan over a three-year span, has been signed to a professional baseball contract by the Baltimore Orioles. The 20-year-old lefthander accepted a $4,000 bonus and assignment to San Antonio of the AA Texas League.

Lions Complete Deal for Quarterback Harry Gilmer

DETROIT (UP) — Coach Buddy Parker said today there were "several reasons" why the Detroit Lions traded two rookies and an undisclosed sum of cash to the Washington Redskins for former Alabama ace Harry Gilmer.

The Lions announced yesterday that they traded Bert Zagers, their 7th choice from Michigan State in last winter's draft, and Bob Trout, an end from Baylor who was drafted in 1952 but has been in service since then, for Gilmer.

The two-time members of the Pro Bowl squad would serve as "insurance" for Lion quarterback Bobby Layne first of all, Parker said. The Lions needed someone to replace Layne if he should get injured because Tom Dublinski, former sub Lion quarterback signed with the Toronto Argonauts this year.

Parker said the Lions probably would also use Gilmer as a defensive halfback.

He said the Lions were forced to use offensive backs in key defensive roles last year but he hoped to use Gilmer as a 5th defensive back this year.

While they were arranging the trade for Gilmer, Redskins officials returned to Detroit the rights to Jim Hill, defensive halfback, who Detroit traded to the Redskins earlier.

It has been rumored that Hill would jump to the Canadian League next season.

Hill was sent to Washington during a winter trade along with Lion center Lavern Torgeson. The Lions obtained Jim Ricca, a middle guard, and former Kentucky end Walt Yaworksy in the trade.

Gilmer, an ace passer who was Washington's first draft choice in 1948, has been hobbled by injuries throughout his pro career. Last season he was used as a defensive halfback when he wasn't injured.

Mile, 880, 440 Are Featured in NCAA Test at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (INS)—The University of Southern California is heavily favored to take its 7th straight championship today as America's premier track meet, the NCAA trials, opens at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

USC, which has won more NCAA championships than any other college in the nation, will compete with 90 other universities for qualifying trials today and finals tomorrow. Other schools which are figured to be high in the running are UCLA, Michigan, Kansas, Illinois and Penn State.

The feature of the two-day meet is the mile race which will pit UCLA's sensation, Bobby Seaman, against NCAA champion Bill Dellinger of Oregon and Billy Tidwell from Emporia State, Kansas.

Seaman, after losing to Dellinger, ran the mile a week later in 4:01.4 while trailing Wes Santee by a step.

Another race of interest will be the 880 in which Arnie Sowell of Pittsburgh and Tom Courtney of Fordham engage in a rematch of their stormy race last month at the Coliseum Relays.

In that race Courtney finished first but was disqualified for cutting in on Sowell.

The 440 is expected to develop into stiff competition between J. W. Mashburn of Oklahoma A & M, Kevin Gosper of Michigan State and UCLA's Russ Ellis.

9th Inning Miseries Still Plague Bengals

BALTIMORE (AP)—As the Detroit Tigers prepared to meet Baltimore tonight (in what they hope will be a nice, quiet game), they had one slender consolation: They won't have to play in Yankee Stadium again until Aug. 5.

But even that probably will be too soon for manager Bucky Harris' Bengals, who have played the world's greatest eight - inning games in the New York ball yard this season—only to fall flat on their faces in the ninth inning.

The Tigers have won only one game in Yankee Stadium this season. That's bad. They have lost four there, blowing three of them with a 9th-inning collapse. That's worse.

Yesterday rookie Frank Lary of the Tigers breezed into the bottom of the 9th with a 2-0 lead. The strong-armed righthander had allowed only five hits and seemed on his way to his 1st big league shutout.

But teammates Billy Hoeft and Al Aber should have warned him about the 9th.

Back on May 14, Hoeft blew an apparent victory to the Yanks when the New Yorkers pushed across three runs in the 9th inning. And last Tuesday, Aber made a throwing error which enabled the Yanks to tie the game in the 9th, and give them the opportunity to win it in the 10th.

Elston Howard wrecked Hoeft last month with a 9th-inning triple. It was the same Howard who brought Lary's downfall, smacking a clean single to center in the 9th to climax a three-run outburst and give the Yankees a 3-2 win.

But it wasn't only Howard's hit which kept the 9th-inning "jinx" going.

With one away in the 9th, Lary walked Mickey Mantle — and Yogi Berra hit the next pitch for his 12th home run to tie the score, 2-2.

The homer, by the way, was a Yankee Stadium "cheapie" — barely fair and just clearing the wall in right, a mere 300 feet away.

That must have rattled Lary. Irv Noren followed with a single, Eddie Robinson was hit by a pitched ball and pinchhitter Joe Collins walked — and the bases were full. Howard then delivered his game-winner.

It was a crushing defeat for the Tigers, who, with a break here and there, conceivably could have swept the three-game series with the Yankees.

Instead, they limped into Baltimore with a 1-2 record to start their long, testing 23-game road trip—one which may make or break their first division aspirations.

Steve Gromek, the sore-backed veteran, was slated to pitch for Detroit against Baltimore tonight. Don Johnson was scheduled to oppose him.

Sox Purchase of Busby Makes Fast Outfield

NEW YORK (AP)—When the Chicago White Sox purchased Jim Busby from Washington they provided the missing link for the fastest outfield in baseball — on the basepaths anyway. The fleet-footed trio of Busby, Jim Rivera and Minoso have combined to steal 22 bases, tops for any outfield combination in the majors.

Busby's steal last night against his old mates gave him six for the season, putting him right behind his outfield partners in the American League race. Minoso and Rivera lead the league with eight steals each.

Berg Holds Big Lead in Tourney

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (INS)—Patty Berg, freckle-faced veteran from St. Andrews, Ill., held a comfortable 18-point lead today with two rounds to play in the Triangle Round Robin golf tournament.

Patty, the leader since the opening day, shot a third-round par 72 yesterday to ballon her point total in the complicated round-robin scoring pattern to plus 47. Runner-up Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., shot a 75 for a plus-29 total.

Carol Bowman of Oakland, Cal., an analytical chemist when she isn't golfing, equalled the course record with a 71, picking up 20 points, but she still was in eighth place wth a minus-2 tally sheet.

Drug 9 Slips Into Township Loop Lead

In the other game, Day's Sanitary Service drubbed Gidley Electric, 7-1.

Drug trailed the Sylvan club 3-2 going into the 5th, but came up with the winning 2-run rally on Stu Hutchinson's single, a triple by Jerry Hesse and Lynn Wyckoff's double. Bill Goulet hurled 1-hit relief pitching for 4 innings and got the win.

Day's tallied single runs in the 4th and 5th and put the contest with Gidley's away in the 6th with 3 runs. Roy Cummings had a double and 2 singles for the winners, who got 2-hit pitching from Al Webster.

GMC Beats Jets on Big Inning

Anderson 9's 4-0 Lead Goes Out the Window in Class A Tilt

General Motors exploded for five runs in the last half of the 6th inning to chalk up a 5-4 victory over the L. C. Anderson Jets in Class A city league baseball Thursday night at Wisner Field.

It was a heartbreaking loss for the Jets, who seemed to have the game in the bag until GMC's big rally. The Jets had tallied three runs on four hits in the 3rd frame and two safeties in the 5th had pushed across one more to give them a 4-0 advantage.

In the Coachers big 6th, a walk, two singles, and a pair of doubles, plus an error, did all the damage. Vernon Rains was chased from the hill in the inning, Jim Williams taking over. Rains was the losing pitcher.

Dick Goldsworthy started on the mound for the Coach club, but gave way to Herman Bishop during Anderson's three-run 3rd stanza. Bishop took credit for the win.

Old-Timers Dickson, Trucks, Byrne Show Younger Major Leaguers Up; Sox Stay on Heels of Yankees

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some of the old pappy guys got together and really showed the crewcut class in major league baseball a few tricks of the trade Thursday.

There were Murry Dickson (38), Virgil Trucks (36) and Tommy Byrne (35) to name a few. Those figures aren't uniform numbers, either. That's the number of years the gents have tucked away.

* * *

Byrne did the real bang-up job, stopping the still-wet-behind-the-ears Detroit Tigers 3-2 on four hits and becoming the first pitcher to go all the way for the American League leading New York Yankees since June 1.

* * *

Trucks kept the Chicago White Sox within two games of the Yanks with his second straight shutout and fifth straight victory, a six-hit job that beat Baltimore 8-0.

And Dickson, who has led or tied for the most-games-lost title in the National League for the past three seasons, squared his mark at 4-4 by whittling down the Milwaukee Braves on four hits as the Philadelphia Phillies won 3-0.

* * *

At the same time, Warren Hacker, a young sprat of 30, cut off a Chicago Cub losing streak at three games by stopping the New York Giants 2-1 on five hits. That pulled the Bruins to within 10½ games of National League leading Brooklyn as Cincinnati topped the Dodgers a second straight time, 6-5, in 10 innings.

St. Louis made it two straight by beating Pittsburgh 5-0.

* * *

The other American League games wound up with Cleveland holding off Washington 8-5 and Boston overhauling Kansas City in the ninth 7-6.

* * *

Trucks, who has won seven, breezed in as Baltimore suffered its 11th shutout of the season and fourth in five games. Loser Duane Pillette and Joe Coleman gave up 15 hits—three each by George Kell, who drove in four runs, Nellie Fox and Walt Dropo. Fox now has hit in 12 straight games.

Dickson didn't fool with the Braves, who got only one man as far as second base. The little righthander walked just two and doubled to score the Phils' second run off loser Bob Buhl.

* * *

Brooklyn's 15th defeat came on Ted Kluszewski's two-out homer—his second of the game—off reliefer Jim Hughes, who had just retired 14 in a row.

Washington had 12 hits, but Cleveland smacked 15 as Bob Lemon won his ninth with Mike Garcia's help in the last inning.

Boston warmed up for a four-game set with Cleveland by winning its eighth in nine games on Billy Klaus' two-run homer in the ninth. It came off reliefer Johnny Sain, an old guy who missed.

Anglers Set for Bass

LANSING (UP) — Thousands of fishermen will turn out at Michigan lakes Saturday for the opening of the 1955 bass season.

The plucky bass is the last major game fish to be removed from the closed list in the state because they are a "warm-water" fish and spawn later than most of Michigan's other game fish.

The popularity of bass among fishing enthusiasts is surpassed only by trout, which attract about 150,000 fishermen on opening day. An accurate tally of bass fishermen is impossible because no special permit is issued in addition to the regular state fishing license.

Both largemouth and smallmouth black bass are common in the Lower Peninsula while Upper Peninsula lakes hmave a large proportion of the smallmouth variety.

Legal size for bass is 10 inches and is attained in three or four year old fish, according to state conservation department workers.

The largemouth bass is commonly found in shallow, weedy and mud-bottom lakes and in quiet rivers. The smallmouth variety is most abundant in larger lakes with gravel or boulder bottoms, in larger non-trout rivers, and along rocky shores of the great lakes.

Casting plugs, spinners and live bait in lily pads and weedy areas of lakes is the usual method for taking the largemouth, which usually run from two to five pounds.

Smallmouths also are taken this way or by trolling with spinners and live bait in moderately deep water. Good catches of both species are often made in the late evening or at night.

Conservation department fish experts said the number of opening-day bass fishermen will depend upon weather conditions but they look for a large turnout.

Jones Picked Over Ernie Durando in Garden Finale

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N. Y. and Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N. J. top the final Friday night show of the Madison Square Garden season tonight with Jones a 12 to 5 favorite.

The network radio and television (NBC) fans who tune in for the 10-round match at 9 p.m. (EST) will recognize Jones readily for he's a once-a-month attraction on the magic lantern. Durando, once a regular, hasn't been seen since he lost to Kid Gavilan, Feb. 4.

* * *

Win or lose, Jones always seems to satisfy the customers. So far this year he has won two and lost two. The biggest night of his career was Jan. 19 when he upset the once-mighty Sugar Ray Robinson at Chicago. Then he went 10 tough rounds with middleweight Champ Bobo Olson but lost the decision. He knocked out George Johnson and was beaten by Eduardo Lausse, the Argentine, although many thought Jones deserved at least a draw.

Jones and Durando have one one thing in common—both are inconsistent.

City JC Golf Test Monday

'54 Qualifiers Sumner, Morriss, Green Return for Junior Meet

Annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Junior golf tournament will be held Monday at the Pontiac Country Club. Tee-off time is 8:30 a.m. The five low scorers in the 18-hole medal play tourney qualify for the state JCC tournament July 18-19 at Walnut Hills in Lansing.

Any male amateur golfer, who does not reach 18 years of age by August 15, 1955, is qualified.

Of the five players who qualified for the state tourney from Pontiac last year, three are back again — Pete Green of Franklin Hills, Jack Morriss of Pontiac, and Warren Sumner of Birmingham.

Among this year's entries are Tom Cross and Truman Hammett of Pontiac High School's golf team the past season, Bob Hess, Terry Kelly, Ken Davis, and brothers Jim and Larry Hollister, all caddies at Orchard Lake Country Club, and Norm Dierkes of Walled Lake.

Entry blanks may be obtained at Pontiac, Waterford and Birmingham high schools, in addition to the following golf courses: Pontiac Municipal, Pontiac Country Club, Pine Lake, Orchard Lake, Tam O'Shanter, Knollwood, North Hills, Oakland Hills, Birmingham CC, Bloomfield Hills, and Forest Lake.

Syron Wins Frosh Golf Award at ND

Lloyd Syron of Pontiac was among 129 men receiving awards for participation in spring sports at Notre Dame University.

Syron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Syron of Pontiac Country Club, won freshman numerals in golf with the Irish frosh. He just completed his 1st year at the South Bend institution.

The freshman team, which also includes Joe Grace, Jr., of Detroit Golf Club, didn't lose to the Irish varsity all season. Syron was medalist in several meets and his summer tournament plans include the Western Junior at Washington and qualifying attempts for the Michigan Open and Amateur and the National Amateur.

Romans Cheer at News About 1960 Olympics

ROME (AP)—State officials and all sports-loving Romans cheered the news that their city was selected yesterday as the site for the 1960 summer Olympic Games.

Premier Mario Sceiba cabled his "profound, lively gratitude" to Avery Brundage, American President of the International Olympic Committee at Paris.

"Now we must go to work with fervor and tenacity to prepare seriously in all sectors for the games," said Italy's minister of spectacle, sport and tourism, Giovanni Ponti.

Red Run Team's 68 Sets Pace at Pine Lake

Match Play Opening Today in 6th Annual Scotch Tourney

By JACK SAYLOR

Tom Draper and Perry Byard, a pair of time-tested Detroit District golf veterans, showed the way into the match play phase of the 6th annual Pine Lake Invitational Golf tournament today.

Draper, former state amateur champion, and Byard collaborated on a 68, lowest qualifying round in the 5-year history of the scotch alternate shot event to grab medalist honors and set themselves up as early favorites to win the tourney.

The Draper-Byard team got the championship flight into action this morning at 10 o'clock when they teed off against Bob Fife of Bloomfield Hills Country Club and Bob Muzzy of Pine Lake, who qualified at 74.

Two other teams broke par for the 6,660-yard, par-72 layout. They were Dick Wibel of Bloomfield and Art Olfs of Lansing, who top the lower bracket of the 16-team flight with 70, and Bob Babbish and Bill O'Brien.

Babbish, of Detroit Golf Club, and O'Brien, of Oakland Hills, registered a 71.

Among the championship flight casualties were the 1954 runnersup Bill Nettle, Pine Lake champion, and Bill Pettibone. They slipped to the 1st flight. Defending champion Tony Skover and partner Bob Whiting were safely in the fold with a 73.

Skover won a year ago with Dick Whiting, but Dick is unable to play this year and so his brother is teaming with the Meadowbrook star.

The Skover-Whiting team is in the upper bracket, along with Draper-Byard and Babbish-O'Brien combines, making it probably the tougher half of the draw.

However, the lower half is by no means a soft touch. Along with Wibel and Olfs, the teams battling towards Sunday's finals include Tom Sheehan of Oakland Hills and Bud Gould of Detroit Golf, who qualified at 74. Mace Brown and Carl Sielaff of Plum Hollow at 73, and John Watson and John Griffin of Lansing at 73.

Two teams that could well be "sleepers" in the lower bracket include Chuck Livingston of Pine Lake and public links star Roy Iceberg of Edgewood Golf Club, and the Twin Beach team of Dick Vershure and Max Richardson.

The Livingston-Iceberg tandem got under the wire at 75, but Richardson and Vershure had to survive a "sudden-death" playoff after tying at 76 with Bib Zinn and Ray West.

After the 2 teams had parred the 1st hole, Richardson supplied a dramatic finish to the day's qualifying by knocking a near-perfect 7-iron shot 4 inches from the pin on the 175-yard 2nd hole to gain the final spot in the top flight.

Today's winners will qualify for Saturday's quarter-finals. Semi-finals are Sunday morning and the title round Sunday afternoon. Action also is under way in 6 other flights in the selective drive, alternate shot affair.

Here are today's pairings, with qualifying scores:

UPPER BRACKET: 10 a.m.—Tom Draper-Perry Byard vs Bob Fife-Bob Muzzy. 10:05—Tony Skover-Bob Whiting vs Harry Latos-Leonard Latos. 10:10—Bob Babbish-Bill O'Brien vs Wally Ivers-Clem Jensen. 10:15—Goven Hill-Dick Robertson vs Harry Nederlander-Art Thorner.

LOWER BRACKET: 10:25 — Dick Wibel-Art Olfs vs George Linklater-Doug Williams. 10:30—John Watson-John Griffin vs Seymour Winokur-Herb Segal. 10:35—Mace Brown-Carl Sielaff vs Chuck Livingston-Roy Iceberg. 10:40—Tom Sheehan-Bud Gould vs Dick Vershure-Max Richardson.

Patton Favored in Dixie Amateur

LINVILLE, N.C. (AP)—A group of upstarts who wiped out most of the big names in the Southern Amateur golf tournament and in turn were upset, left Walker Cup player Billy Joe Patton of nearby Morganton as the man to beat for the Southern Golf Assn. Amateur championship as it moved into quarter and semifinal rounds today.

* * *

Patton, 33-year-old lumberman who reached the British Amateur quarter-finals two weeks ago, was paired against Curtis Person, Memphis, Tenn., veteran in one lower bracket morning match. The other sent Mason Rudolph, former U.S. Golf Assn. National Junior champion from Clarksville, Tenn., against Sonny Ellis of Atlanta.

In the upper bracket an all-Georgia match paired Charles Harrison of Atlanta against Doug Sanders of Cedartown, 1951 winner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce National championship.

Finals, set for 36 holes, will be played tomorrow.

'Miss Gay-Day' Contest Starts Sunday Night

Hardtop races are scheduled Sunday evening at Gay-Day Speedway with time trials at 5:30 p.m. and the 1st race at 7 o'clock.

Nine events are on the program with Chuck Partello seeking his 3rd feature event victory of the season. Among the challengers are rusty Kelly, Butch Marshall, Bennie Howell, Len McAbe, Joy Doyle, Dorris Sanders and Kenny Schon, who turned in a new 1-lap qualifying record Wednesday night.

The Miss Gay-Day Contest will get started with any unmarried Pontiac-area girl eligible. Judges will select 5 finalists, from which the fans will select the winner, who receives a trophy and other prizes.

A benefit race for Tom Taylor, starter who was recently injured at the track, will be held Sunday, June 26.

Driver Still Critical After 500 Accident

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Cal Niday, race driver who hit the wall at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in the 500-mile race May 30, was still in critical condition at Methodist Hospital last night.

Niday, 39-year-old resident of Pacoima, Calif., was severely burned and suffered fractures of the skull, collarbone and several ribs. His car caught fire after hitting the wall on the Northwest turn.

The hospital reported that Niday's condition still was not good enough for skin grafting but that he might undergo chest surgery next week.

Sox Retire Agganis, Reinstate Bolling

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox have put ailing first baseman Harry Agganis on the voluntary retired list and reinstated shortstop Milt Bolling to the active list.

The move on Agganis, which carries a 60-day minimum, followed a doctor's report that his second case of pneumonia in less than a month may keep him out of action from six weeks to two months. He is hospitalized in Cambridge.

Harry had hit at a .313 clip in the 25 games in which he played.

Bolling returns to the roster for the first time since the season started. He injured an elbow in spring training.

City Best-Ball Test Saturday at Municipal

Defending Champs Out, Andonian-Wasik Rated Top Threat

A total of 27 teams to date have registered for the men's best ball golf tournament Saturday at Pontiac's Municipal Golf Course. Starting time is 12 noon.

Several strong teams are entered in the tourney. Rated as contenders for the crown won last year by Max Richardson and Dick Vershure is the team of Ed Wasik and Mike Andonian, the latter a member of 1954's runnerup team.

Other title threats include Paul Bada and George Hammett, Ronald Rothbarth and Clayton Wideman, and the Butler Cooper-Ed Gorom duo.

The Richardson-Vershure tandem is not defending its championship. They qualified Thursday for competition in the championship flight of the Pine Lake Invitational tournament.

Post entries are being accepted for the event, which is sponsored by the Pontiac department of parks and recreation.

Offers Safety Rules

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Coast Guard offers these safety tips for fisherman: Before you depart tell someone where you will fish and what time you will return. Make sure your boat contains an approved life preserver for each person on board, an adequate fire extinguisher, oars and a bailing device.

Entry List Is Expected to Hit 60 Hydroplanes

Competition in Five Classes Sunday Over Sylvan Lake Course

Stage is set for the Oakland County Boat Club's 39th annual Power Boat Regatta Saturday and Sunday at Sylvan Lake. The Regatta is sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association.

Nationally-known drivers are expected to bid for trophies and prizes Sunday afternoon, piloting some of this country's speediest boats. Starting time for Sunday's races is 1:30 p.m.

Upwards of 60 hydros are expected Sunday, according to Ward Richards, who is in charge of registrations. Many last-minute entries are anticipated, Richards said.

Hydro power boats will vie for honors in five classes. Competition in the double heats will be in divisions of 48, 135, 136, 225, and 266 cubic inches.

Among the entrants are Alex Eberhardt of Rock Falls, Illinois, and Sam Guarino of Detroit, in the 266 division, and George F. English of Detroit and Dearborn's veteran Harry Vogel, driving 135's.

Saturday's races are for OCBC members only, with the MacDonald, Kalbfleisch, Widrig, and Hickson club trophies at stake, as well as the club outboards free-for-all. All events are two heats and will begin at 1 p.m. The public is invited.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams is expected to put in an appearance at Sunday's program, Stan Roat, Oakland County Boat Club publicity chairman, reports.

Downtown Pontiac will be the scene of a parade Saturday at 11 a.m., exhibiting the various kinds of craft that will participate in the Regatta. The Regatta Ball will be held in the clubhouse Saturday night at 9 p.m.

Doug Leversha and Kevin Marchant, from Melbourne, Australia, will give a water-skiing show Sunday, including some barefoot skiing.

Outstanding water skiers in the Oakland County area will also perform. Art Hickson is the Regatta chairman.

Olympic Prospects to Ride in Show at BOH

Four top prospects for the 1956 U. S. Olympic team, and their famous horses, will take part in the Detroit Horse Show next week at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

Already tested in international competition at the gruelling Pan American games held in Mexico this spring, the four riders will lend a decidedly Olympic flavor to the Detroit competition, largest outdoor horse show in the United States, according to Irving A. Duffy, show chairman.

The four riders, all members of the U. S. Equestrian Team are: J. E. B. Wofford of Milford, Kansas; Charles Dennehy of Lake Forest, Illinois; Frank Duffy of Bloomfield Hills, and Major Robert J. Borg of Dalles, Oregon.

Wofford is a 24-year-old veteran of the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki. He placed second in the rough three-day trials for the Equestrian Team at Nashville in 1954. He won the preliminary competition for the team in 1951, again qualifying in 1953. Wofford will bring his Olympic horses Reno Kirk, Rattler and Hollandia to the Detroit show. Hollandia competed at the 1952 Olympics.

Dennehy, 23, will bring five top horses—Fortune Hunter, Ricochet, Black Watch, Alt Meister and Potato Chips—to the Detroit show. Dennehy won the Junior Hunter Class championship last year with Potato Chips at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

The youngest Equestrian Team member, 18-year-old Frank Duffy, will be on hand also for the Detroit show.

Major Borg will act as a judge at this year's Detroit show. He is the lone Equestrian Team member in the Dressage Division, and plans to give exhibitions of this intricate field of horsemanship at the show. Dressage is a "school ride" designed to show obedience, balance, suppleness and the perfect lightness of the horse.

Hardtop, 'Bike' Program Slated

Racing 'Twin Bill' Is Scheduled for Sunday at Pontiac Speedway

A "double header" racing program is scheduled for the Pontiac Speedway Sunday.

The track's regular hardtop show, which starts at 7 p. m., will be preceded in the afternoon by a program of motorcycle races, sponsored by the Thunderbird Motorcycle Club of Detroit, and sanctioned by the American Motorcycle Association.

Since last Sunday's hardtop show was rained out, four drivers still are seeking their 2nd feature victories of the season in the Speedway's 25-lap feature attraction. Winners thus far have been Mickey Katlin, Jack Conely, Bill Kourt and Ron Duman.

Others in the field bidding for points towards the NASCAR state circuit and also the local track championships are Pontiac's Joy Fair, Gene Lock, Felix Brooks and others.

In the most recent hardtop feature at Motor City Speedway, Katlin was the winner with Fair running 3rd.

Jerry Bradfield of Detroit, who won last year's Thunderbird motorcycle show at this track, heads the field for the 9-event "bike" program. Trials are at 12:30 p. m. with races at 2 o'clock.

Hardtop qualifying starts at 5:30 p. m. with the 1st race at 7.

Brooklyn Dodger first baseman Frank Kellert began his athletic career as a basketball player. He won a scholarship in that sport to Oklahoma A & M in 1943.

Waterford JC Links Test Is Slated June 27

Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its 2nd annual junior golf tournament Monday, June 27, at Pontiac Country Club.

The five low scorers in the 18-hole medal play affair will receive trophies and qualify to compete in the state Jaycee tourney at Lansing. Golfers competing in any other JCC-sponsored tourney are ineligiblee for this event.

A banquet will follow the tourney at Decker's Cafeteria in Drayton Plains. Chairman of the event is Frank Richardson, assisted by Don Arsen.

Information concerning entries may be had by calling Richardson at MA 5-6481, or FE 2-0141 or Arsen at O R3-7206. Post entries will be accepted.

Darrell Floyd, All-America basketball player at Furman University last season, was named the athlete of the year in the Southern Conference.

Williams Seniors Given Special Fare

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (UP) — Each of 100 seniors who eat at the Williams College dining hall has one gourmet meal during the year. Sydner M. Chisholm director of dining halls started the program with the cooperation of chef Ugo Schiagga and baker William Pratt.

Each Wednesday there is a special table for eight. Such things as baba au rhum, oysters on the half shell, frog legs Provencal, baked boneless squab stuffed with wild rice, bisque tortonia and crepe suzettes are some of the items that have been served.

Chisholm says studies and appetites fall off during the year and the special meals are a stimulant for students. No extra charge is made and the idea has proved popular.

Grains Steady; Rye Still Weak

CHICAGO (AP) — There was a lack of follow-through today on the wave of selling which swept the Board of Trade in the preceding session.

Most grains held to steady levels, while soybeans and lard moved slightly higher. Rye again was weak.

Toward the end of the first hour wheat was ¼ higher to ⅝ lower, July $1.99¼; corn was ¼ to ⅜ higher, July $1.42¾; oats were ⅛ to ¼ up, July 66½, and rye was ¾ to 1⅛ lower, July $1.03¼. Soybeans were unchanged to 1¼ cents higher, July $2.43 and lard was 3 to 8 cents a hundredweight higher,

Wet weather continued a strong influence in wheat news. In the Southwest there was more rain. Additional reports of severe lodging and shattering are reaching the trade.

And fears are now being expressed that much of the new grain will be too wet to store.

U.S. Signboards Lend an Exotic Aura to Asia

By EARL WILSON

ISTANBUL—"Well, dear," I said to Mrs. W., "shall we dine tonight in Europe or Asia?"

★ ★ ★ ★

"Thanks, dollbaby," she answered, "but I think I'll just stay in the room and have a little turkey—get it?—sandwich."

Nevertheless, it was a hunk of a geography lesson for us Middle-Westerners to sit on a terrace on the European side in old Constantinople, gazing across the Bosporus at Scutari on the Asiatic side.

SUSAN

"Except for the mosques, it's like going over to Staten Island or Hoboken or Palisades," remarked J. P. McEvoy, the Readers Digest man.

So we boarded a ferry to go over to Asia . . . and were struck by the exotic foreign flavor . . . for example, the Goodyear, General Electric and International Harvester signs . . . also a famous Turkish soap being endorsed on a signboard by that foreign movie star, Susan Hayward of Brooklyn.

Down in the "covered bazaar," they have 500 jewelry shops, but Mrs. W. only had time to get to 400 of them.

Here's a wedding band for only $4,000," she remarked. "Since the wedding ring you got me almost 20 years ago cost $8, what do you say?"

"How could you think of parting with anything that means so much to me sentimentally?" I asked her.

★ ★ ★ ★

"Mustapha"—she indicated the salesman—"says this ring is a 'palace piece'."

"For four G's we should get the whole palace," I said, proving I knew my Joe Miller.

"He also has some magic jewelry."

"Sure. Turns green after you buy it."

I'd like to compliment the Turks on their hospitality. We must seem strange, coming from so far away. The guidebook says the breeze across this terrace may be coming from the Siberian steppes.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Eddie Fisher flew to Los Angeles Saturday with his manager, Milton Blackstone. (He received an interfaith award in Baltimore.) . . . Robert Montgomery's daughter, Elizabeth, left for Las Vegas Thursday to make the marital split legal.

London's hot again that Princess Margaret will very soon announce her engagement to Billy Wallace.

Magda Gabor flew to Chicago Sunday on the plane carrying the Cubs baseball team. Peggy King makes her local cafe debut at Monte Proser's La Vie June 29. . . . Barbara Wilkins, of the play "Seven Year Itch," was crowned Queen of N.Y.'s Summer Festival.

Maestro Nat Brandywine will teach Tyrone Power to play the piano for "The Eddie Duchin Story" . . . Alexis Smith and Craig Stevens got the West Coast leads in "Plain and Fancy."

BARBARA

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Most people aren't particular how you treat them," notes Tony Pettito, "—just as long as you do." . . . That's earl, brother.

The association, in cooperation with the Saginaw Valley Law Enforcement Officers Assn., will furnish each office with copies of the "Water Wonderland" folder commodation map. The distribution was begun last year.

Agadir, Morocco, has a golf course frequented by goats that sometimes mistake golf balls for food, says the National Geographic Society. Any ball swallowed by a goat can be replaced without loss of stroke or distance.

Scouts Start Long Hike

KENEDY, Tex. (AP) — Two dozen Kenedy Boy Scouts, yesterday started what they call the longest scout hike ever tried in Texas—160 miles to Indian Creek Camp near Kerrville, in the Texas hill country. They made it to Fashing, 20 miles southwest of here, the first day. They are carrying all equipment and food on their backs. A scoutmaster is going along—walking too.

Writers Making Music to Teach

Believe Anything Can Be Taught With Song, Entertainment-wise

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (INS)—Up at the top of most of the hit song charts these days there's a haunting item called "Unchained Melody." It was written by Alex North and Hy Zaret, and Zaret is pretty proud of his lyrics which start, "Oh, my love, my darling."

But at the moment, he's even prouder of another set of lyrics. These go like so:

"Ring! Ring! Oh, ring the bell!
"Ring the bell for mental health!
"Ring! Ring—'til all are well—
"Ring the bell for mental health!"

That isn't on any hit song chart, or disc jockey show, or juke box. But you may have heard it on radio, part of a mental health campaign which is unique in its use of "singing commercials." Zaret and Lou Singer wrote eight such numbers, which are being offered to any radio station by the National Association for Mental Health and the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co.

Besides "Ring the Bell for Mental Health," there are "Mental Health Toast," "Facts and Figures," "How's Your Mental Health?" and four others, recorded by singing stars Bill ("Davy Corckett") Hayes, Eddy Arnold, Sally Sweetland, Betty Johnson and The Toppers.

For Zaret and Singer, this type of public service creation is nothing new. Even though Zaret, a short, crew-cut ex-lawyer, has written such hits as "Unchained," "My Sister and I," "One Meat Ball" and "It All Comes Back to Me Now," he prefers operating in the field of educational and public service songs. In fact, "Unchained" is the only pop song he's written in a year.

"Over the past ten years," he says, "I've devoted perhaps 15 per cent of my time to pop music. The rest—85 per cent—to the other stuff."

Which is unique in music, because this "Other stuff" isn't particularly money-making. Zaret says he could make much more money operating solely in the June-Moon end of music. "But I honestly get more creative satisfaction out of writing public service music," he says.

And you can't buy creative satisfaction, even at Macy's.

Zaret more or less stumbled on the field that gives him his greatest joy. His first taste was in the Army, where, with Frank Loesser, he wrote songs on order for the brass—such items as the official songs for the Chaplains' Corps and the Army Nurse Corps.

Then, back in musical mufti, he was asked by a local New York radio station to whip up some one-minute spots "about things like the Bill of Rights," "I'd just got out of the Army,"

SINGER (top) and ZARET: A cantata in one minute.

he says, "and I was a little tired of flag-waving." But he took six weeks for research and suddenly got excited about the project; instead of the four songs requested, he and Singer wrote 12.

They were called "Little Songs on Big Subjects," and more than 200 U. S. radio stations still play them. Their success started Zaret thinking.

"I realized this was something historically important in music," he says. "In one minute, we could present a complete song. It wasn't just a jingle, but a real 'little song.' I concluded that in one minute you could do a complete cantata or almost any musical composition."

And so Zaret and Singer set to work and produced little songs about other subjects—for example, one set for and about the UN—and educational songs such as their current Columbia set, "Now We Know." Zaret also wrote a blues opera about VD for the government and more and more tended to concentrate on public service music.

"I think it's the coming thing," he says. "We can teach anything with music. TV and radio haven't scratched the surface yet. Imagine what could have been done with Davy Crockett."

He sees a happy, educational time coming when schools will make more use of entertainment facilities — TV, movies and, of course, music.

"Kids watch TV at home," he says, "and the school becomes tame by comparison. Schools will have to compete, and the best way is to teach entertainingly."

He thinks he and Singer have proven that a singing commercial can sell knowledge and ideas as well as beer and tomato sauce.

Bob Considine Says:

Visit to His Native Greece Saddens Ohioan

EN ROUTE (INS) — Almost always there's somebody aboard a plane, coming home, who has been back to see what he left. Or what his father or grandfather left. TWA Flight 923 out of Athens was no exception.

"I hadn't seen the city or my brother for 40 years," the Cleveland realtor said sadly and suddenly, in the middle of a discussion about the chances of the 1955 Indians. "I don't remember that it was so hard when we were children. I wish .. ."

I knew what he wished. He wished he had made enough money in the United States to build a plant or a business in Athens that could take care of his brother and all his other relatives.

But he can't and the frustration is great in a naturalized American who compares how we do things to how they still do them back in the old country.

"My brother works like a dog for a dollar a day," he continued. "My two nieces, beautiful girls as you see here in the pictures, work for three dollars a week. There is little chance that they can marry without outside help because of the dowry they'd be expected to give to the husband.

"DESERVES BETTER"

"My brother is a good man who raised his family religiously. He deserves lots better but there isn't much doubt that he'll stay as is. He couldn't understand about the new Ford-UAW contract.

"Just couldn't understand about extra money for overtime, guaranteed lay-off pay, sick benefits for families of workers and things like that.

"He has everything it would take to be a member of the middle class. But there just ain't no middle class. A few people are very rich; the others are poor as hell and keep working with tools and ideas that must be a thousand years old.

"I'd like to know where all the money goes, the dough we taxpayers send to Greece. My brother he don't see none of it. When he and his family need a bath they must go to a public bath house.

"They live on b e a n s, b e a n s, beans. No thought of any sports, television, radio, a car, icebox . . . nothing.

"My heart felt broken in many pieces when I sent my sister-in-law to the market to buy the family the food they needed. The man in the market questioned her about buying meat. 'You buy meat only at Easter,' he said, and she answered, 'My brother-in-law is visiting us from the city of Cleveland of the United States of America.' "

WILL SEND MORE

The first thing the Cleavelander is going to do, once back in what he called the good old States, is send more clothing and food to his relatives and begin the task of getting immigration papers for one of the nieces.

• • •

He looked around at the scattering of empty seats in the Constellation and there was a suggestion of tears in the good man's eyes.

"If only my whole family could be sitting in those," he said. To me it said volumes more than a thousand Fourth of July speeches.

NEWS CRACKDOWN

Defense Secretary Wilson should be pleased to know that his crackdown on military news sources has permeated the U. S. military mission in Turkey. The men seem scared stiff to answer the most innocuous questions.

At the luncheon that formally opened the Istanbul Hilton I said the colonel next to me, an amiable man, "How are things going here with you?" He stiffened imperceptively and said, "You'll have to take that up with mission headquarters in Ankara."

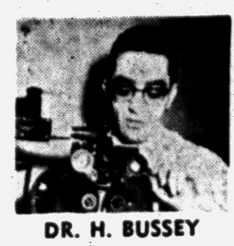

On the Istanbul golf course an Air Force colonel I know from Washington said, "Call me tomorrow and we'll get together on a story." When I called he said, "I'm sorry, I checked Ankara and we're not to talk about anything to anybody."

P.S.—I have smuggled the following information out of Turkey; The Turkish army is composed of Turks, hates communism, loves us, doesn't get paid salaries, has no PX or USO or NCO clubs, and would like to be remembered fondly by the people who made its strength possible — you.

Senate Ups Budget for Commerce Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate, adding 193 million dollars to the House-approved figure, has voted $1,317,000,000 to operate the Commerce Department during the year starting July 1.

Before passing the measure by voice vote yesterday, the Senate rejected efforts to cut airline and ship construction subsidies back to the amounts voted by the House, and approved other increases recommended by its own Appropriations Committee.

A Senate-House conference committee will be named to work out the differences.
