

$1.2-Million Budget Cut Eyed for Waterford Schools

By HUDSON WILLSE JR.
Budget reductions totaling $1,219,000 for the 1968-69 school year in the Waterford Township School District were recommended to the board of education last night by Supt. of Schools Dr. Don O. Tatroe.

If the proposal is accepted, as presented, 93 classroom teaching positions will be eliminated and shortened class days will go into effect for secondary students and first-through-fourth graders.

Enmarked for review by the board, staff and citizens before a final plan is adopted, Tatroe's recommendations were presented one month after district voters turned down a proposed 7½-mill property tax increase.

Tatroe said that to support the school system in a normal way in 1968-69, a budget of $11,722,500 would be required.

Tatroe defined normal as meaning supporting pupil-teacher ratio standards and other services provided in the 1965-66 and 1966-67 school years.

"Unfortunately, our income for this year (1968-69) will probably only amount to $10,475,500 — assuming a 5 per cent state aid formula improvement and a $5.5 million increase in state equalized valuation — and impressive reductions must be made," said Tatroe.

"After deliberations with many of our staff directly, and most of them indirectly, I offer the following recommended budget reductions for 1968-69," Tatroe said.

The Family of Jesus Is a Universal One

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The family of Jesus was more than brothers, sisters, aunts and cousins. Jesus also had a universal relationship. The following is the last of a five-part Christmas series on the kinsmen of Christ.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Religion Writer

A track in the snow winds up the hill. It is night. A man carries a lantern showing the path. "I am the way," he said. There is a big house on the top of the hill and warm light glows through the open door.

It's home, as the guide explains it. The paternal manorhouse. Humanity's joint estate.

"Come . . . Jesus said. "In my Father's house are many rooms." It's a spacious, magnificent abode, the consummate habitation, an inheritance for the family of man. "Behold, the dwelling of God is with men."

That is the greater, ultimate kinship attested by that newcomer of Christmas, his wider affiliation, his all-in-all consanguinity. "I am in the Father, and you in me, and I in you."

He was a man, surely, complete manhood, an individual of history, "made like his brethren in every respect," Scripture says, with a flock of assorted relatives — skeptics, allies, the disenfranchised, the solitaries.

But he also asserted a larger lineage, of protounder roots and vaster progeny. "Before Abraham, I am . . . I and the Father are one." And he claimed a universal succession. "I am the vine, you are the branches."

You Can Tell Winter's Here

Winter crept into Michigan today with icy winds, bone-chilling temperatures and an indication there might be a white Christmas after all.

After enjoying a relatively balmy day yesterday with the mercury climbing to 60 on the last day of autumn, Pontiac residents shivered as winter arrived at 8:17 a.m. today.

The sudden switch followed a torando watch for the southeastern corner of the state last night. No twisters were sighted however.

Here is the official Weather Bureau day-by-day prediction:

TODAY—Considerable cloudiness, very windy at times and much colder with steady or slowly falling temperatures. Scattered snow flurries are likely. Low tonight 8 to 16.

TOMORROW—Partly sunny and continued cold with chance of snow flurries.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 60, tonight 40, tomorrow 30.

The low prior to 8 a.m. was 24. The 12:30 p.m. recording was 25.

President Flies to Thailand After Australia Visit

By The Associated Press
President Johnson flew to Thailand today after his visit to Australia, according to reports reaching the Associated Press.

The President was spending the night at Khorat Air Base about 150 miles northeast of Bangkok, a reliable source said.

The White House correspondents accompanying Johnson were unaccompanied, probably until the President's scheduled departure tomorrow.

Khorat is one of the bases the United States, in cooperation with Thailand, has developed for the defense of that nation and as staging areas for the American bombing of North Vietnam.

The United States has 35,000 or so troops in Thailand, and Thailand has sent a contingent to South Vietnam.

VISIT WITH POPE?

Reports persisted that the President on his way home might stop in Rome to talk with Pope Paul VI, but there was no confirmation.

Before leaving Australia, he told accompanying correspondents that he hoped to get them home by Christmas Eve, Sunday night.

No official confirmation of the President's visit to Thailand seems likely until he leaves the country. The scheduled takeoff time was reported to be 9 a.m. tomorrow — 9 p.m. tonight EST.

This was the pattern followed last year when Johnson visited U.S. troops in Vietnam. The news came out after Johnson had left Cam Ranh Bay.

Holiday Closings in City Reported

Many Pontiac area stores and other businesses will be closed Sunday and Monday in observance of Christmas.

Pontiac State Bank, Community National Bank and First Federal Savings of Oakland will close at their regular times tomorrow and reopen Tuesday morning.

City offices will be closed from noon today through Monday while county offices will close today at the normal time and reopen Tuesday morning.

Pontiac's main post office lobby will be open for mail deposits, access to locked boxes and purchase of stamps from machines.

Mail will be picked up from deposit points on normal holiday schedules and processed from outgoing dispatch. There will be no regular window or delivery services.

DESCRIBES RESCUE PLAN — Dennis McCarty, project manager, tells reporters yesterday how he hopes to free 17 men trapped in California's Tehachapi Mountains as the result of a cave-in. The 17, trapped for 19 hours behind a cave-in inside a mountain, crawled through a passageway to safety today. It was feared they might be trapped for as long as four or five days.

City Cuts to Set Back Fire Dept. 10 Years

By MEL NEWMAN

The cut in Pontiac's municipal services due to the petitioned income tax referendum statistically will set back the city fire department's status 10 years.

There were four Pontiac fire stations, operated by 125 men, in the late 1950s.

In a few weeks, there will be four Pontiac fire stations operated by some 130 men.

While other services will be strongly affected by the budgeting-out of $542,000 in municipal facilities called for by the Pontiac City Commission Tuesday, it is doubtful that any of these are as immediately necessary to the city as is the fire department.

It appears now, according to Police Chief William K. Hanger, that layoffs in police department personnel will be restricted to clerical help and that cuts in operational equipment will be relatively small.

FIRE DEPT. BUDGET

Fire personnel — from the ranks to the Firefighters Association leaders to the Commanding Officer — considered the department's manpower allotment, previous to any cuts, as barely minimal.

Capt. Jack Douglas, association president, said he hoped "no danger to life would be involved because of a fire at a time in the future when several firemen might be off duty."

Eighteen months ago, Pontiac was served by 152 firemen.

Through retirements and job changes, 10 men have since left the department and these have never been replaced.

ACTUAL SHORTAGE

Thus, Douglas points out, "the department will be short 22 men, not 12."

Bill's Backers Are Hopeful for Passage in '68

LANSING (AP) — Despite the defeat of the open housing bill in the House of Representatives, a spirit of optimism prevails among backers of the controversial measure.

The optimism was accompanied by a feeling of relief on the part of all concerned that the arduous 11-week special legislative session, called by Gov. Romney on Oct. 10, was finally over.

Lt. Gov. William Milliken, who has been battling for the bill in the absence of Romney, called the House's rejection of the proposal "a disgrace" but predicted the Legislature still would pass the law.

"The battle has really just begun," said Milliken, in a comment that summed up the feelings of most of those who supported the bill, killed by a 55-47 House vote.

House Democratic leader William Ryan of Detroit, one of the bill's leading supporters, described chances for passage in the regular session, which begins Jan. 10, as "real good."

NO DETERRENCE

Senate Majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, said he felt the defeat of the measure in the House would not deter the effort to achieve passage in the regular session.

The road hopefully will be smoothed in the regular session, he said, by a State Supreme Court decision in a case which seeks to determine whether the State Constitution authorizes the State Civil Rights Commission to deal with housing discrimination.

Although Romney has received daily criticism from Democrats for being absent while the Legislature considered the bill, both Ryan and Lockwood said they felt his presence would not have saved it.

The governor's presence "certainly would have helped," said Ryan, but he added that with so little time remaining in the special session, it was doubtful that Romney could have twisted enough arms to pass the bill.

'CAN'T HIDE'

"The governor and all those responsible can run, but they can't hide," said Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit.

But Young agreed that "we should bury this one gracefully and start fresh on Jan. 10."

These Gift Ideas Could Bring Big Smiles to Youngsters' Faces

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the last in a series on Christmas gift suggestions available in Pontiac area stores.)

By JUNE ELERT

Have you run out of gift ideas for the younger set? Here are some things which may draw bigger smiles than the old standbys of clothing or toys.

The gadget-conscious 12-year-old boy would love a stem-mounted bicycle speedometer to record his speed and mileage. It sells for about $5.

For baby's room or bathroom, we found a scatter rug and towels in several sizes, imprinted with Dr. Doolittle characters in hand-screened print on white terry. The rug is $4.50, towel and washcloth prices vary.

Mod parents won't have to trade their bucket-seated wheels in for a sedate sedan upon baby's arrival, with a console car seat with padded back and head rest, cushioned seat, slide-preventive strap and circular hand bar. About $13.

There is an emergency repair kit for bike or jalopy selling for about $4 which would delight any mechanically inclined youngster from 12 to 20.

FOR TEEN-AGER

Knitting bags in tubular style, deep enough to hold long needles easily, come in various styles to please the teen-age girl for $2 to $3.

A mess kit for summer camping with double-purpose handle, fry pan, kettle and cup nested compactly in a sturdy carrying case sells for $3.98, for either boy or girl.

For the young fisherman, how about a complete spinning outfit, rod, reel and line for $15.98?

Rocky Top GOP Pick—King

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., says the Republicans probably would lose most of the Negro vote and the presidency next year by nominating Richard M. Nixon.

King said yesterday in an exclusive interview that the only Republican potential candidate who could defeat President Lyndon B. Johnson is New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

"Rockefeller would probably be the first Republican in recent years to get a majority of Negro votes if he were the nominee," King said. The New York governor would decisively split both the Negro and labor votes, King said, and "would get the great group of disenfranchised independent voters."

But, King said, neither Nixon nor Gov. Ronald Reagan of California—another Republican possibility—could carry the Negro vote against Johnson.

"I'm not optimistic about the Republicans nominating Rockefeller because the Republicans have a kind of chronic obsession for losing," King said.

King said he was not endorsing a candidate.

King said his announced plan for massive, disruptive demonstrations next spring in the nation's Capital to demand jobs or income for the poor would reflect "a consensus in the nation itself for what we are demanding."

NIXON

Mayors of large cities, businessmen and other groups favor action now in massive doses, King said. "So the climate is alive in the nation and the thing to do is to mobilize this public opinion and give them a movement through which they can say to Congress, 'This must be done.'"

EFFECT

He was asked if his inviting antiwar groups to join the movement would kill its chances of favorable response from Congress.

"I think not," he said. "I think the power of this movement will be numbers and perseverance. We hope to make this movement so massive and monumental that it can't be ignored, no matter who is in it."

Sen. Fulbright Tells Arkansans: Viet Is Mistake, Peace Best

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Fulbright is telling Arkansans that the U.S. involvement in Vietnam is a mistake and that the best support we can give to the troops is to seek an end to the fighting as a negotiated settlement.

"I am convinced from all the evidence presented thus far this war is not worth the price we are paying," said Fulbright, who will be running for reelection next year.

He added, in a Thursday report to his constituents: "This was not a case of aggression, as we have been led to believe, but rather a civil war

Army Deserter From Pontiac Is in Sweden

A 21-year-old Pontiac man who deserted the Army to avoid going to Vietnam has reportedly found a temporary but friendly home in Sweden.

Ray Jones, whose local home address is unavailable, said he deserted his military post in Europe when he heard a rumor that he was to be transferred to Vietnam.

Newsmen report that he is off to a good start in making a living in Sweden but that Jones, a Negro, has said he faced racial prejudice directed at what he termed Afro-Americans.

Jones "is trying to make the best of a new life, that of a deserter," according to a news report. "It is the life he chose but not what he expected."

It is apparently easier for a foreigner to live and work in Sweden if he is a deserter. The Vietnam war is extremely unpopular in that Scandinavian country, he said.

The Pontiac soldier is said to have opposed the war from the beginning.

Sympathetic Swedes helped Jones to overcome language, race, financial and housing barriers, sources close to him report.

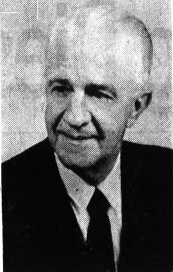

He hopes to earn a good living to support a wife and son by teaching jazz ballet. Already "Ray Jones" dance classes are popular around Stockholm.

His German wife, Gabriele, works as a foreign-language secretary in Stockholm. The couple have a son, Ray Jones IV.

Jones, who married while still in the Army, has hopes of rejoining the United States.

Bank Board Announces 6 Promotions

Several promotions were announced yesterday at a special meeting of the Community National Bank board of directors. G. M. McLeod of 2997 Old Orchard, Waterford Township, and Carroll L. Osmun of 1815 Woodland, Sylvan Lake, were named senior vice presidents. They were formerly general vice presidents.

Osmun has been a member of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors for the past six years. He is a past president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a past member of the Pontiac Boys' Club board of directors and past chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund's Commercial Division.

McLeod belongs to the National Association for Bank Auditors and Controllers and the American Institute of Banking and is a member of Delta Sigma Nu fraternity.

JACK D. CRAWFORD

Jack D. Crawford and William N. Somerville were advanced to vice presidencies. Crawford of 3502 Lakewood, Waterford Township, and Somerville of Royal Oak were previously assistant vice presidents.

Somerville joined CNB in 1963, while Crawford joined in 1949.

MAIVILLE

Two new assistant cashiers also were named. They are John M. Maiville of 6825 Bridge Lake, Springfield Township, and Owen H. Fett of 4870 Coolidge, Troy.

Maiville is director of business development of the Installment Loan Department, and Fett has been assistant manager of the Bloomfield office since 1965.

Survey Shows Money Not All of Teacher Woes

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first of two articles on the recent survey of Birmingham Teachers.)

BIRMINGHAM — What makes teachers in the Birmingham School District so unhappy? Money would appear to be the main problem, but it goes much deeper, according to a citizens' panel which made a detailed study of the situation.

Calling themselves the Association of Birmingham Citizens for Schools (ABCS), the group recently sent out a questionnaire.

Dr. Clark Out on $15,000 Bond Today

Awaiting trial for manslaughter in the death of one of his patients, Dr. Ronald E. Clark of Farmington Township today was released from the Oakland County Jail on $15,000 cash bond furnished by friends and former patients.

Clark's court-appointed attorney, Philip Rowston of Pontiac, filed a check for the amount of the bond this morning with the county clerk's office.

The 56-year-old doctor is charged with giving an fatal dose of sodium pentothal to Mrs. Grace Nell, a patient and nurse who assisted Clark part-time at his clinic at 30725 Grand River.

Clark's bond was reduced Monday from $50,000 by Circuit Judge William J. Beer with the provision that the physician turn over to the prosecutor's office his license to practice medicine.

Rowston said that he was given the check by Clark's wife, Violet, who received donations from "dozens of friends and former patients." He said he did not know the exact number of persons who had come to Clark's aide.

Clark has no money of his own, thereby making it necessary for the court to name an attorney to defend him at the expense of the county. Clark's trial date has not been set.

City Man Shot in Church Lot

A Pontiac man was shot early today in a church parking lot at 210 Hughes.

In fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital is Robert A. Farmer, 36, of 218 Mechanic. Police said he was shot in the abdomen and right leg.

Farmer told police he and a companion were about to enter the car about 3:30 a.m. when two men suddenly jumped up from the ground in front of the vehicle.

He said one of the assailants yelled, "This is a stickup," but neither approached before the shots were fired.

Police said the car apparently had been entered in a larceny attempt.

Farmer's companion was not injured, according to officers.

Clarkston School Chief Blasts State Panel

BY JEAN SAILE
Another swipe at the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission has been leveled by a local superintendent of schools.

Dr. L. F. Greene, Clarkston administrator recently testifying on increased school construction costs before the State School Construction Investigation Committee, has recommended that steps be taken to limit the demands, rulings and ultimatums issued by agencies, commissions and bureaus at local, county and state levels, which he said, "contribute much to the total obligation of the school district."

Dr. Greene lashed out in October at the commission over delays in approval of Clarkston's $2.5-million bond issue voted by the people for construction of a second junior high school.

Now in receipt of approval, the district is going ahead with its program after a nine-month holdup which Greene attributed to the commission.

Greene's recent report to the state committee continued, "The indefensible position of the Michigan Finance Commission results in delayed construction, untimely marketing of total bond issues, and destroys any local effort of the board of education to attempt to economize in schoolhouse construction; and most damaging of all, it prevents the free flow of money in a fluid economy."

Greene's report took into consideration three other factors affecting school district costs:

- School construction costs have increased and are increasing — but,
- School construction costs have increased no more than other construction costs.

- The control of the largest, single element affecting construction costs (labor wage increases and fringe benefits) is outside the jurisdiction of the school district.

Named along with the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission as a cause of delays were the health department and "particularly the department of the state fire marshal."

These departments, Greene charges, "reserve the right to make final decision of approval after the building is completed, even though the completed plan may have been resting comfortably in these offices for months, and temporary approval was issued."

"It is discouraging," he said, "that after carefully wending your way through a maze of stereotyped form requirements, and carefully fulfilling the whims of a bureaucratic paper war, to find that one or more costly changes must be made in a building before it can be approved, even though the standard might have been changed after the building was well under construction."

BIGGEST GRIPE

But Greene saved his biggest gripe for the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission and that agency's delay in processing applications.

"Such costly delays could result in nearly a $1-million surcharge on a $3-million project, before the obligation is completely retired," Greene said.

He continued, "The Municipal Finance Commission was established in 1932 to investigate the pass on the legal marketable security of municipal financing instruments for protection of seller and buyer alike."

"More recently, the commission has taken upon itself the authority to be sole adjudicator of what is good or bad for the state and the district by:

- Determining local debt tax levies.
- Approving what is to be constructed.
- Fixing maximum bond interest rates.
- Establishing rules concerning starting dates and payment for construction.

- Eliminating the call features of bond issues.

- Eliminating the debt retirement fund.

- Altering the conditions of bond propositions as voted.

"Fortunately they have not succeeded entirely in this venture, but unfortunately they are still actively engaged in hot pursuit of all these goals," Greene added

New Supervisor and Clerk Named by Addition Board

ADDITION TOWNSHIP — The appointments of a new supervisor and clerk to replace Billy Van Arsdell and Robert McCallum, whose resignations are effective Dec. 31, have been announced by the three remaining members of the Township Board.

Robert Inwood of 250 Frick, justice of the peace and part-time school bus driver, has been appointed supervisor.

Mrs. Eric Kirsch, 1661 Rochester, has been named clerk.

Neither has previously held office on the Township Board. The appointments become effective the first of the year.

McCallum who resigned because of the pressure of township business and its conflict with his business and home life found himself accompanied by Van Arsdell, who took office as supervisor last April. McCallum had served as clerk the last 10 years.

PUBLIC IRE

Van Arsdell said last month that he had agreed to serve as supervisor only so long as McCallum should be clerk. The supervisor ran into some public ire in the township when he attempted to get industrial rezoning for land he owns along Lakeville Road.

Left on the board to choose successors were Treasurer Donald Hickmott and Trustees Elmer Powell and Adam Lupp.

Fire Department at Full Strength

ADDITION TOWNSHIP — A full-strength fire department here has answered its first call — a minor transformer fire yesterday.

Beset by internal grievances and the lack of new members, the department's membership had fallen off to less than 10 men.

Community meetings called during the past two weeks have resulted in a full department complement of 20 men and the election of former chief Edward Porter to head the department.

Porter replaces John Hock who resigned because of a change in job responsibilities.

'GRATIFYING'

Robert McCallum, a former chief, said, "It was gratifying to see them turn out yesterday. One 25-year-old, whose car wouldn't start, ran all the way to the fire station to answer the call."

This will be the third consecutive one-year term as chairman for Murphy, a former county clerk.

Robert E. Lilly of Ferndale was reappointed for a three-year term to the board of auditors at a $20,000 salary.

Other salaried appointments were: Robert P. Allen of Oakland Township, corporation counsel at $19,000; Herman W. Stephens of Berkeley, equalization director at $17,500; and F. Hugh Wilson, veterinarian and dog warden at $12,000.

At the time, the highway department said, there were some fears that this would cause truckers to increase their speed the same amount, disregarding safety factors.

A one-year survey showed only a slight increase in average truck speeds, from 51.5 miles an hour in 1963 to 53.9 miles an hour in 1967.

The area involved includes South Boulevard north to M50 Expressway and from Opdyke Road east to and including the west side of Adams Road.

Romney Campaigner Denies Switch Report

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A Portland newspaper, The Oregonian, reports that Travis Cross, a key man in the Romney - for - president campaign will resign to join a Republican campaign for Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Cross, reached in Tel Aviv, Israel, flatly denied the report.

Radio Station WJR in Detroit said it contacted Cross by telephone while he was on a world tour with Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

County Reappoints Murphy

Daniel T. Murphy of Sylvan Lake was reappointed chairman of the County Board of Auditors at a $20,000 salary.

Other salaried appointments were: Robert P. Allen of Oakland Township, corporation counsel at $19,000; Herman W. Stephens of Berkeley, equalization director at $17,500; and F. Hugh Wilson, veterinarian and dog warden at $12,000.

The supervisors held an election to replace two nonsalaried vacancies on the Parks and Recreation Committee. Chosen were Wallis Gabler Jr. of Royal Oak and Albert M. Wilmot of Pontiac.

NAMED TO COMMISSION
Three were named to the Parks and Recreation Commission: Clarence

A. Durbin (reappointed); James L. Reid of White Lake and Henry A. Schiffer of Ferndale.

Other appointments: Duane Hursfall of Independence Township, Board of Health; Walter M. Coon of Farmington and Joseph M. Coon of Oak Park, Board of Institutions; John B. Huhn of Berkeley, Department of Veterans Affairs.

State Reports on Hike of Truck Speed Limit

LANSING (AP) — Raising the maximum speed limit for trucks on freeways has resulted in a drastic cut in the number of truckers exceeding the limit, reports the State Highway Department.

The 1966 Legislature authorized boosting the maximum truck speed on freeways from 50 to 60 miles an hour.

At the time, the highway department said, there were some fears that this would cause truckers to increase their speed the same amount, disregarding safety factors.

A one-year survey showed only a slight increase in average truck speeds, from 51.5 miles an hour in 1963 to 53.9 miles an hour in 1967.

U. of M. Seeks $75.8 Million in State Funds

LANSING (AP) — The University of Michigan has asked the Legislature for $75.8 million in state money for 1968-69 operating expenses — a boost of $16.6 million over this year's appropriation.

The U-M request, made to the Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday, compares with $59.2 million approved by the lawmakers for the current fiscal year.

The university had originally sought $74.6 million for fiscal 1967-68.

The requested appropriation, approved to support a proposed 1968-69 general fund budget of $100.6 million — $17.4 million above this year's $83.2 million budget.

In addition to the $16.6 million increase sought from the state, some $715,000 of the budget increase would come from student fees and other income, U-M officials said.

U-M DELEGATION

A U-M delegation appearing before the committee included President-elect Robben W. Fleming, Executive Vice President Marvin L. Niehus and Allan F. Smith, vice president for academic affairs.

Expressing concern over what he said is a trend toward deterioration of the relative quality of the university, Smith told the committee that, in terms of enrollment increases and price inflation, the state's investment in the U-M has decreased rather than increased in the past 10 years.

From 1957 to 1967, enrollment increased by almost 10,000 students, or 42.5 per cent, he said.

But, he added, in terms of 1957-58 purchasing power, the budget for the 1966-67 year was only 33.7 per cent greater.

'EVERYTHING ISN'T ROSY'

"We're not trying to cry wolf in tolo," said Smith, "but we want to leave the picture that everything isn't rosy."

Smith said faculty salaries at U-M, once the highest in the Big Ten, are in danger of becoming "average."

"We can't have another year like this one and retain our faculty," he added.

"We don't expect you to work miracles," Niehus told the committee. "But there is a feeling in some quarters that higher education is not living very high."

The U-M officials told the committee they primarily are concerned about the relative quality of the university in 1968-69 and about the growing demand for graduate-professional education.

Ex-Oxford Man Goes to Prison

A former Oxford resident, Dennis L. O'Dell, 21, was sentenced yesterday to 10 to 30 years in prison for the murder of his wife, Mary, 19.

She was shot to death May 10 near her parents' home in Whiteford Township near Monroe County.

Mrs. O'Dell had gone to live with her parents when she separated from O'Dell three months before her death. The two had reportedly lived in Metamora Township.

O'Dell said he shot her when she refused his offer of attempted reconciliation. He then turned himself over to his uncle, Sgt. Raymond Westphal of the Oxford Police Department, and surrendered a 22-caliber pistol at that time.

O'Dell pleaded guilty to the charge of murder last Oct. 17. Judge James J. Kelley Jr. of Monroe County Circuit Court imposed the sentence, sending O'Dell to the state prison at Jackson.

W. Bloomfield High Suspends Classes Because of Flooding

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Classes at West Bloomfield Senior High School were suspended today due to flooding of the parking lot and in the staircases of the school's academic wing.

Principal Roger Garvelink said attempts had been made for the past year to get a larger culvert constructed under Orchard Lake Road to carry flood waters.

"All of the subdivisions around us drain on school property," he said, "but so far we have been able to get no action from the County Drain Commission."

The school is located at 6000 Orchard Lake.

Classes went on as usual in the district's other schools, Garvelink said.

Detroit Area Travel for Holiday Up 20 Pct.

DETROIT (AP) — Holiday travel business is up 20 per cent in the Detroit area, say airline, bus and railroad firms.

The peak holiday travel period, from now until Jan. 2, also will see more than 60,000 cars carrying 150,000 persons leaving the Detroit area over the Christmas holidays.

The Automobile Club of Michigan said the busiest day should fall on Christmas when most of the 60,000 vehicles are expected to return to Detroit.

Troy Historical Units Will Host Open House, Special Quilt Display

TROY — Members of the Troy Historical Commission and the Troy Historical Society will host an open house from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday in the Pioneer Room of the former Troy City Hall, West Wattlew near Livernois.

A special display will feature pieced, appliqued, woven and embroidered quilts and coverlets, many of them made by Troy pioneers.

Quilts have been donated for the display by Mrs. Robert Huber, Mrs. Charles Dorshner, Mrs. Elmer Russell, Helen M. Wattles, Mrs. D. S. Pope, Mrs. Harriet Tupper, Mrs. Donald Lance, Mrs. A. E. Bell, Mrs. Herman Trost and Mrs. Norman Barnard.

Mall Annex Rezoning Nixed

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Township Board — in line with recommendations from its planning commission and the county coordinating, planning and zoning committee — has turned down an increase in the amount of business zoning for the proposed Pine Lake Mall at the northeast corner of Lone Pine and Orchard Lake Roads.

Construction is to begin soon on the main part of the mall, but the request for an additional four acres was rejected.

The first step in setting up a special assessment district for the installation of sanitary sewers in the Brookfield Highlands Subdivision has been taken by the board. Petitions from residents of Knollwood Heights requesting sanitary sewer service were found invalid because of insufficient signatures.

The township attorney has recommended that the board withhold recognition of the International Association of Fire Fighters, West Bloomfield Township Firemen, Local 1721, until after an election is conducted by the local.

"We will withhold approval until that time for two reasons," said Supervisor John Doherty. "We are not sure until after the election that the local does represent the majority of firemen, and heretofore we have always bargained with a lawyer who said he was representing the firemen."

Budget Cuts Eyed for Schools

- Eliminate 53 secondary school teachers (shorten by one-sixth the pupil school day), $425,000.
- Eliminate 40 elementary school teachers (place grades one through four on half days for one semester, but add support to students with learning problems), $320,000.
- Maintain capital outlay reduction, $150,000.
- Maintain maintenance reduction, $50,000.
- Maintain in-service education reduction, $30,000.
- Maintain an administrator reduction, $15,000.
- Maintain two consultant reductions in mathematics and art, $17,000.
- Maintain reduction of five custodial maintenance personnel, $35,000.
- Reduce secondary half-time consultants in mathematics and electronic data processing, $8,000.
- Reduce one elementary physical education teacher, $8,000.
- Reduce six elementary vocal music teachers, $48,000.
- Reduce two community school directors, $17,000.

- Reduce one additional central administrator, $16,000.
- Reduce two half-time assistant high school principals, $15,000.
- Reduce four maintenance personnel, $24,000.
- Reduce six custodial and custodial engineering personnel, $37,000.

"These reductions," said Tatro, "would enable us to operate within our income next year and would offer children as completely balanced a program as possible."

"This plan has been calculated to produce the best possible school program for 1968-69."

which our funds will allow," continued Tatro. "It anticipates our living within our income."

"It represents an 'across-the-board' type of reduction, or nearly so," added Tatro. "This tends to spread the program loss, hurting children and the community as little as possible."

"It helps us preserve staff strength at as high a level as is possible and makes a future rebuilding job less difficult."

A plan for operation during the 1968-69 school year is expected to be approved at the board's Jan. 16 meeting.

Motorcycle Split for 2 Claimants

CHICAGO (AP) — A Circuit Court magistrate borrowed a cue from King Solomon Thursday and divided a motorcycle between two men, each claiming the bike as his.

Magistrate Vincent J. Tondryk awarded the frame, transmission and wheels to Frank Affetto, 43, a policeman who said the motorcycle was stolen from him two years ago. Robert Wildey, 34, an electrician, got the engine and windshield, richly adorned with decals, and tassel saddlebag.

Santa's Helper Red in the Face

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A red-suited and bearded helper of Santa Claus, Jack L. Lyne, 67, has lost 28 pounds since last Christmas. At the Christmas party for Key Biscayne community nursery school children Thursday, Santa's "Ho-Ho-Ho" was echoed by a teacher's screech.

"My breeches fell down," said the Santa. "I guess I Ho-Hoed too loud. The kids thought it was part of the act."

Carolers Cut Up

CHICAGO (AP) — George Howell doesn't know whether the carolers who stopped to serenade him this week were filled with the spirit of Christmas or the spirit of Scrooge. Howell said the group stood on his porch and caroled for fifteen minutes, then ripped down the stair railing and fled.

Cartoons Limn 'Drinking Driver' Law

We commend to readers' attention the series of 12 cartoons now running in The Press on driver education.

The series, titled "A Holiday Guide to the Drinking Driver Law," is aimed at the highway hazards born of the conviviality of the Holiday Season.

Since more than half of road mishaps are related to alcohol, the series deals specifically with the State's new Implied Consent law which went into effect Nov. 1.

officers consider the operation of his vehicle is such as to justify it.

Stations at various points of the State have been established and police personnel trained to conduct the tests. The common method of testing is by means of a "breathalyzer," although blood and urine tests are also legal under the law.

The series was prepared by the Automobile Club of Michigan, which has performed yeoman service in the promotion of highway safety with its "Bring 'Em Back Alive" campaigns covering national holiday periods.

State and outstate motorists are indebted to this fine organization for its unceasing efforts on their behalf.

LBJ's Tongue Got Better of Judgment in Miami

It is seldom that such an astute politician as President JOHNSON sticks his neck out as he did when he branded Republican congressmen as "wooden soldiers of the status quo" in a recent address to the AFL-CIO convention in Miami Beach.

LBJ's characterization of GOP legislators, whose thinking he said was analogous to the horse and buggy era with the buggy going downhill, brought detailed rebuttal from Republican minority leaders of both houses: Sen. EVERETT DIRKSEN of Illinois and Rep. GERALD FORD of Michigan.

Teaming up on a TV tete-a-tete, the pair pointed to the solid, carefully-considered legislation that the 90th Congress, with the aid of Republican members, had thus far passed in contrast to the conglomeration of hastily drawn, frequently unsound, bills that Johnson's rubber-stamp 89th Congress had enacted.

At the same time the GOP duo spelled out some of the glaring faults attributable to Democratic regimes:

- The 13 per cent decline in the purchasing power of the dollar since the Eisenhower Administration, with the cost-of-living index expected to rise 4 per cent for 1967.

- LBJ's January estimate of the 1968 Federal budget deficit of $8.1 billion, which he recently admitted would reach $29 billion.

- The 67 per cent increase in national crime over the past eight years while the population has increased 10 per cent, with the first nine months of 1967 indicating a further rise of 15 per cent.

- The steadily increasing cost in lives and resources of our Vietnam involvement to which no end is in sight.

The accomplished presentation of "Ev and Jerry" explicitly took the wind out of the President's sails (the metaphor is particularly appropriate) and must have reminded him of another apt homily — one having to do with "letting sleeping dogs lie."

Israelis Limit Bethlehem Influx

Jerusalem is the holy city of Jews and Christians and one of the shrines of Islam. It holds the Mosque of Omar and the Dome of the Rock — the site of MOHAMMED's believed ascension to Heaven — the Walling Wall of the Jews, and the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. The city abounds in other shrines and places holy to all three faiths.

Most of these, up until last June, were held by Jordan, which administered the Old City. Israel held the newer sector of the city, with about 180,000 inhabitants to about 60,000 in the Jordanian area. In the past, special ground rules were laid down for the visitation of the various sites by pilgrims.

Now Israel officials have said the Jerusalem holy places sacred to Moslems will be open to worshippers. Arabs and Israelis live in a strained and sometimes bitter state of coexistence in the city.

Bethlehem, five miles away, also was formerly in Jordanian hands. This year the word from Jerusalem is that Israeli authorities plan to bar non-Christians from Bethlehem on Christmas Eve.

The purpose is to control the traditional crush at the service in the Church of the Nativity. The church is revered as the site of the Birth of Jesus. The midnight mass has become the focus of Christmas worship for thousands of pilgrims and travelers.

Pinning His Hopes

David Lawrence Says:

Majority of Voters Dissatisfied

WASHINGTON—A majority of the voters of America today are undoubtedly dissatisfied with the present administration. But the big question is whether they have made up their minds to defeat President Johnson and take any Republican who is nominated rather than give the incumbent in the White House a chance during four more years to attempt to rectify his errors.

LAWRENCE

The latest Gallup Poll of Republican county chairmen across the country shows clearly that the general discontent on domestic questions is far more important in the present attitude of the voters than the debate about the Vietnam war.

Even on the Vietnam issue there is a wide range of views encountered by Republican leaders in their communities.

Thus, a large majority of the county chairmen report a feeling that the war is not being fought as effectively as it should be and that there is a good deal of vacillation.

But the local Republican chairmen reveal by their answers primarily that criticism of the country's internal problems comes up three times more often in conversations with voters than does the Vietnam war.

Among the domestic issues most frequently named are "wasteful or irresponsible spending, crime and lawlessness, and the high cost of living and high taxes."

Many of the local chairmen contend that the issues at the grass-roots level are more pronounced than they were in either 1966 or 1964.

Too much government spending and the fear of a fiscal disaster are repeatedly mentioned, and there are signs that the voters are really worried about this problem.

The high cost of living and high taxes — listed by numerous Republican chairmen — was the No. 2 issue in the Gallup survey made in 1966 and was rarely mentioned in the 1964 survey. But today the Republicans are saying to each other that they expect to get many votes by calling attention to "the insidious inflation brought on by irresponsible government spending."

As for crime and lawlessness, the "demonstrations" related to civil-rights questions have stirred up a furor across the land.

One Republican party leader in the East said that the best campaign argument available to his party is "the need to end the reign of terror and disrespect for law, engendered and encouraged by this administration."

There are the usual comments about "incompetent leadership" and "the credibility gap" and "failures" of the poverty programs. The tendency is, as always, to blame the party in power for all the ills of the country.

Bob Considine Says:

How an Angel Helped Bring Peace to World

NEW YORK — You know the story of the daffy Angel. He came to the Lord and said, "Boss, I've got a great idea."

"I know how much you've fretted over the wars and worries down there on that daffy planet named Earth. Well, here's the pitch. Lend me the CONSIDINE Star of Bethlehem and give me permission to hang it out again on Christmas night."

The Lord thought a moment, shrugged and said, "okay."

The Angel sped off to the star warehouse, found the Star of Bethlehem, dusted it off, requisitioned a long spool of wire, then dashed off to a rehearsal of a celestial combo named the Heavenly Hosts.

And on Christmas night the Angel and the Heavens climbed aboard the star and were lowered down over Bethlehem, all blacked out. Then the Angel switched on the light and it was glorious to behold. Softly, sweetly, the Heavens went into an Aramaic carol.

OPEN FIRE

Alas, it didn't pan out quite as planned. Egyptian, Syrian and Jordanian artillery opened up on Israel, sure that the apparition overhead presaged some new type of Israeli rocket. And the war was back on.

Greecified identified the bright light as a super Very light, put up by the Turks to illuminate their charge against Cyprus. And all hell broke loose between the two NATO nations.

African pygmies shot poisoned darts at the apparition. Charles de Gaulle called a rare press conference to report that this was just a cheap British stunt to edge into the Common Market. Ireland declared its neutrality. Bulgaria surrendered.

President Johnson stayed up all night, wrangling with Premier Koyssin. Red China, divining that the light was the exhaust from the first of a great shower of Soviet ICBM's, sent a million troops across the borders of the U.S.S.R. Castro shaved, and signed a mutual defense pact with Albania.

Then came a terrible assessment of the phenomenon. U.N. Secretary General U Thant hurriedly called a meeting of the Security Council and announced that secret intelligence reports indicated that the strange light over Bethlehem was not any nation's mischief.

It was, he said, some sort of a reconnaissance craft that was casing the earth in advance of an attack from a force from outer space.

The peoples of the earth reeled in horror. This was no Orson Welles fantasy, the New York Times said. This was for real.

Mail Fraud

Buffalo Evening News

The Post Office Department wants to eliminate the present requirement of proving an "intent to deceive" in order to intercept mail addressed to irresponsible promoters of various land, franchise and work-at-home schemes.

Because such swindles often hit the retired and the poor hardest and because complaints of alleged mail fraud activity are rising sharply, we sympathize with the department's goal.

Yet the specific remedy sought by the Post Office, and supported by a House committee, goes too far.

Criminal prosecutions, which since 1962 have successfully stopped 49 land fraud promotions, suggest that the intent-to-deceive provision is not an insurmountable barrier to legal punishment.

Furthermore, the U.S. attorney general questions whether the proposed bill would accomplish its purpose. Eliminating the intent + to 'Actions of Young People Are Highly Commended'

The front page story of the rescue of young Elmer Mayes from the icy waters of Wolverine Lake struck me as an act of heroism. Charles and Charlotte Trombley should be highly commended and should be awarded a life-saving medal. This is the kind of boys and girls we can be proud of when they are willing to risk their lives for others.

Often we read or hear about persons in distress and a witness or observer will not turn a hand to try and save a life because no one wants to become involved.

'Support Student Efforts for Road Repairs'

To the many who asked why students at Highland Lakes should get action before their own roads were fixed, how many people use these roads compared to the thousands who use Hospital Road daily? Most of these kids work and can't afford car repairs. They must have a car both to work and to get an education.

Where were the voices when The Pontiac Press reported almost a quarter of a million dollars spent on gas lights for the Orchard Ridge campus? That $200,000 could have fixed a lot of roads in Oakland County. This came out of the taxpayer's pocket. Let's support these kids and help them build a better kind of world for tomorrow than our generation did.

'Need to Read More About Gun Legislation'

The Pontiac Press does a commendable job in its editorials. However, don't you think it is time to write an editorial pertaining to all the restrictive gun legislation that is being introduced, and especially what the Second Amendment to the Constitution has to say about such restrictions?

It is time someone introduces legislation that is more liberal for the law-abiding citizen. We know from past experience that one restrictive step leads to another. Why can't people wake up? History shows what happened to all other nations that have taken their people's arms away from them. Why is it that every politician who introduces restrictive legislation belongs to the same political party?

'Many Let City Homes Become Run Down'

I can't see anything wrong with the Lakeside housing project. There are worse looking houses in Pontiac. We have lived in Pontiac 45 years and it's a disgrace the way some houses in the City are getting more run down all the time. It's no wonder people are moving out. We keep our home up but when the house next door is let go and run down, it hurts our property. If we get an open housing ordinance in Pontiac, let's get an ordinance to make people keep their homes up.

Disagrees With Causes of Air Pollution

I hear of air pollution and claims about the cause of lung infection. I have seen the time you couldn't see the sun for smoke from forest fires and clearing of land and it didn't hurt anyone's lungs. Air pollution is caused by playing with outer space and atomic fallout. Let's admit the truth.

Question and Answer

If there is only one son in a family and he is in service, is it true he can't be sent to Vietnam?

WORRIED PARENTS

REPLY

Not unless he is the sole "surviving" son. In other words, if other sons or daughters have been killed, captured, totally disabled, etc., while in service, the sole surviving son is exempt from combat assignment upon application by himself or his parent. If the parent applies, the son may waive the exemption if he wishes. However, being an only son does not exempt him from combat duty.

Our News Room Is a Buzzing Place

By DICK SAUNDERS

I've noticed a marked decline in the incident of fruit flies this week.

For awhile, they were the bane of my existence — along with static electricity.

This all comes on the heels of a marvelous plan in a previous column — a program at The Press. If you ever remedied, you know what I mean.

The changes wrought in our editorial department are almost beyond belief... new ceiling and recessed lights, old walls knocked out and new ones built, new paint everywhere, draperies and the like.

But the topper has been our carpeting.

A city room with carpeting is like a men's room with crystal chandeliers.

electricity and, of all things, fruit flies.

The carpeting and electricity, of course, go hand in hand.

Avoiding a shock leads to all sorts of "home-made" remedies. People shuffle across the room touching every metal object in sight to drain off the electric energy.

Others believe that by touching your toe to a metal object, you avoid a digital shock. Others use a pencil — a remedy I tried until one day when a spark actually jumped from the flat end of my pencil to my sensitive little pinkie.

It becomes particularly crucial when you brush innocently against a female employee in full view of your boss and she lets out a little squeal and rubs a tender part of the feminine anatomy.

Suddenly you find yourself standing there making all sorts of idiotic motions to emphasize that your hands have been completely disengaged throughout the entire incident.

The fruit flies are another story. I have no idea from whence they come or why.

They just appeared one day out of the blue.

I don't know if it's because I sit in a corner, but they seem to like me (no wise cracks from the gallery).

It's extremely disconcerting to have a fruit fly dancing between me and my typewriter.

And they're so fat. In fact, the most corpulent fruit flies I've ever seen. No fruit fly has the right to be THAT healthy in mid-December.

Which adds further to the mystery. How can one suddenly be beset with these tiny winged invaders in the middle of winter?

Another thing that's so irritating is that they're so small and they never seem to stop buzzing. These fruit flies are darn near swatproof.

And, when I get lucky and nail one in flight, it inevitably falls into my cup of coffee.

People tell me it's my aromatic pipe tobacco that attracts them.

Fire Dept. to Be Set Back Years

To the firemen themselves, the layoffs and station closings mean the following:

- That a dozen of their fellow workers will be left without jobs beginning the new year.
- Those remaining will be unable to do their jobs in keeping with the normal capabilities of a modern department.

But what will be the actual effect of the layoffs and closings on the city?

GRIM TASK

"We're faced with the prospect of protecting a city which has built shopping centers and numerous housing units in the past 10 years with a force no bigger than that previous to this growth," said Fire Chief Charles Marion.

He pointed out that the areas presently served by the stations, scheduled to be shut down will be affected in the greater time span from an alarm being sent in those areas to the arrival of men and equipment.

The stations, No. 5 at 787 W. Huron and No. 6 at 55 Walton, cover the western and north-central portions of the city, respectively.

Individual firemen will be called upon to carry extra work loads so that only one engine company — rather than two — will be lost from service.

By a city law passed by referendum in 1965, Pontiac firemen work a maximum 56-hour week. Previous to the 1965 vote, a 63-hour maximum was in effect.

A recently passed state law will limit all firemen in Michigan cities to a 56-hour week.

"We're going to do the best we can," said Marion.

Douglas said the department's 11-man sick call Saturday was, in fact, a legitimate series of illnesses and not a protest move. He added that a sick call of about eight men after the layoffs could temporarily close down two more stations.

NOTHING

"A communicable disease epidemic could happen at the wrong time," he said, adding that "fires don't schedule themselves."

Marion said the shutdown is coming, ironically, "at a time when the national and local economy is healthy — a time when the department should be looking toward expansion in personnel and the number of stations."

Douglas found it further ironic that, because Pontiac's classification for industrial insurance will suffer, premiums for business and industry would rise and "more money will be spent in the face of less fire protection."

The mood of the department now seems to be that the die is cast, and it is a matter of waiting and hoping for the income tax to pass.

Arrest Warrant Given in Spirit

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Judge Edward O'Cleary routinely issued a bench warrant when a traffic charge defendant failed to appear Wednesday in Municipal Court.

Thursday, the judge attended the annual Loin's Club Christmas gift exchange meeting. O'Cleary's gift to one member was the arrest warrant.

Police Recover Their Present

PLANTATION, Fla. (AP) — An electric shoe-shine kit, donated to the police department for Christmas, was recovered about 12 hours after police said it was swiped from under the station house Christmas tree.

Army Pvt. Robert Hogan of Pompano Beach and Ft. Benning, Ga., a visitor to the police station, posted $500 bond Thursday after he was charged with the theft.

Nearly one in four officials and managers in Philadelphia city government is a Negro. About 30 percent of the city's two million residents are Negro.

Junior Editors Quiz on ICE CREAM BARS

QUESTION: How do they make chocolate-covered ice cream bars?

ANSWER: Ice cream is made from milk and cream with sugar and flavoring added, as well as small amounts of some stabilizer such as gelatin. In some cases, eggs are added.

When the ice cream has been mixed and stirred, it is called a mix. To make chocolate-covered bars, the mix is run from the freezer to a mold (2). The mold shapes the bars. Then the sticks are put in (3).

The mold goes into a brine tank which is very cold (4). Passing into a tank of water (5), the bars are loosened from the mold. They go on to chain drive conveyor where they are held upright and dipped into liquid chocolate (6).

Next, they go into a cooling system and then into bags all done automatically by machinery.

What happens then? You take over. You may just look and bite (A); in summer, swing and bite (B); in winter, read and bite (C); just any old time, have a party (D) or give your dog a treat (E). (F) shows some new ideas in ice cream bars — other good tasting things have been added, such as toffee.

The Family of Jesus Is a Universal Kingdom

It was an immense, strange and comprehensive heritage. Although he was a thoroughgoing man of the earth, of one time, one place, one group, there also was an aura of mystery about him, his singular drive, his enigmatic sayings, his utter commitment to others.

"Bar Nasa," he called himself, the "Son of Man." But also, "Bar Eloah," the "Son of God."

A puzzled, pragmatic apostle, Philip, wanted some tangible evidence, a spectacular display. "Lord, show us the Father, and we shall be satisfied."

TAKEN ABACK
The request startled Jesus somewhat, took him aback. "Have I been with you so long, and yet you do not know me, Philip? He who has seen me has seen the Father. . . . Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father in me."

Some sensational demonstration there, some grandiose exhibition, might have stirred momentary excitement, but such fleeting response was not the kind of mark Jesus imbued in men.

He spawned a strain that lasted, spread and embraced a world. "For in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God, through faith," the apostle Paul wrote.

"There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus. And if you are Christ's then you are Abraham's offspring, heirs according to the promise."

INCLUSIVE HOUSEHOLD
It was a big family, an inclusive household. It was anchored in mankind's common nature, which Christ took on, becoming an integral part of it. Since he also is identified fully with God as well as man, it is held that he infused a revitalizing kinship with the divine into the mutual human stream.

In the Biblical portrayal, the human race had married its complings with its Creator, had lost communion with its ennobling origins, but Jesus is seen as the unflawed representative of the entire race, restoring Godliness to it.

Scripture also sees an even wider, cosmic relationship, material and spiritual, temporal and timeless. "He was before all things and in him all things hold together," says St. Paul. "God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself . . ."

"For he has made known to us in all wisdom and insight the mystery of his will, according to his purpose which he set forth in Christ as a plan for the fullness of time, to unite all things in him, things in heaven and things on earth."

That unifying aspect was a central force in Christ — the drawing together, the harmonizing and rejoining of all the fractured segments of men — the broken personalities, the economic imbalances, the divided nations and races, the lost love.

And it was love that he incarnated and dispensed as the animating, binding tie. "A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another," Jesus said. "As the Father has loved me, so I have loved you, Abide in my love."

As St. John's epistle puts it: "Love is of God, and he who loves is born of God and knows God . . . for God is love." SELFLESS LOVE
That love which he epitomized — that unlimited selfless "agape" known on this planet — only because of him — is not the desiring love of "eros" which circles around its own fulfillment reception for the runaway reward.

"Come to me, all who labor and are heavy-laden, and I will give you rest," he said. And that takes the whole day to get there, included the wastrel who had strayed and squandered his substance but then came home, as related in the story of the prodigal son.

"Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you," the young man cried. "I am no longer worthy to be called your son."

But Jesus ordained a hospitable house, a generous, merciful son.

gle through their tenebrous time, often uncertain, repeatedly thwarted, their environment treacherous, combative, longing for another country they cannot name.

"May all be one," Jesus prayed; "even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us."

The great house towers on the hill. Sometimes, you hear the further music from it. You catch inklings of it, faint, fleeting, exhilarating. In a sudden, limpid moment, you're struck with the splendid beauty and amplitude of life.

But it's quickly gone, a mere hint, a vague prompting, a glimmering through the trees. You can't identify or describe it. It's home. "Knock," he said, "and it will be opened to you."

It's like a passing illusion, a mirage. You can't possess it or keep it. You're not settled, not home yet. But you go on, nostalgically yearning for it, vaguely discontent; wishing for a gentler clime, a steadier soil, a fuller fellowship.

Jesus said, "but I chose you . . ."

HUMAN FAMILY
And he beckons up that hill, toward that good house, that bounteous regathering place, of enduring kith and kin. It's the patrimony he bestowed, the kingdom he founded, the household he established for all the human family.

It's home. "Knock," he said, "and it will be opened to you."

Pushing on, sometimes stumbling, battered, hurt, men struggle through an exceptional rapture, swift,

Senator Blows His Horn for Vietnam Whistle-Stops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As any congressman can tell you, the 1968 campaign trail is more than 12,000 miles long with whistle-stops in Da Nang, Pleiku, Dak To and Saigon.

And while the Pentagon can't assure every candidate of coming under Vietcong fire, there is always that possibility.

"My wife is concerned about it," conceded Sen. Birch E. Bayh Jr., D-Ind., who announced Wednesday he will make a two-to-three-week tour of the war front. "But there are 500,000 guys over there taking that risk now, so I guess the senator from Indiana can take a chance."

Bayh, who is up for reelection next November, said there was no question that the Vietnam issue is dividing Indiana and the nation. I have an obligation to go to the scene of the Vietnam story.

"While there, I hope to see as many Hoosier fighting men as possible," he told a news conference.

WHO PAYS?

"Who is paying for the trip?" he was asked.

"I'll be on official business," he replied. In other words, the government.

Q: Which of your committee assignments involves Vietnam?

A: Judiciary.

Q: Subcommittee on refugees — he'll be looking into refugee problems.

HE'LL PROBE AID

Bayh emphasized his main job would be to dig into the U.S. economic aid program in Vietnam. He battled this year with the Agency for International Development (AID) over what he termed "corruption and gross mismanagement" of the Vietnam effort.

"Now is the first opportunity I have had to devote the time necessary to examine the progress — or lack of it — firsthand," he said.

Q: The Senate just sent another candidate, Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., to Vietnam for a month to do the same thing — investigate the aid program. Did you consult him?

A: No.

Q: Will you be looking into the land-reform program?

A: I certainly will.

EFFECTIVENESS ASKED

Q: How effective is the Saigon government's program of giving the land to the South Vietnamese peasants?

A: Substantial.

Q: Well, with 80 to 90 per cent of the country able to be farmed, just how much of that has been given to the peasants?

A: Ah... substantial.

AID KNOWS HOW MUCH.

I will not become an instant expert after my tour, Bayh said, stressing that he would

Musical Yule Assembly Today at Pontiac Northern

By BETTY ATWELL

The music department of Pontiac Northern High School presented its annual Christmas assembly in the auditorium today.

Among the music groups participating in the event were the a cappella choir, the girls' choir, the Northern Lights, the madrigal singers and the Howlin' Huskies.

The program was directed by Judith Davis and John Tensley.

The PNHS staff Christmas Party was held Monday.

Families of the faculty, custodians and other staff members contributed to a co-operative dinner and awaited the arrival of Santa Claus.

Santa had a present in his pack for each child. After receiving their gifts, the children went to the little theater to watch movies and play Christmas games.

Their parents competed for small prizes in bingo-type games.

Russell Buller, librarian, was chairman of the committee for this traditional entertainment.

The fourth annual sports award night was held recently in the cafeteria.

Northern's outstanding athletes were honored by the coaches.

Three all-conference football players were honored. Dana Coin received his captain's letter, Craig Deaton was named most-valuable player, and John Willson was given the coaches' award.

OTHER AWARDS

Other members of the varsity team getting awards were Sandy Seay, most improved, and Allen Morris, captain's letter. Sherman Grandberry was named most-valuable back on the reserve squad, with Robert Long being honored as most-valuable lineman.

The sophomore football team selected Michael Taunt as most-valuable lineman and John Dunn as most-valuable back.

The JNH debate team recently won two of its four debates with Southfield and Livonia Stevenson High Schools.

On the varsity level, Bob Han and Jerry Bixby, seniors, defeated Stevenson's affirmative team. The varsity record now stands 4-2 in the Wayne-Oakland League.

In junior varsity competition, the affirmative team of senior Mary Sowden and junior Jon Hurtado defeated Southfield's negative team.

Holiday 'Epidemic' Spreads at Groves

By BENITA ROSEN

Holiday spirit is spreading throughout Wylie E. Groves High School in epidemic proportions. Everyone, from administrator to student, is eagerly anticipating winter vacation, whether a trip to Florida is planned or just a quiet rest at home is needed.

Panties in various academic departments are set for today, the last school day before the 10-day vacation.

In the language department, Spanish classes have constructed pinatas so they may celebrate "Navidad" in true Mexican fashion.

German and French classes planned to bring in baked goods representing their respective countries. It was also rumored that certain French classes would go caroling in the halls today.

Art department representatives regretfully admitted that they "weren't" doing very much this year. However, the rooms have been decorated for a small party which Groves alumni may attend.

SAMPLE WARES

After baking Christmas cookies and learning to make candy and popcorn balls, the cooking classes will have an opportunity to sample their wares in a small celebration.

The journalism room, G-4, which houses The Scriptor (newspaper) and Talon (yearbook) staffs has had a party-like atmosphere for the last few weeks.

Now, added to the clutter of posters, cartoons, pictures and newspaper clippings normally found on the walls are "Merry Christmas" banners and paper Santas.

A miniature Christmas tree, lights flashing, graces a desk in the corner of the room.

HANUKKAH SPIRIT

In an attempt to bring some Hanukkah spirit to everyone, the sole Jewish member of the Scriptor staff presented Hanukkah Gelt (gold foil-wrapped chocolate coins) to the staff, placed a "Happy Hanukkah" sign on the window and scattered drayls (spinning toys) around the room.

Yesterday, the music department, including the choir and the glee club, presented a Christmas assembly for the entire student body.

Showing true Christmas spirit by demonstrating that it is more blessed to give than receive, each homeroom at Groves has filled a basket with items suitable for a Christmas dinner. The baskets will go to needy families in the area.

The Social Work Club is going to visit the Coleman School in Detroit, an institute for the mentally and physically handicapped, to entertain the children with a holiday celebration.

TOYS FOR NEEDY

For the past few weeks, the Future Teachers of America (FTA) has been collecting toys for deprived children.

A long-honored tradition at Groves has been the annual appearance of Santa Claus.

When Harold Newcomb, assistant to the principal, was asked if he thought Saint Nick would show up, he commented, "He'll be here if we can get Gamber into a Santa Claus suit!" He was referring to Groves All-League football player Mike Gamber on the varsity team.

Yule Concert Is Held at Walled Lake High

By ERIK HOLMQUIST

The annual Christmas Concert at Walled Lake High School was held yesterday. The show featured the band, orchestra, Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, Mixed Chorus and Acappella Choir.

The band and orchestra were under the direction of Helmut Holland-Moritz, while the vocal groups were directed by Andrew Zerban.

The class of '69 has started to make plans for its junior prom. It will be held on Jan. 27, from 8 p.m. —midnight in the school gymnasium.

The semiformal dance will be open to all sophomores and seniors of Walled Lake High School. Refreshments will be served.

Students at Waterford Mott Acquire Newspaper Knowledge

By JOAN EDGINTON

New knowledge about newspapers was brought to Waterford Mott this week. Jane Hunt, journalism adviser, and seven students represented Mott Tuesday at the University of Detroit Newspaper Training.

The trainship, which began at 9 a.m. with a general assembly, was sponsored by the Detroit Student Press Association. Guest speaker was Judd Arnett.

During his discussion, Arnett gave the students the history of the newspaper and also spoke about the importance of always having good communications with the reader of your paper.

After this assembly, students reported to one of seven workshops which dealt with various aspects of newspaper production.

The spirit of Christmas was brought to Mott at an assembly Monday. Members of the Drama Club helped welcome the holiday season by presenting the play "The Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens.

Harriet Davidson, director, has been working with the drama members for many weeks, after school and on week-ends, to make the play successful.

The play was centered around the familiar character Scrooge, played by Jim Durnbaugh.

Other main characters were Rich Leitner, Fred; Harry Drake, Bob Cratchit; and Charles Engel, Marley's ghost. Adding fantasy to the production were the ghosts played by Teri McCracken, Debbie Graham, Kathy Phipps and Sue Humphreys.

The remaining club members contributed their talents to the production by portraying other characters and participating in backstage activities.

At Our Lady

Holiday Spirit Is Shared

By DIANNE REED

Students of Our Lady of the Lakes have the holiday spirit and are trying to spread it around. Earlier this week the Lakers went Christmas caroling to the rectory.

This year Dave Miller, Student Council president, presented Father Fredrick Delaney a wreath amidst the joyous carols of the students led by James Stevenson of the faculty.

Presentations and greetings for Father Delaney, Father Kaiser, assistant priest; Father Januga and Father Kermanial who say masses and for Catherine Broidy, housekeeper at the rectory, were exchanged and students caroled back to classes.

The Glee Club, along with the help of the grade school, presented "Christmas Fantasy."

Last week the student body brought in presents for alcoholic priests in New Mexico. Toothbrushes, cigarettes, candy and tissues were a n o o g Christmas gifts wrapped by the seniors and sent to the priests.

SIX PACKAGES

Enthusiasm was great, and six boxes filled with presents are now on their way.

Sister Therese Marie, principal, made the arrangements for this project.

Seniors were dismissed early this week because of jobs and the Christmas rush. Christmas vacation began yesterday after classes. School will resume Jan. 3.

By DOUG HEFTY

Waterford Township High School seniors Gary Edwards and Renee Le Blanc are first-place winners in the Elks leadership contest.

Lois Dohner received third place, and Pat Yingling and Maggie Jacobs, honorable mention.

To qualify, each entrant had to compile a notebook which included a questionnaire, a letter of recommendation and a letter from one of their parents. They were also to include an essay concerning their goals in life.

First-place winners received $100 savings bonds and third place winners, $25 savings bonds.

NEWSPAPER WORKSHOP

Tuesday, six journalism students from WTHS attended a newspaper workshop, along with 36 other journalists from area secondary schools, at the University of Detroit.

Attending from WTHS were Cheyrl Crandell, Sharon Jackson, Janice Crisp, Margaret Higgins, Linda Adams and Joe Alsap.

Yesterday the Student Council Christmas baskets were delivered to needy families in the Waterford area.

The sophomore class, under the direction of Marcia Robinson of the faculty, sold mistletoe corsages this past week to raise money for future class activities.

CHRISTMAS CAROLING

Tonight the Girls Letter Club will go Christmas caroling in the Waterford Township area.

Last week, the French club, sponsored by A. A. Robinson, conducted a "French Day." All the hall signs were covered with French nameplates, morning announcements were read in French and French flags were placed on all the lunch trays.

French students wore name tags which read, "Bonjour! Je m'appelle" (Hello, My Name Is...).

The Latin Club will respond to the French students by holding its second annual "Roman Circus" next spring.

WTHS Duo 1st in Elks Contest

By CLARA CALLAHAN

Christmas is a time of giving and this is the spirit throughout Oxford High School.

Many groups have given their time and energy to make this Christmas season more meaningful.

Saturday "A Winter's Dream" overtook the school. The annual seniors' Christmas dance featured the "Invention."

Monday and Thursday, Oxford's air rang with the sound of yuletide music.

Monday, the nearly 200 voices of the combined choirs at OHS presented their concert, "The Spirit of Christmas."

FEATURED SOLOISTS

Featured soloists were Perry Rouse, Rosemary Brady, and Barbara Specht.

Thursday evening the OHS band gave its premiere Christmas concert. This was its first formal evening Christmas concert.

A coffee hour for the public followed the program.

TOUR FOR STUDENTS

Recently Algebra II students, under the supervision of their teacher, J. B. McQueen, toured General Motors Truck and Coach Division.

Monday night the French Club's annual Christmas party was highlighted by games played in French.

Refreshments were provided by Vicki Barrett and Karen Bergmen.

Wednesday night a Christmas punch bowl was held by the National Honor Society honoring last year's graduate members of NHS home for Christmas.

The informal tea was held at the home of Alan Houck, so that the graduates

Avondale Has Dual Yule Look in Assemblies

By JAN MALANE

Christmas came twice to Avondale High School yesterday.

Because of the extended day at AHS there were two Christmas assemblies. The assemblies were sponsored by the Student Council. Council member Mark White made the arrangements for the program.

A procession of the student body around the Christmas tree launched each assembly. Every student placed a gift under the tree. The gift was to be a wrapped can of food or an inexpensive toy for a child. The gift was to be marked for either a boy or a girl.

Receiving the gifts were Joe Davis and William Richards of the Avondale Fire Department. These men and others from the fire department will distribute all of the gifts to the needy families in the Avondale area.

Adding to the Christmas spirit were the band and choir. Both presented several Christmas selections and the student body joined in to sing the Christmas carols.

All week long a Christmas tree stood in the Hive. The tree was donated to the school by the Auburn Heights chapter of the American Legion.

Lake Orion

By DIANE CHAMBERLAIN

When students and faculty at Lake Orion High School return to school after the Christmas holidays, they will be greeted with a pleasant surprise. The Student Council has ordered four new textured tweed couches for the student lounge. Two are brown, one dark green, and the fourth turquoise.

Cushions for the lounge benches under the windows have been sent to be upholstered in a matching brown.

To supplement the council's treasury, each club at Lake Orion is being asked to contribute $30. It is expected that enough money will be contributed to cover the cost of the furniture.

The National Honor Society is planning its February induction of new members. It recently donated $30 to the March of Dimes and $30 to help pay for the new lounge furniture.

Novi

By THOM HOLMES

Florence Pangborn, Novi High School girls' athletic director, is working with the cheerleaders to organize a lunch-hour game room.

This activity center would be open to all students during any of the lunch periods.

Miss Pangborn hopes to have two or three pingpong tables and a pool table. She is also trying to acquire a record player to supply some music.

The cheerleaders are going to lease the pool table and all profits will go to the athletic fund.

NHS's new pep band is doing a fine job of playing music at home basketball games.

Holly

By MARCIA CLARK

A profit of $1,134 was made by the Holly High School Council in the recent magazine subscription drive.

Top five salesmen were Jinx Kincaid, $66.58; Marlene Hillman, $61.06; Linda Edwards, $60.95; Frank Irons, $43.88; and Pat Fuchs, $41.88.

Twenty-seven students received autograph books; nine students, throw pillows; and three students, stuffed dogs.

All students who sold $5 or more will enjoy a holiday from school early next year. These students will be excused from their classes to see "A Fine Madness" with Sean Connery at the Holly theater.

Pontiac Catholic

By DEBBIE ROCHON

The spirit of Christmas is evident at Pontiac Catholic High School.

Student Council members, assisted by Father Kunmaniak, principal, have decorated the hall with holiday ornaments, including a Christmas tree.

This is a very special tree to PC students. For under its boughs they deposit their Christmas donations—food, clothes and gifts — for the underprivileged in the area.

The drama group performed an original play written by Howard Hoeflein, drama teacher, at the Thursday Christmas program.

The play, entitled "Christmas by Halves" depicts the celebration of Christmas by two families whose sons were at war against one another.

Performing in the play were Atwood Lynn, Donna Bieri, Maurice Finnegan, Mike Keller, Gretchen Gallagher and Mike Meyer.

Mistress of ceremonies was Priscilla Petinga.

The choir sang several selections, under the direction of Sister Mary deLima. A dance group concluded the entertainment for the evening.

Andover

By GAYLE WILLENBERG

Christmas spirit has spread through the halls and courts of Bloomfield Hills Andover High School.

Each class decorated one court under a chosen theme.

The senior theme was "Twas the night after Christmas"; Junior, "Junior Supreme Court"; and sophomore, an unknown computer theme.

Each hall was decorated by a club. A panel of judges will select the winning decorations.

Voices and bells rang out as the "Jills." Andover singing group, appeared on today's televised Morning Show. The Jills will also appear on WABX Radio at 10:30 Christmas Eve and at 9:30 p.m. on WJLB Christmas day.

For the past week, candy canes were sold during the lunch break by the senior class. Proceeds will go toward senior caps and gowns and yearbooks.

Brandon

By MICHAEL COOPER

Elections held this week in the sophomore and junior classes revealed a strong democratic backing at Brandon High School.

Of the total 406 votes cast, Democrats received 251 votes, Republicans, 122.

The debate team of BHS took both matches from Lincoln Park and both with Taylor Center. The team is coached by Kenneth Stubblefield.

The contemporary history class is sponsoring a Christmas dinner raffle. Winner of the raffle and a guest will enjoy a dinner at Kingsley Inn.

The Instrumental Christmas Concert given Monday night featured junior and high school bands, under the direction of Everett Smith.

For the first time the courtyard at Brandon has a decorated Christmas tree, thanks to efforts of the Student Council.

By ANDI BARNES

A Christmas pageant was presented yesterday at Dominican Academy.

The glee club sang carols and the French club sang "Il est Ne." A short Christmas play ended the program.

A Yuletide dinner for the entire student body and faculty followed the entertainment.

Tuesday members of the DA newspaper staff attended a workshop at the University of Detroit.

Emmanuel

New "dusk to dawn" lights have recently been installed along the driveway at Emmanuel Christian High School. The lighting will illuminate the school at night and hopefully will cut down on school vandalism.

2 Troy Seniors Get Youth Award

By LINDA SWEET

Troy High School seniors Marsha Renshaw and Keith Wheeler received the Troy-Madison Optimist Club Award as Troy's representatives of outstanding youth.

Keith is president of the National Honor Society and participates in both sports and band.

Marsha, also a member of NHS, is treasurer of her class, a varsity cheerleader and ranks first in senior class standings.

The choral department performed excerpts from its recent Christmas concert to celebrate the beginning of the long holiday vacation.

Sing-Out Detroit will perform at an all-school assembly, Jan. 19. The 45-minute performance will feature area young people from Dearborn, Madison Heights, Troy, Clawson, Royal Oak, Oak Park, Bloomfield Hills, Berkley and Detroit and the songs made famous by the Sing-Out America movement.

Stevenson Juniors Confer

By PENNY McMILLEN

Since school began in September, Adlai E. Stevenson High School juniors have been asking about class rings and the annual trip to Washington, D.C.

The answers came in a recent meeting of the junior class, which was moderated by Elwood Winn, class president.

In a vote to be taken after Christmas vacation, juniors will select either the round or square ring.

Elwood also announced that the profit from the junior class's first sponsored dance Dec. 15, will go toward the junior prom to be held March 2.

Marvin Lichtenstein, Utica High government teacher and coordinator of the Washington trip for both SHS and UHS, informed the students of plans for the future trip.

3-DAY TOUR

The eighth annual tour begins June 17.

In previous years the tour has lasted three days. In order to see more of the capital the trip can be extended an extra day if the students vote to do so.

A $10 deposit, to be handed in by the end of January, can be refunded if the student's plans change before June.

It was also announced during the meeting that the profit from Dec. 15 junior class dance will help the junior prom, March 2.

Featured at the Friday night dance were "The Caddis." This local group consists of Chris White as lead singer and drummer, Don Rowan on lead guitar, Wayne Hunt on bass, and Tom Curry on the organ as well as saxophone.

BAND PERFORMANCE

The SHS varsity band recently performed at the Christmas tree lighting in Sterling Township where the new school is to be located. The 72-piece band is under the direction of Norbert Sobelski.

Lady Bird Celebrates Birthday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson celebrated her 50th birthday Thursday with a party for 1,000 other people and — for the first time in her memory — without her husband at her side.

The big party is the traditional Christmas affair for the members of the Executive Mansion's household and official staffs and their families.

As for her husband, the President, who leans to frilly feminine gifts, probably picked out his birthday present to her months ago. In any event, he was expected to telephone his birthday greetings sometime during the day.

The First Lady wasn't alone. Daughter Luci and her husband Patrick J. Nugent, and their baby son, Patrick Lyndon, and daughter Lynda and her husband Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb were on hand for a small family celebration.

YOUNGER THAN YEARS

Slender and attractive and looking much younger than her years, Mrs. Johnson was asked how she felt about reaching 55.

"It does have an ominous ring, doesn't it?" she said with a wry smile. "But I think of a friend of mine who said it's better than the alternative."

She said she felt she shared a common bond with everyone who has a birthday this close to Christmas.

She gets a good deal of mail from young and old who share the same birthday. A little boy from Grand Forks, N.D., wrote recently saying: "We sure pulled a bad time to be born, didn't we? Too close to Christmas. But in some ways we are lucky — my grandfather's (birthday) is the 25th." Mrs. Johnson heartily agreed.

"It's not the sort of family planning youngsters appreciate," she quipped. "All childhood one feels shortchanged. But the last 10 or 15 years Lyndon has made up for it by gathering a group of friends together to celebrate."

In an impromptu interview over a cup of tea in the Lincoln sitting room at the White House Thursday, Mrs. Johnson said that although the past year has been turbulent because of "all the troubles in the world," find myself unable to be downhearted."

She said 1967 "has been an extraordinarily rich year of my life because I've gotten a grandchild and a son. . . . Would she like her grandson to be President someday?

"No," was her immediate reply, adding that it would be the "utmost presumption to plan that for a six-month-old child."

But she said she disagreed with some former presidents who have considered the White House as the "loneliest place in the world."

The White House family quarters were sparkling with holiday decorations, including clumps of mistletoe the First Lady brought back from the LBJ Ranch. On the mantle in the drawing room, which looks out over the Washington Monument and the Jefferson Memorial beyond, were three gaily decorated red stockings inscribed with the names of Lyndon Baines Johnson, Lady Bird and Patrick Lyndon Nugent.

Four more stockings are to be hung later for Luci and Lynda and their husbands.

Mrs. Johnson said the family would be all together on Christmas Day, but the celebration will not begin "until my husband gets back."

The Lawrence R. Nelsons of Bloomfield Village wanted a Christmas tree made of poinsettias and came up with this arrangement of 10 plants. It makes a colorful display, both inside and outside the house. Mrs. Nelson just wishes that there were some way to get a tapering top on her "tree."

Mrs. Lyndon Johnson hands over baby Lynda—daughter of Secret Serviceman John Bradshaw—to Mrs. Johnson's recently-married daughter, Lynda, now Mrs. Charles Robb. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Robb entertained families of White House staff in the mansion's East Room Thursday.

Newlyweds, the John W. Ingrahams Feted by Friends During Yule Visit

The recently wed John W. Ingrahams of New York City (nee Barbara Gay Barker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Howard B. Barker of Bloomfield Hills) will be honored guests at a number of functions during their holiday visit here.

Mrs. Jerrahn Van Tuyl entertained guests at luncheon Thursday in her Birmingham home in honor of Mrs. Ingraham.

Next Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. George Glover and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vince (nee Gail Glover) are hosting a cocktail and dinner party for the couple at the Vince home in Birmingham.

On Thursday, they will be honored with a cocktail buffet party at the Orchard Lake home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Appel.

DINNER PARTIES

A dinner party in the Grosse Pointe home of Dr. and Mrs. John Bradford is scheduled for Friday.

On Saturday, the Ingrahams will be honored guests at a formal dinner party in the Hammond Lake home of Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Young.

There's Big Difference

Abby Doesn't Call Affair Love

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible for a man to love two women at the same time? My husband started driving an unmarried girl to work and back every day because she lives near here and they work at the same place.

ABBY

I told him if he wanted her, I would give him a divorce, but he says he loves me and the children (we have four) and he can't give me up either. I am just heartsick over this and don't know what to do. Should I tell him he's got to make a choice? Or should I just throw him out? I still love him, HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: If this cheap affair with a co-worker can be called "love" then it is possible for a man to "love" as many women as he can find time for. He's having his cake and eating it, too. Don't throw him out. Tell him that he has three months in which to make a decision. Try to be compassionate, gentle and understanding, but let him know you will not share him. I'll bet he stays home.

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago you had a letter in your column from a married woman who hid her wedding ring under her gloves when she went to work because she felt that wives should not work, and she was ashamed.

You should have told her to take off her gloves and stop living in the dark ages. Statistics show that 57 per cent of all married women work.

I have babysat, cooked and done the marketing, in addition to running my own business while my wife worked; kept house and handled all the correspondence and bookkeeping for my business. As a result we now have two healthy well-adjusted boys, a home, house trailer, two cars, a mountain cabin, and other property—all paid for. This would not have been possible had my wife been "ashamed" to work. We are very happy with the arrangement and proud of our joint accomplishments.

E. L. IN L. A.

DEAR ABBY: Kindly tell that ninny who was "irked" because some woman brought a boy who appeared to be about 12 into the ladies' room, that if she had used her head she would have realized that no mother would do such a thing unless it was absolutely necessary.

I have a handicapped son who is also 12, and as tall as I am, and I would not send him into a men's room alone. THAT is the reason I take him where I can go. ALSO IRKED

DEAR ABBY: Being a Methodist minister, your column on what to call the in-laws interested me. In preparing young couples for marriage, I suggest that instead of addressing the mother of one's mate as "mother-in-law," which name has become the butt of so many jokes, they use, "mother-in-love."

How many young couples before marriage consider carefully that their "in-loves" really give them a bit of a preview of what their mates will be like after 25 years? Sincerely, P. D. S.: Emporium, Pa.

Repeats Vows Second Time With Same One

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I were married for the first time 17 years ago. Our marriage, which had been performed by a Justice of the Peace, was annulled. We met again after all these years last January.

He had since remarried and divorced and his ex-wife's signature was needed in order for us to marry in church. As she would not cooperate, we went to the Justice of the Peace again. Now she has finally signed it and we are free to marry. When we do get married in church in about two months, would it be proper to have all the trimmings — invitations, etc? We also have a 16-year-old boy. Thank you for your answer. —Mrs. E. M.

Dear Mrs. M.: Second marriages, whether to the same man or a different one, are not performed with all the "trimmings." A best man and a maid of honor should be the only attendants. Nor should you send formal invitations.

Restrict the guest list for the ceremony to family and close friends, although you may certainly have a larger reception afterwards. To let others know of your remarriage, send formal announcements to as many people as you wish.

MRS. MICHAEL COSTELLO

Today's Woman

Labors in Same Job Since 1939

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

An interrupted tennis game marked the beginning of the only job Mary Costello has ever held. And she didn't even want to go to work right then.

Mary is secretary to an international executive board member of the UAW in the Community Bank Building. She has held this position since 1939.

The summer after she graduated from high school, she was offered a part-time job. Within two weeks it became a full time position.

"I wasn't even looking for a job. I was playing tennis when someone told me I was wanted as temporary help."

All her life Mary had been exposed to unions. Her father, a GMTC local president, had often been on bargaining teams. So there was no need for the young office worker even to learn a new vocabulary.

She was still new on the job when the 1939 tool and die strike started. Before she went to work in the morning, she walked the picket line. She was at Fisher Body when the police moved in during that bitter strike.

But most of her experiences over the intervening years have been less dramatic.

YWCA

Our first encounter with Mary was a dozen or more years ago in YWCA work. She had helped set up a recreation program for union women, a program implemented through the YW.

She went on to serve as a YW board member for several years. She has always been active in the recreation work of the union. She has set up bowling and golf tournaments and even organized basketball schedules.

For her own personal recreation, golf is her first love and she plays every chance she gets. For seven years she has been a member of the Business Girls Golf Association.

Some winters she bowls. She is a member of a women's investment club and a charter member of Gamma Nu chapter of Sigma Beta sorority. For many years she was a volunteer solicitor for the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Married since 1946 to Michael Costello, Mary shares with him the affections of one black Schnauzer pup, Heidi. But Michael has the edge on Heidi's time; he takes her to work at the hardware store he owns in Troy.

Mary Costello represents one more facet of today's woman. She is part of the business world of a city in which unions have long played a big part.

Area Clans Gather Christmas Day to Celebrate Traditional Feast

An all-day gathering for the holiday is planned by Judge and Mrs. Cecil McCallum of Cherokee Road. Expected are their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Leland McCallum with Brian, Bruce, Lori and Craig.

The Edward Greens of Taylor with Heather, Erin and Kevin will be coming too, along with Mrs. William McCallum of Birmingham and Mrs. Morris Green of Lansing.

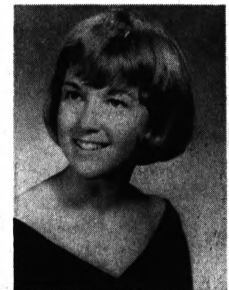

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Michal of Malibu Drive will host a late afternoon dinner party Monday. Guests will include their daughter, Mrs. Dennis Quinklin and son, Scott of Phoenix, Ariz. and another daughter, Toni.

Mrs. Michael's mother, Mrs. Charles Merz of Battle Creek will round out the family picture.

Mrs. and Mrs. Ben Mills of Bloomfield Hills, plan a "real folksy" day on Christmas with sons, Ben, Jr. and Bob. In addition, Mrs. Mills hopes to have a few friends join them for dinner in the late afternoon.

A Christmas Eve dinner is planned at the Robert E. Field home on South Avory Road. Home for the holidays are Barbara, and Joanne Field from Michigan State University and the Field's other daughter and family, the Myrle Nickmans with Steven and Mark.

More expected are the Calvin Longs with Diana, David and Dale of Redford; the Harold Sibleys with Debbie and Dan, Mr. and Mrs. Lester McClellan, Jr. with Kenneth, the Richard Stronge with Rickie and Robin, the Rodney Russells with Glenn, and Mrs. Sue Long.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert N. Stoutenburg Jr. of Heidelberg Drive, Avon Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathryn Ann, to James Robinson Hodges. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Hodges of Brewster Road, also Avon Township. Miss Stoutenburg and her fiancé, who are seniors at Michigan State University and Dartmouth College respectively, are planning to wed in the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton R. McGee, of Parkdale Street, Avon Township, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday. They were married on Christmas day, 1917, in Couden, Ill. The pair will be honored at a family dinner hosted by their daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph (Freda) Brendel of Utica; the Russell (Evelyn) Boushells of Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Lee (Nina) Farmer and Mr. and Mrs. Frank (Louise) Dzuris Jr., both of Rochester. The couple also has a son, Rayburn, of Bettendorf, Iowa. There are 16 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Syracuse of Willard Road announce the engagement of her sister, Mary Elizabeth Beatty, to Meling Regan Rapadas of Whittemore Street. He is the son of Meling R. Rapadas of Sultana, Calif., and Mrs. Charles Michael of South Bend, Ind.

Polly's Pointers

Make Own Candles

DEAR POLLY — Jean will be surprised to learn how easy it is to make candles with air bubbles in them. You need an empty milk carton, wick or old candle, paraffin and wax crayons if you wish to add color. You can make your own wicks by dipping twine in melted paraffin and stretching it out to dry.

I always work over spread-out newspapers so the mess can be gathered up and thrown away, and there is no spilled wax to be cleaned off the counter. Melt the paraffin in a can placed in a pan of boiling water.

The can can be thrown away but the top of a double boiler would have to be cleaned. Watch closely, as the wax melts, and could catch fire if put in a pan directly over the flame.

Make a small hole in the bottom of a milk carton and trim off the top evenly. Run the wick through the hole, tie a knot under the carton, pull up taut and tie to a pencil that is laid over the top. Fill carton with cracked ice and pour melted wax, of desired color, over the ice.

Fill to top of carton. Let harden several hours. Turn upside down and melted ice will run out. Carefully remove the carton with a sharp knife by slitting each corner and peeling it away from the candle.

For added beauty, I melt more wax and allow it to cool slightly until a scum forms on top and then take a fork and heat vigorously. When the wax is foamy, spread on the candle but work fast.

If you like glitter or sequins they can be added while this wax is warm. I like white candles "frosted" with colored wax. — SHEILA

DEAR GIRLS — William added that if any water is trapped inside it may be removed by inserting a hat pin into the bubble. Mrs. H. A. says if one is not pleased with the result, remelt the candle and start over. Also she cautions us to pour off the water as the ice melts so that it does not run over and make a mess.

I found that shorter, fat candles made in pint plastic ice cream cartons that are slightly greased on the inside. A tap on the side and the candle drops right out. The easiest way is to use a candle stub in the center and pour the wax around it. It is effective to use a candle different in color from the wax being poured around it. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I have some old photograph records, by Enrico Caruso and Harry Lauder, and would like to know if they have any value for record collectors. — R. L.

DEAR POLLY — The gift I took to a bridal shower was a conversation piece and the object of many compliments. I had arranged narrow strips of ribbon going both ways on the top of the package to make checks about three inches wide. Into these vacant spaces I pasted Pointers from your column and the bride was delighted. — M. G.

Many Changes in Food Supplies

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Eighty per cent of the frozen food items in the grocery store were developed in the last 10 years, Texas A&M University reports.

The housewife in 1957 also would not have access to 86 per cent of the baking mixes, 66 per cent of the wrapping materials, 65 per cent of the soft drinks and 43 per cent of the cereals.

Let 'Cupid' Greet Guests at Your Door

It's plain to see that your house has been blessed with a call from St. Nick.

We know, because one of his reindeer is staunchly stationed in the center of the big green wreath that hangs upon your door.

The idea is this. Take two fresh, green Christmas wreaths — each one a beautifully natural combination of fresh evergreens and variegated holly leaves. Place one wreath on the outside and one wreath on the inside of your front door.

Next, find a toy reindeer — either a stuffed cloth animal, wood carving, or plastic toy. Carefully cut the reindeer in half. Center the front portion in the outside wreath and glue upon the door. Center the rear portion in the indoor wreath, and glue this, too, upon the door.

Open the door and there is Santa's helper — half in and half out — destined to haul your guests and remain in your home throughout the holiday season.

Wash - and - wear clothing dries in better shape if all the buttons are secured, snaps and zippers closed before laundering.

Girl Receives Clothing, Gift

A complete new wardrobe for a teen-age girl at Camp Oakland's Grills' Ranch was assembled at the recent Christmas party of Alpha chapter, Beta Theta Phi sorority.

A member is picking up the recipient Sunday so that she may spend the holiday with this family and receive her gift at that time.

Mrs. Walter Kinsler of Preston Street was hostess for the event where Mrs. J. Frank Coad and Mrs. C. R. Denison gave readings on the Christmas theme, along with the singing of traditional carols.

Ehrling Back Home for 'Concert Night'

Returning from guest conducting appearances with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, music director and conductor Sixten Ehrling will be back on the podium of the Detroit Symphony in its fifth annual "Concerto Night" program next Thursday and Saturday evenings, at 8:30 in Ford Auditorium.

Orchestra members Caroline Crosby, harpist, Frank Kaderbek, principal trumpet, and Charles Sirard, principal bassoonist, each will be featured as a concerto soloist. Ehrling, who inaugurated the "Concerto Night" concerts, also has programmed a concerto for full orchestra by Paul Hindemith and a concerto-like work for strings alone by Milko Kelemen.

"FIRSTS"

All of the works to be heard will be first performances on the Symphony's concert series.

The program is as follows: Milko Kelemen — Concert Improvisations for strings; Ernest Kanitz — Concerto for Bassoon and Orchestra; Harry Somers — Suite for Harp and Chamber Orchestra; Hayden — Trumpet Concerto; and Hindemith — Concerto for Orchestra.

A special Open Rehearsal of the "Concerto Night" program with Ehrling, Sirard, Crosby and Kaderbek will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. in Ford Auditorium.

Tickets for the rehearsal may be purchased by calling the Symphony Office. Proceeds are for the orchestra members' supplemental pension fund.

Ceramic Counters Withstand Heat

NEW YORK (AP)—Ceramic tile is fired in kilns at temperatures up to 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit. This, says the Tile Council of America, means you can place hot pots and pans directly on a kitchen counter topped with tile without fear of damaging the surface.

Hot cooking oil splattered on a ceramic tile backsplash behind a kitchen range can be wiped off with a damp cloth.

Soldiers Wives Band Together

FT. RILEY, KAN. (AP)—Ranging in age from 18 to 80, the 95 members of the Waiting Wives Club of Ft. Riley-Junction City have one thing in common — their husbands are serving in Vietnam and Korea.

The three goals of the club are fellowship, recreation and assistance. The club fills a void created by the departure of the husband and father, encouraging the members to maintain a normal family atmosphere.

An original idea for keeping baby away from the Christmas tree is to hang it upside down as did Mrs. George Gross of Wolverine Village. Eight-and-a-half-months-old

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I do not know how it seems to you, but it seems to me that we had just gotten everything fixed up for summer fun when, of a sudden, Christmas is breathing down our neck. That is the way time flies!

Perhaps you are one of those farsighted and gifted persons who begin buying Christmas presents in June or earlier. If so, I salute you and I envy you. However, I cannot honestly claim to be one of you. I belong to the majority who put off shopping much later than they should.

There are two schools of thought, I heard a woman say just the other day that she loves the last minute rush and thinks that those who are ready far ahead of time miss the fun. Of course, there is a middle road but let's face it, this isn't the middle. It is nearing the end.

Nevertheless, don't panic. That is the worst thing you could now, not only for you but for those for whom you are selecting gifts. This is the time for a cool head.

Make two lists. First list the people to whom you are going to give a gift. Now forget that list for a while and make another. This should include all the different categories of possible presents. Now try to correlate the two lists, deciding who would like what. This is helpful because each list reminds you of something or someone on the other list.

GIFT POSSIBILITIES

To give you an assist, here are a few possibilities.

I will put this down even if you have no doubt thought of it—perfume. In fact, in the world of cosmetics there are myriad lovely articles. You have a great opportunity to give someone a luxury gift. By that I do not mean that it must be very expensive, but one of those items women do not usually buy themselves.

There is a book for everyone. There are all kinds of do-it-yourself books. You might think of this in connection with someone's hobby. For instance a rare cookbook will please a gourmet, as a book about fishing will please a fisherman, or one about needlepoint or knitting or photography will please someone else.

Then there are historical books, biographies, books about travel, philosophy, religion, poetry, opera, novels and humorous books. The list is endless.

Then, of course, there are records! Naturally, you have to be well acquainted with a person's taste in music for this.

Then there is photography. I never knew any photo buff who had all the equipment he or she would like to have.

ENJOY ROBE

Almost any woman would enjoy a new robe or negligee or gloves or a pocketbook. This is a honey of an idea — a small thin evening wallet to put in your evening bag. You can put a couple of credit cards and some mad money or taxi money and a little change in this.

Of course, you can always hook those who love to fish with some new equipment.

Will-O-Way Sets Traditional Play for Weekend

"The Broken Doll," Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre's traditional Christmas show, will be offered at the workshop on West Long Lake Road Friday and Saturday.

The play, written by Will-O-Way's director, Celia Merrill Turner, is about the meaning of Christmas.

Public performances of the play will be Friday at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday at 11 a.m., 1, 2:30 and 4 p.m.

Cast members from the Pontiac area include Maureen Little, Constance Rightmire, Carol Lampman, Lisa Reschke, Nancy Whitfield, John and Susan Douglass, Elizabeth McGough and Jackie Gustafson.

Plan Wedding

A late January wedding is planned by Ruth Leone Pomfret and Michael D. Corcoran. The bride elect is the daughter of Mrs. Melvin Jones of Jefferson Street and the late Leonard Pomfret. Her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Helen Corcoran of Detroit.

To keep waxed flowers looking fresh, dip them in alcohol and rub each petal lightly with a small paint brush, or a cotton ball that has been dipped in the alcohol. This gives them a fresh new look.

Phi Unit Enacts 'Ritual of Jewels'

The "Ritual of Jewels" honoring new Pledge, Mrs. Kenneth Haake, was featured during the Tuesday evening meeting of Phi chapter, Beta Sigma Phi.

Taking part in the special program were Mrs. John Nord, Mrs. Roy Stuart, Mrs. Russell Farnum and Mrs. Robert Leahy.

Another highlight of the event was a program entitled "Voice and Vocabulary Reflect the Inner You," by Mrs. Drohn. Concluding the evening was a Christmas gift exchange.

Helpful Hints for Foot Care

Feet respond well to good care. Scrub them daily in warm water with a hand brush, then dry thoroughly with a turkish towel and dust with a foot powder.

Massage your feet with a lotion to keep them smooth at least once a week. Cut or clip your toenails straight across, keeping the nails long enough to extend slightly beyond the tips of the toes.

You are safe in using pumice stone on callouses, but never cut them.

LBJ Reportedly Will Leave Political Stumping to Hubert

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey reportedly has been assigned the job of leading the counter-attack against fellow-Minnesotan Eugene J. McCarthy's challenge to President Johnson's re-nomination.

Humphrey sources suggested Thursday, will be the chief administration pitcher in what they see as a campaign double-header: one covering the primary period, the other against the GOP nominee in the regular fall campaign.

The assignment, said a knowledgeable administration source, will make "very remote" the speculation Johnson would dump Humphrey as his running mate in 1968.

Humphrey, said the source, "is the administration's strongest advocate, on Vietnam and other issues. More than anybody else he's been out there fighting the good fight, and he'll be the one leading the charge."

JOLT OF ADRENALINE

Sen. McCarthy's threat—pitched to his opposition to Johnson's Vietnam policies—is likened to a jolt of adrenaline, stirring the party from local precincts to the capital, speeding up decisions and hurrying strategy.

As the strategy shapes up now, the sources said, Humphrey will do most of the traveling, oratory and hand-to-hand combat.

Meanwhile, as one source put it, "the President will be the President."

In other words Johnson will have the White House, with all its limelight, as a campaign platform.

LEADING THE CHARGE

"As the months go on," said one insider, "you'll see Humphrey leading the charge. The President will be in the fore-front to significant extent."

"Undoubtedly," said another

Could Hold Key to Presidency

GOP Points at '68 House Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican seats won by more than 55 percent in 1966, but less than usual interest in next November's election for the House of Representatives for two reasons.

First, control of the House splinter party candidates siphon may be within their grasp for the first time since the 1952 election. Second, the 1968 presidential election might wind up the House.

Republicans now hold 187 of 435 House seats and need 235 more for control. They have set their sights mainly on 34 major House seats.

Holiday Truces Will Be Shorter

U.S. Hopes to Deter Communist Buildups

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The

forthcoming holiday truces in Vietnam are almost certain to be marked by repeated violations, but this year Communist efforts to mount massive re-supply operations may be kept to a minimum.

During the previous military

"stand-downs," the North Vietnamese sent large amounts of war materials south, a fact U.S.

military leaders felt argued against any similar cease-fires.

But to counter such actions this year, the United States and its allies have agreed to shorter truce periods for Christmas, New Year's, and Tet, the Vietnamese lunar new year in February.

Last year, both sides said they would observe 48-hour truces at Christmas and New Year's and a 96-hour cease-fire at Tet.

This year, the Vietcong announced they planned to observe three-day truces at Christmas and New Year's and seven days at Tet.

MILITARY FLEXIBILITY

But so far the allies have failed to specify exactly when they might stop fighting at New

give themselves as much military flexibility as possible. And their Christmas truces will be only 24 hours.

In connection with this, the State Department has announced that a pause in the bombing of North Vietnam au-tomatically will accompany the truces announced by the allies.

In the opinion of U.S. military men, any bombing pause will facilitate North Vietnamese efforts to resupply Communist forces over Christmas.

But State Department spokes-

ing during the New Year's and Tet holidays.

BOMBING HALT

They emphasize that the halt in the bombing will come if the truces "go into effect."

There is liable to be considerable question as to whether the cease-fires are working satisfactorily since not only is the duration of the holiday cease-fires different, but the Communists have announced they plan to begin their Christmas truce

a full 17 hours before the allies.

Here is the truce timetable as

Christmas: U.S. forces and their allies will begin their truce at 5 a.m. Dec. 24

8 a.m. Dec. 25 Saigon time (5

a.m. EST Dec. 25). The Viet Cong have announced they will lay down their arms at

5 a.m. Dec. 24 Saigon time

(noon EST Dec. 23) until 1

a.m. Dec. 25 Saigon time

(noon EST Dec. 26).

• New Year's: The allies have announced no exact times. The Vietcong have announced they will stop firing at 1 a.m. Dec. 30 Saigon time (noon EST Dec. 29) until 1 a.m. Jan. 2 Saigon time

(noon EST Jan. 1).

• Tet: Again, the allies have announced no specific time limit. The Vietcong said they would stand down at 1

a.m. Jan. 27 Saigon time

(noon EST Jan. 26) until 1

a.m. Feb. 3 Saigon time

(noon EST Feb. 2).

6 Indicted in LA Friars Club Card Rigging

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A federal grand jury has charged six men with conspiring to fleece millionaires and show-business notables in rigged card games using spying eyes in the ceiling at Beverly Hills' plush Friars Club.

Indictments were returned Thursday after a five-month inquiry into reports of crooked gin-rummy games in which sums of as much as $30,000 changed hands.

A spy peering through peepholes in the ceiling would electronically signal a confederate in a game what cards the victim held, it was alleged.

BEGIN IN 1962

The indictment said the conspiracy began in 1962. Named as defendants were:

Maurice H. Friedman, 62, Las Vegas, a packager of multimillion-dollar Nevada hotel deals since the early 1950s, planner, builder and developer of the $25-million Frontier Hotel.

Manuel "Rickey" Jacobs, 48, Beverly Hills, identified by U.S. Atty. Matt Byrne as a professional gambler and owner of a Santa Monica card club.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

A Russian girl who fought her government for the right to marry an American with an expired visa is now an American citizen.

Rosita Shifman Brayton, 29, took the oath yesterday, just four years and four days after her Moscow marriage to Lawrence Brayton of Fairbanks, Alaska.

Brayton had overstayed his visa in order to marry the Moscow speech therapist he had met while the two were vacationing in southern Russia 1963. After considerable delay, Russian authorities finally approved the marriage.

Mrs. Brayton came to Alaska in July 1964, where her husband is director of the statewide Community Action Agency.

He Put Up a Hard Fight to Get Drafted

Gene Allen Burns of Munger, Mich., overcame problems of poor eyesight, high blood pressure, excess weight, advanced age for enlistment, and a wife and two children to get into the Army.

"It's something I've always wanted to be in since I was 5 years old," Burns said yesterday.

To do it, Burns corrected his eyesight, went on a diet, divorced his wife when his classification was changed putting him far down the list and got the help of a congressman.

He needed a push from U.S. Rep. Alfred A. Cederberg, R-Mich., before the Army frowns on 31-year-old recruits. The cutoff date for draftees and enlistees is usually 26.

Burns finally entered the service Oct. 3, won a marks-manship medal in basic training at Ft. Knox, and overcame the razzing from some of the younger recruits.

"I hope I get assigned to Vietnam," Burns said from his family's home in Munger, eight miles south of Bay City.

"I feel I'm no better than the next guy. If he can fight for his country, so can I. It's the least we can do."

Rudy Vallee May Sign Political Tune

Singer Rudy Vallee says he may try a political tune and run for mayor of Los Angeles.

Vallee revealed yesterday he was considering the bid but said, "First I'm going to wait and see what my friend Sam Yorty decides to do."

Yorty, mayor since 1961, is said to be weighing a race for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate. He is vacationing in Acapulco, Mexico.

Vallee, said he considered taking a fling in politics in 1933 and 1934 when he was naval aide to the governor of Maine, and that he toyed with the idea of running for Los Angeles mayor in 1959 and 1960 but dropped it until now.

Billy Graham Hospitalized for Tests

Evangelist Billy Graham is hospitalized in Asheville, N.C., for tests, but says he will be able to spend Christmas with his family at their nearby mountaintop home.

"I've had pneumonia four times since 1960, and the doctors want to find out what causes this recurrence," Graham said last night at Mission-Memorial Hospital.

Dapper Dem Protocol Chief Joins in Trend to Show Biz

WASHINGTON (AP) — The pit against recording star Everett M. Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader.

Ambassador James W. Symington, 46, dapper chief of protocol at the State Department and son of Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., sang and joked for more than an hour Thursday night at the Blue Room, one of Washington's fancier night spots.

"You may wonder why I'm doing this," Symington told a capacity audience that included several top government officials. "It is because Sen. Dirksen is the hippest of the hills!" Or, he joked, "Is it because Ralph Nader is doing a study of protocol?"

Nader achieved prominence by probing auto safety.

There is another reason Symington may have wanted to try a nightclub routine. His mother, the former Evelyn Wadsworth, daughter of New York Sen. James Wadsworth, once gained considerable recognition as a $1,000-a-week society singer in fashionable New York City night spots.

Symington told of columnist Art Buchwald, whose parents, he said, marveled at little Arthur's brilliance as he waddled around with a dictionary on his head, saying "book, book."

"And he was only 14 years old," Symington said.

Buchwald introduced Symington for his one-night stand. "I think he's going into politics," Buchwald said before the show. "It used to be you announced it. Now you sing."

Symington, an accomplished guitarist, said his appearance was to drum up financial support for a project of the Washington Guitar Club, which hopes to buy musical instruments and provide lessons for needy Washington youngsters showing talent potential. He left blank checks at the door for anyone wishing to contribute.

NO SPECIFIC FEE
He said later he hadn't worked out a specific fee with the Blue Room management.

Dirksen sells a lot of record albums and California's Gov. Ronald Reagan and U.S. Sen. George Murphy, both Republicans, had successful film careers. But one spectator at the Blue Room expressed doubt there's a solid trend toward blending government and show business careers.

Recalling another former movie favorite's recent loss in a GOP congressional primary in California, Sen. Joseph Tydings, D-Md., said: "I think Shirley Temple stopped the trend."

TOP GUN — Ted Vilella (left), range officer, explains weapon handling techniques to Ted of 402 Jordan and Mrs. William Collias of 174 Auburn at a session of the Pontiac Police Department's firearms course. Enrollment in the classes is nearly double expectations, according to Vilella.

Police Firearm Classes for Merchants Booming

The Pontiac Police Department's just one semiweekly firearms classes, which started in early November, have grown to twice their expected size, according to Ted Vilella, police firing range director.

"We have more than 60 people taking the course and we've had to expand to two classes meeting on alternate weeks in the course."

Daily or Sunday newspapers are delivered to about two out of every three American households.

Although the transportation rush began about a week ago, most carriers said the peak days would be today and Jan. 2. Some lines predicted passenger volume records for the period.

Continuing a trend of recent years, many airlines also reported heavy bookings to resort areas including Miami, Hawaii, Mexico and the Caribbean islands.

The National Safety Council in Chicago estimates that the extra millions of drivers on the nation's streets and highways over the weekend would mean from 625 to 725 fatalities.

ADDITIONAL SEATS
The Air Transport Association in Washington reported that airlines nationwide were providing 150,000 additional daily seats on scheduled flights during the periods from Dec. 15-23 and Jan. 1-7.

During the same period last year the lines provided 100,000 extra daily seats. An ATS spokesman said this year was "probably the greatest additional service in airline history."

Railroads also added service but at least three lines said they did not expect to handle record crowds unless bad weather forced airlines to cancel flights and made driving hazardous.

Greyhound Bus Lines' Chicago headquarters said that since Dec. 15 it had moved 75,000 troops—the equivalent of five divisions—on holiday leave from Army installations around the nation.

ABOUT SAME LEVEL
Spokesmen for Continental Trailways bus line in Dallas said its operations were at about the same level as last year, down from preholiday estimates due to the snowstorms in the Southwest.

Resort travel was particularly heavy, with Miami reporting the largest holiday crowd of tourists on record. The top Miami Beach hotels said the Christmas week had been booked solidly for a month.

An Eastern Air Lines spokesman said it expected holiday travel to Miami would show an increase of 45 per cent over 1966.

In the West the most striking increase was on flights to Hawaii. A Pan American World Airways spokesman said, "Hawaii, like Mexico, has become a popular place to spend Christmas." United Air Lines said, "Business over there is fantastic."

BOOKINGS 'TIGHT'
The Hawaii hotel association said bookings during the Christmas period were "tight" particularly in Waikiki.

'Rudy, the Hard-Nosed Halfback'

What to Sing at the Wassail Bowl

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The trouble with many Christmas songs, poems and stories is that they no longer fit the times.

Most of them were written before the network began telecasting football games on the holiday weekend.

Deck the halls with Green Bay Packers.

Fa, la, la, la, la, la, la, la, la. 'Tis the season for linebacksers.

Fa, la, la, la, la, la, la, la, la. Watch the games in living color.

Fa, la, la, la, la, la, la, la, la. Black and white sets are much duller.

Fa, la, la, la, la, la, la, la, la. TWELVE PLAYS OF CHRISTMAS

On the twelfth play from Scrimmage — Paul Christmas gave to me—twelve passers passing, eleven flankers flanking, ten safeties blitzing, nine punters punting, eight z-out patterns, seven interceptions, six beer commercials, five goal-line stands, four pulling guards, three time outs, two split ends and a wingback with a bum knee.

WEEKEND OF CHRISTMAS 'Twas the weekend of Christmas. She wanted to party.

But I wanted to be with Coach Vincent Lombardi.

And I tried to ignore her hysterical laugh.

When I refused to wrap presents.

Except during the half.

On, Gabriel: on, Lundy: on, Schafrath and Neely:

On Perkins: on, Kelley: on, Andrie and Lilly:

There still is some question, but we'll learn in due course. Whether football at Christmas is grounds for divorce.

MSU Veterans Send Greetings to Westmoreland

EAST LANSING (AP) — A giant Christmas card—signed by some 17,000 Michigan State University students—is on its way to Southeast Asia today, addressed to Gen. William Westmoreland, commander of U.S. troops in Vietnam.

Members of the MSU Veterans Association mailed the card Wednesday after spending four days and six evenings collecting the signatures on campus.

They're hoping Westmoreland will spread the word that "We at Michigan State University wish all of our troops in Vietnam a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

A hinged cover, decorated by a commercial artist, encloses 66 sheets of legal-size paper containing that message and the signatures.

Magi's Gifts Revered

WASHINGTON — The first and myrrh remained in the hands of a privileged few.

The Wise Men brought two aromatic resins—frankincense and myrrh—that were prized as highly as gold.

Long before, man had honored his pagan gods with the fragrance of smoldering frankincense. Myrrh annointed the dead, supposedly cured the sick, and celebrated military victories, the National Geographic Society says.

Ancient Babylonians dedicated thousands of costly pounds of frankincense to their god Baal each year. Persian monarchs wore myrrh in their crowns. Egypt's Queen Hatshepsut rubbed the resin on her body for fragrance.

The South Arabians jealously guarded the source of their wealth with mystery and legend. Stores of frankincense

Lake Orion Stays on Romeo's Tail in Close Oakland-A Race

Dragons Whip Avon; Bulldogs 64-52 Winners

OAKLAND LEAGUE STANDINGS
Romeo	4	0	1
Lake Orion	3	0	1
Troy	2	1	1
Utica	2	1	1
Tied at 1st
Rochester	1	2	1
Madison	1	2	1
Avondale	0	3	2
Clawson	0	3	2
Tied at 4th

Romeo won in a breeze; Lake Orion won in a freeze and Rochester won in a squeeze in big Oakland A basketball action last night.

The Bulldogs of Romeo had little trouble in winning their 6th straight game, four in league play, by routing Clawson 64-52.

Lake Orion, however, had a cold shooting night but the Dragons put up a good enough defense to trim Avondale, 54-35 and stay on the tails of the Bulldogs.

Rochester lost a big lead and was squeezed to a one point margin in the final minute before defeating Madison, 59-51, and even its league record to 2-2.

With all 12 members of the squad playing, Romeo took a 38-22 lead at halftime and was never threatened. Big Donnell Craft had 21 rebounds and Dan Brzesinski contributed 17 as the Bulldogs controlled both the boards and made many of their baskets on offensive tips.

REGULAR MISSING

The victory came even without the services of 6-5 regular Tom Bowerman who was out with the flu.

Clyde Chusingberry poured in 24 points and Donnell Craft added 21.

Avondale, likewise, could not match Lake Orion's height. The Dragons controlled hot boards with 6-7 Gary Mize hitting for 20 points, many coming on offensive tips.

Orion, however, finished with only a 30 per cent shooting mark for the night, but it didn't matter much since Avondale could move no closer than 10 points at any time in the second half.

Helping Mize in the scoring was Bill Foss with 16 points, while Bob Hurt was the lone figure scorer for the losers with 14 points.

The loss shoved Avondale and Clawson into the O-A cellar without a victory thus far.

BIG PERIOD FIRST

Rochester's big period was the first. For the next three quarters the Falcons were matched on the scoreboard with 14, 13 and 16 points respectively.

The eight point lead after one quarter 16-8 however loomed big, but with two minutes left, after outscoring Rochester 12-4 in a given time, Madison closed the gap to 20-16, on key buckets by Tim Black and Rich Wimble.

Craig Campbell then connected for Rochester to make it 22-16, but Wimble added one to make it 23-16 with only one minute left.

At this point Gene Bauer committed a turnover, but then as Madison started down court with the ball, Bauer stole the ball and dribbled in from midcourt and dropped in the clutch bucket for a 24-16 lead.

Gary Sovey had 18 for the winners, connecting on long shots outside the key. Black, the game's leading rebounder had 20 for Madison.

A second place tie will be at stake tonight when Troy visits Utica in the lone league encounter.

Record Tennis Wins

EAST LONDON, South Africa (AP) — Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., scored third round singles victories Thursday in the East London Lawn Tennis Tournament.

Graebner defeated D. Shroder of South Africa, 6-2, 6-4, and Riessen ousted P. Hutchins of Britain, 6-2, 6-2.

HAS CONTROL—Avondale's Bob Burt (35) has control of this rebound. Orion had control of the game however in winning 54-25.

Tomahawks Host Holland Saturday Night

2 Ex-All-Americans Meet on PNH Court

Two of the most prolific scorers and talked about players in college circles in recent years will face each other Saturday night when the Pontiac Tomahawks face the Holland Carvers in an NABL basketball game at Pontiac North.

Bill "The Hill" McGill, a 6-9 All-American from Utah, whose scoring average of 38.8 in 1962 still rates as the second all-time best in one season, will lead the Holland quintet against the Tomahawks.

Pontiac, bolstered by the addition of two Detroit Pistons "last" players, will have 6-8 Sonny Dove, a 1966-67 All-American from St. John's of New York to counter the Holland star.

Dove, along with Paul Long, was optioned to the Tomahawks this week, and his presence will give the T-Hawks a chance to upset the Carvers.

McGill's college scoring statistics still stand among the all-time best in National Collegiate Association marks.

SECOND BEST

High single season average belongs to Frank Selvy of Furman in 1954, when he averages 41.7 per game. McGill ranks second in this department and he also is among the top 10 in career total of points 2,321 and a 27.0 average.

The big center had the highest single game total in 1960 when he poured in 60 points against Brigham Young.

When the Pistons drafted Dave Bing, of Syracuse, Jim Walker of Providence and Sonny Dove of St. John's in the past two seasons, they grabbed three of the most heralded cagers in the land.

Dove was a solid All-American choice last year and he finished the season with a 22.4 scoring average, and was the 10th best rebounder in the country with 14.8 per game.

Dove's presence should be a big help to the Tomahawks in as much as 6-7 Jim Patterson is presently one of the better rebounders in the league and ex-Globetrotter Dave Gaines is currently the second best scorer in the NABL with a 28.8 average.

Holland however has three shooters in the top 10, including McGill at 24.4, Willie Merriweather at 25.2 and Hubie Marshall at 27.7. Marshall is a 6-2 star from LaSalle.

The Tomahawks worked out last night at Oakland University and Saturday night's game at PNH will start at 8:00 p.m.

The T-Hawks have a tough grind ahead with five games in 11 days. They meet league leading Grand Rapids at PNH next Wednesday, the 27th play at Muskegon on Saturday the 20th, are home with the Chicago Bombers, Sunday Dec. 31 at 4:30 p.m. and play at Lansing, Jan. 1.

Lenhoff Scores 33 in Triumph in OCC Game

Oakland Community College's Auburn Hills campus downed Highland Lakes' team, 113-107, Thursday night at Clifford Smart Junior High School with Glenn Lenhoff's 33 points setting the pace in the high-scoring encounter.

The Nikes upped their Michigan Community Junior College AA Northeastern Division record to 4-1, second behind powerful St. Clair CC. Highland slipped to 0-3 in the standings.

The Highlanders held a 12-8 lead early in the game and stayed even for the first 15 minutes, but Auburn Hills moved in front by eight and went to the locker room with a 53-49 advantage.

Lenhoff, former Southfield High School scoring star, had 22 points at the intermission and Harold Reiser of Hazel Park had 13 of his 24.

The game remained close in the last half with the Highlanders' (24 over-all) moving within two points of the Nikes (7-2) within four minutes to play. Then the winners pulled out to a 13-point margin to sew up the decision.

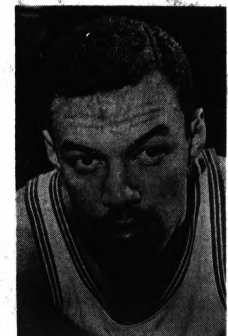

Ed Holloman's 18 points and Tom Cox's 17 paced the Auburn Hills' final half attack. Jerry Wright hit 17 and Ed Pruitt 13 for Highland Lakes in the late going.

Gordon Hamilton scored 21 points and grabbed 27 rebounds as the losers dominated the backboards. Reiser had 23 retrieves for Auburn Hills who benefitted from the host quintet's turnovers and personal foul trouble.

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — The NCR Golf Club in Dayton, Ohio, will be the site of the 1969 PGA championship under the co-sponsorship of the Greater Dayton Chamber of Commerce.

Santa to Make 'Cage' Stop at T-Hawk Contest

Santa Claus will leave the roof tops temporarily Saturday night and make a visit to the basketball court at Pontiac Northern where the Tomahawks meet the Holland Carvers in an NABL game.

The frosty nosed visitor from the North Pole will give away some gifts to the kids and their parents in the audience and he will also take part in the preliminary game which will feature a rematch between the Firebirds football team and the Pontiac Police team.

In their last preliminary meeting, the Firebirds won a one point decision.

The prelim starts at 6:30 and the Pontiac-Holland feature begins at 8:00 p.m. Tickets are $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students at the window.

Tomjanovich Paces 'M' in Cage Classic Victory

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A sterling performance by sophomore Rudy Tomjanovich helped give the University of Michigan a one-sided college basketball victory over Oregon State and a chance to fight it out with Arizona State tonight for the championship in the Sun Devil Classic.

Tomjanovich, a 6-foot-7 former prep All America, scored 22 points, 18 of them in the first half, and hauled down 20 rebounds Thursday night in Michigan's 80-61 swamping of the Beavers.

Arizona State beat several late rallies by Oklahoma State to edge the Cowboys 59-58.

Veterans Vince Fritz and Roy Peterson led an inexperienced Oregon State squad with 20 and 17 points.

With three sophomores in the lineup, the Beavers were badly rattled at the outset by Michigan's full court press and never fully recovered their poise.

When Tomjanovich finally cooled off, Senior guard Jim Pitts and veteran forward Denny Stewart took up the burden, finishing with 18 and 17 points for the Wolverines.

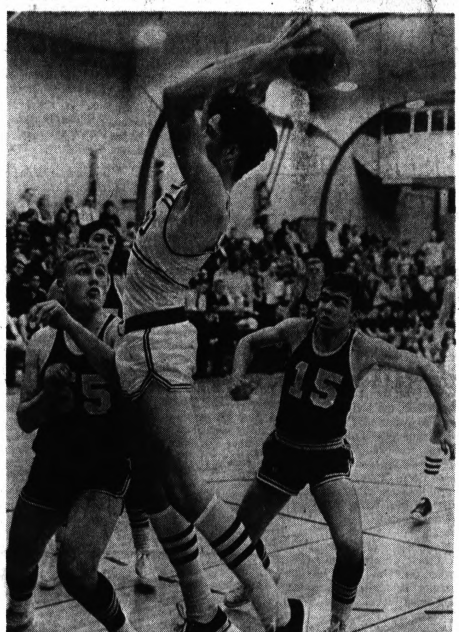

National champion UCLA and its Mr. A., as towering Lew Alcindor is called on the campus, go after the 38th consecutive victory tonight against Bradley in Los Angeles.

The Missouri Valley Conference Braves from Peoria, Ill., have an eight-game winning streak going and are primed for an all-out effort against the Bruins who haven't played in two weeks.

LOOKS FOR TEST

"Bradley should give us a stern test," said Johnny Wooden, UCLA coach. "The Braves have all of their starting five from last year, plus two top stars who were ineligible to play last season."

TWO HAND JUMPER — Lake Orion's Gary Mize, who stands 6-7, made a bucket full of points by grabbing off 20 rebounds and pushing several of them through for two pointers against Avondale last night. Avon players are Duane McLaughlin (55) and Bruce Renshaw (15). Mize scored 20 in the game.

Maples Overcome Big Deficit to Defeat Dondero

Birmingham Seaholm rallied until the final four minutes of play and then the Maples zipped past rival Royal Oak Dondero, 67-61 in a non-league game last night.

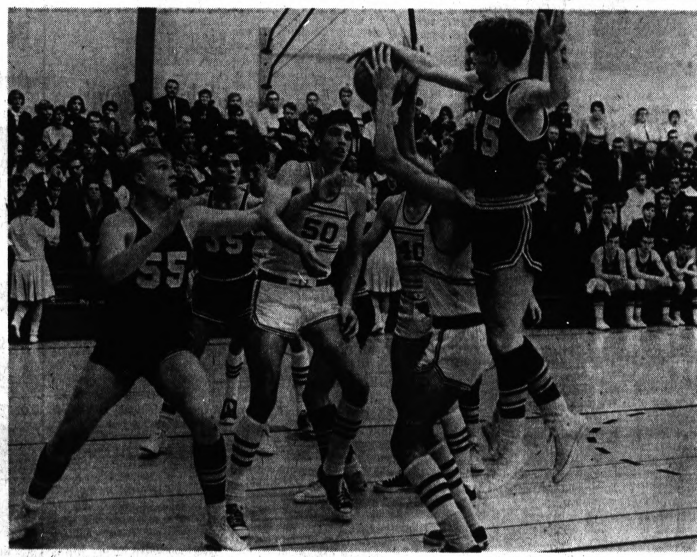

Dondero held a 33-29 halftime margin and at one time in the third quarter held a 46-36 lead.

Seaholm coach Lew Parry then sent the Maples into a zone press and Steve Keller, the only senior in the lineup in the final quarter, hit a couple key buckets and free throws to lead the 25-point spree.

Five important free throws in as many attempts by Ken Bratton were also big factors in the final seconds of play.

Seaholm had four men in double figures led by Keller's 14, while Russ Opycke had 15 for Dondero.

Flyers Shatter Goalie's Hopes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The soaring Philadelphia Flyers have penetrated Minnesota's stubborn defenses — and left Cesare Manigo's fortress in a shambles.

The Flyers blanked Minnesota 6-0 Thursday night ending goalie Manigo's shutout streak at three games — one short of the National Hockey League record — and hanging on to first place in the league's West Division race.

In the only other games scheduled, the Los Angeles Kings trimmed Pittsburgh 4-1 to remain two points behind Philadelphia in the scramble for the expansion division pennant.

Wings Still Missing Defenseman Young; 2 Attackers Return

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings will be short at least one defenseman when they take on the Maple Leafs in Toronto Saturday, but hopefully two forwards will be back in action.

Defenseman Howie Young, suffering an ear infection, will miss the Toronto game and probably the return match with the Leafs in Detroit Christmas night.

Manager — Coach Sid Abel said two other injured players, forward Bruce MacGregor and center Ted Hampson, may be ready to play Saturday.

Lakers, Utica, Groves, Holly Play Tonight

While Christmas dinner is still three days hence in most households, the appetites of numerous prep area hoopers will be considerably influenced tonight at five gyms.

The holiday feasts could taste particularly flavorful if 12 home teams prevail tonight on the Birmingham Groves and West Bloomfield playing courts.

Groves will entertain dangerous Southfield and an inactive Brighton crew invades West Bloomfield. The host quintets are both unbeaten.

The taste buds will likely be affected at Utica, too, where Troy and the Chieftains clash to see who will continue in close pursuit of undefeated Romeo in the Oakland A race.

In addition to West Bloomfield, the Bronco are entertaining Milford.

VITAL CLASH

A key Southeast Michigan Association meeting finds Royal Oak Kimball at Berkeley with the winner moving into a tie for first place with Southfield whose visit to Groves is a non-league endeavor.

The Blue Jays' invasion of Birmingham should draw a full house as both squads end the game without a blemish on their records.

Groves has won five straight and is trying to extend a string of 33 in a row over the past four regular seasons. The Falcons don't have the awesome power of their two units that went unbeaten the last two campaigns, but they have shown an ability to win the close ones.

Southfield is off to a 4-0 high-flying start under new coach Don Kaump. The Blue Jays, also, have shown they don't fold in tight ball games.

Kimball will take its deliberate tactics to Berkeley where the Bears have won their last two games after a losing debut. The Knights are 1-1 but rate a slight favorite due to their tougher opposition.

BALL CONTROL

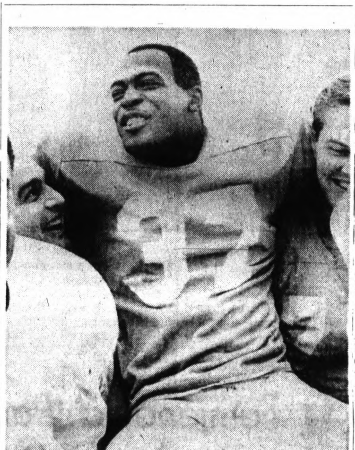

Utica is another ball-control quintet. Both it and Troy's Colts enter the game 2-1 and each needs a win to stay within a game of Romeo (4-0) in the league race.

The game is considered a toss-up. Troy has won its last two outings, including a surprising win over a taller Lake Orion (3-1) unit.

Utica, meanwhile, nipped Madison by four points and the Eagles, in turn, have an earlier four-point decision over Troy.

West Bloomfield has zipped through four foes, and is tied with Northville at 3-0 for the W-O top spot. The Lakers can assume sole possession of the lead by topping Brighton (1-1) who hasn't seen action for two weeks because of the flu.

Winless Milford could crack of his Navy career in the sub-victory column at Holly (1-2 marine service. He is currently in the league). The visiting unit in Norfolk, Va., as Redskins have shown better instant Chief of Staff for Operations mutual opponents West on the staff of Command-Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills er, Submarine Forces, Atlantic Andover than have the Brocos. ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Rear Adm. Draper L. Kauffmann, superintendent of the Naval Academy, announced Thursday that Capt. J. O. Cameron, a football and sports casters, warmly wrestling letter winner as Midshipman, will succeed Capt. Alan R. Cameron as Navy's director of athletics next summer.

Cameron completes a normal three-year duty tour in June and will return to sea. His next assignment has not yet been announced.

Once-Rejected QB Named Most Valuable in AFL

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A plicated offense with "making quarterback whose best season was an explosive team and at Notre Dame was 5-5, who ways dangerous. We utilize our was drafted 24th by a team that running backs as receivers never started him, then traded more than other teams do. That him away, is 1967's Most Valuable Player added pressure on the Oakland Raiders in the American Football League.

The idea is to play to win at all costs, running if that does it, and passing if that does it. Rauch describes his star as "gifted with a fine body" — it's 6-3 and 215 pounds — "and having all the tools. He's an exceptional athlete. He has a lot of confidence and enthusiasm. He exemplifies leadership and his enthusiasm carries through the team."

How good is he?

"There's no way to tell when he'll peak. He has improved in every game."

Lamonia leads the AFL in passing. He has 215 completions in 413 passes, 52.1 per cent, 3,177 yards and 29 touchdowns. All broke Raider records set by Tom Flores, the quarterback Oakland traded to Buffalo, along with hot-receiving end Art Powell, for Lamonia.

Bruins Injured List Still Grows

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins added a new member to their casualty list Thursday when it was disclosed that goalie Gerry Cheevers suffered a minor shoulder dislocation in Wednesday night's 6-3 National Hockey League defeat at Chicago.

The Bruins said that Cheevers suffered the dislocation when he collided with Chicago's Stan Mikita in the second period. The left shoulder popped back into place, but soreness remained.

Hoosiers Make First Visit to Rose Bowl

Big Ten's Representative Is Greeted by Dignitaries

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Indiana University's football team arrived on the Rose Bowl scene Thursday, the first time for the Hoosiers in the Big Ten-Pacific Coast series that began in 1947, and received the traditional welcome from the Tournament of Roses contingent.

The 50-man squad was greeted at Los Angeles International Airport in mid-morning and a fleet of tournament automobiles brought Coach John Pont and the party to their Pasadena hotel.

In Los Angeles, Coach John McKay and his Southern California Trojans were drilling for the New Year's Day clash.

The Hoosiers gathered under bright but chilly skies by the hotel pool and were welcomed by Mayor Boyd "Bud" Welin and other dignitaries and the ceremony was concluded with a familiar rite.

Tournament Queen Linda Jean Strickland and her princesses pelted the assembled players with oranges while the tournament band blared in the background.

FINE HOSPITALITY

"Your hospitality is appreciated," said Pont. "We are quite sure we will enjoy our stay in Pasadena."

Pont introduced his assistant coaches and each player. Defensive tackle Doug Crusan was momentarily missing, however, and Pont quipped:

"Doug missing already? And we've got 10 more days to go."

Crusan re-appeared in a short time.

The squad donned game uniforms for a camera session and then worked "to get the kinks out," as Pont phrased it.

Many noted that the temperature was some 17 degrees cooler here than it was when the team flew out of Indiana. But it was raining there and the sky was crystal clear here.

Pont observed that it may be to the Hoosiers' advantage that it was brisk here.

As for being the underdogs against Southern Cal, Pont said, "It doesn't particularly bother me. I can understand why."

"When you look at it, we won a lot of games coming from behind and in the final minutes, USC won most of its games early."

MVP — Veteran quarterback Daryle Lamonia of the Oakland Raiders was chosen as the Most Valuable Player in the American Football League. He leads the league in passing with 215 completions in 413 tries.

Status of QB in Doubt for 'Bonnet Bowl'

HOUSTON (AP) — Quarterback Bob Anderson's status as a starter was still in doubt Thursday as the Colorado Buffs and Miami Hurricanes worked out on a rain-swept field for Saturday's Bluebonnet Bowl classic.

Anderson, the brilliant sophomore who started every game while leading Colorado to an 8-2 season, insisted his injured ankle was in good shape but Coach Eddie Crowder postponed a decision on whether Anderson or senior Dick Kelly would get the starting call.

Meanwhile, the 7-3 Hurricanes of Coach Charlie Tate were practicing their first drill on the practice field adjacent to the 70,000-seat Rice University stadium.

A cold front began moving across the coastal area as the Hurricanes arrived at mid-morning.

The temperature was 76 degrees when the charter plane from Florida landed at International airport but it had dropped to the low 50s by the time the Hurricanes reached the practice field.

Films Convince New BC Coach

BOSTON (AP) — Boston College placed hopes of regaining major football prestige in the hands of Joe Yukica today while the University of New Hampshire went into the market for a new head coach.

The 36-year-old Yukica, a one-time Penn State star, abandoned Yankee Conference security after just two seasons at New Hampshire Thursday to accept the challenge to rebuild BC's sagging fortunes.

Yukica admitted nursing a boyhood ambition to move up in the coaching ranks, but movies played a role in his decision to accept the BC offer.

"I was interested in the Boston College job, but I did not apply for it," Yukica said after signing a three-year contract. "I was contacted by the college about a week ago. I looked at films of three games and saw some good things. I was encouraged."

Ingemar Held for 'Pushing' Demonstrator

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — An anti-U.S. Vietnam demonstrator reported former world heavyweight boxing champion Ingemar Johansson to police on a charge of assault and battery Thursday.

It was during a wild demonstration here Wednesday outside the U.S. Consulate that "Ingemar" allegedly knocked down an 18-year-old member of the Swedish NFLF group (National Liberation Front).

Demonstrators, celebrating the seventh anniversary of the NFLF, smashed a couple of windows at the consulate.

Police said Johansson saved two policemen from being beaten by the demonstrators. Johansson said he has no memory of knocking down anybody — "just pushing and shoving a little," he said.

Wintry Playoff Game Forecast

Rams Expect 'Colder' GB Reception

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Even the weather seemed to be favoring the Rams Thursday, but the Green Bay Packers brushed it off as they began final stages of preparation for their National Football League Western Conference championship game against Los Angeles at Milwaukee Wis., Saturday.

Whatever the weather, "we'll play freeze-out," veteran end Max McGee said. At Milwaukee, the thermometer touched 56 Thursday, record high for Dec. 21, but there was some evidence the weatherman would get back in touch with wintry reality by Saturday.

The forecast for game time (2 p.m. EST) Saturday was for fair skies and temperature in the 20s.

Meanwhile, several of the defending world champions' stalwarts, apparently nettled by repeated references to their status as compared to the youthful Coastal Division winners, had a few comments to make in defense of experience.

As a matter of fact, said 33-year-old offensive captain Bob Skoronski, "every time they mention my age I get very defensive."

Tackle Henry Jordan, noting that Saturday's contest will be his 12th post-season game, figured out that "the man I'm playing against (Tom Mack) was a 12-year-old watching me play pro football, I'd suppose."

ANOTHER TITLE

"But you have to remember, we are the champions, and we're trying to win another one, not trying to defend the one we've got. We didn't finish strong, but we had the division won, and it's hard not to look down the road at as big a game as this one will be."

Linebacker Ray Nitschke

Davis, himself, said feeling "I'd rather talk about this game afterward instead of before. I'm not worried about getting up — anyone who can't is in the wrong business; or has been in this business too long. I'm just worried about getting up too much."

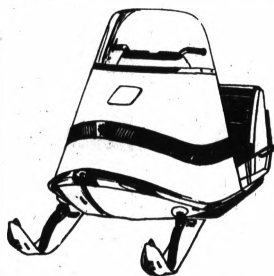

"We've been preparing for this since July." "The Packers will be ready," Nitschke promised. "That's been our history." The Packers will take their final pre-game workout in Green Bay Friday morning and are scheduled to arrive in Milwaukee by mid-afternoon.

Browns Migrate Into Cold for Playoff With Cowboys

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, who migrated south to escape the cold weather, were greeted by dropping temperatures, wind and dark skies Thursday in their second day of football practice here.

But Art Modell, the Browns owner, said he was still pleased with the practice session. There were no injuries and all the players worked at full speed. Modell said he heard the weather in Cleveland was mild and that it was expected to get worse here.

"We may bus them up there to Cleveland tomorrow and bring them back Saturday," he said, with a laugh.

The Browns are training here for their Sunday Eastern Conference championship game with National Football League rival Dallas. Another afternoon practice is scheduled for Friday and a short light workout for Saturday just before the team leaves for Dallas.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Martin John Barski of Western Michigan University, with a 3.33 average in business administration, was one of 33 senior football players awarded a $1,000 post-graduate scholarship by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Barski, of Norridge, Ill., played end on the Broncos football team this fall.

Browns Coach Blanton Collier predicted a "Heckuva ball game" with Dallas.

"They've got the best defense against rushing in professional football and their overall personnel is just terrific," he said.

"We can't stop them from doing just one thing because they do everything offensively. We've got to stop the whole thing."

He said quarterback Frank Ryan, who sat out the Browns game last week with a bruised forearm, was wearing a pad on the injury and shouldn't be af-

The Haig laughed, quipped and carried on conversation with his fingers—pencil and paper.

The Sioux won 4-3 in overtime on the second of two games by Roger Bamburak. He tallied 2-2-4 of the three-minute overtime.

The Huskies, who led 1-0 on Bob Marshall's goal earlier in the game, tied 2-2 and 3-2 before Herb Boxer knotted the score at 3-3 with a tally at 16:35 of the third period, forcing the overtime. Brian Watts had the other Tech goal.

SECOND LOSS

Bamburak and Mike Furlong each scored twice for North Dakota, now 8-2-1. The loss was Tech's second against six victories.

In the consolation game, New Hampshire blanked Western Ontario 4-0 in the first shutout in the history of the three-year-old tournament.

Al Clark scored twice for New Hampshire, which broke the game open with three goals in the first five-minute span in the game period.

"What do you like better—medal or match play golf?" Fred Corcoran, tournament director of the International Golf Association, asked.

"Golf," Hagen wrote unequally.

"Putters—are they born or made?" Corcoran threw in another query.

"Born—definitely born," Hagen replied.

Hagen, a former Rochester N.Y. caddy, was the greatest of the match play champions. He won five PGA titles, four in a row, when it was head-to-head, and was one of the boldest pickers of his day.

CHUCKS FOOD

He started the now $5 million pro tour in the 1920s when he and a few cronies competed for a cake. He used to play for what now would be considered chicken feed and would blow his money at the club bar before the sun had sunk.

Conn's, P. O. O. B. Y.
Down Cash Foes

Conn's Clothes used a three-man offensive to wear down the Little Giants, 90-61. Thursday night in one of two city men's basketball games. The other contest saw P.O.O.B.Y. pull away from Perry Droids in the third quarter for a 68-52 conquest.

Booker Hurran's 22 points, 19 by Mel DeWalt and 17 by Mack Jones led Conn's to its lopsided victory. The players had at least two field goals each for the winners.

Jerry Olsen's 22 paced the Giants.

Alvin Keel netted 22 and Emmett Elliott plays in P.O.O.B.Y. had four players in twin figures.

From a 4-5 halftime lead, the victors surged in from 55-34 after three periods.

Conn's was the Doug Sanders' home team. His words were the silkiest and his sweaters the fleeci-est. He wore white knicker-ers and black stockings. He was dead on the toes without a tie.

TUXEDO MATCH

One time he showed up at the first tee in a tuxedo after all night party. He beat the great Bobby Jones in a 72-hole match 11 and 10.

He associated with caddies and waiters and treated them with equal casualness. Playing with the Duke of Windsor, on one occasion, he yelled out, "Hey, Eddie, how the flag would fly, you know?" British fans were shocked.

He had a princely charm.

He "psyched" his opposition. He was playing in a PGE final against Joe Turnesa at Dallas in 1977, he stunned Turnesa by hitting five and six-putts throughout most of the match. When they came to the final hole, Turnesa needed an easy one-foot-er to stay alive. Turnesa looked at Hagen for another concession. But Hagen shook, staring into the sky. Turnesa became alarmed, figuring Hagen must be a hidden roll in the green. He putted and missed. Hagen chuckled—and collected.

Houston Interested Seattle Is AFL Possibility

HOUSTON, Texas AP) — The owners of the Houston Oilers said Thursday he may move the club to Seattle unless season ticket sales increase dramatically.

K. S. Adams Jr. said he was not making "any threats, just a statement" for several American Football League home games this season averaged more than 26,447 and Adams said he has lost all the money he wants to in operating the club. He estimated this year's loss would be about $300,000, about one-half of the 1968 loss.

"Let's be honest about this," Adams said. "Seattle is going to get a pro football team. There probably isn't going to be another expansion franchise granted until the American and National Football leagues complete their merger."

★ ★

Somebody is going to get a seat off that rich market," Adams said. "I've been in Seattle since I came to work with an outstanding deal. I'd be a fool to turn it down."

Adams said he could understand poor attendance during a losing season.

"But this year we had a winner and it didn't pick up," he said.

Houston moves into its first regular season game Saturday night at Miami with a one-game lead in the AFL Eastern Division. A victory or tie Saturday would send the Oilers into the championship game with Oakland, the western division winner.

The Oilers have an 8-4-1 record, their best since 1962. Home attendance totaled only 185,123 compared to 177,896 in 1966 when the club had a 3-11 record.

"I have to give the matter over to Seattle a lot of study," Adams said. "Leaving Houston would be a hard decision to make but I've lost as much as I can."

"Yes, he's the biggest reason we're here," declares Bartlett in the state. "Our team is No. 1 in the state."

Essary said more than 120 colleges are actively trying to recruit him to college.

Among those taking notice, he said, are Tennessee, Memphis state, North Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt, Southern Cal, Alabama Auburn, Michigan State, Tulsa, Louisville, Cincinnati and just about every college in the country.

The son of a 6-foot-1 certified public accountant and a registered nurse turned housewife, young Turner is shy about his accomplishments on the basketball court.

McGraw-Hill doesn't like to be measured, but submits to regular measurements by the school physician, Dr. Edgar S. Wilson, as been noting Steve's regular weight. He was an even 7-year-old last season.

"He can grow," Essay said. "The doctors think he will get taller."

Steve now weighs 240 pounds and Essay has had him running track and on a weight program since he was in the ninth grade.

The coach says, though, Steve is a good basketball player last season, but adds that the coach has vastly improved this year—"the difference between fear and dark."

Turner has averaged 24 points and 28 rebounds in the 12 games his team has played.

Picasso

A painted head of Picasso's design.

Reaching up is Arm, a 1959 bronze, to perhaps tickle the nose of an art student.

Two large-size head sculptures, created in 1931-32.

To create a style in art or music is, in any day or age, a difficult problem in creativity. Pablo Picasso has been an innovator of styles and methods throughout his life. He is a legend in the art world who is still at work.

Born in 1881 in Malaga, Spain, he mastered the realistic technique by age 14 and, at 16, was running his own studio in Barcelona, where he had dropped out of the School of Fine Art.

His work ranged through "periods," when one overall theme or color highlighted his efforts. His "blue" period was when he was impoverished and just settling in Paris. His "rose" period was when he began to find success and associated with talented people in other fields, such as Gertrude Stein, the writer. His "African" period, by 1907, was when he worked with primitive and archaic art of the African tribes.

In 1908, he and Georges Braque produced works which came to be known as Cubism, based on simultaneous viewing of one object from many points of view. It was a new expression and, even as painters around the world emulated it, Picasso entered his "classic" period, marked by figures of monumental proportions.

Just prior to World War II, he touched surrealism, that art which depicts the happenings of the unconscious mind, but he moved away from such a style. During the War, despite Nazi condemnation, he continued to produce his sometimes horrifying distortions of his subjects, but never in a surrealist sense.

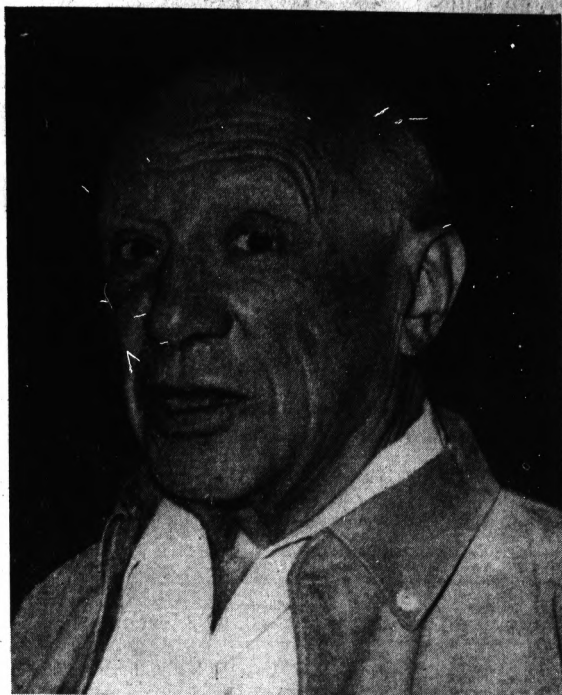

Afterward, he entered into the "found objects" period, making art from whatever came to hand. This led to the study of folded sheet metal creations.

Even as he worked on one style he created works in another, producing in one "period" of effort more material than some artists create in a lifetime.

A collection of his sculptures, bronzes, ceramics, collages, sheet metal and cubist constructions, with several prints, some never before seen in the United States, has been gathered together in a presentation at the New York City Museum of Modern Art. The show spans 65 years of Picasso's creative life.

A study for Man with Sheep, an early 1940 pen and ink drawing.

The man who created styles and forms, Pablo Picasso.

This man gets on eye-level to observe Cat, a bronze made in 1941.

Sheet-metal abstraction gazes back at the viewer.

A near-life-size creation, Man with a Sheep, made in 1944 in Paris

This Week's PICTURE SHOW by AP Photographer ROBERT WANDS.

Administration Gets Okay to Negotiate, Enter Indicom Pact

The Waterford Township provide the hardware, training, support, materials and maintenance for the federally financed Indicom project. The contract is to be negotiated last night by the board of education.

District Voters Face 3 Issues in 2 Years

Voters of the Waterford Township School District will be faced with at least three election issues in the next two years, Supt. of Schools Dr. Don O. Tatroe told board of education members last night.

In 1968, according to Tatroe, district voters should be asked to consider the renewal of the system's 15-mill operating property tax.

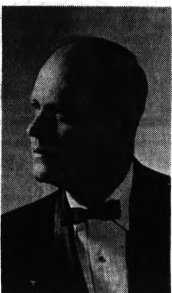

Tatroe said "1968 is the last year of collection for this tax and the school district would have difficulty operating even half-days for all children for all year if it were not renewed."

In 1969, said Tatroe, the school district will need to consider a bond issue to construct a junior high school, two elementary schools and certain building additions.

"And we must present again the 7 1/2 mill operating tax which was defeated on Nov. 20. Personally, I think an election on this question should be deferred until there is some tangible evidence of community support for it," Tatroe said.

Mason Lodge Will Install New Officers

Charlie J. Woody of 1639 Joslyn will be installed as worshipful master of the Brotherhood Lodge 561, F&AM, at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Roosevelt Temple, 22 State.

CHARLIE WOODY

Other officers to be installed are Earlmon Howard of 3108 Giddings, Pontiac Township, senior warden; Clayton Lovelace of 2437 Shellbrook, Pontiac Township, treasurer; and Lester Oles of 2034 Knollwood, Pontiac Township, secretary.

Also to be installed are Pontiac Township residents Fred Wilder of 3863 Bessie, junior deacon, and Max Lee of 1784 Briarvale, senior deacon.

Stewards will be Dennis England of 78 Summit; Charles Goodman of 3390 Thomas, Oxford Township; Robert Mabry of 523 Valencia; Dan O'Connor of 3579 S. Adams, Pontiac Township; Jimmy Patrick of 126 Princeton; and Ervin Potter of 177 Perkins.

Past Master Francis Mahaffy of 979 Berwick will be chaplain while John Richardson of 108 Court will be marshal and Dick Reed of 337 Baldwin will be tyler.

Insult Pay Sought

NEW DELHI (#) — Workers in New Delhi's electric power division have asked for "insult compensatory allowance" for maltreatment and insults allegedly given them by division officials.

Injured Singer Recalls Little of the Incident

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Jimmie Rodgers says he remembers being "pulled off the road by an auto or something with very bright lights" just before he sustained a skull fracture Dec. 1 near a Los Angeles freeway.

Rodgers, 33, said Thursday that he does not remember, however, what happened after stopping his car and does not remember getting out of the car or talking with police.

The singer, found unconscious in his parked car near the freeway, was on the critical list for more than a week and underwent brain surgery twice.

Police, in an investigation, said that Rodgers had been stopped in his car by an off-duty policeman who was joined by two officers. Police said Rodgers apparently fell, but other details were lacking in the police explanation.

In other business last night, the board approved preliminary plans for a football grandstand at Charles S. Mott High School with seating for 1,812 spectators and a full capacity of 2,100. PLAN AUTHORIZATION Architects Wakely - Kushner Associates, Inc., of St. Clair Shores also were authorized to proceed with final plans. The estimated $65,000 construction cost would finance the grandstand superstructure, seating, foundation, rough plumbing and a press box.

A 2 1/2-year contract was ratified last night by the board and Local 1285, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, which represents about 250 custodians, maintenance personnel, cafeteria workers and school bus drivers working in the district. According to school officials, the pact includes a 15 to 16 per cent economic package increase over the 2 1/2-year period. Jack Coja, president of the local, said he was happy to sign the contract, but indicated his union had to make several sacrifices primarily because of the current deficient economic status faced by the district. "I do not believe the taxpayers of this community would want to know how our people are underpaid compared with the work they do," said Coja.

Also last night, the board authorized the administration to seek quotations for the sale of 28.41 acres of school-owned property adjacent to Mason Junior High School.

The land, at one time, was proposed for a public park. A report on the 1967 football program at Waterford Kettering, Waterford Township and Mott high schools indicated that the season resulted in a $459 deficit, disbursements totaling $9,863 and revenue amounting to $9,404. The fund balance, however, stands at $1,125. The board also accepted the resignations of two teachers.

$1.2-Million Budget Cut Eyed for Waterford Schools

By HUDSON WILLSE JR.
Budget reductions totaling $1,219,000 for the 1968-69 school year in the Waterford Township School District were recommended to the board of education last night by Supt. of Schools Dr. Don O. Tatroe.

If the proposal is accepted, as presented, 62 teaching positions will be eliminated and shortened class days will go into effect for secondary students and first-through-fourth graders.

Marked for review by the board, staff and citizens before a final plan is adopted, Tatroe's recommendations were presented one month after district voters turned down a proposed 7½-mill property tax increase.

Tatroe said that to support the school system in a normal way in 1968-69, a budget of $11,722,500 would be required.

Tatroe defined normal as meaning supporting pupil-teacher ratio standards and other services provided in the 1965-66 and 1966-67 school years.

Related Stories, Page C-14

"Unfortunately, our income for this year (1968-69) will probably only amount to $10,475,500 — assuming a 5 per cent state aid formula improvement and a $5.5 million increase in state equalized valuation — and impressive reductions must be made," said Tatroe.

"After deliberations with many of our staff directly, and most of them indirectly, I offer the following recommended budget reductions for 1968-69," Tatroe said.

The Family of Jesus Is a Universal One

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The family of Jesus was more than brothers, sisters, aunts and cousins. Jesus also had a universal relationship. The following is the last of a five-part Christmas series on the kinsmen of Christ.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Religion Writer

A track in the snow winds up the hill. It is night. A man carries a lantern showing the path. "I am the way," he said. There is a big house on the top of the hill and warm light glows through the open door.

It's home, as the guide explains it. The paternal manorhouse. Humanity's joint estate.

"Come . . . Jesus said. "In my Father's house are many rooms." It's a spacious, magnificent abode, the consummate habitation, an inheritance for the family of man. "Behold, the dwelling of God is with men."

That is the greater, ultimate Christmas attested by that newcomer of Christmas, his wider affiliation, his all-in-all consanguinity. "I am in the Father, and you in me, and I in you."

He was a man, surely, complete manhood, an individual of history, "made like his brethren in every respect." Scripture says, with a flock of assorted relatives — shepherds, allies, the disenfranchised, the solicited.

But he also asserted a larger lineage, of profounder roots and vaster progeny. "Before Abraham, I am . . . I and the Father are one." And he claimed a universal succession. "I am the vine, you are the branches."

You Can Tell Winter's Here

Winter crept into Michigan today with icy winds, bone-chilling temperatures and an indication there might be a white Christmas after all.

After enjoying a relatively balmy day yesterday with the mercury climbing to 60 on the last day of autumn, Pontiac residents shivered as winter arrived at 8:17 a.m. today.

The sudden switch followed a tornado watch for the southeastern corner of the state last night. No twisters were sighted however.

Here is the official Weather Bureau day-by-day prediction:

TODAY—Considerable cloudiness, very windy at times and much colder with steady or slowly falling temperatures. Scattered snow flurries are likely. Low tonight 8 to 16.

TOMORROW—Partly sunny and continued cold with chance of snow flurries.

LBJ Reported in Thailand After Australia Stop

By the Associated Press
President Johnson took off from Australia today on his way home, and later was reported to have arrived in Thailand for the night.

DARWIN, Australia (AP) — President Johnson left Australia today after attending memorial services for Australian Prime Minister Harold Holt and conferring with his Vietnam allies but kept his next stop a secret.

Johnson's plane flew north from Melbourne and stopped in Darwin, on the north central coast, for a refueling stop which was not announced in advance.

The route indicated that the President was on his way to visit U.S. troops in Vietnam or Thailand rather than that he was flying direct to Washington via the Pacific.

There have also been rumors the President would stop in Rome to talk with Pope Paul VI.

Unita, the Italian Communist Party paper, indicated the party was ready with a giant demonstration against U.S. policy in Vietnam.

TALKS WITH OFFICIALS

During his 36 hours in Australia, Johnson talked with the nation's interim prime minister, John McEwen, and leaders of South Vietnam, South Korea, New Zealand, Thailand and the Philippines — America's allies in the Vietnam war — as well as with Indonesia's foreign minister, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew of Singapore.

Holiday Closings in City Reported

Most Pontiac area stores and other businesses will be closed Sunday and Monday in observance of Christmas.

Pontiac State Bank, Community National Bank and First Federal Savings of Oakland will close at their regular times tomorrow and reopen Tuesday morning.

City offices will be closed from noon today through Monday while county offices will close today at the normal time and reopen Tuesday morning.

Pontiac's main post office lobby will be open for mail deposits, access to locked boxes and purchase of stamps from machines.

Mail will be picked up from deposit points on normal holiday schedules and processed from outgoing dispatch. There will be no regular window or delivery services.

DESCRIBES RESCUE PLAN — Dennis McCarty, project manager, tells reporters yesterday how he hopes to free 17 men trapped in California's Tehachapi Mountains as the result of a cave-in. The 17, trapped for 19 hours behind a cave-in inside a mountain, crawled through a passageway to safety today. It was feared they might be trapped for as long as four or five days.

City Cuts to Set Back Fire Dept. 10 Years

By MEL NEWMAN

The cut in Pontiac's municipal services due to the petitioned income tax referendum statistically will set back the city fire department's status 10 years.

There were four Pontiac fire-stations, operated by 125 men, in the late 1950s.

In a few weeks, there will be four Pontiac fire stations operated by some 130 men.

While other services will be strongly affected by the budgeting-out of $542,000 in municipal facilities called for by the Pontiac City Commission Tuesday, it is doubtful that any of these are as immediately necessary to the city as to the fire department.

It appears now, according to Police Chief William K. Hanger, that layoffs in police department personnel will be restricted to clerical help and that cuts in operational equipment will be relatively small.

FIRE DEPT. BUDGET

Fire personnel, the ranks, Firefighter's Association leaders and commanding officers — considered the department's manpower allotment, previous to any cuts, as barely minimal.

Capt. Jack Douglas, association president, said he hoped "no danger to life would be involved because of a fire at a time in the future when several firemen might be off duty."

Eighteen months ago, Pontiac was served by 152 firemen.

Through retirements and job changes, 10 men have since left the department and these have never been replaced.

ACTUAL SHORTAGE

Thus, Douglas points out, "the department will be short 22 men, not 12."

Bill's Backers Are Hopeful for Passage in '68

LANSING (AP) — Despite the defeat of the open housing bill in the House of Representatives, a spirit of optimism prevails among backers of the controversial measure.

The optimism was accompanied by a feeling of relief on the part of all concerned that the arduous 11-week special legislative session, called by Gov. Romney on Oct. 10, was finally over.

U. S. Sen. William Milliken, who has been battling for the bill in the absence of Romney, called the House's rejection of the proposal "a disgrace" but predicted the Legislature still would pass the law.

"The battle has really just begun," said Milliken, in a comment that summed up the feelings of most of those who supported the bill, killed by a 55-47 House vote.

House Democratic leader William Ryan of Detroit, one of the bill's leading supporters, described chances for passage in the regular session, which begins Jan. 10, as "real good."

NO DETERRENT

Senate Majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, said he felt the defeat of the measure in the House would not deter the effort to achieve passage in the regular session.

The road hopefully will be smoothed in the regular session, he said, by a State Supreme Court decision in a case which seeks to determine whether the State Constitution authorizes the State Civil Rights Commission to deal with housing discrimination.

Although Romney has received daily criticism from Democrats for being absent while the Legislature considered the bill, both Ryan and Lockwood said they felt his presence would not have saved it.

The governor's presence "certainly would have helped," said Ryan, but he added that with so little time remaining in the special session, it was doubtful that Romney could have twisted enough arms to pass the bill.

'CAN'T HIDE'

"The governor and all those responsible can run, but they can't hide," said Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit.

But Young agreed that "we should bury this one gracefully and start fresh on Jan. 10."

Rocky Top GOP Pick—King

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says the Republicans probably would lose most of the Negro vote and the presidency next year by nominating Richard M. Nixon.

King said yesterday in an exclusive interview that the only Republican potential candidate who could defeat President Lyndon B. Johnson is New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

"Rockefeller would probably be the first Republican in recent years to get a majority of Negro votes if he were the nominee," King said. The New York governor would decisively split both the Negro and labor votes, King said, and "would get the great group of disenfranchised independent voters."

But, King said, neither Nixon nor Gov. Ronald Reagan of California—another Republican possibility—could carry the Negro vote against Johnson.

"I'm not optimistic about the Republicans nominating Rockefeller because the Republicans have a kind of chronic obsession for losing," King said.

King said he was not endorsing a candidate.

King said his announced plan for massive, disruptive demonstrations next spring in the nation's Capital to demand jobs or income for the poor would reflect "a consensus in the nation itself for what we are demanding."

Mayors of large cities, businessmen and other groups favor action now in massive doses, King said. "So the climate is alive in the nation and the thing to do is to mobilize this public opinion and give them a movement through which they can say to Congress, 'This must be done.'"

EFFECT

He was asked if his inviting antiwar groups to join the movement would kill its chances of favorable response from Congress.

"I think not," he said. "I think the power of this movement will be numbers and perseverance. We hope to make this movement so massive and monumental that it can't be ignored, no matter who is in it."

These Gift Ideas Could Bring Big Smiles to Youngsters' Faces

BY JUNE ELERT

Have you run out of gift ideas for the younger set? Here are some things which may draw bigger smiles than the old standbys of clothing or toys.

The gadget-conscious 12-year-old boy would love a stem-mounted bicycle speedometer to record his speed and mileage. It sells for about $5.

For baby's room or bathtime, we found a scatter rug and towels in several sizes, imprinted with Dr. Dolittle characters in hand-screened print on white terry. The rug is $4.50, towel and washcloth prices vary.

Mod parents won't have to trade their bucket-seated wheels in for a sedate sedan upon baby's arrival, with a console car seat with padded back and head rest, cushioned seat, slide-preventive strap and circular hand bar. About $13.

There is an emergency repair kit for bike or jalope selling for about $4 which would delight any mechanically inclined youngster from 12 to 30.

FOR TEEN-AGER

Knitting bags in tubular style, deep enough to hold long needles easily come in various styles to please the teen-age girl for $2 to $3.

A mess kit for summer camping with double-purpose handle, fry pan, kettle and cup nested compactly in a sturdy carrying case sells for $2.98, for either boy or girl.

For the young fisherman, how about a complete spinning outfit, rod, reel and line for $15.98.

Sen. Fulbright Tells Arkansans: Viet Is Mistake, Peace Best

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright is telling his Arkansas constituents U.S. involvement in Vietnam is a mistake and "the best support we can give our troops is to seek an end to the fighting by a negotiated settlement."

"I am convinced from all the evidence presented thus far this war is not worth the price we are paying," said Fulbright, who will be running for reelection next year.

He added, in a Thursday report to his constituents: "This was not a case of aggression, as we have been led to believe, but rather a civil war

Army Deserter From Pontiac Is in Sweden

A 21-year-old Pontiac man who deserted the Army to avoid going to Vietnam has reportedly found a temporary but friendly home in Sweden.

Ray Jones, whose local home address is unavailable, said he deserted his military post in Europe when he heard a rumor that he was to be transferred to Vietnam.

Newsmen report that he is off to a good start in making a living in Sweden but that Jones, a Negro, has said he faced racial prejudice directed at what he termed Afro-Americans.

Jones "is trying to make the best of a new life, that of a deserter," according to a news report. "It is the life he chose but not what he expected."

It is apparently easier for a foreigner to live and work in Sweden if he is a deserter. The Vietnam war is extremely unpopular in that Scandinavian country, he said.

The Pontiac soldier is said to have opposed the war from the beginning.

Sympathetic Swedes helped Jones to overcome language, race, financial and housing barriers, sources close to him report.

He hopes to earn a good living to support a wife and son by teaching jazz ballet. Already, "Ray Jones" dance classes are popular around Stockholm.

His German wife, Gabriele, works as a foreign language secretary in Stockholm. The couple have a son, Ray Jones IV.

Jones, who married while still in the Army, has hopes of returning to the United States.

GTW Mishap Blocks Traffic

A Grand Trunk Western Railroad freight train, stalled by breaks in one of its engines, delayed rush hour traffic in downtown Pontiac for about an hour this morning.

Railroad officials blamed the weakening draw bar links, causing two connection breaks as the train was crossing West Huron near West Side Track.

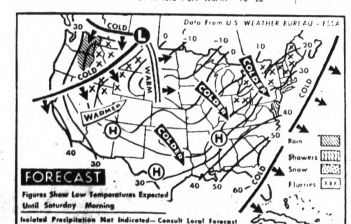

The first break occurred shortly before 8 a.m. and the crossing was not cleared until 9 a.m.

A Grand Trunk spokesman said the incident was "beyond our control."

Bank Board Announces 6 Promotions

Several promotions were announced yesterday at a special meeting of the Community National Bank board of directors. G. M. McLeod of 2997 Old Orchard, Waterford Township, and Carroll L. Osmun of 1815 Woodland, Sylvan Lake, were named senior vice presidents. They were formerly general vice presidents.

Osmun has been a member of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors for the past six years. He is a past president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, past member of the Pontiac Boys' Club board of directors and past chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund's Commercial Division.

McLeod belongs to the National Association for Bank Auditors and Controllers and the American Institute of Banking and is a member of Delta Sigma Nu fraternity.

CRAWFORD SOMERVILLE

Jack D. Crawford and William N. Somerville were advanced to vice presidencies. Crawford of 3502 Lakewood, Waterford Township, and Somerville of Royal Oak were previously assistant vice presidents.

Somerville joined CNB in 1963, while Crawford joined in 1949.

MAIVILLE FETTI

Two new assistant cashiers also were named. They are John M. Maiville of 6825 Bridge Lake, Springfield Township, and Owen H. Fetti of 4870 Coolidge, Troy.

Maiville is director of business development of the Installment Loan Department, and Fetti has been assistant manager of the Bloomfield office since 1965.

Survey Shows Money Is Part of Teacher Woes

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first of a two article on a recent survey of Birmingham Teachers.)

BIRMINGHAM — What makes teachers in the Birmingham School District so unhappy? Money would appear to be the main problem, but it goes much deeper, according to a citizens' panel which made a detailed study of the situation.

Calling themselves the Association of Birmingham Citizens for Schools (ABCS), the group recently sent out a questionnaire that revealed, among other things, that 323 teachers didn't intend to stay in the system next year.

It also showed another 257 teachers were not yet sure they would stay — which made it

City Man Shot in Church Lot

A Pontiac man was shot early today in a church parking lot at 210 Hughes.

In fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital is Robert A. Farmer, 36, of 218 Mechanic. Police said he was shot in the abdomen and right leg.

Farmer told police he and a companion were about to enter the car about 3:30 a.m. when two men suddenly jumped up from the ground in front of the vehicle.

He said one of the assailants yelled, "This is a stickup," but neither approached before the shots were fired.

Police said the car apparently had been entered in a larceny attempt.

Farmer's companion was not injured, according to officers.

Dayan Hosts Romney for Mideast Chat

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan ate breakfast today with Defense Minister Moshe Dayan. They reportedly discussed the Mideast situation and Israel's defense problems.

Romney, the major announced candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, is on a 13-nation, round-the-world fact-finding tour that will take him to Vietnam for Christmas.

He attended a luncheon yesterday, hosted by Foreign Minister Abba Eban.

"I hope my nation and yours will be able to resolve the unsettled disputes in which they are involved," Romney told the luncheon, referring to Vietnam and the Mideast disputes, respectively.

Later the governor spent some time with Premier Levi Eshkol and Chief of Staff Yitzhak Rabin.

Romney's schedule today called for a flight over the northern part of Israel, a return to Jerusalem and crossing into Jordan over the Allenby Bridge at Jericho.

Fire Dept. to Be Set Back Years

To the firemen themselves, the layoffs and station closings mean the following:

- That a dozen of their fellow workers will be left without jobs beginning the new year.
- Those remaining will be unable to do their jobs in keeping with the normal capabilities of a modern department.

But what will be the actual effect of the layoffs and closings on the city?

GRIM TASK

"We're faced with the prospect of protecting a city which has built shopping centers and numerous housing units in the past 10 years with a force no bigger than that previous to this growth," said Fire Chief Charles Marion.

He pointed out that the areas presently served by the stations scheduled to be shut down will be affected in the greater time span from an alarm being sent in these areas to the arrival of men and equipment.

The stations, No. 5 at 287 W. Huron and No. 6 at 53 Walton, cover the western and north-central portions of the city, respectively.

Individual firemen will be called upon to carry extra work loads so that only one engine company — rather than two — will be lost from service.

By a city law passed by referendum in 1965, Pontiac firemen work a maximum 56-hour week. Previous to the 1965 vote, a 63-hour maximum was in effect.

A recently passed state law will limit all firemen in Michigan cities to a 56-hour week.

"We're going to do the best we can," said Marion.

Douglas said the department's 11-man sick call Saturday was in fact, a legitimate series of illnesses and not a protest move. He added that a sick call of about eight men after the layoffs could temporarily close down two more stations.

NOTHING

"A communicable disease epidemic could happen at the wrong time," he said, adding that "fires don't schedule themselves."

Marion said the outcoun is coming, ironically, "at a time when the national and local economy is healthy — a time when the department should be looking toward expansion in personnel and the number of stations."

Douglas found it further ironic that, because Pontiac's classification for industrial insurance will suffer, premiums for business and industry would rise and "more money will be spent in the face of less fire protection."

Thursdays, the judge attended the annual Loin's Club Christmas gift exchange meeting. O'Cleary's gift to one member was the arrest warrant.

The mood of the department now seems to be that the die is cast, and it is a matter of waiting and hoping for the income tax to pass.

Junior Editors Quiz on ICE CREAM BARS

QUESTION: How do they make chocolate-covered ice cream bars?

ANSWER: Ice cream is made from milk and cream with sugar and flavoring added, as well as small amounts of some stabilizer such as gelatin. In some cases, eggs are added.

When the ice cream has been mixed and stirred, it is called a mix. To make chocolate-covered bars, the mix is run from the freezer to a mold (2). The mold shapes the bars. Then the sticks are put in (3).

The mold goes into a brine tank which is very cold (4). Passing into a tank of water (5), the bars are loosened from the mold. They go on to chain drive conveyor where they are held upright and dipped into liquid chocolate (6).

Next, they go into a cooling system and then into bags all done automatically by machinery.

What happens then? You take over. You may just look and bite (A); in summer, swing and bite (B); in winter, read and bite (C); just any old time, have a party (D) or give your dog a treat (E). (F) shows some new ideas in ice cream bars — other good tasting things have been added, such as toffee.

Arrest Warrant Given in Spirit

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Judge Edward O'Cleary routinely issued a bench warrant when a traffic charge defendant failed to appear Wednesday in Municipal Court.

Thursdays, the judge attended the annual Loin's Club Christmas gift exchange meeting. O'Cleary's gift to one member was the arrest warrant.

The mood of the department now seems to be that the die is cast, and it is a matter of waiting and hoping for the income tax to pass.

Police Recover Their Present

PLANTATION, Fla. (AP) — An electric shoe-shine kit, donated to the police department for Christmas, was recovered about 12 hours after police said it was swiped from under the station house Christmas tree.

Army Pvt. Robert Hogan of Pompano Beach and Ft. Benning, Ga., a visitor to the police station, posted $500 bond Thursday after he was charged with the theft.

Nearly one in four officials and managers in Philadelphia city government is a Negro. About 30 per cent of the city's two million residents are Negro.

Senator Blows His Horn for Vietnam Whistle-Stops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As the nation, I have an obligation to go to the scene of the Vietnam story.

And while the Pentagon can't assure every candidate of coming under Vietnam fire, there is always that possibility.

"My wife is concerned about it," conceded Sen. Birch E. Bayh Jr., D-Ind., who announced Wednesday he will make a two-to-three-week tour of the war front. "But there are 500,000 guys over there taking that risk now, so I guess the senator from Indiana can take a chance."

Bayh, who is up for reelection next November, said there was "no question that the Vietnam issue is dividing Indiana and

"While there, I hope to see as many Hoosier fighting men as possible," he told a news conference.

Q: Who is paying for the trip? he was asked.

A: "I'll be on official business," he replied. In other words, the government.

Q: Which of your committee assignments involves Vietnam?

A: Judiciary.

Q: Subcommittee on refugees — I'll be looking into refugee problems.

HE'LL PROBE AID Bayh emphasized his main job would be to dig into the U.S. economic aid program in Vietnam. He battled this year with the Agency for International Development (AID) over what he termed "corruption and gross mismanagement" of the Vietnam effort.

"Now is the first opportunity I have had to devote the time necessary to examine the progress — or lack of it — firsthand," he said.

Q: The Senate just sent another candidate, Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., to Vietnam for a month to do the same thing — investigate the aid program. Did you consult him?

A: No.

Q: Will you be looking into the land-reform program?

A: I certainly will.

EFFECTIVENESS ASKED Q: How effective is the Saigon government's program of giving the land to the South Vietnamese peasants?

A: Substantial.

Q: Well, with 80 to 90 percent of the country able to be farmed, just how much of that has been given to the peasants?

A: Ah... substantial... AID knows how much.

I will not become an instant expert after my tour, Bayh said, stressing that he would avoid the "official 25-cent tour" and dig behind the scenes for the facts.

Q: It seems a lot of congressmen are going to Saigon these days. Did you ever consider going to Hanoi?

A: Why, no, no. They would just use that for propaganda purposes. Besides, people in Hanoi will tell you only what they want you to know.

On Computer Contract

Bid Answers Needed

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Now that Burroughs Corp. has won a $60-million Air Force computer contract that originally went to International Business Machines for $114 million, some interesting questions seek answers.

Specifically:

- Were the original requirements written in such a manner that only IBM could qualify for the contract?
- What accounting method did the Air Force use in calculating that the original IBM bid, which was not only the highest but was nearly double the price of other bids, represented a "price difference" not of significant magnitude?
- Is the electronic computer industry, which is as important to the information revolution as the steam engine was to the industrial revolution, really so lopsided that only IBM was able to fill the original order?

• Why, of 15 companies which requested copies of the Air Force's needs, did only four companies respond with bids?

SHOULD BENEFIT

This is not to suggest that the Air Force is guilty of wrongdoing. It may be that its demands were justifiably high and that it can defend itself on every score.

But, if clear answers are available, the companies, the country, the Air Force and the various agencies investigating the computer industry should benefit. These answers are not that obvious so far.

The computer caper began July 29, 1966, when the Air Force released copies of its requirements for a computing system to handle personnel and accounting work. Bidders were allowed 150 days to submit plans. Of the 15 which received RFPs, or request for proposals, Honeywell, Inc., Radio Corp. of America, Burroughs and IBM submitted proposals.

IBM OFFER

IBM's offer was for $114 million. The others submitted offers to do the job for many millions of dollars less, but after careful deliberation the IBM offer was accepted in April 1967.

"The winning proposal met the mandatory requirements of the request for proposal," the Air Force explained in a 1,500-word statement. "The other proposals were nonresponsive to the mandatory requirements in some respect."

Soon after, the Air Force received complaint letters from other potential vendors.

Insiders have made it clear in the future the Air Force could look elsewhere for bidders, that the losing companies no longer were interested. It was strongly suggested that the requirements were tailored to IBM abilities.

The General Accounting Office and congressmen also joined in the criticism, and in response the Air Force released a detailed explanation last May.

DIFFERENT EVALUATIONS

Its judging, the Air Force said, was made after five different evaluations:

- Analyses of software, or the responsiveness of the bidder's programs to the Air Force's special needs;
- Technical characteristics;
- Vendor support, or the completeness of instruction manuals, technical literature and assistance in maintenance.

Over-all cost.

In determining costs, the Air Force explained, long-range as well as immediate considerations were calculated. It obviously felt that over the six-year period the computer would be used, the savings would mount.

Nevertheless, in July the Air Force canceled its award to IBM, and new proposals were permitted from the interested bidders.

On evaluation of the new proposals, Burroughs this week received the highest score from Air Force examiners and so was awarded the bid at nearly one-half the original price.

Now, happily, answers will be sought to questions that remain. And, hopefully, improvements will be made as a result of these answers.

Red Chinese Won't Take Defecting Prof

HONG KONG (AP) — Dr. Paul H. Liu, identified as a former science professor at the University of California, tried to defect to Communist China this week but the Reds wouldn't take him, British border officials reported today.

The officials said Liu broke through the barriers Tuesday and stood on the Chinese side of the border for 30 hours in the cold without food, until Chinese officials told him on Wednesday he would not be permitted to enter China.

The reason for the Chinese refusal was not known, the British officials said.

A spokesman for the U.S. consulate said Liu went to the consulate on Dec. 15 and renounced his U.S. citizenship, saying he wanted to enter China.

LEGATIES

The spokesman said the doctor was told he could enter China legally without risking loss of his citizenship, but because he was a scientist.

The State Department in Washington has not yet acted on Liu's renunciation request, the spokesman said.

News in Brief

Coins valued at some $200 were stolen from M & S Auto Parts by a burglar who smashed through a window to enter the building. It was reported to Pontiac police early today.

Holden Fuel Oil Co. of Madison Heights reported to Waterford Township police yesterday the larceny of parts and fuel oil, total value of $500, from an automobile parked at 6422 Pontiac Lake.

Trains Collide; 12 Hospitalized

Crack-Up Occurs at a Siding in Kansas

WAMEGO, Kan. (AP) — A train crowded with 190 holiday passengers collided with a freight train at a siding just east of Wamego last night.

The Kansas highway patrol said some 50 passengers were injured, none seriously.

A check of hospitals in Wamego and by Manhattan and Topeka, Kan., disclosed that only 15 persons apparently remained hospitalized overnight. About 20 others were treated and released.

"The train slowed down and the conductor said we would be pulling over for a freight," Lt. Phillip Way of Ft. Riley, Kan., said. "It was talking to my wife when all of a sudden there was one big thud. The train moved backward and then came to a halt."

The Union Pacific's Portland Rose, Train No. 18, was carrying passengers en route from the west to Kansas City, 106 miles east of Wamego. The train was made up of four coaches, two baggage cars and a locomotive.

EN ROUTE TO LA

The 70-car Union Pacific freight train was en route from Kansas City to Los Angeles.

A Union Pacific spokesman in Omaha, Neb., said the Portland Rose pulled onto a siding to let the freight pass and apparently stuck out one end of the siding too far, fouling the main line.

The engine and one baggage car of the Portland Rose turned over, as did eight cars and all three units of the freight locomotive.

"I was going to sleep when the train stopped," said Windy Watson, Kansas Wesleyan College in Salina, Kan., a junior at Kansas Wesleyan College in Salina, Kan.

"I didn't pay too much attention because we had stopped several times before. Then all of a sudden we hit. My foot got caught in the seat in front of me and I think I hit my lip."

Training Projects Boost Employment

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Industrial relations experts agree that maintaining a constant manpower pool in a city that enjoys one of the nation's lowest unemployment rates (1.8%) is difficult at best.

And when most of those who are unemployed lack the basic education to be employable, the problem is additionally complicated.

One company has instituted training programs in an effort to ease the situation.

Since February, more than 150 undereducated persons have been employed by Eastman Kodak for training in one of several technical trades, machine operation or laboratory work, and when necessary, have been given special courses in reading, writing and arithmetic.

Spirit of Season

WASHINGTON (AP) — Miraculously, 24, told police Thursday a gunman who approached her teller's compartment at American Security and Trust Co. and pulled asked her to hand over all the hundreds of dollars and tens. Before fleeing with $2,500, the robber snatched and said: "Merry Christmas."

Treasury Position Wills Underwear

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — Officials of the Masonic Temple in Roswell have distributed 30 pairs of long underwear at $10 each this year to fulfill a stipulation in the will of a former Roswell resident, Gus Winter.

Winter died nine years ago and left $105,000, part of it in trust with the stipulation that each Christmas some of the money be used to buy long underwear for cold and needy old men.

Market Off to Brisk Start

Stock Gains Outnumber Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — Gains outnumbered losers as the stock market got off to a brisk start in early trading today.

Nearly 100 more stocks rose than fell on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average edged upward 0.6 to 888.41.

Selective strength appeared in a variety of issues but the trend remained confused because of year-end cross currents.

Friday was the last day to sell regular way (four-day delivery) and record the transaction for gains on the 1967 income tax.

Many Wall Streeters were taking the day off in the last pre-Christmas session, turning it in to a four-day weekend.

Gains of a point or better were made by Bangor Punta, Rheingold, International Telephone, Homestake and Merck.

Active fractional gainers included Monsanto, Brunswick, Great Western Financial, Cu-ble Steel, American Airlines and Bristol Myers — the latter after reporting a favorable tax ruling in regard to the merger with Mead Johnson.

UNCHANGED

American Telephone opened on 11,000 shares, unchanged at 51 1/4 after rising 3/4 Thursday as the market edged up.

On Thursday the Associated Press average of 60 Stocks rose 5 to 316.5.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.
