

Local Man Arrested in Barmaid Slaying

By DAVID J. COOK

A second look at a pistol used in a Waterford Township hold-up led Waterford and Pontiac police yesterday to the arrest of a Pontiac man on a charge of first-degree murder.

Green was first apprehended by Sylvan Lake and Waterford Township police early Monday after an armed robbery at Andy's Marathon Service, 180 S. Telegraph, Waterford Township.

Taken from Green at that time, according to Waterford Detective Sgt. Ernest Mann, was a 32-caliber revolver, partially loaded with "concave-tipped" slugs.

While Green was arraigned Monday and held on $10,000 bond on the robbery charge, Mann checked with Pontiac Detective Sgt. John I. Williams on the holdup weapon.

Williams said he compared two slugs taken from the body of 30-year-old Mrs. Roenehl L. Nash and found the unusual tips apparently identical to bullets in the gun allegedly taken from Green.

Mann and Williams then questioned Green about the slaying, Williams said, and following that took the suspect before Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Bernard Rosner.

There, police said, Green made a formal statement regarding the shooting.

Investigators said they then pieced together this account of the incident:

Green came into Harry's Bar at 465 S. Sanford shortly before midnight Sept. 8 and ordered a beer. A man seated next to him took the beer, triggering an argument among the two customers and Mrs. Nash, the barmaid.

Mrs. Nash then hit Green in the head with a shot-glass, the detectives said, and pulled out a pistol from behind the bar.

Green fired a warning shot into the ceiling and then discharged the weapon twice at the victim, according to the investigators.

Police said an autopsy the following day revealed two 32-caliber slugs in the woman's body.

Fourteen men in the bar at the time gave statements to police immediately following the shooting, but none was able to give investigators the suspect's name.

Mrs. James DeFlorio of Sigma Beta, a national charity sorority which is helping the league raise funds for a $50,000 rehabilitation and recreation center.

SUSPECT — This composite sketch was made from descriptions of a youth who attacked a sleeping Evanston, Ill., girl with a hammer. The attack was similar to the slaying of Valerie Percy.

Prints Studied in Girl's Death

Examined by Police

CHICAGO (UPI) — Four fingerprints and six palm prints may be the best clues obtained so far in the search for the slayer of Valerie Percy, investigators said today.

Police Chief Robert M. Daley of suburban Kenilworth said investigators also were studying a combination address book and diary found in the bedroom of the Percy mansion where Valerie was killed.

Valerie, 21, a twin daughter of Charles M. Percy, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, was stabbed and beaten to death early Sunday by an intruder who slipped into the 17-room lake front residence by cutting a glass panel out of a French door.

Grieving family friends and political figures paid their final respects to the dead girl yesterday in memorial services at the Kenilworth Union Church. Police have questioned 77 persons. Among them was a cabdriver who said he picked up a fare resembling police sketches of a "cat burglar" sought for questioning.

Hearing Set at PCH on Taubman Proposal

By PAT MCCARTY

A City Commission decision to hold the Taubman plan hearing at Pontiac Central High School was followed last night by some preview rounds in the official public debate.

Expecting an overflow crowd next week, commissioners moved the location for the hearing to the 850-seat PCH auditorium.

There, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, the public will officially air its views on the proposed contract for a $40 million downtown shopping development.

The agreement being considered by the commission would allow A. Alfred Taubman of Oak Park to develop an enclosed mall-type shopping center on urban renewal property south of Lawrence to the point where East and West Wide Track meet.

Commissioner Robert C. Irwin last night issued "an appeal for deliberation and discretion" to his fellow commissioners, moving that they hold a special meeting Friday to unite opposing forces in the commission.

Irwin said the city's entire redevelopment picture has been changed by the "Project: Pontiac" study recently completed by the University of Detroit.

3 Agencies Act Swiftly on Interest Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three federal regulatory agencies acted swiftly today to stem the rise in interest rates.

The Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. clamped a 5 per cent ceiling on the interest that banks under their jurisdiction can pay on deposits of less than $100,000.

The three agencies acted within hours after President Johnson signed into law a bill broadening their powers to regulate interest rates.

Johnson called the legislation "a new weapon to preserve the strength of our economy."

Moon Rocket Still Tumbling Surveyor 2 Whirls Toward Destruction

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — America's Surveyor 2 mooncraft whirled violently toward its destruction today as scientists failed in attempts to halt the tumbling that would splatter the picture-taking robot on the lunar surface.

The spacecraft began its wild tumbling last night when one of three steering engines failed to fire during a correctional maneuver.

Two additional attempts to fire the errant engine in an effort to stop the tumbling also ended in failure early today.

Scientists and project engineers here planned a meeting later today to study what further action might be taken to stabilize the craft and, if it cannot be stabilized, what the alternate program would be until Surveyor reached the moon.

In the condition it's in now, unless we can get the engine to work, it will not be able to make a soft landing on the moon," a project spokesman said. "We have no idea why the engine doesn't work."

It was scheduled to land on the moon about 10:30 p.m. (Pontiac time) tomorrow.

City Section Blacked Out by Pole Fire

An electrical fire caused the collapse of a 75-foot pole, resulting in a power failure in the northwest quarter of Pontiac at 4:35 p.m. yesterday.

Service to the majority of the 5,100 Consumers Power customers affected was restored within an hour, according to W. B. Schroth, assistant to the division manager.

The pole, on Hamilton east of Baldwin, was apparently weakened by a previous lightning strike during a summer storm.

Misty weather and a voltage leak caused the fire, which toppled two subtransmission circuits, one carrying 40,000 volts, the other 25,000 volts, and a 5,000-volt distribution circuit, according to Schroth.

Alternate circuits were used to restore customer service while a new pole was being installed. The installation was completed at 4:30 a.m.

Pontiac police were besieged with calls and rush hour traffic was snarled as stoplights blacked out during the failure.

Merger Hearing

NEW YORK (AP) — A three-judge federal court turned down today plans for delay and went ahead with a hearing on protests against the planned Sept. 30 merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads.

GM Exec: U.P. to VP

By HARRY J. REED,
Managing Editor,
The Pontiac Press

A friendly smile, firm handshake and questioning attitude are hallmarks of Martin J. Caserio, who has made the trip from the U.P. to VP.

A native of the Upper Peninsula, he became a VP of General Motors in 1964, before his recent appointment as general manager of the sprawling Truck and Coach Division here.

He left a job of running one of the biggest parts suppliers in the country to take over one of the biggest parts users in the country.

The trim six-footer had been general manager of AC Spark Plug Division at Flint.

Harking back to his youthful days in northern Michigan, he said, "Up there you didn't ski for recreation — it was a necessity. So were snowshoes."

Katzenbach to Be Rusk Aide

LBJ: No Tax Plans Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today that "no, I haven't indicated that" a tax increase may be coming to help bring government income and outgo into balance.

Yet Johnson repeated more or less what he had said yesterday that gave rise to speculation that a boost might be in the offing.

He told a news "briefing" in the White House Cabinet Room that when all appropriations bills have been passed by Congress, an effort will be made to see how they can be adjusted.

Johnson also announced that Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach will resign to become under-secretary of state.

SPECULATION

Johnson's selection of Katzenbach immediately raised speculation that he was putting into the State Department's No. 2 position a man capable of possibly succeeding Secretary of State Dean Rusk someday.

Asked about a successor to Katzenbach as attorney general, Johnson said "I haven't reached a decision on that yet."

On other subjects, Johnson said:

Viet Nam — Asked for his assessments on the war in Viet Nam, Johnson said he did not think he could add much to what was already known, and that anything he said might be held against him.

He said the United States was pleased with the successes of its fighting men in Viet Nam.

Pope — The President said he was happy that Pope Paul VI had taken an interest in seeking peace in Viet Nam. "I will support him in any move he will make."

West Germany — Johnson said he has no fear that West Germany is going to get "a finger on the nuclear trigger."

He said he does not anticipate any agreement of that nature as a result of his coming conferences with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

Cityhood Wins Easily in Rochester Election

In a special referendum yesterday Rochester voters chose cityhood by a margin of 676 to 248.

It was a complete reversal of two previous attempts at incorporation for the village.

This time proposed city boundary lines followed those of the village and 55 per cent of the registered voters within that area cast their ballots.

Total election count, including absentee ballots, was 949. "A healthy figure," according to Village Manager William Sinclair, when you figure that only 25 per cent voted in the council election last March."

Jubilant ran high at the Municipal Building last night as village officials, members of the Citizens Committee for Incorporation, and would-be charter commissioners gathered for election tabulation.

Thomas V. Case, 38, of 407 Castell, assistant supervisor in insurance pensions for Pontiac Motor Division, led the field in the race for charter commission. He polled 604 votes.

Other winners were former Police Chief and Councilman Samuel Howlett, 58; former Councilman James C. Hill, 53; former Councilman John L. Dahlmann, 51; former Councilman William C. Chapman, 32.

Ford Boosts '67 Car Prices

Other Auto Makers
Likely to Follow Suit

DETROIT (AP) — It is official now that new car buyers are going to dig deeper into their pocketbooks when they buy a 1967 car.

Ford Motor Co. set the pattern yesterday when it became the first U.S. auto firm to list new prices.

General Motors and Chrysler were expected to follow suit — perhaps as early as today — with American Motors to follow soon.

The size of the price increase depended on your viewpoint.

Ford's official release said the increases averaged $5 or about 1 per cent for the entire Ford line.

OTHER SIDE

A comparison of price tags on 1966 and 1967 Ford Motor Co. products without regard for any factor but money showed the increase averaged $13 or about 4 per cent.

The Ford announcement, which touched off Detroit's annual numbers game of trying to figure out auto price trends, was a complicated one.

The company made some items, optional on 1966 cars at extra cost, standard equipment this time. Most of them were in the safety field although a few did include costly items such as automatic transmissions.

Some of 1966's standard items were made optional this time around.

That made it a bit difficult for the average buyer to figure out exactly how much more he would pay for a 1967, a virtual duplicate of his 1966 model insofar as equipment and accessories were concerned.

Ford mentioned the word safety frequently in its seven-page statement detailing price increases.

Powell Now Losing Battle Over Powers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell appears to have lost his battle to retain full power as chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee. The question now is whether he will give in gracefully or go down fighting.

Thirteen of the 21 Democrats on Powell's feud-ridden committee agreed late yesterday to support a new set of rules that would limit but not wipe out the Democrat's broad authority for the rest of this session.

His proposal is to be offered at a closed meeting tomorrow. The arithmetic seemed to be solidly against Powell, but the 11-term Negro congressman was not conceding anything.

In New York today, Powell was going on trial on contempt of court charges stemming from his failure to make payments to Mrs. Esther James, a Harlem widow who won a $12,000 libel judgment against him.

Boys Arrested in NY Burning

Five Under 16 Held After Drifter Set Afire

NEW YORK (AP)—Five boys, all under 16, were under arrest today in connection with the burning Monday of a Bowery drifter.

The five, including one 12-year-old and another 14, were charged with juvenile delinquency with the specification of felonious assault. Their names were not disclosed.

Leonard Benton, 51, was found lying in a doorway on Mercer Street in lower Manhattan Monday, his body severely burned. He told police teen-age boys had doused him with kerosene and set him afire.

The incident took place only three days after Frank Cassidy, 67, was turned into a human torch in the same area. Both men were reported in critical condition at St. Vincent's Hospital.

A third man, William Clark, told police boys poured a flammable liquid on him Friday and set him afire. He was not seriously injured, police said.

The lowest bid last night totaled $161,850. They ranged up to a high of $211,000. Last week's low bid came in at about $151,000, according to Downey.

When the plans were drawn in last July, construction costs were estimated at $125,000. Downey said minor cuts were made in the architects' plans after the bids came in so high last week.

Officials had hoped to start construction by Oct. 1. Downey blamed the high bids on rising construction costs.

Copper Mine Slated in U.P.

New Find Considered Boon to Calumet Area

CALUMET (UPI)—The board of directors of Calumet and Hecla, Inc., yesterday approved plans for a new copper mine which could provide work for centuries to come.

The plans for the 35-million ton Hills Creek Copper Mine were approved by the company's board of directors after a two-day meeting to consider a feasibility report by Bechtel Corp.

The study indicated that it would be feasible to mine 50 million pounds of copper a year from the mine. The copper has been graded at 1 1/2 per cent, considered a rich ore.

The opening of the mine has been looked upon by civic leaders in the Upper Peninsula as a boon to the area, which has suffered in recent years by the decline in copper mining.

The new copper discovery is part of the Calumet conglomerate lode, except for about 10 per cent lying on land held under a long-term mining lease from the Copper Range Co., according to C. C. Jung, board chairman.

CLOSED DOWN

The Calumet Conglomerate Mine operated on the site for 70 years before shutting down in 1933 because of low copper prices.

Mine development and plant construction, according to Bechtel, would take 3 1/2 years and mining costs would be competitive under current conditions.

LBJ to Sign Bill on Bank Interest Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson signs today a law designed to ease competition for deposits between banks and other thrift institutions.

The measure gives the Federal Reserve Board authority for one year to decree different interest levels on bank deposits and conditions in different parts of the country.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board is given similar authority to govern interest paid by savings and loan associations. The board previously could control interest rates only indirectly.

The measure also authorizes the Federal Reserve Board to boost from 6 to 10 per cent the monetary reserves member banks must maintain against time deposits. This provision is designed to restrain lending.

The Federal Reserve's open market committee also is authorized, on request of the secretary of the Treasury, to buy obligations of the Federal Home Loan Banks and the Federal National Mortgage Association, thus helping to assure a flow of funds into the home financing market.

HOUSE VERSION

The House passed the measure Sept. 8 after rejecting proposals by Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking Committee to fix limits on interest banks pay on fixed time deposits.

The Senate adopted the House version without amendment.

'Grocers Average 1 Pct. Net Profit'

LANSING (AP)—The net profit for retail food dealers averages only one per cent, says the Michigan Food Dealers Association, which will discuss next week how to explain rising food prices to the customer.

More than 500 persons are expected for the association's annual convention Sept. 25-28 at Boyne City.

Don Taylor, executive director of the association, said consumers tend to blame grocers for rising food prices, but actually the food dealer's one per cent net profit is the smallest in the retail industry.

Party Lines Emerging Amid Debate Over Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Party lines on the issue of the Viet Nam war are beginning to emerge amid heavy political maneuvering between House Republicans and Democrats.

Republicans, insisting that Viet Nam is not a political issue, are hammering away at what they term "deception and lack of credibility" by the Democratic administration, while blaming disagreement among Democrats for North Viet Nam's refusal to negotiate.

Democrats, on the other hand, "We are not going to make any political issue," Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, who has urged House Republicans against making Viet Nam their No. 1 campaign issue, said, "This war doesn't have the greatest popular support we have experienced."

Later, in the midst of Democratic criticism on the House floor, Laird, chairman of the House Republican Conference, said "we have put our party before country."

Goodell, who heads the House GOP committee on research and planning, said the GOP white paper was an effort "to set the record straight" by putting together "factual information" for use during the campaign.

Democrats were quick to come to President Johnson's support.

The GOP statement, said Rep. Ed Edmondson of Oklahoma, is "a piece of very obvious campaign political propaganda which offers nothing."

Conservation efforts have increased the number of pronghorns, North America's only native antelope, from 225 animals 40 years ago in North Dakota to an estimated 10,000 this year.

Public Must Demand End to Crime

The growing number of beastly crimes in the United States is appalling. It is a little hard to comprehend that right on the heels of the mass murder of the nurses in Chicago, VALERIE PERCY would be bludgeoned to death by a wanton killer.

The CHARLES H. PERCY family is an outstanding example of how democracy works in America. The father of Mr. PERCY was a bank cashier. Because of his outstanding record in school and native brilliance, the younger PERCY rose rapidly to become president of Bell and Howell, a major manufacturing firm at an early age.

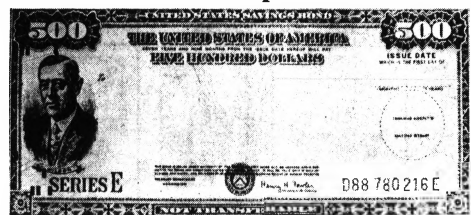

Because of his rapid business success he retired early to enter politics and devote his life to helping humanity. Now in the middle of a campaign for the United States Senate, he faces Senator DOUGLAS, his former economics instructor at the University of Chicago.

To outsiders it would appear the Percys had everything going for them. Why tragedy of this magnitude should strike anyone is something most of us can't understand.

Field of Medical Myth to Be Plowed Under

A Citizens Committee on Graduate Medical Education advocates that the traditional one year internship for medical students, which it describes as "wasteful, inefficient and anachronistic," be abolished.

Give Contest Champ Look at Luck

"Seeing is believing," as said the fellow who had to see a giraffe before he'd believe it, and the reproduction of the $500 U.S. Savings Bond to be awarded the winner of The Press' Annual Football Contest is visual evidence that the bond is for real.

It will wind up in the eager hand of the contestant who correctly calls the consecutive outcome of the most grid contests of the schedule shown below.

We risk suspicion that our needle is stuck by again reminding you that Friday noon is the deadline for entries, which must be on hand at The Press by then. Any received later will be disqualified.

There is still time to get your entry aboard by mail. But if you wait much longer, we'd suggest you play it safe and use The Press Huron Street drop box. Don't try anything fancy at this stage, like delivery by Indian runner. The runner might just run out on you.

This blows the whistle on the first half of the 1966 contest. Nothing now remains but to keep loose and relaxed while the contest's several thousand hopefuls are progressively winnowed to a lone survivor.

Beginning Tuesday, Sept. 27, regular accounts will appear here of the contest's game-by-game course and the sad toll of woe of the eliminated.

Meanwhile, The Press thanks the multitude of contestants for their interest in the yearly grid game that has made it the traditional curtain raiser of the football season.

The home life of young VALERIE was normal. To be sure she was in the limelight because her family was prominent. Yet everyone that knew her said she was a very, very humble person.

This sort of senseless, crazy killing seems to have become almost commonplace in our country today. When we pause to try and come up with an explanation, we draw a blank. It would seem that to blame any one segment of society would be unfair.

With all sorts of crime running rampant, the greatest responsibility would have to rest with our society itself. The Country as a whole has simply got to pull itself up by its "boot straps" and accept the responsibility.

The first requirement is for the public to rise up and demand an end to the crime binge our society is living with.

It must be a wholehearted effort with a stiff backbone and no namby-pamby talk. No society can merely talk itself into clean living, anymore than a shine can be put on a rotten apple.

It's all very well to talk about reforming medical education, but where will that leave the trials, and tribulations of a passel of fledgling doctors on daytime TV, not to mention in paperback novels and grade B movies?

games below (to indicate a tie, leave both boxes blank), sign entry form (or facsimile) with name and address and dispatch to Football Contest, The Pontiac Press.

3. Please do not enclose entries in envelopes. Attach them to post cards or cards of similar size and mail to Press or deposit in its Huron Street drop box.

4. The entrant who correctly predicts the consecutive outcome of the most games will be awarded a $500 U.S. Savings Bond. A bonus bond of $50 will be added if the winner's entry is submitted in the manner suggested.

5. Contest deadline is Friday noon, Sept. 23, and entries must be on hand at The Press by that time. Those arriving later, even though postmarked prior, will not be considered.

6. Judges' decisions on all questions relating to contest will be final.

David Lawrence Says:

Rights Bill Loss Misinterpreted

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is being urged by some people to let Congress take a recess on Oct. 15 and come back into session just after the Nov. 8 election.

Some members of Congress who have heard about the LAWRENCE gesture say, however, that, unless there is some economic emergency, Congress is not likely to hurry up and pass any leftover legislation — such as the civil rights bill or important appropriation bills that could affect the growing demand for a curtailment of government spending.

Certainly there will not be much inclination even then to take up a civil rights bill right away, because sentiment in Congress is likely to be stronger against the measure in the next session than it is today.

Unfortunately, the civil rights leaders have failed to evaluate carefully the reasons for the defeat of the measure at the current session of Congress.

They are still inclined to make blanket indictments charging "racism" against legislators who have voted with them in the past.

Many of the senators who voted this week against cloture have supported civil rights legislation heretofore.

The significant fact is that public opinion has made itself felt in protest against certain parts of the proposed measure.

The consensus seems to be that Congress has been too hasty in passing civil rights bills before and has not examined carefully the constitutional aspects involved.

Opposition to the pending measure has been based not merely on the "open housing" section but also on the provisions for the selection of juries. If any lawyers throughout the country have felt that the whole jury system would be disrupted if the proposals giving to the federal government power to intervene in the picking of jurors were enacted into law.

representatives have spoken out bluntly about efforts to stampede the national legislative body.

The outbreaks of violence have caused widespread dismay. Many letters have been received on Capitol Hill from people in all parts of the country expressing resentment over the demonstrations.

A simple change in tactics, therefore, might be salutary from the standpoint of civic leaders.

Members of Congress would, of course, prefer to let things ride until the January session, especially if there should be a change in seats in many of the states. The chances, therefore, of a call for a recess from Oct. 15 until just after the election are dim.

The current session may run past an Oct. 15 deadline, almost up to the week of the election itself in November.

Bob Considine Says:

Being Envoy to Saigon Isn't Exactly a Joyride

SAIGON — Would you like to be United States ambassador to Saigon? One of these days or years, there's going to be a vacancy here.

Henry Cabot Lodge, though a restless 64, has served over and beyond the call of duty. He'd like to get on to something that offers a better future, like mixing plutonium.

If you're serious enough about this job to start shopping for a wardrobe, forget the silk top hat. Somebody would shoot it off you.

Your office in downtown Saigon is now a thick-walled fortress.

When its bomb-blasted facade was replaced, the builders beelied up the strength of the walls and cut the windows down to little more than air-line size.

There's barbed wire around the place and the streets leading to it are heavily guarded.

INFORMAL DRESS

If you venture outdoors, which you must, you walk through the largest unit of U. S. Marines now guarding an U. S. ambassador. They dress informally, slacks and half-sleeved sports shirts. Their machine guns are quite formal, however.

You give them a wave and step into your car. It is a different model than the last one you used. They look like every other type of U. S. black sedan. But each has bullet-proof windows and windshields and are steel plated from top to bottom, to survive a grenade attack or land mine. The rear window is curtained.

If you're headed for the office, you take a different route each time, to throw off the VC.

Unless there's a "must" diplomatic reception at night — there are 26 nations represented here — you stay at home. It's safer for you and for those assigned to look out for you.

Best to leave your wife in some more secure place. Bangkok, say.

If your wife happens to be with you, well, the fellow who now has the job plays double solitaire with his wife after dinner. Then, dog-tired, he goes off to bed with a book that will give him a greater grasp of his difficult role.

Right now he's reading "The Anatomy of Revolution," by Crane Brinton, until sleep ends another day in the life of the man with the most difficult, most sensitive job in our entire diplomatic service.

Tragedy

Chicago Tribune

Shocked disbelief, profound sympathy — these are the reactions which would naturally attend the murder of any young girl in the supposed safety of her own home, with her family sleeping in other rooms about her. They are the inadequate responses which we, their fellow citizens, and all the people of this crime-ridden country must feel today in sharing the sorrow of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Percy in the loss of a daughter with all the promise of life before her.

What makes this senseless, sadistic killing all the more poignant is that the Percys have been an exceptionally attractive and close-knit family. Valerie, who was stabbed and bludgeoned to death in her Keaukua home during the night hours early Sunday, was a twin and one of five children, and their wholesome life as a family was one which any parent might envy.

Charles Percy, of course, is known not only in Illinois but to most of the nation as an eminently successful business man who, while still young and vigorous, turned from his management responsibilities in the belief that he could make a contribution to his state and country in public life. He was the Republican candidate for governor of Illinois, and this year is his party's nominee for United States Senator.

Voice of the People:

'Old Glory' Trampled While Family Absent

Sunday our family left our home to make a four hour visit out of town. When we returned, we found our American flag had been pulled down and thrown on our lawn and someone had wiped their dirty feet on it.

We have a son serving in the armed forces. We always display the flag at our house because we are proud of it.

I'm hoping some people will see this letter and teach their children manners and proper respect for the American flag and private property. The right to fly our flag is one thing I will fight for.

Equal Space for Socialist Labor Candidate?

In Favor of Home Rule for Nation's Capital?

Yearly, Congress has debated the issue of self-government and representation in Congress for the people of Washington, D.C. In the Fall of 1965, the Senate and House passed bills, but they were entirely different; attempts to obtain a conference failed.

Senator Wayne Morse has added an amendment to the Higher Education Act which will make D. C. Home Rule more in line with the House-passed version, and, he hopes, will gain Senate approval.

Citizens who wish to free the Congress of the costly annual work involved in ruling the District, can write their U. S. Senators now asking them to support Mr. Morse's amendment to the Higher Education Act.

Question and Answer

I always thought the bigger the animal, the longer the gestation period. But I heard that it's only about three months for a lion. Can this be true?

REGULAR READER

REPLY

Yes, gestation for a lion is 108 days. It's true an elephant has the longest (645 days) but a beaver takes four months and a kangaroo only 39 days, so size isn't the determining factor.

Crime Cause

New York News

In the past five years, our nation's population has risen 8 per cent. But in that same period, FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover reports our crime rate has soared a grim 46 per cent.

U.S. crime statistics for 1965 revealed such eye-openers as: A murder every hour; a rape every 23 minutes; a burglary every 27 seconds; a car stolen every minute; kids under 18 making up 21 per cent of all arrests.

However also pointed out

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for reproduction of all local and national news appearing in this newspaper as well as all AP news dispatches.

that our society's strange leniency in handing its enemies penalties definitely to our high crime rate.

A check of 5,600 offenders released in a six-month period in 1962 showed that 48 per cent got nabbed for new crimes within two years. Some 25 per cent of individual offenders were found guilty of malingering penalties were on parole or probation at the time of the murder.

So what, outside of the notorious babying of all varieties of criminals by all courts from Earl Warren's on down, is responsible for this dismal picture? Should family breakdowns, non-support of the police who are paid to defend us, just plain moral decay or what? — be blamed? Or are these all contributing factors?

It's hard to pinpoint any one major cause of this mess, but here's one more tip: Odds are a million to one that no member of your family ever will get involved in crime if you, as a mother or father, make it your daily business to see that your children are guided properly by schools, churches and most important, by you.

A 'Must' Today

Teen Planning Is Urged

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

Planning for the future always works to the advantage of teenagers. Those who work to become shoemakers or doctors or lawyers succeed better than those who drift.

This has always been true, but never more so than in our complex society of today. In fact a boy or girl now usually needs the help of a trained counselor to plan for his future occupation intelligently.

Fifty years ago, a teen-ager dropping out of high school and searching for a job could find many help-wanted ads offering employment to boys who had no previous experience or specified education.

Today, ads for boys are scarce and call for special skill, experience, high school diploma or a college degree. No wonder the youth unemployment rate is over three times that of the general work force.

A hopeful sign is that the fastest-growing specialty in elementary and secondary schools is the job of counselor.

MUST BE READIED

Counselors must be trained and hired rapidly if the recommended counselor-student ratio of 300 to one is to be reached any time in the near future. In California, for example, the ratio is about 900 students to one counselor.

The time has passed when a teen-ager can spend his high school years selecting his courses at random and without regard to his preparation for a job.

The college-bound student usually gets the guidance he requires. But those who expect to enter the work-world directly when they graduate or when they drop out of high school, are too often neglected — even though they are the ones who most need careful counseling and help in long-term planning.

With proper guidance, more students would be led into vocational education, apprenticeships and on-the-job programs.

In the past, young women have regarded a job as merely a stop-gap between school and marriage. Today, there is increased participation of women in the labor force.

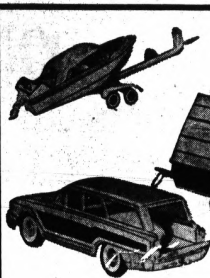

Counselors must help girls understand and prepare for their dual role as homemakers and workers.

In western European schools, employers and labor unions cooperate in preparing students not going on to college for a trade or a useful and needed occupation.

Man, Five Boys Die as Freight Truck Collide

ELDEN, Ill. (AP) — A train-truck accident in this northwestern Illinois community took the lives of five schoolboys and the elderly man driving them home. The victims were killed yesterday in the collision of an Illinois Central freight train and an open pickup truck driven by Everett Mullins, 73, the elementary school janitor.

The other victims were James Shoemaker, 12; William Bothe, 13; Reid Miller, 12; Robert Michael Enlow, 14, and Martin A. Cruz, 13. Police said the train hit the truck broadside at a crossing.

Internal Rift Felt by USW

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — The United Steelworkers union (USW) is a union man's union. The steelworkers' 13th biennial convention made that point clear at stormy session yesterday in convention hall.

Several groups sought to have staff workers — union representatives of the district and local level who handle contract bargaining, enforcement and grievances — barred from future conventions because they had, within the past year, formed their own union, the Staffmen's Organizing Committee (SOC).

The move was defeated overwhelmingly.

The staffers, it was charged, were practicing dual unionism.

MADE CHARGE

The articulator of this allegation was Frank Moricha of Local 85 in the Chicago district.

USW Vice President Joseph P. Molony told the 3,500 delegates, representing 1.3 million members, the formation of SOC — which has a membership of 850 — had been determined legal and a contract was negotiated.

Ikebana Has Display for Mall Show

The Detroit chapter of Ikebana International will participate in The Pontiac Mall Fall Flower Show which opens on Monday and runs through Saturday.

Seven branches of the Michigan Division, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, will also have exhibits at the show.

Ikebana International is a cultural and educational organization founded in 1956 in Tokyo by an American woman who was impressed with Japanese beauty and the horticultural skill of men and women.

This love of beauty, it was hoped, would establish better understanding between nations.

Chapters have been organized all over the world. Michigan has a chapter in Grand Rapids besides the two-year-old Detroit chapter with its membership largely in the Bloomfield, Birmingham and Pontiac areas.

The Ikebana section called "Oriental Inspiration" with its display of flower arrangements and Japanese articles will not be judged.

Japanese schools teach appreciation and enjoyment of beauty and stress creativity in one's surroundings. The artistic is evident in their drawings and paintings. In their cloisonne, glass treasures, also in their gardens and flower arrangements.

Simplicity is stressed in the Japanese schools of flower arranging. One creates an arrangement expressing his feelings as he works with plant material. A few flowers, or even one, used with a branch, will add beauty to any setting.

Mounting a coconut palm branch on a five-panel screen she designed and built for The Pontiac Mall Fall Flower Show is Mrs. W. D. Sezaure of Ottawa Lane (at right). She is president of Wing Lake Shores branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. Approving the placement is Mrs. George T. Bender of Orchard Lake, member of Ikebana International staging the "Oriental Inspiration" exhibit at the show. She is affiliated with Birmingham branch, WNFGA.

You've Ruined a Trust

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREAN

DEAR ABBY: I like this boy who is 17. I am 15. About a month ago we went on a date. We were supposed to go to a dance, but we went to an outdoor movie instead.

Mother told me when I started going in cars with boys that if I had a change of plans to call her up and tell her, but before I had a chance to get out of the car to call her, she and dad came into the movie and saw us.

She didn't say anything right then, she let me stay in the car, but the next day she said I couldn't see this boy anymore. Abby, we like each other and I just HAVE to see him. I tried to explain to mom, but she wouldn't even listen to me.

When are mothers going to understand their daughters and try to see their point of view? We didn't commit any big crime. I just have to see him, Abby. Can you help us?

DEAR DESPERATE: Sorry, honey, but this is a lesson you'll have to learn the hard way. You agreed to call your mother to let her know of any change in plans.

When you failed to do so, you let her down, and now her confidence in you is badly shaken.

That's Right, Rules Apply to Majority

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's "Etiquette" has been sent to Julie Gaines of Johnston, R.I.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have always been under the impression that it is correct when at a party, for couples to dance with each other's wives and husbands.

Recently I have been told that this is correct only in high society and people with government titles who must follow protocol. I had always thought that good manners were the same for everyone.

Dear Miss Gaines: What strange information you have been given! In the first place, of course it's correct to dance with each other's wives and husbands — one of the reasons for going to parties is to enjoy people you are not with all the time.

Secondly, you are correct, etiquette or good manners are the same for everyone. Except in very specialized cases involving military or high diplomatic protocol, "high society" (whatever that may be) follows the same rules as the rest of us.

June vows in 1967 are planned by Sharon Lee Stickle, daughter of the Theron Stickle of Embarcadero Drive, and Donald Wilson, son of the Orlis Wilsons of Detroit. She is an alumna of Eastern Michigan University where her fiancé is a senior.

OHCC Women Slate Show

"Modes, Millinery and Mink" is the provocative title of the fashion show-luncheon being held by Oakland Hills Country Club on Sept. 28.

Models will be dressed by the Shops of Walton Pierce. Mrs. William R. Pierce will discuss a recent visit to a well-known Paris salon.

Mrs. Harvey W. Ewald, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. C. Boyd Stockmeyer, Mrs. Patrick J. Andrews, Mrs. Louis M. Rich, Mrs. Charles B. O'Neill and Mrs. Henry L. Schlacter.

Take your medicine like a big girl and don't grumble. You'll get another chance to demonstrate your trustworthiness. And when you do, don't risk it by thoughtlessness, or trying to get away with something.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young, unmarried woman who has been trying to get a very eligible bachelor in town to marry me. He dates me consistently, but not exclusively.

A very clever friend of mine has suggested that I borrow a diamond from someone, and tell him there is "someone else." I am tempted to try it. What do you think?

END OF ROPE DEAR END: I wouldn't recommend it. Ask your "clever" friend what to do if he says, "I wish you luck," and then quits dating you entirely.

DEAR ABBY: Please set us straight. When a service man returns home after his tour of duty, is it up to him to visit all the relatives? Or should THEY come to see him?

BIG DEBATE DEAR DEBATE: It seems to me that the service man who WANTS to see his relatives will not think twice about who should make the first move.

If he's full of pep and rarin' to go, he'll make the rounds and see whomever he wants to see. If he's worn out and wants only to sleep, eat, and relax, no one would blame him if he doesn't fly around seeking kinfolks.

And when relatives want to see the recently-retired service man, they should check with his family to see if the time is right and they are welcome.

HER": Ask your lawyer to explain the difference between a "legal separation" and a "separate maintenance" agreement. It is more than just a "gentleman's agreement," although in your case it couldn't have been more appropriately named.

WOMEN'S SECTION

School Bells Ring Out at Club

It is registration time again at the Village Woman's Club on East Long Lake Road. The club which operates for charitable and education purposes is opening its facilities on Monday for a program which will enable members to sign up for volunteer service in various community organizations as well as for the regular fall season of classes.

Mrs. Robert C. Wyatt, program chairman, and Mrs. Norman J. Ellis, chairman of volunteer service opportunities, are cooperating on the registration day to give the 1300 members a time when they may choose a class to improve themselves and an activity which will help others.

Volunteer activities, in 14 different agencies, anxious for more assistance, will be described by committee members. A film strip produced by Mr. Mrs. Dean Coffin entitled "These Hands Extended" will show activities in the community.

They range from Pontiac State

Hospital's geriatrics and children's departments to the Oakland County Sanatorium, which needs help in physical and occupational therapy and patient services and someone to play the organ two or three hours a week.

There is other hospital work to be done, plus cultural aid programs, reading for the blind, assisting teachers, clerical work and driving.

REWARDS ARE GREAT

Mrs. Ellis says, "Even though this work can be classified as doing something for others, the rewards to the volunteers themselves are great."

Mrs. Wyatt reports that there are a number of new classes added to last year's.

A brand new class is one in Watercolor Techniques to be taught by Mrs. Richard Weil Friday mornings for 10 weeks. Mrs. Weil graduated from the Cleveland Institute of Art.

Dr. David Di Chiera, assistant dean of continuing education in the arts, and chairman of the music department of Oakland University, is returning to lecture Monday mornings on "American Music from Edward MacDowell (1861-1908) to the present."

Last season the "ABC's of Antiques" was so popular that its instructor, Mrs. Frank S. Seichter, has agreed to return on Tuesday afternoons this fall to speak about "The Art and Practice of Decorating with Antiques."

With the surge of interest in international travel, language classes will again be offered in French and Spanish. Mesdames Bueno and Krolik will be teaching Spanish and Mesdames Angeli and Corcoran will give instruction in French.

Prof. Thelma James of Wayne State University will be back to teach her 11th year for the Village Woman's Club. Her subject on Wednesday mornings will be "Christianity through the Ages."

HOLIDAY DECORATIONS

Mrs. P. M. Askounes' class on holiday decorations will take place on Tuesday mornings. She holds a Master of Arts degree from Columbia University, is state horticultural chairman for the Michigan Division of WNFGA and vice-president of Ikebana International Detroit chapter.

Walter W. Rosenberg will return on Monday and Tuesday evenings with his course on wine appreciation and Mrs. Seth B. Slawson will teach four classes on Mondays in Decoupage.

Mrs. Bernard Laurim will teach the Goren system of point-count bidding in bridge on Tuesday afternoons.

Non-members may call the club for details or to attend registration day in the clubhouse Monday from 10 a.m. to noon or from 1 to 3 p.m.

MRS. SULLIVAN

Set Carnival for Saturday

The Women's Society of Christian Service, St. Paul Methodist Church along with the Methodist Men and Youth Fellowship groups will sponsor a carnival on Saturday.

Beginning at 3 p.m. and continuing until 8:30 p.m., the festival will feature youngster and adult fun. Dinner will also be served.

State DARs Will Hear President

Mrs. William H. Sullivan of New York, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will speak before Michigan chapters on Sept. 29 in East Lansing.

The state convention, hosted by the Lansing chapter, will take place in the Michigan State University Union.

General Richardson chapter members planning to attend include Miss E. Grace Clark, Mrs. Eva L. Tomlina, Mrs. Grant Beardlee and Margaret Steward.

More are Sarah VanHoesen Jones, Alice Serrell, Mrs. Harry Gung, Mrs. L. L. Dunlap, Mrs. E. G. Clark, Mrs. Frank E. Allen and Mrs. T. W. Jackson.

On Monday, Mrs. James V. Zeder and other state board members were present at a dedication of memorial pines in the Cadillac area.

Mid-January vows are planned by Chris Renee Miller, daughter of the Louie C. Millers of Oakland Avenue, and Ronald Edwin Mastovich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Mastovich of St. Clair Shores. Both attending Oakland University.

The Floyd E. Reeds of Troy announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Joy, to Airman 3. C. Warren H. Emmons Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Emmons of Royal Oak. He is in training as an air operations specialist at Minot AFB in North Dakota.

The John H. Plummers of Ledbury Drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Myrtle, to Spec. 4 Keith Curtis Crystal, son of the Woodrow Crystals of Devondale Road, Avon Township. Her fiancé is stationed in Germany.

Summer '67 vows are planned by Nora Kay Bailey, daughter of the Lloyd C. Baileys of Ed-George Drive, and Larry Randall Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Hayes of Lochaven Road, West Bloomfield Township.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice:

For a year or more so many of the expensive clothes have had a lot of top machine-stitching on the seams for the detail. This is usually done about 1/4 to 1/2 inch from the seam and looks so beautiful. When I try to do the same thing, I can't get the same effect.

The seams of the patterns don't seem to be wide enough, and I get diagonal wrinkles between the seams and the stitching. Please help! Mrs. T. E. R.

Dear Mrs. T. E. R.:

Topstitching is most effective and attractive when it is done through two layers of fabric. In other words, the seam allowance must be wide enough to extend beyond the stitching line. Wherever you plan to topstitch your garment, make your seam allowance 1 inch instead of 1/2 inch. This will provide the double layer of fabric.

Most women have the difficulty you describe, having diagonal wrinkles between the seam and the stitching line. When you are machine-stitching two layers of fabric together, it is only natural for the top layer to shift forward; the teeth on the plate of your machine keep the bottom layer from shifting. To compensate for this, keep the forefinger of each hand on each side of the presser foot, easing the fabric forward (ahead of the stitching).

This should keep the grain line perfect and produce a beautiful effect. Remember also to keep the machine-stitching a little longer than usual, often buttonhole twist is used for this decorative type stitching.

Dear Eunice:

How do you put a hem in your skirt when you have lined the skirt? The hem won't lie flat where the pleat folds. Instead it is thick and bulky. Mrs. M. C.

Dear Mrs. M. C.:

Usually a skirt is not underlined if there are pleats involved because of the added bulkiness. If your skirt needs the underlining, I would suggest you only use it to a point just above the top of the pleat.

If you are lining the skirt because of keeping a uniform color throughout, I would suggest a separate lining instead of underlining (treating the two layers of fabric as one). The separate lining would hang free, however, this restricts the ease that you would normally gain from the pleat. The lining may also be slashed at the pleat area and loosely tacked down, one part of it would be under the fold of the pleat; the other would be tacked to the top of the pleat.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Elizabeth Fielder, Palm Springs, Cal., is this week's Tailor Trix winner for her suggestion.

"When using a strip of fabric cut on the bias for the armholes in sleeveless blouses or dresses, sew the bias along one edge with a longer machine stitch. Pull the bobbin thread a little in order to ease some fullness in the strip. (Don't ease too much or it will look gathered.) This will assure a nice smooth binding at the curves."

It sleeves are your problem and you just can't get rid of those "puckers," you will love my step-by-step instructions given in detail in my leaflet "All About Sleeves." For your copy, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents with your request to Eunice Farmer in care of The Pontiac Press.

Mr. Edgar Thorpe, Naturalizer representative, will be at The Lion Store, in Miracle Mile, to help with your shoe fitting problems.

MRS. G. L. INSCHO

Inscho-Stockdale

A reception in the Glenwood Avenue home of the William A. Stockdals followed the recent marriage of their daughter, Karann Marie, to Gerald Lee Inscho, in the Grace Lutheran Church.

Seed pearls on Alencon lace motifs accented the bride's gown of white silk organza with detachable Watteau train.

Organza roses cradled her illusion bubble veil and her bouquet held white roses and Stephanotis.

Lynda Kath was maid of honor at the evening ceremony. Sandra Smith and the bride's sister Joan were bridesmaids, with Kim and William Stockdale, flower girl and ring-bearer, respectively.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. June Inscho of Court Drive and James Inscho of Merritt Street, Orion Township, had Daniel Couture for his best man. Ushers were Douglas Inscho and James Duperron. The newlyweds are residing on West Longfellow Avenue.

To Remove Excess Wax

To remove an accumulation of wax from furniture, wipe with a clean soft cloth that has been dipped into a solution of one quart of warm water to which one tablespoon of turpentine and one tablespoon of olive oil have been added.

Wring cloth well after dipping into mixture. Rub furniture briskly with it.

Repeat until excess wax has been removed. Dry with a soft cloth. Apply a thin coat of paste wax and polish.

Wert-Blair

Honeymoon itinerary for the newlywed James Calvin Wert (Connie Lee Blair) includes Florida and the eastern coast-line.

The Covert Methodist Church was the setting for their recent afternoon vows followed by reception.

BRIDAL SATIN

White bridal satin fashioned a gown and train for the daughter of the Arnold R. Blairs of Watkins Lake. She donned a crystal tiara and bouffant illusion veil and carried white roses, carnations and greens.

With honor matron, Mrs. John B. Ray, were bridesmaids Mrs. Robert Ellinson of Clarkston and Sheila Gots.

The bridegroom, son of the Edgar Wert of Henderson Street had Robert Ellinson for best man, Dennis Vassier and Bill Barrow were ushers.

MRS. J. C. WERT

Rogers-Pulve

A dinner-reception in Devon Gables followed the recent marriage of Suzanne Elaine Pulve to James Maurice Rogers in the First Presbyterian Church, Royal Oak.

The newlyweds' parents are Mr. and Mrs. James C. Pulve of Colonial Way and the junior George Watsons of Fayetteville, Ark.

TAFFETA, LACE

For the midafternoon double-ring rite, the bride wore a gown and cathedral train of white taffeta with lace panel. A small pearl and crystal tiara capped her bouffant illusion veil.

Her cascade bouquet held white rosebuds and an orchid. Loraine Baril of Chicago was honor attendant with Mrs. Frederick Pulve of Mount Clemens and Mrs. Dixie Lee Quinn of Fayetteville as bridesmaids.

Best man was Joseph P. Stoltman of Chicago. Frederick Pulve and Frederick Zorn of Chicago were groomsmen.

The bridegroom, an alumnus of the University of Arkansas, is attending the University of Chicago graduate school.

Stephens-Chandanois

Airman J.C. and Mrs. James Edwards Stephens (Gail Frances Chandanois) left for Laredo, Texas after recent vows in Our Lady of Refuge Catholic Church and reception in the Cass Community Center.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chandanois of Greer Road, West Bloomfield Township and Mr. and Mrs. Winford Stephens of Orchard Lake.

Chantilly lace fashioned a fitted bodice for the bride's gown of white silk organza over taffeta and bordered her Watteau train.

ROSE HEAD PIECE

A rose headpiece held her illusion veil and she carried Stephanotis, roses and lily.

Attending the sister were honor matron, Mrs. William Bryant of Utica and Mrs. Dennis Monarch of Detroit, also Mrs. Dale Doughty, the bridegroom's sister.

Rena and Randy Auerbach of Berkeley were their aunt's flower girl and ring-bearer.

With Robert Dugan of Fendale, best man, were Gerald Stephens, the bridegroom's brother and Robin Betzler as ushers.

$3,000 a Year Is Tax Free

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley: We would like to give our daughter a gift of $2,500 towards a home she is buying. Would you tell me what this means, taxwise, to us?

Does our daughter have to declare a gift and pay taxes on it? We would like to assume any and all taxes.

MARY FEELEY

Mrs. W. W., Bronx, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. W.: Since the $2,500 would be a gift, not income, your daughter wouldn't have to declare it nor pay any tax. However, you must file a gift tax return, even though either you or your husband may give $3,000 tax-free in any one year.

Dear Miss Feeley:

My wife and I have odds and ends of old dishes, kitchen utensils, toys, and other small antiques. If these were sold at a small auction—such as a "garage sale" so many people are having these days—would the money from the sale have to be declared as income on a tax return? Or reported to Social Security? None of these articles is of big value that I know of.

Another question: if I sell my farm and have a general auction of livestock (only 20 animals), no machinery, would this money have to be entered in my tax return as income? And go have my Social Security payments?

E. K., Hallsville, Mo.

Dear E. K.: If these are personal family items you refer to in your first question, then you need not report any money received from their sale to the Social Security office. But you will have to declare it as income on your tax return.

Re: question two, if you have been engaged in a regular business on your farm and have been filing a tax return, the money from the sale of farm and livestock would have to be included as income on your tax return, and would affect your Social Security payments.

Dear Miss Feeley: We are a retired couple owning a few stocks and a few shares of mutual funds in joint ownership. Our question is:

Can I transfer my ownership to my wife without going into costly legal procedures? Your advice will be appreciated.

M. C., Woodside, N. Y.

Dear M. C.: Such a transfer is a fairly simple procedure, and generally involves only a small transfer charge as specified by the state. When you turn these certificates over to a stockbroker for transfer, or send them to the transfer agent whose name is listed on the securities, state in writing that you relinquish all rights to them in giving them to your wife. For good measure, have your statement notarized.

Miss Rotramel Wed to Donald J. Gore

St. Mark's Lutheran Church was the setting for the recent marriage of Marsha Carolyn Rotramel to Spec. 4 Donald James Gore, U.S.A.

The Robert F. Rotramels of Pontiac Lake Road and the Alford M. Gores of Haggerty Road, West Bloomfield Township are parents of the couple who left for a northern honeymoon.

SHEATH GOWN

Re-embroidered Alencon lace fashioned an Empire bodice for the bride's sheath gown of white crepe and bordered her Watteau train of matching fabric.

A crown of pearls and crystals held her bouffant illusion veil. White Sweetheart roses, ivory and St. Ann's rested on her heirloom Bible.

Karen Dove of Milford was the bride's only attendant at the evening ceremony.

"With best man, Mark Day of Manistee, were the ushers David Gidcomb and Robert Rowland."

The bridegroom will be assigned to duty in Ethiopia.

Candlelight Setting for Ceremonies

Linda Lee McArthur exchanged vows and rings with Pfc. Raymond E. McWethy during a recent candlelight ceremony in the Avondale Baptist Church.

After a reception in Avon Park Pavilion, the couple left for a wedding-trip in northern Michigan and their home in Clarksville, Tenn.

Their parents, Avon Township residents, are the Meri McArthurs, Leach Road and the Kyle J. McWethys, St. Clair Drive.

A bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley complemented the bride's floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over white tulle, worn with silk illusion veil and pearl tiara.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. John Schlappi was matron of honor with Mrs. Jerry Hensley as bridesmaid.

"Attending their aunt as flower girl and ring-bearer were Lori and David McArthur of Paramount, Calif."

John Schlappi was best man. Kyle D. and Charles E. McWethy seated guests at their brother's wedding.

The Edwin Simonsons of Cragin Drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Kristine Bell, to Gordon Edward Elliott, son of the William Elliotts of Eileen Drive. He is a junior at Michigan Technological University. A wedding in 1967 is being planned.

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Some people worry on the installment plan, spending so many hours a day mulling over problems, while others worry only in big splurges. The former is much more damaging because those who worry in big splurges usually get it out of their system and are comparatively calm most of the time.

Installment worrying is like installment buying. It doesn't seem like much at the time, but in the long run, it counts up to a big total.

Actually the worry habit can become vicious and really serious, so much so, that it colors a person's whole outlook. It is damaging to happiness as well as health. We know that our emotions have a drastic effect on our entire physical selves.

THOUGHT HABITS

We learn through practice, and our habits of thought can become just as fixed as nail biting or round shoulders. That's another reason why the installment worry plan is so bad. You practice worrying every single day!

You have probably known some who are chronic worriers. If you haven't, it will be difficult for you to believe why this habit can warp a life. A sneeze brings up fears of pneumonia. The sight of flowers brings thoughts of hay fever.

The sound of thunder is reminiscent of bombing. Spring showers bring thoughts of floods. An airplane trip is translated into a crash, and a breeze into a hurricane. This is not much overreaction, as those who live with worriers will tell you.

VALUABLE ENERGY

Energy is probably our most valuable possession. It is the stuff with which we build success and happiness. What a shame it is to waste it in worry! If we are going to waste energy, there are more pleasant ways to do so.

If you are a chronic worrier, become aware of how dangerous and unprofitable the habit can be. Then do something about breaking it. It can take the happiness and color out of life and damage health.

Here are a few suggestions. We all have problems we mull over and even worry about at times. However, do not mull them over and over again day after day.

Obtain and classify all of the factors possible to help you make a wise decision. Then make it. If the situation can't be changed, adjust to it. Don't keep mulling and mulling.

Since we learn through hearing it is inadvisable to talk about your worries with others, over and over again. The repetition often deepens the worry. However, it is also often a relief and a great help to discuss problems with a trusted friend or a qualified advisor.

Tacoma to Be New Home

Leaving the Marimont Baptist Church after their recent vows and reception were Pvt. and Mrs. Ronald G. Shelton (Alice Paye Cooper). They will reside in Tacoma, Wash. after a northwestern honeymoon.

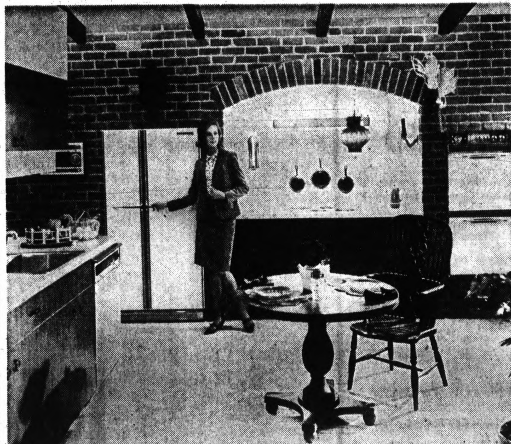

Assisting Rev. Philip W. Somers at the evening rite was Rev. Robert Shelton, cousin of the bridegroom whose parents are the Talmadge Sheltons of Cooley Lake Road.

Pearl-beaded Alencon lace accented a gown and Watteau train of white peau de soie for the daughter of the Kelly Coopers of West Colgate Street.

A tiered illusion veil and Bible arrangement of Phalaenopsis orchids and white Sweetheart roses completed her ensemble.

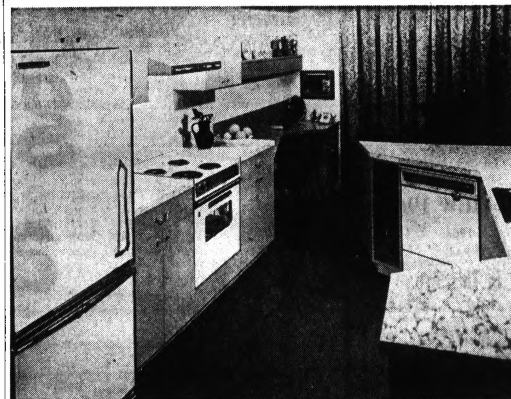

Karen Lundeen was honor maid with bridesmaids Arla Tannehill, Diana Gile, Mary Crane, Sherry Shelton and Mrs. Gary Cox. Wendy Cox was flower girl and Michael Cooper ring-bearer.

Pvt. Shelton, stationed at the 9th Evacuation Hospital, Fort Lewis, Wash., had Garry Cox for best man. Ushers included Ben Cooper, Arthur and Larry Rouse, Tim Murphy, David Carlson and Danny Davis.

Contemporary convenience and old-fashioned charm go hand in hand in this all-electric G.E. kitchen, specially designed for home-makers with large families. The built-in double oven simplifies cooking for a crowd and includes General Electric's exclusive P-7 self-cleaning feature, while a double-door Foodcenter refrigerator-freezer with giant 20.7 cu. ft. capacity takes care of larger-than-average food storage requirements. Designers used rustic brick walls, pebble-textured floor covering, and paneled cabinetry to produce the atmosphere of intimacy which distinguishes this truly practical kitchen.

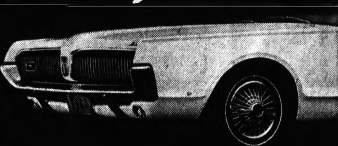

ator-freezer with giant 20.7 cu. ft. capacity takes care of larger-than-average food storage requirements. Designers used rustic brick walls, pebble-textured floor covering, and paneled cabinetry to produce the atmosphere of intimacy which distinguishes this truly practical kitchen.

General Electric kitchen designers began the remodeling of a just-too-small-and-dark kitchen into this inviting and efficient kitchen-family room by removing a wall to what was formerly a service porch. The sink counter, which marks the boundary of the original kitchen, was angled out to provide added work surface, increased storage space (including a generous section for trays and bulky objects) and room for the installation of a front-loading dishwasher. Other new appliances include the range, which looks like a custom built-in but is actually a one-piece unit that slides into standard base cabinets. Color scheme is yellow for appliances, beige-gold for cabinetry and carpeting.

NEW PRESIDENT — Ambassador Abdul Rahman Pazhwak of Afghanistan (right) takes over conduct of the 21st session of the United Nations General Assembly in New York yesterday. Secretary General U Thant is at left. The election of the Asian diplomat as president was looked upon as giving a note of harmony to the new session.

Marcos to Urge Viet Talks at U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos was expected to call for a negotiated peace in Viet Nam in a speech today to the U.N. General Assembly.

“I have always said the U.N. should intervene in the war in Viet Nam to bring about a dialogue,” Marcos told newsmen at a reception.

He added, however, that he would only “refer to it in passing” in his assembly speech and would propose nothing specific. Marcos said the Philippines, Malaysia and Thailand are still trying to promote an Asian conference to encourage negotiations although North Viet Nam, the Viet Cong and Communist China have rejected the proposal.

Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman told newsmen support for such a conference is growing. He said there are “indications that the Communists are beginning to realize that they can’t afford to disregard Asian public opinion.”

No. 1 TOPIC

Although the war in Viet Nam is not on the agenda for the assembly’s 21st session, it was the No. 1 topic in speeches at the opening of the session Tuesday.

Italian Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani, opening the session as president of the 1966 assembly, expressed hope that before the assembly ends in December “clear signs of peace may appear, paving the way to negotiations for a solution honorable for all, which will enable the Vietnamese people to live free and independent, in peace and prosperity.”

Cambodia: Copters Attacked

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Cambodia charged today that two “American-Vietnamese” helicopters attacked a Cambodian provincial guard post Monday, killed one person and wounded several others.

Officials said the attack caused heavy material damage.

The government invited members of the International Control Commission for Indochina and newsmen to visit the scene today.

Road Official Named

LANSHING (AP)—Appointment of Richard L. Baun of Grand Lodge as construction schedule coordinator was announced Tuesday by the State Highway Department.

Quick Relief from Pile Irritation

40 years ago a Buffalo druggist created an ointment to relieve itching and smarting of piles. It brought such quick, soothing, soothing, soothing relief that it has spread across the land making Pile-Ointment a favorite in thousands of homes. Ask your druggist today for this or fill application today. Pile-Ointment’s quick relief or money back.

Defector Back in Russia After Year in U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Soviet citizen who defected to the United States more than a year ago has quit his job in Detroit and returned to Russia at his own request, the State Department said yesterday.

The department announced the return of Peter Kallitenko, in the same breath as it expressed hope for early release of a U.S. Peace Corps worker, Thomas R. Dawson, 24, of Annapolis, Md., who is in Soviet custody.

The State Department announcement denied any connection between the two cases. Specifically, it denied any intent to “barter” the 38-year-old Kallitenko.

While working in Detroit, Kallitenko was given the status of an alien immigrant.

He left the United States Monday after deciding, voluntarily, to return to Russia.

Kallitenko was one of two Soviet citizens who landed in a small boat near Wales, Alaska, Aug. 7, 1965. They said they had been mushroom hunting along the Siberian coast, lost their way in the fog and landed at Alaska by mistake.

Kallitenko decided he wanted to remain in the United States, but the other man asked to be returned to Russia.

Sept. 8, the State Department said, the Soviet Embassy informed the U.S. government that Kallitenko had expressed interest in going home. He later told U.S. officials his decision was voluntary.

Humane Leader

DETROIT (AP)—Frank Andrews, executive secretary of the Michigan Humane Society, has been elected president of the Michigan Federation of Humane Societies. He succeeds Douglas Culmer of Flint, who has been named chairman of the group’s board.

Early Yule Mail Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—It’s more than three months ‘til Christmas, and what did Postmaster General Lawrence F. O’Brien say today?

“Shop early, mail early and use zip codes.”

Thus sounded the first gun of the Post Office Department’s annual battle against the avalanche of Christmas mail.

“It definitely is not too early to start putting your mailing list in order,” he said. “By organizing your Christmas mailing early you help yourself to a happier and more relaxed season.”

MAILING DATES

The department also announced mailing dates to assure on-time delivery of Christmas mail.

Overseas surface mail should be sent no later than Nov. 18, and overseas air mail by Dec. 18.

Gift parcels for distant states should be sent by Dec. 8 and those for nearby areas by Dec. 14.

Greeting cards for distant states should be sent by Dec. 10 and for nearby areas by Dec. 15.

The department’s manual, 60 pages long, for guidance of the nation’s postmasters in coping with the Christmas mail has already been sent to the post offices around the country.

Money?

We can't give it away.

For example: $20.

The fact is that an average of $20 is what you can save — make, earn, collect (whatever you want to call it) — by coming to Osmun's now to buy your topcoat.

But if you're one of those men who just can't (or doesn't, or won't) think about winter until it's winter, we simply don't know what it is that's going to change your mind. Apparently, not even money will.

On the other hand, don't get the idea that our annual topcoat sale (it lasts all of September) is a bust. No sir. There are many, many men who look forward to the sale and the savings. They're coming in, getting their coats (charging them, if they like — or putting them in the layaway) and they're getting their savings. We don't even have to run an ad for these men. Somehow, the word gets out, and they're here buying coats that will cost an average of $20 more next month. But where does that leave you?

We certainly hope it doesn't leave you out in the cold.

Plight of the Indian—1

Most Are Segregated, Pitifully Poor

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first of a three-part series.)

By JACK V. FOX
United Press International

In the year Columbus "discovered" America there were approximately 850,000 Indians living in the forests, plains, mountains and valleys of what is now the continental United States.

By the turn of the present century, Winchester and Remington rifles, starvation and the diseases brought by the white man had so thinned the Indian population that there were only 240,000 remaining.

Today American Indians number more than 600,000 and their birth rate is double that of the national average.

The original peoples of the United States are for the most part segregated on some 250

MINORITY GROUP

It is a different kind of poverty and of segregation. The vast majority of Americans are totally unaware of it. Negroes are a minority, too, but they outnumber Indians almost 40 to 1.

The one thing most Indians do have is room. On the Navajo reservation dwellings may be as much as 20 miles apart. One tribe literally had never seen a white man until this spring when a young volunteer in the War on Poverty drove up their mountain. On one reservation of 2.7 million acres there are 12 telephones.

There are exceptions. A community of 1,000 Mohawk Indian families live in Brooklyn. The men are expert steelworkers who did the high-wire work on the Verrazano-Narrows Bridge and are now helping build the new Madison Square Garden. They earn more than $200 a week.

In Palm Springs, Calif., possibly the richest per capita resort in the world with such home owners as Groucho Marx, Frank Sinatra and Lucille Ball, the Agua Caliente Indians own every other section of the 30,000 acres of land in the desert community.

It is estimated that each of the 131 members of the tribe is worth at least $1 million.

OVERNIGHT

Discovery of oil on the Oklahoma Osage reservation in 1901 made millionaires overnight of individual Indians and many families are still wealthy.

But these bright spots—and you can count them without using all your fingers—serve only to illuminate the misery and hopelessness in which most of the others live, a few in city squalor, most in isolation behind a sage curtain in conditions as primitive as Tibet.

Among the Chippewas of northern Minnesota, second largest ethnic group of American Indians, less than 10 percent of the work force is regularly employed.

Their health conditions are more than a generation behind that of the white man—the average age at death for an Indian there is 43.

Ninety per cent of the housing is unfit. In 1966, only 100 youngsters were graduated from high school on the entire Red Lake reservation.

Chicago is one of four cities chosen for experiments in urban relocation of Indians.

About 11,000 from more than 50 tribes were moved to Chicago. The project has been almost a total failure.

It is evidenced by heavy alcoholism, poor job attendance, family clashes, constant requests to return to reservations and general inability to understand city life coupled with a lack of desire to be integrated into a modern white society.

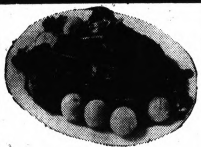

For the first time in 95 years, an Indian—Robert L. Bennett—has been named to head the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the federal agency empowered with handling Indian problems since before the Civil War.

And Sargent Shriver's Office of Economic Opportunity now is getting involved in combating Indian poverty.

On Columbia, East Wide Track

Action Taken on Pedestrian Overpasses

The City Commission last night granted permission for construction of a pedestrian overpass across Columbia and accepted an easement which will clear the way for one over East Wide Track.

A license agreement was approved with Pontiac Motor Division for a Columbia overpass west of Highwood, to be used by the division's employees going between the parking lot on the north side of Columbia and the plant on the south side.

The commission also received from the Archdiocese of Detroit an easement to permit construction of a pedestrian bridge over East Wide Track near Whittemore.

To be erected late in October or early in November, the bridge will provide pedestrian access to St. Frederick Catholic School.

In other action, commissioners approved the request of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce to extend through Oct. 1 the display of new Pontiac automobile models on Saginaw.

Saginaw will be closed from Huron to Lawrence Sept. 28-Oct. 1 for the showing of new Pontiacs.

On the recommendation of City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling, commissioners rejected all bids on a sidewalk reconstruction program on the west side of the city.

The work is to be done in the area bounded by Huron, Elizabeth Lake Road, State and Telegraph.

The only firm bidding on the entire project sought a $32,679 contract, which Neippling said was "completely out of line." He was authorized to readvertise for bids in April, 1967.

Commissioners scheduled for Oct. 4 hearings on the improvement of Hollywood from Mansfield to Tennyson and on the special assembly roll for improving Lounsbury from Oakland to Lakeside.

Total cost of the latter project is estimated at $4,780, with the city's share set at $2,352.

Hearing on rezoning a 66-acre parcel of property on the northwest corner of Opdyke and Square Lake roads was scheduled for Oct. 11.

Schootak Brothers and Co., Inc., of Detroit has requested that 50 acres of the property be rezoned for commercial and parking usage and that 34 acres be reclassified to permit construction of 300 multiple residential units, with the remaining property being used for highway rights-of-way.

The commission was notified last night that some parttime city employees apparently are eligible to participate in the municipal pension plan.

City Attorney Philip E. Rowston reported that employees ex-son, who had requested the re-empt from the plan are those whose pay averages less than $12,000 a year during a three-year period and those who work less than 300 hours a year for the city.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hud-

He said he would check further into the matter.

Hudson also asked Rowston to investigate the legal feasibility of creating four traffic lanes on Baldwin, which is only 36 feet wide.

Although the street presently is marked for two lanes, it is in fact being used as a four-lane street, Hudson said.

He noted that motorists pulling out to pass other vehicles often are forced into the oncoming traffic lane.

Three Young Ladies Given Keys to City

Three young ladies representing diverse backgrounds received keys to the City of Pontiac last night.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. honored the trio and extended a welcome at the start of the City Commission meeting.

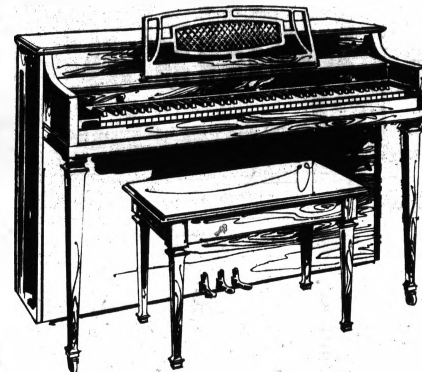

He presented a key to the city to Olga Moran, a Pontiac girl recently chosen state queen of the Latin Americans United for Political Action.

Similarly honored were Nancy Appleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Appleton, 23 Hudson, and Franziska Moysen, an exchange student from Hamburg, Germany.

Nancy, who spent the summer in Boden, Sweden, presented Taylor with a book as a gift from the mayor of Boden.

She had taken a model of a Pontiac automobile to the highest ranking officials of the Swedish city.

Franziska is staying with the Appletons while enrolled in the 11th grade at Pontiac Central High School.

City Warned on Program Shortcomings

Pontiac will have to make some changes in its approach to urban renewal if it is to receive additional funds after 1967.

This warning was included in a notice from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) that the city's workable program for community improvement has been re-certified through Oct. 1, 1967.

The City Commission last night received official notification of the recertification after a 54-month wait.

With the notice came four pages of comments from HUD technicians who had worked on the city's application.

Specific requirements include:

- Improvements in codes administration, including additional staff and the updating of the building and electrical codes.
- Effective implementation of a systematic housing code compliance program.
- Updating of the comprehensive community plan and completion of the neighborhood analyses work, which reportedly has been "quite superficial."
- Indication that the city is providing effective relocation assistance to all families displaced by governmental action.

Active and effective participation by the citizens advisory committee and its subcommittee for minority group housing.

"The city should understand that this approval is based on its current commitments to correct program deficiencies," the report states.

"It should also understand that demonstrated progress in carrying out these commitments as well as in other aspects of its program will be necessary before another recertification will even be considered."

City Manager Joseph A. Warren noted that "an integral part of the recertification will be the hiring of additional personnel" not now in the city's budget.

These include an additional plumbing inspector and an additional building inspector.

Warren said "severe problems" will be created by the need to come up with "sizeable sums of local funds."

He said he would meet with HUD representatives in January to review the city's progress on the requirements.

The "superficial premises of what was done and what would be done" in the 1962 and 1964 workable program applications "make it difficult to catch up now," Warren said.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson credited Rep. Billie S. Farson, D-19th District, with pulling Pontiac's 1966 application out of a pigeonhole.

If Farson had not stepped in on behalf of the city, "we probably still would be waiting," Hudson said.

T. Warren Fowler Sr. urged his fellow commissioners to consider securing federal systematic housing code compliance to allow residents to obtain as-istance in improving their homes.

"I find that code enforcement in the area west of Franklin and south of South Boulevard has caused a tremendous hardship," Fowler said.

He commented that if the federal code were followed, residents might apply for $1,500 grants or loans carrying three per cent interest to improve their homes.

Fowler's suggestion is to be studied further.

Center Project Gets City OK

Board of Education Will Aid in Planning

Development of a "human resources center" in the southeast quadrant of Pontiac was endorsed last night by the City Commission, which will sponsor preliminary planning for the project with the board of education.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. noted the concept already has the backing of interested groups in the community — notably the human relations committees of both the commission and school board.

The center envisioned by Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer initially would replace 63-year-old McConnell Elementary School and eventually provide for Wilson and Central elementary school pupils.

Earlier this year, 256 McConnell area residents petitioned the board of education to build a new school in the area.

However, the human resources center idea goes beyond that for a traditional school building.

AVAILABLE SERVICES
Whitmer sees it as a place where educational and cultural facilities would be offered to both children and adults, a place where public and private services would be made available.

The center also is seen as a potential stabilizing factor in the racially integrated neighborhood.

Bus Business Picks Up, but Picture Dims

Bus business in Pontiac picked up a bit in August, but the over-all picture continues to get dimmer, city commissioners learned last night.

The Pontiac Transit Corp. reported $12,182 in revenue for August, compared to $12,103 the preceding month. The number of passengers increased from 23,935 to 24,310.

However, it was noted that revenue was $12,708 for August 1965, when 36,035 passengers were carried.

School Dad's Club to Hear Newsman

A United Nations news correspondent will speak at a public meeting of the Bethune Elementary School Dad's Club Sunday.

Malvin E. Goode, correspondent for the ABC network, will discuss "Fostering A Closer Relationship Between Father and Son" at the 5 p.m. program at the school, 154 Lake.

President of the newly organized Dad's Club is William Walker, 144 Branch.

Says Castro Guards Bar Exodus to Base

SAFE TRIP — Philadelphia Phillies' Johnny Callison makes it safely to second base on this steal as Los Angeles second baseman Jim Lefebvre goes wide of the bag to try for the toss from catcher John Roseboro. The ball sailed past Lefebvre, however, and Callison raced around to score the Phillies only run in an 11-1 loss.

Dodger Ace Wins 25th

Fifth No-Hitter Eludes Sandy

By the Associated Press
Sandy Koufax has been a failure 38 times this season. But he doesn't mind, and neither do the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Koufax, who says he tries for a no-hitter every time he starts a game, made his 38th start of the season Tuesday night but again failed to keep his one-season no-hit streak intact.

The Dodgers, however, overcame that obstacle, annihilating Philadelphia 11-1 as Koufax pitched a 25-game winner for the third time in his career.

The victory enabled the Dodgers to maintain their 14-game lead in the National League pendant race over the Pittsburgh Pirates, who whipped San Francisco 6-0.

FOUR-FOR-FOUR

Among a lengthy list of amazing marks Koufax has achieved, perhaps the most amazing is the record four no-hitters he has pitched in the past four years.

He recorded his first hitless game against New York in 1962, his second against San Francisco in 1963, his third against Philadelphia in 1964 and his fourth and most brilliant — a perfect game — against Chicago one year and 12 days ago.

But with only three more chances — and possibly only two — Koufax' streak is dangerously near an end.

"I go out to pitch a no-hitter every game," Koufax says. "Of course that can't be, but after I allow one hit, then I shoot for a shutout. You have to try to hold the opposition to an absolute minimum, bearing in mind that a couple of hits at almost any time can change a victory into defeat."

Koufax, who has lost only eight games, has done such a good job of holding the opposition to an absolute minimum that the Dodgers haven't noticed the absence of another no-hitter.

LEADS MAJORS

The 30-year-old ace leads the majors in victories, in earned run average with a 1.76 mark.

In complete games with 24 and in strikeouts with 289.

He won't reach his major league strikeout record of 352, but he could top his high victory total of 26 and finish with an ERA lower than his personal low of 1.74. He is also just about assured of winning his fifth straight ERA crown.

The Dodgers would just like to be assured of winning their second straight pennant.

In other NL games, Atlanta slipped into fourth place by defeating St. Louis 4-1, Cincinnati topped Chicago 6-3 in 13 innings and New York blanked Houston 3-0.

NEARLY FINISHED

Vernon Law scattered eight hits as the Pirates dumped the third-place Giants five games from the top and just about out of the race. Willie Stargell drove in two runs with a pair of singles while Donn Clendenon and Jesse Gonder homered.

Eddie Mathews backed Tony Olmon's five-hit pitching by driving in two runs with a single and a double. Mack Jones added a home run to Atlanta's attack. The victory was the Braves' fourth straight, 12th in the last 13 games and 17th in the last 19.

Cincinnati defeated Chicago with three runs in the 13th inning. Leo Cardenas snapped a 3-3 tie with a run-scoring double, and Gordy Coleman added a two-run single.

The Mets gained their second straight shutout over Houston behind Jack Fisher's four hits.

U. of M. Visit to California Stirs Memory

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Ninth-ranked Michigan goes to Berkeley, Calif., Saturday for a game with the Golden Bears which will bring back memories of Tom Harmon.

Harmon, now a sportscaster, ran wild on the Wolverines' last visit to Berkeley in 1940, scoring four touchdowns in a 41-0 Michigan victory.

Old 98 scored on a 94-yard jaunt with the opening kickoff and scored his final TD late in the game, avoiding an overzealous Cal fan for the final yard.

FILM REVIEW

California coach Ray Wilsey viewed films of Michigan's 41-0 victory over Oregon State Tuesday. He especially was impressed with the pass-catching of end Jack Clancy who caught 10 for 197 yards.

"He's fantastic," said Wilsey. "The trouble is you can't put all your defensive eggs in one basket. Michigan's not just a Clancy offense."

"There's (Carl) Ward and (Dave) Fisher..." he added, saying: "They have the making of a real fine football team. We were very impressed."

California, which lost a 10-7 decision to Michigan at Ann Arbor last year, upset Washington State 21-6 in its football opener last week.

Star of Future Enters Oriole Scene

Baltimore Down to Magic 3

By United Press International

The Baltimore Orioles have cut their magic number to three because their "star of the future" has arrived ahead of schedule.

Tommy Phoebus, a 24-year-old right-handed pitcher who is a native of Baltimore, was presented with the "star of the future" award by the Maryland professional baseball players association in 1965. He was tagged for possible stardom in 1967 or 1968 but both he and the Orioles believe there is no time like the present.

Phoebus tied the major league record of consecutive shutouts in his first two starts Tuesday night when he pitched the Orioles to a 4-0 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

The five-foot, eight-inch, 185-pounder pitched a shutout against the California Angels, Sept. 15, in his first start after being brought up from Rochester in the International League.

The victory increased the Orioles' first place lead over the idle Detroit Tigers to 8½ games and reduced their magic number for clinching the American League pennant to three.

Any combination of Baltimore victories and Detroit losses totaling three will clinch the pennant for the Orioles.

Frank Robinson led the Orioles' nine-hit attack with a homer, single and two runs batted in and went one point ahead of the Minnesota Twins' Tony Oliva in their race for the batting title.

Robinson now leads in all three departments of the "triple crown" with a 312 average, 47 homers and 114 runs batted in.

FIVE-HITTER
Phoebus, who had a 13-9 record for Rochester, allowed five hits, struck out seven and walked three. He is the first pitcher to hurl shutouts in his first two big league starts since Karl Spooner did it for the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1954.

The Cleveland Indians defeated the Twins 4-1 in Tuesday's only other A.L. game. Boston at Washington, Chicago at New York and California at Detroit were rained out.

Luis Tiant, makes his first start since July 3, scattered six hits and singled home two runs to square his record at 10-10 for the Indians.

Missouri Honors Henry Armstrong

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A boxer who once held three world titles at the same time has been elected to the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame.

The state's sports writers and sportscasters, in balloting last month, named Henry Armstrong as the first 1966 choice for the Hall.

Armstrong once held the world featherweight, lightweight and welterweight championships — a feat never equaled in boxing history.

Armstrong will be inducted at a dinner in Columbia following the Missouri-Iowa State football game on Oct. 22.

SPORTS

Local Parochials to Clash Friday

St. Frederick will entertain Waterford Our Lady of Lakes 8 p.m. Friday at Wisner Stadium in Friday football games.

The final contest in the brief series with the Lakers will find St. Fred attempting to salvage some satisfaction in the rivalry Mike next year to form Catholic and post a major conquest in this fall's Macomb Catholic League race.

Waterford OLL is the defending grid champ, has won eight straight under coach Mike Boyd and began its "rebuilding" campaign with a 41-0 routing of Anchor Bay Catholic last Sunday.

Its five previous outings against the Rams have seen

WOLL win four times, and always score at least four touchdowns except in the one tilt it dropped. That was a 47-0 blanking in 1964, the last game WOLL lost and the most one-sided tilt in the series.

St. Fred will combine with St. Mike next year to form Catholic and post a major conquest in this fall's Macomb Catholic League race.

The Rams also have a winning skid to protect Friday night. After a slow start last season, they closed with three straight impressive victories for coach Bud Duff and last week opened with a 22-0 conquest at Richmond St. Augustine.

Quarterback John Guillen lost three scoring aerials in that triumph and is bidding to repeat as the all-league quarterback.

However, Duff must replace 190-pound blocker Phil Yapo who injured a shoulder and is lost for the season. The Rams have a fine backfield, though it needs good interference from the line to be effective.

RETURNEES

The Lakers lost considerably from their outstanding 1965 unit, but three key returnees were All-County Class C.D. Don Guibord, the leading runner, Jerry Methner, a guard, and Rick St. Louis, a tackle, played prominent roles last fall.

Guibord was the Lakers' leading runner last Sunday although hampered by a sore ankle. Methner resumed with a strong defensive game. St. Louis has moved to the backfield this season and scored one touchdown in the lifeline.

An intent spectator at this week's game will be coach Jim Niebauer of St. Michael. The Shamrocks also have title hopes, and are idle this weekend before playing host to WOLL in a Saturday night Wisner meet.

This Sunday afternoon St. Augustine will visit Anchor Bay Catholic and Marine City Holy Cross will travel to St. Rose.

Pass Defense Key at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — Top-rated Michigan State emphasized pass defense Tuesday in hopes of stopping Penn State's Jack White to Jack Curry combination in Spartan Stadium.

The offense also had a few worries—such as keeping Penn State middle guard Mike Reid out of the way. Reid, a 204-pounder, accounted for two safeties in the Nittany Lion's 15-7 victory over Maryland last Saturday.

White completed nine passes in 17 tries for 110 yards and 11 touchdowns, six passes for 79 yards.

The Spartans, who beat North Carolina State 26-10 last week, sent their offense indoors to work because of rain.

The defense worked outdoors, with limited contact in the line. Reserve defensive halfback Bill Ware suffered a knee sprain and will be out at least a week.

Series TV in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The baseball World Series next month will be televised live in Mexico City by the National Broadcasting Company. Videotape telecasts also will be transmitted later each day.

Twilight Pair Forced by Tuesday Postponement

DETROIT (AP) — It's expected the Tigers will have mixed emotions going into tonight's two-night doubleheader with the California Angels.

The doubleheader was necessary when Tuesday night's game was called off because of an all-day shower.

It was the first postponement in seven weeks for the Tigers who gained a half game over the third-place Minnesota Twins, 4½ losers to the Cleveland Indians.

It will also be the first twin-bill for the Tigers since Labor Day when they split with the Washington Senators.

Tigers Manager Frank Shaff elected to go with his original starters — Earl Wilson and Mickey Lolich. Wilson will be seeking his 19th season triumph.

OUTSIDE CHANCE

The Angels, with only a very outside chance of overtaking the second-place Tigers, will counter with Dean Chance and Fred Newman.

The Tigers are 500 in doubleheaders this season. They've won five, lost the same number and split the other 10. They won the only doubleheader played with the Angels, who took three straight the last time they were in town.

California needs but three victories in the six remaining games between the two teams to win a season's series from the Tigers for the first time in history. The Tigers have beaten them once in six chances at home.

The teams close out the current home stand for the Tigers with an afternoon game Thursday. The Tigers then move to Minnesota for three more.

Ed Davis of Pontiac recently managed his first hole-in-one during 35 years of golfing, acing the 189-yard 14th hole at Bald Mountain Golf Course.

games, including a morning contest Saturday, starting at 10 a.m., Detroit time.

Minnesota officials have gone to the early starting time when the University of Minnesota has a home game scheduled the same day. The Gophers play host to Stanford in the afternoon and a number of Tigers are expected to be in attendance.

New York Given PBA Tournament

NEW YORK (AP) — The Professional Bowlers Association National Championship Tournament will be held for six straight years starting in 1967 in the new Madison Square Garden Center. It was announced Tuesday.

The 1965 tournament, won by Dave Davis of Phoenix, Ariz., was held in Detroit. This year's tournament is scheduled for early November in Garden City, N.Y. The new Garden Center, now under construction, is expected to be completed a year from now.

Bigger Park, More Money

Orioles Rooting for Dodgers

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles, about to clinch their first American League pennant, have an obvious rooting interest in the tight National League race.

To a man, the Orioles hope the Los Angeles Dodgers prevail over the San Francisco Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates. The reason is obvious: The Los Angeles park would provide a larger share of World Series loot for the players to divide.

But Frank Robinson and Stu Miller, veteran Orioles and former National League, go one step further. They believe the Dodgers would be easier to beat despite pitching ace Sandy Koufax and their demoralizing speed.

"I'd rather take my chances with Los Angeles," Robinson said after the Orioles defeated Kansas City 4-0 Tuesday night and reduced to three their margin for clinching the pennant.

Ex-Eagle Star of Rams

NEW YORK (AP) — Maxie Baughman may have been excess baggage to Joe Kuharich at Philadelphia last year but he is money in the bank for the Los Angeles Rams.

Blood-stained Maxie, with five stitches over his right eye, was one of the big reasons the Chicago Bears were unable to rally when the Rams twice fumbled the ball away on their own 19 in the final four minutes of Friday's game.

For his fine defensive play against the Bears, the vet Rams linebacker has been named by The Associated Press as the Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Florida Passer Spurrier Takes Gridiron Honor

Quarterback Sparks Team to Easy Win Over Northwestern

By the Associated Press
Steve Spurrier, Florida's slick triple-threat quarterback, lived up to his notices in his opening game against Northwestern Saturday and was named the College Back of the Week by The Associated Press.

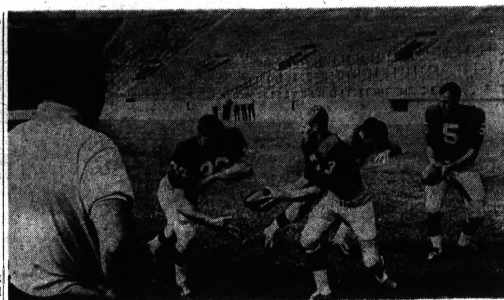

The 6-foot-2, 190 senior, a second team All-America last season, clicked on 15 of 22 passes for 219 yards and three touchdowns, booted field goals of 41 and 25 yards, and punted four times for a 44-yard average in Florida's 43-7 rout of Northwestern.

With victory assured, Spurrier went to the sidelines to give his subs game experience.

Spurrier had a great day but so did UCLA's Gary Beban, Southern California's Troy Winslow, Navy's John Cartwright, Tulsa's Greg Barton and Purdue's Bob Griese, among others.

Navy Nine Gains Softball Triumph

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The U.S. Navy eliminated Englewood, Colo., 10-0, and Indianapolis ousted Paterson, N.J., 3-2, Tuesday in the rain-punctuated American Softball Association National Tournament.

Rain washed out the other five game schedule.

Today's first session paired Offutt AFB, Omaha, Neb., against Seattle, Wash.; Oklahoma City against Philadelphia, Pa., and the Navy team against Lakewood, Calif.

Tonight in the winners' bracket, Ashland, Ohio, goes against Dallas, Tex.; Providence, R.I., against Clearwater, Fla., and Mountain View, Calif., against Springfield, Mo.

Highland Lakes Outruns Nikes

Highland Lakes branch of Oakland Community College treated its sister campus at Auburn Hills roughly yesterday, blanking it in cross country, 15-1, on the Hills' course.

The Highlanders took the first six places led by Bill Hollis who won the three-mile race in 17:47. Hollis, an ex-Pontiac Central track star, was followed by Nick Ochoa, former Pontiac Northern ace, who posted a 17:48.5.

Another ex-PNH runner, Bruce Gibson, took seventh place as the first Auburn Hills finisher. Highland Lakes is now 24 and the Nikes 6-2. Both will journey to Delta CC Friday for a triangular meet.

Use of Parks Already Tops 1965 Total

Camping 34 Per Cent Ahead of Last Year; More Permits Sold

With the season not yet over, state parks in Michigan have already entertained more recreationists this year than they did in all of 1965.

Latest figures show that state parks had hosted about 14.8 million daily visitors, including a record 312,550 camping families, through Sunday, Sept. 4, of the Labor Day weekend.

This year's daily attendance tops the 1965 year-end total by 1.3 million people. Over 6,000 more state park camping permits have been issued than by the end of last September.

Compared with last year's figures for the first part of September, daily attendance is up 22 per cent. Camping is 34 per cent ahead of the year-ago pace.

Approximately 55,700 camping families have been turned away from state parks, two per cent below this point in 1965.

State parks in all three of the Conservation Department's administrative regions have exceeded last year's use.

Those in the southern Lower Peninsula have been the top crowd-getters with slightly over nine million daily visitors and 102,700 camping groups. Another 4.1 million day users and 138,000 camping families have flocked to state parks in the northern Lower Peninsula.

In the Upper Peninsula, state park daily attendance stands at 1.7 million. The region's camp permit total is 70,850.

Duck Stamp Hike Passes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has approved a bill authorizing the secretary of the Interior to increase the cost of the migratory bird hunting stamp to $3.75.

Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., sponsor of the Senate-bound bill, said it was his understanding that the secretary would only increase the fee for the stamp to $3.75.

Funds from sale of the stamp are used to acquire land for migratory bird refuges and waterfowl production areas.

Young Trees Now Available

More than six million young pine and spruce trees are now on sale through the Conservation Department's Forestry Division in Lansing.

Landowners seeking planting stock for raising future timber crops, controlling erosion or providing farm windbreaks may order from the department's large supply of trees, more than half of which are red pine seedlings and transplants.

Under a standing policy to encourage only reforestation projects, trees will not be sold for landscaping uses.

In an effort to offset rising production costs, the department has been forced to make modest increases in its stock prices. These increases range from $1 to $4 per thousand trees.

Stock price lists and order blanks are available from the Forestry Division in Lansing or at the offices of its field foresters and county extension agents.

Manistee River Project Halted by Court Order

A hearing on attempts of the Conservation Department to produce a total fish kill on a 60-mile stretch of the Manistee River has been postponed until Oct. 5.

The hearing on a temporary restraining order issued by Wexford County Circuit Court Judge William Peterson was originally scheduled for Monday.

The delaying measure resulted from an appeal of Dr. Burdette Berens of Kalkaska and Dwight Seifert of Frederic who contend that the department's proposed project would deny them of recreational opportunities on the river.

The two plaintiffs oppose plans to use a chemical (Bayer-23) to produce a total fish kill in a 40-mile section of the river from Cameron Bridge about five miles west of Frederic in Crawford County, to Sharon in Kalkaska County.

Dr. Berens and Seifert favor, instead, the application of a conventional, selective chemical which would only eradicate chestnut lampreys in the problem area of the stream.

The department's goal is to kill two problems with one chemical shot. Its plans are to wipe out both chestnut lampreys and rough fish in waters between Cameron Bridge and Sharon.

COMPETITION
The lampreys have made big inroads into this area's trout populations and rough fish are competing with trout for food, according to department fish experts.

Following chemical application, the department would plant about 200,000 young brown and rainbow trout in the problem area which should reach legal size by late next summer or early in the fall of 1967.

The lake's Chuck Cartwright won the second annual State District Aqua Cat Regatta over the weekend at Cass Lake.

Cartwright finished fourth Saturday behind winner Jack Smith of Port Huron, then took first in the concluding two races to nip Kalamazoo's Bob Thiesen, who finished third in all three races, for the Shelly's Tavern Perpetual Trophy.

Pontiac's Chuck Vaughn placed third overall, and Jim Morrison of Cass Lake was fifth. Millard Aqua Cat dealer Dick Kelli sponsors the annual races.

Additional enrollments will be accepted before the start of classes at the respective sites.

Enrollments also will be taken during special demonstrations by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club tonight at the CAI Building and tomorrow night at Whitfield.

Both demonstrations start at 8 p.m. and interested persons are urged to leave their dogs home.

Lakeshore Bill Passed by House

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A 67,000-acre Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore along the Lake Superior rim of Michigan's Upper Peninsula is a big step closer to reality today.

The House has approved a bill Monday to establish the Alger County site as a national park.

The proposal now goes to the Senate, where a similar bill already is pending in an interior subcommittee.

Rep. Raymond F. Cleveland, Democrat from Sault Ste. Marie, who sponsored the bill, said he was optimistic the Senate would give its approval this year.

"While we are very happy about House passage of my bill, recognize that the Senate still has to act," Cleveland said.

"But all signs indicate that the other house will give the measure prompt consideration."

"I am hopeful that the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore will be a reality before the 89th Congress adjourns."

39 MILES
The lakeshore would take in 67,000 acres of land and 6,230 acres of water in Alger County. It would be 39 miles long and two to five miles wide.

The bill authorizes $6,873,000 for land acquisition and $6,348,000 for development. Operating costs are estimated at $422,000 a year.

The lakeshore's name comes from the "pictured rocks"—varied sandstone cliffs from 50 to 200 feet high—that border Lake Superior for 15 miles along the west end of the proposed park.

Fulbright Meets Roadblocks in Bid for Public Hearings on U.S. Role in Thailand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright apparently will not be able to throw the limelight of public hearings on the American buildup in Thailand as he had hoped.

He is running into reluctance not only from the administra-

Two committee members, Sens. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D.,

and John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., said they believed a majority of the committee did not want public hearings on American operations in Thailand, where the United States is building bases and has stationed some 26,000 servicemen.

"I think a majority of the committee feels that, in the middle of a war, you don't have hearings on a country associated with you in a war," said Mundt.

Mundt and Sparkman gave their views after the committee questioned Assistant Secretary of State William P. Bundy yesterday on the Thailand situation. Members said afterward they learned little from Bundy at the closed session that they hadn't already read in the newspapers.

Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat, said the administration official's reluctance to discuss the Thai operations in public was due to the Thailand government's desire to keep them an official secret.

But Fulbright said he wasn't as interested in the administration's short-term military aims as he was in airing its long-term Asian objectives which he said smacked of "colonial rule."

"I would still like to have some open hearings to discuss our long-term objectives," Fulbright said.

"The Star-Spangled Banner" is played in Puccini's opera, "Madame Butterfly."

Bill Heads for Senate After Rough House Handling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign aid appropriation bill heads for the Senate today after being roughed up by the House.

Carrying a $3,047,065,800 price tag, the measure was approved yesterday on a 234-141 roll call vote.

There were no signs that the Senate Appropriations Committee, which scheduled immediate consideration, would restore any of the $335,886,200 lopped off by the House, or that the full Senate would be more generous.

The House upheld a $233,200-

000 cut proposed by its appropriations committee, then boosted the reduction an extra $45,696,200 by a roll call vote of 187 to 182.

The added cut was proposed by Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, top Republican on the appropriations committee. It affected only economic programs.

CLAIMS DISPUTED

It was supported by 71 Democrats and 116 Republicans and opposed by 174 Democrats and 8 Republicans.

Bow disputed claims of opponents that his amendment would interfere with the economic aid program in South Viet Nam, for which the bill provides an estimated $550 million during the fiscal year ending June 30.

The cut, he said, could be applied to less-essential programs and would make the total reduction in economic aid about 10 per cent from the $2,468,962,000 requested by President Johnson.

Bow said he was trying to go along with the President's plea to Congress to hold down appropriations.

Pleads Innocent

DETROIT (AP) — Miss Jackie Sheehan, 32, of Detroit pleaded innocent Tuesday to a second degree murder charge in the gunshot slaying of John Kimmel, night bartender at the Miami Lounge near downtown.

Kimmel was shot earlier in the day following a brief argument with Miss Sheehan, police said. An examination was scheduled for Oct. 3.

Harlem Protest May Flare Up

NEW YORK (AP) — A white principal returns to his post at a new showcase school in Harlem today after his replacement by a Negro assistant in line with racial demands touched off a faculty strike of the school's integrated faculty.

There were indications that Negro leaders who had called a boycott of Intermediate School results. 201 for a week until Principal Stanley Lasser resigned Monday in planning a new demonstration. They insist a "black principal" take his place.

Lasser was reinstated by the Board of Education yesterday with a full pledge of support, just 24 hours after it had announced he was voluntarily stepping down to ease tensions in the community.

As they did, 150 parents held a closed strategy meeting with Stokely Carmichael, head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, and Livingstone Wingate, executive director of the Harlem antipoverty program.

Almost all of the school's 55 teachers stayed away from classes Tuesday to protest Lasser's reassignment.

GOP Suspects LBJ Will Soften Inflation Issue by Urging Spending Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republicans suspect President Johnson is getting ready to try to kidnap their inflation issue by announcing proposed spending cutbacks before the November elections. Johnson said in signing a party that when he sees what money bills he will ask department heads and agencies how much they can save and announce the

While the President gave no indication of the timing in involved, Republicans believe that if Congress winds up its work by mid-October, Johnson will come up with some figures shortly before the Nov. 8 voting.

Both Democrats and Repubicans have voted for more spending as the most effective way of combating inflation.

Chief target at the moment, Dirksen said, is the Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) money bill. Approved at a $10.57 billion level by the House, it is expected to be ballooned considerably when it comes before the Senate for debate.

"We're going to try to cut the HEW bill, the antipoverty program and everything else that comes along," Dirksen said in an interview.

Drop Cookies Come in Many Flavors

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Now that school has begun, cookie jar raids are confined to after school. But if you are packing lunches, or if the children come home for lunch, you will want to keep a supply of cookies on hand.

Making cookies is often the first cooking a little girl does. We can't stress too strongly that teaching children to cook is rewarding, if a bit messy. They can learn to clean up afterward.

Drop cookies are good ones for the young cook. She (or even he) can easily learn to spoon the dough onto the cookie sheet in even mounds. And with an electric mixer, the actual preparation is easy.

It's the apple season. You'll be pleased with the taste apple hits give peanut butter hermits. These fragrant spicy cookies also contain peanut butter chips; substitute chocolate chips if your family prefers them.

APPLE PEANUT BUTTER HERMITS

2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar
¼ cup milk
¼ cup peanut butter
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 eggs, well beaten
¼ cup seedless golden raisins
¼ cup finely-chopped apples
1 package (5½-oz.) peanut butter chips

Sift flour with baking powder, salt, spices and sugar. Mix brown sugar and milk.

Cream peanut butter with butter or margarine, add flour mixture, brown sugar mixture, and eggs; stir until all flour is dampened; then beat vigorously 1 minute. Add raisins, apples and peanut butter chips; mix well.

Drop from tablespoon onto greased baking sheets and bake in moderate oven, (350 degrees) for 12 to 15 minutes, or until edges begin to brown. Makes about 4 dozen.

Peanut butter chips again go into a cookie, this time a plum raisin one. Wheat germ adds extra nutrition.

RAISIN MUNCHING COOKIES

½ cup butter or shortening
1 cup brown sugar (packed)
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup toasted wheat germ
½ cup seedless raisins
½ cup peanut butter chips

Blend together butter, sugar, egg and vanilla. Add flour resifted with baking powder and salt. Mix well. Stir in wheat germ, raisins and peanut butter chips.

Drop by teaspoonsful onto lightly greased baking sheets, about 2 inches apart. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes, until browned.

Let stand a minute, then remove to racks to cool. Makes about 3½ dozen cookies.

Old-fashioned soft ginger cookies are hard to beat. These have a cake-like texture.

SOFT GINGER COOKIES

1 cup butter
½ cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup molasses
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ cup evaporated milk
3 cups sifted regular all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon cinnamon

In a large mixing bowl cream butter and sugar thoroughly. Add egg and molasses; blend well. Stir lemon juice into evaporated milk, then blend into the butter-sugar mixture.

Sift flour with soda, salt and spices. Add to butter-sugar mixture, blending well. Drop by rounded tablespoonsful (two inches apart) on a greased baking sheet.

Bake in preheated moderate oven (375 degrees) until cookies are lightly browned, about 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 2½ dozen cookies.

If you manage to hide some of the following cookies, you can freeze them for later use. In fact, any of the cookies will freeze well. You might want to make double batches while you're in the mood.

CHERRY OATMEAL CRISPIES

1 cup shortening
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar
2 eggs
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon each: salt, cinnamon, nutmeg
¾ cups rolled oats
1 jar (8 ounces) red maraschino cherries, well drained* and chopped (about ½ cup)
½ cup chopped walnuts
Cream together shortening

and sugars; add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices. Stir into creamed mixture with oats. Stir in cherries and nuts.

Drop mixture by heaping teaspoonsful onto lightly greased baking sheets. Bake in 375 degrees oven 10 to 12 minutes, or until cookies are golden brown. Makes about 5 dozen.

*Reserve syrup for fruit punch or liquid for gelatin desserts.

Cream Makes Lamb Tasty

Slices of roast veal or lamb may be served as an encore if heated in the oven (350 degrees) with seasoned sour cream. Add celery or garlic salt, Worcestershire sauce or crumbled blue cheese to the cream and spread over the meat.

Serve in just this way when reheated (from 20 to 30 minutes), or serve on toast, English muffins, a bed of rice or noodles. Garnish with watercress, parsley, celery tops and spiced crabapples or spiced prunes.

Filled Sprouts

Here's a delicious and distinctive-tasting canapé to delight your guests — slit partially cooked Brussels sprouts and fill with a mixture of pre-seasoned chicken spread and a little pickle relish. Chill well and serve with wooden picks.

Avocados Are Holders for Fish Mixture

Devastating dish to serve at a bridge luncheon is "Hot Crab California."

For this San Francisco specialty, you heat crisp shreds of western iceberg lettuce in a tarragon-tinged King crab and mayonnaise mixture which you then spoon into room-temperature avocado halves.

Bright red cherry tomatoes sprinkled with salt and coarsely ground black pepper are the ideal garnish for this superlative luncheon entree.

Hot Crab California

1 head western iceberg lettuce
1 can (7½ oz.) King crab
½ cup mayonnaise
Lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon tarragon, crumbled
2 California avocados
8 cherry tomatoes, with crisscross cuts

After returning from the market, core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in plastic bag.

Drain and flake crab; combine with mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, salt, mustard and tarragon in saucepan. Heat slowly, stirring occasionally.

Meanwhile, remove skin and halve avocados; remove seeds. Coat with lemon juice and arrange petal fashion, cavity-sides up on outer leaves of lettuce on serving platter.

Cut iceberg head lengthwise into halves; place cut-sides down on board and shred enough to yield 2 cups. (Chill remainder for use another time.) Mix hot crab mixture; heat through. Fill avocado halves with some of hot mixture; mound remainder in center. Garnish with tomatoes. Makes 4 servings.

Omelet Boasts Curried Pears

An unusual and delicious omelet has curried fresh pear filling.

Halve and core 2 fresh Bartlett pears, sliced lengthwise. Combine pear slices with ½ cup of mayonnaise and ¼ to 1 teaspoon of curry powder. Place over low heat and stir occasionally but do not boil. Fold in 2 tablespoons of snipped parsley.

Use as filling for an omelet to serve 2 persons and serve with crisp bacon.

Soup Is a Relic of the Civil War

Would you like to taste honest-to-goodness Civil War Style Soup just as it was made over campfires for the Boys in Blue? That's what they'll be serving visitors at McClure, Pennsylvania.

75 years ago Grand Army of the Republic veterans got together to reminisce and cook up that Army Bean Soup grandmother never made. Since then it's an annual event carried on by the sons of the GAR, American Legion and other groups.

Oyster crackers replace hardtack but the soup's the same! Upwards of 25,000 visitors from everywhere are guests at the famed McClure Bean Soup and Homecoming Celebration.

CIVIL WAR SOUP — ARMY STYLE

Into each 35-gallon cast iron kettle put 16 pounds of ground beef, 8 pounds of suet and all the dry navy beans a 16-quart bucket holds. Use clear spring water. As the soup simmers, stir constantly with a 10-pound wooden paddle for 2 hours or longer till beans are soft and disintegrated. No seasoning is used. Each person adds salt and pepper to suit himself.

CIVIL WAR SOUP — FAMILY SIZE

Battlefronts hardly match the wealth of condiments in our own kitchens, so when we experimented we added both ginger and monosodium glutamate to our bubbling brew. This tested recipe gives you 4 or more hearty servings of deliciously different bean soup. Total cost? Less than $1.00!

1 pound dry navy beans

¾ to 1 pound ground lean beef
¾ quarts water

Run hot water over beans in colander. Break up meat and suet in bits. Combine all ingredients in large pot and bring to mainder of cooking, 2 to 2½ hours. Stir often, bruising the beans to cream the soup adding more water if necessary. Salt and pepper to taste only after soup is cooked.

At home we found this even more tasty next day. So protein rich it jells overnight. The authentic recipe makes a superb base for your favorite additions. At table, serve small dishes of minced onion, chives, green pepper, parsley, and sour cream so each can add a personal preference to his individual bowl.

Ancient Foods Still Basic to Chinese

LIVER 'N' ONIONS—Golden brown onions, lightly fried liver and crumbles of crisp bacon make this delicious meat dish. Wine vinegar is an unusual addition.

Wine Vinegar Tasty With Liver and Onions

Throughout the European countries liver is much better known than in the United States. Travelers sometimes say that a restaurant abroad can be judged by the excellence with which the chef prepares variety meats. Overcooked liver is a rarity in these gourmet restaurants as it should be in the American home.

All homemakers will appreciate the one-skillet method of preparation for this liver 'n onions recipe.

First the bacon is fried, then the onions are sautéed in the flavorful drippings. After the liver is coated with a seasoned flour, it too is fried in the same drippings.

To add a zippy flavor wine vinegar is added while the liver is still pink in the center. The vinegar helps remove all of the tasty brown bits from the pan and blends all the delicious flavors together.

In cooking the meat, high heat and short cooking time are necessary since overcooking tends to toughen and dry out the liver.

Liver 'n Onions
6 slices bacon
2 medium-size onions, sliced and separated into rings
¼ cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 pound calves liver, sliced
¼ cup wine vinegar

Cook bacon in large fry pan until crisp; remove, crumble, and set aside. Add onions to bacon drippings, cooking slowly until tender. Remove and set aside.

In a plate patte thoroughly combine flour, salt, and pepper. Coat liver with seasoned flour. Sauté liver quickly in the same skillet over high heat, taking care not to overcook and toughen meat.

When liver is still pink in center, add wine vinegar to remove any brown bits stuck to it. Remove to serving platter and top with crumbled bacon and onion rings. Spoon wine vinegar glaze over each serving of liver.

Actual Cost Is One Big Factor

EAST LANSING — Is it economically sound for a home maker to can or freeze food herself?

According to Portia Morris, food specialist at Michigan State University, only the homemaker herself can answer this question. And in order to answer it, she will have to answer several other questions.

Dr. Morris says the first question should be, how much does it cost to can a jar of food? This is figured by totaling the cost of the jar, lid, rim, fuel, the food product, and sugar, if used. The total cost is then divided by the yield to give the cost per jar.

This calculation, however, makes no allowance for the homemaker's time. Therefore, she will have to carefully consider how profitably she might have spent her time if she did not can.

Secondly, she must consider what she might expect to pay for a similar product. Is it cheaper for her to buy the food already preserved? This then leads to another question: Does she and her family have greater satisfaction from the home processed food?

If the answer is "yes," then home canning may be worthwhile even if it is more expensive.

In considering freezing as a means of preserving food, Dr. Morris points out that the cost of the freezer and the electricity — as well as the cost of the packaging and the raw product — must be considered. Authorities estimate that the cost of freezing food varies from 9 cents to 19 cents per pound.

For most families, Dr. Morris says, owning a freezer is a convenience, but not a saving.

Soup Stock From Tongue

Do you have to cook bones from meat for soup stock? Not always, of course. Make broth by dissolving one beef bouillon cube in a cup of hot water.

If you want to make some truly wonderful onion soup, use the above idea, or utilize the broth in which beef tongue has been cooked. That gives onion soup a very special flavor.

This broth from cooked tongue may be refrigerated for a period of two or three days. If kept for a longer time, it should be frozen.

Add Celery Pieces

Ever add minced celery to a prepared tomato sauce designed for seafood cocktails? The celery adds crisp texture.

Chinese food, so popular today in American adaptations, has its roots in the classical age of China more than 3,000 years ago. Indeed, it was a contemporary of Confucius, Lao-Tze, who might be considered the first nutritionist. Here are some of the basics of Chinese food, according to experts.

Two ancient vegetables that are still Oriental favorites and which have now become familiar to American palates are bamboo shoots and water chestnuts.

The bamboo shoot is the root or underground shoot of the mature bamboo plant that scientists consider the most primitive of all grasses. The plant itself has a multitude of uses and is nutritionally related to wheat, oats and barley.

The water chestnut does not have the history of the bamboo, but it is a contradiction — it isn't a chestnut at all! It doesn't grow on trees, but is, in fact, a tuber and grows in soil under 5 to 10 feet of water. Like bamboo shoots, they remain crisp throughout their canning or freezing processes. Rich in nutritional value, water chestnuts have a sweet, nut-like flavor that adds much to many recipes.

Another staple food dating back to Confucius is the Chinese noodle. Together with rice, the noodle has long been a mainstay of the Oriental diet. It was one of the "musts" at all Imperial festive boards since it symbolized long life to the Chinese.

Although it is sometimes called to make "spaghetti and meatballs" Chinese style, the noodle is most adaptable when it is fried. In this state, it can be incorporated into a variety of recipes and does enhance many dishes that might otherwise be dull.

The soybean, one of the oldest foods known to man, had its origins in China over 5,000 years ago. Because of its exceptionally high protein content, the soybean is often eaten in place of meat in the Far East.

The juice of this beautiful bean is basic to soy sauce, a popular flavoring agent which is also an excellent marinade for beef and fish.

In the Chinese gourmet school, the standard requirements were that a food must be smooth and pure; crisp and tender, and also be adaptable to many recipes.

These four food products — soy sauce, bamboo shoots, water chestnuts and Chinese noodles — have survived these tests and also have been improved upon by scientific processing. They are particularly suited to our modern diet because they possess exotic qualities as well as health-giving properties.

Here, to add to your culinary experience, are three recipes

Bean Sprout Sauté
1 can (16-oz.) bean sprouts, drained
¼ cup diagonally cut celery
¼ cup (5-oz. can) sliced water chestnuts

2 tablespoons diced pimiento
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons ginger, optional
3 tablespoons salad oil
1 tablespoon vinegar

Combine all ingredients until well mixed. Chill before serving. Serves 4.

You can keep all the canned ingredients needed for this dish on the kitchen shelf for a quick meal.

30-Minute Casserole
1 can (1 lb. 8-oz.) chicken, or mushroom chow mein
1 can (13-oz.) tuna or 2 to 3 cups diced chicken or turkey
1 can (5-oz.) water chestnuts, quartered

1 cup hot water
1 cup whole cranberry sauce
1 cup bean sprouts, drained and rinsed
Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Stir in cranberry sauce and bean sprouts, mixing thoroughly. Pour into 8-inch square pan. Chill until firm. Cut into squares. Serve on greens with mayonnaise. Serves 9.

Cranberry Orange Square
1 pkg. orange-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup whole cranberry sauce
1 cup bean sprouts, drained and rinsed
Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Stir in cranberry sauce and bean sprouts, mixing thoroughly. Pour into 8-inch square pan. Chill until firm. Cut into squares. Serve on greens with mayonnaise. Serves 9.

Combine vegetables with the meat, water chestnuts, contents of sauce with mushrooms, milk, and soy sauce.

Turn into a lightly greased 2½ quart casserole. Cover top of casserole with the chow mein noodles. Bake, uncovered, in a moderate oven for 20 minutes or until heated through. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Combine all ingredients until well mixed. Chill before serving. Serves 4.

You can keep all the canned ingredients needed for this dish on the kitchen shelf for a quick meal.

Peach Shortcake Has Many Variations

Fresh Peach Shortcake! What could be more tempting on a warm summer day than luscious golden fresh peach slices spilling over a faintly warm, tender shortcake, topped off with whipped cream or rich country cream?

Everyone has his own idea of what the authentic shortcake is, or at least, what is his favorite way.

In the shortcake family, sponge and angel cake base claim some unwavering adherents. Crisp, browned rounds of pastry are the shortcake choice in certain sections of our country.

Others say that true shortcake starts with a biscuit.

Take your choice of shortcake — the juicy fresh peach slices are spooned between cakes and over it.

Golden fresh peach slices can be peeled and sliced way ahead of time, too, and kept shining gold until whenever you choose to serve them.

(1) Use 2 tablespoons instant lemonade or frozen lemonade concentrate to every ½ cup water. Cover the sliced fresh peaches completely with this mixture. Cover and refrigerate.

When ready to serve, pour off liquid and sweeten peach slices using about ¼ cup sugar per cup of peaches.

(2) Cover fresh peach slices with a mixture of ¼ cup light corn syrup, ¼ teaspoon fruit-freeze powder and ¼ cup water. Cover and refrigerate. Spoon peaches and juice over shortcake.

(3) Mix 2 tablespoons honey, ¼ teaspoon fruit-freeze powder and ¼ cup water. Pour over fresh peach slices, tossing well to coat each slice. Cover and refrigerate up to 4 hours. Spoon peaches and juice over shortcake.

How about something original and a little gourmet to drift over fresh peach shortcake? The National Peach Council suggests the following toppings over your shortcake.

And by the way, they say that these toppings are just as good over plain sliced peaches and other peachy desserts.

Ginger Topping
1 cup smooth cottage cheese
½ teaspoon finely chopped candied ginger

2 teaspoons finely chopped candied orange peel

Stir all ingredients together. If desired, add ¼ teaspoon vanilla and 1 tablespoon confectioner to sweetened sliced peaches before spooning over shortcake. Then spoon topping over fresh peach shortcake.

Peanut Brittle Topping
¼ cup crushed peanut brittle
¼ teaspoon grated orange rind
¼ cup whipping cream, whipped

Fold all ingredients together. If desired, add ¼ teaspoon almond extract to sweetened sliced peaches before spooning over shortcake. Then spoon topping over fresh peach shortcake.

Sour Cream Dressing
1 pint dairy sour cream

¼ cup sifted powdered sugar
¼ teaspoon fresh ground nutmeg
Pinch of salt
¼ teaspoon almond extract
Blend all ingredients together. Spoon over fresh peach shortcake.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS 1 OUT OF 8 BOYS

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms. Only parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jay's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First, a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then, Jay's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jay's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

PEACH SHORTCAKE — Fresh peach shortcake is worth singing about when the luscious golden peach slices can be prepared ahead of time and kept shining bright for hours, then spooned over shortcake and crowned with a delightfully different topping.

Fish Sticks Are Best With Zesty Dip

When you need an appetizer on a moment's notice, reach into your freezer for a package of frozen fish sticks. It's quite an economical idea, too, because when the sticks are cut in thirds, one package will make thirty canapés.

While the fish sticks are browning, you can be mixing the sauce.

Fish sticks go well with any number of sauces and dips. All that's required is that the mixture be a bit tangy in flavor so it contrasts in a complementary way with the delicate flavor of the fish.

For dipping purposes, a slightly thick consistency is best. Either a sour cream or mayonnaise base is perfect for this, and both lend themselves to almost unlimited seasonings.

In this dip recipe from the National Fisheries Institute, the base is mayonnaise, plus crumbled blue cheese and a trio of zesty seasonings.

Fish Stick Canapés With Blue Cheese Dip

1 package (10-oz.) frozen fish sticks

2 cups mayonnaise

1 tablespoon chopped chives
or 1 teaspoon grated onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
¼ cup crumbled blue cheese
One 10-ounce package of fish sticks will make thirty of these bite-size appetizers. Cut each of parsley or watercress makes stick into 3 pieces. Follow package directions for heating and browning. Serve hot, with cocktail picks and a bowl of Blue Cheese Dip nearby.

To make the dip, combine mayonnaise with seasonings and cheese, mix lightly. A spring watercress makes an attractive garnish.

Cheese, Olives for Sandwich

Combine Swiss cheese and olives for sandwich spreads. Grate ½ pound of Swiss cheese and combine with ¼ cup of chopped chives, ¼ cup of chopped pimiento-stuffed olives, ¼ cup of mayonnaise and 1 tablespoon of milk. Mix until well blended.

Use as a spread on sliced pumpernickel bread. Makes about 2 cups.

Ginger in Relish

Any preserved ginger in the Coconut Honey Freeze — a house? It's a delicious surprise homemade frozen treat that is fresh when it's added to uncoked both elegant and easy — it's fresh tomato relish. To make the really time to post invitations relish, combine diced tomatoes, to a party.

onion, celery and green pepper. This dessert is sweetened with and season with salt, pepper, honey and also boasts the nutty goodness of toasted coconut.

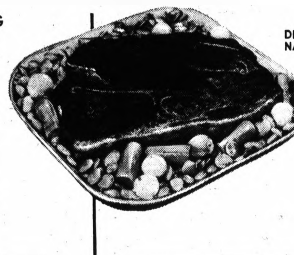

CHICKEN GO ROUNDS — Cover each of four slices of white toast with three or four tomato slices. Combine one ¼ oz. can chicken spread with two tablespoons chopped chives and spoon onto center of toast. If desired, garnish with more chopped chives. Surround chicken spread mixture with a ring of cottage cheese. Makes 4 open-faced sandwiches.

COCONUT HONEY FREEZE — Simple as this recipe is, the dessert is worthy of service at your most festive and important dinners. It's a wonderfully rich fluff of cream, honey and eggs that is set with unflavored gelatine, whipped and frozen. Serve as is or with a crown of bite-sized fresh fruits.

Delicate Taste of Honey Secret of Frosty Dessert

Every once in a while, a dessert recipe comes to our attention that deserves special notice. And when that dessert is a deliciously frosty one like this

It makes a fine, refreshing cool ending to a company dinner; or it might star as the featured treat for your next afternoon coffee hour, served with dainty cookies and, of course, steaming hot coffee.

Make it up way ahead of the party and scoop it out at the very last moment. Then wait for folks to ask for the secret of this delightful frozen, coconut-and-honey confection.

Coconut Honey Freeze

¼ cup honey
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatine
2 tablespoons cold water
2 eggs
3 cups half-and-half
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
¼ cup flaked coconut, toasted

Heat honey. Soften gelatine in cold water and add to honey; stir to dissolve. Cool. Beat honey mixture, eggs and half-and-half for two minutes; pour into refrigerator trays and freeze until firm.

Turn mixture into chilled bowl; beat until fluffy. Fold in whipped cream and toasted coconut. Pour back into refrigerator trays and freeze until firm. Makes about 1½ quarts.

Trailer Park Developers Sue on Ruling

Hemisphere Leaders Planning for Summit

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — President Johnson has told the Uruguayan government that the proposed summit conference of American presidents should be held before the end of the year or at the start of 1967, government sources said last night.

The conference would be the first meeting of hemisphere heads of states in 10 years.

President Arturo Illia of Argentina proposed the conference before he was ousted in a military coup last summer.

A Uruguayan government spokesman said Johnson's wishes on the proposed meeting were transmitted to Alberto Heber, chairman of the Uruguayan Council of Government, in a meeting with U.S. Ambassador Henry Hoyt Monday night.

The spokesman said Johnson insisted that the agenda for the meeting be limited to an examination of pressing affairs in the hemisphere and fundamental problems.

Foreign ministers of Latin American countries attending the opening session of the U.N. General Assembly in New York were to meet today with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk to discuss the date, site and agenda for the conference.

Water's Out, So's School

Some 1,408 Pierce Junior High School students got an unscheduled holiday today because of a failure of the building's water supply.

Paul O'Neill, principal of the Waterford Township school, said this morning the school has been without water since 2 p.m. yesterday.

Repairmen began work on a large water pump at the school yesterday afternoon and were working again this morning in an effort to correct the malfunction.

Located at 5145 Hatchery, the school uses well water.

Medical Drug Overdose Was Fatal to Moyers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Autopsy findings attribute the death of James H. Moyers, an assistant to President Johnson, to an overdose of medically prescribed drugs.

Moyers, 39, died Saturday at his home in nearby McLean, Va. He was a brother of White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers.

A spokesman for the family said James Moyers had been in severe pain since the summer of 1965, when doctors learned that he was suffering from cancer. This was the first word that Moyers had cancer. It had been said earlier that he suffered from stomach trouble.

A lawsuit asking the Oakland County Circuit Court to overrule a decision prohibiting the development of a mobile home park was filed yesterday against the Independence Township and its Zoning Board of Appeals.

Deaths in Pontiac Area

Mrs. William H. Febrey

Service for former Pontiac resident Mrs. William H. (Ruth) Febrey, 71, of Quail Valley, Calif., will be Friday from the Evans & Brown Mortuary in Perris, Calif.

Mrs. Febrey died Tuesday after a brief illness. She was a past matron of the Order of Eastern Star Chapter 228, Pontiac.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Cornelia Crisp of Waterford Township and Mrs. Fay Oleksi of Dryden; five grandchildren; a brother, Axel Gruite of Rochester; and a sister.

Jack G. Gibbard

Service for former Waterford Township resident Jack G. Gibbard, 38, of San Diego, Calif., will be tomorrow at the Clairmont Mortuary in San Diego. Mr. Gibbard, an employee of National Steel Shipbuilders Co., died yesterday after a brief illness. He had worked for Detroit Edison before moving to San Diego.

Surviving are his wife, Thelma; his mother, Mrs. Russell Hancock of Royal Oak; and six children, Jack, Diane, Jeffrey, Dawn, Donita and James, all at home.

Also surviving are two brothers, Richard T. of Rochester and Edward D. of Ferndale, and three sisters.

Henry F. Moery

Service for Henry F. Moery, 61, of 104 Raymond will be 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Hunton Funeral Home with burial in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Mr. Moery, an employee of Pontiac Motor Division, died yesterday after a brief illness. Surviving are his wife, Clara; two daughters, Mrs. Fred Dennis of Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Elden Montrass of Pontiac; and three sons, Charles of Waterford Township, William of Holly and Paul of Pontiac.

Also surviving are two brothers, Joe of Keego Harbor and Robert of Detroit; a sister; and 12 grandchildren.

Thomas M. Sanders

Thomas M. Sanders, 64, of 8620 Cooley Lake, Waterford Township, died yesterday. His body is at the C. J. Godhardt Funeral Home, Keego Harbor.

Mr. Sanders was a retired carpenter. Surviving are his wife, Josephine; a son James L. of Union Lake; two sisters; one brother; and three grandchildren.

Anthony Dosch

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP—Service for Anthony Dosch, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dosch, 3100 Squirrel, will be this morning at the Voorhees-

The zoning board rejected the proposed development Sept. 7, saying that it was "detrimental to the interest of a majority of the park was filed yesterday against the property owners within 2 1/2 miles of the premises."

The legal action was started by the owners of the property, Stanley Eason and James D. Humphrey, who want to develop the site on the west side of Clintonville Road between Pine Knob and Main for 130 mobile homes.

The parcel is zoned commercial, and until recently this classification permitted the development of mobile home sites.

The owners contend in their suit, however, that a regulation in the zoning ordinance requiring a 120 foot right of way to about mobile home developments prevents any such development because there are no 120-foot right of way roads in the township.

MISCONCEPTION Philip Dexter of Detroit, attorney for the owners, said the neighboring residents who opposed the development have a misconception of mobile home parks.

"They are as different from old trailer parks as today's motels are from the tourist cabins," added Dexter.

"It's a matter of improving their image."

The suit, assigned to Judge Clark J. Adams, is asking that the township be ordered to issue a permit for the use of the property as a mobile home site.

A hearing on the suit has not been scheduled.

Original name of Gettysburg, Pa., was Marsh Creek Settlement. The town was renamed Gettysburg when it was made the seat of Adams County in 1800.

Stanley J. Sohn Sr., WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Service for Stanley J. Sohn Sr., 83, of 7730 Detroit will be 10 a.m. Friday at Dunlap-Goldrich Funeral Home, Chicago. Burial will be in St. Boniface Cemetery there.

Local arrangements are by Richardson-Bird Funeral Home of Walled Lake.

Mr. Sohn, a veteran and retired salesman, died Monday. Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Conli of West Bloomfield Township.

James W. Smith, COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Service for James W. Smith, 79, of 704 Farr will be 1 p.m. Saturday at the Elton Black Funeral Home, Union Lake. Burial will be in Oakland Hills Cemetery, Novi.

Mr. Smith, a retired employee of the Novi Equipment Co., died yesterday after a long illness.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Grace Sisco of Commerce and Mrs. Valeri Field and Mrs. LaVern Richardson, both of Union Lake; six grandchildren; 17 great-grandchildren; and one sister.

Pontiac Man, 53, Hangs Himself

Gemini Heroes to Make Tour of Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gemini 11 astronaut Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Neil A. Armstrong, pilot of troubled Gemini 8, will visit Latin America for a 10-nation goodwill mission, President Johnson said Monday.

Gov. Cmdr. Gordon and his Gemini 11 mate, Cmdr. Charles P. Conrad Jr. and their wives, have been invited to a White House dinner Monday honoring West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

Whites Trying to Ease Dixie Racial Strain

GRENADA, Miss. (AP) — Leaders of nonextremist whites are trying to ease racial strains here. However, highway patrolmen maintained a watchful guard near newly desegregated schools.

A petition signed by 300 whites, including many city officials, was issued yesterday condemning "acts of violence which have been committed against citizens, both white and Negro."

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, left Grenada yesterday after conferences with Negro leaders.

Dr. King asked to meet with the City Council to explain the Negro position but the council refused.

The SCLC has been pushing a civil rights drive in this north Mississippi city of 1,000 — over 40 per cent of them Negro — since the James H. Meredith march passed through last June.

G. M. Moore, one of the white residents who backed the petition, said the 300 who signed it represented a cross-section of the white community.

Status of Major Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Status of major legislation:

ECONOMY

TAXES — President proposed two steps aimed at curbing inflation. One would suspend for 16 months the 7 per cent investment tax credit originally voted to spur expansion.

The other would suspend for the same period the speeded-up depreciation on real property.

HOUSE: Ways and Means Committee has finished hearings, considers bill this week. Senate: Awaiting House action.

LABOR

RIGHT-TO-WORK — President asked for repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law under which 19 states have outlawed union shop contracts between management and unions.

HOUSE: Approved. Senate: Filibuster blocked action. Repealer dead for this session.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION — Johnson asked Congress to liberalize and make uniform unemployment compensation payments in the states.

HOUSE: Passed bill leaving out key provision to set federal standards for paying benefits. Senate: Approved bill restoring benefit standards but eliminating coverage of 1.2 million small firm employees added by House.

WELFARE

POVERTY — For continuation of war on poverty for a third year president asked $1.7 billion authorization, and an appropriation of $1.8 billion compared to the $1.5 billion he requested and got last year.

HOUSE: Education and labor committee approved $1.75-billion authorization bill, with new restrictions on administration.

HOUSE action scheduled Sept. 28. Senate: Labor committee considering.

EDUCATION

ELEMENTARY-SECONDARY — Administration asking four-year extension of grade and high school aid law enacted last year with authority to spend $1.4-billion in 1966-67.

HOUSE: Education committee approved $2.2 billion authority for 1966-67, and $2.6 billion for 1967-68. Senate: Education subcommittee has approved expanded version of administration request.

COLLEGES — administration asked $900 million in new one-year authority for higher education construction aid, with proposal to begin cutting back direct federal loans to college students under heavy fire.

HOUSE: Approved $2.55 billion three-year construction loan program. Senate: Education subcommittee approved $4.4 billion for three years.

HEALTH

DOMESTIC — House passed bill setting up $155 million, three-year program to help train more allied health workers ranging from X-ray and laboratory technicians to nutritionists.

SENATE: No action.

FOREIGN — Johnson asked for a $45 million program to train 1,500 international health workers for assignment abroad.

HOUSE: Commerce Committee approved the bill but the Rules Committee voted to bury it.

SENATE: Awaiting House action.

REDISTRICTING

House approved a bill to limit gerrymandering by requiring that congressional districts be compact and composed of population within 15 per cent of the "ideal" average for each state.

SENATE: Judiciary Committee approved a revised bill, prospects clouded.

Opposing Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's two members of the House Commerce Committee split in their votes as the committee Tuesday voted 27-24 to revive the so-called "Truth in Packaging" bill.

Rep. John D. Dingell, a Democrat, voted for revival. Rep. James Harvey, a Republican, voted against it.

The Statute of Liberty cost $450,000; its pedestal cost $250,000.

Civil Service Plan

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The Macomb County Board of Supervisors voted Tuesday to put a proposal to include county sheriff's deputies under civil service on the Nov. 8 general election ballot.

A petition from 95 of the county's 118 deputies sought the move because, they said, they do not now have job security.

Saint Nicholas, patron saint of children, was born Dec. 6.

You're Never Too Old—3

Philosophy of Life Important

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the third in a series of articles on problems of the elderly.)

By PERCY HANSEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Among the letters received by the author as a result of the publication of a series of 10 articles distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. last spring, was the following from a North Carolina woman:

"Dear Mr. Hansen: I have been very interested in your articles. Your advice sounds a great deal like my mother, who tries to teach us to be hard-working, honest and self-reliant."

"If we stubbed our toe on a chair, she did not say, 'That stupid chair should not have been in your way.' She said, 'If you were more careful you would not stub your toe on a chair. You should look where you are going.'"

"There is one thing that bothers me, though. You say mental attitude is of first importance and that other things follow. You put spiritual last. My mother always taught us that religion was first."

"She used to say, 'Never mind if your clothes are a little old. If you are right with God, you will be right anywhere.'"

"I think she would have put religion first, social second, mental third and physical last. I don't think she would have paid any mind to material things. She always said, 'What you have belongs to God anyway so you should not worry if you don't have very much. Just use what you have the way God would want you to use it.'"

Our North Carolina respondent inherited one thing of great value from her mother — a workable philosophy of life.

It may be that one's spiritual nature is most important, but it seems to me that the mind governs all of our actions — physical, social and spiritual — and this was my reason for putting it as the first prerequisite for retaining or regaining a vital place in the home and in society.

If all children were taught to revere God and respect religious beliefs of all other people, if they learned early in life that true happiness comes from service to others, there would be no need to campaign to retain or regain acceptability in the home, or any other place, when they approach the latter years of life.

They would remain young and vibrant, regardless of their calendar ages, and would be loved and respected by all who know them.

As the title of my book indicates, it is never too late to be young, but it is equally true that it is never too early to start.

Young and middle-aged persons are urged by insurance companies, banks, savings and loan associations, stock brokers, real estate companies, as well as the authors of innumerable books, magazine articles and newspaper columns, to prepare for their financial security against the time when they will reach retirement age.

It is even more important that these young and middle-aged persons take appropriate action to develop the mental, physical and social habits which will assure them of a place of importance in society when they have passed the middle years.

Referring back to the letter from North Carolina, it is difficult to make a clear-cut division between the four elements of human nature which make up personality.

SUSTAINING FAITH

For the middle-aged and elderly people who are attempting to improve their personality image and who can start with a sustaining faith in God as the creator and ruler of the universe, it may be very well for them to begin with a renewal of that dependence upon God and a sincere prayer for Divine guidance.

From this they might advance to an improvement in their social and mental attitudes. If they do this, the physical change will come with little or no conscious effort.

Some may find it impossible, or at least very difficult, to begin a campaign to get back into the main stream of home or community life through the church or other social service.

For such, a resolve to stand more erectly and to walk more briskly will start them back on the road to thinking young again. For others, such a simple thing as a trip to the beauty parlor or a new hat may furnish the impetus. Or perhaps a shave and haircut will turn the trick.

ALL-IMPORTANT

Regardless of how you start, the all-important thing is that if you have been thinking, acting, talking, walking, dressing and complaining like some older persons do, begin today to make the necessary changes in your mental and social attitudes.

'Camille' Was Her Best

Films Captured Magic of Garbo's Face

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Garbo revisited: The thing you notice first is the voice, surprisingly unac-cented despite the long-time caricature of "Ay tank ay go home" and "Ay want to be alone." The range is remarkable: she can go from a throaty laugh to a shrill cry in a matter of seconds.

Then there is the face. It has amazing plasticity as well as loveliness. The expressions are ever-changing to reveal the darling emotions of a woman in love.

This is Greta Garbo in "Camille," the film that most critics consider her best. She made it in 1936 and was nominated for an Academy Award but lost to another MGM actress, Loretta Young of "The Great Ziegfeld."

The Garbo act is currently available to Hollywood fans not merely on television sets, but on the theater screen, which is the best way to see her — only in the enormous close-ups can you capture her real magic. The Los Feliz Theater here and the Esquire in Pasadena have been offering a Garbo festival.

"The past three weeks have been the best in the history of the theater," reports Bob Laemmle, member of the family that owns the houses. "Not only have the Garbo films been attracting the regular film buffs who came out to our foreign films; we are also getting a smattering of older people who want to see Garbo for nostalgic reasons."

SEVERAL FILMS

The series is offering "Mata Hari," "Ninotchka," "Anna Karenina," and Garbo's first talkie, "Anna Christie."

"The series has been so successful," says Laemmle, "that we have now asked MGM for 'Queen Christina' and 'Grand Hotel.' Happily, the film company provides new prints; many a retrospective festival has been ruined by scratchy, patched-up film and fuzzy sound."

found only by watching her performance on the screen — the big screen.

Her appeal lies not only in her beauty — Marlene Dietrich was also beautiful but never imitated as an actress. Nor was acting alone Garbo's major asset. Rather it was that faintly indefinable quality of which stars are made.

Garbo was trained in the silents, an art form that required actors to interpret emotions with their faces, not by means of the spoken word. As with most silent stars who converted to sound, her face is ever alive. Her eyes express her feelings before she speaks the dialogue.

Current Books

THE HOSTAGES. By Charles E. Israel. Simon & Schuster $4.95.

The action is between the hours of 8 a.m. and midnight on a day when a delegation from Red China is en route to New York, where Peking finally is to have a seat in the United Nations.

The day begins with the usual departure of young children of various U.N. delegates for an International School, but on this day the customary yellow school bus has been supplanted by a shabby old blue bus.

The trouble is that a warped right-wing fanatic and a mere handful of deluded followers have succeeded in carrying off a plot to substitute school buses, carry off 16 children — a cross section of races, nationalities and religions — and hold them as hostages.

The fanatic dreams irrationally that by means of the hostages he can force the U.N. to revoke Red China's entrance. This is thriller-diller business, of course. It is a type of fiction which requires more than the usual suspension of disbelief, but if you'd like to remain in suspension, it offers a lot of excitement.

THE VULNERABLE AMERICANS, by Curt Gentry (Doubleday $4.95). Gentry depicts the United States as a nation of "marks in the marketplace," beset on all sides by smooth-talking confidence men.

"During the 19th century, when immigration was high, education low, and opportunity waiting just around each corner, sociologists estimate that probably one out of every 10 adult Americans fell victim to a swindle or fraud during his lifetime..." Gentry writes.

"Today, 10 out of 10 adult Americans are the victims of swindles and frauds, not once or twice during their lifetimes but almost every time they make a purchase, cast their votes, pay their taxes, invest in the future, seek happiness, entertainment or love."

In support of his argument he cites not only the deceptive packagers, mail-fraud gyps and others who prey directly on the public but also the shoplifters, embezzlers, bad-check passers and others whose defalcations and I pay for through increased prices and insurance rates.

GOLF—ITS HISTORY, PEOPLE AND EVENTS. By Will Grimsey. Prentice-Hall. $19.95. Grimsey presents in one volume of large format the salient feature of golf's history and its contemporary status.

He chronicles the real impetus given to the sport on the Scottish moors of the 15th century, and the 19th century origins of golf in America.

Then comes a series of chapters on the legendary international stars of the past, and their modern counterparts; these are the big names in the flesh.

There is a special section, contributed by golf course architect Robert Trent Jones, on 10 of the greatest courses in the world, illustrated with fold-out maps in three colors.

The whole volume is keyed to the anecdotal, emphasizing personality stories and inside glimpses of the sport's great moments. It is copiously illustrated in both black and white and color.

The 1913 Express Delivery postage stamps of China measured 9 1/2 inches and 2 1/2 inches.

Army Scout Dog Dead, but Not in GIs' Memory

AN KHE, South Viet Nam (UPI) — A scout dog named Tiger is dead, but there are a lot of Americans alive today in miles north of Saigon.

This U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division camp who would not be if the German shepherd had not sniffed out a Communist ambush force.

Officers of the 1st Cavalry credit the dog with alerting a 200-man American company to

It was during Operation Paul Revere and troops of A Company, 2nd Battalion, 12th Cavalry, had moved about 1,000 yards into enemy territory on a search and destroy mission.

Tiger and his handler, Spec. 4 Jerry L. Brown moved ahead of one 45-man platoon.

CAUGHT SCENT

Witnesses said Tiger caught the scent of trouble ahead and pulled up short of what later proved to be Communist positions only 75 to 100 yards away.

"Brown pushed a sergeant and another man out of the way of massive automatic weapons fire as a squad was coming up on line," McCarran said. "He then got up to pull Tiger to safety and caught a slug in his right hip."

"But it was too late—seconds earlier Tiger had been killed instantly by the first of seven bullets found in him later, along with a lot of shrapnel."

The Americans called in rocket fire from helicopters along with artillery and napalm, inflicting heavy casualties on the North Vietnamese regulars.

WAITING FOR US

"A captured North Vietnamese soldier said there were 100 of them waiting for us and 200 more in the area," said Capt. Bruce E. Wilson.

Lt. Teddy D. Hampton said Communist troops have been "instructed to fire at the scout dogs first, then his handler."

Red Guards Hit at China Youth Group

MOSCOW (AP) — Red China's Young Communist League has been suppressed as part of Mao Tse-tung's "cultural revolution," the Soviet youth newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda reported today.

A dispatch from the paper's Peking correspondent said Mao's militant young Red Guards have pasted up leaflets calling for a ban on the wearing of YCL badges. "Everyone must throw out the YCL badge. This poisonous grass must be uprooted," the leaflets said.

The dispatch said two secretaries of the league were denounced as members of "the revisionist counterrevolutionary black gang opposing the Communist party and Chairman Mao."

Both the newspaper and magazine of the league have disappeared since the advent of the Red Guard movement in mid-August, the report said.

It added that "an exhibition of crimes of the Central Committee of the Young Communist League of China" was being held in the courtyard of the building housing the YCL committee."

The report said Red Guard detachments are everywhere and school children and students are being recruited. Their sole slogan, it said, is "Defend Chairman Mao Tse-tung."

LBJ Signs Bill on Indian Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill doubling the size of a loan fund to be used by Indian tribes for the financing land claims against the government, the White House announced Tuesday. The bill increases the fund from $800,000 to $1.8 million.

The loans are for preparation of suits for compensation for lands taken by the government in the 1880s.

AMC Plant Closed by Labor Dispute

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Production at the American Motors Corp. body plant was halted Tuesday when an estimated 2,000 members of United Auto Workers Local 75 failed to report for night shift work at four p.m.

Officers of the local were not available for comment in the evening but stewards and other union members standing outside the plant said the union executive board had not officially authorized the action.

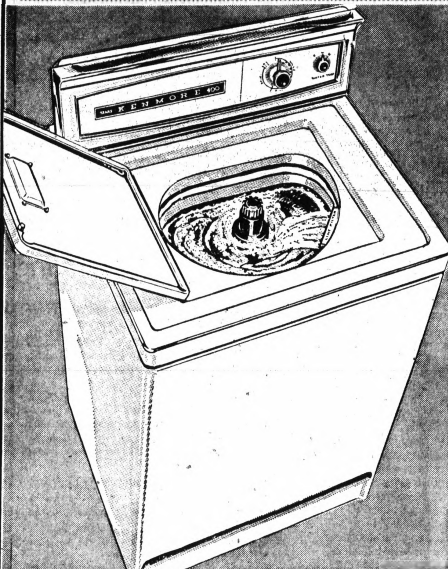

Union sources said a group steward in the trim department allegedly was told by a plant supervisor Monday night to go home early because of "poor workmanship."

In a special referendum yesterday Rochester voters chose cityhood by a margin of 676 to 248. It was a complete reversal of two previous attempts at incorporation for the village.

This time proposed city boundary lines followed those of the village and 55 per cent of the registered voters within that area cast their ballots.

Total election count, including absentee ballots, was 949, "a healthy figure," according to Village Manager William Sinclair, when you figure that only 25 per cent voted in the council election last March.

Jubilant ran high at the Municipal Building last night as village officials, members of the Citizens Committee for Incorporation, and would-be charter commissioners gathered for election tabulation.

Thomas V. Case, 38, of 407 Castell, assistant supervisor in insurance pensions for Pontiac Motor Division, led the field in the race for charter commission. He polled 664 votes.

Other winners were former Police Chief and Councilman Samuel Howlett, 58; former Councilman James C. Hill, 53; former Councilman John L. Dahlmann, 54; former Councilman William C. Chapman, 52.

Cabbie Provides Clue in Percy Girl's Murder; Threat Letter Probed

KENILWORTH, Ill. (AP)—Authorities investigating the slaying of Valerie Percy disclosed today a possible lead volunteered by a Chicago cabbdriver.

Police said the driver, Lee Yancey, 44, told them a fare in his cab Sunday morning resembled a man in a published picture of a suspect sought for an attack on a young woman in Evanston. The man in the picture also is regarded by authorities as a possible suspect in the Percy case.

Valerie, 21, daughter of Republican leader Charles H. Percy, was found stabbed and beaten to death in the bedroom of the family home in Kenilworth Sunday morning. Evanston, like Kenilworth, is a North Shore suburb of Chicago.

Yancey told police he drove the man to Glenview, also a North Shore suburb. Details of the cabbdriver's statement, along with his name and address, were sent to Capt. Maurice Higgins, head of the state attorney's corps of investigators.

Kenilworth police, who are coordinating the murder investigation, planned to drag Lake Michigan near the Percy home today to find possible clues. Chief Robert Daley said his men would use the Kenilworth police boat and would be aided by the Coast Guard.

Meanwhile, a threat to murder Percy and other top Republicans came to light as investigators pressed their hunt for the killer.

SUSPECT — This composite sketch was made from descriptions of a youth who attacked a sleeping Evanston, Ill., girl with a hammer. The attack was similar to the slaying of Valerie Percy.

Area in Pontiac Is Blacked Out

An electrical fire caused the collapse of a 75-foot pole, resulting in a power failure in the northwest quarter of Pontiac at 4:35 p.m. yesterday.

Service to the majority of the 5,100 Consumers Power customers affected was restored within an hour, according to W. B. Schroth, assistant to the division manager.

The pole, on Hamilton east of Baldwin, was apparently weakened by a previous lightning strike during a summer storm.

Misty weather and a voltage leak caused the fire, which toppled two subtransmission circuits, one carrying 40,000 volts, the other 23,000 volts, and a 5,000-volt distribution circuit, according to Schroth.

Alternate circuits were used to restore customer service while a new pole was being installed. The installation was completed at 4:30 a.m.

Pontiac police were besieged with calls and rush hour traffic was snarled as stoplights blacked out during the failure.

LBJ Denies Decision Set on Tax Boost

Reports Katzenbach Resigning to Assume Undersecretary Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today that "no, I haven't indicated that" a tax increase may be coming to help bring government income and outgo into balance.

Yet Johnson repeated more or less what he had said yesterday that gave rise to speculation that a boost might be in the offing.

He told a news "briefing" in the White House Cabinet Room that when all appropriations bills have been passed by Congress, an effort will be made to see how they can be adjusted.

Johnson also announced that Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach will resign to become undersecretary of state.

SPECULATION

Johnson's selection of Katzenbach immediately raised speculation that he was putting into the State Department's No. 2 position a man capable of possibly succeeding Secretary of State Dean Rusk someday.

Asked about a successor to Katzenbach as attorney general, Johnson said "I haven't reached a decision on that yet."

On other subjects, Johnson said:

Viet Nam — Asked for his assessments on the war in Viet Nam, Johnson said he did not think he could add much to what was already known, and that anything he said might be held against him.

He said the United States was pleased with the successes of its fighting men in Viet Nam.

Hearing Set at PCH on Taubman Proposal

By PAT McCARTY

A City Commission decision to hold the Taubman plan hearing at Pontiac Central High School was followed last night by some preview rounds in the official public debate.

Expecting an overflow crowd next week, commissioners moved the location for the hearing to the 850-seat PCHS auditorium.

There, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, the public will officially air its views on the proposed contract for a $40 million downtown shopping development.

The agreement being considered by the commission would allow A. Alfred Taubman of Oak Park to develop an enclosed mall-tube shopping center on urban renewal property south of Lawrence to the point where East and West Wide Track meet.

Commissioner Robert C. Irwin last night issued "an appeal for deliberation and discussion" to his fellow commissioners, moving that they hold a special meeting Friday to unite opposing forces in the community.

Irwin said the city's entire-redevelopment picture has been changed by the "Project: Pontiac" study recently completed by the University of Detroit.

Second Look at Pistol Leads to His Arrest

Slugs in Suspect's Gun Like Those Taken From Barmid's Body

By DAVID J. COOK

A second look at a pistol used in a Waterford Township holdup led Waterford and Pontiac police yesterday to the arrest of a Pontiac man on a charge of first-degree murder.

Held in the Oakland County Jail is 21-year-old Julian H. Green of 315 E. Wilson. He faces arraignment for the fatal shooting Sept. 8 of a barmid at a Pontiac tavern.

Green was first apprehended by Sylvan Lake and Waterford Township police early Monday after an armed robbery at Andy's Marathon Service, 186 S. Telegraph, Waterford Township.

Taken from Green at that time, according to Waterford Detective Sgt. Ernest Mann, was a 32-caliber revolver, partially loaded with "concealed" slugs.

While Green was arraigned Monday and held on $10,000 bond on the robbery charge, Mann checked with Pontiac Detective Sgt. John I. Williams on the holdup weapon.

Williams said he compared two slugs taken from the body of 30-year-old Mrs. Roenehl L. Nash and found the unusual tips apparently identical to bullets in the gun allegedly taken from Green.

Mann and Williams then questioned Green about the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Ford Boosts '67 Car Prices

Other Auto Makers Likely to Follow Suit

DETROIT (AP)—It is official now that new car buyers are going to dig deeper into their pocketbooks when they buy a 1967 car.

Ford Motor Co. set the pattern yesterday when it became the first U.S. auto firm to list new prices.

General Motors and Chrysler were expected to follow suit — perhaps as early as today — with American Motors to follow soon.

The size of the price increase depended on your viewpoint.

Ford's official release said the increases averaged 82¢ or about 1 per cent for the entire Ford line.

OTHER SIDE

A comparison of price tags on 1966 and 1967 Ford Motor Co. products without regard for any taxes, most money showed the increase averaged $113 or about 4 per cent.

The Ford announcement, which touched off Detroit's annual numbers game of trying to figure out auto price trends, was a complicated one.

The company made some items, optional on 1966 cars at extra cost, standard equipment this time. Most of them were in the safety field although a few did include costly items such as automatic transmissions.

Some of 1966's standard items were made optional this time around.

That made it a bit difficult for the average buyer to figure out exactly how much more he would pay for a 1967, a virtual duplicate of his 1966 model insofar as equipment and accessories were concerned.

Ford mentioned the word safety frequently in its seven-page statement detailing price increases.

The implication was that the federal government, which was the moving force in getting 17 safety items included on all 1967 cars, should stand shoulder to shoulder with the auto industry and share any criticism for price increases by Ford or other auto makers.

GM Exec: U.P. to VP

By HARRY J. REED, Managing Editor, The Pontiac Press

A friendly smile, firm handshake and questioning attitude are hallmarks of Martin J. Caserio, who has made the trip from the U.P. to VP.

A native of the Upper Peninsula, he became a VP of General Motors in 1964, before his recent appointment as general manager of the sprawling Truck and Coach Division here.

He left a job of running one of the biggest parts suppliers in the country to take over one of the biggest parts users in the country.

The trim six-footer had been general manager of AC Spark Plug Division at Flint.

Harking back to his youthful days in northern Michigan, he said "Up there you didn't ski for recreation — it was a necessity. So were snowshoes."

Moon Crash Expected for Surveyor 2

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — America's second Surveyor 2 mooncraft, crippled by an inoperative steering rocket, tumbled through space today toward an apparent hard landing and destruction on the lunar surface.

The 622-pound robot spun out of control last night during a critical midcourse maneuver designed to place it on a bull's-eye trajectory toward a soft-landing near the moon's equator.

Scientists at the California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory said one of the three vertical steering engines had failed to ignite during a 9.8 second thrust phase of the maneuver.

It was scheduled to land on the moon about 10:30 p.m. (Pontiac time) tomorrow.

Closed Road Due to Open in October

Square Lake Road, closed from Woodward to Telegraph the last five months while being improved, is expected to be open to traffic the first week in October.

Lyle Lipp, assistant district construction engineer for the Michigan Highway Department, said construction is on schedule and that he anticipates no revision in the previously announced opening.

The stretch of highway has been closed to through traffic since May 1 when work began to widen the road from three to six lanes.

The section of Square Lake east of Woodward to the I-75 expressway also has been widened, but remained open to through traffic during construction.

The $3,150,000 improvement project included the construction of two new bridges: two over Opdyke and another over the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks east of Woodward.

Remodeling of the existing bridge over the tracks has just started, according to Lipp, but when completed it will carry eastbound traffic.

Public Must Demand End to Crime

The growing number of beastly crimes in the United States is appalling. It is a little hard to comprehend that right on the heels of the mass murder of the nurses in Chicago, VALERIE PERCY would be bludgeoned to death by a wanton killer.

The CHARLES H. PERCY family is an outstanding example of how democracy works in America. The father of Mr. Percy was a bank cashier. Because of his outstanding record in school and native brilliance, the younger Percy rose rapidly to become president of Bell and Howell, a major manufacturing firm at an early age.

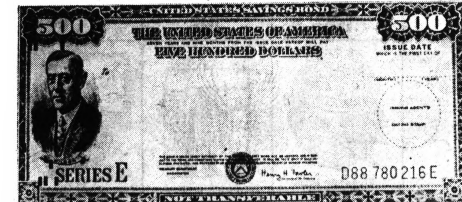

Because of his rapid business success he retired early to enter politics and devote his life to helping humanity. Now in the middle of a campaign for the United States Senate, he faces Senator DOUGLAS, his former economics instructor at the University of Chicago.

To outsiders it would appear the Percys had everything going for them. Why tragedy of this magnitude should strike anyone is something most of us can't understand.

Field of Medical Myth to Be Plowed Under

A Citizens Committee on Graduate Medical Education advocates that the traditional one year internship for medical students, which it describes as "wasteful, inefficient and anachronistic," be abolished.

Give Contest Champ Look at Luck

"Seeing is believing," as said the fella who had to see a giraffe before he'd believe it, and the reproduction of the $500 U.S. Savings Bond to be awarded the winner of The Press' Annual Football Contest is visual evidence that the bond is for real.

It will wind up in the eager hand of the contestant who correctly calls the consecutive outcome of the most grid contests of the schedule shown below.

We risk suspicion that our needle is stuck by again reminding you that Friday noon is the deadline for entries, which must be on hand at The Press by then. Any received later will be disqualified.

There is still time to get your entry aboard by mail. But if you wait much longer, we'd suggest you play it safe and use The Press Huron Street drop box. Don't try anything fancy at this stage, like delivery by Indian runner. The runner might just run out on you.

This blows the whistle on the first half of the 1966 contest. Nothing now remains but to keep loose and relaxed while the contest's several thousand hopefuls are progressively winnowed to a lone survivor.

Beginning Tuesday, Sept. 27, regular contests will appear here of the contest's game-by-game course and the sad toll of woe of the eliminated.

Meanwhile, The Press thanks the multitude of contestants for their interest in the yearly grid game that has made it the traditional carter of the football season.

CONTEST RULES

1. Every man, woman and child is eligible to enter contest (except Press employees and close relatives) but are limited to one entry each. This limitation also applies to families, each member of which may participate.
2. To enter, you simply check your prediction of the winner of each of the 15

Rights Bill Loss Misinterpreted

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is being urged by some people to let Congress take a recess on Oct. 15 and come back into session just after the Nov. 8 election.

Some members of Congress who have heard about the suggestion say, however, that, unless there is some economic emergency, Congress is not likely to hurry up and pass any leftover legislation — such as the civil rights bill or important appropriation bills that could affect the growing demand for a curtailment of government spending.

Certainly there will not be much inclination even then to take up a civil rights bill right away, because sentiment in Congress is likely to be stronger against the measure in the next session than it is today.

Unfortunately, the civil rights leaders have failed to evaluate carefully the reasons for the defeat of the measure at the current session of Congress.

They are still inclined to make blanket indictments charging "racism" against legislators who have voted with them in the past.

Many of the senators who voted this week against civil rights legislation hereafter.

The significant fact is that public opinion has made itself felt in protest against certain parts of the proposed measure.

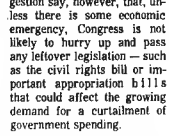

The consensus seems to be that Congress has been too hasty in passing civil rights bills before and has not examined carefully the constitutional aspects involved.

Opposition to the pending measure has been based not merely on the "open housing" section but also on the provisions for the selection of jurors.

Many lawyers throughout the country have felt that the whole jury system would be disrupted if the proposals giving to the federal government power to intervene in the picking of jurors were enacted into law.

It may be a bitter pill for some of the civil rights leaders to swallow, and they may not like to be told the realistic truth of American politics. But they have come too far with their street demonstrations and have given Congress the impression that its members were being coerced into passing new laws.

Again and again during the debate, some senators and representatives have spoken out bluntly about efforts to stampede the national legislative body.

The outbreaks of violence have caused widespread dismay. Many letters have been received on Capitol Hill from people in all parts of the country expressing resentment over the demonstrations.

A simple change in tactics, therefore, might be salutary from the standpoint of civic leaders.

Being Envoy to Saigon Isn't Exactly a Joyride

SAIGON — Would you like to be United States ambassador to Saigon? One of these days or years, there's going to be a vacancy here.

Henry Cabot Lodge, though a test-fail 64, has served over and beyond the call of duty. He'd like to get on to something that offers a better future, like mixing plutonium.

Your office in downtown Saigon is now a thick-walled fortress.

When its bomb-blasted facade was replaced, the builders beelied up the strength of the walls and cut the windows down to little more than air-liner size.

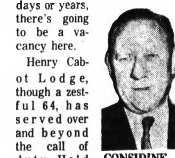

There's barbed wire around the place and the streets leading to it are heavily guarded.

INFORMAL DRESS

If you venture outdoors, which you must, you walk through the largest unit of U. S. Marines now guarding any U. S. ambassador. They dress informally, slacks and half-sleeved sports shirts. Their machine guns are quite formal, however.

You give them a wave and step into your car. It is a different model than the last one you used. They look like every other type of U.S. black sedan. But each has bullet-proof windows and windshields and are steel plated from top to bottom, to survive a grenade attack or land mine. The rear window is curtained.

If you're headed for the office, you take a different route each time, to throw off the VC.

Members of Congress would, of course, prefer to let things ride until the January session, especially if there should be a change in seats in many of the states. The chances, therefore, of a call for a recess from Oct. 15 until just after the election are dim.

The current session may run past an Oct. 15 deadline, almost up to the week of the election itself in November.

Being Envoy to Saigon Isn't Exactly a Joyride

SAIGON — Would you like to be United States ambassador to Saigon? One of these days or years, there's going to be a vacancy here.

Henry Cabot Lodge, though a test-fail 64, has served over and beyond the call of duty. He'd like to get on to something that offers a better future, like mixing plutonium.

Your office in downtown Saigon is now a thick-walled fortress.

When its bomb-blasted facade was replaced, the builders beelied up the strength of the walls and cut the windows down to little more than air-liner size.

There's barbed wire around the place and the streets leading to it are heavily guarded.

INFORMAL DRESS

If you venture outdoors, which you must, you walk through the largest unit of U. S. Marines now guarding any U. S. ambassador. They dress informally, slacks and half-sleeved sports shirts. Their machine guns are quite formal, however.

You give them a wave and step into your car. It is a different model than the last one you used. They look like every other type of U.S. black sedan. But each has bullet-proof windows and windshields and are steel plated from top to bottom, to survive a grenade attack or land mine. The rear window is curtained.

If you're headed for the office, you take a different route each time, to throw off the VC.

Tragedy

Chicago Tribune

Shocked disbelief, profound sympathy — these are the reactions which would naturally attend the murder of any young girl in the supposed safety of her own home, with her family sleeping in the rooms above. They are the inadequate responses which we, their fellow citizens, and all the people of this crime-ridden country must feel today in sharing the sorrow of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Percy in the loss of a daughter with all the promise of life before her.

What makes this senseless, sadistic killing all the more poignant is that the Percys have been an exceptionally attractive and close-knit family. Valerie, who was stabbed and beaten to death in her Kenilworth home during the night hours early Sunday, was a twin and one of five children, and their wholesome life as a family was one which any parent might envy.

Charles Percy, of course, is known not only in Illinois but to most of the nation as an eminently successful business man who, while still young and vigorous, turned his life into a management responsibility in the belief that he could make a contribution to his state and country in public life. He was the Republican candidate for governor of Illinois, and this year is his party's nominee for United States Senator.

Voice of the People:

'Old Glory' Trampled While Family Absent

Sunday our family left our home to make a four hour visit out of town. When we returned, we found our American flag had been pulled down and thrown on our lawn and someone had wiped their dirty feet on it.

We have a son serving in the armed forces. We always display the flag at our house because we are proud of it.

I'm hoping some people will see this letter and teach their children manners and proper respect for the American flag and private property. The right to fly our flag is one thing I will fight for.

Equal Space for Socialist Labor Candidate?

Campaign appearances of gubernatorial candidates, Governor Romney and Zolton A. Ferency, receive considerable attention from the press, radio and TV.

In upholding true democratic election practices The Pontiac Press could likewise extend comparable coverage to James C. Horvath, Socialist Labor Party candidate for Governor of Michigan, so that his views may be heard and considered by the people of this state.

(Editor's Note: When the Socialist Labor Party candidate polls enough votes to be considered a serious threat, he will receive equal space with the Republican and Democratic candidates.)

In Favor of Home Rule for Nation's Capital?

Yearly, Congress has debated the issue of self-government and representation in Congress for the people of Washington, D.C. In the Fall of 1965, the Senate and House passed bills, but they were entirely different; attempts to obtain a conference failed.

Senator Wayne Morse has added an amendment to the Higher Education Act which will make D. C. Home Rule more in line with the House-passed version, and, he hopes, will gain Senate approval.

Citizens who wish to free the Congress of the costly annual work involved in ruling the District, can write their U.S. Senators now asking them to support Mr. Morse's amendment to the Higher Education Act.

'Christianity a Long, Hard, Lonely Struggle'

I feel that the eminent Dr. David Poling cannot go unchallenged. Dr. Poling has overlooked the fact that this world will never conform to Christianity nor will true Christians ever conform to the world.

Jesus Christ has yet to reign as King. Until He does, it will be a long, hard and lonely struggle for his followers under any system here on earth.

Question and Answer

I always thought the bigger the animal, the longer the gestation period, but I heard that it's only about three months for a lion. Can this be true?

REGULAR READER

REPLY

Yes, gestation for a lion is 108 days. It's true an elephant has the longest (645 days) but a beaver takes four months and a kangaroo only 39 days, so size isn't the determining factor.

Crime Cause

New York News

In the past five years, our nation's population has risen 6 per cent. But in that same period, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover reports our crime rate has soared a grim 46 per cent.

U.S. crime statistics for 1965 revealed such eye-openers as: A murder every hour; a rape every 23 minutes; a burglary every 27 minutes; a car stolen every 15 minutes; kids under 18 making up 21 per cent of all arrests.

Hoover also pointed out that our society's strange tendency in handling its enemies contributes definitely to our high crime rate.

A check of 6,500 offenders released in a six-month period in 1965 showed that 48 per cent got nabbed for new crimes within two years. Some 25 per cent of individuals found guilty of murdering policemen were on parole or probation at the time of the murder.

So what, outside of the notorious babbling of all varieties of criminals by all courts from Earl Warren's on down, is responsible for this dismal picture? Should family breakdowns, non-support of the police who are paid to defend us, just plain moral decay — or what? — be blamed? Or are these all contributing factors?

It's hard to pinpoint any one major cause of this mess, but here's one sure tip: Odds are a million to one that no member of your family ever will get involved in crime if you, as a mother or father, make it your daily business to see that your children are guided properly: by schools, churches and most important, by you.

Bill Heads for Senate After Rough House Handling

Pleads Innocent

DETROIT (AP) — Miss Jackie Sheehan, 32, of Detroit pleaded innocent Tuesday to a second degree murder charge in the gunshot slaying of John Kimmel, night bartender at the Miami Lounge near downtown. Kimmel was shot earlier in the day following a brief argument with Miss Sheehan, police said. An examination was scheduled for Oct. 3.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign aid appropriation bill heads for the Senate today after being roughed up by the House.

There were no signs that the Senate Appropriations Committee, which scheduled immediate consideration, would restore any of the $338,896,200 lopped off by the House, or that the full Senate would be more generous. The House upheld a $233,200-

000 cut proposed by its appropriations committee, then boosted the reduction an extra $45,696,200 by a roll call vote of 187 to 182.

The added cut was proposed by Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, top Republican on the appropriations committee. It affected only economic programs.

CLAIMS DISPUTED

It was supported by 71 Democrats and 116 Republicans and opposed by 174 Democrats and 8 Republicans.

Bow disputed claims of opponents that his amendment would interfere with the economic aid program in South Viet Nam, for which the bill provides an estimated $50 million during the fiscal year ending June 30.

The cut, he said, could be applied to less-essential programs and would make the total reduction in economic aid about 10 per cent from the $2,468,962,000 requested by President Johnson.

Bow said he was trying to go along with the President's plea to Congress to hold down appropriations.

Hemisphere Leaders Planning for Summit

MONTPELIER, Uruguay (AP) — President Johnson has told the Uruguayan government that the proposed summit conference of American presidents should be held before the end of the year or at the start of 1967, high government sources said last night.

The conference would be the first meeting of hemisphere heads of states in 10 years.

President Arturo Illia of Argentina proposed the conference before he was ousted in a military coup last summer.

A Uruguayan government spokesman said Johnson's wishes on the proposed meeting were transmitted to Alberto Haber, chairman of the Uruguayan Council of Government, in a meeting with U.S. Ambassador Henry Hoyt Monday night.

The spokesman said Johnson insisted that the agenda for the meeting be limited to an examination of pressing affairs in the hemisphere and fundamental problems.

Foreign ministers of Latin American countries attending the opening session of the U.N. General Assembly in New York were to meet today with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk to discuss the date, site and agenda for the conference.

Water's Out, So's School

Some 1,400 Pierce Junior High School students got an unscheduled holiday today because of a failure of the building's water supply.

Paul O'Neill, principal of the Waterford Township school, said this morning the school has not had water since 2 p.m. yesterday.

Repairs began work on a large water pump at the school yesterday afternoon and were working again this morning in an effort to correct the malfunction.

Located at 5145 Hatchery, the school uses well water.

Pontiac Man, 53, Hangs Himself

A Pontiac man hanged himself yesterday in a garage at the rear of his home at 357 W. Kennett, according to Pontiac police.

Lawson Diamond, 53, was found dead at 11:15 a.m. by a neighbor, police said.

Lillian Litzel, who died in 1937, set a record of 27 one-handed chin-ups which has not been matched by any man.

'Pharmacist' Kept Guise for 25 Years

LANSING (AP) — A former chief pharmacist at Detroit's Grace Hospital, Henry Knazak, has been practicing for 25 years without any formal education in pharmacy, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley charged yesterday.

In Detroit, Joseph C. Constanzo, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, said a warrant had been issued charging Knazak of Pleasant Ridge with practicing pharmacy without a license, fraudulently representing himself as having a license, and preparing prescriptions and dispensing drugs without a license.

All three charges are misdemeanors.

Kelley said Knazak's employment at Grace "was terminated about May 1 of this year."

He said the case was uncovered in a Board of Pharmacy investigation which began a routine check of the hospital, noted there was no certificate on display belonging to Knazak.

Recorder's Judge John McCarty issued the warrant, Constanzo said.

Trailer Park Developers Sue on Ruling

A lawsuit asking the Oakland County Circuit Court to overrule a decision prohibiting the development of a mobile home park was filed yesterday against Independence Township and its Zoning Board of Appeals.

The zoning board rejected the proposed development Sept. 7, saying that it was "detrimental to the interest of a majority of the property owners within 2,000 feet of the premises."

The legal action was started by the owners of the property, Stanley Eaton and James D. Humphrey, who want to develop the site on the west side of Clintonville Road between Pine Knob and Mann for 130 mobile homes.

The parcel is zoned commercial, and until recently this classification permitted the development of mobile home sites.

The owners contend in their suit, however, that a regulation in the zoning ordinance requiring a 120 foot right of way to about mobile home developments prevents any such development because there are no 120-foot right of way roads in the township.

Phil Dexter of Detroit, attorney for the owners, said the neighboring residents who opposed the development have a misconception of mobile home parks.

"They are as different from old trailer parks as today's motels are from the tourist cabins," added Dexter.

"It's a matter of improving their image."

The suit, assigned to Judge Clark J. Adams, is asking that the township be ordered to issue a permit for the use of the property as a mobile home site.

A hearing on the suit has not been scheduled.

Original name of Gettysburg, Pa., was Marsh Creek. Settled by the town was renamed Roeser because the case had received too much publicity locally in 1800.

Kelley Rules on School Aid

LANSING (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley ruled today that none of the extra $9.2 million in school aid voted by the Legislature this month will be available this year unless lawmakers adjourn on or before Dec. 10.

Kelley also said he had been assured by House Speaker Joseph J. Kowalski and Senate Majority leader Raymond D. Dzendzel, both Detroit Democrats, that they have "every intention" of final adjournment by that date to conform with his ruling.

Kelley's ruling was based on a clause in the state school aid act requiring that the superintendent of public instruction appropriation school money among the school districts "on or before the 15th day of March of each fiscal year," and a constitutional provision that an act cannot become effective until 90 days after final adjournment of the Legislative session in which the act was passed.

'Sweat Not a Problem for Cosmonauts'

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — Soviet Cosmonaut Boris Yegorov said today Russian space walkers, unlike their American counterparts, will not get tired while in space.

The Soviet spacemen, he said, are bothered by sweating and fatigue as was American Astronaut Richard Gordon last week.

"Russian space walkers do not sweat and have to stop their work," he said.

"This is because the United States and Russia have different atmospheric conditions in their cabins and spacecrafts."

NEWS CONFERENCE

Yegorov was addressing a news conference on the side lines of a conference in Moscow called by "Eurospace," an association of European aerospace equipment manufacturers and scientists.

Yegorov, 29, was the first medical doctor to go into space. His mission, with two other cosmonauts, took place Oct. 2, 1964.

Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie has more medals than anyone else in the world — over 50 metal ribbons, which are worn in up to 14 rows.

Gemini Heroes to Make Tour of Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gemini 11 astronaut Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Neil A. Armstrong, pilot of troubled Gemini 8 will visit Latin America for a 10-nation goodwill mission, President Johnson said Monday.

Navy Cmdr. Gordon and his Gemini 11 mate, Cmdr. Charles P. Conrad Jr. and their wives, have been invited to a White House dinner Monday honoring West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

Hearing Postponed on New Trial for 20

A hearing on a motion for a new trial for 20 men convicted of gambling and conspiracy at the Stieren Assembly Club in Madison Heights has been postponed to Friday.

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem granted the adjournment yesterday because defense attorney Carlton Roeser is in court on another case.

The 20 men were found guilty following their trial, held in Manistee over a year ago, when Roeser asked for a change of venue because the case had received too much publicity locally.

De Gaulle Foe Is Dead at 87

Was French Premier at Nazi Entry in '40

PARIS (UPI) — Paul Reynaud, who was premier when France fell to the invading Nazi armies in 1940, died today at the age of 87.

To the end, he remained an implacable political foe of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, the man he had raised from obscurity.

A medical bulletin said the veteran conservative politician died from a heart attack following complications brought on by an urgent operation for appendicitis at the American Hospital.

The bulletin said he was hospitalized urgently yesterday with a syndrome of intestinal occlusion and that an operation disclosed a "very grave rupture of the small intestine."

It said he died at 7:30 a.m. (1:30 a.m. EST) of heart failure.

NEWS REPORT

Only a few days ago, French newspapers had reported him to be in the best of health.

Reynaud was the man who brought into his short-lived 1940 cabinet a then virtually unknown military writer — Col. Charles de Gaulle.

Reynaud gave de Gaulle the temporary rank of brigadier general, which he retained ever since.

In his war memoirs, de Gaulle bitterly criticized Reynaud for turning the reins of government over to Marshal Philippe Pétain, leading to establishment of the Vichy regime.

But Reynaud had no part of the Nazis; he spent the war years interned by the Germans.

Reynaud left the spotlight of active politics in the 1950's but he kept publishing occasional newspaper articles in which he bitterly criticized President Charles de Gaulle's constitution as a "strong man's regime."

Big Cigarette Load Hijacked

LONDON (AP) — Robbers dressed as policemen hijacked two trucks today loaded with cigarettes worth an estimated $225,000.

Cigarettes in Britain cost about 75 cents for a pack of 20. A car bearing police markings stopped the trucks on a lonely road near West Malling, in Kent. The drivers were bundled into the car and later dumped in Epping Forest.

Reappointments

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney Tuesday announced reappointment of Clinton B. Fitch as Michigan's first deputy secretary of the State Electrical Administrative Board for three-year terms. Senate confirmation is required.

Whites Trying to Ease Dixie Racial Strain

GRENADE, Miss. (AP) — Leaders of nonextremist whites are trying to ease racial strains here. However, highway patrolmen maintained a watchful guard near newly desegregated schools.

A petition signed by 300 whites, including many city officials, was issued yesterday condemning "acts of violence which have been committed against citizens, both white and Negro."

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, left Grenada yesterday after conferences with Negro leaders.

Dr. King asked to meet with the City Council to explain the Negro position but the council refused.

The SCLC has been pushing a civil rights drive in this north Mississippi city of 8,000 — over 40 per cent of them Negro — since the James H. Meredith march passed through last June.

G. M. Moore, one of the white residents who backed the petition, said the 300 who signed it represented a cross-section of the white community.

'Camille' Was Her Best

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Garbo revisited:
The thing you notice first is the voice, surprisingly unaccented despite the long-time caricatures of "Ay tank ay go home" and "Ay vait to be alone." The range is remarkable: she can go from a throaty laugh to a shrill cry in a matter of seconds.

Then there is the face. It has THOMAS amazing plasticity as well as loveliness: The expressions are ever-changing to reveal the daring emotions of a woman in love.

This is Greta Garbo in "Camille," the film that most critics consider her best. She made it in 1936 and was nominated for an Academy Award but lost to another MGM actress, Loretta Young of "The Great Ziegfeld."

The Garbo art is currently available to Hollywood fans not merely on television sets, but on the theater screen, which is the best way to see her — only in the enormous close-ups can you capture her real magic. The Los Angeles Theater here and the Esquire in Pasadena have been offering a Garbo festival.

"The past three weeks have been the best in the history of the theater," reports Bob Laemmle, member of the family that owns the houses. "Not only have the Garbo films been attracting the regular film buffs who came out to our foreign films; we are also getting a smattering of older people who

SEVERAL FILMS
The series is offering "Mata Hari," "Ninotchka," "Anna Karenina," and Garbo's first talkie, "Anna Christie."

"The series has been so successful," says Laemmle, "that we have now asked MGM for 'Queen Christina' and 'Grand Hotel.' Happily, the film company provides new prints; many a retrospective festival has been ruined by scratchy, patched-up film and fuzzy sound."

How can a star remain box office 25 years after she made her last movie — "Two-Faced Woman"? The answer can be found only by watching her performance on the screen — the big screen.

Her appeal lies not only in her beauty. Marlene Dietrich was also beautiful but never impressed as an actress. Nor was acting alone Garbo's major asset. Rather it was that faintly indefinable quality of which stars are made.

Garbo was trained in the silents, an art form that required actors to interpret emotions with their faces, not by means of the spoken word. As with most silent stars who converted to sound, her face is ever alive. Her eyes express her feelings before she speaks the dialogue.

THE HOSTAGES. By Charles E. Israel. Simon & Schuster. $4.95.

The action is between the hours of 8 a.m. and midnight on a day when a delegation from Red China is en route to New York, where Peking finally is to have a seat in the United Nations.

The day begins with the usual departure of young children of various U.N. delegates for an International School, but on this day the customary yellow school bus has been supplanted by a shabby old blue bus.

The trouble is that a warped right-wing fanatic and a mere handful of deluded followers have succeeded in carrying off a plot to substitute school buses, carry off 18 children — a cross section of races, nationalities and religions — and hold them as hostages.

The fanatic dreams irrationally that by means of the hostages he can force the U.N. to revoke Red China's entrance. This is thriller-diller business, of course. It is a type of fiction which requires more than the usual suspension of disbelief, but if you'd like to remain in suspension, it offers a lot of excitement.

THE VULNERABLE AMERICANS. By Curt Gentry (Double Day $4.95). Gentry depicts the United States as a nation of "marks in the marketplace," beset on all sides by smooth-talking confidence men.

"During the 19th century, when immigration was high, education low, and opportunity waiting just around each corner, sociologists estimate that probably one out of every 10 adult Americans fell victim to a swindle or fraud during his lifetime..." Gentry writes.

"Today, 10 out of 10 adult Americans are the victims of swindles and frauds, not once or twice during their lifetimes but at almost every time they make a purchase, cast their votes, pay their taxes, invest in the future, seek happiness, entertainment or love."

In support of his argument, he cites not only the deceptive packagers, mail-fraud gyps and others who prey directly on the public but also the shoplifters, embezzlers, bad-check passers and others whose defalcations you and I pay for through increased prices and insurance rates.

GOLF—ITS HISTORY, PEOPLE AND EVENTS. By Will Grimley. Prentice-Hall. $19.95. Grimley presents in one volume of large format the salient feature of golf's history and its contemporary status.

He chronicles the real impetus given to the sport on the Scottish moors of the 15th century, and the 19th century origins of golf in America.

Then comes a series of chapters on the legendary international stars of the past, and their modern counterparts; these are the big names in the flesh.

There is a special section, contributed by golf course architect Robert Trent Jones, on 10 of the greatest courses in the world, illustrated with fold-out maps in three colors.

The whole volume is keyed to the anecdotal, emphasizing personality stories and inside glimpses of the sport's great moments. It is copiously illustrated in both black and white and color.

The 1913 Express Delivery postage stamps of China measured 9 1/2 inches and 2 1/2 inches.
