Grinning Townsend Calls on Margaret

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

LONDON—A happy Peter Townsend, who may become the husband of Princess Margaret, left London today to spend the weekend in the country.

The handsome RAF group captain spent 90 minutes yesterday visiting the princess and the queen mother and later grinned and said, "You don't know what a state I'm in."

When Townsend emerged after the visit, he declined even to confirm that he had talked with the princess.

A running interview ensued with newsmen, with these questions and answers:

"Did you have dinner with the princess and Queen Mother Elizabeth?"

"I can say nothing."

"Did you meet Princess Margaret?"

"I can say nothing."

"Do you expect to know soon what the future holds for you?'

"I cannot say."

"You realize how excited the public is about all this?"

"You can't imagine the state I am in myself."

"Will rumors of a royal romance be cleared up by the time your leave has ended and you return to Brussels?"

"I do not know."

"Are you happy tonight?"

"Yes," he said promptly with a grin.

That last answer did it, and the reporters sprinted for telephones.

He left the home of the Marquess of Abergavenny at 19 Lowndes square in London today at 2:55 p.m. (9:55 a.m. EST) and said "I am going into the country for the weekend."

Three policemen bulldozed a path through a crowd of 300 reporters, camermen and spectators while a servant put two suitcases in the back of Townsend's car.

Townsend grinned and said, "But I'll never get there (to the country) if this goes on."

The 40-year-old Townsend refused to say where he was going or whether he would visit his mother, Mrs. Gladys Townsend, at her cottage in the hamlet of Kingwood, in Somerset County, 169 miles from London.

Asked if he had any statement to make at the moment, Townsend said:

"I am sorry I cannot—yet."

The British press and public seem to be convinced that an official announcement of an engagement will be forthcoming when the House of Commons reconvenes Oct. 25.

Townsend's gray-haired mother kept the door of her pretty biscuit-colored cottage closed today to reporters. A big black poodle named "Bunch" was in front of the door.

From behind the door she said:

"I cannot say what Peter's intentions are. If an announcement is to be made I suggest you wait until the day—then we shall all know."

Amateur camermen joined professionals in a burst of flash bulbs when Townsend emerged from the marquess' home.

He was dressed in a light checked sports suit and carried a brown leather jacket and two books.

He smiled broadly as he stepped through the doorway after someone one behind the door had peeped through a big old-fashioned keyhole to survey the scene outside.

Townsend walked swiftly down the steps and ducked his head

Downtown today's low before 8 a.m. was 39 degrees. The thermometer registered 66 at 2 p.m.

Game Showers Likely

Football fans should take raincoats and hats to the games in Ann Arbor and East Lansing tomorrow according to the U. S. Weather Bureau. The weatherman says it will be partly cloudy and little change in temperature with a chance of scattered showers.

U.N. Deadlocks in Initial Ballots on Council Seat

Poland, Philippines Vie for Vacancy in Fight Between East, West

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet bloc today dropped Poland as a candidate for a U. N. Security Council seat and switched its support to Yugoslavia after the General Assembly ran into an East - West deadlock in initial balloting.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly bogged down in a new East-West deadlock today when initial balloting failed to resolve a fight between Communist Poland and the Philippines over a Security Council seat.

At one point in the voting, the U. S.-backed Philippine delegation was only one short of the required two-thirds majority, but the Assembly recessed after four indecisive ballots.

The Russians had pitched their red-hot campaign for Poland on the theme that defeat of the Soviet-bloc country would endanger the spirit of Geneva. The United States contended Poland was not qualified.

Two other countries—Australia and Cuba—were elected on the first ballot to fill seats now held by Peru and New Zealand.

On the first ballot each member nation had three votes because there were three vacancies on the council. Poland got 34 and the Philippines 33.

SINGLE VOTES

On succeeding ballots each country cast only one vote.

The Philippines received 35 on the second ballot and Poland 23. On the third, the Philippines climbed to 38 — one short of election — and Poland dropped to 20. On the fourth, the vote was 36 for the Philippines and 20 for Poland, with two ballots invalid.

During the recess, the Soviet bloc delegates were reported to be feeling out others on the possibility of switching to Yugoslavia as a compromise candidate.

This was borne out on the first ballot after the recess, which virtually eliminated Poland. The Philippines got 30 votes on this ballot — the fifth — and Yugoslavia got 25. Poland got only one.

'Happy Birthday' to You, Ike, Say His Friends

DENVER (INS) — President Eisenhower awoke this morning "refreshed and cheerful," ready for a quiet celebration of his 65th birthday.

The 7 a.m. (MST) hospital bulletin said the President had a good night's sleep of more than eight hours. The bulletin included the usual phrase: "His condition continues to progress satisfactorily without complication."

A quiet family get-together, complete with birthday cake and presents, was planned for the President's bedside today.

The President will be served just a sliver of the special, low-calorie cake.

Hospital dieticians have carefully checked the recipe of the cake to ensure that the President's diet of only 1,600 calories a day will not be exceeded.

The President's cake is a 3-layer, 2-tier affair, 10 inches high and 16 inches in diameter.

The phrase, "Happy Birthday, Ike," is inscribed on the cake. The design of the cake is completed by miniature American flags in full color.

All 2,128 patients and hospital personnel also receive portions of the Presidential birthday cake. The 24 sheet cakes for Mr. Eisenhower's "guests" were baked from the same mixture as his own.

Battle Creek Attorney Elected Hands Down at Miami Convention

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — J. Addington (Add) Wagner, 41, a Battle Creek, Mich., attorney, was elected national commander of the three million - member American Legion yesterday afternoon.

Other potential candidates dropped out and threw their support to Wagner when it became apparent he could win easily.

(See Wagner Story on Page 18)

The drums and bugles are stilled and the veterans scattered, but the old boys who attended the American Legion's national convention showed plenty of zip.

They urged Congress to repeal the laws creating the U.S. Commission to UNESCO, but just as overwhelmingly endorsed the United Nations in principle and approved U.S. membership.

They gave a thumping defeat to a bid for $100-a-month pensions for all first World War veterans at age 60, but asked greater benefits for ill veterans and dependents.

Russia, China and India were given a kicking around, but the veterans asked solid military support for Nationalist China and South Korea.

Strong opposition to Communism, and especially to any Communist activity in the United States, was made the Legion's target for the next year by Wagner.

GMC Truck Deliveries Set 5-Month Mark

General Motors Corporation said today retail deliveries of 1955 GMC trucks rose to unprecedented heights in the five months following volume production of the new models.

R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager, said GMC deliveries from May through September of this year topped last year's figures for the corresponding period by 59.3 per cent—the greatest May-September sales percentage gain since 1948.

Decision on Parking Lots Delayed by Commission

Because plans for construction of four new municipal parking lots may be expanded, the City Commission last night postponed action on the project for 12 days.

"Some additional information has been received that makes us want to take a little more time with it," said Mayor William W. Donaldson. After the meeting, he added:

"We are analyzing the possibility of extension of one of the proposed lots west of Saginaw street. Time is necessary to see how it would effect the financing of the entire program."

At last week's meeting, the Commission gave preliminary approval to a $550,000 revenue bond issue for construction of four new lots to augment the two the city already operates downtown.

Second reading of an ordinance authorizing the bond issue was slated for last night. But Commissioner Harry W. Lutz, (District 7) moved adjournment to the Oct. 25 meeting.

The motion received unanimous support after being seconded by Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (District 4).

The program, as presented last week, calls for 560 new municipal parking spaces in the following locations:

Lafayette from Wayne west past Pine—160 stalls.

West Lawrence west from the Grand Trunk Western Railroad and south to West Pike—200.

Auburn just east of South Saginaw—80.

The Commission held an informal meeting at the Hotel Waldron before the regular session at City Hall.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Robert E. Schwam bagged two deer yesterday. A buck and a doe sprang directly in front of his car while he was driving along Canyon Road. Police said the meat will be turned over to charity institutions.

More Volunteers Sought for UF

Flood of Pledge Cards Brings Additional Need for Campaign Workers

An appeal was issued today for additional volunteers to help handle the incoming flood of pledge cards and other campaign tasks accumulating at Pontiac Area United Fund headquarters in Hotel Pontiac.

"We need people to do telephoning, record information needed in the auditing of donation totals and do other tasks which require no special skill," said Karl W. Bradley, acting UF director. "Typists are also needed."

Volunteers can work, during any period of time they are free during the day. Interested persons may offer aid by calling FE 5-9451.

A UF film demonstrating how the goal is arrived at and how various agencies uses funds provided through the drive is available to clubs, business places and any interested groups, said Bradley.

It was shown today at three downtown businesses and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. A showing can be arranged by calling Bernard W. Crandell at General Motors Truck and Coach Division.

Because copies of the film are limited, requests are filled on a first come-first served basis, Bradley added.

Hardtops to Dominate Three Complete Lines for Coming Year

Seven hundred thousand 1956-model Pontiac cars!

This all-time high production of Pontiacs was predicted by Robert M. Critchfield, general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division, at the press pre-view of the new models here Thursday.

Pontiac produced 552,000 1955 model cars, for approximately 7½ per cent of the total industry production. The predicted 700,000 output of 1956 cars would move Pontiac up to 9 per cent of the total industry production.

The record-breaking goal will require about a 10 per cent increase in hourly employment at the local plants. Pontiac now has around 13,900 on its hourly payroll. Total employment is around 17,000.

The new Pontiac cars, in three series—the Star Chief, 870 and 860 series—will go on public display Oct. 21.

Critchfield told some 200 newsmen from throughout the United States that next year's production will include a major increase in two and four-door hardtop models and in the station wagon types. He said more than two-thirds of next year's output will be hardtops and that more than 80,000 station wagons will be built. This will about double the 1955 station wagon total.

Hardtops will be included in the lowest priced 860 series as well as in the other lines.

Critchfield said a broadly expanding demand for the station wagon is resulting from the increasing trend toward suburban living. The 1956 line includes a new four-door, three-seat station wagon with a completely level floor when the seats are folded.

Critchfield and H. E. Crawford, Pontiac's general sales manager, both spoke of increasing demand for new cars. They attributed it to increasing population, increased family income, and enhanced buying power. Crawford noted that 2½ million persons reach car owning age annually. To this total, he said, there also must be added the annual replacement market.

Most recent estimates of annual car scrappage have placed the potential figure for 1956 at about 3½ million vehicles.

Says Ike's Heart Attack Ought to Activate Nation

DETROIT (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield told a closing session of the National Assn. of Postmasters last night President Eisenhower's heart attack ought to shock the nation out of its complacent feeling.

"Too many of our citizens were complacently thinking 'Let Ike do it,'" said Summerfield. "From now on our slogan should and must be 'Let's help Ike do it.'"

John F. Fixa, postmaster of San Francisco, was elected president of the association. Detroit Postmaster Edward L. Baker, chosen president of the Michigan branch of the group last week, was elected national vice president.

Survey Gets Variety of Comments on Situation of Princess, Townsend

A Pontiac Press survey today showed women favor Princess Margaret marrying Capt. Peter Townsend, the handsome 40-year-old Royal Air Force hero.

Opinion among Pontiac-area men varies, however.

"I think it would be a pity if she is in love with him and didn't marry him," said Mrs. John R. Kiltie, of Bloomfield Hills. "After all, you've only got one life.

"I think the public wouldn't care whether they did or didn't get married as long as they are happy. But I think the Episcopal Church would be against it."

Mrs. Herbert Austin, of 3940 Dutton Rd., a housewife, said:

"Times and the world are changing and I suppose it's only a natural thing.

"It's a good thing, I think. The people of Great Britain probably look at it as though their kingdom is sort of going to pieces, with the Duke of Windsor and now the princess straying from tradition.

"They may feel that the royal family is losing a little prestige."

Miss Diane Begbie, an English citizen who has worked as a secretary here for the past 10 months, declared:

"They can't do much about it now that she's 25, now can they? As regards the people, most of them feel if she wants to, why let her."

An attorney, Clyde D. Underwood, believes nuptials are in the offing. Said he:

"Her seeing him yesterday must have been an indication. I think since the prime minister, Anthony Eden, is divorced and remarried that it's not out of line. Why shouldn't Margaret?"

A service station owner, Frank Schlichter, 307 Oakland Ave., said he thought Margaret had little to lose by marrying Townsend.

"I think that she's got about as much opportunity to become queen as I have to become President," he said. "If she wants to marry, it's OK with me."

Charles Belton, a Lake Orion radio repairman, had this to say:

"Personally, I figure that it is

Singers Tour Truck Plant

An angel-voiced choir took a wide-eyed look at American industry here yesterday.

The choir was the famous Obernkirchen Children's Choir, which recently appeared on the Ed Sullivan television show. The industry was the GMC Truck & Coach Division.

Most of the 37 German youngsters, who range in age from 8 to 18, simply stared as they passed down the long aisles of the assembly plant, watching trucks and buses take form.

Toward the end of the line, nine-year-old Karin Tscherbner, a brown-eyed soloist, waggled an excited finger as a shiny cab came swinging into place above a chassis she just saw assembled.

"It's so fast," she whispered in German to Toni Wamsler, the pretty interpreter GM furnished.

Obernkirchen once had an orphanage. It is so that city of 7,000 can have another orphanage that the choir is now making an 11-week tour of the United States and Canada.

After World War II, the orphanage ran out of funds and its building was converted into a hospital.

one was needed, conceived a plan for a children's choir to raise funds.

One worker, Miss Edith Moeller, had professional voice training and became the choir's director. The other, Miss Erna Pielsticker, became secretary and business manager.

By 1953, the sweet-voiced choir of 31 girls and 6 boys had gained renown locally. That year it traveled to Wales to compete for international honors and won first place.

Misses Moeller and Pielsticker hope that with the proceeds of the present 50-concert tour and last year's seven-week visit, they can reopen the orphanage in a large residence next year.

The visit to the GMC plant was unexpected for both the children and GM officials until late Wednesday afternoon.

Tony Simondo, the New York bus driver who is taking them on the 14,000-mile tour, always wanted to see where his bus was made. So before a Detroit concert Wednesday night, arrangements were made to visit the factory.

Tony, like the youngsters, was quite impressed.

Precincts Law Action Expected

Voting Machine Buy or Splitting Areas Is Being Studied

City Manager Walter K. Willman said yesterday the question of whether to purchase voting machines or re-align overcrowded voting precincts will definitely be considered soon.

"It is an important matter in consideration of the 1956 budget," he said.

"We've got to come up with something. We will have to provide for the cost of splitting precincts or buying machines."

A new State law stipulates that there may not be more than 800 registered voters in a precinct where paper ballots are used.

As many as 1,400 voters may be registered in a precinct where machines are used, however.

Paper ballots are used in all of Pontiac's 44 precincts. Twenty-five of the 44 have more than 800 registered voters. Twenty of the 25 are more than 100 above the new limit.

Pound-Foolish Dieters Draw Official Rebuke

LANSING (AP)—The State Health Department had words of warning today for pound-foolish people who join weight reducing clubs and end up fatter than ever.

How can that happen? By joining unsupervised clubs that cause the very thing they are trying to avoid: Nutritional deficiency.

"Usually, persons joining the unsupervised clubs don't stick to the deficient diet long enough to harm themselves," sad Mrs. Alice Smith, chief Health Department nutritionist.

But in some cases, she said, they "end up right where they started—and as a result of the discouraging experience, may throw caution to the winds and court obesity."

Mrs. Smith said nutritionists have become concerned about the unsupervised clubs, which she said are established on an emotional, rather than a scientific basis.

Controlling your weight, she said, can usually be achieved by understanding and applying the rules of good nutrition.

Weight reduction is essentially a "medical matter, in which the doctor should play a leading role," Mrs. Smith added.

and raised his hand against the light of the flash bulbs.

When he reached the bottom steps a policeman took him by the right arm and another by the left while a third bobby broke a path to his automobile.

Townsend reversed his car into the stream of traffic through Lowndes Square. He smiled at an elderly woman who rushed up, patted him on the arm and said, "Good luck, sir."

He turned into a main street and last was seen taking a road southwest of London, hotly pursued by reporters in their automobiles.

At Clarence House, where Margaret and her mother last night saw Townsend, police tightened their controls. They blocked cameramen who tried to follow an automobile that carried baskets of flowers into the yard of the house.

It was not known whether Margaret and the queen mother planned to go to the royal lodge at Windsor Great Park outside London where they often spend the weekend.

The general guess was there would be a public statement—any time now and not later than the opening of Parliament Oct. 25—that the princess will defy the opposition of the Church of England to wed the divorced father of two children whose ex-wife is still living.

New Driver Responsibility Laws Further Interpreted

A further explanation of new motorists' responsibilities when involved in an injury accident or one resulting in $100 damage to any car involved was given today by Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Robert D. Long.

The prosecutor made a detailed study of the complicated revisions in the state law yesterday. They take effect today.

"Such motorists now must make a report to both the secretary of state's office and the police within ten days or be charged with a misdemeanor," Long explained.

"Then, between 30 and 60 days following the accident, they must put up security proving they will be financially responsible for the accident or present affidavits showing that all claims have been satisfied.

"If this is not done, the secretary of state will suspend their drivers' license and they won't get them back until after taking out financial responsibility insurance and proving claims have been paid."

Illegal Liquor Sale Brings Fines to Five

Five Pontiac residents have been sentenced in connection with the sale of illegal liquor after a vice squad raid early yesterday morning.

Rosa L. Nemmens, 39, of 310 W. Wilson Ave., paid a fine of $100 for selling the liquor from her home.

Norman Pruett, 40, of 1379 W. Cornell Ave. was fined $25 for loitering in an illegal establishment, as were Ray Ross, 42, of 2070 Pingree Ave., and Margaret Franklin, 43, of the Lorraine Hotel.

Ruby Doyon, 39, of 83 Auburn rather than pay the $25 fine. Ave. elected to serve five days Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum heard the cases.

Acting on information, vice squad detective Eugene Hendren bought an illegal drink at the establishment and obtained a warrant for the raid, which was carried out by detectives Herbert Cooley and Orvil Johnston.

James Murphy Elected; Wants 'Wonderland' on State Car Licenses

BAY CITY (AP) — The "Water Wonderland" slogan is going to stay on Michigan's auto license tags if the East Michigan Tourist Assn. has its way.

The slogan has stirred up considerable controversy. But the association, in its annual meeting here yesterday, adopted a resolution "firmly opposing" any efforts to delete it.

More than 500 members attended the sessions and elected James V. Murphy of Detroit as new president, succeeding Arthur Michelin. Murphy is vice president and general traffic manager of Great Lakes Greyhound.

Main speakers were William Palmer, executive secretary of the Michigan Petroleum Industries Committee, and Dr. J. O. Christianson, superintendent of the University of Minnesota School of Agriculture.

Dealing with "investments in tomorrow," Christianson said it was the duty of the present generation to protect the natural resources for the young people and to build up facilities which would enable more people to take advantage of the natural recreation spots in the state.

3 Michigan Colleges Take New Names

LANSING (AP) — Three state teacher's colleges had their names changed today by an act of the Legislature at its last session.

Central Michigan College of Education at Mount Pleasant became Central Michigan College, Western Michigan College of Education at Kalamazoo became Western Michigan College and Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette became Northern Michigan College.

The Legislature, which changed the name of Michigan State College to Michigan State University this year, also passed a bill changing the name of Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti to Eastern Michigan College. This change takes effect July 1, 1956.

4 Die When Bomber Rams California Hill

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—A six-jet B47 bomber powered into a hill and exploded killing four crewmen last night, shortly after it had taken off on an instrument training flight from nearby March Air Force Base.

Base commander Col. Pinkham Smith estimated the swept-wing bomber was traveling nearly 500 miles an hour when it hit.

The explosion scattered flaming wreckage over a two-mile area. Houses shook in Riverside, eight miles away, and residents flooded police with calls.

Named to succeed David Faigenbaum as chief psychologist for the Oakland County Juvenile Department is Dr. Andrew T. Yang, according to James W. Hunt, director.

Faigenbaum resigned recently to take a position with the Detroit Children's Hospital.

Yang, 31, came to the United States in 1946 from China. He obtained a bachelor's degree from Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt., and received his doctor's degree last June from Adelphi College, Garden City, N. Y.

While attending Adelphi, Yang did intern work at Springfield State Hospital in Sykesville, Md.

Among his duties here will be organization of a clinic to provide treatment and guidance for youngsters coming under Juvenile Court jurisdiction.

He is residing with his wife at 2417 James K Blvd., Waterford Township.

2 Teenage Girls Die in Washtenaw Crash

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Two teenage girls were killed last night in an auto accident, climaxing what police described as a "joy ride" in which the girls took turns at the wheel of a youth's convertible.

Two other girls and the 20-year old owner of the car were injured. All were from the Detroit area.

None of the girls had a driver's license, police said.

Police identified the dead as Susie Ann Gardner, 17, and Laurel Novicka, also 17, both of Dearborn. They were pinned beneath the car which overturned on a gravel road in northeastern Washtenaw County.

Injured were Joyce Slabaugh, 17, and Shirley Grace, 16, both of Dearborn township, and Roger C. Kiser, of Plymouth.

Tax-Exempt Status Cut From U.S. Pacific Group

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Internal Revenue Service has terminated the tax-exempt status of the American Institute of Pacific Relations and the organization has appealed the ruling.

The Revenue Service, confirming its action, gave no reason other than to say it was "obvious" that the group was found to be no longer complying with requirements.

The IPR has been linked in Congressional hearings with Communist activities, particularly in the case of Far Eastern specialist Owen Lattimore, one of its former editors.

FEPC in Effect Today for State

Board Opens 2 Offices to Check Discrimination in Employment

LANSING (AP) — The State Fair Employment Practices Commission, which took the oath of office from Gov. Williams today, called upon Michigan residents to end racial and religious discrimination in employment.

In a "statement of policy," the six-member board said it hoped to achieve its goals mostly through mediation, conciliation and education, rather than enforcement.

Labeling racial and religious discrimination "threats to peace and the public welfare," the commission urged employers and employes to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the act and make sure they do not violate it.

The commission has set up temporary headquarters in the capital building and a branch office in Detroit's Cadillac Square building, and will establish other branch offices in the state "as necessary."

In its statement of policy, the commission said:

"The commission regards hopefully the informal process of conciliation and mediation, prescribed in the act, through which it will endeavor to avoid or adjust controversies, with the expectancy that this process will lessen the use of the commission's enforcement powers."

It said it would develop a "broad educational program" designed to promote good will and eliminate discrimination in hiring.

The commission was established by the last session of the Legislature. It was given broad powers to outlaw racial segregation in hiring and union membership. Under the law, the commission can take offenders to the courts.

"I don't think it would last even if they did get married," said Sgt. George Pappas. "He is older and I think she is the sort of person that would change her mind as far as an older person is concerned."

He said he believed the marriage would last two to four years.

Mrs. William Aebersold, of 4730 Ross Drive said:

"Just because she's a member of the royal family shouldn't interfere with her right to marry whomever she wants. She'll never ascend the throne anyway. When an American girl falls in love with a man, she marries him, so I guess she naturally expects others to do the same."

"I think maybe they should get married. I think she's in love with him, so why shouldn't they? After all this fuss, they should go ahead and get married," said Mrs. Fred Millis of 115 State Street.

Mrs. Bruce Jacobsen of 38 Murphy Street added, "At first I wanted them to get married and now I'm undecided. But I think maybe they should. It doesn't look as though she has much to lose. Apparently she admires her uncle, the Duke of Windsor, so much, maybe she'd be happier following in his footsteps."

Concealed Suspension Brings Fine, Jail Term

Roy Mullins, 45, of 3181 Buss Dr., Walled Lake, yesterday was fined $100 plus $10 court costs and sentenced to 30 days in Oakland County Jail by Milford Justice James VanLeuven.

He pleaded guilty to concealing a material fact while obtaining a driver's license from Milford Police last Nov. 12.

Mullins failed to make known that his license had been suspended after he was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter June 16, 1952 in Oakland County Circuit Court. He was picked up last Sunday for reckless driving by Wolverine Lake Police.

According to U.S. Government Vital Statistics, death rates from accidental falls from ladders, stairs, etc. in 1953 were nearly twice as high as death rates from primary cancer of the lung.

Fierce Storm Is Whistling Up Eastern Coast of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A storm packing 30-40 mile an hour winds whistled up the eastern seaboard today and the Weather Bureau said some areas might get as much as five inches of rain.

The bureau said the storm was centered at daylight near Cape Hatteras, N. C., moving northward at about 20 miles an hour. The center of the disturbance was expected to reach eastern New York state by tomorrow morning.

A steady five-hour downpour brought 3.16 inches of rain to the Washington area by 1 a.m. (EST).

The anticipated path of the storm lay through Pennsylvania, New York state, across Lake Ontario and into Canada, the bureau said. New England and a corner of northeastern Ohio were expected to be affected.

Heavy rain alerts have been issued by weather stations, warning of the possible flooding of some streams, forecasters said.

Report Chrome in Clinton Again

Macomb County Heads Say Critical Amount Not Reached, However

Macomb County officials yesterday reported traces of chromium waste in the Clinton River for the third time in recent months.

The latest contamination was spotted first near Rochester Tuesday and passed Utica Wednesday, officials said.

Pontiac sewers, from which chrome entered the river on two previous occasions, were reportedly issuing chromium deposits again yesterday.

It has not been determined yet if the sewage contained more toxic waste than is permitted by the city under a new ordinance.

Dr. Oscar Stryker, Macomb County health director, said the latest pollution never reached the "critical level." That point was reached the two earlier times and Utica had to stop drawing its drinking water from the river.

Superintendent Explains School Budget to Group

BIRMINGHAM—A school budget in excess of $3,000,000 can seem rather overwhelming to the taxpayer.

But a "realistic approach" to the matter was so well received when Supt. of Schools Dwight B. Ireland spoke this week before a local PTA group, the Board of Education is considering pamphlet distribution of his presentation.

Basing his figures on the 1954-55 school year, Ireland started by saying that the school cost per pupil per year is $301.69, or $1.58 per day.

In terms of service to the child, he broke the daily cost into: Administration, five cents; instruction, $1.13; operation of school plant, 30 cents; maintenance of school plant, five cents; fixed charges, one cent; and auxiliary services, four cents.

Answering the question, "What is the source of this $1.58, Ireland explained accordingly: Local taxes, 84 cents; state aid, 71 cents; and miscellaneous, three cents. He further explained that 7,614 children required this expenditure for 191 days.

TOTAL COST

Spent annually for capital outlay for each child each year is $21.88 or 11 cents daily; debt service is $165.35 yearly or 87 cents per day. Therefore, the total daily cost for current operation ($1.58), capital outlay (11 cents), and debt (87 cents) is $2.56.

This puts the total cost per day at $19,491.84, or $3,722,941.44 per year.

Self-answering the question, "How is this total sum broken down for the three main divisions of the budget?" Ireland concluded with these figures: Current operating budget, $2,297,752.92; capital outlay, $159,970.14; debt service, $1,265,218.38; for a total of $3,722,941.44.

A kick-off luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Monday will unofficially launch the 1955 United Foundation fund drive for residential volunteers in the Birmingham - Bloomfield - Franklin area, who will be among the over 1,200 volunteers setting out Tuesday, opening day, to raise $200,485 in three weeks.

Twelve area chairmen and 117 captains head the residential workers now completing a series of training meetings. Guest speaker at their luncheon at the Cranbrook School gymnasium will be Lorne Babcock, who heads a Detroit public relations firm.

Granville Morse, chairman of the business solicitations phase which began last week, said his nine teams are making steady progress.

The $200,485 represents this area's share in the $14,450,000 goal set for metropolitan Detroit in its "Give Once for All" campaign.

Something new will be added to "Chuck and Jacks Platter Party" from 6 to 7 tonight at the Birmingham Theater. Besides seeing the Chuckles and Randi Sabatini in person, teenagers attending the show will be able to participate in a dance contest, with prizes going to those judged winners by the audience.

Charles Goudie and Jack Catalido said Bloomfield Hills High School would receive the salute of the week, a tie-in with dedication ceremonies which will be held Sunday at the new school.

Doors will be open at 5:30 and the hour show will as usual be tape recorded for area radio use on Saturday.

2 Small Brothers Die in New Orleans After Foraging for Food in Trash Cans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Two small starving brothers, who each dreamed of someday growing up to be heavyweight champion of the world, died yesterday after days of begging scraps of food from door to door and eating out of neighborhood trash cans.

Six-year-old William Baughman Jr. died with a plea for food on his lips. "Please, may I have a ham sandwich?" he murmured to hospital attendants.

Seven-year-old Lawrence, who died 12 hours later, never regained consciousness after police removed him, frail and convulsed, from the shabby, one-room apartment where the Baughmans lived with their seven children.

The five girls, ranging in age from 1 to 9, were placed in foster homes.

Police jailed William Baughman, a 29-year-old unemployed longshoreman, and his 38-year-old wife, booking them for criminal neglect pending formal charges.

Laboratory tests and toxological examinations were scheduled after Dolores, the oldest girl, told police the brothers had been eating out of an empty mustard jar found under the wooden tenement. Doctors believe it was contaminated.

Police went to the squalid room yesterday when neighbors complained the children were out begging at all hours of the day and night and had been drinking wine from discarded bottles. One woman said she couldn't sleep because of the cries of the hungry children.

"They ate in the garbage cans . . . up and down the street," said Mrs. Evelyn Scallan, a next-door neighbor.

Offers to bury the two children poured in after Baughman said he would have to await assistance from his father in Acadia, Tex., because a burial insurance policy had lapsed two months ago.

"I'm a sick man," he said. "I have a nerve sickness. I've been nervous since I was born."

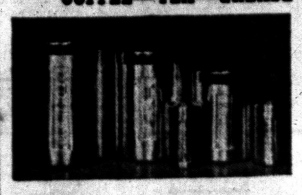

He said he left his last job two weeks ago to seek admission to a Veterans Administration hospital.

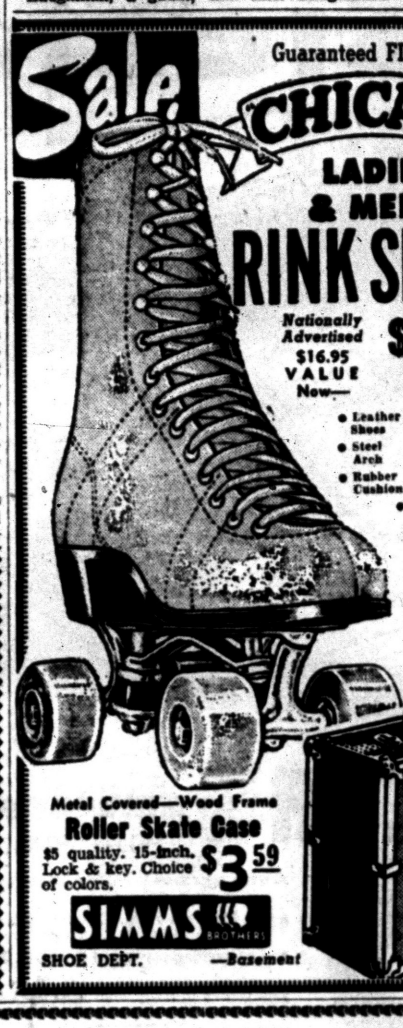

Since then, the family lived on $7 worth of food chits provided by nuns at a nearby convent.

Baughman, a gaunt, thin man who looks older than his 29 years, said his sons wanted to grow up to be fighters, "like Rocky Marciano."

His wife, a frail woman in a soiled pink dress, tearfully insisted she had done her best for the children.

The family had applied for assistance from the Louisiana Welfare Department. Miss Lillie H. Nairne, head of the New Orleans office, said the mother gave no indication that her husband was too ill to work or that their situation was an emergency. A follow-up letter went unanswered by the Baughmans.

Little Black Book Irks Ballerina, Divorce Follows

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Russian-born ballerina Tamara Toumanova won a divorce from screen writer Casey Robinson by throwing the little black book at him.

"I found a little black book in his laundry," she testified. "It contained the names and addresses of ladies who were not mutual friends of ours. I asked him who they were. But he had no explanation."

Superior Court ended the 11-year marriage yesterday on grounds of cruelty. Tamara also was awarded their $55,000 home, $10,500 in cash plus $800 a month basic alimony. She is 35, he is 52.

Senators Start Probe of Automation Effects

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-House Economic subcommittee set out today to explore the economic effects of automation—new automatic and electronic processes and other technical developments in industry.

The group is interested in such things as the probable displacement of factory and office workers because of automation, possible shifts in mass purchasing power, how to distribute anticipated gain in productivity, and the effect upon the business structure.

Elmer Beheads Meter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Elmer the elephant was standing in front of an automobile agency as a sales promotion stunt. Apparently bored with it all, he wrapped his trunk around a parking meter, twisted off the head and dropped it to the pavement. The City Traffic Department sent the agency a bill for $14.95.

Money Divides Races in Belgian Congo

Theoretically there is no color bar in the Belgian Congo, yet the races are effectively segregated, Leopoldville reports. Economics is the answer.

An African can drink a glass of beer or wine beside Europeans in hotel bars. He can go to the European cinema, too. But the native cannot afford to pay European prices.

At the most he can earn $100 to $110 a month and he can afford a $1,400 house. Europeans get very much larger salaries but most of the money is swallowed up by the high cost of living. A good hotel meal costs $3.50.

Another problem for the African is the 9 p. m. native curfew. If he leaves a cinema after 9, he is breaking the law.

Most of the primary kaolin produced in the U.S. comes from North Carolina. It is used in the manufacture of porcelain and china.

South African Horse Thieves Pick the Finest

JOHANNESBURG, S. A.—Natives from Basutoland are good judges of horseflesh, according to trainers here.

They blame a Basuto gang for the theft of many racehorses and say the natives invariably pick promising ones.

Searching for Thoughtful, a three-year-old, police established that a native rode the horse over the border into Basutoland. The thieves work as grooms. One of their first acts is to disguise the stolen horses.

One method used is to clip away patches of hair and scorch the bare skin. When the hair grows again it is white and the horses look like piebalds. They are run at native race meetings.

Drayton Plains was so named on account of the resemblance of its area to the Drayton Plains in England, from where some of its first settlers came.

President 65 Today

On this October 14 the Nation unites in wishing its First Citizen a happy 65th birthday.

Since the shock of the news that the President was gravely ill, there has come new public realization of the man-killing burdens of his office.

This has lent added warmth to the people's hopes for Mr. Eisenhower's early and complete recovery. It also has heightened the general feeling of relief occasioned by each succeeding medical bulletin reporting his steady progress.

This newspaper joins in extending best wishes to the Chief Executive. It is our hope that Congress in its next session will make special effort to find means of lightening the presidential work load.

Many Happy Returns of the Day, Mr. President!

Everybody's Help Needed in United Fund Campaign

Once again the people of the Pontiac are face an all important task.

That is to raise between now and November 3 the $562,175 needed to finance 55 health, welfare and child care agencies in this area next year.

Every one of the 4,000 volunteers in the army directed by Campaign Manager Robert M. Critchfield is donating his services. They are calling on every home, office and industry in Pontiac, and Waterford and Pontiac Townships.

The campaign confronts us not with a duty but an opportunity to help others. Let's lighten the task of the volunteers. Answer the door with a smile. Give generously because the idea of contributing once-for-all is sound.

This year's campaign got off to a fast and enthusiastic start with receipt of General Motors' check for $115,000. But that doesn't mean that everyone can let down in this effort. Everybody's help is needed if Pontiac is to maintain its record of never having failed to go over the top in six previous United Fund drives.

It is sound because it co-ordinates the needs of the various agencies, insuring that each gets a fair share and that none will be overlooked.

State Statistics Prove Value of Salk Vaccine

Early this month Secretary Folsom released national figures showing the effectiveness of the Salk anti-polio vaccine.

Now comes a report from Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner, which should be of interest to all parents.

Among first and second graders who weren't inoculated with the Salk vaccine, 18 developed severe cases of polio. Nine times as many children in the same age group did receive the vaccine and only seven of them contracted paralytic polio.

In other words, these figures reveal that there was 23 times as much polio among non-inoculated children as among those who did receive the vaccine.

The results announced by Dr. Heustis are even more encouraging than those obtained in the mass field trials in 1954. At that time 26,000 children were inoculated and an equal number were given a neutral substance. There was 12 times as much polio in the neutral substance group as among those receiving the vaccine.

This led Dr. Francis of the University of Michigan to rate the vaccine as 80 per cent effective. Since then the vaccine itself and methods of administrating it have been improved.

These facts obviously confirm what many long have believed—that the vaccine has accomplished miracles in combatting this crippling and often fatal disease.

Water and Road Bodies Get Supervisors' OK

Oakland County Board of Supervisors' endorsement of the proposal to set up inter-county water and highway authorities brings their establishment one step nearer.

Organization of these two groups is to be undertaken by the Supervisors' Inter-County Committee, made up of representatives of Oakland, Wayne, Monroe, Macomb and Washtenaw Counties.

The committee is charged with the task of drawing up articles of incorporation for both authorities and with submitting them to the several county boards for necessary final approval.

The water authority's objective will be to arrange for the financing and construction of facilities needed to bring Lake Huron water to the five county area. The highway authority will be expected to co-ordinate highway development in the metropolitan area.

This action by Oakland County's supervisors shows that they realize the great need for co-ordinated action in these two important fields. It is to be hoped that their prompt approval will be emulated by the other counties concerned.

Observers Say That Michigan Wild Life Is Coming Our Way

Pay-as-you-view television: Nothing new—we've had it at our house for 24 installments.

Driving over a thousand miles in Northern Michigan,

Mr. and Mrs. Manford Stryker of Clarkston, did not see a deer, nor any other wild life, "except a few birds, one squirrel and a porcupine." They see deer nearly every day near their home in Oakland County, and squirrels and birds are numerous. Other people report a similar experience, and of Auburn Heights, even drove down the back roads in upper Michigan, and saw no deer. He thinks they are decreasing as fast in that area as they are increasing further south.

"A chip off the old block," is the expression of a hardened old Pontiac business man in talking about television and movie actress, who added glamour to the kick-off of the local United Fund campaign. She comes from a long line of exceptional talent.

Latest entry and now tops in the castor bean derby is of Auburn Heights, who has one 18 feet tall, with leaves a yard wide and a trunk six inches in diameter, all of which has grown since last spring.

Two of our most ardent golfers,

Dr. and Mrs. Chauncey G. Burke, can be seen on most any of these fine October afternoons on the links at Orchard Lake Country Club.

When he had a chance to send an arrow into either of two standing deer in Gladwin County, says a queer feeling came over him. His heart thumped, he trembled all over, his muscles stiffened, he felt weak, his eyesight was poor, his aim unsteady, the deer looked beautiful—and the arrow went away over their heads. Frank, the rest of us call it "buck fever."

Frank B. Lawrence

David Lawrence Says:

Will Ike Quit, Finish Term, Run Again? Jan. 20, 1956, May Hold Key to Future

WASHINGTON—The medical bulletins about President Eisenhower's health have had such a continuously reassuring note in them for several days that the general anxiety felt two weeks ago about the imminence of a serious change has subsided.

The questions being asked now are these:

First, on Jan. 20, 1956, Eisenhower will have served exactly three years. Is this not likely to be the occasion for the pronouncement he all along has had in mind concerning his availability for renomination?

Second, if Eisenhower undertakes to remain in office until the end of his fourth year, Jan. 20, 1957, will he or will he not risk further damage to his health because of the cares of his office?

Third, if the President really desires a complete respite from the responsibilities of his office, would he be able to get this in any way except by resigning on Jan. 20, 1956, and giving up the fourth year of his term?

INDEFINITE SERVICE

Fourth, if the President and his physicians decide he can carry on throughout a fourth year, why isn't it logical to assume that he could, therefore, also carry on for a fifth year or sixth year or longer?

Plainly, the devoted admirers of the President who think he is really indispensable to his country and world affairs at this critical time in history are asking in all earnestness: Why, if the President can serve a full year from Jan. 20, 1956, can't he be counted on to serve for as much of a second term as he is able?

The argument is made that the American people in 1956, if Eisenhower were the candidate, would not be voting for a man who was certain to serve the full four years. The answer to this is that no candidate ever has been certain he could serve out his term, and the electorate takes that chance always.

SUBSTITUTE PROVIDED

The Constitution fully recognizes this contingency and provides that the American people shall elect a vice president at the same time they elect a president.

While it is true that under the present electoral system the candidates for president and vice president must be voted on together and cannot be separated—as was originally the case in the first years of the republic, before the Constitution was changed—the voter can nevertheless by his political influence in his own party and through a national convention express his wishes as to who should be the vice-presidential nominee.

One wonders how Eisenhower himself may feel if the Lord spares him another four years in relatively good health and during those four years he observes blunders made by a successor president. Will his conscience bother him and make him think he should not have consulted his own wishes but should have stayed on despite the risks? If America, for example, became involved in a war, many Americans might feel that Eisenhower, by staying in office, could have avoided it. Would history then say that a different decision should have been made by him?

Certainly nobody ought to exercise political pressure on the President—as, for example, to argue that his continuance in office is necessary to the Republican Party or to any of the persons now in office.

Dwight Eisenhower has been trained as a soldier. His sense of duty will determine his future. If he does decide that he cannot be a candidate, he will reiterate his belief that no man is indispensable and that the nation must take a calculated risk in selecting at the November 1956 election someone for the highest office in the land who the majority of voters think can best carry out the wishes of the American people. But might not Eisenhower also say, when Jan. 20, 1956, comes, that the country should have the services of a full-time president immediately for the whole year of 1956 and the 20 days of 1957 until a successor is inaugurated?

Dr. Brady Says:

Quarter of U.S. Population Carries Diabetes Potential

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

In Little Lesson 23, Training for Diabetes, for which send 25c free from stickum and stamped, self-addressed envelope, at p. 9 I cite the estimate of Dr. Elliot P. Joslin that 25 per cent of the entire population of the United States carry the potentiality or tendency to develop diabetes and may pass the potentiality on to their children.

Doctor Joslin, in my judgment the world's greatest authority, maintains that the inheritance of diabetes is not direct, but rather the potentiality or tendency to develop diabetes may be inherited. The child cannot inherit the diabetic potentiality from one diabetic parent alone if the other parent is not a carrier of the tendency. The child more often inherits the tendency from a grandparent. That is, the parents, one or both, carry the tendency in recessive form and do not themselves necessarily develop diabetes.

These are not my notions, please remember, but the dicta of Doctor Joslin, whose textbook Treatment of Diabetes Mellitus (for physicians only) rates a place alongside of Osler's Practice, Wright's Applied Physiology, Bicknell & Prescott's Vitamins in Medicine and (oh, my suffering aunt) Brady's Pocket Encyclopedia of Health.

Now, having set Dr. Joslin up on his pedestal, I must say I think—whistle and groan if that's your best argument—he begs the question, this question: What good or bad feature, talent, characteristic, fault, peculiarity or defect is not subject to the same law or way of inheritance?

After all, diabetes is a functional deficiency—incapacity to metabolize, oxidize, utilize carbohydrate food (starch or sugar) as well or as promptly as physicians consider necessary for health.

Being a functional impairment it may occur on any level from occasional presence of sugar in the urine, with or without demonstrable increase of the amount of sugar in the blood (the blood of a healthy person always contains from 0.07 to 0.12 per cent sugar). If as much as 0.14 per cent is present several hours after a meal it warrants a tentative diagnosis of diabetes; if 0.16 per cent or more is present hours after a meal it makes the diagnosis of diabetes almost certain, even if there is no sugar in the urine, though there is usually some sugar in the urine when the blood sugar is over 0.14 per cent. But mere presence of sugar in the urine does not necessarily indicate diabetes.

As Drs. Vorhaus, Williams and Waterman pointed out, people whose diet is mainly carbohydrate (refined white flour and refined white sugar particularly), often burdened with slacker flesh and subject to general malaise, showing occasional presence of sugar in the urine without hyperglycemia (too much blood sugar) are likely to develop diabetes. Such persons need poor man's insulin. My name for vitamin B complex. To replace what is removed from wheat in the refining process. For further details send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Wheat to Eat.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Area Police Departments Praised by Mrs. Larrison

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Until you have been involved personally in the workings of our respective community police departments, you are not able to comprehend the intricate working of these organizations.

How conscientiously the officer at the desk at the Pontiac Police Department took my call at 5 a.m. last week and relayed it to the Waterford Police and Fire Departments and the Keego Harbor Police Department.

And the efficiency in which both of these departments performed their duties, when I so desparately needed help will always be remembered by our family.

Widow Urges Everyone to Support Firemen's Ball

Following the death of my husband, I became the recipient of a gift donated by the Pontiac Fire Fighters Benefit Association. My husband had been a member of the association for many years.

However, I knew little concerning the good works of this fine organization. Consequently, I was surprised to find that I was the beneficiary of an amount in excess of $500.

Annually a Fireman's Benefit Ball is held at the Armory, usually in November. The proceeds from this ball are used to replenish and maintain their widows and orphans fund. I urge everyone to support this worthy affair. I am using this medium to bring it to the attention of the public, so that others in the future may be aided in their time of need as I have been.

'Living Wage' Dependent on Man's Marital Status

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

The best answer to the cliches of comedians concerning the burdens imposed on husbands was made by the Du Pont financial wizard, the late John J. Raskob.

Father of a dozen offspring, Raskob once remarked to me that, by and large, married men are as well off financially as single men, since they tend to be steadier at work and, as a result of added incentives, earn more.

Benito Mussolini, one-time Italian dictator, was dissatisfied with letting nature take its course. Accordingly he sponsored a statute to impose a punitive tax on bachelors. This in effect put a subsidy on being married, leading Westbrook Pegler to comment: "What a way to earn a living!"

Since Mussolini's gauche innovation, the personal income tax laws in this country have moved somewhat toward the same goal. The 80th (Republican) Congress authorized the marital split of the family head's income into two baskets, and this gave substantial tax savings to married persons in the middle and upper income brackets.

The ostensible purpose of the statutory change was to put married couples in non-community property states on a parity taxwise with the advantages enjoyed by married couples in California and in other community property states.

LOWER BRACKET

The splitting of income in half saves taxes through putting each component in a lower tax bracket with correspondingly lower rates than would be the case if the total income was reported in a single block. Also the family head can deduct nominal amounts from taxable income for each dependent.

These adjustments to the household fiscal problems of benedicts have been a conscious offset to the money advantages enjoyed by bachelors.

Variations in the family status of individuals make nonsense out of much of the theoretical social discussion as to what constitutes a living wage. With two men working on the same assembly line and each earning precisely the same $80 a week, each would be capable of a different living standard.

The bachelor, without dependents, could live up to the full take-home pay from an $80 gross income, whereas his neighbor on the assembly line, with a wife and two children, would have available for each member of the family only $20 gross income, and the living standard would have to be on that basis.

Accordingly, while academicians used to talk glibly about a living wage, the truth was that the liveability of any dollar income depended on the romantic decisions previously made by the individual income recipient.

If a man elected to share his earnings with a wife, that decision conditioned the standard of living. If in turn children resulted from the union, the income would be further diluted.

NO STANDARDIZATION

The individual emotional variations point up the fact that man's material and spiritual well being cannot be standardized in statistical averages.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Teenagers Gain Wider Perspective of Social Setbacks Through Church

Linda needs to imitate Sir Galahad. Don't worship marriage as if it were a pagan god. Happy marriage is wonderful, but you must have bigger goals in life than that, or your happiness may grow sour. For happiness is always a by-product of devotion to great unselfish goals.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Casme P-365: Linda R., aged 16, is dismayed because she has been jilted.

"Dr. Crane, I don't want to live," she protested tearfully. "Everybody at school goes steady but me.

"My parents refused to let me date the same boy all the time, and now he is going with another girl, so I have nobody.

"It isn't fair. My parents are mean to me."

RELIGIOUS PERSPECTIVE

This is one of the types of case which I presented to the Midwest clergymen of the Church of God.

Young people need wider perspective so they will not make such mountains out of molehills.

To give them this broader outlook, the church is necessary. They must be taught to aspire to bigger goals than a drive-in movie date with a high school classmate.

Parents and Sunday School teachers must even see that youth have greater aspirations than marriage itself.

Many teenagers stampede like sheep. If everybody seems to be joining a high school sorority or fraternity, then they feel it is a life or death matter.

Actually, we psychologists veto high school fraternities and sororities. For they are juvenile evidences of social egotism.

The big problems on this earth consist of freeing mankind from hunger and cancer plus other diseases, as well as war and immorality.

Teenagers must realize they can be very happy even if they never marry. So marriage must be preached to them as a by-product of a useful life and not the complete end in itself of all human relationships.

IMITATE SIR GALAHAD

Sir Galahad couldn't find the Holy Grail when he searched solely for that religious relic.

But when he devoted himself to helping his fellowmen, the Holy Grail suddenly appeared. It was solely a by-product of unselfishness.

So teenagers must think big, which means they all require childhood nurture in religious idealism.

Girls, it is not the wiser course to go steady in high school. So, even if it costs you some social good times, do what you know is right.

Social and moral laws are usually intended to give you the maximum happiness for the long pull, but they don't guarantee you against some temporary set-backs and jiltings.

So shop around and pick quality matrimonial merchandise to start with. Never be stampeded into taking second rate mates because of emotional intoxication or the fear of being an old maid or old bachelor. Be choosy.

Then be married in a church. And link up together with the work of a livewire neighboring church at once.

Attend church together the first Sunday on your honeymoon. For it is rare for a divorce to occur to a couple where both are active together in the same church.

DIVORCE INSURANCE

Pay your mate a sincere verbal compliment each day. And never let a quarrel go unresolved. Before you drop asleep at night, apologize even if you must clench your teeth to force a grudging "I'm sorry" across them.

Then beware of the "medical specimen" complex that often wreaks havoc during the first pregnancy.

That's when wives often and unwittingly change from the sweetheart role, into a medical specimen class.

For when they go to their physician's office every few weeks during pregnancy, they unconsciously become linked with illness, medicinal odors, etc., until their husbands may become impotent and panicky, even at 25 years of age. Read the follow-up tomorrow.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

11,000-Year-Old Caribou Fossils Found in State

CHEBOYGAN, Mich. (AP) — Reindeer fossils believed to have belonged to animals once roaming the northern part of Michigan's Lower Peninsula some 11,000 years ago, have been found in a Cheboygan County gravel pit.

The fossils of legs and antlers of a caribou, or reindeer, probably came from an animal buried in an outwash of sand and gravel from one of two glaciers which covered the area, Dr. A. H. Stockard of the University of Michigan Biological department said.

Indonesia last year boosted its share in world tin production to 20.6 per cent.

Hot Truck Nearly Serves Fried Eggs to Motorists

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) — Joseph Trice, a truck driver from Chicago almost had a few thousand fried eggs on his hands in the middle of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Trice was haulding a load of eggs over the road when his truck caught fire. But volunteer firemen, who rushed to the scene, snatched the eggs from their would-be frying pan just in time. The tractor of Trice's vehicle was demolished.

6 in Family Keep Mum About Mass Operation

NORWALK, Calif. (AP)—Operation Culbertson went off without a hitch. Only the six Culbertsons involved couldn't talk about it. The operation was on their tonsils.

Mr. and Mrs. Don W. Culbertson decided if one of the kids had to have his tonsils removed the others might as well follow suit.

Grinning but finding it hard to talk were: Don Jr., 15; Judith, 13; Beverly, 12; Michael, 11; Karen, 10; and David, 8.

The Army Chemical Corps has developed smoke screens that can filter out as much as 90 per cent of the deadly heat rays of an atomic bomb.

Snubs Auto's Arrival

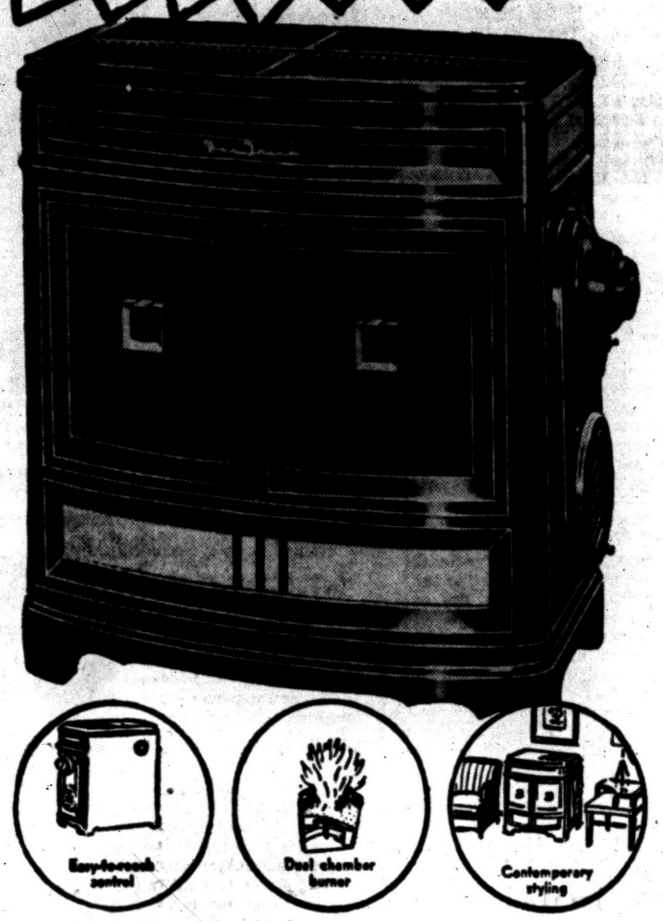

CALDWELL, Ohio (AP)—Time and the automobile have failed to force H. J. Starzman out of the business he started 49 years ago. He still makes harness sets, horse collars and saddles in a shop where he practices what he calls "a fast dwindling trade." He has an electric stitching machine, but for fine work he still uses the old-fashioned "stitching horse" and hand tools.

But It's Still There

ROCKWALL, Tex. (AP) — There's a subterranean rock wall around this town. Some claim its just a freak of nature, but the more romantic say there's an ancient city buried beneath the present one.

December Draft Call to Total 18,000 Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has issued a draft call for 18,000 men in December — 8,000 for the Army and the remainder for the Navy.

The Army quota for December is 2,000 below the 10,000 level maintained since last May. December will be the second month, since World War II, in which the Navy has asked for draftees. It is drafting 10,000 in November.

The drop in the Army draft for December followed slight increases in Army strength through voluntary enlistments during the summer months.

The defense department said that all men drafted in December will be processed by the 10th of that month and that inductions will be suspended until Jan. 3, 1956, after the Christmas and New Year holiday season.

LONDON, Eng. — Crowds have been watching the annual swan-upping on the Thames from London Bridge to Henley.

The uppers (who take up the birds and mark them) were led by the Master of the Queen's Swans, in white trousers and red coat.

Most of the swans on the Thames belong to her Majesty, the rest to Vintners' Co. and Dyers' Co., who since 1509 have had the privilege of keeping a "game" of these royal birds.

The work consists of clipping the wings so that the birds will not fly away, and giving identification marks to all cygnets which do not belong to the Queen. They are given one nick on the lower beak for Vintners' and two nicks for Dyers.'

How About That!

ADRIAN (AP)—Truck driver Frank J. Stoe Jr., startled at seeing two truck wheels roll past him, stopped to look and found both were off his truck. They were from the right rear of the truck trailer which remained upright on the remaining sets of double wheels.

Safety Vigilantes Serve in Arresting Motorists

SAGINAW (AP)—An organization of 100 secret safety vigilantes, called "S-Men," will send in postal cards to the Greater Saginaw Safety Council, giving the license number of traffic law violators, time, place and nature of the violation.

The Safety Council will inform the car owner of the offense by letter, but the "S-Men" cannot arrest violators.

LINCOLN FOR 1956

Longest... Lowest... Most Powerful Lincoln of all time!

Here — pictured the way you see it as it sweeps majestically by — is the new one that's been turning so many heads. And no wonder.

Lincoln for 1956 — the longest, lowest, roomiest, most powerful Lincoln of all time — is far and away the newest car on the road.

It's a larger, more luxurious Lincoln — obviously. And from hooded headlights to jet-pod exhausts, the refreshing, clean-lined Lincoln look goes beautifully with this great new size. Inside, greater size means more room, and the leg-room, shoulder-room and hat-room (all increased) comfortably belie the snug-to-the-ground lowness of Lincoln's new silhouette.

And that's just a starter. Match this new Lincoln against any other fine car — on luxury, on safety, and especially on performance — and you'll soon find out why we say this car is the finest in the fine car field.

Most important of all, this new Lincoln is never too proud to prove all we say. Come in any time and take a few turns behind the wheel.

The only completely new car in the fine car field

▶ New 285-hp Lincoln engine with more usable power than any other car ▶ New Lincoln Turbo-Drive — most versatile, most obedient of all automatic drives ▶ New firm, yet gentle ride and effortless handling ease ▶ New individualized interiors — 29 to choose from ▶ New safety all around you: Retracted steering column with Safety-Flex steering wheel . . . triple strength safety-plus door locks . . . optional safety belts . . . largest windshield area in any car.

Unmistakably . . . the finest in the fine car field

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Bold Bazooka, generally rated California's best 2-year-old colt, finished fourth in the $10,000-added Columbus Day Handicap at Bay Meadows. But Owner Lou Costello plans to put his ace aboard a plane tonight for Camden, N.J., to run in the $275,000 Garden State Stakes Oct. 29.

Orioles Ask $1 for Lopat as His Career Nears End

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles made two moves in as many days in quest of a young pitching staff by releasing 36-year-old Eddie Lopat and buying two minor leaguers, 25-year-old Mel Held and 24-year-old Pat Gosney.

Lopat's contract was offered yesterday to any of the other 15 major league teams for the nominal $1 price. That signified the Orioles' belief that Lopat's major league career is over after 12 years in which he pitched in seven World Series games for five straight years with the New York Yankees. Lopat won four and lost one in the championship games.

Manager Paul Richards said he couldn't fit Lopat in his future Oriole pitching picture, which contemplates full opportunity for younger hurlers. Among these are Held and Gosney, whose contracts were bought from San Antonio, a farm team of the Orioles.

Baltimore also bought the contract of Chuck Oertel, 24-year-old outfielder, from San Antonio.

Held won 24 and lost 7 for San Antonio in the Class AA Texas League last season. Gosney, used sparingly, had only a 1-3 mark but has been considered a prime prospect. The same is true of Oertel, who was sidelined July 4 with a fractured arm. At the time, he was hitting .298.

The Orioles got Lopat for the $10,000 waiver price from the Yankees last July 30. He had a 4-8 record and for the Orioles posted three victories and four defeats. His earned run average was a high 4.22 in Baltimore.

It was only his second losing season in the American League. The first was in 1945, his second year with the Chicago White Sox, when he won 10 and lost 13.

The White Sox traded him to New York in 1948. From the next year through 1953 he, Allie Reynolds and Vic Raschi pitched the Yankees to pennants. Reynolds has retired and Raschi pitched last season for the Kansas City Athletics.

Lopat's slow breaking pitches, described as "junk," were especially baffling to hitters in 1951. He won 21 against nine losses and then beat the Giants twice in the World Series, giving them only 1 run in 18 innings.

He also earned World Series victories in 1949 and 1953. He was charged with a loss in two appearances in 1952. He pitched eight innings in one game of the 1950 World Series but was not credited with the loss or victory.

MOVING INTO STRIDE—Doing two things in perfect unison develops good form. The arrows in the sketch show the key movements: (1) Pushing the ball away as you take your first, short step with the right foot in 4-step footwork, and (2) being totally relaxed, letting the shoulders move forward and slightly downward.

After that it's merely a matter of continuing the stride to the foul line. Footwork gains momentum with the swinging ball, which goes into smooth, pendulum motion at the end of the push-away. The important thing is to take it easy. Don't rush into stride—and make the first step a short one.

For the beginner my pattern is this: Short step, short push-away, short swing, with a finishing slide and a long follow-through. Cover about 13 to 14 feet in stride to begin with. Forget speed entirely, and don't bother about your score. That comes later. Develop a good get-away first.

Pontiac City Affairs:

John B. Wilson Resigns as Trial Board Member

Resignation of John B. Wilson from a post on the Police Fire and Trial Board was accepted by the City Commission last night.

Wilson, who has moved to Waterford Township, had served on the board since July, 1951. The Commission will discuss candidates to fill his unexpired terms, ending next July, at the informal meeting later this month.

Contractor Elwin Tripp was awarded a $41,550 contract for installing water mains in Kennett Gardens Subdivision.

A personal investigation into a controversy over a storm drain in the block bounded by Glendale, Genesee, Menominee and Telegraph were promised by Commissioner Philip E. Rowston (District 2).

A protest petition signed by 69 per cent of the affected property owners was presented at last night's meeting. Last February, a petition favoring the drain and signed by 71 per cent of the owners was presented.

Postponed until Tuesday's meeting was a request for reinstatement of a used auto parts license for a South Saginaw street company.

The Commission received and filed a letter from a citizen, C. H. Hutchins, commending the city government for "progress" and urging extension of Cass avenue to Franklin road.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the State Highway department has had the Cass extension on its planning boards for 3½ years.

Transfer of liquor license's ownership was approved. New owners of the Class C permit at 88 Bagley St. are Frederick, Joseph, Mitchell and Theodore Figa.

Public hearings were set for Oct. 25 in the following improvement projects:

Storm drain in Dellwood avenue from trunk drain west to Earlmoor to Howland, and on Howland from Dellwood to Luther.

Storm drain in Flidew avenue west and east of Bagley street; on Bagley street from Flidew to Alton; on Pearsall street from Bagley to Franklin; on Alton avenue from Bagley to Franklin, and on Motor street from Alton to Pearsall.

Curb, gutter and drainage on Howland avenue from California to Luther.

Curb, gutter and drainage on Alton street from Franklin to Motor.

A hearing was slated for the same night on a special assessment roll for a water main in Highland avenue from Ditmar to Fern avenue from Harvey to Highland.

Public hearings were held and confirmation deferred on assessment rolls for the following:

Special assessment roll for drainage and related work on James street from Johnson to Florence.

Special assessment roll for sanitary sewer on Luther street from Highland to Bloomfield.

Special assessment roll for sanitary sewer on Howland avenue from Dellwood to Luther.

Special assessment roll for curb, gutter and drainage on Motor street from Rapid to Alton, and Pearsall to Flidew.

Special assessment roll for curb, gutter and drainage on Luther street from Franklin to Howland.

Special assessment roll for curb, gutter and drainage on Virginia avenue from Baldwin to Saginaw.

Confirmed was a special assessment roll for two-inch blacktop pavement on Avon road from Argyle to Berwick.

City Assessor W. Raymond Ransom was authorized to prepare an assessment roll for a water main in Pearsall avenue from Bagley to Wrenn.

LAURINBURG, N. C. (AP) — Two men and two women yesterday were charged with murder in the shooting of a Berkley, Mich., automobile worker in July.

The victim, Clyde Lane, 44, was found dead in his car on a rural road about four miles from Laurinburg. He had come here from the Detroit suburb to visit his mother over the July 4 holiday.

Those charged are Travis Seals, 34; his wife, Stella Goins Seals, 26; her stepsister, Shirley Goins Williams, 18; and Curtis Goins, 23.

Police have had no comment on a possible motive.

Officers had no trouble locating Seals, his wife and Shirley Williams. All already were in prison after conviction on prostitution charges. Goins was arrested at his home near McColl, S.C., and is held here without privilege of bond.

The next term of Superior Court here meets in November.

Hungarian Reds Freeing Prelate

Catholic Archbishop Joszef Groesz to Be Restricted to Residence

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Hungary's Communist government says it is releasing Roman Catholic Archbishop Joszef Groesz from prison, but it indicates he is being put under house arrest.

Radio Budapest announced last night, "Dr. Groesz will take up residence in an ecclesiastical building to be assigned to him." Such announcement from the Communists usually mean the churchman is not allowed to resume his church office and is restricted to the residence assigned him.

The broadcast said the archbishop's 15-year sentence for plotting to overthrow the Communist regime was being "interrupted" at the request of Dr. Gyula Czapek, archbishop of Eger and acting head of the Roman Catholic Church in Hungary.

Archbishop Groesz was Hungary's highest ranking Catholic prelate after Josef Cardinal Mindszenty was imprisoned in 1948 on a treason charge. Archbishop Groesz was sentenced in 1951 in a continuing wave of Red attacks on the church.

Last July the Communists announced they were releasing Cardinal Mindszenty from his life sentence, but nothing definite has been heard of his whereabouts.

Child Bitten by Fox Still Being Watched

SUFFERN, N.Y. (AP)—Five-year-old Nancy Bihler, object of a widespread search after she was bitten by a rabid fox while picknicking Oct. 1, has been released from a hospital—but her doctor will keep close tabs on her at home.

Nancy left Samaritan Hospital yesterday after undergoing a series of antirabies shots. However, Dr. John Petrone said a final report cannot be made until Oct. 29.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bihler, drove away from the picnic spot before it was discovered that the fox was mad.

Nobody knew Nancy's last name or address but newspapers, radio and television appeals resulted in her identification several days after the incident.

. . . And They Shall Have Music . . .

R-H Recruiting System Is 'Well Organized'

(This is the last of a series of articles on the careers and private lives of America's foremost musical team.)

By CHARLES P. ARNOT

NEW YORK (INS)—Like Oscar Hammerstein's immortal "Ol' Man River," Broadway's greatest musical team "jes' keeps rollin' along."

With each production, Composer Richard Rodgers and Lyricist Oscar Hammerstein II seem to reach new emotional depth, to grow in artistic stature.

There's no real mystery to the R & H success formula. It's a combination of their own remarkable perfectly-matched talents, their great faith in new talent and the greatest urge in show business to try something new.

It's almost a ritual that every Thursday morning, the partners go to the theater and listen to at least 20 young hopefuls who have survived the critical eye and ear of casting director John Fearnley.

What are they searching for? Hammerstein puts it this way:

"Some people have the kind of personality that immediately attracts you. That's the kind of talent we look for—someone who is good and looks attractive."

WELL ORGANIZED

It was their well-organized audition system that turned up Shirley Jones who rockets to stardom in her very first "Oklahoma!" premiered on Broadway this week.

Twelve years ago, Rodgers and Hammerstein launched their historic partnership with what Broadway calls a "no-name" marquee.

The great Mary Martin proved an exception in "South Pacific." Even today when Rodgers and Hammerstein talk of great talent, Mary Martin's name invariably comes up first.

"Of course, she was a star even before 'South Pacific,' but we like to feel that perhaps she became an even greeater star with us," Hammerstein says.

JUDY TYLER FOUND

In their new musical due on Broadway Nov. 30, they'll bring to the stage a TV discovery named Judy Tyler. From the set of "Pipe Dream" comes word that she's another new sensation.

When it comes to advising newcomers, Rodgers and Hammerstein offer different—though not contradictory—suggestions.

To get anyplace in the theater these days, Rodgers says one must:

"Take it for granted that it's an almost impossible nut to crack . . .

Hammerstein says:

"I'd say first be prepared for failure. You must have a thick skin."

BOTH LIKE TV

Hammerstein calls television "probably the most important addition to living that has come to America since I was born in 1895." He doubts if he will get into it "actively," explaining:

"I'm too old now to start something new."

Rodgers, however, hints that he'd like to get into TV—"but I don't know yet just how to make the jump from the theater."

Next to Broadway, their major interest is world affairs.

Hammerstein is now a vice president of the United World Federalists movement. He describes himself as a firm believer in the principle of world law.

WORLD FEDERALISTS

Rodgers is sympathetic to the World Federalist movement, but doesn't belong because the partners try to divide their time. They have to in view of their many outside commitments.

Rodgers, for instance, doesn't like to fly, so Hammerstein handles most of the business requiring long, fast trips. But if he can help it, Hammerstein never goes near the R & H offices. That's Rodgers' domain. He likes business.

But when it comes to creative work, they prefer the solitude of the country. Hammerstein retires to a remodeled 200-year-old farmhouse near Doylestown, Pa. He raises turkeys and chickens and maintains a 50-head herd of Black Angus cattle—as a business, not a hobby. His major relaxation is tennis.

Rodgers does most of his composing in the living room of his colonial - style Southport, Conn., home surrounded by huge beds of flowers which he loves.

The Rodgers and Hammersteins live alone now that their children are grown. There are two musically-talented Rodgers daughters. Mary, 24, is the wife of Julian B. Beaty, Jr., a lawyer. They have a boy and a girl. Linda, 20, is the recent bride of CBS Producer Dan Melnick who is now in the Army stationed at Fort Sill, Okla.

Both Mary and Linda are songwriters like their father. So far, Mary has had one book of her own songs published.

Every so often the whole Hammerstein family gets together, and it's a full house. Dorothy and Oscar Hammerstein each had two children by previous marriages. Their own son, 24-year-old "Jimmie" Hammerstein, is now stage manager of the Broadway Musical "Damn Yankees" and wants to become a director.

HENRY FONDA'S WIFE

Hammerstein's son by his first marriage is 36-year-old William Hammerstein, a theatrical producer at New York's booming City Center. Dorothy Hammerstein's daughter by her former marriage is 27-year-old Susan, the wife of actor Henry Fonda. All told, there are five Hammerstein grandchildren, three adopted.

Their partnership is definitely big business. Since 1942, they have written six musical shows, four of them still active. They also have collaborated on one movie, the musical revival of "State Fair" in 1945, and have produced nine other shows, both in New York and London, since 1944. These included such hits as 'I Remember Mama" and "Annie Get Your Gun."

Their biggest joint outside venture is the Rodgers and Hammerstein Foundation, Inc., which so far has made grants totaling about $100,000 to worthy theatrical and creative enterprises.

NOT RICH MEN

They have helped establish the new Shakespeare theater at Stratford, Conn., and given scholarship grants to the Julliard School of Music in New York and Boston University, among others.

There have been many estimates of their wealth—most of them "grossly exaggerated," according to Hammerstein. He says he never in his life had $4,000,000, as an article about him once claimed.

"It's true that we are big earners, but neither of us is a rich man," he says.

The future? To keep rollin' along in the theater, of course. Rodgers says "I wouldn't know of anything else to do but the theater. We'll see what comes next."

Over the years, there have been many predictions that Hammerstein could become a leading poet.

His own reaction is that first things come first—and for the foreseeable future, the theater will remain first and foremost. He adds with a smile:

"I always thought that perhaps when I was too old to stand the rigors of a dress rehearsal, I might sit home and write unpublished poems."

Medical Facilities Ready

Gettysburg Waits for Ike to Return Home Again

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Historic Gettysburg awaits the pleasure of the President of the United States.

There will be no fanfare if and when President Eisenhower and the First Lady arrive at their Gettysburg farmhouse from Denver, where the President suffered a heart attack. His arrival and convalescence would be treated with the same reserve and dignity the townsfolk accorded the Eisenhowers when they purchased the farm five years ago.

The arrival date of the presidential party has not been determined definitely, but latest reports indicate Eisenhower may come here about Nov. 5 and remain until about Jan. 1.

Those dates were mentioned in dispatches from Denver yesterday, dispatches which stated the President's illness is likely to bring cancellation or at least postponement of at least the early White House social season.

While Gettysburg would greet the President and his party with reserve, all the facilities of the community of 7,200, including 1,200 Gettysburg College students, have been readied and placed at the disposal of the President's attending physician, his White House staff and Mrs. Eisenhower.

The Annie M. Warner Hospital, a small but modern institution, has offered all its facilities. A private room is in readiness, if needed.

The electrocardiographic and clinical laboratories, well staffed, an ample supply of oxygen and all available medical services are at the disposal of the President if and when they are needed. The entire medical staff and nurses' corps have been alerted to be available on a moment's notice.

Argentina Girds for Peron Riots

Holiday Dear to Hearts of Ex-Chief's Followers on Calendar Monday

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina's provisional government is marshaling its armed forces to put down any Peronista uprising next Monday. It threatened death to demonstrators.

Oct. 17 — next Monday —is a day dear to the hearts of followers of exiled former President Juan D. Peron. Called Loyalty Day, it is the anniversary of the 1945 general strike by which workers forced the release of Peron from prison and started him on the road to dictatorial power.

The government, meanwhile, opened a new section of its "exposition of the ex-President's wealth" — to show that Peron, the self-proclaimed poor man's champion, surrounded himself with fantastic wealth.

On display are 16 glistening automobiles and 240 motorcycles and scooters valued at $900,000 and said to have been used by Peron and his entourage. They were shown in a huge garage at Peron's palatial Palermo residence.

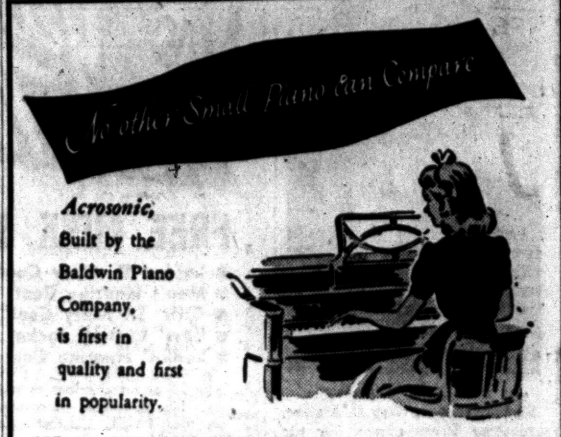

The transport collection hit many an Argentine where it hurts. The Peron regime choked off automobile imports except to favored persons. Used car values skyrocketed, and even a 1950 Ford or Chevrolet costs around $10,000.

33-Day Strike Ends

HASTINGS (AP)—A 33 day strike at Hastings Manufacturing Co. ended Wednesday night as about 400 CIO United Auto Workers of Local 138 agreed to terms of a new contract. Details were not disclosed. The plant manufactures auto engine parts.

Laughs, Cheers Spark Week

Junior Highs See Plenty of Action

Football games, pep rallies, assembly programs and a riotous volleyball match between men and women teachers added sparkle to the week at some of Pontiac's junior high schools.

AT LINCOLN

At Lincoln Junior High last week the 9As said "hello" to the new 7Bs with a Welcome Assembly. This morning and yesterday the 7Bs spotlighted some of their best talent in two return programs.

The shows were very gay, with singing, dancing and skits, and drew a good response from the student audiences. Christine Agorgianitis, girl's counselor and Latin teacher, was chairman of the program.

Students are still crowing over the Railsplitter's gridiron victory over Jefferson Junior High, 21 to 12, Tuesday. The cheerleaders, with their sponsor, John Buchanan, created a lot of pep and enthusiasm at a school rally before the game.

Riot of the week—the volleyball match Monday between the Powderpuffs and the Tarzans. Rivalry ran high as the whole school turned out to watch Lincoln's women teachers battle the male faculty members in the gym.

Between powdering their faces with a giant powder puff and drinking cokes in time-out periods, the femmes couldn't score a point. So four gallant Tarzans came to their rescue and helped them win the game. Now they're bragging how they beat the men!

AT EASTERN

Eastern Junior High students are feeling a bit glum over the team's loss to Washington Wednesday.

There was a rousing pep rally in the afternoon, with everybody primed to break Washington's long winning streak, so the loss of the game was quite a comedown. More than 600 students bought tickets for the event.

Teachers say their potluck, held Monday night in the cafeteria, was a great success. More than 65 teachers and their families attended the get-together. Principal Kenneth Nagley introduced the school's eight new instructors to the group.

AT WEVER

Wever Junior High's annual fall festival is the point-of-interest at the school this week. Students are working with teachers and parents to organize a bang-up affair and draw a big crowd.

There will be booths of all kinds, including a gift booth, white elephant booth, baked goods, and many others. Hayrides are being planned, as well as other entertainment.

The Parent - Teacher - Student Association is hoping for the biggest, most gala festival the school has ever had. With an increase of 289 members over last year in the PTSA, their hopes just might come true.

GOOD WORK PAYS OFF — Three Eastern Junior High students, award winners in the 1954 Ford Motor Co. Industrial Arts Awards Contest, saw tangible results of their efforts this week, as checks arrived in the mail. Above, right, George Rendziperis, 8B, holds up a blueprint of the first place drawing that won him $100. Looking on are (l-r) Elwin B. Eaty, 10B, whose drawing took 4th place and brought him $40; John Bullis, 8B, who won $80 for his 2nd place award; and drafting instructor Ray G. Lowry who taught the boys.

HOT OFF THE PRESS — The press at Wever Junior High is simply a mimeographing machine, but the news is always "hot" when the Wever Smoke Signal rolls off. Above, Sandra Heisler (left), editor in chief, and Penny Grant, news editor, take time to comment on the paper's typography as they run off the current issue.

Industrial Arts Contest Winners Receive Checks

Drafting students who won top ratings in the Ford Motor Co. Industrial Arts Awards Contest last fall got a second big thrill this week as checks began to arrive. Winners were announced some time ago, but the cash awards have just arrived.

The contest drew 40,000 entries from all over the United States, Canada and Hawaii.

Seven Eastern Junior High and three Pontiac High students were among winners. Entries were made in divisions, according to age and grade of the student.

A $100 check for first place in the 7-8 grade division went to George Rendziperis, 8B, of Eastern. His drawing has been displayed in New York, Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles and Detroit.

Other Eastern students to take awards: John Bullis, 8B, $80, 2nd place; Elwin B. Eaty, 10B, $40, 4th place; Garland Shearer, Thomas Vore, William Huttla, all 8B, gold medals for honorable mention. All are students of Ray G. Lowry, drafting instructor. Vernon Joseph, 10B, won a gold pin in the woodworking division.

At Pontiac High, Don Williams, 11B, won $80 for second place; Arthur Martinez, 11B, received an honorable mention. Both are students of Joseph Atwell. One of instructor Joseph Shara's seniors, Ricardo Moreno, received $20 for his honorable mention award.

Pick Candidates at St. Michael

Two Clubs to Vote Next Week; CSMS Elects 3 Officers

By JANET ENGLISH

Nominations for officers of various societies have been the outstanding events here at St. Michael's this past week.

Girls met in assembly Wednesday morning under the name Children of Mary and discussed the problems and projects to be worked out during this school year.

Ballots to choose candidates for next week's elections were cast, but Sister M. Muriel, director of this organization, has not yet revealed the results.

At the same time the Holy Name Society began discussing plans for future activities — the first of which concerned attendance at 7:30 Mass Sunday with the Holy Name men of the parish. Nominations for officers were completed, with voting to take place next week.

CSMC MEETS

The Catholic Students Mission Crusade elected John Keller, a senior, as president Wednesday. Janice Sears, senior, was named vice president; and Joyce Dropps, sophomore, secretary-treasurer.

Joan Wiegandt played hostess to her fellow M-J members Saturday night at a meeting to plan future activities. For refreshment Joan served the club's favorite—pizza.

Speaking of pizza, the senior girls got together last Tuesday and had a pizza party. According to these experts, this Italian delicacy is tops!

Washington Students Elated at Victory

Washington Junior High hasn't settled down yet, after the Braves chalked up their 16th game without a defeat Wednesday when they trolloped Eastern's Indians 18-6. The team hasn't been defeated in any game in the last three years.

Next Wednesday, the gridders will battle Jefferson Junior High. Every student's on tenterhooks to see if the team can maintain its victory run.

Kay Justin's home economics classes are out to buy those curtains for the sewing room—and they're not doing any dawdling. They'll give a repeat Friday after school, with another candied apple sale. This time they hope to make 400 apples to sell. Last sale, they took in $20 and were sold out of apples in five minutes.

The Student Council is doing a good job of building up its treasury with the Tuesday frost bite sales. The money will also help two ninth graders to go to Washington, D.C., for the class trip next year.

PHS Radio Group States Broadcasts

The PHS Radio Workshop will present its first fall broadcast Oct. 24, as "Peter's Indoor Pond" from the "More Wonderful Than Magic" series is given.

On the Oct. 26 show, the grade school favorite "It's Story Time" series will resume with the presentation of "Sing a Song of Autumn." Oct. 28 a new series, "Theirs Is the World," will be initated.

The first show will be entitled "Remember It's Up to You" and will center around the United Fund drive. Miss Vera Mae Adams advises the workshop. All acting, sound effects, and engineering are handled by PHS students.

Watch Out for Drafts

If Waterford Township students notice an unusual amount of drafts around the school, it's nothing that a big bonfire won't cure. Actually, it's caused by the breeze of activity all those planners are making as they rush about homecoming preparations. The bonfire is "for sure"—one of the many pleasant events that will highlight the school's first homecoming, Oct. 28 and 29.

Busload of PHS Students to Go to Flint Game Tonight; 'Land of Oz' Is Sellout

By VICKY MICU

Top news at Pontiac High School this week is the extended weekend students will have as teachers attend the Michigan Education Association Regional Conference next Monday and Tuesday.

Tonight's Flint Central game at Flint also spotlights the news, as the Chiefs, along with a busload of students and the PHS band, travel to Flint for Pontiac's second Saginaw Valley Conference game.

Today marked the closing performance of the play "The Land of Oz." Congratulations to Miss Mary Parrish for her fine directing and Miss Shirley Pengilly for her able assistance. The play was a sellout at all five performances.

Fencers got off to a good start as weekly evening classes started Wednesday. The instruction, sponsored by the city's recreation department, is free to both students and adults.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM WINS

PHS is especially proud of its Cross Country team who, although receiving little recognition, won its 36th consecutive meet against Flint Central Tuesday.

This week judging for two speech contests was carried on, as both Intra-school Debate Tournament and the constructive Speech Contest took place. Winners will be announced next week.

The January graduating class chose class committees recently. Elaine Hamilton heads the Announcements Committee; Walter Bass, the Cap and Gown Committee, and Sally Schumann, Class Day Committee.

Music could be heard at PHS this week every hour, every day, as vocal students practiced for the ninth annual Fall Vocal Festival, Nov. 7. Participating will be the boys and girls' glee clubs, various ensemble groups, and the a capella choir.

CLUBS ARE ACTIVE

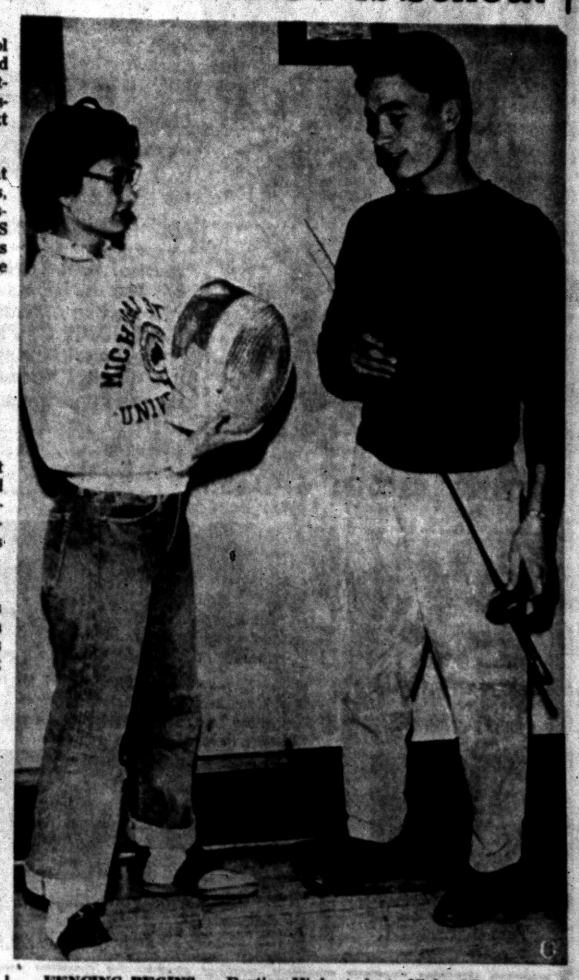

Clubs have been very active and plans for fall events are abounding. The Retailing and Office Club plans a hayride and Halloween party, Oct. 29.

The Hi-Y Club held a wiener roast and informal initiations at Cass-Dodge Park Tuesday. Formal initiation of members will be held at the next Hi-Y meeting in a candlelight ceremony. Members also were initiated into Y-Teens recently.

The Future Nurses Club, back from the state rally at Kalamazoo, announced that member Frances Kamachos has been elected state vice president. She also is secretary of the Detroit Tri-county Inter-council.

Physical fitness, studied recently in economic classes, will now be put into practice. Weight lifting instruction will be offered boys, and girls will receive daily exercises through physical ed classes.

FENCING BEGINS — Pontiac High students Vicky Micu and Bob McDonald prepare for a fencing match Wednesday at Pontiac High. Trials to organize boy and girl teams, to represent PHS later in state competition, started at the evening classes, sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation. Last year, Vicky won the school trophy and Bob placed third in the state boys' single competition. The PHS boys' team placed first in the state. Classes are held each Wednesday at 7 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

Plan Dances at St. Fred's

By ANN SCHACHERN

After last week's hectic initiation, St. Frederick High School has settled down. Freshmen report that initiation really wasn't so bad, and some say they even enjoyed it. Seniors find it hard to be opening doors for themselves and carrying their own books again.

The Teen Club is expecting a big turnout at its first record hop tonight. These all-school dances will be held each Friday. Dance starts at 8 and ends at 11 p. m., with everybody invited.

Juniors, too, are planning a big Halloween dance on Oct. 28.

Freshmen elected class officers this week. Richard Crozier is president; Mary Thyle, vice president; Dexter Mayworm, treasurer and Mary Louise Theeringer, secretary.

Each week students of the different grades take turns displaying their talents by putting on pep meetings. Friday the juniors gave forth with their first effort, to the enjoyment of all.

This afternoon, the sophomores' first pep meeting is to be staged. Pupils like putting these on, say it gives them a chance to work and get better acquainted with their classmates.

No "square" seniors will be trying to fit themselves into "round holes" after graduation, as a result of aptitude tests which were given them by the Michigan State Employment office last Thursday.

Physics instructor Gene Wright certainly knows how to get on the right side of his pupils! Reason for all the praise—he's promised them a field trip every month.

POPULAR SUBJECT — The introduction of new equipment in the physics lab at St. Frederick School has brought increased interest to class sessions. Above, instructor Gene Wright uses one of the new visual aid devices to show how gravity is affected by a horizontal incline. Absorbed in the demonstration are (l-r) students James Mayworm, James Duren and Dennis Presto.

Two Dedications Top Area School News

The coming dedication of two of the area's newest high schools held top interest for students this week, along with plans for homecomings, plays and other events.

Bloomfield Hills High School will be dedicated at 3:30 p.m. Sunday with tours scheduled from 2-4 p.m. West Bloomfield High will have its dedication at 3 p.m. Sunday. Students and parents are invited to attend both events.

TO HANG PAINTING

At Bloomfield Hills High, an oil painting of the Vaughan School, gift of the class of 1955, will be hung in the main entrance stairway in time for the dedication.

Following today's football game with Fraser High School, Bloomfield Hills seniors will sponsor a homecoming dance at the new school. They plan to have a 5-piece band and a vocalist for the evening.

The kitchen crew was busy serving lunches for the first time from their new all stainless steel kitchen Wednesday noon. The kitchen is extremely modern and has plenty of the needed equipment, along with a red tile floor.

NEW CLUB FORMS

At West Bloomfield, a new club has been organized—the C and J, or Creative and Journalistic Club. Two of its projects are to supply local papers with news of the school and to start a scrapbook of the school's history. Linda Willis is president; Peggy Wilkinson, vice president; Janet Halsema, secretary; and Pat White, treasurer.

HOMECOMING PLANNED

Walled Lake's second annual homecoming will be held next Friday. Mary Ann Hickey is general chairman. Committee chairmen are Penny Wiedenbeck, crown; Sheila Huebler, programs; Mary Lou Gwodz, publicity; Joy Evans, ceremony; Carolyn Cummins, pompons; Madelyn Bacon, bonfire; and Dolly Proulx, decoration of goalposts and stands.

The football team will elect the queen and an attendant from each class by secret ballot.

The queen and her court will reign at a dance sponsored by the class of '56, following the game with Farmington.

TO PRODUCE PLAY

At Avondale High, 15 seniors began rehearsing for the senior play, "Strange Boarders."

Bonita Carey has the leading role in play which finds a band of bank robbers threatening some decent people. Others cast as good folks are Betty Goodell, Jerry Paul, Sam Sheehy, Ronnie Van Conant, Mary Van Gilder, Barbara Wieszczorek, Gene Williams, and Billie Jean Willis.

The bad 'uns are to be played by Keith Barnhart, Larry Herron, Bob Jaycox, Ann Meyer, Sharon Moss, and Jim Newell.

Student director is Fran Gisse, student production manager is Al Miller, and Jim Lewis will be in charge of the business end.

Written by George Batson and Jack Kirkland, the play will be presented Thursday, Nov. 10.

Play Opens Tonight at Waterford High

Waterford Township High School Dramatics Club will present the opening performance of their first play, "Best Foot Forward," tonight at 8 o'clock in the auditorium.

Jumping up and down with shoes around their necks, about 45 new Dramatics Club members were initiated into the club on Monday. A banquet was given in their honor Monday evening.

Students are looking forward to their two-day vacation Monday and Tuesday, as the instructors attend the teacher's institute in Detroit.

Parents, teachers, and students are planning the first PTSA meeting, to be held Wednesday night at the school. With regular class sessions set up, parents will attend each class that their child attends during the day, and meet the instructors. Officers of this association are: Kenneth Young, president; Mrs. Gordon Bryce, vice president; Sylvia Clark, secretary; and Barbara Graham, treasurer.

PHS gym classes now have student leaders to aid instructors Patricia Soares and Geraldine Worthman. They will officiate games, help out with locker troubles, and attend to absence slips.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula has 150 waterfalls. They range from seven to 75 feet in height.

Walled Lake Seniors Top Goal, Win Awards

Walled Lake seniors surpassed their $3,500 goal for magazine sales by $1,000.

Two watches will be awarded to the high salesmen, who were Carol Ann York, and Norm Dierkes and Bob Hess who sold jointly. A drawing will be held soon to award a third watch to a student who sold over $20 worth of magazines.

* * *

Proofs and picture orders were turned in Tuesday by seniors. Portraits will be returned in time for holiday giving.

Elderly Traveler Lands in Wrong City of Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Wandering "Wild Bill" McCord headed for the only Columbus he'd ever heard of in all his 85 years — the one in Ohio — and somehow landed in Columbus, Ga.

Police found him on a downtown street yesterday, moving about uncertainly. In his pockets were $200 in cash, two bank books listing more than $5,000 in deposits, a phone number, electric razor, medicine, socks—and an unused bus ticket from Portsmouth, Ohio, to Columbus, Ohio.

Sgt. G. M. Lawson asked him where he thought he was and McCord said: "Columbus, Ohio, of course."

Using the phone number the sergeant called Columbus, Ohio, and talked to Mrs. George Page, who said she was McCord's daughter and that he was believed to be visiting a niece in Florida. She didn't know how he got to Dixie, and added that she herself had never heard of Columbus, Ga.

The Travelers Aid Society arranged to escort McCord to the right Columbus.

Answers 'Too D--- Dry' on Texas' Economics

SAN ANGELO, Tex.—The San Angelo Standard-Times got a lot of long letters and weighty opinions when it sent out questionnaires for a news roundup on West Texas economic conditions.

But one reply, from a banker, summed up the trouble with the economic conditions in three words: "To D— Dry."

Dem Recording Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new phonograph record features a half hour of informal interviews with the eight Democratic women members of the House. Titled "First Ladies of Congress," it was released today by the Office of Women's Activities of the Democratic National Committee for free distribution to all Democratic groups requesting it.

MORALE BOOSTERS — The patient-cheering activities of the Grey Ladies at area hospitals are supported in part by contributions to the Pontiac Area United Fund. Here, Larry Methner, of 2210 Lancaster Rd., poses as a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. With him are Mrs. M. L. Richards, head of the St. Joseph Grey Ladies, and Mrs. Fred Born, both of Royal Oak.

Work of Red Cross in Local Districts Assisted by United Fund Contributions

You'd need help badly if your daughter needed an asthma shot or your son's wrist was broken.

What if you didn't have a car and your neighbor's wasn't available either?

Did you ever think of one of the Pontiac Area United Fund agencies as another neighbor you could summon in time of need.

A solution to the above situation could come through the American Red Cross which would provide a driver from the Motor Service Corp. to aid you.

Life couldn't be more grim than when disaster strikes. The government helps, but a bowl of hot soup for a little girl whose home has been shattered by a tornado is no concern of the government.

Red Cross sees that the youngster gets her soup—and a new pair of shoes and maybe a dressing for her badly cut arm. Disaster rehabilitation is "always a gift, never a loan."

Suppose you are driving north on Labor Day weekend. You are stopped suddenly by a pileup of cars on the highway ahead. You would like to help but you're not sure how.

Up comes the Red Cross' holiday highway patrol, a radio equipped car staffed with trained first aiders. They treat the victims for shock, make them comfortable and wait for an ambulance.

Your Red Cross neighbor doesn't forget the hospitals either. Its Grey Ladies are there to fill in for the medical men and women who don't have the time they'd like to devote to morale boosting.

The network of neighborliness takes a worried mother to its heart. She's upset because she hasn't heard from her son who was drafted into military service.

She calls her local Red Cross chapter who in turn contacts a field director stationed at her son's base. He contacts the new recruit and puts the worried woman's mind at ease.

Through its blood program the Red Cross has saved many lives right here in Oakland County. Blood is free to those participating if a group blood bank.

But the precious fluid costs money to provide even though volunteers staff the bloodmobiles.

American Junior Red Cross joins the network of neighborliness by packing a little bit of America into gift boxes. In return the children receive letters and samples of foreign handicraft which help them to better understand the ways of other countries.

Patients in hospitals all over Oakland County find remembrances from their little friends on food trays at holiday time.

Part of your donation to the United Fund supports these activities.

Poles Exhibit Terror Camp Where Millions Were Slain

OSWIECIM, Poland (AP) — Auschwitz-Birkenau, the concentration camp where the Nazis exterminated four million persons, is open to the public—the Poles have turned it into a museum.

You drive past the little black gibbet where Rudolf Hoess, the commandant, was hanged on a scaffold so small it needed four steps to reach the ground. It stood halfway, exactly, between his fancy villa and the biggest crematorium. The Poles didn't waste much wood on it.

You come to a swampy meadow. At the far end is a stagnant pool, bubbling from time to time.

The Polish guide says:

"This was a mass grave. Nobody knows how many bodies were burned here in the open and buried."

Not far away one sees the rows of barracks which made up Birkenau, the real death mill. It stretches starkly ahead, miserable in its sameness. One bararck is like another. After one has seen the three tiers where humans lay like cattle awaiting death, there is no point to repeating the process.

In the Auschwitz headquarters building one sees a mountain of human hair taken from victims to be used for mattresses and for weaving textiles and rugs; a mountain of shaving brushes; a pile of children's toys and shoes; a weird collection of wooden legs. The victims were Jews, Poles, Gypsies and others the Nazis considered undesirable.

Today one hears only the shuffle of feet. Five thousand adults and children go through the "museum" every Sunday on guided tours.

Golf Widows Tee Off - - - And Not on Hubbies

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—As the summer golfing season draws to a close and our friends the birdie shooters head South, it is time to reflect quietly on that most tragic of figures—the golf widow.

She is, according to a nationwide survey, going out.

Now "going out" could mean any number of things, from going out with the butcher while her husband is off with the caddie, to going out and buying minks as a spouse-replacement.

None of these meanings, however, is intended. What the Colt golf ball people mean when they say golf widows are exiting is this: In 1940, there were some 200,000 of them, grumpy and lonely and frustrated. Today, there are more than 1,000,000 married women golfers who play right along with their husbands.

"And by the end of the year," states the survey cheerfully, "25,000 more ladies will join their husbands on the course."

What does all this mean, besides more business for golf ball people who make surveys?

"I'll tell you what it means," said a friend of mine who admits he's an excellent golfer. "It means that men are going down to the sea again in ships!"

SHARING INTERESTS

Discounting this view as biased (the man stands on street corners proclaiming how women should have their feet bound like the ancient Chinese, to prevent their trundling 18 holes), we look further: The survey concludes that the thousands more women golfers indicate there is a new trend toward "family living."

Husbands and wives are doing more things together, sharing mutual interests, perking up the old institution of marriage. Whereas once upon a time, a wife was supposed to provide only comfort for her husband—now she realizes she must provide competition as well.

"Mark my words," says the chief surveyor, "this trend will patch up many a shaky marriage. Golfers used to lose a lot of balls, and a lot of wives. Now they only (praise be for the community and my company!) lose the balls."

Among the well-known women who have recently taken up golf in order to get out of the unfashionable "golf widowhood" category are Marguerite Piazza, the ex-Met singer; Kathryn Murray, now known as the "dancin' driver;" Mary Hayes, putt expert and wife of Bill "Davy Crockett" Hays, and Jane Pickens, who found putting easier than puttering away Sunday afternoons.

The direct cause for the 100 per cent increase in married-women-golfers cannot be tabulated, of course, in a cold and statistical survey. But the Colt people are inclined to credit the chic new golf shorts, the shiny new lightweight clubs and their band new golf ball wound with one continuous strand of rubber—"giving it extra distance and an even keel on the green."

PLUMB TIRED

That's their version . . .

I say it's because women got plumb tired of feeling sorry for themselves, and teeing off on their husbands.

It was much more fun to be teeing off themselves and feeling sorry for their husbands!

Bees Can Tell Chow Time in France or U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Those French honey bees are consistent—they can tell time either in Paris or New York.

Dr. Max Renner, University of Munich zoologist, had trained a batch of bees to feed at a certain hour in their Paris testing room. Last summer he flew them to New York and installed them in an identical testing room.

Exactly 24 hours after their Paris feeding time the bees indicated they wanted to eat—ignoring the five-hour time difference between New York and Paris.

Renner decided to repeat the experiment in reverse. The bees trained in New York lined up for chow exactly 24 hours later in Paris, regardless of what the clock read.

In reporting on Renner's latest experiment yesterday, the American Museum of Natural History said the zoologist will conduct a further test: to find out whether the bees' "internal time clock" is hereditary or the result of training and environment.

Since World War II, about one married woman in six of child-bearing age has had a child each year, whereas the figure was about one in eight before the war.

Salk Polio Coverage Expanded by State

LANSING (AP)—The State Health Department yesterday broadened Michigan's polio vaccination program to cover children in the 1 through 14 age group and pregnant women.

Until now, the 5-9 age group has had priority in receiving the Salk vaccine and the Health Department recommended that this group still be given first chances at the vaccine.

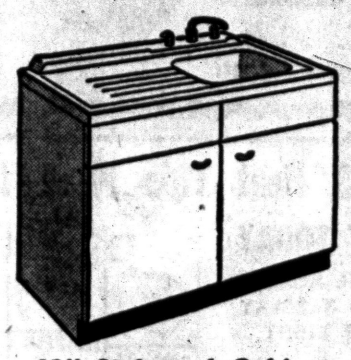

The broadening was recommended by the U.S. Public Health Service yesterday and was approved by the governor's polio vaccine advisory committee.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, health commissioner, said that with the reduction in the number of polio cases this year there was a corresponding decrease in the requests for vaccinations.

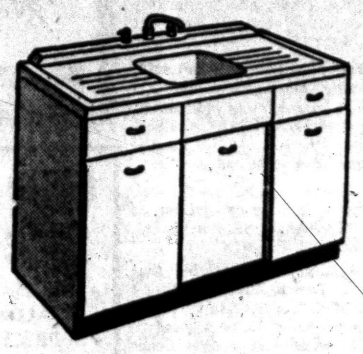

Because the vaccine must be used while relatively fresh, he said, local health agencies should put it to work promptly in the broader age group if they cannot use it in the first priority group.

New Legion Chief Fought in Pacific

By ARTHUR A. HAGMAN

They called him "Add" on the Battle Creek high school swim team, where in 1932 he captained his mates to a state championship, then on to Washington and Lee University where, as co-captain, he again led his swim team to a Southern Conference championship in '36 and '37.

Like so many young men just out of school, J. Addington Wagner was married while facing a future darkened by the threat of war. It was July, 1940, when he was wed to Virginia Dare Beagle, a school-girl sweetheart.

He recalls his days as a Boy Scout, when he learned to repeat the Scout oath, "On my honor, I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country . . ." He remembers happy days as a boys' camp counselor, as Scoutmaster and as a member of the area executive council of Boy Scouts.

Later came days at Hillsdale College, as president of Delta Tau Delta, president of his sophomore class, happy hours of fishing, riding, golf and football.

LEAVES FOR WAR

Virginia understood the tightness in his voice as her husband said goodbye. She knew he would be a Navy man. J. Addington Wagner was commissioned as an ensign in April 1942.

From that time on, letters brought news of action, from the day at Bay City when he received his ship, to the time of his release in May, 1946, as a lieutenant commander, USNR.

The fact that Wagner came back with his left side and leg torn and shattered by shrapnel didn't bother him too much. The important thing was his return to Virginia and little John, a 5-year-old son he had never quite known.

AT OKINAWA

Back from Okinawa, where 183,000 troops and 747,000 tons of cargo were landed from 430 assault transports. Back from that Easter Day in 1945 when ships and gunboats fired 44,825 rounds of 5- to 16 inch shells, 33,000 rockets and 22,500 mortar shells to permit a landing for the Marines.

Wagner recalled how diving kamikazes stalliated as they struck guardian ships off-shore, in the aircraft fire which felled 355 suicide pilots in 36 hours. Six ships were sunk, 22 others damaged.

To a young Lieutenant of the Navy commanding a rocket ship, this period would be imprinted on his memory for a lifetime.

A diving kamikaze, strafing furiously raked Wagner. He fell wounded at the helm of his ship.

BACK HOME

And so Add came home, to Virginia and John and his friends. To a life of freedom. But how could freedom be assured? Certainly not by complacency to the responsibilities of good citizenship.

Wagner made his decision early upon his return to Battle Creek. He became active in Legion work, plunging whole-heartedly into the time-consuming affairs of General George A. Custer Post 54.

The youthful enthusiasm caught on, as his post grew to become the largest American Legion post in Michigan.

As a partner in the family law firm, Wagner had the blessings and co-operation of his father and sister, who helped carry the load of a growing law practice, while Mrs. Wagner became active in the Auxiliary in order to help him in the Legion work.

ELECTED ADJUTANT

Add was elected post adjutant in 1947; the following year was elevated to post commander. During those years he also served as judge advocate of the Third District, continuing in that important office until 1949.

During his term as commander of Post 54 he succeeded in instigating and helping to activate burial detail, a crack ritual team and a lively drum and bugle crops.

The ritual team is still best remembered for the thrilling performances it gave at many Legion posts while under his direction as captain. Hundreds of Legion posts to this day regard the ritual team of Post 54 as one of the most impressive units ever organized.

JOINS STATE UNIT

In 1949 he dropped all his Legion appointments except that of service officer of post activities to campaign for the office of commander of the American Legion, Department of Michigan. He was unanimously elected and became the second World War II veteran to hold that post.

As department commander, he covered nearly 40,000 miles in the "Water Wonderland" state in the interests of the American Legion. His accomplishments included the alerting of Legionnaires and their friends in the defense of veterans' benefits.

At the end of his year as Michigan commander, he told Mrs. Wagner he had done all he had promised his friends; that he was ready to put his shoulder to the wheel at the law office of Wagner, Wagner and Wagner. But in 1952, the Grand Rapids convention delevates endorsed him for national vice commander.

NATIONAL CONVENTION

The national convention was held in New York where Add won hands down. He became a national vice commander on the team of the 1952-53 national commander, Lewis K. Gough from California.

Once again his father and sister took over the reigns of the Wagner law firm while Add began another phase of his Legion career. This took him into other states and territories outside the limits of Michigan and found him talking national affairs to thousands of Legionnaires and citizens of America.

As a member of Gough's team, Add's quiet persuasiveness, even temper, unruffled countenance and brilliant oratory gained him acclaim of Legionnaires in many states. The applause thundered into Michigan and back to National Headquarters where it was said Add Wagner was one of the most effective and popular representatives.

BOOM FOR COMMANDER

In his home town of Battle Creek, Legionnaires hearing and listening to this acknowledgment sat down and did some serious thinking. To have a Legionnaire in their midst of the caliber of national commander, signified a long-cherished dream come true.

Floating a few trial balloons around Michigan Legion circles, this small group of Legionnaires from the third district discovered Add was a popular choice—if he would accept the endorsement.

The committee came right to the point: "Add," they said, "we want you to run for national commander."

This was the Big Assignment. He accepted to permit an embryo steering committee to move into action.

STATEWIDE CLIMAX

The climax of his statewide campaign came in Detroit Sunday, Aug. 2, when 1,999 delegates to the 35th annual state American Legion Convention pledged their support.

Should he attain the national commander's honored spot, he would become the spokesman for nearly three million organized veterans of three wars—more adults than there were in the entire nation when George Washington was president.

As National Legion commander, Wagner would inherit a position mandated to support programs in the fields of agriculture, foreign relations, military preparedness, underprivileged children, junior baseball, security of the aged, the rehabilitation of disabled, civil service, the federal budget, anti-communism work, educational curricula in schools, housing, medical and hospital services, nation-wide employment, civil defense—to name but a few.

TOUGH JOB

It's a tough job and an important one. You've got to be prepared to handle the thousand-and one assignments.

But Michigan and Legionnaires in other states are confident that Add Wagner was the man for the job. When he is elected, Add will bring prestige and honor to a state which has been similarly honored only twice in 35 years of Legion history.

"Maybe some day," wistfully says Mrs. Wagner, "we might have a lawyer named Add Wagner back in the firm of Wagner, Wagner and Wagner." A full-time husband and father to wear out the slippers she gave him at a testimonial dinner in Battle Creek when she said in presenting them, "It will be so nice to have a man around the house."

Police Hunting Artist in Scout's Murder

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Police say a former Chicago artist has been identified as the man who was seen talking to an Evanston Boy Scout shortly before the youngster was slain more than three months ago.

Peter Gorham, 12, disappeared July 5 from Camp Wabaningo near Muskegon, Mich., and presumably was killed that day. His body was found Aug. 14.

Detective Albert Swanson said yesterday the artist, whom he did not name, was identified from a photograph by Mrs. Elsie Farrell, the last person known to have seen Peter alive.

Mrs. Farrel said he was the man she saw in a blue car talking to Peter on a highway near the camp, Swanson said.

Investigation has revealed that the artist flew to Muskegon July 4 and rented a car, telling rental agency personnel he was going to visit a nephew at a Boy Scout camp.

The artist returned the car July 6, paid for it with a bad check and disappeared, Swanson said.

The detective said authorities in Auburn, Maine, are seeking the artist in connection with the murder of a Boy Scout near Auburn last year.

Fearing an end to the quinine (cinchona bark) trade as the world conquers malaria, growers in India's Darjeeling district are seeking other medicinal plants to grow.

Hospital Lends Safety to Age-Old Miracle of Birth

Mrs. Anton Meduna of Edgefield drive is received in the admitting office of Pontiac General Hospital by nurse Mrs. Jack Lanway of South Tasmania avenue. She arrived at the hospital Wednesday, Oct. 5, at 3:35 a.m. and was taken to the lying-in section of the hospital.

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderworp

Photographed just two minutes after her birth is Pamela Lynne Meduna. The baby was born Oct. 5 at Pontiac General Hospital. Dr. James Gell, attending physician, holds the infant for approval by the new mother, Mrs. Anton Meduna. The anesthetist is Nola Blair, R.N. Assisting Dr. Gell was the house physician, Dr. Meredith Keller.

Circulating nurse Irene Barnes, R.N., received the baby from Dr. Gell seconds later to make the footprints and to place the bracelet bearing the identification on her arm. A similar bracelet was then placed on the mother's arm.

Press Watches Arrival of Pamela Lynne Meduna

Observes the Modern Management of Childbirth at Pontiac General

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE

The call came at 3 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 5. In a sleepy voice, Shirley Dovre, administrative assistant at Pontiac General Hospital, was saying, "Mrs. Clemence, our patient just called . . . she is in labor."

This was our cue. The photographer was to be called and we soon were to be on our way to the hospital to learn something about modern management of childbirth.

Our patient, 20-year-old Mrs. Anton Meduna (nee Julia Ann Allen) of Edgefield drive, arrived at the hospital at 3:25 a.m. After having been received in the admitting office of the hospital, she was taken to the lying-in section.

It was here that she learned just how helpful the nursing staff at Pontiac General Hospital can be. She was naturally somewhat frightened (her husband is in Houston, Tex., where he is an accounting student at the University of Houston).

Mrs. Meduna told us that her husband had been home on the previous weekend and they had hoped so much that their baby would be born then.

And nurses, trained in matters such as these, set about to make her feel as secure as possible.

They encouraged her to relax and to ask questions at any time. If there was anything she did not understand, she had only to ask, they told her. Shortly afterwards she was saying that she didn't feel frightened at all — she knew she would be well taken care of.

PROGRESS WATCHED

During the period of labor the patient was seen by her obstetrician, Dr. James Gell, as well as the resident physician and the intern. Complete records were made of her progress, and it was determined by her physician when she should be taken to the delivery room.

She decided, with the advice of her doctor, to have a saddle block which permitted her to remain awake during the entire delivery.

At this point we were taken into the utility room where we watched Mrs. Louise Ozbun, a practical nurse, prepare basin sets which are used in the delivery room. We also watched her attend the autoclave where instruments are sterilized in preparation for the physician's use.

Then we were given "scrub gowns" which covered us completely, and we were all set to await the birth of Mrs. Meduna's first baby.

Pamela Lynne was born at 2:23 p. m. Wednesday afternoon and she had her first photograph taken at 2:25 p. m.

BABY FOOTPRINTED

Dr. Gell, after showing the baby to the proud new mother, handed her to the circulating nurse, Miss Irene Barnes, who immediately took the baby's footprints, slipped the bracelet bearing the identification number on her arm and then placed the infant in the heated incubator kept in the delivery room.

The mother was also given a bracelet bearing this same identification number.

Moments later Pamela Lynne was being wheeled with her mother down the corridor leading to the nursery. Here she was weighed in at 6 pounds, 8½ ounces and then placed in her own tiny bassinet.

Mrs. Meduna's recovery was rapid and on Monday morning we found her attending a class in which new mothers are shown how to bathe and care for their babies. The class was conducted by Mrs. Frances Jewell, supervisor of obstetrics.

On the day that Mrs. Meduna left the hospital she was radiant. Her eyes told us how happy she was with her first baby, but we couldn't resist asking her how it felt to be a mother. "It's wonderful," she said.

Guest From Flint Talks to Fellowship

Mrs. Alex Fraser of Flint, state president of the Christian Women's Fellowship, was guest speaker of the Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church recently.

Mrs. Fraser, who was introduced by Mrs. William Hoyt, gave a review of a book, "A Stone Upon His Shoulder," by Helen Butler.

Mrs. William Elam led devotions and hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Brady Adams, Mrs. Allan Hersee, Mrs. Osborne Kissick and Mrs. Leona Hunter.

Pamela Lynne is weighed in the nursery at Pontiac General Hospital. The scales registered 6 pounds, 8½ ounces and she measured 18 inches.

The young mother learns how to bathe her baby properly from obstetrical supervisor Mrs. Frances Jewell. Classes are held each morning for new mothers at Pontiac General Hospital. These patients always are encouraged to ask questions on the care of their babies.

"Isn't she wonderful!" Mrs. Anton E. Meduna exclaims as she holds tiny Pamela Lynne who is just six days old. The proud grandmother is Mrs. Joseph Allen (left) of Edgefield drive. With her stay at the hospital over, Mrs. Meduna bade farewell to Mrs. Lydia Collins (right) of Bigelow road and to the other friends she made at the hospital. Then she turned her thoughts to the time when she and her infant daughter can join Mr. Meduna in Texas.

State's Mothers, Babies Are Safer Today

Women in Michigan today give birth to their children with the highest degree of safety to themselves and their babies ever experienced in the history of the state.

In spite of the ever-rising birth rate, Michigan Department of Health statistics for the past 15 years disclose that since 1940, with more mothers than ever before having their babies in hospitals, the maternal and baby mortality rates have dropped steadily and rapidly.

In 1940 the birth rate statewide was 99,106. Neonatal (infant deaths occurring within 28 days of birth) mortality figures were 2,629, or 26.5 deaths per 1,000 live births.

As the birth rate climbed to the 1954 high of 190,716, the mortality rate dropped to 18.5 deaths per 1,000 live births. The total number of neonatal deaths last year was 3,546.

Even more heartening is the decline in maternal mortality rates from 2.9 deaths per 1,000 live births in 1940 to .4 per 1,000 live births in 1954. The actual number of mothers dying in childbirth in 1940 was 292. In 1954 that number dropped to 94.

The contribution of the hospitals and modern medicine to the declining mortality rate is reflected in a recent survey which shows the tremendous rise in the number of mothers cared for in hospitals throughout the state.

Attic Floor Should Be Soundproof

Handy Man Tells You How to Keep Din at Minimum

As we've said before, it's a lot easier to make noise in the home than it is to hush the sound once it's made.

For example, a small child walking across an ordinary floor can be the reason for plenty of noise in the rooms below.

Actually it isn't all the fault of the child. It's because the floor and floor structure act as a sounding board and amplify and carry even the lightest little footstep.

This can cause a lot of headaches especially when attics are refinished off into additional bedrooms.

The best way to treat an attic floor to prevent it carrying sound is to first cover the rough subfloor boards with sheets of composition board.

The thickness of these boards can be about ½ inch. Composition board is made out of wood or vegetable fibers and is pretty good for deadening sound.

Of course, you can't lay any sort of hardsurfaced flooring over this composition board so it must be covered with something rigid such as plywood or hardboard.

Once this is in place you can go ahead and apply linoleum, asphalt tile, rubber tile, plastic tile or similar floorings and you'll end up with a floor that won't transmit sound very easily.

The other side of the coin is where noises in the rooms below come up through the attic floor to cause a disturbance.

Here the best solution is to apply 1 x 3 inch furring strips over the ceilings of the room below and then apply an acoustical tile over the furring strips.

Remember that when it comes to dealing with noises, you want to always try and absorb the sound or deaden it in the room or area where it originates.

By JANET ODELL
(Pontiac Press Home Editor)

Does your family like a cake that has some texture to it, one that is sort of chewy? Try this Graham Cracker Cake, for which Mrs. Wilson Harbage of Birmingham gives us the recipe.

Sewing, music and photography are three of Mrs. Harbage's hobbies. The church group to which she belongs makes doll clothes throughout the year.

GRAHAM CRACKER CAKE
By Mrs. Wilson Harbage

½ cup shortening
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
⅞ cup sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
1 cup milk
1½ cups graham cracker crumbs

Blend shortening, salt and vanilla. Add sugar and cream well. Add egg yolks and beat. Sift dry ingredients and cracker crumbs. Add alternately with the milk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a greased pan 35 minutes in a 350-degree oven.

This makes a 9x13-inch cake. It keeps well and freezes well.

One of Every 12 Children to Enter Mental Institute

CHICAGO (INS)—The Surgeon General of the United States Health Service has declared that at present rates "one out of every 12 children will spend some time in a mental institute."

Dr. Leonard Scheele made the statement at the fifth national conference on physicians and schools, sponsored by the American Medical Association, and held in the Chicago suburb of Highland Park.

Also speaking at the conference were Samuel Brownell, commissioner in education in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; Mrs. Rollin Brown, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and Dr. George F. Lull, secretary-general manager of the A.M.A.

All of the leaders stressed the need for more home and community projects and emphasis on mental health and accident prevention to improve the health of the nation's school children.

Dr. Scheele pointed out that among children five to 14, "40 per cent of all deaths are due to accidents."

FIVE-POINT PROGRAM

The surgeon general said the Department of Health, Education and Welfare feels it is time to say what specific help the federal agency can give states and local communities in health problems.

Dr. Lull outlined a five-point program for improving school health. These included: (1) Accident prevention program and procedures to meet emergencies at school (2) Preventive work in mental health (3) Discovery and care of children with health problems (4) Teaching community health in schools (5) Interpretation of health needs and services to parents and other adults in the community.

Major improvements resulting from cooperation among educators and health specialists were listed by Dr. Brownell. These included:

Gains in coverage of school health services, better health education for teachers, higher standards in lighting, sanitation and other health facilities, and expanded knowledge of how children grow and learn.

Mrs. Brown stressed that "health really is everyobdy's business" but that a good health program must have public approval.

Among health program improvements suggested by the PTA leader were "insurance for athletic program participants" and "better athletic programs for girls."

About 15 per cent of Americans 18 to 21 years old were attending college in 1940 as compared with the present rate of about 25 per cent.

Nation's Chief Executive Is 65 Years Old Today

Dwight D. Eisenhower: President, Soldier, Statesman

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS before suffering his heart attack, the President appeared hale and hearty as he returned to the Summer White House at Lowry Air Force Base near Denver. He was fresh from a four-day fishing trip at Fraser, Colo. Papers he is carrying are the disarmament proposals sent him by Russian Premier Bulganin. Later he played 27 holes of golf.

WEST POINT CADET in 1911. Ike graduated 61st in '15 class of 164. Class included Generals Bradley, VanFleet, McNarney.

IN WORLD WAR ONE he became a temporary lieutenant colonel, commanding Camp Colt, Gettysburg, Pa., a tank-training post.

RUNNING MATES, General Eisenhower, Richard Nixon, and their wives, Mamie, right, and Pat, wave to the crowd outside a Chicago hotel, following their nomination to head the GOP ticket. Ike insisted that a young man be named as his running mate and the youthful Californian Nixon was the convention's choice. Ike defeated "Mr. Republican" Ohio's Sen. Bob Taft on the first ballot; Taft was later to become one of the President's strongest supporters in the halls of Congress.

THE INFECTIOUS EISENHOWER SMILE worked wonders with friend and foe alike. His warm personality and charm enabled him to roll up the greatest popular vote in the history of United States presidential elections. As Soldier-President-Statesman, Eisenhower followed a creed of firmness tempered by kindness, and his ready smile testified strongly for his kindness.

FLAIR FOR DIPLOMACY began to emerge during the years 1935-1940 when, as aide to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines, Major Eisenhower helped plan the defense of the islands. Their relationship gradually cooled to the point where it was called a "feud." But when Ike visited his old boss in Tokyo after V-E day, the comrades-in-arms greeted each other like old friends.

ONE STAR GENERAL in 1942. Ike as a colonel and chief of staff of the Third Army planned and "won" the big war games of '41 in Louisiana, earning promotion to brigadier general and assignment to the Pentagon. In June of '42, Gen. George Marshall, then Chief of Staff handed Ike the job of bossing the ETO.

JANUARY 20, 1953, Dwight David Eisenhower, the man who had advanced from one-star general to five stars in less than two years, was inaugurated as the 34th President of the United States. Some 41 years earlier Ike had left Abilene, Kan., to attend West Point Military Academy because it was a chance to play some more football. Administering the oath of office is Supreme Court Chief Justice Fred Vinson. Holding the Bible, center, is Harold Willey, Supreme Court clerk. An estimated 125,000 persons massed on the Capitol's East Plaza to watch.

THE KOREAN WAR was still on when Ike won the election. As President-elect he toured the Korean front for a firsthand look. During his tour he stopped to have lunch with his old outfit, the 15th regiment of the Third Division. His luncheon companion is Sgt. Jack Hutcherson of Frankford, Mo. In July, 1953, the fighting ended when Ike approved the terms of the Korean armistice. Again Ike tackled the job of getting the boys home.

GOLFS WITH GRANDSON — President Eisenhower, during the early part of his work-play vacation at Denver, visited Fraser, Colo., where he was joined by his grandson, David. While teaching David the finer points of golf the President seems to add a bit of "body English" to the boy's swing.

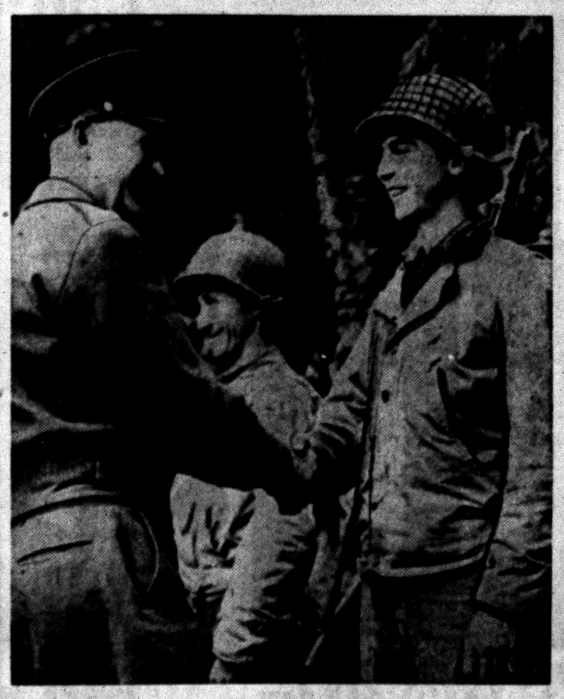

A HERO'S WELCOME was accorded Ike when he returned to the U. S. in November of 1945. Hundreds of thousands turned out for a ticker-tape reception in New York City, and here, General Eisenhower waves to the crowd from in front of the City Hall. Shortly after his return he succeeded General Marshall as Chief of Staff. In that post he devoted great time and effort to putting the Army back on a peacetime basis and getting the soldiers home.

WHERE PRESIDENT CONVALESES — This view of the new buildings at Fitzsimons Army Hospital near Denver was made shortly after President Eisenhower was taken to the hospital for treatment. The President's suite is immediately back of where flag is flying—in next to top tier of windows in tower part of building at left center.

AFTER THIRTY-EIGHT years of Army service, Eisenhower in October, 1948 became president of Columbia University. In December, 1950, Ike was back in uniform as head of SHAPE with headquarters in France. In 1952, he asked to be relieved of his command.

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF of the Allied Forces in Europe, Ike congratulates Sgt. Richard J. Gallagher of Brooklyn, after awarding him the Distinguished Service Cross in ceremonies at Normandy. Ike felt close to his men, often remarking that the real heroes of the war were the GI Joe's and the enlisted men of the other Allied armies. From D-Day, June 6, 1944, until May 8, 1945, when Germany quit, Ike was all over Europe.

WEDDING PORTRAIT—Lt. Dwight David Eisenhower posed with his bride, the former Mamie Geneva Dowd, after marriage in Denver, Colo., July 1, 1916.

Oregon Farmer Shepherds Twelve Korean Adoptees

TOKYO (AP)—Harry Holt, 50, a grizzled pied piper from Oregon, shepherded 12 Korean-American babies through crowded Tokyo International airport today to a plane taking them to new homes in the United States.

Of the 12, eight have been adopted by Holt a bushy - browed rancher and sawmill owner who has been in Korea since June completing arrangements.

Four of the children will be adopted by three other American families.

The children range in age from 8-month-old Betty to Joe, 3½.

RUNNING NOSES

Some were carried by newsmen, customs officials and passengers. Others toddled uncertainly, threatening every minute to get lost.

Their faces were streaked with tears and their noses were running, defying the best efforts of Holt, a nurse and cooperating passengers to mop them fast enough.

"I count them every so often to make sure they are all here," Holt said, wearily reaching an arm out to corral 3-year-old Christine.

HAS BIG FAMILY

Holt has five daughters and one son of his own, who will help his wife Bertha bring up the eight newcomers on their 350-acre ranch outside of Creswell, Ore.

Holt continued:

"My daughters can't wait until this kids get there. As long as we've been blessed with so much room and such a good place to play and our own kids are grown up, I said to my wife recently, 'let's raise another family.'

"She said, 'Okay, we have room for eight.'"

Most of the tots in Holt's flock are brown-haired and range from fair skin to chocolate-colored Lee Young Sun, a 3-year-old girl who is being adopted by an American Negro family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Franklin of Benton Harbor, Mich.

Two children are being adopted by the Rev. and Mrs. William Collier of Portland, Ore. Another is going to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hobbs, Corpus Christi, Tex.

Scholarships Announced

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. announced its sixth annual competition for four-year college scholarships among children of Ford employes. Seventy scholarships are given each year through the Ford fund.

Bob Considine Says:

Main Engine Now Ready to Carry Satellite

CINCINNATI (INS) — The primary engine of the titanic three-stage rocket that will hurl a football-sized satellite into space a couple of years hence is now ready.

It has been tested dozens of times and on at least eight occasions raised the bulky Army rocket Hermes to undisclosed heights.

It was built at the nearby Evandale plant of General Electric and averages much more than 30,000 pounds of thrust, or horsepower, during its two or three minutes in operation — the power of about 125 Cadillacs, Lincolns, Imperials and Packards with their motors racing full tilt.

It waits for the mammoth foll which the Glenn L. Martin Co. of Baltimore will build around it. Exhaust stacks and various vents and doo-dads which will enable the huge rocket to hold a correct course during the initial lift, or assume one chosen by the men at the controls on the ground, are ready and waiting.

The probe of interplanetary space has perhaps passed the most important step.

GE's engine, curiously enough, is not a new one. It has been around for a couple of years, as if searching for a stroke of breath-taking vision. The decision to launch an instrument-packed pellet in space, to circle the earth every hour and a half (at 18,000 M.P.H.) was right down the alley of the Hermes' engine.

DIET TO BE DECIDED

The voraciously hungry engine, made of metals better and harder than those that took the inferno heat of the Nazis' V2 rocket, has not yet been prescribed a liquid diet. It can bellow efficiently on several fuels. Research in that department will continue until the rest of the rocket takes form.

The Hermes engine will be the workhorse of the historic rocket, the low man on a bizarre totem pole. It must lift aside from itself, many tons of fuel encased in its own frame, the engine and fuel and gear and hide of the slightly lesser rocket attached just above it, and the ditto of the still lesser rocket that will sit on top of the second section.

It is out of this third rocket that the tiny statellite will be shot into airless space about 250 miles above the earth. There, after, until the little man-made moon runs out of momentum or collides with an asteroid, you may be able to catch a glimpse of it just before sun-up and sun-down each day.

You'll be able to see it because it is going to be polished until the sun will be absolutely flattered to bounce a ray off it.

Actually, a whole series of little moons will be launched by us, not just one. There is some debate among the seriuos young rocket and jet men at GE as to their proposed colors and characteristics.

Some seem to feel that there's a chance the Russians are telling the truth when they say they're well along with their own satellite plans. Sounds like a celestial traffic jam.

Thin space high above us soon may present the general picture of many particles circumnavigating the nucleus of the earth like the prelude to a Walt Disney TV show. The GE men want no ionispheric strays or rustlers.

I went to a dinner of 1,500 of these rocket and jet engineers here the other night. I don't know what I expected, but what I saw wasn't it. These are quiet, everyday types whose only oddity that I could detect was that they have dinner at 5 o'clock.

These are the men who did so much to win the air war over Korea by producing the J47 engine for the F86s whose fine pilots shot MIG15s out of the air in droves.

These are the men who stay with their job, battling Russia with brains when they might be making more elsewhere and be under no frowning security.

These, in short, are men, the ultimate in American scientists.

Biggest Troop Attack

NEW YORK — Some 500 mattress manufacturers are regularly producing supersize mattresses compared with only six such producers as late as the fall of 1954. One leading company makes a 72-by-84-inch mattress and another manufacturer reports receiving requests for round mattresses.

Kefauver Fans Fixing Up Office as Headquarters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Painters have put finishing touches on a spanking new five-room office suite that its occupants hope will become national headquarters in a Kefauver-For-President drive.

On the eighth floor of one of Washington's newest buildings—the Pennsylvania building within sight of the White House—the office has been leased by an attorney and a businessman who has been active in radio-television construction and operation.

Both William Roberts, the attorney, and Lou Poller, the businessman, emphasize that the office was opened without the formal approval of Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn).

"Kefauver hasn't announced his intentions," said Roberts, "but a lot of people, including us, think that Kefauver ought to be president."

Opening of the office was reported in this morning's Chattanooga (Tenn) Times in a dispatch by the newspaper's correspondent, Charles Bartlett.

Mister, this is where we came in

Our customer was photographed taking a look "down under" at one of our used cars that he liked.

Matter of fact, we encouraged him to do so—even though we could have honestly said: "Mister, this is where we came in." Because we had already thoroughly inspected the car. Then we reconditioned it for safety, value and performance. That's our job as Chevrolet dealers. That's why our top-condition cars carry the red OK tag and are backed in writing—with our own signature on the warranty you get.

You'd think that the price tag on cars processed like this would be higher, wouldn't you? Fact is, prices are low because we Chevrolet dealers maintain a fast turnover to make more room for trade-ins on brand-new Chevrolets, and are able to pass volume savings on to you. And because of the popular demand for new Chevrolets, your choice of makes and models is greater than ever!

Work to Begin on New School

Site Located North of Milford on 60 Acres of Land

MILFORD — Construction work on the new, $1,250,000 high school should begin in late January, according to Harold Hansen, superintendent o fthe Huron Valley School system.

Court battle regarding the right-of-way onto the property has been settled, architectural working plans are on the drawing board and bids for the school will be asked about the first of the year, Hansen said.

Residents in the area voted to name the school Milford High, instead of the suggested Huron Valley High School, at the June election.

The new school will be constructed about a mile north of Milford on the Milford road on a 60 acre tract of land owned by J. D. Drake.

A $2,180 p.a. system will be installed at the Highland Elemenary School by the Jenson Co. of Flint in the near future by authorization of the Huron Valley School Board at last night's meeting.

There will be 32 speakers installed, one for each classroom, one in the cafeteria and boiler room and two large speakers in the auidtorium.

Hansen was authorized by the Board to take bids on two more 60-passenger buses, bringing the total fleet to 31 to cover the hundred square mile school district.

Check Auto Policy; New Law in Effect

LANSING (AP) — Michigan motorists were warned to make certain their auto insurance policies comply with a stiffer financial responsibility law which went into effect today.

State Insurance Commr. Joseph A. Navarre said that some insurance companies have agreed to give their policyholders the additional coverage automatically — but that each motorist should check with his insurance company to be sure he was protected.

The new law requires motorists to guarantee $10,000 instead of $5,000 for bodil injury or death of one person in any one accident and $20,000 instead of the old $10,000 for injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident. The minimum property damage responsibility has been upped from $1,000 to $5,000.

The new law also requires a motorist to make a separate report to the secretary of state if he has an auto accident causing more than $100 damage. Previously, he had to report only once to police, but now he must report twice.

$250 Damage Caused in Keego Home Fire

WEST BLOOMFIELD—Fire gutted the home of Raymond Reiche of 2267 Pine Lake Ave., Keego Harbor at 11:35 last night.

Ex-Cell-O, Union Agree, but Walkout Continues

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers Union and the Ex-Cell-O Corp. said today agreement had been reached on company-wide issues in their new contract but the month-old strike is continuing.

Both sides planned to set up talks on local issues—which still are prolonging the strike—and federal and state mediators said prospects appear bright for a settlement.

Ex-Cell-O has four plants — in Detroit and Traverse City, Mich., and Lima and Fostoria, Ohio. In all, the firm employs about 5,000 workers, some 3,500 of them in Detroit.

Legislature Set to Meet Nov. 1

Williams Calls Special Session to Discuss Big Highway, Mental Plans

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams formally called the Michigan Legislature to meet in special session at 10 a.m. Nov. 1 for three major programs.

He asked the legislators to improve traffic safety on the highways, making his request so broad that almost any suggestion out of his own 14-point program could be considered.

In special sessions the Legislature is limited to the matters specified in the governor's call. Williams also asked for action to provide housing for mentally retarded children waiting admission to state hospitals.

Included was authority for local own facilities to the state, a provision requested by Oakland County officials who proposed selling their County Tuberculosis Sanitorium to the state.

The third major proposal was for a $200 a year pay increase for public school teachers.

State Cracking Down on Meat Law Violators

LANSING (AP)—The State Agriculture Department started a crackdown today on meat packers who use artificial preservatives in ground meat.

Miles Nelson, chief of the department's marketing and enforcement division, said violations of state food laws concerning preservatives have increased sharply.

"We made a check in the Port Huron area and found preservatives in seven out of eight samples taken," he said. "We will prosecute in each case."

Over one half of the convictions obtained by the department for violations of food laws last month were for illegally adding benzoate of soda or other preservatives to ground meat, Nelson said.

State Planning to Hit Pollution

Meeting for Discussion of Sewage Treatment on Clinton Scheduled

The state plans to crack down on Clinton River pollution, it was indicated last night.

In a letter sent to the City Commission, the State Water Resources Commission said it questioned the adequacy of sewage treatment facilities to protect the Clinton River against pollution.

It said a meeting has been scheduled in Detroit for Oct. 27 with Pontiac, Keego Harbor, Rochester and Utica officials to discuss the matter "before taking official action."

Identical letters were sent to officials of the other three communities. Copies also went to the health departments of Oakland and Macomb counties and the Michigan Health Dept.

Chairman Milton P. Adams, who signed the letter, said the action came about "as a result of recent staff investigations."

Twice in recent months, Utica has been without drinking water as a result of chromium wastes contaminating the Clinton, from which that city draws its municipal supply.

In the most recent case, the source was traced to a Pontiac industrial plant. Blame was not established in the first case, although the chrome was known to have entered the river from the Pontiac sewer system.

Ex-Coolie Heads Jap Socialists

Elect Stern U.S. Critic Chief of Powerful New Political Party

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese who once pulled a rickshaw for a living and who is a stern critic of the United States today became head of the powerful new Socialist party in Japan.

Slender, scholarly Mosaburo Suzuki was elected chairman of the new Socialist party at a convention that welded into one bloc the left and right wings which had been divided over policy since 1951.

The 62-year-old Suzuki predicted in an interview his forces will win 200 seats in the next election — perhaps next spring. They now have 155 votes in the 467-seat lower house of the Diet dominated by Conservatives.

"And in the following election," he said, "we will win a majority."

Suzuki has been called an anti-American but he denies it.

Suzuki is widely accepted as a man of integrity and honesty but critics say he works much too close to the Communist line.

Suzuki will argue at length to the contrary about the latter. He calls communism "undemocratic."

Suzuki says his biggest complaint about the United States is "America's attitude of ignoring Japanese aspirations for real independence."

So he wants to see the mutual defense and economic assistance ties with the United States cut as rapidly as possible.

John Sulaica, Jr., 12, of 248 W. Columbia Ave., was treated for lacerations of the head and released from Pontiac General Hospital yesterday afternoon.

Sulaica's bicycle was struck by a car driven by floyd L. Wilson, 59, of Drayton Plains, on Kennett road at Hollywood Avenue. Wilson said the boy turned in front of him, and he was unable to avoid hitting him.

Romeo Board Discusses Land Parcels

ROMEO — Enrollment and the needs of the school district will be discussed by the Romeo Board of Education and administrators at a special meeting to be held at 4 p.m. next Wednesday afternoon.

At last night's regular meeting Supt. T. C. Filppula reported on various sites in the district he had investigated during the past week.

He described three parcels of land now available including 30 acres on the northwest corner of Schooley and VanDyke Roads owned by James Burlison Sr. Another parcel is 20 acres on Sisson Street near 30 Mile Road owned by William Scott, and the last is a piece of property on Campground Road also near 31 Mile Road. A parcel of land in Hillcrest Orchard is also under consideration as well as other sites, not yet investigated.

The purchase of additional playground equipment for three of the elementary schools at a cost of $698.95 was okayed by the board.

A committee of superintendents of Macomb County are reported studying the Oakland County Special Education program, according to Supt. Filppula.

Payments Recalled by Utica City Officials

UTICA —A total of $1,481 paid to persons who submitted bills for services during recent water pollution in suburban Utica has been called back by the town's City Council.

The Council took the action in a special meeting yesterday. The money came in a check from Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors Corp., which said it accidentally threw chromium wastes into a river that supplies Utica with water.

The check was cashed and the money given to those claiming it instead of first being deposited in the city treasury.

The Council called the money back in protest to a $500 payment to Councilman George A. Albrecht for his services as chairman of the City Water Board. Albrecht said the money compensated him for time lost on his regular job during the pollution crisis.

Mayor Donald Havel said the refunded money will be put on the city's books and given back to everyone except Albrecht.

The Council has denied giving approval for a $500 payment to Albrecht. Havel said Albrecht must present an itemized bill for approval of the Council. Albrecht previously refused to return a part of the money.

Orders Permit in Lathrop Case

Judge Doty Tells City to Issue Building Order to Pure Oil Co.

LATHRUP—Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty yesterday ordered Lathrup City to issue a building permit to the Pure Oil Products Co. of Michigan.

In a written opinion, Judge Doty favored the firm's contention it should be allowed to build a gas station at the northeast corner of Glenwood and Southfield Rds.

The city had refused to issue the permit, hoping to close its Southfield frontage to anything other than residential and professional-office-building construction.

Attorneys for the oil company were Glenn C. Gillespie and James G. Hartrick. Southfield was represented by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore and Everett Hayes.

Lie Tests Scheduled in $1,000 Store Theft

ROYAL OAK—One thousand dollars is missing from the Kinsel Drug Co., 3224 North Woodward, and the 14 employes are being asked to take a lie detector test.

The money, contained in seven bags and placed in a drawer, was taken sometime between 9 and 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The loss was discovered by store manager Ray Moss.

Royal Oak detectives stated they believe the robbery to be an "inside job."

Admiral Who Ordered War's First Shot, Visits

By MAUDE S. MARTIN
Metamora Correspondent

METAMORA—The man who ordered the first shot fired in World War II, Rear Admiral Edwin Gaines Fullenwider, with Mrs. Fullenwider, of Washington, D.C., were guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Coleman of Thornville.

Today, 14 years later, Admiral Fullenwider distinctly remembers the vivid details of that morning of Dec. 7, 1941—

On that date he was commanding a flotilla of destroyers on patrol off Pearl Harbor. He stated they were operating under a war alert, and had instructions to fire on any enemy ships in that area. They had been told that war could start at any time, but none of them thought it would be in that area. The Philippines seemed to be the most likely spot, which would be hit first.

Early that morning the destroyer Ward spotted the periscope of a Jap two-man submarine. Admiral Fullenwider ordered the attack. With depth charges and gunfire the Ward soon sank the submarine. That was about 6 a.m. on Dec. 7.

A coded message was sent immediately to the commandant at Pearl Harbor, which is when the "foul-up" started. The historian, Adm. Morison, in his "Naval History of World War II" says the initial delay was caused by a not-very-smart yeoman who took twice as long as usual to decode the message.

Adm. Fullenwider says that when the officer-in-charge got the message he was in the midst of his Sunday morning shave. He could not believe it, or else he wanted to spar for time. Anyhow, he asked for a repeat, and a verification from the Ward. By that time the Ward was very busy again, hunting down other possible submarines in the area.

The request for a repeat on the message was consequently delayed.

BOMBERS COME

Meanwhile, back at Pearl Harbor, the officer who first received word about the sub sinking, decided to notify Admiral Kimmel. By that time it was 7:25 a.m.

Admiral Kimmel said he would go right down to Pearl Harbor. While he was on his way, the Jap bombers came in and caught two-thirds of the Pacific fleet like "sitting ducks." There might have been over an hour's warning if the Ward's first message had been acted upon promptly.

The attack came on a particularly bad Sunday, which was luck for the Japs. For weeks two-thirds of the fleet was always at sea, and only a third at Pearl Harbor at any one time, related Fullenwider.

But this particular weekend, a shortage of personnel, food and supplies made it advisable to keep two-thirds of the fleet in the harbor. It was the first Sunday this situation existed and the Japs had no way of knowing about it.

Tragic World War II followed.

"On The Spot" Relief For Acid Indigestion

NURSES AID — Science has come up with this answer to the national shortage of hospital nurses. It's a monitor scope which enables one nurse to sit at a desk and look into each room, checking the patients. Images of the rooms rotate on the screen at regular intervals. With switches at left of scope she controls the cameras in the various rooms, and she can talk to the patients through the speaker. A patient can have privacy by switching off the camera and speaker in his room. The device was shown recently at the American Hospital Show in Atlantic City, N. J.

Historic Cabin Will Be Razed

Kalamazoo Citizens Fail to Raise Enough Funds for Restoration

KALAMAZOO (INS) — Hopes looked fatally dim today for the preservation and restoration of a century-old Michigan log cabin—the childhood home of a Spanish-American War hero, the victor at the "Battle of Santiago."

Lack of some $20,000 to right the wrong done by time and termites apparently will cause the walls to come tumbling down in six weeks in the boyhood home of General William Rufus Shafter, commander of American land forces in Cuba during the conflict in 1898.

The dismantling date will be Nov. 17—unless a "saviour" dashes onto the scene with sufficient funds to preserve the cabin, built in 1830.

The home and one acre of land, located in Kalamazoo County near Gaylesburg, is owned by the county. Last spring the decision to destroy it was made rather than let it remain in shambles, a disgrace to the memory of the warrior.

When the county board of supervisors announced such plans, the spirit of the General revolted in the form of interested people who protested the destruction of the cabin. "It must not be razed, for history's sake" was the protest.

SIX MONTH DELAY

So the board, without sufficient funds to restore the building, granted a six months respite. If interested parties could make arrangements for funds by Nov. 17, then excellent. If not, the home would be torn down.

The sentiment has not yet turned into money.

And today, Mrs. Cornelia Robinson, chairman of the county board, said "the interested parties have indicated they can't continue." So at the expiration date, the cabin—replica of life in early America—will be razed.

To restore the building, much withered by age, would cost some $20,000, roughly estimated museum curator Alexis Graus.

Hollywood Headlines:

Silent Film Star to Play Mother of Kirk Douglas

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Gave me quite a turn when I was told that Madge Kennedy is playing Kirk Douglas' mother in "Lust for Life," the Van Gogh story for MGM.

My mind went back to Fort Lee, N. J., where Madge and Mae Marsh were top screen stars for Samuel Goldwyn. In the old days Madge was a real beauty and so popular.

Twenty years ago she married William Haney, a stage director now associated with TV. She's been so happy in this marriage that she's accepted only an occasional role on stage and screen. Her last was in "Pfft" with Judy Holiday. The years have treated her kindly.

GROWNUP MAGGIE

At Chasen's the other evening, Margaret O'Brien and her mother were having dinner with Margaret's director, David Butler. Dave came over to my table and told me that Maggie's first adult picture, "Glory," proves her a delightful young actress with warmth charm and an excellent singing voice.

"All the sensitiveness Margaret had as a 6-year-old is retained," said Dave, "and she has added the sort of poise you associate more with a debutante than a girl who has grown up in the picture business."

Looking at Margaret, I thought again what a beauty she is. Dave has signed her on a long-term contract, and I think he is very wise. I believe young Maggie is destined to become one of our important adult stars.

I've heard from Vic Mature, who ran away from London to New York before he finished "Safari" because he said he wanted a bath and hadn't been given a room.

I suspect the real reason Vic ran away was to see his mother who is very ill in Lady of Peace Hospital in Louisville. He's very good to her, and one of the nicest things about Vic is his devotion to his mother.

FROM FLOP TO FILM

"The Fragile Fox," despite good performances by Dane Clark and Don Taylor, was an outright flop on Broadway last spring. But this hasn't kept Robert Aldrich from buying the film rights to the play and saying that it can be made into a warm film in the category of "Battle Cry" or "To Hell and Back."

Snaps: Aldo Ray and Jeff Donnell have reached a cooling-off period in recent talks together. Although no legal steps have been taken, they're still far from a reconciliation.

Dennis Morgan will play host to his first singing teacher, Miss Nellie Kelly of Prentice, Wis., who is making a visit to Hollywood.

Jeff Chandler, who made five films in a row this yer, merits three solid months of freedom—his first vacation in years. What's he going to do? Stay right home with Marge and the children; that's all he wants, he says, proving how solid is the reconciliation between the Chandlers.

Milton Rackmil (Mr. Decca Records, to you) had his first date when he arrived in town with TV actress Joyce Jordan at Chasen's.

Same night, same place, Alfred Hitchcock gave a party for Rocky and Gary Cooper; Gloria and Jimmy Stewart and Joan Harrison.

Moonshiner Blames Whole Mess on Mom

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Joseph Lee Greenwell told Federal court yesterday he had nothing to do with operating a moonshine still.

He just went there to get a drink for his aged mother, he said. And while there, adedd the 36-year-old Greenwell, he was arrested after "taking a couple for myself."

His sentence: a year and a day in a Federal penitentiary for operating the still.

If all the iron ore, coal and limestone consumed by the steel industry in one year were placed in railroad cars and coupled together, the vast train would be 38,228 miles long.

Impeachment Hinted in Quiz

Senators Want to Turn Microphone Case Over to House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Eastland (D-Miss) and Jenner (R-Ind) left a hint of impeachment today in the wake of an investigation into the "eavesdropping" on jury deliberations as part of a research project.

They proposed turning a transcript of the hearings over to the House Judiciary Committee, saying they thought their own Senate Internal Security subcommittee "being a part of the Senate, could not properly inquire into the official conduct of a federal judge."

Any impeachment proceeding must originate in the House, although it would be tried in the Senate. Eastland declined however to say whether that was what he and Jenner were hinting at or to elaborate in any way on their statement. It did not refer directly to impeachment.

They called also for legislation "to provide severe punishment" for any such future "invading the privacy of the jury room." A hearing transcript might be useful to a committee considering such legislation.

A University of Chicago research team made recordings of jury proceedings in May 1954 in five or six civil cases in a federal court in Wichita, Kan., presided over by Dist. Judge Delmas Hill. The team placed hidden microphones in the jury room, without letting the jurors know.

Witnesses testified that Judge Hill and Chief Judge Orie Phillips of the 10th Judicial Circuit, embracing Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Kansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, had authorized the recordings under careful safeguards.

In Kansas City, Kan., where he is visiting, Judge Hill declined to comment at this time.

While Eastland and Jenner strongly condemned the "bugging" of the jury room, Paul Kitch, a Wichita corporation lawyer who testified he sold Dean Edward H. Levi of the University of Chicago Law School on the idea, was equally vigorous in defending it.

Widow Pulls Fast One on Hubby's Sweetheart

It seems a little silly to give each hurricane a different girl's name when practically every one is a lulu. S. S. Biddle.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"You should do a column," a man in Boston said, "on 'Stories That Kept Coming Back.'"

"American folklore, you mean?" I asked him.

"I suppose so," nodded Columnist Joe Harrington, of the Boston Post. "People tell you they positively know these stories happened. Take the fellow coming from Los Angeles to New York who saw an ad in Chicago for a practically new Cadillac—only $500.

"It's new to me," I said.

"The fellow who saw the ad," said Joe, "naturally wondered what the catch was. Maybe it was a typographical error. Probably should be $5,000.

So he phoned the number. A woman answered.

"Are you advertising a practically new Cadillac for $500" the man asked her.

"Yes, I am!" she answered quite cheerfully. "Would you like to look at it?"

As Joe told the story, the car was practically new, in good condition, and hadn't been smashed up in any accident. The man wondered if the car could be hot—but the woman lived in a nice neighborhood, in a big house. Somebody had mentioned that her husband had died recently.

Well, the man paid her the $500—still believing it was all a mistake—and just as he was about to drive away, he said to her:

"Could you tell me the story of this car? How the price happened to be $500?"

"Oh, there's no story to it, really," shrugged the woman. "You see, my husband died not long ago while on a business trip to Canada with his red-haired secretary.

SHIRLEY MacLAINE

"My husband and I'd been sort of separated since this red-head started working for him. Under the law, I got my share of the estate and my children got theirs, but my husband left a letter directing that I give the cash from the sale of some of his personal possessions to his secretary. The Cadillac was one of them.

"I don't know much about business," the widow added, with a look that was supposed to be wide-eyed and innocent, "so I just asked the first price that came to mind. Now if you think $500 is too much maybe I could reduce it . . ."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Peggy King (of the Gobel show) started divorce action against husband Knobby Lee in L. A. . . . Boston censors cut three "damns" and some choicer language out of "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" . . . Janet Leigh flew from Africa to Paris to visit Tony Curtis on the "Trapeze" set. Burt Lancaster told Tony, "Kid, take the week off."

Noel Coward's learning a be-bob version of "Deep in the Heart of Texas" for his CBS-TV spectacular . . . Shirley MacLaine was signed by Paramount after her success in Hitchcock's "The Trouble With Harry."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Most of the work in the future will be done by machines, but love will always be man-maid."—Maurice Seitter.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bob Hope mentioned on his TV show that the Russians have finally come up with a new car: "And if it's successful they're going to make another one."

Colorado Town Gets 2-Day Water Famine

DOVE CREEK, Colo. (AP) — This tiny southwest Colorado community of 900 was without an available water supply for two days, but thanks to three upstream farmers it's getting water again.

The Dolores River, from which the town normally receives its water, had gone dry, leaving only a meager supply of moisture in wells.

Schools were closed. There were fears of fire. Health officials warned against hazards of drawing water from old wells.

But water began trickling into the community yesterday, and Mayor Nick Reisovich said things would be back to normal after another day or two.

The mayor said the three upstream farmers are "giving us the water gratis from their own higher priorities, and they promised to keep it coming as long as we need it."

Admits Dope Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 6-foot-2, blonde ex-wife of a Polish nobleman has admitted a heroin possession charge and will be sentenced Nov. 4. Lois Evans, 27, divorced in 1951 from Prince Wladislaw Jerzy Boguslav Radziwill, pleaded guilty yesterday and asked for probation. She faces another narcotics charge stemming from the June 19 raid on her apartment.

Mailboxes Take to Air in Toronto, Injuring 3

TORONTO (AP)—A car and a truck collided yesterday at a busy intersection. The truck bounced away and sheared off two mailboxes.

The flying boxes hit Marianne Thibault and Delores Motta, both 16, and Samuel Ackerman, then continued on through the plate glass window of a drugstore.

Miss Thibault suffered cuts, Miss Motta a broken arm and Ackerman broken ribs and other chest injuries.

Of the 82 legal executions in the United States last year, 45 were in Texas.

MSU Builds Defense Against Powerful Irish Club

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State today wound up its most intensive week of football practice so far this season.

The Spartans have been working like Trojans for the big one coming up Saturday —the annual battle with Notre Dame.

The defense, in particular, has been getting a good going-over because MSU gave up 269 yards on the ground to Stanford last weekend.

"We've been playing close attention to our line and linebackers this week," said coach Duffy Daugherty. "Experience tells us the stuff those Notre Dame backs can throw at us will bust a line."

The offense wasn't neglected, however. Quarterback Earl Morrall, who put on a great passing show last week, has been throwing to a wide assortment of ends.

As a lineup change, Dave Kaiser of Alpena, a transfer from Notre Dame is due to start at end in place of Jim Hinesly, who was injured last week. Hinesly will play, however.

No details were neglected during the week-long grind of practice.

Daugherty even had fullback Jerry Planutis working overtime on his extra point tries. Four of six were missed last week, two because kicks were blocked.

The line also has been rehearsed on the extra point play in hopes it won't give again.

"Maybe I'm an optimist," said Daugherty, "planning on getting to kick for an extra point against the unscored-upon Irish."

For the 1st time of the week yesterday, the squad was allowed to go to the showers a little early. Practice knocked off at 5 p.m.

Only the usual brief warmup workout is planned for this afternoon.

The Notre Dame players will stay at a downtown hotel, marking the 1st time the Irish ever have stayed overnight prior to a game here with Michigan State.

ALL-VICTORIOUS — Here's Pontiac High School's all-victorious five-man top cross-country combination that has continued to stretch one of the longest consecutive dual meet win strings in the state. The team has already added the 36th, and now seeks its 37th victory. From left (top) are Coach Wally Schloerke (who also coaches the state championship track team), Gene Cretal, Rod Treais; lower row, Pete Cox, Perry Williams and Bill Douglas. The last two have finished in a tie for 1st in every meet so far this year. Douglas is state prep half mile champion.

Kramer Tries to Recall Action That Injured Him

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan's Ron Kramer from his hospital bed tried to remember the play that injured him in Saturday's 26-2 victory over a hard-hitting Army team.

Pictures show Kramer cutting crossfield with a bead drawn on Army center-guard Dick Stephenson. Stephenson is aiming for Michigan halfback Terry Barr, four yards ahead. Barr is driving toward the Army goal about 50 yards distant.

Barr made his touchdown after galloping 82 yards with an Army punt. Kramer made his block and Stephenson made news.

"I threw a block at an Army man and caught his elbow or helmet on my chest," Kramer said.

The result is that Kramer, with a bruised chest and possible cracker ribs, may be out for the next two games, Northwestern and Minnesota, but will probably be back for homecoming, Iowa, Oct. 29.

Kramer actually blacked out from the pain on his way out of the stadium. But trainer Jim Hunt thinks the difficulty might have beep a pinched nerve.

Actually the 6-foot-3, 219 pound Kramer left the field unsupported and sat on the bench, seven and a half minutes until halftime. Then he was taken to University Hospital.

Brooks Acquire Seven Players to Bolster Team

Dodgers Still Hang On to Veterans That Won Series Flag

BROKLYN (AP) — The Brooklyn baseball club obtained seven players from farm club affiliates today in a move to strengthen for the 1956 season.

The front office announced the following deals:

First baseman Jim Gentile, pitcher Bill Harris and outfielder Bob Wilson were obtained from Montreal of the International League. In return, Montreal received first baseman Norm Larker, catcher Joe Pignatano and undisclosed cash.

From St. Paul the Dodgers obtained Jasper Spears, a promising shortstop, and catcher Mike Napole in a trade which sent the American Assn. club catcher Dixie Howell and pitcher Joe Landrum.

From Fort Worth in the Texas League, the Dodgers obtained outfielder Dick Williams and third baseman Dick Gray. They sent Fort Worth pitcher Bob Milliken and cash.

Gentile hit 28 home runs and had 109 RBI's for Mobile in the Southern Assn., and Harris chalked up a 13-9 record for Forth Worth while the property of Montreal. Wilson batted .321 in a full season at Montreal, third best in the loop.

Spears is a speedy shortstop who hit 16 home runs and batted .262 at St. Paul. Napole spent the year at Elmira, N.Y., where he batted .276. Williams is a hard-hitting outfielder who batted .316 and hit 24 homers at Fort Worth. Gray batted .250 with the Texas club.

Lane Departs as He Came—Phone in Hand

Chisox Ex-General Manager Recipient of Well Wishes

CHICAGO (AP)—Seven years ago Frank Lane picked up a phone and called Detroit to make a deal for pitcher Billy Pierce.

It was his first player transaction as new general manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Now, 242 deals involving 354 players later, Lane has left to become general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

But he left, as he began, with phone in hand.

Lane tossed a farewell party for his press, radio and television friends yesterday. But he didn't have much of a chance to sit down. The phone in the private dining room of a Loop bistro kept ringing for him.

He wasn't busy making deals. This time it was messages of friendship from these baseball executives: Muddy Ruel of the Detroit Tigers; Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox; Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants; Johnny Quinn of the Milwaukee Braves; Buzzy Bavasi of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and Larry MacPhail, now in retirement. The latter started Lane in baseball years ago when he operated the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Chicago baseball writers presented Lane with a wrist watch engraved with: "To Frantic Frankie from Chicago's frantic scribes, '55."

UM May Test Maentz, Pace in Wildcat Clash

Saturday Game Offers Chance to Use Some Seldom-Seen Players

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Top ranked and unbeaten Michigan may get a chance to show off some seldom-seen wares when the Wolverines set up their football shop for Northwestern's winless Wildcats.

Both end Tom Maentz and halfback Jim Pace haven't had a real chance to perform so far this season.

Maentz has been saddled with a back injury and played only part of last Saturday's Army game. Pace, largely because of his inexperience, has only entered the Wolverine lineup on favorable occasions.

Northwestern is expected to give the Wolverines, this week's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, a chance to expand their offensive talent.

Until now, Michigan has counted long and hard on self-made opportunity in defeating three teams, Missouri, Michigan State and Army.

For their 12 touchdowns so far this season, Michigan has started only one drive in its own territory and that one on the 47-yard line.

Now, with Ron Kramer, Michigan's giant end and top All-American prospect in the hospital with a bruised chest and cracked ribs, the time has come for Michigan to uncover some new offensive strength.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan rates the 6 foot 2, 219-pound Maentz "just a shade behind Kramer." He said all season long that he had "the greatest combination of ends in the nation."

But Maentz played only part time against Army after missing the first two games. He caught one pass for 12 yards and otherwise did little but defensive work.

Pace, a speedy left half from Little Rock, Ark., can change direction almost by turning his head. He's undoubtedly Michigan's shiftiest and most dazzling runner.

With Northwestern's big line only possessed of average speed, they'd better expect a lot of business around their ends from Pace. Michigan probably will rely on this to give some backs like Lou Baldacci and Dave Hill, both playing but hampered with injuries, a needed rest.

Gopher Records Set by 3 Clubs

Robin Gives Up 41 Homers as Cards, A's Set Other Marks

NEW YORK (AP)—Philadelphia's Robin Roberts and the pitching staffs of the St. Louis Cards and the Kansas City A's set gopher ball records in 1955.

Roberts, who worked the most innings in the majors, 305, gave up 41 homers to shatter the previous high of 39. The former standard was set in 1948 by Murry Dickson, then of St. Louis.

Statistics compiled by the Associated Press also disclosed that the Cardinals' pitching staff al-

The Athletics' mound crew allowed 185 homers, shattering the previous record of 179 made by Cincinnati in 1953. St. Louis hurlers also were the most generous in home run offerings in 1954 with 170.

The Athletics' mound crew allowed American League opposition 174 circuit clouts to erase the record of 154 set by the Detroit Tigers in 1953. A year ago when the club franchise was in Philadelphia, the A's also led in gopher serves with 141.

Hoople Goes It Alone, Picks U. of M., Irish

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
(Father of Unbalanced Line)

Great Caesar, folks! I've made an astounding discovery and today I've acted upon it with drastic dispatch. My two assistants, men I have heretofore regarded as above reproach, I've curtly dismissed.

And from now on it will be Hoople, and Hoople alone, scholar, big game hunter, scientist, inventor and explorer, who will make the selections every Saturday.

The two were dismissed because their forecasts were beginning to appear a bit fuzzy, unsupported by indisputable facts such as I use in my calculations. I investigated.

Imagine the astonishment when I found they were being touted by Fenimore "Hot Horse' Duffy, horse track acquaintance, who confused their predictions.

So I have taken over myself. First, it's Michigan over Northwestern 34-0. Then, for another big one in Michigan, I'll name Notre Dame over Michigan State 20-14.

And, for a purely local selection, it's Pontiac over Flint Central (tonight), 19-14.

Now, for the rest of Saturday's predictions:

In the Big 10—Indiana 20, Villanova, 7; Illinois 21, Minnesota 13; Purdue over Iowa (an upset) 14-7; Wisconsin over USC (tonight) 14-7; Duke 14, OSU 6.

Elsewhere:

Colgate 14, Princeton 7; Columbia 20, Harvard 13; Yale 21, Cornell 7; Maryland 21, N. Car. 7; Penn State 14, Navy 7; Pitt 21, Nebraska 7; Okla. 34, Kansas 7; Alabama 14, Tenn. 13; Texas 20, Arkansas 13; Auburn 19, Ga. Tech 14; Baylor 20, Washington 14; Florida 14, LSU 7; Miss. State 20, Kentucky 13; Tulane 14, Miss. 7; SMU 20, Rice 13; TCU 21, Texas A&M 19; Oregon 20, California 14; UCLA 20, Stanford 13.

Jackie, Kellert Have Words Over Plate Call

Dodger Says Teammate Robinson Out at Home in World Series Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A late-sprouting World Series rhubarb has popped up between Jackie Robinson and Frank Kellert—who until last Monday were teammates on the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

Kellert, dealt to the Chicago Cubs by the Brooks, told Sports Editor John Cronley of the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman that Robinson should have been called out when Jackie stole home in the first game of the series.

"Taint so, acording to Robinson. "The decision was right," said Jackie. "I was safe and pictures prove it. But it wasn't vital to the game." The Yanks won it 6-5.

Jack added: "Kellert is entitled to his opinion, but this rehashing casts a reflection on Umpire Bill Summers, who umpired a wonderful series."

Kellert, at bat when Robinson made his dash, said he cloaked the play by standing in tight at the plate, making New York catcher Yogi Berra reach across the plate to make the tag.

Berra made a big squawk over the call, leading his teammates to observe afterward: "When Yogi gripes, Yogi's right."

Lane Thinks Banks Worth $500,000

CHICAGO (AP)—It's no secret that shortstop Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs is regarded among baseball's top players by deal-making Frank Lane, new general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Lane was asked by a reporter if he would give one million dollars for Banks.

"Well, I would scratch my head a little before saying no," Lane stated. "I would give half a million dollars, though."

P.S. Banks is not for sale at any price.

Punt, Pass and Prayer

Young Cleric Proving Triple-Threat All-Time Great at Wheaton College

WHEATON, Ill. (AP)—A young minister is making the punt, pass and prayer work for Wheaton College's unbeaten football team.

The Rev. David Burnham, 21, is one of Wheaton's all-time triple threat greats.

The senior co-captain of the Crusaders, a 6-2, 180-pounder, has gained 274 yards in 18 carries for a 15.1 average in his team's three straight victories.

Burnham, who has totalled nearly 3,000 yards and scored 26 touchdowns while at Wheaton, last summer was ordained to the Independent Baptist Ministry and voted associate pastor of his father's undenominational church in Akron, Ohio.

He also married a Wheaton College cheerleader, Sue Huffman, of South Bend, Ind.

"The football squad meets every Friday night before a game," says Burnham. "We pray for our team as well as for our opponents—we pray for good sportsmanship to prevail, and it does.

"Every time before a kickoff I bow my head for a brief prayer that the Lord will help me. Once the game starts, I haven't much time for a real prayer."

Burnham gives these reasons for his ability as a triple-threat halfback: "My friends and teammates, without whom I would never get beyond the line of scrimmage, and my Heavenly Father, without whom I would not have the strength."

Burnham said he is playing football despite a heart murmur.

"I've had it a long time," he adds. "Some doctors say I can't play football. Some say I can. But I want to play, the Lord willing—and I think he is."

Patterson Gains 8th KO in 1st

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Floyd Patterson, 175, of Brooklyn, N.Y., scored his eighth straight knockout of 1955 at the Olympic Auditorium last night, flattening Cal Brad, 174½, Los Angeles, in 2:58 of the first round. It was a scheduled 10-rounder.

This was Patterson's 26th win in 27 starts, his 18th knockout and he lived up to all his advance notices.

Already listed as the No. 1 contender for Archie Moore's light-heavyweight title, Patterson impressed a crowd of 6,480 fans.

Brad came out in the hope of landing one of his lethal left hooks on Patterson's chin but when the fight was about one minute old Patterson exploded with a furious barrage of lefts and rights. He sent Brad crashing to the canvas.

Fred 'King' Lear Dies at Age of 61

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP) —Fred (King) Lear, major league infielder 30 years ago, is dead at 61.

Lear, who died yesterday in the veterans hospital, broke into the majors as a second baseman with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1915. In 1918-19 he was with the Chicago Cubs and in 1920 he joined the New York Giants as a third baseman.

Hoosier Fans Show Support of Winless 11

BLOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Indiana University's football Hoosiers missed part of their practice session yesterday, but they got a big morale boost to replace it.

Five thousand students, needled by newspaper criticism of their school spirit, poured onto the field in an unscheduled pep rally and broke up practice with a noisy demonstration of support for the winless Hoosiers.

Coeds who were reluctant to attend were dragged from their dormitories and sorority houses by men students. Dormitories and houses postponed their evening meals an hour as the rally roared on.

Indiana plays Villanova here Saturday.

Campbell Plans Test Run for Jet-Propelled Hydro

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)— Don Campbell plans a test run today in his jet-propelled hydroplane after a slight accident yesterday which he said did not damage the speedboat.

A foot-square section of the plastic cockpit cover blew off and lodged in the engine air intake duct while Campbell was taxiing away from a dock on Lake Mead.

He shut off the engines immediately, preventing damage to the air compressor engine blades.

"I'm glad it happened no winstead of Sunday at 200 miles an hour," said the 34-year-old British pilot.

He expects to make a test run in the "Bluebird II" at moderate speed today and a "dress rehearsal" run tomorrow before trying to better his mark of 202.34 miles an hour Sunday over a 7-mile course on Lake Mead. He set the record last summer at Ullswater, Engand.

Heavy Foliage Hampers Grouse

Grouse Hunting Seen Poor Over Weekend, Duck Outlook Better

LANSING (AP)—Grouse hunting is expected to be poor this weekend, although duck hunters should have fair to good luck, the state conservation department said today.

Leaves are falling rapidly, but foliage remains heavy in many areas to hamper grouse shooting.

Duck hunters will be shooting at native ducks almost exclusively, the department said. Very few flight ducks have yet been seen.

Late season perch fishing is fair to good off the piers at Manistee, Frankfort, Grand Traverse Bays, Harbor Springs, Charlevoix, the Straits, Tawas and Saginaw bays and on Duncan Bay near Cheboygan, the department said.

Fishermen reported good luck with smelt off the docks at Boyne City. Very little activity was reported on rainbow trout.

Bow and arrow deer hunting conditions are good, the department said.

Prep 11 Goes Tally-Crazy in Third Period

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Champaign's high school football team scored five touchdowns in six plays in the third quarter in its game with Danville last night.

The touchdown parade started when halfback Bill Ohls returned Danville's kickoff opening the third quarter 91 yards. Then followed touchdowns on 43 and 46-yard passes, a 50-yard sprint around end and a romp of 32 yards on an off-tackle play.

The final score was Champaign 53 Danville 0

Holcomb Enjoys Full Squad for First Time in Month as Purdue Prepares for Hawkeyes

CHICAGO (AP)—Injuries have cut deeply into Big Ten football teams this season, but at least two clubs —Purdue and Michigan State— have reached the "healthy" level for big Saturday football tests.

Coach Stu Holcomb has worked with a full squad for the 1st time in a month as he prepared for invasion of Iowa City and a "must" battle for both the Boilermakers and Hawkeyes. Passer Len Dawson, Holcomb says, seems completely recovered from a fractured thumb and is back in his old passing gorm.

Among those on Iowa's casualty list are halfback Edie Vincent and veteran tackle Rodger Swedberg. Both, however, are expected to see duty, although not listed to start. Hawkeyes are a seven-point favorite on the dope sheet.

Michigan State is at its best physical shape since the start of the season for the showdown at East Lansing, Mich., with unbeaten Notre Dame. Only halfback Sherrill Sipes definitely is out of the game for the Irish, but another highly-regarded halfback, sophomore Dick Wilkins, is ready for his 1st appearance.

In other Saturday contests, Minnesota is at Illinois, Northwestern at Michigan, Villanova at Indiana and Duke at Ohio State. Wisconsin takes on Southern California at Los Angeles tonight.

Michigan's great end, Ron Kramer, is shelved with a chest injury and fullback Lou Baldacci is handicapped. Northwestern has its original starting backfield intact for the 1st time since the season opener.

Ohio State's All-America, Howard Cassady, is nursing a pulled leg tendon which may slow him down against unbeaten Duke.

Heavy Area Prep Schedule Lists Important Tilts

Hundreds of prep gridders take the spotlight on the sports scene this afternoon and tonight at the start of the 4th and important week of activity on the high school gridiron in and around the county. Here is what's in store on the 21-game card.

In two Inter-Lakes matches, Van Dyke and Southfield, both tied for top I-L spot, seek sole possession of the lead when they meet winless Berkley and 2nd place Walled Lake Vikings respectively. Abe-Bears clash is a night contest while Vikings are slated to kick-off at 3:30 at Southfield.

In another I-L afternoon encounter, Waterford is at Farmington hoping to keep Falcons from win number one after suffering two setbacks to date.

Jumping into the Wayne-Oakland conference, a battle delux is expected at Clarkston when head coach Ed Hintz fields his league defending champions against an up-and-coming Clarenceville eleven. The night test could well set the winner on the path to the W-O title.

Brighton challenges under-dog West Bloomfield Lakers. Lakers find the going tough so far with four losses, three of which were league matches. Game will be under the arcs at West Bloomfield.

Milford, trying to quit the W-O cellar, tangles with 3rd place Holly at Milford.

Northville Mustangs face a stiff challenge from highly rated Class B Center Line, at Northville. Bruno Marana's club boasts a perfect 4-win mark and is considered by many as a strong contender for Class B honors. They have counted 89 points while allowing for only 15.

Oakland B League has its share of top tilts on tap also for tonight. Top interest at Madison where Eagles head mentor Don Scott expected to pull out all stops against a potent Clawson squad guided by 1st year head coach Bob Acton.

In a night meeting, Avondale and Roseville will struggle to break a league 2nd place deadlock at Roseville at 8 p.m. Fitzgerald and Troy were at Troy in an afternoon scrap. Lake Orion tackles inter-sectional Oxford at Lake Orion.

In independent action Dan Barnabo's undefeated Romeo Bulldogs travel to Lapeer to do battle with the Panthers. Barons from Bloomfield Hills hope to make dedication of its new school a success with a win over Fraser. In another test, South Lyon goes to Manchester.

In South Central, Bi-County and Southern Thumb League action games will be: Imlay City at North Branch; Ortonville at Millington; Utica at Lake Shore; Lake View at Warren; Brown City at Almont; Dryden at Memphis and New Haven vs Capac.

Russian Weight Men Seek Title

MUNICH (AP) — Russia's star weight lifters seemed assured of another title tonight when Nikolai Kostylev grabs the bar bells in the lightweight class of the world championships.

Kostylev claims he has lifted a total of 836 pounds, which is 22 pounds better than the official record held by Pete George of Akron, Ohio.

The Russian is the outstanding favorite with Kim Chang of South Korea the likely runner-up.

As in last night's featherweight class, won by Russia's Rafael Tshimishkian with a lift of 771.75 pounds, the United States will not be represented.

Team Manager Bob Hoffman of York, Pa., said the next American lifter to show up in the competition will be Pete George in the middleweight class Saturday.

Birmingham Club to Put Stress on Junior Tennis

Special emphasis will be placed on junior tennis development in 1956, it was decided at the fall meeting of the Board of Governors of the Birmingham Tennis Club. Board met at the home of club president Francis P. Henderson.

Because of the rapid population growth in the area, interest in tennis has greatly increased, club officials said, causing the board to feel that the Birmingham Tennis Club offers the best opportunity for players of all ages to participate. Club membership is expected to swell considerably next year. Free lessons for youngsters of club members will be given, it was announced.

Plans were discussed for a series of matches with other clubs in the Detroit Metropolitan and Oakland County areas. Annual club tournament will again be held, featuring competition for the Averill trophy, awarded to the men's singles winner, and the Milbrand trophy, for women.

Jim Tobin, ex-U. of M. net king, currently holds the Averill trophy, while the Milbrand award belongs to Miss Andra Braun, former champion at Kingswood School.

Savoie Takes Decision Over Blair at Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Armand Savoie, former Canadian lightweight and welterweight champion from Montreal, won a unanimous decision over Jacky Blair, Dallas lightweight, in 10 bloody rounds last night.

A crowd of only 918 paid a gross of $1,343 to see Blair make a gallant stand despite a blood-smeared left eye that cut his vision in half from the first round on.

Savoie got a 2-inch gash in the left cheek.

Big Ten in Spotlight With Top Battles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big Ten Conference, always a target for the ambitious and a test for the accepted Giants, is smack dab in the college football spotlight again this weekend with sixth-ranked Wisconsin running against Southern California tonight and unranked Michigan State confronting fourth-ranked Notre Dame tomorrow.

Wisconsin is a touchdown favorite over Southern Cal in the West Coast game. The Irish have been alloted the same vote of confidence against Michigan State in the TV game of the week.

Coach Jess Hill's Trojans could give the Badgers some trouble. Still nursing an idea of taking the Pacific Coast Conference title, they could well be on the rebound after a 7-0 upset by Washington.

That setback came last weekend and spilled the Trojans out of the Top Ten in The Associated Press poll. Now ranked 16th, the Trojans are scrapping to get back with the big boys.

The Badgers, leading the Big Ten with a 2-0 mark, have a pretty good revenge gimmick working in their favor. Wisconsin is the only Western conference club to lose in the current Big Ten-PCC Rose Bowl tie up—and the 7-0 defeat in 1953 came from Southern Cal.

The Trojans are in top shape for this one. Wisconsin has two limping stars—quarterback Jim Miller and tackle Jerry Cvengros.

So far this season, the Big Ten and PCC are 2-2: Washington spilled Minnesota and Stanford upset Ohio State, but Illinois whacked California and Michigan State overpowered Stanford.

Michigan State doesn't figure to have things as easy this week as they did last Saturday in the 38-14 decision over Stanford. Still, the Spartans loom as the best test yet for the Irish, who are unbeaten, untied and unscored upon after junking Southern Methodist, Indiana and Miami (Fla.).

With Wisconsin busy outside the conference, Michigan looks to claim a share of the Big Ten lead after dealing with winless Northwestern tomorrow.

Even with end Ron Kramer, the big man, injured, the Wolverines are favored by three TDs.

In addition to tonight's West Coast battle, Duke-Ohio State and Washington-Baylor add intersectional spice to the weekend.

Duke, unbeaten, untied and ranked No. 11, is judged even-up with the once-beaten Buckeyes. Ohio State only yesterday revealed All-America Howard Cassady injured a leg in practice this week. But Hopalong will be on hand for tomorrow's game in the big U-shaped stadium at Columbus, Ohio.

Washington, unbeaten in four games and the PCC surprise, has a 1954 defeat to live down at Baylor. The Bears socked 'em 34-7 last year.

Elsewhere tomorow, Maryland's unbeaten, second-ranked Terrapins figure to upset North Carolina's homecoming plans. Oklahoma, No. 3, is favored to win over Kansas in a similar show at Norman. The Sooners can run their winning streak, longest now active among the major collegians, to 23 while extending their Big Seven Conference superiority.

Georgia Tech, No. 5 and undefeated, bumps into once-tied Auburn in the Southeastern Conference game of the day. The winner gets a big bowl boost. Tech's the favorite by 7.

The rest of the Top Ten are scheduled like this: Texas Christian, No. 7 and pushing quarterback Jim Swink for individual honors, plays Texas A&M; Navy, No. 8 and like Notre Dame unscored upon, meets Penn State; UCLA, once-beaten and No. 9, plays Stanford, and West Virginia, No. 10, figures to take all sorts of liberties with William & Mary.

'Roamin' Jug Is Prize

Injuries, which have plagued St. Michael's football fortunes since the 1st game of the 1955 season, will be present again tonight when Shamrocks take on Royal Oak St. Mary in a Suburban Catholic League game at Wisner Stadium.

A combination of practice scrimmages and game action have been taking their toll at the north side school, all involving key personnel. Injuries will keep two players out of action tonight and another for the rest of the season.

Regular quarterback Bob Mineweaser Jr., who missed the last two games due to an injured kidney, will be absent again tonight. Right halfback Chuck Brown suffered a chipped ankle bone in the St. Clement tiff last Sunday and will sit out the next two games.

Head and back injuries sustained in practice have permanently sidelined Paul Amman, linebacking stalwart.

Tonight's patchwork backfield will find Dan Dropps at quarterback, Ron Elmy at fullback, and Mike Clever and Mike Lyons, a converted guard, at halfbacks. Dropps and Elmy are the two members of the original backfield, which has not been intact since the St. Frederick contest.

Coach Bob Mineweaser's Shamrocks, despite their ills, will be favored. Royal Oak St. Mary, led by halfbacks Phil Brezinski and Paul Smuts, battled St. Fred's to a 19-19 tie here two weeks ago, but lost its three remaining starts.

At stake in tonight's clash is the "Roamin' Jug," which has been held by the Mikes since its inception in 1950. The jug was brought here from Rome, Italy, and is carted home each year by the winner of the St. Michael - RO St. Mary game. Kickoff time is 8 p. m.

All other Suburban loop games this week are scheduled Sunday. Orchard Lake St. Mary and Center Line St. Clement, tied for league lead, meet in the SCL's top attraction at Orchard Lake; St. Frederick faces St. Rita at Hazel Park, and Ferndale St. James is host to St. Benedict of Highland Park.

Shrine Bowling Tourney at Chicago Next March

Great Lakes Crescent Bowlers, Inc., will hold its annual Shrine bowling tournament on weekends in Chicago starting Saturday, March 24, 1956. Tourney is open only to Shriners (AAONMS).

Keglers will compete in three events on a handicap basis. For information and entry blanks write to Walter Juergensen, tournament secretary, 5066 North Winchester Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Blanks will be mailed after Christmas.

Buddy Dike, TCU fullback who missed half of the 1954 season with a fractured kidney, will play with a special protective pad developed by trainer Elmer Brown.

Little Chiefs Spank Central for 5th in Row

Pontiac JV's Defeat Flint Indians, 12-7 in Wisner Clash

Pontiac High School's unbeaten Junior Varsity football team racked up its 5th straight triumph of the season Thursday afternoon at Wisner Stadium with a 12-7 victory over Flint Central.

Coach Ed Heikkinen's Little Chiefs took the opening kickoff and marched 65 yards to score. Nick Shorter climaxed the attack, conducted entirely on the ground with a seven-yard touchdown run.

Pontiac JV's scored the eventual winning touchdown with two minutes remaining in the 1st half. Jim Hawkins gathered in Dick Whitmer's 15-yard pass and raced 35 yards for the tally.

Central scored its lone touchdown in the 3rd period. Indians drove 65 yards after receiving the 2nd-half kickoff. A line plunge converted.

Flint made its bid to win in the 4th quarter by driving inside Pontiac's five-yard line. But a determined defensive stand thwarted the challenge.

Pontiac JV's face Saginaw Arthur Hill in their next test Thursday afternoon, Oct. 20, at Saginaw.

Graybiel Gives Pontiac Good Chance for Win

By H. GUY MOATS

With his squad "in as good, or better condition as at any time all season," PHS football coach Ed Graybiel this morning opined the Chiefs have a very good chance for a win at Flint Central tonight.

Tonight's Saginaw Valley encounter in Atwood Stadium is the 2nd on Pontiac's schedule, and a victory would go a long ways to bolster the squad's outlook.

Central is also seeking its 1st valley victory, having bowed in its only other league game, 26-14, to Arthur Hill, Sept. 30. Chiefs were bumped 33-7 by Bay City last weekend.

While Pontiac interest is focused on the tilt with the Indians, the Valley itself, is turning its eyes towards the important Bay City-Saginaw High argument, tonight. Valley opinion is about even as to the probable winner. This corner is inclined to go along with the Wolves, whose depth of capable players could well be the determining factor in the outcome.

There'll be some changes in Chiefs' lineups. However, on the whole, the starters, both offensively and on defense, will be about the same as in the Bay City game:

Offense—ends, Whitlock and Cagle; Tackles, Walker and Kors; guards, Baker and Neaves; center, Hardy, whose bad leg has healed well; backs, Poe (qb), Taylor (rh), Spann (fb), Casteel (rh). Bob is a good hard runner, and probably will see lots of action in the shift to halfback, from the singal-calling job.

Defense—ends, Whitlock and Cagle; tackles, Walker and Conwell; center, Holloway; linebackers, Kors, Baker and Larson; halfbacks, Humphreys and Taylor; safety, Shorter.

Oaks Pull Big Switch, Heading to Vancouver

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Brick Laws cooled off tonight and said he was moving his Oakland baseball team to Vancouver, B.C., although city councilmen there had refused a vote on Sunday games.

When he first learned that councilmen had refused to poll the electorate on whether to repeal an ordinance against Sunday baseball, Laws had threatened to stop the switch.

But later, he said: "The Oaks are going to Vancouver as planned."

Doane Given New Chance to Quarterback Missouri

KANSAS CITY (AP) —Missouri's Dave Doane will get another chance tomorrow to claim the No. 1 quarterback job with the Tigers.

The Big Seven Conference's leading passer, Doane is still regarded as a substitute for 19-year-old Jim Hunter, a junior who guided the Tigers in their good but losing effort (13-12) against Maryland.

Doane, playing his first season for Missouri, is a 6-foot, 182-pound junior. He transferred to Missouri from Tulsa at the end of his freshman year.

He will be at the quarterback slot against Iowa State at Ames this weekend while Hunter remains on the sidelines for the fourth straight week as a result of a severe charley horse suffered in the opening minutes against Michigan.

It will be the first conference game for Missouri and the second for the Cyclones who could do no better than tie Kansas 7-7 last week. Both Missouri and Iowa State are seeking victory No. 1 for the season.

Two other conference games are on tap. Colorado plays at Kansas State and Oklahoma entertains Kansas.

Bobo, Ray to Sign for Title Match

CHICAGO (AP)— Middleweight champion Bobo Olson and former champion Ray Robinson will sign formal contracts today for a 15-round title match in Chicago Stadium Nov. 4.

Olson reportedly will sign for 40 per cent of the revenue from the net gate receipts and national television and radio broadcasts. Robinson will get 20 per cent.

Chicago and a 150-mile radius will be blacked out on the home TV screens but the radio broadcast will be carried.

Badgers, USC Meet Tonight at LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Unbeaten Wisconsin from the Big Ten and once-upset Southern California from the Pacific Coast Conference hook up tonight in an intersectional football game which is expected to attract 70,000 fans to Memorial Coliseum.

The Badgers from the Midwest, who were upset by USC in the 1953 Rose Bowl Game, are mild favorites despite the fact that half of their superb quarterback department, Jim Miller, may not get to play.

First-string tackle Jerry Cvengros is another doubtful performer. Both he and Miller suffered ankle injuries in the Purdue game.

Thus the full quarterbacking duties may fall to Jim Haluska, a senior who has completed 28 out of 37 passes for 356 yards this season.

The Trojans also have questionable talent, what with end Chuck Griffith and two reserves, halfback Ernie Zampese and Karl Rubke, nursing combat wounds incurred in their 7-0 loss to Washington last week.

The Badgers are rated the sixth-best in the nation at this moment while USC was dropped by Washington from the Top Ten last week.

The contest may provide a fine duel between the fullbacks, big Charley Thomas of Wisconsin, who has been compared to his predecessor, All-America Alan Ameche, and the Trojans' C. R. Roberts.

Coach Jess Hill as of this week promoted the speedy 210-pounder to the starter's role over another hard runner, Gordon Duvall.

Thomas weighs 219 and is even faster than Ameche, according to observers from Madison, hometown of the Badgers.

This is the first meeting between the teams since the 7-0 Rose Bowl game.

Coach Ivy Williamson would like revenge. But he also has an important conference game next week with Ohio State which he must win to stay in the front ranks for the coming Rose Bowl classic. USC is not eligible for the bowl this year.

Game time is 8:30 p.m. (PST).

Steeler Castoff Signs With Baltimore Colts

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts today announced the signing of halfback Burrell Shields, an offensive specialist dropped earlier by the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The former John Carroll University athlete, a second-year man in the National Football League, was used in reserve by the Steelers last season. He came to Baltimore for a tryout with the Colts and was signed.

Johnny Mize, ex-National League slugger, is now a part-time batting coach on the New York Giants' staff.

Podres, who won 9 and lost 10 during the regular season, pitched a 2-0 shutout against the New York Yankees in the final game of the Series.

Davey Resumes Career Against Alan Kennedy

LANSING (AP) — Chuck Davey of Lansing and Detroit will take on Alan Kennedy of Bay City as a major hurdle in his comeback try here Saturday night.

The 10-round welterweight bout was scheduled to follow the Notre Dame game as an added attraction for sports-minded visitors to Lansing this weekend.

It will be the 1st sports attraction to be held in Lansing's new five million dollar Civic Auditorium.

Area Harriers Run With Hurons' Squad

Three Oakland County area thinclads will be in acton Saturday, Oct. 22, when Lyle Bennett's Central Michigan College cross-country team invades Ypsilanti for a dual meet with the Michigan Normal harriers.

Royal Oak's Ron Jones will be running for the Chippewas from Mt. Pleasant. Coach George Marshall's Hurons will be represented from this area by Donald Pounds of Walled Lake and Bob Stringer of Howell.

High-Riding Maples Aim for 5th Straight Victory

Birmingham High School's undefeated football team goes after its 5th straight win and 3rd Eastern Michigan League verdict tonight against underdog Hazel Park. The game will start on the Maples' gridiron at 8 p.m.

Hazel Park, coached by newly-appointed Charles Skinner, is still looking for its 1st victory of the season. The upset-minded Vikings have lost three games and tied one.

East Detroit's unbeaten, unscored-upon Shamrocks face their stiffest test of the season tonight at Port Huron against the Big Reds in this week's top EML contest. It will be homecoming for Port Huron, which holds a 2-1-1 record. Shamrocks boast a 4-0 mark.

A "green" Mt. Clemens squad, winless in four tries, invades Ferndale to meet Railsplitters in tonight's remaining EML game.

Royal Oak, buoyed by last week's 7-6 decision over strong Wyandotte, faces Monroe in a Border Cities League scrap at Monroe. Cranbrook encounters Western Reserve in an Inter-State Prep League game Saturday at Cranbrook.

Joost Released by Bosox Club

Boston Buys 8 Minor Leaguers as Cronin Bolsters Team

BOSTON (AP)—Veteran infielder Eddie Joost has been given his outright release by the Boston Red Sox who have purchased eight minor league players.

After waivers were obtained from other American League clubs, Sox General Manager Joe Cronin yesterday announced the release of the 39-year-old Joost who did pinch hitting and spot playing duty with Boston during the season.

Joost had been picked up as a free agent in the spring when the team was hurt by injuries in the infield.

At the same time, the Sox assigned catcher Guy Morton's contract to Louisville.

Five of the acquired players were members of the Louisville team this past season. They are right-handed pitcher Jerry Casale, shortstop Don Buddin and outfielders Marty Keough, Bob Jenkins and Gordon Windhorn.

Right-handed pitcher Joe Albanese, southpaw hurler Roy Tinney and catcher Jerry Zimmerman were purchased from Greensboro of the Class B Carolina League.

Use of Drugs Not Approved by Educators

CHICAGO (AP) —Use of drugs, vitamins and oxygen as aids in athletic competition carries the disapproval of national leaders in education and medicine.

The weekly issue of the American Medical Assn. Journal today recalled in a question-and-answer column that earlier this year, a national committee on educational health problems criticized such practices.

The group, the Joint Committee on Health Problems in Education of the National Education Assn. and the American Medical Assn., re-affirmed a stand taken by a similar committee in 1953.

"Valid scientific evidence in support of the value of oxygen in athletic competition is lacking," the committee concluded.

Kimberly Kid Takes Gotham Trot Derby

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Kimberly Kid, something of a myth in metropolitan trotting circles, lived up to his advance notices in winning the $29,000 Gotham Trot at Yonkers Raceway.

In his first appearance in the metropolitan area after building up a big reputation on the grand circuit, the 5-year-old from Leonard J. Buck's Allwood Stable of Far Hills, N.J., stepped the 1½ miles last night in 3:08.3. The time was two-fifths of a second faster than the previous track mark.

Ralph Casey, North Carolina swimming coach, spent the summer in the Far East conducting a tour featuring American swimmers.

College President

At the end of World War II, Eisenhower was named Chief of Staff. For three years he directed American troops spread over four continents, and helped send them home. This work completed, he resigned in 1948 to become president of Columbia University in New York City. But his country still had work for him to do.

In 1949 Ike was called to Washington to act as special military adviser to James Forrestal, the first Secretary of Defense under the unification plan. This marked the first of several leaves Eisenhower took from his post as college president to serve his country.

The most important job was his assignment by President Truman to command supreme army headquarters in Europe for the new North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Ike immediately flew to Paris to supervise the defense of Europe again—this time against communism.

Color the picture as you like. Remember that the robe worn by President Eisenhower is a deep purple. The emblem is the official seal of Columbia University.

Tomorrow: The Inauguration.

Executives Mull Modern Midtown Traffic Problem

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (INS)—Ever feel like "blowing your top" because you can't find a parking space downtown?

Well, don't do it because big city business, professional and civic leaders are working on that problem and many other diverse "headaches" which comes with the growth of cities.

Members of the International Downtown Executives Association begin today a two-day seminar at Memphis on what to do with all those cars which jam the downtown area. They also will discuss the future of mass transit systems.

The panel discussion of the parking problem will be lead by John D. McGillis, director of the municipal parking authority at Detroit, and Perry G. Anderson, president of the association and executive secretary of the Downtown Association of Milwaukee.

Other seminars will discuss "mass transportations," "expressways," "urban redevelopment," and "retail promotions."

Mass transportation—according to Charles Phelan, executive secretary of the Memphis Downtown Association—stresses the technique of moving people, as opposed to moving automobiles.

Fewer Refuges Are Reaching West

MONTREAL, Que. (AP) — Only about a third as many refugees are reaching Western Europe from Communist countries as came through the Iron Curtain three years ago, a U.N. official said here.

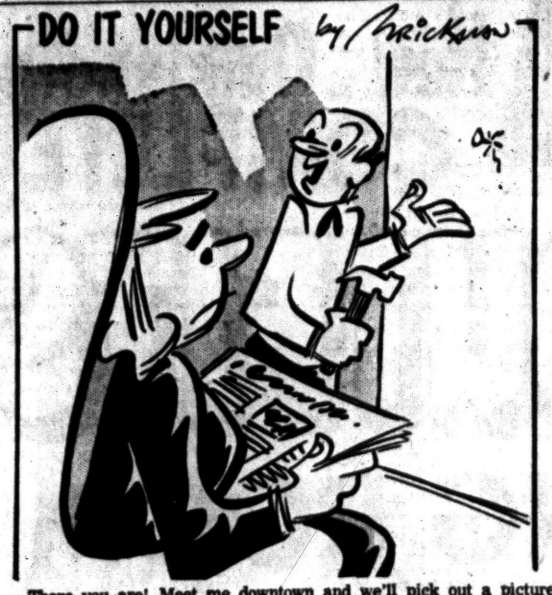

Dr. G. J. Van Heuven Goedhart, high commissioner for refugees, who is on a Canadian lecture tour, told a news conference last night Communist countries now guard their frontiers more closely. About 5,000 refugees now come to Western Europe each year, he said, as compared with 15,000 in 1952.

Some 70,000 persons in camps and 150,000 outside camps are still awaiting settlement in permanent homes, he reported.

Grain Dealings Set Slow Pace

CHICAGO (AP)—Only small price changes were recorded in grains on the Board of Trade today. Dealings were slow, even in the normally active soybean pit.

There was a slightly easier tone at the start. This was particularly true in corn. As the session progressed the market had a tendency to firm, getting back to around previous closing levels. Corn lagged on this little rally.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅜ lower, December $2.04¼; corn ¼ to ½ lower, December $1.28⅛; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, December 63½; rye 1¼ to 1¾ lower, December $1.09¼; soybeans ¼ lower to 1 cent higher, November $2.35¼, and lard 2 to 4 cents a hnudred pounds higher, October $12.75.

Mixed Market Drifting Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—A lower drift in the stock market today took prices down moderately in early dealings.

Prices varied around a point in either direction. Many leaders were unchanged.

Trading was quite slow. After the usual initial rush, the tape idled. Yesterday and the day before less than two million shares changed hands, well below the daily average so far this year.

Aircrafts were higher at the start They were sparked into activity by the 269 million dollar jet order given by Pan American Airways to Boeing, Douglas and United Aircraft, and also by predictions of expanding business for the industry generally.

Lower prices were paid for Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Kennecott Copper, International Nickel, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, Aluminum Ltd., and Santa Fe Railroad.

Higher were Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed (which got an order for 100 million dollars worth of jets from the air force), Republic Steel, and Air Reduction.

6 Millionth New Car of '55 Sold Tuesday

DETROIT (INS)—Ward's reports said today the six millionth new car of 1955 was sold Tuesday in a week which saw all producers making or preparing to make the 1956 models.

By comparison, Word's noted that the entire year of 1954 comprised 5,423,000 new car deliveries, while sales in 1953 totaled 5,771,000.

The statistical agency said Buick, Oldsmobile and Studebaker were the only companies still idled by model changeovers this week, when the industry assembled an estimated 104,876 cars. The total was nearly 31 per cent better than last week's turnout of 80,271 automobiles.

The ancient Romans made alloys of tin and lead and used them for soldering, much as they are used today.

Coca Starts Out With New Slate

Comedienne Unwilling to Accept NBC Money Without Working

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Imogene Coca, a shy and complex woman to whom things both good and bad just seem to happen, made an important decision this week. She voluntarily tore up a $900,000 television contract with NBC. Why?

She won't discuss her reasons in breaking a contract that would have brought her $100,000 a year for nine years more. But a close friend says, "Anybody who knows Imogene well isn't surprised. She's one of the most honest people in show business. The thought of taking the money and not doing anything troubled her. She knew of no plans NBC had for her. She felt if she broke away completely from television she would be free to do more in other fields."

Another friend says, "I think she felt the bad year she's had more than anybody realizes. I think she wanted to wipe the slate and have a clean blackboard to write on."

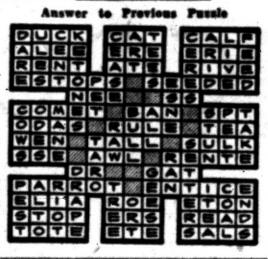

The past year was indeed a bad one for this elfin woman who with Sid Caesar rose to the summit of TV entertainment in past seasons. After she and Caesar parted amicably, she had her own show on NBC last season. Despite changes of format and great effort, the show simply didn't take. Her mother, to whom she was deeply devoted, died. Shortly afterwards death also took her husband, tall and handsome Robert Burton, to whom she'd been happily married for 18 years.

"Coca has had it," people in television said sympathetically.

Imogene Coca has known bad times—as well as good times—in the past. Before she began hitting her stride with Caesar in television she had a decade of incredibly bad times. "My blue period," she has called it. She and her husband, who also was a singer and actor, often didn't know where the next dollar was coming from. They literally knew hunger—and eviction for not paying the rent. Once, without a nickel between them, they spent the night dozing on the hard benches of Grand Central Station.

Knowing much tragedy, she has still brought a great sense of comedy to life. There will be a lot of people cheering for her when she opens at a Las Vegas hotel in three weeks.

Hal Boyle Says:

Amish Content Without Worldly Pleasures

NEW HOLLAND, Pa. (AP)—What would life be like if you owned no automobile, never drank a beverage stronger than water, never attended a dance, movie or stage show, and lived in a house that had no electric lights, radio or television set?

"My life is happy," said Dave Huyard, who lives in this manner. He is a well-to-do, 48-year-old farmer who wears a neatly trimmed beard and in good weather likes to go about his acres barefooted.

Huyard is an Amishman, a member of "the plain people," a religious sect whose members are dedicated to simple living and a high standard of conduct.

Although they cling to old-fashioned ways—they usually take their children out of school at 14 to teach them farm and household work—the Amish are highly regarded by their more modern-minded neighbors. They are quiet, industrious, law-abiding and have practically no juvenile delinquency.

The quaintly-garbed Amish — men and boys wear big-brimmed black hats, girls and women wear bonnets — are regarded by tourists to the Pennsylvania Dutch Country with a mixture of awe and amusement. No matter how odd the tourists look themselves, however, the Amish never laugh back. They are too courteous.

To find out first hand about their way of life I called on Huyard at the suggestion of a man he knew well. Huyard hesitated at first to speak, feeling he might appear presumptious, but finally consented. He is a shy but self-confident and intelligent man who keeps informed on world affairs through daily newspaper reading.

"We believe in the New Testament and in doing justice to ourselves and our neighbors," he said slowly. "We are against war and strife. We try to live an honest life according to the golden rule. There are not supposed to be any quarrels among us, but" — his gentle face relaxed in a rueful smile — "of course, difficulties sometimes do arise."

But they usually aren't decided in a law court. They are settled within the congregation.

Few Amish become doctors, lawyers, policemen or railroad conductors, and none I talked to ever heard of one who was a politician.

"We recommend our people to stay on the land," said Huyard. Those who cannot buy land work on farms or in such trades as carpentering until they can afford acres of their own.

An Amish farmer, since he cannot use electricity, depends on horses for his power, usually works from dawn to dusk every day except Sunday.

Huyard and his wife, Lydia, have two separate farms totaling 151 acres worked by themselves and their three sons, David, 22, Melvin, 18, and Isaac, 15. Their daughter, Ruth, 24, is married.

"My goal is to raise the children so they can take care of themselves," said Huyard, "and, if we can, to help them get good farms of their own."

The competition among Amish fathers to buy new farms for their sons is strong. One farm recently sold for $1,203 an acre, more than Huyard feels is justified by present crop prices.

"It is a big problem," he said. "That is why we must buy land in other areas."

Although some Amish young men and women are being weaned away from old paths by the temptations of modern comforts, Huyard expressed the belief that the number of traditional or "old order" Amish is increasing steadily.

There are settlements of the sect in Ohio, Iowa, Indiana, Maryland and Virginia.

Huyard doesn't feel the tenets of his religion require any extraordinary sacrifice and is surprised if anyone suggests they are unduly stern.

"As a rule we are happy," he said mildly. "We are no less happy then people of any other religion.

"We plan for the future. We live on hopes and hard work. And we enjoy our life more than people who feel free to have anything in the world they please."

Army Uses Only Five Disciplinary Barracks

WASHINGTON—The Army maintains five disciplinary barracks throughout the nation. They have a combined capacity of 6,729 persons and are located at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.; Lompoc, Calif.; New Cumberland, Pa.; Camp Gordon, Ga., and Fort Crowder, Mo. The Army estimates its expenses for disciplinary matters during this fiscal year will total $347,000 and an average of 5,977 prisoners will be confined during the year.

Airport Expansion Due

DUESSELDORF, Germany—Expansion of the airport at Duesseldorf will begin early in 1956. There will be a new reception room and a second runway of about 10,000 feet. Seventeen airlines now use the airport regularly.

Old Irish Fortress Now a New Museum

WATERFORD, Ireland—One of the oldest buildings in Ireland, Reginald's Tower in Waterford, was opened as a civic museum recently on the 750th anniversary of the granting of the city's charter. The tower was at an angle of the walls when Waterford was a Viking city. The Normans captured the tower when they began the invasion of Ireland in 1170. It is probably the oldest fortress of mortared stone still standing in Ireland.

One of the larger Great Lakes vessels can haul more than 18,000 tons of iron ore at one time, or 15 times more than the first ore freighter in 1869.

1,700,000 Women Support Jap Homes

TOKYO — Japanese households supported by women number 1,700,000, about 10 per cent of the country's total number of households. War widows account for about 330,000 of these families. The majority of the war widows are under 30. They have their own national organization, with a membership of nearly 800,000.
