

Nab 'Mad' Killer of Two Children

LLAVES, N. Mex. (UPI)—State Police wounded and captured alive just after sunrise a crazed, bearded prospector who killed two Cuba youngsters yesterday before stunned eyewitnesses.

State Police Sgt. Milton Mattison reported by radio that six troopers "got the drop" on the tall husky gunman in a fold in rolling hill country a few miles north of here.

EDDIE CEBADA

MARIA CEBADA

Police fired several shots, one of them striking the fugitive in the foot, Mattison said the hunted gunman did not return the posse members' fire.

He was taken to Cuba for first aid treatment and then was to be brought to Albuquerque for possible mental observation.

State Police Chief Roe Rosch identified the man as Norman A. Foose, 47, and said he was released recently from a mental hospital at Everett, Wash.

Last night Rosch warned the 35 members of his posse who followed the suspect to use every precaution, and predicted then that the fugitive would not be taken alive.

"He is a paranoid, irresponsible for what he is doing and definitely a mental case," Rosch said.

The gunman staged a one-man reign of terror in Cuba just before lunch time yesterday, shattering the midsummer quiet of the small logging community with two rifle shots that killed Maria Cebada, 12, her cousin, Eddie Cebada, 16, and wounded her mother.

Then he escaped in a green jeep (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Gangster Baron Ducks Behind 5th Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chicago gangster Tony Accardo sought refuge behind the Fifth Amendment at the Senate rackets hearings today, and lost an appeal to prevent the televising of his appearance.

The reputed baron of rackets and vice in Chicago's underworld pleaded it might incriminate him to answer any questions about his business or occupation.

He argued unsuccessfully that televising his testimony would invade his privacy. The hearings are being televised live in Chicago.

The carefully tailored Accardo strode to the witness stand after his alleged West Side Chicago top henchman, Sam Battaglia, had refused to tell whether he served as executioner for the Capone gang.

Battaglia, a bleak-eyed, slim, graying man, refused to answer when asked whether he had helped to bludgeon and burn to death Estelle Carey in 1943. Battaglia also refused to say whether he had any part in a conspiracy to kill Abraham Teitelbaum, one-time lawyer to gangster Al Capone.

Accardo was called after Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said the FBI is investigating alleged gangster intimidation of witnesses in the committee's inquiry into underworld infiltration of labor and management.

McClellan said the FBI is looking into two alleged intimidation cases in Detroit and another in Chicago but gave no details.

The committee wants to learn from Accardo whether he had a hand in a plot to murder Teitelbaum.

Pontiac area residents can expect more rain, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

The outlook for Sunday is partly cloudy with near normal temperatures.

Los Angeles Suffers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles is in the clutches of a heat-and-smog attack. The 93 degrees recorded in the city yesterday made it the hottest July 10 in Los Angeles in 74 years. But it was much hotter in many suburbs—104 in Van Nuys—and it was 120 at Balm Springs, on the desert.

Police Changes Action Expected Within 30 Days

Willman Expecting to Choose Public Safety Director Shortly

Action may be forthcoming in about a month on two big changes in the Pontiac Police Department.

City Manager Walter K. Willman figured last night that he will have selected a candidate in about that time for the office of Public Safety Director.

And City Commissioners, meeting informally gave themselves 30 days in which to decide whether to transfer the Traffic Violations from the police department to Municipal Court.

Both moves were recommended by the Public Administration Service (PAS) study of police department morale and efficiency.

10 CANDIDATES APPLY

Willman said he has received applications from 10 candidates for safety director, "several of whom are really outstanding, in my opinion."

He said those being considered are "experienced policemen, with a wide background in training. I believe the final choice will be a man who will be able to command the respect of the entire department."

Commissioners gave Willman the task of making the final selection. Since the City Charter is indefinite about how the appointment is to be made, it has been decided that Willman will appoint the new official with Commission approval.

Willman called the safety director, who will be over both police and fire chiefs, "the key" to bringing about other organizational changes recommended by the PAS.

It is expected that the city will give the new director a copy of the PAS report and let him (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Radio Beats the Heat

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Radio Station WKAP now offers air-conditioned interludes to keep listeners cool in the heat of the day. Two of the station's disc jockeys, Sammy Anderson and Joe Vargo, began broadcasting special programs yesterday from public swimming pools; and so close to the diving boards you can hear the water splash and the swimmers splutter.

For Philippine Islands To Propose Fluoridation

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A Philippines official says he will recommend adoption of the Grand Rapids water fluoridation system by his homeland.

Dr. Emilio M. Sison, supervisor of the Philippine Department of Dental Health, yesterday disclosed his proposed action after hearing reports from Grand Rapids officials on results of the pioneer program adopted in 1944-45.

Dr. W. B. Prothro, city-county health officer, said dental decay has dropped 60 per cent among Grand Rapids children since the project was started. Dr. Sison said he would urge a pilot program in the hope of persuading the Philippine Congress to finance water fluoridation in cities throughout the islands.

Pontiac to Build New Library

Hope to Have Structure Ready for Dedication on Centennial Date

A new City Library by centennial-time was tentatively set by the City Commission last night as the city's next building project.

They decided to get pay-as-you-go financing under way now in order to have the new building ready for dedication by March 15, 1961, Pontiac's centennial date.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would submit a plan whereby the city could start laying away enough money in a capital structure fund to let contracts next year.

He said he would formally propose Tuesday that the city set aside $200,000 after tax collections this year and next. This fund-raising pattern was used, he said to finance the City Hall, Public Safety Building and other new buildings.

He assured commissioners that a big capital improvement fund would be left for neighborhood improvements such as streets, sewers and sidewalks.

Looking for a building project that would crown the centennial festivities, commissioners supported Willman's belief that a new library "would offer a service available to all the citizens of Pontiac."

The building would replace the existing Williams street library, which Willman described as "cracking at the seams."

Tentatively scheduled to be erected on a site across Parke street from the City Hall, the library building should cost roughly $500,000, according to unofficial estimates.

Willman said he is compiling a list of architects interested in designing the building and announced, at the same time, that the Planning Commission has agreed to take action on the choice of site.

FOLLIES STARS HERE

Posing in a brand new Pontiac Chieftain convertible are five good reasons why the Water Follies of 1958 is an internationally-acclaimed aquacade. Left to right are lovely swimming stars, Mary Dwight, Barbara Massis, Hope O'Hara and Judy Clark, who will appear when the Follies opens a three-day stand here tonight at 8:30 at Wisner Stadium. With them is Eddie Rose, recognized as the nation's foremost water clown. One of the first things Rose did on arriving here yesterday was to purchase the gleaming convertible in this picture from the Pontiac Retail Store.

Water Follies of '58 to Open at Wisner Stadium Tonight

When the colored spotlights go on in Wisner Stadium at 8:30 tonight, an estimated 8,000 first-nighters will be on hand for the opening scenes of the spectacular Water Follies of 1958.

In store for them will be the gigantic two-hour revue that delighted audiences at the Brussels World's Fair and that has been acclaimed throughout the country as the top professional aquacade of the decade.

Headlined by former Olympic stars and world-champion swimmers, the show features water acrobatics, aqua-ballet, fancy diving, dancing, costumed production number and other breath-taking attractions.

The 30-member troupe, including a lovely water ballet corps of 13 talented young ladies, gives promise of thrills, laughs and enjoyment for all.

Topping the list of stars are Stanley Mitchell, acclaimed as the greatest acrobatic stuntsman of them all; Roger Nadeau, described as not only a great clown but a perfect diver as well; Eddie Rose, billed as the world's greatest diving comedian; Emile Hotte, Canadian diving champion; Mary Dwight, recognized as the national synchronized swimming champion of the world, and several others.

PERFORMERS ARRIVE

The performers arrived in Pontiac yesterday and with them came work crews who immediately began the long job of setting up the show's unique swimming pool-stage arrangement.

It took about nine hours to assemble the portable affair, which measures 175 feet in length and 35 feet in width. Today, the job of pouring 80,000 gallons of water into the two swimming pools was under way.

Members of the show, produced by New York showman Sam Snyder, were feted last night at the Oakland County Boat Club on Sylvan Lake by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce. The chamber, which is sponsoring the show here, also arranged a dinner at the City Club in the Hotel Waldron.

One of the stars, Mary Dwight, was to make a personal appearance today at Connolly's Jewelers, 16 W. Huron St. The pretty, blonde athlete will be there from 2-5 p.m.

Brother Willing to Help Ike's Golf No Mulligan for Ed

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—The Mulligan may be cricket to Ike but it's bum stew to Ed.

Ike and Ed are the Eisenhower brothers, President Dwight D. and Tacoma Atty. Edgar N. They both like golf, but they're poles apart on the Mulligan.

Mulligan is a golfing term. For example, the golfer takes his first tee shot. He doesn't want to play the ball.

He takes a second tee shot, but he doesn't count the first in his score. The second shot is the Mulligan.

SHOOT 6 BIRDIES

A beaming Edgar came off the 18th green at the Tacoma Country and Golf Club yesterday and announced he had fired a 5-under-par 67, two strokes less than his age.

"I shot six birdies, had one bogie and came up with a 67."

Someone mentioned that the President had scored a 79 last week and had used a Mulligan on the first tee.

Edgar's eyes twinkled and he said: "I shoot 'em straight, without trial balloons. I don't believe in the Mulligan."

"You tell my brother you have to know the rules from beginning to end. If he wants some help on golf, I can show him a thing or two."

Pontiac Must Raise $2 Million for Schools

By HAROLD S. COHEN

The Pontiac Board of Education will have to raise more than $2 million to avoid a cutback in quality of instruction or a halt in its building program.

This disclosure was made last night by Superintendent Dana P. Whitmer in reviewing the system's financial picture with the board.

Dr. Whitmer said that the cut-back in income for this fiscal year due to a reduced state equalized valuation of the school district has brought the system face to face with an emergency.

He said that income for this year would leave Pontiac schools owing $591,000 on current construction and no money for further building.

The alternatives are to raise more money or to reduce the operating budget, already at austerity level, and halt building plans, he stated.

Dr. Whitmer asked the board to go on record as opposing any cut in instructional quality and to endorse further necessary construction.

The five board members present decided to wait until the next meeting so that all members could vote on the matter.

If the board approves the recommendations, Dr. Whitmer pointed out, it will need to raise $2,237,000 between now and the end of next year.

He recommended that the board borrow $1,800,000 this year by issuing long-term bonds, a practice which the board has not followed before.

The superintendent noted that the board, because it has been on a pay-as-you-go basis for new schools, has a low indebtedness and could borrow more than $2 million without a vote of the people.

The state law permits such borrowing up to 2 per cent equalized valuation of a school district.

STATE PICTURE BAD

Supported by board member Louis Schimmel, Dr. Whitmer noted that the state picture must change within the next two years to the benefit of school districts and advised the board to do only short-range planning of its finances until the future is clearer.

Schimmel, a finance expert, said that if Pontiac was feeling the pinch, the rest of the state's school districts must be in much worse shape.

"At the next session of the Legislature you will see an army of school people demanding higher state aid to avoid financial disasters," he said. "If the Legislature keeps school aid at the same level as this year, there will probably be an appeal to the state's voters for help."

Dr. Whitmer said that if the board did not borrow the $1.8 million lion, it would be faced with the alternative of going to the voters for additional tax money. He doubted that such a proposal would pass, he added.

SEEKS APPROVAL

Dr. Otto Hutziger, assistant superintendent, asked the board to approve preliminary planning of the new building program for next year.

He asked for additions to the Madison and Washington Junior High Schools, a new six-room elementary school on Square Lake road, an addition to the Bagley School of four rooms and a stage and the repair of the swimming pool at Central High.

being condemned by the State Health Dept.

Board President Glenn H. Griffin and other members said it might be necessary to close the pool for a year if it were condemned since the financial picture makes them hesitate to approve the $140,000 necessary to fix it.

In other action, the board of-fered to pay half the cost of a $1,000 fence between the Herrington Hills School property and adjacent residential lots. The residents asked the board to pay all of it, but were turned down.

Dr. Philip J. Proud, assistant superintendent for personnel, reported that all regular teaching positions for next fall had been filled except in a few specialized fields.

Textile Tycoon Admits 'Deal' With Steelman

Assured of $12 Million Federal Loan, Which Became Unnecessary

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Bernard Goldfine testified today he gave Christmas gifts to former President Truman's chief assistant, who helped him get "a commitment" for a 12 million dollar federal loan. The loan never was made.

The Boston textile magnate reported his relations with Dr. John R. Steelman, the assistant to the President in the Truman administration, in the fifth day of testimony before a House subcommittee investigating him and Sherman Adams.

Adams, who also received gifts from Goldfine, is the assistant to President Eisenhower.

Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark) of the House subcommittee said today Goldfine had conducted affairs of his Boston companies in complete disregard of anyone but himself.

Goldfine is before the committee which is investigating practices of federal regulatory agencies and whether Goldfine, gift-giving friend of Sherman Adams, White House aide, received any favored treatment with any agencies.

Robert W. Lishman, committee counsel, tried in vain to get Goldfine to say whether or not the money he and others drew, as well as the decision to write it all off as bad debts, was authorized by the company's board of directors.

Or, Lishman asked, did Goldfine simply order his bookkeeper, assistant, Miss Mildred Paperman, to write him and the others a check.

Has Anybody Seen Our Mia?

Rocket-Riding Mouse May Be Floating in South Atlantic

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — At the bottom of the South Atlantic, or possibly floating somewhere on the surface, the Air Force's space-traveling mouse is believed resting in a tiny hammock today after its spectacular rocket ride.

The mouse is Mia II, an albino female, shot 6,000 miles out of Cape Canaveral off Florida Wednesday night in a Thor-Able rocket.

The impact area was 1,000 miles off the African coast.

The Air Force announced that the missile's flight and re-entry into the earth's fiery atmosphere was a complete success, but attempts to retrieve the nose cone had been stymied.

Recovery of the nose cone and "Mia," the mouse, was the main objective of the test.

HAMMOCK IN CAPSULE

Her hammock is contained within a "life support capsule" in the rocket's nose cone, for which the Air Force and Navy are still searching.

The mouse has food, water and oxygen enough to last several days.

The "life support capsule," like a nuclear submarine, also contains equipment for releasing oxygen and keeping the air purified, as well as food and water.

Mia II wore two "skin electrodes" attached to the back of her head.

These were connected with radio telemetry transmitters, to record her heart beat during her periods of pressure, and weightlessness in flight.

The nose cone may have sunk, or may still be supported by a balloon at the surface. In either case, Mia II should be horizontal and comfortable until some time next week.

Princess Meg to Visit Canada

Leaves London Tonight in Super Luxury Plane

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret leaves tonight for her first visit to Canada on a super luxury plane that carries champagne, caviar and a brimful of hostesses to tuck her into a foam rubber bed.

The princess flies direct to Vancouver B.C., after a brief refueling stop at Goose Bay, Labrador. She will travel eastward across Canada during her month-long visit and leave Aug. 11 by air for London.

Princess Margaret does not plan to visit the United States on this trip, although she has indicated many times in the past she would like to do so.

She will face the prospect of at least three over-the-shoulder looks served in silver dishes on the 300-m.p.h. flight in a 90-passenger "widespread giant" airliner converted for her special use.

Princess Margaret's three-month tour of British Overseas Airways Corp. British Isles and Canada will be the first in the history of the airline.

The crew member in closest contact with her will be stewardess Pamela Croft, 23, who joined the state-owned BOAC after serving as a radio operator in the Women's Royal Naval Service. Pamela has made more than 400 Atlantic crossings.

The silver, white and blue "Bristol" was given a final check at London Airport this morning for the flight.

Colosseum Gets New Scar From Lightning Bolt

ROME (UPI)—The Colosseum wore a new scar in its battered but majestic brow today.

It was put there by a bolt of lightning which chopped a 150-by-1 foot gash in its upper rim yesterday and sent massive stones tumbling down 157 feet, heavily mauling two road repair workers.

But the damage was comparatively unimportant to the Colosseum—400 feet across and 150 feet high—a mile around and a half of a mile around—when it came to the lightning bolt which struck the Colosseum's roof.

Search for Fishing Vessel After Alaskan Tidal Wave

JUNEAU, Alaska (UPI)—An air search for a fishing vessel apparently swallowed up by a jolting Alaskan earthquake, was under way today.

At least three persons were killed, two more were missing and three more believed drowned about the fishing vessel Sumner, after a cabin cruiser washed up on the shores of Yakutat Bay, Seismograph records in many parts of the world quivered when the earthquake, described as "severe," hit yesterday.

The waves tossed fishing boats around like cork and cracked a huge chunk of ice from a glacier and tumbled it into the sea.

Three persons picked up by a tugboat on Ketchikan Island were killed when the quake caused a corner of the island to plunge into Yakutat Bay.

A tidal wave alert caused families to leave beach areas of Hawaii, 3,000 miles away but they returned when the waves did not appear.

The Sumner was last seen "going over a 40-foot land spit" in the grip of huge waves.

William Swanson and his wife, Vivian, apparently were the last persons to see the Sumner. Their boat, the Badger, was sunk by a huge wave and they were rescued by the fishing vessel, Lumen.

"We were, literally, lucky to get out of that," Swanson said. He was not injured seriously and his wife suffered chest injuries but was reported in good condition.

"We were anchored about 200 yards from the head of Lumen Bay when the quake struck," he said. "A glacier reaches right down to shore at that spot and the quake just tripped a huge chunk of ice from the river and it tumbled into the water."

The Swansons managed to climb into their skiff when the Badger went down and they were tossed by giant waves for an hour before being picked up by the Lumen.

Frank Neuman, University of Washington seismologist, described the earthquake as "terrible" and said it had a Richter magnitude of 8. The strongest ever recorded was 8.5.

The quake shook up Juneau but caused no damage or injuries. It caused a strong tidal wave at Sitka but apparently its strength dissipated as it moved across the Pacific.

Look Beyond Recession to Surge of Inflation

4 in Washington Girding for Hard Economic Battle

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is a small but influential group in Washington, known simply as "The Four," which suspects that the hardest economic battle remains to be fought — and is girding for it.

The enemy won't be recession but inflation. The signs of business upturn have been noted hopefully; it appears that a modest recovery may be under way this fall.

If so, the recovery will coincide with the start of a new era of federal deficit financing on a vast scale, and the combined pressures of rising private and government demand could generate another serious surge of inflation.

That's what "The Four" have been worrying about for some time now.

It was concern over inflation which brought the group into existence last September as an unofficial body lacking formal name or legal status.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson watched the value of the dollar sink to new lows month by month, and broached his idea to President Eisenhower.

The idea was simply that the officials directly concerned with money, credit and federal finance — himself and Chairman William Mc C. Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board — should consult jointly and quite frequently with the President and his top economic advisers. The latter are Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, and Gabriel Hauge, presidential assistant for economic affairs.

Eisenhower concurred. Since then he has averaged a meeting a month with the four officials. The meetings had hardly begun when the problems of recession took priority over the problems of inflation. Spending speedups, easier money and lower interest rates were the obvious answers.

To put the brake back on — ever so gently at first to prevent a relapse — will be a more delicate job. But all of "The Four" are determined that there will be no repetition of the events that followed the 1953-54 recession. Before people realized the recession was over, the recovery blossomed into a buying binge, and an inflation that hasn't been stopped yet.

Already "The Four" are weighing the variety of ideas — just about everything short of direct wage and price controls — to keep prices from shooting the moon.

Elections Director Collapses at Work

LANSING (AP) — Robert M. Montgomery, head of the elections division of the secretary of state's office, rested easily today in a Lansing hospital where he was taken after collapsing in his office Thursday.

The 57-year-old Montgomery was reported much improved by his physician, Dr. Leland R. McElurry, several hours after entering the hospital suffering from what his doctor said was exhaustion and acute shock.

Exact nature of Montgomery's ailment has not yet been determined, Dr. McElurry said, and must await the outcome of several tests.

Montgomery served for 16 years as justice of the peace in Lansing before he was elected as a state representative in 1944. He served four terms prior to his appointment as elections director.

The country's success, all admit, will depend greatly on the alertness and courage of the Federal Reserve Board in pulling the credit reins at the right moment, and then feeding out no more credit than is needed to permit an orderly, sustainable growth.

But success also will depend on the readiness of the administration to cooperate when the board decides to move, and the mere existence of "The Four" may help to weld a united front.

The inflationary wallop of a 10 to 12 billion dollars deficit in the government year just starting, Anderson believes, may be minimized through better scheduling of the government's spending programs. Every program starts modestly and builds up to a spending peak. To prevent the peaks from developing simultaneously, Anderson hopes it will be possible to hold some programs back while others go ahead.

In addition, the improved federal-state relationship fostered in the past year or two may be utilized, the secretary thinks, to prevent the federal government from pouring money into military or civilian projects in an area where a state is simultaneously making big public works investments. One or the other might delay its project for a year.

These are just samples of the kind of ideas which "The Four" are entertaining as they try to look beyond the recession.

Chivalrous Teen Girls Change Driver's Tire
COVENTRY, R. I. (AP) — Chivalry took a reverse twist last night. Jerry Ottaviano discovered he had a flat tire in front of police headquarters. Three teenage girls came along took the jack and tools from him and proceeded to change the tire. At the completion of the chore, the girls handed him a card saying they are members of the all-girl Sparkettes' Club dedicated to courtesy on the highway.

the cages at the Humane Society are not strong enough to hold the bears, a male and female weigh-

U.S. Considers Aid to Lebanon

$20-$40 Million Help in Emergency Eyed for Government Survival

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is seriously considering $20 to $40 million dollars in emergency aid for revolt-torn Lebanon to help its pro-Western government survive continuing rebel attacks.

At least part of this sum probably will be granted once the Lebanese have provided supporting data requested by the State Department.

Officials said Lebanon appealed for funds for relief projects and for expenses that have piled up during two months of bloody fighting.

Extending such aid would be the third move by the United States to bolster the regime of President Camille Chamoun since fighting broke out May 10. Limited quantities of American weapons and ammunition already are being shipped. About 65,000 tons of emergency wheat shipments were promised two weeks ago.

Confidence mounted among State Department officials that Chamoun's embattled forces would be able to put down the rebellion and keep Lebanon in the pro-Western camp.

Most officials anticipated Chamoun would agree to some kind of compromise bill, allowing him to step down in favor of a successor acceptable to pro-Western as well as opposition elements.

Attorneys for Trujillo Take Court Summons

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—Attorneys for Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr. have accepted a summons for the general in a Hollywood actress' damage suit.

Lyn Heburn sued the Dominican Republic's visiting playboy for $10,000 charging two of his friends dumped her fully clothed into the swimming pool of his rented mansion.

A deputy county marshal was turned back by aides the first time he sought to serve a summons on Trujillo. Yesterday he returned to the general's luxury yacht, which is docked here, and was met by two lawyers. They accepted the summons.

According to Ohio Psychiatrist:

Hen-Pecking Wives Push Men to Drink

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (UPI)—Hen-pecking wives here blamed by an Ohio psychiatrist today for driving more husbands to drink than almost anything else.

Dr. George T. Harding, professor of psychiatry at Ohio State University, advised wives to treat their husbands like kings if they want to avoid playing second-fiddle to a bottle.

"Hen-pecking wives probably start more men on the road to alcoholism than any other single factor," Harding told the ninth annual Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism meeting on the campus of the College of Medical Evangelists.

The professor said wives drive their husbands to drink by:

- Engaging in too many verbal gymnastics.
- Acting like intellectual exhibitionists.
- Ignoring the economic facts of life.
- Breaking through the "tension barriers" of their husbands.
- Launching husbands too often into social orbit.

Levant Without Piano After Battling With Wife

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—

"The trouble with a pianist leaving home is that he can't just pack his piano and move out."

The speaker was Oscar Levant, piano player, movie actor, television wit — and husband on the lam.

Oscar went into orbit after a Wednesday night battle with his wife June over another woman.

The fight ended when Oscar, screaming fortissimo, called the cops. He claimed his wife hit him with a shoe and then tried to scallop him with pinkie fingers.

Not so, says the red-haired Mrs. Levant, a former member of the singing Gale Sisters. She just threw a shoe at him, but missed.

"That's all there was to it," she said. "I don't know why Oscar wants this kind of publicity. Doesn't he have any regard for our three lovely daughters?"

When told of his wife's comment, Oscar replied: "She tells the children everything while she's choking me. Why doesn't she think of shielding them then?"

Says Industrialists Suspicious of State

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Ohio industrialists regard Michigan with suspicion, says Paul D. Bagwell, Republican candidate for governor.

"They feel it has an unpredictable government which lacks warmth in the industrial development field," he said.

Bagwell spoke here yesterday — one day after talking to executives in the rubber industries at Akron, Ohio.

"They actually were afraid of Michigan," he said, "despite what they admitted were tremendous natural resources which would attract industry and our vast reservoir of skilled labor."

"They told me that the combination of Reuther and Williams in Michigan has created an economic atmosphere so uncertain as to stifle industrial expansion and new production programs on major scales."

State Supreme Court May Enter Divorce

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Michigan Supreme Court Justice Eugene Black has indicated that the state's highest court may intervene in the handling of divorce cases where Circuit Court judges grant decrees on the plaintiff's word only.

Justice Black told circuit judges in Kalamazoo of the possibility at a conference of three justices of the Supreme Court and six regional circuit judges.

In most courts, a person seeking a divorce is required to have a corroborating witness to obtain their decree. But Kalamazoo judges do not require more than the word of the plaintiff.

The practice was defended by Justice Talbot Smith.

He said: "If a judge is any good at all he will require substantiating testimony if the case is weak and he won't need it if the presentation is strong."

Clarifies Waterford Permit Issue Setup

A clarification of the issuance of building and electrical permits has been announced by Waterford Township Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

The announcement was made because of many inquiries from area builders as to why Budget Builders Co. is reportedly receiving electrical permits at half the regular fee.

Johnson said it is a policy of the township to issue building and electrical permits for the full amount to an original contractor.

In the event that the house is sold to another builder before it has been completed, the second contractor must take out a second permit on the same building. This permit fee is half the cost of the original, Johnson explained.

Budget Builders recently purchased 26 unfinished houses at auction from the bankrupt Capland Brothers Development Co.

Street Rolling in Coins a Baganza to Urchins

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The wreck of a coin vending machine man's car here caused a mad scramble among a number of street urchins who scooped up as many coins as they could before police arrived.

Edward J. Alexander, the vending machine man, with the aid of police recovered $360 in nickels, dimes and quarters which flew into the street. The youngsters made off with $140.

Buy His Clothes in 1930, Pays Bill 28 Years Later

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A clothing store got an unexpected $39 bonus when a former credit customer paid off a 28-year-old bill and attached a note saying, "You've been more than patient."

William S. Chick, manager, said the money and note had been mailed from Maryland, Tex., by a man who had bought $39 worth of clothes back in 1930, but because of financial problems, had been unable to pay off the bill until now.

There are more than 2,500,000 acres of tree farms in the Douglas fir regions of the Pacific northwest.

Tot Dies in Goldfish Pond

Retirement Is Boring to Pretty Millionaire

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Kathryn Grayson has a couple million socked away and needs a job like Trujillo needs another girl.

She has this fortune for a simple reason. During her busiest years she bought $10,000 worth of U.S. bonds every week. I don't suppose $10,000 a week sounds like very much to all of you (out there in videoland) but all those $10,000s soon count up.

Different, hey? So although Kathryn retired last year, she got bored, and is now singing at the Latin Quarter—and when it came time to start her engagement, she wondered what she should do.

WILSON

"Something different," suggested her brother, Michael Grayson.

"I'll tell you what I'll do—I'll sing!"

"For a nightclub singer, that would be a terrific novelty!" howled her brother. "How did you ever think of anything so unusual?"

"You know I've always been 'different,'" shrugged Kathryn, modestly. And that's what she's doing now at the Quarter—and after you get over the first shock of hearing a nightclub singer SING, you like it. It won't catch on permanently though; it's just one of those fads.

George Burns tells me Gracie Allen won't miss her TV audience because she never knew there was one. "She concentrated so much on her acting," George said, "that one day about a year and a half after we'd been on TV, she said, George, what's that red light doing on the camera? I told her it'd always been there. She said, 'Well, I don't want it. It bothers me.' I said, 'It didn't bother you for a year and a half!' Anyway, the red lights were taken off the cameras—so Gracie wouldn't be reminded she was on the air."

KATHRYN

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . .

Marilyn Monroe, her hair bleached a "pillowcase-white" for the film "Some Like It Hot," flew to H'wood . . . Rod Steiger'll make the Al Capone film bio—says he'll take out all "unnecessary" violence . . . Singer Jaye F. Morgan took her mother and four brothers along on her tour of Pacific one-nighters . . . Montgomery Clift's taking up art, sold an oil painting to a N.Y. restaurant.

EARL'S PEARLS: The trouble with many marriages is that the people who say "I do," don't.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Once a man got a wife who could cook like his mother; now he's apt to get one who can drink like his father.—Charley Jones. That's earl, brother.

Wives Uniting to End Strike

They Want Husbands Pay Checks Coming In Once More

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP)—Housewives in this Canadian border community find themselves in a strange role—in the field of labor negotiations.

The women have banded together to study a strike which has idled their husbands, and to seek an end to a negotiations deadlock.

A walkout of three maintenance unions at the Minnesota and Ontario Paper Co., the city's principal industry, has put 1,600 men out of work since June 3. Negotiations over wages and the work week have broken down.

"We want to see the men back at work and checks coming in so we can start living again," explained Mrs. Frank Lucachick.

Mrs. Lucachick and Mrs. Jerome Kaminski spearheaded the housewives' movement. They and 10 other women, all wives of non-strikers idled by the walkout, met Sunday with presidents of the three striking unions. A Monday session attracted 50 women, who heard the company's stand explained by officials. A third meeting on Tuesday, with the union bargaining committee, brought out 100 women.

Mrs. Lucachick said the union and company representatives were cordial in the meetings, and cooperative in answering questions.

"We didn't try to get technical or to understand the terms of a labor contract," she added. "We are just a concerned group of housewives and mothers who are worried about the fact there is no work for our husbands because of the strike."

The women have formed a 10-member steering committee, and plan to follow through.

"We intend to maintain watchful interest in the situation," Mrs. Lucachick said. "If nothing happens, we intend to get after them again."

Man Finds Fat Trout on 50-Foot Power Pole

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—Eugene Pike found a 15-inch trout atop one of his 50-foot power poles recently.

Pike manages the electric cooperative here and got a report about a power breakdown. A crew finally spotted something atop one of the poles.

A lineman climbed up and found a fat trout wedged between two insulators.

Pike figures some eagle or hawk must have dropped the trout.

Train's 2-Mile Trip to Take Three Days

ATLANTA (AP)—A steam locomotive that used to travel at 60 miles an hour starts a two-mile trip today that is expected to take three days.

Army engineers plan to shift the locomotive from an Atlanta and West Point Railroad right-of-way to the Southeastern Fairgrounds by Sunday. The engine, Old 290, was given to the city by the railroad for a permanent exhibit at the fair.

The engine and tender weigh more than 174 tons and are about 83 feet long.

The 32-year-old career of Old 290 includes pulling the Crescent Limited from New Orleans to New York. On its final trip it will proceed along track sections placed on Atlanta streets. The sections will be removed and put ahead of the locomotive as it progresses.

Cardinal Making Fast Progress After Operation

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Alojzije Cardinal Stepinac is making excellent progress after an operation to relieve a blood clot in his right leg, his doctor said today.

But Dr. Branislav Bogicevic added that the 60-year-old cardinal's general state of health still was uncertain. The spiritual leader of Yugoslavia's seven million Roman Catholics has been suffering for some years from polycythemia, a blood disease caused by an excess of red corpuscles.

Because of the disease, he is subject to thrombosis (blood clotting) attacks, and the operation had no effect on the primary illness.

No attempt was made to remove the blood clot in the leg, Bogicevic said. Instead, the affected vein was tied off and blood forced to run through smaller, unaffected veins.

4 Attendants Held by Mental Patients

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—Four attendants at the state hospital were held briefly as hostages late yesterday while patients in the ward for criminally insane voiced complaints.

Dr. Alfred K. Baur, superintendent, said one attendant, Clovis Metcalf, suffered a small laceration on the head and a cut on a leg. Another attendant was bruised above an eye, but the other two were not harmed.

Dr. Baur said he talked to the patients and the hostages were released after about 15 minutes. The superintendent said the patients complained that the two attendants who were roughed up came to work drunk yesterday and beat a patient. Dr. Baur said an investigation showed that story was false.

Hang Man in Scotland for 7 Robbery-Murders

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Peter Manuel, 32-year-old New York-born woodworker, was hanged today for murdering seven persons in a series of small robberies.

Manuel, whose parents brought him to Scotland as a child, was convicted March 29 of slaying a man, three women, two girls and a boy.

Halfway through his 18-day trial Manuel fired his lawyer and conducted the rest of his defense himself. Despite his lack of formal education, he astonished the court by his professional handling of his case.

Hal Boyle Asks:

'Old Man and Sea' Film Another Turkey?

NEW YORK (AP)—When producer Leland Hayward decided to film Ernest Hemingway's "The Old Man and the Sea," Hemingway warned him: "This one will be hard to do."

"You'll be dealing with the sun and the moon and the stars and fish and God. You're not used to dealing with these things. It won't be easy," he said.

Recalling the warning three years and five million dollars later, Hayward observed wryly: "The Lord knows he was right. I never spent so much time on one project."

The completed picture runs only an hour and a half. There are those in the industry who figure it may be as big a financial turkey as Hayward's last picture, "The Spirit of St. Louis," another failed to get off the ground.

Hayward, a former newspaper man and press agent who made his first million at 23 and went on to become one of Broadway's most fabulous producers, seems unworried.

"I am a fellow who usually has an opinion on anything," he remarked cheerfully. "But I don't know how this will do financially. If you twisted my arm, I'd say we'll get our money eventually. This one can run forever."

"It should have a big world market. The book was translated into 42 languages. The theme is universal—that man is not made for defeat, that he can be destroyed, but not defeated. It sums up Hemingway's whole philosophy."

The film completes a trio that started with Hayward's highly profitable production of "Mr. Roberts." He now plans to leave the Hollywood vineyard for a while. His tentative plans include three TV shows and three Broadway musicals, including "Gypsy," the life story of Gypsy Rose Lee, starring Ethel Merman.

Hayward, who runs an airline among other sideline chores, is a philosopher as well as a producer. He sometimes has the melancholy feeling that the American people have already lost out in the world struggle "because we let ourselves get too soft." He also believes U.S. ladies have gotten out of hand.

"Our culture is against the male," he said. "I think women are more honest and realistic and less sentimental than men."

"But I don't think as a rule American women are as attractive as other women. We ruin them by spoiling them. We men have corrupted them by killing ourselves working for them."

"They are now 60 per cent of the population, live several years longer than men, own 80 per cent of the wealth."

"In another 20 years they will own everything."

Well, wouldn't that solve a lot of problems and make for a better universe? Hayward shook his head.

"You can't blame women for thinking they should run the world," he said. "As a civilization, we have steadily spoiled them more and more, spoiled them to death."

"But women have failed in the bigger issues. They got the vote—but what have they done with it? I am a pessimist about what they will do with total power, when they get it."

RIDING THE CREST—Little Bertha Proper, 7, of Albany, N.Y., took advantage of a cloud-burst which hit Albany Tuesday and went sailing on Sheriday Ave., a busy downtown Albany street. Her impromptu craft, a plastic washtub, soon swamped in the fast-moving water.

$100 Million Bond Sale Proceeds Delivered

State Finally Collects Road Money

LANSING (AP)—After costly delay, Michigan finally has its hands on the 100-million-dollar proceeds of a highway bond sale in May.

State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown immediately put 90 million dollars into treasury bills and banked the other 10 millions temporarily.

As soon as arrangements can be completed, he plans to distribute about 40 million dollars among Michigan banks in the form of time deposits paying two per cent interest, starting with the amount temporarily banked.

A treasury aide said in response to a circular letter sent out last week 60 banks have put in bids for about 23 millions of the 40. They will receive the money for a year, but the state may recall it on 90 days notice.

The state bonds bear 3.30 per cent interest, raising the prospect of loss on the reinvested portion of the bond issue. The loss will amount to the difference in interest the state will be paying on the one hand and receiving on the other.

FRESH CRITICISM

Republicans, who jumped on Highway Commissioner John M. Mackie for "bungling" arrangements to deliver the bonds, jumped in with fresh criticism after the bonds actually were exchanged for cash in New York yesterday.

The purchasing syndicate refused to accept the bonds June 23, the original delivery date, when it was discovered that Mackie divided the tedious chore of signing the 100,000 bond certificates with a helper.

It was necessary to reprint the bonds, for Mackie to sign all of the second printing and to postpone delivery two weeks.

Lawrence B. Lindemer, Republican state chairman, pictured Mackie as "bragging" that he had "bungled away" only $34,187 by these events.

After taking into account loss in interest from reinvestment as the result of delayed delivery, the needless added cost to taxpayers will come to at least $118,167, Lindemer said.

Paul D. Bagwell, GOP candidate for governor, has contended that the sale of 100 million dollars in bonds rather than a lesser amount was a grandstand stunt, and will result in seven million dollars excessive overall interest charges for the 25-year life of the bonds.

Mackie said the original prospective loss because of the delivery difficulties stood to come to

Giant Industrial Project Starts

Russia, East Germany Cooperate to Bolster Consumer Goods

BERLIN (AP) — The Soviet Union and East Germany are embarking on a giant project of industrial cooperation aimed at boosting the Soviet Union's supply of consumer goods.

The plan to team Soviet resources with East German facilities and know-how involves the latest pet interest of Soviet Premier Khrushchev — plastics. It also marks another step in his program to weld the Eastern bloc's economies into an integrated whole.

Details were disclosed at the East German Communist Party Congress by party boss Walter Ulbricht. The meeting opened yesterday with Khrushchev attending.

Ulbricht said a huge pipeline will be built from the Soviet Union to Saxony, the Ruhr of East Germany, and Soviet oil shipments will be increased almost 500 per cent in the next seven years.

Most of the total of five million tons of oil will go into plastics production, with East Germany's own large lignite deposits also feeding production, Ulbricht reported.

Prot. Wolfgang Schirmer, director of the sprawling East German plants at Leuna, said a big oil refinery also will be built. Production of synthetics will be boosted to almost 300,000 tons by 1965, he told delegates.

This would come close to the present West German level.

Khrushchev first mentioned plastics a few months ago as a possible solution to the shortage of Soviet consumer goods, indicating he would appreciate Western equipment and other help.

'Boy Wonder' Flees Probe

Denies Being Active in Firm Under Fire; He's Staying in Rio

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Earl Belle, president of a big business combine now under federal investigation, says he no longer is active in the company.

The 25-year-old Pittsburgher, head of Cornucopia Gold Mines, Inc., a holding company with diversified interests, made the statement yesterday after being located in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Belle had been absent from his Pittsburgh offices for several days and associates said they didn't know his whereabouts.

Court actions in two states and probes by federal bank examiners and the Securities and Exchange Commission are under way.

Belle stated he no longer is active in Cornucopia when informed by newsmen that A. A. Franks, Boston clothing manufacturer, had asked the Massachusetts Supreme Court to increase a $100,000 bond by Belle to protect an investment in Cornucopia.

The 1956 University of Pittsburgh graduate said he doesn't know when he'll return here. He added that he expects to go to Buenos Aires, Argentina, in a week or two.

Meanwhile, the Peoples Union Bank & Trust Co. of McKeesport, Pa., filed a suit on a $200,000 judgment note against Eastern Development and Investment Corp. of Saltburg, Pa., one of several firms in the Belle-headed combine.

The bank asked that the firm be placed in receivership, asserting its records had been removed and hidden and that "the sheriff will be unable to find any of the defendants' assets, except possibly one filing cabinet."

An SEC investigator, Theodore S. Klisten, said, "We have done some checking here but the job must be completed in Washington. This thing has many ramifications and it would be impossible to tell how long the investigation will take."

No formal charges have been placed against Belle. The U. S. attorney and the FBI say they are not investigating his affairs.

ESP, What Is It? Vincent Price Finds Out

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK—In spite of the fact that he is a famous actor, Vincent Price is a comfort man to be with on a hot humid day. He talks with bristling enthusiasm and his arm gestures circulate the air.

"I wouldn't want to know what's to happen to me in the distant future," Price says, stirring up a breeze as he waves toward eternity. "But I would like to know what is happening to me from minute to minute. I think everybody could use a sixth sense, to keep him more attuned to life. Maybe I'll develop one, starting tonight. It can be done, you know."

Price, the actor-artist, referred to the new ABC-TV show, "ESP" (for extra-sensory perception) which begins tonight. He is the M.C. and he explains it as a quiz show in which the contestants do not need knowledge, or even luck.

"They just need—what should I call it—the thing that women call 'intuition,' and men call a 'sixth sense,' and horseplayers call a 'good hunch.' Let me put it this way, what you need is what you wish you had at Las Vegas..." Price laments that he has never had this extra sense that extends beyond seeing, hearing, feeling, smelling and tasting. This is not then, why he was chosen to head the show.

The reason he was selected is that three weeks ago, "simultaneously," from three parts of the city of New York, phone calls came in to the producer's office suggesting my name. Amazing!"

The producer, feeling this was extraordinary if not extra-sensory, wired Vincent in his California home. "I called my agent and said, 'What is ESP, for heaven's sake?' He said, 'What do you mean, what is ESP? You're talking to a sensitive.'"

Unable to fight such concentrated perception, Price took the job—even though other commitments will make it necessary for him to commute across country weekly to fulfill it.

The six-foot actor turned down dozens of television quizmaster jobs before this came along. ("Too many Empire State Buildings were given away for so little.") The reason he took "ESP" is obvious. He is a probing intellect, who abhors only three facets of life: Snobbery, closed minds and intolerance.

"I think there's no question about it, extra sensory perception is an amazing and powerful sense," he says. "It has been studied by Duke University and others (under the heading, parapsychology), but the time has come for the masses to know about it—that more experiments may be made possible."

It may be recalled that Price's long session on "The $64,000 Question" as an art expert did national wonders for art museums. Curators have said that his TV appearances "gave art a haircut," and were responsible for the beginning of a sharp upsurge in prices on American paintings.

Some scientists contend that ESP can be developed with time.

ASSIST FROM A VETERAN — Pretty Mel Grantham, an actress in the play now called "The Wayward Way," got an assist last night just before curtain time from veteran actor Neely Edwards. Neely, now 74, is the only player of the original cast of "The Drunkard," as the play was known when it opened back in 1933. In the 25 years Neely has missed only about 50 performances. Last night's show was number 9,225.

'The Drunkard' Given 9,225th Performance

By HUBBARD KEAVY
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This is a report on that Methuselah among melodramas, "The Drunkard," by one of its oldest living patrons.
How well I remember — thanks to some clippings — July 9, 1933. "The Drunkard" was then three nights old. Last night I saw performance No. 9,225 — the silver anniversary show, plus three.

Neely Edwards is the only member of the original cast still in "The Drunkard." I saw Neely again last night, for perhaps the 30th time. He was as spry as ever, although he's 74. He was a mere 49 when he first became the father of the girl who is tearfully wronged.

In 25 years, Neely Edwards has missed only about 50 performances.
"The Drunkard" became a musical five years ago and now is called "The Wayward Way." It is pretty corny stuff, but it was taken seriously as a dramatized temperance lecture when P. T. Barnum produced it in the 90s. The current cast plays it very broadly indeed.

The audience sits at tables and drinks free beer and eats free pretzels and hisses the villain. Very freely. They cheer and applaud, always a little more loudly by about the fifth act, when the heroine escapes from the clutches of the leering you-know-who.

Nither the drama nor the moral explains the success of "The Drunkard." It's the sociability, the fun, the taking part in the performance that have attracted 2½ million. July 6 is the actual anniversary, but that date fell on Sunday, when there never is a performance.

"The Drunkard" has more figures than the Bureau of Statistics. If all the empty beer bottles — an average of three per adult customer — were laid end to end, it would take forever to pick them up. If all the pretzels fell on you, they'd crush you.

Why it makes sense to trade-in your old refrigerator now!

MODEL BH 12R

MODEL BH 13R

If you have any idea at all of getting a new refrigerator in the next 12 to 18 months... don't wait! Right now is the best time to trade... best time there's been for over a year... best time there's going to be for a long, long time.

HERE'S WHY:

- 1 Today's refrigerators do more for you... hold more... take up less space... keep foods fresher... are easier to use... and they usually cost no more than they did 10 years ago!
- 2 Today, you'll get more for your old refrigerator than you're likely to if you wait too long. Right now, to help get our economy back on the track, your General Electric dealer is giving extra "Operation Upturn" allowances. The biggest yet!
- 3 Today, credit is easier. Most reputable finance companies have new liberal budget plans that help you buy. For instance, if you buy before July 22, General Electric Credit Corporation lets you delay your first payment for 90 days. And if you get sick or are out of work, G.E.C.C. lets you skip 3 monthly payments without penalty.

Here's why you should have a new G-E refrigerator... now

MORE ROOM! Your old 10 footer actually takes up more room in your kitchen than a big roomy new G-E 12 cubic foot model!

FROZEN FOOD SPACE! That little ice cube compartment in your old box simply won't do! Look at the huge separate freeze chest. Holds nearly a month's supply of food.

REVOLVING SHELVES! No lost leftover here! Everything swings out to the front. Move shelves up or down without unloading.

NO DUST-CATCHING COILS ON THE BACK! A G-E refrigerator fits flat up to the wall. Special hinges let doors open wide even when refrigerator is in a corner.

DEEP DOOR SHELVES! Both doors have big roomy shelves built in.

NO DEFROST MESS! Refrigerator defrosts itself, saves food and fuss.

PICK A COLOR! Get gay with G-E Mix or Match colors. And white, of course.

Dear Abby....

Wife Puts Hubby on Spot

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I like to take rides in the car on the summer evenings. We are friends with another couple who are neighbors and they usually go with us and we stop for a shake or sundae or something.

My problem is that my wife always puts the other man in the front seat with me and she gets in back with the neighbor lady. They talk like a pair of hens and I don't have anything to talk to this man about. The women don't let me turn on the radio because they can't hear each other. What is your advice?

DEAR ABBY: Tell your wife in so many loving words that the reason you married her was because you liked her company. Ask her to ride in the front with you and gab with the ladyfriend on her own time.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widower 76 years of age and in good health. The last three years I've been thinking of taking a trip to my home town in Italy. I have my own money to go with and the only thing that's holding me back is that my children are very much against my going. They think I'm too old to travel alone. I keep telling them when I came here I came alone, so what's the difference? Should I go?

FROSINONE, HERE I COME
DEAR FROSINONE: If you are in good health and have your own money, you don't need permission from your children. Tell them you can take care of yourself, and Frosinone had better watch out!

DEAR ABBY: What can be done about small-town gossip? I have a daughter who is 17 and if what people are saying about her is true, I think I ought to have a long talk with her. She's a senior in high school, is very popular with the boys (not girls) makes average grades and has always been very quiet and secretive about her personal affairs. She's in the house every night by eleven. I hate to write this but people have said they heard she is the fastest girl in town. Should I ask her about this or ignore the gossip?

HER MOTHER.

DEAR MOTHER: What people say about your daughter (true or false) constitutes her reputation and should not be ignored. You should have had many talks with your daughter by this time, but maybe it's not too late to start. Ask direct questions and demand direct answers.

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman who goes to our church who is giving the church a very bad name. She has not been baptized and goes to church just for social reasons. She mixes and mingles and gets friendly with all the church members and they take her in just like she belonged there. I don't know if she pays any dues or has filled out a membership card but I don't think she has. I don't want to ask the Parson because I don't want him to think I am a busy-body. What do you think of a situation like this? If you use my letter, don't use my name.

MRS. NO NAME

DEAR MRS.: All churches keep their doors open for all people because everyone is welcome. If you don't want people to think you are a busy-body—quit acting like one.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Cannot Ask for Money

By EMILY POST
"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married in the near future. I live in the East but plan to make my home on the West Coast after my husband-to-be is discharged from the service. In the meantime I will continue to live at home with my parents.
"I would prefer receiving money, instead of wedding presents as it will not only be very inconvenient, but expensive as well, to ship things to the West Coast. I could use the money I receive to buy things when we go to housekeeping. Is there any way I could let this be known?"

Answer: You may ask the immediate members of your family to give you money instead of other presents, but no one else.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am a member of a group of ten women. In the course of a year each person entertains the group at her house for luncheon or dinner. In this case, is it necessary to bring the hostess a gift? Some say "yes"—some, "no." To me it is quite an unnecessary nuisance.

"As hostess, I collect more unwanted articles than I know what to do with. I never could understand why people felt it was necessary to bring the hostess a present when invited to a meal at her house but it seems to be a widespread custom. Is this correct etiquette?"

Answer: You are entirely right, no present should be taken to the hostess you describe.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have a very beautiful pair of diamond earrings and would like to know just when they may be worn. Is it correct to wear them all the time as one does a diamond ring, or are they properly worn only in the evening and on "dressed-up" occasions? They are not overly large and fit close to the ear."

Answer: According to your description of the earrings, you can wear them whenever you wish except when dressed in really informal clothes or when taking part in some active game such as tennis, or on a beach.

Don't Just Suffer, See Your Doctor

Although many women rush needlessly to a doctor, many put off for years getting a checkup for a chronic condition. Instead, they suffer patiently, and their friends suffer with them.

Quite often a regulated diet or a simple operation will correct the problem.

Designed for Sports

When buying golf slacks, look for cool-wearing tropical worsted slacks of all wool, that are designed specifically for sport. They're more fully cut at the knee. They're designed with many "extra" details to make the game easier.

Beware of Extra Inch

Exercise, Diet Govern Proportions

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Am I proportioned right for my height? I am 4 feet 11 inches tall and weigh 100 pounds. My bust measures 34 inches, waist 24 and hips 35."

A. Your measurements are in just about perfect proportion, but you are a little underweight. Because you are so short you might be wise to take hip-slimming exercises to lose that inch.

Q. "I have developed long dark hairs on my bust. Can they be removed? Please help me. I want to get married but won't because of these hairs."

A. They can be removed by electrolysis.

Q. "I am a young man and I have hair on my forehead. I have to shave there as well as the rest of my face. Is there anything I can do about it? Would not electrolysis be too expensive for such a large area?"

A. I do not believe that you will find it prohibitive, and feel sure it could be arranged on a budget plan. Why not consult a well-trained electrolysis?

Q. "My measurements are: bust 37 inches, waist 31 and hips 42. I am 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 162 pounds. Please tell me how much overweight I am. I have a large frame."

A. If your frame is really very large, you are only about four or five pounds overweight. If it is medium or in between medium and large, you are about 20 pounds overweight. I suspect from your measurements that you would be wise to lose at least 10 pounds, perhaps more.

Q. "I am 35 years old. I recently had a baby and it left stretch marks all over my abdomen and thighs and the upper part of my legs. They are so noticeable that I cannot go swimming. What can I do about them?"

A. Given time they will become less noticeable, but I know of no way to banish them. Don't allow them to cause you to give up swimming. They are prob-ly much more noticeable to you than to others.

Q. "I have been wanting to take a course in ju jitsu but do not know how to go about it. I know this is out of your line but could you help me?"

A. Perhaps the best thing to do would be to inquire at your local YWCA. If they do not give this course, they may know where to direct you.

Q. "I weighed 124 pounds just one year ago. I now weigh 140 pounds. My measurements are 38 bust, 28 waist, 38 hips. I know I can lose from the waist and hips but how can I lose from the bust?"

A. Your proportions are in perfect ratio. You will lose enough from your bust when you lose those 16 pounds.

Tomorrow: "Stimulation Often Gives Complexion New Bloom."

She's trying to touch the right hand with the left foot. This is an exercise for the hips which is one of the six in Josephine Lowman's leaflet No. 3, "Hip Exercises." If you would like the leaflet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 to Josephine Lowman in care of this paper.

Whispering Calls Attention to Gossip

Some persons seem to think that it is all right to make a comment about a person close by if they whisper it, or put a hand in front of their mouths.

But either one just calls attention to the fact that they are talking about someone nearby.

NOW!You Can Say "Charge It"*BURTON'SApparel for Women
75 N. SaginawJealousy Blinds Child to Own Blessings

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

At the dinner table the Johnson boys' jealousy of each other can be seen in clear operation.

Their mother starts serving a chocolate layer cake. At once Ted and his younger brother withdraw all interest in what's going on around them to center it on the cake-cutting. They wait intently while their mother passes slices to their father and little sister.

Then their interest begins to tighten. When Ted gets his piece, he accepts it automatically, his attention on the slice his mother is cutting for Bobby so concentrated that he doesn't actually taste the mouthful of cake he's forked into his mouth. His eyes and Bobby's eyes are fixed on Bobby's portion, measuring it, checking it, comparing its size and depth of icing with the size and depth of Ted's slice.

If one portion has the slightest disadvantage compared with the other one, its owner bursts into complaint. "You've given him more chocolate than I've got!"

This is the secret of jealousy's cruelty—the completeness of its victim's interest in the other fellow's advantage to the total exclusion of interest in any advantage he's got himself.

Parents who have worked through jealousy themselves know this.

So they know that treatment of a jealous child is a persistent effort to break his total absorption in his brother's advantage by leading him to enjoy the taste of the cake he's got in his mouth.

Mrs. Johnson gets nowhere with her boys' jealousy because she doesn't see this. Her response to the complaint, "He's got more chocolate than I have!" is to spoon more chocolate on the complainer's plate so that he can imagine he's got his brother's portion.

But in the world of reality, none of us is given our brother's experience.

The Bible's Cain was a jealous child. When he demanded Abel's portion of approval, God asked him, "If thou doest well, shall thou not be accepted?"

But Cain couldn't see that he'd done well, so obsessed was he with Abel's advantage. As nobody loved him enough to open his eyes to his own accomplishment, he destroyed his brother and, in so doing, himself.

Don't Grab, Poke When Conversing

Keep your hands off other people when you are talking to them. The person you're talking to will not appreciate having you slap him on the back, grab his arm as though you feared he might go away or poke a finger in his shoulder to emphasize a point you are making.

Roll With Years to Age Gracefully

Many women refuse to roll with the years, the way a boxer rolls with a punch. Instead of finding a pleasing hairdo, having a daily beauty routine and selecting complimentary clothes, these women give up.

And then they look enviously at women their age who make the most of their maturity.

The Store Where Quality Counts

Have You Tried This?Fresh Blueberries Used to Fill, Top Torte

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Blueberries used as a cake filling are unusual. This interesting dessert recipe should be a conversation piece at this time of year when blueberries are in season. It's a favorite recipe from Mrs. Merritt Cooley of Clarkston.

Mrs. Cooley took a big step last fall and enrolled in college. She hopes to go through for her degree, then teach. Her family is raised and away from home. Antiques and sewing are her hobbies.

Bonnie's Blueberry Torte

By Mrs. Merritt Cooley

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
3 egg yolks

1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
Dash of salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1 quart blueberries

Cream butter and 1/2 cup sugar; add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, vanilla and almond extract. Spread in 2 waxed paper lined 8-inch layer cake pans.

Place meringue made of egg whites and remaining 1/2 cup sugar over one layer. Bake in 350-degree oven for 40 minutes. Cool. Place sweetened berries between layers and over top. Have meringue layer on top. Serves 8-10 people.

Bride-to-Be Is Honored at Shower

Patricia Ann Campbell was honored at a party shower given by her attendants.

Alice Reed will be her maid of honor, and Beverly Berkeley and Cleo Tetlock, her bridesmaids. Gail Campbell, the bride-elect's sister, will serve as junior bridesmaid.

Guests present for the Wednesday shower held at the home of Alice Reed of Lakeview drive, Sylvan Lake, were Mrs. Stanley Campbell, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. Walter H. Jackson, mother of the prospective bridegroom; Mrs. William Arnold, Mrs. Gerald Aldon, Doris Reed, Sandy St. Dennis, Marion Boston, Nancy Schack, Phyllis Law, Mrs. George Berkeley, Mrs. Guy Reed, Gale Campbell, and Marjorie Willard.

Patricia Ann will wed Walter Larry Jackson Aug. 9, at the Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church.

Washing Toys Protects Child

Have you ever noticed how pre-school youngsters love toys that permit them to play grown-up? And probably the all-time favorite is the toy telephone.

Now toy phones—mostly made of plastic—are more fun than ever because they come with old-fashioned party-line cranks, bells, gongs, and even music boxes.

But no matter what type of toy phone your child has, sponge it often with soap or detergent suds to wash germs from the mouthpiece and sticky fingerprints from the cradle.

Real phones also need to be sudsed off, making certain that no water seeps into the instrument itself.

Want Washability?

Designers, manufacturers and stores are well aware of the fact that women want safe washability first of all. If you can't wash it, why bring it home?

3 in Orion Seeking School Board Post

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Orion Board of Education post held for 10 years by retiring member Harold Ingram will be contested for by three candidates in the annual school election Monday.

Seeking Ingram's seat are Gordon Brown, Donald Weston and James Winship.

Polls, open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., will be at the Lake Orion Village Hall, 27 E. Elm St., Orion Township. Hall, 571 S. Broadway, and the Gringolville Fire Hall, at Gregory and Baldwin roads.

Brown, a mail carrier in Lake Orion for the past seven years, is married and the father of two children, one of whom is just starting school. A resident of the village since 1939, he lives at 151 Shorn Dr.

Weston, former principal of Webster School in the Orion School District, now is a principal in the Rochester system. He holds a master of education degree from Wayne State University and was a supervisor for a Firestone Rubber Co. division plantation in Africa before coming to Orion Township in 1953.

He lives at 870 Sunset road with his wife and their three sons.

Winship, active in community school and youths activities, is chief development engineer for Bohn Aluminum and Brass Corp. in Detroit. A PTA member, he was on the Citizens Advisory Committee for the high school. Winship also is Sunday School superintendent and chairman of the Board of Deacons of the Lake Orion Baptist Church, besides being a 4-H group leader.

The Winships and their four children live at 946 Orion Rd.

There are 4,139 persons registered to vote in the school election.

Results of the balloting will be announced at the annual Board of Education meeting in the high school building right after the polls close.

Printed yearly reports covering most phases of school operation will be distributed to all persons attending, the board said. Questions on school policies and operation also will be answered at this time.

State Commission Will Decide

To View Aperitif Names

LANSING (AP)—The State Liquor Control Commission will meet Monday to pass on names for wines newly-classified as aperitifs.

An "aperitif," according to Webster's dictionary, is a mild drink taken before dinner and generally is thought of as a society-type tipple.

But the commission now is putting all wines with 20 per cent alcohol and natural flavor added in the aperitif class.

Case sales in this classification totaled 55 last June and 14,793 this June.

The wine drinker can buy a fifth of aperitif for as little as 85 cents and it's suspected some of the drinking is done after, as well as before, dinner.

The sensational rise in aperitif consumption, somewhat concentrated in economically depressed areas of Detroit, has coincided with a slump in sales of whisky, a much more expensive item.

To Vote on 3 Issues in School Election

IMLAY CITY — Voters in the Imlay City School District election Monday will receive three ballots.

On the first, they will select one of two candidates for one three-year Board of Education post. Seeking the office are Kent Gilles, incumbent, and Oscar Dale, a member of the former Attica District School Board.

A proposal that residents of the former Bentley School District assume their pro rata share of the bonded indebtedness of the Imlay District will appear on the second ballot.

On the third, voters will be asked to approve a proposal authorizing the Board to sell the land and buildings of the Lake Pleasant, Blacks Corners and Webster schools which are not used any longer.

Polls in the Imlay City High School will be open from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

County Calendar

Dryden — The Dryden Area Improvement Assn. will hold a dinner meeting Thursday evening in the Dryden Methodist Church social room. Members plan to select a motto for the association and discuss project plans for the coming year.

Avon Township — The Ladies Auxiliary, Spirit 23, of Avonville Methodist Church will hold a bazaar sale Saturday at the Avonville Fire Hall on Auburn road, beginning at 10 a.m. Proceeds will go into the group charity fund.

Four Towns — The Four Towns Methodist Church Community Education will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Malvin Orin, 785 Locust Rd.

Lapeer — The Lapeer District Boy Scout picnic will be held Sunday at Cranston Park in Lapeer, beginning at noon. All club, scouts, explorers, their leaders, families and friends have been invited.

An average American farm uses up to 100 per cent more electric current than it needed 15 years ago.

Dances Begin for Teenagers at Westacres

WESTACRES—The first of a series of teenage summer dances will take place at the Westacres Clubhouse from 8 to 11:30 tonight.

Bob Garrels and his Collegiate will provide the music. Pop and candy will be available. Jo Harlow, chairman of the affair, announced. The theme of tonight's dance is "Summer Serenade."

All area teenagers, 14 years of age or older, including June graduates, may attend. As in previous years, no one wearing bluejeans will be admitted, nor will anyone be permitted to leave the hall and re-enter.

Dances will be held through August on alternate Friday nights. They are being sponsored by the Westacres Woman's Club. A small fee to defray expenses will be charged.

'Plug Car Sales,' Governor Asking Michigan Envoys

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's industrial ambassadors have been asked to take on an added duty—plugging car sales.

Gov. Williams asked the 175 volunteer industrial ambassadors to urge businessmen in other states to make their car and truck purchases now.

The top-ranking industrialists originally were appointed to sell Michigan as an industrial state.

"The mission is," Williams wrote them, "to promote by every available means the sale of Michigan's most important product—automobiles."

The Governor said there never has been and never will be a time when a better automobile can be purchased at a lower cost than today.

Williams noted that every car sold means an estimated 36 days of work for an auto plant employee.

ORION YOUNGSTERS GO AMPHIBIOUS

In a busy resort area like Lake Orion, children start thinking about swimming not too long after they learn to walk. To insure their safety in the water, the Lake Orion Child Guidance Club each summer sponsors swimming classes at the Village Park. Learning the fundamentals yesterday under the expert instruction of life

Four Seek Election in Oxford Area

2 School Board Posts Open

OXFORD—Four candidates, including two incumbents, will vie for two posts on the Oxford Area Community Board of Education in the annual school election Monday.

Seeking re-election are Wayne McMeans, present board secretary, and Robert McWilliams. The other two candidates are Jack Salswede and Howard Thatcher.

One term is for two years and the other for three.

Polls, open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., will be in the Oxford High School on Washington street and at Rowland Hall in Leonard.

McMeans, who is a teacher in the Waterford School system, is a former member of the Oakwood Area School Board. He also was a member of the interim Board of Education after the reorganization of the districts.

McWilliams was a member of the Lakeville Board and the interim board. He is employed by General Motors Corp. of Canada.

Salswede, a former member of Oxford School District 5 Board, is manager of the American Aggregate operations in Oxford.

Thatcher, a newcomer to school elections, owns a sheet metal firm in Oxford.

Final plans for the luncheon were made at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Norman Cavanary, 910 South Williams Lake Rd. Mrs. Glenn S. Wright was co-hostess.

The guild will hold no other meetings until September. However, Mrs. John A. Guarnieri, 8816 Charbone Dr., Cooley Lake, will open her home to members for a potluck luncheon the afternoon of Aug. 13.

WHO'S AFRAID? — Diminutive Mary Dianne Newbery, 17 months old, administers a man-size pat to the head of a giant ox, one of a team which pulls a Conestoga wagon at New Salem State Park, in Illinois. To Mary, who still has a little trouble with her English, every animal is a how-wow. The ox? He just blinked a lazy eye at her friendly advances. Mary was pictured by her father, Ted Newbery, on a recent visit to the park.

Will Hold Second Open House at Avon Campus

AVON TOWNSHIP — A second open house will be held Sunday at the future North Central Christian College campus at 820 W. Avon Rd.

The first, held on a recent Saturday, was attended by about 500 persons.

Since then there have been many requests by persons unable to attend. G. Wheeler Utley, chairman of the Board of Directors of the new college, said, so another public open house was scheduled.

Board members will act as guides to show visitors through the property. Plans for future buildings and the development of the campus will be on display in the main building, Utley said.

Establishment of a liberal arts college next year, with future development into a four-year college, is being planned.

Defends Urging Tourists to Stay Home on Holiday

LANSING (AP) — "Dead tourists don't spend money," declared Secretary of State James M. Hare.

His statement was in answer to a group of Traverse City businessmen who accused Hare of hurting Michigan's tourist industry.

Hare had recommended that people stay home on holiday weekends, such as the recent Fourth of July, "instead of making a frantic rush to cover hundreds of miles."

A wire from Robert Yelter, president of the East Bay Business Men's Assn., said the recommendation "caused irreparable damage" to tourist and resort income.

"I pointed out," Hare said, "that there was some possibility that changing Independence Day habits had some influence on highway fatalities and that many people were enjoying recreation nearer home."

"My recommendation to tourists is to take a couple of weeks or more and spend more time in resort areas and less time rushing madly about the highways making one-night stops. All of us should encourage long Michigan vacations not hectic two-day quickies."

"I merely believe that live tourists can spend more money than dead or crippled tourists."

Tax Cut Costs Six Teachers

Other Economy Moves Required in Rochester, Says Education Head

ROCHESTER — To meet an expected deficit due to a recent cut of 47 cents per each $1,000 of assessed property valuation by the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board, the Rochester Board of Education has announced that it plans to eliminate six teaching positions in the school system.

Other economy measures also will be required, according to Donald C. Baldwin, superintendent.

One teaching position each in the junior and senior high schools will be dropped and four from elementary schools, the board said. The cutback means that some of the new rooms at Mendow Brook and Woodward Elementary schools will not be used this fall, Baldwin said.

All field trips requiring transportation will be eliminated, he said. Expenses for pre-opening conferences and personnel relations will be reduced.

Baldwin said the school camp for high school students will not operate next year, and the mental health program budget will be reduced by two-thirds. Money for teacher and administrator educational meetings will be cut by one-third.

Although the 1958-59 fiscal year school budget has been increased by $120,000, most of this hike will be needed to hire 20 additional teachers to staff new classrooms and meet growing enrollments, Baldwin said.

'Paul Bunyan Days' Coming at Union Lake

UNION LAKE — "Paul Bunyan Days" will be held at Union Lake Wednesday and Thursday, with events scheduled each day from 2 to 11 p.m.

Sponsored by the Union Lake Businessmen's group, the affair will include a carnival and free carousel rides for children. All proceeds will be used for charity.

July Fourth fireworks cause few deaths in average years currently. By comparison fireworks accidents took the lives of 466 persons in the U.S. in the 1903 celebrations.

Set Up Flying Plans for Governor's Trip

LANSING (AP)—Flying plans for a trip by Gov. Williams and his family to the all-Negro republic of Nigeria were announced today by the executive office.

The governor was invited to bring along one extra guest and selected Judge Wade M. McCree Jr., of the Wayne County Circuit Court, Michigan's only Negro circuit judge.

Williams will be a guest of honor at an independence day celebration in Liberia on July 24.

The governor's party will leave New York by plane July 22, fly to Lisbon, Portugal, and from there fly to Monrovia, the capital of Liberia. Plans for the return trip have not yet been completed.

Liberia is an independent republic founded by freed slaves and is located on the west coast of Africa. Michigan has sent several of its top experts to help in reorganizing governmental machinery there.

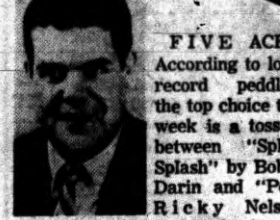

Waterford Zoning Board Slates Special Session

There will be a special meeting of the Waterford Township zoning board at 8 p.m. Wednesday to discuss the possibilities of creating two specific commercial zones, from the one over-all commercial zoning ordinance now in effect.

Board members contend that the present commercial zoning code is inadequate for covering the various types of businesses identified as commercial, due to the rapid population-growth of the township.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

FIVE ACES: According to local record peddlers the top choice this week is a toss-up between "Spish Splash" by Bobby Darin and "Poor Ricky Nelson" having a slight edge for first place.

In third is Jonny Otis with "Willie & the Hand Jive." Close behind is Duane Eddy's "Rebel Rouser." As if this wasn't enough noise to be served up on a turntable, Elvis is back rockin' all over the joint in fifth place with "Hard Headed Mama."

Also hot, but not enough to rate among the top five on the volume meter, are "If Dreams Come True" by Pat Boone, "Yackety Yack" by The Coasters, and "Patricia" by Perez Prado (which seems to be coming on fast).

Looking like coming hits are "Fever" by Peggy Lee and "A Certain Smile" by Johnny Mathis. A brand new disc by Doris Day called "Everybody Loves a Lover" is my choice for a big seller. It's got just about everything a hit record needs.

Local record buyers should be proud of the fact that they act as leaders to the rest of the country (yes, this means YOU). The Detroit-Pontiac area is a pulse beat of the industry.

Look at the national listings. Currently the top five are "Purple People Eaters," "Dream," "Secretly," "Yackety Yack," and "Endless Sleep." All have already been top here and are now falling off in sales.

Cook Laboratories has come up with a trio of new releases. All three are unusual and two of them are pretty hot items. "The New Clavichord" (Cook 1133) features Red Camp playing a dozen off-beat numbers. His use of the 18th Century instrument for such classics as "Waltz in Left Field," "Prelude For Twelve Fingers," and "Nagasaki" will delight all Mozart haters.

"Beauty and the Brute Force" (Cook 1049) features top notch stuff for calypso fans. The Brute Force, Steelband of Antigua teams with the sultry singing of Trinidad's Dot Evans to produce a program of Caribbean hit tunes.

"Voices of the Sky" (Cook 1075) is a collection of airmen's, jets, and in-flight sequences. It's fair, but left me waiting for something to happen.

Kadar Stops at Nothing

By United Press International
"Tough... sinister... murderer..."
These have been some of the names applied to Jonas Kadar, the multi-faceted Red boss of Hungary, and the man the Russians put in as puppet, a man later after they smashed the 1956 Hungarian "Revolution" for freedom.

IN SEIZURE COMPANY
Today, Kadar is in East Berlin with other satellite leaders for talks with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. As a select Communist, he is in select company.

The dark-haired, dark-shouldered Kadar, as one of his associates once wrote, "is a man of pure blood." At 44, he looks and acts the gentle, persuasive politician. But the record shows that his career has not stopped at that, whether at his own hand or another's.

Not has he always ridden high, and he knows Communist tricks from the inside. It is said that even among his contemporaries, it is not understood how he has escaped the hangman's noose, to which he often stood close.

JOINED RANKS
Kadar, as a young locksmith, joined the Communist ranks in pre-war Hungary when the party was illegal and its members ran high risks. His dedication won him the trust of the Red underground, and when World War II began he held a small post of party leadership. He became a friend of the then party leader, the above-mentioned Kadar.

Then began the series of events in restless Hungary that saw Kadar's star rise as Nagy's fall. In 1947, Kadar was arrested and in a rigged trial, with torture-tormented confessions, convicted and sent to prison. He spent three years in solitary confinement. In 1951 in the anti-fascist tide, he was among 60,000 political prisoners freed through the intervention of Premier Imre Nagy.

And when the revolt was crushed, Kadar—who during the revolution became head of the Communist Party—accepted the top, bestowed by Moscow, as premier.

Sheriff Wants Probe of His Own Office

DETROIT UP—Three persons have asked two agencies to handle investigations of the Wayne County Sheriff's Office.

One of those asking an investigation is the Sheriff himself, Arthur C. Robert. Robert wants the Sheriff's Subcommittee of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors to conduct the probe.

The other requests come from John Mazur, a former assistant Wayne County prosecuting attorney, and Edwin E. Wilcox. Both Mazur and Wilcox are among the 14 candidates opposing Robert for sheriff in the Aug. 5 primary election.

Wilcox, a Dearborn attorney, wants a 25-man grand jury to probe the sheriff's office. Mazur wants the Sheriff's Subcommittee to do the job.

Mazur, who was asked to resign as an assistant prosecuting attorney when he announced his candidacy for sheriff, started the whole thing when he revealed the whole information of alleged irregularities in the sheriff's office.

Robert has denied any irregularities in the office.

Warning Issued in State for Withholding Tax Log

DETROIT UP—R. I. Nixon, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, said today some 2,255 Michigan employers who are behind in withholding tax payments have been mailed notices and letters.

A recently passed law makes anyone failing to turn tax money promptly over to the government liable to jail and fine.

Nixon said, "The new law will be applied fairly, with due regard to the circumstances of each delinquency case. But the service will be firm in seeing that withheld taxes properly due the government are not dissipated by employers or otherwise diverted to their own use."

Cuts Year on Probation for Theft From Mails

DETROIT UP—Robert A. Stenget, 27, of Ypsilanti, was placed on one-year probation yesterday for theft from the mails.

Stenget, sentenced by Federal Judge Thomas P. Thornton at Detroit, pleaded guilty June 10 to stealing $80.68 from four letters while working as a temporary clerk in the Ypsilanti post office.

Nikita's Telling Same Old Story

Blasts West and Tito, or East German Red? Party Congress

BY SETBACKS TOPPING
BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev rebuked the Komsomol current propaganda line for the East German Communist Party Congress today. He accused the West of:

1. Preparing to intervene in revolution Lebanon.
2. Trying to torpedo the proposed summit conference.
3. Trying to exploit the association of the Hungarian revolt.

The Soviet Communist boss also accused Yugoslav President Tito of allying himself with the North Atlantic powers.

"At present the tensions in the Near East are sharpening," Khrushchev said.

"The leaders of the imperialist powers are preparing a new intervention in Lebanon, where the people are fighting for their independence and against the Dulles-D Eisenhower doctrine."

"The aggressive circles in the West are prepared to use everything for their selfish aims, to complicate the international situation, to renew the cold war and to torpedo the summit conference."

He held more than 2,000 cheering East German and Russian delegates. "The reactionary circles in the West recently renewed their campaign against the comrades of the socialist camp. They have used especially the sentences of the Supreme Court of the Hungarian People's Republic against the traitor (former Premier) Imre Nagy and his helpers."

Detroit Police Hunt Youth With Smelly Humor

DETROIT UP—A youth who takes pleasure in leading live animals into police cars is being sought by Detroit Police.

Three youths were released on bond yesterday after they told police the hunter of the skunk was one of another group of unknown boys who fled the arresting officers.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Arthur J. Koehnke said he would delay seeking a warrant against the trio for two weeks because "we want the guy who threw the skunk."

Tigers Haunted by Home Runs

Nats Belt Trio Off Lary in 5-3 Night Victory

Detroit Slips to Fourth Place; Harris Homers for Losers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The home run is killing the Detroit Tigers. "I wonder when some of my fellows are going to start hitting them," said manager Bill Norman, as he woefully watched his team drop the first of a three-game series to Washington last night, 5-3.

All of the Senators' runs were driven in by homers.

The Tigers have won 16 games and lost 10 since Norman took over a few weeks ago. But they have hit only 15 homers in the 26 games, while the opposition has chalked up 22. And only four times have the Tigers hit homers when they count most— with men on base.

Detroit slipped into fourth place as a result of the loss to the Senators, 12 and 1/2 games behind the league-leading Yankees, but a mere percentage point behind Kansas City.

The victory by last-place Washington proved to be a costly one, for shortstop Rocky Bridges suffered a broken jaw when hit by a pitch thrown by Frank Lary in the second inning.

Bridges, the only Washington player to make the 1958 American League All-Star team, will be out of the lineup indefinitely. Six stitches were taken in his jaw at Georgetown University Hospital.

The homers that broke the Tigers' backs were hit by Roy Sievers, Clint Courtney and Jim Lemon.

Detroit had a chance to pull the game out of the fire in the ninth inning when with one run in, only one out and men on first and third, they went down swinging. Reliever Rick Hyde came in to stop the rally by fanning Ozzie Virgil and Al Kaline.

Pedro Ramos got the credit for the win, his seventh of the season, against six losses. Lary took his eighth loss in 16 games, while scattering 10 hits.

Sievers put Washington into the lead in the third inning with his 20th homer of the season, driving in Albie Pearson who had just doubled.

Detroit's Gail Harris got a bases-empty homer in the fourth, and the Tigers tied it at 2-2 in the fifth when Virgil singled home Lary, who had singled. Centerfielder Harvey Kuenn knocked in Detroit's final run in the ninth with a base hit.

But it was not enough to overcome the Senators, who by that time had tallied five runs—thanks to Courtney's fourth homer of the year in the sixth and Lemon's 16th four-bagger in the eighth.

Burdette Socks Grand Slam

Yankees Sweep Pair

United Press International
Lew Burdette, who took matters into his own hands for the Milwaukee Braves in the 1957 World Series, may be about to do the same for them in the currently snarled-up National League pennant race.

The World Series hero, an in-and-out the first half of this season, staged a one-man show at Los Angeles last night when he hit two homers, including a grand slammer, to lead the Braves to an 8-4 victory over the Dodgers. Burdette's first homer, off Johnny Podres in the fourth inning, made him the only active N.L. pitcher with a grand slam to his credit.

The victory enabled the Braves to go 1 1/2 games ahead of the second-place San Francisco Giants who were bested, 4-0, by Bob Purkey and the Cincinnati Redlegs. The Philadelphia Phillies moved into third place with a 13-5 rout of the St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-7, in other N.L. games.

In the American League, the New York Yankees opened up an 11 1/2-game margin by sweeping a day-night from the Cleveland Indians, 7-4 and 4-3. The Boston Red Sox crushed the Chicago White Sox, 11-2, and took over second place when the Baltimore Orioles swept the Kansas City Athletics, 6-3 and 3-2.

A crowd of 40,508 at Los Angeles booed Burdette, who got into frequent disputes with umpire Shag Crawford over ball-and-strike calls, but went the distance with an 11-hitter. The win squared his record at 7-7 while the loss was Johnny Podres' eighth in 16 decisions.

Burdette hit his grand slam in the fourth inning after the Braves filled the bases on a single by Del Crandall, Johnny Logan's double and an intentional walk to Andy Pafko. The blow went over the coliseum's short left field screen and Felix Mantilla followed with another in the same spot to put the Braves ahead, 5-0.

Purkey shut out the Giants for the second time this year and won his 10th game for the Redlegs with a neat seven-hitter. Frank Robinson homered and also singled in a run for the Redlegs while Johnny Temple and Don Hoak each had two hits. Al Worthington suffered his fourth loss.

Elston Howard knocked in three runs with a fourth-inning triple and an eighth-inning single as the Yankees rallied to win their day game. Relief pitchers Johnny Kucks and Ryne Duren held the Indians to one hit over the last 5 1/2 innings.

In the night game, Jerry Lumpe's two-run double was the big blow of a four-run eighth-inning New York rally and Duren again came to the rescue with his flame-thrower in the ninth.

Jackie Jensen paced a 13-hit Red Sox attack with a grand slam homer and two other hits to make it easy for Frank Sullivan to win his seventh game. Jensen now leads the majors with 25 homers and 72 runs batted in. Early Wynn suffered the loss for the White Sox.

Billy O'Dell, A.L. All-Star hero, snuffed out a ninth-inning threat in the first game for the Orioles and Arnold Portocarrero pitched a five-hitter in the nightcap. Al Plafieck knocked in three runs in the first game and Billy Gardner singled home the winning run in the second.

Diamond Dust

By CHUCK ABRA

One of the season's better baseball fist fights occurred recently in an American Association game involving none other than Pontiac resident Charles "Ducky" Oertel.

It was a humorous incident for the 973 fans in attendance at St. Paul, Minn. but probably not very funny to the former St. Frederick star. He lost out all the way around.

Oertel not only suffered a cut on the forehead which required four stitches to close. He also was tagged out for leaving a base without calling timeout and then was thumbed out of the game for fighting. Next will likely come a fine.

It was all the start of a miserable week for the Louisville out-fielder which saw him go 1-for-14 in one stretch and 4-for-22 overall. That dropped the Baltimore farmhand below .300 again at .298 after he had blazed at the plate only the week before.

The fight was with St. Paul pitcher Bob Darnell, who also got the heave-ho. Oertel had just singled for his 32nd hit of the game in the 5th inning and was standing on 1st base when the two got into a heated argument. Oertel left the bag to tangle with the hurler.

"Ducky" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Oertel. He has drawn considerable praise from Oriole officials in recent weeks for his batting and defensive play in right field.

SKIPPING AROUND — The Auburn Heights Boys' Club is mighty proud of its pitching staff and no wonder. Lynn Thorpe, Dwight Sherman and Dennis Acker recently pitched successive no-hit games. Team has four other victories.

City baseball officials planning another big Amateur Day. First place team in Class A loop meets an All-Star group in feature. It will be interesting to see who is leading when July 27 rolls around. The Junior Legion League is similar to the American League in the Majors.

Boys Club Wins 'B' Tilt With Foe's Aid

Two infield errors sandwiched around a stolen base accounted for the deciding run in the bottom of the 7th inning as the Boys Club nosed out Talbott Lumber, 6-5, in Class B City League baseball action yesterday at Jaycee Park.

Talbott had tied the score at 5-5 with a three-run uprising in the top of the 7th, only to see it wasted by faulty defensive work. Dick Goldworthy was the winning pitcher in relief while Dick Deschaine hurled the route for the losers.

Utica Golfer Leading Texas Pro-Am Event

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Max Evans, of Utica, Mich., and his amateur partner, Mac Boring of Odessa, fired a 6-under-par 63 best-ball yesterday to take the lead in the first round of the $10,000 Odessa Pro-Amateur golf tournament.

They took a 1-stroke lead over four teams—Bobby Westfall, Liberal, Kans., and Jim Owen, Amarillo, Tex.; Boyd Huff and Bobby Nichols, Midland, Tex.; Billy Maxwell and Bill Orden, Odessa, and Joe Walser, Altus, Okla., and Glen Fowler, Oklahoma City.

National Open champion Tommy Bolt, playing with amateur Bruce Koch of Rochester, N. Y., had a 68.

The favored combination of Bo Winger and Bobby French of Odessa soared to a 74.

Error Decides Class A Game

A single, stolen base and costly error combined to hand the Jets an 8-7 victory over Griff's Grill yesterday in an eight-inning Class A City League baseball game at Windsor Field.

With one man out in the top of the 8th inning, Joe Soto singled and stole 2nd. After Collo Hunt fanned, shortstop John Shanks let Louie Sney's grounder get through him for an error and Soto dashed home with the winning run.

Griff's tried to rally in its half of the 8th as catcher Jim Berg doubled and took 3rd on a wild pitch. But Berg was stranded as Russ Lothery popped out to end the game.

The decisive run scrapped a six-run uprising by Griff's in the 5th stanza, which tied the score at 7-7 and forced the contest into extra innings. John Bonser was the winning pitcher while Terry Hoy absorbed the defeat.

Model Auto Racers Build New Track

H. S. BRIGGS

Pontiac Model Racing Car Assn., whose members hold four world records, will be host for a racing meet here, July 20, at a new track in Oakland Park. The meet is expected to attract between 50 and 60 of the country's speediest miniature machines, besides those entered by the Pontiac association.

The PMRCA's new track is now under construction at the north side park. It will be ready for use some time before the racing date, says H. S. Briggs, 206 Mt. Clemens, association prexy and long-time builder and racer of fast model automobiles.

"We expect to have some very fast cars here," says Briggs. "If the weatherman cooperates with a good, clear day, we could easily hang up some new world records."

Relocation of the association's track to Oakland Park affords much greater room for handling the little machines, as well as affording room for spectators. Track was formerly located at the North Side Skating Rink.

Briggs explains that the improved facilities will offer an opportunity to give young devotees of the model racing car sport, a lot more attention than formerly was possible.

First world model racing car championships have been set for Zurich, Switzerland, starting Aug. 10. Briggs, who holds four world marks, in the .099 class, .15 B class, .29 custom class and .19 class, hopes he can manage a sponsorship so that he can compete. He has four new cars now in construction, and expects to have them ready in case he makes the trip.

In only one class, the .09, are the European model car racers ahead of American marks, with a 72 m.p.h. mark. U. S. however, has some that have done better in this class. Other comparable records for Europe include .29 at 95 (110 for U.S.), .15 class 78 (U.S. 87), .09 at 72 (U.S. at 55), .60 class 122 (U.S. 150).

At the recent national race at Kokomo, Ind., Briggs set the following records: .099 at 55 m.p.h., the .15 B at 87.55 m.p.h., the .29 custom 119.53 m.p.h., the .19 custom at 101.34 m.p.h.

Phil Sauer's .29 custom job was seventh in his class at Kokomo, and his .19 custom car was 8th, at 100.44 m.p.h. and 87.71 m.p.h. respectively. Johnny Heitsch's .19 custom class car was 2nd to Briggs at 95.34 m.p.h. Sauer and Heitsch are Pontiac association members, model car racers of many years experience.

35 Lightnings Enter Midwestern Regatta

BENTON HARBOR (UPI)—Thirty-five boats from six Midwestern states and Canada were expected to enter the Midwest Lightning Championship regatta at Benton Harbor Saturday and Sunday.

The races will be staged over a six-mile course on Lake Michigan. The top four craft will represent the Midwest at the International Regatta later this year in New Jersey.

75 Yachts Will Race Saturday

Top Cutter Withdrawn From Big Lake Huron Meet

PORT HURON (AP)—Possibility of a record fleet for Saturday's starting of the Port Huron-to-Mackinac Island yacht race has dimmed with the withdrawal of a $200,000 boat that won't sail.

Last year's record of 77 entries for the 235-mile race from the southern to the northern tip of Lake Huron appeared likely to be bettered this weekend.

But Hans Warnke of Detroit was forced Thursday to scratch his 54-foot all-steel cutter, Great Lakes, because it refused to sail. This reduced the field to 75 entries.

The Great Lakes had been considered potentially the fastest boat in the race. Warnke, a retired industrialist, had been hoping for a decade to win the Mackinac race.

Warnke wept when the cutter—apparently off-balance—refused to sail, and stubbornly kept turning itself into the wind.

With the withdrawal of Great Lakes, the favorite in many circles is Meteor III, a sleek 38-foot cutter owned by Hank Burkard. Meteor III defeated an impressive field in the Chicago-to-Mackinac run last year and has won its last six races.

Holly Canoeists Take 'Marathon'

Comparative beginners at the sport of canoe racing, Holly's stalwart Widings (brothers LeRoy and Albert) have just added another title to their list of marathon victories on northern Michigan streams. The pair were surprise winners of the Midwest International, a 85-mile, grueling test on the Rifle river, from Lupton to Omer.

The Widings have been canoe racing for about three years and this year are sponsored by Pontiac's Frank Stabagh. They won $300 and a fine trophy.

Victory for the Widings came only in the last mile or so, when they passed the favorites, Steve Kolonich and Larry Kindell of Tawas. Their canoe was battered on rocks exposed by low water, which also forced them to drag their craft at times. Only 17 of 30 starters finished the race. The Widings race again July 17 at Ludington where they will defend a title won last year.

200 in Top O'Michigan

TOPINABEE, Mich. (UPI)—The tenth annual running of the Top O' Michigan outdoor marathon races will be held July 20.

The 87-mile course begins at Topinabee on Mullet Lake and runs through Michigan's inland waterway route. As many as 200 entries have competed for the $2,750 in prize money.

Blame Air Crash on Excess Speeds

TUCUMCARI, N. M. (AP)—An Air Force spokesman said excess speed may have caused the latest in a rash of military plane crashes in the mesa country of eastern New Mexico and west Texas.

A weather reconnaissance plane exploded high over Tucumcari Wednesday and fell in flaming bits. The pilot was killed.

Col. John Swafford of Laughlin Air Force Base, Del Rio, Tex., said excess speed might have been the reason for the explosion of the U2 jet aircraft.

Robeson Leaves 1st Time Since 1950

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Robeson left here by plane yesterday for London with his first passport since he was barred from foreign travel in 1950.

Robeson's concert schedule includes appearances in Prague and the Soviet Union.

Asked if he planned to stay abroad, the Negro singer replied: "This is my land. My grandfather and my father were born here too and I don't plan to leave it."

He received his passport after the Supreme Court invalidated the State Department's requirement that he sign a non-Communist affidavit.

Robeson has supported various Communist-front causes and was a winner of the Stalin Peace Prize.

Rod Steiger Gets Role of Al 'Scarface' Capone

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — The turbulent life of Al "Scarface" Capone now goes with Rod Steiger playing Scarface, the man who 20-odd years ago was the underworld king in Chicago.

Rod, who has been living in Malibu, hid himself into town to close the deal with John H. Burrows and Leonard Ackerman for Allied Artists.

When I expressed myself as believing that it is wrong to glorify Capone, I was promptly told that the story does not show him in the role of a hero, but rather as a menace to society, and will show that crime doesn't pay.

I hope this is true, because I interviewed Scarface during his ill-starred gun-ridden career, and believe me, he was ruthless.

Very pleasant to talk to my old friend Henry Fonda, who arrived in town earlier this week with his bride, the former Countess Adela Franchetti.

"We are living in Malibu," Hank told me. "We'll be here during July and August, and I am going to get a real rest."

I told him how sorry I was to have missed seeing "Two for the Seesaw," his big hit on Broadway.

Dmytryk plans to go to Nepal in December of this year and make all arrangements to film this Hans Selye story in its authentic location next February. Selye, who has lived in this far-away place, is the author of "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing." This will be one of Paramount's big biggies for next year.

Puerto Rico is about three times the size of Rhode Island.

Romeo Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn., Inc.

(This is the ninth in a series of articles by a member of one of the 27 branches of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn., Inc., throughout the area which will be printed on the farm and garden pages this year.)

Have you ever thought about raising some of your own landscape material? Then perhaps you should try rooting some summer cuttings. The new plant will be exactly like the one from which you took the cutting unless you get a mutation which rarely happens.

One doesn't need the extensive and expensive equipment of the professional to secure satisfactory results. There are only three things necessary: A cutting to root, a rooting medium in which to place the cutting, and a propagation unit to hold the first two.

There are several types of frames that can be used for rooting cuttings. Where hot beds are utilized the frames should run east and west with the glass sloping to the north. This helps shading. They are made about two feet deep with half of their depth below the ground level. When the cuttings are ready to be taken, the frames are prepared by putting in sufficient fresh manure to make a depth of one foot. This material provides a mild bottom heat and insures good drainage.

About six inches of clean, sharp sand is either spread over the manure or placed in flats which are set on the manure. In about three days the first strong heat of the manure will be spent and the cuttings can then be planted in the sand, never in the manure. Any rooting medium may be substituted for the sand. One advantage of flats is that they can be moved.

Any fairly sturdy wooden box 12 by 18 inches or larger and about a foot deep may be easily converted into a small propagating case. Bore small holes about three inches apart in the bottom of the box and substitute glass for the top. Two to three inches of gravel or cinders should be placed in the bottom for drainage. Cover this layer with burlap or moss before adding four inches of rooting medium. If it isn't necessary to move the box about, remove both top and bottom.

Select a spot under shrubs or on the north side of a building and remove the soil to a depth of about seven inches. Place the box in this hole and add the drainage and rooting medium to ground level. Any spaces between the box and the outside soil should be filled with sand. Use a piece of glass to cover.

USE CASSEPOLE DISH

When there are only a few cuttings to be rooted a large clay pot covered with a casserole or other glass dish can serve as a propagating case. This can be stored in the garage or moved from place to place inside the house. If a small clay pot is corked, filled with water and placed in the center of the larger pot the rooting medium can be kept uniformly moist.

Glass fruit jars serve as the best protection when we root a few cuttings outdoors. Dig a cylindrical hole in a shady spot in the yard and fill with sharp sand.

Insert the cutting and then turn the jar upside down over it and press until the rim sinks about half an inch into the ground. Keep watered and shaded. Do not remove the jar until after roots have formed which will be at least six weeks.

The plants from which summer cuttings are taken must be healthy and vigorous. When in the right condition the branch will usually break with a snap when bent; if it crushes it is too soft; if it bends without breaking it is too hard.

According to the chart the time will vary from May to September, depending on when the plant makes its new growth. A sharp thin bladed knife is necessary to make cuttings without disturbing the bark. Most cuttings are about four inches long and include at least two nodes.

The basal cut is usually made about 1/4 of an inch below a node (the point of attachment of a leaf) as shown in figure 1. The base of the cutting may also include a small ring of the older wood to which the stem was attached (figures 2 and 3) in which case it is called a heel or basal ring cutting.

If a section of the entire stem is retained as in figure 4 the cutting is a mallet cutting. Entire shoot cuttings (figures 4 and 5) retain the terminal bud and either a heel or a mallet. However, heel and mallet cuttings do not necessarily have a terminal bud.

Their disadvantage is that only one cutting may be made from each shoot, whereas long branches of an easily rooted shrub like Forsythia will furnish several cuttings with the upper cut slightly above a node and the lower cut through or below a node.

REMOVE LOWER LEAVES

The leaves of the cutting are removed from the lower two-thirds of the stem. In the case of large leaves, those remaining may be reduced to one half in size to lessen the tendency to wilt and to conserve space. However, remember that the more leaves a cutting can maintain without wilting the more quickly and the better will it root. This is especially true with yews and junipers.

As each cutting is finished drop it in clear water. Plant immediately. Difficult to root cuttings may be treated with a root producing hormone following the manufacturer's instructions carefully. Powder form is easiest to use.

When using a frame with a glass top, space the cuttings so that they barely touch. Make holes with a stick as large as the base of the largest cutting. Insert the cutting up to its leaves, pack the sand around the base and add about one quarter cup of water to settle the sand. Fill the rest of the hole and press firmly so that the sand makes close contact with all parts of the cutting, especially with its base.

At first keep the frame closely covered. It is necessary to sprinkle the cutting two or three times daily for the first few days. Later less spraying is necessary except during very hot days. Cuttings root more readily if the foliage can be kept in a growing condition. After the first week ventilate the case each day for a short time to prevent mold.

If glass jars are used to cover cuttings in an open frame place one to three cuttings under each jar depending on their size. The jars should touch each other and be pushed 1/4 inch into the soil. They are not removed until the cuttings are rooted except once or twice if necessary to remove fallen leaves.

Direct sunlight must be kept off but as much light should enter the case as can be given without overheating them. The temperature should be between 70 and 80 F and the sand moist at all times. Any leaves shed by the plants in a cold frame should be removed daily.

Yews, junipers, euonymus radicans and other slow rooting subjects are left in the propagating box until the middle of the following May, longer if they haven't rooted. It required two years for one group of Euonymus to root.

Figure 3 shows one of the junipers which has just been removed from the propagating box. Out of 75 juniper cuttings inserted last May 1957, 63 had rooted by this June, and 12 had failed. If I had

Types of Cuttings — Here, Mrs. Voorhees shows us five types of cuttings which can eventually become landscape material for your home. They are: 1. Forsythia cutting with three nodes showing part of each leaf cut off; 2. A choice yew cutting with heel or basal ring; 3. Rooted juniper cutting as taken from the sand; 4. Mallet cutting; 5. Entire shoot cutting of lilac with terminal buds and basal ring.

SOMETHING TO SING ABOUT—Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme, who met on the old Steve Allen "Tonight" show and later married, are co-hosts this summer in Allen's Sunday night slot on NBC-TV.

He Burns Checks, Wanted Only Vodka Television Studio Put in Spotlight on 'Studio One'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A detective says Lawrence Nutter, 23, stole a case of negotiable American Express checks worth $500,000 and threw them away—because they weren't vodka.

Detective Vincent Heeney told this story yesterday at a hearing: Nutter took three cases from the Railway Express Agency June 26 because he thought they contained vodka.

The first case he opened was filled with vodka, which he and a friend, William McCall, 28, sampled. Later McCall opened a second case.

"Take that stuff out of here. I don't want it," McCall told Nutter after rifling through the checks. Nutter obediently burned them in a city incinerator.

Magistrate J. Amos Harris held Nutter on $500 bail for trial.

Michigan Polio Picture Continues to Improve

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's polio picture has continued to improve thanks to the Salk immunization shots, the State Health Department reported.

During the first six months of this year, only 10 cases of paralytic polio and one death were reported. Last year there were 16 cases and two deaths in the same period.

The department said there has been a steady decline since the polio vaccine was field-tested in 10 Michigan counties in 1954.

The heartening reduction in polio deaths and crippling can continue only if parents make sure their children receive the full three doses beginning at the age of three months," reminded Dr. F. S. Lederer, director of the Division of Disease Control.

She had a leading role in the film, which was made 20 years ago. She said the television program included a portrayal of her as a broken down has-been, poverty-stricken and slovenly.

Miss Clarke, 48, asked the damages for invasion of privacy. Defendants are Paramount Television Products, Inc., and Ottola Nesmith, who, the actress said, impersonated her on the telecast.

Sues Television Firm for One Million Dollars

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former movie star Mae Clarke demands a million dollars damages from the company which produced a television horror show featuring the film "Frankenstein."

She had a leading role in the film, which was made 20 years ago. She said the television program included a portrayal of her as a broken down has-been, poverty-stricken and slovenly.

Miss Clarke, 48, asked the damages for invasion of privacy. Defendants are Paramount Television Products, Inc., and Ottola Nesmith, who, the actress said, impersonated her on the telecast.

Couple to Sub for Steve Allen

They're Replacing Old Boss; Met Each Other on Old 'Tonight' Show

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—At lunch the other day, singers Eydie Gorme and Steve Lawrence winced when their guest ordered steak.

"You have to be thinner for TV," said Lawrence, speaking for himself and his bride of six months.

"We've been playing night clubs lately and our weight was fine for that. But the TV picture tends to broaden you."

Beginning Sunday for eight week the young couple replaces the Steve Allen show on NBC. It's the first time they've had their own show. Naturally, they're excited and nervous and full of plans. One is losing weight.

"You don't believe this," said Lawrence, "but a fellow told me people look different on NBC and CBS. It has to do with their test patterns and basic picture."

CBS tends to make the performer look taller and thinner. NBC broadens and shortens you slightly. The NBC picture adds about five pounds to your figure and removes about an inch in height."

Immediately, the Lawrences' luncheon guest looked up from his steak. "Zounds!" he thought. This could be the TV story of the year. An expose of distortion by our major networks. Was NBC really more caloric than its rival?

Later, the story was checked out with technicians at NBC and CBS. Yes, they said, they had heard this before from viewers and performers. No, they said, it just isn't true.

If there is any difference in the network pictures it results from distortion in the viewers' sets. You lose more darn good stories by checking!

Meanwhile, back at the restaurant, the Lawrences discussed their new show. It would be largely musical, with guests and a thin line of continuity.

The question brought a taut moment of silence. Steve finally answered:

"It will be 'Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme." It seems more natural that way, you know like Burns and Allen."

Had there been any family discussion of the billing?
"For about five minutes, only," said Lawrence.

"I really think Steve should be billed first," said Eydie. "It does seem more natural that way. Besides, I wouldn't photograph well with two broken arms."

Both Steve and Eydie should feel right at home in replacing Allen. They first met when both were vocalists on his old "Tonight" program.

MIDAS MUFFLER

Weighed 1,041 Pounds

World's Fattest Man Dies

MOUNT STERLING, Ill. (UPI)—The body of the world's fattest man, Robert Hughes, 32, who weighed more than half a ton, will be buried Saturday in a specially constructed casket.

Hughes died yesterday in his private trailer parked outside a Bremen, Ind., hospital. He was too huge to fit inside the hospital.

Hughes, who weighed about 1,041 pounds at death, was stricken with the measles while touring Indiana with Gooding Brothers Amusement Co. carnival.

He lay outside the hospital for a week in his converted and reinforced truck-trailer home while doctors treated him. However, the illness affected his huge heart, estimated to be as large as that of a 1,000-pound steer, and death was attributed to the heart condition and uremia.

The trailer was taken to a mortician who embalmed Hughes' body in the bed where he had spent most of his lifetime.

The trailer-truck van then was driven to Mount Sterling where the body will be placed in an outsized casket 4 feet wide and 6 feet, 6 inches long. Burial will be in Benvenue Cemetery, 12 miles south of here.

Hughes supported his bulk on a six-foot frame. At his peak, he weighed 1,065 pounds, measured 122 inches around the waist and had 40-inch biceps. Medical sources said he was believed to be the fattest human being in recorded history.

A native of Kenton, Mo., Hughes was born a normal baby but a siege of whooping cough when he was six months old ruptured his thyroid gland and he began gaining weight at a rapid pace.

His family later moved to Fishhook, Ill., where Hughes quit school in the seventh grade because his weight of 550 pounds made it difficult for him to get around.

At 15, he was registered for the draft and weighed 609 pounds. At 20 he weighed 710 pounds.

He spent most of his time in bed because his weight made it a struggle for him to get on his feet and take more than a few steps at a time.

They Just Don't Mix

LONDON (UPI)—Directors of the London Cremation Company advised shareholders yesterday not to accept an offer by the Amalgamated Tobacco Corporation for their shares. The directors said they did not think a company formed to deal with tobacco "is a suitable body to control a crematorium."

Girl in Hospital Confident After Tiger Telegram

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Twelve-year-old Carolyn Zaleski of Detroit happily declared "I just know I'm gonna pull through" a delicate, four-hour heart operation today.

In her hand she clutched a telegram. "It said: 'Good luck with your operation. All the Tigers are pulling for you, Billy Martin.'"

It was the first telegram Carolyn ever got. She was a little skeptical when a University Hospital nurse handed it to her. She hesitated opening it. But when she did, out came a great big: "Wow!"

After that she knew she was "gonna pull through."

You see, Carolyn is a member of the Detroit Tiger fan club. She thinks Detroit shortstop Billy Martin is "the greatest."

She has another baseball love too. It is her neighborhood club and as she prepared for today's long ordeal she was happy it had promised to let her play at least one game "when this valve thing is fixed."

Carolyn was born with a pulmonary valve fault. The valve through which the heart pumps blood to the lungs fails to open completely, forcing a heavy strain on her heart.

Governor in Alaska to Set Voting Date

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Mike Stepovich says some time before Aug. 1 he'll set the date of Alaska's statewide plebiscite.

"The people will accept the provisions of the statehood bill," he predicted. "These include the boundaries set out in the bill and the authorization to the President to make national defense withdrawals of 103 million acres in northwest Alaska."

"We want to get our elections out of the way so that we may seat our two U. S. senators and our one representative in the 1959 Congress."

Stepovich, his wife and eight children leave today for home via Portland after visiting his stepmother Mrs. Vuka Stepovich at nearby Saratoga.

Madame Chiang Rips Defeatists

Addresses 1,200 People at U. of M.; Presented With Honorary Degree

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Mme. Chiang Kai-shek attacked defeatist intellectuals in a speech last night at the University of Michigan.

The wife of the President of Nationalist China mentioned names in saying there are some intellectuals who would surrender to communism.

"It is a tragedy," she said, "that some powerful minds have allowed themselves to be enmeshed in arguments over means such as relaxations of tension, appeasement and finally slavery—better-than-annihilation, groveling in the hopeless hope that life would be spared them."

Mme. Chiang was presented an honorary doctor of laws degree by the university's president, Harlan Hatcher. She was cheered by a capacity crowd of more than 1,200 attending the university's special convocation.

She said communism is moving toward its doom. "In fact," she said, "anticommunism runs deepest wherever it is under the Communist heel."

The horrors of nuclear war, she said, have come so uppermost in the minds of some present-day eminent men "that freedom and values of human dignity which we were taught to cherish above all else have become secondary to biological survival."

She cited as an example of defeatism a recent protest march made against Britain's atomic research center. She called it supine docility.

She said defeatist intellectuals "are ignoring the fact that if total darkness should fall upon the world, it would be they who have made the Communist conquests possible by destroying the will to fight."

The technical term for color television is trichromatic, meaning three colors.

Kitten 'Hotrod' Seems to Prefer Mechanic's Life

IRVINGTON, N. J. (AP)—There is a cat here who's a grease-monkey at heart.

The kitten—nicknamed Hotrod—scratched up a rumpus Wednesday when he stashed himself away under the hood of George Franks' car.

After a good deal of effort, a mechanic at John Lambros' service station managed to dislodge the cat from the car.

The mechanics at the garage liked the kitten, and Hotrod took to the station like a duck to water. So he stayed.

Yesterday, Franks' brother Wilbur drove into the service station to have some work done.

The car was up on a hydraulic lift when Hotrod figured that what was good enough for George was good enough for brother Wilbur. Hopping onto the lift and into the open hood, he promptly curled up and went to sleep in the right fender well.

Lambros had no sooner taken the cat from the engine when Hotrod scampered across the service station and jumped under the hood of a small sporty job.

While service station attendants and others tried to catch him, the kitten roamed happily up and down the chassis.

Hotrod has a genius for getting into places where no human hands can reach, but he soon tired of the sporty job. A little too cramped.

So he went to the other extreme. Zooming out with all eight cylinders purring, he wound up alongside the rear wheel housing of a big truck parked nearby.

There, undisturbed by the now exhausted mechanics, he finished his cat nap, dreaming no doubt of sleek Hollywood mufflers and four-barreled carburetors.

Detroit Pedestrian Killed Crossing Busy Street

DETROIT (AP)—Jason B. Hippler, 58, of Detroit, was struck and killed last night while crossing a busy city street.

Police said he was struck by Thomas Wright, 50, also of Detroit. They said Wright ran a red light. Wright is being held for investigation of manslaughter.
