Willman Proposes Six-Year Building Program

By PETE LOCHBILER

City Manager Walter K. Willman last night submitted to the City Commission a six-year budget for $33.5 million in capital improvements, highlighted by $9.25 million in urban renewal projects and a separate $2.3 million budget for recreation.

Covering everything from new buildings and highways to streets and sidewalks, the 1960-1965 blueprint is the largest ever developed for Pontiac, exceeding the 1953 plan by $9 million.

Projected spending in the plan is based mainly on income from existing capital improvement millage and highway fund diversions, together amounting to $9.45 million for the six-year period; $7 million in anticipated state and federal aid; $9.3 is proposed general obligation bonds; $5.6 million in revenue bonds; and $2.8 in special assessments.

Highlights:

—The $4.5 million civic auditorium, if voters will approve a general obligation issue for it.

—The long-planned $440,000 central fire station, plus northside and southside branches at $125,000 apiece, all on a pay-as-you-go basis.

—Revamping of the water system to handle Detroit water at a cost of $4 million, to be financed by revenue bonds.

—The $3.3 million expansion of the sewage treatment plant, financed by general obligation bonds under court order without a vote of the people.

—The $2.4 million downtown loop highway, seven-eighths of the cost to be handled by state and federal aid.

—Tunneling of the Clinton River downtown for flood control and traffic purposes at a cost of $3 million, half the money to be raised by general obligation bonds.

—Airport expansion to the tune of $800,000, of which the federal aid-to-airports program is expected to contribute $500,000.

—A 600-car garage in the Civic Center and two new Civic Center lots for 420 cars. Revenue bonds are to finance the $976,500 parking structure and the $600,000 lots.

If the cost of this were added to the auditorium bond issue, it would raise it to $5 million and push to $9.9 million the total amount sought in general obligation bonds over the six-year period.

The budget allocates $222,000 to parks and $565,000 to three special projects.

These include a $40,000 transit mix concrete plant which Willman, a road engineer, says will save money and improve quality; a new $500,000 yard for the Department of Public Works on North Saginaw Street at Aaron Perry Park; and a $25,000 training tower for the Fire Department. All of these, plus the park funds, are on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The budget figures neighborhood improvements will keep on at the present pace. This rate is $400,000 a year for streets, $350,000 for drains and sewers, $75,000 for sidewalks and $75,000 for water mains.

A SEQUEL TO '53 PLAN

The budget, drawn up mostly by administrative staff members, is intended as a sequal to the 1953 blueprint, which ran through 1958.

The $1.5 million extra in the cost of the Pontiac General Hospital expansion upset capital improvement plans the past three years, resulting in no particular

Evidence of Electra Tragedy

36 Top Chrysler Execs Cleared

DETROIT (AP)—Two law firms say the 36 top executives of Chrysler Corp. have no outside interests which conflict with their duties to the company.

These men, the lawyers reported Tuesday after three months of investigation, are free of the taint of bribes, kickbacks or secret commissions.

The corporation's most vociferous critic, Detroit attorney Sol A. Dann, called the reports a whitewash. He vowed to pursue "even more vigorously" his pending lawsuits against the corporation and many of the men who were the subjects of the reports.

The legal opinions were issued by Chrysler's general counsel—Kelley, Drye, Newhall & Maginnes of New York—and by special counsel—Dewey, Balantine, Bushby, Palmer & Wood. The Dewey in this firm is former New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

The investigation as outlined by the attorneys consisted of four parts and began June 30. That was the day William C. Newberg was ousted as president of Chrysler because he was found to own half interests in two companies which had supplied small parts for Chrysler cars.

PIVOTAL DAY

On that date the board of directors told the Kelley firm to find out what the interests were, if any, of Chrysler personnel in any transactions with the corporation and to take steps to recover any sums which Chrysler might be entitled to as a result of such interests.

Four weeks later the board announced Newberg had agreed to pay Chrysler $450,000 from his profits in the two supplier firms.

In mid-August four board members not associated with management took charge of the investigation and hired Dewey's firm to

Ask Court to Declare Landrum-Griffin Labor Law Unconstitutional

Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 and James R. Hoffa's Detroit Local 299 have been singled out as the guinea pigs in the nation's first court test case of the Landrum-Griffin labor reform act.

★ ★ ★

In a suit filed yesterday in Federal Court in Detroit, the attorney for the Teamsters Union asked the court to declare the law unconstitutional and rule on how much authority it gives Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

It was revealed that the suit resulted from an investigation of the Pontiac and Detroit locals by the Labor Department.

An officer of Local 614 would not comment on the present investigation. "Anything you want to know — since this is a matter of law — I'd refer you to Mr. Fitzgerald," said Floyd Harmon, secretary-treasurer of the Pontiac local.

After 4½ years of turmoil and dissension under Hoffa's trusteeship, Local 614 was removed from it in May 1958. But pro-Hoffa forces stayed in power after an election of officers.

Attorney George S. Fitzgerald filed the suit on behalf of the two locals.

He alleged that the Labor De-

4,000 Pontiac Area Workers Seek $672,500

12th Annual Campaign Launched by Chairman Semon Knudsen

The traditional torch-lighting ceremony of the Pontiac Area United Fund drive today served as a call to arms of 4,000 volunteer area workers in the 1960 campaign which begins tomorrow.

The 12th annual campaign — symbol of a community's concern for others — runs through Oct. 27. This year's goal is $672,500 to support 52 local, state and national agencies.

Semon E. Knudsen, general campaign chairman, this morning pressed the button of the 20-foot high torch at Saginaw Street and Oakland Avenue. It will remain lit throughout the campaign.

Its burning will symbolize the eternal thanks of those helped by UF agencies.

Knudsen, in a brief address, said that there was "no magic formula" by which the campaign goal could be realized.

"It will take a lot of hard work," he warned.

"Everyone in this community has an important stake in this project," he said. "I'm confident that the job will be done well."

$61,000 CONTRIBUTED

Helping get the campaign off to a fast start Milo J. Cross, advance gifts chairman, noted that advance contributions have reached $61,000, 71 per cent of the unit's $85,000 goal.

"There's no question, we'll go over our goal," Cross said. "Our quota is 5.3 per cent above last year's, but some contributions are as much as 10 per cent more than in 1959."

Calvin J. Werner, industrial division chairman, told campaign leaders that his division has collected $162,000 of its $286,500 quota from industrial employes.

★ ★ ★

"We're well past the half-way mark in employe contributions but the toughest part of the campaign is ahead of us," Werner said.

He expressed confidence that this year's campaign would be successful in reaching its goal.

The Industrial Division's total quota is $425,561, which includes both employe contributions and plant gifts.

John P. Niggeman, Commercial Division chairman, expressed confidence that his reorganized division would produce "startling" results in meeting its $176,515 quota and that the campaign would go "way over the top."

'RESULTS GRATIFYING'

He explained that 21 training sessions were held for volunteer solicitors, beginning in May. "The results have been gratifying," he said.

Did Birds Cause Crash Fatal to 61?

BOSTON (AP) — Gen. Elwood R. Quesada, federal aviation administrator, said today starlings may have caused the crash of a four-engine Eastern Airlines Electra Tuesday evening, taking 61 lives.

He said 100 to 200 dead starlings were found today on the runway from which the big plane took off only to plunge into the sea off nearby Winthrop.

"We are convinced," Gen. Quesada told a news conference, "a large number of starlings were at the end of that runway . . . when these birds are ingested by a jet engine they can disrupt the delicate airline of the engine and cause a stall."

Quesada said investigators found no evidence of structural failure and that there are no present plans to ground the 126 turboprop Electras now in service.

RECOVER 6 MORE BODIES

Shortly before he held the conference, skindivers recovered six more bodies from the plane's sunken fuselage. Only 11 survived the crash, worst in New England's history.

More Photos, Stories on Crash, Page 38

The plane plnged into a narrow harbor bay between Logan Airport and the town of Winthrop just after takeoff last evening.

★ ★ ★

The huge craft split in two and sank in comparatively shallow water. Most of the passengers were trapped in their seats.

Some of the dead floated to the surface like corks. There was a scene of horror in the setting sun as lifeless bodies strapped to seats drifted toward the muddy shore at low tide.

Lighters lifted the broken plane parts to the surface today, and skin divers resumed the search for possibly 10 more bodies.

There were 51 bodies in the Boston mortuary, 48 of which were identified. All 11 survivors, including the plane's two stewardesses, were in hospitals. Many were in critical condition.

A mysterious "secret document" reported as missing was found floating in debris in a portfolio. State police said it was carried by a representative of the Air Force. It was turned over to the Air Force Office of Special Investigation.

The document was a proposal for work to be done at a research center of the Burroughs Corp.

The Electra's plunge was the second crackup involving this type of plane within three weeks and brought demands for an investigation. It also was the first fatal crash of a commercial plane at the airport.

CALLS FOR PROBE

As the Civil Aeronautics Board ordered seven investigators to the scene, Rep. Steven B. Derounian, R-N.Y., called for a congressional inquiry. Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., calling for corrective action by the Federal Aviation Agency, said "structural deficiencies found

Pleasant Days to Continue With Minor Changes

Autumn's warm, hazy days will continue in the Pontiac area over the weekend with only minor day-to-day changes in temperature. Tonight's low will drop to 52. Thursday's high will reach about 74.

High temperatures for the period will average four to five degrees above the normal high of 66. Little or no rainfall is anticipated throughout the state, the weatherman said.

Morning southerly winds at 10 to 18 m.p.h. will become northwesterly Thursday.

Forty-nine was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The thermometer read 68 at 2 p.m.

Arrest Man With Bomb Who Was 'After' Nikita

NEW YORK (AP)—A man who said he "wanted to get" Soviet Premier Khrushchev with a "Molotov cocktail" type fire bomb was arrested early today near the United Nations headquarters.

The man was nabbed by city police as he climbed a wall from the East River Drive into a parking lot just north of the U.N. headquarters.

RICHARD HOGAN

He told police he had been recently interviewed by psychiatrists at Bellevue Hospital, where he had been taken by his parents.

★ ★ ★

Detectives said Hogan admitted that he had been trying to reach the U.N. building with his homemade bomb because he "wanted to get Khrushchev."

"I was only after Khrushchev, nobody else but him," Hogan told newsmen after his capture.

"He is insulting the United States — making us look like small people," he said. "I lost a lot of buddies in Korea."

Police described how the bomb works: The rag is ignited and the bottle thrown. When it breaks the burning gasoline spreads the fire.

This type fire bomb was known as a "Molotov cocktail" during World War II and was used extensively in antitank warfare.

★ ★ ★

Hogan was unaware that Khrushchev was not at the U.N. building, but at the Soviet headquarters, more than a mile away.

Ditmar, Coates (1), Maas (5), Duren (7), and Berra; Law, Face (8) and Burgess.

PITTSBURGH — The Pittsburgh Pirates forged into a one-game lead in the 1960 World Series today with a 6-4 victory over the New York Yankees before a standing-room-only crowd at Forbes Field.

Vernon Law received credit for the victory in the Series opener, although he needed relief help from Elroy Face, Pittsburgh's bullpen ace, in the 8th inning.

The Yankees jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a towering home run by Roger Maris, but the National League champions took command in their half of the first inning and the Yanks never caught them.

Pittsburgh tallied three runs in the first inning to send starting New York pitcher Art Ditmar to the showers.

Bill Virdon walked to lead off the Pirate first, stole second and kept on going to third when Yogi Berra threw the ball into center field.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

After Skinner stole second and scored on Roberto Clemente's single, Jim Coates replaced Ditmar on the mound for the Yanks and retired the side without further scoring. But the damage had already been done.

★ ★ ★

The Yankees cut Pittsburgh's lead to 3-2 with one run in the fourth inning on a single by Maris, a walk to Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron's base knock.

Pittsburgh was not to be denied. The Bucs bounced right back in their half of the fourth with a pair of runs on Bill Mazeroski's two-run homer to hike their margin to 5-2.

Pittsburgh tallied its final run in the sixth on Mazeroski's single, a sacrifice by Law and Virdon's double.

Face relieved Law in the top of the eighth after Lopez and Maris greeted the Pirate starter with singles. Face did a magnificent job, retiring Mantle and Skowron on strikes and forcing Berra to fly out.

The American League champs rallied briefly with two runs off Face in the ninth inning as Elston Howard belted a two-run homer in a pinch-hitting role for pitcher Ryne Duren.

'Let's Have Nixon and Kennedy at Top Meeting'

Plan Suggested by Saudi Arabia

Shukairy at U.N. Talks for Arab Countries as Nehru Has His Say

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Saudi Arabia suggested today that a five-power neutral resolution calling for an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting could bring in Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy for such talks.

The suggestion was made by Saudi Arabian Minister of State Ahmad Shukairy during General Assembly debate on the resolution and an Australian amendment suggesting instead a Big Four Summit talk at "the earliest practicable date."

Shukairy, who often acts as a spokesman for the Arab countries, said the "renewed contracts" sought by the neutrals need not be limited to Eisenhower but that he "could be aided by both Vice President Nixon and Sen. Kennedy. The five-power resolution does not preclude this."

It was noteworthy that Shukairy made the suggestion today despite his assembly speech last week attacking both Nixon and Kennedy for allegedly pro-Israeli views.

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru criticized the Australian drive for a Big Four summit conference as an attempt to exclude other countries from a voice in settling the world's affairs.

NEHRU SPEAKS

Nehru renewed his demand for an early meeting between Eisenhower and Khrushchev and began a drive to block efforts by other neutralists to water down their resolution asking the General Assembly to call for such a meeting.

Both Eisenhower and Khrushchev have rejected the call by five neutralist nations — India, United Arab Republic, Indonesia, Yugoslavia and Ghana. But Nehru said he would press on.

Nehru spoke out in opposing an effort by Australian Prime Minister Robert Gordon Menzies to have the assembly call for a four-power summit session at the "earliest practible date." Nehru said this appeared to be an attempt to exclude other countries.

Nehru said that when the five neutrals suggested Khrushchev and Eisenhower renew their personal diplomacy, "it was not with the idea for them to discuss the affairs of the world and finalize them."

He asked, "Where does this assembly come in? Where do those of us who happen to be in the outer darkness come in?"

The debate came as some of the neutrals began a move to water down their resolution to "express hope" for a big two summit meeting instead of "requesting" such a meeting.

In 1784 an Indian mound on the Rivanna River in Virginia was excavated by an amateur archeologist who later became President of the United States: Thomas Jefferson.

Six-Year Program Presented to City

That the current five-year plan takes in six years reflects this budgeting difficulty.

By including the year 1960 in the plan, staff members added into it $1,710,781 already budgeted for capital improvements this year.

This includes this year's neighborhood improvements, $200,000 on the all but complete Pontiac Public Library building, $55,781 for the current airport program, $35,000 to parks and $20,000 for a new fire engine.

A timetable accompanies the budget.

It gives this tentative schedule to begin financing:

1961 — The main fire hall, sewage treatment plant expansion, realignment of the water system, the concrete plant and the DPW yard.

1962 — The Clinton River tunnel, the northside fire station, the loop highway and the Civic Center parking lots.

Where bonding is not proposed, funds for the more costly projects will have to be saved over a period of years.

It's estimated the city will be setting aside $500,000 a year, for instance, for the Clinton River tunnel, 1962 through 1965.

The urban renewal projects include the tunnel, the main fire hall, the parking garage and lots, the loop highway, and whatever drains, sewers, sidewalks, water lines, paving and parks go into the project area.

The federal government, crediting the city with portions of these costs, is letting it make up its share in the urban renewal project through them.

This applies to both the $6.2 million residential project that has been approved and the $2,775,000 project downtown that hasn't been okayed as yet.

The Parks & Recreation Department budget is not included in the financing outlined in the six-year plan.

Presumably, the City Commission would have to call for bond issues or other financing to proceed with any of the proposed projects.

The budget envisions the improvements necessary for an up-to-date park system on a long-range basis.

Included are three swimming pools-skating rinks: In Murphy Park, the proposed Orchard Lake Avenue park and Aaron Perry Park; a bathhouse, a 9-hole golf course and skating rink at Hawthorne Park; and lighted ball fields at Jaycee Park.

Purchase of 100 acres from Pontiac State Hospital for a new park is recommended, plus several other land acquisitions for smaller parks.

Development in all the park areas is covered.

Housewarming Party to Open New Area Bank

The Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank, Birmingham's newest banking facility, will officially open Saturday with a unique housewarming party.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"It replaces the conventional ribbon cutting with speeches and formal ceremonies, and typifies the old-fashioned hospitality in modern surroundings that we are offering the community."

The bank will be open special hours this Saturday only from 9 a.m to 6 p.m. Regular Saturday hours will be 9 a.m. to noon.

White said complete banking services will be provided, including savings accounts, regular checking accounts, loans of all types, cashier checks, travelers checks, money orders, safe deposit boxes and bank-by-mail services.

Plans are under way, he said, for opening a drive-in window.

A meeting room for small civic groups will be made available upon appointment.

Week day hours of the new banking service will be 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday.

In addition to White, who was formerly vice president of City Bank in Detroit, other officers of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank include F. Douglas Campbell, vice president and cashier; and S. Tenney McGraw, assistant cashier.

Good Thing He Qualified This Story

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The city traffic department has established scientifically a fact which nearly every male driver will claim he has known for years: A man can park a car faster than a woman can.

The department's manager, S. S. Taylor, bravely announced Tuesday the results of stopwatch tests. The average man, he said, inches into a parking space in 28.7 seconds. The average woman in 37.4 seconds.

Taylor added: "Of course — ing spaces faster than some women can maneuver into parking spaces fasten than some men."

Local Rotarians to Hear Bagwell Tomorrow Noon

Bagwell will arrive in Pontiac from Lansing about noon.

After his talk and a visit to a television studio in Detroit afterwards, the candidate will stop in Birmingham—"if time permits"—for a press conference with Oakland County candidates later in the afternoon.

He'll round out the half-day visit to the county by addressing the Men's Club of Christ Church Cranbrook in the evening.

St. Clair Shores Woman Dies in Head-On Crash

Another passenger in the auto, William Rehfus, 40, of Detroit, was hurt critically. The driver of the other auto, Mrs. Shirley Mach, 22, of New Baltimore, also was injured.

Macmillan Off to London Today

Khrushchev and Nehru Still Hanging Around U.N. Meeting

NEW YORK (UPI) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan who lingered for last-minute talks with Nikita S. Khrushchev, joins the exodus of world leaders from the United Nations today.

Macmillan, who originally planned to leave last week, will fly to London after hearing Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies address the U.N. General Assembly this afternoon.

Macmillan's departure further thins the ranks of the major world figures at the extraordinary session and leaves Khrushchev and India's Jawaralal Nehru as the principal leaders still in town. At one time there were more than a dozen, including President Eisenhower.

Police began to relax their rigid security precautions except for Khrushchev and the other Communist leaders who accompanied him here.

Guinea President Sekou Toure arrives today, President Sukarno of Indonesia is scheduled to depart Thursday and Nehru goes home Sunday.

Khrushchev is expected to stay at least another week and there were reports he might remain until about Oct. 18.

The Soviets would shed no light on the exact departure time for the premier who has told newsmen he may stay until New Year's.

Tito and Nasser, both neutralists, saw their hopes for a face-to-face meeting between Eisenhower and Khrushchev shattered.

The Day in Birmingham

Acquires Final Segment of Parking Lot Land

BIRMINGHAM — The proposed municipal parking lot in the North Woodward Avenue area, its development bogged down for months in litigation, moved closer to development today with a property owner accepting the final condemnation award.

★ ★ ★

The City Commission Monday accepted the Circuit Court jury decision to pay $15,000 for a parcel of property behind the Reid Building to be used in the development of the Island View parking lot.

The next step in developing the parking lot is the vacation of Island View and a portion of Park Street, and setting up a special assessment district.

While the city has not purchased all the property needed for the proposed 141-stall parking lot, it has obtained options on all the necessary property.

Based on this award the estimated cost of the project amounts to $135,000, or $958 for each parking space.

In recommending that the condemnation award be accepted, Gare noted that the city had two other alternatives.

He said the commission could have turned down the award for the so-called channel right-of-way, deleting it from the project, and build a parking lot with a capacity of 108 cars, or abandoned the project entirely.

Mrs. Leo A. Stiers

Service for Mrs. Leo (Beatrice I.) A. Stiers, 57, of 1053 Hazel St., will be 2 p.m. Thursday at the Wm. Vasu Funeral Home, Royal Oak. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Mrs. Stiers died Monday following a long illness.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Birmingham, a member of the Business Women's Club, and a former member of the Birmingham Metropolitan Club Auxiliary.

Mrs. Austin T. Kempton

Service for Mrs. Austin T. (Lottie H.) Kempton, 92, of 19380 Beverly Road, was to be held this morning at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. with burial in Cambridge, Mass.

Mrs. Kempton died yesterday at William R. Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after a brief illness.

Surviving are two sons, S. Bradford with whom she made her home and Laurence R. of San Anselmo, Calif., two grandsons and five great-grandchildren.

A revised street resurfacing and curb repair program, $15,000 less than the original proposal, has been approved by the City Commission.

A $50,600 program was submitted to the commission Sept. 19, but was rejected since the 1960-61 budget allotment was $40,000.

The commission at that time directed the city manager to re-examine the situation and submit a new recommendation which could be financed within the limitations of the budget appropriation.

The cost of the project was reduced by cutting the curb replacement program in half. The original street resurfacing program was unchanged.

The deleted curb projects would be done in the 1961-62 budget year, according to City Engineer William J. Killeen.

Teamsters to Test New Labor Law

partment's Bureau of Labor-Management Reports, which carries out the provisions of the year-old act, is exceeding its authority in trying to subpoena organization and financial records of both unions.

"There isn't a record in 614 at the present time that hasn't been looked at either by the secretary of labor, Internal Revenue Service or Senate Rackets Committee," Fitzgerald said.

Federal Judge Fred Kaess set a hearing for Tuesday on the attorney's request that the subpoenas be quashed.

A member of the Bureau served one on Harmon on Sept. 28. It was returnable this week. The suit came first.

It is the contention of the Union that the Bureau can request only the records back to Sept. 14, the effective date of the Landrum-Griffin Act.

"They have a right in making their audit to go back to Sept. 14 — that we don't deny, but they have absolutely no jurisdiction to go any further than that because that would be irrelevant and could have no lawful purpose," Fitzgerald said.

"But despite this, and rather than wrangle about this, the two locals decided they would file complete reports for the entire year," the attorney said.

"Now the subpoenas say they want to 'verify' the accuracy and completion of their reports," he said.

He said the "time has come to determine just how far the secretary of labor can go under the act."

Under the law, the filing of organizational and financial reports by all unions is required.

The suit opposes the subpoenas on the grounds that there is no probable cause to believe the law has been violated or about to be violated as it states.

The Giant African Snail is six to nine inches long and has 80,000 sharp teeth with which it chews up flowers and vegetation and may even rasp off pieces of buildings. However, it is harmless to man.

★ ★ ★

The 500-pound Courier 1B shot skyward Tuesday atop a Thor-Able-Star rocket. It is circling the earth every 115 minutes in an orbit ranging from 575 to 750-miles above the surface.

As dramatic evidence of its success, the new space messenger was used within hours after launch to relay a teletype message of peace and good will from President Eisenhower to the United Nations.

The message was sent from Washington to Ft. Monmouth, N.J., where it was beamed to Courier 1B. The note then was transmitted to another ground station which relayed it by high-speed radio to New York. The President's message welcomed 16 new nations to the U.N. and expressed hope they would continue to witness such scientific advances as this new satellite.

'PHENOMENAL ADVANCE'

A taped congratulatory message from Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker also was relayed via the 51-inch sphere. Brucker said Courier 1B "represents a phenomenal advance in the field of communications."

'IT REALLY GABS'

The satellite carries 300 pounds of the most complex electronic gear ever sent into space by the United States. At the heart of the system are five magnetic tape recorders capable of simultaneously receiving and transmitting 68,000 words a minute.

★ ★ ★

The Army plans to bombard the satellite with millions of words in the coming days to completely prove out the system. Much of the wordage will be supplied by news wires of The Associated Press and United Press International.

★ ★ ★

Benedict R. Jacobellis, Courier project manager, reported all instruments in the space package were working fine.

If Courier 1B proves the feasibility of using such vehicles for swift movement of secret military information, the Defense Department plans a network of operational courier satellites within a few years.

Seek Cause of Crash Fatal to 61 in Boston

in this airplane have not been corrected."

But Gen. E. R. Quesada, federal aviation administrator, said sketchy information available did not seem to show any relation between Tuesday's crash and previous accidents involving Electras.

The plane took off from Logan International Airport at 5:45 p.m. bound for Philadelphia, Charlotte, N.C., Greenville, S.C., and Atlanta. It came down about 200 yards offshore.

Among the 67 passengers were 15 Marine Corps recruits en route to Parris Island, S.C. Ten of them were among the known dead. At least three others were injured.

★ ★ ★

"The thing was split wide open," said Lt. Cmdr. Everett Cook, USNR, who saw the plane after it nosed into the water off the Winthrop Yacht Club.

★ ★ ★

"When I got there part of the plane was still afloat," said Cmdr. Donald Regan, USNR, one of the first to reach the scene. "A good many of the passengers were strapped to their seats and could not get out. The seats were floating. I noticed that their weight was pulling them over so that their heads were in the water.

"They were all a mess — blood, broken legs, split skulls and everything else."

Eastern Airlines at Miami at first said the pilot, Capt. C.W. Fitts, and copilot M.J. Calloway, survived. But later the airline could not confirm this and they could not be located in any hospital.

STEWARDESSES SURVIVE

The body of Flight Engineer Malcolm M. Hall of Memphis, Tenn., was recovered.

★ ★ ★

Two stewardesses survived, identified by the airline as Joan Berry, 22, of Prentice, Miss., and Patricia Davies of Jacksonville, Fla.

"I was in the tail when we hit. It saved my life," Miss Berry said.

"It happened so fast there was no time to think. We were up in the air — then suddenly we hit the water. I remember calling for the pilot and copilot. There was no answer.

★ ★ ★

"I opened the rear door and pushed myself out. The pain from my broken leg was so severe I passed out."

Will Testify on Mental Care

State Senate Group to Hear Wagg Concerning Retarded Children

The bipartisan State Senate Committee on emotionally disturbed and mentally retarded children will begin taking testimony in Pontiac tomorrow, with statements from Charles F. Wagg, director of the department of mental health, and Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

★ ★ ★

Headed by Sen. L. Harvey Lodge R-Oakland County, the committee is to gather evidence prior to introducing legislation concerning increases in facilities and care.

More than 100 organizations and agencies have been invited to address the committee during its preliminary hearings, said Lodge.

The first session begins at 9:30 a.m. in the supervisors' room of the Oakland County Office Building.

FORMED AFTER PLEAS

The committee was formed as a result of pleas by Judge Moore for more facilities and better treatment.

Lodge said the committee would consider the responsibilities of both the state and local communities.

The committee includes Sen. Edward Hutchinson of Fennville, Sen. Arthur Dehmel of Unionville, Sen. Elmer R. Porter of Blissfield and Sen. Basil W. Brown of Detroit.

Most of Nation Enjoys Seasonal, Clear Weather

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather showed only minor changes today from the past several days, with a continuation of clear skies and seasonal temperatures in most areas.

It was chilly during the early morning in parts of New England, with readings in the 30s, and from West Virginia northwestward into Lower Michigan, with temperatures in the 40s.

At Least 60 Injured

Tennessee Chemical Blast Kills 11

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — A savage blast—which claimed 11 lives and left at least 60 others injured ripped through a sprawling chemical plant here Tuesday and rocked this upper East Tennessee city of 26,000 people.

Today officials of the Tennessee Eastman Corp. began probing smouldering rubble of the smashed section of the 400-acre plant in an effort to determine the cause.

The explosion occurred in the acid division of the analine processing section where dyes are made. Officials said the building is operated by remote control and normally no workmen are inside.

Downtown Kingsport — a mile and a half from the plant—was shaken and shattered glass from store windows littered the streets. The blast was heard 20 miles away in Johnson City.

★ ★ ★

The Holston Valley Community Hospital, where most of the injured were taken, reported hundreds of persons responded to appeals for blood and more would be needed today.

★ ★ ★

"It happened just like that, no warning, didn't know what was happening," said Earl Whetsel, an Eastman pipefitter, "the blast, then glass and stuff flying around."

Fire touched off by the explosion raged for about three hours before it was brought under control.

David McBride, a reporter for the Kingsport Times-News, said people were standing about "in shocked disbelief."

★ ★ ★

Curious onlookers and relatives of workmen were turned away as the flames threatened to cause a second explosion in neighboring plant buildings.

National Guardsmen patrolled the area to keep traffic areas open for emergency vehicles.

An unidentified guard at a nearby ordnance plant said he was driying along in his truck when the blast occurred. "It sent my truck through the air for about 100 yards," he said, "but I landed right side up. I didn't know what had happened."

Earle Henley of Johnson City said, "It was like a giant hand reaching out. Plate glass fell like rain."

★ ★ ★

TENNESSEE HOLOCAUST — A blistering fire rages at the Tennessee Eastman Co. Chemical plant in Kingsport, Tenn., Tuesday. The plant was hit by an explosion that took 11 lives and injured at least 60. The fire burned for three hours before it could be brought under control.

GOP Says Business Outlook Good Despite Lower Treasury Revenues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today held to its claim that the business outlook is good despite a sharp cutback in anticipated revenues.

The reduction, almost wholly in corporation income taxes, combined with a rise in government spending to slash from $4.2 billion to $1.1 billion the administration's estimate of the treasury surplus expected at the end of the current fiscal year.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans announced the revised estimate Tuesday. The government usually reviews its budget figures after Congress adjourns, but this year its report plopped into the middle of a presidential election campaign in which the present and future of the nation's economy is an issue.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate, has insisted it is healthy and progressing. Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic contender, has repeatedly argued it's not growing fast enough.

★ ★ ★

Stans said the economy is now operating at a high level. He anticipated a perhaps better than usual pickup in business for the last three months of this year and said government and other economists are expressing no alarm about the first two quarters of next year.

That would round out the fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

"I might add," Stans said at a news conference, "that a continuation of this outlook depends on the right kind of public policy next year."

For the 1960-61 fiscal year, the Budget Bureau gave these new estimates:

Receipts, $81.5 billion, down $2.5 billion from the originally expected $48 billion; expenditures, $80.4 billion, up $600 million from the original $79.8 billion; new spending authority voted by Congress, $82 billion, up $2.6 billion from the original $79.4 billion.

President Eisenhower announced the previous estimates when he sent his budget recommendation to Congress last January. He suggested then that all the surplus be used to reduce the national debt, which now totals about $289 billion.

Stans said the Democratic-controlled Congress boosted expenditures and reduced government income by about $2 billion. Part of this will be offset by trimming expenditures in some federal programs, he said.

In particular, Stans noted that Congress spurned an Eisenhower recommendation to raise postal rates and enacted a pay raise for federal workers over the President's veto.

A drop in corporation profits from the administration's rosy forecast of $51 billion in January accounted for 80 per cent of the downward revision in estimated revenue. The Treasury now puts the figure at $47 billion, same as last year's record.

Champion Chess Player's Mother Goes Dramatic

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Regina Fisher went on a hunger strike today in an effort to get the American Chess Foundation to finance a U.S. team to participate in the 1960 Chess Olympics that begin next week in Leipzig, East Germany.

Mrs. Fisher, mother of U.S. chess champion Bobby Fisher, 17, of Brooklyn, has been picketing the foundation for the past week.

"Time is running out for the United States if it is going to send a team to represent this country," Mrs. Fisher said. "And I have decided to go on a hunger strike to dramatize the situation.

"I hope this action will enable the foundation to raise the necessary funds to send a team," she said.

The State Department has indicated it would not preclude a U.S. entry although the games will be held behind the Iron Curtain. The games start Oct. 14.

Bobby Fisher, three-time U.S. champion, would head the U.S. team. He currently is playing in a tournament in Iceland.

The newspaper said Tuesday the Cuban navy was investigating the incident.

If Dog's Bark Sounds Southern, Ask for Patsey

Heard a bark with a Southern drawl lately?

If so, it most likely belongs to Patsey," a 3½-pound Chihuahua from Birmingham, Ala.

She's believed to be wandering around Pontiac not knowing who to turn to for help.

VISITING RELATIVES

Jumping to their aid is a local dog lover and former officer of the Oakland Animal Rescue League, Mrs. Edith Downing of 100 Mt. Clemens St.

Mrs. Downing, an old hand at finding AWOL animals, has a real task force already watching for Patsey.

Among the searchers are policemen, veterinarians, Consumers Power meter readers, and garbage men, some of the "most efficient dog-finders in existence," she relates.

Have you seen Patsey? She may turn up her nose at canned dog food, but she's a sucker for Southern fried chicken.

Luxembourg has about 100 medieval castles within its 999 square miles.

Personal Appeal to Khrushchev to Leave United States Forever

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV,
United Nations,
New York.

Sir:
Go home.
Go quietly if you can, BUT GO!

We're sick of you. We're sick of your bombast, your falsehoods, your domineering actions and of you personally. We're especially sick of the last. Time after time you insult the greatest nations on earth. You insult their representatives. You have no manners of any description and you're a boor, a pain in the neck and a plain Russian pig.

KHRUSHCHEV

No one wanted you over here in the first place. You were unwelcome when you came and you've grown more offensive every day you've been here. Even CYRUS EATON and ELEANOR ROOSEVELT are probably willing to have you go by now.

You are the bloodiest butcher on the face of the earth and you have no standing and command no respect. If you were one-tenth part a man, you could bring world peace to this globe and go down in history as a brutal murderer who eventually tried to make amends. This would put you in a better position to meet your Maker.

But you don't want peace.
You want power.
You want might.
You want personal aggrandizement. You want two and a half billion people ruled by your 200 million and ruled precisely as you and your bloody associates decide.

★ ★ ★

If we believed that even one tiny step toward peace might result from your staying, we could hold our nose and stomach you. But that tiny ray of hope doesn't exist.

KHRUSHCHEV, go home.
Go quietly if you can.
BUT GO!

And when you leave, never come back. Stay among those fine, misguided people that you've duped, deluded and deceived. Left to themselves and told the truth about the world, they would be splendid comrades and allies in a worldwide movement toward peace and prosperity.

But you and a small ruling clique, have them subjugated.

KHRUSHCHEV, GET OUT.

Multitude of Money Spent at World Series

Anyone that is not completely convinced that fall is here should take note that the pigskin season has already started and the baseball season is long gone except for the World Series opening today.

In Pittsburgh where the big show has top billing they are all aglow with pride, and rightly so. The no-longer-so-Smoky City is bound to set some spending records, but not the kind that will be to the special benefit of either players or team owners.

Pittsburgh, as most everyone knows, is having its first World Series in 33 years and the whole town is bursting at the seams. Hotels are tight; inflation alone would see to the establishment of spending records.

New York is much the same, with the money spree certain to outdo even that of 1958, when choice seats in Yankee Stadium were going for $100 each as were tickets to some Broadway shows.

Night clubs and fancy restaurants are sure to turn away business at Klondike prices in both cities. Insiders report that this is bound to be a big gambling series as well as big spending.

Sheer logistics make the prospects less attractive for the players. Last year's winning Dodgers received $11,231 and the defeated White Sox $7,275. The reason is obvious, the 93,000 capacity Los Angeles Coliseum.

Forbes Field, home of the Pirates will only seat 35,000. So last year's series attendance and receipts records which were 420,784 and $2.7 million will probably stand for a while.

Autumn Colors

Slow in Arriving; May Not Be as Brilliant as Usual

Teen-ager: One who knows the value of a dollar—'twill buy about three gallons of gas.

The fall foliage display in the Pontiac area has had some setbacks. After showing the effects of the late summer drouth, the deluge of rain had a tendency to destroy the color pigment in the leaves. They now are falling in a green color that is not verdant.

This column will keep you posted as any coloration is assumed that is worth a drive into the country to see. Perhaps Jack Frost will do something for the situation, but the experts tell me that he has but little effect on it.

An outstanding example of keeping young is

Mrs. Marilla Hayward

of 740 Owego Drive, who soon celebrates her 101st birthday. She is the mother of

Robert Y. Moore,

Chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, who expects her to live another 15 years, at least.

Anybody who thinks our robin population is decreasing should witness the gathering of them around the bird bath in the yard of at 2450 Dixie Highway, Pontiac, where as many as 18 have been counted at one time.

Mrs. Stella Keylon

An apple tree in the yard of

of Waterford, on which a pear limb was grafted a few years ago, now has ripened fruit and blossoms in both its apple and pear sections.

Looking for an early winter are of Pontiac Lake, as a large warty toad which has been around their premises for several years has already gone into hibernation in its usual place under their back porch.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Owlsley

of Drayton Plains. It is confined in the cellarway and chirps rapidly when it is warm, but slows up when it is cool. It keeps in hiding, and gets real quiet when anybody approaches.

Moving his industrial plant to Holly, had a good personal reason. It was the childhood home of his mother, now living in California, who as

Fred D. Barton

David Lawrence Says:

How Would Kennedy Free Poles?

WASHINGTON — Sen. John F. Kennedy has promised that, if elected president, he will "announce to the world a specific course of action to aid the restoration of freedom in Poland and the captive nations."

LAWRENCE

These words were read by Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan to a gathering in connection with the annual Pulaski Day parade in New York City Sunday.

What does this promise mean? Will America take forceful action to "liberate" Poland and the other captive nations?

In view of the vehement criticism launched by Democratic party speakers in the 1952 presidential campaign and continued ever since against President Eisenhower, as well as John Foster Dulles, because they spoke of "peaceful liberation" and "rolling back the Iron Curtain," the question now is whether the Democrats have forgiven the Republicans or whether the "action" which Sen. Kennedy promises is going to be subject to Republican attack on the ground that, if elected president, he might drag the United States into a war.

What Eisenhower said Aug. 25, 1952, was this:

"We can never rest—and we must so inform all the world, including the Kremlin—that until the enslaved nations of the world have in the fullness of freedom the right to choose their own path, that then, and then only, can we say that there is a possible way of living peacefully and permanently with communism in the world.

"We must tell the Kremlin that never shall we desist in our aid to every man and woman of those shackled lands who seek refuge with us, any man who keeps burning among his own people the flame of freedom and who is dedicated to the liberation of his fellows."

ADLAI'S ANSWER

Immediately, candidate Adlai Stevenson said in a speech in Michigan on Sept. 1 of that year:

"His (Eisenhower's) speech aroused speculation here and abroad that if he were elected, some reckless action might ensue in an attempt to liberate the peoples of Eastern Europe from Soviet tyranny."

Former President Truman, in a speech in West Virginia the next day, said:

"To try to liberate these enslaved people at this time might well mean turning these lands into atomic battlefields. . . .

"If the Republicans don't mean to give that armed support—and I feel sure they don't—then they are trying to deceive their fellow citizens at home and playing cruel, gutter politics with the lives of countless good men and women behind the Iron Curtain."

Dulles four days later took issue with Truman in a statement which said:

"It is, of course, absurd to suggest that Gen. Eisenhower anticipates invoking wholesale insurrection by unarmed slaves.

"Premature revolt would expose the patriotic people to liquidation. There are countless peaceful ways by which the task of the Russian despots can be made so unbearably difficult that they will renounce their rule. That was shown in Yugoslavia."

Sen. Kennedy is today saying the same thing as Eisenhower and Dulles did in 1952.

Kennedy, in his address to the Polish-American Congress at Chicago last Saturday, for example, declared:

"We must be willing to recognize growing divisions in the Communist camp, and be willing to encourage those divisions.

"My amendment to the Battle Act (a federal appropriation law) would permit the president to use our economic strength to promote peaceful change behind the Iron Curtain wherever this would help wean the so-called captive nations away from their Kremlin masters. . . .

"We must never—at any summit, in any treaty declaration, in our words or even in our minds—recognize Soviet domination of Eastern Europe."

These are strong words, and yet will they now be misinterpreted to imply that "peaceful liberation" means something else?

Dr. William Brady Believes:

Teeth Must Be Saved Until All Hope Is Gone

Here comes the Pyorrhea Specialist!

The dentist used to have a special greeting for me when I arrived on the bowling green: "Oh, here comes the pyorrhea specialist!" he would remark, not to me but to the players near him, and he said it without a smile.

He referred to the fact that from time to time in my health column and, in a more lasting way, in No. 1 Little Lesson, the booklet titled Save Your Teeth, I discuss the nature, cause, prevention and treatment of degeneration of the mastication apparatus, the state commonly called pyorrhea.

DR. BRADY

I am aware of the disdain dentists in general feel concerning anything I say about the teeth. Especially dentists who have their own convictions about the treatment of pyorrhea.

★ ★ ★

Here's one letter:

"Dear Dr. Brady:

"My experience with the 'pyorrhea obsession' (oh, come, now did I say that?) "has been this. It is impossible to find a dentist who will cooperate with a patient who is trying to keep his teeth. The dentists all seem to have a mania for extracting teeth.

"For over 12 years I have refused to have my teeth extracted because of pyorrhea. This has necessitated going from one dentist to another in the hope of finding one willing to help me try to keep my teeth.

"I have lost a few teeth, due to loosening, but I have insisted on having them replaced immediately with partial plates." (There, now, I did say that.) "If I had listened to them I would have been wearing upper and lower false teeth for the past 12 years.

"One dentist told me it was a wonder I wasn't flat on my back in bed because of my teeth — that I should have arthritis, heart trouble, headaches and what not."

(That's reminiscent of the 1920s when dentists were removing teeth and physicians were removing tonsils wholesale.)

"I am never sick and I never have headaches!

"I'm determined to keep my own teeth as long as possible — but it would be a lot easier if I could get help and encouragement from some dentist.

Sincerely,
A reader who likes your column."

In the booklet Save Your Teeth there are three chapters on pyorrhea. It is Little Lesson No. 1 because I believe you must have functionally efficient teeth, your own or your dentist's, to enjoy health, vite and longevity. Put that in your pipe and smoke it.

Signed letters not more than one personal health and hygiene, not dispage or 100 words long pertaining to ease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

When everything on earth appears . . . As though it just were born . . . I like to wake up early when . . . The sky is pink and blue . . . And little winds are walking in . . . The fields of emerald hue . . . I like to wake up early to . . . The lilting songs of birds . . . That fly around the garden trees . . . And listen to their words . . . I like to wake up early as . . . The flowers open eyes . . . And turn their heads to cast a smile . . . On sunrise in the skies . . . I like to wake up early, too . . . And leap right out of bed . . . But never really do because . . . I am a sleepy head.

'Who Are Oakland County's Unregistered Voters?'

I read there are 60,000 unregistered voters in Oakland County alone. This would mean that there are more people unregistered than live in the whole of Waterford Township. Are these folks un-American or are they foreigners? I cannot imagine we have 60,000. Will someone please tell me who these thousands and thousands of unregistered voters are?

'Why the Publicity on Missile Failures?'

Why do we consistently play up our missile failures? This is a dangerous type of "news." Failure is really not news at all. It's the mundane stuff all of us cope with each day. How long do you think any individual could "take it" by having every failure labeled and broadcast?

★ ★ ★

Self-confidence would dwindle to nothing. And that can happen to a nation. When we have months of expensive failures it is then time for the public to know and start tracking down the trouble. It only takes one or two wrong persons to bankrupt the missile program.

★ ★ ★

Give us a breather from advance notices of missile shoots as well as the wearying communication of every dud. We're so worn out with missile depression we haven't the energy to hurrah when we have a perfect score.

There is also the important matter of psychology on pre-shoot notice. We could put the brand of defeat on our own efforts being accustomed to the word "failure." This statement will fall on many deaf ears and closed minds for those who do not understand that mass thought is indeed powerful.

'Sinatra, Kennedy Are Too Chummy'

I never thought I would see the day when I would worry over whether Frank Sinatra might hold sway in the White House. Here is a guy who associated with one who could be our next president—Jack Kennedy and just recently the two dined together. Kennedy looks like a synthetic Frank Sinatra. He talks in a rapid monotone that at times is hard to understand.

After his nomination Kennedy was invited to call on Eleanor Roosevelt at her Hyde Park Estate. The same invitation was given Khrushchev while here last year. Both accepted.

Think before you cast.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 5, the 279th day of the year with 87 more to follow in 1960.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1830, Chester Alan Arthur, 21st president of the United States, was born.

In 1853, Antioch College opened its doors for the first time in Yellow Springs, Ohio, the first nonsectarian college to grant equal scholastic opportunities to men and women.

In 1881, Spanish painter Pablo Picasso was born.

In 1947, to build up a stockpile of grain for Europe, President Truman asked Americans to observe meatless Tuesdays and eggless and poultryless Thursdays.

A thought for today: American writer F. Scott Fitzgerald said: "The test of a first-rate intelligence is the ability to hold two opposed ideas in the mind at the same time, and still retain the ability to function."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And he said to her, Your sins are forgiven. — Luke 7:48.

★ ★ ★

God forgives — forgives not capriciously, but with wise, definite, divine pre-arrangement; forgives universally, on the ground of an atonement and on the condition of repentance and faith. — Richard S. Storrs.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Chronic Bachelor Needs Widow

Paul is a real problem to his girl friend for he shies away from marriage like the typical old bachelor. Such men are usually "fixated" at the second or third stages of emotional growth, so scrapbook this case and apply it to the unmarried folks in your circle of friends.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE F - 487: Paul P., aged 37, is a typical old bachelor.

"Dr. Crane," his girl friend exclaimed, "Paul and I have been dating for five years.

"He is a wonderful man and we have a great many mutual ideals and hobbies.

"And I am sure he loves me for he often tells me he does, and is considerate of me in many respects. But he never seems interested in getting married.

★ ★ ★

"And are old bachelors good marriage prospects?"

SKITTISH BACHELORS

To explain a typical old bachelor, let me remind you of the stages in emotional growth through which people are supposed to advance.

First, there is the egocentric (baby stage) where the world revolves around our infant ego.

Babies thus have no concern for their parents and will cry at any time, despite the weariness of their devoted mother. Babies are thus selfishly interested in themselves alone.

Second, the parental. Now the child has advanced to the point where he admits that his parents are prominent "planets" revolving around his own ego as the "sun."

Bachelors and spinsters often stay at this second stage and become tied to mamma's or papa's apron strings for life. That is doubly true if mamma is a widow, with an only son.

This "gang" stage occurs prior to the teens and begins to break up at about 15 or 16.

But many people also remain "fixated" at this stage and always want to stick with their own sex.

They are the chronic poker players and bowling addicts or golfing foursomes who work and play together. And in many cases they even go further and become sexual homosexuals, thus combining mental with physical homosexuality.

Fourth, the heterosexual (normal) dating stage where we look to the opposite sex for love and erotic thrills.

At 15 or 16, the "gang" stage begins to be undermined by the newer level of heterosexual attachments.

But a few old diehards may still remain in those earlier "gang" clubs and meet annually to bemoan the fact their former associates have become benedicts and married.

BEWARE OF BACHELORS

Exceptions do occur, but in our Scientific Marriage Foundation, we much prefer to match an old bachelor with a jolly widow.

For it takes a very understanding woman to put up with the unwitting selfishness of the chronic bachelor.

He doesn't realize there are two sides to most marital questions so he egotistically tries to play the game of marriage as per his own created rules.

Single girls can't take this as well as more resourceful widows, who have already learned a lot about male psychology in their first marriage.

Bachelors are also more likely to be mother-dominated males, so the wife will usually play second fiddle to her mother-in-law till the older lady dies. (See tomorrow's follow-up).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Noonan, a former collector of customs in San Diego, Calif., had served as a labor adviser in the foreign aid program in Paris from 1955 to 1956. He was born in St. Louis.

Drivers Who Drink Lose Control Early

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A report of a driving test showed Tuesday that impairment of driving ability begins to appear after only one-third the drinking set as the intoxication level.

Dr. Robert Forney, director of the State Toxicology Laboratory at the Indiana University Medical Center, said "definite evidence of impairment" appeared from as little as .05 per cent alcohol in the blood of some drivers.

Law in many states specifies that .15 per cent alcohol content is prima facie evidence of intoxication.

Oldest MSU Alumnus Dies in Colorado at 101

LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University officials have received word of the death of the school's oldest alumnus — 101-year-old Elwyn T. Gardner.

He received his bachelor of science degree in 1885 and was a merchant, civil engineer, teacher and farmer.

Gardner was holder of the Kedzie Cane, given to the oldest living graduate of the earliest class. A successor will be announced at the June 1961, alumni reunion.

Indict 12 Persons in $8 Million Theft

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Twelve persons indicted Tuesday are accused of stealing more than $8 million from a loan company's 4,500 investors.

* * *

The state says the 12, mostly New Yorkers, made the once legitimate Equitable Plan Corp. here an outpost in a crooked financial empire rigged with worthless securities, watered stock and fake records. Equitable collapsed three years ago.

* * *

The syndicate's key man, the state said, is millionaire Lowell McAfee Birrell, now living luxuriously but as a fugitive in Brazil, which has no extradition treaty with the United States. An investigator said Birrell bought Equitable with its own money.

154,000 See Old Fort

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Some 154,000 persons visited the partially restored Fort Michilimackinac at Mackinaw City this summer, says Park Commissioner Richard Welch. The Mackinac Island State Park Commission will meet at Lansing Friday to consider further restoration work at the fort.

The area of Labrador, once considered and later disproved as part of Greenland is half a million square miles.

THE '61 PONTIAC IS OUT TODAY!

It's All Pontiac! on a new Wide-Track!

New track-to-body proportion! The track is the width between the wheels. Pontiac is the only Wide-Track car. Body width is reduced, shaving side overhang, balancing more weight between the wheels. Best relationship of body width to wheel width ever tailored. Lean and sway are ancient history.

Announcing the new Pontiac Trophy V-8 Engine! We've improved the engine the experts said was perfect. New fuel induction system saves gas by using more air in the gasoline mixture. This makes the engine breathe more efficiently, giving you better acceleration. Eleven versions to choose from. Horsepowers range from 215 to 348. For best economy, specify the Trophy Economy V-8. Its lower compression ratio lets you use regular gas.

More headroom, legroom, footroom for greater comfort! You'll take great comfort in the extra roominess we've built into the '61 Pontiac. Seats are higher, yet there's more clearance beneath the steering wheel and more hatroom over your head. There is more legroom, more footroom. Doors are wider and designed to swing open farther. The more highway you put behind you (Pontiac specializes in this) the more you'll appreciate the new room that's all around you in this sleek new '61.

THE ONLY WIDE-TRACK CAR!
Body width trimmed to reduce side overhang. More weight balanced between the wheels. No other car hugs the road with such sure-footed stability and precision.

Host Meeting of Farm Bureau

Serve Up Banquet, Fun for Gathering in Center at Clarkston

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

CLARKSTON—One hundred or more women from all parts of Oakland County met yesterday at the Clarkston Community Center for an afternoon of fun, education and just plain good fellowship.

Farmer's wives entertained their city sisters at a banquet as the Oakland County Farm Bureau's committee women convened.

At noon, in the downstairs dining room homemade hot biscuits were passed followed by steaming bowls of chicken-a-la-king. Then every type of salad and relish, and finally apple, lemon and cherry pies were served.

Silly word set to familiar old tunes were sung and stunts soon had everyone in a gay, congenial mood.

* * *

Four farm women then conducted a panel discussion on poultry, fruit, dairy farming and the problems of raising registered hogs.

Mrs. Hildred Hunt of Novi told about raising 400 chickens. Orchards and fruit-growing problems were discussed by Mrs. Otto Rexin of Farmington and dairy farmer's wife Mrs. Stuart Braid of Lake Orion gave a few statistics on the milk producers' annual output.

Michigan State Fair's runner-up in the hog-calling contest, Mrs. Vernon Hutchings of Ortonville, talked briefly about feeding, caring for a marketing of her registered hogs.

* * *

The lone man in the crowd, Lyle Abel, Oakland County Extension director, showed a film "Where Were You," illustrating the importance of getting out to vote in the coming election.

Another presentation was given by Mrs. Carolyn Schrock, Oakland County home extension agent. She talked about changes in the county during the last decade, and of the problems farmers and their wives face in the future.

The city guests appeared to be surprised and duly impressed with the advancements that their "country cousins" have been so instrumental in promoting.

* * *

The closing song "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," seemed an appropriate way to end a delightful afternoon of fine association of country and village folks.

FARM PANEL — The Clarkston Community Center was the scene of the annual women's Oakland County Farm Bureau Committee yesterday as representatives from 22 individual farm bureaus entertained town business and professional women. Heading the panel after the noonday lunch were (from left) Mrs. Hildred Hunt, Mrs. Vernon Hutchings, Mrs. Otto Rexin and Mrs. Stuart Braid.

Immunization Shots for Avondale Oct. 13

The Avondale Area Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will sponsor an immunization clinic from 1 to 8 p.m. Oct. 13 at Avondale High School.

Diphtheria and tetanus booster shots for children 3 to 14 years old and a combined serum against both diseases for children 5 to 14 years old will be given free.

Small pox vaccinations also will be offered free and polio shots will be given for 75 cents. These will be offered to anyone regardless of age, according to Mrs. Floyd Cobb, PTA Council health chairman.

Sewer Pact to Detroit Firm

Farmington Lets Bid

FARMINGTON — A $25,500 contract for construction of a sanitary sewer here has been awarded to the Mole Excavating Co. of Detroit.

* * *

The sewer main will be installed along Hawthorne Street from Nine Mile Road to Elm Road, and will be financed by special assessments.

The City Council has also approved allocating $2,500 for sidewalk construction at critical locations in school areas.

The Farmington Board of Education sought the assistance of the city, claiming that sidewalks were needed within the walking routes of several elementary schools.

BUDGETED EARLIER

City Manager John Dinan said funds for the project had been budgeted earlier this year.

The project is expected to be completed in a month.

Stiles PTA to Hear Avondale Fire Chief

AVON TOWNSHIP—Victor Camp, Avondale Fire Chief, will be the main speaker at tomorrow's 8 p.m. meeting of the Stiles School Parent-Teacher Association.

Camp will speak on fire prevention and emergency aid in a discussion of all phases of school safety. Mrs. Ralph Falk, crossing guard at the school, will talk on crossing and walking safely.

Residential street safety will be discussed by Douglas Ferguson, father vice president of Stile PTA. Also included in the safety discussion will be Mrs. Everett Earich, bus driver for Avondale schools Mrs. Leo Wenzel, teacher vice president of Stiles PTA; and Donald Reiman, Stiles school principal.

Lapeer Hospital Expansion Starts Next Week

Pontiac Press Photo

$758,000 Project to Hike Capacity by 60 Per Cent

LAPEER—Work is scheduled to begin here early next week on a $758,000 expansion program which will increase the capacity of Lapeer County General Hospital by 60 per cent.

The first phase of the project will be the completion of the second floor of the building to make space available for 50 more beds and additional equipment.

The outer section of the third story also will be built. The interior of the third floor will be completed at some future date, according to Coleman Foote, hospital administrator.

Foote said that when this part of the structure is finished it will accommodate 35 beds in addition to the 50 which are to be on the second floor.

A 10-month schedule has been set for completion of the second floor interior and construction of the third floor shell so the extra space should be ready by next August, Foote said.

New equipment for the addition will cost approximately $60,000, the administrator reported. He said the fee of the architects, Giffels and Rossetti of Detroit, is $30,000.

The construction costs total about $668,000. Paul H. Johnson, Inc. of Detroit is handling the general construction.

Elevators are being installed by another Detroit firm, the Lardner Elevator Co., and two Flint firms are doing the rest of the work. They are the Batzli Electric Co. and Devanay Plumbing and Heating Inc.

Contracts for the addition were let Sept. 27. The bids received were over the estimates, forcing some cutbacks in the original expansion program, Foote said.

A $300,000 bond issue which was approved in August 1959 is being used to finance the project. The rest of the cost is being met through charitable contributions and federal funds.

Plan Benefit Dance Oct. 27

Brandon UF Workers Gather

ORTONVILLE — Over 50 campaign workers attended the Pontiac Area United Fund Drive kickoff luncheon — the first of its kind in Brandon Township — yesterday at the local high school.

Presiding was Charles F. Sherman, 1960 campaign chairman.

He introduced Mrs. Charles Pangus, women's division chairman, whose group is the "backbone" of the Brandon drive, according to UF officials.

Jack Ferris, school chairman, announced an area-wide "Teen Dance" will be held Oct. 27 to benefit the Brandon UF campaign.

The dance will be at the high school from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. and will be broadcast live from 8:30 to 10:30. The entire proceeds will be turned into the local drive, which has a goal of $1,890.

Also at the speakers' table were School Supt. Burl Glendenning, school chairman, and Duane Schultz, representing the Genesee Merchants Bank and Trust Co., Flint, which sponsored the luncheon.

In addition, Mrs. Roderick Taylor, Pontiac women's division campaign chairman, was a guest speaker who addressed the group briefly.

Charles Pangus, commercial division chairman, was unable to attend.

* * *

Mrs. Margaret C. Libby, women's division director, complimented the Brandon drive organizers for their efficient job thus far and assured them with their zeal, their drive is bound to go "over the top."

Two local workers, Mrs. Marvin Featherstone and Mrs. Ora Connely, presented a skit entitled "Sally Solicitor" as an example for women's division canvassers.

Before adjourning, the group heard Joseph H. Schultz, training chairman for the Pontiac Area UF, present his training program.

Lake Orion May Start Own Sanitation Dept.

LAKE ORION — Dissatisfaction over present methods of garbage removal here may result in Lake Orion establishing its own sanitation department, according to Irvine Unger, Village Council president.

Unger said today that the possibility of the village handling its own garbage disposal is one of the suggestions likely to come up at a public hearing on the matter Oct. 24.

The council set the hearing in order to get opinions of villagers. Also invited to the meeting are officials from Oxford, where a similar situation exists.

Garbage and trash pickup in the village now is being handled by a private firm, Bushman Disposal Service of Lake Orion.

The contract with Bushman expires Dec. 31.

The council recently passed a 2-mill tax in order to pay the firm for its service. Unger said many citizens have objected to the tax, but that the money could not be raised any other way because of the limited village budget.

It formerly was the practice to allow residents to pay for the service on an individual basis. The council president said this created problems because all property owners, many of them summer residents only, did not subscribe to the service.

Villagers who chose to take care of their own disposal could not leave garbage and trash in the Orion Township dump because the township had leased it to a private firm, he said.

The council has not yet selected a place for the public hearing. It may be held in the Orion Community Center since the village hall is too small for a meeting of this type. The location of the hearing will be announced later.

In other recent action, the council approved a $4,500 contract for renovation of the village water tank and opened bids for a new police car.

Oxford Church to Play Host for Bible Institute

OXFORD—"The Seven Windows into the Church" will be the theme of a Bible Institute at the Holy Cross Lutheran Church tomorrow sponsored by the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

The day will begin with registration at 9:30 a.m. and matins at 10 a.m. followed by films, lectures and a noon luncheon.

Speakers besides the Rev. Gordon Behnke of Holy Cross Lutheran will be the Rev. Ralph C. Claus of St. Trinity Lutheran Church and the Rev. George Mahder of St. Paul Lutheran Church, both of Pontiac.

The institute will continue until 3 p.m. with lectures and group discussions of the theme, which is based on the seven parables in the 13th chapter of Matthew.

To Show Alaska Films

GINGELLVILLE — Mrs. Harvey Johnson, kindergarten teacher, will show films of her recent vacation trip to Alaska at the Proper Parent-Teacher Association meeting at 8 p.m. Monday.

DR. WILLIAM RHODE

To Speak Thursday on Michigan Issues

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Chapter of Citizens for Michigan will sponsor a talk tomorrow by Dr. William Rhode in the meeting room of St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

Dr. Rhode is professor of political science at Michigan State University Oakland. He will speak on state issues facing the voters in the Nov. 8 election.

A discussion period will follow the talk.

The 8 p.m. meeting is open to the public.

More Death, Destruction Loom in French Floods

LIMOGES, France (AP)—Rampant flood waters in south central France slowly receded today, but a fresh onslaught of heavy rain renewed fears of further death and destruction.

Thus far nine persons have lost their lives, and unofficial estimates of damage run as high as $10 million.

Torch Drive Goals Told

The 1960 Torch Drive Community goals for Holly, Highland, White Lake, Addison, Springfield, Groveland and Rose townships were announced today by division chairmen directing the local campaigns.

Mrs. Max Freeman has announced a $4,119 goal for Holly; the Highland goal is set at $1,829, according to Mrs. James M. Keith; and White Lake solicitors have a $1,605 goal, Mrs. Bruce Njekerson said.

Mrs. Marvin Acheson reports Addison has a $925 goal; a $707 goal was announced by Mrs. Werner Hoy for Springfield; Mrs. Frank Quail reports a $629 goal for Groveland; and Rose Township fund raisers have a goal of $406, said Mrs. Wellington F. Evans.

CHAIRMEN NAMED

In addition, community leaders in the five townships who have accepted area and district chairmen assignments will be responsible for recruiting 245 local volunteer solicitors.

* * *

The 1960 Torch Drive will be officially kicked off Oct. 18 when some 100,000 volunteers in Oakland, Macomb and Wayne counties begin an active campaign to put the annual drive over the top by Nov. 10.

Dr. Sabin Will Propose Global Immunization

Modern Health Below Par

Listen to 'My Aching Rib'

By The Associated Press

A look at medicine finds good health not so widespread as it might be and ribs used to help repair deformed faces:

SICKER THAN WE THINK

Americans apparently are not so healthy as generally thought. There are more minor illnesses and days of being below par, than has been suspected.

This is indicated, at least, by 10 scientists who kept careful records upon themselves for nine months, beginning in the fall.

On average, they were free of some symptoms of minor ills only 45 per cent of all that time. The 10 suffered 45 bouts of upper respiratory ailments.

★ ★ ★

But they averaged only 1½ days absence from their jobs. This suggests absenteeism records don't accurately reflect the extent of minor illnesses, at least among persons who like their work, says the report in the American Review of respiratory Dieseases.

WINE AS MEDICINE

Drinking a dry, white wine helped patients overcome one after-effect of surgery in which part of the stomach is removed because of ulcers or cancer. These persons no longer could absorb fats from their food normally, and this caused pain, indigestion, and sometimes far more serious complications. The wine boosted ability to utilize essential food fats reports Dr. Theodore L. Althausen University of California Medical School.

RIBS FOR REPAIR

The 4-year-old boy was so ashamed of his deformed face that he hid in a closet rather than face other youngsters in a hospital ward.

He's one of a number of children whose faces since have been rebuilt by using ribs taken from the youngsters' own chest cages. If care is taken not to damage the membrane surrounding the rib, the rib grows back again, and can even be used repeatedly in step-by-step plastic surgery to repair defects, Drs. J. J. Longacre, G. A. deStefano and Kaj Holmstrand of Cincinnati report.

SKIN SPOILER

Carbon paper is not uncommon as a cause of allergic skin rashes, particularly among secretaries and stenographers, a medical journal says. Patch-tests easily can show if carbon paper is causing the trouble.

TOOTH GRINDERS

Is bruxism one of your bad habits? That means habitual grinding, clenching or clicking of the teeth, even when you're not aware of it, or during slep. Most people do this to some extent, and it's a cause of abnormal wear and erosion of teeth, and recessing bleeding or inflammation of gums, says Dr. Samuel C. Nadler, Forest Hills, N.Y., dentist in the Journal of the American Dental Assn. He urges dentists to help patients detect and overcome bruxism.

Russ Promise Reply on Fate of 2 Yanks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union has promised the State Department an "early reply" to repeated inquiries about the fate of two American tourists in the Soviet Union who have not been heard from since last August.

★ ★ ★

The last word from the two men was a post card from Bennett to his wife dated Aug. 19, from Vinnitsa, a Russian town near the Czechoslovak border. Bennett said in the card that the two men, who had been on a motor tour in Russia, planned to drive out through Czechoslovakia and fly home about Aug. 25.

A study of 1,064 U. S. companies reveals that employe payroll deductions for life and health insurance averaged $4.96 a month during 1959. Employers contributed $9.52 monthly per worker.

Jobs, Salaries Hold the Line for Grads

EAST LANSING (AP)—Job prospects and starting salaries for college graduates next June will equal or slightly exceed those of last year, Michigan State University students were told.

The forecast came from top personnel men of business and industry participating in the 12th annual career carnival on the campus. More than 70 business and industrial firms sent recruiting personnel to talk to the undergraduates.

College engineering graduates will command starting salaries in the $500 to $550 range per month, students were told—about the same figure as this year.

Several pace-setting industrial firms said they would be offering salaries 2 to 3 per cent higher next year to attract top graduates.

Truman Will Stump Heavy in the South

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former President Harry S. Truman has tentatively scheduled 18 campaign appearances on behalf of the Kennedy-Johnson presidential ticket, a dozen of them in the South.

The Democratic National Committee, announcing this in a statement today, said Truman's first speech will be Saturday at a Democratic rally in Spencer, Iowa. His subject there will be farm problems.

Hunter College Girls Giggle Over History

NEW YORK (AP) — Going to school across the stret fro mSoviet Premier Khrushchev is trying at times—but it's also an education.

So say the girls at Hunter College.

They've had their own cold war blockade to run for more than a week now, with the Communist leader holding forth intermittently at the Soviet U.N. mission headquarters directly across Park Avenue from the campus.

The situation has produced classroom interruptions, arguments and annoyances, but also some laughs and learning.

"Most of the students have taken it rather lightly," said Barbara Galgano, 19, Manhattan, managing editor of the college newspaper, the Hunter Arrow.

Whenever Khrushchev has appeared on the street, or discoursed from the balcony of the abandoned their desks and swarmed to the windows to watch.

"It's as if it were a sideshow," Miss Galgano said.

Once, as Khrushchev sparred with reporters from hisbalcony, a group of Hunter girls began singing "God Bless America" from a classroom window.

He responded with a few lines of the Internationale, "Arise, ye prisoners of starvation."

Another time, some girls in a third-floor lounge let out a few boos. He glanced up, squinting, then grinned and made a thumbs-down gesture.

"Generally, most of the girls have regarded it all as a circus," said Linda Lax, 20, a Bronx junior. "There have been no general displays of animosity. It's been mostly just curiosity."

Political science students like herself, she said, "have been excited at the opportunity to be so close to history in the making."

The scream of police escort sirens or chant of demonstrators outside have added a strange counterpart to the usual academic calm, and security forces have made the area resemble a zone under martial law.

Your United Fund Dedicated and Successful

Fund Was Born of Unity Need

The year was 1949, a landmark date for the Pontiac Area United Fund.

For, on Sept. 14 of that year, the Pontiac United Fund was born.

The event culminated almost a year of discussion and negotiation by a few Pontiac community leaders interested in controlling and critically appraising the great number of drives for charitable causes.

There was a feeling that many of the solicitations were uneconomical. Too much of the total raised was spent on campaigns rather than services.

It also was felt that the abundance of drives was causing volunteer and giver exhaustion, and that, as a result, really worthwhile causes were suffering.

Thus, in the fall of 1948 several influential Pontiac citizens began discussing the possibility of consolidating the worthwhile drives into one campaign and eliminating those of doubtful standards and value to the community.

GIVERS ORGANIZE

In April, 1959, business and industrial leaders formed an "organization of givers." The group was small and represented chiefly the Pontiac Manufacturers Association and the Retail Merchants Association.

That summer this group grew into the Pontiac United Fund.

The incorporators of the Pontiac United Fund all were active on Community Chest and Chest agency boards.

★ ★ ★

The Community Chest was persuaded to cede its fund - raising function to the United Fund. The Fund then proceeded to raise money for the Chest agencies, the local chapter of the American Red Cross and more than 20 state and national agencies united under the banner of the new Michigan United Health and Welfare Fund, later to become the Michigan United Fund.

★ ★ ★

Nearly all these agencies had conducted some form of separate solicitation before they were banded together.

The United Fund idea has grown through the years.

Your contribution during the 1960 campaign will help meet the needs of 52 agencies which serve Pontiac and surrounding areas.

1960 Goal Is Cut-Down Sum

Needs of Various UF Agencies Are Carefully Considered

★ ★ ★

Volunteer budget committees — more than 150 citizen representatives from all walks of life—spent days studying the agency needs and budgets.

★ ★ ★

Heat, light, food, salaries, directors and other trained personnel as needed were estimated for each member agency.

The agencies submitted budget requests totaling $863,000.

Volunteers on budget panels, then finally the Board of Trustees of the Pontiac Area United Fund, pared down this figure to $672,500.

★ ★ ★

The campaign goal is the best judgment of those representatives of the monies which must be raised to meet community needs.

UF Meals Paid For by Local Businesses

Luncheons, dinners and other events held in connection with Pontiac Area United Fund campaigns are paid for by businesses, industrial firms and other organizations.

★ ★ ★

In the True Spirit of Giving

'60 Chairman Hopes for Generous Hearts

By S. E. KNUDSEN

When I was asked to serve as chairman of the 1960 Pontiac Area United Fund Drive last March, I said that it would be an honor to serve our community in this capacity because I was well aware of the important services the United Fund agencies render to residents in this area.

★ ★ ★

Since that time we have spent many hours organizing our drive which starts today. Many very busy people have generously taken time from their important work to assist with the details that are necessary for a successful campaign. It has been a rewarding experience.

Now the big job is at hand . . . the actual raising of the money to make our goal of $672,500. It is a two-fold job this year because we have to plan for the present and also for the future.

Census experts tell us that the Pontiac area is in a rapid growth stage. There is a tremendous population increase, especially in our suburban communities.

An accelerated birth rate will put additional stress on United Fund agencies devoted to youth guidance and activities. Our longer life span means a larger percentage of older people will be requiring assistance.

It is our responsibility in this area to help insure that our local United Fund agencies are prepared to meet the challenges posed by this growth.

United giving, in its comparatively few years of existence, has successfully demonstrated what can be done by the citizens of our area to help each other. The scope, efficiency and economy of our various local UF agencies represent an important stride forward in the health of our community.

Every vital dollar contributed in the 1960 Pontiac Area United Fund drive will give new vision and new hope to our less fortunate neighbors when they require agency services.

The generosity of Pontiac area citizens has not faltered in 11 previous campaigns.

I am confident that the 1960 campaign will prove Pontiac hearts are warmer than ever.

UF Agencies Under the Gun

The agencies of the Pontiac Area United Fund once again are "under the gun."

During the past year all of them have carried out the programs as set forth and financed by 1959 contributions.

Now, having looked over the record, itemized the successes—and failures—of the 12-month period, and submitted estimates of what next year will require, these agencies are working with respective glances over their shoulders.

During the 21 days of the annual 1960 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign, the people—in the way they support the drive—will pass judgment on the efforts of the 52 agencies supported by the United Fund.

★ ★ ★

Budgets for the agencies are gone over carefully by leaders from all segments of the community. They serve on budget committees because of their familiarity with community needs and problems.

Hundreds of hours are spent poring over each agency's records, the history of its activities, its yearly programs.

Hundreds of hours more are spent estimating what expected and unexpected demands may be made on each agency during the coming year.

It is natural that the public should want to know why the goal has been increased.

There are several reasons.

One is the higher cost of living. A second is the population increase in Oakland County, which means that more services, improved services, must be made available.

The higher costs affect both the costs of administering agency programs and the expense of additional goods and services supplied by and used by the United Fund agencies.

County Medical Society to Hear Rep. Broomfield

A large turnout is expected at the October meeting of the Oakland County Medical Society tonight to hear Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, the featured speaker.

Broomfield will speak on the activities of the 86th Congress with special emphasis on legislation pertaining to medical and health care for the aged.

The dinner meeting will begin at 7 in the Kingsley Inn.

The society has opposed federal legislation which would affix the problem of medical care for the aged to the federal Social Security system.

★ ★ ★

Also expected to be on tonight's agenda will be a report on activities of last week's meeting of the Michigan State Medical Society's House of Delegates in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The MSMS has assigned a special committee to study the problem of misuse of emergency room facilities for routine clinic care not covered by Blue Cross if performed in a doctor's office.

UF Contributors Can Name Agency of Choice

Each of the Pontiac Area United Fund agencies must meet definite standards of need and operation.

Any contributor to the 1960 UF campaign can, however, designate the agency he wants his money to go to by marking it on the back of the pledge card.

Your Dollar Goes to Help 52 Agencies

Your contribution to the Pontiac Area United Fund campaign helps support 52 local, state and national agencies.

Pontiac agencies receiving UF dollars are: American Red Cross, Oakland County Chapter; Auburn Heights Boys Club; Big Brothers of Oakland County; Boys Club of Pontiac; Boy Scouts of America, Clinton Valley Council; Camp Fire Girls, Pontiac Council; Catholic Social Services of Oakland County; Community Activities, Inc.

Family Service of Oakland County; Girl Scouts, Northern Oakland County Council; Michigan Cancer Foundation; Michigan Children's Aid Society of Oakland County; Oakland Child Guidance Clinic; Pontiac USO Committee; Pontiac Visiting Nurse Association; Salvation Army, Pontiac Citadel; St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Clinic; Urban League of Pontiac; YMCA, and YWCA.

State and national agencies supported are: American Branch, International Social Service; American Council for Nationalities Service; American Social Hygiene Association; Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, Michigan Chapter; Child Welfare League of America; Council of Social Work Education; Jackson Memorial Laboratory.

Kidney Disease Foundation; Leader Dogs for the Blind; Michigan Association for Better Hearing; Michigan Association for Retarded Children; Michigan Children's Aid Society of Oakland County; Michigan Crime and Delinquency Council; Michigan Diabetes Association; Michigan Epilepsy Center and Association.

★ ★ ★

Michigan Heart Association; Michigan League of Nursing; Michigan Welfare League; National Council on Alcoholism; National Crime and Delinquency Council; National Federation of Settlements and Neighborhood Centers; National League for Nursing; National Legal Aid and Defender Association.

★ ★ ★

National Multiple Sclerosis Society; National Recreation Association; National Social Welfare Assembly; National Travelers' Aid Association; Michigan Society for Mental Health & National Association; Sister Elizabeth Kenny Polio Foundation; United Cerebral Palsy Association of Michigan, Inc. and United Service Organizations United Seaman's Service and United Service Organizations (USO).

Make Donations at Your Convenience

Only a few cents a day or an hour's pay a month adds up to your fair share of giving to the Pontiac Area United Fund, says Semon E. Knudsen, 1960 campaign chairman.

★ ★ ★

And it can be pledged now to be paid in any way which is convenient to you during the coming year.

Lists 52 Area Agencies, Cares for Many Needs

The Pontiac Area United Fund.

The name doesn't tell us much. But then, names rarely do.

It is accurate to say that the Pontiac Area United Fund is an organization set up to help meet the needs of the young, the troubled, the afflicted, the handicapped and the infirm through the 52 agencies supported by it.

But that somehow falls short of the mark.

It is too impersonal. And there is nothing impersonal, ever, about a campaign to raise money for a cause dedicated to helping others.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Area United Fund is people—people like yourself and your neighbor, and the couple across the street . . . people who want to help others in their community.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Area United Fund is a good neighbor policy. It is a philosophy. The principles to which it adheres represent a way of life.

It is the philosophy of a civilization in which the right of the individual is respected, but which recognizes the vast importance of united effort.

★ ★ ★

It is through this philosophy that the Pontiac Area United Fund has been so successful.

★ ★ ★

The individual contributor determines the amount he shall give and how he makes his contribution. He may decide which organization or agency of the 52 supported by the United Fund shall receive his assistance.

★ ★ ★

But at the same time, through organization—united giving—he is assured of maximum efficiency of administration with a minimum of byproduct expenses.

And what of those who benefit from the services of the 52 United Fund agencies?

Services, too, can only be administered in this way.

NO CHARITY, PLEASE

The elderly man crippled with arthritis doesn't want charity. He wants an opportunity to carry his own weight.

Through United Fund agencies he is offered that chance of rehabilitation so that he may be again a productive member of the community.

★ ★ ★

The juvenile delinquent would rebel at the idea of charity. Yet he is helped by United Fund organizations in such a manner that he could never identify it as such.

★ ★ ★

The widowed mother wants help, not charity. She wants the opportunity to help herself and her family. And this help is available to her.

★ ★ ★

And, in a real sense, none of the 52 United Fund agencies offer charity, although some may think of it as such.

★ ★ ★

What they do is provide people with the help they need to help themselves. There is no room here for the malingerer.

★ ★ ★

And so the wheel makes a complete revolution. The story comes back to the people.

Labor Pledges Full Support

Letter to County Locals Notes Endorsement by UAW, AFL-CIO

Organized labor in Oakland County has pledged full support to the Pontiac Area United Fund's 1960 campaign.

★ ★ ★

In letters to all UAW locals in the county, Ken Morris, UAW regional codirector noted that the AFL-CIO, as well as the UAW, has endorsed United Fund drives.

"Working people, through their labor organizations, recognize the severity of family problems when illness or personal disaster strikes," Morris said.

"This has given root to labor's complete endorsement and cooperation to the Pontiac Area United Fund's annual solicitations."

He noted that agencies and organizations supported by United Fund contributions give service to families affected at a time when they need it most.

"Most members of organized labor, over these past years, have been aided by an agency or organization supported by UF contributions," Morris said.

The labor official urged all union members to "make as large a contribution as each can afford."

AFL-CIO President George Meany also urged union members to "give generously" upon extending the union's endorsement to United Fund drives.

If You Need Aid, Just Dial Phone

A telephone call is the answer. Anyone interested in these services need only call the information and referral agency, Family Service of Oakland County, at FE 5-6820.

Callers will be referred to the agency best suited to help them.

The Pontiac Area United Fund itself does not give direct service to individuals. Its 52 participating organizations do — with United Fund dollars.

The job of the Pontiac Area United Fund is to raise money and distribute it equitably.

Pontiac Press Photo

NO ONE NEGLECTED — A needy mother and her small son are provided with clothing through the Pontiac Salvation Army Corps. Helping them willingly is Ann Shanks, Salvation Army case worker. All Salvation Army employes, with the support of contributions from the Pontiac Area United Fund, devote themselves to finding happy solutions to seemingly tragic events. If the situation can be remedied more easily elsewhere, the organization will refer the applicant to another county service agency.

Be Sure to Give Your Fair Share to United Fund

What should one person or one family give to the Pontiac Area United Fund? Who can say? Who can legislate a need, an emotion, or enthusiasm?

Yet United Fund workers are being asked every day, "How much should I give?"

"Your fair share" is the only answer the 4,000 volunteer workers of the 1960 United Fund campaign can give — the same answer they've been giving for years.

Just what is your fair share? Again, the United Fund people can only offer a guide to follow; from that point on, it is entirely up to each individual and to each family.

Campaign leaders assume that the average person wants "to do the right thing," that he wants to carry his share of the load. "And thus far we haven't been wrong," campaign leaders note.

"This year the United Fund drive has a new goal to reach, one which has risen with the rising cost of living and the increasing population of the United Fund area," they say. "Yet we have kept the fair share guide to the 1957 and 1958 percentages."

★ ★ ★

"The average person resents being told what he should give. At the same time," they point out, "he wants some idea of what is expected of him. To provide some sort of campaign yardstick, the campaign organization has studied drive results of 10 cities and developed the guide to fair share giving which is shown here."

WORKABLE GUIDE

For hourly paid employees a sliding scale has been worked out, beginning with a $.15 weekly pledge for the $1.50-per-hour worker; 20 cents weekly for the $2-per-hour worker and so on.

★ ★ ★

Workers can base twice-monthly pledges on a similar table if they prefer. And another chart is available for those who would rather contribute on a monthly pledge basis.

★ ★ ★

Those with salaries of $20,000 or higher should, by the yardstick, contribute 1.5 per cent of their annual income to the United Fund.

Contributors must, of course, relate their contributions to their personal circumstances, campaign officials stated. "If their financial burden is 'average', then a gift similar to this scale would be a 'fair share' of the Pontiac Area United Fund goal."

WHERE GIRLS GATHER — A favorite meeting place for young women in Pontiac, as this picture indicates, is the YWCA building at 22 Franklin Blvd. Not only are there games, dancing, and outings for teen-agers, but the YWCA also offers "golden age groups," open to all women 65 or older. A multitude of programs is available, made possible by the support of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Those Helped by Foundation Sometimes Pay

The money contributed to the Pontiac Area United Fund does not provide all the income needed by all agencies.

In certain agencies, people prefer to pay what they can for services received. These collections are always considered in setting the goal for the annual United Fund campaign.

Lowering or abolishing such charges would mean increasing the amount provided by the United Fund.

Since some agencies support themselves, more money is made available to other agencies.

UF officials say those who use the services of a particular agency —and who are able to pay for them—are charged their rightful share without burdening the community.

Eastern Hosts Session

"Harvest of Information" was the theme for Pontiac Council of Parent-Teacher Association's workshop session Tuesday evening at Eastern Junior High School. Theodore Wiersema and Eastern's PTA were hosts.

Workshops included an information meeting for presidents conducted by Mrs. George Gray, council president; a treasurers' and auditors' session, led by Mrs. Howard McConnell and Lewis Crew; and a class for historians, directed by Mrs. Carl Masters.

Others conducting workshops were Mrs. Earl Oltesvig and Mrs. Ray Ritter, publicity; Mrs. Charles Coppersmith and Mrs. Melvin Norberg, program; and Mrs. William Mihalek, finance.

Mrs. Lyle Dusenbury and Mrs. Robert Quinn were in charge of a class for membership chairmen in preparation for the annual enrollment of members later this month. This year's slogan is "Ten Thousand and One in Sixty-One."

Hospitality representatives met with Mrs. Keith Pawley, Mrs. Roland Stephison and Mrs. John Turner. Mrs. Stanley Boyd instructed room representatives.

Parent and Family Life Education chairmen and magazine and publications chairmen met with Mrs. Gordon Davis of Dearborn, Parent and Family Life Education chairman of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers. Assisting Mrs. Davis were local council chairmen Mrs. Leroy Koch, Mrs. George Watters, Mrs. Erwin Christie and Mrs. Virgil Everett.

Instruction for health chairmen was given by Josephine Seeley, Mrs. Purvis Hunt and Mrs. William Simpson.

Others who headed workshops were William Lacy and Conklin Bray, safety chairmen; Dr. Dana P. Whitmer and William Anderson, legislation chairmen; Mrs. Arnold Thomas and Mrs. Thomas Bartle, preschool chairmen; Mrs. Anthony Osler, council delegates' duties; and Mrs. William Anderson, who is president of Pontiac Northern High School's Parent-Teacher-Student Association and past PTA Council president, the PTSA representatives' class.

★ ★ ★

Juvenile protection chairmen were instructed in a panel discussion moderated by Mrs. Fred Goines. Panelists were George Caronis, executive secretary of the youth assistance office in Pontiac; James Hunt, Oakland County Probate Court; Lt. Harry Meggitt, Pontiac Police Department; and Mrs. Vida Walker, principal of Franklin Elementary School.

Mrs. Harry King met with a group of administration representatives and teachers.

Mrs. Gray introduced out of town guests and announced coming events which include a parent education workshop at the Michigan Education Association Camp, St. Mary's Lake, Oct. 14-15 and a Nov. 1 council meeting at Lincoln Junior School on the subject "Keeping in Step With Policy."

★ ★ ★

A Parent Education Institute will be conducted at Ann Arbor Nov. 2. Theme will be "Helping America to Grow in Freedom." Cosponsoring the all-day session will be the University of Michigan Extension Service and the MCPT.

Members also were notified of the Michigan State Convention in Detroit April 24-26 with general sessions at Cass Technical High School.

On May 15 at Pontiac Northern High School the PTA's District 7 meeting will be held with Mrs. Mihalek as general chairman.

Helping to plan Tuesday's workshops were students of Daniel Whitfield, Crofoot, Malkim and Bethune elementary schools, programs; Washington Junior High School, printing; and Wilson and Whittier elementary school pupils, name cards and evaluation sheets, respectively.

Refreshments were provided and served by the PTAs of Eastern and Jefferson junior high schools and McConnell, Longfellow and Wilson elementary schools.

B'nai Israel Sisterhood Told About Immigration

The Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel heard Walter Sahli, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, at a meeting Tuesday.

Mr. Sahli explained the functions and purposes of the agency, citing specific cases.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. David Horowitz, program chairman, and Mrs. Stanley Elbling, social action chairman, who introduced the speaker were presented by Mrs. Sidney Ceizler, president of the sisterhood.

★ ★ ★

Opening and closing prayers were given by Mrs. Harry Serwin and Mrs. Sam Messing, respectively.

In conjunction with United Nations Month, the hospitality committee, headed by Mrs. Michael Davis, Mrs. Howard Mahler and Mrs. Jerry Margolis, served foods native to the major countries of the United Nations.

Hostess to MOMS, Unit Two

Mrs. Duncan E. McVean was luncheon hostess to members of MOMS of America, Inc., Unit 2, Tuesday in her home on East Beverly Avenue.

The hostess reported on the State MOMS Convention in Jackson last month.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. E. K. Vanderlind will represent the unit Monday at the City Federation of Women's Club meeting in the Illinois Avenue home of Mrs. Harry Arnkoff.

★ ★ ★

All mothers of service men and women are invited to a school girl luncheon Oct. 18 in the North Saginaw Street home of Mrs. Maude Place. Sewing for the Pontiac General Hospital will be resumed.

Avoid Any Possibility of Fire

URBANA, Ill.—Be sure your children are safe from fire when you leave them with a "sitter," Chief Joseph I. Fetters, University of Illinois firemanship training specialist, warned today.

He urged parents to observe Fire Prevention Week Oct. 9-15 by following five simple rules when they bring in a sitter:

1. Be sure to give the sitter the telephone number where you can be reached and the number of the fire department.
2. Make certain the sitter knows the layout of your home and all exits—including an alternate escape route from every room.
3. Put all matches and lighters out of sight. Do this yourself; don't depend on the sitter.
4. Check the house by telephone at least once an hour.
5. Stress that, in case of fire or gas leak, the sitter is to get the children out of the house FAST, then call the fire department.

"One out of three fire deaths is that of a child," said Chief Fetters, who heads firemanship instruction in the U. of I. Division of University Extension. "Their natural curiosity gets them into trouble and, if they are unsupervised, they often are totally helpless."

Colling-Lougheed Vows Solemnized

Candlelight nuptials of Sandra Lee Lougheed and Gerald L. Colling were solemnized by the Rev. Edmond I. Watkins Saturday evening in Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church. Altar flowers were white chrysanthemums, snapdragons and gladioli.

Following the triple-ring ceremony, the D. W. Loughеeds of Fourth Avenue were hosts at their daughter's church reception. Joining them in the receiving line were the C. K. Collings of First Avenue, parents of the bridegroom.

Styled of white Chantilly-type lace and taffeta, the bridal gown featured a tiered front panel of pleated tulle and lace peplum cascading into a chapel sweep. The molded bodice with modified Sabrina neckline of Alencon lace extended into a Basque waistline.

MRS. GERALD L. COLLING

Fingertip veiling of illusion was held by a tiara of seed pearls. Phalaenopsis and stephanotis comprised the bride's semicascade bouquet.

Judy Ann Lougheed was her sister's honor maid, with Mrs. William Hoisington and Mrs. Joseph Tinson, bridesmaids. Emerald green crushed cummerbunds accented their bouffant princess dress of mint green taffeta styled with scoop neckline and cap sleeves. They carried bronze chrysanthemums and wheat.

The bridegroom had Curtis Kausch of Sebewaing for best man. Ushers were Richard Gilman of Saginaw, William Hoisington of Pontiac, and John and Jerry Zulch of Montpelier, Ohio.

After a motor trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, the couple will be at home on South Marshall Street.

Pale pink carnations and pink miniature roses accented Mrs. Lougheed's sheath dress of Dior blue lace over white taffeta. The mother of the bridegroom, in teal blue lace over gray taffeta, wore white carnations and garnet roses.

The couple's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Dembowski of Unionville, the Clifford Lougheeds of Denver, the Rolland Micks of Fort Wayne, Ind., and the Leslie Collings of Caro, attended the wedding.

Other guests were Carol Cowell of Deshler, Ohio, Doris Artram of Wapakoneta, Ohio, and Barbara Wickert of Norwalk, all former classmates of the bride at Bowling Green State University.

A Spinster Asks Abby . . .

Any Husbands for Sale?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 55-year-old spinster, and I want to buy me a husband. You may think it is funny, but they are being bought every day. I am not bad looking. I can give him a car of his own, a very comfortable home and a good allowance to do as he pleases and no questions asked.

ABBY

I want a man between 20 and 40 that doesn't drink. I own 4 houses and a drive-in and have money in the bank. I am just lonely and there is nothing wrong with me. He doesn't have to work if he doesn't want to and he can sleep as late as he pleases. I am sick of pretending to be hard to get.

I believe in putting all my cards on the table and I want a man who will do the same.

JUST PLAIN LONESOME

DEAR JUST: With a proposition like yours, you don't need national advertising. Just tell a few of the local yokels. Then line up police protection to hold back the crowds.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and a junior in high school. I wore braces on my teeth in my freshman and sophomore years and now the dentist tells me I have to keep them on for another year.

I absolutely refuse to wear braces in my senior year. My teeth really aren't that crooked and I am satisfied with them the way they are. If they didn't straighten out in two years, what good is another year? My father is on the dentist's side and my mother is on my side. Whose side are you on?

HATES BRACES

DEAR HATES BRACES: I am on the dentist's side. Your parents sent you to the dentist because they wanted his advice. Now take it and keep your mouth closed until the dentist tells you to "Open."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: When a couple plans a double-ring ceremony, does the girl buy the man's wedding band or does he buy one for himself when he buys one for her?

RON B.

DEAR RON B.: If a girl wants her future husband to wear a wedding band, she usually buys it for him.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: When I go out with my boyfriend, he never leaves a tip. When I ask him please to leave a tip he tells me that the waiters makes more money than he does. I am so embarrassed I hate to go back to the same place twice. Is he wrong? If so, please tell him.

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: People who begrudge a waitress a "tip" should eat in a cafeteria or stay home.

Medical Careers Beckon Gals

By GAY PAILEY

NEW YORK — A health publication says that a career in medicine for women is just what the doctor ordered.

And the opportunities are growing rapidly in the dental field.

This is the gist of a report in Health Economics, published this week by the Health Insurance Institute, which represents several companies in this insurance field.

The publication said that if Florence Nightingale were alive today, she might urge women to take up medicine or dentistry, where a manpower shortage is increasing, instead of the nursing profession which she founded 100 years ago.

According to the Public Health Service, nursing has brighter prospects of supply.

Health Economics said there are 133 physicians per 100,000 persons in this country. The ratio is expected to decline to 126 by 1975.

It added that today's ratio of 56 dentists per 100,000 population is below World War II levels. And unless more students go into the profession, the ratio will be 50 dentists per 100,000 by 1975.

By contrast, said the publication, the ratio of active professional nurses is 264 per 100,000 now and is expected to rise to 284 by 1970.

The institute listed these points in favor of women going into medicine or dentistry:

—Opportunities are expanding rapidly. The American Women's Medical Association reported that the last of the medical schools supply some kind of financial aid to both men and women in the form of loans, scholarships and prizes for achievement.

In dentistry, the future looks rosy for women because of the increasing emphasis on good dental care for children.

This is where a woman usually shines. And many adults prefer a woman dentist because of her patience and gentleness.

—The pay is good, although the level for women as a group still lags behind that of men.

A study made several years ago showed that 59 per cent of the women doctors interviewed earned between $5,000 and $15,000 a year, and only 8 per cent had incomes above $20,000.

More than a third of the male doctors interviewed at the same time received over $20,000, while 38 per cent reported earnings of $5,000 to $15,000.

The average net income of dentists in 1958, the latest year for which figures are available, was $14,000; a survey of 1,250 women dentists for the same year showed their average at $11,000.

★ ★ ★

—The hours are good. Most women doctors and dentists have found that marriage and career mix happily.

★ ★ ★

—The work is rewarding. As the AWMA describes the future for the girl who wants to study medicine: "Your job will be interesting beyond your wildest dreams. Your sense of spiritual fulfillment will be something none of us can describe."

At present, said Health Economics, there are 6,000 women doctors and 2,000 women dentists in the United States.

Sweet 'n' Sour Pork Is Certain to Please Guests

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Sweet 'N' Sour Pork is an excellent choice for a buffet supper. Make it the way Mrs. George Nahstoll of Farmington does.

★ ★

Mrs. Nahstoll has a variety of interests. She is a garden club member, belongs to the AAUW and the Farmington Players group. Occasionally she works as a substitute teacher.

SWEET 'N' SOUR PORK
By Mrs. George Nahstoll

1 pound pork steak, cut in ½-inch cubes
1 egg
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
Pepper
¼ cup cooking oil

Make a batter with egg, flour, salt and pepper. Dip pork in and put in hot oil with a spoon. Separate the pieces and stir-fry until brown on all sides. This part can be done ahead of time and the meat chilled.

3 large green peppers
1 clove garlic
4 slices pineapple

Cut green pepper into large pieces. Stir in oil remaining in frying pan for 3 minutes. Remove and add to meat just before serving. They should be crispy and green.

Cut each slice of pineapple in 6 pieces and add to oil with garlic that has been bruised with a knife handle. Brown on all sides. Pour off oil and add browned pork cubes. Add 1 cup chicken bouillon and simmer 15 minutes.

2½ teaspoons cornstarch
2 teaspoons soy sauce
½ cup vinegar
½ cup brown sugar

Mix all together and cook until thick, about 5 minutes. If more liquid is needed, add pineapple juice.

Plan Print Night at Camera Club

Prints and color slides will be shown at the Bloomfield Hills Camera Club's Print Night meeting Thursday. Members will gather at 8 in Cranbrook's Institute of Science.

Abstract photography will be the assignment for the evening. Clifford West, art instructor at Cranbrook who is well known in art circles, will be critic and judge.

Guests are welcome at the meeting. The club has openings for membership.

Newlywed Merritts at Home

Daughter of Mrs. Joseph Froeber of East Mansfield Avenue and the late Francis Volk, the former Elsie Christine Volk appeared in white Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. She wore a fingertip veil of silk illusion and carried white roses.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom, son of the Samuel Merritts of Flintridge Street, Orion Township, had Michael Denihen for his best man. Robert Thomas Jr. and Earle Kneale were ushers.

Try a Towel Bath

Plunge a Turkish towel into rich soapsuds, wring it out, and give yourself a brisk all-over rubbing. Rinse the towel in clear water and repeat the body rubdown. Finish off with a dry toweling.

After Bowling Session

Niblicks Meet at Elks

After the first bowling meeting of the season Tuesday, 30 members of the Niblick Club gathered at Elks Temple for a luncheon and business meeting.

Mrs. Arthur Compton, Mrs. Howard Grady and Mrs. Slankster were appointed to the nominating committee. Election of officers is slated for the November meeting in Elk's Temple.

Mrs. Fred Pickering of Nokomis, Fla., was a guest at the meeting.

Mrs. Fred Handren, chairman for the group's summer golfing activities, awarded tournament prizes. The championship trophy went to Mrs. Clarence Nephler for low gross on nine holes. Trophy for total low gross on three rounds was earned by Mrs. Oswald Burke and trophy for total low net on three rounds was awarded to Mrs. Donald Long.

Winners of yearly ringers were Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. R. A. Kingsbury.

Recognition for best attendance went to Mrs. Livingston and Mrs. Sytz.

Organ Society Opens Season With Workshop

The first meeting of the season for the Hammond Organ Society of the Pontiac Area was Tuesday evening at Grinnell Auditorium.

The workshop and policy-making meeting was arranged for the presentation of several well-known organists. A question-and-answer session and playing period also were featured.

The Pontiac area has 400 active members in the society which has over 1800 branches throughout the world. Nationally known organists frequently appear on the society's monthly programs.

Music enthusiasts interested in the technique of organ playing may apply for membership. There is no membership fee and members may attend meetings of the group anywhere in the world. The society has no age requirements for membership.

Fear of Falling Masks Feeling of Insecurity

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

She is terrified of falling. Though she's never had a fall that did her serious hurt, she always seems certain that she will. Strained-looking and pale, she'll come in from the yard and sinking into a kitchen chair, say accusingly to one of her children:

"I nearly tripped over those skates you left in the driveway. I nearly fell! How many times do you have to be told . . . ?"

Even on smooth pavement she cannot walk without clinging heavily to her husband's arm; getting her down the front steps on an icy winter morning is always a major family operation, punctuated by anxious appeals like, "No, let me do it myself . . . No, I guess you better give me your hand . . . Why couldn't you have put more sand on this path, Harry?"

Is it a coincidence that she is also a mother who can tolerate no challenge from her children?

Or that any attempt by their father to support their points of view is invariably met by an angry "That's right, take Betty's side against me, Harry. After all I do for you, I'd think you'd be ashamed to stand there and take my own child's part against me . . . ."

* * *

I don't think so. I think that the lady's fear of falling is only partially fear of physical injury. Actually what it expresses is fear of losing control of the world around her—a secret dread of helplessness.

It is an unreasonable dread. For the world around us all contains many things that we can't control. We can't make an enemy love us.

We can't force a delayed bus to arrive on time, make Khrushchev negotiate practical disarmament plans or repel the advances of age and death.

Our lives are filled with people and circumstances we cannot control. If we are unable to tolerate our inability to order them the way we'd like them, we can exhaust ourselves in secret resentment and self-reproach.

* * *

Unfortunately, we sometimes hide our fear of helplessness behind an innocent-seeming one like fear of falling. We find it easier to think we're afraid of breaking a leg than to know we want to maintain our superior moral uprightness.

* * *

It's easier to imagine we're scared of bruises than to know we're scared of any criticisms of our weaknesses. Yet these are the real problems of the lady of this column.

Watching Weight? Knit!

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I do not know which has had the greater surge of popularity during the past few years — dieting or knitting.

* * *

According to experts they go well together. I will explain this to you a little later on.

Everywhere, the most attractive women are knitting the most attractive sweaters, dresses, socks and other garments.

It is now quite in vogue to take your knitting to the bridge table and knit when you are dummy, and if you know your hostess well enough, you may even take your knitting with you to dinner and knit afterward while you talk.

SNACKS, DOWNFALL

Weigh watchers, physicians and nutritionists all recognize the fact that in-between meal snacks are the downfall of many otherwise serious dieters.

According to Dr. William Weiss of New York City, these in-between meal snacks are encouraged by idle hands and boredom.

* * *

He said, "Give me a woman with nothing to do and nothing to occupy her mind and you'll find her frequently with her fingers in the candy jar or her hands on the door of the refrigerator."

Since knitting and other wool yarn crafts keep the fingers busy, these are among the hobbies which Dr. Weiss suggests for women who are on a reducing schedule.

Of course he emphasizes the fact that knitting alone is not a panacea for overweight.

SHOULD SEE PHYSICIAN

He says, "Any woman with a weight problem should see her physician and be placed on a regulated diet regime.

Idle hands and boredom often lead to the refrigerator for in-between meal snacks. These seemingly harmless but high-caloried bits can undo the good done by mealtime calorie counting.

"Knitting will be mental therapy to help her keep her mind off food so she will find it easier to adhere to the schedule recommended by her doctor."

This seems a wonderful idea to me because you cannot knit with one hand and reach with the other!

So, it seems that the dieter's slogan could well be, "Don't nibble—don't quibble—knit a libble."

Let Child Create on Indoor Day

Now that summer's over, many mothers may be looking ahead with some misgivings to those "play-indoors" days.

And it's true that keeping the youngsters occupied can be a problem without some "keep busy" ideas that will benefit both mother and children.

Coloring books and finger paints are wonderful, of course. But chances are the youngsters may be happier with some change of pace . . . something just a little bit different. And, their interest will be higher, too.

* * *

For example, why not suggest that they brighten their own rooms with some colorful decals?. All you need is a pair of scissors, a pencil and a roll or two of covering material. You can use either a solid color or a pattern, but be sure the covering material has an adhesive backing.

* * *

Here's what to do — clip the desired figures (rabbits, ships, airplanes) out of a magazine or an old picture book; trace the figure on the back of the roll of covering material and cut it out. Then, strip off the adhesive backing and press the decal firmly on the wall.

* * *

If your youngster tires of the decals later, they can be removed easily. You might keep this project in mind yourself, for decorating your recreation room walls for a party or other special occasion.

Maple Leaf Club Has Luncheon

Twenty members of the Maple Leaf Club attended the first fall luncheon and card party Friday in the Hotel Waldron.

Mrs. Walter F. Fuller was appointed hospitality chairman, to be assisted by Mrs. William Bedard and Mrs. Vera Mosher.

Hostesses for the Oct. 28 guest luncheon will be Mrs. M. L. Lamb, Mrs. H. T. Rombough and Mrs. George Barnard.

Disregard Her Hint or Be Honest

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: A young woman I knew at college has recently written to me saying that she expects to be in this city shortly and has hinted that she would like to stay here at my house. I haven't seen this person in several years but I do receive a message from her every Christmas.

While we do have a spare room in our rather small house, I don't feel up to having a house guest at this time. Will you please tell me how I can politely get out of inviting her to stay here?

Answer: My suggestion is not to understand the hint and to say nothing about her staying in your house. If she pins you down and asks to stay with you, make some excuse why you are sorry you can't have her.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: I would greatly appreciate it if you would settle a question that has come up in our office in regard to the wearing of a mink stole to business.

I think that it should be worn only on dress-up occasions and is not in good taste for business wear. There are some here who disagree with me. Will you please give us your opinion?

Answer: You are quite right. It is not in good taste to wear a mink stole to business unless one is going on to a party directly from the office.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: I plan on going to another city for a few days visit. I will be staying at a hotel. How do I contact a friend who has asked me several times to let him know when I am in his city.

Would it be proper for me to write and tell him I am coming and have him contact me, or should I telephone him when I arrive?

* *

Answer: Write him beforehand and tell him that you plan to be in his city for a few days on such a date and at which hotel you will be staying. Then if he really meant he hoped to see you when you come, he will leave a note or telephone you at that hotel.

* *

Dear Mrs. Post: For the past year I have been going steady with a young man and we intend to be married in the not too distant future.

Because his mother lives quite a distance away I haven't met her as yet. However, she has invited me, through my boy friend, to visit her this coming weekend.

My mother feels that his mother should have invited me personally and that it will not be proper for me to accept the invitation through my boy friend.

Answer: Your mother is right, you should not go without a note or at least a telephoned invitation from his mother.

CURVES - NOT ANGLES

There are many ways to avoid the sharp angular look. Make a graceful appearance by gentle curves . . . let your elbows relax instead of holding them tensely bent. Relax your wrists and fingers. Disguise long thin arms with sleeves. Avoid sleeveless or full length tight fitting sleeves. Long sleeves for the thin person should be cuffed or accented by braid trim to detract from the arm itself. Use your arms gracefully.

Charming Friends Do This for You

By RUTH MILLETT

Your most charming friends are the ones who:

Comment when you lose a few pounds—but don't seem to notice when you add weight.

Can wish you a happy birthday without reminding you that you're a year older.

Can eat your food without making you feel guilty about all the calories it contains.

Forego telling you, when you are wearing a new dress, that another of their friends has one exactly like it.

Make you feel when you have done a small favor that you have done something really big.

* * *

Relay any nice thing they have heard about you, but never repeat catty remarks a so-called friend makes behind your back.

Encourage you, instead of throwing cold water on your enthusiasms.

Really listen when you talk.

Ask your advice now and then.

Always seem glad to see you and talk to you.

Flatter you subtly by remembering your preferences.

Seem genuinely interested in your children.

Say nice things about you behind your back which prompt new acquaintances to say, "I've heard so many nice things about you from so-and-so."

Put themselves out to be pleasant to anyone you introduce them to.

Always seem to have a wonderful time at your parties, and call you up the next day to tell you so.

No Dull Life for Me, Says Jack

Out of Capitol at 51?

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy is not worried about finding himself an empty life at 51 if he is elected president and serves two terms.

The 43-year-old Democratic presidential nominee was asked at a rally Monday night what "would you do when you got out of the White House at the age of 51?"

★ ★ ★

"I must say that I really have not taken myself to 1969 yet, but I appreciate your happy compliment and thought," the senator replied.

★ ★ ★

He went on to say that Harry S. Truman "has shown how interesting life can be for a former president," that Herbert Hoover "has performed valuable services to this country in the last 15 years," and that John Quincy Adams "wrote the most brilliant chapter of his life" with more than 20 years of service in the House of Representatives after leaving the presidency.

★ ★ ★

Matches Wits With Master Detective

French Gangster Has Long Reign

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eighth installment of a 15-part series on international crime condensed from "Journey Into Crime," a new book by Don Whitehead, two-time Pulitzer Prize winner.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

The postwar years were made to order for France's criminals. Weapons were easy to obtain. Automobiles were available once more. American tourists had returned to pour millions of dollars into shop tills. The political chaos inevitably lowered the efficiency of the police.

Serpent-eyed Emile Buisson came closer to organizing an American-style gang operation in Paris than any French criminal before him. The story of Buisson is the story of postwar crime in France — and the Gallic flair with which a master detective went about the task of hunting down his old enemy.

Emile Buisson lived by theft, fraud and violence from the time he was 8 years old.

He was a nondescript little man who merged into the background of Paris as though he were part of the brick and mortar. Secretive and suspicious, he hid himself even from his gang until the time came for another raid.

He was generous in sharing the spoils of his crimes with his confederates, but if one of them made a mistake or lost his trust, then Buisson became judge and execu-

There was one thing about Buisson that people did remember — the terrifying look in his eyes when he became enraged. One man said, "His eyes suddenly looked like the eyes of a serpent."

* * *

What the police remembered was that he had robbed Parisians and tourists of a multimillion-franc fortune, left a bloody trail of dead men behind, and then disappeared as if by magic.

The last chapters in Buisson's crime career began in 1947 while he was serving time in Paris' Sante prison for the 1.8 million franc robbery of the Credit Lyonnais in Troyes. His cell mate was a thief named Roger Dekker and together they made plans for escape.

Buisson convinced prison officials he was mentally unbalanced, and he was transferred to the asylum at Villejuif on the outskirts of Paris.

There his outbursts subsided. He was permitted to roam the prison yard, seemingly a docile, broken man with the brain of an idiot.

* * *

One day in August 1947 a woman came to the asylum to visit Buisson. She was the mistress of his brother, Jean.

While he pretended only vague recognition, she whispered, "Dekker has escaped. He and Jean are at the place on Rue Bichat. They want to know if you can be at the south wall of the asylum just before daybreak on Sept. 3. Can you do it?"

THE ESCAPE

Buisson said, "Tell them I'll be there."

On the agreed date, Buisson crouched in the deep shadows of the stone wall. A ladder was lowered. Within a few seconds, Buisson had clambered to freedom.

By the time his absence was discovered, he was safey in hiding, celebrating his freedom with Dekker, Andre Leonard, Henri Russac, Francois Guillo, and his brother, Jean, all of them ex-convicts.

A week later, Buisson and his men entered a restaurant on Rue LeSeur. He fired two shots over the heads of the terrified customers. "Give us your jewelry and money," he demanded, and menaced the room with a machine gun until the booty was collected.

Then one of the bandits said, "Let's go, Guillo."

* * *

Back at the hide-out, Buisson exploded in fury. He grabbed Russac and threw him into a chair. "You fool," he said. "I should kill you."

"What did I do?" stammered Russac.

The terrified Russac said, "I was excited . . . I am sorry . . ."

Buisson ordered Russac to leave Paris with his wife that same night and to stay in hiding until he was told to return. As the door closed behind him, Buisson said to Dekker, "We can do without that one. He is too stupid."

Two weeks later, the fugitive returned to Paris and met Buisson and Dekker to celebrate his homecoming. He was full of apologies. "Forget it," Buisson said. "The police know nothing."

He poured Russac another glass of wine. Many glasses of wine later, Russac weaved into the night with his companions. His body was found next morning.

* * *

But the police did know something. A few days after Russac's body was found, they closed in on the hide-out at Rue Bichat, where Buisson had called a conference.

Police battered in the front door but Buisson raced upstairs, pulled himself onto the roof of the house, ran across the rooftops, and darted into the shadow of a chimney.

He held his breath as his pursuers brushed by his hiding place and went on across the roofs.

In that narrow escape, Buisson realized he had been too careless. From that time on, he did not permit even his most trusted friends or his mistress to know where he lived.

He moved periodically from place to place, always into a room rented from a respectable couple living in a quiet neighborhood.

He contacted his gang members by telephone and before joining them for a conference he always scouted the area himself to be sure none had been followed.

Except on rare occasions he dined alone, always armed and sitting near an exit where he could watch everyone who entered.

In the early months of 1950, the Prefecture de Police (the Paris metropolitan police) and the Surete Nationale (France's FBI) opened an all-out drive to break up Buisson's gang.

One by one, police and detectives picked off his confederates, but Buisson always managed to escape. But the pressure was becoming so great that he was forced to move into a suburban hide-out.

THE FEUD

At his headquarters at the Surete Nationale, Monsieur Charles Chenevier, directeur aux affairs criminelles, pondered the case. The search for Buisson had become a grim contest between this master detective and the master criminal.

* * *

People had begun to make sly jokes about the police failure to cope with the outlaw. The police had orders to shoot Buisson on sight. But Chevier was determined to capture him alive. He was certain that Buisson alone knew the stories behind many of Paris' unsolved crimes.

That is why, in the spring of 1950, Charles Chenevier was seen night after night strolling through the streets of Paris.

Occasionally he paused to say a few words to a shabby figure lounging in a doorway, or to ask a question of an acquaintance at a bar. Then he would move on again.

* * *

Chenevier could afford to wait. But, Buisson couldn't. His cash was running low. Finally, late in May, he made his first mistake. He approached an ex-convict and promised him a handsome payment if he would deliver a gun and automobile.

"I'll see what I can do," his contact said.

Within a few minutes after this meeting, Chenevier knew Buisson had been flushed from hiding. The ex-convict approached by Buisson was one who owed Chenevier a favor.

Chenevier arranged to have the car and gun delivered to Buisson. He gave no orders for his men to shadow the informer. But within a few hours, Chenevier learned what he wanted to know. Buisson was hiding in a small inn at the edge of Paris.

* * *

Chenevier called a conference at the Surete headquarters. He told his men: "'Gentlemen, I merely wanted to announce to you that at 1:45 p.m. on June 10 — seven days from today — Emile Buisson will be under arrest."

The announcement brought on a barrage of questions, but Chenevier, relishing the moment of drama, said, "That's all you need to know. You are not to discuss this with anyone."

THE TIMETABLE

Chenevier did not mention the fact that he knew Buisson's hiding place or that he was receiving a daily report on the fugitive's habits.

The thing that interested him most was that Buisson habitually appeared for lunch at 1 p.m., always sat at the same table, from which he could see anyone driving up to the inn or entering.

Early in the morning of June 10, Chenevier drove to a point about three miles from the inn. Cautiously he made his way on foot through a forest until he reached a dense clump of bushes directly across the road from the inn. And there he waited.

* * *

Shortly after noon, two Surete inspectors and their wives pulled up before the inn. Buisson watched the shirt-sleeved men — obviously unarmed — and two attractive women pile out of the car.

When they entered the small dining room where he sat, he could hear them chattering and laughing. Then one of the men said to the waiter, "Would you please call the reception desk at the Normandie Hotel in Deauville? I want to ask about my reservations."

The waiter came to the telephone near Buisson, and called to the guest in the next room, "Monsieur, here is your party."

The man left his table and walked past Buisson without a glance, and then the two of them leaped for him. They pinned his arms to his sides before he could claw the pistol from his belt. There was a pounding of feet and Chenevier burst into the room, pistol in hand. When he saw Buisson in the arms of the detectives, he relaxed.

* * *

Buisson snarled, "You again?"

Chenevier smiled. "Yes, Buisson, it is I again." He looked at his watch. "It is 1:47 p.m. I regret that I am two minutes late. Gentlemen, take Monsieur Buisson's pistol from beneath his coat. He won't be needing it."

Chrysler Has New '61 Series

Drops Prices on Top of Line New Yorker; Windsor Up About $11

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. has announced prices on its new entry, Newport, and cut the suggested price of the top of the line New Yorker series by an average of $254.

* * *

The Newport ranges from the $2,750 two-door hardtop to the $3,305 three-seat station wagon.

New Yorker factory retail price dropped from $268 on the four door sedan, now priced at $3,752, to $241 on the four-door hardtop, which now sells at $3,880.

Power operated windows, undercoating and dual exhaust systems, which were standard equipment on the New Yorkers last year, have been made optional, accounted for about $140 of the reduction, Chrysler said.

* * *

The third Chrysler series, the Windsor, is up about $11 in cost, and ranges from $2,920 to $3,059.

Factory retail prices exclude handling charges and taxes.

Artist Picasso Buys Farmhouse in France

CANNES, France (AP) — Artist Pablo Picasso is reported to have paid $36,000 to the Guinness beer family for the farmhouse of Notre Dame de Vie near Mougins.

The property is much more than a farmhouse—it has 35 rooms, a chapel and a caretaker's house. Picasso already owns a chateau near Aix-en-Provence and a house outside Cannes.

Epidemic Feared in Wake of Storm

UNALKLEET, Alaska (UPI) — A team of Army and Air Force doctors, called out by Alaska Gov. A. Egan, moved into the battered Eskimo village of Unalkleet today to stave off a possible epidemic feared as the aftermath of the worst Bering Sea storm in 15 years.

For 48 hours, winds ranging between 65 and 75 miles per hour forced seawater across this village of 700 people, ripping roofs off houses, flooding the school, and crumpling many of the town's wooden structures like kindling wood.

The governor requested aid Tuesday night, urging Air Force and Army officials to send in medical supplies and emergency power equipment.

Also hit by the violent storm was Nome. However, the giant sea-wall, constructed several years ago, kept damage at a minimum there. Power was knocked out at Nome for several hours and several roofs were torn off.

"The swells from the sea reached as high as 30 feet," Gale Friermering, a Unalkleet resident, reported. "We lost our only loading dock for ships. Our local church was moved several feet when a fall of water and sand battered into it."

Tuesday many of the women and children in the village—600 of the people are Eskimos—were evacuated by the Air Force to a nearby radar site. The power was still off at midnight (PST). "Local stores were completely sold out of kerosene lamps and white gas.

Dearborn Marine Firm Ties Up Sale to Eaton

MADISON HEIGHTS (AP)—The acquisition of Dearborn Marine Engines, Inc., by the Eaton Manufacturing Co. of Cleveland has been completed, Eaton announced Tuesday.

Dearborn Marine makes a line of inboard marine engines in this Detroit suburb. Frank Murray, formerly of Eaton's valve division in Battle Creek, will be resident manager here.

Wayne U. Holds Breath Tonight

1st Commie Speaker After Lifting of Ban Will Appear

But university officials are holding their breath for possible adverse reactions to the lecture appearance tonight of a Russian chemistry professor, the first Communist speaker allowed on the campus since April 1950, when the school invoked an "anti-communist speaker" policy.

The recent lifting of that policy by the university's board of governors cleared the way for tonight's lecture by Dr. O. E. Reutov, University of Moscow chemistry professor, and sparked a controversy by officials, connected with the school.

Following the board of governors' disclosure that it had revoked the Communist speaker ban, Charles R. Landrigan, executive vice president of the Detroit Edison Co., and a member of the university's lay businessmen's science advisory committee, resigned in opposition.

This ignited a furor at the university as faculty members and other officials took sides in the argument.

Reutov's lecture is not expected to deal with politics. He is scheduled to speak on "fundamental research in organic chemistry" as part of the school's "Frontiers in Chemistry" lecture series for advanced students.

His lecture, at the Kresge Science Library Auditorium is the first of a series of speaking engagements he will make at 10 American universities under State Department sanction.

★ ★ ★

It is part of an interacademy agreement between Russia and the United States providing for the exchange of senior scientists.

Rutov, 40, is the youngest full member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences and his work in the organic chemistry research field has brought him a worldwide acclaim.

Communists Second in Finnish Elections

The right-wingers, dominated by Prime Minister Urho Kekkonen's Agrarians, received more than 950,000 votes in the balloting Monday and Sunday. This was a gain of more than 100,000 votes since the last municipal elections in 1956.

The Communists picked up 50,000 votes for a total of more than 400,000.

The once powerful Social Democrats suffered from an internal crisis that two years ago split the party. The mother party scored about 380,000 votes, compared with 424,000 in 1956. The splinter Socialist faction had about 62,000 votes.

Pontiac Senior Picked to Attend Teen Conference

Richard Pointon, 17, of 239 Victory Drive, a senior at Pontiac Northern High School, has been selected to represent The Pontiac Press at the Ford Division National Teen-age Press Conference in Dearborn, Oct. 12-15.

Sports editor of the Pontiac "Polaris," Pointon is one of 150 teenagers invited to preview the National Automobile Show at Cobo Hall, question top Ford personnel at a press conference and compete for five college scholarships.

Headquartered at the Fort Shelby Hotel in Detroit, the conference will include visits to Ford's manufacturing, styling and engineering facilities in Dearborn.

PRICES START HUNDREDS LESS THAN LAST YEAR
Optional equipment and transportation cost far less, too!

1. MERCURY METEOR 600	Priced right in the middle of the low-price field with such cars as Chevrolet Bel Air and Plymouth Belvedere.
2. MERCURY METEOR 800	Priced with the top series in the low-price field with such cars as Chevrolet Impala and Plymouth Fury.
3. MERCURY MONTEREY	Finest, most luxurious of all 1961 Mercurys.

HERE IS A NEW AND BETTER LOW-PRICE CAR —WITH A 12-MONTH OR 12,000-MILE WARRANTY
You're looking at the newest car in the low-price field—the Mercury Meteor. But the resemblance to other low-price cars ends with the price.
COSTS LESS TO DRIVE! You save on upkeep. Your Mercury dealer is extending his warranty on all 1961 Mercurys to one full year or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. See him for full information. He will be glad to show you a copy of his new warranty.
★ ★ ★
You save on gas. Mercury's new, wider choice of engines and transmissions lets you tailor your new Meteor to your kind of driving. Choose super economy, super power, or any combination in between. And just think of these 7 other savings:
A new pre-lubricated chassis lets you drive 30,000 miles before it needs another lubrication. A new-type oil filter lets you drive 4,000 miles between oil changes. Mufflers are aluminized for more than double the life. Brakes are self-adjusting.
New zinc-coated body panels protect your car from rust two or three times as long. Spark plugs are self-cleaning, save gas. A special Super-Enamel finish never needs waxing.
LOOKS BETTER—AND IS! The styling and size are completely new. Trimmer, easier to garage, far more agile. You get a de luxe interior in every model at no extra cost.
FEELS LIKE MORE! Here's the first low-price car to provide a true "fine-car feel." Not just shock absorbers and springs for your riding comfort, but a unique new system of rubber cushioning called Cushion-Link suspension. It is exclusive on all Meteor 800's, Montereys, and Mercury station wagons. No more bumps from tar strips and other road-surface irregularities.
Don't miss the first showing! See your Mercury dealer now. Here, without question, is the newest and smartest buy in the low-price field.

Keys to Build Anew After Donna

Marathon Down but Not Out

MARATHON, Fla. (AP) — "By dawn the house had stopped shuddering and I walked out to see what the storm had done. The sight was so horrible I got sick. I was ready then to get out and never come back."

Hugh Brown, charter boat captain, was describing his reaction and that of many others to the awful devastation wrought by Hurricane Donna when she ravaged the beautiful Florida Keys in the early morning hours of Sept. 10.

The great storm had attacked near midnight with shrieking, 140-mile-an-hour winds and mighty waves that ripped homes to pieces, tossed house trailers through the air, battered four persons to death, and hurled boats out of the sea.

Buildings that might have withstood the sustained fury of 140-mile winds, collapsed under the sledgehammer blows of 180-mile gusts. Hardly a building in the keys came through the wild night without some mark of the hurricane.

The dawn's light fell on a thousand heartbreaking scenes — an old woman sobbing in the rain-whipped debris of her home. A little dog whimpering in the rubble. A pelican flopping on broken legs. A mangled body in the mangroves.

* * *

The famed "highway that goes to sea" from the Florida mainland to Key West was a street of broken dreams, piled high with commercial fishing boats, soggy motel mattresses, roofs, furniture, gasoline pumps — the remains of pretty homes and prosperous businesses.

By Red Cross estimate, 1,415 homes lay in ruins in the 60 miles from Marathon to Key Largo. Another 1,457 were heavily damaged and 2,242 showed substantial scars. Few stood unscathed.

Brown's face was one of many that reflected horror and resignation that disastrous day. In the initial shock, some told their neighbors "I've had it" and made plans to move to a mainland area less exposed to the violent moods of nature.

But the shock wore off quickly. Two days later, Brown was hard at work leading his neighbors in a salvage job at Islamorada, on the lowlying Matecumbe Keys.

Now, just 24 days after the hurricane, a healthy comeback spirit pervades the Florida Keys. Most of the wreckage has been bulldozed away. Homes and buildings are being hammered back together. Business people promise cheerfully that they'll be ready by Dec. 15 for a tourist season they expect to be "the greatest of them all."

Thoughts of quitting the Keys have been forgotten. As W. A. Parrish, 75, pioneer banker at Marathon, put it: "It would not be the nature of our people to run from a disaster. Keys folks are tough breed."

Veteran postmaster Clifton Russell of Islamorada added, "This wasn't so bad. We only got a little old five-foot tide across here. Back in the '35 hurricane a 15-footer swept the island clean. Now, at least, we've got something left to fix up."

Amazon Missionary Studies Outboard Motor

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A Catholic priest took the mechanics service school course offered by a local manufacturer of outboard motors.

The Rev. Thomas J. O'Leary, a Redemptorist priest, explained he was on his way back to South America where he uses an outboard motorboat as a missionary along the Amazon River.

WHY MORE TRAINING?
The Job Guide, published by the U. S. Dept. of Labor, gives this answer: "You should weigh carefully the long run advantages offered by jobs you are considering against immediate gains. You should be aware of the great importance of education as a general and specific asset. Technical or professional training received after leaving high school will give you definite advantages in seeking and finding a job. When advancement opportunities occur, preference is generally given to persons with superior educational qualifications — other things being equal."

Meat Output Growing Fast

Has Been Outstripping Population Increase for Several Years

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) reports world meat production has been increasing faster than the human population for several years. Production increased 3 per cent during 1959 and was 23 per cent above the 1951-55 average. Exports from the principal producing countries last year were 9 per cent above 1958 and 50 per cent above average.

★ ★ ★

Great variations showed up in 1959 in average meat consumption per person. Consumption in Japan was only 9 pounds per person, but in Australia and Uruguay it was 234 pounds. New Zealand was close to the leaders with 222 pounds.

Meat consumption in Argentina, in fourth place, fell to only 168 pounds from 237 pounds in 1958 as production declined sharply and meat prices were decontrolled.

The fifth to tenth ranking countries were the United States (160), Denmark (147), Canada (138), Paraguay (134), the United Kingdom (131) and France (124). Other countries in addition to Japan with a low level of meat consumption were the Philippines (22), Spain (36), Greece (40), Portugal (44) and Yugoslavia (46).

FAS said about 49 per cent of the meat consumed in the world, excluding Red China, is beef and veal, 42 per cent is pork, and 8.5 per cent is lamb, mutton and goat. Less than one-half of 1 per cent is horsemeat.

The United States consumed about 29 per cent of the world's meat last year, 32 per cent of the beef and veal, 28.5 per cent of the pork, but only 9 per cent of the lamb, mutton and goat.

Stormy Arias Makes Panama Comeback

The National Assembly voted 38-13 Mondaynight to restore his civil rights after a spirited debate marked by wild cheering from his supporters in the gallery and the plaza outside.

Arias, twice overthrown as president, was at his coffee farm during the debate. It was generally believed he would lose little time reorganizing his Panamenista party and bidding a third time for the presidency.

Arias was first overthrown in 1941 after a regime of bickering with the United States, and again in 1951. The Assembly deprived him of civil rights for life in 1951 after he tried to amend the constitution by decree to extend his term of office.

Named Road Engineer

LANSING (UP)—The State Highway Department has announced the appointment of Edward J. Tyson as senior engineer for the Saginaw District taking in an 11-county Mideastern Michigan area. He succeeds Gerald J. McCarthy, who became chief of the office of design.

BOWL OF CHERRIES — That's what life is supposed to be, and Ralph Edwards, host of the NBC show "This Is Your Life", (left) has discovered it doesn't pay to fabricate a rosy picture of wedded bliss. Abraham Hahn of Connecticut has filed suit for $500,000 in New York, charging he was subjected to taunts and jibes when the show depicted him as happily married to Mrs. Hahn (right), shown here appearing on the TV show with her daughter Pauline. Leveling-Off Trend Seen in State Traffic

Harold G. Gauerle, director of the State Highway Department Traffic Division, made the report Tuesday to the State Safety Commission.

Through the end of the summer season, he said, a statewide traffic increase of only 2.9 per cent was noted. This compared with a 5.3 per cent increase in 1959 over the previous year.

Join World Health Unit

GENEVA (UP) — Two new African states become full members Tuesday of the U.N. World Health Organization (WHO) raising its total membership to 92. The newcomers are Dahomey and the Central African Republic.

Vote Machines Add Up in State

Most Districts Getting Away From Old Paper; Law in Some Areas

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan, with 89 per cent of its election districts equipped with voting machines, is a leader in the national trend away from paper ballots, according to a manufacturer of the vote tabulators.

★ ★ ★

Ten years ago only a third of the country's electorate used voting machines.

On Nov. 8, half the nation's estimated 66 million voters will use about 110,000 machines to register their preferences.

Twenty-one states have machines in better than 50 per cent of their districts while, in six states — New York, Connecticut, Maryland, Delaware, Rhode Island, Louisiana — they are mandatory. Kentucky has passed legislation making them mandatory by 1963.

★ ★ ★

Why the increasing trend toward mechanized voting?

"Simply because they're more accurate and secret, easier and faster," said Alaric Bailey, vice president of the Automatic Voting Machine Division of Rockwell Manufacturing Co.

"The machine eliminates the paper ballot and provides absolute accuracy with no risk of voiding votes," Bailey added.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. I'm taking a plane to Europe. Is it advisable for my high-strung, nervous dog to fly with me? Mrs. A. Evans of New York.

A. This sounds like the sort of vacation any dog would appreciate, but are you sure that all the countries you want to visit will admit him? For instance, Great Britain will not admit a dog from America without a six-month quarantine period.

★ ★ ★

Also be sure you have the proper papers for his re-entry into the United States. Check with the consulates of all the countries to be included in your itinerary.

★ ★ ★

Dogs are sensitive to high altitudes, and unless you are certain your pet can travel in a pressurized area of the plane, jet travel is not too wise.

Some international airports have special travel sections for animals with a veterinarian in attendance. In this event, the animal's health is checked, and tranquilizers are prescribed if necessary.

Famous Playgirl Dies of Heart Attack at 45

NEW YORK (UP) — Mary Kirk Brown, 45, much married society playgirl, died Monday night of a heart attack, in her suite at the Hotel Delmonico.

Miss Brown, in and out of the headlines since 1931, achieved her greatest notoriety in 1953 as a friend of Max Baer, then the heavyweight boxing champion of the world.

She was married seven times.

PRICED WITH OR BELOW OTHER COMPACTS

FIRST FAMILY-SIZE COMPACT

The only compact with fine-car styling A spirited sense of proportion gives Comet the most successful styling in the compact-car field. New rustproof aluminum grille, exquisite new interior fabrics, new fine-car appointments everywhere.

The first family-size compact Comet's 114" wheelbase (longer than any other compact's) provides spacious comfort other compacts sacrifice. There's generous room in a Comet, even for six grownups. And there's trunk space for a family-size load of luggage besides . . . over 28 cubic feet.

Big-car ride—small-car handling The refined suspension (plus the 114" wheelbase) makes Comet's ride steadier and smoother than many standard cars. And you'll find that Comet turns, parks and handles almost as easily as a baby carriage.

Priced with or below the other compacts For all its new fine-car flair, family-size comfort, big-car ride and extra-value features, Comet is priced with or below the other compacts.

New Thrift-Power 170 engine for '61 Comet now offers two economy engines—the standard Thrift-Power Six plus the new optional Thrift-Power 170, for 11% faster highway passing, 22% better acceleration on hills.

One-year or 12,000-mile warranty Your Comet dealer is extending his warranty on 1961 Comets to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first. See him to obtain full information. He will be glad to show you a copy of his new warranty.

MSU Awards Contracts for Two New Buildings

EAST LANSING (AP) — Contracts have been awarded for two new buildings on the Michigan State University campus.

The Eugene C. Eppley Center for graduate study in the service industries will be financed by a $1.5-million grant from the Eppley Foundation of Omaha, Neb.

A bovine tuberculosis research laboratory building will be financed by a $100,000 state appropriation.

Lansing area contractors were low bidders on the two projects, to start immediately.

The first steam sawmill in the West was built in Portland, Ore., in 1850.

State to Register Millionth Man for Draft Friday

LANSING (AP) — Some young man of 18 will walk into a local draft board office Friday and become the millionth registrant on Michigan's inventory of military manpower.

Who he is, the state selective service system can't say because he might register at any one of the state's 119 local draft boards.

Since enactment of the 1948 draft Act, Michigan local boards have registered 998,429 living males and canceled another 6,341 registrations because of deaths. Currently, local boards are signing up more than 5,000 men per month.

Of the total, more than 446,000 have served in the armed forces.

Registrations will increase next year, selective headquarters said, then decline slightly until 1964 when products of the post-war baby boom will join the ranks of draft eligibles.

All men born since Aug. 31, 1922, must register for military service. Young men are required to register on their 18th birthday or within five days thereafter.

Car Dealer Head Predicts '61 Dip

Expect Sales to Fall by About 200,000, Says Burkett Williams

Williams, here to address an automotive trade group, said 1961 sales should be about 5.8 million, about 200,000 less than the estimate for the current year.

He said a recent report showed 575,000 1960 cars and 250,000 1961 models in dealers' showrooms. He said this was about 200,000 more than ever before.

"That's got to come out of the 1961 business," Williams told a news conference.

Despite this, he said he still felt dealers would make a profit on 1960 sales, and that the automobile business had a bright future.

Williams, a Cleveland, Ohio, Ford dealer, said he looked for the compact cars to take about 50 per cent of the 1961 market. This would be an increase of 30 per cent over this year's estimate.

Only Hope for Large Cities, Says Architect

Planner Would Ban Cars in Town

NEW YORK (UPI)—The private automobile is going to have to be banned absolutely from the hearts of the larger American cities, a noted architect and planner said today.

Victor Gruen, whose firm is world famous, said that is the only way to solve the traffic problems of cities like New York and Chicago and to prevent the core areas of our great cities from becoming this century's "ghost towns."

Many smaller and middle-sized cities already are solving their traffic problems and their downtown areas are holding their importance in spite of the building of big shopping centers in their suburbs," Gruen said.

They are doing this by building concentric highways with large adjacent parking areas around the cities.

"Unlike the expressway designed to carry private autos into the heart of the city, these concentric highways make it possible to park a private car within convenient walking distance or short bus ride of the heart of the city," Gruen explained.

Some cities also are experimenting with pedestrian mall shopping centers downtown—closed to all vehicles. "These malls are a wonderful idea," Gruen said, "provided they are integrated into a solution of the parking problem and a proper system of concentric thruways. But the malls can't solve anything by themselves."

The middle-sized cities may never have to absolutely forbid the private car to penetrate the "core area," Gruen said.

But big cities like New York, Chicago, St. Louis, and Boston will.

"Like the railroad train that ran at street level through the hearts of our big cities 60 years ago, it's time for the private car to be regulated to its proper places—the highways and residential areas," Gruen said.

"Only the force of law can do that—and only a rigidly enforced absolute ban would be fair."

Because of Manhattan's narrow shape, New York presents more difficult problems than most cities, Gruen said, yet these really are offset by the existence of New York's great subway system, now in need of refurbishing and perhaps some expansion.

Gruen's idea of solving New York's problem is to ban the private car entirely from Manhattan Island south of Central Park except for two areas about four blocks wide running along the Hudson and East rivers, and one cross-town expressway.

All this huge downtown and and midtown shopping, office and manufacturing region would be reserved to buses, taxis and delivery trucks.

Gruen also would close off several fairly large areas—including the most fashionable Fifth Avenue shopping district, which is about one mile long—and convert them into pedestrian malls. This would entail digging one more underground tunnel for delivery trucks, especially under Fifth Avenue.

People from out of town or the outlying boroughs of New York would leave their cars in parking lots to be constructed along the river fronts, or in the outlying boroughs, and go into the heart of the city by subway, taxi or bus.

Gruen said New York is an extreme example of the principles needed to be followed by most cities to solve their traffic "heart rot" problem.

"Los Angeles and a few other cities have the opposite problem —that of uncontrolled sprawl and the sudden new need for rapid transit."

State Police Officer to Retire Oct. 11

EAST LANSING (AP) — Lt. Robert H. Fisher, assistant district commander of the Rockford Post, will retire Oct. 11 after more than 26 years of service, state police announced.

★ ★ ★

Fisher, born in Ireland, became a naturalized citizen in 1932 and joined state police in 1934. He served at the Paw Paw, Flint, Grand Haven, Mount Pleasant, East Lansing and St. Clair posts before assignment to Rockford in 1955.

★ ★ ★

Sgt. Kenneth F. White, commanding officer at Alpena, will be promoted to lieutenant and assigned to Rockford to succeed Fisher.

★ ★ ★

Sgt. Charles H. Spencer, commanding officer at Traverse City, will be transferred to the command at Alpena.

Detective Austin J. Van Stratt Jr., of Jackson, will be promoted to sergeant and transferred to the command at Traverse City.

Cheese-Apple Treats are a wonderfully simple dessert. Served with crackers and wine, they are equally good at the end of a meal as they are as late evening refreshments. Serve each apple slice on a grape leaf, arranged on your prettiest tray.

Cheese-Apple Treats

Delicious apples
Dessert or white dinner wine
Cream cheese, cheddar cheese spread or blue cheese
Chopped pecans, salted peanuts or walnuts

Core apples; cut into crosswise slices. Let stand a few minutes in wine to keep fruit from darkening.

Soften cheese, beating in a little wine if necessary. Roll into small balls and then in chopped nuts. Center each apple slice with a nut-crusted cheese ball.

Serve with dessert knife and fork to accompany California Port or other dessert wine and crackers.

NOTE: If desired, stir some chopped apple into cheddar chese spread or cream cheese softened with a little wine. Use as a spread between crackers.

★ ★

Frozen peas can be just so-so, or they can be a delectable vegetable. Again, as in the recipe above, cheese plays an important role in this recipe that comes from India.

Mattar-Paneer (peas and cheese)

1 small onion, sliced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 package (10-ounce) frozen peas
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon turmeric
½ teaspoon curry powder
2 small mint leaves
1 cup (8 ounces) creamed large curd cottage cheese, well-drained
¼ teaspoon chili powder

Saute onion in butter or margarine until onion is soft. Add peas, salt, tumeric, curry powder and mint leaves. Cover and cook until peas are just tender, 5 to 8 minutes. Blend in cottage cheese and chili powder just before serving. Turn heat off and let stand in covered pan a few minutes to warm. Yield: 4 servings.

★ ★ ★

Many of you keep strawberry-flavored mix on the shelf with instant cocoa mixes. Use some of the former to make a different topping for ice cream sodas or desserts. If you're calorie conscious, replace the whipped cream with dessert topping.

Pink Cloud Topping

4 heaping teaspoons quick imitation strawberry mix
⅓ cup heavy cream

Combine and beat till stiff.

"Catering to a Crowd" is the name of a new booklet put out by Standard Brands. It will be of great help to any of you who plan food for large groups. Not only does it have recipes, but it has suggestions for organizing workers, figuring costs and buying.

The booklet is available for 25 cents a copy by sending a request to: Consumer Service Department, Standard Brands Inc., 625 Madison Ave., New York City 22.

Here is a sample recipe from the booklet. All recipes are given in two sizes — 6 servings and 25 servings.

Hungarian Veal Paprika

For 6
1½ pounds veal, cut in 2-inch squares
¼ cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup (1 stick) margarine
1 tablespoon paprika
1 cup onion, thinly sliced
½ cup hot water
1 cup sour cream

For 25
4 pounds veal, cut in 2-inch squares
2 cups flour
3 tablespoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
2 cups (1 pound) margarine
¼ cup paprika
1 quart onion, thinly sliced
2 cups hot water
1 quart sour cream

Dredge veal with mixture of flour, salt, and pepper. Melt margarine in large heavy skillet(s). Add veal and brown well on all sides. Sprinkle paprika over meat; add onions and hot water. Cover and simmer gently for about 30 minutes or until meat is tender. Stir in sour cream and simmer for about 1 minute longer. Serve with hot noodles.

French Gave Us Word for "Truck Farming"

The word "truck" as used in the vegetable world came from the French word "troquer." Long ago one of the meanings of "troquer" was "to barter or exchange." Early settlers would take their vegetables into "farmers' markets" where they bartered and exchanged them, and they generally were referred to as "barter and exchange crops," or "troquer crops." And in true American style the French spelling was revamped and the phrase emerged as we know it today—"truck crops."

Tiny Pastry Shells Hold Rich Maple Date Filling

When the ladies meet, serve these luscious date tarts. For a chewy taffy filling, lightly beat 1 egg with 1 cup brown sugar. Stir in ½ cup finely-chopped fresh California dates, 3 tablespoons melted butter, dash salt and ¼ teaspoon maple flavoring.

Spoon into small pastry-lined pans and bake in moderate oven about 40 minutes. Top with maple-flavored whipped cream and garnish with fresh dates.

Make Elegant Souffle in Double Boiler

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Thank ingenious cooks for ways to make the top of the range do double duty.

Without ever turning on the oven such a dish as a high and airy souffle can arrive at the table without having caught a glimpse of the oven.

When kitchen enthusiasts first started experimenting with range top souffles, they used the usual technique of first cooking the basic sauce. Then they added the beaten egg yolks and the main ingredient—for a main-dish souffle this might be cheese, meat, poultry or fish. Finally beaten egg whites were folded in and the mixture was cooked in a double boiler.

Now comes a time-saving step. Even cooking the sauce has been eliminated in the following recipe. In this new method all the ingredients are mixed, the egg whites are folded in last, and then the souffle mixture rises to greatness over bubbling water.

We think you'll appreciate the bonus in this double-boiler cheese souffle: the pimiento added gives wonderful flavor and color.

Serve this souffle as the main course for lunch or supper. Or if you want to be really elegant, serve it as a French cook might—as the first course for a company dinner.

Double-Boiler Cheese Souffle

1 can or jar (4 ounces) pimientos
4 eggs (separated)
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
Salt
White pepper
1 cup (¼ pound) grated sharp cheddar cheese
3 tablespoons flour
¾ cup undiluted evaporated milk
2 tablespoons mayonnaise

Drain pimientos; dice one and reserve; mince remaining pimientos. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks.

Without washing beater, beat yolks with mustard and a dash of salt and pepper until thick and lemon colored; beat in cheese, flour and evaporated milk. Fold in egg whites first, then minced pimientos and mayonnaise. Turn into ungreased double boiler top (8 cup or a little larger); cover and place over boiling water until firm on top—about 1 hour.

About 5 minutes before ready to take from range, quickly remove cover from souffle; scatter diced pimiento over surface; replace cover at once and continue cooking for full time. If it is necessary to hold souffle before serving, keep covered over simmering water; it will stand up for about a half hour. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Note: Boiling water in bottom of double boiler should be just below top of upper saucepan. Midway during cooking period, rapidly replace boiling water that has evaporated.

Pacific Festival Salad

Crystallized ginger, chopped ever so fine, adds new life to old fashioned carrot-raisin salad, molded in lemon gelatin. Save wear and tear on your hands by grating the carrots with a handy cylindrical French grater. Cooks in the know still use the old fashioned method of measuring raisins by the handful when they're making this kind of salad.

Bake Squash With Olives

Brilliant green zucchini squash, subtly flavored and tender as can be, taken to variations with the greatest of ease. "Baked Zucchini Casserole," for example, is a rich medley of squash, grated American cheese, and glossy ripe olive pieces under a crumb topping. Serve it as a hearty main dish or as a dinner vegetable. The olives add a flavor all their own, yet do not overpower the delicate squash.

Baked Zucchini Casserole

½ cup ripe olives
2 pounds zucchini
2 eggs
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
1 cup grated American cheese
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine

Cut olives into large pieces. Slice zucchini and cook in small amount of boiling salted water until tender. Drain and mash. Stir in olives, lightly beaten eggs, milk, salt, pepper and cheese. Turn into 2-quart baking dish. Blend crumbs with butter and sprinkle over top.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour, or until set in center. Serve at once. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Scoop out tomatoes and bake until tender; fill with hot French-style green beans or whole-kernel corn. Or mix beans and corn and fill the tomatoes with both.

Rich Sauce Is Quick to Make

Bittersweet Sauce

20 large marshmallows
2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate
⅓ cup milk

Melt marshmallows and chocolate with milk over hot water. Remove from heat; beat with wooden spoon or whisk until smooth. Serve warm and sauce will be just firm and thick enough when spooned over ice cream. Makes about two-thirds cup.

Low Cost---High Food Value in Avocados

Even if you had to pay a dollar apiece for them, avocados would be a bargain.

The reason, explains Dr. J. Popenoec, horticulturist at the Sub-tropical Experiment Station at Homestead, Fla., is that you get so much food value for your money.

"The food value of the avocado is tremendously high," Dr. Popenoec says.

Dr. Popenoec currently is working on a breeding program for new varieties and improving the avocado's taste, flavor and keeping qualities.

Time was when avocados were up in the luxury fruit class with price tags as high as 50 cents apiece. But now it is not uncommon to find them bargain basement cheap.

For as little as 15 cents you can find 52 per cent of the vitamin C and 14 per cent of the vitamin A you need for all day long — plus appreciable amounts of vitamin B, B complex and eight other vitamins and 14 important minerals — wrapped up in the pretty, green, pear-shaped package called the avocado.

Additionally, avocados contain significant quantities of protein, an ingredient exclusive with the avocado among fruits. They are energy-rich and highly digestible.

Among other attributes the avocado is a fine source of vegetable fats. Dr. Popenoec says this factor appeals to people who worry about building up cholesterol in their system with animal fats.

While avocados have been called poor man's butter and tagged with a reputation for being high-caloried, the truth is that the calorie count in one half of a Florida avocado averages only 150.

CHOOSE CAREFULLY

In selecting an avocado, press it gently with your palms. If you plan to eat it the same day, it ought to give a little. If the fruit is firm, it should be kept at room temperature a few days and then stored in the refrigerator when it begins to ripen.

When you cut an avocado, sprinkle a little lime juice or brush some soft butter or margarine over it immediately to preserve its pretty pale gold color. If any portion is to be held for serving later, wrap it in wax paper and place it in the vegetable bin of the refrigerator — but never in the freezer unless it has been pureed.

To serve avocados, dice them, slice them, mash them, slash them, run them through a sieve. Cut them into cubes, rings or half moons. Pair them with nearly any other fruit or vegetable. Carve them into tiny "croutons" to float on top of soup.

Puree them for mixing with home-made ice cream or freezing (for soup). Toss them in a salad. Border an hors d'oeuvres tray with thin, round slices. Or stuff them with lump crab, shrimp and lobster topped with remoulade sauce. Here's how:

1 cup cooked lobster meat
2-cups cooked shrimp
2-cups cooked lump crab meat
3 avocados

Remove any bits of shell from lobster and crab meat. Break into bite-size pieces. Reserve a few chunks of lobster and a few whole shrimp for garnish. Cut remaining shrimp into pieces. Combine the seafood and add just enough lime juice to coat generously. Chill.

Just before you are ready to serve them, cut the avocados open length-wise and remove the seeds. If the thin brown "coat" sticks, remove it with a spoon. Fill the centers with the seafood, top with remoulade sauce and garnish. Serves six.

Remoulade Sauce

1 small green onions
1 teaspoon capers
2 two-inch sour pickles
Yolk of 1 hard-cooked egg
1 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon lime juice
½ teaspoon tabasco sauce
1 tablespoon sauterne (optional)

Chop cleaned onions, capers and pickles very fine, then put into a heavy bowl; add egg yolk and crush with wooden potato masher as fine as possible. Stir in mayonnaise slowly with wooden spoon and beat thoroughly. Beat in lime juice, tabasco and wine slowly. Finished sauce should be consistency of thin mayonnaise. About 1¼ cups.

Cracker Crumbs for Cupcakes

Graham Cupcakes

½ cup sifted flour
½ cup sugar
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
20 graham crackers, finely rolled (about 1½ cups crumbs)
¼ cup shortening
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
½ cup raisins, floured

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt; combine with graham cracker crumbs. Place shortening in bowl. Add dry ingredients, milk and vanilla, mix until dry ingredients are dampened. Beat 2 minutes. Add eggs and beat one minute. Pour batter into cup cake cups, filling two-thirds full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 35-40 minutes. Cool, frost and decorate. Makes 18 cupcakes.

Meat Cost Drop Expected in Fall

Larger Marketings Will Accompany Price Cut, Says Agriculture Dept.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said today increases in cattle and sheep production during 1960 will result in larger marketings and lower prices this fall.

The price of hogs, however, probably will continue through the first half of 1961 above the level of the previous year, the department said in its publication, "The Livestock and Meat Situation."

Hog prices in the fall of 1961 probably will be below this fall if the total spring pig crop is up from this year, the department said.

Hog slaughter is increasing seasonally but will continue below a year earlier this fall and winter.

The department estimated that total red meat supplies per person in 1960 probably will be down about a pound from 1959 with a reduction in pork more than offsetting a gain in beef.

The decline in hog production which began late last fall is slowing down and probably will end by mid-1961, the department said. This year's spring pig crop was 16 per cent smaller than in 1959.

Producers in 10 Corn Belt states reported in September that they had reduced early fall farrowings by 7 per cent but planned to increase late fall litters 3 per cent.

They also reported intentions to farrow 4 per cent more sows in December-February than last winter.

If the entire 1961 spring crop should show an increase, as now seems likely, the downswing in production would be the shortest on record.

The department said that while hog prices are expected to decline seasonally this fall, they will continue well above prices of last fall.

When it comes to gaining weight the silkworm is among the leaders in the animal kingdom. Newly hatched silkworms eat continuously and grow to 12,000 times their original weight by the time they are ready to spin cocoons.

Off With Their Cuffs!

British Sartorial Plot Afoot

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sartorially speaking, most American men, including y'r ob'd'nt s'rv'nt, give the appearance of having dressed in a hurry in a dark room.

★ ★ ★

On us, the "Ivy League Look" looks like poison ivy. When we strive for the "Continental Look," we usually wind up looking like the wrong continent.

We are, in short, constitutionally unable to look well-tailored, regardless of where we buy our clothes. And I, therefore, am not bullish about the latest attempt by John Bull to imbue us with the "British Look."

Nevertheless, when the new "London Line" styles were introduced here by the British Menswear Guild, I was there. I was lured to the unveiling by a press release which promised us "a natural, more virile look," which is just what we need.

★ ★ ★

The exhibit was opened by the Earl of Cromer, British Minister of State in Washington, who snipped a ribbon, and by Gerald Abrahams, chairman of the guild, who explained what the British were up to.

The "London Line," Abrahams said, "is designed not only to make a man look younger and richer, but to make the men of America even more handsome than they are — if this is possible."

Well, now. This is certainly a laudable objective and right in keeping with our traditional "hands across the sea" policy. But my first impulse was to make like Paul Revere and ride off to warn my countrymen of an impending catastrophe.

★ ★ ★

The cause of my alarm was a line in the press release which asserted that "turnups will be seen less and less." This sounded innocent enough until I found out what the British mean by "turnups."

The British, I discovered, are trying to do away with our trouser cuffs!

As soon as I uncovered the plot, I sought out Abrahams and confronted him with the evidence. He admitted that such a trend was in the wind.

Many British tailors, he said, regard the cuff as unfunctional, like the vermiform appendix, and feel that it should be removed.

"But if you take off our cuffs," I wailed, "what will we use for ash trays?"

Abrahams seemed pained by the thought that anyone would use part of his pants as a repository for cigarette cinders. However, he assured me that the anticuff policy will be optional in this country.

The guild, I gathered, may enforce a stiff off-cuff rule in the mother country but is prepared to be lenient with the former colonies.

★ ★ ★

Apart from their cufflessness, I generally admired the British styles, but I don't know how they would look on us Americans. I rather fear they would make us look like the intersection of Madison Avenue and Saville Row.

The Haydn Museum, in Vienna, in memory of Franz Joseph Haydn, was reopened recently upon the 150th anniversary of the composer's death.

Castro Stepping Into Red Pocket

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime is planning a big barter deal that will make Cuba completely dependent on the Communist bloc for imports in return for all the island's sugar, government sources report.

★ ★ ★

The informants said the National Bank's extreme leftist chief, Ernesto Guevara, is going to Moscow for the Nov. 7 celebration of the Bolshevik revolution with the primary purpose of trading Cuba's entire sugar crop for years to come.

★ ★ ★

Communist countries, including Red China, already have agreed to take more than a third of the 1961 sugar crop. Formerly the United States took about a third of Cuba's average six-million ton crop.

PONTIAC AREA telephone lines

By RAY STORM, District Manager

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK is coming up — from October 9 through October 15. That's the time to check your home, your office, your car and garage for possible fire hazards. And be sure, too, that every member of your family knows the number of the fire department. You'll find it in the front of your telephone directory.

FIXING UP FOR FALL? A lot of people find that this is a good time for getting things done around the house. And it's a good time to think about getting the extra convenience of an extension phone in your bedroom. It's particularly nice in the winter. If the phone rings at night, you don't have to hop out of a warm bed to take the call. Our new Princess phone fits nicely on any bed table—and its built-in night light is an added convenience. To order a bedside extension phone today, just call your telephone Business Office.

ONE OF THE LATEST improvements in home building is free Built-in-Wall telephone wiring—throughout the house. Special wiring, designed to provide for all future telephone needs, is concealed in the walls of your home during construction. When you move in and order telephone service, the installer locates the hidden wires with an electronic detector and connects your phones. Built-in-Wall wiring assures neat, attractive telephone installations in a wide choice of locations throughout your home and permits you to change locations readily at a later date. If you're thinking of buying or building a new home, be sure to call us at Michigan Bell. We'll be happy to install Built-in-Wall telephone wiring . . . at no cost to you or your builder.

Decorated Lemon Tarts Excellent Party Fare

Everyone loves pie and the next time you want to serve it in a very special way, try making these pastry tarts. They require the same ingredients that are used for a full size pie and we can expect the same tender flaky crust, because the using of lard is the secret of making a good pie. Lard makes crusts that literally "melt in your mouth" and best of all, using lard for pastry makes it easy to handle as we need less lard because of its efficient shortening power.

★ ★ ★

To make these Lemon Filled Pastry Tarts, use 1 cup of sifted enriched flour mixed with ½ teaspoon salt. Cut 4 to 6 tablespoons lard into the flour until crumbs are about the size of small peas.

★ ★ ★

Add 2 to 4 tablespoons cold water, a little at a time, mixing quickly and evenly through flour with a fork until dough just holds in a ball. Use as little water as possible.

★ ★ ★

Roll to about ⅛ inch thickness. Cut 6 to 8 circles approximately 5 inches in diameter. Cut identical circles from aluminum foil. Place pastry on top of aluminum foil and shape, crimping edges if desired.

★ ★ ★

Prick pastry with a fork and bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees) 8 to 10 minutes. Peel off foil when cool. Fill with Lemon Filling and desired topping.

Lemon Filling

Combine 1¼ cups sugar and 6 tablespoons cornstarch in a saucepan. Add 2 cups boiling water, a small amount at a time, mixing to a smooth paste. Bring to a boil over medium heat and cook, stirring constantly until thickened, about 3 minutes.

Remove from heat. Stir a small amount of hot mixture into 3 slightly beaten egg yolks and gradually add remaining hot mixture. Return filling to saucepan and cook 3 minutes.

Remove from heat, add 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon lemon rind. Gradually stir in lemon juice.

Cool and spoon into baked pastry tarts. If meringue is made for the top, bake at 350 degrees until lightly browned.

Crunchy Note Added to Dish

Chinese water chestnuts can add an exotic note to many an American dish. Their crisp crunchiness and delicate flavor often yield the very texture and taste a simple homespun dish needs to make it agreeably different.

★ ★ ★

With water chestnuts now readily available in convenient size cans at most food stores, it is no problem at all to use this interesting aquatic vegetable in salads, cooked vegetables and casseroles.

Pork Chop Casserole

5 tablespoons butter
6 pork chops
6 medium potatoes
1 small onion, chopped
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon soy sauce
1 5-ounce can water chestnuts, sliced

Brown pork chops in 3 tablespoons of butter; cook for an additional 15 minutes. Drain thoroughly. Pare and slice potatoes; cook for 5 minutes. Drain.

Cook onion in remaining butter until tender. Blend in flour and pepper. Gradually stir in milk and soy sauce, cooking until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly.

★ ★ ★

Alternate layers of potatoes and water chestnuts in a buttered 2-quart casserole. Pour white sauce over all. Place pork chops on top. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes. Six servings.

Veal Birds Are Colorful With Tomato Soup Sauce

The ingredients in a can of condensed soup, are carefully blended and cooked, when each vegetable is at the peak of perfection. No wonder the flavor and color of these handy pantry shelf items lend the savoriness to so many present day recipes!

Look what a can of condensed tomato with rice soup does for an old favorite . . . Veal Birds. The color of the soup . . . the flavor of the tomatoes . . . and the gentle seasonings of the broth . . . make a wonderful base for these "birds!"

★ ★ ★

Serve this variation of Veal Birds with spoonfuls of fluffy rice and a colorful crisp salad . . . greens and carrot curls, or greens and citrus fruit. Easily done, nicely served, and created for all those who love good eating!

Try your next Veal Birds this way:

Veal Birds In Tomato

½ pound mushrooms, chopped
¼ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 small cloves garlic, minced
½ teaspoon leaf thyme, crushed
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 pound thinly sliced veal cutlet
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed tomato rice soup
¼ cup water

In skillet, cook mushrooms, onion, parsley, 1 clove garlic (minced), and thyme in 3 tablespoons butter until tender. Pound veal with meat hammer; cut into 4 large or 8 small pieces long enough to roll.

Place mushroom mixture near center of each piece of veal; roll, pinwheel fashion; fasten with a toothpick or skewer. In skillet, brown veal in 1 tablespoon butter along with green pepper and remaining clove garlic.

Stir in soup and water. Cover; cook over low heat for 45 minutes. Stir now and then. Makes 4 servings.

Salmon Sandwich Planned for Friday

Peppy salmon-dill pickle salad filling spread on buttered slices of whole wheat bread offers an easy, nutritious main stay for lunch — Salmon Dill Pickle Sandwiches for home or at school eating.

Drain and flake 1 8-ounce can salmon. Measure salmon, ½ cup chopped dill pickle, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, dash of salt and pepper and ¼ cup salad dressing or mayonnaise into mixing bowl and blend well.

Spread 8 slices whole wheat bread with softened butter or margarine. Spread salmon filling on 4 slices bread and cover with remaining slices. Makes 4 sandwiches.

Ever Add Bananas to Slaw Dressing?

Montana Slaw

4 cups shredded green cabbage (packed down)
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 medium-sized ripe but firm bananas
2 teaspoons (about) lemon juice
Salt
White pepper

Mix cabbage and mayonnaise. Peel bananas; at once mash with a fork but not too fine; there should be small pieces of the banana visible. Mix banana and lemon juice with cabbage mixture adding salt and pepper to taste. Makes 6 servings.

Seafood Chowder

Cook ½ cup of chopped onion in 2 tablespoons bacon fat over medium heat. Add a can of cream of celery soup and a can of condensed clam chowder, 1½ soup cans of water and a cup of flaked cooked whitefish or a 7-ounce can of tuna. Simmer a few minutes, cover the kettle and keep warm until serving time. Garnish generously with parsley and serve with crisp oyster crackers and a Waldorf salad. Serves 4 to 6.

Because it is oily, a beech tree is seldom struck by lightning.

Parents Go Deciduous

Kids Watch Homework Grow

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—I don't know about your house, but in our house we are having trouble with our indoor forest.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps where you live you don't try to raise the outdoors indoors. You grow inside and let the trees grow outside.

This is the approach to nature I was brought up to believe was natural.

Well, in the big city they don't always do things that way.

My daughter Tracy, 7, is in the second grade now, and she keeps coming home from school with a tree in her hand. Well, anyway, an embryo tree, a seedling in a can.

"What is this?" I ask.

"My homework."

"What do you mean your homework?"

★ ★ ★

"I bring it home and watch it work—I mean grow. Then I bring it to class and show it, then I bring it back home and let it grow some more, then I bring it to class again, and then I——"

Well, she doesn't have to go any further. I get the general idea. Instead of having a child go out and look at a forest, they have her plant one in her father's living room.

This is progressive education. It saves the child from walking. She can sit down in her own home and water her wilderness and watch it grow.

It doesn't work out that way in our house, however. The first time Tracy brought her own tree home from school I was afraid. I feared that in time, on some future lazy weekend, I would be lifted from my usual armchair lethargy and thrust atop a twining limb of greenery to the astonishment of our neighbors.

"May I borrow a cup of salt?" I could hear myself murmur, trying to escape embarrassment all around.

Well, thanks to our cat, Lady Dottie, I am in no danger of being tree-borne immediately.

I am not sure whether the tree in the can my daughter brought home hopefully the other day is the third or the fourth effort on the part of her and her teacher to make our house a wilderness.

In any case, Tracy waters it with loving care and croons little love songs to it, and it grows during the sun of the day. But at night Lady Dottie creeps up on little fog feet and eats all its leaves away. It seems cats kept indoors have a pent appetite for green and growing things.

I'm not sure how long this can go on, or whether it is fair for a man to let a cat cause his daughter to flunk nature study in the second grade.

I intercepted the following brooding letter from Tracy to herself: "A tree that loses its leaves in winter is deciduous. My maple tree will have bare branches."

There was also this further unexpected fruit of her horticultural learning. Susie, her little friend down the hall, observed during one of those aimless generalities so pleasing to children, "My daddy is fatter than your daddy."

"Yes, he is," Tracy agreed but added proudly: "My daddy is more deciduous than your daddy."

A water-based emulsion that can be sprayed from a truck forms a permeable elastic web over the newly seeded shoulders of highways.

Sparton Corp. Will Get $450,000 Tax Refund

JACKSON (AP)—The government will pay Sparton Corp. a refund of $450,000 on income and excess profits taxes of 15 years ago, John J. Smith, corporation president, said today.

Smith told stockholders in a letter that the government has decided not to appeal from a recent U.S. Court of Claims decision in favor of the company. The company filed a claim for refund in 1952 on taxes for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1945, and the matter has been in litigation since.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Kennedy Lashes Economic Level

Says Million Workers Lost Jobs Because of Policies VP Backed

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, in one of his sharpest attacks so far, said today a million workers have lost their jobs because of policies backed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

In his prepared speech, Kennedy claimed Nixon has said, "You never had it so good," after traveling through distressed areas.

"I say Mr. Nixon has looked, but he has not seen. He has heard, but he has not listened," Kennedy said.

'SEES NO EVIL'

"When it comes to our economy, he sees no evil, hears no evil, speaks no evil."

Even though it has but 13 electoral votes, Indiana has become a political battlefield this year.

★ ★ ★

Nixon has been here three times. Henry Cabot Lodge, his running mate, has been here once. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, has also paid one visit.

★ ★ ★

This is Kennedy's first trip, but he gave Indiana the full treatment. His schedule called for speeches in Anderson, Muncie, Terre Haute and here before leaving for Louisville and a speech there tonight.

HE'LL BE BACK

Nor is this all. Kennedy will be back in Indiana later this month.

"But in the last three weeks," he said Tuesday night, "I feel the tide has somewhat moved in our direction."

Kennedy said that during the Eisenhower administration Indiana has lost 33,600 manufacturing jobs—"and the nation as a whole has lost one million jobs."

Kennedy said the Democrats have twice passed bills to help cities like Evansville. "And twice," he said, "the Republicans have vetoed this bill—with Mr. Nixon leading the fight for the veto."

Curiously, the start of Kennedy's visit to Indiana was about as poor and unresponsive as he has had anywhere. Only a comparatively few were on the streets to see him ride in a motorcade from the Indianapolis airport to his hotel late Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

But a noisy, enthusiastic crowd of 10,500 was out to cheer him on at the Coliseum at the Indiana Fair Grounds Thursday night when he said of the Republican performances: "This is a record of poor government by a party which does not believe in governing and has no talent for government."

Sam Rayburn to Allow Biography to Be Done

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Rep. Sam Rayburn, D. Tex., speaker of the House of Representatives, has agreed after 13 years to let a University of Houston professor write his biography.

★ ★ ★

Dr. C. D. Dorough said Tuesday he first approached Rayburn about the book in 1947. He would not predict when the book will be finished.

First successful American sugar beet factory was built in California in 1879.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's slashing attack on the Democrats' farm program was viewed today as an early forerunner of the GOP presidential nominee's long-range strategy for the closing weeks of the campaign.

It had been no secret that the relatively low-paced tempo of Nixon's campaign to date had caused concern among some Republican strategists. But in a speech Tuesday night before a shouting, stomping crowd at West Orange, N. J., Nixon took off the gloves and let no doubt that he will be slugging it out with all comers long before the votes are counted Nov. 8.

The GOP nominee charged that the farm plan of Sen. John F. Kennedy, his Democratic opponent, would increase "over-all food costs by 25 per cent" and cut beef and pork supplies below the rationing levels of World War II.

It was one of his sharpest attacks to date on a specific part of the democratic platform, which he had been criticizing generally with a steadily increasing tempo during a day of heavy motorcading through Northern New Jersey Tuesday.

Nixon turned his attention today to the all-important see-saw battleground of New York City, keenly aware that New York State's whopping electoral vote could tip the election one way or another.

The vice president planned an early start with a downtown breakfast for volunteer workers followed by a motorcade to Fordham University, one of the nation's leading Roman Catholic institutions, and an address to the student body there.

He also was booked for a noontime appearance at Rockefeller Center and another lunchtime speech in the teeming garment district, long a stronghold of New York Democrats.

A civic group lunch also was on the schedule before Nixon left at mid-afternoon for an evening speech in Philadelphia.

The Republican nominee was openly cheered by his New Jersey reception Tuesday. After a slow and somewhat unenthusiastic start, his receptions picked up steadily and reached their climax with his biggest crowds of the day at Plainfield and the windup speech to what police said was a record crowd of 13,000 at West Orange Tuesday night.

For example, Nixon said, the plan would mean such price hikes as 6 cents for a quart of milk, 22 cents a pound on chicken, 15 cents on choice beef, 23 cents a pound for pork, and a two-cent rise in the cost of a loaf of bread.

Johnsons Don't Go All the Way With LBJ

It's just not true that everybody in the family, including the dog, has the initials "LBJ."

Mrs. Johnson has been called Lady Bird since she was two but her real name is Claudia Alta.

"We call him Beagle," Mrs. Johnson told a news conference upon her arrival Tuesday to help her husband campaign for the vice presidency.

She said the Republican's staging of Pat Week for Mrs. Pat Nixon was a "rather sweet idea" but she felt that "Every week is Jacqueline Kennedy Week."

Mrs. Johnson said her husband was "running scared," adding this was a Texas expression meaning "Don't be overconfident."

★ ★ ★

She said her husband has occasionally lost his temper in their home and sometimes disagrees with her on public issues.

"He lets off steam where it's best—at home," she said.

Set Standards for Space Marks

U.S., Russia Together on Way to Measure Manned Jaunts

BARCELONA, Spain (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union, the only entries in the space race so far, have agreed on a set of standards for judging records of man-in-space flights.

★ ★ ★

The agreement will be presented, probably Thursday, to the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, which for more than 50 years has been the official world judge of airplane records.

★ ★ ★

U. S. and Soviet delegates reached the agreement in private talks. The question of whether the Russians will permit FAI observers to witness Soviet space launchings was deferred until next March.

★ ★ ★

Bertrand Rhine of Los Angeles, the U. S. delegate, said under the agreement a flight must reach 62 miles to quality as a space flight and that records will be recognized for duration, altitude and weight of the rocket. A new record to be recognized must exceed the previous mark by at least 10 per cent.

Says Both Have Stolen Norman Thomas Ideas

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A Pittsburgh industrialist says both "young fellows" running for president have platforms stolen from many-time Socialist presidential candidate Norman Thomas.

"Poor old Norman can't run anymore—he hasn't got a platform," said Col. Willard F. Rockwell, board chairman of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co.

Captured Legionnaires Released by Algerians

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—Eleven members of the French Foreign Legion who were captured by or surrendered to the Algerian rebel army were released Tuesday by the Algerian rebel government.

Eight German nationals, two Hungarian refugees and a Dutchman were handed over to the Moroccan Red Crescent by the Algerian government delegate here who described the eleven as deserters from the French army.

Hayward Warns Against Federal Aid to Education

A warning against federal aid to education programs which would place local school policies in the hands of "remote-controlled bureaucrats in Washington" was given yesterday by Rep. William Hayward, R., Royal Oak.

Before a meeting of the Clawson Education Association, the incumbent legislator said the GOP record on education in Michigan is among the best in the nation.

Hayward said the Republican party is not opposed to federal aid to education.

"We strongly favor it," he said. "But we insist that for the good of our nation and the long-range preservation of our liberties, control must remain in the community."

Death Toll Over 200 for Sleek Electras

By United Press International

The Lockheed Electra that crashed Tuesday night in Boston was the fifth of the sleek turboprops to crash in the past 20 months, with a death toll of more than 200.

Three of the four earlier Electra crashes took 162 lives, and 61 persons were listed as dead or missing in Tuesday night's crash.

Two of the downed Electras lost a wing in flight because of a structural weakness. The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) clamped on a rigid speed limit far below the Electra's normal cruising speed of 400 m.p.h., and the Lockheed Corp. has begun a $25 million program to strengthen the plane.

In the most recent crash, Sept. 14, an American Airlines Electra coming in for a landing at New York's LaGuardia Airport flipped on its back and burned, but all 76 persons aboard escaped.

★ ★ ★

On Feb. 3, 1959, shortly after the planes went into regular passenger service, an American Airlines Electra crashed in the East River while approaching the field.

Sixty-five persons were killed, but eight escaped.

The crashes of a Braniff International Airways Electra near Buffalo, Tex., Sept 29, 1959, killing 34 persons, and of a Northwest Airlines Electra at Tell City, Ind., last March 17, killing 63 persons, were blamed on violent oscillations starting in the engines and spreading to the wings.

★ ★ ★

If a plane hit severe air turbulence while this oscillation was going on, enough force could be built up to tear off a wing.

★ ★ ★

The oscillations, however, only began at high speeds, and FAA Chairman Elwood R. Quesada said the speed limit imposed after the Tell City crash made the Electra as structurally reliable as any other passenger-carrying airliner.

Danish King, Queen Arrive to Tour U.S.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — King Frederick IX and Queen Ingrid of Denmark arrived Tuesday night by polar flight from Copenhagen for a two-week good-will tour of the United States.

★ ★ ★

Their plane circled Los Angeles International Airport for half an hour because the welcoming committee, for some reason not immediately explained, was late.

★ ★ ★

An enthusiastic crowd estimated by newsmen at 1,000 was on hand. The king and queen were met on a red carpet extending to the plane by Wiley T. Buchanan Jr., U.S. chief of protocol.

★ ★ ★

King Frederick said he is looking forward to meeting President Eisenhower in Washington.

Critic of Plane Cries for Action

Indiana Senator Begs Structural Weaknesses Be Corrected

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., says Tuesday's Lockheed Electra crash at Boston "bears out my worst fears and the fears of many experts on air safety" about the plane.

Hartke has been an outspoken critic of the Electra since one crashed near Tell City, Ind., last March, killing all 65 persons aboard.

"My heart is filled with sympathy for those who lost loved ones in the crash of the Electra at Boston," he said.

But, he said, "It is well known by those charged with air safety in Washington, including FAA Administrator Elwood Quesada, that structural deficiencies found in the airplane have not been corrected.

"Gen. Quesada should take whatever corrective action necessary immediately in order that Tuesday's disaster is never repeated."

China and Burma Agree

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China and Burma issued a joint communique in Peiping Tuesday on the signing of a joint boundary agreement and on the six-day visit by a Burmese delegation led by Prime Minister U Nu.

His 'Big' Thrill Not as Expected

It ended in the cold waters of Boston Bay only a few hundred feet from the end of a Logan Airport runway. The 21-year-old Whitman, Mass., Marine recruit was one of the few who lived to tell about it.

★ ★ ★

"I was with 14 others going to Parris Island to start our boot training," he told newsmen from a hospital bed. "We were airborne about a minute and I guess we were up about 100 or 200 feet when the plane banked sharply to the left.

★ ★ ★

"But it didn't seem to have enough power for such a turn and it went down. I don't remember any explosion."

★ ★ ★

Nordin, who suffered a sprained wrist and broken ankle, had no idea how he escaped the wreckage which sank within five minutes. "I was just lucky," he said.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe I'll take the train next time," he added.

BLACK WORK UNDER WHITE MOON — Firemen and volunteers search through the tail section of the turboprop Electra that crashed in the shallow water of Boston Harbor after takeoff Tuesday afternoon. A nearly full moon flooded the black sea of death. Volunteers from shore jumped into the sea fully clothed and waded or swam out to the wreckage. They helped pull bodies and survivors into small boats.

One Rumor for Cause of Plane Crash

Seagulls? No, Says FAA Official

BOSTON (UPI) — A Federal Aviation Agency spokesman today discounted reports that a flock of seagulls might have caused Tuesday night's crash of an Eastern Airlines Lockheed Electra.

★ ★ ★

The FAA spokesman said that if the gulls got into one of the turboprop jet engines "it possibly could cause one engine to fire out.

"In all likelihood the engine would come back by itself. If not, the normal procedure would be to return to the airport to repair whatever damage might have been done.

★ ★ ★

"On a big ship like the Electra, I doubt if any damage would be done. Even if two engines went out the plane would have enough power in the remaining engines to operate safely."

The spokesman said that as far as he knew a jet plane had never crashed because of seagulls flying into the engines.

S. Korean Judges Irked

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korean judges complained today they can't live decently on less than $100 a month. Fifty judges decided at a meeting today to petition the chief justice that will guarantee them at least $160 or 190,000 hwan a month. Starting pay for a judge is now 45,000 hwan, or about $80.

LUCKY STEWARDESSES — Joan Berry, 24, (left), of Prentiss, Miss., and Patricia Davies, 22, of Jacksonville, Fla., were the stewardesses aboard the Eastern Airlines plane which crashed in Boston Harbor Tuesday afternoon. Both girls survived but Miss Berry suffered a broken leg. She said it all happened so fast there was "no time to think."

Accuses Dems of Politicking

Mueller Denies Charge He Conceals Report Showing Recession

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller has accused a group of 13 Democratic senators of making political charges apparently aimed at undermining confidence in the nation's economy.

* * *

Mueller made public a wire to Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., in which he again denied that the Commerce Department had concealed a report indicating the country was undergoing a recession.

Clark headed the group of the department was sitting on such a survey.

In his reply, Mueller termed Clark's message one of political allegations giving an erroneous impression. The department, he said, has not reported to President Eisenhower nor anyone else that the economy is in recession nor has it completed its calculation of the gross national product for the quarter ended Sept. 30.

* * *

The gross national product represents the total value of the nation's business and services and acts as a barometer of its economic condition.

Mueller said government economists and statisticians have never withheld the truth and insisted that department officials never suggest that reports be suppressed or slanted.

To Tell the Truth, That Was Really Bob Hope Show

NEW YORK (UPI) — Comedian Bob Hope's face appeared on millions of television screens Monday night, but his voice was Polly Bergen's.

It was all very confusing, at least east of Chicago where the mixup occurred.

Through a switching error in the coast-to-coast telephone circuits, a CBS rebroadcast of "To Tell the Truth," beamed to the West Coast, was relayed back to New York on NBC lines.

Weather Warm, Pirates Hot and Yanks Burning as Series Opens

Ditmar vs. Law Before 38,000 in Pittsburgh

Spunky Bucs Promise No Repetition of '27 Flop Against Yanks

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

PITTSBURGH—The weather is a warm 70 in Pittsburgh today. The Pirates are keyed up to a hot 90 degrees, but the Yankees may be burning to the temperature of one of these Steel City openhearth furnaces.

A crowd of 38,000, almost 4,000 more than available seats, started to jam Forbes Field as early as 9:00 a.m. to watch the spunky Bucs meet the Yankees for the second time in 33 years.

The Yanks may be getting irked at the over-zealous comments of the Pirates who feel they are not going to let the proud American League team scare them into defeat.

"We beat a lot better clubs that the Yankees," said one of the Pirate players," and no one is going to say we chocked up like they did in 1927."

The Yankees, who swept the Pirates in four straight games in 1927, sent 15-game winner Art Ditmar to the mound to open against Vern Law, a 20 game ace.

Ford will probably start the third game of the series when it goes to New York.

Pirate manager didn't hesitate in naming his starting lineup. "I'm going along with my left-handed lineup," he said. He also named his choices for the other games, with Bob Friend in the second game, Wilmer Mizell in the third and Harvey Haddix in the fourth.

He will bat second behind Virdon, followed by Skinner and first baseman Dick Stuart.

Law was a doubtful first-game starter due to an ankle injury he suffered during the Pirates' pennant-clinching celebration in Milwaukee, Sept. 25th.

"My ankle feels much better," he said before today's game, "I don't think it will bother me at all."

★ ★ ★

The old professor Casey Stengel was perturbed or shaken by the tremendous enthusiasm displayed by the Pirates and the Pittsburgh fans.

"So what if the Yankees are favored," he asked, "we weren't favored all year."

★ ★ ★

City Goes Wild for Their Bucs

PITTSBURGH — Pittsburgh fans have had the times of their lives getting ready for the World Series.

Hotels have been sold out for a long time. The seating of nearly 35,000 has prevented at last another 50,000 fanatic Pirates fans from going to the park.

For this reason every hotel has arranged huge television sets and extra accomodations for seating.

The city has spent thousands decorating downtown. The schools are going to remain open but study period classes will have the chance to listen to the game.

The courts will close as will most downtown offices during the time of the game.

Tickets are the most prized possessions in town. Scalpers are having a field day. Reserved seat tickets priced at $7.50 are selling for $25. A box seat worth $11 is bringing $50.

Last Sunday night when the Pirates clinched the pennant they were greeted by $50.00. What will happen if they should win the World Series is anybody's guess.

Dick Groat the peppery shortstop of the Pirates who has been out with a broken wrist doesn't think his teammates are going to let the fans down.

Groat and his understudy Dick Schofield aren't going along with the idea that the Yankees have the advantage at short because of Groat's injury and Schofield's substitute position.

When Groat suffered a broken left wrist last Sept. 6, Pittsburgh fans gloomily envisioned the pennant flag flying out of the window, but Schofield jumped into the breach and kept the Pirate ship sailing full steam ahead.

In the next ten games, he batted around the .500 mark and pulled his average up from a .300 pinch hitting role to around .330. He sparkled daily in the field and demonstrated a greater range and stronger throwing arm than Groat.

For over a week he handled every chance without a single miscue. The night he replaced Groat, he started a double play with a spectacular backhanded stop on Del Crandall that ruined a budding Milwaukee rally. The next day he was directly responsible for a 4-3 victory over Chicago with a two-run triple.

"It's hard to explain how I feel about having the chance to play every day," said the likeable youngster who has been sitting on the bench during most of the seven years since he took a Cardinal bonus of $40,000 as an 18-year-old in 1953. "I hated to see Dick hurt, but I was glad of the chance to play. Playing regularly makes you feel that you're an important part of the team and that you've contributed something to winning the championship."

It was suggested that the pressure of a World Series might be too much for a young man who has never before played regularly for a major league club.

"If you're asking me whether I'll be nervous," Schofield interrupted, "I know I will be. But only at the beginning. I'm always nervous before a ball game but after I've handled a ball or swung at a pitch, I get over the nervousness quickly. Shucks, show me one guy who isn't nervous at the start of a ball game. You can't help it."

While manager Danny Murtaugh would naturally like to have Groat back, he isn't overly worried about having to go with Schofield.

"If Schofield should have to play, I'm not in the least bit worried," said Murtaugh. "I think he's done one of the most outstanding jobs under the most terrific pressure any utility man has had to face in years. He won't be overawed. He has a lot of courage."

"Schofield undoubtedly can play regularly for may clubs," said General Manager Joe Brown. "In fact, I had several opportunities to trade him but I didn't. He has lots of ability and tremendous spirit. He's been a definite asset to the Pittsburgh club."

Neighbors Lake Orion, Oxford Battle Friday

A Lake Orion team with a respectable 1-1-1 record will be guest of winless Oxford and heavily favored but past history means very little when such neighboring rivals tangle.

★ ★ ★

The Dragons have beaten Madison, tied strong Fitzgerald and bowed to Pontiac Northern led by a veteran backfield.

Oxford, rebuilding under new coach Walt Braun, has bowed on successive Fridays to Clarkston, Ortonville and Romeo.

This game will serve as a break in league wars for both schools.

Oxford has had defensive problems allowing 67 points in the outings and Orion should provide little relief for Nate Hall and his mates with such talented backs as Tim Alban, Bucky Craven, Dave Julien, Bucky Craven and Chuck Hunter.

Julien has been the team scoring ace with three of the team's six touchdowns. Lake Orion opponents have totaled 24 points.

The Wildcat offense has perked up considerably since a blanking opening night at Clarkston but has fallen short with 25 in two games. Four different players have a TD with Jerry Zella tops for points with 7.

A bad beating may mean the benching of some of the OHS seniors as Braun is considering some experimenting with youngsters.

There will be two games in the South Central Conference. Ortonville will be favored to post its 2nd victory at home against North Branch as front-running Imlay City visits Millington.

New skipper Ed Tallman may be developing Ortonville's best team in recent years. The Blackhawks made a creditable showing in bowing to Imlay last week after losing to Goodrich and downing Oxford.

The passing of Pat Barrick has been a big factor in Ortonville's attempt to bounce back in football. North Branch has scored none and given up 101 points in the first three games under Phil Marazita.

Millington could prove a stumbling block to Imlay's hopes of dominating the SCC. The Cardinals have looked good in a trio of one-sided triumphs including a win over North Branch which topped the Spartans.

Imlay has had six different backs scoring touchdowns in three romps and its defense was dented for just seven points.

Titans Coming Along Well, Miller Believes

DETROIT (AP)—Development is the big idea at the University of Detroit, where coach Jim Miller is working to build up his team for the ambitious schedule ahead.

And Miller feels the Titans are developing according to plan after a split in two games.

"I hope we can develop fast enough to give Michigan State a good game at the end of the season," Miller said yesterday. "And don't forget we play Army and Navy next year."

He went on to specify the Titans' areas of improvement, dwelling on quarterback Bob Lusky for praise.

Detroit ranks ninth in the nation in passing. Veterans Bob Lusky and Tony Hanley and sophomore Jerry Gross have completed 19 of 46 tosses in two games for a 158.5 yard average.

The Titans' next foe is Cincinnati, unbeaten in three games. Cincinnati invades Titan Stadium Friday night.

NHL Great Recovering From Heart Condition

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Sixty-year-old Eddie Shore, "the Edmonton Express" of the National Hockey League, Tuesday was reported recovering from a continuing heart condition.

Mrs. Shore said he has had "the best four or five days" since he was hospitalized this summer.

PCH in Valley Opener, Huskies at Farmington

By BILL CORNWELL

It's the 1960 conference for PCH. For the Huskies, it's league start No. 2.

Northern, hoping to rebound from last week's 33-14 setback at the hands of defending champion Walled Lake, collides with a youthful Farmington team in an afternoon battle at Farmington.

The Chiefs will get some inkling of just how good they really are this season when they clash with the Lumberjacks under the lights at Arthur Hill Memorial Stadium.

Paul Dellerba, Central's new head coach, has scouted the Jacks twice and he reports that they're a much better team than their 1-2 record would indicate.

"They'll outweight us in the line and they've got a fine passing attack," said Dellerba. "They also have an excellent fullback in Jack Anderson and thus far they've been very strong in the 2nd half," he added.

Anderson, a bruising 210-pound runner, has born the brunt of the Hillite attack to date. He's a powerful ball carrier who has the ability to gain yardage with tacklers riding his back.

Coach Kurt Kampe is fielding largely an inexperienced squad—like PCH—but the Jacks showed marked improvement in last week's 20-19 victory over Lansing Eastern following losses to highly rated Grand Rapids Catholic Central and Midland.

The Chiefs were sharp as a tack in their last outing when they plastered Wyandotte 47-0. Admittedly, the Dottes were not a strong club, but Central's downfield blocking and all-around precision can not be ignored.

Central's impressive rout of Wyandotte was somewhat surprising in view of the fact that the Chiefs had been hard pressed the week before to slip past Waterford 13-6. Their progress under Dellerba in a week's time was truly remarkable.

Locating an aerial arm to add versatility to the Central offense is receiving Dellerba's utmost attention this week in practice sessions. Spearheaded by veteran halfback Dick McCauley, the Chiefs have displayed an excellent ground game, but have been unable to produce anything worthwhile through the air.

So far PCH has netted only six yards passing in two games. This absence of an effective overhead threat could spell trouble for the Chiefs when the Valley schedule gets under way.

Junior Bob Pomeroy is still the No. 1 quarterback for the Chiefs, but senior Larry Brennen, a southpaw passer who has been kicking the extra points, is pressing him for the job and has been throwing well in drills.

The Chiefs are physically sound for this contest, including end George Fed who is healthy again after a bout with a swollen ankle.

Despite the week's layoff, the Chiefs drilled every day last week except Wednesday when they watched films of Arthur Hill in action. Practice is being held daily this week.

★ ★ ★

Coach Ed Heikkenen's PNH squad showed its finest offense of the young season against Walled Lake, but the Huskies succumbed to depth, beef and power.

Jack Hayes' gridders will be seeking to avenge a startling loss to PNH last year at Wisner Stadium. The Falcons are getting better each week as exemplified by last week's narrow 20-19 loss to Berkley after decisive defeats at the hands of Livonia Bentley and Rochester.

This is a "do-or-die" Inter-Lakes League tussle for the Huskies. Runnersup a year ago, the Huskies cannot swallow another defeat and remain a contender for the I-L championship.

Northern enters the Farmington scrap with an over-all 1-2 record. The Huskies began the season with a 12-7 triumph over Lake Orion, then dropped a 7-0 verdict to Hazel Park and wilted before Walled Lake the following week.

Flint Central at Bay City

Early Showdown in SVC

A high school football struggle which could have great bearing on the outcome of the 1960 Saginaw Valley Conference race is slated Friday night at Bay City.

Bay City Central, Michigan's No. 2 rated prep power in this week's Associated Press grid poll, and Flint Central, the state's 6th-ranked team, collide under the lights at Bay City Stadium at 8 o'clock in an early season showdown in the Valley.

Elmer Engel's Wolves are undefeated in three starts and rule slight favorites over Flint Central, which has a 2-1 record.

★ ★ ★

The Wolfpack has rolled to impressive victories over Sarnia of Ontario, Flint Southwestern and city rival Bay City Handy. The Wolves have piled up a total of 100 points while yielding none.

If anyone is going to be the first to cross the Bay City goal line this fall, it probably will be the speedy, high-scoring Indians who shared the Valley crown with city foe Flint Northern last year.

The dangerous Indians started the campaign like a house afire with runaway victories over Midland and Muskegon.

They were ranked No. 1 in the state until last Saturday when they stumbled and fell before Ann Arbor, which subsequently was rated 1st in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The winner of this crucial contest will be favored to go on and win the SVC title, although both schools will still have to battle Flint Northern later in the season.

★ ★ ★

Saginaw's invasion of Flint Northern and Pontiac Central's visit to Arthur Hill will round out Friday's opening round of competition in the Valley circuit.

Egner Leads Maples to 5th Harrier Win

With Bill Egner setting the pace, Birmingham Seaholm's cross country team defeated East Detroit, 23-32, yesterday at East Detroit. Egner set a new course record with a time of 10:48.9 and teammates Bill Heyden and Mike Geer, who finished 2nd and 3rd respectively, also bettered the old mark.

★ ★ ★

Hal Freed was 8th and Paul Black 9th for the Maples as they posted their 5th dual meet victory in seven starts. Greg Frontier paced the Maple reserves to a 17-43 win.

Ruth Couldn't Do It

Mantle, Stuart Believe They'll Homer at Forbes

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Babe Ruth couldn't do it, but Mickey Mantle and Dick Stuart both think they can.

Ruth failed to hit a single home run at Forbes Field during the 1927 World Series between the New York Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates. Only two homers were hit in that entire series, both by Ruth, but in Yankee Stadium.

Mantle doesn't think it should be so difficult to reach the fences here, however.

"It's a lot like Yankee Stadium," he said, taking a good look around the ball park. "That left field fence isn't too far away and that right field wall is the same as the stadium's except it's a little higher."

Only Mantle, with his tremendous power, can see it that way.

"I played here twice before," said the switch-hitting Yankee center fielder, "and I hit one over the right field roof the first time."

The homer Mantle referred to was a blow that traveled more than 500 feet. He hit it during an exhibition game against the Pirates in 1957 and is one of six men, including Ruth, ever to have cleared the right field roof at Forbes Field.

* * *

Stuart, Pittsburgh's right-handed hitting strong boy, said he wasn't interested in getting into "any tape-measure contest" with Mantle although he feels the fences aren't too far away to faze him either.

"I got my share of homers this year (23) and I can tell you that no one ever gets any cheap ones here," Stuart said.

"Sure, I know Mantle led the American League in homers (with 40), but we got a couple of guys besides myself who can hit home runs, too. (Roberto) Clemente can hit a ball as far as anyone. He leans toward left field and hits to right.

* * *

"And what about (Don) Hoak, (Bob) Skinner and (Smoky) Burgess? The ball jumps off their bats also."

"I've never seen much of Mantle, but if he has more power than Stuart he must use a cannon," says Burgess.

Hal Smith, the Pirates' other catcher who played in the American League for several seasons, says Mantle does have more power.

* * *

"Stuart has plenty, though." Smith hastened to add. "When Stuart pulls the ball he has as much power as Mantle. Straightaway, Mantle has more."

The consensus is that this could easily develop into a "hitters' series."

* * *

If that turns out to be the case, Mantle and Stuart figure to have a lot to do with it.

Navy End Selected 'Lineman of Week'

By The Associated Press

Greg Mather, Navy end who booted the winning field goal in the Middies' upset 15-14 victory over Washington, was named the Lineman of the Week today by The Associated Press.

A fiction writer couldn't have imagined a more bizarre ending to the game. Washington led 14-12 in the closing minutes, but lost the ball on its 24 on a fourth-down, poor pass from center. Navy scored a touchdown that was nullified because of a penalty and the Middies' cause seemed doomed.

Here Mather, a rugged 223-pounder from Woodland Hills, Calif., stepped up and booted a 31-yard field goal in the last 14 seconds to turn defeat into victory.

He Keeps Job After Meeting With Owners

Bengals Draw a Blank in Search for Skipper to Replace Gordon

The controversial team boss met here last night with eight of the 11 owners of the team and reported on his first year with the club.

Although there has been speculation that the owners would buy back the remaining two years of De Witt's $50,000 contract, when the meeting broke up, De Witt was still boss.

Another meeting was slated for next Wednesday in Detroit.

Meanwhile, the Tigers drew their first blank in their search for a manager to replace Joe Gordon. Ralph Houk, coach of the New York Yankees, said "I'm perfectly satisfied with the job I have."

Houk had been mentioned as a managerial possibility for the Tigers — and also for the Kansas City Athletics and the San Francisco Giants.

De Witt said Houk has "all the qualifications of a good manager, but we haven't even begun to study the possible candidates for our managerial job."

Gordon seemed to have the inside track for the post as field boss of the A's.

Former Giant manager Bill Rigney reportedly has applied for the Detroit job. He is also a top candidate to replace Lou Boudreau as boss of the Cubs. Boudreau has quit to return to radio announcing.

Although not official yet, Don Heffner is said to have agreed to become a coach with Detroit next season as has Mel McGaha with Cleveland.

Bob Scheffing, who just resigned his Milwaukee post, is said to be in line to succeed Tom Sheehan at San Francisco.

Howe to Miss First Opener in 15 Years

CHICAGO (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings open their season here tonight and they'll be minus their biggest gun. Gordie Howe will miss his first National Hockey League opener in 15 seasons with the Red Wings.

The Wings, opening against a strong Black Hawk team in Chicago Stadium, will be without the services of their outstanding forward because of a wrenched knee.

Howe hurt the knee in a collision in last Saturday's All-Star game and is expected to miss at least two games.

With Howe out, the Red Wing forward line is expected to consist of Gary Aldcorn, Norm Ullman and Howie Glover. Ullman is the only veteran of the trio. Aldcorn, a draft choice last summer, collected 22 goals for Detroit. The Red Wings got Glover from Chicago in June in a trade for Jim Morrison.

* * *

They will face Chicago's "million dollar line" of Bobby Hull, Bill Hay and Murray Balfour. The three accounted for most of Chicago's scoring last season and are expected to carry on the tradition.

The Red Wings debut in Olympia Stadium tomorrow when the Black Hawks pay them a return visit.

The Boston Bruins play the New York Rangers in New York tonight.

* * *

The other two clubs — the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Montreal Canadiens — get their season under way in Montreal tomorrow night.

* * *

The Canadiens, even without the retired Maurice Richard, are solid favorites to outdistance the opposition once again. Montreal has won the Stanley Cup the last five years and has taken the NHL title in four of those years.

After the Canadiens the Maple Leafs appear strongest. The Leafs finished second last season but bowed in four straight in the Cup finals.

Elsewhere, it should be a scramble for the remaining two playoff positions. The Red Wings and Black Hawks appear to be slightly better balanced than either Boston or New York.

* * *

Chicago will be minus veteran Ted Lindsay. The scrappy 35-year-old leftwinger retired after 16 seasons in the NHL—three with Chicago and 13 with Detroit.

The Detroit Times will sponsor the Detroit Red Wing hockey games on radio this season, Jack Adams, Red Wings general manager, announced today.

Adams said "the Times will sponsor a slate of all 35 home games broadcast live and in their entirety over Detroit radio station WKMH. The 35 road games will be carried on a 15-minute resume program at 10:45 p.m. (EST) the night of the game."

Cough Epidemic Hurts British Racing Season

LONDON (AP)—A nagging cough of epidemic size Tuesday upset a $2,800,000 gamble on the last big betting event of the British horse racing season. It's the horses who are coughing.

* * *

And nobody is quite sure what horses will go in the Oct. 26 running of the Cambridgeshire Handicap—the 9-furlong race that carries the last Irish Sweepstakes of the season.

* * *

Coughing has ravaged British horse racing. Runners at meetings throughout Britain have been cut by more than half. Nearly 90 horses were due to run at Nottingham Tuesday. Only 30 took part.

West Bloomfield Club to Have Hockey

The West Bloomfield Boys Club is looking for hockey players for a league it plas to form soon.

Boys between the ages of 8 and 18 interested in playing should contact either Red Morgan at FE 4-2986 or Bruce Welch at FE 8-0163. The two men will serve as league directors.

* * *

The club will furnish part of the equipment which will include shirts and pads now being used for football.

Braves' Bid to Get Kuenn Falls Through

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves have made a bid for Cleveland's Harvey Kuenn, but the deal fell through when Frank Lane, the general manager of the Indians, asked for either Eddie Mathews or Hank Aaron in exchange for the star outfielder.

"They talked about Wes Covington and one of their younger pitchers and other players of that caliber," Lane said Tuesday.

"But I told them lets not waste my time and your time because I'm not going to trade Kuenn unless you talk in terms of Mathews or Aaron."

Lane said Kuenn is not on the market. "He did everything we asked him to do," Lane added, "although some others on the club didn't."

Wayne's Only Veteran Halfback Is Finished

DETROIT (UPI) — Wayne State University's football fortunes nosedived today with announcement that Angelo Nicholas, the squad's only letterman halfback, was through for the season.

No Cheers Heard for Spartans

EAST LANSING (AP)—The coaches generally cheer from the sidelines when a team romps up and down the football field in practice. But not this week at the Michigan State camp.

Trouble was, the team making the gains was a scouting outfit using Iowa plays — the same the Hawkeyes used to crush Northwestern 42-0 last Saturday.

A group of the fastest backs were selected from the reserves. Directing them was Pete Smith of Ecorse, a sophomore with a sharp passing arm who played the role of Iowa Quarterback Wilburn Hollis.

The reserves drove the length of the field in what has become typical Iowa fashion. Then they turned around and went 80 yards again before being stopped.

The defenders were largely from the alternate unit which spells the top offensive and defensive eleven. But some top level linesmen, ends and line backers also were sent in to try to contain the youngsters working Iowa plays.

★ ★ ★

"This is brand new stuff," said coach Duffy Daugherty of the attack. "But I think we'll improve as the week goes along. We'd better," he added.

"We'll be meeting a team with plenty of speed," he told a meeting of football writers yesterday in Chicago. "Along with speed, Michigan State has lots of raw power, and I don't know if we can cope with it."

★ ★ ★

"Neither team will run away with it," he predicted. "We'll be in 100 per cent shape physically."

Evashevski contended the Spartans would enjoy one advantage over his team.

"They drilled last week on Michigan's wingback offense," he said. "In us, they'll be meeting a winged attack twice in a row."

ANN ARBOR (AP) — For coach Bump Elliott, standing only a few feet away when Michigan quarterback Bob Chandler crashed to the ground Saturday, it was like seeing someone tear up his insurance policy.

★ ★ ★

Although he was U-M's third-string signal-caller, the loss of Chandler with a wrenched knee could be a severe blow to Michigan's football fortunes.

Elliott will promote Don Hannah, a Gary, Ind., senior, to the third string to take over for Chandler. Hannah won his letter last year and often looks impressive in practice but has yet to prove himself as a first-rate quarterback under game pressure.

49er End Moved From Defense to Offense

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) San Francisco 49ers Coach Red Hickey Tuesday shifted Monte Clarke, 260-pound defensive end and tackle, to offensive tackle.

Hickey, down to one healthy tackle on offense, made the move to compensate for the loss of John Thomas, out with a broken wrist.

Brown Flattens Foe

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Joe Brown, lightweight boxing champion of the world, knocked out sixth-ranked Raymundo (Battling) Torres of Reynosa, Mex., in the fourth round of a 10-round non-title fight Tuesday night.

Lions Make Line Changes

DETROIT (AP)—The Lions are making some line changes in hopes of bolstering their defense for San Francisco's invasion of Briggs Stadium Sunday.

Darris McCord will leave the offensive team to play his old defensive end post. Alex Karras will switch from guard to tackle and Willie McClung will move in at guard. John Gordy will replace McCord on offense.

★ ★ ★

Coach George Wilson is against using kicker Jim Martin as linebacker because of his age but has no other choice due to injuries. Martin booted for all nine points in an opening loss at Green Bay.

The 49ers will bring such stars as Y. A. Tittle, Hugh McElhenny and Les Nomellini to town. They are hurting at offensive tackles where two standouts are hurt.

Houston, Texans Lead AFL in Total Offense

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A couple of Texas teams—Houston and Dallas—are leading the American Football League in total offense.

Houston's Oilers have in three games piled up 530 yards rushing and 612 passing for an average of 380.7 per game. Dallas has a 345.5 average, picking up 456 yards rushing and 926 passing in four contests.

In County Scoring

Newton Takes Big Lead

By CHUCK ABAIR

Fleet-footed Jack Newton has taken a commanding lead in the 1960 Oakland County prep individual scoring race.

The West Bloomfield senior halfback romped for four touchdowns in the rout of Milford to boost his total to 44 points — 17 better than a trio in 2nd place.

Closest competitors are Dan Lickert of Rochester, Cranbrook's Tom Demrick and Dion Caza of Troy with 27. Demrick garnered his in only two games while the other played three games.

Opening week leaders Dick McCauley of Pontiac Central and Rochester boy Bob Morris dropped down. McCauley's team did not have a game so he dropped into a six-way tie for 4th at 24. Morris was limited to an extra point and now is in a deadlock for 3rd at 25.

Rochester, Cranbrook, Hazel Park and Avondale each have two representatives among the county's top 20.

Roger Lomerson of Imlay City is the runnerup with 32 aided by 14 extra points. Capable Brighton quarterback Randy Marx and Earl Peeples of L'Anse Creuse follow with 30.

Imlay has four among the top 10 on the area list. Two others are from Millington.

Three Pirates Sing of Hopes

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three Pittsburgh Pirates spent World Series eve strumming a guitar and singing "Beat 'em Bucs."

Pitchers Elroy Face and Harvey Haddix and catcher Hal Smith served as part of the entertainment at a pep rally attended by about 5,000 persons Tuesday night.

Face played the guitar while his mates sang. Other musical groups on hand were the Carnegie Tech band, a drum and bugle corps and a dixieland jazz band.

The rally was held at Schenley Park next to Forbes Field where the first game of the World Series between Pittsburgh and New York will be played today. Part of the rally was televised coast-to-coast.

Fire truck floodlights illuminated the site. A 30-foot sign said "Stop Yankee Aggression." Girls strolled around in Pirate uniforms. Pirate costumes and flapper attire of the 1920s.

'Hot Team' Gets Series Nod From Ex-Pirate Boss

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Pie Traynor, who managed the 1938 Pirate team which came within a whisker of winning the pennant, believes the 1960 team can beat the Yankees in the World Series, but a later pilot — Fred Haney — picks the "hot team."

"The team that gets hot will win the series," said Haney who guided the Pirates from 1953 through 1955.

Traynor, who played on the 1925 and 1927 teams which won the National League flag, thinks his "alma mater" can win in seven games.

Ex-Major Leaguer Dies

FREEPORT, Ill. (AP)—Former minor and major league baseball player Jack Warhop, who pitched for the New York Yankees in 1909 when they were known as the Highlanders, died Tuesday at the age of 76.

★ ★ ★

Warhop started his baseball career in Freeport in 1906 with the old Wisconsin-Illinois League. He moved up to the Detroit Tigers in the American League in 1909 and later that year was sold to the New York Highlanders.

HATHAWAY SHIRTS

(Exclusively at Both Osmun's Stores . . . Downtown Pontiac and Tel-Huron Shopping Center)

AMERICAN MEN are beginning to realize that it is ridiculous to buy good suits and then spoil the effect by wearing an ordinary mass-produced shirt. Hence the growing popularity of our Hathaway shirts, which are in a class by themselves.

Hathaway shirts wear infinitely longer—a matter of years. They make you look younger because of the subtle way Hathaway cuts collars. The whole shirt is tailored more generously and is therefore more comfortable. Even the stitching has an ante bellum elegance about it.

You will get a great deal of quiet satisfaction out of wearing shirts in such impeccable taste.

There could be no better time than now to come in and make your selection from our fabulous collection.

Duck Hunting Prospects Improved

Hunters Must Delay Until Noon Friday

More Local Ducks Seen This Year, but Teal Are On the Move

Hunters can expect slightly better prospects when Michigan's waterfowl season opens at noon Friday.

* * *

There has been a question concerning first day hours. The conservation department lists noon as the time to start shooting. Hours for the remainder of the 40-day season have been extended this year to a half hour before sunrise to sunset each day.

Hunting on Sebewaing and Wildfowl Bays in Saginaw Bay must end at 4 p.m.

Canvasbacks and redheads are on the protected list this year. However, they do not make up the bulk of the early season shooting. Mallards and teal will be the big targets opening weekend.

* * *

The local duck population shows a slight increase over 1959. A wet spring provided many good marshland and pothole nesting areas which normally would be too dry for hatching. The heavy rains did wash out some early broods, but many second hatches were successful.

* * *

Gunning on teal may not be as good this year. There isn't any shortage on these elusive targets. Many have already migrated south of Michigan. Large flocks of bluewings seen on lakes and ponds in the southern tier of counties during the last week, have left the state.

Small bodies of water in Oakland County will probably provide the best shooting. Marshes along the Great Lakes and some rivers are also good places. Dippers—Mallards, blacks, teal, pintails and baldpates—do not go for the big water like the late season diving ducks.

Geese are often overlooked by hunters early in the season. This could be a mistake. A good setup in a harvested grain or corn field in areas where geese frequent can bring surprising results. Many Canadian geese raise their young in Michigan and this gives early season hunters a chance at them.

* * *

Daily bag limits remain the same on ducks and geese. Hunters may take four ducks. The daily limit on geese is five. Coot bag limits have been increased to six daily and 12 in possession.

* * *

Michigan hunters will be checked more closely than last year when bringing migratory game birds to this state from Canada. As in the past, they will be required to declare their game to the nearest U.S. Customs Station when returning to this country. Their Canadian licenses must be presented to customs authorities.

Light Tackle Fishermen Given Edge in Tourney

The angler who uses light tackle will have an edge in the World Series of Fishing Tour which gets under way Oct. 16 at Union Lake.

* * *

The fishermen will try their luck on six other lakes, all in northern Michigan, before closing out the contest at Union Lake on Oct. 24. One lake will be fished each day, except one day for travel.

During the competition, fishermen can use any legal method desired. But bonus points will be awarded for light tackle. Muskie fishing has been eliminated from the tour. The contestants will try for a specific fish each day.

Wade Miller of Houghton Lake will carry Michigan's hopes into the contest. He won the state crown on his home lake ten days ago. About 75 fishermen and outdoor writers are expected for the world competition, including representatives from at least eight foreign nations.

Director of the world series organization is Hy Peskin who lives in the Pontiac area near Pine Lake.

* * *

Contestants are scheduled to arrive Oct. 15. They will be housed in a Plymouth motel. At 6 a.m. the next morning, the competition gets under way from Dunham's Sport and Boat Shop. The angling is scheduled to end in the early afternoon each day.

Daily winners will be presented with trophies at an evening banquet. The first awards dinner will be Oct. 16 at the Edgewood Country Club. The world champion will be announced during a banquet in the same location after the final day of fishing on Union Lake.

The full schedule is Oct. 16, Union Lake; Oct. 17, Cadillac; Oct. 18, Harbor Springs; Oct. 19, Cheboygan; Oct. 20, Trout Lake; Oct. 21, Escanaba; Oct. 22, travel; Oct. 23, Houghton Lake; Oct. 24, Union Lake.

Debate Scheduled on Conservation

NEW YORK CITY — A debate on the conservation records and platform pledges of the Republican and Democratic parties will be a feature of the 56th annual convention of the National Audubon Society, to be held Oct. 29 to Nov. 1 in New York City.

The debate, coming just eight days before the national election, will headline a society program Monday night, Oct. 31.

Spokesman for the Republicans will be Elmer F. Bennett, Washington, D. C., the undersecretary of interior.

Representing the Democrats will be youthful Congressman John D. Dingell, 34, of Detroit, member of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries and an active sponsor of conservation legislation in Congress.

Gun Safety Program Shows Good Progress

LANSING (UPI)—The conservation department said yesterday a new program to teach youngsters how to use firearms safely was going very well due to the cooperation of many school systems.

* * *

Some northern Michigan schools have adopted the one-hour courses as part of their school program, the department said.

Some 500 volunteer teachers were handling the course in communities where it had not been made a part of the school curriculum.

49ers Have Only One Healthy Tackle Left

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers are down to just one healthy offensive tackle, Len Rhode.

John Thomas was declared out Monday for at least several weeks with a broken wrist. Bob St. Clair missed Sunday's Ram game because of a pulled leg muscle and, though not in perfect shape, he'll play this Sunday at Detroit.

Lands Dream Catch

Roberts, a 71-year-old retired coal merchant bet four cents and won two first dividends—each worth $70,000.

Season Change on Black Bass Is Considered

Results of an experiment at Pontiac Lake might mean an earlier opening of the black bass season in Michigan.

Conservation department officials opened Pontiac, Whitmore and Bear Lakes to year around fishing on large and smallmouths six years ago. The experiment showed that the bass population in the three lakes did not suffer.

With this in mind, department officials will present their proposal for a June 1 opening day to the conservation commission at its meeting Oct. 12-13 at Higgins Lake. Legislative action would be required to move the bass season up from its present opening date, the third Saturday in June.

More Anglers Mean Less Fishing Water

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—A new angle on angling: now it's America's high standard of living that threatens to snag fishermen's lines.

Karl F. Lagler, University of Michigan fisheries dept. head, says shorter work weeks and longer paid vacations will result in more anglers.

This, in turn, Lagler says, will shrink the amount of natural water suited for sport fishes, "Perhaps as rapidly as the supply for human use is being consumed."

Michigan Turns Color

It's the time of year when the fall leaves and other foliage just begin to turn colors. One of the most attractive seasons along the countryside and at parks is between Oct. 1-15 when the fall colors are best.

Persons wishing to enjoy the Michigan color pageant might well include a trip to any of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks. These parks contain the colorful features of the fall season.

Pontiac Press Photo

ONE SHOT — It took only one arrow from Carlos Pace's bow to down this eight-point buck near Roscommon last Saturday, the opening day of Michigan's archery deer season. The deer dressed out at 200 pounds. Pace, who lives in Pontiac, was the only hunter in the party to connect.

Many Young Birds Seen

More Waterfowl Seen in Provinces

WINNIPEG (AP)—The waterfowl picture in the prairie provinces is "definitely improved" after a late hatch that has been generally successful, Ducks Unlimited reported.

* * *

Manitoba production is improved over 1959 and production in the eastern half of Saskatchewan has been good while production has been particularly heavy in the northern parklands of Alberta, the conservation organization said.

In a report on wild duck and goose production, the organization said aerial surveys started simultaneously in the northern parts of the three provinces Aug. 31 and were completed Sept. 8.

"The Manitoba crew reported heavy populations on most concentration areas and found the over-all situation considerably improved over 1959. In Saskatchewan the populations were somewhat improved along the northern fringe of agriculture but farther north with water levels highest in 20 years, there was a reduction from 1959.

"In Alberta the agricultural fringe south and east of Lesser Slave Lake carries a very high population. Hay Lake in northern Alberta is also exceptionally good but in the northeastern part of the province (which includes the Athabasca Delta), populations were down due to the very high water levels.

The report also notes that a Saskatchewan biologist just returned from the Arctic reported "All species of geese have met with a very favorable breeding season . . . nesting was early and brood success good."

Another report said: "Production for existing water areas in southern Alberta has been high, far above the last two or three years. Many late broods were still in evidence at the end of August. The over-all production in southern Alberta, however, is still quite light but far surpasses that of 1959."

Hunters Are Urged to Check Heaters

LANSING (AP)—Hunters who will use trailers during the upcoming seasons were cautioned today to make sure their heaters are of safe construction.

* * *

Carbon monoxide fumes from faulty heaters killed nine hunters last year and hospitalized four others. Improper designing and construction was blamed.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, advised hunters to check whether gas heaters were equipped with an automatic shutoff control and adequate vent stacks.

Air intake for combustion should be supplied through openings to the outside, he added.

Memphis State Quarterback Honored by AP

MEMPHIS (AP) — A slender quarterback who would rather be lousy in victory than magnificent in defeat — that's James Earl Wright, The Associated Press back of the week.

* * *

"Not that we don't appreciate the kind words," said Wright, after drawing the national pat on the back. "It is an honor to me and to the team. But wouldn't it have been a blast if we had beat old No. 1."

* * *

Old "No. 1" was mighty Mississippi. Wright led the Memphis State Tigers in an uproarious encounter that nearly did upset Ole Miss, which was atop the AP poll at the time.

Clarkston Dog Wins Best-in-Show Honors

Gay Gypsy of Park Lane, a 15-inch female beagle, was judged best-in-show at the Tri-County Dog Breeders Association all breed and all age match Sunday in Ann Arbor.

One Stands Mute Here

2 Plead Guilty to Break-In

Two of three accused burglars yesterday pleaded guilty in Circuit Court to breaking and entering, while their companion stood mute to the charge.

Judge William J. Beer set sentencing on Oct. 17 for Daniel Cooper, 25, of 575 Calgary St. and Stanley L. Durnen, 20, of 4735 Elizabeth Lake Road.

Robert A. Putnam, 25, of 224 W. Brooklyn St., had a plea of innocent entered for him by the judge when he stood mute. His trial was scheduled for sometime during the jury term beginning today. Putnam is in jail, too.

When arrested he implicated Cooper and Putnam in what police say are some 13 break-ins in the Pontiac area.

HER HUBBY'S BACK — Mrs. Juanita Law Sanderson, 27, poses Tuesday with her soldier husband whom she said she thought died two years ago. The woman said the Army notified her Dec. 17, 1958, that her husband Jarvis L. Sanderson, died at Ft. Lewis, Wash. She said the Army shipped a body home to Cartersville, Ga., which thought to be her husband's. The casket was not opened before the interment, she said. Army sources failed to confirm the story. The man said he had suffered a bump on his head and had amnesia during this period.

He May Be in for Surprise

K Confident New President Will Meet Him at Summit

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev appears to believe the next United States president will swiftly agree to meet with him at a brand new Big Four summit conference on world problems.

NO CHANGE

A British spokesman said afterward "there has been virtually no change" in the rival Khrushchev-Macmillan views about how to crack the East-West disarmament deadlock.

★ ★ ★

But Khrushchev surprisingly termed the results "very productive." Tuesday night, at a gala reception he gave for 400 top diplomatic guests, he repeated this view.

The Soviet leader, chatting with newsmen, pointed to an oil painting on the wall which showed an ice-choked river melting under a warm springtime sun.

BRITISH VIEW

Macmillan told him, he said, that the painting represents Britain's views about the future of Western-Soviet relations.

Khrushchev, as well as Macmillan, may be due for a surprise in the attitude of the next American president toward a summit parley. Neither Vice President Richard M. Nixon or Sen. John F. Kennedy—in campaign talk — has given any sign he would rush to a summit meeting.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev's bitter anti-Western offensive at the United Nations might make them even more reluctant to sit down with Khrushchev without advance signs that such talks would be productive.

Electric Autolite Quits Grant Advertising Co.

DETROIT (UPI)—Grant Advertising Agency, Inc., has lost the Electric Autolite Co. account to Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, Inc., the second major account in Detroit to leave Grant.

Earlier this year Grant lost the Dodge car account, also to BBD&O.

Autolite billings were just under $3 million last year and Grant handled most of the advertising.

Democrats Plan to Investigate Nixon's Veracity

NEW YORK (AP)—A new version of the Republicans' "truth squad" has been announced by the Democrats. They call it "the lie detector squad."

★ ★ ★

Four attorneys will trail Vice President Richard M. Nixon when he campaigns around New York today "to see that he sticks to the truth," the Democrats said.

Anthony Akers, executive chairman of New York Citizens for Kennedy and Johnson, said the "new Nixon" is rapidly descending to the level of the "old Nixon" and "for this reason we must be doubly alert to his use of the lie, the half truth and the use of innuendo."

Waterford Optimists Looking for Members

The Waterford Optimist Club is in the process of a large-scale membership drive to interest Waterford Township men in joining the group.

Two teams, captained by Merle Malone and Edward Kuhn, are campaigning against each other. The winning team will be hosted by the losers, who will have to prepare and serve a dinner.

The Optimists meet every first and third Tuesday of the month at 7:30 p.m. at the Old Mill Tavern.

The group's major project now in operation is developing the youth park on Elizabeth Lake Road near Crescent Lake Road.

Bootleg Pep Pills Are Big Business

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bootlegging pep pills is a multimillion dollar business today, says a Federal Food and Drug Administration official.

Maurice P. Kerr, FFDA director for the San Francisco district, told the Consumer Concerns Clinic Tuesday enough of the so-called stay-awake pills are manufactured annually to keep every man, woman and child awake for a week or more.

Red Patrols Guard 'Round the Clock

Guns, Barbed Wire Divide Berlin

★ ★ ★

The inter-city border between West and East Berlin gets most of the publicity, but the Cold War is just as relentless along the 60-mile outer perimeter where the Western half of the city meets East Germany.

There is no Brandenburg Gate here — only electrified fences and hidden gun emplacements.

West Berlin's outer border runs through sparsely-populated villages through parks and woodlands, along roads and open fields.

Wherever it goes there are stone markers six feet high, and along most of it the Communists have erected an eight-foot barbed wire fence.

"Where there is no fence, there's usually a machinegun bunker and a watch tower hidden away in the trees," a West Berlin border guard told a UPI reporter.

"Down the road," he said, "they built a tower next to a house. It looks like a chimney until you look close and see the gun slits."

Another West German guard, his rifle slung over his shoulder, stood near a road gate. On the other side of the barrier the road disappeared beneath grass and bushes.

They moved the road so they wouldn't have to drive in sight of the border with their military supplies," he said.

The guard said the eight-foot fence in this area was not electrified, but in some areas it carries a charge strong enough to kill.

The road to the Staaken Railway Station straddles the border and stone posts are placed in the middle of the road to mark it. West Berlin cars traveling in either direction hug the West Berlin side of the road. The East German side is used only by police patrols.

Staaken is a village suburb cut down the middle by the East German-West Berlin border and a six-foot barbed wire fence.

The sections are separated by a wall and each has its own ticket window. Each also has a stairway to opposite sides of the border road.

One West German border guard said Western guards formerly were on good terms with the East-German guards.

"We were all Berliners and we used to say good morning and exchange cigarettes," he said. "Now they import young Saxons who are convinced that white is black."

Special Money to Fight Beetles

State Department Finds Funds to Battle Trouble in South Area

LANSING (AP) — The State Agriculture Commission says it will proceed with an emergency program to fight a Japanese beetle invasion of Southeastern Michigan.

The commission voted Monday to use part of the Agriculture Department's yearly appropriation from the legislature, after being refused emergency funds by the "little legislature" to pay the state's share of a $154,000 program.

George S. McIntyre, state agriculture director, said planes would drop chemical pellets over 46,000 acres of infested farms and forests "as soon as possible." The starting date, however, will depend on the weather, availability of materials and other factors, he said.

The federal government will pay half the cost of the program. The state will pay $70,509; the cities of Detroit and Melvindale will pay about $7,000 for materials.

The beetle infestation, if left unchecked, could easily spread over 500,000 acres next year, McIntyre said, doing extensive damage to fruits and vegetables.

The state could suffer further damage if other states set up quarantines against Michigan-grown products, he said.

★ ★ ★

The little legislature, officially known as the emergency appropriations committee, refused the Agriculture Commission's request last week for special funds to wipe out the beetle in Monroe, Lenawee and Monroe counties.

Its 11-5 favorable vote fell two short of the minimum required for approval.

Mayor of Grand Haven Takes Job in Detroit

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Mayor Howard Zuidema, 37, has announced his resignation effective Nov. 14 to accept a position with his employer in Detroit. He is in his second one-year term as mayor and has been a city council member since 1957.

Zuidema currently is employed as a Michigan Bell Telephone Co. plant staff supervisor in Grand Haven and is moving to the firm's accounting department in Detroit.

Mayor Pro Tem Glenn Eaton, a manufacturing plant manager, succeeds Zuidema under the new city charter and the council must appoint a successor for Eaton's council seat within 30 days.

Founder of Lear Gets Decoration for Invention

PARIS (AP) — William Power Lear, American aviation technician, received Monday the official Great Silver Medal of Paris from Julien Tardieu, chairman of the Paris Municipal Council in a ceremony in the Paris City Hall.

Lear, who is credited with the invention of the automatic pilot, was accompanied at the ceremony by his wife and their four children.

Tardieu, unofficially known as the mayor of Paris, paid tribute to Lear's contribution to aerial safety, and pointed out that a late version of his invention is used on the French-built Caravelle twin-jet craft.

Lear is founder and chairman of the board of Lear, Inc. His company has headquarters at Santa Monica, Calif., and plants in Grand Rapids, Mich., and Elyria, Ohio.

Blaze Caused by Negligence?

Chief White Suspects Careless Cigarette Use in $65,000 Fire

Negligence was believed today to have caused a $65,000 fire that gutted the Earl Schieb Auto Painting Shop, formerly Cy Owens Ford Dealer showroom and garage at 147 S. Saginaw St., Monday night.

Referring to the paint shop blaze, which had a short but violent duration, Fire Chief James R. White, said, "I think it was caused by negligence, possibly a carelessly disposed cigarette."

★ ★ ★

He and Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz conducted a thorough investigation of the charred interior yesterday.

The fire obviously started in a pile of waste paper and used masking tape which had accumulated next to a wooden partition, Chief White said.

Flames from the refuse pile climbed up the partitions to the rafters where they burned through the roof, he added.

At first it was believed the blaze had started in a storage room containing paint and paint thinner. Yesterday's investigation discounted this.

Chief White estimated damage to the block-long, two-story brick building at $40,000. An additional $25,000 was added to that figure as a result of damage to 15 cars parked inside the shop.

City fire officials credited the fast work of firemen with preventing the blaze from spreading to nearby buildings.

Soybean Futures Up a Cent a Bushel

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures advanced around a cent a bushel in early dealings on the board of trade today but the grains showed little tendency to move from previous levels.

Higher prices for soybeans at the opening caused some stop-loss buying and the January contract moved up a cent from Tuesday's closing.

Other contracts also advanced about a cent in early transaction.

Action in soybeans was based principally on the belief that a private forecast to be issued today would show a smaller production of beans this year than was forecast by the government a month ago.

Transactions in wheat were at a minimum with prices holding around Tuesday's closes. The only apparent buying was by some local traders. There was a small amount of selling by commission houses.

Corn, oats and rye also stayed around previous levels.

Stocks Stumble Into Rough Day

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market entered its third straight daily decline early this afternoon. Trading was light.

★ ★ ★

Small losses were the general rule for most key stocks. A number were unchanged and there was a scattering of gains.

Sharp losses were taken by Eastern Airlines, one of whose planes crashed Tuesday, and by Lockheed, manufacturer of the Electra turboprop involved in the disaster.

Business news and statements regarding the economy continued depressing. The start of World Series baseball this afternoon was calculated to cut down volume as usual.

Lockheed, swamped by sellers, opened late on a big block of 17,000 shares, falling 3½ to 21¼. In later deals it pared about a point from the loss. Eastern Airlines fell 1½ to 24 on an opener of 3,500 shares and deepened the loss to more than 2 points as the session wore on.

★ ★ ★

Polaroid was clipped for a loss of about 4. Zenith and Texas Instruments dropped more than a point each.

Universal Match was no better than steady after raising the dividend. General Electric received a big Air Force contract and the stock was up a fraction.

Eastman Kodak was off more than a point. Chesapeake & Ohio fell 1¼ to 55¼ on a 5,500-share transaction. Southern Railway picked up about a point.

★ ★ ★

American Airlines and Pan American World Airways lost fractions. A big brokerage house revised its rating on airline stocks from "relatively favorable" to "average."

Gordon Signs to Manage A's

Ends Speculation by Inking Two-Year Pact With Kansas City

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Joe Gordon today signed a two-year contract to manage the Kansas City Athletics.

Gordon, 45, in a surprise move, quit the Detroit Tigers Monday after an unprecedented managerial swap which had sent him from Cleveland to Detroit last summer in exchange for Mgr. Jimmy Dykes.

★ ★ ★

The former second baseman of the New York Yankees and Indians agreed to terms after a half-hour conference with Parke Carroll, general manager of the Kansas City club.

"Everthing is fine, I feel we can do a good job in Kansas City," Gordon said. "We have a lot of young fellows, and that's what I like.

HE'S NOT TALKING

"I have two or three things in mind, but I cannot say what they are right now."

Gordon said he would select his coaches within a week or two. One who is certain to be with him is JoJo White, who had been his coach first with Cleveland and then with Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The A's drew about 750,000 in attendance, about 100,000 under the goal they had set. Several groups reportedly have been interested in buying the franchise. There have been reports that it would be transferred to Los Angeles. The present franchise to continue in Kansas City still has two years to run.

REED CITY (AP) — Nicodemus Konorski, 85, of Luther died in a hospital here Tuesday night of injuries suffered earlier in the day when he was run over by a wagon loaded with corn about three miles northwest of Luther.

Pontiac City Affairs

Okay Report of Progress in Renewal

City commissioners last night authorized a report to the Housing and Home Finance Agency, indicating general progress this year in connection with the urban renewal program.

Called a "workable program," the report is to be turned in each year during the five-year renewal effort. Last night's report was prepared by Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and urban renewal coordinator.

It cited these accomplishments outside of the urban renewal project itself:

—Revamping of three city codes, covering housing, plumbing and electricity; completion of the downtown Barton traffic study and the six-year capital improvement budget; work in the planning division on a land use plan.

—Expansion of the planning division; hiring of an assistant urban renewal coordinator and two staff planners; preparation of a relocation plan and application for Federal Housing Administration relocation assistance; cooperation with the Pontiac Board of Realtors.

—Activity by the Downtown Pontiac Association, Civic Improvement Advisory Committee and the Mayor's Committee on Downtown Redevelopment.

—Planning for next year's Centennial observance which will dramatize Pontiac as a forward-looking city.

Stierer explained that the federal government wanted assurance that the city is taking steps on its own, in addition to the areas in which federal aid is involved.

Public opposition last night resulted in the dropping of the proposal for curbs and gutters on Fuller Street, Madison to Beverly, and a two-week delay in a hearing on plans for curbs and gutters on Cameron Avenue, Baltimore to Mt. Clemens.

There were no objections at hearings on plans for curbs and gutters on Melrose Street, Madison to Perry, and South Jessie Street, Prospect to Raeburn. Nor were there objections to plans for sidewalks on the north side of Willard Street and the west side of Jessie Street.

Hearings also were held on assessment rolls for proposed sidewalks on the northwest side of Mill Street and on both sides of Ditmar Street. There were no objections.

★ ★ ★

Scheduled for Tuesday is a hearing on the special assessment roll for a sidewalk on the west side of Jessie Street and curbs and gutters on Stirling Avenue, Mt. Clemens to Madison.

CONSIDER REZONING

Referred to the Planning Commission was a proposal to rezone from residential to commercial the southwestern corner of East Boulevard and Victory Drive.

A water main on the north side of Kennett Road, Stanley to Carlisle, was declared a public necessity and cost estimates were authorized for a sanitary sewer on Bloomfield Avenue, Luther to California.

Approved was tranfer of the SDM license at 829 Baldwin Ave. from Don Deni to John W. Caples.

A report will be ready in two weeks from Marvin Alward, finance director, on the cost of reinstating life insurance policies for retired city employes.

Adam Kemple, 124 E. Howard St., retired police officer, asked the commission to consider reinstating his policy in full, dating from his 1952 retirement after 26 years service.

On retirement, the policy was trimmed from $5,000 to $2,500, Kemple said.

End 5-Day Lakes Strike —Expect Shipping Today

MONTREAL (AP) — More than 100 Great Lakes ships were expected to start moving again today following settlement Tuesday night of a five-day strike by the Seafarers' International Union (SIU).

The strike was called against the N. M. Paterson and Sons, Ltd., shipping line. Four other lines in the Lakes Carriers Association had ordered their fleets tied up to counter the Union action.

The SIU and the carriers association signed a retroactive two-year contract providing wage increases and a reduction in the work week.

Suggests Prices for '61 Mercury

Costs Set Lower for Meteor and Monterey, Claims Division

DETROIT (AP)—The Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co. today announced suggested list prices for its 1961 Mercury lines.

Ben D. Mills, division general manager, said the "suggested list prices have been reduced substantially.

"The suggested prices of the 1961 Mercurys start at $2,201 for the Meteor 600 two-door sedan with six-cylinder engine. This is $188 below the lowest priced 1960 Mercury. The suggested price of the Meteor 600 four-door sedan is $2,251, which is $231 below the lowest priced 1960 Mercury four-door sedan."

The suggested Monterey prices start at $2,622 for the four-door sedan with V-8 engine, $2,628 for the two-door hardtop, $2,688 for the four-door hardtop and $2,860 for the convertible.

Monterey 1960 prices ranged from $2,389 for the two-door sedan to $2,805 for the convertible.

The new Mercurys go on sale Thursday. The suggested list prices do not include handling costs and taxes.

Rejects More Money for Ex-Chief Straley

In a 4-3 vote, the City Commission last night turned down the bid for $1,500 in additional separation pay for former Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

Straley supporters argued to no avail that there was a "moral obligation" involved, that the commission had the legal right "to bend" personnel rules in Straley's behalf, that present Straley litigation against the city had no bearing on the request.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston and Commissioners John A. Dugan, Wesley J. Wood and William H. Taylor Jr. — the anti-Straley majority — voted against the pay request, claimed for 48 vacation days that Straley says he never took.

Taylor and Dugan stated flatly that they would never consider the request as long as there is pending before the State Supreme Court the appeal by which Henry and Landry hope to see Straley reinstated in the job from which he was fired last June.

Rowston said he wouldn't "bend" personnel rules, which state that discharged employes can claim compensation for no more than 30 accumulated vacation days.

Straley—who claimed he never took more than two weeks off during his eight years as police chief —had asked for compensation for a total 78 accumulated vacation days. He was paid for 30 when fired.

He had also asked for compensation for 181 days off that he had coming during the eight years, but had worked instead; and for 44 accumulated sick days.

He was turned down on these, also, because of personnel rules.

Marvin Alward, finance director, denied Landry's assertion that had Straley not been fired, he could have left office this month, using up compensatory time off until retirement next year.

Alward said that Straley would have had to stay on the job for 10 full years before eligibility for retirement. That means he would have had to stay through next year.

The commission split 4-3 in two other votes.

One was to endorse City Manager Walter K. Willman's recommendation not to pay the $1,500, which passed; the other was to end debate after Landry and Taylor clashed.

Soviets Reject N-Testing Delay

Says U.S. Plan for 27 Months Moratorium Is 'Insufficient'

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union today rebuffed the latest United States proposal for a maximum 27-month moratorium on small underground nuclear tests.

It told the nuclear test ban conference the U.S. plan was "insufficient."

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin did not, however, reject the U.S. position outright and refuse to negotiate on it further.

U.S. Delegate Charles C. Stelle had made the proposal at the resumption of the talks Sept. 27 after a five-week recess.

The proposal called for a maximum 27-month moratorium on small underground tests. It provided for a two-year research program to run concurrently with the moratorium to perfect monitoring devices for the small tests.

Tsarapkin said, however, the two-year research program was "insufficient" to perfect the needed monitoring devices.

Brigitte Walks With 1st Mate

SAINT-TROPEZ, France (UPI) —Brigitte Bardot, who tried to commit suicide a week ago, walked arm-in-arm Tuesday with her first husband Roger Vadim through the streets of this Riviera fishing village.

The French film beauty appeared happy as she strolled with Vadim, the man who directed her in the sexy movie "And God Created Woman," which catapulted both to fame and fortune.

Brigitte came to her villa here to take an "isolation rest cure" prescribed by her doctors and her parents. Also visiting at the villa with Vadim were French Movie producer Francis Cosne and Brigitte's friend Mercedes Simon at whose villa Miss Bardot tried to take her life.

Blood Bank Drive Termed a Success

A drive to resupply the depleted resources of the American Red Cross blood bank in Rochester yesterday was termed a success, falling only six pints short of the 200-pint goal.

Mrs. Russell W. Nowels, chairman of the Rochester unit of the American Red Cross, reported that 246 donors showed up to give blood and 194 pints were accepted.

Of the 194 donors accepted, 121 were giving blood for the first time. The supply of the Rochester Blood Bank had run out and yesterday's donations helped to restock it.

Donors gave blood at the American Red Cross bloodmobile which was parked near St. Andrews Catholic Church. The mobile unit was making its last visit of the year to the area.

McShane Loses Round to Hoffa

U.S. Court Restrains Former FBI Agent From Taking Over Monitors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa today won a round in his battle to keep Terence F. McShane, a former FBI agent, from serving as chairman of the board of monitors over the Union.

★ ★ ★

Dividing 2-1, the U.S. Court of Appeals directed that McShane be "restrained from further performance of his duties . . . pending further order of this court."

This amounted to saying that McShane may not serve while the court is considering contentions by Hoffa that McShane is biased against him.

U.S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts, overruling objections from Hoffa, swore in McShane Sept. 26 as chairman of the court-appointed monitors. Hoffa immediately took the case to the Court of Appeals.

The three-member board of monitors was established under a 1958 compromise settlement of litigation, brought by a group of union members, seeking to bar Hoffa from taking the presidency of the Union. The suit contended Hoffa's election was rigged.

★ ★ ★

The monitors have the duty of checking on operations of the Union.

Wall Street Chatter

Take Tax Loss Early; Salvage Maximum Price

NEW YORK (UPI)—The investor who does his tax selling early will, in all likelihood, create an opportunity to salvage the maximum advantage from an unfortunate situation, according to E. F. Hutton & Co.

★ ★ ★

By taking his tax loss ahead of the pack, he has a chance of realizing a price for a "worry" stock that will be above the lows for the year, Hutton advises.

There is also the possibility that many stocks with reasonably good intermediate prospects will be forced down to unrealistic levels in the crush to establish tax losses.

Therefore, there will be opportunities to buy such shares when they are most depressed, just prior to the rebounding when the artificial selling pressures are removed, Hutton says.

The Fitch Survey has a liking for the producers of business forms including American Business Systems, Lewis Business Forms, Moore Corp., and Standard Register.

Spear & Staff, Inc., says it would not buy heavily until there is evidence that a firm base of support has been established. The firm believes there will be a throughly mixed earnings picture coming up for the third quarter, with the probability of a moderate decline in the industrial net.

J. W. Sparks & Co. favors Boeing Airplane as a candidate for trading purposes. The issue has held up exceptionally well in a falling market, Sparks says.

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. feels that stock positions should be pared on rallies because sooner or later there will be a test of the recent lows.

Bees Sting Boy of Nine Dozen Times

James Brissette, 4566 Major St., was waiting for a school bus at the corner of Sashabaw and Myers roads at 9 a.m. when he accidentally stepped into a hole near the highway.

As he pulled his foot out, hundreds of bees swarmed all over the youngster who ran screaming back to his home a block away.

As he ran into the house his mother called township police and then fought off the bees that filled the house.

Most of the bees had been killed when police arrived. James was taken to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment.

He had been stung about a dozen times on his legs, neck and arms.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dolphis Brissette.

Family of Five Routed by Blaze in Avon Twp.

AVON TOWNSHIP—A family of five was evacuated from a home at 3525 Bendelow St. early today while firemen doused a blaze believed caused by a faulty gas furnace connection.

Brooklands Fire Chief William Foree estimated damage at $1,000. He said most of the damage was confined to a furnace room where flames destroyed rafters supporting the roof of the home.

Taken out of the house at 2 a.m. were Mr. and Mrs. Emile Sylvain and three children, Joyce, 16, Eunice, 11, and Dennis, 4. Foree reported that the fire department had the fire under control within an hour.

He said a newly installed gas furnace apparently had not been properly connected.

Five-Year Record Ends With Woman's Death

MARSHALL (AP)— A bus-pedestrian accident late Tuesday marked the first traffic fatality in the City of Marshall since Jan. 21, 1955.

Police identified the victim as Mrs. Grace Grant, about 70. They said she apparently stepped unexpectedly into the path of a (Short Way Lines) bus driven by Ralph W. Clark of Fort Wayne, Ind. The woman lived alone and had no relatives at Marshall, police said.

Takes Cue From March

September Began in Fury

We'll remember September weather a long time.

Just 15 hours after the month began, the mercury was at 94 degrees—the highest of the year.

Then it plummeted to 68 in 20 minutes.

The hot, humid afternoon—ideal weather for tornadoes, the Weather Bureau had warned—was transfigured by 60-mile-an-hour winds that swept all the way from Cadillac.

★ ★ ★

Hundreds of trees were toppled, utility wires were whipped into spaghetti, six persons were injured by falling branches and an inch of wind-lashed rain fell.

Although no tornadoes appeared, there were several local whirlwinds of near-tornado force.

That was Sept. 1.

The sun came out late that afternoon and six days later had warmed things up to 94 again. That was the high Sept. 7 and Sept. 8.

It never reached 95.

In fact, Sept. 8 was the end of summer, in a sense, because the mercury began sliding down that night and never did reach 90 again.

Golden September had already been wrapped in rain, cloudiness and fog for four days by the time autumn slipped in officially Sept. 23. Appropriately, it was misty that morning.

Yet September was golden, at least two-thirds of the time. There were 20 days of sunshine or partial sunshine, six that were cloudy or partially cloudy and four that were rainy. Total rainfall was 1.4 inches, far below the average 2.84 inches for the month.

The nights turned chilly in September. The coldest was 41 early Sept. 14. There was frost on one's breath that morning.

The average high temperature in September was 77.3. The average low 56.76.

Average temperature for the month as a whole was 67.03 degrees, way above the normal for the month, 63.5 degrees.

Williams Rips Constitution

Calls on Voters to Clear Way for Referendum on Revision Convention

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today ripped Michigan's 52-year-old constitution up one side and down the other and called on voters to clear the way for a referendum on a convention to rewrite it.

Williams, in an address prepared for radio broadcasts around the state, variously described the state's basic charter as "sloppy," "frumpy and bulging" and full of "absurdities."

The governor came out for sweeping constitutional reform early this year but he has soft-pedaled his drive for a new constitution since the Democratic State Convention took a neutral stand on the issue at its August convention.

Today's call for a constitutional convention fulfilled his pledge to work for adoption of a proposal that will go before the voters in the Nov. 8 election.

★ ★ ★

In so doing, the governor went down the opposite road from Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, Democratic nominee for governor, who has campaigned against the convention method of revision.

"The constitution of Michigan contains a patchwork of provisions no longer having any force or effect," Williams said.

The 21,000-word document, he said, is more than twice as bulky as the U.S. Constitution and hamstrings the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government.

New Rambler American Is Shorter, Narrower

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors has completely restyled the 100 inch wheelbase Rambler American for 1961 for the first time since it was originally introduced in 1950.

Overall length has been cut to 5.2 inches and overall width has been trimmed 3 inches. Interior dimensions remain the same. However, American Motors says usable trunk space has been increased 50 per cent, to 23.8 cubic feet.

The American comes in three series, Super, Delcxe and Custom. A 125 horsepower overhead valve six cylinder engine is standard on the custom and optional on the other two series. Standard on the Super and Deluxe is the old 90 horsepower L-head six engine.

All three series use American Motors new ceramic coated exhaust system which is guaranteed to last as long as the original buyer keeps the car.

★ ★ ★

For the first time American will be available in a four door station wagon model. A convertible, also a first, will be offered about Jan. 1.

The Afercans go on salet Oct. Oct. 12.

Police Hunting Well-Fed Thieves After Break-In

Pontiac state police were looking for a gang of well-fed thieves who might be suffering from stomach aches and big hangovers today.

A break-in at the Jolly Ollie Bar at 7504 Dixie Highway, Independence Township, netted the culprits nine sirloin steaks, three cases of beer, several bottle of wine, cigars, candy bars and nuts.

They also smashed open a cigarette machine and juke box, taking an unknown amount of change.

Entry had been gained by forcing a side door.

British Labor Slaps Leader

Favors Nation Refusing to Stockpile Nuclear Armaments

SCARBOROUGH, England (UPI)—Labor Party leader Hugh Gaitskell suffered a major policy defeat at the party's annual conference today when delegates voted in favor of Britain eliminating all nuclear armaments.

The Amalgamated Engineering Union's nuclear disarmament motion carried by 3,303,000 votes to 2,896,000. The votes were cast by delegates who carried the proxies of the entire membership.

The motion, which Gaitskell fought against in vain, "demands the unilateral renunciation of the testing, manufacturing, stockpiling and basing of all nuclear weapons" by Britain.

Didn't Authorize Raid—Straley

Sued by Defendant, He Says He Was Police Chief in Name Only

Former Police Chief Herbert W. Straley testified in Circuit Court yesterday that he was chief "in name only" when vice squad officers raided an alleged numbers ring nearly two years ago.

If he had had the authority then, Straley said, he wouldn't have pulled off the raid at the time, because sufficient evidence "wasn't prepared yet." But he said the case was "taken out of my hands" by then-Public Safety Director George D. Eastman, his arch-foe who replaced him.

Straley, Eastman, and former vice squad officer Richard G. Evans, now with the Phoenix, Ariz., police department, are being sued for $250,000 by Wilson Magby, 34, one of 65 persons nabbed in the Dec. 5, 1958, raids. He was then employed in a Pontiac factory.

He charges malicious prosecution and said "his character has become one of a questionable nature" after his arrest.

Only 11 of those arrested, however, were convicted, and not on the original conspiracy to violate state gambling laws, but on reduced loitering charges. The charges against Magby were dismissed.

★ ★ ★

Eastman, now an assistant professor of police administration at Michigan State University, was expected to testify in the case before the 11-woman, one-man jury and Judge H. Russel Holland today.

Eastman had stripped Straley of his command duties one month before the raid.

Ike Watches Series on White House TV

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House television sets were turned to the World Series today as President Eisenhower arranged to see the opener between the New York Yankees and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

There still has been no official word as to whether the president plans to attend any series games in person.

Four Teens Get Terms of 65 Years in Rapes

CHICAGO (AP)—Five teen-age gang members who pleaded guilty to raping two pregnant women in Lincoln Park have received prison terms extending into the next century.

★ ★ ★

Judge Daniel A. Covelli of Criminal Court sentenced four of the boys Tuesday to two concurrent terms of 65 years and a fifth to terms of 60 to 65 years.

The Negro youths admitted attacking two married couples and their children returning from a lake front picnic early in the evening of July 26.

The children of one couple stood by, weeping, as the husbands were beaten senseless with baseball bats and the women raped. The women, both white, are 23 and 28.

Top Republicans Kick In for Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has contributed $500 to the campaign fund of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Other members of the Cabinet and government gave donations of $3,000 or more. The total contributions from the President and other officials, including two ambassadors, was nearly $10,000.

Records also showed contributions of $3,000 each from four members of the Ford family — Henry, William, Benson and an "Edsel Ford," believed to be Mrs. Edsel Ford, mother of the three brothers.

The President's gift to the Republican nominee's fund was made more than a month ago to the Volunteers for Nixon organization.

The donations came to light in an examination of receipts made out by the Nixon committee between March 27 and Sept. 9, which have been filed with the clerk of the House.

One of the largest gifts from a government official to Nixon's campaign was $3,200 from Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare. Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon contributed $3,000.

John Hay Whitney, United States Ambassador to Great Britain, kicked in $1,000. The U.S. Ambassador to Paraguay, Henry F. Stimpson Jr. gave $1,000. Deputy Postmaster General John M. McKibbin contributed $500.

★ ★ ★

Henry Luce, publisher of Time and Life, was registered as having contributed $3,000. Midwestern publishers Gardner and John Cowles each gave $1,000.

★ ★ ★

Other contributions included $1,000 from Former Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and $500 from Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, the former NATO commander who now heads the Red Cross.

★ ★ ★

Altogether, the Volunteers for Nixon organization reported collecting $246,159.95 between March 28 and Sept. 9. During that same time, the volunteers said, they spent $135,347.63.

Dem Club Hopes Gov. Williams to Be at Party

Members of the Pontiac Township Democratic Club are keeping their fingers crossed that Gov. G. Mennen Williams will be able to squeeze in a visit—and possibly a square dance or two—at their registration party Saturday night.

Williams is making a whirlwind tour of the state this week on behalf of Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson and his Democratic team. If time permits he will stop off at the club's get-together, 2567 Lapeer Road.

Not only will Democrats and their friends attending the affair be able to enjoy a barbeque, door prizes, dancing, hear candidates speak, but they—if they are unregistered—will be able to register. The deadline is Monday.

A deputized registrar from the township will be open for business when the affair starts at 5:30 p.m. But only for township residents, a club spokesman said.

Ex-Sheriff Barnes Arrested 3rd Time

LANSING (UPI) — Former Ingham County Sheriff Willard T. Barnes, 48, Haslett, was arrested early today for drunk driving.

It was the third time. Barnes was arrested on the charge in the last year. He was arrested twice while in office and convicted once. He did not contest the second charge.

Police said Barnes was arrested on a Lansing street after he lost control of his car and drove over a curb.

Barnes resigned as sheriff last spring because of ill health. He now operates a local tavern.

Reporters Want LBJ to Abandon Chartered Electra

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson said today he would consider whether to use an Electra plane in his campaigning as the Democratic vice-presidential nominee.

He was asked by a reporter at a news conference whether he intended to continue using a chartered Electra in his campaign travels.

Reporters traveling with him have expressed concern for safety in view of the Boston crash Tuesday and other mishaps that have beset the Electras.

Johnson said he did not want to do anyone an injustice, in apparent reference to possibly abandoning use of the plane, but he said, "I want to consider your safety."

Johnson, scheduled to leave Thursday by plane for Richmond, Va., said there still was time to consider the matter, and that meanwhile he had not reached a decision.

Khrushchev to Be Guest at Writers' Luncheon

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The U.N. Correspondents Association announced today that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will be its guest at a private luncheon here Friday.

Elector unable to make personal application, procedure — Sec. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence duplicate registration cards, and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths, and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

Unregistered persons not entitled to vote — Sec. 491. The inspectors of election at any primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village therof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote.

Transfer of registration, application, time — Sec. 506. Any registered elector may, upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village, cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request stating his present address, the date he moved thereto and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in the proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made within the 30 days next preceding any election or primary election, unless such thirtieth day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, in which event registration transfers shall be accepted during the next full working day, privided that no such transfer shall permit any person to vote in any Township, City or Village in which he had not resided 30 days next preceding any election or primary election.

Transfer of registration on election day — Sec. 507. Any registered elector who has removed from 1 election precinct of a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village shall have the right to make application to have his registration transferred on any election or primary election day by executing a request over his or her signature for such transfer and presenting the same to the election board in the precinct in which he is registered. Upon receiving such request, the inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and, if the signatures correspond, then the inspector shall certify such fact upon said request and the applicant for transfer shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct for that election only. The application for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall transfer such elector's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street or resident house number in any Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the change to show the proper name of the street or resident house number in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO EXPRESS OUR SINcere appreciation to all our friends and neighbors, for their many acts of kindness, during the recent loss of our beloved husband and father Martin Sullivan. Special thanks to Rev. Watkins and Huntoons Funeral Home. And all my neighbors on East Walton Blvd. Mrs. Martin Sullivan and Family.

WE WISH TO EXTEND OUR heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness to friends neighbors and fellow employees during our recent bereavement in the loss of husband and father, Joseph H. Goulet. Mrs. Joseph Goulet and son Donald.

In Memorium 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF HARRY P. Blaney who passed away October 5, 1959
The shock was sudden the pain severe,
Little I thought that death was so near; My heart still aches with sadness.
My eyes shed many tears;
God knows how much I miss you,
As this ends one sad long year.
—Sadly missed by wife Mary Blaney.

Services Claim Decline Is Here

W. E. Hutton and Co., Others See a Possible Pickup Next Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lucien O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. says some of the privately circulated Washington news services are discovering that the economy is in a mild recession now instead of facing a "possible mild recession" in 1961. "They are trying to guess the end of it, and come up frequently with the second or third quarter of next year."

Breaking the Dow-Jones 600 level from which stocks have rallied three times previously this year, confirms the bear trend that has been questioned since early January, according to the Alexander Hamilton Institute. It is difficult, it notes, to project the ultimate bottom of this decline, although the comparatively favorable action of such groups as the oils indicate the likelihood of consolidation and subsequent recovery from around present levels.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

BENEATH THE LAW'S DIGNITY — While policemen lock hands to hold back striking General Electric workers, a man kneels under them and tosses cardboard stuck with roofing nails in the path of an automobile being driven through the main gate of the River Works plant at Lynn, Mass., Tuesday. Many cars of non-strikers received flat tires.

Public Gets Interesting Count on Crowds at Political Rallies

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Both sides, the Democrats and the Republicans, are up to their old campaign-year tricks of trying to inflate crowd figures. The campaign managers seem to think that a larger crowd in a given city puts their man ahead on points.

Invariably, most of the reporters traveling with a presidential candidate estimate the crowd at a political rally on their own and find their figure far under that of the ranking police official present.

It is old journalistic custom, however, to quote an authority for a political crowd estimate. Thus the public is treated to some rather interesting figures from the police chiefs of America.

When Sen. John F. Kennedy spoke in Detroit on Labor Day, the police estimated his crowd in Cadillac Square at about 50,000 to 55,000 persons.

One Detroit paper did a rather unfair thing: unfair to the campaign year estimator.

The paper took a large photograph blow-up of the crowd, marked it off in equal sections and counted every single person who was visable. The count? Police or not, it was 27,000.

And the story was told of a leading Republican campaign strategist who went to a Notre Dame football game. A friend asked him to estimate the crowd.

"I suppose there are about 50,000 here today," he said, "but if a candidate were speaking, it would be near 200,000."

It is utterly impossible to tell with any degree of accuracy how many people line a parade route of, for example, 10 miles. This reporter with another veteran reporter tried it recently in Cleveland.

We counted the number of blocks —210—and attempted to keep some semblance of accuracy in arriving at a figure for the number of people in each block. We came up with a total figure of 40,000 to 50,000. The police figure—200,000 to 250,000.

Not that anyone will pay the slightest attention to it, but here is a suggesed glossary of crowd figures and what they mean:

"Several hundred"—the candidate fell on his face in this town or it may have been 2 a.m. in a heavy rain.

"A crowd of several thousand"—things are looking better. This means essentially a decent crowd; nothing to complain about; nothing to cheer about.

"Thousands upon thousands lined the streets"—the candidate is doing much better. In fact, this may be the best day he's had all week.

"Thousands of sign-waving, cheering enthusiasts lined the route"—this means a good organization job by the local party officials and quite seriously, it bodes well for the candidate because the same officials probably will get out and work on election day.

"The 12,000-seat auditorium was filled nearly to capacity."—someone will hear about this. Those empty seats always show up in pictures and make it look as if the candidate had a floop-eroo.

"The 12,000-seat auditorium was jammed to the rafters with hundreds outside fighting to get in"—that's more like it. Remember to send the county chairman a fine letter.

"A clamoring multitude choked every throughfare leading to the field" — Mister, you've turned to the sports section. Get back to the front page and read how Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon on occasion attract a crowd twice the size of the population of the town where they're speaking, according to the police chief.

Dems Approve Lifting Red Ban at Wayne State

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan's Young Democrats have endorsed Wayne State University's recent lifting of a 10-year ban on Communist speakers at its campus.

★ ★ ★

The organization's governing body approved its State Central Committee's decision in light of "provisions in both the young and senior Democratic platforms condemning the remaining vestiges of McCarthyism in the nation."

The full understanding of communism can be achieved only through education," the committe said.

The organization also commended the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission on its "rule 9" adoption which prohibits discrimination by realators "on the basis of race, creed, or religion" in the sale and purchase of real estate.

Supply Depot Gutted

ISKENDERUN, Turkey (AP)—Firefighters today appeared to have controlled a blaze that gutted a huge U. S. military supply depot in this port city in southeastern Turkey. Damage was estimated at $400,000 to $500,000.

HE'S FULL OF BUGS — Tim Kendrick, 21 months old, sits with his mother Monday after he ate his brother's collection of dried bugs which were to have been submitted as a school project. Mrs. John Kendrick's other son Clifton had spent more than a month assembling the collection—which Milwaukee Public Museum is replacing—if small brother Tim doesn't get to the mailed package first. Tim and his parents lige in Park Forest, Ill., about 40 miles south of Chicago.

Best of Paar's Show Was Hope's Lost Gags

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Jack Paar performed a public service last night. He ran off the Bob Hope monologue that was silenced by audio troubles Monday night.

The gags in the monologue were among Hope's best. They would have been the best thing in the show. As it was, they were the best thing in Paar's show.

Old man Rivak, he just keeps dragging along.

NBC-TV's costly, made-in-Italy answer to "Ben-Hur," an hour called, "Rivak, the Barbarian," roaded into view Tuesday night in glorious color—chiefly blood red.

The story dealt with a slave's revenge. Rivak, portrayed by Jack Palance, was enslaved by the Carthaginians.

After his sister committed suicide rather than submit to a Carthaginian sailor, Rivak swore revenge. (Creoda, the sister, said, "Rather than a stain upon our house, goodbye, brother," and flung herself into the ocean.)

The hour was jam-packed with such goodies as pagan orgies, dancing girls doing Debra Paget-type hoofing to bongo accompaniment, fruit-filled bowls, slave whipping, elephant power, ringing steel swords striking men dead, a slow chariot ride, and, of course, sparks of passion as Rivak accepted the smouldering hospitality of Princess Tiratha, played by red-haired Millie Vitale.

Palance seemed to spend most of his time off his feet. He was constantly being dragged around by a squad of slovenly pigs, or Carthaginians, and he snarled and elbowed them and rippled his lips like a wheatfield in a high wind. There was, you see, plenty of action in the hour.

★ ★ ★

It was all of the sledge-hammer variety and proved that TV can turn out old movies. Somehow, I fell that's not what he wants them to turn out.

Our baseball players stirred up some extra interest in the World Series during an uneven, uniformative and yet fast-moving half-hour sports special on ABC-TV Tuesday night.

While Mel Allen admonished Casey Stengel to "Hang in there" or "Stay with 'em," and the Pittsburgh streets echoed to shouts of "Beat 'em bucs," some of the athletes employed less traditional dialogue, baseballwise, in discussing the series.

They spoke of being ready "fieldingwise" and "pitchingwise."

The new approach to debasing traditional sports dialogue was also demonstrated when a sports announcer asked Pirate manager Danny Murtagh, "Are you thrilled by the wonder of it all?"

Danny was shook up, reactionwise.

★ ★ ★

I enjoyed the humor of a banner that read, "Stop Yankee aggression." I understand it's on loan from Fidel Castro.

★ ★ ★

Another Western, "Stagecoach West." A full hour, ABC-TV. Premiere Tuesday night. Principals are Simon Kane, a good-looking, virile, clear-eyed, upright former Union Army officer, played by Robert Bray; David Kane, Simon's polite, manly little boy, played by Richard Eyer, and Luke Perry, a good-looking, virile, etc., former Confederate Army officer who drives a stagecoach and is played by Wayne Rogers. They comprise a capable, attractive cast.

Photography, acting and direction were generally effective. Only the plot was anemic.

If they ever get hold of a good script, there is reason to believe this crew will be able to do right by it. If not, the stage will just head West, that's all.

Court Refuses Goldfine Delay

Counsel Says Medics Fear Industrialist Will Attempt Suicide

BOSTON (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals has refused to grant industrialist Bernard Goldfine, 70, a delay of his tax evasion trial because of his physical condition. His counsel said doctors fear a suicide attempt.

Goldfine's trial, which opened Monday in U. S. Dist. Court and was in recess Tuesday during arguments in the Court of Appeals, resumes today before Judge George C. Sweeney.

The appeals court advised defense counsel E. Bennett Williams in a brief opinion handed down late Tuesday that he has a right under the U. S. Criminal Code to petition the trial court for appointment of a psychiatrist.

The textile executive, who became a free man Tuesday after serving a 90-day sentence for contempt of court, is charged with evading nearly $800,000 in taxes.

'CAN'T STAND IT'

The defense counsel told the appeals court Goldfine had spent the past several weeks in the prison hospital of the Federal Correctional Institution at Danbury, Conn., and has been under a 24-hour guard recently to prevent a possible suicide attempt.

★ ★ ★

He said medical reports indicate Goldfine has suffered retarding of his thinking processes and requires close observation for suicidal drives.

The lawyer said 350 witnesses and 10,000 documents would be produced at the trial.

U. S. Atty. Elliot L. Richardson, opposing delay, said the defense petition was "another in a long series of delaying actions."

Chuck Says West Point Officers Too Pompous

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "I resented some West Point officers when I was stationed there," grumbled Chuck Connors, the "Rifleman" of TV, "and I still do!"

WILSON

He mentioned it—glowering across some size 14-D shoes on a chair in front of him—because he's up for a movie about "Red" Blaik which might also go into the exam-cheating expulsions.

"There could be less pompousness and eyewash," added Connors, who was there as a tank gunnery instructor. "I didn't mind the K.P., but I resented having to move an officers' quarters—being a moving man for him while his wife treated me like a dog."

SHERRY

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Laurence Harvey bought a Rolls Royce with his "Alamo" salary; he says it upset people in England, "because over there no one buys a Rolls till he's 60."

Charles Chaplin Jr.'s ex-wife, Susan Magness, will get half the profits of his book, "My Father, Charles Chaplin" . . . Simon and Shuster asked to publish Shelley Berman's comedy monologues . . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The summer must be over, figures a local fellow. His neighbor just returned the ice cubes he borrowed in June.

Television certainly has changed things. Nowadays you get to see what's happening 3,000 miles away, but seldom get to meet the people next door . . . That's earl, brother.

City Automotive Improvement Unit Sets Talk

The Pontiac Automotive Improvement Association will hear Jerome C. Vaverek, a Pontiac engineer, tonight.

The group will hold its weekly meeting at 7:15 in the home of Robert Richmond of 335 Voorheis Road.

Vaverek, an experimental engineer at GMC Truck & Coach Plant, will speak on the topic "Maximizing Performance Through Proper Selection of Drive Line Components."

The club is open to anyone in the area who is interested in automobiles. It was organized several months ago and currently has about 20 members.

Club president is Gary L. Smith of 79 Lincoln St.

"Our three major areas of interest are practical safety in driving habits and equipment, car performance and car appearance he explained.

Other officers are Richard DeBolt, secretary-treasurer, and William J. Keiser, activities chairman.

OAS Studies Moves Against Dominicans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Organization of American States (OAS) has set up a committee to consider economic sanctions against the Dominican regime of Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo.

The action was taken Monday amid reports that the United States, Panama and Honduras had agreed to draft a punitive program against the Trujillo government.

* * *

The new seven-member committee, which has scheduled a meeting for Friday, is an outgrowth of the American foreign ministers' meeting in Costa Rica earlier this year.

The ministers called for a study of possible economic sanctions against the Dominican Republic for Trujillo's alleged role in a plot to assassinate President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela.

Residents of Lookout Mountain in Tennessee commute to nearby Chattanooga by way of cable cars up and down the 2,146-foot mountain.

S-P Chief, Ford VP Elected to Auto Board

DETROIT (UPI) — Robert S. McNamara, vice president of the car and truck group of Ford Motor Co., and Clarence Francis, chairman of the board of Studebaker-Packard Corp. have joined the board of directors of the Automobile Manufacturers association.

* * *

Observers said McNamara's election to the AMA could indicate that he now is second in command at Ford to president Henry Ford II.

McNamara filled a vacancy on the AMA board created when Ernest R. Breech recently resigned after going into "semi-retirement" and resigning as chairman of the board at Ford.

Francis was elected to fill a long-time vacancy on the AMA board.

Jurors Reporting at Circuit Court for Fall Term

Seventy men and women jurors reported to Presiding Circuit Judge William J. Beer Tuesday for the opening of the September jury term of Circuit Court.

They will hear both criminal and civil cases during the four to six weeks they will sit as jurors on a $8-a-day basis.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor said his office will attempt to take care of six cases a day to remove some 160 criminal cases ready for trial. Judges Beer and Stanton G. Dondero will hear the criminal cases.

Civil cases will be heard by Judges H. Russel Holland, Clark J. Adams and Frederick C. Ziem.

Seek Cause of Electra Crash Fatal to 61

Only 11 Survive Worst Boston Plane Mishap

Harbor Eerie Scene of Death as Bodies Bob Up Like Corks

BOSTON (AP) — Investigators probed the wreckage of a four-engine Eastern Airlines transport today as search continued for more victims of New England's worst air crash. Only 11 of the big airliner's 72 occupants survived.

The plane plunged into a narrow harbor bay between Logan Airport and the town of Winthrop just after takeoff last evening.

The huge craft split in two and sank in comparatively shallow water. Most of the passengers were trapped in their seats.

Some of the dead floated to the surface like corks. There was a scene of horror in the setting sun as lifeless bodies strapped to seats drifted toward the muddy shore at low tide.

Lighters lifted the broken plane parts to the surface today, and skin divers resumed the search for possibly 10 more bodies.

There were 51 bodies in the Boston mortuary, 48 of which were identified. All 11 survivors, including the plane's two stewardesses, were in hospitals. Many were in critical condition.

A mysterious "secret document" reported as missing was found floating in debris in a portfolio. State police said it was carried by a representative of the Air Force. It was turned over to the Air Force Office of Special Investigation.

The Electra's plunge was the second crackup involving this type of plane within three weeks and brought demands for an investigation. It also was the first fatal crash of a commercial plane at the airport.

CALLS FOR PROBE

As the Civil Aeronautics Board ordered seven investigators to the scene, Rep. Steven B. Derounian, R-N.Y., called for a congressional inquiry. Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., calling for corrective action by the Federal Aviation Agency, said "structural deficiencies found in this airplane have not been corrected."

But Gen. E. R. Quesada, federal aviation administrator, said sketchy information available did not seem to show any relation between Tuesday's crash and previous accidents involving Electras.

The plane took off from Logan International Airport at 5:45 p.m. bound for Philadelphia, Charlotte, N.C., Greenville, S.C., and Atlanta. It came down about 200 yards offshore.

★ ★ ★

Among the 67 passengers were 15 Marine Corps recruits en route to Parris Island, S.C. Ten of them were among the known dead. At least three others were injured.

"The thing was split wide open,"

$33.5 Million Building Plan Offered to City by Willman

By PETE LOCHBILER

City Manager Walter K. Willman last night submitted to the City Commission a six-year budget for $33.5 million in capital improvements, highlighted by $9.25 million in urban renewal projects and a separate $2.3 million budget for recreation.

Covering everything from new buildings and highways to streets and sidewalks, the 1960-1961 blueprint is the largest ever developed for Pontiac, exceeding the 1953 plan by $9 million.

Projected spending in the plan is based mainly on income from existing capital improvement millage and highway fund diversions, together amounting to $9.45 million for the six-year period; $7 million in anticipated state and federal aid; $9.3 is proposed general obligation bonds; $5.6 million in revenue bonds; and $2.8 in special assessments.

—The $4.5 million civic auditorium, if voters will approve a general obligation issue for it.

—The long-planned $440,000 central fire station, plus northside and southside branches at $125,000 apiece, all on a pay-as-you-go basis.

—Revamping of the water system to handle Detroit water at a cost of $4 million, to be financed by revenue bonds.

—The $3.3 million expansion of the sewage treatment plant, financed by general obligation bonds under court order without a vote of the people.

—The $2.4 million downtown loop highway, five-sixths of the cost to be handled by state and federal aid.

—Tunneling of the Clinton River downtown for flood control and traffic purposes at a cost of $3 million, half the money to be raised by general obligation bonds.

—Airport expansion to the tune of $800,000, of which the federal aid-to-airports program is expected to contribute $500,000.

It gives this tentative schedule to begin financing:

1961 — The main fire hall, sewage treatment plant expansion, realignment of the water system, the concrete plant and the DPW yard.

1962 — The Clinton River tunnel, the northside fire station, the loop highway and the Civic Center parking lots.

1965 — The southside fire hall.

Where bonding is not proposed, funds for the more costly projects will have to be saved over a period of years.

It's estimated the city will be setting aside $500,000 a year, for instance, for the Clinton River tunnel, 1962 through 1965.

The urban renewal projects include the tunnel, the main fire hall, the parking garage and lots, the loop highway, and whatever drains, sewers, sidewalks, water lines, paving and parks go into the project area.

The federal government, crediting the city with portions of these costs, is letting it make up its share in the urban renewal project through them.

This applies to both the $6.2 million residential project that has been approved and the $2,775,000

Arrest Man With Bomb Who Was 'After' Nikita

NEW YORK (AP)—A man who said he "wanted to get" Soviet Premier Khrushchev with a "Molotov cocktail" type fire bomb was arrested early today near the United Nations headquarters.

The man was nabbed by city police as he climbed a wall from the East River Drive into a parking lot just north of the U.N. headquarters.

RICHARD HOGAN

He told police he had been recently interviewed by psychiatrists at Bellevue Hospital, where he had been taken by his parents.

Detectives said Hogan admitted that he had been trying to reach the U.N. building with his homemade bomb because he "wanted to get Khrushchev."

"I was only after Khrushchev, nobody else but him," Hogan told newsmen after his capture.

"He is insulting the United States — making us look like small pepole," he said. "I lost a lot of buddies in Korea."

Police described how the bomb works: The rag is ignited and the bottle thrown. When it breaks the burning gasoline spreads the fire.

This type fire bomb was known as a "Molotov cocktail" during World War II and was used extensively in antitank warfare.

Hogan was unaware that Khrushchev was not at the U.N. building, but at the Soviet headquarters, more than a mile away.

Teachers Delay Strike

JACKSON (AP) — Immediate strike plans have been rejected by Jackson teachers in a salary dispute with the union school board. However, members of the Jackson Teachers Association have indicated they will strike in two months if no progress is made in what the teachers consider pay inequities.

Pleasant Days to Continue With Minor Changes

Autumn's warm, hazy days will continue in the Pontiac area over the weekend with only minor day-to-day changes in temperature. Tonight's low will drop to 52. Thursday's high will reach about 74.

High temperatures for the period will average four to five degrees above the normal high of 66. Little or no rainfall is anticipated throughout the state, the weatherman said.

Morning southerly winds at 10 to 18 m.p.h. will become northwesterly Thursday.

Forty-nine was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The thermometer read 68 at 1 p.m.

2 Probe Firms Clear Chrysler's 36 Top Officials

Dann Terms Reports a Whitewash, Vows to Press Lawsuits Harder

DETROIT (AP) — Two law firms say the 36 top executives of Chrysler Corp. have no outside interests which conflict with their duties to the company.

These men, the lawyers reported Tuesday after three months of investigation, are free of the taint of bribes, kickbacks or secret commissions.

★ ★ ★

The corporation's most vociferous critic, Detroit attorney Sol A. Dann, called the reports a whitewash. He vowed to pursue "even more vigorously" his pending lawsuits against the corporation and many of the men who were the subjects of the reports.

The legal opinions were issued by Chrysler's general counsel—Kelley, Drye, Newhall & Maginnes of New York — and by special counsel—Dewey, Balantine, Bushby, Palmer & Wood. The Dewey in this firm is former New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

The investigation as outlined by the attorneys consisted of four parts and began June 30. That was the day William C. Newberg was ousted as president of Chrysler because he was found to own half interests in two companies which had supplied small parts for Chrysler cars.

PIVOTAL DAY

On that date the board of directors told the Kelley firm to find out what the interests were, if any, of Chrysler personnel in any transactions with the corporation and to take steps to recover any sums which Chrysler might be entitled to as a result of such interests.

Four weeks later the board announced Newberg had agreed to pay Chrysler $450,000 from his profits in the two supplier firms.

In mid-August four board members not associated with management took charge of the investigation and hired Dewey's firm to

4,000 Workers Ready to Begin 12th Campaign

Knudsen Sparks Flame at Oakland, Saginaw; Goal Is $672,500

The traditional torch-lighting ceremony of the Pontiac Area United Fund drive today served as a call to arms of 4,000 volunteer area workers in the 1960 campaign which begins tomorrow.

The 12th annual campaign — symbol of a community's concern for others — runs through Oct. 27. This year's goal is $672,500 to support 52 local, state and national agencies.

★ ★ ★

Semon E. Knudsen, general campaign chairman, this morning pressed the button of the 20-foot high torch at Saginaw Street and Oakland Avenue. It will remain lit throughout the campaign.

Its burning will symbolize the eternal thanks of those helped by UF agencies.

★ ★ ★

Knudsen, in a brief address, said that there was "no magic formula" by which the campaign goal could be realized.

"It will take a lot of hard work," he warned.

"Everyone in this community has an important stake in this project," he said. "I'm confident that the job will be done well."

$61,000 CONTRIBUTED

Helping get the campaign off to a fast start Milo J. Cross, advance gifts chairman, noted that advance contributions have reached $61,000, 71 per cent of the unit's $85,000 goal.

"There's no question, we'll go over our goal," Cross said. "Our quota is 5.3 per cent above last year's, but some contributions are as much as 10 per cent more than in 1959."

Calvin J. Werner, industrial division chairman, told campaign leaders that his division has collected $162,000 of its $286,500 quota from industrial employes.

★ ★ ★

"We're well past the half-way mark in employe contributions but the toughest part of the campaign is ahead of us," Werner said.

He expressed confidence that this year's campaign would be successful in reaching its goal.

The Industrial Division's total quota is $425,561, which includes both employe contributions and plant gifts.

★ ★ ★

John P. Niggeman, Commercial Division chairman, expressed confidence that his reorganized division would produce "startling" results in meeting its $176,515 quota and that the campaign would go "way over the top."

"RESULTS GRATIFYING"

He explained that 21 training sessions were held for volunteer solicitors, beginning in May. "The results have been gratifying," he said.

"We had to start early or the women would get all the contributions. They're like gremlins — everywhere," he quipped.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Roderick Taylor, Women's Division chairman, said her workers, in training since springtime, were "ready to go."

"We'll have our quota ($27,000) in 10 days," she promised.

Bucs Try to Crush Memory

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, striving to wipe out the bitter memory of 1927, called on ace right hander Vern Law to try to give them the jump over the New York Yankees today in the opening game of the 1960 World Series.

★ ★ ★

Casey Stengel, hoping to duplicate what those Yankees did 33 years ago when they swept the Pirates in four straight, countered with Art Ditmar.

"I have faith in the guy," explained the Yankee manager, shooting for his eighth World Series victory in 10 tries.

"After all, he has won the first game of important series for us all season."

RECORDS DON'T MATCH

The Yankees were favored at 11 to 10 in the opener and 7 to 5 for the series.

Like Law, Ditmar is a right hander. But his record is not as impressive as the Pirate hurler, a Mormon who does not drink, smoke or swear.

Law's stock in trade is a fast ball, not too overpowering, with a lot of curves. He has fine control and won 20 games while losing only nine in the Pirates' drive for the National League pennant.

★ ★ ★

Ditmar, according to Yankee pitching coach Ed Lopat, "has about the same stuff, but he doesn't have as good control as Law."

Ditmar won 15 games and lost nine for the Yankees as Stengel won his 10th American League pennant in his 12 years at the Yankee helm.

Manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pirates, who was only 8 years old when Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and company, shell shocked the Pirates back in 1927, expressed confidence in Law.

"He's my big man," said Murtaugh. "After him it will be Bob Friend for the second game here and then (Vinegar Bend) Mizell in the third game in Yankee Stadium on Saturday."

He was leaning toward Harvey Haddix, like Mizell a southpaw, for the fourth game.

FIRST INNING

Australian Delivers Powerful Attack on Reds

Menzies at U.N. Sounds Warning

Tells New Nations Not to Be Duped by Soviet International Game

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Australia kicked off a blistering counterattack today against Premier Khrushchev, denouncing him as a hypocrite and appealing to newly independent nations to beware of becoming pawns in an international game.

The counterattack came in a speech prepared for the U. N. General Assembly's policy debate by Australian Prime Minister Gordon Menzies, as the Assembly pondered a neutralist drive pressing President Eisenhower and the Soviet leader to meet again face-to-face.

★ ★ ★

Prime Minister Nehru of India is attempting to apply all the persuasion of his powerful voice to rally Asian, African and other support behind the two-man summit proposal, despite the distaste for the idea expressed by both the U. S. President and the Soviet premier.

The neutralist campaign, looking increasingly hopeless, coincided with new speculation among delegates on the possibility of another summit conference, possibly in the spring, after a new U. S. president takes over.

Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan, who had a 90-minute talk with Khrushchev Tuesday, is pictured as trying to prepare the way for a Big Four meeting in the spring, possibly in Geneva. Khrushchev is said to want one in January or February, after Eisenhower is out of office.

POWERFUL TALK

Menzies, whose delegation is sponsoring an Australian amendment to the neutralist resolution, seeking to change the two-man summit to a four-power affair without specifying any time, delivered a broadside against the Soviet Union in the general debate.

Menzies accused Khrushchev of attempting to inflame leaders of emerging independent African nations with worn-out slogans about imperialism and colonialism.

Menzies, who saw President Eisenhower over the weekend, pictured the President as intent upon balking any Communist attempt to envelop the new African states in their own sphere of influence.

"He (the President) said in effect, and I most respectfully agree," said Menzies, "that we are not to look at our new colleagues as if they were voters to be collected or as pawns in a vast international game, but as independent, coequal and free."

The Soviet Union has appealed to former colonial areas with a proposal that the United Nations recommend immediate freedom to all dependent areas at once. Menzies commented tartly:

"I venture to say it is an act of complete hypocrisy for a Communist leader to denounce colonialism as if it were an evil characteristic of the Western powers, when the facts are that the greatest colonial power now existing is the Soviet Union itself."

SET FOR OPENING — This is the interior of the new Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank which opens Saturday with a housewarming party. The bank is at 250 Martin St., a half block east of the Post Office. Souvenir rulers will be given visitors. Refreshments will be served all day.

Six-Year Program Presented to City

project downtown that hasn't been okayed as yet.

The Parks & Recreation Department budget is not included in the financing outlined in the six-year plan.

Presumably, the City Commission would have to call for bond issues or other financing to proceed with any of the proposed projects.

These projects:

—A 600-car garage in the Civic Center and two new Civic Center lots for 420 cars. Revenue bonds are to finance the $976,500 parking structure and the $600,000 lots.

If the cost of this were added to the auditorium bond issue, it would raise it to $5 million and push to $9.9 million the total amount sought in general obligation bonds over the six-year period.

The budget allocates $222,000 to parks and $565,000 to three special projects.

These include a $40,000 transit mix concrete plant which Willman, a road engineer, says will save money and improve quality; a new $500,000 yard for the Department of Public Works on North Saginaw Street at Aaron Perry Park; and a $25,000 training tower for the Fire Department. All of these, plus the park funds, are on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The budget figures neighborhood improvements will keep on at the present pace. This rate is $400,000 a year for streets, $350,000 for drains and sewers, $75,000 for sidewalks and $75,000 for water mains.

A SEQUEL TO '53 PLAN

The budget, drawn up mostly by administrative staff members, is intended as a sequal to the 1953 blueprint, which ran through 1958.

The $1.5 million extra in the cost of the Pontiac General Hospital expansion upset capital improvement plans the past three years, resulting in no particular capital improvement budget last year.

That the current five-year plan takes in six years reflects this budgeting difficulty.

By including the year 1960 in the plan, staff members added into it $1,710,781 already budgeted for capital improvements this year.

This includes this year's neighborhood improvements, $200,000 on the all but complete Pontiac Public Library building, $55,781 for the current airport program, $35,000 to parks and $20,000 for a new fire engine.

A timetable accompanies the budget.

The budget envisions the improvements necessary for an up-to-date park system on a long-range basis.

Included are three swimming pools-skating rinks: In Murphy Park, the proposed Orchard Lake Avenue park and Aaron Perry Park; a bathhouse, a 9-hole golf course and skating rink at Hawthorne Park; and lighted ball fields at Jaycee Park.

Purchase of 100 acres from Pontiac State Hospital for a new park is recommended, plus several other land acquisitions for smaller parks.

Development in all the park areas is covered.

Five-Year Record Ends With Woman's Death

MARSHALL (AP)— A bus-pedestrian accident late Tuesday marked the first traffic fatality in the City of Marshall since Jan. 21, 1955.

Police identified the victim as Mrs. Grace Grant, about 70. They said she apparently stepped unexpectedly into the path of a (Short Way Lines) bus driven by Ralph W. Clark of Fort Wayne, Ind. The woman lived alone and had no relatives at Marshall, police said.

Housewarming Party to Open New Area Bank

The Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank, Birmingham's newest banking facility, will officially open Saturday with a unique housewarming party.

★ ★ ★

"It replaces the conventional ribbon cutting with speeches and formal ceremonies, and typifies the old-fashioned hospitality in modern surroundings that we are offering the community."

The bank will be open special hours this Saturday only from 9 a.m to 6 p.m. Regular Saturday hours will be 9 a.m. to noon.

White said complete banking services will be provided, including savings accounts, regular checking accounts, loans of all types, cashier checks, travelers checks, money orders, safe deposit boxes and bank-by-mail services.

Plans are under way, he said, for opening a drive-in window.

A meeting room for small civic groups will be made available upon appointment.

Week day hours of the new banking service will be 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday.

★ ★ ★

In addition to White, who was formerly vice president of City Bank in Detroit, other officers of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank include F. Douglas Campbell, vice president and cashier; and S. Tenney McGraw, assistant cashier.

Eastern Airlines at Miami at first said the pilot, Capt. C.W. Fitts, and copilot M.J. Calloway, survived. But later the airline could not confirm this and they could not be located in any hospital.

STEWARDESSES SURVIVE

The body of Flight Engineer Malcolm M. Hall of Memphis, Tenn., was recovered.

Two stewardesses survived, identified by the airline as Joan Berry, 22, of Prentice, Miss., and Patricia Davies of Jacksonville, Fla.

"I was in the tail when we hit. It saved my life," Miss Berry said.

"It happened so fast there was no time to think. We were up in the air — then suddenly we hit the water. I remember calling for the pilot and copilot. There was no answer.

Good Thing He Qualified This Story

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The city traffic department has established scientifically a fact which nearly every male driver will claim he has known for years: A man can park a car faster than a woman can.

The department's manager, S. S. Taylor, bravely announced Tuesday the results of stop-watch tests. The average man, he said, inches into a parking space in 28.7 seconds. The average woman in 37.4 seconds.

Taylor added: "Of course — ing spaces faster than some women can maneuver into parking spaces fasten than some men."

Local Rotarians to Hear Bagwell Tomorrow Noon

Bagwell will arrive in Pontiac from Lansing about noon.

After his talk and a visit to a television studio in Detroit afterwards, the candidate will stop in Birmingham—"if time permits"—for a press conference with Oakland County candidates later in the afternoon.

He'll round out the half-day visit to the county by addressing the Men's Club of Christ Church Cranbrook in the evening.

St. Clair Shores Woman Dies in Head-On Crash

Another passenger in the auto, William Rehfus, 40, of Detroit, was hurt critically. The driver of the other auto, Mrs. Shirley Mach, 22, of New Baltimore, also was injured.

Macmillan Off to London Today

Khrushchev and Nehru Still Hanging Around U.N. Meeting

NEW YORK (UPI) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan who lingered for last-minute talks with Nikita S. Khrushchev, joins the exodus of world leaders from the United Nations today.

Macmillan, who originally planned to leave last week, will fly to London after hearing Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies address the U.N. General Assembly this afternoon.

Macmillan's departure further thins the ranks of the major world figures at the extraordinary session and leaves Khrushchev and India's Jawaralal Nehru as the principal leaders still in town. At one time there were more than a dozen, including President Eisenhower.

Police began to relax their rigid security precautions except for Khrushchev and the other Communist leaders who accompanied him here.

Guinea President Sekou Toure arrives today, President Sukarno of Indonesia is scheduled to depart Thursday and Nehru goes home Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev is expected to stay at least another week and there were reports he might remain until about Oct. 18.

The Soviets would shed no light on the exact departure time for the premier who has told newsmen he may stay until New Year's.

Tito and Nasser, both neutralists, saw their hopes for a face-to-face meeting between Eisenhower and Khrushchev shattered.

Tito expressed disappointment at the outcome of the session and the neutralists' efforts to get Eisenhower and Khrushchev together.

The Day in Birmingham

Acquires Final Segment of Parking Lot Land

BIRMINGHAM — The proposed municipal parking lot in the North Woodward Avenue area, its development bogged down for months in litigation, moved closer to development today with a property owner accepting the final condemnation award.

The City Commission Monday accepted the Circuit Court jury decision to pay $15,000 for a parcel of property behind the Reid Building to be used in the development of the Island View parking lot.

The next step in developing the parking lot is the vacation of Island View and a portion of Park Street, and setting up a special assessment district.

★ ★ ★

While the city has not purchased all the property needed for the proposed 141-stall parking lot, it has obtained options on all the necessary property.

Based on this award the estimated cost of the project amounts to $135,000, or $958 for each parking space.

In recommending that the condemnation award be accepted, Gare noted that the city had two other alternatives.

★ ★ ★

He said the commission could have turned down the award for the so-called channel right-of-way, deleting it from the project, and build a parking lot with a capacity of 108 cars, or abandoned the project entirely.

Mrs. Leo A. Stiers

Service for Mrs. Leo (Beatrice I.) A. Stiers, 57, of 1053 Hazel St., will be 2 p.m. Thursday at the Wm. Vasu Funeral Home, Royal Oak. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Mrs. Stiers died Monday following a long illness.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Birmingham, a member of the Business Womens Club, and a former member of the Birmingham Metropolitan Club Auxiliary.

Mrs. Austin T. Kempton

Service for Mrs. Austin T. (Lottie H.) Kempton, 92, of 19380 Beverly Road, was to be held this morning at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. with burial in Cambridge, Mass.

Mrs. Kempton died yesterday at William R. Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after a brief illness.

★ ★ ★

Surviving are two sons, S. Bradford with whom she made her home and Laurence R. of San Anselmo, Calif.; two grandsons and give great-grandchildren.

Pontiac, Detroit Teamsters Sue

Ask Court to Declare Landrum-Griffin Labor Law Unconstitutional

Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 and James R. Hoffa's Detroit Local 299 have been singled out as the guinea pigs in the nation's first court test case of the Landrum-Griffin labor reform act.

★ ★ ★

In a suit filed yesterday in Federal Court in Detroit, the attorney for the Teamsters Union asked the court to declare the law unconstitutional and rule on how much authority it gives Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

It was revealed that the suit resulted from an investigation of the Pontiac and Detroit locals by the Labor Department.

An officer of Local 614 would not comment on the present investigation. "Anything you want to know — since this is a matter of law — I'd refer you to Mr. Fitzgerald," said Floyd Harmon, secretary-treasurer of the Pontiac local.

★ ★ ★

After 4½ years of turmoil and dissension under Hoffa's trusteeship, Local 614 was removed from it in May 1958. But pro-Hoffa forces stayed in power after an election of officers.

Attorney George S. Fitzgerald filed the suit on behalf of the two locals.

He alleged that the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor-Management Reports, which carries out the provisions of the year-old act, is exceeding its authority in trying to subpoena organization and financial records of both unions.

"There isn't a record in 614 at the present time that hasn't been looked at either by the secretary of labor, Internal Revenue Service or Senate Rackets Committee," Fitzgerald said.

Federal Judge Fred Kaess set a hearing for Tuesday on the attorney's request that the subpoenas be quashed.

A member of the Bureau served one on Harmon on Sept. 28. It was returnable this week. The suit came first.

It is the contention of the Union that the Bureau can request only the records back to Sept. 14, the effective date of the Landrum-Griffin Act.

"They have a right in making their audit to go back to Sept. 14 — that we don't deny, but they have absolutely no jurisdiction to go any further than that because that would be irrelevant and could have no lawful purpose," Fitzgerald said.

U.S. Orbits Chatterbox Moon ---Courier a Complex Wonder

★ ★ ★

The 500-pound Courier 1B shot skyward Tuesday atop a Thor-Able-Star rocket. It is circling the earth every 115 minutes in an orbit ranging from 575 to 750-miles above the surface.

★ ★ ★

As dramatic evidence of its success, the new space messenger was used within hours after launch to relay a teletype message of peace and good will from President Eisenhower to the United Nations.

The message was sent from Washington to Ft. Monmouth, N.J., where it was beamed to Courier 1B. The note then was transmitted to another ground station which relayed it by high-speed radio to New York. The President's message welcomed 16 new nations to the U.N. and expressed hope they would continue to witness such scientific advances as this new satellite.

'PHENOMENAL ADVANCE'

A taped congratulatory message from Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker also was relayed via the 51-inch sphere. Brucker said Courier 1B "represents a phenomenal advance in the field of communications."

'IT REALLY GABS'

The satellite carries 300 pounds of the most complex electronic gear ever sent into space by the United States. At the heart of the system are five magnetic tape recorders capable of simultaneously receiving and transmitting 68,000 words a minute.

★ ★ ★

The Army plans to bombard the satellite with millions of words in the coming days to completely prove out the system. Much of the wordage will be supplied by news wires of The Associated Press and United Press International.

★ ★ ★

Benedict R. Jacobellis, Courier project manager, reported all instruments in the space package were working fine.

If Courier 1B proves the feasibility of using such vehicles for swift movement of secret military information, the Defense Department plans a network of operational courier satellites within a few years.

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban schooner alleged by Guatemalan authorities to have been carrying on invasion force was nothing more than a fishing boat, the newspaper Prensa Libre reports.

The newspaper said Tuesday the Cuban navy was investigating the incident.

Will Testify on Mental Care

State Senate Group to Hear Wagg Concerning Retarded Children

The bipartisan State Senate Committee on emotionally disturbed and mentally retarded children will begin taking testimony in Pontiac tomorrow, with statements from Charles F. Wagg, director of the department of mental health, and Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

★ ★ ★

Headed by Sen. L. Harvey Lodge R-Oakland County, the committee is to gather evidence prior to introducing legislation concerning increases in facilities and care.

More than 100 organizations and agencies have been invited to address the committee during its preliminary hearings, said Lodge.

★ ★ ★

The first session begins at 9:30 a.m. in the supervisors' room of the Oakland County Office Building.

FORMED AFTER PLEAS

The committee was formed as a result of pleas by Judge Moore for more facilities and better treatment.

Lodge said the committee would consider the responsibilities of both the state and local communities.

The committee includes Sen. Edward Hutchinson of Fennville, Sen. Arthur Dehmel of Unionville, Sen. Elmer R. Porter of Blissfield and Sen. Basil W. Brown of Detroit.

Tennessee Chemical Blast Kills 11

★ ★ ★

Today officials of the Tennessee Eastman Corp. began probing smouldering rubble of the smashed section of the 400-acre plant in an effort to determine the cause.

The explosion occurred in the acid division of the analine processing section where dyes are made. Officials said the building is operated by remote control and normally no workmen are inside.

Downtown Kingsport — a mile and a half from the plant—was shaken and shattered glass from store windows littered the streets. The blast was heard 20 miles away in Johnson City.

★ ★ ★

The Holston Valley Community Hospital, where most of the injured were taken, reported hundreds of persons responded to appeals for blood and more would be needed today.

★ ★ ★

"It happened just like that, no warning, didn't know what was happening," said Earl Whetsel, an Eastman pipefitter, "the blast, then glass and stuff flying around."

Fire touched off by the explosion raged for about three hours before it was brought under control.

David McBride, a reporter for the Kingsport Times-News, said people were standing about "in shocked disbelief."

★ ★ ★

Curious onlookers and relatives of workmen were turned away as the flames threatened to cause a second explosion in neighboring plant buildings.

National Guardsmen patrolled the area to keep traffic areas open for emergency vehicles.

"An unidentified guard at a nearby ordnance plant said he was driving along in his truck when the blast occurred. "It sent my truck through the air for about 100 yards," he said, "but I landed right side up. I didn't know what had happened."

Earle Henley of Johnson City said, "It was like a giant hand reaching out. Plate glass fell like rain."

★ ★ ★

The plant, a subsidiary of Eastman Kodak Corp., produces plastic, cellulose fibers, polyethylene and other chemicals.

TENNESSEE HOLOCAUST — A blistering fire rages at the Tennessee Eastman Co. Chemical plant in Kinsport, Tenn., Tuesday. The plant was hit by an explosion that took 11 lives and injured at least 60. The fire burned for three hours before it could be brought under control.

'61 RAMBLER AMERICAN — The crisp, flat roof line of the 1961 Rambler American complements the over-all design of the car as well as providing additional headroom at the outward edges of the passenger compartment. The new Rambler Americans go on sale Oct. 12. The Rambler may be seen locally then at the following dealer showrooms: Wilson Auto Sales, Inc., 105 M59, Highland Township; Russ Johnson Motor Sales, 51 N. Broadway, Lake Orion; Kaverley Rambler, 420 N. Main St., Rochester; R & C Motor Sales, 8145 Commerce Road, Walled Lake, and at Anderson Rambler, 7551 Auburn Road, Utica.

New Rambler American Is Shorter, Narrower

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors has completely restyled the 100 inch wheelbase Rambler American for 1961 for the first time since it was originally introduced in 1950.

Overall length has been cut to 5.2 inches and overall width has been trimmed 3 inches. Interior dimensions remain the same. However, American Motors says usable trunk space has been increased 50 per cent, to 23.8 cubic feet.

The American comes in three series, Super, Deluxe and Custom. A 125 horsepower overhead valve six cylinder engine is standard on the custom and optional on the other two series. Standard on the Super and Deluxe is the old 90 horsepower L-head six engine.

All three series use American Motors new ceramic coated exhaust system which is guaranteed to last as long as the original buyer keeps the car.

★ ★ ★

For the first time American will be available in a four door station wagon model. A convertible, also a first, will be offered about Jan. 1. The Afercans go on salet Oct. Oct. 12.

Rep. O'Hara Urges AF to Buy Land

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Utica, urged the Air Force Monday to purchase all real estate adjoining the runway extension of Selfridge Air Force Base near here.

In a telegram to the secretary of the Air Force, O'Hara charged that failure to purchase homes over which planes were flying low "amounts to taking property without just compensation.

O'Hara said flights over the houses at less than 100 feet has resulted in an invasion of citizen's rights to peaceful possession of his property.

Residents have complained of the noise and Air Force directives to cut down trees on their property.

14,000 Physicians Join to Aid Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 14,000 doctors are organized in support of the presidential candidacy of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republicans said today.

Charles S. Rhyne, chairman of the "National Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge" organization, said the medical men "have joined this movement in the knowledge that the continuation of medical freedom in this country is pledged by the platform of the Nixon-Lodge ticket."

National head of the "Doctors' Committee for Nixon-Lodge" is Dr. Elmer Hess, an Erie, Pa., urologist and former president of the American Medical Association.

An AMA spokesman said AMA has about 178,000 doctor members, and that there are about 249,000 licensed physicians in the United States.

Personal Appeal to Khrushchev to Leave United States Forever

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV,
United Nations,
New York.

Sir:
Go home.
Go quietly if you can, BUT GO!

★ ★ ★

We're sick of you. We're sick of your bombast, your falsehoods, your domineering actions and of you personally. We're especially sick of the last. Time after time you insult the greatest nations on earth. You insult their representatives. You have no manners of any description and you're a boor, a pain in the neck and a plain Russian pig.

No one wanted you over here in the first place. You were unwelcome when you came and you've grown more offensive every day you've been here. Even CYRUS EATON and ELEANOR ROOSEVELT are probably willing to have you go by now.

You are the bloodiest butcher on the face of the earth and you have no standing and command no respect. If you were one-tenth part a man, you could bring world peace to this globe and go down in history as a brutal murderer who eventually tried to make amends. This would put you in a better position to meet your Maker.

★ ★ ★

But you don't want peace.
You want power.
You want might.
You want personal aggrandizement. You want two and a half billion people ruled by your 200 million and ruled precisely as you and your bloody associates decide.

★ ★ ★

If we believed that even one tiny step toward peace might result from your staying, we could hold our nose and stomach you. But that tiny ray of hope doesn't exist.

KHRUSHCHEV, go home.
Go quietly if you can.

And when you leave, never come back. Stay among those fine, misguided people that you've duped, deluded and deceived. Left to themselves and told the truth about the world, they would be splendid comrades and allies in a worldwide movement toward peace and prosperity.

But you and a small ruling clique, have them subjugated.

KHRUSHCHEV, GET OUT.

Multitude of Money Spent at World Series

Anyone that is not completely convinced that fall is here should take note that the pigskin season has already started and the baseball season is long gone except for the World Series opening today.

★ ★ ★

In Pittsburgh where the big show has top billing they are all aglow with pride, and rightly so. The no-longer-so-Smoky City is bound to set some spending records, but not the kind that will be to the special benefit of either players or team owners.

Pittsburgh, as most everyone knows, is having its first World Series in 33 years and the whole town is bursting at the seams. Hotels are tight; inflation alone would see to the establishment of spending records.

★ ★ ★

New York is much the same, with the money spree certain to outdo even that of 1958, when choice seats in Yankee Stadium were going for $100 each as were tickets to some Broadway shows.

Night clubs and fancy restaurants are sure to turn away business at Klondike prices in both cities. Insiders report that this is bound to be a big gambling series as well as big spending.

Sheer logistics make the prospects less attractive for the players. Last year's winning Dodgers received $11,231 and the defeated White Sox $7,275. The reason is obvious, the 93,000 capacity Los Angeles Coliseum.

Forbes Field, home of the Pirates will only seat 35,000. So last year's series attendance and receipts records which were 420,784 and $2.7 million will probably stand for a while.

Slow in Arriving; May Not Be as Brilliant as Usual

Teen-ager: One who knows the value of a dollar—'twill buy about three gallons of gas.

The fall foliage display in the Pontiac area has had some setbacks. After showing the effects of the late summer drouth, the deluge of rain had a tendency to destroy the color pigment in the leaves. They now are falling in a green color that is not verdant.

LAWRENCE

These words were read by Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan to a gathering in connection with the annual Pulaski Day parade in New York City Sunday.

What does this promise mean? Will America take forceful action to "liberate" Poland and the other captive nations?

★ ★ ★

In view of the vehement criticism launched by Democratic party speakers in the 1952 presidential campaign and continued ever since against President Eisenhower, as well as John Foster Dulles, because they spoke of "peaceful liberation" and "rolling back the Iron Curtain," the question now is whether the Democrats have forgiven the Republicans or whether the "action" which Sen. Kennedy promises is going to be subject to Republican attack on the ground that, if elected president, he might drag the United States into a war.

What Eisenhower said Aug. 25, 1952, was this:

"We can never rest—and we must so inform all the world, including the Kremlin—that until the enslaved nations of the world have in the fullness of freedom the right to choose their own path, that then, and then only, can we say that there is a possible way of living peacefully and permanently with communism in the world.

"We must tell the Kremlin that never shall we desist in our aid to every man and woman of those shackled lands who seek refuge with us, any man who keeps burning among his own people the flame of freedom and who is dedicated to the liberation of his fellows."

ADLAI'S ANSWER

Immediately, candidate Adlai Stevenson said in a speech in Michigan on Sept. 1 of that year:

"His (Eisenhower's) speech aroused speculation here and abroad that if he were elected, some reckless action might ensue in an attempt to liberate the peoples of Eastern Europe from Soviet tyranny."

Former President Truman, in a speech in West Virginia the next day, said:

"To try to liberate these enslaved people at this time might well mean turning these lands into atomic battlefields. . . .

"If the Republicans don't mean to give that armed support—and I feel sure they don't—then they are trying to deceive their fellow citizens at home and playing cruel, gutter politics with the lives of countless good men and women behind the Iron Curtain."

★ ★ ★

Dulles four days later took issue with Truman in a statement which said:

"It is, of course, absurd to suggest that Gen. Eisenhower anticipates invoking wholesale insurrection by unarmed slaves.

"Premature revolt would expose the patriotic people to liquidation. There are countless peaceful ways by which the task of the Russian despots can be made so unbearably difficult that they will renounce their rule. That was shown in Yugoslavia."

Sen. Kennedy is today saying the same thing as Eisenhower and Dulles did in 1952.

Kennedy, in his address to the Polish-American Congress at Chicago last Saturday, for example, declared:

"We must be willing to recognize growing divisions in the Communist camp, and be willing to encourage those divisions.

"My amendment to the Battle Act (a federal appropriation law) would permit the president to use our economic strength to promote peaceful change behind the Iron Curtain wherever this would help wean the so-called captive nations away from their Kremlin masters. . . .

"We must never—at any summit, in any treaty declaration, in our words or even in our minds—recognize Soviet domination of Eastern Europe."

★ ★ ★

These are strong words, and yet will they now be misinterpreted to imply that "peaceful liberation" means something else?

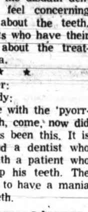
Dr. William Brady Believes:

Teeth Must Be Saved Until All Hope Is Gone

Here comes the Pyorrhea Specialist!

The dentist used to have a special greeting for me when I arrived on the bowling green: "Oh, here comes the pyorrhea specialist!" he would remark, not to me but to the players near him, and he said it without a smile.

He referred to the fact that from time to time in my health column and, in a more lasting way, in No. 1 Little Lesson, the booklet titled Save Your Teeth, I discuss the nature, cause, prevention and treatment of degeneration of the mastication apparatus, the state commonly called pyorrhea.



DR. BRADY

I am aware of the disdain dentists in general feel concerning anything I say about the teeth. Especially dentists who have their own convictions about the treatment of pyorrhea.

★ ★ ★

Here's one letter:

"Dear Dr. Brady:

"My experience with the 'pyorrhea obsession' (oh, come, now did I say that?) "has been this. It is impossible to find a dentist who will cooperate with a patient who is trying to keep his teeth. The dentists all seem to have a mania for extracting teeth.

"For over 12 years I have refused to have my teeth extracted because of pyorrhea. This has necessitated going from one dentist to another in the hope of finding one willing to help me try to keep my teeth.

"I have lost a few teeth due to loosening, but I have insisted on having them replaced immediately with partial plates." (There, now, I did say that.) "If I had listened to them I would have been wearing upper and lower false teeth for the past 12 years.

"One dentist told me it was a wonder I wasn't flat on my back in bed because of my teeth — that I should have arthritis, heart trouble, headaches and what not."

(That's reminiscent of the 1920s when dentists were removing teeth and physicians were removing tonsils wholesale.)

"I am never sick and I never have headaches!

"I'm determined to keep my own teeth as long as possible — but it would be a lot easier if I could get help and encouragement from some dentist.

Sincerely,
A reader who likes your column."

In the booklet Save Your Teeth there are three chapters on pyorrhea. It is Little Lesson No. 1 because I believe you must have functionally efficient teeth, your own or your dentist's, to enjoy health, vite and longevity. Put that in your pipe and smoke it.

Signed letters not more than one personal health and hygiene, not dis- page or 100 words long pertaining to ease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

'Who Are Oakland County's Unregistered Voters?'

I read there are 60,000 unregistered voters in Oakland County alone. This would mean that there are more people unregistered than live in the whole of Waterford Township. Are these folks un-American or are they foreigners? I cannot imagine we have 60,000. Will someone please tell me who these thousands and thousands of unregistered voters are?

'Why the Publicity on Missile Failures?'

Why do we consistently play up our missile failures? This is a dangerous type of "news." Failure is really not news at all. It's the mundane stuff all of us cope with each day. How long do you think any individual could "take it" by having every failure labeled and broadcast?

★ ★ ★

Self-confidence would dwindle to nothing. And that can happen to a nation. When we have months of expensive failures it is then time for the public to know and start tracking down the trouble. It only takes one or two wrong persons to bankrupt the missile program.

★ ★ ★

Give us a breather from advance notices of missile shoots as well as the wearying communication of every dud. We're so worn out with missile depression we haven't the energy to hurrah when we have a perfect score.

There is also the important matter of psychology on pre-shoot notice. We could put the brand of defeat on our own efforts being accustomed to the word "failure." This statement will fall on many deaf ears and closed minds for those who do not understand that mass thought is indeed powerful.

'Sinatra, Kennedy Are Too Chummy'

I never thought I would see the day when I would worry over whether Frank Sinatra might hold sway in the White House. Here is a guy who associated with one who could be our next president—Jack Kennedy and just recently the two dined together. Kennedy looks like a synthetic Frank Sinatra. He talks in a rapid monotone that at times is hard to understand.

After his nomination Kennedy was invited to call on Eleanor Roosevelt at her Hyde Park Estate. The same invitation was given Khrushchev while here last year. Both accepted.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 5, the 279th day of the year with 87 more to follow in 1960.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1830, Chester Alan Arthur, 21st president of the United States, was born.

In 1853, Antioch College opened its doors for the first time in Yellow Springs, Ohio, the first nonsectarian college to grant equal scholastic opportunities to men and women.

In 1881, Spanish painter Pablo Picasso was born.

In 1947, to build up a stockpile of grain for Europe, President Truman asked Americans to observe meatless Tuesdays and eggless and poultryless Thursdays.

A thought for today: American writer F. Scott Fitzgerald said: "The test of a first-rate intelligence is the ability to hold two opposed ideas in the mind at the same time, and still retain the ability to function."

God forgives — forgives not capriciously, but with wise, definite, divine pre-arrangement; forgives universally, on the ground of an atonement and on the condition of repentance and faith. — Richard S. Storrs.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Chronic Bachelor Needs Widow

Paul is a real problem to his girl friend for he shies away from marriage like the typical old bachelor. Such men are usually "fixated" at the second or third stages of emotional growth, so scrapbook this case and apply it to the unmarried folks in your circle of friends.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE F-487: Paul P., aged 37, is a typical old bachelor.

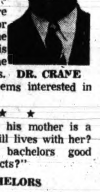
"He is a wonderful man and we have a great many mutual ideals and hobbies.



DR. CRANE

"And I am sure he loves me for he often tells me he does, and is considerate of me in many respects. But he never seems interested in getting married.

★ ★ ★

"Is it because his mother is a widow and he still lives with her?

"And are old bachelors good marriage prospects?"

SKITTISH BACHELORS

To explain a typical old bachelor, let me remind you of the stages in emotional growth through which people are supposed to advance.

First, there is the egocentric (baby stage) where the world revolves around our infant ego.

Babies thus have no concern for their parents and will cry at any time, despite the weariness of their devoted mother. Babies are thus selfishly interested in themselves alone.

Second, the parental. Now the child has advanced to the point where he admits that his parents are prominent "planets" revolving around his own ego as the "sun."

Bachelors and spinsters often stay at this second stage and become tied to mamma's or papa's apron strings for life. That is doubly true if mamma is a widow, with an only son.

★ ★ ★

This "gang" stage occurs prior to the teens and begins to break up at about 15 or 16.

But many people also remain "fixated" at this stage and always want to stick with their own sex.

They are the chronic poker players and bowling addicts or golfing foursomes who work and play together. And in many cases they even go further and become sexual homosexuals, thus combining mental with physical homosexuality.

Fourth, the heterosexual (normal) dating stage where we look to the opposite sex for love and erotic thrills.

At 15 or 16, the "gang" stage begins to be undermined by the newer level of heterosexual attachments.

But a few old diehards may still remain in those earlier "gang" clubs and meet annually to bemoan the fact their former associates have become benedicts and married.

BEWARE OF BACHELORS

Exceptions do occur, but in our Scientific Marriage Foundation, we much prefer to match an old bachelor with a jolly widow.

For it takes a very understanding woman to put up with the unwitting selfishness of the chronic bachelor.

He doesn't realize there are two sides to most marital questions so he egotistically tries to play the game of marriage as per his own created rules.

Single girls can't take this as well as more resourceful widows,

who have already learned a lot about male psychology in their first marriage.

Bachelors are also more likely to be mother-dominated males, so the wife will usually play second fiddle to her mother-in-law till the older lady dies. (See tomorrow's follow-up).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Drivers Who Drink Lose Control Early

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A report of a driving test showed Tuesday that impairment of driving ability begins to appear after only one-third the drinking set as the intoxication level.

Dr. Robert Formey, director of the State Toxicology Laboratory at the Indiana University Medical Center, said "definite evidence of impairment" appeared from as little as .05 per cent alcohol in the blood of some drivers.

Law in many states specifies that .15 per cent alcohol content is prima facie evidence of intoxication.

THE '61 PONTIAC IS OUT TODAY!

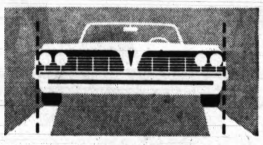
New track-to-body proportion! The track is the width between the wheels. Pontiac is the only Wide-Track car. Body width is reduced, shaving side overhang, balancing more weight between the wheels. Best relationship of body width to wheel width ever tailored. Lean and sway are ancient history.

Announcing the new Pontiac Trophy V-8 Engine! We've improved the engine the experts said was perfect. New fuel induction system saves gas by using more air in the gasoline mixture. This makes the engine breathe more efficiently, giving you better acceleration. Eleven versions to choose from. Horsepowers range from 215 to 348. For best economy specify the Trophy Economy V-8. Its lower compression ratio lets you use regular gas.

More headroom, legroom, footroom for greater comfort! You'll take great comfort in the extra roominess we've built into the '61 Pontiac. Seats are higher, yet there's more clearance beneath the steering wheel and more hatroom over your head. There is more legroom, more footroom. Doors are wider and designed to swing open farther. The more highway you put behind you (Pontiac specializes in this) the more you'll appreciate the new room that's all around you in this sleek new '61.



THE ONLY WIDE-TRACK CAR!
Body width trimmed to reduce side overhang. More weight balanced between the wheels. No other car hugs the road with such sure-footed stability and precision.

Lapeer Hospital Expansion Starts Next Week

Pontiac Press Photo

$758,000 Project to Hike Capacity by 60 Per Cent

LAPEER—Work is scheduled to begin here early next week on a $758,000 expansion program which will increase the capacity of Lapeer County General Hospital by 60 per cent.

The first phase of the project will be the completion of the second floor of the building to make space available for 50 more beds and additional equipment.

The outer section of the third story also will be built. The interior of the third floor will be completed at some future date, according to Coleman Foote, hospital administrator.

Foote said that when this part of the structure is finished it will accommodate 35 beds in addition to the 50 which are to be on the second floor.

A 10-month schedule has been set for completion of the second floor interior and construction of the third floor shell so the extra space should be ready by next August, Foote said.

New equipment for the addition will cost approximately $60,000, the administrator reported. He said the fee of the architects, Giffels and Rossetti of Detroit, is $30,000.

The construction costs total about $668,000, Paul H. Johnson, Inc. of Detroit is handling the general construction.

A $300,000 bond issue which was approved in August 1959 is being used to finance the project. The rest of the cost is being met through charitable contributions and federal funds.

Elevators are being installed by another Detroit firm, the Lardner Elevator Co., and two Flint firms are doing the rest of the work. They are the Batzli Electric Co. and Devanay Plumbing and Heating Inc.

Contracts for the addition were let Sept. 27. The bids received were over the estimates, forcing some cutbacks in the original expansion program, Foote said.

Torch Drive Goals Told

The 1960 Torch Drive Community goals for Holly, Highland, White Lake, Addison, Springfield, Groveland and Rose townships were announced today by division chairmen directing the local campaigns.

Mrs. Max Freeman has announced a $4,119 goal for Holly; the Highland goal is set at $1,829, according to Mrs. James M. Keith; and White Lake solicitors have a $1,605 goal, Mrs. Bruce Nickerson said.

Mrs. Marvin Acheson reports Addison has a $925 goal; a $707 goal was announced by Mrs. Werner Hoy for Springfield; Mrs. Frank Quail reports a $629 goal for Groveland; and Rose Township fund raisers have a goal of $406, said Mrs. Wellington F. Evans.

CHAIRMEN NAMED

In addition, community leaders in the five townships who have accepted area and district chairmen assignments will be responsible for recruiting 245 local volunteer solicitors.

Brandon UF Workers Gather

ORTONVILLE — Over 50 campaign workers attended the Pontiac Area United Fund Drive kickoff luncheon — the first of its kind in Brandon Township — yesterday at the local high school.

Presiding was Charles F. Sherman, 1960 campaign chairman. He introduced Mrs. Charles Pangus, women's division chairman, whose group is the "backbone" of the Brandon drive, according to UF officials.

Jack Ferris, school chairman, announced an area-wide "Teen Dance" will be held Oct. 27 to benefit the Brandon UF campaign.

The dance will be at the high school from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. and will be broadcast live from 8:30 to 10:30. The entire proceeds will be turned into the local drive, which has a goal of $1,890.

Also at the speakers' table were School Supt. Burl Glendenning, school chairman, and Duane Schultz, representing the Genesee Merchants Bank and Trust Co., Flint, which sponsored the luncheon.

In addition, Mrs. Roderick Taylor, Pontiac women's division campaign chairman, was a guest speaker who addressed the group briefly.

Charles Pangus, commercial division chairman, was unable to attend.

* * *

Mrs. Margaret C. Libby, women's division director, complimented the Brandon drive organizers for their efficient job thus far and assured them with their zeal, their drive is bound to go "over the top."

Two local workers, Mrs. Marvin Featherstone and Mrs. Ora Connely, presented a skit entitled "Sally Solicitor" as an example for women's division canvassers.

Before adjourning, the group heard Joseph H. Schultz, training chairman for the Pontiac Area UF, present his training program.

Oxford Church to Play Host for Bible Institute

OXFORD—"The Seven Windows into the Church" will be the theme of a Bible Institute at the Holy Cross Lutheran Church tomorrow sponsored by the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

The day will begin with registration at 9:30 a.m. and matins at 10 a.m. followed by films, lectures and a noon luncheon.

Speakers besides the Rev. Gordon Behnke of Holy Cross Lutheran will be the Rev. Ralph C. Claus of St. Trinity Lutheran Church and the Rev. George Mahder of St. Paul Lutheran Church, both of Pontiac.

The institute will continue until 3 p.m. with lectures and group discussions of the theme, which is based on the seven parables in the 13th chapter of Matthew.

To Show Alaska Films

GINGELLVILLE — Mrs. Harvey Johnson, kindergarten teacher, will show films of her recent vacation trip to Alaska at the Proper Parent-Teacher Association meeting at 8 p.m. Monday.

To Speak Thursday on Michigan Issues

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Chapter of Citizens for Michigan will sponsor a talk tomorrow by Dr. William Rhode in the meeting room of St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

Dr. Rhode is professor of political science at Michigan State University Oakland. He will speak on state issues facing the voters in the Nov. 8 election.

A discussion period will follow the talk.

The 8 p.m. meeting is open to the public.

More Death, Destruction Loom in French Floods

LIMOGES, France (AP)—Rampant flood waters in south central France slowly receded today, but a fresh onslaught of heavy rain renewed fears of further death and destruction.

Thus far nine persons have lost their lives, and unofficial estimates of damage run as high as $10 million.

Lake Orion May Start Own Sanitation Dept.

LAKE ORION — Dissatisfaction over present methods of garbage removal here may result in Lake Orion establishing its own sanitation department, according to Irvine Unger, Village Council president.

Unger said today that the possibility of the village handling its own garbage disposal is one of the suggestions likely to come up at a public hearing on the matter Oct. 24.

The council set the hearing in order to get opinions of villagers. Also invited to the meeting are officials from Oxford, where a similar situation exists.

Garbage and trash pickup in the village now is being handled by a private firm, Bushman Disposal Service of Lake Orion.

The contract with Bushman expires Dec. 31.

The council recently passed a 2-mill tax in order to pay the firm for its service. Unger said many citizens have objected to the tax, but that the money could not be raised any other way because of the limited village budget.

If formerly was the practice to allow residents to pay for the service on an individual basis. The council president said this created problems because all property owners, many of them summer residents only, did not subscribe to the service.

Villagers who chose to take care of their own disposal could not leave garbage and trash in the Orion Township dump because the township had leased it to a private firm, he said.

The council has not yet selected a place for the public hearing. It may be held in the Orion Community Center since the village hall is too small for a meeting of this type. The location of the hearing will be announced later.

In other recent action, the council approved a $4,500 contract for renovation of the village water tank and opened bids for a new police car.

Charming Friends Do This for You

By RUTH MILLETT

Your most charming friends are the ones who:

Comment when you lose a few pounds—but don't seem to notice when you add weight.

Can wish you a happy birthday without reminding you that you're a year older.

Can eat your food without making you feel guilty about all the calories it contains.

Forego telling you, when you are wearing a new dress, that another of their friends has one exactly like it.

Make you feel when you have done a small favor that you have done something really big.

* * *

Relay any nice thing they have heard about you, but never repeat catty remarks a so-called friend makes behind your back.

Encourage you, instead of throwing cold water on your enthusiasms.

Really listen when you talk.

Ask your advice now and then.

Always seem glad to see you and talk to you.

Flatter you subtly by remembering your preferences.

Seem genuinely interested in your children.

Say nice things about you behind your back which prompt new acquaintances to say, "I've heard so many nice things about you from so-and-so."

Put themselves out to be pleasant to anyone you introduce them to.

Always seem to have a wonderful time at your parties, and call you up the next day to tell you so.

Junior League Elects Officers

Chris Emerson was elected president of the Junior League of the Tuesday Musicale when members met Sunday at the Opdyke Road home of Sally Wilson.

Miss Wilson, vice president and historian; Jo-Lynne Yansen, secretary; and Judy Eames, treasurer, will serve with Miss Emerson.

After several piano selections, refreshments were served by Mrs. M. E. Wilson.

Chapter AW Will Be Hostess for Coffee Hour

Mrs. C. Harold Brown and Mrs. Millard G. Schram were hostesses for the first fall meeting of Chapter AW of the PEO Sisterhood Monday. Members met at the Marquette Street home of Mrs. Brown.

After devotions by Mrs. Brown, Mrs. James Boaz, president, announced Chapter AW will be hostess to the Oakland County Cooperative Coffee Hour at Birmingham Community House Nov. 7.

Featured on the evening's program was a "Study of the Local Chapter By-Laws" by Mrs. Norman Allen, followed by "Summer Vacation Reminiscing" with all members participating.

Mrs. Earl N. Rinker of Lanman Road will be hostess for the Oct. 17 meeting.

Duplicate Bridge Club Gathers

The Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday at the Elks Temple with 10 tables in play.

Winners were Donald Stevenson and Allen Rososky, Rudolph Thomas and Ronald Arnold, L. L. King and Lloyd Mann.

Others were B. E. Billings and R. F. Canaday, Mrs. Peter Davidson and Mrs. Carleton Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Ericson Lewis, Mrs. Otto Deyo and Mrs. Horace Young, Dr. Charles Patrick and Ernest Guy.

No Dull Life for Me, Says Jack

Out of Capitol at 51?

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy is not worried about finding himself an empty life at 51 if he is elected president and serves two terms.

The 43-year-old Democratic presidential nominee was asked at a rally Monday night what would you do when you got out of the White House at the age of 51?"

★ ★ ★

"I must say that I really have not taken myself to 1969 yet, but I appreciate your happy compliment and thought," the senator replied.

★ ★ ★

He went on to say that Harry S. Truman "has shown how interesting life can be for a former president," that Herbert Hoover "has performed valuable services to this country in the last 15 years," and that John Quincy Adams "wrote the most brilliant chapter of his life" with more than 20 years of service in the House of Representatives after leaving the presidency.

★ ★ ★

CLAIMS SPEED MARK — Cmdr. John F. Davis of Chicago pauses at the Pentagon in Washington Tuesday with a model of the McDonnell F4H Phantom II fighter plane in which he averaged 1,390.21 miles per hour flying a circular course over Edwards AFB, Calif. The Navy claims the flight on Sept. 25 set a closed-circuit speed mark. The chart in the background shows how the flight took place.

Cotton-Pickin' Alaskan Seeks Prize in Arkansas

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The National Cotton Picking Contest has a contestant from Alaska. Vernon Robinson of Sitka will compete Friday with 100 or so other cotton pickers for a $1,000 prize.

★ ★ ★

Robinson explained he has been "practicing" by picking cotton in southeast Missouri and northeast Arkansas.

No Cheers Heard for Spartans

EAST LANSING (AP)—The coaches generally cheer from the sidelines when a team romps up and down the football field in practice. But not this week at the Michigan State camp.

Trouble was, the team making the gains was a scouting outfit using Iowa plays — the same the Hawkeyes used to crush Northwestern 42-0 last Saturday.

A group of the fastest backs were selected from the reserves. Directing them was Pete Smith of Ecorse, a sophomore with a sharp passing arm who played the role of Iowa Quarterback Wilburn Hollis.

The reserves drove the length of the field in what has become typical Iowa fashion. Then they turned around and went 80 yards again before being stopped.

The defenders were largely from the alternate unit which spells the top offensive and defensive eleven. But some top level linesmen, ends and line backers also were sent in to try to contain the youngsters working Iowa plays.

★ ★ ★

"This is brand new stuff," said coach Duffy Daugherty of the attack. "But I think we'll improve as the week goes along. We'd better," he added.

"We'll be meeting a team with plenty of speed," he told a meeting of football writers yesterday in Chicago. "Along with speed, Michigan State has lots of raw power, and I don't know if we can cope with it."

★ ★ ★

"Neither team will run away with it," he predicted. "We'll be in 100 per cent shape physically."

Evashevski contended the Spartans would enjoy one advantage over his team.

"They drilled last week on Michigan's wingback offense," he said. "In us, they'll be meeting a winged attack twice in a row."

★ ★ ★

ANN ARBOR (AP) — For coach Bump Elliott, standing only a few feet away when Michigan quarterback Bob Chandler crashed to the ground Saturday, it was like seeing someone tear up his insurance policy.

★ ★ ★

Although he was U-M's third-string signal-caller, the loss of Chandler with a wrenched knee could be a severe blow to Michigan's football fortunes.

★ ★ ★

Elliott will promote Don Hannah, a Gary, Ind., senior, to the third string to take over for Chandler. Hannah won his letter last year and often looks impressive in practice but has yet to prove himself as a first-rate quarterback under game pressure.

49er End Moved From Defense to Offense

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) San Francisco 49ers Coach Red Hickey Tuesday shifted Monte Clarke, 260-pound defensive end and tackle, to offensive tackle.

Hickey, down to one healthy tackle on offense, made the move to compensate for the loss of John Thomas, out with a broken wrist.

Brown Flattens Foe

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Joe Brown, lightweight boxing champion of the world, knocked out sixth-ranked Raymundo (Battling) Torres of Reynosa, Mex., in the fourth round of a 10-round non-title fight Tuesday night.

Lions Make Line Changes

DETROIT (AP)—The Lions are making some line changes in hopes of bolstering their defense for San Francisco's invasion of Briggs Stadium Sunday.

Darris McCord will leave the offensive team to play his old defensive end post. Alex Karras will switch from guard to tackle and Willie McClung will move in at guard. John Gordy will replace McCord on offense.

★ ★ ★

Coach George Wilson is against using kicker Jim Martin as linebacker because of his age but has no other choice due to injuries. Martin booted for all nine points in an opening loss at Green Bay.

The 49ers will bring such stars as Y. A. Tittle, Hugh McElhenny and Les Nomellini to town. They are hurting at offensive tackles where two standouts are hurt.

Houston, Texans Lead AFL in Total Offense

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A couple of Texas teams—Houston and Dallas—are leading the American Football League in total offense.

Houston's Oilers have in three games piled up 530 yards rushing and 612 passing for an average of 380.7 per game. Dallas has a 345.5 average, picking up 456 yards rushing and 926 passing in four contests.

TUESDAY'S FIGHTS

In County Scoring

Newton Takes Big Lead

By CHUCK ABAIR

Fleet-footed Jack Newton has taken a commanding lead in the 1960 Oakland County prep individual scoring race.

The West Bloomfield senior halfback romped for four touchdowns in the rout of Milford to boost his total to 44 points — 17 better than a trio in 2nd place.

Closest competitors are Dan Lickert of Rochester, Cranbrook's Tom Demrick and Dion Caza of Troy with 27. Demrick garnered his in only two games while the other played three games.

Opening week leaders Dick McCauley of Pontiac Central and Rochester boy Bob Morris dropped down. McCauley's team did not have a game so he dropped into a six-way tie for 4th at 24. Morris was limited to an extra point and now is in a deadlock for 3rd at 25.

Rochester, Cranbrook, Hazel Park and Avondale each have two representatives among the county's top 20.

Roger Lomerson of Imlay City is the runnerup with 32 aided by 14 extra points. Capable Brighton quarterback Randy Marx and Earl Peeples of L'Anse Creuse follow with 30.

Imlay has four among the top 10 on the area list. Two others are from Millington.

Three Pirates Sing of Hopes

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three Pittsburgh Pirates spent World Series eve strumming a guitar and singing "Beat 'em Bucs."

Pitchers Elroy Face and Harvey Haddix and catcher Hal Smith served as part of the entertainment at a pep rally attended by about 5,000 persons Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Face played the guitar while his mates sang. Other musical groups on hand were the Carnegie Tech band, a drum and bugle corps and a dixieland jazz band.

The rally was held at Schenley Park next to Forbes Field where the first game of the World Series between Pittsburgh and New York will be played today. Part of the rally was televised coast-to-coast.

Fire truck floodlights illuminated the site. A 30-foot sign said "Stop Yankee Aggression." Girls strolled around in Pirate uniforms. Pirate costumes and flapper attire of the 1920s.

Ex-Major Leaguer Dies

FREEPORT, Ill. (AP)—Former minor and major league baseball player Jack Warhop, who pitched for the New York Yankees in 1909 when they were known as the Highlanders, died Tuesday at the age of 76.

★ ★ ★

Warhop started his baseball career in Freeport in 1906 with the old Wisconsin-Illinois League. He moved up to the Detroit Tigers in the American League in 1909 and later that year was sold to the New York Highlanders.

'Hot Team' Gets Series Nod From Ex-Pirate Boss

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Pie Traynor, who managed the 1938 Pirate team which came within a whisker of winning the pennant, believes the 1960 team can beat the Yankees in the World Series, but a later pilot — Fred Haney — picks the "hot team."

"The team that gets hot will win the series," said Haney who guided the Pirates from 1953 through 1955.

Traynor, who played on the 1925 and 1927 teams which won the National League flag, thinks his "alma mater" can win in seven games.

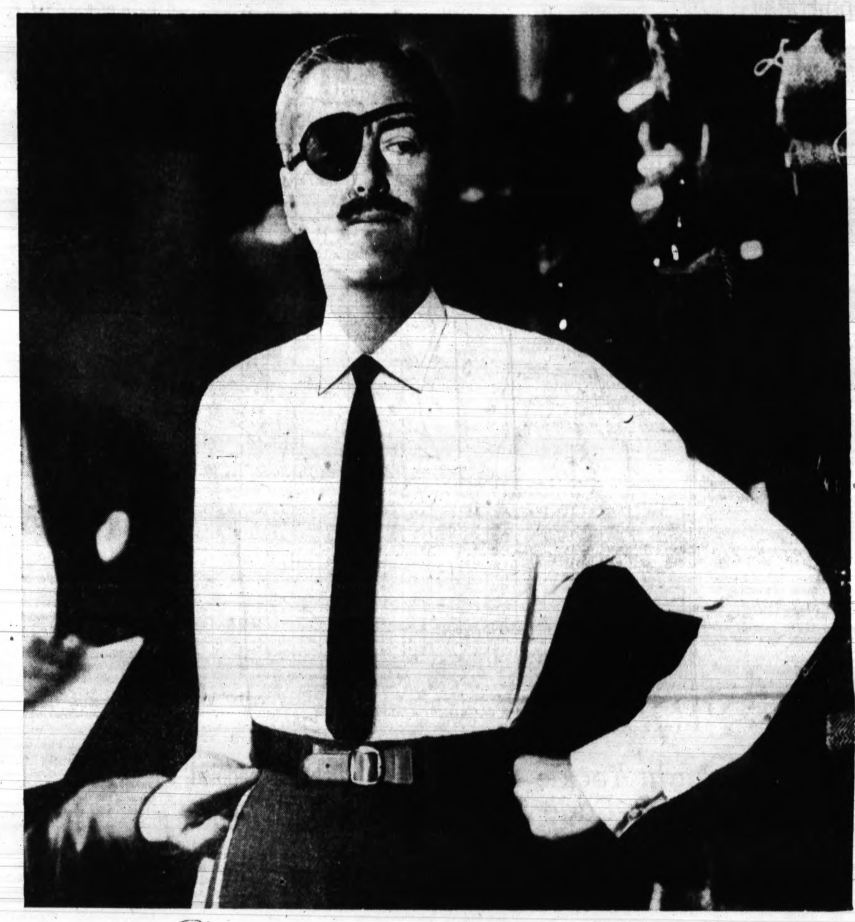
Another Great Name Comes to Osmun's



Osmun's Proudly Presents:
HATHAWAY SHIRTS
(Exclusively at Both Osmun's Stores . . . Downtown Pontiac and Tel-Huron Shopping Center)

AMERICAN MEN are beginning to realize that it is ridiculous to buy good suits and then spoil the effect by wearing an ordinary mass-produced shirt. Hence the growing popularity of our Hathaway shirts, which are in a class by themselves.

Hathaway shirts wear infinitely longer—a matter of years. They make you look younger because of the subtle way Hathaway cuts collars. The whole shirt is tailored more generously and is therefore more comfortable. Even the stitching has an ante bellum elegance about it.

You will get a great deal of quiet satisfaction out of wearing shirts in such impeccable taste.

There could be no better time than now to come in and make your selection from our fabulous collection.

Duck Hunting Prospects Improved

Hunters Must Delay Until Noon Friday

More Local Ducks Seen This Year, but Teal Are On the Move

Hunters can expect slightly better prospects when Michigan's waterfowl season opens at noon Friday.

* * *

There has been a question concerning first day hours. The conservation department lists noon as the time to start shooting. Hours for the remainder of the 40-day season have been extended this year to a half hour before sunrise to sunset each day.

Hunting on Sebewaing and Wildfowl Bays in Saginaw Bay must end at 4 p.m.

Canvasbacks and redheads are on the protected list this year. However, they do not make up the bulk of the early season shooting. Mallards and teal will be the big targets opening weekend.

* * *

The local duck population shows a slight increase over 1959. A wet spring provided many good marshland and pothole nesting areas which normally would be too dry for hatching. The heavy rains did wash out some early broods, but many second hatches were successful.

* * *

Gunning on teal may not be as good this year. There isn't any shortage on these elusive targets. Many have already migrated south of Michigan. Large flocks of bluewings seen on lakes and ponds in the southern tier of counties during the last week, have left the state.

Small bodies of water in Oakland County will probably provide the best shooting. Marshes along the Great Lakes and some rivers are also good places. Dippers—Mallards, blacks, teal, pintails and baldpates—do not go for the big water like the late season diving ducks.

Geese are often overlooked by hunters early in the season. This could be a mistake. A good setup in a harvested grain or corn field in areas where geese frequent can bring surprising results. Many Canadian geese raise their young in Michigan and this gives early season hunters a chance at them.

* * *

Daily bag limits remain the same on ducks and geese. Hunters may take four ducks. The daily limit on geese is five. Coot bag limits have been increased to six daily and 12 in possession.

* * *

Michigan hunters will be checked more closely than last year when bringing migratory game birds to this state from Canada. As in the past, they will be required to declare their game to the nearest U.S. Customs Station when returning to this country. Their Canadian licenses must be presented to customs authorities.

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Season Change on Black Bass Is Considered

Results of an experiment at Pontiac Lake might mean an earlier opening of the black bass season in Michigan.

Conservation department officials opened Pontiac, Whitmore and Bear Lakes to year around fishing on large and smallmouths six years ago. The experiment showed that the bass population in the three lakes did not suffer.

With this in mind, department officials will present their proposal for a June 1 opening day to the conservation commission at its meeting Oct. 12-13 at Higgins Lake. Legislative action would be required to move the bass season up from its present opening date, the third Saturday in June.

More Anglers Mean Less Fishing Water

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—A new angle on angling: now it's America's high standard of living that threatens to snag fishermen's lines.

Karl F. Lagler, University of Michigan fisheries dept. head, says shorter work weeks and longer paid vacations will result in more anglers.

This, in turn, Lagler says, will shrink the amount of natural water suited for sport fishes, "Perhaps as rapidly as the supply for human use is being consumed."

Michigan Turns Color

It's the time of year when the fall leaves and other foliage just begin to turn colors. One of the most attractive seasons along the countryside and at parks is between Oct. 1-15 when the fall colors are best.

Persons wishing to enjoy the Michigan color pageant might well include a trip to any of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks. These parks contain the colorful features of the fall season.

ONE SHOT — It took only one arrow from Carlos Pace's bow to down this eight-point buck near Roscommon last Saturday, the opening day of Michigan's archery deer season. The deer dressed out at 200 pounds. Pace, who lives in Pontiac, was the only hunter in the party to connect.

Many Young Birds Seen

More Waterfowl Seen in Provinces

WINNIPEG (AP)—The waterfowl picture in the prairie provinces is "definitely improved" after a late hatch that has been generally successful, Ducks Unlimited reported.

* * *

Manitoba production is improved over 1959 and production in the eastern half of Saskatchewan has been good while production has been particularly heavy in the northern parklands of Alberta, the conservation organization said.

In a report on wild duck and goose production, the organization said aerial surveys started simultaneously in the northern parts of the three provinces Aug. 31 and were completed Sept. 8.

"The Manitoba crew reported heavy populations on most concentration areas and found the over-all situation considerably improved over 1959. In Saskatchewan the populations were somewhat improved along the northern fringe of agriculture but farther north with water levels highest in 20 years, there was a reduction from 1959.

"In Alberta the agricultural fringe south and east of Lesser Slave Lake carries a very high population. Hay Lake in northern Alberta is also exceptionally good but in the northeastern part of the province (which includes the Athabasca Delta), populations were down due to the very high water levels.

The report also notes that a Saskatchewan biologist just returned from the Arctic reported "All species of geese have met with a very favorable breeding season . . . nesting was early and brood success good."

Another report said: "Production for existing water areas in southern Alberta has been high, far above the last two or three years. Many late broods were still in evidence at the end of August. The over-all production in southern Alberta, however, is still quite light but far surpasses that of 1959."

Hunters Are Urged to Check Heaters

LANSING (AP)—Hunters who will use trailers during the upcoming seasons were cautioned today to make sure their heaters are of safe construction.

* * *

Carbon monoxide fumes from faulty heaters killed nine hunters last year and hospitalized four others. Improper designing and construction was blamed.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, advised hunters to check whether gas heaters were equipped with an automatic shutoff control and adequate vent stacks.

Air intake for combustion should be supplied through openings to the outside, he added.

Light Tackle Fishermen Given Edge in Tourney

The angler who uses light tackle will have an edge in the World Series of Fishing Tour which gets under way Oct. 16 at Union Lake.

* * *

The fishermen will try their luck on six other lakes, all in northern Michigan, before closing out the contest at Union Lake on Oct. 24. One lake will be fished each day, except one day for travel.

During the competition, fishermen can use any legal method desired. But bonus points will be awarded for light tackle. Muskie fishing has been eliminated from the tour. The contestants will try for a specific fish each day.

Wade Miller of Houghton Lake will carry Michigan's hopes into the contest. He won the state crown on his home lake ten days ago. About 75 fishermen and outdoor writers are expected for the world competition, including representatives from at least eight foreign nations.

Director of the world series organization is Hy Peskin who lives in the Pontiac area near Pine Lake.

* * *

Contestants are scheduled to arrive Oct. 15. They will be housed in a Plymouth motel. At 6 a.m. the next morning, the competition gets under way from Dunham's Sport and Boat Shop. The angling is scheduled to end in the early afternoon each day.

Daily winners will be presented with trophies at an evening banquet. The first awards dinner will be Oct. 16 at the Edgewood Country Club. The world champion will be announced during a banquet in the same location after the final day of fishing on Union Lake.

The full schedule is Oct. 16, Union Lake; Oct. 17, Cadillac; Oct. 18, Harbor Springs; Oct. 19, Cheboygan; Oct. 20, Trout Lake; Oct. 21, Escanaba; Oct. 22, travel; Oct. 23, Houghton Lake; Oct. 24, Union Lake.

Gun Safety Program Shows Good Progress

LANSING (UPI)—The conservation department said yesterday a new program to teach youngsters how to use firearms safely was going very well due to the cooperation of many school systems.

* * *

Some northern Michigan schools have adopted the one-hour courses as part of their school program, the department said.

Some 500 volunteer teachers were handling the course in communities where it had not been made a part of the school curriculum.

Debate Scheduled on Conservation

NEW YORK CITY — A debate on the conservation records and platform pledges of the Republican and Democratic parties will be a feature of the 56th annual convention of the National Audubon Society, to be held Oct. 29 to Nov. 1 in New York City.

The debate, coming just eight days before the national election, will headline a society program Monday night, Oct. 31.

Spokesman for the Republicans will be Elmer F. Bennett, Washington, D. C., the undersecretary of interior.

Representing the Democrats will be youthful Congressman John D. Dingell, 34, of Detroit, member of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries and an active sponsor of conservation legislation in Congress.

49ers Have Only One Healthy Tackle Left

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers are down to just one healthy offensive tackle, Len Rhode.

John Thomas was declared out Monday for at least several weeks with a broken wrist. Bob St. Clair missed Sunday's Ram game because of a pulled leg muscle and, though not in perfect shape, he'll play this Sunday at Detroit.

Lands Dream Catch

Roberts, a 71-year-old retired coal merchant bet four cents and won two first dividends—each worth $70,000.

Memphis State Quarterback Honored by AP

MEMPHIS (AP) — A slender quarterback who would rather be lousy in victory than magnificent in defeat — that's James Earl Wright, The Associated Press back of the week.

* * *

"Not that we don't appreciate the kind words," said Wright, after drawing the national pat on the back. "It is an honor to me and to the team. But wouldn't it have been a blast if we had beat old No. 1"

* * *

Old "No. 1" was mighty Mississippi. Wright led the Memphis State Tigers in an uproarious encounter that nearly did upset Ole Miss, which was atop the AP poll at the time.

Clarkston Dog Wins Best-in-Show Honors

Gay Gypsy of Park Lane, a 15-inch female beagle, was judged best-in-show at the Tri-County Dog Breeders Association all breed and all age match Sunday in Ann Arbor.

Blaze Caused by Negligence?

Chief White Suspects Careless Cigarette Use in $65,000 Fire

Negligence was believed today to have caused a $65,000 fire that gutted the Earl Schieb Auto Painting Shop, formerly Cy Owens Ford Dealer showroom and garage at 147 S. Saginaw St., Monday night.

Referring to the paint shop blaze, which had a short but violent duration, Fire Chief James R. White, said, "I think it was caused by negligence, possibly a carelessly disposed cigarette."

★ ★ ★

He and Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz conducted a thorough investigation of the charred interior yesterday.

The fire obviously started in a pile of waste paper and used masking tape which had accumulated next to a wooden partition, Chief White said.

Flames from the refuse pile climbed up the partitions to the rafters where they burned through the roof, he added.

At first it was believed the blaze had started in a storage room containing paint and paint thinner. Yesterday's investigation discounted this.

★ ★ ★

Chief White estimated damage to the block-long, two-story brick building at $40,000. An additional $25,000 was added to that figure as a result of damage to 15 cars parked inside the shop.

City fire officials credited the fast work of firemen with preventing the blaze from spreading to nearby buildings.

Soybean Futures Up a Cent a Bushel

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures advanced around a cent a bushel in early dealings on the board of trade today but the grains showed little tendency to move from previous levels.

Higher prices for soybeans at the opening caused some stop-loss buying and the January contract moved up a cent from Tuesday's closing.

Other contracts also advanced about a cent in early transaction.

★ ★ ★

Action in soybeans was based principally on the belief that a private forecast to be issued today would show a smaller production of beans this year than was forecast by the government a month ago.

Transactions in wheat were at a minimum with prices holding around Tuesday's closes. The only apparent buying was by some local traders. There was a small amount of selling by commission houses.

Corn, oats and rye also stayed around previous levels.

Mart Generally Slightly Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market early today headed into its third straight daily decline. Trading was quiet.

★ ★ ★

Losses of most key stocks were small, not many going as far as a point.

Exceptions were Eastern Air-lines, one of whose passenger planes crashed Tuesday and Lockheed, manufacturer of the Electra turboprop involved in the disaster.

Eastern Airlines fell 1½ to 24 on an opening block of 3,500 shares and extended the loss to about 2.

CUTS LOSS TO 2¼

Lockheed, in an opening transaction delayed by an accumulation of sell orders, fell 3½ to 21¼ on a big block of 17,000 shares, cutting the loss to about 2 in later trades.

Texas Instruments and Zenith were off more than a point each. Losses of around a point were shown by Merck, Union Carbide and Eastman Kodak.

★ ★ ★

Down fractionally were U.S. Steel, Ford, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Radio Corp., Raytheon, Commonwealth Edison, Westinghouse Electric, Baltimore & Ohio and American Airlines.

New York Central, General Motors and Lorillard eased.

Gordon Signs to Manage A's

Ends Speculation by Inking Two-Year Pact With Kansas City

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Joe Gordon today signed a two-year contract to manage the Kansas City Athletics.

Gordon, 45, in a surprise move, quit the Detroit Tigers Monday after an unprecedented managerial swap which had sent him from Cleveland to Detroit last summer in exchange for Mgr. Jimmy Dykes.

★ ★ ★

The former second baseman of the New York Yankees and Indians agreed to terms after a half-hour conference with Parke Carroll, general manager of the Kansas City club.

"Everthing is fine, I feel we can do a good job in Kansas City," Gordon said. "We have a lot of young fellows, and that's what I like.

HE'S NOT TALKING

"I have two or three things in mind, but I cannot say what they are right now."

Gordon said he would select his coaches within a week or two. One who is certain to be with him is JoJo White, who had been his coach first with Cleveland and then with Detroit.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The A's drew about 750,000 in attendance, about 100,000 under the goal they had set. Several groups reportedly have been interested in buying the franchise. There have been reports that it would be transferred to Los Angeles. The present franchise to continue in Kansas City still has two years to run.

GOP Says Business Outlook Good Despite Lower Treasury Revenues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today held to its claim that the business outlook is good despite a sharp cutback in anticipated revenues.

The reduction, almost wholly in corporation income taxes, combined with a rise in government spending to slash from $4.2 billion to $1.1 billion the administration's estimate of the treasury surplus expected at the end of the current fiscal year.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans announced the revised estimate Tuesday. The government usually reviews its budget figures after Congress adjourns, but this year its report plopped into the middle of a presidential election campaign in which the present and future of the nation's economy is an issue.

★ ★ ★

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate, has insisted it is healthy and progressing. Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic contender, has repeatedly argued it's not growing fast enough.

★ ★ ★

Stans said the economy is now operating at a high level. He anticipated a perhaps better than usual pickup in business for the last three months of this year and said government and other economists are expressing no alarm about the first two quarters of next year.

That would round out the fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

"I might add," Stans said at a news conference, "that a continuation of this outlook depends on the right kind of public policy next year."

For the 1960-61 fiscal year, the Budget Bureau gave these new estimates:

★ ★ ★

Receipts, $81.5 billion, down $2.5 billion from the originally expected $48 billion; expenditures, $80.4 billion, up $600 million from the original $79.8 billion; new spending authority voted by Congress, $82 billion, up $2.6 billion from the original $79.4 billion.

★ ★ ★

President Eisenhower announced the previous estimates when he sent his budget recommendation to Congress last January. He suggested then that all the surplus be used to reduce the national debt, which now totals about $289 billion.

Stans said the Democratic-controlled Congress boosted expenditures and reduced government income by about $2 billion. Part of this will be offset, by trimming expenditures in some federal programs, he said.

In particular, Stans noted that Congress spurned an Eisenhower recommendation to raise postal rates and enacted a pay raise for federal workers over the President's veto.

A drop in corporation profits from the administration's rosy forecast of $51 billion in January accounted for 80 per cent of the downward revision in estimated revenue. The Treasury now puts the figure at $47 billion, same as last year's record.

Top Republicans Kick In for Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has contributed $500 to the campaign fund of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Other members of the Cabinet and government gave donations of $3,000 or more. The total contributions from the President and other officials, including two ambassadors, was nearly $10,000.

Records also showed contributions of $3,000 each from four members of the Ford family — Henry, William, Benson and an "Edsel Ford," believed to be Mrs. Edsel Ford, mother of the three brothers.

The President's gift to the Republican nominee's fund was made more than a month ago to the Volunteers for Nixon organization.

The donations came to light in an examination of receipts made out by the Nixon committee between March 27 and Sept. 9, which have been filed with the clerk of the House.

One of the largest gifts from a government official to Nixon's campaign was $3,200 from Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare. Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon contributed $3,000.

John Hay Whitney, United States Ambassador to Great Britain, kicked in $1,000. The U.S. Ambassador to Paraguay, Henry F. Stimpson Jr. gave $1,000. Deputy Postmaster General John M. McKibbin contributed $500.

A number of the President's golf-playing companions — such as W. E. Robinson of the Coca-Cola Co. and Floyd E. Akers of Washington, D. C. — gave the Volunteers for Nixon organization $1,000 each.

Henry Luce, publisher of Time and Life, was registered as having contributed $3,000. Midwestern publishers Gardner and John Cowles each gave $1,000.

★ ★ ★

Other contributions included $1,000 from Former Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and $500 from Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, the former NATO commander who now heads the Red Cross.

Altogether, the Volunteers for Nixon organization reported collecting $246,159.95 between March 28 and Sept. 9. During that same time, the volunteers said, they spent $135,347.63.

Wall Street Chatter

Take Tax Loss Early; Salvage Maximum Price

NEW YORK (UPI)—The investor who does his tax selling early will, in all likelihood, create an opportunity to salvage the maximum advantage from an unfortunate situation, according to E. F. Hutton & Co.

★ ★ ★

By taking his tax loss ahead of the pack, he has a chance of realizing a price for a "worry" stock that will be above the lows for the year, Hutton advises.

There is also the possibility that many stocks with reasonably good intermediate prospects will be forced down to unrealistic levels in the crush to establish tax losses.

Therefore, there will be opportunities to buy such shares when they are most depressed, just prior to the rebounding when the artificial selling pressures are removed, Hutton says.

The Fitch Survey has a liking for the producers of business forms including American Business Systems, Lewis Business Forms, Moore Corp., and Standard Register.

Spear & Staff, Inc., says it would not buy heavily until there is evidence that a firm base of support has been established. The firm believes there will be a throughly mixed earnings picture coming up for the third quarter, with the probability of a moderate decline in the industrial net.

J. W. Sparks & Co. favors Boeing Airplane, as a candidate for trading purposes. The issue has held up exceptionally well in a falling market, Sparks says.

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. feels that stock positions should be pared on rallies because sooner or later there will be a test of the recent lows.

News in Brief

Mrs. Donald Wallace of 1168 Dutmer Terrace, Orion Township, reported to sheriff's deputies Tuesday the theft of a $25 Savings Bond from her mail.

A bench warrant for the arrest of Willard F. Finkle Jr., 32, of 13 Cherry Court, was issued by Municipal Court Tuesday when he failed to appear for trial on a disorderly conduct charge.

Bees Sting Boy of Nine Dozen Times

James Brissette, 4566 Major St., was waiting for a school bus at the corner of Sashabaw and Myers roads at 9 a.m. when he accidentally stepped into a hole near the highway.

As he pulled his foot out, hundreds of bees swarmed all over the youngster who ran screaming back to his home a block away.

As he ran into the house his mother called township police and then fought off the bees that filled the house.

Most of the bees had been killed when police arrived. James was taken to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment.

He had been stung about a dozen times on his legs, neck and arms.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dolphis Brissette.

End 5-Day Lakes Strike —Expect Shipping Today

MONTREAL (AP) — More than 100 Great Lakes ships were expected to start moving again today following settlement Tuesday night of a five-day strike by the Seafarers' International Union (SIU).

The strike was called against the N. M. Paterson and Sons, Ltd., shipping line. Four other lines in the Lakes Carriers Association had ordered their fleets tied up to counter the Union action.

The SIU and the carriers association signed a retroactive two-year contract providing wage increases and a reduction in the work week.

Rejects More Money for Ex-Chief Straley

In a 4-3 vote, the City Commission last night turned down the bid for $1,500 in additional separation pay for former Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

Straley supporters argued to no avail that there was a "moral obligation" involved, that the commission had the legal right "to bend" personnel rules in Straley's behalf, that present Straley litigation against the city had no bearing on the request.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston and Commissioners John A. Dugan, Wesley J. Wood and William H. Taylor Jr. — the anti-Straley majority — voted against the pay request, claimed for 48 vacation days that Straley says he never took.

Taylor and Dugan stated flatly that they would never consider the request as long as there is pending before the State Supreme Court the appeal by which Henry and Landry hope to see Straley reinstated in the job from which he was fired last June.

Rowston said he wouldn't "bend" personnel rules, which state that discharged employes can claim compensation for no more than 30 accumulated vacation days.

Straley—who claimed he never took more than two weeks off during his eight years as police chief —had asked for compensation for a total 78 accumulated vacation days. He was paid for 30 when fired.

★ ★ ★

He had also asked for compensation for 181 days off that he had coming during the eight years, but had worked instead; and for 44 accumulated sick days.

He was turned down on these, also, because of personnel rules.

Marvin Alward, finance director, denied Landry's assertion that had Straley not been fired, he could have left office this month, using up conmpensatory time off until retirement next year.

Alward said that Straley would have had to stay on the job for 10 full years before eligibility for retirement. That means he would have had to stay through next year.

The commission split 4-3 in two other votes.

One was to endorse City Manager Walter K. Willman's recommendation not to pay the $1,500, which passed; the other was to end debate after Landry and Taylor clashed.

Blood Bank Drive Termed a Success

A drive to resupply the depleted resources of the American Red Cross blood bank in Rochester yesterday was termed a success, falling only six pints short of the 200-pint goal.

Mrs. Russell W. Nowels, chairman of the Rochester unit of the American Red Cross, reported that 246 donors showed up to give blood and 194 pints were accepted.

Of the 194 donors accepted, 121 were giving blood for the first time. The supply of the Rochester Blood Bank had run out and yesterday's donations helped to restock it.

Donors gave blood at the American Red Cross bloodmobile which was parked near St. Andrews Catholic Church. The mobile unit was making its last visit of the year to the area.

Dutch Foreign Minister Backs Hammarskjold

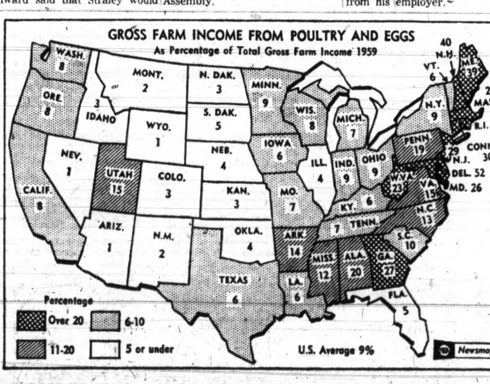
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The Netherlands declared Tuesday that Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal to abolish the office of U.N. Secretary-General in favor of a three-man board would paralyze the executive arm of the United Nations.

Dutch Foreign Minister J.M.A.H. Luns came to Hammarskjold's defense in his policy speech before the U.N. General Assembly.

Speeder to Keep Count of Highway Fatalities

PRINCE GEORGE, Va. (AP) — A 17-year-old youth convicted of driving 110 miles an hour must keep a daily record of persons killed on Virginia highways.

He must take a monthly report to Judge Francis Binford and can drive only on specific assignment from his employer.



THE EGG AND US — Last year, income from poultry and eggs slipped to 9 per cent of farmers' gross income from their products; in 1958 it was 10 per cent. Reason, says the Agriculture department, was declining prices for eggs and poultry meat. So far in 1960, prices average higher than last year and are likely to continue higher. States in which poultry provides the largest share of farm income are in the Northeast and in the Southeastern broiler belt, and in Utah.

Takes Cue From March

September Began in Fury

We'll remember September weather a long time.

Just 15 hours after the month began, the mercury was at 94 degrees—the highest of the year.

Then it plummeted to 68 in 20 minutes.

The hot, humid afternoon—ideal weather for tornadoes, the Weather Bureau had warned—was transfigured by 60-mile-an-hour winds that swept all the way from Cadillac.

★ ★ ★

Hundreds of trees were toppled, utility wires were whipped into spaghetti, six persons were injured by falling branches and an inch of wind-lashed rain fell.

Although no tornadoes appeared, there were several local whirlwinds of near-tornado force.

That was Sept. 1.

The sun came out late that afternoon and six days later had warmed things up to 94 again. That was the high Sept. 7 and Sept. 8.

★ ★ ★

It never reached 95.

In fact, Sept. 8 was the end of summer, in a sense, because the mercury began sliding down that night and never did reach 90 again.

Golden September had already been wrapped in rain, cloudiness and fog for four days by the time autumn slipped in officially Sept. 23. Appropriately, it was misty that morning.

Yet September was golden, at least two-thirds of the time. There were 20 days of sunshine or partial sunshine, six that were cloudy or partially cloudy and four that were rainy. Total rainfall was 1.4 inches, far below the average 2.84 inches for the month.

The nights turned chilly in September. The coldest was 41 early Sept. 14. There was frost on one's breath that morning.

★ ★ ★

The average high temperature in September was 77.3. The average low 56.76.

Average temperature for the month as a whole was 67.03 degrees, way above the normal for the month, 63.5 degrees.

Family of Five Routed by Blaze in Avon Twp.

AVON TOWNSHIP—A family of five was evacuated from a home at 3525 Bendelow St. early today while firemen doused a blaze believed caused by a faulty gas furnace connection.

Brooklands Fire Chief William Foree estimated damage at $1,000. He said most of the damage was confined to a furnace room where flames destroyed rafters supporting the roof of the home.

Taken out of the house at 2 a.m. were Mr. and Mrs. Emile Sylvain and three children, Joyce, 16, Eunice, 11, and Dennis, 4.

Foree reported that the fire department had the fire under control within an hour.

He said a newly installed gas furnace apparently had not been properly connected.

William Johnson and Joseph Story were only 32 years old when they were named Supreme Court justices in 1804 and 1812 respectively.

K's 'Enthusiastic Press' Seems to Be on Wane

By LEON DENNEN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA) —Suppose you were a Soviet citizen who depended on the Russian press for information about Premier Khrushchev's activities in the United Nations. What would you read?

According to Moscow's Pravda and Izvestia and the Soviet Army's Red Star which just arrived here, the Soviet Premier has been "marching from victory to victory" in the General Assembly.

It matters little what Russian paper you read. Except for some slight variations they all repeat an identical story with the same deadly monotony.

Khrushchev has a band of trained propagandists (a "press group") which usually travels abroad with him to describe his achievements and the effect he has on people. They always claim victory — never defeat. A defeat too glaring to gloss over they usually describe as an "American fraud" of a "capitalist conspiracy."

Nevertheless, U.N. specialists on Russia who can read between the lines of Soviet propaganda detect signs of Khrushchev's insecure position among the Kremlin's bureaucrats.

KHRUSHCHEV SLIPPING?

More and more frequently praise of Khrushchev is coupled with even greater praise of the Russian Communist party. When Stalin was alive it was the dictator who was sole authority in the Red world while the Party took second place if it was mentioned at all.

Now things are different; the Communist party comes first. Khrushchev gets his share of praise and adulation but only as the man "who carries out the will of the party" and the Russian people.

* * *

This, again, confirms the analysis of U.N. experts that while Khrushchev is still chieftain of the junta that runs Russia he is no longer the boss like Stalin was. He is communism's outstanding traveling salesman, but he is no longer the man who gives orders.

Even a diplomat from one of the Iron Curtain countries conceded in private conversation that a meeting between President Eisenhower and the Soviet Premier "cannot result in a relaxation of the tension that prevails in the United Nations."

He added "Khrushchev's orders are to change the entire structure of the United Nations and there is little else he can do if he wants to keep his job," he said.

As the Kremlin's global public relations man, the Soviet Premier has of course an "enthusiastic press" in Russia — even more enthusiastic than that which Fidel Castro, Marshal Tito and President Nasser get in their own controlled newspapers.

GLOWING DESCRIPTION

Here, for instance, is how Pravda describes the Soviet Premier as he clowns and pounds tables in the U.N.:

"It is the awareness of his great duty, the confidence in the justice of the noble cause he champions in the interests of humanity and the tremendous and firm faith that millions have in the sane wisdom of the Soviet Union's policy of peace that is the source of the optimism and the calm confidence of the head of the Soviet government."

* * *

The Red propagandists who pose as newspapermen even reported that Khrushchev and his policies "command widespread support" among "ordinary Americans."

"A fine initiative! Thanks, Americans say," was how Pravda headlined the first dispatches from its U.N. correspondents. The official party newspaper also quoted an unsigned letter supposedly written by an American which said: "God is against capitalism. Russia is also against it, I love Russia."

Nowhere in the Russian press is there the slightest indication that Khrushchev's bad manners have shocked the General Assembly, which never before had seen the like of it. No Soviet reader will ever know that.

Khrushchev has not succeeded in winning over to his side the majority of the new African nations — though he tries hard to court them.

He could not get the U.N. to censure Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold for doing his duty in the Congo.

Soviet policy, in fact, suffered a fiasco in the Congo.

In order to find some support outside his small group of Communist adherents and Cuba's Fidel Castro, Khrushchev had to woo his arch political enemy, Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Air Crash Toll Over 600 in '60

Boston Mishap Swells Carnage Started Jan. 6 in North Carolina

By United Press International

The toll of dead or missing in major air disasters this year has passed 600.

Air crashes had accounted for 540 deaths prior to Tuesday night's crash of an Eastern Airlines Electra in Boston Harbor, which left 61 persons dead or missing.

The 1960 record:

Jan. 6 — National Airlines DC6B exploded in flight near Bolivia, N. C., killing 34.

* * *

Jan. 18 — Capital Airlines jet-prop Viscount crashed near Holdcroft, Va., killing 50.

Jan. 19 — Scandinavian Airlines Caravelle jet crashed into hilltop near Ankara, Turkey, killing 41.

Jan. 21 — Colombian Avianca airliner crashed while attempting to land at Montego Bay, Jamaica, killing 37.

Feb. 5 — Bolivian DC 4 crashed in flames into a lagoon after take-off from Cochabamba, killing 59.

Feb. 25 — U. S. military transport collided with Brazilian airliner near Rio de Janeiro, killing 61, including 19 members of a U.S. Navy band.

April 19 — Colombian airliner crashed at Bogota, killing 33.

RAMS MOUNTAIN

April 22 — Belgian DC4 rammed a mountain in the Congo, killing 35.

June 24 — Brazilian Convair crashed into Guanatara Bay, killing 51.

Aug. 24 — Air France airliner crashed off Dakar, killing 63.

Sept. 19 — World Airways plane carrying 86 military passengers and a civilian crew of eight exploded and crashed into a jungle hill on Guam, killing 77.

The worst commercial air disaster in history was the collision of a TWA Super-Constellation and a United Airlines DC7 over the Grand Canyon, June 30, 1956, killing 128.

* * *

The greatest death toll in any crash was 129 servicemen killed in the crash of a C124 Globemaster near Tokyo in June 1953.

Tell the Bookie to Keep Presidential Bet Quiet

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Anyone who is considering betting on the presidential election had best keep it under his bookie's beret.

* * *

Many states disqualify a voter if he can be challenged for having bet on a candidate. The official theory seems to be that if a man is despicable enough to bet, he is desperate enough to buy voters.

Encyclopedia Britannica tells the touching story of August Belmont, chairman of the Democratic National Committee in 1864. He bet $10,000 that if Lincoln won re-election the war would not end while he was in office, and that the Union would be split permanently.

He also let it get around he'd bet the same amount that the Civil War would be over inside four years if the Democrat candidate, Gen. McClellan, were elected.

At the voting booth, he was challenged and forced to leave. Next day he saw his candidate defeated; next year he saw the war ended. Cost, $10,000.

Bad bet, financially. Good try, politically.

And getting back even further into political history, the Roman office seekers of 2,000 years ago campaigned in squeaky-clean white togas — signifying purity of character. (The word "candidate" stems from those days, means "clothed in white.")

Today the candidates dress in blues and grays. Today a lily white purity of character might be considered a sign of political ineptness.

In a world that must coexist with Communist leaders, a man who is completely chaste and without a devious thought would be consumed — and his country with him — before he could say: "To tell you the honest truth, Mr. Khrushchev, I hope . . ."

The "H" key on my typewriter has taken to sticking.

Like all of us, it's weary from K-H-r-u-s-H-e-H-e-v.

S. Africa Votes on Government

Plan Calls for Naming Nation Republic; May Rile Commonwealth

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Long lines of South Africans voted today on the nationalist government's plan to make this member of the British Commonwealth a republic.

* * *

The plan—opposed by British-descended whites—could result in South Africa's being turned out of Britain's multiracial family of nations.

The radio of the white-supremacist government proclaimed: "This is the most crucial vote in the history of our country."

* * *

Both sides agreed it probably would be a record poll of 90 per cent of the eligible voters.

The opposition worked hard to get out a big vote. Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd's Dutch-descended nationalists acknowledged a massive vote might go against a republic, but they were favored to win. Afrikaners outnumber voters of British descent by a ratio of 55 to 45.

* * *

More than 1,800,000 whites in South Africa and the neighboring mandate of Southwest Africa were eligible to vote. The nearly 12 million non-whites had no vote.

* * *

Verwoerd has said that if there is a majority of as much as one vote for the plan, he will consider it a mandate to submit to Parliament a measure declaring the country a republic. His party's majority in Parliament would assure approval.

This Old Man and the 'See' Just Didn't Jibe

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—The bearded man in the patched pants registered at the hotel, then headed for the cocktail bar.

The bartender greeted him amiably, but told him that the way he was dressed he'd better go to the beer parlor downstairs.

Novelist Ernest Hemingway, just in from a bear hunting trip in northern British Columbia, shrugged his shoulders and went up to his room.

Johnson Debates Seeing Liberal Heads

* * *

Liberal chiefs said they had invited the Democratic vice-presidential nominee to a meeting. But a spokesman for Johnson quoted him as saying he had received no invitation.

Johnson's printed itinerary for today included a tour of Brooklyn but no mention of the Liberal meeting.

* * *

The Liberal party, shortly after the national conventions, gave its nomination to the Democratic national ticket of Sen. John F. Kennedy and Johnson. Kennedy accepted in person and Johnson by mail.

REGISTRATION NOTICE FOR GENeral election Tuesday, November 8, 1960. To the qualified electors of City of Sylvan Lake, County of Oakland, State of Michigan.

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned Clerk, will, upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said Township, City or Village not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Thirtieth day before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at my office Monday, October 10, 1960—last day the Thirtieth day preceding said election, as provided by Section 498, Act No. 116, Public Acts of 1954, from 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m. on said day for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors in said township, city or village as shall properly apply therefor.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

Elector unable to make personal application procedure — Sec. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence duplicate registration cards, and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths, and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

Unregistered persons not entitled to vote — Sec. 491. The inspectors of election at any primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City, or Village therof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote.

Transfer of registration, application, time — Sec. 506. Any registered elector may, upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village, cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request stating his present address, the date he moved thereto and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in the proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made within the 30 days next preceding any election or primary election, unless such thirtieth day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, in which event registration transfers shall be accepted during the next full working day, privided that no such transfer shall permit any person to vote in any Township, City or Village in which he had not resided 30 days next preceding any election or primary election.

Transfer of registration on election day — Sec. 507. Any registered elector who has removed from 1 election precinct of a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village shall have the right to make application to have his registration transferred on any election or primary election day by executing a request over his or her signature for such transfer and presenting the same to the election board in the precinct in which he is registered. Upon receiving such request, the inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and, if the signatures correspond, then the inspector shall certify such fact upon said request and the applicant for transfer shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct for that election only. The application for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall transfer such elector's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street or resident house number in any Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the change to show the proper name of the street or resident house number in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote.
