Small Twister Strikes Swartz Creek

Second Tornado Roars Over Area at Battle Creek

Minor Thunderstorms Lash Pontiac, No Heavy Damage Reported

Two tornadoes spawned by last night's severe thunderstorm injured two persons in Swartz Creek near Flint and ripped the roof of an apartment building in Fulton Township near Battle Creek.

Although alerted for possible tornadoes, the Pontiac area escaped with only a relatively harmless thunderstorm.

No one was injured in the Fulton Township twister which struck at 7:15 p. m. in the southeast part of the township, skipped over outlying homes and descended on the apartment.

The tornado struck Swartz Creek, just a few miles from Flint, at 8:15, caught the fire hall, lifted it into the air, scattered cement blocks and dropped the roof on top of cars parked nearby. Loss was estimated at $5,000.

Herschel Wise, 38, and his 14-year-old daughter, Virginia, were cut and bruised by flying debris as the storm ripped roofs from several Swartz Creek homes and wrecked garages and power lines.

Swartz Creek fire chief Jack Adams watched the fire hall from the door of his home across the street. Wind ripped the door from his hand and dragged it into the yard.

Some witnesses reported a tornado-like funnel dangling from clouds near Flint's outskirts. The larger city, still jittery from last summer's storm, was battered by hail, a thunderstorm and 71-mile an hour winds that twisted telephone poles, uprooted trees and shattered windows. A similar storm hit Detroit.

Pontiac residents waited anxiously until the second tornado alert in 48 hours ended officially at 10 p. m. Winds here did not rise above 55 miles an hour.

Areas just south of Pontiac suffered heavier damage at the hands of thunderstorms.

A storm that battered Birmingham knocked out a main power line and left the homes of 150 Gracefield Terrace residents without lights for three hours starting at 9:10 p. m.

A bolt of lightning wrecked the home of Adolph Swickaki at 70 Knollwood, Clawson, and blacked out a five block square area. Another bolt destroyed an overhead traffic light at Rochester Rd. at 14-Mile Rd.

Ferndale suffered heavy rains that flooded an area near Livermore.

Lightning Raid on Ziegenhardts Bars Bloodshed

Split-second timing and the precision of a well-planned Army attack marked the lightning raid early today that resulted in the eviction of the Ziegenhardt brothers.

The raid was planned yesterday afternoon by Lapeer Sheriff Clark Gregory and State Police Capt. Earl Secrist.

It was kept secret for over 24 hours.

Both Chris and Paul Ziegenhardt, who earlier had threatened to shoot it out with police, were surprised in their beds.

Twenty-five state troopers converged on the farm from the north and 11 sheriff's deputies moved in from the south. Both traveled M 53 and side roads.

The raid was carried off so quietly that Lapeer's streets were deserted and farm houses near the Ziegenhardts were dark when squad cars rolled toward the 240-acre farm.

Scout cars dropped out of the State Police procession to blockade (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Court Affirms Perjury Opinion

Witness at Investigation of RFC Lustron Loans Ruled Guilty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals today affirmed the perjury conviction of E. Merl Young, a key figure in the Senate's headline-making investigation of Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The court overturned the perjury conviction of Young's older brother, Herschel Young.

The brothers, tried separately, each received a sentence of four months to two years. Both have been at liberty on bond pending the outcome of their appeals.

Merl Young, 39, was convicted of swearing falsely four times before the Senate investigating subcommittee and the federal grand jury which returned the indictments.

The Appeals Court, however, dealt only with the one charge involving Young's denial that while employed by the RFC he ever had anything to do with loan applications made by the Lustron Corp., a prefabricated housing venture. It held his conviction on that count to be "clearly valid."

The court said that since Young received four equal sentences to run concurrently it need concern itself with only one count of the indictment.

The story of Merl Young's rise from a $25 a week RFC examiner was one of the highlights of the RFC investigation.

Another was the history of the $9,450 pastel mink coat of his wife, Lauretta, a White House stenographer and previous to that on the staff of former President Truman when he was a senator.

Senators Claim Indochina Policy as 'Edge of War'

But Soberly Favor U. S. Request for Coalition on Asia Protection

WASHINGTON (AP)—

Two senators today spoke of the sending of U. S. naval and air units into the Indochinese fighting as a possibility and one said, "It looks to me as if we are on the edge of war there."

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), who made this estimate in an interview, said, "If we should send in naval and air forces now, it would only bring the Chinese Communists in force and then I don't see how we could avoid sending troops."

The sober comment in Congress followed renewed expressions by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles of the administration's determination that Indochina must not fall to the Communists.

Indications from abroad are that U. S. allies are not moving as fast as U. S. officials might wish in forming a coalition on defense of Southeast Asia.

Dispatches from London and Paris indicated both British and French leaders might consider the time inopportune and want more details on the "united will" and "united action" Dulles has advocated.

All sides seem to agree that if and when conclusive decisions are reached and some public statement is made, it must be not simply another "hands off" warning to the Chinese Reds but an announcement of determination with real teeth.

The question at this point is what kind of teeth should the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Ike Will Inaugurate New Stamp on TV

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today scheduled a 15-minute telecast from the Post Office Department to introduce America's "Liberty Stamp" to the U. S. public.

The program called for fanfare never before accorded any individual postage issue.

Printed in red, white and blue, the stamp is in the 8-cent denomination, the standard letter rate for overseas mail, and so will have its largest use on foreign deliveries.

With the Statue of Liberty in its center, it is designed to present the theme of American life to lands abroad. Postmaster General Summerfield calls it "our postal ambassador." It is the first U. S. stamp to carry the motto "In God We Trust."

French Destroy Red Trenches

Slow Commie Buildup Around Besieged Fort of Dien Bien Phu

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—French Union troops, fanning out over a wide area around Dien Bien Phu today, destroyed a long string of enemy trenches being built for a fresh assault on the northwest Indochina bastion.

Sixty rebels were killed in the operations, the French said.

A French communique said the garrison defenders again last night had an "easy night" as the Communist-led Vietminh still did not resume their direct infantry assaults on the fortress plain.

The rebels halted their second round of such frontal charges Monday after six days of murderous French gunfire and hand-to-hand combat.

But the Vietminh troops kept up their feverish digging of new foxholes and winding trenches within 600 feet of the barbed wire mazes guarding the heart of the French Union stronghold 175 miles west of Hanoi. Observers believed Communist Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap again would send his black-clad legions pouring out in another attempt to overwhelm Dien Bien Phu.

Thunderstorms and rain increased in frequency, heralding the approach by the end of the month of the monsoons. The big seasonal rains annually halt large-scale operations. Time obviously was growing short for the rebels in their try for a big victory before the Geneva conference, scheduled to start April 26.

As the main Vietminh force rested up in the hills around Dien Bien Phu, long lines of trucks and coolies still followed the roads and trails from Communist China with ammunition, other war material and rice for the rebel force.

French fighters and American-supplied B26 bombers kept up their constant attacks on the supply lines.

World's Oldest War—Battle for Indochina

The critical Far Eastern war, for control of Indochina, every day is assuming more and more personal interest to every American. American taxpayers are now paying a major share of the "foreign" war's cost. A picture story which gives the background of the fighting that could explode into the third World War starts in the Press today. The first panel appears on page 47.

Wilson Reveals Security Policy

Secretary of Defense Tells Senators of New Plan for Ousting Risks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson today announced a revised security program designed "to clean out and keep out" of the armed forces persons deemed to be security or loyalty risks.

Wilson announced the new directive, and the security-loyalty yardsticks it lays down, at a public hearing before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Its objective, he said, is to provide uniform standards for the Army, Navy and Air Force and "to speed up our procedures for getting such individuals out of the service and for keeping them out."

"I have come here this morning with a single purpose in view," Wilson said in a statement. "It is to give concrete assurance to this committee and to all concerned that the matter of subversives, Communist sympathizers, or other such security risks in the armed forces is being carefully worked out."

Counsel Ordered to Begin McCarthy Quiz on April 21

WASHINGTON (AP)—Trial lawyer Ray H. Jenkins had orders today to be ready to launch 13 days from now public Senate hearings aimed at finding the truth in the McCarthy-Army row.

Jenkins, a 57-year-old grandfather from Knoxville, Tenn., took the job of special counsel yesterday with a public pledge to fulfill it with "no prejudice, no bias."

"I have no record, publicly or otherwise, as to Sen. McCarthy or what has come to be known as McCarthyism," he told a news conference.

As special counsel to the Senate investigations subcommittee, he said, he intends to dig for and present the facts in the bitter charges involving McCarthy and high Army officials "without any favoritism, in as fair and impartial a manner as I know how."

An Army report has accused McCarthy (R-Wis.) and two of his aides of seeking favored treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a drafted former associate.

McCarthy disputed that and said Army officials sought to "blackmail" him into dropping a search for subversives in the Army. The Army denies that.

Pull Down Raid to End 19-Year Farmers' Battle

State Troopers, Lapeer Sheriff Follow Court Order Peaceably

LAPEER—Chris and Paul Ziegenhardt were evicted today from their farm home by 36 State Troopers and sheriff's deputies who descended upon "Fort Ziegenhardt" at dawn.

The elderly brothers, wrapped in blankets, were carried bodily from the $40,000 farm they lost through failure to pay a $280 assessment in the 1935 bankruptcy of a mutual insurance association.

Police equipped with tear gas and riot guns immediately blocked roads leading to the 240-acre farm as rumors persisted that Ziegenhardt sympathizers planned reprisals.

A report that Flint CIO unionists would attempt to crack the cordon tonight was officially denied by Charles Ziy, UAW-CIO international representative for the Flint region.

"If any members did attempt such action it would be as individuals and not in the name of the CIO," he declared.

The lightning raid was such a well-kept secret that neighbors of the brothers were unaware of it even two hours after the 16 squad cars ringed the farmhouse.

"You might as well take us out and shoot us," Paul, 73, told Sheriff Clark Gregory of Lapeer County as they carried him bodily from the farmhouse.

Their eviction was a sudden move in the 19-year-old legal battle of Lapeer County farmers and the brothers, who erected a sand bag and timber "Fort Ziegenhardt" on their farm to defy eviction.

The eviction was a closely guarded secret by police, who sought to avoid alerting resistance by the Ziegenhardts and their neighbors.

The Ziegenhardts were asleep when a 16-car police party surrounded the farm on M53, four miles south of Mariette.

Chris, 75, and his brother sat on the edge of their beds while Sheriff Gregory read the eviction writ obtained by Mrs. Grace S. White, Lapeer attorney who bought the farm for $13,000 at an auction ordered by the Michigan Supreme Court in 1948.

The writ was issued by Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn of Lapeer.

"We own this farm," Chris said.

"Let Timothy Quinn come here like a man."

"Just give us a little time," Paul said. "We never got no notice."

"I'm not here to discuss the case," Gregory said. "I've got my orders."

The brothers were carried to the edge of M53 by sheriff's deputies. They were then taken to a Mariette Hospital though neither was injured in the eviction.

Sheriff Gregory ordered a tractor dispatched to the farm to tear down "Fort Ziegenhardt" and rip (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

4th of 6 Countries Join in EDC Plan

LUXEMBOURG (AP)—The European army plan has cleared four out of six parliamentary hurdles but the highest still looms ahead, and probably far ahead.

Tiny Luxembourg became the fourth nation to approve the European Defense Community Treaty last night when the grand duchy's one-house Assembly ratified it 46-4. The Parliament's four Communist deputies cast the only votes against it.

Others approving the six-nation pact so far are Belgium, the Netherlands and West Germany.

Italy and France have yet to act. The measure was introduced in the Italian Chamber of Deputies Tuesday, but no vote is expected until the fall, after Parliament's long summer vacation.

A date has not even been set for debate in the French Chamber of Deputies, where opposition is strong from both the right and left.

CONFERENCE—Sheriff Gregory of Lapeer confers with Paul Ziegenhardt this morning before State Troopers evicted Paul and his brother, Chris, from their farm. "You might as well shoot me," Paul told the sheriff. The eviction was accomplished without shooting.

Evict Ziegenhardts in Dawn Raid Today to the ground signs the brothers used to advertise their fight. Two moving vans pulled into the farmyard as the brothers were taken to the hospital. Moving crews began removal operations. A Wisconsin family, identified only by the last name of "Baylist," was reported ready to occupy the farm home.

The interior of the Ziegenhardt home was in unbelievable disorganization. Ceiling lights were exposed where plaster had fallen. Waist-high piles of newspapers cluttered their bedroom. A potbelly stove was ice-cold. A 1947 dust-covered calendar hung on the wall. Egg shells and crumbs littered the floor.

In the farmyard, a number of dead chickens and cats were found. Eighteen head of undernourished cattle were in a barn.

Harold Jarvis, 37, who was a helper on the farm, was asleep in a gatehouse office when authorities arrived.

He was taken into custody to prevent possible agitation by Ziegenhardt sympathizers. No charges were placed against him.

Gregory also handed the brothers a $3,750 levy on their personal property, a judgment obtained by Mrs. White for the Ziegenhardts occupying the farm after the Lapeer woman purchased it a few years ago.

The eviction was the second attempt by police to take possession of the 340-acre farm that the Ziegenhardts purchased in 1903. On March 13, 1951, police evicted them but irate neighbors moved them back in.

The Ziegenhardts and several hundred Lapeer County farmers protested payment of assessments when the Lapeer Farmers Mutual Assn. collapsed in 1935. They were association members.

Their battle took them to the Michigan Supreme Court more than 50 times. Violence ended in prison sentences for three men involved in obstruction of justice.

State laws of mutual companies controlled the Farmers Insurance Association. They provide that members underwrite operation costs and losses.

In protesting farmers challenged the legality of the assessments and charged mismanagement of the association.

"Fort Ziegenhardt," a three-sided bastion near the farm house, was never used for a pitched battle with the law. It served to dramatize the fight against the assessments.

Friends estimate the Ziegenhardts have paid "at least $18,000" to fight the $280 assessment.

Paul once said that "I only went to the fourth grade, but I know what I believe in."

The smoothness of the eviction was in contrast to Sheriff Gregory's move to evict the late Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens of nearby

Clifford, Like the Ziegenhardts, the widow refused to pay the bankruptcy assessment and lost her 80-acre farm.

Gregory and a deputy were maneuvered by a mob of farmers June 2, 1952, when they sought to evict the widow.

Mrs. Stevens, who later was evicted, had refused to pay a $172 assessment ordered by the insurance association's receivers. Her $3,000 farm was also purchased at auction by Mrs. White for $500.

Irwin C. Russell, 60, of Lapeer, and Floyd Schreiber, 60, of Almont, were each sentenced to 2 years imprisonment for obstructing the eviction of Mrs. Stevens, Russell is in Southern Michigan Prison. Schreiber, father of nine children, is free on $200 bond while appealing.

Clayton C. Gilliland, 65, self-styled Detroit investigator, was convicted last Dec. 24 for conspiracy to obstruct the widow's eviction. He currently is appealing his sentence of 4½ to 5 years imprisonment.

Gilliland spearheaded a members committee of farmers fighting the bankruptcy assessments. He at one time unsuccessfully sought a 23-man grand jury investigation of the legal aspects of the assessment battle.

In an appeal to the embattled farmers to end the long dispute, Joseph M. Navarre, state insurance commissioner, once said:

"Every mature person has at some time in his life felt that he suffered an injustice. Usually he will go to reasonable lengths to see that it is corrected."

"But there must always come a time when he concludes that the past must be left behind, and that nursing his grievances will destroy his value to himself and to the community in which he lives."

policy decisions be backed up by naval forces, air forces, ground forces, or some combination of these?

Eisenhower's refusal at his news conference yesterday to spell out probable free world action if the Chinese Communists move in force into Indochina caused some senators to speculate that a program of limited counteraction is in the making.

Among these, Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said he sees no need to use U. S. troops in Indochina, but he added in an interview:

"In case of a crisis there, we may need to use naval power and undoubtedly air power. I don't think anything we are doing now contemplates employing American manpower in Asia but quite conceivably it calls for air and naval power."

Smith, who is chairman of a Senate Foreign Relations Far Eastern subcommittee, applauded Eisenhower's call for concerted action by the nations of the free world to prevent an anti-Communist defeat in Indochina and resultant falling-domino collapse of Burma, Thailand, Indonesia and other Southeast Asia nations now outside the Red orbit.

Almost without exception senators who commented agreed with the President's view that the loss of Indochina would hinder the U. S. island defensive chain of Japan, Formosa, the Philippines and threaten Australia and New Zealand.

strategic roads to bar possible violence.

The remaining cars pulled up in front of the farmhouse simultaneously shortly before 7 a. m. They had maintained contact by short-wave police radios.

State troopers from as far away as Bay City joined the Lapeer deputies.

The strategy differed from the vain eviction attempt in 1951 in that the officers ruled out a rendezvous area for fear the disturbance would alert Ziegenhardt sympathizers.

The Ziegenhardts earlier had fortified the farmhouse and vowed never to leave the farm alive.

Observers believe that threat was not carried out today because of the strategy used by the deputies and the state troopers.

Stravinsky Gets Boot at Opera

Famed Composer and 2 Companions Ousted Because of Attire

ROME (U)—World-famed composer Igor Stravinsky and a party of friends got the bum's rush at the Rome Opera House last night because their suits weren't of the dress variety.

Wearing dark, but not formal, attire, the trio showed up for a performance of a new German opera, Henze's "Boulevard Solitude," being presented in connection with the current International Conference of Composers, Performers and Music Critics.

Stravinsky is chairman of the conference's musical advisory board. His companions last night, conductor Robert Craft of Hollywood and composer Ned Rorem of New York and Paris, are attending the congress. A late meeting had prevented their changing clothes.

The conference secretary, Nicholas Nabokov, also was along but he was dressed up. Later he told what happened:

"We were stopped at the door and told we could not be admitted because we were not properly attired. I explained to Mr. Stravinsky. The doorman said, all right, he could go in—but not the others."

"Mr. Stravinsky said he would not enter unless the others were admitted. We asked for the manager, saying Mr. Stravinsky was being stopped at the door. The manager sent some helpers to say he was too busy to bother with us."

"When we protested, a strong-arm squad appeared. There was quite a noisy and violent scene. It really looked like a scramble for a moment."

"Well, we left. Apparently the Rome Opera never heard of Igor Stravinsky. Anyway, he didn't hear the Rome Opera."

Despondent Widow Dies Under Train

DETROIT (INS)—An elderly Detroit woman died of injuries received yesterday when she jumped in front of a diesel switch engine at a Grand Trunk Railroad crossing in Detroit.

Witnesses said Mrs. Katherine Dlugoski, 64, whom relatives described as despondent over the death of her husband, appeared to wait for the train to come abreast before she leaped.

Engineer Frank Stanish, 38, said he thought the woman was waiting to cross the tracks. The engine was traveling about 20 miles an hour at the impact.

Team Sponsor Arrested in Theft of Equipment

CLEVELAND (U)—The FBI says a Mansfield, Ohio, man stole a set of basketball uniforms from an Air Force depot to outfit a YMCA league team he sponsored.

Charles E. Taylor, 39, was arrested yesterday in Mansfield and brought here for arraignment. Since the uniforms were worth less than $100, conviction would result in a maximum of a year in jail.

The uniforms were stolen last year from the Wilkins Air Force Depot at Shelby, Ohio, where Taylor worked as a business machine operator. His basketball team, which the FBI says played this year in the uniforms, was called the Taylor bombers.

Duckling Perfect for Easter Table

Are you planning a special Easter dinner and haven't yet settled on the menu?

Here is an idea that we think you will like — duckling a natural for the day — with springtime stuffing so colorful and gay that it will match the flowers on the table or the new hat you just bought.

Finish your menu with buttered fresh asparagus, pickled beets, green salad, hot rolls and daffodil cake — making a very special dinner for Easter or any day of the year.

Duckling With Springtime Stuffing

- 1 Long Island duckling, 4 to 5 pounds ready-to-cook weight
- 1/2 cup fat
- 1/2 cup minced onion
- 2 cups shredded carrots
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon rubbed marjoram
- Chopped giblets and neck meat
- 2 tablespoons duck broth
- 4 cups finely cubed day-old bread
- 1/2 cup minced parsley
- 2 tablespoons honey
- 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet

Prepare duckling for roasting. Cook giblets and neck in 2 cups unsalted water until tender, about 45 minutes. Melt fat in large frying pan over moderate heat. Add onion and cook, stirring frequently, until just tender, about 5 minutes. Add carrots, salt, marjoram, chopped giblets and neck meat and duck broth.

Cover, lower heat and allow to simmer for about 3 minutes. Remove from heat, add and mix in bread cubes. Lightly stir in parsley. Stuff duck lightly. Close vent by lacing string around poultry pins inserted from side to side. Roast on rack in open pan in 325 oven until tender and brown, about 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

About 15 minutes before duck is done brush all over with mixture of honey and kitchen bouquet. Serve immediately with your favorite orange sauce, or a gravy made from the roast duck drippings, made festive by the addition of a can of sliced broiled mushrooms. Serves 4.

Nutmeat Yield

A pound of walnuts in the shell usually makes about 1 2/3 cups nutmeats; a pound of almonds in the shell makes about 1 1/2 cups nutmeats; a pound of filberts in the shell makes about 1 1/2 cups nutmeats.

DUCKLING WITH SPRINGTIME STUFFING—nip "calla lilies." Cut very thin slices from a peeled turnip. Curl into lily shape, fasten with a green pick and tuck a pointed carrot pistil in the center.

One Coffee Tree Supplies Family Only One Week

Coffee is cheap at about 2 1/2 cents per cup in your home.

Fifty two trees just for you—it takes an entire coffee tree to supply one American family with coffee for one week.

A crop in five years—It takes a coffee tree five years to bear after planting. If frost or other things kill a farmer's trees, it will be five years before he can hope to have any income—if he is not too broke to start over.

Hand picked—4500 to the pound—Coffee trees must be picked by hand, one berry at a time. There are approximately 4,500 beans in one pound.

Coffee in the depression—During the 1930s, coffee growers were on such starvation prices that a great many allowed their trees to die. They plowed up land for other products and there are no new trees.

More coffee drinkers — At about this time, people all over the world gradually began drinking more coffee. After World War II, many European countries started buying coffee—some who had used almost none before.

Coffee countries try to catch up—As the coffee countries realized demand was picking up and that they would not starve to death growing coffee, they began new planting. We had expected a bumper crop this year.

The kiss of death—Then the big frosts (worst in 35 years) hit Brazil. Many a planter's life's work was wiped out and there were several suicides. Others have very little coffee to sell—therefore, must get more for what is left.

The mysterious "They"—People ask, "What are 'They' doing to coffee? What are 'they' going to do about coffee?" There is no "they." There is positively no nation, group or any one person who is making a "killing." Also, coffee is one of the few products whose price is affected only by supply and demand.

The ideal way for a coffee grower or coffee roaster to make money is to sell a lot of coffee at the cheapest possible price. Of course rising prices sometimes overshoot from momentum. It is possible there could be a lowering later.

Our good customers and friends—Coffee countries manufacture very little of anything. They buy almost everything from the U.S.—and you know what some of our prices are like. Their heavy purchases help, in a big way, to keep our wheels of industry turning—to make work for American labor. In our fight against communism some of our very staunchest friends are among the coffee countries.

Soak Saucepans

Get in the habit of soaking your saucepans and baking pans as soon as you empty them; they'll be that much easier to wash later.

Lapps Languish as Lapp Lassies Shun Lapp Lads.

KIRUNA, Swedish Lapland (UP)—There's a domestic crisis in this part of Lapland because Lapp girls won't marry Lapp boys.

Some authorities here believe the Lapps, now numbering about 30,000 in Sweden, Norway and Finland, may be a vanishing race if the tendency continues.

"One of the biggest problems in Lapland is for a young man to find a wife," said Erik Thulin, a Swede who has lived with the Lapps in their tent homes to study their ways. "Few of the Lapp girls are willing to marry them. They want to escape the hardships of life here."

When they can, the girls in Swedish Lapland marry Swedes, which insures them a higher living standard. Swedish girls, in return, are unwilling to marry Lapp boys and share their rough, nomadic life.

Since a Lapp boy in Swedish Lapland has almost no hope of marrying at all unless he can find a Lapp bride, the bachelors are already making courting forays among the less numerous Lapps over the border in Finland. That presumably adds to the shortage of brides there too.

Organizes Golden Agers

REVERE, Mass. (UP)—The city manager recently organized the Golden Age Club and more than 100 men and women over 65 already are members. The idea is to provide a place where lonely oldsters can get together for entertainment and mental improvement.

Susan Hayward Divorce Trial Is Set for June 14

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Susan Hayward and Jess Barker have been unable to resolve any of their marital disagreements, and Miss Hayward's divorce suit will go to trial June 14.

The date was set yesterday following the failure of a pretrial conference before Superior Judge Herbert Walker.

Tyrone Power Defends Actors for Job Refusal

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tyrone Power today sprang to the defense of himself and other top male stars who have been accused of partly causing the production slowdown in Hollywood.

An independent producer recently rushed into print with a statement decrying a lot of top stars for refusing to work. This has helped stall filming in Hollywood, he claimed. He also asserted that he sent John Wayne a $400,000 check to do a picture and it was returned uncashed.

Another producer claimed to have sent a $350,000 check to Clark Gable for a film commitment. It was also sent back.

Why would stars turn down such fabulous offers? Ty Power explains:

"Supposing Clark had taken that $350,000. When it is added to his other earnings, he'd probably get to keep $15,000 or $20,000 out of it. So the salary itself doesn't represent any great profit.

"But it's not just a matter of money. Actors like myself, Wayne, Gable, Gary Cooper, Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas and others named by that producer—whose name escapes me right now—no longer have studio contracts to protect us.

"The only real security we have is our talent. Our livelihood depends on getting good scripts. If we are willing to do just any picture in order to make money, we might hurt our chances to continue earning good money. It's not the salary that attracts us; it's what is between the two covers of a script."

Power illustrated with his current film, "The Long Gray Line." Although he and John Ford—Irishmen both—were long at 20th Century-Fox, they never did a picture together. The director always swore he would find a script they could do together. He finally found it at Columbia, the story of Marty Maher, long-time athletic trainer at West Point. Ty ages from a young man to 70 and talks with a brogue. Don't be surprised if he gets a long overdue Oscar for the role.

WONDERFUL FUN—Rosalind Russell, relinquishing her role in the New York stage hit, "Wonderful Town," to go to Hollywood for a new movie role, seems to be having a wonderful time at her farewell party. At left, she beats out a farewell tattoo on the drums, and at right, coproducer Robert Fryer rates a high-kicking hug as he presents the cast's gift, a silver cigarette lighter.

Bob Considine Says:

Two Fine Old Editors Die, Belonged to Rough Days

NEW YORK (INS)—Two great old editors, Walter Howey and Jack Lait died within days of each other recently after a half century and more of the rough and tumble journalism whose gradual disappearance brings sadness to so many in the business.

Their obits read fine, even in the newspapers whose circulations and prestige suffered in bygone days at their nimble minds and willing hands. Fine men, hard workers, heavy contributors to the lore of the game, etc.

Talked today with a man who worked with both Howey and Lait—Charlie MacArthur, coauthor of "The Front Page" and a lot of other hits.

"Lait probably started more reporters writing plays, novels, short-stories and the like—on this side—than any other working newspaperman," MacArthur said.

"He was a miracle to the rest of us around Chicago in those days. That's when he was on the Herald, under Jim Keeley.

"Jack would cover the main story, write a feature on the side, turn out a novelette during lunch, and show up at the ball game. There was never anybody who could touch him for output under pressure. Sure, there was pressure. The Herald's circulation staff carried guns, like the others."

MacArthur worked for Howey. "He was Walter Burns, the managing editor in 'The Front Page'—pore by pore," Charlie said. "He pretended he was mad when he first saw it. But he got over that. We were great friends... shared a lot of assignments together—great assignments.

"I went up to Boston to New England General to see him not long before he died. You know the circumstances, don't you? It was the Book of Job all over again.

"Broke his back a few years ago, then it was broken again, along with a lot of ribs, when a runaway cab broke off a mail box in a Boston street and the thing hit him like a shell.

"While he was in a coma he caught pneumonia and the wife he idolized died, but he told him she was dead and buried when he came out of the fog... but he carried on. Was full of beans and ginger the last day I saw him. He was sitting up in bed, editing his obituary.

"Quite a man, Howey," MacArthur mused. "You know, he was the only Chicago editor to back Big Bill Thompson when Thompson ran on a 'punch King George in the nose' platform. Thompson was so grateful he assigned a police lieutenant and two sergeants to help our city staff.

"We broke the Carl Wanderer case by having Carl 'arrested' by one of our officers and taken to a Chicago hotel. We sweat him a bit through the night and he finally confessed he and not the 'mysterious stranger' had killed the old lady. We came out with his confession at the same time the Trib was saying the city was going to decorate him for bravely trying to defend his wife.

"I could go on..." Charlie said.

Bishop Attacks Probe Group

Oxnam Talks in Detroit, Says Committee Files Hearsay Allegations

DETROIT (AP)—Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam last night attacked the House Committee on Un-American Activities saying it was "incompetent, irresponsible and lacking in integrity."

Bishop Oxnam, who is from the Washington area, talked at a lecture series at Detroit's Central Methodist Church.

He appeared voluntarily before the House committee last summer and since has been touring the country speaking against the group's methods.

Bishop Oxnam said the files of the committee were packed with derogatory reports about him personally and many other persons.

"This committee has files on a million persons," he said. "Its so-called public files are composed of newspaper clippings, letterheads, hearsay, allegations made by miscellaneous individuals or organizations, and rumors."

"...They are unverified and un-evaluated," he said. "The committee assumes no responsibility for the material released does not represent a conclusion of the committee."

"Such derogatory statements can easily take the earning capacity away from a person and ruin his reputation in the community."

Senate Approves Highway Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate passed a bill late Wednesday to boost federal aid for highway construction to $1,010,000,000 annually for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1955.

Present highway budget is $652,500,000.

Dutch Architect Says U.S. Needs Town Planning

CHICAGO (UP)—Willem Dudok, Dutch architect and town planner, sharply disagrees with the advocates of extreme functional architecture.

"Why only visible construction should be considered as honest work has never become clear to me," he said in a lecture here.

"Architecture is simply a game of space. We must play that in our own way, expressing the time in which we live."

American cities, he said, are daring in architecture and engineering but lack organic town planning.

For one thing, he said, it is now necessary to begin thinking about limiting the size of cities to achieve decentralization.

One way to do that, he said, is by surrounding towns or sections of cities with parks and landscaped areas on which building would be prohibited.

"If America could come to recognize the need for town planning on a large scale, expressing a clear form, it would be a country of unlimited architectural possibilities," he said.

Averages Make Question Perfectly Reasonable

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UP)—Two hotel diners were asked if they represented a delegation to a meeting of the Young Republican Club of Vermont. The two men looked at each other in surprise, smiled and politely said they weren't.

They were State Highway Board chairman Cleon A. Perkins and State Tax Commissioner Leonard W. Morrison—the only Democrats holding high state positions in Vermont, a Republican stronghold.

COLDWATER (UP)—Paul Baker, 35, of Bronson, faced examination today on an involuntary manslaughter charge in the traffic death of Frank P. Yesh, 75, also of Bronson.

A warrant was served on Baker Wednesday as he left Memorial Hospital at Sturgis. He was injured in the accident that killed Yesh last Sunday.

Held in County Jail here, Baker was to appear before Justice of the Peace Irving Stansell.

Grandma of 60 Still Dives Afire

Tours With Carnivals
Performing Feats That Defy Deaths

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—Ella Carver looks like the hundreds of gray-haired grandmothers who have come to the Florida Gulf Coast to relax in the sun, chat with their neighbors and knit sweaters for their grandchildren. But Miss Carver, who uses her maiden name, doesn't knit or gossip for relaxation.

Her idea of a good time is to climb a 90-foot steel tower, coat herself with gasoline, set it afire, and dive into a steel tank containing 5 feet of water.

Another one of her amusements is to climb on one of her five trained horses, and then with her mount leap from a 40-foot tower into a tank of water 12 feet deep. Ella Carver, at 60, is a carnival performer—has been since she was 10 and following her father around the carnival circuit.

Her father originated the diving horse act the year she was born.

"Heights have never worried me," said Miss Carver. "When I was a kid in Bluefield, W. Va., I climbed every tree in the county. My mother always worried about me."

Her seven brothers and sisters decided against a carnival career. Her son, Lewis, tried the act for a while but quit to join the Navy.

The performing grandmother toured Japan and other parts of the Orient twice before World War II and still laughs over some of the experiences on the return trip. "I kept in shape by doing aerial acts on the ship's rigging," she said. "Once I dived off the ship's bridge when we were anchored. The captain was horrified."

She has been burned repeatedly in her "fire dive," but never seriously enough to cancel her act.

Actually, Miss Carver said she can remember only a few occasions when she was at all uneasy.

Once was at Iron Mountain, Mich., in 1938, when she misjudged a dive and hit her head on the bottom of the tank.

"My son pulled me out," she said. "I made a bow to the audience in the dressing room."

Hunters Gang Pheasant; Two Are Wounded

FRANKLIN, Pa. (UP)—Three Venango County hunters following fresh snow tracks trailed a pheasant into a hole in the bottom of a pine tree. The three surrounded the tree spaced about 30 feet apart. The ringneck was frightened out of its hiding place and all three fired.

Results, according to a report made to the state game commission—one dead pheasant, two wounded hunters.

If adenoids are not removed soon enough, they can cause permanent deafness.

High School Seniors Plan to Run Milford Business

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Pontiac Press Correspondent
MILFORD — Community high school students will try something different this spring.

Instead of their usual day at the reins of village government, seniors will become businessmen for

Under a plan suggested by George Richardson, a merchant, 80 seniors of the Huron Valley school system will take over 30 Milford stores May 5.

Senior class officers, Richardson, Chamber of Commerce President Charles Newell, Principal Erwin Johnson and a committee representing the 30 stores held a luncheon meeting at the high school Wednesday to work out details for the day.

Seniors, with the sophomore and junior classes helping, began an advertising campaign today urging shoppers to patronize the stores May 5.

Stores, which usually close Wednesday's, will stay open May 5. Seniors, it was agreed, will take the profits from sales between noon and 6 p. m. Profit in excess of $500 will go into a Chamber of Commerce fund.

Under the agreement, they can make a net profit not to exceed $500. To make them conscious of the business problems they must pay $100 toward the advertising campaign before figuring their net profits.

All profits will go into a fund for the senior class trip to Washington. The seniors have adopted the slogan "On to Washington" for the advertising campaign.

Senior class officers will meet Wednesday with their principal and the committee representing the stores to make further plans for the student-business day.

Richardson heads the committee which represents 41 merchants in the stores. Others on the committee are Lowell Newcomb and Warren Spitzer.

Senior class officers are Paul Shoemaker, president; Robert Stallsmith, vice president; JoAnn Wheaton, secretary, and Margaret Cece, treasurer. The class adviser is Lester Howe.

Teachers Reject Pay Raise Offer

Grievance Committee Holding 49 Contracts Without Signatures

HOLLY — A possible battle is shaping up here between the Holly Area School Board and 49 holdout teachers who have demanded more money and whose signed contracts must be in the hands of the board one week from today.

The teachers have formed a committee to air their grievances. Percy Fry is their spokesman.

Of 60 teachers in the system, 49 have turned over their contracts to the committee, thereby announcing their decision to refuse and offered $250 pay increase, Fry said. They have been asking for $350.

Five other teachers have announced their decision to not come back to the system next year.

The remaining six are undecided. They have refused to allow the teachers' committee to hold their contracts but also have not returned their signed contracts to the board.

"We cannot speak for these six of them will not let the committee speak for them," Fry said Wednesday night, adding that one of the six was "ready to accept the school board's offer."

The teachers met a week ago at the Holly Elementary School and decided by secret ballot to withhold their signatures.

Fry would not say what the group will do if their pay demands are refused by the board which meets Monday night.

"The committee, which rejects its authority from the teacher group, cannot speak without a commitment from the group," Fry said.

The $350 raise is asked in addition to an annual increment pay increase, which this year amounted to $150.

The school board originally planned to grant only the scheduled teachers at a March meeting of the board prompted a $250 offering in the contracts handed out April 1.

The program, which starts with a 6:30 p. m. dinner at the First Baptist Church, will be followed by solos by Harry Wittum, tenor soloist from Flint, accompanied by Mrs. Gladys Gilbert on the organ.

Worship will start at 8 p. m. with an invocation by Rev. Harry Parker, of the First Baptist Church, with prayer by Elder Judson Habicht, of the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Other guests will be: Rev. Louis Sutton, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church; Rev. Joseph Lindsay, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; Rev. Fr. Francis Kolb, of St. Rita's Catholic Church; Rev. Robert McDonald, of the First Episcopal Church, and Rev. Frederick Burnett, retired pastor of the First Baptist Church. All are from Holly.

County Spring Sports Activity Gets Started

By JACK SAYLOR
Spring sports, which will keep prep athletes busy until the school term ends in June are scheduled to get into full swing this week, providing there is a little cooperation from the weatherman.

First baseball game is listed today with Waterford playing at Cranbrook. Other diamond action sends Howell to Northville and Brighton to Pinckney.

Track activity picks up Friday when Pontiac High's thin-clads go to Mt. Pleasant for the Arthur Hill-Saginaw Relays at Central Michigan College. Locally, two other meets are slated, with Waterford going to O.L. St. Mary and Keego Harbor to Clarkston.

Waterford will be trying to overthrow runnerup rating in both baseball and track in the Inter-Lakes Conference. Southfield is the I-L baseball champ, while Walled Lake has won the track title for the past six years.

Other defending baseball champs include Roseville in the Oakland B, Imlay City in the South Central and Holly and Clarenceville, who tied in the Wayne-Oakland. Romeo won the Tri-County pennant last spring, but there is no league baseball competition this year.

Besides Walled Lake, track titles will be defended by Utica in the Bi-County, Romeo in the Tri-County, Milford in the Wayne-Oakland and Ortonville in the South Central.

In golf, Brighton won the Wayne-Oakland and Southfield the Inter-Lakes, while Birmingham is defending champion in the Pontiac Press Invitational prep meet.

Friday's meet, with O.L. St. Mary should shed some light on Waterford's chances. Skipper coach Jack Hackett has a 55-man squad, including nine lettermen, and feels prospects are the best ever at the suburban Class A school.

Standout returnees include dashmen Ray Campbell and Kerry Keating, hurdler Laine Hetherington and shot putter-high jumper Jim Holton. In addition, Hackett has a good-looking sophomore crop.

Meanwhile, St. Mary opened Wednesday by routing Southfield of the Inter-Lakes, 79-30. Pacing the Eagles were hurdler Walt Boguzki and dash man Bob Leszczynski with two wins each and Vince Pernicki, who turned in a 2:06.7 half mile.

New coaches are numerous in the Oakland County area this spring. Walled Lake's tracksters will be without their highly-successful coach, Rollie Langerman. Now a junior high principal, he will coach only cross country.

Langerman's assistant for the past two years, Don Smith, takes over. Chet Aubuchon has turned over Holly track chores to Don Harrower in favor of golf, while Jim Gibbard has moved from Roseville to Hazel Park, as Gus Paulos takes over at Roseville.

Other new track coaches are Tom Hughes at Avondale, Len

Visser at Lake Orion and Neal Jordan at Berkley. In addition to Aubuchon, other new golf mentors this season are Hobart Doerr at Bloomfield Hills, Joe Borovich at Birmingham, Bob Lichty at Milford, Earl Bye at Farmington and DeForest McIntyre at Walled Lake.

Birmingham and Milford also have new baseball bosses. Lew Parry replaces Vince Secontine with the Maples and Dick Yeager will handle the Redskin nine.

Dave Freeman is Waterford's new baseball coach, while Ed Fedorsky and Ed Clauss have the reins at Oxford and Rochester, respectively.

Skippers' Nine Meets Cranes This Afternoon

Contest on Cranbrook Diamond Opens Prep Baseball Campaign

Waterford and Cranbrook are slated to tip off the 1954 prep baseball season this afternoon on the Cranbrook diamond at 4 p. m. Cranes, coached by Fred Campbell, are fresh from a successful southern tour on which they won three and tied one of five games played. Another was rained out.

Waterford is operating under a new coach, Dave Freeman. He has a good supply of veterans on hand and if the Skippers' pitching holds up, they could be a strong factor in the forthcoming Inter-Lakes Conference race.

Campbell has tabbed either Steve Hayes or Dave Morris to work against the Skippers today.

Freeman's opening game lineup and batting order has Loren Bray, lf; Jim Lesar, c; Bill Wood, 2b; Jim Altard, 1b; Bill Gard, cf; Dale Hoobler, ss; Chuck Plese, rf; Larry Brown, 3b; and Barry Fell, p.

Furgol Placed on Probation, Violated Ethics

AUGUSTA, Ga. (INS).—Marty Furgol was on six-months probation today after paying fines with Doug Ford and Bill Nary for violation of the golfer's code of ethics.

Furgol, who was defeated by Ford in a playoff for the Greensboro Open title Monday, was fined $250 and placed on probation by the professional golfers association executive committee yesterday for heckling Ford during the Greensboro play and for earlier remarks before a gallery at Wilmington.

Ford and Nary were fined $50 each for loud arguing before fans at Greensboro over rule interpretations.

U-D Coach Is Mayor

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Detroit may not have the best football team in the country. But it's the only team which boasts a grid coach who also is a mayor. He is line coach Ken Stille who is mayor of Clairton, Pa.

Masters Tourney Opens Today

Hogan Believes His Mark May Fall This Year

Porky Oliver Fires 64 in Wednesday's Final Practice Round

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP)—The big boys of the 20th anniversary Masters Golf Tournament showed their hot practice rounds into the back-ground today and settled down to the deadly serious business of playing under pressure.

With a field of brilliant golfers such as the Masters draws, the pressure is terrific. Sensationally low practice rounds don't mean a thing when they start playing for keeps.

Take it from Ed (Porky) Oliver, the Lemont, Ill., veteran who was runnerup to Ben Hogan in the 1933 Masters. Porky fired a 34-36-64 in practice yesterday, matching the competitive record for the Augusta National Course.

It was the lowest tuneup round turned in, but Porky wasn't exactly overjoyed about it.

"I don't like these kind," the hefty man commented. "They do not count."

He may have remembered last year, when Lloyd Mangrum fired a practice 63 and took a 74 in the opening round.

Low scoring in the warmups may have prompted Hogan's prediction that his record 274 of last year will be broken. The little perfectionist from Texas is about the only one suggesting a new record, though.

Most folks think Ben's 14-under-shot performance last year will give the boys something to shoot at for years to come, although Jack Burke Jr. has bettered it in practice.

Marty Furgol had a 36-30-66 yesterday over the rolling course which usually plays about 6,800 yards during the Masters. Par is 36-36-72.

With a record 79 players entered, 78 of the field were pondering pretty much the same question: "Is it possible to beat that little guy Hogan?"

Being a target for all the other contestants did nothing to lessen the pressure on the defending champ. But pressure never seems to bother the current ruler of golf, who went on from his Masters' triumph last year to capture the U. S. and British Opens.

The picturesque course, where President Eisenhower likes to play, makes a man earn every par he scores, but it was in fine shape. Because of the record field, starting time was advanced half an hour. Two oldtimers, Fred McLeod and Jock Hutchinson, drew the honor of teeing off the tournament at 10:30 a.m. (EST).

MR. MASTERS'—Ben Hogan, a target for all other contestants in the Masters golf tournament opening today at Augusta, Ga., has predicted that his record 274 will be broken this year. Hogan fired the 14-under-par total last year to win his second Masters title.

New Leaders Arise in ABC

All-Events Standings Shuffled in Individual, Team Divisions

SEATTLE (UP)—There were new 1st place holders in the all-events and team all-events standings of the American Bowling Congress today as the 51st annual tournament went into its 20th day.

The all-events lead was the property of Carmen Salvo, 30-year-old bowling instructor from Chicago. His 1935 total, put together on a 611 doubles score, 626 singles and 608 team play, knocked Detroit's Tony Lindemann into second spot.

New leader of the team all-events ladder is Tri-Par Radio of Chicago, which tallied 3226 to bump Strohs Beer of Detroit from the throne room by eight points.

Joe Wilman of Berwyn, Ill., three times an ABC champion, knocked over 1906 pins for fifth place in the all-events.

State Still is Receiving Deer Starvation Reports

LANSING (UP)—Conservation department game officials said today they still are receiving reports of deer starvation in the Mio district and in Montmorency and Alpena counties and in the west half of the Upper Peninsula.

However, deer were reported to be ranging freely in most other Lower Peninsula areas.

Four Holes-in-One Have Been Posted in Masters

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP)—The Masters, regarded as one of the nation's three finest golf tournaments, got under way today. Off past performances it should provide some of the year's finest divot drama by the time the last putt is holed.

Not that the boys always have to putt. Because there have been no less than four holes in one in this select affair—aces which proved that one shot doesn't always win a tournament.

Ross Somerville had one in 1934, Ray Billows in 1940, Claude Harmon in 1947 and John Dawson in 1949. Dawson finished 16th with his helpful ace while the others were out of sight.

Of course one shot can win a tournament.

Jimmy Demaret, Sam Snead and Gene Sarazen all proved that. Joviel James won in 1947 despite a drive into water on the 15th hole. He played it out to within inches of the cup for a birdie.

Snead was leading going to the 12th hole in 1952 when he hacked three times into a bank below the green—and then holed out his blind shot to protect his winning margin.

Sarazen canned the most famous shot of all when he holed out a 230-yard spoon shot for a double eagle which tied Craig Wood—and then won the playoff.

Young fellows with hot practice rounds have been getting a big pre-tournament buildup but "Wee Bobby" Cruikshank could warn them about that. In 1938 he had a first nine practice round of 29—and finished 18th.

Anybody can blow hot and cold, as Wood proved in 1936. Craig opened with a fat 88, and scored a 67 the next time—a difference of 21 strokes. Imagine being disgusted with an 88.

MSC Netters at .500

EAST LANSING (UP)—Michigan State's tennis team, which ended its training trip with three wins and three losses, opens its regular season with a home match against Wayne April 27.

Pat McCormick is the only woman ever to hold all five AAU diving titles within one single year's competition.

Delay Is Seen for Allen Appointment

LANSING (UP)—It appeared today the state senate will adjourn this week without confirming Shirley Aen of Ann Arbor as a member of the Michigan Conservation Commission.

However, that does not mean

Aen will not be confirmed this year. Senate could not act on his appointment when it returns in mid-May for also die adjournment.

Aen, a retired University of Michigan forestry professor, was named to the commission last September to succeed Harold W. Gassen of Lansing.

Aen's appointment was made after the senate rejected Ben East of Hoy as Gassen's successor.

Girl Bowler Hits High

CHICAGO (UP)—Dolly Becker's 723 was the highest league series ever bowled by a woman in this city. It was the first "over 700 series" in two years. Dolly's high was rolled in the Ladies Classic held here in February.

Seven of the nine Minneapolis Lakers have blonde hair.

Corn Steadies After Decline

CHICAGO (AP)—Active demand for wheat futures pushed prices a cent or more higher in early dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Corn steadied after Wednesday's decline and oats and rye were about steady.

Soybeans advanced, at times more than a couple cents, in a mild recovery from the previous session's five-cent slide. All derivatives shared in the upturn.

During the first hour wheat was 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents higher, May $2.17 1/2, corn was 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May $1.45 1/2, oats were 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, May $1.06 1/2, and rye was 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May $1.06 1/2.

Soybeans were 1/4 to 1/2 cents higher, May $3.62 1/2 and were unevenly 22 cents higher to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $19.92.

Michigan Youth Gets 3 Years in Arkansas

MONTICELLO, Ark. — Justice followed swiftly upon the two hitch-hiker robberies in this area. One day after the crimes John R. Sexton, 24, of Vanduser, Mo., were sentenced to prison terms Wednesday.

Circuit Judge John Golden sentenced Raymond to two 3-year terms and Sexton, an ex-convict, to two 8-year terms. The pair pleaded guilty to two counts of armed robbery. Their sentences will run concurrently.

The robberies were perpetrated against 75-year-old James C. Adams, of Cullendale, and James T. Edds, 19, of near Hot Springs. Both were gagged and bound to trees after the robberies.

Mamie Tops 10 Best Chapeaued Women in U.S.

NEW YORK — Mamie Eisenhower tops the list of America's "best-chapeaued" women named yesterday by 20 million designers.

Others on the list:

Mrs. Lauritz Melchior, named by John Fredericks; Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, named by Mr. John; Clara Mae Turner (Mrs. Frank Hoffman), opera singer, named by Robert Dudley; Mary Bothwell, concert singer, named by Rose Saphire; Juliana Larson (Mrs. Walter Bedford Sharpe), sup-

Teachers Told to Keep Sanity by Being Human

OKLAHOMA CITY — How can teachers make sure their mischievous charges won't drive them insane?

Dr. Percy Teska, professor of special psychology at the University of Oklahoma, listed three simple rules in an address before the senior high school section of the Oklahoma Education Assn.:

1. Admit to yourself you would like to hit the little demon in the back row with a baseball bat.
2. Don't try to act the role of a superman, with 100 times as much patience as the average human being and 1,000 times as much understanding.
3. Don't feel guilty about disciplining students.

By recognizing that you "really hate" that little terror in the back row, Teska said, you will be less inclined to actually smash his head in.

He said only one in every dozen children that are brought to the University of Oklahoma's psychological clinic can be helped "and we have near ideal conditions for therapy."

Yet, he added, teachers who tried to help these emotionally disturbed youngsters before they were sent to the clinic "have a feeling of guilt because they failed."

The psychologist added the quickest way to the asylum is believing the theory that when a teacher signs a contract she automatically becomes a "superman."

"You have the same fears, doubts, worries, hostilities and feeling you had pre-contract," he warned.

"For every teacher for whom the experience of teaching is an enhancing thing you will find 50 more for whom it is a destroying thing."

The best rule to follow?

Realize that teachers are human beings and apt-and react-like one.

NEW YORK — If you have met with repeated failure in trying to get something from life, do you try to forget your own mistakes?

"Why not, instead, put your fizzes out in the open on a shelf—so you can keep learning from them?"

This theory helped Lloyd Preston Gardner, an RCA electronics engineer, to develop the world's most powerful vacuum tube. It took him 10 stubborn years and 2,000 separate fizzes to fail his way to victory.

The new super-tube—it has 2,337 parts—enables the U.S. Navy for the first time in its history to keep in instantaneous touch by wireless with any of its airplanes, surface vessels, submarines or land outposts anywhere in the world.

It is also used in secret government projects. It is a big step toward the automatic factory of the future, in which electronic equipment will take the place of many human workmen.

The "fizzle shelf" is not just a figure of speech with Gardner, who is also a practical philosopher. The story of his own final success is dramatically told by a four-row glass fizzle shelf in his office which still holds the results of hundreds of adverse laboratory experiments.

Engineer Makes Progress by 2,000 Fizzles on Shelf

NEW YORK — If you have met with repeated failure in trying to get something from life, do you try to forget your own mistakes?

"Why not, instead, put your fizzes out in the open on a shelf—so you can keep learning from them?"

This theory helped Lloyd Preston Gardner, an RCA electronics engineer, to develop the world's most powerful vacuum tube. It took him 10 stubborn years and 2,000 separate fizzes to fail his way to victory.

The new super-tube—it has 2,337 parts—enables the U.S. Navy for the first time in its history to keep in instantaneous touch by wireless with any of its airplanes, surface vessels, submarines or land outposts anywhere in the world.

It is also used in secret government projects. It is a big step toward the automatic factory of the future, in which electronic equipment will take the place of many human workmen.

The "fizzle shelf" is not just a figure of speech with Gardner, who is also a practical philosopher. The story of his own final success is dramatically told by a four-row glass fizzle shelf in his office which still holds the results of hundreds of adverse laboratory experiments.

In 1953 Gardner, who holds some of dead former patients in his waiting room.

"I was taught not to be ashamed of failing," he said. "There is no reason for either shame or humiliation if things don't turn out as you expect."

"Even in simple experiments I'd say we get what we hope for only about 15 per cent of the time. But we wouldn't have the 15 per cent except for the experiments that are 85 per cent unsuccessful."

"That's why I say failure is our best teacher. If a man doesn't keep a museum of his failures—at least in his own mind—he's hiding from things that could help him most."

Gardner, who is 50, is still a bachelor.

"That's my biggest fizzle of all," he said, smiling wryly. "And how to turn that mistake into a profit baffles me. I love children dearly."

Is there any girl with shelf room for a pleasant-faced engineer with a steady job, 25 patents and brown eyes?

Most of the nine engineers on his staff were freshly out of college, and that gave Gardner the idea for his fizzle display.

"We were heading into uncharted waters, and I knew rough sailing lay ahead—plenty of it," he recalled. "If I could keep my boys from becoming discouraged, from hiding their mistakes under a carpet, I knew we could make better progress."

"So I built these shelves and started with my own mistakes, accumulated over the years."

"You'd be surprised how that perked them up. Just getting a look at something that baffled the boss put over the idea, better than words, that in this business your blunders are the stepping stones to success."

Some visiting engineers shook their heads on seeing the crowded fizzle shelf. They felt almost as unprofessional as a doctor, for example, should hand photographs

Prince Aly Khan Buys $200 in Cowboy Clothes

HOLLYWOOD — Prince Aly Khan has bought himself $200 worth of cowboy shirts, pants and wide-brimmed hats to wear when he returns to Europe.

The prince, shopping in a San Fernando Valley Western outfitter store while his heart interest, actress Gene Tierney, was busy at her studio, duly impressed a woman clerk.

"He was wonderful," she said, adding that he fitted the clothing "absolutely beautifully."

Aly plans to go to New York next week to visit his former wife, Rita Hayworth, and their daughter Yasmin.

2 in Contempt for Not Silencing Courthouse Fan

ST. LOUIS — The noisy exhaust fan that prompted Circuit Judge James F. Nangle to find two city officials in contempt will be shut off while the judge is in his chambers.

Health Commissioner Dr. J. Earl Smith and Hubert W. Guth, superintendent of municipal buildings, agreed to the compromise yesterday and promised to find a way to use the fan on a full-time basis while keeping the judge happy too. Judge Nangle gave them a week to solve it.

They were cited for contempt when they failed to heed Judge Nangle's order to silence the fan March 3.

The fan (it's vital, says Dr. Smith) is atop the Municipal Courts Building and blows fumes from the Health Department laboratory through an exhaust duct. The judge says the fan's hum invades his chambers and is "an obstruction to justice."

LOS ANGELES — High school student Jack E. McNeen of Kansas City, Kan., is the winner of the American Legion Oratorical Contest finals, and a $4,000 college scholarship.

McNeen, a sophomore at Shawnee Mission High School, won out yesterday, giving prepared and extemporaneous speeches.

Milton H. Copeland, Wichita Falls, Tex., won second place and $2,500 for higher education, and George J. Clements, Penn. Yan, N.Y., won third and a $1,500 scholarship.
