

Wednesday, December 17, 2008

Senior Brunch introduces OU grads to AAAP

In recognition of Oakland University students who graduated in December 2008, the Oakland University Alumni Association (OUAA) and Alumni Admissions Ambassador Program (AAAP) partnered to host the first Senior Brunch on December 4. More than 100 December graduates, ranging from doctoral candidates to undergraduate seniors, enjoyed the Senior Brunch with good food, reflecting on shared memories with fellow graduates and current alumni.

Graduates learned how the AAAP can help them stay involved with the university wherever their career paths lead. Whether attending graduate school out-of-state or entering the workforce, the AAAP provides opportunities for alumni to volunteer their time and actively recruit prospective students to Oakland University. Young alumni who communicate their OU experience to prospective students and families in their community provide unmatched credibility.

For more information about the Alumni Admissions Ambassador Program, please contact Program Coordinator Luke Fleer, at fleer@oakland.edu, (248) 370-4749, or visit the AAAP Web site.

SUMMARY

In recognition of Oakland University students who graduated in December 2008, the Oakland University Alumni Association (OUAA) and Alumni Admissions Ambassador Program (AAAP) partnered to host the first Senior Brunch on December 4. More than 100 December graduates, ranging from doctoral candidates to undergraduate seniors, enjoyed the Senior Brunch with good food, reflecting on shared memories with fellow graduates and current alumni.

Created by Kelly Smith (smith236@oakland.edu) on Wednesday, December 17, 2008
Modified by David Groves (groves@oakland.edu) on Saturday, December 20, 2008
Article Start Date: Wednesday, December 17, 2008