

Charlevoix Area Combed in Search for County Clerk

Coast Guard authorities are searching the islands and waters around Charlevoix for Oakland County official John D. Murphy, who was reported missing Saturday night.

The hunt intensified yesterday when Murphy's rented boat was found overturned in Lake Michigan near the shore line of Garden Island. One lifejacket was missing, authorities said.

Murphy, 54, county clerk-register of deeds, was reported missing Saturday night when he failed to return the 14-foot aluminum craft to the Beaver Island marina where he had rented it earlier in the day.

Plane Collision Kills 8 in NY

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Eight persons, including two small girls and three women, were killed Sunday night when two private planes collided over East Farmingdale and crashed in cemetery property.

One craft, a twin-engine Piper Aztec, went down in flames. The other, a single-engine Piper Cherokee, was demolished but did not burn.

There are no homes in the vicinity, which is largely wooded, and no one was injured on the ground.

The Federal Aviation Agency said the collision occurred about 8:30 p.m. at an altitude of 800 to 1,000 feet as both craft were making their final approaches to Republic Flying Field. An FAA spokesman said the Aztec's left wing apparently struck the Cherokee.

Candidate Kin 'Shake' County

By JIM LONG
It was a big weekend for those in Oakland County who wanted to shake the hand of a McCarthy or a Humphrey. It didn't seem to matter that the famous names didn't belong to the two top contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination, but only to their children.

At the luxury farm in White Lake Township yesterday, several thousand friends of Secretary of State James M. Hare attending a picnic in his honor.

Rocky's Tactics Scoring

Nixon Slippage Seen

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's feverish drive to stop former Vice President Richard M. Nixon short of a first ballot presidential nomination appears to be picking up measured speed.

Nobody could put a finger on it specifically, but there was a growing feeling among early-arriving delegates for next week's convention that Rockefeller, with an expensive, expansive publicity campaign, had stirred up enough doubt about Nixon's ability to win in November that there was no clear certainty of Nixon's nomination.

In the minds of some of the party's top strategists, however, this didn't necessarily add up to a Rockefeller victory.

There was, among other things, an undercurrent of belief that on this uncertain political year some dark horse like Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City could emerge from extended balloting.

'SIGNIFICANT GAINS'

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a Rockefeller partisan, said he thought the New York governor was making "significant gains" in his uphill battle against Nixon.

Scott predicted that Nixon would fade quickly on the roll calls "if we can get by the first ballot."

He said, for example, he was informed that Delaware's delegation would give Rockefeller an even split with Nixon on the second ballot after a majority of the group voted for Nixon on the initial roll call.

ON FIRST ROLL CALL

Some uncommitted delegates from Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Utah and Colorado reportedly will give Carlson a vote on the first roll call.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, House minority leader and permanent chairman of the convention, said Nixon had no lock on the nomination. He said it could take up to six ballots to pick a nominee and if that happened nobody could guess the outcome.

Newsweek magazine said a poll of delegates showed that Nixon's potential support had declined from 650 first ballot votes four weeks ago to 591. A total of 667 is needed for the nomination.

NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER

Stassen Hits Nixon, Rocky on Viet Stand

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Republican platform writers went to work today under advice to keep the campaign document neutral as between GOP presidential hopefuls — but a note of rivalry sounded at the very first session.

Harold Stassen, long-time seeker of the presidential nomination, accused New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Richard M. Nixon of being enmeshed in what he called the errors of the Democratic administration's Vietnam policy.

Stassen challenged those he said are "regarded as the front runners" to appear in person before the platform-writing group.

Neither Nixon nor Rockefeller has asked for time at the platform committee hearings, which are a prelude to next week's nomination convention, but it was understood both intend to present some ideas through friendly witnesses.

Stassen was one of the first witnesses before the committee.

"We don't know who is going to be the nominee," the platform committee chairman, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said. "I'm keeping myself free from that controversy—it is a controversy." He said he hopes other members of the committee will refrain from pushing for their favorites through platform wording.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, advised the Republicans, meanwhile, to blame the Vietnam War on Hanoi, not Washington.

He said union members respect the right of dissent, but "the imperialists are not in Washington; they are in Hanoi. Let the pickets and the protesters—yes, and the candidates—turn their attention there."

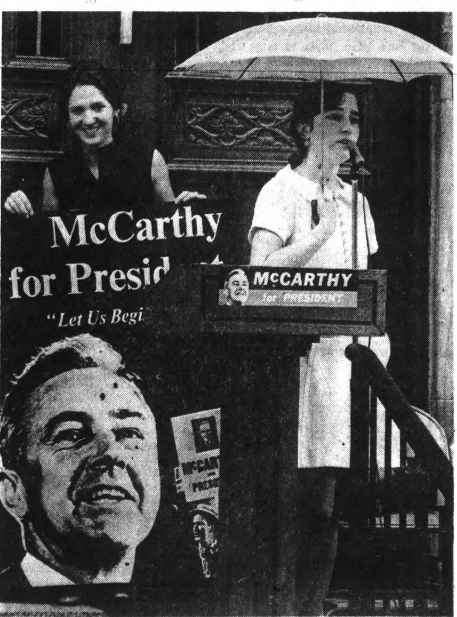

Meany also warned that a tough "law and order" campaign against Negro rioters would not stop violence in the slums unless it was paralleled with programs to wipe out the causes of riots.

'MORALLY CORRUPT'

The changes are necessary, he said, because "our present foreign policy is morally corrupt" and "... domestic conditions are all messed up."

Humphrey's visit to Oakland County was confined to the Hare picnic. He and his wife, Donna, walked through the crowd, being introduced to as many as they could in the hour they were on the grounds.

Hare, recuperating from a heart attack, viewed several demonstrations in tribute of his long service to the state, but for the most part he spent the day greeting well-wishers in a trailer bus.

New Steel Offer Renews Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A reported improved steel industry offer, sparking unexpected renewal of secret bargaining, heightened optimism today that a threatened nationwide strike Thursday of 388,000 steelworkers may be averted.

The dramatic action occurred at the very hour of a scheduled meeting of the 33-member executive board of the United Steelworkers Union, causing an immediate 24-hour delay in that session. The board had been summoned to get the first complete report on the status of negotiations.

What exactly was on the bargaining table was not disclosed, and rumors varied as to the size of the package.

One source said the first, firm industry offer last week was for about 4 per cent or approximately matching those gained by aluminum, copper, can and auto workers — run over 6 per cent, or in the neighborhood of about $1 an hour. There have been reports that the steelworkers would accept an offer near 90 cents. They presently average $3.84 an hour.

'COMMON GROUND'

The sudden break today may be the "common ground" that the top level negotiators said they were seeking to find in a joint statement issued last weekend. They said then their positions were flexible.

It appeared likely that this afternoon's meeting of the 600-member Basic Steel Industry Conference, which has the power to accept or reject any industry offer, also would be delayed to tomorrow.

Ray's Attorney Cries Red Plot

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A contention by attorney Arthur J. Hanes that an international Communist conspiracy is at work against James Earl Ray appears to have brought reaction from the judge who will hear the Ray case.

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle named eight attorneys Sunday to check for a possible violation of his order limiting publicity in the case of Ray, who is charged with murder in the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Hanes, Ray's defense counsel, met with his client Saturday, then called an airport news conference at which he also asserted Ray's rights are being violated in Shelby County Jail.

Hanes disagreed with U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark's statement that the April 4 slaying of King was carried out by one man.

"There is a giant conspiracy here and my client is being used in the conspiracy," said Hanes, who said he would disclose details of the plot when Ray's trial gets under way on Nov. 12.

VC Raid Wrecks $6 Million Worth of U.S. Airplanes

SAIGON (AP) — Vietcong infiltrators in jinchoats attacked a U.S. air base today and blew up $6 million worth of planes.

Riot Crisis Ends in Grand Rapids

From Our News Wires

GRAND RAPIDS—Gov. George Romney lifted a state of emergency proclamation for Grand Rapids today after police declared the situation "absolutely under control" despite some scattered firebombings overnight. A weekend of disorder began Friday night with an outbreak of arson.

At the same time, some 150 National Guard troops called up early yesterday under the proclamation were ordered sent home today. The men had been on standby alert at an armory but were not called out during the disturbance.

Some 60 State Police officers were called in to assist 50 Grand Rapids policemen in patrolling the city. National Guardsmen stood by in racially troubled Gary, Ind., as their counterparts vacated Cleveland, Ohio, left bitter and divided by its violence of last week.

TEEN DISORDER

Teen-agers in Pacific, Calif., protesting an anti-literature law, overpowered police armed with billy clubs and made before reinforcements could be brought in to restore order last night.

Sixteen arrests were made during the night in the Michigan city of 205,000 raising to 70 the total arrested during the three nights. At least 15 firebombings were reported last night, but most were minor.

Two National Broadcasting Co. photographers from Chicago were beaten by Cleveland police yesterday.

Riot Commission Out of Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders went out of business today—one year, several hundred thousand words and $1.5 million after President Johnson created it.

Sniper fire still whined in the streets of Detroit on July 29, 1967 when Johnson convened the 11-member commission at the White House and charged it with trying to learn "what happened? What can be done to prevent it from happening again and again?"

The commission, headed by former Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner and representing nearly all the colors of the political spectrum, issued its first report last March.

Another report was released over the weekend and said new studies show rioters to be representative of urban

The attack on the Tuy Hoa air base, on the central coast of South Vietnam 295 miles northeast of Saigon, was the third on an American air base in Southeast Asia in three days. It raised U.S. aircraft casualties since last Monday to the unusually high total of 12 planes; lost—including nine downed over North or South Vietnam — and four badly damaged.

Air Force officers at Tuy Hoa said about nine Vietcong got into the base and all were killed. One American was reported wounded.

Reports from Tuy Hoa said the Vietcong slipped into the base under cover of a rain storm and rocket attack shortly after midnight. Firing rocket-propelled grenades and hurling satchel charges, they destroyed two four-engine C130 transport planes and badly damaged an F100 Supersabre fighter-bomber. Several other transports were slightly damaged, U.S. officers said.

HOME OF FIGHTER WING

Tuy Hoa is the home of the 31st Tactical Fighter Wing, an outfit of about 100 Supersabres. Among its five squadrons are two Air National Guard units which arrived in Vietnam in June, the 188th Tactical Fighter Squadron from New Mexico and the 138th from Niagara Falls, N.Y. Neither unit had any casualties.

On Friday night, infiltrators got into the Udon air base in northern Thailand and badly damaged two planes, while a rocket attack on the Da Nang air base destroyed one jet fighter-bomber and badly damaged another.

The raid at Udon was the first on one of the six American bases in Thailand, from which 55 per cent of the bombing missions against North Vietnam originate. The U.S. Embassy said defenses at the bases were being strengthened, and patrols among the bases were being enlarged.

Negro youth and not just "riff-raff" and criminals.

LATEST REPORT

The report also said that 18 per cent of ghetto residents take part in riots, a far larger percentage than originally estimated.

The latest report, expected to be the last bearing the commission seal, was a compilation of three studies by separate groups. It was issued without comment.

The original report ran some 240,000 words and was the work of 150 fulltime paid staffers as well as the 11 commissioned members.

A staff aide said yesterday that approximately $1.5 million was spent on the report which concluded that America was moving toward two societies, one black and one white.

Czech, Soviet Red Leaders Start Historic Talks Today

PRAGUE (AP) — Leaders of the Czechoslovak and Soviet Communist parties met today for historic negotiations decisive for the fate of Czechoslovakia's independent Communist road.

Informed sources said the meeting began shortly after 9 a.m. in the Moscow delegation's parked special train at Cerna, a Czechoslovak railroad junction on the Tisa river close to the Soviet border.

About 40 Czechoslovak leaders, including party chief Alexander Dubcek and the 11 members of the party presidium, arrived Sunday night by plane at Kosice, about 45 miles from the

STEADY ATTACK

The Soviet press and radio omitted all mention today of the meeting or of the whereabouts of the Soviet leaders. But Pravda, the Soviet Communist party organ and the only paper published in Moscow on Monday, kept up its steady attack on the liberal trend in Czechoslovakia.

Informed sources predicted that the meeting would last only a day or two with a communique issued at the close.

Prague's new reform leaders promised their countrymen none of the new freedoms would be taken away in the talks with the Soviet leaders demanding an end to liberalization.

"We will bear in mind that we are responsible for socialism in our country, for the sovereignty and for the future of this state," Josef Smrkovsky, National Assembly chairman and a key figure in the new liberal movement, said in a television interview.

Smrkovsky said the presidium would not give ground on press freedom, a main Soviet target.

"This is one of the basic principles of freedom of the citizen," he said.

Fire Threatening Nevada Capital

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — A 3,000-acre fire which threatened Nevada's capital flashed out of control today after burning within 600 yards of the governor's luxurious home.

The started in a Sierra forest Sunday afternoon on the western edge of Carson City, destroying one house. One hundred other homes were evacuated.

"This is the worst fire since 1926," said Gov. Paul Laxalt, his face smudged and dirty after he and his wife, Jackie, removed some valuables from their $70,000 home.

Laxalt ordered 200 National Guardsmen to help fight the fire and prevent vandalism and looting.

Troops Moving in East Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Movements of Soviet and East German armored units in East Germany were noticed during the night by travelers arriving in West Berlin today, police reported.

Sleazy reports said columns of tanks, armored reconnaissance cars and military trucks were moving south on the Berlin-Nuremberg autobahn between Weissenfels and Hermsdorf. This is in the general direction of East Germany's frontiers with Czechoslovakia and West Germany.

It could not be determined here whether the movements were routine or part of the Soviet-East German war of nerves against Czechoslovakia.

2nd Area Man Victim of Blast

A second Pontiac area man died this morning of burns received last Sunday in Hillsdale County, at a Civil War weapons demonstration at Somerset Center.

University of Michigan Burn Center officials said Gary Deffendorf, 23, of 9418 Dixie, Springfield Township, died about 8 a.m.

Another Springfield Township man, Walter Simons of 10370 Dixie, died Tuesday of burns suffered at the same mishap.

Three other men are reported still being treated for burns at the U-M center. They are James Broegman, 19, of Davisburg; Carl Lapham, 25, of 8890 White Lake Road, White Lake Township, and Jack Miles, 16, of 1811 Meadowridge, Commerce Township.

Lapham and Broegman are listed in critical condition at the hospital, while Miles' condition is fair.

The accident occurred at the National Cannon and Carbine Matches in Somerset Center when a piece of wadding from a Civil War mortar was caught in a breeze and wafted 65 feet to a powder keg, igniting it.

City Will Air Refuse Site Issue Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission, at tonight's meeting, will continue its discussion on a plan to establish a refuse transfer station on Coolidge.

The commission, which recently approved the proposed 11-acre site, will discuss an agreement prepared by the city attorney's office and the Southeastern Oakland County Incinerator Authority.

The agreement would include various suggestions made by the commission, the city administration, and interested residents.

According to City Manager Robert Kenning, the amount of money the authority would pay the city for rental of the site has not yet been determined.

ANTICIPATED FIGURE

However, it is anticipated that the annual payment would be equal to 10 per cent of the present appraised value of the property.

He said an appraisal of the property will be made by a private appraiser before the agreement is entered into by the city.

The proposed agreement would lease the site to the incinerator authority for 25 years for the construction, maintenance, and operation of the refuse transfer station.

It would prohibit the incineration of any materials at the site and would not allow any refuse material to be left at the site overnight.

TRANSFER POINT

The site will be strictly a station where refuse collected in Birmingham would be transferred to other trucks for cartage to a land-fill area in Avon Township.

The contract the commission will discuss also includes stipulations concerning the type and amount of refuse the site can handle each day.

Regulations concerning the design of the building to be put on the site, as well as control of noise, odor, fumes, dust and rodents, also are included in the agreement.

The proposal will be submitted to the Commission tonight, but the formal discussion on it will take place Aug. 12.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other action tonight the Commission will hear a report from Park Maintenance and Forestry Supervisor Chester K. Hunter concerning the improvement of the asphalt tennis courts at Eton Park.

The Commission also will hear a request from Birmingham Superintendent of Schools John B. Smith that the city post a school crossing guard at Lincoln and 14 Mile Road for Baldwin Elementary School students.

The Commission will also discuss development of the Red Run Drain and the Acacia Drain Relief Project.

Bombing Halt Is Key -- N. Viet

PARIS (AP) — Nguyen Thanh Le, spokesman for the North Vietnamese peace delegation, said today that after the United States stops bombing North Vietnam his country will agree to discuss any subject the Americans raise.

He was replying to a question about the release of U.S. pilots captured by the North Vietnamese.

Pressed by reporters at a news conference Le said: "After the cessation of bombing and all other acts of war against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, either side can raise any question it likes and the other side will agree to discuss it."

But he said that in the early part of July U.S. bombing raids on North Vietnam averaged 200 a day, as opposed to 172 a day in June.

PUPPET TROOPS

Le asserted that in South Vietnam the United States had "continued to send in puppet satellite troops." He added: "As long as the American aggression continues, the people in North and South Vietnam will continue their resistance."

McCarthy Forces Plan State Delegate Push

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Eugene McCarthy's aides this week will begin a behind-the-scenes effort to persuade Michigan delegates to vote for the presidential aspirant at the Democratic National Convention in late August.

McCarthy's aides will point to the crowd, estimated at upwards of 10,000, that gathered at Tiger Stadium Saturday night to hear the Minnesota senator as evidence that he has popular voter appeal across the state.

"There are indications that Michigan Democratic politicians noticed the popular support of McCarthy," said Richard Goodwin, a McCarthy aide, following the senator's rally.

Goodwin, an aide to the late President John F. Kennedy, and Curtis Gans spent considerable time Saturday night meeting privately with State Democratic Chairman Sander Levin and expected fair treatment.

Wallace arrived in Tampa for a fund-raising dinner and rally tonight after a rousing rally Saturday night in Miami.

He travels to Washington Tuesday for a speech to the Association of County Officials before heading west with stops scheduled for Montana, California, New Mexico and Texas.

Wallace was asked how much his campaign might cost.

"GRASS-ROOTS DRIVE"

"I don't know. It's not going to cost us $100 million, because we don't have access to $100 million," Wallace said. "Ours is truly a grass roots movement and frankly we're not going to need the money that the national, left-wing aid that he got in. They are going to need to do a selling job."

Wallace Would Debate, Expects Equal TV Time

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — George C. Wallace, third party candidate, says he is willing to debate both the Republican and Democratic nominees for president once they have been chosen. And he wants equal television time for his party's national convention.

"I would be happy to debate either one or both," Wallace said in a news conference Sunday. "But I'm not issuing any challenge. If the networks ask me to debate, I would accept."

Wallace said he expected the television networks to provide coverage of his American Independent party's convention. The date and place have not yet been announced.

Wallace was asked if he expected coverage time on network television equal to that afforded Democrats and Republicans.

"I'm going to say yes," said

National Committeewoman Mildred Jeffrey.

TOP STRATEGISTS

Goodwin and Gans are the Minnesota senator's top two strategists.

Lesser aides from McCarthy's national staff will attempt to buttonhole delegates at their homes and places of business in an effort to bolster the senator's meager strength among Michigan delegates.

The delegate recruiting will be handled by Washington staffers partly because of the national organization's dissatisfaction with the Michigan McCarthy for President organization.

An indication of McCarthy's lack of appeal to Michigan delegates is the fact that less than one-third of the 102-member delegation turned out to meet privately with the senator following his arrival Saturday.

ONLY SIX VOTES

A recent Associated Press poll showed that McCarthy could expect only six Michigan votes at the convention. The same poll revealed that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey would receive 67 votes. Most of the remaining delegates were uncommitted.

When confronted with poll results, McCarthy said, "I don't think Michigan is as locked up as some people say it is. We have some strength in the Michigan delegation in any case."

"We haven't tried to count people," he added. "There's no need to do it yet. We'll let the weeds grow with the wheat until the harvest."

McCarthy's appeal to Michigan delegates dropped sharply following a private meeting several weeks ago when he said that under certain circumstances he could conceivably support Republican Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

'NOT FULLY STATED'

When asked about this at a news conference, McCarthy explained that his position was not fully stated.

This man is weeding his lawn!

YESTERDAY he used Plus 2. Now, while he sleeps, the dandelions, the plantain, the chickweed (and similar kinds of rosette and vining weeds) are on their way out. And one morning a little later, he'll look at his lawn and notice that they have completely faded away.

How things change. Once upon a time people used to dig out weeds, one at a time. A backbreaking job. And worst of all, it didn't really work. If you didn't get every bit of it out, the weed would grow right back up again.

Today, in minutes, America spreads Turf Builder Plus 2 and gets to the root of the matter. Rosette and vining weeds soon vanish and the grass itself gets thicker and greener because Plus 2 feeds as it weeds.

How Did It Happen? And When? And Why?

Authorities Still Puzzle at Murder of Robison Family.

(Editor's Note: One week ago the bodies of a Detroit magazine publisher, his wife, and their four children were found shot to death in their summer cottage north of Petoskey. Police still have no clues in the mysterious mass murder. United Press International's Andrew R. McGill visited the northwoods area, talked to the people involved, and found out about the case.)

By ANDREW R. MCGILL

GOOD HART (UPI) — C.A. Bliss thought a coon had died.

He opened the front door of a secluded stone and log cottage on wind-swept Lake Michigan and found the body of a woman covered with a blanket.

Five other bullet-riddled bodies were in the cabin.

UNANSWERED QUESTIONS

There are many unanswered questions in the case, the biggest mystery ever in the northwoods around this two-pump town in the heart of Northern Michigan's gun country.

"We don't know anything," said Emmet County Prosecutor W. Richard Smith. "We don't know how it was done... why it was done... or, for sure, exactly when it was done. And we certainly don't know who did it."

"All we know is it was done."

Why was Mrs. Robison's body covered with a blanket?

I WISH I KNEW

"I wish I knew. But I honestly don't know," Smith said.

Traffic Safety Confab to Hear Milliken Talk

LI. GO: William G. Milliken will be the key speaker at the 14th annual Governor's Regional Traffic Safety Conference, Aug. 12.

Col. F. E. Davids, director of the Michigan State Police, will also speak at the day-long conference to be held in the Oakland Center Building at Oakland University.

Morning session will be a series of lectures on different aspects of traffic safety. There will be panel discussions in the afternoon on the laws of 1968, the priorities of 1969, the courts, and on federal-state interaction.

Registration is at 8:30.

Extra Month on Taxes

KEEGO HARBOR — City property owners will have an extra month to pay their taxes because the deadline has been extended from July 31 to Aug. 31.

The City Council has followed the policy of time extension for the past several years. Failure to pay taxes will result in a 2 per cent increase and one-half of 1 per cent interest for each month payment is late.

"It's like everything else in this case, we're totally mystified."

C.A. Bliss has his own theory.

"You put yourself in the position of a person who'd be sick enough to do something like this," he began. "You kill six people. But regardless of how innocent your are, humanity has had some effect on you."

"I suppose if you were going to commit that kind of a crime you'd want to do something decent afterwards, like covering up the lady's body."

THEORIES WELCOME

It's far fetched. But in this case, police welcome all theories.

"We're frankly baffled," said Undersheriff Clifford Fosmire, who is heading the investigation. "Our leads, what few we have, haven't taken us anywhere. We've done a lot of legwork, and we've got a lot more to do."

Authorities aren't sure how many people were involved.

They theorize that at least two guns, one .22 caliber and one .25 caliber, were used. But no guns have been found.

COULD BE ONE MAN

Fosmire pointed out that one man could have used both guns since the .25 caliber was a pistol. He said the .22 could be a rifle or pistol.

It was C.A. Bliss who found the body of Mrs. Robison one week ago today.

Residents of the hilly, tree-filled country complained of a bad odor coming from the $50,000 Robison cottage. Bliss, who helped his father build the cottage 12 years ago, found the body and telephoned authorities.

"Well, you can bet I was shocked," Bliss said. "But, you know, the thing I remember most about it was that smell. I thought a coon had died."

WORST ODOR

Said Smith: "That odor was the worst thing I have ever smelled. It's something I won't ever be able to forget. I'll try to forget, but I'll remember that smell indefinitely."

The smell was the stinky flesh of the Robisons. They had been dead at least a month.

Few people in this area knew the Robisons, but C. P. Bliss — C. A.'s father — called him a "true friend."

"He was one of the nicest men and fathers that I have ever known," said the 84-year-old Bliss. "Some people said he was a little too strict with his kids. But he didn't have to speak to them a second time, and that's odd in this day and age."

HAPPIEST TIMES

"Dick spent many of his happiest

times up here. He always said he could do more work in one day here than in two in the city. Things are always stuffy in the city."

"They had four perfectly beautiful children. They were the nicest kids. They'd always stop in to see if they could do anything for me. When they first came here, the kids always watched me and my son building cottages."

"We built eight cottages up here. They're all real nice."

"We came back up here in the woods in 1902 to get away from things like this... what a terrible thing."

WHAT WILL HAPPEN?

What will happen to the lavish summer cottage owned by the Robisons?

"The police have it locked now and it can stay that way as far as I'm concerned. I can't imagine anyone wanting to live there anyway. It stinks."

The Bliss home is two miles north of Good Hart.

From the year-round resort of Petoskey, where skiing, fishing and hunting are the largest attractions, you travel 28 miles down a winding, desolate, tree-lined road surrounded by flora and fauna. Wild animals — bear, bobcats, deer and other game — live in the hilly forest severed by the dark road.

SOOTHING DRIVE

Serenity is the main attraction. It's a soothing drive.

Edison Plans Nuclear Facility

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Edison Co. has announced plans to add two large generating units to its system—a conventional coal-fired generator in 1972 and a nuclear generator in 1974.

Both the new facilities are to be built near Monroe.

The conventional generator, with a capacity of 1800,000 kilowatts, will be constructed at the Monroe Power Plant site now being developed by the electric utility. Two 730,000-kilowatt units already are under construction there.

The nuclear facility will be built on the same 900-acre site as the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant, which has never been used to provide electricity on a commercial basis because of a mysterious piece of metal clogging a vital part. The new reactor is to have a capacity of at least 800,000 kilowatts.

CAPACITY WAY

The existing Enrico Fermi atomic power reactor is preparing the way for the accomplishments of commercially useful fast breeder electric generating units," said Detroit Edison board chairman Walker Cislser.

"The scientific, technological and engineering data it has provided us, and to all associated here and abroad, with the project, will have tremendous results in the future role of electric energy," he added.

Deer occasionally peek onto the road from between the trees.

After a scenic drive, the denseness ends for a few hundred yards as you enter Good Hart. The village consists of a two-pump gas station and an antique shop. Almanacs, atlases and postal guides don't even recognize the existence of this mini-hamlet.

It takes two seconds — driving slow — to get through Good Hart and in another few minutes you come to the Bliss home. The Robison cottage is a mile down a rugged, private dirt road from Bliss. Bliss has the road closed now "because too many curious city folks have been bothering us."

OTHER WAYS

The only other way to reach the Robison cottage is by boat from Lake Michigan or down a century-old trail that winds through an old Indian burial grounds.

Authorities don't know which method was used.

Bus Bliss' son, C.A., has his own ideas about what happened.

"They must have used the Indian path," he said. "My Dad would have seen or heard them if they used the road and the lake is so shallow there that I don't think they could have come in by boat."

BEDS SLEPT IN

"The path comes right down through the Indian cemetery and to the north side of the Robison cottage. The killers wouldn't have been detected. And there were bullet holes in the windows on the north side of the cottage."

C.A. Bliss said that a month before the Robisons were killed a cottage nearby was broken into.

"The window was forced open and both beds were slept in," Bliss said. "It might have some connection. Maybe the killers, stayed there to make their plans."

Again, police don't know.

State Roads Claim 12 Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

At least 12 people lost their lives on Michigan roads this weekend, including two young men who police say were being chased for traffic violations when they crashed in Sanilac County.

Louis Walsh, 21, of Marlette and Dean Sowerby 19, of Sheridan were killed when their car smashed into a culvert Saturday near Forestville while they were being pursued by a Minden Police car.

The Associated Press count started Friday at 6 p.m. and ended Sunday midnight.

Other victims: Delores Hamlin, 39, of Rockford and Edmund Posen, 31, of Blytheville, Ark., who were in a two-car accident on M37 12 miles north of Grand Rapids Saturday. Three other persons were critically injured.

COUNTY CRASH

Mary Murphy, 44, and Genevieve Smith, 77 both of Ann Arbor, when the car driven by Mrs. Murphy collided head on with another car on Long Lake Road in Oakland County Saturday.

Rafael Hinojosa, 24, of Corpus Christi,

Tex., who was struck by a car while walking on U.S. 31 near Elk Rapids in Antrim County Saturday.

Samuel Alaniz Jr., 17, of Hardee, Fla., whose car rammed the rear of another on Territorial Road in Keeler Township in Van Buren County Friday night.

Thomas Ziegler, 23, of Detroit, when his car was struck from the rear on Telegraph Road in Detroit Saturday.

CONSTRUCTION CRANE

Patrick Finlan, 34, of Scottsdale, Ariz., formerly of Plymouth, whose car went out of control and smashed into a construction crane on Geddes Road in Ann Arbor Township in Washtenaw County Friday night.

Kent Olsen, 33, of Ann Arbor, who was killed Sunday when his car collided with a train near Nottawa in St. Joseph County.

Michael Creed, 19, of Kalamazoo, who died when his car went out of control on a curve in Kalamazoo and struck a tree.

Rochester Board to Act on Projects

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Board of Education will act on proposals for two federally sponsored programs as well as the tax rates for 1968-69 at its meeting tonight.

The programs, part of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, include a remedial reading project and a summer seminar for teachers of students with special learning problems.

The first project will include a program the school has had for 2½ years in addition to a special project at the Brooklands School which, according to Superintendent Douglas Lund, involves reorganization and employment of a male counselor.

The second project is a two-week seminar in the latter part of August. Lund explained that it is designed to better prepare teachers who have youngsters with special learning problems who can not be placed in a special education program for some reason.

TAX RATES

In other action the board is expected to establish the 1968-69 tax rates.

Portable Classroom Bid OK Expected to Be Withdrawn

The Avondale School Board is expected to take action tonight to withdraw approval of a bid on two portable classrooms.

The classroom purchase was approved at a July 15 meeting, but Supt. John W. Dickey received word that McFadden Co. of Lansing sold the unfinished rooms to another district.

Dickey said that he would recommend the board accept the bid from Educator Sales of Jackson which was about $2,000 over the bid from McFadden Co.

He explained the price difference was because the Educator Sales' rooms were

"better equipped while the others are only shells."

In other action at the 8:30 p.m. meeting the millage support committee is expected to present a progress report on work toward passage of an operational 7.7 mill increase to be voted on Sept. 7.

Also on the agenda is action on resignations of certificated staff members. Dickey said there is a chance the board may refuse the resignations because there are less than 60 days to the opening of school — the required period of notification. Dickey said however that he would probably recommend acceptance of the resignations.

Gang Feud Blamed for Disorder in Gary

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Police Chief James Hilton today blamed dissension among Negro youth gangs for two nights of disorders in Gary's Central District.

"The situation is still highly volatile and may erupt at any time," Hilton said adding that the destructive mood of the gangs has spread to the city's militant groups.

The disorders began early Sunday with firebombing, sniper fire and looting, and flared again Sunday night before police with rifles and shotguns brought quiet to the four-block area with a caravan of 10 patrol cars.

Six persons were injured Sunday morning, including a fireman wounded by sniper fire while battling a blaze. No injuries were reported Sunday night.

Ninety members of the Cook County Sheriff's Department riot squad, who were requested by Hilton and helped establish calm, were replaced at midnight Sunday by 90 riot-trained Indiana state policemen.

Hilton said 550 Indiana National Guardsmen were standing by at armories in Gary and nearby Valparaiso. Hilton said he would need the permission of Gov. Roger D. Branigan to use the guardsmen.

Hilton told a news conference he knew there would be trouble because of the arrest of two members of the Negro Sin City Disciples gang Saturday night.

he would like to expand the size of his police force from the present 272 to 400 to handle the city's 185,000 population, 55 percent of which is Negro.

MAIL TRUCK STONED

He said the disorders started with stoning of a mail truck, followed by the smashing of business windows, sniper firing and looting.

He said lack of personnel to end sale of liquor and gasoter Hatcher had imposed a 7:30 p.m. curfew and banned sales of gasoline and liquor for an indefinite period.

BANNED BY LAW

The City Council met in special session today to give Mayor Richard G. Hatcher power to permit mayors to impose curfew on their own and to end sale of liquor and gaso-

My precedent in calling the city had returned to calm and the normal ways.

Hatcher and Hilton met to evaluate the disorders. The mayor said he would relinquish the council's grant empowering him to impose a curfew as soon as the police were assured the city had returned to calm and the normal ways.

Westinghouse Plans Merger With MCA

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A plan to merge MCA, Inc., a producer of movies and television programs, into the Westinghouse Electric Corp. has been announced by the presidents of the companies.

D.C. Burnham, president of Westinghouse, and Jules C. Stein, chairman of MCA, said Sunday the merger is subject to approval by the boards of both companies and MCA shareholders as well as a favorable tax ruling.

They said that MCA will continue operating under its present management if the deal goes through.

In addition to movies and TV shows, MCA makes phonograph records and owns the Universal City Film Studios, Columbia Savings & Loan Association of Colorado and Spencer Gifts, Inc., a mail order distribution house.

Westinghouse, a giant in the electrical equipment industry, also operates a group of radio and television stations.

The terms of the merger call for the exchange of one share of MCA common stock for .677 of a share of Westinghouse convertible preference $3 cumulative dividend stock.

The companies said the preference stock could be callable by Westinghouse for five years. It said it could be redeemed after that at $85 a share.

The preference stock could be converted into one share of Westinghouse common stock during the first five years after issue, the companies said. In the sixth through tenth years, the conversion ratio would be reduced by .01 share on each successive year, they said.

"YOUR HEALTH"

PINCHED NERVES
By Dr. H. H. Alexander

If you are nervous, irritable, suffer with frequent headaches, dizziness, experience pain in your neck, shoulders, arms, back or legs or often feel a tightness and pain in your chest and in between your shoulder blades — the chances are you have pinched and irritated nerves.

Often falls, sprains and faulty posture cause misalignments of the spine, which results in pressure on nerve roots. Any pinching of these nerves as they leave the spine can cause trouble in the organs and limbs serviced by them.

Chiropractic has specialized in the analysis of spinal disorders and misalignments of vertebrae that cause pinching and irritation of nerves. Consult your chiropractor in cases where nerve pains are suspected. Treatment is directed towards lasting correction by removal of the spinal misalignments.

It Seems to Me . . .

Political Elections of 1968
Present Unusual Situations

Certainly 1968 could plunge into history as our wildest and most unpredictable campaign, with one outstanding and exceedingly personable candidate already murdered.

Two Democrats are rightly swinging with all they possess. On the GOP side, RICHARD NIXON and Gov. ROCKEFELLER are at hammer and tongs with Gov. REAGAN of California simply awaiting a propitious moment to gallop onto the center of the stage with flags flying and bands blaring.

And yet, off stage to some extent, stands a man who may decide the election.

Gov. George Wallace can upset the whole deal. His total vote will be tiny, but if the Democratic or Republican parties fail to secure a mathematical majority in the electoral college because of the Wallace vote—even though it's infinitesimal—the election swings into the House.

Each state is entitled to one vote. Should this become a reality, you can bet your bottom buck that WALLACE will be angling desperately with both parties for "a deal" whereby he swings his tiny sector to either side in exchange for whatever he can exact as the spoils of war. Personally, I believe both parties will scorn this proposal.

The House election would necessarily be the first order of business in January. Each State has one vote with a majority needed. Just suppose Wallace still holds a few delegates in line and thus prevents a majority for either party.

We'd face a second deadlock.

If the House failed because of Wallace and the Senate named a vice president, the Veep would act as President until the House resolved the snarl.

Any way you look at it, the thing could actually be a mess. Personally, I suggest shotguns at six paces.

(I may have to serve myself.)

Unnecessary Expense . . .

Governmental insolence and arrogance in the coming census is arousing deep resentment. You will be compelled to answer 120 very intimate and personal questions. And, of course, as a taxpayer you pay the thousands and thousands of extra hired hands.

If you resent this intrusion of privacy, write Sens. Robert Griffin and Philip Hart, Reps. Jack McDonald and William Broomfield and declare yourself.

A letter to any of the four can be effective.

Golf Officials Acting...

Golf officials are awakening from the lethargy that grips them.

MARILYN SMITH was just penalized two strokes for her dawdling and time-consuming play. It dropped her from winning an Ohio title to second place. The tremendous panning golf officials took on the ROBERTO DeVICENZO decision seems to have yanked some of them from the heavy fog in which they've groped too long.

Nothing is more exasperating than professional (or amateur) golfers that fiddle, fiddle and fiddle. It produces the ultimate in spectator boredom.

The worst masculine offender is Jack Nicklaus. Trevino and Boros are two of the fastest—and most popular.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

If NELSON ROCKEFELLER's bid for the GOP nomination fails, he may take ROBERT KENNEDY's place in the Senate. . . . Officials tossed out the theme song of the September pageant; "There She Is—Miss America" and the cries of anguish went from coast to coast. One soldier wrote from Vietnam. The song may be reinstated. . . . Surveys of 300 restaurants show businessmen lunch mainly on lean meat, fish and green vegetables. Potatoes and desserts are fading.

Trusted scouts advise me Pamela Angel is one of the attractive young ladies in the area. . . . Abe Fortas has made a dubious impression on Congress, in spite of a huge buildup by the AFL-CIO. . . . Overheard: Jack: "How come Pete's in the hospital? I saw him two nights ago with a gorgeous blonde." Mack: "So'd his wife." . . . It was 187 days ago today that the U.S. Pueblo and her crew were seized by North Korean Communists.

The proposal to take the post office out of politics and form a self-sustaining corporation has aroused hidden cries of anguish. 'You can only meddle with that pork barrel so far. . . . H. B. Lowe says a power mower, hedge clippers and edgers with three pronged plugs must be well grounded or you can get knocked for a permanent lump. And don't use them near water or wet grounds. AND, rubber gloves and shoes are advisable. . . . The number of horses has tripled in the U.S. in the last seven years.

Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—Pontiac Foundation's help for the Pontiac Creative Arts Center; the J's—postal cutbacks.

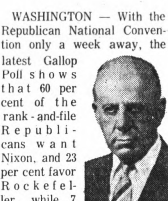

—HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

Swift Courier

David Lawrence Says:

GOP 'Regulars' Favor Nixon

LAWRENCE like to see Reagan nominated as the Republican candidate. The remaining 10 per cent are scattered among a number of others who really are not in the race.

The "rank and file" Republicans are not as large a group as in previous years because the so-called "independents" have grown in number. This segment is recorded in the latest poll as 38 per cent for Nixon, 35 per cent for Rockefeller, 10 per cent for Reagan, and 17 per cent for other aspirants or undecided.

The "regular" Republican group has a history of constant identification with the party, and is made up of businessmen, farmers and persons in all walks of life who do not go along with the philosophy of government represented by the Democratic administration. Tradition is against the prospect of a fundamental change in the regular Republican ranks.

'SPEND AND SPEND?' This means, of course, that the delegates chosen from most of the states will vote for someone who isn't identified with the school of thought which has insisted on a "spend and spend" policy. The belief is widespread that the administration has been too tender with law-breakers and that there has been too much tolerance of the "militants."

The tendency of the administration has been to argue that there have been no conspiracies and that the riots have been spontaneous outbreaks. Evidence turned up by the Federal Bureau of Investigation that this isn't the case is said to have been suppressed. There are plenty of issues which are producing discontent throughout the country.

Delegates going to the Republican convention will be well aware of how the voters in their areas — not merely the regular Republicans but the independents and dissident Democrats — feel about these issues. They are not likely to overlook the importance of nominating a candidate who will take a firm position on domestic problems which are giving citizens so much concern. Although President Johnson will not be a candidate, the Democratic nominee will have to bear the burden of the criticism of national and international policies of the last eight years.

This could bring about a shift of many "independents" and Democrats to the Republican side.

Cry for Change, Renewal
Jars Council of Churches

By DAVID POLING

UPSALLA, SWEDEN (NEA) — The World Council of Churches will never again be a quiet ecumenical gathering where elderly theologians have pleasant discussions waiting for afternoon tea. The delegates — preceded by the King of Sweden, the president of Zambia, and the archbishop of Canterbury — had hardly been seated in the cathedral of this university city, when the voices of protest were heard. A student leader said that young people "could no longer honor the trappings of grandeur."

Christianity, for the Now Generation of young believers, has very little to do with ancient chains, flowing robes and concert choirs.

Instead of priests swinging incense, they want the church to be incensed with the horror of war, the reign of violence and the hovering cloud of poverty. Their image of Jesus Christ is one of servant, not king, at home in the huts of the poor, not the halls of grandeur.

Fortunately, the youth and the leadership of the World Council are often on the same wave length. They differ on the time schedule.

Films, slides, posters and color displays by Sister Corita, the American artist-nun, exploded all over Upsalla. The council staff "turned on" the youth and many of the delegates with its Cafe Chantant. It roared nightly with folk rock, protest songs, teach-ins and debates.

British Broadcasting Co. provided an evening of controversy and inspiration with its documentary film, "Christ and Disorder."

It focused on the failures of the church in many parts of the world — its divisions, bewildering liturgy, reactionary policies and frequent blunders. Yet it dared to highlight the locations of genuine advance (Africa) and new experiments in rural assistance (India).

They were asking the same question as the youth: "Can the church practice what it has preached for 2,000 years."

What the World Council of Churches was experiencing was the same hot breath that jars Berkeley, taunts Columbia and worries De Gaulle — but with one difference. The cry for change, renewal and, if necessary, revolution, is the center of the Christian message. With all its natural conservatism and plodding ways, the World Council would like to stay close to its center.

Shattered . . .

Chicago Tribune

Ho Chi Minh effectively shattered any hope for agreement at Paris, at least in the foreseeable future, by his message to the North Vietnamese people.

He urged them to step up their "war of resistance" against the United States and the imperialists who, he said, "are unwilling to renounce their criminal war of aggression and still want to hold on to the southern part of our country."

The Americans, he said, "are sustaining ever heavier defeats and are at the end of their tether."

And the cruelest blow for those who had persuaded themselves that negotiations might lead to an honorable peace was this: "In the face of our serious attitude and just stand at the Paris peace discussions, they keep demanding 'reciprocity' in a shameless and utterly unreasonable manner."

So there you have it. After weeks of futile maneuvering in Paris, and after repeated hints from Averell Harriman that some sort of agreement was just around the corner, we are told it is "utterly unreasonable" to expect any concession at all from Hanoi.

Council Answers Letter on Marksmanship Badge

Apparently G. E. Adam of Union Lake is disturbed about the report that the Boy Scouts of America considers canceling the marksmanship merit badge. Good. He can count me on his team. For the record, the local Scout council has not received even a hint of such policy change from our national headquarters. Probably someone either spoke without authority or was misquoted.

While we wait for the dust to settle, I suggest that anyone interested might visit either Camp Agawam or our Lost Lake Scout Reservation. He will find at each site an expertly administered rifle range, the popularity of which ranks right along with the waterfront program.

Commend Participants in Soap Box Derby

All those participating in making the Soap Box Derby in Pontiac such a success should be commended for their efforts, especially the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Dept., the local Jaycees and the Chevrolet dealers. A lot of planning, volunteer work and time went into this, showing a fine example of good citizenship. Win or lose, the boys showed excellent sportsmanship. They experienced a very rewarding day they'll remember a lifetime.

Letter Discusses Need of City of Pontiac

This city needs to be on fire for God like people were in the beginning days of Christianity. They followed the footsteps of Jesus and bore His cross daily with boldness and love. We must win those that are lost. Christ has given each of us a purpose in life and it is up to us whether we will accomplish it or not.

'Pontiac's Dog Ordinances Are Adequate'

I find the City ordinance covering the protection of citizens from dogs to be more than adequate. We need some sort of regulation to control mothers who let their small children run unattended during the day and disrupt the business of local merchants. When confronted with the facts, these same mothers resort to profanity and defamation.

Question and Answer

My 12-year-old daughter is in fifth grade but reads like a second grader. Do Waterford schools have special help for children like this?

REPLY

Yes, Dr. Montgomery said several programs are available and he will be glad to talk with you about help for your daughter. His number is 673-6711.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

This shouldn't occasion much surprise. Those who know Ho Chi Minh and the Communist attitude toward peace talks have warned us all along that peace talks would be only a ruse to lure the United States into a sense of security while the Communists stepped up their attacks. The real surprise is that so many people in Washington and elsewhere jumped into the trap.

Gun Letters

The Hillsdale Daily News

Mail in support of gun legislation went quickly from a bang to a whimper, say the nation's lawmakers.

Letters, telegrams and petitions from the National Rifle Association and others opposed to gun controls are now back in the lead, outnumbering the gun law advocates by as much as 15-1 in some congressional offices. In many cases, the flood of mail that followed the assassination of Sen. Robert Kennedy has dwindled to a trickle.

The mail from urban areas generally runs in favor of gun registration and banning of mail order sales. That from rural areas, particularly hunting areas, is predominately opposed.

Wayne County Sheriff Acts

5 Deputies Suspended in Raid

DETROIT (AP)—Five Wayne County sheriff's deputies were suspended by Sheriff Roman Gribbs Sunday after they were arrested in conjunction with a raid on a private party in Detroit.

Gribbs said the prosecutors office authorized warrants charging gross indecency, which is a felony, against two of the deputies and two of three women who were arrested in the raid.

The sheriff described the party as a "smoker" or as a "blind pig," which is the common police phrase to describe a place where illegal liquor is served. However, Gribbs declined to give details of the party.

He said warrants have been authorized against three other deputies and the 19 other persons arrested on misdemeanor charges of loitering in a place of illegal occupation.

The sheriff said after a deputy sheriff brought the possible case to his attention last week, he immediately contacted Inspector William Hunn of the Detroit Police Department's vice squad, who led the investigation.

Seven Detroit policemen and seven sheriff's deputies participated in the raid, he said.

Police said pleas of innocent were entered for two suspended sheriff's deputies, Daniel J. Preveda and Paul L. Smith, in Recorder's Court in Detroit Sunday, on charges of gross indecency. They were released on $1,000 personal bonds, police said.

The other three deputies were held in city jail, pending scheduled court appearances in Recorder's Court Monday, police said.

The sheriff identified the three as Donald Linn, Eugene Buhlman, and William Connolly. He said Buhlman and Connolly were not arrested at the party but were seen leaving the area before the raid.

"The arrests of a fellow officer are always a regrettable affair, but the law officer more than any other person must obey the law that he is sworn to uphold," the sheriff said.

He said they would be suspended pending the outcome of their court cases.

'Black Nationals' Not for McCarthy

DETROIT (UPI)—Pontiac attorney Milton R. Henry, first vice president of the Republic of New Africa, has denounced implications that the Black Nationalist movement here supported the presidential candidacy of Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

The repudiation followed the Rev. Albert Cleage's endorsement of McCarthy following the Democrat's weekend visit to the city.

2 in U. of M. Film Raid Called in Fortas Probe

ANN ARBOR (AP)—An assistant Washtenaw County prosecutor and an Ann Arbor detective say they are scheduled to testify before the U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee in Washington Tuesday regarding a controversial film that was seized at the University of Michigan.

Assistant Prosecutor Thomas F. Shea said he was requested by an aide to U.S. Sen. James Eastland, D-Miss., a committee member, to bring the film to Washington. It was ordered in connection with the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice of the United States Supreme Court.

2nd Siamese Twin*Is Dead After Surgery

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A four-day-old baby, separated from her dead Siamese twin sister in a five-hour operation Sunday, died today.

The babies were born joined at the chest. The operation separating them was termed a success by Dr. Richard Connor with the surviving infant placed in an incubator overnight.

The cause of death of the second baby was not immediately determined. An autopsy was ordered.

Sister Colette, a spokesman for St. Joseph Hospital, said: "The doctors had hoped to let the babies become more developed and then separate them in several months. But the death of one of the babies made the separation necessary."

TWO HEARTS

Doctors initially reported the girls shared a single heart. Dr. Connor said, however, the surgical team discovered Sunday that each infant had its own heart.

Connor said the babies were connected by small blood vessels at their hearts and shared a common intestinal tract for a short distance. Neither connection was a serious problem during the operation, Connor said.

Hospital officials refused to disclose the identity of the parents, adding that this was the wish of the couple.

The twins were born on noon Friday. The condition of both had been listed as "guarded" until one died at 2 p.m. Sunday. The operation to separate them was performed immediately.

Irked Player Shoots 4 at Softball Game

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A man was arrested Sunday night after police said he wounded four persons with a shotgun because he had been left out when two sandlot softball teams were picked.

Officers said that when Robert Bailey, 26, of Indianapolis, was not chosen for the game at Belmont Park on the city's North Side, he reportedly said "then you'll never play" and left the park.

Witnesses told police Bailey returned and drove his car into the center of the softball diamond. The witnesses said the 12-gauge shotgun in Bailey's hand discharged as he was stepping from the car.

The four persons wounded were 60 feet from Bailey and behind a backstop screen. One, James R. Edwards, 22, was injured critically.

Bailey was arrested on a preliminary charge of assault and battery with intent to murder.

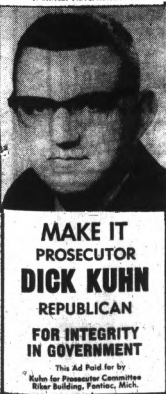

Truck Blast Threat Averted by Firemen

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A burning semitrailer truck, loaded with napalm bombs and artillery shells, loomed as a powder keg for more than an hour Saturday, threatening suburban Sharonville.

Part of the heavily populated area was evacuated and Sharonville firemen braved the threat of a massive explosion to extinguish the blaze with gallons of foam. No one was hurt.

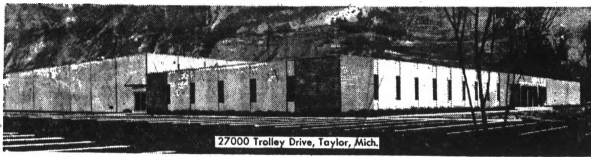

The fire apparently erupted in the right front wheels of the trailer, carrying a total of 40,000 pounds of U.S. Air Force explosives, but the interior of the trailer did not catch fire.

Long and Straight the Word for Fall

By LUCIE NOEL
Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP) — American buyers who saw a private showing of Yves Saint-Laurent's fall and winter collection came away impressed.

Saint-Laurent's collection is long and straight, they report.

He continues his tailored pants suits, now cut on stovepipe lines and topped by a long jacket reminiscent of 19th century frock coats.

Saint-Laurent carries this theme into evening wear, using the "grande Veste" to cover a black turtle-neck sweater. The jacket in wadded velvet.

In skirts and dresses, the designer keeps his hemlines four to five inches above the knee.

He has varied ideas for all times of the day: duffle top coats, many tunics, starting the day in fringed leather winding up in elaborately jeweled brocades.

The tunic theme is climaxed by the bride wearing one in silver in the Chinese mood, and she carries a lighted candle instead of a lily.

For evening, dresses are kept short, and are delicately embroidered in jewels. Satin, crepe and chiffon share honors with elaborate Oriental brocades.

Saint-Laurent's ublic showing will be staged today.

Don't Fear the Truth

Now's Time to Set Things Straight

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Norbert (made up name) used to come right home after work until about six months ago. Then the excuses started coming.

"The clock at work was slow. I stayed to help a buddy. Car trouble. I had to stop at the hardware store."

Norbert is always anywhere from an hour to two hours late. I am afraid to ask him for the truth because I think there is another woman in the picture.

ABBY

Abby, I love Norbert and he used to love me—(We) have three kids, and I don't want to lose him. I've been a good wife to him and I don't know where I have failed. We married young (I was 17 and he was 18). I was his first and only girl and maybe he is getting a taste of life he never had before. Please tell me what to do. I have no proof and I'm afraid to ask him.

END OF ROPE

DEAR ABBY: YOU MUST ask him. Fearing "the truth" won't solve anything. First, find out what went wrong with your marriage, then set about to correct it. You may need some counseling, in which case don't delay. Get it now.

DEAR ABBY: Do you believe in love at first sight?

THEO

DEAR THEO: No. But I do believe in taking a second look.

DEAR ABBY: A woman who works with me says that you will not use a letter in your column unless it is signed in full by the person who wrote it. I say you will. And how about those letters signed, "DESPERATE, CURIOUS, MIXED UP." etc? Do people really sign their letters that way, or is that your own way of keeping them anonymous?

Also, I'd like to know if you ever answer letters personally without putting them in your column?

LONG TIME READER

DEAR READER: Unsigned letters receive the same consideration for publication in my column as signed letters. If the writer asks that his name and location be kept confidential, I respect his wishes by signing his letter,

"DESPERATE, CURIOUS, MIXED UP." etc. But some letters are signed that way.

All letters accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope are answered personally.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Theatre School Youngsters to Present 'The King's Gift'

Area drama students will end their six weeks of training at the Cranbrook Theatre School by participating in a three act play entitled "The King's Gift."

Written especially to accommodate large casts of children, by ex-theatre school director, Carl G. Wonnberger, three complete casts were organized for the performances July 30, 31 and August 1 at 8:15 p.m.

The play itself is typical children's storybook fare. The indulgent King Philip of Cardovia lavishes monetary goods but no sincere affection on his daughters and finally one is banished for her unappreciative behavior.

Princess Margerita then travels to neighboring Phrynsia where she meets the understanding Prince Terence and of course, they fall in love. An apology from her father enables all to "live happily ever after."

The group of youngsters, none of them more than 13 years old, prepared four plays in the first four weeks of class, developing the skills and confidence needed for this final performance.

The staff of certified teachers schooling the group is led by Cranbrook School Theatre chairman, Mrs. Carl G. Wonnberger. Active in the program for over 27 years, she has taken over as head, filling the position formerly held by her husband, Carl.

Production manager for the production and executive assistant of the school is Mrs. Paul Wheaton. Costuming was taken care of by Mrs. George Zonars and Mrs. Fritz Fiesselmann. Choreography was directed by Mrs. Thomas Kelly.

Tickets for the three performances are available at St. Dunstan's Playhouse weekday mornings.

Weissenberg's Pianistic Skills Overshadowed

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

Alexis Weissenberg, pianist, was the guest artist for the Saturday and Sunday performances of the Meadow Brook Festival, with Sixteen Ehrling and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. For the first time this season, an instrumentalist was heard twice on one program, with Mozart's Concerto Number 9 in E-Flat Major, and Rachmaninoff's Concerto Number 2 in C Minor.

Weissenberg has a BERNICE precise, neat style of playing, his technique is flawless, and his interpretation is pristine pure and circumspect. However, his tone is small and restricted, he relies heavily on his wrist and fingers, rather than on the large upper arm and shoulder muscles for reserve timbre and depth. The general effect is one of a masterpiece in miniature, better suited to a small concert hall or recording studio than to a large outdoor auditorium.

For the first time, the orchestra overshadowed the soloist, in spite of Ehrling's efforts to keep the lone in balance. The Mozart concerto was exquisitely delicate and restrained with clean, technical patterns, superb trills, and restrained elegance in interpretation. But the stormy emotionalism of the Rachmaninoff Concerto seemed bottled up inside the performer. As the music unfolded, one had the almost irresistible urge to reach out and turn up an invisible volume control to correct the balance and produce the desired effects.

ORCHESTRA PREVAILED

Only in parts of the third movement did the fire and temper of the music break through, but, in general, the concerto became a vehicle for the orchestra rather than for the featured piano.

Ehrling and the orchestra opened the concert with Mozart's "Linz" Symphony, Number 36 — a neat, gracious and well-rounded performance, with careful attention to detail and polish.

This week, Tuesday through Sunday, will be devoted to performances of the American Ballet Theatre, accompanied by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

A Long Splinter

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. Harold Cuthberts had a splinter removed from her big toe in a hospital here recently. The splinter had been self-sex-prac.

Case No. G-544

Have Other Distractions

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE G-544: Laura J., aged four, has scared her mother. "Oh, Dr. Crane," her mother began, "Laura has me frightened. "For the other night I found her indulging in self-sex-prac."

"What can I do?" Will she become feeble, DR. CRANE, minded or grow insane? "And what would ever make a child do such a thing?"

AUTO EROTICISM

By her exaggerated reaction, Laura's mother still shows the prudery that attaches to sex problems.

Auto eroticism (masturbation) is widespread during childhood, at least for brief periods of time. In fact, it is so common as to be considered a "natural" reaction.

That is especially true if you place the toddler on the little toilet seat as you try to develop habit to read inspiring Bible stories or other suitable

Unless you have colorful wooden blocks or other gadgets fastened to the rim of the special child's seat, its hands will be unoccupied.

So they will flail around, somewhat aimlessly.

By law of averages, it will not be long until the child strikes the sensitive, erogenous zone.

The resulting unusual sensations may lead the youngster to repeat the process.

Soon it may develop the habit of rubbing its genitalia for lack of anything more exciting to do with its hands.

So be sure your child has other stimulating toys with which to occupy its hands, both while on the toilet stool and at bedtime.

For example, let your youngster have a woolly lamb or cloth puppy or a beloved doll as a bedfellow.

Then the child will hold it in its hands or play with it instead of indulging in auto eroticism.

And be sure your child is properly fatigued before it goes to bed, for a nervous, excited youngster, who has been unduly stimulated by horrendous TV shows, will not be likely to drift off immediately into sound

Many "society" families are now so preoccupied with their social climbing activities and Country Club events, that they ignore their kiddies too much.

It is quite O.K. to import a beloved and familiar baby sitter once or twice per week.

But this habit of routinely letting a maid put the children to bed, is barbarous!

Yet many supposedly "best families" still shun their parental duties by shipping their kiddies off to Boarding School.

Sometimes there is a financial reason why you can't personally keep your kiddies at home with you.

But most of these love-starved tots have parents who can well afford to stay home as pals and jolly playmates of their youngsters, but they race off to outside parties too much.

You can enjoy society events for 25 years after your kiddies enter the teens, but for those first 12 years, try to be real parents!

RITA M. BIGELOW

A fall wedding is planned by Rita M. Bigelow and Peter W. Vidor, alumni of Michigan State University. She is the daughter of Mrs. Howard Bigelow of Genesee Avenue and the late Mr. Bigelow. Her fiancé is the son of the Peter J. Vidors of Bratton Drive.

Miss Jackson Is Bride

The former Linda Gail She carried as her bouquet, white roses, Stephanotis and ivy.

Parents of the couple are the James R. Jacksons of Seminole Road and Mrs. William J. Gray of Royal Oak and the late Mr. Gray. They joined the newlyweds as they greeted guests at a reception in the Community Room at First Federal Savings of Oakland.

ENSEMBLE

The bride chose an A-line gown of silk organza with lace appliques on the bodice, sleeves and neckline. A pillow headpiece of matching lace was accented with crystals and pearls.

Colors Put Spotlight on Lavender Tradition

Yardley adds a twentieth century comb and brush holders to comely twist to their 200 year old lavender-scented soap-bright, scintillating color. Decorator designed to harmonize and contrast with bathroom decor. All five come-alive soap shades are themed to a mood, from early American to mod Victorian.

Each color is packaged five and decorator color with a brass cake to a box with "how to" epergne of green ladyfinger illustrations for coordinating grapes. Look for other fruits in bathroom accessories on the alabaster, marble and glass wrapper.

Early American Yellow: Warm colors are ideal for bathrooms with cold, north light exposures. You can carry out an early American theme with natural wood and pottery accessories. A bamboo screen makes a practical rack for guest and hand towels in several shades of yellow and amber. Add a deeper accent with a bowl of gold and brown strawflowers.

Mexicali Orange: Combine orange with pink or yellow for a south-of-the-border feeling. Put gaily colored Mexican pottery and paper mache mugs to use as accent pieces, organizers. You might make your own paper mache objects to carry out the theme via mirror frames, trays, boxes and bottle covers.

PRETTY POSH

Scherazade Pink: Pink is a perfect bathroom color because of its flattering power of light refraction. Mix it with orange and yellow for a modern mood, with white or lavender for a pale, romantic feeling. Lace trimmed finger tip towels and paisley bath sheets combine well with a Persian print bedspread used as a shower curtain. Use an Oriental rug for a bath mat.

Delit Blue: Make a water color bathroom by teaming solid color navy, aqua and white towels with navy and white flower-printed curtains. Use a milk glass dish for a soap holder and a milk glass egg as a powder box. Use silver, pewter or blue and white Meissen porcelain for

Lives Saved by Baby Powder

Did you know that baby powder saves lives — literally?

Parachutes are sprinkled with baby powder between the folds so they won't stick together, thus facilitating a quick and smooth opening of the chute. Sky diving enthusiasts take note!

Military flares, dropped by parachute, also depend on baby powder. The baby powder sprinkled on the parachute keeps it from sticking and insures the flare of floating to the strategic spot on land or sea.

Victorian Style Popular for Girls

Grandmothers looking for a very special dress for little princesses will like white Victorian dresses in embroidered batiste and lace trimmed pique. Typical of the look: a high necked, long sleeved embroidered batiste dress sashed low in pale blue satin. Another is an empire ribbon sashed pique midi dress with puff sleeves and lady pantaloons.

Rust Prevented

Before rusting summer barbecue equipment, clean it with a light oil. Give it a once over lightly with petroleum jelly. The lubricant, dabbed on the grill's raising and lowering apparatus, will prevent rust.

Victorian Gown Chosen by Bride for Saturday Rite

For her bridal ensemble, Theresa Ann deKubinyi chose an embroidered lawn gown fashioned by her mother with the Victorian look.

To complement her attire, styled with long puff sleeves, a high collar and fitted bodice defined with a ribbon sash, she wore an illusion veil secured with a lace headpiece. She held a nosegay of white roses and chrysanthemums.

RECEPTION

Following Saturday, vows and an exchange of rings by Miss deKubinyi and William R. Thompson in First Presbyterian Church, the newlyweds received guests during a luncheon at the Birmingham Community House.

The daughter of the Victor G. deKubinyi of Birmingham and son of William A. Thompson of Spain will make their home in Birmingham following a Canadian honeymoon.

Summer Pair Is Jacket, Skirt

The long jacket and short skirt add up to a great look for young summer dressing. Sample: a long short-skirted jacket paired with a dirndl skirt in a boundsooth cotton tweed in black, brown and white with white collar and yellow pussy cat bow.

Why Grow Old? By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Few women realize how important their posture is during pregnancy. Awareness of this can add much comfort to those wonderful nine months.

The pregnant woman is apt to assume poor posture at this time even though she has a good carriage at usual times. We can almost always spot a prospective mother by the way she walks, even if we are behind her.

She is almost sure to lean back a little to compensate for the extra weight she is carrying in front. She also often waddles from side to side.

Try to keep your hips under you so that the baby rests more securely on the pelvic bones.

Poor posture during pregnancy can cause a backache. Lie down on the floor or on a bed with a fairly hard mattress. Bend your knees and place your feet flat on the floor or bed. Touch as much of your back to the floor as you can without strain. Do this several times daily. You will find it restful.

Remember that high heels throw the body out of balance. They are not recommended during pregnancy because the perfect balance of the body is already under stress. They may also cause a fall.

Women differ concerning a girdle. Some are more comfortable with a maternity girdle while others prefer none. I think most doctors feel that either is all right if the girdle is correctly fitted. This is something to consult him about since every case is different.

So is exercise. Usually daily walking is recommended. Some women will profit by a three or four mile walk while a mile is enough for others. In some instances the doctor may feel that the woman in question gets enough exercise just doing her housework.

Save the following exercise for reconditioning after childbirth.

Several times a day at one of your rest periods try this exercise. Lie on your back. Bend both knees up as close to your abdomen as you can. Lock your arms around your knees. Lie in this position for as long a time as is comfortable. Do this several times a day.

If you would like my free leaflet with more reconditioning exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for "Care During Pregnancy." Address your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E, 600 P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

'Bug' Broadcasts Child's Activities

The gadget looks like a small toy, but it's actually a safety item for the home. It looks like a bug, but contains miniature microphone and radio transmitter.

Flick the switch, place it in a child's room, turn on an FM radio anywhere in the house and the "bug" will broadcast clearly what is happening. The gadget is powered by a single flashlight battery.

Female Judge Has No Trouble

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Naomi Morris at 46 is the youngest and prettiest member of the Court of Appeals.

Judge Morris finds working with her five male colleagues no problem, though she admits "They may tone down their language because of me."

She was appointed to the newly created court by Gov. Dan Moore, becoming the second woman jurist on the state court, the other being Supreme Court Justice Susie Sharp.

Shifts Shifting Out of the Scene

Little girls' shifts are shifting out of the summer fashion scene — replaced by pretty, perky pinafores made of machine-laundable Dacron-cotton pastels and eyelets, as well as splashy prints and plaids.

What luxury for a young miss to have these in several styles — culotte playsuits, matching bloomers, party pretty styles — all easy-to-suds clean for frequent change-abouts.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson C. Collins of Milford announce the betrothal of their daughter, Ginger Lee, to Cpl. Rodney Allen Durham USMC, who is stationed in Vietnam. He is the son of the Edward L. Durhams of Farmington. January vows are slated.

The engagement and upcoming October wedding of their daughter, Barbara JoAnn to Archie J. MacLarty of Lake Orion is announced by the Arthur Clarks of Metamora. The prospective bridegroom is the son of the Mr. and Mrs. Neil MacLarty of Orlando, Fla.

Television Idea Prompts Cripple to Start Service

BERWICK, Pa. (AP) — As a result of an idea she got while watching a television program, Dorothy Eshleman, who was crippled by a polio attack when she was 6 years old, now runs a 24-hour-a-day answering service from her home.

A business college graduate, Miss Eshleman formerly worked in an office but found getting around difficult. Then one night she watched Imogene Coca, the comedienne, in the role of an answering service girl.

"I figured if anyone that crazy could run an answering service, even as a TV gag, I should be able to do it," she says.

Shades Make Good Insulators

Shades or blinds make good insulators and help keep heat in or out according to the season. In the summer, rooms can be kept cool by drawing the shades early in the day to seal out the sun's heat.

In the winter, reverse the process to keep the heat in when the sun is down.

You will also protect your draperies by keeping the sun's harshest rays from them.

Make Room in Budget for Living Today

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:
My husband insists on paying $400 a month on our mortgage when the payment is actually only $165. He wants everything possible to go on this house which we built five months ago after selling the old one. But what we need furniture to go in it!

MARY FEELEY

bedrooms as we have only one worn out rocker and a TV in the lovely family room, and a worn out davenport, end table, and one chair in the parlor. No washer — after a hard day's work, we have to go to the laundromat.

Shouldn't we be able to live a little for today on our combined net income of $800 a month? We have no debts and no charge accounts: the two cars are paid for. We also have mortgage insurance to safeguard us.

My husband is 40 and I'm 36. His 15-year-old daughter needs friends and a place to entertain them. If we could buy just a few live in the kitchen and little, furniture at a time we could be comfortable. But if we have to wait for the house to be paid off I lose my enthusiasm for working steadily.

Our combined salaries — $400 of which I earn — are in one account. The large amount of overtime which my husband makes he handles separately. We have put $1,000 recently in a savings account. Couldn't we live carefully and comfortably with no worries while our health is good? Today has so much to offer.

Please set up a budget for us showing how the $800 a month could be distributed.

Mrs. S.B.S., Toledo, Ohio

Dear Mrs. S.:
I agree that today is a mighty important day. But some people have a thing about owing money. Their anxiety lies in confusing credit with debt. That's what your husband's doing. Try to make him understand that not even a nervous money-lender would call a comfortable mortgage "debt". When you can pay your bills out of your income and feel no great pain, you're certainly entitled to two chairs in the parlor.

Neither of us, however, is going to change your husband's emotional makeup overnight. So why not suggest a compromise — that he put some of his overtime pay into the mortgage, then operate on a live-a-little-today basis?

For example:
Housing, $165; insurance, heat, property tax, $50; monthly operating including utilities and supplies, $35; food, $130; clothing and upkeep, sticking to the minimum 8 per cent of net income, $64; personal allowances, $86; savings and life insurance, $80; furnishings, $80; church and miscellaneous, $30; entertainment and recreation, $43; car operation including insurance, $75. Total, $798.

I think you can justify buying some needed furnishings, including a washer, on credit since you have savings, and, hopefully, some of that overtime pay as a backup. When these installment commitments are paid off, you can devote a monthly sum to building toward car replacements.

The Church of God was chosen by Joan Gail Smith and Ronald James Arsenault for their wedding vows Saturday. A lawn reception at the bride's parents home on Northview Road, Independence Township followed the ceremony. Attired in an A-line gown of peau de soie, a double beaded tulle held the bride's veil of silk net. She carried a bouquet of carnations and roses. Honor attendants for the couple, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, were among the bridal party of 14. Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith and Walter Arsenault of Columbia Street and Mrs. Delores Duhlen of Livonia.

DEADLY FUN—It looks like fun, but it could be deadly, warns the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation. The Rocky Coulee Chute near Moses Lake, Wash., ends in rough concrete breakers to slow the water. It takes only 15 seconds to travel the 935 feet from the top to the bottom. Hitting the breakers could end in injury or death, the bureau says. One drowning occurred this summer as boys slid the Esquatzet Chute near Pasco, Wash.

D.C. Negroes Oppose Police Project

Distrust Blocks OEO Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is having trouble giving away $1.5 million to finance an experiment in breaking down barriers between police and Negroes in slum sections of the nation's capital.

The problem: Negroes oppose the project.

The snarl underscores the deep distrust that both sides agree already divides Negroes from the police in a city marked by recent riots and frequent shooting incidents. Four policemen and six Negroes have been killed in recent confrontations.

"Police are increasingly seen as an occupying force in hostile territory," top Washington police officials admit in a preamble to the antipoverty proposal.

FUNDS FOR CENTERS

To try to ease this tension, the Office of Economic Opportunity out of five policemen are white. Patrick V. Murphy, the city's director of public safety, says, "Police have come to occupy the role of a coercive, adversarial force especially in Negro inner-city areas."

Murphy has taken the leadership in pushing Green's experiment. The proposal was un-work of police informers," objected a month ago at a news conference by Murphy and Walter Washington, the city's appointed Negro mayor.

Under 1967 change in the law, the OEO's local antipoverty organization, can veto an experimental program in its province simply "they don't like it so."

NEED COOPERATION

Gerson M. Green, the energetic young OEO official who is UPO board and head of its planning and argues ghetto residents will hardly embrace a police program that is being imposed on them.

"The distrust is a deep-seated thing," says Branton. The squabble has settled into an exchange of memorandums, disputes over technicalities, counterproposals and counter-

Psychologists Busy Just Marking Time

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Do you ever find yourself wondering what psychologists do all day? Besides just sitting around being psychological?

WEST

Well, as best I can tell they spend part of the time brooding and part of the time getting people to fill out questionnaires.

Not long ago a University of Minnesota psychologist, Milton D. Hakel, found himself brooding over the ambiguity of frequently used words.

How often is "often?" and how frequent is "frequently?" and is "often" more often than "frequently," or is "frequently" more frequent than "often?"

LIFE BLOOD
Such matters are the life blood of psychology. So Hakel had his students fill out a questionnaire on the subject.

He gave them a list of 20 frequency words ranging in frequency from "always" to "never." Then he asked them to indicate what each word meant.

For example, if "usually" meant a thing would happen about 80 times out of 100, the student would give it a rating of 80.

The findings, recently published by the American Psychological Association, show that in the minds of the majority of the students "often" is less seldom than "frequently."

The median rating was 74 times out of 100 for "often" and 72 times out of 100 for "frequently."

In the middle frequency bracket, "now and then" (34) received a higher oftensness rating than "sometimes" (20), "oc-asionally" (28) and "once in a while" (22).

Individually, however, there was a wide variation. Hakel found that one man's "rarely" is another man's "hardly ever," and so on.

"It is amazing that we can communicate at all," he concluded.

NOT REALLY BAD

"I don't wish to give the impression that I am defending ambiguity, but I don't believe the situation is as bad as Hakel pictures it."

It depends on the context in which ambiguous terms are used. Frequently, and sometimes even often, their meaning are quite clear.

Suppose, for instance, that a U.S. senator arises to deliver "a few brief remarks." "Few" and "brief" may be impressive, but everyone knows their meanings well enough to start looking for the nearest exit.

Or say a committee chairman promises to handle a measure "expeditiously." That generally, if not usually, means it will be pigeonholed until next year.

Soft-Drink Tax Loss to Vermont

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — Soft drinks sold from vending machines in Vermont are now liable for the state's rooms and meals tax, but a tax official says the added paper work probably will cost the state more than the tax money the soft drinks bring in.

Vendors must now license their machines at $1 each and keep a set of books listing the revenue each machine brings in. The Tax Department says it will take two clerks just to handle the paper work.

MANY-FACED FEMALE — Carol Burnett plays many roles and puts on many faces. The comedienne says her sense of humor — the ability to laugh at herself — is the key to her success.

People often ask me why I became a comedienne. I like to say it was because I like the sound of laughter, which is true. But the more I think about it, the more I suspect that I had no other choice.

Picture me, if you can, in a serious love scene with a handsome man—Paul Newman, for a nice example. Just at the crucial moment, I know I'd be compelled to sneeze or I'd have an uncontrolled fit of hiccups or, in our fatigue, both the wardrobe woman and I forgot the chemise. There I stood in my everyday underwear in full spotlight.

I panicked, squealed and threw myself to the floor. My clothes ripped away by a crowd of over-eager fans. It was all very proper because I wore a chemise under my dress. But, in our fatigue, both the wardrobe woman and I forgot the chemise. There I stood in my everyday underwear in full spotlight.

Another time, on television before a much larger audience, I made a rare attempt to be serious — but with opposite effect. The lights had gone out backstage in my dressing room when I was getting ready for a torch song, and I didn't realize until I was in the middle of the number that I had big, terrible, gaping runs up both my nylon stockings.

My sense of humor prevailed, and I took the last choice. The audience seemed to enjoy that way and, for that matter, so did I.

If I couldn't stand aside and laugh at myself, I'd probably be a mental case by now.

Take the catastrophic morning in a New York coffee shop where I stopped for breakfast en route to the studio. 2 More Held in 'Crucifixion'

LONDON (AP) — Two more men were charged today with nailing a 34-year-old interior decorator to a cross in Hampstead Heath.

Joseph De Haviland, 32, was found impaled through the palms of his hands to an eight-foot cross last Thursday. He was standing on a shelf on the cross and is recovering in a hospital.

Friends said De Haviland, a Hungarian, was very religious but could give no motive for his being nailed to a cross.

Eric Leach, a 41-year-old interior decorator, was arrested shortly after the macabre discovery. He is being held without bail on a charge of causing grievous and bodily harm to De Haviland.

Two others, David Conklin, 17, and Desmond Pollydore, 20, both unemployed, were arraigned today in Hampstead court on the same charge and held without bail.

Woom Woom Goes BB; Fists Go Boom

SAINT TROPEZ, France (AP) — It was all boom-boom in the Woom Woom nightclub in Saint Tropez Saturday night after Brigitte Bardot drove up in her white Rolls Royce. Luigi Rizzi, a rich Italian showman from Genoa who has been much seen with Miss Bardot lately, stepped up to several persons clustered around the bar when he thought he heard some complimentary remarks about the actress.

Words led to blows and Rizzi was outnumbered. But actor Alain Delon and pop singer Johnny Hallyday stepped up as reinforcements. At this point the fighting subsided and things returned to the normal show-up atmosphere in the Woom Woom, the season's most popular nightclub in this Riviera resort.

Wichita Driver Wins

GARNETT, Kan. (AP) —

Don panic, but California is sinking — rapidly.

Even Texas is subsidizing.

So are a lot of other places, including Louisiana, Alaska, Washington state, and Arizona.

This downward movement of the earth's surface here and there is due, the Coast and Geodetic Survey reported Saturday, to a variety of causes, among them the activities of man.

NATURAL FORCES

The survey has been measuring up-and-down movements of the earth for half a century. Natural forces causing slumps include earthquakes, frost action, and changes in the moisture content of soil.

Some changes in the earth's contour may occur slowly "over the ages." Thus for which man is responsible can be measured in a matter of decades or even shorter periods.

In either case the survey's findings, it said, establish that "the earth is not 'terra firma'; it only looks that way."

Subsidence discovered by the survey in the past few decades range from two-fifths of an inch after the 1965 Puget Sound earthquake in Washington to 24 feet near Mendota, Calif.

RAPID SLUMP

The Mendota slump took place over a 22-year period starting in 1943. Geologically speaking, this was rapid.

Other sizable subsidences include more than seven feet near Eloy, Ariz., since 1948; nearly five feet near Houston since 1943; 5.6 feet at Portage, the home of the boy's step-father, Edsel Simmons of New Orleans in the past half century.

LBJ 'Pullout' Cuts Threat of Chicago Protests

CHICAGO (AP) — President Johnson's decision to withdraw from the political scene appears to have lessened the threat of demonstrations at the Democratic National Convention next month.

Shortly after Johnson had been named site of the Democratic conclave, antiwar, civil rights and hippie leaders chorused that if opposition to the President's policies was to be meaningful, it would have to involve the convention at the sprawling International Amphitheatre.

But now the protest movement is in disarray.

The National Mobilization Committee, organizer of the march on the Pentagon last Oct. 21 and the largest vehicle for war protest, has canceled a program formed specifically for the convention, a program touted as "the largest in American history."

NO LONGER PLANNED

"But we no longer have those plans," said Rennie Davis of the NMC's Chicago office. "Those plans were shaped largely around the assumption that Johnson would be running" Davis added in an interview.

The NMC still anticipates what is obscurely termed a "presence" during the convention, but Davis did not elaborate. Soundings are being taken among members across the country to evaluate the support.

Lowell Rheinheimer, 20, reflects the growing uncertainty when he discusses the Chicago Area Draft Resistors, CADRE, a chapter of a national resistance organization which had plans for demonstrating the week of Aug. 25.

SIGN OF RELIEF

"After Johnson's announcement," he said, "the youths in CADRE had a tendency to relax, to breathe a sigh of relief. And they felt they could withdraw themselves from the movement."

If the peace movement plans appear loose and tentative, those of the civil rights movement are even less structured.

James Farmer, former director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said CORE will not demonstrate at the convention and added: "I hope the convention comes off, and I plan to attend."

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has never officially adopted the promise of his predecessor, the late Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., to demonstrate at the convention, although he, too, has mentioned the possibility of a "presence" there.

ANGRILY DENOUNCED

When eyes first focused on the convention site in early January, Negro comedian and civil rights activists Dick Gregory angrily denounced the Democrats' choice of Chicago, proclaiming the convention would be held only "over my dead body" and that he would spearhead a demonstration of 5,000 persons.

Three months later Gregory called everything off.

He said he feared the planned marches would erupt into violence.

The basic elements are so unstable and the combination of factors potentially so combustible that I cannot accept the responsibility for leading demonstrations in the streets of this city," he said.

FLOWER PEOPLE

As the civil rights and antiwar threats have softened, so have those of the flower people.

The Youth International Party — or Yippies — has re-evaluated its plans to stage a festival of joy of 50,000 to 500,000 head-spangled youths in Chicago during the convention.

"Yes, we had a program to come to Chicago," said Jerry Reuben of New York, a leader of the Yippies. "And officially it's still on. But the question of what to do is all up in the air."

It is so up in the air that many Yippie leaders are openly discouraging the Chicago invasion. "The drama was taken out of the situation by Johnson's decision," Reuben said.

'REGULARLY ABUSED'

The Yippies contend they are regularly abused by police in daily situations, and were especially forcefully dispersed during an antiwar march in April.

But city officials deny such allegations, as do officials of the Democratic party.

"Mayor Richard J. Daley has frequently stated that anyone who wants to come to Chicago to carry out his right as an American to petition and demonstrate as long as he doesn't violate any laws," one city official said.

Demonstrations are highly restricted in Chicago. A city ordinance allows only one march a day, limits the size of the march to the discretion of the police superintendent. It requires that police be notified at least 24 hours in advance of the route, its points of inception and termination, and the names of the leaders.

TIME LIMIT

The ordinance restricts city officials continue to rebuff rumors that the convention will be moved to another city — possibly Miami Beach, where the Republicans will meet earlier in August.

In the backdrop of all this, Democratic party and Chicago Convention coordinator John M. Meek has assured the news media almost weekly: "We've never ever discussed moving worse for it."

About 80 per cent of the fine gold, jewelry and watches produced here would probably be made in demonstrations. There were 131 S. Bates, Birmingham, also known as "gold" demonstrations at the 1964 con-

Among immediate steps to be taken when disorder seems imminent are:

Teen Eyes Opened in Ride With Police

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The being fired at a trailer court youth riding with the officer in the black and white police cruiser whom was carrying a long object, were seen running from the scene.

He was participating in a new scene. JUST LIKE MOVIES

Angels County communities that attempts to dispel teenagers' distrust of police by having them accompany officers as they perform their duties.

The district attorney's office, which set up "ride-along" in cooperation with the police chiefs of the communities, hopes it will open up lines of communication between officers and teen-agers that will eliminate misunderstandings and hostilities.

The project gives the teen-agers a firsthand—and considerably different—view of a policeman's work and the myriad of tasks he is called upon to perform, from notifying relatives in accident cases to mediating in family disputes.

SHE WAS SURPRISED

After riding with a Culver City unit, Candy Thornhill, 17, a Los Angeles High School senior, said, "I was surprised at the variety of things they do. They're always there. They know what to do, how to handle a situation. There are so many things you don't know about the police department, unless you get to know them."

Details of "ride-along" vary somewhat among the participating cities.

In suburban San Francisco, Police Chief Robert Owens said, "the teen-agers ride with a regular patrolman and he responds to the usual kind of calls. Hopefully he won't get involved in a shootout or something."

NOT A GIMMICK

"Duck," quipped the chief. Then he added seriously, there's no sense of trying to take a teen-ager on some sheltered public relations type gimmick. If you don't do it for real, you might as well forget it."

However, some chiefs are reluctant to have the teen-agers in a regular patrol car because of the possible danger and instead assign them to a sergeant's unit.

Paul Kilcoyne, 17, of Northridge accompanied Patrolman James O'Neal of the San Francisco Police Department in his patrol car on the 4 p.m. to midnight shift.

As he cruised the area, the personable young officer who has been on the force three years pointed out potential trouble spots. A drive-in where gang fights often erupt and a rundown section of tiny stucco and peeling frame cottages noted for drug traffic.

HE KNOWS THEM

Kilcoyne passed a half dozen men gathered at the side of a building. "Everyone in that group has been busted for narcotics or burglary," he said.

He was called to a family dispute, to an accident, to a rescue call, to help remove a tree that had toppled across a street and to a hotel where a man clad only in shorts was in a hallway with a gun threatening to blow off his head.

By the time the officer arrived the man, who was drunk, was back in his room and no one in the hotel wanted to get involved by admitting they had seen him in the hall.

Later came a report of shots just like in the movies," said Paul, as the patrol car sped down the dark, narrow lanes of the trailer park and the surrounding area searching in vain for the trio.

"A GOA," O'Neal said, explaining this stands for "suspects gone on arrival."

Between calls there was the routine: Crowing alleys behind business and industrial firms with headlights dark to check for possible burglaries, checking suspicious cars for the possibility they might be stolen and watching for traffic violators.

O'Neal explained to Paul the reason he did certain things, some of the problems he faces and some of the decisions he's called upon to make in dangerous situations.

Paul was surprised at the officer's eye for what appeared at first to be insignificant details.

JUST WOULDN'T THINK

"I just wouldn't think of all that he does," Paul said.

The program has only been under way a week so officials have not yet been able to evaluate its results, although they are optimistic about its success on the basis of the initial experiences.

SUMMER CIRCUS

The circus doesn't come to Peru, Indiana; it is in permanent residence within the homes and business firms throughout the community.

What began there with a Big Top showing in 1884 had become, by 1907, winter quarters for many American traveling carnivals and circuses.

When the quarters closed in 1941, civic leaders created a museum to house relics scattered throughout the town in memory to those bygone days. As many great circus names retired from their specialties, they came to Peru to settle.

Kelly, Beatty, Hodgini, Wilno. These names now perform again; this time, however, it is the children and grandchildren before the crowds.

Learning the routines of the circus is a delight to these children, be it high-flying trapeze work or becoming a clown with a brand-new face. Under guidance of the old-timers, who watch their proteges perform in a way once their own, the children work out year-round in barns, stores or the high-school gymnasium.

Every summer since 1960, when a community movement returned circus life to the northern-central Indiana community just off Highway 31, parents and children have prepared for their annual four-day circus, held usually toward the end of July.

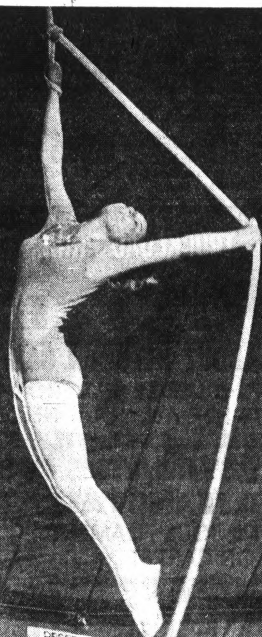

Some 350 residents involve themselves in the workings of the show, from performance and publicity to raising the rigging and cleaning up when it's all over. These efforts bring some 100,000 visitors and circus buffs to the event.

The profits go into a Circus Festival Fund, which is used to buy permanent buildings for an additional museum, improved rigging equipment, more bleachers and additional advertising and publicity for the event.

Each year the circus grows larger. The city is working to construct a permanent Big Top in a downtown lumberyard and additional plans will send a troupe "on the road" to fulfill requests for appearances from other communities.

For now, though, the four-day show creates a "circus city" within the community that presents the summer show at Peru, Indiana.

The circus is definitely in town.

Psychiatrist Says Hippies to Fade Out

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A University of California psychiatrist believes "today's hippies did not have a feeling of emotional security while growing up, despite material comforts."

Dr. Alfred Auerback of UC's San Francisco Medical Center believes their sexual activity and use of drugs are frantic efforts to find themselves.

"Because the rebellious teenager is not going to find any more happiness as a hippie than he's found elsewhere, the movement is destined to disappear in the foreseeable future," Auerback says.

"Then the word 'hippie' will become as archaic as the word 'beatnik' — which represented a similar rebellion a few years ago."

Las Vegas: Bore for Kids

Nuclear Fission Pioneer Dies

Twister Hits Washtenaw

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — You can drink, gamble or get a quick divorce in Las Vegas, but you can't hold a big dance.

The city's law against commercial dance halls allows dances run by charities or supervised by the city but rules out bands brought in by a promoter.

Seventy-five youths cut a rug around City Hall with picket signs asking for a change in the dance law. "Frankly, it's a bore to be a kid in this town," said Tom Harrison, 23.

On Dec. 18, 1938, Hahn, a professor at the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute in Berlin, raised the curtain of the atomic age by the Nazis. Hahn encouraged German scientists to stick to peaceful nuclear research.

He didn't fully realize the implications of his feat but research. He tipped off allied costs of developing nuclear weapons.

Largely as a result of his prestigious influence, Third Reich scientists always stressed the difficulties and enormous bomb he shunned had been near Northfield Church Road before ascending into the sky.

No one was injured. The department said the twister skimmed across an eight-mile path on the ground on Whitmore Lake Road before ascending into the sky.

In stressing the relaxing of strict rules, Root cited the case of the everyday golfer landing in a sand trap that is not well kept. The golfer nudges the ball with his club head to move it out of a rut. For this he is penalized two strokes by USGA rules. Root con-

Olympic Games Dress Rehearsal Held by Mexicans

Architect Pedro Ramirez Vazquez, president of the Olympic Organizing Committee termed the rehearsal, which was held at the remodelled and modernized Olympic Stadium of Mexico's University City, "a complete success."

More than 10,000 persons participated in the event which took exactly two hours nine minutes and 28 seconds to be completed. They were divided in 80 groups, the number of delegations which are expected to attend the games.

Contingents from the National Military Service, Boy Scouts and other similar groups were used to simulate the Olympic delegations. The biggest contingent was that of the United States with 547 members; the smallest was the one representing Ghana with only seven.

Also for the first time the new huge electrical Olympic board was demonstrated.

Posts Two Victories

SEATTLE (AP) — Wilmer Pergande, Waukesha, Wis., beat out Mike Moreland, Seattle, in the C Stock Hydro Class Sunday to become the only double winner in the National Stock Outboard Championships.

In last Friday's scrimmage at U. of D., Munson completed 12 of 18 passes for 156 yards and one touchdown, while rookie Greg Barton of Tulsa threw seven of 15 passes for 136 yards and had one intercepted.

The Lions now get ready for the first of five exhibition games, starting next Monday night at Buffalo.

This means that Sweetan and Barton would call the signals against the Bills, even though No. 1 choice Greg Landry along with three other rookies would join the team Saturday after the College All-Star game to be played Friday night in Chicago.

None of the four all-stars is expected to see much action against Buffalo. In the game with Landry are Earl McCullough, tight end Charles Sanders and kicker Jerry DePoyster.

BULLDOZING — Marty Malatin (10) of the Pontiac Firebirds skirts away from a Hamtramck tackler in the benefit football game Saturday night at Rochester High School. Malatin scored a touchdown on the series and added the

Oyler's Ankle Injury Leaves Tigers Thin

BALTIMORE (AP) — Shortstop Oyer of the Detroit Tigers jammed his left ankle in the first inning against Baltimore and had to be removed from Sunday's game.

Oyler was injured while fielding Buford's leadoff grounder into the prior to making the long throw to base.

Dick Tracewski replaced Oyler in line-up. Another shortstop, Tom Lechick, is serving two weeks with the Michigan National Guard.

DETERMINED TO COME BACK — Boston Red Sox outfielder Tony Conigliaro displays his pitching form at a practice session at Fenway Park. Tony will be going into the In-

Qualifying Starts Tuesday

GAM Tourney at Red Run

A classy field that sports the Country Club, and Green is in the midst of a hot golf streak. Along with taking the GAM title last year, he has picked up the Michigan Medal Play and the Horton Smith Memorial format, one that calls for 18 holes of qualifying play Tuesday and Wednesday, then match play Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

DEFENDING TITLE
Returning to defend his crown is Peter Green of Orchard Lake

one of the longest hitters among the state's amateur crowd, won the title in 1958, 1962, 1964 and 1965. He's one of a handful to win back-to-back titles.

Another champ who'll have to be reckoned with is Tom Draper who will be playing on his home course. Draper won the GAM in 1960, and in 1965 he won the North-South Amateur title.

The other ex-titlists in the field are Glenn Johnson (1955) of Detroit Golf Club; Gene Woodard (1957) of Lochmor;

WDGA Tourney Opens

A couple of national tournaments will spice a busy golfing calendar for Michigan during the next three weeks.

The biggest of the nationals is the U.S.G.A. Women's Amateur slated for Aug. 12-17 at Birmingham Country Club. On the Aug. 5-10 slate is the U.S.G.A. Girls' Junior event at Flint Golf Club.

TOP EVENT

One of the state's top tournaments also fits into the schedule. It's the Michigan Open, set for Aug. 9-11 at Spring Meadows near Linden.

Qualifying for the Michigan Open is slated for Aug. 5 at Holly Greens Golf Course.

MATCH TOURNAMENT

Kicking off this busy three-week period, however, are the girls in the Women's District Golf Association.

Rain wiped out the WDGA's medal play championship back in June, but all looks well for the opening of their match play tournament today at Western turns at the plate. Gardner struck out four times and grounded to short. In the field, the Bill had one putout, seven assists and three big errors. Corning trounced Newark, 17-0 while Mrs. Gene P. Eyler of 5.

Minor Leaguer Weds at 2nd, Whiffs at Plate

NEWARK, N.Y. (AP) — Just prior to the New York-Pennsylvania League baseball game here Sunday night between Newark and Corning, a civil marriage ceremony was performed at second base for Newark's shortstop and his hometown sweetheart.

Bill E. Gardner and Miss Sandra Harris, both of Greenville, Tenn., were married before Supreme Court Justice Marshall E. Livingston of Newark.

Gardner, a farm hand for the Boston Red Sox, had a batting average of .322 and was considered a brilliant fielder.

But, Sunday's game showed another side of him. In five innings Gardner struck out four times and grounded to short. In the field, the Bill had one putout, seven assists and three big errors. Corning trounced Newark, 17-0 while Mrs. Gene P. Eyler of 5.

Also on tap this week are the Golf Association of Michigan championship at Red Run and the Michigan Publix Golf Association match play tournament at Tyrone Hills near Fenton.

SURPRISE WINNER

Pontiac's Terry Hoy, a surprise winner of the MPGA title last year, will be on hand at Tyrone Hills to defend his title. The tourney runs through Saturday.

The Aug. 5 features three state title events in addition to the Michigan Open qualifying. The Michigan Seniors is on tap at Detroit Golf Club, Aug. 5-6, the Michigan Section PGA Senior crown will be decided Aug. 5 at Bridgeport and the Golf Association of Michigan caddy championship is set for the same day at Country Club of Jackson.

On Aug. 13, Black River Country Club in Port Huron will play host to the sectional qualifying of the U.S.G.A. Men's Amateur.

Season to Open Saturday

Firebirds Tune Up With 51-7 Win

Preparing for their regular season opener next Saturday night, the Pontiac Firebirds stomped over the new Hamtramck Chargers, 51-7, in the benefit exhibition game at the Hamtramck stadium.

With quarterback Bill Harrington having one of his best games for the Firebirds, completing 10 of 15 passes for 162 yards, Pontiac's MFL entry chalked up its 11th straight victory, including nine from 1967 and the two exhibitions this year.

It was a matter of everything going right for Pontiac and everything going wrong for Hamtramck, a new franchise in the MFL.

FAST LEAD
The Firebirds took an 18-0 first quarter lead on a pass from Harrington to Jim Stewart for eight yards, on a two yard plunge by Tom Eifert and a 22 yard interception return by Roger Knapp.

In the second period, Harrington hit Ray Danescu perfectly for a 27 yard touchdown and quarterback Bob Pomeroy went nine yards on a rollout to make it 31-0 before the Chargers got on the scoreboard on a one yard plunge by Ernest Moore.

In the third period, Harrington hit Ron Bemis with a 30 yard scoring play and Marty Malinin with the 44th point with a one yard spurt and the extra point as well.

Speedy Bob Brown joined the scoring parade with a one yard burst to make the final score read 51-7.

BENEFIT FUND

The game, sponsored by the Rochester Rotary club for the Crittendon Hospital and the Rochester YMCA fund, drew nearly 3,000 fans.

The Firebirds open their regular season Saturday night against the Chargers in Hamtramck's Keyworth Stadium.

The season's home opener is scheduled the following Saturday, Aug. 10 against Flint in Wisner Stadium.

Season tickets and single game tickets are on sale at Griff's, Osmon's, VFW Post 1370, Bob-Ken's, Morley's Drugs and Shelton Pontiac in Rochester.

Deadline for purchasing season tickets is August 9.

Spotlight on Trades in NFL

By the Associated Press
Jerry Hildebrand is a St. Louis Cardinal again, but Kevin Hardy, well, he's still just meditating.

Hildebrand, a linebacker, had been sent to the Minnesota Vikings to complete a deal which recently sent safety Brady Keys to the Cardinals.

But the Vikings announced Sunday that Hildebrand, who has been hampered by knee trouble, failed to pass his physical and was being returned to the Cardinals.

A Viking spokesman said the Cardinals now must give up another player or a high draft choice.

HASN'T MOVED

And Hardy, ordered by Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle to report to the San Francisco 49ers as partial payment for the Saints' signing of Dave Parks, remained in the New Orleans Saints training camp at San Diego, Calif., Sunday.

"I guess I'll just have to meditate," he said.

Parks, a veteran receiver, played out his option with the 49ers last season, then signed on with the Saints last week. As payment, Rozelle ordered the Saints to give up Hardy, a rookie but highly prized plus their No. 1 draft choice for 1969.

Hardy was greatly upset.

"I don't know what I can do," he said. "If Rozelle tells you to jump, I guess you're supposed to jump. But I haven't been around here long enough to jump. I am confused by it all and don't know what I want to do. Perhaps I'll get myself a lawyer. I just don't know."

AGREE TO TERMS

The Atlanta Falcons signed two key players, fullback Junior Coffey and halfback Perry Lee Dunn, leaving 11 veterans unsigned.

The Pittsburgh Steelers reported that Bob Wade, a cornerback, suffered a knee injury in Saturday's scrimmage and now is on crutches.

Miami put seven free agents and 12th round draft choice, tackle Paul Paxton, on waivers. Coach George Wilson said he originally had planned to cut 15, but changed his mind after the Dolphins' scrimmage Saturday.

The Boston Patriots released rookie Ron Persulite when three veterans returned to camp after completing their National Guard summer training. They are center Jon Morris, guard Karl Singer and fullback Bob Cappadona.

Catch Saves Win for 'A' All-Stars in Softball Outing

Division A defeated Division B in an all-star game of the Walled Lake Industrial League Saturday with Fred Warra of Wixom getting the decision.

Loser was Bill Williams of Ultimate Precision. With two outs and holding the '9-7 lead and men on base, Sam McDermott ended the game with a game saving catch in the final inning.

The wives of Division A players followed with a 14-3 win over their rivals at a picnic which followed.

Riessen Turns Pro After Loss

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP) — Marty Riessen sang his swan song to the amateur tennis world, but he was just a sitting duck for Arthur Ashe.

Ashe, No. 2-ranked player in the country and a U.S. Davis Cup team member, simply outclassed Riessen 6-2, 6-3, 6-3 Sunday to win the men's singles competition of the 69th annual Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Championship.

After the day's singles and doubles play concluded the week-long tourney at the century-old Merion Cricket Club, Riessen, 26, of Evanston, Ill., turned professional. He signed a two-year contract with World Championship Tennis, Inc., the Lamar Hunt group called the Handsome Eight.

Riessen, also a Davis Cup member who was ranked No. 5 in America, will join the group in Cannes, France, to replace the injured Earl "Butch" Buzich in a tournament which begins there Thursday.

In women's competition Sunday, Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis and Valerie Ziegenfuss of San Diego won the doubles championship, scoring a 6-3, 6-3 victory over the Australia team of Karen Krantzke and Helen Gourlay.

The men's final round doubles match wound up in a draw after four hours of play. The match between Ashe and Riessen and Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico and Clark Graebner of New York was tied at two sets apiece when halted by darkness.

Ashe and Riessen won the first two sets, 9-7 and 10-8, and Pasarell and Graebner took the next two sets, 6-2 and 30-28.

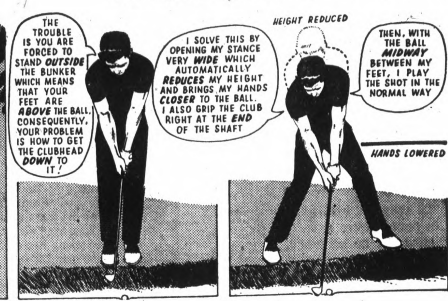

Ashe, an Army lieutenant stationed at West Point, gave Riessen a going-away present he may not forget for awhile—a lesson in precision tennis.

Overpowering in all departments of play, the Richmond, Va., resident put his opponent under terrific pressure with his outstanding service.

AAU Officials Certify Mark

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Officials of the Amateur Athletic Union certified Saturday the record of 9.9 seconds set in the 100 meters by Charlie Greene, Jim Hines and Ronnie Ray Smith.

The action was taken at a meeting of the AAU's foreign relations and executive committees in Kansas City. The certification was signed by Davis A. Matlin of Los Angeles, AAU president, and Richard Harkins of Kansas City, secretary-treasurer.

"We will now submit this certification to the International Amateur Athletic Federation for final recognition as a world record," Matlin said.

The 9.9 clocking was posted in the semifinals of the National AAU meet in Sacramento.

Harrelson's Homer Paces Bosox, 10-8

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ken Harrelson hit a tie-breaking two-run homer in the ninth inning Sunday as the Boston Red Sox outslug Washington 10-8.

Harrelson slammed his 13th home run, equalling his best previous major league season, after Carl Yastrzemski opened the inning with a single off Bob Humphreys, the fifth Washington pitcher.

Harrelson also singled and scored in the fifth inning and doubled to set up two runs in the seventh as the Red Sox, trailing 8-6, tied the score.

Yastrzemski walked to open the seventh and Harrelson doubled him to third. They both scored on Rico Petrocelli's single.

HURLER CHASED

The Red Sox knocked out Camilo Pascual and took a 4-0 lead in the second inning. But Jim Lonberg couldn't hold it and the Senators chased him in the fourth and surged ahead 6-5 with four runs of their own.

Gary Bell, kayoed in the first inning Saturday, picked up the victory with three innings of hitless relief.

Chisox Need Only 3 Hits

ANAHEIM (AP) — Pete Ward drove in two runs with a first-inning single, one of only three Chicago hits in the game, and the White Sox went on to beat California 2-1 Sunday and sweep their three-game weekend series.

Luis Aparicio walked to start the game, Tom McCraw was hit by a pitch and they pulled a double steal. After Tom Murphy fanned Leon Wagner, Ward singled home both runners. Ward then left the game with a stiff back.

Jack Fisher, 5-6, allowed the Angels eight hits before Wilbur Wood relieved him with two on and two out in the eighth inning. Rick Reichardt's 13th homer in the fourth was the only run for the Angels, who suffered their fifth straight defeat.

Ken Berry singled in the fourth and Duane Josephson in ninth for the other Chicago hits.

Giants' QB Trio Sharp in Scrimmage

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Quarterbacks Fran Tarkenton, Earl Morrall and Tom Kennedy completed 23 of 32 passes and hit for one touchdown apiece Saturday in the New York Giants' first intrasquad scrimmage.

A crowd of about 8,000 watched the National Football League Club's offensive unit dominate the 80-minute scrimmage, scoring four times.

Aaron Thomas caught another. Rookie receivers Joe Koonz and Randy Payne each nabbed a touchdown pass and veteran Pete Pifer plunged five yards for the fourth score, capping a 65-yard drive.

Local Skaters Roll Toward National Meet

MAKING COMEBACK — Scott Harrity, former North American speed and singles champion, is making a comeback as a member of the University Skating Club team. He was sidelined for a couple of years because of a leg injury.

Scott recently won the junior boys' regional singles championship and will compete, along with the other skaters pictured on this page, in the North American meet next month in Lincoln, Nebraska.

THREE-QUARTER SPEED — This is three-quarters of Rolladium's strong men's senior relay speed team that captured the regional crown. Howard McKerracker (left), Martin Tankka (center) and Randy Wardlow are joined by Gerald Gohs for the event.

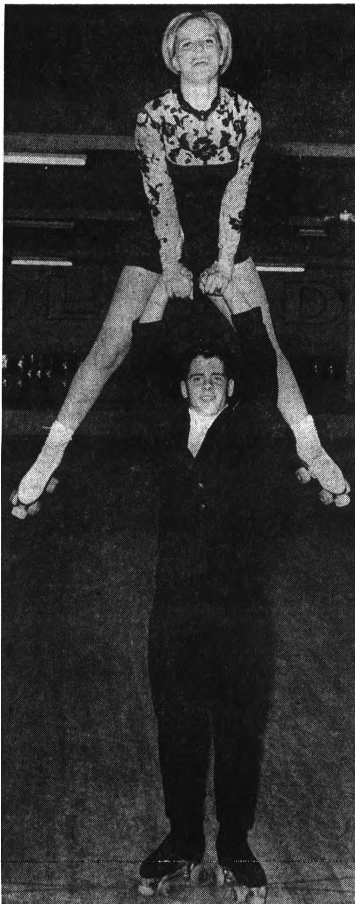

PRACTICE — Dick Leighton, novice men's figures regional champion, goes through his routine during practice at University rink. Concentration is an important part of this event.

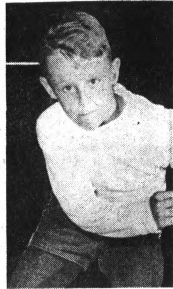

FIGURES KING — Ron Spears led University's best regional showing by winning the juvenile figures crown. He will be one of the favorites in the NARSC in Lincoln.

CORRECT FORM — Mrs. Ivan Findlay, coach of the University team, places Brenda Crabtree in one of the positions necessary for the juvenile girls' figures.

HOPEFUL — Craig Sander will be bidding for national honors under University's banner in the novice men's singles.

CHALLENGER — Regional champion Robert Heath is a North American challenger for Rolladium in the juvenile men's singles.

DANCE SPECIALISTS—Lex Kane, who won four events in the regional at Indianapolis, teamed with Angela Kraud to take juvenile dance honors for the Rolladium Club. Kane also excelled in speed, juvenile pairs and singles.

Kane, Gohs and 17 other Rolladium skaters will participate in the North American. Skaters from University rink continue to improve in competition and will send five to the national.

Heading the University team will be Scott Harrity, several times juvenile speed and art champion. He has been sidelined for the last two years because of a leg injury and other commitments.

"Scott is skating very well," said Mrs. Ivan Findlay, wife of the 14-year-old Harrity's coach and herself a mentor of the club's female skaters.

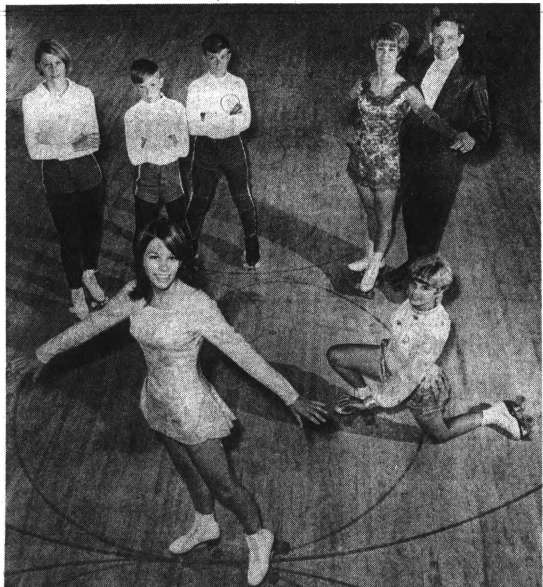

TRIPLE JUMPS
"He has incorporated two triple jumps into his routine and, so far, he has made them when it counts in state and regional competition. Most skaters feel it is quite an accomplishment to make one triple."

Harrity is competing in junior boys singles. Dick Leighton in novice men's figures and Ron Spears in juvenile "B" figures are rated potential North American champions by the Findlays.

Kurt and Kim Anselmi, 13-year-old twins of Rolladium manager and coach Bert Anselmi, also must rate consideration in the North American. Kim won the junior girls' singles and Kurt captured the boys' division in the regional.

Michael Leineke and Robyn White have worked long and hard for a chance in the senior pairs division, but this is one class where competition is the stiffest.

Rolladium has consistently made strong showings in speed skating and this year should be no exception.

Anselmi, Lex Kane and Mary Heath. This quartet won the regional championship and also gained several individual honors.

Girl Charged Holding Bogus Marriage Rite

CHICAGO (AP) — Youth division detectives said Sunday they were searching for a girl released Thursday on a $1,000 personal recognizance bond after she was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Pamela Perins, 20, who calls herself "Sister Alice," was being sought after police were informed that she is really Diane Bailey, 16, of Kalamazoo, Mich.

"Sister Alice" and her mentor, Edwin "Brother Joseph" Gill were arrested Wednesday for performing an illegal marriage ceremony in Old Town, the city's near north side hippie haven.

"Brother Joseph" was charged in Domestic Relations Court Thursday with performing an illegal wedding and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Youth Detective Hugh Carroll said that "Sister Alice" was identified by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bailey as their daughter Dianne, who turned 16 on July 17.

U.S. Aid Asked for Resort Area

AVALON, Calif. (AP) — California Island businessmen have wired President Johnson and Gov. Ronald Reagan to complain their once booming tourist business is fading away like their big-band era theme, "I Left My Heart in Avalon."

The telegrams Sunday appealed for help to revive steamship service which until last spring brought tourists by tens of thousands monthly to the resort island 26 miles west of Los Angeles.

Owners of the ship, known as the Big White Steamer, said they could no longer operate because of union demands on the size of crews.

The businessmen say planes and smaller boats don't match the steamer's old loads, and business has fallen by 5 percent.

Massachusetts Sees Up to 1,000 Claims for Crime

BOSTON (AP) —Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson said Saturday his office will process about 1,000 claims a year from persons seeking compensation for criminal violence.

Massachusetts is the fourth state to provide compensation for victims of crime. Richardson's office will investigate the validity of all claims.

The recently passed law provides maximum compensation of $10,000 for actual losses, including lost wages and medical expenses. The amount of compensation must be determined by the District Courts.

California, New York and Maryland also provide such compensation.

Junior Editors Quiz on WINDS

QUESTION: Where do winds come from and why are they so gusty at times?

ANSWER: When air is warmed by heat radiated from sea or land, it expands, becoming lighter and rising. At the same time, heavier, colder air is flowing down to replace it. The circulation or movement of air causes wind.

Wind varies in direction and strength for many reasons, such as the uneven heating of earth and sea and the earth's rotation.

Wind gusts come partly from this uneven heating but can also be caused by the various obstacles on the earth's surface which interrupts the flow of wind. The upper right diagram shows air suddenly forced up one side of a mountain, then blowing down in irregular gusts on the other. A bit of plowed land is also shown, which heats up more quickly than the forest next to it, helping to make gusts by uneven heating.

Although gusty shore winds will often blow over land waters, such as lakes, the wind's force and direction will tend to be more steady when one gets out to sea away from the land. This is because the sea tends to heat up or cool down evenly over large areas.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Scenery Provides Boost for TV Series

By BOB THOMAS

HONOLULU (AP) — Never was an actor more confident than Jack Lord. "This show is going to make it; I don't see how it can fail."

CBS appears to share his confidence, since it is pouring millions into an unique venture called "Hawaii Five-O." The new series is an actor-and-roboters stuff, but actor Lord claims it is something more than Dragnet, Hawaiian style.

"This show has quality," he declared in his air-conditioned trailer-bus on location in a suburb of Honolulu. "The proof of that is the number of CBS-affiliated stations that signed up to take 'Hawaii Five-O.' We showed the pilot film to them, and 206 ordered the show, the biggest number in CBS history. A show like Carol Burnett's has only 163."

What does "Hawaii Five-O" have to dazzle the case-hardened station owners? Scenery, guile, for one thing. The company has filmed in all parts of this highly photogenic isle. Each segment features from 35 to 40 different locations, virtually all of them real-life sets. Only two Hollywood-like sets are used: a makeshift studio in Pearl City contains the offices of the Hawaii governor and of Steve McGarrett (Lord), who heads the four-man, special unit of the state police.

FUTURE OF SHOW

As with most dramatic series, TV reported Saturday.

"Hawaii Five-O" will stand or fall on the quality of its scripts and characters. Lord claimed that executive producer Leonard Freeman is policing the scripts with expert care—"he even ordered and paid for three scripts and then threw them out because they weren't good enough." That is rare in television.

Lord himself may prove to be the key factor in the survival of "Hawaii Five-O," since the action is focused on him most of the time. He realizes the responsibility and is ready for it.

"I waited five years to go back into a TV series," remarked Lord, who starred for one season in the commendable "Stoney Burke" show about rodeo life. "I had plenty of chances to do another one. MGM offered me 'The Man From U.N.C.L.E.' before Robert Vaughn got into it; I also turned down 'Shenandoah,' which Robert Horton did, and 'The Outsider,' which Darren McGavin is appearing in now."

The first venture was a two-hour version which was filmed late last year for $800,000. It will be presented Sept. 20 in the CBS Friday Night at the Movies spot. Then on the following Thursday night at 8, the hour-long series will begin.

Waving on High

GOODLAND, Kan. (AP) — Someone climbed a 786-foot television tower and planted an American flag 100 feet from the top, officials of station KLOE-TV reported Saturday.

By Oswald and James Jacoby
Jim: "Team of four matches are a lot of fun and you can never really tell how you've done until you've compared scores at the finish."

Oswald: "There is a hand that represented a double game-winning in Argentina's favor in the Bridge Olympiad. Once West opened the king of hearts there was ruffing one of his three small hearts and he made his contract. West, very upset, pointed out that he could have beaten the contract with a trump opening."

Jim: "There would have been would have been the normal play of the ace or king first. "He could still get to dummy for one finesse, but when he tried to get there the second North would have ruffed." Oswald: "I don't really blame the losers for their defense, but Carlos Manuel de Cepedez who it looks as if these Gauchos are in 1968 started warfare against Spain for independence."

Oswald: "The defense cashed two diamonds and a club and led a second club. East ruffed and played his ace of spades. When South showed out, East entered dummy with a heart, took one spade finesse, entered dummy with a second heart, took the second spade finesse and made his game."

Pope Bans the Pill, Other Birth Controls

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI today banned the contraceptive pill and all other mechanical and chemical means of birth control for the world's half a billion Roman Catholics. He also indicated that the rhythm method should not be employed as a regular practice.
"Every matrimonial act must remain open to the transmission of life," the Pope declared in a key sentence of his long-delayed encyclical letter on one of the most controversial issues facing the church today.
"To destroy even only partially the significance of intercourse and its end is contradictory to the plan of God and to his will," the pontiff declared.

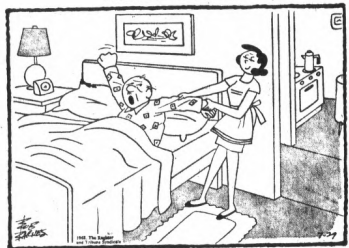

State Waters Claim Three

By the Associated Press
At least three persons drowned in Michigan waters over the weekend, including a Lansing teen-ager, Donald Beaubien, who was pulled under by a current while swimming in Lake Michigan Sunday.
The Associated Press count began at 4 p.m. Friday and ended midnight Sunday.
The other victims:
Nels Johnson, 2, of Menominee drowned Saturday in Johnson Creek in Menominee County.
Gilbert Hardwood, 34, of Battle Creek drowned Sunday in Gun Lake in Kalamazoo County.

Centennial Coins Issued by Exiles

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Issuance of gold souvenir coins to commemorate the centennial of Cuba's independence was announced by an exile organization, Recce.
The coins will be for one finisse, but when he sold for $25 each for an anti-tried to get there the second North would have ruffed." Oswald: "I don't really blame the losers for their defense, but Carlos Manuel de Cepedez who it looks as if these Gauchos are in 1968 started warfare against Spain for independence."

Model Cities Chief Admits Disputes, Power Struggles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early planning funds until it is satisfied with the arrangement. The Model Cities program, begun nine months ago with selection of 63 cities, is attempting to make a single poor neighborhood in each city an attractive place to live.

But H. Ralph Taylor, assistant secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, says in most cases it's been a healthy contest.

"There are tensions," Taylor said in an interview. "But remember, you're starting from a background of suspicion on both sides. This has been a very healthy thing."

Taylor said that although some of the disputes have turned into outright struggles for control of the programs, only in two of the 75 cities selected so far—Newark, N.J., and Oakland, Calif.—have city hall and the neighborhood failed to reach an acceptable agreement on how to divide authority.

Rites Tonight for Chrysler
Corp. Publicist

DETROIT (AP) — Funeral services for Robert J. Kelly, 59, of Allen Park, Chrysler Corp. publicist who died Friday night, are scheduled for tonight at Allen Park Presbyterian Church.

Kelly, who joined Chrysler in 1957 as director of Chrysler division public relations, was a former newspaperman, foreign correspondent and a public relations officer in the European Theater during World War II. Kelly served with the old United Press in Denver and Kansas City and was bureau manager in Lincoln, Neb., and Lansing, Mich. He later served in the London and New York UP bureaus.

Survivors include his widow and two children.

Officials in some cities have the power to bring into the project the cooperation of such elements as schools, the welfare agency, the housing authority and the police department.

LACK UNITY

Many federal programs to date have lacked such unity, Taylor said, so "they become a series of projects, with everyone looking for dough."

City Hall alone, he said has

William B. Widnall, R-N.J., that 75 model cities "there is no local officials complain of doubt that local officials, elected in federal funding and too or appointed, are not enthusiastic federal red tape, Taylor astle over the concept of the Model Cities program, and I replied:

"You always have these kinds of complaints. But we're work- ing on every one of them."

Widnall said that on the basis pretty well. I have a very positive feeling that it's catching

Ray's Attorney Cries Red Plot

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A contention by attorney Arthur J. Hanes that an international Communist conspiracy is at work against James Earl Ray appears to have brought a reaction from the judge who will hear the Ray case.

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle named eight attorneys Sunday to check for a possible violation of his order limiting publicity in the case of Ray, who is charged with murder in the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Hanes, Ray's defense counsel, met with his client Saturday, then called an airport news conference at which he also asserted Ray's rights are being violated in Shelby County Jail.

The Pontiac Press will publish a voters guide Friday for the convenience of readers interested in the backgrounds of candidates for all major offices in Oakland County.

The 16-page section will contain information on congressional, legislative, judicial, county and supervisor races.

Nobody could put a finger on it specifically, but there was a growing feeling among early-arriving delegates for next week's convention that Rockefeller, with an expensive, expansive publicity campaign, had stirred up enough doubt about Nixon's ability to win in November that there was no clear certainty of Nixon's nomination.

In the minds of some of the party's top strategists, however, this didn't necessarily add up to a Rockefeller victory.

Plane Collision Kills 8 in NY

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Eight persons, including two small girls and three women, were killed Sunday night when two private planes collided over East Farmingdale and crashed in cemetery property.

One craft, a twin-engine Piper Aztec, went down in flames. The other, a single-engine Piper Cherokee, was demolished but did not burn. Wreckage was strewn over a large area near the Beth Moses Cemetery, part of a burial ground complex in this Long Island area.

There are 10 homes in the vicinity, which is largely wooded, and no one was injured on the ground.

Four persons were aboard each plane—seven of them from New York State and the eighth with both a Connecticut and New York address.

BOTH LANDING

The Federal Aviation Agency said the collision occurred about 8:30 p.m. at an altitude of 800 to 1,000 feet as both craft were making their final approaches to Republic Flying Field. An FAA spokesman said the Aztec's left wing apparently struck the Cherokee.

The Cherokee, owned by Flight Safety Inc., had been en route from Providence, R.I., police said.

It could not be learned immediately who owned the Aztec or where its flight originated.

The FAA spokesman said the two planes were operating on visual flight rules, which means they were not under any traffic control. Neither plane had filed a flight plan, the spokesman added.

There was, among other things, an unbecoming belief that on this uncertain political year some dark horse like Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City could emerge from extended balloting.

'SIGNIFICANT GAINS'

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a Rockefeller partisan, said he thought the New York governor was making "significant gains" in his uphill battle against Nixon.

Scott predicted that Nixon would fade quickly on the roll calls "if we can get by the first ballot."

Sen. Dirksen Urges Platform Neutrality

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Republicans began their 1968 platform writing today with counsel from their Senate leader against trying to shape the planks in behalf of any particular presidential hopeful.

"We don't know who is going to be the nominee," Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said. "I'm keeping myself free from that controversy—if it is a controversy."

Dirksen, who heads the committee drafting the party document in advance of next week's nomination convention, added that he himself is "trying to be neutral" in the platform-drafting and he hopes others will refrain from pushing for their favorites through platform wording.

Dirksen said if "somebody" —he mentioned no names—tries to mold the platform to suit his favorite and it turns out that another man is nominated, the document would not fit. "I am trying for a platform any candidate can run on," he said.

NO INDICATION

The GOP leader spoke to newsmen last night after an organizing session of the platform committee. He reported "there is no indication that that matter came up at this meeting."

The 1964 platform committee chairman, Rep. Melvin R. Laird, said at the opening hearing today that the Republicans need a platform

He said, for example, he was informed that Delaware's delegation would give Rockefeller an even split with Nixon on the second ballot after a majority of the group voted for Nixon on the initial roll call.

An effort was under way to spread out the support of Rockefeller's backer Sen. Frank Carlson, Kansas's favorite son.

ON FIRST ROLL CALL

Some uncommitted delegates from Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Utah and Colorado reportedly will give Carlson a vote on the first roll call.

demonstrating "young blood and exciting ideas."

The Wisconsin Republican, who headed the platform committee in the campaign the Republicans lost four years ago, said in prepared testimony, "if we learned nothing else from 1964, we should at least have learned that when you are the out party you go on the offensive, not the defensive."

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, advised the Republicans, meanwhile, to blame the Vietnam War on Hanoi, not Washington.

He said union members respect the right of dissent, but "the imperialists are not in Washington; they are in Hanoi. Let the pickets and the protesters—yes, and the candidates—turn their attention there."

Meany also warned that a tough "law and order" campaign against Negro rioters would not stop violence in the slums unless it was paralleled with programs to wipe out the causes of riots.

Candidate Kin 'Shake' County

By JIM LONG
It was a big weekend for those in Oakland County who wanted to shake the hand of a McCarthy or a Humphrey. It didn't seem to matter that the famous names didn't belong to the two top contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination, but only to their children.

At the Ivory Farm in White Lake Township yesterday, several thousand friends of Secretary of State James M. Hare attending a picnic in his honor had an opportunity to meet Robert Humphrey, son of the vice president.

On Saturday, prior to a giant rally in Detroit on behalf of her father, Eugene,

Search Intensified for County Clerk After Boat Found

Charlevoix-based Coast Guard authorities said today they are intensifying the search for Oakland County official John D. Murphy after finding Murphy's rented boat overturned in Lake Michigan late yesterday.

Murphy, 54, county clerk-register of deeds, was reported missing Saturday night when he failed to return the 14-foot aluminum craft to the Beaver Island marina where he had rented it earlier in the day.

That set off a land, sea-and-air hunt involving two boats, a helicopter and search parties made up of Coast Guard, sheriff's and volunteer personnel.

Murphy reportedly had traveled to the Beaver Island area after attending a state convention of county clerks in Marquette which ended Wednesday.

PLANNED TO FISH

His secretary said Murphy called her Thursday afternoon and said that he planned to do some fishing and see some land he owned on the island.

Murphy reportedly checked into the Erin Motel there about noon Thursday.

Coast Guard Lt. Don Luedke said the search is covering the entire Beaver Island group and nearby waters. There are seven islands in the group.

Murphy's boat was found near Garden Island. One lifejacket was missing, authorities said.

UNOPPOSED IN BID

He is unopposed in his bid for renomination in the Aug. 6 primary election.

Murphy, who in 1965 became the first Democrat to be elected clerk in the history of Oakland County, announced as a candidate for reelection this year.

Pleasant Weather in Store for Area

Sunshine will warm the Pontiac area today, insuring residents of a pleasant day and night. Tonight's low temperatures are expected to fall in the 50- to 58 range.

Tomorrow will be warmer with increasing cloudiness by afternoon. Wednesday's outlook promises not much change in temperature with a chance of showers.

Low mercury reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 53. By 1 p.m. the temperature registered 72. Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today and tonight 5, tomorrow 20.

He has also served two years as an employee of the Wayne County clerk's office and four years as a right-of-way clerk for the Wayne County Road Commission.

He was chairman of the county reapportionment committee which set up supervisor districts based on a one-man-one-vote concept.

Murphy of 420 N. Marias, Clawson, is married and the father of six children.

Decision Looms on Steel Strike

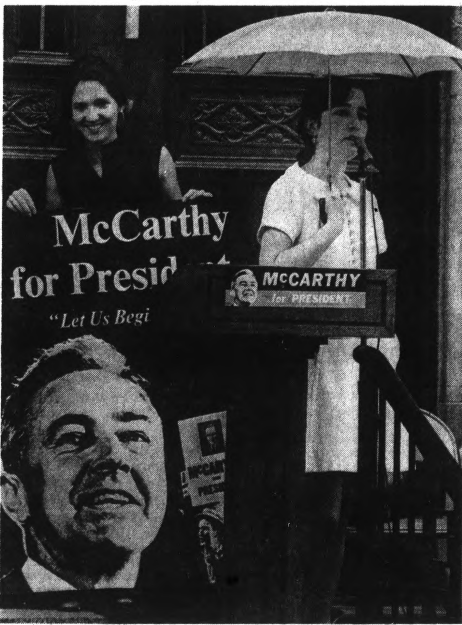

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Whether there will be a nationwide steel strike Thursday, or a settlement in the pattern of the can, aluminum, copper and auto industries, may be decided today.

It's showdown time—and what reportedly will be shown for the first time will be the long-awaited wage-benefits package from the nation's 11 largest steel producers that could avert a threatened walkout of 388,000 steelworkers.

The still-secret industry offer, hampered out by top negotiators, is to be considered first by the United Steelworkers' 63-man executive committee at a morning session.

Then union president I.W. Abel takes it in the afternoon to the 600-member basic steel industry conference which has the power to ratify or reject any agreement—or even extend the old one which expires at midnight Wednesday.

The conference can also order a strike. Most signs, however, point to tentative agreement with more hard bargaining in the next two days to wrap it up.

VC Raid Wrecks $6 Million Worth of U.S. Airplanes

SAIGON (AP) — Vietcong infiltrators in jolincloths attacked a U.S. air base today and blew up $6 million worth of planes.

Guard on Alert in Grand Rapids

By United Press International
National Guardsmen stood by in racially troubled Gary, Ind., and Grand Rapids, Mich., today as their counterparts vacated Cleveland, Ohio, left bitter and divided by its violence of last week.

Teen-agers in Pacifica, Calif., protesting an anti-littering law, overpowered police armed with billy clubs and mace before reinforcements could be brought in to restore order last night.

About 350 guardsmen were in "armory alert" in and near Gary today.

The guard also stood by at Grand Rapids, where the weekend's disorders began with an outbreak of arson Friday night.

TIGHT CURFEW
More than 200 state, county and city police patrolled a square-mile area of Grand Rapids early today where a tightly enforced curfew and a ban on gas and liquor sales were in effect.

Sixteen arrests were made during the night in the Dutch city of 205,000 raising to 70 the total arrested during the three nights. At least 15 firebombings were reported last night, but most were minor.

Two National Broadcasting Co. photographers from Chicago were beaten by Cleveland police yesterday.

The incident was the only one Sunday as police patrols restored a semblance of normalcy to the city.

The attack on the Tuy Hoa air base, on the central coast of South Vietnam 285 miles northeast of Saigon, was the third on an American air base in Southeast Asia in three days. It raised U.S. aircraft casualties since last Monday to the unusually high total of 12 planes; lost-including nine downed over North or South Vietnam — and four badly damaged.

Air Force officers at Tuy Hoa said about nine Vietcong got into the base and all were killed. One American was reported wounded.

Reports from Tuy Hoa said the Vietcong slipped into the base under cover of a brief mortar and rocket attack shortly after midnight. Firing rocket-propelled grenades and hurling satchel charges, they destroyed two four-engine C-130 transport planes and badly damaged an F100 Super Sabre fighter-bomber. Several other transports were slightly damaged, U.S. officers said.

HOME OF FIGHTER WING

Tuy Hoa is the home of the 31st Tactical Fighter Wing, an outfit of about 100 Super Sabres. Among its five squadrons are two Air National Guard units which arrived in Vietnam in June, the 188th Tactical Fighter Squadron from New Mexico and the 198th from Niagara Falls, N.Y. Neither unit had any casualties.

On Friday night, infiltrators got into the Udorn air base in northern Thailand and badly damaged two planes, while a rocket attack on the Da Nang air base destroyed one jet fighter-bomber and badly damaged another.

The raid at Udorn was the first on one of the six American bases in Thailand, from which 85 per cent of the bombing missions against North Vietnam originate. The U.S. Embassy said defenses at the bases were being strengthened, and patrols around the bases were being enlarged.

SPIRITS NOT DAMPENED—Holding an umbrella to keep protected from the rain Saturday afternoon, Mary McCarthy congratulated 200 persons attending a rally in front of the Birmingham Municipal Building for the work they have done in circulating petitions in support of her father, Sen. Czech, Soviet Red Leaders Start Historic Talks Today

PRAGUE (AP) — Leaders of the Czechoslovak and Soviet Communist parties met today for historic negotiations to decide for the fate of Czechoslovakia's independent Communist road.

Informed sources predicted that the meeting began shortly after 9 a.m. in the Moscow delegation's parked special train at Cerna, a Czechoslovak railroad junction on the Tisa river close to the Soviet border.

About 40 Czechoslovak leaders, including party chief Alexander Dubcek and the 11 members of the party presidium, arrived Sunday night by plane at Kosice, about 45 miles from the

STEADY ATTACK

The Soviet press and radio omitted all mention today of the meeting or of the whereabouts of the Soviet leaders. But Pravda, the Soviet Communist party organ and the only paper published in Moscow on Monday, kept up its steady attack on the liberal trend in Czechoslovakia.

Informed sources predicted that the meeting would last only a day or two with a communiqué issued at the close.

Prague's new reform leaders promised their countrymen none of their new freedoms would be taken away in the talks with the Soviet leaders demanding an end to liberalization.

"We will bear in mind that we are responsible for socialism in our country, for the sovereignty and for the future of this state," Josef Smrkovsky, National Assembly chairman and a key figure in the new liberal movement, said in a television interview.

Smrkovsky said the presidium would not give ground on press freedom, a main Soviet target.

"This is one of the basic principles of freedom of the citizen," he said.

ENTHUSIASTIC—A McCarthy booster displays his enthusiasm in Birmingham Saturday.

2nd Area Man Victim of Blast

A second Pontiac area man died this morning of burns received last Sunday in Hillsdale County, at a Civil War weapons demonstration at Somerset Center.

University of Michigan Burn Center officials said Gary Defendorf, 23, of 9418 Dixie, Springfield Township, died about 8 a.m.

Another Springfield Township man, Walter Simons of 10370 Dixie, died Tuesday of burns suffered at the same mishap.

Three other area men are reported still being treated for burns at the U-M center. They are James Broegman, 19, of Davisburg; Carl Lapham, 25, of 8880 White Lake Road, White Lake Township, and Jack Miles, 16, of 1811 Meadowridge, Commerce Township.

Lapham and Broegman are listed in critical condition at the hospital, while Miles' condition is fair.

The accident occurred at the National Cannon and Carbine Matches in Somerset Center when a piece of wadding from a Civil War mortar was caught in a breeze and waited 65 feet to a powder keg, igniting it.

Voters Asked to Split Home

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Jim Johnson and his wife Virginia are, in effect, asking Arkansas voters to disrupt their home. Jim wants to go to the U.S. Senate, his wife to the governor's mansion.

Johnson, 43 and a self-styled segregationist, is considered Sen. J. William Fulbright's strongest challenge in a four-man race for the Democratic presidential nomination in Tuesday's primary election.

Mrs. Johnson is one of six Democrats seeking the gubernatorial nomination, and some polls give her a good chance of making the anticipated primary runoff. A candidate will need more than 50 per cent of the vote to avoid a runoff.

The 40-year-old Mrs. Johnson, an attractive and poised mother of three sons, is the first woman ever to run in Arkansas for governor, a position her husband has twice sought unsuccessfully.

FIRST TRY

She is a veteran of her husband's past campaigns, but this is her first try for office on her own.

On the campaign trail, she plugs for her husband's candidacy and needles Fulbright for infrequently visiting Arkansas.

"Wouldn't it be wonderful," she says of the possibility of victories by herself and her husband, "if we had to return home every weekend instead of every six years and then only when he has opposition."

Man Shot Twice in Alleged Dispute

A Pontiac man is listed in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital after being shot twice during a reported argument early yesterday.

Police said Kenneth Walker, 26, of 542 Judson was shot in the back with a 22-caliber revolver during a reported squabble at the Metropolitan Club, 37 W. Yale, about 1:45 a.m.

Sought is an unidentified Negro man described as in his mid-20s and about 5-foot-8, 165 pounds, with short hair, according to police.

Witnesses told officers the assailant fired when Walker turned his back, then shot again when the victim fell to the floor.

They said the man then fled through a rear door and drove away from the scene.

Troops Moving in East Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Movements of Soviet and East German armored units in East Germany were noticed during the night by travelers arriving in West Berlin today, police reported.

Sketchy reports said columns of tanks, armored reconnaissance cars and military trucks were moving south on the Berlin-Nuremberg autobahn between Weissenfels and Hermsdorf. This is in the general direction of East Germany's frontiers with Czechoslovakia and West Germany.

It could not be determined here whether the movements were routine or part of the Soviet-East German war of nerves against Czechoslovakia.

Movements of Soviet troops were also noticed last Wednesday night between

Berlin and Hamburg, in north Germany. CS-DM803ad July 29

'Law and Order' Cry Not Enough—Meany

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — George Meany, the nation's chief labor spokesman, told Republican platform writers today a tough "law and order" campaign against Negro rioters won't stop violence in the nation's slums by itself.

Repressive police action, unless accompanied by programs to wipe out the causes of riots, can lead the country into tyranny, said Meany, president of the 13.5-million-member AFL-CIO.

City Will Air Refuse Site Issue Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission, at tonight's meeting, will continue its discussion on a plan to establish a refuse transfer station on Coolidge.

The commission, which recently approved the proposed 11-acre site, will discuss an agreement prepared by the city attorney's office and the Southeastern Oakland County Incinerator Authority.

The agreement would include various suggestions made by the commission, the city administration, and interested residents.

According to City Manager Robert Kenning, the amount of money the authority would pay the city for rental of the site has not yet been determined.

ANTICIPATED FIGURE

However, it is anticipated that the annual payment would be equal to 10 per cent of the present appraised value of the property.

He said an appraisal of the property will be made by a private appraiser before the agreement is entered into by the city.

The proposed agreement would lease the site to the incinerator authority for 25 years for the construction, maintenance, and operation of the refuse transfer station.

It would prohibit the incineration of any materials at the site and would not allow any refuse material to be left at the site overnight.

TRANSFER POINT

The site will be strictly a station where refuse collected in Birmingham would be transferred to other trucks for cartage to a land-fill area in Avon Township.

The contract the commission will discuss also includes stipulations concerning the type and amount of refuse the site can handle each day.

Regulations concerning the design of the building to be put on the site, as well as control of noise, odor, fumes, dust and rodents, also are included in the agreement.

The proposal will be submitted to the Commission tonight, but the formal discussion on it will take place Aug. 12.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other action tonight the Commission will hear a report from Park Maintenance and Forestry Supervisor Chester K. Hunter concerning the improvement of the asphalt tennis courts at Elton Park.

The Commission also will hear a request from Birmingham Superintendent of Schools John B. Smith that the city post a school crossing guard at Lincoln and 14 Mile Road for Baldwin Elementary School students.

The Commission will also discuss development of the Red Run Drain and the Accia Drain Relief Project.

Bombing Halt Is Key - N. Viet

PARIS (AP) — Nguyen Thanh Le, spokesman for the North Vietnamese peace delegation, said today that after the United States stops bombing North Vietnam his country will agree to discuss any subject the Americans raise.

He was replying to a question about the release of U.S. pilots captured by the North Vietnamese.

Pressed by reporters at a news conference Le said: "After the cessation of bombing and all other acts of war against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, either side can raise any question it likes and the other side will agree to discuss it."

But he said that in the early part of July U.S. bombing raids on North Vietnam averaged 200 a day, as opposed to 172 a day in June.

PUPPET TROOPS

Le asserted that in South Vietnam the United States had "continued to send in puppet satellite troops." He added: "As long as the American aggression continues, the people in North and South Vietnam will continue their resistance."

State Roads Claim 12 Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

At least 12 people lost their lives on Michigan roads this weekend, including two young men who police say were being chased for traffic violations when they crashed in Sanilac County.

Louis Walsh, 21, of Marlette and Dean Sowerby 19, of Sheridan were killed when their car smashed into a culvert Saturday near Forestville while they were being pursued by a Minden Police car.

The Associated Press count started Friday at 6 p.m. and ended Sunday midnight.

Other victims:

Deborah Hamlin, 39, of Rockford and Edmund Peters, 21, of Elkhartville, Ark. who were in a two-car accident on M37 12 miles north of Grand Rapids Saturday. Three other persons were critically injured.

CONSTRUCTION CRANE

Patrick Finlan, 34, of Scottsdale, Ariz., formerly of Plymouth, whose car went out of control and smashed into a construction crane on Geddes Road in Ann Arbor Township in Washtenaw County Friday night.

Kent Olsen, 21, of Ann Arbor, who was killed Sunday when his car collided with a train near Nottawa in St. Joseph County.

Michael Creed, 19, of Kalamazoo, who died when his car went out of control on a curve in Kalamazoo and struck a tree.

COLT COUNTY CRASH

Mary Murphy, 44, and Genevieve Smith, 77, both of Ann Arbor, when the car driven by Mrs. Murphy collided head on with another car on Long Lake Road in Oakland County Saturday.

Rafael Jimenez, 24, of Corpus Christi, Tex., who was struck by a car while walking on U.S. 31 near Elk Rapids in Antrim County Saturday.

Samuel Alaniz Jr., 17, of Hardee, Fla., whose car rammed the rear of another on Territorial Road in Keeler Township in Van Buren County Friday night.

Thomas Ziegler, 22, of Detroit, when his car was struck from the rear on Telegraph Road in Detroit Saturday.

Authorities Still Puzzle at Murder of Robison Family

(Editor's Note: One week ago the bodies of a Detroit magazine publisher, his wife, and their four children were found shot to death in their summer cottage north of Petoskey. Police still have no clues in the mysterious mass murder. United Press International's Andrew R. McGill visited the northwoods area, talked to the people involved, and found out about the case.)

By ANDREW R. MCGILL

GOOD HART (UPI) — C.A. Bliss thought a coon had died.

He opened the front door of a secluded stone and log cottage on wind-swept Lake Michigan and found the body of a woman covered with a blanket.

Five other bullet-riddled bodies were in the cabin.

And the Robison family — father, mother, and four children — was dead.

UNANSWERED QUESTIONS

There are many unanswered questions in the case, the biggest mystery ever in the northwoods around this two-pump town in the heart of Northern Michigan's gun country.

"We don't know anything," said Emmet County Prosecutor W. Richard Smith. "We don't know how it was done . . . why it was done . . . or, for sure, exactly when it was done. And we certainly don't know who did it."

"All we know is it was done."

Why Mrs. Robison's body covered with a blanket?

"I WISH I KNEW"

"I wish I knew. But I honestly don't know," Smith said.

Traffic Safety Confab to Hear Milliken Talk

Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken will be the key speaker at the 14th annual Governor's Regional Traffic Safety Conference, Aug. 12.

Col. F. E. Davids, director of the Michigan State Police, will also speak at the day-long conference to be held in the Oakland Center Building at Oakland University.

Morning session will be a series of lectures on different aspects of traffic safety. There will be panel discussions in the afternoon on the laws of 1968, the priorities of 1969, the courts, and on federal-state interaction.

Registration is at 8:30.

Extra Month on Taxes

KEEOGE HARBOR — City property owners will have an extra month to pay their taxes because the deadline has been extended from July 31 to Aug. 31.

The City Council has followed the policy of time extension for the past several years. Failure to pay taxes will result in a 2 per cent increase and one-half of 1 per cent interest for each month payment is late.

"It's like everything else in this case, we're totally mystified."

C.A. Bliss has his own theory.

"You put yourself in the position of a person who'd be sick enough to do something like this," he began. "You kill six people. But regardless of how a decent soul are, humanity has had some effect on you."

"I suppose if you were going to count that kind of a crime you'd want to do something decent afterwards, like covering up the lady's body."

THEORIES WELCOME

It's far fetched. But in this case, police welcome all theories.

"We're frankly baffled," said Undersheriff Clifford Fosmire, who is heading the investigation. "Our leads, what few we have, haven't taken us anywhere. We've done a lot of legwork, and we've got a lot more to do."

Authorities aren't sure how many people were involved.

They theorize that at least two guns, one 22 caliber and one 25 caliber, were used. But no guns have been found.

COULD BE ONE MAN

Fosmire pointed out that one man could have used both guns since the 22 caliber was a pistol. He said the 25 could be a rifle or pistol.

It was C.A. Bliss who found the body of Mrs. Robison one week ago Friday.

Residents of the hill, tree-filled county complained of a bad odor coming from the $50,000 Robison cottage. Bliss, who helped his father build the cottage 12 years ago, found the body and telephoned authorities.

"Well, you can bet I was shocked," Bliss said. "But, you know, the thing I remember most about it was that smell. I thought a coon had died."

WORST ODOR

Said Smith: "That odor was the worst thing I have ever smelled. It's something I won't ever be able to forget. I'll try to forget, but I'll remember that smell indefinitely."

The smell was the stinkily flesh of the Robisons. They had been dead at least a month.

Few people in this area knew the Robisons, but C. P. Bliss — C.A.'s father — called him a "true friend."

He was one of the nicest men and fathers that I have ever known," said the 41-year-old Bliss. "Some people said he was a little too strict with his kids. But he didn't have to speak to them a second time, and that's odd in this day and age."

HAPPIEST TIMES

"Dick spent many of his happiest

times in his dad's," Bliss said he could do some work in one day here than in two in the city. "Things are always stuffy in the city."

The Bliss home is a perfectly beautiful, modern, three-story, two-level lakefront. Bliss said he was in the city if they could do anything for me. When they let it come here, the kid always watched me and try out building cottages."

Bliss came back to live in the woods, but he's not away from things like this, he's a terrible thing."

WHAT WILL HAPPEN?

What will happen to the lavish summer cottage owned by the Robisons?

The police have it locked now and it won't be out for as long as I'm concerned. I can't imagine anyone wanting to live there anymore. It stinks."

The Bliss home is a two-story north of Good Hart.

Three or four years back, most of the houses, where stork, fishing and hunting are the largest attractions, you travel 20 miles down a winding, desolate, two-lane road surrounded by flora and fauna. Wild animals — bear, bobcats, deer and other game — live in the hills. Forest is a great big, the "dark road."

Edison Plans Nuclear Facility

DETROIT AP — The Detroit Edison Co. has announced plans to add two large generating units to its system, a conventional coal-fired generator in 1972 and a nuclear generator in 1974.

Both the new facilities are to be built near Monroe.

The conventional generator, with a capacity of 120,000 kilowatts, will be constructed at the Monroe Power Plant site now being developed by the electric utility. Two 700,000-kilowatt units already are under construction there.

The nuclear facility will be built on the same 50-acre site as the Monroe Power Plant, which has never been used to generate electricity on a commercial basis because of a mysterious piece of metal clogging a vital part. The new reactor is to have a capacity of at least 1,000 kilowatts.

PREPARING WAY

"The existing Edison Fermi atomic power reactor is preparing the way for the accomplishments of commercially useful fast breeder electric generating units," said Detroit Edison board chairman Walker (D). "The scientific, technological and engineering data it has provided us, and to all associated here and abroad with the project, will have tremendous results in the future role of electric energy," he added.

their occasionally peck onto the road from between the trees.

After a scenic drive, the densest ends for a few hundred yards as you enter Good Hart. The cottage consists of a two-pump gas station and an antique shop. Almanacs, atlases and postal guides don't even recognize the existence of the man-made.

It takes two seconds — driving that — to get through Good Hart, and in another ten minutes you come to the Bliss home. The Robison cottage is a mile down a rugged, private dirt road from Bliss.

Bliss has the road closed now, because too many curious city folks have been following us.

OTHER WAYS

The only other way to reach the Robison cottage is by boat from Lake Michigan or down a century-old trail that winds through an old Indian burial ground.

Authorities don't know which method was used.

Bliss Bliss, son, C.A., has his own ideas about what happened.

"They must have used the Indian path," he said. "My Dad would have even heard them if they used the road and the lake is so shallow there that I don't think they could have come in by boat."

BEDS SLEPT IN

"The path comes right down through the Indian cemetery and to the north side of the Robison cottage. The killers wouldn't have been detected. And there were bullet holes in the windows on the north side of the cottage."

C.A. Bliss said that a month before the Robisons were killed a cottage nearby was broken into.

"The window was forced open and both beds were slept in," Bliss said. "It might have some connection. Maybe the killers stayed there to make their plan."

Again, police don't know.

Shooting Victim Still in Hospital

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A Detroit woman remained in fair to poor condition today at Crittenton Hospital, Rochester, after she suffered wounds in a shooting incident Friday morning. Another Detroit woman later fatally shot herself at the scene.

Winifred Brendal, 38, was shot twice in the stomach and once in the chest by Bernice Russell, a fellow worker of the Ford Motor Co. Credit Union, police said.

The incident took place in the credit union parking lot following the women's lunch break.

Police said after shooting Miss Brendal, Miss Russell shot herself in the head and was pronounced dead on arrival at Crittenton Hospital.

The women reportedly had been feuding for the past year over the attentions of a male friend.

Portable Classroom Bid OK Expected to Be Withdrawn

The Avondale School Board is expected to take action tonight to withdraw approval of a bid to buy two portable classrooms.

The classroom purchase was approved at a July 15 meeting, but Supt. John W. Dickey received word that McFadden Co. of Lansing sold the unfinished rooms to another district.

Dickey said that he would recommend the board accept the bid from Educator Sales of Jackson which was about $2,000 over the bid from McFadden Co.

He explained the price difference was because the Educator Sales' rooms were

"better equipped while the others are only shells."

In other action at the 8:30 p.m. meeting the millage support committee is expected to present a progress report on work toward passage of an operational 7.7-mill increase to be voted on Sept. 7.

Also on the agenda is action on resignations of certificated staff members. Dickey said there is a chance the board may refuse the resignations because there are less than 60 days to the opening of school — the required period of notification. Dickey said however that he would probably recommend acceptance of the resignations.

TAX RATES

In other action the board is expected to establish the 1968-69 tax rates.

Political Elections of 1968 Present Unusual Situations

Certainly 1968 could plunge into history as our wildest and most unpredictable campaign, with one outstanding and exceedingly personable candidate already murdered.

Two Democrats are rightly swinging with all they possess. On the GOP side, RICHARD NIXON and Gov. ROCKEFELLER are at hammer and tongs with Gov. REAGAN of California simply awaiting a propitious moment to gallop onto the center of the stage with flags flying and bands blaring.

exact as the spoils of war. Personally, I believe both parties will scorn this proposal.

The House election would necessarily be the first order of business in January. Each State has one vote with a majority needed. Just suppose Wallace still holds a few delegates in line and thus prevents a majority for either party.

We'd face a second deadlock.

In the meantime, the Senate would elect a vice president and if the House didn't actually tie, it's possible we'd end up with a president of one party and a vice president of the other. (Or no president at all.)

If the House failed because of Wallace and the Senate named a vice president, the Veep would act as President until the House resolved the snarl.

Any way you look at it, the thing could actually be a mess. Personally, I suggest shotguns at six paces.

(I may have to serve myself.)

Unnecessary Expense . . .

Governmental insolence and arrogance in the coming census is arousing deep resentment. You will be compelled to answer 120 very intimate and personal questions. And, of course, as a taxpayer you pay the thousands and thousands of extra hired hands.

If you resent this intrusion of privacy, write Sen. Robert Griffin. Reps. Jack McDonald and William Broomfield and declare yourself. (Save postage as far as Sen. Hart is concerned. He won't know what to do until Johnson tells him.)

A letter to any one of the other three—or all of them—can be effective.

Golf Officials Acting...

Golf officials are awakening from the lethargy that grips them.

Nothing is more exasperating than professional (or amateur) golfers that fiddle, fiddle and fiddle. It produces the ultimate in spectator boredom.

The worst masculine offender is Jack Nicklaus. Trevino and Boros are two of the fastest—and most popular.

And in Conclusion...

David Lawrence Says:

GOP 'Regulars' Favor Nixon

WASHINGTON — With the Republican National Convention only a week away, the latest Gallup Poll shows that 60 per cent of the rank-and-file Republicans want Nixon, and 23 per cent favor Rockefeller, while 7 per cent would like to see Reagan nominated as the Republican candidate. The remaining 10 per cent are scattered among a number of others who really are not in the race.

have been spontaneous outbursts. Evidence turned up by the Federal Bureau of Investigation that this isn't the case is said to have been suppressed.

There are plenty of issues which are producing discontent throughout the country.

WELL-AWARE

Delegates going to the Republican convention will be well aware of how the voters in their areas—not merely the regular Republicans but the independents and dissident Democrats—feel about these issues. They are not likely to overlook the importance of nominating a candidate who will take a firm position on domestic problems which are giving citizens so much concern.

Although President Johnson will not be a candidate, the Democratic nominee will have to bear the burden of the criticism of national and international policies of the last eight years.

This could bring about a shift of many "independents" and Democrats to the Republican side.

Cry for Change, Renewal Jars Council of Churches

By DAVID POLING

UPSALA, SWEDEN (NEA) — The World Council of Churches will never again be a quiet ecumenical gathering where elderly theologians have pleasant discussions waiting for afternoon tea. The delegates—preceded by the King of Sweden, the president of Zambia, and the archbishop of Canterbury—had hardly been seated in the cathedral of this university city, when the voices of protest were heard. A student leader said that young people "could no longer honor the trappings of grandeur."

Christianity, for the New Generation of young believers, has very little to do with ancient chants, flowing robes and concert choirs.

Instead of priests swinging incense, they want the church to be incensed with the horror of war, the reign of violence and the hovering cloud of poverty. Their image of Jesus Christ is one of servant, not king, at home in the huts of the poor, not the halls of princes.

Fortunately, the youth and the leadership of the World Council are often on the same wave length. They differ on the time schedule.

Films, slides, posters and color displays by Sister Cortia, the American artist-nun, exploded all over Upsala. The council staff "turned on" the youth and many of the delegates with its Cafe Chantant. It roared nightly with folk rock, protest songs, teach-ins and debates. British Broadcasting Co. provided an evening of controversy and inspiration with its documentary film, "Christ and Disorder."

It focused on the failures of the church in many parts of the world — its divisions, bewildering liturgy, reactionary policies and frequent blunders. Yet it dared to highlight the locations of genuine advance (Africa) and new experiments in rural assistance (India).

Again, the film makers were asking the same question as the youth: Can the church practice what it has preached for 2,000 years.

What the World Council of Churches was experiencing was the same hot breath that jars Berkeley, taunts Columbia, and worries De Gaulle — but with one difference: The cry for change, renewal and, if necessary, revolution, is the center of the Christian message. With all its natural conservatism and plodding ways, the World Council would like to stay close to its center.

Shattered . . .

Chicago Tribune

Ho Chi Minh effectively shattered any hope for agreement at Paris, at least in the foreseeable future, by his message to the North Vietnamese people.

He urged them to step up their "war of resistance" against the United States and the imperialists who, he said, "are unwilling to renounce their criminal war of aggression and still want to hold on to the southern part of our country."

The Americans, he said, "are sustaining ever heavier defeats and are at the end of their tether."

And the cruellest blow for those who had persuaded themselves that negotiations might lead to an honorable peace was this: "In the face of our serious attitude and just stand at the Paris peace discussions, they keep demanding 'reciprocity' in a shameless and utterly unreasonable manner."

Council Answers Letter on Marksmanship Badge

Apparently G. E. Adam of Union Lake is disturbed about the report that the Boy Scouts of America considers canceling the marksmanship merit badge. Good. He can count me on his team. For the record, the local Scout council has not received even a hint of such policy change from our national headquarters. Probably someone either spoke without authority or was misquoted.

While we wait for the dust to settle, I suggest that anyone interested might visit either Camp Agawam or our Lost Lake Scout Reservation. He will find at each site an expertly administered rifle range, the popularity of which ranks right along with the waterfront program.

This shouldn't occasion much surprise. Those who know Ho Chi Minh and the Communist attitude toward peace talks have warned us all along that peace talks would be only a ruse to lure the United States into a sense of security while the Communists stepped up their attacks. The real surprise is that so many people in Washington and elsewhere jumped into the trap.

Gun Letters

Mail in support of gun legislation went quickly from a bang to a whimper, say the nation's lawmakers.

Letters, telegrams and petitions from the National Rifle Association and others opposed to gun controls are now back in the lead, outnumbering the gun law advocates by as much as 15-1 in some congressional offices. In many cases, the flood of mail that followed the assassination of Sen. Robert Kennedy has dwindled to a trickle.

The mail from urban areas generally runs in favor of gun registration and banning of mail order sales. That from rural areas, particularly hunting areas, is predominantly opposed.

Don't Fear the Truth

Now's Time to Set Things Straight

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Norbert (made up name) used to come right home after work until about six months ago. Then the excuses started coming: "The clock at work was slow. I stayed to help a buddy. Car trouble. I had to stop at the hardware store."

Norbert is always anywhere from an hour to two hours late. I am afraid to ask him for the truth because I think there is another woman in the picture.

ABBY

Abby, I love Norbert and he used to love me. We have three kids, and I don't want to lose him. I've been a good wife to him and I don't know where I have failed. We married young (I was 17 and he was 18). I was his first and only girl and maybe he is getting a taste of life he never had before. Please tell me what to do. I have no proof and I'm afraid to ask him.

END OF ROPE

DEAR END: You MUST ask him. Fearing "the truth" won't solve anything. First, find out what went wrong with your marriage, then set about to correct it. You may need some counseling, in which case don't delay. Get it now.

DEAR ABBY: Do you believe in love at first sight?

THEO: No. But I do believe in taking a second look.

DEAR ABBY: A woman who works with me says that you will not use a letter in your column unless it is signed in full by the person who wrote it. I say you will. And how about those letters signed, "DESPERATE, CURIOUS, MIXED UP," etc? Do people really sign their letters that way, or is that

Theatre School Youngsters to Present 'The King's Gift'

Area drama students will end their six weeks of training at the Cranbrook Theatre School by participating in a three act play entitled "The King's Gift."

Written especially to accommodate large casts of children by ex-theatre school director, Carl G. Wonnberger, three complete casts were organized for the performances July 30, 31 and August 1 at 8:15 p.m.

The play itself is typical children's storybook fare. The indulgent King Philip of Cardocia lavishes monetary goods but no sincere affection on his daughters and finally one is banished for her unappreciative behavior.

Princess Margerita then travels to neighboring Phrynia where she meets the understanding Prince Terence and of course, they fall in love. An apology from her father enables all to "live happily ever after."

The group of youngsters, none of them more than 13 years old, prepared four plays in the first four weeks of class, developing the skills and confidence needed for this final performance.

The staff of certified teachers schooling the group is led by Cranbrook School Theatre chairman, Mrs. Carl G. Wonnberger. Active in the program for over 27 years, she has taken over as head, filling the position formerly held by her husband, Carl.

Production manager for the production and executive assistant of the school is Mrs. Paul Wheaton. Costuming was taken care of by Mrs. George Zonars and Mrs. Fritz Fiesseimann. Choreography was directed by Mrs. Tickets Kelly.

Tickets for the three performances are available at St. Dunstan's Playhouse weekday mornings.

Weissenberg's Pianistic Skills Overshadowed

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

Alvise Weissenberg, pianist, was the guest artist for the Saturday and Sunday performances of the Meadow Brook Festival, with SIXTEEN Ehrlich and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. For the first time this season, an instrumentalist was heard twice on one program, with Mozart's Concerto Number 9 in E Flat Major, and Rachmaninoff's Concerto Number 2 in C Minor.

BERNICE

Weissenberg has a precise, neat style of playing, his technique is flawless, and his interpretation is pristine pure and circumspect. However, his tone is small and restrained; he relies heavily on his wrist and fingers, rather than on the large upper arm and shoulder muscles for reserve timbre and depth. The general effect is one of a masterpiece in miniature, better suited to a small concert hall or recording studio than to a large outdoor auditorium.

For the first time, the orchestra overshadowed the soloist, in spite of Ehrlich's efforts to keep the tone in balance.

The Mozart concerto was exquisitely delicate and restrained with clean, technical patterns, superb trills, and restrained elegance in interpretation. But the stormy emotionalism of the Rachmaninoff Concerto seemed bottled up inside the performer. As the music unfolded, one had the almost irresistible urge to reach out and turn up an invisible volume control to correct the balance and produce the desired effects.

ORCHESTRA PREVAILED

Only in parts of the third movement did the fire and temper of the music break through, but, in general, the concerto became a vehicle for the orchestra rather than for the featured piano.

Ehrlich and the orchestra opened the concert with Mozart's "Lanz" Symphony, number 36, — a neat, gracious and well-rounded performance, with careful attention to detail and polish.

This week, Tuesday through Sunday, will be devoted to performances of the American Ballet Theatre, accompanied by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Floyd R. Ervin and Jill Jackson, served as matron of honor and bridesmaid, respectively. The groom's sister, Mrs. Robert Boarn and flower girl, Becky Ervin attended.

On the esquire side, Duane Rushfield led the usher corps of Richard Dunn and Robert Bourn.

The couple are honeymooning in the East.

Lives Saved by Baby Powder

Did you know that baby powder saves lives — literally? Parachutes are sprinkled with baby powder between the folds, so they won't stick together, thus facilitating a quick and smooth opening of the chute. Sky diving enthusiasts take note!

Military flares, dropped via parachute, also depend on baby powder. The baby powder keeps it from sticking and insures the flare of floating to the strategic spot on land or sea.

DEADLY FUN—It looks like fun, but it could be deadly, warns the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation. The Rocky Coulee Chute near Moses Lake, Wash., ends in rough concrete breakers to slow the water. It takes only 15 seconds to travel the 935 feet from the top to the bottom. Hitting the breakers could end in injury or death, the bureau says. One drowning occurred this summer as boys slid the Esquatzel Chute near Pasco, Wash.

D.C. Negroes Oppose Police Project

Distrust Blocks OEO Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is having trouble giving away $1.5 million to finance an experiment in breaking down barriers between police and Negroes in slum sections of the nation's capital.

The problem: Negroes oppose the project.

The snarl underscores the deep distrust that both sides agree already divides Negroes from the police in a city marked by recent riots and frequent shooting incidents. Four policemen and six Negroes have been killed in recent confrontations.

"Police are increasingly seen as an occupying force in hostile territory," top Washington police officials admit in a preamble to the antipoverty proposal.

SUMMER CIRCUS

The circus doesn't come to Peru, Indiana; it is in permanent residence within the homes and business firms throughout the community.

What began there with a Big Top show in 1884 had become, by 1907, winter quarters for many American traveling carnivals and circuses.

When the quarters closed in 1941, civic leaders created a museum to house relics scattered throughout the town in memory to those bygone days. As many great circus names retired from their specialties, they came to Peru to settle.

Kelly. Beatty. Hodgini. Wilno. These names now perform again; this time, however, it is the children and grandchildren before the crowds.

Learning the routines of the circus is a delight to these children, be it high-flying trapeze work or becoming a clown with a brand-new face. Under guidance of the old-timers, who watch their proteges perform in a way once their own, the children work out year-round in barns, stores or the high-school gymnasium.

Every summer since 1960, when a community movement returned circus life to the northern-central Indiana community just off Highway 31, parents and children have prepared for their annual four-day circus, held usually toward the end of July.

Some 350 residents involve themselves in the workings of the show, from performance and publicity to raising the rigging and cleaning up when it's all over. These efforts bring some 100,000 visitors and circus buffs to the event.

The profits go into a Circus Festival Fund, which is used to buy permanent buildings for an additional museum, improved rigging equipment, more bleachers and additional advertising and publicity for the event.

Each year the circus grows larger. The city is working to construct a permanent Big Top in a downtown lumberyard and additional plans will send a troupe "on the road" to fulfill requests for appearances from other communities.

For now, though, the four-day show creates a "circus city" within the community that presents the summer show at Peru, Indiana.

The circus is definitely in town.

Mighty swings spin a lovely high-flyer.

A part of the clown kids.

Younger performers waiting their cue to march.

The family that plays together makes up together.

The star of yesterday, now a teacher, watches his students.
