Every Day Is Father's Day for Him

AP Wirephoto

DAD'S JOB IS NEVER DONE — When you have been a father 13 times and a grandfather 20 times, Father's Day is every day. Dozing off as he baby-sits with one of his grandchildren, is Andrew Conway, Scranton, Pa., painter. The Conways celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary this week. They have had 13 children, 12 still living, and 20 grandchildren with 3 more in the offing. "I have Father's Day the year around," says Andy.

Big Steel Talks Impasse Brings Shadow of Strike

Unionist Says Industry Pay Increase Proposal Is 'Picayune'

NEW YORK (AP) — Big steel and its labor union meet today in an effort to resolve an apparent impasse in contract talks.

Behind their meeting lay a flurry of determined statements made yesterday after the union turned down management's offer.

Speaking for his own company and the other two of steel's Big Three, Republic and Bethlehem, Vice President John A. Stephens of U. S. Steel declared:

"This is final, and I don't mean maybe. . . . We are not going to regard this as a floor from which you bargain us upwards."

He denied it was a "take it or leave it" matter, saying there was much to be negotiated within its framework.

Said President David J. McDonald, president of the United Steel workers, of the "final offer":

"Entirely inadequate . . . the titans of industry have labored and brought up a louse."

STRIKE SHADOWS LOOM

Ahead of the steel contract bargainers loomed the shadow of another economy-shaking steel strike that could directly involve 650,000 workers and indirectly tens of thousands more.

These developments marked the end of the talks' first round:

1. The Big Three contract proposal was disclosed officially. It offered a package estimated by the companies to be cumulatively worth 65 cents an hour over five years, 17⅔ cents the first year alone. It contained, for steel, several precedent-setting clauses, such as a layoff pay plan and premium rates for weekend work. It called for a no-strike five-year term. And the combined managements dis-

Votes Adding Up in Western States for Harriman

DENVER (AP)—A western backer of Gov. Averell Harriman predicted today that six western states will give the New York governor at least 63½ of their 98 votes for the Democratic presidential nomination at the party's national convention.

The claim came from Milton Weilenmann of Salt Lake City, Utah Democratic Chairman and an organizer of an 11-state Harriman meeting here today.

He outlined the figures to reporters in an interview, basing them upon statements of early-arriving delegates. Subsequently, they were issued by headquarters in a release.

Weilenmann said he expects the actual western vote for Harriman to go higher as other states select delegates.

He claimed all 28 of Oklahoma's convention votes under the unit rule, all 12 Idaho votes under the same rule, 6 of Utah's 12 votes, 6 of New Mexico's 16 votes, 7 of Wyoming's 14 and 4½ of Kansas' 16.

Cary Middlecoff Leading Open

Takes 3-Stroke Edge Over Thomson for 211 in Third Round

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Lanky Cary Middlecoff, making his big bid in a head-to-head 3rd round duel, took a 3-stroke lead over Australia's Peter Thomson at the 54-hole mark of the National Open Golf Championship today.

Middlecoff, 1949 champion, shot a par 70 for 211 and Thomson 75 for 214 over the 6,902-yard, par 35-35—70 Oak Hill East course.

Behind them and also making strong bids for the lead were four-time open champion Ben Hogan and massive Julius Boros, the 1952 winner. All four were tied for the lead at the nine-hole turn of today's morning round—the 45th hole of the tournament.

Thomson started the final 36 holes with a lead of one stroke over Hogan, two over Middlecoff and three other players, and three over Boros, but they caught him when he went one over par on Oak Hills tree-lined front nine.

Thomson began to crack up on the back nine, where he had three bogeys and a double bogey for a four-over-par 39.

Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, who led the field the first day then dropped back to 144, took a seven on the first hole and faded out of the picture with a 40 on the first nine.

Bill Joe Patton and Henry Cotton, first to finish the morning round came in with a par 70 and 73 repectively.

Singing in the Rain

COOL, CLEAR WATER — Pretty Mrs. Allen W. Hawke, of 2890 Dixie Hwy., peers happily from under an umbrella as an early-morning Saturday rain falls on her parched lawn. Like Mrs. Hawke, many another Oakland County resident, who has struggled desperately to keep lawns green during this week's heat wave, had cause to rejoice at the downpour.

Weekend Showers Offer Some Relief

Rain, increasing the humidity and giving a little relief from heat, is forecast for the weekend.

Moderately hot and humid weather is expected here as well as over most of the Midwest. Hopes of real escape from this week's 90 degree temperatures have faded, especially in the Eastern part of the nation.

The U. S. Weather Bureau has predicted highs here of 85 degrees today and 90 degrees Sunday. Tonight's low will be 60-65 degrees. Partial cloudiness will continue today through tomorrow.

A sudden and brief rain this morning is expected to repeat in the form of thundershowers this afternoon and evening. A few rain clouds may linger to shower the area again Sunday.

The heat wave was temporarily broken in Detroit yesterday by violent thunderstorms, with hail and heavy winds.

Trees and wires were toppled by 25-mile an hour winds in Northwest Detroit, the Palmer Park district, and in Southern Macomb and Western Wayne Counties.

The same heavy winds brought only gusts of dust to the Pontiac area.

A little rain accompanied thunder here last night. It brought pleasure only to the flowers.

Having survived a week of sweltering sunshine, Pontiac residents looked at the gray Saturday with glum faces, still waiting for the summer's first weekend of perfect weather.

There was no cheer in the weather bureau's 30-day forecast for the Midwest. More sweltering weather is predicted for the period ending July 15. Lower temperatures are forecast for the West, in the North Atlantic states and along the Gulf Coast.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature proceeding 8 a.m. was 68 degrees. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 83 degrees.

'Bureaucratic Heights'

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico (AP)—The Mexican Federal Pensions Bureau has announced it will build a subdivision here for government workers. The housing development will be called "Bureaucratic Heights."

Farmington Area Scene of Futile Rescue Attempts

Victim's Friend Spared as Sandpile Collapses During Play

The cave-in of a 15-foot high sandpile took the life of a 13-year-old Farmington Township boy and nearly covered his playmate while they were digging a tunnel yesterday afternoon.

David Harris, of 29311 Rockcastle St., was pulled free some minutes after the dirt collapsed but all efforts to save him were futile. He was dead on arrival at Redford Receiving Hospital.

Dr. Leon L. Perrin, an area physician who was passing by, administered adrenalin at the scene which reportedly produced a slight pulse.

But subsequent artificial respiration by Redford State Police and the use of an inhalator from the Southfield Township Fire Department failed to revive the boy.

The other youth, Michael Nadeau, also 13, of Farmington Township, was able to struggle free and run for help after being buried to the shoulders.

He dashed 300 yards to where Leon Schafer, 3141 Auburn Ave., Pontiac, was operating a road grader.

The Oakland County Road Commission employe rushed to the scene with his grader and extricated Harris, but it was too late. He had been covered with dirt for 20 minutes.

David was the only child of Mrs. Florence Harris, a widow.

The accident happened at 3 p.m. on the first day of his summer vacation. He had recently graduated from Shiawassee School and would have entered high school in September.

The boys had found a hole in shovel and were digging a hole into the side of the dirt pile when the top gave way, according to a spokesman from the Redford police post.

The tragedy took place at W. Nine Mile and Inkster roads in Southfield Township where land was being leveled for a subdivision.

The sandpile that buried young Harris alive, was reportedly scraped-off dirt that had been piled in a huge mound along Inkster road. Investigators said more than a ton of dirt had fallen on the playmates.

Lightning Hits House, Burns Woman's Hair

Fire singed a West Bloomfield Township woman's hair and damaged her home when lightning struck the side of the 7169 Michigan Ave. residence early this morning.

Mrs. John Guild's hair caught fire when a burning electric clock was thrown against the bed in which she and her husband were sleeping. Awakened by the crash, Guilds beat out the flames enveloping his wife's hair with his hands.

Several shingles were torn off the house by the bolt and fuses blown out.

Neither Guilds or the couples three children were injured.

They'll All Smother You With Kindness

Pity Poor Dad on Father's Day

By JANICE HAYHOW

Are there any of you deluded male parents who think that because tomorrow is Father's Day, you can do anything you've wanted to do all year long?

If so, I have news for you.

This day has been planned for you for weeks and not one member of your family will be sympathetic to your wishes. They're in a plot together.

From early morning when the kids decide you're going to have breakfast in bed until late at night when wifey surprises you with a midnight snack, you're in for it.

Just to show you that this isn't just fanciful talk, see if this scene doesn't ring a bell.

Six a.m.: Sleep in? No sir! Sally Jean, Junior and Baby Mary have decided you're to have breakfast in bed complete with bacon, eggs, toast and coffee.

Their chores began an hour ago and they worked hard to produce the dripping bacon, soggy toast, tar-type coffee and your favorite soft-boiled eggs cooked for 20 minutes.

That's just a taste of what's been planned for you and if you leave right then you have time to escape. Be gruff and tough! Go fishing!

Don't get soft-hearted about this conspiracy just because Sally Jean gets misty-eyed and says "I love you best of all, Daddy," and when Baby Mary gives you a soggy-wet, egg-smeared kiss—don't weaken!

And for heaven's sake, don't start remembering last week when Junior mowed the lawn, carried the trash and cleaned your fishing tackle box without saying a word and all because he just "felt like it."

If you haven't escaped yet, then you're in for an entertainment hour. Junior has practiced his tuba lessons for two weeks to give you his very best rendition of one of your old favorites, "Honeysuckle Rose."

Baby Mary and Sally Jean are singing a duet, your old courting song as a matter of fact—"Always." Even your loving wife has joined in this dastardly deed. She's accompanying the whole crew on the piano.

Now you think, when this is over, "I can sneak away for the day . . . or maybe I'll just curl up under that old elm tree and dangle my feet in the wading pool."

No, Dad, that's not what happens at all. First church, and then the family has decided to take you out to dinner (on your money, of course).

Then comes the big part . . . the gifts!

Junior has blessed you with a genuine space ranger compass (the dry cereal carton special), Sally Jean made a beautiful pipe rack (out of cardboard) and Baby Mary had help from Mother. You get a gooey kiss and a red, yellow, green and pink plaid tie.

The rest of the day goes likewise and several grueling hours later, after being spoiled and pampered all day long, you get ready for a nice nap. And what does wifey do but wake you up just to tell you how wonderful you really are.

• • •

That's the scene! You're just not tough enough. You've failed! You've gone through the whole day trying to prove different, but your family still thinks you're the most wonderful father in the whole world. Awful, huh?

It's a Panther, Says One; No - a Dog - Swears Other

As two new witnesses debate the question, fierce but unhappy growls are coming from the backwoods near Leonard.

The sounds are attributed to a grossly maligned "Black Panther" . . . he's been classified as a lowly canine.

Despite loud, snarling objections, James Boyic, 63 Norton St., remains firm in his identification of the wild "beast" which has roamed north Oakland County the past three years, rather more in fancy than in fact.

The animal's reputation, however, was somewhat patched up by the report of a Port Huron man, who claims he saw "Blackie" last night in the same area where Boyic was a witness Thursday night.

Floyd Chidester, 2309 Bancroft St., described the animal as "big and black, about five and one-half to six feet long."

He and Boyic are among the few who claim actually to have seen "Blackie."

But, according to Boyic, the terror of the woods, the ravager of the fields, the nemisis of all with vivid imaginations at night—looks like a normal-sized pointer.

Boyic claims he was driving south on Rochester Road from Leonard to Campbell's Corners with three others when the beast was sighted.

Boyic looked to the woods at the right and saw what he describes as a pointer with gleaming eyes and a shiny tail. The beast ran back into the heavy woods, Boyic says.

Boyic thinks the dog is wild, feeding on living creatures which venture into his habitat.

A leading advocate of the "panther" theory, Carl Kuetchenmeister, Leonard barber who first saw the intruder, was challenged today to produce or give up.

"My wife, Vivian, was with us and she issues the challenge, too," said Boyic. "Let's see this big, bogey panther or forget the whole thing."

Marilyn's Pop Was 'the Most' Man in Town

ANDOVER, Mass. (AP)—The 30 boys and girls in the St. Augustine grammar school graduation class got an unexpected graduation gift in last night's mid-90 degree heat-unlimited access to a soda fountain.

The youngsters were led by classmate Marilyn R. Harty into her father's drug store and told to "help yourselves."

Marilyn said her father gave the party because "We've always had a secret desire to squirt soda water and pour on all the syrup and whipped cream the dish would hold."

Next Tuesday Deadline for Candidates' Petitions

Deadline for county candidates to file nominating petitions in County Clerk Lynn D. Allen's office is 4 p.m., Tuesday, Allen said today.

He emphasized the petitions must be in his office, not in the mail, by that time. No extensions will be made, he said.

The Big Switch

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Boys in the eighth grade of Grand Haven Junior High School will be given an opportunity next fall to learn how to cook. The girls will learn how to become handymen. The boys will take domestic science. The girls will take shop work, including wood and metal working.

Army Reserve Group to Depart for Camp

Tonight, 147 Army Reservists will push off for summer camp.

Members of Pontiac's 703rd Tank Battalion, they will embark for two weeks of annual training duty at Camp McCoy, Wis.

Commanded by Lt. Col. Lloyd A. Gabler, the group is the largest ever to come from Pontiac.

Beginning Monday, the unit will undergo extensive training in operations, maintenance, driving, firing and communication in M47 and M48 tanks.

The battalion is a contingent of the 70th Infantry Division, 5th Army. Camp will continue until July 1.

Husky Bass Open 'Derby'

Weather man cooperated perfectly with Pontiac area anglers today for the opening of the Michigan bass season, and the beginning of The Pontiac Press annual "big fish derby."

Reports of many fine fish, taken from Oakland County's numerous bass waters began to trickle in early today. First entires in The Press' tourney are shown here. Varese Bisogni, Sylvan Village, with his husky 5-pound and 4-ounce bronzeback, and Dale Platz, 205 Exmoore, Pontiac, with a 3-pound 12 ounce specimen.

DALE PLATZ

Still another who filed an entry was tall, blonde Chet McBride, who had a 3-pound, 9-ounce fish, plus three others that averaged about 14 inches in length and a couple pounds in heft. They were caught in Lake Orion.

Bisogni's fish was taken on a lure of his own design, called "sneaky fish" in Meade Lake, at 12:30 a.m. The bass was 22 inches long, 21 inches in girth. It gave him a real battle, lasting a half hour, Varese says. Bisogni lives at 2141 Greer Boulevard, Sylvan Village.

Platz, fishing with Don Miller of Calvert street, Pontiac, took his 18-inch specimen from a private lake near Lake Orion. A 10-minute fight preceded capture of the prize. A fish cake lure was used. Miller also took one bass, a 16 inch specimen.

The "derby" runs through Labor Day. Residents of Oakland County only may enter, and fish must be caught in this county.

Comedian Cavorts on Crippled Plane

Red Skelton Calms Airline Passengers

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Comedian Red Skelton played one of the greatest roles of his career today as a funnyman calming 60 passengers in a plane limping to safety from far at sea. And it was for real.

Skelton, Bob Crosby, their families and the others were aboard a Pan-American airliner en route from Los Angeles to Honolulu when the big craft developed engine trouble and had to turn back to San Francisco.

Pan-American said the plane experienced "routine trouble" and that there was "no actual danger."

The red-headed joker, sporting a majestic full beard, banished any fright by keeping up a running patter of gags and wisecracks while the plane winged 800 miles back to land.

The airliner landed at San Francisco some 3½ hours after taking off from International Airport in Los Angeles and Skelton announced solemnly:

"Ladies and gentlemen: This is indeed an occasion. It has just taken us almost four hours to fly from Los Angeles to San Francisco in an airplane going nearly 400 miles an hour."

The incident, as reported by those aboard ship, had Skelton ad libbing as he never had before, for example:

"It seems to me they ought to be playing 'High and the Mighty'."

This he said while music was issuing from the plane's loudspeakers to make the anxious moments less painful.

USES CHILDREN AS PAWNS

Skelton at one point wheeled on his children, Valentine, 10, and Richard, 9, and told them more or less menacingly:

"I warned you brats not to fool with that motor."

He was accompanied on the flight by his wife, Georgia, and secretary, Maxine Davis, in addition to the children. They had scheduled a month's vacation in Hawaii, after which he planned to go to Japan to entertain American troops.

• • •

Crosby had with him his wife and his daughter, Cathy.

As the passengers stepped off the plane to board another one for the remainder of the flight, Skelton inquired of a stewardess:

• • •

"Gee, when we get on that other plane, do we have to drink any more of that awful chocolate?"

Bolivia Readies for Election Plot

Government Beginning Strict Clampdown on Security Measures

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Charging a pre-election revolt plot is afoot, Bolivia's government tightened security measures throughout the country today. Opposition forces called for a two-month delay in Sunday's vote.

* * *

Authorities deployed patrols of armed peasants and miners throughout the La Paz area on the lookout for possible trouble, and informed sources said the government would pay no attention to the demands that the election be put off.

Tension reached a high pitch last night as 13 opposition members fled to asylum in various foreign embassies here in the wake of the revolt charges.

Among eight who entered the Guatemalan Embassy was Eduardo Messuti Roca, a leader of the Republican Socialist Union (PURS) accused by the government of having a hand in the alleged plot.

Interior Minister Federico Fortun brought the plot issue to a head when he charged the opposition planned to stage a rebellion today or tomorrow to prevent national elections from going off on schedule.

Many citizens will vote for the first time under an electoral decree granting women a right to vote and revoking the traditional restriction of balloting to those who can read or write.

Odin Johnson Seeks Nomination for Clerk

Pontiac attorney Odin Johnson announced today he has filed nominating petitions to place his name on the August 7 primary ballot for Oakland County clerk on the Democratic ticket.

Johnson, 51, was appointed Pontiac Municipal Judge in 1954, but lost the ensuing election to present Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

A member of Eagles, Moose, Knights of Pythias and the county, state and national bar associations, Johnson is a graduate of the University of Michigan and Detroit College of Law.

Married with two children, he lives at 486 W. Iroquois Rd.

Wisner Field Site for Oldtimers Tilt

Pontiac baseball fans will see a former Tiger mound ace in action here Sunday at 2 p.m. at Wisner Field. The old pro, Diz Trout, who used to whistle'em in down at Briggs stadium, will start against Pontiac's Old Timers club. Diz was due for several innings of action along with a number of other former big-time ball players, comprising the Detroit Old Timers crew.

Both Pontiac and Detroit are members of the International Old Timers League.

Kalamazoo Stations Drop Trading Stamps

KALAMAZOO (AP)— Rebelling against trading stamps, Kalamazoo area gasoline dealers announced Friday they will stop issuing the merchandise premiums after June 17.

A full page newspaper advertisement in the Kalamazoo Gazette listing 118 service stations said, "because of increased costs of operation we can no longer afford to give trading stamps or premiums."

Urban League Guild Gives Scholarship

A scholarship awarded to Vicky Micu, a member of the Pontiac High School graduating class this year, was provided by the Pontiac Urban League Guild. An announcement of the award, published Friday, was in error by crediting the scholarship to the Urban League.

Two-Deck Luxury Train Takes New Modern Twist

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The revolution on rails takes a reverse twist today as a big, two-deck luxury landliner makes its bow following the recent debuts of a series of low-slung, lightweight trains of varying design.

The Santa Fe Railway's new "Hi-Level" El Capitan rolls on its pre-inaugural press run today from Pittsburgh to Washington, D. C., prior to public exhibitions in those two cities and elsewhere.

The "Hi-Level" train is almost the exact opposite of the various lightweight trains. It is high, heavy, expensive and luxurious; the lightweights are low, light, cheap and practical.

CROSS-COUNTY SERVICE

The "Hi-Level" is destined for transcontinental service on the nearly 40-hour run between Chicago and Los Angeles. The lightweights are for medium-distance runs of around 200 to 400 miles, lasting a few hours.

The two types of equipment have one thing in common—an effort to cut down or wipe out the chronic passenger deficit, now running around 700 million dollars annually, which plagues the railroad industry.

This means not only luring back to the rails more passengers from the airways and highways but using every means to bring down costs into a healthier relationship to revenues.

BUILT BY BUDD

The new El Capitan was built by the Budd Co. of Philadelphia, makers of the shiny new "tubular" lightweight train, "The Keystone," introduced by the Pennsylvania Railroad on Wednesday for the New York-Washington, D. C., run.

The "Hi-Level" consists of seven chair cars, a diner and a lounge car. In the chair cars all passengers sit on the upper deck in comfortable foam rubber seats which can be reclined and rotated.

They sit eight feet above the rails instead of a few inches as in the lightweights and four feet in conventional trains. The cars are 15½ feet high. The height puts wheel noise at a minimum and gives passengers a sweeping view of the scenery through picture windows.

Pontiac Deaths

Albert O. Bean

Albert O. Bean, 73, of 40 Auburn Ave. died at his home of a heart attack Thursday.

He was born in Knoxville, Tenn., May 11, 1883, the son of John A. and Mary Castile Bean, and came to Pontiac eight years ago.

He is survived by a son, Albert J. Bean and a sister, Mrs. Cora A. Cole of Knoxville.

Service will be at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the Huntoon Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Virgil T. Lake

Virgil T. Lake, 42, treasurer and co-owner of the X-Cel Finishing Co., Hazel Park, and a former resident of Pontiac, died suddenly in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday.

A resident of Pontiac 12 years, Mr. Lake was with the Prudential Ins. Co. here before he became a manufacturer's agent.

He belonged to Warren Lodge 15, the F&AM at Connorsville, Ind. and the BPOE of Pontiac. He was a trustee of Our Shepherd Lutheran Church, Birmingham, and had served with the U.S. Air Corps during World War II.

Surviving are his wife, the former Virginia McCleish, whom he married Nov. 27, 1937, in Connorsville; his mother, Mrs. Cleo Lake of Connorsville; one child, Vance at home and a brother, James of Connorsville.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Monday from Our Shepherd Lutheran Church, 2225 E. 14 Mile Rd., Birmingham. The Rev. Howard Allwardt will officiate with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Dudley H. Moore Funeral Home, Auburn Heights, after 7 p.m. today.

In lieu of flowers the family requests that donations be made to Our Shepherd Lutheran Church for the playfield to be established in his memory.

Milton Moan

Milton Moan, 45, of 413 Osmun St., died yesterday in the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after a year's illness.

Mr. Moan was born April 19, 1911 in Windom, Minn., and came here from Greenbush, Minn., 18 years ago. He was the son of John and Mary Knutson Moan.

On December 21, 1940, he married Lydia E. Boelter of Detroit.

A soldier in World War II, he was discharged in 1943. He was also a member of Cook Nelson Post, American Legion, and employed as a press operator at the Fisher Body plant.

Surviving besides his wife are two sisters, Mrs. William Hogan of Muskegon and Mrs. John Hereim of Pontiac.

Service will be held Monday at 1 p.m. from the Pursley Funeral Home with the Rev. Carl Nelson of St. Johns Lutheran Church officiating. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery.

Eugene Myers

Eugene Myers, 63, of 256 S. Marshall St., died in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday after being ill for six months.

Mr. Myers was born in Pennsylvania on June 17, 1892, the son of Harry and Leah Sink Myers. In 1911, he married Ethel Hammack in Corydon, Iowa.

He came here from Moline, Ill. and was a resident of Pontiac for 26 years. He was a member of the St. Trinity Lutheran Church and a foreman at General Motors Truck and Coach Division.

He is survived by his widow and four children, Mrs. Herman Hopp, Robert Myers, and Kathryn Nichols all of Pontiac and Clarence Myers of Springfield, Ohio.

Other survivors include 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

The body is at Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home and the funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Glenn L. Turner

Service will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday from the Kirkby Funeral Home for Glenn L. Turner, 60, of 245 N. Perry St. Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of the Central Methodist Church, will officiate with burial in Greenwood Cemetery, Burlington, Ont., Canada.

Mr. Turner died yesterday in Pontiac General Hospital after a long illness.

Jurors Deadlocked

After 10 members of a six-man, five-woman jury said they were "hopelessly deadlocked" in a malpractice suit brought against two local doctors, Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland sent the jury home for the weekend Friday afternoon. The jury will return Monday morning.

Doctors A. J. Zujko and Wilfred M. Green are defendants in a case brought by relatives of the late Yvonne Pilgrim, 20, of 13 Crawford St. Mrs. Pilgrim died 17 days after an operation in October. Damages of $158,210 are asked.

Steel Talks Mired in Pay Hike Impasse closed they had offered to negotiate a cost-of-living clause.

2. The steelworkers' Wage Policy Committee, with 170 members, met for less than an hour and rejected the offer. McDonald said the vote was unanimous.

3. Stephens said at a press conference the steel companies would not budge from nor would they add a penny to their over-all offer.

4. Both sides promised to work for a settlement. McDonald said he was still hopeful one could be reached.

The present contract expires June 30.

The Big Three employ about 350,000 of steel's 650,000 workers. These talks, however, normally set the pattern for the industry.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics has estimated the present average hourly wage in steel at $2.46.

The companies' offer McDonald said, would add to basic rates not quite 7½ cents this July and 37 cents by July 1960.

McDonald called it "picayune."

The industry offered in the new contract to pay 10 cents an hour extra for Sunday work, raising it to 12 cents a year later.

The supplemental pay plan in the event of layoff would guarantee workers benefits equal to 65 per cent of their take-home pay, minus whatever they got in state unemployment insurance. Lump sum payments would be made to workers in Indiana, Ohio and Virginia, where authorities have ruled workers may not get both private and public jobless pay at the same time.

Press Errs on Name

The Wednesday edition of The Pontiac Press erroneously listed Clarence Ayohe, of Waterford Township, as being one of two men arraigned on an uttering and publishing charge Tuesday. Clarence Ayotte, of 1400 Sugden Rd., was one of the men involved.

THE LAST REPORT CARD — Webster School teacher Carol Charles, 86 S. East Blvd., tells young Lou Ann Crawford, 86 Oriole, to have a happy and careful summer as she hands her the last class reports to take home to her parents. Needless to say Lou Ann's first words when she got home were "school's out for the whole summer! Hurrah!" Lou Ann was among thousands of pupils who bade good-bye to Pontiac schools yesterday.

Ike Rests Over Weekend; Resumes Work Monday

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower, continuing to convalesce "very satisfactorily," looked forward today to a weekend of relaxation free of work or callers.

Aside from visits with Mrs. Eisenhower and other members of his family, the President is expected to spend his time reading, listening to piped-in radio music—or just resting.

Eisenhower is also expected to continue his walking exercises in his suite at Walter Reed Army Hospital. Yesterday, he sat in an easy chair for about a half hour.

The President cleared his "desk" for the weekend when he signed nine bills, 12 other official papers and a sheaf of nominations and telegrams yesterday.

No business callers are scheduled today. The President will confer Monday with Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Music has been provided for the president. White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower requested Verdi's "La Traviata," Mendelssohn Symphonies, Strauss' waltzes, Gershwin and Rodgers and Hammerstein selections and John Philip Sousa's marches.

Hagerty said the President has shunned any discussion of his second term plans since he entered the hospital.

His comment stemmed from published reports that GOP leaders expect assurance from Eisenhower before next Friday that his illness has not changed his decision to seek re-election.

GOP strategists met in Washington yesterday to make final plans for the Republican National Convention at San Francisco Aug. 20.

* * *

All convention planning is being based on the assumption that Eisenhower will make a dramatic personal appearance Aug. 22 to accept renomination.

Wrap-Around Car Windshield Causes Debate

TOLEDO (AP)—The wider vision afforded motorists by wrap-around windshields has contributed materially to safety on the highway, a leader in the glass industry said yesterday.

* * *

Dr. George Watkins, chairman of the technical policy committee of Libbey-Owens Ford, admitted that curved glass bends lightrays.

"It's far better to see an individual or car at the extreme corner of the right and left at a slightly distorted angle than not to see him or it at all," said Dr. Watkins.

His remarks were prompted by the pronouncement of an eye specialist that wrap-around windshield was a "hazard of the first magnitude."

* * *

"All basic optical principles have been completely ignored" in the windshield design, said Dr. DuPont Guerry, opthalmologist of the Medical College of Virginia at Richmand.

He was one of 11 physicians discussing medical aspects of highway accidents at the close of the American Medical Assn.'s 105th annual meeting in Chicago.

Bloodmobile to Stop at Church Monday

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will make its monthly visit to Pontiac from 2 until 8 p.m. Monday.

The bloodmobile will be at the gymnasium in All Saints Episcopal Church, Pike and Williams, instead of at the Elks Temple, which is usually blood headquarters.

Blood donors may call the American Red Cross office for appointments to donate Monday or stop at the church during the open house, officials said.

Motorist Receives Cuts in Waterford Accident

Gerald A. Clifton, 24, of 773 E. Tennyson Ave., suffered lacerations of the scalp, face, and left knee when his car went off the road and hit a utility pole in Waterford Township late last night, township police said today.

He was treated and released following treatment at Pontiac General Hospital. The accident occurred on Andersonville Road.

Clifton told investigating Waterford police he went off the unfamiliar road and was trying to get back on the highway when he struck a fence and then hit the pole.

Bruce Overbey to Head GM Parade of Progress

The appointment of Bruce G. Overbey as director of the General Motors Parade of Progress was announced today by A. G. DeLorenzo, director of public relations for the corporation.

Overbey succeeds John E. Ryan who is returning to the Chevrolet Motor Division with which he was formerly associated.

Name Dr. Otto Hufzinger to Higher School Position

Appointment of Dr. Otto C. Hufziger as assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business has been approved by the Pontiac Board of Education.

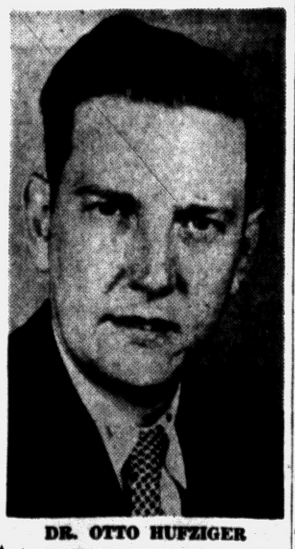

In charge of the city's expanded building program for the past year and one-half, Hufziger now will add co-ordination of several administrative functions to this duties.

According to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, Hufziger will be given overall responsibility in maintenance and operational programs, the transportation system and purchasing and financial management.

Hufziger will continue to guide the board's ten-year, $9,000,000 building program to provide modern facilities for the growing school population.

Hufziger, 29, joined the school system Oct. 1, 1954 to take over major responsibility in this program. He holds degrees in engineering and education, plus a doctorate from Columbia University.

His main task has been to help the school system pin-point its needs in order to do a sound and economical buying job.

DR. OTTO HUFZIGER

The administration next month will publish a complete survey, drawn up by Hufziger, detailing in over 200 pages every school building in the system and laying out future needs.

The Day in Birmingham

Companies, Civic Groups Support Rally of Voters

BIRMINGHAM — Two corporations and two civic organizations have pledged aid to the parade that will precede the Candidates Rally being planned by the League of Women Voters for June 28.

The old-fashioned torchlight parade will include the Detroit Edison's American Legion Fife and Drum Corps, and Chrysler Corporation's Kiltie Band.

In the parade also will be the Girl Scouts and the Birmingham American Legion and its Auxiliary, forming the color guards.

Birmingham's Mayor James Allen will lead the parade in an old Victoria carriage drawn by a pair of matched black driving horses.

Intended to spur registrations for a large and well-informed vote at the August primary, the evening's activities will begin at Hill School at 7:30 p.m.

Candidates for Congress, State and Oakland County offices will ride in open cars in the parade and torches will be carried by precinct delegates of the Republican and Democratic parties.

Fifteen floats are expected in the parade, with historical, political and patriotic themes the rule.

The parade will end at Shain Park, where introductions of all the candidates are planned. Still later, those voting for the first time in this year's presidential election, will be honored at a "birthday party" and will have the opportunity to meet candidates.

Promotion Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church will be tomorrow, for all Sunday School students. Third Grade students, who number 193, will receive Bibles in the front chapel.

* * *

The Ground Observer Corps post is completed, according to Mrs. Melvina Eberle, county coordinator of civilians, but financing is not yet sufficient.

A fund drive is on to provide the remainder of the $1500 needed for the small white eight-by-eight structure across from the Murray Way Corporation on East Maple.

Officers of the day, a supervisor and a chief officer are also needed. Contacts may be to Mrs. Eberle, of Milford, or Mrs. Fraser Pomeroy of Dorchester street.

* * *

Red water caused by mixing the new Detroit water with local well water will be avoided with the water treatment planned by the city, city officials say.

However, the new treatment plant will not be in operation until next year, explains City Manager D. C. Egbert.

* * *

New officers of Rotary Anna will be installed at Mrs. J. H. Achten's home, 32065 Telegraph Rd., at 1 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Matthew Cammarari is new president. Other officers are Mrs. Phil Williams, vice president; Mrs. Dwight B. Ireland, second vice president; Mrs. Wayne Stettbacher, secretary; and Mrs. Samuel Lang, treasurer.

A collection of items for Grace Bentley Camp children will be made.

* * *

Mrs. Willard Erickson

Service for Mrs. Willard Erickson, who died yesterday, will be at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Columban Church, with interment in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery. A rosary will be recited at Manley Bailey Funeral Home at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Ruby Jane Gardner

Mrs. Ruby Jane Gardner, 66, died at her home, 611 Oak Crest, Cedar Island Lake, Pontiac, Friday after a short illness. She had lived in Birmingham from 1942 to '55. Her husband, Harry M., died here last year. She leaves nine children.

Service will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Monday at 1 p.m., with interment at White Chapel Cemetery.

Hunter's Body Found

ALPENA (AP)—The body of one of three Flint area duck hunters, reported missing last Oct. 19 on a Saginaw Bay hunting trip, was recovered yesterday by a passing lake freighter, the Alpena Coast Guard station said. The Coast Guard said the body of 22-year-old Albert Spencer was found by the Freighter Thomas S. Cole about 19 miles north of Harbor Beach.

Educator Takes Motor City Post

Brownell Sees Bright Outlook in New Office as School Chief

DETROIT (INS) — Washington's U. S. Education Commissioner Samuel M. Brownell states he sees "great opportunities" in his new job as superintendent of schools in Detroit.

Brownell, whose resignation was accepted by President Eisenhower, said Detroit now has one of the nation's "outstanding" school systems.

* * *

He said that the board of education is "free of politics" and "fiscally independent" but works in close cooperation with city officials.

As U. S. education commissioner, Brownell receives $14,800 a year. As Detroit school superintendent, he will be getting $30,000 a year with a five-year contract.

"The salary of course is attractive," he told newsmen but added that "the decision to leave was a hard one to make."

Brownell for 11 years was superintendent of schools at Grosse Point, and three of his four children were born in Detroit. He said he has a great liking for the city.

* * *

The commissioner said that his "biggest job" will be to "keep the school system operating at a high peak of efficiency." He said he could not discuss possible improvements until he is actually on the job.

Brownell praised the Detroit school system as perhaps the best in the nation for a city of its size.

Dem States GOP Pushing Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) said today many Democrats are reluctant to voice support for increased foreign aid because they want to "let the Republicans carry the ball."

* * *

Neuberger voiced this view as Chairman George (D-Ga) called the Senate Foreign Relations committee into an unusual Saturday session to complete work on the foreign aid bill with a view to getting it to the Senate floor next week.

The big fight there will center on the committee's 9-5 recommendation to increase military assistance funds 600 million dollars more than the two billions the House voted.

Sheriff's Deputy Hurt in Off-Duty Accident

Deputy Robert A. Bloom of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department is in "fair" condition at Pontiac General Hospital today after being injured in an early-morning accident while off duty.

He suffered multiple cuts and bruises when the car in which he was a passenger went off the road and struck a telephone pole at US 10 and Hatchery Road, Waterford Township. Bloom is 23 and a resident of Clarkston.

Peter Tersigni, 24, of Clarkston, the driver of the vehicle, was shaken up but did not need hospital treatment.

Storage Structure Looted

Pontiac State Police are investigating a recent Independence Township burglary involving the looting of a storage building.

Fifty pieces of lumber, a radio, hammer, and extension cord, were reported missing from the building at 7390 Clintonville Rd. Owner Robert Gray estimates the losses at $60.

Asks Seat Belts As Must

Medical Society Lauds Automakers for Safety

CHICAGO (INS) — The American Medical Association declared automobile safety seat belts "could annually save over 10,000 lives" and prevent a million minor-to-serious car injuries.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

The AMA called upon automobile manufacturers to make safety seat belts "standard equipment on all cars in the near future" for all drivers and passengers.

The session, which wound up the 105th annual meeting of the AMA, was devoted to a search for the causes behind the nation's tragic highway death toll, which last year claimed some 38,000 lives.

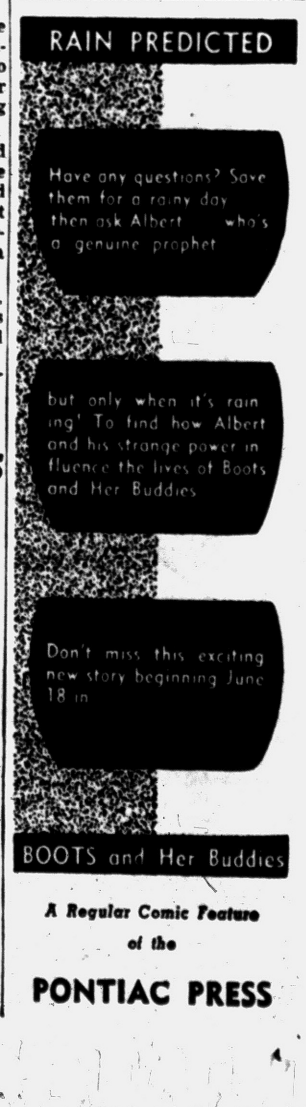

It commended auto makers for making some "simple and sensible" safety improvements, including dashboard crash padding, door safety locks, elimination of protruding knobs and buttons and collapsible steering wheels.

But, summing up, Dr. Woodward said:

"At present the car remains a lethal and crippling agent.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

"And human nature being what it is, it is easier to modify the machine design than to modify the man behind the wheel."

Steamer, Fishing Boat Collide Near Norway

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—Dirkzwagers shipping agency reported today that the 3,155-ton Turkish steamer Nurfan collided with the fishing vessel Victor Anna 6 about 80 miles southwest of the Norwegian port of Stavanger.

The Nurfan radioed that her port bow was smashed but that she was proceeding to Copenhagen. The report said the Victor Anna 6 sank after another fishing vessel took aboard her crew.

West Germany Seeks Reactors

Atom Minister Strauss, Honored at UD, Says 3 to Be Purchased

DETROIT (AP) — West Germany's minister for atomic energy says his country needs three atomic reactors so Germany can once again "contribute to the common scientific research and technical progress."

• • •

Cabinet Minister Franz Josef Strauss said he is negotiating for the reactors in this country and hopes they can be delivered to West Germany "within the shortest possible time."

Strauss was awarded an honorary doctor of Laws degree last night at the University of Detroit. He spoke at the commencement of the Catholic institution and also addressed a dinner meeting before the exercises.

The German official did not disclose details of the negotiations for the reactors. But he said his country would use them for the systematic promotion of economic strength and the political unity of Europe.

• • •

Strauss said the Democratic countries should not be lulled into a feeling of security because Russia has "removed Stalin's picture from the Kremlin Wall."

• • •

Before opening doors to the Russians, Strauss warned, "We should show them it is necessary likewise to remove all the evil effects of Stalin."

Panama Riot Squelched

PANAMA (AP)—Widespread vandalism occurred in the downtown area of Panama City last night after a university student meeting alleged election irregularities.

National Guard headquarters said eight persons were arrested.

Lonely Jet Pilots Realize Big Wish – 15 Pretty Dates

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fifteen Navy jet pilots landed in Miami for a series of training missions and decided they were lonely.

Cmdr. Joh. C. Campbell told Miami Herald columnist Jack Bell:

• • •

"All we want is 15 nice-looking young ladies to take out while we're here."

"So-o-o-o," said Bell in his column yesterday, "if you're interested, call."

• • •

More than 1,100 calls—from Vero Beach to Key West, 150 miles up and down the coast from Miami, flooded the Marine Corps Air Station switchboards yesterday.

• • •

The fliers said some 80 girls, selected on the basis of age, weight, "and other vital statistics", would be called upon for dates.

FATHER'S DAY

J. L. VOORHEES

Dear Dad! He faces each day with high hopes. He is the first to encounter rebuff, circumvent it and continue to build his castles in the sky.

When our troubles come it is Dad who unravels them; it is Dad who gives us strength, pride in ourselves and in our ability to fill our niche in society, to build immunity to petty annoyances and bridge the bigger ones.

GAMES FOR SUMMER — 6

Oranges and Lemons

This is another English singing game, brought to this country long ago, and using the names of some ancient churches and districts of London.

"Oranges and lemons," say the bells of St. Clemens,
"You owe me five farthings," say the bells of St. Martins,
"When will you pay me?" say the bells of Old Bailey,
"When I grow rich," say the bells of Shoreditch,
"When will that be?" say the bells of Stepney,
"I do not know," says the great bell of Bow.
Chorus:
Here comes a candle to light you to bed;
You've been caught on the way to bed.

Two of the players join hands to form an archway, after deciding secretly that one shall be "orange" and the other "lemon." The rest of the children pass under, singing the rhyme. At the last word "bed" the arch falls to enclose the player who happens to be beneath. He says either orange or lemon, and takes his place behind the player having the name he chooses. This should be done in whispers, so the rest do not learn which is which.

The game continues until all the players are behind either orange or lemon. Then, with each player holding the waist of the person in front, the oranges and lemons have a tug-of-war.

It's most fun to really play the game, but also you can color this picture with crayons, paste it on to cardboard, cut the parts, and fit together as shown above.

OK Renovation of Locker Units

School Board Earmarks Nearly $87,000 to Fix Student Facilities

Pontiac High School's locker rooms will look brand new when students return next fall.

* * *

The Board of Education last night approved $86,889 in bids to renovate the locker-shower-bathroom facilities, which have not received extensive repairs since the school was built in 1929.

"From probably the poorest facilities in the area, we're going to have some of the best," according to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools.

Construction companies plan to start work as soon as possible, he said.

In other bids accepted last night, a total of $51,898 worth of repairs are scheduled this summer for four elementary schools and the administration's garage on Patterson Street.

Bathroom facilities at Baldwin and Wisner Schools will be renovated; a fire exit built at Bagley School; and internal construction at Longfellow School will provide an additional classroom.

Uncle Sam to Bill Charlie Chaplin for $1,100,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Screen comic Charlie Chaplin, who left the United States four years ago for a villa in Switzerland, is going to be handed a $1,100,000 income tax bill by Uncle Sam.

* * *

A spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service here said yesterday that a member of the local staff will go to Lausanne, Switzerland, to present the government's claim, based on an alleged tax deficiency in 1953.

* * *

Although Chaplin was out of the country that year he disposed of studio properties and other assets here in transactions the government claims netted him some $2,700,000. The tax claim is based on the contention he was still a resident alien at the time.

Chaplin, a British subject although he spent 42 years in the United States, has filed a petition with the U.S. Tax Court claiming his residence in this country ended when he left in 1952.

The spokesman said the case may be tried partly in Europe and partly in the United States but did not elaborate on the government's possible action.

City Library Offers New Reading Game

A new reading game offered by the Pontiac City Library is being offered for children of elementary school age this summer. It will end Aug. 17.

The game will consist of individually chosen books, a minimum of eight and a maximum of 15, for which each child may earn a diploma and a "Bookworm Club" pin.

The game may be joined at the Adah Shelly and East Side branch as well as the Main Library, by any school age child that resides in the city.

Mainland area of Australia is 2,948,366 square miles.

Add Sixteen Books to Library Shelves

Sixteen new fiction books have been added to the shelves of the Pontiac City Library and are ready for circulation, Miss Phyllis Pope, city librarian, annouced.

* * *

The books are: Nothing New Under the Sun, Bacchelli; May of Carisbrooke, Barnes; The Sleepless Moon, Bates; Jubilee, Brank; The Royal Anne Tree, Campbell; The Wicked Village, Chevallier; Beloved, Delmar; Cards of Identity, Dennis.

Others are: Aspects of Love, Garnett; Love For a Convict, Henriques; the Red Umbrellas, Lindeamnn; H. M. S. Ulysses, MacLean; Remember the House, Rama Rau; The Horse Soldiers, Sinclair; A Bar of Shadow, Van der Post; and Harry Black, by Walker.

Librarian Tells Summer Hours for Bookmobile

A new summer schedule for Pontiac City Library's Bookmobile has been announced by Miss Phyllis Pope, city librarian.

"The new Bookmobile stops are being tried out this summer on an experimental basis as part of the continuous effort to give better coverage with its services throughout the city," Miss Pope said.

The new stops are: Fairmont at Stanley; Melrose at Manhattan, Balboa and Valencia in the Linda Vista area, the east end of Argyle, Buttercup on Oakland, Seward at Cottage, and Osmun at Anderson.

Bookmobile times and places will also be marked by new red, white and black markers reading "Bookmobile Station" and placed at each stopping place.

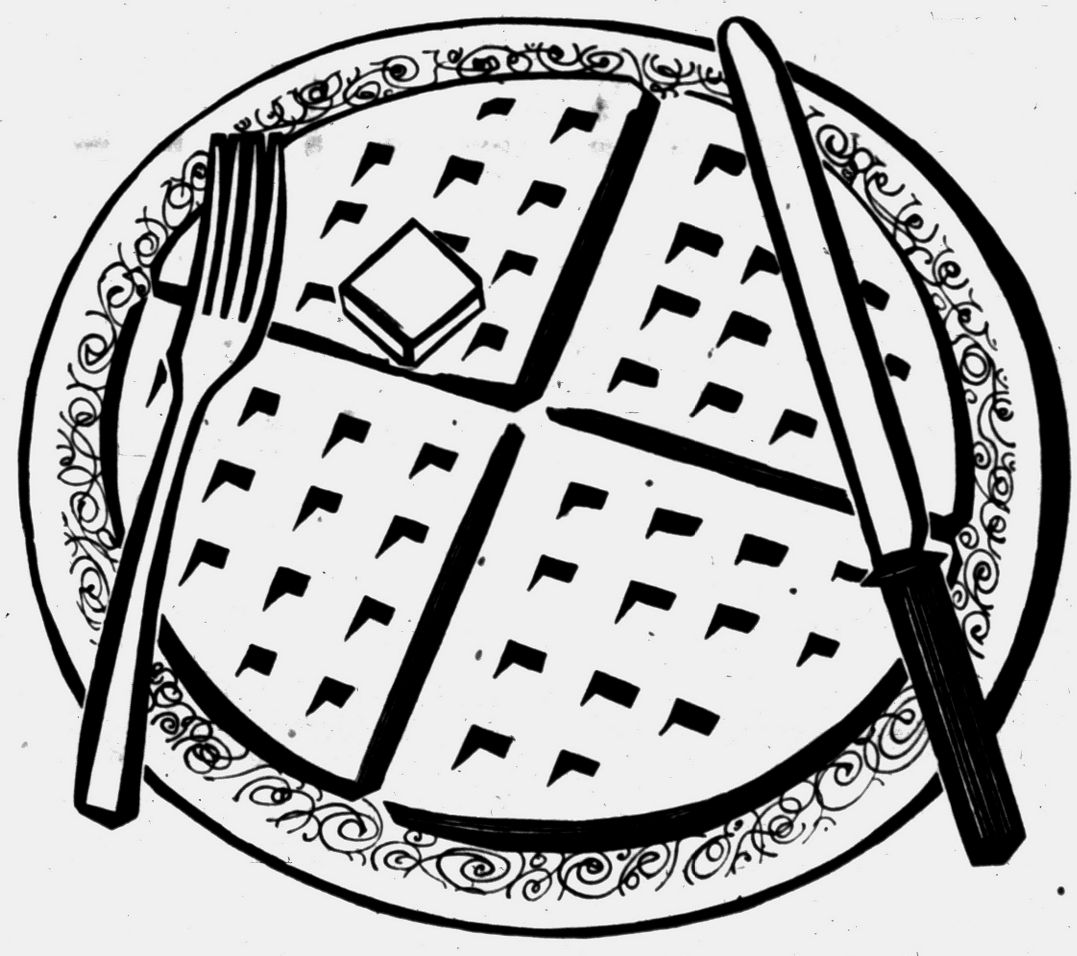

Miss Pope suggests calling the main library for any further questions on the Bookmobile.

The United States produces more than one-half the petroleum of the world and consumes the major portion of its production.

Democratic Battle Is Still Wide Open Affair

One of the interesting developments of the moment in the race for the Democratic Presidential nomination lies in the steady advance of Averill Harriman.

Probably Adlai Stevenson hasn't lost any ground, but from a position of relative obscurity back in the pack, the New York Governor has steadily forged ahead. Today he is "running easily" in the jargon of the bang tails and looks as though he might "make his move" at any moment.

★ ★ ★

Kefauver has lost ground steadily and his best possibility at the moment is to trade a couple of horses with the ultimate winner if he can spot the man for sure. Probably the ailing Kefauver will throw his support to Harriman. Stevenson will never get it and Symington isn't in a strong enough position to rate all out capitulation.

★ ★ ★

Harriman is an interesting figure. He is Governor of the biggest State in the Union and commands the biggest single block of votes in the convention. This means he brandishes a very potent weapon. Harriman has many of the late Franklin Roosevelt's ideas which endears him to one segment of the population and places him in the dog house with another. Up to now, you can be more neutral about Harriman than you ever could about Roosevelt.

★ ★ ★

We question whether the South would ever go for Harriman. He has been too outspoken on the subject of integration and several Dixie States want no part of anyone urging immediate racial unification.

In the meanwhile the Dark Horse of Missouri is jogging along comfortably, waiting for a break. If Stevenson and Harriman fight it out right down to the wire, he may never get a tumble. However, should a deadlock ensue in which neither contestant can command a winning margin, Symington is in the favored slot.

★ ★ ★

We question whether Kefauver will figure much any more. Unless some wholly unexpected break comes his way, the southerner is washed up for 1956. Some of the party wheel horses have privately scratched him off their personal lists and he lacks enthusiastic support.

★ ★ ★

All in all, the days ahead promise a real battle and there should be some fun and fury along the rocky path to the Democratic nomination.

Jazz Captures Mideast

Our State Department has discovered American jazz!

The first governmental experiment with this art form was a tour of Middle East cities by Dizzy Gillespie's 20 piece band. The trip was a great success. Dizzy's musicians really sent them.

★ ★ ★

The itinerary included Abadan, Dakkar, Karachi, Beirut, Damascus, Aleppo, Ankara, Istanbul, Belgrade and Athens. Everywhere the result was the same. First performances in these cities attracted little attention. Then, by the mysterious grapevine that runs through the Middle East, the word got around and thereafter the audiences were wildly enthusiastic.

★ ★ ★

The expenses of the tour, including salaries for the musicians, but no box office cut for Gillespie, totaled $6,000 a week. They were met by the President's Special Emergency Fund for International Affairs. Box office receipts reverted to the Treasury.

The success of this tour and the popularity of Voice of America radio jazz programs further east suggest that it would be a good investment if similar bands were sent to Asia. This would be fine propaganda. Russia simply hasn't anything to match the entertainment value of our jazz music or, of course, our motion pictures.

Our Oldest U.S. Senator

On Sunday, June 17, Rhode Island's veteran Democratic Senator, Theodore Francis Green, acquires a new distinction.

He becomes the oldest man ever to sit in the United States Senate by season of reaching the age of 88 years, eight months and 15 days. Previously that distinction had been held by a man one day younger, Vermont's General Justin Smith Morgan, who died in 1898.

★ ★ ★

It is an interesting fact that the oldest Senator is one of the most active. Tall, courtly and a bachelor, he travels widely when Congress is not in session and is much in demand at Washington social affairs.

The Rhode Islander, an attorney and financier, first was elected to the Senate in 1936. He has been re-elected three times and now stands second in line for the chairmanship of the Foreign Relations Committee, presently held by Senator George.

The Press joins Senator Green's colleagues in congratulating him on his new status.

Michigan Dem Delegation Leans to Stevenson

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—Despite the Williams-Harriman-Kefauver coalition talk of recent weeks, it's a good bet that Adlai Stevenson will get considerable support from the Michigan delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

Not on the first ballot, of course. All the state's 44 votes are pledged at the outset to Gov. Williams as a favorite son presidential aspirant.

From present indications, Stevenson would lead any other candidate in early balloting after courtesy backing of Williams is ended.

Pre-convention maneuvering, certain to hit a fast pace in a few weeks, could change this outlook, naturally.

A series of events that began almost with Stevenson's announcement of candidacy last November has tended here-to-fore to make his backers in the state pull back into their shells.

STICK HEADS OUT

But now some of them are sticking their heads out a little, and more probably will. And remember that to begin with, the Stevenson people in the state generally are less outspoken, for example, than admirers of Sen. Estes Kefauver.

The first and more important thing that put a damper on Stevenson influences was Gov. Williams' blast against "moderation" at Denver a little more than a week after Stevenson's announcement.

The lesser political lights don't like to be out of step with the boss.

And then Stevenson's stunning reverse by Kefauver in Minnesota last March took some of the starch out of his adherents here.

As the time of decision nears, Stevenson's star is ascending once more, notably as a result of his big victory over Kefauver in California. And what Williams said in Denver is beginning to appear in a new light to some.

PRODDING STRATEGY

There are those who think that Williams' Denver strategy was not so much to swat Stevenson down as to prod him in the direction of Williams' own political pholisophy.

In the last annalysis, what happens in the Michigan delegation at the Chicago convention depends a good deal on the candidate positions finally taken by Williams and the UAW-CIO leadership.

Thus far, Williams has been enigmatic as to the course he might take. Playing it cagey, he has talked of politics, not of candidates.

United Auto Workers leaders, for Stevenson in 1952, are uncommitted at this point but friendly feelings toward Stevenson persist with some or most of them.

Puritan Fathers Who Founded Boston Unconsciously Named It After Saint

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Hardly anyone would suspect that the Puritan fathers who founded the city of Boston, Massachusetts, named it after a saint. Probably they didn't even know it themselves, for they were thinking of the town of Boston in Lincolnshire, England. But that ancient town was named for St. Botolph. Boston is actually Botolph's Town.

Back in the seventh century there were two British brothers, Adolph and Botolph, who became so interested in what little they had heard of Christianity that they went to Gaul (France) to find out more about it. The instructions they received in Gaul changed them from interested inquirers into dedicated workers.

Adolph became a bishop and a great teacher of the faith. Botolph went back to England and asked the king for land on which to build a monastery. The king granted the request and Botolph built his monastery at the spot where the town of Boston still stands.

ENGLAND'S FIRST MARTYR

St. Alban's life as a Christian was a short one, but he was the first, and perhaps the best known, of all English saints and martyrs, and his name is still honored by devout Englishmen. Alban was living quietly as a happy pagan in the town of Verula in 304, when a Christian priest, hotly pursued by Roman persecutors, begged for refuge in his house. Alban took him in, and it was not long before the priest had converted him and baptized him.

This must have happened in a matter of only a few days, or even hours, for the Romans had not yet given up the chase. Alban changed clothes with his guest and went out and gave himself up as the priest. Naturally, the deception was discovered, whereupon the new Christian confessed his faith and was himself sentenced to death.

What happened to the priest is long forgotten, but several legends are told about Alban's last hours. In the first place, they had to take him across a river to reach the place where he was to be beheaded. But the bridge was too small for the large crowd that had gathered to watch the execution.

Not wishing to see the populace denied their fun, Alban said a prayer and caused the waters to divide, so that all went across dryshod. At the place of execution the martyr asked for a drink of water, and a spring gushed forth from the ground in front of him.

The story tells too that the soldier who was appointed to kill Alban refused to carry out the order, and was beheaded along with the saint.

A shrine was erected almost immediately, and many miraculous cures were attributed to it. The fame of the shrine soon over-shadowed any reputation the town may have had, and Verulam became known as St. Alban's, which is its name to this day.

There was nothing in the life of St. Alban that would have made him so prominent for 16 centuries. His real importance is in the fact that he was England's first martyr.

LILIES OF NOLA

Friday, June 22, two days before his feast day — the people of the Italian town of Nola will begin to honor their patron Saint Paulinus. Many towns have patron saints and many towns pay elaborate homage to their patrons, but only Paulinus has anything like "The Lilies of Nola."

Many years ago this ceremony was, although lovely and colorful, quite a simple one. The people carried lilies in processions through the streets. That was all there was to it. But somewhere along the way, somebody began to make changes and embellishments — until today the "lilies" are great structures 80 or 90 feet high, weighing as much as three tons. Still called lilies, they are much like parade floats, some even providing a deck to accommodate a band of trumpeters.

St. Paulinus himself is almost lost in all these goings-on. And the chances are he would not mind. He was a quiet, poetic sort of person back in the fourth century, attractive, genteel, and greatly beloved, but not much given to display. Hardly any facts are known about him. It is not unlikely that he would have been forgotten if Nola had not developed the lavish celebration in his honor.

Chronic Bronchial Condition Remedied by Daily Rations of Calcium, Vitamin D

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

I have supplemented my diet with daily rations of (calcium and vitamin D) and iodin for several years. It has overcome a chronic bronchial condition. Today I enjoy excellent health . . .(G. H.)

Answer — Calcium deficiency is a common cause of bronchial asthma. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet on ASTHMA.

Did you ever read about "Old King Brady"? He was a great guy in the '90's. He always got his man . . .(E. W. H.)

Answer—Yah but his exploits seemed tame in comparison with the deeds of Nick Carter.

One doctor here said my husband has diabetes and should have insulin treatment. Another says he is just a borderline case, and by restricting his consumption of refined carbohydrates he can keep sugar free . . .Mrs. K. C. B.)

Answer — Insulin is not treatment. It is just a crutch for the diabetic. The second doctor's view seems wiser. Send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for the Little Lesson 23, TRAINING FOR DIABETES.

TRAINING FOR DIABETES.

Son, 17, embarrassed when all of a sudden his lip swells to three times its size when he is out . . . (C. M.)

Answer — Hives. Perhaps a side-effect of some medicament he takes or uses or handles, or perhaps he is allergic to orris root or other toilet or cosmetic chemical. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet RELIEF FOR ALLERGY.

Electric blankets are lightweight cover and comfortable in cold weather, but do they stimulate circulation or do they cause excessive drying of the skin? (Mrs. W. M.)

Answer — If you find the use of an electric blanket gives comfort, use it. Comfort and health are compatible.

Back covered with many warts. Had some removed with dry ice but at 2 for $5 it was too costly . . . (R. E. R.)

Answer — Paint warts and skin between with iodine once every second or third day for a few weeks, if skin doesn't become too irritated.

Now that you realize your attempt to make people use some fancy term for cold has failed you apparently think you can make people call arthritis some other name . . . (G. M. S.)

Answer — Not necessarily, but I hope a few of them will learn that arthritis is joint inflammation and rheumatiz is degeneration of joint tissues. I hope many victims of joint disability will become curious enough to send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet CALCIUM & RHEUMATIZ.

Our summer vacation, on Lake . . . will probably bring us in contact with poison ivy . . . . (F. S. H.)

Answer — Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet on IVY POISONING.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist

There Is Nothing Dated About Bible; Read It to Find Good, Modern Advice

Judy asks if Jesus was a popular teenager? The Bible says he was and also shows that Christ believed in polls of public opinion. Jesus likewise employed modern advertising strategy. He started the first church picnic and pioneered the first Easter sunrise breakfast. So read your Bible more appreciatively. It's really up-to-date.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-384: Judy, age 21, is our only daughter, sandwiched midway between her four brothers. She teaches a Sunday school class of girls:

"Daddy, you stress the importance of popularity," she began, "and I have heard you say that an unpopular clieregyman, as well as a disliked school teacher, cannot accomplish much good.

"Well, I believe you are correct, for people will not take advice from anybody they hate.

* * *

"But do you think Jesus was a popular person? Apart from the fact that the crowds wanted free meals from Christ and free medicine, did they like Him as an individual?

"When he was a teen-ager, do you think He was popular? Does the Bible give us any specific proof that people liked Him even before He healed or fed them?"

THE BIBLE LIVES

Yes, the Bible gives us specific evidence that Jesus was a popular youth even as he entered the teens.

Many folks nowadays think the Bible pertains solely to events of the long ago. But it is alive and dynamic in every age.

Much of the applied psychology which I offer you in this daily newspaper column and in my college textbook, I have derived from the Bible.

For instance, Gideon started the use of intelligence testing for army purposes. He screened out the unfit troops by the alertness they showed while undergoing the famous "drinking test" (Judges 7:5).

Gideon, too, demonstrated use of the "Compliment Club" technique for pacifying the angry Ephraimites, who might otherwise have tried to kill him, as you will find in Judges 8:1-3.

* * *

"And their anger was abated toward him, when he had said that (compliment)," the Bible adds.

BIBLE PSYCHOLOGY

When Jesus was 12 years old, his parents missed him from the caravan and returned to find him in the Temple, quizzing the professors and priests.

So, in his 13th year he returned with his parents and we find that Luke 2:52, says:

"And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man."

Well, when one gains in favor with man, it means he is a popular person, so we know by this scriptural verse that Jesus was a popular teen-ager even before he fed the 5,000 or healed the 10 lepers nearly 20 years later.

Jesus also believed in taking polls of public opinion, like our modern Gallop polls and Hooper or Nielsen surveys (Matthew 16:13).

Indeed, he may have been feigning sleep just to take a sounding of the degree of faith of his followers during the storm at sea (Mark 4:37-39).

Christ also was a firm believer in advertising (Luke 10:1). He was fond of dinner parties and relished spending the week-end at the home of Mary, Marthta and Lazarus.

Jesus started the first Sunday school picnic when he fed the 5,000 men with the lad's loaves and fishes.

And he started the Easter, sunrise breakfast by inviting the fishermen from their boat at dawn to partake of the breakfast which he had ready on the fire.

Moses, too, was a typical victim of stage fright and stuttered. King Saul was also so shy when he was to be crowned that he ran and hid in the luggage.

The Bible is as up-to-date as tomorrow's sunrise so read it. At least, peruse the Four Gospels, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, for they are responsible for most of our colleges and hospitals, churches, Red Cross and other modern humanitarian organizations.

Send for my booklet "How to Pep Up Sunday School Attendance," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus, 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Urges Americans Pray to Keep Their Freedom

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Have you ever heard of the United States of Soviet Russia? No, but how about a few years from now, say 1960?

I think we are taking our country for granted. Maybe we could go a little further and say we're taking the Lord for granted. I think God has stood for just about as much as He can. On Saturday we're out drinking, and Sunday we're too hung over or tired to go to church. How many families pray together or go to church together? How many people go to church? Period.

How many will be able to go to church when communism takes over? Don't laugh, because it's more possible than we think. Take a look at the statistics. Americans have the loosest and lowest morals of any country on the earth. Let's face it. We're going to Hell in a jet plane, using Hell to mean communism.

America, get down on your knees. The Reds won't be very gentle about how they take over. A co-worker of the Devil can think of things a normal person couldn't if he lived to be a thousand years old. Let's go!

A Free American

Faulty Management Cited by Tiger Fan

I read the letter from "Old Tiger Fan" and agree with him completely. I am thinking of the game June 7 with Boston. It was about the middle of the game and the Tigers were at bat.

Two were out and the bases were loaded. The pitcher (who was not pitching well that day, having allowed many opposing players on base regularly in the preceding innings) was up.

Now instead of sending in a pinch hitter like most other managers would do, he let the pitcher bat for himself. The pitcher either struck out or flied out. Anyway, he did not reach first and the inning was over. The Tigers lost the game and deservedly so after that incident.

I certainly hope the Tigers get a new manager soon and then maybe they'll have a chance to end up in the first division.

Another Tiger Fan

What's all this holler about the Tigers' manager? Those Tigers couldn't win if they had eight different managers in the American League put together.

They just don't have it. If they would get on the ball and improve the ball players instead of firing the managers all the time, maybe we'll have a flag.

Annoyed by Dogs That Run Loose

Do you think it is proper for those people who say they love their dogs to let them run all over other people's property and destroy their yards, flowers and garden? Well, I don't.

I love animals, but when I had them, I kept them tied up. And no one else around did, so I had to get rid of our male puppies to try and keep other dogs at home.

People seem to think it is so smart for their dogs to run all over someone else's place.

Now 175 Years Old

Kentucky Church Once Menaced by Indian Raids

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky. (AP) — A church that was established when the Indians still roamed most of Kentucky will celebrate its 175th anniversary next week.

* * *

The Severns Valley Baptist Church was organized in June 18, 1781, in a wilderness that posed a constant threat of Indian attacks on the white settlers.

Eighteen persons were listed on the first membership roll, and for 20 years the settlers were too busy keeping their scalps to put up a building.

The first pastor, John Garrard, lost his life in an Indian raid. Services continued, however, and the church says its functions have been continuous over the 175-year period.

The church now has a membership of 2,000 and recently moved into a half-million dollar building near the old site.

A special commemoration service will be said every night next week.

St. Mary's Has Confirmation

30 Area Episcopalians to Receive Sacrament Tomorrow at 5 P.M.

The Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the Michigan Episcopal Diocese, will confirm a class of candidates tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock at St. Mary's-in-the-Hills, located at 2512 Joslyn Rd.

The church building is the former Nina Scripps School near the former Scripps Estate. The service will be held on the church lawn if weather permits.

St. Mary's started as a mission by All Saints Episcopal Church of Pontiac under the direction of the Rev. Ivol I. Curtis, a former pastor of All Saints.

It became a full-fledged parish last February under the leadership of its rector, the Rev. William Conrad Hamm, who formerly served at Christ Church Cranbrook and St. Joseph's Episcopal Church of Detroit.

The present confirmation class of around 30 brings the total number confirmed at St. Mary's to 150.

Leads Northern Presbyterians

Illini Minister Picked as President for 1956; Merger on Agenda

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A man whose son and son-in-law both are ministers has been selected to head the United Presbyterian Church in North America for the next year.

* * *

Dr. Robert Wesson Gibson, 59, president of Monmouth, Ill., college, has been elected moderator of the church's general assembly. He succeeds Dr. George A. Long, president emeritus of Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary.

Dr. Gibson's son, the Rev. Robert W. Gibson Jr., and his son-in-law, the Rev. John L. McCreight, both are United Presbyterian ministers.

About 300 persons are attending the general assembly, which today takes up a proposal that the denomination unite with the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. (Northern). At Philadelphia recently, the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. approved the merger contingent on vote by its presbyteries.

Only City Flower

BALTIMORE (AP) — According to the Allied Florists Assn., Baltimore is the only city in the nation to have an official flower—just as many states do. The red rose was picked after the City Council authorized the Women's Civic League and the Allied Florists Assn. to stage a public vote at the city's 1955 Flower Mart.

Study Sessions to Feature Crafts, Games, Lectures

The Five Points Community Church opened their vacation Bible School with a parade at 10 o'clock this morning followed by reigstration for classes at the church.

Richard Axford, Nelson and Randall Kage headed the parade riding horses decorated for the occasion. Cars, trucks, boys' and girls' bicycles were bedecked in gay colors and clowns carried banners telling of the school.

Classes will begin Monday at 9 a.m. and close at noon through June 29. On the final day, a program will be given for parents and friends at 7:30 p.m.

* * *

A ten day Bible School will be held at the Donelson Baptist Church starting Monday and closing June 29. Classes will begin each day at 9 a.m. and let out at 11:30 a.m.

Bible courses will be taught all ages from nursery through intermediates.

Assisting the Rev. LaLone will be Mrs. Wilson Ballard, Sharon Walton, Mrs. Carl Hestor, Mrs. Arthur Ewald and Elizabeth Oliver.

* * *

In charge of the Bible School at Central Christian Church will be the pastor, the Rev. Charles D. Race. All classes will begin Monday at 9 a.m.

"Our Living Bible" will be the study series used this year. Boys and girls may enroll from nursery school age through the teens. The school will close June 29 at 7:30 p.m. with a demonstration by the students.

* * *

"Adventuring with Christ in the King's Adventureland" is the theme for the Bible School from June 18-28 at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The day will begin at 9 a.m. with trumpet call followed by a worship period. At 9:30 Bible stories will be told with visual aids. Class periods will also consist of memory work and handcrafts.

The younger children will have a rhythm band. On June 27 at 7:30 p.m., open house will be held for parents and friends following the worship service. The Bible School is open to any child from three years old to age 15. Mrs. Maurice Rife will be in charge.

* * *

The St. Paul Lutheran Church will have a Vacation Bible School from June 18 to 29. All children of the Sunday School and neighborhood from three years of age through eighth grade are welcome. The school will be from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

The materal to be used consists of films, Bible stores, games and coloring for the younger children.

The school will close with a picnic for children and parents. The Rev. George Mahder will be in charge.

* * *

Mrs. George Fisler will direct the young people attending Vacation Bible School at Central Methodist Church. The school will be in session from 9 to 12 every morning for two weeks starting Monday.

The theme of the study will be "The Bible—Our Heritage." There will be classes for study, games and other activities.

* * *

At the Church of God on S. East Boulevard, Mrs. Cleo Black will be in charge of the various departments of the summer Bible study, which will begin Monday at 10 a.m.

Classes, which will be held through the 29th, are planned to include kindergarten children and up through the intermediates. Bible study and craft work will be emphasized with "Friends of Jesus" as the theme.

* * *

"The King's Adventureland" will be the subject of study at the First Methodist Church for a two week period beginning Monday.

Bible studies will be arranged for all ages under the direction of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul R. Haven.

* * *

The Rev. and Mrs. Pat Clifford of Plymouth will conduct the Vacation Bible School at Silvercrest Baptist Church. Starting Monday it will continue through Friday.

A program will be presented Friday evening at 7:30 for parents and friends of the children.

* * *

"The Life of Paul" will be the subject of study at the Vacation Bible School which will be held June 18-29 at the Emmanuel Baptist Church. Classes will begin each morning at 9 and close at 12 noon.

Beginning with the nursery, classes are being planned for all ages, including adults. An enrollment of 800 persons is expected.

* * *

"Champions for Christ" is the theme for the Daily Vacation Bible School at the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church June 18-29. The hours will be 9-11:30 a.m. every day but Saturday.

Worship services, Bible and missionary stories, recreation, activity books, handiwork and crafts will be included in the period.

The school will accommodate those of pre-school age of three years through high school. All children and young people of the church and community are invited to register now.

Gloria Luck, youth director of the church, will superintend the school with 28 assistants. The closing demonstration will be held July 1 at 7 p.m. The public is invited.

* * *

All Saints Episcopal Church will conduct a Daily Vacation Bible School from June 18-26. Further registrations will be taken at 8:40 Monday morning. Classes will begin each day at 9 a.m. and close at 11:30 a.m. The school will be supervised by the Rev. Lewis W. Towler.

* * *

Evening Bible School will be held at the Christian Missionary & Alliance Church from 7-9 p.m. starting Monday. Classes arranged for every member of the family, will continue for two weeks.

Under the direction of John Hazlett, assistant pastor, subjects to be studied will be "Where and How We God Our Bible," "Home and Family Problems," "The Lord Is My Shepherd," "Christians Birth and Growth," "Answering God's Call" and "God's Big World—Learning About Jesus."

Ethelyn Ashley will assist the Rev. G. J. Bersche with the classes.

* * *

The Annual Daily Vacation Church School of First Presbyterian Church will begin Monday June 18 at 9:30 a.m. and continue through June 29. The school will be in session from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon daily, Monday through Friday of each week.

Sessions in three departments are open to all children ages 4 years through the 6th grade.

All will study the Bible as the way of life through the mediums of art, music, puppets, drama, handwork and Scripture memorization. A daily offering is to be received for Missions.

The staff of ten teachers and assistants will be under the direction of the Rev. Galen E. Hershey.

Mrs. Mary W. Stewart Scheduled as Speaker

The Pastor's Aid Board of Newman A.M.E. Church will present Mrs. Mary Watson Stewart as guest speaker for the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning.

Mrs. Stewart, an evangelist, is a graduate of Wilberforce University and has traveled extensively.

The music will be by the Junior Choir. Mrs. Edward Harper is president of the sponsoring group and the Rev. J. Allen Parker is pastor of the church.

List Alcoholism 'No. 2 Problem'

Marlette Pastor Urges Support of Measures to Cut Health Menace

ADRIAN — "Alcoholism has become the nation's No. 2 health problem, casewise," a Methodist Church official said here today.

* * *

Rev. J. Paul Pumphrey of Marlette, chairman of the Methodist Board of Temperance, said "Alcoholism is now three times as prevalent as tuberculosis, five and one-half times as prevalent as cancer, and one hundred times as prevalent as polio."

Of the 38,300 persons killed last year in traffic accidents, Pumphrey said, a report of the National Safety Council showed that one-fourth of them had been drinking.

"Alcohol is a major factor in crime and juvenile delinquency, and a factor in 75 per cent of divorce cases," he stated.

ECONOMIC PROBLEM

Alcohol also poses a serious economic problem, Rev. Pumphrey said: "Last year the American public consumed more than $8,830,000 worth of alcholic beverages, compared to $4,000,000 given to churches."

He said the sum spent on alcohol would support the Methodist missionary program for 112 years. "Add the related costs of crime, hospitalization, law enforcement and industrial loss, and we would have enough money to support our missions for 500 years."

He urged churchwide support of the board's efforts in behalf of "drunkometer" tests, alcohol advertising bans, bills to outlaw the serving of liquor on airplanes, and state-sponsored rehabilitation clinics for alcoholics.

JAMES C. BRAID

Pontiac Graduate Received on Trial

James C. Braid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll C. Braid, of 2110 Rosewood Dr., will be ordained a deacon in the Detroit Annual Conference of the Methodist Church. He was received on trial at Adrian this week.

A graduate of Pontiac High School, James received an A.B. degree from Albion College in 1955.

He has just completed one year toward his degree, Bachelor of Sacred Theology at Boston School of Theology, in Boston, Mass.

He is a member of Central Methodist Church and has been especially active in the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Salvation Army to Show Newest Graham Film

"Battleground Europe," the newest in the Billy Graham documentary films, will be shown Friday night at 7:30 in the Salvation Army Hall, 29 W. Lawrence St.

The production was filmed entirely in Europe and includes scenes in the famous Hitler Stadium in Nurenberg where the "cross" replaces the "swastika."

Billy Graham will be seen and heard conducting meetings in Norway, Holland, Germany, France and England with an interpreter assisting in the five different languages.

The great crowds in Hampden Park in Glasgow and Wembley Stadium in London will also be shown. It was at Wembley that the average attendance each night for a week was 65,000 persons with rain every night except one.

Captain Magnus A. Michalsen welcomes the public.

Baptists to Build New Addition

Congregation to Have Special Service at 11 Sunday Morning

A brief "Building Ceremony" will be held in connection with the 11 o'clock morning worship in Marimont Baptist Church Sunday.

The congregation will inaugurate the construction of a new church auditorium, basement unit, pastor's study and several offices.

The cost of the new addition will be approximately $60,000. Construction is expected to begin next week and the edifice to be completed by January 1957.

* * *

The following will take part in the ceremony: George Cork, chairman of the building committee, who will read the Scripture; Charles Plumb, chairman of the deacon board, who will offer the dedicatory prayer and Don Wiser who will direct congregational singing.

A Ladies' Trio, composed of Mrs. Jack Ryder, Mrs. Ronald Smith and Mrs. Wanda Smades, will be heard in special numbers.

The Rev. David Mortensen, pastor will preach on the theme, "Why Build?"

Confident Living

We Must Conquer Ourself to Make Something of Self

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I had made a speech one night in a Midwestern city and was in my hotel room ready to go to bed when the phone rang. It seemed some people were having a prayer meeting and they wanted me to come.

* * *

I looked at my watch and saw it was one o'clock. What kind of prayer meeting was this, I wondered? In any case, I had an early morning plane to catch and needed my rest, so started to decline. But then the voice on the phone said they had been praying that I would join them. Well, I preach that your prayers are always answered — so I had to go.

DR. PEALE

When I got there and felt the spirit of the group, I was glad I'd come. The room was packed. People were sitting on the floor, on tables; there were even two men perched on the grand piano. They were the gayest, happiest crowd I'd ever seen.

"What in the world is the matter with you people, that you are all so happy?" I asked in amazement.

"Why," someone replied, "we have found God."

BUT MOSTLY GOD

A girl with braces on her legs walked across the room. "See these braces?" she said. "They'll be off soon. But they told me I'd never walk again. My doctor and God did it," she said, "but mostly God."

Then a lovable kind of fellow said: "I was an alcoholic, the worst drunk in town. I was a disgrace to myself and my family. I lost my business, my wife and children, the respect of everyone."

Another man called across the room, "But, brother, has he got them all back again!"

* * *

"How did you do it?" I asked.

"God," he said simply.

A young couple in their early thirties told me how they had got so they hated each other, snarled and fought. "Our home was a hell and we were headed for the divorce court when, one night, we met Him." They smiled at each other in obvious devotion.

* * *

"Who did you meet?" I asked.

"God," they said.

Then spontaneously everyone burst into the strain of a great hymn in His praise and I saw that His power had brought not only joy to these people — each of them with differing problems — but also the ability to rise above failure.

This column is written to encourage you to believe you can also meet and reverse your failures. For how can a child of God not want to be victorious? I believe that we were put here on earth to conquer ourselves and our environment and to make something of ourselves and our world. In this respect, I don't recommend compromise or capitulation.

In our religious faith there is the express promise of the conquest of failure . . . "Seek ye first the kingdom of God," says the Bible, ". . . and all these things shall be added unto you." It says "added," you will note, not subtracted. It is the gospel of the plus, not the minus.

* * *

So live and practice your own faith and you, too, will find the joyful ability to rise above failure.

Soviet Prelates on Way Home

Metropolitan Nikolai Impresses Guests With Oratorical Talent

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight Soviet religious leaders left the United States this week after a 12-day visit which, it seems certain, has given them insight into American life they previously lacked.

* * *

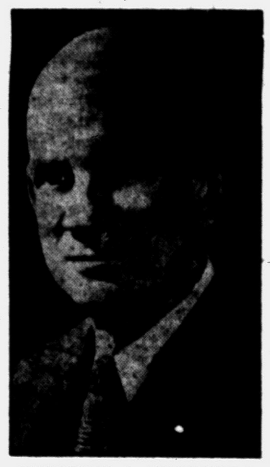

The Soviet clergymen came as guests of the National Council of Churches in return for a visit by American clergymen to Russia last March.

They were guests at a dinner at Riverside Church attended by nearly 400 people, including prominent American Protestant leaders. The dinner took on the aspect of a feast of friendship between American and Soviet churches.

Metropolitan Nikolai of the Russian Orthodox Church impressed the American audience with his oratorical talent. He compared the different Christian churches of the world to different trees which—though their foliage, in other words their doctrines, liturgy and outward aspects, differ—have roots in the same gospel of Christ and are all stretched up towards the same heaven.

* * *

Bishop Sahak of the Armenian Church, who is 77 years old, kept his listeners laughing for the 10 minutes of his report on his visit. Russian Baptist representative Alexei Andreyev impressed with directness and sincerity.

New Egypt Law Baffles Schools

Educators Face Ruling to Teach Their Students Respective Religions

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO (AP)—Many foreign mission schools in Egypt may close because a new Egyptian law requires all private schools to give religious instruction in a pupil's own faith.

* * *

Sayed Youssef, undersecretary of the Ministry of Education, says this means Christian students must be taught Christianity, Moslem students Islam, and Jewish students Judaism. This instruction must be offered at the school's expense, on its own premises.

'DO IT—OR ELSE'

Schools have until Dec 4 this year to comply with the law. After that, Sayed Youssef says, those who do not comply "will be closed or confiscated."

Approximately 100,000 are enrolled in foreign Christian mission schools in Egypt. Many of these schools say their church boards at home won't finance the teaching of Islam.

* * *

Greatest objection to the new law comes from foreign mission schools.

The situation is different at the American College for Girls with more than 1,000 girls ranging from kindergarten through junior college. More than 60 per cent are Moslems. The school is operated as a mission by the United Presbyterian Church in America. If the law is applied to that school, it would mean American Presbyterians would be financing more Moslem than Christian instruction.

CATHOLIC PROBLEM

The same problem faces the numerous Catholic schools in Egypt, particularly the Jesuit and Freres Colleges.

An official of the Freres Colleges declared his organization "wouldn't have expanded to such an extent if we had known such laws would be passed."

* * *

Egyptian officials insist, there must be no discrimination on the basis of religion in accepting students. If foreign schools wish to operate in Egypt, they must be open to all regardless of faith.

'Help Father John' Drive on in Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — Recorder's Judge O. Z. Ide has been named chairman of the legal committee in the "Help Father John" church rebuilding campaign.

* * *

Father John is the Rev. Father John Magoulias, pastor of the St. George Greek Orthodox Church of Lincoln Park, which was destroyed by a tornado last month.

Goal of the campaign is to sell 100,000 "brick" certificates at one dollar each to help rebuild the church.

* * *

Ben Levinson, co-chairman of the drive, announced the appointment this week. He also said contributions may be sent to "Help Father John" Sheraton Cadillac Hotel, Detroit, 26.

* * *

Rev. Adalbert S. Radawski, Wayland, was elevated to Very Reverend Monsignor.

Choir Will Honor Fathers Sunday at 7

The St. John Methodist Choir under the direction of Raphael Hooks, will present a special Father's Day program at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening.

In addition to the musical numbers by the choir, Andrew McCaskill, Willie B. Edwards and Paul Baylor will speak on "Fathers of the Bible." A panel discussion will follow on "Our Fathers' Faith."

After the program a social hour will be held in the church basement. The Rev. Donald E. Morris, pastor, extends a welcome to the public.

Father's Day Program Planned at New Hope

The Male Chorus of New Hope Baptist Church will sing at both the morning and evening services Sunday.

At 11 a.m. the Rev. Ford B. Reed, pastor, will preach the Father's Day sermon, "Our Fathers." During the service, the father with the largest family present in church with him will be honored.

At 7:30 p.m. a Father's Day program will be presented by men of the congregation. Speaking will be local ministers, Reverends Hozie Daniel and George Muskyvally. Refreshments will be served following the service.

'Lutheran Night' Planned Aug. 10

10,000 to Pay Tribute to Tiger Baseball Team at Briggs Stadium

Members of St. Trinity Lutheran Church with their pastor, the Rev. Ralph C. Claus, will take part in a special "Lutheran Night" to be held at Briggs Stadium, Friday, Aug. 10.

* * *

Aim of the effort is "to give sports-minded Lutherans in Michigan an opportunity to demonstrate their appreciation to the Detroit Tiger baseball team for the many hours of fine entertainment they provide through the summer."

* * *

In pre-game ceremonies, special honors will be paid to the fellow Lutherans on the Tiger team: Harvey Kuenn, Billy Hoeft, "Duke" Maas, "Red" Wilson, Al Aber, Jack Phillips, Jim Brideweser and Mel Ott, radio broadcaster.

* * *

Lutherans have engaged 10,000 seats for the game between the Tigers and the Chicago White Sox. Mrs. Ervin Miller is in charge of reservations up to and including July 10.

Millers Take Honeymoon at Niagara

CLARKSTON—Following a Niagara Falls trip, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Joseph Miller will reside on Knob Hill Road, Commerce.

They spoke wedding vows recently at Clarkston Methodist Church in an evening ceremony.

The bride was Mary Susan Dean, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wade A. Dean, 6618 Rosalawn, Clarkston. The bridegroom's father is Irving S. Miller of Walled Lake.

White roses were carried by the bride, who wore a gown of white lace over taffeta and a fingertip veil caught to a lace headpiece.

Her maid of honor was Mrs. Martin Johnson, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Ralph Pounds of Williams Lake, Joyce McMullen of Pontiac and Ruth Ann Althouse of Clarkston.

The bridegroom's aides were Joseph Miller of Walled Lake, Dave Couture of West Acres, Leon Hubbard of Commerce, Charles Kelly of Walled Lake, and Ralph Pounds.

After the ceremony, guests were received in the church rooms and at the VFW hall in Drayton Plains.

Mary Lou Clark Exchange Vows With Oxford Man

The marriage of Mary Lou Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark of Metamora, and Raymond Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Nicholson of Oxford, was solemnized at a recent evening ceremony at the home of the groom's parents.

Their parents and the paternal grandparents of the groom, who reside in Pontiac, were present.

Mary Lou chose for her wedding a beige suit with matching accessories. Her attendant was her sister Betty Jean Clark. Both had corsages of red rosebuds.

Best man was Harold Prince of Flint. The young couple will make their home in an apartment in Oxford. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Hunters Creek Community Hall.

Prayer for This Week

Editor's Note—A prayer will be published on the church page each week by a Pontiac pastor in the hope that it will be a help to someone. The Rev. Lenworth R. Miner, minister of the Macedonia Baptist Church offers the following:

Our Father who art in heaven, the inspirer of prayer and its answer, we thank Thee who art ever present for Thy goodness to us, for the blessings which we fail at times to see which have been ours each day.

Forgive our sinful thoughts and actions and unite our hearts in mystical communion of fellowship. Cast out our pride and clothe us in humility.

This week, as in past weeks, we must make choices and decisions; temptations are on every hand; there are questions of right and wrong that must be answered and there are opportunities of service where we need a guide for success. Be Thou ever near us.

We know our need of strength. We know that of ourselves we are weak. Grant us power to lean on Your everlasting arms in times of sorrow and despair as well as in hope and joy. Enable us to leave things beyond our control and understanding in Thy care and keeping. Help us, O God, to bear the strain of earthly care, knowing that in Thee is our strength.

In daily living and in testing times, Thou art our refuge and strength and a very present help in trouble. Grant us Thy peace, we pray. Amen.

Clair Taylor Studies Joint School Area

METAMORA — State Supt. of Public Instruction Clair Taylor is considering whether the Dryden-Metamora area should vote on forming a high school district.

Petitions were filed recently for such a district. If Taylor gives permission, petitions can then be circulated before an election is held, for signatures of a majority of voters.

Dryden High School District would vote as one unity, but the other districts, since they have no high school, would unite to vote as one unit.

Orion to Plan Summer Needs

LAKE ORION—Officers of the Lake Property Owners Assn. have called a public meeting for Monday at 8 p.m. in the Village Hall to discuss what needs to be done for Lake Orion this summer. They deem it desireable that all parts of the lake send representatives.

A volunteer committee is soliciting funds for another application of weed-killing chemical spray to cost about 25 cents per lakeshore foot if sufficient number cooperate. Fund soliciting is being conducted only in the north shore area.

Lake Orion Methodists Sponsor Rummage Sale

LAKE ORION — The WSCS will sponsor their 23rd Annual Rummage Sale at the Methodist Church House today and tomorrow. Mrs. Frank Elbertz is chairman with Mrs. Lyle Speas as her assistant.

On Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m. a bake sale will also be held.

Brownies on Tour

WATERFORD — Brownie Troop 116 of Waterford Center ended years activities with tours of Michigan Bell, Detroit Creamery and Grand Trunk R. R. this week. Mrs. Olaf Rose is troop leader.

MR. AND MRS. R. BANCROFT

Pair to Live in Kingsley After Ortonville Wedding

ORTONVILLE — Barbara Jean Crane and Russell Jay Bancroft repeated their marriage vows in the Methodist Church here in a recent afternoon ceremony. Seventy-five guests were present for the wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crane of Sands Road and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bancroft of Kingsley.

Barbara, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle, featuring strapless bodice with matching lace jacket and Mandarin collar. The skirt was bouffant, with tiers of ruffles and a side drape of Chantilly lace.

Her fingertip veil was held in place with a cap of seed pearls and sequins and her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. The bridal bouquet was of yellow roses and white carnations.

Carol Jean Nickerson of Kingsley was maid of honor and Larry Nickerson acted as best man.

* * *

An evening reception was held for 200 guests at Groveland Grange Hall.

Following a Northern Michigan honeymoon, the couple will make their home in Kingsley.

Fricke, Simmons Seek 2 School Board Posts

NORTH BRANCH — Petitions have been filed for John E. Simmons and Wilmer Fricke to be named on the ballot at the annual school board election, to be held on Monday, July 9.

The polls at the high school will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

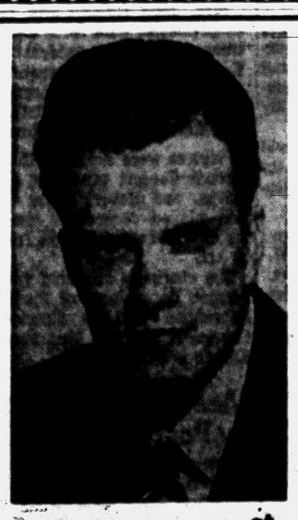

Simmons is a candidate to succeed himself for another three-year term. Fricke's candidacy is to fill the place left vacant by Stewart Butterfield, present secretary of the board, who withdrew his name for renomination.

Why Does Dad Look Bothered and Bewildered?

Those 'Thoughtful' Gifts Produce Strange Effect

Yet Newcomer to Fatherhood Dreams of Future 'Pleasures' and Surprises

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ, JR.

(This story was written by a junior-grade father of three months' vintage who is still paying for the cigars. – Ed)

Purr, wee, sleekit, tim'rous beastie,
Oh, what a panic's in thy breastie!
—Burns, "To a Field Mouse."

Like the mouse so vividly described by the Scottish poet, I feel a certain panic in my breastie at the thought of Father's Day.

I remember all too well the greenish pallor that spread over my own father's distinguished face at the sight of the gorgeous sequined necktie I gave him, that June day when I was 5 years old.

"It's . . . nice," Dad gurgled.

He wore it once, too. Then, accidentally, he spilled gravy on it.

I think it was easier for Dad when I started giving him cigars. He doesn't smoke cigars, particularly the kind that used to come at a dollar a box. But I remember once I went down to his office with him.

"Daddy," I said, pointing to the janitor, "that man smokes the same kind of cigars you smoke."

For some reason, dear old Dad got something caught in his throat just then, and didn't hear me. He nearly strangled, not hearing me.

Of course, his problems were almost over when I started giving him baseballs, hockey pucks, slingshots, and large economy-size packages of BBs. He'd thank me very nicely indeed and leave the gift lying on the hall table.

• • •

After a decent interval — say, 15 minutes — I'd take possession again. I think it was a very satisfactory arrangement for both of us.

THAT ODD LOOK

I never used to understand the expression that grew on my father's face in the second and third weeks of June. It was funny, sort of nervous and jumpy and thoughtful.

• • •

Now looking at the unpredictable gurgling bundle of wet diapers that has invaded my house, I think I begin to get the picture.

Looking ahead, I picture a grimy urchin whose knees are always skinned, shyly handing me my Father's Day present. I make blissful sounds as I peel off six layers of smudged gift wrapping, but there is panic in my soul.

What will it be?

• • •

A purple necktie with yellow sequins?

A slingshot?

El Stinko cigars?

A dead frog?

• • •

Ah, well, to tell the truth, I'm sort of looking forward to finding out.

William J. Dean of Ottawa drive and William Jr. of Forest drive posed for our photographer. We think they look alike. They are past the sequined tie and petrified frog stage (we think) as far as Father's Day gifts go.

Presenting a Father's Day gift to dad, George Wyman of Ottawa drive, is young Steve Wyman. They were selected for our Father's Day layout because rumor had it they looked alike. And the rumor was right.

Charles Uligian of Starr avenue (right) and his son Greg enjoy many happy hours together. They were caught by the photographer as they prepared their fishing equipment for one of their favorite pastimes. Greg no doubt has many ideas in mind for Father's Day.

Pin Ritual and Banquet Are Held

Members of ESA Sorority Gather at Devon Gables

Mrs. Benjamin Sweeney was chairman of the banquet held by members of Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority Thursday evening at Devon Gables.

• • •

Assisting with arrangements were Mrs. Clem LaBarge, Mrs. Donald Moore, Mrs. Rudy Mazza, Mrs. Carl Rose and Mrs. Edmund Smith.

Mrs. Alex Morris, retiring president, conducted the candlelight jeweled pin ceremony.

Welcomed as new members were Mrs. Fred Mueller, Stephanie Linabury, Mrs. Eugene Burdette, Mrs. James George, Mrs. Earl Smith Jr. Mrs. Edgar Plympton, Mrs. Harry Woodman, Mrs. Harold Stickley, Mrs. Joseph Ullom Jr., Mrs. Clem LaBarge and Mrs. Ralph O. Allen.

Members of Beta Mu Chapter receiving their jeweled pins were Judy Steinhelper, Gloria Rose, Pat Tatham, Joyce Mapley, Karen Newton, Mary Kendall, Norma Vaughn, Virginia Flath and Laurene Anselmy.

Assisting with the ceremony were Dee Brim, first vice president of the state officers; Betty Lou De Groot, second vice president; Mrs. L. L. Schiefler, custodian; Mrs. Frank A. Jalosky Jr., junior past president, and Mrs. Edmund Smith, organizer of Beta Mu Chapter.

Mrs. Morris was presented a jeweled gavel pin at a recent candlelight service.

Sally L. Pulver Reveals Plans for July 7 Rite

Sally Lee Pulver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pulver of Square Lake, has revealed her wedding plans and named the attendants

• • •

Sally will wed Robert Allen Davis of Fort Wayne, Ind., son of Ralph Davis of Fort Wayne, July 7 at an 11 o'clock ceremony at Kirk in the Hills.

She has asked Cheryl Huff of Akron, Ohio, to be maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Helene Van Steuben of Bethlehem, Pa., Mary Drake and Nonette Gunther.

Robert has asked Victor Tannehill of Fort Wayne to serve as best man. Ushers will be Joseph Gardner of Fort Wayne, Mark White of Mansfield, Ohio, Donald Pulver, Allen Satow, Brooks Robertson and James Pierce of Toledo.

Sally is a student at Elmhurst College, Elmhurst, Ill., and Robert is studying at the Theological Seminary, Maywood, Ill.

Suzanne Swartz Speaks Nuptial Vows

To reside on Whittemore street following a wedding trip to Canada are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Moore. The bride is the former Suzanne Christine Swartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Swartz of East Kennett road.

• • •

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley J. Moore of Gingell court.

St. Michael Church was the setting for the 10 o'clock Nuptial Mass celebrated this morning by the Rev. William Immel in the presence of 100 guests.

As the bride approached the altar she was wearing a floor-length gown of off-white antique taffeta fashioned with a basque waistline. The scoop neckline was accented with medallion lace trim.

A plateau-type hat of irridescent sequins and seed pearls secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried of nosegay of white roses and stephonitis.

ATTENDS BRIDE

Mrs. Richard Pfeffer chose a gown of white nylon over pink taffeta for her duties as matron of honor. She wore a pink picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white daisies.

• • •

Joannie Jorgenson and Joanne Moore were the bride's other attendants. Their gowns were fashioned identically to the honor attendant's in green and yellow, respectively. They wore matching picture hats and carried bouquets or roses and daisies.

Bill St. Charles served as best man. Seating the guests were John Seaton and Jack Deering.

When Mrs. Swartz received her guests at the reception held immediately following the ceremony at the Hotel Waldron, she was wearing a blue silk sheath dress with white accessories and a white orchid.

MRS. GERALD A. MOORE

Bureau Reports Continued Need for Volunteers

Several hundred volunteers are still needed to fill the needs of social service agencies and hospitals, members of the Central Volunteer Bureau were told when they met Thursday morning at the YWCA.

• • •

Mrs. William Shunck, recruitment chairman, and Mrs. C. B. Shelton, telephone committee head, reported that many placements had been made but that there is still a need for volunteers.

• • •

A great many requests have been made for the skilled type of volunteer—typists, clerical workers and those with arts and crafts ability.

• • •

All agencies have orientation courses for the volunteers. The bureau is appealing to the parents of older teenage youngsters to have these young people do volunteer work during the summer.

• • •

Mrs. Shunck, Mrs. E. L. Windeler and Mrs. Edward Haskett were appointed as a committee to arrange a priority policy for the bureau. Mrs. Haskett, a new member of the bureau, represents the Junior League.

Furlong Praises Women's Work

Pontiac Hospital Auxiliary Dinner

Dr. Harold A. Furlong, speaking at the annual awards luncheon of the Pontiac Hospital Auxiliary held at the hospital, compared the work of the auxiliary to that of hospital founders 50 years ago.

The hospital's chief of staff traced the history of the hospital, saying it owes is beginning to a small group of women—women who recognized the need for a hospital in Pontiac.

It all came about, Dr. Furlong related, when a stranger, ill on the streets in Pontiac, had to be taken to the jail to be cared for.

Concerned about this, the women called a meeting on May 14, 1901. Attending the meeting were Mrs. E. R. Wilcox, Mrs. Harry Coleman, Mrs. Charles Going, Mrs. Fred Poole, Mrs. Marsha Richardson, Fanny Erickson, Mrs. Guillot, and Mary Cowell.

FIRST PATIENT

Through bake sales, banquets and lecture courses, these women obtained funds and in Nov. 1901, they incorporated and became known as the Oakland County Hospital Association.

In 1908 they began building on the site where the hospital stands today and by May 18, 1910 the hospital opened with its first patient. By Dec. 31, 1910, 165 patients had been admitted—an average of 12 patients a day.

This organization, Dr. Furlong said, remained active for many years, and in 1915 they made an outright gift of the hospital to the city which amounted to $80,000 at that time.

A SCRAPBOOK

The situation is similar today when the hospital is again planning an expansion program.

The Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital, is similar to that group of civic minded women, Dr. Furlong pointed out, and he said that the hospital is a community hospital, for the people of the city.

A scrapbook of news clippings and old photographs is being compiled by Dr. Furlong in order that a history of the hospital may be made.

AWARD WINNERS

At the annual luncheon, awards were given to those who had contributed 50 or more hours of service, and to officers and chairmen.

Mrs. P. Eugene Miller, auxiliary president, appointed committee chairmen for the coming year.

They are Mrs. Harold Tripp, Mrs. Herbert Staads, Mrs. Edward Mann, Mrs. Gordon Parker, Mrs. R. E. Springer, Mrs. Robert Sutton, Mrs. Ben Madsen, Mrs. Charles Barrett, Mrs. Everett Reese, Mrs. Adrian Ish, and Mrs. Leo Heenan.

Others are Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. Forest Wood, Mrs. Guendell Purkiss, Mrs. W. A. Kennedy, Mrs. Mel Werden, Mrs. W. Arthur Vernon and Mrs. Ivan Wilcox.

• • •

Mrs. Charles Scribner was honored for her work as general chairman of "High Fever Follies of 1955."

Service Unit Views Skit

The Women's Society of World Service of the Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church met Thursday evening in the church parlors. Theme of the meeting was "The Home, the School and the Church."

Shirley Geyer, Helen Ritter, Diane Allen and Don Lovse participated in a youth forum and Mrs. Alford Bell presented a junior mission study assisted by Billy Gaddes.

A skit was presented by David Kirby, Mary Sue Ritter, Patty Horner, Phyliss Hardy and Carolyn Gaddes.

These Pretty Separates Will Be Wardrobe Stars

These pretty and versatile separates by Toni Owen are destined to become an inseparable part of your wardrobe.

* * *

The bluse, with its innocent neckline, is carefully darted for smooth fit and stops just below the waist. A clever button closing at each side front makes it easy to put on and, what's even more important, a cinch to launder.

The narrow, six-gored skirt is fashioned with a high-rise waistline, so comfortable under this season's short blouses and jackets. Deep pleats are released in the full skirt version.

Make the blouse of white pique, the narrow skirt of gray flannel or navy linen. With the blouse and full skirt of one fabric, it will have the appearance of a lovely summer dress.

* * *

Other fabric suggestions are: Linen, chambray, novelty cottons, Shantung, tie silks, lightweight woolens.

Margaret Emmerth Wed

Margaret Emmerth and Floyd Sargent were married June 9 at St. Vincent de Paul Church. Margaret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Emmerth of South Parke street, and Floyd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sargent of St. Louis, Mich.

For the ceremony the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace with a mandarin neckline and long sleeves. Her bouffant skit was of lace over tulle.

A tiara of sequins and pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion bordered with matching lace. The bridal bouquet was composed of carnations centered with white orchids.

Sandra Emmerth, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mary Alice Beedle was bridesmaid.

The maid of honor wore blue lace over satin. Her flowers were white carnations centered with pink rosebuds. The bridesmaid wore a pink gown and carried a similar arrangement of flowers.

Richard Martus acted as best man and Jene Beedle was usher.

Following the reception held at the Knights of Colmbus Hall, the bride changed to a blue suit for traveling to northern Michigan. The newlyweds will make their home in Pontiac on their return.

Out-of-town guests attended from Wheeling, W. Va., St. Louis, Detroit and Royal Oak.

Shower Honors Bride-to-Be

Marcella Walker of Wittemore street was hostess at a bridal shower-luncheon honoring Merle Rita Federico. The Shower was held this noon at Rotunda Inn.

Merle, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Federico of Lake Orion, formerly of Pontiac, is the bride-elect of Harold Anderson. Harold is the son of Mrs. G. Corning of Hazel Park. They will be married July 14 at St. Joseph Church, Lake Orion.

Guests attending were Mrs. Lloyd Rose, Patricia Dalton, Carol Dalton, Margaret Carry, Mrs. Clifford Husereau, Mary Small of Franklin, Dorothy Steinberger of Detroit and Jacklyn Westlake of Ortonville.

Cotton Clothing Leading Choice of Teenagers

MADISON Wis. (INS)—A teen age miss may dream about silks and satins but she takes a more parctical view in her own wardrobe. She wants clothes that are easy to care for. That was disclosed in a recent survey taken by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

More than 1,700 girls between the ages of 14 and 17 were asked what material they liked best to wear.

Overwhelmingly, they chose cotton.

Cotton led the field for summer skirts and dresses, winter and summer blouses, winter "everyday" dresses, pajamas, shorts, slacks, sports jackets and ankle socks.

The girls said they like cotton because it was easy to launder and care for.

Nylon took a first place along with cottons for slips because of ease-of-care.

Wool enter the field for winter short and long coats, skirts and "dressup" dresses.

Married this morning at St. Vincent de Paul Church were Patricia Joann Zielinski and Frank J. Glowzinski Jr. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Zielinski of Williams Lake road. Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glowzinski of Kingston road.

MRS. FRANK GLOWZINSKI

Patricia Zielinski Wears Lace Gown for Wedding

Bouquets of white gladioli and peonies decorated the altar of St. Vincent de Paul Church this morning for the wedding of Patricia Joann Zielinski and Frank J. Glowzinski Jr.

* * *

The 10 o'clock Nuptial High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Maurice Veryser in the presence of 250 guests.

For the ceremony, Patricia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Zielinski of Williams Lake road, wore a gown of Chantilly lace over crystalette and taffeta.

A sweetheart neckline and long sleeves extending to points at the wrists accented the princess-style bodice. Lace-covered buttons formed the back opening and were repeated on the sleeves.

Her three-tiered bouffant skirt fell into a chapel train. A coronet-type headband secured her fingertip veil. She carried a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis on a mother-of-pearl prayerbook, a gift of the bridegroom.

ATTENDS COUSIN

Geraldine Zielinski of Detroit, cousin of the bride, wore a Cotillion blue gown of brocaded taffeta with a round neckline and short sleeves for her duties as maid of honor. Her gown was similar to the bride's in the princess styling.

* * *

Bridal attendants Mrs. Richard Garnett, Marlene Zielinski of Traverse City and Marjorie Hallett wore gowns like the maid of honor's in a baby blue shade. They carried light blue pompons on ivory lattice fans. The maid of honor carried a deeper blue shade of pompons on an ivory fan.

Flower girl Cheryl Zielinski, sister of the bride, wore a Cotillion blue frock.

Frank, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Glowzinski of Kingston road, chose William Keller of Waterford to serve as best man. Richard Bell, Fred Hurtubise of Chicago and Walter Brzezinski of Detroit seated the guests. David Glowzinski of Detroit was ringbearer.

* * *

Mrs. Fred Hurtubise of Chicago sang the bridal recital. Acolytes for the ceremony were Don Zielinski, brother of the bride, and Lawrence Doyle of Detroit.

BREAKFAST SERVED

A wedding breakfast was served for members of the bridal party and the immediate families in the CAI Building, Waterford. An evening reception is also being held there.

* * *

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Zielinski wore a dress of pink crystalette with white accessories. Mrs. Glowsinski wore a dusty rose lace dress with white accessories. Their flowers were white cymbidium orchids.

For traveling the bride changed to a white cotton lace dress with a navy blue duster, navy blue accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Following their wedding trip to Florida, the newlyweds will make their home on Williams Lake road.

* * *

Out-of-town guests attended from Traverse City, Kalamazoo, Bay City, Midland, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Chicago, Joliett, Ill., and Wisconsin.

Lynne Merriss Repeats Vows in Barnett Chapel

A gown of white nylon was worn by Lynne Ann Merriss for her wedding to James Merriee Fritcher Friday evening in Barnett Chapel of First Baptist Church.

* * *

Lynne is the daughter of Mrs. Cecilia Merriss of Starr avenue and Donald Merriss of Palmer street. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Merritt Fritcher of Cameron avenue.

For the 7 o'clock candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. Lee Lalone of Donelson Baptist Church, the bride wore a gown of nylon with flowers appliqued at the bustline and on the skirt.

She carried white roses centered with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Donna Lee Merriss and Barbara Gay Merriss served as their sister's bridal attendants. Shelley Lynn Carlisle was flower girl.

Donna, the maid of honor, wore a pale orchid ballerina-length dress with a matching headpiece. And Barabara, the bridesmaid, wore a light yellow ballerina-length gown with a matching headpiece.

Pink nylon was worn by the flower girl, who carried a basket of pink and white rosebuds.

William DeMino was best man. Seating the guests were Donald R. Merriss Jr. of Detroit, Larry DeMino and Richard Zumbrunnen.

For the reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. Merriss wore a beige lace dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Fritcher wore a brown dress with green accessories.

The newlyweds will make their home on Monroe street.

Groucho's the Same On or Off Television

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "I'm getting pretty old for practical jokes," Groucho Marx said, "but I just walked into the Guaranty Trust and said to the feller, 'This is a stickup!'

"Three alarms went off and four policemen surrounded me. Those cops all carry guns. They showed me. And I've had an account in that bank for 25 years, too."

Lunching with Groucho is almost as amusing as his soon-to-be-10-year-old TV show. After deciding on a cannibal sandwich, he agreed to have a Bloody Mary.

"Do you whip them?" he asked the waiter, who nodded. "Don't whip mine," he cautioned. "You can whip Wilson's. He's a masochist."

"Do you plan any outside acting this summer?" I inquired of Groucho.

"I don't work any place outside any more!" was his very firm answer. "I'm not that crazy about the government. I claim that if they take half of your money, that's all any government's entitled to."

Gorucho was now being serious.

"A fellow on the coast asked me why I complained about high taxes. I said to him, 'I noticed you married a rich dame and then went to Europe to live to avoid taxes!'"

"I'm a very unusual actor," he resumed. "I'm crazier about money than acting. This isn't the way an artist should talk, but I'm not an artist. I'm a racketeer who got into show business."

Groucho's great TV success has been pointed out by practically every publication. "Confidential" even wrote him up.

He sent the editor a threatening letter. It said:

'If you print any more articles about me, I'll be obliged to cancel my subscription."

★ ★ ★

Groucho, deeply interested in politics, won't go into the subject on his TV show.

'I used to—and I was frequently out of work," he said. "I don't think it's fair to the sponsors. With stage or movie actors, it's all right."

Personally, Groucho's a fan of Jackie Gleason, Sid Caesar and "Meet the Press." He's also enamored of one of the "Down You Go" gals, Patricia Cutts.

"I was going to write her a fan letter," he said, "but my wife was in the room."

Two women paused at our table. One said, "I like your show." Groucho looked at her through his glasses and over his cigar and mustache and said, "You should like it. I like it, too."

THE WEEK-END WINDUP . . .

Emmett Kelly, the famed clown, said he doesn't leave his tramp costume in his Roxy dressing room; he places it in the theater's safe each night . . . A Sen. Symington booster hired designer Paul Wrablica to whip up a campaign button reading, "Get Out of the Stem With Stu" . . . A local publicist tried to work up a Liberace-Jayne Mansfield romance, but Lib said nope.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Flattery is something nice someone tells you about yourself that you wish were true."—Frank (Dunhall's) Malester.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Money," says Tony Pettito, "is something a man saves, in order to get married, so he can be broke for the rest of his life.

"There are more important things in life than money—but they won't got out with you if you're broke." That's earl, brother.

Oakland Deputies Organize Group, Choose Officers

Thirty members of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department have banded together to form a Deputies Club for the "betterment of the department," a spokesman for the club announced today.

* * *

Stephen Navarre was elected to serve as president of the new organization at a recent election of officers held at the jail. Ross Miller was named vice president, Guy Kessler, secretary, and James Rohm, treasurer.

The four officers were chosen to make up the board of directors, along with Sheldon Stites, Kenneth Hirt, Harry Jones, and Raymond Bills.

The first formal meeting of the board of directors is scheduled for Monday night at the county jail. Regular club meetings will be held the last Tuesday of each month.

Regards Alligator as Imposter Long Way From Home

That much-talked about alligator found in Harris Lake by a city shovel operator Tuesday may not be an alligator at all, according to Paul Allen, curator at the Allen Serpentarium in Springfield Township.

Basing his judgment on the picture of the 17-inch reptile being held by Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson in the Wednesday Pontiac Press, Allen said the baby appeared to be a "caiman"—close relative of the American alligator usually found in South America.

The curator reported he believed the reptile to be a caiman due to the shape of its head. Allen said it might have been a pet of an area resident who set it free after being bitten, since the caiman is known for its aggressive temperament.

Caimans are reportedly imported by people in the southern states from South America and sold as pets.

HELPED BY HOPE — Victoria Shaw, a model in her native Australia less than a year ago, has rocketed to stardom in a Hollywood movie in record time. The young actress met comedian Bob Hope in Sydney when she appeared in a fashion show as part of his performance there. He told her to look up his agent if she came to America. Miss Shaw did, the agent went to work; result — stardom.

Hollywood Headlines

Career Blossoms Swiftly for Aussie Victoria Shaw

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Less than a year ago, Victoria Shaw met Bob Hope in Australia. Since then she has:

Come to Hollywood.
Starred in a movie.
Acquired a future husband.

* * *

Hope, who is sometimes called Rapid Robert, has nothing on Victoria when it comes to traveling fast. She is still reeling from the events of the past year.

HOPES FOR RESPITE

"I hope things will simmer down soon," said the lovely Australian, who was preparing to leave for a publicity whirl in New York.

* * *

It all started during one of Hope's globetrotting hours. He cabled to Sydney for some models to appear in a fashion show he planned to use in his appearance tour Down Under.

Victoria, one of Australia's leading models, was one of those who appeared. She told Hope of her desire to go to America. He remarked casually to look up his agent if she ever did.

* * *

She was in Hollywood before he returned.

LEARN ABOUT TV

"My idea was to come here and learn about television, then return to Australia and have my own show," she said. "There is no TV there now, but they plan to start this fall."

* * *

She remarked that Australia is no place for a young actress.

"There is absolutely no opportunity," she said.

What held her back from coming here sooner?

"I didn't know any Americans. I was waiting until I knew someone. When I arrived, the only ones I did know were Bob Hope and his press agent."

Security for You

Couple Without Children Can Gain Retirement Aids

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

From Mrs. B. G. S. of New York City: "Can a couple without children collect Social Security at age 65 if they're retired? We have paid into Social Security for many years."

Whether you have children has no bearing on your right to Social Security benefits when you retire after age 65. You're eligible for Social Security if you have a certain period under the program. The time may range from 1½ to 10 years, the exact amount depending on the date you become 65.

From W. J. C. of Oakland, Calif.: "Is it possible to draw Social Security payments if I should move to London, England, to live?"

Yes. You may have your Social Security checks mailed anywhere in the world except behind the Iron Curtain.

From C. E. of State College, Pa.: "Awhile back you said in your column that there were certain limits of earnings beyond which a person could not go and still be eligible for Social Security. Suppose a person goes beyond the limits. Does he end up owing the government money?"

Yes. The Social Security Administration has ways of cross checking a person's earning statements with his income tax reports. If it's found that he received more payments during the previous year than he should have, it will require him to refund any overpayments.

From W. P. B. of Saginaw, Mich.: "In a few months, I'll be 65 and I plan to retire. Will my Social Security payments automatically start then?"

No. Social Security payments always require that an application be filed. This may be done at the nearest Social Security office. You may find the address of the office in your phone book or through your local post office.

From Mrs. J. M. of Lawrence, Mass.: "For five years now, my daughter and I have been receiving Social Security payments as the survivors because my husband worked in a job covered by Social Security. My daughter will be 17 next month and she plans to be married. Will her marriage have any bearing on our continuing to get Social Security?"

Yes. When your daughter marries, the payments to both of you will stop. The law says that a child may receive survivors benefits until he or she reaches 18 or marries and that your payments must stop when either occurs. But unless you remarry, your payments can be resumed when you are 65 years old.

* * *

(You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

Thomson's 139 Leads Hogan in Open by Stroke

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Smiling and relaxed, Australia's Peter Thomson said he didn't even know Ben Hogan was in with 140—the score he had to beat—when he set out to play the second round of the U. S. Open golf championship.

* * *

Nobody in the thicket of listeners in Oak Hill's superheated press tent quite believed him, but who would question the word of a player who went out when the pressure was greatest and casually snatched the lead from the man who has been America's best golfer over a 10-year span.

Thomson is a casual sort of player, 26 years old, husky, pleasant-faced with bright blue eyes and curly black hair. American golf has been very good to him in everything but championships and today could make it almost perfect.

Going into the final 36 holes of the 56th open, Thomson was the leader with scores of 70-69—139. Hovering a stroke behind him was Hogan the hawk, the intense little man who throws fear into most golfers when he's close to them. And to Hogan, seeking to become the first player ever to win the U. S. Open five times, this may be the most important tournament of all.

* * *

Well within striking range were three other former U. S. Open champions. Cary Middlecoff, the lanky 1949 champion who still ranks among the top favorites here, and lame-armed Ed Furgol, the 1954 winner, were in a four-way tie at 141. The others there were the 140-pound, 40-year-old Jerry Barber of Los Angeles and tall, 24-year-old Wesley Ellis of River Vale, N. J.

* * *

At 142 were Julius (Moose) Boros, the 1952 champion, Arnold Palmer, 1954 amateur champion from Latrobe, Pa., who is one of the better pros, and steady Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

It could be as close and exciting a finish as any Open has seen. There's a touch of sadness about it, too.

* * *

Missing after the field was reduced to the 51 players who shot 149 or better for today's 36-hole final were defending champion Jack Fleck, who beat Hogan in a dramatic playoff last year; former Open champion Lew Worsham, Masters champion Jackie Burke and former PGA champion Chick Harbert.

Fleck, the first champion since Sam Parks Jr., the 1935 winner, who failed to make the final 36 holes the next year, didn't even have an explanation for his failure.

* * *

"I just shot 150," he said as he left the club. "My game just wasn't good enough for this tournament."

This is the third U. S. Open in which Thomson has played and the first time he has been a threat. He has won the British Open the past two years, and has earned about $10,000 on the American pro tour this season.

* * *

Hogan, with nothing more than a three-put green to mar his card through the 15th hole, faltered at the finish, and drove into the rough for bogeys at the 16th and 18th. That gave him a 68 for the day after a 72 on the first round.

Thomson had a couple of bogeys on the front nine and went over again by three-putting the short 11th. But he got that back on the 602-yard 13th hole and hit steady pars from there on.

* * *

The pressure did get Bob Rosburg, the 29-year-old first - day leader. After shooting an opening 68, Rosburg took 40 strokes on the back nine yesterday for a 76 and a 144 total.

EYES CUPWARD — British Open Champ Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, throws up his put ter in gesture of elation as his 35-foot putt drops into the cup on 13th green for a Birdie at U. S. Open in Rochester, N. Y. Thomson leads after two rounds with 139.

Dodgers Start Move; Yanks Beat Tribe, 6-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fun may be about over in the National League pennant race. The world champion Brooklyn Dodgers finally are making their move, using first division teams as stepping stones to hike into second place by winning nine of their last 11 games.

The Brooks, in 5th place and four games back when the revival started, made it five straight with a comeback, 5-4 decision over Milwaukee's bumbling Braves last night.

All of that success was on the road, and in their first game back at chummy Ebbets Field, the Brooks took over the No. 2 spot vacated by Cincinnati in a 4-3, 11-inning loss to the New York Giants.

Pittsburgh's Pirates retained the lead—by one game and 21 percentage points—in a 12-1 wingding against the Cardinals. Philadelphia and Chicago split a two-night pair, the Phils winning 6-5 in 10 innings, then losing 8-5.

In the less hectic American League race, the New York Yankees kept their five-game bulge as Johnny Kucks three-hit Cleveland and Mickey Mantle poled his 23rd home run for a 6-2 victory. Second place Chicago thumped Washington 7-2. Detroit tied Boston for 4th with a 5-2 decision over the Red Sox, and Baltimore defeated Kansas City 1-0.

Kucks stamped himself as the Yankees' chief injun fighter for his 8th victory and third over the Tribe. Mantle's homer came with one on in the first, as the Yanks tagged Mike Garcia for their nine hits in six frames.

Billy Pierce won his 9th with an eight-hitter for the White Sox, who used eight walks to build a 3-0 lead against Bob Wiesler, then socked Camilo Pascual for four runs in the 8th on Sherm Lollar's homer and a bases-loaded triple by Nellie Fox.

Clement Takes Seniors' Title as Natal Gift

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Franklin G. Clement, stockbroker from Lake Forest, Ill., won the U.S. Seniors Golf Assn. title on his 57th birthday yesterday without swinging a club.

Clement put together a 73-71—144 the first two days of the tournament and then stood on the sidelines as the last half of a field of nearly 400 failed to beat him during the last two days.

State Open Prelims Take Place Monday

Qualifying round for golfers who are exempt, will take place Monday at Indianwood CC, for the Michigan Open tourney. Playing date for the event is July 1, and Indianwood is the location.

Preceding the Open at Indianwood a pro-member invitational will be held there on June 28.

Outstate qualifying rounds also will be held Monday at Kalamazoo CC. A "side" qualification round is arranged for Michigan section of the USGA National Publinx at Meadowbrook and Western CC on the same day. Publinx players in a top group will use their sectional scores for the state Open qualifying test.

All former champions are among the exempt group. Qualifying rounds will be over 18 holes.

Only Three of Eight Michigan Men Remain

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Only three of the eight Michigan qualifiers for the National Open Golf Tournament will be around today for the 36-hole championship duel.

The three veteran Michigan shotmakers are Walt Burkemo of Franklin Hills, Pete Cooper of Knollwood C. C. and Mike Dietz of Indianwood C. C. The trio was buncfied at 147—eight strokes off the halfway mark pace set by Australia's Peter Thomson.

Each of the three fired 74's yesterday to go with opening round cards of 73.

Michigan entries failing to make the 50-man qualifying list were veteran Chick Harbert with 81-76—157; Bob Gajda 79-77—156; Rudy Horvath of Windsor, Ont., 73-80—153; Bill McNary 74-78—152; and Ed Ervasti 76-75—151.

NO TIME TO NAP — Miguel Berrios of the Bronx hits the canvas after being floored by France's Cherif Hamia in the 4th round of their 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden last night. Referee Al Berl is in the background. Berrios got up but lost on a unanimous decision.

Hot Final for NCAA Test; Spartan Sets New Mark

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The struggle for National Collegiate honors in track and field reached the showdown stage today, with survivors of the preliminaries competing for a chance to make the United States Olympic team.

* * *

Behind lay five National Collegiate Athletic Assn. records broken, the most impressive being a surprising shotput of 60 feet ½ inch by Manhattan College's giant Ken Bantum, 3rd man in history to beat 60 feet.

In prospect this afternoon on the University of California's Edwards Stadium were torrid duels in the 199 meter dash, the 200, the 1,500 and other events.

Bantum, who stands 6-foot-6, broke the NCAA record on his 2nd put with a mark of 59-5½, and then smashed it further with his 60-½.

Only Parry O'Brien and Bill Nieder of Kansas, with 60-3¾, have passed 60 feet, and yesterday Nieder, the defending college champ, had to settle for 57-3½.

* * *

Olympic officials, however, are not particulary happy over the record-breaking performance of Michigan State's Selwyn Jones in the 10,000 meter run at the NCAA track and field opening yesterday.

They were likewise glum over the performance of another Spartan, David Lean, who posted the 2nd best qualifying time of 52.9 in the 400-meter hurdles.

Reason those top-caliber runs brought no joy to U. S. officials is that both Jones and Lean will be competing against the United States team next November in the Olympics at Melbourne.

Jones will be on the Canadian team. Lean, an Australian, is the British Empire champion in the high hurdles.

* * *

Jones, of Hamilton, Ont., ran the 10,000 meter run (about six and one-fifths miles) in 31:15.3 to eclipse a record set by Bob Black of Rhode Island State in 1948.

Needles, Fabius Get Top Rating

NEW YORK (AP) — Needles and Fabius lead the post parade for the 88th Belmont Stakes today, and the puzzling uncertainties of racing promise to make this one of the most interesting 3-year-old duels in the history of the turf classic.

* * *

The chips are down in this $100,000-added tussle, a tough once around the mile and one half Belmont Park oval, where champions have been crowned since 1905. Prior to that, the race was held at Jerome Park, 1867-1889, and Morris Park, 1890-1904.

* * *

Nine colts were entered for the final jewel in the famed triple crown series, and horsemen could find something good to say about the chances of at least five of the contenders.

* * *

A crowd of some 35,000, depending upon the weather which is expected to be in the upper 80's with possible showers, probably will send Needles off as the favorite at around 4-5. Fabius was 3-1 in the early line.

Hits 2 Homers as Tigers Win, 5-2

Boone Lowers Boom on Sox

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, who seem to save their worst brand of baseball for the usually friedly confines of Briggs Stadium, have started off a home stand with a splash because of the boomin bat of Ray Boone.

Baseball's second largest crowd of 1956 — 48,285 — and the tops for Detroit, was looking on as the veteran third baseman rocked two home runs off Boston's Bob Porterfield to give the Tigers a 5-2 triumph and a share of 4th place last night.

Manager Bucky Harris did the unexpected, and strayed from his usual strategy in pulling out all the stops in the battle for first division with the Red Sox. He called in reliable Billy Hoeft from the bullpen with the score tied, 2-2, in the 8th inning, and the tall southpaw responded by retiring six men in a row, three of them on strikes.

* * *

Boone, who had driven home the tying runs with a 6th inning home run with a mate on base, provided Hoeft with his 8th win against two reverses with a smash into the lower left field deck with two men on base in the 8th inning.

Hoeft had worked just once in relief this season before last night. Then, it was when he was recuperating from arm trouble, and his relief stint that time was more of a test on his arm.

Harris explained it simply: "I had to go with my best. He said he was ready, and he proved it. So it looks like we did the right thing."

The Red Sox, who are deadlocked with the Bengals with identical records of 27 wins and 26 losses, battered starter Frank Lary for 11 hits, but could score only twice.

Bill Tuttle saved another run in the 3rd inning when he grabbed Jackie Jensen's single and cut down Ted Williams at the plate. Williams, trying to score from second, had two singles, both of the scratch variety.

Jim Piersall's 5th home run gave the Sox one run in the 3rd, and singles by Billy

Nelson Farleys Remodel Old Garner Farm Home West of Milford

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Houses know when they are loved, just as people do. And they respond in the same way. They offer the security of a happy home to those who love them. Such a house is the one sheltering the Nelson Farley family of Milford.

When Mr. Farley's work brought him to Milford from Ypsilanti, he and his wife, Elizabeth, decided to buy and remodel the old Garner farm on West Commerce road. The house, built in 1879, would be just right for their antique furniture. Their seven - year - old son, George, would have plenty of room for roaming on the five acres that went with the house.

Last August the builder (Frederick Hill and Sons) started tearing out walls, removing stairways, remodeling the kitchen and adding bathrooms and porches. For a while it was just plain chaos. There were days when the Farleys wondered if the whole thing had been a mistake.

During the three months it took to remodel the house the Farleys lived in a tiny apartment in Milford ("only apartment in existence, said Elizabeth, "where you could sit in the bathtub and watch television!") Their three cats lived out at the farm while the builders worked.

Just before Thanksgiving the remodeling was completed. The Farleys have spent a winter in their home and are looking forward to their first summer there.

An artist and former art instructor in the Toledo museum, Mrs. Farley made sketches of all the plans for remodeling. She coordinated the paint colors and did the wallpapering herself.

Originally, there were two parlors and a library One parlor had a closed stairway leading to the hired girl's room. The stairway leading to the main part of the second story went up from the other parlor. There was no connection between the two parts of the upstairs.

The Farleys threw the two front rooms together, making a living room about 23 feet long. There is a bay window at the east end. Here Mrs. Farley put her antique Federal card table and her Gone - With - the - Wind lamp.

The floors throughout the house are made of random width pine. The builder was able to remove the old varnish and stain, leaving them their natural golden color. On the living room floor there is a turkey red Saruk rug, in the library a multi-color Saruk.

The builder put in a fireplace in the new living room. The mantel and frame are white, with red bricks outlining the opening. All the woodwork is a soft gray-green, the dropped ceiling white. The walls are papered in gray-green with a conventional rose design.

The living room furniture carries out a rose color scheme. The sofa is rosy red. A smaller love seat is wine. Two wing chairs have rose upholstery with seat covers in a flowered pattern. The curtains are sheer white net.

At present there is but one stairway. It extends out into the living room a few feet. This was done in order to make the stairs a little wider, thus a little more comfortable to climb.

Mrs. Farley found two old maple bedposts which Mr. Hill cleaned up and used as newel posts on the new stairway. They are right in keeping with the old house.

Next to the little love seat there's a small round antique table. Beside that is an old Pennsylvania Dutch mending box.

This originally was on wheels so that the industrious hausfrau could tote her mending around the house. Now, with its wheels removed, it serves as the Farleys' woodbox.

A tremendous tall roll-top secretary stands next to the front

BUILT IN 1879 — This picture, taken about 1888, shows the Garner farm home on West Commerce road, west of Milford. It was the girlhood home of Mrs. Lucy Sherwood, now of Highland. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Farley bought the house last year and remodeled it. Note the size of the trees in the front yard and compare them with the more recent picture

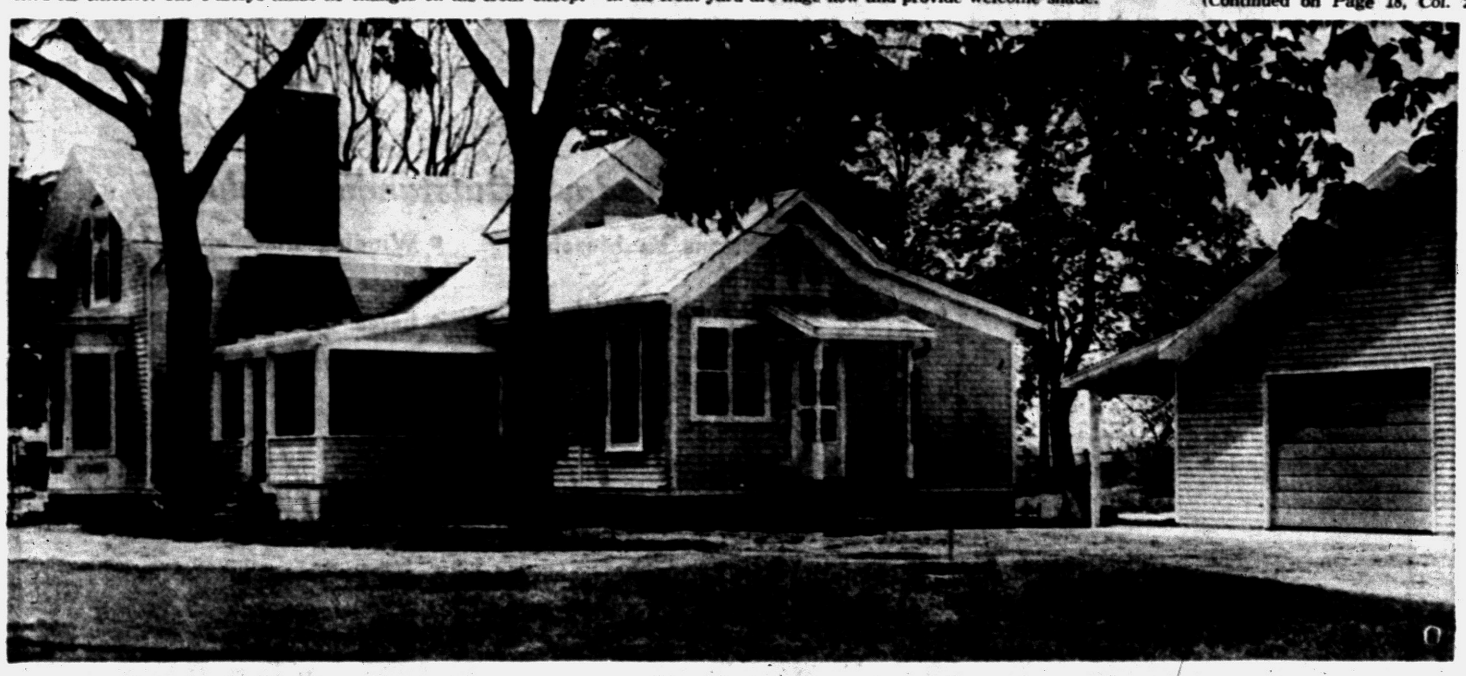

REMODELED HOME — Seventy-six years after it was built the farmhouse had its face lifted. A coat of rose beige paint has brightened its exterior. The Farleys made no changes on the front except to make a door upstairs where there had been a window. The trees in the front yard are huge now and provide welcome shade.

SCENIC WALLPAPER — The Farleys put a Williamsburg scenic wallpaper panel above the painted dado in the dining room. The mirror seen on the far wall has a tooled leather frame. Mrs. Farley gilded it with most effective results. Barely visible on the server below the mirror is a lamp. The shade on this lamp is made from a piece of red tablecloth that belonged to Mrs. Farley's grandmother. The window in the living room makes a good background for her collection of colored glass.

ADDITIONS—This view of the rear of the house shows the only additions made by the Farleys. The porch at the left with its outdoor grill and the garage at the right were built since last summer. The porch extension on the garage is to be screened. The terrace is being built between this porch and the west side of the house.

ONCE IT WAS TWO ROOMS — This large living room was made from two small parlors. The wall divided the present room about where the fireplace is now. George Farley sprawls on the rug in front of the fireplace that was added during the remodeling. The table in front of the bay windows is an antique folding card table. It holds a Gone-With-the-Wind lamp. The wide pine boards in the floor show plainly in this picture.

UNUSUAL NEWEL POST — Posts from an old bed were refinished and used on the stairway. The room in the background is the library. This is a room that successfully combines several periods of furniture, resulting in a place to work, study or relax. There's a lot of storage space in the old secretary in the far corner.

The Washington monument, 550 feet high, has 898 steps to its peak.

Time Now to Make Softwood Cuttings

Try it if you never have before making some softwood cuttings. A willow whip, a piece of privet, a forsythia branch stuck in the ground at this time usually will develop a root system.

Try it on other soft wood plant materials, taking a little more care. Making a slanting cut of a branch with a really sharp knife that cuts clean.

Stick the twigs in clean, moist sand in a shady spot and after a time there will be the beginnings of trees or shrubs.

1879 House Has Its Face Lifted

window. For comfort, there are leather chairs and a sofa.

The doorknobs downstairs are white china. Mrs. Farley removed them and painted colored pictures on them. The knob on the library door has the remodeling date of 1955, while the bedroom has the date the house was built, 1879.

The downstairs bedroom opens into the living room. It has pink woodwork, with pink and silver paper. The room is furnished with a spindle bed, a little rocker upholstered in red plush and an old walnut chest of drawers. There is also a charming hooked rug, designed and made by the lady of the house.

One whole wall of the dining room is destined to be a built-in buffet. Nelson is working on this gigantic job as often as he can. It will be painted the same soft gray-green as the rest of the dining room and the living room.

Above the dado on one wall there is a Williamsburg scene on wallpaper. This is rose, green and white.

There is an old-fashioned server underneath a most interesting mirror. At first glance, the frame looks like an ornate gilt one.

Mrs. Farley says it is tooled leather. After buying it at an auction, she tried to restore it to its original condition. Failing, she covered it with gold paint with most successful results.

Although the dining room has only one window, it is not dark. When the Farleys added a porch to this side of the house, they used a yellow plastic roof. This was calculated to reflect sunshine into the dining room the year around. It makes the room wonderfully light.

One wall of this porch backs up to the living room fireplace. It has been bricked and a small outdoor fireplace built in. The day we were there one of the Farley cats was taking a nap on this porch.

The kitchen, once a lean-to, is a room about fourteen feet square. In order to bring light from the west windows in the utility room beyond, the Farleys made a pass-through above the sink. They added two more windows, built in cupboards and put in modern lighting.

The linoleum is gray with a spatter print in coral and white. The walls and cupboards are pale blue. Counter tops, table top, splash boards and chair pads are all coral. The table and chairs are painted black.

High on the walls above the windows and the cupboards, there is wallpaper. Matching material is used for valances. Sheer white cafe curtains cover the lower windows.

Between the dining room and the utility room there is a little square hall. You can go down to the basement or outside to the partially completed terrace at the west side of the house. Or you can go into the small lavatory.

This is done in gray and green. It has a stall shower. Storage cupboards have been built into the walls and cleverly hidden by the use of wallpaper. The fixtures are green.

Upstairs there are three bedrooms and a bath. One bedroom, called the isolation room, holds a single bed and an antique hat rack. Pink flowered paper covers one wall, blue paint the other three. Whenever one of the adult Farleys has a cold, he is banished to this little room.

The upper hall has pink paper with a gold design. A cedar closet has been made near the big bedroom.

In planning the bathroom, Mrs. Farley stole enough space from the hall to make an L-shaped room. It has one low window curtained in pink. Three walls are painted gray, one is papered.

The counter top of the vanity holding twin basins is also gray. Fixtures are pink. Linen storage closets are put in wherever there is space.

George's room has cream colored walls with sports wallpaper. As in all the bedrooms, a closet had to be made from part of the room. George's father made him an interesting little pine desk with cupboards and writing space. His maple bed has a red spread on it.

The biggest bedroom is spacious and airy and attractive. It has French doors leading to an upstairs porch across the front of the house. Next to these doors is an inviting chaise longue.

Pine cone paper looks cool on one wall. The others are gray-green. A marble-topped wash stand serves as a bedside night table.

The exterior of the house has been painted a rose beige, with white trim and slate blue shutters. Behind the house the Farleys built a garage with a porch extension that houses a portable grill. This is soon to be screened.

Mrs. Farley is busy making a border garden around her terrace. Mr. Farley is busy making colored cement slabs for the terrace. He has put a rail fence around the yard. George is busy playing with three new kittens and doing all the things a healthy seven-year-old does in the summer.

The Farley house was built to give a farm family a home 77 years ago. It was remodeled in 1955 to house a smaller family. Each time has been interesting.

Most Home Fabrics Now Nonbreakable

If you carry out the easy-to-care for room theme don't forget washable wallpaper, dacron quick-drying curtains and orlon drapery fabrics that are sun fast, requiring a minimum of ironing.

Many interesting and attractive accessories are available in nonbrakable plastic today, and these too are ideal. These include waste paper baskets drinking containers and planters.

One 200-pound hog contains about 21 pounds of marketable shoulder meat.

COMPANION DOORS — You can now buy a set of companion, front entrance doors for your house. The contemporary styled exterior door is matched by a screen or combination storm door. The exterior or "Prom-o-dor" has three large panes of glass. These are matched perfectly by the openings in the "Com-o-dor" outer door. Both are made of kiln-dried Ponderosa Pine and are treated to be water-repellent. The "Com-o-dor" has permanently wired screen cloth. Glass storm panels, aluminum scroll sections and louver panels may be ordered as accessories. Lumber dealers are stocking these matching doors.

Skip Grass Feeding

If you've postponed the spring feeding of grass until now, skip the whole thing until autumn. A lawn feeding now is of more benefit to competing weeds than to the desirable plants.

A Rule of Thumb

When building desks, cabinets, work surfaces, counter tops and tables, here is a good rule of thumb. The counter top and other work surfaces should be 36 inches above the floor and the desk top or table 30 inches, the West Coast Lumbermen's Association points out. This insures uniformity in all installations in a home.

Don't, when nailing a patch on roll roofing, drive the nails too deep or they will cut into the material.

Lamp, TV Heat Can Disrupt Wall Thermostat

Changing around the furniture? Then be careful as to what you place near that thermostat on the wall. These controls are sensitive affairs, and can be affected by heat from nearby radios, television or table lamps.

Thus winter's heating needs should figure in summer refurnishing schemes. And with more and more consumers going to year-round air conditioning, a sheltered life for a central thermostat is important any month.

An ideal spot for controls is on an inside partition wall, comparatively free from vibration, not too near a radiator or other heat outlet, and not in drafts caused by opening outside doors.

Then, too, the skilled heating or air conditioning installer will want controls away from any open stairwell or fireplace, not in any bedroom or cooking area, and not in some space not ordinarily heated.

Even if the installer has to compromise on a point or two he can still provide automatic year-round comfort.

CARPORT CLOSET — For the basementless home, outer wall of the carport is extended to allow space for a storage closet for garden equipment, bicycles and lawn furniture. Douglas fir is used throughout for this inexpensive, attractive and practical installation, and is finished natural or stained to match bevel siding of the house. Wood screen at the end of carport gives a finished look and protects the front of the automobile.

Don't forget that when a roof is old, worn and weather-beaten, the first leak may be only a sign of things to come . . . and a new roof, rather than a repair, may be in order.

Home Buyers Demand Cellars

Home buyers set the style for new homes, architects and builders agree. When the husband and wife start house hunting, they buy the home that contains most of the ideas they want.

• • •

Tops on most lists today are basements. The post-war basementless homes never met with much popularity, and many a family has lived to rue the day they ever bought such a home.

There just isn't enough storage space. But, equally as important is the low cost of getting all this extra living space at a fraction of what main floor square footage costs a lumber group states. states.

Basements have so many uses, the lumbermen point out, which have never been offered by the much smaller utility rooms in the slab-type homes. They provide room for heating and ventilating systems, laundry with clothes drying space in winter months, storage for fruit, deep freezer, and all sorts of room for garden furniture, tools and equipment. They always have a corner for dad's and brother's work bench and an occasional power tool.

• • •

When repairs are needed, it is much easier to work on plumbing, heating and wiring when it is exposed in the basement. It is also true that floors are warmer over basements.

• • •

Many women report that their feet and backs get tired when they have to stand up on cement all day, even though there is usually a rubber covering. With wooden floors land on Douglas fir joists, there is "give" and resilence which makes for better walking.

Water has the unique ability to hold a large number of heating units within a small volume, and to move them economically from one place to another.

New Plywood Panel

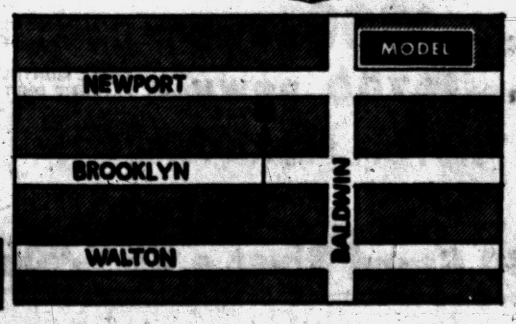

The Georgia-Pacific Corp. of Olympia, Wash., has intoduced a new type of plywood panel eight by four feet striated or furrowed with decorative parallel lines. On the back of the panels are wide grooves that not only make the panel more stable but also add to the panel's flexibility in bending to curved surfaces.

Stencils for decoration were first used by the early Romans. They originally made borders on walls with stencils.

Check Peony Blooms

If peonies haven't bloomed after being in one spot for three or four years, mark them for transplanting in September. They like protected sunny spots, with well drained rich soil.

Many Convert to Gas Heating

While 926,000 more U. S. homes last year adopted either gas furnaces or boilers for central heating, 210,000 others headed in the same direction by installing gas conversion burners.

The conversion burner is described by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association as a device that can be installed in a coal or oil furnace or boiler to convert it from using solid or liquid fuel to gas. The trend to canversion has been strengthened in recent years by the rapid expansion of the nation's natural gas pipeline system.

GAMA reports that more than 500,000 miles of pipe now serve domestic, commercial and industrial consumers, including more than 16,000,000 who heat their homes with gas.

The conversion burner can be installed in a furnace or boiler even after the system has been in use for as much as 30 years, GAMA says. This assumes, of course, that the original equipment is in good working condition. Installation by a competent heating contractor takes only a few hours.

Heavy Cloth, Hot Iron Remove Dents, Scars

Dents and scars on a favorite piece of furniture can sometimes be repaired by laying a well moistened heavy cloth over the dent and steaming with a hot iron. The grain of the wood will usually rise under the application of damp heat.

* * *

After steaming, use sand paper to remove any scratches or marks left, and then apply shellac, wax or varnish depending on the finish. In most cases this will help your piece of furniture until it is completely refinished.

Den in Extra Room Gives Pop Relaxation

If you are lucky enough to have that extra room that serves as the all purpose room as well as a den for dad, let it get topsy turvy each evening, cleaning it up the next day. Unexpected company will not be in on your secret because all you have to do is close the door in an emergency.

* * *

The dad who must relax in the living room presents other problems, of course. Just when he's got his chair surrounded by papers, the ashtray loaded with butts, his shoes off and suspenders pulled down, company is likely to barge in. The way to feel about that is that unexpected company gets what it deserves.

CHANDLER ESTATES — A new model home, the Ranchmaster, constructed by Pearl Builders, is now open daily on Pontiac road, just east of Opdyke. One feature of these homes is a furnace that is set up to have an air-conditioning unit added to it. There are three bedrooms, one with two closets. Cupboards and drawers in the kitchen present an unbroken surface — the handles are hidden. The utility room has a laundry sink and an automatic hot water heater. The builders will install blacktop streets and construct a community playground for children. The price of these homes is $12,660, with 5 per cent down to veterans.

Private Loans on Rise

Conventional mortgage loans made without FHA or VA backing are showing a steady gain. The United States Savings & Loan League reports that conventional lending accounted for 57 per cent of the new housing started in the first quarter of this year compared with about 50 per cent in the same period of last year.

Color Enters the Hospital — Patients Feel Better

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Color surrounds us, and people are more affected by it than they realize. The discovery that color has a psychological effect on man was made in earliest times, according to C. David Persina, consultant on color to the Federal Reserve Board.

• • •

Persina says the primary colors were from the rainbow and that ancient man tried to duplicate them from earth pigments. It is a matter of historic record that belief in the divine healing properties of color pervades much ancient symbolism.

Hippocrates' student, Celens, was one of the first to suspect that color was important in medical treatment. As one of the first doctors in the world, long before Christianity, he believed that color therapy could be used in the sick room. It is said that he used colored plasters to bind up wounds of soldiers.

Today we are still exploring the possibilities of color therapy. The paint industry has given us countless more shades than the ancients had in their primary colors.

USED AS THERAPY

Color use was given high priority in the planning of the new $6,000,000 Dorothea Lynde Dix Pavilion of St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington, D. C. Persina, then of the Public Buildings Administration, collaborated with Dr. David W. Harris, chief of the Dix Pavilion, in utilizing color for its tranquilizing effect on patients.

After years of dealing with psychiatric cases, Dr. Harris reached the same conclusion as Celens and has used color in his treatment. In one clinic where patients were lethargic and hard to arouse, the wards were all the same color, a dull tan. He had each ward painted a different color. While it is difficult to establish any proof in effecting cures, he believes color changes helped.

• • •

The American Indians attributed much significance to color. To them, black clouds indicated malice and hatred and in all their rituals and ceremonies black was the "enemy" color. According to Persina, who has made a study of color for years, gray indicated depression and fear; crimson indicated a loving nature; dull brown meant avarice; orange, strong pride; yellow, an aura of intelligence.

The strongest of the primary colors, yellow, was used in saffron ointment which for many generations was considered a great healer. Early doctors believed that saffron ointment applied to the head would induce sleep and tranqualize the mind.

Thus, selecting colors for psychological values is a science with a long history. Most students of the subject are convinced that people react to color, so it seems logical to evaluate their findings when doing over your house. It might be well in redecorating to consult each member of the family. Sometimes a basic color throughout a whole house might prove a depressant. Make your home gay and happy.

Values High, Market Good on Homes Built Since 1940

Prices of existing quality homes will remain stable or rise in the majority of areas during the next six months, the National Association of Real Estate Boards predicts.

The forecast was based on information gathered from 220 real estate market areas in all parts of the United States included in the Association's semiannual market survey, just completed by the Division of Research.

* * *

Rising construction costs and the diminishing supply of land served by water and sewage facilities—both essential elements in the price of new houses — are responsible for the keen consumer interest in the purchase of existing homes built since 1940, NAREB added.

In view of the well-known competitive character of the housing market, it seems clear that more and more home buyers are finding the existing house the best buy. The existing house is more than holding its own, and most realtors obviously expect that it will continue to do so, NAREB said.

The sustained interest of the public in used houses of modern construction, well located and adequately maintained, has steadied or increased selling prices during the past year. Moreover, 52 per cent of the returns expressed the view that current price levels will continue for all existing housing, while 14 per cent expect higher prices in the months just ahead.

PREDICTS PRICE RISE

Predictions of an increase in price of existing houses were most prevalent in the New England area where 33 per cent of the communities so forecast. In the Pacific Coast area, higher prices were forecast by 27 per cent of the reporters; in the East South Central, by 19 per cent; and in the Middle Atlantic, by 18 per cent.

Only the West South Central region expected no rise in prices, although 50 per cent of the replies indicated steady demand and price tags.

The current survey found prices to be the same or higher, compared with a year ago, for existing homes in the $20,000 or more category in 58 per cent of the nation's communities. A similar market position is reported for houses in the $12,000 to $20,000 range in 70 per cent of the country.

* * *

MARKET ACTIVE

For most areas, a vigorous rate of market activity was reported with the volume of sales the same or greater than a year ago. However, more reports of diminished activity were made than in October, 1955.

* * *

For units priced under $12,000, sales were given as the same in volume in 51 per cent of the areas, and higher in 19 per cent, compared with a year ago.

Homes in the $12,000 to $20,000 range were sold at the same rate in 48 per cent of the communities, and higher in 20 per cent. Increased sales of houses over $20,000 were registered in 18 per cent of the nation, while 41 per cent found the sales volume constant.

Price increases were more prevalent for new houses than for existing homes during the year, the survey showed. Compared to a year ago, new houses in the under $12,000 range were higher in 47 per cent of the communities; in the $12,000 to $20,000 bracket new houses were higher in 52 per cent of the areas; and in the range of $20,000 and over, new residences were selling at advanced prices in 49 per cent of the places.

COSTS UP PRICES

Explanation for more widespread price increases for the new homes is found in the higher labor, materials, and in land costs, NAREB said.

It is this situation which has commended the existing house built since 1940 to the public, and on which estimates of future existing house price increases are based.

In the field of existing homes, the older houses—those built in 1940 or before—have generally shown a pronounced drop in prices. Sixty-one per cent of the market areas reported prices lower than a year ago, indicating the consumer demand for more modern housing.

Hey! Here's Something

There is a new kind of paint and varnish remover being readied for the market. You put it on with spray or brush, let it dry, and then you peel it off, taking the paint or varnish along with it right down to the wood. It comes from Chadeloid Corp. of Dayton.

This May Help You

When buying pre-mixed dry concrete containing sand or gravel and needing only water, figure on half a bag for every square foot to be four inches deep. This means that a slab, two feet long and two feet wide will call for two bags for a 4-inch depth—one bag for a 2-inch depth.

Care in prying the lid off a can of paint pays off. If you do it carefully by moving the screwdriver around the circumference without bending the edge of the lid, you can seal the can tightly again after finishing your paint job.

House Hunters Getting Choosy

Price Is Still a Factor but Buyers Now Search for Distinctiveness

Real estate observers are beginning to warn builders that house-hunters are becoming more choosy these days. They note that even where price is still a dominant factor the prospective owner is beginning to expect some distinctiveness in his domicile.

* * *

The traditional treatment for the mass-produced or "development" home is to vary the setback or trim the facade with a slightly different sort of gingerbread for each dwelling. In this way the builder tries to make an individual home of each unit in Euphoria Heights.

Variety in landscaping and in arrangement of the outdoor work and play areas can be a much more effective disguise for uniform construction. A terrace or recreation area distinguishes a home that otherwise is identical to its neighbors.

Another simple but effective device for lending distinction to a pattern home is to include several planters lined with ornamental but weather-resistant ceramic tile. Such lagniappes as this may well tip the scales to make a sale when a customer is wavering.

These suggestions for producing an impression of variety in a row of uniform boxes are not intended to distract the builder from first-class workmanship and quality materials like copper plumbing, real tile and seasoned lumber inside the home. They are simply offered in response to the rumblings from various quarters that Mr. and Mrs. America are getting choosier about the homebuilder's wares.

'Commercial Grout' Fills Ceramic Joints

If some of the fine white cement has fallen from the joints between ceramic tiles in your bathroom, the minor repair job should be undertaken just as soon as possible. Otherwise, water can get in back of the waterproof tiles and cause damage.

Purchase some of the cement known as "commercial grout" and mix with water to the consistency of heavy cream. Let the mix set for about 10 minutes and then remix. This reduces the degree of shrinkage in the material later on when the grout is curing. Apply the grout to the tile joints with a sponge or rubber gloves.

Once it's applied, clean off the excess grout from the faces of the tiles with a damp sponge and a dry clean cloth. Then, about four or five times, dampen the grout lines with a sponge so the material will have enough moisture with which to cure properly.

Gives Novel Effect

If you're looking for a novel and yet practical effect in your new home barbecue, surface the countertop, all shelves and splashback area with decorative ceramic tile. It gives a strikingly handsome appearance; and it's not so expensive as many people are given to think. Tile is practical, too. It's easy to clean and can't be stained. It's fireproof, of course. And the tile colors never fade!

A GOOD PLACE TO RELAX — The only changes the Farleys made in the biggest bedroom upstairs were to add two closets and replace a small window with French doors. They strengthened the little porch outside the room so that it would be usable. A chaise longue with a good reading lamp next to it offers a place to read and relax at the same time. The gray-green walls set off the dark furniture well.

"I'M HUNGRY, MOM!" — The eternal cry of a small boy between meals is answered when Mrs. Farley offers her son, George, a banana to still the pangs of hunger. Her work units are concentrated in one corner of the kitchen. The pass-through to the utility room lets more light into the kitchen and provides Mrs. Farley with a view while she works at the sink. Cupboards are pale blue, splashboards and counter tops coral.

Air Spaces in Wood Retard Passage of Heat

Most people wonder why wood is a non-conductor of heat and cold and why it makes such a good insulating material when used for sheathing and siding a home.

* * *

The West Coast Lumbermen's Assn. points out that the structure of wood, such as the popular Douglas fir and west coast hemlock, is comprised of millions of cells containing dead air space which retard the passage of heat and cold.

Plate Glass Distortions Ruin Exterior Features

Distortions and surface irregularities in plate glass can be as unsightly to a glass-front house as streaky paint to a house of frame, says Otto Wenzler, architectural consultant.

* * *

To eliminate wavy lines—and to produce straight-line reflections—plate glass for home construction is now available which has been "twin ground" so each surface is exactly parallel. The appearance of the house is improved, and at the same time visibility from the interior is heightened.

Home Modernization Protects Investment

Of every 10 American nonfarm homes, one is a slum, four need major repairs and the other five require at least routine maintenance, says the Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers Association.

* * *

Five million dwellings are slums today despite rising incomes and higher standards of living. Since 1945, ten million new homes have been built in the United States. Housing represents the nation's biggest investment — 250 billion dollars.

This investment can be protected through home modernization. Often, the comfort and value of older homes can be restored. Most older homes suffer from lack of adequate plumbing facilities. Yet, with a little effort and a minimum investment plumbing can be modernized, bathrooms can be enlarged or extra facilities can be added.

The bathroom, more than any other room, shows the age of a home. Old, worn out fixtures make a home uncomfortable and unattractive. Replacing such fixtures with new colored equipment is a practical beginning to a worthwhile home modernization program.

Kitchen Can Welcome Washer and Dryer

Don't feel that you're eternally tied to the clothesline if you have no utility room available for the equipment. Design achievements by the nation's appliance manufacturers, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Assn., have produced such compact units that a washer and dryer now can be installed in kitchens, basements, or even service porches.

In addition, the flat top of the gas dryer, a standard height of 36 inches from the floor, provides useful counter or working space wherever it is installed.

Give Liquid Feedings

Summer bulbs, including of course, tuberous begonias, benefit mightily by liquid feedings . . . including manure water the color of weak tea . . . every couple of weeks.

PIRATEER SKIFF — The newest plaything for the pre-teenage crowd is this plastic skiff. It is manufactured in Ypsilanti.

Skiff Designed for Small Fry

A 5-foot skiff, designed expressly for pre-teenagers, is extremely light in weight but durable enough to withstand strenuous play at camp or at the beach. Hull, deck and cockpit are vacuum-formed from sheets made of high-impact styrene plastic.

* * *

The parts for this boat made by Plastiform Company, Ypsilanti, Mich., are among the largest ever made by this technique.

In appearance, the new small craft is a scale reproduction of a standard skiff, complete with sleek plank styling. Since the entire deck and entire hull are formed as single pieces, there are no sharp edges to cause cuts and scratches, no small parts to come loose and get lost. In addition, upkeep from season to season is negligible since there are no parts to rust, rot, or mildew.

High-impact styrenes are specially formulated for applications which require resistance to shock, corrosion and water. Inner chambers of the skiff are filled with lightweight plastic foam which provides added rigidity and buoyancy as well as resistance to leakage from possible punctures in the hull.

* * *

Designed to provide the small child with a maximum of fun and exercise and a minimum of bother for parents, the entire boat weighs only 10 pounds. This means that a grade-school youngster can easily carry it. He does not have to call for assistance every time he wants to put it in or take it out of the water.

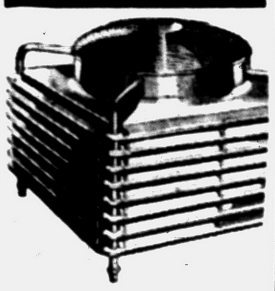

The colorful skiff, which has a red deck and a white hull, measures 5 feet long by 19 inches wide by 8 inches deep.

To propel it through the water, the youngster sits on the bottom and paddles with both hands. The cockpit, which is large enough for two small children, measures 31 inches long by 17 inches wide by 6 inches deep.

Displacement is over 200 pounds, according to the manufacturer. The skiff comes with a rope to provide safe anchorage in shallow water for very small tots.

When six-cylinder cars were introduced into the Belgian Congo, cotton-print artists ornamented fabrics with spark plugs. Wearers became known as six-spark-plug women, the National Geographic Society reports.

Double Pane Window Blocks Sun's Heat

The heat-tight "parasol" that many a modern home is—walls and roof that are fully insulated to protect against the summer sun—has sprung a leak if windows are of conventional, one-thickness glass.

* * *

According to Gordon W. Orbeson, air conditioning specialist, heat-absorbing Thermopane glass — a two-pane insulating glass — is 53 per cent more effective in blocking direct solar radiation than conventional plate glass.

* * *

Such double-pane windows save on air conditioning expense in summer and on heating expense in winter, and result in quieter rooms, especially if the home is located near noisy street traffic.

Pilot Holes Necessary in Piercing Plywood

In fastening ¾-inch hardwood plywood with screws in home furniture projects, pilot holes often must be drilled because the denseness of the plywood makes the screws difficult to turn.

* * *

Drill a hole to accommodate the shank of the screw in the first piece of plywood, and a hole narrower than the screw in the second piece for a sound anchor. Countersink the screw and fill the hole with a matching wood plug or filler.

THEY DID IT THEMSELVES — This lot full of trees, flowers and shrubs is a far cry from the sumac-filled fields the Albert Joyces had when they bought their 5½ acres on Malcolm street in 1942. For a year before World War II and eleven years since, they have spent every possible hour building their home. Now their five-room cement block house, with full basement, is complete. It's a real do-it-yourself project.

It Took 11 Years to Build a House

When you have put eleven long years — and more — into building your home, it means something more than just cement blocks and wood and shingles. It's a time out of your life.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Joyce of Malcolm street, out near the TB hospital, bought five and a half acres of land in 1942. Mr. Joyce dug the basement with a tractor and shovel. In one year they had the frame up, plumbing and insulation installed, and the roof on.

Then Mr. Joyce went to war for three years. Mrs. Joyce and her eight-year-old son lived in the partially finished house until their family was reunited.

Since the end of World War II the Joyces have spent every possible hour they could spare on their home. Not wishing to have a mortgage hanging over their heads, they bought only what they could pay for at the time.

Now they have a five room home with a full basement, set in the midst of a completely landscaped lot. The cement blocks are painted pale green, with asbestos siding on the second story.

They bought second hand flooring from houses being torn down to spare the expense of new hardwood. For one whole winter the entire family cleaned paint off flooring. It was worth it, Mrs. Joyce says.

Mr. Joyce made all the trim and woodwork in his own wood-working shop. He is now busy making furniture for the house. At present, his project is a cherry bedroom set.

The ceramic tile bathroom and the plastering were the only jobs the Joyces hired done. Mrs. Joyce did all she could do, from nailing to holding boards while her husband sawed them.

Doing it yourself is a fine idea. Not everyone can or wants to pay the price of years and years of sticking to the job. The Joyce family thinks it worthwhile.

These Suggestions Help Pare Heat Bill

To keep the operating cost of a water heater down, a heater manufacturer makes these suggestions to householders:

1. Set the operating temperature no higher than 140 degrees Fahrenheit. Excessive water temperature is a principal cause of scale formation inside the tank, and this reduces the efficiency of the water heater. The rate of scale formation at 160 degrees is 3½ times as great as at 140 degrees.
2. Every two weeks, draw water through the heater drain cock until the water runs clean. This removes sediment. Whenever sediment accumulates at the bottom of the tank, it builds up a layer of insulation. For the heat of the burner flame to penetrate this layer, the burner must operate longer. Coleman engineers point out that this increases gas consumption.
3. Insulate long runs of pipe. After hot water is drawn from a faucet, some remains in the pipe. In a non-insulated pipe, this cools rapidly. Insulating the pipes reduces the loss.

Sewer Decision in Few Months

State Supreme Court Hears Arguments on City-Township Pact

A decision is expected to be handed down from the Michigan Supreme Court in "a few months" on the 1955 sewage hookup dispute between the city of Pontiac and a proposed shopping center at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Rds. in Waterford Township.

The high tribunal heard both sides of the case in a one-hour session yesterday. Judge Glenn C. Gillespie presented the case for the city while Detroit attorney Donald Barris represented the center.

A Nov. 9 ruling by former Port Huron Circuit Judge Eugene F. Black was appealed to the high court in January by Waterford Attorney John W. Bell and the center.

City Attorney William A. Ewart, also present at yesterday's hearing, said "he felt confident the court will sustain the decision of Judge Black."

Judge Black ruled the center could not hook up to the city's sewer system.

"If they reverse the decision they would be re-writing the agreement under which the dispute arose," Ewart added.

Pontiac filed the suit last August contending Waterford's attempt to link the center with the city system violated the 1935 agreemen.

Barris could not be reached for comment this morning.

State Pays Top Unemployment Aid; but Still Lagging in Ratio of Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor Department statistics show that Michigan pays the highest average state unemployment compensation benefit in the nation, but is low among states in the ratio of benefits to normal wages.

Questions about the status of Michigan's unemployment compensation (UC) law in relation to the laws of other states have been raised in connection with a move to raise benefits at the new session of the Michigan Legislature.

Higher benefits have been advocated by Gov. G. Mennen Williams and the United Auto Workers union (UAW).

Data published by the Labor Department's bureau of employment security shows that the average Michigan state jobless payment in March was $34 a week, or nearly $2 higher than the average benefit paid by any other state. The next highest state was Nevada with $32.07.

Michigan's $34 weekly benefit average in March compared with a national benefit average of $27.12. Only Alaska, which has exceptionally high living costs, exceeded Michigan with $34.91.

In April the average Michigan payment was down a bit to $33.85 compared with the national average of $27.02.

Michigan, however, is shown by the government figures to be well down the lists of states in comparing average unemployment compensation payments with average normal wages.

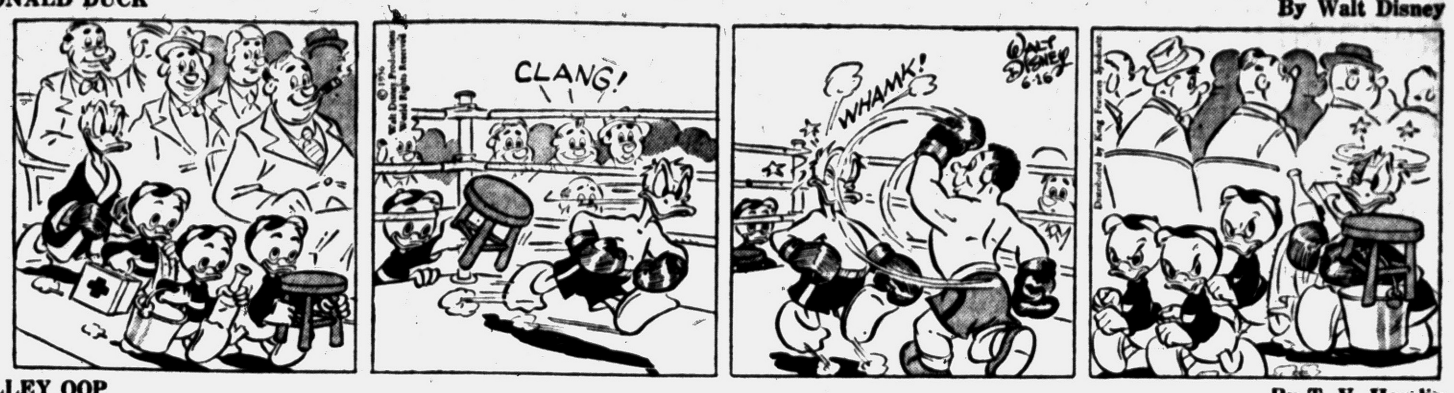

In other words, while all states make lower average actual payments, some of them pay a higher ratio to normal earnings. This is due to the relatively high wage rates paid in Michigan.

President Eisenhower has urged a level of benefits by all states to give the great majority of workers when unemployed at least half their regular earnings received when employed.

No state has reached this goal, the closest being Wyoming's 42 per cent ratio of benefits to earnings. In Michigan the ratio is 35 per cent, making the state 23rd on the list in this respect. The national average of benefits to earnings is 33.7 per cent, so Michigan is slightly above that average.

Michigan pays a maximum of $30 to $54 weekly unemployment benefit, but relatively few workers qualify for $54 because to qualify for that, he must have at least four children and earn more than $106 a week. Michigan is among 31 states paying at least $30 maximum benefits. New York and Wisconsin pay a $36 maximum.

Released Priests Reportedly Well

2 American Catholics Will Rest in Shanghai for a Few Days

HONG KONG (AP)—Two American Roman Catholic priests freed after three years in Red Chinese prisons reported today from Shanghai they are well and have been told to rest a few days in the Chinese city.

* * *

The two priests, the Rev. John William Clifford and the Rev. Thomas Leonard Phillips, both of San Francisco, talked with The Associated Press by telephone.

They were among 13 Americans known to be imprisoned in Red China. Peiping radio said yesterday the priests are being released. Officials here said it was believed they would reach Hong Kong within a week.

"Please tell our loves ones we have been released and we are well," said Father Clifford, 39, speaking in a strong, clear voice.

* * *

"We were just released last night and don't know exactly what the situation is. We have simply been told by authorities to come here and rest a few days. There's nothing wrong with us, but it is not clear yet what we are to do."

* * *

They were sentenced to three years in a special trial last November on charges of espionage and counterrevolutionary activity.

Red China refused last Jan. 6 to release the last 13 Americans they held despite a promise Sept. 10, 1955, to free all those held.

Shirley Miller Becomes Bride of J. Westveer

ROCHESTER — Shirley Miller, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Miller and the late Milton Miller of Rochester, became the bride of John Gilbert Westveer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert N. Westveer of Utica in recent evening rites.

She chose a gown of Chantilly lace over satin with pearls holding her short illusion veil. She carried white carnations centered by an orchid.

Joyce Miller was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mary Miller of Pontiac, and Mildred Ash of Rochester. Judy Miller was flower girl.

Newel Westveer of Utica, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Melvin Miller of Pontiac and Henry Breederland of Utica seated the guests and Donald Miller bore the ring.

After a reception at Avon Township hall the couple left on a northern Michigan trip. They will make their home in Rochester.

Storm Damage Costs $14 Million

State Hail, Wind Losses Greater Than Tornado, Says Insurance Service

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Insurance Information Service said today that stormy weather in the state this spring caused insured damage totaling about 14 million dollars.

More than 23,000 residences, businesses, industries, farms, mobile homes and automobiles suffered damage.

* * *

The information service, a new agency financed by about a dozen insurance firms, said ifs data represented the composite judgment of insurance adjusters.

There is no provision for systematic compilation of loss figures, it said.

While tornadoes produced the spectacular losses, non - tornadic winds and hail were responsible for a far greater number of losses and a large proportion of dollar-volume damage, the service said.

One of the most destructive events in this category was a hail storm at Muskegon in which hailstones large as baseballs struck on May 12.

Tops, hoods, trunks and fenders of automobiles were so severely dented as to be unrepairable by bumping processes, requiring unit replacements.

Losses were estimated to average $300 a car, and a single company paid claims totaling more than $150,000 in Muskegon alone, the service said.

In and around Flint where one of the state's spring tornadoes hit, about 3,000 television antennae were destroyed or damaged, accounting for insured loss of ar. other $150,000

Dr. E. D. Jones Eulogized by UM Board of Regents

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan's regents yesterday honored the Rev. Dr. Edgar DeWitt Jones, the late minister emeritus of the Central Woodward Christian Church, as "an eloquent and inspiring man of God."

The regents passed a memorial citation to be sent to Dr. Jones' widow at their regular monthly meeting yesterday. The citation said in part:

"Men of all stations came to him for peace and understanding. The highest honors of his calling were showered upon him . . . the beauty of his speech, the richness of his person, the breadth of his knowledge . . . have made him a treasured memory."

Dr. Jones was the author and editor of many books and served as a guest correspondent for a Detroit newspaper.

The regents also honored two retiring administrators of other Michigan colleges.

They resolved their good wishes to Dr. Grover C. Dillman, president of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology since 1935, and Dr. Henry A. Tape, president of Northern Michigan College of Education since 1940.

2 Persons Injured as Auto Rolls Over

Two Milford persons required hospital treatment last night when the car in which they were passengers went off the road and rolled over twice on Teggerdine Rd., White Lake Township.

Harold Hammond, 22, suffered a bruised right arm and chest, and Betty Barkham, 17, had a bruised right knee. Both were released after being treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

The car was driven by Milton W. McDowell, of 3536 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township. He told investigating Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he lost control of the car when the right front wheel struck soft dirt.

Five-Year Leave Brings Preacher From Mission

ORTONVILLE — A missionary home on furlough after his first five years of service in Africa, the Rev. Ovid Stine will preach in his home church, Ortonville Methodist Church tomorrow morning at 11.

He will show pictures and slides of his work in Southern Rodesia, Africa, at a 7:30 p.m. service tomorrow, as well.

Mr. and Mrs. Stine arrived recently, and will return June 29 to Africa. During his stay in this country he has been attending Southern Illinois university.

He is a graduate of Asbury College and Asbury Theological School in Wilmore, Ky., and his wife, a graduate from Murray State College, Murray, Ky., was a Tennessee resident. They have two children, Philip and Naomi.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stine, members of the Ortonville Methodist church.

Car Inventories Cut by 4,000 Units Daily

DETROIT (AP) — Ward's Automotive Reports said yesterday retail car inventories, at record levels earlier this year, are being reduced at a rate of nearly 4,000 units daily, due to improving sales and tightly controlled production.

Considering present trends, the agency said, "The auto industry is pointing towards a near record 3,155,000 new car sales for January-June, nearly equalling expected production of 3,200,000 units."

Ward's placed this week's U. S. car production at 102,544 units against 105,074 last week and 139,743 in th like 1955 week. This week's truck assemblies are estimated at 22,035 compared with 21,480 last week and 25,694 in the comparable 1955 week.

Store Sues Dodge

DETROIT (AP) — The J. L. Hudson Co. has filed notice of intent to file suit against Millionaire Horace E. Dodge for recovery of $12,000. An attorney for the department store said the intent was filed Wednesday to recover the amount which represents the price of merchandise sold to the auto heir due since last November.

Plan Center in Lake Orion

Civic, Church Units Unite to Initiate Building Ideas

LAKE ORION—A group representing the service organizations, village, youth center, library, church and interested citizens met with the Chamber of Commerce at the Village Hall last night to discuss the building of a community center.

* * *

Although practically unanimous approval of the building was voiced, such a variety of ideas as to size and use of the proposed building were expressed that a representative committee meeting was called for next Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Village Hall.

Definite committees to submit plans on the size, cost, management, and site will be appointed at this meeting.

In the interim each group was asked to consider their needs in regard to the proposed building, and to check the size, method of management and operation, and costs of other buildings they consider adequate.

Band Registrations Slated at Lake Orion

The six weeks of band will be tuition free to all present band members.

Borrow or Trim at Walled Lake, Predicts Smart

WALLED LAKE — A meeting of the Walled Lake School board is set for Monday, when, according to Superintendent of Schools Clifford H. Smart, the board will either borrow funds or trim the coming year's budget.

Classloads might be increased, he says. He adds that no attendance officer will be hired to replace the late Frank Wigent, and that all educational field trips will be cancelled.

A total of 17 vacancies in the elementary school faculties exists, he said, speaking before Walled Lake School employes.

At the board meeting, he theorized that members might approve borrowing state aid money this year from the following year's allotments.

Lakeland to Begin Vacation School

WATERFORD — Daily vacation Bible school will be held in the Lakeland United Presbyterian Church Monday through June 29, with sessions from 9 a.m. until noon on weekdays.

Classes will be held for beginners, primaries, juniors and intermediates. Pre-school children four years of age who will enter school next fall may also attend.

Theme of this year's school will be "Champions for Christ." The closing program, to which parents are invited, will be held on June 27, at 7:30 p.m.

NORTH BRANCH—In marriage rites performed recently, Norma Ruth Moore became the bride of James Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Sherman of East Lansing.

Norma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Moore of 7525 Mowatt Rd., was dressed in a gown of white lace over taffeta. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a satin crown studded with pearls. White roses and an orchid comprised her bridal flowers.

Edith Robinson of Perry, the groom's sister, served as matron of honor. Roancy Osborne of Midland and Alice Pettifor of Gaylord, college friends, were the bridesmaids.

Beverly Sherman of East Lansing, niece of the groom, and Timothy Greenwood of E. Detroit, the bride's cousin, appeared respectively as flower girl and ring bearer.

Myron Manchester of Flint was best man, assisted by Noble Sherman Jr., the groom's brother, of East Lansing, and by Russell Moore of North Branch, brother of the bride.

A reception for 200 guests at the Rich Township Hall followed the ceremony. The young Shermans left on a honeymoon trip to the Upper Peninusla.

They will live in Jackson where the groom is employed prior to beginning a theological course. The bride plans to teach in Jackson schools.

North Branch Farmers to Discuss Civics

NORTH BRANCH — The North Branch Community Farm Bureau will meet in the David Brusie farm home at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, June 21. The discussion topic will be, "How Can We Make Citizenship Work At Home?"

Wears Nylon for Wedding

SOUTH LYON — Sylvia Butts, whose parents are the Raymond Butts of 56191 Eight Mile, wore white nylon embossed with forget-me-nots fashioned into a bridal gown by her mother when she married recently.

She is the bride of John H. Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Newman, Sr., of 9821 Peer Road, South Lyon.

Attendants for the wedding were Mrs. Raymond Jenny Jr. of Battle Creek, matron of honor Joan Butts and Carol Newman, sister of the groom, bridemaids, and Sharon Newman, sister of the groom, flower girl.

Best Man was William Newman, ushers were Richard Hann and Richard Workman, and ringbearer, Mark Brigham.

Receptions were held in the church dining room for the 125 wedding guests, and at the bride's parental home for immediate families.

Art Brandenburg Joins the Life Leaders of Mich.

ARTHUR L. BRANDENBURG

Mr. Louis Pohl, manager of the Pontiac District office of the Life Insurance of Virginia, announced today that Mr. Arthur L. Brandenburg has been named to the Life Leaders of Michigan Club.

This is another honor that Art has received during his career with the Life Insurance Co. of Virginia. Mr. Brandenburg was recently elected Chairman of the Life Underwriters Training Course Committee by the local chapter of the Life Underwriters.

Recently appointed to his position of Associate Manager in the local office, Mr. Brandenburg has sixteen years of experience with the Salvation Army and Boy Scouts, and this background will help him immensely in training of his staff to assist and advise individuals and families in their plans for financial security through one of the oldest and largest life insurance companies, the Life of Virginia.

Statewide Alarm Out for City Man

A statewide alarm was out today for a Pontiac man being sought for uttering and publishing and the alleged cashing of forged checks throughout the city, detectives of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department announced today.

Joseph R. Freer, 26, of 111 Lafayette St., was last seen in this area Friday night. Checks recovered from local stores have totaled approximately $2,000, according to detectives. The checks were said to have been stolen from the Newmyer-Coulson Construction Co., Auburn Heights where the man was employed as a bookkeeper.

Frank Coulson, part owner of the firm, has estimated the total value of forged checks would reach $5,000 to $10,000.

More of the 14 checks passed here were recovered yesterday by detectives Leo Hazen and Harry Maur. A warrant for the man's arrest was issued earlier this week by George Taylor, assistant Oakland County prosecutor.

Lapeer Girl Picked as Olympic Fencer

NEW YORK (AP)—Judy Goodrich, 16, of Lapeer, Mich., has qualified to represent the United States in fencing at the Olympic Games in Australia.

Miss Goodrich, who is Michigan State champion, was third in the national championships in New York. Jan Romery, former national champion, placed first and Maxine Mitchell, defending national champion, was second.

Japs Supplant U.S. Seamen?

Say Military Transport Fired Americans, Hired Low-Paid Japanese

TOKYO (AP)—The U. S. government's Military Sea Transport Service was accused today of hiring low-paid Japanese to replace American seamen on its ships in the Far East.

Harry Hurt of San Francisco, spokesman for a group of the American sailors, said more than 90 had received "termination" notices in the last two weeks.

* * *

In other cases, Hurt said, American officers have been reduced in rank and Japanese put over them. He said an American third officer making $5,722 a year was supplanted by a Japanese getting about $500 a year.

A spokesman for the Transport Service said its personnel is being trimmed because 5 of the 22 ships it has operated in the Far East have been transferred to other areas.

A spokesman for the seamen contended that "in almost every instance the American who has lost his job has been replaced by a new Japanese."

The seamen said they had cabled protests to President Eisenhower and a number of U. S. senators, including Knowland and Kuchel (R-Calif), Magnuson (D-Wash), Johnson (D-Tex) and Long (D-La). They said they had had no answers.

Gotham Transit Unit Seeking Injunction

NEW YORK (AP)—The City Transit Authority took legal steps early today to avert another citywide subway strike threatened for next week.

The action is aimed at the Motormen's Benevolent Assn., which called Thursday's crippling nine-hour walkout.

Theodore Loos, MBA president, said the union "will obey the rulings of the court" but added:

"The men are restless and resent very strongly the Transit Authority's latest high-handed action."

A court order requiring the MBA to show cause why it should not be enjoined from striking again was signed by Supreme Court Justice Jacob Markowitz. It is returnable in Manhattan at 10 a.m. Monday.

The MBA already is on record by voice vote for a strike next Wednesday. Its members are scheduled to make a definite decision at a meeting Tuesday night.

Songwriter Fain to Pay $12,000 Yearly Alimony

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Songwriter Sammy Fain has been ordered to pay $1,000 a month temporary alimony to his estranged wife, actress Jane Fischer, 24.

Court Commissioner Arthur K. Marshall ordered Fain to make the payments for six months, with the amount dropping to $400 a month after that until their divorce suit is heard.

'Outlook' Gains Maturity in Covering News on TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Too often a regular television program is panned on its first appearance by a critic who never bothers to look at it again. But television programs, like children, often improve with age.

Take the case of "Outlook" (NBC-TV, Sundays, 4:30 p.m., EST). Several weeks ago, immediately after its birth, I paddled it soundly for not acting like a man. Then I went away for a while and forgot all about it—until last Sunday when I tuned in again.

A BIG CHANGE

What a transformation! From now on I'm going to look at "Outlook" every Sunday that I can. In this short time it has shot through adolescence, graduated from college and now—to me—is a completely mature and thoroughly interesting creature. It is television journalism at its best.

Chet Huntley and the other guiding lights of "Outlook" took on a tough assignment when they launched a weekend news and review program. They not only had the problem of appearing opposite the always formidable Eric Sevareid on the opposition CBS-TV. They had all the problems that Sevareid has in creating such a weekend half-hour program.

SCANTY NEWS

News usually is scant over a weekend. But last weekend there was the news of the President's illness. "Outlook" not only offered full up to the minute coverage of Mr. Eisenhower's condition; it recognized its interpretive function and discussed some of the legal and constitutional problems involved when a President is incapacitated.

* * *

In another current and seemingly not very important news event it found matters of great interest and significance: the decline of the Socialist party, which held its annual convention in a small, smoke-filled Chicago hotel room. In a few brief minutes, combining good photography with intelligent script, "Outlook" conveyed interesting history from a relatively minor event.

Detective Shot Dead in Chicago Flareup

CHICAGO (AP)—A detective was killed and three other persons were wounded in a shooting affray early today on the South Side.

Detective John Blythe, 44, was killed.

The wounded were Thomas Sylvester, 43, Charles Leggit, 47, not seriously hurt, and a man identified tentatively as James Dukes, shot in the chest.

heard the shots and investigated. During an exchange of shots

Patrick Deeley, chief of detectives, said Sylvester and Leggit were painting the interior of a church when they heard a woman scream in the alley. They investigated and were shot by a man.

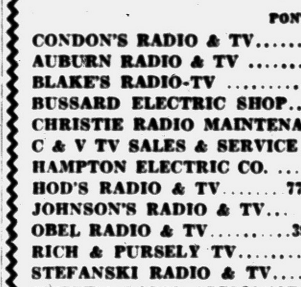

Blythe and a detective partner Blythe was shot fatally.

Shortly afterward police arrested Dukes nearby. He had been shot in the chest.

Young Jail Breakers

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Playtime cowboys and Indians, cops and robbers—old stuff. Two Albuquerque small fry stampeded past a startled householder. "Hi," yelled one. "Who ya chasing?" asked the householder. "Oh, we're not chasing anybody," came the reply. "We just broke prison! The guards are after us!"

Norwegian Leaders Restrict Car Sales

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Norwegians want to buy automobiles, but they are hard to get.

The government restricts imports from Western European countries to conserve dollar and other hard currency reserves. Imports from Communist countries depend on trade agreements.

* * *

This year Norway will import 4,000 cars made behind the Iron Curtain—2,000 from Russia, the rest from East Germany, Czechoslovakia and Poland. From Western Europe Norway will bring in another 4,000 passenger cars and 3,000 panel trucks.

The only automobiles to be imported from the United States will be 500 large passenger cars for taxi use.

About 25,000 Norwegians have applied for permits to buy Western cars as against the 4,000 to be imported. Eastern cars are sold freely, but they are not popular.

Race Track Workers Escape Lightning Death

CHICAGO (AP)—Three persons escaped injury yesterday when lightning struck and demolished a tower housing the photo finish crew at Washington Park where the Balmoral horse race meeting is being held.

Robert Kuprion of the photo finish crew and two placing judges were knocked to the floor.

Florida GOP Shies on Backing of Nixon

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Florida delegates to the Republican National Convention shied away from endorsing Vice President Nixon for either the No. 1 or No. 2 place on the ticket in November.

* * *

At the organization meeting yesterday for the 26 delegates a proposed resolution which said they are pledged to President Eisenhower and Nixon ran into immediate opposition.

* * *

"I think we should wait until we get further along," said Paul L. E. Helliwell of Miami, a district delegate and state chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee. "I'm for President Eisenhower until the cows come home, but if we pledge ourselves today to Vice President Nixon, . . . we may destroy our freedom to vote at the convention if Mr. Eisenhower does not run for renomination."

Actress Joanne Gilbert Files Divorce Petition

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer-actress Joanne Gilbert, 23, has filed suit to end her marriage of less than a year to film writer Danny Arnold, 31.

The divorce complaint, filed yesterday, charges cruelty.
