Welcome to the 2006-07 NCAA Division I basketball season at Oakland University!

This year at Oakland University, we are celebrating five decades of innovation and opportunity as we mark our 50th anniversary. From academics to athletics and from research to cultural experiences, Oakland University strives for excellence in all its programs. We take great pride in the success and growth of our men's and women's basketball programs and the achievements of all our student athletes.

Our women's basketball team advanced to the national tournament last year, following in the footsteps of our men's team which earned a spot in 2004. In addition to going to the NCAA tournament, the women's basketball team was named to the 2005-06 Academic Top 25 Team Honor Roll by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association. Oakland, ranking seventh on the honor roll, was the only Division I team from the state of Michigan in the top 25.

During the Winter 2006 term, 168 student-athletes representing all 16 varsity teams attained the Golden Grizzlies Excellence in Academics honor. Last season, Oakland had a total of 68 student-athletes named to the 2006 Mid-Continent Commissioners List of Academic Excellence, the third-most among league members.

This year, more than 18,000 students chose Oakland for their education - the highest enrollment in our history. With a wide variety of liberal arts and professional programs - including 115 bachelor's degrees and more than 90 graduate degree and certificate programs - Oakland is committed to providing a distinctive education.

In addition to Division I sporting events, the university welcomes the community to campus for many other cultural and recreational offerings. Enjoy student productions through the College of Arts and Sciences' Department of Music, Theatre and Dance, take in an exhibit at the Oakland University Art Gallery, tour the magnificent Meadow Brook Hall, or hit the links at one of our two outstanding golf courses. For a complete list of activities, visit our Web site at www.oakland.edu.

Thank you for supporting the Golden Grizzlies and Oakland University as we look forward to our next 50 great years.

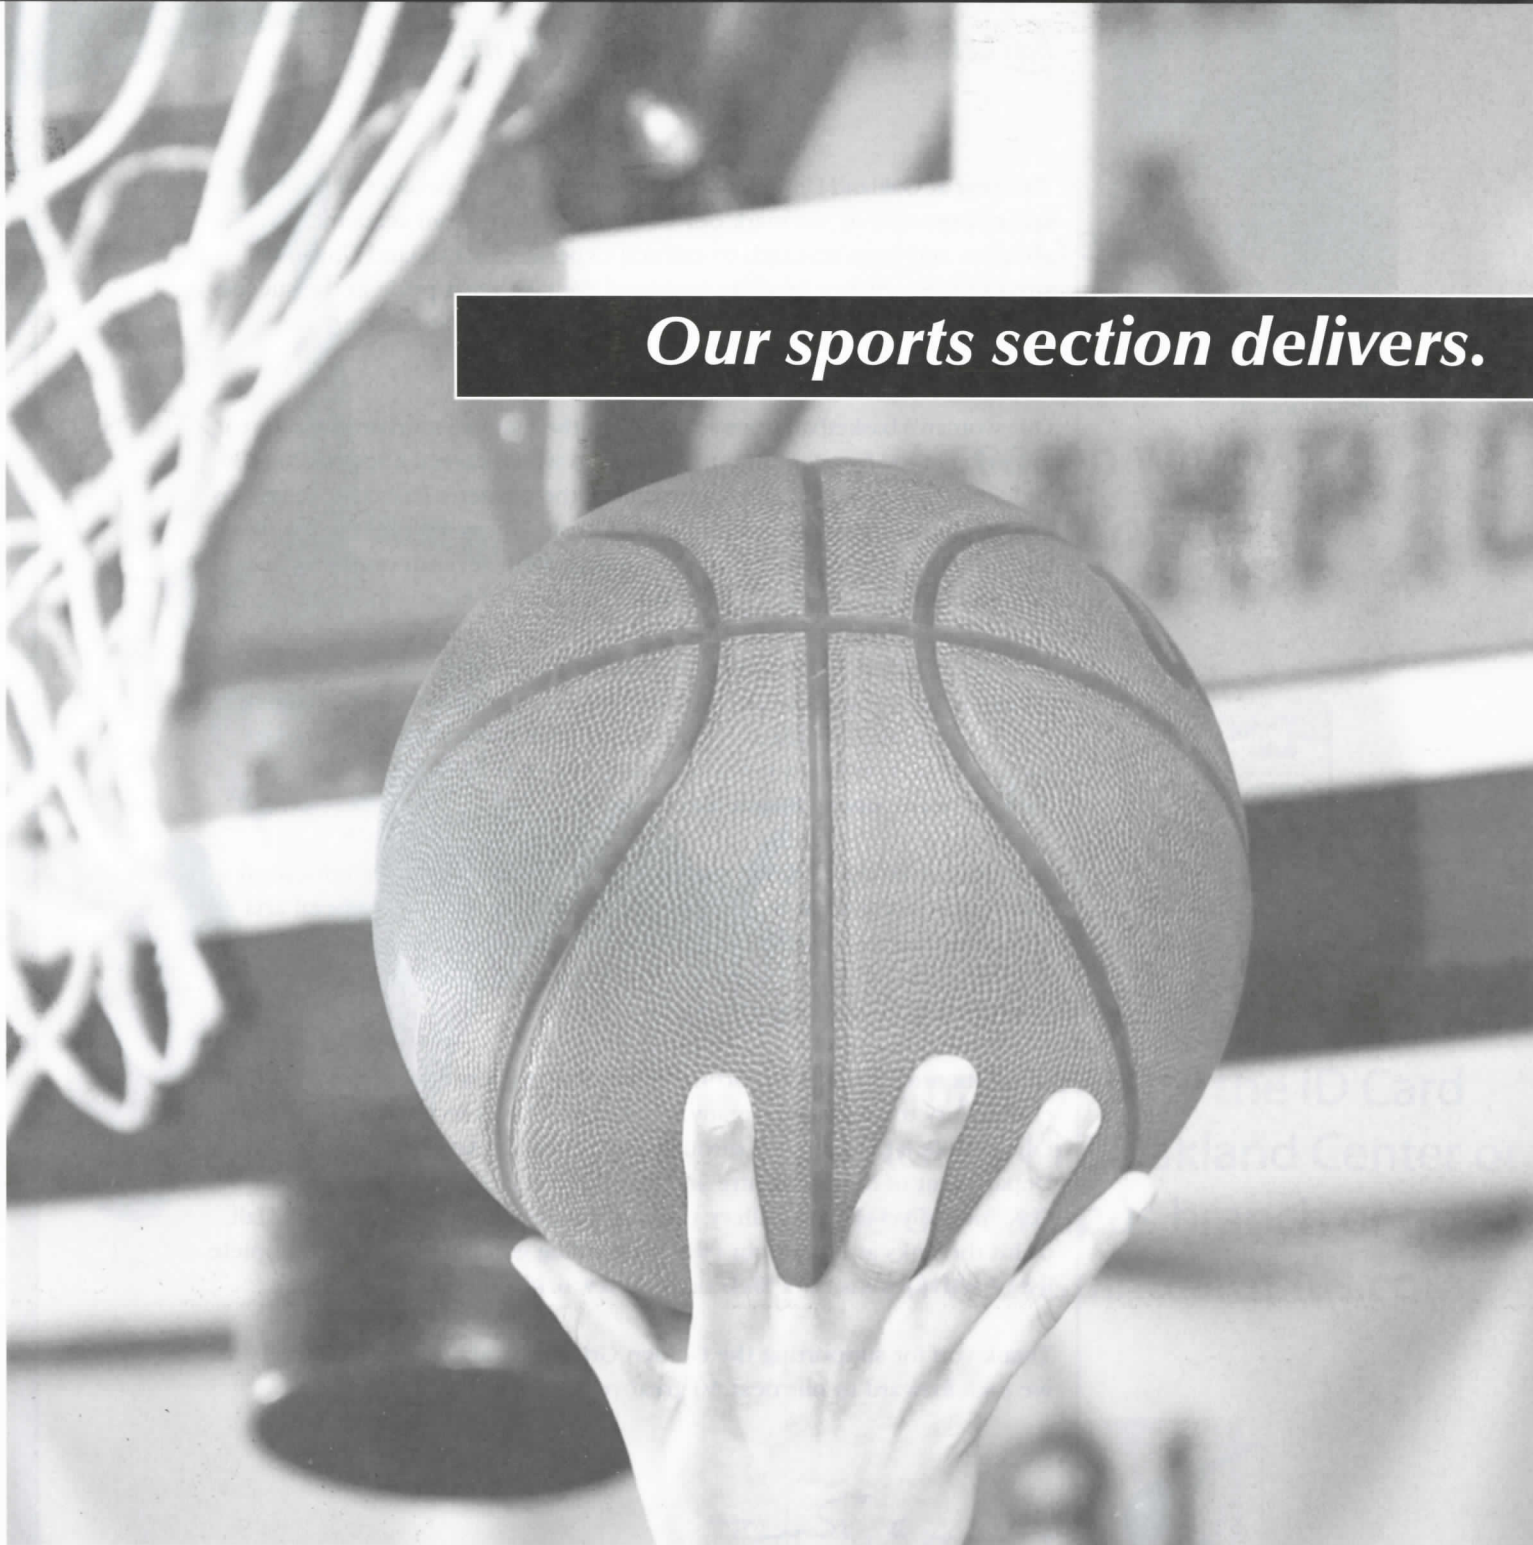

Sincerely,

Gary D. Russi

OAKLAND UNIVERSITY HEAD COACHES

Entering his 23rd season at the helm of the Oakland University men's basketball program, there is not much that Greg Kampe has not achieved with the Golden Grizzly program. At the beginning of his career he molded OU into one of the top teams in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletics Conference before successfully guiding the program in its transition from Division II to Division I play. After just seven years in Division I, Kampe had averaged 14 wins per season, won a Mid-Con title, made an NCAA Tournament appearance, been named national Coach of the Year and won a regular season Mid-Con title. Entering this season, only seven other Division I coaches have been with their school longer than Kampe.

Overall Kampe has guided Oakland through 22 seasons, compiling an overall record of 360-273, a record that places him among the winningest active Division I coaches.

Beckie Francis rejoined Oakland's staff in 2005-06 as the school's ninth head women's basketball coach. The former skipper of the Golden Grizzlies from 1997-98 through the 2001-02 season returns to the helm after a three-year break in coaching.

In her six years at Oakland, Francis has put together a 105-70 overall record, bringing her career coaching record to 135-117. During the school's infancy in the league, she led Oakland to two Mid-Con regular season titles (2000 and '01) as well as a Mid-Con tournament championship in 2002 that gave the Golden Grizzlies their first bid to the NCAA Tournament. She then followed that up with another Mid-Con title and NCAA bid last season.

Francis was also an accomplished player at all levels of the game. A four-year starter and three-year captain at Colgate University, Francis is the Red Raiders 11th all-time leading scorer with 1,229 points and is second all-time in assists (403) and assists per game (3.73). The 1987 graduate of Colgate is also tied for fourth all-time in steals (224) and is seventh in field goal percentage (.412). She was inducted into the Colgate Athletic Hall of Fame in November 2001.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Oakland returns four starters and all but two letterwinners from the 2005-06 team, making it the most experienced and deepest returning squad in the Mid-Continent Conference. Of the two players lost, only Calvin Wooten saw significant action a year ago, starting every game but one and leading the team in scoring. The only other player lost from last season's roster, David Ritzema, saw playing time in only two games due to injuries.

- Speaking of rebounding, Oakland was one of the best in the league in that department a year ago and returns all of the major players in that area. Last season the Golden Grizzlies finished third in the league in rebounding margin, one of just three teams to record a positive rebounding margin. OU was especially effective on the offensive glass where the team led the Mid-Con with 14.03 offensive boards per game. Vova Severovas, Derick Nelson and Shawn Hopes all ranked in the top-10 in the league in offensive rebounds.

- Senior Vova Severovas returns for his final season after earning honorable mention All-Mid-Con honors as a junior despite sitting out the first seven games of the season to satisfy transfer requirements. He wound up leading the team in rebounding and was second in scoring, finishing among the top-10 in the Mid-Con in each category. His .594 field goal percentage led the conference and was the 16th best mark in the nation.

- Oakland returns two other seniors for 2006-07; Rick Billings and Shawn Hopes. Billings, like Severovas, sat out the first seven games but earned a starting role after he became eligible, averaging over 11 points and shooting over 50 percent from the field. Hopes was one of the Mid-Con's top shot blockers from his center position with 32 and also finished among the league leaders in rebounding with a 5.5 average.

- With only two players gone from last season's team, Oakland will be one of the most experienced teams in the Mid-Con and the nation. Last season the Golden Grizzlies did not have a senior on the squad, this season OU will have three. Last season Oakland had better than half of its roster at the sophomore level and below; this season the team will be more balanced with a total of six seniors and juniors and a total eight in the sophomore and freshman classes. A year ago OU's starting lineup at the end of the season did not have a player that had played the season before that at OU. In 2006-07 the Golden Grizzlies starting lineup could potentially have all five starters with experience from a year ago.

- Oakland's schedule should once again be one of the toughest in the nation. OU will square off against seven teams that played in the NCAA Tournament last season, including national runner-up UCLA. OU will truly be a team of road warriors during the non-conference portion of the schedule, playing only four home games before January. Included in the schedule are two trips of a week in length that will see the Golden Grizzlies play four and three games. Other NCAA Tournament teams on the schedule include Pitt, Michigan State, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Oral Roberts, Marquette and Arkansas.

- In the "did you know" category, Oakland has five players on its roster that received Mr. Basketball consideration in Michigan. Rick Billings finished second in the voting in 2002, with both Keith MacKenzie and Erik Kangas getting nominations in 2005 when MacKenzie finished fourth in the balloting. Transfer junior Dan Waterstradt was a nominee in 2004. Freshman Jonathon Jones is the latest OU player to have been considered for the honor, finishing fourth in the voting last year.

Former OU men's basketball standout Rawle Marshall, CAS '05, signed a professional contract as a free agent with the Dallas Mavericks, becoming the first Golden Grizzly to sign with an NBA team. Marshall led the Grizzlies to a Mid-Con Tournament championship, the first time ever for OU, earning them a spot in the NCAA Tournament. Marshall is currently a member of the Indiana Pacers.

Eric Stephan

After spending two years as Oakland's Assistant AD for Operations, Eric Stephan moved back into the coaching ranks when he joined the women's staff mid-way through the 2005-06 season. With the successful conclusion to that season, complete with a Mid-Con Tournament championship and trip to the NCAA Tournament, Stephan is ready to begin his first full season as the team's Associate Head Coach in 2006-07.

In his 19th year at Oakland, Stephan spent 16 years as an assistant coach for Greg Kampe and the men's basketball team.

Stephan was a four-year letterwinner and team captain as a senior at Carthage College in Kenosha, Wisconsin. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from Carthage in 1986, where he was also Chairman of the President's Advisory Committee and President of the Student Activities Board.

Ayesha Whitfield
Assistant Coach

Now in her third season with the Golden Grizzlies, Ayesha Whitfield joined the Oakland women's basketball staff after spending the 2003-04 season as the head girls coach and assistant boys coach at Henry Ford High School in Detroit. The year prior to that she served as the assistant girls basketball coach at Cass Tech HS. During the two year span, Whitfield was a substitute teacher with the Detroit Public Schools and additionally coached a local AAU team.

A letterwinner for Minnesota, Whitfield earned her bachelor's degree in material science and engineering in 2002. She spent her freshman season with the Golden Gophers before suffering knee injuries. Whitfield stayed with the team until 1999, then went on to start her high school coaching career at Arlington HS in Minnesota.

Katie Wolfe
Assistant Coach

Former OU starting guard Katie Wolfe is in her third season at her alma mater where she became just the second player in Mid-Con history to receive first team all-league honors all four years of her career.

After playing professionally in Denmark and Iceland, a knee injury ended her playing days and started her coaching career when she accepted a position on the Golden Grizzly staff.

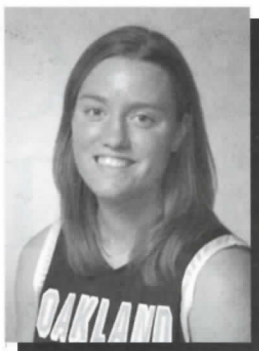

Wolfe enjoyed a very successful career at Oakland, scoring 2,065 points to rank third on OU's all-time list. She also appears on 10 other career lists for Oakland. The Cedar Springs, Michigan native led OU to the school's first Mid-Con Tournament title and an NCAA Tournament berth in 2002.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Oakland will return three of its starters to the 2006-07 version of the Golden Grizzlies as the squad tries to repeat as Mid-Con champions and return to the NCAA Tournament. Seniors Nicole Piggott, Bonnie Baker and sophomore Rikka Terava return from the starting lineup last season. Guards Anne Hafeli and Jayme Wilson are the only two losses from the starting five.

- The loss of Hafeli and Wilson to graduation will be a big hole for OU to fill in 2006-07, as the pair were the top two scorers a year ago, accounting for 45 percent of the team's offense. In fact, the two accounted for a significant portion of every category for the Golden Grizzlies. In addition to scoring, OU will have to replace roughly 30 percent of the rebounding, assists, blocks and steals to fill the hole left by the pair of All-Mid-Con performers.

- Senior Nicole Piggott will be the team's leading returning scorer and the only All-Mid-Con player returning to the fold for 2006-07. Last season she averaged 12.8 points and 5.6 rebounds, finishing third on the squad in scoring and leading the team in rebounding. A starter in all 31 games a year ago, Piggott received honorable mention All-Mid-Con honors. In addition to being a standout on the court, she was also recognized last season for her off the court achievements. She was named the 2006 Mid-Con Scholar-Athlete of the Year, the highest award bestowed by the league. She will also serve as the president of the Oakland Student-Athlete Advisory Committee for the 2006-07 academic year.

- Senior Bonnie Baker was one of two players to start every game last season for OU and returns after a solid junior campaign. She led the team in steals and assists a year ago and was among the top five in scoring and rebounding for the Golden Grizzlies.

- Sophomore Rikka Terava completes the list of Oakland's returning starters. Despite missing seven games near the end of the season with an injury, she provided steady play as one of the team's primary ball handlers and wound up leading the squad in assists per game with a mark of 2.6

- Oakland's roster this season will be a balance between the returning players and newcomers. Seven letterwinners return from a year ago, representing over 57 percent of the minutes played in 2005-06. That experience will be balanced by six new faces on the roster.

- Sophomore April Kidd was another of Oakland's freshman guards that had a solid first season with the Golden Grizzlies. She provided a spark off the bench, reaching double figures in scoring six times and finishing with a scoring average of 5.8 points, making her the third-leading returning scorer for the upcoming season.

- For head coach Beckie Francis it was two consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament with the Golden Grizzlies last season. The 2005-06 season was her first back with OU after a three-season layoff due to health reasons. Her previous season at OU in 2001-02 she also guided the Golden Grizzlies to a Mid-Con championship and NCAA Tournament berth as well.

- While Oakland's roster will certainly be an inexperienced one in terms of OU playing time, the newcomers are not without collegiate playing experience. Four of the six are transfers into the OU program, one from a DI school and three from the JC level, leaving the Golden Grizzlies with just two true freshmen on the roster. Two of the JC transfers, Charlese Greer and Elizabeth Sowers, earned JC All-America honors a year ago.

- A trio of Oakland's players come into the 2006-07 with some international experience on their resumes. Rikka Terava has played for her native country, Finland, on the international stage before. Bonnie Baker and sophomore Jessica Pike traveled to France in August, along with head coach Beckie Francis, as part of a traveling Athletes in Action squad.

Golden Grizzly Seniors Choose Their Own Path to Success

by Shannon Dove, OU Sports Information

Expectations mean different things to different people and a forecast from outside sources such as predictions based on last season's performance or pre-season polls are meaningless to Oakland's women's basketball team, according to seniors Bonnie Baker, Nicole Piggott and Joya Puryear.

"Nothing they say can make us play any better or any worse. It's just all about us and all about what we do when we get out there," Puryear said.

OU returns to the court for the 2006-07 season after its second NCAA Tournament appearance in the program's Division I history, a feat that was exciting for the Golden Grizzlies and one they intend to repeat.

"[Making the tournament] was really exciting. Coming in as a freshman I knew they'd been there two years before, so it was a goal of mine, and to finally make it was really exciting," Piggott said.

"It's your goal every season," Baker added. "First to make it to the tournament and then once you're there to advance."

Teamwork, focus and defense will be the keys to the Golden Grizzlies making the dance again and the seniors are ready for another opportunity to prove what this team is made of.

"We relied on our defense all last year to take us all the way there. A lot has changed, but anybody can play defense: just go out, play hard and leave it all on court," Puryear said.

"We just have to outwork the other team," Baker added.

Though the Golden Grizzlies are confident that they can make another run to the NCAA tournament, the Mid-Con preseason poll has predicted a sixth place finish for Oakland.

"I don't think that preseason polls mean anything because ultimately it comes down to how you play during the season," Piggott said. "But I definitely take it as a challenge. You see that and it makes you mad and you want to prove it wrong."

"Come postseason time, when we make it to the tournament, the poll doesn't matter. We weren't [ranked] that high last year and that made it that much better," Baker said.

"It's voted on without them even having seen what we have yet," Puryear said. "We just have to go out and prove ourselves every night."

The Golden Grizzly seniors are hungry to prove themselves and live up to their own expectations instead of trying to match anybody else's, but above all, they want to make their final year count off the court as well as on it.

"I wouldn't change any of it for the world," Puryear said about her time at Oakland thus far. "I love my teammates, I love being here. Whether we go out of here with a bang or not, I will feel like I had a great time at Oakland."

Golden Grizzlies Get Involved In the Community

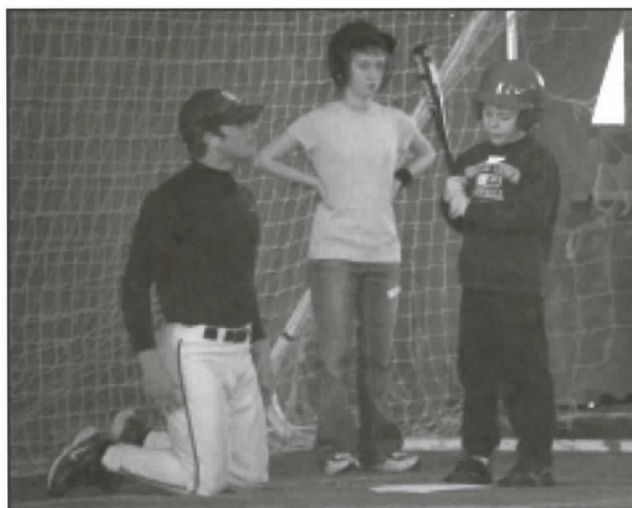

One of the Oakland Athletics Department's goals is to give back to the community that it is a part of and supports it so well, and community service initiatives play a large role in achieving that goal. The entire department—student-athletes, coaches and staff alike—realize the impact that can be made by giving something back and is constantly looking for new projects to become involved in.

"Community service is important to our department, whether it's our student-athletes or staff. It's part of the educational process and mission here at Oakland University," Interim Athletic Director Tracy Huth said.

"It's important that we service our community. At some point in time I think we all get in situations where we need assistance or can have people assist us with educational opportunities, learning opportunities or social awareness. It's very important for our student-athletes and our staff to understand that and be involved with our community."

Recently the women's basketball and volleyball teams helped sort food at Baldwin Community Center and the volleyball team also ushered a movie premier for Jack's Place for Autism. The baseball team is active with Jack's Place for Autism as well, inviting the kids to campus to play baseball each Saturday in the fall.

Student-athletes also volunteer at local events. The men's and women's swimming and diving teams have assisted with the set-up and execution of on-campus events such as the Alumni Association's Family Day and the Mid-Con Championship soccer tournaments. Meanwhile the men's and women's cross country and track teams helped man the aid stations at the Detroit Free Press Marathon, handing out drinks and Goo to runners.

"I've often felt, first as an athlete and now as a coach, that we are an integral part of the community in which we live, both here on campus and within the Auburn Hills and Rochester communities as a whole," swimming head coach Pete Hovland said. "Our athletes are very visible. Whether they want to be or not, they are role models and in this day and age I think it's extremely important to be in a position to give back to the community that's given you so much."

Women's basketball head coach Beckie Francis echoes those sentiments. "I think it's really important for our players to participate in community service and to get out of themselves and think about others. It helps them in life and it helps us during the year. It keeps the pressure off: instead of just thinking about games and practices they actually go out and help other people who are less fortunate."

The volleyball team also participates in the M.O.P.S. program at a local church twice a month, watching children while their parents participate in various church functions.

"Student-athlete's involvement in community service is an important part of the education we're providing," volleyball head coach Dave Schmidlin said. "As a coach, I feel it is one of my responsibilities to help my players develop a sense of citizenship. To do this, I ask my players to come up with community service projects that they want to participate in throughout the year. I believe taking this approach does a few things. First, it gives them an opportunity to get involved with something that is important and meaningful to them. Secondly, I think this involvement provides my players with a different perspective on life and let's them appreciate the opportunities that have been afforded them. Finally, I think it helps plant the seed for continued involvement in their adult lives."

Golden Grizzlies in the Pros

Along with trips to the NCAA Tournament over the past two years and the continued overall success of both the men's and women's basketball programs at Oakland University comes a growing Golden Grizzly presence in the professional ranks. Numerous players from both teams have tested the professional waters with some recent names off the OU rosters finding success as professionals, both at home and abroad.

Most notable on that list is Rawle Marshall. After making history as the first Oakland player to sign an NBA contract when he inked a free agent deal with Dallas in 2006, Marshall made the team and saw action in 23 games with nine starts with the Western Conference champion Mavericks. He also spent time in the NBA D-League where he was one of the top players on that circuit, averaging over 17 points a game.

Rawle Marshall

In the off season Marshall was traded to a team closer to Detroit, becoming an Indiana Pacer when he was traded to Indiana as a part of a four-player deal between the Pacers and Mavericks.

One of Marshall's teammates during OU's NCAA Tournament run two years ago has also made his mark in the professional ranks in Europe. Cortney Scott has played in Turkey and as a member of the Battle Creek (Mich.) Knights in the IBL. He is currently playing in Portugal with Barreirense.

One of two Oakland players to reach the 2,000-point mark, Mike Helms, who saw his last action as a Golden Grizzly in 2004, has found success in Australia. Playing in the National Basketball League for the Hunter Pirates, he quickly became a sensation "Down Under", leading his team and ranking among the league leaders in scoring in his first season.

Mike Helms

This season he has been added to the roster of the Singapore Slingers where he is off to a fast start, leading the NBL in scoring and assists.

Amanda Batcha

While it has been a number of years since his OU playing days, Eric Taylor has had the most success in his professional career so far. Only the second player to score 2,000 points at OU, Taylor left Oakland after the 1992 as a two-time All-American and the holder of a number of school records. He continued his career in Europe, where he was named the MVP of the Swedish league in 2003 as well as making several All-Star appearances.

Three other former Oakland players are on rosters overseas. Jordan Sabourin is playing for Bielefeld in Germany, Sebastian Bellin is with Oostende in Belgium while Kelly Williams is on the other side of the globe, lacing it up with Santa Lucia in the Philippines.

On the women's side former Oakland players have also found success in the professional ranks.

Amanda Batcha, Oakland's former starting center/forward, is now in her second year playing for Horsholm Basketball Club in Horsholm, Denmark. The Mid-Continent Conference all-time leading rebounder with 1,029, she has an Oakland connection on her European club. Former OU assistant coach, Anne Thorius, is a teammate in Denmark and was the team's MVP the last two seasons. Last season the pair helped Horsholm to a 22-1 record.

After winning the Mid-Con's inaugural Sixth Women of the Year award in 2005, Petra Manakova headed back home to Europe and played for a season with the BBV Leipzig Eagles in Germany. The Prague, Czech Republic native has switched clubs this year, moving on to play with Alghero in the Italian league.

Assistant coaches for both of Oakland's teams have seen the professional spotlight as well. Men's assistant Saddi Washington was a No. 1 pick in the CBA, played in Europe and participated in several NBA preseason camps. Katie Wolfe of the women's staff played in both Denmark and Iceland before joining the coaching ranks.

As Oakland's basketball programs continue to grow you can expect to see more Golden Grizzlies joining the professional ranks and spreading the OU name around the world.

FEEL THE EXCITEMENT

Since moving to Division I, our teams have won 14 Mid-Continent Conference regular season titles and 26 Mid-Continent Conference championships, and 19 teams have qualified for NCAA championship competition.

In addition to a stellar athletic performance, Oakland student-athletes routinely receive post-season recognition for their academic success with more than 150 students each semester receiving Golden Grizzlies Excellence in Academics accolades for achieving a 3.0 or higher GPA.

THANK YOU, GOLDEN GRIZZLIES FANS AND FRIENDS

A special thank you to the donors and sponsors who supported Oakland's athletics programs during the 2005-06 season:

For the second time in his career with the Golden Grizzlies, recent graduate and OU soccer defenseman Ryan Rzepka was named the Mid-Continent Conference Male Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

One of the Mid-Con's most dominating swimmers, OU senior Chris Sullivan earned Athlete of the Week honors twice during the season, along with Athlete of the Month and Swimmer of the Year accolades. Sullivan reached the NCAA Division I finals in two events — the 100-yard freestyle and 100-yard butterfly — and finished eighth in both events, placing Oakland, as a team, 25th in the nation.

NCAA COMPLIANCE: KNOW THE RULES!!

The following are some general NCAA rules and regulations that you as a supporter of Oakland University, student-athletes and parents of student-athletes should know. This is not all-inclusive, but it will give you some insight into various NCAA regulations that Oakland University must follow.

COMPLIMENTARY ADMISSIONS:

Following is a list of NCAA and Oakland University rules in regard to complimentary admissions for enrolled student-athletes:

- ◆ May be provided four (4) complimentary admission per home (and away) contest in the sport in which the individual participates;
- ◆ Admissions shall be provided only through a pass list for individuals designated by the student-athlete;
- ◆ The pass list must be approved by the Director of Athletics;
- ◆ "Hard Tickets" shall not be issued;
- ◆ The individuals on the pass list must present identification to person supervising the pass list. A comp ticket stub for a seat will be provided to the individual;
- ◆ Receipt of more than the permissible number of complimentary admissions and/or sale or exchange of a complimentary admission for any item of value is prohibited;
- ◆ Complimentary admissions may be provided to members of the institution's team for all contests in a tournament in which the team is participating.
- ◆ OU may provide admission for each student-athlete to all of OU's regular season home athletics contests in sports other than that in which the student-athlete is a participant.
- ◆ A non-qualifier may not receive the four (4) complimentary admissions for the sport in which they participate. However, a non-qualifier may receive a complimentary admission to all of OU's regular-season home athletic events during their first academic year.

STUDENT-ATHLETE EMPLOYMENT:

Following is information pertaining to student-athlete employment regulations – Oakland University's compliance office has a policy and procedure in place to monitor student-athlete employment as it relates to NCAA rules.

- ◆ Student-athletes may receive earnings from legitimate on or off campus employment.
- ◆ Earnings from a student-athlete's on- or off-campus employment that occurs at any time is exempt and is not counted in determining a student-athlete's full grant-in-aid or in the institution's financial aid limitations, Provided.....
- ◆ The student-athlete is to be compensated only for work actually performed and at a rate commensurate with the going rate in that locality for similar services;
- ◆ A written statement must be signed by the student-athlete and the employer prior to commencement of employment;
- ◆ Failure to obtain the written statement prior to commencement of employment may have an affect on the student-athlete's eligibility;

Fee for Lesson Instruction

A student-athlete may receive compensation for teaching or coaching sport skills or techniques in his or her sport on a fee-for-lesson basis provided....

- ◆ Institutional facilities are not used
- ◆ Playing lessons shall not be permitted
- ◆ The institution obtains and keeps on file documentation of the recipient of the lesson(s) and the fee for the lesson(s) provided during any time of the year
- ◆ The compensation is paid by the lesson recipient (or the recipient's family) and not another individual or entity.
- ◆ Instruction to each individual is comparable to the instruction that would be provided during a private lesson when the instruction involves more than one individual at a time.
- ◆ The student-athlete does not use his or her name, picture or appearance to promote or advertise the availability of fee-for-lesson sessions.

PROMOTIONAL/FUND RAISING ACTIVITIES:

Following are some general guidelines as it relates to student-athletes and promotional activities:

Oakland University or an entity thereof (e.g., fraternity, sorority or student government organization), the Mid-Continent Conference or a noninstitutional charitable, educational or nonprofit agency may use a student-athlete's name, picture or appearance to support its charitable or educational activities or to support activities considered incidental to the student-athlete's participation in intercollegiate athletics, provided:

- ◆ The student-athlete receives written approval to participate from the Director of Athletics;
- ◆ The student-athlete does not miss class;
- ◆ The student-athlete's name, picture or appearance is not used to promote the commercial ventures of any nonprofit agency;
- ◆ The student-athlete receives no remuneration, except for legitimate and normal expenses;
- ◆ The student-athlete and an authorized representative of the charitable, educational or nonprofit agency sign a release statement ensuring that the student-athlete's name, image or appearance is used in a manner consistent with NCAA regulations.

*Please note: A student-athlete's name, picture or appearance cannot advertise, recommend or promote sales or use of a product or service at any time.

For more information and additional requirements, please contact the Oakland University Compliance Office at 248.370.4927.

Did you know?...

Each of the following scenarios qualifies an individual as a "Representative of Oakland's Athletic Interests" (or Black and Gold Club):

- Alumnus
- Contributes to the athletic department or the Black and Gold Club
- A member of an agency/organization who provides support/funding to the athletic department
- Provides benefits (i.e., employment) to enrolled student-athletes; or
- Otherwise promotes OU athletics in any other way

Once identified as such a representative, you retain this identity forever, active or non-active.

As a representative, you are bound by NCAA legislation and Oakland University is held accountable for your actions!

Participation in any non-permissible activity, as outlined by the NCAA, could result in any of the following:

- A prospect declared ineligible to represent OU;
- A student-athlete declared ineligible to compete;
- The entire team declared ineligible to compete in any Mid-Continent Conference or NCAA competition;
- NCAA sanctions imposed on the University;
- Your involvement with the OU athletics program being restricted or revoked.

Contact with a prospective student-athlete (PSA)...

Who is a Prospective Student-Athlete (PSA)?

A prospective student-athlete is a student that has started classes for the ninth (9th) grade. A prospect remains labeled as such even after signing a National Letter of Intent or financial aid agreement to attend OU. An individual keeps their "prospective student-athlete" label until one of the following occurs (whichever is earlier): the start of classes at OU; official registration and enrollment for the summer prior to initial enrollment in conjunction with athletic aid; the beginning of official team practice immediately prior to the start of classes.

Please be aware that you may not make in-person, on or off-campus recruiting contacts with a prospect!

Relative to prospects, you may not directly or indirectly:

- Employ relatives or friends of a prospect;
- Provide clothing or equipment;
- Co-sign a loan of any kind;
- Provide a loan to a PSA's relatives or friends;

- Give cash or like items;
- Provide any tangible items, including merchandise of any kind;
- Provide free or reduced-cost services, rentals or purchases of any type;
- Provide free or reduced housing;
- Provide any type of transportation.

Frequently asked questions regarding prospective student-athletes...

As a booster, can I...

- Entertain relatives or friends of a prospect at any off-campus site? NO!
- Make contact with a prospect and his/her parents on an official visit to the campus? NO!
- Visit a school to pick up a transcript of film to evaluate a prospect? NO!
- Contact a coach, principal or counselor to evaluate a prospect? NO!
- Reimburse the coach of a prospect for expenses incurred in transporting a prospect to visit the campus? NO!
- Entertain high-school, prep school or junior college coaches at any location? NO!
- Pay in whole or in part registration fees, associated with summer sports camp for a specific prospect? NO!
- Provide cash or the use of a vehicle to the prospect or student-host on his/her official visit to the campus? NO!

Unavoidable Incidental Contact

There are times when you will come into contact with a prospect that is unavoidable. During such a contact, conversation with a prospect may involve only normal civility and no recruitment may take place. Any contact that occurs at a prospect's home, school, or at the site of a practice or contest is not considered incidental and will be deemed a violation of NCAA recruiting rules.

Frequently asked questions regarding enrolled student-athletes

As a booster, can I...

- Provide any benefit or special arrangement to a student-athlete or his/her friends? NO!
 - The NCAA considers special arrangements as an "Extra Benefit" which are prohibited. A few examples are:
 - a special discount;
 - credit on a purchase;
 - a loan of money in any amount;
 - a guarantee of bond; or
 - the use of an automobile.
 - Donate or provide funds to entertain a student-athlete, family or friends? NO!
- Please be aware that you are not even permitted to buy a student-athlete, family or friends a soft drink or hot dog at an athletic event or at a commercial enterprise.

- Use the name or picture of a student-athlete to advertise or promote sales or use of a commercial product or service? NO!

- Pay or provide the actual and necessary expenses incurred by relatives or friends to visit an enrolled student-athlete? NO!
- Provide a gift or award to a student-athlete for his/her athletics performance? NO!

NCAA regulations strictly govern the benefits a student-athlete may receive. Before you provide a current student-athlete with a meal, a ride, a gift, or any other benefit not available to all OU students, please contact the head coach or the Compliance Coordinator.

Permissible Assistance What can you do to help?

Identify prospective student-athletes.

If you know or are aware of outstanding prospective student-athletes in your community, send information (e.g. newspaper clippings, competition results) to the respective coach, or telephone the coach and provide the information you have. Let the coach take it from there! Remember, you may not contact prospects (including parents or guardians) directly.

Provide summer jobs and internships to currently enrolled student-athletes.

If you have, or know of, positions in your business or community which can be filled by a student-athlete, you may contact the athletic department. We can provide names for those who might be interested and qualified. Remember, pay for these jobs must be at the same rate as others in that position.

Contact with enrolled student-athletes.

You may infrequently or on special occasion, invite a student-athlete or an entire team for dinner at your home; the meal must be provided in an individual's home (as opposed to a restaurant) and may be catered. Reasonable local transportation may be provided to the student-athlete(s) to attend the meal function only if the meal is at the home of that representative. Please seek approval from the head coach or the Compliance Coordinator before extending any invitations.

Due to the complexity of NCAA rules, this brochure should not be relied upon exclusively. Compliance with NCAA and Mid-Continent Conference regulations is of the highest priority for our athletics programs. Oakland needs and wants your help in the maintenance of NCAA rules. If you have any questions, please contact the Athletics Department at (248) 370-4927.

OU Weight Room Gets Facelift

The Golden Grizzly weight room underwent extensive renovation this past summer and Todd Wohlfeil was added to the athletics staff with a singular goal in mind: Building Champions. With the right tools in place for the student-athletes to train, Oakland will continue its ascent to the top tier of the Mid-Continent Conference and the nation. The addition of Wohlfeil and the revamped weight room are crucial steps toward Building Champions.

Wohlfeil will fill the role of strength and conditioning coordinator, working with student-athletes to improve their fitness and establishing conditioning programs. Many student-athletes have had little to no past experience with an organized weight lifting program prior to enrolling at OU and Wohlfeil has been able to work directly with them to educate them and establishing a fitness program that will help them excel in their sport.

Wohlfeil is no stranger to Oakland, having graduated with a bachelor's degree in health science in 2005. He became a certified personal trainer in 2003 and has worked at the OU Rec Center in that capacity ever since. Wohlfeil is currently working on his doctorate to become a physical therapist.

The renovations to the weight room have also been a key aspect to OU's Building Champions philosophy. Brand new StarTrac treadmills, steppers, bikes and elliptical machines were purchased and all cardio equipment was replaced. The machines were reorganized to make the room more functional and older equipment that was no longer being utilized was removed entirely. There was also a reception area added at the front door where student-athletes can meet with staff to discuss their training.

There is still work to be done, however. New cable and hamstring machines have been ordered and a new paint job embodying the Golden Grizzly spirit will decorate the walls in the renovated weight room.
