TORCH IS LIT — Cindy Lee Carr, Miss Pontiac Boys' Club, presses the button lighting the United Fund torch at the colorful ceremony last night at Oakland and Saginaw. Holding Cindy is her father, Earl B. Carr, 54 N. Jessie St. Clayton Landon of the Consumers Power Company points the way for Cindy.

Over Million Thousands Witness Idled by Strikes UF Kickoff Parade

85,000 on Docks and 700,000 in Steel; Small Walkouts Add More

Spearheaded by the lighting of the 1959 United Fund torch at Oakland and Saginaw streets last night the 11th annual Pontiac Area UF campaign got under way after a 40-minute parade under the new lights.

Thousands of persons watched as floats, missiles, scouts marching, bands and clowns pranced down the three-quarter mile Saginaw street route.

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than one million workers are idle because of strikes around the nation. By industries, the estimates include:

Dockworkers: 85,000 in East and Gulf coast ports.

Steel: Estimated 500,000 steelworkers and 200,000 other workers in allied industries.

Nonferrous metals: More than 30,000 in copper, lead and zinc miners and processing-fabricating firms, mainly in the West.

Meatpacking: More than 17,000 Swift & Co. workers.

Ship repair: About 15,000 in yards from the San Francisco Bay area north to Canada.

Glass: 2,000 moldmakers in glass container industry.

Automobile: Chrysler Corp. said a strike at its Twinsburg, Ohio, stamping plant will halt almost all of its automotive operations today; estimated some 45,000 of its 71,000 production workers will be laid off in seven states.

In addition, there are scattered small strikes over the nation which officials here said would add another couple hundred thousand to the total.

White Sox Favored Again

CHICAGO (UP)—The Chicago White Sox, buoyed by an opening 11-0 victory, were again 6-5 favorites today to defeat the Los Angeles Dodgers in the second game of the World Series.

Temperatures in the middle 60s and partly cloudy skies were forecast for game time at 1 p. m.

Right-handed Bob Shaw, who developed into stardom with a 18-6 record this year, is the Sox pitching nominee.

Southpaw Johnny Podres, a former Dodger hero when he defeated the New York Yankees twice in the 1955 World Series, was the Los Angeles selection.

Manager Walt Alston, who paraded five Los Angeles pitchers in Thursday's rout, hoped that Podres, with a 14-9 record, could stop the Sox and strong man Ted Kluszewski.

Kluszewski, a 35-year-old left-handed hitter who was waived out of the National League two months ago, led the Sox attack. He had two home runs and a single, drove in 5 runs and tied a series record dating back to 1936.

After today's game, the two teams head for Sunday's resumption of the series in mammoth Los Angeles Coliseum.

Dodger officials reported that the Coliseum—with more than a 94,000 capacity—is sold out for three playing dates.

FATTEST PAY CHECK

This means the 1959 series will bring the fattest pay check over for players. The players get their biggest share of money from proceeds of the first four games.

Foundation Hall Dedicated With Value Challenge

1st Academic Building Shuns Carpets, Drapery, Elaborate Rooms

By MAX E. SIMON

Foundation Hall, first academic building on the campus of Michigan State University Oakland, was dedicated yesterday.

Stressing the Spartan simplicity of the building, Chancellor D. B. Varner pointed out that the university's administrative offices have no carpeting or drapery.

Varner, who has an office only 10 by 12 feet in the $2,000,000 building, declared there won't be any luxury furnishings so long as available money can be used to increase faculty salaries or improve the library.

"The stature of a university is not measured by the quantity of carpeting nor by the dimensions of a chancellor's office, but rather by the quality of the faculty and the motivation of the students."

"It is here that we have bet our money and it is here that we shall make our mark."

The building is named Foundation Hall in honor of a community group of industrial, labor, professional and educational leaders who helped shape the new university.

One of the Foundation's committees called in a score of the nation's leading citizens and educators to draw up a curriculum fitting the space age.

PLAQUE UNVEILED

The MSUO curriculum places emphasis on liberal arts studies.

The building's dedicatory plaque was unveiled by C. Allen Harlan, a member of the MSU Board of Trustees. He described launching of the university as a memorable occasion in the annals of education.

Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press and MSUO Foundation chairman, described MSUO as a pioneering venture in education.

He said Foundation members and the entire local community are proud to be associated with the speakers was Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson's contribution of their 1,600-acre estate and $2,000,000 for the first academic building, made the university possible.

Pair Acquitted of Conspiracy

Completes Freeing of 5 Persons Arrested in Gambling Raids

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer today acquitted two accused Pontiac bookmakers of conspiracy to violate state gambling laws.

They are James "China Boy" Pruzor, 36, of 125 N. Perry St., and Charles D. "Whitely" Apley, 45, of 29 Salmer Ave.

"Nothing in the record of their doings prior to Aug. 29, 1958 is legally convincing of a conspiracy partnership to violate state gambling laws," Judge Beer said.

"The law must be upheld by the courts even though, as in this case, cheap, petty criminals escaped punishment, at least temporarily," Judge Beer said.

Apley, owner of a Perry street gas station where he was arrested, and Pruzor, who has admitted to being a professional gambler, were the only defendants remaining (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Snow Falling for 5th Day in Colorado

By The Associated Press

Snow fell for the fifth straight day in the central Rockies today.

At Leadville, Colo., a 5-inch fall up to Thursday midnight brought the total of snow on the ground to 27 inches.

Colorado Springs, Colo., which had 31 inches of snow on the ground Thursday, again felt the impact of the most severe early autumn snowstorm in nearly 25 years.

It snowed, too, in Denver where a storm earlier in the week caused millions of dollars in damages to utility lines, personal and city property.

Military men, state prisoners, government workers and volunteers worked at cleaning up the snow damage in several cities.

Many schools remained closed.

Five persons have died of causes attributed to the storm.

Who Tipped 'Em Off?

MIAMI (UPI) — Fred Stutz, director of the local Mosquito Control Department, went on vacation last week. Officials today reported an unusual invasion of fresh water mosquitos.

Freshmen Find MSUO Art Center Magnificent

"Alexander's Ragtime Band" had Meadow Brook Hall jumping yesterday.

The occasion was a tea given by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson for the 570* freshmen of Michigan State University Oakland's first class.

It was the students' first look at the majestic mansion which one day will be the university's art center.

They couldn't find words to describe their impressions of the castle and its art treasures as they toured the magnificent Tudor-style structure.

"Wow!" said Jim Isen, 2405 Rochester Rd., Troy.

"Fabulous!" was the comment of Pamela Pickett, 373 Bellhaven Rd., Troy.

"Magnificent!" exclaimed Barbara Bemis, 2845 Finch Rd., Troy.

Wildred Cwikiel, 4375 Bluebird Dr., Commerce Township, had a little more to say.

"This is it!"

The feelings of many were expressed by Kristine Uselt of Berkeley who calls the hall "a dream castle."

"What can you say?" asked Charles Moloney, 2897 Colonial Terrace, Bloomfield Hills.

The university's first dance was held in the mansion's spacious ballroom with a three-piece orchestra supplying the music.

The freshmen quickly took to the dance floor and continued to express their amazement with the hall.

One pretty coed who toured the building commented, "A real cool pad."

This was translated for a combar Bemis, 2845 Finch Rd., Troy, fused faculty member as meaning the Wilson mansion is quite a showplace.

If this is what college is like, I'd like to stay here all my life," said one student.

All of the students were quick to express their gratitude to the Wilsons for their contributions to the university and for the visit to the hall.

Many stood in awe before the many art treasures in the home.

One student stood silently gazing up at a Rembrandt painting for more than half an hour.

As one youth left the building, he looked back and said dreamily, "What a fraternity house it would make."

The reactions of the students were expressed in many different words.

But all agreed that Meadow Brook was almost unbelievable—something out of a story book.

Ike's Busy Cooking, Believe It or Not

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Housewives of America may find it hard to believe, but President Eisenhower is spending a good part of his vacation in the kitchen, humming over his pots and pans with the same pleasure he reserves for a par golf score.

Instead of having platoons of servants handle the groceries, the President has been cooking every meal since he arrived Wednesday. He cooks not only for himself and Allen, but for other members of his stag golfing expedition.

Eisenhower is not a fancy cook. He tends to the plainer, more rugged cuisine, leaving the cordon bleu refinements to the chefs back at the White House. Breakfast yesterday featured conventional ham and eggs. The President broiled a small strip of steak for himself.

Polishing Up for Fire Parade

Raincoats to Be Part of Football Gear Saturday

Another rainy Saturday is in prospect for football fans.

Tomorrow's forecast calls for occasional light rain or drizzle.

High temperatures for the next five days will continue in the 60s with lows ranging from 44 to 50.

Tonight's low is expected to be near 54. Saturday's high will climb to 66.

Rainfall will total one-quarter to three-quarters of an inch with occasional rain Saturday and Sunday, probably ending Monday.

At 10:15 a. m., winds were southwesterly at two miles an hour. Fifty was the lowest temperature, preceding 8 a. m. in downtown Pontiac. At 1 p. m., the reading was 69.

Teamsters Start Political Fight

Union Bids for More Power, May Endorse Presidential Name

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Teamsters Union, in an open bid for greater political power, today set up a political action department.

A spokesman for the huge Union, headed by James R. Hoffa, said the move indicated the "probability" that the Union would endorse presidential candidates.

The political action department's main goal will be to mobilize the Union's 1,633,000 members during political campaigns.

A spokesman said creation of the department was "an attempt by the Union to make its political voice heard."

It will also "work toward a legislative program in Congress that would be beneficial to the membership," he said.

The new department was created by vote of the International Union's 15-man executive board. A board meeting which began last night continued into the small hours of the morning.

Judge Acquits Pair in Conspiracy Trial

On Aug. 29, 1958, said by State Police Rackets Squad detectives.

After 4½ months of undercover work, the detectives, with the help of Pontiac police detectives and several Oakland County sheriff's detectives, swooped down on five places—four in Pontiac and one in the heart of Auburn Heights.

Five persons were arrested and charged with conspiracy to violate state gambling laws. They were suspected of running a million dollar horse bet book-making syndicate in the Pontiac area.

However, Judge Beer and Judge Russell Holland have since dismissed the charges against the alleged ringleader, Basil W. Burke, an ex-convict of 29 Salmer Ave., and LaRue E. Gullett, dismissed Pontiac deputy city treasurer, and his wife Gladys, both of 301 N. K Ave.

Dock Pickets Go for Coffee as Church Rite

NEW YORK (AP)—Dock strike pickets at a Manhattan pier knocked off today just after the arrival of the Italian liner Vulcania.

The moment chosen for a coffee break came as Alfredo Cardinal Giovanni, pontifical legate was leaving the ship. The Roman Catholic dignitary had come here en route to a church festival in Canada.

A union official said the pickets went for coffee in order to spare the public embarrassment in crossing the picket line.

Car Owner Likes Theft

DENVER (UPI)—T. E. McCaskey of Vancouver, Wash., was naturally happy when police found his car, which had been stolen here Aug. 10. But when he saw the car he was overwhelmed. It had been outfitted with a new set of white-wall tires, a spotless interior, a new clothes rack, a repaired generator and a returned engine.

Number of "Help Wanted" ads in 114 city labor market city newspapers in July 1959 was 828,364—an increase of 53 per cent over July 1958. Total number for first seven months of the year was 5,117,474—a 44 per cent gain over 1958.

BUICK FOR 1960—Massive new bumpers and new front end design are shown in this top picture of the Buick for 1960. This is the two-door Invicta. Twin headlights are set in a simulated jet pod. The lower picture shows the restyled rear fins of the new models. Nineteen Buicks will be offered in three series, and they will be put on display Oct. 8 at Oliver Motor Sales, Inc., 210 Orchard Lake Ave., and other dealers.

Subdues Its Tail Fins

'60 Buick Will Be Displayed Oct. 8

Improved reliability and performance, increased roominess and new sculptured styling are the marks of the 1960 Buick, announced today by Edward D. Rollert, general manager of the division and vice president of General Motors.

The pronounced tail fins of last year have been modified and Buick designers stressed "streamlined" "hole-in-the-air" tail fins, an adjustable instrument

"These 1960 models are the most reliable Buicks ever built," said Rollert. "Quality in manufacture, plus our sculptured styling and fresh new features, make these the most outstanding cars we ever have produced."

New features include a single transverse muffler which serves both dual and single exhaust systems, an adjustable instrument panel that can be tilted to any position for easier reading, and independent heater controls for both the front and rear seats.

The new Buicks go on display in dealer showrooms Oct. 8.

A massive front end design, with Twin headlights horizontally abreast at the ends of a new concave grille, complements the sculptured body styling. The twin headlights are set outboard of the grille in simulated jet-pod housings.

LIST 3 SERIES

The 1960 Buick will be available in three series—LeSabre, lowest priced in the line; Invicta, the most spirited model; and Electra, the luxury series.

They will be identified by the ventpoors, four on each front fender of the Electra series, and three on the Invicta and LeSabre. Economical operation has been given special attention in engine design. LeSabre's 264-cubic inch engine is available in regular gasoline or premium gasoline options.

The regular gasoline engine, a no-cost option, uses a two-barrel carburetor with a 9-to-1 compression ratio. Electra and Invicta models are powered by the improved 401-cubic inch Wildcat V8 engine, with four-barrel carburetor and 10.25-to-1 compression ratio.

All models are roomier as the result of engineering refinements which have produced lower front floors for more leg room and allow chair-height seats. Redesign of the transmission permits lowering the hump in both front and rear passenger areas, and wider-opening rear doors assure easier entrance and exit.

An innovation is the twilight sentinel, a safety feature providing automatic headlight operation. The device turns on the headlights when daylight fades, extinguishes them when daylight increases.

Restaurant Harassed Second Time

DETROIT (AP)—The Sno-White dining room in northwest Detroit had a full house of customers it didn't want last night—despite a $150 minimum charge.

The customers ordered only coffee and just sat around occupying the restaurant's 183 seats for an hour at dinner time. It was the second such invasion in recent months.

The customers identified themselves to newsmen as members of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union, which has been in a running dispute with owner Walter Nau.

Last night's invasion, in which about 40 additional erstwhile coffee fans milled about the lobby and another 50 stood around outside, came a few hours after Circuit Judge Victor J. Baum had restricted Union pickets at the restaurant to six and ordered the Union not to interfere with peaceful operation of the place.

Nau's attorney, George Baschara, said he would seek criminal action against persons who refused to pay the $150 minimum and would ask contempt citations against the Union on grounds it violated Baum's order.

Man Eyes Sky: Sun Goes Out

Total Solar Eclipse Experienced in Boston, Canary Islands

By The Associated Press

Space-minded man stared at the firmament today as it unfolded one of its majestic spectacles—a total eclipse of the sun.

On both sides of the Atlantic, observers watched as the moon slowly blacked out the earth's source of light, leaving a radiant corona shimmering in the darkened heavens.

It was a dramatic sight.

Clouds obscured it for many ground watchers in the Boston area, and interfered somewhat at Canary Island stations off the coast of Africa—both sites at which the eclipse was total.

Astronomers and students, however, took to planes to soar above the clouds for a clear view of the celestial display.

'BRILLIANT CRESCENT'

"The sun appeared to rise at 6:41 a.m. at the eastern edge of a vast sea of clouds," wrote AP staffer Don Guy, who watched it from a plane over Massachusetts.

"It rose partially eclipsed and looked like a brilliant crescent with the horns pointing upward."

"For nine minutes, as the sun rose, the moon progressively darkened more and more of the solar surface."

"Suddenly at 6:50 the last brilliant streak of sunlight vanished and the glowing solar corona ringed the moon."

"Several astronomers noted the so-called Bailey's beads effect when an instant before totality the sun shone in long streaks through deep valleys on the edge of the moon."

On the earth below, the dawn-bright landscape turned to night again as the sun disappeared.

USE HEADLIGHTS

The daytime darkness descended so deeply on the streets of Las Palmas, Canary Islands, that vehicles had to use their headlights.

There, the total eclipse came about noon.

In many other parts of the world, partial eclipses were seen.

the services we have," Mrs. Wilson said.

"The building is now up and ready to weather the storms of ages. We are looking to the students to assume their responsibilities and to show their appreciation by making the world a better place in which to live."

The entire student body and faculty, MSUO Foundation members, and several state legislators attended the ceremonies.

Foundation Hall has two units. A north wing contains the administration and faculty offices and library. A south wing has 39 classrooms.

The classrooms are wired for closed circuit TV.

The Day in Birmingham

Cranbrook's Observatory Named for Judge Hulbert

BIRMINGHAM—The observatory at Cranbrook Institute of Science has been officially named the Henry Schoolcraft Hulbert Observatory as a memorial to the man "who worked for the institute and the greater community with such devotion and intelligence," a spokesman for the institute's Board of Trustees announced yesterday.

Judge Hulbert was a trustee of Cranbrook Institute from 1930 until his death last spring.

After squinting long and hard through the institute's powerful telescope, members agreed that "you cannot see the hammer and sickle reportedly planted on the moon by Russian scientists last month, but you can pinpoint its supposed location."

The six-inch refractor scope provides a startling closeup of the Sea of Tranquility as well as other "seas" and ridges on the moon's surface.

The observatory's telescope will be available for use by non-members of the institute Oct. 8 and 16 by appointment.

This can be arranged by telephoning the institute during normal business hours, Monday through Friday.

Musical scholar and lecturer Elizabeth Wayne will speak at 2 p.m. Oct. 28 at Birmingham Community House. Her topic is "Music in My Path."

The lecture is being sponsored by the PEO Chapter CG of Birmingham.

Miss Wayne will describe her experiences on a recent trip through England, Switzerland, France and Spain.

Tickets for the program and for a tea which will follow can be reserved by contacting Mrs. Stuart Trainer. Tickets also will be available at the door.

A jaunt through Alaska's Eskimoland via color slides will be taken at 8 p.m. today at Birmingham YMCA.

All single adults in the area are invited to participate, said Marion Cannon, chairman of the Birmingham YMCA Young Adults Club. Refreshments will be served.

The club will stage a hayride the evening of Oct. 16 at Roy's Ranch. Members will meet at 7 p.m. at the Y building.

Refreshments and a social hour at the Y will follow the hayride.

Those wishing to attend may contact Pat Riley.

The club also is planning a theater party to see "The Bell Are Ringing" when it plays in Detroit Oct. 20.

Miss Cannon is taking reservations now.

Soldier's Antitank Rifle Is Developed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army announced today development of a 50-millimeter non-recoil rifle that will give the individual soldier the close-range punch of a medium-sized tank gun.

LT. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, army chief of research and development, said the new weapon is "capable of destroying the heaviest tanks known."

The rifle, which is four feet long, weighs 35 pounds and fires a nine-pound shell. It has an effective range of 500 yards—more than twice that of the 3.5 inch bazooka.

There are over 68 million passenger cars traveling on the nation's highways today. Automotive advertisers, who invest more money in daily newspapers than any other group of advertisers, spent $159,227,000 in newspapers in 1958 to reach the drivers of these cars.

Hannah Curving Out Into Ocean

But Coastal Shippers Are Advised to Keep Posted on Her Track

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hurricane Hannah, losing a little steam but still dangerous to any ship in its path, curved northeast of Bermuda today, well away from the Atlantic Coast.

At 5 a.m. reconnaissance planes located the hurricane about 250 miles east northeast of Bermuda and 420 miles east southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C.

The center of the storm still packed 125 m.p.h. winds, and winds of hurricane force extended outward 70 miles on the north-eastern side and 45 miles to the southwest.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said Hannah had decreased slightly in size and intensity and a further very gradual decrease would continue through the day. The storm was expected to curve more to the northeast in about 12 hours.

However, the Weather Bureau advised New England shipping interests to keep posted on later advisories.

Swanson Also Calls for Senate Changes

DETROIT (AP) — Acting Gov. John B. Swanson echoed Gov. Williams last night in calling for re-apportionment of the state Senate.

"The state Senate today is representative of the population as it was in 1920 — nearly two decades ago," Swanson, a Democrat, told a meeting of the Michigan State Employees Assn. Swanson, presiding officer of the Senate as lieutenant governor, said senators of both parties were his personal friends.

"The trouble is not with the personalities of the senators," he said, "it is with the structure of the Senate itself. Michigan's Senate does not represent the State of Michigan."

Swanson said only one change has been made in the Senate makeup since 1920. This was the addition of one new senator each to Macomb and Oakland counties in 1952.

Mental Hospital Makes DiSalle Literally Sick

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who has been highly critical of Ohio's mental institutions, literally became sick while on a surprise inspection of one today.

Touring the Columbus State Hospital here, the governor commented, "It makes me sick." Minutes later, in a cottage housing male patients, DiSalle became physically sick. Sight of dirty beds and odors from the kitchen apparently were to blame.

On his trip through the institution, in which 2,600 mental patients live, DiSalle found what he said were deplorable conditions.

Ben-Gurion Greets Williams in Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Mrs. Williams were received yesterday by Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion.

The Williams arrived in this country as government guests Wednesday after a tour of several Middle East States, including Lebanon, Syria, and Jordan.

They entered Israel from the Arab-administered old city section of Jerusalem, crossing the Jordan-Israel armistice border at the Mandelbaum Gate, where they were welcomed by Gershon Avner, director of the U.S. Division in the Israeli foreign ministry.

The American ambassador was represented by Dale Good who is the labor attaché at the U.S. embassy in Tel Aviv.

Gov. and Mrs. Williams will stay in Israel six days.

Prescott Turns 75, Says He'll Run Again

KALKASKA (AP) — Sen. Charles T. Prescott celebrated his 75th birthday last night and unhesitatingly let it be known he'll be trying next year for an eighth straight term in the State Senate.

"I'll be running with both feet," the venerable, white-haired legislator declared as about 50 friends gathered at a resort near here for an all-day birthday celebration.

Prescott, a Republican hailing from a town with the same name as his own, thus spiked rumors he might end his long lawmaking career.

13 IN A BOAT—Twelve residents of Michigan Center, near Jackson, squeeze into a 12-foot boat to illustrate the tight fit. The thirteenth "occupant" is a doll. The boat is the same type that was swamped in the Upper Peninsula recently, drowning 12 persons in one family.

Rest of Nation Extremely Interested

Most of Toledo Aglow Over Mall Plan

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — In its experiment with pedestrian malls as a tonic for downtown business, Toledo has found itself under the microscope of city planners all over the nation.

The test originally was intended as a 45-day experiment. Last Aug. 3 the city closed off four blocks of two busy, parallel streets and converted them into grassy malls embellished with trees, shrubs, ponds, statuary, a playground and other attractions.

The planners soon discovered they had unleashed a volcano of interest in scores of other cities seeking a way to rejuvenate their downtown sections.

Stories and editorials about the malls appeared in more than a thousand newspapers. Hundreds of inquiries poured into city and Chamber of Commerce offices.

Seventy delegations, including some from Canada, came to Toledo to appraise the experiment.

Pleased by the publicity and by the reactions of the merchants and public, the city decided to extend the test to Nov. 15 for a total period of 105 days.

By then the planners hope to have accumulated enough data to determine whether construction of permanent malls would be worthwhile.

Right now, the public and the downtown merchants appear to favor them. Thousands of persons from the Toledo area have flocked down town to ogle and spend a buck down.

"I like the idea," says one business woman, Margaret Finn. "The degree of interest in the malls is more interesting."

Another housewife, Mrs. David Watson, has an opposite reaction. "When I come downtown I'm in a hurry. I don't want to fool around, looking at trees and decided to lengthen the test."

There are plenty of pay-park lots and garages in the downtown section, but free spots are scarce. If the malls become permanent, the parking situation would be improved.

Downtown Toledo Association has accumulated enough data to determine whether construction of permanent malls would be worthwhile.

An early survey among merchants and the public showed that 70 per cent of them had an up-favor them.

Swinging in sales despite a prolonged heat wave and the steel strike, Toledo area have flocked downtown. Thirty per cent said business was down to ogle and spend a buck down.

Merchants off the mall also said, "I like the idea," says one business woman, Margaret Finn. "The degree of interest in the malls is more interesting."

Another housewife, Mrs. David Watson, has an opposite reaction. "When I come downtown I'm in a hurry. I don't want to fool around, looking at trees and decided to lengthen the test."

Fuel Tank Blaze Nearly Controlled

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — Firemen appeared near success today in their fight with an oil storage tank fire which began with an explosion before dawn Thursday and since has threatened nearby storage tanks.

Flames, once 200 feet high, no longer are shooting into the sky. Nine persons were injured and two houses destroyed when the two-million-gallon fuel storage tank exploded from a cause not yet determined.

K's Gift Watch Is Poorly Made, but Expensive

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev gave a watch worth $14 to a West Homestead millworker, says a Pittsburgh jeweler.

Charles Roberts, treasurer of John M. Roberts & Son Co., said Thursday the watch was "very poorly made."

Khrushchev gave the watch to Kenneth Jackey of Pleasant Hills last Thursday during the Premier's tour of the Mesta Machine Co. plant. The watch was in exchange for a cheap cigar given the Soviet official by Jackey.

Russian officials said the watch was worth about 500 rubles in the U.S.S.R., equivalent to $125 in America.

March, April, May and June all showed gains in motion picture attendance over the corresponding month of last year. This is away from the facilities which longest sustained gain in attendance in more than eight years.

To find out what's playing, and where, most people consult their daily newspapers.

Fair Out of New York? Perish the Thought!

WASHINGTON (UPI) — To hear New York's congressional delegation tell it, the 1964 World's Fair would be a bust if held anywhere except New York City.

The New York congressional committee, representing 43 House members and two senators, said in a letter to President Eisenhower that "such a fair in isolation, away from the facilities which New York alone can offer, lacks the excitement and setting essential for success."

Washington is competing against New York for the fair.

Ground Breaking Means Better Area

There's been a lot of sod busting around Pontiac during the last few days.

And it generally proves that we're more than an industrial town.

It proves that in civic ways we're keeping up with our industrial development.

The occasions give notice that we're forward looking in more ways than industrial growth.

On a countywide basis, the start on our new courthouse means that we're assured of a group of county buildings to match anything in that line in the whole nation.

Our city library, with our completed city hall and other buildings, means a better civic center than any other city of similar size.

And the terminal and tower at Pontiac Municipal Airport put us on the aviation map immensely above most of our nation's cities, regardless of size.

Yes, this sod busting is making 1959 an epochal year in local history.

Statesman Churchill in Another Campaign

It is almost 60 years since Sir WINSTON CHURCHILL took his first seat in the House of Commons. In the interim he has had many other careers but Parliament has been the scene of his greatest moments.

Now, nearing his 85th birthday, word comes from London that this much admired statesman is running again in his constituency of Woodford. A recent campaign speech shows Sir Winston's vigorous interest in world affairs and his wisdom in interpreting them. "We must avoid all temptation to buy a temporary peace at the price of a surrender of vital interest."

Premier Khrushchev's suggestion for total disarmament is striking, he said, but "there must be effective international control. One-sidedly to deprive ourselves of our arms, and in particular the nuclear deterrent, would be suicidal."

We don't want to appear to be meddling in British politics, but we can't help hoping that the grand old warrior will win once more.

Germany Takes Care of Its Own Refugees

For the past 10 years the West German Government has been able to look after its nearly four million refugees without appealing for outside help.

This has been possible because of a 1949 law, effective until 1979, whereby every West German citizen with personal and business assets left undamaged in World War II pays a special tax to help needy refugees.

The money is used to compensate them for lost household goods, to provide food allowances and housing, retrain for new jobs and help refugees get a new start, in some cases through loans and grants.

To date nearly $8 million has been collected for this purpose. The amount is fixed by state and federal governments on a sliding scale according to income and is payable in 30 annual installments. It is added to the regular tax bill.

Much has been written of the splendid economic recovery of West Germany. This refugee assistance is even more admirable. It is a fine example of human effort to share the cost of war with those who suffered most from it and its aftermath.

"Don't start off the day by doing something unpleasant," advises a psychologist. We'd like to follow this advice if we could figure out some way to start the day off without getting up.

The Man About Town

Advance Showing But the Great Impact of Foliage Display Is Late

Blessed: That person who is too busy to worry in the daytime and too tired to lay awake at night.

The autumn colors now are worth a drive into the country. But it will be a week or so yet before the display in the Pontiac area is at its best. Perhaps a drive now will accent your desire to make another later.

The thousands of sumacs in the hedges are slow about assuming their fiery red. Some of the maples are donning their pinks and yellows, but not yet in the vivid manner we have learned to expect.

Our many lakes, with their warm water after such a hot summer and early autumn, are tempering the breezes that flow over them, so the trees on their shores are quite dilatory about chasing the rainbow. This column will tell you when the color carnival is at its tops.

After watching a blue jay bury an acorn in her lawn five years ago.

Mrs. Orpha Persons

Planting some seeds of a new kind of melon called "Peachmelon," sent her from China.

Mrs. Mabel Maulson of Waterford now is harvesting about the most delicious thing in the melon line that I ever tasted. It resembles both parts of its name.

The American Institute of Steel Construction has designated the Mackinac bridge the most beautiful completed in 1938. But they call it "Big Mac," which was my choice of name until its distinguished builder.

David B. Steinman, told me that he felt the name of "Mighty Mac" would be more euphonious and better fit the case. So, quite officially, its name is "Mighty Mac."

When it comes to size, the Wolf River variety beats any other apple in the Pontiac area, and of Farmington reports one that measures seven inches in diameter one way and eight inches the other. However, he claims no distinction for the variety except size.

A cattail marsh reed, sometimes called "cannon swab," found by

David Lawrence Says: You're Still a Brazen Liar, Mr. K

WASHINGTON — Words, words, words — many thousands of them now have been poured forth by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as an assurance to the world of his peaceful intentions. But who will believe them? What has he done to make people trust him?

DAVID LAWRENCE

The French minister of foreign affairs, Maurice de Merville, has just put his finger on the "key word," and that's "trust." In a speech in New York before the General Assembly of the United Nations, the French statesman has exposed the trickery and duplicity of the disarmament proposal made by Mr. Khrushchev.

"The other day we heard Mr. Khrushchev explain his own position forcefully. The Soviet Union, as I understand it, accepts the idea of controls (on disarmament), but envisages that these will not be set up, or at least will not actually function, until after the agreed measures of disarmament have already been implemented (put into effect)."

"We believe on the contrary that one cannot disassociate the actual process of disarmament from the setting up of controls. The latter guarantees the former and consequently conditions it. Moreover, lacking real controls, the vitally necessary trust would be utterly lacking."

"I purposely use the word trust, for it is the key word. The problem of disarmament has certain technical aspects and those are important. But basically it is a political problem."

What all this means is that the Soviet government wants a stage-by-stage formula, including a withdrawal of American forces from Europe, a transfer of all atomic weapons from Europe and perhaps their destruction before any control measures are set up to determine whether the Soviet government is complying with the corresponding pledges it will have been asked to make under the disarmament agreement.

Mr. Khrushchev either is naive or purposely feigned innocence as he asked in his TV speech last Sunday to the American people: "Have you ever pondered over this question? If we are not planning to fight, whatever do you or we need all these armaments for?"

The truth is nobody knows what the Soviets are really planning because the world has seen them break pledge after pledge.

The Soviets openly admitted that they furnished arms and ammunition that were used by the North Korean armies to fight the United Nations forces which were sent to Korea to repel Communist aggression in 1950.

Likewise, the Soviet government has instigated revolts in Southeast Asia and in the Middle East and has infiltrated many countries around the world. Yet Mr. Khrushchev, in his TV address last Sunday, said that "the principle of noninterference by countries in each other's domestic affairs should be strictly adhered to."

As far back as 1933, however, the Soviet Union made that very promise when the United States recognized the Moscow government. Since that time the Communists have repeatedly violated the principle of noninterference in the internal affairs of many countries. The record is plain. The question now is whether the Soviet chief can expect by a few speeches to erase the past altogether and to receive trust where no basis for it has ever been established. The Soviet Premier uses pious words, but his deeds belie them.

Dr. William Brady Says: The Woman's Psoriasis Became Her Sore Spot

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

At the age of 70 my mother had psoriasis (writes a reader) from her elbows to her wrists on the back of her arms. It was absolutely raw. She also had patches on one knee and both buttocks.

She went to the University of — hospital every week for treatment, for two whole years. They tried everything.

Finally she quit going and followed your advice — using 6000 units of vitamin D daily. In three months time she was completely healed. Mother is 75 now and the psoriasis has never come back. We are all so thankful to you... (Signed)

Psoriasis, the silvery scale disease, is one of the many common diseases of which we know neither the cause nor a specific remedy or effective treatment.

Remissions and intermissions are so characteristic that it is easy to ascribe such relief as the reader's mother experienced to the remedy or treatment last used — in this instance it happened to be vitamin D.

Taking 6000 units of vitamin D daily for three months is harmless enough in any case.

In view of our ignorance of the nature, cause and treatment of psoriasis, I hope the doctors at the — Hospital charged no more than a nominal consultation fee for the two years of experimentation.

A physician writing in N. Y. State Journal of Medicine ascribed psoriasis to the habit of taking mineral oil as laxative or "internal lubricant." Mineral oil, he reminded readers, depletes the system of fat-soluble vitamins (A and D), as it prevents proper absorption of the vitamins from food. This would seem to corroborate the theory that vitamin D deficiency is a cause of psoriasis.

Many persons with psoriasis have experienced marked benefit from exposure of the skin to sunlight. Sunlight acts on the skin, producing vitamin D in the body. This observation of the improvement experienced by persons with psoriasis in the summer months prompted the vitamin D treatment. A dose of 10 drops of Condol would be about 6000 U.S.P. XIII units.

From time to time people on the iodine ration report that, to their delight, their psoriasis has become less marked than for years before since they started on it, for some other purpose. All I can say about this is that in any case it can do no harm, provided you follow my instructions. For instructions for taking the iodine ration send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

In reference to thyroid feeding for psoriasis, some good physicians find it efficacious, others find it inefficacious. In my own limited experience thyroid feeding has seemed extraordinarily helpful, particularly for patients who present signs of hypothyroidism, as many subjects of psoriasis do.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright 1959)

Voice of the People Historical Foundation Is Grateful for Press Boost

The Board of Directors of the Oakland County Historical Foundation wishes to express to The Pontiac Press its sincere appreciation for your fine coverage of our Open House.

As a result of the excellent coverage, an estimated 2,000 visitors toured the Gov. Moses Wisner Home. A marked interest in the history and our restoration project was manifested. Many new members were added and as the restoration has been accomplished only through voluntary contributions, we're appreciative of every membership.

The $1,000 anonymous gift announced at our annual meeting is a great incentive and deeply appreciated. We should like to have our restoration project completed for Pontiac's Centennial in 1961.

Khrushchev Visit Still Brings Letters

Maybe we should all consider that Khrushchev has gone and be glad of it and call an end to the whole thing, but I just read that someone in Washington told outsiders that the TV applause heard at the Press Club was mostly planted Soviet news men who jammed in to make the loud noise. K. is a cheap phony.

L. H. G.

Now that we have Khrushchev out of the U. S. and back in Russia where he belongs, maybe you newspapers will print some news we want to read and not a step-by-step account of where that bum went and what he did.

Phooey

I didn't vote for Eisenhower, but he has made very few mistakes and has been a first rate President, but he slipped when he asked Khrushchev over here. It would have been O. K. for the Russian to come, but not by invitation of the President of the United States. That was a bad blunder, for it made a respectable man out of one who is everything else.

Jameson Spently

Much has been said about that notorious, scheming man from Russia. But I'd like to ask why he was received with such open arms? This country is supposed to be a Christian nation upholding everything that's right and just.

He has certainly proven why he came by going directly to Red China to report. I'm not a Bible student or member of any church, but I do know the word of God is true and what will eventually take place.

God help us and protect us and give us foresight in the future to keep this nation strong.

What great satisfaction it must have been for our "great visitor" from Russia to find out about our wonderful educational system. While the PTA should be most helpful in the fight to eradicate un-Americanism from our textbooks, these groups, too, in many places, have been influenced by the "artist from Moscow."

Parents of many teenagers are against communism and its propaganda, but they don't recognize when they see it. Or they're afraid to speak about it.

'Guess Some Are Just Plain Lucky'

Irene mentioned a family of five school children, parents unable to work, having ADC canceled. It's likely because they don't have plenty cash on hand.

A couple has a granddaughter who goes to school with her children. They get ADC for her. Yet they paid cash to a private contractor to put sidewalks in along two lots. They wouldn't wait for the City to do it and pay taxes like other residents on the street to help the City.

Now what is fair about that? Some folks are just lucky.

Few things in life are worse for us... Than wasted energy... Especially the precious kind... That we lose mentally... When we relax and rest too long... With idleness or fun... While we ignore our duties and... We never get them done... We have the urge to loaf and play... To talk and laugh and sing... And we forget there is a time... And place for everything... Let us attend to duty and... To every obligation... Before we leave our workbench and... Begin a celebration... Each moment that is wasted is... A moment tossed away... And there is no way to retrieve... The time lost yesterday.

Swedes to Use Rockets in Probe of Northern Lights

STOCKHOLM (AP)—What turns on the northern lights? Swedish scientists are preparing to send up instrument-carrying rockets in an effort to find out.

The brilliant streamers and arches of light of the Aurora Borealis, glowing across the polar skies, have fascinated man ever since he reached these latitudes.

In the scientific project announced today, the rockets will be sent 75 to 150 miles up, high into the luminous phenomenon, which begins about 60 miles above the earth.

The rockets are expected to be sent up from northern Sweden, which lies below one of the zones of intensive Aurora Borealis activity.

Swedish experts are studying possibilities of using American rockets of the Oriole or Terrapin type and are also considering a Japanese construction.

'No Officials Violating Law'

Hoffa Makes Statement to Labor Secretary in Answer to Letter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa said Thursday a survey of two-thirds of his Union's locals had failed to disclose any Union officials holding office in violation of the new labor reform law.

Hoffa made the statement in a letter to Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell.

The Teamster chief said Monday an informal check had turned up five officials with recent criminal records as set forth in the act but that they were all on leaves of absence.

Mitchell had asked Hoffa for a report on Teamster officials who might be violating Section 501 of the act. The section states that persons convicted of certain crimes may not hold union office for five years after they get out of jail.

Hoffa wrote Mitchell that "only approximately two-thirds of our local unions have reported to us up to this point and soon as our survey is complete we shall be pleased to advise you further."

Hoffa told Mitchell "we believe you will agree the steps we have taken in this matter go far beyond those which were necessary under the law. We have nevertheless done so to assure our good faith compliance."

U.S. Pledges $750,000 to World Atom Agency

VIENNA (UPI)—The United States Thursday pledged $750,000 to the 1960 voluntary contribution fund of the International Atomic Energy Agency.

U.S. Delegate John A. McCone said the United States would pay $500,000 unconditionally and the rest on a matching basis after the fund reached the one-million-dollar mark.

The goal is $1,500,000 of which the U.S. contribution would represent half.

Boys Travel From Massachusetts to Detroit

Train Hoppers Get 'Bonus' Ride

3C-1-36 SP-TRAIN HOPPERS

DETROIT (AP)—The two youths were frightened, hungry and little inclined to believe the railroad detective who was shouting through the closed door of the boxcar.

"You're in Windsor, Canada," called the detective yesterday in answer to the chorused "Where are we?" from 13-year-olds Michael Chase and Donald Bossan of West Boylston, Mass.

The youths said later their suspicions arose further when the voice told them their car was sealed for customs and couldn't be opened until the train reached Detroit, just across the river.

But at the next stop, the boys blinked in U.S. sunshine for the first time in 25 hours. New York Central Railroad officials turned them over to police where they were given their first food and water since leaving West Boylston, some 640 miles to the east.

"We didn't believe him," said Michael when told that the Canadian railroad detective had telephoned ahead and reported he had talked with the youths after hearing knocking from inside the boxcar.

The youths said they got into the car after high school classes Wednesday. They had hitchhiked to Boylston, seven miles from West Boylston, to visit a friend.

"We were curious," said Donald, "so we climbed in. Pretty soon there was a crash and the train started moving. We couldn't jump out because it was going too fast."

The train stopped at Springfield, Mass., but the boys said there were people outside the car and they afraid to jump out. They said a railroad employee closed the doors, locking them inside.

The youths said the train stopped several times but no one responded to their shouts.

"We lit matches and read the labels on some crates," Michael said. "Then we really got nervous. The crates held furniture for Los Angeles and San Francisco."

SLEPT 'QUITE A BIT'

"We figured it would take about two weeks to reach the West Coast and we'd last about a week."

The teenagers said they slept "quite a bit of the time" and didn't get cold, "just chilly."

Michael wore a sweater and Donald a light jacket.

The youths were held at the Detroit Juvenile Detention Home overnight. Police said their parents were to wire them money to day to return home.

"We're going by bus," Donald said firmly.

Red Chinese Dance in Square of Peace

TOKYO (AP)—To the strains of flags and carrying flowers, marched in Shanghai, China's biggest city.

About 400,000 paraded in Wuhan and 300,000 participated in Tientsin's observance.

In Lhasa, capital of revolt-torn Tibet, 35,000 peasants, herdsmen and other citizens danced traditional yak, peacock and lion dances, the agency reported.

There was no word of when Khrushchev will return to Moscow. The Soviet leader came to Peiping Wednesday officially to attend the Oct. 1 celebration of the 10th anniversary of the Communist capture of mainland China.

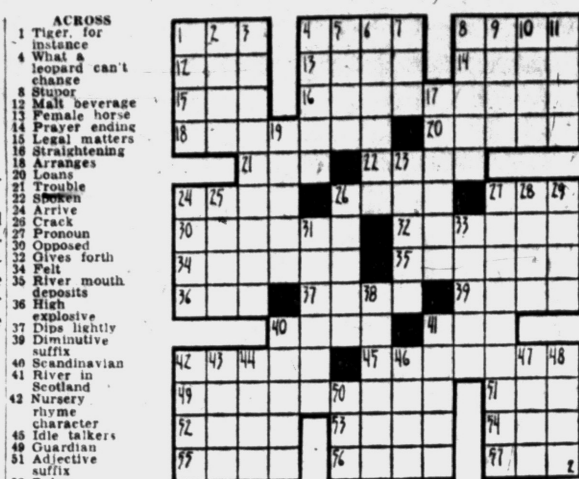

But he also is telling Mao and his chief aides about his talks with President Eisenhower and his American visit, and presumably he is trying to bring Peiping's policy in line with his new peace line resulting from his American trip.

After the big parade, the Red news agency reported, "Workers, students and commune workers from the vicinity of the city began to flock into the square, bringing with them Chinese and Western musical instruments."

As Khrushchev and the other Communist leaders watched from atop the high gate in the square, "The whole place took on a thrilling fairland atmosphere."

Among the most admired of the dancers were groups of Tibetans, Mongolians and Koreans in their colorful national costumes. Students from 18 countries in Europe, Asia and Latin America were dancing with students of Peiping University.

Peiping's observance was only one of many "joyful celebrations," the Communist report continued. It said 600,000 people, waving

Festival of Color Due on Weekend in North Areas

LANING (AP)—Bursts of gold and scarlet across the forests of the north country will signal the peak of the "fall color spectacular" this weekend in the Upper Peninsula, the Michigan Tourist Council said today.

Next weekend, the council said, the autumn color display should be well under way in the Northern Lower Peninsula. Later heavy color concentrations will show up in southern areas.

The council said requests for fall travel information are run-ing about eight per cent ahead of last year.

10 Million Seedlings to Be Planted in State

LANING (AP)—Some 10 million seedlings will be planted in Michigan state forests this fall under a 10-year program newly launched by the Conservation Department. Sixty planting machines are being manned in 11 forests in the northern Lower Peninsula and seven north of the Straits. Three-fourths of the stock are red pine seedlings. The others are white pine and jack pine.

The 10-year plan calls for planting of 20 million seedlings annually.

Gift Firm Manna for Women Past 40

By PHYLLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK — When a woman is "getting on"—when her children no longer need her, when she is untrained for a career, when she despises bridge and canasta but has no real objection to money—what should she do?

She might consider the path pioneered by two New York ladies, frankly past 40, who recently began a business called "Beside Manna."

In this most competitive city in America they have quite suddenly begun to strike it rich by doing what, to most gentle women the country over, comes naturally.

They pamper people. For money. Ethel Aaron and Jean Kates, mother of three college-age children, put together custom-made baskets of unusual gifts to be delivered to people who are sick, sailing or celebrating. Their theory: "Every woman who cares about people and is over 40 has spent 20 years thinking up gifts to please friends. It's so much more fun, so much more appreciated, than just sending flowers. So we're proof that if a woman likes doing these thoughtful little things she can make herself a career of it—insurance for her old age."

They started, with less cash than many mature women spend on a fall wardrobe, composing their first baskets for hospital sickrooms.

Nothing in the baskets (including the baskets themselves, which may be knitting baskets, wastebaskets, or tote bags) is perishable; all gifts are gay and either useful or decorative. For maternity cases, the basket contains not only frivolities, beautifully wrapped, for mama—but gifts for the father and baby as well (and for other children in the family who will visit the hospital).

★ ★ ★ Presents for a woman in the hospital should be "lovely and giddy," her own pillowcase covered with butterflies, towels with great cabbage roses, a tissue box of Hong Kong silk, a silly, flowery ash tray, fancy note paper with a ball-

AP Wirephoto

SENTENCED — Steven Truscott, 14, was convicted Wednesday of murder in the rape-slaying of a playmate, Lynn Harper, 12 at Goderich, Ont. Steven was sentenced to be hanged. The jury recommended mercy so it is possible the sentence will be changed.

point and stamps, all wrapped magnificently.

REMINDERS FOR MEN

For men, most hospital baskets are wastebaskets stuffed with reminders of their favorite hobbies: A battered golf ball in an egg cup, a dollar bill wrapped in paper that relates "it's really nothing," hand-some mobiles to be hung over the bed, an amusing new book, an Italian leather book jacket, an old-fashioned kaleidoscope ("because all men revert to childhood when they are ill.")

Ethel and Jean expanded their operation to include celebrations of all kinds, from sailings to birthdays to "no-occasion surprises."

A young man called at their shop at 307 Fifth Ave. to order a basket for his new girl. Since this is a highly personalized service, the women always ask for the likes, dislikes, hobbies, age, etc., of the recipient. He said he didn't know much about her, except she always seemed to be in the shower when he called.

★ ★ ★ "Beside Manna" sent her a laundry basket, filled with shampoo, goggles, fancy soaps, bath mitts, giddy towels, frivolous swim caps and a gold-plated sink-stopper.

Their gift baskets begin at $15 and go as high as — "well, one man had us make up a basket for his wife that included small red facsimile of a foreign sports convertible, along with a purchase order for the real thing. Many people ask us to include transistor radios, and one man had us build a basket around a diamond ring."

Jean and Ethel recommend their business to all mature women who "like people and are artistic enough to wrap a pretty package." It's the personal satisfaction that counts.

The money you make from it is incidental. Though considerable.

Laotian Troops Duel Reds in Heavy Battle

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Government and Communist troops duelled in northwestern Sam Neua province in some of the heaviest prolonged fighting of the Laos war, it was reported Thursday.

The reports arrived here after two United Nations investigators flew into the battleground province to investigate the government's claim that North Viet Nam Communists have committed aggression against Laos.

Brig. Gen. Ouane Rathkone, Laos army chief of staff, said the new fighting occurred around Muong Het and Xieng Kho but there were no details on who had the upper hand. Government troops recaptured Muong Het last Sunday.

The U.N. investigators left this city aboard a Laotian air force C47 transport after more than two weeks studying documents, maps and weapons in Vietnamese.

Park Visits Set U.S. Mark

12,100,000 Made Trips in August; Only Drop Is at Yellowstone

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vacationing Americans paid a record-breaking total of 12,100,000 visits to national parks and other National Park System areas last August.

The Interior Department said today that visitors poured into the parks at the rate of 390,322 a day. The previous record-high month was last July when visits totalled 11,675,000. Visits in August, 1958, totalled 11,661,000.

Conrad L. Wirth, director of the National Park Service said total visits for 1959 probably would top 62 million to set another new record.

The 10 most heavily visited areas in the park system during August were Blue Ridge Parkway, 970,000 visits; Great Smoky Mountains National Park, 817,000; Rocky Mountain National Park, 483,000; Grand Teton National Park, 468,000; Yellowstone National Park, 412,000; Olympic National Park, 409,000; Lake Mead National Recreation Area, 374,000; Natchez Trace Parkway, 335,000; Mount Ranier National Park, 324,000, and Mount Rushmore National Memorial, 324,000.

Only Yellowstone National Park among the top 10 reported fewer visitors than in August, 1958. The drop was caused by the series of earthquakes which rocked the crowded park area during the last two weeks of August.

Grand Rapids Has Mall Plan for Downtown

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Members of the Grand Rapids Architects League today were scheduled to unveil a new redevelopment plan for the city, including a mall in the downtown area.

The proposal is the latest in a series dealing with ways to pep up the downtown business area.

Sketches for the new development show a giant archway entrance for division, an arcade with glass, formal gardens and outdoor exhibit areas. Also included are trees, fountains, sidewalk cafes and spaces for special exhibits along Monroe.

Townships Can Put Rules on Motorboats

LANSING (AP)—A township may regulate motorboats on lake waters within its boundaries provided regulations do not conflict with state law, Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams held Thursday.

Replying to an inquiry from Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), Adams said such authority was granted by a 1959 statute empowering townships to regulate the "safety of persons and property."

17 Oakland Men Enlist in Navy Past Month

Seventeen Oakland County men were accepted for enlistment in the Navy through the Pontiac Naval Recruiting Station during the month of September, it was announced today.

There were no new recruits from Pontiac.

The group included James Eckler, Richard McLaughlin, Leonard James, Clark Mason, Gary Sheldon, Robert Shuler and Barry Sill, all of Lake Orion.

Others were Owen Stitz and John Lambertson, both of Waterford Township; Harrison Hickok of White Lake Township; Harold Walterhouse of Pontiac Township, and Gary A. May of West Bloomfield Township.

Acts Will Be Delayed by Delayed State Acts

LANSING (AP)—The Secretary of State's office had an answer today for citizens complaining they have not yet received bound copies of the Michigan Public Acts of 1959.

The annual edition of the Acts can't go to the printer until the Legislature is through acting, explained Secretary of State James M. Hare.

About 99 per cent of the current edition is set in type, Hare said, but the volume can't be completed until the Legislature adjourns.

About 11,500 copies of the Public Acts, particularly in demand by attorneys, are printed. They are provided free to members of the Legislature, state officials, county officers, judges and public and bar association libraries. A World Conference will be held at New Delhi, India, December, 1959 to February.

Presenting the Magnificent Nineteen-Sixty

Cadillac

THE FLEETWOOD SIXTY SPECIAL

Creating a New Era of Elegance!

The motor cars represented here will soon introduce a new era of elegance to the world's highways.

They are the Cadillac cars of 1960—and, from every standpoint, they represent the Cadillac tradition in its finest hour.

In appearance, they are regal and majestic as never before—a brilliant symphony of line and contour from the sparkling new front grille to the graceful rear fenders.

In interior decor, they are truly magnificent—featuring luxurious new fabrics and leathers—new convenience of appointments—and new excellence in every detail.

And in the way they drive and handle, they are perfection on wheels. There is a greatly refined engine and transmission that provide even finer performance . . . a ride of unbelievable smoothness and quiet . . . and advancements in power steering and braking that make motoring the simplest and most delightful of pleasures.

These new Cadillac virtues have been interpreted in thirteen distinctive body styles. Every motorist owes himself an hour at the wheel of one of these creations.

The 1960 Cadillac is waiting for you now at your authorized Cadillac dealer's—and your dealer himself is waiting to introduce you to this magnificent new Standard of the World!

Polish City Relaxed Over Giant Powder Keg

WARSAW (AP)—For 15 years citizens of Lublin—a city of 150,000 in eastern Poland—relaxed in a park laid out over 1,000 tons of explosives fused to blow up the city center, the Polish press reported today.

The Nazis stored the explosives there during the war as part of a plan to demolish the city. They were discovered and removed in 1944, and were used to build a department store on the park site.

The origin of silk weaving in China is unknown. Earliest examples found were in Chinese Turkestan in 1914, these being attributed to the First Century B.C.

Still Far Behind West

East Germans Looking Better

By JOSEPH FLEMING
BERLIN (UPI)—The Communist youth organization has called on its members to celebrate the East German state's 10th anniversary by collecting stamps to sell for foreign exchange.

The money will be used to buy tropical fruits, a rarity in the Soviet zone.

The state-run chemical industry announced meanwhile that the world's largest sulphuric acid plant will be completed next year.

In Leipzig, a farmer was arrested for inviting neighbors to watch West German television, and in East Berlin an undisclosed number of taxi drivers were arrested as Western spies.

Those three items sum up fairly well the condition of the "German Democratic Republic" after 10 years. It was founded Oct. 7, 1949.

More than six years have passed since East German workers rebelled for bread and freedom. One of their demands has been fulfilled. There is no hunger and many East Germans complain they must stuff themselves because there's little else to do with their money.

But freedom is as far away as ever.

So are bananas and "a thousand small things" West Germans take for granted. The "thousand small things" phrase was used by Communist leader Walter Ulbricht in a speech the central committee to describe shortages.

But Ulbricht went on to say that East Germany plans to almost double the value of consumer goods production in a seven-year period. And just as the Soviet Union asserts it will catch up to the American standard of living, so did Ulbricht make the same boast for East Germany.

In the light of that boast, the news of the new sulphuric acid plant would appear to be more important than any shortage of bananas.

East German leaders reason that the bananas will take care of themselves if the Soviet's large-scale economic plans for the zone are carried out.

East Germany has made great progress in the last 10 years. Visitors to East Berlin and other East German cities still are struck by the drabness they contrast with West Germany's neon-lit unprecedented prosperity.

But the contrast was even greater a few years ago. East Germans now look better, eat better and dress better than they did a year ago.

East Germany, in fact, suffers because it always is compared with West Germany. Compare it with another Soviet satellite and it looks good.

Strontium 90 Helpful in Some Eye Ailments

DETROIT (AP)—Osteopathic eye, ear, nose and throat specialists were told yesterday that strontium 90 has been found to be helpful in treating some eye ailments.

Strontium 90 is a deadly radioactive substance linked with atomic fallout.

Dr. Martin L. Trepel, chairman of the Department of Nuclear Medicine at Art Centre Hospital here, said the element can be used to destroy overgrowths of blood vessels and cancerous tumors that threaten vision.

Control Rule in Court by Indiana Farmer

CHICAGO (AP)—An Indiana farmer has taken his five-year fight against federal crop controls into an appeals court hearing for the second time. After arguments, the case was taken under advisement.

The farmer, Ethan Stangland, 57, of Noble County in Northern Indiana, is seeking to regain title to two tractors confiscated last year by the government for his failure to pay a $394 penalty for overplanting his wheat allotment in 1954.

"I'll fight this thing for the rest of my life, if necessary," he told a newsman. "I've always felt the government has no right to boss my farm."

The penalty was levied after Stangland grew 30 acres of wheat on his farm near Albion, Ind., 16 acres more than his share of the Noble County allotment. He refused to pay the penalty.

Stangland said he is an admirer of Stanley Yankus, the Dowagiac, Mich. farmer who emigrated to Australia rather than conform with agricultural regulations, but that he and his wife, Edith, 56, have no intention of leaving the United States, as Yankus did.

THEY RUN THE 'WATERLOG' — The new staff of Waterford Township High School's yearbook, "Waterlog," already are working toward their deadlines. The staff heads, recently named, are shown here planning and busy at work toward what they feel will

Waterford Township High Names Yearbook Editors

By JOHN TEEUWISSEN
Waterlog co-editors Laurie Sherwood and Mary Ellen Cote have announced the staff for the 1960 yearbook at Waterford Township High School.

Mark Boe is serving as business manager. Class editors are Mary Ellen Taylor, seniors; Janice Smith, juniors; Helen Hallock, sophomores.

Club editor is Kay Greer; activities editor, Peggy Basore; index editor, Sharon Hartman; and sports editors, Tim Patterson, Jim Luzod, and Ray Robinson.

Assisting these editors are Alice Harrell, Margie Walker, Rene St. Dennis, Mary Harding, Linda Capel, Bruce Wood, Joe Neussen, Dorfer and Kerrie Payne.

Photography is being done by John Motley and Jim Mulanix. Bonnie Hop and Bettie Maxwell are the typists.

Senior pictures will be taken at Waterford beginning Wednesday by Powell Studios. The sitting fee of $3.50 will include a composite picture of the senior class and a glossy for the yearbook as well as the proofs.

Appointments for sittings will be made with each senior by mail. The pictures will be taken at the high school.

With a goal of 100 per cent sales, the Waterlog kicks off its annual campaign Monday. The campaign will be taken in homerooms and during lunch hours by journalism students.

A deposit of $1.50 for students with activity cards and $2 for those without activity cards will be made when the annuals are ordered. The balance of $2 will be paid when the yearbooks are delivered in May. According to the staff, the 1960 Waterlog will be the biggest and best yet.

The Student Council will sponsor an after-game dance following Waterford's first home football game with Walled Lake tonight.

Plans are under way for College Night to be held at Waterford on Oct. 14. It is being sponsored by several area high schools.

Goal Already in Sight

Northern Seniors Ready for G-Day

By ED SANTALA

The second graduating class at Pontiac Northern High School is quickly realizing how near its graduation date is. College application deadlines have already passed with MSU's entrance exam given Oct. 29 to all students who hope to enter in January.

Beginning Oct. 8, senior pictures will be taken. Appointments for sittings were made this week. Seniors have filled out forms for their diplomas, specifying the name they want on them.

Representatives of Northern's debate team traveled to the University of Detroit Union Hall last Saturday for a kickoff luncheon and lecture. Lecturer for the day was D. Charles Marston, a Detroit attorney. Later they witnessed a debate between the University of Detroit and Wayne State University.

Subject of the debate and the theme for this year's high school debate was "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Substantially Increase Its Regulation of Labor Unions."

Debaters for the day were Francis L. Walsh and James R. Miller of the University of Detroit on the affirmative side, opposed by Gerald Keyes and Leon Hardiman of Wayne State University.

At the first meeting of the Student Council this year, all the new members and officers were introduced. They made plans for buying furniture for the new senior lounge outside the auditorium.

New officers of the Council are:

Representing the debate team were Barbara Berryman, Karen Rognaldson, Karen Christianson, Jean Isbell, Sharon Monroe, and Charloette Cole. Their chaperones were Betty Murphy and Edna Williams, advisors.

The Ann Ess Morrow Future Teachers Club installed new officers this week. They are Richard Bailey, president; Karen Christianson, vice president; Marlene Beyer, secretary; Karen Rognaldson, treasurer; and Barbara Everett, historian.

They were installed by Rita Stanley and Beverly Donato, former vice president and secretary, respectively. New members to the club were accepted in a candle-light ceremony following the installation.

Junior varsity cheerleaders for the 1959-60 athletic season were selected Tuesday. They are Barbara Berryman, Ruth Ann Kramp, Jeanette Whitlock and Carol Campbell. They will lead cheers in all the junior varsity games this season.

At the first meeting of the Student Council this year, all the new members and officers were introduced. They made plans for buying furniture for the new senior lounge outside the auditorium.

New officers of the Council are:

Dottie Hetherington, president; Carol Campbell, vice president; Christine Kleino, secretary; and Nancy Robinson, treasurer.

The new council members are Delores Kasten, Phyllis Dooley, Clara Dawson, Carol Henderson, Sally Young, Judy Kerr, Ronald Ludy, Kathy Murphy, Jim Spencer and Pat Mazar.

COUNCIL MEMBERS

Also Mel Oswald, Ken Freeman, Tom Hill, Sharon Buiklaw, Nancy Hibbard, Cynthia Sach, Larry Threet, Barbara Bailey, Threasa La France, Mary Ann Klok, Pat Wamples and Flora McCartney.

Concluding the list are Stan Hertel, Lynn Thompson, Carole Mihay, Carol Campbell, Kathleen Weitz, Alice Faye Cooper, Berna Koenig, Barbara Terry and Hans Arickerle.

Troy Clubs Planning for Big Year Ahead

By JUDY COWSE

Clubs making plans for the year at Troy High School are Future Nurses, Future Teachers, Tri-Hi-Y, Voice of Christian Youth and Debate.

The varsity cheerleaders made their debut at the Avondale game last Friday. They are Tam Lockhart, captain; Deanna Clippert, Heidi Kuschell and Linda Stroud.

The juniors here at Troy are all excited about the class rings they ordered this week.

Big plans for the Homecoming are getting under way. A pep rally will be held Thursday followed by the game on Friday, and the formal dance on Saturday. Members of the Homecoming Court will be published next week.

On Monday, the Parent-Teacher-Student Association had a meeting especially planned for the seniors and their parents. At this meeting the plans and costs of the senior year were discussed.

Also of interest to the seniors was the discussion on college, scholarships and opportunities for seniors after graduation.

The sophomores here got their first taste of pep assemblies last Friday before the Avondale game.

The Future Homemakers of America will hold the annual installation of officers on Tuesday. Janet Mather, who holds the office of second vice president of the Future Homemakers in the state, was first taste of pep assemblies last Friday before the Avondale game.

Avondale Classes Organized

By IRVIN GINGRICH

Organizing the different classes of Avondale High School began last week with the election of class officers. The senior class elected Irvin Gingrich as president; Larry Wright, vice president; Joyce Munro, secretary; and Donna Lawson as treasurer.

Bruce Killian is the president of the Junior class with Pat Laughlin as vice president; Jean Newman, secretary; and Carol Douglas as treasurer.

Dale Yarger heads the sophomore class as president with Bill Rice as vice president; Nancy Dutton, secretary; and Sue Wiencek as treasurer.

The officers of the Freshman class are Romy Lucero, president; Roger Bower, vice president; Brenda Forbush, secretary; and Terry Talbert, treasurer.

The varsity cheerleaders attended a cheerleading clinic last Saturday held at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti. The clinic was represented by schools from all over the state and was for the purpose of exchanging ideas on new ways of creating more school spirit and also to learn new cheers.

The Future Homemakers of America will hold the annual installation of officers on Tuesday. Janet Mather, who holds the office of second vice president of the Future Homemakers in the state, was first taste of pep assemblies last Friday before the Avondale game.

Central Pledges Initiated

Hi-Y Swings Into Action

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

The Pontiac Central High School Hi-Y is initiating new members this week.

Pledges are Jack Alamas, Jim Hiscock, Doug Carney, John Harmon, Dave Petroff, Ed Bradley, Bob Shern and John Kimball.

The Hi-Y officers for the year are Chuck Hunt, president; Forest White, vice president; Greg Uligan, secretary; Bob Greenhalgh, treasurer; Ron Joyner, sergeant-at-arms; and Bill Heider, chaplain. Dic Ayling is their advisor.

The PCHS Pep Club has been very active already this year. Members have painted signs, decorated the stadium, sold programs and chartered a bus for the Wyandotte game last Friday.

They are now selling Pontiac

Central sweatshirts to the student body for $2.75. The sweatshirts are all black with "Pontiac Central" etched around a school seal done in white.

The money raised by selling these sweatshirts will be put in a fund that will make the rates for riding the buses to the away games cheaper.

With a promising group of about 34 members, the Linnean Society started off a year full of interesting events.

Officers meet

The officers are Barbara Shadley, president; Dave Todd, vice president; Peggy Warren, secretary; Jim Colando, treasurer; and Janet Livingstone, historian. They met last Tuesday with Dr. D. B. Varner, chancellor of MSU, to make plans for the fall meeting of the Michigan Junior Academy of Science, Arts, and Letters to be held at MSU.

Sometime next month, the Linnean Society will make a trip to Glenn Rock in Canada for a fossil hunt. As an aid to sophomores, the club will investigate the Ecology Trail at Treple Hill in order to collect leaves and insects for their collections. The old members will aid these sophomores by helping them identify their specimens.

To keep the chemistry labs running smoothly, 18 students who have had chemistry II are now taking chemistry II have volunteered to work one hour a day in the laboratory. They prepare and dispense chemicals, assist with demonstrations and help the students. A lab assistant will receive a service pin for three semesters of service. The club also has many recreational activities.

The head lab assistant for this semester is Kay Slater. The other assistants are Jack Almas, Lois Arndt, Dick Brown, Judy Cantrella, Doug Carney, Ted Gaensbauer, Elaine Garrett, Judy King, Earline Kirk, Sue Koprine, Ned MacDaonald and Ken Shaw.

Others are Mary Spoor, Fred Staley, Sharon Stuckman and Marilyn Vernon.

New Officers at St. Frederick

Classes Elect Parle, Dobski, Donohoe as School Presidents

By PAT VILLELLA

The week opened at St. Frederick High School with each class having new officers. Presiding over the classes were the following:

Seniors: Denny Parle, president (Denny has held this office in the same class for four preceding years); vice president, Sue Shorey; secretary, Linda LaLonde; treasurer, Mike Zimmer.

Juniors: Ted Dobski, president; Marnie Medina, vice president; Veronica Garzinski, secretary; Dave Garza, treasurer.

Sophomores: Dave Donohoe, president; Linda Schafer, vice president; Sue Polmeier, secretary; Jim Schachern, treasurer.

Officers for Student Council were elected by the class officers. These were elected by those who were runners-up for class officers.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council officers are: president, Jack O'Reilly; vice president, Judy Wagner; secretary, Carol Hoyt; treasurer, Joe Bergin.

Other representatives: Louise Landry, Jim Zanoni, Dennis Lufkin and Pauline Myers.

Officers for the Library Club were elected. They are: Mary Kay Ermel, president; Pat Brandt, vice president; Sue McMahon, secretary; and Charlotte Oshust, treasurer.

Last weekend, a group of students made a trip to the University of Detroit for a Debating Clinic there.

The varsity cheerleaders, headed by Captain Cookie Schafer, made a trip to Ypsilanti for a cheerleading conference.

Representing the Court Sessions, with the Teen Age Traffic Court of North Oakland County are Paul Koenig, Bob Huseraux and Mary Devereaux.

A "Scotch Hop" will be held in the parish hall tonight sponsored by Teen Club. The dance will have door prizes and Scottish "tams" will be given to all who attend. Plaid is a "must" and all St. Fred's students are welcome.

Thackeray Artist, Too

William Makepeace Trackery, author of "Esmond," "Vanity Fair" and other noted novels was also an artist. He illustrated many of his own writings.

Bonnie Young was chairman of the play-reading committee which assisted the 15 seniors in their selection.

Miss Eloise Tallant will direct the play, scheduled for Nov. 19 and 20 at the Rochester Junior High School Auditorium.

Among those working at the junior-sponsored victory dance following the game with Howell last week were Barb Steckling, Betty Swan, Mary Smith, Judy Stubbe, Joy Stevens and Nancy Smith.

Karen Tuttle, a senior and captain of the varsity cheerleaders has been selected as one of six girls who will tour the central, eastern, and southern states for the United States Cheerleading Association Precision Team.

Sponsoring the team is Pauline Hess who directs the Michigan State University cheerleaders. The first of the tours is taking place today, tomorrow and Sunday at Springfield, Ill.

Monday Deadline Set for Clarkston Magazine Sales

By PAULETTE KIMBALL

Magazine sales will continue at Clarkston High School through Monday. Class winners will have their choice of five prizes.

Gifts will include cashmere sweaters, men's or women's watches, transistor radios, fishing equipment, sleeping bags and a special attraction is the prize for the mystery student.

A name has been taken from the office files and sealed so no one will know whose name it is.

At the end of the sales the person's name will be revealed. If he or she has sold at least 10 dollars worth of magazine subscriptions, the reward will be a camera, complete with case and flash.

One of our leading clubs, the GAA, open to girls between the freshman and senior classes, held its first meeting of the year last Friday.

Veronica Longton, president this year, presided and introduced the club's new sponsor, Mrs. Isola.

PROPOSED CHANGES

Discussed were the changes to take place in the constitution, settlement of dues and class representation.

Elected to the executive board were: senior class, Mary Beaumont; junior class, Rosalie Lipert; sophomore class, Carolyn Ruggless; and freshman class, Blair Bullard.

The Egg and I is the play selected by members of the senior class as its offering for the fall season.

Bonnie Young was chairman of the play-reading committee which assisted the 15 seniors in their selection.

Holly Leaders Assume Posts

By SUE RIDDLE

Class officers, student council officers, and cheerleaders have been selected for the 1959-60 school year at Holly High School.

Freshman class officers are president, Lance Haddon; vice president, Doug Williams; secretary, Karen Lee; and treasurer, John Keasey.

The sophomore officers are president, Jane Powell; vice president, Darryl Anderson; secretary, Mary Lou Berres; and treasurer, Ed McKinley.

Heading the junior class is Bob Ennis, president; Don Mackenzie, vice president; Carol Stack, secretary; and Mort Weldy, treasurer.

Karl Richter and Judy Thompson who have been elected president and secretary of their class for three years have been elected to the same offices again in their senior year. Allen Moody is vice president and Arvin Brown is treasurer.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Nominations and elections for Student Council were held last spring. Allen Moody was elected president while Pat Boncher, Shari Lynch and Sylvia Wycoff were elected vice president, secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The 1959-60 cheerleading squad are Shari Lynch, Judy Thompson, Pat Rouleau, Shariene Taylor, Janice Hitchcock and Sue Brown. They are all seniors except Sue who is a junior, Janet Behrendt, a junior, is the alternate.

The members of the Future Farmers Club of America elected the FFA sweetheart. The nominees were picked from girls who live on a farm. Pat Brendel was elected the sweetheart.

Homecoming activities are being planned by the Student Council for Oct. 9. The outcome of the homecoming queen was to be announced today in an assembly for the student body. Pat Boncher is the general chairman for the homecoming activities.

The Student Council will handle the homecoming festivities as they have in the past. An allocations will be chosen to plan the rest of the year's activities.

St. Michael Journalists Go to Confab

By BARBARA ARDELAN

The first Detroit Student Press Association general press convention will be held Saturday at the University of Detroit Memorial Building.

Those from St. Michael High School attending the various meetings are Marilyn Biallas, Barb Gottschalk, Sue Heisler, Marsha Vanover, Bob Linsenmen and Pat Burns. Others are Judy Stickney, Margaret Worden, Tonya Hurst and Ralph Lane.

Registration will be in the Memorial Building lobby at 8:30 a.m. The Rev. James P. Conroy, junior editor for a well known Catholic publication, will explain the importance of editorial and technical competence in high school newspapers and will show how today these skills make an important contribution to the Catholic press.

Junior elections took place this week with Russell Greenless and Bob Sabourin elected as presidents for the 1959-60 school term.

Junior room 1 elected Allen Tunny, vice president; Kitty Daugherty, secretary; Margaret Worden, treasurer; Tonya Hurst, C.S.M.C. representative; and Dennis Wiegandt, Student Council representative.

Junior room 2 elected Elmer Anderson, vice president; Margaret Steck, secretary; Pat Burns, treasurer; Marsh Vanover, C.S.M.C. representative; and Art Roback, student council representative.

Sophomore elections were held Thursday with Gilbert Hoffman and Robert Flanagan elected as presidents, Jim Hurren and Judy Lamphere, vice presidents; Pat O'Shea and Jackie Vess, secretaries; Sharen Rodden and Gerald Myers, treasurers.

The cheerleaders elected by the seniors are Pat Donley, Kathy Lauinger and Judy McGinnis.

The standing tradition of freshmen initiation has been formally abolished by the senior class of 1960. Instead, a dance has been planned to welcome the freshmen 8 o'clock tonight in the parish hall. Admission will be 50 cents per person.

The members of the Future Farmers Club of America elected the FFA sweetheart. The nominees were picked from girls who live on a farm. Pat Brendel was elected the sweetheart.

Homecoming activities are being planned by the Student Council for Oct. 9. The outcome of the homecoming queen was to be announced today in an assembly for the student body. Pat Boncher is the general chairman for the homecoming activities.

W. Bloomfield Off 'n' Rnning

By DOTTY DWYER

There's a drone of voices, a ringing of bells, a slamming of locker doors and cherry greetings across the halls, all of which signify that West Bloomfield High is once again in session.

Eager to be "off and running" the Varsity Club has already elected its officers. They are president, Tom Cashman; vice president, Jack Newton; secretary, Jim Eliason; treasurer, Dennis Marinack.

Tom Cashman reports that a new camera and stand atop the press box, purchased by the Varsity Club this fall, will enable the photographers to get better pictures of all the games.

Last year the refreshment stand proved to be too small for the surging, hungry crowd, and the club is in the process of enlarging the stand.

The Varsity Club members will also be responsible for all the concessions at the games and hope to sell gallons of soft drinks and miles of hot dogs so that by the end of the year they may acquire a whirlpool bath, new uniforms for the football team and additional equipment such as shoulder, hip and knee pads, helmets and shoes.

The juniors named Jim Holt, president; Jamie Harris, vice president; Terri Mc Maken, secretary and Barbara Steckling, treasurer.

For their first year in senior high, the sophomores will be led by Mary Brown, president; Mary Young, vice president; Mary Lang, secretary and Sue Haight, treasurer.

Walled Lake Seniors Pick Mike Miller as President

By KAREN GAMMEL

After the smoke from the campaigns for class officers cleared at Walled Lake High School it was revealed that the senior class had chosen Mike Miller president; John Laffrey, vice president; Bonnie Spencer, secretary and Mike Cosgrove, treasurer.

The juniors named Jim Holt, president; Jamie Harris, vice president; Terri Mc Maken, secretary and Barbara Steckling, treasurer.

For their first year in senior high, the sophomores will be led by Mary Brown, president; Mary Young, vice president; Mary Lang, secretary and Sue Haight, treasurer.

Canada Grows by 266,000

First 8 Months Jump
Total to 17,550,000;
Ontario Leads Way

OTTAWA (UPI)—Canada's population increased by 266,000 during the first eight months of the year, reaching 17,550,000 on Sept. 1.

The increase was almost identical to the 267,000 population growth during the same period last year. But it was well down from the record 401,000 in 1957 before immigration restrictions were tightened in the face of an economic recession.

Ontario had the greatest increase—163,000—to push its total to 5,990,000. Quebec was next with a 77,000 increase for a total of 5,032,000. Prince Edward Island only increased by 2,000 to bring its population to 183,000.

Canada's gross national product during the second quarter of the year was $34,700,000,000, up seven per cent from the same period a year ago.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics credited the rise to an increase in volume of goods and services produced rather than a rise in prices. It said, however, prices did rise fractionally.

The seven per cent increase was the same as that predicted for the whole year by Finance Minister Donald Fleming in his April 9 budget. He forecast a 1959 gross national product—the sum total of all goods and services produced—of $35,400,000,000.

Career Diplomat Gets Bohlen's Manila Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic sources said Thursday President Eisenhower has picked career diplomat John Dewey Hickerson, now U.S. envoy to Finland, to be ambassador to the Philippines. Hickerson has served at the sensitive listening post of Helsinki since Oct. 4, 1955. At Manila, he would succeed Charles E. Bohlen, who has been assigned to the State Department as an adviser on Soviet affairs. Hickerson, 61-year-old Texan, previously has served as assistant secretary of state for United Nations Affairs and as director of European Affairs.

Here Betting Swallows $2 Million

Chico Marx Working — to Pay Bookies

LONDON (UPI)—The eldest and poorest of the Marx Brothers comedy team went to work today to support his bookies.

"I have been betting on horses since I was 25 and I calculate I must have lost approximately two million dollars since then," 67-year-old Chico Marx told a news conference yesterday.

Chico (he's the one who wears the dunce cap hat and plays the piano) arrived in England to begin a series of television engagements.

"I lost a packet last time I was in England. All the bookmakers here were friends of mine," he said.

"Groucho's rich. Harpo's rich, and so are Zeppo and Gummo. Me, I play the horses," the American comedian said.

'ZEPPLO LOST $70,000'

"Mind you, my brothers ain't saved all their dough. Zeppo gambled away $70,000 in a week at Las Vegas. But he's a good business man," Chico said.

"Las Vegas, horses, women. That's how the money goes."

"Now Groucho—he ain't interested in Las Vegas and horses. He gets married once in a while with the money he makes. He's got his third wife now," the eldest of the zany brothers said.

"I just got married again myself. I went with her (his 42-year-old wife Mary Dee) for 17 years and never quarreled once. Now we've been married one year and we fight all the time," he said.

Chico said his average yearly horse betting losses are $70,000. Asked how he became such a bad judge of horse flesh, Chico replied, "Do you know anyone who isn't?"

"If they have not lost as much money as me they have not bet as much."

ADVICE: NEGLECT BETTING

His "advice to youngsters" was to neglect betting.

"Don't let the horses make a fool out of you," he said. "They're nobody's friend. I've lost nearly all my money that way. It's like a drug—only drugs are cheaper."

It's Hard to Find

Few Visits to Ike's Retreat

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Relatively few sightseers have shown up so far at President Eisenhower's Desert White House, possibly because it's not too easy to find.

Except for several official cars parked out front, George E. Allen's winter home looks like all other luxury houses in the area. You can easily overlook it.

But every now and then a knowledgeable motorist with family or friends in the car will approach the house and either stop and look from a distance or drive slowly past.

There actually isn't much to see from the road: a high wall, the tile roof, a cluster of ornamental palm trees, the mountain behind and — through the gateway — a corner of the front porch.

Consumers with more leisure time available are currently spending $2,100,000,000 for photographic supplies; $3,500,000,000 for gardening equipment; $2,100,000,000 for boating and $300,000,000 for hi-fi and stereo components. At their leisure, too, these customers turn to daily newspapers for news, features and ads about their favorite hobbies.

World Bank OKs Easy-Payment Loans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The World Bank Thursday approved the creation of a new billion-dollar international lending agency to make easy-payment loans to underdeveloped countries.

Without dissent the governors of the 68-nation bank adopted a resolution offered by the United States to set up the international development Assn. as an affiliate of the bank.

The new organization will make soft loans of a type the World

Bank cannot make—with favorable interest rates, long repayment terms and repayments to be made at least in part in the currency of the borrowing nation.

The United States will subscribe about 330 million dollars of the capital, with other countries putting in contributions proportionate to their ability to pay. Some 60 nations may become members.

Plan Hearing for Seaman in Divorcee's Ship Death

NEW YORK (AP) — A Dutch seafarer gets a hearing Oct. 6 on a warrant charging him with the murder of pretty divorcee Lynn Kauffman, who vanished from an outbound freighter in Boston Harbor almost two weeks ago.

The beaten body of 23-year-old Miss Kauffman, who resumed her maiden name after her divorce, washed ashore in Boston Sept. 19, the day after the freighter Utrecht sailed for Brooklyn.

Held without bail in Brooklyn Felony Court on a Boston Municipal Court warrant was handsome Willem Louis Van Rie, 30, radioman aboard the Utrecht.

Authorities said Van Rie broke down during questioning and admitted striking Miss Kauffman during an argument in her cabin. Van Rie, who has a wife in Holland, said he had been having a shipboard romance with the girl during the voyage from Singapore. A radio operator's jacket was found in her cabin.

But Van Rie denied throwing Miss Kauffman overboard. He said he slugged her when she got excited and came at him as they heatedly discussed her "supposed pregnancy."

Examination of her body in Boston, said Capt. James B. Fallon, Boston homicide squad chief, showed no pregnancy.

Ironically, it fell to Van Rie to radio from his ship that Miss Kauffman was missing.

Miss Kauffman was the daughter of Theodore Kauffman Jr., head of a Chicago boiler equipment firm. She was divorced in 1956 from Arthur B. Tucker, a St. Louis, Mo., attorney.

New U. S. Revenue Form Is Less Taxing (Mentally)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service Thursday introduced a new income tax form designed to make taxpaying easier, if no less costly, for 17 million Americans.

This is the first all-new tax return in five years.

Called Form 1040W, it can be used by anyone whose income consists of wages and salary—regardless of amount—plus not more than $300 of dividends and interest.

Plans for the new return were announced several weeks ago but its format was kept secret until now.

Form 1040W has just two pages and asks fewer questions than the four-page form 1040, which is the standard tax return.

According to Revenue Service calculations, it should simplify income reporting for 17 million taxpayers. Copies of the new form will be mailed to these 17 million soon after Christmas.

There are no significant changes in other tax forms.

The new form has space for itemizing deductions. Taxpayers also can use it to claim head of household or surviving spouse status, exclusion of sick pay, exclusion and credit for dividends and credit for estimated tax payment.

The only types of income that can be reported, apart from wages and salary, are interest and dividends. If you have any other type of income you must file the regular Form 1040.

A Revenue Service official said use of the new form probably won't speed up processing of returns. He said it was designed strictly as a service to the public.

The new form has only eight pages of accompanying instructions, compared with 16 pages for Form 1040.

Because the instruction booklet for Form 1040W isn't as long, the Revenue Service will cut its annual paper order by one million pounds. This saving has been more than offset, however, by a 34 per cent increase in paper cost.

Pabst and Blatz Called 'Trust'

Government Asks Pair to Dissolve Merger of Last February

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government charged Thursday that the merger of the Pabst Brewing Co. and the Blatz Brewing Co. violates antitrust laws and asked a federal court to dissolve it.

Attorney General William P. Rogers announced that the civil antitrust suit against the two big brewers was filed in U. S. District Court at Milwaukee, Wis.

The government claimed that Pabst's acquisition of Blatz eliminates actual and potential competition between the two companies in the sale of beer in various sections of the country.

Pabst owns and operates breweries in Milwaukee, Peoria Heights, Ill., Newark, N. J., and Los Angeles, Calif. Prior to the merger, which was completed last February, Blatz owned and operated a brewery in Milwaukee.

The complaint asked that Pabst divest itself of all the assets and business of Blatz, setting up Blatz as an independent competitor.

Able to Wrap Metal Film Around Liquid

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Southwest Research Institute announced today that it has been able for the first time to wrap a metal film around a liquid.

A spokesman described the achievement as a major breakthrough in the missile fuels field.

At the same time, the non-profit research institute announced that its scientists have completed designing a submarine hull that should withstand the crushing ocean pressures three miles deep.

Submarines now operate at less than 1,000 feet down.

British Campaigns Rough and Tumble

LONDON (AP)—A British election campaign is something like an American one—only rougher.

Audiences at political meetings here look upon the campaign as a sport, something like indoor bull fighting with the candidate taking the part of the worried bull.

Harold Macmillan and Hugh Gaitskell are making whistle-stop tours, even picking up the phrase itself from American politics.

But these are small-scale things compared with the campaign swings made by American presidential candidates. There are no giant rallies of the Madison Square Garden type, no torch light parades or strutting bands.

The voting for a new 630-seat House of Commons takes place next Thursday; the campaign is entering its final stage. But by British standards a meeting of 2,000 is considered large.

All the leading figures in British politics make repeated stops in market squares and before factory gates to address small knots of people.

They reach mass audiences through political broadcasts on television. But the face-to-face encounter of the candidate and the citizenry still represents the true heart and spirit of British electioneering.

British citizens have fun during a campaign. They like nothing better than to heckle a cabinet minister or a man who hopes to become one. The bigger the target, the better the fun.

But there are limits. The chairman of a meeting can ask party stewards to throw out a particularly annoying questioner. Even then, a London judge has held, the person rushed to the exit has a right "not to be thrown out with unnecessary violence." If too much muscle is used, the ejected heckler can file suit against the chairman and the stewards.

Hal Boyle Says:

Satch Makes Pitch for Movies

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy (Satchel) Paige is Hamlet with a baseball.

"To be, or not to be, an actor"—that is the problem of baseball's famous Negro pitcher.

The greatest barnstorming hurler the game ever knew has fallen in love with the movie industry after playing his first role. He is featured as a post-Civil War U. S. Cavalry sergeant.

"It was all new to me," confessed Ole Satch. "I had nothing but a baseball in my hand for the last 35 years."

"The hoss they gave me was new. I never rode one before. But I learned how from a stunt rider in a week and a half."

"You never saw brakes like a hoss has. Every time that hoss put on its brakes, I'd start to sail over his head. I never fell off and hit the ground, but I sure drooped low a few times."

"The hardest part was learning to cry. In one part, after burying three of my buddies, I had to cry. It wasn't easy. It's been many a year since anyone ever saw me cry."

"But pitcher - makin' is fascinating, particularly when you see how they make the wind blow and the rain fall, and then put the whole thing together. I'd like to do more of it if they want me."

STILL LOVES BALL
But Paige also still loves baseball, and clings to a thread of hope that the big leagues will summon him again.

Satch, one of 14 children, quit school in the eighth grade to play ball. He had a tremendous career, but it wasn't until 1948, in the twilight of his prime, that he had a few brief seasons in the big time with the Cleveland Indians and the St. Louis Browns.

His furrowed face and wire-thin frame—he stands 6 feet 3 1/2—give him the look of an aging gnome on stilts. But he retains a great individual dignity, based on an unshakable confidence in his ability.

BORN IN 1906?

His midnight-colored hair has no streaks of gray. Although the record books list his birthdate as July 7, 1906, he still likes to make a mystery of his age.

"I'm somewhere between 40 and 60," he said. "If I told anybody my real age, they wouldn't believe it. Nobody in the world would."

"If I meet a man 80 years old, he'll swear he saw me pitch as a baby. People seem surprised when they meet me that I ain't on crutches, or riding in a wheel-chair."

There is no doubt, however, that whether he's 53 or older, the legendary hurler is one of the most durable players who ever knuckled horseshoe.

"They pamper players today," he said mildly. "When I started there wasn't much money around, and we had to play for the real love of it."

"This year I pitched in 75 games. The scouts tell me I still can throw a faster ball than any man in either league. I'm good for two or three innings any day. But they tell me it wouldn't look right for a young pitcher to be pulled out of a game and replaced by a man old enough to be his daddy. It would shame their spirit."

'NEVER LOOK BEHIND'
Satch is noted for his colorful phrases, such as his advice, "Never look behind you. Something may be gaining on you."

er look behind you. Something may be gaining on you."

Asked his secret of durability, Satch said: "Get your rest, eat light, keep busy, and don't agitate yourself if you want to stay active. I could tell you I did it by eating radishes, but it's the Man upstairs who keeps me moving around."

"Never let your head hang down. Never give up and sit down and grieve. Find another way. And don't pray when the sun shines."

When Madame Curie, the discoverer of radium, came to the United States in 1929 she was the guest of President Hoover for several days at the White House.

Doctor Ratio Heading for Sharp Decline

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Public Health Service (PHS) says the ratio of doctors to the U.S. population will drop sharply by 1975 unless medical schools start graduating substantially more students.

The PHS estimated that there would be only 126 doctors per 100,000 persons by that year if the present trend continues. Based on the 100,000 figure, the ratio has ranged between 131 and 135 for the past 20 years.

In a publication released yesterday, the service also warned that the ratio of dentists may decline even more sharply by 1975. That ratio was 62 per 100,000 persons in 1940, 57 in 1958 and is expected to decline to about 50.

The ratio of nurses, however, has increased nearly five-fold in the United States since 1910. This ratio, 268 in 1958, is expected to climb to 284 by 1970.

State Police Exhibit to Join Accident War

LANSING (AP) — The state police "Safetyliner," a mobile exhibit on traffic safety, will join a statewide war against highway accidents Monday.

The 33-foot trailer will go on public display for the first time at Flint's Fire-Rama exposition in the first of a series of statewide appearances.

The display includes a moving picture project, an illuminated series of still pictures and the battered remains of an automobile in which six persons died. Supplementing it are facilities demonstrating phases of state police work.

General Motors Corp. donated the trailers and the Michigan Assn. of Insurance Agents and Road Aid, Inc., the equipment.

Can't Deal With, Without 'Em

Red Chinese Are Problem

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Red China are caught in a myth wrapped in irony within a dilemma.

The myth: This country insists Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists on Formosa are the legitimate government of all China and not the Red Chinese who have now controlled the entire mainland for 10 years.

The irony: This country has pressured Chiang into agreeing he will not try to retake the mainland by force. Without force it seems certain he can never go back to the mainland or conquer its Red masters.

The dilemma: How can this country agree with world communism on world problems—like disarmament—unless Red China, which the United States refuses to recognize, is included?

True, through better relations with the Soviet Union, the United States could settle problems involving only the U.S.S.R. and the West. For instance, Berlin, which has nothing to do with China.

But it seems impossible to think of settlements on world problems without agreement with the Red Chinese. Agreement would almost of necessity require closer relations.

Therefore, if relations with the Soviet Union improve, it seems like, although this Red China will, too, although this will go against the grain of many in this country who are strong for Chiang and violent against the Red Chinese.

Platters to Hear Verdict Monday

Famous Singing Team Involved in Vice Trial in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Four members of a famed rock 'n' roll singing team — known internationally as the Platters — will learn Monday the verdict in their trial on vice charges.

The four male Negro singers and the four teenage girls arrested with them offered no defense testimony Thursday at their trial in municipal court.

The four singers, charged with aiding and abetting in prostitution, lewdness and assignation, are Tony Robi, 26, El Centro, Calif.; David Lynch Jr., 30, and Herbert A. Reed, 31, Los Angeles. A girl member of the singing team had no part in the case.

The singers chartered a plane after the trial and flew to Pittsburgh to fill a singing engagement.

The girls, all aged 19 and from Hamilton, Ohio, were charged with engaging in prostitution, lewdness and assignation. They are Jarie Davis, Virginia Lee Jones and Patsy Sue Howard who are white, and Helen Harrison, who is Negro.

Conviction carries a penalty of up to one year in jail or a $1,500 fine or both.

The eight were arrested Aug. 10 in a downtown Cincinnati hotel.

AN OLD CAMPAIGN HAND — A smile and a wave of a hand are the answer of 84-year-old Sir Winston Churchill to the cheers of the crowd at Woodford, England, yesterday where Britain's elder statesman spoke at an election rally. Sir Winston has asked his old supporters for the past 35 years to send him back to the House of Commons in the Oct. 8 elections.

British Political Parties Talk Bread and Taxes

LONDON (AP)—With the voting only six days away, bread-and-butter issues came more and more to the front in the campaign to elect Britain's next House of Commons.

The Labor party made a strong appeal to the housewife by pledging to abolish the sales tax on clothes, furniture and household goods to counter Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's popular declaration that "the way is now clear for the summit."

The last-minute campaign promise by the Laborites brought angry denunciations from Macmillan and his ruling Conservatives that they were "turning the election into a mock auction."

What will they promise next? shouted the prime minister at a last Thursday night in Nottingham.

Lord Hailsham, the Conservative party chairman, accused the Laborites of making "a last desperate frantic bid in an attempt to bribe the taxpayer with his own money."

The Tories, bidding for a third term in office, are still ahead in most public opinion polls. But the 5½ per cent lead they boasted two weeks ago has been slashed to a slim 1½ per cent.

Hugh Gaultier and his Laborites

Denied Permission by Prison Officials; He and Wife in Early 40's

ATLANTA (AP)—Time is running out for Mrs. Morton Sobell and her convict husband who helped Julius and Ethel Rosenberg steal atom bomb secrets for the Soviet Union.

The Sobells say they want to have another baby, but federal prison officials have refused them permission while he is confined.

Sobell is serving a 30-year sentence and won't be eligible for parole until 1962. At that time he will be 45 years old and she will be 44.

"My greatest hope is that my husband will be freed and that this problem can be solved in a normal personal way," Mrs. Sobell said Thursday. She lives in New York and comes to Atlanta every month for a regular two-hour visit with her husband. She spent her two-hour quota for September Wednesday and used up her two-hour October quota Thursday.

She said their birthdays this spring emphasized the problem of "completing our family." They have a boy, Mark, 10, Mrs. Sobell has a daughter, Sydney, 20, by a previous marriage.

"Unless action is taken at this time, we can very well lose our future, as we have lost the present," Mrs. Sobell said.

Du Pont Antitrust Ruling Delayed

CHICAGO (AP) — Judge Walter J. LaBuy has revised the time at which he will announce his ruling in the DuPont antitrust case, one of widespread interest to the financial world.

He will hand down his opinion at 4:31 CDT today after the close of trading on all domestic stock exchanges for the weekend.

Previously he had designated 3:01 p.m. as the hour at which he would make public his findings. New York and Chicago exchanges would be closed at that time but business would be in progress in San Francisco.

Judge LaBuy's ruling will dispose of a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that there is a tendency toward monopoly in the large stock interest that E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co. and associates have in General Motors Corp.

DuPont owns 63 million GM shares or 23 per cent of the stock in the company which DuPont supplies with most fabrics and finishes.

Actor Gwenn's Estate of $4,000 Left for Two

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Edmund Gwenn, who died Sept. 6, left an estate of approximately $4,000.

His will, filed for probate Thursday, leaves equal shares to his former wife, Minnie Terry, and a sister, Elsie Kellaway, both in England.

The Russians Have a Word for It . . . 'Blat'

Soviet Executive Also Gets Ulcers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet business executive, on the average, is better educated than his counterpart among U.S. organization men. And he is at least as likely to have an ulcer.

The Russians, too, have a word — "blat" — for something else the American businessman would recognize: the "in," the open back door. This, without outright payoff, can lead to such prizes in Russia as a new apartment or a carload of coal at a critical time.

Yet the Soviets are not talking through their hats when they boast, as Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev did most recently, that their industrial capacity has been growing faster than that of the United States. Whether it will indefinitely continue to do so is another question.

These are some of the observations given Congress in 16 papers by economists, industrial and agricultural specialists.

The 376-page compilation was published Thursday by the Senate House Economic Committee. It added the comment that "the problems of making comparisons between any two national economies are exceedingly complex and even more so when those economies are at different stages of development and have different policy objectives."

David Granick of Carnegie Institute of Technology wrote that the Soviet manager is more likely to be a college graduate than the American, and among Soviet college graduates a much larger proportion has engineering degrees.

The Soviet executives depend on bonuses for an average of one-fifth to one-third of their total income, he said, and they work for superiors who "show a marked impatience with failure."

Granick commented, "The executive ulcer rate is high."

"Blat" and the use of "tolkachi" or "pushers" to keep the industrial wheels turning fast enough to grind out good records for the managers were described by Joseph S. Berliner of Syracuse University.

He pictured the pusher as an operator on the border of the black market, passing out gifts where necessary, or otherwise persuading approachable officials to loosen up with supplies.

BLAT PERVERSIVE

"Blat," Berliner said, is a "subtle and much more pervasive technique" based on friendship, family ties or some other relationship of confidence.

Considering only sheer growth in industrial output—and acknowledging that many Soviet statistics are questionable—G. Warren Nutter of the University of Virginia concluded that:

"The Soviet system of centralized direction has proved itself to be more or less the peer of the market economy, as exemplified by the United States. . . (in) the next five years, it seems reasonably certain that industrial growth will proceed more rapidly in the Soviet Union than in the United States."

But Nutter added "there is no definitive evidence that the Soviet economic system has been able to generate more rapid industrial growth over the long run than the traditional private enterprise system."

John P. Hardt of the Corporation for Economic and Industrial Research, Inc. wrote that consumer pressure for a better standard of living in Russia must be taken into account.

He said that even though Khrushchev did modify the old economic formula, his system still depends on depriving the populace of such things as automobiles and roomy living quarters.

Visiting Sister Delegate to UNESCO's Confab

Mrs. Earl Bartlett of Lakeland avenue has been entertaining her sister, Mrs. Frederick W. Muller of Media, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Muller is on her way to Denver, where she is to be an official delegate to the conference held under auspices of UNESCO.

UNESCO is the United Nations agency that hopes to build mutual knowledge and understanding throughout the world by promoting projects in education, science and culture.

The honor of being a delegate was extended to Mrs. Muller in recognition of her work in founding and carrying on "Art for World Friendship."

Together these women wrote letters to friends at home and overseas. They got in touch with local school authorities.

Then, their own physical and financial resources, "Art for World Friendship" was launched.

News With a Personal Angle

Return From Auto Trip

Just returned from a two-week auto trip are Orville Powers of Seminole avenue, Denzel Sheppard of Cherokee road and Elmer G. Wilson of Marlette, formerly of Pontiac.

The three saw the Toronto Exposition, St. Lawrence Seaway, Ottawa, St. Anne de Beupre Church in Montreal and a scenery in the "Life of a Scot" in Quebec.

They also viewed the Reversing Falls at St. Johns, New Brunswick and stopped at Bretton Woods, N. H., famous as a meeting place for Churchill, Stalin and President Roosevelt.

Clarkston and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Campbell of W. Longfellow avenue.

Three Pontiac students are members of the 125-piece Michigan State University marching band.

They are James Clancy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Clancy of Ruth street; Gary D. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Johnson of Dell Rose drive; and Thomas Osler, son of Anthony Osler of Garland avenue.

A reunion was held Saturday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Vore of Moose Pass, Alaska, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Loucks on Liberty street.

Thirty-two, including guests from Lansing, Detroit, Royal Oak, Warren, Wyandotte and Lake Orion were guests. The Vores leave for Idaho this weekend.

Barbara Hagle, Central Michigan University junior, is acting as Panhellenic rush chairman at the University this weekend.

Daughter of the Alton Hagles of Hanley street, she is active in Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority and Presbyterian Campus Fellowship.

Three area residents have been pledged to sororities at Denison University, Granville, Ohio.

They are Jane Bugas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bugas of Bloomfield Hills, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Deanna Derr, daughter of the R. F. Derrs of Birmingham, Pi Beta Phi; and Janet Tallman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Tallman of Birmingham, Delta Delta Delta.

Pontiac student Sharon Del-Montier is a freshman at Rio Grande College, Rio Grande, Ohio this semester.

James W. McBrearty III, son of James McBrearty of Salmer street and Mrs. Anne McBrearty of Ogemaw road, has enrolled at Howe Military School in Howe, Ind. for the 1959-60 school year.

Symphony Members Invited

To Attend Rehearsal of 'Tosca'

The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra has issued a unique invitation to all active and patron members of the organization. They will be privileged to see a rehearsal of the orchestra and the cast that will perform the second act of Puccini's tragic opera "Tosca" at the season's opening concert Oct. 13.

Francesco DiBlasi, Pontiac Symphony conductor, will welcome guests at his rehearsal Oct. 6 in order that symphony supporters may better understand the preparation involved in the production of fine music.

The welding together of many men and women into a single instrument that will respond to the direction of the conductor as he interprets the composer requires technical proficiency and cooperation from every individual. The opportunity to see the achievement of this goal is the bonus the symphony organization is offering its members.

Soloists in "Tosca" will be Maria Roumell, as Tosca, Jonathan Swift as Cavaradossi, Nicholas Billardello as Baron Scarpia. The rehearsal will take place with full chorus and orchestra at the Pontiac Northern High School Auditorium, where the concert series will be performed.

Tickets for the symphony may be obtained at Calbi's, Gallagher's, Grinnell Brothers, Morris music store, Miracle Mile Music Center, Vic's Record Shop and any of the public libraries.

Officers, Initiates Are Entertained

The hospitality committee of the Junior Pontiac Women's Club entertained new members and officers at a get-acquainted dinner at the home of Mrs. Fred Sytz on Motorway drive.

New members are Mrs. Peter L. Spring, Mrs. Robert D. Terry, Mrs. Lillian Denno, Mildred Burgess, Mrs. William E. Kenney, Mrs. Charles H. Harmon Jr., Mrs. Leland McCallum, Mrs. Leonard Saari and Patricia Knudsen.

Psi Chapter Initiation Tea Is Scheduled

The business meeting of Psi Chapter of Sigma Beta Sorority was held Thursday evening at the North Perry street home of Mrs. Morgan Siple.

A tea will be held at her home Oct. 11 and new members will be formally initiated. These include Mrs. Carmen Tosto, Mrs. James Chartier, Mrs. John Sprague and Mrs. William O'Connor.

Representing the chapter at the annual convention in Cincinnati, Ohio Oct. 23 and 24, will be Mrs. James DeFlorio, Mrs. Charles Fournier, Mrs. Siple, Mrs. Elio Bisogni, Mrs. Eddie O'Brien, Mrs. Wallace Williams, Mrs. Eugene Russell, Mrs. Wayne Booth, Mrs. William Spalding and Mrs. Thomas Thornberry.

Under the direction of Mrs. DeFlorio, charity chairman, the year's agenda was set up, including a revised mental health program.

"How's this for a stately pose?" One-year-old David Clark, right, appears to be asking as he sits in this "twistering" photo taken at the Douglas Clark home on Tutbury lane, Birmingham. The Clarks who have two sets of twins think the phrase "never a dull moment" was coined for their household. Mrs. Clark holds David's twin, Deidre, while her 12-year-old twins, Donald (with the baby brush) and Douglas, tend to the effective little scene stealer on the right.

Birmingham Comings and Goings Northern Weekend Planned

By RUTH SAUNDERS
BIRMINGHAM — Mr. and Mrs. Philip DeGraff have invited a group of friends to join them for the weekend at their lodge in northern Michigan.

Included are Mr. and Mrs. John P. St. Clair, Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Woodruff and Mr. and Mrs. Vene G. Perry. At Torch Lake, Mrs. Harlow N. Davock has as her guests Mrs. Lou Burt, Mrs. Harrison E. Thurston and Mrs. Albert Hoffman.

Mrs. Davock will visit friends in Birmingham later this month en route to her home in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Knecht were hosts at an open house Sunday in their new home on Northlawn drive.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Graham sailed the first of the week for a month in Europe.

Mrs. James Davidow, herself a recent bride, was hostess at a tea and shower Wednesday for bride-elect Martha McDonald.

Martha will be married Oct. 10 to Edward F. Lambrecht Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Truettner formerly of Birmingham, and their small daughter Laura Elizabeth are making their home this winter in Princeton, N. J.

Mrs. George E. Baldwin has returned to her home in Colonial court after an extended visit in Rye, N. Y., with her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Reutter Jr.

In July the Reutters (Harriett Flannery) announced the birth of their sixth child, a son Richard Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Oak (Sheila Flannery) announce the birth of a daughter Stacy July 23.

Church Group Hears Speech

Laura Belz of the Pontiac League of Women Voters was guest speaker when the Episcopal Churchwomen of All Saints Episcopal Church met Thursday morning. The group met in the Rose Kneale room of Stevens Hall following corporate communion.

Miss Belz explained the principles and goals of the LWV and the United Nations. It was announced that the annual Christmas bazaar will be held Dec. 3 in the Stevens Hall gymnasium.

Sorority Receives Aid Unit's Report

Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority held its regular meeting Thursday night at the YWCA.

Mrs. Ralph Wilson reported on the latest board meeting of the Foundation for the Aid of Emotionally Disturbed Children that was held at Pontiac State Hospital.

Mrs. Fred Mueller was appointed chairman of the annual Christmas ball.

Next meeting will be Oct. 15, with Mrs. Philip Rowston as guest speaker.

Plan Card Party

Armenian Relief Society members met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Albert Papazian. Plans were made for a card party which will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 13 at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Tells of MSUO Founding at Sorority Campus Dinner

Dr. Roy J. Alexander, dean of students, told of MSUO and its founding Thursday evening when members of Zeta Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority met at the college for dinner.

The occasion also gave the members a chance to meet Judy Theis, recipient of the sorority's scholarship to MSUO. Dr. Alexander stated that the primary purpose of a university is to encourage the maximum possible intellectual development of each student.

He said it was the university's obligation to assist each student in attaining the knowledge and skills necessary to make him proficient as a professional, competent as a citizen, and happy as a human being.

"This is what we believe, this is what we hope to achieve," he concluded.

A tour of the campus followed the talk.

Guests who attended the affair included Mrs. James Hull, Mrs. W. L. Thomas, Mrs. Raymond L. Cole, Mrs. Thomas Johnson and Mrs. Leo McDonald.

Flower Exhibit Wednesday

Bloomfield Hills Event to Benefit Scholarship Fund

How does your garden grow? With planning, patience and a thorough knowledge of nature's ways.

What does your garden produce? The only limitation is your own imagination.

To show what a wonderful variety of arranging effects can be made, the Bloomfield Hills Garden Club will present its autumn flower show Wednesday at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. The church is located on North Woodward avenue at Chesterfield, and the show will be open from 1:30 to 9:30 p.m.

There will be 31 classes ranging from annuals and perennials to fruits and vegetables, stressing ideas attuned to every season and occasion. The show is held to benefit the group's scholarship fund.

Mrs. Charles L. Chubbuck is chairman and Mrs. George I. Goodwin is co-chairman. Cooperating in the planning of the event are Mrs. John D. Teben, president of the club; Mrs. Edgar B. Flint, staging and special exhibits; Mrs. J. Hawley Otis, schedule chairman; Mrs. Donald D. James, chairman of judges; Mrs. Earl Thompson, ticket chairman and Mrs. Edward S. Wellock, hostess for the judges.

Others are Mrs. James Q. Goudie, chairman of hostesses; Mrs. DeForest Candier, maintenance chairman; Mrs. Lester A. Colman, horticultural chairman; Mrs. John B. Hammond, in charge of marketing, and Mrs. William L. Kahn, publicity.

Zonta Club Learns About Legislation

The Zonta International Club of Pontiac heard a talk by Rep. Lloyd Anderson on "How Laws Are Made" Thursday at its regular luncheon meeting.

The speaker also discussed some of the problems involved in getting bills passed. He was introduced by Mrs. L. Harvey Lodge when the group met at the Hotel Waldron.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Hawn of Chippewa road announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn Corwin, to Arnold H. Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter S. Larson of Kenilworth avenue. A Dec. 29 wedding date has been set.

Can Find Trouble Anytime

Don't Worry About Night Out, Mother, It's Accepted Today

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for 32 years. We raised a decent Christian son who married a good Christian girl. They've been married five years and have a child. Our son and daughter-in-law have set up Friday night as their "night out" away from each other. He goes with the menfolk and she goes with the womenfolk. We think they are asking for trouble but are too young to realize it.

Maybe Dad and I are old-fashioned, but we never had a "night out" away from each other and it worked out fine.

Is this the way young married couples act today? We'd like your opinion and the opinion of others who have had experience in this line.

OLD-FASHIONED PARENTS
DEAR PARENTS: A "night out" seems to be the accepted mode of behavior for young marrieds. If there is mutual trust between them, a night away from each other will do their relationship no harm. People who are "asking for trouble" do not have to wait for a "night out" to find it.

DEAR ABBY: My heart goes out to that young mother with eleven children who has never had a vacation. I raised seven and I know how she feels. My "baby" is 32 years old and I am just a lonesome old grandmother. But thank God, my health is good.

Could you give this woman my address, Abby, and tell her that I would love to take her eleven children for a week. It would give the Mamma and Daddy a good vacation. I have plenty of room and am not the fussy type. She can send them to me dirty or clean and I will be their "Granny," while Mamma rests. Please don't print my name as I don't want to make a show of this. I am enclosing a map to instruct them how to get to our farm. Love, "GRANNY" (WINONA, MINNESOTA)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old boy who is treated like a 3-year-old. My father wouldn't let me take a job in a warehouse over the summer vacation because he says the men who work there swear and tell dirty jokes. I hear much worse in school.

Now that school has started, I would like to work on Saturdays as "carry out" boy at the supermarket. My father says I can't because I might get a hernia and operations are expensive. I would like to know what you think of a father like this.

NO BABY

DEAR NO: I think your father is having difficulty accepting the fact that you are growing up. While strong language is not desirable, I doubt that it would hurt a young man who has been brought up properly. As for the supermarket job, it sounds like an excellent idea. "Carry out" boys are taught how to lift heavy cartons, so YOUR chances of being "carried out" are slim.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ANNOYED SORORITY SISTERS: Pay her no mind. If she fell out of a three-story window she'd probably land on her feet!

For ABBY's pamphlet, "What Every Teenager Wants To Know," send 25c and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to this paper.

DAR Chapter Meets

General Richardson Chapter, DAR, met for a luncheon Thursday at the home of Mrs. Harry C. Bates in Detroit. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Grant Beardslee, Mrs. Norman Boyd, Ella Smith, Mrs. Lloyd Porter, Mrs. John Denne, Mrs. William Pelton, Wilma Doeblie, Mrs. Ernest Huthwaite, Mrs. W. H. O'Laughlin and Mrs. Louis West.

Following a business meeting, Alice Serrell showed color slides of Scandinavia and the British Isles.

Guests were Gordon Bates, president of the Detroit Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, and Mrs. Bates, Jean Porter of Beckley, W. Va., Mrs. Henry Sage and Mrs. E. J. Clayton of Royal Oak, and Mrs. James Later of Grosse Pointe.

Pontiac guests were Mrs. Lorenzo Kline, Mrs. Willis Brewer, Mrs. Robert Fawcett, Mrs. Hugh Little and Clara Gaylord.

Pontiac was represented at the Michigan Regional DAR meeting in Lapeer recently by Regent Mrs. Lisle Echlinaw, Mrs. Frank Allen, Agnes Hilton, Jessie Brewer, Mrs. E. V. Howlett, Mrs. Huthwaite, Miss Serrell, Mrs. Eldon Gardner and Mrs. O'Laughlin.

Speaking on the program was Mrs. Bradley Scott of General Richardson Chapter who is state DAR librarian. She has been accompanying the state executive board for regional meetings throughout Michigan in recent weeks.

Soap Operas Written by 'Seers'

A woman who can see people "as clearly as her own hair-do in a mirror" may find success as a radio and television writer.

So says Margaret E. Sangster, a veteran soap opera author.

"It's not a question of great talent for writing as much as a talent for seeing. You need to see people clearly, put thoughts straight and simply," she said in an interview.

Writing soap operas is a good field for women because the audience is made up of women, she explained. And women can better understand the problems and ideas that appeal to this audience.

Middle age is the best time for a woman to start, she believes.

"It depends on the individual, but the more experience a woman has, the more sound her judgments are. It's hard for a young gal to tell a middle-aged woman what to do," said Miss Sangster, who broke into radio writing in her 30's.

A writer does not need a journalism school background, she said, but it is necessary to have training in techniques and knowledge of the mechanics of the medium.

The best approach is a unique plot. She listened to programs, thought of a new angle, wrote samples, and got an agent.

Agents or managers are necessary "to get past the office boy," she said.

Salaries vary according to the network and the type of script. Soap operas, usually done on a contract basis, pay an average of $750 a week. Hour shows average $800 for radio, $2,000 for live TV, and $2,500 for film TV.

Television also provides residual rights or royalty arrangements.

Mrs. Albert Emsley, District 3 president, was installing officer.

Mrs. Harold Willis is the new president. Her officers are: Mrs. Guy Harrell, vice president; Mrs. Robert Adsit, secretary; Mrs. Edwin Proctor, treasurer; Mrs. Kenneth Hackett, chaplain; Mrs. James J. Houck, parliamentarian. Dinner and dancing followed the ceremony.

Mama Will Be Proper Chaperone

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are planning a trip west to visit our son. Our 19-year-old daughter will be unable to go with us because of her job. She has been invited by her boy friend's mother to stay with them until our return.

"These young people are not formally engaged, although there is an understanding and they probably will be engaged before long. We think a great deal of the boy and his family and we certainly trust the young people. But my husband and I feel that it would not be right for her to stay in their house at this time. We are accused of being 'old fogies' and behind the times. Are we?"

Answer: As long as she has been invited by his mother and you approve of his family, there will be no impropriety in your daughter's staying in their house while you are away.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When I go to a dinner dance and am wearing long gloves, should these be removed at dinner and then put back on again for dancing afterward? Please explain the procedure. Am I correct in wearing them?"

Answer: You take them off after you are seated at dinner and lay them across your lap. After dinner you put them on again for dancing. Unless long gloves are checked with your wrap there would be nothing else to do with them but wear them. They are probably worn on formal occasions.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine tells me that you have said it is proper to leave the iced tea spoon in the glass while drinking. I think she is mistaken about this as it does not seem correct to me. Will you please set me straight on this matter?"

Answer: If there is no saucer or plate on which you can lay the spoon, it is best to leave it in your glass keeping it away from your face while drinking the tea, with your first finger.

Johnny Could Read in Old School

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

A return to the teaching principles of the one-room country schoolhouse might solve some of the problems of modern education, says Frieda Van Atta, author of a book with a long title: "How To Help Your Child in Reading, Writing and Arithmetic."

"My first teaching job, when I was 16, was in a one-room school in North Dakota, where I taught all eight grades," says Mrs. Van Atta. "The children all walked to school, sometimes through blinding snowstorms, but there was less absenteeism than in most city schools today."

"We had a big pot-bellied stove in the corner, and at noon we used to bake potatoes in the coals. Sometimes we would make hot chocolate. Those were some of the happiest, most exciting days of my life—and I'm sure every child who has attended that school looks back on it with the same warm nostalgia."

NO 3R PROBLEM

There were no problems there about the three R's, says this lifelong school teacher, who also is the wife of a business man and mother of two daughters, Mary, 15, and Gretchen, 12. Says she:

"Sometimes I think that today people are so concerned about having fine modern school buildings that they forget about what is being taught inside."

"Those farm children who were my first pupils got their exercise by walking to school and doing the chores on the farm. Today a school bus picks up the children and it takes a million-dollar gymnasium to keep them in physical trim."

"There's nothing wrong, either, with first graders hearing the lessons of the older children, going on in the same room. The bright ones often learned things far beyond their grade level. It was a simple way of taking care of the needs of the exceptional child."

Born near Minot, N.D. and raised in Urbana, Ill., Mrs. Van Atta now lives in Pomona, N.Y., and teaches English in the Spring Valley, N.Y., junior high schools. This year she's taking a year off in connection with her book, and to devote more time to her daughters.

"I've been teaching all my life, in big schools and little ones, all over the country. I've retired four times, but I always go back. I guess I'm just a born school teacher."

PARENTS LACK INTEREST

Mrs. Van Atta believes that many of the reading problems of today's school children are due to lack of interest on the part of the parents. Says she:

"So many parents leave the whole job of educating their children to the school without even inquiring into what they are learning. Parents often have no idea of the curriculum of their children's schools, and never bother to find out until one day they discover that Johnny can't read. Then their indignation knows no bounds."

"Actually the schools are doing a much better job these days in teaching the three R's—most schools, that is. Some of the past fads of teaching have been eliminated, the best of the new methods retained and a real effort made to

Uncertainty Can Cause Temper Tantrums

Mrs. Muriel Lawrence is on vacation. This is the last of six articles that will appear during her absence, reprinted by permission of Random House, Inc. from "The Happy Child," by Irene M. Josselyn, M.D. Copyright, 1955, by Irene M. Josselyn.

A temper tantrum is difficult to handle. Parents and their possessions may be in a dangerous spot. Parents have a right to protect themselves and their things from destruction. This frequently can be done by restraining the child. However, restraint often increases the temper tantrum because it prohibits the one outlet the child has found. For this reason a child in a temper tantrum should not be held unless there is a real risk of injury to himself, to parents, to their or his valued possessions.

But when real injury or destruction threatens, even though restraint may lead to increased anger, it has a value to the child himself. If he is not prevented from injuring valued belongings, other people or their possessions, once his rage has passed he may be overwhelmed with guilt for what he did in irrational anger.

This guilt only adds another burden to his already strained self-confidence. He will have sufficient, if not excessive guilt over his malignant rage anyway. There is no need to increase it.

After the storm has subsided, the fewer comments the better. If parents can say casually and reassuringly that they can understand the rage and know how hard it is when something just can't be done, it may have some effect in reassuring the child.

But a long lecture on the subject, a sanctimonious sermon on the futility of the temper outburst, or an oration on the theme of parental love does little except to rearouse irritation or create unnecessary shame or guilt for the child. His self-confidence needs rest, not further needling.

If the tantrum was exploded by the refusal of the child's request, the outburst should not be rewarded by a reversal of the parents' point of view. Such a reversal teaches the child that he can get what he wants by having a temper outburst.

Also, by such behavior the parents become unpredictable. Faced with a refusal, the child does not know what to expect as a result. The resultant temper tantrum is then not only a technique for gaining his end but is also an indication of an uncertainty that has resulted from parental vacillations in the past. The child protests loss of the bedrock of parental consistency he needs to build his world.

Showing of Photos Set at Kingswood

An exhibition of photographs showing recent works of Cranbrook photographer Harvey Croze will be displayed at Kingswood School Oct. 5-16, Clifford B. West, member of Kingswood's art faculty, has announced. The school's galleries will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Nationally known for his photographic skill, Mr. Croze has exhibited his works in recent years at Washington's Smithsonian Institute, the Bloomfield Art Association and Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Lincoln Junior Has Get-Together Dinner Meeting

Lincoln Junior High School PTA welcomed one-half of the seventh grade homeroom teachers, students and parents at a cooperative dinner Tuesday.

Norman Kujala, Lincoln principal, introduced the homeroom teachers and then presented the counselors, Mrs. Tamara Elsworth, Mrs. Perry Dooley and Roger Gunn. The three gave brief talks explaining their guidance work.

PTA president Mrs. Fred Goines announced that the remaining seventh grade homerooms will have a similar dinner Oct. 13.

Parents Lack Savings, Poll Shows

Want College for Children

The majority of parents with children 18 years old and younger interviewed by the Ford Foundation's educational program survey stated they would like to send their children to college, preferably a state college.

The report, made by Elmo Roper and Associates, and including some 5,000 parents in all parts of the United States, shows that 69 per cent of those interviewed had intentions of sending their children to college. The figure is about the same for both boys and girls.

Parents who feel their children will not go to college were largely influenced by lack of funds.

However, money was not the only problem.

Parents, particularly of children 14 to 17 years, said "They do not want to go to college" or "Their marks are not good enough." A majority of those questioned felt that sending their children to college means taking a four-year course.

Two-thirds of those interviewed expect their children to live at college. They figure this will cost at least $500 more a year than living at home.

The median expense expected by parents for each child for one year of college was $1,450. Private colleges were felt by parents to cost $1,540 on the average for a year.

Parents questioned expected college costs to remain the same, the report showed, whether they were talking about 1963 or 1970.

The report shows most parents expect to use a number of different plans to finance their family's college expenses. Sixty-seven per cent of those interviewed said they intend to use some sort of savings plan.

Scholarships are hoped for by 41 per cent of the parents. Twenty-eight per cent of the parents expect the children to earn money for college.

The report showed that 60 per cent of those planning on sending their children to college have no savings plan specifically set up for college expenses. When asked what they had planned, 25 per cent said they just hadn't thought about it.

Of the 40 per cent who have a specific plan for college savings, 24 per cent said it was in the form of an insurance program. But many of these plans are in the form of death benefits, the report said to be used in case of the parent's death rather than special college endowment policies.

The report showed the median amount saved last year by the 40 per cent who have a specific plan for college expenses was $150. The poll said at this rate it would take 16 years of savings to equal one year's estimated cost of college for one child.

Beatniks Told to Press Pants

Top Hipster's Father Says They Also Should Find Themselves Jobs

PATERSON, N. J. (UPI)—The father of one of America's leading beatnik poets says he may be a square but he just doesn't dig that Beat Generation.

"I disapprove of their way of life. They should press their pants, look decent and get steady jobs," said Louis Ginsberg.

His indictment includes his son, Alan Ginsberg, a poet and pal of novelist Jack Kerouac, the beatnik apostle.

The senior Ginsberg also is a poet — "traditional, with a modern touch" — but his steady work is teaching English literature at a high school by day and at Newark Rutgers University at night.

"A well-balanced person makes a living when his literary output doesn't support him," said Ginsberg, summing up his disdain for the crowd that uses up its energy growing beards and beating bongo drums.

Ginsberg said his own poetry is different from that of the beat because it "communicates."

He described beatnik poetry and prose like Kerouac's as "the sprag gun type of writing — a torrent of incoherent words and phrases with some brilliant flashes of insight."

As for the beat way of life, they conform just as much as the people they scorn," Ginsberg said.

"And those girls with their black stockings and pale faces are like moths fluttering toward a flame, always on the periphery."

He added with a sigh: "Alan and his friends make night day and day night because they won't work — unless it's becoming merchant seamen in an extremity. And they call me square."

"I'd like Alan to settle down, get married and lead a normal life."

Second Nuclear Center to Be Built in Manitoba

WINNIPEG (UPI) — Trade minister Gordon Churchill announced Thursday that the federal government will build a second nuclear center. It will be located in Manitoba.

Churchill said the present plant at Chalk River, Ont., is operating at maximum capacity and it would be unwise to enlarge it now.

Halts Rail Freight to Strikebound Ports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Assn. of American Railroads slapped an embargo Thursday on most freight destined for ports tied up by the longshoremen strike.

A spokesman said the action was taken at the request of the Interstate Commerce Commission

(ICC) to prevent the use of rail-road cars as a means of bypassing the railroads' embargo. The railroads said they would immediately apply to all freight headed for the struck ports except:

Military shipments to military installations.

Petroleum and other tank car freight destined for storage at the ports.

Certain other freight on which unloading or rehandling is assured.

United States mail, post office boxes, express mail, and parcels, including mail and parcel post while moving alongside freighters.

THOSE GREEN EYES — Viewing modernist Willem de Kooning's painting of Marilyn Monroe seems to interest secretary Susan Spalding, 18, during a visit to the Museum of Modern Art in New York Wednesday. During the art show, a distinguished crowd of art lovers toured the rooms with solemnity until someone spotted Marilyn. From then on, the show was never solemn. In the artist's painting, Marilyn's eyes are green instead of blue, her smile is inviting, and her hair looks like two yellow shaving brushes inverted over her ears. In a bright red gown, Miss Monroe once again proved to be a show-stopper without even having to appear in the flesh.

Delicate Warmth

for Delicate Sleep with G-E radiant heat

Our homes have the new G-E electric radiant heating system installed in the ceilings so you can get the soothing, comforting warmth of summer sunshine all year 'round, with no disturbing drafts or annoying air currents. This new type of heating, developed by General Electric permits you to control the temperature of each room to fit the particular need... no longer is it necessary to have the whole house too warm when you can maintain just the right warmth in the nursery while keeping the other bedrooms cool and comfortable for healthful, restful sleep.

We've built our homes with you in mind... built to save you space by eliminating the furnace, pipes and radiators... built to save you money by doing away with annual servicing of heating equipment. Visit our new homes... you'll like the way they are heated today with the heating system of tomorrow.

ELECTRIC HEAT

HARD-TO-HEAT ROOMS? A hard-to-heat room or porch can be so uncomfortable in cold weather its usefulness is lost. It also puts a strain on your present heating system. Eliminate these problems with any one of the several built-in electric heat systems.

BUYING OR BUILDING A NEW HOME? You can be sure your new home is really new if you specify built-in electric heat. Comfortable, clean and usually less expensive to install, electric heat has several benefits not found in other heating systems. It lets you custom-dial comfort for each room, for example—without overheating or cooling down other rooms. Compact, simple and safe, electric heat is the new kind of heat engineered for today's new kind of home.

ADDING NEW SPACE? New living space in a home usually means an added burden on your present heating system. Here's an ideal opportunity to take full advantage of built-in electric heat. Installing it requires no major cutting through floors, partitions or walls. A new room can have its own heating system, with pinpoint temperature control... something never before possible in standard heating systems.

MODERNIZING? Fixing up the old recreation room? Tearing out a partition to enlarge the living room? Installing larger windows? Home improvements very often alter the heating requirements within a home so drastically as to make the old heating system entirely unsatisfactory. When they do, electric heat can solve the problem fast. And you'll get living comfort never before imagined, too!

All these benefits—yours with electric heat!

CLEANLINESS... The cleanest heating method ever devised, electric heating means walls, draperies, carpets and furniture stay cleaner longer. With electric heat, there's no soot or other products of combustion circulating in the air.

CUSTOM COMFORT... Keep one room at 72, another at 65. The temperature can be up in one room, down or completely off in another.

EFFICIENCY... Electric heat lets you raise the temperature in one room without firing up the entire heating plant. And with electric heat, all of the heat created is usable heat—none is wasted up a flue.

FLEXIBILITY... Electric heat can replace regular baseboards—can be built into the walls or ceiling. Whether it be one room or the entire home, there is a system to give better heating—electrically.

CARES FOR ITSELF... Set a dial, then forget it. There are no moving parts at all in radiant systems. Forced air electric heating systems are long-lived, too; they use low-velocity fans. In either type, there's little to wear out, need adjustment or replacement.

SAFETY... No combustion process. No worries. Concentrations of superheated air are eliminated. Electric heating systems distribute heat safely, gently.

REDUCED RATE... In addition to the money saved on cleaning, decorating, and installation, residential customers can now take advantage of a new, lower rate. Just 2¢ per kilowatt-hour when monthly electrical use is over 750 kilowatt-hours. Though other living costs have been rising steadily during the past several years, electricity remains one of your biggest bargains—now more than ever, with this new and lower rate step.

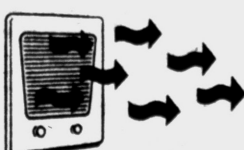

Choose from several types of electric heat

CEILING... Insulated electric heating cable can be embedded in ceilings or floors to provide radiant warmth throughout the room.

BASEBOARDS... Baseboard units, heating both by radiation and convection, can be used to replace the baseboards now in your home.

WALLS... Walls can be a source of heat with the installation of radiant panels or forced air units set between partition studding.

ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP... Works on an entirely different principle from other electric units. It is a year-round climate control system which heats in winter and cools in summer—automatically. The electric heat pump also filters and dehumidifies the air.

Look for this symbol when you buy. It assures you of safe, dependable installation. For complete information about electric heating, stop in at the Edison office near your home or send in coupon at right for free booklet about electric heating.
