Storm Kills 4; 400 Trapped Aboard Train

Roads, Rails Crippled as Winds Carry Storm Toward Indiana

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The worst spring blizzard in 30 years continued to rage in the Midwest today, paralyzing transportation and crippling communications in many sections of eight states.

One major train, carrying 400 passengers, and an estimated 7,500 highway travelers were reported stranded but none were believed in danger.

Four deaths were attributed to the storm.

The train was the Union Pacific's City of St. Louis, westbound from St. Louis to Los Angeles. It was mired in drifts ranging up to 18 feet near Winona, Kan., about 50 miles from the Colorado line. Snowplows were expected to reach it about noon today.

Another train, the Rock Island's eastbound Golden State Limited, carrying 92 passengers, was reached by rescue parties early today and all aboard taken to Meade, Kan. The train had been snowbound by drifts up to 15 feet between Meade and Plains, Kan., since Sunday. Six coaches of the train were reported covered completely by snow.

SNOW IN KANSAS

The Weather Bureau at Kansas City reported the storm was causing high winds and heavy snows this morning in northern Missouri and southern Iowa as it moved toward Illinois and Indiana. Snow also was still falling in parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska. Conditions had eased somewhat in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.

Forecasts for more heavy snow were in effect from northeastern Kansas and neighboring sections of Nebraska eastward into parts of lower Michigan and Indiana.

Accumulations of from eight to 10 inches were predicted for parts of Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri with generally lesser amounts expected over affected portions of Kansas, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and lower Michigan. North central Indiana had freezing rain and snow.

The snow belt was fringed to the south by rain.

Despite the immediate hardships resulting from the three-day storm, farmers welcomed the moisture. In some areas it was sufficient to bring expressions of belief that the prolonged drought had been broken.

One Inch of Snow Due for Pontiac by Tomorrow

Forecasters said the storm, with snow and high winds which has plagued Texas, Oklahoma and Iowa over the weekend, is moving northeastward.

Temperatures in Pontiac will remain low, with about 30 expected tonight and a high of between 35 and 39 tomorrow.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 26 degrees. The thermometer registered 34 at 2 p.m.

City Unaffected by Fuel Pinch

But Growing Gas Strike May Cause Shortages in Area Stations

While most Pontiac area service stations are being supplied by independent and upstate sources, the pinch of the 26-day gas strike is much greater in Detroit, according to a spokesman for the Retail Gasoline Dealers Assn.

"The Pontiac area is not as hard hit as the Detroit metropolitan area," said Cash B. Hawley, general manager of the association.

Eugene G. McEnery, president of the North Oakland County Chapter of the group, said "very few" of some 250 stations in this area were shut down.

In Detroit, 90 per cent of the normal gasoline and fuel oil supply was cut off at midnight when employes of the Aurora Gasoline Co. joined the strike.

The strike brings to eight the number of firms closed by the walkouts which began Feb. 28.

Both Hawley and McEnery said the local supplies would be threatened as independent suppliers joined the strike.

Local 11-389 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union is seeking contracts with the companies to include a 25 cents per hour wage hike. Most of the companies have offered a 9-cent boost.

Federal mediators this morning reported a bargaining session with Shell Oil Co. "Efforts to schedule others are being made," it was reported.

Other companies struck are Socony Mobil, Standard, Gulf, Sinclair, Texaco and Pure.

Detroit Attorney Wires Senator for Investigation

Asks Fund Accounting, Other Charges Aired in 1954 Suit

Pontiac area teamsters sought to rekindle an old fire under Teamsters Vice-President James R. Hoffa today, when they asked the Senate committee investigating labor racketeering to look into Teamsters Local 614 here.

Under trusteeship of Hoffa and his appointed officers since October 1953, local teamsters, through their Detroit attorney Louis W. Snyder, urged the committee to investigate charges aired against Hoffa in a 1954 suit.

The suit asked for the accounting of more than $1,000,000 in union funds allegedly misused under Hoffa's trusteeship.

Snyder represents a 14-man committee which he said speaks for a majority of the 2,500 members of Local 614.

The suit followed an unsuccessful attempt by insurgent members to oust Hoffa and his officers from control of the local.

In today's telegram to Sen. John L. McClellan, chairman of the investigating committee, Snyder said he wanted an accounting of more than $1 million in dues paid into the local between 1942 and 1952.

SUIT WAS DISMISSED

The 1954 suit, seeking the same thing, was dismissed by three Oakland County circuit judges. They ruled they had no jurisdiction, and that the members had failed to exhaust remedies for relief within the union.

Snyder today reiterated claims that such remedies do not exist because of Hoffa's control of the union.

Hoffa was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury last week on charges that he bribed a staff member of the Senate committee.

The past movements to unseat Hoffa resulted in what has been called the most bitter labor dispute in Pontiac's history.

ORDERED HOFFA IN

Teamster International President Dave Beck ordered the Hoffa trusteeship when local members Daniel J. Keating and Louis C. Linteau were indicted on extortion and conspiracy charges.

Besides naming Hoffa, Beck, Keating and Linteau in the 1954 suit, it listed former Pontiac State Rep. Leaun Harrelson as a defendant.

Harrelson was then and still is "acting president" under Local 614's trusteeship.

The suit charged that since coming to Pontiac in 1941, Keating has benefited from union funds through property purchases and other activities which had hidden the real ownership of the funds.

Macmillan Assured of Aid

U.S. to Make A-Warheads 'Available,' Ike Tells Britain

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower intends to go as far as the law will allow in making atomic warheads for guided missiles accessible for British use in emergencies.

Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan reached a final "agreement in principle" during their talks at Bermuda that "certain guided missiles will be made available by the United States for use by British forces."

This was one of the major results of the conference. Eisenhower returned to Washington yesterday.

The British reportedly are behind the United States in the development of guided missiles and atomic explosives. They lack money for large development programs. In fact, they are now having to reduce their military manpower to have money.

Eisenhower assured Macmillan that the United States would help Britain reduce its forces and at the same time maintain a high level of firepower.

The conference communique did not say how the British are to get the atomic warheads for weapons they receive from the United States. U. S. law forbids the President to give or lend atomic explosives to any foreign government.

New Pot-O-Gold Plan Is Simpler; Chance for $500

Now that Pot-O-Gold has been changed to make winning easier, be sure to read the new directions which appear with the puzzle on Page 9. Instead of juggling letters to form words, all you have to do with the new puzzle is to pick one of the two answer words and write the number in the proper square.

Although the puzzle has been changed, the money remains the same. This week's puzzle is worth $500 if no winner is found for Puzzle No. 42, which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press. Answers will be announced on Friday as before, and deadline dates remain the same.

The only other major change to be made is elimination of the list of clue words which appeared on Mondays. Since you are given the choice of two words right in the new puzzle, there will be no need for clue words.

Suez Passage Now Clear for Vessels of 10,000 Tons

CAIRO (AP) — A U.N. salvage team today raised the sunken tug Edgar Bonnet, the last obstacle to passage of 10,000-ton ships through the Suez Canal.

The 841-ton tug was to be towed away during the next several days but there was no official word yet when Egypt will open the 103-mile waterway to 10,000-ton ships, about 75 per cent of the canal's normal traffic before it was blocked during the invasion last fall.

The 1,461-ton Egyptian frigate Abukir still partially blocks the southern entrance to the canal, U. N. officials have said the Abukir should be cleared by April 10 and that the waterway will then be open to all ships

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's mission to Cairo meanwhile, neared its end amid indications Egypt would make some concessions on operation of the canal. But the outlook on the disputed Gaza Strip remained dark.

Hammarskjold flew to the canal to watch the raising of the Bonnet from the bridge of the Dutch tug Atlas. Immediately after the raising, he returned to Cairo to meet again with President Nasser.

The Egyptian authorities announced today the canal is now open to ships of 4,000 tons. Previously, nothing larger than 2,500 tons could move through. Already a steady trickle of small ships is going through the waterway, paying tolls to Egypt's nationalized Suez Canal Authority.

The Egyptian Middle East News Agency said Hammarskjold and President Nasser had reached an understanding on the future of the canal. A spokesman for the secretary general warned that the report should be "treated with caution."

He said the U. N. official was in no position to make any formal agreement with Egypt since he was only the "bearer of good offices" and not a party to the canal dispute.

Says Van Wagoner:

Artery Idea 'Good'

Asked to comment on the Oakland County Planning Commission's proposed Pontiac Central Artery expressway, Murray D. Van Wagoner, former state highway commissioner, said:

"While I have not had time to make a study of, or go over the route on the ground, I think it would relieve through-traffic and make the present congested streets of Pontiac free for the local users and shoppers. The idea is good.

"I would like to suggest that a route be explored to see if the expressway could follow Franklin road to the Grand Trunk Railroad and then parallel to the railroad until it left through the state Hospital property.

"The railroad would serve as a buffer on one side, and unless this would destroy too much railroad siding and business property, it might prove less damaging to property values.

"This might cause some trouble in the access and exit lanes at the grade separations at Huron street and Orchard Lake avenue but again it would do no harm to explore the idea."

Leonard Man Dies in Florida Collision

A Leonard man, Roger D. Ginther, 51, was killed early this morning in a two car collision at Bradenton, Fla., near Sarasota, the Press learned today.

Police said both cars landed in a drainage ditch after the collision.

To Arraign Woman in Shotgun Slaying

The Addison Township woman who confessed to slaying a boarder in her home early Saturday because "he swore in front of the kids," today will be arraigned before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback, the Prosecutor's office announced.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said this morning he would issue a warrant charging Mrs. Rose Sarduk, 48, of 2435 Texter Rd., with second degree murder.

In a statement to Assistant Prosecutor Jerome Barry, Mrs. Sarduk told of a 7-day drinking bout that culminated in the shooting of Martin Wojcinski, 48, a boarder in the home for three years.

"Martin had been drinking since Sunday," said Mrs. Sarduk, "and he was drunk when he came home Saturday. He kept swearing at me and the kids all night and wouldn't stop. I got the gun and told him I would shoot him if he didn't shut up. He said 'I dare you to shoot me.' I pulled the trigger."

Mrs. Sarduk's children, Sonia, 15; Tommy, 16; and a schoolmate, Beatrice Krug, 14, of 5401 Sherwood Rd., Oxford, asleep in another bedroom, were awakened by the blast. Sonia ran to a neighbor's home after her mother told her, "Go call the police, I just shot Mr. Wojcinski."

Sonia has been placed in the Oakland County Children's home, while Tommy is being cared for by an aunt in Detroit.

Mrs. Sarduk, mother of 11 other children who have since married or left the home, has been separated from her husband for five years.

Auto Club Blasts Ticketing in Waterford Township

By PETE LOCHBILER

The Automobile Club of Michigan charged today that traffic enforcement in Waterford Township is geared more to producing $100,000 a year revenue than to reducing traffic accidents and fatalities.

The criticism follows a Dixie Highway "speed-trap" charge levelled by a Flint resident, which was dismissed by Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

And it arises as one Waterford Township justice complains of favoritism, as another justice received $33,202.10 in fees for one year.

Alternate 35 and 45-mile-per-hour speed limits were blamed by AAA officials for causing thousands of motorists to break the law involuntarily each day.

"One cannot drive safely while reading and trying to obey speed signs which keep changing like Burma Shave ads," AAA Safety and Traffic Director Ernest P. Davis said today.

The Auto Club is seeking reassessment of speed limits in the area, which are set by the State Highway Department, more plainly marked police cars, enforcement and traffic engineering studies of the area, and a cessation of the "wholesale flood of tickets for borderline violations."

Police Chief Frank A. Van Atta and Justice of the Peace Willis D. Lefurgy can only say they're glad, for savings in lives and property are worth it.

Other township officials, such as Acting Supervisor Louis H. Barry, are forced to admit a loss in funds could mean budgetary difficulties.

The publicity in question is that caused by a group of Flint citizens who complained police run a "speed trap" on Dixie Highway.

Although the Oakland County Prosecutor and the Township Board have asserted no evidence exists that Van Atta and his 15-man department are illegally issuing tickets, motorists apparently are on guard.

"Speed trap" or no, they may have heeded warnings from Barry and Van Atta that strict enforcement will continue, lest Dixie once again earn the title of "The Seven Miles of Death."

At least that's how Van Atta explains a remarkable drop-off in the number of tickets issued since Jan. 30, when the hullabaloo began.

Records show that in December, for instance, there were 763 tickets issued, and in January, 711.

But in February, once attention was drawn to the controversial strip of highway, there were 386 tickets.

"If what you might call 'bad publicity' for the township and the police department results in cutting the number of accidents, which it apparently has, then I can only welcome it," Van Atta says.

"We're not issuing as many tickets because there just aren't as many offenders as before. Traffic is moving smoothly and within the speed limits now," and that's the way we want it."

In fact, Van Atta has welcomed the threat of one Flint driver, Jack S. Masin, a department store manager, who says he is considering erecting signs along the highway at private expense, warning drivers of "unfair police tactics."

★ ★ ★

"If Masin wants to do it at his own expense, let him," Van Atta said. "It probably would help our safety program a lot."

Other records show, however, that in 1956 Waterford Township netted $101,411.20 in county rebates, mostly from traffic tickets.

The total as of Feb. 28 was $440,751.07, with $82,352.05 of it in rebates and more expected by the time the township's fiscal year is up in April.

The figures mean police business accounts for about one-quarter of the township's annual income, all but supporting the police department itself, which last year operated on $103,489.68.

But they match sufficiently well for Supervisor Barry to realize that a cut in tickets could mean a big cut in township expenses.

"It's possible," he said, "that we may have to raise taxes or perhaps reduce the pay-roll." And, ironically enough, the pay-roll cut might start in the police department, he said.

"Naturally, I'm glad that traffic is reported better on Dixie," Barry said. "I'm not sure, though, that it'll stay that way. We can figure on a summer increase of cars out there, and probably there'll be just as many offenders as before."

Another person who could be worried by the drop in tickets, frankly isn't. He is Justice Willis Lefurgy, who last year handled 7,771 of the township's 9,077 traffic complaints. The others were handled by Justice Burt White, who retired in July.

This netted Lefurgy $33,202.10 in fees, based on an average $4.30 a case. He got $245.80 more for other offenses.

Lefurgy, who is up for re-election on the township Republican slate April 1—which Barry heads, thinks too many tickets can be a nuisance.

Last year's load, he figured, meant approximately $15,000-$16,000 in expenses for supplies and salaries for four secretaries.

It's also meant more than one raised eyebrow, he said, over the fact the justice's top clerk for the past year has been Van Atta's wife—"and she's the best worker I've ever had on the job," he added.

Lefurgy frankly thought politics were involved somewhere in the recent "speed trap" criticism. "I notice it comes right at election time," he observed.

"I've never solicited business," he said, "but at the same time, I'm not turning down any tickets. Why do Van Atta's men always take their business to Lefurgy?"

The answer to this question could lie back in 1953, when the township was considering creation of a police department. Adams admits that at that time he balked at a proposal that profits from tickets go directly into the township treasury.

"It's illegal," he said, refusing to take part in it.

However, in 1954 the Board of Supervisors passed a resolution allowing the money to go first to the county and then be returned to the township via what is called The Sheriff's Township Ordinance Fund.

This was a legal system, as far as the county and township are concerned, and Adams—without any more objections—was ready to receive tickets again.

He got three tickets in 1955.

Barry and Lefurgy now say they want to even up the distribution of tickets. Adams says he wants to, also. But the two Republicans say that Adams refused to show up at a meeting Friday to consider it.

There's also a controversy whether the Sheriff's Fund is legal. It's a method whereby local policemen do the work which otherwise would have to be done by sheriff's deputies.

A big point is that the township receives the financial advantage of hiring policemen, just as cities do.

All the money assessed an offender by a justice goes to the county treasurer. This is in the form of "fines" or "costs," and it's the justice who decides how much of each the offender pays.

This is important, because fines have to go to the state school library fund. Costs, however, stay in the county. The county takes out what it figures the costs of prosecution were, and then returns the rest to the township's general fund.

Usually, there's a lot returned.

Seven townships with their own police departments participated in the system last year. They got a total of $137,863.63—the lion's share going to Waterford. The rest went to White Lake, Farmington, Southfield, West Bloomfield, Bloomfield and Royal Oak Townships.

To get its money back, Waterford had to put in $143,884.25 last year. Of this, $42,326.70 went to Lefurgy and White and $136.70 was for such expenses as witness fees, juries, constable service and supplies. Those were the "costs."

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh says all this is against the law, but the Oakand County Justice Assn. defies him to prove it. Supporters of the plan say it encourages efficiency and home rule.

Crowning of Queen Ends Waterford Builders Show

Climaxing the three day Waterford Township sports and builders show was the crowning of the beauty queen Diane Erickson, last night.

Diane was crowned by Miss Shirley Swanson, of Albion, the presently reigning Miss Michigan. Diane received a $100 bond, a complete wardrobe and many other prizes donated by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the show.

Diane will now enter the Miss Michigan contest to be held in July at Muskegon.

"This is one of the most successful shows we have ever had," Arthur Salley, general chairman, said.

There were 5,900 tickets sold with a net profit of more than $2,000. This was slightly higher than last year's total according to Salley.

Township Board Meets Tonight

Awarding of Contracts on Two Main Projects Heads Agenda

The awarding of contracts for two important projects will be the main business at tonight's Waterford Township board meeting, according to acting Supervisor Louis Barry.

After the regular business meeting at 7:30 p.m., bids will be received at 9 p.m. for two mobile radio transmitters.

One of these will be installed in the new utility carryall truck presented to the Fire Dept. by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

The other will be installed in one of the three township fire stations where it is needed.

At 9:30 p.m., the bids will be opened and contracts awarded for 440 five-yard loads of fill sand to cover the dump sites on Cooley Lake and Hospital roads.

These sites have been leveled in readiness for the four-inch coverage which will obliterate the unsightly tracks and alleviate the rodent menace, Barry said. Up until noon today six sealed bids have been received.

Doctor Asked Change in Will

Widow's Lawyer Says Adams Came to Him About Gifts in March

LONDON (AP)—A jury trying Dr. John Bodkin Adams for murder was told today the society physician arranged a change in the will of the old lady he is accused of drugging to death.

Hubert Sogno, a lawyer who handled financial affairs for Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell, testified the bachelor doctor called on him and said the 81-year-old widow had promised him gifts but forgot to include them in her will.

The gifts were a Rolls-Royce car and "contents of a case in locked box at the bank."

The lawyer, appearing for the prosecution, testified that Adams said "although Mrs. Morrell was very ill, her mind was perfectly clear and he had no doubt she codicil or a new will."

codicil or a new will.

The lawyer said Dr. Adams first approached him in March, 1950, and that a new will was drawn up in August — three months before the widow died.

The prosecution charges the doctor killed her with an overdose of drugs when she threatened to change the will again cutting him out entirely.

Under the will the defendant was bequeathed a chest of silver. The Rolls-Royce was left her son but he gave it to the doctor when his mother died.

The Day in Birmingham

Only One Public Hearing Goes Before Commission

BIRMINGHAM—Only one public hearing, a two-part deal expected to draw little opposition, faces Birmingham City Commissioners tonight.

Part of the discussion will be on the requested rezoning of nine lots on the southwest corner of Redding road and Woodward avenue. Samuel Frankell has asked to have a zoning change from income-bungalow to multiple dwelling use. Plan board members have already recommended the change.

The second half is for the vacating of the alley running south from Redding through the nine lot sections.

Planners report overhead electrical lines and underground telephone conduits installed in the alley right-of-way. The board, therefore, recommends the tabling of this part of a hearing until Frankell has made whatever plans are necessary with the utilities companies for easements or a financial arrangement for the removal and relocation of lines.

The commission will review a request from Irwin I. Cohn to permit him to erect a four-story apartment on the west side of Woodward avenue between Colonial and Bloomfield Courts.

Mike Harribedian is again asking rezoning of property on Maple avenue at the corner of Coolidge road. He seeks a business A zoning "due to the change in zoning classification of adjoining Maple avenue property." Multiple dwelling use was approved for this "adjoining" property last week.

Edwin E. Puls of 185 Linden was reelected president of the Pensular State Philatelic Society at the convention in Toledo last week. Puls, president of the Birmingham Stamp Club, said plans are under way for the state meet to be held here in 1958.

He received a second place ribbon at Toledo for his display of early machine cancellations. Another second place award for Birmingham went to the Rev. Dr. W. Glen Harris of the First Presbyterian Church for his group of Rotary stamps.

Pet owners in the south Chester area are anxiously trying to track down the dog poisoner which became active in their section within the past week.

Bruce Unwin of 672 S. Chester St. reported their 6-year-old Irish Setter poisoned Saturday. The dog was playing with the Unwin children in a nearby lot when she picked up pieces of poisoned meat.

Prompt veterinary treatment saved the animal but a puppy poisoned the week before died after about 24 hours. Dog Warden Al Sundell has posted reward signs in the area.

Highway Head Flays Governor

Ziegler Says Probe Is 'Carnivorous Desire to Prey' on Him

LANSING (AP) — Republican Charles M. Ziegler today accused Democratic Gov. Williams of indulging a "carnivorous desire to prey on me."

"Apparently no cost is too high for you to continue your grab for complete control of the government of our state," Ziegler said.

The State Highway Commissioner referred to an investigation ordered by Williams into a proposed land purchase by the Highway Department in connection with the Grand Rapids Expressway. The inquiry is in its seventh day.

"Had your interest in the matter been sincere, you would have asked me or a member of my staff to tell you the complete, the true facts of the case," Ziegler said in a letter to the governor.

"Not once did you ask the Highway Department for factual data which was available to you at any time."

It was the bitterest blast fired by Ziegler at Williams in a political feud that has extended over several years.

The Highway Commissioner said the governor, by "meddling into something you know nothing about," had "sabotaged" the expressway program, cost taxpayers "untold thousands of dollars" and left the Highway Department in a dilemma.

"I hope you are satisfied," he said.

The investigation, being conducted by Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski, directly involves proposed purchase of a 2½ acre tract at the Grand Rapids outskirts owned by Darling Freight Co., Inc.

The governor ordered it to learn why the department was on the verge of paying $90,000 for land that once was appraised at $11,800.

Extra Shares to Stockholders

Consumers Power Co. Reports Subscription of Entire Offering

Robert P. Briggs, executive vice president of Consumers Power Company, announced today that the company's common stockholders subscribed for 95 per cent of the 549,324 additional common shares offered to them at $42.75 per share on the basis of one share each 15 already held.

This left 25,649 shares with which to meet subscriptions of Consumers employes for 40,095 shares.

Briggs said that employe subscriptions for five shares or less had been accepted in full and larger subscriptions had been scaled down, with each subscribing employe being allotted at least 53 per cent of the number of shares requested.

Proceeds of the stock sale, estimated at $23,400,000, will be used by the company in the expansion and improvement of its electric and gas facilities to meet the growing needs of the outstate Michigan area. Expenditures of $95,000,000 for expansion and improvement are scheduled for 1957.

local, and Keating both were given a vote of confidence by Hoffa and appointed as business agents following their indictments on extortion charges.

Harrelson was appointed by Hoffa as "acting president." Harrelson was not available for comment today.

Keating received a sentence of six months and a fine of $1,000, while Linteau received a $500 fine and a five-months jail sentence. Keating later was indicted for income tax evasion.

WASHINGTON (INS) — Dave Beck kept his whereabouts a mystery today but his attorney promised that the Teamsters Union president will appear on schedule before Senate investigators Tuesday.

"I can't tell you where he is or when he is arriving in Washington. I can assure you without qualification, though, that he'll be at the hearing Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. That is positive.

The attorney refused to tell reporters whether Beck might already be in Washington, whether he is en route, or whether he is still at his home in Seattle, Wash.

Beck had been scheduled to arrive in Washington shortly before noon (EST) today but he cancelled his plane reservation from Seattle last night without any explanation.

Given 10 Years for 1955 Death

Ex-Resident Sentenced in Florida for Killing Friend's Wife

A former Pontiac man, Samuel Trimble, 29, has been sentenced to 10 years for the 1955 death of his "best friend's" wife, Mrs. Clara Jean Bass, formerly a Pontiac waitress.

A Miami, Fla. criminal court returned the verdict closing the trial which had been delayed months by a Florida Supreme Court ruling which said homicide cases must be tried in criminal courts and not in circuit courts.

The body of Mrs. Bass, 30, was found Dec. 3, 1955 on a desolate road.

During his first trial, Trimble said he ran over the woman "strictly by accident" as he headed homeward after she resisted his advances. During the last trial, Trimble, a floor sander while in Pontiac, did not testify and offered no defense witnesses.

Trimble was the best man at the Bass wedding before he and his wife moved to Miami in 1955 from Kentucky and Pontiac.

MEMO TO CAESAR

Pilate Scoffs at Miracles

Surprisingly, the tone of Pilate's next communication to Caesar changed entirely. In a mood of mockery, he wrote . . . .

August Caesar: The people of this province have now come to the end of all reason. Let me tell you the latest that Junius reports.

He says the people are telling how a woman with a hemorrhage merely touched the Nazarene preacher's garment and she was healed!

On the same day, Jesus went to the home of a man named Jairus whose daughter was ill. As they approached the house, servants came out to tell the girl's father and Jesus and his apostles that the girl had already died. The Nazarene went in and said she was merely sleeping.

But no one would believe him. They laughed at him scornfully so certain were they that the girl was dead.

Then, according to the story, Jesus said: "Maid, arise." And she stood up and was able to eat!

You would think this enough of glamorous tales. But there are more. Many more.

Junius says that Jesus and several of his apostles went into the wilderness to meditate and a crowd of nearly five thousand people followed them. As the day wore on, the apostles became worried and urged Jesus to send the throng away so they would have food and lodging for the night.

Instead of doing this, however, the teacher asked them to collect what food there was at hand — a mere five loaves of bread and two fishes.

By some miracle, Junius claims, the Nazarene was able to increase this amount of food so that all the five thousand were fed and there were twelve baskets left over.

How can a reasonable Roman believe such things even when so reliable a man as Junius reports them?

Moreover, stories are now going around that this Jesus is John the Baptist arisen from the dead or one of the prophets returned. He must be given credit on this point. He does not traffic with such tales or pretend to be anyone other than he is.

I am moved to think that you chided me wisely some time ago, and that the weird tales of the populace eventually will put the man's reputation to ridicule. For, not even an April breeze can be as fickle as the whims of the people.

(Signed) Pilate.

The two were identified as Albert Johnson, 37, a Los Angeles burglar, and Leonard Thompson, 34, a San Francisco burglar.

Plan to Restore Dewey Flagship Has 'Almost Won'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Cruiser Olympia Assn., Inc., said today it has "almost won" its three year struggle to restore Adm. Dewey's flagship at Manila Bay to a condition where it can be exhibited as a public memorial.

The Navy had set certain repair standards to make the ship safe for visitors and estimated these repairs would cost $250,000. Francis D. Pastorius, association president, said a Philadelphia firm had offered to repair and alter the ship for $168,000.

★ ★ ★

The funds, said Pastorius, will be raised by the association.

The Olympia began her naval career in 1895. She was taken out of commission in 1922 and is now at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, in such condition that public visiting is prohibited.

Hindenburg Survivor Tells Vivid Story of Disaster

(To most Americans, phrases like "the Iroquois Theater fire," "the blizzard of '88, "the Cocoanut Grove fire," are dim reminders of old newspaper headlines. But to a few men and women scattered across the country, these great natural and manmade disasters are sharp and sometimes painful memories. These are the men and women who lived through the fire, or the flood, or the explosion. This is the first of a series in which a great reporter recreates these disasters through the eyes of those who survived.)

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Writer

"The Almighty God saved me."

Silver-haired, 71-year-old Philip Mangone was describing in halting sentences the ordeal he went through when the hydrogen-filled dirigible Hindenburg blew up and burned at Lakehurst, N. J., on May 6, 1937. Thirty-six persons lost their lives.

The mysterious explosion came at 8:25 p.m., as the Hindenburg, Nazi Germany's queen of the skies, dipped down to hook up to its 100-foot mooring mast at the Lakehurst Naval Air Station.

In vivid detail Mangone recalls—20 years later—the harrowing experiences that befell him and other passengers.

The big, silver-hued dirigible, resembling some giant fish, took off from Germany under ideal weather conditions. On board were 97 persons—36 passengers, the normal crew of 40, and 21 young men training as airship crewmen.

Crossing the Atlantic, the weather turned unpleasant and it wasn't until the afternoon of May 5 that the North American coast was sighted.

Headwinds and a thunderstorm further delayed the Hindenburg's arrival at Lakehurst. Landing time had been changed from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. and it was about 7 p.m. when the ship maneuvered over Lakehurst.

LOOKED FOR FRIENDS

Mandone and other passengers looked out the window in the hope of glimpsing relatives and friends among the waiting throng.

Standing near the mooring mast was a ground crew of some 200 sailors, Marines and civilians. Their job was to handle the ropes the Hindenburg would put down.

At 7:21 p.m., the landing ropes were dropped and from a height of about 200 feet the Hindenburg nosed downward toward the mooring mast. Four minutes later the dirigible blew up.

"I was standing by a big glass window in the middle of the ship, looking down," Mangone related. "There was a loud report, followed by a brilliant burst of flames. Smoke mushroomed into the sky in a smoking cloud.

"I thought I was a goner, that my time to die had come. I said: 'Please, God help me!' Somehow, in the flashing second of the explosion, I retained my presence of mind.

"I grabbed a chair and smashed it through the window. I gripped the window sill and looked out. We seemed a little less than 200 feet high. I said to myself: 'I can't jump, we're too high. I'll break my legs.' But I couldn't wait. A moment or two later, as the wrecked ship sank downward, I jumped.

"The framework of the dirigible pinned me down. I lay flat in the tangle of wreckage. But my body wasn't crushed. I worked frantically to get myself out of the wreckage. Desperately, I scraped a hole into the dirt. Somehow I burrowed myself out like a mole.

KEPT CONSCIOUSNESS

"I was conscious all the time. It seemed like an age before I squirmed through.

"I stood up, dazed. I wheeled around dizzily. The shock had been so great I didn't know what I was doing. I was navigating without thinking.

"All around me was the smell of burning flesh. Men were rushing about excitedly. Some were badly burned passengers, others members of the ground crew. The scene was indescribable. Everything was in a panic. Passengers were crying and screaming.

"I reeled under my own steam toward a building in the distance. Someone took me by the arm and led me to it. There, I was given a 'shot' in the arm by a nurse, and taken to a hospital.

"I was 'alive' for several hours. That is, I knew what I was doing. The burns hadn't got to me yet; I didn't feel them too much. But that night, in the hospital, I was knocked out.

"I lapsed into unconsciousness. I was in great pain just before my senses deserted me. I was unconscious for a week, and after that I was sick for weeks."

The hair was completely burned from Mangone's head. His face, ears, hands and back were badly burned. None of those who survived, he says, were burned worse than he was. Mangone was hospitalized for six months. Later he was taken to Medical Center in New York, unable to leave his chair for four months. Medical service cost him $37,000. The German government insurance reimbursed him to the extent of $5,000.

When he was discharged from the hospital, Mangone immediately took an airplane trip to Chicago, to prove to himself he wasn't afraid to fly again.

"Anyway, the Lord was good to me. The Almighty God saved me."

Red Cross Swamped

PORT HURON (UP) — Red Cross blood bank facilities were virtually swamped when 240 persons responded to a warning that the St. Clair County community blood service would end July 1 because of a lack of donors. A total of 190 pints were contributed. The Red Cross said continuation of the program would depend on whether donations stay up for the next two months.

New PHS Coach Well Recommended

Football fans of this area will watch Pontiac High School's Chieftains with renewed interest next fall, when they take the field under direction of their new football coach, Jessie MacLeay.

★ ★ ★

MacLeay comes to Pontiac from the University of Illinois, where he has been a member of the athletic staff. His experience both as a coach and participant in major and minor sports is extensive; his academic background (he holds three degrees, including a Ph.D.) also is impressive.

★ ★ ★

In the years that PHS has been in the Saginaw Valley Conference many fine lads have played on its football teams. They have shown the result of good coaching and as individuals many have been excellent athletes.

But in team play, the record has not been overly impressive. Just why this has been so is of little importance now.

There is a good chance that the new coach will place Pontiac in the winning column more often, without sacrificing any of the other benefits which every young athlete has a right to receive from his school training and competition.

For Jessie MacLeay comes highly recommended as a man and as a leader. His close associates report that he has an excellent understanding of human relations; he is rated tops as a teacher, coach and counselor.

★ ★ ★

There is good reason to believe that young football players and other students who come under his influence will be better for that experience.

Pontiac is fortunate in obtaining the services of one who comes highly recommended and apparently well qualified for this important post.

Keeping Ahead of Big National Growth

With its membership now above the 8,000 mark, Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America shows a consistent growth far in excess of the national percentage which in itself is breaking all records in its history.

The nation-wide figures, now considerably over the three million mark, make it the largest youth organization in our country.

The local council, which comprises most of the area of Oakland and Macomb Counties, including the cities of Pontiac and Mt. Clemens, in addition to this 8,000, has adults in the work to bring its active participants over the 10,000 mark.

Its progress has led to top Scouters throughout the nation to ask how it is done.

In answer, it can be definitely said that local leaders in the work have found that successful scouting largely stems from the adults in charge, particularly the Scoutmasters and others who direct the activities of the young people, and keep them interested and sympathetic to the program.

Usually the busiest man in any community makes its best scoutmaster. It formerly was considered as a job for a man who had little else to do. But that proved to be a fallacy.

Now busy men are sought out for these jobs. They're usually busy because they've made a success of their own jobs, and will find the time for scouting when they become aware of its man building possibilities, both for the boys and their leaders.

In keeping with its progress, the local council will be in the fore front at the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., next July.

Nearly 100 scouts and leaders from Clinton Valley already have made their reservations for this biggest event in Boy Scouting. Over 50,000 scouts will be in attendance, coming from every state and territory.

At the last national jamboree which was held four years ago on a big ranch near Los Angeles, Camp Pontiac honored both the great Indian chief and the city, and was one of the most outstanding features of the event. Nobody who saw it will ever forget it, although we had only a dozen or so scouts there.

With several times that number already assured to represent us at Valley Forge, wonder if we cannot have something equally as interesting, unique and memory storing to attract the attention of the million or more spectators at Valley Forge on the week of July 12 to 18?

Sheriff Tripp was puzzled as to what to do with a band of gypsies that "seemed crooked," an abandoned horse that had an enormous appetite and an abandoned baby that had none. President William Howard Taft was coming to Pontiac, our drinking water was unsafe without boiling, and several people had been injured in horse and buggy accidents. The local courts were wrestling with a murder trial and a suit about the laying capacity of hens. The local schools were overcrowded, and Oakland County's 400 lakes make it quite unique in the nation among areas of like population. For instance, the entire state of Indiana hasn't completely within its borders a lake as large as Cass.

Driving through Midland, you always smell chemicals, and now you see a sign,

"I'll Answer All Queries—Except Embarrassing Ones"

James Marlow Says:

Bermuda Echoes Familiar Policies

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most of the statement by President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan — on what they agreed to at Bermuda — was a collection of banalities. It sounded more tired than vigorous.

For example: They agreed it's good to have military allies. That's hardly news. They said they will continue support for the reunification of Germany. No one expected otherwise.

Nor, to continue the example, did they have to go to Bermuda to agree, as they said they did, that they: sympathize with the Hungarian people; think Russia is repressive; believe all countries should have liberal trade policies; have a common interest in European unity within the Atlantic community.

But they said not a word on the most important, immediate problem facing them: what they will do, individually or together, if Egyptian President Nasser keeps on kicking up his heels.

All they said — without mentioning his name — was to indicate they hope he will comply with United Nations' resolutions for restoring peace to the Middle East.

They may have reached agreements not put in writing. It's doubtful for example: Macmillan has favored a strong hand in dealing with Nasser; Eisenhoewr has preferred handling him through the U.N.

This Bermuda meeting, which ended Saturday, was intended to patch up the American - British split over the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt. And maybe it accomplished just that.

But this meeting, judging from the statement issued after it was over, did not look like a warm or hearty get-together. The two men simply said they were "well satisfied with the results of this conference."

Eisenhower and Macmillan did reach positive decisions on three points:

1. The United States will let Britain have American guided missiles. This was a natural step, besides saving Britain money trying to develop similar weapons, since Britain is in the front line of this country's own defense.

The British—because of a ban in American law—won't get the atomic warheads to go with the missiles. But warheads will be stocked in Britain. In an emergency — a Russian attack — they would certainly get the warheads.

2. It was agreed the United States and Britain will continue testing nuclear weapons while trying to keep fall-out to a minimum. They invited Russia to watch their tests, if Russia will return the favor by inviting them to watch hers.

This is a gesture toward creating some mutual confidence between the West and Russia—since neither side has trusted the other enough so far to agree on disarmaments — although no secrets would be given away.

3. The United States agreed to take part in the work of the military committee of the Baghdad Pact, a military alliance made up of Britain, Iraq, Iraq, Turkey and Pakistan. Those five allies must be saying: "It's about time."

Four of the allies are on Russia's southern border. The alliance is aimed at Russia. But the United States, which inspired the pact in the first place, not only refused to join it but even refused to take part in the military planning.

The reason: The Arab nations objected to the pact and this country wanted to pacify the Arabs. As the statement shows by one omission, Eisenhower still has his eye on the Arabs for he didn't say this country would now join the pact.

Smiles

A Los Angeles woman won a divorce because her husband would buy her nothing to eat but horse meat. Could there have been too much nagging?

Dr. William Brady Says:

Angina Patients Advised to Carry Nitroglycerin

Doing my rolls this morning I recalled two occasions in the past year when I had a vague distress, or you might call it a pain if you wanted to impress somebody, just northeast of the bread basket. That is in the general area of the heart.

BRADY

A good doctor, in my opinion, can judge the condition of the arteries and the level of blood pressure better with his educated fingers than a trick specialsit can with his gadgets.

So I put one tablet under my tongue and waited five minutes. No throbbing in head, no flushing of face. So I put the second tablet under my tongue. In a minute I thought there was slight throbbing in my head—maybe I just imagined it. Anyway, there was no more distress or discomfort, and I resumed my game.

I put on a similar act in the course of a game a few months later. This time still another playmate gave me one of his tablets—an expensive proprietary preparation which purports to give the desirable effect of nitroglycerin, of course without the untoward or unpleasant side effects.

In the circumstances I couldn't laugh at the poor geek. I had to take the tablet he kindly offered.

URGED TO CARRY

This time several of my playmates urged me to carry some nitroglycerin tablets at all times. I had to thank them and say maybe I should.

I have not yet adopted the suggestion, not because I'm obstinate but just because I don't believe either the high bellyache or the low pain-in-the-neck was anginal.

Be that as it may, if I had any doubts about it, I'd carry a supply of nitroglycerin tablets and take one whenever I felt the slightest distress or fear of distress.

Nitroglycerin (the liquid which, added to an absorbent substance, makes dynamite), sounds so powerful that even persons who stand to benefit most from regular use of it are afraid to use it.

In the CVD book (about heart and artery troubles)—35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope—I say nitroglycerin is not a heart stimulant.

DILATES ARTERIES

It dilates the coronary arteries which supply blood to the heart muscle, which brings more blood, more oxygen, to the muscle cells. Many angina patients take a nitroglycerin tablet three or four times a day with benefit.

Good doctors today advise angina patients to take nitroglycerin freely to ward off an attack—expecially when they are going to exert themselves in any way when the weather is cold.

One who carries nitroglycerin tablets should learn how it acts by taking a tablet whenever he gets a fresh supply, to make certain his old tablets have not lost their potency by volatilization.

Sit or lie down and dissolve a tablet in the mouth. If you do not feel a throbbing in the head and flushing of the face and perhaps some dizziness within four or five minutes take a second tablet. If there is still no such effect throw away the tablets and get a fresh supply.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Wants Stricter Penalties for Narcotic Convictions

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

After recently hearing the report that a Pontiac man was arrested on a "narcotic possession" charge, I wondered if the people of the City of Pontiac realize the gravity of such an offense. The report stated the man received one year's probation, a small price for such a crime.

Recent statistics show that all narcotics users are prospective peddlars due to the rapidly increasing need of money to buy their own supply of drugs. Teenagers make up the largest share of narcotics users, largely due to the fact that pushers have familiarized them with dope, then assured them it was cheap and not habit-forming.

Such people are a great menace. As I see it, solution to this problem is stiffer penalties and no suspended sentences or probations for these corruptors of our fine youth.

'Fill in Swamp, Don't Cut Weeds'

Cutting weeds with City money is indeed silly when the City cannot or will not fill in swamps in which several children have nearly drowned. They say it will be filled if anything so disastrous happens, but why wait until then to act on so small a problem when they are wanting to cut privately owned weeds? Why spend money so foolishly when $6,500 would buy a lot of fill dirt?

Anyone wanting to take a look at this swamp just drive down to the end of East Mansfield, if you're brave enough to get through the mud the City won't fix. The City garbage and can collectors won't even venture down the street on pick-up day. If there is money available for improvements, it would be better spent on filling these swamps instead of letting a child drown.

Disgusted Northend Taxpayer

Tells of Kindness of Police Force

We often see criticism about our police department. In my social work I have found them very cooperative when called upon. Just recently the occasion arose for me to contact them.

The Golden Age group meets once a week at the YWCA. The elderly people are brought there by kindly voluntary drivers. Some have been ticketed and complained.

I volunteered to contact the police department and found them very considerate indeed, as we are the oldest and largest group that meets regularly. They have kindly consented not to ticket our drivers on the day we meet. We feel they should be highly commended for the consideration of the pleasure of our aged members.

'We Want Cut in 1958 Tax'

I am nearly reconciled to the fact we aren't going to get an income tax cut this year, but I'm blowing a loud horn and warning the Republican party it better plan to do so in 1958.

President Eisenhower deserves great credit for balancing the budget and cutting taxes once. After four terms of Roosevelt and a dose of Truman the bureaucrats had so many fingers in the public trough it was a big job to turn the trend.

But Eisenhower has succeeded. However, along with all my neighbors, we want a tax cut in 1958.

'Confined Dogs Aren't Poisoned'

Why, oh, why do people have pets to run wild about the neighborhood and be allowed to be poisoned? (It could be he ate someone's garbage and was poisoned by mistake.) To me a pet is just like a member of the family . . . you look after him and care for him. You know where he is at all times. There is no reason for pets being poisoned if they are cared for and looked after. In return you have no hysterics of children seeing their pets die at their feet. I feel very sorry for the children, but parents who know better are to blame.

Praises Decision in Wyatt Case

Hurray for Judge Moore in the Wyatt case. The Judge and the late Dr. Siple should have a gold statue in their honor right in the middle of Saginaw and Huron streets, so people could tip their hats to these two outstanding men. Diogenes' search would have ended in Pontiac.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Discusses Teenage Sex Problem

Arlene came to my office hoping I would serve as her conscience. But everybody must make his own moral decisions. We counsellors can offer facts, pro and con, but our patients must come to their own verdict. See how we handle a case like Arlene's. Scrapbook this case for discussion at church or high school hygiene classes.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-337: Arlene A., aged 17, is in a dilemma.

"Dr. Crane, I don't know what to do about my boy friend," she began, nervously.

CRANE

"He is a handsome boy and president of our senior class in high school.

"We have been dating steadily for almost a year. But he is now making demands upon me that I have been taught are wrong.

"When I object, he tells me I am old-fashioned. He says all girls do this sort of thing nowadays.

"And he says if I don't give in to him, then he will get another girl for his date. What should I do? I don't want to be jilted but I still think he is wrong."

WHAT IS RIGHT

We counsellors don't try to decide your moral problems for you, since that is something every person must do for himself.

However, we can offer some arguments, pro and con. Weigh them in the two scale pans and see how you should act.

Arlene's parents and her church have already taught Arlene that pre-marital sexual affairs are wrong. And here's why:

(1) Otherwise, she will lose her spunk and independence of spirit immediately, which are woman's chief charms.

★ ★ ★

Thereafter, she will be afraid lest somebody find out about her secret. She will thus grow shifty-eyed and drop her gaze when anybody looks steadily at her.

(2) She may contract syphilis, as well as gonorrhea, for these are different diseases and can exist together.

Dr. E. Gurney Clark, of the American Social Hygiene Association, says 200,000 teenagers will catch venereal disease this year!

And 5,000 people will die of syphilis alone this year, while another 2,000 will become insane and be admitted to mental institutions.

He says last year over 240,000 cases of gonorrhea were also reported and these are only part of the total number.

★ ★ ★

Right now, Dr. Clark adds, over 1,900,000 people in the U.S.A. have syphilis and need urgent treatment.

(3) Arlene may become pregnant, thus forcing her to quit school before commencement, and meanwhile breaking the hearts of her doting parents.

Nowadays, it costs parents about $15,000 in hard cash to rear a child to Arlene's age. And the financial investment is not their major outlay.

For they have worried over Arlene in babyhood and during her attacks of mumps, measles and other contagious diseases.

Into the wee hours they have thus sat up watching her feverish cheeks and praying that she'd recover and become a healthy, happy girl again. So she is deeply indebted to them.

(4) If she gets pregnant, then what? The baby will be born with one strike against it, if she tries to keep it. And it will break her heart temporarily to let it be adopted.

So Arlene places all of these dangers and disadvantages into one pan of the scales just to buy a few more dates with the leading boy in her class.

And if she submits to his demands, he may very likely toss her aside, anyway, when he leaves for college, for high school romances often fade after a year or so, if one party thereto goes away to college.

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). Give it to all teen-agers.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

France Starts Work on First Atomic Sub

TARBES, France (AP)—A French official said recently France has begun construction of its first atomic submarine of 5,000 tons.

Henri Baissas, assistant director of the Saclay Nuclear Studies Center, said the craft will be launched within four years.

The French submarine would dwarf the first U.S. atomic-powered sub, the 3,000-ton Nautilus which has logged more than 60,000 miles on a lump of uranium smaller than a light bulb since first going to sea in 1955. But the French craft will be 450 tons smaller than the U.S. atomic sub Triton under construction at Groton, Conn., which will be the largest submarine ever built.

Hal Boyle Says:

Eva Bartok Defends Hungarians

NEW YORK (AP)—The only time Eva Bartok acts like a Hungarian actress is when people tell her in surprise, "Why, you don't act at all like a Hungarian actress."

That remark causes the slender, dark-eyed star, who was born in Budapest, to blow up a real temperamental storm.

★ ★ ★

"One Hollywood writer said I was very unusual Hungarian actress because I wasn't blonde, didn't mangle the English language, and was quiet," she fumed.

What did they expect me to do—break up all the studio furniture?"

Miss Bartok, who twinkles brightly in the European celluloid sky, recently completed her first American film — an MGM opus called "Ten Thousand Bedrooms" in which she stars with Dean Martin.

"It is a nice clean comedy and has nothing to do with bedrooms," she said. All she did was act in the picture. Somebody else gave it the title.

Miss Bartok, although she came here to make a single picture, has signed up for another, and is contemplating a TV series that will inevitably be known as "Forever Eva," and tell the story of a young Hungarian girl's struggles in this country.

Eva hopes that meanwhile she can clear up the misconception that Hungarians are a madcap, harum-scarum bunch of footloose Bohemians.

She feels that this slander on her people has been given currency by playwright Ferenc Molnar's jest that, "Anyone who has a Hungarian for a friend, doesn't need an enemy."

"Molnar shouldn't have said that," she remarked. "Anyway, it is just his version of an old Hungarian joke about Romanians, which every Hungarian schoolchild knows.

"We have another schoolday joke about what is the difference between a Romanian and a Czechoslovak. The answer is that each of them would agree to sell his mother — but only the Romanian would make delivery."

Asked to define the actual virtues and defects of Hungarians, Eva, who is now a British subject, said:

"People are individuals, and I hate to generalize. But most Hungarians are generous, talented, love foreigners, and have a good sense of humor. But because they have known long hardship their jokes are wry—it is a gallows humor.

"On the bad side, Hungarians, particularly in Budapest, are inclined to be sophisticated and cynical and sometimes are a bit—how do you say it—two-faced? But this is because of Hungary's geographical position. They must say things that will please her neighbors on all sides."

Eva, who is intense and brooding, is suspicious of quick success and believes talent must always fight hard to find its place.

"After going to London in 1948," she said, "I had to wait two years before I could get a work permit, and five more years before I got a real part in a good play."

"But I don't like to go to prizefights or bullfights," she continued. I don't like violence of any kind, and I don't like gambling. I don't like small talk either, because it seems to me it consists mostly of trading little lies back and forth.

"You can see that makes me an outcast in modern society."

She has no opinions about American men because, as she pointed out, all she has met is Hollywood men and she isn't sure they are typical.

"I think Hollywood women are more intelligent than Hollywood men," she said, smiling, "and they tell me Hollywood men are spoiled, because too many women make a fuss over them.

"I am old-fashioned myself. I think the man should show the initiative—at least at the start.

"I spent five months in Hollywood as a bachelor girl, and my name wasn't linked with anyone. Not even one romance!

"Don't you think for this I deserve at least an Oscar?"

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

MOTHER GOOSE — 1

"Old Mother Goose when she wanted to wander
Would ride through the air
On a very fine gander."

Mention Mother Goose and a child's eyes immediately brighten—for the rhymes credited to this wonderful woman have enchanted boys and girls for more than three centuries. Indeed, Mother Goose is a part of growing up.

This week we'll take a look at some of the Mother Goose rhymes and the people in them. Let's start with Mother Goose herself and her famous gander, Honky.

The earliest information we have on Mother Goose is that she was created in the imagination of a group of French peasants about 1650. In 1697, Charles Perrault used her name and picture in a collection of French fairy tales. And about 1750, an English publisher attached her name to a book of nursery rhymes. This book made its first appearance in America in 1785 in Worcester, Mass. It contained 52 rhymes, but many have been added through the years.

Paste this picture on cardboard and color with crayons. Thread a big needle with heavy black thread. Make a solid knot at one end so it will catch at hole A when you push the thread through it as indicated. Bring the thread through hole C. Put a second thread from B to C, leaving two or three feet extra thread for use as a lead string. Tie the two strings together as shown in the diagram at upper right.

Make a finger loop at the end of the long string and whril Mother Goose and Honky through the air, like a kite.

CONSTIPATED?
New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

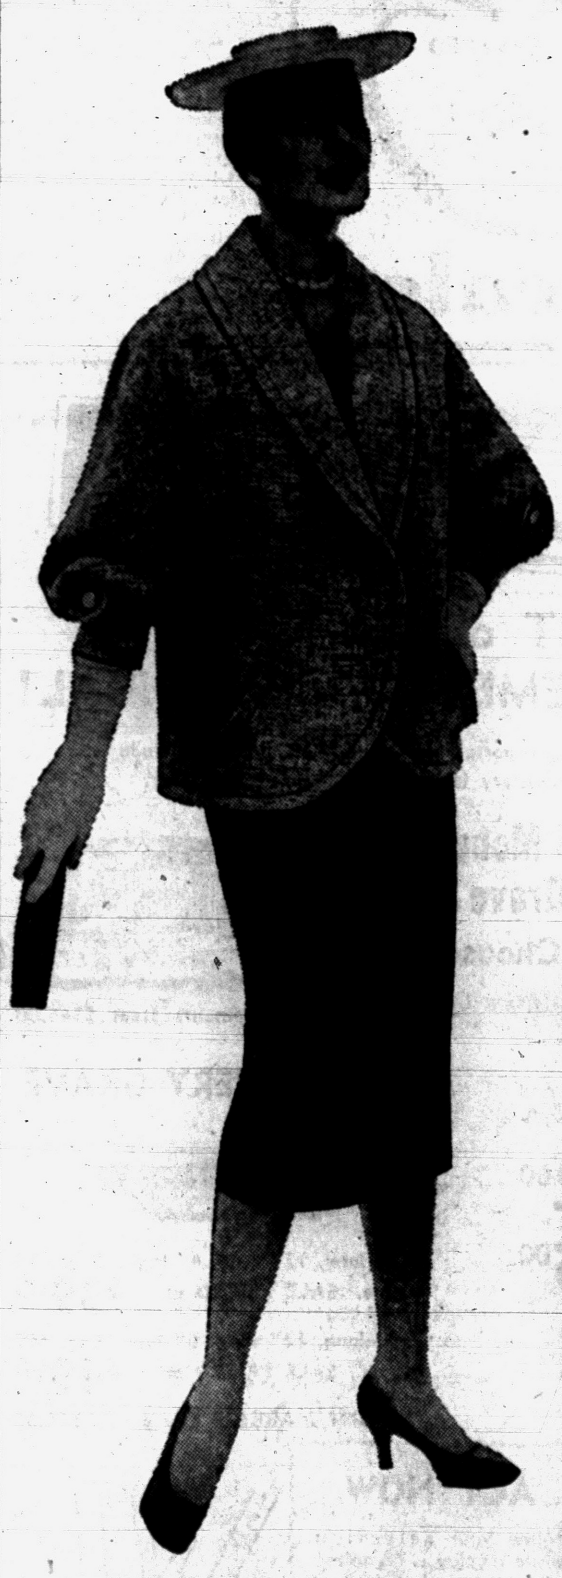

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Changes Make Solution Easier for Pot-O-Gold

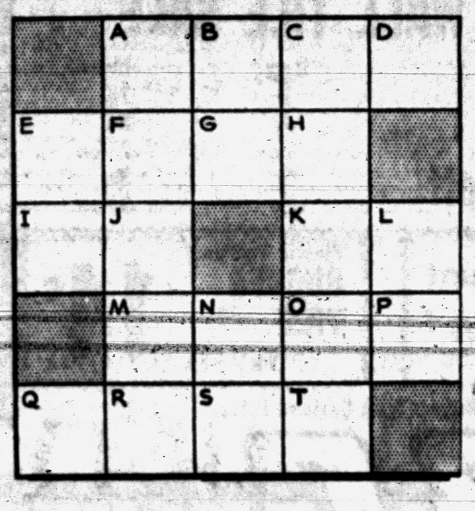

In order to make solution of Pot-O-Gold easier, the puzzle has been changed to resemble a crossword puzzle. This week's puzzle is worth $500, so be sure you read the new directions carefully. Clue words will no longer appear on Page One of Monday's Pontiac Press, as the clue words appear right in the solution clues.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Bunnies Pose Major Threat to Sheep Raisers

Rabbits Cute? Not in Australia!

By DENIS N. HAWKER
Visiting Australian Journalist

The car lights picked up a rabbit skidding across a road just outside Pontiac.

"Cute, aren't they?" said my companion.

★ ★ ★

"Cute?" I said. "You come right out to Australia and we'll be happy to let you have as many millions as you want."

HAWKER

Rabbits are not native to Australia. They were introduced from England in the early days of settlement. And in the manner of rabbits the world over they went forth and multiplied.

Wool production is still Australia's leading industry despite rapid industrial development. Although its flocks comprise less than a sixth of the world's sheep, they produce more than a quarter of the world's wool. The United States is a big and valued customer.

Tasmania, my home state, which concentrates on growing superfine Merino fleeces, last month set a new world wool price record of more than 500 pence (about $5) a pound. The average national price is, of course, much lower.

A sheep produces about 10 pounds of wool a year, so Australia earns a tidy sum with its 127 million sheep.

But six rabbits eat as much as a sheep — and the effect on wool output is obvious.

So within a short time of their introduction Australia began the seemingly impossible task of eradicating the pest.

2,000 MILES OF WIRE

At one time a wire netting fence 2,000 miles long was built across the continent in an effort to contain them. For decades farmers have spent huge amounts of money employing trappers, hunters and packs of dogs, erecting fences, ripping out the warrens in which the rabbits live, and on large-scale poisoning.

★ ★ ★

They have used millions of gallons of strychnine and other poisons and millions of tons of carrots and apples as baits.

★ ★ ★

Yet the rabbits survived the onslaught and multiplied.

About three years ago a virus —myxomatosis — which attacks only rabbits was introduced. It is spread by the rabbits themselves and by mosquitoes.

This decimated the rabbit hounds. The land produced more and incomes rose.

But today in Australia there are signs that rabbits are building an immunity to the disease.

★ ★ ★

HOPE FOR NEW KILLER

Despite the development of more potent poisons, rabbits continue to pose a serious problem. Every Australian hopes that science will come up with a new rabbit killer—

★ ★ ★

Everyone, that is, except the rabbit skin exporters, who in the past have supplied a big section of the world hat trade with the material from which hats are made.

Jail Gets New Screens

MONROE (AP) — Workmen are busy installing tamper-proof steel screening on the Monroe County Jail after W. H. Nestle, state inspector of jails, found prisoners could pass contraband in and out the windows. Nestle also set the jail's capacity at 53 men. Sheriff Charles G. Harrington said he would arrange with neighboring counties to house any overflow.

Cadillac

Old Friends in a New Light!

And now—in the moment of a glance—you see them for the first time in the company of a Cadillac car.

For the presence of a Cadillac car dramatically underscores so many of the things that enable you to think well of them.

It goes almost without saying, for instance, that their Cadillac lends form and substance to whatever measure of achievement the years may have brought them.

And, most assuredly, it evidences the care and judgment with which they select their personal possessions.

* * *

Incidentally, you may have noticed, of late, that the Cadillac car has cast its revealing light on an ever-growing number of your own acquaintances.

To be sure, there is every reason why this should be so. For it has become increasingly apparent that a Cadillac car is one of the soundest investments in all motordom.

Its original cost is remarkably modest—and several models are priced competitively with those of lesser makes.

Its operating economy is extraordinary—with a record of dependability that is without equal in the industry.

And its resale value stands at the summit in used-car markets all across the land.

Certainly, this triumvirate of Cadillac economies deserves your personal investigation—and your dealer will be delighted to tell you the whole wonderful story.

Students Get Help From Block Parent

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A "block parent" system for protection of school children from molesters, or in case of injury, is catching on in an area of West Los Angeles.

There are now 83 houses in the Overland Avenue Elementary School area where "block parent" signs are posted in windows. The goal is for 150 in all. The idea is that children going to and from school can take refuge at any "B-P" house.

The signs also mean that the householders are available in case of trouble to call police, parents or an ambulance.

Sanilac Farmer Killed in Fight

Meat Price Quarrel at Market in Detroit Sends 3 to Hospital

DETROIT (AP) — A farmer was stabbed to death, two policemen were cut and another man was shot in a battle that grew out of an argument over pork prices at a farmers' market on Detroit's east side Saturday.

Dead is Walter W. Kreiner, 59, a farmer of Melvin in Sanilac County.

Two Detroit men were held on a charge of investigation of murder. They were Claude Dees, 42, who was hospitalized with a bullet wound, and Rayford Butler, 44.

Police said Kreiner, who operated a meat and poultry stall at the market, got into an argument over the price of pork with two men. The argument developed into a fight.

Two plainclothes patrolmen, Paul Carnegie and Jerome Boehm, said they were walking in the market when they saw two men holding Kreiner on the ground and stabbing him. They rushed in to break up the fight.

★ ★ ★

"Butler ran toward us and slashed me on the right arm and side," Boehm said. "About that time I heard a shot and turned and saw Carnegie holding Dees. Dees had been shot under the heart and Carnegie had blood gushing from his chest."

Dees' condition was described as critical. Carnegie was in serious condition and Boehm in fair condition at a Detroit hospital.

Japanese Town Asks Cooperation Before Suicide

A spokesman said Hakone has become the most popular spot in Japan for committing suicide, with 30 already this year.

"We appreciate people seeking our town . . . when dying," he commented, "but at least we'd like them to leave names and addresses."

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said it cost the town $8,855 or $77 per person to bury the 115 persons who killed themselves here last year.

Most victims were penniless and left no identification.

Cleric Refuses to Allow Shot for Daughter

SULLIVAN, Ky. (AP) — A country preacher who says he will never give permission to have his daughter inoculated against smallpox believes God will take care of his problem.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. William R. Covington said his 10-year-old daughter Vinnie has not been attending school since Feb. 20 because officials refuse to allow her to come back until she is inoculated.

"Doctors are for those who don't trust God," the 38-year-old minister of the Church of God steadfastly maintains.

Smallpox vaccinations are required by state law. And every day Vinnie misses school, her father faces a maximum $20 fine.

The case was referred to Child Welfare Department workers after a meeting with Union County Judge Tom T. Richards Saturday.

Convington says, "We feel like everything is going to be all right. We trust the Lord in every way.

★ ★ ★

"My little girl has never had a drop of medicine in her life, and one time when she was 3 we thought she was dead." But he said prayers pulled her through that illness and an attack of pneumonia several years ago.

Covington said his wife has been teaching Vinnie at home.

11,000 GIs Pulled Out of Japan, Diet Told

TOKYO (AP) — Vice Minister of Defense Keikichi Masuhara told the Diet (Parliament) today that the U. S. Army has pulled 11,000 men out of Japan in the past year.

Masuhara said there had been almost no change in the strength of American Navy and Air Force personnel. He estimated the total U. S. force in Japan at about 90,000 men — 50,000 Air Force, less than 10,000 Navy and more than 30,000 Army.

There was no comment from American sources on the statement.

'Dead Man' Act Comes Close to Real Thing

BRIDGEPORT, W. Va. (AP) — James D. Coston Jr., 15, was playing the part of a dead man in his high school's carnival when the role almost became reality.

Coston "lay in state" with a knife stuck in a board atop his chest to appear as if he had been stabbed. When the knife loosened, he tried to straighten it and accidentally stuck it through the board into his chest.

He was taken to a hospital, where his condition was described as satisfactory.

Watchdog Likes Thief, Nips Officer on Ankle

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn watchdog named Queenie is so rattled by motherhood she can't tell friend from foe.

Queenie, a German shepherd, and her four new pups remained as quiet as church mice as burglars rifled a cigarette machine in the restaurant operated by her master William Wise.

When a patrolman came to examine the scene of the crime, however, Queenie bit him on the ankle.

Oklahoma Highways Pay for Right of Way

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) —Some 45,000 persons who own a small parcel of Oklahoma land have a dividend coming.

The Redman Land Co., which sold two-square-inch plots of ground as souvenirs for $2 each, received a check for $8.12 from the State Highway Department. The money is in payment for right of way along U. S. 281 — near Anadarko and represents about 10 percent of the one-acre plot which the company sold in small chunks.

'Shun Fashion-Plate Look' --- Dior

By NORA W. MARTIN

PARIS (INS) — Christian Dior, who for ten years has ruled the Paris high fashion world, urged women today to shun the "fashion plate" look.

"I like women to look individual and natural," Dior told International News Service. The shy, balding designer seldom agrees to interviews, but he replied in writing to a series of questions about feminine American tastes and fashions in clothes because he will visit the U.S. next month.

The famed Parisian designer declared:

"If I suffer sometimes, it is from coldness, sophistication and 'polish'. There should be a happy medium. Women should not resemble fashion plates.

"When I make a new collection, I must exaggerate my models to express the line. But I count on daily life to soften and humanize this line.

"This being said, after having traveled and passed some time in New York, I have been oversaturated by the sometimes too sophisticated allure of American women. I like individuality and naturalness and there should be a medium between the 'modish' personality and realty. This medium should be yourself."

PREPARES FOR U.S.

Wearing his customary working attire — a white smock coat — Dior has been busy in his Paris studio preparing his forthcoming New York collection, which is an adaptation of his latest "free line" for the American market.

On April 2 he will leave Paris for a four-week trip to the United States. He will go to San Francisco for special celebrations on the 10th anniversary of the founding of his fashion house. Dior said he was looking forward to his new visit to the West Coast, which he has not seen for 10 years.

Dior knows that during his four weeks in the United States he will be inundated with questions about skirt lengths and how much of the feminine leg should be seen or concealed.

★ ★ ★

"That's a difficult question to answer," he said, "since I don't know in advance what the lines and styles of my collections will be in future seasons.

JUST CAN'T TELL

"I've just finished the 1957 spring and summer collection and you saw that the skirts were of various lengths. For the future, it all depends on the evolution I shall go through myself. And to tell the truth, I just don't know what I will feel like doing next."

Dior expressed enthusiasm at the prospects of seeing the different landscapes of California, which he termed "so facinating for a European, whether it is San Francisco, Los Angeles, Beverley Hills or the oil wells scattered along the coast."

And he added that he likes California fashions, so cheerful in color and so well adapted for living on the West Coast.

"California ready-to-wear fashions," he said, "have a distinct style of their own. California women have created typical fashions which are inspired by general fashion trends but have a personality of their own."

Vera Grim Gives Talk on Education

Netherlands, U. S. Methods Evaluated by Fulbright Scholar

A comparison of methods of education in the Netherlands and in the United States was drawn for members of Xi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society Saturday when they met at Devon Gables.

The affair was the annual birthday celebration commemorating 12 years of organization.

As a Fulbright student, the speaker, Vera Grim, a Bloomfield Hills High School instructor, was sent to the Netherlands to teach there. Although everyone has an opportunity for education in this country, Miss Grim noted that only a few are entitled to higher education under the Dutch government.

Teachers in the Netherlands do not have a close relationship with students, and there are few extra curricular activities. No psychological records or testing records of students are kept, she said.

AIMS DIFFER

"The whole aim of education is different," Miss Grim explained, and she said. "We are attempting to educate all of the people and the Netherlands makes no such claim.

★ ★ ★

Education in the Netherlands gives social prestige, the speaker said, and the more degrees, the better job the educator is given.

Students entitled to study in universities there, are allowed to study at their own rate, taking examinations when they feel they are ready.

General chairman for the program was Ora Hallenbeck. Others participating were Joyce Sweet who gave the invocation; Dr. Edith Roach Snyder, who led group singing, Mrs. Ralph Forman who told of the meaning of teaching, and Vera Mae Adams as narrator for the group singing.

'Faith Pays,' Says Injured Father of 12

'Kids Are Blessing, Not Handicap' if Illness Strikes

By JOHN BARROW
INS Staff Writer

A nightmare haunting many a parent is—how will the family live if the father is disabled?

Alice McNally was too busily occupied with her 12 children to cross bridges before reaching them. Then her husband Ray, a 200-pound six-footer who once boxed to an amateur championship, became paralyzed.

The 41-year-old McNally was crippled in the summer of 1955. He injured his spine while swimming on a family vacation which he had managed to swing by frugal budgeting of a Chicago policeman's pay.

Since Ray's income was cut to disability pay of $179 a month, the 14 McNallys have been grappling with a superhuman feat of budgeting. The dozen children range from 2 to 17 years of age.

Ray cannot compute the exact grocery bill each week. Milk alone runs about eight quarts a day. There are mortgage payments on the home and clothing and other expenses of keeping children in school. Also, Ray spends five days a week at an infirmary for therapy to regain the use of his hands.

ALL PITCH IN

How do they manage? A fund was raised by friends. Ann, the 17-year-old daughter, works in a church rectory after school. Sixteen-year-old Ray Jr. is an elevator boy from 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. The mother, with three children under school age, cannot be away from home enough to take a job.

But courage is whipping the odds as much as cash. Ray's determination "to get back on my feet keeps me going." He adds:

"When I see some of those poor devils at the infirmary, I think I'm lucky. At least I can sit in a wheel chair six hours a day. I'm getting stronger, too."

Used Purse Received as Present

Woman Feels Gift Was Insulting and Wants to Return It

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter tells me: "Last week I was invited to lunch with a group of friends. As it was the day before my birthday I was presented with lovely gifts from each of them. When I arrived home I showed my mother the presents I had received.

"One of the gifts was a handbag. When I opened it to look at the inside I noticed it had quite a few tobacco shreds at the bottom and there were other signs that made it evident the bag had been used.

"I think it is an insult to be given such a present and thought of returning it to the giver. I would like to know what your reaction is to this situation."

Answer: I'm sorry to have to say that you are taking this situation much too seriously. While I do not approve of anyone's giving a used present, the one who gave you the bag may have learned at the last minute that all the others were giving you a present, and in order not to be the only one without a present for you, gave one of her own bags.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Perhaps it's not necessary, but isn't it considered a gracious thing to do to send a hostess flowers on the day of her party if one has to send regrets to her invitation?"

Answer: It is always a gracious thing to send flowers to a hostess. If, after having accepted, one is obliged to back out (which only a very serious cause can excuse), sending flowers is a very appropriate gesture of courtesy.

"Dear Mrs. Post:: My fiancee and I have broken our engagement and she has kept the ring. Is this customary? I think she should return it but she says that since I was the one to break the engagement she is entitled to keep it. Will you please tell me if this is true?"

Answer: A well-bred young woman would certainly not insist upon keeping the ring. If the criticism of people doesn't shame her into returning it, I don't know what you can do.

Public Rebukes Don't Benefit Child

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. Benson was rinsing dishtowels when her doorbell rang.

Her visitor was the high school principal's wife—one of the town's civic leaders. Invited in, she told Mrs. Benson about some fund-raising plans to build a new hospital; and asked her how she'd feel about joining the campaign organization.

Mrs. Benson had just asked, "But what does a block captain do?" when her 8-year-old son burst through the front door. Breathless and intent on his own affairs, he ignored his mother's guest to blurt, "Can I go over behind Brown's garage to play ball with the kids?"

But pulling herself together, she rebuke him—and embarrass him quickly rejected the temptation to before the stranger as he had embarrassed her.

★ ★ ★

Quietly to her guest, she said, "This is my son John. Please excuse him for interrupting us this way." Then to her child she added pleasantly, "Yes, you can go over to the ball field if you're careful to get home in time for supper."

STRAIN VANISHED

All strain immediately left the situation. The guest smiled. John said, "Gosh, I forgot! Excuse me." And his mother experienced the nice clean feeling of having done the needed thing.

A child's bad manners can inflict social embarrassment on us only so long as we think ourselves personally responsible for turning them into good ones. We are not so responsible. All we're responsible for is keeping our own manners good.

It is an immense relief to be able to accept this truth as the principle for teaching manners to a child. It frees us at once from a sense of social strain when he's around. If he forgets his Please, Thank You or Excuse Me, we no longer feel it necessary to demand them.

We don't feel obliged to prove to guests, relatives or friends that we can make him do as he's told. We don't feel required to demonstrate his submissiveness to them.

★ ★ ★

If he forgets his phrases of courtesy, we simply speak them for him. We say, "Please excuse John from the table. Thank you for letting John look at your fountain pen. Could John have another candy, please?"

It's not especially considerate to reprove children before other people. In teaching him the forms of courtesy, it's a point to hold firmly in mind.

Mom Controls Household Because Pop's Indifferent

Over the Years of Marriage, Hubby Lazily Allows Wife to Take Charge

By RUTH MILLETT

By the time a husband and wife have reached 55 they have reversed their roles and SHE is head of the family. This is the opinion of a pair of sociologists.

★ ★ ★

As far as I know they haven't made a study to find out why, in the early years of a marriage, the husband is boss man and the change comes later. But I think I can venture a safe guess.

Little by little the men delegate their authority to their wives. They give it away in small bits and pieces until one day the wives are making most of the decisions.

It begins when Papa decides he is too busy or too tired to be bothered with the kids. So it's Mama who takes over.

★ ★ ★

Then Papa gradually turns the purse strings loose. Mama becomes the family buyer, often to the extent of taking Papa's paycheck and doling out an allowance to him.

CONTENT WITH TV

Mama won't settle for that. It is she who gathers a circle of friends about them (her friends, actually). She decides where they will go and whom they will invite to their house.

Since Papa doesn't want to be bothered with household problems, Mama gradually learns to handle anything that comes up, without his help or advice. The more she manages, the more of a manager she becomes.

Little by little and bit by bit, Mama takes over not only running the household but running the family—including Papa.

No wonder by the time they hit their late 50s both husband and wife realize that it's Mama—not Papa—who is actually the head of the house.

★ ★ ★

Any young husband who wants to remain head man through the years should not—through laziness or indifference — hand over his authority to his wife in little bits and pieces.

Lifeless, Thinning Locks May Reflect Poor Condition

Your Health and Hair Are Closely Related

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Letters asking about hair and skin problems cross my desk continually. For instance, people want to know about hair that is thinning, hair which is dull and lifeless, or too dry, or too oily.

★ ★ ★

They also wish to know what to do about dandruff and superfluous hair. Today I want to answer some of the most usual questions in this column.

1. A hair last on the head from two to four years. It falls out because a new hair pushes it out just as permanent teeth loosen baby teeth. This is the usual picture. Of course disease and other factors can cause loss of hair.

2. Your health has a definite effect on your hair. Loss of sleep, an inadequate diet and overfatigue may be reflected in dull, lifeless or thinning hair. A severe illness, especially when it involves a high fever, may have the same effect. Nervous disease and glandular imbalance may cause the same result.

3. You can wash your hair as often as necessary. Oily hair should be shampooed more often than dry hair, but your hair would not suffer if you washed it every day. Many movie actresses do just that. However if your hair is dry, there should be longer than average intervals between dunkings.

NATURAL SCALING

4. What most persons call dandruff is a natural scaling of the scalp as it throws off dead cells. Meticulous and frequent shampooing and brushing are the answers to this condition. If this does not clear up in a few weeks, you should see a physician or a dermatologist. Real dandruff is a skin disorder which demands expert treatment.

★ ★ ★

5. Daily brushing is corrective to most hair difficulties. It spreads the oil over the hair and stimulates circulation in the scalp.

6. If your hair is thinning rapidly you should see your doctor. He may find that some general disorder is the cause or he may be able to give you some local medication which will help.

However, there seems to be no "cure" which is certain. About the best you can do is to massage the scalp daily in order to stimulate circulation and improve all of your health habits, including diet.

7. There is no evidence that tweezing or shaving or the use of a depilatory makes the hair grow back thicker.

LIFE'S SURE TO MAKE SOME BATTLE SCARS

We women know we cannot expect to go through life without getting some battle scars, and also some happiness scars, unless we put our emotions in cold storage and our epidermis in a cold cream jar.

★ ★ ★

BUT, when we first notice a few lines and a gray hair or so it is surprising. If we are happy and enjoy living we go gaily along, subconsciously believing that it will never happen to us. We expect some magic potion to save us before we begin to show signs of aging.

Actually, we do have many potions which are a great aid. Regular skin lubrication, plus all the benefits of exercise, happy emotions and good nutrition, which are reflected in our appearance, can create near magic.

Anyway, don't allow those lines to throw you—except into action. No doubt some of the lines you have are laughter lines. Some may have come from wonderful hours spent outdoors.

★ ★ ★

You may have acquired some while in the heart-warming sunshine or when sitting by the sea. The sun and wind are not kind to our complexions but they are great for our health and our laughter.

SOMETIMES WORTH IT

I think that lines, and even an occasional cold, are worthwhile if you have fun while getting them. The lines to dread are those which come from boredom, from worry, from a dour disposition, from such down-pulling emotions as envy and bitterness.

★ ★ ★

However, every woman wishes to remain as youthful looking as possible without sabotaging vibrant living. Here are a few hints about minimizing the lines you may be subject to.

1. Wear colored glasses when in the bright sunshine. You will otherwise accumulate squint lines. Many women have lines because they will not wear eyeglasses when they need them. Eye strain makes them squint.

2. Avoid extreme facial mannerisms such as lifting the eyebrows and screwing the face up. These are not attractive anyway.

3. Most important—keep your skin pliable through daily lubrication.

4. Pat your cream on gently. Do not massage vigorously.

5. Try to avoid tension. This pulls the contour of the face downward.

6. Facial exercises have helped many women improve contour.

If you would like to have my facial exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 9 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "A Business of Your Own May Prolong Your Health."

There seems to be no certain "cure" for thinning hair; however, it is a good idea to massage your hair daily to stimulate circulation, and improve all of your health habits.

Don't Sift the Flour for These

Mrs. Schellenberg's Cookie Recipe Uses Sour Cream

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We are always glad to get old-fashioned recipes for foods everyone enjoys. Today's recipe is for Sour Cream Cookies, made with whole wheat flour. Mrs. George Schellenberg got this recipe from her mother years ago.

Being both mother and father to three active youngsters has taken the major portion of Mrs. Schellenberg's life in recent years. She's active in the Washington Junior High PTSA. A good game of bridge is her favorite recreation.

SOUR CREAM COOKIES
By Mrs. George Schellenberg

1 egg
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon molasses
1 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon soda
Pinch of salt

2½ cups whole wheat or graham flour, unsifted.

Mix in order given. Drop by teaspoonfulls on greased baking sheet. Bake 12-15 minutes in a 350-degree oven.

Queen Elected by Sisterhood

Mrs. George Kayga was elected queen of Corinne Sisterhood 184, Dames of Malta, at the meeting held at Malta Hall.

Also elected at the recent meeting were Mrs. Florence Carter, Ruth; Mrs. Margaret Curly, Naomi; Mrs. James Schram, protector; Mrs. Elmer Beardsley, keeper of archives; Mrs. Clyde Matthews, assistant keeper of archives; Mrs. Elise Theiss, herald; Mrs. Richard Lange, deputy herald, and Mrs. Elsie Bailey, burser.

Taking the duties of appointive offices are Mrs. John Beltz, Mrs. Edward Schram, Mrs. Mabel Erkinson, Mrs. Emma Kinzie, Mrs. Pauline Best, Mrs. Ella Hilliker and Mrs. William Daugherty.

Don't Stifle Good Idea to Protect It

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I have a wonderful idea for an invention, but I'm afraid to present it for fear somebody will steal it."

★ ★ ★

Have you ever said that to yourself?

Another variation is, "I love to write songs but I'm afraid to take them to a music publisher because they are all pirates." Or, "I have an idea for the boss, but I know he'll palm it off as his own.'

Many people do think this way, so they never present their ideas or submit their songs or manuscripts. They protect themselves from theft, but they also prevent their own creative development.

Giving away your ideas is the best way to exercise your capacity for thinking up new ones!

If you keep getting good ideas but let them die a'borning, you are eventually apt to find that you are unable to think up any at all.

LESS STEALING

My experience has been, first, that people don't steal ideas nearly as much as we might suspect; second, that there are ways of protecting ideas to some extent; third, that even if people do steal your golden eggs for a while, they will eventually hire the goose that lays them.

★ ★ ★

Mary works in an advertising agency for a man who does steal ideas from his underlings. Eventually, she just refused to present any more ideas to him.

But another girl who worked with her wasn't as cagy. She continued to suggest good ideas and the boss kept stealing them. But the girl's ideas got better and better and another executive began to notice it.

He knew her boss well enough to know that the ideas couldn't be his and he realized that the girl must be the one who was contributing them. So he had her transferred to his department. Today, she has a top creative job.

Mary, on the other hand, is still doing clerical work.

How do you protect an idea? Well, obviously, if you can copyright it, so much the better. But some ideas cannot be copyrighted. Then, too, many people don't have the money necessary in any case.

One way to protect yourself is to mail yourself a letter containing a thorough outline of your idea.

When it comes back, keep it unopened. Then, if you ever need it, the postmark on that letter will be proof that you thought of the idea first.

However, this kind of proof is rarely needed. The person who is in the habit of thinking up good ideas accomplishes so much in the way of personal development that things open up for her. She soon finds herself in a better job.

If this is your problem, do remember that, in the last analysis, nobody cheats us but ourselves. Keep dreaming up ideas and you'll carve a good job for yourself!

Nightclub Success Is Secondary to Motherhood

Roberta Sherwood Puts Sons First

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Miss Roberta Sherwood—the 43-year-old, size 18, spectacled and spectacular new success in the realm of nightclub singers—is sitting on a drab hotel sofa when you walk in to ask her how it feels to be famous.

After 16 years of children-raising and 4 years of nursing a sick husband, how does it feel to be a $2,500 a week celebrity?

"Well, it's nice to be paying your bills," she says quietly, "and to get that feeling of security. Outside of that, nothing changes, thank God."

Miss Sherwood, who is currently establishing bright new records in the dim blue Copacabana Club, might easily be taken for an eighth grade civics teacher lured to the wicked city on a dare. Except she doesn't talk like a teacher, or like a celebrity either.

"It's like all these housewives who write to me and say they're so glad I'm getting somewhere because it proves you don't have to be young and beautiful to get somewhere. They say they've had a talent all their lives, and maybe I've inspired them to use it."

Miss Sherwood smiles gently. "Well, honey, what I always tell them is when you can look at your children and you see you've raised a good citizen or a good wife or husband for somebody else's children, you've done enough.

MAINLY A MOTHER

"I guess I'm mainly a mother. And when you're used to bein' a mother, the rest of it is all second."

★ ★ ★

At her home in Biscayne Park, near Miami, Fla., Roberta's sons—Donald Jr., 16, Jerry 13, and Robert, 8—take care of themselves and their father, Don Lanning, who became a semi-invalid after a lung cancer operation four years ago.

Since her overnight fame a year ago, she has had to travel to sing at the fancter nightclubs—but never for more than six weeks at a time.

"You wonder all the time what they're doin'," she says, "where they're goin,' what they're eatin.' I'm glad all this happened, sure I am, because I love to sing and we needed the money, but you get homesick."

And when she returns to Biscayne Park, she once again cooks all the meals, mends all the jeans, does all the housework, waits till Thursdays and gets all the supermarket "specials." She even does all the cooking for herself on a hot-plate in her New York hotel, between shows.

"I guess," she says, "I slide into housework easy."

Born into a show business family, Roberta was a beautiful torch singer in her 20s, but she never got beyond small Miami bistros.

Since her "discovery" as a middle-aged matron who can belt a song better than the young chanteuses, many so-called experts have tried to glamorize her. They suggest designer-made dresses, cut low, to dramatize her ample figure.

HARD TO RESIST

"It's hard to resist at times," she admits, "but I don't believe in buyin' $1,000-dresses. If you get a $1,000 one this year, it's a $2,000 one next year, and I don't want to cultivate an appetite beyond my reach. I haven't done that—not ever. I buy my clothes here and there in stores, and I think I look neat enough."

A curious combination of frugality and generosity, Miss Sherwood always bundles up her baskets of flowers—sent her constantly by admirers—and takes them by taxi to a home for the indigent.

Then she buys herself a half-dozen tulips on a street corner, complaining—"You could almost go to Holland and pick 'em, the prices they want."

Her prize possession in her temporary home is a telegram, tacked neatly to the mantel, which reads: "With your talent and goodness and our love, you can't miss. (signed) Your Four Men."

Catholics Hail Pope's Ease-Up on Fasting Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pope Pius XII's relaxation of regulations concerning communion fast and evening Mass should result in "a new era of spirituality among Catholics of the world," American church sources say.

The papal decree, announced yesterday, empowers Roman Catholic priests to celebrate evening masses daily "so long as it is required for the spiritual welfare of a considerable number of people."

The new rules also require abstinence from solid food and alcoholic drinks for only three hours before attending Mass and receiving Holy Communion. In the past, the pre-communion fast ordinarily was observed from midnight of the day on which it was to be received.

The National Catholic Welfare Conference said yesterday "there is every indication" many U. S. dioceses will quickly put the new relaxation into effect.

Radioactive Deposits Discovered in India

BOMBAY (AP) — Indian Atomic Energy Department sources said today huge deposits of radioactive minerals have been discovered in northeast India.

The sources declared the deposits could be the largest in the world and said the discovery was considered more important than the deposit of atomic materials on the shores of Travancore, southern India.

Senators Report Demands From Voters for Economy

'Snowed Under' by Mail: Mundt

Letters Calling for Cut in Budget Total More Than All Other Topics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Mundt (R-SD) and H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said today that they are convinced there is a genuine groundswell in the country for federal government economy.

And Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said both the administration and Congress must "face up" to cuts in the budget to provide a general tax reduction he said should be made next year.

Mundt, many of whose constituents are farmers, said he is being "snowed under" by demands in his mail for cuts in President Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget.

"For the first time since I've been in the Senate," he said, "my mail from people advocating economy is heavier than all of the appeals for special funds put together. It's amazing how the idea has swept across the country that the budget must be cut."

Smith, who represents many city and small town dwellers, said the same thing is happening in his mail.

"The people who want the budget cut are sending me more letters than the combined total of those dealing with other subjects," he said.

"Sen. Byrd (D-Va), who has advocated a 6½ billion dollar cut in Eisenhower's budget, said he also feels that his long campaign for government economy is likely to bear some fruit this year," Smith added.

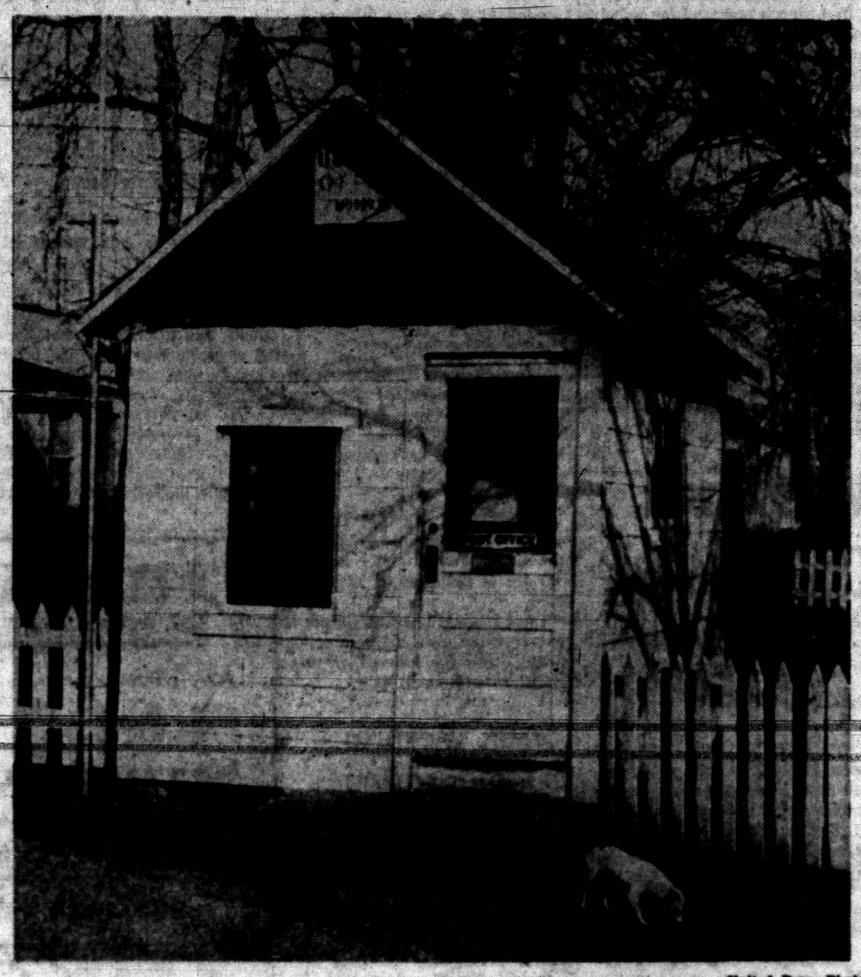

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said this is the last time Congress can be expected to continue in effect the high corporation and excise taxes tacked on during the Korean War and extended yearly.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) told a television audience (ABC Press Conference) yesterday he expects a tax cut next year, especially for individuals.

Bridges, senior Republican on the Senate Appropriations Committee, said he is hoping for a $3,300,000,000 cut in the requested budget and added he will be "disappointed if we fail to cut at least 2½ billions."

He said both military and foreign aid spending could be reduced.

NO DOGHOUSE — It's hard to blame this pooch if he mistook this building in Muddy, Ill., for a doghouse. After all, it's a pretty natural mistake at that, although the building is a United States post office. Reportedly one of the smallest in the country, the post office is, nevertheless, one of the busiest places in the town with the unusual name. Only nine by 11 feet in size, the office serves some 150 persons with three mail calls a day.

Hotel Manager Wins Battle of Nerve—Cash

DENVER (AP) — A nervy night manager showed an empty cash drawer to an armed gunman to foil an attempted stickup of the Brown Palace Hotel in downtown Denver last night.

When the robber told him "This is a stickup," F. S. Bingenheimer, 60, opened a drawer he knew to be empty. The two exchanged glares. Then the gunman fled.

Missing Coed Found in Bay City—Studying

BAY CITY—A Univeristy of Michigan coed who vanished from the Ann Arbor campus Thursday turned up safe and sound at her home here late Saturday and blamed it all on the pressure of mid-semester examinations.

Jan P. Lapin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lapin, said she spent two days at a Bay City hotel studying for examinations. "I never dreamed anyone would report me missing" she said.

Believe Red Sub Contact on Increase in Atlantic

ARGENTIA, Nfld. (AP) — Adm. Jerauld Wright, chief of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet, says "there has been an increase in recent years of contacts we think are Russian submarines" in this ocean.

Wright, who is also supreme Allied commander for the Atlantic, was interviewed while visiting this American air-sea base for an inspection of the airborne early warning system the Navy calls "Barrier Atlantic."

Newsmen's questions were based on recent statements by Navy officials that the size of the Russian undersea fleet now may be 450 to 500 vessels, far greater than the huge submarine force once operated by Germany. Adm. Felix Stump, Pacific Fleet commander, recently reported evidence of an upsurge of Soviet submarine strength in that ocean.

Wright said that in the last few years there has been "a definite increase in their cruising to deep water." Apparently referring to the detection devices of the antisubmarine surface and air patrols maintained in the Atlantic, the admiral added that "we pick them up every now and then."

Wright's comments followed by a few days his announcement at Norfolk, Va., that a new, over-all antisubmarine command for the Atlantic Fleet, headed by Vice Adm. Frank T. Watkins, has been formed. In that announcement, Wright said that "the possibility of submarine-launched guided missile attacks against the United States is a problem of the utmost national importance."

★ ★ ★

Over the weekend, the Navy permitted newsmen for the first time to see and describe some of the details of "Barrier Atlantic," the air-sea early warning system set up primarily to sound an alarm against approaching Russian nuclear bombers. Operating in the same area are other planes assigned to antisubmarine duty. The radar picket ships of the Barrier Atlantic also do double duty as submarine-detection craft.

The system has been in operation since last July. In that time the huge "flying radar stations" — long-range Lockheed Constellations equipped with new and complex electronic equipment — have run up a total of about 1,000 missions and cumulative flying distance of approximately 2½ million miles.

Operating at an altitude of about 10,000 feet while on station the radar of the aircraft can cover an area of about 45,000 square miles in its constant scanning of the skies for unidentified planes headed for the United States. The range of the radar is given officially at "distances well over 100 miles."

Officials here indicated the anti submarine capabilities of forces in these waters are being augmented. The ships are converted destroyers, manned by a dozen officers and about 150 men.

State Lags Behind on Savings Bonds

Although nation-wide sales of Series E and H U. S. Savings Bonds set a peacetime record in January, Michigan lagged far behind, the U. S. Treasury Dept. disclosed today.

Throughout the country, sales of $25 and $50 bonds were higher in January than any month since early 1946. Tabulations show that 5,382,000 bonds of $25 denomination were purchased and 1,896,000 of the $50 bonds. This was 3 per cent and 6 per cent higher than the January, 1956 totals.

But Michigan January-February sales were a disappointment to the Treasury. In the two months, $46,898,000, of the Series E and H bonds were sold, a decline of $18.9 million from the record of $65.81 million sold in January-February of 1956.

U.S. Marines Land on Luzon

Philippine Beach Sees Peacetime Exercises by Ships of 7th Fleet

BINGALAN BAY, Philippines (AP) —Thousands of U. S. Marines in full battle gear and war camouflage hit the beach here early today in the largest American amphibious training exercise in the Pacific since World War II.

Under protective cover of Navy and Marine Corps jet aircraft, the first wave of combat-clad Marines jumped onto the dark brown sand on the east coast of Luzon Island some 60 miles northeast of Manila.

The Marines, first of some 20,000, were shuttled ashore by landing craft from a massed armada of 92 ships of the U. S. 7th Fleet.

The operations — a test of American military and naval mobility in time of war — are under the over-all command of Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley, 7th Fleet commander.

Camouflage-helmeted Leathernecks of the 9th Marine Regiment splashed ashore and drove inland. Helicopters flew Marine units to key positions along the route of the advance up the jungled Coronel River valley.

The operations, dubbed "Exercise Beacon Hill, will go on until Thursday. Troops and equipment will begin re-embarkation over the weekend.

Faith, Hope Restore Use to Lame Limbs

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Faith, hope and medicine make a wonder formula for many seemingly hopeless cripples, a physician declared today.

It often brings back crippled limbs whose muscles have wasted from disease or accident, said Dr. George J. Boines of Wilmington, Del.

★ ★ ★

The patient's faith and hope are vital ingredients, he said. The medicine takes many forms, including special exercises and physical therapy to regain control of useless limbs.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Boines described methods and results in an exhibit at the opening of the ninth annual Scientific Assembly of the American Academy of General Practice, the organization of family doctors.

★ ★ ★

Muscle failure caused by polio, cerebral palsy, injury, multiple sclerosis and other conditions can and should be treated energetically, he said. And such crippling "should never be regarded as incurable."

A first step is to correct any coexisting problems such as anemia, dietary faults, diabetes and anxiety.

The comes physical therapy and exercise, often with the aid of braces and crutches. All the time, the patient is making a determined effort to help himself.

Dr. Boines cited some examples:

A 25-year-old woman was regarded as incurable, with no hope of ever walking, after a brain injury in 1954. Today she walks with canes and a foot brace, is earning a living by teaching school.

A girl of 18, crippled by polio as a baby, couldn't walk because of a deformed left knee and leg. A year later she was walking with a foot brace, afterward discarded it. She's now a schoolteacher.

Plan Council to Aid Youths

Area Parents to Form Group for Assistance to Handicapped

The 60 parents who met in Pontiac Friday have agreed to form a Parents Council for Handicapped Children and will meet on April 3 at Mark Twain School to organize formally.

Principal speaker will be Grant Wilson, executive secretary of FAR (Friends and Relatives of Handicapped Children).

Representatives of several organizations devoted to the handicapped attended the Friday meeting. Among them were: H. E. Evans, Oakland County Citizen's Committee for Special Education; Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh, of FAR; and Howard Palmer, of Birmingham Assn. for Handicapped Children.

The assembly agreed to open membership to anyone interested in handicapped children in Oakland County, rather than limit itself to Pontiac.

It also decided to concern itself with all types of handicapped children and to work for improved conditions and opportunities for them in school and in adult life.

Milk Drinkers Seek to Curb Coffee Sippers

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Two officials proposed that Milwaukee County stamp out the coffee break, contending the practice by county employes is costing the taxpayers one million dollars a year.

★ ★ ★

The curb was asked by Anthony Romano, of the Civil Service Commission, and C. Stanley Perry, corporation counsel. They said they drank milk.

Women's Club Ends Efforts

Clarkston Group Aids Independence Through Hard Work

FLOYD ANDREWS

MRS. P. SMITH

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The Women's Club of Clarkston has completed the work on the Independence Township Library. The building which originally was built in 1925 as an emergency school building, was sold when the high school was built on Waldon road. It was used as a dwelling for several years and then sold back to the township again to be used as a school. The building had been vacant since the Elementary School was built on Waldon road.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Don Stackable, the Women's Club undertook the job of establishing a library. With Mrs. Stackable spark-plugging the venture, the township board was persuaded to permit the use of the building, which is located next to the Community Building. Redecorating was done by members of the Women's Club while their husbands and members of the Pioneer's Club put up the shelves.

Donations of a good assortment of quality books began to come in, Mrs. Philip Smith and her committee worked at her home cataloging and organizing the donations, using the Dewey Decimal system. When the books were ready, they were transported by sled down the hill to the road, a snowstorm having made the drive way impassable.

The library was opened February 16, 1955, with 500 books. It now has 3,000 good books some of which have been purchased by the club. There are 300 books from the Michigan State Development Program. The Pioneers Club has a shelf which they maintain. The Girl Scouts are preparing to set up a shelf for their own use.

MRS. E. SMITH

Mrs. Esther Smith is the Librarian. She is on duty during the hours the library is open. The original board is still functioning. Mrs. Philip Smith is president. Other members of the board are Mrs. Robert Phillips, Mrs. Harold O'Neal and Mrs. Don Stackable.

Floyd Andrews, township supervisor, says approximately $2,000 has been spent on aluminum siding and other repairs to the outside of the building. Donations of money and Memorial Funds have helped to meet expenses.

A collection of oil paintings by Artist Henry Vander Velde of La Gona Beach, California, has been loaned to the library. They consist of several sea scapes and scenery.

Mrs. Stackable says good quality books are still welcome. Any one wishing to donate to the library, may call her and she will be glad to pick up the books.

Library hours at present are: Monday, 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday, 3:30 p.m. to 6 p.m.; Saturday mornings, 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

The newly equipped library that has been completed through the efforts of the Women's Club of Clarkston will serve all residents of Independence Township. The books for the building have been donated by groups and individuals of the community.

Pact Binds Europe in Common Market

ROME (AP) — Six statesmen of Western Eruope bind their nations today to a common market from the North Sea to the Adriatic.

Treaties providing for the common market and its allied "Euratom" atomic pool plan will be signed in the Campidoglio, Rome's ancient city hall, by West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The two pacts are probably the greatest stride yet toward European unification.

Parliaments of the six countries will have to ratify the pacts. Even enthusiastic supporters estimate it will take 12 to 17 years to read-adjust national economies so that the goods can flow unhindered.

The plan also calls for a unified tariff system oh imports from outside the six-nation area.

Auburn Heights Community Club Slates 2 Events

The party will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the club house, 220 South Squirrel. Contributions of clothing and household items are being taken for the sale, which is scheduled for April 13. Donors are asked to call FE 2-5724 or FE 7-0194, for pick-up.

Officers to Appear at Father-Son Dinner

Police officials will present a program before a PTA father and son banquet 8:30 tonight at Rochester Junior High School.

Scheduled to appear at the banquet is Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons, Depty Stephen Navarre, safety director; Bruce Welch, identification and crime photography expert; and Gerry Taffel, of the Pontiac State Police Post.

Navarre will show two movies entitled "Traffic Safety," and "Swimming for Survival," while Taffel will present a film of the riot at Jackson Prison. Welch will explain the process of criminal identification.

Webster School Hit by Vandal Damage

Webster School personnel were busy this morning sweeping up and piecing together items which vandals had upset after they broke into the building sometime Saturday or Sunday.

Although total damage had not been estimated, $15 in postage stamps was the only item reported stolen.

Mrs. Howard Hess, secretary, said a 60 inch desk was turned up-side-down, an electric typewriter was thrown on the floor, the money packager was badly damaged and a flower pot was thrown against the master clock. All drawers were emptied.

Joe Steenson, 194 Josephine Ave., custodian of the school, discovered the vandalism about 5 p.m. yesterday and reported it to police.

Business Ladies Club Sets Rotunda Meeting

KEEGO HARBOR — Members and guests of the Business and Professional Womens club will meet for dinner at 6:30 p.m. at the Rotunda Inn on Monday, March 25.

A program on safety and health has been planned for the evening. Keego Harbor Chief of Police, Richard Hurtubise and Steve Navarre, Oakland County safety director will be the speakers and an open discussion will be held on these subjects.

Start Plans for Tea

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Plans for a Membership Tea will be formed at a meeting of the Membership Commission of Commerce Methodist church to be held at 8 tonight in the home of Mrs. Edward A. Beaupre, 4233 Bluebird. A social half hour will precede the meeting.

Co-chairmen of the tea are Mrs. Terry Snidecor and Mrs. Howard North. The tea will be held on April 14, to welcome new members into the church.

To Settle Park Situation

2 Propositions on Ballot

OXFORD — Last fall the Township Board appointed a committee who investigated and studied the needs and purposes relating to the continuance and operation of the Township Park at Stoney Lake.

★ ★ ★

The committee recommended that the area be retained as a park, and be properly maintained for residents of Oxford Township and their guests.

In line with the recommendations the Township Board has placed two propositions on the April 1 election ballot.

The first allows any registered elector in the township to cast his vote to increase the tax rate limitation to provide for the levy of not more than three-fourths of one mill of the assessed valuation, as equalized, to provide for the upkeep, maintenance and support of the Township Park.

The second proposition, only those who have property assessed for taxes within the Township will vote on. This is the vote that actually levies the three-fourths mill for the Park operation.

Both propositions must carry or both fail. A "Yes" vote on only one would mark failure to the Park program.

MRS. CHARLES SCHROEDER

Patricia West became the bride of Charles Schroeder in St. Pauls Lutheran Church on March 16 at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Harold Luke performed the ceremony. Mrs. Maxine Wille and Jerry Deppong were matron of honor and best man. A reception was held for 300 guests.

Independence Group Sets Public Meeting

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The Civic League is here once again sponsoring a meeting where the public will have a final opportunity to meet all of the candidates running in the general election on April 1st. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, at the Independence Township Hall and will begin at 8 p.m.

Robert Martin, publicity chairman for the League, states that this meeting will be conducted along the same lines as the meetings held prior to the primary election, with a period for audience participation. The "write-in" candidates from the primary election will be introduced for the first time.

In addition, the proposition to be placed on the April 1 ballot for a township recreation program will be discussed. It is stressed that all residents of the township are urged to attend.

Refreshments will be served.

Preoccupation Important Cause of Auto Accidents

CINCINNATI (AP)—A man who argued with his wife at breakfast or is pondering the best way to hit his boss for a raise is a bad bet behind the wheel of a car.

"It takes fulltime occupation, and no preoccupation, to drive a car," says A. E. Kimberly, chief engineer of the DeSoto Divisions of the Chrysler Corp.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Cincinnati Society of Automotive Engineers here today, Kimberly said:

"The majority of drivers are involved in accidents because they are pre-occupied."

Most accidents, the big ones, "are caused by the excellent drivers, you and me," he said.

Automotive engineers can take care of the handling, maneuverability, braking ability and comfort of a car, Kimberly said, but "We cannot design against the human element."

The next important step in motoring safety, he said, will be "attempting to understand the attitudes and personal problems which affect the driver."

Voters Await Open Meeting

Citizens of Commerce to Get Information on Road Repairs

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — An open meeting to inform voters of all aspects of the proposed road improvement program will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Commerce Township Hall, 2840 Fisher Ave.

All property owners and 16 civic organizations of Commerce Township have been invited to attend the meeting.

Ewald E. Schaffer, head of the township Road Study Committee, will explain the proposed road improvement program in its entirety. The current proposal stems from a lengthy study of the township roads made by the special committee.

James L. Gardner, township supervisor who retires from that post on April 1, will present the township's present position in regard to the road situation.

The proposal calls for a tax levy of four mills on assessed valuation which amounts to two mills on equalized valuation. The tax increase would be in effect for a five-year period, if approved.

To acquaint property owners with an approximate cost of the project, Schaffer said the tax hike would amount to $12 each year for a home assessed at $3,000, the equivalent of $4 per thousand of assessed valuation.

Four heavily traveled roads — Oakley Park, Glengary, Benstein and Carroll Lake — appear definitely earmarked for improvement.

Troy Blood Bank Being Planned

Organizational Session to Be Held Tuesday at High School

TROY — Mrs. Fred E. Latta and her committee are calling a meeting at Troy High School on Tuesday at 8 p.m. to discuss organization of a Troy Community Blood Bank. It will be under the auspices of Mrs. Earl Cannon of Birmingham who is the area chairman of the Red Cross Blood program.

At the meeting, Troy High School will show two films "Prescription for Life" and "River of Life."

Mrs. Walter Huff and Mrs. Lauren Ford will be co-chairmen for the meeting. Speaker will be Mrs. Mildred Bennett, Executive Director of the Oakland County Chapter of the Red Cross.

It is felt that it would be of great advantage for the Troy area to have a Red Cross Blood Bank, thus making it possible to have blood available to residents, as needed, without cost.

A mobile unit will visit Troy on August 6. All residents of the area between the ages of 18 and 59, who are in good health, may give blood.

"Once having deposited blood, it may be withdrawn at the direction of the donor for himself or relatives," Mrs. Bennett said.

When asked for her recipe of longevity, Mrs. Eddington said that she has always and still likes to take long walks.

She stated that she can remember the days when the roads between Orion and Pontiac were so rough that you wouldn't dare attempt a round-trip in one day.

Filipino Can Wax Eloquent or Put Across Point Bluntly

MANILA (NEA) — When the new president of the Philippines, Carlos P. Garcia, visited the United States in 1954, he called on his old friend, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in his New York hotel apartment.

"Hello, Carlos," said MacArthur. "Last time I saw you you, were covered with mud."

For nine years he was Governor of Bohol, his home island, and represented the Province as a congressman and a senator before the Japanese invasion.

SERVED IN WAR

During World War II he served as a psychological warfare aide for the Filipino guerrillas, keeping the civilians informed on guerrilla activities and in a mood to help the resistance fighters.

The Japanese put a price on his head. One Japanese actually did capture him.

"We are looking for Sen. Garcia, can you help us?" the Jap said.

'OLD ENEMY'

Garcia replied, "I'd like to get my hands on that so-and so myself because I've been his enemy for years."

The soldier released him.

In 1945 he served as a member of Gen. Carlos Romulo's Philippine delegation to the United Nations Conference in San Francisco and later went to Washington to push war claims for his country.

When he returned to the Philippines he resumed his seat in the Senate and in 1946 he became minority floor leader. Newspaper reporters four times voted him the outstanding member of that body.

WRITES POETRY

Garcia was nominated by the Nationalist party to be President Magsaysay's running mate in 1953. He is an excellent campaigner and likes to lace his speeches with his own poetry. Much of his poetry has been published by newspapers.

After their victorious campaign, Garcia was named as foreign minister, a post he will continue to hold for the time being along with the presidency.

An ardent foe of communism and a friend of the U.S., Garcia at the Geneva Conference in 1955 told Communist China's Chou Enlai: "The muse of history will render the final verdict: America started the liberation of Asian peoples, not only in the Philippines but in all Asia."

DENY RUMORS

Rumors that Garcia did not have the full support of the former Philippine chief in his conduct of foreign policy have been denied by Philippine spokesmen. Ambassador Romulo said in Washington that Garcia "stood four square behind the policies of Magsaysay."

The new president has no personal wealth. He does not even own an automobile. He lives in a typical modest Filipino home made of native wood with a corrugated iron roof and wooden flooring put over a concrete slab. His 23-year-old daughter Linda is single and works in a bank to help the family's finances.

Garcia will drink at parties but rarely touches alcohol otherwise. He is a great naturalist and health fan, although he is a chainsmoker. He does calisthenics daily. During Lent he fasts for 15 days to keep his weight down as well as provide religious satisfaction.

His most recent visit to the United States was in 1954, while on a world tour of Philippine missions. Accompanied by his wife and his daughter, Garcia visited President Eisenhower and repledged United States-Philippine harmony.

Whether the 60-year-old president will choose to run to succeed himself in the November election or whether he could win his party's nomination remains to be seen.

Kids Draw Fine Map for Break-In; Lose It

DALLAS (AP) — Gaston Avenue Junior High School authorities found a map last week that started them thinking. It detailed to the last item a plan to break into the school.

Officers said the map was expertly drawn and didn't overlook a single factor . . . except the youth lost it and school officials found it. The boys said the plot wasn't carried out.

The boy was suspended from the school two weeks ago for failing grades.

Judge Demands Cash After Check Bounces

ENGLEWOOD, N. J. (AP)—"Business will be done on a cash basis this time," Magistrate Henry J. Bendheim told Jeremiah Williams as the man dug into his pockets to pay $15 in fines.

Five dollars was for a parking violation; the other $10 for contempt of court for paying the parking fine last week with a rubber check.

1781 Mackinac Island Deed Gift to Clements Library

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A much traveled and faded piece of parchment has come back to a valued spot on Michigan's history shelf.

It's the deed—dated May 12, 1781—by which the British acquired what we know as Mackinac Island from the Chippewa Indians. It was used to transfer the fort known as Fort Michilimackinac from the mainland.

The parchment is now in permanent custody of the Clements Library at the University of Michigan, after a trip from Scotland, where it was found by an English book dealer.

Howard Peckham, director of the library, gives credit to James Shearer II of Bay City and Chicago for return of the document to Michigan. Shearer, a member of the board of the Clements Library Associates, purchased the deed and turned it over to the library.

The deed dates back to capture of Fort Vincennes in 1779 by the American Col. George Rogers Clark, threatening the British forces in Detroit and Michilimackinac (Mackinaw City).

Patrick Sinclair, the English commandant at the northern post, decided to move the fort from the mainland to the island, where the Chippewas maintained a fishing camp.

Gen. Frederick Haldimand, governor of Quebec province, gave Sinclair 5,000 British pounds for the purchase price and two deeds were drawn up for signing by five Indian chiefs.

One of the documents, which are about 18 by 25 inches in sizes, now is in the Dominion archives at Ottawa, where it apparently was forwarded to Haldimand.

The other was kept at Mackinac, where a notary public, John Coates, wrote on it: "Registered in the deed register of Michilima. By me."

Prof. Peckham said, "after registering it, the original may not have been considered important, yet it is the more desirable of the two to us."

After surrender of Fort Mackinac to the Americans in 1796, it is believed the departing garrison took the second deed away or Sinclair may have taken it to Scotland. How it moved around Scotland is not known.

Says Peckham: "The deed is one of those basic documents in our history that ought to be in the state of its origin."

California produces about 94 per cent of the nation's total supply of grapes, about 100 per cent of its raisins, and an estimated 90 per cent of the domestic wine supply.

Call for Help Heard 2,000 Miles Away

Forrest Mason arrived at his oil delivery firm office just in time to hear his local two-way radio crackle a message that Coolidge was buried under 10 to 12-foot drifts of snow and needed help.

Mason contacted police, who got a message over the state police Teletype to Kansas.

Mason said atmospheric conditions apparently made it possible to receive the long-distance message on his local two-way radio.

Detroit Starts Against Boston on Olympia Ice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Red Wings, winners of the National Hockey League championship, and Montreal's defending Stanley Cup titlists, shape up as the favorites in the opening rounds of the 31st annual post-season playoffs.

★ ★ ★

The Wings, who finished strong to nail down their eighth league crown in the past nine seasons, face the third-place Boston Bruins Tuesday night at Detroit's Olympia in the first game of a best-of-seven Series A playoff.

The Canadiens, having edged Boston for second place, meet the fourth-place Rangers at New York's Madison Square Garden in their Series B opener also on Tuesday.

The regular season was concluded over the week end with several team and individual races decided on the last two nights.

Montreal clinched the runner-up spot Saturday with a 3-0 shutout over last-place Chicago and goalie Jacques Plante captured the Vezina Trophy for the second straight season.

The trophy and a check for $1,000 goes to "the goalkeeper who has played the most games for the team with the fewest goals scored against it." Montreal allowed 155 goals, while 157 goals were charged to Detroit and its goalie, Glenn Hall.

The Red Wings' Gordie Howe won the individual scoring championship for the fifth time with 89 points on 44 goals and 45 assists. His goal output also topped the league. Howe picked up five points as Detroit swept a week-end home-and-home series from fifth place Toronto 5-3 and 4-1.

Howe will receive the Art Ross trophy and $1,000. Teammate Ted Lindsay collected his 30th goal yesterday to boost his scoring total to 85 points, one more than Montreal's Jean Beliveau, the top scorer last season. Lindsay gets $500 as runner-up.

Doug Harvey of the Canadiens also bettered his own record of most assists by a defenseman in one season. Harvey was credited with his 44th Saturday to surpass his mark of 43, set in 1954-55.

The Rangers, who had lost two straight after clinching fourth, bounced back to defeat Boston 4-2 Saturday and rally for three goals in the final period to tie Chicago 4-4 Sunday.

Detroit Drubs Toronto, 4-1

Wing 'Twins' Point Champs

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP) — Ted Lindsay and Gordie Howe, two of hockey's biggest money makers, are $250 richer today as the result of one goal last night.

In a game that meant nothing as far as the standings in the National Hockey League were concerned, the Detroit Red Wings last night drubbed the Toronto Maple Leafs 4-1, and one of the Wing goals was a third period counter by Lindsay that had dollar signs written all over it.

When the veteran left winger smashed a 10-foot blast past Leaf goalie Ed Chadwick at the 3:47 mark of the final period, it meant second place in the NHL scoring derby. The league prize for finishing second is $500.

Not long ago Howe and Lindsay agreed to split their earnings from the league in the scoring department. Since Howe's 89 points won for him the individual title—plus $1,000 from the league—and since Lindsay's 89 points was good enough for second place and $500, the Detroit scoring twins will reap $750 each.

The game itself was a rather dull affair, but it was noteworthy because:

The crowd of 12,955 established a new season home attendance record for the Detroit club. The figure for 35 home games this season is 451,147. The old record, set in 1949-50, was 442,443.

Marty Pavelich scored his first goal in 59 games. The popular gent from the Soo got the tie-breaking goal in the second period, putting the champion Wings ahead to stay. It was his third of the year, and his first on home ice.

And Bill Dineen, who Saturday night against the same Maple Leafs scored a goal for the first time in 24 games, got another to pull the Wings even in the second period.

Dea received the Detroit sports broadcasters' award as the outstanding rookie player. Howe was on the receiving end of three awards: The Frank J. Murphy memorial trophy for leading the club in goal scoring; the Harry A. Gormley trophy for leading the team in scoring (for the sixth time in seven seasons), and the Detroit Hockey Writers' award as the team's most valuable player.

Al Arbour, the bespectacled defenseman who was called up to fill an emergency caused by injuries, got the For'em Club award as the team's unsung hero. The J. M. Citron trophy for sportsmanship went to Alex Delvecchio.

The players' own award, the Dow Award, was given to Coach Jim Skinner. It is given, generally, for the "best theatrical performance" by a member of the organization, and the players voted Skinner's recent scrape with Boston defenseman Fernie Flaman as the tops in that category.

The Red Wings departed for Toledo immediately following the contest. They will remain there until Tuesday, then motor back to Detroit for the Stanley Cup opener here against the third-place Boston Bruins.

SCORING "TWINS"—Ted Lindsay (right) and Gordie Howe (left) finished the regular season of the National Hockey League as the scoring champions. Howe won the individual championship for the 5th time with 89 points and Lindsay was second with 85. The Red Wings begin Stanley Cup action against Boston tomorrow.

Pirates Continue Pace in Grapfruit Circuit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While it's too early to count them out of the picture entirely, indications were today that veteran pitchers Jim Hearn of the Philadelphia Phillies and Hal Jeffcoat of the Cincinnati Redlegs are having trouble getting in condition.

Hearn is 33 and has been kicking around the big leagues for a long time. Jeffcoat is 32. When pitchers reach those ages, managers want them to produce or begin looking around for youngsters.

Both were assigned starting roles in exhibition games yesterday, and neither came through.

The only asset Hearn earned was that he did not permit Dick Stuart, the Pirate rookie who has earned something of a Paul Bunyan reputation by hitting five home runs in exhibition games, to reach first base.

Jeffcoat's ineffectiveness against the Chicago White Sox in Tampa, Fla., was even more pronounced. The Pale Hose slashed 11 hits off Jeffcoat en route to an 8-1 victory.

After losing five games in a row, the Tribe whipped the New York Giants 4-3 in Los Angeles with ace lefty Herb Score allowing just two hits in five innings. Furthermore, top reliefer Don Mossi put out a fire in the ninth and muscular Vic Wertz slammed a three-run homer — a performance calculated to put any manager's mind at ease, especially one who hopes to give the New York Yankees a run for the American League pennant.

Two shutouts were turned in during the day. Tom Morgan and Tom Gorman, a couple of Yank castoffs, combined to whitewash the Washington Senators, 4-0, for the Kansas City A's at West Palm Beach, Fla. They held the Nats to one hit — a single by Eddie Yost off Morgan.

Sam Jones, Willard Schmidt and Hoyt Wilhelm hung up the Milwaukee Braves, 1-0, at St. Petersburg. Jones went the first seven innings, the longest stretch of the spring for a St. Louis Cardinal pitcher.

Houghton Skier 2nd in Harriman Races

She covered the women's slalom course in 118 seconds on two runs to wind up just two seconds behind Inger Bjoernbaaken of Oslo, Norway.

Austria's handsome Toni Sailer, 22-year-old Kitzduhel plumber and 1956 Oylmpic Gold Medal winner won the men's downhill yesterday. Sailer recorded a 77.2 and 78.4 for a total of 155.6 seconds in the two-heat slalom event.

Lakeview's 76 points against Kalamazoo Christian in the Class C title game set a new single game scoring record for one team in a state final. The combined total of 144 equalled the mark set by Stephenson and Detroit St. Andrew last year.

Celtics Qualify for NBA Finals

Boston Sweeps Series With Syracuse to Go Against St. Louis

BOSTON (AP) — The rampaging Boston Celtics — blessed with the greatest rookie tandem in National Basketball Assn. history—today eyed favorably the prospect of meeting St. Louis in the playoff finals.

With its pressure-loving first year men Bill Russell and Tommy Heinsohn in key roles, the Celts defeated Syracuse 83-80 yesterday for a three-game sweep of their semifinal series.

After St. Louis edged Minneapolis 106-104 yesterday on Bob Pettit's 11 points in the final five minutes to take a commanding 2-0 lead in the best-of-five series, the Celtics were happy. The Hawks and Lakers meet again tonight.

Negaunee Stuns Harper Woods

Heights' Win No Surprise

By BILL CORNWELL

EAST LANSING — To the surprise of no one, Muskegon Heights won the Class A state high school basketball championship for the 2nd consecutive year.

The Heights, with giant Ed Burton and underrated Ron Robinson in the driver's seats, relentlessly ground out a 61-49 decision over Detroit Austin Catholic Saturday night at Jenison Fieldhouse.

It also came as no great shock that tiny Chassell from Michigan's Upper Peninsula repeated as the state's Class D king with a 58-50 win over Stevensville, the pride of Berrien County.

The nearest approach to an upset of the form chart, if there is such a thing in topsy-turvy tournament competition, happened in classes B and C.

Burton, a lumbering 6-foot-6 center who has no peer as a rebounder, and Robinson, one of the state's most overlooked players, sparked the Heights to its 27th straight victory and 3rd title in four years.

Trying to beat the Heights is a discouraging task. The Tigers are just like a machine as they methodically pile up points. Their opposition fights with every ounce of strength it can muster, yet the best it can do is fall further and further behind.

Not even Dave DeBusschere, Austin's brilliant center, could save the outmanned Friars. DeBusschere, whose "clutch" shooting against East Detroit Friday night put Austin in the finals, captured scoring honors with 27 points.

It was DeBusschere's two free throws in the last two seconds of play that tied East Detroit and enabled the Friars to go on and oust the favored Shamrocks in overtime.

Negaunee was the surprise of the tournament. Giant-killers all the way, the Miners sidelined defending champion Stephenson in the regionals, then disposed of mighty Big Rapids, Lansing Resurrection and Harper Woods to give the Upper Peninsula its 2nd state title for 1957. UP teams won three crowns last year.

The Miners, semifinalists here two years ago before losing to eventual champion River Rouge, were not to be denied this trip. Harper Woods, which eliminated Walled Lake in the semis, boasted superior height, but was outhustled by the boys from across the straits.

Chassell's triumph was its 39th in a row and 25th this season. Stevenville, four times a 'D' champ, was seeking to uphold the great Berrien County tradition. Berrien teams have won 24 state titles, far more than any other county in Michigan.

Keating Also Stars

Jones Shines in Relays

Pontiac's Hayes Jones was the outstanding individual performer and former Waterford High star Kerry Keating helped his relay team set two new records as Eastern Michigan College dominated the Livingston Relays at Grandville, Ohio Saturday night.

Jones won both hurdle races to become the only double winner of the all-day event and finished with a high total of 14½ points by adding a 2nd place in the broad jump and a tie for 5th in high jump.

His 6.8 seconds time in the 55-yard high hurdles equalled the fieldhouse record at Denison University. Hayes won the low hurdles in 6.4 seconds.

Only a record-setting broad jump of 24 feet, 1¼ inches by Joe Hamilton of Hanover, prevented the ex-Chief from sweeping that event with his 23 feet, 11 inches. Jones' high jump was six feet, two inches. Brandon O'Reilly of Michigan established a new record in this jump with a leap of six foot, six inches.

Keating was the lead man in both relay events. Eastern took the three-quarter mile in 2:08.8 and the mile in 3:25.6. The Ypsilanti contingent finished with the best overall total of 54 points among 20 schools although there was no team championship awarded.

Jones, Keating and company will now be idle until April 20 when they compete in the Ohio Relays at Columbus.

Other records were set Saturday by Michigan shot put great Dave Owen, 55 feet, 7¾ inches; Ira Murchison of Western Michigan, 5.7 seconds in 55-yard dash; and Western Michigan with a two mile relay time of 7:08.3.

Bradley Has Stars All Returning

NIT Champs Loom as '58 Powerhouse

NEW YORK (AP)—If Bradley isn't among the topflight college teams next season a lot of basketball experts will be surprised.

The Braves from Peoria, Ill. won the championship of the 20th annual National Invitation Tournament Saturday by nipping "dark horse" Memphis State 84-83 on Shellie McMillon's three-point play in the last 29 seconds.

Off the form they displayed in their three tourney games against Xavier of Ohio, Temple and Memphis State it is somewhat of a mystery how the Braves lost four of their last Missouri Valley Conference games to St. Louis, Houston, Wichita and Oklahoma A&M.

Since their entire squad, including such stars as 6-7 Barney Cable, the 6-5 McMillon, 6-2 Bobby Joe Mason, 6-6 Joe McDade and 6-3 Gene Morse, will be back, the Braves must be favored to win the conference title next year.

Mason, a skinny sophomore, teamed with McMillon and Cable to bring the Braves' their first NIT title. Between them they scored 57 points, Mason with 22, McMillon 18 and Cable 17.

Typical of Bradley's all-around strength was Dick Dhabalt's coolness under fire with the score tied at 77-77. He got four of his eight points then with a set shot and two free throws to make it 81-77 and set the stage for the closing fireworks in the nationally televised game.

Little 5-9 Jack Butcher, "the giant killer" for Memphis State, almost stole the game for the Tennessee underdogs at this point. He sank a jump shot and followed with a pass to Ron Ragan for a layup that tied the score. With 65 seconds left he dribbled in for the basket that apparently won the game.

★ ★ ★

But midnight struck for the valiant Memphis Cinderallas when McMillon came up with his basket and free throw and Bob Swander missed a jump shot in the last five seconds.

Win Wilfong, who scored 31 points for Memphis State, 19 in the second half before fouling out with four minutes left, was named the tourney's most valuable player for his play against Utah, Manhattan, St. Bonaventure and Bradley.

SAGINAW (AP) — Levere Roose of Montague rolled a 615 actual with a 114 handicap for a 729 total to move into a tie for handicap singles lead of the Michigan State Men's Bowling Tournament over the weekend here.

Tar Heels Defy Odds to Win

AP Wirephoto

NCAA CHAMPS — North Carolina's Tar Heels are a jubilant crew after winning the NCAA basketball championship by defeating Kansas 54-53 in triple overtime. North Carolina also had to beat Michigan State in three extra periods in the semi-finals. Holding the cup is coach Frank McGuire.

NCAA Victory Comes After 2 Overtime Games

Spartans Finish Fourth by Losing, 67-60, to San Francisco

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The North Carolina Tar Heels defied the percentagers and odds to win their first NCAA major college basketball championship by beating the Kansas Jayhawks 54-53 in a triple-overtime Saturday night.

Playing before a jam-packed crowd of 10,500, most of them pro-Kansas, Coach Frank McGuire's Tar Heels stretched their one-season all-victory record to 32 games. A night earlier they had gone three extra 5-minute sessions in beating Michigan State 74-70 in the semifinals.

The final game of the NCAA's 19th tournament was a championship test between teams rated No. 1 and No. 2 in The Associated Press poll of sportswriters and sportscasters. And it finished according to the script.

A brief scuffle in the second overtime involving two or three players and both coaches enlivened the proceedings.

The title was decided with six seconds remaining in the third overtime when Joe Quigg, a 6-9 junior from Brooklyn, N. Y., stepped to the line and made two free throws. Kansas had the last shot; but Quigg blocked it.

Wilt Chamberlain, Kansas All-America who was voted the most valuable player of the tournament, was the games' leading scorer with 23 points. Lennie Rosenbluth had 20.

The Tar Heels, who relied on ball control to slow down Chamberlain and the Kansas fast break, got a 4-point lead in the last overtime but let it melt away as the Jayhawks took over at 53-52 with 31 seconds remaining.

Chamberlain edged Rosenbluth by two votes for the most valuable player award. Rosenbluth missed being a unanimous choice for the all-tournament team by only three votes. Others on the team were John Green of Michigan State, Gene Brown of San Francisco and Pete Brennan of North Carolina.

The San Francisco Dons, champions the last two years, defeated Michigan State 67-60 for third place.

Tigers Breeze, 15-3

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—A minor league opponent and a strong wind toward the left field fence did wonders for the Detroit Tigers' battered exhibition baseball record.

Knocking out 16 hits, four of them home runs, the Tigers rolled over the Toronto Maple Leafs of the Class AAA International League 15-3 here yesterday.

The victory brought the Tigers' spring exhibition game record up to five victories and 10 defeats.

Ray Boone, a third baseman who is working on a first base assignment this spring, provided the big blow of the Tigers' onslaught—a grand slam home run in the first inning.

Frank Bolling and Harvey Kuenn each socked a two-run homer and Reno Bertoia slapped out one with the bases empty.

Three rookie Tiger pitchers held the Maple Leafs, champions of the International League last year, to eight hits. The Leafs got all their runs off Chuck Daniel, the first of the rookies manager Jack Tighe sent to the hill. Others who pitched were Hal Woodeshick and Max Simmons.

Despite the outsized final score the Tigers were behind—but only for a short time.

From there Detroit pulled away, scoring two runs in the second, four in the third, three in the fourth and two in the seventh.

Miranda Fined $1,000

Even Pets Needed Visa

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Willie Miranda, fined $1,000 for the dubious honor of being major league baseball's longest holdout, says visa trouble was behind his reporting to the Baltimore Orioles 25 days late.

★ ★ ★

The Cuban told newsmen:

"I got a wife and four kids and a dog and a parakeet, and we all had to get visas. Then we had to get a chauffeur to drive us from Miami to Baltimore and out here, and he had visa trouble.

"And then they had the revolution down there, and everybody had visa trouble."

The 29-year-old Miranda was fined, and simultaneously signed, here yesterday. It was Baltimore's first player fine since the Orioles succeeded the St. Louis Browns in the American League three years ago.

The Baltimore front office said it intends to make the fine stick as an example to other players. Willie thinks differently.

"Nobody likes to lose $1,000," he grimaced. "But you will see. I have a good year and make (General Manager) Paul Richards give me the money back."

Booster Teams Take Spotlight

2 Fort Worth Squads Gain 2nd, 4th Places in ABC Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Most of the excitement in the American Bowling Congress tournament was confined to the booster team division yesterday.

Two Fort Worth teams, the Coin-O-Novelty team and J. G. Gavrel, moved into second and fourth place, respectively.

Coin-O-Novelty posted scores of 898, 914 and 934 for a 2,746 aggregate. Its total was the highest booster team game posted in the first 16 days of the 51-day tournament.

Benny Vereecken, a 25-year-old salesman from Grand Rapids, Mich., took seventh place in both the all-events and singles standings. He rolled up games of 249, 191 and 228 for 668 in the singles. His 1,890 all-events aggregate was concocted of 577, 645 and 668 series.

Four players tied for third at 139 and received $578.50. They are Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill.; Bob Hamilton, Evansville, Ind.; Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Gardner Dickinson Jr., Panama City, Fla.

Maserati Victory Revives Argument

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—A new argument was raging today over which Italian factory—Maserati or Ferrari—produces the toughest cars in the world.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Juan Fangio and Stirling Moss, who are ranked 1-2 among the Grand Prix drivers, flashed across the finish line in just that order to give Maserati a clean sweep of top honors in the race—one of seven in the world in which sports car makers win points toward world championships.

Pontiac Women Pacing All Divisions in Keg Tourney

Pontiac keglers held the lead in every department today following three weekends of action in the annual Women's Bowling Tournament being held at the Dixie Recreation. The event comes to a close next Sunday.

The standings were jumbled around considerably for the 2nd successive weekend in team and singles play but the doubles duo of Mary Toles and Greta Swanson continued its dominance of that division.

They rolled 1259 on the 2nd day of the tourney and have not been threatened since. Closest competition came yesterday when Lorell Verbeck-Fran McCallum posted a 1244 to take over 2nd place.

Huron Bowl's No. 3 team took over the top slot in team play to become the 3rd different pacesetter in that group. The Huron lassies had a 2958 handicap total to surpass the Bucks and Does, Drayton Plains, previous leaders, by seven.

Two city residents took charge in singles dropping former leader Ruth Smith to 3rd. Eleanor Baxter went far ahead with an impressive 725 handicap total which will be hard to beat. The new runnerup is Bette Joyce Reid with 684.

Huron Bowl No. 3 also scored the high actual total for teams with 2364. Bette Joyce Reid had the top tourney games in both actual and handicap with 245 and 288.

Jeannette Mihalak, another newcomer, failed to move in among the singles leaders but went ahead in the race for the all-events trophy with an actual of 1651. She also posted the top series for actual pins with 621.

Defending champions in each division and several of the other outstanding women keglers in Pontiac and surrounding areas will be aiming at the leaders as the titles are decided Saturday and Sunday.

Eden Is Almost Forgotten as Diplomacy Moves On

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Sir Anthony, who tried and failed to solve the Suez crisis by force, is in New Zealand with his wife on an extended vacation. He has had recurring bouts of fever and stomach pains.

The Bermuda meeting between President Eisenhower and Sir Anthony's successor, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, was the first between the heads of the respective governments since early last year, when Sir Anthony and the President met in Washington.

At that time the two leaders pledged that in cooperation with France they would act to defend the peace in the Middle East. They discussed the feasibility of a United Nations force to protect Israeli-Egyptian borders.

Sir Anthony and President Eisenhower offered to aid financially in regard to the Arab refugee problem; they attacked the Soviet Union bloc for shipping arms to the Middle East and thus increasing "the risk of war."

OLD SUBJECTS

They warned newly sovereign nations against being absorbed in the Soviet bloc; against Soviet global domination ambitions; against a feeling that political independence alone could assure men and nations of full opportunity "to pursue happiness and to fulfill their highest destiny."

They reminded people such as Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, the stormy Arab world leader, that the Soviet Union forcibly had incorporated millions of people in the Moscow-controlled empire.

One passage in that document may still haunt Sir Anthony. It was: "We reject any thought that the (East-West) cleavage . . . should be resolved by force. We shall never initiate violence."

The harried Sir Anthony by late October gave the order for the Anglo-French onslaught against Egypt—after Nasser seized the Suez Canal Company, and without consulting Eisenhower.

SHOCKED CRITICS

Sir Anthony was drummed out of office by critics who were shocked at the invasion and by other critics who were appalled that he should order a withdrawal without toppling Nasser.

★ ★ ★

Ben-Gurion in contrast today risks political defeat because he pulled out Israeli troops—without adequate concessions or guarantees from Nasser—after their decisive victory over Egypt.

Elvis Buys New Home

MEMPHIS (AP) — Elvis Presley, rock 'n' roll idol, has bought a $100,000 home in the suburbs for himself and his parents. The present Presley home in Memphis went as partial payment. Elvis, 22, was represented in the purchase by his father, Vernon Presley.

Nehru Suggests Ike, Reds Meet

Discussion Might Lead to Settling Disarmament —Says Indian Leader

NEW DELHI (AP)—Indian Prime Minister Nehru proposed today that President Eisenhower and the Russian leaders meet "face to face" to tackle the problem of disarmament.

Eisenhower on Jan. 2 rejected a proposal by Soviet Premier Bulganin for a big-power summit conference on disarmament. The President said disarmament negotiations should be carried on "within the framework of the United Nations.'

★ ★ ★

Russian and American disarmament proposals "thrown out from a distance' are not enough, Nehru said in opening a foreign policy debate in the lower house of Parliament.

"It is just possible' that a meeting of Eisenhower and the Russian leaders "might lead to something," the Indian leader declared.

Nehru repeated his well-known opposition to military pacts — especially Baghdad and SEATO — but did not mention America's joining the military committee of the Baghdad Pact.

"Military pacts seem to operate on the theory that America or the Soviet Union must extend their influence into smaller countries," he declared.

"Instead of spreading the areas of military pacts, the way to peace lies in keeping hands off," the Premier said.

The crime costs in the U. S. reached an all-time high of $20 billion in 1953, or about 10 times the amount which is given for the support of all of America's churches.

Leaves 10,000 Film Extras Standing in Snowy Alps

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—There are always two sides to every battle, but it's hard for me to believe that John Huston, who is such a painstaking craftsman, would have just walked out on "A Farewell to Arms," leaving 10,000 extras standing in the snowy Italian Alps.

Huston's version is that he was told to leave, and that every day he received long memos from Producer David Selznick, with conflicting statements. The ironical thing is that these two men have always been the greatest of pals, and although they'd often have arguments they'd patch things up quickly.

David, probably because he is a perfectionist, is a hard taskmaster for any director. He wants to write the script, direct, produce and handle the cameras!

Last minute news is that Selznick is trying to get King Vidor, who knows Italy and knows David (he directed "Duel in the Sun" starring Jennifer Jones), to replace Huston.

BECOMES ACTOR

Good looking Jack Entratter, who produces the elaborate revues at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, may very well turn into an actor if his test tomorrow proves all Harry Cohn expects at Columbia.

Frank Sinatra, Jack's buddy, and also a stockholder in the Sands, has asked Jack to play the role of the night club owner in "Pal Joey." Would you say that was type casting?

Jack is a handsome edition of Jack Dempsey, and when they were talking about someone to play Dempsey they said Entratter would be perfect if he were a little younger and could act. Maybe Entratter will prove now that he can act.

CAN'T AGREE

Marilyn Monroe did not turn down "The Brothers Karamazov" because she is expecting a baby (?). Seven months ago she turned down the offer—as eager as she admitted she was to do it—because she and MGM couldn't come to terms on money.

So, impending motherhood — which she refuses to confirm or deny—had nothing to do with it.

Meanwhile, "Brothers" seems to be rolling along toward a strong cast without M.M. Carroll Baker appears to have the role Marilyn wanted sewed up for herself. Eli Wallach is also sought — and, of course, Yul Brynner, hotter than a firecracker these days, is the star.

★ ★ ★

Only a few of Mrs. Otto Preminger's close friends knew she underwent serious abdominal surgery at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. She has been home four days now, and when I telephoned to ask her how much truth there is in the rumor that she and her director-husband will have a showdown when he returns, she said it is ridiculous.

★ ★ ★

"I know it looks bad because we've been separated so long," she said, "but my health has been so poor that I had to come home.

Nixon Finds Friendship While on Tour of Africa

By WILLIAM THEIS

It fully reciprocated the goodwill he carried to the no-longer "Dark Continent" as President Eisenhower's representative on this 19,000 mile tour. And, significantly, it was a product of the great African independence movement rather than of any past dollar favors.

Africa has been getting the short end of the United States stick, both in foreign aid and diplomatic attention. One result of Nixon's visit to eight African countries will be to step up U.S. interest in both categories—but at a pace commensurate with Africa's own development.

The visit of the Vice President and Mrs. Nixon coincided with the birth of the new nation of Ghana, and with the first anniversaries of independence in both Morocco and Tunisia. It fell just two months after the first independence anniversary in the Sudan, six years after Libyan independence and 110 years after still-struggling Liberia declared itself the first free Negro country in Africa.

WANT FREEDOM

In Uganda, still a British protectorate, the Nixons found a people determined to have independence, and have it by 1960 if at all possible. The eighth African country they visited, Ethiopia, is a hereditary monarchy which will fight to retain its independence as it battled Italy in 1935.

The new Africa wants aid, of course. But at every turn it was made clear to Nixon that economic help was the primary need and that no assistance would be accepted from anyone at the price of "foreign domination."

"Free-dom"—with the accent on the second syllable—was the chanted password in the old Gold Coast capital of Accra during Ghana's independence celebration. Elsewhere, the crowds chanted "Nixon" a being synonymous with independence, often linking his name with that of their own liberty leader.

LAST STOP

In Tunisia, last stop of his 22-day trip, Nixon was projected into the middle of the French-Algerian dispute over Algeria's independence drive. Tunisians, sympathetic to the cause of their neighbors, urged the vice president to have the U. S. press for negotiated Algerian independence.

From Arab leaders with whom he talked, Nixon also found that the problem of caring for Arab refugees is the real core of Middle East difficulty. He returned home convinced that the United States and other countries must contribute more to a solution of this vexing question.

He found the countries he visited generally more advanced than he had expected, this usually a product of the colonialism now vanishing. And he confirmed that Washington has known for years but done little about—that Africa deserves higher priority in the U.S. State Department lest America suffer losses, like those experienced in Asia, through similar neglect.

The Buddhist temple of Horyuji Japan, parts of which have stood since 739 A. D., is believed to be the oldest wooden building in the world.

Gives New Twist to Old Sailor Gag

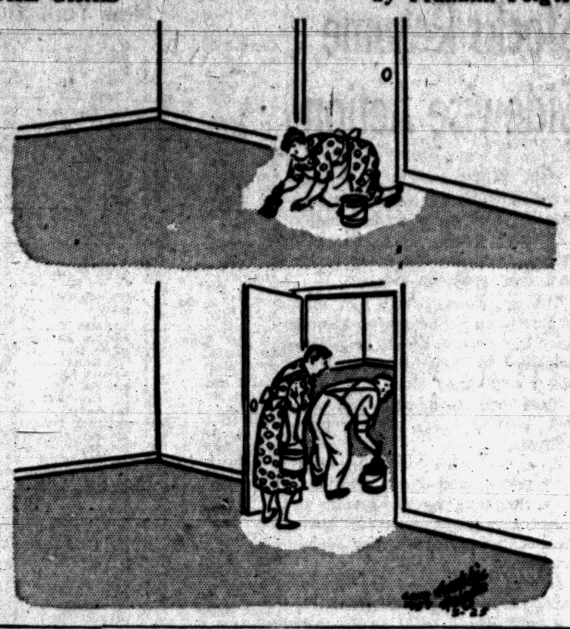

HALIFAX, N.S. (INS) — Margaret Veronica Farewell, 20, gave a new twist today to the old gag about a sailor having a girl in every port. She had a sailor-husband in each of her two apartments on the same street.

The young woman, jailed as a bigamist, had told each of her husbands she had a "twin" sister—just in case there should be an embarrassing meeting. There was.

Stocks Resume Sidewise Action

As a new week began, the market's background of new contained such items as further layoffs by industry, a prospect for still lower steel output and weakening copper prices.

Lukens Steel, however, was an exception to the general trend, rising well over a point as its order backlogs were reported 20 per cent higher than a year ago.

Business Doing Well and Then Roof Fell In

MEDICINE LODGE, Kan. (AP)—"... And then the roof fell in" is an old wheeze, but it's not funny anymore to Ivol Howard, food store manager.

That's just what the roof of his store did. The entire 50x80 ceiling buckled, dropping on shelving and stock, but giving enough noisy warning that he and his customers got out safely.

The store was open for business the next morning, but Howard ruefully admitted "we're in a mess!"

Egypt Replaces Farouk With Eagle on Coins

CAIRO (AP)—The Egyptian government has replaced coins with the effigy of former King Farouk by new ones. The new silver coins bear on one face the sign of the Egyptian revolution — an eagle. On the other side is engraved the amount of the coins and the name of the Egyptian republic.

Also a 25 piasters (about 71 cents) coin commemorating the nationalization of the Suez Canal will be issued soon, says a government official.

Kate Will Be Changed Her Next TV Show

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Being a dieter myself—kind of an old diethard—I take off my hat to Kate Smith, who not only dieted off 100 pounds but is determined to slice off 50 more, much of it before she does her TV spectacular.

★ ★ ★

Conscious of her battle, she says, "Even though I took off 100 pounds, still I'm not skinny!"

Author James Michener of "South Pacific" fame—approached to go on the $64,000 Question (on history or geography)—declined. He also refuses to attempt TV writing. "I just don't have the touch," he told me gravely. (It's encouraging to the rest of us that there's ONE talent he doesn't have.)

★ ★ ★

A special mass was said at St. Malachy's for Fred Allen who died just one year ago. He has grown in greatness since his death. People asked me why there was no observance. Because Portland knew Fred wouldn't have wanted any ostentation.

Concerning the romance of Janette Davis, producer of Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts, and her ass't., Frank Musiello, they've told MANY people they expect to wed. And 'tis said "the new Godfrey" won't object.

★ ★ ★

Joanne Dru flew to L.A. suddenly to see her daughter, a pneumonia victim . . . Phyllis McGuire's again dating Dr. Stanleyl Behrman, who treated her when her jaw was busted . . . Showgal Beverly Richards and singer Tony Foster say they'll wed . . . Fernanda Montel's bragging about her virus—caught it from the Duchess of Windsor in Palm Beach.

Hormel, Wife Return After Las Vegas Rites

LOS ANGELES (AP)—George A. Hormel II, heir to a packing house fortune and his second wife, Kim Wadsworth, 20, North Hollywood, are back after eloping to Las Vegas, Nev.

The marriage was performed Saturday. Hormel, 28, was divorced in 1954 from actress Leslie Caron.

Sorority to Sell Candy to Support Auditorium

Phil's Inn Ruined

Swiss Official Dies by Suicide

Involved in Charges of Spying for France Against Egypt

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — Suspicion that he spied against Egypt for France is blamed for the suicide of Atty. Gen. Rene Dubois.

Dubois got involved in a police probe of espionage at the Egyptian Embassy here. The government emphasized that there was no suggestion he had spied against Switzerland. However, spying against any government is a criminal offense in this neutral country.

A long investigation, initiated in November during the Suez crisis, stemmed from complaints by the Egyptian Embassy that its telephone conversations apparently were being tapped. Federal Police Inspector Max Ulrich, who had access to wire tapping for counterespionage work, was grilled intensively.

The government said there was "some noteworthy evidence that the attorney general himself may have passed information not concerning Siwss affairs illegally to foreign quarters."

Parliament elected him attorney general in July 1955. He was a Social Democrat and received Socialist support in obtaining the post.

Woman's Purse Taken From Pew of Local Church

Mrs. Sophie Brandburn, 2235 Cordell St., Keego Harbor, told Pontiac Police someone stole her black felt purse from a pew in St. Vincent de Paul Church, 197 S. Parke St., while she was in a confessional booth.

The purse, containing $25 and identification papers, was taken between 8:45 and 9:05 Saturday morning.

16-Year-Old Sergeant Still a Bit Premature

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Some day Richard A. Peavy will be old enough to wear a U. S. Army sergeant's uniform, but right now Rockford police don't think he is at only 16.

Officers had a hunch when they saw him wearing it that he wasn't, so they checked and discovered that young Peavy was wearing his soldier brother's uniform, who, at the moment, was in the guardhouse at Fort Sheridan.

Street Has 2 Names

RIGA, Russia (AP) — Visitors to the old frontier town of Valka find a street with two names. Linked at a small bridge which was once the border marker of Latvia and Estonia, this street formerly began in Latvia and ended in Estonia.

Sweet Didn't Penetrate

ELKTON, Ky. (AP) — Bud Knight had a right sirupy bath—but it failed to sweeten his disposition. He tumbled into a tank of molasses while walking through his yard. He had no praise for molasses as a cleaning agent but did say it had possibilities as a hair set.

ONE-MAN INDUSTRY—Hugh O'Brian, star of "The Life and Legend of Wyatt Earp," has scored such a success as the frontier marshal that new he is branching out in other areas of show business. O'Brian's popular Western series is telecast Tuesdays at 8:30 p.m. over ABC.

Adds to Fame as Wyatt Earp

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — A year ago Hugh O'Brian was a young man with a horse and a couple of guns. Today, still a young man, he's an industry.

This is thanks in part to a frontier marshal named Wyatt Earp. It's even more thanks to the way O'Brian has played the role of Wyatt Earp on ABC-TV (Tuesday, 8:30 p.m.).

Popular as Earp is with adult and young viewers, O'Brian is beginning to transcend the character he plays—which is smart business for O'Brian as well as Earp.

"Doing two filmed shows a week for six months is a tough grind," O'Brian said the other day. "But it does leave me six months to get out and meet people."

He's certainly been doing that recently. Personal appearance tours have been taking him to many cities. Three weeks ago he was found singing on the Ed Sullivan Show (CBS-TV).

"Playhouse 90" (CBS-TV) has seen him playing a heavy dramatic role in "Invitation to a Gunfighter." He is being sought for a movie to be filmed in Europe. There even comes word from Washington that he has accepted chairmanship of the National Rifle Assn. firearm safety program.

WESTERN VARIETY

Now, says O'Brian, he has formed his own Western variety show which will play theaters in many cities. The tour will be managed by Col. Tom Parker, who also manages Elvis Presley.

★ ★ ★

A native of Rochester, N. Y., he grew up in Chicago, Lancaster, Pa., and Evanston and Winnetka, Ill. He left the University of Cincinnati in his sophomore year to enlist in the Marine Corps during World War II.

He became a drill instructor and was chosen by the Marines for entry to the Naval Academy at Annapolis. He failed the entrance examination but succeeded in obtaining acting roles in several little theater groups.

A movie contract followed and he appeared in 18 films before he was tapped for the television role of Wyatt Earp. Is there any possibility of Wyatt Earp being made into a movie?

Eye 'Watchdog' for Union Chiefs

Board Would Guard Against Any Misconduct by UAW Leaders

DETROIT (AP)—A plan to set up a non-union board to guard the rights of union members and to keep a sharp eye out for any inkling of wrongdoing by union leadership will be proposed at the United Auto Workers convention next month.

The proposal board, to be composed of prominent jurists, clergymen, educators and attorneys "whose integrity and general acceptance are beyond question," could initiate an investigation of union leadership and would be the last word in disputes between UAW members and the union, Reuther said.

It would be known as the Public Review Board, Reuther said, and its seven members would be selected by the UAW convention.

The board, a unique machinery in the American labor movement would have its own staff, paid by the UAW but not controlled by the UAW, to conduct investigations and compile facts for decisions in membership appeals.

The smaller Upholsters International Union has an outside appeals board, but it has no power to crack down on the union's leaders.

UAW, with almost 1½ million members, is the first major union to come out with such an idea. The Upholsters Union has about 60,000 members.

Dr. Homer L. Hitt, head of the Institute of Population Research, predicts a U. S population of 19 million persons 65 years of age and over by 1970.

Says Elvis Threatened Him

Marine Won't File Protest Against Presley's 'Pistol'

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A lanky young Marine says he doesn't plan to file a complaint with police because Elvis Presley pulled a "pistol" on him.

But Pvt. Hershel Nixon, 18, says he feels the rock 'n' roll singer owes him an apology.

Presley said he whipped out the Hollywood prop pistol Friday night because Nixon tried to pick a fight while the singer was signing autographs for admirers on a midtown street.

Nixon said, "I didn't try to pick a fight and I wasn't drinking. I had no way of knowing the pistol was a toy. . . ."

Presley, 22, said the Marine accused him of bumping into his wife as she walked out of a restaurant about two months ago.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Presley, who returned recently from Hollywood, said he edged away but the Marine followed.

"I told him I didn't know what he was talking about because I had been in Hollywood," Presley said. "Then I thought about that toy gun and I pulled it out. I said, 'You don't want to start trouble with me, do you?'

"I was smiling when I took it out of my coat. Everybody else standing around there knew it wasn't real."

Horseshoe Crab Is Living Fossil

Unchanged for Eons; Ferocious Appearance, Yet Actually Harmless

WASHINGTON — A familiar sight along America's Atlantic beaches is the domelike shells of horseshoe crabs washed ashore in thousands by every incoming tide. This molted armor comes from one of the oddest and oldest creatures known to science.

★ ★ ★

The horseshoe crab — known more formally as Limulus polyphemus — is not a crab at all, but rather a distant relative of spiders and scorpions, says the National Georgraphic Society. Its closest zoological kinship is with the long-extinct trilobites which flourish in the misty dimness of the Cambrian period.

LONE SURVIVOR

Alone of the trilobites, Limulus managed to defy the shifting pattern of evolution. Relatively unchanged, it has outlived the rest of its species by more than 300 million years. With the exception of a handful of small marine organisms, the horseshoe crab is the world's oldest surviving inhabitant — a living fossil.

Although Limulus' ancient forebears ranged most of the coastal areas of the earth, its habitat is now restricted to North America from Maine to Yucatan, with a particular concentration at the mouth of the Delaware River. A cousin thrives off Asia's eastern coast.

Measuring some two feet in overall length, Limulus has a formidable armored shell, six pairs of claw-tipped legs and a wicked, daggerlike tail.

Despite this ferocious appearance, Limulus is virtually harmless: its claws are smooth and weak; its tail is unfit for thrusting. Its only prey consists of tiny marine worms which it forages by cumbrously burrowing through the mud.

ZOOLOGICAL CURIOSITY

Among the features that make Limulus a zoological curiosity are its two distinct pairs of eyes, one a compound, many-lensed type and the other small and simple. The compound set is similar to the eyes of bees and, like them, can see polarized light rays — even ultra-violet and infra-red — which are invisible to humans.

★ ★ ★

Limulus is the only known creature that chews with its legs. Spines, bristling from the bases of four legs, grind and macerate food before it is swallowed. Limulus is also the undisputed royalty of the animal kingdom. Its blood, which contains copper, is sky blue in color.

Settlement Ends Threat of Walkout at DeSoto

Teenage Midget Aids in Crime

2 Safecrackers Admit Using Lad in Entrance to Many Buildings

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Police today blamed a three month series of safecrackings here on two ex-convicts and a 16-year-old midget they used to gain access to buildings by slipping through small holes.

Officers said statements admitting the safecrackings were signed last night by Charles Whitsell Jr., 43-pound, 3-foot-3 Poseyville farm youth, and two Evansville men, Charles Hale, 39, and Charles E. Bodell, 20.

Detective Sergeants Jess Julian and Jack Weber said the teenage midget participated in 25 of the 40 safecrackings which the two men admitted. He squeezed through small openings cut in ceilings and then opened a door for his bigger partners, the officers said.

Hale and Bodell were to be charged today with one of the safecrackings, police said. The boy was to be turned over to juvenile authorities.

Police reported they recovered only $300 of an estimated $18,000 taken in the series of safecrackings that began last December. The burglaries became so common that Mayor J. Vance Hartke canceled leaves and days off for all city policemen.

Police Probe Phone Threat

Caller Tells Witness He'll Strike Back for Rackets Testimony

SEATTLE (AP) — Police are conducting an investigation into a threatening telephone call received by the wife of a witness who testified last week before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee in Washington.

Howard Sylvester, a Seattle insurance and public relations executive, said he has given police the name of an employe of the Teamsters Union whom he believes made the call.

★ ★ ★

Union officials were not available for comment.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Sylvester told the police Saturday about the anonymous telephone call she received Thursday evening. That was the day her husband told the Senate committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) that the Teamsters spent nearly $600,000 in the fight to defeat a right-to-work initiative in Washington state last year. The initiative was snowed under in last November's election.

★ ★ ★

Sylvester also told the committee the union owes him $10,000 for his work in the campaign and that an effort had been made to settle the bill for $1,800.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Sylvester delayed telling police about the telephone call until her husband returned from Washington Saturday night. She said the caller told her: "I just want to tell Howard he is a phoney SOB and he'll be sorry he ever testified and I'll get even with him someday."

Mrs. Sylvester said she recognized the man's voice over the telephone.

Sylvester said today he is sure the man is the same Teamsters Union employe who told him after last fall's campaign he would never get the $10,000 from the union.

Chain Reaction Fire Caused by Quake

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A chain reaction was started by last Friday's convulsive earthquakes that caused a fire—48 hours later.

Asst. Fire Chief Curtis Kirby said the "quake toppled a stack of cartons in the Crown Cork and Seal Co., plant. Unnoticed, the cartons damaged a thermostat and a gas heater became overheated.

An automatic sprinkler system and the city's alert fire department extinguished the resulting fire in 10 minutes yesterday. Kirby estimated damage at about $2,500.

Communist Step Up Criticism, Harassment

Fear Red Plan to Split German Church

BERLIN (INS)—Church leaders in Berlin fear that the stepped-up tempo of East Germany's criticism and harassment of the Evangelical (Lutheran) Church means a determined Communist effort to split the largest religious group in the country.

Until now only the church in divided Germany has been truly all-German. The 14.5 million Lutherans in East Germany and the 24 million in West Germany are members of one church under a single administration — that of Bishop Otto Dibelius in West Berlin.

The recent creation of the job of secretary of state for religious affairs in the East German government is seen as an omen that in the future church leaders in East Germany will be allowed to deal only with the Communist East German government, and not with "outsiders."

The new secretary of state, Werner Eggerath, a veteran Communist and consequently without religious affiliation, takes over his new job April 1. The following weeks will be critical for the church in East Germany.

REVEAL ATTITUDE

A forecast of how Eggerath will treat the church is implied in public statements in East Germany that the church "is just like any other organization."

Church officials in West Berlin take this to mean the church in the East will no longer be allowed direct contact with the church in the West. Just as 'any other organization,' the church would be represented outside the German democratic republic by the Red government's foreign office.

At present, the Red government is avoiding the creation of any church martyrs, but harassment is being carried further every day.

The Communists are incensed because the all-German Evangelical Synod, held in West Berlin early this month, approved an agreement providing for a chaplains' service in the West German army.

Neues Deutschland, official organ of the Socialist Unity Party, interpreted this to mean that church leaders "clearly stand for one state—the imperialist, militarist Bonn State."

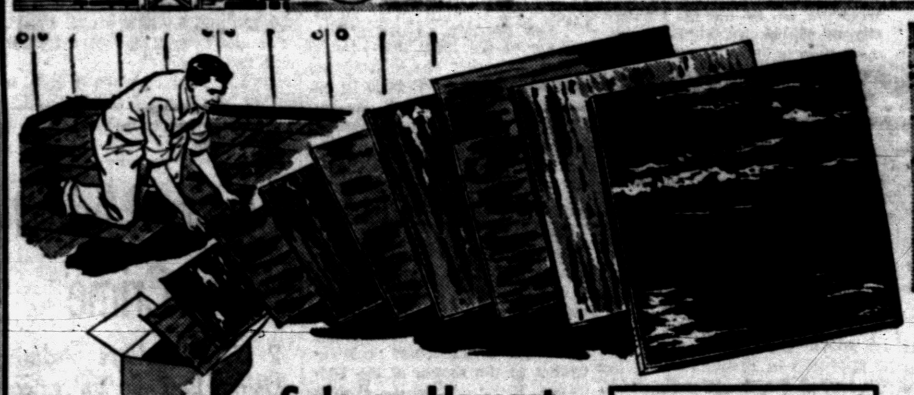

Will Hold Tornado Drill

MT. CLEMENS (AP)—A Civil Defense tornado drill will be held Sunday in East Detroit, which held a successful mass air raid practice evacuation in January. A quarter mile "tornado disaster area" has been marked out and some 3,000 residents are expected to take part in rescue, medical treatment, transportation and communication work.

Australia will borrow $27,000,000 to develop it Qantas Empire Airways, Sydney learns.

Every time prices go up—your real pay goes down. And there's no need for living costs to keep rising. We can do a great deal to stop inflation—simply by saving an extra nickel out of every dollar.

One of the main causes of rising prices is overspending. So the extra nickel each of us saves will put a strong brake on inflation.

For this will produce billions of dollars in savings—money which is urgently needed to finance more factories, homes and schools.

And, of course, you get a personal bonus from your extra savings—the feeling of independence and security that a growing nest egg brings . . . the feeling that your house is in order.

As a second step to fight inflation, all of us should support every reasonable move to reduce government spending—federal, state and local.
