ONE COLOR

The Day the Great General Retreated

At the heart of a conglomeration of George Washington fables which have little basis in fact stands one true incident which gives a real close-up of his character. While the cherry tree adventure is now recognized as a myth, this other, brief, word picture of the Father of the Country serves even better to show him in his true dimensions as a human being.

The Continental Congress was in session, stalled on just what to do following the original outbreak of violence in New England.

The Battle of Bunker Hill had not yet begun and the "army" assembled outside Boston had only the status of a revolutionary mob.

John Adams had a plan in mind to break the stalemate. In his memoirs he says:

"Accordingly, when Congress had assembled, I arose in my place, and in as short a speech as the subject would admit, represented the state of the colonies . . . I concluded with a motion that Congress adopt the army at Cambridge and appoint a general."

It is within the next few moments of his speech that the revealing flash of Washington's character gleams clearly through the mists of history.

Adams goes on:

"Though this was not the proper time to nominate a general, yet, as I had reason to believe this was the point of greatest difficulty, I had no hesitation to declare that I had one gentleman in mind for that important command, and that was a gentleman from Virginia."

Without mentioning the name he went on to say that this man was present in the room and described his past military experience.

Then he mentioned the name — with unexpected results.

"Mr. Washington happened to sit near the door," Adams relates. "As soon as he heard me allude to him, from his natural modesty, he darted into the library room."

As Adams had talked, embarrassment had crept over Washington and finally it was too much. He fled.

Nor did he return to his seat in the assembly until the issue was settled.

While no other name was proposed, there was debate and the day's session ended without decision. Overnight, support solidified behind Washington and the vote was unanimous in his favor next day.

Washington knew nothing of what was transpiring until about dinnertime when the delegates left the hall. Then, as he met them, they shook his hand and called him "General."

Bond Issue for Sewage Plant, Hospital Needs Eyed for Vote

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Pontiac voters will be asked to vote a general obligation bond issue which will finance the equipping of the new Pontiac General Hospital addition, and partially pay for a new sewage treatment plant, it was learned last night.

The City Commission, meeting jointly with the hospital's Board of Trustaees, tentatively approved placing the proposal before the people, as being the "only alternative."

City Manager Walter K. Willman this morning said the proposed issue would be approximately $4,000,000—$2.5 million for the plant and $1.5 for the hospital.

He stressed that the figures were not definite and that they hinged on a "legal interpretation" by the city's bond attorney.

Approval will require a millage increase, Willman added, ranging between 1.2 and 1.7 per a thousand of assessed valuation. "This also depends upon some legal interpretation that has to be settled immediately," the official added.

The expected millage increase would shove the present city tax rate of $13.70 to from $14.90 to $15.40, depending upon the final millage increase.

TELLS OF NEEDS

William P. Babcock, chairman of the board, outlined to commissioners that $1,500,000 was needed to complete the hospital project. This was broken down into $602,000 for beds and furnishings, $436,000 for purchase orders already contracted, $180,000 for architect's fees, and $282,000 for a contingency fund.

The vote will be the second by Pontiac voters for the new wing. In November 1954, they approved a $3 million general obligation bond issue.

Last year, when bids for the 200-bed wing soared above the $4½ million mark, the city and trustees huddled and came out with a half million dollar emergency appropriation from the city in order that the bids could be let.

Big Concession May Be Made by Jerusalem

(FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES)

One of the proposals was said to be an offer to withdraw Israeli troops from the coast of the Gulf of Aqaba if the U. S. and other powers declare the Tiran Straits an international waterway.

Eban's plane was scheduled to reach Washington tomorrow, after a brief stopover in London.

The ambassador's mission was expected to cause another post-

The proposals were drawn up last night at a special cabinet meeting immediately after Ben-Gurion, in a speech before the Knesset (Parliament), rejected President Eisnehower's appeal for unconditional withdrawal from the captured Egyptian territories.

The Prime Minister made it clear he desperately wants to avoid a breach in relations with the U. S. and asserted, "We hope the door is not closed to further discussion."

Highway Crash Claims 2 Lives

Third Person 'Critical' as Truck, Car Collide Near New Hudson

A Detroit man and woman were killed and a 14-year-old boy critically injured today when their convertible collided with a tractor-trailer truck on US-16 near Martindale road in Lyon Township.

Dead are William Jackson, 49, of 676 Farnsworth, and a woman believed to be Mrs. Dorothy Brown, 32, of 1334 Brooklyn.

Mrs. Brown's son, James, 14, was taken to Mellus Hospital in Brighton.

The Brighton State Police Post said that Jackson's car was traveling at a "high rate of speed" when it swerved out of control and left the right side of the road. Jackson met the oncoming truck head on, they said, when he swerved back to the opposite side of the highway.

Driver of the truck, Merle Linder, 35, of Palo, was not injured. He is expected to give a statement to the prosecutor's office in Pontiac today.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and colder, high 25 to 29 degrees, with an expected evening low of 15.

The lowest mercury reading recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. this morning was 28 degrees.

The temperature at 2 p.m. was 40.

Ike Postpones Sanctions Stand

Won't Tell U.S. Policy Till Dulles Meets With Israel's Eban

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower today held up an announcement of the U. S. stand on U. N. sanctions against Israel until he gets the latest Israeli proposals on the troop withdrawal deadlock.

The American position will not be announced until Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has met with Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban who is scheduled to arrive in Washington tomorrow with his government's response.

Dulles expects to confer with Eban tomorrow and probably again on Sunday.

U. N. debate on the sanctions issue has been postponed twice at the request of the U. S., but the White House did not say it had asked for a further delay of the discussions, slated to begin this afternoon.

The U. S. probably will not make known its position on sanctions until Monday.

The announcement that disclosure of the U. S. position would be postponed was made by the White House after a 90-minute meeting between the President and Dulles.

The White House said in its statement that the President and Dulles "welcome" further discussions with Israel on the withdrawal issue.

This was in reply to Premier David Ben-Gurion, who said in a speech yesterday he hoped the door remained open for further talks with the U. S.

The President and Dulles talked by telephone this morning with Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, and also discussed the Ben-Gurion speech.

It's reached the $900 mark again. Old Pot-O-Gold is bulging at the seams now that another week has gone by without a winner. Almost 11,000 contestants sent in solutions, but none contained all the correct answers, which appear on page 12.

That means that our judges will be swamped with more and more entries until some very lucky person figures out the exact solution to one of the puzzles. Because you have just as good a chance as anyone to be that person, you can't afford to waste any time in getting to work on this week's Pot-O-Gold on page 7.

Deadline for postmarking Puzzle No. 38 isn't until Tuesday at midnight, so you still have several days to figure it out.

Higgins Promises April Report on Financing

Asks Time on Toll Road

Michigan Turnpike Authority Chairman George N. Higgins yesterday declared in Lansing that a pay-as-you-go highway from Rockwood to Saginaw past Pontiac is financially feasible and asked time to prove it.

He sought postponement until April of a legislative "death sentence," stripping the all but defunct authority of its remaining funds when the fiscal year ends.

Appearing before the house roads and bridges committee, Higgins maintained that by April he could complete a report showing bonds could be sold to finance the four-year-old authority's first and sole project — a 114-mile limited access highway by-passing Pontiac on the east.

The former State Senator from Ferndale stated the report would show buyers can be found for the $194,000,000 in revenue bonds necessary — the point on which the authority began floundering in 1955.

As the authority was about to put bonds up for sale, the State Highway Department announced plans to build a free highway that would run parallel to part of the turnpike route.

The possible competition resulted in investors declining to put their money into turnpike bonds for fear the toll road would not pay off.

Failing to market bonds, the authority last summer folded up shop, and since then has had only two full-time employes.

Higgins reported the authority still has $114,000 of state appropriations totalling $650,000, and said this is enough to keep the authority going and to complete financing should favorable conditions develop for turnpike construction.

Reportedly, Higgins' proposal would contain requests for certain, as yet undisclosed, enabling legislation. He said yesterday, though, the authority would not ask the state to guarantee the bond issue.

Higgins remained firm in the conviction "the toll road would pay for itself." He continued:

"I don't see where you're going to get enough federal aid to build the road on the inter-state system. Land and building costs are going up all the time.

"We are going to have to end up with toll roads in congested areas, and money which would be used to build freeways in these areas could be spent for construction elsewhere."

June Allyson and Dick Powell Reveals Breakup

Their friends weren't surprised; the Powells reportedly had separated before, for brief periods — yet the fans considered it a most romantic union.

But a parting of the ways was acknowledged for the first time last night by both Powell and Miss Allyson, who were wed 11½ years ago. He is 52, she is 33.

Both denied that any other man or woman was involved, and both said no divorce is in prospect immediately. They have two children, Pamela, 8, and Richard Jr., 6.

It was June's first marriage. Powell was married twice previously, first to a nonprofessional, Mildred Maund. His second marriage, to Joan Blondell in 1936, ended when she divorced him in 1944.

Dead were Howard O. Hakkarainen, 28; his wife, Carolyn, 24; and their sons, David, 18 months, and Daniel, 2 months.

Escaping death by seconds was 3-year-old Pamela. In childish excitement she told firemen her mother had wrapped her in a blanket and pushed her through the window onto the roof of a porch.

AF Plane Hits Near Seoul

22 Hurt in Crash Landing

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—An Air Force C124 carrying 159 American servicemen crashlanded on an island in the Han River. First reports said no one was killed.

At least 22 men were taken to a nearby Army hospital, 11 of them on stretchers. Some were flown out by helicopter.

Engine trouble forced the huge plane down about 10 miles before reaching Seoul's Kimpo Airport.

The plane was coming from Japan with 149 servicemen returning from leave. There was a 10-man crew aboard.

Manufacturers Plotting Lowest Designs

Had 'Step-Down' Car--Next: Step-in-Roof Jobs

DETROIT (NEA) — Here's a peek at some of this town's best-kept secrets:

Auto engines will be so powerful only one forward speed is needed. Cars will be so low you'll have to enter partly through the roof.

Passengers will be sealed in completely air-conditioned interiors. Seats will be ventilated. Radar warning devices will prevent rear-end collisions. Cars will look more and more like guided missiles.

This is not "dream car" stuff. These innovations will be showing up on new models within the next few years.

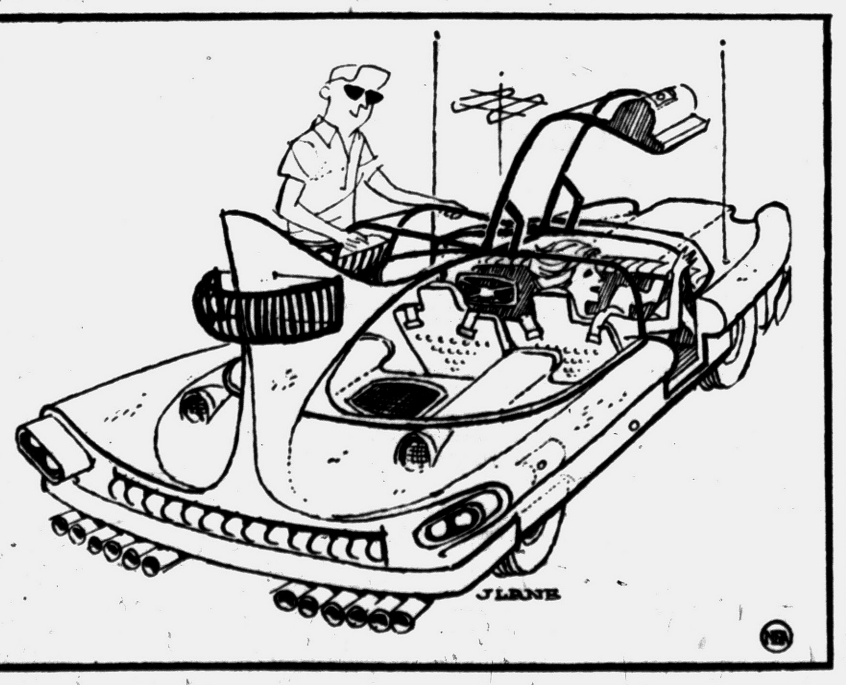

This information comes from Victor G. Raviolo, Ford's director of engineering research. Chrysler and General Motors experts confirm most of these trends. Raviolo says:

"We can expect at least a 25 per cent and possibly as much as a 40 per cent increase in horsepower in the next few years. This will permit the use of a transmission of different character. Large engines with a hydra-dynamic torque converter and a reverse gear will replace today's complex assembly with a box."

Deterioration of service available to car owners in the past few years will be reflected in the newer cars. "I expect sealed transmissions and axle, and lifetime lubricated chassis components that would not be serviced," he says.

If you think the '57 models are low — between 57 and 61 inches — drop your sights for the ones coming up. Manufacturers and customers alike desire this because low cars are safer to drive, look faster and are faster because of reduced wind resistance.

The minimum height of a car, theoretically, is about 51 inches, and within the next 10 years all models will be close to that, Raviolo claims. This provides seven inches for ground clearance, five inches for leg room, 36 inches for torso height and three inches for head clearance.

"With these lower heights, we can't get into the side too well, and we must develop access at least partially through the top," he explains.

"The solution is the auxiliary roof door," he insists, referring to a side door which includes part of the roof also opening up. The foreign-made Mercedes 300 SL has such a door.

Windows in the coming cars will be sealed but provided with an emergency release. They will be made flush with the skin of the car for better streamlining. This will also help reduce noice.

FILTER AIR

Will Turn Over Township Job

Supervisor of Waterford to Resign Tonight; Take on State Post

Supervisor Lloyd L. Anderson will submit his resignation "effective immediately" to the Waterford Township Board tonight at a meeting postponed from Monday, which was primary election day.

Anderson was elected last November as state representative from the First District and is resigning to devote his time to his new office.

The board is expected to appoint Clerk Louis G. Barry as acting supervisor until the April 1 election. Barry, who has served six years as clerk, is the Republican nominee for supervisor as a result of Monday's primary.

treatment plant, Willman said the city would have to issue between $600,00 and $700,000 in revenue bonds to complete the estimated $3,109,000 proposed plant.

TRY TO HOLD RATE

'We are attempting to work this out with the least possible disturbance of the sewage treatment rate —depending of course if we vote the $2.5 million bond issue, Willman said.

He told the commissioners and trustees last night that he would aim for a May special election vote. He is to meet with Claude Stevens, the bond attorney, next week.

The city manager added that an additional $350,000 would have to be added to either the revenue or general obligation issue to finance a 300-unit parking lot for the hospital. The lot is required under a zoning ordinance, Willman said.

He reported that it was the recommendation of a Chamber of Commerce capital improvement study committee, that a millage vote be asked in the amount of $1.5 million for the completion of Pontiac General.

The committee, Willman added, had decided a building program for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital should be limited to $3,000,000, to be raised by public subscription.

"We will have a $5,350,000 city hospital project plus parking lot when we get through," he told the group.

He said the three-fold issue — equipment, lot, and treatment plant — "is a maximum package that might have a chance for a vote."

He added there were many other projects, such as drainage improvement and the proposed civic auditorium, that would have to wait.

MAY BE SEPARATE

The city manager stated that voters might be asked to vote the hospital and treatment plant issue separately on the same ballot. This too, he said, would have to be decided by Stevens.

If the plant vote is rejected, Willman continued, the city would be ordered to proceed with the issuance of the bonds regardless. The Water Resources Commission would ask the State Supreme Court to force the plant's construction, he said.

Both commissioners and trustees alike expressed pessimism that funds for the city hospital could be raised by public subscription.

Mayor William W. Donaldson mentioned that donations to the hospital might offset the money needed.

Colorado Rockies Keep Secret

Truant Matador Still Lost

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP) — The location of the remnants of an errant military rocket apparently may remain locked unknown in the high Rockies of Colorado or the colored desert reaches of Utah.

Yesterday the 39½ feet long matador escaped remote controls operated from Holloman Air Development Center. Officials said it had about an hour's fuel left.

They said they believe it soared northwestward over five-sixths of New Mexico and probably landed in southwest Colorado or southeast Utah. The region is sparsely populated, a land where industry is based on ranching, mining, logging, natural gas and oil.

The Air Force planned to give up its search this morning for the big missile, which has a wingspan of 27.9 feet, a ceiling of more than 35,000 feet and a speed in excess of 650 miles an hour.

Eight minutes after the firing at this test center deep in south-central New Mexico, the ground-to-ground guided missile which is used as a tactical weapon, ran wild.

Military jets in New Mexico and Utah were sent up to try to find the pilotless missile. The search was in vain.

Alive, But 'Kicking'

Two City Washington's 'Real George'

Bearing the name of George Washington, whose birthday we honor today, is fine—if you have a thick skin and a sense of humor.

As George Washington, of 195 Orchard Lake Rd., puts it, "I get a little tired of being asked if I really cut down that cherry tree."

And his namesake, George H. Washington, of 482 Howland, (no relation) confesses that "I thought you were dead" loses some of its sparkle when it is asked for the 100th time.

But both men are bearing up well. George H. says his father bore the same name and he wouldn't hesitate to pass it on to his son.

The other Pontiac George Washington admits the ribbing from friends and fellow workers is a little trying at times. "They don't just kid me on Washington's Birthday, either," he says ruefully.

Although he is hardened to the jokes, at times he is moved to indulge in the first president's famed ability to cuss. The original George, an eye-witness records, once bawled out a blundering officer on the field of battle in such language "the corn was withered in the fields for miles around."

But recalling that the original Washington had to put up with a lot of snide remarks while in office (one hostile editor called him "The step-father of his country"), the modern-day George Washingtons have emulated him by taking it all in good spirits.

Both Pontiac Georges admit it is hard to live up to the old boy's record of never telling a lie, but they claim one advantage in behavior—neither one has ever cut down a cherry tree. Or so they say.

Flint Bi-Weekly Soon to Cease

Morning Paper States Mounting Costs Make Continuation Unwise

FLINT (AP) — The Flint News-Advertiser, a bi-weekly morning paper, announced last night that it will cease publication with its March 8 issue.

All of the 40 fulltime and ten parttime employes of the paper were given two week release notice last night.

Bernard C. George, News-Advertiser business manager, said that increased costs of labor, newsprint and general expenses made further publication "unwise.'

He said the decision was "a matter of economics, because it is impossible to meet these increased costs.'

There was no official circulation count for the paper available.

The first edition of the News-Advertiser was printed Dec. 22, 1933.

George said that Advertisers Press, Inc., the corporation which owns the paper, would continue to contract for job printing work in the mechanical department. He said it would also handle other publications on a limited basis.

Williams Cites 5 Fields for Tax Savings

Generally, he scolded "advocates of what I call false economy" on the ground that it is penny-wise and pound-foolish.

And in his special tax message to the Legislature he outlined how he would go about effecting wholesale savings of tax money in five specific areas.

His method: "Looking far enough ahead to prevent calamity by taking preventive action."

As one example of false economy, the Governor mentioned efforts a few years ago to scrap the department of economic development, an agency set up to "bring new industry, new enterprise and new wealth into Michigan."

"This was an 'economy' measure which at the time would have saved us about $183,000 and would have cost us literally tens of millions of dollars in added wealth," he said.

He said another example was the "drastic" cut made in his recommendation last year for land acquisition for parks—by which $1,400,000 was "saved."

"That now obviously must be made up, and meanwhile we have lost the millions which an adequate public parks program would bring into the state in the form of a larger and more profitable tourist industry," he said.

Williams apparently had in mind a bill introduced this week by 17 Republican senators for a parks admission fee to raise more money for parks improvement and expansion.

CITES 5 FIELDS

Briefly, this is the Williams prescription for long run economy in the five fields:

Schools — Bring about realistic property tax assessment statewide; push school reorganization; eliminate school tuition payments except in unusual circumstances; and move farther in the direction of "equalizing" state school aid to local communities.

Colleges — The average cost of educating a student at one of the large universities is $1,100 a year, compared with a cost of $450 in junior colleges and a figure somewhere in between at the smaller state institutions in Marquette, Mt. Pleasant, Kalamazoo, Houghton, Ypsilanti and Big Rapids; "Funds invested now to expand these schools will mean lower costs later."

Mental Health—Spend without hesitation now on research, training and out - patient clinics; "Every dollar wisely invested now in prevention and treatment will mean lower costs in the future." It costs $1,460 a year to keep a patient in a state hospital, $39 to give him out-patient clinics treatment and thus prevent commitments.

Corrections — It costs $1,000 a year to keep an inmate in a prison, and about $100 a year to keep a person under "carefully supervised probation"; sufficient funds now for hiring the staff needed to use probation and parole to best advantage will yield big savings in the long run.

Government Reorganization — Giving the Governor a stronger hand in putting into effect the "Little Hoover Commission" recommendations on efficiency and economy would lead to the adoption of many of them, and minimize "duplication of effort that is reflected in Michigan's 120 or more governmental departments, agencies and commissions."

Fish Story With a Catch

HEAVENER, Okla. (AP) — Roy Knecht took his 3-year-old granddaughter along on a family fishing trip and she put everyone to shame. The little lass landed a 5-pound bass, best catch of the day.

Set Dates for Teachers' Workshop

A series of special workshops for teachers and principals from all Oakland County school districts will be held next week by staff members of the County Board of Education.

Dr. Harry Hahn, director of instructural services for the Oakland County Board of Education, will conduct the workshops, assisted by Philip Hilaire, Harold Leffler and Jane Fox of his staff.

Two workshops will deal with methods of improving supervisory skills. On Tuesday morning, a group of principals from Waterford School District will attend, and on Wednesday morning, principals from Pontiac schools and other county districts will participate.

These workshops will run for six weeks and will be fundamentally devoted to demonstrating successful teaching techniques. Principals will be shown how to use standard tests, how to demonstrate a lesson to a class, what to observe in the student and how to observe.

On Tuesday evening, a workshop will begin for principals on the problem of gifted children. Sparked by the recent surge of interest in the gifted child, the course will assess the many methods of handling them presently in use by different Oakland County school districts.

Dr. Hahn stresses that the next eight years will see an additional 10 million jobs available in the United States, and industry and commerce will need many gifted persons who constitute the top one or two per cent of the population.

He also noted that the increasing demand for higher education may deprive some of the gifted of university training if they are not specially handled.

On Thursday afternoon, a workshop for secondary teachers will be held on improving student reading skills. Again, the practices of the different school districts will be discussed and evaluated.

On March 7, still another workshop will present a program for preparing material for individualized reading instruction. The staff will present library materials actually graded to meet the needs of each child at each level of ability.

All the workshops will be held at the Oakland County Board of Education offices, 1025 N. Telegraph Rd., Pontiac.

Clinic Holds Election, Listens to Reports

MRS. LAWRENCE MARTZ

New officers were elected by the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic board at a meeting at the Pontiac office, 113 Franklin Blvd.

Mrs. Lawrence Martz, of Bloomfield Township, was chosen chairman; Mrs. Noel Buckner, Pontiac, vice chairman; Mrs. A. H. Williams, Royal Oak, secretary; and Fred Haggard, Drayton Plains, treasurer.

The tentative 1958 budget was presented by the finance committee, headed by William L. Treanor of Pontiac, and was accepted. It will go to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors by March 1.

Mrs. Eugene Hunter, of Huntington Woods, reported on her attendance at the fifth annual Children's Forum held by Michigan State University recently. She revealed her appointment there to a continuing study committee on protective service for children.

Madeleine Half, clinic director, read a report from the State Dept. of Mental Health on the Oakland Clinic which showed that 90 per cent of the cases closed, between July 1, 1955 and June 30, 1956, had definitely improved.

A report on activities of the Birmingham branch of the clinic was given by Mrs. William Thomas and Mrs. Winthrop Conrad.

Abe Brickner, of Oak Park, chairman of the steering committee for a proposed Southern Oakland clinic branch, also reported, along with Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Frank, of Huntington Woods.

It was announced that the Michigan Assn. of Child Guidance Board Members will meet March 21 in Battle Creek.

Diagnose Injury of Marie McDonald

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Physicians say that Marie McDonald may have a slipped disc in her neck.

That was the tentative diagnosis yesterday of an injury believed caused several months ago when she was involved in a traffic accident.

The actress entered St. Joseph Hospital here Tuesday. Dr. Walter Richman said that she will be discharged tomorrow.

The injury is not believed connected with Miss McDonald's mysterious disappearance last month. She was hospitalized briefly at Indio, Calif., where she told police two kidnapers had mistreated her.

Actress Hurt in Crash

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Rhonda Fleming suffered cuts and bruises on her knees and elbows and a bump on the nose yesterday when the car she was driving collided with one driven by 17-year-old John M. Ramsey, who was unhurt.

George Washington a Staunch Leader

Throughout the years we have had many men gifted with the wisdom and strength to be great leaders. Comparatively few worked under the extreme difficulties that faced George Washington. And even fewer have left as great or enduring an example to mankind.

In Washington's last hours, the Father of His Country said, "I die hard, but I am not afraid to go."

His conscience was clear and he had no reason to be afraid. He had lived an honest life and his moral strength should be a lesson to all Americans.

Sober judgment and methodical precision was his approach to getting things done. His mind shut out all problems except the one at hand, and he was not easily confused.

Measured by other standards he could not be called brilliant, in war or in peace, but all will call him staunch and loyal. At a time when our country needed straightforward leadership these were the qualities Washington possessed.

His own business of farming was profitable, in waging war he was successful, and as head of our government he was a top flight leader.

Never wavering from his straightforward line, the amazing fact is that where others would have been sidetracked he held a steady course.

At the time the colonists fought the War of Independence the country was in a turmoil. Bickering and ill preparedness were in evidence and there was little actual agreement on methods or whether war should be fought at all.

During that ragged and nearly disastrous revolution, he was a steady man. His unquestioned loyalty and leadership not only led the army but the country as well.

When the weak republic needed a president, there could be no question that Washington, the leader, the practical man, should be the one.

Today we do not have a Washington. Our substitute is the unfaltering loyalty and moral strength which he has passed on to us. We can hold our heads high if we believe in and act upon the principles George Washington established a century and a half ago.

Here's Sound (?) Idea for a Cleaner Life

Scientists, restlessly probing into the unknown, promise to make over the pattern of our daily lives with new gadgets, new products and new processes.

Latest dream, which we are told already has gone from the realm of a possibility to a probability, is a way to do the family wash without use of soap or water.

While the details are a little beyond our modest scientific understanding, it seems some success has been met in passing ultra-ultra sound waves through dirty fabrics and presto! the dirt and grime falls out. Just can't take the noise and vibration, we guess.

Such a water-saving device would be a boon to thirsty communities whose hard-pressed officials scarcely know where their next well is coming in; but there might be a delightful bonus to the idea.

A couple of times a day Mom could call in the small fry, pass them through some sound waves, and turn them out spic and span in less time than it takes to read this sentence.

Or even better, it might be possible just to beam the magic waves around the back yard occasionally and clean up everything in sight. Could be done hourly, on the hour, or on whatever schedule your little scavengers required.

Presidential Pensions

The Senate already has voted to give former Presidents $25,000 yearly and other benefits and the House is expected to go along.

A suggestion which has been considered in times past is that ex-presidents become ex-officio members of the Senate with the same salaries as elected members. Senator Johnson, majority leader, expressed in a Senate debate what no doubt has been in the minds of many in and out of Congress.

"The measure before us," he said, "does not represent pension or a recognition of past performances. It is based upon a reality that the American people still look to all ex-presidents for advice, for counsel and for inspiration in their moments of trial. No man who fills these functions can ever be a private citizen again."

Lifetime pensions for former Presidents have often been suggested. The Senate last year approved a similar proposal but it was not acted on in the House.

It is strange that in this day of social security and retirement pay no provision has ever been made for former Presidents. Let us hope that the House passes the bill this time.

The Man About Town

It's Really Cold

Ever Try Temperatures That Drop to 72 Below

Washington: A man we always honor: a city, usually.

This newspaper buys newsprint from the Abitibi Company which has several mills, one of which is located at Iroquois Falls, Canada.

Several times this past winter, the mercury has plummeted down to an incredible 57 below zero.

The boys and girls at this spot look with horror on their nearby neighbor, Matheson, where the mercury slipped to 62 below. This was the coldest in the last 21 years. Of course, in 1935/36 it touched 72 below.

Our old friend Johnny Benson (and he's one of our favorite people), deserves a little thoughful attention. Will someone please jog his own memory and kick in?

There's a Pontiac angle to the forthcoming centennial celebration in Iosco County. My correspondent at Tawas City, its county seat, sends word that it was 100 years ago that came from Pontiac with a party who made the first settlement there. He was prominent in Pontiac and state politics. We have a street named in his honor. And the city of Whittemore in Iosco County bears his name.

"The Big One That Gets Away."

David Lawrence Says:

Congress Giving Ike Peace Powers

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — These are strange times. A military man is President of the United States, but he's no swashbuckler. He's a man of peace.

Yet the Congress, which under the Constitution has the sole power to declare war, doesn't want to exercise that power. It wishes instead to concentrate in the President all responsibility for using the armed forces.

LAWRENCE

What is the reason for this paradox? Is it partisanship — an attempt to pass the buck by a Democratic Congress to a Republican President in a delicate period in world history?

The truth is there are many conscientious men in both parties in Congress who have not come to grips yet with the realistic situation in the world as it affects the Constitution of the United States. The powers in this great charter of government have long been used to deal with "hot wars" but never before has the challenge come in what is today termed a "cold war."

The real question before the country is how the Constitution can be used, not merely to fight "hot wars," but to prevent a world war from breaking out in an age that utilizes nuclear weapons.

What shall be said of the use of constitutional power to prevent a war — not necessarily to wait till an attack has come? This is the real issue, and it is a novel one. It involves what some members of Congress have mistakenly described as a delegation of power to a President by Congress.

NO DELEGATION

Actually, it is advance notice to foreign nations of the readiness of Congress to authorize now and ratify later any action the President may take if war becomes necessary.

This doesn't mean any advance delegation of power at all. The act of delegation never occurs because only Congress can declare war or ratify the existence of a "state of war."

The Constitution has many pointed provisions that give to Congress exclusively the right "to declare war" and regulate the use of the armed forces.

Article I, Section 8, says Congress "shall have power" not only "to declare war" but "to define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses against the law of nations." This same article says Congress "shall have power to make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces."

But while there is no dispute about how the armed forces shall be directed to act when invasion or attack on American interests comes — as provided, for instance, in various treaties such as NATO — the new question is how Congress, acting along with the President, can serve notice of America's intention to use force if its interests are threatened.

It is the formal expression by Congress of its intention to ratify a "state of war" — if any nation or group of nations embarks on such a course against this country — which is all-important now. That's the fundamental fact in the Eisenhower doctrine resolution as passed by the House.

It's a process of preventing war rather than a means of declaring war which Congress and the President would join in establishing. It's a constructive move toward the maintenance of peace in an atomic age.

LI'L ONES

"He said his dad knows more tax loopholes than you do."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Six Points to Consider Before Tonsil Operation

The general reading public has no conception of the tremendous and, I'm afraid, steadily increasing pressure that is brought to bear to keep me from teaching people how to keep well. I stuck to my guns as long as I could and yet remain teaching.

BRADY

The atrocity season is upon us again — the season when the tonsillectomy business is brisk. I am not now so sure as I was 10 or 20 years ago that parents of children with enlarged tonsils will give my opinion or advice serious consideration.

The ever-ready operators can cite numerous views, purporting to be authoritative, opposing my teaching—and they're right there with the situation well in hand, whereas I'm far away and of doubtful standing anyway.

However, in the hope that it may save a child here and there from the hazards of a major operation, an unjustifiable operation, I beg to remind all readers of these well-established facts:

1. The tonsils of children from four to nine years of age are normally enlarged.

2. Tonsil tissue itself is harmless or rather it is beneficial, functionally useful in protecting against respiratory infection.

3. Therefore it is a kind of malpractice for an operator to perform a radical dissection of the throat in the attempt to "get every bit of tonsil tissue," as many perpetrators of the atrocity boast they do.

4. A schoolchild's tonsils are usually largest in the spring, but if parents or guardians have enough sense to resist the tonsil snatchers' importunities and "think it over" for a few months, the tonsils will shrink again, come vacation time.

5. If enlargement (hypertrophy) of the tonsils obstructs breathing or affects the hearing, then the obstructing portion of the tonsils should be removed. For this purpose tonsillotomy is sufficient. This is a minor operation which takes no more time, is no more painful or dangerous than extraction of a tooth.

6. Tonsillotomy is popularly called "clipping" the tonsils. This instantaneous operation achieves, with a minimum of risk, what the pretentious surgeon attempts to achieve at the needless risk of life. More or less tonsil tissue remains in the throat after radical tonsillectomy despite the boasts of the ever ready operators that they "get every bit of tonsil."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Offers Answer for Atheists

Clarence says he is an atheist. Actually, he is striking back belatedly at an overly religious Dad whose dominant personality intimidated Clarence during his boyhood. But atheists should be the most active church members in the land, as the following discussion will prove!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I don't believe there is any God in this universe," he began.

"I am an atheist, and I think it is a waste of time to send children to church.

"We should concentrate on building healthy youngsters and see that they get plenty of food.

"For whatever happiness they are to enjoy, must be in this world, for I am positive there is nothing after the grave."

WHY ATHEISM?

Atheists often are children of God-fearing parents who have simply forced an unduly rigid code of religious behavior down the throats of those same youngsters.

If the parents are dominent personalities, the children may fear to strike back at them directly.

So they often wait till they get away from home and are at college before they turn on their parents.

Often this attack is then an indirect affair and may consist of denying God, for this undermines the whole religious structure which their parents have maintained.

In this column I have urged you intelligent readers to look for the underlying causes behind the obvious behavior of people.

Instead of growing incensed and damning Clarence as an agent of the Devil, look into his background and diagnose "why" he is so vigorous in championing atheism.

ANSWERS TO ATHEISTS

Atheists should be the most devout church supporters in America, for even if there is no world hereafter, the churches are still the major forces for making this present world a happier place in which to live.

In pagan Rome's heyday, as when Nero was on the throne, women were given much less consideration than now. Children didn't count. Why, the state could wipe out all boy babies, as Herod decreed, without causing a serious murmur of dissent.

For cruelty was then entrenched. Life was real and earnest and it was a case of dog eat dog.

Human life was often cheaper than a good hunting dog or a horse. Slavery was rampant. Immorality was the rule.

Contrast that with our benevolent modern society. Who is chiefly responsible for the Red Cross that rushes to the aid of refugees in flood devastated regions?

Who has been the chief founder of hospitals for crippled children and rheumatic heart youngsters and polio cases?

Who has founded the YMCA and CYO and nurtured the Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls? Where do those youth organizations meet every week?

Who sponsored the CARE packages to starving Europeans? Who have tried to elevate the agriculture and medicine, as well as morality, of India and Africa via missionaries?

It is the churches that have literally lifted society many notches higher right here on this earth:

So atheists, of all people, should be the most fervent members of churches if they think this world alone is where mankind will enjoy happiness.

Even if Clarence sincerely thought there were no hereafter, he should support the unselfish and constructive work that the churches have rendered and still are committed to here on this planet Earth.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3¢ stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Vaccine Is Going to Waste While She Can't Get Shot

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I worked on the March of Dimes and among the literature we were given was the plea for everyone under 50 to have polio shots. Also, I read in the paper that the vaccine is going to waste because people are not availing themselves of this service.

When I went to the Oakland County Health Center, I was told very shortly that the hours were from 9 to 11 on Friday for children 1 to 14, and that was that.

It would be possible to spoil my son's perfect attendance record in school, I suppose, but what about my older children? Unless I am in a financial position to take myself, an expectant mother, and my five children to a private physician, I guess we are out of luck, and the vaccine will still go to waste. Isn't there anyone who could explain this situation to me?

Ex-Guard Member Requests Apology

I was a member of the armed forces in World War I and am proud of it, even though my father was born in Russia and my mother in Poland. I was also a member of the National Guards for years.

We had three sons in World War II and two son-in-laws. We did not claim exemption from any branch of the service we were called on to join. We did not even change jobs from working in the city to buy farms. One of my boys had four children. He was drafted into the Navy. With four children for a wife to look after and her husband in service, I don't mind telling you it was a pretty tough job on her and on us, too. Yet we did not shirk.

But when we hear Wilson criticizing the National Guard, I think it's about time we should demand an apology to them all over the country, not just in the State of Michigan. The record shows Wilson was not a member of any branch of the armed forces during the World War I.

I personally think this is a very poor way to keep up the spirit of our armed forces around the world and especially the people who come back and are members of the National Guards.

E.L.

'Defense Secretary Is Honest Man'

Well, in Secretary of Defense Wilson we do have an honest man who does not fear for his own power. It does bolster a people whose sons are involved.

Security risks seem to be a routine these days at an awful price of power. More and more every day we so-called dumb Americans are thankful for men who put decency above power, especially where our sons are concerned.

Hopeful American

'Pigeon Problem Is Still Unsolved'

Those messy pigeons. Ugh! I see the City Commission makes vague passes at them and the County Board of Supervisors ignores them completely. They're a prime problem for the Supervisors except that the Supervisors aren't here all the time and the rest of us are.

The pigeons prefer the Courthouse to everything else in town. They like messes.

'What Are Taxes on Contest Pot?'

I've read The Pontiac Press for years and think it's grand. My family sure gets a lot of enjoyment from this Pot-O-Gold puzzle business. With us it's a family affair and who knows? Maybe someday we will win.

Are they going to be continued or are they just to last a short while? Hope they run forever, at least as long as we live.

We were wondering about the tax on a $1,000 pot. Is it gift tax or what? How much would it be and when would it be paid?

F. J. Feldson Family

(Editor's Note: According to the local office of Internal Revenue, winnings from the Pot-O-Gold contest are subject only to income tax and are handled the same as other income from which tax has not been withheld.)

Airman Offers Opinion on Drink

Friends sent me extracts from The Press and I noticed a letter recently titled "Man Asks Stand Against Liquor." The following paragraphs are my opinions on the drinking problem:

People who criticize drinking habits of Americans must consider the vast majority of drinkers are moderates and social drinkers and therefore we must accept this as part of our present society. We must not legislate against drinking; that failed in the 20's and 30's, but we must educate and medicate.

The majority of serious crimes today are the result of mental disturbances and in some cases drinking is a contributing factor. In reverse, excessive drinking is a result of a mental disturbance.

It all boils down to educating our children on the facts, better law enforcement and socialized medical care for alcoholics. Like other habits, drinking is here to stay, so let's not panic.

With $900 Pot How Can You Resist Trying?

We can't imagine anyone passing up an opportunity to win $900 when all it takes is a little time spent having fun with the Pot-O-Gold puzzle. If you would like to be the one, get busy on your entry now and be sure to follow all the rules. If no winner is found for last week's puzzle, you may win that check for almost a thousand dollars.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

Needs Uranium to Effect Euro-African Trade Program

Mollet to Ask Ike's Support on Atom Plan

WASHINGTON (INS) — Top French sources disclosed today that the chief purpose of Premier Guy Mollet's visit to Washington next week will be to win President Eisenhower's whole-hearted support for a bold new European economic program geared to atomic energy.

A high source said Mollet, at this first summit meeting since the Anglo-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt, will request no new financial aid for his hard-pressed country.

Instead, he will concentrate on high level discussions of plans to set up peacetime atomic reactors for power, and the French dream to create a common market for western Europe and Africa.

The two plans are known as Euratom and Eurafrica.

The brave new concept cannot get off the ground unless the U.S. contributes substantial quantities of enriched uranium for the proposed reactors.

NO COMMITMENTS

President Eisenhower, while "welcoming" the electrifying plan, has yet to make any commitments in behalf of the U.S. He has already announced, however, that we stand ready to furnish up to 20,000 kilograms of U235 for peaceful uses of atomic energy outside our continental boundaries.

The Euratom plan calls for construction during the next 10 years of sufficient atomic reactors to Western Europe to produce 15 million kilowatts of power.

The realization of this dream would free the hard-pressed European economy from its dangerous current dependence on Middle Eastern oil and scarce coal.

JOINT POOL

The six Euratom countries of France, Belgium, West Germany, Italy, Luxemburg and The Netherlands would draw from the joint pool of atomic power.

Mollet is also reportedly anxious to secure Eisenhower's cooperation in the establishment of a free-trade market within the six-nation area, which could be extended to French possessions in Africa.

During recent United Nations debate on Algeria, Foreign Minister Christian Pineau revealed that the French government is evolving a "concept" for Europe which would bring close inter-dependency between Western Europe and the African continent. Terming the plan "Eurafrica," he said it is the French hope that European capital and techniques can go into massive development funds for Africa.

COMMON MARKET

The hope would be to create a common market between the two continents, and to extend the free trade area to Britain.

Mollet arrives in Washington Monday afternoon for a three-day state visit and top level discussions with Mr. Eisenhower on joint problems. A similar meeting between Ike and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is to be held next month in Bermuda.

French sources said that Mollet and the President will "exchange views" on the Suez and Middle East crisis, but can map no specific agenda on that subject pending the outcome of the debate which opens today in the U.N.

NATO and the British withdrawal of some of its forces will also be discussed, as will the training of NATO troops in the use of atomic warheads.

The matter "nearest Mollet's heart," however, will be the attempt to win American support for Euratom and to stave off an economic crisis in France which would topple the Mollet government.

'House of Peace' Serves Nepali Sick by Christian Aid

KATMANDU, Nepal, (INS)—It's more than 10,000 miles from Michigan to Nepal, but a light from Kalamazoo is helping to save lives in this remote mountain kingdom between India and Tibet.

The battery-powered lamp stands ready in the operating room of a mission hospital, in a rugged country where electricity is an uncertain thing at best.

When power fails in the midst of a crucial operation, doctors and nurses continue working by the light of an emergency unit donated by the First Methodist Church of Kalamazoo.

HOUSE OF PEACE

Day after day, the inhabitants of ancient Katmandu valley climb the ridge to the United Mission Hospital. In their Nepali language it's called "Shanta Bhavan"—the House of Peace.

There's no preaching at the mission hospital, and no attempt is made to change anyone's religion. The doctors and nurses are "medical missionaries." But they don't care if a patient is Hindu, Buddhist or Christian. Their only interest lies in curing the sick.

The hospital's story begins in 1952, when Dr. Robert Fleming, an ornithologist from Grand Rapids, Mich., entered Nepal for bird study.

He and his wife, Bethel, a medical doctor, arrived at Katmandu in 1953. In the valley surrounding the capital city they found a friendly and hospitable people suffering from tuberculosis, typhoid and cholera epdemics, and other killing diseases that result from poor sanitation and low standard of living.

Patients poured out of the hills when Dr. Bethel opened a clinic in a rented store. Within a year, four branches were going in other parts of the valley. Several nurses had joined the Flemings, but they knew that the great need was for a real hospital.

Encouraged by Nepalese government officials, the nurses discovered a vacant Rana's palace while the Flemings were in the United States on a fund-raising trip. The First Methodist Church of Barrington Ill., immediately offered to pay rent, and the "House of Peace" had found a home.

Everything at Shanta Bhavan is paid for by contributions from Protestant churches in America, Britian, Canada and Europe; and administered by the National Christian Council of India.

RUN INFORMALLY

The hospital is deliberately run in an easy-going, informal manner that suits the Nepalese personality. An Americana administrator would be shocked to see a family camped on the floor around a patient's bed, but Dr. Bethel explained:

"Our patients would be frightened without their families. So we allow them to stay right by the bed. It actually helps their recovery. They even bring in their own food, since we can't prepare native dishes, and they can't eat hospital food."

Fighting Nepal's ghastly infant mortality rate is the biggest challenge. Dr. Bethel is a specialist in obstetrics and an English nurse, Doris Barclay, has just started a six-month course to train Napalese students in midwifery.

"Our greatest need is for more nurses, and we want them to be Nepalese girls. Three Nepali nurses already are working with the American, Indian, English and Swiss girls on our staff."

No Party Fight Expected

Senate Drones On and On Over Ike's Mideast Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today he will not support a Senate move to restore the language President Eisenhower originally asked in his Middle East resolution.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), criticizing changes made by two Senate committees, proposed yesterday a return to the phrasing in the original resolution passed by the House.

But Knowland, the Senate's Republican leader, said in an interview he expects no party fight over the matter and added:

"As I understand it, the resolution as reported by the Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees is satisfactory to the administration and I expect to support it."

The Senate devotes part of its time today to a traditional reading by Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) of Washington's Farewell Address, but Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex), the Democratic leader, said debate on the Middle East resolution would continue "if there are any senators who desire to speak on it at this time."

The Senate droned yesterday through its third day of mostly listless debate in a nearly empty chamber. Half of the speakers didn't mention the resolution at all.

Allege Extortion Try by Factory Worker

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit factory worker was arrested last night by FBI agents who accused him of attempting to extort $25,000 from a co-owner of the Wrigley supermarket chainstores.

Charles Brown, special agent in charge of the Detroit FBI office, said Webster J. McClain, 31, would be arraigned today on charges of violating the federal extortion statute. McClain has denied the charge.

Brown said McClain was seized as he prepared to direct a contact man for the grocery chain to a the money was to be left.

Macomb county location where Brown said the intended victim was Jack Lurie, who with a brother, owns Wrigleys Stores, Inc The chain is a division of ACF-Brill Industries.

The FBI agent said Lurie first received an extortion threat Feb. 13.

Migrants From South Crowd State Prison

LANSING (AP)—Migrant laborers from the south who succumbed to the lure of a big pay for short hours in the Detroit area have played a major role in boosting Michigan prison populations.

Gus Harrison, Director of the State Corrections Department, told about it yesterday at a Senate appropriations committee hearing on his department's request for a 1957-58 operating allotment of $16,200,000.

About 60 per cent of Michigan Prison inmates are one time migrant laborers from the south, the south central and south coastal states, Harrison said.

"Many of these southern workers, lured by the so-called 'magic luster' of Detroit, find that they cannot compete with the industrial pace of the north and turn to crime," he said.

Harrison said that state prisons, with a population of 10,252, are badly overcrowded, with prospects that the number of inmates will grow by about 400 during the coming year.

Says Unification Up to U.S., Reds

Ollenhauer Tells Club Split Germany Means Permanent Crisis

BERKELEY, Calif. (INS) — Erich Ollenhauer, leader of the powerful West German Social Democrat party, says it is up to the United States and Russia to find a way to effect the reunification of Germany.

Speaking Wednesday at the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco, he warned:

"As long as Germany remains divided, there will be a permanent source of crisis for Europe and the world."

The 56-year-old Socialist chieftain suggested as a solution to the present stalemate that the U.S. and the Soviet Union must "agree upon the international military status of a united Germany as a preliminary to further settlement."

MUST PREVENT

"Such an agreement," he said, "must prevent an all-German government from joining either of the two military camps now existing."

Ollenhauer called for establishment of a European security system in which member nations would commit themselves to a non-aggression policy. The plan would call for peaceful arbitration of all differences and armament controls.

Ollenhauer arrived in San Francisco Tuesday evening and left for Chicago today on the next leg of his 16-day tour of the United States.

Shaw's Money Can't Be Used for New Alphabet

LONDON (INS)—A high court judge has ruled, after years of wringling (in the 26-letter alphabet), that the late George Bernard Shaw's money can't be used to help institute and popularize a 40-letter alphabet.

Shaw, who died in 1950, left a $2 million estate, some of it tied up in trusts for promoting a "simplified" English alphabet.

Under the court ruling, the money will be given to such unradical institutions as the British Museum and the National Gallery of Ireland.

The court said Shaw's alphabet request was not valid because it was not of a charitable nature.

But 40-letter apostles, such as Isaac J. Pitman of the House of Commons, refused to be silenced by company officials. He was forwill be made for public contributions to finance the publishing, in the 40-letter system, of such works as Shaw's play "Androcles and the Lion."

Rebuild Fort Union, Early West Outpost

LAS VEGAS, N. M. (INS)—One of the most historic military posts in the Old West is rising again from the rubble of a half-century of deterioration.

Fort Union, located about 27 miles north of Las Vegas, N. M., is being rebuilt by the Fort Union National Monument staff headed by Kit Wing, superintendent, and George Cuttanach, park service archeologists.

Fort Union was originally built a few years after the New Mexico territory was taken over from the Mexican government.

The old post served as a supply depot for all the other posts in the Southwest, and was the focus point for the Confederate drive up the Rio Grande which failed at Glorietta pass during the Civil War.

The post remained after the war as a headquarters for Indian fighting and supply.

The fort's usefulness ended with the coming of the railroad in the late '70s, although it remained in operation until the early '90s.

Rippe, Taylor Officials to Face Court Trial

DETROIT (AP)—Harold Rippe, former supervisor of suburban Taylor Township, and five township officials must face Circuit Court trial on charges of conspiring to violate state election laws.

The six were bound over yesterday by Grosse Pointe Justice Douglas Leo Patterson after a week-long examination.

Witnesses testified during the examination that the six accepted voters' registrations and absentee ballots after deadlines and tampered with absentee ballots.

Ask 3rd Saginaw Judge

SAGINAW (AP) — Representatives from the Saginaw County Bar Assn. will go to Lansing next week to consult with the House Judiciary Committee on Saginaw County's request for a third judgeship in the 10th Judicial Circuit on Saginaw County. Such a bill now is in Judiciary Committee.

Watch Out for Those Calm People!

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Ever since the "Mad Bomber" of New York was arrested, taking the city folk at least temporarily off the hot seat, I've been vaguely uncomfortable. Wondering, how many of the other calm and quiet gentlemen I know are contemplating crime?

It was the calmness of the man that was the insidious thing. Here he was, fighting mad at the Consolidated Edison Company. But instead of blowing off, himself, he blew off gay little packages that looked innocent enough to have been left trailing from the mantel of Santa Claus.

I never cared much for Consolidated Edison myself (it's tough to love an outfit to whom one is forced to pay money every two months, throughout life) and in 1950 I considered taking drastic action. Returning from an extended trip to Europe, I discovered they had turned off my gas and electricity.

"I'd surely like to know," I addressed the clerk at headquarters, "how a company expects a person on her first trip to Europe to remember things like paying utility bills."

"Rules are rules, he replied, cold as my gas stove. "This is a large concern and we cannot keep track of your personal problems."

If I had the calm personality of madness, I would have sulked myself into mental torture.

HEARTLESS MONOPOLY

But instead, while it took "Con Ed" three days to reinstall service — the cost in spoiled foods, candles and loss of pride was enormous — I advised everybody who'd listen of what a heartless monopoly the utilities business was. They were neither polite nor considerate of their little family of customers.

Everybody snapped back, "You're telling me," then repeated his own unforgettable grudge against such firms as banks, which bounce checks, department stores which refuse to exchange unused earrings, telephone companies which raise their rates, and so on.

For three days there was a sort of nice normal disgust in the air where'er I walked, and by the time the refrigerator was back in order I had cooled off.

Not so the reserved people. Raised in childhood, no doubt, to be a meek little gentleman, the "Mad Bomber" restrained himself quite well. I thought until today, that he was an exceptional case but now I learn that this sort of grudge-bombing has been going on since — at least — 1912.

It was then, I read in True magazine, that a quiet, solitary sort of man, in Los Angeles also displayed an unknown grudge. He had lost the fingers of his left hand in a mill. He never made much money after that, and he fairly prickled with hate of industry, its salaries and working conditions.

BOX OF DYNAMITE

On a November day he walked into the LA Police Department, casual as Sergeant Friday himself, carrying a large box loaded with 60 sticks of dynamite. He had it rigged so that would explode anytime he removed his hand from the trigger he was holding.

Armed with this and that extreme politeness I'm now so leery of, he demanded in gentle tones that industry be made to raise its wages or everyone simply would be blown to kingdom come.

Well, after much excitement and police heroism, he finally was led off to jail. Always calm, even when he got out of San Quentin 26 years later, he was judged perfectly sane.

No one knows yet what will be the sanity report on the New York "Mad Bomber." It may well be that he, too, will be found mentally sound.

It's a curious business all right. Makes you feel a bit better somehow when somebody explodes at you in a loud violent voice . . . he may be just insane enough to be safe.

River Turns Green— but Dye Is Harmless

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)— St. Patrick's Day is more than three weeks away, but the water may be flowing green in the city system for a few days.

A McClellan Air Force Base official said earth-moving equipment yesterday unearthed a batch of sea dye marker buried more than 10 years at the base. Overnight rains carried some of the exposed dye into a nearby creek.

The water was expected to flow into sacramento river and then into the city filtration plant.

Clergy Trio Present Kohler Offer to Union

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP)—A team of clergymen-mediators last night presented a settlement offer made by the Kohler Co. to Local 833 of the United Auto Workers which has been on strike at the Plumingware Firm for 34 months.

The presentation was made in a 2½ hour meeting of the trio of clergymen and union representatives. There was no announcement made after the session. A union spokesman declined to make public the details of the proposal and added that the union would have nothing to say.

The Rev. John F. Cronin, Washington, D.C., spokesman for the mediators, said the proposal was ironed out at a meeting of the clergymen with Kohler Co. officials earlier yesterday afternoon. Fr. Cronin declined to discuss the offer and said he did not anticipate that details would be made public by any of those involved.

Fr. Cronin has been the only spokesman for the mediators, the company and the union since meetings were resumed yesterday.

Killed Crossing Street

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Anna Shinkevich, 70, of Detroit, was injured fatally Thursday night when hit by a car while crossing a Detroit street. Henry G. Richmond, 20, of suburban Livonia, the driver of the car, was held for investigation.

Can Russia Ever Depend on New Hungarian Army?

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Four months after the Hungarian revolt began the Soviet puppet regime is still trying to restore normality to the unhappy little land.

Red courts are trying and condemning to death various patriots, and Hungary is described in the few reports that filter out as in the throes of a reign of terror.

The Hungarian secret police, hated perhaps even more than the Russians, have been reorganized. They never were dissolved, as the Reds promised.

And now the Hungarian regime says it is setting up the political commissar system in reorganizing the Hungarian army. This is the practice, so familiar in the early days of the Red army, whereby political officers are attached to the superior officers to see that the troops are properly indoctrinated—and to keep an eye on the officers.

Can the Red Hungarian regime reorganize an effective, Communist-trained army? Can the Soviet ever depend on any satellite army it has so patiently installed in Eastern Europe?

NOT ENCOURAGING

The explosion in Hungary and the near-explosion in Poland are not encouraging for the Reds.

The Hungarian army certainly was shattered by the patriot uprising that began Oct. 23. Huge segments of the army melted away or joined the freedom fighters, especially after the Soviet treachery came to light.

The Soviets pretended to withdraw their tanks from Budapest and main centers. But this was only to gain time for reinforcements to pour into Hungary. Then the Soviets struck in full fury Nov. 4.

He was defense minister in the short-lived government under Premier Imre Nagy, the leader deposed by the Russians because he was a Hungarian first and a Communist second.

Maleter and thousands of others who were arrested by the Moscow-installed regime of Premier Janos Kadar fought at impossible odds against the Russians.

Yet Maleter was one of the Hungarian officers trained by Moscow in sabotage and anti-tank warfare. He even used this training to good advantage in the battle against the Russians at Kilian Barracks in Budapest.

Maleter last month was reported sentenced to death by a secret military court headed by a Russian colonel named Avatanov. At the time he was held in the central military prison in Budapest in a cell on the second floor.

Whether he has been executed has not been determined, but his friends think it is only a matter of time until he is killed in the "army reorganization."

Seeing Eye Dog Only Attendant as Blind Pair Wed

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Hubert M. Gregg planned a simple ceremony for his marriage to Mrs. Frances O'Quinn, with only his seeing-eye dog "Buck" as an attendant.

Gregg, a peanut vendor, and Mrs. O'Quinn, both 58, have been blind more than 50 years.

But when news of the wedding was announced, merchants and individuals donated the rings, flowers, punch and cake for the ceremoney and reception. A marriage license was issued without charge.

The wedding had to be moved to the community center to accommodate 125 guests. The double ring ceremony was read by Jack Dillard, a minister of the Jehovah Witnesses.

"Buck," however, kept his honored place as the only official attendant. He'll also go on the honeymoon.

MINNEAPOLIS — The odor of the musk carried by mink is very powerful and disagreeable. To some persons it is more offensive than skunk musk.

'Dimes' Will Supply Millions of Salk Shots

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis plans an all-out winter and spring drive to wipe out epidemic polio this year.

The program was announced yesterday by Basil O'Connor, foundation president. He said he has notified the organization's 3,100 chapters that a third of their shares of the 1957 March of Dimes net receipts could be spent on the drive.

O'Connor said the aim is to give Salk inoculations to 63 million Americans under the age of 40 who still are not vaccinated against paralytic polio. Forty-five million others have received at least one shot.

Nephrosis Group Seeks Volunteers for 'Walk Week'

Volunteers are needed for the National Nephrosis Foundation's "Walk Week" in Pontiac, March 25-30, Stanley R. Allen, state chairman for the foundation, announced.

"We really need these volunteers to make this year's drive a success," Allen said. Volunteers may call ORlando 3-1113 to sign up. Some 400 are needed, Allen added.

"Walk Week" will be a house-to-house canvas by the volunteers for contributions to foundation.

Cannisters will soon be placed in most business places in downtown Pontiac, the chairman said. One hundred children from Hawthorne and Wever Schools have volunteered their services to receive money in the downtown area March 2, Allen reported.

"Any clubs that would like to volunteer their services would be greatly appreciated," he said.

Mayor William W. Donaldson has proclaimed next month "Childhood Nephrosis Month" in Pontiac.

Wilson Testifies Decisions Sound

Mideast, Suez Areas, Revolt in Hungary, Show Need of Arms Strength

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Charles E Wilson said today that "recent events" seem to confirm the soundness of the U. S. decision to maintain "great military strength for the long pull."

Wilson made it clear that by "recent events" he was referring to the Middle East situation and last fall's revolt in Hungary.

The cabinet member appeared at a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Committee but his prepared statement was made public.

He said that the world situation "as it appears at this time seems to dictate somewhat more emphasis upon forces in being and on instant readiness than upon longer-range programs."

Wilson said: "The situation in the Middle East and the Suez Canal area, as well as the events that took place in Hungary several months ago, have added some official complications to our military planning.

"The international situation, as it affects the military program, is difficult to evaluate but recent events seem to confirm the soundness of our decision to maintain great military strength for the long pull."

The Defense Secretary confirmed that the heads of the three armed services originally asked for what he considered "excessive" sums of money for the fiscal year starting July 1.

He said that at about the same time a staff study of a proposed 800,000-man cut in military manpower over a three-year period became public.

Wilson said that a "sudden increase of our military budget by one-third to anything in the order of 48 and one-half billion dollars would be unreasonable and misunderstood all over the world."

But he said also that a "sudden reduction" in the number of military personnel by 800,000 "was and is not justified considering the present international situation."

Wilson said that under the program the President has approved "we will continue to have military forces of tremendous striking power which in my opinion adequately provide for our national security at this time."

These Are Right Puzzle Answers

The following are the correct answers and explanations for Puzzle No. 37 which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

1. BARK is better. A barn may have beauty in the eyes of adults, especially farmers, painters, etc. But everybody, including children, can appreciate the beauty of BARK—birch BARK, for instance.

2. SAY is the choice. Even though a SAY in the firm is small, it represents some personal ownership. Small Pay can represent a job not worth holding. While employes to be disrespectful, it it would not be good for minor is still quite obvious that persons with some SAY, an interest in the firm, would do all they could to keep the customers happy.

3. CORK is more likely. Many fishermen use a CORK as a float on a line which warns of a bite. A Cord would have its uses on the boat, but is not the usual synonym for the fisherman's line.

4. PLUG is correct. Since the boys are friends, it is good psychology if they PLUG or boost each other to the girl, thus raising them both in her estimation. Slug does not fit so well with the statement that the boys are friends.

5. WILL is inclusive. The doctor's Pill is only one phase of the doctor's WILL, that which he wants to do or accomplish. His orders for rest, treatment, etc. would include the taking of the PILL.

6. VERVE is logical. A stamp fan with enough Fever, strong desire, to make converts may still lack the proper approach. One with enough VERVE, marked vigor and enthusiasm, is better equipped to do so.

7. CAN, of course. Movie studios do not actually Ban their own pictures or anyone else's. This is a job for authorized censors. The studio may CAN it, a slang phrase for dispensing with it.

8. STICK is the word. Stock has a broad meaning as a supply, but STICK is specifically a bomb load, or a group of bombs to be dropped in a line across a target.

9. BOOK wins. Unless you know what kind of library it is, you can't choose Look. A new, or beautiful library, would suit LOOK. But for just "the library," lending library, public, school, etc., the word is BOOK. Some people, who don't ordinarily go, would use the library to get hold of one needed BOOK. Most people who use libraries certainly don't go for just one BOOK, but for several.

10. PLAY is wiser. Children who Pray hard and well must obviously have something on their minds, and this is likely to keep them awake. Children who PLAY hard and well will be tired and happy enough to sleep without trouble or delay.

11. SCORE is sure. In the applicable sense, to SCORE opponents would be to scold, berate or give scathing criticism. This would certainly call for retaliation. To Scare an opponent would mean to give him a feeling that he is going to lose; or again, a mere show of power can serve to SCARE some opponents. Chances of retaliation certainly diminish at such a display.

12. JARGON. it is. A child's words mixed with GROANS will certainly convey an intelligible message to a sympathetic mother, anxious for his safety. She'll know something hurts, at least, and he needs attention. JARGON is either gibberish, pure nonsense sounds, or a very special lingo. With a child, it is more likely to be nonsense, not easy to understand.

13. LEAVE is good. Because Cloth, not clothes, is what you weave, you should choose LEAVE. There may be many reasons why she may decide to. They may be unsuited to the new land or she may need to sell them, etc.

14. TOY is more reasonable Since Top is so specific and harmless, you can feel sure that there is very little trouble a TOP can cause. There is many a dangerous type of TOY which it is best to get rid of. Cap pistols, metal trucks with cutting edges, etc., can really be harmful.

15. LEAD is the word. As long as he is a "lone Arab," without anyone to help him, you must choose LEAD. It is obvious that a lone person who must LEAD his camel also had to Load him. So if a person can both LOAD and LEAD a camel with a heavy burden, he is surely more competent than one required merely to LOAD the camel, according to the clue.

16. FROSTY is fine. Simply because no sensible person would "care to" (wish or like to) go out on a very Stormy morning even with a good reason, you must choose FROSTY. A person will go out on a STORMY morning, when necessary, but with reluctance. If someone has a good purpose, or some pleasure in mind, such as skating skiing, etc., he will certainly care to go out on a FROSTY morning. Without such necessity or pleasure, he might well prefer to stay in.

Boy, 14, Discovers a Black Rattler Is Not a Good Pet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fourteen-year-old John Young got an 18-inch black rattler by mail order from Florida 10 days ago. He added it to his collection of six other snakes, two baby alligators, 10 birds, a pet raccoon and an undetermined number of white mice.

The rattler bit John yesterday. His mother Mrs. Dorothy Young applied a tourniquet on his little finger and rushed him to a hospital. No antivenom serum was in stock. Nor was a suction device.

Later a pharmacist located serum in a drug warehouse.

Sees Tiny Town Becoming Major Seaport

Israel Draws Up Big Plans for Eilat

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
For Hal Boyle

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Hanoch Nenner, the energetic mayor of Eilat, usually starts off the day asking his secretary "What's the population today?"

His town is growing so fast he can't keep up with it.

Since November, when Israeli forces broke an 8-year Egyptian blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba, the tiny port has doubled its population of 850 and soon is expected to reach 2,000.

By any comparison it still is tiny. But Israel is making big plans and pinning high hopes on Eilat's future. Israelis envision it as a great shipping and commercial gateway to east Africa and Asia. They see it also as major terminal of a projected overland route across Israel that would be at least a partial alternative to the Suez Canal.

Eilat lies at the head of the Gulf of Aqaba on the southernmost tip of Israel. It is Israel's only access to the deepwater gulf which flows into the Red Sea 100 miles to the south. Israel owns only a six-mile stretch of shoreline around Eilat. Along the rest of the shoreline are Jordan and Saudi Arabia on the east and Egypt on the west.

For Israelis, Eilat's future depends on free navigation of the Gulf of Aqaba for their ships and the vessels of other nations.

For that reason, the Israelis are desperately determined to keep open their newly won "Gateway to the East" with its potentially rich trade with east Africa and Asia.

And for the same reason Israel, for the time being at least, is defying the United Nations by refusing to withdraw from the southern tip of Egypt's Sinai Peninsula which commands the narrow strait between the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aquaba.

To protect its access, Israel set up a naval command at Eilat soon after the November Sinai campaign. She sent two navy frigates from Haifa on the Mediterranean around the Cape of Good Hope to take up their station at Eilat and at the same time sent overland by truck several torpedo boats and landing craft which now are in Eilat harbor.

Last week the Interior Ministry established the port of Eilat and Eilat airfield as official frontier posts for entry and exit from Israel. In recent weeks eight merchant vessels have docked at Eilat, which before November was almost completely idle.

The present port facility consists of one concrete jetty, built several years ago, capable of handling ships up to 4,000 tons. The development program calls for improving the jetty to provide berthing space for three vessels at the same time up to 10,000 tons in size and dockside equipment for the mechanical loading and discharge of bulk cargo such as grain, phosphates and potash.

The closing of the Suez Canal and the simulatenous opening to Israeli shipping of the Gulf of Aqaba accentuated Eilat's potential importance as an alternative to the canal and the route around the Cape of Good Hope as well as an outlet for Israel's products and a possible new route for the supply of oil to Western Europe.

The new Negev pipeline which starts at Eilat and runs to Beersheba in central Israel is nearing completion. This is an eight-inch pipeline intended to carry oil for Israel's own needs. It will carry 800,000 tons annually, or about half Israel's annual consumption.

A proposed larger pipeline from Eilat to Haifa or another outlet on Israel's Mediterranean coast is shaping up as an alternative to Suez as a means of supplying some Mideast oil to Western Europe.

This project already is in the blueprint stage and negotiations are under way for French financing. It is planned as a 32-inch pipeline capable of carrying 20 to 25 million tons of oil annually and is expected to take two years to build.

Israeli shipping agents now are offering to carry shipments from Europe to East Africa ports at savings of 30 per cent under the Cape of Good Hope route, and in about half the three or four weeks required around the Cape. On this route, European shipments are offloaded at Haifa, transhipped across Israel by rail and truck and loaded onto freighters at Eilat.

Israeli industrialists hope to sell potash from the Dead Sea, phosphates from the central Negev, as well as clay, copper and other products to Japan and other Asian nations. Such sales would be only economic when shipped through Eilat. Transshipment of such bulky cargoes through the Mediterranean and around the Cape of Good Hope would be too expensive.

Whatever the outcome of the political dispute over the Gulf of Aqaba, little Eilat is for the present at least a boom town. Warehouses and huge oil storage tanks are being built near the shore. Harbor installations are being improved. Bulldozers are carving new roads and improving old ones.

Phone Call Brings 'Sight' to Blind Pontiac Veteran

How a phone call brought new "sight" to a blind Pontiac veteran was revealed today by Ralph Beers, 34, of 470 Franklin Rd.

Beers, a recent graduate of the Leader Dog School for the blind, Rochester, stroked his German shepherd guide dog, Rinnie, as he told of seven years of helplessness following his total blindness in 1949.

"I couldn't go anywhere or do anything," he said, "unless I could find someone to take me. I just sat around the house most of the time and felt bitter about what had happened."

Beers lost his sight as a result of a practical joke played on him in the Air Force while stationed at Kelly Field, Texas, in August, 1945.

CIGARETTE HIT EYE

He was walking around the base during a hot August day and paused to wipe perspiration from his glasses. A passing friend flipped a lighted cigarette at him and the burning tip struck Beers' right eye.

The deep resulting burn caused a cataract to form which in 1948 blinded Beers' right eye. Not long after, strain affected his remaining vision and his left eye went blind too.

Beers tried every medical cure he could find and underwent six operations, but his sight was gone for good.

NO RECORDS

To compound his troubles, the Air Force did not have his service hospital records, and he was unable to secure a pension.

Without a job, and living with his widowed mother, Beers saw no hope that he could ever salvage his life.

He had heard vaguely of Leader Dogs for the Blind, but he had been told by acquaintances that he would need a rich sponsor to pay the cost of training — and he knew no rich persons.

DECIDED TO CALL

Then, two months ago, Beers suddenly made up his mind to call the Leader Dog School. "I figured what the heck, I didn't have anything to lose by calling."

Pontiac Press Photo

SECOND 'SIGHT' — Ralph Beers adjusts the harness on his leader dog, Rinnie, as they prepare to go outdoors for a stroll. Blinded as a result of a practical joke while in service, Beers spent many helpless years at home because he did not know he could get Leader Dog training without charge. Now he is able to go anywhere, including downtown Pontiac traffic.

To his surprise, he was told that, as a veteran, there was no charge for his training or dog, and even if he had not been a veteran, the school only charged $150, for its $1,250 service, and that could be paid off with as little as $2 a month.

He quickly enrolled and soon was walking with Rinnie through downtown Pontiac traffic.

"We even went into the shops and made purchases or had a cup of coffee in Kresge's basement," he recalled with a smile.

Today, Beers is looking forward to becoming self-supporting. "I'm looking for a job," he said, "as a salesman, or maybe bench work in a factory. I don't care what it is, really, so long as I can make a living and take the burden off my mother."

Georgia Senate OKs Proposal to Ask Ouster of 6 for Racial Ruling

ATLANTA (AP) — A resolution calling for the impeachment of six members of the U. S. Supreme Court was high in the list of unfinished business today as the Georgia Legislature began the final day of the current session.

The proposal passed the Senate 37-11 yesterday after a hot floor debate during which it was denounced as "ridiculous" and a "bit of tomfoolery." It then was sent back to the House for approval of an amendment which deleted one "undocumented" section.

The resolution was introduced in the Georgia Senate by administration floor leader Peyton Hawes, who admitted that it was "not going to turn the world upside down. But with it we say to these Supreme Court justices, 'We read your decision and our blood boiled.'"

The resolution charged Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black, Douglas, Reed, Frankfurter and Clark with "high crimes and misdemeanors" in connection with the high tribunal's sedition and racial decisions.

It asked Georgia's congressional delegation to institute the impeachment proceedings, but delegation members showed little enthusiasm for the proposal.

Bob Considine Says:

Religious Yule Faces Legal Threat

NEW YORK (INS) — The Supreme Court one day may have to rule on whether it is unconstitutional for a public school to give visible notice at Christmastime to the Nativity of Christ.

The school board of Sierra Madre, Calif., which with touching irony means "Highest Mother," voted last week to ban traditional Christmas plays from all Sierra Madre schools. The action was spurred by Mr. and Mrs. George D. Roane of 145 Oak Meadow Rd., Sierra Madre.

Christmas plays, they declared, tended toward "indoctrination" of students because "they were taught what to say." Such programs violate "the spirit of the Constitution," Mrs. Roane added.

There will be another meeting of the school board this coming Monday to consider the action already taken. PTAs are up in arms, generally.

Methodist Bishop Gerald Kennedy of Los Angeles has jumped into the fray. Requests for rulings have gone to California State Attorney General Pat Brown.

In the meantime, public schools in Sierra Madre have as little room for Christ as did that Bethlehem inn.

INTEGRATION PAINS

A Detroit grandmother comments on the pains of official desegregation:

"White children of my childhood played with, and went to school with, colored children. We played in each other's homes, and woe betide any white, or colored, child who was discourteous to adults of either race.

"We managed all this without do-gooders and politicians riding herd on us. We automatically respected the color line at a certain perimeter—i.e.—where mingling might bring discomfort to either race."

Pictures of New York architect Edward D. Stone's striking U. S. Pavilion to be built for next year's Brussels Fair shakes a dusty but ever-pleasant memory of the great New York World Fair of nearly 20 years ago.

I never drive past or fly over that area around Flushing, Long island, without seeing again the Trylon and Perisphere, the playing fountains, the superb restaurants—French, Italian, Belgian, Russian—the great exhibitions . . . the dear, dead days. There's something about a fair . . .

Thirty-five million tourists are expected to troop through the U. S. Pavilion at Brussels in '58. Work starts on it next month.

It will be the largest free span circular building in the world. The two-story pavilion will measure 340 feet in diameter and 95 feet in height. An adjacent theater will seat 1,000.

The exhibition, covering 6½ acres, will sit between, and conveniently separate, the exhibits of the U.S.S.R. and the Vatican.

TREATS FOR TOURISTS

New York City—we learn from the New York Convention and Visitors Bureau, Inc.—is going all out to make the city palatable to the visitor this summer. Its theme is "New York Is a Summer Festival."

Big things on tap: A visit of a replica of the Mayflower, opening of the new terminal at Idlewild, and an all-Picasso exhibit at the Museum of Modern Art.

I'm not sure folks will be able to stand all that excitement in one summer. Maybe we should save the big shocker—the all-Picasso exhibit—until 1958.

But then that might louse up the Brussels Fair.

Stunning prediction in Newsweek: That if Eamon De Valera returns to office he will devote his time to returning Ireland to the British Commonwealth — for economic reasons.

Sounds like one of his opponents speaking.

Agar From Seaweed

CAPE TOWN—A small industry has been established in the Union of South Africa to produce agar and formic acid from seaweed. Agar is used instead of gelatin in the meat-canning industry and in bakeries, and formic acid has various applications in the textile industry and in the manufacture of ice cream.

Detroit Negro Brunt of Attacks

Seamstress Landholder in White Neighborhood Says She Won't Move

DETROIT (AP)—A Negro seamstress who moved into a white neighborhood says she is going to stay in her $10,900 house in spite of demonstrations against her and the white woman who sold her the property.

Ethel Watkins, 30, told newsmen last night, "I am a firm believer in prayer and I pray God that everything will be all right."

Nightly demonstrations against Miss Watkins and the former owner of her house, Mrs. Eugenia Nowak, were called "a disgrace to our community" by the Rev. John E. Coogan, chairman of Detroit's Commission on Community Relations.

Father Coogan issued a statement criticizing "area leaders" after Mrs. Beulah Whitby, acting director of the commission, reported the demonstrations were "beginning to take on serious proportions."

The Jesuit priest, who is head of the sociology department at the University of Detroit, said, "Perhaps the most humiliating phase of the situation is the slowness of area leaders to show the social responsibility called for to oppose and rebuke such ganging up against decent citizens."

Miss Watkins bought the house on a land contract and moved into the neighborhood Feb. 1. At first there was no trouble.

Mass demonstrations started 11 days ago in front of the homes of both Miss Watkins and Mrs. Nowak, who lives two blocks away in the neat, middle-class neighborhood of mostly two-story brick houses.

A few people in the neighborhood, she said, have been friendly.

So she intends to stay and eventually open a sewing shop.

LEAD A HORSE? — This water-bound animal hasn't lost his horse sense — it's all part of the act performed at the Aquafair in Ojus, Florida. Named "De Loro," the diving horse thrills the audience by plunging head first into the pool from the lofty height of 40 feet. "De Loro" doesn't do the feat alone — a bathing beauty is perched on his back when he makes a splash for the paying customers.

Seek to Change Law on Salaries

Would Make Pay Raise Take Effect at Start of Next Fiscal Year

LANSING (AP) — A move to put pay increases voted for Supreme Court Justices on a more current basis got a boost from the Legislature yesterday.

Before adjourning for the three-day weekend occasioned by Washington's birthday, the House approved a proposed constitutional amendment which would put salary rises for the high court into effect at the start of the next fiscal year.

As it is, justices have had to wait up to eight years to start collecting a higher salary voted by the legislature because of a constitutional ban against any increase in the term for which a justice is elected.

If the move wins a senate okay, the proposal will go on the ballot for a statewide referendum, possibly on April 1 if the upper chamber acts promptly.

Currently, all justices but one are drawing the $15,500 annual pay recently approved Only Justice Edward M. Sharpe still is at the old $15,000 pay level.

The Legislature is considering pay boosts for numerous state officials, and there is some chance the justices may get in on another round of increases.

West Virginia Mines Top State in Death Toll

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — "King Coal," not automobiles as in most states, is deadliest in the toll of West Virginia accidents.

The leading soft coal producer in the nation, West Virginia had an average of 37.8 mining deaths per month in 1956 on the basis of figures for the first 11 months — a total of about 450 for the year.

Auto deaths for the year totaled 436.

Patience, Competence — a Diplomat's Best Assets

By International News Service

A 61-year-old career envoy who looks like a quiet-spoken small-town druggist and has a deft diplomatic touch is representing the U.S. in the ticklish on-the-spot negotiations with Israel over the troop withdrawal deadlock.

He is Edward B. Lawson, who has served as American Ambassador to Israel since April, 1954.

In the diplomatic world, Lawson has a reputation for patience and persuasiveness. He needs both in a large degree in Israel where, as U.S. envoy, he is working overtime trying to get Premier David Ben-Gurion to withdraw his troops from the Gaza strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Lawson, according to colleagues, has an air of quiet competence that characterizes everything he does from antique collecting (which he loves) to diplomacy. Lawson negotiated the difficult agreement in Iceland in 1951, which gave the U.S. Air Force the rights to set up an important base.

Lawson is of medium height, with a portly build. He is balding and wears a hearing aid to correct partial deafness.

A native of Tennessee, he is a hard worker who, when not involved in a diplomatic talk, travels around Israel with his wife making speeches about the United States.

Lawson became interested in diplomacy after serving overseas in the Army during World War I. He joined the Commerce Department in 1926 and was sent abroad to South Africa as trade commissioner in the following year.

From there he moved to London and then to Prague, where he was named assistant commercial attache. He joined the Foreign Service of the State Department in 1939, when Commerce and State merged this branch.

Lawson spent the first part of World War II in Nicaragua and then was appointed commercial attache in Turkey in 1944. He was named top U.S. diplomat to Iceland in 1949.

The ambassador and his wife have a farm in Maryland, where they expect to retire in a few years.

New Proposal 'Favors' Guard

Representative Critical of Subcommittee Plan to Cut Training Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Osmers (R-NJ) today criticized as favoring the National Guard a proposal aimed at ending the Army-Guard dispute over active service.

A House Armed Services subcommittee has been considering an Army order requiring six months active duty for all new enlistees, effective April 1. The Guard opposes this basic training requirement for its recruits under 18½, the minimum draft age, contending the order would cost the Guard heavily in enlistments.

Subcommittee Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La) yesterday announced a proposal to end the row. A principal feature would allow the Guard to give recruits under 18½ only 11 weeks training. This arrangement, subject to some circumstances would continue until June 30, 1958, when the six months rule would go into effect for all.

Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, president of the National Guard Assn., promptly endorsed the Brooks proposal, with minor reservations.

Osmers, a World War II veteran who generally has supported the Army position, said in an interview the proposal is "more or less an expression of the National Guard point of view." Osmers said he is inclined to oppose the idea, even if the Army should agree to it.

Present Is a Surprise for the Giver as Well

LA MESA, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Charles Huckabey's husband told her there was a surprise for her in the garage. She went to look.

A monkey leaped at her and started swinging on her arm.

This was a surprise to Huckabey, too. His surprise was a packaged gift.

The monkey was turned over to police, who started looking for its owner.

Royal Kids Hug, Kiss Their Daddy

Charles and Anne Scamper on Plane to Greet Duke

LONDON (INS)—Little Princess Anne and Prince Charles scampered up the steps of a Viscount airliner and welcomed home with hugs and kisses the daddy they haven't seen for 129 days.

The Royal family had a brief but touching reunion at London Airport when Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh flew home after six days in Portugal.

Curly-haired Anne, 6, bounded up the steps first, seconds after the stair ramp was in place. Charles, 8, followed rapidly but with the touch of dignity befitting big brother and the heir to the throne.

The press was kept 100 yards from the plane but, as the royal family drove away in their limousine, spectators caught a glimpse of Anne snuggling down between her parents.

Just as in their four-day state visit to Portugal, the Queen and Duke betrayed no sign they were bothered by the rumors that there was a rift between them.

FORMAL GREETINGS

After the private reunion with the children the Queen and Duke emerged into the chilly London mist to exchange formal greetings with Prime Minister Harold MacMillan and other dignitaries.

While waiting for the royal plane, the children were treated to a visit to the airport control tower. They watched the airliner approach on a radar screen and were allowed to switch on the field's landing lights.

The return of the royal couple ended six days of triumph. They were cheered almost incessantly during their stay in Portugal. Thousands of teary-eyed persons lined the roadside between Queluz Palace and Lisbon Airport when the Queen and Duke left for London.

But Rows Don't Mean Weakening of Family Affection

Most Teenage Brothers, Sisters Get Into Squabbles

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Brotherly and sisterly wrangling has been an accepted thing since Cain slew Abel with a club.

The arguments today don't take such a violent form as that, but our latest youth survey shows that 98 per cent of the boys and 99 per cent of the girls who have brothers or sisters admit they quarrel with them at least once in a while.

"It's not that my brother and I want to fight — we certainly don't," says a 14-year-old girl. "But something always starts us off disagreeing, and there we go."

"Why, I'd think my sister had passed out if she didn't argue with me about something," adds a 15-year-old boy.

Do these disagreements indicate a lack of fondness?

"Of course not," says a Southern youth. "My two brothers are the greatest friends I've got. But, man, do we fight!"

STILL VERY CLOSE

A Western girl says: "You should see the arguments we get into at home. But we are still very close. That has nothing to do with affection."

The survey shows that household chores and responsibilities constitute the main reason.

Thirty-seven per cent of the boys and 29 per cent of the girls interviewed listed these as causing the most difficulty in their homes.

"First, it's who's going to wash the dishes, then which one will put away the card table. By that time, it's a real hot argument," reports a California girl.

CAR-WASHING PRIZE

From a 17-year-old boy comes this twist:

"Every Saturday my brother and I get into a fight over who will wash the car. You see, the one who does the job gets the buggy for Saturday night."

Next in line comes parental favors to one or another of the children in the family. This was listed by 18 per cent of the boys and 22 per cent of the girls.

Nothing seems to upset a teen more than to see a real or imagined special favor or privilege go to a sister or brother.

We don't think this indicates selfishness. It is only that young people want everything to be equal in a family. They believe that each child should share equally, according to his age.

They maintain that if one brother gets a bicycle at the age of 11, it is fair to assume, if the parents can arrange it financially, the other brother has a right to expect a bike somewhere around his 11th birthday also.

EQUALLY LOVED

Children feel that each child in a family must be made to feel as much loved as his sisters and brothers.

As a Missouri girl says:

"I'm my parents' favorite. I've always been. But don't think I enjoy that position. I've been trying to make up for it to my younger sister from the day she was born. Parents have no right to play favorites."

However, the majority of those interviewed believe their parents play fair with all the children in a family.

This was the opinion of 68 per cent of the boys and 65 per cent of the girls.

Friends also are the cause of differences among young people. Twenty-one per cent of the boys and 11 per cent of the girls noted that their brothers and sisters, both older and younger, are not "nice" to their friends.

TREATED LIKE DIRT

"My brother has always treated my friends like dirt," complains a 15-year-old girl. "He should at least have that much respect for me, even though I'm three years younger than he."

They complain that younger sisters humiliate them in front of young men while those old enough try to steal their boy friends. They say brothers, no matter what age, are generally nasty in front of strange young men.

"I've stopped having my dates pick me up at the house," says a sophomore miss. "It's too tough on both my date and me. If only my brother would get married and move somewhere else."

Four out of 10 teenage girls feel that an older brother should bring his sisters in contact with his friends. However, 82 per cent of the boys oppose this idea.

NEVER AGAIN!

"I tried it once," says an 18-year-old youth. "But never again! That sister of mine is just a kid. Maybe when she grows up a little."

Another cause of discontent among children is the lending of personal possessions to one another.

Fifteen per cent of the boys and 18 per cent of the girls listed this as the No. 1 reason for arguments. They said they feared the item wouldn't return in the same condition.

"Never again does my typewriter leave my room," warns a 16-year-old boy. "It has not been the same since my sister borrowed it to do a composition. Why, she broke two keys in two hours. It's a good thing she wasn't allowed to keep it overnight."

Very few of the teenagers—11 per cent of the boys and 8 per cent of the girls—resent having to take care of younger children in the family.

All those not opposed to the idea agreed they have an obligation to do it as long as they didn't have to do it too frequently.

REGULAR SETUP

A girl, 16, says: "My mother and I made an arrangement that once every two weeks I baby-sit with the kids. That's okay with me."

Speaking for the small minority of young people who don't fight with their brothers and sisters, an 18-year-old girl says:

"I can't understand that bit about sisters not getting along. We do fine. In fact, my sister and I try to go everywhere together.

"They must be awfully nasty not to be able to build any sort of relationship in a family."

Child Learns Through Repetition

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Stuart can now stand up in his playpen. In the not dim future he'll be out of it, walking.

Exploring his world, he'll try to handle gas jets, faucets, lamp cords. He'll try to lick other people's discarded candy wrappers and scuff through puddles. He'll want to see what's on top of the sideboard and hear the noise made by tearing your unread newspaper.

Blocking these efforts, his mother will say, "No, no, no."

He'll ignore her. The very first chance he gets, Stuart will be back at the lamp cord. Then his inexperienced mother will think, "Obviously I've borne a disobedient child. This is the showdown." And to show Stuart who's boss, give him a sharp slap on his hand.

Yet all her child guidance books refuse to define Stuart's behavior as "disobedience."

They say: "Because the little child's attention span is short, he can't concentrate on what you have to say. So you have to repeat what you want from him over and over. Indeed, if you want it very much, you'll be smart to get him to repeat it after you."

But Stuart's mother doesn't appreciate this most excellent counsel.

So I'm going to try to make it more impressive.

STORY FEATURE

When Chicken Little rushes about the barnyard warning his friends of impending disaster, his refrain is, "Run, run, the sky is falling and part of it fell on my tail!" The Gingerbread Boy escaping from the various people who want to eat him cries over and over, "And I can run away from you, too, I can, I can!"

Again and again the Little Red Hen uses almost the same words to appeal for help with her bread-making. Always Goldilocks' Bears say the same thing by echoing each other.

We go often, not just once, around the Mulberry Bush. From Jack's fee-fi-fo-fum-ming giant to the Three Little Pigs, huffing and puffing wolf, the characters in little children's stories carefully satisfy their craving for repetitiveness.

I hope Stuart's mother will take this in. If she does, she'll stop resenting it when she has to tell him things over and over.

Instead of seeing his forgetfulness as disobedience, she recognizes it as inevitable in a small person for whom the song makes London Bridge fall down four times. And be able to repeat for him with love.

Milk Is the Best Source

Calcium Will Repair Brittle Nails

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q: "Will you please name some foods which help improve fingernails that are brittle and split and crack all of the time? I know it must be some lack of mineral or vitamin but I do not know which or the foods which contain them."

A. You may need more calcium. Milk is the best source. Cheese and eggs are good too. I suggest you take vitamin D. Without a sufficient amount you cannot properly use your calcium.

Q. "I am writing about my skin. It always has been very oily. I am over 35 and since last spring I have been having some pimples. A doctor told me that they probably come from my scalp. Now I have cleared that up but still have some. What do you think about this?"

A. Often skin trouble comes from an infection of the scalp. It may take the complexion a little longer to clear up. If it doesn't soon, do go see a dermatologist. In the meantime do not touch the pimples.

Q. "I followed your diets very closely. I did weigh 155 pounds but now weigh 135 pounds. I think I must have a small frame as in my 20's I only weighed 98-112 pounds. My measurements are bust 34, waist 29, and hips 39 inches.

"I am short waisted and so still look fat. My stomach muscles are very poor. Is it possible to lose more weight without losing in my face? I will look gaunt. Also can I get a flat tummy again?"

A. You are nearer your correct weight now than you were in your 20's. You were underweight then. Now you should lose only about 5 to 8 pounds. If you will exercise while you reduce it will be helpful. Such a small loss will make very little difference in your face anyway.

Q. "I would appreciate very much some advice about my figure. All of my friends tell me that I am just right but I feel that I should lose some weight or something. I am 21 years old, 5 feet 5 inches tall and weigh 128 pounds. My bust measures 34, waist 32, and hips 36 inches. I know my measurements are off.

"I really would appreciate it if you will answer this in your question box because I read your column every day."

A. Glad you enjoy my column. You certainly are not overweight. You are just a few pounds underweight unless you have a very small build.

Your waist is too large for the rest of you. Take waist-reducing exercises faithfully. Of course this may be partially a question of build but the exercises will help.

Tomorrow: "Must Consider Inheritance in Assessing Build. Figure."

Here's a good exercise for the waist. From this position rotate the trunk, making a complete circle with your body from the waist up. Bend the trunk in every direction.

Cereal Adds Crispness to Cookies

Mrs. Lewis Uses Crushed Cornflakes to Coat Dough

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

For many months we have had this cookie recipe in our files. We know when and where we got it; we've never been able to contact the cook since to find out more about her. But we're publishing the recipe because we know you'll like to try it.

Mrs. Arthur Lewis of Silverside Drive gave us this recipe at a meeting of the Mothers' Club at the Boys Club. So we know she has at least one boy and that she belongs to one organization.

CHERRY WINKS

By Mrs. Arthur Lewis

2¼ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped pecans
1 cup chopped dates
½ cup chopped maraschino cherries
3½ cups cornflakes

Sift dry ingredients together. Combine shortening and sugar; cream well. Blend in eggs, then milk and vanilla. Add dry ingredients and mix well. Add nuts, dates and cherries.

Shape into balls, using a level tablespoon of dough for each cookie. Crush cornflakes and roll each ball in the cereal. Place on a greased baking sheet and top each cookie with ¼ maraschino cherry.

Bake at 375 degrees for 10-12 minutes. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

Elizabeth, Todd Visit Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Producer Mike Todd and screen beauty Elizabeth Taylor have returned to Hollywood for their first appearance in the film capital since becoming man and wife.

Todd reported that Miss Taylor, who was released from a New York hospital Monday after suffering a recurrence of a back ailment, now is "feeling fine."

The couple plans to go soon to Palm Spring, Calif., remain there until April 15 and then leave for France to attend the Cannes Film Festival. He will remain in Europe to produce his next film, "Don Quixote."

Two New Members Welcomed by Guild

Mrs. Wells Hogan and Mrs. Herman Anders were welcomed as new members at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul Lutheran Church held in Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Jack McDaniel will serve as chairman of the nursery for children under 3 years of age. She will be assisted by the Camp Fire Girls of the church.

Auxiliary Gathers

A change in the bylaws of Ladies Auxiliary of Metropolitan Club Spirit Six was read at the recent meeting by Mrs. Ralph Dean. The group met at American Legion Home and accepted Lynda D. Schroeder as a new member.

St. Theresa Guild Chooses Officers

Mrs. Stanley Hustosky was re-elected president of St. Theresa Guild of St. Benedict Church. Other officers are Mrs. Francis Doll, vice president; Mrs. Theodore Compe, secretary, and Mrs. Peter Leonard, treasurer.

Others Read Her Paper on Subway

It Irks Girl to Have Somebody Peering Over Shoulder

By EMILY POST

The following letter comes from a young businesswoman: "I travel back and forth on the subway every day. I usually buy a newspaper at night to read on my way home. However, I can never enjoy reading as I often find myself seated next to someone who looks over my shoulder the entire time trying to read my newspaper.

"Maybe I am being petty to make a fuss over this but it makes me very uncomfortable to have someone peering over my shoulder. Would it be discourteous on my part to say anything to the offender?"

Answer: If there is another seat available, I suggest that you move to it. But you really should fold your paper and stop reading rather than say anything to your unwelcomed reader.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would greatly appreciate your opinion on the following matter. My brother thinks that it is perfectly correct for a person to help himself to a remaining portion of food on a serving dish without inquiring whether anyone else at table would care for any.

"He feels anyone else who wanted it would take it, and therefore it is not incorrect for him to help himself. I believe that this action is extremely impolite and that one should always ask if anyone else would care for it before emptying the dish."

Answer: You are right. It is definitely more courteous to ask, "Would anyone like some of this?" before emptying the dish. If anyone says yes, then he would divide it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and would like to know if it is up to my family to provide the rice that is customarily thrown at the bride as she leaves the church?"

Answer: The bride's family usually supplies the rice, but there is nothing in the world to prevent friends from bringing their own rice or confetti with them to throw at you.

WTHS Busy Rehearsing

By SANDY WHITE

Variety of the old and a bit of the new will be wrapped into one big presentation, called "20th Century Showboat," Feb. 28 and March 1 at Waterford Township High School.

An annual and traditional variety show, presented by the juniors each year, "Showboat" has earned a sensational name for itself by all those who see it.

Different decades from 1900 to 1950 will set the scenes. Through out these scenes will be can-can dancers, a boys barber shop quartet, a jazz combo, Charleston dancers, calypso numbers, etc.

In charge of the 1900's are: Brenda Lewis, Sharon Del Montier, Carole Tynan; 1920's: Nancy Young, Stephanie Hill; 1930's: Dayton Thomason; and 1950's: Jackie Winters and Cleland Charbanneau.

Jim Davis will be narrator throughout the show. In charge of committees are: Harley Arnold, tickets; Janice Barnes, publicity; Sandra Seconder, staging. Senior student directors are Jackie Kosky, Barbara Hutchings and Barbara Tallerday.

Trip Club officers for '57 and '58 were chosen recently. They are: Barbara Johnson, treasurer; Judi Russell, secretary; Harold Golding, store manager. Work began for these officers a week ago.

Beginning next fall, Student Council will manage concessions for school events rather than Trip Club as in the past. Any club or class, throughout the school year, may request a date to take charge of concessions to make money.

Selecting the three mottos to be voted on by the senior class, as their official class motto, are seniors Frank Seed, Dave Struble, Ethan Rogers, Cathern Patterson, Janet Thanes, Barbara Tallerday and Sandy White, chairman.

Y-Teens are going to have a style show, at which time club members will model some of the new spring and summer fashions, compliments of Federals.

Twenty-six seniors lead the A and B honor roll, while juniors are next with 19 students and sophomores with 14. Students receiving all A's are: senior, Frieda Griesbach, and sophomores, Lanny Younger and Carol Grimes.

Student Council and class constitutions are now being revised by the Student Affairs committee. Student Affairs has also created a committee for faculty and students interested in the subject of school spirit.

Wednesday evening meetings find Senior Engineering Club members busy at their creation of such things as model jet engines and remote control cars.

8th Graders Eye Vocal Festival

ROCHESTER — Paul Van Cleve of Geer Associates, discussed the proposed commercial plan of the downtown Rochester section, at the regular meeting of the Avon-Rochester Planning Commission this week. Van Cleve pointed out changes in the plan, from the last meeting, whereby the old mill pond area would be used primarily for recreational purposes. This property is east of the Rochester elevator. He also pointed out the multiple family use in a designated area here and the proposed civic center site.

A communication from Village Clerk Easterle, which stated that the petition submitted by Maurice Watson for the rezoning of both sides of West Fifth street between Pine and Oak streets requesting that it be changed to commercial zoning, was read. This area is now zoned as a multiple family residential district. Following this discussion, Commissioner Elmer LeBlond moved that the change to commercial be made. Lack of support for the motion caused the chairman to declare it void.

A resolution was passed regarding the rezoning, made by William Nieman and F. R. Chapman, that a petition filed with the Village Clerk for the properties be denied. The commissioners voted to give their reasons for the denial.

(1) The property outlined on the petition encompasses properties on both the north and south sides of West Fifth street. They show different uses in the proposed planning toward the master plan.

(2) It is the feeling of the Commission that the property in question is located too far from the present active residential development.

(3) It would lend to additional demands or rezoning along West Fifth street.

(4) It would jeopardize adjacent residential development.

(5) It is the feeling of the Commission that the plan as outlined provides for sufficient commercial development.

(6) It does not lend itself to concentrated group commercial development.

$3,895,477 Hospital Budget Due for City Action Tuesday

"Detailed or not detailed enough," Pontiac General Hospital's 1957 budget is expected to be approved by the City Commission Tuesday night.

Commissioner John E. Carry last night called the plan "too highly detailed" or "not detailed enough" as he waded through 30 pages for a "missing" $15,000.

Carry was one of several commissioners that raised questions concerning the budget at a joint meeting of the commission and the hospital's board of trustees.

INCREASE OVER 1956

The budget calls for an expenditure of $3,895,477, or $869,473 more than the 1956 plan. Trustees attributed the increase to appropriations for the Pontiac General Annex, and increases in salaries.

Missing in the revised budget presented last night was an earlier recommended $2,000 pay hike for the director. Trustees in January rejected the raise, but agreed to a $1,000 increase.

No discussion centered around the hike at last night's session.

Commissioners a week ago asked for the joint session so as to delve into the budget. Apparently, most questions were answered satisfactorily as they agreed to put the plan up for approval Tuesday.

Before adjournment, Commissioner Carry thanked the board for "the thankless job they are performing so well."

Last Port OKs Dock Settlement

Hampton Roads Pact Clears Final Obstacle to Ending Strike

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The last obstacle to settling the East Coast dock strike was removed early today when Hampton Roads longshoremen and shippers agreed on a new contract.

The agreement in Norfolk followed earlier acceptance in Baltimore of a general wage pattern providing 32 cents an hour wage increase over a three-year span.

Settlement in Hampton Roads had been held up because of several local issues.

HELD UP WORK

Failure to reach agreement in Baltimore and Hampton Roads had kept some 45,000 workers in ports from Maine to Virginia away from their jobs after a master contract was ironed out in New York Sunday night.

The contract for Hampton Roads, covering longshoremen in Norfolk and Newport News, embraces most of the features of the general coastwide agreement. These terms include adjustments in wages, hours, welfare benefits and pensions.

Concessions by the shippers on certain local issues apparently paved the way for this morning's settlement. These included a three-week vacation for employes with over six years seniority and additional paid holidays.

Blueprint for Future to Cost Village $9,000; Would Prevent Error

MARLETTE—A complete master plan for water, sanitary sewers, and storm sewers for the Village of Marlette was authorized by the Village Council at a special meeting recently and confirmed at the regular meeting this week.

The master plan, to cost $9,000, would be the blueprint for future work which might take years in completing. However, it would, if adhered to, prevent possible waisted effort. To be included is an elevated water storage tank.

Police Scandal Bared at Tulsa

Commissioner, Chief, 18 Others Indicted in Big Bootlegging Conspiracy

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Police Commissioner Jay L. Jones, Tulsa's highest law enforcement officer, the police chief and a prominent newspaper reporter were among 20 persons indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury.

They were accused of conspiracy to violate federal liquor laws by aiding in the importing of tax-paid liquor into constitutionally dry Oklahoma.

The indictment climaxed seven weeks of work by the grand jury, headed by U. S. Atty. B. Hayden Crawford. He said the jurors had returned only a partial report and will meet again next week. More indictments are expected.

In addition to Jones, others named included Police Chief Paul J. Livingston and Nolen Bulloch, veteran Tulsa Tribune general assignment reporter. Six other Police Department members accused in the report were Jack Gott, Leo Jackson, John E. Cole, Jim R. Harp, William T. Peterson and Oliver Stephens.

Mayor Gejge E. Nowell, citing the "unselfish and meritorious service" rendered by the jury to the Tulsa community, immediately suspended Livingston. Lt. George C. O'Neal was temporarily appointed chief with orders to report directly to the mayor. Norvell said the other police officers also would be suspended shortly.

The single truce bill listed 30 "overt acts" allegedly performed by the defendants. The report detailed instances where it said money was given to police officers, allegedly for protection against raids or arrests.

Government Gives Mrs. Eberle Special Training

Milford Woman Passes 20,000 Hours at Post

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

This is the considered opinion of Major Robert L. Faulhaber, Commander of the Grand Rapids Filter Center.

Mrs. George (Melvina) Eberle, of Milford, has more than 20,000 full hours to her credit working with the GOC during the last four years.

Truly a dedicated woman, Melvina set up the very first 'round-the-clock' posts in Milford and it was one of the first in the United States operating on a 24-hour basis according to records at the Grand Rapids Filter Center.

Reports show that no less than 50 per cent of all of the volunteers in Oakland County were recruited by this remarkable woman.

Melvina was directly instrumental in the establishing of Civil Defense posts at South Lyon, Davisburg Birmingham, Commerce and Clarkston. Another new post will soon be dedicated at Rochester.

When she undertook the job of recruiting volunteers for the Milford post, people were skeptical as to the need for a Civil Defense organization in the area. Volunteers were few, and often she and her husband would stand 12 or 14 hour watches.

MELVINA EBERLE

Despite the discouraging lack of interest at the beginning, Melvina kept up a relentless campaign for volunteers and within 30 days the Milford post was in full swing.

One of the major events warranting operation of the post occurred when a tornado struck Milford three years ago. The observer on duty saw the twister approaching town, called the Filter Center, State Police and the local fire department. This is routine procedure for GOC.

Melvina has traveled more than 14,500 miles at her own expense, establishing posts and she averages three speaking engagements a week for the GOC.

At the present time, government officials feel that Mrs. Eberle is so important to the Civil Air Defense program, that she is being sent to various parts of the country for additional training.

"The seniors honored are among the top one or two per cent in ability in the state," according to John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

"While they did not quite reach the finals of the 1957 competition, their unusual promise deserves recognition," he said.

Find Mechanical Mule Perched in Treetop

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — The Army's mechanical mule, a successor to the jeep, is likely to be found anywhere. This one was found in a tree.

The mule, dropped by parachute from a plane, landed in a giant tree, 40 feet from the ground.

Nixon Cancels Visit to Morocco Territory

PARIS (AP)—Vice President Nixon has quietly canceled a proposed stopover in Rabat, Morocco, in order to avoid any possible wounding of French sensibilities. Morocco only recently won independence from France.

Well-informed French and American sources said today the final taken after the French Embassy in Washington suggested that Nixon first stop in Paris.

Nixon had intended to stop overnight at Rabat on his way to Accra, Gold Coast, for ceremonies celebrating that British colony's becoming independent under the name of Ghana.

Nixon will visit Liberia, Uganda, Ethiopia and the Sudan, in addition to Ghana.

Farm Income Rise Predicted for 1957

CORVALLIS, Ore. (INS) — A slight increase in net farm income in 1957 is forecast by Mrs. Elvera Horrell, extension agricultural economist at Oregon State College.

Mrs. Horrell explained that farm income depends mainly on supply, demand, marketing costs and federal programs.

Surpluses are being attacked by the soil bank program.

The use of farm products has risen in recent years, and the number of consumers is still increasing. The export outlook for 1957 is favorable, Mrs. Horrell said.

She forecast that marketing costs will continue to creep upward this year, but the federal soil bank program, again, will tend to increase farm income.

Colosseums All Right If You Like Modern

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"I don't know how old Jack Benny is," Bob Hope said at the March of Dimes Humanitarian Award dinner for Leonard Goldenson, "but when he was in Rome and saw the Colosseum, he said, 'It's all right if you like modern.'

When I got to New York," added Hope, "Mayor Wagner treated me like a King—he wasn't there. Anyway, I'm loaded, for I signed a new contract with NBC—five years, with a two-week guarantee." He also referred to Frank Sinatra as "Our Ambassador to Australia."

"Majestically she stands, the 34th largest city in the U.S."

They had a tough bunch of kids, he claimed. "We used to take off every holy day, regardless of faith. Even Buddha was a big man in our neighborhood. The way they spoil kids now! When I was a kid, if I wasn't home by 10 o'clock—they'd rent out my room. When I went home and saw my old fourth grade teacher, she said, 'Blessed be to God, it's you. I thought sure you'd been executed.'"

Miss Robbin Hood, the singer, who has a bright new record ("Kisses" and "Don't Promise Me") was formerly Wendy Waye.

Cat Roundup Paves the Way for Rat Invasion

POMPTON LAKES, N.J. (AP)—Several weeks ago, the Borough Council passed an ordinance licensing cats. Cats without tags were taken to a cat pound.

Now the Council is told rats are overrunning the community.

Mrs. Lillian Petronio last night told the mayor and Council:

"The old-fashioned alley cats will be eliminated because of the ordinance and the rats will survive."

Mayor Jack Allen suggested that Borough Clerk Arthur T.Ridel write to the Board of Health to find out what can be done.

The Council was told that there are rats all over town.

One woman said some rats are getting so bold that they eat out of her dog's food dish.

Process Servers Eager After Sinatra Robbery

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The furor triggered by the invasion of Frank Sinatra's desert mansion by process servers gave increasing promise today of developing sensational disclosures.

The Los Angeles county grand jury set the stage for a probe that will take in private detectives, scandal magazine "tip' sources, unethical bill collectors and debt funders.

This is in addition to the hearing along similar lines already ordered for next Wednesday by a state senate committee.

However, for the grand jury it was indicated that indictments would be voted for such offenses as burglary, grand theft and extortion.

The probe is scheduled for Tuesday. At that time, Vern Arnold, of the District Attorney's Bureau of Investigation, and Police Lt. Frank Cunningham will go before the jury's criminal complaints committee with a request for indictments.

Eastern gangsters reportedly have moved into the collection agencies, in particular, and are using strong-arm methods to collect debts and repossess cars. The district attorney's office yesterday interviewed a witness with information so vital that he "might be killed" if his identity were known.

He was questioned in connection with the widening "private eye" investigation.

Philip Wayne Irwin, a private detective, also was questioned. He said that he was one of those who took part in a raid that was supposed to produce divorce evidence against film star Marilyn Monroe in 1954.

By mistake, the raiders broke into an apartment occupied by Mrs. Florence Kotz, who screamed in terror over the invasion of her home. Police were drawn into the affair when someone put in a burglery call.

The scandal magazine, Confidential, published a story on the incident last September naming Joe DiMaggio and Sinatra as among the raiders.

The case took a sensational turn last Saturday when two Los Angeles policemen and an investigator for the state senate committee walked into Sinatra's unlocked Palm Springs home at 4 a.m., aroused him from his sleep and served a subpoena on him.

The committee wants him to tell it all he knows about the raid that went awry.

The singer violently protested the method used in serving the subpoena. He is getting ready to sue Chief of Police William H. Parker and those who served the subpoena.

Wednesday his protest received backing from Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson, who said Los Angeles police work "does not include serving subpoenas in Riverside County, and from State Attorney General Edmund G. Brown, who said that if Sinatra's home was broken into "it is a serious matter. A man has a right to privacy."

Hollywood Headlines

MGM Reportedly Backs Mario Lanza's New Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Although Mario Lanza and MGM parted company under strained circumstances after "The Student Prince" debacle—I get it straight that it is MGM money backing Mario's "Seven Hills of Rome" movie as well as releasing it. Well, he did awfully well for them financially before his trouble.

Actual shooting on "Seven Hills" starts around the first of May in Rome. Mario, however, leaves in April to do the pre-recording.

The first Helen Morgan story you will see will be a movie and not a TV show. Playhouse 90's plan to telecast Helen Morgan's life was called off after Jack Warner and Bill Paley, head of CBS, got together.

I'd like to put up a small wager that Ann Blyth will have the world talking about her performance as Helen. I heard Ann do "Why Was I Born?", and different as she is from the real Helen, you almost feel she looks like the famed singer.

On the set at the time were Jimmy McHugh, playing himself as Helen's pianist, Walter Winchell who plays himself, Paul Newman, Richard Carlson and Cara Williams. All were profuse in their praise of Ann. She was so good Director Mike Curtiz kissed her after the scene.

JEFF GETS ROLE

When "Lion in the Sky," Danny Arnold's original, was bought a year ago it was intended for Clark Gable. Now Jeff Chandler gets the Gable role, with Lana Turner as his co-star and Bob Evans, who plays Irving Thalberg in "Man of 1,000 Faces," in a feature role.

The starting date is April 15. William Alland is the producer and Jack Arnold the director. They both were assigned to "Marazibo" for Lana, which has been called off.

Meanwhile, Lana and Lex Barker are still apart, but by the time this is in print I wouldn't be surprised if Lex had returned home and all their troubles had been ironed out.

Stopped by the "No Time for Sergeants" set at Warners to congratulate Mervyn LeRoy on all the academy nominations for "Bad Seed." I told him I thought that there should be a special award for Patty McCormack because a child shouldn't be put in competition with the grownups.

Another thing, I feel there should be a posthumous award for James Dean for "Giant." Only the academy board of governors can change this, however.

Mervyn introduced me to Andy Griffith and Myron McCormack, who are in his comedy—and the lines are really funny.

DEAL FOR PRESLEY

Don't say I told you because it's supposed to be on the QT—but there's a red-hot deal cooking for Elvis Presley at GMG involving the kind of money they keep only at Ft. Knox. The reason MGM gets this chance at Elvis is because Hal Wallis' option for another Presley picture lapsed Monday night.

Speaking of Elvis, his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Presley, have surprised everyone on the set of "Loving You" by looking so young.

Mrs. Presley, who has been ailing, says she has lost 11 pounds and is going to take off 35 more sticking to the food she's preparing herself in the suite her son engaged for his parents at the Hollywood Knickerbocker.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Rosemary Clooney and Jose Ferrer expect their third baby in October. Saw Jose at the Mocambo and he confirmed the story. Rosemary's been keeping a singing engagement in Toronto.

At a ringside table listening to Monique Van Vooren was Arthur Cameron. Earlier he had dined with the statuesque blonde at Chasen's. She sang directly to him.

One condition of Jane Powell's new TV series for David Niven and Charles Boyer is that she doesn't have to do any singing roles.

Court Bans Pickets in Stork Club Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Picketing outside the Stork Club now is barred by a State Supreme Court order.

Justice Irving Saypol, saying that a labor dispute at the East Side night spot is pending before the State Labor Relations Board, ruled yesterday that continuing picketing would be prejudicial and coercive in the case.

Pickets had been marching outside the club for six weeks.

A butcher was fired during a union struggle for recognition as bargaining agent by the proprietor, Sherman Billingsley. This was followed by a strike of kitchen help Jan. 9. Sixty-five waiters walked out the next day. Both groups are members of the Restaurant Workers Union.

The Stork Club has kept operating with substitute help.

Most Costly Toll Road

HARTFORD, CONN.—New England's most expensive toll road, the 129-mile cross-state Connecticut Turnpike, is being built at a cost of close to $500,000,000. It starts at the New York border at Greenwich, roughly parallels old Route 1 almost to New Haven, then veers northward to Rhode Island at Killingsly. Opening day is expected to be December 31.

Ike Has Checkup at Walter Reed; Gets Verdict—OK

Eisenhower made a brief visit to Walter Reed Army hospital yesterday. There, doctors X-rayed his lungs and sinuses.

Later, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that Army doctors found the President to be in fine shape, except for a throat condition causing the cough.

Hagerty said Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the White House physician, described the cough as tracheitis — inflammation of the trachea, or windpipe. He said Eisenhower is using spray to fight it.

The doctors said they believe Eisenhower caught cold while reviewing his second inaugural parade a month ago.

Every time the Yankees make a deal, American League brass throw up their arms as if to say, "that does it, the pennant race is all over."

This week's 13-player trade between the Yanks and Kansas City was no different. It brought about a few anguished words from rival teams.

Everyone figures the key men in the trade were Art Ditmar and Bobby Shantz who went to New York with four others for pitchers Rip Coleman, Mickey McDermott and Tom Morgan plus four others.

The three hurlers Kansas City got, had a combined record of 11-18 last year and took part in total effort in 93 games for the Yankees.

Ditmar and Shantz were the two workhorses for the A's, Ditmar having pitched in 44 games for a 12-22 record and Shantz seeing action in 45 games for a 2-7 record with the 8th place team.

Two of the most outspoken men in the league, Chuck Comiskey and Hank Greenberg, were first to put a "sneaky deal" label on the trade.

Comiskey was quoted as saying, "The Yanks wouldn't make a trade with us, so they go out and get Kansas City's top pitcher and give away nothing."

Greenberg described the trade as a "deal between the Yankees and its farm club."

SAME AS LAST YEAR

Last year, just about this time, the same things were said when the Yanks obtained McDermott from Washington. He was a 10-10 pitcher with the 8th place Senators in 1955.

Actually, McDermott did nothing to help the Yanks to the 1956 pennant. Comiskey admitted this when he said New York gave nothing in return for Ditmar.

Yet at the time of the McDermott trade, Comiskey waved his arms to shout the same thing he is saying now about the Yankees getting stronger.

TIGERS COULD HAVE BEEN OBJECTIVE

Figuring that Detroit, the only club to beat the Yanks in more than half of the 22 games (12 to 10) last year, it seems New York could have been looking for someone to handle the Tigers.

Casey Stengel admitted a short time ago that he fears Tiger pitchers more than anything this year, and it is also interesting to note that none of three hurlers given Kansas City had won a game against Detroit last year.

Yet the Yanks tried to get Baltimore's Ray Moore, whose 5-0 mark was the best against the Tigers in 1956. When this failed the only place to look was Kansas City and Ditmar was the Athletics' most effective pitcher and Shantz the best reliefer against Detroit.

We'd call it pretty good Yankee strategy.

NEW JOB — Ray Boone, ex-third baseman on the Tiger squad made his debut in Tigertown workouts yesterday at the initial corner where manager Jack Tighe may keep him.

Tighe Sets Rigid Rules

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Manager Jack Tighe laid it on the line to the 40-some Tiger rookies who turned out for drills at Tigertown yesterday.

"We're here to work so we can win," Tighe told the group. "To be a winner you have to be ready to win."

Tighe's formula for getting ready to win is lots of work plus a rigid curfew plus a long list of do's and don't's.

Rains which washed out the scheduled opening of training for the rookies Wednesday let up long enough yesterday for afternoon drills.

Besides the drills, rookies got the word from Tighe on the new "get-tough" policy under which the new Detroit manager hopes to steer the 1957 Tigers into a challenging position for the American League pennant.

"I want every man in bed by 11:30 p. m. unless he has special permission to stay out later," Tighe said. "If any player violates that curfew, he either will be on the next train home or face a stiff fine."

No player will be allowed to leave the practice field without permission.

There will be no loitering in the clubhouse. "If you need medical attention ask the trainer," Tighe told his players. "If you don't need it, stay out on the field where you belong."

Lunch will be limited to one sandwich. "We give you good breakfasts and big evening meals," Tighe declared. "At noon, I want each man to eat one sandwich — not one of each kind — just one, period."

"We know what's best for you," he told the rookies, and what's best for them according to Tighe includes little smoking and no trouble.

"There's room on the big club for players here in this early rookie camp," Tighe said in holding out hope for the youngsters, "but it's up to you to see if you can make the grade."

Lindsay Scores Two Goals on Canadien Ice

Detroit Still Leads Montreal by 8 Points in NHL Race

MONTREAL (AP) — Two fast goals in the final period by Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay held the Montreal Canadiens to a 3-3 tie in their National Hockey League game against the Detroit Red Wings last night.

The tie made nine the magic number for Detroit from now on. Any combination of nine — Detroit victories or Montreal defeats — would clinch the title for the Red Wings. They have 14 games left to Montreal's 13.

The Canadiens held the lead twice last night. The first time when Rocket Richard beat Detroit goalie Glenn Hall at 8:37 of the first period.

Montreal went ahead again on Henri Richard's goal at 12:58 of the second period before Howe and Lindsay pushed Detroit to a short-lived margin in the final frame.

Howe also collected two assists to boost his season point total to 74 — a seven-point margin over Montreal's Jean Beliveau in the individual scoring race. Beliveau failed to get a point last night.

Cage Fix Is Suspected

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Is a new gambling scandal brewing in college basketball?

The official was not named. Neither were the games he worked, but the story vividly recalled the gambling revelations that rocked the sport in 1951 and earlier in 1945. Then players on many top teams, notably CCNY's 1950 National Collegiate and NIT champions, were involved.

While it has been generally recognized that betting on college games has increased the last several years, no players were reported involved in a betting coup the Register said occurred last week.

The Register said that Minneapolis gamblers were suspicious of the unnamed official because "they suspect him of assisting in betting coups by using his whistle to control the point spread—the number of points by which a game is decided. A sudden last minute splurge of betting on a game last week was mentioned—a splurge in which the bettors are said to have made a killing."

At least two Iowa schools received telephone calls recently from Minneapolis, the Register said, asking whether the official was scheduled to work a game.

Some 35 players from not only CCNY, but Long Island University, New York University, Manhattan, Bradley, Toledo and Kentucky were involved in the 1951 revelation of fixed games.

Back in January, 1945, five members of the Brooklyn College team disclosed they had accepted a bribe to throw a game with Akron in Boston. The disclosures came the day before the game and it was immediately cancelled.

Sunday's Fox Hunt OCSC Final Outing

Conclusion of the winter's fox hunting activities for OCSC is set for Sunday in an all-day outing west of Ortonville. This will be the 2nd hunt by the club, and will cover much of the same territory where six red foxes were taken and as many more escaped at the first affair.

Lew Wrenn is chairman and director for the hunt and has invited any hunter interested to take part. All will meet at OCSC, Waterford, at 8:30 a.m. Sunday, leave in a single party. Two roundups are planned before lunch, two afterwards. OCSC snackbar committee will serve a hot lunch at noon.

3rd Title Bout With Saxton

Odds Favor Basilio

Bolstered by assurances from Basilio and his handlers that the champ's once-damaged right hand has completely healed, most boxing men are picking the 29-year-old left hooker from Canastota, N.Y. Saxton has been made a 13 to 5 underdog.

Saxton has assured newsmen he will revert to his old boxing style that earned him a questionable but unanimous decision at Chicago last March 14. When he tried to stand and slug with Basilio in their Sept. 12 rematch at Syracuse, N.Y., Saxton was cut up and stopped in nine rounds.

"I'm going to box him this time," said Saxton after he completed training. "If they want to boo, let them. I've got to think about Johnny Saxton."

Basilio assured all listeners that it won't make any difference what Saxton does because he will be ready for anything. Carmen insists he is in the best condition of his 68-bout career.

The fans, lured by the controversial decision in Chicago and the smashing performance by Basilio at Syracuse, are expected to turn out 9,000 strong. Co-promoter Larry Atkins thinks the gross gate will be "over $100,000" which would be a Cleveland high since 1931.

Radio and television fans will follow the 15-round match on NBC across the nation, but Cleveland and a 100-mile surrounding area will be blacked out on the TV screen. Ring time is 10 p.m. EST.

The fighters will cut into the $60,000 radio-TV fee and also will share the gate receipts with 30 per cent going to each man. Each could get about $43,000 for the battle that was postponed once from an original Jan. 18 date when Basilio injured his hand.

Under the rules of the Cleveland Boxing Commission, two judges and a referee will score the scrap on the "five must" point system. The winner of a round gets five points and the loser four, three and on down. Total points determine the winner on each official's card.

Maples Qualify 25 for Finals

Dominate EML Tank Prelim at Ferndale, Set 5 Records

Completely dominating the Eastern Michigan League swimming preliminary at Ferndale, Birmingham High School's team last night qualified 25 for the loop finals next Thursday night at Birmingham.

Jay Myers' squad broke five records on the way, two each by Pete Sintz and Tom Bechtel, one by Klaus Parsch. Sintz hung up a 24.4 for the 50-yard freestyle and 55.6 for the 100-yard freestyle. Bechtel hit 2:05.7 for the 200-yard freestyle and 1:40.8 for the 150-yard indiv. medley Parsch, a German exchange student did the 100-yard orthodox breastroke in 1.13.6.

Ferndale qualified 10; Mt. Clemens and Hazel Park seven each

Maples had the best times, topped diving, to lead every event.

No prelims were held in the relays.

Hazel Park in Mat Upset of Berkley

A sweep of the final four matches, two by pins, enabled the Hazel Park wrestlers to squeeze out a 27-21 upset victory at Berkley last night in a battle of Oakland County's two leading mat teams.

Hazel Park stretched its win string to three straight and ended a Bear streak that had reached seven in gaining its 8th triumph against three setbacks. The Vikings also got revenge for an earlier beating by BHS.

Farmington dropped its 4th match in six tries losing 44-5 at Williamston and Southfield took all but one match in walloping Bentley for the 2nd time, 47-5, in other meets involving area schools.

Excellent Skiing Promised Tonight for Costume Ball

There is currently very good skiing at Mt. Holly Ski Area.

That was good news today for the first annual costume ball, starting at 6:30 p.m. today. Interesting awards were provided for winners of the combined ski and costume events.

A 14-inch base, topped by two inches of new powder snow provided a good covering for the slopes where all six tows will be in operation. It was expected that between 500-700 would take part. Pall will take place even if conditions preclude skiing.

Game time—8 p.m.

By H. GUY MOATS

Flint Northern's basketball Vikings were hopeful today they could do what no other Saginaw Valley Conference club has been able to do this "Big Year of the Wins" for Pontiac High's championship Chiefs.

Jack Mariette's club, thumped by Art Van Ryzin's outfit earlier in the all-winning SVC season, certainly has been primed and pointed for tonight's battle in Wildanger Fieldhouse, at Flint. While Mariette wouldn't come right out and say it, he left the impression his club was ready to go all out for that upset.

"Well, you know how it is" Mariette commented before returning to his squad following several days fighting the "shivers and shakes."

"Pontiac is still going great guns. It's a tough outfit, that's sure and will be very hard to stop with all the momentum it has gained by its unbeaten string in the Valley.

"But we're going to try to do it."

To all of which Van Ryzin added that he expects Vikings to be as tough as in the first game, where Chiefs had to hustle in the finale to nail the victory. "It had been close for three periods" Art recalled, and added, "we won it in the last quarter. Team is ready and we hope to be at our best all the way, from the very start tonight."

Pontiac will be shooting for its 9th straight Valley victory, and its 12th in overall competition. Only blemish on the PHS escutcheon this year is the 38-33 loss to Highland Park.

Van Ryzin today figured to start big Jim Skinner at forward, at the spot customarily occupied by John Bandy, with Dick Whitmer on the other side. Skinner has been out of action for three weeks following an ankle injury. Hud Ray (128 points), center, Dave Diehm (130 points) and Larry Peet at guards complete Chiefs' starters.

Shoots First Round 67

Palmer Leads at Houston

HOUSTON, Tex (AP)—Young Arnold Palmer, who says his golf is getting better all the time, led the $36,000 Houston Open into its second round today but knew that just one slip could drop him like a rock

The 27-year-old ex-National amateur champion from Latrobe, Pa, took over when the favorites faltered yesterday to whip out a 5-under-par 67 for a one-stroke lead but the margin was too narrow for him to become over-confident.

The 7,200-yard Memorial Park course, longest on the winter tour wasn't so tough as 28 of the field of 158 starting the 72-hole grind above par. But two of the favorites, Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., and Cary Middlecoff of Dallas, had their troubles. Hebert, winner of the Texas Open last weekend, took a 73 while Middlecoff, the National Open champion, complaining that he couldn't buy a birdie all day, soared to a 74.

Thomson, the British Open champion from Melbourne, Australia, who won the Texas International last fall and who was considered a big threat here, lived up to expectations. Thomson had a 68 and had he not missed an 18-foot putt on the final green by inches would have tied Palmer for first place.

Tied for second with Thomson were Demaret, the Texan who registers out of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y.; Buddy Weaver of Houston; Ford, the year's leading money winner from Mahopac, N. Y., and an amateur, Phil Rodgers of Houston.

My golf has been much better the past month," Palmer said. "I started playing good at Phoenix."

TEST YOUR BASEBALL KNOW-HOW . . .

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

The star lefthander won 11 of his last 14 decisions to finish the year with 20 victories against 13 defeats. He had an earned run average of 2.86, third best in the league.

In a game against the Milwaukee Braves, Antonelli was on the mound when Giants' Manager Bill Rigney had to make a quick decision.

(Key: (R) highthanded; (L) lefthanded.)

BILL RIGNEY

Would you:

a. Have Antonelli intentionally walk Thomson?

b. Let Antonelli pitch to Thomson?

(June 10).

Result: A—Antonelli remains in the game and intentionally walks Thomson. He then retires Andy Pafko (R), batting for Bruton, on a pop fly. Giants pick up another run and win 5-3

A New Edition of Wilt!

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania, the home state of Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain has come up with a smaller edition of the 7-foot sharpshooter who has already outscored his well-publicized predecessor.

Monday night, Bobby Mullery, of St. Vincent Catholic High in nearby Plymouth, scored 92 points to break The Stilt's unofficial single game record for Pennsylvania high school's by two points. Last night, just to prove it wasn't any mistake, Bobby scored 65. Monday, Mullery made 41 field goals which also smashed The Stilt's previous state mark of 36.

The 6-foot senior has paced Plymouth to a 23-0 record this season. His 92-point performance helped bury Sacred Heart of Plains, Pa., 128-38. Last night Mullery led his team to a 116-62 victory over Marymount of Wilkes-Barre and the Wyoming Valley Catholic League championship.

Earlier in the season, Bobby did not approach his guided missile windup. His season average is 40 points a game. Chamberlain averaged 50 points an outing for 16 games when he starred at Philadelphia's Overbrook High.

Chamberlain still holds the state's three-year high school mark with a 2,252 total hung up before he graduated in 1955 and went on to Kansas University. This edged a 2,222 record made by Tom Gola who later went on to star at LaSalle College and the Philadelphia Warriors before going into the service.

In his high school career, Wilt was in the 70s twice, the 50s once, the 40s 22 times and the 30s 14 times. His low was 12.

Prep Title Dreams at Stake Tonight

Championship dreams are destined to come true or go up in smoke tonight for ambitious Oakland County area prep basketball teams.

Avondale and Troy in the Oakland B Legaue and Clarkston in the Wayne-Oakland Conference put all their hopes on the line in one jam-packed evening.

Clarkston, which has gained steady momentum after a slow start, guns for a share of the Wayne - Oakland championship when troublesome Holly invades the Wolf den.

The Broncos started co - leader Northville on the way down and could prove a big thorn for Clarkston in its final league encounter. Northville hosts non-league Thurston before closing out against West Bloomfield.

Avondale, trailing Troy by one game as the two pace-setters swing into the last night of Oakland B action, hopes for an assist from Lake Orion.

Orion, the hot-and-cold quintet which knocked Avon out of the lead a week ago, entertains Troy while the Jackets are visiting Clawson. The fate of the league race hinges on the outcome of these two games.

Walled Lake attempts to hurdle dangerous Farmington on its way to a share of the Inter - Lakes crown. Co-leader Berkley is expected to have no trouble with cellar-dwelling Van Dyke.

Strong Ferndale comes to Birmingham for a meaningless Eastern Michigan League contest with the Maples. East Detroit has already clinched the trophy.

Ortonville heads for Imlay City to meet the unbeaten Spartans, who have salted away the South Central Conference diadem.

Hughes Still Leads

Prep Point Race Close

Trampoline Expert Adds Flavor to Trotter Show

Area sports fans will be treated to a stellar added attraction Sunday night when the Harlem Globetrotters invade the Pontiac High School gym for the 2nd straight year.

Accompanying the Trotters here as part of their halftime vaudeville act will be Dick Albershart, 25-year-old trampoline expert who has won just about every available national title.

Albershardt, former Indiana University gymnast, was the national collegiate trampoline champion in 1955 with 284 out of a possible 300 points, the highest score ever made by a winner.

Since that time Albershardt has appeared on nation-wide TV shows in addition to performing in the 1956 Olympic Games at Melbourne, Australia.

Other vaudeville acts will add extra spice to the show, not to mention the fabulous Harlem wizards and the preliminary basketball sham between the PRM's (press and radio men) and the VIP's (very important persons).

Mikes Face MC St. Mary

St. Michael and Mt. Clemens St. Mary, scheduled to play in the same district basketball tournament, will get a preview of each other tonight when the two squads clash at Pontiac High School.

St. Mary has an unimpressive 5-10 record, but one of those victories was a cherished 55-50 decision over a strong Utica quintet.

The Mountaineers have been inconsistent this season, as their narrow win over weak Royal Oak St. Mary testifies, but the Mikes can rest assured that they will have their hands full.

Forward Barney Peltier, who has scored 252 points, is St. Mary's top point-maker. Another scoring threat is guard Perry DuBay, who has tallied 139 points, mostly on long set shots.

St. Mike dropped its last start, a 46-42 loss to Orchard Lake St. Mary. The Shamrocks finished 3rd in the Suburban Catholic League and carry an over-all 8-4 mark.

The Mikes defeated MC St. Mary in the 1956 district tourney at Pontiac High in their last meeting. Both teams return to the PHS district in March.

Chief Tankers Eye 2nd Valley Victory Today

With only two dual meets remaining on the season's schedule, including today's test with Flint Northern, here, PHS aquatic team, probably faces its final chance for a 2nd victory against the Vikings. Windup meet is with Saginaw High here, March 1, and the Trojans (7-1) are now just behind Arthur Hill's unbeaten SVC defending champs. The Jacks have already sewed up the 1957 dual title (8-0).

Chiefs' only SVC win was the 60-38 victory over Northern. They are again rated an edge on the visitors. This is a 7:30 p.m. meet.

Dennis Simonson, Chiefs' unbeaten individual medley star, is shooting today for his 9th straight win in his favorite event. He will also swim in the 200-yard freestyle. One other switch in lineup will send sophomore Denny Roberts in the 100-yard "fishtail" breaststroke after a fine 1:12 workout yesterday.

In other Valley meets today Hills entertains Bay City Central; Saginaw High is at Flint Central.

Ex-Champs After Elks Keg Lead

By CHUCK ABAIR

Former champions will be in abundance here Saturday and Sunday as local Lodge 810 holds the 6th weekend of its Michigan Elks Bowling Tournament.

No less than four former individual winners will be returning in hopes of turning in repeat performances. Several ex-champs have already been eliminated in the current event.

Les Rothbarth, one of Pontiac's all-time great keglers; Walter Mitchell and O. Sorenson of Ann Arbor and Owosso star Mark Wietzke will all be battling for a chance to overtake the leaders, some of whom have led since the tourney began.

Their chief aim is to dump Detroiter John Gavie from his top spot in both singles departments. His 691 and 724 scores have paced the meet since the 2nd day.

Rothbarth swept both divisions in 1952 with 671 and 701. Mitchell tied with Reuben Grover of Saginaw last year in actual pinfall with 656. Grover has already been eliminated. Wietzke copped the handicap crown in 1955 with 706.

Sorenson was part of a doubles duo which took both divisions in '55 with 1267 (actual) and 1348 (handicap). He will have a new partner this year. A new handicap record of 1374 has been set this term while 1217 has been the last actual.

There will be no former team winners competing this weekend but several strong contingents are expected to make bids for the five-man event leads held by Dickie's Service of Pontiac with 3201 and 2832.

History will be made Saturday when the 1st Upper Peninsula bowlers ever to enter the tournament make their initial appearance. They hail from Sault Ste. Marie. Others scheduled for action are from Ionia, Alma and Mt. Pleasant.

One of the biggest attractions of the entire eight weekends of competition is on tap for Sunday at 3:30 p.m. when Rothbarth, Sorenson and Mitchell all bowl on the same squad. Rothbarth will team with Joe Bonfiglio, another local veteran, in doubles play.

The recent donation of a $100 building bond for the doubles handicap winners has added some added incentive to the keglers. Total prize money is now $14,590.

"Pontiac Day" in State Keg Tourney

Sixteen bowling teams comprising some of this city's outstanding keglers will trek to Saginaw Saturday to compete on "Pontiac Day" at the Michigan State Bowling Association Tournament.

Two teams each representing Drewrys and Strohs top the list of Pontiac entries.

Others taking part will be J & I Pattern, Sam Benson's, Oakland Machine, Gridiron Bar, Green Lake Rest Haven, Pool's Lumber, Jack's Bar & Grill, GMC Coach Material, Rappy's Clothing, Huron Cleaners & Shirt Laundry, Huron Bowl and Service Window Cleaners.

Mansfield won $400 in the state meet last winter by finishing 3rd in singles. Croteau gained high local notice recently with a 700 series and starred in the Captain-Sponsor tourney here.

Koprince has had two 700 series at different alleys and helped spark Sam Benson's to a 950 team average. Vaccaro carries a 199 average. George paced Strohs to a big team showing a short time ago with a 690 series.

Some of the other local stars going to Saginaw are Bob Gormong, Ed Stemmer, Len Viallas, Dan O'Day, Dick Shoun, Wally Johnson, Bill Leigh and Russ Dickman.

All 24 alleys at the Saginaw tourney site have been reserved for Pontiac at 9:30 p.m. Four other local teams will participate at a later date.

Shaw's, Griff's Whip City Foes

Shaw's Jewelers crushed the GIO Local 594 by a 96-53 margain and Griff's Grill nosed out the Pontiac Merchants, 53-51, in adult City League basketball games last night at Pontiac High.

Don Quayle meshed 20 points to head Shaw's balanced attack. Four other players hit double figures for the Jewelers as they raced to their 12th straight American division victory.

Griff's increased its National loop lead to one full game by edging the Merchants. Chuck Franklin tallied 14 points for Griff's and Ron Guyette made the same total for the losers.

In Class D action at Lincoln, the Northerns surprised the Celtics, 24-20; the Doodlebugs defeated the Elks, 35-28, and Green's P & H stayed unbeaten with a 45-27 decision over the Blue Devils.

Jefferson, Washington Win Junior High Games

Undefeated Jefferson rolled to a 49-31 victory over Lincoln for its 6th win of the season and runner-up Washington trounced Eastern, 48-26, in Pontiac Junior High League basketball games Thursday afternoon.

League standings:

NBA Experiment OK; Celtics Down Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Basketball Assn. has now experimented with practically everything - even midweek afternoon games.

The latest experiment proved a success yesterday, at least from a Boston point of view. Not only did 10,616 fans turn out at Boston Garden to watch a doubleheader, but the Celtics defeated St. Louis 125-112 to stretch their Eastern Division lead to seven full games over Philadelphia. Fort Wayne trimmed New York 120-114 in the opener of the daylight twin bill.

State Seeks Repeat Win Over Gophers

EAST LANSING (AP)—A victory over Minnesota started Michigan State on its steamroller home stretch try for the first MSU Western Conference basketball championship.

Now the Spartans have to beat Minnesota again here Saturday night to keep the drive going with eight straight Conference victories.

MSU, with a 7-3 record, currently is tied with Ohio State for second place behind Indiana, just a notch ahead with an 8-2 mark. Minnesota is fourth with a 6-4 record.

The striving Spartans climbed from the cellar after losing the first three conference games. A 72-59 victory over the Gophers on home grounds started State on its way.

Aragon Found Guilty in Fix

Boxer Leaves Court Denying Charges to Newsmen

The 29-year-old "Golden Boy" was found guilty yesterday of offering another Los Angeles welterweight, Dick Goldstein, $500 to throw a fight scheduled for Dec. 18 at San Antonio, Tex.

The California Athletic Commission said Aragon's 1957 boxing license would not be issued.

After the jury's verdict yesterday, Clayton Frye, secretary of the commission, said that in his opinion Aragon's ring chances were "very doubtful."

Aragon, third - ranking welterweight at the time of his arrest, stared blankly when the verdict was read aloud in the packed courtroom.

He walked stoically from the courtroom as tears welled up in the eyes of his pretty red-haired wife, Georgia. Later he told newsmen: "Honest to God, it isn't so."

The conviction carries a possible maximum sentence of five years in prison, a maximum fine of $5,000, or both.

Brooks Buy LA Park; See Coast Franchise

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Los Angeles will have major league baseball "no later than 1960." So says Brooklyn Dodger President Walter F. O'Malley, one of baseball's better poker players currently dueling with New York civic officialdom.

The pot: A new stadium in Flatbush for the National League champions.

"O'Malley predicted big league ball — not necessarily Dodger variety — for Los Angeles after yesterday's announcement of Brooklyn's purchase from the Chicago Cubs of the Los Angeles ball park and franchise in the Pacific Coast League.

O'Malley said the Dodgers presently plan to operate the Los Angeles team in the PCL. But he indicated again that the Dodgers may move out of Brooklyn.

"The Dodgers will play in a new park in 1960,' he said, adding "if not Brooklyn, then somewhere else."

The complicated deal whereby the Dodgers kicked wide the door to westward expansion of major league baseball worked this way:

The Cubs received the Dodgers' Fort Worth franchise in the Texas League, but not the park or real estate. The Cubs will lease Fort Worth's LaGrave Field from Marvin Kratter, the real estator who recently bought Brooklyn's Ebbets Field.

The Dodgers will end their limited working agreement with Portland in the PCL, and Chicago may assume that agreement, said Cub President Philip K. Wrigley.

Officials of the Cubs and Dodgers will meet soon to discuss the disposition of the players of Los Angeles, Fort Worth and Portland. The Cubs, in acquiring some Fort Worth players, will give up some Los Angeles players to Brooklyn.

Finally, the franchise shifts must have the approval of the PCL and Texas Leagues, but that is expected to be a formality. A poll of Texas League directors was begun by league President Dick Butler yesterday. The Los Angeles club has asked the PCL to meet early in March to consider the franchise transfer.

Financial figures of the wide-ranging deal were not disclosed. The transaction followed the Dodgers' recent sale of their Ebbets Field home, their Montreal (International League) and Fort Worth property for about $4,000,000.

O'Malley explained that the conversion of property into cash gave the Dodgers funds for their share of the $7,500,000 needed to build a new stadium in Brooklyn.

Joins Highway Force, Luck Turns for Worse

GAGES LAKE, Ill. (UP) — Robert B. Storening, a state highway patrolman, has had the worst luck since he joined the force last year.

He had been on duty only a few weeks when thieves stole his automobile which also contained his service revolver. Then recently his new home was destroyed by fire. His wife and two children narrowly escaped injury in the blaze.

Ladies Farm Tobacco

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UP) — Women tobacco farmers?

Right. And good ones, too.

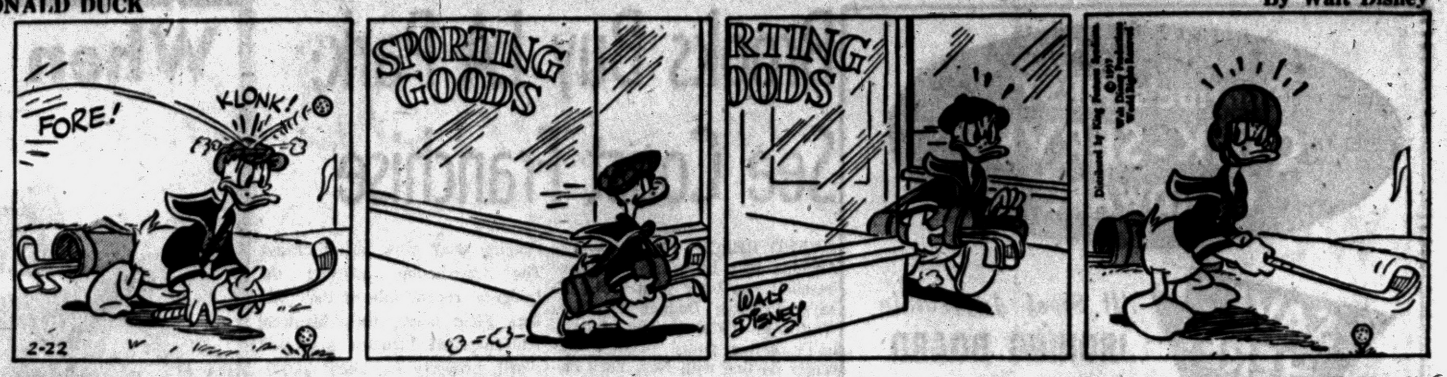

On one day during the burley auctions here last season, crops marketed by three women brought the highest average price. The high quality of their tobacco helped boost the price per hundred pounds by $1.07 over that of the previous day.

Cost of Living Hits Record High

UAW Workers Will Get Raises

Fuels, Gas, Services Drive Prices Up Again for 5th Straight Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government yesterday reported living costs rose to a record level in January for the fifth consecutive month.

The boost means at least a penny-an-hour pay boost for about 1,400,000 workers in the auto, air craft and farm equipment industries. Their labor contracts have clauses gearing pay to the government index.

The Labor Department announced that in mid-January the national living cost rose to a record high under the impact of higher prices for home heating fuels, gasoline and services.

The index reached 118.2 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This is two-tenths of one per cent higher than December; 3.1 per cent higher than the previous January; 16.1 per cent higher than just before the Korean war in 1950, and 99 per cent greater than in 1939.

Commissioner of labor statistics Ewan Clague said about 1,100,000 persons subject to United Auto Workers' contracts will get an additional penny an hour, and 300,000 others will get varying increases.

General Motors announced that 402,000 of its hourly rated employes will receive an extra penny on their first pay days after March 1, and that 109,000 salaried workers will get an additional five dollars each three months, beginning with March.

The AFL-CIO International Union of Electric Workers said 120,000 Westinghouse Electric Corp. employes will receive an extra penny an hour.

VARIES WITH LOCATION

The January record cost of living varied for different major cities. In New York, it was 115.6 per cent of the 1947-49 average; Chicago, 121 per cent; Boston, 119 per cent; Detroit, 120.5 per cent; Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, 118.8 per cent; Kansas City, 119.8 per cent, and Los Angeles 119.6 per cent.

Clague said indications are that living costs have continued to creep upward in February, although there probably has been little change from January levels for food and clothing.

The Labor Department said that food prices were slightly lower in January than in December, and that clothing was sixtenths of one per cent lower owing to seasonal clearance sales. Reduced egg prices were a major factor in the food price decline.

However, the food price drop was more than offset by higher prices for fuel oil and solid fuels, gas and electricity, public and private transportation, medical and personal care, reading and recreation and other goods and services.

Earnings

The Higbie Manufacturing Co. of Rochester, Mich., earned $182,520, or $.64 a share, for the six months ended Jan. 31, President Carleton M. Higbie announced yesterday. This compares with earnings of $140,812, or $.53 a share for the six-month period ended Jan. 31, 1956.

DETROIT (INS) — Parke, Davis and Co. announced yesterday its net earnings increased 23.2 per cent in 1956. Earnings were $17,645,128 as compared with $14,322,015 in 1955. Net sales increased 8.9 per cent from $123,113,244 to $134,092,736 last year.

Dividends totaling $1.80 a share, including a year-end extra of 15-cents, were declared in 1956 as compared with $1.55 a share the previous year.

BALTMORE (INS) — Record net income of $26,478,671, equal to $5.26 per common share, was earned by Commercial Credit Co. in 1956. Earnings the previous year amounted to $26,-104,930 or $5.22 on a smaller number of shares. Commercial's finance companies acquired receivables last year of $3,387,-087,994, compared with $3,677,241,749 in 1955.

NEW YORK (INS) — The Pennsylvania Railroad reports its earnings dropped last month despite higher revenue. The gross climbed more than $4 million to $82,174,389, but net income dropped to $507,265—equal to four cents per common share, compared with income of $582,306.

NEW YORK (INS) — J. C. Penney Co. reported yesterday record sales last year of $1,291,867,000, a gain of almost six per cent over 1955. Net earnings climbed to $46,780,772, or $5.68 a share, compared with $46,139,608, or $5.60 per share, a year earlier.

Israel Sending U.S. Withdrawal Plans

ty about the contents of the Ben-Gurion proposals, sources close to the government said there was no doubt that they reiterate the necessity for effective security guarantees before Israel would agree to a military withdrawal.

MODERATE STAND

Ben-Guiron, pressed by Eban, was believed to have decided on a more moderate stand for several reasons. But such a toning down of previous demands, flatly opposed by both right and left wing political parties, could cause an Israeli government crisis.

Eban, reliable sources said, will be allowed greater authority in the new negotiations in Washington.

These were some of the reasons given for what some informants said was an increasingly conciliatory view in the Ben-Gurion cabinet:

1. Above all, Israel does not want to jeopardize her relationship with the U. S.

2. Israel does not want to be the cause of anti-Jewish feeling in other nations.

3. Despite the obvious differences between the President and Congress on the sanctions issued, Ben-Gurion is too honest to take advantage of the situation.

THOUGHTFUL ANSWER

"It was not with a light heart that I gave the answer I did to the President of the United States," he said, "but out of a deep sense of responsibility that rests on the representative of this small nation in its hard and bitter struggle for survival against many who seek to destroy it."

Meanwhile, in London a new Anglo-American clash loomed today over the Middle East.

London newspapers warned that sanctions against Israel "must be averted."

And a number of Conservative and Labor members of Parliament warned that the British people will not tolerate economic sanctions against Israel, even if President Eisenhower proposes them.

But in Taibei, Formosa, a Foreign Ministry spokesman today said Nationalist China is prepared to vote in the U. N. Assembly for economic sanctions against Israel to force Israeli troops out of Egyptian territory.

"I hope we don't have to discuss the question of pressures against Israel," said Dr. Kiang Yi-seng, "but we are prepared to back economic sanctions."

Raviolo's men are now working on revolutionary changes in seats. Ventilation through the seat is at first only likely to show up on a few models. Seats will also be made more adjustable for individual needs. He does not think rearward facing seats for passengers will ever be popular.

Accident reports from the expressways and turnpikes reveal the growth of the rear-end collision. "The answer to this is a warning device which will operate so as to allow for safe deceleration," he reports. "All the elements for such a system are known and in use."

Radar would be involved in such a system.

Mobile Takes New Step to Cut Racial Incidents

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The city commission has taken another step to try to prevent further racial incidents.

It offered a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for bombings or cross burnings on private property.

An ordinance was recently adopted specifically outlawing cross burnings. The bombing of occupied dwellings is punishable by death under state law.

'Brain' Predicts 1970 Women Will Be Bigger

NEW YORK (INS)—An 'expert' predicts that women are going to be taller, heavier and broader by 1970.

The expert, "Elecom 125," is an electronic computer which made the forecast for Underwood Corp. officials who fed it tons of feminine statistics.

"Elecom 125" forecast the ideal Miss America of 1970 will stand five feet seven-and-a-half, weigh 120 and have bust-waist-hip measurements of 35-and-one-half, 24, 35-and-one-half.

Today's presumed "ideal" woman stands 5 feet six inches, weighs 116, and measures, 35, 23, 35.

Car Crash Pads Catch On Fast

Half New Ford Buyers Include Safety Units in Purchase

DETROIT (AP)—About half of the buyers of 1957 model Fords are ordering special crash pads as optional equipment, the company said today.

"No optional feature ever caught on so fast," R. S. McNamara, general manager of the Ford Division of Ford Motor Co., declared.

He added that more than 400,000 seat safety belts have been sold by Ford since they were first offered 16 months ago.

Fords for 1956 and 1957 included as standard equipment what the company calls a "safety package" — special door locks, steering wheels with dpressed center posts and safety rear-view mirrors.

McNamara said more than 4,000 tests have been made of various types of padding. He added that some 50 engineering employes are working full time on new safety devices.

"Some people have the idea that the public will not buy safety," he said. "We know that is not true."

Jurist Takes Chance of Starting Something

DALLAS (AP) — Most men would agree Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson started a couple of brand new citizens off on the wrong foot.

"In the old countries, women were taught to love, honor and obey their husbands. Well, in this country I assure you the men do most of the obeying," the 80-year-old jurist said at a naturalization hearing.

Mrs. Setusko Kanda Hertman of Japan and Barbara Mae Teague of England, the new citizens, nodded approvingly.

To the Qualified Electors of the City of Sylvan Lake, County of Oakland, State of Michigan.

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned Clerk, will, upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said Township, City or Village not already registered who may apply to me personally for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Thirtieth day before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at my office Monday, March 4, 1957—last day the Thirtieth day preceding said Election as provided by Section 498, Act No. 116, Public Acts of 1954, from 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m. on said day for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors in said Township, City or Village as shall properly apply therefor.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

Elector unable to make personal application, procedure:

Sec. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

Unregistered persons not entitled to vote:

Sec. 491. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made within the (30) days next preceding any election or primary election, (unless such 30th day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday in which event registration shall be accepted during the next full working day), provided that no such transfer shall permit any person to vote in any Township, City or Village in which he had not resided (30) days next preceding any election or primary election.

Entertain 150 Cubs at Annual Scout Banquet

More than 150 children were entertained when ventriloquist Sagebrush Shorty and his partner, Skinny Dugan, attended the annual Blue and Gold Banquet of Cub Scout Pack 22 recently.

Eight dens comprised of 56 Cubs and their families brought the total attendance to 200. Each den provided a potluck dinner for themselves in the hall decorated in blue and gold with place-cards and centerpieces made by the Cubs.

Yul Brynner Expected to Return to Television as Star-Director

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — ABC announced new heavy TV artillery: "Mystery Street," to be filmed on an "A" basis by MGM for a January start.

"Father of the Bride" and "The Thin Man" also are ABC possibilities.

MGM's about given up plans to make a TV series of "Min and Bill," feeling it will be impossible to duplicate even a fraction of the impact of Marie Dressler and Wally Beery in the originals.

MGM's TV burners are "Andy Hardy," "Dr. Kildare," and a possible 100 — yes, 100 — series available among MGM's tremendous trove of famous film characterizations.

As for ABC, it claims it now is the No. 2 network after CBS, with a slight lead on NBC.

TALENTED GIRLS

NBC probably will wind up with Gisele MacKenzie's services and, if so, will pair that talented gal with another of the same, Dinah Shore, in alternate weeks.

ABC-TV has the official opinion Yul Brynner will be a star-director there when he gets back to TV . . . He started in TV in the pioneer, or Fayesie age, as a director (Stork Club Show, etc.)

Variety worried editorially if Mike Wallace's "Nightbeat" type of interview might be proper ABC-TV network fare for the "Stix." Variety team for hicks, or non-big-city folk . . . Variety will learn there are few "stix" left in this informed day.

"Mayerling" paid $50,000 to Audrey, $25,000 to Mel. So at least someone got something out of it.

COLORCASTING SET

ABC-TV is getting ready for colorcasting in '58, when it guesses color-TV will be worth an adman's budget.

Gabe Meinhardt replaced Tom Lockard (going solo) among Godfrey's all-fired Mariners.

Riker Island Inmates Get Time Off for Aid

NEW YORK (AP) — At least 81 Rikers Island Penitentiary inmates who aided victims of the Northeast airliner crash Feb. 1 will be rewarded with shorter terms.

John C. Maher, chairman of the City Parole Commission, said yesterday his agency is following recommendations by Correction Commissioner Anna M. Kross that the prisoners get time off for their "heroic actions."

Maher said the commission felt the prisoners "certainly deserved some form of recompense" for rescue work after the accident which took a toll of 20 lives.

The airliner was bound for Florida with 101 persons aboard when it crashed on the penitentiary island in the East River.

To Direct Blue Cross

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. Brooker L. Masters of Fremont, has been named medical director of Michigan Blue Cross effective March 18. He succeeds Dr. Harry Becker, who recently resigned for health reasons.

'Joe Stalin' Walks Unnoticed in City

Actor Maurice Manson, a striking double for the late Soviet ruler, emerged from a big limousine yesterday at 7th and Broadway, heart of the downtown area. He strolled for several blocks wearing an exact replica of Stalin's marshal uniform, complete with hammer and sickle on the epaulets.

There were a few double takes among the passers-by, but most looked at him as if Stalin was something you see every day. At one corner, he inquired of a policeman:

"Could you tell me please how I find FBI? I joost come here from Russia and don't know my way yet."

The policeman, playing it straight-faced, said he wasn't sure of the location but asked "Stalin" to wait a minute while he looked up the address in his map book. The officer courteously spelled out the directions.

ASKS FOR PRAVDA

Next stop was a news vendor's, where the actor asked if he could buy a copy of Pravda.

"I'm sorry," the vendor replied matter-of-factly. "We are not allowed to carry any Russian papers — not even the Daily Worker."

As the film actor walked towards Pershing Square, downtown hangout of winos, hoboes, outdoor checker players and soap box radicals, he was accosted by a habitue who was well along on the grape.

"Hey, buddy," the wino yelled, "how about buying another serviceman a drink. I was in the first World War."

250 Grants of $1,000 for College Students?

LANSING (AP)—Creation of 250 scholarships to Michigan colleges, each worth $1,000, has been proposed in bills submitted to both houses of the Legislature.

The proposal would put into action the recommendation of Gov. Williams, who called on the Legislature to appropriate a quarter of a million dollars for college scholarships for the 1957-58 fiscal year.

Sen. John B. Swainson (D-Detroit) and Rep. Edgar Currie (D-Detroit), sponsors of the measure, also went along with the Governor's suggestion that 25 of the grants be set aside for Hungarian refugees or unnaturalized immigrants from other Communist dominated nations.

Scholarships would go only to Michigan residents with high school diplomas who have not yet reached the age of 25. Winners would be selected by an 11-member scholarship commission on the basis of competitive examinations and financial need.

Introduce U.S. Bills for 35-Hour Work Week

WASHRINGTON (AP) — Bills were introduced in Congress yesterday by Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) and Rep. Roosevelt (D-Calif) to reduce to 35 hours the maximum work week in interstate industries.

The present level is 40 hours.

McNamara and Roosevelt said the bills should be given early consideration because of "increasing mechanization of industry on the one hand and the rapid growth of population on the other."

2 Phone Firms Merge; No Increase in Rates

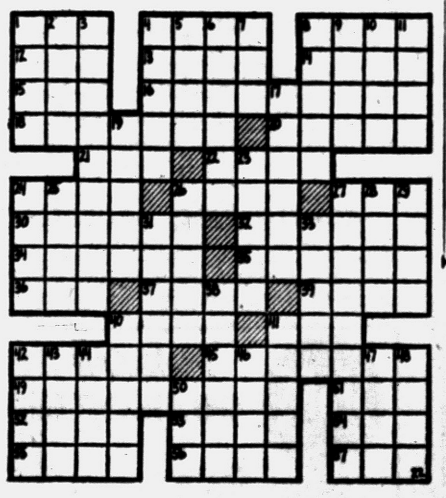

LANSING (AP)—Merger of the Union Telephone Co, and the General Telephone Co. of Michigan has been approved by the State Public Service Commission.

The commission yesterday authorized the enlarged firm to retain the name of the General Telephone Company, stipulating also that there be no increase in rates, in accordance with the merger agreement approved by stockholders.

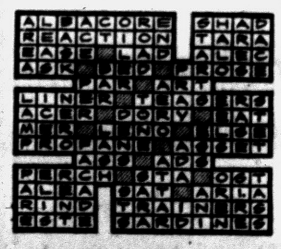

Both firms operate in the Lower Peninsula.

8 Canine Police to Aid in Controlling Crowds

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore's squad of eight canine cops has been particularly helpful in coping with mob scenes.

Police sent to a pool hall recently took the dogs with them and moved in on the crowd milling around in front. One man shinned 14 feet up a drain pipe and another scaled a cigarette machine and perched on top.

Musty Records Clear U. S. General of Profiteering Charge 200 Years Ago

NEWARK, N. J. (INS) — An American general accused of profiteering in wartime has finally been cleared—200 years late.

The charges had been leveled against William Alexander, later Lord Stirling of Basking Ridge, N. J., who led the Revolutionary armies in several important battles and camped with General George Washington at Morristown, N. J., in the terrible winter of 1780.

Scandalmongers accused Stirling of profiteering on an army contract during an unsuccessful British attempt to capture a French fort at Niagara in 1755, the second year of the prolonged French and Indian war.

Not so, says Dr. Theodore Thayer who has sifted the musty records.

LOWEST RATES

Dr. Thayer, associate professor of history at the State University Newark College of Arts and Sciences, declared Stirling had tried to give the British forces the best supplies at the lowest rate and had not caused the campaign to fail through profiteering and mismanagement as charged.

The historian said his research showed a manpower shortage, bad weather, and the problem of transporting supplies through the New York wilderness hindered Stirling and his co-contractor. He added:

"A study of the contracts and performances shows more honesty and a better attempt to serve the public than has generally been realized."

IMPORTANT POSTS

Despite the blot on his reputation, Stirling held several important posts in the continental army during the revolutionary war. His covering action against General Howe's superior British forces helped save part of the army from destruction in the Battle of Long Island.

Dr. Thayer declared the rehabilitation of Stirling's reputation is a "sort of birthday present to George Washington. He would have been happy to know that posterity can have a better opinion of his faithful friend and commander."

Washington's Great Decisions

5. To Join the Revolution

After the first skirmishes at Concord and Lexington, the Continental Congress decided the colonies must organize for defense. The first step was the unanimous choice of George Washington as commander of the armies.

Washington sincerely believed himself unfit for the great task. But when he saw that his countrymen thought him the right man, he made his greatest decision. He threw in his lot with the revolution.

The American cause was one of victory and defeat and, finally, victory.

Washington's ragged army drove the British out of Boston. Then they in turn were defeated at New York and Washington began his famous retreat across New Jersey.

The retreat ended in a brilliant victory. Washington crossed the Delaware, surprised the Hessians at Trenton and defeated them badly.

But the war went on and, while the British lived comfortably in Philadelphia, Washington and his small army suffered through the terrible winter at Valley Forge.

Finally, after six years of war, a brilliant move by Washington trapped the British army of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown and forced its surrender. When the treaty of peace was signed two years later, the United States was born.
