First Blast of Winter Shivers Entire State

New Hospital Plan Vetoed

Senate Says No to House Move for More Beds

96 Mentally Retarded Children in Area Wait Outcome of Wrangle

No relief was in sight today for the families of 96 mentally retarded children in Oakland County whose youngsters have been committed to state institutions but remain at home because no space is available.

The Michigan Legislature, frustrated in its sixth attempt in 12 days to settle a dispute over providing new beds, went home yesterday until next week or the week after.

Meanwhile a Pontiac mother of a mentally retarded youth appealed to the lawmakers to "stop bickering and provide more beds."

The two chambers adjourned their second session this week last night and agreed tentatively to return next Wednesday night. But fears that a quorum could not be mustered on Thanksgiving eve stirred some members to seek a delay until the following week.

Once again, a proposed compromise broke down on the question of the state using the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium and the Farmington Children's Hospital.

An attempt was made to put over a five year lease-option-to-buy on the Farmington institution alone. But the Senate balked, asserting that the lease was really an "installment sale in disguise."

'YOUNG TURKS' REBEL

The Senate Republican majority has consistently refused to buy the two hospitals while a House coalition of Democrats and Republican "Young Turks" has demanded they be bought.

A 5th conference committee of House-Senate members failed to agree and a 6th was named to meet before the legislators return.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) today called on Gov. G. Mennen Williams "or one of his supporters" to say what would happen to the present patients at the Oakland sanatorium and the Farmington hospital if the state buys the two institutions.

The 96 youngsters committed in Oakland County are termed "emergency cases" by Probate Court officials.

Mrs. Clifford L. Frazer, of 72 McKinley Dr., is the mother of an 18-year-old youth whose brain was injured at birth. He is still at home despite being committed three years ago.

The housewife called on the Legislature to "stop bickering and provide more beds." She asked local residents to write their representatives in Lansing and demand immediate action.

SITUATION 'INTOLERABLE'

"You can't hang on in an intolerable situation forever—when the rest of the family is upset and nervous, when a smaller child comes in at night and throws himself on the bed," she stated.

(The Frazers' other children include a boy 12 and girl 17, both normal.)

Speaking of the youth who has been committed, she said, "He has nothing to do all day, just stand in the yard and look around. The only way to entertain him is to sit

Orchard Lake Man Dies

Deer Hunter Death Toll Jumps to Eight for State

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

The death toll of Michigan's 1955 deer hunting season jumped to eight today with the second gunshot fatality and the fourth heart attack sufferer the latest victims.

The body of Robert Mattson, of Ewen, was found in the woods 30 miles east of Ironwood. Mattson, who was reported missing Tuesday, had been shot in the back.

State police of the Wakefield Post were investigating the death.

Barney Rule, 64, of Orchard Lake, died Wednesday night of a heart attack while deer hunting in Clair County west of Elbow Lake. After hunting all day he set out in search of a missing companion who eventually showed up. Returning to his trailer, Rule collapsed in his trailer.

Among the wounded was Donald Bateson Jr., 16, of near Gladwin, who accidentally shot himself through the left wrist while hunting in Roscommon County Wednesday.

Clarence Weatherby, 64, of East Tawas, died of a heart attack while hunting in Iosco County.

Lloyd Bladzik, 55, of Filer City, also died of a heart attack while hunting.

Another hunter, 13-year-old Merritt McBride of Mt. Pleasant, was wounded, bringing to 14 the number of persons suffering gunshot wounds.

Two Toledo duck hunters, stranded all night in 22-degree temperatures and 50-mile, winds on a mud bank in Maumee Bay, were saved early today after dramatic rescue attempts by the U. S. Coast Guard.

Suffering no ill effects from their experience were Roy Carney, 65, and Chester Nicholas, 57.

Meanwhile, a hearing has been set for next week in Alger County Probate Court for a 14-year-old Port Huron youth who admitted firing the shot Tuesday that critically wounded Bernard Genack, 35, of Commerce. The boy told state police he fired at Genack from 170 yards, thinking he had spotted a deer.

Genack was shot through the left lung and shoulder on opening day and is still in serious condition in St. Mary Hospital in Marquette.

Scores of hunters found themselves stymied at the Straits of Mackinac last night. High winds forced abandonment of ferry service, delaying both homeward bound hunters from the Upper Peninsula and those headed for the deer-rich woods above the Straits.

Engine Trouble Delays Dulles

Presidential Plane Lands in Bermuda; Eisenhower at Work on Budget

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles landed in Bermuda today. The plane on which he is returning from the Geneva Big Four conference developed engine trouble.

The Columbine III, President Eisenhower's plane, will remain here for repairs and Dulles will continue his journey on a plane being flown from Washington.

At Gettysburg, Pa., President Eisenhower moved today into active consideration of fiscal and foreign affairs.

In the busiest schedule of official business he has had since his Sept. 24 heart attack, the Chief Executive undertook conferences on:

1. The cost and scope of next

year's federal activities with Budget Director Rowland Hughes.

2. The future course of East-West relationships in the light of the Geneva deadlock. Secretary of State Dulles, on arrival, will tell the President the Geneva story in conferences late today and tomorrow morning.

Dulles will follow through tomorrow with a radio and television report on the Geneva developments to the American people.

* * *

Hurrying back from Gettysburg, he will speak "live" from 7:30 to 8 p.m., EST Friday on TV with a repeat performance starting at 11:30 p.m.

Radio will carry Dulles' report at 9:30 and also at 10:30 p.m.

Hunters' Aim Costly

IONIA (AP) — County Engineer Allan M. Williams said Tuesday that hunters cost the Ionia County Road Commission about $1,000 a year by blazing away at road sign targets. He said some markers can be repaired but others are so blasted they must be scrapped.

Big 4 Agree to Avoid Future 'Geneva' Talks

GENEVA (INS)—The Big Four foreign ministers issued a terse, two-paragraph communique last night at the end of their fruitless Geneva conference.

The ministers said they had a "frank and comprehensive" discussion of three items on the agenda — German unification and European security, disarmament and improved East-West contacts.

The second and last paragraph said, "The foreign ministers agreed to report the result of their discussion to their respective heads of government and recommend that the future course of discussions of the foreign ministers should be settled through diplomatic channels."

The announcement took only 134 words to tell what the ministers had done during three weeks of meetings.

Israel, Egypt Pressure U.S. Over Weapons

One Requests, the Other Warns, but America to Act With Caution

WASHINGTON (INS) — Israel and Egypt put pressure on the United States today over weapons of war for the Middle East.

Israel "invoked" the 1950 declaration of Britain, France and the U. S. to support its call for arms from America.

Egypt warned that if the U. S. sells arms to Israel the Arab world may end its friendship for America and Egypt may have to buy more arms from the Communists or other countries.

Israel said arms from America were "essential" to counter-balance partially the huge shipment of military hardware from the Communist bloc to Egypt.

Ambassador Abba Eban presented a specific list of desired weapons to Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. He asked for sale at low prices with lenient credit.

The U.S. is not expected to act on the request quickly, even though Eban said speed was the gent in the face of the swift delivery of Communist weapons to Egypt.

The State Department said the list will be studied by "various agencies" of the government, and Eban added there might be working level conferences of Israeli and American officials before any decision is reached.

LIST TO BE SECRET

Evan asked the secretary to keep the list secret, and Hoover agreed.

Ambassador Ahmed Hussein of Egypt talked with Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen yesterday afternoon, and said Egyptian arms purchases from Czechoslovakia were meant to make up what he called a "lag" behind Israel.

Each side has claimed consistently that the other has an arms lead now.

The U.S. has made it clear it is going to move most cautiously on the Israeli request.

Woman Sees First Bear at Manistee in 3 Years

MAINSTEE (AP) — Mrs. Don Oligney watched from her farmhouse in Pleasanttown Township as a bear sauntered from the woods on the opening day of the hunting season.

The bear headed for the back porch. The family dog showed up, barked, and the bear took off for the woods.

Mrs. Oligney said it was the first bear seen in that area in three years.

Deer Changes His Mind

MASON, Tex. (AP) — E. H. Ulrich of Dallas hadn't given much thought to the opening of the deer hunting season in Texas until a deer bounded out of a thicket and killed itself when it crashed into his car. He drove into Mason, bought a hunting license, returned to the scene, tagged the deer, loaded it onto his car and went on his way.

Storefront Damaged by Wind

SEASON'S FIRST BLAST—Chill weather blew into Pontiac and the rest of Michigan yesterday. Mother Nature apparently went window shopping and became over zealous. She pushed the plate glass right out of a shoe store at 50 N. Saginaw St. Other minor wind damage was reported.

County Expands Vaccine Plan

Salk Polio Shots Will Go to Children 1-14, Future Mothers at Clinics

Beginning tomorrow, Salk polio vaccine will be made available to all children 1 through 14 years of age and to pregnant women, it was announced today by Dr. John D. Monroe, Pontiac and Oakland County health director.

First and second injections may be given now through private physicians. Third injections and boosters will not be given until spring, in order "to achieve maximum effect for the next polio season," Dr. Monroe said.

Clinics will be set up in Pontiac and Royal Oak to administer the vaccine free for those who do not wish to go to a private physician. They will begin operating Nov. 28.

The Pontiac clinic will be held at the county health department, 15 W. Huron St., from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Tuesdays, and 9 to 11:30 a.m. Fridays.

The Royal Oak Clinic will be located in the health center at Fourth and Stephenson Hwy. Its hours will be 9 to 11:30 a.m. Mondays, and 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

Both clinics will continue indefinitely on the above schedule. Additional clinics will be established if the demand warrants them, Dr. Monroe said.

It's Okay to Make Love Over Phone, Bronx Judge Says

NEW YORK (INS) — A Bronx judge has ruled that it is okay to make love over the telephone—although it may have its limitations.

A disorderly conduct charge against Francis Martens was dismissed yesterday after the jurist cited a court of appeals ruling on telephone conversations.

Martens, 42, was charged with disorderly conduct for repeatedly calling Miss Gloria Nunez, 20, for dates and allegedly proclaiming his love over the phone.

Airliner Saboteur Faces Denver Matricide Charge

DENVER (INS)—John Gilbert Graham, 23, accused of one of the most odious crimes in American history, was scheduled to be arraigned in Denver District Court today on charges of killing his mother by blowing up a commercial airliner.

The part time college student's arraignment involved the specific charge that he caused the death of his mother, 53-year-old Daisy King.

Mrs. King was one of 44 victims on a United Airline DC-6B luxury cruiser that exploded in mid-air near Longmont, Colo., Nov. 1.

The well-to-do widow had been insured by her son for $37,500. He was the beneficiary of the policy gotten from an airport vending machine.

Graham admitted when arrested by FBI agents that he packed a homemade bomb into his mother's suitcase shortly before she boarded the ill-fated plane at the Denver municipal airport.

Denver Dist. Atty. Bert M. Keating already has made a preliminary list of 16 witnesses to help prosecution of the case.

Graham's wife, Gloria, 22, a mother of two young tots, rallied to her husband's defense yesterday. She recounted several reasons for doubting her husband sabotaged the airliner.

Mrs. Graham stated her mother-in-law, Mrs. King, herself asked that the insurance be bought from a vending machine while the family awaited takeoff time.

She said Mrs. King signed three policies, each with different beneficiaries. However, her statement opposed that of the FBI agents who found Graham was the sole beneficiary of the flight insurance.

The young mother said further that both she and Graham urged Mrs. King to delay a trip to Alaska until after Thanksgiving.

As for Graham's admission of placing the dynamite in his mother's luggage, the young wife said: "It doesn't seem possible."

FLAT ROCK, Mich. (INS) — A 51-year-old man today was held here in connection with an auto accident, on charges of being drunk and disorderly. His name? Harry Sweet. His hometown? Temperance, Mich.

Troy Resident Killed in Crash

Returning From Hunting, Lester Brockway Hits Parked Truck

Returning from deer hunting, a Troy Township resident was fatally injured early today when he rammed into a truck north of Oxford.

Lester C. Brockway, 51, of 71 Olympia St., suffered a broken neck, Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies said.

The new pick-up truck Brockway was driving struck the rear end of a larger truck, parked off M24, they said.

No one else was involved in the accident. Deputies said the owner of the other truck is Carl D. Fry, 165 S. Parke St., Pontiac.

Brockway was part owner of Elmer's Gas Station, located at 16-Mile and Crooks Rds. His partner, Michael Ford, said he left on a hunting trip Sunday.

Among the survivors are his widow, Winifred; a son, Robert, at home, and a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Sackner, 159 Olympia St.

Uranium Stakers Ready for Dash in North Wyoming

PUMPKIN BUTTES, Wyo. (AP)—North central Wyoming is due for a big uranium rush today.

About 46,440 acres of land was thrown open to entry at 10 a.m. and authorities look for a horde of claim stakers.

Wyoming officials are working out plans for keeping order.

Cold Snap Rides on Gale Winds; Causes 2 Deaths

Cloudy Skies and Snow Predicted for Tomorrow, With More Breezes

Borne on winds with gusts up to 65 m.p.h., the first cold wave of the season whistled into the state and Oakland County yesterday, sending the mercury plunging sharply and causing minor damage.

In other parts of the state, the swiftly changing elements stranded deer hunters, paralyzed shipping and caused at least two deaths.

The Weather Bureau said the state will continue to be lashed by near-gale winds of 20-40 m.p.h. through nightfall today.

Locally, it will be mostly cloudy and cold, as well, the Weather Bureau said. A few snow flurries are expected. High today will be 23-27, low tonight 18-22. It's to be cloudy and continued cold tomorrow.

The fast moving cold wave, which moved in from the Rockies on biting winds, tumbled the mercury here from a mild 59 degrees at 11 a.m. yesterday to 17 at 3 a.m. today.

Winds of gale force swept off the Great Lakes, running two vessels aground, and pushing the arctic air into the north-central region of the U.S. and to the south and east. Five inches of snow covered western New York.

Winds reached 65 m.p.h. in gusts and did not drop below 35 m.p.h. during the afternoon and night.

Salt trucks were dispatched at 10:30 a.m. today by the city and county after police reported roads were becoming slicked by a light snow.

A plate glass window was blown out of a downtown shoe store and sheriff's deputies reported a window shattered at a Dixie highway gas station in Waterford Township.

Minor wind damage was reported from around the county. Main damage was to Detroit Edison Co. power lines.

Crews worked through 2 a.m. today restoring service. Power failure was caused by falling limbs which short-circuited lines, an Edison official said.

Largest area hit was the Independence Township - Orion Township section, where 600 homes were without power for 90 minutes.

Wind-felled trees blocked roads for up to two hours in scattered parts of the county, the road commission reported. Only seven fallen trees were reported however, a spokesman said.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and Consumers Power Co. said their lines, surprisingly, were not disrupted by the winds, either directly or indirectly.

In Pontiac, fallen trees blocked Auburn Ave. and Williams St. for a time before Parks and Recreation Dept. crewmen arrived.

Argentine Marines Called to End Strike

BUENOS AIRES (INS)—President Pedro Aramburu's provisional government cracked down hard today on the General Confederation of Labor (CGT) in an effort to end a largely ineffectual general strike.

The five-day-old provisional government sent two companies of Marines into the CGT's headquarters in Buenos Aires last night, 48 hours after the federation called the walkout.

A few hours earlier the minister of labor had labeled the CGT a "totalitarian and political" organization.

Minister Raul Migone also announced appointment of a federal administrator, Navy Capt. Alberto Patron, to run the CGT until free elections could be held.

The central union organization once claimed six million workers and had been the backbone of deposed dictator Juan Peron's power.

Migone explained in a national radio broadcast that the drastic action was taken to insure a free labor movement in the future.

He said the CGT had to be changed drastically, and that the changes would include the elimination of politics in unions.

Dulles Expects Trouble to Erupt Behind Iron Curtain

By PIERRE J. HUSS

GENEVA (INS)—Secretary of State Dulles is convinced trouble is brewing in the captive lands behind the Iron Curtain. He is convinced the Kremlin fears the effects the ideas of the free world might have on satellite peoples.

* * *

That is why Russia refused to open the door to exchange visits with the West and was anxious to retreat from the "Geneva Spirit" to foster international confidence and trust.

This was disclosed today by an unimpeachable source as Dulles headed for Gettysburg, Pa., to report to President Eisenhower on the failure of the Big Four foreign ministers conference at Geneva. Dulles is less discouraged by the Geneva failure than might have been expected.

The reason is that he feels he has penetrated the guiding motives of the Kremlin policy-makers. Briefly, these are:

THEY DON'T DARE

1. The Russians dare not let their own citizens or the millions in satellite countries come into contact with the prosperity and freedom of the West.

2. The Kremlin leaders believe they would be treading on dangerous ground if they tried to match the West in opening up their way of life, working conditions and technical progress for the inspection of tourists.

3. The Russians felt Allied insistence on freedom was causing mistrust and even panic in East Germany.

Consequently, the Soviets felt it was time to kill off the "Geneva Spirit" openly, assert their loyalty to and support of the Communist puppet regime in East Germany and refuse free elections.

MUST READJUST POLICY

The next step for the West must be to take stock of its position in the light of Geneva and "readjust" its policy line.

Dulles will tell Eisenhower another foreign ministers conference depends on possible developments behind the Iron Curtain.

Dulles doubts the early fall of Molotov from the top Soviet leadership group despite contrary views held by British and French observers.

It was noted that Molotov is going back to Moscow as one of the top Soviet big shots during the absence of Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The West's concern over the satellite situation was one of the reasons the U. S., British and French spoke of the "cruel disappointment" to the German people caused by Russia's stand against free German elections.

Dulles does not believe there will be a resumption of the cold war, as a result of the Geneva breakdown. Obviously he is aware the evaporation of the "Geneva Spirit" will bring back tensions, exasperations and tighter Iron Curtain restrictions.

Whatever the reason, few in Geneva today are mourning the wrecked conference.

Order Inquest in Area Death

County to Investigate Reasons Why Woman Died After Treatment

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem today ordered a coroner's inquest into the death of a Southfield Township woman who succumbed last Friday in a Royal Oak osteopathic surgeon's office.

Mrs. D. W. Campbell, 33, of 17325 W. Fourteen Mile Rd., died about an hour after she entered the doctor's office for treatment of an asthma condition, said Pontiac Attorney William John Beer who asked the inquest on behalf of the deceased woman's husband.

County Health Officer Dr. John D. Monroe will assemble a six-person jury and set a date for the inquest, probably within 10 days, said Ziem. The prosecutor's office will present the evidence.

In the death certificate, Deputy Coroner Dr. E. W. Spohn said the condition directly leading to death was "anaphylactoid shock acute, secondary to intravenous injection of benadryl and adrenalin."

Pontiac Deaths

Theodore Block

Theodore Block, 56, butcher at Lotan's Market, died suddenly Monday at his home, 125 N. Perry St.

He was born in Ypsilanti Nov. 21, 1895, the son of Edward and Emma Block.

Mr. Block came to Pontiac 15 years ago from Washtenaw County. He had worked as a butcher at several meat markets here.

The funeral will be held at 11 a.m. Friday in the Voorhees-Siple Chapel with the Rev. John W. Mulder, associate pastor of the Central Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Lloyd E. Coe

A lifetime resident of Oakland County, Lloyd E. Coe, 58, of 3635 Union Lake Road, Walled Lake, died Tuesday in the Upper Peninsula as a result of a hunting accident.

Born in West Bloomfield Township, he was married to Avis Rice. A grocer and resort proprietor, he belonged to the Commerce Masonic Lodge 121 and was Past Master of the lodge.

Surviving besides his widow are a son, Robert L. of Commerce, a brother, Fred of Pontiac, and two sisters, Mrs. Edmund Dickie of Farmington and Mrs. Clyde Hazen of Walled Lake.

Funeral service will be Saturday at 2 p.m. from Richardson-Bird Funeral Home with burial following in the Walled Lake Cemetery. The Rev. Perry Thomas will officiate.

William John Morgan

William John Morgan, 75, died early this morning at his home, 103 Fairgrove Ave. He had been ill one week.

He was born in Stratford, England Sept. 19, 1879, the son of John and Anne McNaught Morgan and was married in Flint June 1, 1944 to Ella Welch Hotchkiss.

Morgan had been a resident of Pontiac 15 years, coming here from Ortonville. He had retired from working for the Loyal Order of Moose 182 of which he was a member.

Surviving besides his wife are nine children, Mrs. Richard Burke of Chicago, Mrs. Clarence Laatsch of Clarkston, W. Keith Hotchkiss, Mrs. William McCowan and William E. Hotchkiss, all of Pontiac, Mrs. Donald Holcomb, Robert L., Duane E. and Barbara Hotchkiss, all of Oxford.

Two brothers, Alred Morgan of La Mesa, Calif. and Theodore Morgan of Des Moines, Iowa, also survive.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home.

Lawmaker Hits Williams' Action

Owosso's Bentley Says He's Available on GOP List for Governorship

BERRIEN SPRINGS (UP) — Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Owosso) made it clear in a speech before a Republican group last night that he is available as the Republican candidate for governor in 1956.

He said he would prefer to continue as a congressman, but that "If I can help our party, I am available for whatever plans it may have for me."

In a sizzling attack on Gov. Williams, Bentley accused him of finding dozens of problems and then failing to solve them.

He said Williams has adopted a philosophy "which prefers to find emergency, stop-gap solutions rather than to build sound, long-range constructive solutions."

Such tactics were used by the governor in the current hassle over beds for mentally retarded children, Bentley charged. He said Williams took off for a political speech in Drayton Plains the night the Legislature was to adjourn its first special session on the mentally retarded question.

He said the governor didn't return to the capital until five minutes before the Legislature was forced to adjourn at midnight when "He stood in the gallery and quietly watched the program go down the drain for lack of time."

near the Douglas street bridge toppled onto the river bank.

At 17 Allison St., a 25-foot maple crashed onto a residence, but caused only slight damage.

Up to 10 inches of snow fell in the far Upper Peninsula.

State ferry service from St. Ignace to Mackinaw City had to be abandoned when waves, churned by 70-mile-an-hour winds, blew ice and snow into the Straits of Mackinac. Hunters were stranded on both sides of the straits.

Southwest winds reaching 58 miles an hour in gusts blew water out of the Detroit River's Amherstburg Channel, forcing lake freighters to drop anchor.

The two deaths reported were in Detroit. One man was killed when a 25-foot cinder block wall near the river collapsed, burying him. The other died when a sheet of steel roofing knocked him from a 12-foot scaffolding.

Pontiac insurance agents reported a rash of calls this morning with claims for minor damage, chiefly to shingles and storm doors.

Murder Examination Adjourned for Week

Examination of Samuel Vaughns, 33, of 73 Crawford St., held on a murder charge, was adjourned until next week after a 5-hour session in Municipal Court yesterday.

* * *

Judge Cecil McCallum, who is presiding, said that both parties agreed to the adjournment in order to take more testimony.

* * *

It was not decided what day the examination will resume next week. Yesterday, witnesses for the prosecution were heard.

Vaughns confessed to Pontiac Police the murder of Detroiter Willie Henry Oct. 28.

Final Torch Drive Figures Show 111 Per Cent of Goal

BIRMINGHAM — Area residents have scored a smashing victory in community giving with latest tabulations showing $216,534 collected in the UF campaign here.

With returns still coming in, Mrs. J. Rowland Quinn, director of the Birmingham - Bloomfield - Franklin Torch Drive, estimated today that final figures will exceed $223,000, or more than 111 per cent of the $200,485 goal sought from the three suburbs for the Detroit United Foundation.

Mrs. Quinn said the area was again one of the top leaders in the entire metropolitan area in percentage of quota. She based her final figure on actual contributions tabulated, receipts still not fully counted and unreturned reports.

She said an official report of the drive's success locally will be made within the next 10 days by Irving B. Babcock, campaign chairman.

"When we've caught our breath we'll let the people of Bloomfield, Franklin and Birmingham know just how wonderful they were," said Mrs. Quinn.

"There is no question about this being a record-breaking campaign, by a wide margin. But we have at least another week of tabulation and collection of late returns before we can determine the final total with reasonable exactness," she said.

Mrs. Quinn added that anyone who has not been contacted may send their check to 219 Briggs Building here.

Last week's two-day presentation of the Junior League "Follies" earned a net profit of $30,000, Mrs. George Squibb, president, reported yesterday, almost double the $18,000 which the group had aimed for to begin operation of the Birmingham Branch of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic.

However magnanimous the figure sounds, Mrs. Squibb added that this will not be sufficient to cover costs of operating the clinic during the three-year period it is to be sponsored by the league.

"However, it will go a long way in getting organized and was realized through the generosity of our merchants, patronesses and advertisers," she said.

Like all other league projects, members first established the need for a guidance clinic here and will organize and operate it for three years, when it is hoped another organization will take it over.

The clinic will open in January at 386 E. Maple Ave. and will be supervised by Oliva Viola, who has training and experience in this field.

Paul R. Ivan, 27, of Livonia, demanded examination yesterday when he appeared before Justice John J. Gafill on a charge of gross indecency. Arraignment in Circuit Court was set for Dec. 2. Ivan was placed in Oakland County Jail when $3,000 bond was not furnished.

A comparable charge is currently pending against him.

Joseph A. Ward, 42, of 167 Leota, Pontiac, is in good condition at William Beaumont Hospital, suffering possible rib fractures, lacerations of the lower lip and face abrasions, following an auto accident yesterday.

Police said a car driven by Arthur L. Hoover, 25, of 5162 Joan Gay, Pontiac had stopped for a red light on Hunter at Bowers and was struck in the rear by Ward's auto. Ward was ticketed for failure to stop in an assured clear distance ahead.

George M. Rounds

Service for George M. Rounds, 676 Dewey, will be at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with burial arrangements pending. He died at his residence Wednesday.

Retired, Mr. Rounds had previously been with General Motors Building Division for 12 years in personnel. Prior to that he was with Ford Motor Co.

He leaves his widow, Virgil C.; one daughter, Mrs. Roy Rowan of Chicago; one son, George M. of Westfield, N.J.; and four grandchildren.

Lester C. Brockway

Service for Lester C. Brockway, 51, of 71 Olympia, Troy Township, will be at 1 p.m. Saturday at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., under the auspices of Clawson Lodge, F&AM, of which he was a member. Burial will be in Cadillac Memorial Gardens, East.

Mr. Brockway was killed in an auto accident near Oxford this morning while on his way back from hunting. He was co-owner of a service station located at 16 Mile and Crooks Roads.

He is survived by his widow, Winifred H.; one daughter, Mrs. Eugene Stackner and one son, Robert D., both of Troy; and two grandchildren.

Bob Considine Says:

Adlai Abandons Role of Reluctant Dragon

CHICAGO (INS) — Adlai Stevenson is a new man. The Reluctant Dragon of 1952 who was heard to shout, "I'll shoot myself," when the bosses told him he must take the nomination, now enters the arena like a man spoiling for a fight.

His immediate brain trust is now composed of three of the smartest Democratic politicians in the land, Col. Jack Arvey of Chicago, campaign manager James Finnegan, Pennsylvania's secretary of state, and Mayor Dave Lawrence of Pittsburgh. All pros. And ready nine months before the big fight.

The men around him feel positive that if the convention were held tomorrow Stevenson would command at least 500 ballots the first time around. About 630 will be needed to win.

The Democrats have a complicated system of awarding extra delegates to states which went Democratic in the previous election.

"We can count right now on all or most of New Jersey, Minnesota, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Maine, West Virginia, Tennessee—yes, Tennessee—and in fact all the South," a man close to the candidate said today. The speaker was one of the group which made up Stevenson's mind on just which primaries he would enter.

STILL QUIPPING

The years have done nothing to blunt Stevenson's sense of the quip. Bill Lawrence approached him on his makeshift TV and newsreel set at the Conrad Hilton the other day after he had finished his third rendition of his formal announcement.

"Are you going to do it once more, this time for the newspapers?" Bill asked in a manner which somehow was both glacial and friendly.

Stevenson smiled sweetly. "Oh, is that all you want?" he asked. "I was afraid you were going to ask me to change the script to 'vice president.'"

Efforts to have a peaceful Democratic convention in Chicago next August will be made today and Friday. The so-called "loyalty oath" continues to rear its head.

Remember the long hassles over that one in '52? The late Blair Moody, former newsman and senator from Michigan, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and Soapy Williams were the principals who sought to outlaw the remnants of the Dixiecrat group by making every delegation sign an oath promising to support the convention's choice and to see that his name and that of his running mate got on the ballots back home.

Virginia, South Carolina and Louisiana rebelled and filled the hall with some of the most colorful oratory of the convention. They succeeded in watering the Moody resolution into nothingness but apparently did not wholly destroy its roots.

The question will be settled once and for all this week, the Democratic chieftains fervently hope.

They want a "one big happy family" convention next summer as insurance that their candidate will win in November.

FRIENDLY CHICAGO

A visiting New Yorker, steeped in the impersonal ways of the big city's hotels, finds Chicago hotel life somewhat startling.

"What do you have on the luncheon menu?" I asked the lady who answered the phone when I called room service at the Sheraton Blackstone.

"Well, I'll tell you what I'm eating," she said, like an old friend, "I'm eating the most delicious chopped steak I've had in a long time. I got mine medium, just like I like it. First I had me a cup of delicious tomato soup and then . . ."

"Stop!" I shouted in the voice of a starving man forced to watch a cooking show. "Send the same immediately!"

Sharper Teeth Needed in Vandalism Statute

If there ever was proof of need for sharper teeth in existing law against vandalism, it can be found in three summer homes on Cass Lake Front.

★ ★ ★

There, over the last week, two Keego Harbor boys aged 13 and 14 perpetrated as complete and senseless a job of property destruction as ever was reported in this area. In all three homes furniture was slashed, dishes broken, radios smashed and walls defaced with paint and lipstick. In one home paint was poured over a television set. At another the youths were caught ripping shingles off the roof.

★ ★ ★

Most of the persons who answered questions by our inquiring reporter hold that youths' parents are usually responsible for such wanton destruction. None suggested, however, that existing law be stiffened to protect property owners against juvenile vandals. An attempt toward that end was made some years ago but the Legislature refused to make parents responsible for damages beyond $300.

★ ★ ★

Undoubtedly if the Legislature would broaden this area of responsibility, more parents would make sure that their children have proper respect for other people's property.

Republicans to Retain Flexible Farm Support

With farm prices continuing to decline, at least two certainties for 1956 loom on our national political horizon.

One of these is that the Democrats will attempt to make return to rigid 90 per cent price supports an issue in pivotal farm states. The other is that the present flexible farm price support plan will continue to be the backbone of an expanded Eisenhower program to be submitted to Congress in January.

While Republicans concede that farm prices have declined, they argue with strong evidence on their side, that agriculture remains basically sound. It is their contention that farmers' troubles actually are a part of the readjustment from the booms resulting from World War II and the Korean war.

Farmers who have been hurt the most by the price decline are the low income, marginal operators. About 1,500,000 farm families, more than one-fourth of the total farm population, have cash incomes of less than $1,000 a year.

Last April President Eisenhower recommended a program of aid to these farmers. But Congress postponed action until 1956. On October 29 the President, after conferring with Secretary Benson, announced that he would recommend new farm legislation early in January.

The Secretary said this would include purchase of farm products to remove market gluts, stepped up surplus disposal, expanding soil conservation programs, more research, and aid to marginal farmers. Also a possibility is the much discussed land rental plan to reduce basic crop production.

Fortunately it looks as though the Democrats will be unable to win House approval of the Senate passed bill to restore rigid 90 per cent parity. If the bill should pass, it is certain to be vetoed by a President who realizes rigid price supports are largely responsible for existing price depressing crop surpluses.

Chicago's New Airport

Chicago not only has learned but is teaching the lesson that when it comes to airports, there is no substitute for sound advance planning.

The Windy City has opened the first section of its new O'Hare airport destined to have an eventual area of 10 square miles and to be the world's largest facility of its kind.

Back in 1945 it was estimated that the present Midway airport would be handling 8,000,000 passengers a year by 1955. This year's figures actually will be about 9,000,000, making Midway the world's busiest single airport. Its traffic volume thus will exceed that of any two of New York's three big air terminals.

★ ★ ★

The O'Hare Airport is the result of planning on the grand scale. It is designed to handle comfortably the air traffic volume expected in 1975 when the jet age will be 15 years old. By that time it is estimated that at least 25,000,000 passengers a year will be using Chicago airports. Midway can take 6,000,000 or 7,000,000 without too much congestion. But O'Hare is designed to accommodate 30,000,000 a year.

In other words, by careful advance planning Chicago apparently has solved its airport problem until 1985 or 1990.

"Cupid is merely the advance agent for the stork," says a sour old cynic whose liver needs reconditioning.

Double Trouble

David Lawrence Says:

Stevenson Wise to Jump in Early; He'll Grab Off Influential Leaders

WASHINGTON — Adlai Stevenson was wise in announcing his candidacy for president on the Democratic ticket nine months in advance of the national convention. There is a distinct advantage for him in doing so, particularly because he won the nomination last time under circumstances that are not usually considered favorable—he got in at the last minute as the convention brushed aside those who had been engaged in the primary elections in the states.

The main reason why Stevenson will benefit is that he will prevent influential leaders in various delegations from committing themselves to other candidates.

A certain amount of committing is done with respect to "favorite sons" months in advance. So what's important to learn is what the choice will be of each of these "favorite son" delegations when the convention gets to a second roll-call and "favorite sons" have been given a complimentary ballot.

PUT REST AT DISADVANTAGE

By coming out early when no other prominent candidate is in the field openly getting delegates, Stevenson puts any other contender at a disadvantage. The converse of the argument is that the other candidates, however, can concentrate their fire on the leading contender.

Stevenson was not as strong with the various Democratic state organizations before the 1952 convention as he is today. He campaigned extensively, of course, after he was nominated and made the acquaintance of local leaders.

He should do well in the spring primaries, though the party bosses are rarely impressed with the results unless they themselves have had a hand in them.

People who are unfamiliar with politics do not realize that a pre-convention campaign is altogether different from a post-convention campaign. The latter depends on millions of voters, while the former depends on the wishes of a handful of leaders in each of the states.

SECOND CHANCE GOOD

Usually there is a good reason for giving a popular candidate a second chance. In this case Stevenson, it will be noted, was up against a negative tide in 1952 which would have swept any Democrat into defeat. "Communism, corruption and Korea" were enough to beat any respectable nominee, no matter what his intellectual capacity.

But in 1956 Stevenson will stand on his own. He already shows signs of veering away from Truman, which is a mark in his favor. If he could begin to forsake "Trumanism" altogether, it would be even better for him politically.

This advice was offered him in 1952 but he rejected it. He was tarred with the Truman brush. It may be the intervening years now have educated him as to the facts of politics — not to become enmeshed in the mistakes of an administration which is being repudiated by the prople.

Stevenson often is referred to as an indecisive person who cannot make up his mind readily. One reason for this perhaps is the struggle he has with his own conscience—between principle and expediency. He has a sort of split personality because he is trying to reflect the wishes of a split party. For, despite the outward professions of harmony which come so glibly every now and then from the southern leaders of the Democratic Party, there is a fundamental cleavage in it.

The Democratic Party is split on ideological issues. The Republicans have some disaffection, too, but it is negligible in quantity compared with the insurrection inside the Democratic Party.

What would Stevenson have to do to bring back to the national ticket the millions of Democrats who voted for Eisenhower in 1952? Stevenson would have to disprove that he is a radical, and show that he really takes a course in the middle of the road. His speeches so far have not reflected any such change and the metamorphosis would have to be visible to the naked eye of many millions of Democrats who voted the Republican ticket in 1952 because they could not accept the radicalism of the Truman administration.

Tooth Decay Not Caused by Sugar Consumption

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Some readers will recall, I hope, the pieces in this column telling about the conclusions reached by the British Medical Research Council after years of study and experiments on human volunteers, that everyday "exposure" to cold, dampness, drafts and "insufficient" clothing has nothing to do with an individual's susceptibility to the C R I (the English investigators have not adopted this term, but you know what it means, don't we?)

* * *

There is a significant difference between British and American undertakings to find the cause, prevention and/or a remedy for what Yankee nostrum mongers and their subsidized "scientific" investigators persist in calling "the common cold."

The difference is that British expeditions return. American expeditions just fade away and are never again heard from.

From time to time I have expressed here my honest opinion gained from observation and study of the literature, that sugar does no direct harm to the teeth.

SOUND REASON

The sound reason why excessive consumption of sugar, especially by young persons, is objectionable, is that sugar supplies plenty of calories for immediate energy but nothing else to satisfy the requirements for building, growth, functional efficiency, vigor and vite.

An animal, a child, an adult, a soldier or an athlete may make a brief spurt with the shot of energy derived from a cube of sugar, some candy, sweet chocolate, sweetened tea or other sweetened beverage.

But such food will not sustain one who depends on it as the main source of calories in the diet over a period of time.

DULL CHILD

The unhappy child who is permitted to drink pop whenever he wishes becomes dull, inactive and irritable or peevish between drinks. This is attributable, not to the excessive intake of sugar, but to malnutrition.

The child's diet is deficient in protein—the nitrogenous, albuminous part of milk, eggs, meat, fish, cheese, peas, beans, nuts, peanuts, whole wheat (from which nothing has been removed), oats—the food material which is essential for building new tissue, growth.

When more than half the daily calories are derived from refined carbohydrate (starch and sugar or items in which these are the main ingredients) it is almost certain to lack vitamins and minerals which are essential to build and maintain health.

The same British Medical Research Council that quietly carried on and completed the study of "the common cold," has made an extensive, painstaking study of the effects of sugar on the teeth of children.

RELEASE REPORTS

The report of this study, in a monograph The Effects of Sugar Supplements on Dental Caries in Children by Drs. J. D. King, May Mellanby, H. H. Stones and H. N. Green—names that command respect—indicates that a high consumption of sugar had no significant effect on spread of tooth decay.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Though Very Successful in Business, Many Men Are Failures as Fathers

Frank's case is a real American tragedy. Alas, it is occurring all over our land and among our so-called best families, too. "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world but lose his own soul (or son?" Dads, send for the "Test for Parents" mentioned below. Many smart business men are flunking out as parents!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-394: Frank T., aged 24, has just finished four years in the Marine Air Corps.

His father is a wealthy manufacturer who always wanted Frank to follow in his paternal footsteps and operate the family factory.

* * *

But Frank's interests didn't lie in that field, so friction developed, even while Frank was a high schooler.

And after Frank left for college, his father and mother obtained a divorce.

Frank hadn't seen his father for two years, until he recently came back to his home town.

So he called at his father's office, to have a little visit.

"Hello Frank. It's nice seeing you," his father greeted him, and Frank said "Hi, Dad."

After a couple of minutes of casual conversation, somewhat stilted because of the gap that had developed between the two, his father added:

"Well, I must be going now for I have an appointment. Glad you dropped in to see me," and he put on his hat and left.

Frank hadn't expected his dad to roll out the velvet carpet or greet him like a long lost Prodigal Son.

"But it did seem to me he might have shown a little more interest in what I was doing and my future plans," he grumbled.

"So I'll never visit him again. He can go his own way and I'll go mine.

"I can get along without him and he apparently doesn't need me for anything. Isn't that right, Dr. Crane?"

DAD'S FLUNK OUT

Suppose I were to ask you readers to diagnose this case and prescribe a solution. What would you say?

Frank's dad is an educated man. He finished four years of college.

He has made a great deal of money. He operates a large mill.

* * *

But is he a successful father? Or is he flunking out?

Remember, you can be a very talented lawyer or business man or even a topnotch teacher or clergyman, yet not be a successful father.

Indeed, the Bible is full of stories about leading men who weren't very outstanding as dads to their children.

Adam's first two sons feuded until Cain murdered his brother Abel.

Isaac's sons were hostile to each other, especially after Jacob stole Esau's birthright, so maybe Isaac wasn't very successful on my "Tests for Parents" mentioned below.

And David likewise could have profited from those same tests, for his sons feuded with him, as well as with their brothers and sisters. Absalom thus slew Amnon, after the latter had assaulted Absalom's sister.

FATHERS, BEWARE

The Bible says that a rich merchant went to Hades, and then begged Abraham to send a messenger back to earth to warn his wealthy brothers to mend their ways.

Many a modern father may someday feel the same way. After he wins a fortune in cash but is then nursing his peptic ulcer while sitting in a deck chair of a ship, en route to a health spa, maybe he wishes he could roll time backward and win more success in dealing with his children.

If you make enough money for food, lodging and a TV set, the difference between the average wage earner and the millionaire is very slight.

So we better not become too enslaved by business, if in so doing we lose our own sons and daughters. It's a big task to be a successful Dad.

To help raise your batting averages, send for my "Tests for Successful Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

They could have prevented the chasm that stands between Frank and his father.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Wants to Solve Problem of Run-Away Husbands

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Just about everything has been brought to attention in this column, but this is a new one.

What are we going to do about run-away husbands? I am employed with a young couple who have four little girls under four years old. It was a happy family, but without daddy it isn't. What can you say to a child when she asks, "Is my daddy coming home today?"

With all the crime already in this world, this could be a good start to more . . . a mother cannot do everything alone.

There must be something all of us can do to help these people so that the daddies can find their way back. If not, mothers are going to be asking state help or placing children in homes. This can be helped.

'Carless Lady' Requests Bus Service to Eastview

Since there are so many homes in the Eastview Subdivision on Mt. Clemens and East Boulevard, I think a city bus line should run out that way.

We that do not have cars need transportation to and from town even if it's only every hour or so. Can't we have a trial bus run anyway to see if it's successful?

A Carless Lady

Hal Boyle Says:

Bandaged Hand Attracts Leers, but No Sympathy

NEW YORK (AP) — The surest way to lose all faith in human nature is for a man to get a black eye or a broken hand in a small household accident.

Nothing turns an optimist into a cynic faster. The reason: No matter how simple or logical your tale of woe is, neither friend nor foe will believe it.

In fact, if you do hurt yourself at home, you might as well tell a great big whooping fib about it. Most people may still regard you as a liar — but they'll at least credit you with being an imaginative liar.

I'm in a position to know. Recently I received two tiny chip fractures in my starboard flopper while supposedly safe in the refuge of my rented castle.

* * *

The injury was a small one, but 10 days, two X-rays and three doctors later I found myself wearing an aluminum splint — "might as well be on the safe side" — and a bandage big enough for a wounded elephant.

In my office a friend who I am sure would readily lend me $1,000 if I really needed it took one look at the bandage and asked what had happened.

HEARTLESS REACTION

"Oh, just a little household accident," I told him, feeling I shouldn't upset his day with worry.

"You mean a little household argument," he replied heartlessly. "Maybe that'll teach you not to talk back to your wife."

* * *

I made a dignified mental note never to borrow $1,000 from him, even if he begged me on his knees.

When the second fellow solicitously inquired about my injury, I murmured something about "fall off a ladder."

"I'll bet you got it falling off the wagon," he remarked.

The third man didn't even bother to ask. He felt he already knew.

"Don't tell me you caught it in a door," he said, "unless it was a swinging door."

After a number of others stopped me to find out the reason for the bandage, I gave up hoping for sympathy. I realized that people don't want the real truth in such cases. They are looking for entertainment.

The wilder the tale you tell the more they respect you.

I told one man a fellow stepped on my hand when I bent over to retrieve a woman's handkerchief, and he nodded his head and said, "I'll bet the woman didn't even thank you."

* * *

I told another inquisitor I had hurt my hand merely by setting down on it, and he answered, "You know I heard of a guy who did that and actually broke five bones in his hand. Imagine—five bones."

Still another questioner was satisfied when I told him my hand wasn't hurt at all — I was just wearing the bandage to pay off a bet.

"How did I break my hand? Why, defending a lady's honor, but please don't ask me whose," I crisply informed a middle-aged secretary. I felt a little guilty when she patted my shoulder and said:

"Bless you, there aren't many men like you left in this world."

(Editor's note: Enough of this quibbling. Tell us the real truth. How did it happen?)

(Boyle's note: Well, if you really must know, I banged my hand against the wall deliberately — so I'd have an excuse to get out of carving the Thanksgiving turkey this year.)

(Editor's note: Knowing how lazy Boyle is, we'll accept this story as gospel truth.)

We have so many friendships that . . . Remind us of the past . . . And friendships make us happy but . . . How many of them last? . . . How many of them linger for . . . A season or a year? . . . How many last still longer now . . . Or quickly disappear? . . . Oh, there are friends who promise us . . . That they will never fail . . . Not even if we make mistakes . . . It Would Frighten Even the Sphinx

DAR-ES-SALAAM — When Joe Herron drove his motor scooter right over a long snake coiled in the middle of a Tanganyika highway, he thought he'd seen the last of the reptile.

Shortly, he heard a hissing noise behind him. Thinking he might have a slow puncture, he rode on another 10 miles, to the sound of the hissing. Eventually, he glanced back—right into the eyes of the snake, poised ready to strike. It had coiled itself around the pillion seat. Herron, who is traveling round the world on his scooter, slowed down.

As the machine came to a stop he leaped off and ran for his life. From a safe distance he pelted the snake with stones until it vanished into the bush.

Girl Sunday Schooler Names Self 'McCrockett'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Some youngsters may switch from the Davy Crockett cap to the Mickey Mouse headgear but not Laurel McCracken.

The 5-year-old came home from Sunday School with a promotion certificate. Her Mom and Dad noted that her religious studies had been conducted for a whole year under the alias of — Laurel McCrockett.

Brazil Leads in Coffee

RIO DE JANEIRO — Brazil was the world's leading coffee exporter during 1954 with shipments of 10,918,000 bags of 132 pounds each compared with 15,562,000 bags the year before, Colombia ranked second with exports of 5,754,000 bags, a decline from the 1953 total of 6,632,000 bags.

Oh, Come Now, Teach!

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Back talk from the pupils is being encouraged in Richmond's public school. The pupils' speech is tape recorded and played back as a means of ironing out defects in diction and grammar. Said Mrs. Elizabeth Collier, a fifth grade teacher: "It is noticeable almost immediately that they try to improve their speech and tones."

Aegean Sea Probed for New Sea Foods

PARIS (INS) — French housewives may soon find new, strange kinds of sea-food on shop shelves.

A French scientific research ship, the Calypso, is now probing the deeper reaches of the Aegean Sea with a net that will go as far down as 4,000 meters below sea level.

The experiment is designed to establish at what depth the largest number of fish can be caught. French scientists hold that great schools of fish can be found at depths ranging from 600 to 1,200 meters.

These deep sea regions have not yet been worked on an industrial scale because ordinary nets will not go that deep.

Seek Federal Land

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Residents of nearby West Olive Township plan to petition Congress for release of 7,000 acres of federally improved wasteland in Ottawa County for private residential and industrial use. The group, which met with Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr. (R-Mich), was told a bill now pending in Washington would release the lan only for agricultural development.

Four Daughters Marry 14 Men, Rake in $25,000

MOSCOW—Four dark-eyed Russian sisters — Kometa, Nasart, Torman and Kaipu—have been a great help to their mother, Saidat Sdkhalimova. This peasant woman has been exposed after marrying off the sisters to 14 different husbands in exchange for doweries.

It started in Changyr-Tash village in Kieghiaia, a Soviet Republic bordering on China. When Kometa, the eldest, was 17, Saidat had her marry a man 20 years her senior, who paid the mother $5,000.

The couple moved away but in a few months the mother sent for Kometa and when she arrived, forced her to stay at home. Shortly she married her off to a new husband who paid $1,400.

The first husband was abandoned. Altogether Kometa had six husbands and her sisters several each. The mother collected over $25,000.

Paul Revere's Bell Heard Twice Yearly From Loft

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The first church bell Paul Revere ever cast is onwed by a church which has no belfry. The 912-pound bell stands in the "patriotic corner" of the south transept of St. James Episcopal Church, North Cambridge.

Bearing the inscription "The First Bell Cast in Boston," it had been stored in a loft for 30 years when an alert rector persuaded his congregation to buy it in 1901 — for $400.

It is heard twice a year: at Christmas, 12 times on the stroke of midnight; on Easter, 33 times, commemorating the number of years of Christ's earthly life.

Auxiliaries to Convene

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—About 200 members of the Michigan Assn. of Hospital Auxiliaries are scheduled to meet Thursday at Civic Auditorium for their eighth annual convention, a one-day event.

Speech Research Aided by Dual-Photo Method

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — Rochester University's school of medicine and dentistry has worked out a technique of "double photography" that produces combined X-ray and conventional motion-picture images on the same film at the same time.

Use of the new technique is expected to result in easier methods of research in speech mechanism involving cleft-palate correction.

Li'l Leprechaun Creates Big Stir in Irish Town

BELFAST — There's a leprechaun loose in Dungannо, Various stories are told as to its form and every evening after dark a crowd gathers at Clare Terrace in the Northern Ireland town, hoping to glimpse one of the "little folk".

Children claim to have seen the gnome and some even insist they have stroked it. The leprechaun is said to have moved to a boarded-up vacant house from its old "home" in a disused windmill, demolished recently as a dangerous structure.

Ann McGurk, 10, and Rosaleen O'Donnell, 15, of Clare Terrace, say they have see a strange light when passing the vacant house, while Mrs. Teresa McGurk and a neighbor saw "something small dressed in white." Others have seen "a wee woman in white."

But to home owners in the Terrace the crowds are a nuisance. They have complained to the police.

100,000 Mechanics Needed, Survey Shows

BROOKLYN — A survey by a Brooklyn automotive - chemicals firm indicates that there are about 170,000 skilled auto mechanics and about 230,000 apprentices to handle maintenance and repair of the nation's motor vehicles.

It is estimated that about 100,000 more skilled mechanics and 30,000 to 50,000 more apprentices are needed to fill the nation's automotive repair-and-maintenance requirements.

'Rich' Natives Easy Prey for 'Sharpies'

NAIROBI—East Africans claim to be afraid of what is going to happen to thousands of get-rich-quick natives. They think these country bumpkins are going to be easy prey for sharpers and "spivs" when they come in to see a real city for the first time.

In the current high prices for cotton and coffee, tribes in the backwoods of Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika have found a pot of gold in their fields. Wealth to them no longer is a herd of fat cattle, goats and several hard-working wives, but good crops, money in the bank and plenty of cash for a spending spree at the nearest stores.

Many have never even seen a car and the ancient game of selling a gullible stranger a parked car or a city hall will find them easy marks, Europeans predict.

Magnetism Used to Cure Sickness in Human Body

ROME — By means of what he calls Z-rays, Italian Dr. Memmo Nardi claims to effect cures by what he calls his own magnetism. At a demonstration in Genoa he succeeded in convincing some skeptical newsmen of his powers.

He claims to see into the human body, without X-rays or other mechanical aid. Holding a reporters wrist, the doctor looked down at the surface of a table, then began to speak in what seemed nearly a state of trance.

The subject said that the diagnosis was completely accurate. Dr. Nardi explains that the normal man has a "magnetic quotient" of 80; 120 is exceptionally large, but he himself has a quotient of 380.

"This," he said, "enables me to combat with success the illnesses of patients."

Sydney Jail Houses Cuss-Prone Parrots

SYDNEY—A novel jail has been installed here in Taronga Park Zoo. It is for ill-mannered parrots and cockatoos.

* * *

Some segments of the public have been complaining about the bad language used by a few birds at the zoo and these birds have been segregated to be taught not to swear.

Somehow the rumor got around that the zoo had a man able to teach the birds to mend their conversation and citizens immediately began off-loading their bad-mannered birds on the zoo.

Today there are more than 70 parrots or cockatoos in the "jail" being taught how to behave in public.

Between 5 and 10 per cent of normal children are far sighted.

Indians' Country Liquor Differs From Tribal Kind

CALCUTTA — There's a big difference between tribal liquor and country liquor in India, the Anthropological Department of the Government announced after detailed scientific analysis.

Traditional, home-made tribal liquor — home-brewed beer made from rice, millets and yam — has a nutritive value, supplementing the deficient diet of the tribal people, it was found, and its prohibition would be a "serious matter."

Samples analyzed contained alcohol, protein, calcium, phosphate, iron, nicotinic acid, vitamin B1 and calories. Country liquor, however, which is sold by licensed stores in tribal areas, was found to have alcoholic content of 9.7 per cent with caloric value of 38 per cent and no nutritive value at all.

Peru Ranges Aimed by New Zealanders

AUKLAND — In search of new mountains to conquer, New Zealanders next year will climb in two of the main mountain ranges of Peru, Christ-church learns.

Since 1951 when H. E. Riddiford led the first all-New Zealand expedition to the Himalayas, that famed high chain has had little respite from the battling of New Zealand climbers. Sir Edmund Hillary climaxed the efforts by conquering Everest.

Meanwhile, mountaineering in the Himalayas has become a costly proposition. There is now keen competition for climbing areas and the costs of portering — where there is big demand for porters — are very high. So climbers will turn to South America.

Mother Rabbit Battles Snake Defending Brood

JACKSBORO, Tex. (AP)—Paul Gafford saw a cottontail rabbit whip a big snake. Here's his story:

"I heard a baby rabbit squealing and saw mother cottontail coming fast . . . She grabbed the snake with her teeth . . . She bit and shook the snake just as a dog would have done . .

"The snake ran for a mesquite tree . . . The rabbit hung on and was lifted several feet. When she broke free she grabbed a new hold and pulled until the snake tore loose again. . .

"During the fight, the rabbit made a growling sound, similar to a small dog.

"I killed the snake."

Sniffers Bestowed World Recognition

ROME — Educated sniffers received recognition at the recent World Petroleum Conference here. Delegates heard from an English representative of four men working at the Fawley Oil Refinery Southampton, on a full-time smelling job.

Working in shifts, Albert March and his merry men cycle as many as 30 miles around the refinery and the adjoining housing estates sniffing for smells.

As soon as they sniff anything disagreeable, they report it to the refinery. Experts trace it to its source and stop it. The men are trained to recognize at least 20 main smells.

Oversleeping Motorist Loses License, $50

DETROIT (AP) — John R. Smith overslept when he was due in traffic court. So he tried to make up a little time. He was nabbed by police who accused him of driving 55 miles an hour. They gave him an escort to traffic court, where they charged him with reckless driving.

On the original charge—interfering with traffic — Smith was acquitted. On the new reckless driving charge Smith was convicted, fined $50 and his driving license revoked for two years.

Belgian Congo Students Attend First University

BELGIN CONGO—On a hill 10 miles out of Leopoldville an $8,400,000 project is rising—Lovanium, the Belgian Congo's first university.

Its head will be Canon L. P. Gillon, 35-year-old Catholic priest, also famous as a nuclear student. Two main buildings already are completed and 33 students are in residence there.

Eventually the university, which is linked with the University of Louvain in Belgium, will have more than 600 students. There will be medical, agricultural, administrative and educational facilities and later an engineering faculty.

"We shall turn out thousands of graduates," says Canon Gillon. "Among them will be doctors. At present there are no Congolese doctors, but there are a few Congolese medical students now preparing at Belgian universities."

Jockey to Be Railbird During Steeplechases

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Jockey Willie Curtin, one of the leading riders at Wheeling Downs this year, says he has no thoughts of returning to steeplechase racing where he got his start in the saddle.

Curtin said he's going to be a railbird at steeplechase events.

"Those steeplechase races are exciting to watch," claims Curtin. "But they'll never get me to ride them again. I had lots of spills and broken bones."

West Germans Work Bee Shows No Stop Signs

BONN — People of West Germany, having made a remarkable recovery from the war, now are in the grip of a "work fury" that shows no signs of abating.

Many Germans who, after the war, possessed little or nothing except the will to work, now have well-furnished homes and power bicycles, and are well fed and well dressed.

But they cannot slow down—some because of their budget buying commitments, others for fear of having to reduce the newly acquired higher standard of living.

The overtime habit (in some industries a 70-hour week now is normal) seems to be there to stay.

* * *

As one consequence, the Government believes the nation's health is being damaged and is studying the problem in an attempt to reduce the "work fury."

In Russia, Kyra Couldn't Shoot the Works

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—The jolt of winning $50,000 in a few split seconds on television is a bolw to the most blase American nervous system. To a Russian lady of fragile proportions, it hits like a Martini on an empty stomach. . .

* * *

"In Russia," shivers Mrs. Kyra Shirk, "I should make so much money, I'd be arrested next morning!"

Mrs. Shirk is the glamorized, democratized and demobilized lady lieutenant from the Russian army who won $50,000 for being an expert on firearms on the quiz show "The Big Surprise."

She thinks there's nothing remarkable in knowing how to load a Springfield rifle, because she had plenty of gun-loading experience in World War II—"and long, so long before."

* * *

But the wonderful, awesome thing is that she is allowed to keep it. "After my arrest, I do not know what would happen to the money in Russia. It is only certain," she says, not bitterly but positively, "that I would not see it again."

Mrs. Shirk is now the red-haired and energetic wife of a York, Pa., gentleman farmer whom she met in Moscow when he was a field director for the American Red Cross and she was, literally, a fighter on the front lines.

HER MENAGERIE

Her first thought, after winning, was returning to York — to 500 chickens from whom she collects eggs, to eight steers, to 20 sheep, to one dog, to one child Ronnie, 3, and her husband. Also to "six cats — all pregnant — maybe 36 by now."

* * *

"But I will be back next week, to try for $100,000," Kyra added quickly, "even if they say in Pennsylvania that $50,000 ain't hay."

She does not expect to win, really ("I think the last question will be so hard that only the man who wrote it could answer it"), but the feel of money at her fingertips is new and overwhelming ("I am in the gambling spirit, and $100,000 ain't even more hay.")

If she misses, losing the $100,000 question which would be the greatest prize ever won on TV, Kyra will receive a consolation prize of $25,000. "That would pay for the carpeting I already bought, and part of Ronnie's education, and a little bit of the $22,000 mortgage on our house."

* * *

A doll-like young womann with an exquisite voice, trained for the federal theater system in Russia, Kyra describes how she became an intellectual Annie Oakley.

"In Russia, we have military education for boys and girls from the time we are 12. I got two sharp-shooting medals in school. After I had seven years, the war came and I had the choice between digging trenches and joining the army.

"The rations were better in the army. After two years I got the medal and was allowed to go home and back to my acting." What medal, she was asked.

"Oh, it was a medal for the defense of Leningrad, nothing really. Those who don't have medals are sort of strange in Russia. You just get them, for doing anything or nothing."

During this period she met Elliott Shirk, and theirs was the first wedding to be held, postwar, in the Cathedral of Moscow.

He whisked her out of Russia, and they have lived here happily ever since—at least until she was asked to appear on "The Big Surprise."

"He said," she says, "that he hated people who go for get-rich-quick schemes."

She blushed becomingly.

"But now we have got-rich-quick, he says it ain't hay also."

S. Africa Exports Soar

DURBAN, South Africa — During the past 20 years South Africa has become one of the world's three leading exporters of canned fruit, vegetables, and fish. About 60 per cent of the Union's canned food products are exported. Between 1938 and 1953 South Africa's total canned-food production rose from 13,000 tons to 135,000.

Husband Hunters Buy 'Lucky' Austrian Bats

VIENNA, Austria—Girls in some parts of Austria are bat-crazy.

Bats are being caught in large numbers and sold to pretty, marriagle peasant girls who are seeking husbands. The girls seriously believe the bats are lucky and have the power to lure sweethearts.

One dark-haired beauty claims she met the man of her choice within two days after buying a bat.

She kept it in the attic. The young man came to the door to ask directions—and it was love at first sight.

Adlai Stevenson—Profile of a Candidate

ADLAI STEVENSON: "An actionist . . . that's my nature."

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO—(NEA)—The health of 1956 presidential candidates will be a matter of national concern. Adlai E. Stevenson already has tossed his snap-brimmed hat into the battle for the Democratic nomination.

• • •

How physically strong is this 55-year-old man who, though defeated in 1952, received the third largest popular vote in American history?

The first picture is of a quick-stepping fellow in a gray business suit. He is supercharged with nervous energy, intellectually intense, though quiet-spoken. His color is good. He looks a little overweight.

"From 1933 on for 19 years I never missed one day at work, never had a cold," he says.

FOLLOWS SPARTAN LIFE

However, in the past three years he has driven his moderate size body hard. He has traveled round the world, visiting 30 countries. He has made many speeches, written books and magazine articles and returned to his law practice. Both physically and mentally this has been a spartan program for a man in his middle fifties.

In April, 1954, he was in Passavan Hospital in Chicago for a kidney stone operation. After six days there, he stayed home for two weeks to recuperate. Now he gets a checkup every three months at the Northwestern University Medical School.

Early this year before starting his long trek through Africa, he had a complete medical checkup.

"They gave me a clean bill of health," he said. "After I came back from Africa in July, I made six speeches and attended my son's wedding. I caught a slight cold, neglected it against advice, ran a fever and landed in Lake Forest Hospital with bronchial pneumonia." He was there three days.

A fast game of tennis has been his favorite sport. At Princeton he was on the college team. "Haven't played much recently," he admitted. "But I do manage to get in a game now and then on my home court with my sons."

He was on the baseball team at prep school, liked to ride horseback and sail small boats, go duck hunting. He played football until both ankles were injured in a game.

"But since 1941 when I was assistant to Secretary Frank Knox in the Navy Department, my orderly exercise has been limited. Just too many other things to tackle," he confessed. "However, I do force myself to walk as much as possible—to appointments, on business, and almost always at night after my work is done."

AT HIGH SPEED

He moves and talks like a vigorous man, always at high speed, a tightly wound spring controlled by a strong will. He shows highly developed powers of concentration yet often pauses to smile with warmth as though it is only issues, not himself, he takes seriously.

He drives himself relentlessly, rarely getting any recreation. "Conversation, tennis, reading, the theater, duck hunting—though I seldom get time to go any more—are the things that relax me," he said.

"I am an actionist. That's my nature. I get it from the Stevenson side of the family," he explained. "My mother's people—the Davises—were more passive. Maybe I inherited my strong constitution from them."

• • •

"Recently I applied for an extra $50,000 life insurance policy. They gave it to me," he reported.

DANGEROUS THING

Adlai E. Stevenson believes the decline of criticism during the three years of the Eisenhower administration is a dangerous thing.

"I am convinced that the problem of sustaining a high level of democratic dialogue is one of the nation's most important contemporary problems," he said.

"The great debate must continue. We must revive our critical American attitude, not fall into complacency and accept all that any political party does without fearless question when it is in order.

"I am progressively suspicious of the quick answer," he said. "There is no easy answer to any public problem, no doctrinaire formula for its solution."

His travels around the world brought him into contact with people of different races, faiths and economic condition. He is deeply convinced that there is infinite goodness in people, but adds that they must have skins as thick as the rhinoceros to resist the dishonest things said to them to serve political partisanship.

"Unhappily, the tendency to mislead the people for political advantage, to appeal to their prejudice and the fashion of the hour, is not improving," he observed.

Hucksterism has distorted political criticism, in his opinion. Partisan issues are not presented for examination. They are sold with the techniques of the advertising profession, wrapped in inflammable appeal. Criticism is made to seem in bad taste.

• • •

"I am more resolved than ever that a presidential campaign should be conducted on a high level of debate. Not on people, not on prejudice, but on issues—issues which men and women must resolve if they are to continue to inherit the gifts of democracy," he said.

CITES PROBLEM

On one such issue, military service, Stevenson was outspoken. It is certainly not a misfortune that youth should try to avoid, he asserted.

"I do not view with alarm the effects of military service on our democratic institutions," he said.

"But I do view with alarm any tendency to distort the public's opinion of military training. It is a matter which should cause us deep concern."

• • •

He insisted that if a young man tries to avoid service or get an unjustified deferment, not only our democratic institutions suffer but also the boy's own sense of responsibility.

LOVES HIS SONS

His strong affection for his three sons and his nephew who has been raised with them is well known. Their group photograph hangs behind his desk. "In my own family," he observed, "I have seen nothing but good results from military service. It is imperative, of course, that every man gets an even break."

His oldest son was in the Marine Corps and commanded a platoon of tanks in Korea just after the armistice. His second son is in the Army, and the youngest still in college. His nephew, Timmy Ives, served as an Air Force jet pilot and was credited with 57 combat missions.

The problem we face today, he went on to explain, is to keep our military establishment strong and alert yet at the same time maintain our civilian society. We can do it and we always have right through our history.

• • •

"A happy compromise between loyalty to our armed forces and fidelity to our democratic principles should be our goal. That achieved, militarism will never threaten us," he predicted.

Never Underestimate the Taste of Man — He Might Select the Right Setting

ATLANTA (INS) — Take a man who likes to put his "two cents in," give him carte blanche on a table setting and what will you get?

A setting modern, attractive, simple and functional enough to suit any woman.

An Atlanta architect, James R. Wilkinson, was invited to make his selections at an Atlanta department store and design a complete table setting. The result was a table decor that was modern and simple in the extreme, but attractive and functional at the same time.

Wilkinson chose as his theme a Sunday night supper for the family. He said:

"A Sunday night supper should be simple, but there is no reason why it still couldn't be handsome as well."

First, the brisk, businesslike architect announced that he wanted "practically everything in the natural colors of the material."

PRACTICAL USE

He chose a cherry table, finished in the natural wood. Next, he selected woven raffia luncheon mats, in natural color. He considered more than the beauty of an object in adding it to the setting. Speaking of the mats, he explained:

"They are heavy. Consequently, you can put hot plates on them without burning the table."

The plates, cups and saucers selected were of perfectly plain white pottery. Again, the architect had a reason—"Any kind of china, even plain, would be too formal for Sunday night supper."

Amber water glasses were described as "the simplest I could find," and fiesta napkins, in solid colors, were added "to give it a little life."

SILVER FOR SUNDAY

"Silver" for the Sunday night supper was really stainless steel in an extremely modern pattern, designed by an Italian. Wilkinson called the table knife, which resembled a lop-sided cheese spreader, "a swell knife."

Wilkinson said he has a "house full of small boys," and added: "As a rule at my house, you don't have room for something that's not working."

So, he looked about for "something you can eat" in choosing a centerpiece. He came up with a low brown bowl filled with fruit. He added he would really prefer "a cheese bucket and a loaf of French bread."

* * *

Two tall, conical bottles—one a 15-inch amber, the other a 12-inch green, were chosen to complete the layout.

"One of them would certainly be for water," he explained, adding, "You could put wine in the other, only we don't usually have wine for Sunday night supper."

* * *

Does Wilkinson generally help buying or planning table settings in his home? He replied:

"Oh, I put my two cents worth in. I generally say whether I like it or not."

Teachers Flunk Test

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Five sheepish school teachers were among more than 40 motorists arrested in a single day here in a police crackdown on speeding in school zones. Police Judge James McWhorter let the teachers off with three months probation but warned them: "The next time, the lesson will be different."

Synthetic Rubber Output Will Alleviate Shortages

NEW YORK (AP)—Production of synthetic rubber is rising rapidly and will prevent a world shortage of rubber for at least the next five years, the Rubber Manufacturers Association was told today.

* * *

Industry leaders agreed that while world rubber consumption will rise about 20 per cent by 1960, shortages will be prevented by "a substantially more rapid rise in world capacity for production." They expect natural rubber production to increase by no more than four per cent between 1956 and 1960.

A glowing picture of expected expansion in synthetic rubber was presented. Ross R. Ormsby, president of RMA, said he expected synthetic production in the United States to reach more than 1,100,000 long tons annually by the end of 1956.

* * *

"Due to increased capacity, plus new and improved development in man-made rubber, our industry will use more synthetic rubber next year than in any previous year," Ormsby said. "Consumption of man-made rubber could approach two-thirds of our total new rubber requirements in 1956."

J. Ward Keener, vice president of the B. F. Goodrich Co., told the 40th annual convention vast increases in world use of synthetic rubber in the next few years "can stop the roller coaster rides on which crude rubber speculators have been taking us."

W. J. Sears, vice president of RMA, saw a great future for exports of American synthetic to foreign manufacturers "now forced to use high cost natural rubber." The exports, he said, would "lead to a measure of raw materials price stability heretofore unknown in the world's rubber industry."

* * *

American synthetic production is expected to increase by 27 per cent and world production of synthetic by 40 per cent in the next five years, the RMA predicted.

United States holdings of all types of grains increased 15 per cent in the year ended last July 1.

Year-Long Study Shows Road Needs

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

It would cost Oakland County $230,160,000 to bring its primary and local road systems to standard in the next 20 years, according to a report on Michigan's road needs by the Automotive Safety Foundation.

The study, authorized by the Legislature, cost $100,000 and took a year to complete.

Pontiac would have to spend $31,490,000 including $14,910,000 on major city streets and $16,580,000 on local streets to acquire an up-to-date system in 20 years, the report states.

The county and city figures make up part of a 5.7 billion dollar construction program the foundation said is necessary on a statewide basis.

An economist-fiscal expert, also hired by the Legislature, reported on how the program could be financed.

The county's $230,160,000 total includes $129,300,000 needed for improving and expanding the 700-mile primary road system and $100,860,000 to modernize the 1,850 miles of county local roads.

The figures do not include money the state would put into enlarging the state trunkline system within Oakland.

Oakland could reach the mark by spending $10,630,000 on primary roads each year for ten years and then $2,300,000 per year for the next ten. A $5,043,000 outlay per year for 20 years on local roads would be needed.

The county this year will have only about $3,000,000 for new construction and maintenance on primary and local roads, said Road Commissioner Robert O. Felt.

Pontiac would have to spend $1,143,000 per year for ten years on major streets and $348,000 each year during the following decade to hit the needs figure. Some $829,000 each year for 20 years would be required on local city streets.

Increased federal aid is the only thing that might possibly make sufficient money available to Pontiac, City Manager Walter K. Willman said today.

A recommendation, included in the report, that the State Highway Department assume cost of improving state trunklines within cities "would help us some," Willman stated.

The foundation's report says that in the eight-year period from 1946 to 1954:

Total motor vehicle registration in Michigan jumped from 1,603,000 to 2,816,000, or 74 per cent.

Vehicle miles traveled increased from 16 billion each year to 27 billion, or 70 per cent.

In the period from this year to 1975 the foundation estimated that registrations would climb an additional 62 per cent and vehicle miles traveled another 78 per cent.

"At 1954 price levels," the report states, "the estimated cost of all improvements needed by 1975 on the major (state) system . . . is 4.5 billion dollars." Another 1.2 billion is needed for local county and city streets making the total 5.7 billion.

Of this, 3.2 billion would be for work in rural areas and 2.5 billion in municipalities.

Expenditures on state trunklines (roads designated with numbers prefaced by "M", such as M24 would total 2.8 billion, with 1.5 billion for work in rural areas and 1.3 billion to be spent in municipalities.

Trunkline improvements recommended include 161 miles of expressway construction, 143 miles of it in the Detroit metropolitan area.

The foundation suggests that each city should develop a master street development plan and provide more off-street parking plus "intensifying effort in the traffic engineering field."

Pontiac has already set up a master street plan, is planning more than 600 new downtown parking spaces and has hired a traffic engineer.

"The 20-year rural county primary needs include 753 miles of multi-lane highways in 20 counties," the foundation reported. "About 82 per cent of this mileage is in Genesee, Kent, Macomb, Oakland and Wayne Counties.

"Nearly all of the 317 miles of proposed improvements on county primary extension in municipalities are in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

"Each county should develop long-range construction programs based upon priority of need and revise them annually. Programs of adjacent counties should be properly integrated for maximum efficiency and benefit."

Richard M. Zettel, research economist with the University of California Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering, reported to the Legislature last Thursday how the 5.7 billion dollar program could be financed.

Zettel said Michigan now is raising enough highway taxes to finance the program if an anticipated federal aid program is approved by the next Congress beginning in January.

But he said the bulk of the funds wouldn't be available until the second ten years of the period.

He proposed that the money be drawn forward by issuing $500,000,000 worth of bonds to do the trunkline job in ten years. Present taxes will finance the bond issue, he said.

If the federal aid increase does not materialize, Zettel said, Michigan would need to increase its present 6-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax by slightly more than one cent to achieve the same result.

Untimely Accident

SOUTH SALE LAKE, Utah (AP)—Granite High School held a traffic safety meeting yesterday but visiting student officers from nearby Cyprus High weren't able to make it. Their car was involved in an auto accident on the way. No one was hurt.

His Story Rang True

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A Criminal Court jury yesterday passed the hat for $15 to aid a 62-year-old man after acquitting him of a charge of failing to provide for his 10-year-old daughter. The charge against William L. Hardy was brought by his former wife, Mrs. Una Briner, 51. He told the jury he was working as a furnace salesman on a commission basis but that sales were so bad he earned only $1.94 last week.

Makes Tubed Jelly

NEW HOLLAND, Pa. (INS)—A New Holland firm is turning out jelly packed in collapsible tubes like toothpaste.

Powder, Not Shower

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Instead of a shower, five prisoners took a powder at Lincoln Heights Jail. Still wearing street clothes, the five were herded into the first floor shower room yesterday where they climbed a ladder left by workmen and escaped unnoticed through a window. All were either charged or convicted of misdemeanor violations. They had been ordered into the room to change from civilian to jail garb.

He Wants His Beer

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Detectives are looking for a man whose taste for beer runs high despite sub-zero temperature. He forced a clerk at the California Free Market here to sell him six bottles of beer at 1 a.m. yesterday. That's after the state's legal deadline of midnight for selling beer. He put a $5 bill on the counter, pulled out a pistol, asked for his change, and left with the beer.

Group Studies Lake Michigan

UM Researchers Able to Mark Various Levels of Lake by Tests

ANN ARBOR (AP)—University of Michigan researchers have discovered some interesting facts about Lake Michigan after a radio-carbon test of a peat bog uncovered near South Haven in 1952.

Associate Professor James H. Zumberge, a geologist, says for instance that twice in the last 11,000 years, the lake level has been far below its present level of 580 feet above sea level.

Once, about 10,500 years ago when the glaciers made their last great advance on the area, the lake dropped to about 480 feet above sea level. But 5,000 years ago when the glaciers retreated, the lake was only 230 feet above sea level.

Both Lake Michigan and Lake Huron were badly shrunken at this time, says Professor Zumberge, and they were connected by a river running through what is now the Straits of Mackinac.

Furthermore the river channel still exists in the waters underneath the Straits, he adds. That's why the huge Mackinac Bridge had to be the suspension type in the middle.

By investigating the amount of radioactive carbon in the peat bog, the researchers have also been able to determine that 10,000 years ago southwestern Michigan was covered by a spruce-fir forest.

Gradually, this was replaced until about 3,500 years ago it became an oak-dominated forest.

The clues that tell the tale are pollen grains in the peat bog.

Dual Citizens Face Nationality Choice

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—More than 1,500 Americans living in the Windsor area who possess dual citizenship are affected by a warning issued by the U. S. embassy in Ottawa that they must take steps to protect their American citizenship before December 24.

* * *

The U. S. embassy warning refers to a 1952 statute under which Americans with dual citizenship could, in certain circumstances, forfeit their American citizenship unless they take the oath of allegiance to the U. S. before the deadline.

* * *

Dual citizenship is held by persons born in Canada of American parents or born in the U. S. of Canadian parents. Unless they take the oath of allegiance, persons over 22 who have lived in Canada for three consecutive years could lose American nationality if they have sought benefits from their Canadian nationality.

Move GIs in Japan

TOKYO (AP)—The U. S. Army said today it would move its main junior officers' and civilian barracks from downtown Tokyo to the city outskirts. The move may doom Tokyo's naughty corner of "4th and Y," a busy downtown street by day and a prostitute's promenade by night. Both barracks were within feet of the famous corner.

British Lapping Up New Alcoholic Milk

LONDON — Alcoholic milk is "sweeping London's East End", since a dairy firm started putting it out. Now bars are stocking it. It is milk with a kick, which comes in a neat baby bottle with a red label and gold seal cap.

* * *

You can get it with whisky, brandy, gin or vermouth. It is guaranteed to contain no less than 17½ per cent proof of spirit. By a special machine-mix process, neat spirit is blended with honey and sterilized milk which will keep indefintely.

* * *

"We add an ounce of spirit to 2½ ounces of milk," said J. Mortlock, director of the dairy firm. "Already we have had many inquiries from abroad. The drink can be sold only on licensed premises. The average cost at bars is about 35 cents a drink."

Here's Something New

He Wants His Wage Reduced by $3,400

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—William L. Wood, a retired railroad man, had been filling the job of park commissioner on a part-time basis at $10 a year.

Then the City Council made provision for a full-time commissioner at $4,000 yearly. Wood said he wanted the job but would not take more than $600. The Council said that wouldn't do.

Yesterday, however, they reconsidered and told Wood, "Okay, it's yours."

They didn't say if there were any other applicants.

Young Stevenson 'Solidly Behind' Adlai's Campaign

HONOLULU (AP)—Army Pvt. Borden Stevenson says of his father Adlai's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination:

"I think he's by far the finest candidate and I'm solidly behind him."

Borden's tune was different last August when he predicted his father would run but expressed hope he wouldn't because "I'd rather not see father go through that ordeal."

Borden explained his change of mind:

"Now that he's running I've completely revised my thinking."

Stone-Age Axes Seen in Gold Coast Show

GOLD COAST, Africa — Stone axes recently discovered in the African Gold Coast have become the most interesting exhibits in the country's National Museum at Legon.

Such axes, archaelogists point out, were the main tools of the New Stone Age man in almost every part of the world, used for cutting, digging and hunting.

In Papua and some other Pacific areas they are still in use. Gold Coast tribes have given them various names ascribing them to celestial origin.

The Akans call them "Nyame Akuma" (God's axe) and "Osrama Bo" (lightning stone), the Ga tribe calls them "Nnome te" (God's stone) and the Hausas "Gaterin Hadari" (thunder axe).

A site where stone axes were made has recently been discovered near those stopping place you at Sekondi.

Fish Professor Advises Anglers to Act Like Fish

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the University of Michigan's Department of Fisheries, advises anglers to try to look at fishing through the eyes of a fish.

Lagler says don't be a one-spot or a one-bait fisherman. "You'd never find a hunter sitting in one spot all day," he says, "and yet look at how many fishermen just sit and wait for the fish to come to them."

Lagler suggests that anyone who really wants to catch something go after it.

First, the professor says, cast along the shoreline with a floating-diving lure. If you don't hook any there, cast into deeper waters using a sinking bait which will plumb the depths.

If the fish still are elusive, Lagler says try the heavier cover like lily pads fields, weed patches or the moss beds and cast a slow sinking lure next to this cover.

Lagler says, by all means, approach quietly.

Moonshine Industry Bubbling in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Them dern revenooers, foe of moonshiners in the United States, have turned up in Japan. They are Japanese, but they operate like the U.S. variety. Go moochin' through the hills north of Tokyo lookin' for stills.

Japan's Tax Administration Board says huntin' ought to be pretty good. It estimates a million stills are bubblin' away in Japan.

Farmers' Cash Dips

WASHINGTON — For every dollar they owed at the start of 1955, American farmers had $1.22 in cash or its equivalent as liquid assets, according to the Department of Agriculture. This proportion has been declining since the peak of $2.35 in cash assets to every $1 of debt that prevailed at the start of 1947. In 1940, however, farmers as a whole had less than 50 cents in cash for every dollar's worth of debt.

It's Osmun's 25th Birthday

WE HAVEN'T SEEN A SUIT VALUE LIKE THIS IN 20 YEARS!

WHEN YOU SEE THIS SUIT WE'RE SURE YOU'LL AGREE THAT THE "OSMUN 55" IS THE BEST SUIT OF CLOTHES THAT $55.00 CAN BUY!

Months ago, we here at Osmun's, determined that we would bring to value and style conscious men a suit of outstanding quality for just $55. This despite high manufacturing and fabric costs. We teamed up with a great tailoring firm, a top fabric house, and applied the pressure of our 2-store buying power.

Now, to celebrate our 25th Anniversary, we offer a suit so beautifully tailored, so handsomely styled, and of such fine fabric that it completely belies the $55 price! We have called this suit the "Osmun 55." We are extremely proud to put the Osmun's label in this suit . . . and you will wear it with equal pride! Step in today and see what we have done for you . . . for less than $70.00!

There are two, and three-button models . . . center vent models, in fine all-wool worsteds, sharkskins, flannels, and firefly weaves. Plenty of dark and medium shades of charcoal grey, brown, and blue. Extra trousers are available with many garments.
Extra salesmen, extra tailors will be on hand during Osmun's "extra value" Anniversary celebration!

Arson Examination Set

SAUGATUCK (AP) — Nicholas Orlich, 31, was under $1,000 bond Tuesday pending a Nov. 22 hearing after he demanded examination on a charge of setting fire to an unoccupied Saugatuck house. Orlich, who was arraigned before Justice Erwin Andrews at Allegan, earlier told police he believed the house was involved in a "hex" working against him.

Trunk Traps Woman

CHICAGO (AP) — "Help," said a voice from under the trunk lid of a car, "let me out of here."

Police pried open the lid. Out popped Mrs. Kathleen Keefe. She explained to Sgt. Richard Stahlman that she was looking for something in the trunk and the cover snapped shut.

She didn't say what she was hunting or whether she found it.

Post Offices Decrease

WASHINGTON—The number of post offices serving the nation at the end of fiscal 1955 was 38,316, a decrease of 1,089 during the year. The number of fourth-class post offices decreased by 1,405 during the year, reaching 15,060, first-class offices increased by 150 to 3,427, second-class increased by 172, to 6,605, and third-class decreased by six to 13,224.

Charged for Breakins

MUSKEGON (AP) — The prosecutor's office Tuesday authorized felony warrants for two members of a youthful gang which looted Muskegon area business places of nearly $2,000 in cash and merchandise "just for kicks." The warrants, charging breaking and entering in the nighttime, named Douglas Perysian, 20, and James F. Carpenter, 17. Five others, all juvenniles, were referred to Juvenile Court.

ICC Chairman Center of Probe

Bender Urges Early Hearings; Mundt Calls for Postponement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) today asked early public hearings on alleged "indiscreet contacts" of Chairman Hugh W. Cross of the Interstate Commerce Commission with two railroad presidents.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), one of Bender's fellow members of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, has urged a delay in the hearings until after Congress reconvenes in January.

(The New York Times said informed senatorial sources expected Cross to resign soon as chairman of the ICC. A Washington dispatch to the newspaper said there had been authoritative indication that this action would result in setting aside the investigation of his official conduct.)

Cross appeared at a closed door subcommittee hearing Tuesday and well-posted sources said he testified his talks with two railroad heads about a disputed contract amounted to "an indiscretion."

Bender said prior commitments had prevented his attendance at the Tuesday session, but that he now was prepared for an early start of the public inquiry.

"I would rather see it start at once," he said. "The President doesn't want anything concealed. His policy is to bring everything into the open—quickly." Bender referred to President Eisenhower.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) has announced he will consult other subcommittee members before setting a public hearing date.

Efforts to reach Cross by telephone were unavailing.

In the past six months Cross had been reported planning to resign before his term expires in 1957. A Republican, he was appointed by former President Truman in 1950. He never has confirmed publicly the reports that he was getting ready to re-enter private enterprise.

Greek College Girls Help in U.S. Exhibit

ATHENS — A team of 18 Greek girls helped in a unique demonstration of American home methods, at the 1955 Salonika Trade Fair in that country. An American kitchen specialist supervised the girls, home economics graduates and students at Anatolia College, in cooking favorite Greek and American dishes, food freezing, and home laundering.

A model low-cost farmhouse, furnished and equipped with products economically within reach of Greek citizens, was another feature of the United States exhibit and a knitting machine showed how yarn is converted into yard goods.

The finished material was given to the Greek Queen's fund for disaster relief.

Wild Elephants Destroying Forest Buildings in India

BOMBAY, India—Wild elephants are increasing so rapidly and becoming so destructive in India's United Provinces that efforts ar being renewed to put them to work, Allahabad reports. They have been singling out Forest Department buildings for attack and roaming herds rruined two rest houses and killed two men.

Well over 1,000 eephants are living in the State's forests. If elephants could be tamed and put to plowing, the State Government would be delighted. Efforts have been made in this direction and a special harness deigned.

Elephants hitched to plows are said to "take to the task with ability, though with a sense of offended dignity." An elephant has the equivalent f 30 horsepower, it is pointed out, and unlike a tractor could function for 30 to 40 years.

New X-Ray Device Takes Photos in Few Minutes

NEW YORK—A newly developed industrial X-ray machine is being used in research work to photograph in minutes what ordinary devices require one or 2 hours to photograph.

The device, designed to study the atomic structure of solid matter, can take X-ray pictures of metals as hot as 3,000 degrees.

Egypt Records Gains in Cotton, Wheat Output

CAIRO—In the past year Egypt's production of cotton has increased by 5 per cent, rice by 70 per cent, and wheat by 10 per cent.

Output of cotton yarn has expaned by 8 per cent and woolen textiles and silk yarn and silk textiles by percentages ranging between 12 and 35 per cent. Mineral pulput has risen.

Escapes Train Crash

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Mrs. Julia Wiegane, 31, escaped serious injury Tuesday when her auto stalled on a railroad crossing and she leaped fromt he vehicle seconds before it was struck by a passenger train. Sheriff Richard Weller said the car stalled as the woman was crossing the tracks on M72 in Wiallamsburg.

Talks to 375 Potential Bosses for Jail Parolees

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — If you think it's tough to find a job, talk to James Oberst. He has to look for 200 of them. And since March, he has found only 10.

Employers of prospective parolees from the Kentucky State Reformatory and Penitentiary just aren't easy to find.

In fact, James W. Hughes, director of the Bureau of Corrections warned Oberst, a placement representative, "You'll be lucky to find one a month at first."

He is now placing about two men a month while tracking employers all over the state. He estimates he has interviewed around 375 prospective employers at the rate of about 10 a day.

"One manufacturer in Lousville, told me that the parolee he hired was better than the average man that comes into his company for a job. As a matter of fact, he said that he was the best man that he ever had for that particular job."

Sponsor of Federal School Aid Says:

Public Education Now National Disgrace

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House sponsor of legislation to furnish federal aid to schools said the condition of public education in the U. S. "is a national disgrace."

* * *

Rep. Augustine B. Kelley (D-Pa), said: "Millions of children go to school in double shifts and some even on a triple-shift basis. Teachers have such tremendously large classes they cannot begin to give the children sufficient individual attention."

The congressman predicted Congress "will go ahead with my bill" when it reconvenes Jan. 3 regardless of what recommendations come out of the White House Conference on Education Nov. 28-Dec. 1. He said there was actually no need for the conference since "every citizen who takes an interest in his locality's problems knows all about it."

Kelley disclosed that the National Education Association and 30 organizations, including the United Mine Workers and other labor organizations, Amvets, Parent-Teacher Associations, and the American Association of University Women, have urged enactment of his bill.

PRINCIPAL FEATURE

The bill's principal feature is provision for a four-year, 400-million dollar annual program of federal grants to the states to help them build schools on a matching basis.

The measure also incorporates some of the suggestions made by President Eisenhower for aiding local school districts with poor financial credit to market their bonds in order to raise funds.

The Kelley bill has been approved by the House Education and Labor Committee and is awaiting clearance to the House floor by the rules committee.

* * *

The congressman said his committee feels the four-year all-out school build program "will solve the immed... shortage and enable the local districts and the states to meet their own needs thereafter out of their own resources."

He said there is now an estimated deficit of 300,000 classrooms and present heavy construction of schools is keeping up with expanding enrollments, but is not reducing the tremendous backlog.

State to Feature New Road Signs

Speed Markers Ready for Highways Feb. 3 to Set Limits

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's highways will blossom out with tricky new signs next Feb. 3 to warn motorists against exceeding the new state speed limits on that date.

The signs were unveiled last night at a meeting of the Michigan Safety Commission, called to discuss ways of educating the public to anticipate the new speed limits of 65 miles per hour during the day and 55 miles per hour at night.

The signs are treated with reflectorized paint so that the warning of the 65 mile limit during the day will change to 55 miles at night under the glare of car headlights.

J. C. McMonagle, of the State Highway Department's planning and traffic division, said the highway department plans to put up about 3,000 of the signs over the state's trunkline system.

They will be placed at regular six mile intervals over the southern part of the state and at 10 mile intervals through less heavily traveled northern areas, McMonagle said.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said he also would seek an attorney general's opinion—on just when day becomes night and night becomes day to allow for legal enforcement of the new law.

Childs said his officers probably would allow a few miles per hour leeway in enforcing the new law but this would depend a lot on road conditions.

He also said he thought an intensive education program was needed in the time left before the new speed law becomes effective.

U.N. Still Embroiled Over Outer Mongolia

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) —East-West negotiations on smashing the U. N. membership deadlock centered today on Communist Outer Mongolia—last major obstacle to a solution of the nine-year-old problem.

With the Western powers in agreement on tackling the deadlock in the Security Council first, diplomatic efforts reverted to settling the dispute over Mongolia's qualifications to hold a seat in the U. N.

The U. S., while not actively opposed to the admission of four East European Communist satellites, maintains that Mongolia has no qualified standing as a nation and can not "make the grade."

Well Behaved Indian Children

UM Prof Finds That Pueblos Are Skillful in Rearing Youngsters

ANN ARBOR — Many American Indian tribes seem to have much better success in training their children than white people do, Prof. Leslie A. White, chairman of the Department of Anthropology at the University of Michigan, declares.

He has just returned from a sabbatical leave in the Southwest where he has been making studies of the Pueblo Indians during the past 25 years.

The success of the Pueblo Indians, he points out, is the more remarkable since it has been achieved without benefit of books on child care, clinics, and child study clubs.

According to the anthropologist, although these primitive peoples never spank their children, the offspring are remarkably well brought-up just the same.

"I have often been amazed at the difference between young children in Indian villages and many children among ourselves," he says. "Never have I seen an Indian child talk back to his parents or to an elder.

"They do not scream and go into a tantrum when they are forbidden to do something. They never get fresh. On the contrary, they are very well behaved, obedient and respectful to their parents and to all elders. They may quarrel among themselves but even this is relatively rare."

How to account for this idealistic behavior among young Indians? Professor White reminds us that "primitive peoples are, as a general rule, very fond of their children. The older children vie with each other for the care of the younger.

"Indian children are respected as real individuals, and are never embarrassed or humiliated by being made to feel they have been 'bad.' Basking in the emotional security which comes from knowing they are wanted and loved, they never respond with 'spoiled' behavior."

Pointing up the contrasts between the education of the Indian child and that of the white child, he explains that the children of primitive peoples grow naturally into the life of the community.

"They are not sent away, to school to prepare them for life. They are living all the time. 'Commencement' for Indian children is when they are taken out of the cradle.

"After that, they are introduced gradually to the daily occupations and the lore and ceremonies of the tribe," Professor White continues.

"The little girls learn to take care of the babies, perhaps help with the cooking, and later, to make pottery or to weave baskets, and to make clothing. The boys help their fathers, hunting, herding flocks or working in the fields.

"From time to time, the parents, grandparents, uncles and aunts teach the children the lore of their tribe. They tell them myths and tales and legends by the dozen.

"They tell them how the world was made, how there came to be people, and why they have the customs that they have. They teach the children songs and prayers, and what rituals to observe on various occasions.

"In other words," the university anthropologist explains, "in social affairs as well as in practical affairs, we find the education of the Indian child progressing daily, in a perfectly natural way. As a rule, he hardly realizes that he is being taught something, it comes so gradually.

"Unlike some of his little white brothers, the Indian child is not 'kept in' during recess. Best of all, he is not compelled to study something that is not a part of his life and never will be.

"Everything that he is taught is a living part of the social life of his community. His teaching is a part of life itself," Professor White explains.

At 42, Theodore Roosevelt was the youngest U.S. President.

Third in Farm Series

Small Farmers Feel Freeze-Out

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rapid mechanization of agriculture — spurred by huge war and postwar demands — is pouring fuel on a long smouldering rift between "small" and "big" farmers.

* * *

Declining prices of farm products are fanning the feud.

Recent hearings on farm problems held by the Senate Agriculture Committee in major farming areas indicaed this division may become a major issue — along with farm price supports — in next year's presidential campaign.

Machinery, electrification, better seeds, improved fertilizers and the like are making it possible to grow more and more crops on fewer and fewer acres. Likewise, new feeds open the way to produce more meats, eggs and poultry with less feed and labor.

This increased efficiency is putting a squeeze on the smaller farmers who do not have the finances to take advantage of improved mechanization or enough land to justify their use.

* * *

Largely because of mechanization, crop surpluses have been built up. Prices have been depressed. Naturally, the less efficient producers are hit hardest — and they are, in most cases, operators of smaller farms.

This development has given rise to new demands that government farm policies be designed to protect the "family-type" farm.

Government reports show there has been a rather sharp decline in the total number of farms in the last 20 years. It has been accompanied by an increase in the average size of farms.

This situation is bringing to the forefront demands of some farmers and their leaders that the nation decide whether agriculture is to be regarded as merely a business enterprise or as a social institution to preserve a rural way of life.

* * *

Conflicts over these two philosophies dominated many of the Senate Committee hearings.

Typifying the viewpoint that agriculture is solely a business enterprise was the testimony given by President H. E. Slusher of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation at a hearing at Des Moines, Iowa.

"Recognition should be given," he said, "to the fact that farming is a business and not just a way of life; that as a business, farms have become larger to make mechanization practical; that there is no virtue in making small farm operators any more than in making small business men; that subsistence farmers must be dealt with as a welfare problem and not as a farm problem."

Plain-spoken Daniel E. Boodry has farmed 33 years in Goshen County, Wyo. Agriculture "can take care of itself if left alone," Boodry said he suggested that farmers "hollering" about the situation should quit the farm.

DECRIES PROGRAM

On the other hand came the complaint of R. V. Fitzgerald Jr., farmer-spokesman for his neighbors in Aurora County, S. D.

"We decry the efforts of those who would foist upon the farmer any farm program which will, through economic necessity, place the farmer into the employ of giant 'corporation' farms or into the cities there to compete in the labor pool as an unskilled worker," he said.

Similarly, A. Lars Nelson, master of the Washington State Grange, said the question that should be uppermost in the minds of all is "Do we want to maintain the American standard of living on every type and size of farm in the nation?"

"I think that we do," he said.

Those who want farming considered solely as a business generally favored the flexible price support program of the Eisenhower administration farm program and a minimum of government regulation.

* * *

But those who said they wanted to preserve the small farms advocated price supports at either 90 per cent or 100 per cent of parity for all farm products. Parity is the price goal of farm programs. Only a part of the crops now are supported. None of the livestock and poultry products, or fruits and vegetables are supported.

* * *

But most of the farmers would limit price support aid to what they called family-type farms.

'Biggest' Steam Plant Readied

TVA Electricity Project Will Open This Month in Kingston, Tenn.

KINGSTON, Tenn. (AP)—A celebration today marked completion of what the Tennessee Valley Authority calls the world's largest steam plat for generating electricity.

* * *

Equipment delays have postponed actual completion of the plant until later in the month, but employes already had scheduled the celebration so T VAdecided to let 'er rip.

The Kingston steam plant will be the fourth which TVA has put in full operation since 1951. It was built principally to satisfy the tremendous power demands of atomic installations at nearby Oak Ridge. Three other steam plants are under construction.

The plant will burn a 50-ton carload of coal every six minutes, or enough to heat four good-sized homes in Knoxville all winter. Its total annual coal consumption will be more than four million tons.

* * *

It will use more than one million gallons of water per minute, more than is used for all purposes in New York City, in its nine steam condensers and other water-cooled equipment.

It cost nearly 200 million dollars, and required more than 22 million man-hours of planning, designing and construction.

The Straw That . . .

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Rosella Werfin was finishing up a 10,000-mile tour of Old World countries when she landed at the airport here. Coming down the gangway, she missed a step, sprained an ankle. And after all that hill climbing without a mishap, she moaned.

Like Father Like Son

BROOKLYN (AP) — The Duke Sniders will celebrate two birthdays instead of one next Sept. 19. The 29-year-old Dodger outfielder's second son, Kurt Brian, was born on Sept. 19. That's Duke's birthday, too.

Speeds Up Blood Count

LONDON—A British concern has developed a photoelectric device that makes blood-cell counts in one thirtieth of the time formerly needed when an operator had to count samples visually through a microscope. The cell counts are essential for workers in new industries that use radioactive materials.

Berlin Phones Handy

BERLIN (INS) — By dialing the phone in German cities one may obtain a job, a timetable, a vacant room, a dancing partner, the weather forecast or the program for a local theatre.

Dip in Rail Passengers

NEW YORK—The nation's railroads carried 3.8 per cent fewer passengers in 1954 than in the year before, continuing a decline in rail-passenger travel that has been continuous since the end of World War II. The 1954 passenger total was 30.8 per cent below the average for the 1946-50 period.

if your home isn't insulated

- OF COMFORT
- OF HEALTH
- OF FUEL DOLLARS

With fuel prices now higher than ever, heat losses in uninsulated homes add up to staggering figures . . . cost homeowners millions of dollars every year. It's a crime!

It's easy to cut fuel bills and eliminate discomfort. Insulate your home. You'll reduce drafts. You'll have fewer colds. You'll be warm—even on the coldest days! And—you'll save up to 40% on the cost of heating your home!

Can you afford it? Yes! Lower fuel bills will pay for the insulation in just a few years. After that, the savings (which go on for the life of your home) are pure gain! You can't afford not to have it! Insulate now and start enjoying comfort immediately!

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Meg Attends Dinner Given by Americans

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret, looking as lovely as ever, went partying Tuesday night with Americans. It was the first dancing party since her break-up with Peter Townsend. She went with her mother.

The dinner guests included Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford II; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Firestone; Maj. Gen. John Gerhart, head of the American military advisory aid group, and Mrs. Gerhart.

The smiling princess and other members of the royal family were stars at a dinner dance billed as strictly private and not official in the plush Regent's Park home of Ambassador and Mrs. Winthrop Aldrich.

The princess arrived shortly before her sister, Queen Elizabeth II.

About 50 dinner guests were joined by about 200 guests who came later for dancing.

There are about 5,260 new cases of pneumonia a day among Americans.

Williams Names Five to Forestry Board

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has appointed the new state board of registration for foresters.

The board will license those who wish to be known as registered foresters and who can conform to certain standards. The appointments:

Kenneth P. Davis of Ann Arbor, chairman of the University of Michigan forestry department, for a term expiring Oct. 13, 1957.

Robert E. Schmeling of Escanaba, manager of wood procurement and timberlands for the Escanaba Paper Co., for a term expiring Oct. 13, 1956.

Terrell D. Stevens of East Lansing, head of the Michigan State University forestry department, for a term expiring Oct. 13, 1958.

U. John Noblet of Houghton, head of the forestry department at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, for a term expiring Oct. 13, 1959.

Eugene F. Kuhne of Hart, president of Forestry Associates, Inc., for a term expiring Oct. 13, 1960.

The Frank McHughs' friends are mourning the death of their young son, Michael, in an auto accident . . . Robert Sherwood's intimates (Bennett Cerf, Quentin Reynolds, et al.) were just observing at lunch Friday how well he looked. Countless Americans and Europeans hoped for the quick recovery of this talented yet humble man who died Monday.

Rocky Marciano's inner circle expects Floyd Patterson, now a light-heavy, to be built up into his biggest opponent yet—in 1957.

Comedian Joe E. Lewis' doctor—who warned him after a recent throat operation not to talk, smoke or drink—heard he'd been disobeying, and phoned to check up. "How much have you been talking, smoking and drinking?" demanded the doctor. Joe was silent; so the doctor repeated the question. Finally Joe answered, "Look, Doc, whatever I am, I'm not a stool pigeon!"

Bentley Raps Nations About Lax Defenses

BELDING (AP)—Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Mich) says that the United States "cannot defend nations that will not defend themselves."

"If our allies in western Europe continue dragging their feet on rearmament, we may have to take another look at our whole military aid program," he warned.

Bentley addressed a joint meeting of the Belding and Greenville Rotary clubs Tuesday night, reporting on a recent European tour as a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

A $40 billion United States investment in European economy has paid off in terms of reconstruction and European recovery, Bentley declared, but not in terms of rearmament.

Bentley reported the committee found prosperity in western Europe coupled with apathy to the danger of Communist expansion and resistance to rearmament.

Premature Tots Face Big Tests

Group Finds Changes of Mental and Nerve Defects Are High

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Premature babies apparently face a higher risk of mental or nerve abnormalities than full-term babies, a new study reported today.

• • •

The more premature or tinier the infant is at birth, the greater the risk, said the report to the American Public Health Assn.

This indicates the importance of preventing prematurity, and of closely observing premature babies to detect any abnormalities and trying to counteract them, the study finds.

The report is based upon a study of nearly 500 premature infants and 500 full-term babies born in Baltimore, and given careful physical and behavioral examinations at about 9 months.

It was made by Hilda Knobloch, M. D., Rowland Rider, Sc. D., Paul Harper, M.D., and Benjamin Pasamanick, M. D., the Johns Hopkins University School of Hygiene and Public Health, Baltimore.

The occurrence of abnormality increases as the birth weight group of the baby decreases, the report said.

At 40 weeks of age, the over-all incidence of serious nerve abnormality, including possible cerebral palsy and obvious nerve defect, in the premature babies was more than 9 per cent, or about six times higher than in nonpremature babies.

The premature babies as a group indicated 3.6 per cent mental deficiency, both borderline and other defects, compared with 1.6 per cent for full-term babies.

Half the babies weighing less than 3 1-3 pounds at birth showed mental or nerve defects, and some had a major vision defect.

DOUBLE-JOINTED — This calf can't stand by itself, because it has five legs. The "extra" leg of the animal, born on the Frank Veldheer farm near Holland, Mich., separates from the right hind leg about halfway down and appears to end in two hoofs. The calf also has a double hip joint. Veldheer says the calf seems to be perfectly healthy.

Build A-Power Model

DETROIT (AP)—A full-scale test model of a proposed atomic power plant is under construction at the Detroit Edison Co.'s Delray generating plant in suburban Detroit. It is scheduled to go into operation by early 1957.

Food Hoarding Banned

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A formal ban against hoarding and speculation in foodstuffs was announced by Formosa's provincial government today. The penalty is a fine and imprisonment up to three years.

THE JUMPING FROG

A frog is a funny-looking fellow. He has a big head with wide-apart, stick-out eyes that can see a fly a long way off. He has a big wide mouth that can open and shut like a steel trap.

He has practically no neck at all. His arms are short, ending in long-fingered little hands.

But he has long legs that fold up neatly. When he opens them with a spring, the powerful muscles carry him in a big jump.

Sometimes frogs like to sit on toadstools. These are umbrella-like plants that are poisonous and should not be eaten, although they look like mushrooms.

For your frog sitting on a toadstool — which toads like to sit on too — paste this page on cereal box cardboard. Color it with crayons. The frog is green with a white vest. The toadstool is deep red with white spots and white stem. The grass is green, the snail yellow.

Cut out the toadstool and fold the end panels forward. Now it will stand up. Cut out the frog and fasten him behind the toadstool with a brass fastener or pin. Swing the frog around until he lands right on top of the toadstool where he will sit quietly waiting for flies.

Servants Throw Party Whenever Boss Is Away

JOHANNESBURG — Native domestic servants who make merry when their European employers are out of town are engaging th are out of town are engaging the attention of police.

Many of the natives know more about lavish entertaining than their masters, it is claimed, and homeowners returning unexpectedly from a vacation have found the garden boy or the main entertaining friends at a riotous party in the employer's home.

One native couple spent their honeymoon that way. Police say that a group of servants have organized a "club" which stages a party whenever there's a house available.

More often, however, servants entertain at a sedate dinner party with candles and "all the trimmings," including all the liquor in the house.

Empty Canoe Lands

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A 12-foot dugout canoe of the type used by South Sea islanders washed up on the beach. It was believed the canoe, hand-carved of red mahogany, was blown across the gulf from the West Indies, sped on its way by the late summer hurricanes.

Get Well Message

OMAHA (AP) — Schoolmates sent an 8-year-old victim of an auto accident get well cards. One card read:

"I sorry you got hurt.

Cut-Rate Arms for Israel Dim

Cost May Hit Millions as Wilson Awaits Ike's Answer to Eban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The odds of U. S. law and foreign policy are strongly against approval of the quick cut-price, easy-term sale of weapons which Israel is asking.

Secretary of Defense Wilson told his news conference yesterday his department will "carry out promptly" whatever decision is reached by President Eisenhower and the State Department. He said he had not yet seen the list of requested arms, which Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban presented to the State Department yesterday.

The total cost, kinds and amounts of arms asked by Israel was a closely held secret. But the total was known to run into the tens of millions of dollars and to cover antitank, antiaircraft and submarine killing equipment.

Eban would say only that his itemized list was in "markedly lesser quantity" than Egypt's reported 80 million dollar deal with Communist Czechoslovakia for 100 to 200 MIG15 jet planes, a like number of heavy tanks and six submarines along with assorted artillery and ammunition.

Newest farm project being developed in Venezuela is 50,000 acres for 600 farms in the Andes region in Tachira State, bordering the Pan American Highway, Caracas reports.

GOP Described in Acheson Book

Republicans Too Close Wedded to Big Business, Says Author

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, in a book published today, pictures the Republican party as too divided, too hidebound and too closely wedded to big business to work with long-range effectiveness for world peace.

By contrast Acheson's book, "A Democrat Looks at His Party," portrays the Democrats as having "superior" unity, imagination and popular backing to conduct a foreign policy commanding the trust of this country's allies overseas.

Acheson was a leading target of the Republicans when he served as President Harry Truman's secretary of state from 1949 until 1953.

Acheson says the United States must work and sacrifice to attain peace—to avert "a desperate death struggle" waged with atomic weapons. He questions whether the Eisenhower administration isn't more concerned with cutting taxes and trying to balance the budget than with carrying out the often expensive programs he regards as necessary to establish a basis for peace.

Acheson also says there is a powerful undercurrent of isolationism in the Republican party and that President Eisenhower's 1952 victory "was not achieved without inflicting wounds that are still unhealed."

"The dissident faction of the party," he says, "is compact, articulate and often ruthless. In the Senate, for instance, this wing of the party is probably the stronger. It certainly is on matters of economic foreign policy."

Sales of office furniture dropped to $770,000,000 in 1954 compared with a record $800,000,000 the year before.

ADDED WEIGHT—Jockey William Carrol picks up a couple of ounces beating icy blasts at Sportsman's Park, Chicago. He wears ear muffs.

Teenagers Are Invited to Activities on Friday

All teenagers have been invited to meet at the YMCA from 9 to midnight Friday for an evening of dancing and swimming.

Don Zee will spin the records and will bring guest artists. The record hop is sponsored by the Swim and Swing Club. Uusually this group limits its activities to members, but Friday night guest passes will be sold at the door. A special invitation has been extended to all who have never been to any of the Friday evening activities.

There will be co-ed swimming from 9:30 to 10:30 p.m. Dancing will be in progress both during and after the swimming hour.

Russian Bosses Leave for Tour

Bulganin, Other Party Heads Make Good Will Visits to Asian Nations

MOSCOW (AP)— Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, shivering in the early morning wind, took off today on a 5,000-mile "woo the East" tour.

Two planes carried the top Soviet leaders and about 60 aides on a trip to India, Burma and Afghanistan. They are repaying visits by Indian Prime Minister Nehru to Russia lat spring and Burmese Premier U Nu, who has just completed a long tour of the Soviet Union.

Bulganin and Khrushchev shook hands with about 20 diplomats seeing them off at the floodlighted military airport. No Western envoy was present.

* * *

The Russians are expected to spend about two weeks in India and a week each in Afghanistan and Burma.

The Moscow radio said the party included Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Minister of Culture N. A. Milhailov and the deputy ministers of agriculture and foreign trade.

In Ndw Delhi, the Indians were making elaborate preparations to receive their state visitors. Special trains were arranged to bring in spectators from a radius of 200 miles.

Gettysburg Farm—First Real Eisenhower Home

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (INS) — There's a million-dollar view for President and Mrs. Eisenhower as they settle down to the quiet of their "dream house", these crisp fall evenings.

* * *

From the big bay window of their spacious living room in the Gettysburg "Little White House," they can watch the colorful sunset out across the soft Blue Ridge mountains.

Or, if it's not too chilly, they can look out from their flagstone patio across the historic Gettysburg battleground stretching over the gently rolling, fertile Pennsylvania farmland.

The Temporary White House of Gettysburg combines scenic and historic beauty with all the conveniences of modern living.

It also provides the ideal restful setting the Chief Executive now needs to complete his convalescence.

'IKE'S PLACE'

"Ike's place"—as some of the neighbors call it—is a rebuilt red brick house more than a century old which is believed to have been pressed into service as a field hospital during the Civil War.

Over the past five years, since he purchased the farm, the President has converted the place into a comfortable colonial-type home reflecting the warmth of its owners.

The house itself now has 14 rooms surrounded by 490 acres of rich Adams County land about 85 miles from Washington. A white board fence lines the entire front stretch of the farm along a state road leading from the adjacent Gettysburg Battlefield Park.

NON-DESCRIPT GATE

The whitewashed brick main structure is set back some distance from the big double white gate with its modest sign "private road." The only indication to a passing motorist that this might be the home of someone special is the square secret service guard house just inside the gate.

Visitors arriving at the temporary White House pass beneath two large trees before their automobiles deposit them at the front door.

In keeping with the architecture of the colonial period, there is no front porch—only a front step leading into a glass-paneled entry hall.

The door leading from the front vestibule opens on a hallway running clear through to the back of the house, which now measures over-all about 100 feet by 40.

LARGEST ROOM

To the left of the hallway is the living room where the President and Mrs. Eisenhower may spend their evenings before the fireplace. This is the largest room in the house, measuring 37 by 21 feet, an area which could accommodate some of today's family-size homes.

The fireplace is framed by a white marble mantel which the White House staff presented to the Eisenhowers on their 38th wedding anniversary on July 6, 1954.

The patio has assumed a typical colonial atmosphere with the addition of an antique bell and lamppost. Also in the rear of the house is a barbecue pit where Eisenhower can indulge in his famous steak-broiling pastime when his health permits and he is allowed more than his present 1,800 calories per day.

* * *

Fisherman Ike also has had a pond built 400 feet southwest of the house and stocked it with bass and bluegill. The barn, 63 years old, is quartering the President's cattle—some of them gifts from well-wishers—in modern stalls.

HAS BEEN EXPANDED

The original Eisenhower purchase has been expanded. Only this year he bought a 21-acre section of land bordering both his property and the official national battlefield preserve.

In reconstructing the farm, Ike and Mamie have concentrated on their own specialties. The President has directed the outside work while Mrs. Eisenhower has devoted her time to the interior decorating. The interior scheme shows Mamie's preference for pinks and yellows.

The President's heart attack and enforced convalescence brought the Eisenhowers to the farm a bit sooner than they expected. Last March, the President spent one night in the farm house, and last August he signed some bills there before going on to Denver for the rest of his vacation.

* * *

The Eisenhowers have moved 27 times since they have been married, and even their own Gettysburg farm must now bear the name "Temporary White House."

* * *

But it's an important place to both of them as their first real home in more than 39 years of marriage. When they become full-time private citizens—whether in 1957 or 1961—the Gettysburg farm will become their full-time home.

HE'S ZOO UNHAPPY — Looking glumly into space is "Andy," the sad-faced orangutan at the Bronx Zoo in New York City. He seems to agree with a lot of visitors to the city who say New York is a nice place to visit but "I wouldn't want to live there." "Andy" would give anything to be back in Borneo, but he's "barred" from traveling.

Irish Doctors Object to Television Growth

BELFAST—Television is becoming increasingly popular in Northern Ireland hospitals but further installations are being opposed by some members of hospital boards.

* * *

Patients are very interested and television is found to be very satisfactory for them, according to E. H. Jones, secretary of the Ulster Hospitals Authority. But A. Stewart, member of the Daisy Hill Hospital management committee, declared that TV is no asset to a hospital and would be a waste of money to install.

* * *

"All the trash in the world is shown on television," Stewart declared, besides, patients would get used to it in the hospital, and would be discontented and want a set when they got home, he declared.

Leader of High School Extortion Gang Held

NEW YORK (INS)—The 16-year-old leader of a high school gang which has been shaking down students for nickels and dimes with threats of beatings, was held today by police in $5,000 bail.

High school sophomore Harry Hemstreet of Queens was accused of threatening to "kick the daylights" out of a 14-year-old Bayside H. S. freshman if he didn't pay money to the gang.

Queens Court Magistrate Anthony Maglio advised the boy's father to wield a "good thick switch" on him.

Couple Fearful of Police Visit

Adopting Parents Hide Contested Child Defying Court Warrants

NEW YORK (AP)—"There's fear hanging over us all the time. We feel hunted and haunted."

* * *

That, says Melvin B. Ellis, is what it's like for a man and his wife after more than four months of hiding from authorities in a last-ditch battle to keep their adopted daughter, Hildy.

"Our nightmare is that the police will pick up Hildy," added Mrs. Ellis in an interview with New York Post Reporter Fern Marja. "We live with that fear. It hangs over us day and night. Every time the bell rings, I get panicky."

The Ellises fled their Brookline, Mass., home and cleaning business on July 1 and went into hiding with Hildy, 4, because a court ordered them to surrender her to a Catholic institution.

HAD CHILD FOR YEARS

The court order resulted from legal action of the girl's natural mother, Mrs. Marjorie McCoy Doherty, who is seeking to regain custody of the child on the ground she did not know the Ellises were Jewish at the time she permitted them to adopt Hildy.

The Ellises have had Hildy since she was 10 days old, and have pledged to fight to the end to keep the child. Their attorney is appealing lower court decisions against them.

Meanwhile, two warrants for the couple's arrest have been issued. While Miss Marja interviewed the Ellises at their hideout, Hildy scampered happily about as the parents told the story of their self-imposed exile.

* * *

"I can't tell you what the strain is like," said Mrs. Ellis.

"We never leave Hildy alone. Even in the park, I never let her go off and play by herself. I even sit with her and make mud pies . . ."

Increase Tractor Use

STOCKHOLM — The number of tractors on Swedish farms is estimated at 115,000. Last year 15,100 new units were sold. Swedish farmers since 1929 have invested $228,000,000 in tractors; 65 per cent of this outlay has been made in the past five years.

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Is Opened

The Pontiac-area's annual onslaught on muscular dystrophy was launched today when the first of 29,480 letters seeking funds were put into local mails.

The campaign received official recognition this week in a proclamation issued by Mayor William W. Donaldson who set aside November as "Muscular Dystrophy Month."

According to Chairman Charles H. Moore, of 21 Sheridan St., the drive will reach its climax between November 21 and 25 when 15 volunteer letter carriers will partially cover the area in a door-to-door Thanksgiving March."

The event will be part of a nation-wide effort to raise funds to aid an estimated 200,000 victims of the crippling disease.

Moore predicted that most of the funds raised locally will come in response to the letters. Householders who receive them will be asked to put contributions into their mailboxes to be picked up by carriers.

The chairman said, however, that donations may be handed to any uniformed mailman or turned in at any post office.

Last year, local postmen collected more than $3,800 in mail and door-to-door appeals.

40 Are Routed by Fire

DETROIT (AP)—A fire routed 40 persons, including 12 children, into subfreezing temperatures Wednesday night. It destroyed three others in a Hastings street building. Origin of the blaze wasn't immediately determined.

An American Dental Assn. report says only 40 per cent of Americans get reasonable adequate regular dental care.

Israelis Report Egyptian Refusal

Close Sources Declare U.N. Peace Proposal Goes Begging

JERUSALEM (AP) — Sources close to the Israeli government said today Egypt has rejected U. N. proposals for easing tension around the El Auja demilitarized zone.

Israel has not yet given a formal reply to the proposals made early this month by U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold but a spokesman last week said the Israeli government would support them.

Tension in the demilitarized zone along the Negev-Sinai desert border area flared two weeks ago into the bloodiest fighting since the end of the Palestine War.

Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U.N. chief truce supervisor, returned from Cairo early this week but made no announcement on the outcome of his talks with Egyptian leaders.

Details of the U. N. proposals have never been announced.

* * *

The diplomatic correspondent of the English-language Jerusalem Post, whose articles often closely reflect the government view, said today the U. N. plan included:

1. Completion of the marking of the Sinai-Negev frontier.
2. Further withdrawal of military forces of both sides, in effect broadening the buffer zone.
3. A general return to the cease-fore and zone conditions of the 1949 armistice.

U. of M. Prof Honored

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army plans to award the University of Michigan a crontract to set up and operate a mathematics research center.

The center will conduct research and investigations in the tgeneral field of mathematics and high speed computation theory and will provide a nucleus of highly qualified specialists in the field who can be called upon for advice on specific problems, the Army said.

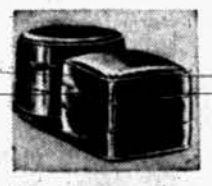

Name Hospital Officials

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Dr. A. U. Kerlikowske, director of University Hospital at Ann Arbor, is president-elect of the Michigan Hospital Assn. He will succeed Mildred Riese, director of Detroit Children's Hospital, who took over the presidency Wednesday night from Andrew Pattullo of Battle Creek. Marjorie Saunders of Flint and Jane Davis of Niles were elected vice presidents. A. Kent Schafer of Traverse City was named treasurer.

'Religion in Schools' to Be Subject Friday

The first Friday evening Fireside Program of Temple Beth Jacob will be held tomorrow night at the synagogue, immediately following the Sabbath Eve Services.

The congregation will hear Dr. Dana P. Whitmer and Dr. Morton Sobel discuss "Religion in Our Public Schools."

Dr. Whitmer is superintendent of the Pontiac Public School System. Dr. Sobel is director of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai Brith in Michigan and has received ris dectorate in education.

The fireside discussion will begin at 9:15 p.m. The public has been invited to attend.

Thanksgiving Birds Head Weekend Shopping List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Emphasis will be on turkeys in most of the nation's food stores this weekend.

* * *

Meat dealers figure that many housewives will be buying their Thanksgiving birds on Friday or Saturday, rather than early next week, so turkeys will top the list of advertised specials. It's generally agreed that they will cost more than they did a year ago — perhaps five or six cents a pound — because production is down around four per cent. The National Turkey Federation stresses, however, that there will be ample supplies of plump birds.

GOOD MEAT SELECTIONS

For the fothcoming weeknd, stores will have a good selection of worthwhile buys in meats. Prime ribs will be widely featured, with prices down two to four cents a pound from a week ago in many instances. Sirloin steaks will be lowerq, too, and some other types of steaks will be available at sale prices in many outlets.

Legs of lamb and loins of pork are other favorite weekend selections. Fryers, on the other hand, will cost you more than a week ago. Price advances of around six cents a pound will be fairly common.

Scattered stores plan to feature such items as smoked ham, chuck roast, round roast and cross-rib roast.

There's a good choice of vegetables to be had at reasonable prices. The best buys include beets, cabbage, onions, potatoes, radishes and turnips (both yellow and white). Also recommended by produce men are cauliflower, beans, cucumbers, pascal celery, spinich, escarole, endive, eggplant, yams and artichokes. Peppers, carrots and golden heart celery are higher.

Apples are considered a good buy in fruit, although there is a wide range in quality. Limes are cheap. Emperors are among the better buys in grapes.

Oranges and grapefruit are up slightly at wholesale but are rated good buys, nevertheless. Tangerines are moderately priced.

* * *

Except for peanuts, nuts are on the scarce side and rather high in price, according to produce specialists.

Coffee prices are due to come down, following cuts in wholesale prices of around four cents a pound in the last week by leading roasters. It's expected that chain stores will be trimming prices on their private brands of coffee, too.

They Should Know

WASHINGTON (INS)—Rep. Augustine B. Kelley (D-Pa), has suggested that former presidents Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover lighten the presidential load.

Police Crack Down on X-Way 'Bombers'

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit police today were to begin a crackdown on "expressway bombardiers" following the arrest of two schoolboys who pelted moving cars with chunks of concrete.

Scout car crews were under orders to keep loiterers off expressway overpasses after the arrests disclosed that dozens of drivers have complained of being peltered with everything from rocks to cans of paints.

The two boys, aged 12 and 13, dropped pieces of cement blocks from the Spruce overpass onto the Lodge Expressway, hitting two cars.

The angry motorists whose autos were hit, Florian Syc, 28, and Donald Hayden, 24, parked their cars and chased the boys, catching the offenders at a parking lot near the Franklin School.

The boys were to appear today before Referee Harland S. Ringelberg in juvenile court.

Syc's windshield was smashed and the roof of Hayden's car was dented.

Probe Cost Excessive

WASHINGTON (INS)—Assistant Attorney General Stanley Barnes said yesterday that congressional investigations of a Justice Department report on anti-trust laws have cost ten times more than the report itself. He said the government spent $78,179 on the report and is recouping some of this by selling copies of the study.

With Tall Tales?

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (INS) — Pennsylvania Gov. George M. Leader has accepted Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton's challenge to enter the 1956 heaviest turkey contest in Chicago Jan. 4. He said: "We are having an oversized vehicle built to take our entry to the contest."

Proves Old Adage

CHICAGO (INS)—The old saying that a man who tries to be his own lawyer has a fool for a client proved true in the case of Philip H. D. Sheridan, 55, accused of passing $238 in worthless checks. He was sentenced to nine months in the county jail.

An East Kew, Australia, firm offers wristlet rosaries for export.

World Markets Sag With Rice

Three Chief Exporters Overloaded With New Crop Output

WASHINGTON—Rice, the daily bread of more than half the world's people, may appear oftener on tables in coming months than it has in many years past.

* * *

Some Asiatics whose only food is rice may yet go hungry. But they will hunger—thanks to world prices and political struggles—midst a plenty that plagues not only the surplus-stuffed United States but also Burma and Thailand, the world's chief rice exporters.

Farmers around the globe now grow one-quarter more rice than they did at the end of World War II, says the National Geographic Society.. Asiatic paddy fields, comprising more than 90 per cent of all rice land, naturally yielded most. But new fields were opened and old ones improved in Australia, South American, and the United States.

The United States alone doubled its rice crop in the last 10 years, becoming the third largest exporter. Farmers have improved irrigation systems to push-button perfection. They fly airplanes over fields to broadcast seed.

At harvest time they wheel in huge combines to thresh. With such mechanical aids, one farmer can manage 80 acres of rice compared to the one or two acres hand-tilled by his Oriental counterpart.

LOUISIANA LEADS

Although Americans have maintained a steady appetite for rice while cutting down on potatoes and bread, their per capita take hasn't exceeded 5.7 pounds in any year of the last decade. Since the average Louisianian puts away as much as 100 pounds a year, it is evident that some mouths never savor more than an occasional rice pudding.

Nearly all of today's packaged rice comes ready for the pot. Much of this clean rice has lost vitamins during milling. But more and more of a new kind is being sold which has 92 per cent of its thiamine locked inside by a special parboiling process.

They have even found a use for rice hulls which normally are dumped or burned as waste. Hulls are being made into low-cost, lightweight building blocks.

* * *

Superior insulators, they appear also to be good absorbers of radioactivity. Civil Defense officials are testing them for possible use in atomic war shelters.

To Harvest Own Pulp

WATERVLIET (AP) — The Watervliet Paper Co. Tuesday announced plans to harvest its own wood for pulp beginning about Dec. 5 near Clara. The firm previously had purchased its pulp supply.

American families earning more than $5,000 a year averaged two trips each during their 1954 vacation, which averaged 20.9 days per family.

How to make Dad feel like a million dollars!

Unless clothes rinse clean ...they're just part clean!

all washes clothes completely clean because its "controlled suds" rinse out, completely! There's never any unsightly Suds Scum left to cloud fresh-washed clothes... and blotch them when you iron.

It's no wonder millions of women have switched to all with "controlled suds." How about you? Why don't you switch to all, the detergent prescribed by automatic washer makers? The pictures below show the amazing reason why.

Actual photos of transparent automatic washers prove:

How all can wash so clean yet rinse as free!

Thick suds can leave Suds Scum — as this picture clearly shows. Wash water has been drained out... but look what remains! A blanket of sticky suds that cling to fabrics and stubbornly resist being rinsed away. That's why clothes washed in thick suds can so often look disappointingly dull and gray.

See the difference with all! Again, wash water has been drained away. But this time you see no hard-to-rinse-away suds. all gets clothes completely clean because its "controlled suds" rinse out completely. That's why clothes washed in all are always so soft and fresh, and iron so beautifully.

Top Feast With Cheese, Fruit

When guests come knocking at your door on Thanksgiving Day's afternoon or evening, you'll not be unprepared if the idea of serving a fresh fruit and cheese tray has popped into your head.

• • •

In planning for this type of informal buffet snack, you may wish to make these suggested additions to your market order for your meals on Thursday, Nov. 24:

One or two units of baby Gouda cheese (the red wax-coated flat-baby loaf of Edam cheese, a baby loaf of processed cheese, a wedge of Port Salut cheese, a package of blue cheese, 1 gallon (or more if needed) of cider, needed amounts of fresh fruit, and an assortment of crisp crackers.

Whether the tray be of wood or copper or lustrous in silver, Gouda cheese should be featured as the center of interest on yours because of its beauty in color and shape.

• • •

Interesting slices (plain or fancy), wedges, cubes, fingers and triangles of cheese speared with party picks create an especially pretty picture.

A cheese tile or cheese-cutting board placed nearby with a cheese knife will provide opportunities for each guest to cut the cheese in the size he prefers.

Fresh rosy apples and pears with Tokay and white grapes are seasonal and wonderful complements to the flavor and beauty of Gouda cheese, especially.

An assortment of salty crackers and glasses of chilled cider arranged around your lovely cheese-fruit tray will make your buffet the most popular spot in your home on Thanksgiving Day.

DESSERT TRAY — Go continental and serve your Thanksgiving guests a delicious cheese and fruit tray for dessert. Most people will be happy to have a lighter dessert after a big meal. Offer a variety of cheeses. If this tray is being served as evening refreshments, accompany it with glasses of clear, cold cider.

Individual Pies Let Cook Relax

Winter is upon us. Family fun and entertaining are usually confined to the indoor type.

Laughter is achieving an all-time high in the living room, while you stand in the kitchen and cook. No one likes to miss the family fun.

Reba Staggs, home economist, advises you to try individual meat pies for the family next week.

They are simple to prepare and served right in the baking dish casserole. Set the timer on your range after the pies are in the oven and go relax with the rest of the family.

Individual Meat Pies

1½ pounds beef for stew
¼ cup flour
3 tablespoons lard
Salt and pepper
10 small whole carrots
10 small whole onions
2 cups canned or cooked peas
3 cups mashed potatoes

Dredge meat in flour and brown slowly in the lard. Season. Add only enough water to cover. Cover tightly and cook for 1½ hours.

Add vegetables, except peas, and continue cooking about 45 minutes or until meat is tender, and vegetables are done.

Pour off the cooking liquid and thicken for gravy. Combine vegetables and gravy. Arrange in individual casserole dishes.

Force mashed potatoes through a pastry tube around the edge of each casserole dish. Place in a hot oven (450) until potatoes are browned. Four to six servings.

Leave Turkey in Pan

After roasting your chicken or turkey, allow the bird to stand in the roasting pan 15 to 30 minutes so that juices may be absorbed. Remove the trussing equipment and place the bird on a large warm platter. Garnish and carve it at the table so everyone can enjoy its full glamor.

Mushroom-Growing Gives Amateurs a Rough Time

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

One winter the Better Half decided we would grow our own mushrooms. He had fallen prey to an enticing advertisement that promised all the mushrooms we could eat out of one box of mushroom spawn.

He ordered one and in due course of time it arrived. I've forgotten that exorbitant price we paid to get that box of dirt; dirt is heavy!

Mushrooms are fussy about temperature. The ideal growing temperature is around 50 degrees. Our box went into the coal room.

If the day became colder, I had to run downstairs and open the door so that the heat of the cellar would warm up the tender mushrooms. If it got warmer outside, I hardly dared open the coal bin door even to get coal.

We grew a few mushrooms, so the experiment was not a total failure. But those were expensive mushrooms, just the same. Since that time, both the Better Half and I have been content to let the professionals grow our mushrooms.

LONG HISTORY

Mushrooms have been eaten since very early days. In France, during the reign of Louis XIV, the art of mushrooms culture was begun. Today mushrooms are the chief food of some natives in South America and in some parts of Australia.

Mushrooms have always been considered a delicacy, rather than a main food by most people. They are about 88 per cent water and have approximately the same number of calories as an equal amount of orange juice.

While fresh mushrooms are nearly always available, canned ones may be kept as a staple food on your shelves. They represent an excellent bargain since they shrink to one-half their original weight when cooked. Thus, when you buy a 4-ounce can of mushrooms, you are getting the equivalent of half a pound of fresh mushrooms.

JUST AS GOOD

Unless you are stuffing them or using them as appetizers, stems and pieces or slices taste just as good and are much cheaper than buttons. I make it a point to keep some of them on hand all the time. They're perfect to give the gourmet touch to soups, stew, or creamed dishes.

With Thanksgiving in the offing, you may like this different stuffing recipe, one that includes mushrooms.

Mushroom Sausage Stuffing

1 chicken or turkey liver, chopped fine
½ cup mushrooms, chopped fine
½ cup onions, chopped fine
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon MSG
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
¼ pound sausage meat
2 cups tiny, dry bread cubes

Mix all ingredients for stuffing, blending lightly but thoroughly. Fill cavity of bird. Roast as usual.

This second recipe makes a good casserole dish for a meatless menu.

Corn and Mushroom Supreme

1 cup button mushrooms
1 onion, minced
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups whole kernel corn
¼ teaspoon pepper
Salt to taste

Saute mushrooms and onion in butter. Add remaining ingredients. Pour into buttered baking dish. Bake 30 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Makes eight servings.

Team Apples and Sausage

Probably no meat deserves a fruit accompaniment as much as pork. And since pork is high on the plentiful foods list, now is the time to try this new recipe which features bulk pork sausage and apples.

• • •

The sausage is combined with ground beef and seasonings and formed into patties. Then arrange sandwich-fashion in a shallow pan with slices of apple between each pattie.

Sausage and Apple Stacks

1½ cups (whole wheat shreds)
¼ cup milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
½ pound ground raw beef
½ pound bulk pork sausage
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons minced onions
2 medium apples

Combine cereal, milk and egg; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add meats, seasonings and onions; mix thoroughly. Divide mixture into 12 equal portions and form into thin patties.

• • •

Pare, core and slice apples crosswise. Place apple slice between two patties and press together. Arrange in shallow pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 30-35 minutes or until meat is done and apple is tender.

Yield: Six servings.

BAKED ACORN SQUASH—Acorn squash is at its best at this season of the year. Serve it often as your main vegetable, and consider it for an addition to your Thanksgiving menu. Here the squash halves are filled with maple-flavored syrup and walnut meats.

Syrup, Walnuts Top Off Squash

Acorn squash is a delightful autumn vegetable. It can be stuffed with pork sausage or hamburger.

It is delicious with chopped apple and bits of ham. It's unusual with maple-flavored syrup and walnuts.

Baked Acorn Squash

3 medium acorn squash
⅓ cup maple-blended syrup
3 tablespoons butter
Salt
¼ cup nuts, chopped coarsely

Cut squash in half and remove seeds. Cover bottom of baking dish with boiling water. Place squash cut side down, in the water and bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 30 minutes.

Turn squash cut side up in pan. Place about 1 tablespoon syrup and one-half tablespoon butter in center of each squash half. Sprinkle with salt and about 2 teaspoons chopped nuts.

Bake 30 minutes, or until tender. Makes six servings.

Stir in a half cup of canned crushed well-drained pineapple when you are making an instant vanilla pudding for a flavor change.

BUTTERSCOTCH MINCEMEAT — A modern busy-day instant pudding mix is combined with the traditional mincemeat of the holiday season. It makes a festive dessert, one easy to make and in full keeping with the time of the year.

Team Pudding and Mincemeat

Mincemeat dishes, which in this country traditionally bespeak the holiday season, used to mean hours of kitchen preparation for the homemaker.

But now, with canned and packaged mincemeat and the modern help of instant pudding mixes (which come in vanilla, butterscotch, chocolate, coconut cream, strawberry), a dessert like Butterscotch Mincemeat can be fixed, garnished and ready to serve while the coffee perks!

Butterscotch Mincemeat

1½ cups cold milk
1 package butterscotch instant pudding mix
½ cup moist mincemeat
Sweetened whipped cream

Pour milk into mixing bowl. Add pudding mix and beat slowly with eggbeater just until well mixed, about one minute. Do not overbeat; mixture will be thin.

Quickly fold in moist mincemeat, reserving a few spoonfuls for garnish. Pour pudding mixture at once into serving dishes and let stand to set—takes five minutes.

Garnish with whipped cream and the reserved mincemeat. Makes four servings.

Molasses Cookies Will Please Family

There's nothing like homemade cookies. They have a flavor that no factory product can approach.

To give your family a real homemade treat, try your hand at making these simple old-fashioned molasses cookies. Fill up your cookie jar and watch these cookies disappear.

Old-Fashioned Molasses Cookies

1 cup sugar
½ cup lard
½ cup butter
1 cup molasses
2 eggs
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
½ cup cider vinegar
4 cups sifted flour

Mix together sugar, lard, butter, molasses, eggs, cinnamon, ginger and salt. Dissolve soda into cider vinegar and stir into first mixture. Mix in sifted flour.

Pimientos Turn Routine Menus Into Gala Meals

Pimientos are the life of the party food. They turn everyday menus into festive meals.

In a matter of minutes you can embellish a meat, brighten a casserole, enliven a salad with the brilliant color and spicy flavor of delicious whole red pimientos.

Keep jars or cans on the pantry shelf — it's a happy idea that takes no time, no trouble.

Vary the monotony of vegetables by chopping pimientos into them. They add zest to lima beans, peas, string beans, turnips.

Spark fish recipes with pimientos. Use them as a garnish or chop them up in casseroles.

Add interest and flavor to egg dishes by combining pimientos with the other ingredients. Chop them very fine for the centers of deviled eggs.

For exclamations from your guests, decorate the open-faced sandwiches with original forms—pimientos shaped like flowers, hearts, diamonds.

Lemon Enlivens Natural Taste of Vegetables

By International News Service

Lemons can transform vegetables into tastier foods, bringing out the natural taste.

* * *

Nutrition specialists say a dish of lemon quarters served with vegetables will add zest.

Lemon butter, made with two parts melted butter and one part lemon juice, is good with asparagus, artichokes, cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli and brussels sprouts.

A few drops of lemon juice on melon bring out a hidden flavor. Lemon juice also is good in prune, pineapple, tomato and other juices.

* * *

For breakfast, try sprinkling buttered waffles or hot cakes with sugar and a liberal squeeze of lemon juice.

Yields 3-4 Cups of Rice

A cup of uncooked rice will yield 3 to 4 cups of cooked rice, depending on the cooking method used.

Use Versatile Rice to Pep Up Menus

The many interesting uses for rice makes it a perfect addition for at least one course of any meal.

And if your menus have seemed a little "tired" lately, let this economical and nutritious food add variety with tasty curry dishes, Creole combinations, casseroles, desserts, and the many other intriguing rice treats.

Served with cinnamon, butter and milk, rice can make breakfast an occasion; or you might consider it as an ingredient . . . not merely as rice alone . . . a companion food at lunch or dinner . . . often as an extender of more costly foods.

Hot, it combines well with poultry, fish or any seafood; with steak as a main dish; cold, in salads; and of course in any number of old and new dessert favorites.

Chocolate has a natural affinity for rice, and so has pineapple. And then there's that wonderful fluff of chilled cooked rice beaten with whipped cream and mixed with luscious nuts, marachino cherries and other fruits.

BREAD-N-BUTTER WAFFLES — These easy-to-do waffles make an ideal Saturday night supper for the family. For pretty serving, cut them in half diagonally and top with maple-blended syrup. Ham, a mixed green salad, and lots of good hot coffee round out a quick and easy-to-get menu.

Supper Menu Simplified by Bread-n-Butter Waffles

The modern viewpoint of cooking, whether for family or guests, is to "keep it simple." And, Bread-n-Butter Waffles do just that!

These waffles are on any-time-of-day treat that is quick, easy and economical. Too, Bread-n-Butter Waffles use only nutritious products found in homes everywhere . . . bread, butter, eggs, milk and maple-blended syrup.

Bread-n-Butter Waffles are ideal at any meal, but they're especially fine for Saturday night supper after Mom has been shopping, Pop and the kids have been sporting all day, and everyone arrives home with enormous appetites.

With Bread-n-Butter Waffles on the menu, it's a matter of minutes before supper is ready; it means merely spreading bread on both sides with butter, dipping into an egg-milk mixture and popping into the waffle iron.

Then, when crunchy-crisp, they're ready for a topping—but naturally—maple-blended syrup.

* * *

To round out this perfect Saturday night meal, all that's needed is fried ham, a mixed green salad and lots of real hot coffee. And, perhaps, some pudding.

Bread-n-Butter Waffles

8 to 10 slices bread
Butter
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon sugar
Dash of salt
2 eggs, slightly beaten
Maple-blended syrup

Spread bread slices lightly on both sides with butter. Add milk, sugar and salt to slightly beaten eggs. Blend well. Dip slices of bread in egg-milk mixture thoroughly but quickly. Drain.

* * *

Bake in moderately hot waffle iron until golden brown (about five minutes.) Serve hot with maple-blended syrup. Makes 8 to 10 waffles.

Feature Waffled Bread

Spotlight waffled bread as the main attraction on your breakfast menu. Trim the crusts from slices of enriched bread. Brush both sides lightly with butter or margarine. Place in the center of a hot waffle baker. When browned the slices will be crisp. Serve waffled bread with butter or margarine and syrup or a tangy fruit sauce.

Serve chilled red apples with Gouda cheese for a fine dessert.

Green Bean Salad

Dress canned green beans (drained) with mayonnaise mixed with cream; add bits of anchovy fillets and serve surrounded with greens for a supper salad. Nice with sliced roast veal.

Make Cookies With Cake Mix

You'll want to try crispy flavorful cookies made with a new instant cake mix. This recipe for Orange Almond Drops is a sure-fire hit, so better be ready for raids on the cookie jar!

Orange Almond Drops

1 egg, unbeaten
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1 package instant yellow cake mix
2 tablespoons softened butter
½ cup chopped almonds

Combine egg, orange juice, rind and almond wctract in mixing bowl. Blend in part of cake mix gradually, mixing well. Add softened butter and remainder of mix and blend well. Then mix in chopped almonds.

* * *

Chill dough about one-half hour for easier handling. Then shape with hands into small balls, the size of a walnut. Place on ungreased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 3½ dozen cookies.

When you are putting a chicken into your freezer, wrap and freeze the giblets separately from the bird. And never stuff the chicken before freezing.

Plentiful and Thrifty Pork Fills U. S. Meat Counters

The pork picture—This year the 1955 spring crop was 9 per cent above last year, which means that marketing will rise from now until December and assure us of ample pork supplies up through mid-January.

Pork is retailing at prices 10 to 25 per cent under a year ago and is at the lowest price level since 1946.

Actually pork prices are usually lowest in late fall and early winter when the large number of hogs raised during the summer comes to the market—but this year the extreme drop is unusual.

In the summer weather there is special demand for broiling and frying meats such as steaks and pork chops. This contributes to the high summer prices of pork chops.

Ham is cut from the hindquarter of the pig and is sold fresh or cured.

It may be:

Country-cured — not cooked during processing.

Tenderized — partially cooked during processing.

Ready-to-eat — cooked during processing, requires only a few minutes per pound.

Canned—cooked, packed, and ready-to-eat.

Baked or boiled—ready-to-eat.

Pork shoulder is usually divided into the picnic shoulder and the Boston butt.

Picnics are sold fresh, or cured and smoked, with or without the bone. According to Michigan food laws, the smoked picnic shoulder is not a picnic ham.

Boston butt is the fleshy portion of the pork shoulder and is sold fresh and cured with or without the bone. Cuts from this section may be called Boston butt roast, rolled Boston butt, blade steaks or smoked shoulder butts.

Loin is usually sold fresh, as roasts or chops. The loin provides "center cut" loin roasts or chops (which is the preferred cut), the loin-end roast, and the rib-end roast.

Bacon comes from the side and belly. It is trimmed, cured, and smoked.

Spareribs consist of the ribs and breastbone which are removed from the pork side. They are sold fresh and have a high proportion of bone and fat in relation to meat.

Coating for Chicken

You can make a delicious coating for chicken you are frying in shallow fat by mixing a quarter cup flour with a quarter cup of grated Parmesan cheese plus salt, pepper and paprika to taste.

Add Dates to Pudding

Here's an energy-giver that's also sophisticated enough to serve as a luncheon dessert. Prepare a package of vanilla tapioca pudding, remove from heat and add one fourth cup cut dates. Serve chilled with or without whipped cream.

Soup Revives Energy

Lose your energy before luncheon? Then stop! That is, stop whatever you're doing for a cup of soup before that let-down feeling gets you. Your energy will revive like a blossom after a rain. The day's productivity will be soup's own reward.

CLAM CHOWDER — Clam chowder lovers, gather round! Now is the time for all to indulge in their favorite cold weather soup. This one is economical as well as nourishing, for it's made with instant nonfat dry milk.

Clam Chowder Uses Dry Milk

Clam Chowder will be a dinner table hit any day of the week — and not Fridays only — once you have tried this test kitchen recipe. Our prediction is that requests for seconds will be in rapid fire order when it is on the menu.

Today's Clam Chowder is a quick and easy recipe but it gives plenty of nourishing goodness. One quart of liquefied instant nonfat dry milk is called for in the recipe — a good buy in nutrition.

Instant nonfat dry milk, which is top-quality pasteurized milk, with only the fat and water removed, is rich in protein, calcium and riboflavin. Yet it can be obtained for as little as seven cents a quart.

Clam Chowder

¼ pound (3-6 strips) bacon, diced
2 medium-size onions, chopped
2 (10-ounce) cans minced clams
1½ cups (2 medium size) diced potatoes
2 tablespoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 quart liquefied instant nonfat dry milk

Place bacon in 4-quart saucepan; saute over low heat until crisp. Add onions; cook until tender, about three minutes. Add clams with liquid, potatoes, salt and pepper. Cook until potatoes are tender, about five to seven minutes.

Stir in liquefied instant nonfat dry milk; cook over low heat until thoroughly heated. Makes six servings of 1 cup each.

Give Date-Nut Roll a Touch of Hawaii

To help solve the problem of dessert when unexpected guests arrive for dinner, here is a quick dessert. Keep ingredients handy on your shelf and you'll always be prepared with a party dessert at the last minute.

Date-Nut Roll, Hawaii

1 can date-nut roll.
1 can (No. 2) pineapple slices.
Ice cream or whipped cream.

Slice date-nut roll into as many servings as needed (makes six or eight slices). Arrange a drained pineapple slice on each slice of date-nut roll (save extra pineapple slices for breakfast fruit).

Top with a scoop of ice cream or a fluff of whipped cream. Easy, festive, and good eating!

Broiler Means Better Breakfast With Less Work

Breakfast is a breeze . . . when you let your broiler work for you. It takes only six or seven minutes to cook this complete broiler meal; such a simple way to serve breakfast in a hurry.

BROILER BREAKFAST

Honey Muffets

Mix together 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons honey and 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Place a tablespoon of mixture on each of four round shredded wheat biscuits.

Grapefruit

Cut each grapefruit in half; section each half and sprinkle 1 tablespoon brown sugar on top.

Pineapple 'n' Meat

Cut contents of one 12-ounce can luncheon meat into 8 slices. Place a chunk of pineapple on each meat slice.

* * *

Arrange all foods on broiler rack; broil about 4 inches from heat until sugar is bubbly on biscuits and grapefruit.

Serve grapefruit on small plates the biscuits in cereal dishes with milk and the meat on an attractive platter. Easy? Yes!

Rice Mixture Doubles as Stuffing, Vegetable

Here's a recipe for a wonderful tasting dish you can use as a stuffing or as a vegetable!

Melt one-half cup cooking fat in a saucepan. Add 1 cup finely chopped onions, one-half cup finely chopped green pepper and 1 cup finely chopped celery. Simmer until tender. Add 1 cup chopped mushrooms and cook until the mushrooms are tender. Add 1 teaspoon sage, 1 teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon black pepper and 2 cups cooked white rice.

Stuff lightly into chicken or other fowl; make into dressing balls and brown in the oven; or serve hot as a vegetable, but use hot cooked rice if you serve it this way.

Leftover Cornbread Makes Sugary Sticks

Cut leftover cornbread into 1x1x3-inch sticks. Melt a little butter or margarine in frying pan. Saute cornbread sticks about one minute, turning them to heat all sides. (Add butter as needed.)

Roll hot sticks in cinnamon-sugar. Serve immediately. Allow three per serving.

A Family Favorite

Banana Cake by CLABBER GIRL

Here's a new addition to your favorite recipe file. Based on the new all-purpose oil cake, it's flavor-fresh with that popular tropical fruit, the banana, quick to make, with prize winning velvety texture due in part to Clabber Girl Baking Powder.

Flavor Fresh...

BANANA CAKE

Yield: 2—9-inch layers

2¼ cups sifted cake flour
2¼ teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup all-purpose oil
1¼ cups mashed bananas
½ cup milk
2 eggs
1½ cups sugar

Sift together flour, Baking Powder, and salt. Add oil, bananas, and milk. Beat until the mixture forms a very stiff batter. In a separate bowl, beat eggs until thick and foamy. Gradually add sugar and beat until very well blended. Fold egg-sugar mixture into first batter. Pour into 2 greased and floured 9 x 1½-inch round layer cake pans. Bake in a 375° F. (moderate) oven about 30 minutes. Cool before frosting with Seven Minute Frosting and walnut meats

Flavor Fresh...

Remember, it's the fresh ingredients in your home-baked recipe that make things taste better; stay fresh longer!

Use Doughnuts in Apple Betty

Nice on a crisp, cool day is a crunchy casserole dessert. We recommend Apple Betty, made with tart apples and sweet, cake-quality doughnuts, the kind coated with powdered sugar.

* * *

There are some available, packaged, at your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department, which are made from a home-type recipe.

The doughnuts are crumbled in a casserole dish with apples, butter, brown sugar, spices and lemon juice. The Betty is browned until it's golden.

Served with a pitcher of milk or cream, it makes a fine, hearty fall dessert. Here is the recipe.

Apple Betty

1 package cake quality doughnuts, crumbled
½ cup melted butter
4 cups pared sliced tart apples
¾ cups brown sugar
½ cup hot water
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind

Combine doughnut crumbs and butter; put one-third of mixture in bottom of 2-quart casserole. Top with one-half apples. Combine ingredients except water. Spoon one-half mixture over apples.

Arrange layers of crumbs, apples and sugar mixture on top. Pour water over all.

Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 25 minutes; uncover and bake 15 minutes longer. Makes six to eight servings.

For best flavor don't shell peas until you are ready to cook them.

Figs, Bananas Baked Together

Figs are so nutritious and so healthful, they make an ideal addition to that luncheon so enjoyed everywhere: Hot soup, canned or homemade, crackers, milk or a hot drink and a fruit—and let that fruit be dried figs a good share of the time—for delicious flavor and for health.

When adding stewed figs to cakes, puddings, breads, cookies and so on, here's a quickie way to do it. With scissors, snip off the stems, then place the figs in a mixing bowl.

Use the electric beater or hand beater. The figs will whirl themselves into tiny pieces.

Baked Figs With Bananas

12 stewed dried figs
4 ripe bananas
¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice

With scissors, snip the stems off the stewed figs. Then cut the figs in half. Place in a flat baking dish, alternately with bite-size slices of bananas. Sprinkle with sugar and lemon juice.

Broil slowly or bake in a hot oven (400) for about 12 minutes or until the juice runs from the bananas and they are lightly brown. Serve as a delicious hot garnish for meat or fowl. Serves 3 or 4.

Deviled Corn Fritters

Two favorite flavor go-togethers are corn and ham. A delightful way to blend them is in Deviled Corn Fritters. Simply make up your regular recipe for corn fritters, then stir in a can of spicy deviled ham. Fry fritters as usual and serve piping hot.

Sticks Contain Nothing but Fish

The processor buys great blocks of solid fish, made by quick-freezing the fish soon after they were landed at the dock. By machine, these blocks are cut into sticks 3 or 4 inches long, which are dipped into beaten eggs, then into fine bread crumbs, and deep-fat-fried.

Just before they are thoroughly cooked, they are taken from the fryers, so that the housewife is really buying fish cooked just up to the point of being done.

When she heats the sticks in the oven or under the broiler, she has pieces of fish cooked just right—not merely reheated fish. She can serve them as she pleases, perhaps with a shrimp sauce made this way.

Fish Sticks With Shrimp Sauce

2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup light cream
1 5-ounce can shrimp, broken into small pieces
Salt
Cayenne pepper
2 well-beaten egg yolks
2 tablespoons dry sherry (or 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 tablespoon water)

Melt butter in top part of a double boiler. Remove from heat and blend in flour. Gradually add cream and return to heat. Cook, stirring until sauce is thick and smooth, but do not boil. Add shrimp. Add salt and cayenne pepper to taste.

To 2 well-beaten egg yolks add a little of the hot sauce, then stir the mixture into the sauce.

Ambrosia Pie Boasts Texture That's Unusual

Here's a delightful pie with interesting texture.

Ambrosia Pie

1 cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup quick cooking rice cereal
1 can (3½ ounces) flaked coconut
2 tablespoons butter (soft)
2 eggs (separated)
½ cup sugar
1 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
9-inch unbaked pastry shell

Heat milk and salt in top of double boiler over boiling water. Sprinkle in quick-cooking rice cereal; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Cover, lower heat so water in bottom of double boiler just simmers, and continue cooking 10 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in coconut and set aside to cool slightly.

Blend together soft butter, egg yolks and one-fourth cup of the sugar. Stir into slightly cooled rice mixture. Stir orange and lemon juices together; slowly stir into rice mixture.

Beat egg whites until almost stiff; gradually beat in remaining one-fourth cup sugar. Fold egg whites into rice-coconut mixture.

Pour into unbaked 9-inch pastry shell. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until lightly browned—about 45 minutes.

Cool to room temperature before serving. Top with whipped cream if desired. Makes eight servings.

One out of every seven U.S. people had never seen the inside of a dental office, says an American Dental Assn. report.

Prepare Trout With Tomatoes

Lake trout — plentiful right now, so says the National Fisheries Institute, because more than a million pounds were frozen when catches were abundant — is high on everybody's list of favorite foods. And no wonder, for these delicious fish belong to the same family as the delicately flavored brook and rainbow trout, as well as the renowned salmon of both Atlantic and Pacific Coasts.

Trout With Tomatoes

2 to 4 pound trout
1 onion chopped fine
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 stalk celery chopped fine
2 tablespoons flour
½ cup water
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon butter, margarine or other shortening

If fish is frozen, let it thaw on refrigerator shelf, or at room temperature. Salt the fish and let it stand for one hour. Place in greased baking pan. Add tomatoes, onion and celery. Dot with butter.

Bake 25 to 35 minutes at 375 degrees, or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Remove fish to a warm dish.

Make a paste by mixing flour with water. Then add to drippings in the pan. Add Worcestershire sauce. Cook until sauce is hot. If too thick, add a little water or lemon juice.

Pour sauce over fish and serve at once. Makes three servings.

Don't use a good saw to cut together with glue. Modern wood through wood that has been joined adhesives are so strong that they can dull the teeth of a saw cutting through them.

Fry Rice Sticks for Many Uses

Here's a new recipe based on quick-cooking rice cereal. It's a grand idea that can be used many ways.

Just for a starter . . . serve the plain rice sticks along with dinner . . . or use your imagination for a for breakfast or lunch . . . after a light lunch, serve them topped with honey for a delicious dessert . . . or use por imagination for a sauce to serve over them for a main dish at a family dinner.

The rice sticks can be fixed the day before and left overnight, or even several days, in the refrigerator. They're nice to have around.

Fried Rice Sticks

3 cups water
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup quick-cooking rice cereal

Place water and salt in saucepan and bring to boil. Sprinkle in rice cereal so that boiling does not stop. Cook, stirring constantly.

Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes. Pour into lightly oiled loaf pan, about 8x4 inches.

Chill thoroughly, or overnight. Cut into eight slices. Dip in flour and brown in hot fat. Serve immediately. Yield: Four servings.

Blend Grapes, Cheese for Luncheon Salad

Stir halved seedless green grapes into cream-style cottage cheese. Serve on romaine with French dressing for a luncheon salad. For a buffet party, you can mold the cheese on a serving dish so it is about the size and shape of a round 8-inch layer cake pan; surround with curly green and yellow leaves of chicory.

Apples, Sweet Potatoes Make Flavorsome Team

With fresh red apples and sweet potatoes both listed as pleantiful this month, this is a good time to enjoy a variety of wonderful-tasting dishes which combine the two.

* * *

Today's salad, for example, may evoke memories of your favorite Waldorf for it stars apples, celery and chopped nuts. With the addition of cubed sweet potatoes, however, this salad takes on new taste as well as different texture and appearance, and doubles as a vegetable with your dinner.

* * *

Delicious apples are tops for this salad, not only for flavor but because you can use these apples without peeling and enjoy the bright red color.

Another appetizing way to serve these ewo foods is to cook and mash the sweet potatoes and serve stuffed into the apple shells.

Apple and Sweet Potato Salad

Sweet potatoes, cooked and diced to make 2 cups
1 cup celery, sliced
Delicious apples, cored and chopped to make 1 cup
½ cup chopped walnuts
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup mayonnaise

In a large salad bowl combine potatoes, celery, apples and chopped nuts. Add lemon juice, sugar and salt to the mayonnaise and mix well. Pour over the apple-potato mixture, toss lightly until well mixed. Serves four.

Apple Stuffed Sweet Potato

3 Rome Beauty baking apples
½ cup brown sugar
Sweet potatoes, cooked and mashed to make 3 cups
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons cream
Salt and pepper to taste

Cut apples in half crosswise and remove core. Sprinkle cavities with half the brown sugar. Place apple halves in shallow pan containing small amount of water and bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 10 to 20 minutes or until almost tender. Scoop out pulp, leaving shell about one-half inch thick. Reserve apple pulp.

Add apple pulp to mashed sweet potatoes, butter or margarine and cream. Season to taste and beat until fluffy. Pile sweet potato mixture lightly into apple shells, place in shallow pan and sprinkle with remaining brown sugar.

Pour a little melted butter over tops and heat under broiler or in a hot oven (400 degrees) until lightly browned. Serves six.

Bones of mammoths of 120,000 years ago have been turned up by workmen of Felixstowe, England.

Delicious Spread: Deviled Ham, Eggs

Here's a recipe for deviled ham and eggs sandwich filler that might make good basket lunch fare:

8 slices enriched bread, butter or margarine
2 cans (2¼ ounces) deviled ham
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup chopped sweet pickles
3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
4 lettuce leaves

Spread bread with butter or margarine. Mix ham, Worcestershire sauce and pickles until well blended.

Spread ham mixture on four slices bread. Top with egg slices and lettuce. Cover with remaining bread slices.

Crackers Star in Shrimp Dish

Succulent shrimp, a popular favorite with seafood lovers, is the featured star in this delicious new main-course recipe. A boon to protein - conscious menu planners, Crispy Shrimp With Mushroom Sauce has an extra-rich flavor supplied by crushed crispy crackers, melted butter and grated onions.

* * *

For that special fancy touch, serve it over a layer of whole crispy crackers, the same flaky-thin saltines used in making it. Here's the easy way to prepare this new dish:

Shrimp With Mushroom Sauce

2 3-oz. packages frozen, cleaned shrimp
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 tablespoon grated onion
½ lb. mushrooms, sliced
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon parsley flakes, or 3 tablespoons chopped parsley
1½ cups milk
12 to 16 whole crackers
½ cup coarsely crushed cracker crumbs

Cook shrimp as package directs. Meanwhile heat butter or margarine in a heavy skillet. Add onions and mushrooms. Saute slowly for five minutes, then sprinkle flour, salt, pepper and parsley over mushroom mixture. Stir to blend.

* * *

Add milk, slowly, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth and thickened. Add cooked shrimp.

Arrange whole crispy crackers on a heated platter. Pour shrimp-mushroom mixture over crackers and sprinkle with crushed crackers. Makes six servings.

For Quick Chiffon Pie

Quick pie: Line a pie plate with lady fingers and fill with a gelatin chiffon mixture. Chill and top with whipped cream before serving. If you are using an orange-flavored filling, garnish the whipped cream with shaved chocolate.

GOULASH, CALIFORNIA-STYLE — Here's another old favorite made in a modern manner. Beef cubes are browned, then simmered in a sauce of onion soup mix and sour cream. Garnish the dish with mashed potato boats filled with green peas.

California-Style Goulash Features Unique Flavor

Company coming? Then you'll want someting special for dinner. This something special could be Beef Goulash, California-style, an international favorite with an American accent.

* * *

This variation on a traditional theme is made with the popular new California dip, a delightful combination of sour cream and onion soup mix, that gives a unique flavor to the goulash.

As party dishes go, this is an easy one for the busy hostess. The cubes of beef are browned in hot fat and seasoned. Then the package of onion soup mix is combined with the sour cream and added to the meat. Now just leave it to simmer for an hour or so on the stove.

When the company arrives serve the goulash with a flourish on a platter decorated with a border of whipped potatoes squeezed through a pastry tube into decorative little boats. These can be filled with fresh green peas. The whole effect is equite elegant.

* * *

This is an example of one of the many uses homemakers find for a package of onion soup mix.

The different soup mixes, besides starring in the soup tureen, provide a quick and handy way to add delicious flavor and nourishment to everything from a casserole to chicken pie.

Beef Goulash — California-Style

2 tablespoons fat
1½ pounds beef chuck, cut in 1 inch cubes
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
1 pint sour cream
1 package onion soup mix

Brown meat in hot fat. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, paprika and mix well. Combine 1 pint sour cream and 1 package onion soup mix just as it comes from the package. Whip California Dip with a rotary beater and add to meat.

Cover and simmer for one hour or until meat is tender. Serve over buttered noodles, mashed potatoes or fluffy rice. Makes six servings.

Authorities Give Advice on Storing Dairy Foods

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Not long ago I received an interesting little booklet from the American Dairy Association. It's called "Home Care of Dairy Foods." I think you may like to hear about it, since dairy foods are something we all use daily.

The recommendations in the booklet come from a variety of experts in the field and may be considered the latest authoritative word.

Don't let your milk sit on your front doorstep for long periods of time after it is delivered. Refrigerate it immediately. Even diffused sunlight destroys the riboflavin, one of milk's important vitamins.

Keep milk covered in the refrigerator if you don't want it to pick up the flavor and odor of other foods. Try to use it within three or four days for best results.

PROTECT BUTTER

Butter is another dairy food that will pick up foreign flavors if not kept covered. If kept well wrapped in a temperature of 40 degrees or lower, it will keep perfectly for several weeks.

Unsalted butter needs even more care as it is more susceptible to changes in storage than salted butter.

Put out only enough butter for each meal and return the unused portion to the refrigerator between times. Freezing for six-nine months is not harmful, if the butter is wrapped in moisture-proof material.

Cheese may change in flavor while refrigerated. Long holding of mild Cheddar or American cheese may result in some additional curing and a fuller flavor. Processed cheeses, which are pasteurized, undergo no significant changes.

MOST PERISHABLE

Cottage cheese is probably the most perishable of all cheeses and should be eaten within three or four days. It does not freeze well.

Waxed paper, plastic film, aluminum foil and plastic bags are all excellent coverings for cheese. The important point to remember is that the cut surface should be covered tightly. The wrapping should come in close contact with the cheese.

Some cheese can be successfully frozen, other varieties are changed too much. In general, the hard and semi-hard cheeses freeze all right,

Cranberry Chutney Has Gourmet Touch

The lively flavor of gleaming fresh cranberries gives perfection to this peppy chuntney . . . Its deliciously unusual flavor can lay claim to the touch of a gourmet.

Lend distinction and character to such dishes as creamed chicken and rice, or braised or barbecued shortribs. And of course is delightful with all your curry dishes.

Cranberry Chutney

2 cups (½ pound) fresh cranberries
1 small orange (quartered and seeds removed)
½ lemon (seeds removed)
1 apple (cored and quartered)
½ cup raisins
½ cup brown sugar
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
3 pieces crystallized ginger (finely diced)
3 tablespoons finely diced green pepper
1 tablespoon minced onion

Put through food chopper (fine blade) cranberries, orange, lemon, apple and raisins. Add remaining ingredients. Mix thoroughly and chill. Makes 1 pint.

Dumplings Top Apple Pudding

How long has it been since you made apple dumplings—hot and steamy with the spicy aroma of rosy fall apples? You'll like them done up as a Butterscotch Apple Pudding.

Butterscotch Apple Pudding

¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons enriched flour
Dash salt
1½ cups water
2 cups chopped pealed apples
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Melt butter or margarine in heavy skillet. Stir in brown sugar, flour and salt. Add water and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add apples and lemon juice and mix well. Remove from heat while preparing Butterscotch Dumplings.

Butterscotch Dumplings

1 cup sifted enriched flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup brown sugar
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon. add brown sugar and mix well. Combine egg, milk and shortening. Add to flour mixture, stirring until mixture is smooth. Drop by spoonfuls on Butterscotch Applesauce.

Return to heat and bring to boiling. Cover tightly reduce heat and simmer gently 20 minutes. Serve warm with cream, if desired. Makes about six servings.

Dessert for Small Fry

New dessert that the youngsters will consider a special treat: Blend equal quantities of canned applesauce and whipped cream. Freeze. Cut into individual servings. Circle with a half-and-half blend of apple juice and light cream. A shake of nutmeg over all goes well with this.

Pep Up Tomato Juice

Combine 2 pint cans tomato juice with 1 tablespoon lemon juice, few drops Tabasco sauce and one-fourth teaspoon oregano or marjoram. Heat just to boiling. Serve steaming hot with crisp crackers or melba toast rounds. Makes eight servings.

If you change the color of your garden furniture during repainting, it's a good idea to apply an enamel undercoat before you begin the new color. This is especially advisable if you're switching from a dark to a light shade.

OUTSIZE MINCE PIE—Make an outsize mince pie and serve a variety of toppings for it. Mince pie a la mode, mince pie with cheese — or mince pie topped with hard sauce, which shall it be? Serve all three toppings and let your guests choose their own.

Serve Holiday Mince Pie With Variety of Toppings

When the turkey and fixings are beginning to be a memory and Thanksgiving dinner guests and family are looking forward to dessert, give everybody a surprise. Serve this traditional mince pie, but offer a choice of toppings.

* * *

Mince pie a la mode is a great delicacy, sure to be chosen by some. Just as delicious with the pie is hard sauce, beaten to creaminess, with nutmeg or brandy flavoring. And for those who prefer it, provide a good sharp Cheddar cheese.

The traditional holiday pie takes on added interest because each diner has his choice of these three traditional toppings.

It's easy to make a perfect pie with a 9-ounce package of condensed mincemeat or with a 28-ounce jar of ready-to-use mincemeat.

If you want an out-size pie, add cranberries for Thanksgiving flavor or try raisins soaked in orange juice or chopped walnuts and orange pulp.

Outsize Mince Pie

1 9-ounce package condensed mincemeat
1½ cups water
1 to 2 tablespoons sugar
1 recipe pastry
1½ cups chopped cranberries sweetened with ¼ cup sugar or ¾ cup chopped walnuts combined with ¾ cup coarsely chopped orange pulp

Break condensed mincemeat into small pieces. Add water and sugar. Place over heat and stir until lumps are thoroughly broken. Boil briskly for one minute. Cool. Add cranberries, walnuts and orange, or raisins.

Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry. Fill with mincemeat mixture. Moisten edge of crust with water. Cut pastry for top in half-inch strips and lace them together over the top. Press ends against lower crust.

Place twisted strip of pastry around edge of pie, pressing, between latticed strips, to lower crust. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 30 minutes, or until golden brown.

Hard Sauce

½ cup butter
Brandy or rum flavoring, if desired
1½ cup confectioner's sugar, firmly packed
Sprinkling of nutmeg (if desired)

Cream butter with wooden spoon until soft. Stir in flavoring. Then beat in sugar, a little at a time, beating until stiff. Chill if desired.

Squash Is Plentiful at Attractive Prices

There is wide choice of fall and winter squash varieties available at attractive prices.

* * *

The Butternut squash has made some sensational gains in popularity. It's a relatively small squash—light in color—having a rather soft shell. It has a fine grain, a dry texture and a sweet flavor.

The seed cavity is small, leaving a relatively large amount of squash for good eating.

* * *

Squash should play a big part in meal planning during these fall weeks.

Some cooks like to add tiny cubes of American cheese to a can of baked beans before heating in the oven. Then they season the combination with Worcestershire sauce and mustard.

Ask Bids Again on New Waterford Post Office

WATERFORD — For the third time in recent years, bids are again being received for new quarters for the Waterford village post office, according to Leona M. Amos, postmaster.

* * *

Now located on Andersonville road, this post office handles mail for more than 400 families in the immediate area by means of P.O. boxes. It actually serves many more, however, because surrounding areas have rural mounted deliveries from Pontiac, Clarkston, and Drayton Plains, and local residents come here for stamps, money orders and mailing packages.

In 350 square feet of space, there is a lobby with the boxes and a writing table, the general delivery counter, and in back, two desks, the mail sack racks, and other necessary equipment.

In the past, Mrs. Amos said, several offers of new buildings have been turned down by the budget-conscious postal department. Last May M. J. Donnell, of Pontiac Coach Co. and a resident of the village, spearheaded a campaign for a new building. He corresponded with Congressman George Dondero and Assistant Postmaster General August Johnson. He contacted Robert R. Justus, regional director of the post office department and Arthur C. Chandler, regional manager of real estate for the post office department, both located in Chicago. But nothing happened.

Finally, last week petitions signed by most of the families in the area, asking for a new post office, were sent to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield.

Bids for the new 1,200 square feet post office quarters for Waterford village, added Mrs. Amos, will be received up to and including January 14. For further information contact that office or write to Inspector H. W. Loch, 213 Federal Building, Detroit 31.

Comedy to Start Tonight

Milford Juniors Present Play, 'Jenny Kissed Me'

MILFORD—"Jenny Kissed Me" is the 3-act comedy that will be presented tonight and Friday by the Junior class at the Milford High School auditorium. The curtain will rise at 8:15.

Father Moynihan, pastor of St. Mathew's is portrayed by Loring Lucas, who is a tower of authority, a fine priest and perfectly versed in requirements of his calling, but completely out of touch with the slang of the younger generation.

The plot deals with what happens when youngsters are caught in having good times the modern way, and how the Father tries to exert his authority. His running battle with Mrs. Deazy, portrayed by Judy Priestap, is a duel of wits.

Michael will be Herb Boyes and Jenny, Lyn Williams. Sue Fielder will be Miss Stearns and Sister Mary, Marty Fields.

* * *

Other leads in the cast are Owen, by August Higgins, Shirley will be Pat Eaton and Mr. Parknids will be Tom Fox.

This is the first class play to be presented by any group here this year.

Coroner to Conduct Autopsy on Prisoner

Edwin Peterson, 42, of 1955 Duck Lake Rd., White Lake Township, died today in Oakland County Jail.

Couple Aids Retarded Tots at Old Acres

Rochester Rotary Plans Holiday Party for Home

By MYRENE H. TAYLOR
Rochester Correspondent

ROCHESTER—While lawmakers continue battling over purchase of suitable facilities for retarded children, it is reassuring to know there are homes where such youngsters are being given help and training.

Such a place is "Old Acres," a beautiful farm home leased by Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harding at 384 Predmore Rd., just north of here.

"Old Acres" is a home away from home for 18 children who are mentally or physically handicapped or who have emotional or behavior problems.

The children play and live as near-normal lives as possible under the trained supervision of Mrs. Harding, a kind, motherly person who was a Salvation Army captain in the East for 28 years. Included are three cerebral palsy cases, seven mongoloids and eight youngsters with brain injuries. Seven of them are on the waiting list for state home care.

Each child has his or her own bed. Nine smaller children are housed in the smaller of the two farm houses which comprise "Old Acres."

IN LARGER HOUSE

The other nine, all boys, are housed in the larger building, which has a spacious living room with a huge field-stone fireplace and facilities for entertainment.

One of Mrs. Harding's charges is Christine, a 7-year-old cerebral palsy victim who has made "remarkable" progress since she came to the home four years ago.

Although confined to a wheel chair, she plays with toys and books among the small children. Christine, who will be 8 in January, receives physical therapy twice a week.

* * *

The older children love television, especially programs like "Super Circus," Mrs. Harding says. There are two TV sets, one of them in the schoolroom.

Smaller youngsters enjoy their play period at a large round table piled high with educational toys.

HUGE PLAYGROUND

A five-acre playground with fine trees, shrubs, sand boxes and slides attracts the children often.

Only the most nutritious foods are provided her "children," Mrs. Harding states. Judging from the aroma coming from the kitchen on a visit this week, the "vittles" are temptingly prepared, too.

Harding is kept busy transporting the day help and night supervisors to and from the nearby villages and taking care of the general outside duties.

Keeping the cupboards, refrigerators and freezers well-stocked is also his task. Several months' food supply is kept on hand.

* * *

The "Old Acres" youngsters have a treat in store for them. The Rochester Rotary Club is planning a Christmas party there Dec. 21.

At the party, the club will present the home with a new merry-go-round for the playground. And Santa Claus will be there with gifts for all.

Romeo Schools Club to Hear Talk on Conservation

ROMEO—"Conservation" will be the theme of the program to be presented before members of the Elementary Schools Club at 8:00 p.m. tonight at the South School.

Guest speaker will be Walter Van Dien, head of the Higgins Lake Conservation School. He will discuss the importance of conservation and forestry to children, and a movie will be shown to illustrate his talk.

Refreshments will be served by the fifth grade room mothers, and Girl Scouts will be available to act as baby sitters.

County Deaths

Charles E. Hathaway

HOLLY—Service for Charles E. Hathaway, 73, will be held at the Dryer Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Friday. He died Tuesday at his home here. Rev. F. A. Burnett will officiate, with burial in Lakeside Cemetery.

Born in Holly on Oct. 2, 1882, Mr. Hathaway had lived here his entire life. He was the son of Dwight and Becca Hathaway. On Dec. 30, 1903, he was married to Sylvia Hiscox, who survives him. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Charles Beckman of Flint.

Gay Timers Slate Date

COMMERCE — The Commerce Gay Timers square dance will be held Saturday at 8:30 p. m. in the Union Lake School. This is also free guest nite. Bring own "sack" lunch.

Berkley Extends Curfew

BERKLEY (INS)—The Berkley City Commission has extended its curfew ordinance for children under 16 from 9:30 to 10:30 p. m., heeding protests by theater operators and high school sudents.

Patrolmen Promoted

FERNDALE (INS) — Two veteran members of the Ferndale Police Department, Patrolmen Gordon Campbell and John M. Major, have been promoted to sergeants.

Vacancy Filled by City Council

Fire Protection Also Studied at Tuesday Meeting

WALLED LAKE — The Walled Lake City Council has appointed Kenneth McBroom, 1168 Wabasso, to fill the vacancy on the council caused by the resignation of Charles Fisher who is moving from the city.

A communication from Commerce Township was received relative to fire protection in the city which the township furnishes. Beginning Dec. 15, firemen will work 24 hour shifts before being relieved but will be stationed at the Commerce fire hall instead of the one in Walled Lake. The telephones of the two stations will be connected and volunteers will serve the city area.

Council asked A. J. Koenig, city manager, to investigate this matter and determine how the contemplated change would affect the quality of fire protection in the city.

Superintendent of Schools, Clifford H. Smart submited a written proposal to the council suggesting that the city, the village of Wolverine Lake, and the Board of Education jointly sponsor a recreation program for young people.

He stated that certain of the school facilities might be used for this purpose. Cost would be approximately $1500, which could be shared by the sponsoring groups. The council approved the plan but feels that all details must be worked out before it can make any commitments.

In reply to a request from the council the Detroit Edison Co. informed them that beginning Dec. 1 it will be possible for their patrons to pay bills, exchange bulbs and cords and arrange for repair of appliances at Tom's Electric, a new store located in the Robell Shopping center on West Maple road.

* * *

Two other appointments were announced by Koenig. They are Earl R. Howie, 1601 E. Lake Drive as a police officer replacing William Patterson who resigned, and Carl L. Bumgarner, 435 Decker Road as maintenance man.

DONALD REAS

Waterford Winner in State Contest

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Winner of the Jaycee sponsored "Voice of Democracy" contest was Donald Reas, high school senior. With his original script on "I Speak for Democracy," Donald topped 30 fellow competitors.

Second and third places were captured by Dixie Greenfield and Carl Mantyla. The young people will receive their prizes at the Jaycee dinner this month.

A tape recording of Donald's speech has been made and will be entered in the state contest in Lansing next month. Winner of that contest receives a week-long trip to Washington, D.C., plus a $550 scholarship and a television set if he takes the national title.

The contest is sponsored nationally by the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters. Thad Carr, Mrs. Dorothy Selle, and George Tramontin were the judges for the Waterford contest. Patty Looman, dramatics instructor, coached the students.

Commerce

The Elizabeth Asbury circle will meet with Mrs. Russell Thompson of 1701 Bogie Lake Rd. on Nov. 28 at 8 p.m.

Britain faces a bacon shortage.

End Torch Drive at Farmington

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — With the Torch Drive in Farmington officially closed, Omar G. Sanderson estimated that it is 75 to 80 per cent successful.

Farmington's goal this year was $27,000, about 60 per cent of which is in and counted, as of today. Sanderson said it will be early next week before all collections and pledges are finally tabulated.

"The residential area as a whole has done a very good job," he said. "Our weak spot seems to be business and industry."

Royal Oak Scout Cars to Be Colors of Flag

ROYAL OAK (INS)—A fleet of red, white and blue scout cars will be delivered to the Royal Oak Police Department this week.

The bodies of the new cars are painted blue, the tops are painted white and 360-degree red flashers will be installed on the car roofs.

To Serve Masons Dinner

METAMORA—The OES ladies will serve dinner for Masons, Saturday, Nov. 26 who will be conferring the Master Mason degree. Dinner will be served at 7 p. m.

PATRICIA ANN HOGAN

The engagement of Patricia Ann Hogan to James S. Germane is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Lawrence Hogan of Fenton. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lawrence Germane of Milford.

Marlette Couple Wed in Presbyterian Rite

MRS. ROBERT BOYNE

MARLETTE—The Presbyterian Church here was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding of Ruth Herron, daughter of Mrs. Clara Herron and Robert Boyne, son of Frank Boyne, all of Marlette. About 175 guests were present for the ceremony.

* * *

Stanley Herron, Marlette, brother of the bride escorted Ruth to the altar. She chose white Chantilly lace over ice blue satin. Her tiara cap held an ice-blue fingertip length veil.

The bridal bouquet was of red roses, white mums and stephanotis.

Ruth's matron of honor was her sister Evah Burns, of Detroit and bridesmaid was JoAnn Herron, of Marlette, niece of the bride.

Attending the groom was Russell Carter, Detroit, and Tom Keimbaum, nephew of the bridegroom, also of Detroit.

Seating the guests were Dick Keimbaum, Ferndale, nephew of the bridegroom, and Frank Herron of Marlette, nephew of the bride.

Use Care in Glove Wear

Because American leather gloves are so much in the spotlight this year, special care in glove selections will pay dividends:

First, make sure that the length of your new leather glove is in keeping with the styling of your garment. The real shortie—once worn with anything—is limited to go with full-length, loosely fitted sleeves.

For wearing with three-quarter sleeves, or with long, tightly-fitted sleeves, is the new elbow-length soft leather glove, worn softly crushed just above the wristline.

Second, use good color-sense in selecting your new leathers. Don't choose a red, yellow or green glove to go with dresses in the same colors, unless the colors match perfectly. It's better to buy a neutrally-toned leather than one that is out of harmony in color and clashes with the rest of the costume.

Use color to the hilt when selecting gloves to go with a black, brown or neutral-color costume. This year you'll find dyed-to-match leather bags, shoes and even leather jewelry in every new fashion color to go with your new gloves.

Another important point is to buy leather gloves which you can keep looking immaculate and counter-fresh with as little care as possible. There's good news here. You'll find brand-new U.S. made leather gloves which are one-hundred per cent washable, in the stores.

They come in fine glace kid, cape, pigskin or suede, and wash with complete safety—even in a washing-machine with soap and detergent.

Mrs. Arthur Smith Entertains Group

Mrs. Arthur Smith of West Huron street was hostess to the Naomi Group of First Christian Church Tuesday evening.

Mrs. C. S. Baker gave the devotions, and the "Home Away From Home" program was given by Mrs. William Hoyt.

Mrs. James Vaughn will have the Christmas meeting. The group will enjoy a Christmas party and exchange of gifts.

Cocktail Sweep Helps Clean Up Collegiate Rooms

NEW YORK (INS)—A girl's room is her castle—particularly if it's in a college dormitory.

Room parties, entertaining and the inevitable dust that always accumulates make it necessary to have dustcloths and other cleaning apparatus handy.

But for an after-party pick-up you might try one of the children's carpet sweepers that are on the market.

If you can't find the shade that goes with the room's color scheme of things, paint it yourself and then decorate it with decals or even little artificial flowers.

Bride Plans to Exclude Her Father

She Should Walk Down Aisle Alone to Avoid Insult

By EMILY POST

"I am planning to be married some time this winter. My parents have been legally separated for five years. Because of our religion they cannot be divorced.

"I have been living with my mother and have seen my father but twice during that time. I am going to have a church wedding and I was wondering if it would be proper to have a close friend or an uncle (my father's brother) give me away.

"It would greatly upset my mother if I had my father participate in the ceremony. I think a great deal of my mother and do not want to spoil the day for her.

"However, my sisters think it would be in very bad taste to have anyone but my father give me away. I would appreciate your help in this matter."

Answer: If you don't care to have your father give you away, rather than have a substitute for father — which would certainly repudiate him—you can walk in alone and your mother can give you away from the front pew. To have anyone but your mother do this would be very unkind and unfair to your father.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is being married shortly at a rather large wedding. My husband would like to invite some of his business associates but wants to do this by word of mouth.

"He feels that if engraved invitations are sent they will feel obligated to send wedding presents and that if he invites them verbally, they will feel no such obligation.

"As all the other guests are being sent formal invitations, I say that they should be sent them too. Will you please give us your opinion?"

Answer: I agree with you, but at the same time your husband surely knows them best and you should consider his opinion.

Sorority Gathers With Mrs. Dobbs

Gamma Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Dobbs Jr. of Poplar street.

The group made plans to send a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family, and preliminary plans were made for the annual children's party to be held Dec. 13.

Girl Torments Ex-Beau by Starting Gossip

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: The girl I used to go with has some imagination! Since we broke up we have each started to go steady with someone else.

"But my old girl goes around her neighborhood telling everyone that I call her up every day, begging her to come back to me.

"The latest is that I was over at her house begging her to marry me or I'd do something desperate!

"My friends, and even their parents, tell me the stories she tells them. They're pure fiction. I like the girl I'm going with now.

"I tried calling my ex on the phone to tell her to stop the lies she tells to everybody, but she twisted that into an attempt to propose to her again.

"Now, I ask you, Miss Woodward, what do you do with a girl like that? She has a boy friend, but he never comes out in the open to say what he thinks about what she's doing to me."

Answer: Denying and denying and denying the stories she tells is a pretty negative way to make them stop. It's time you made a couple of positive moves, and I don't mean in her direction.

Try being seen in your old girl's neighborhood as often as possible with your new girl friend. Make a point of going to the places she frequents so she can see you together.

* * *

Introduce your new girl to your old girl's friends. Let them see how devoted you are. Your new girl is an out-and-out contradiction to any rumor that you're carrying a blazing torch for an old love.

Then tackle her new boy friend. Man to man let him know that he has nothing to fear from you. Tell him you've heard rumors, and you can't imagine why your mutual girl friend should want to bother.

Without running her down (which isn't necessary or becoming) tell him she's playing some sort of game you don't understand. Tell him honestly that you were through when you both broke up, and you're completely preoccupied elsewhere these days. He'll get around to saying something about it to her.

* * *

Give your old girl friend's imagination no encouragement of any kind. Avoid her if you see her around. Keep away from that phone.

If you bump smack into her and can't get out of it, be sure you have eager listeners when you talk to her. "Long time no see" sort of talk.

Ask casual questions everybody knows the answers to except you. Her answers will make it clear that you don't know because you haven't been around for ages to find out.

To her friends, and to yours, too, it's a confession that she's been making up all those stories about your constant attention.

* * *

She'll give up when she finds her talking isn't bringing you back, and isn't having its desired effect on her friends, either.

Trousers Turn Into Fine Blouse

NEW YORK (INS) — A casual remark by a fashion editor has just produced the daffiest design of the year—pants which turn into a blouse.

It started when Judy Hornady of the Miami Daily News sighed: "We've got turnabouts and inside outs in sportswear—I suppose you'll make upside downs next."

Miss Hornady made this remark to Miami designer Daisy Orvieto, who promptly disappeared into the workroom of her company, Daisy Originals, and created an "upside down" number.

It is a pair of matador pants which can also be worn as a long-sleeved blouse.

The pants have an elastic waistband and two concealed zippers. You unzip the zippers, turn the pants upside down, pull them over your head—and presto! A long-sleeved blouse with elastic waistband and zippered neck.

The "upside downs," just introduced in New York, will be made in cotton jersey or in dacron, at $8.95 and $14.95.

In addition to their novelty value, it's expected the "upside downs" will be favored by women who like to travel light and still have a variety of wearing apparel.

If your new winter cotton has a dull or textured finish, best results can be obtained by pressing on the wrong side.

Meeting Conducted by Elizabeth Circle

Elizabeth Circle of First Christian Church gathered at the home of Mrs. Fred Ruby on Hallman street Tuesday for a program on "Home Away from Home." Mrs. Allen Hersey was program chairman.

Devotions were given by Mrs. David Duval, and announcement was made of the Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Reynolds on Boston avenue.

Chic Paris Hats Made of Leather

PARIS (INS) — The smartest Parisian hats for traveling are made of leather.

No chic Parisienne would be caught wearing a flowered bonnet in a plane, train or car. Like elegant luggage, a traveling hat isn't stylish these days unless it's leather.

One idea is a "bucket-hat" of brown suede leather to match gloves and shoes. Suede berets also are considered stylish and elegant. Paris designer Madeleine de Rauch has come up with a side-molded French beret in lovely white snake skin for luxurious-looking travel.

A very practical and sporty hat combines rib-knitting and suede leather. The brim and the crown-top are of beige suede connected by a two-and-a-half inch wide band of beige rib-knitting. It has a functional trimming—a metal ring near the brim at the back to hang the hat on a hook in the train or even on the belt of a wearer. Besides, this hat packs flat and easily.

For girls who like a really sporty traveling head-cover a Paris designer shows a headkerchief piped in leather. A triangle of paisley printed cashmere is edged by a two-finger-wide leather band on the long side and leather piping on the other two. It can be knotted under the chin or draped to a turban. A wide belt of the printed cashmere is also piped in leather to match.

Mrs. T. Tillson Is New Chairman of Church Group

Officers were elected by the January-March group of the First Presbyterian Church Tuesday when the group gathered at the Silverhill road home of Mrs. W. H. McCulloch.

Mrs. Thomas Tillson is chairman with Mrs. Avery Shearer, vice chairman. Mrs. Edward Rightmire is secretary and Mrs. T. C. McFetridge is treasurer.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Tillson, and Mrs. W. J. Baumgartner reported on the social and educational program.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. H. M. Boorn, Mrs. L. V. McCann and Mrs. Russell Hoyt.

Mission Bells Plan Christmas Party

Mrs. Kenneth Anderson and Mrs. Philip Wargelin were appointed to the Christmas party committee of the Mission Bells of St. John Lutheran Church.

Plans for the party to be held Dec. 20 under the joint sponsorship of the Ladies Aid Society and the Ladies Missionary Society were discussed at the Monday evening meeting in the church parlors.

Eighteen members attended the meeting and devotions weer given by Mrs. Henry Hoyt.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Clifford Wilcox and Mrs. Edwin Carlson.

Coming Events

"Amazing gal, my Amy!"

▶ The efficient way my Amy whizzes through her housework leaves me dizzy, but proud! Take wood floors, for instance. Some gals spend a backbreaking day scrubbing and waxing. But not Amy! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. It takes only half the time and Bruce does practically all the work. And Amy's friends just rave about our beautiful wood floors. My Amy and her Bruce Cleaning Wax sure outsmart tough floor care problems. And I can't help crowing about them.

Woman Enjoys Being Miserable

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some women have to be protected from their tendency to give too much help to their husbands—to make living sacrifices of themselves.

For example, Mrs. M.B.L., has pretty nearly ruined her life—as well as her husband's—by making a martyr of herself."

* * *

"When we were first married," Mrs. M.B.L writes, "my husband had to work nights for his college degree.

"I kept my job and did all the housework at night while he was studying. I made all my own clothes, did all the laundry and shopped for bargains. I never had a moment's rest, nor any luxuries.

"I even took a sandwich lunch and walked both ways to work. I did this so we could save every penny and so that my husband could get his degree and have a big future.

"That was seven years ago. Now, my husband has a fine job, but he's ashamed of me, because I'm uneducated and dowdy. It isn't fair!"

She goes on to say that the job she held all those years was a dull one, which she hated, but which she did "for my husband's sake."

* * *

When she gave it up, she settled down into a domestic rut and continued to practice the economies which were no longer indicated.

She still does every bit of the ironing herself, although her husband wants her to send out the shirts and bedding.

VETOES ADOPTION

They are unable to have children, but she is afraid to adopt any, even though her husband wants to, because "Children are so expensive—and besides, you slave for them and then they leave you and what thanks do you get?"

* * *

Here is a woman who actually likes being miserable. She has made a habit of martyrdom and cannot seem to give it up.

For her, of course, the best thing would be to have a talk with her family doctor and see if some phychiatric therapy isn't indicated.

For the rest of us, it's well to remember that the best we can do for those we love is to keep a life and interests of our own. We must refuse to give so much that we spoil the recipient and embitter our own point of view.

* * *

If you are working at a job to enable your husband to continue his education, take a job that interests you, not one that bores and irritates you.

If you are economizing for the sake of future savings, do it as a temporary expedient, but don't let it get to be a habit which takes all the fun out of life.

Remember that marriage is a partnership. It is not fair for you to take all the work on your shoulders and spoil your husband.

Let him share some of the burden. You'll both be a lot happier and the marriage will last.

State Nursing Official Speaks to County Group

Hazel Gabrielson, executive secretary of the Michigan Nurses Association, spoke Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Oakland County District Nurses Association. St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was host to the group.

Miss Gabrielson chose for her topic "What Is Going on in Nursing Today?" She told of the importance of nursing in world affairs today. "Nursing," she said, "is a universal language understood by everyone."

She also told of the progress being made in the Nurses Association and of the bills being introduced into the House of Representatives concerning nursing and nurses.

Her closing remark was ". . . we as nurses should have the spirit of being willing to help, instead of being asked to help."

Italian-Americans Hold Card Party

Mrs. Ralph Puertas of West Walton boulevard was hostess to the Auxiliary to the Italian-American Club Monday evening for a card party. Mrs. Joseph Bonfiglio was cohostess.

Long, Bitter Feud Erupts at Ann Arbor Saturday

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—More than half a century of bitter football feuding will be jammed into 60 hectic minutes Saturday as Ohio State and Michigan turn everyone loose to decide the Big 10 title and Rose Bowl bid.

* * *

Michigan's thundering horde can win both these prizes with a victory over the Buckeyes and their "one-man gang," All - America Howard (Hopalong) Cassady.

But Ohio State would like nothing better than to sting the pride of its traditional rival by sending Michigan's younger "brother," Michigan State, to the Rose Bowl.

The Buckeyes could do this and keep the Big 10 title to themselves for the second straight year with a victory over Michigan.

Both teams have the incentive. They are by tradition the powers of the Western conference. Their series dates to 1897, Michigan leading with 34 victories, 14 losses and 4 ties.

But the modern era of their rivalry, dating from 1918, tells a curious tale on the Big 10 itself.

During these 36 years, Michigan and Ohio State have won 19 conference titles—more than half of the titles available in the span.

From 1930 to 1950 at least one of these two schools has been in first or second place in the final conference standings. Four times in the last seven years their meeting has decided the title.

This has been the climate for the still-growing feud between the two growing schools.

* * *

Now Michigan, after its 19th conference title and 4th Rose Bowl trip, finds the Buckeyes again in its path. By the same measure Michigan is all that stands between the Bucks and their ninth Big 10 tite.

The Wolverines will be about a touchdown favorite but previous records don't figure much in this rivalry.

The game has been a 97,239-seat sellout since early October. Some 4,000 Ohio rooters are coming to the game by five special trains. Tickets are scarce and An Arbor police and municipal Judge Francis L. O'Brien have warned they will crack down hard on scalpers.

* * *

The going price is high. Some reports indicate $4 single tickets are selling from $15 to $20 while pairs sell at $70.

Old Rivalry Pits 2 Ohio Prep Elevens

Canton, Massilon Play in 60th Annual Tilt on Saturday

CANTON, O., (INS)—If you were at Ann Arbor, Mich., South Bend, Ind., or College Park, Md., today you wouldn't find any more enthusiasm over a coming football game than there is at Canton.

That's where two of the nation's oldest high school football rivals, Massillon and Canton McKinley, will meet Saturday in their 60th annual encounter.

For weeks now, the game has been a sell-out with 25,000 fans eager to jam Canton's Fawcett Stadium, and countless thousands of others due to see it via their television screens.

Because the game is assured of a full house, Massillon and Canton school officials agreed that a Cleveland television station could pick up the game and beam it through northern Ohio.

There is good reason for the interest in this football-mad industrial area, where Massillon and Canton are shoulder-rubbing negihbors only 10 miles apart.

Both Massillon, which has won five state championships in a row, and McKinley are undefeated. McKinley has won nine consecutive games, while Massillon has eight wins and a tie for this campaign and has won 74 of its last 79 games.

Buckeyes Want to Smash UM Bowl Picture

All Ready to Throw the Fireworks at Ann Arbor Club

COLUMBUS (AP)—With its offense spearheaded by All - America Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, Ohio State will offer the most devastating ground attack in its history against Michigan Saturday at Ann Arbor.

* * *

With the Big Ten title at stake, as well as a chance to eliminate the arch-rival Wolverines from the Rose Bowl bidding, Cassady is expected to wind up his fabulous college career with another spectacular show.

The freckled, red-haired speedster, who had scored three touchdowns in each of his last two outings, has 14 for the season and 36 for his four-year stint. His 216 points constitute a new Ohio State record, erasing the 201 mark set in 1919 by All-America Chic Harley.

Cassady has had his hands on the ball 529 times in his 35 varsity games. He has ground out 2,383 yards rushing (812 in 133 tries this year), caught passes for 619, returned punts for 238, returned kickoffs 903, and chased intercepted passes back 223.

* * *

This isn't a one-man team, but Cassady makes it click. Opponents who build their defenses to stop him must leave a weakness somewhere for the other speedy backs to sprint through. Jimmy Roseboro, the right halfback, has the same 6.1 average from scrimmage that Cassady boasts. Joe Cannavino, Cassady's understudy, has a 7.9 mark, best on the team, and Jerry Harkrader, Roseboro's relief man, has a 6.7 average.

* * *

Frank Ellwood, the classy quarterback who can do everything except pass effectively, has a 3.1 average but is the team's 2nd best scorer with 30 points scored on five "sneak" touchdowns.

* * *

The line is big and fast, with 248-pound Jim Parker the anchor at guard. Coach Woody Hayes says he's the best lineman he's seen in years.

* * *

The Bucks have run all year from the split-T, but there was conjecture that they might have some new tricks to spring Saturday as Hayes put an iron curtain around the practice field and shut out all spectators as he primed the club for the final effort.

Wife Seeks Divorce

Next Bout for Bobo Is With the Judge

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Carl (Bobo) Olson, wife of the world middleweight boxing champion, says she will file suit for divorce today on grounds of extreme cruelty.

* * *

"This thing has been building up and Sunday he walked out without a word," Mrs. Helen Olson told newsmen.

* * *

She didn't explain that walkout of the balding boxer, who's been flying home to her from all his Eastern flights—once so quickly he left surprised sports writers without any comment. That was after his abortive effort to lift the light-heavyweight title from champ Archie Moore.

Bobo was unavailable for comment.

Mrs. Olson's attorney, Warren Sapiro, said:

* * *

"We have plenty of grounds . . . the suit is the culmination of a situation that has been building up for some time."

* * *

He said Mrs. Olson, 26, would seek custody of the four children, $2,000 a month and "her fair share" of what Sapiro estimated at more than $200,000 in community property.

There has been no indication of marital troubles.

* * *

The Olsons were married in Honolulu in 1946. Their children—three boys and a girl—range in age from 2 to 9.

Pitt's Paluck AP Top Lineman of the Week

Says Mates Deserve Credit; Picked for Play Against W. Virginia

PITTSBURG (AP)—"Mean John" Paluck, husky senior end of the Pitt football team who is The Associated Press Lineman of the Week, says his teammates deserve the credit for his honors.

Paluck was selected yesterday on the basis of his outstanding performance against West Virginia University here last Saturday. The previously unbeaten and untied Mountaineers were soundly defeated 26-7 by the aroused Panthers—and much of the credit went to Paluck. His repeated charging forced two fumbles the Panthers turned into touchdowns.

* * *

Paluck, who hopes to play pro ball, made one of the recoveries. His wingmate, Joe Walton, made the other. The pair produced the third touchdown that broke the Mountaineers' comeback hopes.

But Paluck was modest when informed of winning Lineman of the Week honors.

* * *

"It wasn't any individual performance," he emphasized. "The entire team pitched in. It was all team work.

"We worked hard all week for the West Virginia game. There wasn't a more determined squad in the country. We went out with the idea we could lick the pants off the Mountaineers and we did.

"There was no question, we were tense before the game. But once we got out on the field we forgot all about it. We were a serious group."

* * *

Scouts representing the Sugar Bowl and the Gator Bowl took in the game to report on the unbeaten Mountaineers. But afterwards they wound up talking about Pitt and Paluck.

A senior from Swoyersville, Pa. Paluck had this to say about a possible bowl trip:

"Sure we'd like to go, but we have one more tough game coming up with Penn State next Saturday. That's all we're thinking about right now."

* * *

Paluck's been outstanding on defense the entire season and occasionally a target for Pitt's passing. The Panthers, who also upset previously unbeaten Duke, now show a 6-3 log for the season.

The fine play of tackle Fred Robinson of Washington also drew attention in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

TOPS IN RUSHING — Art Luppino of Arizona, with two games left, is on his way to repeating as the major college rushing leader. Last year he was first with 1,359 yards. To date he has gained 1,106, leading Jim Swink of Texas Christian by 20 yards. Swink also has two games to play.

Duffy Looks at His Freshmen

EAST LANSING (AP)—Coach Duffy Daugherty left his varsity squad working under his assistants for a while yesterday to take a long look at some of the freshman material at Michigan State.

The frosh were scheduled to put on a game-length scrimmage in Macklin Stadium. But when it came time to lift the traps covering the turf, the wind blew so hard the canvas threatened to tear to shreds.

Instead, the freshmen adjourned to their regular practice field to show how well they have learned their basic lessons in football as played at Michigan State.

The demonstration was put on despite bitter cold and a driving wind that canceled out any passing or punting efforts. But some of the big, burly linesmen and driving backs staged a good show for their head coach.

Francis O'Briend, a 210 pound guard from Holyoke, Mass., was one of the standouts in the line.

Art Johnson, 180 pound 6 foot 2 inch right half from Flint, ran well and scored one of the touchdowns for the winning "green" team from a few yards out.

* * *

Ed Vergara, a lightweight scatback from Iron River, also showed some fancy running.

The "green team" quarterbacked by Bill Peatross of Lansing had a two touchdown edge over the "whites" quarterbacked by Paul Montgomery of East Lansing. Other green touchdown was by Lance Krajacic, a linesman from Chicago, who pounced on an end zone fumble.

While the frosh were fighting each other outside in the chilling cold, the varsity team wound up its serious preparations against Marquette in the warmth of Jenison Fieldhouse. Only about an hour-long workout is scheduled for tomorrow as Michigan State tapers off prior to the final game of the season.

Sooners Getting 44 'Longjohns'

Ready for Nebraska Winter With Gloves and Hand Warmers

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Those Nebraska Cornhuskers aren't going to catch the Oklahoma Sooners short.

Trainer Ken Rawlinson attended a rummage sale here yesterday and bought 44 pairs of long underwear. He said the players would wear them if it's cold for the game in Lincoln Saturday.

That's not all. Rawlinson will carry along 30 chemical handwarmers. They'll be used by subs on the bench but during timeouts the waterboys will rush them out to the 11 players on the field. Cloth gloves also will be part of the cold weather paraphernalia.

Other precautions against the cold will include jugs of hot sweetened tea.

Anybody Seen Montreal?

Canadiens Zooming Ahead in NHL Race; Wings Rally 3 Times to Tie Rangers

By THE ASOCIATED PRESS

First thing you know, the rest of the National Hockey League's going to look up and wonder whatever happened to Montreal. The way Les Canadiens are going, they might zoom right out of sight.

Montreal made it nine games without defeat with a 3-2 victory over the Maple Leafs at Toronto last night. That pushed the Canadiens 6 points ahead of the runner-up New York Rangers, who slopped away a lead and had to settle for a 3-3 tie against the Detroit Red Wings at Madison Square Garden.

* * *

It was just another one of those games for the Wings, the one club that's been able to overhaul Montreal in the recent past. They've managed to win just one in a month—a string of 13 games—and with only three successes for the season, now trail by 11 points.

* * *

Montreal rumbled from behind to keep Toronto in the cellar. The Leafs had it 2-1 going into the third period, but rookie Winger Claude Provost tied it near the 7-minute mark and Maurice Richard socked home a 25-foot backhand shot to win it with 5 minutes left.

Defenseman Hughie Bolton scored Toronto's first goal, for a 1-1 first-period tie, and broke a 129-minute shutout stretch for Montreal goalie Jacques Plante.

The Wings came from behind thrice to match the Rangers, Ted Lindsay knotted it for good, beating Lorne Worsley, who had 37 saves, with less than 2 minutes left. Wally Hergesheimer put home two goals for the Rangers. Gordie Howe did the same for Detroit.

* * *

Lindsay's goal left him in a tie with Montreal's Jean Beliveau for the league lead with 11. Beliveau got his 11th early in the first period. Montreal and New York remained tied for the team scoring lead. Each has popped in 48.

TCU Mentor Thinking About Rice Not Cotton

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Coach Abe Martin of Texas Christian says he's thinking about Rice and not cotton this week and he hopes his players are doing the same.

All TCU has to do to get into the Cotton Bowl is beat Rice here Saturday. But Martin says he can't be dwelling on this bowl business if he expects to lick Rice. That's thinking ahead, which is bad for football teams.

* * *

The Horned Frogs are favored by 2 touchdowns, which is another thing that makes Martin wince.

* * *

"That's too much," he squirmed. "We'll be doing well to win by 1 point and I'll settle for that. Rice has a good football team even if it has lost five straight. It came nearer beating Texas A&M than we did."

The Aggie game was the only one lost by TCU. The score was 19-16 and it was TCU that tried to come from behind and win. Last week Rice led A&M until the final minutes when the Aggies got three quick touchdowns for a fantastic 20-12 victory.

* * *

While A&M is expected to win the Southwest Conference championship, the game here Saturday can decide who's to play in the Cotton Bowl—whether TCU wins its way into the New Year's game or has to wait another week and beat Southern Methodist to do it.

A&M can't play in the bowl because it is on probation for violating the recruiting rules.

California Feud Set for TV Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The UCLA and Southern California football teams, those crosstown rivals who bring their bitter local feud into full view of a national television audience Saturday, wind up the serious phase of practice today.

* * *

The UCLANs, fifth-ranking team in the country and possibly the Pacific Coast Conference's representative in the Rose Bowl, remain the favorite to win but most observers predict it will be close and most likely a grid Donnybrook.

Comiskey In-Law Named Club Veep

CHICAGO (INS)—Top management for the Chicago White Sox has become strictly a family affair.

At the annual meeting of the club's board of directors yesterday, John Rigney, director of farm club operations and son-in-law of President Mrs. Grace Comiskey, was named a vice president. Mrs. Comiskey's son, Charles, already is a vice president.

In a formal statement, Mrs. Comiskey said the two will jointly conduct the business of the baseball team and that under this arrangement there is "no necessity for having a general manager."

In effect, Rigney and Comiskey will take over the job done last year by former general manager Frank Lane, who quit the Sox to take a similar post with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hurrying Hugh to Keep Going

WASHINGTON (AP) — Halfback Hugh McElhenny, whose ailing foot has hobbled his once-brilliant running for the San Francisco 49ers, says he is "not even entertaining the thought of quitting" the National Football League team.

McElhenny had said he was about to quit after the 49ers lost 7-0 Sunday to the Washington Redskins.

But last night he told sports writers:

"I was depressed and discouraged and I popped off."

Coach Red Strader said, "the kid was discouraged after the game, so he said a few things. It's like a lot of people who threaten to quit until they're confronted by the boss."

Red Wings Stay Out of League Cellar on Ties

NEW YORK (AP) — It's getting where no one asks who won anymore when the Detroit Red Wings tangle in a National Hockey League game. The questions is: What was the score?

The Red Wings have played 18 games this season and 8 of them have ended in ties. The latest was last night's 3-3 deadlock with the New York Rangers.

But even with the tie, good for one point in league standings, Detroit gained on Toronto, to which it yielded the league cellar Sunday. Maple Leafs were whipped 3-2 by Montreal, which got two points for its win and went six points up on the Rangers.

While they're in the cellar, Toronto has won five games to three for Detroit, but the Red Wings have tied eight, compared to two ties for the Maple Leafs, and have lost 7, compared to 11.

Ted Lindsay knotted the count at 3-3 for Detroit last night with less than two minutes remaining to play. Gordie Howe brought Detroit to a 2-2 level with a goal only 40 seconds after the 3rd period began.

Howe also got a goal in the 1st period to make it 1-1.

Lindsay's counter came after little Wally Hergesheimer had caged his 2nd goal to give the Rangers a 3-2 edge. New York's 1st goal was scored by Jean (Guy) Gendron at 2:35 of the 1st period, but Howe got his 1st cuqalizer less than three minutes later.

Lindsay's 3-3 knotter came on a pass from Earl Reibel, who had got the puck in mid-ice and maneuvered it into New York territory. The goal at 18:05 was Lindsay's 11th of the season.

MSU Harriers Are Favorites

CHICAGO (AP) — With defending champion Michigan canceling its cross-country schedule this fall, Michigan State looms as successor to the Big 10 harrier crown in the 40th annual conference meet at Washington Park tomorrow.

3Harry Kennedy and Selwyn Jones carry the Spartans' hopes of a one-two finish. Kennedy has been timed at four miles this season under the Big 10 meet mark of 19:40.5 set by Iowa's Rich Ferguson in 1952.

Potato Teams Ready to Meet in Spud Bowl

ALAMOSA, Colo. (AP) — Adams State and Western State colleges will carry identical 6-3 season records into the Spud Bowl football game here Saturday, but there the similarity ends.

Adams has yet to beat Western in the seven games the two Colorado school shave played since 1946. The closest the Indians ever came was in 1951 when the Alamosa school went under by only 2 points, 28-26.

The spud bowl game is played annually to celebrate the end of the potato harvest in the San Luis Valley of southern Colorado.

Barons Want a Foe

Bloomfield Hills High School which this year won its 1st football game in three years is seeking to fill an open date on next year's schedule for Oct. 12 or 13, either home or away. "We are interested in a Class 'C' or small 'B' school," said head coach Don Hoff.

Spieser Scores TKO Over Paddy Young

CHICAGO (INS)—Chuck Spieser of Detroit displayed devastating punching power last night as he scored a 2nd round technical knockout over tough Paddy Young of New York in a light heavyweight bout.

A former Michigan State boxer, Spieser had the New Yorker down four times during the nationally televised 10-round bout in Chicago. Spieser weighed 171 and Young 168.

Chuck Totes Urn to Keep Chilly Grid Fans Happy

EAST LANSING (AP)—Almost any fan will tell you the real hero of a football game isn't necessarily the guy who juggles the football all afternoon.

Take Chuck Anderson for instance. He blocks, runs interference, carries as heavy a burden as any football player, wears a uniform and even spends Saturday afternoon in Michigan State's Macklin stadium.

But he never even sees the football field.

Instead, Chuck totes a steaming hot coffee urn. He's a member of the coffee-making crew.

His day starts about 7 a.m. The amount of coffee he makes before game time depends on the weather. If its cold out he makes as much as 800 gallons.

Chuck and his contemporaries work hardest when the football team is resting—at halftime and before and after the game.

"There's more than one playing field in this stadium," says Chuck as he winds up a day's work. "Just look at those cups littered all over the turf."

Army, Florida, Georgia Tech Best Defensive Elevens as Splurges Hurt Terps, Navy, UCLA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Army, Florida and Georgia Tech jumped to the top in football defense among the nation's major colleges this week as Maryland, Navy and UCLA all fell victim to surprising splurges by rank underdogs last Saturday.

Maryland, the rushing defense leader practically from season's start, was jarred for 157 yards by Clemson after having permitted an average of only 66.6 in eight previous games. The Terps won the game (25-12), but wound up in a back seat to Army in the ground defense list.

* * *

NCAA Service Bureau statistics today showed Army with an average yield of 72.3 yards, with Maryland second at 76.7.

The Cadets, who choked off Penn with a total rush-pass gain of 61 yards, continued on top in total defense, allowing 139.5 yards a game.

* * *

Navy was tumbled from the pass defense lead by Columbia. The Middies had allowed just 18 completions in 61 attempts for 226 yards before running into the Lions' Claude Benham. With Benham doing most of the pitching, Columbia hit 18 of 38 for 161 yards, although bowing (47-0).

* * *

That upped Navy's air yield from 32.3 to 48.4 yards a game—no better than fourth best after Florida (43.8), George Washington (45.0) and Nebraska (45.6).

* * *

UCLA really crumpled in its speciality against Washington. The once-beaten UCLANs had been driving for their second straight scoring defense, allowing just 33 points in eight games. Then Washington broke loose for a near upset that left UCLA barely ahead 19-17.

* * *

UCLA, which allowed just 40 points last season, tumbled to third with a 5.6 points a game average. Georgia Tech's on top with 4.8, followed by Navy's 5.4.

Those three are the only major college clubs to allow less than 6 points a game on the average. Navy and UCLA lead in shutouts with 5.

Nebraska leads in holding down pass completions, allowing only a .267 success (27 of 101).

Michigan State and Tennessee are the only clubs with a better than 40-yard average in punting—42.1 and 41.7, respectively.

Albion Still King of MIAA Harriers

ALBION (AP) — Albion college is cross-country king of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) for the 9th consecutive year.

Albion won by a wide, 26-42 margin, although Kalamazoo's Dick Erhle came in first in the 1955 cross-country run yesterday. Ehrle's time for the four miles was 22 minutes and 40.5 seconds.

Trailing Albion and Kalamzaoo in scoring were: Calvin, 107; Hope 110; Hillsdale, 120; Alma, 131, and Adrian, 222.

'Rocking Chair' Days Are Over, Says Baugh

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sammy Baugh once said that playing quarterback in the National Football League was like sitting in a rocking chair, the easiest way he knew of making a living.

Today's occupants of that so-called rocking chair say it ain't so. To be a top-flight quarterback in the NFL today, you have to run, not sit. The concept of quarterbacking among the pros has changed almost completely.

* * *

Baugh and Sid Luckman were two of the greatest—if not the greatest—ever to pitch a ball in the NFL. They played in the standard T formation, moving back into the pocket protected by bruising linemen. They didn't have to run, only pass.

* * *

A check of the records shows that Baugh in 15 years with the Washington Redskins gained a total of 340 yards on the ground. Luckman carried the ball 205 times in his pro career for the Chicago Bears and lost 206 yards. These figures are cited to show how the game has changed.

Today, more and more of the pro coaches are adopting the split-T which calls for a versatile quarterback, one who can exercise the option of pass or run. Those quarterbacks who don't run, with one or two exceptions, are piloting losing teams.

* * *

The statistics issued each week by the NFL reveal that the pros are playing a new game. More teams are using the running game and their quarterbacks are helping to carry the ground-gaining burden. The latest figures show six teams have gained more on the ground than through the air. Several others have recorded a fairly even balance between the run and pass.

* * *

The Chicago Bears, tied for the Western Conference lead and the total offense leader in the NFL, have gained more on the ground than in the air. Quarterbacks George Blanda, Ed Brown and Bob Williams have gained 250 yards running among them. Quite a difference from when Papa Bear George Halas had Luckman.

* * *

Cleveland leads the Eastern Conference and features the incomparable Otto Graham, passer deluxe. But the Browns too, have gained more yardage on the ground than in the air. Graham has picked up 98 yards runnig and is a constant threat as a ball carrier.

The revitalized Baltimore Colts have turned from a doormat to a title contender in the West. They have quarterback George Shaw, who in addition to passing, has gained 165 yards running.

* * *

The Washington Redskins' Eddie LeBaron has gained 106 yards carrying the ball. This little guy moves like a jack rabbit. No rocking chairs for the mighty mite.

So it goes down the line, improved Green Bay with hard working Tobin Rote, 178 yards gained running this year; the improved Chicago Cardinals with Lamar McHan, 188 yards gained running.

Note the teams who aren't having too much success and you'll note the team without a quarterback who can run:

* * *

The Philadelphia Eagles, with Adrian Burk and Bobby Thomason. Until Burk finally ran against Cleveland and sparked a rout last Sunday, it was cause for a holiday when an Eagles quarterback attempted a quarterback sneak, even from the 1 or 2-yard lines.

* * *

The Detroit Lions: Bobby Layne has gained 29 yards on 14 attempts and Harry Gilmer 38 on 9. Layne was a good runner in past years when the Lions were winning.

Current Boxers Just Don't Rate With Fleischer

NEW YORK—The International Boxing Club, through the halls of which some awfully dull fighters pass these nights, was a busy place when the Boxing Hall of Fame was dedicated in The Ring magazine office at Madison Square Garden.

Abe Attell, James J. Braddock, Tommy Loughran, Paul Berlenbach, Gus Lesnevich, Barney Ross and other name fighters of the past saw Nat Fleischer hang plaques of all-time greats on a wall.

"These are the best fighters we've had at one time in the Garden in 10 years," remarked Editor Fleischer. "I wouldn't be worried about letting them get in the ring with what are around today."

Price Tag Placed on Syracuse Team

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A $50,000 price tag has been placed on the Syracuse Chiefs baseball team, for which an owner is sought.

Martin Haske, the present owner, and a civic committee agreed on the price yesterday. Haske originally had asked $105,000 for the International League club, but the new price does not include some items that were embraced by the old one.

Bucks, Bears Hunt Prizes for Area Men

Seven buck deer and three bears were brought back to Rochester a few days ago by a party of seven from Oakland County. They found winter had arrived before them, with 24 inches of snow, when they moved into camp east of Thessalon, Ont. Location is about 70 miles south of the Canadian Soo.

Two 8-point bucks and five buck fawns were taken, along with the bear, a sow and two cubs. Jack McCullough, Jack Patterson and Roy Rewold got the bears, first day in camp. They encountered the bears on a trail leading to the camp, owned by McCullough on the Black River.

Others in the party included Sid Teague, Darrel Bordine, Bill Mitzelfeld and Bill Jacobs. McCullough, Mitzelfeld, Teague, Rewold and Bordine are from Rochester, Patterson from Pine Lake and Jacobs from Pontiac.

Newk Talks Contract

BROOKLYN (AP)—Don Newcombe, who had a 20-5 record with the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers last season, comes to town to talk over his 1956 contract tomorrow.

The big righthander, who a year ago took a salary cut estimated at $2,500 for his poor 1954 showing (9-8), set up the contract huddle in a telephone call to Vice President Buzzy Bavasi yesterday.

Newk, Bavasi Converse, Not About Salary

Big Dodger Pitcher Is Still Insistent He Wants $30,000

BROOKLYN (AP) — Righthander Don Newcombe and Vice President Buzzy Bavasi of the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers agree the big 20-game winner merits a bigger salary—"But not," says Bavasi, "the $30,000 Newk wants."

Newcombe and Bavasi sat down and talked at Ebbets Field yesterday, but both denied the conversation concerned Newcombe's 1956 contract. It was about the weather and many things, including a personal business venture Newk's considering, but paychecks? "Who, us?"

* * *

First of all, Bavasi said, Johnny Podres was present (to talk over his draft status with the Brooklyn money man) and "you just don't discuss contracts with two players at once."

* * *

Secondly, said Buzzy, "What is there to discuss? When the time comes, we will mail him a contract. He did a fine job last year and deserves a raise. I'm sure he'll be happy."

* * *

Newk wasn't so sure. "It's true we didn't get around to talking contract," he said. "We kidded a lot. We always do. But there's one thing I'm not kidding about—and that's the $30,000. I think I'm worth it."

Newk worked for a reported $17,500 last season, after taking a $2,500 cut on his 9-8 record in '54.

Before the session, Newcombe stated either he got the $30,000 or the Dodgers had themselves a holdout. "I'll sit it out 'til spring if I have to," said Newk, who also made mention of "ultimatums."

* * *

Bavasi said he had kidded Newcombe about his remarks.

"I asked him to spell 'ultimatum'," cracked Bavasi.

* * *

Nothing concrete resulted from Bavasi's talk with Podres, mainly because neither will know what the young lefthander's status will be next year until the draft board announces its decision. It's expected in about a week or 10 days.

* * *

Bavasi indicated he won't get down to work on player contracts for another "three weeks, when I come back from the baseball meetings." Jackie Robinson, however, is scheduled to pay a call on Buzzy next week.

STANCE ADJUSTS ANGLE — Every bowler soon sees that on certain alleys the ball hooks more readily than on others. So it is important that the lesson of adjusting the stance or starting position to meet the changing alley conditions is learned early.

When an alley is slick, for example, the shift is toward the right-hand gutter, and the ball must be directed on a straighter line at the pocket because the hook will be small. The aim is at the No. 3 pin, or even the gap between the 1 and 3 pins—the strike pocket.

Now let us take the other extreme—the "run" alley. The one that "takes" hook quickly. The adjustment is simple enough—if one understands it. As sketch shows, turn the right shoulder, hip, and feet toward the right hand gutter, with your stance more toward the center of the alley to allow for angling the ball to the right.

The over-all secret, of course, is timing the swinging ball with footwork, and proper body position for angle shooting is a big factor in acquiring that timing.

Anderson 'High' on MSU Cage Outlook

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State will have a 1st division basketball team and should be pushing the Big Ten leaders this season.

Coach Forddy Anderson, who piloted the Spartans to 4th place in the conference in his 1st season last year, has an optimistic gleam in his eye this year.

"I figure Illinois and Iowa on top," he said, "and Michigan State in 3rd. Of course, anything can happen."

* * *

The Michigan State offense this year will be built around Julius McCoy (6-2), the agile forward, and Duane Peterson (6-6½), the big center, both seniors.

"They should both have their best year," Anderson said.

The big hole in the MSU lineup this year is at the other forward spot. There State lost Al Ferrari, who set a single-season scoring record last year with his 442 points.

George Ferguson (6-3), a junior, is the best bet to team with McCoy at forward.

Anderson has a lot of experienced but small guards returning. These include Walt Godfrey (6-1), Jim Raymond (5-11), Karry Lux (5-10) and Pat Wilson (6-0).

Godfrey and Raymond probably will start and Wilson should break into the lineup as soon as he is through with his duties as 2nd string quarterback on the football team.

A good bunch of sophomore prospects will help to give the Spartans bench strength.

Best of these are forwards Larry Hedden (6-5) of Gas City, Ind., and Charles Bencie (6-6) of Gary, Ind., center Max Gonzenbach (6-8) of Milbank, S. D., and guards Jack Quiggle (6-3) of South Bend, Ind., and Al Rosenberg (6-2) of New York City.

"We will have more depth and height this year," said Anderson. "We hope to get more balanced scoring—more from our guards. We'll run as much as possible and have continuous motion with a definite pattern."

* * *

Michigan State opens its 22-game schedule at Jenison Fieldhouse Dec. 13 against Southern Illinois. The 1st of 14 Big Ten games will be Jan. 2 at Illinois.

* * *

Dec. 13, Southern Illinois; Dec. 17, at Pittsburgh; Dec. 21, Notre Dame; Dec. 23, Wyoming; Dec. 29-30, at Maryland tournament.

Jan. 2, at Illinois; Jan. 7, at Iowa; Jan. 14, Purdue; Jan. 16, at Indiana; Jan. 21, Minnesota; Jan. 28, Ohio State.

Feb. 1, at Detroit; Feb. 6, Michigan; Feb. 8, at Marquette; Feb. 13, at Minnesota; Feb. 18, Illinois; Feb. 20, Northwestern; Feb. 25, at Purdue; Feb. 27, Wisconsin.

March 3, at Ohio State; March 5, at Michigan.

Two New Faces in OSU Lineup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State will have two new faces in its starting lineup this weekend against arch-rival Michigan when the two teams collide in the battle for the Western Conference title.

Don Sutherin, used mostly on kickoffs and punts, will open at right half in place of senior Jerry Harkrader, who is through for the season because of a knee injury.

Jim Roseboro, Harkrader's No. 1 replacement, is ailing with knee and ankle injuries but is mending rapidly and may see some action Saturday.

Junior Dick Guy, a stalwart in the Bucks big line, will be back at his old starting post at left tackle after being replaced by Don Stoeckel last week. Guy has been battling a cold for the past few weeks.

The Buckeyes once again spent their one hour and 25 minutes practice session polishing up on offense and looking at Michigan's attack. The freshman team mimicked the Wolves' multiple formations in scrimmaging yesterday.

Coach Woody Hayes said the entire Buckeye squad will be ready for action Saturday with the exception of Harkrader. The injured gridder will make the trip to Ann Arbor and may suit up for the game, but his collegiate playing days ended with his brief appearance last week against Iowa.

South Oakland Preps Discuss New Circuit

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Discussions on formation of a new Class "A" prep athletic league in Southern Oakland County were back in the picture today after a meeting of principals and athletic directors at Birmingham high school yesterday.

On numerous occasions in the past three years, rumors were heard, and were later denied, about a new league along Woodward from Birmingham to the Nine Mile road.

Yesterday's meeting was not publicized but today it was admitted that a closed-door session was held for one purpose. It was set to either formulate plans for the league, or scuttle the idea altogether, for at least another three years.

Two leagues which would be primarily involved in the shuffle are the Inter-Lakes and Eastern Michigan.

Last spring many of athletic heads of teams in these leagues felt that a re-shuffle was inevitable.

One of the strongest backers of a new setup was Niles Hayes, ex-athletic director at Royal Oak. Royal Oak is expected to have its new high school ready for 1957 and Hayes saw the need for getting it into a league.

Present Royal Oak Dondero High would remain in the Border Cities League.

Class "A" schools, along with the new Royal Oak school, mentioned for the league were Birmingham, Ferndale and Hazel Park from the Eastern Michigan, Southfield and Berkley from the Inter-Lakes conference.

These six schools were expected to form the charter membership with stipulations that Class "B" schools like Oak Park and Fitzgerald would be eligible upon reaching "A" status.

Big factor which is being carefully considered before any definite commitments are expressed is from the standpoint of equal facilities.

Here, Birmingham has little problem, with its own swimming pool and tennis courts to be constructed in the very near future to complete its athletic plant.

Southfield has already begun building tennis courts and has funds from a recent bond issue for a swimming pool. Latest step is a proposal to light its football field.

* * *

Ferndale, with a new $6,000,000 plant under consideration, will have expanded athletic facilities to match those of any other school in the area.

Jim Manilla, football coach and new athletic director at Royal Oak said, "we have not committed ourselves to any league, but we know we must find a place for our new high school."

Athletic director Frank Whitney at Birmingham could not give any concrete result of the meeting, but said that "such a league would have great advantages."

Bob Hall, athletic boss at Southfield, looked favorably toward the proposed setup. "We must, however, carefully consider any commitment," he said.

Storm Cancels Michigan Hunting Trip for Rocky

HOLLAND, Mich. (AP)—Al Weill, manager of heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, stipulated today that any conference he may have with New York Promoter Jim Norris over the champion's future fights must be with Norris "alone."

* * *

"I'll have my lawyer present and Norris can have his, but no one else," Weill said. "I want to talk to Norris alone."

* * *

Weill did not amplify, but it may be significant that he is now free to sign with any promoter. The exclusive contract which Norris' International Boxing Club had with Marciano expired recently and has not been renewed.

* * *

Here with the champion on what he termed a "good will tour" Weill said he probably wouldn't get back to New York until shortly before Christmas.

* * *

"I'm going to Los Angeles for a month's vacation after Rocky goes home (Brockton, Mass.) for the Thanksgiving holidays," he explained.

* * *

"We're going to stay here through Friday, then go to Chicago. From there we go to Minneapolis on Nov. 22, then Rocky will go home for the holidays and I'm going to the Coast on vacation.

* * *

"Rocky was supposed to go hunting with (Michigan) Gov. Williams today, but I've nixed that. It's stormy and I won't take a gamble with Rocky."

Campbell Hits 216.2 MPH for Record

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The trim, jet-powered Bluebird went on display today and the man who guided her to a new world speedboat record, Donald M. Campbell, quietly debated the future and possible further assaults on the so-called "water barrier."

• • •

Campbell and the 4,000-pound Bluebird skimmed across Lake Mead's waters yesterday at a speed of 216.2 m.p.h., breaking the mark the 34-year-old son of the late Sir Malcolm Campbell set in England at 202.32 last July.

• • •

Campbell said his immediate plans are indefinite aside from giving himself and his loyal crew from Britain a well deserved rest.

"I think perhaps we should enjoy going to bed at 4 a.m. instead of getting up at 4 a.m.," he said, jokingly.

The new time, he said, will be submitted for formal approval as a world record in the unrestricted class to the Union of International Motor Boating, governing body of the sport.

• • •

The Campbell record, the average registered in two runs over a measured kilometer distance timed at 239.5 and 193.0, was suprvised by Kent Hitchcock, official of the American Power Boat Assn. and the UIMB.

• • •

The likable Britisher, a man dedicated to speed on the water just as was his father to speed on both land and water, said he will keep his headquarters here at the Sahara Hotel for several weeks. The Bluebird is on display at the hotel, which was one of the sponsors for the record assault.

• • •

Much research remains to be done in regard not only to the Bluebird's record run but in the entire matter of jet-propelled craft.

Of the great danger involved in traveling at such a speed, Campbell observed:

"Certainly the danger is there. We saw it in the case of John Cobb. You recognize this danger. Then you forget it. You must forget it, else one would never get anywhere."

Cobb was killed in a jet boat in Scotland in 1952. The run was timed at about 206 miles an hour. Said Campbell:

• • •

"Some two years later the Italian ace, Mario Verga, was killed under almost identical circumstances and at comparable speed."

Campbell is the lone person to surpass 200 m.p.h. on water and live, and the Bluebird is the only successfully engineered jet craft built thus far.

Campbell questions the use of the term "water barrier, but admitted:

"Call it what you will. The term 'water barrier' is perhaps at best an apt journalistic phrase to describe the very real and destructive deterrents that exist for any piloted craft attempting to go faster than 200 m.p.h. on water.

"It is not an accredited scientific term but it is my guess that it will do until I, or someone else, makes it as obsolete as aircraft engineers have made the term 'sound barrier.'"

• • •

Most of the Campbell supporters believe he is thinking in terms of 250 m.p.h. They also believe he will do it.

HOPE FOR BOWL TRIP — Pulling hard for a trip to the Tangerine Bowl, at Orlando, Fla. at New Year's, are these 10 boys. All are members of the unbeaten Hillsdale College football squad, and all are from Pontiac and area. The team (this isn't all of it) is captained by ex-PHS player Warren (Bud) Temple. Tangerine, Refrigerator?

Pontiac Area Backing Dales' Effort for Participation in Post-Season Bowls

With almost a dozen members of the undefeated Hillsdale College football team residents of the Pontiac and Oakland County area, more than passing interest is being shown here for the Dales try for a bid to one of the southern holiday bowl games.

A number of Pontiac groups have already sent their telegraphic support of the Dales for the Tangerine test at Orlando, Fla.

Hillsdale has set up an amazing record of 16 consecutive wins, nine this season. The string brought the 2nd straight MIAA title for the Dales.

Dales are spearheaded by the sensational Nate Clark, halfback who has compiled 144 points this year, best in the state.

Those from the area on the Hillsdale squad, include — Capt. Bud Temple of Pontiac, a junior and an all-MIAA in 1954; Johnny Moffant, junior halt back from Pontiac, the team's kicker who has scored two TDs and kicked 22 extra points for a 34 total; Walt Poe, a freshman from Pontiac; three of the Keego Harbor O'Shaughnesseys, Earl, an Olivet transfer, Wayne, freshman fullback, with 277 yards in 51 tries; Nelson, equipment manager; Bud Thomason of Waterford, Phil Barker of Walled Lake and Ron Draheim, Walled Lake, all freshmen, and sophomore Bruce Felker of Northville.

PCL Not in Hurry About Resignation

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball League are in no hurry to accept Clair Goodwin's resignation as league president, says President Fred David of the Sacramento Solons.

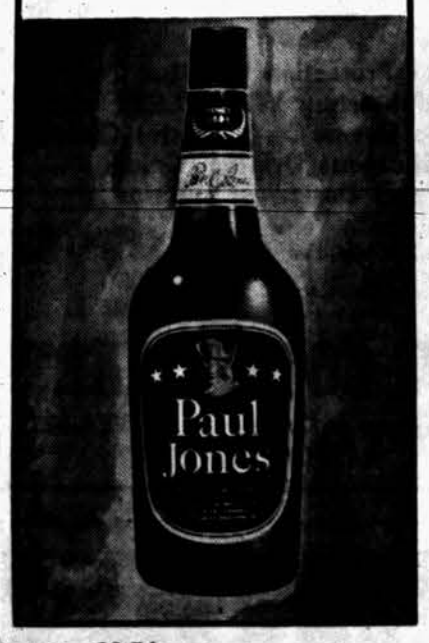

• • •

David said yesterday he had talked by telephone with other directors and they agreed to wait until the Nov. 28 baseball meeting in Columbus, Ohio, before making a decision.

• • •

Byrne's Comeback Takes AL Honors

NEW YORK (AP)—On June 15, 1951, the New York Yankees announced they had finally given up on lefthander Tommy Byrne, the wild man of the American League. They had persisted with him, season after season since 1940, despite his erratic course and lack of control. On that day they sent $25,000 along with Byrne to St.Louis for veteran Stubby Overmire.

Exactly four years, three months and two weeks later, Byrne, in his second hitch with the Yankees, hurled a five-hit 4-1 world series triumph over Brooklyn. His World Series start was a reward for his brilliant 16-5 won and lost record during the regular season.

* * *

For that, the 36-year-old alumnus of Wake Forest College who still makes that North Carolina city his home, bagged 80 out of a possible 99 votes to easily gain the American League Comeback-of-the-Year honors for 1955. Byrne joins catcher Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who won the National League comeback honors, beating out his teammate, Don Newcombe, 57 votes to 35. Campy, who had slumped to .207 in 1954 because of a crippled left hand, rebounded with a fourth-place .318 mark that included 32 home runs and 107 runs batted in.

* * *

Byrne had no opposition whatsoever. The remaining 19 ballots among the voting members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America were spread among 10 candidates. Boston's Ted Williams and Kansas City's Vic Power had 4 each, Detroit's Billy Hoeft had 3 and George Kell of the Chicago White Sox had 2. One vote each went to Sherman Lollar and Minnie Minoso of the White Sox; Enos Slaughter, Athletics; Mickey Vernon, Washington; Jimmy Piersall, Red Sox.

* * *

Byrne's comeback is one of the most dramatic in a decade. The pitcher who in 1951 had been given up for lost became one of Casey Stengel's most consistent performers, no longer the wild man, but a steady, reliable, crafty pitcher at 36.

* * *

Byrne did not make the grade with the Browns. He also failed with the White Sox and finally the Senators. Released to the American Assn. he finished the 1953 season with Charleston where he won 1 and lost 6. It was the end of the line. It seemed better to give up and look for something else.

* * *

But Byrne wouldn't give up. He still had great faith in himself, a tremendous, incredible confidence. In 1954 he caught on with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League, pulled himself together, revised his pitching pattern and won 20 games. Desperate for pitching help needed to overhaul the Cleveland Indians, Stengel recommended the purchase of Byrne late last year.

Nashua Future Is Indefinite

Plans Are Pending on Decision of Former Owner's Estate

NEW YORK (AP)—Nashua, leading candidate for 3-year-old and horse of the year honors, is going back home to await a decision regarding his future.

* * *

Trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons said yesterday the big son of Nasrullah will be shipped next Monday to A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Stud, Paris, Ky., where the colt was foaled.

* * *

Until the Oct. 30 shotgun death of his owner, William Woodward, Jr., plans were to send Nashua to Woodward's Belair Farm in Maryland for a rest before heading for Florida and the rich winter stakes.

* * *

Pending disposition of Woodward's estate, Nashua's future racing plans are indefinite.

Hoppy, Dawson Cinch to Grab Big 10 Honors

OSU Ace Holds Rushing Scoring Lead; Purdue Star Top Passer

CHICAGO (AP) — Halfback Howard Cassady of Ohio State and passer Len Dawson of Purdue have all but wrapped up individual statistical honors in Big Ten football while the season ran out on Illinois Bobby Mitchell.

* * *

Sophomore Mitchell, up from the reserve listing to win starting rank only last week, has made the most sensational stride of all on the statistical sheet but just hasn't the time left to try to overtake the two leaders.

* * *

Mitchell has carried the ball only 37 times, according to official figures of Big Ten games today, for a net gain of 362 yards and a league-topping 9.7 average. He is 2nd only to Cassady in rushing. The Buckeye star has piled up 571 yards in 90 attempts for 6.2 per trip and a 113 average in five games.

* * *

Cassady also leads in scoring with 10 touchdowns and in kickoff returns, with a 28.8 average in seven runbacks.

Dawson's three touchdown passes for Purdue last week boosted him to No. 1 ranking in the aerial department with a record of 67 hits in 118 attempts for 818 yards and 6 TD's. Thirteen interceptions stand against him. His overall marks, however, put him ahead of Wisconsin's Jim Haluska who has connected on 49 out of 89 for 653 yards and 4 touchdowns. He has had six interceptions.

* * *

Dawson's aerial yardage gives him top spot in total offense with 796 yards. He has a minus 22 rushing. His average per play is 5.6, a category led by Mitchell's 9.7 and 7.2 for Earl Morrall of Michigan State.

* * *

Second in total offense is Iowa's Jerry Reichow with 192 yards rushing and 457 passing for 649.

Johnny Podres Versatile Star in High School

MINEVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — "We may never find another athlete like Johnny Podres," says Mineville High baseball and basketball coach Steve Kazlo, ex-Fordham athlete, who had the now famous Dodger pitcher four years.

"He was our best in baseball and basketball and tied my 11 foot pole vault mark. It couldn't have happened to a better kid."

Podres scored 761 points, a school record, in four seasons of basketball. As a senior he made 301 points for a team that went unbeaten in 17 games. He was the captain.

20 Cubs Plan to Dehibernate Early

CHICAGO (AP)—Some 20 players on a roster of 41 will be invited to attend early camp when the Chicago Cubs open their 1956 spring training Feb. 20, at Mesa, Ariz.

The early birds will be joined by the remainder of the pitchers and catchers on the roster Feb. 26.

Hollywood Headlines:

Hayden Undertakes Job of Raising Four Children

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Sterling Hayden, film star and ex-Marine, has another career cut out for him: bringing up his four small children all by himself.

Last summer, Hayden divorced his wife, the former Betty de Noon, after a series of battles. He retained custody of their four children—Casey, 7; Dana, 6; Gretchen, 5; and Matt, 3. For a year, the towering, rugged actor has been acting as mother and father to this lively quartet.

* * *

"It hasn't been easy," he remarked at his roomy Sherman Oaks home. The place was decorated with corn stalks and pumpkins, remnants of a big Halloween party he had conducted for the kids. (He later took his brood on their trick-or-treat rounds.)

"First of all, we had to get established as a family," Hayden explained. "I took the entire summer off. For four months I didn't work because I thought it was best to spend as much time with them as I could.

* * *

"At first I thought of taking an island cabin in the Puget Sound. But I realized at their age they didn't care much about scenery.

"What they needed most was a home life. So I stayed here with them and we played ball and swam in the pool and had a good time."

* * *

Hayden said his work was ideal for rearing his brood. Now that the kids are in school—Matt goes to nursery school, the others to public grammar school—the actor is making three pictures in a row. He's now working on "Bed of Fear."

At present he is being helped by his mother-in-law and a young woman. When Hayden comes home from the studio, he takes over. He also helps get the kids off to school in the morning.

* * *

The only real solution to his problem, he admitted, was finding a permanent mother for the children. But it's hard to find an eligible girl who wants to undertake a ready-made family. His divorce decree does not become final until next August.

Hayden takes his parental duties seriously. He attends PTA meetings.

* * *

"I read to them at night," he said. "Lately it is 'Call of the Wild.' I was afraid it would be too old for them, but they eat it up. I also tell them stories of my own. When I have to be away on location, I put them on the tape recorder to be played in my absence."

Death House Convict Wants to Give Eyes

MCALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Hurbie Franklin Fairris Jr., facing death in the electric chair a stroke past midnight tonight, has made a final, desperate plea that his life be prolonged long enough for him to give his eyes to some blind man.

The 21-year-old Dallas, Tex., convict is resigned to pay with his life for killing Oklahoma City Detective Bennie Cravatt durng a supermarket robbery in July 1954. He is at the state penitentiary here.

"I'd like to give my eyes to some blind man before I go," he told Howard Cowan, editor of the McAlester News-Capital.

Medical men here said thy know of no eye bank in this immediate vicinity and that such an operation would entail much preparation.

Best Race Story by Wilmington Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Cartwright, sports editor of the Wilmington, Del., Journal-Every Evening, was announced today as the winner of the Thoroughbred Racig Assn.' first annual award for the best ewspaper story on thoroughbred racing in 1955.

Cartwright, who pens a column under the heading "A La Carte" won with a story on Virgil (Buddy) Raines, trainer of Donald P. Ross' Brandywine Stable.

Drag Lake for Victim

COLOMA (AP) — Sheriff's officers today began dragging Paw Paw lake in the search for missing Air Force Sgt. Ronald Sulko, 20, of Coloma. Sulko, home on a re-enlistment furlough, was last seen Saturday night in a tavern at the lake shore.

HE'LL LEAD FIGHT ON POLIO — Meet five-year-old Tommy Woodward, who has been named Poster Boy for the 1956 March of Dimes. He's shown here as he looks today and as he looked in 1952. At left, he offers some of the peanuts which will be sold to raise funds in the campaign against polio, Jan. 3 to 31. At right, the Baltimore, Md., youngster is shown when he was two years old. Tommy was stricken with polio when he was 14 months old. Although he'll have to use crutches and wear his braces and body corset for years to come, he smiles readily. That's why his freckled face will appear on millions of posters and collection boxes during the drive.

Economic Policy 'Fits Everybody'

Humphrey Thinks Dem Plan Was Unrealistic for Nation's Workers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said today the Eisenhower administration has reshaped U. S. economic policies to fit a nation in which "the man in overalls and the man in the business suit" have the same basic interests.

* * *

Humphrey criticized economic policy makers of the former Democratic administrations as unrealistic ghost fighters who he said were battling "past emergencies" after the country already had developed a high level of prosperity.

He said that when the Eisenhower administration came to office "we found that the great day-to-day American evolution from the bottom up . . . had not even been properly recognized by economic policy makers of the past two decades. They were too busy fighting the ghosts of a 'have not' nation, a nation that had even then ceased to exist. . . .

"We found the economy's growth hampered and hobbled by a tangle of regulations, controls, subsidies and taxes imposed in past emergencies."

* * *

Humphrey said "the man in overalls" and the "man in the business suit" have come to have a like interest in avoiding inflation — a main aim of administration economic policy — because both nowadays have enough income to accumulate savings and make investments.

He Gets Dog-Sitter

DETROIT (AP)—Because he can't keep his mouth shut when he's alone, Stubby is going to have a sitter—by court order. Stubby is a 10-year-old mongrel dog. Neighbors complained that for seven years Stubby had set up persistent barking whenever left alone by his owner, Miss Nollie J. Conner. One neighbor, Arnold Benes, suggested a dog sitter whenever Miss Conner left home. The judge agreed. So did Miss Conner.

$16.50 Punishes Sinner

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Justice of Peace Don Hall received this note along with a $16.50 check for a speeding violation: "Be thankful to God that he is a little more merciful than you. Sincerely yours, a Punished Sinner."

Women Are Alike; Judge Drops Charge

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Robert Rabowski, 43, appeared before Superior Judge Thaddeus B. Taylor today for sentencing on a charge of aggravated assault.

* * *

Rabowski attempted to chastise his ex-wife Sept. 13 in city hall after both left a divorce property settlement hearing.

* * *

The following dialogue ensued today between Judge Taylor and the defendant:

"You got a little excited here the other day. Too bad," said the Judge.

* * *

"Yes sir!" Rabowski agreed.

Judge: "Robert had a marital situation and he let it disturb him too much. You want to remember-"

Rabowski: "I know it, sir."

Judge: "- That these women- -"

Rabowski: "That's right!"

Judge: "Don't let them get the best of you."

Rabowski received a suspended sentence.

Canadian Dollar Drops Under U.S. Par Value

MONTREAL (AP) — The Canadian dollar today fell below par with the United States dollar for the first time in four years.

Bank officials said that the last time the Canadian dollar was below par was in March 1952.

At the opening of the banks the U.S. dollar was quoted at a premium of 1 2-3 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, which meant it was worth $1.00 1-32 Canadian.

In recent weeks the Canadian dollar has fluctuated close to the value of the U.S. dollar and for a brief period about two weeks ago was at par with the American dollars.

Japanese Boats Warned

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea threatened today to shoot at — "and if necessary sink" — Japanese boats if they persist in violating the Syngman Rhee Line, which extends up to 75 miles from the Korean coast. The line was proclaimed by President Rhee to reserve the waters for Korean fishermen.

Bakery Official Dies

SAGINAW (AP)—Carl H. Pletscher, 42, head of Baker Perkins, Inc., died unexpectedly Tuesday in Saginaw Hospital. He was the only son of Carl Pletscher, retired vice president and general manager of the Bakery equipment firm.

GOP to Try 'Treaty' of Warring Leaders

LANSING (AP) — The Republican State Central Committee will meet Dec. 3 to put into effect a peace treaty drafted between warring party leaders.

The Central Committee will be asked to amend its bylaws to authorize appointment of a special campaign committee including party officials and other leaders to serve through the 1956 campaign.

The campaign committee plan was agreed upon recently at a meeting in the Washington offices of Leonard W. Hall, national chairman.

Reportedly the meeting brought together State Chairman John Feikens and U.S. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, former state and national chairman, who have been at odds over party management.

Repentant Felon Freed of Blame

Crippled Law Breaker Travels From Montana to Surrender to Law

EAST LANSING (AP) — A repentant fugitive hitchhiked from Montana on crutches to give himself up to police yesterday on a 10-year-old bad check charge. The prosecutor agreed to dismiss the charge.

Police said the 47-year-old man, painfully crippled by arthritis, seeks to re-establish himself in the community. They withheld his identity.

He was also wanted for breaking parole, but officers have recommended that his parole be extended. A decision is expected within a week.

Police said a warrant for his arrest on the check charge lapsed several years ago and that checks needed for evidence have been lost.

"I wanted to get a clean start in life," he told police, "and the only way was to come back and face the consequences of my mistakes. I was tired of running."

He said he talked the matter over with his 17-year-old son, who recently enlisted in the Navy.

"We thought that if I had to return to prison I could serve my sentence and be out by the time my son gets out of the Navy so we could be together again," he said. "He's a fine boy and I hope someday to earn his complete respect."

High Court to Decide Reds' Appeal of Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—The five-year old McCarran internal security law, designed to control subversive organizations, faced its first Supreme Court test today in an appeal by the U.S. Communist party.

The party challenged the constitutionality of the act, under which it has been ordered to register as a puppet of the Soviet Union. Similar orders are pending against a number of other allegedly Communistic-dominated groups.

Unless the law is struck down, the party said, it will be outlawed and "the liberties of countless non-Communists imperiled."

The McCarran Act, passed in 1950 over President Truman's veto, set up the procedure under which the party has been ordered to list its officers and members with the Justice Department and to give a financial accounting.

Synagogue Bans Bingo as Method of Raising Funds

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—The United Synagogue of America has banned bingo or other games of chance for fund raising.

* * *

The ban was contained in a code of synagogue practice adopted yesterday at the group's convention.

The organization's executive director, Rabbi Bernard Segal, said that in the past congregations have been guided by state laws in regard to bingo, but added: "In the spiritual life the end does not justify the means."

* * *

The convention represents 585 congregations and about a million Jews of the Conservative branch of Judaism in the United States and Canada.

Australian divorces fell sharply in 1954 to a total of 6,528, a reduction of 1,513 from the previous year and nearly 2,300 below the record divorce year of 1947.

U. S. Honors Filipino Vets With Big Modern Hospital

MANILA (INS) — A $9,000,000 monument to America's concern over Filipino veterans of World War II will be unveiled November 20.

• • •

It is the 722-bed Veterans Memorial Hospital, erected with U. S. funds in Quezon City, near Manila.

The hospital is considered the largest and most modern hospital in the Far East. It comprises 23 separate buildings, complete with modern surgical and clinical equipment.

There are 70,000 living Philippine army veterans and 260,000 recognized guerrilla fighters who are potential claimants to benefits of the hospital.

The Veterans Memorial Hospital, an Army spokesman said, answers a "long-crying national need" in solving the veterans' plight.

Since the war's end in 1945, those who needed hospitalization have been sent to private hospitals. Inadequate facilities of these hospitals tended to slow down physical rehabilitation of veteran-patients.

The Philippine government sought U. S. aid in 1947.

In 1948, President Truman approved a bill sponsored by Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass) which provided grants to construct the necessary hospital facilities.

Work on the hospital got under way Sept. 17, 1948 and was completed last August.

The hospital plant is divided into three sections for tuebrculosis patients, for general medical and surgical patients, and for those suffering nervous and mental disorders.

Each section has its own dining room, kitchen, library, chapel, laundry, recreation, examination and treating rooms, and other facilities.

• • •

The hospital has a complete orthopedic shop for the manufacture of artificial limbs for veteran amputees—the only one of its kind in the country.

Irate Drunk Tears Door Off Mother's Refrigerator

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Robert Thomas, 31, was hailed into Municipal Court on complaint of his mother.

Mrs. Ella Thomas told Judge James A. McWhorter her son came home drunk, cut the telephone wires and ripped off the door of her refrigerator.

The verdict: 30 days in jail on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Grains Show Easier Tone

CHICAGO (AP) — An easier tone prevailed in grains on the Board of Trade today. Losses ran to about a cent in corn, the weakest cereal.

Lack of any news to inspire aggresive buying was the main trouble with the market. Domestic flour business continued on a hand-to-mouth basis, processors weren't very interested in buying more beans and exports remained at a low ebb.

Trading was rather slow in all pits, mild hedging pressure and liquidating pressure being responsible for the slight setback.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅜ to ¾ lower, December $2.03 ½; corn ⅜ to 1 cent lower, December $1.23⅜; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, December 64⅝; rye ½ to 1 cent lower, December $1.10⅝; soybeans ¼ to ⅝ lower, November $2.32, and lard unchanged to 12 cents a hundred pounds lower, November $11.62.

More Automatic Shifts Predicted

Innovation Keeps Lead as Most Popular Auto Equipment Item

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Most popular equipment item developed in recent years for the passenger automobile continues to be the automatic transmission.

Statistics gathered by Ward's Automotive Reports indicate more than two-thirds of all the cars built this year will have some form of automatic transmission.

Contrary to earlier indications the increased demand for automatic transmissions has brought no major price reduction. Some makers, in fact, have increased the price. However, there have been major improvements in most of the units.

General Motors has redesigned its several types of automatic transmissions to provide greater efficiency and improve fuel mileage. A notable change was made in the hydra-matic device, used on Cadillac, Oldsmobile and Pontiac cars. The change has made almost imperceptible the shifting from one speed to another.

The advance was achieved with installation of a new second small fluid coupling, which cushions shifts like the main fluid coupling cushions engine power.

Improvements in acceleration and fuel economy are said to have resulted from changes made in the variable pitch dynaflow transmission.

Studebaker has a new automatic in its 1956 line. It calls the unit "Flightomatic." It is said to provide improved converter flexibility in traffic and smoother shifting. Studebaker also has provided a parking lock position in the new transmission.

The first of the modern-day automatic transmissions were introduced shortly before World War II. Engineeringwise, they got a substantial forward boost in developments for wartime tanks. Some of the modern units are strictly gear shifting devices; some are torque converters exclusively and some are a combination of both.

The gear-shifting unit, of course, gives separate and distinct gear ranges; the torque converter provides uninterrupted acceleration which has been likened to that of a steam engine.

Improvement of fuel mileage has been a major objective of the transmission engineers. The changes made in the 1956 versions of automatic transmissions have shown results in this direction.

Meanwhile more and more car makers are adapting automatic transmissions as standard equipment. They are standard on Chrysler's Imperial and New Yorker models, on Lincoln, Olds "98," Cadillac, DeSoto Fireflite, Buick Century, Super and Roadmaster.

Probably the extensive and continuing engineering work refining the units has delayed price reductions. And even where they are standard items their cost undoubtedly is included in the base price of the car.

Edison Co. Stockholders to Convene in Detroit

Detroit Edison will hold a special informational meeting for stockholders of this area Monday, company president Walker L. Cisler has announced.

The session will be held in the Masonic Temple in Detroit, beginning at 2 p.m. The president will report on matters of interest to stockholders, including the company's participation in atomic development.

Auto Kills Engineer

LAWRENCE, Mass. (AP)—Gordon E. Gillespie, 71, who retired as an engineer with the Boston & Maine Railroad last Dec. 31 after 50 years of accident-free service, was killed by an auto yesterday.

Stocks Rebound in Later Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market turned in a mixed performance today, the third day that prices have more or less marked time in the shadow of the old record high.

The range of change went from 1 to 3 lower to 1 to 2 higher. There were few features in trading by early afternoon.

Volume was somewhat under yesterday's 2,460,000 shares.

Aircrafts provided one bright spot with a runup in prices in the second hour. Boeing was the leader on the rise and pushed its gain to around 2 points at the best.

Railroads were the most depressed of the major groups with quite a few losses of 1 to 3 points.

Here is how the rest of the market acted: Steels steady to higher, motors lower, rubbers mostly higher, mail orders down, radio-televisions higher, utilities mixed, coppers mixed, chemicals lower, oils lower, airlines lower, movies higher, building materials higher, and distillers were unchanged to lower.

Sales Not 'Abnormal,' Says Car Executive

CHICAGO (INS) — A Chrysler Corp. executive said today that the record-breaking 1955 automobile sales, instead of being abnormally good, are the first real expression of basic consumer demand.

In an address before the American Finance Conference convention in Chicago, W. J. Simons, treasurer of Chrysler Corp., said:

"Some say that 1955 is an abnormal year, and that production and sales of automobiles for 1956 must be lower. On the contrary, it is more true than not, that 1955 was the first year in the entire postwar period that the industry and the economy did not face substantial abnormal conditions of one form or another.

"It is the first year to give concrete evidence of the underlying strength of consumer demand for automobiles. It is the first year that basic consumer demand was able to express itself."

Simons explained that in the past years the automobile market has been inhibited by many factors such as material shortages, government controls and production limitations.

Turkey has issued a stamp commemorating the international Army soccer championships, Istanbul reports.

Hold Theft Suspect on Parent's Request

A 23-year-old man was arrested in the home of his mother yesterday after she told Pontiac Police she suspected him of stealing $164 and a 32 caliber revolver from her a week ago.

Held on suspicion was Billie E. White, 800 Young St.

His mother, Mrs. Helen Elexman, also of 800 Young St., identified a revolver in White's possession as hers, police said.

White is also on $3,000 bond after being arrested by Pontiac Police in October on charges of armed robbery and unlawfully driving away an automibile.

Business Notes

Temprite Products Corp. of Birmingham will be among the 250 exhibiting companies at the 9th Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Industry Exposition to be held at Convention Hall, Atlantic City, Nov. 28 to Dec. 1.

R. C. Tricker, Pontiac representative of the Lincoln National Life Insurance Co., has been honored by the firm for his personal production record last month. He ranked sixth among the company's more than 2,400 sales representatives in the country for insurance sold in October.

Frederic R. Breitenbach, formerly of Birmingham and Detroit, has been appointed district agent at Akron, O., for the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co.

His Latest Work May End Future Enlistment Fever

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Capt. John S. Bromley never could pass up a recruiting poster. At the age of 17, he saw a poster urging him to "join the Navy". He did. After four years with the Navy and the Marine Corps., as a medical technician, he was discharged in 1946 and returned to his home in Meadville, Pa.

But the civilian fling lasted less than a year. He passed another poster, suggesting he join the Air Force. He did, winding up in Japan as a sergeant until 1949. Then he passed another poster, "join the Army." The transfer was arranged.

He was sent to officer candidate school, and then to Korea for 18 months.

Dividends

NEW YORK (AP)—Directors of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. today declared the usual quarterly dividend of $2.25 a share payable Jan. 10 to stock of record Dec. 9. It was the 139th consecutive payment and will go to about 1,385,000 stockholders scattered all over the world.

Industrialist Sees Record Year for Car Parts Firms

The prediction that 1956 will be a banner year for the automotive parts industry was made recently by Goodloe H. Rogers, president of Pontiac's American Forging & Socket Co.

ROGERS

Rogers, who is also president of the Automotive Parts Manufacturers Association, said in an article published by the Michigan Manufacturer and Financial Record that parts firms have been in volume production since early October.

"Present indications are that the 1956 model year will be another record year for the industry," he said.

"The automotive parts supplier," the article continued, "lives in a world of rugged competition, not only from other parts suppliers but from its major customers, the automobile companies, many of whom have their own parts-producing units.

* * *

"Such competition encourages independent research and development, which keeps the industry strong and independent."

"New products are being introduced continuously," Rogers said, "while others are on the drawing boards and in the laboratories, or in 'try-out.' New design and new application, applied to many standardized parts, add to the challenge which the industry is meeting."

"We believe that is can be fairly said," the industrialist concluded, "that the parts industry is strong and thoroughly in tune with modern demands. It is looking to the future with the expectation that skill, experience and reliability will again prove to be the basis for progress . . ."

Sutherlen New Olds Sales Division Head

Promotion of Victor H. Sutherlen to the post of assistant sales manager for Oldsmobile was announced yesterday by General Sales Manager G. R. Jones.

Sutherlen succeeds the late James E. Straud who died aboard an airliner which exploded and crashed in Colorado November 1, killing 44 passengers.

The new assistant manager will head sales activities in the division's Western U. S. division. He formerly was Southwest regional manager with headquarters in Dallas, Tex.

Cadillac Sets Weekly Unit Production Mark

An all-time weekly production record was set by the Cadillac Motor Car Division between November 7 and 12, General Manager D. E. Ahrens said today.

The division reportedly produced 4,018 cars during the period, exceeding a record set during the week of March 14, 1955, by 152 units.

Ahrens reported a "sharp rise" in optional equipment orders for such items as air conditioning, power seat adjusters and automatic trunk lid locks.

Medic Has Time to Raise, Praise Gentle Little Bats

REDONDO BEACH, Calif. (INS) — Dr. Richard L. Cassell, a dentist, not only raises—but praises bats.

He has made a hobby of studying bats since childhood and is considered an outstanding authority on the world's only flying mammal.

Dr. Cassell, who characterizes himself as a one-man crusade for better public relations for bats, says bats are easy to tame and are among the cleanest and gentlest of all wild animals.

To prove his point, Dr. Cassell goes no farther than the five ordinary California pallid bats who have taken up lodging in his home.

He says one week after their capture they were all eating from his hand, coming to his call (or whistle) and preening themselves for photographs.

Dr. Cassell, who definitely is not known locally as the "batman," describes his weird friends as affectionate little animals that are covered with fur finer than the softest silk.

He debunks, however, the theory that their sensitive "radar" system of bouncing squeaks for getting around is infallible. He said that after months in a lighted room, he found the bats would repeatedly fly into a mirror in unfamiliar surroundings, proving really that bats are as blind as . . .

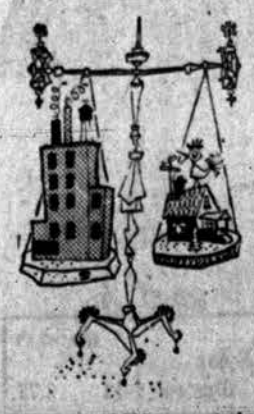

Dr. Cassell says pallid bats are a great boon to farms and rural residents as they are insect eaters and do a great deal to keep the insect life in California at a low level.

He says they are smart, too, and he has trained his ugly friends to perform.

One of their outstanding tricks is to form a flying-wedge formation, ignore all obstacles, and dash pell-mell across "their" room into a wire screen pop corn popper installed in one corner.

They do it on command, too, and not because they're hungry.

More than 90 per cent of the medical prescriptions today could not have been filled 25 years ago because the medicines did not exist.

Industry paid 54.5 per cent of all personal property taxes in Oakland County in 1953 according to records reviewed by the Oakland County Planning Commission.

Amateur Hunter Becomes Hero of His Own Film

CAPETOWN — An amateur photaghapher became the hero of his own film on South African wild life when he was attacked and mauled by a lion in Bechuanaland.

Harry Wyman was severely scratched before the lion was killed. The entire incident, during which rifle shots were fired at close range, was recorded in color by Wyman's camera.

From his Rustenberg home, Wyman went on a hunting-filming trip with Vic Oliver and C. J. du Pree. They tracked three lions which had killed a horse. Wyman shot at one and all three lions hid in the bush.

The men followed. Suddenly the wounded lion charged. It was almost on top of Wyman when he fired and, though badly wounded, clawed and bit him. Oliver waited to get a clear shot and finally killed the beast. Meanwhile du Pree kept grinding the camera.

About 12 per cent of U.S. car owning families own more than one automobile.

Silvers, Minsky to Star Friday

Canned TV Laughter May Be the Downfall of Comedians

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Phil Silvers, graduate of burlesque and now the man who beat Berle, and Harold Minsky, one of the family which dominated burlesque on Broadway until Mayor LaGuardia blew his municipal top and chased it across the river to New Jersey, will be the tandem starred on next Friday's Person-to-Person (now shown in the Detroit area at 10:30 p.m.).

Harold Minsky now operates the Minsky Burlesque Theater in Newark, but there will be no shots of the Minsky runways, only of Harold's home in West Orange, N.J., a discreet G-string's throw from his stripping emporium.

Harold's wife is the former Dardy Orlando, an ex-stripper who earned a handsomely bare living on Minsky runways; she's also the sister of Lili St. Cyr, and is a member of a consistently beautiful family of young ladies whose "civilian" members are quite social.

Phil Silvers will be visited in his Park avenue hotel suite. Quite a reunion of Phil and his ex-boss and friend Harold that should toss up quite a few good old baggy pants burlesque gags.

Now—about canned laughter.

How many of you readers are against it?

We are, always have been, and suspect it is being used against the wishes of the general public. Frankly, we have never met one person who honestly approves of it, not even among production people who utilize it on TV.

The use of this fabricated laughter is the most irritating phony note so far in TV, and its use is spreading rather than petering out, even though no one can justify its use in the slightest.

There is a strange snobbish psychology voiced in its favor:

The wise guys insist they can rise above the level of bad material or misfortunes in style, delivery and impact, merely by turning on a lever or button or switch and pouring into the air the illusion of laughter, recorded in other studios, at other times.

This touch eventually could react in reverse against comedians. Cut off from "live" audiences, they in time could lose their instinctive timing.

NEW TV KING

Finally, the comedian would not have to know much or anything about timing a laugh; the operator of the canned-laugh machine would be the new king of the medium.

And there is one thing about a comedian—he doesn't sit and reason why he is funny; he simply accepts his irresistibility as a provoker of amusement.

If he hears laughs — even canned — on serious lines, he is willing to keep them on the grounds they could have been caused by his irresistible personality.

In this way comedians eventually become quite resistible; eventually disappear from TV.

In some cases, the laugh-machine is considered second only to "proven material," meaning old jokes, in assuring proper laughter.

Well, we suspect the only thing more horrible than canned laughter is old material, however well disciplined the studio audience or laugh machine may be.

Jap Employment Rises

TOKYO (AP)—Japan now has 42 million persons gainfully employed, the Statistical Bureau reports. There are 710,000 unemployed, a decrease of 10,000 from the summer figures.

Electronic Device Finds Tiny Leaks in Vacuum Tubes

LYNN, Mass.—Leaks so small it would take 120 years for a thimbleful of air to get through can now be detected by manufacturers of electronic tubes and other products involving vacuum or pressure systems.

* * *

Such detection is possible through use of a new mass spectrometer leak detector developed in a Lynn company's instrument department. The device also can find a specific leak ni the presence of other leaks, the company reports.

* * *

In operation, helium is pumped into a vacuum or pressure system. If there's a leak, the gas passes through and is picked up by the leak detector, which draws it into the mass spectrometer tube and determines the leak rate.

CIO OKs Ex-Cell-O Wage Hike Contracts

DETROIT (INS) — A new contract covering 35 hundred employes of three Detroit Ex-Cell-O Corporation plants was ratified last night by an overwhelming vote of Local 49 of the CIO-United Auto Workers union.

The pact gives the workers a 24-cent hourly package in master and local contracts.

The three Detroit plants, which went on strike last September 13th, stayed out after three other Ex-Cell-O installations — at Traverse City and Fostoria and Lima, Ohio —returned to work two weeks ago.

Vanilla 'Little Scabbard'

MADRID — The Spaniards who found vanilla in Montezuma's empire called it vainilla, meaning "little scabbard," after the shape of the bean from which the flavoring is derived.

Nip Policeman in Street Fight; Three Sentenced

Three persons were sentenced on charges of disorderly fighting today after two scuffles with police Sunday night, during which an officer was bitten on the finger.

* * *

Fines of $50 and five days in jail were handed down by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

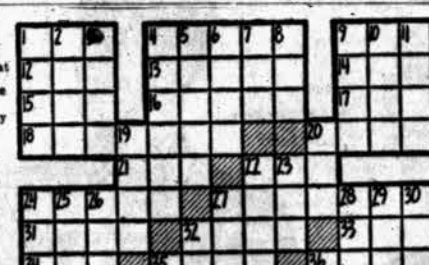

Charges of resisting arrest may also be made against Frederick R. Hall, 23, and Harold C. Atkinson, 18, both of Rochester, and Olin J. Atkinson, 24, Lake Orion, Pontiac Police said.

The trio were handcuffed after a struggle on S. Saginaw St., which started when two officers investigated the accosting of a woman. Police said a second "free for all" began at the station when handcuffs were removed.

Subdued, the three went to jail while Patrolman Robert J. Hellner went to Pontiac General Hospital to get his right little finger treated.

Time Marches On

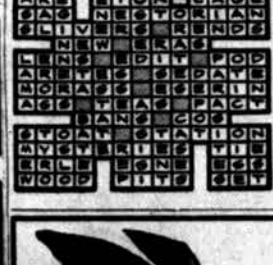

BANGOR (AP) — The coming of street lights, paved streets and policemen have cost one man his job. He is Murray Hurlbut, who for 39 of his 75 years had been night watchman in this town of 1,694.
