

Johnson Asks for New Civil Rights Bill on Juries

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has announced a new priority for the 1966 session of Congress: passage of a civil rights bill "to prevent injustice to Negroes at the hands of all-white juries."

The President, in his most sweeping civil rights speech since June, also told a meeting of 200 civil rights leaders last night he has alerted all federal agencies that racial justice must be sought actively as "a positive purpose rather than a distant goal."

To this effect, Johnson said, he will ask the Civil Rights Commission today to make a broad study of the problems of race and education in the nation in hopes of aiding local governments to "build a school system that is color-blind."

"We must do more. We will do more," the President said.

The rights leaders begin a two-day planning session today with government officials to lay the groundwork for next

TIDE OF CHANGE

The President told them, "The tide of change is running with the Negro American on an enemy patrol beyond the perimeter of U.S. positions in the Klan nor the despairing of Watts can reverse it."

The President's jury proposal received almost immediate endorsement from Rep. Emanuel Celler, head of the House Judiciary Committee which handles civil legislation.

"It's a drastic step," the New York Democrat said, "however, it's become essential. I think

LAWYERS SEE

"Every lawyer recognizes that legislation that would affect the jury system is indeed an extreme measure," Flowers said in a statement, "and strikes at the very foundation of our judicial processes."

Project Aimed at Prevention on Pollution

Board Will Apply for $150,000 Grant to Make Study of Job

The Waterford Township Board today approved preliminary plans for an estimated $22.9-million townshipwide sanitary sewer system, unveiled Monday night by engineering consultants Johnson and Anderson, Inc.

The project is aimed at curtailing pollution in the township and preventing what consulting engineers believe will develop into a serious health hazard.

Township officials said they will apply immediately for a $150,000 planning grant from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Administration in Chicago.

It has not been determined exactly how the massive undertaking would be financed. However, a bond issue apparently would be presented to township voters.

"At this point, a bond issue would appear to be the most logical method of financing the project," said Mrs. Dorothy Olsen, township supervisor.

NEED ACCEPTANCE

The proposed system hinges on acceptance of the Oakland-Clinton Interceptor by six townships and two cities which would utilize the proposed interceptor.

Ike Up for 1st Time Since Heart Attack

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was allowed out of bed today for the first time since his heart attack.

At the 11 a.m. medical briefing the Ft. Gordon information officer, Capt. Wallace Hitchcock, reported there had been no further heart muscle damage. "This morning," Hitchcock said, "the general was lifted from his bed and placed in a chair." (See earlier story, Page A-7.)

The proposed Waterford Township system would consist of 26 miles of new sanitary sewers and 36 new pump stations.

News Flash

DETROIT (AP)—The board of American Motors Corp. today voted to omit payment of a quarterly dividend for the first quarter of the 1966 fiscal year.

An Analysis

Osteopath College Hurdles Viewed

Caught in a web of legislative pulling and hauling and professional rivalry, the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine projected for Pontiac is hopeful of quick disentanglement.

Needed to be resolved is a jurisdictional hassle in Lansing. At issue is whether the State Board of Education has the power to establish a $60-million authority to provide operating funds for osteopathic schools of medicine.

The legislature contends that since it has sole power to appropriate state moneys it holds the implicit prerogative of allocating funds for new medical facilities.

Another impediment to start of construction of the college, which plans to welcome a freshman class in 1970, is deflecting action taken by the Michigan State Medical Society.

This body has publicly proposed amalgamation with the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons and correlatively advocates expansion of the state's present medical school facilities as an alternative to the osteopathic college planned for Pontiac.

The osteopaths do not oppose expansion of existing medical schools, but point out that such a program including the proposed amalgamation would still not fill the urgent regional need for a large number of additional physicians.

They cite a 1959 report of the U.S. surgeon general that points up the need not only for expansion of the present medical school setup but additionally for two more institutions, if this section of the country is to keep pace with present and growing demands for medical practitioners.

As a result of the conflicting viewpoints in both state and professional areas, a facility that would initially enroll a graduating class of 125 physicians, employ, with associated services, 1,714 people and develop within eight years into a $28-million institution with an annual payroll of $12 million, finds itself in the center of controversies swirling around it.

In an effort to rationalize the total proposition and hopefully to expedite the local osteopathic program, hearings by the State Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives will be held in Detroit Nov. 29-30.

Not only those who so generously contributed to the fundraising campaign that provided the proposed college with its site, but every area resident, have a direct or indirect interest in the progress of this planned addition to the community's scientific and cultural resources.

All owe it to themselves and the community to make known their support of the osteopathic school concept to the committee whose deliberations will importantly affect the medical facility for which the groundwork has been laid.

Says Romney in Report

'Viet Action Stopping WW III'

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney believes American incursions in Viet Nam may be preventing World War III.

By intervening, the United States has saved South Viet Nam from defeat and tyranny, Romney said yesterday in a televised "Report to the People" on his recent three-day tour of Viet Nam.

The governor, who returned from the trip Saturday, told some 2,400 students at the University of Detroit:

"Our intervention . . . has probably prevented a shift in the balance of power in the world greater than if Hitler had conquered Europe."

Defeat of South Viet Nam, he said, would lead to the collapse of Southeast Asia and stimulate other false wars of liberation through Communist terror.

PROVOKE WW III

"This would easily provoke

Romney said that only the White House has adequate information to answer such questions as whether or not American planes should bomb Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital.

MORALLY RIGHT

Romney said the major conclusion from his trip is that what we are doing is morally right and necessary for the freedom of the human race.

Romney termed the morale of American troops "terrific."

Young Mother Raped on City's East Side

DETROIT (AP)—A month-long wave of violent crime has turned Detroit into a city of fear where women are arming themselves, leaving their lights burn all night and picketing police stations in demands for protection.

A young white mother was kidnapped from her bed, terrorized at knife-point and raped yesterday in a 30-minute ordeal at the hands of two Negroes, spreading the fear into an area of opulent homes now surrounded by an impoverished slum.

Residents have appealed and protested to Common Council and the police against the spreading violence.

In one suburban area, women, in fear of a giggling slasher, are arming themselves and lining up at a sheriff's office to apply for gun permits.

A police spokesman acknowledged that "serious crimes are up" in Detroit. He said the city has trouble recruiting enough policemen to keep the force at full strength.

TACTICAL UNIT

But he cited Detroit's new tactical mobile unit, a high speed mob control force, as evidence the city is pushing hard to quell crime.

U. N. Rejects Peking Entry

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The General Assembly closed the door once more today to the seating of Red China in the United Nations, but by a much closer margin than in the past.

The vote was tied at 47 to 47 with 20 countries abstaining. Even if the Peking government had received a simple majority it would not have gained a seat.

The 17-nation assembly had voted moments earlier that a two-thirds majority was required.

Today's vote showed substantial shifting of position since the last vote on the issue in 1963. At that time the Chinese Communists were rejected by a vote of 57 against, 41 in favor and 12 abstaining.

Despite the shifts, however, the Peking regime fell far short of a two-thirds majority.

Traffic Death Specter Wears Many Disguises

If a president of the United States were to suggest that the deaths of 50,000 American soldiers a year, every year, would be a reasonable price to pay for the security of the Nation, he would be smotheringly defeated if he dared to run for reelection.

Yet 50,000 lives a year is beginning to be talked about as the minimum price Americans can hope to pay for the privilege of driving automobiles.

Even if the rate could be held constant, total deaths must go up because highway travel is increasing by about 5 per cent a year.

Significantly, the fatality rate on the Interstate Highways Systems is 2.8 per 100 million vehicle miles, compared with 9.7 on the older highways.

The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads notes that most accidents happen to normal people driving in a normal way on normal roads. It is not a small group of chronically dangerous drivers which is responsible for most accidents. Accidents involve an almost entirely different group of drivers every year.

Since the same people drive on the Interstate as on the older roads, the lower fatality rate on the former must be due to better roads, not better drivers, reasons the bureau.

Calling for a new approach to safety that views it as just as much a technological problem as it is a legal, administrative and educational one, the bureau is pushing a two-pronged attack.

One stresses the immediate need — improving hazardous locations that exist, such as two-lane rural highways and urban intersections, and completing the Interstate system (about 47 per cent open to traffic at mid-summer).

The other is directed toward long-range improvements, with research aimed at engineering greater safety into the Country's entire transportation system, so that all drivers, not just the minority of reckless ones, are helped.

Tourists Seen Filing Viet Nam Invitation

One of the least urgent matters South Viet Nam would seem to have to worry about is the encouragement of tourism.

The government does, nevertheless, maintain a National Tourism Office, which has produced two brochures telling of the country's beauty, culture and friendliness.

Such a description sounds ridiculously out of touch with reality, yet the beauty of the land and the culture and friendliness of the Vietnamese people are very real beneath the blood and fire that presently engulf them.

A time for leisurely appreciation of these things will come to Viet Nam, and no one desires it more than the tens of thousands of Americans now there on a less pleasant mission.

They would love to be tourists.

New Federal Record — for Spending, That Is

Food, shelter and clothing are the basic necessities of life. They represent a major part of the total spending of the American people.

But a still larger part of the national spending goes for very different purposes. This is spending by government.

The First National Bank of Boston reports that spending by local, state and Federal governments during 1965 will come to $203 billion. The outlays for food, clothing and shelter, on the other hand, will be $183 billion — or $20 billion less.

Fifteen years ago, the Bank points out, the reverse was true.

All that government spending must eventually come out of our pockets—or, if collection is deferred through borrowings, the pockets of our children.

Much of the enormous increase in government spending can be attributed to efforts to create a welfare state at any and all costs.

If this kind of thinking and acting prevails, we'll be bled white.

If the prediction by a certain psychiatrist comes true, the mental condition of the world will have improved considerably by the year 2000, at which time he says the world will be half nuts.

Need Scorecard to Tell Radicals

WASHINGTON — It's more than just a wild and woolly time. It's a hodge-podge, left and right.

"Real squares. Old ladies up in the Bronx." That's what some young radicals today call members of the American Communist party. The weekly newspaper, the National Observer, which quoted them, said they are equally contemptuous of liberals and labor unions.

But Monday the party thought it got a shot in the arm and talked of running candidates for office. But George Lincoln Rockwell, commander of the American Nazi party, has already said he will run for president in 1972.

The Ku Klux Klan is in business. The ultraconservative Minutemen talk of their secret "underground army."

Robert Welch, founder of the right-wing John Birch Society, says of the United States: "It's 'one vast insane asylum' where 'they've let out the worst patients to live the place.'"

RADICAL LEFT AMONG YOUNG

Earlier this month, in a special story on the radical left among the young, the New York Times, picking out the Students for a Democratic Society as the "largest single radical student group on or around campuses," said that the SDS had "pretty much given up the working class as lost, having fallen back to the union and the Democratic party." The Times says SDS claims 3,000 members, with 90 chapters around the country.

The National Observer, not limiting itself to student groups, said the new Left places less emphasis on economic problems, more on "human freedom," and only a few splinter groups try to "out-Mao Mao Tse-tung."

Yet the newspaper went on, "even a tiny splinter group possesses the capacity for mischief if it also possesses dynamite." Some groups are on a crusade against the war in Viet Nam.

FBI's Hoover says "the Communist party is today expending tremendous energy attempting to increase its influence among college students."

LONG-LASTING GROUP

But long after thousands of today's young radicals sail into middle age, raising families and buying homes between trips to the bank, the Communist party will probably be still there.

At least it has an ideology, although it changes with the wind, while many and probably most of the young radicals have only upset emotions and incoherence.

'I Move We Continue The Discussion'

U.S. Pessimistic on Viet Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—At this stage of the Vietnamese war the United States is counting primarily on military successes rather than diplomatic appeals to persuade North Viet Nam to enter into peace negotiations.

A fresh bid by U. S. Secretary General U. Thant for concessions from all sides in the conflict to promote the prospects for peace failed today to arouse any outward enthusiasm here.

Administration officials said the United States is ready to talk but they see no interest in talks now on the part of the Vietnamese Communist leadership.

The current visit to Moscow by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, a close associate of President Johnson, may produce some U. S. peace approach to the Soviet government. Officials here will not say what — if any — instructions Mansfield had from Johnson on this point.

But they do expect that if Mansfield urges Soviet peace pressures on North Viet Nam, which is receiving Soviet military aid, he also will stress Johnson's determination not to yield South Viet Nam to Communist conquest.

GENERAL PESSIMISM

The fact is, however, that U. S. policymakers are generally pessimistic about the outlook for negotiations at this time.

They believe the North Vietnamese and guerrilla leaders in South Viet Nam, though their confidence of victory may be shaken, are not yet persuaded they face eventual defeat.

There is some opinion here, moreover, that the war may never end in a negotiated settlement.

Those who think this is a serious possibility say that after a time the fighting may simply die down as larger areas come under control of U. S. and South Vietnamese forces.

COULD GIVE UP

North Viet Nam, according to this theory, could just quietly give up the struggle.

The situation is roughly the reverse, militarily and diplomatically, of what it was a year ago when Thant advised Washington through the Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson that North Viet Nam was willing to send an emissary to Rangoon, Burma, for a secret meeting with a U. S. representative.

That bid for talks was rejected mainly because the United States felt itself to be in a weak position.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is reported to have decided after studying the Thant report that the North Vietnamese probably were interested in a meeting because they wanted to tell the United States directly that it had to withdraw from South Viet Nam before there could be peace negotiations.

But the main consideration in the autumn of 1964 — when Vietnamese policy was involved in the presidential political campaign — is reported to have been that in many ways the United States was in a weak position to go into any kind of talks with North Viet Nam without strong evidence that the enemy was seriously interested in an actual peace settlement.

The situation began to change last February when Johnson ordered the bombing of military targets in North Viet Nam for the avowed purpose of cutting down on the flow of reinforcements and arms to the Communist forces in the south.

The change was speeded up when Johnson subsequently began the massive reinforcement of U. S. troops in South Viet Nam.

Johnson halted the bombing attacks for five days last May. Administration officials said later that word was sent to North Viet Nam that the pause was created deliberately to afford an opportunity for peace probes.

Capital Letter:

Dangers of Extremism on Both Left, Right Cited

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — An interesting development of recent vintage is the growing awareness that radical right organizations pose as great a threat to our American way of life as do the long-feared leftist fronts.

Some patriotic organizations that once suspected a Communist under every bed are now beginning to realize that extreme right-wingers who employ smear, guilt by association and character assassination to fight suspected Reds are as dangerous as those whose methods they have adopted.

Founded in 1950 to serve as a clearing house on Communist front activities for patriotic, civic and women's organizations, the conference now gives equal attention to the Fascist and Nazi-type groups that have sprung up in recent years.

LOOK-ALIKES

In each case the operations and attitudes of the two extremes emerge as remarkably look-alikes.

For instance, both the far left and right employ "intimidation, infiltration in other organizations and government echelons, and front groups to mask their own identities and purposes." Both believe in secrecy of operation, and refuse to divulge membership lists.

The radical left purports to be the only vanguard in the fight for human welfare and peace; the radical right claims to be the only sincere and effective fighter against communism.

Moderates naturally regard with skepticism any group which claims to be the "only sincere and effective force" for or against anything. They recognize both communism and fascism as threats to a free and open society, along with fear, apathy and lack of self-discipline.

RIGID VIEWPOINTS

"The radical right and the radical left seek to destroy each other and gain power over the entire society for themselves," the booklet warns. "They argue from rigid ideological points of view, while the moderate middle examines facts, and seeks to prevent any extreme group from gaining a dominant position in our society."

President Johnson, as he did last year, is expected to issue a proclamation declaring the Thanksgiving season as "know your America week."

This observance is sponsored by the All-American Conference. (Distributed by King Features Syndicate)

Comments on County Personnel Change

I cannot understand the politics nor the wisdom employed by the Democratic Party in the firing of Lloyd M. Shibley, Chief Deputy of the Oakland County Treasurer. He reformed the Oakland County Treasurer's books and record system, resulting in the saving of much time and money to the taxpayers. He studied the advantages of placing in local county banks the millions of dollars that came into the County Treasurer's office from various bonds, and followed through to obtain the most interest for the time the banks could use the money, without any risk to the County.

This operation netted Oakland County thousands of dollars in interest that otherwise might have been lost had a less dedicated and less experienced man been on the job.

The firing of this able employee is a sad reflection on the Democratic Party and will not be forgotten even by Democrats.

Instead of advertising "Warning—Poison—not for human consumption," parents of Oakland County are informed that children under 12 are admitted free to a motion picture at a local drive-in theater—a picture that would nauseate this over-50 grandmother. This type of so-called entertainment must be stopped.

Our generation is making money from this lascivious movie. How dare we then sit in judgment on our teens when they stray from right. How dare we disclaim responsibility when an 11- or 12-year-old in a sadistic frenzy cuts a smaller child to pieces? Ours is the crime, not theirs.

"Most people expect their legislators to figure out what items will work before they are rushed into law. The place for appraisal is in committee sessions and during debate on the floor. But that wasn't the rule in this Congress. The rule was, 'Let's keep the President happy.'"

"Some bills were passed without benefit of committee hearings. Others zipped through with inadequate floor debate or under 'gag' rules which made effective opposition almost impossible. Still others were passed in the face of heavy evidence that they were unworkable or unsound."

Ike's Information Officer: Young Man Going Places

By AL KUETTNER

FT. GORDON, Ga. (UPI) — When Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower stormed the "fortress of Europe" during World War II, Christopher Barbieri was 3 years old.

You would think they had been lifelong friends the way Barbieri, now a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army, scrambles around getting out news of Ike's heart attack and progress.

Scrambling just happens to be a way of life for this 23-year-old officer now on duty in the public information office at Ft. Gordon.

Once he put on a personality the file prospectus as his employment objective: "To deal with all types of media."

With more than 40 newsmen camped on the Ft. Gordon post covering the Eisenhower story, Barbieri couldn't ask for any better chance. The fact is, he has been doing some dealing with "the media" for quite a few years.

TV VETERAN

Television-viewing experts would spot Barbieri here in a minute. Since he was a child of 7 he has been appearing on network dramas, comedies and soap operas. At his last count, he figured he has been in about 1,500 appearances on NBC, CBS and ABC shows.

When his Army duty is over on Jan. 23, 1967, he says he may return to acting or turn to advertising, which also is a favorite.

Barbieri was just 5 when he made his acting debut on a radio show called "Juvenile Jury," the Jackie Gleason show.

He got there through one of those child quiz shows. He was the one who gave the sharp and funny answers.

One of his answers was not so funny at the time to his parents. "Tell me about your parents," the commentator asked.

Chris, "They go out and drink every night and leave me alone," he replied.

Barbieri quickly explains that the drinking was a nightly soft drink around the corner from the family home in New York but his mother, Mrs. H. Barbieri, was expecting the worst when the announcer asked for the parents of the boy to remain silent after the show.

"You son has a natural gift for acting and I would like to use him in other shows," the radioman said to the elder Barbieri, an electronics engineer at Ft. Monmouth, N.J.

"I am not going to sell my son," Mrs. Barbieri said firmly.

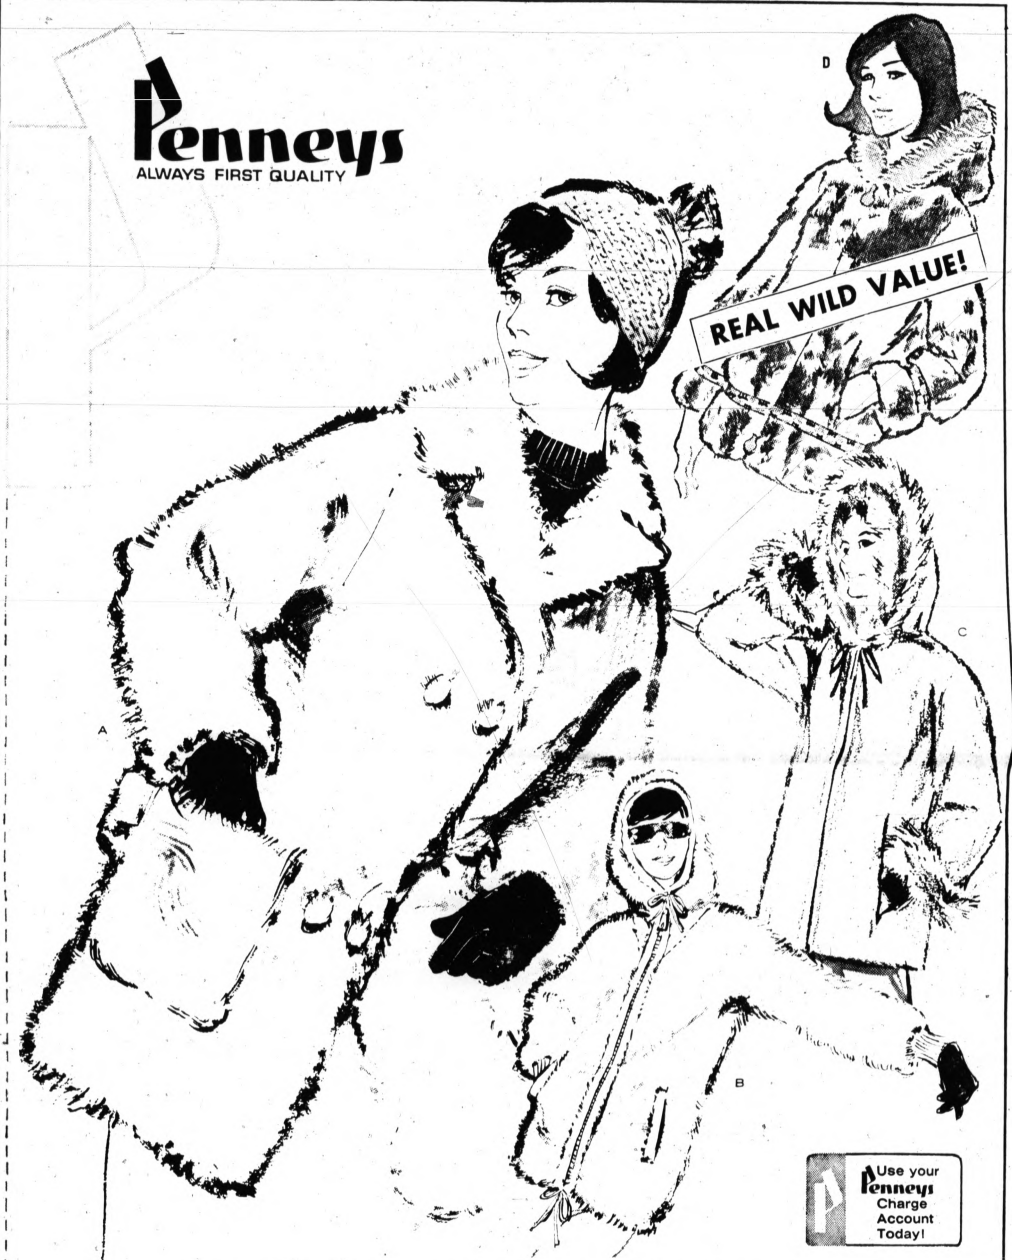

She finally gave her consent, however, and young Chris was launched in radio and later television.

GOOD MEMORY

Producers soon discovered he was not only learning his own lines but the entire script of shows. "Has a wonderful memory," his personal file said later.

In his first year on TV he had been cast in eight Kraft and eight Lux shows.

Kalamazoo Forgives Job Corps Incident

KALAMAZOO (U) — The Job Corps and the City of Kalamazoo smoothed over any differences from Friday night's riot yesterday and Job Corps trainees were invited back to town.

One more weekend is to pass, however, before the doors to the city will be fully open.

Kalamazoo banned trainees over a trainee's lost coat.

From the Fort Custer Job Corps training center at near-Battle Creek after Friday night's troubles.

A mob of youths broke windows and caused other property damage after an altercation at a dance to which the trainees were invited. A fight started over a trainee's lost coat.

Nine corpsmen and one civilian were charged with offenses ranging from misdemeanors to assault on a police officer:

FAULT UNKNOWN

Exact responsibility never was pinned down.

Representatives of all parties, including an aide of Gov. George Romney, consulted for two hours yesterday, then issued a statement saying trainees would be invited back to Kalamazoo and the city would work out a program to "promote wholesome and constructive leisure time activities."

John F. Borum, director of the Job Corps center, said he would ask the trainees to spend their time next weekend in Battle Creek or other communities.

"It is our hope," Borum said, "that all the activities we plan in Kalamazoo will be effective the weekend after that."

Yesterday's meeting followed a Monday night session of the Kalamazoo City Commission at which Mayor Raymond Hightower said, "We will not build a fence around Kalamazoo. We will try to arrange better relations between the boys and our community."

The Job Corps, an element of President Johnson's war on poverty, has 625 underprivileged youths at Fort Custer as trainees. Within another month the total is expected to be 1,500.

Boost Aid to Potential Suicides

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Around-the-clock emergency mental help for individuals on the verge of suicide is winning the attention of local governments throughout the country.

Most cities will pattern their first aid after pilot projects already operating in Los Angeles and the District of Columbia. Both offer 24-hour telephone service and psychological help.

They indicate new government interest in the problem of suicide, which now ranks among the 10 major causes of death nationally.

A small number of cities already have emergency suicide aid, but none, besides Los Angeles and the District of Columbia, with government support.

Seattle has a citizens' group called Crisis Center. Orlando, Fla., has the volunteer We Care and the Mormons in Salt Lake City, Utah, are in the process of establishing a facility. New York has the 50-year-old Save-A-Life League. But probably the most effective of all the private services is Father Murphy's Rescue, Inc., in Boston.

IN WORKS

Besides these, Denver, San Francisco and Philadelphia are thinking of setting up emergency centers.

So far, the picture has been fairly bleak. Desperate individuals have had little help outside nonprofessional groups in the "suicides anonymous" class.

However, Dr. E. S. Sheldman who is largely responsible for the 2-year-old Los Angeles Suicide Prevention Center and the resulting national movement on suicide said he expects a breakthrough in two or three years.

Last week representatives of some 20 states met in Los Angeles to study the center there and consider plans for their own local services.

BEST KNOWN

The first of its kind in the country, the Los Angeles facility is still the best known and, with its own team of psychologists, the most adequately staffed.

It was established partially through a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health, but operates independently of government, in contrast to the service here, which is part of the District Health Department.

A function of the D.C. General Hospital, it goes under the name of Emergency Mental Health Services.

Most of the emergency techniques were borrowed from Los Angeles, said Dr. John R. Schultz, assistant director for mental health.

MAN THE TELEPHONES

A staff of five specially trained nursing assistants man the telephones. All have spent six months in psychodrama acting out the situations they expect to encounter with actual suicidal individuals.

When a call comes through, the assistant evaluates the degree of immediate danger while attempting to direct the caller's thoughts into safe channels.

About 90 per cent of the time, suicide is not imminent enough to warrant an immediate visit, but if it is, the caller is told to jump in a cab free of charge and come to the center, said Dr. Schultz. There he will talk to a social worker and eventually a psychiatrist.

Dr. Schultz said the district facility plans soon to have a stand-by team of psychiatric nurses who can make house calls at a moment's notice.

Because of the small permanent staff and free use of all community health services, the cost of emergency aid is relatively low, explained Dr. Schultz.

In 1964, free world consumption of silver was about 550 million troy ounces. New production of silver was about 215 million troy ounces, most of the difference from the patient or coming from United States silver. A poor image, or both, a very stock.

Even if the U.S. had produced no silver coins in 1964, free world consumption would have exceeded silver production by 133 million troy ounces, Dr. Wilson pointed out.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Needy elderly persons can look forward to improved medical care after the new Social Security health program starts to operate next year.

A basic reason, of course, is that the program will provide a Plan B—Doctors' services in the hospital, clinic and home, floor of health protection for the elderly persons over 65 as well as the better-off segment of the elderly.

But, equally important, the 1965 Social Security Act contained far-reaching provisions requiring a much higher standard of health care in most states for the needy aged.

These provisions have been overshadowed by the new Social Security program in the bill, popularly called Medicare, and by the increases in most states for the needy aged.

Benefiting from the provisions will be 2,144,000 persons on the old age assistance rolls and 264,000 who receive help under the medical assistance for the aged program known as Kerr-Mills.

These 264,000 elderly persons have sufficient income to keep them off the welfare rolls but not enough to handle their medical expenses.

There was some expectation that the need for Kerr-Mills would diminish when the Social Security health care program gets under way.

But, to the contrary, congressional sponsors of the 1965 Social Security bill and officials of the Health, Education and Welfare — HEW — Department expect Kerr-Mills to expand considerably.

UP TO 60 PCT.

This will happen, they say, because the Social Security health benefits probably will cover only 50 to 60 per cent of the aged person's medical expenses, and because of provisions in the bill requiring greater benefits under Kerr-Mills.

One important side effect of the new program, they point out, will be to leave the states with more money to put into health care for their needy aged since the new program will provide for at least half of their medical needs.

HEW officials emphasize that Kerr-Mills so far has not come close to meeting its potential even under the original 1960 law. Seven states still do not participate; and some of those which do offer only nominal benefits.

OEO Grant Awarded

WASHINGTON (AP) — An initial grant of $25,374 has been awarded to the Jackson-Hillsdale Commission on Economic Opportunity by the Office of Economic Opportunity, Sen. Patrick V. McNamara announced Tuesday.

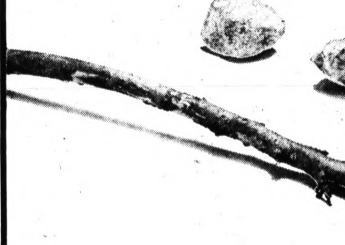

Many of the 43 states now in the Kerr-Mills program do not furnish all of these. But, under the new law, they will have to do so by July 1, 1967, to continue to receive federal aid. This applies both to the elderly on the public assistance rolls and those benefiting from the Kerr-Mills plan, and in the direction of liberalizing the eligibility requirements for medical assistance, with a view toward matching for medical assistance so that Washington will pay 55 to 83 per cent of the cost instead of 50 to 80 per cent. The lowest income states receive the highest matching percentage.

MATTER OF RIGHT

The needy aged, along with the other persons over 65, will be covered under Plan A as a minimum five types of health services.

Plan B is voluntary. Aged persons are hospitalized, out-patient hospital services, other laboratory and X-ray services, and X-ray services, cost instead of 50 to 80 per cent. The lowest income states receive the highest matching percentage.

Government officials are planning to do everything they can to see that local welfare office, home or hospital.

The law also establishes a 10-year goal designed to bring even better medical care to the indigent aged by 1975.

It states that federal aid shall be cut off "to any state unless the state makes a satisfactory showing that it is making efforts in the direction of broadening the scope of the care and services made available under the plan, and in the direction of liberalizing the eligibility requirements for medical assistance, with a view toward matching for medical assistance so that Washington will pay 55 to 83 per cent of the cost instead of 50 to 80 per cent. The lowest income states receive the highest matching percentage.

HEW officials have been busy conferring with state health and welfare officials on the expanded program. They say some states will be ready to start the increased benefits in January.

Last year, Washington put about $450 million in federal funds into Kerr-Mills. It is estimated this will be increased by $200 million annually under the new provisions of the 1965 law.

Fire Damages 3-Unit Dwelling in Waterford

A fire yesterday afternoon in an apartment complex at the Pontiac Lake Inn, 7890 M59, resulted in $7,300 damage, according to Waterford Township firemen.

The fire, which erupted in an apartment occupied by Harold Wood at about 4, was attributed to a faulty smoke pipe. No one was injured.

Firefighters listed damage to the three-unit dwelling at $4,500 to the building and $2,800 to the contents. Owner of the structure is Agnes Frankowski, 987 Sunnyside, White Lake Township. Most of the damage was confined to Wood's apartment. However, smoke caused damage to apartments occupied by Brosia Konkle and Mary Weatherholt.

Shockproof Car
TUGSON, Ariz. (P) — When Mrs. Bea Parker is driving she apparently concentrates on it.
A Southern Pacific railroad man flagged Mrs. Parker's car to a stop and asked if she didn't know she had been hit by a freight train. Although the freight train had damaged the rear of the car, Mrs. Parker told the railroad man, "I didn't feel a thing."

Travelogue Is One Way of Seeing World

Mrs. Mallory Coleman was mistress of ceremonies at the Monday evening dinner meeting of the Pilot Club of Pontiac, Inc. held in the Holiday Inn.

A travelogue, covering Hawaii, Switzerland, Sweden, the Canadian Rockies and Bermuda, was given by Mrs. Russell Gustavson.

Mrs. Glen Dolan gave a report on the recent party held for patients at the Seminole Hills Nursing Home and the upcoming one scheduled there on Monday.

Announcements were made of the Christmas gift baskets to be given to needy families. Mrs. Leonard Gaches was a guest.

Wooden Bowls

For a pretty centerpiece, especially in the dining room, fill a wooden salad bowl with firm red apples, green pears, oranges, lemons or any hard fruit.

Set a smaller similar bowl in the center of this and fill the same way, then finally an even smaller bowl atop that. Place a few bunches of grapes around the edge of each bowl.

Entertain at Showers for Nancy

Crepe paper fashioned an "instant" bridal gown and veil for Nancy Sue Tynan of Adlake Drive who was honored at a recent shower in Paw Paw.

Materials were provided by the hostesses, Mrs. D. A. McKenzie, Mrs. Ewart Essex, Mrs. William Jagowski and Joyce McKenzie, as they arrived at the party.

Nancy, daughter of the Edward G. Tynans, will wed Tommy Lee McKenzie, Saturday, in Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church.

Gifts for the kitchen were brought to a recent luncheon in the Echo Road home of Mrs. Otis Briney and daughter Sandra.

LINEN SHOWER
Mrs. Julius Forbes of Paw Paw gave a linen shower for the bride-elect and Mrs. Leonard These of Kingfisher Lane entertained at a Sunday tea and shower.

Mrs. Jack Tynan of Angelina Drive also honored her niece at a shower, with daughter Andrea assisting.

Mrs. Joseph Atwell of Menominee Road, along with Mrs. Clarence Ponn and Mrs. Chester Reynolds, were co-hostesses at a shower in the Atwell home.

The Kenneth L. McKenzies of Paw Paw will host the rehearsal dinner for their son and his fiancée, Friday, in Devon Gables.

Obligations of Facility Are Explained to Group

In keeping with their national theme "Say YES, Youth Education-Service," Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club members learned more of Camp Oakland's program Tuesday. The occasion was a dinner meeting at the camp.

William Matus, Camp Oakland's director, told how hundreds of unfortunate youngsters have found help at the camp.

Mr. Matus concluded by saying that there is no reasonable privilege that Camp Oakland cannot extend to its children and no reasonable obligation that they are not expected to assume.

Mrs. Raymond L. Cole, BPW president, presented the speaker a check on behalf of the club, to assist in furthering work at the camp.

Guests attending were: Wilma Waldron, Hazel Park's BPW Club president; Mabel Spencer, District 10 expansion chairman, Hazel Park; and Frances Capucille.

Others were: Mrs. Bert F. Griffin, Marguerite Buttolph, Mrs. Charles H. Crawford, JoAnn Heitmeyer and Margaret Dailey.

Youth Power committee members planning the evening's program were Mabel Spencer and Margaret Wilmont.

The group also completed arrangements for a Christmas brunch Dec. 12 at the Village Women's Club with Mrs. Floyd Bunt and Mrs. Clifton Gabler as cochairmen.

Pfeiffers Honeymoon After Vows

On a brief honeymoon are the Matthew Allen Pfeiffers who were married recently in St. Michael's Catholic Church. The former Bonnie Jo Marsh of Alberta Street, Pontiac Township, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wixom A. Marsh of Mill Street, appeared in chapel-length white Chantilly lace over bridal satin.

YELLOW ROSES

For the ceremony performed by Rev. David A. Briz, she also donned a silk illusion veil and carried white carnations and yellow roses.

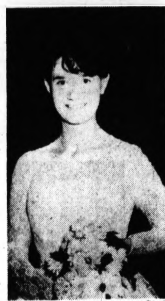

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Richard Silvus was matron of honor. Sue Marsh attended her sister as bridesmaid along with Claudia White.

Cindy and Ted Silvus were flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

Assisting their brother were Frank Pfeiffer, best man, and Joseph Pfeiffer, an usher. They are the sons of Mrs. Frank Pfeiffer of Collier Road and the late Mr. Pfeiffer.

Completing the usher list were Ronald Vernon, Douglas Ingelmelo and James Marsh.

The evening reception was in Waltz Hall.

Come On Now---Just Tell the Computer

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

MARY FEELEY
vice president for the company and who the Internal Revenue Service should call you on last year's income tax return.

But let's not poke too much fun at the computer. Sometimes it can do a real sound, down-to-earth job for the average family who never laid eyes on it and doesn't even want to. I was talking to an insurance executive the other day on the subject, and he told me about how the computer helps the life insurance agent help the family get right down to the basic facts — how to plan an insurance program that will do what the policy holder really wants it to do.

Most of the big insurance companies today use computers. They can't take the place of the insurance agent's judgment by any standards. But they do save a lot of time in getting at the figures. For example, John Doe, age 33, with a wife, age 31 and three children, has certain goals in life. If he's smart, John will tell his insurance agent what he honestly wants for his money, and what his responsibilities are. Then the agent can put these questions into the computer and come out with some factual answers in quick time.

MACHINE TRUSTED
John needs to see the figures on paper. He can then sit down with his insurance agent and discuss how these facts and figures turn out. It's a rather odd bit of psychology, but the truth is some people trust a machine more than they trust their fellow man. If the computer says he needs a certain amount of insurance, John is impressed. So let's put the questions into the computer. And what are these questions:

John Doe, age 33, wife 31, three children under 12. Is he a Veteran, what is his present insurance, what are his other assets, besides his income which might be turned into cash or income at his death? What are his objectives? He needs so much cash at death for final expenses, adjustment fund and for emergency fund for his family. And in many cases, money will be needed to pay probate, administrative expenses and in some cases estate taxes. If he has a

Make Date? Keep It Is the Rule

By the Emily Post Institute

If you make a date you must keep it. The practice of willfully not keeping an appointment, known as "standing up," is inexcusable, and is practiced only by a boor.

A well-bred person will not make an appointment with someone he does not care to spend time with, but if he has a date, he will feel honor bound to keep it.

There are, of course, a variety of legitimate reasons that may cause one to break a date, such as illness, business, family ties, etc.

But the receipt of a more desirable invitation is, however, never sufficient reason for canceling an appointment.

Should it be necessary, for a valid reason, to break a date, notify the person concerned immediately, explaining why you cannot keep the appointment and perhaps try at that time to make another.

WRITING
Q: When writing a letter to a woman who is married but is known professionally by another name, how should the envelope be addressed when sent to her home?

Should it be addressed to her marriage name or her professional name?
A: A social letter should be addressed to her marriage name, but one that has to do with her books or other work as an author is properly addressed to her professional name, whether the letter is sent in care of her publisher or to her home.

SIGNING REGISTER
Q: Will you please tell me the correct way for a married woman to sign her name in a funeral register? Does she sign Mary Jones or Mrs. John Jones?
A: She signs her name Mrs. John Jones.

Closing Chapter in Long Career

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — After 47 years, Mrs. Emmaree Due and the Castro Hill branch of the Alameda County Library which she has operated all that time, retired together. Many families have been checking books out from Mrs. Due for almost half a century, and her original readers later brought their grandchildren with them. The tiny branch, which was originally a chicken house, has given way to progress. Its functions will be taken over by larger libraries.

SEW SIMPLE By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:

I am 15 years old and take sewing in high school. Our teacher tells us to cut out and save your helpful hints and she thinks everything you say is right. My problem is that you always talk about under-lining a skirt and the patterns don't tell us to do this. Why do we have to do this?

It takes so much more time and adds so much more to the cost of the skirt, and besides, the ones we buy don't have any under-lining. Sally S.

I would suggest that it is a good idea to under-line while you are taking sewing lessons because then you can learn the way to do it. However, I don't believe I would bother with the lining on a firm, inexpensive fabric. You have to learn just what garments are worth spending the extra time on. These will usually be your better dresses.

Just leave the skirts unlined and someday when you can see the real difference it makes, you will be ready, willing, and able to under-line without complaining.

Teen-agers! Please write to me in care of The Pontiac Press and I will add a special corner in my column just for you!

Dear Mrs. B. G.:

Most collars on dresses, and unfortunately a few in the coat and suit patterns are not cut properly, consequently, they will not roll as they should.

A few check-points to remember are: Be sure the under collar (collar facing) is cut with the CENTER BACK seam on the BIAS grain of fabric. Cut the interfacing the same way. Now you can be sure that the curve of the collar, which will be on the bias will lay closer and smoother at the neckline (you can't bend or contour a straight piece of fabric).

When the outer edges of the collar have been stitched, turned and graded and pressed, be sure to push some extra fullness in the top collar so that it will actually roll when applied in the neckline seam. You must also be sure that the top collar is cut slightly larger than the under collar.

CMU Officials MSU's Hannah Says Teachers Should Prepare to Work in the Slums

Defend Actions Probe Airls Holdback of Raises, Bank Ties

MOUNT PLEASANT (UPI) — A Senate investigation into unrest by a small group of faculty members at Central Michigan University lingered on yesterday with top university officials defending their actions not to give five dissident teachers a pay raise this year.

The committee hearing also strayed from the central issue when its chairman, Sen. Edward Robinson, D - Dearborn, questioned why a number of persons connected with Central Michigan University were members on the board of directors of two banks in Mount Pleasant.

He claimed there was a possible conflict of interest since school deposits state funds in both banks, the Exchange Bank and the Isabella County State Bank.

Robinson questioned the control the university might have over the bank, especially the Isabella Bank, with five of its nine board of directors affiliated in some way with the university.

OBJECTS TO INFERENCE "I object to whatever inference has been made as a private individual to a financial institution and to this institution," he said.

University attorney Gordon J. Cotter, also a director of the Isabella Bank, said there was nothing unusual about university officials being directors of the bank because other CMU officials dating back to the start of the bank have been board members.

E. Allen Morrow, chairman of the university board of trustees and also a director at the Isabella Bank, testified he considered the dissident faculty members "troublemakers."

"They have criticized practically every action this board has taken because it did not conform with their ideas," he said.

LACKED 'USEFULNESS' Morrow, Bovee and another vice president, W. O. Ward Smith, also supported the decision not to allow the dissident faculty members a pay raise because they lacked "institutional usefulness."

"When an individual refuses to conform to policy and rules," does not cooperate with the administration and spends a considerable portion of his time trying to create a problem, he has lost his institutional usefulness and should not be rewarded for it," Morrow said.

The five faculty members charged they were denied pay in raises because of their criticism of the university administration.

Magician Blackstone Dies at 82

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Harry Blackstone, 82, famed magician who entertained thousands in cities around the nation, died Tuesday night at his home.

A family spokesman said the magician died at 10:15 p.m., adding he had been suffering for three months with pneumonia, edema.

Friends said his widow, Eliza, both 65 and his manager, Charles McDonald, were at his bedside when he died.

Blackstone was hospitalized last August at Good Samaritan Hospital, and spent a month in the hospital before being released.

Blackstone, called "the last of the great magicians" by the theatrical world, regarded magic as the science of misdirection.

He once said "Magic overcomes frustration. It doesn't need to be sleight of hand. It's nothing but pure psychology — applied in the right place."

If the leaders of the world would turn their talents to a little more magic — or psychology — there wouldn't be so much hurt and misery. Politicians are nothing more than magicians anyhow. They put people under a spell."

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — "We need to emphasize the preparation of teachers for the slum school, not the suburb," the president of Michigan State University said yesterday.

John Hannah, who also is chairman of the U. S. Civil Rights Commission, spoke to the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges.

He said colleges now are preparing teachers "to teach youngsters with backgrounds much like their own, not children who come from broken fatherless homes . . . children who resent discipline, who are difficult to teach, and difficult to manage because outside the classroom they have to fight to survive."

Hannah called for training teachers who will work "in the crowded schools of the inner city, where facilities are likely to be less than good, and working conditions less than pleasant."

He said association members prepare 25.7 per cent of persons going into teaching and 41.5 per cent of those going into non-teaching educational fields.

POTENTIAL FORCE "Surely this is a potential force with which to exert some beneficial influence," he added.

Hannah told the association it must:

- Bring out tremendous resources to ferret out the still-elusive secret of the learning process and how teaching can best facilitate it.
- Help local boards of education, "which may have all the will in the world to improve the education of minority groups, but simply do not know how to go about it."

• Convince the public "there is true equity in investing more tax dollars in the slum school than on the one in the advantaged suburb, and that such investments may well pay bigger dividends in the long run."

He added, "We must accept the fact that the real problems of civil rights are not to be found exclusively in the South, but in the East and North and West as well."

Events in Rochester, and Chicago, and Los Angeles color the pages of our current history as well as those in Selma, Little Rock and Birmingham.

"If my years of experience have taught me one thing," he said, "it is that problems of the civil rights problem must be solved where it exists."

Hannah called on the educators to discourage "the popular notion that a four-year college education is essential to a happy and productive life."

BEYOND GRASP "It is calculated cruelly to encourage all young Americans to strive for a prize that is

SECOND STRATEGY STAGE — After the larger Viet Cong units are chopped up, U.S. strategy calls for South Vietnamese forces to move back into the disputed hamlets, one-by-one, now ruled by neither the government nor the Cong.

Strategy for Victory—2

S. Viet to Take Back Disputed Hamlets

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second in a 10-part series on how the United States hopes to win the war in Viet Nam.)

By COL. RAY CROMLEY
Military Analyst
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON — The second stage of the U.S. plan to win the Viet Nam war will begin when Viet Cong mainline regiments and battalions are chewed up repeatedly or are badly squeezed for supplies.

This will mean they will be unable to regularly mount anything larger than platoon and company-sized attacks.

The South Vietnamese government armies will then move to take back, one-by-one, the disputed hamlets now ruled neither by the government nor the Viet Cong.

These number some 6,000. There's little point in militarily winning back hamlets now. For as soon as the government troops leave, the Viet Cong move back.

There never will be enough government forces so that each hamlet can be permanently occupied.

RIPE FOR CHANGE

But when and if the Viet Cong can regularly strike a group of hamlets with no more than a platoon or a company of men, the situation is ripe for change.

If the Vietnamese army is freed from constant harassment by major Viet Cong mainline forces, it can come more quickly to aid attacked hamlets.

Once the Viet Cong attacking forces are small, the villagers are free to help themselves until help arrives.

This military solution isn't the young people (and the old) enough, of course. Even when hope they can improve their lot Viet Cong troops do not attack, in the future.

• Improving schools, starting health clinics, digging wells and building irrigation dams and county roads and bridges so produce can be taken to markets erage young man is so hopeless and sold.

that many fighting-age villagers feel they have no stake in defending their hamlets. This attitude makes defense ineffective.

Meeting these challenges is the crux of the "second stage."

The first wave moving into each hamlet may be a 10-man underground unit of government guerrillas.

They will mingle with the villagers, collect military intelligence, spot local V.C. leaders and find men and women who are ready to cooperate with the government forces.

Government propagandists, agricultural advisers and medical aid men working at night (as part of the guerrilla team) will attempt to soften up the villagers.

The thoroughly cased and infiltrated hamlet should then theoretically be ripe for an open move-in by regular government forces.

After this reconquest plan comes the attempt to accomplish these tough objectives:

• Building a disciplined "gun ho" local militia, armed and enthusiastic enough to beat off light Viet Cong attacks and withstand larger forces until help arrives.

• Creating a local government well enough administered to capture the loyalty of the people — basing the government on free elections.

• Establishing a local police force able to root out the underground Communist gangs in the hamlet (political organizers, propagandists, terrorists and guerrillas) and keep them rooted out.

• Sparking economic conditions in the hamlet that will give the young people (and the old) enough, of course. Even when hope they can improve their lot Viet Cong troops do not attack, in the future.

• Improving schools, starting health clinics, digging wells and building irrigation dams and county roads and bridges so produce can be taken to markets erage young man is so hopeless and sold.

These are tasks that, when multiplied by 6,000 hamlets, will take a considerable number of years.

But only when these objectives are accomplished in a hamlet or group of hamlets can government army units move on to another village and repeat the process.

If the hamlets cannot be made self-protecting, the program fails, because government troops can't be everywhere at once.

The Viet Cong attack those that are left unprotected. Spread thin enough to cover all hamlets, the government army troops would be sitting ducks for even small V.C. units.

REWINDING HAMLETS

After the 6,000 disputed hamlets are won, then comes the problem of rewinding the 3,000 hamlets ruled by Viet Cong governments.

To outline this victory plan is simple. But a warning must be attached.

This idea of preparing hamlets for self-government and self-defense has been attempted in two previous drives without noticeable success.

First there were the "fortified" hamlets under the assassinated premier, Ngo Dinh Diem, frequently protected only by a few strands of barbed wire. These were hastily set up and quickly overrun.

Then came the era of the "New Life" hamlets. Large numbers of these also proved too weak to resist V.C. attacks.

The Viet Cong could throw sizable forces into the fight over a cluster of hamlets. Relief forces often arrived too late. Local forces frequently ran away.

The organizing of the "New Life" hamlets was generally in the hands of teams of young Saigon bureaucrats who had no interest in the local people.

The current program is better conceived, on paper.

Tennessee Has No Regrets About Leaving House

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the third in a 10-part series on freshmen senators. It deals with Sen. Ross Bass of Tennessee.)

By STEVEN GERSTEL
United Press International
WASHINGTON — Ross Bass, 47, has a unique distinction. He is the dean of the 1965 freshman class in the Senate. He has a high regard for his class because he became a member of the Senate immediately after last year's election. He has as much experience as any class.

Now, nearly a year after leaving the hurly-burly of the House for the smaller, more dignified Senate, Bass has no regrets.

The freshman Democrat from Tennessee admits he "enjoyed" the House, but he has found a whole new world on the other side of the Capitol.

"The differences are multiple

I average three hours a day more here. Why, in the House you stay past five o'clock, every body begins to scream."

The most striking change Bass found was that even first-term senators can play an important role within committees where orators — have as much experience as any class.

"Individual members have much more latitude and responsibility," Bass said. "It's not only more of a challenge but also more rewarding."

"A senator is more able to be a freshman or has been have his views known and his here a long time. . . . It is influence felt in the early stages based on the respect his colleagues have on the basis of his eral but not in the late sena-

Man Who Lost His Memory After 1945 Beating Finally Regains Family and Past

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. It was 20 years ago when he (AP) — A 39-year-old deep sea was found severely beaten along diver who says he lost his memory — a road outside Craig, Colo. His memory when he was beaten senseless was gone. His silver identity card at the end of World War II identification bracelet read: "Robert Sherman." The remainder was past after a search of two illegible decades.

"It's just like being born again," said Robert Sheridan, 39, who was 19 and heading for San Francisco to be discharged from the Navy when the amnesia began. "You have something of your own, again."

Although investigations by the Navy, the FBI, the Red Cross, state troopers, state senators and insurance companies failed to turn up a trace of Sheridan, his mother never gave up hope.

His father, John J. Sheridan, a retired post office worker from Albany, N.Y., had searched, but less aggressively. "I was a little afraid of what I might find," he said.

FOUND BEATEN
Sheridan gave this account:

Airlift of Goodies to Viet Gls Is Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. servicemen in Viet Nam are going to get more than their usual quota of Christmas goodies.

Reg. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., says the Defense Department will start airlifting candy, cookies and cake this week.

Schweiker says the gifts are being prepared as an expression of support for the military, and in Pennsylvania alone, more than 75 tons of baked goods are being produced and wrapped by high school students.

Then he began his years of wandering. "BUMMED AROUND" "I bummed around all over the United States. I got in several fights and I fought very well. I also knew several expressions that were seemingly Marine."

While he was a police officer, he sent his fingerprints to the FBI in hopes they would trace his real identity. Each time they would return with the name "Robert Sherman," the name he had assumed as the most logical extension of the tantalizing letters on the bracelet.

"I also talked to some doctors, on a hypothetical basis, but I couldn't say too much with my jobs, you know."

NEVER MARRIED
Several times he met girls he wanted to marry, but he never did. "I didn't know whether I had a wife or children. And then there was that gun. I didn't know what kind of person I might have been."

Parolee, 51, Is Slain
DETROIT — James Henderson, 51, on parole for manslaughter from a fatal 1964 stabbing, came to his death in the same manner yesterday. Police held a roommate whom they said admitted stabbing Henderson in an argument.

"You are afraid to tie yourself to anyone when you don't have a past."

Finally, about a year ago, while working as a diver in Los Angeles, he decided to go to a psychoanalyst.

One day, his childhood street address in Albany popped into his mind. He went to Albany, but his parents had moved to Florida 11 years before.

"I talked around the neighborhood but I didn't remember them."

He was discouraged. But in searching the phone book the name of his uncle struck his eye.

The uncle directed him to a sister, Marjorie Benvenuto of Fayetteville, N.Y. She told him one brother had died. The other, John Jr., rushed from St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore and went with him to Florida. First they visited a sister in Largo, Lillian Watkins, and then last week all three came to Indian Rocks Beach, outside St. Petersburg. Sheridan plans to live with his parents. He has already set up a deep sea diving company here. But the past is still far from complete. "Little bits and pieces are coming back all the time," he said. "It makes life worth living."

'Herd' Horns on Freeway

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Thirty-five fugitive head of cattle led motorized policemen on a wild chase through the streets and freeways of Spokane yesterday.

At one point, an officer reported that the herd was "moving west along a freeway at a high rate of speed." A woman called police in bewilderment: "I can't explain it, but there's a bull in my backyard."

After nine hours, the cattle were finally rounded up and loaded on Armour Co. trucks for the trip back to the packing plant.

Hunt Goes On for Body of Girl

Two Suspects in Case Aid Arizona Search

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — In a stretch of desert just outside southern Arizona's biggest city, a search goes on for the body of pretty Alleen Rowe.

The 15-year-old girl's mother, Mrs. Norma Rowe, identified two metal hair curlers uncovered at the spot Tuesday as those of her daughter's. Alleen was wearing the curlers when she disappeared May 31, 1964.

Two young people charged with murdering Alleen helped officers in the search, but their attorneys said they would not allow John Saunders, 19, and Mary Rae French, 18, to go back today.

Alleen reportedly was wearing two rings, and Sheriff Waldon Burr said he would use a metal detector today to hunt for her shallow grave.

HEAVY RAIN

Officers said the grave may be deeper now because of an unusual amount of rain that fell in Tucson last year. Rain would have moved a large amount of sand from higher areas to where the grave was dug.

The possibility that the girl's body could have been moved by one of her attackers also was being considered, officers said.

Although the girl's mother said her daughter had told her of a teen-aged sex club which she refused to join, police discounted this.

"There is nothing to substantiate her belief at this time," Police Chief Bernard Garmire said.

TRIO CHARGED

An informer told police that Alleen was killed by Saunders, Miss French and Charles Schmid, 23, Garmire said. All three were charged with murdering her and were jailed without bond.

Schmid, a former gymnastics champion, also has been charged with murdering two other girls. The bodies of Gretchen Fritz, 17, and Wendy Fritz, 13, daughters of a prominent Tucson surgeon, were recovered last week after the same informer had led officers to the scene.

Miss French, according to Tucson police, said in a written statement that she, Saunders and Schmid took Alleen to the desert. The statement said Saunders and Schmid led the victim away from the car and beat her with rocks until she died.

Urban League Event to Mark Lincoln Talk

The Pontiac area Urban League will observe the anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address with a discussion program at Pontiac Northern High School, 1051 Arlene, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., Friday.

According to the league, the purpose of the program is designed to enlighten the Negro and Spanish-speaking community leaders about employment and training opportunities.

The program will consist of a group forum in which personnel directors of the three local General Motors Corp. plants, banking and credit union corporations, retail outlets, and craft unions have been invited to participate along with local Negro Spanish-speaking American leaders.

The discussion will concern progress made with and by non-white employees in local companies, screening procedures all applicants are exposed to and general and specific qualifications looked for in applicants as demonstrated by screening and discrimination.

Tips for job seekers wishing to improve their chances of employment and training, will also be discussed.

The discussion will be followed by a question and answer period.

Code Tightened on School Disturbances

Creating a disturbance, loitering or damaging property in or around local schools can now cost a person a $100 fine and 90 days in jail.

The City Commission last night approved an ordinance that prohibits loitering and other disturbances in local private, public and parochial schools.

City officials said the ordinance was needed because police often found it difficult to charge persons creating disturbances in schools.

The ordinance, patterned after a similar one in Detroit, was reviewed by school authorities, according to Mayor William H. Taylor Jr.

Clarence Barnes, director of the Pontiac Area Urban League, questioned the implications of the new ordinance.

QUESTIONS MOVE

He asked how it would work with laws already in effect.

City Attorney Philip E. Rowston said that the new ordinance would only supplement existing ordinances.

In other business, a public hearing was held on the construction of a water main on the south side of Balboa and a portion of East Boulevard.

A public hearing was set for Nov. 30 on construction of a sidewalk on the south side of Kennett, Sarasota to Stanley.

City Affairs

An offer by attorney Charles D. Tobey to purchase four lots on the east side of Bagley, between the Michigan Airline railroad tracks and Brush, was rejected.

Toby indicated he held a letter that incorrectly said there was an option out on one of the lots. He said there was no such option.

He said that he felt he was entitled to purchase this property just as much as any other group.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren reported that the nearby Newman A.M.E. Church had indicated concern over what use might be made of industrial-zoned property adjacent to the church.

INTERESTED

Also, the church had been interested in acquiring any additional properties there.

Warren, in recommending against the sale, expressed concern for future access to land-locked parcels to the east of the land on Bagley.

Also last night, the commission accepted the streets in the Crystal Beach Housing Project, located at the south end of Lake Street, as part of the city's public street system.

The owners of the private housing project conveyed the streets to the city, placing the roadways under the city's jurisdiction for maintenance and traffic enforcement.

The commission last night approved vacating of certain portions of the alley network in the Tel-Huron Shopping Center, Telegraph and West Huron.

In other business, the vacating of an alley northeast of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, 404 Oakland, was approved.

City commissioners also approved the first payment of $28,184 on the contract for 120 and R44 urban renewal site improvements.

The contract is with Stanley B. Jones of Pontiac.

Several petitions were received last night and referred to the appropriate agency.

A petition for residential zoning for a large, triangular-shaped lot, north and west of Prall, was referred to the City Planning Commission.

The same referral was given to a petition from the General Motors Corp. for the vacating of Kennett, Glenwood to Joslyn, and a portion of the northwest corner of Glenwood and Montclair.

A petition for commercial zoning for 6.6 acres of land on the southeast corner of the projected East Boulevard extension and Woodward, across from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, was also sent to city planners.

The rezoning is sought for development of a shopping center there.

City Employees 'Dig'

City employees topped their 1965 United Fund quota by $295, it was reported last night. Total contributions were $6,689, which also was over the amount donated in 1964 by $313.

Planning Program Is Behind Schedule

Pontiac's nearly 20-month-old planning program, only 33 percent completed, is behind schedule over-all.

The two-year planning project was approved Feb. 19, 1964, and is slated to be completed on the same date next year.

However, the seven-part project is behind schedule because it started three months late and there was a lack of proper personnel.

City officials now think the project will have to be extended six months to sometime near the end of 1966.

This was the report last night to the City Commission by James L. Bates, planning and urban renewal director.

Bates presented a progress report on the city's "701" plan, fare plan (24) and zoning (30).

The planning program, which is a study designed to guide future development in light of the 1961 General Development Plan.

The "701" planning is being carried out by the City Planning Department and Geer Associates, planning consultants.

While the over-all program is lagging, two portions — commercial land use and community facilities — are past the half-way mark.

Planning for commercial land use is 60 percent complete, while community facilities plan is 63 percent complete.

Other parts of the planning program and percentage of completion include: residential neighborhood plan (25), industrial plan (24), and zoning (30).

The planning for capital improvements has not yet begun.

Trip, Trophy Await Local Junior Miss

A scholarship, a gleaming trophy and a trip to the state pageant in January await the girl who wins the Pontiac Junior Miss contest sponsored by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Announcement of this year's contest was made by Ed Hunter, chairman of the Jaycee's pageant committee.

The local title is awarded to the high school senior between the ages of 16 and 19 who in the opinion of judges, best typifies the ideal American teenager.

Judging includes personality, talent, scholastic achievement and personal appearance.

The contest will culminate on Dec. 11 when the area winner is chosen at Pontiac Northern High School.

Entry blanks may be obtained from the Pontiac office of the National Cash Register Co., 562 W. Huron, the C. R. Haskell Studio, 1 Mt. Clemens, and local Jaycee members.

Last year's Pontiac area contest was won by 17-year-old Emilie Lou Beaupre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beaupre of 3332 Westwind, Commerce Township.

The state winner will compete in the national finals in March at Mobile, Ala.

Jacoby on Bridge

France lost the 1958 European championship in a photo-finish when it lost the last-round match to the United Arab Republic.

Here is a key hand. When France held the North-South cards, they reached a three-spade contract and made it. JACOBY with an overtrick. We were not given their bidding but it is worthy of note that, while four spades is a cinch, there is not much ammunition in the North-South cards and they should not really be criticized for not getting to the game.

At the other table, the UAR stopped at two spades on the bidding shown in the box. We rather feel that they should not the possibly important ten and nine of clubs and the kind of diamonds in back of the diamond bidder. Of course, his partner had passed originally but he had jumped to two spades at his next turn.

However, North passed and this made poor East the goat. He could have passed but he was sure that South would make two spades. He also did not see the danger that South could make four spades. He had 10 high-card points and they included three spades to the ace. Then, his partner opened the bidding.

Pan-American Defense an Old Woe

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In a magnificent setting overlooking Rio de Janeiro's famed Sugar Loaf mountain and the bay, representatives of 20 American nations are taking up a problem which has plagued them since the first Pan-American conference 75 years ago.

That meeting rejected a plan for hemispheric peace by arbitration and limited itself to "prompt collection and distribution of commercial information."

In the Rio meeting, the 10th since that first one in 1889, the problem will be to establish an inter-American defense system which will meet current dangers arising from Latin American revolutions in the manner of the Dominican Republic.

The chances for success are not particularly bright, even though a majority of the nations involved agree that in the social revolutions of Latin America are the seeds of Communist subversion and takeover.

This is the first over-all review of the state of inter-American relations since the 10th inter-American conference in Caracas, Venezuela, in 1954.

In the years before and since 1954, there were other painful steps toward a hemispheric defense plan.

At the fifth Pan-American conference in Santiago, Chile, in 1922, the delegates agreed upon a treaty providing peaceful settlement of controversies between the American republics.

At Buenos Aires in 1936, they agreed for the first time to consult each other if the peace of the hemisphere is threatened.

In 1945, by the "Act of Chapultepec," they agreed to act collectively in defense of the Western Hemisphere, and for the first time agreed to halt aggression by an American state. It was, however, a treaty aimed primarily against the spread of fascism rather than communism.

"CARACAS DOCTRINE"

Finally, in 1954, came the "Caracas Doctrine" and the concept of American freedom.

But even as the United States pressed for hemispheric cooperation, its neighbors to the south found reason to fear U.S. "gunboat diplomacy" which remained in effect for more than 30 years.

From 1906 through 1933, the United States intervened four times in Cuban affairs. U.S. troops also intervened in Honduras, Nicaragua, Mexico, Haiti, the Dominican Republic and Costa Rica. In Nicaragua, U.S. troops entered in 1912 and did not leave until 1933.

It was this that led Thomas C. Mann, U.S. assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, to declare in 1964:

"Unilateral United States interventions in the hemisphere have never succeeded in themselves, in restoring constitutional government for any appreciable length of time. And they have, in every case, left our country a legacy of suspicion and resentment..."

Despite U.S. declarations of good intent, Latin Americans reacted with swift resentment to U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic in late April. And only grudgingly did they agree to the U.S.-dominated inter-American force that guards the peace there now. The road in Rio will not be easy.

Professor Quits Post After Hypnotizing Coed

DEARBORN — Part-time to teach students that hypnotism psychology teacher Gerald Griffin had values.

The college suspended Griffin Sunday pending its investigation.

Dean James O. McCann said Griffin, 30, resigned voluntarily "in the best interest" of his student class and the college. McCann said the resignation was accepted.

Cynthia Wellman, 18, coed from Inkster, spent 18 hours in a trance after being hypnotized Friday night by Griffin. She was aroused with the aid of a hospital psychiatrist.

Griffin hypnotized Miss Wellman off the campus after being instructed to cease hypnosis at the school.

He said students in his class had asked him to continue with his hypnotism in private and he agreed. He said his purposes were scientific and were meant

Industrial Output Climbs in October

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board says industrial production was up slightly last month despite a decline in the steel industry.

Production stood at 43 per cent above the 1957-59 average and 6 per cent above October.

Production of iron and steel dropped 8 per cent during the month. This was attributed to the use of inventories accumulated in anticipation of a strike. The figures were announced Tuesday.

In Prison Kidnaping

4 Convicts Stand Mute

JACKSON — Southern Michigan Prison's four rebel convicts of Oct. 18 stood mute to kidnaping charges yesterday in court here.

Seven guards escorting the four had minor trouble with them.

The four refused to get into a courthouse elevator after their arraignment and were forced in.

Outside, one refused to enter the prison car and was shoved in.

The quartet—Milton Thomas, 20; Otis Adams, 27; Alvin Shaw, 24; and Edward Whitehead, 27—were arraigned before Circuit Judge John C. Dalton.

EACH CHARGED

Each is charged with four kidnappings in the abductions of said today the three-day affair four hostages whom they held will be devoted to discussing political research.

They complained about discrimination. All four are Negroes.

Dalton set no trial date. He remanded the four back to prison.

Adams is kept in the prison psychiatric ward and Thomas in a maximum security cell-block. Shaw and Whitehead are kept in so-called "suicide cells" which have no beds or fixtures.

Ingham County Boys' Camp Designed to Afford Guidance, Schooling and Training

ONONDAGA (AP) — When James Ghastin talks about "Highfields," his enthusiasm is contagious.

"There's no other place like it in Michigan," the director points out as he describes the boys' camp now being constructed 20 miles south of Lansing.

"The only other program coming close is Camp Oakland, but that is almost exclusively court directed," he explains.

Highfields will exist for boys who "come on a voluntary basis."

It's called "a youth opportunity camp" and will be privately operated under the auspices of Camp Ingham, Inc. The organization was formed in 1962 by citizens of Ingham County.

Studies revealed there were at least 50 boys in the county, 14 and 16, who needed some type of guidance, schooling and training.

Many of the boys, although of average intelligence, had reading levels of first or second grade.

Some had home backgrounds involving neglect, divorce or alcoholism. If not already in trouble with the law, many of their friends were in trouble.

All the boys lacked specific training which would equip them for jobs when they dropped out of school . . . if they had not already done so.

With these findings, Camp

Ingham, Inc., was originated as a cooperative effort of the community to help such young people.

A board of directors was set up including representatives from the public schools in Ingham County, the Board of Supervisors, Probate Court and representatives of service clubs.

The 140-acre site was purchased for Highfields by the Greater Lansing Foundation last May.

On Aug. 1, Ghastin was retained as director.

"It's going to be a great program and a tremendous help to the community, filling a need that has been unmet so far," Ghastin emphasized.

Ghastin graduated from Michigan State University with a bachelor of science degree in police administration and a master of arts degree in social psychology.

He worked at the Southern Michigan Prison, Jackson, as a counselor for a year, then went to Mount Clemens as state probation officer in Circuit Court for four years.

YOUTH DIVISION

He then headed the youth division of the State Department of Corrections where he remained six years.

On the 140-acre site, a main administration building will be constructed at an estimated cost of $50,000, according to Ghastin.

Materials are being donated and the work is being done on a voluntary basis, "most of it by the Lansing Building Trades Council," Ghastin said, "and with luck, we hope to have it done by spring."

Cottages will be built as the program develops to house 12 boys each. When four have been erected, there will be a maximum of 48 boys. There will be a supervisor in each cottage.

HIGH PRIORITY

Remedial reading will receive high priority in the academic phase of the camp. Arrangements may be made for some of the boys to return to school if they so desire.

"There'll be no limit to the time boys can stay, nor will they have to stay. It'll be a completely open program," the director said. "We'll tailor the program to the boy, not the boy to the program."

Some of the buildings will be converted for training workshops in electrical trades, carpentry, surveying, drafting, automobile repair, plumbing and heating, bricklaying and masonry.

Boys acquiring a skill here may be placed in apprentice programs. There have already been offers of cooperation by trade unions, according to Ghastin.

Limited farming operations will be carried on by some boys. They plan to raise food for the camp and will extend this portion of the program if the need arises.

Farmers in the area have already indicated their interest in hiring some of the boys after they have had some training at the camp.

Throughout the entire program, the boys will have guidance and counseling by members of the staff.

The undeveloped acres provide opportunity for many constructive projects.

These will include cleaning brush, landscaping, planting, building, repairing, improving lakes and streams, constructing picnic and park areas and facilities.

Egyptian-Born Actor Finds It Difficult to Avoid Public Image as Camel-Riding Sheikh

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Omar Sharif created by your first success. He made a couple of dozen films in Cairo, became a star in the Arab world, and married the image of your first flop. The young Egyptian-born actor, who won an Academy Award nomination for his portrayal several years ago of Sheikh Ali in "Lawrence of Arabia," remarked: "Many think I always wore robes and rode a camel. This is a Cairo and graduated from an English College there. A year O'Toole objected: later, he turned to acting after."

"It's hard to shake the image he found the lumber business Omar Sharif. I'm going to call you 'Cairo Fred.'" "VIOLIN PEOPLE" The nickname stuck. "Orientals are violin people," he remarked. "They are emotional and sentimental and self-indulgent."

"In Egyptian melodramas, your success was judged by how much you could make the audience cry. Since then, I've had to learn emotional restraint — to realize that the most moving thing is not someone actually crying, but someone who wants to cry and is fighting it."

"I try to sleep as long as I can because it is the slowest thing I know." "I like people, good manners, and girls who are really feminine. That's why I don't care very much about girls who hold jobs — they tend to lose their femininity."

East Germany Launching Crackdown on Young Rowdies

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany is beset by a wave of youth unrest and has launched a crackdown on those described as Western-style rowdies and beatniks.

But the Communists have shown no indication of wanting to follow Cuba's lead in allowing malcontents to leave en masse.

An East German Foreign Ministry spokesman won't comment on "rumors" to the effect that the government is interested in an exodus of refugees. Western sources also tend to discount the possibility of an East German proposal to let refugees go West. They feel that the East German government is as intent as ever on preventing a renewal of the manpower drain that existed before the Reds built the Berlin wall in 1961.

SHOOT REFUGEES

East German border guards shoot refugees trying to flee to the West across Communist death strips. The only East German men allowed to travel to the West in an unofficial capacity are pensioners and cripples. The East German Communist state party organ Neues Deutschland has said its youth problem has "state-endangering moral-political elements."

The liberalization brought with it a tolerance for Western style music and dances. Some youths apparently went beyond limits the regime had intended.

PRESS ASSAULT

The Communists began a two weeks earlier, on the 16th anniversary of the formation of the East German state, police chives until smooth and serving

Some of them began to chant "The wall must go!" a witness reportedly turned on water reported.

Mix 2 Cheeses for Macaroni

One of our favorite meatless dishes is macaroni and cheese. To vary the flavor of this filling and nutritious dish, try using several cheeses. A specialty cheese that does wonders to perk-up the flavor of often-used recipes is hearty American blue cheese.

The salty and peppery flavor of this blue-marbled cheese lends itself well to the bland macaroni. And just a little bit is needed, as the little tastes like a lot.

The blue cheese will keep well in the refrigerator if over-wrapped in air tight paper— handy for crumbling on top of salads, and vegetables and to serve with fresh fruit.

Macaroni and Cheeses

2 cups macaroni
1 cup crumbled American blue cheese
1 1/2 cups grated cheddar cheese
2 eggs
1 cup milk, scalded
1/2 teaspoon salt
pinch of nutmeg
dash of cayenne

Cook macaroni according to package directions. Drain. Turn into well-greased casserole. Stir in cheeses.

Mix eggs, cooled milk, salt, sugar, nutmeg and cayenne together. Pour over macaroni and cheese mixture. Place casserole in pan of hot water, 1 inch deep. Bake at 400 degrees until golden brown on top and custard is set, about 35-40 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Teen-Age Home Ec Class Sets Up Test Kitchen

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Not all test kitchens are maintained by big food manufacturers. There's one at Eastern Junior High School.

Mrs. Francine Burns, home economics teacher, has a dozen girls in a two-hour ninth grade foods class. Being teen-agers, they have a decided interest in food. Many of the girls do shopping and cooking at home.

One of the first ways Mrs. Burns tried to make the class meaningful and different was to have the girls publish a newspaper devoted entirely to food.

Each issue has a different editor, but all the class works on the contents. Several of the girls make up culinary crossword puzzles. Recipes are printed and questions on cooking solicited and answered.

Now about that test kitchen. Here's how the girls themselves described it in a letter:

"We would like to introduce you to our A-Go-Go Test Kitchen. It is called that because we have to really GO to get our different recipes tested."

"Our staff is made up of ninth graders who taste and test during every laboratory period. We all participate in tasting and give an honest opinion."

"Our rating is scrumptious-dumptious... Our lower rating is su-o-p-m-u-y-i-d-i-d-i-pmuss (which is sometimes pronounced UGH!)"

Staff members are Frances Anzures, Cynthia Bryant, Henrietta Caldwell, Debra Cox, Portia Johnson, Marion Lane, Mary McCaulley, Helene Murphy, Rosie Pilgrim, Belinda Shannon, Sharmaine Shelton and Sandra Smith.

Frances, Mary and Rosie worked on a recipe for a quick supper dish which passed with flying colors. They say it's good because it uses handy canned ingredients.

CAN CAN CHICKEN

By the A-Go-Go Staff

1 can condensed cream of chicken soup
1 can condensed cream of celery soup
1 soup can water
1 1/2 cups instant rice
1 can (12 oz.) boned chicken OR 1 1/2 cups diced cooked chicken
1 can (3 oz.) chow mein noodles

Combine all ingredients except noodles in a large skillet. Stir to mix. Bring quickly to a boil. Cover. Reduce heat and simmer 7 minutes.

Remove from heat; stir. Serve with noodles. Makes 4-6 servings.

Instead of the noodles, this dish may be served with French fried onion rings. Heat as directed on can.

Cynthia and Marion sent a recipe for a quick pizza. Although the recipe calls for pepperoni, the girls say the pizza is excellent without it and recommend this version for Fridays.

A PIECE OF PLEASURE

PIZZA

By the A-Go-Go Staff

1 can refrigerated biscuits
2 tablespoons salad oil
1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
1/4 pound sharp cheese, cut in small pieces

6 oz. can pizza sauce
1/2 medium onion, grated
40 slices of pepperoni

Heat oven to 450 degrees. Pat each biscuit out paper-thin to about 4 1/2 inches on baking pan.

Brush top of biscuits with salad oil. Arrange rest of ingredients on dough in order listed to within 1/4 inch of edge.

Bake one sheet at a time, 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 10 servings.

We'll wager that after a semester spent in this kind of activity, these 12 girls will have an interest in cooking and a knowledge of food they'll never lose.

Use Convenience Foods in Pie

Looking for an easy dessert that tastes like you spent hours in the kitchen? Then Pink Lemonade Pie is the answer. Looks and tastes so dreamy good! — And what could be more convenient?

Just open a can of frozen concentrate of lemonade and combine it with vanilla ice cream.

Add a few drops of red food coloring for a rosy tint.

Pink Lemonade Pie is a year round winner. Add your own creative garnish such as frozen dollops of whipped cream or candied lemon peel.

A cup of blueberries is a good measure to use in muffins made from a standard 2-cup or 1 1/2-cup recipe.

Everyone in favor of rust free soft water say.....

No one likes hard water. Right? Right. And, who likes rusty water? No one. This is what makes new Morton Pellens so welcome in high iron content areas, such as yours. Pellens answer both problems at once. They recharge water softeners, just like Morton Salt Pellets do, and most effectively remove rust accumulation from your softener. Pellens contain a special patented additive that was independently tested and found most efficient for rust removal. A water softener recharged with Pellens eliminates the nuisance of rust-stained laundry, sinks, tubs and bowls. By controlling rust, your softener gives top performance, requires fewer service calls and has a longer life. Pellens work in all softeners except those with silica gel zeolite. Get rid of rust and enjoy clear, soft water; say, "I'd like some tested, proved and patented Morton Pellens, please," when next you see your water softener salt dealer. Morton Salt Company.

PELLENS ARE EFFECTIVE IN MANUAL, SEMIAUTOMATIC AND AUTOMATIC WATER SOFTENERS.

Almonds, Filberts, Pecans and Walnuts for Your Holiday Baking Are Abundant

Fruit cake makers and bakers of other holiday foods will find plenty of nuts this year, advises the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. The 1965 crop of the four major edible tree nuts — almonds, filberts, pecans and walnuts — is expected to be 12 per cent larger than last year.

Whether to buy in-shell nuts or shelled nuts depends upon the amount needed, how they will be used, the cost, and the preparation time available.

A good rule to remember when making this decision is that two pounds of unshelled nuts make about one pound (three to four cups) of nutmeats.

When unshelled nuts cost half as much as nutmeats, the values are equal. Of course, it's hard to put a price on family fun and companionship that develops when shelling nuts for holiday baking.

For near perfect whole or half nut meats every time follow these rules:

• Pecans — Soak unshelled pecans six to eight hours in cold salt solution (one-half cup salt to three quarts water); drain and crack.

• English walnuts — Hold the nut so it stands on the flat end; with a hammer, strike the pointed end with a sharp, bouncing blow.

• Brazil nuts — Cover with cold water. Bring to a boil and boil three minutes; drain. Cover with cold water; let stand one minute, drain and crack. Keep nuts in an airtight container.

Another method — just freeze nuts before cracking.

With nuts, as well as with candied fruits, there are usually savings to be made by buying in large quantities. Pound and two pound packages of nuts are almost always less expensive on a cost-per-ounce basis than nuts in small-size envelopes.

Nut flavor depends upon the oils they contain, so use them promptly and protect them from air, heat and moisture.

VEGETABLE BEEF PAN SANS

Beef-Filled Pancakes Are Served With Vegetable Sauce

Calling busy homemakers everywhere — help is on its way! If cold sandwiches, leftover concoctions and plain hamburgers have you down, here is a hearty lunch that answers the need for a quick, complete and satisfying meal. These Vegetable-Beef Pan Sans make lunch worth fixing.

Ground beef and vegetables are great for those fallish day lunches — but don't serve them in a lonesome, unexciting way. Add variety and zip to the lunch by adding pancake pleasure. With the aid of a pancake mix you can turn an ordinary lunch into an exciting, complete

Seafood Rolls

Marinate cooked seafood — lobster, crabmeat or shrimp — in a tangy French dressing; drain, mix with mayonnaise and use as a sandwich filling for buttered soft rolls. Garnish with pickles and potato chips for a good main course for lunch.

meal. It's so easy, too. A potentially hard job becomes positively fun.

VEGETABLE-BEEF PAN SANS

Filling
 ¾ lb. ground beef
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 Dash pepper
Vegetable Sauce
 ½ cup milk
 One 10½-oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup
 One 1-lb. can mixed vegetables, drained

Pancakes
 1 cup milk
 1 egg
 1 tablespoon melted or liquid shortening

Meat Sauce

A delicious way to dress up ham loaf or cold baked ham is to combine ½ cup dairy sour cream with 2 tablespoons horse radish, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 1 teaspoon salt. Makes a tangy garnish for summer meals.

1 cup pancake mix
 For filling, brown ground beef in fry pan; season with salt and pepper. For sauce, combine milk and soup in saucepan; heat thoroughly. Stir in vegetables. Add ¾ cup of vegetable sauce to ground beef filling.
 For pancakes, place milk, egg and shortening in bowl. (If melted shortening is used, add after pancake mix.) Add pancake mix. Mix lightly with wire whisk or spoon until batter is fairly smooth. Some-what lumpy batter makes light pancakes.

For each pancake, pour about ¼ cup batter onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once.
 To serve, place a pancake on serving plate. Cover with meat mixture. Top with another pancake sandwich style. Serve with hot vegetable sauce.

Fragrant Chocolate Crullers Are Ideal for Snack Time

Combine a typical American nibble — crullers — with America's favorite flavor—chocolate and you have Chocolate Break Puffs. There'll be no leftovers for freezing when you serve these light, fragrant bubbles.

Offer a cup of frothy hot chocolate to go with and you'll be blessed by guests and family like.

Chocolate Break Puffs

3½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
3 tablespoons soft shortening
1¼ cups sugar
2 envelopes (1 oz. each) no-melt chocolate or

2 squares (1 oz. each) unsweetened chocolate, melted
¾ cup buttermilk
2 teaspoons vanilla

Mix and sift first 5 ingredients. Set aside. Beat eggs well; beat in shortening, sugar, chocolate, buttermilk, and vanilla. Add flour mixture all at once, beating just until smooth. Dough will be soft.

Chill 2 or 3 hours. Work with about one-quarter of the dough at a time, refrigerating the rest.

Roll dough ¼-inch thick on lightly floured surface. Cut with floured 1-inch round cookie cutter. Fry a few puffs at a time in shallow fat or oil (about 1½ inches deep in skillet), heated to 375 degrees, about 3 minutes. The puffs will turn themselves when underside is done.

Remove with slotted spoon, holding it over skillet a second to drain. Place on paper towels to drain any remaining shortening. Dust with sugar, if desired. Makes about 7 dozen.

Note: These puffs, packaged for freezing, may be stored in a home freezer for several weeks.

Chocolate Break Hot Chocolate
½ cup sugar
2 envelopes (1 oz. each) no-melt chocolate or

2 squares (1 oz. each) unsweetened chocolate, melted
2 tablespoons milk
1 quart milk

Combine sugar and chocolate in heavy 2-quart saucepan. Add 2 tablespoons milk and stir until well blended. Gradually stir in 1 quart milk. Heat thoroughly, stirring occasionally. Just before serving, beat until foamy. Makes 6 servings.

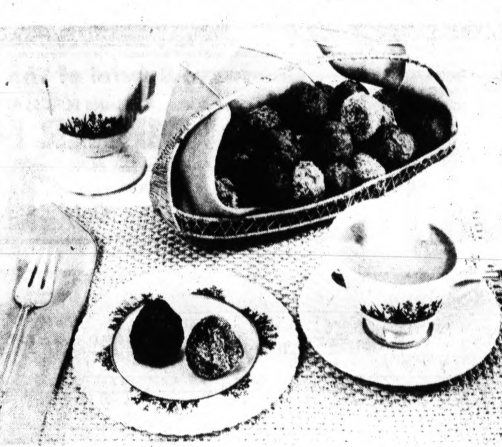

Rolled Oats Crust a Change for Pie

Uncooked rolled oats give a crunchy, nutty flavor to pie crust that is especially good for pumpkin pie.

For a 9-inch pie, sift together ¾ cup of sifted all-purpose flour and ½ teaspoon of salt. Cut in ½ cup of shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in ½ cup of uncooked rolled oats.

Sprinkle 3 to 4 tablespoons of cold water, a little at a time, over mixture. Stir with fork until just dampened. Roll into ball. Roll on lightly-floured board to form 13-inch circle. Fit loosely into pie plate. Trim; flute edges.

Fill with favorite pumpkin filling and bake as filling recipe directs.

CHOCOLATE PUFFS — Formula for hospitality — Chocolate Puffs and Chocolate

Break Hot Chocolate with a dollop of whipped cream.

Cottage Cheese Dip

For a tangy cottage cheese dip, mash 1 cup cottage cheese with fork; blend in ¼ cup chili sauce, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. This is so good with chips or crackers.

Ice Cream Sandwich

Sandwich slices of square pack ice cream between slices of pound cake (loaf size). Serve with strawberries or raspberries.

Sardines Star in This Snack

Just-home-from-school, or after-the-ball-game appetites literally cry for hearty nourishment to tastefully restore spent energy.

This novel and tasty luncheon suggestion for "sardine-furters" using sardines from the cool, mineral waters of Norway's fjords—rich in vitamins A and D and in iodine, calcium, iron and phosphorus—fills the bill. And let's not limit this savory idea to the younger, grown-ups will welcome such a quick and easy to prepare pick-me-up.

SARDINE-FURTERS

2 frankfurter rolls
1 can (3½ oz.) Norway sardines
1 small tomato, sliced
Seasoning to taste

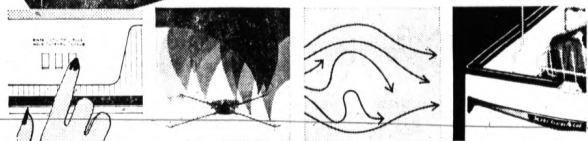

Split and toast the frankfurter rolls. Spread one side lightly with mayonnaise and cover with tomato slices. Season to taste. Top with 5 or 6 whole, drained Norway sardines. Serve with tiny sweet gherkins and fresh carrot sticks for a truly healthful luncheon.

Put Ground Beef Filling into Spaghetti Crust

Don't be surprised if one of the kids says, "I would die for spaghetti pie."

It's just part of the plot to make sure that this startling new idea comes out in the open often in your household.

Under cover of a crust of spaghetti is the inside story. A remarkable filling made with ground beef and shredded cheddar cheese.

But, as in all mystery stories, that isn't all. There's a secret agent involved. It's Angostura bitters, the flavoring and seasoning agent that makes this the kind of story one wants to dig into deeper and deeper.

Otherwise, naturally, nobody would die for spaghetti pie. It would be just another one-dish meal. But Angostura can never be involved with the ordinary.

This dish is exciting for its taste and the taste comes from that blend of many herbs and spices that is such a vital part of its make-up.

Spaghetti Pie
2 cups cooked spaghetti

1 onion, chopped
1/2 cup sliced mushrooms
1/2 cup diced celery
3 tablespoons butter
1 pound ground beef
2 eggs
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
1 tablespoon Angostura aromatic bitters
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
Dash pepper
1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs
Arrange spaghetti on bottom and sides of well buttered 1 1/2-quart casserole. Sauté onion, mushrooms and celery in butter 3 minutes. Add meat and cook, stirring constantly, until it loses its red color.

Beat eggs; stir in milk, cheese, Angostura bitters, salt, mustard and pepper. Combine with meat mixture and stir well. Pour into spaghetti "pie shell." Sprinkle with bread crumbs.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 minutes. To serve, broom sides with spatula and invert on to serving platter. Cut into wedges. Yield: 6 servings.

SPAGHETTI PIE — Here's an unusual main dish—Spaghetti Pie. You serve it bottom side up so that the "crust" is on top with the meat and cheese filling underneath. Aromatic bitters give it a distinctive flavor.

Ever dip small cubes of sugar in baking powder biscuits before in orange juice and insert them baking?

Vanilla Sauce Covers Baked Apples

With so many fine apples in the market now, let's try this deluxe variation on the old-fashioned baked apple.

Almond Baked Apples

1/4 cup (4 tablespoons) butter or margarine, melted
1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
4 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup very finely chopped, blanched almonds
1 tablespoon water
6 teaspoons butter or margarine
Vanilla sauce
Peel apples and remove cores. Roll whole apples in melted butter or margarine and then in bread crumbs mixed with 2 tablespoons of the sugar.

Mix almonds and remaining sugar to a paste, adding a little water until well blended. Spoon into the cavities of apples. Place in a baking pan and dot each with 1 teaspoon butter or margarine.

Cover with foil and bake in a preheated 350-degree oven (moderate) 40 minutes. Remove cover and bake 45 minutes or until apples are tender. Baking time depends upon size and type of apple.

Serve cold with Vanilla Sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Vanilla Sauce

1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cornstarch
1/16 teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
1 cup milk
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract

Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in the top part of a double boiler. Blend in egg yolks and 1/4 cup of the milk. Add remaining milk. Stir and cook over hot water (not boiling) until custard thickens and coats a metal spoon. Remove from hot water and cool.
Fold in whipped cream and pure vanilla extract. Serve over Almond Baked Apples. Makes 1 quart sauce.

'Both Sides Must Give in Viet'

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—United States had turned down an offer by Communist North Vietnam late last year to be time for both sides in the Viet Nam war to make "major concessions" leading to a settlement of the conflict.

The State Department had confirmed that Thant reported at the time the Hanoi regime was ready for such a move. Thant, speaking to a luncheon for the Dag Hammarskjöld Memorial Scholarship Fund of the U.N. Correspondents' Association yesterday, called for the reconvening of the 1954 Geneva Conference on Indo-China.

He called this "the only means of bringing about peace and stability in the area."

Thant said what was possible in 1963 was not possible in 1964.

"The longer the conflict is prolonged, the more complex and difficult will be the solution of the problem," he said.

"Vigorous efforts, employing, perhaps, what is called 'major concessions', should be made by all of the parties principally concerned in order to create a psychological and political climate suitable for a solution."

The secretary general said he did not want to be considered a Monday morning quarterback but added the Geneva agreements of 10 years ago could still be implemented.

"The only alternative is prolongation and escalation of the (Viet Nam) conflict," he said.

Indict 4 in Twin Double Fraud

DETROIT (AP)—Four men were indicted on fraud charges by a federal grand jury yesterday in connection with the cashing of thousands of dollars in winning twin double tickets at the Detroit Race Course.

Three of the men were alleged "10 per centers" who helped winners cash their tickets for a fee. The fourth was one of the winners.

The government charged the four with aiding and assisting in the preparation of false federal tax returns.

Indicted were Jesse Mordon, 41, and Walter Lee Hammond, 32, both of Detroit, and Owen

Clyde Fitro Jr., 31, of Cleveland, identified by the government as "10 per centers," and Robert Weitzman, 42, of Detroit, named as a winner.

The government says "10 per centers" cash tickets for bet winners to enable the latter to avoid paying tax on the winnings. The fee for the reputed service is 10 per cent of the winnings.

PLEADED GUILTY

A fifth man, Timothy Pendleton, 26, of Detroit, has pleaded guilty to similar charges.

The penalty for the offense is a maximum of three years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Act Now on Traffic Safety or U.S. Will Take Job---Hare

LANSING (AP)—If Michigan and other states don't do something about traffic safety, the federal government will, says Secretary of State James Hare. And that could include such federal projects as a national driver's license, national license plates, federal vehicle inspections or a nationwide speed limit, he said.

Hare has been pushing traffic safety legislation in Michigan, including compulsory motor vehicle inspection and tougher penalties, but has met with little luck.

Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, however, has ordered an interim study leading to a broad traffic safety program in the 1966 legislative session.

Said Hare:

FEDERAL TASK?

"Perhaps a federal safety program is the inevitable answer. When you consider the complexity and enormity of the problems in traffic safety, it leads me to wonder if any other branch of government, aside from the federal level, can really do the job effectively. Michigan has reached the

Data Sought to Prevent Another Blackout

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Special teams of federal and private power experts fanned out over the Northeast power company's 23 interlocking electrical systems today, seeking information to prevent a repeat of "last pool" which supplies the 80,000-square-mile area.

Four teams, each captained by a Federal Power Commission (FPC) specialist, were on-site inspections of the 23 interlocking electrical systems today, seeking information to prevent a repeat of "last pool" which supplies the 80,000-square-mile area.

Officials have traced the initial cause of the eight-state series of "outages" to a telephone-sized relay device in an Ontario hydroelectric authority generating plant at Niagara Falls, Ont., 12 miles northwest of Buffalo, N.Y.

It was the failure of this relay late in the afternoon of Nov. 9 which touched off a lightning-fast series of "trip-outs," sending 1.6 million kilowatts of electricity "cascading" south into northeastern U.S. power systems, shutting them off in a matter of seconds.

The investigating teams had as their principal assignment the task of discovering why safety devices in the U.S. power systems failed to halt the monster flow from the north before it spread so far and so fast.

SHARP SCRUTINY

The relay devices in the U.S. systems were expected to undergo sharp scrutiny.

Ex-Lawmaker Is Bedridden

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott, R-Mich., is ill at his home in nearby Chevy Chase, Md.

Mrs. Wolcott said yesterday her husband has been ill since about the first of the year and has been in bed at home the past 10 days.

She did not disclose the nature of his ailment.

Wolcott, 72, served in Congress for 26 years until Jan. 3, 1967. He did not seek reelection in 1966.

He had been a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. from 1958 until about the first of this year.

4 Boats Involved; 1 Sinks

2 Collisions in St. Lawrence

QUEBEC (AP) — Fog and a blinding snowstorm on the St. Lawrence River below Quebec City Tuesday involved four freighters in two separate collisions. One sent the giant Canadian ore carrier Lawrencecliffe Hall to the bottom.

Capt. Devona Larosee of the Lawrencecliffe Hall and his crew of 24 took to lifeboats after their 23,000-ton vessel collided with the 6,000-ton freighter Sunk in fog off Ile D'Orleans, 14 miles downstream from Quebec City.

All reached shore safely and no injuries were reported.

aboard either ship. The Sunk also is Canadian-owned.

Less than four hours later, and about 120 miles farther downstream, the 10,658-ton Russian freighter Kosmonaut collided with the 10,142-ton Spanish freighter Monte Urbasa off the river pilot station of Les Escoumins in a blinding snowstorm.

SEAMAN HURT

One Russian seaman, severely injured, was taken ashore by a pilot boat but neither ship suffered heavy damage. Both sailed for Quebec for inspection of damage. The Spanish ship was on her maiden voyage to Quebec.

Montreal. The Russian ship was bound for Quebec.

Reports from the scene said the Lawrencecliffe Hall, heading upstream from Port Carter on the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Conneaut, Ohio, with a full cargo of iron ore, was struck on the starboard side. A long gash was ripped in her side from the bow to amidships, and she went down in 30 to 36 feet of water.

The Sunk, heading downstream with grain and general cargo for Le Havre, suffered damage to her bow and lost both anchors. She returned to Quebec.

JUST CHECKING — Donna McDaniel, 11, a sixth grade student from Madison Heights, recently wrote the Burroughs Corp. about what her class thought to be a mathematical error in a computerized picture of the planet Mars. Engineers finally found the solution and answered Donna in a long and detailed letter.

Student's Challenge Stirs Computer Firm

DETROIT (P) — An 11-year-old girl, who challenged the calculations of the men who photographed Mars, has discovered she was wrong.

But it took the astute minds of a company that makes computers 21 days to prove it.

Donna McDaniel, a sixth grade student at Edison School in Madison Heights, wrote Burroughs Corp. about what her class thought to be a mathematical error in a computerized picture of the planet Mars.

She quoted a magazine article saying "that 64 shades of gray were sent back in sets of 6 numbers at a time in the binary system of 1s and 0s (Base 2)."

"In the math class," the letter said, "we learned that the number 64 in base 2 required 7 numbers and we would like to know if this article could be wrong."

DONNA'S REASON? Donna said her teacher "thought that perhaps there might be some reason for this difference when the binary system of numbers is used in a computer.

"He suggested that since your company manufactures computers, you could tell us if this was an error or if there would be some other explanation for it."

Donna's letter was dated Oct. 26 and Mark Ottati of the Burroughs Public Relations department answered it Monday.

"Your letter has caused a major stir here at Burroughs," Ottati wrote. "Grown men have been running around showing it to other grown men. All of us are amazed at how well you have stated a problem which slipped unnoticed past at least nine million magazine readers."

EXPLANATION Here's how Ottati explained the problem:

"When we learn to count we start with 1 and tend to forget the 0 until we reach 10. In decimal counting, we can go up to 9 with the writing of just one digit. The number 9 is just one of the 10 possible symbols that require only one digit."

If you were asked, "How high can you count in decimal using three digits?" the answer would be 999. If you were asked "How many different 3-digit numbers you could write?" the answer would be 1,000. All the numbers from 1 to 999, plus the extra number 000.

"The engineers used the binary 000000 to mean something and this allowed them to have 64 different numbers. Engineers are not always stingy, but if they didn't use the zero to stand for something they would have to send one extra bit (binary digit) for each piece of information on the photographs."

ZERO MEANINGFUL

"They wanted to gather as much information as they could in case something caused a breakdown in the signals. By being stingy and using zero to mean something, they packed more information into fewer bits."

"Symbols can mean anything we wish them to mean. Just as pig latin is not nonsense once you understand the code, using the binary as a number is not nonsense once you have been told the code."

"Your letter was magnificent. I'm sorry that you didn't catch an error. The important thing is that you continue to challenge things that don't make sense to you. If you continue to question, as you have, you will find many chances to correct errors that others have accepted. That's the way the world moves ahead."

Congressional Record for 1965 Filled With Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The show brought him sudden fame and provoked this country's record of its pages ment. "Some people have the idea that at age 58, I suddenly emerged from a midwestern corner, spread wings and began to fly."

Some 15,882 bills were introduced, with 349 becoming law.

Thereafter he made frequent appearances, where his toothy grin, pointed moustache, and House 798 hours and 25 minutes, disarming look were counter. The record itself included 34-point to his endless grab bag of 311 pages, printed at an estimated cost of $3.3 million.

Junior Editors Quiz on MOUNTAIN SNOW

QUESTION: Why does snow cover the tops of high mountains where it's actually nearer the sun?

ANSWER: You will understand this when you realize that air is not just nothing, as it appears to us, but is a combination of actual substances in a gaseous state, which forms a blanket around the earth.

Air has weight. As a result, the upper layers push down on the lower ones, and so the lower ones become more dense. There are more air molecules in these lower layers.

If you realize that these air molecules pick up and retain heat from the rays of the sun, you will understand that the air is much warmer at the bottom of the atmospheric layer than at the top.

So the air particles at the top of a really high mountain, thinly spaced, create a climate of cold up there which more than makes up for the fact that the mountain top is very slightly closer to the sun.

Meanwhile, as in our picture, people may be moving around in the warmer lower air layers, wearing shirts with sleeves rolled up. The snow-topped mountain shown in this picture is beautiful Mt. Rainier, in the state of Washington. It rises to a majestic 14,410 feet.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can find some pictures of the most spectacular snow-capped mountain in the world: Fujiyama in Japan. Notice how the magnificent white crest of Mt. Fuji soars over a countryside where often no snow will be seen.

Charging Bear Hunter's Prize

A young Oakland County hunter's first encounter with Michigan's big game almost turned out to be a life and death struggle Saturday.

Pat McLaughlin, 25, of 2014 N. Blair, Royal Oak, was sitting in his favorite deer-hunting spot wondering if he was going to be the only one in a party of four to come home without a buck.

McLaughlin, service manager at Autobahn Motors in Pontiac, started his hunt early Saturday with Larry Olk, 65, Olk's son, Forrest, 27, and Virgil Klaty, 35, all of Pontiac.

The elder Olk and Klaty arrived at the hunting area — just east of Iron Mountain in Michigan's Upper Peninsula — on Thursday. Forrest and McLaughlin arrived late Friday night.

The hunting was good. The elder Olk waited only 15 minutes before he took a spike horn.

About three hours later, Forrest brought down a five-pointer.

A half-hour later Klaty bagged a seven-pointer.

SECOND TRIP

McLaughlin, in only his second hunting trip at the north, sat patiently with his 308 Remington, a rifle that he had never fired at any game animal.

It was almost 4:30, chilly and the light was fading when McLaughlin heard something move about 50 feet from where he crouched.

He looked closely, and suddenly a black bear appeared and began walking straight at McLaughlin.

"I had only four shells in the rifle and I emptied it and added three more and got them away," McLaughlin said.

The first shot hit the bear when he was about 25 feet from McLaughlin, and when he fired the seventh time, the bear fell at his feet.

After six shots the bear kept coming.

"I thought it was going to be him or me," McLaughlin said. "I was going for my knife and really trying to get something between me and him and when he was about two feet from me, I got off the last shot."

He reared up in front of me after the last shot and toppled backward. One of his hind legs was right at my feet. "I thought the bear was there to shake hands with him (McLaughlin)," said the elder Olk, who rushed toward McLaughlin after he heard the gunfire.

COME TO AID

The other two hunters were also nearby and came to McLaughlin's aid, but they arrived after the bear was slowed by the force of four slugs from McLaughlin's rifle.

The bear was a six-footer and weighed 300 pounds.

1-2 Bird Prizes to Father-Son

Paul Pace Is Winner of Long Pheasant

The prizes in the annual Pontiac Press Pheasant Contest will be going to the same address.

Paul Pace, 3713 South Blvd. E., and his son, Colby, finished 1-2 in the contest. Paul will receive a $50 savings bond and Colby a $25 bond.

The winning ringneck measured 43 inches. Colby's runner-up, shot the same day near Deckerville, was 41 1/4 inches long. Paul is a former contest winner.

The season was marked by a definite shortage of young roosters in Southeastern Michigan. Most of the ring-necks taken were birds two years old and over.

Quail hunting pressure was light. Few hunters were out for last Thursday's opener and, although more were afield on the weekend, the kill was light.

COVEYS MOVED

One thing the hunters found out: the coveys weren't always where they saw them during pheasant season.

A wide ranging, well-trained pointer or setter also is a big asset while quail hunting.

The woodcock and grouse seasons come to a close Friday in Southern Michigan. So does duck hunting in Michigan. Grouse will reopen Dec. 6.

Geese are legal until Nov. 30.

BIG HAUL — The trip from the hunting expedition to the Upper Peninsula brought a big haul for four area hunters, but most of the excitement took place in a near struggle with a wounded bear. Left to right were the members of the trip, Pat McLaughlin, Forest Olk, Virgil Klaty and Larry Olk. McLaughlin needed seven shots, emptying his rifle, to bring down the bear as it came at him.

DINNER FOR EIGHT — The four members in both the Robert Beth (left) and the Paul Strobel families will have wild turkey treat Thanksgiving Day at dinner time. A two-weekend excursion by the two men at Allegan State Recreation Area resulted in their successfully bagging an 8-pound-4-ounce and a 9-pound-5-ounce bird, respectively.

CONTEST STARTER — Cecil Smith of Rochester became the first entrant in the annual Pontiac Press Big Buck Contest when he reported in Tuesday morning with this 186-pounder. The buck had nine points on his rack, and three others had been broken off.

186-Pounder Starts Press Deer Contest

Oakland County deer hunters find deer in the Holly recreation area, Tuscola and Vassar game areas and on farms in Spring day already have a goal set for field, Rose and Milford townships.

The top weight presently in the Press Big Deer Contest is about 400-000 is expected to go into the northern half of the Lower Peninsula. Those who failed to score in the U.P. are expected to head south for the snow-covered Upper Peninsula.

A former native of Gogebic County — Cecil Smith now of 2759 Harrison in Rochester — returned home from that region yesterday and brought with him the first entry in the annual contest.

He dropped with one shot in the heart a nine-pointer that dressed out at 186 pounds. Smith and sons Bob (a Press carrier) and Alan were heading for their car late Saturday morning after an uneventful start.

While climbing a railroad embankment, they spotted the buck doing the same thing about 250 yards away. Smith's 32 Winchester Special did the job. He also killed a 186-pounder in that area 11 years ago.

A total of $150 in savings bonds will be awarded to the county resident who enters the heaviest buck in the contest.

The deer must be field-dressed and weighed on state approved scales. The hunter, weighmaster and a witness must sign the weight slip which is to be brought to The Press sports department.

A member of The Press staff also must see the deer. Entries will be accepted Monday through Saturday during the season from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. The deadline is noon, Dec. 6.

The season closes in the U.P. Nov. 28 and below the Straits Dec. 5.

TIRE TALK

Remember when part of the maintenance ritual in owning a car was the weekly check on tire air pressure? If we didn't watch it, we'd be driving on half flat tires in no time.

Then came built-in tubes and built-in tires in tubeless tires — and suddenly, no one is watching air pressure.

So, ironically enough, the long sought-after retention characteristic of built-in tubes into an ever-present safety problem. Since we no longer watch air pressures at all — a great many motorists are driving on tires which are under-inflated.

Under-inflation not only means greatly reduced tire mileage, but a dangerous increase in flexing and resultant heat. A rapidly over-flexing, badly overheated tire is a prime candidate for a blowout.

So the lesson is: First, take a look at the number of soft tires you pass on the road every day; and second, take a frequent, careful look at your own tire pressure — you may prevent a dangerous blowout.

And if you'd like a pro to check them — drop in any time, we'd be glad to — and it's free.

Repeal Due for Payment on Coyotes

LANSING (AP) — Bounty payments of coyotes will be repealed next legislative session, Sen. Carl O'Brien, D-Pontiac, chairman of the Senate Conservation Committee, predicted today.

O'Brien said following hearings held near Ontonagon, in the Upper Peninsula, it was the informal opinion of his committee that the last remnant of the old bounty system should be removed.

"The payment of bounties on coyotes has proven ineffective," O'Brien said. "We feel that the payment of these bounties constitutes a waste of taxpayers' money."

The last bounty to be removed, O'Brien said, was the one on foxes, saving about $200,000 a year.

Popular With Hunters

HARRISBURG (UPI) — The state game commission said Thursday it expects about 200,000 hunters to go after Pennsylvania's estimated 1,800 black bear population during the 1965 bear season Nov. 22-29.

Method of Assessing Undeveloped Land Revised Under Law

TROY — The city's method of assessing undeveloped land is being revised under a new state law assessing land at 50 per cent of its value.

City manager Paul York said that in many cases, land values in the city are higher than the assessed valuation. He said that the city now assesses at about 43 per cent.

He explained that the revision will not effect budgeting methods, as the total assessed valuation in the city is converted to equalized valuation for budget purposes.

A recent study shows that some land values have increased 300 to 400 per cent in the last 10 years. Land which was selling for $2,000 to $3,000 an acre 10 years ago is now selling for $10,000 and $15,000 an acre, according to the study.

4-MONTH STUDY

The adjustments will take about four months and will not be used as a base for computing taxes until 1967, York said.

The city would like to have its share of a $1 million surplus from the Dequindre Interceptor funds applied to principal and interest payments.

The City Commission voted Monday night to ask that its portion of the surplus, about $326,000, be credited to the city under a plan which applies the surplus to principal and interest installments. Another plan applies to principal installments only.

York said that after getting opinions of the 14 communities comprising the southeastern sewage district, the council will decide which method of refunding will be adopted.

ESTIMATED COST

The total estimated cost of the original project was $6,316,000, less a credit of $229,806 by Detroit.

The federal government awarded a grant of $1,366,538, leaving a balance of $5,549,461 to be financed by the county.

The communities involved agreed to pay off this balance in annual installments. The federal government then made a second grant of $1,377,671. The interceptor was enlarged with this money.

Survey of Farms Will Start This Month in State

A cross-section of farmers in the state will be interviewed the latter part of November and early December in a survey by the Crops Reporting Service, supported cooperatively by the U. S. D. A. and the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The farm fact gatherers will make on-the-spot interviews to collect information about crops and livestock in a scientifically chosen sample of farms, said Charles A. Hines, statistician in charge of the Michigan office at Lansing.

The count is part of a national survey of some 8,000 farms. Figures from this survey, plus those from mail-in reports of individual farmers and businessmen, help make up the crop and livestock reporting required in today's agricultural business, Hines said.

Genesee Looking Elsewhere for Water

Officials of the Genesee Valley taps a subglacial stream bed, "Today's tests are intended to substantiate the quantity of water source in northeast Genesee County," he said, adding that a water source in northeast Genesee County — some 14 miles strategic points along the water-bearing formation." Phillips could be established there in the Hampton of Johnson and Anderson.

With its attention diverted from possible water sources in Oakland County, the authority is concentrating on Richfield Township.

An exploratory well there was to be officially tested this morning.

Preliminary tests indicate that a permanent well drilled there could produce two to three million gallons of water a day.

The test is being run by Johnson and Anderson, Inc., Waterford Township engineering firm retained by the authority, and by well drillers from Layne-Northern Co. of Lansing.

WATER SOUGHT

The authority is composed of 11 townships interested in developing a water system which would loop Flint and serve the outlying communities.

Other municipalities, including Independence Township and Ortonville in Oakland County, have applied to the group for membership.

The authority last year applied to the Housing and Home Finance Agency for a $321,000 federal loan to explore the feasibility of establishing the system and to explore potential water sources in Genesee and north Oakland counties.

The application was opposed by a number of officials in Oakland County communities, who formed the North Oakland Water Association.

Early this month, the authority was notified the application had been turned down.

Receipt Needed for Evergreen

If you bring home the family Christmas tree before Dec. 1, be sure you get a receipt or bill of sale for it.

Transporting evergreens without such a document anytime except the month of December is in violation of the Christmas Greens Law, according to C. A. Boyer, chief of the plant industry division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Approved forms for shipment of trees and greens are available through Boyer's office in Lansing and at offices of county agricultural extension directors, the Michigan Department of Conservation, the Michigan State Police, and local sheriffs.

The Christmas Greens Law was enacted in 1962 to deter shipment of illegally harvested evergreens. Boyer said it applies to shipment of even single trees through the year, with exception of the period between Nov. 30 and Dec. 31. During December, he said, up to two trees per person may be transported without the permit.

Other laws apply to trees with rust.

This Couple Has Quite a Bit in Common

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — Tom Hambaugh and Rosa McDonald found a common interest. Both liked to hear radio broadcasts of the San Francisco Giants baseball games.

"Oh, dear, what will we talk about now?" Rosa asked after the season ended.

"Let's talk about getting married," suggested Tom.

The Rev. Joseph Fouquette married them at a rest home Tuesday.

Tom, who is blind, is 92. Rosa, nearly blind, is 91.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau reports that 92.4 per cent of U.S. households have television sets.

SPITS AT RUSK — A 25-year-old man (left), shouting "This in the name of my people" spits at Secretary of State Dean Rusk yesterday in Montevideo, Uruguay. The spitter, who reportedly missed, was seized by police and hauled away. The incident took place when Rusk, on a Latin American tour, had placed a wreath of flowers at the monument to Gen. Jose Artigas, the Uruguayan national hero.

Maneuver May Kill China Bid

U. S. Asks Two-Thirds Rule on U. N. Vote

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States appeared today to have killed Red China's chances for a U. N. seat this year with a maneuver that set off angry protests from Peking's supporters.

To make sure the door remained closed to Communist China, the United States and 10 other nations called on the General Assembly to stand by its 1961 decision that the seating question required a two-thirds majority.

U.S. representatives have insisted that Peking won't get even a simple majority.

They said they called for reaffirmation of the two-thirds rule only to speed up a decision.

Informal polls have indicated, however, that Peking might have enough votes to get in if only a simple majority was required.

LAST EFFORT

The United States has asked to speak just before the vote, apparently in a last effort to bolster its case.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, who has been ill with a virus, planned to make the final argument.

Johnson Asks for New Rights Bill on Juries

Says 'Stop Injustice to Negroes at Hands of All-White Panels'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has announced a new priority for the 1966 session of Congress: passage of a civil rights bill "to prevent injustice to Negroes at the hands of all-white juries."

The President, in his most sweeping civil rights speech since June, also told a meeting of 200 civil rights leaders last night he has altered all federal agencies that racial justice must be sought actively as "a positive purpose rather than a distant goal."

To this effect, Johnson said, he will ask the Civil Rights Commission today to make a broad study of the problems of race and education in the nation in hopes of aiding local governments to "build a school system that is color-blind."

TIDE OF CHANGE

The President told them, "The tide of change is running with the Negro American on this mid-November evening. Neither the ignorant violence of the Klan nor the despairing of Watts can reverse it."

The President's jury proposal received almost immediate endorsement from Rep. Emanuel Celler, head of the House Judiciary Committee which handles civil legislation.

LAWYERS SEE

"Every lawyer recognizes that legislation that would affect the jury system is indeed an extreme measure," Flowers said in a statement, "and strikes at the very foundation of our judicial process."

James Farmer, head of Congress of Racial Equality, urged the government to go even further and make it "a SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Four U.S. planes were lost on a bombing strike over North Viet Nam today, as sharp fighting raged for the fourth successive day in South Viet Nam's central highlands, a U.S. military spokesman announced.

One Navy and three Marine planes were downed during a strike against a key bridge on the railway line linking North Viet Nam's capital of Hanoi with the major port of Haiphong.

Two of the pilots were rescued, but one was killed and another was missing, the spokesman said.

North Vietnamese troops launched a new attack against a battalion from the U. S. 1st Cavalry.

Official sources said 800 Communists had been killed since Sunday but added that the toll would go higher. More U. S. troops had been killed than in any other single engagement of the war, sources said.

Reports from the battlefield said the Americans had withdrawn. However, an official spokesman in Saigon said no withdrawal had been made.

He said the cavalrymen had only "adjusted their positions" to avoid being hit by the B52 bombers.

No details were available on the latest Communist assault in the valley. The Americans were reported under heavy mortar fire, however.

REGROUPING

It was believed that the Communists may have regrouped for the assault. There was also speculation that the Reds had used relatively few mortars until today.

American casualties in the three-day battle were officially termed moderate. But U.S. officials in Saigon announced that in the week ending last Saturday, 56 Americans were killed in action in South Viet Nam and 230 were wounded.

It was the highest weekly toll so far of the war, topping the 70 killed and 237 wounded reported for the week before.

The casualty figures did not include losses at La Drang.

The cavalrymen in the La Drang Valley had held an area 500 yards in diameter since their helicopters brought them into the valley Sunday. They made virtually no attempt to enlarge their foothold but fought off repeated Communist attacks.

CHARGE ENEMY — Troops of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division charge forward and most of them fire their weapons on an enemy patrol beyond the perimeter of U.S. positions in Viet Nam's La Drang Valley near the Cambodian border.

The jungle foliage is devastated from three days of shelling and firing. Two U.S. battalions pulled out of the valley yesterday after killing 896 North Vietnamese troops.

Says Romney in Report

'Viet Action Stopping WW III'

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney believes American intervention in Viet Nam may be preventing World War III.

By intervening, the United States has saved South Viet Nam from defeat and tyranny, Romney said yesterday in a televised "Report to the People" on his recent three-day tour of Viet Nam.

The governor, who returned from the trip Saturday, told some 2,400 students at the University of Detroit:

"Our intervention . . . has probably prevented a shift in the balance of power in the world greater than if Hitler had conquered Europe."

Defeat of South Viet Nam, he said, would lead to the collapse of Southeast Asia and stimulate other false wars of liberation through Communist terror.

PROVOKE WW III

"This would easily provoke World War III," Romney declared. "The fall of Viet Nam" would panic Germany and other White House has adequate information to answer such questions as whether or not American planes should bomb Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital.

MORALLY RIGHT

Romney said the major conclusion from his trip is that what we are doing is morally right and necessary for the freedom of the human race.

Young Mother Raped on City's East Side

DETROIT (AP) — A month-long wave of violent crime has turned Detroit into a city of fear where women are arming themselves, leaving their lights burn all night and picking police stations in demands for protection.

A young white mother was kidnapped from her bed, terrorized at knifepoint and raped yesterday in a 90-minute ordeal at the hands of two Negroes, spreading the fear into an area of opulent homes now surrounded by an impoverished slum.

Residents have appealed and protested to Common Council and the police against the spreading violence.

In one suburban area, women, in fear of a giggling slasher, are arming themselves and lining up at a sheriff's office to apply for gun permits.

A police spokesman acknowledged that "serious crimes are up" in Detroit. He said the city has trouble recruiting enough policemen to keep the force at full strength.

TACTICAL UNIT

But he cited Detroit's new tactical mobile unit, a high speed mob control force, as evidence

An Analysis

Osteopath College Hurdles Viewed

Caught in a web of legislative pulling and hauling and professional rivalry, the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine projected for Pontiac is hopeful of quick disentanglement.

Needed to be resolved is a jurisdictional hassle in Lansing. At issue is whether the State Board of Education has the power to establish a $60-million authority to provide operating funds for osteopathic schools of medicine.

The legislature contends that since it has sole power to appropriate state moneys it holds the implicit prerogative of allocating funds for new medical facilities.

Another impediment to start of construction of the college, which plans to welcome a freshman class in 1970, is deflecting action taken by the Michigan State Medical Society.

This body has publicly proposed amalgamation with the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons and correlatively advocates expansion of the state's present medical school facilities as an alternative to the osteopathic college planned for Pontiac.

The osteopaths do not oppose expansion of existing medical schools, but point out that such a program including the proposed amalgamation would still not fill the urgent regional need for a large number of additional physicians.

They cite a 1959 report of the U.S. surgeon general that points

up the need not only for expansion of the present medical school setup but additionally for two more institutions. If this section of the country is to keep pace with present and growing demands for medical practitioners.

As a result of the conflicting viewpoints in both state and professional areas, a facility that would initially enroll a graduating class of 125 physicians, employ, with associated services, 1,714 people and develop within eight years into a $20-million institution with an annual payroll of $12 million, finds itself in the center of controversies swirling around it.

In an effort to rationalize the total proposition and hopefully

Reach Terms on Aluminum

Surplus Agreement
Satisfies Industry

NEW YORK (AP) — The controversy between the government and the aluminum industry appeared ended today with agreement on disposal of 1.4 million tons of surplus aluminum.

The industry seemed pleased with the agreement.

The producers and the government came to terms late Tuesday after two weeks of dispute in which President Johnson's administration forced the industry to roll back a price increase.

The controversy began when Olin Mathieson Co. raised prices of ingot half a cent and pound of fabricated metal one cent a pound.

BOOST RAPPED

The government called the boost inflationary and unjustified.

When other producers, including Aluminum Co. of America, the No. 1 producer, joined in the price increase, the General Services Administration threatened to throw 300,000 tons of its surplus metal on the market immediately.

In the face of this, the aluminum companies rescinded the increase and arrangements were made for discussions on orderly disposal of the stockpiled metal.

"This was basically what was being discussed before the controversy," an industry spokesman said. "This is what the industry people were feeling would be the best way of handling the stockpile."

The advantage now is that we have a planned disposal which, of course, is the way the industry would want it. This is the obvious advantage."

Lost in the Woods? Not So—Fire Chief

Pontiac Fire Chief James L. White, 60, reportedly lost Monday while deer hunting in the Upper Peninsula, checked back into a hunting camp northwest of Gladstone early yesterday morning.

White of 3061 St. Jude, Waterford Township, told companions he had been trailing deer when darkness fell Monday night.

He found a shack, started a fire and stayed the night, returning to the party's main camp before a search party was organized.

The group had been hunting in the La Branche area of Delta County, bordering the waters of Green Bay.

Kalamazoo Forgives Job Corps Incident

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The Job Corps and the City of Kalamazoo smoothed over any differences from Friday night's riot yesterday and Job Corps trainees were invited back to town.

One more weekend is to pass, however, before the doors to the city will be fully open.

Kalamazoo banned trainees

from the Fort Custer Job Corps training center at near-Battle Creek after Friday night's troubles.

A mob of youths broke windows and caused other property damage after an altercation at a dance to which the trainees were invited. A fight started over a trainee's lost coat.

Nine corpsmen and one civilian were charged with offenses ranging from misdemeanors to assault on a police officer.

FAULT UNKNOWN

Exact responsibility never was pinned down.

Representatives of all parties, including an aide of Gov. George Romney, consulted for two hours yesterday, then issued a statement saying trainees would be invited back to Kalamazoo and the city would work out a program to "promote wholesome and constructive leisure time activities."

John F. Borum, director of the Job Corps center, said he would ask the trainees to spend their time next weekend in Battle Creek or other communities.

"It is our hope," Borum said, "that all the activities we plan in Kalamazoo will be effective the weekend after that."

Yesterday's meeting followed a Monday night session of the Kalamazoo City Commission at which Mayor Raymond Hightower said, "We will not build a fence around Kalamazoo. We will try to arrange better relations between the boys and our community."

The Job Corps, an element of President Johnson's war on poverty, has 625 underprivileged youths at Fort Custer as trainees. Within another month the total is expected to be 1,500.

Vote Name Change for Detroit Hospital

DETROIT (AP) — The name of Detroit's Women's Hospital was changed Tuesday to Hutzel Hospital in honor of Eleanor Hutzel, 81, a trustee since 1939.

The action was taken in a unanimous vote by the hospital's combined Board of Managers and Board of Trustees.

The hospital was established in 1869. It has admitted men since 1918.

California Shows Its Newest Fashions

AP Wirephoto

AP Wirephoto

Ricco of California depicts the ultimate in femininity in this two-piece gown of imported Venice Lace, accented by a silk-Satin Empire sash. Designer John Brandt completes the Total Look with a three-quarter length companion coat of matching satin. Sizes 6-16.

The jacketed dress is an ideal selection for a mid-winter cruise. Here is a predicted favorite by Charles Cooper. The sleeveless sheath is sashed in scarf silk matched to the little border-print jacket. Of Italian silk with paisley patterned silk of red and gold, available in sizes 8 to 16.

Local Folk Are Eager for Music

Sometimes an event proves so popular that it runs away from its sponsors. This is happening to the family concert committee of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

The season's first family concert on Sunday will feature "Music You Have Heard Before."

Mrs. Palmer Strang, publicity chairman, announces that all 2200 season tickets have been sold.

But, she also says that all unoccupied seats 10 minutes before concert time will be sold to anyone at the door.

TWO PERFORMANCES

There will be two performances at Pontiac Northern High School, one at 3 p.m., the second at 4:30 p.m.

Alice Dutcher, an instructor at the Detroit Institute of Music-Art, will be the soloist.

She has sung with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and the American Light Opera of Washington, D.C.

Selections to be heard are Overture to William Tell and "La Cenerentola Non Tin Mesta" by Rossini; "The Girl With the Flaxen Hair" by Debussy; Brahms' Hungarian Dance No. 5; two arias from Carmen by Bizet; and "March Roccoco" by Berlioz.

Felix Resnick will conduct.

DINNER

The board of directors of the symphony hosted a dinner Tuesday evening in Northern High School for the orchestra.

Assisting Mrs. Joseph C. Walker, chairman, were Mrs. J. L. Bennett, Mrs. W. F. Daines, Mrs. M. F. Hathaway and Mrs. G. A. Harkless.

Others were Mrs. C. E. Patton, Mrs. S. V. Sekles and Mrs. R. B. Strang.

Can't Abide Son-In-Law

Cater to Which One?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our eldest daughter has just married a rather crude man of whom we are ashamed, but rather than hurt her we've accepted him as gracefully as possible.

Our middle daughter, who is away at college, has written to tell us she'd like to bring two of her college chums home for

ABBY

Thanksgiving, but if her brother-in-law is going to be there she'll not bring them, as she doesn't want her friends to get a bad impression of her entire family.

We've already invited our eldest daughter and her husband for Thanksgiving dinner and hate to revoke the invitation. But isn't it unfair to deprive our middle daughter of having guests because of this awkward situation?

WEST HARTFORD MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Tell your college daughter that if she wants to bring her friends, to bring them!

Her brother-in-law can disgrace only himself, and his crudeness will reflect on the sister who chose him, and no one else.

In my opinion, maintaining good family relations with your married daughter makes more sense than locking the skeleton in the closet in order to present a more pleasing family portrait for your younger daughter's chums.

DEAR ABBY: I am being married soon and I am going into my fourth month, but nobody knows it. I already have my wedding dress, which fit me when I bought it two months ago when I wasn't sure of my condition.

If I tell my mother, it will upset all our plans, which I don't want to do. Would it be bad for the baby if I wore a tight corset? Thank you.

SKIP MY NAME

DEAR SKIP: ASK YOUR DOCTOR! But I warn you, it will be like trying to smuggle down past a rooster.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Mass Killing Story Unfolds

POPE TELLS JURY HOW MIND WAS AFFECTED

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The strange story of a quiet, self-effacing football star who suddenly turned bank robber and murderer has been unfolding for more than two weeks in a federal district courtroom.

On trial is Duane E. Pope, 22, a Roxbury, Kan., farm boy, who five days after his May 30 graduation from college, robbed a bank in Big Springs, Neb., of $1,500 and methodically shot the four employees as they lay face down on the floor.

A guilty verdict could bring a death sentence.

INSANITY PLEA

INSANITY HAS BECOME THE SOLE DEFENSE OF THE McPHERSON (Kan.) College all-conference lineman, has been his own star.

On the stand Tuesday for his second day of testimony, Pope told of being seized last May by a picture of himself "shooting the victim."

The vision returned more and more often as graduation time neared, particularly "whenever I wasn't doing something, like late at night," said the soft-spoken defendant.

On one occasion, he said, he was gripped by a nearly uncontrollable urge to shoot his brother, Dennis, 19, while the two were fishing.

BOUGHT GUNS

As the school year neared its end, Pope bought in succession a revolver and an automatic pistol, and fashioned homemade silencers for them. The automatic became the death weapon.

He said the shooting vision preceded the bank robbery idea, but the two "became connected somehow."

This was laid the groundwork for defense claims that Pope, at a scholastic personality unable to vent his aggressions, was catapulted by mental illness into what defense attorney Robert B. Crosby, former Nebraska governor, has described as a "nightmare of events."

U.S. Dist. Atty. Theodore R. King of Omaha has paraded 50 witnesses before jurors in support of the government's contention that Pope rationally, carefully and deliberately planned the holdup killings.

News in Brief
