

Dems Grab Senate Control With Slim Margin

United Fund Drive Extended One Week

Flash Victory Smiles

THE VICTOR—Smiles tell the story as Averell Harriman and his wife pose for photographers after the Democrat was conceded New York's governorship. Harriman beat Sen. Irving Ives.

WINNER—Rep. George Bender (R), will sit in the Senate for the two years remaining of the term of the late Robert Taft. The Republican defeated Thomas A. Burke, Democrat.

THE "VEEP" COMES BACK—Former Vice President Alben Barkley and his wife show their happiness at election returns in Kentucky which placed the "Veep" back in the Senate.

Rayburn Promises Dems Will Probe Security Issue

WASHINGTON (UP)—Speaker-designate Sam Rayburn said today that when the Democrats take control of the House they will demand that the Republicans "put up or shut up" on their claims of mass dismissal of federal security risks.

Obviously irritated by Republican campaign charges that scores of holdovers from past Democratic administrations have been found questionable security risks, Rayburn said in a telephone interview from his home in Bonham, Tex., that the Democrats will "make them (the Republicans) lay it on the line on who they've fired and for what."

The Texas Democrat, whose election to a new term as speaker was assured when Democrats captured House control in Tuesday's election, made clear that investigations will rank along with important legislation on the agenda of the new 84th Congress.

The new Congress will face such controversial legislative issues as taxes and renewal of the flexible price support farm program.

$102,840 Needed to Reach Goal in Pontiac Area

Reports to Date Show
$422,443 Now Pledged
Toward $525,823

The Pontiac Area United Fund campaign was extended to Nov. 10 today as workers were short $102,840 of their $525,823 goal.

The fund-raising drive for 55 community, state and national services had been slated to end here at midnight tonight. The Nov. 10 closing date is the same as that for other major Michigan cities.

"We're on the 20-yard line and driving for goal," said Campaign Manager Frank S. Lyndall, "but we can't quit until we've put the ball over."

He expressed hope that workers now can complete their job quickly.

"We're certain the money is there," he stated, "but a number

Were You Missed?

Although volunteer workers have been doing an excellent job, United Fund leaders feel many persons wishing to give have not been contacted because of the wide area included in the drive. All those who wish to contribute and have not been contacted are urged to phone Mrs. A. W. Gault at FE 5-5088 and a solicitor will be sent to their home.

of volunteer workers have not turned in reports, although they are hard at work.

The $65,913 which has come into campaign headquarters in the Hotel Pontiac this week brings the drive within shooting distance of the top. Tally sheets show collections of $422,443, or 80 per cent of quota.

Optimism was expressed by leaders who know of many good reports still on volunteers' desks. They also reported calls from would-be donors who have not been contacted by solicitors.

The Commercial Division has reported $68,015 in contributions totaling 48 per cent of their $140,500 quota.

Geographical Division returns through Thursday brought the door-to-door canvassing total to $6,326, or 36 per cent of quota. The total includes $1,288 from the Waterford Township area.

Industries and their employees have contributed an additional $44,735 since the last report luncheon Oct. 27.

"We expect to go over the top soon, perhaps before the week-end," said Hazen S. Atkins, Industrial Division chairman.

"Workers in all divisions are urged to complete the job this week," Lyndall stated, "so the final reports luncheon Nov. 10 will be a victory luncheon."

Philly A's Reported Sold to Chicagoan

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—The Philadelphia Athletics were reported today to have been sold to Arnold Johnson, Chicago businessman, for transfer to Kansas City.

The Associated Press was told by a usually reliable source that the deal with Johnson was completed this morning at the bedside of 91-year-old Connie Mack.

Terms of the deal were not immediately available, but Johnson, upon leaving a two-hour conference with the ailing founder of the A's and his son, Earle, said he would have a statement in about an hour.

That was about 11:30 a.m. EST. The disclosure that the team had been sold came as Earle walked through the lobby of his father's apartment, his head bowed, his expression forlorn.

First Michigan governor to win four terms — Democrat G. Mennen Williams.

First Democratic-controlled legislature elected in Hawaii.

Says Sheppard Was Unfaithful

Prosecution Statement
Airs Osteopath's Affair
With Pretty Technician

CLEVELAND (UP)—The prosecution insisted today that a secret love affair with cute Susan Hayes and dalliance with "other women" drowns Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard to murdering his wife, Marilyn.

Opening a drive to send the handsome osteopath to the electric chair, Asst. Prosecutor John J. Mahon solemnly proclaimed to a jury of seven men and five women:

"He and Susan Hayes corresponded. They had talked together of divorce and marriage. They corresponded in endearing terms."

"We expect the evidence to disclose that this defendant and Marilyn quarreled over activities of Dr. Samuel Sheppard with other women — that that's the reason she was killed."

Susan Hayes was a laboratory technician who once worked in the same Bay Village hospital with the defendant.

Mahon scoffed at the handsome osteopath's insistence that a "bushy haired" intruder killed Marilyn in her bed July 4.

"No one was in that home to commit a burglary," he said. "But that was arranged to deceive people."

Sheppard visited his house on the shore of Lake Erie yesterday during a jury tour of the murder scene. He clenched his fists and bit his lips as he walked with misty eyes through the home.

Three times he burst into tears. The first was when he saw an old and yellowed teddy bear on top of a dresser. The toy once had belonged to his son Chip, 7, now staying with one of Sheppard's brothers.

He cried again when he walked into another room to face a photograph of his son, and once more while standing outside the house he had not seen since a few days after the slaying.

Yesterday, the 12th day of the trial, moved swiftly after a long tussle over seating of the jury.

Election Fraud Probe Started in New York

ALBANY, N.Y. (UP)—New York State Atty. Gen. Nathaniel Goldstein today launched a sweeping statewide investigation of reported voting frauds in Tuesday's gubernatorial election, as Averell Harriman's fragile margin of victory dipped and bobbed with unofficial recanvass reports.

A vote check in Nassau County yesterday gave the Democratic-Liberal nominee 4,319 more votes, but a similar re-examination in Onondaga County netted 1,493 more for U.S. Sen. Irving M. Ives, the Republican hopeful.

And in Portland, Ore., extraordinary precautions have been taken throughout the state to protect the ballots in Oregon's dramatic election until the official count is completed on Dec. 1.

President Says He'll Cooperate With Democrats

Ike Shows Forgiving,
Compromising Mood
After Elections

From Our Wire Services

WASHINGTON — At his news conference Wednesday, President Eisenhower was in a forgiving, compromising mood, referring to his "friends" among the Democrats and his plans to confer with that party's leaders during the next two years when the Congress will be in enemy hands.

The President evidently has in mind seeking a peaceful middle-of-the-road course.

He said the returns did not change his plans in any way, which raised again the question of a second term. Eisenhower has told friends he would not run.

But he has made firm political pronouncements before and they have frequently failed to stand up. His latest was just more than a year ago when he said he would not get mixed up in this year's congressional campaign.

The immediate past promises small comfort for Eisenhower. When Herbert Hoover was President for two years with a Democratic House he had trouble almost beyond his capacity to bear, some of it from pure politicking in Congress.

Former President Truman feuded with the Republican 80th Congress, but made its record his own political asset.

But as of today, Eisenhower is looking for no fight, only sweetness and light. He told news conference questioners he regretted his campaign remark that Democratic control of Congress would bring a "cold war" to American politics.

There was genuine grief at the White House over the defeat of Sen. John Sherman Cooper in Kentucky by former Vice President Alben W. Barkley. (Continued on Page 29, Col. 2)

Birmingham Pair Happy

VOTERS TAKE HART — Philip A. Hart, Democratic Lieut. Governor-elect, and his wife hold hands in their Birmingham home and smile over election returns which spell victory for Hart along with other Democratic state candidates who also won their contests Tuesday.

Employment Shift

Democrats Lansing Bound as Republicans Hunt Jobs

By UNITED PRESS

The tremendous Democratic sweep in Tuesday's off-year elections left many of Michigan's top Republicans looking for jobs today.

In addition to their smashing victories in the governor and senatorial races, the Democrats elected a full slate of state administrative officials, gained two seats in the U. S. House of Representatives and nearly won a majority in the state House of Representatives.

It meant Michigan's new Capitol Hill delegation will consist of one Republican and one Democrat in the Senate and 11 Republicans and seven Democrats in the House.

The only bright spot in the Michigan election picture for the GOP was the ability of Republicans to hang onto their majority in the State Senate.

Donald S. Leonard, who failed in his bid to unseat Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams was one of the more prominent Republican job-seekers.

"I've spent all my time since June on the campaign and haven't given any thought to future plans," Leonard said. "But I can't vacation. I've got to get to work."

Sen. Homer Ferguson, upset by Patrick V. McNamara in the Democratic sweep, also faced the prospect of unemployment.

Ferguson offered no clue to his future plans but his wife said she believed he would return to his private law practice.

Woman Survived by 108

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—A 91-year-old resident of nearby Wadsworth died yesterday, leaving 108 direct descendants. She was Mrs. Allie Beebe, mother of 11 children, grandmother of 31, great-grandmother of 64 and great-great-grandmother of 2.

Cost Higher by Older Method

The antiquated paper ballot voting system is costing Pontiac taxpayers more and more in each election.

This was vividly brought to light yesterday when it was noted that the Pontiac Press was able to tabulate election results from some machine precincts in Oakland County two hours after the polls closed.

Some election boards in the city however worked for 14 hours counting the results from the paper ballots.

Only six townships and the City of Pontiac in Oakland County are now without voting machines.

These areas included 54 precincts, of which 44 are in Pontiac City. Actually, the Press tabulation of the county was not complete until 17 hours after the polls closed but this was due to a misunderstanding by some precinct workers.

Morse's Vote Assures Party of Upper House

Arizona's Sen. Hayden
Voices Doubts About Taking Reins

From Our Wire Services

WASHINGTON — Senate control in the new Congress—barring some upset by recanvasses in tight elections—fell to the Democrats today on a victory by Richard L. Neuberger over Republican Sen. Guy Cordon in Oregon.

Election of Neuberger, 41-year-old author, assured the Democrats of 48 seats in the Senate.

This is exactly half the Senate membership but is enough for Democratic control since Sen. Morse, Oregon Independent, has announced he will vote with the Democrats on organization of the Senate.

There seemed little doubt of Democratic readiness and willingness to take on the job even though one of their veterans, Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona, questioned whether they should take the reins in a situation where one member's death might wipe out the party margin and force another shift.

Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia, senior senator, said he thought the Democrats should take the responsibility if they have the votes to do so.

And Sen. Pastore (D-RI) told reporters, "There is no doubt about it. We now have a definite obligation to the public who have put Democrats in control of both the Senate and the House."

Similarly, Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said, "I don't think the Democrats will run from responsibility if the people give it to them."

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic floor leader, took the attitude that there was no reason for a rush about the issue. "I don't speculate on conjecture," he said in Texas.

Johnson added that he would be in Washington Friday night and would talk about it then.

The Senate is to convene in special session Monday to consider a recommendation by a special committee that it adopt a resolution censuring Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) for conduct unbecomingly.

Weather to Continue Damp, Snowy Here

More damp, snowy weather is the forecast for Pontiac and vicinity, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Cloudy skies and rain or snow will continue tonight, changing to snow flurries today. Low tonight will be 32 to 34 with more cloudy skies and rain or snow ending tomorrow. High Friday is expected to be 38 to 42.

Yesterday's temperatures in downtown Pontiac registered between 32 and 46, with bright sunny skies all day.

This morning at 8 o'clock the mercury stood at 35 degrees, remaining almost constant and reaching only 36 by 2 p.m.

Voting Machines Give Fast Results as Workers Toil Over Paper Ballots

The longer the boards worked, the more the election cost the taxpayers.

According to Pontiac City Clerk Ada Evans, election precinct workers are paid $1 an hour and the precinct chairman is paid an extra dollar.

Mrs. Evans said that election boards in the city worked an average of seven hours after the polls closed. She estimated that boards in machine precincts worked an average of two hours after closing time.

With these figures as a basis, the election in the city cost taxpayers an estimated $6,204. The cost to taxpayers in the same number of machine precincts was $4,664, a saving of $1,540.

According to Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, voting machines cost $1,500 each.

Mrs. Evans said that returns from city precincts were fast considering the use of paper ballots and the record number of votes cast. She said 22,350 votes had to be counted from the city's 41 precincts. Previous high for an off-year election was 19,211 in 1950.

Color of Posts Will Mark Short-Term Parking Meters

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Color-blind motorists may not be able to take as much advantage of the city's new plan for easing the parking situation, but Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley and the City Commission hope to see less traffic congestion after Dec. 1 when 20 short-term parking meters are installed in the downtown shopping area.

Posts holding the 30-minute meters will be painted a distinguishing color from the city's one-hour meters on silver posts, and the two-hour meters on red posts, and will be placed in "high demand" locations. All of them will be located in parking spaces immediately adjacent to an intersection or driveway.

After December motorists traveling down Maple avenue will find 16 of the trial meters between Woodward and Bates. The other four will be put at Martin and Henrietta and Pierce and Henrietta.

A plan to place five such meters in front of the post office on Martin was considered, but instead three one-hour meters will be installed at the west end of the block on the north side of the street. This will leave five spaces for free 15-minute parking.

Two-hour meters on the south side of Martin from Henrietta to Chester, in front of Shain park and Baldwin Library, will be changed to one-hour, as will those on Pierce street on the east side of the municipal building.

Another big change coming Dec. 1 is the elimination of the one-cent meter.

While such a step may be a little more inconvenient to the shopper, in terms of having the right coins available, it is expected to be a boon in doing away with some of the mechanical difficulties and labor charges.

Straight nickel meters may result in an estimated 10 to 15 per cent revenue increase.

With only a quarter of the working time remaining, returns are lagging behind their earlier pace in the Torch Drive, John K. Stevenson, general chairman of the Birmingham-Bloomfield-Franklin area drive, reported. Of the $188,000 goal, $61,196 still must be collected between now and Nov. 11, he emphasized.

Latest returns total more than the comparable period last year, Stevenson said, "but are still behind the increase necessary to account for a bigger quota and the inclusion of the Red Cross in the drive."

Although the total number of gifts is below the needed pace, Mrs. J. Rowland Quinn, campaign director, said there was a decided trend toward increased giving.

She urged solicitors to turn in returns even if they are partial, and added that campaign headquarters in the Briggs Building will be open all day Saturday and until 8 each night.

Third in a series of four lectures will be given at 8 tonight at the Community House when the Rev. Russell L. Lincoln, minister of the Unitarian Church here, speaks on "The Validity of Ancient Ideas." A question and discussion period will follow and the lecture is open to the public.

If 20 boys register at the YMCA, a Saturday afternoon swimming session will be started at a Pontiac pool, with the program continuing until June. Edwin F. Kirby, Y secretary, said advance instruction will be available during the one-hour swimming period. A charge will be made for a locker fee and transportation, by Y bus.

City commissioners this week honored Harold J. Hall, who last week retired after 39 years of service with the Detroit Edison Co., and 9 years as district manager here.

A resolution of appreciation was passed commending Hall for contributing "generously of his time and ability on many occasions in various civic services during his term as district manager in Birmingham."

Fanny L. Morley

Private service for Fanny L. Morley, 84, of Bloomfield Hills, was held today at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., with burial in Roseland Park Cemetery. She died yesterday.

Survivors include two brothers, Walter G. and Bert, both of Birmingham, and a sister, Mrs. Kathleen Moore.

Ralph S. Beale

Service for Ralph S. Beale, 65, of 2004 E. Square Lake Road, Troy Township, was held this afternoon at St. Paul's Chapel of Christ Church Cranbrook, with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

He died Saturday following injuries received in an auto accident. Active in Oakland County Republican affairs, Mr. Beale was retired sales manager of the Norge division of the Borg-Warner Corp.

Survivors include his widow, Mae, a son, Robert O., with the U.S. Army in Korea, and a sister, Mrs. Max Beckstedt of Albany, N. Y.

Third Vote Possible on New Courthouse

One group has maintained the courthouse should be kept in downtown Pontiac, while another group moving the building to the city's western outskirts as planned by the Board of Supervisors.

Building committee chairman H. Lloyd Clawson said he was against changing the proposed site because about $250,000 has been invested in a heating plant to service the courthouse and other county buildings already located there.

Clare R. Cummings, a supervisor from Pontiac, said he thought the planned location had brought the negative vote. But Birmingham Supervisor David Levinson stated he felt citizens had voted against the tax raise not the site.

Pontiac, where the location controversy was the hottest, returned more "yes" votes than was expected, Levinson stated.

The committee decided to study the problem further before making a recommendation to the Board of Supervisors.

once A. Reid, Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary, Attorney General Frank G. Millard, State Treasurer D. Hale Brake and Auditor General John B. Martin Jr.

Meanwhile, the victorious Democrats indicated they would vacate for a short while before preparing for the jobs they will assume after the first of the year.

Williams said he would "rest up" at an undisclosed spot for the remainder of the week but return in time to take his children to the University of Michigan football game at Ann Arbor Saturday.

U. S. Senator-elect McNamara said he would "sleep and relax" before making further plans for the job he will take Jan. 2.

Other Democrats who will take up new duties after the first of the year included Philip A. Hare, secretary of state; Thomas M. Kavanaugh, attorney general; Sanford Brown, state treasurer; and Victor Targonski, auditor general.

In addition, three Democrats will assume new duties in the House of Representatives in Washington.

Mrs. Martha W. Griffiths, Charles C. Diggs Jr. and Donald Hayworth will bring the number of Michigan Democrats in the House to seven. Four Democratic incumbents were reelected.

Republicans also will have a new face in the House. August E. Johanson was out in a close race for the seat left vacant by the death of Rep. Paul W. Shafer this summer.

Democrats returning to Congress will be Reps. John D. Dingell, the delegation's dean, Louis C. Rabaut, John Lesinski and T. M. Machrowicz, all elected from Wayne County. Hayworth defeated Rep. Kit Clardy, a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee, in the Sixth District race, while Mrs. Griffiths displaced Rep. Charles Oakman (R-Mich) in the 17th.

Republicans returning to Congress will be led by Jesse P. Wollcott of Port Huron. Others will include Reps. George Dondero, George Meader, Clare Hoffman, Gerald Ford, Alvin M. Bentley, Ruth Thompson, Elford Cederberg, Victor C. Knox and John B. Bennett.

Police Warn Parents to Instruct Children

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP

Bloomfield Township Police Chief Clark J. Green has issued a warning to parents in the area to see that their children are informed of the danger of accepting bicycle rides or getting into cars with strangers.

Green cited a recent incident in the township where a five-year-old girl accepted a bicycle ride from a strange boy who attempted to molest her.

"Do not frighten your children with lurid tales," Green advised parents, "but be alert to the danger and guard against it by warning your children to avoid talking, riding with, or accepting candy or gifts from strangers."

Bootleg 'Scotch' Whisky

Produced in Hong Kong
HONG KONG (INS)—War-time drinkers of what passed for Scotch whisky in the U. S., may be interested to know that the distillers of that brew are hard at work in Hong Kong.

The department of commerce reports the seizure of 54 illicit stills during September including one in a cave with several escape exits.
It was not known whether the exits were provided for quick flight from the law or the disillusioned customers.

ROK Rejects Red Unification Parley

SEOUL (U)—South Korea's National Assembly today unanimously adopted a resolution denouncing a Communist North Korean bid for North-South negotiations on unification.

The Assembly resolution at the same time proclaimed opposition to any attempt to neutralize the peninsula.

The latest of three North Korean feater bids was made Tuesday in a Pyongyang broadcast of a North Korean Peoples Congress resolution calling for North-South negotiations.

Two Blind Democrats Elected to JP Posts

TRINIDAD, Colo. (U)—Two blind men — both Democrats — were elected justices of the peace here in Tuesday's election.

Joe Spicola, sightless since childhood, was named to a third term. Tony E. Barrows, World War II veteran blinded while in the service, won his first term.

Reveals Attempt to Assassinate Chiang Kai-shek

LOS ANGELES (U)—Chiang Kai-shek's pastor has disclosed what he calls an attempt to assassinate the generalissimo in a Formosan church three years ago.

Dr. Wei-Ping Chen, 78-year-old Methodist minister and pastor of a chapel on Chiang Kai-shek's conference yesterday.

"One Sunday we noted a strange er joining the congregation. Someone engaged him in conversation and learned that he was no Christian. Police intervened and found that he had a dagger strapped to his leg.

"Under questioning he admitted he was a Communist agent, sent from the mainland to do away with the generalissimo."

Dr. Chen came here from Formosa for a two-month tour of the United States with a traveling evangelist.

General recognition of horse colors is gray, roan, dun, bay, brown, black and chestnut.

Woman Elected Sheriff by Refusing to Give Up

GALENA, Ill. (U)—Mrs. Emma Grebner, 46, wanted her husband's job as sheriff of Jo Daviess County and she won it the hard way.

She was defeated for the Republican nomination for the post by Percy Hutchinson. But in Tuesday's election, running as an independent, she beat Hutchinson by 39 votes and was far ahead of the Democratic candidate.

Mrs. Grebner, who is chief deputy sheriff, will take over the post

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (U)—The bulk of cartoonist George McManus' estate goes to his widow Florence under terms of his will filed for probate yesterday.

Balloters Ignore Editor's Advice, Elect Him Clerk

FARMINGTON, Mo. (U)—Voters followed Jess Stewart's editorial advice—with one exception. The exception was Jess Stewart.

Stewart, editor of the weekly Farmington Press, yesterday was re-elected St. Francois County circuit clerk despite his editorial campaign for his own defeat.

Voters, however, heeded his advice to oust all other incumbents in the county—38 Republicans and 1 Democrat went out of office.

Stewart, a Democrat, had urged the people to support his Republican opponent and criticized himself for dividing his time between the county office and his newspaper.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Tuesday's Election

The voters have spoken. They want changes. Both the Senate of the United States and the House of Representatives were controlled by the Republican Party by a narrow margin before Tuesday. Now the Democrats rule the House. Probably they rule the Senate. The margin is so slim that it's uncertain as this is written.

The State of Michigan turned out an entire Republican group of officeholders with the exception of Governor G. Mennen Williams and replaced them with Democrats. Governor Williams was returned for his fourth term and his majority was convincing and overwhelming.

Senator Homer Ferguson, long time representative of Michigan and a power in Federal governmental circles was retired. His place is taken by Patrick McNamara, a new figure who received telling opposition in the primary by a man in his grave, but Patrick's now the boy in Washington.

Michigan probably constituted the scene of the Democrats' greatest victory. Many other States elected Democratic Governors or Senators but it remained for Michigan to sweep five State officeholders, plus a United States Senator to the sidelines in favor of new faces. This is practically a grand slam, doubled.

Oakland County remained Republican. A complete ticket was elected. Congressman George Dondero was handily returned to his post in Washington where he has served with distinction to himself and his constituents for more than two decades. Outstate Michigan was largely Republican and Wayne County was largely Democratic. However, Wayne was more heavily Democratic than outstate was Republican. That spelled the difference.

Pontiac city voted for the hospital. This means local officials can begin construction on the badly needed addition as soon as practical. The sixty per cent stipulation on the hospital ballot meant that it required an affirmative vote of 9,358 and it received 9,689, a winning margin of only 331 votes. It was a narrow squeak but happily the measure passed.

The Courthouse was rejected. This means business probably continues "as usual" for an indefinite period on the corner of Saginaw and West Huron Streets.

Whose move is it now? Republicans are asking: "what happen?" (And some of the Democrats are, too.)

The "off-year" election has gone to the party out of power several times in succession and the adherents of the Donkey were confident of winning the House easily and the Senate after a little sterner tussle. Back scene observers were conceding this several weeks ago.

The Republican campaign was probably too late and too little. The GOP did make some strides in the last week, according to polls, but the scales were tipped too far. The President who is still a great popular figure, entered the lists too late and played too small a role. Either he underestimated the opposition or underrated his own possibilities.

On the other hand, many Democratic margins were perilously slim for the Dems had anticipated bigger things and many landslides. It was a time of conflicting currents.

Anyway, the people have spoken. And they talked Democratic. But they still speak in America.

That's a part of the Great Glory that belongs to this country. In other places the people vote as they're told. Or they don't vote at all. Well, that's that. O. K. everybody. Back to work. There's lots to do.

GATT Meets in Geneva

Geneva, Switzerland, is the scene this week of the ninth annual session of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

The importance of this gathering stems from the opportunity it affords 34 member Nations, including the United States, to reduce tariffs and trade discriminations and quotas.

Organized in 1947 to halt the destructive wave of trade restrictions growing out of the war, GATT's record includes more victories than defeats. In the operation the agreement has reinforced U. S. foreign economic policy.

With reconstruction overseas largely completed and our exporters facing buyers' markets, GATT stands to benefit us in the future even more than in the past. Anything our Government can do to open foreign markets to U. S. competitive selling will help our exporters.

These facts obviously should be kept in mind by our delegations while the General Agreement is up for critical re-examination.

The Man About Town

Named to Faculty
 Former Pontiac Girl Makes Good in California School

Politics: A perennial condition that only gets more aggravated around election time.

A former Pontiac girl, now living at Santa Ana, Calif.,

Miss Joanne Roselle, has been appointed to the faculty of Anaheim Conservatory of Music. When here she began her violin studies under

Miss Bertha Marie Roth, continuing through her junior high school year, when her family moved west. There she obtained a scholarship to study under the late Vladimir Lenki, whose fame in the music world is widely known.

A sweet feminine voice, phoning for election returns Wednesday, asked, "Is he elected?" When asked to whom she referred, she said, "Boopy Williams. Is anybody else running?"

Hundreds of Pontiac people observed an enormous flock of wild geese flying over the city Wednesday forenoon in a perfect "V" formation. With a good eye for making estimates, Sgt. Tolton Rigg of the police department placed the number around 350. They were headed southeast.

A worker for the United Fund campaign, Mrs. E. L. Bradley, tells us that she visited 34 beauty shops in Pontiac, and found every one open and span. "If I had been an inspector, I could not have lodged a single complaint," she said. "The shops and the operators were neat and clean. To visit them was a pleasure."

On being told on the phone that the courthouse millage proposition had been defeated by a big majority, a man who would identify himself only as

"A Believer in Progress," asked, "Now where do we go from here?"

Although the cotton crop of her parents in Texas was ruined this year by the drought, Mrs. George Delling of Huron Gardens raised to a good yielding maturity a cotton plant which she brought home from there last spring.

Sweeping away the snow in her garden, Mrs. Phoebe Anderson of Drayton Plains found strawberry plants in full bloom.

So many pinecone stunts are reported that space limitations prohibit their mention. Thanks, however, to the good people who send them in.

Driving in from Dryden to his work in Pontiac every morning,

Harvey Fissure says he has frequently seen a strange looking wild animal cross the highway in the big woods a couple of miles north of Leonard.

How Can Human Beings Be So Cruel to Poor Animals Asks 'Chicken Hearted'

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

How can people be so cruel as to dump an innocent animal out of their cars?

Recently in the vicinity of the YMCA a woman was seen to stop her car and push a little dog out onto the street and ever since it has been roaming around.

Evidently these people do not know that animals can suffer and that dogs are man's best friends.

Says Nancy Williams Went Too Far

Normal People Go Through 5 Stages of Emotional Development During Life

You are made up of 5 personalities so everybody is a "quintuplet". But not all of our quintuplet beings are of equal size. We may be physically grown but be mentally or morally childish etc. So take the test given below and apply it to your friends too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case M-358: Martha W., aged 52, is the mother of Tom, who was discharged from military service because of homosexuality.

"Dr. Crane, you say that homosexuality indicates emotional immaturity," Martha began.

"But Tom has been a brilliant boy. He had a superior IQ. And he was an honor student in college."

"So how could he be retarded in his emotions?"

We are really quintuplets in our human personality. Every body time can be rated on the basis of his physical development. Some mature faster than others.

Then our IQ or intelligence is another aspect to be rated. We may be feeble-minded or brilliant geniuses.

Then we have our emotional growth. Some people remain retarded in this field.

Fourth, we list moral development, for some people never grow up in their appreciation of property rights. They steal even after 21, just as toddlers take the playthings of other youngsters.

Finally, we should be rated in economic development. Many people who are physically mature and with a high IQ still are babyish in handling money. They can't live on a budget.

So you can be retarded in one or more phases of your quintuplet personality. And that was Tom's trouble.

At birth we are in the egocentric stage of our emotional development. The world revolves around our selfish desires. We have no concern for anybody else, not even our parents.

So the baby will cry and disturb the sleep of its mother with no concern for her at all. The baby is solely interested in satisfying its own wants and comfort.

Many adult men and women still remain in this infantile or egocentric emotional stage. We call such patients psychopathic personalities.

Oh, they may have college diplomas and be fairly mature in other aspects of their personality but they are unfeeling and unsympathetic, even for their parents or mates or children.

that we were apologizing for sending such men as Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson to Washington.

She went too far to make such a statement for such men are an honor to our state and nation.

G. W. Smith Answers Clark Wheaton

Mr. Clark Wheaton, I have been hunting for thirty-three years in Michigan and would like to know which year it was that hundreds of hunters were killed. Also since when did deer have horns? If four hundred thousand drivers got their license through you, I suppose no one would even get hurt.

I know you never were a child so you would not know what it means to be a boy to go hunting for the first time. I say get more of the boys off the street and into the woods and we would have less in court.

The Conservation Department is doing a wonderful job, why blame them?

While McCarthy himself was hardly mentioned on the stump, the anti-Communist issue did play a vital part in some of the races. There are reports, for instance, that tens of thousands of persons — estimated by some at 250,000 — sent in postcards to Senator Ives, who was running for the governorship of New York, warning him that they would not vote for him unless he announced his opposition to the Senate motion against McCarthy pending in the Senate. Ives was defeated by less than 15,000. There was a huge stay-at-home vote in New York State.

5. The most insidious influence in the campaign began to be noticed several months ago when the so-called liberals insisted on a showdown fight with the faction of the Republican Party to which the late Senator Taft belonged. While they were theoretically right in urging a clear-cut assertion by the President on various policies, they were wrong in forcing the cleavage as far as they did. It resulted in many thousands of protest votes in nearly every senatorial contest.

6. If ever a united Republican Party was needed, it was in the 1954 elections. The factionalism worked both ways. Many of the "Citizens for Eisenhower" didn't support Meek, the Republican nominee in Illinois, and many of the pro-Taft or pro-McCarthy Republicans set everything right in a jiffy.

But once again we are stopped in our tracks by the tender care of the federal bureau to protect you poor souls against such "poison." It seems that zealous devotion to such restriction of the sale of a few low-profit items distracts attention from the indiscriminate sale of acetaminide, for instance, the sense-deadening ingredient in a score of nostrums that purport to cure or relieve "cold," grip, headache, neuralgia, or whatever ache, pain or discomfort you may have.

Acetaminide (phenylacetamide) or its substitute phenacetin (acetophenitidine) destroys red blood corpuscles, interferes with the vital oxygen-carrying function of the hemoglobin in the blood, causes anemia (oxygen deficit) in the cells of the body, particularly in heart muscle. This anemia is the lethal feature of heart failure, be it slow heart muscle failure (myocardial) or more acute (heart attack).

Five grains of acetaminide may cause death. Four grains is the maximum dose an adult may take without risk of heart failure and collapse, especially if he does not remain at rest for at least an hour after the dose.

Dr. Jacob is confirmed in my memory because only a month or two after I had adopted his suggestion to keep a dozen one-grain tablets of copper sulfate in my emergency kit, Lella Kosch, creeping about the floor, knocked a bottle of poison tablets off a stand and was eating them when her mamma, the beautiful surreal — I mean the lovely brown-eyed, surgically altered head nurse of the surgical ward who, the fellow intern decided on sight, would make an ideal mother for my children — discovered what had happened. A spoonful of the Jacobian emetic set everything right in a jiffy.

NON-FLYING AIRBOAT—Jim Hath, of Leavenworth, Kan., paddles the airboat he built out into the Missouri River for a test run, as Manuel Kuchda looks on. The 18-foot, flat-bottom craft is powered by a 75-hp. airplane engine which turns a five-foot propeller. Called the "Rushin' Henry," the craft weighs 800 pounds and is guided by air rudder at stern.

Hot Rodders Get Blame for Acts of Shot Rodders

By MARGARET LATROBE

If you were going on a long automobile trip, which kind of driver would you prefer to ride with—a youngster full of enthusiasm behind the wheel or a middle-aged worrier?

I would take the youngster, provided he had read a certain little book, "Driving Today and Tomorrow" by Margaret O. Hyde. Although insurance rates are still for teenage drivers, it seems to me that once our young drivers belong to the fast-growing cult of courteous and skillful driving art, it will be a different story.

There is a good deal of criticism and disparagement of the Hot Rod cult by those who confuse it with "shot rod." Shot rodgers are those who soup up their jalopies, the better to ignore all traffic rules, make the emergency rooms of hospitals work overtime, and give gray hairs to parents and pedestrians.

These immature folk are characterized by coon-tailed car hoods, baby boots dangling between steering wheel and windshield, and as many garish stickers and motes as can be pasted or painted onto the reluctant buggy. Although they have horns aboard, these are excess equipment. The sound of screaming tires, and unmuffled mufflers scatter the citizenry without blowing the beep-beep.

The hot rod club is an entirely different story, as the author of this well-illustrated book points out. Members young and old are true auto enthusiasts with a definite code of driving technique. And it would be a very good thing if more of us had their rules firmly in mind, before dashing out of our driveways muttering, "I'm late. I'm late for a very important date," like Alice's rabbit in Wonderland.

First, hot rodgers agree to observe motor vehicle laws wherever they travel, and to show courtesy and consideration to fellow drivers and pedestrians. They further strive to "conduct themselves at all times so as not to direct criticism to themselves as individuals or to the clubs of which they are members."

And most important, they are on the qui vive at all times to keep their cars checked to standard safety measures.

Yep, I'll ride with Junior any time. Somehow I have great faith in young reflexes and young courtesy. These develop into mature judgment mighty fast.

Deteriorating Frescos Transferred to Canvas

Basilica of St. Francis of Assisi

In an effort to save them and companion masterpieces by other 13th century painters, Italy's Central Institute for Restorations has undertaken one of its most imposing and meticulous tasks. It consists in lifting the beautiful old frescos, particle by particle, from their decomposing plaster backing and transferring them to canvas.

SHE CAME BACK—Captivating her audience as she did 20 years ago when she was the toast of the theatrical world, Lillian Roth receives an ovation following her first major night-club appearance. Miss Roth, who staged a spectacular comeback from alcoholism and mental illness, opened at El Rancho Vegas in Las Vegas, Nev.

Bob Considine Says:

Dr. Sam Wanted to Take Truth Serum in Private

CLEVELAND (INS) — Dr. Sam Sheppard, on trial for the brutal bludgeoning of his wife, had a brief word-battle with Bill Corrigan, his colorful defense chief, shortly after Corrigan was retained to save his life.

It had to do with truth serum. Dr. Sam wanted to take the test. Corrigan had completely different ideas and minced no words in expressing them.

Shortly after the murder, and while the young osteopath was still in his neck brace, he was visited in the hospital by Dr. Alan R. Moritz, head of Western Reserve's Institute of Pathology and one of the world's foremost authorities on legal medicine. Dr. Moritz founded the Harvard School of Legal Medicine, has trained hundreds in his specialties and has been a witness at scores of crimes of violence.

He explained to Dr. Sam the reaction of sodium amytal (the so-called truth serum) on the human system. There has been much use of the serum in psychiatric work. Its proponents credit it with producing a hypnotic effect which enables fogbound people to come out through the mental mists and remember events that took place for a certain length of time after "everything went black."

Legally, it has the same status as the lie detector test, which Dr. Sam rejected. But he was real gone about Dr. Moritz's serum test and agreed to take it in the hope, he said, that it would sharpen up the focus on the "muddy-haired intruder" he accuses of murdering his wife and twice flattening him.

Dr. Sam urged Dr. Moritz to meet with Corrigan and tell him not only of his (Sam's) enthusiasm but of the clinical, as opposed to criminological, aspects of the proposed test. The two doctors had agreed that the test would be held in private and no report issued unless Dr. Sheppard requested same.

Old Bill, whose personality has done as much to give the Sheppard trial national importance as any other contribution, was happy to sit down with the famed Dr. Moritz at Cleveland's ultra ultra Union League Club for luncheon. When lunch was over, Bill went to the phone and called his client.

For a long time he listened to Dr. Sam extol the wonders of truth serum. He waited for Sam to reach a semi-colon, and when he did Bill said laconically: "Interesting. But if you insist on this test, I'm walking out."

Local hawkshaws like to assert, especially late at night, that the big flaw in Dr. Sam's defense is his vague description of an assailant who twice knocked him cold. Local fight reporters, turned crime authorities, point out that Dempsey and Tunney have never failed to recognize each other.

The defense has three persons who will testify that they saw a hulking man lurking in the vicinity of Dr. Sam's house on the early morning of July 4.

A couple, en route home at shortly after 3 a. m., will state under oath they saw such a brute trudging along in that area. A man who was going home in a different direction saw a similar figure hiding (he'll say) behind a tree immediately in front of the Sheppards' home.

Machine Dooms Grazing Cows

Forage Harvester Cuts Feed Crop Far Better Than Bossy Ever Did

NEW HOLLAND, Pa. (INS) — The picturesque grazing of cattle on green pastures may be just a memory before long.

A new machine is being marketed to do the grazing for the cows, and both the farmer and the cattle are supposed to be better off.

Called a field forage harvester, the machine is used to cut the feed crop at its peak quality and deliver it to the cows, lastly awaiting it in the barnyard.

According to the manufacturers, farmers find they get a bigger crop at less cost since grazing cows tramp down and miss a lot of grass.

Too, since the machine cuts the crop at its peak quality, the food is more nutritious and milk and beef products more plentiful.

The new forager can do any chopping job on the farm or ranch, it is claimed, and it is available with its own engine or can be operated from the power take-off of a tractor.

It can be used in corn or row crops, in standing crops for silage and for picking up windrows of grass and grain.

Frozen Undies Banished

ATTENHAM, Bavaria (INS) — It will be forbidden in Attenham to hang lady's underwear out into the open this winter. The town fathers have issued this order because of the possibility that such underwear may freeze thereby "acquiring much too natural features which would endanger the public moral."

COMES BACK—Hope Hampton, screen star of the '20s, who later graduated to opera, says she plans to give Marilyn Monroe some competition in a new Broadway show called "Hello, Paree." The sometime opera singer is one of Broadway's best-known "first-nighters."

Pennsylvanian Is No Novice

Dem Governor - Elect Followed Dad as State Senator in 1950

PHILADELPHIA (NS) —George M. Leader, 36-year-old York County chicken farmer who won election as Pennsylvania's first Democratic governor in 16 years, will be no novice in Harrisburg.

Leader captured a state Senate seat in 1950, a post previously held by his father, Guy M. Leader, also a highly successful farmer.

The governor-elect plunged into politics upon returning from service as a navy officer on an aircraft carrier in the western Pacific, twice being chosen York County Democratic chairman.

Meanwhile Leader took out a GI loan and bought a farm on which he set up a poultry and hatchery business. His farm near Dover, Pa. now produce more than one million baby chicks a year.

During the gubernatorial campaign, his wife, the former Mary Jane Strickler, took care of the chicks — and tended their three children, Michael, 9; Frederick, 4, and Jane Ellen, born last February.

Leader pledged himself to Extra Ketauer physically, attended Gettysburg College and the University of Pennsylvania, where he received a bachelor of science degree in education in 1939.

Leader gave little play to his own personality in the campaign, stressing rather an appeal to the average voter.

He declared the Republicans were indifferent to unemployment; said the farmers were getting a bad deal from the state milk commission and charged that the Public Utilities Commission was feathering the nest of the huge utilities.

Leader pledged himself to eliminate the sales tax and made a strong appeal to idle coal miners by promising the help of the state government to get them back to work.

Although his campaign was hampered by little money and comparatively little organization, he declared firmly, "When the cause is right and you believe in it, then faith can move mountains."

Councilwoman Stalls Off Stork to Hear of Election

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (U) —A woman attorney delayed the stork just long enough here yesterday to learn of her election to the California Legislature.

Mrs. Wanda Sankary, 34, Democrat, defeated Chester Schneider, San Diego councilman, 28,027 to 27,521, and when the complete returns were in went to the hospital to have her baby.

She is the wife of an attorney.

Pork, Lamb, Chicken Get Top Billing for Economy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pork, lamb and chicken get top billing this week as outstanding meat buys for the budget-minded shopper.

And to add a little variety, some stores around the country are featuring ham and veal.

Housewives planning weekend menus are not likely to find many spectacular bargains in the choice cuts of beef. However, chuck steak occupies a prominent spot among the "specials" being advertised by some of the larger chains.

Breakfast sausage is a featured item in many cities.

Canned tuna fish is available at bargain-basement prices, thanks to a huge increase in imports earlier in the year.

"Specials" in pork this week include roast loin of pork and center cut chops. In lamb, prices are marked down in some areas on roast leg of lamb, rib and shoulder (but not loin) chops, and lamb for stewing.

Chicken bargains can be found in virtually all popular categories—roasting chickens, broilers and fryers.

Prices of cabbage and potatoes are a shade higher this week, but still low enough to qualify as bargains. Most varieties of winter squash are plentiful and cheap, and turnips remain a favored item for thrifty buying.

Empire grapes from California and apples from the eastern seaboard are among the best buys in fresh fruits.

Egg prices are up again this week in some cities. Butter prices are mostly lower.

Detroit Man Killed

DETROIT (U) — John Chromiak, 33, of Detroit was fatally injured Wednesday night when hit by a car while crossing a street. Police held John Golden Jr., 21, of Detroit, the driver, for investigation of manslaughter.

Three Hints Listed for Helping Oldsters

CHICAGO (UP) — A research team has come up with three suggestions to help solve the nation's increasing problem of what to do with aged. The team, from the Illinois Institute of Technology, recommended:

1. Setting up more old age institutions in city areas, fewer in rural areas.
2. More foster homes for the aged.
3. Postponement of automatic retirement beyond age 65.

The scientists said too many states have laws requiring that institutions for the aged be established as "hospitals."

"Older people want to be able to enjoy movies, television, religious services, and other benefits of city life, like anyone else," the scientists reported.

The team said foster homes for the aged are good, because they give old people who want it a more normal environment.

And they said industry's practice of retiring workers at 65 is unrealistic because "aging is a matter of physiology, psychology and social acceptance, and not merely chronology."

Church Council Urges Christian Observance

DETROIT (U) — The Detroit Council of Churches has urged a Christian observance of the Christmas and New Year holidays. The church asked in a resolution yesterday "that all Christian people send Christmas cards bearing the message of the holy season."

The resolution also urged "that those who plan and prepare office parties voice now their conviction that these festivities should not be cheapen, or detract from, the meaning of the Christmas season."

20,000 4-Leaf Clovers

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D. (UP) — If four-leaf clovers are lucky, Mrs. L. Alcy Gerard of Chamberlain should be the luckiest woman in the world. She has collected more than 20,000 of them during the past four years. She has found as many as 700 in five days. Her favorite hunting ground is the Chamberlain power plant lawn.

Another Record for Mrs. Bailey

Becomes First Member of Sex Ever to Serve as Lieutenant Governor

MONTPELIER, Vt. (INS) A woman lawyer with a habit of emblazoning "firsts" today is destined to become the first member of her sex in this country every to reign as lieutenant governor of a state.

Vermont's off-year election saw 54-year-old Mrs. Consuelo Northrop Bailey of South Burlington chosen for the state's second highest office, traditional stepping stone to the governorship in the GOP Green Mountain state.

Mrs. Bailey's victory in a Republican sweep of major posts highlighted a political career in which she has never lost a bid for public office.

A graduate of the University of Vermont and Boston University Law School, Mrs. Bailey first was elected in 1925 as a state's attorney, where she gained renown as the arch-foe of rumrunners. For six years, she served as the only woman in charge of a prosecuting office east of the Mississippi River.

She was the first woman ever to try a murder case in Vermont. In 1930, Mrs. Bailey won a seat in the Vermont Senate. She still is the youngest woman ever to serve in that law-making body. Another "first" came last year when she was elected the first woman speaker of the Vermont House of Representatives.

Mrs. Bailey showed during her recent campaign that she can beat men at more than just winning votes. She and her male opponents for the lieutenant governorship engaged in a milking contest. While the men had a rough time of it, Mrs. Bailey expertly produced a third of a pail of milk in three minutes.

Illinois Town Discovers How People Use Water

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UP) — City engineers, looking for ways to save water, computed how the average Springfield household uses water.

Forty-five per cent is used flushing toilets, 30 per cent for bathing, 6 per cent for kitchen uses, 5 per cent for drinking and 4 per cent in the laundry.

Household cleaning, lawn watering, and miscellaneous uses account for 3 per cent each. The other 1 per cent is used washing autos.

Claims America Named After Norse Explorer

WHITEHALL, Wis. (UP) — A manuscript found among the books of the late H. A. Anderson, Trempelau County historian, has this theory as to how America got its name.

It is generally agreed that the country was named after Amerigo Vespucci, but the manuscript by Charles A. Johnson says America was named after Leif Erickson, the Scandinavian explorer. Like this:

"America is properly named after its real discoverer, Leif, the son of Eric. The prefix 'am' in Scandinavian means 'land of' and the combination 'Am-Eric' or America, simply means 'land of Eric.'"

Thieves Say Thank You

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (UP) — Burglars cracked an office safe, took $15, and left a "thank you" note scrawled on the back of an office letter.

Chinese Radio Is Trying to Woo Japan Listeners

TOKYO (AP) — Chinese Communist propaganda broadcasts to Japan are listened to by only one per cent of the nation's radio owners, says the Metropolitan Police Department.

It said the Communists were "frantically" trying to get more listeners. Peiping radio has switched frequencies and has toned down some of its anti-American and anti-Japanese government propaganda, which aroused antagonism in Japan.

Bird Picks Wrong Tree

ROCKLYN, Wash. (UP) — A woodpecker flew into what could have been a hollow tree, but wasn't, and died trying to peck its way out of a stove. It apparently had flown into the chimney and fallen into the stove of the Methodist Church. It had pecked a hole in the solid metal large enough for its head when church members found it dead.

MODEL DESIGNER—One of the few designers who can wear her own creations is blonde Zita McClintock of New York. Unmindful of the camera, she adjusts the collar of a tweed coat in preparing a model for the stage.

Dog Protector Won't Go to Exclusive Boys' School

MONROE, La., (AP) — Ten-year-old Joe Cooper, whose love for his dog touched off a nationwide educational fund drive, was scheduled to enroll in a grammar school here today instead of an exclusive boys' school.

The drive, sponsored by former Gov. James Noe, was started when the boy was released from the Louisiana Training Institute last Friday. He was committed to the reformatory Oct. 6, less than five hours after he pointed a loaded shotgun at the principal of a West Monroe school and a truant officer in an effort to get the release of his unvaccinated dog Tippi, which had followed him to school.

Joe's family went to the office of Noe, a television and radio station owner, yesterday for what was expected to be a final meeting before the boy went to the Webb School for Boys at Bell Buckle, Tenn. However, Noe said, the family decided to keep Joe in Monroe. Noe quoted Mrs. Ray Foy, Joe's half-sister, who was given custody of Joe last Friday, as saying the family wanted him to remain at home so the family could have personal supervision over him.

The former governor also announced discontinuance of the educational fund and said donors would be asked whether they wanted their contributions returned or given to Mrs. Foy for the boy.

Noe said Joe wanted to apologize to the principal of the Ransom school, Mrs. Tina Clark, and the truant officer, Maurice Griggs. Joe, who will continue his education in the sixth grade of Monroe's Central Grammar School, nodded agreement.

Weasel Pal of Mouse

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A white mouse has become the friend of, instead of the dinner for, a weasel at the Public Museum. Once a week attendants add a live mouse to the weasel's diet. But the weasel took a liking to the white mouse even to sharing the horse meat it gets for between-mouse snacks.

AND FOR SUFFERERS—Assembling sickroom supplies for a cancer sufferer at the American Cancer Society's Oakland County office is Mrs. Frank Treco Jr., a Pontiac volunteer worker. Wheelchairs and similar articles are loaned free of charge. These and other functions of the cancer society are financed by United Fund allocations.

Cancer Research, Patient Care Aided by Contributions to United Fund Drive

Care of an average cancer patient would cost a Pontiac vicinity family quite a sum if not for the American Cancer Society's services supported by United Fund contributions.

The price of cancer dressings alone is estimated at $30 per month. Through the Cancer Society they are furnished free of charge.

Hospital beds, wheelchairs and other comforts are also loaned from the agency's North Oakland office at 40 W. Lawrence St.

These services are only part of the group's work, according to Mrs. Barbara Amundsen, field coordinator for Oakland County.

A primary aim is saving lives through early cancer detection. "Thousands in Michigan alone die needlessly—persons who might have been cured if they had gone to their doctors in time," she said.

The detection program operates through cooperation of local doctors, under the auspices of the Oakland County Medical Society.

Any resident may obtain a complete cancer detection examination in a private physician's office making possible the yearly check-up which the Society says is a "must."

The group's education program aims to teach every person in the county enough facts about cancer so a doctor will be consulted in time should any form of the disease develop.

Hundreds of volunteers are carrying on this education program under sponsorship of the Society.

They show films, speak at meetings and distribute pamphlets. Schools, clubs, civic organizations and industries have been contacted to reach every person in each age and interest group.

Other volunteers work in homes, clubs and churches to make cancer dressings.

The Society's third field of effort is research. One quarter of all funds contributed to the organization go to the nationally coordinated research program aimed at finding an ultimate cure.

Last year $5,000,000 was spent in laboratories, universities and medical centers to seek the final answer to the mysterious disease which killed 227,000 Americans last year.

Support of the Cancer Society here is provided by contributions now to the Pontiac Area United Fund. If the drive succeeds, the Society will receive $5,000 to carry on work in 1955.

Charges Neglect of Brilliant Students

KANSAS CITY (AP)—An educator says the brilliant student often is neglected in high school and college.

Dr. Elmer Ellis, acting president of the University of Missouri, told a teachers' club last night: "We educators are doing the best job in our history for the great majority of students. We have, however, one weakness which has handicapped our defense against attacks on public education and that is that we are not doing very well for the distinctly superior student—the best 15 per cent in our high schools and colleges."

He urged tighter coordination of high school and college in adapting education to the needs of superior students, "thereby increasing our supply of leaders."

The time needed for a really brilliant student to go through high school and college could be reduced by as much as two years, he added.

McKeighan Called for Macomb Quiz

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—William H. McKeighan, former Flint mayor and Michigan Republican power, was called for examination today on an eight-year-old gambling conspiracy indictment.

The examination was asked by Prosecutor Fred Nicholson, who explained the case developed before he took office, that his assistants were unfamiliar with it and that seven state witnesses had died since McKeighan was indicted.

McKeighan is accused of having been the payoff man between gamblers operating in Macomb County and politicians from whom they allegedly bought protection.

Report on Trip to Israel to Be Heard by Hadassah

Pontiac Chapter of Hadassah will hold its annual Honor Roll meeting Monday evening at 8:30 p. m. at Congregation B'Nai Israel, on Onida Rd.

Speaker will be Meyer Simon, who, with Mrs. Simon, has returned recently from a trip to Israel. He will report on their trip and will give his impressions of the land, its people and organizations.

A group of young American dancers also are on the program and will present a group of Israeli folk dances.

Presiding for the evening will be Mrs. David Utley, president of the Pontiac Chapter of Hadassah.

Hadassah's extensive program is twofold. First, it attempts to inform its members of American affairs in order to protect and understand our American heritage and institutions at home. Hadassah women have participated in Red Cross blood drives, civil defense, USO and in educational work for the United Nations.

Secondly, Hadassah extends help to the State of Israel. This project includes medical services, health stations, youth refuge rehabilitation, vocational education and land redemption.

One of the latest projects is the building of a huge medical center designed to serve the sick of not only the Jewish people but those of all faiths. This is indicative of Hadassah's complete secular attitude and program.

Monday night's meeting is open to the public.

Department Store Sales in Grand Rapids Higher

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago said Grand Rapids department store sales showed an 11 per cent increase in September over August. The bank report said, however, the September sales were seven per cent below the same period a year ago.

The September figure tied Grand Rapids with Jackson. Both ranked behind Lansing's 19 per cent gain and Muskegon and Port Huron which showed 18 per cent increases.

Flood of 3rd Class Mail Hitting Taxpayers' Pocketbooks

In recent months, a mounting flood of advertising matter shipped out as third class mail has been descending like a kind of paper plague on American mail boxes.

Many post offices have complained bitterly that the great increase of this kind of mail since the U. S. Postal Service opened the door for bulk mailing of advertising last year has caused major mail-handling problems.

It has also been pointed out that this kind of mail does not pay its own way, since the 1½-cent fee for third class items is not enough to cover costs of delivery. Thus, the taxpayer has to make up the deficit created when he gets mail that he often does not wish to receive.

But things mailwise are better organized in Pontiac than in other parts of the country, for Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean Sr. reports that he is far from being snowed under by the heavy influx of bulk mail.

"Our third class mail has increased sharply in the past five or six weeks," Dean said, "but we're still moving it on schedule, although it amounts to nearly as much as the first-class volume."

Dean said he has had to add more workers, but mostly because of the general increase in volume rather than the third class mail upswing itself. His staff, including the branch post office in River Gardens, totals 234 employees: clerks, carriers, rural route drivers and supervisory personnel.

"Our biggest problems," Dean declared, "are caused by the continuing rapid increase in population." He described a constant battle to rearrange routes, improve service and expedite delivery of mail to fast-growing subdivisions and suburban areas where new addresses and new people are added to the routes every day.

"Another handicap is the space limitation in our present post office," Dean added. He explained that government funds had been appropriated in Washington for new post office buildings and that Pontiac could expect some action within the next few years. At present, the local mail handlers are using every available corner of the East Huron street building.

At the suggestion that his post office employees were tearing their hair over the third class mail problem, Dean just laughed. He said that Pontiac has been receiving an average of 100,000 pieces of bulk mail every day, but that his staff was equal to the task of getting it delivered.

October was a big month for the Pontiac post office, he pointed out, with the volume of mail handled greater than any previous October on record, and revenue up $10,000 from last October.

Total mail being handled by the local post office is averaging 200,000 pieces per day, but Dean added with just a trace of justifiable pride in his voice, "Letters from Pontiac are delivered anywhere in the state of Michigan within 24 hours after being mailed."

But the one thing that reflects clearly the efficiency of postal operations here is the fact that Pontiac has one of the nation's few post offices that operates in the black. Average daily receipts total about $2,500, while operation of the entire department costs a little less than that figure per day.

Quick to disclaim credit for the smooth, efficient operation of his department, Dean points out that under a new federal ruling, much of the responsibility for minor decisions has been delegated to local postmasters. Under this procedure, the officials closest to the problems have the authority to take action immediately.

Still, the fact that the local postmaster and his staff are handling the problem quietly and effectively reflects great credit on Dean and his 234 workers.

Apartment Firms Face FHA Action

Four Outright Refusals Greet Federal Attempts to Recover Funds

WASHINGTON (INS)—Housing officials said today that five apartment firms are resisting a government order designed to recover nearly seven million dollars in windfall profits reaped in on federal housing loans.

Four of the five were reported to have notified the Federal Housing Administration they will not comply with a directive of FHA Commissioner Norman P. Mason while the fifth showed no signs of cooperating with the agency.

To settle the issue, FHA officials said Mason soon will set independently to take control of the corporations to recover the alleged windfalls and reduce rents in the projects.

At the same time, an informed official predicted it will take "months" before the government obtains a clear court ruling on whether it acted legally in forcing builders who netted million-dollar profits on a shoe-string to pay back the profits.

This same official, who asked not to be named, also said FHA has uncovered "many more windfall" cases since the government reported in September that builders collected 110 million dollars in profits on 1,410 FHA-insured apartment projects.

One apartment sponsor was reported to have voluntarily informed the FHA he raked in a windfall on a project although previously there was no indication the development was built on a loan which exceeded the actual cost of construction.

The five corporations were said to be turning down Mason's directive of Oct. 25 to call meetings of the preferred stockholders within ten days to elect new boards of directors under government control. The projects, located in widely scattered areas in five states, are:

The Clifton Park Manor project at Wilmington, Del., listed for a $3,951,917 on a $21,719,300 loan; Beverly Manor, Columbus, Ohio, which produced profits of $1,054,354 on an $9,826,400 loan; Baldwin Gardens, Brooklyn, N. Y., with profits of $3,951,917 on a $21,719,300 loan; Beverly Manor, Columbus, Ohio, which produced profits of $1,054,354 on an $9,826,400 loan; and the Billy Mitchell Village development, San Antonio, Tex., profits of $477,700 on a $3,220,200 loan.

GAY MEMBERS BOYS—Featured at the annual "Holiday of Harmony" at Pontiac High School auditorium Dec. 4 will be the Four-in-a-Chord quartet of Cleveland. The group will be among seven groups participating in the sing, sponsored by the Pontiac Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc. Williams Sweeps Dems Into State Posts; Backers Eye White House Post in 1956

By JACK L. GREEN
DETROIT (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams, by leading a Republican state to one of the greatest Democratic sweeps in the nation, today was a politician of national stature.

The 43-year-old governor's intimates have made no secret of their hope—and presumably his—that a reelection victory would push him into the forefront in preparation for the 1956 Democratic national convention. Williams' friends talk of him as President.

Look at his record:

In 1946, a political unknown, Williams started out in a dilapidated second-hand car with his attractive wife, Nancy, to win the governorship against the white knight of governmental reform—Gov. Kim Sigler. Williams won by 164,000 votes. He carried two colleagues to victory.

In 1950, Williams battled a former governor and heavy Republican vote-getter, Harry F. Kelly, and won by 1,154 votes. A recount failed to upset Williams.

Williams appointed a personal friend, newspaperman Blair Moody to the United States Senate. The gossip was that Williams hoped Moody would provide him entree to the inner circle of party leadership.

In 1952, Williams and Moody, at the behest of former President Harry S. Truman, engineered the convention "loyalty" fight. They won—and lost, perhaps.

In 1952, Williams ran against the heavy Eisenhower tide and defeated wealthy Fred M. Alger by 8,600 votes. Again a recount failed to unseat him. But Moody was carried away in the Republican landslide and Williams went on alone again.

In 1954, Williams sought an unprecedented fourth two-year term in the governor's office. His running mate, Moody, died during the primary campaign.

Williams fought for the whole ticket. He campaigned with a fresh frenzy, as if aware that 1954 was in the offing and his political star was near its zenith.

And 1954's election, Tuesday, capped the Williams effort thus:

The governor defeated Republican Donald S. Leonard by a majority stretching toward 200,000 votes—the biggest ever achieved by a Democratic candidate for governor in Michigan.

The governor magnetized the votes to the extent that his whole state ticket was swept into office to the amazement even of the most hopeful Democrats.

He has spent six years poking into the most remote corners of Michigan, talking the average man's language, shaking hands, calling square dances, bounding on the ladies, sponsoring locally popular projects and portraying the Republicans as the enemies of all progress.

He sensed and seized upon a deep public discontent at falling economic conditions—more so than all of the political seers. None in the nation led Williams in pounding at unemployment and falling farm prices.

He built a virtual straw man for the campaign—an attack on the Republican Highway Department over which he has no control. But it apparently paid off at the polls.

He capitalized on every Republican mistake—and made few of his own.

And Williams got what he never had before—complete responsibility for the executive branch of state government.

Always before Williams has been able to propose, wildly or carefully, knowing that the Republicans would frustrate him and provide him with campaign ammunition.

Now he has, come Jan. 1, Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, Secy. of State James M. Harris, State Treas. Sanford A. Brown and Aud. Gen. Victor Targowski. He must lead.

WASHINGTON (AP)—There will be a record number of women in the new Congress.

One woman senator and 11 representatives ran for re-election and won. In addition, four new women members, all Democrats, were elected.

The previous record of 14 women was set in the present Congress. Mrs. George P. Abel, Republican, won a two-month term in the present Senate to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Dwight P. Griswold. She was not a candidate for a seat in the new Congress but, if certified in time, will sit in the session convening next Monday to consider censure of Sen. McCarthy.

The lineup of those elected includes Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine), re-elected in September, and 6 Republicans and 9 Democrats in the House. All the new members are Democrats.

The newcomers: Mrs. Iris Blitch, of Homerville, Ga., only two-term woman member of Georgia's State Legislature and wife of the owner-manager of a small drugstore. They have two children. She was unopposed in the general election.

Mrs. Martha W. Griffiths, of Detroit, friend and former law partner, along with her husband, of Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams, and a member of the State Legislature from 1949 to 1952. Now judge of Detroit's Recorder's Court, she ousted Republican incumbent Rep. Charles G. Oakman. Mrs. Dora Knutsen, of Oskosh, Minn., former high school teacher and state legislator who defeated Republican Rep. Harold Hagen, a veteran of six terms.

Mrs. Edith Green, of Portland, Ore., former schoolteacher. Married and the mother of two sons, she defeated Republican Tom Lawson. She had no opposition. Only nine men in the House have served longer than she.

Also unopposed for re-election was Rep. Katherine S. George (R-N.Y.).

Others who won re-election include: Republicans: Representative Marguerite Church (Ill.), Cecil Harden (Ind.), Ruth Thompson (Mich.) and Francis Bolton (Ohio).

Democrats: Representative Grace Pfoef (Idaho), Vera Buchanan (Pa.), Maude Kos (W.Va.), Leonora Sullivan (Mo.) and Edna Kelly (N.Y.).

Outstate Balloting Kills Bingo Proposal

DETROIT (AP)—Three state proposals were approved but a fourth—charity bingo—was defeated by Michigan voters Tuesday.

Heavy outstate opposition to the proposal to legalize charitable lotteries more than canceled the 109,000 plus majority given the proposal by Wayne County voters. With all of Wayne County and 2,557 of 2,827 outstate precincts reported the vote is: yes, 532,555; no, 850,085.

The other three amendments and the votes with all of Wayne County and all but few outstate precincts reported:

No. 1: To allow voters to move from one precinct to another within 30 days of an election without loss of franchise; yes, 1,088,573; no, 429,521.

No. 2: To amend the rules Taxpayers' Division Law to eliminate the time lag between collection and distribution; yes, 1,076,728; no, 352,828.

No. 3: To approve an additional dollar bonus for veteran veterans; yes, 1,088,573; no, 477,700.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR

JUNIOR EDITORS

A POOL FOR A DEER

Here is a woodland scene for Junior Editors to make out of real material—not just as a cutout.

1. To make your own real life model, first get the lid of a box about the size of a shoe box, or get Daddy to help you make a wooden tray that size. Fill this with sand. In the sand place your pool—either a deep saucer or a little foil dish used to hold frozen pies from your grocery store.

2. In the box, around the pool, place small stones and pack them into the sand. At one side place a larger stone, with as flat a surface as possible. Pick several sprigs of greenery and place them between the rocks and in the sand. Then put water in the pool.

3. From among your toys, pick a small deer or other animal and place him on the big rock so that he seems to be looking down on the pool. If you do not have a toy out Rudy from today's picture and place him there, folding the rock part back to make a base for his feet.

4. If you prefer, you can color the picture shown here after pasting it down in the usual manner.

Army Says Reprimands Given Over Peress Case

WASHINGTON (U)—The Army has told Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) it officially reprimanded two officers for delay in handling the case of Dr. Irving R. Peress, who was promoted to major and given an honorable discharge.

But, said Secretary Stevens in a letter to McCarthy replying to a new series of questions by the senator about the case of the man he calls a "Fifth Amendment Communist," the Army has taken no action against three other high officers. The reasons given by Stevens:

(A) They were only carrying out provisions of a congressional law and regulations, and (B) in the Army's opinion "no acts performed by them manifested the slightest indication of Communist sympathy nor any other dereliction of duty."

Stevens said the three were Maj. Gen. William E. Bergin, the adjutant general; Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, commanding officer at Camp Kilmer, N.J., when Peress was stationed there; and Maj. John J. McManus, assigned to the personal center at Camp Kilmer.

One other officer who handled administrative papers connected with the Peress case, Stevens wrote, has been discharged for a reason "totally unrelated" to the Peress case.

Neither the two officers given administrative reprimands nor the one said to have been discharged for unrelated reasons were named by the Army.

Stevens, in response to McCarthy's questions, said the man who signed the discharge papers was McManus, and that the formal order for Peress' promotion from captain to major was signed by Bergin, as the adjutant general.

Stevens said Bergin merely was carrying out a new provision of the Armed Forces Reserve Act requiring promotion of officers called to active duty to rank "commensurate" with professional education, experience or ability. McManus signed the discharge papers for Peress "as a purely ministerial act which he was performing several hundred times a day," Stevens told McCarthy.

Peress, a New York City dentist, registered with his local draft board in 1951 and in May 1952 filled out forms in connection with an application for a commission.

The Army said that on the forms Peress certified he was not and had not been a member of any subversive group, but that in October 1952 he claimed his constitutional privilege under the Fifth Amendment in declining to answer questions concerning membership in such organizations. He reported for duty Jan. 1, 1953.

In January 1954 Peress was summoned before the McCarthy committee and on Feb. 1 applied for discharge as soon as possible. He was given an honorable discharge the following day, McCarthy has contended Peress should have been given a dishonorable discharge. He demanded to know why the army did otherwise and who was responsible.

McCarthy's questioning of Zwicker about the case last February is the basis for one recommendation that the Wisconsin senator be censured at a session called for next Monday.

$88,760 Libel Award Set Aside by Judge

LOS ANGELES — A jury's award of $88,760 damages to actor Michael Jeffers has been set aside by Superior Judge Allen W. Ashburn.

Jeffers sued the Screen Extras Guild for libel, alleging its newsletter incorrectly linked him with an organization the guild said was Communist influenced.

Judge Ashburn held yesterday that Jeffers was damaged by the 1950 newsletter but that the jury's award was exorbitant.

Winners Issue Victory Notes

McNamara Says GOP Lost on Disillusionment; Williams Asks Support

DETROIT (U)—Senator-elect Patrick V. McNamara says his victory over Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) resulted from "two years of disillusionment with the present administration and its high appointive officials from Michigan."

McNamara said in a victory statement yesterday that people of Michigan have "voiced their disapproval" of the Eisenhower administration.

But in a statement conceding defeat Sen. Ferguson said: "The record of the Republican administration in Congress is still in my mind one of the finest in my 12 years of service in Washington. It gave our people peace, prosperity without war and a great hope for the future."

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who defeated Republican nominee Donald S. Leonard for an unprecedented fourth two-year term, said:

"This is a great day for the cause of responsible two-party government in Michigan.

"This sweeping Democratic victory provides a wonderful opportunity to give the people of Michigan the kind of progressive government they have so emphatically declared they want."

"Now let's all get together, lay aside partisan difference, and concentrate on the job of building Michigan to realize the great future which lies before us."

Leonard telegraphed Gov. Williams: "Upon becoming the first Michigan governor to win a fourth term and best wishes for a successful administration."

Williams replied: "Thank you sincerely for your telegram. You made a vigorous campaign and I send you my personal best wishes."

Oldest Bottler Expires

IRON RIVER (U)—Han C. Larson, 81, reported to be the oldest active bottler in the Upper Peninsula, died at his Iron River home Wednesday. Larson opened his shop in 1903 when bottling was a hand craft and carbonation was done with a hand crank device.

In Civil War days some stamps used in the South were printed in England and brought into the Confederacy by blockade runners.

BEING INVESTIGATED — Lt. Charles Anderson is under investigation by a special Army board for using alleged brutal disciplinary measures against Army trainees at Camp Gordon, Ga.

Witnesses allege he ordered trainees to scrub their bodies with sand, and had one GI strung up on a tree by his ankles. Lieut. Anderson is a Korean War veteran.

The British gained control of the Isle of Man in 1763.

Street Gun Duel Defeats Bandits

Detroit Jeweler Kills One, Wounds Other in Jefferson Ave. Battle

DETROIT (U)—A Detroit jeweler killed one holdup man and wounded another yesterday in a blazing gun battle on busy East Jefferson Avenue.

Albert Blume, 46, the jeweler, was wounded himself in the exchange of shots.

He said the men had robbed his store and a customer of more than $300 and left him bound with tape in a back room.

He broke his bonds, grabbed a gun from the store and started in pursuit of the gunman whom he spied darting around a corner.

He opened fire when the surprised pair ignored his command to surrender and drew their guns.

Andrew Kluczycki, 28, of Detroit died on the sidewalk with two chest wounds. William Collins, 27, of Dearborn was taken as a police prisoner to Receiving Hospital with an arm wound.

A score of pedestrians, motorists and shoppers watched the gun duel.

Blume gave this account of the shooting:

"They were just rounding the corner when I caught up with them," he said. "I could have killed them where they stood, but I thought I would give them a break. I yelled: 'Put up your hands! I've got you covered!'"

"They turned around and the little fellow (Collins) said, 'Okay, guess you got us.' Then the big fellow (Kluczycki) got behind the little fellow and the little fellow pulled out his gun.

"Then I got mad and started shooting. I hit the little guy in the arm and he went down."

"The big guy was shooting at me. I don't know how many times I fired, but he finally went down, too."

Police said they exchanged at least 20 shots.

Turnpike Group to File Test Suit

To Ask State Supreme Jurists to Rule Upon Constitutionality

DETROIT (U)—The Michigan Turnpike Authority will ask the State Supreme Court next week to rule on the constitutionality of the authority and its power to borrow $186,000,000 to build the proposed Detroit-to-Saginaw toll road.

Frederick B. Besimer, authority attorney, said yesterday the test suit will be filed Monday.

The suit also will seek to determine whether the authority can exist as an independent agency.

The suit was approved by authority members in Detroit yesterday. Also approved was a trust finance the 115-mile highway will indenture under which bonds to be issued. It is this trust indenture the high court will be asked to rule on.

The indenture gives the authority power to hire personnel and set salaries as an autonomous unit. The authority will rent temporary quarters in the First National Building in Ann Arbor and hire an administrative assistant. It will also hire a press agent to help develop "a good public relations program."

The authority now has only one paid employee, a chief assistant engineer.

RECORD SOUNDS AND SIGHTS OF WORLD—Worth Weed (seated) and his father, Earl G. Weed, of Jackson took over a tape recorder and films which they used on a two-month round-the-world trip. The Weeds now have a most complete record of sights and sounds from afar, having recorded bits of conversation and sound from London, Egypt and the South Pacific. Their idea of carrying tape recorder and camera may be followed by the future travelers.

State Travelers Capture Sounds of Foreign Lands

JACKSON (U)—When E. G. Weed and his son, Worth, set off on a trip around the world last summer, they took with them the usual collection of cameras and light meters.

They also lugged along a tape recorder and made use of it in practically every country they visited. Now, thanks to much foresight, they have a record of not only the sights but the sounds of their two-month tour.

The trip was made primarily in behalf of Foote & Jenks, Inc., a Jackson extract firm where the Weeds are employed. But both men made sure they had time to see all the sights besides.

And everywhere they went they kept their ears alert for unusual sounds or voices which would help them to recall the events of their trip on their return to Jackson.

The idea proved more than worthwhile. In London, for instance, they recorded a conversation with the police constable standing guard at No. 10 Downing St., residence of the British Prime Minister.

On the banks of the Thames River they captured the sound of Big Ben tolling the hour of noon while a guide related the history of the famous old clock.

At the Tower of London the Weeds recorded the nightly ritual of the locking of the tower gates. And whenever they could, they took pictures—movies and color.

Sinatra Has More Than Voice--He's Proven Himself Fine Actor

By EDDIE CANTOR

From the very first time I heard him, I have been a great admirer of Frank Sinatra. I detected something more than just a voice that sent females jumping.

Not only in "From Here to Eternity," but in the picture, "Suddenly," has he proven himself to be a fine actor. More than that, in his nightclub stint he can extract robust laughter from the audience without punching. The guy is good.

Last season I had Frank on my show with Eddie Fisher. Never have I heard such a mutual admiration society. Fisher said, "Frankie, your performance in 'From Here to Eternity' is the greatest I ever saw." Sinatra said, "Eddie, your record of 'Oh, Mein Papa' is the finest you ever made."

Fisher came back with, "When I was at the Palladium in London, they said you were the biggest hit they ever had." Frankie answered, "When I was there, they told me you were a sensation." This went on for a few minutes. Finally I pulled two dollars from my pocket and said, "Here, why don't you two get married?"

When I invited them over to my home after our telecast, Sinatra said, "Fine, but maybe Eddie and I don't eat the same kind of food." I said, "That's okay. I've arranged for Ida to make la sagna and pasta fa sool stuffed with matzoh balls."

Frank Sinatra has a highly developed sense of humor—the kind of humor that Bing Crosby understands and likes. They're always ribbing each other. After one of our rehearsals, Sinatra and I walked into the Brown Derby and sat down with Bing.

Sinatra said to him, "Kid, you'll always be up there—you've got youth—ability—romance—and sex appeal." Bing said, "You really think so, Frankie?" Sinatra answered, "No, but you were really living there for a minute, weren't you?"

This was the start of a session that could have saved me a fortune on gag writers. If I'd just had my Berle-type pen handy!

Frankie is sometimes too realistic for the citizens of cinema-land. One of the studio executives who had given him the brush before his role in "From Here to Eternity," rushed over him at a recent party and said, "Frankie, when your career was in a slump not so long ago, did you learn anything that helps you now?"

Frankie answered bluntly, "Yes, that the shortest distance between two points is a pat on the back and a kick in the pants!"

Robert Taft Jr. Wins Ohio Legislature Seat

CINCINNATI (AP)—Robert A. Taft Jr. will sit in the Ohio House of Representatives next January as his famous father did three decades ago.

He was elected Tuesday along with eight other Republicans from Hamilton County. Taft led the field.

It was the 37-year-old lawyer's first try for office. The late senator's first elective office also was to the Buckeye legislature, where he served from 1921-26.

3 Adults and 3 Children Killed; Stove Explosion Believed Cause

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Fire, believed to have started when a heating stove exploded, took the lives of six members of one family in a little five-room frame house here yesterday.

Coroner Garre Boone of Butler County listed the dead as: Ulysses Mullins, 70, his wife May, 69, a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ellen Mullins, 20; and her three children, Glenn Lee, 3; Joan 2; and Denise, 4 months.

William Mullins, husband of Ellen and father of the three children, was at work.

Bodies of all the victims but the elder Mullins were found in a bedroom on the first floor. Mullins' body was in a doorway connecting the bedroom with the living room.

Fire Chief George Schlotterbeck said the fire might have been caused by an exploding heating stove.

Denver Woman Defeats Bandit in Nerve Battle

DENVER (AP)—A Denver woman was victorious in a battle of nerves yesterday.

Police said a masked gunman entered the office of a motel operated by Mrs. Lillian Doohar, 45, and demanded money.

Mrs. Doohar informed the bandit the cash drawer was locked and said: "I'm leaving here—you make me nervous with that gun." He told her: "Well, you make me nervous too." Then he fled.

Nobel Prizes Are Awarded to Americans, Germans

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (U. P.) — Dr. Linus Pauling, controversial California Institute of Technology professor, last night won the 1954 Nobel Prize for chemistry. It was the third of this year's four Nobel awards to go to America.

The Royal Swedish Academy of Science announced the honor was bestowed on Pauling for his discoveries concerning the forces which hold molecules together, particularly in the body-building protein substances.

Shortly before Pauling was picked, the academy awarded the 1954 physics prize jointly to two West German scientists who helped lay the foundation of modern nuclear physics.

They are Dr. Max Born, 53, a former professor at the Universities of Göttingen, Cambridge and Edinburgh, now living in retirement at Bad Pyrmont, Germany, and Prof. Walther Bothe, 63, of the Max Planck Institute at Heidelberg.

The academy said Born was honored for his fundamental works in quantum mechanics, especially his statistical interpretation of wave function. Born's reduction to formulae of the function has enabled scientists to calculate various states of the atom.

It said Bothe received the other half of the prize for his "coincidence method" in the study of cosmic radiation and the discovery he made with it. From his finding was developed a major precision instrument enabling scientists to measure time spaces within the atom of less than a billionth of a second.

The Nobel awards, established by the will of the late Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite, include a gold medal and a cash prize in each category. The money award this year amounts to $181,646 krona, about $55,000.

Stockholm's Caroline Institute of medicine awarded the medicine and physiology prize Oct. 21 to three American scientists — Dr. John F. Enders of the Harvard Medical School, Dr. Thomas H. Weller of the Harvard School of Public Health, and Dr. Frederick C. Robbins of Western Reserve Medical School in Cleveland — for discovering new weapons in war against polio.

A week later, the Royal Swedish Academy of Literature gave the award in its field to American novelist Ernest Hemingway. Announcement was made previously that the Nobel peace award would be withheld this year.

The awards will be presented by Sweden's King Gustaf VI in a ceremony here Dec. 10. Hemingway will be unable to attend, however. He is still recovering from injuries suffered in two plane crashes in East Africa last January.

Dems Grab Senate With Slim Margin

becoming a senator. This will be the "old Senate" — not including any of the newly elected members who do not take office until January.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, declined to comment on Hayden's suggestion the Democrats might not be inclined to organize the Senate.

Knowland, who is here for the inquiry into the Dixon-Yates power contract by the Senate Atomic Energy Committee, said in an interview that he wasn't "particularly happy" about the election outcome. But, smiling, he recalled that he had forecast the closest possible division in the new Senate.

The Senate Republican leader expressed particular regret at the defeat of Sen. Homer Ferguson, chairman of the GOP Senate Policy Committee.

Ferguson was beaten by Patrick V. McNamara, Detroit business man and minor AFL official.

From election night, it had been apparent that whichever party won control of the Senate, it would have it by a very scant margin.

All day yesterday the issue hung in the balance on the close races in Oregon and New Jersey.

For most of the tabulating, Cordell Clug to a lead over Neuberger in Oregon. But on late returns, Neuberger went ahead. The count today on unofficial returns from 2,493 of the state's 2,499 precincts was Cordell 282,689 and Neuberger 284,695.

There was a similar nip-and-tuck count in New Jersey between Republican Clifford Case and Democrat Charles Howell. A revised unofficial complete count today of the 3,998 precincts gave Case 860,230, Howell 857,387.

Committee-wise, the changeover to Democratic control will knock Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) from his chairmanship of the investigations subcommittee and give the post to Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), who was reelected for a six-year term Tuesday.

Here is the probable line-up of standing Senate committee chairmanships for the 84th Congress, if the apparent Democratic victory is confirmed:

Finance—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), replacing Sen. Eugene Milliken (R-Colo.).

Appropriations—Sen. Carl Hayden (D-Ariz.), for Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH.).

Foreign Relations—Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.), in place of Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.).

Agriculture—Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.), for Sen. George D. Allen (R-Vt.).

Armed Services—Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.), in place of Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.).

Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont.), reelected, is expected to take over the Interior Committee; Sen. Harley M. Kilgore (D-W.Va.), the Judiciary Committee; Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.), Labor, and Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.), Commerce.

In addition, Democrats — who apparently must count on the vote of Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore.), if they are to take over Senate organization, are expected to offer Morse more important committee assignments than he has held since he bolted the GOP in 1952.

Police Recover Stolen Auto in 2 Minutes

It was only a matter of two minutes between the time that police radioed a description of a stolen car until it was recovered Tuesday night by Waterford Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta.

William Goulet, who manages a restaurant at the Dixie Recreation Bowling Alley at 443 Dixie Hwy., Drayton Plains, called the Oakland County Sheriff's Department when he noticed his car was missing, and they immediately broadcast a description.

Van Atta, riding behind the stolen car at the time, forced it and the four juveniles inside, to the curb. Three of the youths were occupants of the Oakland County Children's Home who were employed evenings at the Dixie Recreation and the fourth was a fugitive of the Starr Commonwealth Home for Boys in Detroit.

Man Waives Hearing on Stolen Car Charge

John R. McIntyre, 17, of 3 W. Kalama, Royal Oak, waived examination on a stolen car charge yesterday before Royal Oak Judge John E. Brondige, and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Nov. 8. McIntyre, unable to furnish $5,000 bond, was returned to Oakland County Jail.

Waives Examination on Breaking, Entering

Robert P. North, 20, of 1594 W. Blvd., waived examination on a breaking and entering charge yesterday before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dietler. North was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Nov. 8.

North was unable to furnish a $100 bond and is being held in Oakland County Jail.

He is accused of breaking into the Home and Garden Hardware at 861 N. Pontiac Trail, Commerce Township, Oct. 27.

About 15,000 U. S. children 5 to 14 years old die each year.

REDS ON THE MARCH IN JAPAN—For Tokyo's May Day, Communist paraders carry paper caricatures of President Eisenhower and a pro-American member of the Japanese cabinet as they demonstrate against United States influence in Japan's affairs.

President Promises Dem Cooperation

Cooper stood high with Eisenhower.

No White House tears were evident, however, over the defeat of Republican Joseph T. Meek in Illinois by Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas. Eisenhower appeared during the campaign to be a reluctant supporter of Meek.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon carried much of the campaign load. The vice president gained stature in his party by his vigorous efforts. Eisenhower's late campaign efforts probably pulled New Jersey and Ohio out of the fire.

But in New York, Kentucky, Delaware and Michigan, where the President made special efforts, the returns were against him.

Associated Press returns at 9:50 a.m. EST, Thursday, showed Republicans elected to the Senate 13, leading 1 (Case-N.J.), holdovers 33, total 47. Gains 3. Democrats elected 24, holdovers 24, total 48. Gains 5. Independent holdover 1. Present Senate: Republicans 49, Democrats 46, Independent 1. Needed for majority, 49.

Senate overturns: Democrats gained in Kentucky, Michigan, Nevada, Oregon and Wyoming. Republicans in Colorado, Iowa and Ohio.

House: Republicans elected 203. Democrats elected 232. Present House: Republicans 218, vacancy 1, Democrats 212, vacancies 3; Independent 1. Needed for majority 218.

House overturns: Democrats gained 22 seats, lost 5, for a net gain of 17. Republicans gained 5, lost 21, for a net loss of 16. Independents lost 1.

Governors: Republicans elected 15, holdovers 6. Total 21. Democrats elected 19, holdovers 8. Total 27. Present lineup: Republicans 29, Democrats 19.

Governor overturns: Republicans none; Democrats gained in Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, Maine, Minnesota, New Mexico, New York and Pennsylvania.

Local Infantry Unit Plans Reunion Banquet

The annual reunion of former Co. E, 33rd Mich. Infantry will be held Sunday at Cook-Nelson Post on Auburn Ave., opening with a banquet at two o'clock. Election of officers will also take place.

This is the company which later became Co. A of the 120th Machine Gun Battalion of the Red Arrow 32nd Division.

Elections Stir Up Interest in 1956 Ike-Adlai Rematch

WASHINGTON — The outcome of Tuesday's stubbornly contested elections served to whet interest today in a possible "rematch" between Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson in the 1956 presidential race.

The prospect was emphasized by the fact that the mid-term battle catapulted only a bare handful of new personalities into the spotlight as potential entries in the '56 sweepstakes.

The immediate reaction, at least, was that the elections failed to produce anything that would quite match the spark kindled by Franklin D. Roosevelt's election as governor of New York in 1928 and his re-election in 1930, paving the way to 12 years in the White House.

As returns rolled in, President Eisenhower told his news conference that so far as he could see, the elections would have no effect one way or another on whether he will seek a second term in 1956.

All the President would say was there's plenty of time for the decision. He suggested newsmen wait and see what develops.

At Libertyville, Ill., Stevenson hailed the outcome as "a portent of things to come"—an obvious allusion to 1956—but with a twinkle he added quickly that it had "nothing whatever to do with whether I'll run again for the presidency."

In some respects, the results appeared to enhance Stevenson's chances of heading the Democratic ticket two years hence. The party's 1952 standard bearer stumped vigorously throughout the country in a drive to put Democrats back in control of Congress, and carried the brunt of the fight on the national level.

In another sense, however, the Democratic upsurge could make it harder for Stevenson. Democratic hopefuls may now figure the party's chances for a presidential victory, in 1956 are bright, and that could touch off a free-for-all scramble for the nomination.

Among "new faces" thrust into the national spotlight were 36-year-old George M. Leader, who won the governorship of Pennsylvania by 250,000 votes to end 16 years of Republican rule, and Michigan's newly elected Democratic Sen. Patrick V. McNamara.

Meanwhile, Michigan's 43-year-old Gov. G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams, heir to soap millions, gained prestige by winning a landslide victory for re-election. A Democrat, Williams won a fourth term in the governor's mansion—the first four-term winner in Michigan's history.

Another first-in-history was chalked up in South Carolina by J. Strom Thurmond, 48, who was elected U.S. Senator over the official Democratic party candidate in a write-in campaign. He was the 1948 Presidential candidate of the States' Rights Party.

In New York Averell Harriman, 62, broke a 12-year Republican reign by defeating GOP Sen. Irving L. Ives in a tight race for governor.

Other Democratic winners mentioned as possible presidential entries included Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, 46, of Texas; Sen. Estes Kefauver, 51, of Tennessee; Sen. Richard B. Russell, 57, of Georgia; and Gov. Frank J. Lausche, 58, of Ohio.

Rayburn Promises Security Probes

which President Eisenhower successfully blocked this summer.

A move may also develop among some Democrats to try to repeal the Republican-sponsored plan giving tax relief to persons who receive income from dividends.

He indicated that the Democrats might use the device of holding back on funds when they disapprove of some GOP-sponsored project that they otherwise have no control over. This might be the case in the Dixon-Yates controversy.

In the general legislative field, Rayburn said the Democrats would take a new look at the farm and tax laws pushed through the last Congress by the Republicans.

Democrats lined up almost solidly against President Eisenhower's proposal for flexible price supports for basic farm commodities, as well as against his tax program.

Auto Rams Embankment; Three Persons Injured

Three persons were injured yesterday when the driver of their auto attempted to miss an oncoming car and hit an abutment on Big Beaver road, according to Troy Township Police.

Reported in good condition at St. Joseph Hospital, Leonard Leffel, 2, of G-327 Kleenbell, Flinck suffered head injuries. His father, Merle, 25, driver, and Bernard Harthun, 63, of 2600 E. Big Beaver, Birmingham, were treated for face cuts.

Leffel told police if he hadn't hit the abutment, a head-on collision would have resulted with the oncoming car traveling in the wrong lane. The other auto did not stop, police said.

The cold war isn't too bad, as long as you don't get cold feet.

Employment Up During October

State Reports Increase in Jobs for First Time in a Year

DETROIT — The Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) said today in its October report that Michigan employment "is on the upgrade" for the first time in more than a year.

The monthly report, made public two days after the election, said claims for unemployment compensation showed the "first important downturn" in four months.

Democrats made unemployment a major issue of the political campaign.

The MESC report placed the benefit claims at 162,000 as of Oct. 14, or the "lowest level in two months." This compared to 200,000 claims as of Sept. 23.

The employment increase accompanied the start on new 1955 car model production, MESC said. "So far, the employment gains reflect a recovery from temporary losses typical of model change periods," the report said.

A factor pointing to "improved stability" in the labor market has been a tapering off in the decline of defense production, the MESC said.

"Following a reduction of about 60 per cent since March 1953, defense employment showed little change within the past three months," the report said.

Davisburg Man Injured in Two-Car Collision

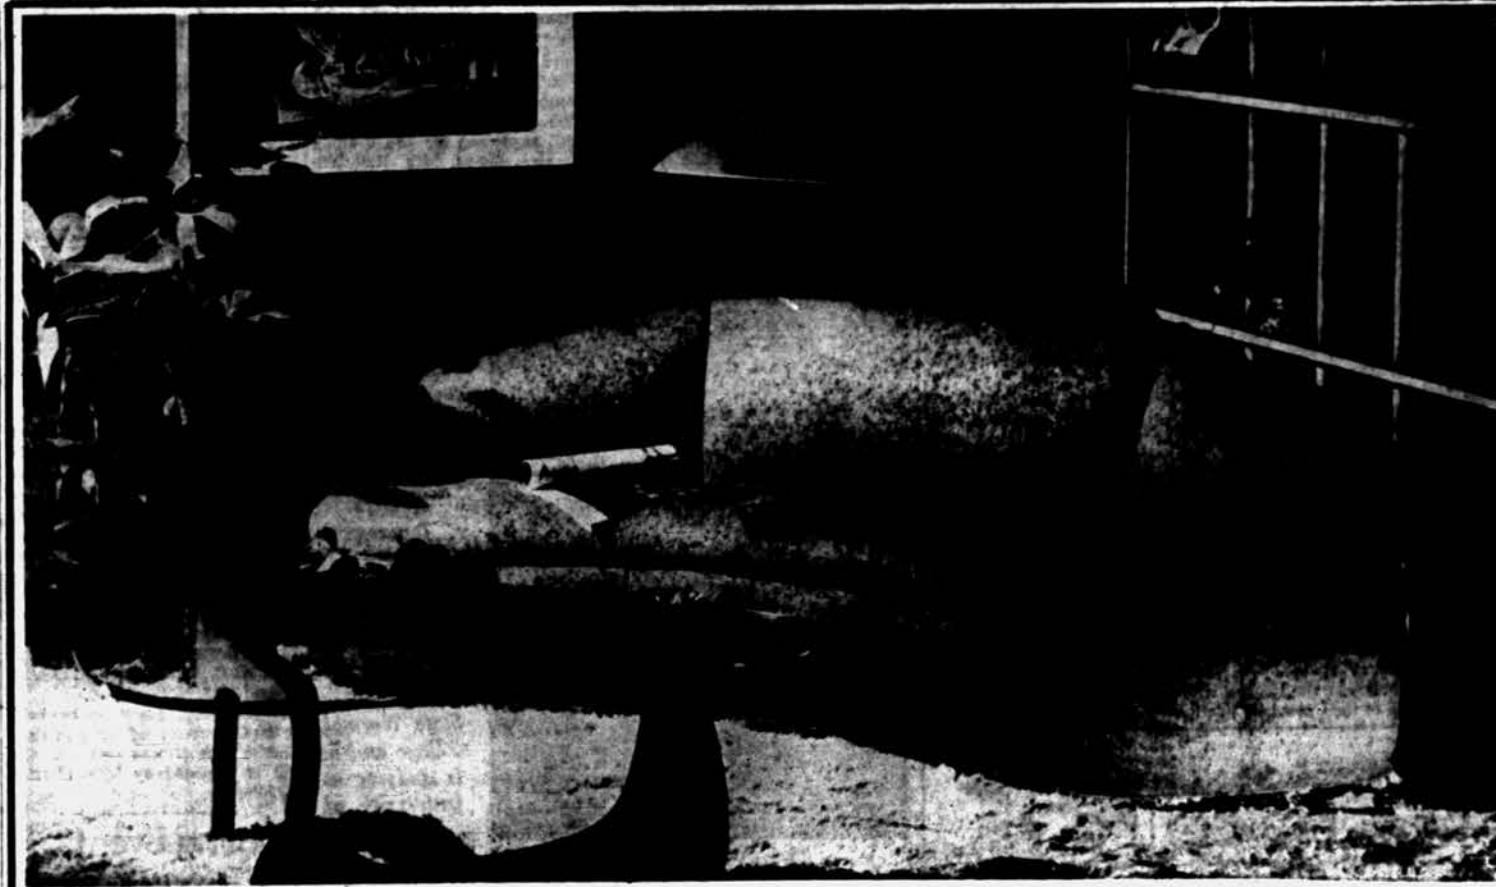

Perry L. Dean, 76, of 16206 Dixie Hwy., Davisburg, was treated at Goodrich Hospital in Goodrich for injuries to his right side, following an auto collision near his home Wednesday.

Dean had stopped to pick up mail from a roadside box and then seeing no traffic, turned left to cross Dixie highway and his car was struck by a northbound auto driven by Arthur S. McNie of Linden. McNie was not injured.

Water Togs From Coast Are Unique

Beach Coats Have New Length; Suits More Becoming

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE

LOS ANGELES—For those of you who are planning jaunts to southern climes this winter, California fashion creators have just the beach apparel you're looking for.

But for those who must wait for another summer we'll give an idea of what's ahead fashion-wise.

As guests of the California fashion creators, visiting editors saw the effect of colors such as orange, lime, purple, bright reds and multi-colors in bathing suits.

The first show began with Fred Cole. Silhouettes are slim and the big color news is Cole blue. This is a dark bright blue, best described as Yale blue.

However, this being a colorful season, Mr. Cole has done suits in vibrant shades too.

He has designed beach coats in three lengths, long, finger tip and short. These coats have matching suits in almost any fabric.

All suits shown Wednesday emphasize the new longer torso. Particularly interesting is the new modified blazer-type suit, much more becoming than last year's style.

Some of Catalina's suits reflect design inspiration from the Orient. Oriental prints and styling are seen in swimsuits with matching Japanese Kabuki beach coats.

Styling in this collection is imaginative, and the only collection we saw which featured tailored draped pockets at the hipline. Highly individual too is an elasticized taffeta suit called "Swimming in Mink" for its water treated bow of fur.

Maurice Handler brought out the young, sophisticated look in junior sizes using almost as many two-piece suits as the conventional suit. Pastel plaids were an attractive part of the collection as were the two-tone stripe combinations.

DeWeese designs, Rose Marie Reid, Gantner of California and Caltex of California were others showing designs Wednesday which we'll tell you about when press week is over.

Library Night Conducted by Moose Group

Library chapter night and the initiation of new members were held by women of the Moose recently at Moose Temple. Mrs. Randall Brown introduced the speaker, Lorna Cobb, who spoke on the need of books through the ages. New members initiated in honor of Mrs. C. T. Cavalier were Mrs. Edwin Truhn, Mrs. Edwin Sparkman, Mrs. Fred Elias, Mrs. Fern Allen, Mrs. Earl Kaygo, Mrs. Cyril Burling and Mrs. Floyd Yeaman. A penny supper is scheduled for Nov. 15 with Mrs. Rannal Brown serving as chairman. Members and their families are welcome. Chapter 360 has been invited to attend a meeting in honor of Michigan's grand regent, Mrs. Elizabeth Neubert, at Dearborn on Nov. 28.

Public Concert Set

The Stanley Quartet of the University of Michigan will give the third public concert in the Beethoven Cycle Sunday in the Rackham Lecture Hall of the University.

Here, designer Rose Marie Reid makes you feel like a siren of the sea in a suit of intricately patterned hellerized jersey in the sun-sleepy color of topaz, or in jewel-tone of sapphire. Contrast ribbing scoops the neck, spans the shoulders and gives new top width to a slender whip of a sheath.

First Methodist Church to Be Setting for Event

The United Church Women of Pontiac will observe World Community Day Monday in the First Methodist Church. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Stanley Kipp.

Boggs, Mrs. Allan W. Hersee, Mrs. Allen J. Parker and Mrs. Chester Caughell. Others will be Mrs. William H. Eustice, Mrs. Warren T. Fowler, Mrs. Ward A. Cummings, Mrs. H. R. Fraser, Mrs. Frank Gray and Mrs. Forrest Brown.

Children in the pageant are Brad Boggs, Cynthia Cummings and Patricia Cahape. Mrs. Edward D. Auchard of the First Presbyterian Church will lead the worship and dedication of the gifts immediately following the pageant.

"Parables for Peace," will include warm clothing for children and remnants for their mothers to make into clothes, as well as household linens and blankets for the homeless people and refugees over seas.

Poole Home Setting for Ceremony

Suzanne McDougall, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Dempsey of Watkins Lake and the late Floyd McDougall, became the bride of Stephen James Cloonan of Erie, Mich., Saturday evening.

The eight o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Milton H. Bank, before a mantel banked with white flowers in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, the Gelston V. Pooles of Watkins Lake.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Robert McDougall of Laingsburg, wore a cocktail-length dress of winter white wool jersey. The jacket was embroidered with pearls and sequins and she carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Frederick J. Poole attended the bride as matron of honor attired in a toast wool ensemble and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Christie McDougall, of Laingsburg, attended her aunt wearing a brown taffeta dress and carrying a nosegay of pink roses.

Edward Mongean of Erie, served as best man and Dan Sayles of St. Clair played the bridal recital.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of black crepe and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Poole, who was gowned in navy, also wore a pink rose corsage.

A bridal supper was served from a table centered with an arrangement of white roses, snapdragons and chrysanthemums.

Following a western motor trip the couple will reside in Erie.

To be busy doing for others is a privilege which results in happiness for both, forgetting ones self and thus, "Living for Others," which is the theme of the Round Table Club for this year.

Mrs. Kistler made the announcement that the regents of the University of Michigan have voted to cooperate with the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs to establish the first unit of Girls' Town, which will undoubtedly be located in the Detroit area.

Calling Up After Party Is Unusual

There's No Need to Thank Hostess Two Times

By EMILY POST

A reader explains: "I gave a rather large luncheon several days ago. The day following this party some of the women called me to say 'thank you' and to tell me how much they enjoyed the party and the others I haven't heard from at all."

"While all expressed their thanks before leaving my house, I felt that those who did not call were very unappreciative."

"Calling the hostess the next day after her party gives her a sense of personal satisfaction and, in my opinion, is the least guests can do in return for hospitality shown them. I would like your opinion on this."

Answer: No, it is not customary to call the hostess the next day. The only obligation possible is to return the invitation in kind when you are able.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a friend who has a very annoying habit—at least it seems so to me. She just can't stand to see a loose hair or a piece of lint on anyone's clothing without picking it off. It is a phobia with her.

I suppose she thinks she is doing the person a good turn by doing this, but, in my opinion, it is very bad manners and tends to make one feel less than well groomed. Perhaps I am over-sensitive about this, but isn't this an improper thing to do?

Answer: A loose hair or lint on a well-groomed friend is so unusual that you probably would take it off if you should ever encounter it, but you would hardly do this to a stranger, nor should you do it often to a friend.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have invited a boy whom I met this past summer to come and stay at our house for several days. I would like to know if I am responsible for all entertainment while he is here.

In other words, if we go out to dinner, or the theater or dancing, etc., am I supposed to pay for this, or does he assume these expenses?

Answer: Generally your family would pay for them, but if they are not at all well off and he can afford it, it would be natural for him to do so.

Variety Tricks Tongue, Taste Expert Reveals

NEWARK, N. J. (INS)—Your tongue is not as sensitive as you think. It has its blind spots. What's more, it can get awfully confused when confronted with meals containing bitter, sweet, salty and sour flavors, according to research chemist Phil Kratz.

Kratz, whose job it is to find out why people taste the way they do, reports that the center of the tongue is insensitive to most taste sensations. The rest of the tongue is divided into small taste buds, reacting to one or two flavors but taste-blind to the others.

When a dish has too much of a particular flavor, the taste buds which react to it actually get tired and close off for a half-minute or so.

For example, Kratz explained the "fatigued" buds won't register the sweetness of a sweet dish at that point, leaving the other taste buds a clear field to pick up the secondary flavor elements present if any.

So, if your dessert tonight suddenly tastes less sweet than it did at first, don't bite your wife. Hold your tongue, count to at least ten and then try another bite.

Rich Soil Inspires Dedicated Scientist

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

When I was a little girl on a Missouri farm, I sometimes used to see my father lean down, pick up a handful of soil and sift it gingerly and reverently through his fingers. He loved it and knew there was a kind of life in it, a promise of fulfillment. As indeed there was, fulfillment that took the form of corn and wheat and apples and potatoes.

The soil of a New Jersey farm had fulfillment in it, too, when Dr. Selman A. Waksman like my father, dug his hands into the dirt and marveled at its richness and fertility. And thus began the dedicated career of the man whose work has already saved more lives than were lost in all the Napoleonic wars.

In "My Life with the Microbes," Nobel Prize-winner Waksman tells of the hard-working years that led to the awesome discovery of streptomycin and the opening of the world of antibiotics. I shall never understand the secrets of microbe biology for I am a moron, scientifically speaking.

When I did an experiment in chemistry which was supposed to turn the liquid in a test tube blue, in my test tube the liquid turned red. And even harder on my chemistry teacher was the time I attached my Bunsen burner to the water faucet and crystals which should have melted, instead bounced around in miniature explosions.

But I don't need to know much about science to marvel at what, perhaps unconsciously, the research scientist revealed about the humility of the researcher, the questing mind, the willingness to work without reward and without recognition in the perennial hope of finally adding to the sum of world knowledge.

While he still lived on the remote family farm on the Russian steppes, Dr. Waksman had watched his sister succumb to diphtheria, and his mother, taken sick suddenly, die because it was too late to operate when a doctor reached her.

Perhaps these two unnecessary deaths so close to him added extra drive to his determination, from the moment he picked up that handful of New Jersey soil, to find out all he could about the smallest of living things—the microbe.

Looking back now he says, "I realize that it was almost presumptuous of me to undertake this type of investigation."

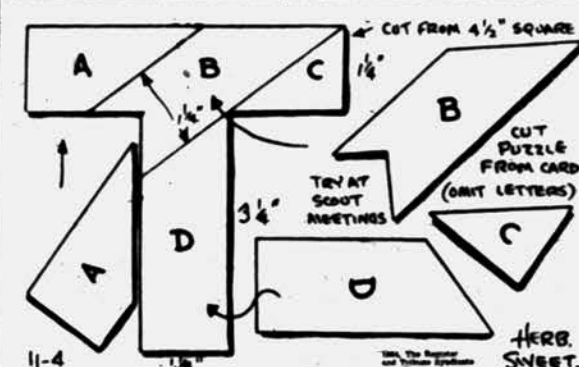

But he went on digging in the soil seeking for the unknown, isolating and testing thousands of cultures. The search ended in glory, as it did for the Curies and for Sir Alexander Fleming who didn't tidy up his laboratory and so discovered penicillin.

There finally came a triumphant day when the discoverer of streptomycin saw a little girl who should have died nine weeks before actually sitting up in her hospital bed eating breakfast. It was the first case of a child with tubercular meningitis brought back to life in that hospital. Of 400 such patients, not one before had beaten death.

To protect the interests of the public in his discovery, Dr. Waksman battled selfish interests, discouraged often by those who wanted only to grab. His most fervent hope is that in the future, there will be following him men who look not only for jobs but for service, to help create a better future for all.

And like most men who have dug deep into the mysteries of life, he believes that in the end the good will survive and that the best of man will be the conqueror.

Try It

Trick Will Baffle Friends

How have you been getting along with your trick ideas? I know that you must need another one by now to surprise your friends, so here is one which is fun for people of any age to try. Make this and try it on your family.

You will need a piece of cardboard like the one on the back of your school tablet. By the way, this idea comes from Mrs. Lois Mae Pearson of Greenfield, Ind., who teaches school. She tells us that this is a good way to get acquainted at school.

IF newest in furs—

The casual easy look, here in fur overcoat in full length or short—gives a youthful silhouette and is in unusual furs now.

Miss L. F. — The casual air which we want so much to achieve is all over the fashion scene this fall. Here the casual easy look is superbly illustrated in fur overcoats, smarter than fur coats have been in years, we think.

Use a ruler to make the "T". Be sure that the bottom part is the same width as the top, for this makes the puzzle harder to work. Divide it as shown by cutting two lines. This makes the "T" in four pieces, A, B, C and D.

If you wish to letter your puzzle, do it on the back. See how long it takes your friends to work it. Do you have another puzzle to send in to me?

If you are in a group where there are several interested people, keep time and see which one can do it in the least number of minutes.

Keeps Going --- but at Leisurely Pace

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"My husband has solved his retirement problem in a most unusual way," a reader writes me, "and I thought perhaps you might like to hear about it."

"You see, Dan was a salesman, and a good one, too. He covered a big territory and did very well financially. It was a kind of high pressure job and his mind was busy at it day and night."

"When he retired, at 60, everybody thought he would probably rest for a few months and then try to find another sales job. Nobody could picture him settling down into a rut."

"We had enough to live on—not as luxuriously as we were used to, but enough to get by on."

"Sure enough, Dan and I took a nice two-month vacation the day he retired. But when we got home he did the last thing in the world I would have expected."

"He went downtown one day to a big insurance company where they have a policy of hiring older workers for clerical jobs. Clerical work—for Dan!"

"He got a nice sedate job, with no pressure and with a small salary. He works from 9 to 5, five days a week—and he loves it."

"He says it's a fine change to have a job he can forget about when he goes home. He likes the leisurely pace, and he enjoys working with people in what he calls a "non-aggressive" capacity.

"As for me, I'm happy as can be. Dan feels needed, he has an office to go to every day, and the income makes all the difference in the world."

"We're so much better off than many of our friends—the men just kind of droop around after they retire."

This is a wonderful solution, and fortunately, more and more companies are hiring older workers for clerical jobs, knowing that they frequently do a better and more accurate job than the youngsters are more regular in attendance, and often stay longer!

Teacher Feud Disrupts Youth's Routine at School

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I can't get along with him—couldn't get along with him last year either. That's when the trouble started."

"I thought it was because I was going steady, but other kids who went steady didn't have my troubles. They can all be horsing and kidding in class, but if I'm working and ask this teacher a question he tells me to keep quiet."

"That makes me lose my temper I used to say. 'I was just going to ask a question.' Then he thought I was assy."

"This antagonism bothers me and I'm making me less popular with the high school kids. It makes me wonder, too, whether I should even try to go out for basketball, as this teacher is also the coach."

"I made the team last year, but I'm afraid the way we're getting along these days will doom my chances. I'm slipping already in the subjects I have with him. This is serious and I need your help."

It's quite possible that you and this teacher of yours have each other sized up all wrong. It's been known to happen. Each of you may be looking for trouble—so, of course, you find it.

An attitude, a tone of voice, a gesture can give a wrong impression. And like a snowball, wrong impressions can build up into a real antagonism.

At this point, it's difficult to imagine what your teacher really thinks of you. But you do give a few clues as to your attitude.

You say you lose your temper. You're stubbornly reluctant to keep quiet when told to do so. The tone of your "last word" strikes him as being impertinent. Those clues add together to create an impression that isn't good.

It seems to me that a frank, open, friendly conference with him might dispel the clouds of wrong impressions and get things straightened out between you. Why not go to him and tell him calmly and sincerely that you want to get along in his classes—you want to get along with him.

Then ask what you can do to show him you really mean it. If he's aware of you as a problem, he will talk things out with you.

He'll point out the attitudes and behavior that are keeping you from being a success. He'll give you tips on getting along with him and in your work.

If you sincerely want to end this antagonism, you must be the one to make the first move to end it.

Check Everything

Before you replace a fuse that blew, be sure that whatever went wrong is remedied. Unplug the last appliance you plugged in, check for shorts in the wiring. Then screw a light bulb in the fuse hole. If it lights brightly, there's still a short. If it lights dimly, there's none.

Nationalist Riots in Algeria Shock Mendes-France

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
It must have shocked French Premier Pierre Mendes-France to learn that Nationalist terrorism had broken out in Algeria.

The bombings and the murders in the adjoining protectorates of Tunisia and Morocco were bad enough.

But Algeria is not a protectorate or colony. Politically, it is a part of France, with direct representation in the French Parliament as well as its own legislature. It is also France's oldest, largest and most important North African possession. About 1,000,000 of its 5,700,000 people are French.

While terrorism had flared sporadically in Morocco for 18 months, and in Tunisia since last spring, Algeria had been quiet.

The seriousness with which the French government regarded the Algerian outbreak was shown by the immediate dispatch from France of more than 2,400 paratroopers and riot troops.

The terrorists struck suddenly Monday throughout the country. There were more than 30 simultaneous attacks. It was evident that the outbreak had been organized carefully.

French authorities suspect that Tunisian and Moroccan Nationalists fomented the attacks. But the real significance seems to be that Algerian Nationalists are not satisfied with the semi-independent status of their country. They, like the Tunisians and Moroccans, want complete freedom from French rule.

There had been outbreaks in Tunisia and Morocco over the weekend. Now all of French North Africa, extending 1,150 miles from the Libyan border to the Atlantic is involved in the terrorism.

The trouble in Algeria could become serious. Algerians, or mixed Berber and Arab stock, are tough.

The last big outbreak in Algeria was lost in the headlines of the closing period of World War II in Europe. There was an uprising in the early days of May 1945. It was called a food rebellion, in protest against wartime conditions.

The Rome edition of the American Army newspaper Stars and Stripes reported from Casablanca, Morocco, on the basis of what it called semi-official sources, that 97 Europeans, mostly French officials and wealthy civilians, were killed and that more than 10,000 rebels were killed or wounded in the clean-up.

A French officer, arriving in Paris from Algeria, said this report was greatly exaggerated. He put the total casualties at not more than 600. It was announced on June 18, 1945, that 15 leaders of the outbreak had been sentenced to death.

What Mendes-France may do about Algeria is hard to tell. He is hardly likely to try to give Algerians greater freedom. It may happen that he will have to start a crackdown against terrorism in Algeria, Tunisia and Morocco all at once.

Guides Embellish History

LONDON (INS) — Talks given by the famed "Beel-gaters" on their guided tours of the Tower of London have been "censored." The Tower governor, Col. H. Carkeet Jones, ordered the Yeomen warders to stick to history after complaints from learned tourists that the warders were embellishing their talks with a good deal of fictional detail about executions.

Motorist Warns of Fire

Why Suckers? Nobody's Sure in South Illinois

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP) — The term "sucker" nowadays can mean a fish, lollipop, unwanted shoot on a plant or a carnival patron, but it once was a popular nickname for southern Illinois residents.

John Allen, a Southern Illinois University historian, says the term was widely used in the early 1800s and the residents resented their nickname. Allen gives three versions of the origin of the term:

Early settlers in this area grow tobacco which has to be "topped" to get rid of suckers, or unwanted shoots, which sap the strength. Many of the settlers were poor folk and thus were compared to the tobacco shoots.

Another theory is that during a period of drought in the area the people carried long sections of cane which they inserted into crawfish holes to get water.

Allen is inclined to discredit the theory because all the crawfish holes he has studied weren't straight enough to insert cane.

The theory Allen believes most correct is that many men from southern Illinois went to the Galena area to work in lead mines in the summer, returning home in the fall.

The migrant miners would arrive in Galena just about the same time that the fish known as suckers began moving up the Mississippi river to spawning grounds and they soon became associated.

Lonely Parakeet Elopes With Sparrow, Is Jilted

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP) — This is the tale of Perry, the parakeet, who eloped with a sparrow and then was jilted.

Perry's owners, Mr. and Mrs. Gall, verify that he flew away with a sparrow. They said an advertisement in a newspaper's lost and found column resulted in his return.

According to the Galls, Perry looked like he'd been on a "hot weekend" when he finally did arrive home—minus his sparrow friend.

Perry won't have to do any more romantic roaming now, for his owners have bought two more parakeets. Reports indicate the three are getting along well.

Husbands say the nicest things when you wash their shirts in all!

The folks you love to please can't help loving you for the extra-beautiful wash all's "controlled suds" do! This new detergent is actually prescribed by automatic washer makers (and patented in Washington)!

SEVERAL MILLION WOMEN can happily testify that all is a wonderful step forward in the art of home laundering.

With almost no suds, all is obviously different from old-fashioned thick-suds detergents. It's also obvious that all's "controlled suds" can do a far better job for you in your automatic washer.

That's why all is so urgently and universally prescribed by automatic washer makers themselves.

Sad facts about thick suds

The men who repair and service automatic washers blame "too much suds" for 4 out of 5 of their trouble-shooting calls.

They know, from sad experience, that no washer can do a thorough washing job if it's all choked up and smothered in billows of thick suds!

That's why most of these washer experts always leave a sample box of all with the owner after nursing a washer back to health.

For all's "controlled suds" actually help the washer swish and slosh the dirt out of the clothes, instead of putting on the brakes like heavy suds.

Why all-clean clothes stay cleaner

Instead of foaming away its washing power on top of the wash water, every particle of all dives under for the dirt in the clothes.

It doesn't just loosen the dirt but also actually hangs onto it and drags it all out with the rinse water.

So here's where all beats thick suds again. For you know how stubborn suds can be, and you certainly don't want a fresh load of wash dulled and discolored by the suds your washer can't rinse away. all leaves absolutely no sticky suds film to pick up dirt, so an all-clean wash actually stays clean longer!

Patented for your protection all was created at the request of automatic washer makers. Its miraculous "controlled suds" have proved a welcome blessing to countless women. Now others are trying to imitate all. If you want the same wonderful washing results now enjoyed by millions of users, remember this: all's exclusive "controlled suds" formula is protected by U. S. Patent Nos. 2550691 and 2594453.

Compare... at our risk

all is positively guaranteed to outwash anything you've ever used in your automatic washer, or you can get your money back.

So buy a box of all right away... and try it on all your wash... everything from the grimeiest work and play clothes to your daintiest lingerie. (all is unconditionally recommended for the new miracle fabrics like Acrilan, Orlon, Dynel and nylon.)

If you don't see a wonderful difference... immediately... just return the rest of the all to your dealer. He has been instructed to refund your money in full.

Dream Kitchen Feeds Hundreds

Students Enjoy New Cafeteria

Cooks at Walled Lake Work With Sparkling $15,000 Equipment

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Every woman loves working with brand-new cooking equipment. Take $15,000 worth of new equipment and you have the kitchen at the new Walled Lake High School.

We visited the kitchen and cafeteria this week, and the cook in us thrilled to the beautiful stainless steel work surfaces, the wide expanse of stove and the spacious storerooms.

Mrs. Emma Sweet, head of the kitchens, took time between serving students to show us around and to give us some details of her work. She and one of her assistants, Mrs. Shirley Naubert, had a hand in buying the new equipment so they got what they wanted.

Also helping Mrs. Sweet in her daily job are Mrs. Ruth Balon, Mrs. Sarah Colton, Mrs. Pearl Hickory, Mrs. Coral Steiner and Mrs. Zolzie Perkins.

At the present time 300 to 400 students eat hot lunches every day. This includes some of the fifth and sixth graders whose classrooms are in the new school. Milk and ice cream are purchased by many who bring their lunches from home.

Like thousands of other schools in the country, the Walled Lake schools are under the government hot lunch program. This means that the children are assured an inexpensive, adequate, nutritious meal with certain specified foods served daily.

Mrs. Margaret Steiner, high school home economics teacher, plans the menus two weeks in advance for all the cafeterias in the system.

Monday's lunch looked good; by the time we had watched several hundred trays go by, we were hungry! Barbecue buns, Harvard beets, lettuce salad, milk and canned peaches made an appetizing meal.

Unfortunately, too many of the younger students skipped the milk. On the other hand, many of the high school boys took two and three bottles. About 800 half pints of milk are consumed daily.

E. V. Ayres, principal of the school, is justifiably proud of the handsome building. He pointed out to us that the several hundred students in each lunch period go through the serving line in about 10 minutes, which is speedy.

The cafeteria itself serves as a study hall during the rest of the day, for that reason the plastic-topped tables are 36 inches wide; the students can spread their books around easily.

Laid out carefully in scale model first, the room seats 240 people without crowding. Like the rest of the school, the cafeteria is light, airy and colorful.

Acoustical ceilings cut down on noise. The blond wood chairs are comfortable. The many colored plastic trays and dishes give a cheerful look to the large room. It is a pleasant place to be.

Chili-Cornbread Meal Comes Off Pantry Shelf

Here's an idea for a pantry shelf main dish that will please your family time and time again. Prepare a package of cornbread mix and add three-quarters cup of grated cheese to the batter. Bake as usual.

Cut into hefty squares, and pour chili con carne over each square. Just heat the chili as it comes from the can.

New flavor for cooked sliced carrots: Dress them with butter or margarine, honey and prepared horseradish.

LUNCH LINE—Here is a behind-the-counter look at the students going through the lunch line out at Walled Lake High School's new cafeteria. Mrs. Shirley Naubert (left) is putting one filled plate on the counter while beginning to fill another. Behind her is Mrs. Emma Sweet, head of the kitchen, and on the far right is Mrs. Ruth Balon.

TRAY TROTTERS—Teresa Perant of Drake road toward a table to enjoy their lunch of barbecue bun, and Rita Willingham of Honeyuckle road head Harvard beets, lettuce salad, milk and peaches.

Californians Boast Talent Hungarians Serve for Preparing Tomatoes Extra Special Tuna

Our southern California friends pride themselves on the ways they have with fresh tomatoes. Here are two suggestions from Los Angeles:

Western Tomato Burgers
4 large tomatoes
1 pound ground beef
2 tablespoons salad oil or meat drippings
1 small onion, minced or grated
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons salt
Pepper

Cut thin slice from stem end of each tomato. Scoop out centers with spoon and invert tomato cups to drain.
Cook spinach, covered, about three minutes, or until just barely tender. Drain liquid and save. Melt butter or margarine.
Stir in flour and gradually blend in cream and one-third cup of liquid drained from spinach. Cook until slightly thickened.
Add cooked spinach. Season with salt, pepper and nutmeg. Fill tomato cups with creamed spinach. Sprinkle with crumbs and dot with butter.
Bake about 15 minutes in moderate oven (350 degrees) until crumbs are lightly browned. Makes six servings.

For Rich Hamburgers
For a delicious butter-rich spread for hamburgers, or steaks—cream together one-half cup butter, one-half pound blue cheese, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon grated onion and salt and pepper. Let stand an hour, so flavors will mingle. Spread on cooked hamburgers, steaks or hamburger buns for an exciting taste treat.

Tomatoes Stuffed with Spinach
4 fresh tomatoes
2 pounds fresh spinach
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons flour
1 cup heavy cream or undiluted evaporated milk
Salt and pepper
Dash of nutmeg
1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs

Simple ingredients served in a different way can transform an everyday meal into an extra special one. For instance, here's a recipe suggestion. We're sure you'll agree it's mighty good.

Hungarian in origin, Tuna Koldoma is a distinctive dish and one you'll want to serve again and again. Proof of its popularity is the speed with which it disappears.

Tuna Koldoma
2 1/2 pound cans solid-pack tuna, drained
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
1 cup finely shredded cabbage
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
2 eggs, well beaten
1 teaspoon nutmeg
Salt and pepper to taste
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
4 large cabbage leaves, cooked
1 1/2-ounce can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup milk

Drain tuna and reserve one-fourth cup tuna oil; mix oil and bread crumbs. Break tuna into pieces with a fork. Combine bread crumbs, tuna, cabbage, onion, eggs, nutmeg, salt and pepper to taste and Worcestershire sauce; mix well.
Place some of the tuna mixture in each cabbage leaf; roll and place in a shallow 1 1/2-quart casserole. Combine soup and milk; mix well and pour over cabbage rolls. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 minutes. Makes six servings.

Know Seasons for Meat Buying

Buy meat when it's cheap—eat when it's dear. That's how to save meat dollars.

Easier to say than do? Not at all.

According to the current issue of a homemaking magazine, "meat supplies are as seasonal as fresh fruits and vegetables. When the supply is largest is the time to buy, freeze the meat, and have it on hand to eat when prices jump upward."

For example, few hogs come on the market in the hot summer months, so pork is scarcest and most expensive at that time.

The best time to freeze and store pork is usually in late fall or early winter—November through January. Hog marketings are at their peak, and so dressed pork prices are their lowest.

For the same reason, low-grade beef—the kind you buy for good hamburger—sells lowest in October and November, while choice high-grade beef—for steaks and roasts—is most plentiful and cheapest in May, June and July.

Most lambs are born in the spring and are ready for market in the fall. Therefore, October through December is your best time to buy lamb.

If you want stewing hens, August and September are your best bet. But if you're interested in fryers, you'll find them most plentiful earlier in the summer, June and July.

The moral is clear. Get to know when various meats and poultry are "in season." Time your buying for your home freezer with the period of largest supply, and save from 25 to 50 cents out of every dollar you now spend for meat.

Let Fruitcakes 'Ripen' for Four to Six Weeks

Since fruitcakes should be allowed to "ripen" from four to six weeks, now is the time to begin making them. Keeping fruitcake moist during storage is often a problem to many homemakers. Marinate the fruits to be used in the cakes at least 12 and preferably 24 hours before mixing with the cake batter.

Glazing fruitcakes also helps to maintain moisture, and storing them in airtight containers is very important. Basting during storage with fruit juices keeps them moist, too, and gives them a rich, satisfying flavor.

Ice cream cone sales in a year in the U. S. amount to about $24 million.

Climax Your Meal With 'Josephines'

"Josephines" are a delicious dessert that can be prepared in only 10 minutes.

Actually, there are only five ingredients needed: 12 graham crackers, three-fourths cup of heavy cream, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla and one-half cup of extra-moist coconut.

First, whip the cream, adding sugar and vanilla flavoring. Spread it between graham crackers to form a rectangular loaf. Cover the top and sides with the remaining whipped cream mixture. Then add the coconut and chill it in the refrigerator for two hours.

This recipe can also be varied by using rum flavoring, orange, maple nut, maraschino cherry juice or sherry.

Put Apricots in Muffins

Apricot bran muffins—Follow directions for muffins on package of bran cereal. Put half of batter into muffin tins. Place apricot half in each cup. Pour remaining batter on top of apricots. Bake as directed on package.

Fix Special Meat Loaf Without Fussy Sauce

From the current issue of a home magazine comes a recipe for making meat loaf more than just meat loaf. And it's easy to make—without using a complicated, hard-to-prepare sauce: Blend one 8-ounce can of tomato sauce with 2 pounds of ground beef, four slices of cubed bread, one slightly beaten egg, 2 teaspoons salt, one-quarter teaspoon of pepper, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Then stir in one 1-pound can of mixed vegetables. Pour a second can of tomato sauce in a 9x5x3 loaf pan. Press the meat mixture into the pan, and bake it in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for one hour.

TAPIOCA CRUMB SQUARES—Here's tapioca in a new garb... easily and quickly prepared crumb squares, topped with whipped cream and nuts—delicious treat for autumn days. Why not try it with other flavors of tapioca pudding?

Tapioca Crumb Squares End Meal With Flourish

When the crisp bright days of autumn are upon us, that's the time when thoughts turn to the warmth of a fire burning on the hearth, the juicy tang of apples, sweet crunch of freshly ripened nuts.

Old-fashioned foods are the order of the day, and one of the most traditional is tapioca. (Today, with tapioca so easily and quickly prepared with the pudding and pie filling mixes, it's simple indeed to satisfy that nostalgic longing.)

Here is an easily and quickly prepared chocolate tapioca crumb square with a bottom crust and topping of nuts and graham cracker crumbs. It is a perfect finish for an autumn meal.

Tapioca Crumb Squares
1 cup fine graham cracker crumbs
1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup butter, melted
1 package chocolate tapioca pudding
2 cups milk
1 egg
Combine crumbs, nuts and sugar. Add melted butter and mix well. Press two-thirds of mixture firmly on bottom of 8x8x2-inch pan. Bake in moderate, 375-degree oven 5 minutes. Cool.

Combine pudding mix and one-quarter cup of the milk in saucepan. Add egg and blend well. Then add remaining 1 1/2 cups milk. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil and is slightly thickened. (Mixture will continue to thicken as it cools.)

Remove from heat. Let stand 15 to 20 minutes; stir once or twice just to mix. Turn onto baked crumb mixture. Sprinkle with remaining crumbs.

Try 'Hockless Ham'

For something unusual, a "first" on the market, try the new "hockless ham." The shank bone has been removed from the shank end, along with skin and the excess fat. This leaves a half ham which looks like the butt end—except that it has the thrifty advantage of providing more edible meat and less bone, at a fairly low price.

Serve Mellow Pears

Mellow Pears—For a cool weather dessert, place contents of one can (16 ounce) Bartlett pear halves in saucepan. Add two slices of fresh lemon stuck with four whole cloves. Heat only to simmer point. Do not boil. Serve warm—delicious and mellow pears.

Caraway Adds Zip to Tangy Timbales

It's surprising the way little extra touches can work big changes. Just one-half teaspoon caraway seeds in the recipe for Bacon Noodle Timbales does wonder for its flavor.

It's just the right accent for the tangy combination of bacon, noodles, onion and mustard. Be sure to spoon the tomato sauce over the timbales for effective color contrast.

Bacon Noodle Timbales

4 ounces broad noodles
1/2 pound bacon, diced
1/4 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons enriched flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon caraway seeds
1 1/2 cups milk
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup cooked mixed vegetables
Tomato sauce
Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender (about four minutes). Drain and rinse. While noodles are cooking, brown bacon and onion in skillet. Pour off all but two tablespoons drippings. Stir in flour, salt and caraway seeds.

Add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add prepared mustard and mix until well blended. Cool mixture slightly, gradually stir sauce into beaten eggs, mixing well. Fold in mixed vegetables and noodles.

Spoon noodle mixture into six well-greased three-quarter-cup bakers or muffin cups. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 to 35 minutes. Unmold and serve hot with tomato sauce. Makes six servings.

Use Vegetable Liquid

Here's a way to use the liquid leftover from such cooked vegetables as carrots, celery, snap beans or peas. Add one-third cup of it to a can of condensed mushroom soup with a teaspoon of curry powder. Heat this quick curry sauce with cooked leftover lamb, beef or chicken; serve over rice with chopped peanuts, crumbled crisply cooked bacon, chutney, sweet pickle relish and coconut.

Pumpkin Pie Boasts 'Something Extra'

Pumpkin pie is a traditional favorite at holiday time. Here is a suggestion for a pumpkin pie with "something extra" which is sure to be a hit.

Make a 9-inch pastry shell. For the filling, combine three-fourths cup brown sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon ginger, one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg and 1 1/4 cups cooked pumpkin.

Combine 2 tablespoons orange juice, two eggs, beaten, 1 1/4 cups hot milk, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind and one-half cup chopped nuts and stir into pumpkin mixture. Pour into unbaked pie shell.

Bake at 425 degrees 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 40 minutes longer.

To test a pumpkin pie for doneness, insert a silver knife in the center of the pie. When the knife comes out clean, the pie is done.

Mix honey and brown gravy flavoring sauce together and use as a glaze for sparrows.

CHICKEN WITH MACARONI—This Italian-style dish is both a good family and party dish. With chicken selling for such reasonable prices, now you can have it often. Take advantage of food bargain and please everyone with this interesting way of serving fresh chicken.

Garlic-Tinged Macaroni Teams Up With Chicken

From Washington, D. C., the United States Department of Agriculture reports that stewing chickens are now in tremendous supply all over the country.

Prices are reasonable for this high-quality protein food. So we pass on a new family recipe from Kathryn B. Niles, home economics director, Poultry and Egg National Board.

"Many people have never heard of browning and crisping stewing chicken that has previously been cooked to tenderness in seasoned water. It makes the chicken even better," Miss Niles says.

Chicken With Macaroni, Italian Style

1 ready-to-cook stewing chicken, cut up, stewed
Seasoned flour
Fat for browning
1 package (8-ounce) macaroni, cooked and drained
1/2 cup chicken fat, butter or margarine
1/2 cup minced fresh sweet basil or parsley
1/2 teaspoon ground pepper
1/2 teaspoon salt
Coat cooked chicken with seasoned flour (1 cup flour, 1 tablespoon paprika, 1 teaspoon pepper and salt—amount of salt used will depend on salt used for stewing).
Place chicken in hot fat, turning to brown and crisp evenly. Meanwhile saute garlic in melted chicken fat, butter or margarine until delicately browned.

Add macaroni and remaining ingredients. Toss together lightly. Cover and heat gently, stirring occasionally, for about 10 minutes.
If necessary, add 1 tablespoon water to keep from sticking. Serve macaroni with the chicken.

To stew chicken: Place chicken in heavy kettle. Add one-half cup water and one-half teaspoon salt for each pound of chicken. Cover. Simmer until fork-tender, about three hours.

Remove chicken from broth. Refrigerate broth promptly. Proceed with chicken as directed above.

Bake Apples, Yams for Thanksgiving

Planning your Thanksgiving meal? If you are, here are some tips from the current issue of a homemaking magazine . . . tips designed to make that big meal different and just a little better.

Scalloped sweet potatoes and apples are delectable partners for turkey. Alternate layers of sliced potatoes and tart apple slices in buttered casserole.

Sprinkle the potatoes with salt and the apples with brown sugar. Then, dot with butter or margarine, and cover. Bake it in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 minutes. It's delicious.

For that final festive touch at the end of the meal, crown the pumpkin pie with walnut meats. It's a good flavor combination as well as good looking.

The Statue of Liberty, in New York harbor, is the largest statue ever built.

Perk Up Snap Beans

Everyone will like snap beans if, after they are cooked and drained, you toss them with a couple of tablespoons of olive oil and one of wine vinegar, a dash of sugar, and salt and pepper to taste.

FRENCH PEASANT RING—Star of your breakfast menu will be French Peasant Ring, served oven-hot with plenty of butter or margarine. It looks complicated but it's really easy to make. Be sure to use enriched flour in this coffee cake as it adds essential B vitamins and food iron to your family's diet.

Breakfast Menu Sparked by French Peasant Ring

Surprise your family one of these wintry mornings with toasty-warm French Peasant Ring. Accompany this luscious hot bread with chilled orange juice, eggs and bacon, glasses of cold milk for the youngsters and hot coffee for the grown-ups.

That's a breakfast which will give them energy for an active morning at work or play.

French Peasant Ring is easy to shape. Just follow the directions carefully. Pat or roll dough into a rectangular sheet about one-half inch thick and 8 inches wide. Brush with butter or margarine. Sprinkle with brown sugar and cinnamon.

Roll up like a jelly roll, sealing the edge. Form into a ring on a greased baking sheet. With scissors, cut through the ring almost to the center, in slices about 1 inch thick.

Turn each slice slightly, lifting every other one to center of the ring. That's all there is to it. Don't limit this taste-tempting treat to breakfasts. It will be the conversation piece at your next informal tea.

French Peasant Ring

1 package yeast, compressed or dry
1/2 cup water, lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
1 egg
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind (if desired)
3 cups sifted enriched flour (about)
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Soften yeast in water. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Add flour to make a thick batter. Mix well. Add softened yeast, egg and lemon rind. Beat well.

Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled (about 1 1/2 hours).

When light, punch down and let rest 10 minutes. Pat or roll into rectangular sheet about one-half inch thick and 8 inches wide. Brush with butter or margarine. Sprinkle with brown sugar and cinnamon.

Roll up like jelly roll, sealing edge. Form into ring on greased baking sheet. With scissors cut through ring almost to center, in slices about 1 inch thick. Turn each

Use 2 Cups of Cheese
With 2 Cups of Sauce

Kitchen arithmetic: Use 2 cups of grated cheddar cheese (one-half pound) with 2 cups of medium white sauce when you want a cheese sauce for cauliflower, broccoli, onions, cabbage or asparagus.

These proportions are also good to use when you want a cheese sauce for cooked ham, leftover chicken or turkey, or sliced hard-cooked eggs.

Fall Salads Troublesome? Try These Combinations

Pontiac Press Food Editor

What are you doing about salads these fall days? When the sun is scorching down, it's easy enough to think up cool, crisp salads.

But as the days shorten and the temperature falls, we must make a special effort to get a bit of greenery into our menus.

If you're absolutely without an idea for that part of the meal, make up a relish tray. You will probably find the wherewithal in your refrigerator.

Include pickles, olives, radishes, celery, carrot sticks, pickled beets, spiced peaches or crab apples, or any odd amounts of vegetables marinated in French dressing.

Let us, however, be specific and have some recipes for fall salads. The first one uses canned sauerkraut.

Kraut Jewel Salad

1 can sauerkraut (No. 2)
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup sour cream
Dash garlic salt
Paprika

1 can tomato aspic (13-ounce), cooled
1 medium onion, thinly sliced
Drain kraut and reserve 2 tablespoons kraut juice. Combine sauerkraut, celery and green pepper. Combine sour cream, 2 tablespoons sauerkraut juice and garlic salt. Add to kraut mixture and mix well. Dust with paprika.

Chill Turn chilled kraut slaw into a serving dish and surround with cubes of tomato aspic. Garnish with onion rings and serve.

In direct contrast to the above vegetable salad, this one is a sweet salad containing, of all things, mince meat!

Mince Meat Waldorf Salad

1/2 of a 9-ounce package of condensed mince meat
2 cups diced unpeeled red apples
1/2 cup chopped celery

1/2 cup coarsely broken walnut meats
A few walnut halves
4 lettuce leaf cups
Pineapple wedges
Break mince meat into small pieces. Dice apple and celery. Add nutmeats and toss lightly. Add one-half the recipe of honey fruit dressing and let marinate for a few hours or overnight.

Place a large spoonful of Waldorf salad on a lettuce cup, garnish with pineapple wedges and serve well chilled with the rest of the dressing. Place a walnut half on top of each serving. Makes four servings.

Honey Fruit Dressing

1/2 cup salad oil
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup honey
Place all ingredients in jar. Shake well before using. Yield: 1 1/2 cups.

As a final offering for our fall salad bouquet we present a salad loaf that will be a mainstay on meatless days. We think pickled beets and buttered green beans would make excellent accompaniments to this salad.

Molded Egg and Cottage Cheese Salad

1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup evaporated milk
1 hard cooked egg
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
1 cup diced celery
1 tablespoon dried pimiento
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper

Empty gelatin into a large mixing bowl. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Cool slightly, then stir in the milk. Chill until partially set, stirring frequently while chilling to keep smooth.

Slice eggs, and place five or six of the slicest slices in the bottom of a loaf pan 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches. Dice the remainder of the eggs and fold into the gelatin mixture together with remaining ingredients.

Spoon mixture carefully over sliced eggs in loaf pan. Chill until firm, about three to four hours before serving.

When ready to serve, unmold on chilled platter and garnish with tomato wedges and parsley. Makes six generous servings.

Spread canned pineapple slices with a mixture of brown sugar, nutmeg and cinnamon and broil. Wonderful with ham!

Juice Peps You Up

You'll give yourself an energy boost as well as a nutrition boost when you stop your morning and afternoon chores long enough to drink a glass of refreshing tomato juice. Keep a can in the refrigerator, all ready to pour. See what a perk-upper it is, and with so few calories, too.

Here's any easy way to sharpen appetites: Start the meal with cups of hot tomato soup and crisp rye wafers.

Now Fresh Orange Juice Comes to Store in Bottles

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Have you bought your quart of orange juice this week? It's available in glass jars at one of the supermarkets owned by a Michigan chain. It's really superior orange juice. Here's the story behind it:

There's a brand-new orange juice squeezing machine in the company's warehouse in Detroit. It puts out 800 quarts of orange juice each hour it is operated. That's a lot of orange juice.

Only two other places in the country — one in New York and one in Chicago — have this setup for getting strictly fresh orange juice to the consumer. This is the only place where it is used for a group of retail stores.

The Detroit food editors and I were guests at a demonstration breakfast last week and saw this extraordinary machine in action. We'll all vouch for the goodness of the final product.

Oranges are fed into the machine by the careful. A circular hole is cut through each fruit and steel fingers squeeze every particle of juice out of the orange.

The seeds and peel are disposed of immediately, never touching the juice. There is no chance for unpalatable oil from seeds and rind getting into it.

From this squeezing machine the juice flows through stainless steel tubing into a refrigerated steel vat taller than a man. Here it is aerated and cooled, then flows along through more pipes to the bottling section.

This is the only process that calls for human hands. Girls fill and cap the bottles, box them immediately and send them off to the cold room.

The juice is kept at about 40 degrees Fahrenheit until it reaches the retail stores. The stores keep the juice on ice.

Some of you may be asking whether orange juice thus prepared and stored will have any vitamin value by the time it reaches your refrigerator. Recent studies by the U. S. Department of Agriculture have shown that refrigerated citrus fruit juice has no loss of ascorbic acid (vitamin C) for about three days.

You will buy the juice when it is 34 hours old or less. I doubt if it lasts long enough in your home to lose any of its food value.

The quart bottle of juice is equivalent to about a dozen oranges and will be priced at 49 cents. There is also a half gallon bottle for 95 cents.

One of the other breakfast guests was a representative of the Florida Citrus Commission. He told us that there will be far more oranges this year than last, almost a fourth more than two years ago. You can count on plenty of the golden juice for that breakfast eye-opener and for between-meal snacks.

This new way of buying orange juice saves you time, money and storage space. No fruit to store, no juice to extract, no peeling to dispose of. Watch for the quart bottles of your favorite winter fruit juice.

Let Whole Family Help With Holiday Cookies

Men like to cook, and children are always willing helpers in the kitchen. Make the holiday cookie baking a family project. Let one youngster crack the nuts while another chops them.

Let your husband do the rolling and cutting of the cookies, while you supervise the baking. They'll enjoy it so much that you'll want to make it an annual tradition.

Pork Blade Steaks Boast Flavor, Thrift

Picture pork blade steaks, juicy and brown. There's plenty of good eating there. They're a boon for a budget, too.

Maximum flavor and tenderness of pork blade steaks are achieved by braising, states Reba Staggs, well-known home economist.

Braise the steaks by browning them slowly in a small amount of lard or drippings. Then add a small amount of water, cover the pan tightly and simmer for 45 minutes or until the steaks are tender.

A good brown pork gravy can be prepared by thickening the liquid in the pan.

Apples are a natural choice to serve with pork. Try serving glazed apple rings with pork blade steaks.

The rings make colorful accompaniments on the serving platter as well as complementing the flavor of the pork.

Holidays Put Spotlight on Tangy Cranberries

Cranberries are spotlighted during the holidays. They have a wonderfully tangy flavor that is guaranteed to wake up sleepy morning appetites when included in muffins and coffee cakes.

Cranberry tarts are perfect for between-meal snacks and as refreshments at an informal coffee or tea. For the crowning touch to a hearty dinner, serve a cranberry pie.

Fruit Cup With Sherbet Launches Gala Dinner

Center a fresh fruit cup with a small scoop of fruit-flavored sherbet or water ice and serve as a first course for a gala dinner.

Team orange sherbet with fresh orange sections and seedless grapes; lemon sherbet with pineapple and raspberries, using the canned or frozen fruit.

Official flower of the District of Columbia is the American Beauty rose.

A pound of cabbage, shredded and cooked, usually yields about 2 and 2½ cups — enough for four servings.

Select the turkey dressing your family will prefer, but bake it separately, in muffin tins, instead of stuffing the turkey with it.

Turkey Timbales Solve Problem of Leftovers

Leftover turkey is always to be reckoned with after a big Thanksgiving feast. Turkey Timbales are an especially delicious luncheon menu item.

Combine 2 cups chopped cooked turkey meat, one egg, beaten, and salt and pepper. Spoon into well-greased ramekins or individual casseroles, leaving center for dressing.

To make dressing, combine 1½ cups enriched bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 1 teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup melted fat and 3 tablespoons hot water. Press into center of cups.

Bake about 30 minutes in moderate oven (350). Serve with hot stuffed eggs and mushroom gravy. Makes six servings.

BARBECUED LAMB STEAKS—With the good selection of lamb now appearing in the meat section of your favorite store, you can get lamb steaks. Serve them barbecued with a tangy lemon sauce. They'll be a treat that is distinctly different.

Add Lemon Zip to Lamb Steaks

There are many families that like lamb but not well enough to have a whole roast of lamb. Some folks do not like it left over.

This recipe for barbecued lamb steaks should solve your problem. You can buy as many steaks as there are people to eat, you won't have any leftovers.

Lemon Barbecued Lamb Steaks
4 lamb steaks (about 1/2 inch thick)
2 tablespoons fat
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon salt
Garlic (optional)

Pan-brown lamb steaks in fat. Combine remaining ingredients for barbecue sauce. Brush steaks with sauce. Bake in a covered container in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minutes.

Pour remaining sauce over steaks. Bake 15 minutes more. Serve steaks hot with sauce. Makes six servings.

Note: Steaks may be pan-browned, covered with sauce and refrigerated until time for baking. Cut-up chicken may be substituted in place of lamb steaks. Bake chicken 30 minutes after adding all of sauce.

Spark Waffle Batter With Ripe Banana

Waffles are a year-round favorite on American breakfast tables but they're especially welcome now when sharp appetites are back.

For a taste-tempting breakfast treat, add 1 cup mashed ripe banana to the waffle batter. Be ready for calls for seconds all around.

Banana Waffles
2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
1 cup mashed ripe banana
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
6 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Beat egg yolks and add banana, milk and vanilla extract. Add to flour mixture. Add melted shortening. Mix well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Bake in hot waffle baker. Serve with melted butter or margarine and maple syrup. Makes six 7-inch waffles.

Pineapple topping—Drained crushed pineapple heated with butter is unbeatable as a topping for crisp golden waffles or left-over cake.

Dried Beef Has Starring Role in Hearty Bake

Budget-minded homemakers will make good use of the abundant supplies of beef available this fall. Marketing experts anticipate that this year's cattle run may be the largest in history. That's good news, for large supplies mean low cost.

Dried beef takes flavor honors in Hearty Beef Bake. Cauliflower, elbow macaroni and a mushroom sauce help to make this a flavorful, yet economical, main dish.

Hearty Beef Bake
4 ounces elbow macaroni
1/2 cups condensed cream of mushroom soup (10 1/2-ounce can)
1/2 cup milk
1 cup dried beef (3 1/2-ounce jar), cut into pieces
1/2 cups cooked cauliflower (1/2 medium head)
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
Dash pepper
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Buttered bread crumbs

Cook macaroni in boiling water until tender (about seven minutes). Drain and rinse. While macaroni is cooking, combine cream of mushroom soup and milk, mixing until well blended. Add dried beef, cauliflower, green pepper and pepper. Mix to combine ingredients.

Fold in macaroni. Pour into 1 1/2 quart casserole. Mix grated cheese with buttered bread crumbs and sprinkle over top of casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 25 minutes. Makes four servings.

Note: If desired, dried beef may be washed to eliminate too salty flavor.

Chill Evaporated Milk for Whipping Success

Evaporated milk whips splendidly and triples in volume when whipped. It's important to chill thoroughly the milk, bowl and beater.

To chill the milk, place the unopened can in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator or pour the milk into a freezing tray.

The evaporated milk is ready for whipping when it's chilled to about 40 degrees Fahrenheit, or when ice crystals have formed around the edges of the freezing tray (about 15 to 20 minutes).

If the milk doesn't whip, it's just not cold enough. Chill again and re-whip.

Mix Butter With Beef

Next time you grill hamburgers, mix one-fourth cup softened butter with 2 pounds of ground beef and your preferred seasoning. Patties need no extra fat when cooking and are extra juicy and better rich.

Whip Canned Milk for Tasty Topping

Whipped evaporated milk makes delicious topping for desserts. Here's the easy recipe for whipped milk topping.

1/2 cup evaporated milk, chilled by cold
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup sifted confectioners sugar or granulated sugar

Whip chilled milk until it is stiff and will hold a peak. Add lemon juice and whip just to blend thoroughly. Fold in sugar.

If not used immediately, chill topping until ready to serve. When kept chilled, topping will hold up well from 45 minutes to an hour. Makes six to eight servings.

Vanilla or Almond
If desired, one-half teaspoon vanilla extract or one-fourth teaspoon almond extract may be added to whipped milk topping.

Meringue Will Collapse If Baked Too Quickly

Do meringues on your pies always fall rather than stand up stiff and light? Be sure to use 2 tablespoons of sugar per egg white and allow two egg whites for an 8-inch pie or three whites for a 9-inch pie. The filling should be cool before topping with the meringue.

Spread the meringue to the edge of the crust to prevent shrinkage. If a meringue is baked too quickly in a hot oven, it will collapse because its center is not baked. Bake meringues in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees) about 20 minutes.

Driver Escapes Injury as Car Strikes Train

John Colson, 24, of 492 Lowell St., escaped serious injury yesterday but his car was demolished when he drove into the side of a moving train at the Grand Trunk Western Railroad crossing and Indianwood road in Orion Township, according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

Thomas Emerson of 67 Cherryland Ave., the engineer, said the train was traveling north at 30 miles per hour when Colson's car struck the engine, according to deputies James Stone and Stephen Hubbell.

Waterford, Avon, Troy, Pontiac, W. Bloomfield Study New Plan

By WILMA GREENWAY
A move to create a network of sanitary sewers in Waterford, West Bloomfield, Pontiac, Avon and Troy Townships gained new ground last night when officials of those townships heard a proposal to build an interceptor sewer to hook into the Detroit system.

Johnson and Anderson, Pontiac engineering firm, presented the tentative plan to some 45 area officials, including representatives from the city of Sylvan Lake, Keego Harbor, Rochester and Clarkston at a meeting in the GAI Building in Waterford Twp. Attending in an advisory capacity were County Drain Commissioner Ralph Main, County Corporation Counsel Harry Merritt, Sanitarian Russell Coulton and members of the Board of Supervisors drain committee.

Rough plans of the proposed interceptor threw into discard a former suggestion that a sewage treatment plant be built, possibly in Avon Township.

Instead, the proposed sewer lines would extend from Waterford Township and possibly as far west as Clarkston, southeast through Keego Harbor and Sylvan Lake city, through Pontiac past the Dawson Mill Pond and then parallel the Clinton River east through Auburn Heights to a pumping station at Rochester.

From Rochester the lines would run south along the east end of the county, possibly paralleling John R. road, to Seven Mile road in Detroit, where the interceptor would be linked to the Detroit system.

Officials at the meeting were generally agreed that, should further study indicate a need for combined action, such action might best be accomplished by the formation of a joint governing body, or authority, composed of representatives from each of the participating communities and headed by the county drain commissioner.

Before setting up an authority, it was suggested that the officials consider forming an advisory committee of engineers, from the various area governments, to work out preliminary plans.

The lawmakers appeared agreed upon the fact that combined action and the formation of a joint authority might well be the solution to sewage problems and pollution of lakes and streams.

"One thing is certain," Drain Commissioner Main said, "septic tanks are not the answer in a built-up subdivision."

"This idea of going into Detroit is, I think, the best one. I believe Troy Township would welcome the plan as a solution to its sewage problem."

Avon Township officials, present in a body, expressed themselves as in favor of working out a joint plan.

Avon Supervisor Cyril Miller, however, demanded that a previous suggestion to build a sewage treatment plant in Avon Township be "struck out of the proposals." The Township had bitterly opposed the tentative plan for a plant on Crooks road near Auburn.

A "very rough estimate" of the cost of a pumping station at Rochester with gravity flow trunk lines from Rochester to Seven Mile road was set at $3,000,000 by engineers C. L. Johnson and Felix A. Anderson.

Johnson stressed that it was impossible to estimate costs on sewer lines linking the townships and communities without further research as to population growth, capacity maximums and location of mains.

Main estimated that cost of the pumping station and interceptor from Rochester to Seven Mile road would be less than the previously proposed treatment plant, and possibly more economical to operate. A booster station in Royal Oak might save additional money by forcing the sewage, through a smaller, more economical main, he added.

An open meeting of the group will be held early in December.

COME TO THE FAIR!—Annual Parent Teacher Association Fall Fair for the Jayno Adams School, Waterford Township, will be held Nov. 6 from 3 to 9 p. m. Preparing for the event which will feature handiwork and homemade baked goods booths are, left to right, Henry Karwas, Jayno Adams School principal; Mrs. Joseph Duran, Mrs. Carl Van Schoick and Mrs. Charles Springer. Special movies and games will be provided for the children and a cafeteria-style supper will be served in the large kindergarten room of the school.

Enemy of EDC to Write Report on Paris Pact

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly's Foreign Affairs Committee today named Jules Moch, a Socialist leader whose hostile report helped kill the European Defense Community treaty, to write its report on the recent Paris accords on German rearmament.

The choice was a blow to Premier Pierre Mendes-France, who signed the accords for France and is pushing for their ratification. It appeared to promise an unfavorable committee report, but such an action would not necessarily carry as much weight as similar action by a U.S. congressional committee would have with Congress.

Moch is now representing France in disarmament talks at the United Nations in New York. Friends said they could recall no public statements by him on the Paris accords but, on the basis of his strong opposition in the past to German rearmament, he could be expected to oppose them.

Ferguson Being Eyed for Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), who failed of reelection, came under consideration today as a possible Supreme Court Justice to succeed the late Justice Robert H. Jackson of New York.

When Ferguson's name bobbed up, that of another Michigan man already was figuring in speculation on the court vacancy. The Michigan Bar commissioners last week gave their endorsement to Justice John R. Dethmers of the State Supreme Court. Others also had endorsed Dethmers, who is 51.

Personal and political friends of Ferguson are reported to have suggested to the White House that appointment of the Michigan senator would be fitting in view of his close support of the Eisenhower administration as chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Ferguson was a Wayne (Detroit) County Circuit judge from 1929 to 1942, when he was elected to the Senate.

PLANNED CHURCH—A wooded eight-acre site between Eleven and Twelve Mile Roads east of Orchard Lake Road has been selected for a new $100,000 Episcopal church. The congregation of Trinity Episcopal Church, Farmington, approved the move recently. Contemporary in design, the features of the new building include a central altar, a sharply pitched roof, and extensive use of glass.

Congregation Approves $100,000 Church Plans

FARMINGTON—The congregation of Trinity Episcopal Church has approved plans for building a new $100,000 church on a wooded eight-acre site between Eleven and Twelve Mile Roads, east of Orchard Lake Road.

The Rev. James B. Guinan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Guinan of Pontiac, is beginning his third year as minister in charge.

Contemporary in design, featuring a central altar, a sharply pitched roof, and the extensive use of glass, the church has already attracted wide architectural interest.

The initial worship unit will seat 200 people, using only eight rows from the altar. This first building will also provide offices, kitchen and lavatories, and an adjoining parish hall. Set among towering trees and

Dixon-Yates OK Grows Doubtful

Public Hearing Slated as Democrat Opposition Eyes 30-Day Action Rule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's Dixon-Yates private power plan became the first postelection object of congressional attention today, with a public review slated by the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

Chairman Cole (R-NY) called three major administration witnesses: Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss, Budget Director Rowland H. Hughes and Brig. Gen. Herbert D. Vogel, new chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

By law, the contract must remain before the committee for 30 days of continuous congressional session unless the committee acts sooner.

The AEC, which has approved but not yet signed the contract, has asked for a quick committee okay. The project's opponents, mostly Democrats, oppose the waiver and some have predicted a Democratic-controlled Congress would put a stop to the project.

If the 30-day rule is followed, the scheduled effective date could be put off until Feb. 3—a month after the newly elected Congress assembles. However, the committee itself has only the power to review, not veto, the contract.

The plan calls for the building of a 107-million-dollar steam generating plant by a private utility group known as Dixon-Yates. The West Memphis, Ark. plant would feed electricity into TVA lines to replace power sent to atomic plants.

The project figured as a campaign issue, with opponents calling it a costly "giveaway" of government funds to private power interests with the aim of crippling TVA, and administration supporters defending it as a practical, fair method of getting needed power without building another government generating plant.

Ex-Michigan Man May Be Air Victim

DETROIT (AP)—A former Michigan man is feared among the 12 persons lost with the naval transport plane over the Atlantic since Sunday.

A sister identified him today as Lt. Russell L. Klemmetti, 33, World War II bomber pilot, native of Houghton and since a resident of Piney Point, Md.

The sister, Mrs. Gertrude Scott of Clawson, said Lt. Klemmetti was pilot of the plane on regular flights to the Azores, North Africa and Europe. He was to have made a flight last weekend, she said.

Before going into World War I service, Klemmetti lived with the Scotts.

Michigan Has Native Cactus, Botanist Says

ANN ARBOR — Pardon, the Old West's monopoly on cacti is strictly fiction, according to a University of Michigan botanist.

Miss Elzanda Clover, U-M associate professor of botany who also serves on the faculty of the U-M Biological Station at Douglas Lake, points out that Michigan can boast of one, and perhaps two, kinds of the desert's spiny plant.

She explains that practically every state in the union has at least one kind of cactus. "Michigan's known variety is the Opuntia humifusa, or Prickly Pear," Professor Clover states. She adds that there is current speculation about a second variety, Opuntia fragilis, said to be growing on the Huron Mountain, Lake Superior, region.

Professor Clover plans to investigate this "surmised second type" soon.

"The Prickly Pear is found throughout the Americas," Miss Clover says. In Michigan it is seen around Saugatuck, Newago and Muskegon. She adds that there are about 250 species of Opuntia, one of the more primitive cacti.

"Best growing conditions for the plant are dry soil and sand and good drainage," she points out. For this reason, the Prickly Pear is found more in the Western than Eastern part of the state.

The cause and cure of muscular dystrophy — a disorder of the voluntary muscles — is presently unknown.

Pair Befriend Trout Family

Brothers Train Fish to Take Worms Out of Their Hands

VIENNA — Two brothers have devoted seven years of their spare time to become the friends of an entire family of brown trout. The fish live in a small stream that drives the brothers' mill at Engelhartzell, on the banks of the Danube.

The hobby of Otto and Karl Luger now attracts tourists and fascinated anglers. A single trout, which they named Hansi was first to be tamed. He would follow his human friends along the little river, waiting for his food.

"He would come and get the worms like a dog," said Otto Luger. "He even allowed us to take him out of the stream and let us gently scratch him on his back for a few moments before he jumped back."

"But Hansi, apparently once trusted a stranger too much. One day, he disappeared."

The Lugers, never gave up and now they are on the best terms with a family of seven trout. They say, Mama and Papa Trout jump out of the water as soon as they dip a finger into the stream. The fish take worms directly from the brothers' hands. The trout kids also are catching on fast, the brothers say.

Convict Flees 8 Times

RALEIGH, N. C. — The State Prisons Department reported Carlyle Brown, 21, escaped from a county road gang for the eighth time and was recaptured a few hours later.

Wasn't Fishing, Judge, Only Drowning Worms

AUGUSTA, Maine (UP) — Yes, said Arthur Busque of Hartford, Conn., he knew that the hook he was dangling in Togus Pond was baited. No, he added, he wasn't really fishing.

"Didn't plan to catch anything," he said. "Was just fooling around."

"Hm-mm," said Municipal Judge Frank E. Southard, Jr. "Ten dollars for fishing without a license. The fish had no way of knowing your intentions."

Sharp Eye for Collecting

BRIDGTON, Me. (UP) — Mrs. Susie M. Harmon has a sharp eye when it comes to finding additions to her collections. French Painter Matisse Succumbs at 84 in Nice NICE, France (U)—Henri Matisse, famed French painter, died in his Nice apartment early today. He was 84. Though an invalid for several years, he continued his artistic pursuits, which extended to textile designs, etchings, sculpture and decorative cutouts as well as his world-famed paintings. Matisse had lived on the Riviera since 1939, but long years before his brilliantly colored paintings of the sun-drenched Mediterranean scene had won him a world-wide following.

His long career covered a span from the Expressionist tendency of Cezanne, Gauguin and Van Gogh to the latter day abstract school. But he never departed essentially from the conceptions that brought him his first fame—vivid, earthy colors and orderly, concise designs. He was born Dec. 31, 1869, at Cateau-Cambresis in northern France, the son of a grain dealer. He graduated from the local high school in 1890 and went to Paris to study law at his father's insistence. He fell ill and returned home. He took up painting during convalescence, with encouragement of his mother, an amateur painter. He returned to Paris in 1892 to study art. But he was 35 before he first attracted the attention of the critics—mostly unfavorable attention—at the historic 1905 autumn salon in Paris, which saw the emergence of the "Fauves" (wild beasts), who shocked the art world with their wild splashes of pure color. After the "Fauve" debut, Matisse's rise was meteoric. By 1908 he was famous and financially independent.

In 1930 and 1931 he visited the United States to complete his famous murals for the Barnes Foundation and its eccentric founder, the late Dr. Albert Barnes of Merion, Pa.

Matisse's activity had been restricted since 1941, when, at 71 in the unoccupied zone of France, he underwent a serious intestinal operation.

In 1951 he completed what he termed his "master work"—the decoration of the tiny Roman Catholic Chapel of Notre Dame, of the Dominicans, at Vence, in the mountains behind Nice.

In his latter years Matisse also showed an eagerness for recognition as a sculptor, an art he took up in 1899 but worked at only spasmodically.

The artist, he asserted, means nothing in relation to his art. "A painter exists only by his paintings," he said. "Work is paradise!"

Matisse was married in 1897 to Amelie Noelle Parayre, the model of many of his early paintings. The couple had three children—New York art dealer Pierre Matisse, sculptor Jean Matisse and Marguerite Duthuit, married to a Paris art critic. He also has five grandchildren.

In later years he and his wife lived apart.

Yule Leaves Planned for Army Personnel

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Army announced today that all training—except basic and advanced individual training—will be suspended in the U. S. for the Christmas holiday period from 8 a. m., Dec. 18 to Jan. 3.

However, the two eight-week training phases for new soldiers, both basic and individual training, will be continued during the period. During the two weeks, the Army added, "leave will be granted to the maximum number of eligible personnel."

Members of the Army's anti-aircraft command will be excluded from provisions of the leave policy, officials said, and the nation's anti-aircraft defenses will continue to be manned on a 24-hour schedule.

News of Marlon Brando Pleases Mayor of Bando

By LAURA E. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS) — "This is great publicity for our town," happily cried the mayor of Bando, France, and my first thought was, "Mon dieu, how self-centered can you get?"

The publicity-happy official was Octave Maurel, and his beloved town is that tiny fishing village on the Mediterranean which recently became as crowded with reporters and cameras as a sardine can is crowded with sardines and oil.

Before that sudden shift into the limelight, Bando was so obscure that I, for one, couldn't find it at all on any map in my various supply of atlases and encyclopedias, including a couple of really big ones like the Britannica and Hammond's.

But world atlas or no world atlas, Bando's on the map now, sure enough.

For it was in Bando that two motor-scooter enthusiasts recently discovered not only that they were mad about scooters, but also about each other—and became betrothed or engaged.

It was in Bando, in fact, that beautiful young Josiane Mariani-Berenger, a native daughter, became the fiancée of handsome young Marlon Brando, a native son of Omaha, Nebraska, in les Etats Unis.

Once the news was out, of course, Bando no longer was anything like any quiet little fishing village—though by now Bando may be again as empty of reporters and cameras as it always had been.

For that stormy Nebraska petrel, Marlon Brando, has flitted right out of Bando and temporarily away from his Josiane's side—reminding one of Greta Garbo and her famous remark about "wanting to be alone."

Which flitting and vanishing, I'm sure, struck Mayor Octave Maurel as a terribly unreasonable reaction to anything so wonderful as publicity.

Perhaps even as a sort of Brandonian treachery — not to lovely 18-year-old Josiane, but to the town of Bando where he was born and where she resides.

Self-centered, non? Not that M. Maurel is unique in clapping his hands with glee over unexpected publicity.

In this name-dropping age, indeed, some of us get to look at anything and everything that happens to us or near us from the single point of view of "will this put me in the papers?"

If not me, then my husband, wife, children, relatives?

If not my own family, then my neighbors, acquaintances, friends? Perhaps none of these, but then maybe my employers, or the firm's biggest rivals, or the rivals of those rivals—anybody, just so I feel "I'm in on this event that made the front pages."

All this, of course, is often unconscious, unsuspected, hidden away in our secret world of thought; we don't admit its existence even to ourselves. But that it exists, who can doubt?

Every once in a while we meet folks whose first reaction to a horrible murder mystery in their home town is, "gosh, what fame this town is getting!" They hate crime, and nobody even suggests they're indifferent or smug about it. But just the same they feel something akin to pleasure at

Judge Finds Coffee Grounds for Eviction

UTICA, N. Y. (UP)—One recent case in city court had real grounds for action.

Two enterprising out-of-towners, aware of the high price of coffee, found a big can of coffee grounds and decided to peddle the stuff for or what the market would bring. They put the grounds in some new two-pound bags and went to various restaurants attempting to sell their goods.

One restaurant, pretending interest, stalled the men while he called police, who promptly booked the two on vagrancy charges.

The two assured the judge they weren't trying to sell their product as good coffee, but instead were selling at reduced rates since it was "slightly used."

The judge, not wishing to "stifle such initiative," suspended sentence and instead gave them an hour to get out of town.

Dog Tag, Bracelet Identification Used

CHICAGO (UP) — At least two cities have adopted variations of the dog tag and ID bracelet for civil defense, according to the American Municipal Association.

Civil defense authorities in Houston Tex., have made the wearing of identification tags by public and parochial school children a "must."

In Kansas City, Mo., where two schools already have distributed tags, the board of education is considering a plan to provide all public school pupils with means of identification.

The tags are conceived as a means of identifying children in an air attack required evacuation of the city.

Popular Once More

LONDON (INS) — The British National Jewellers' Association reports a big demand for steak knives now that meat is "freed" after 14 years of rationing.

Gadget Lets Invalid Make Use of Phone

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP) — A Portland woman, paralyzed from the neck down since stricken with polio 11 years ago, can make and receive telephone calls now at her bedside simply by moving her cheek.

The device was invented for Mrs. Marvin Wilson, mother of two sons, by two telephone company employees. The inventors,

Wade Prevette and Cal Atterbury, explain the operation thus:

A standard operator's headset fitted with a plastic "trigger" is mounted at the end of an adjustable rod that slides up and down at the side of the bed. When a call comes in, Mrs. Wilson can answer simply by pressing her cheek against the plastic trigger. She can call out the same way.

The slightest touch on the trigger signals an operator at the switch board in the telephone company office. The operator completes the call to the desired number.

Owl Parents Bring Food to Offspring Held in Cage

ORLAND, Calif. (UP)—The wise old owl proved to be just that on the Alfred Peck farm north of here.

Sometime ago a baby owl fell from its nest in the Peck barn, and one of the Peck youngsters built a cage for it. That night the parent owls left two gophers on top of the cage to feed the hungry offspring. Nightly thereafter the parent owls left two gophers, and young Freddie Peck put them into the cage the next morning. But soon the two-gopher diet was not enough for the fast-growing owl. Then the parents began leaving four gophers on the cage each night.

Commie Spices Spiked

VIENNA (INS)—Reports from inside the satellite world indicate a growing dissatisfaction of housewives with various "ersatz" condiments which in many cases were said to contain poisonous and harmful ingredients, and which are officially sold at state-run shops.

Classified Advertiser Reveals Awful Truth

WINSTED, Conn. (U)—The owner, not a real estate dealer, placed his advertisement in the Winsted Citizen: "House for sale: Dilapidated. Roof needs shingling. One bath. Needs wash bowl. Grounds need grooming. Retaining walls crumbling. No reasonable offer refused." The human eye is composed of about 80 per cent water.

Older Work by Gutenberg?

German Archivist Says Books May Pre-Date Famed Bible

KONSTANZ, Germany (UP)—A book printed by Gutenberg and recently bought by the Morgan Library in New York for $100,000 may be older than Gutenberg's famous Bible of 1450, according to Dr. Otto Feger, director of the city archives here.

It is quite possible, Feger said, that four volumes of a mass book—one of which went to the United States—were the first books ever printed with movable type.

The Konstanz diocese ordered this mass book "several years" before the famous Bible edition was printed, Feger claimed, and the job was completed by Gutenberg before he finished that 1450 Bible.

For the best preserved of the four volumes, more than $120,000 has been offered, Feger revealed.

The volumes are 12 by 8.5 inches, with 18 lines to a page. The letters are of crude square type approximately one fifth of an inch high. The capital letters are one fourth to one-third of an inch, and the hand-colored initials one and one-third of an inch.

Printing of this book is of a much inferior quality than that of the famous Gutenberg Bible. On several pages the type was illegible from the beginning, the expert said, and several letters had to be traced in handwriting.

The low quality of the printing as well as the fact that much penmanship had to be used to make the book legible are taken as additional evidence by experts that the mass book is older than the Bible and one of Gutenberg's first—if not the first—attempts with movable type.

Couple Wed 47 Years Raises 37 Youngsters

LEBANON, N. H. (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Merton Goss agree there has never been a dull moment in their 47 years of married life. They have raised 37 children.

Besides raising two of their own, they have been taking care of foster children for the state's welfare department. For years there never have been fewer than seven youngsters in their home.

"We haven't had a child we didn't like," Mrs. Goss says.

The tea dumped into the bay during the Boston Tea Party of 1773 came from the Chinese island of Amoy, currently in the news from the Pacific.

Wife's Diet Slims Hubby

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (U)—Dr. Ed Blondin's wife checked into a hospital to shed some weight. At the end of a week, after careful dieting, she was one whole pound lighter.

Commented her husband, "And I stayed at home and cooked meals. I lost 10 pounds."

Judge Decides When an Alley Is Not an Alley

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—An irate woman called into traffic court for a parking violation created a stir when she raised several legal riddles.

Mrs. Lucile Baklanoff was charged with parking within 20 feet of an intersection. She said there was no such intersection and offered maps to support her claim.

"Pearl Avenue at East 17th Avenue isn't a street; it's an alley," she told Judge Charles R. Petree. "If it's an alley, I wasn't parked within 20 feet of an intersection and am not guilty."

The judge and prosecutor huddled and called the city's chief draftsman. He said his maps showed Pearl Avenue a street on one side of 17th Avenue and an alley on the other. The judge decided that alleys are the same as streets for traffic purposes and imposed a $5 fine, with costs suspended.

But Mrs. Baklanoff had the last word.

"If alleys are the same as streets, why doesn't the city take care of them like streets?" she asked.

New DC-7 Line Is in Production

Passenger Planes Can Fly From Most Cities in Europe to U. S.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (INS)—A new, enlarged model of the DC-7 series of high speed commercial transports, capable of flying non-stop between most cities of Europe and the United States has gone into production at Douglas Aircraft Company.

Designated the DC-7C, it is a long-range version of the four-engine airliner now flying in record time across the United States. The new transport has been labeled the "Seven Seas" to emphasize its intercontinental capabilities.

Compared with current DC-7 models, the "Seven Seas" has ten feet greater wing span, three-foot longer fuselage and two-foot taller vertical tail structure.

The new airliner's operating range of more than 5,000 miles will be greater than that of any other commercial transport. The DC-7C's superior range and speed will enable trans-Atlantic operators to cut from three to five hours from west-bound schedules and from one and one-half to three hours of east-bound routes.

Because the new and larger transport will be able to cruise at 350 MPH with full payload, it will enable airlines to maintain faster long-range schedules than any other piston or jet-powered commercial transport in production or expected to be available for the rest of this decade, Douglas engineers declared.

The new airliners are expected to go into operation by the summer of 1956.

Perry Finally Yields Sword in Buffalo Park

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry refused to surrender his sword during the 1812 battle for Lake Erie, but he lost the blade in the quiet of Buffalo's Front Park.

According to a 1916 report, Perry's nine-foot statue stands "erect, four square to the winds, grasping his sword in his left hand, feet firmly placed . . . with a look of intense earnestness . . ."

Now the commodore only grasps the sword handle.

Tenth precinct police estimated the blade has been missing eight or nine years.

There are about 255,000 miles of roads in India to serve 565,000 cities and villages and 310,000 motor vehicles.

Collins Rushes to Indochina

Ike Sends General to Find Out How to Stay Red Hand in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins is speeding toward Indochina on a mission for President Eisenhower aimed at finding out how to help divided Viet Nam from falling completely to the Communists.

Collins, former Army chief of staff, will have as a special representative of the President, A White House announcement last night said his mission is diplomatic—not military.

Collins will, in fact, bridge a gap between the transfer of Donald R. Heath to a new assignment and the arrival of a successor to Heath not yet appointed.

Ambassador Heath is scheduled to return to the United States for reassignment.

The trouble-shooting task assigned Collins is expected to result in recommendations by him to Eisenhower for extensive American operations designed to stabilize South Viet Nam and bolster the government of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem.

Eisenhower has several hundred millions of dollars available for spending to prop up South Viet Nam against communism if Collins can come up with a program which will persuade the government and Congress of a reasonable chance of success.

India May Recognize Several Governments

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government is considering recognizing Laos, Cambodia, South Viet Nam and the Vietnamese government in North Viet Nam, a Foreign Ministry source said today.

The source said an announcement will be made after the return to New Delhi tomorrow of Prime Minister Nehru, who has visited all four states and conferred with their leaders on his way home from his visit to Red China.

Europe Studies U.S. Balloting

Editors View Results as Anti-McCarthy, With Ike Still Popular

LONDON (AP)—West European editors interpreted the American election results today as a setback for Republican isolationists and the followers of Sen. McCarthy but they assured their readers that prestige remained undiminished.

There was general agreement that the Democratic gains in Congress would bring no startling shifts in U.S. foreign policy.

A few papers thought that on domestic issues Eisenhower will find as much cooperation from the Democrats as he has had from members of his own Republican party during the last two years.

London's Liberal News Chronicle said: "There has been no sign of any marked reaction against American internationalism, and the worst excesses of anti-Communism seem to be passing."

The independent London Times commented: "Happily for America's allies, foreign policy, which played only a marginal part in the campaign, appears increasingly to be left outside the party battle."

The Financial Times and the Daily Telegraph, both Conservative, took a similar view.

British Labor's Daily Herald saw the election as "a definite swing towards liberalism" and added: "America's friends can hope to see the United States complete the process of purging itself of McCarthyism."

Clara Bow's Hubby Elected in Nevada

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Rex Bell, former movie cowboy and husband of one-time "It Girl" Clara Bow, was elected Nevada's lieutenant governor this week.

Bell, a Republican, defeated Democrat James J. Ryan, president of the Nevada State Federation of Labor.

Returns from 330 of Nevada's 385 precincts gave Bell 24,000 to Ryan's 16,000.

Ryan repeatedly asserted in his campaign "Bell's only qualification for office is his ability to grin on TV."

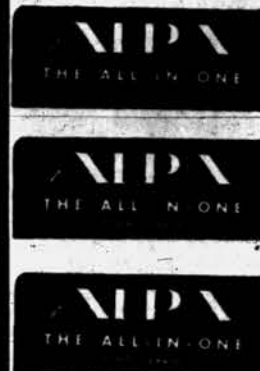

Bell operates a Western goods store in Las Vegas.

Texas Guinan, referring to out-of-town visitors spending money in the big city, coined the phrase "butter-and-egg man."

Gleason Attends Feast —Sends Out for Pizza

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"The Great Gleason"—Jackie, the TV star—has now equaled the legendary feat of the man who took along a ham sandwich when he had dinner at the Waldorf.

Jackie—attending a feast in honor of the late Grantland Rice—sent out to a restaurant for a pizza pie, and ate it right there at the banquet . . . cheered on by Yogi Berra.

The greatest sports figures living attended the dinner—Dempsey, Tunney, Weissmüller, Sande, Sarason, the Four Horsemen, Vincent Richards, Herman Hickman, Frank Hunter and Frank Shields.

And the menu started with caviar and worked toward charcoal broiled sliced beefsteak.

Gleason simply wasn't in an eating mood. "Look, fellows!" he shouted when the broiled beefsteak arrived. "Meatloaf yet!"

"Do you know," he yelled to Jockey Eddie Arcaro, "you're eating today what you rode yesterday?"

Sitting innocently beside him, I happened to mention pizza, one of his favorite delicacies—and he promptly ordered it. The pizza arrived in a huge cardboard carton just as the dinner was ending . . . and the departing sports celebrities saw Jackie having his own private feast.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Dick Haymes plans to apply for U. S. citizenship—and if it goes through, he and Rita can take Yamin to visit the Aga and end the long battle.

Bandleader Neal Hefti (Archie Bleyer's replacement) and Arthur Godfrey parted after a blowup . . . Vittorio Gassman said he wouldn't support the baby unless Shelley Winters sent photos of her—so Shelly's snapping away . . . Carol Leigh's one of the pretty reasons "By the Beautiful Sea" is a hit . . . Rocky Marciano's nose, injured in the Charles fight, still bothers him.

Barbara Hutton was met in Havana by Rubens—not Porfirio, but a guy from the Hotel Nacional. Who'd Ava Gardner buy that $135 trinket for at Bronzini's? Black silk suspenders with solid gold fittings.

George Jessel canceled out of his Latin date . . . Nat "King" Cole's being asked to do "Emperor Jones" with Burgess Meredith . . . Marlene Dietrich signed a two-year deal with the Sahara in Las Vegas . . . Aly Khan's dancing partner at the Copa was Judy Garland. One of the Jelte girls married a Hollywood movie exec last week.

Susan Ball, who lost a leg, will dance with husband Dick Long in their night club act, debuting Nov. 25 . . . Eartha Kitt and Sammy Davis Jr., once a hot duo, didn't even date when both played in Chicago.

Van Johnson's tune, "It's a Dream World," will be recorded by Eileen Barton.

Japan Is Trying Out U. S. Pea Varieties

GENEVA, N. Y. (UP) — Samples of 22 varieties and strains of peas have been forwarded from the

Dr. K. Niuchi of the Kyushu Agricultural Experiment Station requested the samples after reading about a test here.

Peas are commonly sown in the fall in Japan, with few regions adapted to spring planting, stated Dr. Niuchi. Several American varieties have been introduced into Japan for breeding purposes, and some of the sorts described in the Geneva station's bulletin are believed to possess characteristics that might be combined to improve Japanese varieties.

More Pressure Brought to Bear on Macks

By TOM BRADSHAW

PHILADELPHIA (U)—Individual members of the Mack family were under heavy pressure from three sides to make up their collective mind about the future of the Philadelphia Athletics.

At the risk of sounding repetitious, a decision could be reached Thursday.

Arnold Johnson, the Chicago businessman who thought he bought the A's for transfer to Kansas City and then apparently lost out to an eight-member Philadelphia syndicate, reportedly gave the family of Connie Mack until noon Thursday to come to an agreement or a parting of the ways.

A reorganized four-man Philadelphia syndicate, meanwhile, was urging the Macks to consider an offer similar to that made by Johnson and even better than the one made by the original eight-man Philadelphia group — and turned down by the American League.

And in Chicago, American League President Will Harridge said he had telephoned Roy Mack, the A's executive vice president and key to the current log-jam, urging that some sort of decision be reached shortly to facilitate league scheduling. If the A's remain in Philadelphia, they will stay an Eastern club and if they move to Kansas City, Baltimore will become an Eastern club with the A's taking a Western spot.

The Philadelphia syndicate, turned down at a league meeting in New York late last month, came back to life in cut down form last night.

John P. Criscione, retired Philadelphia automobile dealer, announced he and Mort Liebman, an other member of the original eight-man group, had visited Connie Mack Sr. and his wife, at their suburban apartment Wednesday afternoon.

The syndicate spokesman said he and Liebman pulled out checks totaling $604,000 and offered to buy Connie Mack's share in the A's. They also agreed to "buy out or keep" Connie Mack's two sons, Roy and Earle. Roy has been the chief thorn in developments to date, blowing hot toward the Johnson forces at one point and reportedly favoring the syndicate at another.

The syndicate previously had offered to retain Roy Mack in the front office of the club in return of a 1-9 interest in the club. The offer to retain Earle was new.

Johnson, on the other hand, offered to give Roy a front-office job and provide Roy's son, Connie 3d, with a job that would train him in the big business of baseball. The syndicate hasn't made any open overtures to Roy's son—and that may be the big hitch in the whole affair.

Johnson, through his attorney, slim, graying Edward Vollers, made it known he was in Philadelphia to remain until some decision was made by the Macks.

From the left (with weights) are Bob Yahnke (150), Pat Thompson (140), George Lang (135) and Clyde Kiser (135). Clarkston plays at Holly Friday night.

W-O Title Race at Vital Stage

By JACK SAYLOR

The wide-open race for Wayne-Oakland League football honors comes to a climax with 2 vital games Friday and the possibility of another Nov. 12.

Since its inception in 1951, the league has established a tradition for close, hotly-contested championship scraps. Only in 1952, when Holly's unbeaten club rolled to the title was the outcome decided prior to the final day of the season.

No team has won the title twice. Milford and Northville shared the 1951 championship and Holly won in 1952. Keego Harbor entered the league last year and was not honored. Now Clarkston is on the verge of winning its first crown.

The games have played a vital role in determining past winners and could be a big factor again. Clarkston and Keego each have 1 loss, but the Presidents also were held to a tie by Brighton.

Holly and Milford have lost 2 league games, but a scoreless tie against each other knocked 'both out of contention. Ed Hintz' Clarkston team can end all speculation by winning Friday, but the Wolves

The Brones' line, led by Roy Hawley, Americ Joslin and Capt. Jack Felch, is capable. Clarkston's hopes ride with a very small, but speedy set of backs, averaging 140 pounds.

Quarterback Bob Yahnke, the "heavyweight" at 150 pounds, handles passing chores. Running threats are Pat Thompson, who has speed and good power for his 140 pounds; George Lang, a shifty 135-pound sophomore; and junior fullback Clyde Kiser, another 135-pounder.

Keego and Northville play Clarkston and Brighton, respectively, and of course, must win to stay in contention regardless of the Holly-Clarkston result. Victories for them, coupled with a Holly triumph over Clarkston, would make the Nov. 12 meeting of Northville and Keego the deciding game.

A Keego win over Northville, then, would give Charlie Guin-ni a crew their 2nd straight championship with a 4-1 record, while a Northville victory would make them co-champs with Clarkston on 4-2 apiece.

Elsewhere, title situations are less complicated. Berkley already has nailed down the Inter-Lakes pennant and North Branch has won in the South Central. Avondale and Fitzgerald are favored to win Friday and tie for the 2nd straight year in the Oakland-B.

Port Huron has the inside track again in the Eastern Michigan, with Hazel Park and East Detroit still maintaining some hope. Undeclared Center Line is assured at least a tie in the Bi-County and should win outright. Ditto for Dyrden in the Southern Thumb.

signed, I can't say that Berra will be the highest paid Yankee. I'd say, however, he stands a very good chance I know of nobody on the club more deserving."

Berra batted .307 and drove in 125 runs while catching in 149 of the 151 games he participated in for one of his best seasons in the majors even though the club failed to win the pennant for the first time in six years.

Number one item in the head-ache department was the status of Alie Reynolds, highest paid pitcher on the club.

Number two was the general pitching shortage which General Manager George Weiss admitted has him "gravely concerned."

"We need starting pitchers," Weiss told reporters Wednesday. "We're going to the minor league convention in Houston at the end of this month with the specific purpose of trying to deal for one or two starting pitchers. I intend to discuss this matter with Casey Stengel as soon as he returns from a hunting trip."

Weiss obviously was distressed over the unfortunate accident that befell Reynolds in Colorado Springs last Thursday. The star right-hander received an 18-stitch cut on the index finger of his pitching hand that may end his brilliant career.

Reynolds, who had been undecided anyway whether to pitch for the Yankees again next year or devote full time to his oil interests, was not expected to know his fate for several days, at least.

Weiss' gloom was somewhat dispelled by the early signing of Berra. Baseball's outstanding catcher, who joined the Yankee organization at Norfolk, Va., in 1943 at $30 a month, became the highest paid catcher in baseball, signing for a reported figure ranging "between $45,000 and $50,000."

OCSC Hunters Hold Annual Roundup Tonight

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club will hold its 4th annual pre-deer season hunter's banquet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the clubhouse in Waterford.

More than 300 hunters are expected to attend the event. Five-hundred pounds of turkey are being roasted today for the meal, which is under the direction of chairman Frank Ketchum and Dr. P. B. Jones, assisted by Karl Rhodes, Nick Ahnen and Pat Metzdorf.

Entertainment will be under the supervision of Dr. Henry Miller.

Tiger First Baseman Named Cage Coach

BEVERLY, Mass. (U)—Detroit Tiger first baseman Walt Dropo has been chosen basketball coach at Beverly High School, the Beverly athletic governing board said Wednesday night.

Dropo, former Boston Red Sox player, will succeed Red Sox catcher Sammy White if the appointment is approved by the school committee.

Dropo, an outstanding baseball, football and basketball player at the University of Connecticut, resides in nearby Marblehead.

Oak-B Banquet Set

The annual Oakland-B Conference athletic banquet will be held next Tuesday, Nov. 9 at 6:30 p.m. at the Homestead Inn, near Utica. Representatives of all league teams will be present.

Unbeaten Ohio State is ranked 2nd on offense and 4th in defense. Top defensive club is Michigan.

The once-beaten Purdue Boilermakers, who tangle with Iowa Saturday, have averaged a gain of 320 yards per game to 394 for the Buckeyes. Purdue's margin comes on a game average of 178 yards passing, highest in the league. Wisconsin is 2nd in aerial yardage with 139.5.

Minnesota is the rushing leader with an average of 222.2 yards. Ohio State is second with 214.2.

Purdue has the best average gain per play, knocking off 5.10 yards each time it handles the ball. This includes 3.49 rushing and 9.02 passing. Minnesota is next in yardage per play with a 4.76 average and Ohio State 3rd with 4.67.

Although defeated by Indiana last week, Michigan ranks No. 1 on defense, but only by a close margin over Wisconsin and Iowa. The Wolverines have yielded only 215 yards per game to 216 by Iowa and have allowed the fewest 1st downs, 10.3, and fewest points, 6.5.

Many Factors Caused MSC Grid Downfall

Lack of Sophs, New Coaches, 1-Platoon Are Cited

EAST LANSING (U)—So what happened to the Michigan State College football team this fall? Last year the Spartans were riding high. They had won 32 of 33 games, were Big Ten co-champions and went on to sweep through the Rose Bowl.

This year the fans are moaning low as MSC has lost five of its first six starts.

It takes a lot of factors to account for such an abrupt reversal in form. Here are, perhaps, some of the most important.

1—Almost complete lack of good, new sophomore talent this season.

2—The change in the Michigan State status from a hungry new recruit in the Big Ten to a "fat cat" champion.

3—The turnover in the coaching staff.

4—The failure to change from an outfit of light linemen and scabbards to the current trend for bigger and more durable two-way players.

Honest Horse Tale

MIAMI (U)—Munchausen, the race horse named after the Baron famed for his fabulous imaginary tales (all lies), comes by his name—honestly. He was sired by Mighty Story, who is out of the mare, Little Lie.

Kyasky Returns

Versatile Billy Chance Is Cadet Handy Man

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

WEST POINT, N. Y. (U)—Army Coach Earl Blaik's formula for building a winning football team this season is take a Chance—A Billy Chance, that is.

Army, winner of five games since an opening defeat by South Carolina and possessors of the nation's most potent ground attack according to NCAA statistics, will have a new weapon at its command when it meets Yale at New Haven Saturday.

Bob Kyasky, sensational sophomore halfback who broke a collar bone in the first game, is ready for action and will play at least part of the game.

But with or without Kyasky, Army wouldn't be the team it is without Chance, a 190-pound senior who never has won a football letter.

During the past two seasons, Chance has played as guard, line backer and second-string fullback. He was listed as No. 2 center in this year's brochure, but started at end—a shift Blaik promised him would be the last.

But when Don Hollender, the team's only experienced end, escaped probation and rejoined the squad after the second game, back went Billy to center. He was the key man in a series of shifts by which Blaik produced two reasonably solid lines where none had existed before.

The Army coach is high on Chance as the kind of useful player who can fill in wherever the team is weakest and who is smart enough to learn the different assignments quickly. But he's fearful that the comparatively slight Billy is taking too much of a physical pounding in the line backing job.

Cygler likely will start against Yale along with Pete Vann, a standout T-quarterback, Tommy Bell, a speedy right half and hard-hitting Pat Uebel, who shifted to fullback when Kyasky came along

Michigan Faces Tough Job With Bates on Shelf

Farmington Boy Vital Part of Defense for Fast Illini Backs

ANN ARBOR (U)—Michigan's

Wolverines, a two-touchdown favorite to defeat Illinois this Saturday, may have to face the Illini without center Jim Bates, who is back in the hospital again.

Bates, without doubt the hard-luck player on the team ran a high temperature yesterday and was taken to the hospital.

But this is nothing new for Bates, a senior from Farmington, Mich. He has been struck down by the injury bug in each of the last three seasons.

If he misses Saturday's game, it will make Michigan's task more acute. The Wolverines, nursing faint Rose Bowl ambitions, have been mapping strategy to stop J. C. Caroline, the Illini flash who has been in a "slump." Bates, who plays linebacker, is an integral part of the Michigan defense, one of the best in the nation.

If Bates is out, his spot will be filled by either Jerry Goebel, a 205-pounder from Grosse Pointe, or Gene Snider, and ex-Marine from Hamtramck. Both are sophomores and, naturally, don't pack the poise or punch of Bates.

In 1952, Bates suffered a leg injury and played only 26 minutes all season. Last year he was sidelined for most of the season with a broken hand.

Then, this year, he has been bothered by the flu and has missed two games while playing part time in two others.

Obviously, Michigan must win Saturday stay in the Rose Bowl running. For that reason, Wolverines hope that Bates can make it against Illinois, which has beaten Michigan four straight times.

Wings Seeking First Place Spot

Tie Leafs, 1-1, Now Face Bruins' Sextet in Boston

By UNITED PRESS

The Detroit Red Wings hope to gain a tie for the National Hockey League lead when they meet the Bruins tonight at Boston, while the 3rd-place New York Rangers play the Black Hawks at Chicago.

Red Wings opened a three-game road trip Wednesday night at Toronto and had to settle for a 1-1 tie against the Leafs. Johnny Wilson, potted a 1st period goal for Detroit and it held up until Eric Nesterenko got the equalizer for Toronto with only 90 seconds remaining.

It was the only league action and enabled the Red Wings to cut the idle Montreal Canadiens' lead to two points. Should the Red Wings win tonight at Boston, they will be in a good position to overhaul the Canadiens at Montreal Saturday night.

Chicago still is looking for its 1st victory of the season over the surprisingly strong Rangers. The teams played a 1-1 tie at New York last Sunday night and previous to that Rangers whipped the Black Hawks on Chicago ice.

Colorado's Stapp Given High Rating

KANSAS CITY (U)—A fast-moving 210-pound sophomore guard from Arvada, Colo., today is the most talked about lineman in the Big Seven-Missouri Valley football area.

The regional All-American nominating board of sportscasters and writers are high in praise of Dick Stapp, a 21-year-old 6-footer of the Colorado Buffaloes who last Saturday gave undefeated Oklahoma a hard trip before losing 13-6.

Leon Uses Degree

Leon Hart uses his mechanical engineering degree from Notre Dame in an off-season job with an asphalt company.

When Mrs. Hartel was struck down by polio in 1944, doctors told her she would be lucky if she ever walked again, let alone ride a horse. She wouldn't give up and practiced every exercise to rebuild her muscles. In 1947 she rode in competition again. Soon she bought Jubilee and the pair started on their way to European titles.

While Mrs. Hartel has been exciting the fans, the West German team, led by world champion Hans Winkler, has won the first three international jumping events. Winkler, 23, had his third straight perfect ride on his mount Halla last night to win the Ruyter A. Drake Memorial Challenge Trophy in an eight-horse jump-off.

First you must warm up the mare so she is pliable, she explained.

Mrs. Hartel says her mare gets as much of a kick from the crowd as they get from her.

"She responds to applause, what you say, hams it up," she said.

"She hates to jump but she enjoys the spotlight. I have trained her since she was 3. You must feel the horse wants to help or it is no good."

Miami Ball Handling Fools Opposition, Referee Too

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—Miami's quarterback Carl Garrigus took the snap from center and tucked the football into the eager arms of fullback Don Bosser as he crashed into the middle of the Fordham line.

Fordham, expecting the maneuver, had ganged up in the center and a player hit Bosser at the line of scrimmage. Six yards later, four Rams finally managed to haul down the 18-year-old Hurricane Ramrod.

The referee blew his whistle, leaped on top of the pile, and began peeling off tacklers to get to the ball. At the bottom he paused, red-faced. There wasn't any ball.

As the Fordham line backers went for Bosser, Garrigus had neatly withdrawn the ball and smuggled it to halfback Gordon Malloy in a sweep to the right side. When the referee's whistle blew, Malloy was just picking himself up after a 10-yard gain.

This play during Miami's 75-7 rout of Fordham last week emphasizes the magnificent deception in a running attack which has hoisted the Hurricanes off of nowhere to sixth place among America's football powers.

Coach Andy Gustafson's enthusiastic young ball handlers are so slick they fool the opposition, the officials, their own coaches and sometimes each other.

Times Have Changed

HARTFORD, Conn. (U)—In the last 19 years under coach Dan Jessee, Trinity College football teams have won over 70 per cent of their games. But such good football fortunes were not always the lot of little Trinity. It took the Bantams 10 years to win their first game. From 1877 to 1887 Trinity did not have a victory.

LAUREL, Md. (U)—Fisherman is not likely to win any American turf honors this year but he'll go down in the books as the substitute who whipped the best that three other countries had to offer in the rich Washington, D.C., International.

America's hopes of breaking the foreigners' monopoly on the International were none too bright after this country's first two choices, Determine and High Gun, were forced to withdraw because of injuries.

But Wednesday the little won out from C. V. Whitney's stable took the measure of five of the finest thoroughbreds from England, France and Ireland plus another American entry. And so for the first time in three runnings of Laurel's stake, the Stars and Stripes were victorious.

Stanley Mikell's Brush Burn subbed for Determine. High Gun was hurt on Monday and C. V. Whitney, one of America's most respected names in racing, rushed Fisherman down from New York in a van.

Fisherman actually was the third choice. Closed Door originally had been designated as a substitute, but he too, was injured.

Although Fisherman had won four stakes, he had never raced on the grass and many looked askance at his chances for the reason.

While Fisherman was new to the turf, he had one of America's top jockeys to guide him around the mile and half, Eddie Arcaro. Many observers thought it was one of Arcaro's best riding exhibitions.

He realized quickly that Queen Elizabeth's Landau was setting too slow a pace and threaded his way through the pack to fight for the lead. He got it without question about 3/4 of a mile from home.

Julien DeCrisin's Banassa, the favorite of the crowd of 20,562, set up a roar by coming on fast in the stretch. Fisherman held on, however, to win by 3/4 of a length.

Brush Burn took third and the other French horse, Ernest Mandurel's Norman, was fourth. Landau faded back to last after country-mate King of the Tudors and Ireland's Northern Gleam.

Football's Hall of Fame has 105 players and coaches.

Atkinson Gets Three

NEW YORK (U)—Ted Atkinson must have liked the muddy going at Jamaica race track Wednesday. He rode three straight winners—Sir Sidney $9.20, Very Ultra $6.40 and Hula Hula $17.20.

Sophs Make All-America Bids

CHICAGO (U) — It's difficult for sophomores to "make" the varsity, much less All-America, but two midwest rookie stars are giving a real college try at the AP's 1954 honor team.

They are Hubert Bobo, fullback on Ohio State's undefeated team, and the Purdue pass-master, Len Dawson.

Latest returns from the 5-member regional nominating board for the All-America indicate Bobo will give Wisconsin's great 4-season star, Alan (the Horse) Ameche, a stout battle for this area's claim to the fullback position.

Dawson, who has hit for an average of one touchdown for every four passes he has completed, is crowding the likes of Notre Dame's Ralph Guglielmi, Ohio State's Dave Leggett and Indiana's Florian Helinski for the quarterback call.

Bobo's 1st season success has been phenomenal. It would seem impossible for a sophomore to outshine such Buckeye backfield mates as Howie (Hopalong) Cassidy, Bobby Watkins and Leggett. But Bobo has done it. It was this 192-pound Buck bomber who turned the tide and kept it turned in last Saturday's struggling 14-7 victory over plucky Northwestern. Let board member Brad Wilson, sports editor of the Columbus Dispatch tell it:

"Bobo made 76 yards in 12 carries. His 31-yard touchdown thrust and his punting average of 40.8 were important victory contributions. But Bobo's key play came late in the 3rd quarter with the score tied 7-7. Leggett fumbled on a sweep, but Bobo scooped up the ball without breaking stride to keep the Bucks in possession. Two plays later came the winning Ohio State touchdown."

But Ameche didn't lose any ground in his All-America try last Saturday. In fact, the Horse smashed 117 yards in 26 carries in a vain attempt to stave off a 13-7 Badger loss to Iowa. Ameche needs only 49 yards to surpass the 4-year record of 3,166 by Ollie Matson of San Francisco U.

Others of All-America timber who polished bids Saturday were Minnesota's versatile back, Bob McNamara, who did everything except work the yard sticks against Michigan State; tackle Sam Palumbo of Notre Dame; Watkins and end Dean Dugger of Ohio State; guard Tom Bettis of Purdue; guard Jan Smid of Illinois, and quarterback Jerry Reichow of Iowa.

Guard John Hall of Iowa, center Gary Messner of Wisconsin, tackle Nate Borden of Indiana, and end Ron Kramer of Michigan also were cited.

Big Fox Hunt Starts Sunday

Drought - Imposed Ban in Georgia Is Relaxed for Event

DUBLIN, Ga. (U) — Despite a drought-imposed hunting ban, the world's largest foxhunting show gets underway here Sunday as scheduled.

In Atlanta yesterday, Gov. Herman Talmadge relaxed his no-hunting order to permit the week-long National Foxhunters Assn. hunt trials, Dublin and Laurens County officials expect about 5,000 visitors from most of the 48 states and a few foreign countries to attend the trials.

Talmadge said he was permitting the show because "out-of-state people as well as Georgians have spent thousands of dollars preparing for the world's biggest foxhunt show... it would be unfair to halt it at this late date."

The governor ruled out smoking and fire-building during the trials and warned that 30 forestry, wildlife and public safety officials would patrol the area.

Colts to Drop Ehke; Sign Ex-Tartar Langas

BALTIMORE (U) — Baltimore Colts have asked waivers on Fred Ehke, the team's No. 1 quarterback.

Ehke, former University of Arizona back, has seen little service this year, playing behind rookies Gary Kerkorian and Cotton Davidson. He is a former Detroit Lion player.

Last year, he completed 71 of 168 passes for 1,054 yards and ranked eighth in the National Professional Football League passing statistics.

Spokesmen for the Colts also said yesterday that end Bob Langas, formerly of Wayne University, has been signed to a contract. Langas played service ball for Ft. Belvoir, Va.

Jim Lee Howell, coach of the New York football Giants, also coaches the Wagner College grid-ders.

'Rat Trappers Benefit From Moist Weather

LANSING (U) — High water resulting from wet fall weather should help Michigan trappers during the muskrat season, conservation field men said today.

The season opened in the Upper Peninsula Nov. 1 and will get underway Nov. 15 in the northern Lower Peninsula. The southern Lower Peninsula season, where between 60 and 70 per cent of the pelts are taken, opens Dec. 15.

Early reports show muskrat numbers are down in the western Upper Peninsula but are about the same elsewhere. Pelt prices are expected to be low again this year.

Million Dollar Track Planned by Easterners

WORCESTER, Mass. (U) — Plans for a million dollar harness track in Westboro were disclosed Wednesday night following Worcester County approval of pari-mutuel horse and dog racing in Tuesday's voting.

Bernard J. Molohan of Lunenburg, president of Allied Sports, Inc., said tentative plans call for a half mile track and stands to be built on the 85 acre site of the present auto raceway in Westboro.

U.S., Brazil Near World Cage Finals

RIO DE JANEIRO (U) — The United States and Brazil play what should be no more than final warmups today, for their title showdown in the second World Basketball tournament Friday.

Missed the Big One but Wins 3 Others

LAUREL, Md. (U) — Nick Shuk didn't have a mount in the Washington, D.C. International turf race at Laurel Wednesday, but he won three of the other seven races on the card. He was up on Palatine Pet $6.80, Nick Jimmie $4.20 and Ricoto $12.80.

Shamrocks Seek 10th Win Against St. Freds

By BILL MARTIN

St. Michael's Shamrocks will be heavily favored to gain their 10th victory in the 19-year-old intra-city football series Friday against winless St. Frederick.

Series has been extremely close since its inception in 1936, with St. Michael winning nine times and St. Frederick seven. Three games ended in ties.

Eight of the 19 contests were decided by a single touchdown or less, while the widest margin has been 26 points.

The rivalry was born in 1936, when St. Michael's school was increased from eight grades to 11. Rams handed their new rivals a 33-7 trouncing in that game, but the growing north-side school battled St. Frederick to a scoreless deadlock the following season and lost by a 6-0 margin in 1938.

Mikes arrived in 1939 sweeping to an undefeated Second Division Championship. They met Freds twice, tying 7-7 and 0-0. Star of the '39 champs was guard Jim Shoup, later named captain of the All-Catholic honor team.

Tackle Joe Hebert and back Harry Hanson also were named to the squad.

Shamrocks defeated St. Frederick for the first time in 1940, 14-0, and took a 7-0 victory the next year. Rams powered to victories in the next two games, 26-0 and 25-0.

Bob Mineweaver, now in his 11th forward passing. Traditionally a running team that turned to the pass only in dire emergencies, California has blossomed this season as one of the most persistent passing teams in the land. And it is completing passes at a rate that will mean an all-time major college record if maintained.

One reason, of course, is that California has one of the nation's outstanding passers, Paul Larson, and coach Lynn Waldorf is making full use of him.

But, oddly, California isn't the passing leader in the NCAA Service Bureau statistics, released today. Oregon is, with a better average in yardage gained per game.

California's Bears have completed 101 of their 159 pass attempts to date for 63.5 per cent. They are the only major team with 100 completions this season. The record in the books is 60.7 per cent, set in 1945 by an Alabama team.

Oregon has thrown the ball 180 times and completed only 88, but those successful passes were good for 1,293 yards, an average of 18.4 yards a game. California's average is 17.4 and Purdue, with the top total of 15 touchdowns passes, has averaged 168.8 yards. Washington is 4th with 163.4 yards on 175 passes and 83 completions. Detroit, Alabama and Richmond are 1-2-3 in pass defense. Detroit has permitted an average of 37.2 yards per game, moving ahead on last week's job against Marquette, which resulted in only one completion for 13 yards. Alabama has yielded 38 yards a game and Richmond 38.7.

Land O'Lakes Group Plans Annual Banquet

Land O'Lakes Racing Association will hold its annual banquet Nov. 11 at Scribbs, 130 S. Telegraph Road. Awards will be presented to the top 15 drivers and owners during the past season. Tickets for the affair may be purchased at the G. and H. Garage, 21 Wessen street, until Saturday evening.

year as St. Michael coach, took over the Mikes reins in 1944 to guide his teams to seven victories in the next 10 years.

Freds have been unable to beat their cross-town rivals since 1949, when their undefeated and untied championship club took a 26-7 triumph.

The previous year saw one of the most exciting games in the history of the series. Ram quarterback Davey Kline fired a 48-yard pass to halfback Charles "Bucky" Oertel in the final 30 seconds and then passed to Nick Zdunic for the winning extra point in a 7-6 thriller.

Kline went on to become a star quarterback at the University of Detroit and Oertel last week signed a contract with the Baltimore Orioles baseball club.

Caroline's Grid Future Cloudy

Injury Might End Career of Illinois Whiz

Shoulder Separation of J. C. Will Limit Duty to Punting at UM

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—A shoulder separation may end the football career of Illinois' fabulous J. C. Caroline, who, as a sophomore last year, broke Red Grange's yard-gaining record.

Illini Athletic Director Doug Mills somberly disclosed the seriousness of Caroline's injury last night as main speaker of a Quarterback Club meeting in Springfield, Ill.

"Caroline was injured in the Syracuse game (Oct. 23)," Mills said. "He suffered what may be a shoulder separation and it may end his brilliant career. He is being treated with the hope he can be used Saturday against Michigan."

"But if the injury cannot be treated properly or doesn't respond it is possible he never will play football again."

Coach Ray Eliot admitted that Caroline's left shoulder "hasn't responded to treatment very well." "He was running with the team in practices yesterday but his shoulder and arm were bothering him," Eliot said. "We will take him with us to Michigan but it is very doubtful if he will be able to do anything but punt for us."

Eliot said X-rays have been taken of the shoulder and results may be known late Thursday.

Caroline kept the injury to himself until late in the week after the Syracuse game. He did not play against Purdue last Saturday. Reports have been that he had a badly bruised shoulder. It was only Wednesday night that Mills disclosed the separation possibility.

Despite poor blocking, one weakness that has held Illinois to only one victory in six starts (over Syracuse) this season. Caroline has gained 360 yards in 70 trips for a 5.1 average. He has punted 10 times for an average of 42.9.

Many football experts believe Caroline has been an even greater player this season than in his record-breaking spree of 1953. In the last three games he has played, Caroline was credited with making 28 unassisted tackles.

3 More for 'Shoe'

ALBANY, Calif. (AP)—Willie Shoemaker, piling up further laurels as the year's most winning jockey, captured three straight races at Golden Gate Fields Wednesday.

Silent Shoe boosted his victory total for the year to 358 with Mr. Blue Birdbird $4.80 in the third, Flyfosta $4.00 in the fourth and Abacus $5.10 in the fifth.

ILLINOIS HALFBACK

J. C. Caroline, Illinois halfback, is a main threat of the Illinois football team this year. Illinois plays Michigan at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Illini Trio Are Latest Stars to Oppose UM 11

ANN ARBOR (AP)—In past years, Michigan's Wolverines have faced many of the nation's great football players. This year is no different.

Last Saturday the Wolverines went against one of the finest quarterbacks in the land—Indiana's Florian Hellmick. His sparkling play reminded press box observers of another Indiana star—George Talaferro, although his brilliant play in 1948 failed to beat Michigan.

This Saturday Michigan meets Illinois—and probably another memory of Red Grange, or even of Buddy Young. Both men figured prominently in heartbreaking Michigan defeats.

In 1923, Michigan tied with Illinois for the Big Ten title. Although the two teams never met, Red Grange was a sophomore back that year. The following season, Grange thrilled every Illini heart by leading Illinois to a 39-14 victory over Michigan.

Buddy Young, the tiny track star, led the Illini to a 13-9 victory over Michigan in 1946, ending a six-year period of consecutive Michigan victories.

There are three current Illinois backs to give the Wolverines a look at the past. They are J. C. Caroline, Abe Woodson and Mickey Bates.

Wistert Heads 'Bust'
DETROIT (UP)—Francis M. (Whitey) Wistert, 1st of three outstanding brothers who played tackle for the University of Michigan, will be toastmaster at the University's 1954 Football Banquet.

Bust will be held Nov. 29 in Detroit.

You Be the Quarterback
(Answer)
4. Flat pass. Not good from your own 19. An interception and the score could be 7-7.

3. Quick opener. Probably not a good gainer, but better than a flat pass.
2. Pitchout. You are capable around the ends. This could be a good choice.

1. Quick kick. Best call. The wind, the down, the ability of your fullback to quick kick—everything is set up for this pick. Giving up the ball is always a gamble in these days of potent offenses. But if you are going to quick kick at all, this is the spot.

Social Outcast Listed for Narragansett Test

PAWTUCKET, R. I. (AP)—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Social Outcast, winner of the recent $50,000-added Rhode Island Special at Lincoln Downs, is down to start in Saturday's $35,000-added Narragansett Special at Narragansett Park.

Trainer Bill Winfrey Wednesday accepted the assignment for the 4-year-old Shut Out gelding. Social Outcast will carry 122 pounds, including Eric Guerin, who won with Summer Tan last Saturday in the $269,965 Garden State Stakes.

Head Injuries Responsible for 7 Grid Deaths

12 Die as Result of Football Hurts Thus Far This Year

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Head injuries caused 7 of the 12 football deaths occurring so far this year, the chairman of the American Football Coaches Assn.'s fatality committee reports.

Spinal injuries, often caused by blows to the head, accounted for three and internal injuries for two, Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, dean of men at Los Angeles State College, said Wednesday in his annual midseason report.

The 12 deaths, reported as of Oct. 29, compare with 11 for the same period last year and show little change from the 1953 pattern, Dr. Eastwood said.

The fatalities included two college players, one athletic club player, two boys playing sandlot or unsupervised football and seven prep school boys.

The chairman said an increase from five to seven deaths in high school play was the "most disturbing feature, although the increase does not establish a statistical trend."

Three deaths were indirectly connected with football—two from heart attacks, one from bone cancer that followed a 1953 injury to a high school player.

Kelly Is a Lady

Fame Her Goal--She Reached It

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
(Last of Series)

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Grace Kelly's freshness, lady-like virtue, underlying sex appeal and fine acting ability, it's generally agreed, zoomed her to movie stardom faster than anyone since Ingrid Bergman, whom she resembles. But the same can be said of hundreds of other 24-year-olds in Hollywood and New York and maybe even in Sheboygan.

"I've just had fantastic luck, I guess. That and good agents," is all you'll get from Grace on the subject. That's stock verbiage.

But take "The Rich Girl Makes Good" story apart, like a jigsaw puzzle after the suspense is gone, and all the little pieces are neatly labeled:

"She's a girl who knows what she wants."

Her father, big John Kelly of Philadelphia, knew what he wanted, too. A knickknack, he became a millionaire. An Olympic champion. Since the age of 11, Grace Kelly wanted to become a famous actress. Natural beauty and training helped—but the Kelly determination and iron will saw that the dreamer never missed.

What do people who know her say about Grace Kelly?

Let's listen:

Director Alfred Hitchcock: "She's every inch a pro. She knows her job."

William Holden: "She's sweet without being saccharine, womanly without being coy. She preserves an actor's sanity. She always knows what she's doing."

A supporting actor in one of her films: "I've heard talk about the way she has handled her career since she started in television. She's like a hawk circling over its prey. When she sees a role she wants she zooms in and grabs it."

A movie makeup man: "She's glamorous enough not to have to worry about glamor."

A tough Hollywood agent: "Got class, that dame."

A studio electrician: "She has a figure that deserves a whistle. But you don't whistle at ladies."

An English reporter who talked to her in France: "She's the first film star I have ever met with curlers in her hair who didn't apologize for it."

A movie queen, who could be prejudiced: "I've met her socially. She can be friendly or unfriendly. I think she's a bit of a snob."

A movie production manager: "She does exactly what is required of her job and nothing more. She's not the frantic movie type."

A movie producer: "She has a quality of maturity that flatters middle-aged stars who have been shying away from leading ladies too young for them."

A Hollywoodite who was present at a party she attended: "When all the dolls in the plunging necklines heard she was coming they could hardly wait to back her into a corner and make her talk. They wanted to take her apart. She arrived in a high-necked dress, said nothing and listened to everybody else talk. Then she left."

Another agent: "She's a lucky, lucky girl. She arrived in Hollywood when the studios were tired of all the old beat-up feminine faces. Hers was fresh—and well-scrubbed."

A fan magazine writer: "I tried to worm something personal out of her. It was like trying to chip granite with a toothpick."

An old family friend: "I've known Grace since she was rolling hoops. You know something? I still don't know her."

An actor in one of her first films: "I guess maybe I was blind to her charms but she didn't impress me too much. To me she was just a cool, sweet sort of a girl."

Another actor: "She turned her charm on me. Wow!"

An agent: "There was some doubt at MGM about loaning her to Paramount for 'The Country Girl,' a role she wanted. So she telephoned the MGM studio boss, Dore Schary, and said: 'Mr. Schary, I'd like to see you in your office at 3 p.m. this afternoon. As I heard it, she walked into his office at exactly 3 p.m. and said if she didn't get the role MGM could mail her a Christmas card to New York—she'd take a suspension and leave town. She got the role."

A wardrobe girl: "She's the elegant, sophisticated type but even in a skirt and an oversized sweater, she looks elegant."

George Seaton, after directing her in "Country Girl": "She gave an Oscar-winning performance but I kept feeling she was holding back new and unexplored facets of her talent. That's what makes her a great star—there always will be something new about her in every picture."

A friend: "She can afford it but she doesn't have expensive tastes."

A friend from her Philadelphia school days: "Grace always wanted to be a famous actress. She wanted to become important in a family of important people. That was her goal in life. I always knew she'd make it. So did she."

After all, Kelly is a lady—with stainless steel insides.

"SHE'S GLAMOROUS ENOUGH NOT TO WORRY about glamor," says makeup man about Grace, here illustrating his words.

Dr. Stanley Kallman, assistant medical examiner for New York City, examined the body and reported the cause of death as a heart attack. Associates of the diplomat said he also had suffered from diabetes.

When stricken, Azmi was making his second speech of the day in a debate involving Egypt's seizure of the Israeli freighter Bat Galim in the Suez Canal. After statements today by Egypt and Israel, other delegates called for a report on the incident from the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission administering the Palestine armistice.

Hurricane-Struck Town Asks Advice of Veterans

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (UP)—Officials of this hurricane-struck city opened an envelope from Conway, S. C., and found $1 and a request for a copy of Hollywood's building code.

"We have had a very sad experience with Hurricane Hazel," wrote V. F. Platt, a Conway official. "We want to be sure we rebuild in a way that we might have more protection than we have had before."

Moral Aspects Raised by New Texas Juries

BEAUMONT, Tex. (UP)—Beaumont district judges today pondered a grave question posed by the voters' adoption of a constitutional amendment requiring women to serve on juries in Texas.

Judges Owen M. Lord, Melvin Combs and W. S. Nicols pointed out that present law prohibits the overnight separation of jurors considering a criminal case.

Fire Mars Special Week

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—National Fire Prevention Week was marked early Wednesday by a fire which roared through a shopping center, leveling 30 buildings. There were no deaths or injuries.

Tot Dies From Burns

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—Burns suffered when she fell into a tub of boiling water caused the death of Glenda Lee Paul, 21-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Paul. The family moved to Battle Creek from Omaha a month ago.

Nebraska Elects Woman Senator for First Time

MINDEN, Neb. (UP)—Mrs. Frank Foote, 28, mother of two daughters, is Nebraska's first elected woman senator to the nation's only unicameral (one-house) state legislature.

Wednesday she admitted she was "floored" by her victory, then recovered to comment: "I hope that women will take a little more interest in politics in the future."

But, she added, "I think there always should be a majority of men."

Mrs. Foote said that when she was campaigning a "lot of people were afraid I might be one of those crusaders for women's rights, but I'm not that type at all."

Mrs. Foote, a Republican, and her husband, a Democrat, operate an irrigated farm near here.

Nationally and for other state offices, Mrs. Foote said she "supposed our votes cancelled out, but I think I voted for me."

Mr. Foote probably did—Nebraska state senators being elected on a non-partisan ballot.

Mrs. Foote recalled that her first run for the state legislature was in Michigan and Minnesota "but they lost—they were Democrats running in heavily Republican areas."

One-Armed Pianists Team Up for Recital

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Herbie Kay Skinner, seven-year-old student pianist, and her teacher, Mrs. Clarence Stump, played a piano solo Wednesday at a recital.

Herbie Kay, her right arm in a cast, played the bass notes, while Mrs. Stump, with a broken left arm, handled the treble.

Judy and Mario May Co-Star in 'South Pacific'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—I have a secret that not even Judy Garland has an inkling I know. This is it. There is a big discussion about co-starring Judy and Mario Lanza in "South Pacific."

Judy and Sid Luft had a meeting with Dick Rogers on Monday to discuss the possibility. Al Teitelbaum, who represented Mario Lanza, was in New York at the get-together.

Wouldn't Judy be great in the Mary Martin role? My Judy would be great in any role. Since Mario sang on a recent TV show and did so well, proving that he can face audiences again, he is very much sought after.

Judy and Lanza have much in common. Both have conquered illnesses, with Judy going on to even greater heights in "A Star Is Born."

While I was resting I got a chuckle when I read that Marion Brando was engaged to marry Josiane Mariani-Berenger.

On Sunday, Sept. 26 I said, "Marion Brando is completely surrounded by his own pals, his make-up man, his secretary and his stand-in and his private life is so completely his own that only a few people knew that Josiane Mariani, his girl friend, has been here with him all the time he was making 'Desiree.'"

Well, I would like to place a good-sized wager that Marion and Josiane will be engaged a long time. He is returning to 20th Century-Fox to make another picture. He signed a contract for two pictures and his option was taken up after he finished "Desiree."

Guy Mitchell has been transatlantic telephoning his ex-wife, Jackie Loughery, and his bosses at Columbia Records don't like this at all, at all.

When Guy was in New York a few days ago from England, he was asked to keep the trip very secret because the execs were afraid Jackie would hear he was in the country and fly there to take Guy's mind off his recording.

He gave his word of honor he wouldn't tell anyone he was in the country, and he kept his promise.

Girls, he is married. I mean Walter Dick, the 29-year-old millionaire who goes into the Moulin Rouge with his All-American Boys (acrobats).

Besides his acrobatic act, Dick owns two banks in his hometown of Wheeling, West Virginia. He wants to make a picture with his acrobats and he is the boy who can do it with all that cash.

By the way, the Moulin Rouge still has a show that all our visitors should see, as well as the people who live here. It is so beautifully staged.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Wanda Hendrix and Jim Stack, happy honeymooners, are home from Honolulu.

Dale Robertson is a victim of snow blindness—and here's the odd angle—it was caused by artificial snow containing camphor flakes used in a movie.

Fay MacKenzie and her husband, Tom Waldman, glimpsed at Sportsman's Lodge with the Billy Gilberts. Fay, who was once married to Steve Cochran, now has two children.

Election night was very gay and one of the gala spots was the Mocambo, where Eileen (bake-a-cake) Barton opened. She is terrific, that's all.

Mickey Rooney's wife, Elaine Davis, may soon become known as a TV star before she becomes a movie personality. She has signed to play in the Daniel Boone TV series opposite Touch O'Connor.

The Mick is producing the shows. Phyllis Gates, who is in Henry Willson's office, is sharing Rock Hudson with Betty Abbott, or vice versa. Rock was out on the town with Phyllis earlier this week.

he likes to keep up with the times—last year's

The LOOKLESS OOF is a retailer married to last year's business — to last year's stock, last year's ideas, last year's problems.

He can't see an opportunity two inches away, and wouldn't know a trend from a banana. And what he has learned from experience is what to do in case the past should ever return.

Fortunately the OOF is a rare creature.

Most retailers know that selling means keeping in tune with the times.

They're sensitive to changes in customer preferences, and re-stock their shelves accordingly.

They're quick to take advantage of manufacturers' newspaper advertising — by featuring the product in their own store displays ... and by including the brand in their own newspaper ads.

Since they themselves advertise in newspapers, they know that any manufacturer who does the same is really in earnest — and really is out to win the market.

A modern retailer knows that the best advertising is the kind that reaches all his customers.

And he likes the manufacturer who thinks the same.

All business is local ... and so are all newspapers!

Hal Boyle Says:

Hard-Working Bachelors Should Wed Career Girl

NEW YORK (U)—Some ambitious young men, anxious to get ahead in life, are afraid today to marry. Why? Because they are afraid the romantic bride of their dreams may become a frowny-haired nightmare who will later hamper the progress of their careers.

In picking executives many corporations weigh not only the kind of work a man does, but the kind of wife he goes home to. Will she be a credit to the firm, or a social liability? Does she have it in her to become what industrial leaders now look for in the mates of their potential executives—the "ideal corporate wife?"

"My girl suits me all right now," said a young bachelor. "But will she be able to grow up with me as I move ahead in the world? Will she, 25 years from now, be the kind of wife my corporation wants me to have?"

"The boss I have now thinks my girl is real cute. But what about when she's middle-aged? Will the boss I have then think she's a handicap to the firm?"

One can easily sympathize with this young man. The mere fact he is worried about the future shows he is serious-minded as well as ambitious. His problem is real. As any married man knows, it is hard enough to tell what a wife will be like 10 minutes from now, let alone 25 years.

What can this young go-getter do? Well, frankly, let's face it: It is impossible to marry a girl of 20 or 25 years and be certain that at 45 or 50 she will have matured into "the ideal corporate wife." Corporations change, too, and how can we tell whether in the fast-paced world a quarter century from now the ideal corporate wife will look and act like Myrna Loy, Shirley Temple, Kate Smith or Marilyn Monroe?

Is there any solution then? Yes. One could wait until he had become an executive and then marry a woman pleasing to the chairman of the board. But most men don't want to postpone the pleasures of home cooking, etc., for 25 years.

An even better way is to switch one's life goals now. Suppose you are the ambitious young man. Instead of worrying about selecting an ideal corporate wife, why not concentrate instead on becoming "the ideal corporate husband" yourself?

Here's how:

1. Keep her morale up by praising her at all times. Don't be a knacker. Even if she makes mistakes, tell her she's got the best businesswoman's head since Hetty Green.

2. Show an interest in her job, but don't tell her how to run it. Never gossip about her associates, and don't make her unhappy by hounding her if she doesn't get raises as often as you think her merit deserves.

3. If her job requires that she move to another city, don't cry. Chin up, boy. Just move with her.

4. Don't make scenes if she has to work late at the office, and don't get jealous if she has a male secretary. Send him a birthday card. Send him two, and make a real friend.

5. Avoid getting out of touch with things just because you spend most of your time at home watching television. Keep posted on baseball and politics and read good books, so that she'll be proud of the way you can hold up your end of the conversation at office gatherings.

6. Don't be penny wise and pound foolish about your clothing. Buy expensive suits. Remember, it is important to your wife's career that you look neat and well-dressed at all times.

7. Drink only to be social. Never show up drunk with a blonde at night clubs patronized by members of your wife's corporation. You'd be surprised how many $50,000-a-year tattletales there are in America.

8. When invited to the home of your wife's boss for dinner, remember they are looking you over to see if she married the right kind of guy. Be pleasant but reserved in a gentlemanly way. Don't try to tell the boss his business. Your wife probably does that to him all day long.

If you follow these simple basic rules you are bound to have a rich full existence. You will be known as "the ideal corporate husband." Your wife will be a wealthy corporation executive—and know in her heart she owes it all to you, the little man without who she'd have been just another cog in a big machine.

P. S. One final tip—don't forget early in your marriage to teach your wife to bring her paycheck home in her mouth. It's really for her own good.

Hard-to-Convince Fish Caught Fourth Time

AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI)—Some fish, like some people, never learn. Maine's fish and game department has closed its file on a salmon that was marked with a metal jaw tag as part of a study of fish growth in Cold Stream Pond.

The salmon was caught by fishermen four times in the past four years. It scaled three-and-one-half pounds the last time, so the angler, E. W. Grafton of Old Town, threw it in the skillet.

Private Stock Found

MORGANTOWN, N. C. (U)—"We find it in some of the damndest places," said an alcohol tax unit agent after he located a whisky cache in a compartment under the seat of an outdoor privy.

Deaf Motorist Unperturbed by Own Auto Horn

CATLETTSBURG, Ky. (U)—H Walker drove his automobile through town with the horn blowing continuously.

Pedestrians shouted and waved, trying to get him to turn the thing off. He waved back and drove on.

Finally he parked the machine, the horn still blaring. Then a pedestrian walked up and handed him a note. Walker quickly raised the hood, jerked a wire, and peace was restored.

He is deaf.

Gas Fertilizer Used

NEW YORK (INS)—Natural gas not only cooks your food, it grows it, too. Farmers report they are getting better food crops nowadays after treating the soil with anhydrous ammonia, which is a blend of natural gas, steam and air. This new chemical is either mixed with irrigation water or plowed into the soil with special equipment.

Soybeans Stage Quick Recovery

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 (AP)—After suffering an opening loss of more than a cent a bushel, soybeans today staged a quick recovery and forged as much as two cents ahead of yesterday's finish.

Wheat firmed after a steady start, corn gained more than a cent and oats steadied.

Trading was fairly active. Near the end of the first hour wheat was 1/2 to 3/4 higher, December $2.23; corn was 1 to 1 1/4 higher, December $1.57 1/2; oats were unchanged to 1/4 higher, December $2.54; rye was 1/4 to 3/4 lower, December $1.35 1/2; soybeans were 1/4 to 3/4 cents higher, November $2.93 1/2, and hard was 8 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $15.20.

Turns Down Appeal in Custody Dispute

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—The Pennsylvania Supreme Court has turned down an appeal from a decision awarding custody of a 2-year-old girl, whose parents were slain in Michigan in 1933, to an aunt.

The court announced yesterday it would not hear the appeal of the child's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kovacs of Grand Haven, Mich., from lower court rulings that Patricia Ann Kuntz should stay with her maternal aunt, Mrs. Robert J. Stackhouse of Newton Square, Pa.

Custody originally was awarded to the Stackhouses by Probate Judge Frederick T. Miles of Michigan in July 1933. The Delaware County, Pa., court upheld the Michigan decision and Mrs. Kovacs appealed to the State Supreme Court.

The appellate court ruled that the child's interests would "best be served by allowing her to remain with Mr. and Mrs. Stackhouse."

Pep Rally, Snake Dance Start Holly Homecoming

HOLLY — Homecoming activities for Holly high school students and alumni are slated to begin tonight, at 7:30 in the high school gym with a pep meeting, according to senior homecoming chairman, Albert Tetschow.

Following the pep meeting, conducted by the Holly high cheerleaders, the group will form in front of the school and snake dance down Maple Streets through the business district, in a torchlight parade, returning to Cyclone Park for the traditional bonfire.

Reigning over the evening's festivities will be the newly elected homecoming queen, Joann Kling.

Picking up Friday afternoon where they leave off tonight, Holly high students will again parade through town led by the Holly High marching band, under the direction of Leland Brode, with their class and organization float entries.

Floats will be judged by three local residents and the winning class or organization will be presented a trophy at half time of the Holly-Clarkston football game. This will follow crowning of this year's queen by last year's Bonnie Dabier Rouds.

Drawing the two day celebration to a close will be the "Coronation Ball," in the high school gym, sponsored by the senior class following the game. Presiding over the dance will be the queen and her yet unannounced court.
