

Love U.N., Fire Dag, Demands Khrushchey

NY Bids Ike Booming Farewell

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower flew back from his mission to the United Nations today with the cheering memory of a thunderous sendoff from thousands of New Yorkers.

The President's big jet landed at nearby Andrews AFB Md. little more than an hour after the big ovation of his visit to U.N. headquarters had greeted him as he emerged from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel for the return journey.

The cheers were an apparent tribute for his challenge to the Soviet Union. In his address to the General Assembly Thursday, he joined in peaceful solution of world problems through the United Nations.

Right up to the time he set out on the return journey, the President was busy on that campaign in a series of conferences with national leaders.

Eisenhower headed back to Washington without meeting Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchey or hearing him speak at the United Nations.

The chief executive met this morning with Togo President Sylvanus Olympio, with whom he discussed the Congo problem and other African matters, and with Prince Mohammad Naim, foreign minister of Afghanistan.

Khrushchey arrived at the U.N. headquarters to address the General Assembly while Eisenhower was en route to the airport.

Khrushchey, who sat impatiently through Eisenhower's "hands-off Africa" warning to the Soviet bloc Thursday, also planned to get out of town this weekend.

The State Department relaxed its travel restrictions to allow the Red leader to relax at the Boudoir Glen Cove, Long Island, N. Y. country place.

Eisenhower, resuming his policy of personal diplomacy, met Thursday with leaders from Ghana, Lebanon and Nepal in addition to his first meeting with Yugoslav President Tito.

MAY TALK AGAIN

The two presidents agreed they had a pleasant meeting and recognized the value of direct exchange of views. Their discussion was viewed as significant in that it may increase Tito's prestige as leader of a neutralist bloc of nations.

Eisenhower was expected to confer again early next week with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The President is due back here Monday afternoon and will address a Catholic Charities dinner that night. He has kept the afternoon open for appointments with world figures.

Following a 12-hour, tiring schedule Thursday, Eisenhower had a quiet dinner and went to bed early. His press secretary indicated, however, that he may have gone to bed happy since nearly all his callers complimented him on his address to the General Assembly. Khrushchey also stepped up the pace of his duel with Eisenhower in personal diplomacy in New York.

Khrushchey, ardently courting the new African nations, met in private with Kwame Nkrumah, president of Ghana.

Later, he went to a Toga dinner reception at the Plaza Hotel and heard a demonstrator yell at him, "Drop dead, you bums!"

Some 1,500 persons on the streets and in the hotel lobby cheered Khrushchey's arrival with boos and hissing. He greeted out a single Russian word, "savages!"

President Tito of Yugoslavia appeared at the state reception a few minutes ahead of Khrushchey.

Medical Care for Aged Stalls in Legislature

—GOP Senators Object to Cost Level, House Demos Nix Reductions

LANSING (AP) — Proposed new medical care benefits for Michigan's needy aged were stalled today in the legislature after Republicans cut back Gov. Williams' program.

GOP senators said it was too expensive and questioned the need for some features. Fourteen hours of maneuvering ended just before midnight Thursday when House Democrats refused to accept the Senate reductions.

Instead, their leaders vowed a fight to restore the program to the form shaped in two lengthy conferences between the governor and legislative leaders of both parties.

A compromise appeared in the wind.

The test of House Democratic strength was put off today when Republicans caucused for two hours, then quit for lunch with word the strategy parley would resume at 1:30 p.m.

Asked what, if anything, was decided, Rep. Thomas Wherry (R-Grand Rapids) cracked, "that Castro should pay his hotel bills."

It was known that some influential Republicans in the House were displeased with the action of Senate colleagues.

Senators told newsmen the Senate broke the agreement reached with the speaker's group Wednesday night 10 hours before the special session began Thursday morning.

"A violent breach of good faith," said Rep. T. John Leamon of Detroit, the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor.

The stripped-down version, geared to $11.5 million instead of the originally proposed $14-million a year, was approved in the Senate 21 to 9. (Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, R-Oakland County, was not recorded in the vote.)

But first, the Republican majority by a straight party line decision — took out all provisions for diagnostic services, nursing home care and home nursing benefits.

Left in were benefits equivalent to those provided under standard A. C. Girard's Blue Shield insurance coverages.

An estimated 60,000 medically needy men and women over 65 and outside the old age pension system could qualify.

NASTY NIKITA — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchey angrily waves a fist in his bitter U.N. General Assembly speech this morning.

He demanded that U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld be fired and that the international body be moved out of America.

Lashes President on U2 Spy Flights

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchey proposed today to move the United Nations out of New York, shake up its organization and eliminate the office of secretary general.

In a blockbuster speech, the Soviet premier also:

1. Denounced President Eisenhower as risking World War III in the U2 spy plane incident of last May.
2. Demanded the immediate independence of all colonial areas.
3. Proposed a newly dressed-up three-stage disarmament plan looking toward what Khrushchey calls complete and general disarmament. It contained much of which the West already has rejected, in a newly wrapped package.

Khrushchey's surprise recommendations on the United Nations came only a day after President Eisenhower had pleaded with this historic 15th U.N. Assembly session to use the world organization to clear all dangerous disputes.

The Soviet leader proposed a nine-man executive body to guide the United Nations, in which the West, the Soviet bloc and the neutralist powers would share equally in control. This would replace the post of secretary general, now held by Sweden's Dag Hammarskjöld, who has been under heavy Soviet attack since a Russian diplomatic setback in Africa's Congo.

Khrushchey rained all three powerful proposals into the hopper to what was developing as a showdown duel of personal diplomacy between him and the U.S. president. He denounced President Eisenhower by name in his remarks concerning the U2 incident.

After broaching his disarmament plans and his proposals on colonial areas, the Soviet leader launched into a bitter attack on the President on the basis of the U2 spy plane incident of last May, which preceded the blowup of the Paris summit conference.

He said the plane incident was particularly significant because President Eisenhower "himself declared the aggressive flights of the American planes a normal business — allegedly necessary for the security of the United States."

"At the same time," said Khrushchey, "the U.S. government arbitrarily assumed the right to send such planes in the future. This is why, since the matter concerns the violation of the sovereign rights of not only the Soviet Union but of other states as well, the question of the aggressive actions of the United States must be dealt with by the United Nations at its plenary session."

"The continuation of such hostilities and especially their intensification by the U.S. president as state policy can at any moment lead to a world war."

ON DISARMAMENT: "Basically a rehearsal of last year's proposal for total world disarmament in the next four years."

"In the first stage, which is to last about a year or a year and a half, manufacture of the means of delivery of nuclear weapons to the target must be stopped and the existing stockpiles destroyed," he said.

"(Also) All foreign military bases on the territories of other states must be dismantled and all foreign troops withdrawn from such territories."

"The strength of armed forces of states must be substantially reduced, with the maximum strength of the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A. being established at the level of 1.5 million men."

Rolling Out Red Carpet to Welcome Rocky Here

Rain or shine, Republicans of Oakland County have the red carpet ready to roll out tomorrow for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's three-city, three-hour visit here.

Predicted showers have officials gathering up extra golf umbrellas from a local country club and raincoats — just in case.

They have their fingers crossed that the overcast skies won't discourage persons in Pontiac, Berkeley and Oak Park from coming out to hear the second national political figure to stop here in less than a month. Sen. John F. Kennedy spoke in Pontiac on Labor Day.

Tomorrow it will be Rockefeller's turn to sell the merits of voting for the GOP ticket of Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Rockefeller, the tickets' top salesman, is due at the courthouse steps in Pontiac shortly after 3 p.m. He'll arrive at Pontiac Municipal Airport with his party of chief lieutenants, including campaigning Alvin M. Bentley, candidate for the U. S. Senate, from Battle Creek.

At the airport, the governor will be greeted with a sapling oak tree — symbolic of Oakland County — and some acorns from 2-year-old Rachel Cashin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cashin, 2733 Yorkshire Drive, Birmingham.

After his talk from the courthouse steps, during which he is supposed to touch on the area's unemployment problem, Bentley will move down Woodward Avenue, through the Birmingham business district, and then on to a Khrushchey Club celebration and parade in Berkeley scheduled for 3:30 p.m.

After a talk at the Oak Park High School, Rockefeller will leave Oakland County and move into Detroit for talks.

He won't remain overnight in Detroit as originally planned because he has to hurry back to New York to attend a Christmas

Rain Tonight Welcome to New Grass

Evergreens and new lawns will welcome rains forecast for tonight on Saturday and again about Wednesday.

The weatherman says temperatures over the weekend will average about 3 degrees above the normal high of 70 and normal low of 51. Tonight's low will be near 57, tomorrow's high about 77.

Northeasterly morning winds at 10 miles per hour will become easterly tomorrow.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 63 degrees. At 2 p.m. the reading was 67.

June 17-24 Event Aimed at Nationwide Audience

City to Enlist Giant Centennial Army

An Army of 3,000 to 4,000 is being enlisted in Pontiac to capture the imagination of the city and the attention of the nation.

They're the centennial legends and the battle plan is drawn up.

• The biggest celebration Pontiac has ever seen, next June 17-24, in honor of Pontiac's 100th year as a city.

• A giant show in Warner Bros. Stadium highlighting the city's past, present and future and featuring a local cast of more than 1,000.

• Back traditional centennial diversions as heard, period costumes, historic programs, dignitaries, entertainers, fireworks and fun for all.

Centennial planners already are the need for 41 committees and may add more as the event approaches.

Planning got under way early this year after a City Commission-taking, it's easy to see how planners will be calling on hundreds of Pontiac area folk for participation in both preparation of centennial activities and their execution.

Planning got under way early this year after a City Commission-appointed committee decided that a centennial commission was necessary—one with professional guidance.

The Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission was incorporated with A. C. Girard as president; Thomas F. Wiethorn, vice president; Miles

J. Cross, treasurer; and John W. Hirtler, secretary.

Girard is president of Community National Bank, Wiethorn, Pontiac plant manager for Fisher Body Division, Cross, president of Pontiac State Bank and Hirtler, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Whitfield, vice president of Pontiac State Bank, accepted the centennial chairmanship with the blessings of his boss.

A lot of organization has been accomplished since the commission was incorporated in July. Top positions in a complicated organization chart have been filled.

Three vice chairmen are serving under Whitfield: Robert W. Emerick, public relations director of Pontiac Motor Division; Theodore J. Hubert, retired operations supervisor of Sears Roebuck & Co. in Pontiac; and Kenneth S. Miller, assistant traffic manager at GMC Truck & Coach Division.

Emerick heads the all-important spectacular division.

Under Hubert are the revenue and more than two-score committees will be centered there.

Gas, Oil Lands
Auction by State
Tops Since 1951

LANDING — A recent auction of state-owned lands for oil and gas rights was the largest since 1951, the State Conservation Department reported today.

Petroleum interests bid for leases on 124,000 acres of state-owned lands during the three-day session. The bidding had to be held in the House of Representatives because of the unusual interest in the sale.

Bidders paid a total of $117,000 for leases on lands in 30 counties in the Lower Peninsula. Cheboygan and Presque Isle counties led the list in acreage.

The lease deal works out so the state gets an eighth of the profits. If one good well came through, equalling the best now producing in Michigan, the state could realize $200,000 a year.

Khrushchev Will Relax
on Long Island Sunday

GLEN COVE, N. Y. (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will relax this weekend in one of Long Island's most elegant old mansions, built with the money of an American oil magnate and now property of the Soviet Union.

The leader of the Communist world was granted permission by the State Department Thursday to leave his Manhattan confines this weekend to visit the spacious estate here maintained by the Soviet Union for its United Nations delegation.

The 37-acre estate, with landscaped gardens, a swimming pool and 45 rooms in the main building which overlooks Long Island Sound, was built with the money of Charles Pratt, a founder of the Standard Oil Co.

It was Pratt's wedding gift to his son, George Dupont Pratt, in 1911. It cost a million dollars, a lot more money then than it is now. After Pratt's death in the late 1930s, his wife moved out of the huge house, called Killenworth. After World War II, the estate was sold to the Soviet government.

Lately, the estate has appeared vacant, and the once meticulously manicured grounds have yielded to crab grass and untamed shrubbery. Last Monday night, Khrushchev was hanged in effigy on a pole near the main gate. Glen Cove police removed the stuffed dummy.

The Soviets have been embroiled in frequent disputes with local, state and Glen Cove tax officials concerning the estate.

Last month, the Soviets demanded a $200,000 tax refund, citing a state law which grants tax exemption to property used as a residence by a ranking U.N. official or his staff. The case has not yet been settled.

Ex-Dem Senator
in Tax Trouble

WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service contends Earle C. Clements, former Democratic senator from Kentucky and one-time governor of that state, filed fraudulent income tax returns for the years 1948 through 1956. It seeks $291,289 from him, in additional taxes and penalties.

Clements, who is now coordinator of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's campaign for the vice presidency, denies the allegations and has taken the case to the U.S. tax court. The Revenue Service's contentions and Clements' rejection of them came to public light with the former senator's move into the court.

Can't Spirit of Olympics Be Reflected in U.N.?

The transition from the cordiality of thousands of Olympic athletes in Rome to the harassment of the Communist nation leaders in New York is hard to swallow.

Many spectators at the recently completed greatest sports spectacle in the world often said, "Isn't it a pity that the leaders of the many nations can't get along as well as these athletes?"

It is a pity. Is it possible for this friendship, to stretch outside the boundaries of the stadiums and into the United Nations? Some say, "Never!" Others just shrug their shoulders.

As naive as it may be, one can hope.

Just once—and this was a case of snap judgment which many of the spectators later regretted—was there any hostile feelings displayed between the Russians and Americans during the track and field events.

That was when it appeared that Soviet hop, step and jumper Kravtchuk shrugged off a handshake from our J. Davis when the latter sought to congratulate the eventual Bronze Medal winner. The hansom, hoos and catcalls rocked Stadio Olimpico.

Upon the insistence of an angry Russian official Kravtchuk hugged and kissed our Negro athlete. But the football still insisted on booing Kravtchuk when he got his medal. He wept like a baby.

This, I remind you, was the only visual sign of irritation as 7,000 athletes from 85 countries fought hard for Olympic laurels.

Other spectators might have had some bitter feelings. But true to the Olympic spirit these were suppressed.

Why can't this spirit catch on in New York?

Violence During Holdup Deserves Stiff Penalty

Service station operators in Alberta, Canada want the courts to counter violence with violence.

One hundred and fifty operators recently attending a meeting of the Automotive Retailers Association of Alberta, endorsed a resolution asking the Federal Government to make holding mandatory for anyone convicted of using violence during a holdup.

Delegates said all night gas stations were particularly susceptible to holdups and that jail sentences had not stopped unwarranted beatings of their victims by gunmen.

This may sound a little tough, but how about the poor innocent guy standing at gun point while some punk gives him a going over.

Foreign Bases Bow to Growing Bomber Range

Development of longer range planes and of refueling in the air have made roundtrip bombing missions from this country to Soviet targets theoretically possible, says Editorial Research Reports. Experts agree, however, that foreign bases will be needed for some time to come to take care of bombers now in service and for flexibility of combat operations.

Elimination of American foreign bases has been a goal of Soviet policy for years. After the U2 incident Russian demands reached a crescendo. Countries playing host to U.S. bases were threatened with nuclear retaliation but not one had shown any signs of giving in.

The purpose of our overseas bases is not only to protect the U.S. but other free world nations from the growing threat of Communist aggression. Some of them were retained from World War II. More were built following the 1948 Communist takeover of Czechoslovakia, the Berlin blockade and the Korean war. U.S. Army, Navy and Air Force bases now total 150 spread around the world with the majority in England, France, Germany, Japan and Korea.

Long range bombers together with our improved ballistic missiles and submarine-launched Polaris missiles tend to make U.S. bases avoid of declining importance in any combat between the U.S. and Russia.

However, the time has not yet come when we can pull out of all foreign bases. Should the big powers reach a nuclear stalemate, there would still be the likelihood of brushfire emergencies. The mere presence of powerful forces within striking distance of danger spots is a deterrent to would-be troublemakers.

The Would-Be World Splitters

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Presents Truly Great Speech

WASHINGTON—It was a truly great speech that President Eisenhower delivered Thursday before the U.N. General Assembly.

For Eisenhower reflected the spirit of America and of the free world as he called for a "world community, rooted in law and justice." He appealed not for a "super-state" but for a union of independent states, each established by a "universal principle" that would give every man the right "to participate in his government."

His address was perhaps the best of Eisenhower's career. It was reminiscent of the famous speeches of President Woodrow Wilson in support of the League of Nations four decades ago.

Whoever a spokesman for America issues a call for freedom, and offers the moral support of the people of the United States, the peoples of the rest of the world are bound to take notice.

Eisenhower talked to the whole world as he proclaimed not only America's aid to Africa but also "programs of assistance for the economic and social development in freedom of other areas, particularly Latin America, Asia and the Middle East."

SUPPORT FOR U.N. The most sensational note of the whole speech, however, was the direct support for the United Nations itself and the unequivocal denunciation of Soviet treason against the U.N.

The President had in mind the recent Soviet interference with U.N. operations in Africa when he said:

"To attempt to hinder or obstruct the United Nations or to depreciate its importance is to contribute to world unrest and, indeed, to invite the crisis that from time to time so disturb all men."

"The United States stands squarely and unequivocally in support of the United Nations and those acting under its mandate in the interest of peace."

"Outside interference with these newly emerging nations (in Africa), all eager to undertake the tasks of modernization, has created a serious challenge to the authority of the United Nations."

"In response to the call of the Republic of the Congo, the United Nations under its outstanding secretary general, has recently mounted a large-scale effort to provide that new republic with help."

"That effort has been flagrantly attacked by a few nations which wish to prolong strife in the Congo for their own purposes."

"The people of the Congo are entitled to build up their country in peace and freedom. Intervention by other nations in their internal affairs would destroy that right and create a focus of conflict in the heart of Africa."

"The issue thus posed in the Congo could well arise elsewhere in Africa."

It questioned the sincerity of the Soviet Union before the world. Eisenhower, moreover, did not fail to mention the "threatening encroachments to the freedom of the people of West Berlin" and the refusal of the Soviet Union to permit a U.N. investigation of its shooting down of an American plane flying over international waters last July and the imprisonment of two fliers aboard that plane.

The whole speech was a challenge to the Soviet premier and the totalitarian philosophy. The peoples of the free world, and particularly the peoples of the so-called "neutral" countries, cannot fail to be impressed.

For here is a charter of liberty, a program for world progress, and, if fulfilled on all sides, one that can insure an unprecedented era of peace throughout the world.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Bell's Palsy Brought On by More Than Refrigeration

"Upon rising this morning, after a day spent out in the open during a high wind, in which I must have taken cold, I noticed that the right side of my face was somewhat drawn and distorted, and that there was a lack of sensation, as well as numbness."

"Believing this condition was caused by my cold, I consulted my doctor, who informed me that it appeared to be a form of paralysis, and suggested that I see a physician for diagnosis and treatment."

"The physician I consulted said it was Bell's palsy and it would require at least a month of treatment to effect cure."

"As I had already postponed a trip back to my former home in Tennessee and did not want to delay the trip so long, I decided to see an osteopath. He agreed it was Bell's palsy and began to give me osteopathic treatment to relieve the condition."

"Even as early as after my first osteopathic treatment, I experienced noticeable relief. Complete recovery followed after the fourth treatment, and I was able to travel to Tennessee and return to Minnesota without any recurring symptoms." (Mrs. E. G.)

Bell's palsy, facial paralysis, neuritis of the seventh cranial nerve, which supplies the muscles of the face, tear glands, sublingual and submandibular salivary glands and some of the sweat glands of the face, usually occurs, as Mrs. E. G. describes, shortly after refrigeration, that is, after exposure of the face and head to cold air in sleeping at an open window or riding in an open car.

Let's examine this more closely. In most instances it becomes evident after the customary yaky-yak that cold or refrigeration was only the exciting factor and, in the course of a few days, the actual cause of the trouble is found to be gynecitis, "ulcerated" tooth (alveolar abscess), sinusitis, impacted molar, abscess at the root of a tooth or infected tonsil.

Surgical removal of such impacted or abscessed tooth or disinfection of tonsillar infection (tonsillitis) by electrocautery (diathermy) is the most effective treatment.

One with facial paralysis (Bell's palsy) cannot brown on the affected side. The eye is more widely open and cannot be shut, due to weakness of upper eyelid. Tears run down the cheek.

The mouth is drawn toward the affected side, snags at the angle and dribbles saliva. The patient can't whistle, not even at a pippen passing by.

Chamber of Commerce Defends City Merchants

The Downtown Merchants Association, a division of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, invited all the farmers of Oakland County to display their produce. The Downtown Merchants Association wanted the farmers to participate—and many of them did. The public liked it. So did the downtown people. So did the farmers.

It seems a tragedy that a few scattered grocers should resent this attempt to dramatize the wonderful agricultural products of Oakland County. We're proud of our farmers. They're always welcome to Pontiac.

Your Chamber of Commerce is vitally concerned in the prosperity of the entire area. Its entire program is designed to promote the best interests of all the farmers, all the people and all the businesses of the area.

Politics, Religion, K

Still of High Interest

The founding fathers of this republic stated: "All men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; among them are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

Liberty has reared its ugly head to deny to Sen. Kennedy two of those rights. Namely: liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

To deny the presidency to anyone merely because he is a Roman Catholic would be to deny freedom to all of our fellow citizens and it would be likely to do great damage to the moral and social health of our country.

For any organization or religious body to tell its members how to vote is morally wrong. Let's make people think for themselves instead of letting any organization dictate its wishes to the voters.

Arnold E. Swartz

Everyone likes fair play so why not visit all the churches before the election and see who talks politics from the pulpit. You find some that will keep investigating by the time the election is over.

All well behaved persons are welcome in a Catholic Church. Go and listen to the sermons and see how much church and state is discussed. Learn the truth and the truth will make you free.

Legal Aid Needed in Making Will

It is waiting for remittance from father.

Crane, why will men or women leave their fortunes to a single person, who may later grow gentle or childish and as gentle as a grammar school youngster?

SENILE CUSTODIANS Look ahead when you are bequeathing your fortune or giving large financial endowments to the church or a university.

All of us will become gentle and childish if we live to a ripe old age. We also will become quibbles.

Some despising relative or acquaintance may then come in to grow hostile to our own children and deprive them of their share of the inheritance which their father or mother originally planned for them to receive.

Despite our brilliant minds and shrewd business judgment earlier in life, we may become simpletons and fools in old age.

It is, therefore, hazardous to let the sole custody of wealth rest on an old person.

Instead, leave your fortune in trust to your heirs. If your wife survives you, see that she is adequately cared for financially, preferably by a fixed monthly income instead of a large lump sum.

Don't even trust yourself to disburse your own fortune sagaciously in your old age. For you, too, may grow petty and as quarrelsome or jealous as a child.

BE FAIR

It is wiser, moreover, to select a life insurance company or reputable banking institution to serve as administrator of your estate.

Such a financial organization continually renews younger, more sagacious business leadership, as you will thus have personally competent administrators.

get their expenses against a known regular income.

Laotian Prince Oum Won't Obey King

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI)—Laotian Prince Boun Oum, whose rebel forces were defeated in a surprise dawn attack, said today he would not obey an order by King Savang Vatthana to go to the royal capital of Luang Prabang.

Prince Oum was summoned with the Vientiane government, to the capital to meet with the King.

The order came shortly after seven battalions of Savang Vatthana's troops threw back two battalions of Boun Oum's soldiers Thursday.

Boun Oum admitted his vastly outnumbered forces had retreated after the surprise raid by government soldiers.

He said it was not safe for him to make the trip to Luang Prabang at this time because there were too many followers of Savang Vatthana in the royal capital.

Expect U. S. to Ask Delay

Red China's U.N. Entry Effort Appears Doomed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Thursday night over the charge that Red China's personal bid for a U.N. seat appeared headed for Tibet. Another "flat rebuff" in the powerful steering committee today despite Communist efforts.

The United States was expected to call on the committee to leave the explosive waiting issue for another year, and thus avoid a long, bitter debate in the 56-nation General Assembly.

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth retorted that the Assembly has a right to discuss Communist Chinese repression of the 1958 revolt in Tibet because

Baptists Form Group to Spur Negro Voters

CHICAGO (UPI)—The head of the five-million-member National Baptist Convention of the U.S.A. has announced formation of a Protestant churchmen's group to spur Negro voter registration and fight religious discrimination in the coming elections.

Dr. J. H. Jackson, pastor of Olivet Baptist Church, Chicago, said in the announcement Thursday that "discrimination because of religion or region is just as bad as discrimination because of race."

Jackson, whose denominational group is the nation's largest Negro organization, called for support from other Negro denominational bodies for the National Committee of Churches Against Religious Discrimination.

Without endorsing any candidates, Jackson attacked sectional or religious bias against Democratic presidential and vice presidential nominees.

Built None Too Soon

CREDITON, England—(UPI)—Sir John Shelley was making a speech to open a new $50,000 fire station here when all 16 firemen had to dash away to fight a blaze.

The fundamental rights of the Tibetan people continued to be systematically disregarded and equally systematically destroyed.

Another flap-up came when the committee voted over sharp French objections to put on the agenda the Nationalist rebellion in Algeria.

French Ambassador Armand Bernard declared France would boycott the debate again and it repeated any Assembly verdict as Algeria is an internal problem and the United Nations has no right to meddle in it.

The committee also voted to have the Assembly take up the perennial issue of disarmament, race conflict in South Africa, Korea, outer space, atomic radiation and a number of social and economic items.

$5 Million Requested for Sewage in State

LANSING (AP)—Thirty-four Michigan cities have asked for $5,303,083 in federal money to help them carry out $38 million worth of sewage projects programmed for 1961.

The requests amount to nearly four times the $1,417,000 available in federal funds.

Loring F. Dering, chief engineer of the Water Resources Commission, said today that applications are being sifted to setting of priorities at the Nov. 1 meeting of the commission.

Sept. 21 was the deadline for applying.

Before federal funds can be claimed successful applicants must have projects under contract by next May 1.

Africans, West Praise Ike Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The 15th annual General Assembly evolved today into a spirited East-West contest to pour massive aid into the new and largely undeveloped nations of Africa.

President Eisenhower sounded the challenge in his speech before the world parliament Thursday and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's speech today made it clear the Soviet Union is answering it.

The first formal African reply to Eisenhower's speech was made by President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, who spoke in the general debate before Khrushchev.

At stake is the friendship of 50 million people, a vast reservoir of untapped natural resources and more than 30 percent of the votes in the General Assembly.

President Eisenhower, confident that Africa will choose a path nearer the free world than the Communist world if left alone politically, called on member nations Thursday not to interfere in Africa's domestic affairs and to work through the United Nations to help that continent.

While Russians at the United Nations found "nothing new" in Eisenhower's speech, Africans welcomed his proposals.

Prime Minister Sylvanus Olympio of Togo, one of the African nations admitted to membership Tuesday, described Eisenhower's speech as "simply wonderful."

"You'll pardon us, I hope, if we take a selfish view," he said. "What else can we say but 'Thank you, President Eisenhower.'"

Isidore Sidiku Dermakoye, minister of justice of Niger, another new member, said the speech was "very good. This is a very good program for Africa. President Eisenhower took a humane position."

Sir Claude Corra of Ceylon said the Eisenhower formula for Africa appeared basically to be the one the Soviet Union vetoed on the Congo in the Security Council. He said it "provides the answer to the real question facing this Assembly — whether

Nonwhite Debutantes at Dance

NEW YORK (UPI) — U. N. delegates will put aside the effects of the Cold War tonight to attend a debutante ball unique in New York social annals because the non-white girls outnumber the white debuts four to one.

Forty debutantes from 15 nations — including the African states of Nigeria, Liberia, Ghana, and Sierra Leone — will make their social bows at the worldwide debutante ball sponsored by the National Council of Negro Women to mark its 25th anniversary. More than half the girls are American Negroes.

An impressive number of U. N. ambassadors, plus Khrushchev, Roosevelt, Kennedy, and Sir Lawrence Olivier will be on hand to toast the girls, of whom only eight are white and only one is listed in the Social Register.

The dinner dance, which may become an annual event, was originated by Dorothy Haight of the NCNW to raise funds to erect an educational center in Washington as a memorial to Mary McLeod Bethune, world famed Negro educator.

More than 1,500 persons have subscribed to the benefit at $12.50 a ticket.

The girls will be presented by columnist Hy Gardner in the Commodore Hotel Ballroom, which will be decorated with pink and silver and hung with U. N. flags for the occasion. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is honorary chairman of the ball and singer Lena Horne will head the receiving line.

Michigan Legislature

Eyes D. C. Vote Rights

LANSING (UPI) — The proposed constitutional amendment which would grant a vote to residents of the District of Columbia was introduced Thursday during the special session of the State Legislature.

The amendment proposed by Congress to grant the vote must be ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states in order to take effect.

The Senate resolution was referred to the Judiciary committee. The Arkansas River flows near the 1,500 miles from its source in Colorado to the Mississippi River.

Three Suspects Waive Exam

Believed Linked With Many Recent Pontiac Area Break-ins

Three area men who state police believe are responsible for numerous break-ins recently in and around Pontiac, waived examination Thursday before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Patrick K. Daly.

Brought over for arraignment in Circuit Court were Stanley Durmen, 20, of 673 Elizabeth Lake Road; Daniel Cooper, 23, of 573 Calgary St.; and Robert Putnam, 25, 224 W. Broadway St.

Each was held at $5,000 each. Pontiac state police said Durmen has admitted taking part in 13 area break-ins with his accomplices in the past several weeks. Officers suspect the trio was involved in even more thefts.

NAMED WEDNESDAY Durmen was apprehended following a break-in at the Coleman Service Station, 3235 W. Walton Blvd., Waterford Township Wednesday night.

He implicated the other two men who he confessed the gas station break-in and 13 others, police said.

Cooper and Putnam were arrested by droopers the following day.

The road runner or chaparral cock will race cars at speeds up to 35 miles an hour, but the bird flies off the ground only on rare occasions.

If There's a Will There's a Way for Father-to-Be

ARCAATA, Calif. (UPI) — Mrs. John Quinn gave birth to a boy Wednesday night while confined to her husband.

Quinn, 35, a student at Humboldt State College, had insisted on being with his 18-year-old wife in the delivery room.

When doctors told her, Quinn dashed himself to his bedroom with his wife and secured the chain with two padlocks.

Trinity Hospital officials called police, but the boy—the Quinn's first child—was born with Quinn observing.

Mother and son were reported doing fine.

Quinn unlocked the chain and walked out of the hospital post policeman Don Mann, who was watching his head.

Dr. Henry C. Postel, a staff physician at the hospital, was indignant.

War! Not With Jack, Says His Mother

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy's mother says she knows her son "never will get us into war."

Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, slumping in the Bronx Sunday, told two Democratic clubs "Jack knows the sorrow, the grief, the tears and the heartbreaking grief and loneliness that comes to a family when a mother has lost her oldest son and a young bride has lost her bridegroom. So I know that Jack will never get us into war."

The Senators brother Joseph Kennedy Jr., and a Kennedy son-in-law were killed in World War II.

Soot Brings in $10,000

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Soot from the Municipal Light and Power Plant here is collected in electric precipitators and sold to out-of-state cement companies for use in their products. The city realized $10,000 last year from the sale of soot.

In the fiscal year 1960, the Cancer Control Branch of the Bureau of State Services, U. S. Public Health Service, will complete its first year of operation.

LONDON (AP) — Pilot Francis G. Powers has been charged with espionage and Premier Nikita Khrushchev has promised "We shall try him—try him severely as a spy."

This was reported today by the Soviet news agency Tass.

The penalty for espionage in the Soviet Union ranges from 10 years in prison to execution by firing squad.

The latest developments were announced in Tass broadcasts from Moscow today in the wake of the news conference at which Khrushchev held Wednesday at the Moscow exhibit of espionage articles which the Soviets say Powers carried when he was doped May 1.

Part of Western correspondents' dispatches on the news conference had been held up in Moscow censorship. The Tass account of Khrushchev's remarks was carried after the news conference.

Q. "Will this plane incident influence Soviet public opinion when Eisenhower comes to Moscow?"

A. "I would not like to be in Eisenhower's place. I would not like to answer the questions which might be put to him when he comes to Moscow."

Questions will be asked of course. Amusement, laughter.

"I would put it this way: One person, namely U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, has helped the President particularly in this respect. At his suggestion, Herter made an announcement that this will continue in the future."

"Only countries which are in a state of war can be in a state of war with the Soviet Union. We are not in a state of war with America. These aggressive actions and Herter's statements are impudence, sheer impudence!"

"Herter's statement has made us doubt the correctness of our earlier conclusions that the President of the American government, John F. Kennedy, was the flight plan was endorsed by the government."

"The American government, obviously, were compelled to say this because otherwise they would have had to bring Allen W. Dulles (head of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency) to account. Dulles, in turn, would have exposed the government by saying he carried out a plan approved by it, and, consequently, endorsed by the head of the government. I proceed from the statement that was made by Herter."

Central Cheerleaders Slate Dance After Game

'Howl' Theme of Record Hop

Sophs, Football Team,
New Coach Introduced at Pep Rally

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

"Howl!" will be the theme of the kickoff dance to be given tomorrow night by the Pontiac Central High School cheerleaders after the Central-Wyandotte football game.

Disc jockey Chuck Lewis will spin records for the annual fall affair to be held in the boys' gym. Tickets are 75 cents and 50 cents stag. General chairman of the dance is Helen Ramsdell. Assisting her are Ruth Hoffman, decorations; Kathy Jackson, music; and Judy Hinkley and Jim Baker, refreshments.

The cheerleaders sponsored a pep assembly today which welcomed the sophomore class and introduced the football team and their new coach, Paul Dietrich.

Ruth Hoffman, Sandy Gowen, Sue Pili, Patti Hamilton, Sue Terry, Kathy Jackson and Linda Ray will cheer the junior varsity teams.

New yell leaders are Jim Baker and Alan Buchanan. Recently elected officers of the squad are Donna Douglas, captain; Judy Hinkley, secretary; Mary Lou McLaughlin, historian; and Sally Hamilton, quartermaster.

"United We Stand!" This is the motto of the student union staff for their annual fall membership drive.

For 38 student union members receive all issues of the "Tombaw" a Quiver and passes to four home football games and seven basketball games.

Each homeroom has elected a representative to take up student union collections.

Three vocal department groups have elected officers for the year. The a cappella group has elected Ted Harcourt, president; Donna Helyes, vice president; Judy Hinkley, secretary; and Miltie Schroeder, treasurer.

New Junior Girls Ensemble officers are Jim Bowman, president; Barbara Griffin, vice president; Karen Brunson, vice president; and Mary Lou McLaughlin, secretary.

Accompanying the ensemble is Karen Brunson.

The Senior Girls Ensemble has elected Peggy Warren, president; Barbara Griffin, vice president; and Donna Helyes, secretary.

All vocal department groups are busily learning music for the annual fall vocal concert to be given Nov. 7. Guest conductor will be Maynard Klein from the University of Michigan.

Pontiac Central welcomes 200 American Field Service students this year in the person of Grazella Masini from Rome, Italy, and Rusti Masini from West Sumatra, Indonesia.

Grazella is living with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heimkamp and her American sister Donna. Rusti will spend the year with the Wilbur Crawford family.

PLAN FOR FIRST DANCE — Cheerleaders

at Pontiac Central are busily putting finishing touches on decorations for tomorrow's dance. The first dance of the season at Central, it will get going right after the football game. Whether it's

Avondale Classes Start

'Old Grind' Not So Bad

By KAREN VOGEL

"Back to the old grind," as the saying goes, was used to describe the first day of school for Avondale students.

Most students were glad to be back to the regular schedule of the school year.

To get things off to a good start, a "Get Acquainted Dance" was held the first week of school. The dance, sponsored by the student council, was well attended.

Hoping for another good start, this time in football, helped raise the spirit of the pep meeting held last Friday. Cries for victory rang out as the football team was welcomed in the first game of the season against Milford.

Before the cheerleaders started there was an introduction to the student body of the 1960-61 faculty. Student Council officers and representatives, and foreign exchange students.

College Preps Offered Pilot Course at Northern

By DIANE M. WALTER

A pilot English course is now being introduced to Pontiac northern seniors.

The class, "Studies in American Democracy," is offered to 120 college preparatory students. Integrating language arts and social studies, the course provides varying study techniques for large groups of people.

Two credits are earned at the completion of the grouped course. The students gather in Pontiac Northern's Little Theater for lectures and break into four groups for discussion and individual class work.

Teachers are Miss Betty Murphy, Peter Evans, Wallace Schoerke and John Maturio. Assisting them is Frances Williams, student teacher from Michigan State University.

The class is held during the final three hours of each school day. Subject matter includes English and American literature. Each semester a half-credit is earned for the two subjects.

The course illustrates to students the techniques used at colleges and universities.

NEW MEMBER

The quartet welcomes Pam Hunt, their new addition to the varsity squad.

Sharon Wheeler, Sue Jones and Sharon Fidler, junior varsity cheerleaders, practice faithfully under their present captain Kathy Murphy. They select their captain by replacing them for every game alphabetically.

All the cheerleaders spark interest and school spirit in the student body and carry out the school tradition of wearing red and white, the school colors, every Friday.

The student union is saving students' money for entertainment such as games, assemblies and other activities.

Student Union Club adds to the ideal of school unity and students are being urged by staff members and room representatives to join now and support Pontiac Northern's School spirit. Receiving extra benefits and activities that student union members indulge in adds to the advantage of being a member and being a part of one big organization.

Various other clubs are being organized, and new surroundings and new faces are all a part of another high school year at Northern.

Teacher-Student Association held its first meeting of the season Sept. 15. The agenda included a potluck supper and an introduction of all teachers.

A color party to inform new home economics students about the Future Homemakers of America got the activities for that club rolling this year.

Permanent committees have already been set up with Jean Anderson, chairman of the social committee; Veda Davis, refreshments and budget and finance; and Shirley Hively, program chairman.

Activities planned for October include initiation of new members and the sale of candy to raise money.

Senior pictures were taken on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of this week. Next week Junior class rings will be measured.

Class Brass Chosen at Walled Lake

By KATHY FELLOWS

Senior homerooms have named members of the class executive board following recent elections. They will also serve as homeroom presidents.

Among those elected were Dan Bentley, Jackie Brandenburg, Linda Conrad, Carol England, Margie Gahwren and Pat Hughes.

Others were Nancy Lovejoy, Sue Millsap, Terry Nicholson, Carol Sanderson, Judy Stubbs, and Vander Veld, and Jo Anne Welch.

Their duties include attending regular meetings of the board and keeping their homerooms informed of the actions which the board takes.

They serve as liaison personnel between their homerooms and the board, taking problems to the board and discussing plans in homerooms. The presidents will urge participation in class activities and keep records of those who take part in them.

C.O. Ginter is faculty chairman of the class.

By LINDA GENTRY
Christmas came early at Walled Lake High School this year as members of the student council will testify.

The role of Santa Claus was played by the class of 1960. They donated $200 to the student council treasury and also purchased a new duplicating machine for the office.

The council used the money to pay debts incurred in the process of aiding activities and organizations.

Student manuals, mirrors for the lavatories, fees for debate and forensic judging, student awards, and sending packages to Europe proved costly last year.

Thanks to the generosity of the former students and their advisors, the student council may begin the year free of debt.

Waterford's Students Swing Into School Year With Dance

By BARBARA SECAN

Waterford Township High School's student council had things off and running before the new semester was 72 hours old.

The council sponsored a student dance, "Syncoated Rock," on Sept. 9, and judging from the good turnout, everyone was anxious to return to school and renew friendships.

The couples danced to recorded music, and refreshments were served.

Student council representatives were elected from homerooms last week.

Council officers are: Mike Abree, vice president; Joyce McKenna, recording secretary; Jean Salathiel, corresponding secretary; and Tom McKinnon, treasurer.

But council officers and class representatives aren't the only ones things around Waterford High this semester.

Waterford is privileged to have a language laboratory for French students. The laboratory was opened for use today.

It accommodates 30 students in booths with a teacher control desk for the instructor. Using this method, accent is put on speech and pronunciation rather than vocabulary, with the aid of tape recorders and ear phones.

Waterford also has an exchange student this year. Helmut Vogel, from Hohenwestedt, Germany, arrived in August and is living with a local family.

Heldi is a senior and likes American high schools very much.

She got right into the swing of things, being elected vice president of the school's a cappella choir.

West Bloomfield Plans Yearbook

By CAROLYN MAVES

The editorial staff at West Bloomfield Township High started putting their heads together this week.

What company should do our yearbook? What was the theme? How much will the yearbook cost this year?

At the first pep assembly of the year, Sept. 15, the varsity cheerleaders introduced new cheerleaders to the students. Varsity cheerleaders are Nancy Miller, captain; Jeanne Henshaw, Linda Herold, Sue Elliot, Joyce McKenna, Cindy Shull, Diane Adams and Cynthia Druschke.

Tonight it's Waterford versus Waterford's home field at 8 o'clock. An after game dance will be held in the gym. Go out and support your team. Sidewalk

Japanese Rocket Soars Record 124 Miles High

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese-made rocket, launched to gather information of the ionosphere, soared as high as 124 miles Thursday to set a new Japanese record in experiment rockets firing. The two-stage 42-foot-long rocket was fired at the Michikawa Beach rocket center in Aichi, some 200 miles north of Tokyo on the Japan Sea coast.

Jack Stakes Fate on Claim U.S. Is Adrift and Uneasy

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy, hitting back last night at Vice President Richard M. Nixon, declared today that the American people are uneasy "at the present drift in our national course" and by the "relative decline in our prestige."

The Democratic presidential nominee said he expects to lose the election if he is wrong about this.

The Massachusetts senator drew back at this Republican rival the words Nixon used last Wednesday in criticizing Kennedy's campaign calls for greater strength and national effort. Kennedy asserted anew that it endangers the nation to hide any of its weaknesses from the people.

ACID COMMENTS
 Nixon had called Kennedy spokesman for national disparagement and charged that his "terribly naive" behavior while Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is in the country is a risky matter.

In biting phrases in a campaign speech prepared for a rally in Denver's Civic Center, Kennedy replied that to preach "complacency and relaxation"—and "to say that all is well when all is peril"—is the greater hazard.

The Massachusetts senator said he stakes his candidacy on his belief that the people share "the single assumption that the American people are uneasy at the present drift in our national courses—that they are disturbed by the relative decline in our vitality and prestige—and that they have the will and strength to start America moving forward again."

If he is wrong about this, Kennedy said, "I fully expect to lose this election."

He added: "But if I am right—and I firmly believe that I am—then I mean who have held back the growth of America for the past eight years will be rejected this November, and America will turn once again to the leadership of the Democratic party."

Dem Byrnes Says 'I'll Vote for Nixon'

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—James F. Byrnes, 81, conservative Democrat who has held some of the highest offices in the nation, criticized the national Democratic platform Thursday and said he will vote for Republican Richard Nixon for president.

"The presidency is no place for an immature or impetuous man," Byrnes said in a statement from his retirement home here.

He served as governor of South Carolina, a member of both houses of Congress, a justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, U.S. secretary of state, "assistant president" under the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and director of war mobilization in World War II.

Byrnes supported President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956 and State Democratic Chairman E. P. Riley said Byrnes' support of Nixon came as "no surprise."

Christmas Workshop at YMCA

A 16-week "Christmas Crafts Workshop" for adults, including women, will be offered by the Pontiac YMCA beginning the week of Oct. 3.

One class will meet Oct. 3 from 7-9 p.m. and another Oct. 6 from 9-12 a.m.

Registration for the course begins Monday at the YMCA, 131 Mt. Clemens St.

The course is open to both members and nonmembers. Nursery service will be available to mothers with young children.

FOR BEGINNERS, 'STUDENTS'
 Classes will offer instruction for both beginners and advanced "students" in charcoal sketching, pastels, oil painting, glass etching, mosaic tile work and copper tooling.

Also covered will be aluminum etching, wooden ware decoration, textile painting and decorative china painting.

The final two weeks will be devoted to a workshop on Christmas home decorations and gift wrapping ideas.

She's Not Apt to Better Self

(NRA) — The complacent woman rarely achieves good looks. She's too pleased with herself to do it.

If she's overweight, she tells her friends that her husband likes her that way. If her hair is a mess, it's because she's devoted to her family and has no time for trivia. She's usually sharply critical of trim, well-groomed women, however. The complacent woman is not likely to change. For it takes honesty and a realistic attitude to make a woman want to improve herself.

Children Fight to Gain Favor of Parents

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
"Dear Mrs. Lawrence: During a recent visit by my sister she told me that our two older children, boys of six and nine—quite handsome. I now see that this is true. 'They're at each other's throats'."

sturdy, take each other's toys and when they do play together and up fighting. In the car I never dare to let them sit together. Why haven't I noticed this vicious squabbling before and what can I do about it?"

Answer: Sometimes we parents make a deliberate point of not noticing children's jealous quarreling.

Sometimes we sense that our youngsters are not fighting over the toys in the car's front seat but for our favor.

We sense that Dickie's habit of running off with his sister's dollhouse furniture is not so much his attempt to deprive her of her property but to deprive her of its evidence of our affection.

In their quarreling phases us. It makes us feel important. Like the medieval ladies for whom knights jostled at tournaments, we take a certain satisfaction in knowing our favor to be the cause of our children's jealous competitiveness. Under these circumstances we will take no steps to reduce it.

The moment we really want to reduce it, we will. You can begin to reduce these two brothers' quarreling by asserting yourself as the protector of the rights and property of each.

You will have to start remembering whose turn it is to ride in the car's front seat and be ready to defend the ownership of the toys your boys take from each other.

Though we can't hope to arbitrate all their squabbles by protecting their rights and property, protecting them is how we begin to relax the tensions that develop when children have been allowed to regard toys and rights as signs of our favor instead of as their own inalienable property.

Parents who are muddled over children's property rights are bound to encourage these tensions. Such parents fuss when Jimmy complains that his little brother has run off with his ball glove. By rights to prove that they possess their fusing they tell Jimmy that the bigger share.

Child Study Club Hears of Steps to Delinquency

The first fall meeting of Junior Child Study Club was Tuesday at the Sylvan Shores Drive home of Mrs. James Nye. Co-hostess was Mrs. Donald O. Newman, assisted by Mrs. Allan J. Denham, Mrs. Hugh Hales, Mrs. Peter A. Aldo and Mrs. Edward H. Vierich.

Program chairman Mrs. George Tomper introduced speaker George Caronis from the Youth Assistance Office at Pontiac City Hall.

Speaking on "Tendencies Toward Juvenile Delinquency," Mr. Caronis listed problems within the home contributing to delinquency, adding that the lack of discipline often paves the way to misbehavior.

Mrs. Philip E. Rowston, president, outlined the year's program at the close of the meeting.

CAROL SUE VOUGHT

Margery Mae Oliver Wed in East Lansing Church

The Rev. Robert Gardner officiated at the marriage of Margery Mae Oliver of Grand Lakes to Marian R. Vaughan of Flat Rock Saturday in All Saints' Episcopal Church, East Lansing.

Reception in the Pickwick Room of the Albert Pick Motor Hotel followed the nuptials.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. O. W. Oliver of Motorway Drive, Waterford Township, and the late Mr. Oliver.

The Harry H. Vaughns of Flat Rock are parents of the bridegroom.

With her street-length dress of white silk embroidered organza over taffeta, styled with short sleeves and square neckline, the bride wore a shoulder veil of silk illusion. She carried white roses.

Mrs. Gary F. Nugent of Royal Oak, matron of honor for her twin sister, wore deep aqua tulle with gathered bodice and off-shoulder neckline. Her Dior headpiece with face veil had velvet streamers. She held a round bouquet of pink roses.

Sorority's President Reveals Rush Plans

Mary Kay St. John, president of Beta Mu Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, announced plans for rush season when members met Wednesday in Ada Shelly Library.

Refreshment were served by Gloria Hartman and Margaret Swengros.

The Randall Voughts of Waterford Township announce the engagement of their daughter Carol Sue to Larry P. Brown, son of the Hollis P. Browns of Waterford Township. Miss Vought attends McAuley School of Practical Nursing.

PEGGY SUE SCRUGGS

Young Boys Go for Bunk Beds

Boys, at some stage in their early life, express a desire for bunk beds in their room. It might be the similarity to upper and lower berths in a train that catches their fancy. It might recall the pictures they have seen of western cowboy camp.

Whatever produces this whim, it's easy to satisfy by a trip to a furniture store. A wide selection of double deck bunk beds in many price ranges and materials can be found.

Many of these beds, whether in wood or metal, are made so they can be detached into two separate units, if desired.

Hears About Europe Vacations

Mrs. Marcus Scott of Mariborough Drive was hostess to 35 members of the Pillar Club for the group's first fall cooperative dinner.

After devotions by Beulah Phillips, Mrs. John Morrison presented members Mrs. L. F. Hise and Mrs. Robert B. Tarr who recently returned from vacations in Europe.

The two shared their traveling experiences on the occasion and displayed mementos of their trip.

Mrs. H. E. Muirhead, Mrs. Guy Smith, Mrs. Morrison and Miss Phillips assisted at the Tuesday meeting.

Mrs. O. H. Lundbeck of Chippewa Road will be hostess for the October meeting.

Twelve-Year-Old Beats Adults in Cake Contest

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Today's recipe may be one many of you already have. But when a young lady of twelve wins first prize in a special State Fair baking contest, her recipe should be published.

Cynthia Ann Clark of Rochester was the county contest with her Banana-Nut Cakes. On the state level, she was again over all the other contestants; she was the only child to enter.

Mrs. Alfred Smithling Sr. is the leader of Cynthia's 4-H club, Avon Sixth and Sew. She called in with the recipe. Congratulations to Cynthia.

BANANA-NUT CAKE

By CYNTHIA ANN CLARK

Sift together:

5 1/2 cups sifted flour

1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder

1 1/2 teaspoons salt

Add:

1/2 cup shortening

1 cup butter

1/2 cup 7% mashed banana (about 1/2)

Beat 2 minutes. Then add:

2 eggs

1/2 cup buttermilk

Beat 2 more minutes. Fold in:

1/2 cup nut meats chopped

Bake in greased 8x12 pan or two 9-inch layer pans at 350 degrees, 45 to 50 minutes for the oblong pan; 35 minutes for the layers.

Frosting

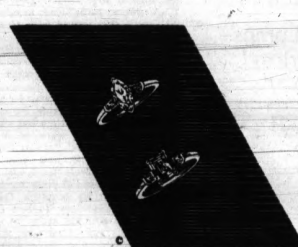

1/2 cup margarine

1/2 cup vegetable shortening

1 cup granulated sugar

Put together in mixing bowl and beat well for 5 to 10 minutes, or until sugar is thoroughly dissolved. Gradually add 2 1/2 cup milk (room temperature) and continue beating at high speed until frosting is light and fluffy. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. This makes a large quantity of frosting. Top frosted cake with chopped nuts if desired.

Star Night for Women of the Moose

Women of the Moose Star Recorder Chapter Night was observed at Moose Hall with 36 members and 19 guests representing Taylor Township, Lincoln Park, Detroit, Dearborn and Kalamazoo.

Star Recorder Mrs. Michael Blahut of Moose Chapter 360 opened the Monday program. Grand Council member Mrs. Laura Jabbett and Grand Regent Madeline Clark were introduced and escorted by guides to the chapter room.

Mrs. Jabbett was guest speaker. She explained duties and the history of the star recorder.

In a ceremony honoring Mrs. Jabbett, Mrs. F. H. Vaughn, Mrs. Luetta Chapdelaine and Dorothy Miller were enrolled.

Mrs. Blahut announced committee chairmen Mrs. Harold Finn, recorder; Mrs. William Cummings, Argus; and Mrs. Clarence Cavalier, star recorder. Each was presented a flower.

At a luncheon afterward, the meeting tables were decorated with fall flowers centered by a large silver star, signifying the program's theme and purpose.

The next meeting, Moose Heart Chapter Night's "Christmas in October," will be Oct. 3 at Moose Hall.

Dr. Linus Pauling Records Speech for Peace League

By means of a recording, Dr. Linus Pauling, Nobel Prize-winning chemist from the California Institute of Technology, was guest speaker at the opening meeting of Oakland County Women's International League for Peace and Freedom Wednesday. The doctor's talk reported a need for a national disarmament policy.

Dr. Marjorie Howlett of Riverdale Drive, Birmingham was hostess.

Margaret Andrews and Mrs. Ned Pappas of Southfield reported on their trip to the national membership meeting at Washington, D. C., in July.

Being Blind 'No Handicap'

Drama Fills Her World

NEW YORK (UPI)—The private world of Stella Holt is filled with enough drama to rate a play. The theatrical producer has been blind since her teens.

But she has not let the handicap interfere with her stage activities. She has two off-Broadway shows on schedule this fall and plans to co-produce one on Broadway before the winter season is over.

"I don't think that being blind has a thing to do with your ability to be a producer," said Miss Holt in an interview. "I think I'm as good, or sometimes as bad, as all other producers. Oh, yes, I've staged a few turkeys."

hired woman whose job not only is finding the financing but also selecting the director, the staff, and helping with the casting.

Stella Holt, born in New York, was 17 when her eyesight began to fail. She was ordered not to read or do any close work.

"I was a stubborn, wild girl," she recalled. "I slipped off to dark corners where mother couldn't find me and read anyway." Eventually all her sight left her.

She attended Cornell University and New York University's graduate school to prepare for her first career, in social welfare work.

"But after a few years of it," she said, "it seemed everybody in the world had troubles. My nature bounces back; I always look for things to get better. But it bounced and bounced, and I still was depressed."

Through a playwright friend, David Thomson, she was offered the job of managing the Greenwich Village Theater, a part of the 120-year-old Village Presbyterian Church.

"It then was a membership theater," said Miss Holt. "Actors are very special people and I love them. But they're also impractical. They needed someone who was a good organizer and a hard worker, and I'm both."

"But I didn't know a thing about theater; I had to learn all the terminology from scratch."

The Village Press since has its productions sponsored by the Presbyterian church and the uses the church sanctuary for its Friday services.

In 1952, Miss Holt turned producer, and since has put on 20 plays. She will open the new season with "Doubt," a satire by the French playwright Jules Romains, and after it run, bring in "Red Roses for Me," a Sean O'Casey play which had a short stay on Broadway in 1955.

Because this skin is thinner, finer and softer than the rest of your facial skin, it needs tender care. You should use no vigorous strokes of the hand in applying a rich cream to these areas. You should, rather, use the tip of one finger to stroke on, very lightly, a restorative cream.

This cream may or may not be the one you use for the rest of your face and neck. If those areas around the eyes have always been trouble spots, then you may want a cream designed for those areas only.

But most women can make successful use of a good all-purpose dry skin cream properly applied. Whether your trouble is caused by lack of natural oils, soap, wind, sun, age or careless diet, those eye areas still can be improved by nightly use of cream.

Meanwhile, check up on yourself. If you have been on a rigid diet which eliminates all fats, you'd be wise to admit a bit of butter to your table again. Your skin needs it. If you haven't had enough sleep, you know where your problem lies.

Don't resort to make-up to mask areas which will only prove more of a problem as time goes by. Tackle the problem now.

Will Illustrate Trip to Russia

Mrs. F. H. Miller, Mrs. Floyd Mortenson and Mrs. Ida Reeves were hostesses for the group's first fall meeting Friday.

Seek Bigger Female Role at Lansing

Woman Legislator Presses for More Posts for Her Sex

LANSING (UPI)—Women will have a bigger voice in state government in the next two years if the female lawmakers have their way.

Rep. Lucile H. McCollough, a Democrat from Dearborn, said she hoped at least one more woman would be elected to the State House of Representatives in November—even if it means a seat for the Republicans.

Mrs. McCollough and Rep. Josephine H. Hunsicker, D-Detroit, are both seeking their fourth terms in the House.

"There should be more women here," the distaff representative from Dearborn said, who is certainly not fair representation for the entire female population of the state.

"Of course, I don't mean we represent only women. We represent the interests of everyone in our district, but we do keep an ear tuned for the woman's view—just in case the men forget it."

Mrs. McCollough said there were indications at least one woman was seeking the seat vacated by Republican Willard L. Bowman Jr., a four-term lawmaker.

There was also a possibility another woman might enter the race later, Mrs. McCollough said. She said one of the present House members is expected to resign before the election and a woman is considered a top contender for his party's nomination in the district.

Being a lawmaker, Mrs. McCollough said, calls for a quality often found more prominently in women than men—patience.

"My husband came up one day when we had a long day and said he didn't think he could stand the waiting," she commented during one of the several caucus recesses in Thursday's 14-hour session.

"But it's a matter of considering and reconsidering by both sides. You have to realize that each of the representatives here has his convictions. Whether you agree with them or not, you have to respect him for them—and sometimes try to make him change his mind."

That kind of thing takes time and patience. We could use a few more women around here."

Child's Stepstool Safe, Educational

(UPI)—A combination hand-painted wood stepstool and chair for pre-school tots has a gaily painted carousel and a verse in bright red—"Wash hands and face and do it well, when you step on this carousel."

This appealing but functional educational furniture encourages good grooming habits while providing tots with a safe perch at the sink.

Wayne B. Siefert, Oakland County extension agent, talked on pruning and planting at the Sylvan Lake Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association meeting Thursday. Members met at Oakland County Boat Club.

Later in the day practical demonstrations of pruning and planting methods were shown at the Garland Avenue gardens of Mrs. Walter Britton and Mrs. Albert E. Kohn, branch president.

Mrs. Raymond Dombrowski reported on the group's flower show in early September which had over 150 local entries.

Judges were Mrs. Donald Gilchrist and Mrs. Vivian Tubbs. Admitted to membership were Mrs. M. M. Archambeau, Mrs. Robert Dinkler, Mrs. Chris Lettner, Mrs. Thomas H. Lyons, Mrs. Andrew J. Pepper, Mrs. Burt W. Rockwell, Mrs. George E. Topp and Mrs. Thomas J. Whitfield.

Men Don't Realize How Hard We Work

By RUTH MILLETT

"The easier wives have it the more dissatisfied they become," says one of my men readers.

A lot of husbands may agree with him but probably very few of them ever stop to wonder why.

So I'd like to ask them a few questions.

Just how much pride can a woman take in running a home if her husband assumes that because he has bought her a few electrical gadgets and because he supermarkeets olive oil—prepare food that he over-all job is a snap?

If all she ever hears is how easy she has it because she doesn't have to use a washboard like great-grandma or can her new vegetable chopper make her own bread, isn't she bound to feel dissatisfied with her status? She knows she puts in as many hours a day being a good wife and mother as her great-grandmothers ever did.

No matter how she struggles to be a companion to her husband, an understanding and helpful mother to her children, a contributing member of her community, a well-informed and responsible citizen, and an individual in her own right, the male critics at the sidelines and behind her efforts and tell her what a soft life she has.

So who is helping the American wife take pride in her accomplishments, to feel worthy, to believe that her job is one of the most important jobs in the world?

The men aren't.

They keep finding fault and belittling the homemaker's job and reminding her of what a snap it is. So if she feels no real sense of accomplishment at the end of the day, if she feels unappreciated, if she finally decides that the only way to convince her husband that she is paying her own way is to get a job and bring home a pay check, is that so strange?

The truth is that it is probably harder today to be a successful wife and mother and homemaker than it has ever been, yet the homemaker is constantly told how easy her job is. Is it any wonder so many housewives today are frustrated and unhappy?

Citizens Press Renewal of Troy School Levy

Vote Upcoming October 3 on 8-Mill Operational Tax

By DON FERMOLY.
TROY — A special citizens committee is stepping up its drive for renewal of an eight-mill operational tax levy in the Troy School District.
The renewal request by the school board comes up for voter approval in a special school election Oct. 3.
The issue was rejected in a June 13 ballot, but the school district at that time asked to continue the operational tax for five years.
In the coming election, renewal for only three years will be requested.

Alan Tunstall, president of the Troy School Board, said the present eight-mill levy would be discontinued in December if the issue is defeated.

"It would mean a loss of about $200,000 annually for the school district," Tunstall said. "This would mean a cut of 23 per cent in the present school program."
The issue has the backing of the newly formed Troy Council of Parent-Teacher Associations and the citizens committee formed to insure citizens of the school district of the tax levy.

In a brochure mailed to voters, the citizens committee points out that the tax is used only for operation of schools and not for construction.

COST BELOW AVERAGE
The committee maintains that the present cost per pupil of education in the school district is some $31 below the average in Southwestern Oakland County.

Average cost of educating each student in surrounding areas is $36, according to the committee, while the average in the Troy School District is $33.

The present eight-mill levy is being used for operation in the current school year. Renewal of the levy if approved, would start in the 1961-62 school year and would end in 1965-64.

Total tax rate in the school district, including the extra eight-mills approved in 1959, was 24.37 mills in 1960 and 24.38 mills in 1959.

A "yes" vote on the ballot is asked by all school PTAs in the Troy Council of PTAs.

Members of local churches represented in the citizens committee are from the John R. Church, Northminster Church, Troy Church of Christ, Big Beaver Methodist Church, Troy Assembly of God, Troy Methodist Church and the American Baptist Church of Troy.

NEIGHBORHOOD GROUPS
Neighborhood organizations represented are the Glen Moor Civic Association, Troy Corners Home Owners Association, Troy Merchants Association, East Central Troy Property Owners Association, Northeast Troy Property Owners Association and the Charnwood Property Owners Association.

Also backing the proposal are the City Planning Commission, Troy Exchange Club, Troy Education Association and the Troy Rotary Club.

Groveland Church Plans Dinner on Wednesday
GROVELAND TOWNSHIP — The annual Harvest Festival sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of Mt. Bethel Methodist Church will be held Wednesday.

A family-style turkey dinner will be served beginning at 5:30 p.m. The public can get tickets at the church, Joesman and Bald Eagle Lake roads.

Donna Scramlin Is Bride
HOLLY — Honey-mooning in California are newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Russel Hubbard who exchanged nuptial vows in a recent candlelight ceremony at Mount Bethel Methodist Church.

The bride, the former Donna Jean Scramlin, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Scramlin of 3864 Joesman Road. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hubbard of 8400 Allen Road, Clarkston.

A four-length gown of chantilly lace and tulle over satin was chosen for her wedding by the bride. It featured a fitted bodice and a sabrina neckline outlined with scallops of lace and sequins.

The veil of silk illusion was held in place by a cup of lace and seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was made up of a white orchid and stephanotis carried on a white ribbon.

Nettie Spear of Lake Orion was maid of honor.
George Mann of Clarkston was best man. Ushers were James Collins of Pontiac and the bride's brother Richard of Holly.
A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the rites. The couple will reside at 3864 Joesman Road.

To Hold Meeting at Dublin School

Muscular Dystrophy Unit Plans Area-wide Program Oct. 29

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP
Local and state officers of the Muscular Dystrophy Association will be guest speakers at an area-wide meeting Oct. 29 in Dublin Elementary School.

The 8 p.m. meeting is sponsored by the Union Lake Business and Professional Women's Club.

Topics concerning the disease and need for research will be discussed by Helen Martin, president of the Oakland County Chapter of the association.

James J. Walker, state chairman and executive secretary of the association, will show and narrate a film on Camp Rankin in Lexington, operated solely for those afflicted with muscular dystrophy.

Merton H. Clark, chairman of the patient service program for Oakland County, will explain his plans for the coming year. A question and answer period will follow the talks.

Corn Field Day Set for Oct. 4 at Armada

ARMADA — The latest in corn growing methods and equipment will be shown here Oct. 4 at the annual Southeastern Michigan Corn Field Day sponsored by the Macomb County Cooperative Extension Service.

The display, which will be held at the Paul Debaring Farm at 2770 School Section Road, opens at 9:30 a.m. Guided tours will be conducted throughout the day.

A variety of corn growing methods may be seen on the 40 plots at the farm. Corn grain and silage harvesting equipment will be on display, including combines and 2-row, self-propelled harvesters.

Margaret Vanivelt Weds at St. Joseph Church

ORION TOWNSHIP — Margaret Anne Vanivelt became the bride of Duane E. Hotchkiss in a nuptial high mass Saturday at St. Joseph Catholic Church here. The Rev. R. Vincent Myrick performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride's parents are the Henry Vanivelts of 3300 Indianwood Road. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ella Morgan of 305 N. Paddock St., Pontiac, and Walter Hotchkiss of Attica.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white tulle gown with a lace bodice and lace panel in front. It also featured a sabrina neckline and long, tapered sleeves.

The veil of silk illusion was held in place by a cup of lace and seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was made up of a white orchid and stephanotis carried on a white ribbon.

Nettie Spear of Lake Orion was maid of honor.
George Mann of Clarkston was best man. Ushers were James Collins of Pontiac and the bride's brother Richard of Holly.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the rites. The couple will reside at 3864 Joesman Road.

LAURENCE NEW SEASON—Ready to embark on a new year of regular square dance sessions are the Merry Makers of Lake Orion. The club will hold its first dance Oct. 8 at Blanche Sims Elementary School and on the second and fourth Saturday of every month after that. Membership in the club is about 40 couples. Here the dancers follow the call to "all join hands and circle left."

Novi Board Picks Committee Group to Probe School Problems

NOVI — A citizens study committee to review school problems was created here last night by the Novi Board of Education.

Twenty-five persons to serve on five subcommittees were appointed by the school board.

Specific areas to be surveyed by the committee are finance, special education, teacher personnel, curriculum and high school.

For the next six weeks, the groups will meet to outline their goals and areas to be studied. At the end of that time they will make a report to the school board.

GROWTH PROBLEMS
School Supt. William Medlyn said a study committee was needed because of the rapidly increasing growth of the community and relative school problems that follow.

"Citizens committees have proven they can be very successful and can help us develop along with the expanding area," Medlyn said.

Members of the subcommittees are:
Finance — Dicon Taffralan,

3 School Drawings Await Contractors

ROCHESTER — Architectural drawings for the three elementary school building projects here will be ready for interested contractors Monday, it was announced today.

Final drawings of the new Howard L. McGregor Elementary School and the additions to Hamlin and Meadow Brook schools have been approved by the Board of Education.

Contractors will be asked to bid on all three projects, according to Orla Griffiths of the Birmingham architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewitt and Leachman Associates, which has charge of design and construction of the new school and additions.

Bids will be received Oct. 17. The new grade school will cost $241,400, a library, general use room, multipurpose room and service areas. It will cost about $300,000.

Six classrooms plus a library and general use room will be added at both Hamlin and Meadow Brook schools.

The two additions are expected to cost some $200,000 each.

Leonard School PTA Will Discuss Policies

LEONARD — School policies will be discussed at the first full meeting of the Leonard School Parent-Teacher Association at 8 p.m. Monday.

Thomas Culbert, elementary administrator of the Oxford Area Community Schools, will introduce new school board members at the meeting, which is open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Russia Buys Nylons

HINCKLEY, England (UPI)—The Soviet Union paid 40,000 pounds ($11,200), to a company in this town to supply 300,000 pairs of nylon stockings.

CAROL A. STOCK
Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Stock of 5421 Burgundy Drive, Clarkston, announce the engagement of their daughter Carol A. to Brian T. Jolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Jolly of Royal Oak. No wedding date has been set.

Tomorrow's the Big Day Novi Will Open Library

NOVI — A 3,000-volume library — the first for the village — opens tomorrow following several months of successful fund raising to stock it.

All the books have been either donated or purchased with the more than $1,500 raised during the library campaign.

The library, adjacent to the village hall on Novi road, will be open three days a week and staffed by volunteer librarians.

The hours the library is open are 3 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Avram Rosenthal, Livonia librarian, has been retained as a part-time consultant to assist the villagers in the correct procedure of operating a library.

Novi Supt. William Medlyn said that while the state is only $20,000 in arrears in school payments, the loan is necessary because of the delay between the opening of school and the collection of school revenues.

Novi Schools Given State Borrowing OK

NOVI — Approval to borrow $35,000 against anticipated state aid has been given to Novi School District by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Novi Supt. William Medlyn said that while the state is only $20,000 in arrears in school payments, the loan is necessary because of the delay between the opening of school and the collection of school revenues.

New Wood Finish Attractive, Durable

A new liquid plastic compound that waxes and wraps a protective coating around shrubs and evergreens, keeping them safe from cold, burning winds and snows, during the winter months, was announced today by Larry Davis, General Manager of the Garden Division of the FX-Lab Company, 77 Orner Parkway, Livingston, New Jersey.

Marketed under the trade name of FX-2 Plant Protector, this new product is a concentrated, non-toxic, emulsifiable, plastic compound which forms a clear glossy, flexible film on the plants, preventing loss of moisture, while still permitting the plants to breathe. The coating is thrown off as normal plant growth is resumed in the spring. FX-2 Plant Protector will also reduce the fire hazard of Christmas trees indoors.

TWIN TOMATOES — William Powell of Auburn Hotel brought these twin tomatoes into The Press to be weighed and photographed. They sent the scales up to 3 pounds, 14 ounces. Powell grows his tomatoes, a Mexican variety, from seed.

Africa Sends Us Fall Amaryllis

Spectacular is the word for amaryllis, so we're somewhat at a loss for the word for the new fall-flowering amaryllis from South Africa's Transvaal to be introduced to the American public this fall.

What's the difference between this new hybrid from Africa and the showy Giant Dutch amaryllis? The African will flower in time for Thanksgiving or Christmas, the Dutch variety flowers in the spring.

The new amaryllis are touted also as being more tree flowering, with most bulbs coming through with at least two spikes with three to four flowers on each. They range in color from orange to salmon and wine red.

The Dutch hybrids also are popular trumpet-shaped blossoms. Often more than one stalk is produced from a single bulb and each stalk will yield up to four flowers. The bulbs generally are good for many years, we are told, with proper care. The usual flowering season is from February to April. The foliage grows during spring and summer, ripening early in the fall.

Time to Plant Bulbs

Next spring, the first welcome spring colors in fall will come from early flowering bulbs planted this September. Tulips, daffodils, crocuses and hyacinths are good flowers to plant in the fall, say Michigan State University horticulturists.

All Evergreens Aren't Green

Evergreens come in assorted shades of green, "blue," "silver," "gold," and even lavender and can lend a happy color note to drab winter landscapes.

Now that the evergreen planting season is in full swing, every home owner can be a color maestro. "orchestrating" attractive foliage harmonies for desired effect, declares L. E. Yarbrough, field representative of the Davey Tree Export Co.

Most home grounds have the dark green of the popular taxus to begin with, but from there on in a wide range of color harmonies is available. Junipers, pines, spruces, firs and arborvitae — all can be used for color dynamics.

Junipers in themselves offer wide range. They come from ground cover specimens to the huge ancient redwoods of many forms and with color ranging from deep green to silver blue and even lavender tints. Pines run from black-green of the Austrian pine to the light blue-green of the white pine group. The live bark pine has exfoliating bark, which adds to create varied patterns.

Spruces vary from the somber tones to high blues. Firs are particularly versatile. Many have bluish needles, dark above and silver below. Such trees seem to change color when viewed from different angles. Firs such as the Colorado are usually classed as "blue" Cedars, although suitable only for mild climates, have a delightfully soft appearance and come in several shades of blue-green. Arborvitae include all shades of green plus some that are definitely golden, such as the Douglas Hovey.

Your neighbors may turn green with envy when they see the other colors you can coax from your evergreens.

Trees and Shrubs Must Have Careful Planting

When the leaves are falling, it's the top soil at the bottom of the hole, filling up the hole about half way, then watering well. Wait until the water settles, then put in the rest of the soil, filling the hole carefully and tamping gently but firmly.

"Don't plant a $5 shrub in a 50-cent hole."

The principle involved is to be sure that you dig a hole wide enough and deep enough to provide plenty of room for the roots to spread without overcrowding.

First, you've got to be sure you know where you want your tree or shrub, that the conditions are proper, that it has plenty of room for full growth and that you won't have to move it next season.

In digging a hole for a tree or shrub, carefully pile the top soil on one side. As you get to the sub-soil, place it in another pile.

When sufficient depth is reached in the hole, break up the soil underneath where the bottom of the roots will be, mix in some peat moss, and prepare to plant your tree.

If you have a specimen which is balled and burlapped, open up the top of the burlap after setting the tree in the hole, but don't remove the burlap. This will keep the soil tightly packed around the roots.

When planting bare-root specimens, the roots must be spread carefully, and soil packed and tamped around the roots to prevent air pockets.

When filling in the hole, place

Water well again, and keep the planting moist until the ground freezes.

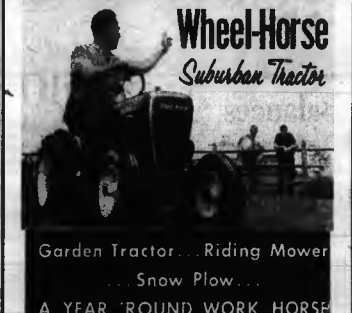

Newly planted trees should be well-braced against winter winds to prevent root shifting. This is done by use of wire in a triangle tie-down. The wire loop around the tree trunk should be padded to prevent cutting or chafing the bark. A simple method is to slip a piece of old garden hose around the loop of wire.

The ground ends of the wire should be firmly pegged.

Shrubs and evergreens planted in the fall should be protected with windbreaks for at least the first winter to prevent wind damage. In all cases, trees, evergreens, and shrubs should be well watered, if rainfall is not adequate, so that they go into the winter season fully moist.

If you give your plantings a good start, they'll give you better and faster results.

Some varieties of weed seeds, buried 80 years ago on the Michigan State University campus, germinated when dug up this summer by M.S.U. researchers.

New Licenses for Drivers Tamperproof

LANSING (AP)—New-type driver's licenses make it virtually impossible for minors and others to make alterations without detection, Secretary of State James M. Hare said today.

Youths thinking of picking up forged licenses in order to buy beer and liquor should take notice, Hare said.

The new licenses, he said, are printed on sensitized paper. When ink eraser is used, the surface design disappears and the warning word "stop" appears.

The typewritten name and other data on the license is photographically reduced to 70 per cent type size.

So far, Hare said, the state has issued about 250,000 of the tamperproof black-on-gray licenses. Another 3,250,000 of the old-type license, printed on ordinary photo-type paper, will be gradually replaced as they expire, he said.

"We have received letters from both bar owners and church groups who join to applaud the license as a device for helping to keep people under 21 years of age out of bars and taverns," he said.

It is estimated more than 50,000 American homes are broken each year because of divorce or desertion.

'Glen of Michigan' Talks of State Plant

LANSING (AP) — The availability of air transportation is influencing to remain in Michigan, the State Department of Aeronautics said today.

"Glen of Michigan", a sports-wear manufacturing firm, is operating a pilot plant in Port Huron and is seriously considering a new plant there, employing 300.

A recent decision of the Civil Aeronautics Board, setting up air traffic lane and air service scheduled in the near future has been a prime factor in the company's decision to expand in Michigan, Ward J. Maynard of the Aeronautics Department said.

Staff Raiding at U. of M. Is Temporarily Halted

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — University of Michigan Vice President Marvin L. Nichols said Thursday faculty "raiding" pressure has eased temporarily at the university.

Nichols, in a report to President Harlan Hatcher, said the decision by the regents to make faculty salaries the top priority item in the 1960-61 budget plus slightly higher tuition fees and a rise in legislative appropriations have curbed faculty raids at the school.

However, he said Michigan is teaching more students with fewer faculty members than it did in 1957-58.

Belfast Throgs to Hear Story of U.S. Missionary

Three halls were required in Belfast, to accommodate the crowds, estimated at 4,000—who heard an American woman missionary tell her story.

She was Mrs. Marj Saint, author of the book "Through the Gates of Splendor," which tells how five American missionaries, including her husband, were killed by the Auka Indians of South America.

Mrs. Saint continued to work with the Auka Indians and has achieved much success. She describes her work and the important part the Voice of the Andes radio network plays in the evangelization of South America.

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Miller, D.V.M.

Q: What is a recommended diet for the overweight dog?
A. H. of Dumont, N. J.
A: The overweight pet has it easier than the overweight person. The obese dog feels no guilt or shame about his voracious appetite or lack of will power. Most dogs will happily conform to a well balanced diet, but don't try to slim your pet overnight.
A dog weighing less than 30 pounds shouldn't lose more than one-half pound a week. A diet of often prescribed is lean, raw or cooked hamburger, dietetic cottage cheese, and skim milk.
There is also a fine canned diet available through veterinarians. There are even slimming pills for dogs now, but these should be given only under medical supervision.
Obvious things to avoid are sweets, starches, in-between meal snacks, and lack of exercise. Inform well-meaning neighbors and children that hand-outs are taboo.
The dining dog should also be provided with a vitamin supplement until he's his old "slyth" again.

Church Could Lose Its Tax Exemption
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury said today any church which uses parishioners' contributions to finance distribution of political campaign material might jeopardize its tax exemption.
However, a spokesman said any case would have to be considered by itself before the Internal Revenue Service could determine whether the facts warranted such action.
An IRS source said the agency has received no complaint of improper political activity by churches during the present presidential campaign. He said any complaint would be investigated promptly.

Accepting the flag will be Irene Albright, Baldwin principal.
The entire student body of some 564 will form on the front lawn to observe the ceremony.

Thunderstorms Sprawl Over Plains, Rockies

By The Associated Press
Thunderstorms covered a wide section of the plains and Rocky Mountain areas early today.

Cool air clashed with warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico, the Weather Bureau said, producing the sharp change in conditions.

The Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, Kansas, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska and South Dakota shared the moisture.

Tito's Tune Sweet Music —to K, Who Just Smiles

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev looked at his foreign minister, Andrei A. Gromyko, and smiled. He seemed pleased. On the rostrum at the U.N. General Assembly session was the self-assured enigma of the cold war, President Tito of Yugoslavia. He had just remarked about the situation in the Congo.

Tito and Khrushchev much closer than the world outside the Red might suspect.

Tito claims to be a neutral, but his assembly address is dedicated neutrally heavily weighted on the Soviet side.

Tito was publicly thrown out of the Communist satellite family by Stalin in 1948, ostensibly in a fight over Moscow's right to dictate. He never got back in, although he came close just before the revolution in Hungary tossed the Communist world into an uproar.

Now, in the light of the ideological row with the Red Chinese, Khrushchev himself looks more and more like a Tito. The Red Chinese are all but saying so outright. The exigencies of the time require some new Communist policy, and the day may just be far off when Tito can be of great value to Moscow.

How did this neutralism sound? It seemed to go down the line for Khrushchev to a greater extent than might have been expected.

Take this remark: "Owing to the policy pursued toward dependent and newly independent countries by the colonial powers as well as by other powers which support this policy for various reasons, conflicts and crises arise as in the case of the Congo, of Cuba, and seriously imperil world peace."

And this one: "It is our profound belief, however, that the assistance of the United Nations in the Congo has not proved sufficiently effective, primarily because there have been serious omissions and shortcomings in carrying out the resolutions of the Security Council."

The Russians said the same thing in strange language, after they were kicked out of the Congo. Tito also sounded like an echo of Khrushchev on such issues as the arming of West Germany, and in denouncing approaches to world problems from "positions of strength."

Tito hinted he now goes along with Khrushchev on what blew up the Paris summit conference in May. Tito said the main cause was "what had preceded the conference."

What preceded it was the U2 plane incident, though he didn't say so outright. And that's Khrushchev's position.

The Yugoslav president has become a sort of hero in places like Cuba and underdeveloped areas of Africa, the Middle East and Asia.

Some day he may be in a position to put that influence to work.

West Berliners Hail U. S. Envoy for Deliant Ride

BERLIN (UPI) — West Berliners today hailed U.S. Ambassador Walter C. (Red) Dowling for helping the Communists and driving through East Berlin to show the stars-and-stripes behind the iron curtain.

Communist guards at the East-West Berlin border tried to stop Dowling Thursday. They hailed his chauffeur, drove him out, an American flag flying from one leader and his ambassadorial insignia from the other.

The Communist guards asserted that Dowling could not cross into East Berlin because he was not accredited to the East German government. The United States does not recognize the Communist German regime.

Dowling replied: "An American Ambassador I am responsible for removal operation."

I have the right to free travel in the American sector of Berlin and I have the right of free travel in the whole city. In any case I do not recognize your right to control movements across the border. We regard the border as open and we have the right of free access."

Both Reuther, Mazey Are in Hospitals

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter A. Reuther and Union Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey both are in hospitals.

Reuther is being treated at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit for a throat ailment which has forced him to cancel speaking engagements through next Thursday.

Mazey is at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor recovering from a kidney removal operation.

Spitful Thieves Mess Up City Furniture Store

Thieves caused an estimated $100 damage when they broke into the Orchard Furniture Store, 161 Orchard Lake Ave., Thursday night.

Pontiac police said the damage should be done, because the thieves found nothing.

They ransacked the office there, but took only a carton of cigarettes from a desk drawer.

The damage was caused when the thieves found lockpicks, a hand saw, a lamp and a wood blanket.

Store manager Ed Bloom reported the intruders also slashed a pair of new shoes belonging to one of the employees.

The break in was reported by store buyer Herbert Markley. He said he discovered the store at 1:30 a.m. today.

Entry had been forced through roof door, police said.

Freddie Hutchinson Inks New Cincy Pact

CINCINNATI (AP) — Freddie Hutchinson today signed a contract to continue as manager of the Cincinnati Reds in 1961.

Hutchinson, 41, became manager of the club July 8, 1960, when it was foundering in the National League.

He succeeded Yawns, who had led the team finished fifth that year.

Paul, general manager of the Reds, announced the retention of Hutchinson at a news conference. The former Detroit pitching star was present.

In Western Europe

Both Applause, Brickbats Follow Ike's U.N. Talk

LONDON (AP) — President Eisenhower's speech to the U.N. General Assembly brought the American leader both applause and brickbats in Western Europe today.

Many commentators saw his address as a blunt challenge to the Soviet Union to throw its weight behind the United Nations in the cause of easing world tensions.

But Eisenhower also drew a measure of criticism for not including some startling new proposals.

On the Communist side of the Iron Curtain the President's words were received with predictable sourness.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, accused Eisenhower of "virtually burying the idea of total and general disarmament" by stressing control rather than immediate measures for reducing arms.

A Moscow radio commentator asserted: "The President's speech showed that the ruling circles in the U.S.A. have no disarmament program and that they are still hemmed in by their old conceptions which do not fit in with the interests of peace and security for the people."

The speech won big banner headlines everywhere, however. Even Tass carried a 500-word summary of the speech.

In London, a streamer on the front page of the liberal News Chronicle called the address "Ike's finest hour and even rivals applaud."

From the U.N. rostrum Eisenhower flung challenge after challenge at Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"But they were all challenges in the name of peace," said the Chronicle.

"His task," it added, "was to exploit Mr. Khrushchev's failure in the Congo with sufficient tact and lack of self-righteousness or belligerence to avoid throwing the Afro-Asian states back into a less anti-Russian position."

"By setting the whole weight of his government behind the United Nations he has probably succeeded."

British Labor leader Hugh Gaitskill called the speech "important and constructive."

The Laborite Daily Herald said: "America made the most impressive bid it has ever made to bring peace. President Eisenhower's speech to the U.N. was the West's challenge to Russia to throw its immense power behind the U.N. to create a more hopeful world."

London's Conservative Daily Telegraph took the opposite tack. "He misses the boat," it headlined.

"His 4,500 word, 40 minute speech was nervous and faltering, and contained not a single new proposal to break the East-West deadlock."

"Friend and foe alike sagged back disappointed at the President's failure to grasp the initiative."

C. Lincoln Lindholm, chairman of the hospital's board of trustees, said the balance of the project cost will come from a Grand Rapids Foundation grant, other gifts and a borrowing program.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Blockgett Memorial Hospital trustees have announced government approval of a $500,000 grant for the facility's $197 million building and modernization program. Work contracts for the project were let at the same time.

Russian Attacks on Dag Recall Anti-Lie Campaign

By PIERRE J. HUSS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—On a bleak day in November of 1952, the first secretary general of the United Nations Trygve Lie shocked the 500 delegates seated before him in the ornate hall by announcing his resignation from the 40,000-a-year post.
 This shock went even deeper when Lie confessed in carefully couched words that the Soviet Union's war on him personally had rendered further efforts to carry on his task impossible.

 Those of us who sat in the assembly hall that day heard something closely akin to the crack of doom. Here was a man who had built an international diplomatic instrument from a paper plan conceived by 50 nations and made a living thing of it.
 He got the job by the unanimous consent of the 50 top diplomats, including President Truman, who signed the U.N. charter in San Francisco. Yet one of those — namely Russia — had cruelly humiliated him into quitting.

 The reason: he championed U.N. resistance in Korea to the Communist attack and stood up against Stalin's design to conquer the strategic Pacific seaport to bigger prizes.
 In recent weeks ugly reminders of Lie's forced resignation have haunted U.N. diplomats as Soviet pronouncements in and out of U.N. selected Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld for "improper" attitude of a type never tolerated against Lie.

 The reason: Hammarskjöld crossed up Soviet plans for a Soviet beachhead in Africa by skillfully keeping control over the Congo. He outwitted Moscow plans to have the 38,000-man U.N. army involved in a bloody civil war and bled his time until the volatile Premier Patrice Lumumba became so mixed up in Russian intrigue that he seemed about to vanish from the political scene.

Judge Favors Beckett Because of Injuries

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge ignored former child star Scotty Beckett's record of traffic arrests Thursday and treated him as a first offender — because Beckett claimed auto accident injuries will prevent him from ever driving again.
 Beckett, 30, a car salesman, went to court with an arm in a cast and walking with a cane. He was fined $250 on a charge of driving with a revoked license. He said that 15 days after he was cited on this offense he was in an accident in which he suffered a hip injury which left him unable to drive. Charges against him in this case are still pending.

Lift 2 Knives, Gun at Fidel's Shindig

Partygoers Lose Weapons

NEW YORK (AP)—Police confiscated two knives and a gun from among 250 persons attending a party Thursday night for Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro at his Harlem hotel.

Repercussions continued from the slaying of a Venezuelan child, innocently caught in a battle between rival Cuban groups in a restaurant.

At the party in the Hotel Theresa, detectives found the weapons as they frisked persons entering the 11th-floor skylight room. The gun was carried by one of Castro's guards. For future reference, police photos were taken of all guests.

Otherwise it was a peaceful affair. An organization called the Fair Play for Cuba Committee presented Castro with a bust of Abraham Lincoln.

'GREAT LIBERATOR'
Committee President Richard Gibson said: "Lincoln was a great liberator and Castro is a great Cuban liberator."

Outside the hotel, Communist party members distributed leaflets entitled "Harlem moves for freedom" to an estimated crowd of 2,000.

Earlier in the day, Castro denounced as "lies" newspaper accounts of how Magdalena Urdaneta, 8, was fatally wounded by a stray bullet Wednesday in a West Side restaurant.

The girl, visiting here with her parents from Caracas, was shot in the back. She died Thursday morning in a hospital.

Police said the fight was touched off, and the shots fired, by Castro sympathizers who spotted anti-Castro men in the restaurant. A pro-Castro man was shot in the shoulder and anti-Castroites were beaten.

In Havana, government-controlled newspapers claimed the restaurant invaders were members of the anti-Castro "White Rose" organization.

BLAMES ENEMIES
Castro also blamed the shooting on enemies of his regime, saying: "Sad. They printed lies in the newspapers. The men who made the fire (fired the shots) were the same men who killed 20,000 Cubans and were welcomed to the United States. The United States welcomes all kinds of war criminals. This is the consequence."

In Washington Thursday, the State Department expressed regret and deep sympathy to the girl's parents and to the Venezuelan government. Press Officer Lincoln White called the child a victim of "an aggressive attack by adherents of the Fidel Castro regime."

"This kind of criminal activity that resulted in the ruthless slaying of this innocent bystander will undoubtedly shock people throughout the free world," he added.

WHAT ABOUT THAT GOOD MOVIE YOU PROMISED YOUR WIFE?

We know that at this time of the year you are busy with the usual chores a dutiful husband must perform. But... how about "WAKA"... she is busy too. The kids had to be sent back to school, the clothes are still being washed on Monday, ironed Tuesday and so it goes.

You did make a promise to take her out some night to see a good motion picture, so that both of you can enjoy some "out of the house" relaxation. Well, here is one of the best motion pictures that both of you will be talking about for some time.

America's Gold Being Reduced

Reasons Given Are 2: Gifts, Higher Interest Rate in Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign buyers reduced America's gold hoard by another $31 million in the past week and some officials foresee a heavier drain in the weeks ahead.

Nevertheless, these officials say there is nothing particularly worrisome about the situation. They note the United States has ample gold to back its currency and in addition should be able to fill foreign orders for the foreseeable future.

The Federal Reserve reported late Thursday that the U.S. gold stock stood at $18,758,000,000 as of last Wednesday. This represented a drop of $564 million since July 1, compared with a decline of only $134 million in the first six months of the year.

Since $11.5 billion of gold is required to back nation's money, there is a surplus of $7.3 billion which can be used to fill foreign orders.

The U.S. gold outflow will be discussed next week at the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank.

The conversations will focus on the two basic causes of the outflow:

1. The fact that European interest rates are markedly higher than those in the United States. This is prompting a transatlantic movement of dollars toward the higher rate. As these dollars fall into the hands of European central banks, a certain proportion of them is used to buy gold.

2. The persistent deficit in the United States balance of international payments. For the third straight year, the United States is spending, lending and giving away abroad several billion dollars more than it is receiving from foreign sources. Some of this surplus also is being converted into gold.

Much of the money seeking higher interest rates has moved to Britain, where the Bank of England invariably converts the bulk of its dollars to gold.

Two Die When Plane Hits Power Line, Falls

BEDFORD, Ind. (UPI)—Two men were killed Sunday when their single-engine plane struck a power line and crashed during an inspection flight along a pipeline construction site.

Authorities identified the victims as R. L. McMillan of McAllen, Tex., believed to be a vice president of Western Pipeline Co., and Roy Ray of Owensboro, Ky., chief inspector for Texas Gas Co.

Elliott Begins Second Season as Head Coach

Wolverines Given Edge Over Oregon Saturday With 50,000 Expected

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan raises the curtain on the 1960 football season against Oregon here Saturday, and head coach Bump Elliott doesn't hold with those who rate his Wolverines a one-to-two touchdown favorite.

"It's not fair to Oregon," said Elliott, "especially when we are the only one meeting between these two teams."

READY TO CELEBRATE—Four Pirates give out smiles after sweeping a doubleheader yesterday from the Cubs. They are waiting to celebrate the clinching of the National League pennant.

Iowa State Favored Tonight Over Titans

DETROIT (AP) — The University of Detroit launches another ambitious football schedule tonight and every sign indicates that the Titans again are too eager.

It'll be a green club coach Jim Miller sends into Titan Stadium against Iowa State, which has the muscles to snap the Titans' back to reality in their first outing.

He's doubtful if any Detroit game will be tougher than the Iowa State tilt, barring possibly the finale with Michigan State.

The Titans are heavier than the Cyclones. Their advantage ends there. They are slower and less experienced.

Commissioner Joe Foss yesterday disallowed New York's protest of their loss to Boston in an AFL game last Saturday during admitted that game films showed an error in judgment by game officials.

Pontiac Central's Walter Beach, former Michigan A.M. coach from Central Michigan, has signed with the Boston Patriots of the American Football League. He was released recently by the Rams of the NFL.

The U. of M. club of Detroit will meet next Wednesday at The Harmon Club with dinner and films of the Michigan-Oregon game. Benny Osterbaum, Johnny Green and Roger Zalkoff will be guests.

Viking Harriers Wallop Skippers for 2nd Victory

Walled Lake's cross country team posted its second triumph in last season's early defeating Waterford 17 to 46 Thursday.

The Vikings took the first three places and seven of the top 10 placed by Dave Parrish in a time of 11:05.

Sulky Season Opens at Jackson Monday

JACKSON — Jackson Harness Raceway, beginning the final phase of the Michigan pari-mutuel sulky season when it opens its 35th meeting here Monday, Sept. 26, will have only a minimum of changes in its official racing family for 1960.

Leon A. Slavin, President of the attractive half-mile track west of Detroit, who is now convalescing from a heart ailment in Kalamazoo, was cheered to learn only three replacements were necessary for the forthcoming season.

Don Brown of Adrian, who in previous years has served as an associate sulger, moved up the ladder of officialdom when he was appointed steward representing the Michigan Racing Commission this year.

Three Game Stand Closes Home Season for Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers will close out their home season in Briggs Stadium against the Yankees, which has dominated the Big Eight, Iowa State's league for years.

Multiplying Miller's troubles is Iowa State's single wing. Bob Hicks, Miller's defensive aid, muttered:

"Some of our football players didn't even know what a single wing was until we started practicing for this game."

Graduation gobbled up most of the line and the best runner — Bruce Maher — from the team that brought Detroit a 6-4 record last fall. The Cyclones were 7-3.

Iowa State's biggest loss was Dwight Nichols, tailback in Stapleton's single wing. But Dave Hoppmann, a 375-pound sophomore, has filled the gap with ease. In his varsity debut against Drake Hoppmann rushed for 133 yards. That was 118 more than the entire Iowa State team did in its only previous meeting with Detroit, a 20-0 Cyclone loss in 1931.

Supporting Hoppmann is Tom Watkins, a 182-pound fullback.

Ted Karpowicz, Maher's understudy last year, has moved into the No. 1 halfback post in Detroit's standard T attack. Jim Post, the win over Fitzgerald both on offense and defense.

The Huskies will go with the same lineup which faced Lake Orion, Bruce Norton, Chris Payne and Dick Mocarraz will start in the backfield with either Rick Fisher or Mike Merwin.

Central and Wyandotte will also be matching 14 records. PCH has handled the Dottes in good stride in recent years and is favored again but will need improved line play and some offensive help for Dick Macauley to turn the trick.

It will be the final tussle before coach Paul DeLoe makes his debut in the Saginaw Valley race. The Chiefs will be little next week before playing the first of two straight road games at Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Injury and illness has hit the Waterford squad as the Skippers try to even their record. Junior, Dick Shipman will replace ailing quarterback Bob Newman. Big center Tom Giddard is sidelined with an arm injury. Junior Roger Ferguson will get that assignment. Newman may be available for limited service.

Once-beaten Lapeer is well stocked with lettermen led by former Bloomfield Hills star Barry Wickstrom, fullback and linebacker.

Sports Car Classic at Waterford

A strong contingent of Canadian sports car racers invades Oakland County this weekend to challenge top midwestern U.S. drivers in the Waterford Hills Fall Classic.

The classic is the final event of the 1960 racing season at the mile-and-a-half European-styled track, set off U.S. 10 in Waterford.

Race coordinators, Bob Gubbins and Art Outcalt, who represent the sponsoring Oakland County Sportsman's Road Racing Club, anticipate more than 125 driver-entrants Saturday and Sunday.

Gubbins, a leading driver himself, says that as many as 25 top-rated Canadian drivers will provide "really tough competition for our U.S. entrants."

The invasion force includes Peter Ryan, 19-year-old Canadian National Unlimited champion and winner of the Feature event at Waterford Hills in August (he will be driving one of the 12 Porsche 986's); William Soddler, developer of the Soddler-Formula Junior, and Frank Adams' Canadian DKW Formula Junior champion.

Several Detroit-area drivers head up the formidable U.S. roster of entrants, which draws on sports car driving talent from five states.

Among them are: Bob Chitt, of Pontiac, who holds the Waterford Hills Road Course Record (1:25.5), he was beaten in the Climax Formula 2; and Ralph Durbin, of Detroit, past Sports Car Club of America National Champion, who placed in his last three starts at Sebring, driving a Cooper

Racing is slated to begin at 11 a.m. and end at 5 p.m. each day. Sunday's schedule includes a plot in the MG-TF Series and victory banquet with presentation of trophies at 6:30.

Lions Watch and Wait for Packers

If pre-season exhibition records are to be taken seriously, then the Detroit Lions probably will open their National Football League opener.

The Lions, with a 2-3-1 exhibition record, open against the potent Green Bay Packers Oct. 2. The Packers won all their pre-season games.

But the Lions and Packers didn't meet in pre-season battle.

Lion coach George Wilson says: "If we can knock off Green Bay in our opening game, it could be the biggest lift we can have. If that happens there's no telling how far we can go."

But Wilson admits "that can't be written off their great record in pre-season play. The Packers won more than they lost a year ago and from all indications they'll be stronger this year."

Detroit had a 5-8-1 1959 record.

In hopes of learning something that will help the Lions knock off the Packers, Wilson and several assistants plan to go to Green Bay Sunday to watch the Packers play the Chicago Bears.

Detroit will be the only inactive team on the NFL calendar this weekend. With 13 teams in the league this season, one had to get a bye and the Lions got it.

"At first I wasn't happy about drawing a bye in the first week of the season," Wilson said. "But now it has worked to our advantage. It is giving us time to heal our injured and prepare the new men."

The bye also saves the Lions from meeting the powerful Baltimore Colts in their opening game.

Detroit has played Baltimore first for several seasons and lost each time.

Rudolph Takes

Portland Lead

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Young Mason Rudolph of Clarksburg, Tenn., shattered par Thursday to jump into a one-stroke lead over Arnold Palmer and two other pros in the first round of the Portland Open golf tournament.

Rudolph fired a nifty 65, 7 under the regulation tour of the 35-72 Portland Golf Club course.

Palmer, seeking to become the biggest one year money winner ever, fired seven birdies for a 32-34-66 while Rudolph had a 32-32-65.

The 26-year-old Rudolph scored an eagle and six birdies.

The others tied with Palmer were Houston La Clair, Birmingham, Ala. who had 31-35-66 and Paul Harney, Worcester, Mass., 31-31-66.

Moose Sunday

in Donkey Game

Pontiac Eagles Lodge 1239 and Pontiac Moose Lodge 181 play a baseball game Sunday at the Northside diamond, Montclair at Edison. But, it will be a game with jackasses.

Both teams will be riding donkeys and the game is scheduled to start at 4:00 p.m.

A woman's fee will be charged and all proceeds will go to Little League activities in the area.

Barton MacLane Cast as Marshal in New Western Series

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Barton MacLane, who's spent most of his adult life beating up heroes in movies and TV, finds himself in the embarrassing position of playing the hero in a new TV series.

The burly actor plays an Oklahoma Territory marshal in the "The Outlaws" which makes its NBC debut next-Thursday night.

"I never thought I'd be a leading man," MacLane growled during a lunch break. "Most people take one look at me off-screen and figure I'm just as mean in person as I am in pictures."

"Once I happened to get off the same train with J. Edgar Hoover, and his bodyguards were giving me a pretty good inspection. I had to explain myself as quickly as possible. I guess I look like trouble."

He does, MacLane has menacing hooded eyes. His jaw is pug-nacious, and his voice has a sharp edge in it.

Between 1936 and 1941 MacLane starred in 20 "Torchy Blaine" movies, playing a police lieutenant. But he wasn't believable as a good guy, so he returned to playing heavies.

Unlike most TV western heroes, MacLane is a real horseman.

He lives on a 1,000-acre cattle ranch near Fresno, Calif., which is stocked with 50 head of beef and some 30 horses. Yet he rarely rides a horse in "The Outlaws."

The question came up as to what is different about his new series to merit viewers' attention.

"The big difference is that our show is not just a contest between the marshal and various outlaws. Nor is there any of the silly shoot-out stuff where two guys walk down a deserted street to see who has the fastest draw," he explained.

"We're paying more attention to story material. The motivation of the outlaw is shown. Most of our shows start out with an individual who is mad at the world and gets even with society by committing a crime."

"As a lawman, I come into the story almost incidentally. This is the first western to approach a story from the outlaw's point of view. It's a good format. Each week the principal character is new."

Men to Wear Tight Pants, Short Coats

LONDON (AP) — British tailors decreed today a slimmer look for the well-dressed male.

Trousers will be narrower, top-coats shorter and hats smaller.

The tailors unveiled the new "London look" at a showing that featured clothes to make men appear long, lanky and elegant.

Suits will have an "effective waist line," slim sleeves and narrow lapels. Shoulders will have a natural width.

Trousers should be without cuffs and slimmer from top to bottom, particularly over the hips and seat. Slanted pockets also will be the style.

Both Sides Struggle to Win Friends

New Freedoms Nab World Napping

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world wasn't ready for the new freedoms and the changing mood of the last half of the 20th Century.

The result is one of the great dilemmas of the world today.

The conflict between West and East to gain the allegiance of the new and independent nations emerging from colonialism and the older but smaller nations getting impatient with poverty.

Only 15 years ago the United Nations started out with 51 members. Gradually since then, all more nations became independent the membership climbed.

WANT NEUTRAL

This week it shot up to 96 with the addition of 13 newly independent African nations and the former British colony of Cyprus. Whole batches of them are neutral in the contest between communism and the West.

And in Latin America, nations which left the United States were taking them for granted have begun to assert themselves. They showed this when they wouldn't go all the way with this country in chasing Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Now—and it's almost as if it had happened suddenly—both the United States and Russia have to find new ways to attract the newly free people and the discontented ones.

No wonder Premier Nikita Khrushchev came to the United Nations in New York to speak, perform and otherwise offer inducements.

No wonder President Eisenhower arranged to address the General Assembly Thursday and offer aid to the emerging new nations of Africa, and also invited the representatives of 18 Latin-American countries to lunch in New York.

ONGO GOOD PROOF

Nothing better illustrates the unpreparedness of both this country and Russia to cope with this gigantic problem of winning new friends than the chess which interrupted when the Congo got independence from Belgium this summer.

The Russians tried to horn in with planes, trucks and agents, hoping for a foothold in Africa, only to be thrown out in a lightning charge of the Congolese government.

This country was trying to operate through the United Nations, and so far the world organization much will.

has been supported by the U.N. member nations overwhelmingly as the agency for bringing order and stability to the Congo.

But once it is established East and West will be in a struggle to win allegiance.

This whole show at the United Nations now — no matter what between the United States and Russia to influence world opinion, even if nothing comes of it immediately. And probably nothing and so far the world organization much will.

Saving for Rainy Day Comes Back Into Style

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Is saving for a rainy day making a comeback in popularity? Institutions that encourage it think so.

The U. S. Treasury is selling more Savings Bonds. Many banks report a gain in time deposits. Savings and loan associations report a sharp increase in savings from July to August. Investment in life insurance policies continues to rise. And repayment of outstanding installment debt is taking a stable portion of personal income—a sort of saving in reverse.

The pickup in the saving rate since July is in sharp contrast to the trend in the April-June quarter when the net savings pace slowed notably.

Mortgage debt went up by $3 billion and installment debt by $2 billion during that earlier period. Americans put aside a billion in the second quarter but the year before they saved $3 billion.

The summer switch to larger savings may herald a more conservative trend in family budget thinking. If so, it fits in with reports that consumers are growing more cautious in their buying plans.

But it also could coincide with the drop in personal income in certain groups, notably farmers and those employed in industries where production slowdowns have been frequent—that is, many who might have gone on adding to their debts were hiding onto what they had instead.

Japan Pushing for Big Council

Minister Calls on U.N. Assembly to Plan Better Representation

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Japan suggested Thursday that the United Nations Security Council be enlarged to reflect the admission of many new members, largely African and Asian states.

Foreign Minister Zenaro Kosaka made the suggestion—and labeled it urgent—in a speech to the U.N. General Assembly. He called on the assembly, where all member nations have equal voice, to push disarmament efforts with "appropriate guidance" to the location committee which has suspended sessions without producing an agreement.

Kosaka used an endorsement of the principle of racial equality to lead up to his proposal for enlarging the Security Council, to which the U.N. Charter entrusts the authority to call for military action by the world organization.

The council now consists of five permanent members, the United States, Britain, France, Soviet Russia and Nationalist China, and six other members named on a rotating basis.

Londoners Unhappy Over Free America

LONDON (AP) — The London Evening Standard printed the following letter from one of its readers:

"I overheard two women talking about the New York anti-Khrushchev demonstration. One said: 'The Americans frighten me! We should never have allowed them to become independent. They're obviously not ready for it.'"

Tito Debuts in U.N.
With Neutralist Bid; Talks to Ike Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Yugoslav President Tito makes his debut before the General Assembly today with a strong bid on behalf of the neutral nations in the East-West struggle.

The Yugoslav Communist leader, who will confer with President Eisenhower later today and who chatted with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev this morning in the corridor, has indicated he will press for closer ties between nations with varying political beliefs.

Today will mark the first meeting between Tito and Eisenhower, who shared billing on the formal speaker's list.

Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro made an early appearance at the U.N. General Assembly today to hear the policy speech of President Eisenhower.

Two Men Die
in Plane Crash

Craft Stalls Out Over
New Hudson Airport
Victims Both Married

Two 30-year-old area residents died in the flames of a burning plane yesterday after it crashed on the shoulder of Pontiac Trail near New Hudson Airport.

Killed were Frederick J. Tregunton, 31, of 1125 McCabe Road, Brighton, and Arthur M. Walker, 33, of 5350 Grand River Road, New Hudson.

Walker, the pilot, had obtained his license only two weeks ago, according to the operator of the airport, Lloyd Sandness of FBPI Pontiac Trail, New Hudson.

The plane was rented from the airport.

Sandness told Brighton state police that the two men were flying over the plane crashed. He attempted to save them, but flames from the burning plane held him back, he said.

Sandness said Walker tried to take off from the airport down wind. "They weren't high enough to get over the wires," he said. "The plane stalled, got out of control and crashed."

New Hudson firemen arrived in quick time, but the two men were long gone when they arrived.

Walker, an auto salesman in New Hudson, and Tregunton, a barber in Brighton, were both married. Neither had any children.

Lawmakers at Lansing
on Age Bill

LANSING (AP)—Michigan legislators assembled today for the first time since last spring in a hurry-up move to enact a program of medical care for 120,000 of the state's most needy old folk.

Despite new complications, Gov. Williams and Republican legislative leaders predicted the law-makers would wind up the job today, or tomorrow at the latest.

"It's my belief that if we don't do it today, it won't be done at all," said Sen. Frank D. Beardsley, D-Clare, Senate majority leader.

Deadline for legislation is Oct. 1, effective date of the new federal program of medical care for the aged.

The governor and key legislators met behind closed doors for three hours — until midnight — to iron out new difficulties posed by attempts to reach the state program with federal requirements.

The six-month, $7 million plan would provide:

1. Home nursing care services and physical examinations for 60,000 persons over 65 who receive old age assistance.
2. Broad hospitalization coverage similar to Blue Cross-Blue Shield insurance, for another 60,000 citizens not collecting old age assistance but who are unable to pay major medical bills.

Get Moving on Arms Ban,
Eisenhower Tells RussiaSteel Union
'Terror' Hit;
Fights Erupt

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—An FBI investigation is reported under way today into convention session violence between factions vying for control of the million-member United Steelworkers Union.

One faction complained to the Labor Department in Washington that "a reign of terror" at the convention made even elementary democratic processes impossible.

It said it received a reply Wednesday night the matter had been referred to the Justice Department for an FBI probe.

This faction, headed by Donald C. Rarick, McKeesport, Pa., contester for the top union post held by President David J. McDonald, blamed two convention beating incidents on McDonald "goons."

But McDonald, calling Rarick "an absolute confounded liar," said he was deliberately playing "twisted politics" to provide trouble and attract attention.

"CONVENTION STALLED," Rarick claimed his "organization for membership rights" is seeking to restore democracy to the union and he said the convention is stalled with union paymen loyal to McDonald.

Rarick was himself beaten Wednesday in a fracas near the Atlantic City convention hall as a mass identified as George J. Bell, a former union official, said he was a union representative, got a blooded nose.

Scores of delegates to the convention pushed and shoved around the participants. Many were escorted before order was restored.

In a similar incident, a Rarick supporter was beaten at the convention hall Monday. Both sides blamed the other for starting the trouble and there seemed no way to ascertain which was right.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, whose department enforces the union member democracy guarantees of the Landrum-Griffin law, under which it is possible to void convention proceedings found to be illegal, was waiting to deliver a speech when Wednesday's fighting broke out.

Mitchell said later he couldn't tell whose fault it was, but "it's very unfortunate in a Democratic union such as this that acts of violence take place."

Rarick, who claimed the violence was aimed at discouraging him from opposing McDonald in union elections next February, announced he is going to make Rarick's way. Rarick said Joseph Murray, Pittsburgh, a union staff employee and adopted son of the late Steelworkers Union founder Philip Murray, will be his running-mate as a candidate for union vice-president, a post now held by Howard Hague. Rarick endorsed incumbent secretary-treasurer I. W. Abel for re-election.

Destroyer Finds No
Survivors After Marine
Mishap in Pacific

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—A four-engine U.S. Marine transport plane carrying 29 persons crashed into the sea today 120 miles southeast of Okinawa. A U.S. destroyer which reached the site said it had found no survivors.

The DC-8 Marine aircraft was carrying 22 passengers and a crew of 6 from Atsugi, Japan to Subic Point, Philippines, when it sported an engine failure and it was ditching.

Cdr. John P. Cusby, operations officer of the Naha naval air facility, said the carrier Oriskany reported: "There are a lot of bodies in life jackets and the destroyer Perkins is picking up bodies. There are a lot of bodies and debris and dye markers are spread over a wide area."

Cusby said it was the Oriskany's plane which initially spotted the dye markers and directed rescue craft to the scene.

Rescue planes returning to Naha from the scene of the crash also reported no survivors.

SPOT 3 BODIES

Maj. Thomas J. Luns, detachment operations officer of the 7th Air Rescue Squadron, said planes he dispatched returned with reports that debris was scattered over a wide area and three bodies were spotted in the water but there was no sign of life.

He said three U.S. destroyers were standing by and one of them was picking up bodies.

Another pair of anti-Castro men were beaten but did not require medical treatment.

Castro Fight Victim Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—A Venezuelan girl, struck in the back by a stray bullet in a fight between supporters and opponents of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, died today at St. Clare's Hospital.

The girl, Magdalena Urdaneta, 9, of Caracas, was dining with her tourist parents in a restaurant Wednesday when a group of Castro sympathizers burst in. An anti-Castroite, Louis Rodriguez, 25, was wounded in the shoulder.

Beer bottles, food, hats, arms, and tables and chairs were overturned during the melee.

It was touched off after a pro-Castro man sighted five anti-Castro men who came in to order sandwiches at the El Prado Restaurant, on 8th Avenue near 51st Street.

A man was arrested today in connection with the free-for-all, and another man was being hunted as the actual gun-wielder.

The pro-Castro man used a shotgun in the restaurant, and minutes later shot a dead anti-Castroite of Castro appeared — and the battle began.

Rodriguez, whose wound was not serious, listed his home as Brooklyn. Two other anti-Castro victims who required hospital treatment were Francisco Pereira and Humberto Triana, both 23, who said they are Cuban exiles here from Miami. They were beaten over the head.

Outlines a Broad Plan for World Peace in His Address to U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President Eisenhower today challenged the Soviet Union to join in immediate disarmament talks with the aim of scrapping all nuclear weapons while United Nations inspection makes sure that space vehicles are launched only for peaceful purposes.

Eisenhower, addressing the 18th United Nations General Assembly as the first speaker of a major power, laid down a wide-ranging program which he said could help bring "progress toward a world community" based in peace and rooted in justice.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev sat intently in his seat in the Soviet delegation as the President began his 4,000-word speech shortly after 11 a.m.

Khrushchev is to speak Friday just a little over a year after he held before the assembly a plea for disarmament to which the Western powers could not agree.

The assembly, much as Khrushchev proposed, has become a sort of summit session. There are no plans for Eisenhower and Khrushchev to meet privately.

It was disclosed today that British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is to appear later before the assembly.

Indirectly assailing the Soviet Union for actions in the Congo, the President proposed that all 55 member nations in the U.N. agree to respect the freedom of new African countries and refrain from sending arms or troops there. He upheld Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld against Soviet criticism and called for expanded help to Africa under U.N. auspices. He pledged U.S. aid toward that end.

But his words on disarmament and the policing of outer space attracted most attention because Khrushchev has come to this U.N. assembly with the avowed aim of discussing disarmament with other heads of state.

The United States, Eisenhower said, is ready to submit to any effective and truly reciprocal inspection system.

Area Dem Hints Political Firing

Johnson Feels He Lost His Job at Chrysler Due to Party Choice

An unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Oakland County's congressional seat has hinted that he was discharged from his labor relations post with Chrysler Corp. because of his political activity.

But Ralph T. Johnson's former boss, Gervid Atkinson, manager of corporate labor relations, denied this. He said Johnson, 37, of 13311 Woodbine St., Oak Park, was dismissed because his work was "not up to par."

Johnson, now employed with the Michigan Corporation & Securities Commission in Detroit, claimed earlier that he was asked to get out of politics three weeks before the Aug. 2 primary by Atkinson and Thomas W. Atter, his immediate superior.

"He was never asked to resign to get out of politics," Miller said.

Johnson was dismissed a week ago as a labor negotiator, a post he had held the last four of his nine years with Chrysler.

Although he admitted that his employers did not suggest he was working for the wrong party, Johnson said "it is my personal feeling" he would have been dismissed if he were a Republican candidate.

"We're not concerned with politics at Chrysler," Atkinson said.

"Johnson simply wasn't doing a good job and we felt he would be more likely to improve if he did not divide his time between political activity and the job."

He worked under four different supervisors and each one turned in reports of unsatisfactory work on him. He perhaps was just in the wrong line of work," Atkinson said.

Community Nat'l Bank Reports 45 Ct. Dividend

The Board of Directors of the Community National Bank at a meeting Tuesday declared a quarterly dividend of 45 cents a share on the $10 par value common capital stock of the bank, payable Oct. 1, to or upon the order of shareholders of record Sept. 30, 1960.

Cold Air Edges Over Midwest Bringing Rain

A cold front moved into the upper and middle Mississippi Valley early today.

With the front, and ahead of it, some thunderstorm activity developed.

Lone Rock, Wis., had about three-fourths of an inch of rain. Mason City, Iowa, had about one-half inch, and Waterloo, Iowa, more than one and three-fourths inches.

However, rain was not restricted to these areas. Light rain fell over parts of Idaho, Wyoming, Georgia, Arkansas and thunderstorms over southeastern Florida.

Unionist Won't Greet Rocky

'Prior Engagement' Is Haggard's Reason for Nixing GOP Invitation

Fred W. Haggard, president of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council, has sent his regrets that he won't be able to be part of the reception committee during New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's visit here Saturday.

He said he has a "prior engagement."

In a telegram sent to Haggard yesterday, Arthur G. Elliott Jr., Republican county chairman, inquired why he hadn't heard from the Union leader about his Sept. 15 letter inviting Haggard to be in the reception line.

Haggard said he had sent a reply before receipt of the wire.

REQUESTS LISTS

Believing that Rockefeller "carries a message of vital interest to all Americans," Elliott requested Haggard a complete mailing list of the council's membership "so we may extend an invitation to them to see and hear this outstanding American while he is in Oakland County."

"I don't have any membership lists," Haggard said. "He'll have to write to the different locals for them."

Waterford Area Family Flees Burning Home

A Waterford Township family of five was forced to flee from its burning home at 11 last night as flames fought to save the $30,000 house.

W. Rogers of 584 Rowley St. and his wife and three children, James 14, Mark 3, and Gilbert 2, were taken to bed when Mrs. Rogers awoke to find the house full of smoke.

"She aroused her husband who attempted to reach the basement where the fire started but was thrown back by smoke and flames," the report said.

Township firemen said faulty wiring under newly installed tile apparently caused the blaze.

Firemen estimated $5,000 damage to the house and contents.

Lassiter Judge Delays Hearing on Quitting Case

Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph J. Lassiter yesterday postponed until Monday a hearing on a petition to disqualify him from presiding at the murder trial of Mrs. Nelle Lassiter and Gordon Watson.

Adjournment came because Mrs. Lassiter's attorney, Joseph W. Loe, said, was appearing in another murder trial in another court.

Attorneys for the pair have argued that Judge Lassiter displayed prejudice against three men now serving life terms for the actual killing of Mrs. Lassiter's husband, Marvin (Bill) Lassiter, April 6, 1959.

The Beverly Hills widow and Watson, Lassiter's former business partner, are accused of arranging the killing.

The Day in Birmingham

1,781 Various Meetings Offered in School Year

BIRMINGHAM—Residents here, yearning for something to do with spare time, had an opportunity to attend at least 1,781 meetings during the 1959-60 school year, according to figures released today by the Birmingham Public School system.

During the past school year, 1,781 meetings were held in Birmingham schools after 6 p.m., noted Asst. Supt. Norman Wolfe, who compiled the information.

The selection ranged from a seventh grade dance to a discussion of great books in an adult education class and from a committee meeting in a mass meeting to a discussion of a community issue.

He estimated that the total attendance of students and adults using the schools after hours was a "minimum 30,000."

The meetings, Wolfe said, were scheduled on a basis of 541 building permits requested by various groups. Of the total, 1,563 meetings representing 413 requests were scheduled free of charge according to the Board of Education policy.

Paid permits totaled 94 and produced $4,500 in fees.

The Recreation Department originated 44 requests. He said fees normally charged in this instance represent a part of the Board of Education's contribution to the department's budget.

Leading the buildings in numbers of scheduled meetings was Staholm High School with 231, followed by Pennington School with 152 and Pierce School with 151.

"Judging by the requests received so far, we should establish a new record this year," Wolfe said.

Mrs. George W. Ford Service for Mrs. George (Ida) W. Ford, 56, of 425 W. Maple Road, will be 3 p.m. Saturday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Acadia Park Cemetery.

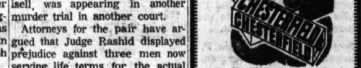

Mrs. Ford died yesterday in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after an illness of several months.

Tom Clay Quits Job at Detroit's WQTE

DETROIT (UPI) — Disc jockey Tom Clay, who was fired by Detroit Radio station WQTE at the height of the "Froggie" scandal last year, resigned Wednesday from his latest job with station WQTE here.

Richard Jones, a vice president of the station, said payola was not involved in the resignation, which was attributed to "differences of opinion" on station policy.

FLIES TO RECORD — Jerrie Cobb, 29, of Oklahoma City, Okla., who has passed tests to become the first U. S. woman in space, soared more than 7 miles into space in a twin-engine plane Tuesday. Her flight to 37,000 feet set a record altitude mark for light planes.

Mamie Buys American on the Fashion Front

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The up-and-coming presidential candidate's wife spends more (or less) on clothes underscores the relatively noncontroversial wardrobe of Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower.

The First Lady, in contrast to Mrs. John F. Kennedy, buys strictly American designs so far as dresses are concerned. She often shops by reading the Sunday papers and calling the store the next morning if something appeals to her.

Those who know Mrs. Eisenhower say she sometimes buys a trunk for under $10. Her propensity for buying costume jewelry in five-and-dime stores is well known.

Of course, the First Lady has some very expensive gowns. She has heavy social obligations as hostess to visiting royalty and heads of state.

Next Tuesday, for example, she will entertain at a state dinner for Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko of Japan.

The First Lady likes hats, bright colors and dark stockings. No one at the White House, however, cared to inject Mrs. Eisenhower into a political quarrel by estimating how much she spends a year on clothes.

Rotary Power Mower Packs Terrific Wallop

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Rotary power mowers pack a wallop when they munch into something besides grass, a Texas A&M College engineer writes.

W. L. Ulrich says a rotary mower blade travels at speeds up to 150 miles an hour and can throw a stick, stone or piece of glass at more than 100 miles an hour.

Urges Legal Backing for All Osteopaths

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The President of the American Osteopathic Association said Monday that professional relationships with medical doctors are improving quickly but that the nation needs a law that would open hospital doors to all.

Dr. J. Harvey of Midland said at the 61st convention of the Kansas Osteopathic Association that osteopathic and medical physicians practice side by side in many hospitals, especially tax-supported ones.

Osteopathy practice together with medical doctors at 20 hospitals in Kansas, including the University of Kansas Medical Center here. They also can study at the medical center.

A 1957 Kansas law gave osteopaths equal status on a healing arts board and provides the same examinations and licenses as given to medical doctors. Dr. I. E. Nickrell of Smith Center explained.

Dr. Nickrell was a member of the Kansas Legislature 14 years.

INVITED TO THE U. S. — Japanese Crown Prince Akhito and his wife Princess Michiko sat together at a news conference in his Tokyo Palace Monday when they thanked President Eisenhower and the American people for inviting them to visit the United States. The imperial couple leave today on their 15-day goodwill visit. They hope to smooth over the bad impression created by the leftist anti-American demonstrations that forced the cancellation of Eisenhower's visit in Japan last June.

53 of 80 Sears Merit Scholars in Top 10 Pct.

CHICAGO — Fifty-three out of the first group of 80 Sears Foundation merit scholars to graduate from college ranked in the upper 10 per cent of their classes, according to a survey of the group just completed by The Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Out of the 53 who placed in the upper 10 per cent, 10 ranked first in their class, three others came in third, and two fourth, James C. Worley, president of the foundation, said in announcing the results of the survey.

All 80 students entered college or university in the fall of 1958 when the foundation inaugurated its scholarship program with the National Merit Scholarship Corp. of Evanston, Ill.

"The academic excellence demonstrated by the first group of Sears Foundation merit scholars exceeded even our highest hopes," Worley said.

Radiation in U.S. No Health Hazard

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Public Health Service says its latest studies show that the levels of radioactivity in air, water and milk do not constitute a health hazard.

The service reported on measurements of strontium 90 and other radioactivity substances for March and April in its just issued monthly technical publication "Radiological Health Data."

The report covered samplings from 19 new milk monitoring stations. All the stations reported radioactive contents well below the safety level of 33 microcuries per liter or kilogram for water, milk and foods.

Executive, 57, Enjoys Going to University

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—Robert L. Cherry, 57-year-old former executive vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Va., is a freshman at the University of North Carolina.

He has moved his wife and two children—aged 12 and 9 years—into a Chapel Hill apartment and begun the university's orientation program. He wants an A. B. degree, probably with a major in history.

Cherry said when he graduated from high school in Richmond, 40 years ago, circumstances were such that he went to work. He resigned his bank post a year ago and took his family to Europe.

Beyond college, Cherry said he had no definite plans. "It is enough to enjoy college. After I get my degree, then I will think of that."

MEA to Decide Soon Whether to Move

LANSING (UPI)—The Michigan Education Association will decide at least by Nov. 12 whether to move its headquarters from Lansing to Battle Creek, officials said Wednesday.

"They've got a recommendation from the executive committee, but we're not saying where the site is," a spokesman said.

A million-dollar building to house the organization has been planned but the MEA board of directors delayed a decision on where to build it until it was determined whether the facility would be exempt from city property taxes.

A site in East Lansing was under consideration but the City Council there indicated it was not in favor of granting a tax exemption.

The board of directors discussed the possibility of building on a site at St. Mary's Lake, near Battle Creek. The MEA owns property there which was deeded from the W. K. Kellogg foundation, and more land could be acquired for token payment.

Kennedy-Nixon Swap Points

HOWDY, FOLKS! — Sen. John Kennedy waves to a crowd of Tennesseans who turned out to hear him speak at Nashville Wednesday. Standing almost in the shadow of the State Capitol Building (background), erected in the days of Andrew Jackson, the Democratic presidential candidate declared his wholehearted support of the Tennessee Valley Authority and its program of flood control and power dams.

Jack Offers Program for Farm Cash Parity

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy today outlined a 6-point farm program of "work and sacrifice and discipline" — a program he said is aimed at "bringing good incomes and a decent standard of living to all our farmers."

In the first major agricultural speech of his presidential campaign, the Democratic nominee pledged as the keynote of his plan the securing of full parity of income for farmers.

He defined that as income which gives average producers a return on their invested capital, labor and management equal to that which similar or comparable resources earned in non-farm employment.

Kennedy's long awaited program dealing with one of the major issues of the campaign was set forth in a speech prepared for the National Plowing Contest. His Republican rival, Vice President Richard M. Nixon is scheduled to discuss his farm program here Friday.

Speaking of his plan, Kennedy declared: "It makes no vague promises that can be interpreted different ways. It makes no pledge that I cannot or that the public interest would not permit. It gives you no assurance that you can have high incomes and unlimited production, and no controls without regard to the taxpayer."

Kennedy set forth this program:

1. Full parity of income for farmers.

In discussing this point Kennedy made no mention of the Democratic party's platform pledge to seek a return to 90 per cent of parity for basic commodities.

2. Achievement of parity of income primarily through supply management of crops—what Kennedy described as "adjustment of supply to demand at parity income prices."
3. Use of the farmers' excessive productive capacity to feed the hungry and undernourished here and abroad.
4. Use of "a sound system of soil conservation administered at the local levels by local farmers."

3. Modernization of the government's specialized farm agencies "to meet the farm revolution—by revitalizing our agricultural credit agencies so that farmers can get the credit they need and at interest rates they can afford to modernize and expand."

6. Initiation of a special program for low production farmers.

Kennedy's farm speech was the featured highlight of his scheduled aerial sweep today into five states — Iowa, South Dakota, North Dakota, Montana and Wyoming—in quest of their total of 25 electoral votes.

Snider Leads Leagues in Series Home Runs

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Duke Snider of the Dodgers is the only player in major league history to hit four home runs during a World Series twice—in 1952 and 1955.

Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Hank Bauer, all of the Yankees, performed the feat once each.

Dick Claims Dem Rival Naive Lacks Experience

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON (A)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's attacks on his Democratic presidential rival sharpened today with the charge that Sen. John F. Kennedy unknowingly espouses a course inviting "surrender" or even war.

That summed up the final count-down on his effort to set this campaign missile off the ground in a day of speeches—and a news conference — which had news men puzzled about how hard he was hitting at his target.

The Republican nominee flies today to St. Joseph, Mo., for a speech at 10:30 (Eastern Standard Time) before flying on to speeches in Illinois, at Sullivan (4:15 p.m.), and Rockford (9:30 p.m.). At Fort Wayne, Ind., Wednesday the vice president said that, in dealing with a man like Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, when you make a concession without getting one, "you work toward the cause of surrender."

This was in connection with Kennedy's remarks that President Eisenhower might have voiced regrets to Khrushchev over the U2 spy plane incident in an effort to save last spring's Paris summit conference from collapse.

ROAD TO WAR

Nixon amplified his case later at Louisville by adding: "When you're dealing with a dictator you must never make concessions without getting something in return because that is not the road to peace. It is the road to surrender, or even to war."

Nixon backed away from the full implications of these speeches at a subsequent news conference in Springfield, Mo.

Asked if he meant to imply that Kennedy "is espousing a surrender policy for the Soviet Union," Nixon replied: "Absolutely not."

Mr. Kennedy didn't know what he was espousing. He went on to say that Kennedy would oppose surrender to the Soviets "just as strongly as I would."

But, he said, "because of perhaps lack of understanding and experience he was naive in making a suggestion that I think would have led to exactly the thing that he would have been just as strongly against as I am."

Kennedy, he said, "really didn't know, in my opinion, what he was saying, and the implications of what he was suggesting" and had a "lack of understanding of what it would lead to."

The news conference followed a welcome to Springfield that Nixon said, "indicates what is happening in Missouri" this election year.

$6,000 AT AIRPORT

The crowd surged around Nixon's open car, showering him with confetti.

Sheriff Glenn Hendrix estimated 40,000 people at the airport, along the streets into town and at Nixon's hotel. He said 20,000 of them showed up for the candidate's speech at the county fairgrounds.

There, too, Nixon backed up a bit. He omitted from his speech two of the strongest lines included in excerpts given to reporters in advance.

NOSES DEEP IN POLITICS — Six kittens share a pan of milk at Vice President Richard Nixon's home. They are two weeks old. One of them may go to a Flint girl, Linda McGrain, who wrote a letter to the Nixons asking for one.

Apples Welcome at Any Meal

Pontiac Press Home Editor
Let's do some apple polishing. No, I don't mean trying to influence anyone. Let's really polish apples and eat them.

Is there anything better than biting into a crisp, juicy Michigan apple when it is freshly picked and called "Ummmm—good. My mouth waters as I thought."

Keep apples on hand for the family to eat as a snack. It is said that eating an apple is as effective as using toothbrush; it cleans and polishes the teeth.

The Michigan apple available right now are the Wealthy, McIntosh, Cortland, Jonathan and Northern Spy. All may be used for either eating or cooking.

It's not too late for meals on the outdoor grill. Here is a suggestion for an apple accompaniment to go with barbecued chicken. In fact, it too is grilled. If the weather turns rough, bake the Apple Packets in a 350-degree oven. But we'll keep our fingers crossed for good weather.

Patio Apple Packets

2 apples
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1/2 to 1 tablespoon sliced green onions
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Dash pepper

Cut apples into 8ths; remove core. Place apple crescents in a bowl. Add lemon juice, brown sugar, onion, cinnamon and a sprinkling of salt. Toss lightly to mix.

Tear off 16-in. strips of 14" brailling foil for 6 double-thick packets. Fold each in half crosswise, then lengthwise. Fold 4 sides with triple folds. Divide marinated apple wedges equally and place in packets. Triple fold opening to seal.

Place on edge of barbecue grill where heat is low to moderate. Cook about 15 minutes (drippings may be tested with a fork through the foil). Cross-stitch packets, fold back corners and serve on plate with barbecued chicken. Serves 4.

Cook up some fresh applesauce and use 2 cups of it in this skillet-ham recipe. Fruit and ham are always good buddies.

Skillet Apple-Ham
1 1/2-lb. pound ham slice
1/2 cup applesauce
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup mustard
1/2 cup prepared mustard

Trim off excess fat from ham slice; sear in fat in skillet, turning to brown both sides. Remove ham slice; sear onion, until golden brown, in drippings in skillet. Combine apple sauce, molasses, mustard and clove; add to onion. Mix well; add ham slice. Cover; simmer 50-60 minutes, or until ham slice is tender. Serve ham with apple sauce gravy. Makes 6 servings.

Note: The ham slice is a Ready-to-Eat Ham.

This last recipe is for a kitchen type of yeast bread. It's the sort of thing you serve for dessert, for Sunday breakfast or for late evening refreshments. You may be sure the family will call for a repeat performance.

Apple Crisp Cake

1 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup mustard
1/2 cup prepared mustard

1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup mustard
1/2 cup prepared mustard

Spread batter in well-greased 13x9 inch baking pan. Arrange apple slices on top. Cut margarine into brown sugar, 1/2 cup flour, and apple; sprinkle over apples. Cover; let rise in a warm place free from draft until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Serve warm, with soft vanilla ice cream if desired. Makes 12 servings.

Spoon Pudding Into Vacuum Jar

Fruited Coconut Pudding is a special surprise in the lunch box that can brighten the school day. A wide mouthed vacuum bottle makes it easy to carry desserts like this.

Fruited Coconut Pudding

Prepare one 34-ounce package cream pudding and pie filling mix according to package directions. Using 2 cups milk. Cool. Stir in one cup orange sections and one cup sliced ripe bananas. Chill.

For carrying in lunch box, spoon into 4-1/2 pint wide mouthed vacuum bottle. Pudding makes four servings.

Pineapple Is Cooked With French Toast

Bacon and eggs, familiar breakfast fare, become something special when they are served as part of this delicious breakfast dish which isn't hard to prepare and doesn't take much time.

Bacon-Hamilton Toast

4 slices bacon
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup mustard
1/2 cup prepared mustard

Place bacon in a cold frying pan. Cook slowly, turning frequently. Drain fat as it accumulates on the bottom of the pan is only well drained.

pan with bacon. Serve drizzled. Continue cooking until the bacon is a light golden brown and evenly crisped.

Remove bacon and pineapple slices, return drippings to pan. Fry bread in drippings until brown on both sides. Yield: 4 servings.

Maple Cream Fudge Will Satisfy Sweet Tooth

Here's a new fudge recipe from Margaret Spader, home service consultant for the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association. Place 1 cup of maple sugar, 2 cups brown sugar and a cup of coffee cream in a saucepan and cook over medium heat without stirring. If you have a candy thermometer, the fudge is cooked when it reaches 240 degrees. This is the "soft ball stage."

Remove from heat and let the candy cool for five minutes. Then add 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and a cup of coarsely chopped walnuts. Beat until creamy and thick. Pour into a buttered platter and cut into squares.

PATIO APPLE PACKETS—Crescents of apple, bits of green onion are seasoned with cinnamon, brown sugar and lemon juice to become a fragrant side dish for barbecued chicken. This recipe is meant for the outdoor grill, but the packets could be baked in a 350-degree oven.

Typical Seasonings Go Into Italian Pot Roast

Have you served a pot-roast for the company dinner lately? If you haven't, you are missing a great chance to reap compliments because pot-roast always rates high with both men and women.

Men like it because it provides mighty good eating, and women in addition to this reason, like pot-roast because they are easily prepared. It requires such little attention.

Traditional pot-roast is one served with the usual whole carrots, onions, potatoes, and celery but that is only the beginning because there is as wide a variety in the kinds of pot-roasts as there are ingredients.

Whatever the ingredients or ever the flavor, all pot-roasts have one thing in common and that is the fact that they are covered and cooked slowly at a low temperature until tender.

Pot-roasts can also be made from a number of different cuts

New Law Keeps Eggs Refrigerated

Have you heard about the new Michigan law governing the refrigeration requirements in handling, selling and storing eggs for human use? This new law went into effect July 1, 1960 reports the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

This new egg law states that all eggs sold in retail outlets must be kept at a 50 degree F. temperature at all times except while they are being candied, graded, sorted or packaged. During these processes, the temperature is not allowed to exceed 75 degrees F.

These rules do not apply to a producer, who sells directly to the consumer.

This law is just another consumer protection to assure you of getting fresher better quality eggs.

Mash ripe bananas fine and mix with maple syrup and milk for a cool beverage your children will enjoy. Nourishing, too!

W. Bloomfield Twp. Gets Planning Commission

Group Slated to Replace Zoning Board October 1

By JIM LONG

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A township planning commission was officially created here last night with the appointment of nine members. The new commission will become active Oct. 1.

At that time the present zoning board will be dissolved, and its duties, plus additional powers, will be taken over by the planning commission.

Voters here approved the establishment of a planning commission in the Aug. 2 election. The proposal was received favorably by a 1,207 to 343 vote.

The delay in abolishing the zoning board immediately was requested by board members, who explained that they had unfinished business before them and would like to complete it before leaving their posts.

The zoning board had sought a 30-day delay in dissolving. But the Township Board noted that since several members of the planning commission were zoning board members, the new commission could easily take over the old responsibilities.

The commission members were all chosen "as objectively as possible," according to Supervisor John C. Rehman in making the recommendations to the township board. "There were no personalities involved."

Rehman said that questionnaires had been sent to all persons who expressed an interest in serving on the commission.

The questionnaires, he said, asked in which particular field of interest each would like to serve, how much time could be afforded, and if they were property owners. "To a high degree the geographical location of the persons involved entered into the selections," Rehman explained.

He said that the new members will represent all parts of the township.

LIST OF MEMBERS

The new members of the planning commission, their terms of office, and their fields of zoning interest are:

One-year terms: Henry Moses of 4751 Cove Road, a design engineer, industry; Christian Powell of 7618 Barnsbury Road, an attorney, recreation; and Milton Howard of 636 Northfield Road, an attorney, public health.

Two-year terms: John Haps of 3546 Lafayette Drive, zoning board member, industry; Bernard Barker of 2550 Oak Ter, zoning board member, transportation; and Mrs. Donald Connor of 4150 Pontiac Trail, education.

Three-year terms: Claude Whitmer of 2196 Walnut Lake Drive, Commerce; Leo DeConick of 578 W. Maple Road, agriculture; both are members of the zoning board — and John Warren, township board member, government.

The planning commission will elect among themselves a chairman, vice chairman and secretary. The chairman will automatically become a member of the township board of appeals.

Rehman said he will call the new commission together early next month and explain their duties as set up in a 1959 state law providing for township planning commissions.

He set up special assessment districts and handled all bond issues in the rapidly growing city. Dinan was among 22 persons who applied for the city manager's position.

WIXOM'S ONLY CHURCH — First Baptist Church of Wixom will dedicate its $100,000 building Sunday at 3 p. m. The church, which has served the community 122 years, is the only one within the city limits. The new building is on Wixom road, just south of West Maple Road. It is almost directly across the street from where the original church was founded.

Wixom Baptist Church to Be Dedicated Sunday

WIXOM — The First Baptist Church, the city's only church, will dedicate new quarters here Sunday, launching a week of evangelistic meetings. The $100,000 contemporary-styled church at Wixom and West Maple roads is only a short distance from where the church took roots in the area 122 years ago.

The first church was built at Wixom and Ribley roads, later changed to West Maple Road. Seventeen years later a new church was built on the original site and then moved in 1897 to its present location adjacent to the Wixom Elementary School.

Pastor of the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Edmund F. Carey Jr., said the almost century-old structure will serve as the educational building until a wing can be added on the new church at some later date.

The cornerstone of the old church, however, has been placed in the vestibule wall of the new church.

The new church has a seating capacity for 325. Its lower level will serve as a multipurpose area, complete with kitchen facilities.

The dedication service will be for Friday and Saturday. At 3 p. m. with an address delivered by Dr. H. H. Savage, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Pontiac.

To commemorate the dedication of the church, the Rev. Don Ziegler, executive director of Voice of Christian Youth in Detroit, will conduct a week of evangelistic meetings.

The meetings will be held at 7:30 p. m. daily all week except Sunday.

For her wedding the bride selected a gown of Schiffler lace featuring a long-sleeved, wide neckline and elbow-length sleeves. The bouffant skirt was designed in a redingote effect over pleated organza with a chapel train.

A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white orchids surrounded with button chrysanthemums and cascades of staphenochs and greens.

Maid of honor was Shirley Barnard, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Diane Peltier, sister of the bridegroom, Sherry Wood of Rochester and Marcia Johnson of Lake Orion.

Serving as best man was Richard Boyzant of Ulster. Seating the guests were James Jacques of Ulster and Larry Howe and Douglas Conger, both of Rochester.

Connie Campbell, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Ring bearer was Gregory Stammer, nephew and God-child of the bride.

The American Legion in Ulster, was the setting for a wedding breakfast following the ceremony and a dinner dance that evening.

After a wedding trip through the Smoky Mountains the young couple will reside at 405 1/2 Main St., Rochester.

A political science major at MSU, Sleen plans to study international law when he graduates — with a special emphasis on Africa, of course.

He said his trip to Africa, which was financed by Rochester area organizations, helped him "gain a better insight into the people there while working on a worthwhile project."

"It was that way with everyone we met there," he said. "I experienced no trouble at all."

Most people in Eha Mufu have never seen a white man before," he said, "but the hospitality at our work camp project was overwhelming."

He told of a blind man afflicted with leprosy who came into camp to give the Commissioner a present of two pheasants.

"This man was poverty-stricken and had to be led by a small child," recalled Sleen. But he gave the present in appreciation for the work the group was doing.

"It was that way with everyone we met there," he said. "I experienced no trouble at all."

He said the major cities in Nigeria are modern, bustling cities and that the natives in the interior are "shy and inquisitive but very friendly."

About 180 students took part in the tour which was originated in 1956 by a Presbyterian minister from New York.

The students were split up into 11 "work groups" and each was given a special project to work on in different African countries.

Sleen's group built a village market place in Eha Mufu in Eastern Nigeria.

Sewer Project to Start Monday

Sen. Philip Hart to Talk at Ground Breaking in Royal Oak Twp.

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — An $800,000 public works project, which is part of an extensive urban renewal project here, will be started following grand-breaking ceremonies Monday.

Sen. Philip A. Hart will be principal speaker at a 10 a. m. ceremony, marking the beginning of storm sewer construction in the township.

The celebration will be held at Cloverdale and Woodside avenues. Representatives from all branches of government also will attend.

Demolition of temporary wartime housing projects has been underway here for a month. The acquisition of substantial properties for demolition begins Sept. 30.

A program of property rehabilitation also has been started here as part of the urban renewal project.

When the storm sewers are constructed, other phases of the public works program will be inaugurated.

Streets will be paved and sidewalks will be built in the township, which now is served mainly by gravel roads. A program of beautification is scheduled as the final phase.

Trees and greenery will be planted and neighborhood playgrounds will be laid out.

Orion GOP Club to Open Headquarters

LAKE ORION — State Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, will attend dedication ceremonies of the new Orion Republican Club headquarters here at 7 p. m. tomorrow.

Also on hand for the opening will be Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons who is seeking reelection Nov. 8.

The headquarters, a mobile trailer unit located at M34 and Shalby Street, will be used as a center from which to contact citizens in order to "get out the vote," according to Ernest Crawford, Orion Republican Club chairman.

It will serve Orion, Oxford, Addison and Oakland townships, he said. The headquarters will be open from noon to 8 p. m. daily except Sunday.

Avondale PTSA to Hold Pot-Luck Supper Today

The Avondale Senior High Parent-Teacher-Student Association will have a potluck supper at 6:30 p. m. today in the high school.

Following the dinner, all teachers in the district will be introduced.

The two-day event is open to all residents of the area. Those attending will bring their own table service and a dish to pass.

Don't Judge Africa by Isolated Violence, He Urges

Area Student Finds Nigeria Friendly

ROCHESTER — All of Africa can't be judged by the bloody political rebellions now taking place in a few countries, says a young college student recently returned here from Nigeria.

"Africa is not the dark continent that some people imagine it to be," said Daniel Sleen, a 20-year-old senior at Michigan State University.

Sleen said the major cities in Nigeria are modern, bustling cities and that the natives in the interior are "shy and inquisitive but very friendly."

About 180 students took part in the tour which was originated in 1956 by a Presbyterian minister from New York.

The students were split up into 11 "work groups" and each was given a special project to work on in different African countries.

Sleen's group built a village market place in Eha Mufu in Eastern Nigeria.

Most people in Eha Mufu have never seen a white man before," he said, "but the hospitality at our work camp project was overwhelming."

He told of a blind man afflicted with leprosy who came into camp to give the Commissioner a present of two pheasants.

"This man was poverty-stricken and had to be led by a small child," recalled Sleen. But he gave the present in appreciation for the work the group was doing.

"It was that way with everyone we met there," he said. "I experienced no trouble at all."

Town Hall Gathers Forces for Final Membership Drive

Poised for a final concerted membership drive 25 area representatives of Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall were entertained at a tea Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Paul Kern opened her Long Point Drive home for the affair, hosted by Town Hall's board of directors.

Those attending heard final plans for the 1960-61 lecture series which will bring to Pontiac a versatile group of nationally prominent platform personalities.

MONTOYAS FIRST

Opening the season Oct. 19 will be Carlos Montoya, flamenco guitarist, who will share the spotlight with his dance wife.

Others in the Wednesday series which will convene at 10:30 a.m. at the Oakland Theater are, Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines, writer and homespun philosopher Harry Golden, fashion commentator Maggie Daly and pianist Cilli Wang.

Mrs. Clyde Dearing reported to the representatives on plans for the celebrity luncheons which follow Town Hall.

The opening luncheon, according to Mrs. Dearing, is set for Fine Lake Country Club. The remaining four will be served at Devon Gables.

Town Hall, in its second season, has brought noted speakers to Pontiac.

In addition, the nonprofit organization has contributed to the Pontiac Symphony and underwrote the appearance last winter of the Canadian Players from Stratford, Ont. in "The Taming of the Shrew."

Plans are under way for a return of the Shakespearean group in "Julius Caesar."

Membership to the Town Hall Series is by subscription only. Open to anyone in the community, the subscription series is available through Mrs. Cecil McCallum of Cherokee Road.

Area representatives are equipped to answer all queries regarding membership.

The board of directors of Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall entertained area representatives and equipped them with information to answer queries of prospective members. At the tea table (from left) are Mrs. Donald B. Hogue of Franklin, Mrs. C. E. Bowles of Green Lake, Mrs. Howard Bond of Farmington and Mrs. Lyman G. Hedden of Green Lake. Hostess for the afternoon was Mrs. Paul Kern of Long Point Drive.

Mrs. Clark J. Adams (left) of West Walton Boulevard arrives at Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall's tea Wednesday with area representatives Mrs. Martin F. Rummel and Mrs. E. M. Estes, both of Birmingham. The affair marked the final fall effort for this season's membership drive of the popular lecture series.

Dear Abby Says: Let Joe Help You

Tell the Truth; Lying Is a Weakness, Too

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I started having my dates pick me up at my grandmother's and I'd spend the night there because I was (and still am) ashamed of my father. He is always drunk. I am 19 and am very serious about a young man I'll call Joe. I told Joe I live with my grandparents, but I can't keep lying to him forever.

I know it's wrong to hide your parents from your friends, but I can't bring myself to let Joe meet my father in his normal stone-drunk condition. What should I do?

DEAR ASHAMED: Tell Joe

your father is an alcoholic who hasn't the strength to help himself. If your Joe is as wonderful as you think he is, he won't think less of you for your father's weakness. "Lying" is a weakness, too, you know.

DEAR ABBY: Why is shaking a rug or mop out of the window considered such a terrible breach of etiquette? Recently I married and moved to a larger community than the one I grew up in. Though we were not "top drawer" at home, we were not far from it. All my family has been fairly well educated with several college degrees and I know that back home almost everyone used a back window to shake out the dust.

If no one is underneath and there is no danger of shaking the dust on anyone, what is so wrong with it?

DEAR SERIOUS: There is nothing actually "wrong" with it, but it looks bad. Sorry, but that's the way the mop flops.

DEAR ABBY: Why must the American public pay for a business owner's payroll? If restaurant owners, cab companies and beauty shop owners don't make enough profit to pay a decent living wage, I wish they would raise their prices a little, so their employees wouldn't have to stand there with their hands out. I tip for the same reason everyone else does. Because I know it's expected and I'm ashamed not to.

"NO GUTS!"

DEAR ABBY: I'm glad "PROUD" (that beautician who considered a "tip" an insult) can't speak for all beauticians. I know lots of hairdressers who have raised families on those "insults."

ONE, TOO DEAR ABBY: Last Christmas I bought my kids some electric trains. The kids don't bother with them much any more but I go down to the cellar after work and play with them and enjoy myself. Lately my wife has been locking me in the cellar when I'm down there with the trains.

If friends drop by, she tells them I would break down the door if she kept this up. She says the catch must slip when the door is closed, but I've tested it and it can't happen. What should I do?

SPIKE DEAR SPIKE: Take the trains upstairs and set them up on the dining room table, or the living room floor, or anywhere that's handy. Pretty soon your wife will beg you to take the outfit back down to the basement. I'll bet the "catch won't slip" after that.

Retzel-Zimmerman Nuptials

Hold Reception in Home

The Rev. Raymond K. Slinkert officiated at the double-ring nuptials of Mary Jean Retzel Jr., Saturday morning in St. Patrick Catholic Church, White Lake Township.

The Francis E. Zimmermans were hosts at a wedding breakfast in Wilkin's Restaurant and evening reception in their home on Tan Bay Road, Lower Straits Lake.

The groom is the son of the Anthony G. Retzels of South Edith Street.

For her wedding, the bride chose floor-length white nylon with scalloped lace neckline and bustle back above a chapel train. Her fingertip veiling was held by a tiara of rhinestones and seed pearls. A white orchid centered her bouquet of miniature white roses.

Gowned alike in ballgowns, the bridegroom's sister Sharon Boman of Lower Straits Lake and the bridegroom's sister Sharilyn Retzel.

Robin Louise Iceberg and Roy MacKenzie were flower girl and ring-bearer at their aunt's wedding.

The bridegroom had Robert Iceberg of Lower Straits Lake for his best man. Ushers were James Grappin and Daniel Wagner.

Pink and white candy-striped carnations accented Mrs. Zimmermann's champagne lace over tulle, worn with green accessories. Mrs. Retzel, in light lace over satin, chose apricot accessories and corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Paul Kieth of Warren, magazine chairman of the Michigan Council of Parents and Teachers, who urged members to show enthusiasm and to read widely, adding that it is useless to buy publications and not read them.

Several guests with experience as magazine and publications chairmen offered helpful suggestions to beginning chairmen.

Local PTA publicity chairman will meet for a tour of The Pontiac Press on Monday.

FRANKLIN MEETS TONIGHT Students from the class rooms of Mrs. Perry Bailey and Gene Schirmer will be hosts for Benjamin Franklin Elementary School's opening Parent-Teacher Association meeting tonight. The program will get under way at 7:30 p.m. in the school's multipurpose room.

Social chairman Mrs. Martha Cuff and Mrs. Dorothy Crawford have planned a program designed to welcome members and interested parents.

WINNER FILLS VACANCIES Vacancies on the Winner School PTA executive board were filled at the group's first fall meeting Monday in the school.

Bruce Allen was elected father vice president; Mrs. Robert Anderson, vice president and program chairman; and Mrs. Joe Waring, secretary.

Standing chairmen appointed were Mrs. Robert Laflair, hospitality, and Mrs. John Appleton, parent and family life education.

Mrs. Bruce Allen was named chairman of the bylaws committee, assisted by Mrs. George DeQuis and Mrs. Appleton.

Plans were made for the first PTA program "Getting Acquainted with Class Room Programs for 1960-61" Sept. 28, "Better Teaching in the Home, School and Community" is the program theme for the year.

MEET WHITTIER OFFICERS Joe Singleton, president of Whittier School's PTA, presented officers and committee heads to the association at the group's Wednesday meeting.

On the show slate are Mrs. J. C. Thomas, mother vice president and program chairman; Clifford Eason, father chairman; Mrs. Coleman J. Lee of South Paddock Street, refreshments; Mrs. Philip Tschirhart of Thor Street, table prizes; and Mrs. Richard E. Neveux of Neafie Street, general chairman.

Little Things Mean a Lot

Fight Extra Pounds Daily

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If you increase the amount you eat by just a little bit and cut down on physical activity just a little bit, given time, this will add up to a gain in weight — given enough time, to a big gain.

Even if you continue eating as you have in the past and decrease your physical activity, you will gain. Your gain will not be as rapid as in the first instance, however.

Few people gain suddenly and dramatically or change their eating habits suddenly, and few folks change overnight from very active persons to very sedentary ones, except in case of illness.

USUALLY MORE SUBTLE

The weight-gaining process is usually much more subtle and gradual than that.

For this reason we can fight mounting pounds in small ways.

as a lifetime habit. We are so accustomed to being transported that we overlook many small opportunities for walking.

We can walk when going on some errands instead of jumping into the car. We can walk up a couple flights of stairs instead of taking an elevator.

We can get off a bus or subway, or leave the car eight blocks from work and walk the rest of the way to the office and back.

As a usual habit we can drink skim milk instead of whole milk. We can use low-calorie dressings. We can buy or bake instead of fry our foods.

We can form the habit of not eating between meals and passing up second helpings, or eating fresh fruit instead of rich desserts. All of these seemingly small changes will add up to a big total, given time.

According to Dr. Herbert Pollock of New York University's post-graduate school of medicine, there is a difference of nine calories an hour for each square meter of body surface between sitting quietly and standing quietly.

If you are a lot overweight, then adopt a strenuous but well-planned reducing diet and lose those pounds. However, in order to keep your ideal weight, you will have to form lifetime habits such as I have outlined.

Special occasions still are permitted. The day-by-day habit is the important thing!

PTO at Irving Holds Its First Fall Meeting

Let's Get Acquainted" was the theme of the Washington Irving School's Parent-Teacher Organization first fall meeting Wednesday.

Teachers were introduced and classrooms visited. New to the school are Mrs. Marie Cantrell, first grade; William Sumner, fifth and sixth grades; George Eckroth, string instruments; Gerald Irish, band and flutes; and Mrs. Isabel Spring, librarian.

Planning the curriculum for this year, members discussed the possibility of foreign language study by elementary school students, beginning at third grade.

New officers assuming duties at the meeting were Mrs. Jack King, president; Mrs. Kenneth Higgins, vice president; Mrs. Clayton Kerk, secretary; and Mrs. Edgar Cantelon, treasurer.

Powers' Father Heads to See K

'What Good Would It Do?' Asks Premier, Who May Avoid Him

NEW YORK (UPI) — Whenever Nikita Khrushchev goes he receives pleas for help.

Amidst relatives press forward for a few words with the Soviet premier.

They seek his aid in cutting through Russian red tape and aiding a sister or brother or daughter to come to this country from an Iron Curtain nation.

Khrushchev already has promised one woman he will see that her daughter comes to the United States and he is expected to receive other requests for assistance during his visit here.

Shoe repairman Oliver Powers of Pound, Va., whose son was sentenced to 10 years confinement in Russia as the pilot of the U2 plane shot down over Soviet territory, plans to fly to New York today in an attempt to ask Khrushchev for clemency for the pilot.

The premier gave no indication he would see Powers who tried without success to gain an audience with Khrushchev in Moscow during Francis Powers' trial last month.

"What good would it do?" Khrushchev replied when reporters asked him if he would see Powers during the Soviet boss' balcony press conference Wednesday.

Khrushchev was asked if the U2 pilot might be released before his prison term is completed.

"The trial is just over," Khrushchev said. "It's too early to speak about that."

5,000 Facing Chrysler Layoff

Pennsy Railroad Strike Settlement Puts Output Ahead of Schedule

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. says it will lay off 5,000 workers and cut production of 180,000 models because of the recently settled Pennsylvania Railroad strike.

Chrysler new models have been in production since the week ended Aug. 6, but don't go on sale until Sept. 29 or later.

The company said Wednesday "the production buildup required for the new model introduction period was accelerated in anticipation of more severely adverse effects than actually developed as a result of the Pennsylvania strike."

Chrysler said it had turned out 104,000 new models through last Friday and its dealers now had a "proper supply."

Most of the layoffs were expected to be in the Detroit area.

Speeder, Deer Escape as Patrol Car Crashes

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UPI) — A highway patrol car chasing a speeder swerved to avoid a deer and crashed into a tree here recently.

The two officers suffered minor injuries. The speeder — and the deer — escaped.

Police Catch Burglar

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Police had no trouble finding the burglar who had climbed a tree, jumped to the roof of the home of Mrs. Millie B. Schroth, pried open a second-floor window and ransacked the place.

There was no Mrs. Schroth's son porch, dodging peacefully, a crowbar and pilers by his side.

K Demands End of World Colonialism

Avoids Meeting With K

Ike Returns to Capital

From Our News Wire
NEW YORK — President Eisenhower wound up a round of private talks with foreign dignitaries today and headed back to Washington without meeting Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev or hearing him speak at the United Nations.
The chief executive met this morning with Togo President Sylvanus Olympio, with whom he discussed the Congo problem and other African matters, and with Prince Mohammed Naim, foreign minister of Afghanistan.
Then he left the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel by motorcade for Idlewild Airport to take an air force jet back to the capital for lunch.
Khrushchev arrived at the U.N. headquarters to address the General Assembly while Eisenhower was en route to the airport.
Khrushchev, who sat impassively through Eisenhower's "hand-out of Africa" ranting to the Soviet bloc

Tito's Tune Sweet Music —to K, Who Just Smiles

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (P) — Nikita Khrushchev looked at his foreign minister, Andrei A. Gromyko, and smiled. He seemed pleased.
On the rostrum at the U.N. General Assembly session was the self-assured enigma of the cold war, President Tito of Yugoslavia. He had just remarked about the situation in the Congo.
"An onlooker wondered: Were Tito and Khrushchev much closer than the world outside the Red orbit might suspect?
"This claims to be a neutral, but his assembly address indicated neutrality heavily weighted on the Soviet side."
Tito was publicly thrown out of the Communist satellite family by Stalin in 1948, ostensibly in a fight over Moscow's right to dictate. He never got back in, although he came close just before the revolution in Hungary tossed the Communist world into an uproar.
HE K A TITO, TOOT?
Now, in the light of the ideological row with the Red Chinese, Khrushchev himself looks more and more like a Titoist. The Red Chinese are all but saying to stop right. The exigencies of the time require some new Communist policy twists, and the day may not be far off when Tito can be of great value to Moscow.
But about Tito's speech? Well, he pictured himself as a potential bridge between two colonial powers, the Soviet Union and the United States.
How did this neutralism sound? It seemed to go down the line for Khrushchev to a greater extent than might have been expected.
Take this remark: "Owing to the policy pursued toward dependent and newly independent countries by the colonial powers as well as by other powers which support this policy for various reasons, conflicts and crises arise as in the case of the Congo, of Cuba, and seriously imperil world peace."
And this one: "It is our profound belief, however, that the

June 17-24 Event Aimed at Nationwide Audience
An Army of 3,000 to 4,000 is being enlisted in Pontiac to capture the imagination of the community and the attention of the country.
They're the centennial legends and the battle plan is drawn up. The biggest celebration Pontiac has ever seen, next June 17-24, is known as Pontiac's 100th year as a city.
A giant show in Wisner Stadium highlighting the city's past, present and future and featuring a local cast of more than 1,000.
Tactical support by professional specialists who deal mainly in the study of centennials.
A parade to end all parades, right in the heart of downtown.
Such traditional centennial diversions as bonfire, period costumes, historic programs, dignitaries, orators, caravans, whoops and in a general.
Gen. Stuart E. Whitfield, centennial chairman, has lined up his chief lieutenants and in a few weeks will move field headquarters to the basement of the almost-completed Pontiac Public Library in the City Center.

Medical Care for Aged Stalls in Legislature

Medical Care for Aged Stalls in Legislature
GOP Senators Object to Cost Level, House Dems Nix Reductions

LANSING (P) — Proposed new medical care benefits for Michigan's needy aged were stalled today in the legislature after Republicans cut back Gov. Williams' program.
GOP senators said it was too expensive and questioned the need for some features. Fourteen hours of maneuvering ended just before midnight Thursday when House Democrats refused to accept the Senate reductions.
Instead, the leaders vowed a fight to restore the program to the form shaped in two lengthy conferences between the governor and legislative leaders of both parties. A compromise appeared in the wind.
Williams told newsmen the Senate broke the agreement reached with the speaker Wednesday night 10 hours before the special session began Thursday morning.
"A violent breach of good faith," said Rep. T. John Lesinski of Detroit, the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor.
The stripped-down version, geared to $11.5 million instead of the originally proposed $14-million-a-year basis, was approved in the Senate 21 to 9. (Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, R-Oakland County, was not recorded in the vote.)
But first, the Republican majority by a straight party line decision — took out all provisions for diagnostic services, nursing home care and home nursing benefits.
Left in were benefits equivalent to those provided under standard coverage.
An estimated 60,000 medically needy men and women over 65 and outside the old age pension system could qualify.
Also in dispute between the chambers was a so-called "responsible relatives" clause inserted by the Senate. Many Democrats don't like it.
Under the clause, medically needy aged could qualify for help only if sons and daughters were unable to foot the bill.
Ironically, the material trimmed out in the Senate was the object of a special plan by 29F delegates to a two-day statewide conference on problems of the aging that adjourned late Thursday. The petition reached senators after they had acted.

what was termed "a cordial atmosphere." Western experts speculate that Tito may well be out to get the last laugh. The belligerent neutralist has been leaning farther toward the Red camp of late.

Rain Tonight Welcome to New Grass

Evergreens and new lawns will welcome rains forecast for tonight or Saturday and again about Wednesday.
The weatherman says temperatures over the weekend will average about 3 degrees above the normal high of 70 and normal low of 51. Tonight's low will be near 50, tomorrow's high about 77.
Northeasterly morning winds at 10 miles per hour will become easterly tomorrow.
The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 3 a.m. was 61 degrees. At 1 p.m. the reading was 67.

Rolling Out Red Carpet to Welcome Rocky Here

Rain or shine, Republicans of Oakland County have the red carpet ready to roll out tomorrow for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's three-day, three-hour visit here.
Predicted showers have officials gathering up extra golf umbrellas from a local country club and raincoats — just in case.
They have their fingers crossed that the overcast skies won't discourage persons in Pontiac, Berkeley and Oak Park from coming out to hear the second national political figure to stop here in less than a month. Sen. John F. Ken-

ASSKS FREEDOM FOR COLONIES — Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev is shown as he proposes a three-stage world disarmament plan and calls for the freedom of all colonies. He delivered the long-awaited speech this morning at the U.N. General Assembly in New York.

'Disappointing,' Grumble Reds

Africans, West Praise Ike Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The 15th annual General Assembly evolved today into a spirited East-West contest to proclaim massive aid into the new and largely undeveloped nations of Africa.
President Eisenhower sounded the challenge in his speech before the world parliament Thursday and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's speech today made it clear the Soviet Union is answering it.
The first formal African reply to Eisenhower's speech was made by President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, who spoke in the general debate before Khrushchev.
At stake in the friendship of 500 million people, a vast reservoir of untapped natural resources and more than 30 percent of the votes in the General Assembly.
President Eisenhower, confident that Africa will choose a path nearer the free world than the Communist world, if left alone politically, called on member nations Thursday not to interfere in Africa's domestic affairs and to encourage persons in Pontiac, Berkeley and Oak Park from coming out to hear the second national political figure to stop here in less than a month. Registration of Voters 'Good,' 'Off'

Pontiac and Waterford Township officials are pleased with the tempo of new voter registrations for the presidential election Nov. 8, but County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr. isn't.
Murphy said today that at the present rate, only about 20,000 of the county's 100,000 unregistered voters would be signed up by the Oct. 10 deadline for the 1960 presidential election.
There were 37,000 registered at primary time.
"HEAVY" IN WATERFORD
In Waterford Township, Mrs. Clara Allen, registration clerk, estimated 600 voters had signed up as of the first of the week, a figure she described as "heavy."
Pontiac City Hall accepts registrations 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays. The booth at Bagin and Huron streets is open 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturdays.
Waterford Township Hall accepts registrations from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Friday.

U.N. Longs for 'U.S.-Red' Truce

Gloom Is Thick Over Ice in Air

Apparently No Chance President and Premier Will Even Shake Hands

NEW YORK (UPI)—"If they would just meet and shake hands — not a conference, just a greeting and a smile — we would all sleep better tonight."

In these words an Asian delegate summed up the longing of scores of U.N. diplomats for even the slightest sign of a thaw in the icy relationship between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The hope, possibly naive, that such an encounter might somehow loosen the diplomatic gloom was an strong among some of the smaller countries who usually almost feel it.

They appeared doomed to disappointment. There was no meeting Thursday when the two men were within 100 feet of each other in the same ball at the United Nations and none was planned to follow.

Nor is there any sign the situation will change when the President returns to New York early next week.

It's not a question of who's right and who's wrong. The overwhelming majority of delegates here are on the side of the United States in most of the bitter disputes which wrack the U.N.

And the Eisenhower speech and charges have won more adherents among the newly admitted African nations.

It's simply a growing fear in the minds of many of the bystanders in the bitter struggle between the two major powers that the present stalemate of nuclear terror cannot preserve a precarious peace indefinitely unless there is at least a slight improvement in Soviet-American relations.

The embittered diplomats gathered in the huge assembly hall on the East River do not expect any miracle at this session.

They recognize that when the assembly meets, the critical problems of disarmament, Berlin, Germany, and Africa most probably will be no nearer solution.

They dread the prospect of going home to their respective capitals without having achieved even the slightest glimmer of hope for a better day.

Some of them, such as Yugoslavia's President Tito and India's Premier Jawaharlal Nehru, would like to find a bridge, however shaky, across the abyss between Moscow and Washington.

Other officials, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, will staunchly support the United States while hoping that time will alter the climate.

A series of smaller fellows will just stand by, yearning for some simple sign of hope — a handshake, a smile, a word.

Thunderstorms Srawl Over Plains, Rockies

By The Associated Press
Thunderstorms covered a wide section of the plains and Rocky Mountain areas early today.

Cool air clashed with warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico, the Weather Bureau said, producing the sharp change in conditions.

The Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, Kansas, Wyoming, Oklahoma, Nebraska and South Dakota shared the moisture.

participation and spectacle under divisions. Under Miller are the publicity, hospitality and special events divisions.

Divisional chairmen include Robert Gilson, revenue; Mrs. Clyde N. Deering and William J. Belaney, participation; Mrs. William J. Dean, spectacle; Mrs. John A. Riley, publicity; and Roland J. Smith, hospitality; and Howard M. Nelson, special events.

In addition, Ralph T. Norvell is divisional chairman in charge of a special committee to operate central headquarters and Jack C. Brannack, divisional chairman of a special committee to coordinate activities and participation in communities surrounding Pontiac.

A look at the 41 committees being formulated gives an idea of the complex planning.

Revenue committees include those that will work on an historical program, novelties and concessions.

In the participation division are committees for the so-called Brothers of the Brush — that's the organization that will encourage bears; the so-called Centennial Belles — they'll encourage wearing of women's old-fashioned clothes, men's old-fashioned ties and hats and women's sun bonnets and early American dresses; the publicity caravan; and a kangaroo society.

Committees of the spectacle division will have a lot to do to handle the floats.

They'll be in charge of the advance sale, patrons tickets, managing the cashiers' offices and gates at Winder, handling crowds and providing insurance.

It's expected that more than 100 persons will be connected with staging the Winder Stadium show.

PRODUCING FIRM SIGNS
The John B. Rogers Producing Co. of Fostoria, Ohio, has been retained by the centennial committee to help guide all commercial activities, but the firm will expend most effort on developing the show.

A full-time representative will come to Pontiac early next year and this will be his principal concern.

Emmerich's spectacular division will have committees in charge of developing the scenario and title of the show; of casting the hundreds of roles; of constructing a mammoth stage and elaborate sets, of costumes, make-up and sound equipment.

One committee will be in charge of grounds and another of fire works.

Publicity will be aimed at all news media, locally, statewide and nationally. The publicity committee will be asked to line up special speakers and special projects.

A hospitality center is planned by the hospitality division, which will have committees to handle dining, arrange for special traffic handling and safety measures.

The big parade kicking off the centennial is the main responsibility of the special events division.

Committees will work on promoting the centennial among merchants, as decorations throughout the city, on establishing each day of the observance as a "special day" in honor of various aspects of the centennial.

And to show that the ball is already rolling, a special secretary committee has already lined up 35 volunteers to man headquarters in the months ahead.

Missouri's Senate Seat Goes to Long

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—The U.S. House of Representatives has elected L. Gov. Edward V. Long of Clarksville United States senator today succeeding the late Thomas C. Hennings.

Long was nominated by the Democratic State Committee Wednesday to run for the two-year term of Hennings' unexpired term.

New York Agog Over Bows, Boos

NEW YORK (UPI)—Blame New Yorkers, accustomed to just about anything, have seen nothing like the parade of world leaders currently in their midst.

Picturing the lobby of the dignified Hotel Plaza, located on property valued at $400 a square foot in the heart of the fashionable Fifth Avenue shopping and residential area.

A chorus of bows went up when Nikita Khrushchev waded through Thursday night on his way to a reception.

Khrushchev stopped abruptly, eyed his booties and shouted "boo" right back.

Picture the same Khrushchev popping out on a balcony on Park Avenue for impromptu news conferences in his shirt sleeves, waving at pretty college girls, waving at the street and passersby.

Picture Yugoslav Marshal Tito, the Yugoslav Communist leader, the Wall Street financial district after dark, then riding an elevator to the RCA Building's Rainbow Room, one of the world's highest cocktail lounges, for a scotch and soda. He did it Thursday night.

Picture Fidel Castro standing up in a banquet room of a Harlem hotel and directing a band of Abraham Lincoln at a testimonial dinner. The donors, the New York chapter of the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee," said it was given for his "emancipation" of the Cuban people.

Pickets and demonstrations are not to be mistaken but there's been nothing like the ones which have erupted on street corners, sidewalks and around the headquarters of the scores of world leaders here.

Police have a master control room, with a large blackboard, to chart the movements of the dignitaries, and direct across the streets as motorcycles and on horseback escorts the leaders.

Khrushchev's unpredictability has been considered a blessing as it has kept the city on its toes.

Pickets have no way of knowing from one hour to the next where he might be.

Payroll Robbers Hit 4 Times in London

LONDON (AP)—Payroll robbers struck four times in London today for a total of 40,000 pounds ($13,700 in total).

During the last coup — $40,000 was pulled off by five masked men who intercepted a money truck bound for the Handley Page aircraft plant at Radlett, Hertfordshire.

K Demands Colonies' End and Asks Disarmament

even when Khrushchev, early in his talk, denounced the United States on grounds of attempted racial spying over Russia.

And at that point, Cuba's Fidel Castro and his delegation burst into laughter.

After giving only a general outline of his proposed disarmament treaty and three-stage plan, the Soviet leader remarked:

"I will not disclose a secret by saying that we entertain no liking for capitalism. But we must want to foist our system upon other countries."

"So let those who determine the policy of states whose social system differs from ours also view their interests and dangers attempts to dictate their will. It is in this time for them, too, to admit that the choice of a neutral path is the internal concern of every people."

That, in fact, had been a major theme of President Eisenhower's speech yesterday, when he deplored Soviet activities in Africa.

Khrushchev insisted that certain "minister forces" probing by the cold war were responsible for tensions. He said these were a "hand."

While Khrushchev spoke, his specific proposals were still failed to spell out the Soviet stand on the bulky issue of nuclear disarmament — were being bedeviled by assembly delegates.

These proposals were circulated in advance of the Soviet premier's scheduled appearance on the Assembly rostrum a day after President Eisenhower's challenging address to the Soviets in the United Nations at the main clearing house for disposal of perilous issues.

The proposals were in the form of separate statements — called declarations of the Soviet government — the Khrushchev proposal on disarmament, pictured the Soviet Union as favoring strict international controls, but these were not spelled out. The declaration stated the U.S.S.R. "is ready for new negotiations."

The issue of elimination of bases was also one upon which negotiations have floundered. The West

The Day in Birmingham

United Church Women to Give Missions Institute

BIRMINGHAM — A Missions Institute, sponsored by the United Church Women, will be held Oct. 7 at St. James Episcopal Church.

Purpose of the institute, according to the organization, is to promote use of study materials for the year and to strengthen the understanding and support of the interdenominational work of the churches here and abroad.

Teachers and leaders of local churches and other groups will receive training in use of the materials.

Following the 10 a.m. registration, the Rev. John Angerman, minister of education of First Presbyterian Church, will discuss "The World Scene From the Tower of Our Christian Heritage."

MAYOR TO SPEAK
Dr. Kenneth Gass of St. James Episcopal Church will conduct the devotional period. The study material will be presented by Mrs. George B. Finch.

Birmingham Mayor Mrs. Florence Willette will give her views on the role of United Church Women in politics.

Mrs. Ernest Mullan, for Kirk-Bethel, is director of the Missions Institute. Program chairman is Mrs. James B. Johnson of First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Arthur M. Cronie, Service for Mrs. Arthur (Grace) M. Cronie, 85, of 433 S. 10th St., will be at 5 p.m. Saturday at the Bell Chapel of the William H. Harrison Co. Burial will be Monday in Oaklawn Cemetery, Algonac.

Mrs. Cronie died yesterday after a two-year illness.

She was a member of the First Methodist Church and of the Birmingham Survivors of a daughter, Mrs. Bain Griffith of Birmingham, a son, A. Stanley of Berkeley, and two grandchildren.

U.S. Rocket Set to Shoot for the Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The moon is in a favorable position to be shot at by the United States is ready to take a shot at it.

Scientists here are grooming a mammoth Atlas-Able rocket for the difficult task of hurling the first satellite about the moon. The attempt probably will be made Saturday.

The Atlas-Able, standing nearly 10 stories high, carries a 388-pound payload armed with instruments to make the most thorough study ever attempted of lunar environment. The spacecraft, called Pioneer VI, is designed to probe radiation, magnetic fields and micrometeorites as it whisks in an orbit 1,500 to 2,500 miles from the moon's surface.

Candidates Shift Vote Campaign

Swainson Busy Back at Senate, Bagwell at Four Factory Gates

By United Press International
Michigan's major party candidates for governor changed pace a bit Thursday before heading back to the speaking trail today. Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson gave his handshaking arm a rest by using it only to preside over the special session of the Senate.

Assuming that the session is wrapped up in time he will face his Republican opponent Paul D. Bagwell in Grand Rapids today at the Michigan Municipal League Convention.

Bagwell, in the meantime, adopted Swainson's tactic of seeking votes at factory gates with a swing of the Detroit area. He greeted several hundred factory workers at four plants and announced the day saying he was "gratified" by the response he received.

At several points men wearing union pins told him they were working for him and as he wound up his tour a group of workmen who heard his sound truck gathered around to shake hands and offer encouragement.

In the Senate race Democratic incumbent Pat McNamara stomped through Grafton County meeting rural audiences.

He lashed the Eisenhower administration farm policy and said that one of the greatest monuments the GOP will leave behind will be "the unbelievable damage they did to the family farms."

Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, Republican contender for the Senate seat, attempted to open his campaign in the Upper Peninsula at Iron River but literally ran into fog.

Fiberboard Plant Is Opened in L'Anse

L'ANSE (UPI) — Michigan's newest industry, Celotex Corp.'s, insulating fiberboard plant here, was officially opened today.

The opening was marked by a meeting of the Celotex board of directors and the first official inspection of the 300,000-square-foot plant by the company's officers.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, other state officials and about 200 civic and business leaders from the upper peninsula will attend a luncheon tomorrow in honor of the plant opening.

The L'Anse plant will employ about 130 persons when operating at full capacity. An additional 300 to 500 workmen will be employed by private contractors in logging operations.

The plant will use up to 175 tons of wood daily for manufacture of 500,000 square feet of one-half-inch fiberboard.

Project Mercury Exec to Head Division of GM

WARREN (UPI) — Dr. Norman Lee Parry has been named head of biological sciences and systems department of General Motors' Defense Systems Division here.

His group will study natural and artificial environmental phenomena as related to man's ground and space activities.

Parry is a 1937 graduate of Georgetown University school of medicine and served on the committee that did environmental control work for Project Mercury and selected the Mercury astronauts.

SIDEWALK SLOGANS—Spectators near President Eisenhower's motorcade held these signs aloft Thursday as the President's motorcade reached New York's Manhattan Waldorf Astoria Hotel at Park Avenue and East 50th Street. President Eisenhower had flown to New York to address the United Nations General Assembly.

Rep. Bowles to Deliver Foreign Affairs Talk

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rep. Chester A. Bowles, D-Conn., will deliver a major foreign affairs address at a private reception at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel next Tuesday.

Former New York Gov. Averell Harriman is giving the luncheon and the guest list includes Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York; Bernard Baruch, former Ambassador Angier Biddle Duke and Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr. Bowles is the top foreign policy advisor to Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy.

Car Output Expected to Hit 12-Week High

DETROIT (UPI)—Over time work schedules will help push U.S. car production this week to an estimated 117,000 units, Automotive News said Thursday.

This would be a 12-week high and a 3.5 per cent increase over the 113,000 cars turned out last week. Last year's production for the comparable week was 91,333 units.

Output cars will account for 84 per cent of this week's output, the trade paper said.

Truck production this week will total 19,700 units, compared with 20,551 last week and 27,769 in the same week last year.

Canadian auto makers will turn out 2,630 cars and 1,150 trucks this week, compared with 2,422 cars and 1,103 trucks last week.

With You Around, It's Another Russia

Look, Neighbor Nikky, Go Home, Huh

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—I'm a neighbor of Nikita Khrushchev. It's something like camping out in No Man's Land. Or reliving London's Baby Blitz of 1961.

New York's Planet, given the hefty task of protecting Nikky, sweep him to and from his nest in the U.N. to the accompaniment of blood-chilling sirens, blaring red lights, motorcycle engine exhausts, shrieking tires, hissing brakes and muscular flying wedge drivers through the last yards of each journey.

When our police aren't swarming around the visitor, he is escorted by his own elite guards, whose contempt for all save the boss is something to behold.

This contempt extends to the local police, who are getting pushed around almost as much by the Russian security officers as anybody else who gets in their way.

If war is impending, it won't be touched off by some crackpot's winging of neighbor Nikky.

It will be ignited by a skirmish between Russian and American police, though both have the identical task of guarding the No. 1 clay pigeon.

IT'S LIKE WAR AGAIN

At night the sticky purple floodlights which illuminate the Soviet mansion where neighbor Nikky dines and dozes between U.N. sessions cast an eerie glow about the neighborhood, as if an old World War I Very Light was descending on the ragged battlefield.

And then there are the nightly cries of the wounded—not as much those who get rapped on the leg for trying to break through the police lines but those who have suffered under the rule of Khrushchev and the Soviet dictators who preceded him. Their wounds never heal.

The years of severity and freedom they have enjoyed in

Johnson Asks Truman's Advice — and Gets It

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Harry S. Truman has some advice for Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson on campaign strategy.

The Democratic standard-bearer should go where they are less well known—presidential nominee Kennedy to the South and Johnson to the North and East—says Truman.

The former president gave that tip to Johnson Thursday night when the vice presidential candidate arrived for an overnight visit.

Johnson said the party needed Truman's advice. "And this is one of the reasons I am here."

the haven of America appear to have done nothing to mollify out the harsh necessities of past indignities.

They parade and shout until the bystander marvels at the durability of foot and lung.

Some of them make me wonder. Here and there in a swirling anguish sea of sufficiency you detect routine crackpots, perennial misfits, perpetual volunteers for any cause that comes along, and anti-anythings. They are the exceptions.

By and large these demonstrators, most of them from East—ern Europe, are persons who have suffered terribly—directly or indirectly—under the heel of the mare lenient with Fidel and his system Khrushchev represents and pack them was the previous incarnation. One feels only compassion for them, especially caught in the tentacles of bitterness and shakily paraded with the thrust for revenge.

It will be nice when our neighborhood settles down again to lead a standard and routine pattern of endless traffic, commonplace collisions, the jets overhead and the New York Central underfoot. The comparative peace and quiet of it will be a blessing indeed.

Envoy Flies U.S. Flag in Delying E. Reich

BERLIN (UPI)—U. S. Ambassador Walter D. Delying, showed the American flag to East Berlin today to display his determination to maintain West's rights in this isolated and divided city.

He passed through the Brandenburg gate into the Soviet sector in his chauffeur-driven Cadillac, which flew a small American flag from one bumper and the ambassador's flag from the other.

His trip was symbolic of the Western Big Three stand that Berlin is a free city and the West has the right of free movement to the city and to it.

Fifty-two U.S. insurance companies have been offered in Germany. Well, really, what more cash premiums come into the state daily.

Hayes Likes TV Show 'Peter Loves Mary'

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—Peter Lind Hayes has been my buddy for several years, so I gave him a cute—and different—idea . . . free. "It'd be unique," I said, "for some big TV star, like you, to predict that your new TV show is going to stink."

WELL! Of all the ingratitude. He wouldn't go for it.

"Mary does call me Peter Grim Hayes," he admitted, "but I'm not that grim. We've got such a great writing crew, headed by Billy Friedberg. He's a gas. Every week I say, 'They've got to fall down this week,' but they never do."

So I asked Pete, now in the same NBC corral with Jack Paar, about their old feud. "You're going to be with the same network with Jack Paar?" I remarked cheerfully.

"Yeah," Pete grunted.

Grace Hayes, Peter's mother, and her 74-year-old husband, Robert Hopkins, the ex-columnist, have moved from Los Angeles and Las Vegas to baby-sit for Pete and Mary at their New Rochelle home while Pete and Mary reside at "Midget Mansion" out in the San Fernando Valley.

"Grace says she's 62," Pete said, "but I think she was sick a couple of years. She tore up her birth certificate. I think she tore up mine, too."

"The Grace Hayes Lodge" in Las Vegas where she used to perform has now been leased most profitably to a gasoline company.

"Hoppy" that's his step-father—"says they took the gas off Grace's stomach and put it in some gas pumps," Pete said.

The Waldorf said positively that its new Bull and Bear Room was not named for Mr. K.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL INN. Y. . . .

Margaret O'Brien said she's reading a Broadway play but isn't sure she wants to do it—doesn't like to be away from her bridegroom, an LA advertising man . . . Tommy Dorsey 3rd, 3 Wall Street, announced the date of his marriage to Barbara Somers Dec. 10.

Actress Irene North wanted to order more photos from her London photo, "but he's out of the business—Anthony Armstrong-Jones" . . . Victor Berge's recovered from pneumonia, will resume one-nighters . . . Lucille Ball couldn't sit with Sam Levenson on his Talent Scout TV—her dress was too tight.

Comic Jerry Collins and the Blackboard Twins, back from a tour of England, France, Germany and Austria, say they had "language difficulties only in England" . . . Sterling Hayden'll write a book about his ocean voyage with his kids.

EARL'S PEARLS: Hollywood says the cynic, is where every new marriage breaks up two old ones.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Someone defined a spinster, "A woman who answers the telephone before the second ring."
