Predict 2 to 5 Inches Here City, Great Lakes Region Getting Blanket of Snow

Old Man Weather is expected to drop two to five inches of snow on Pontiac and vicinity by tomorrow as the area and the rest of the Great Lakes region is swept by the tail end of a storm center coming from the central Gulf states.

The snow that began to fall early this morning made roads throughout most of Michigan extremely slippery, the Automobile Club of Michigan reported.

The weatherman says Pontiac and vicinity can expect the snow to turn to flurries tomorrow. A low tonight of from 22 to 26 is predicted, and the high tomorrow is expected to be from 26 to 30.

The storm center has already accounted for at least five deaths in one of the worst snowfalls in recent years in Texas and eight more deaths were reported in the New England area after the season's heaviest snowfall blanketed that section.

In other sections of the mid-continent, heavy rains and snow fell, which brought welcome relief to the farmers in the drought-stricken areas of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

In Michigan, only the Thumb area escaped falling snow. The Automobile Club also reported roads in Ohio, Indiana, and Ontario slippery and snow covered.

The lowest temperature in Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 25. The thermometer registered 27 at 2 p.m.

Federal Savings Shows Growth

Total Assets Reported at All-Time High at Annual Meeting

Substantial growth during the past year which brought its total assets to an all time high was reported by the Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Assn., at its annual meeting.

All officers were re-elected and the board of directors continued unchanged with re-election of the only member whose term expires at this time.

R. C. Cummings, president, reports total assets at $3,594,636 at the close of business Dec. 31, an increase of more than two and a half million over a year earlier.

Net savings increased almost a million and a half in the year, with a gain of 1,541 savings accounts during the year. Other phases of the business showed similar gains.

Officers, all re-elected, are Cummings, president; James Clarkson, executive vice president and secretary; E. W. Johnson, secretary and C. Byron Kinney, attorney.

Directors include Clark J. Adams, Benson, C. N. Church, L. H. Cole, Cummings, George K. Zimmermann and John Q. Waddell, the latter re-elected for a three-year term. Honorary directors are W. Russell Eames and Chauncey H. Hutchins.

Demand Is High for Ford Stock

Local Brokers Report Only 10 to 20 Per Cent of Orders Filled

Eager purchasers of Ford Motor Co. stock pushed activity at three area investment securities firms to record heights yesterday as the first formal offering was observed across the nation.

Demand for the stock found local brokers unable to satisfy more than 20 per cent of individual orders, while two reported an average of 10 per cent.

FILL FIFTH OF ORDERS

G. W. J. Linton, manager of Pontiac's Watling Lerchen & Co., said today that his company was able to provide only about 20 per cent of the stock asked for during the first day of what he called "emotional" activity on the part of most purchasers.

C. J. Nephew Jr., manager of the C. J. Nephew Co., stated that his firm was successful in satisfying an average 10 per cent of the orders. Similar distribution was reported by Richard Patterson, manager of Goodbody & Co. of Royal Oak.

Patterson said that the largest amount of stock sold to individual buyers was 16 shares while the least was five shares.

Each of the brokers indicated that much of the buying was done by persons who had seldom bought stock before. "The name Ford is a magic word," Linton commented.

The opinions of each of the brokers were summed up by Nephew who observed that "when the glamor wears off people will be able to analyze better whether or not the stock is a better or worse investment than other kinds of stock."

Closing quotation yesterday on the New York Stock Exchange was $67.87 bid and $68.12 asked. The 10,200,000 shares were offered by the underwriters at $64.50 a share.

Will Air Charges

WASHINGTON (INS) — Charges by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, former Army chief of staff, against the Eisenhower administration's military policies will be aired next Monday by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.), released a poll of retail dealers showing widely held views that "bootlegging," "phantom freight" and other practices must be curbed.

"Bootlegging" is defined by the subcommittee as discount sales of cars by regular dealers to nonfranchised dealers for resale.

Senators Break Party Lines to Argue Dulles' Diplomacy Approach

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today he and other Democrats "will pursue our efforts to get a clear outline of administration foreign policy."

Two Republicans sometimes critical of certain aspects of administration foreign policy joined, meanwhile, in defense of Secretary of State Dulles' views as set forth in a recent magazine article.

It quoted Dulles as saying Eisenhower administration policy prevented war in Asia on three occasions, and as saying "the ability to get to the verge of war without getting into the war is the necessary art."

Senate GOP Leader Knowland of California took the Senate floor late yesterday to support Dulles, saying, "The idea of preventing war by preventing enemy miscalculation is basic and fundamental to peace."

And Chairman Bridges (NH) of the Senate Foreign Policy Committee, like Knowland an occasional critic of Dulles' actions, told a TV interviewer he was in full agreement with Dulles that the United States "must take calculated risks for peace."

WANTS CLEAR ANSWER

Humphrey, in an interview, stuck by his claim that Dulles made "a catastrophic mistake that is having worldwide repercussions."

"We ought to have a clear statement from Secretary Dulles as to just what our foreign policy is," he said.

"If he expects bipartisan support, he ought to let Congress know what course this government intends to pursue."

Glittering Motorama Described as Finest of All GM Showings

HAROLD A. FITZGERALD
Publisher, Pontiac Press

NEW YORK — General Motors unveiled its 1956 Motorama at the Waldorf Astoria hotel yesterday. It was a pre-showing for the benefit of company personnel, newspaper men, suppliers, the Brass Hats of New York, dignitaries from all over the country and a sprinkling that wheedles its way in without benefit of clergy.

This 1956 Motorama is a tremendous and splendid deal. Make no mistake about that.

Of course the primary interest centers in the 26 automobiles that the corporation is offering the buying public. They constitute the main idea. They're the real raison d'être.

But this rock-ribbed commercialism is wrapped up in glittering tinsel, rainbow ribbons and gimmicks de luxe that have everyone gasping. There are 50 singers and dancers, a man sized orchestra of 22 pieces and five models that make you wonder how Marilyn Monroe ever got where she did. The whole ensemble produces a 35 minute review that outdoes any night club in New York for "bangles, bangles and beads."

It's tremendous.
It's terrific.
It's splendid.

The case-hardened Wednesday previewers were just as impressed as the boys and girls from Gotham will be during the public showing which starts today. President Harlow H. Curtice pronounces the 1956 spectacle "by far the finest show we have ever produced." He speaks simply and accurately. This is the top deal.

FIREBIRD SETS PACE

However, the performers all bow in obeisance before a sleek Firebird II, gas turbine engine which makes its world debut right here. The five GM dream cars which I described Tuesday are featured and each is a modification of the Firebird along the individual lines of the respective divisions.

Pontiac's Club de Mer, for example, has the two silver streaks for identification.

Each of these automotive sweethearts has a personal feminine model and I assure they detract not one whit from the overall picture.

These five girls are wearing original gowns designed by Christian Dior of Paris and four more of the world's top flight designers.

If our Miss Pontiac glimmered across Huron and Saginaw Streets in a cotton blouse and a pair of last year's slacks she would bring traffic to a dead halt.

The 1956 Motorama is the last word in everything it does. And yet when you strip the glittering tinsel aside, the whole idea is to sell more Pontiacs, more Chevrolets, Buicks, Olds and Cadillacs, plus some trucks and household appliances. That's the motivation. General Motors is seeking new buyers for its manufactured goods and also giving everyone a quick look-see into the automotive realms of tomorrow.

The city of Pontiac stands to gain and this 1956 Pontiac is immensely popular with these impatient lookers who are free to follow their own whims and who express themselves freely.

You folks back home have already seen the 1956 models and I won't describe them again. Your (Continued on Page 17, Col. 5)

Gangs of Rioters Surge Through Bombay, Kill 40

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Thousands of burning, looting rioters surged through a 15-square-mile area of Bombay today, continuing a bloody four-day outburst of violence and terror.

The demonstrations are against Prime Minister Nehru's plan to turn the city into a separate state.

Sources at the Home Ministry in New Delhi said nine persons were reported killed in the renewal of the riots this morning and said that in all a total of 40 persons had been reported killed in the disorders this week in Bombay state.

Officials said they believed the Communists were trying to set up a "parallel government" under cover of the rioting.

Left-wing strong-arm men were reported infiltrating the demonstrations from the Satara district.

Responsible citizens made ready to defend this city. S. K. Patil, Bombay leader of the ruling Congress party, announced a "peace brigade" of armed citizens would be organized to help the police combat the flaring outbreaks.

MOST 'SERIOUS'

Observers said the continuing outburst was the most serious in recent Indian history.

The disorders broke out Monday in protest of the government's plan to reorganize the Indian states along language lines. This would make Bombay City a separate small state under the direct administration of New Delhi. Leaders of the rioters demand that the city be the capital of a separate state of Marathi-speaking peoples.

But Still Makes No Promises About Running

Affirms Faith in Dulles and Disputes Charges by Ridgway

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he has no objection to entry of his name in the New Hampshire or presidential primaries in other states. But said he still has not made up his mind whether to run for a second term.

Eisenhower told a jammed news conference—his first in Washington since his Sept. 24 heart attack—that he will announce his decision "as soon as it is firmly fixed in my mind."

He added:

"I shall strive to see that it is based as to my best judgment on the good of our country."

Anticipating a barrage of political questions at this first Washington meeting with newsmen since last Aug. 4, Eisenhower came to today's conference with a prepared statement dealing with his political future.

It was in the form of an official reply to formal notice that his name has been entered in the March 13 New Hampshire presidential primary, the nation's first.

It was a whopping victory in New Hampshire which gave Eisenhower his first big boost toward the Republican presidential nomination four years ago.

ALSO IN ILLINOIS

In addition to the New Hampshire primary, his name already has been entered this year in the one to be held in Illinois April 10. Petitions for New Hampshire citizens entered Eisenhower's name in that state.

In his reply to formal notice of the action, he said he was grateful for their confidence and added: "I (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Flint Woman Says Pal Killed Spouse; $12,000 in Insurance Probed

FLINT (INS) — Detectives planned to ask Mrs. Betty Kehl, 32, for a signed statement today accusing her handsome, strapping boyfriend of the murder of her husband, Robert.

Construction worker William Thomas, the 25-year-old admitted paramour, denied the oral accusation in a face-to-face meeting with Mrs. Kehl early today.

After refusing to make the accusation when first confronted by Thomas, Mrs. Kehl insisted on a second meeting and said:

"This is the man."

2 Armed Bandits Hold Up City Bar

Pair Escape With $890 After Holding Patrons at Gunpoint

Two armed bandits, both hooded, held up a city bar last night and escaped with about $890, Pontiac Police report.

The pair held at gunpoint 13 customers and a co-owner of Tom's Bar, 928 Mt. Clemens St., after they entered the front door at 11 p.m. and announced, "Give us your money."

They forced the co-owner, Charles Austin, who was tending bar, to hand over his wallet containing $700, Austin said.

The bandits also looted the cash register of $140 and took a wallet containing $50 from one of the customers, George Regal, 774 Sterling St., police were told.

Austin, who lives at 136 Chipewa Rd., said both thugs wore red cloth hoods. He said one man was slim and wielded a 16 gauge shotgun. The other man was of medium build and brandished a pistol, he said.

Leaving by the front door, the thugs ordered everyone in the bar not to move, Austin said.

City Dealers Hit Auto Bootlegging as Hearings Open

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backed by a poll of retail auto dealers, a Senate subcommittee launched public hearings today on charges of abuses in auto sales.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.), released a poll of retail dealers showing widely held views that "bootlegging," "phantom freight" and other practices must be curbed.

"Bootlegging" is defined by the subcommittee as discount sales of cars by regular dealers to nonfranchised dealers for resale.

In Pontiac, Robert B. Oliver, of Oliver Motor Sales Inc., said, "I don't think the practice has affected dealers in this area to any extent. But if a lot of cars were hauled away from here and sold off used-car lots in other states, it could be rough on dealers there.

BAD FOR INDUSTRY

"In my opinion, it is generally bad for the industry. It could only help factories get rid of overproduction. By slowing down, the factories have helped the situation a lot."

John Braid, of Braid Motor Sales, stated, "I haven't seen much bootlegging in this area, but feel the subcommittee may be hitting at only half the problem.

"Most of our troubles stem from long-term financing. When the payments on a new car are less than those on a used car, buyers naturally purchase new cars. This rules the used-car market which has to be there if we're going to keep on selling new autos."

The subcommittee's questionnaire was answered by 13,113 of the nation's 42,000 dealers.

Of those who replied, 13,749 endorsed "congressional study or federal legislation with regard to automobile dealers' problems."

ROMNEY A WITNESS

Called as the first witness was George Romney, President of American Motors Corp., which makes Hudson and Nash cars.

Romney said in a prepared statement he believes "many car customers are developing a 'customer beware' attitude as a result of horse trading practices that have characterized new car selling in the postwar period."

"I believe the automobile industry as a whole has suffered in public esteem as a result," he continued.

"I believe many dealers are disgusted at the methods and ethics of current automobile marketing practices . . ."

He said his company has adopted a new policy designed to give its dealers a bigger voice in car selling problems.

In the questionnaire, 11,563 dealers said "bootlegging" was seriously detrimental to their business.

Most of them blamed overproduction and pressure from the factory to take more cars than needed.

Monroney said "phantom freight" often leads to extra charges of $75 to $125 a car, based on railroad rates charged as if the cars were shipped from Detroit.

Actually, he said, most cars are completed and shipped from widely scattered assembly plants, many by truck at much lower than rail rates.

Police remained mum on details of the crime but were reported checking the issuance of two insurance policies carrying a $12,000 face value on the life of Kehl. Mrs. Kehl was an agent for the American National Life Insurance Co. in Flint and was beneficiary.

Detective Lt. John Burton said Mrs. Kehl "finally started talking" yesterday after "she failed to pass" a second lie detector test. A third test was planned today.

Official of GM Dies in New York Hotel

Fred V. Bott, 60, of 6847 Alden, West Bloomfield Township, a General Motors employee since 1927, was found dead early today in his room at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York.

Police said Bott was found on a bed by his wife, Leatus Bott. Death apparently was due to natural causes, police said.

A General Motors official in Detroit today said Bott was in New York for General Motors Motorama of 1956 which opened today.

Bott was assistant director of the fleet section of GM since 1947. He worked with the Chevrolet division of GM in Little Rock, Ark., Denver and Chicago before coming to Detroit in 1932 as general sales manager of the GM fleet sales division.

He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Mrs. James J. Livingston, of Royal Oak. The funeral will be held at the William Hamilton Funeral Home in Detroit. No date has been set as yet.

Security Council to Vote on Israeli Censure Moves

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — The U. N. Security Council hopes to begin voting today on three rival motions to censure Israel for the Dec. 11 raid on a Syrian outpost.

The 11-nation body scheduled a session to launch final action on Syria's complaint resulting from the loss of 56 Syrians in the attack near the Sea of Galilee.

Israel, which lost six men in the assault, has blamed Syria for provoking the incident while the Israelis said it was retaliation for Syrian interference with fishing on the sea.

Although all council members supported censure and strong warnings to Israel against new attacks, three resolutions emerged during debate on the dispute which began Dec. 16. The resolutions are:

1. A joint proposal by the U.S., Britain and France condemning the attack as a "flagrant violation" of the Palestine truce and the U.N. charter. No punitive measures are included.

2. A sterner Soviet proposal condemning Israel herself for the raid, threatening her with economic and military sanctions and demanding her compensation Syria for losses sustained.

3. A new, Yugoslav compromise motion based mainly on the Western proposal and backing the principle of compensation and return of all prisoners taken in the Dec. 11 raid.

The Western resolution has the majority support in the council but Russia appeared to hold the key to whether it would be approved unanimously.

Latham Named to GM Position

Chosen Personnel Head of Salaried Workers at Fisher Body

The appointment of Charles K. Latham Jr., as director of salaried personnel at the Fisher Body Division of General Motors has been announced by R. A. Boehne, general director of industrial relations.

Latham replaces J. H. Kinsey who recently retired after 40 years with the division. The new director formerly headed industrial relations at Fisher Body's plant in Pittsburgh.

W. L. Scott, who has been assistant director of industrial relations at Fisher Body's plant in Cleveland, replaces Latham in Pittsburgh.

Latham graduated from Amherst college in 1920. He served as secretary and attaché to the American Minister to Denmark in 1923.

He joined Fisher Body in 1940 as a labor standards clerk in the Pontiac plant. In 1943, he was promoted to supervisor of labor relations for the plant. From 1944 to 1950, he served as assistant director of labor relations in the Detroit Die and Machine plant, and in 1950 was promoted to director of industrial relations in Pittsburgh.

Latham is married and has two children.

Scott joined General Motors in 1937 as a material handling clerk in the Oldsmobile Division. He transferred to Fisher Body as an employment clerk in 1938 in the Lansing plant.

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (U) — So here you sit, leafing through the big book President Eisenhower put out to explain how this nation will spend its money next year.

And in it you see a little chart in which Eisenhower says the public debt at the end of this fiscal year will be about 274 billion dollars. But he hopes that we are going to take in more than we pay out and thereby reduce the debt by 500 million dollars or so by the end of next year.

So you get a pencil and start figuring. If we can keep right on paying off at this rate—and Democrats already have said they think Eisenhower is too optimistic—in a measly 548 years we will be completely out of the Red.

Good old debt-free A.D.!

Hint Navy Has A-Power Plane

Thomas Says 2nd Big SeaMaster Being Built for Experimental Tests

WASHINGTON (U) — Secretary Charles S. Thomas said today the Navy may have, in its huge SeaMaster seaplane, an aircraft capable of future atomic flight.

The SeaMaster is an experimental plane now powered by non-atomic jet engines. One test model crashed a few weeks ago in Chesapeake Bay near the mouth of the Potomac River, but a second plane is under construction.

Thomas, in testimony prepared for the House Armed Services Committee supporting a 1½-billion-dollar navy ship construction bill, said:

"The large hull of the new SeaMaster type of jet seaplane may be the airframe which will take aloft the first nuclear power plant."

Thomas also said, "The Navy expects next year to request the funds for a nuclear-powered aircraft carrier."

The bill now before the committee would provide for designing and planning a nuclear power plant for a carrier, but not for actually constructing such a ship. It does contain authorization for a 60,000-ton conventionally driven carrier and for a nuclear-driven light cruiser to serve as a guided missile ship.

The Day in Birmingham Eyes Bates and Pierce for Professional Location

BIRMINGHAM — Bates and Pierce streets, near the downtown area, are being eyed by Planning Board members as possible locations of professional businesses rather than the present single dwellings that fill the zoning restrictions.

The board has asked city planner Herbert Herzberg to survey the Pierce Street area just south of the new city parking lot for possible rezoning to business C, the newly created zoning status for professional type buildings.

The question arose Tuesday night when Lawrence E. Nelson and Lewis K. Marshall requested business A zoning for their dwellings at 545 and 569 Pierce. They would prefer A to the B zoning of their official request, but the C zoning would fill the city's idea of having a professional strip between business and residential.

Nelson and Marshall indicated they were in no rush to have the city's decision, which will await Herzberg's report.

Along Bates, four property owners requested rezoning to allow for several families to share homes, but the city planners said they preferred to keep that older section of town in as good a status as possible. They recommended that city commissioners deny requests of Leith E. and Isabelle C. Stiles, Walter Sahlin, Vida B. McGiffin and Laura B. Murray who are unsatisfied with their present single family zoning.

Though a business zoning might be feasible along Adams, the city planners told Jean Pierre Autchaud and his daughter, they would rather not rezone their home on the corner of Forest to commercial.

They had no objections to the antique shop and tree nursery planned by the family, but rezoning and later resale might bring objections to other commercial enterprises from neighbors.

Holding to the policy of keeping alleys behind business frontages, they recommended that the request of T. I. Boleau and other property owners be denied by commissioners. They suggested that the home owners might use the alley area, since the businesses at 14 Mile and Elton roads all deny the need for it.

In Lansing today to discuss roads with the state highway commissioner are City Manager D. C. Egbert, whose retirement from his 26-year post has been announced, and Mayor Charles Kenfrew.

Reads were slippery in Birmingham and surrounding communities today, with sanding by road crews preventing traffic problems. Birmingham police reported three minor accidents with small amounts of damage to cars blamed on snowy roads.

Bloomfield Hills light at Long Lake and Woodward was turned on blinker because north and southbound cars were unable to stop at the hilly intersection.

Mrs. Ann Hoover is to show movies of Haiti, Cuba and Venezuela at tonight's meeting of Bir-the Community House.

Mrs. Evelyn Tate Service on Friday for Mrs. Evelyn Tate, 1172 Bird, has been set for 2 p.m. at Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Clifford Gordon Rice Clifford Gordon Rice, 39, who had been living with his son, Clifford D. Rice, 4000 West Maple Rd., Bloomfield Township, died suddenly last night at home. He came here eight months ago.

He studied law in Buffalo, N. Y., and started an insulating engineers company there, was general manager of the Niagara Falls plant of Nucoa Margarine Co. and was with other insulating companies until he retired at 76 years of age.

He leaves his son, three grandsons, and a brother and sister in New York state.

Services will be at 1 p.m. Saturday at Bell chapel of the William R. Hamilton Company, with cremation at White Chapel Cemetery.

Driver Suffers Fracture When Auto Rams Pole

A Detroit woman suffered a fractured collarbone and shoulder this morning when she rammed her car into a utility pole on U.S. 10.

But Mrs. Winifred Duval, 39, will be released when emergency treatment is completed today, authorities in Pontiac General Hospital said.

According to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies, Mrs. Duval lost control of her car and ran off U.S. 10 near White Lake Rd. in Independence Township at 7:15 a.m.

DETROIT (INS)—Common Council has authorized purchase of 500 new voting machines which will make more than half of Detroit's voting precincts machine-equipped for the 1956 presidential election.

Re-organizing the precinct set-up will give the city 1,491 voting places, of which 844 will be equipped with the machines. The devices cost $1,430 each.

$740 in Cash Taken, Woman Tells Police

About $740 in cash and belongings, including a sterling silver set, were looted from a home at 19 N. Marshall St. sometime in the last month, police were told yesterday.

Mrs. Jean Fuller, a widow who lives at that address with her mother and children, said the robbery occurred sometime after Dec. 18.

In addition to the silver, worth $477, she reported missing $125 in cash, three sheets and two tool boxes.

She told police the theft may have occurred during the daytime, when both she and her mother work and the children are in school.

Judge Sentences Six for Chicago Vote Fraud

CHICAGO (INS) — U. S. District Court Judge Julius Hoffman sentenced six men for vote fraud in Chicago's first ward and stated that Americans would strongly resist a tyrant's move to manipulate elections. He added:

"Attempted control by a little would-be dictator must be put down as completely."

Sees Atomic Trucks
on Highways by '66

DETROIT (AP)—Roy A. Fruehauf, president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co. in Detroit, predicts that the nation's motor transport fleet, now numbering 10 million vehicles, will grow to 15 million by 1966 and "many units in these fleets will be powered by the atom."

He said "pogybacking"—a system whereby truck-trailers are hauled on railroad flatcars—will become the biggest single revenue producing factor for the nation's railroads.

He added that "fishybacking"—the hauling of loaded truck-trailers on steamships, will grow to great importance on both coasts and the St. Lawrence Seaway.

"By 1966, truck-trailers will be carrying more than half of all the total freight being carried on railroads and highways," he said.

Oldster Recalls Days of 'Slim' Railroad

FAIRVIEW, Ill. (AP)—Charles A. Ekstrand, 83-year-old retired railroadman, remembers when the "Peavine Railroad" was an important "slim" gauge link between Galesburg to West Havana, Ill.

The 61-mile Fulton County Narrow Gauge Railway commenced operation in 1878 in the Spoon River Valley. The road was changed to a standard gauge line on Oct. 15, 1905, when 450 workmen converted the tracks on a Sunday.

Ekstrand says the "Peavine" got its nickname from the fact that it had 183 curves to make it one of the crookedest roads to be found in its heyday.

Measuring 30 miles on a side, Oakland County is an almost perfect square containing 885 square miles, the Oakland County Planning Commission points out.

An SOS went out for more doctors as a polio outbreak in London became "more serious."

'Atom and Eve' Town Known for Weddings

LONDON — So many weddings are taking place at Harwell, British atomic research center, that locals have dubbed it the "Atom and Eve town."

Few bachelors and spinsters who have gone to work there are still single or not engaged within 12 months. More than 200 babies have been born there in one year. "Naples" festoon every street.

The close community life of the research center, with dances and social activities, has led to this boom in romance.

"Confirmed bachelors" have soon fallen to the charms of young women who, in the cities they forsook for Harwell, vowed to be "Career Girls."

Modern Method Eliminates Guesswork in Planning New Highway Construction

LANSING (U) — A revolutionary method of scheduling highway construction which would throw up a "bulwark against political pressures" was proposed today by a top official of the State Highway Department.

The new system was devised after years of study by Highway Department engineers working under the direction of J. Earl McMonagle, director of the planning and traffic division.

McMonagle, who developed an earlier plan for highway scheduling which was adopted in many states, described the new system as "divorced from whim and human error, and capable of incontrovertible substantiation from any attack."

"To the best of our knowledge it is completely scientific, wholly factual; it is tamperproof," McMonagle said.

"It provides the bulwark which administrators have been seeking against political pressures, and against the maneuvers of special interest groups."

ARBITRARY VALUES

This system, described by Highway Department engineers as a "modified sufficiency rating system," assigns arbitrary values to the condition of road surfaces and uses other factors which engineers say are not mathematically measurable.

McMonagle said in one instance where the method was used sufficiency ratings gave top priority to a section of trunk-line highway which was "obviously of not even secondary importance."

The result of the formula in that case, McMonagle said, was "patently preposterous."

Taking a closer look at the sufficiency rating method, engineers found that it was "too easily subject to manipulation to any pre-determined result," McMonagle said.

CONFOUND CRITICS

In contrast, he said, the new method will confound critics by its "very mathematical infallibility."

The new method revolves largely around the use of three punch cards prepared for each subsection of highway and crammed with data on the type of roadway, its width, the ratio of trucks to cars and other information.

Each subsection of highway is assigned a "capacity quotient" which describes in terms of percentage its ability to carry traffic. The cards also contain estimates on how much it would cost to improve each section.

NOT ENOUGH

By running the cards through a machine, McMonagle said, engineers can obtain a tape which will give "an unassailable record of construction priorities by subsections."

McMonagle said this information, alone, however, is not enough on which to base a highway construction program because it would "result in the kind of programming which highway administrators have derided, and which the motoring public condemns . . . scattergun construction which never completes a route."

Priorities are finally determined, he said, by finding out how many high priority subsections are contained in a "programming section," a stretch of highway 20 miles long or more.

The "programming section" with the greatest number of high-priority subsections would then be placed at the top of the construction schedule.

McMonagle said the system is "neither expensive nor complicated," that it is "a matter of simple mechanics which any highway administrator can employ."

"Only by falsifying factual information could any tampering be effective," he said. "And with our routine methods for checking all information before it is transferred to the cards, the likelihood of error is very remote."

State Hearing for Jan. 24 on State Butter Grading

LANSING (U) — A public hearing will be held Jan. 24 on new State Agriculture Department regulations for the grading of butter.

The regulations implement a butter grading law approved last year by the Legislature.

The law provides that butter which scores under 90 must be labeled "Undergrade."

Department officials said most of the butter on the market now is scored between 90 and 92. Scoring is based on flavor, body, texture, color and salt content.

The hearing will be held at 10 a.m. in room 106 of the Lewis Cass Building in Lansing.

Always Carry Money

DENVER (U) — One of the two men who held up Bill Sparks was more kind hearted than his partner. Sparks said the man who held the gun was so irritated at finding Sparks' wallet moneyless that he threatened to shoot him in the leg. But the gunman's companion talked him out of it and they vanished.

Ike's Moderation Wins Approval of Gov. Herter

Inasmuch as political moderation has come in for so much discussion, it is interesting to hear Massachusetts' Governor HERTER endorsing that policy as practiced by President EISENHOWER.

The Bay State's chief executive is one of the East's outstanding Republicans. He was addressing the National Republican Club forum in New York on the subject of "moderation."

Unlike New York's Governor Harriman, who wants to erase the word from the diplomatic political dictionary, Governor Herter likes it. He thinks that "if ever a word seemed to suit the tensions and the troubles of our times, as well as the economic situation in which we find ourselves, this word appeared most applicable."

Like President EISENHOWER, Governor HERTER believes in moderation. To him it means the right kind of positive, political action. It also means what most supporters of the President have come to recognize as a middle-of-the-road policy.

The fine record that Governor HERTER has made in Massachusetts is the kind one could expect of a liberal Republican of his broad gauge. The approach of both President EISENHOWER and Governor HERTER appeals to what the Governor calls "the great battalion in the middle" of American voters.

The major task before the Republican party in the coming campaign is to retain the votes of that vast army of moderates.

Labor Secretary Adopts Hoover Promotion Plan

Secretary of Labor MITCHELL has announced promotion of four career veterans of his department to newly created top civil service posts.

This action is in line with recommendations by the Hoover Commission for the establishment of a senior civil service group. The objective is to provide highly competent career administrators, neutral in politics, to work under the direction of non-career executives.

These promotions are a logical extension of a plan inaugurated last February. At that time Secretary MITCHELL announced the appointment of MILLARD CASS, a career civil servant of 14 years, to be deputy under secretary.

One of the new assignments goes to a woman, ARYNNE JOY WICKENS, with a service record of 17 years. She will be deputy assistant secretary for employment and manpower.

Others promoted are LEO R. WERTS and THOMAS A. LANE who will deal with international labor matters, and CHARLES STEWART, who will specialize in standards and statistics. WERTS and LANE have been in the department 20 and 17 years, respectively, and STEWART 14 years.

The excellent qualifications of these appointees make it easy to believe they will bring about the "increased efficiency" which was the purpose of their promotions.

Secretary MITCHELL is to be commended for the fact that his is the first Government department to establish this sound program on so large a scale.

Jaycees Honor Treanor as Young Man of 1955

Well earned recognition and distinction were accorded WILLIAM L. TREANOR when he was voted the community's choice for the Jaycees' Young Man of the Year award.

In Bosses' Night ceremonies highlighted by this presentation, awards also were made to GILBERT V. POOLS and WILLIAM FOX, and to six organizations for meritorious community service. POOLS was voted Outstanding Boss of the Year and FOX was given the Key Award for service to the Junior Chamber.

The choice of TREANOR for the top award indeed is a happy one. Now 34, he is manager of the Interstate Motor Freight and has contributed much to the success of the Junior Chamber, of which he is a past president.

At present he is chairman of its youth fund and State chairman of its youth activities. As additional indication of the breadth of his community interests he is on the board of directors of the Greater Pontiac Youth Clinic and the Child Guidance Clinic. He also is active in United Fund work.

We count it evidence of a fine community spirit that the custom of making these annual awards has developed into a well established tradition. As long as that spirit prevails, Pontiac never will lack able and devoted leadership.

The Man About Town Middle of Winter Argument Waxes Warm as to Exact Date of Event

Enemy: Often a person we blame for troubles we caused ourselves.

This argument about just when we may expect that the winter is half gone is getting interesting. From Bradley Westhaven of Bloomfield Hills comes the information that his ponies always reach top in their winter doldrums about Feb. 1, after which the spring pep in their heels begins to pick up. According to Ferry Merrithew of Pontiac Trail, his parents always were sure that the winter was half gone when the family sauerkraut barrel was half empty. And

Mrs. Madeline Judge of Auburn Heights says she's sure we passed the midway point on Jan. 15, as a pair of squirrels who have their nut storage under her garage floor appeared to be quite satisfied with an apparent inventory they finished at that time.

That pair of gals who are quite my ideas.

Miss Sara Van Hoesen Jones and Miss Alice Serrell of Rochester, sail from New York today on the SS Caronia on a trip around the world. They will be gone three and one-half months. And they surely know how to transmit the enjoyments of their travels to us other less fortunate mortals.

The robins are so plentiful in this area that they are gathering in flocks where the feeding is good. As reported by her, Mrs. Grace C. Reid of Birmingham, counts them by the dozen around her premises.

A 45-minute all-color motion picture, featuring an Ontario moose hunt, is the latest offering of Howard Shelly, manager of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club. It was filmed by him in the Canadian wilds, and will be shown at the club on the evening of Jan. 25.

Praise for The Pontiac Press comes in a letter from Mrs. Mercedes Laughton of Rochester, who chides another newspaper for what she calls a waste of ink in putting the heading

"Leaves Her Husband"

Truman Ideas on Conciliation for Chiang Give Republicans Political Ammunition

WASHINGTON — "O That Mine Enemy Might Write a Book" — it's an old slogan and has its application to the 1956 presidential campaign. For the latest installment of the memoirs of former President Truman seeking to defend the loss of China to the free world is about as useful a piece of political ammunition as the Republicans could acquire this year.

When, as Truman declares in the current installment published in a current national magazine, "the loss of China is due to the fact that Chiang Kai-shek wasn't 'conciliatory' enough toward the Chinese Communists, the whole issue surrounding the Democratic administration's tragic policies in the Far East is revived.

The American people have not only been brought to the "Brink of War" in Formosa, but they lost 100,000 casualties in Korea in an actual war because the policies of Truman turned out to be to the advantage of the Communist government in China.

Truman says General Marshall tried to get Chiang Kai-shek to agree to a "coalition" government. The general was acting on detailed instructions prepared by "experts" in the state department whose fidelity to the best interests of the U. S. versus Russia was questioned in congressional hearings.

SELLOUT OF POLAND The "coalition" idea has resulted in the sellout of Poland through Yalta agreements, and it isn't "hindsight," as Truman now argues, to recall that point. The world knew Communists were using the "coalition" trick to gain military supremacy. They told Americans in China that they wouldn't integrate their armies under any circumstances. How could Chiang agree to "coalition" government while his enemies maintained an armed force to continue military pressures?

Truman says the Nationalists should have surrendered because they didn't have a chance to win. Marshall thought so, too, but other observers, claim the failure of American aid at the moment was the real cause weakening the nationalists and their armies. Many nationalist commanders went over to the enemy because they saw the United States withdrawing moral support from Chiang Kai-shek.

Letters will be considered when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I'm old enough to know better, but I was recently "taken" by some young hoodlums. What about the old next door, or your own son or daughter?

What does the youth of our city do? The "Y"? Last time I checked, there was a big place in the lobby. "Young Married Couples Only." The Boys' Club is overtaxed, and intended for the junior set.

What do the young girls do? A certain corner drug store is a gathering place for a lot of them. I see it's a big chunk out of a youngster's allowance if he has to spend his time in a movie. What can we do?

Bargains might be set up for teenagers in the bowling alleys, letting each area set aside a different night, so that the alleys spread the program and cost around. The clubs and lodges might have a once-a-month youth night with cake-on-the-rocks and dancing for the members' youngsters and guests.

The PTA might have a monthly gathering in a school cafeteria for youth, with no more than normal chaperoning. What about a place in town where some of us old-timers could help out by demonstrating how to draw and fire a bow and arrow, and the footloose among us could give dancing lessons to the boys and girls who are shy or rusty.

Platter parties could be given with some guest disc jockeys and some amateurs. If the Community Chest can't afford this additional tariff, why not a series of placard appeals, for donations to provide good, entertaining and wholesome atmosphere for the guy or gal who is fed up with gun-slinging TV shows, the narrow confines of a not too comfortable apartment, or demands relief from an academic day with texts, tracts and teachers?

Maitre d'Hotel Deplores Today's Hurried Eating

NEW YORK (AP)—One of my favorite rebel dreams is to see a waiter at the Ritz spill a plate of soup on a celebrity.

"How often does this happen?" I hopefully asked Steve Terzano, the maitre d'hotel there. "Never!" he exclaimed indignantly. "It could not happen. At the very worst a waiter might drop a hot plate to the floor. But spill something on a guest? Never! Never! Never!"

To Steve, who can spot a wrinkle in a napkin at 40 paces, such a thing would be a greater tragedy than the collapse of the Leaning Tower of Pisa. And particularly if it happened while he was on duty. While he is on the job food is his religion, service is his god.

When the old Ritz was torn down several years ago, he and most of the staff moved up Madison avenue to the new Ritz Restaurant in the plush Carlton House.

Steve deplores the hurried habits of today's hurried diners, remembers fondly the days when people took their vitamins more leisurely.

"No meal should be eaten in less than an hour," he said firmly, "and it should be accompanied by a good French wine. Then you will live longer."

What do celebrities like to eat? Here are some favorite dishes of some of the well-known people he has served: Roald Amundsen, the explorer—Corned beef hash topped with an egg.

Robert Montgomery and Queen Marie of Romania—Cold chicken with a liver pate.

Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and George Jessel—Boiled beef. Gladys Swarthout—Lobster Thermidor.

Kate Smith and Tommy Manville—French lamb chops.

Grace Kelly and Wendell Willkie—Chicken hash.

Ex-President Herbert Hoover—Bouillabaisse.

Expectant Moms' Cramps Spell Tetany, Says Brady

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D. Many expectant mothers suffer with leg cramps, especially in the last three months of pregnancy. As a general rule painful leg cramps (sometimes cramps in arms or wrists) which wake the victim from sleep or perhaps occur as she starts to stretch, spell tetany. This is a manifestation of calcium deficiency.

Tetany is a nutritional deficiency "disease." Nutritional deficiency is a break-it-gently way to tell the Yankee Whensie with malnutrition precisely what ails him.

Or at least paves the way to tell him if he doesn't get mad and fire the doctor for intimating that he has not always had the best food money can buy.

In the tetany (leg or arm cramps) of pregnancy, unlike that of mature or elderly adults, the daily intake of phosphorus requires special consideration, especially if the woman eats plenty of the high phosphorus foods—which she should, for her good and the good of her baby.

Such foods as beef, eggs, milk, dried beans, dried peas, oatmeal, wheat, and cheese are good. These foods are desirable in the expectant mother's diet because they are the chief sources of protein.

Most preparations employed to prevent or correct calcium deficiencies contain more or less calcium phosphate, which is all right for general purposes but not so good for the pregnant woman, because of its phosphorus content. Calcium gluconate or calcium lactate is preferable for preventing calcium deficiency in pregnancy.

To put it in simple terms, if the phosphorus intake is too high in relation to the calcium intake, it interferes with the assimilation and utilization of calcium.

The expectant or nursing mother and perhaps other persons who eat a considerable amount of the high phosphorus foods should therefore use calcium gluconate or calcium lactate instead of the phosphate to supplement the calcium-poor diet.

A diet which may supply sufficient calcium for ordinary requirements may be inadequate for the expectant or a woman for the nursing mother who "must eat for two."

Too often she eats for two, all right, but thanks to ultra-refinement of modern food most of her overeating is in the refined carbohydrate department — things made principally of refined white flour and refined white sugar.

Signed letters, not more than one page of 10 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Whirl of Lariat Frightens Man Away; 'Mousetrap Strategy' Will Catch Him

Girls, if you wish a husband, use the "mousetrap" strategy described below. And never whirl your lariat so that skittish bachelors are afraid to come near you. Beware, too, that you aren't idolatrous and thus worship a gold wedding band above all else in life.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE Case Q-352: Annette R., aged 24, is an attractive blonde stenographer.

"But, Dr. Crane," she began miserably, "I cannot capture a man."

"I've tried hard but something always goes wrong, and I don't know what it is."

"So could you analyze me and tell me why I've had no luck thus far in capturing a husband?"

IMITATE SIR GALAHAD

One of Annette's mistakes was her idolatry. She was worshipping a golden wedding band above everything else, much as the Israelites worshiped the Golden Calf which Aaron made for them.

Girls, if you wish to win boy friends and get proposals of marriage, you should imitate Sir Galahad.

As long as Galahad focused on gaining the Holy Grail, it eluded him. But when he unselfishly took an interest in helping other people, the Holy Grail then appeared before him.

The same thing is usually true in romance. Girls who want a man above all else, seen rather than low. The average male senses subconsciously that such a woman is likely to be selfish and solely concerned with her own happiness. So you unmarried girls must widen your perspective. Never be guilty of setting a wedding ring higher than God Almighty and the many other major goals in life, such as world peace, conquest of disease, etc.

Marriage is a wonderful thing, but millions of women in each generation are reasonably happy without it. So it isn't a case of 100 per cent happiness if you capture a husband and zero if you don't.

Many married women are actually more unhappy than single girls, so it all depends on compatibility, idealism and many other factors as to whether marriage will be a wonderful adventure for you.

MOUSETRAP STRATEGY

Annette also erred in straining too hard to capture her man. I could sense her excessive urgency, even as she talked to me, and that undue high-pressure scares the average single man.

"A modest girl never pursues a man; nor does a mousetrap pursue a mouse," ran a statement in the Exchange Express some years ago.

To intrigue the interest of a man, a girl must be vivacious and lavish with compliments. She doesn't need to be more than average in looks, and certainly doesn't require mink coats or riches.

But she must be able to carry on interesting conversation and tactfully probe into a man's interest until she can get him talking enthusiastically about his hobbies, aims and ambitions.

When he shows interest in her, she should be gracious and thank him, but push him away via her announced intention of going on to school or into the nursing field or some other laudable life work. "Go to the archer and see how he handles his bow," advised Seneca in this connection. "With one hand he pushes it away but with the other he pulls it back again."

Applied to modern romantic strategy, that means, "Keep 'em guessing."

Most young men get the idea that all every girl is after is a wedding ring. So it jolts them when a girl shows she isn't concerned with getting married right away.

That is then a challenge to the male ego, so he thereupon tries to persuade her about the wonderful nature of matrimony. And as he attempts to "sell" her on the idea, he naturally sells himself.

Soon she has "mousetrapped" him. But he never shied away because of the whirl of the lariat which Annette kept in evidence constantly.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a 10-cent stamped self-addressed envelope and the to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Seaman Tells Story of Living Through Ship Explosion and Holocaust

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — "I made some promises down there," said Frank Toto today as he left his hospital bed to meditate in a chapel about the four hours he spent trapped in the engine room of a blazing tanker.

About 15 of his buddies may have died in the explosion that cracked the tanker Salem Maritime last night at the Cities Service Oil Co. refinery some six miles from Lake Charles.

To Toto, a 25-year old Brooklyn, N.Y., seaman, with a wife and six-month-old son, the blast seemed almost like a routine blowout when it came.

TIME FOR COFFEE

"One of the fellows had just said it's time for coffee when the ship began to rock. A valve fell down," the third fireman explained.

"I kept looking around to see what's wrong with the engine. I didn't dream the whole ship could be on fire."

Then another seaman, George Emley, his face and hands burned, rushed into the engine room. He shouted to Frank and Fred Gentry of Maplewood, La., to stay in the engine room.

The three huddled below, opening the double bottom that stored fresh water in the Salem Maritime.

TRAPPED LIKE RATS

"Emley told us to stay at the bottom. Not to go up. I thought he was crazy. Stay at the bottom, trapped like rats? When I asked that, I suddenly realized how terrible the situation was."

"I also suddenly realized the wisdom of Emley. If we kept in the water of the double bottom, the flames would never touch us."

The three seamen decided to use the double bottom as a last resort.

"But the first thing we did was search for our coffee. We found it in an adjoining room. It was still hot. It seems funny looking for coffee then, but you know it's funny when you're desperate."

A new idea, during the slow

"Maybe," Toto explained, "if winding hours, came to the three somebody knew we were in there, minutes, but the air gave out. We they'd come and save us. We tried to generate steam to blow the whistle, but the steam always con-

The whistle grew quietly into a lay of hope. They had to grab

it and blow on it themselves. Toto decided to climb to the top of the engine room even though he knew sudden whips of flame could slash him.

"I climbed pretty high and it wasn't so hot. And then I climbed higher and it still wasn't too hot," said Toto.

"So I called Emley and Fred. I told them to take a chance on getting out of the engine room."

COULDN'T FIT OUT

They opened the engine room door. A gust of wind slapped them.

But there were no flames. They were now on a deck with port holes. It was their chance to

But Fred couldn't fit through a porthole. He's a real big guy.

And we weren't going to leave him behind. We had been through this whole thing together," said

Toto.

So they climbed still higher, to the deck where they could jump off.

And again, there were no flames.

LIKE A MIRACLE

"The wind had blown the flames from out side of the ship to the other," said Toto. "I even was able to run to my room and get a picture of my wife and kid."

Like a miracle. They waved their flashlights. A light answered. A tug pulled alongside. They jumped

In St. Patrick's Hospital here, doctors treated the trio for shock.

Emley also needed care for his burns.

But Toto couldn't stay in his room. He had to attend dawn mass at the hospital chapel. He had to fulfill some of those promises made down there in the burning hell of

Ex-Midwife, 109, After 1,000, Eyes 'Home in Heaven'

MANCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — Aunt Josie Sizemore, 109-year-old former midwife, is mighty proud of the more than 1,000 babies she delivered "up and down them hollows and branches."

Even more proudly, she proclaims she has a "home in heaven that nobody can rob me of."

Reared an orphan, the sprightly widow observed her birthday last

November at nearby Ashers Fork, where she lives with a daughter.

And though she has outlived her husband by 43 years and is ready for that "home in heaven," she doesn't sit quietly by waiting. She gets plenty of exercise and occa-

500 direct descendants.

Only once has Aunt Josie left the southeastern Kentucky mountains to visit a doctor in Tennessee. That was her only visit to a doctor because "a doctor or lawyer according to the Good Book has as much

20 Times Own Weight

WASHINGTON — Development of a plastic float weighing 42 pounds that supports 20 times its own weight had given impetus to sonar experiments for underwater detection of submarines.

The plastic was developed to make possible support of heavy sonar equipment from a float that could be dropped into water from aircraft and later recovered.

The International Typographical Union was founded in 1832 and is the first and oldest labor union in the United States.

Magnesium Is Atomized Into Uniform Particles

CHICAGO — A method of atomizing molten magnesium into fine spherical uniform particles has been patented. It is based upon the discovery that the particles can be produced by adding small amounts of zirconium and large amounts of zinc to the magnesium to be atomized.

The resulting metal then is allowed to fall freely in a thin stream onto a steel disk that rotates rapidly in a nonreactive gas.

Low-Temperature Tar Produced From Lignite

ROCKDALE, Tex. — A low-temperature tar derived from the carbonization of lignite, or brown coal, at an aluminum plant near Rockdale is said to provide the nation's chemical industry with a new raw material.

Heretofore low-temperature tar was known to contain valuable chemical compounds, but their utilization has not been economically feasible because they were not available in commercial quantities.

Freight Cars Ordered With Aluminum Roofs

OTTAWA — The Canadian National Railways has ordered 1,750 freight cars with aluminum roofs after 10 years' experimental use. The aluminum roofs weigh about 700 pounds each compared with 2,000 pounds for the standard cars' steel roofs. Savings are said to result from a reduction of locomotive fuel costs and the cars' greater ton-loading capacity.

India plans to produce helicopters.

Rubber Check Artist Outwits the System

AMARILLO, Tex. 19 — The hot check artist Deputy Sheriff J. W. Caplan is looking for is really an artist.

An Amarillo grocery cashed what looked like a check which had been stamped with a check off.

protector machine. A closer and too-late look showed the red and black printing of the firm's name, and the stamped amount of the check, were drawn in by an artistic hand. The artist also painstakingly produced, with a pin, the minute holes with which a check protector machine pierces a check.

Later Meal Hours Mean Longer Siestas

MADRID — Standards, long the most persistent "night birds" in Europe, are beginning to discover the advantage of keeping early hours.

A survey has shown there is a growing tendency for meals and entertainment to begin and finish much earlier than old - timers would consider proper.

Foreign visitors usually are amazed and disconcerted by the late mealtimes observed. In Madrid, 4 p.m. is considered a normal hour for lunch, while dinner is served anywhere from 10 to 11:30 p.m.

"Afternoon" in Spain means anywhere from 5 to 8 p.m. and "matinee" performances in theaters and cinemas start at 7 p.m. Now, however, the average worker is going to bed much earlier than he would have 20 years ago.

Now—it's so easy to REDUCE

No starvation diets—No exercise! Eat what you want!—All you want!

Science now brings you an amazingly easy, safe, and quick way to lose pounds of excess, unwanted, and unwanted fat. It's the WAY-LESS Capsulab Reducing Plan. There are no drugs—no exercising—no dieting—no hunger pangs. You eat what you want—all you want!

The secret is a wonderful, non-fattening vegetable ingredient in each tiny WAY-LESS Capsulab. This element expands in the digestive tract and gives you that comforting feeling of having eaten well. The result is that you eat down on your food—you don't want to eat so much and you automatically lose weight. Many report losing 3 to 10 pounds the first week. More pounds vanish with continued use.

Loose Fat All Over WAY-LESS Capsulab are generously fortified with minerals and vitamins to help build rich red blood and energy. In fact, the dietary supplements in WAY-LESS Capsulab are more than in many a meal itself. Get started now and you'll be surprised how fast that ugly fat disappears from your stomach, legs, face, chest, neck, back, arms, thighs, ankles.

JUNIOR EDITORS

ANCIENT EGYPT—The Boy Scribe

Egyptian scribes, or writing experts, kept all sorts of records. To learn his job, a scribe had to study hard in school. He learned to read, to write and to draw.

Because he was well educated, a scribe would become an important official with special privileges. He wrote his lists on long rolls of papyrus in red and black. He made his own ink and kept many spare rolls of papyrus ready. Papyrus was made of reeds and used like paper. Around his neck was an official seal used to stamp important documents. Here is a young scribe at work.

Paste the picture down on cardboard and color with crayons or paints. Cut out the parts carefully. Attach the arm on top of the right shoulder with a fastener or pin. Then the scribe can move his arm along the scroll. Fold the ends forward on the dotted lines and the set will stand.

Junior Editors pay $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned and in case of duplication of ideas, the first submission will be accepted.

Stone Age Tribe Discovered in India

CALCUTTA — A tribe that has not yet progressed to the Stone Age has been found by anthropologists in the Bay of Bengal. They are the Onge people, numbering about 200, on densely forested Little Andaman Island, 700 miles south of here.

First greeted by showers of arrows, the scientists have gradually won the Onge's confidence. They are a nomadic people, living by hunting and fishing, and although Onge culture is backward, they have readily accepted such things as safety matches and gifts of fishhooks and knives.

They have learned to smoke tobacco in pipes made from claws of giant crabs and to drink tea twice a day, thus bridging the gap from the pre-Stone Age to modern practices. The dark-skinned, bare-bodied men and women are almost pygmies — about 4 feet 10 inches tall.

Spats Will Help Out

MONASKON, Va. (U)—Virginia's Commission of Fisheries had some very encouraging news for Rappahannock river oystermen whose crops were almost wiped out by fresh water from 1955 hurricanes. A record crop of baby oysters—known as spats—should rebuild the industry in the damaged area.

The misnamed American hemlock, unlike the Old World tree whose juices killed Socrates, is poisonous to neither man nor beast.

Soviets Inaugurate North Pole Post Offices

LONDON (U)—Moscow radio said today the Soviet Union can now supply stamp collectors with letters postmarked "The North Pole."

most northerly post offices have been set up at two Soviet research stations floating on polar ice islands known as "North Pole IV" and "North Pole V."

E. D. Ralfe, farmer near Eastcourt, South Africa, lost 24 cows poisoned by eating tulips.

Two Lives End

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (U)—Charles H. Knox, 81, parked his car and walked to the hospital to visit his dying wife. On the way he was struck down by a heart attack and died in the hospital shortly after, a few minutes before his wife.

Gotham Mayor Has High Hopes

Coal-Oil Strike May-End Today, 300 Firms Offer Drivers 27.5 Cent Hike

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner says he has "high hopes" that the city's coal and fuel oil drivers' strike will be settled today.

Hugh E. Sheridan, chairman of a mayor's citizens committee, said last night the 300 struck companies had submitted a new offer of a 27½-cent-an-hour package.

Wagner asked the teamsters union to give the offer its most serious consideration. He cited reports yesterday that some multiple dwellings would begin to exhaust their fuel in 24 hours, with hundreds of others running out of supplies "from hour to hour from then on."

The union said it would resume negotiations at 11 a.m. today.

Three thousand truck drivers, who deliver virtually all of the coal and 60 per cent of the fuel oil used in four of the city's five boroughs, began their walkout Sunday midnight.

Milestones in India will be marked in metric units, as quickly as possible.

Waterspout Kills 4

TSU, Japan (AP)—A giant waterspout engulfed a tugboat and eight dredges yesterday, sinking three, badly damaging the rest, and killing four men. Dazed survivors said the waterspout was more than a half mile in diameter and at times sucked water and flying spume 400 yards high. The tugboat and its dredges were seven miles off the Pacific Coast of Central Japan when the spout hit.

Thailand is promoting formation of sugar, metal and gunny-bag industries.

Traffic Violations Rise
3-Plus Times in State

LANSING (AP)—Traffic violations on Michigan streets and highways have more than tripled in the past two years, Sec. of State James M. Hare said today.

Hare said his records show a total of 361,000 convictions in 1935, compared to 198,000 in 1934 and 120,000 in 1933.

During 1935, he said, the department revoked 2,396 licenses, suspended 4,111, cancelled 840 and denied 35,318 applications.

Hare predicted moving violation convictions would approach a million a year as soon as additional staff members approved at last November's special legislative session are on the job and trained. The first group of clerks are now completing their training and the department will have 65 new clerks by May.

Australia and Japan
Sign Airline Agreement

TOKYO (INS)—Japan and Australia today signed an aviation agreement giving recognition to air services between the two countries.

The agreement permits Japan to extend air service to Australia and approves the continuation of operations in Japan of Australia's Qantas airlines.

Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu and Australian Charge d'Affaires A. B. Jamieson signed the agreement.

Chickens to Be Featured as Food Counter Specials

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chickens for broiling or frying will lead the hit parade of bargain specials in many of the nation's food stores and supermarkets this weekend.

Lower prices are the rule in many cities, too, for sirloin steak, beef rib roast, pork and lamb. Boneless chuck pot roast, chuck steak, boneless cross rib roast and fresh pork shoulders also occupy a prominent spot on the weekend special list. Turkeys are featured in some areas; swordfish steaks are among bargain-priced seafood items along the eastern seaboard.

What's more, an even more abundant supply of young chickens is indicated for the weeks ahead. Last November, major commercial producers around the country hatched 65 million chicks, or about 25 per cent more than a year earlier, and in December they started 71 million chicks, or 44 per cent more than a year ago.

Some of the November chicks are on supermarket counters now, and the bulk of the huge December crop will be on its way to U.S. dinner tables in March. Accordingly there's a good chance that prices will soon be even lower than they are today.

There aren't so many outstanding buys in produce this week. Some of the more popular fruits and vegetables are no longer as plentiful as they were a few weeks ago, and a severe cold wave in Florida has had a tendency to push citrus prices up.

Even so, there are some good buys for those who seek them. Grapefruit is in good supply in most markets. Despite the Florida frost, oranges and tangerines also offer excellent value, although here and there prices may be up a shade from the week before.

Market specialists have tagged potatoes, onions, lettuce, collards and kale as outstanding buys in vegetables, with Canadian turnips, beets and sweet potatoes listed as "good" buys. Other featured produce items: McIntosh apples, Cuban pineapples, Texas broccoli and new green cabbage.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has singled out grapefruit as its "food headliner" this week.

Lucky Family Wins
Its First Lucky Prize

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Doyce D. Luckey was just that yesterday.

Mrs. Luckey, working mother of three children, won the first holiday shopper vacation award, sponsored by downtown merchants. She accepted a check for $1,000 instead of a two-week expense-paid trip for two to Hawaii.

"I guess we'll just pay bills with it," she said. Mrs. Luckey said neither she nor her husband George, a truck driver, have been lucky before.

THE BERRYS

By Carl Grubert

Truman Says Chiang Lost China

WASHINGTON (INS)—Ex-President Harry S. Truman charges Chiang Kai-shek lost China by ignoring Gen. George C. Marshall's advice to form a coalition government with the Communists rather than try to beat them in battle.

Truman, in his new installment of memoirs in a national magazine, also acidly recalled his differences with Bernard Baruch when the latter served as U.S. representative on the United Nations Atomic Energy Committee.

The former chief executive said he ran into personal differences with Baruch because the "elder statesman" demanded policy-making powers and was too free with his advice.

Concerning U.S. dealings with Chiang Kai-shek, Truman described the actions of the Nationalist leader as those of "an old-fashioned warlord."

He declared that Marshall, who undertook a special mission to China in 1945-46 in an effort to unify the Asian nation, "accurately forecast the eventual failure of the Generalissimo's military campaign."

Adaption, Not Apathy Blamed for Reactions

CINCINNATI, Ohio (U)—It's not apathy which causes many people to shrug off the vital issues of the day, says Dr. Arthur G. Bills, head of the psychology department at the University of Cincinnati. It's really adaptation, the protective reaction against over-stimulation.

That's why so many people continue to drive at reckless speed in the face of a mounting death toll; to ignore calls from the blood banks, and to give civil defense only passing thought, he says.

"When persons are constantly subjected to horror scenes or highly emotional situations they will become impervious—removing the objectionable scenes from their consciousness."

Prosperity has something to do with it, too.

"People become more selfish, more bent on pleasure at all costs," he says. "They lose the fellow-feeling as they lose the need for help from others."

Truman asserted: "Chiang Kai-shek would not heed the advice of one of the greatest military strategists in history and lost to the Communists."

"That failure, in my opinion, and the defeat of the Nationalist Government of China were due primarily to their refusal to heed Marshall's advice."

Truman said one of the important contributing factors in the Nationalist defeat was that "the government of Chiang Kai-shek did not command the respect of the Chinese people."

He said: "The Generalissimo's attitude and actions were those of an old-fashioned warlord, and, as with warlords, there was no love for him among the people."

ONLY FOLLY

"There is no doubt in my mind that if Chiang Kai-shek had been only a little more conciliatory, an understanding could have been reached."

Answering critics of his China policy who he said wanted to "ram (unity) down their throats," Truman commented:

"It would have been folly, and it would be folly today, to attempt to impose our way of life on these huge areas by force. In 1945 and 1946, of all years, such thoughts would have been rejected by the American people before they were even expressed."

"That was the time when congressmen in Washington joined in the call to 'Get the Boys Back Home,' and our influence throughout the world waned as the millions of American soldiers were processed through the discharge centers."

Truman said that his "sole purpose" in sending Marshall to China was "to help carry out a program willingly subscribed to by the Chinese leaders . . . in no sense was it our intention to impose our will upon the Chinese people."

Claims Speed Guard Never Lost a Case

MARSHALL, Mo. (U)—That policeman's electronic gadget that nails you for speeding—is manufactured here, Roy D. Scheske, 45, former Marine and onetime electrical appliance salesman, developed the device. He makes it, with six employees, in a basement workshop of his ranch-style home.

"There have been over one and a half million arrests, and we haven't lost a case," he says. The device, which is used in many states, is small enough to be carried by hand in a case. It works off a pair of rubber tubes.

The policeman lays the tubes across the road at predetermined distances. When the car's front wheels hit the first tube a switch is closed and a stop watch starts. When the wheels hit the second tube, the watch is stopped. From the dial face of the watch the officer then takes down the rate of travel of the car. It's that simple.

Monkey Business Here

MISSOULA, Mont. (U)—Monkey business developed on a railroad trip when a monkey escaped from its express crate. It rode the rods of a baggage car 49 miles between Missoula and Drummond. Finally cornered at the passenger station and recaptured, the monkey was sent to its mates at the U.S. Public Health Laboratory, Hamilton, Mont.

Preference is growing in Israel for small European cars for private use.

Egyptian Chief Ill

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (U)—Abd El Aziz Ghailth, 41, the Egyptian minister of agriculture, was resting in a hospital today following an emergency appendectomy yesterday. Ghailth, of Cairo, is also Egypt's director of soil conservation.

He was attending a week's training course at the U.S. Salinity Laboratory, where crops are tested for their adaptability to desert areas.

City sweepers went on strike at Siliguri, India. They demanded maternity benefits.

'Cousin' Nat Patton Has Severe Heart Attack

CROCKETT, Tex. (U)—Nat Patton, the Texas congressman who addressed a King and Queen of England as "Cousin George" and "Cousin Elizabeth" and thereby gained international notice, today was under treatment for a severe heart attack.

He suffered the attack Tuesday night. Doctors say that if no complications develop in the next 10 days to 2 weeks, Patton has a good chance for recovery.

Dream Cars and Current Models Sparkle at Motorama

Fitzgerald (left), publisher of The Pontiac Press; Mrs. Critchfield and Mrs. Fitzgerald during a special preview. The show will be moved to Miami, Fla., Jan. 24 for a Feb. 4 opening, and later will appear in Los Angeles, Calif., San Francisco and Boston, Mass.

AEROTRAINS IN MINIATURE—Singer Patti Page, with youngsters Roger Wrubel and Joan Tarshis, look in wide-eyed wonder at the racy lines of another GM product. The train recently broke the railroad speed record between Detroit and Chicago.

The colorful exhibition displays the latest models in GM cars and the newest products. Next stop will be Miami, Fla., where the Motorama will again be on display.

Throngs Awed by Lavish Scope of Annual Exhibit

own dealer will be happy to take over that job by so slight a nudge as a telephone call or a personal visit to his immaculate emporium. (adv.)

Never before have the five companies made models that glisten, gleam and shine like these.

It would be a shame to drive one of them across Park Avenue, and leaving a spot on one should be punishable by something just short of the death penalty.

As a matter of fact, an attendant is slowly walking around constantly rubbing out the finger prints left by the curious, the careless and the calloused.

ENTHUSIASM HIGH

The enthusiasm for this show is unbelievable. Probably the Waldorf-Astoria is the greatest hotel in the world and yet it is dominated by this gigantic GM set-up and outpouring. There are always a few special displays and this year Pontiac and Chevrolet have models right in the center of the main lobby. The Pontiac is a pink and black convertible and no one can miss it.

The public showing opens today but there won't be any great crush or rush than there was yesterday.

There will simply be a sharp decline in ermine, jewelry and longnettes but both groups will be equally wide-eyed over everything that has been poured into this sumptuous show.

BIG CHIEF HARLOW THERE

In compliance with an ancient custom that dates back to Chief Pontiac and his annual pow-wow on Apple Island in Orchard Lake, the Wednesday assembly was greeted by Big Chief Harlow H. Curcio and the two executive vice presidents.

Of course one of these is Oakland County's own Louis Clifford Goad and the other is Albert Bradley.

The Motorama movie is shown on a screen 50 by 25 feet and as the picture ends, this swings upward and reveals a stage 70 feet wide with dancing girls in action on an overpass which crosses a highway of tomorrow.

cation has photographs of the wives of several of General Motors' top ranking executives. Prominent in the list are Helen Critchfield and Erika Monaghan.

Personally, I nominate them as two of the most attractive women at the show, irrespective of husbands' connection or business affiliations.

This year's crash on Wednesday was the opening day's all time record. The shindig should have been staged in the Michigan Stadium.

But Pontiac, Michigan can be very happy over the crowds as it shows the interest in automobiles continues unabated. That always augurs well for the City of Pontiac.

FIRST-HAND GLIMPSE—The luxurious Buick "Centurion" is the topic under discussion between General Motors President Harlow H. Curcio and Actress Audrey Meadows as she sits in the front seat of the "dream car" at the annual Motorama display in New York City. Curcio has called the exhibition "by far the finest indoor show we have ever produced."

WATCH PREVIEW SHOW—The possible pattern of highway travel of the future is dramatized along the sides of a giant room as a large audience views a fast-moving stage show during the preview of the General Motors Motorama of 1956.

Addresses Red Cross Chapter

County's UF Problems Cited by Official

The biggest problem in raising money for the United Fund lies in communities where a large share of the residents are employed in other areas, the Executive Committee of the Oakland County was told this week.

The statement was made by Dwyer Sump, executive director of the Oakland County Townships United Fund, who addressed the group on solutions to fund-raising problems and coordination of UF member agencies.

Vets View Operations Over Closed TV Circuit

EAST LANSING (INS)—A television showing of dental surgery on a dog marked a "first" in the field of veterinary medicine at Michigan State University yesterday.

More than 400 Midwestern veterinarians gathered for their 33rd annual post graduate conference, saw the first closed circuit telecasting of animal surgery techniques.

Saves Man From Death

CHICAGO (INS)—Albert R. McDowell, 51, fainted and toppled onto Chicago Transit Authority subway tracks at a downtown station as a southbound train roared toward him.

Robert Harper, 45, CTA guard, jumped to the tracks and, holding McDowell with one arm, flagged the train to a halt with the other yesterday.

The quick-thinking guard saved McDowell's life.

TIMBER—Two northern Michigan lumberjacks fell another aspen, the tree that occupies a top position in the state's forest economy. Aspen, once shunned in favor of pines and hardwoods in timbering operations, now supplies the bulk of Michigan's timber products and is a valuable source of deer food. Some 250,000 cords of aspen were taken from northern lower peninsula forests alone in the 1954-55 fiscal year.

Newspaper Ads Jump 18 Per Cent Over 1954 Period

NEW YORK (INS)—Newspaper advertising for the first 11 months of 1955 was 18 per cent higher than the total for the same period of 1954, Printers' Ink magazine reported Wednesday in its national advertising index.

This topped total advertising in all media for the first 11 months, which was 12 per cent ahead of the year ago period.

In November, newspaper advertising was 19 per cent higher than the same month in 1954, the magazine said.

Network radio was down 25 per cent; outdoor advertising down 4 per cent and farm papers down 2 per cent.

2 State Men on 'Salem'

NEW YORK (INS)—Seaman Milton J. Karlovic of Midland and Third Mate Edward G. McMinn, of Cheboygan were among 39 crewmen listed as aboard the tanker Salem Maritime when she sailed Jan. 11 from Boston, Cities Service Co. reported.

Mitchell Says '56 Will See Spread of Layoff Pay Plans

MIDLAND (INS)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell says 1956 "will be an extremely good year insofar as industrial peace goes" and will witness the continued spread of layoff pay plans in industry.

Moreover, he said, the economic problems of the farmer are going to be solved and the economic picture in the nation as a whole will continue to improve.

Mitchell made the predictions in answer to questions from his audience following an address last night before the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

"This is going to be an extremely good year insofar as industrial peace goes," he said. "During 1955 labor and management conducted the most difficult bargaining sessions one can conceive of and last year was one of relative industrial peace."

GOOD AS 1955

"In terms of economic advancement," Mitchell said, "1956 is going to be as good as 1955, and 1955 was the record year."

The labor secretary said layoff pay programs, which he described as "supplemental unemployment compensation," were adopted "in some form by 140 companies last year." Other industries will adopt such plans this year, he predicted.

The general economic well-being of this country will furnish the solution to the problems of the farmer, Mitchell declared. Because most U. S. citizens are well off financially, the economic lot of the farmer is bound to improve, he explained.

"Otherwise," he said, "it (the farm problem) would be impossible of solution."

Mitchell lauded the recent merger of the AFL and CIO unions. The merger, he said, "will bring about a greater sense of responsibility to labor leaders and tend to eliminate jurisdictional problems among unions."

Earlier, in his speech, Mitchell praised the Eisenhower administration, which he said "has unleashed the colossal power of American enterprise and made real that which was before only

On the stage is a motel of the same period with a glass elevator and a sumptuously lighted court while the orchestra and a chorus are performing in a sunken garden at the rear of the motel. Here is the Caliph of Baghdad whisked centuries forward into the land of tomorrow.

Strike Time Losses Lowest Since War

An average of only 10.2 days were lost by each worker who was out on strike during 1955, says a report by Commerce Clearing House, national reporting authority on tax and business law.

This figure sets a new low mark for any of the post-war years, and it compares with the 10-year average loss of 15.5 man-days.

Averages for other years ran from 25.2 man-days in 1946 to 10.3 man-days in 1951, according to records of work stoppages taken from a Bureau of Labor Statistics report.

The low average in 1955 was reached, even though the 2,750,000 workers involved were more than the 10-year average of 2,661,000.

There were 4,200 strikes compared with the decade average of 4,315, and many of the stoppages were of short duration, such as those which occurred during contract negotiations in the auto and steel industries, the CCH report concludes.

Kavanagh Driving Trial Postponed Indefinitely

LANSING (INS)—The unsafe driving trial of State Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh, scheduled to come up yesterday, has been postponed indefinitely.

The Attorney General, already on probation for getting five traffic tickets within 18 months, was charged with unsafe driving after he collided with another auto at a Lansing intersection.

May Be Irish in Name, but Not in Background

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (INS)—Axel Leary is a name as Irish as they come—or so thought a Dublin, Ireland genealogy firm.

The firm offered to supply information on Leary's "noble Irish background" and a copy of the family coat of arms for a nominal sum.

Some searching would have been in order. Leary says his parents are natives of Finland. The family name was changed from Leary,

Chief of Police Promises Action on Future Status of City Patrolman

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley said yesterday the case of once-suspended Pontiac patrolman James L. Ockerman "was still pending and would be taken care of soon."

Ockerman was suspended Oct. 14 by Straley for alleged misconduct and neglect of duty. He is presently back on the payroll of the department and assigned to a regular beat, said Straley.

Ockerman's case was sent to the Police Trial Board as provided in the City Charter. But Ockerman chose to come under the State Veterans Preference Act, which allows war veterans to have a hearing before the City Commission.

Straley said he was gathering the necessary evidence to form a report to submit to the Commission but did not know when the report would be filed.

Policeman Shooting May Stir Gun Probe

DETROIT (INS)—The shooting of a 27-year-old Detroit policeman today prompted Mayor Albert E. Cobo to urge a study of laws governing the acquisition of pistols and revolvers.

The mayor, speaking of the slaying Tuesday night of Patrolman Sidney O'Connor in a barroom gun battle with a bandit, said:

"This has been a terrible thing. I don't know whether there's anything we can do about it, but it's gotten to the point where these robbers don't just hold up people any more without shooting someone, too."

Cobo said he personally did not know whether existing laws were strict enough to prevent guns from falling into the hands of criminals.

He said he planned to confer with Police Commissioner Edward Piggins about the possibility of seeking legislation to tighten gun curbs.

TV Panelists to Analyze School-Building Program

Three Pontiac Board of Education members and three private citizens will engage in a panel discussion to be sponsored Monday by Wayne University over ultra-high-frequency television channel 56 from Detroit.

Slated to discuss the Pontiac school-building program are Board members Monroe M. Osmon, Mrs. Lola B. King and Robert B. Oliver.

They will be questioned by John W. Hirtzinger, Chamber of Commerce assistant manager; Mrs. William Wright, president of the Citywide Parent Council.

Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, schools' building coordinator, will provide technical information.

Three general topics will probably be considered, said Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer—how it's determined where and what size schools will be, how the school layout is planned to meet expected needs and how planned construction this year of eight multi-purpose rooms will fit into the program.

The half-hour broadcast will start at 8 p.m. Three other board members are slated to appear on a similar program Jan. 30.

Rapist Murders Toronto Girl, 13

Baffled Police Hunting for Clues in Latest Sex Crime in Ontario

TORONTO (INS)—A 13-year-old girl returning home from a dancing lesson was throttled with her own scarf, raped and dumped on a deserted waterfront street corner last night. It was the latest in a rash of sex crimes in Ontario province.

Four hours after Linda Lamplin left the dancing-school, a passing fuel truck driver, Douglas Judges, discovered her body sprawled across a curb. The knotted green scarf cut a quarter-inch into her neck.

"There wasn't a clue around," said one police official. "We'll have to start from scratch."

SEARCH CONTINUES

Police are still seeking the man who raped 5-year-old Susan Cadieux and left her to die of exposure in a London, Ont., lumberyard Jan. 6. Four rapes have been reported in Hamilton since just before Christmas.

Ontario Coroner Smirle Lawson said Linda had been strangled before she was raped. He added that she apparently was tossed from a car as it was driven along the well-lighted but lonely street.

The pretty brunette was still wearing the brown coat, brown skirt and pink V-necked sweater in which she had left her home about 5:30 p.m. She joined nine other girls in her class in the school, in midtown. None of them saw her after she left for home at 7:30 p.m.

Speaking Class Begins; 10 Men Enroll for Study

Ten men have enrolled in a current eight-week course in public speaking conducted by members of the Pontiac Y Toastmasters Club, according to Speechcraft Chairman Floyd Levely.

The first session this week was led by Levely with the assistance of Sidney Olson who spoke on "Success Through Speech." George Crabtree whose topic was "What is a Speech?" and Arthur Canon who addressed the group on the subject "We Learn by Doing."

The course will be conducted on successive Tuesday evenings through March 6. Purpose, according to Levely, is to give local residents comprehensive instruction in public speaking.

Enrollees include Wayne Reeves, James McCreight, Gus Courtes, William Johnson, Glen Walters, Fred Sartell, W. W. Vandercreek, G. A. Smith, Lee Hunt and Russell Blackett.

Parakeet Rings to Wake Detroiters in House Blaze

DETROIT (INS)—An alarm sounded by a pet parakeet early today probably saved the lives of a Detroit couple when their apartment was swept by a fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seely told police they were aroused by the constant ringing of a bell.

The couple found the bedroom filling with smoke and rushed into the dining room where they found their pet parakeet pecking at the bell on a trapeze in its cage. Firemen quickly extinguished the blaze before it could spread to a downstairs apartment.

Oklahoma Convict Gives Eyes to Blind as Last Request Before Electrocution

MCLESTER, Okla. (AP)—Hurbie Franklin Fairris Jr., born of a Texas desperado family, died in the Oklahoma electric chair yesterday for the slaying of an Oklahoma City policeman.

The 22-year-old Dallas hoodlum proclaimed to the last his innocence of the death of Detective Bennie F. Cravatt, shot during an attempted supermarket holdup July 16, 1954.

BATTLE IS OVER

Fairris' execution ended a long legal battle for his life. Numerous appeals and two reprieves by Gov. Raymond Gary delayed the electrocution. He was convicted Oct. 21, 1954, and originally was scheduled to die October 18, 1955.

Four final pleas for clemency were turned down yesterday, eight hours before Fairris went to the chair. Fairris, pronounced dead at 12:08 a.m., was baptized into the Catholic Church just two hours before the execution.

GAVE HIS EYES

The young slayer achieved one of his last wishes, expressed two months ago. Immediately after he was pronounced dead, his body was rushed to the prison hospital, where his eyes and aorta, the main artery leading from the heart, were removed. The eyes were then speeded to an eye bank — which demanded anonymity by highway patrol relays and plane. Arrangements had been made for a cornea transplant within 48 hours to restore some person's failing eyesight.

Fairris also had consented to removal of the aorta, which will go to the aorta bank in Oklahoma City, where sections are being transplanted successfully to prolong lives of persons with defects of the artery.

FATHER IS LATE

Fairris' father Hurbie Franklin Fairris Sr. lost a race against time and a winter blizzard in his effort to reach the prison before his son died. He had spent the day at the State Capitol in Oklahoma City pleading for his son's life, then started for McAlester, 135 miles away, by car.

Roads, made slick by snow which drifted over eastern Oklahoma highways, slowed his trip and the father called from Wewoka, about 60 miles away, about an hour before the execution, unable to make it.

Asked by Warden H. C. McLeod if he had any last words, Fairris grinned, waved and replied: "It's all for the kicks if that's the way they want it."

Fort Custer Hospital Now State Operated

LANSING (AP)—The state now has possession of the idle Fort Custer Station Hospital at Battle Creek and signaled full speed ahead on converting it into a hospital for 800 mentally retarded patients.

The State Mental Health Department said Secretary of Army Brucker had signed a lease giving the state use of the institution for three and a half years.

In Detroit, Wayne County Training School's administrative board has adopted a formal policy on granting land to the state for an institution for mentally retarded children.

The board said it would grant the state part of its 1,000-acre plot near Northville provided the state agrees to "complete physical separation" of the two institutions.

Navy May Use Deaf Personnel

Working Around Noisy Jets as Ground Crews Seen as Possibility

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy is exploring the possibility of using totally deaf persons as ground crews for jet planes whose engines may develop too much noise for human endurance.

One objective of research now in progress at the naval air station at Pensacola, Fla., Navy officials said today in an interview, is to find out whether intense noise would cause undue physical or psychological damage to people who can't actually hear it.

They said some preliminary evidence indicates that even among the totally deaf, close exposure to such intense noise might impair a man's balance by affecting certain mechanisms in the ear.

Dr. H. E. Page, chief of the office of Naval Research's Psychological Sciences Division, said work with the totally deaf constitutes only one phase of extensive studies aimed at coping with jet noises which "are quickly approaching the utmost limit of human endurance."

"When this point is reached—and engines capable of such noise levels are now being tested—there will be imminent the complete disruption of all human activity in the immediate vicinity of aircraft using such engines," Page said.

The problem is more intense for ground crews because pilots can be insulated to a large extent from the noise.

Page said Navy-supported research at Harvard shows promise of developing improved "muffs and plugs" for the ears which ground crewmen could wear without discomfort and pressure.

Secretary of Labor Tours State Plants

BAY CITY (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell is in Michigan on a 3-day tour of the industrial rich Saginaw Valley.

Climaxing his visit will be a speech Friday night at a "Salute to Eisenhower" Republican dinner in Flint.

The cabinet member had a busy schedule of visits with labor and management representatives as well as with party leaders.

Today he tours the Dow Chemical Co. plant in Midland and will have an informal lunch in the Dow cafeteria with workers.

This afternoon he is visiting the Saginaw steering gear division of General Motors Corp. Friday he will visit the Buick plant in Flint.

To Repeat Plane Rides

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—The Grand Haven Aviation Club's successful "penny a pound" plane ride benefit last Saturday for the March of Dimes will be repeated this Saturday. Club officials said 16 pilots used 12 planes in hauling 550 passengers — 32.5 tons — and cleared $638 for the polio fund. They said the second "penny per pound" air rides over the city will accommodate an estimated 1,000 persons who were forced to miss the original event.

Seek Eye Glasses

BORN EN ROUTE — Unimpressed by her surroundings, little Maria Raffaella Andreina Giacometti yawns during picture-taking session as she arrived at New York with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luigi Giacometti aboard the liner Andrea Doria from Italy. She was born after her parents sailed en route to Providence, R. I., where they will live with friends. Luigi, a sociology student who hopes to enter Boston College next fall, and his wife are from Gubbio, Italy.

Movie Planned About the Death of Emmett Till

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Post says a film company is negotiating with two Mississippi men acquitted of killing Emmett Till, Negro youth, for use of their names in a motion picture dealing with the case.

The newspaper quoted A. Lloyd Royal, president of Panorama Pictures, of Meridian, Miss., as saying he expected to reach agreement soon with J. W. Milam and Roy Bryant. Royal said he already had a signed release from Mrs. Mamie Bradley, of Chicago, the boy's mother, to make the film, to be known as "The Emmett Till Story."

Shooting of the film is expected to start in about four weeks in the Money and Sumner, Miss., area, the Post said.

Milam and Bryant are accused of killing Till on the allegation that the youth, vacationing in the South, "wolf whistled" at a white woman.

State-Based Jet Fighter Gave Chase to Flying Saucer Over Saginaw Bay

DETROIT (U) — The former chief flying saucer investigator for the Air Force has revealed that a mysterious flying object was sighted over Saginaw Bay July 28, 1952 and was tracked by radar at 1,400 miles an hour.

Edward J. Ruppelt, former head of the Air Force's project Blue Book, an operation of the air technical intelligence center, tells the story based on a report in government files.

Ruppelt has written a book entitled "The Report on Unidentified Flying Objects," which is released today by Doubleday & Co. In the book, Ruppelt calls the Michigan case "one that the most ardent skeptic would have trouble explaining."

There was a flurry of saucer reports throughout Michigan in late July, 1952. On the night of July 28, more than 75 persons called Selridge Air Base at Mt.

Clemens to report "strange objects" in the sky.

Ruppelt's account said at 9:30 that night an Air Defense Command radar station in central Michigan got plots on a target coming south across Saginaw Bay in the Thumb Area at 625 miles an hour. No such plane showed on flight plans.

Here, condensed, is Ruppelt's account.

Three F94s were in the area and were told to intercept the target. One pilot started climbing on an intercept heading that the ground controller gave him. When the F94 was at 20,000 feet, the ground controller told the pilot to turn right.

The pilot started to bring the F94 around and that instant both he and the radar operator in the back seat saw that they were turning toward a large bluish-white light, "many times larger than a star." In that next second or two the light took on a reddish tinge and slowly began to get smaller as if it were moving away.

Just then the ground controller called and said that he still had both the F94 and the unidentified target on his scope and that the target had just made a tight 180-degree turn. The turn was too tight for a jet, and at the speed the target was traveling it would have to be a jet if it were an airplane.

Now the target was heading back north. The F94 pilot gave the engine full power and cut in the afterburner to give chase. The radar operator got a good radar lock-on. Later he said, "It was just as solid a lock-on as you get from a B-36."

The object was at four miles range and the F94 was closing slowly. For 30 seconds they held the lock-on; then, just as the ground controller was telling the pilot that he was closing in, the light became brighter and the object pulled away to break the lock-on. Without breaking his transmission, the ground controller asked if the radar operator still had the lock-on because on his scope the distance between the two blips had almost doubled in one sweep of the antenna.

This indicated that the unknown target had almost doubled its speed in a matter of seconds.

Ruppelt, an aircraft research engineer, draws no conclusions in his book, but he asks: "What was it? It obviously wasn't a balloon or a meteor. It might have been another airplane except that in 1952 there was nothing flying except a few experimental airplanes that were far from Michigan, that could so easily outdistance an F94.

Williams Takes Iowa Challenge

Governor Goads Hoegh to Enter Decathlon and 'Political Wrestling'

ANN ARBOR (U)—To Gov. Leo Hoegh of Iowa: Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams accepts your challenge for a duel for charity—but he'd like to choose some of the weapons.

He suggests a sort of political decathlon with athletic high points.

The Governor didn't receive your challenge until lunchtime yesterday, just before he was to speak to a conference of pastors here. He allowed as how he was "much flattered" that you would think he'd be competition in a swimming match at all. After all, he notes you were a varsity swimmer at the State University of Iowa.

When told that an SUI professor suggested the match last night, and Hoegh agreed, Gov. Williams said he liked the idea of competition for the March of Dimes.

But, he said, "It should be in the nature of a decathlon to include swimming, rowing, wrestling with the legislature, executive desk pounding and so on..."

Gov. Williams, a Princeton man, said that his varsity experience was in rowing and "the only time an oarsman got into the water was when he missed a stroke and caught a crab."

Williams, first four-time governor in Michigan history, added: "I'm not much of an athlete but I'm a strong competitor."

The gubernatorial swimming match was suggested by Prof. William Porter Tuesday at a meeting of the American Assn. of University Professors. He said it could be a benefit affair with proceeds going to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Generals Take Off Uniform —Then Write Criticisms

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — Old soldiers may fade away but not always quietly.

Three of the most famous generals of recent years — Douglas MacArthur, Omar Bradley and Matthew B. Ridgway — had some critical things to say once they were out of uniform about the way the man in the White House handled the armed forces.

The latest is Ridgway who, in a current national magazine article, makes a slashing attack on the Eisenhower administration's treatment of the Army and plainly implies President Eisenhower misrepresented him before Congress.

MAC WAS FIRST

MacArthur was the first to sound off, and with the loudest repercussions. After President Truman sacked him, he blasted the President's handling of the Korean War and kept on blasting. That was in 1951.

Any fading he did from the newspaper headlines wasn't noticeable until after the Republicans' 1952 convention where some delegates thought he ought to be president.

This weekly magazine seems to have an affinity for old generals. That is where Bradley, like Ridgway, raised a cautioning voice. But Bradley was far less critical than Ridgway about Eisenhower's ideas on defense.

BRADLEY SECOND

Bradley had been made chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff by Truman. Even though Bradley was an old Army pal of Eisenhower, the new President seemed determined to get rid of as many Truman appointees as possible.

He decided to let Bradley retire at age 60 and replace him as chairman of the Joint Chiefs with Adm. Arthur W. Radford. On Aug. 19, 1953, four days after he had stepped out of military life, Bradley's story appeared in the magazine.

Eisenhower, anxious to fill a Republican campaign promise to cut government spending, began cutting into military spending by five billion dollars. Eisenhower argued this was more defense at less cost.

ISSUES WARNING

Bradley cautioned against letting security be endangered by too much economy. He acknowledged he had made a mistake himself in setting defense spending sights too low before the Korean War.

Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense Wilson did some of their economizing at the expense of the Army, Ridgway, while still Army chief of staff, protested to Congress about this.

Eisenhower didn't seem to appreciate Ridgway's criticism. He called it "parochial." Ridgway, 60 last year, could have been kept on staff, Eisenhower let him retire last year.

CUTS THE ARMY

Now, in this article, Ridgway says the administration's cuts in the Army were "almost entirely" for economic and political reasons, not for military ones. He said "pressure" was put on him to persuade him to go along with the cuts.

He says he was baffled when, despite his protests, Eisenhower told Congress the Joint Chiefs of Staff were unanimously behind his military program, which included cuts in the Army.

Reds Want Visitors, Soviet Tells Irish

BELFAST—Westerners now are welcome to see the way the Russians live, members of the Northern Ireland Soviet Friendship Society were told in Belfast.

The speaker was Ivan Ippolitov, of the Russian Embassy in London.

"We want your people to know the truth about our country," he said. "We want visitors to see how we live. They can give us their criticisms and we will listen to them."

Under this new policy, the Soviets are encouraging an increased exchange of visitors to strengthen ties of friendship and understanding, he said, replying to the toast of "Peace and Friendship."

One of Russia's objectives is to double living space and housing accommodations in cities in the next 10 years, Ippolitov declared. He was the first Soviet diplomat ever to visit Northern Ireland.

'I Apologize, Officers,' Kindly Lady Tells Police

PHILADELPHIA — A kindly old lady apologized to the Police Department yesterday for all the fuss she caused over $38,564 in stocks and bonds that she thought had been stolen.

It was all due to a lapse of memory, 71-year-old Mary Wright explained. The securities were tucked away in a safety deposit box, neatly wrapped as she had left them.

Miss Wright called at her bank yesterday, looked in her safe deposit box and there were the securities. She said she could not remember putting them there.

Descendant to Share Castle With Ghosts

ABERDEEN, Scotland—Drumnor Castle, complete with its 13 ghosts, has been bought as a home by the Hon. Margaret Forbes-Sempill, noted horsewoman. Miss Forbes-Sempill is a descendant of the castle's builder, first Lord of the Forbes Clan in Aberdeenshire.

The castle was built in the 15th century when the Gordons and Forbes clans were feuding. After the Forbes clan had been defeated and the castle sacked, the Gordons and Forbes agreed to get together and sign a treaty of amity, and 15 Gordons came to Drumnor.

The Forbes had a secret signal: if their chief suspected treachery he was to stroke his beard. All went well until he did so. Then each Forbes drew his dirk and slew the Gordon next to him. It is their spirits that are said to haunt the banquet hall to this day.

Mice infesting Swaziland have consumed cotton crops and cleared 1,500 acres of rice, A. J. Ackermann reported on his return to Paarl, South Africa.

Farmer Works Longest — Laborers the Least

WASHINGTON — The Census Bureau said today the farmer puts in the longest work week, and the ordinary laborer the shortest.

The report said the long-term trend toward a shorter work week affects all major occupations.

The Census Bureau said that since 1947 the average work week of farm laborers has declined from 53 hours to 49 hours in mid-1955. However, farmers and farm managers were reported working an average 57.5 hours in mid-1955.

The average work week in non-agricultural industries was said to have declined from 42 hours in 1947 to about 41 hours in 1955.

shorter hours than men in all major occupation groups.

The bureau gave these average work weeks for mid-1955: Professional and technical male workers 45.1 hours, men clerical workers 40.8, women clerical workers 37.6, men sales workers 42, women sales workers 33.3 hours, men machine operators 42.6, women household workers 36.1, ordinary laborers excluding farm and mine workers a group where there was no figure for women, averaged 37.6.

TV May Solve Traffic Snarling

Detroit Expert Endorses Video Network to Spot Collisions, Breakdowns

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alger F. Mayo, director of Detroit's traffic department, has said television can help solve traffic congestion on superhighways.

"We are firmly convinced that television is the key to the most effective control plan possible for keeping movement on superhighways free and rapid," Mayo said in a talk prepared for the highway research board, a national organization of highway engineers.

He said more experiments are needed to make sure the initial appraisal, based on six months' tests in Detroit, is not too optimistic.

In the Detroit experiment, TV cameras operated by remote control were installed at key spots on two superhighways and traffic was kept under steady observation at viewing areas.

Citing an example in which officials thus spotted a stalled truck, Mayo said it was promptly towed away and in 10 minutes traffic was back to normal.

"An ordinary rear end collision during a rush hour period on one of these (superhighway) facilities," he said, "can and does have a far more reaching effect upon traffic than the most serious collision occurring on a surface street."

"The instantaneous buildup of congestion behind such an accident reaches staggering proportions."

Beautiful Beach—but You Can't Get Close to It

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Copacabana is a beautiful beach. It's world-famous. The only trouble is getting to it.

Traffic to the beach is a mess. In Rio's current 100-degree heat wave, people stand in long lines to get aboard buses for the shore. Then the loaded buses wait in long lines to file into the tiny area behind the beach. Coming back the lines are longer and the day hotter and junior tired.

The trouble is that Copacabana is a long, narrow area—three miles long and three blocks deep—jammed in between the mountains and the sea. All traffic has to filter along three streets parallel with the beach.

The heat wave traffic jam touched off complaining editorials in Rio papers. The editorials fired up plans to improve traffic. Buses are barred from the street along the beach. Each of the other streets will be made one way to carry buses and streetcars. (In a town where a Buick costs $12,000 and the average wage is $100 a month, streetcars and buses carry most of the traffic.)

No thought has been given to really speeding up the beach front traffic. A driver likes to go slow so he can look at that tanned girl in the red bathing suit.

The average American is consuming food at the rate of 1,520 pounds a year, and in the past 20 years food spending has increased from 23 per cent of his disposable income to 37 per cent.

Bob Considine Says:

Ailing Las Vegas Entices Working Class

LOS ANGELES (INS)—The wind changed and chased the smog out of the Los Angeles basin. A heavenly body which old-timers identified as the sun shone forth so clearly that you could read the newspapers and recognize members of your immediate family.

"Porgy and Bess Big Hit in Russian," a headline read. Naturally, its top tune fits Soviet diplomatic actions and promises like a glove. The name of the song: "It Ain't Necessarily So."

Speaking of smog, tourism has been greatly helped because of it. The roads and aerial paths across the Sierra Madre to Palm Springs, Las Vegas and other desert spots tend to be clogged when the smog curtain lowers on L.A., but it's not one-way traffic. The prices drive them back to town.

Some of our friends with the foreign airlines seem to have gotten a distorted notion of how eager the Angeleno is to escape the sooty curse of his industrial progress.

Sabena, KLM and Scandinavian Airlines have set up shop here to whisper sweet nothings about Belgium, The Netherlands, Stockholm, Copenhagen, Oslo and the Congo in his ears.

SUCKER MONEY
And speaking of Las Vegas, there's nothing wrong with it that a ton of fresh money couldn't fix. But it has to be sucker money, not money to build new places for the suckers to be suckers in. America's neon-lighted Monte Carlo simply overbuilt.

Three of the last four big places built there are ready for Cain's warehouse. Not even the heavy bankrolls in the Sands Hotel group or the lure of Maurice Chevalier could keep the Dunes open as a casino and cabaret.

The big spender of Circa 1944 to 1945 is gone or has Cirrhosis. The medium spender is tapped out or is saving his money for a color TV, or something. The big campaign in Vegas is to harvest the working class that never figured it could afford such dallying.

At least one airline is a willing accessory to the Las Vegas survival program. For $27.50 it gives you round-trip ticket from L.A. free champagne (California) on the plane, two cocktails and dinner at the Showboat Casino, the right to watch the floor show, and $10

ON THE SAFE SIDE

It may be the beginning of mass-production gambling. But to be on the safe side, Tom McGinty, one of the principal owners of the Showboat and of an earlier and greater gold mine, Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn, has opened a plushy branch office at Havana's Nacional Hotel—one hour from the dice-hungry hordes that fret in Miami Beach with nothing to shoot except horses and Cha-Cha instructors.

Municipal Judge Julian Beck of Van Nuys, Calif., restored a measure of reason to the times this week. There stood before him a young man named Vermillion Stewart who had come all the way from El Paso, Tex., in the hope of seeing or meeting Liberace.

Stewart was nabbed by cops after vaulting Liberace's back fence. Judge Beck gave him 25 days and ordered a psychiatric examination.

Girl, 14, in Pie Contest

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—Cheboygan County's entry in the state cherry pie baking contest Feb. 9-10 at Grand Rapids is Merle Wagner, 14, a Cheboygan High School freshman. Merle, youngest girl in the county test, comments: "I wish I could make pie as good as my mother." Her parents operate a Cheboygan restaurant.

Dividend Declared

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Directors of Union Bank of Michigan have declared a 20 per cent stock dividend, increasing capitalization $157,000 at their annual meeting. The dividend, equal to one-fifth of a share or one share for each five held, will be payable Jan. 31, if authorized by the Michigan Banking Department. It will bring capital stock of the bank to $942,000. The bank's total capital and surplus will be $2,000,000.

Road Financing Topic of Experts

County Planning Group Schedules Session for January 25

Three engineering and economic experts will discuss financing new highway construction in Michigan and Oakland County during a special meeting slated by the County Planning Commission Jan. 25.

Attending the session will be Prof. John Kohl, chairman of the University of Michigan's Transportation Institute; Prof. H. H. Frisinger, University of Toledo and author of "Michigan State Highway Expenditure Policy;" and Dr. Robert H. Pealy, Institute of Public Administration.

According to Planning Commission Director George N. Skrubba, the discussion is intended to explain from a national and state viewpoint the current and proposed highway building programs, review highway-financing methods open to the county and state and summarize types of legislation that would yield a sound program.

Interested persons have been invited to attend the round table at 1:30 p.m. on the fifth floor of the county Office Building, 1 Lafayette St.

Other scheduled commission business includes election of 1956 officers. Current officers are J. Robert F. Swanson, chairman; Roy F. Goodspeed, vice chairman; and Ralph A. Main, secretary.

Service stars were awarded to 33 Cub Scouts of Pack 66 at a meeting at LeBaron School Tuesday evening.

Boys receiving stars were Robert Bradshaw, William Deacon, Leslie Smith, Phillip Karmogian, Wayne Daniels, Elwyn Tater, George Brandon, William Erdilla, Richard Atfield, Darryl Kaye, John Manuel, Larry Westphal, Bruce Mann, Howard Kuhn, Rodney Cotter, Michael Doty, Michael Trent and James Leahy.

Pack 66 will be presented with its new charter on Feb. 9.

Pick William Jones Credit Union Head

William J. Jones was elected president of the Oakland County Employees Credit Union last night at the annual meeting in the Elks Temple. He succeeds James W. Hunt.

Robert C. Miller was elected vice president, William A. Webb, re-elected treasurer and Mrs. Lois Tutor renamed clerk.

Floyd Cremer and Mrs. Tutor were elected to the Board of Directors for three-year terms. Robert Morgan was named to the Supervisory Committee and Mrs. Mary Shanks to the Credit Committee.

A 3 per cent dividend was declared, compared to 1.8 per cent last year. Speaker was Albert W. Marble, managing director of the Michigan Credit Union League.

Guests of honor attending were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Y. Moore and John C. Austin.

Fighter of Polio Finds His Work Right in Family

T. W. Jackson, former city postmaster, has told the March of Dimes committee that the 21 years he spent in the fight against polio has been well spent.

Jackson's two-year-old granddaughter, Robin, contracted polio last August and now is wearing a long leg brace after six weeks of treatment in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Jackson of 425 Sedum Glen.

The elder Jackson was listed by the national foundation for infantile paralysis as a helper in the first President's birthday ball in 1934 to raise funds for polio treatment and in those which followed. He helped organize the Oakland County chapter when the foundation was organized in 1938 and still is active as a director and March of Dimes volunteer.

Work Seldom in Headlines

To Police, 'Small' Crime Often Most Exhausting

By BUD MARTE

The phone jangles in the Sheriff's office, and an excited voice yells, "I've been robbed!"

But this is the last note of excitement in the case. It turns into a "routine crime," the kind that's told in maybe four inches of type from the robbery to the final conviction of the robber.

This is the story of just such a "routine crime," and of the "routine" detective work that is its solution and legal punishment.

There's nothing spectacular about it. After you've read it, you'll see why this kind of story is usually told in brief.

But the next time you read about a break-in, you'll know that between then and the time you read about the trial, this kind of painstaking investigation has been going on.

TAVERN ENTERED
On the night of Dec. 18, 1955, the Red Oaks Tavern on Wilcox Road, Commerce Township, was broken into. Oakland County Sheriff's deputies were notified, and Detective Leo Hazen was assigned the case.

Hazen talked to the owner, Ward Henderson, who thought for a time that nothing had been stolen from the bar. Henderson said the ringing burglar alarm, which woke him in his house 200 yards away, apparently had scared the erstwhile thief into running away.

There had been no attempt to rifle coin boxes on vending machines, and the cash register had been emptied at closing time. The alarm had sounded at 6:30 a.m.

But whether the burglar had taken anything or not, the investigation had to be continued. Detective Hazen talked to employees of the bar, and Mrs. Henderson, who helps out during rush hours, provided the first real tip in the case.

She said she'd noticed one customer paying a suspicious amount of attention to the organization of the place. He often looked at the burglar alarm, she said. She thought his name was "Paul."

DISCOVERS TRACKS

Walking around outside the bar, detective Hazen tracked the would-be thief through fresh snow to the place he'd left his car, about half a mile away. He noticed a good heel print, with the manufacturer's label, he copied and measured it in his notes.

He noticed a place where the man had attempted to pull his car into a field off the road, and had scratched his right front bumper on a strand of barbed wire. The heel prints where he'd walked around to unhook the wire were clear.

Defective Hazen had another break-in to investigate Dec. 19, and while he was checking on it he heard someone mention a man named Paul Rowe, who'd been present at a drinking bout all night Dec. 18. It was a slim lead, but Hazen decided to check it out.

He found that Rowe had left the party about 6 a.m., and come back about 7 a.m. — with a bottle of whisky.

Hazen called Henderson at the Red Oaks, and suggested he take an inventory of his bar stock. Henderson reported there were two bottles of whisky missing.

MAKES ARREST

Hazen arrested Rowe that afternoon. Rowe was wearing shoes that matched the heel prints found at the scene of the crime, and he had in his car one empty bottle and one full bottle of whisky.

There were fresh scratches in the paint of Rowe's right front fender.

Questioned about his movements the previous night, Rowe gave contradictory answers. He gave two different stories as to where he'd bought the liquor found in his car.

And he denied having broken into the Red Oaks Tavern.

Detective Hazen then tried to trace the two bottles through their serial numbers. Although this is generally possible, through a duke the process didn't work in this case.

Paul Rowe was arraigned before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle Dec. 20. He demanded examination, and was released on $3,000 bond pending his appearance Dec. 27.

SUGGESTS LIE TEST

During the next week, Rowe hired an attorney and apparently convinced him of his innocence. Detective Hazen, talking to the attorney, convinced him that if Rowe was innocent, he had nothing to lose by taking a lie-detector test — which Rowe had consistently refused to do.

Rowe flunked the test. According to Hazen, "That needle jumped right off the chart when he was asked if he did it."

Confronted with the results, Rowe broke down and admitted the break-in. He agreed to change his plea to guilty, and waived examination on his second appearance before Justice Dieterle.

Last week, Rowe pleaded guilty before Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland. On Monday he was sentenced to 18 months to 15 years in State Prison of Southern Michigan.

Ends Sly Romance

KARASUYAMA, Japan (AP)—Police said farmer Noboru Suzuki, jailed on a murder charge, confessed today that he had beaten to death his 79-year-old father "because he had a girl friend my age and kept seeing her on the sly."

Successful Long Makes Plans to Go Hunting

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Earl Long made plans today to go hog hunting in a "most haphazard manner during switching operations," by railroad personnel.

"I consider this a very serious matter and I want gates at such more dangerous crossings as Franklin and Huron before it is too late."

For five years, prior coming to Pontiac, Vanderstempel surveyed 1,500 railroad crossings as traffic engineer in Chicago.

The 60-year-old younger brother of the late Huey P. Long swept to a rare first primary victory Tuesday, bowing over the administration of Gov. Robert Kennon and the mansion dreams of New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison of New Orleans.

Long was governor twice before, from 1948-52, and from 1939 - 40 when he stepped up from lieutenant-governor.

High on his list of plans for the new term beginning May 15 is to rewrite the state's 42-year-old constitution, longest in the land.

Long attributed part of his success to the campaign he conducted in the back woods and rural communities. Still hoarse from the 500-speech stump tour, he proclaimed: "Like Sophie Tucker, I'm the last of the red hot mamas."

State Food Violations Show Marked Rise

LANSING (AP)—Food law violations in Michigan were up more than 50 per cent last year over 1954, the State Agriculture Department said today.

The department's annual report on food law violations said more than three million pounds of food in 800 separate lots were seized by state inspectors.

Most of the year's convictions were for misbranding, adulteration and cheating on weight.

The report said about 15 per cent of the pre-packaged food checked was found to be short-weight. The amount of adulterated ground meat was up 15 per cent over the previous year.

The department said it obtained 711 convictions for food law violations for insanitary conditions in restaurants and markets increased from 90 in 1954 to 119 in 1955.

2 Teenagers Injured in Rear-End Collision

Two youths were treated for cuts and bruises after a two-car accident on Oakland Ave. last night. John E. Spehar, 17, of 3039 Dixie Highway, and William M. Clarkson, 16, of 2323 Silver Circle, were both released after treatment, authorities in Pontiac General Hospital said.

Clarkson's car, in which Spehar was riding, rammed into the rear end of a car driven by Wendell J. Wright, 28, of 332 Ferry St., police said.

Nuns and women residents fought back a wild fire which threatened Irene Homes, a refuge for unmarried mothers near Pretoria, South Africa.

Rail Crossings Subject of Talk

City Traffic Engineer to Meet With Officials of Grand Trunk

City Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel will meet Tuesday with the state railroad safety inspector and officials of Grand Trunk Railroad in an effort to assure Pontiac of safer railroad crossings.

The meeting will be held at 10 a.m. at the City Hall at the request of Vanderstempel.

"Vehicular traffic is increasing and the city needs added protection at the city's 13 to 15 railroad crossings," he said.

He said he would recommend to Donald W. Hughes, state railroad safety inspector and signal engineer, that short gate barriers be installed at principal rail crossings in addition to bells and flashing lights.

"At secondary crossings, I will suggest installation of both bells and flashing lights," Vanderstempel declared. "At present at most secondary crossings there are just one of these warning devices."

The traffic engineer added that he would give examples of how some crossings are protected in a "most haphazard manner during switching operations," by railroad personnel.

"I consider this a very serious matter and I want gates at such more dangerous crossings as Franklin and Huron before it is too late."

Jail 2 Wayne Coeds in Bad Check Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two Michigan coeds who left Detroit early last month to see the Rose Bowl game are in jail on federal charges of passing $875 in bad checks in fashionable women's stores across the country.

Marie Claire Sauve, 20, and Rosemary Anne Boehnlein, 19, art majors at Detroit's Wayne University, were arrested by FBI agents yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Joseph Karesch yesterday.

The FBI said the girls first went to New York, then moved through Florida to Las Vegas to Los Angeles—all the while bouncing checks. They came to San Francisco last week and found jobs, agents said. Karesch sent them to jail in lieu of $2,500 bail each.

They never did get to the Rose Bowl game.

Civil War Vet Gives Formula for Long Life

CRESTVIEW, Fla. (AP)—The War Between the States is finally over as far as one of its veterans is concerned. He's been kissed by a Yankee.

William Allen Uncle Bill Lundy surrendering to Northern charm, received the kiss from Miss Terry Broderick, 20-year-old Ohio State coed, at his 108th birthday anniversary party yesterday.

THE FORMULA

"That's the first time that I know of that I was ever kissed by a Yankee woman," he said. "Liked it fine."

Uncle Bill, one of four survivors of the war which ended almost 91 years ago, repeated his recipe for longevity: "Look after your own business, keep away from doctors and look at every pretty girl you see."

Miss Broderick, whose parents recently moved to Crestview, and blonde Lois Davis, 26, who also kissed the Confederate vet, didn't seem to mind the kissing either. Miss Davis presented gifts and telegrams. They included 108 silver dollars from Crestview businessmen, and a message from Gov. Leroy Collins.

After eating his favorite meal of fresh pork ham, turnip greens and corn pone, the "right spy" Rebel showed he has forgiven all Yankees.

Solon Urges Congress to Prevent Institutions' Money-Getting Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) declared today Congress should "plug the loopholes" through which he said Communist-tainted schools have received millions of tax dollars for training veterans.

McClellan heads the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which heard three school officials refuse to say yesterday whether they ever had been Communists. All three said they are not now.

McClellan announced he has ordered a bill drafted to bar Communist-owned private schools from receiving tuition payments or other financial benefits from federal agencies in connection with the GI Bill of Rights training program.

He said that when hearings resume next week the subcommittee will try to find out whether the Veterans Administration, as it contends, lacks authority to refuse to let veterans enroll at the government's expense in schools owned by Reds.

Three witnesses invoked the Fifth Amendment's guarantee against possible self-incrimination yesterday in refusing to say whether they had been Communists in the past. They were M. Michael Freedland, part owner of the Radio Television Technical School in Allentown, Pa.; and Burne Hogarth and Silas Rhodes, owners of the Cartoonists and Illustrators School, Inc., of New York City. All testified they are not Communists now.

Huey Long Era Still Rumbling

Brother Tones It Down; Earl Remains Governor; Son Russell U.S. Solon

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political dynasty set in motion 28 years ago by Louisiana's Sen. Huey P. Long is still formidable instead of fading when he was shot to death in 1935.

This week Huey's brother Earl, 60, was re-elected governor of the State. Huey's son Russell, 37, is a U.S. senator from Louisiana. Huey's other brother George, 72, is a congressman from Louisiana. After Huey was assassinated 21 years ago at Baton Rouge, his political heirs ran Earl for lieutenant governor on their ticket. They needed the magic of the Long name.

He became governor in 1939 when Gov. Richard Leche, caught up in the Louisiana scandals, resigned. Leche later went to the penitentiary. None of the scandals touched Earl. But when he ran for a full term in 1940 he lost.

WON IN 1948

He won in 1948, served until his term was up in 1952, and, because a Louisiana governor can't succeed himself, had to wait until now to try again. Russell won a Senate seat in a special election in 1948 for an unexpired two-year term, won a full six-year term in 1950, and this year must face the voters again.

George was elected to Congress in 1952 at the age of 68. He won re-election in 1954 for a term expiring this year.

Huey's political control of the state hasn't been matched by any of his family, nor has any of them come close to matching his national prominence. But none of them has tried to be another Huey.

Huey was daring, ruthless, a rabble-rouser, and brilliant in his particular kind of way. His energy was endless, like his ambition. He had fantastic power in the state. He hungered for more. His minimum goal was the White House.

NO MYSTERY

It is no mystery how he made his name political magic. He did many things for the people in a state which was so shabby and backward when he was elected governor in 1928.

Russell Long looks like his father but isn't in most ways. Huey was feared in the Senate and was himself afraid. He walked surrounded by bodyguards. Russell is liked in the Senate and acts as if he wants to be liked. He doesn't make much noise.

Huey was an enemy of President Roosevelt. His son is pretty much

Gave Up All Hope

Plane Passenger Tells of Her Feeling Doomed

(For more than three hours 34 persons—21 passengers and a crew of three—looked at death aboard a crippled Boston-to-New York strliner. The plane finally landed safely. In the following article, one of the passengers, a 28-year-old New York fashion designer, tells of the experience.)

By MRS. EVE ORTON-WEISS
(As Told to the New York Journal-American)

NEW YORK (INS)—I thought we were all doomed. What else could I think so many thousands of feet in the air in absolute darkness. We hardly dared to speak. No one lighted a cigarette. No one moved.

I searched the sky through my window looking for some light. There was none. Everything was black. I could hear the drone of the motors but I felt that something was terribly wrong and I gave up hope.

It all started a few minutes out of Boston when my reading light went out. I called the stewardess. She told me that the batteries were low and then she went forward to the pilot's cabin. Now the plane went into total darkness.

I could see nothing but I heard the stewardess' voice asking for our attention. She said that we were lost and in an emergency situation.

For some strange reason there were no questions. We all sensed the situation and tried to accept it.

LONG QUIET FLIGHT
This was the start of the longest three hours in my life. I can only explain my feeling by saying that I was stupefied. There was hardly any conversation among my three friends and me. Every so often I would whisper to Joseph Axelrod sitting next to me:

"Joe, where are we? What's going to happen?"

He would answer me with a few comforting words:

"Don't worry, Eve. We'll pull out of this all right."

And then complete silence.

Our motors were running but the unending darkness numbed us all. I realized in those terrible hours we all had gotten the feeling of being trapped and that no amount of shouting or running around was going to help.

I gave up all hope. Then I heard the voice of the stewardess again. She announced that we had found a town and were going to land.

Believe me, you never heard such yelling in your life—and after all that quiet it was terrific.

JOINS SHOUTING

As the plane descended we found light. Outside of my window I could actually see stars and the twinklings of a city in the distance. I joined in the shouting.

Then that wonderful voice said it was LaGuardia Field.

I cried with joy.

The plane landed as easy as pie. It was the most welcome landing I've made in all the years I've traveled by air.

We all crowded around the pilot and I would have kissed him if I could have gotten closer.

As the door opened and we began filing out, I saw a woman carrying a little girl in her arms. I never knew there was a child on the plane.

Through all that she never cried once.

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—Cecil Rusk, 70, who resigned as county jailer "to take things easy," turned in his keys yesterday noon and said goodbye to fellow officers. To celebrate his retirement he went hunting with his son, Johnny. They were only a few miles south of Bonham yesterday afternoon when the father dropped dead of a heart attack.

LOST 32 POUNDS Brooklyn Club Lady Praises Rennel, Members Like It Too

Losing weight is a common problem for so many men and women. Some solve it privately, some make it a family project, others find a stimulant in club member competition of national scope. Mrs. Robert Gregg, R. No. 1, Brooklyn, Mich., adds her endorsement to Rennel Concentrate. She writes, "I belong to a Club that is primarily interested in proper weight and good health. Many of our members are using Rennel Concentrate, and it is gratifying to see that so many of us are getting results. It has relieved me of a painful condition in my joints and 32 pounds of my weight. When I started using Rennel I weighed 212 and now weigh 180 lbs. I feel so much better and can wear smaller dresses. I can truthfully give Rennel credit for my well being. It's the best remedy I have found."

Make Rennel work for you. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Priced at $1.49. Insist on genuine Rennel.

Headache Sufferer Gets Relief Promise

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Relief for many of America's estimated 16,000,000 headache sufferers is promised in a report by Dr. French K. Hansel, a St. Louis ear, nose and throat specialist.

He said in an interview in Los Angeles this week that use of his tamine to restore the tone of blood vessels can reduce the pain and interrupt the cycle of vascular headaches so that they will not recur for long periods.

Dr. Hansel said the vascular headache is the most common form of the ailment and is caused by a breakdown of the "thermostat" that controls blood pressure and rhythmic contraction of blood vessels.

Report Vandalism, Theft at City Used Car Lot

Vandalism and theft Tuesday night of $70 worth of automobile parts was reported to Pontiac Police by the service manager of a new car lot at Oakland and Cass Aves.

Walter Smith, 3356 Bald Mountain Rd., said a carburetor and intake manifold were stolen from one new car, while two side windows, valued at $20, were smashed in two other cars.

Senora Maria De Mottoya, who died recently at Laprida, Argentina, claimed at 140. She left a 35-year-old son.

Michigan Girls to Vie for Best

Preliminary Contests Being Held for Feb. 9 Finals

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Fresh, juicy, delicate cherry pies, sufficient reason to reach automatically for added stature this month for a legion of future housekeepers.

Preliminary contests are being held throughout the state to prepare for the 24th Annual Michigan Cherry Pie-Baking Contest, Feb. 9 at Grand Rapids.

Kent county alone lists 240 girls who entered local contests for a chance at the Jan. 25 competition to select a representative for the state bake-off. Thirteen will compete for the county championship.

The state contest is sponsored by the Michigan Cherry Commission, the Michigan Canners and Freezers Assn., and the Michigan Cherry Producers Assn. Eligibility is limited to single girls, over 14 but not yet 21.

TO NATIONAL CONTEST — The contest winner receives a scholarship to a degree-granting institution of her choice. She also becomes Michigan's representative in the national contest Feb. 21 at Chicago.

Don't bother hounding the contestants in hopes of free samples, however. There's not much left after the judges make their rounds.

Eleanor Denmore, Home Demonstration Agent of Michigan State University's Extension service in Kent County, is authority for that revelation.

"By the time the judges are finished sampling," she says, "there isn't much pie left." They really are made for competitive purposes, she adds.

Miss Denmore states that the cherry pie contest is "one of the really worthwhile contests, because the girls must work to earn their recognition."

SKILL DECIDES — "It is a learning experience," she says, "with results judged primarily on skill rather than beauty or personality."

Judges evaluate four main categories which include methods of preparation, quality of pie, excellence of its filling and the contestant's personal qualifications.

The personal category requires the contestant be able to express herself confidently and exhibit good posture, poise and grooming.

The Kent County contest will be held in the kitchens of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., at Grand Rapids. The winner will meet about 60 champions from other counties Feb. 9 in the state finals at civic auditorium.

The state contest is managed by Reed M. Roberts, secretary of the Michigan Canners and Freezers Assn., with the assistance of T. C. Stevens, secretary of the Michigan Cherry Commission; Miss Denmore and Eleanor Morrison, home service director of the gas company.

To Establish System With Reservoir, Mains in Walled Lake

DAVISBURG — The antique and "Grandmother's Attic" display which took place at Davisburg Elementary School Monday evening was one of the most outstanding programs of the year.

The non-profit exhibit displayed hundreds of items among which were old deeds and legal papers very interesting to the people around Davisburg.

New York Herald Tribune papers, proclaiming the assassination of Abe Lincoln, a Bible edited in 1806, dictionaries and a birth record belonging to Mrs. Don Chamberlain dated back to 1816.

One of the items on display was a baby bath-shaped like a double peanut shell, made of heavy crockery and set in hand carved wood. It was estimated to be about 125 years old, stood on legs with an

Rochester Daughters to Install Saturday

ROCHESTER — The semi-annual installation of the officers of Bethel No. 31, International Order of Job's Daughters, will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Rochester Masonic Temple.

To be installed are: queen, Riela Kronick; guide, May Moore; marshal, Elizabeth Kottler; chaplain, Barbara Kline; recorder, Patricia Zeller; senior custodian, Yvonne Shipman (who is the grand honored queen of the state of Michigan); junior custodian, Gwen Vernon; musician, Wanda Welch; soloist, Frank Irish; angels, Helde Greenwald and Anne Herkless; Book of Gold, Barbara Kline; Minister, Rev. $100,000 Face-Lifting Completed

Clarkston State Bank Holds Open House

CLARKSTON — Clarkston State Bank, founded in 1913, held open house yesterday to mark the completion of its $100,000 remodeling.

Two hundred and fifty guests visited the bank during the day, among them were representatives from every bank in Oakland county, Detroit and other surrounding cities were also represented.

My Walter, one of the original founders of the bank, who is now president and active in an advisory capacity, was present to greet guests at the open house.

The remodeling began last June 1, when part of the old bank was torn down. An addition completely squared off the structure and the entire interior was remodeled.

The "old fashioned look" of high counters and glass partitions has disappeared, giving way to a friendly, modern look, with open counters and blonde rubber-oak woodwork. There is new lighting throughout and walls and ceilings are two shades of soft green.

Chairman of Clarkston State Bank is Thomas J. Foley; vice president is John L. Estes, and executive vice president and cashier, Robert L. Jones.

Licenses Required, Prosecutor Warns

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said today he has received complaints that some county residential and maintenance and alterations contractors have been operating without a license.

"To operate without a license in Michigan constitutes a high misdemeanor, punishable by up to six months in jail, a $500 fine, or both."

"Licenses are available from the State Corporations and Securities Commission in Detroit," he explained. "A person dealing with a builder has the right to ask to see a license." Ziem added.

MR. AND MRS. DOUGLAS BIRKETT

Waterford Couple Wed in Sunny Vale Chapel

WATERFORD — Sunny Vale Chapel was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding which united Patricia Ann Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hodges of 1264 Merry Rd., and Douglas Arthur Birkett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Birkett of 2105 Joy Rd.

Two hundred guests witnessed the candlelight ceremony performed at the flower-decked chapel altar.

Patricia's wedding gown was fashioned of French Rose-Poivre lace with a jewelry neckline, accented with lace appliques. The bride's headpiece was a crown of lace with center front details in pearl bugle trim, from which flowed a French illusion veil. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Nancy Wern of Clarkston was the matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Dorothy Birkett, the bridegroom's sister, and Dolores Cox. Little Sue Beth Huff was the flower girl.

Ionian Escapee Caught, State Trooper Injured

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — A 19-year-old fugitive from Ionian Reformatory was captured in a stolen auto yesterday after leading a state policeman on a 110-mile an hour chase along M78 south of here.

Trooper Robert Fenton seized the escapee, Orville Simmons of Flint, when Simmons' car went out of control and rolled over. Simmons escaped injury but Fenton suffered minor chest injuries when his car crashed into a roadside bank.

Simmons walked away Monday from a farm detail at the reformatory where he was serving a 5-15 year sentence for breaking and entering at night.

Hollywood Headlines:

Italy's Rosanna Podesta Frowns on Cheesecake

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 13 (AP)—"Torta di formaggio—what is that?"

The inquiry was made by Rosanna Podesta, Italy's gift to Hollywood. Having been here only two months, she still falters on English. It was explained that torta di formaggio (Italian translation of cheesecake) is leg art, glamor photos, etc.

'DO NOT LIKE IT'

"Oh," she exclaimed knowingly, her dark eyes brightening. "Yes, I know what that is. I do not like it."

What is this? An Italian film beauty knocking cheesecake? This sort of thing could rock Rome's Hollywood on the Tiber.

Miss Podesta continued: "You mean posing like this." She gazed seductively over her shoulder, then dropped the pose. "I hate it. I have done some in Italy, but now I refuse. They do not ask me here at Warner Brothers because they know I do not like it."

'THAT IS SILLY'

"I do not mind showing the legs if it is part of the picture. But just to pose for photographs—that is silly."

This may distress some males, but she feels cheesecake is on the decline both here and in her native land.

"I do not think you make the girl revues that used to be made here," she observed. "The public's taste has become too refined for that. They want good pictures, not just girl shows."

SAME IN ITALY

"It is the same in Italy. No longer will the public go to see a bad picture because it is advertised with sexy photos of Gina Lollobrigida and Sophia Loren. They want to see good pictures."

Miss Podesta finds some opposition to her views in her own family. Her husband is handsome Italian actor Marco Vicario, who is here with her before going to Mexico for a movie.

Said he: "When I came to this country, I said I wanted to see two things—the Empire Building and Marilyn Monroe." He added sadly, "I have seen only the Empire State Building."

Miss Podesta is here to play a Cuban girl in an Alan Ladd epic about the Spanish-American War, "Santiago."

Nationalists Expect Matsu Invasion Soon

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's air force commander says the Communists may attack the offshore islands at any time and if they do he will go after their bases.

Gen. "Tiger" Wang Shu-Ming in an interview likewise expressed doubt that the numerically superior Red air force could maintain air control over the offshore island front.

"Sure the Communists have a lot more planes—good planes—MIGs, MIGs and twin-jet IL-28s," said the Tiger.

"But if they attack the islands and we destroy their bases, how will they be able to win air superiority? The most important target will be their bases."

"Some people don't think there is much possibility of an early invasion of the Quemoy and Matsu island groups. We can't be so optimistic. It is possible for the attack to come at any time."

Matsu Island is 100 miles north-west of Formosa and Quemoy is 120 miles across the strait.

Bomb Franksters Get Prosecutor's Warning
DETROIT (INS)—Detroit officials plan to treat future phony bomb threats to high schools as crimes with stiff action taken against the pranksters.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Ralph Garber, noting the scares have been treated as pranks up to now, said yesterday future action could include charges of conspiracy, a felony which carries a maximum five year prison term.

In addition, a felony conviction deprives the individual of certain civil rights.

Marks 3rd Anniversary
Grandma Moses Painting of Farm Presented to Ike
WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has been presented with a Grandma Moses painting of his Gettysburg, Pa., farm as a third anniversary gift from the cabinet.

The President, who has been devoting long hours to painting during his convalescence from a heart attack, expressed delight with the gift from a fellow artist.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon presided at the surprise presentation ceremonies in the White House Friday is the third anniversary of Eisenhower's administration.

The painting, done from photographs, shows the President's farm with the new Eisenhower home, the big off-white barn and the presidential grandchild.

Mental Hospital Site OK Sought

Wayne County Locality Receives Priority Over Oakland Area

LANSING (AP)—The State Mental Health Commission asked the Legislature today to authorize site studies for a second new hospital for the mentally retarded.

The request was made in a report recommending the Wayne County training school near Livonia as the site for a 2,500-bed hospital already authorized by the lawmakers.

Oakland legislators had hoped to have the hospital located in this county.

The commission predicted the state, with 8,336 beds for mentally retarded cases now available, would need 5,000 more beds for retarded people by 1975.

It based this prediction on an estimated population growth in Michigan of 40 per cent.

5,000 BEDS NEEDED
The report said the estimated needs of 5,000 more beds may be overly conservative because hospitals for the mentally retarded are now overcrowded by some 1,500 patients.

In addition, it said, many of the buildings now in use are obsolete and hazardous and should be vacated.

Part of the 5,000 additional beds will be provided by construction already authorized at the MI, Pleasant and Coldwater home and training schools, the report said.

The commission said beds could be provided faster if construction were underway at two locations than if only one hospital were built now and expanded.

The commission said that the western Wayne County site would be ideal because of the distribution of population, its accessibility and the facilities now available there.

If the state takes over the training school from Wayne County as contemplated, it would be necessary to build only a 1,700 bed hospital because 800 patients could be housed in buildings now in use at the institution, the commission said.

Virginia Court Refuses Supreme Court Dictum
RICHMOND, Va. (INS)—The Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals, which upheld a decision that a marriage between a Chinese seaman and a white woman was invalid, has refused to reopen the case.

Last November, without ruling on the state's miscegenation law, the U.S. Supreme Court had sent the case back with instructions that more information be developed.

Legal observers said it marked the second time that a state supreme court refused to honor an order from the nation's highest court.

In 1946, the Nebraska Supreme Court refused to send a case back to a lower court with instructions to grant a petitioner a hearing on habeas corpus.

Seize Frozen Waffles
DETROIT (AP)—The Federal Food and Drug Administration seized 616 cases of frozen waffles Tuesday on a complaint that they contained insects and rodent hairs. Frank Herford, inspector in charge, said a Detroit grocery chain also was recalling 209 cases from its retail outlets. Herford said the waffles were made by the Home Style Food Products Co. of Pitman, N. J. Each case contained 24 packages.

Grandma Moses Painting of Farm Presented to Ike
WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has been presented with a Grandma Moses painting of his Gettysburg, Pa., farm as a third anniversary gift from the cabinet.

The President, who has been devoting long hours to painting during his convalescence from a heart attack, expressed delight with the gift from a fellow artist.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon presided at the surprise presentation ceremonies in the White House Friday is the third anniversary of Eisenhower's administration.

The painting, done from photographs, shows the President's farm with the new Eisenhower home, the big off-white barn and the presidential grandchild.

Grandma Thanks Ike
In a letter to the President, Grandma Moses wrote: "I was very honored to be asked to paint a picture of your home in Gettysburg. Although most of my paintings are memories and imagination, I tried to do this for you and hope it will please you. My very best wishes for your continued good health on your third anniversary as our President."

For Mrs. Eisenhower there was a gold plated dish presented on behalf of Republican women by Bertha Adkins, head of the women's division of the Republican party.

Among the cabinet group on hand for the presentation was former Welfare Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby. The only two members of the cabinet missing were Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell, who are out of the city.

When someone pointed out the President's putting green in the picture, he commented with a smile: "I wish it were that big."

'Blackouts' May Appear on Television Screens

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Marie Wilson and Ken Murray expect to go on TV in a lauded version of "Blackouts," which they're doing again on stage at the New Frontier. NBC's geniuses have been talking to Murray about it. Though Marie's being paid by CBS just to wait till they get a new "Irma" for her she probably could get permission.

Their gags still go well. Sample: Marie—"I think I'll wind up an old maid." Ken—"It sounds like fun. I think I'll try it."

Alan Jones just told me the sad news that his 19-year marriage with Irene Hervey's definitely ended. About a year ago they reconciled after starting divorce action. The reconciliation didn't take. Irene's gone to Palm Springs, Alan's living with his manager in Hollywood and the divorce action will be started again. Their son Alan, Jr. was celebrating his 18th birthday just when the splitup occurred.

Joan Benny's picked March 17 for her marriage to Buddy Rudolph, 31-year-old Beverly Hills clothier and golf champion. Jack's daughter, now in Reno divorcing Seth Baker, won't have another spectacular wedding. Rudolph's best man will be young tycoon Alan Gordon. The bridegroom-to-be is much favored by Jack and Mary Benny.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...

Steve Allen's latest literary chore is a 30-page poem about his Chicago boyhood... If Ike doesn't run, GOPsters talk of a Knight-Ridder ticket... Peggy King's been seeing her estranged husband, Knobby Lee, but her real honey is actor Nick Adams... Lawrence Tierney, who's on the wagon, is doing roadwork and pushups to get in trim.

Gloria Vanderbilt is back from a Caribbean vacation... Victor Borge was elected to the exclusive Danish Blue Book... The carpeting in Mrs. Lillian (Edison Hotel) Kramer's limousine is so expensive there's a small rug over it... Richard Burton will tour with his film, "Alexander the Great"... Dancer Kay Turner, formerly of "The Vamp," used to broadcast kiddy shows in Cincinnati.

The City of Hope honors Jackie Gleason at the Waldorf Feb. 28, his 40th birthday... Jane Froman will sing at the Eisenhower rally Friday at Madison Sq. Garden... Files Bill to Parole Some Lifers in Murder LANSING (AP)—Legislation to permit the parole of some first degree murderers serving life sentences in prison was initiated today by Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing).

Hittle filed a bill to make paroles possible for lifers who were involved in first degree murders but who did not actually and directly commit the slaying and then only if they have served 17 years in prison.

Hittle's bill would bring such cases under the so-called "lifer law" which now permits paroles for lifers who have served 10 years and who were not convicted of first degree murder.

Janis Paige Weds
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Singer-actress Janis Paige, 33, has married Arthur Stander, 39, the producer of her television show, "It's Always Jan." Dist. Judge James McNamee performed the double ring ceremony yesterday. It was the second marriage for each.

Men Outnumber Coeds
DETROIT (AP)—The first annual report of the Michigan Assn. of College Registrars and Admission Officers reports men outnumber women more than two to one in Michigan's 56 colleges and universities. The report said 123,943 students were enrolled for credit while 75,742 men and 37,004 women were "on campus."

O'Keefe to Tell of 2nd Robbery

Indicted Brink's Bandit to Sing of $681,000 Danvers, Mass. Holdup

BOSTON (AP)—Joseph J. (Specs) O'Keefe, the outlaw who talked about the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery, is reported ready to talk about another big underworld job—the $681,000 Danvers armored car theft.

On the basis of the report, U.S. Atty. Anthony Julian held a special federal grand jury on standby notice.

O'Keefe's story of the fabulous Brink's robbery of Jan. 17, 1950 led to the indictment on armed robbery charges of 11 men, including O'Keefe.

The armored car was robbed in Danvers Square in March, 1952, while the vehicle's crew was in a drug store having coffee, George D. O'Brien, who later committed suicide, was acquitted of participation in the theft.

Paul T. Smith, defense counsel for three of those indicted for the Brink's robbery, said O'Keefe's apparent willingness to talk about the Danvers theft is an example of his willingness "to sing any song they want him to sing."

Smith also was O'Brien's defense attorney during the latter's trial. Only one of those under indictment in the Brink's case has been in any way connected with the Danvers job.

Actress Being Sued

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Ann Rutherford has been sued for $16,000 damages in connection with a traffic accident last April. Swimming pool salesman Ollie E. Haupt, 62, filed the suit yesterday, claiming she crashed her automobile into his while he was turning into a parking lot. He claimed chest and back injuries. Miss Rutherford is the wife of film producer William Dozier.

Pier Breaks Foot

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Pier Angel, who was to have started rehearsals on a movie yesterday, is confined to her home by a broken bone in her left foot. She fell on the stairs of her home Tuesday night. Her doctor said a cast will not be necessary. The foot is tightly bandaged. She is the wife of singer Vic Damone.

Location of Arraignments Discussed by Sheriff Irons

Oakland County's Sheriff Frank Irons commented today on his recent directive to deputies instructing them to arrange arraignments before justices in the townships in which violations occurred.

"The justices are elected by the people to do a job," Sheriff Irons said, "and it wouldn't be right to deprive them of the chance to do it."

Legally, he explained, an officer can take an alleged lawbreaker to any county justice of the Peace he chooses for arraignment. In the past, he said, deputies had taken cases to some justices more than others.

"I don't know why this was done," Sheriff Irons said. "I suppose the practice 'just grew,' like Topsy."

The new directive, Sheriff Irons added, isn't a hard and fast rule. "Whenever possible, we try to arrange it that way," he said. "But sometimes it isn't practical."

"For example, sometimes the justice in the township where the alleged violation happened has a full schedule, or is out of town. Rather than keep the prisoner in jail, we'll take him to the closest justice."

McGinnis Quits New Haven R.R.

Fiery President Says
Commuter Criticism
Forces Resignation

NEW YORK (U)—Patrick B. McGinnis says he is quitting as head of the New Haven Railroad and cites "unprincipled and unbridled" commuter attacks on him as the major reason for stepping down.

McGinnis, fiery, self-made financier, announced last night he has called a special meeting of the line's Board of Directors here tomorrow "for the purpose of resigning as president."

The 51-year-old McGinnis took over the New Haven in April 1954, besting the Frederic Dumaine interests in a bitter proxy fight. Head of the investment firm of McGinnis & Co., he had bought two railroads, the Norfolk Southern and the Central of Georgia.

In the past few months criticism has mounted from commuters over repeated delays, schedule disruptions and mechanical failures. The line suffered a 10-million-dollar blow due to last year's floods.

Last month, however, McGinnis announced the New Haven realized a profit of 10 millions during 1955—an increase of one million dollars over his first year as president.

Wow! He Bit Him

LAWRENCEBURG, Ky. (U)—Spencer Peavler, 60, accused James Tyra of adding insult to injury yesterday. Police said Peavler told them Tyra bit a chunk out of his left cheek and spat it out into a liquor store cuspidor. Tyra, 47, was charged with assault and battery.

In 11 months, 650 drunken drivers were convicted in Welling, New Zealand.

Injunction Halts Eviction of Club

Osteopathic Hospital's Action Concerning Rent
Restrained by Court

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland has issued a temporary injunction stopping the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital from forcing Al Thomas from vacating space in the former Hotel Pontiac's basement where he has operated a health club.

The hotel was sold recently for conversion to a hospital.

Thomas alleges he obtained a lease from the hotel to run from Oct. 1, 1955 through Sept. 30, 1956. He claims he reached an agreement with the hotel not to pay the full monthly rental as stipulated in the lease.

When building alterations began after last Dec. 1, dirt, debris and noise bothered his customers, he asserts, causing him to close down. He alleges that a fair monthly rental has always been paid.

On Jan. 13 the hospital began eviction proceedings against him for non-payment of rent, he claims. He asks $14,000 damages for leasehold improvements, equipment, profit loss and customer advance payments. The temporary order restrains any further action against Thomas pending the suit's outcome.

Specifically named as defendants are David Shubow, Harry B. Park, Bernard and Albert Goldberg, Moe Saslove and Morris Jacob. A hearing on whether the injunction should be made permanent is slated before Judge Holland Jan. 23 at 11 a.m.

Townships Opposing Saginaw Toll Road

LANSING (U)—The Michigan Townships Assn. came out vigorously against the proposed Flat Rock-Saginaw toll road at the windup of its annual meeting yesterday.

A strongly worded resolution objected that the toll road could not be successfully financed unless the State Highway Department agreed to stop construction of competing free roads and making any improvement on existing free roads in the area.

The resolution was passed despite an appeal made to the group yesterday by Michigan Turnpike Authority Chairman George N. Higgins who said both toll road and freeway construction is needed if Michigan is to provide adequate highways without a substantial tax increase. The group also approved a set of resolutions aimed mainly at giving more authority to the townships in enforcement and taxation matters.

The township delegates took no action on a resolution calling for driver training funds to be made available to parochial as well as public schools after it was termed "too controversial."

St. Dismas Helps

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (U)—Wesley G. Wallace, 44, dropped a medal portraying St. Dismas, the good thief, and wound up in jail yesterday charged with burglary. Police found the medal on a roof near a window in Wallace's downtown hotel room. They also found clothing in the room reported stolen from a clothing store next door. The place had been entered from the roof via skylight. Det. Carl Blaschke said Wallace, a parolee, admitted the burglary.

There now is one TV station in Spain and about 300 television sets, Madrid learns.

Nyet, Nyet— Ve Vant Voda, —Not Vodka

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—If editors and proof readers of the Benton Harbor newspaper didn't know it before, they know now the difference between "vodka" and "voda."

Voda is the Russian word for water. Vodka is the alcoholic beverage.

The Russian orthodox church of Our Savior had a news item about a traditional rite of the "bleeding of the water"—in Russian, "Voda Kreschenia."

But it came out in the news pailadium as "Vodka." Horrified parishioners began telephoning to correct the error.

So the paper's church editor ran a new item to correct the error—and again "voda" came out "vodka."

The telephone calls this time flooded the switchboard: "Please explain that we bless water, not whisky."

Today the paper corrected it the right way and carried the note: "Two proofreaders and three editors proofread this story."

January, February Are Hotcake Time

CHICAGO (INS).—You may not realize it but pancakes have a season, too.

The American Dairy Association says January and February are the best pancake months of the year. For 1936, the association is sponsoring something new in pancake making—using different flavored milks to make different flavored pancakes.

Besides regular milk, the association is urging homemakers to use chocolate, strawberry or eggnog-flavored milk to add variety in pancakes.

Good Topping for Fruit

Softened cream cheese mixed with a little grated orange rind, orange juice and sugar makes a delicious topping for fruit. Serve it with canned blueberries or thawed frozen sliced peaches.

Mix Chinese Mustard

A tangy Chinese mustard to accompany Chop Suey or other Chinese dishes is easily prepared. Mix powdered dry mustard with water, then add a teaspoon or so of soy sauce. It's delicious.

Put a teaspoon of peanut butter in bottom of muffin tin for a delicious variation to favorite muffins.

Deviled Rice, Vegetables Sing With Flavor of Ham

All in a row . . . crisp, crisp, of rice, that ever-ready, ever-economical mainstay. Zestfully seasoned deviled ham, blended with the rice, gives a deep down, whole-ham goodness to this everyday dish.

Vary this recipe with whatever vegetables you have stored in the refrigerator or with leftovers. A food extender and a handy meal suggestion is this medley platter which so easily serves family-size appetites.

And speaking of family-size appetites, the family-size deviled ham is the answer when you use this product as an ingredient for glorifying everyday foods.

Just spoon it out of the can, and add it to your favorite rice recipe, macaroni or noodle dishes egg and cheese combinations. So sing a merry tune with this medley!

Deviled Rice and Vegetables
 4 cup uncooked long grain rice
 2 tablespoons oil shortening
 2 cups boiling water
 1 family-size (4 1/2 ounces) can deviled ham
 1 Bermuda onion, thinly sliced
 1 green pepper, cut in strips
 2 stalks of celery, sliced
 1 large, firm tomato, thinly sliced

Saute rice in hot oil or shortening to a golden brown. Add water, cover and cook about 25 minutes. Stir in deviled ham, onion, pepper and celery, layer thin slices of tomato over all.

Cover tightly and cook over moderate heat for an additional 10-15 minutes. Makes four servings.

LOUISIANA YAM SKILLET — Mmmmmmm... from Louisiana comes the recipe for this quick taste treat. It's yams-and-shrimp, skillet-simmered with green peppers. Serve with a fruit salad and crisp, hot rolls.

Louisiana Skillet Recipe Blends Yams and Shrimp

Yam-growing is an important industry in Louisiana. Most of the yams we eat come from that state. Therefore, it is logical that interesting recipes should come from the same state. Here are two quickies for main-course dishes.

New Orleans Yam Skillet

1 pound shrimp, cooked, shelled and drained
1/2 cup French dressing
1/4 cup butter or margarine
4 medium-size Louisiana yams, cooked, peeled and sliced lengthwise
1 medium-size green pepper, sliced
Salt and pepper
Combine shrimp and French dressing; let stand two hours. Melt butter or margarine. Add yams and cook until browned on all sides. Add shrimp-French dressing mixture and green pepper. Sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste. Cover and heat to serving temperature, about 20 minutes. Makes four servings.

Yams, Sausage-Stuffed Peppers
1 large green pepper
1 pound bulk sausage
4 medium-size Louisiana yams, cooked, peeled and mashed 1/2 cup minced onion
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1/2 cup chicken bouillon
Salt and pepper to taste
1 tablespoon fine, dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons grated, processed cheddar cheese

Cut green peppers in half through stem. Remove seeds and membrane. Cook pepper halves in boiling salted water five minutes. Drain and cool.

Cook sausage meat over medium heat until well browned; drain. Combine sausage, yams, onion, thyme and chicken bouillon mix well. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Fill pepper halves with yam mixture. Combine bread crumbs and cheese; mix well. Sprinkle cheese crumbs over yam mixture. Place peppers in shallow baking pan; add hot water to a depth of one-half inch. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 minutes. Makes four servings.

Quick supper: Slices of precooked ham broiled with canned sweet potato halves and pineapple rings.

Combine Fluff and Doughnuts

Brighten your winter dessert menus by borrowing a touch of summer's refreshing fruit flavor. We've combined apricot nectar, quick packaged vanilla pudding and whipped cream with doughnuts to make a heavenly dessert you'll want to serve for family meals and guest occasions.

The doughnuts for this brand new easy-to-make dessert are available from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department and all of the other ingredients are also available at your grocery store. Try it today, following this simple recipe:

Apricot Fluff Doughnut Dessert

1 package doughnuts
1 12-ounce can apricot nectar
1 package instant vanilla pudding
1 pint whipping cream
1/2 cup chopped nuts, if desired

Split doughnuts in half crosswise. Place a half doughnut, cut side up in each sherbet glass.

Four apricot nectar into mixing bowl. Add instant vanilla pudding. Beat slowly with egg beater until well mixed. Let stand until slightly thickened.

Whip cream. Fold cream and chopped nuts into apricot mixture. Spoon apricot fluff onto half doughnuts in sherbet glasses.

Creamy Pudding Fills Angel Cake

A scrumptious cake dessert!

Special Chocolate Angel Food

1 package (16 ounces) chocolate angel food cake mix
1 package (3 1/2 ounces) coconut-style pudding and pie filling
1 cup milk
1 cup heavy cream
4 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Prepare angel food cake mix according to package directions using the size angel-food-cake-pan specified.

Prepare coconut filling according to package directions using only 1 cup milk; filling will be stiff. Cool filling but do not refrigerate.

Whip cream until almost stiff; add sugar gradually, and vanilla, beating until stiff. Gradually fold whipped cream into cool pudding.

Cut cake into three crosswise layers; reassemble, spreading filling between layers but not on top. Refrigerate until shortly before serving.

Mix sugar, grated orange rind and orange juice. Spread on hot buttered toast and then run under the broiler! Nice for after-school snacks.

Serve Fruit Compote for Company Dessert

Sliced fresh pears are delightful added to a compote of pineapple, oranges, grapefruit and fresh dates. Put the fruit combination in your best glass bowl and serve for a company dessert.

Use small pieces of canned pineapple rather than the crushed fruit for appearance sake. Have the oranges and grapefruit cut into membranefree sections. Pit the fresh dates and sliver them. Add some maraschino cherries, if you like, for extra-pretty color.

Fig Nut Bread Ideal for Lunch

Time once again to bundle the kids off every morning and settle yourself into the comfortably predictable routine of school days. No need to get into a rut either—if you use a touch of imagination here and there.

It's a sure guarantee against boredom for you and for them. As a start, make up a recipe of this Fig Nut Bread. It slices beautifully and keeps like a dream.

Fig Nut Bread

Fig Nut Bread
 1/2 cup milk, scalded
 20 fig newtons, broken up
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 1 tablespoon soft shortening
 1 egg
 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
 1/2 cup sifted enriched flour
 1 teaspoon baking soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup nuts, coarsely chopped

Pour milk over fig newtons and let cool. Thoroughly mix sugar, shortening, egg and orange rind. Stir in fig mixture. Sift together flour, baking soda and salt; stir into first mixture. Blend in nutmeats.

Pour in greased 8x4x3-inch loaf pan. Let stand 10 minutes. Bake in moderate oven (350) 50 to 60 minutes. Let stand overnight for mellow flavor and easy slicing.

Snowy Treats Make Birthday Extra Festive

Is January "Birthday Month" in your home? If so, and if it's a child's birthday, add to the occasion with a few special treats.

Ice cream and cake, the traditional birthday foods, can be dressed up to fit the season. We suggest Ice Cream Snowmen and a Frosty Icicle Cake.

Ice Cream Snowman

With an ice cream scoop and a touch of the fingers from a two-dip snowman. Quickly roll the ice cream in finely-shredded coconut. Currants can be used for the eyes, a slice of candied cherry for the mouth.

Give your snowman a jaunty air with a cardboard hat and a ribbon scarf. Serve this treat in a nest of crushed pineapple.

Other canned fruits which are equally good as ice cream toppings include heated, spiced apple sauce; fruit cocktail and sliced peaches.

Icicle Cake

Any cake can become an icicle cake, just frost with your favorite fluffy cooked icing or try one of the new fluffy frosting mixes. Swirl the frosting generously, forming stiff icicle peaks.

KRAUT, PORK 'N' APPLES — If you're interested in good food that is different, try these skewered pork balls with apple wedges, served with sauerkraut. They're all in the low-priced category. This combination is a memorable one.

Pour Vanilla Sauce Over Gingerbread

Warm spicy gingerbread made from the packaged mix served with old-fashioned Vanilla Sauce is a perfect dessert for cold, winter days.

Vanilla Sauce

Cream one-fourth cup butter or margarine with 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar and 1 egg yolk in top of a double boiler. Cook over hot water (not boiling) five minutes, stirring constantly.

Add one-fourth cup top milk or light cream. Cook until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in three-fourths teaspoon pure vanilla extract. Serve hot or cold.

Frankfurters Are Barbecued in Zippy Sauce

If you like frankfurters with a spicy sauce, here's your dish!

Barbecued Frankfurters

8 all-beef frankfurters in little over 1/2 hour:
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1 small onion (finely diced)
 1/2 cup tomato catsup
 1/2 cup cider vinegar
 1/2 cup water
 4 teaspoons sugar
 1 teaspoon paprika
 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Make three diagonal slits in each frankfurter, about 1 inch apart, without cutting entirely through. Place frankfurters in a baking dish (about 7 by 11 by 2 inches) slit side up.

In a small saucepan, melt butter; add onion and cook over low heat, stirring often, until partly tender. Add tomato catsup, vinegar, water, sugar, paprika, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and pepper; bring to a boil. Pour sauce over frankfurters.

Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven, basting a few times, until frankfurters are thoroughly heated and lightly browned and sauce has thickened a little — about 20 minutes.

Makes four servings—two frankfurters for each portion.

Team Pork Ball Kabobs With Sauerkraut, Apples

You don't have to be a whiz at cooking to turn out a meal that will bring forth raves. It's simply a matter of starting out with the right recipe.

This recipe for Skewered Pork Balls with Sauerkraut, for instance, is just one of the many shining examples of culinary artistry possible with this popular trio.

Ground pork shoulder balls and apple chunks are alternately threaded on skewers and basted with a mustard sauce while they are baked.

Serve them with a big bowl of sauerkraut and you have a meal worth sitting down to.

In addition to tasting mighty good, kraut is a storehouse of nutrients. This favorite food is rich in the B vitamins and vitamin C as well as calcium and phosphorus which are all so vital to our good health and well being.

Skewered Pork Balls With Kraut

1 1/2 pounds ground pork shoulder
 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
 1 egg, beaten
 1/2 cup milk
 1 teaspoon salt
 2 medium-sized apples
 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
 1/2 cup vinegar
 1/2 cup water
 1 No. 2 can sauerkraut

Combine pork, crumbs, egg, milk and salt; mix well. Shape into small meatballs. Core one apple and cut into large chunks. Alternate pork balls and apple chunks on skewers. Arrange kabobs in large shallow baking pan.

Combine sugar, mustard, vinegar and water; mix well. Pour over kabobs. Bake in moderate oven (350) one hour, basting occasionally with vinegar-sugar mixture.

Sweet Cream Used in Beef Stroganoff

Beef in Mushroom Sauce

6 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1/2 cups thin strips onion (2 medium-sized onions)
 1 pound mushrooms (sliced lengthwise through caps and stems)
 2 chicken bouillon cubes
 1 1/2 cups boiling water
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 1/2 cup lemon juice
 1/4 to 1/2 cup heavy cream
 1 1/2 cups leftover roast beef (cut into strips about 1/4 inch thick and 2 inches long)

Melt butter in 10-inch skillet over moderate heat. Add onions and mushrooms; cook, stirring almost constantly, until wilted. Keep heat high enough so juice does not collect in pan.

Stir in flour so it coats mushrooms well. Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water and add to skillet with salt and pepper.

Cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened; simmer about 10 minutes longer to reduce sauce somewhat.

Stir in lemon juice, then cream; add roast beef and reheat but do not boil. Makes four servings. Serve over hot cooked rice.

Flavored Honey Butter

Honey butter flavored with vanilla is wonderful served over pancakes, waffles, French toast or hot biscuits. Heat one-half cup each butter and honey together until butter is melted. Remove from heat and stir. Add vanilla.

Cream Tops Off Tomato Aspic

Colorful tomato aspic topped with a flavorful sour cream dressing will dress up your family meal or that evening buffet for friends.

This combination enhances any menu, and the salad can be made ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator until ready to serve.

Tomato Aspic

1 tablespoon granulated gelatin
 1/2 cup cold water
 2 cups tomato juice
 1 small onion, sliced
 1 bay leaf
 Few peppercorns
 Celery tops
 2 teaspoons vinegar

Soften gelatin in cold water. Cook tomato juice, onion, bay leaf, peppercorns, celery tops and vinegar for 10 minutes. Strain and add to gelatin. Pour into individual molds and chill until firm.

When gelatin is partly set, one-half cup of chopped celery or a few sliced stuffed olives may be added.

Unmold and top with sour cream dressing. Yield: Five to six servings.

Sour Cream Dressing

1 cup heavy sour cream
 2 tablespoons vinegar
 1 teaspoon salt

Cream may be whipped before vinegar and salt are stirred in, gradually. Undiluted evaporated milk may be substituted for sour cream, increasing vinegar to three tablespoons.

Hollow Out and Stuff Sprouts, Beets, Onions

Remove outer leaves from Brussels sprouts and soak sprouts in salted water for an hour or so. Drain, and hollow out centers with a sharp knife. Hollow out small canned beets and little canned white onions.

Fill centers of vegetables with seasoned cream cheese or egg salad mixture. Chill. Arrange vegetables in circles on big plate. Pile radish roses in center and garnish with parsley.

For golden whipped potatoes, cook two or three carrots with potatoes. Whip as usual with hot milk and butter.

Camp Fire Council Names Candy Sale Winners

Girls Receive Certificates for Official Merchandise

Project Conducted Annually to Pay for Group's 120-Acre Camping Site

Winners in the annual Camp Fire Girls' candy sale were announced today by the Pontiac Camp Fire Council.

Prizes are in the form of gift certificates for Camp Fire equipment and are scaled according to the amount sold.

First prize in the junior organization, Blue Birds, went to Mary Brodick of the Busy Bee Group at McConnell School.

Carol Morris, also a member of the Busy Bee Group, is second prize winner. Third place honors are held by Connie Everett of the Blue Bird Gang of LeBaron School.

In the senior Camp Fire Girls division, Bonnie Fugitt of the Le-Wo-Play Camp Fire Group of LeBaron School received first prize.

Carol Powell took second place honors for the Tawanka Group of Crofoot School, and Kathy Chandler was named third place winner.

The above winners also will receive honorable mention awards which include a day camp registration fee or a gift certificate for Camp Fire or Blue Bird merchandise.

Camp Fire Girls also receive honors in business craft, which is part of the educational program of Camp Fire Girls.

BONUS RETURNED

A group bonus is returned to the groups for each can of candy sold by its members.

Camp Fire Girls began selling candy in 1952 after it had been decided to open a fund to buy a camp site. The council was finding it more and more difficult to procure facilities from other camp owners, and it was felt that there was a definite need for this camping program in Pontiac.

When 100 Camp Fire Girls sold 5,000 cans of candy the first year, popularity made the drive a part of the annual program.

Through the help of members of the Pontiac Civitan Club, a camp site was found which would enable the girls to have their own land available for day camping.

The 120-acre plot, which includes an entire lake, was sold to the council on a 10-year contract and the Camp Fire Girls were told that they could buy their own property through the sales of candy.

$5,000 PAID

At the end of three years, the girls had paid $5,000 of the $5,000 through their own efforts.

The growth of the Camp Fire program in Pontiac since this plan was undertaken has enabled the Camp Fire Council to move into larger quarters in the National Building, with twice the space formerly held.

Swimsuits Keep Gals Covered Up

NEW YORK (INS) — Men who like to visit the beach for the scenery might as well head for the hills this summer. The 1956 bathing beauties will look like boys.

It will all be done with new high-style bathing suits by Christian Dior, who doesn't seem to approve of bosoms on or off beaches.

Dior has designed bathing suits for Cole of California which already are causing rumblings in resort styles, though they won't be on the market till April.

Like Dior dresses, the French designer's bathing suits have high necks, "minimized" bosoms, and long torso effects. Compared to Bikini suits, the new Dior swimsuits look like Mother Hubbards.

Typical of the suits, which will sell for $25 and up, is a model in cotton which features a striped tunic with high, square front neck and high back neck over separate "boys' shorts."

The tunic top plunges straight from the neckline to hip pleats, subduing all resemblance to Gina Lollobrigida.

For girls who don't mind looking like boys, the Dior swimsuits do have an advantage — they're so different everybody will know you bought a Dior. But be warned: The only suntan you'll get will be on arms and legs.

Mary Martha Circle Plans Future Events

Mrs. Emerson Brown of Pinegrove avenue entertained members of the Mary Martha Circle of the Oakland Park Methodist Church for a dessert luncheon on Thursday.

Mrs. Eldon Sweazey gave devotion, following which Mrs. L. O. Minewasser presented a poem, "Be Your Best." Mrs. Lizzie Hodgkinson also gave two recitations.

The circle members made plans for the WSCS meeting at which they will serve as hostesses, and announcement was made of the Sunday School penny supper being served Jan. 31.

Mrs. Herman Kunze invited the group to her home on Spence street for its February meeting.

GOP Club to Meet

Pontiac Republican Women's Club will hear Clifford O'Sullivan, national committeeman of Michigan, Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the YWCA. Special guests will be Mrs. Rae Hooker and Mrs. Peter Gibson.

St. Dunstan Guild to Give 25th Anniversary Party

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Members of St. Dunstan Guild have been invited to the organization's 25th anniversary formal dinner-dance which will be given Saturday evening in the Cranbrook Pavilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Manhard are chairman of the affair, assisted by Mrs. Ruth A. Warren, Mrs. Glen R. Miller, Mrs. Donald Hutson, Jack Berne, Victor Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barit.

Silver will predominate in the decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Taylor will be among cocktail hosts previous to the dinner. A spontaneous floor show by members will be a highlight of the dinner hour.

Mrs. Duncan McCallum and Mrs. Harvey G. Luce, both of Woodward avenue, have taken an apartment in New York for several months. Mrs. Luce will study art there. In April the two will sail for a tour of several weeks in Europe.

There are now 125 Junior Leagues in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Hawaii, with a total membership of 95,000. Emphasis in the Junior League is on providing trained volunteer service in the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Andress plan to take a California trip soon after Feb. 1.

Actor Fred MacMurray and his lovely wife, actress June Haver, who are spending a week in Detroit, will be honor guests at several Bloomfield Hills parties this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ledyard Mitchell (Heidi Flannery) will spend this weekend at Otsego Ski Club. In February they plan to go to New England for skiing in the mountains there.

Going up for Feb. 1, which is opening day, will be the Russell S. Strickland family. The Stricklands have recently returned from skiing at Mt. Tremblant in the province of Quebec.

Mernie Anderson has gone to Palm Beach, Fla., to join Patty Eden in her apartment there and to spend the rest of the winter. The girls, who had an apartment in New York together last winter, are hoping to be in one of Worth avenue's attractive shops during the gay season.

Patty has been down since before Christmas. She joined her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlton G. Eden, in their Florida home where Mrs. Eden will remain all winter. Mernie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Anderson of Orchard Ridge road.

ALSO IN FLORIDA

Mrs. Harry J. Klinger has returned to her home on the Inland Waterway at Delray Beach, Fla. She has been there since fall but came north to be near her family during the holidays.

In New York for the opening of GM's Motorama this week were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Schirmer, the Thomas E. Wilsons, the Robert N. Woodruffs and many others. Mrs. Wilson will return Friday to prepare for a trip to the Surf Club at Miami Beach.

The new Osage Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association is the 18th branch of that organization in Michigan. It is sponsored by the Bloomfield Hills Branch and was greatly assisted in its organization by Mrs. Leroy G. Vanderveer, who entertained the group at tea in December.

Last Monday the first meeting of the provisional board of directors was held at the home of the new president, Mrs. P. H. Hamby of Orchard Hills drive.

Most of the members live in the vicinity of Adams and East Long Lake Rds. where hedges of the osage orange abound.

Mrs. James T. Ashton is vice president, Mrs. Howard Senteney,

Unit Plans Card Parties

Twenty members of Alpha Chapter of Beta Theta Phi sorority attended the Tuesday meeting held at the home of Mrs. William T. Hurlburt on Elmhurst drive.

Plans were made for two benefit card parties, proceeds to be used for the sorority's project at Pontiac State Hospital.

The first party on Feb. 4 will be at the home of Mrs. L. H. Gross of Lexington place, and the second party will be Feb. 11 at the home of Mrs. L. E. Monroe on Nathan road.

Mrs. Cross, president, named committees for the annual banquet. Mrs. Hurlburt will serve as general chairman, Mrs. J. Frank Coad, program; Mrs. Russell Beam and Mrs. U. C. Meeker, decorations, and Mrs. Wilbert E. Davies, housing.

The sorority is sponsoring a money-making project Jan. 21.

Quota Club Honors Mrs. Doty

In recognition of her many charitable public services, outstanding accomplishments and selfless charity, Mrs. Florence L. Doty was selected the Outstanding Woman of the Year for Oakland County.

Mrs. Doty was selected by a panel of judges composed of Dr. John D. Monroe, Edward E. Wilson of Birmingham and Mayor Howard Kelley of Royal Oak.

Members of the Quota Club of Oakland County, a service club of executive women, one from each business or professional group in the county, are meeting for dinner at Devon Gables this evening to pay special tribute to Mrs. Doty.

Her devotion to the Probate Court for 41 years is the longest service of anyone in a Probate Court in the state of Michigan.

She commenced her work at the Probate Court in Oakland County on Feb. 17, 1920, under the late Judge Joseph S. Stockwell. Learned in the law, she has the respect and admiration of the entire bar.

Throughout the years, Mrs. Doty has worked tirelessly for the advancement of women in the services of the professional and governmental fields, setting an example of self-effacing effort and promoting the advancement and recognition of others in a most selfless manner.

Her life has been motivated by a devotion to principles, ideals and the welfare of others. She has done much to foster goodwill for the advancement of the organizations of the minority groups, with no regard for race, color or creed.

As a woman, she has squarely met the tragedies and disappointments of life, developing great character.

Among the organizations to which Mrs. Doty belongs are First Presbyterian Church of Pontiac, Zonta Club of Pontiac, Urban League and Abraham Lincoln Civil War Round Table of Michigan.

She has served on the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Board and is the only woman to hold office on the board of directors for the Lincoln Round Table.

Her life of service, dedicated and devoted to the public and to the welfare and happiness of others, well merits this recognition.

Too Much Helpfulness Is Harmful

By ANNE HEYWOOD—
Helpfulness can be a wonderful thing or it can be disastrous. Many times, our efforts to be helpful to those we love, turn out to do far more harm than good.

Women have to be particularly careful about this. They seem to be born with the desire to be helpful, and are conditioned along these lines by their early training until their helpfulness gets terribly out of hand.

For example, some girls, in an effort to be popular, will do the homework for boy friends in school, only to find them doing less helpful girls.

Many a mother, in her desire to "help" her children, ruins their lives. And most of all, the wife who says, "All I want is to help my husband get ahead," frequently ruins his career as well as his life.

Much of the mail I get comes under the last category—wives who want to help their husbands get a raise or make an impression on the boss.

By reading between the lines, you can see that they're really needing the poor man into an ambition he hasn't got and shouldn't have.

HAPPY WIVES
In this group are the wives who constantly harp at their husbands to ask for a raise, until the poor man is afraid to show his face around the house; or they insist on entertaining his boss and wife when it will be uncomfortable all around and will perhaps spoil the relationship.

If you're anxious to help your husband in his career, the best way to do it is to mind your own business—whether it's straight housekeeping or housekeeping-plus-job.

If you're a housewife, be a good housewife and a cheerful one. Find some outlet within the home for your interests and talents and for your need of recognition.

Then you'll be a person in your own right, which is the best way to help your husband.

If you hate being a housewife, don't needle him into getting a raise.

you can see that they're really needing the poor man into an ambition he hasn't got and shouldn't have.

SEEK OWN GLORY
If glory is important to you, and being a housewife doesn't satisfy your need, then get a job of your own and leave the poor man's job alone.

Streamlined Beach Wear Ready for '36
Beach Beauties of 1936 will be as vivid as confetti and as streamlined as seals, to judge from the new crop of swim suits.

Tops in the swim lineup is the elasticized suit, which fits the figure like a second skin, smooths out bulges like a good foundation garment and manages to have high-style dressmaker touches as well.

And whatever the fabric of the stretch suit, it looks like cotton.

Designers have adapted important trends in the current dress silhouette to beach wear, so that you will find swim suits with Empire waistlines, with jumper designs, with bell sleeves and new necklines.

The trend is toward a more covered-up look for the beach, with the one-piece suit the overwhelming favorite. There are more and wider straps to be seen on the new bathing suits, and skillful design gives a long-legged look even to short-legged gals.

The trend toward ensembles in dress fashions also spreads to the beach, with many suits featuring matching or coordinated skirts, shirts or jackets.

Gaily colored Roman stripes and plaids will be all over the place this season, along with vivid solid colors with a variety of trimmings.

Supima Cotton Makes Its Bow
A new fashion fabric made its debut recently in a group of dresses designed by Adele Simpson. The fabric is Supima, the newest American-grown extra long staple cotton.

Supima is a lustrous, silky cotton which American growers are counting on to challenge Egyptian varieties for the fine cotton supremacy of the world.

It was recently developed after years of research by geneticists of the Department of Agriculture's Arizona Experiment Station in Tucson.

The variety is a botanical descendant of the famous Sea Island cotton which once flourished along the Georgia coast before the boll weevil made it uneconomical to grow.

If you like, you can now get "Black Watch" in lingerie, too. There's a slim half-slip in this clan plaid for wear under your straight-lined suits and dresses.

Mothers Plan Party on Feb. 8

Mrs. Leroy Peak and Mrs. Barbara Carry were welcomed as new members of the Mothers Club of the Boys Club of America when the group met Tuesday evening.

Plans were completed for a card party to be held at the Boys Club on Feb. 8. The chairman of the affair, Mrs. Floyd Halpin, will be assisted by Mrs. Charles Eaglen and Mrs. Carry.

Serving on the refreshment committee will be Mrs. Harold MacKenzie, Mrs. Henry Engholm and Mrs. Gordon Boice.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Lillian Fink, Mrs. Delbert Hammett, Mrs. John Find and Mrs. Engholm.

MARGARET CARRY

Mrs. Susan Carry of Judson street announces the engagement of her granddaughter, Margaret Ann Carry, to Edward Joseph Daiga, the son of Leo J. Daiga of Grand Rapids. A summer wedding is planned.

Tuck a Paisley scarf in at the neck of your black suit this fall. Or have bag or belt in Paisley with a simple black wool dress.

Resort Sportswear Stars Leggy Look

The leggy look, typically American, will get its share of deserved attention in the long parade of pants fashions in resort sportswear collections. In long pants, the leggy look is there because trousers are tapered. Stripes on the vertical often help to establish longer-looking proportions. Tops to match give a unified aspect to this phase of sportswear.

Asian number one: the plainer the dress, the dressier the sweater. If the sweater is decorated, classic undecorated cordigans do nicely.

The many bare-armed, stark-silhouette resort dresses become complete costumes with the cardigan or the bulky sweater. Sweaters should blend in lighter or darker shade to achieve tone on tone color harmony.

Graceful Walk Aid to Mature Beauty

A graceful walk is an aid to mature beauty that no woman is too old, too heavy or too budget-bound to utilize.

If you analyze your walk, you may find that you are resting on each hip and allowing the foot to snap up and lock, at each step.

You may find that you are walking with chest and chin forward, rear end quite far behind.

If you suspect this fault, you may confirm it when you discover that clothes that fit well in the store always bunch and roll when you wear them later.

To give a new flavor to dried prunes, add a few whole cloves while they're cooking or cook them in grape juice.

Champions Scorn Rock 'n' Roll Dance Fad

By EMILY BELZER
HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Marge and Gower Champion, the nation's top popular dance duo, blasted the "rock 'n' roll" craze today and called it a "national calamity."
The Champions, who wouldn't be caught dead either rocking or rolling, declared the 2-year-old mania has ushered in "a new low in dancing."

"This is the dance — if you could call it that — that started the terrible shirt-tail and dunga-ree era," Marge added.

"One of the worst things about it," Gower noted, "is the ridiculous monotony of it all. The kids don't do anything but bounce up and down."

"Yes," Marge agreed, "it doesn't offer any variety. It's like eating nothing but mashed potatoes week in and week out."

PRACTICALLY ALONE
But if record royalties are any indication, it would seem the Champions are practically alone in the rock 'n' roll complaint department.

Gold Star Mothers Aid Cancer Society

American Gold Star Mothers Chapter Nine met at the home of Mrs. Edith Pick of Lenox avenue. The group sewed for the American Cancer Society.

Sixteen members and friends attended the Tuesday meeting. The group will meet Feb. 7 at the American Legion Home on Auburn avenue.

A "dressy" perfume, an oriental or semi-oriental, would find a welcome spot for the lady whose engagement book is filled with evening appointments. An oriental or semi-oriental is sophisticated, heady, intense.

Bill Haley, who originated the music that is a combination of Dixieland, top and hillbilly, has sold more than 6,000,000 rock 'n' roll discs and his royalties for the past six months from the one record company alone were more than $125,000.

The Haley band, just like the Champions (on the other side of the fence), is "big business" and Haley himself, a nice young fellow from Booth's Corner, Pa., is almost as much a craze with teenagers as his music.

But any way it's sliced, the Champions think rock 'n' roll is rough on the psychological digestion.

"By dining on this type of music," Marge declared, "young people are hemming themselves in. I don't think any fad in the history of dancing has been quite so dull as this one."

DANCING DECLINED

The Champions recalled that during World War II, kids didn't dance much at all.

"Most of the big name bands there really wasn't much to dance to. Now, it's starting up again. "There's only one good thing I can say about 'rock 'n' roll' — I guess it does take a lot of kids out of the pool parlors and off the street. "But I wish they'd think up a more inventive dance to be crazy about. At this rate, they might wind up a race of idiots!"

The shirt as shown here is a far cry from the uninspired white blouse. The crosstab button shirt at left is made in white wool-tufteta. With three quarter-length sleeves and buttoned cuffs, it is both pretty and practical. Fine, soft corded velveteen in soft rose (center) makes a shirt with a round Italian convertible collar. Three-quarter length sleeves have two buttons, are adjustable. The tailored cotton shirt (right) becomes a candidate for after-five wear. This one, in rose-printed broadcloth, comes in shades of cherry pink, chartreuse or soft gray-green on a white background.

A well-stocked linen closet has six sheets for each bed in the home and three pillowcases for every member of the family. Heavy muslin sheets wear well but may feel rough and be costlier to launder. Percale also wears well, weighs much less and feels silky. Nylon dries quickly, needs no ironing, so fewer are needed.

Dinner Fetes Bridal Pair Man-Made Fibers Cut Housework

Man-made fibers such as rayon, nylon, orlon, dacron and acrilan are doing much to make a woman's work easier. Synthetic fabrics for collars, edging, petticoats and embroidery are increasing in use. Nylon novelties in solids, prints, stripes and bands are featured in whites, pastels and muted blacks for the grammar school set.

Increasingly popular and serviceable for teenagers are nylon and dacron blouses in finishes such as puckers, taffetas, piques and twills. Orlon and dacron dresses of many textures, finishes and colors are also featured now.

An example of the wash-and-wear with style look is a tree-moss nylon pucker, fashioned with a wide skirt, bertha collar trimmed with lace, and a washable velveteen cummerbund. A built-in, bouffant petticoat completes the washable outfit.

New woven nylon plaids in many colors are for the grammar and junior high school crowd. Crisp, full-bodied opaque nylon plaid is given the feminine touch in a full-skirted, puff-sleeved dress edged in white lace.

Batiste effects in dresses and blouses are available in dacron-cotton solids and prints. Other new fabrics and finishes include high shades of dacron pique and an embossed waffle dacron.

Heavy textured orlon and nylon denim apparel is also being developed.

For kindergartners there are nylon dresses with a greater variety of pattern and style than previously.

Parents Can Take Role of Chaperons for Young Woman

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "My brother is going to be married in the early spring. His fiancée, whose home town is over a hundred miles from here, has taken a job in this city. She has been living at a women's hotel but it is very expensive and takes practically everything she earns.

"I have recently married and no longer live with my parents, so they have an extra room in their apartment. We were wondering if it would be proper for my brother's fiancée to move in with them.

"It would be a big help to her but we would like to know if it could possibly cause gossip if they lived together under the same roof before they are married, even though my parents would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: There is absolutely no question about the propriety of her living with his parents. She couldn't possibly be more perfectly chaperoned.

"Dear Mrs. Post: One of the girls in our office is going to be married shortly and has sent one invitation to the whole office. There are approximately 30 of us.

"Is such an invitation proper, or should individual invitations have been sent? Also, does an invitation of this kind include the husbands (and wives) of those who are married?"

Answer: One invitation to an office group is not unusual. If no mention is made of wives and husbands, they are not invited and just the employees of the office are expected.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening my boy friend and I had dinner in a restaurant. We each had a cocktail. Before drinking his, he raised his glass and said, 'Here's to you.' What was the proper reply for me to make?"

Answer: You could say — "and to you too."

Fine for Home
Coordinate Look

NEW YORK (INS)—The coordinated look was very strong in 1935.

In an attempt to get a "joined" look in home decor, colors were carried over from bedroom to living room to bathroom.

Very often it would be, say, a blue and green bedroom, a green blue and yellow living room, and a blue or green bath.

Or else a particular pattern or theme would be repeated in two rooms.

The "coordinated look" was maintained inside the room, also. In bedrooms, curtains would match bedspreads.

In the living room, upholstery of the couch or an important chair would match the living room drapes.

As far as lingerie colors are concerned, white will be the thing for spring.

Pals Fret About Girl's Doormat Behavior

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD
"Dear Miss Woodward: We think the world of her, and we hate to see her get pushed around. She just won't stick up for her rights. And there's where we need your help so we can help her."

"The other day in class, the girl sitting next to her started talking to her during a test, and she kept it up even though Jo never answered her, until the teacher came down and ripped Jo's paper up, not giving her a chance to explain."

"So all of the kids stood up and asked the teacher why she didn't correct the one who was to blame. It was a real furor. But the teacher wouldn't listen, and Jo told the kids to forget it. We'll never forget it!"

"There's a very nice boy who likes her a lot, but she tries to avoid him because she found out his old girl friend still likes him! We tell her she's foolish, but she doesn't want to hurt the other girl!"

"She's not well, either, and we can't get her to go to the doctor. She gets terrible pains over her heart after sports or climbing stairs and she's scared to death. But she made us promise not to tell her mother because she says she has enough worries."

"We're at our wit's end trying to help her, and she thanks us for thinking about her and says she's perfectly happy. What can we do?"

Answer: Some people are very independent in a very funny way. They are so used to doing things for other people that they don't know how to accept the good services of their friends. They want no fuss made over them. They want no special notice tak-

martyr. They like to suffer and feel that their friends are suffering for them. You can't change your girl friend if she doesn't want to change. You can voice your opinions, give her moral support, and that's about all.

Except for those pains. Next time that happens, run for the school nurse or one of the teachers. Whatever is wrong with her should be attended to before she really gives her mother something to worry over.

Go on being loyal to her. Try to explain to her that it's her own fault if she gets the short end of all deals. Impress on her that self-preservation is a legitimate interest.

And there may come a time when she'll stand up and fight back—for justice.
(Copyright, 1936)

Until today an invisible barrier may have kept you from the skin beauty you long for!

MAX FACTOR'S new discovery, SECRET KEY throws open the barrier that may be in your skin... thus enabling your creams and lotions to work most effectively!

"Why is it that women with dry skin—women with oily skin—and women with the problems of blackheads and blemishes, never seem to get the help they long for—even when the strictest beauty routine is followed with expensive treatment preparations?"

For years, we at Max Factor searched for the answer to this puzzling question. And this search revealed the startling fact that there is often a chemical barrier in the skin itself that keeps creams and lotions from getting in and working most effectively.

This barrier develops when skin lacks correct pH balance. Meaning, it is either too acid or too alkaline. And very few women do have correct skin balance.

We set out to discover a way to break through the barrier—to enable creams and lotions to get through to bring needed help to parched or oil-clogged skin cells.

We found the way. When this barrier exists the SECRET KEY—a remarkable liquid formulation—returns the skin to correct acidity-alkalinity balance... and by so doing opens the way through for creams and lotions to do their beautifying work.

We followed with exactly the right corrective treatment groups for the dry, the oily, the disturbed and the normal skin... Each group formulated to follow right behind the SECRET KEY and help the skin to help itself.

With the SECRET KEY and your corrective treatment group—suddenly you will begin to notice a real improvement!

Today, I am happy to be able to turn over to you the SECRET KEY that can open the way to the skin beauty you have longed for.

Casual Parties Best for Youngsters

The first step in giving a successful party for a very young child is to get in the right frame of mind.

Instead of dreading the day when you will have to open your home to a collection of over-excited, hyperactive children in celebration of your own son's or daughter's birth, try to see it through his or her eyes.

His own birthday is more significant in many respects than Christmas, Easter or any national holiday, since it is a date exclusively his own.

The most enjoyable and successful parties are the casual, unorganized and homemade type of party. If you have children around the 10-year age group, you can start by putting your heads together to decide on a motif for little brother or sister's party.

Then carry out the theme on the invitations, in the decorations which you all help to make, on the paper plates and napkins, and on the cake and in the games.

At the 3 to 4-year level, the party motif is usually something elementary like the circus, cowboys or Valentines, for example: Plan a party around a meal—either at 12 o'clock lunch or an early supper. It takes very little extra work and there is no danger of ruining any appetites for the next meal or of interfering with naps.

Simple entertainment and games are best for little children. There are many you could try without having to worry about too much confusion.

Homemakers Meet With Mrs. Brown

The Community Homemakers Club met at the home of Mrs. Emerson Brown on Pingree avenue Tuesday evening. Mrs. Edward Walters was cohostess.

A report was given on Christmas gifts sent to patients at the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital and plans were made to visit the patients once a week.

A lesson "Line in Dress," was taught by Mrs. Paul Hagan and Mrs. Roy Lyn. The next meeting will be held at the North Shaker street home of Mrs. Lyn.

Meeting Conducted by Elizabeth Circle

Mrs. David Duball of the State Hospital Grounds entertained the Elizabeth Circle of the First Christian Church Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Allen Hersee gave the program on "Rocks That Cause Whirlpools," and devotions were given by Mrs. Duball. Plans were made for the youth banquet to be held Friday at the church.

Mrs. Levi Geasler of Holbrook avenue will be hostess for the next meeting.

Shower Presented for Mrs. Tomanek

Mrs. Thomas Patten entertained at a pink and blue shower in her home on East Cornell avenue Tuesday evening honoring Mrs. Albert Tomanek. Cohostesses for the affair were Peggy Jo Eagle and Mrs. Phil DeConick.

A buffet supper was served from a table decorated in a pink and blue color scheme.

Big 10 Asks UM to Check 2 Hockey Stars

Players Charged With Accepting Payments for Expenses

Pontiac's George Gary, who officiated Tuesday night's St. Michael-Orchard Lake St. Mary basketball game, was much impressed by the high caliber of play.

"This was one of the best games I've worked this season," George said afterwards. "These two teams compare very favorably with some Class A squads I've seen."

Detroit Lion Star Lou Creekmur will be the guest speaker at a benefit banquet of the St. Benedict's parish Men's Club Monday February 12th. The men are attempting to raise funds to provide athletic facilities and equipment for the sports program of the parish.

Michigan State may renew its rivalry with UCLA on a regular season basis on the football field. The Spartans and Uclans are negotiating a home and home series for 1939 and 1940.

Tom Tracy, ex-Birmingham grid star whom the Lions picked up in the draft this week, is now a resident of Pontiac. The talented halfback was married just about a month ago and is now working in an automobile salesmen in Birmingham.

Jerry Paul, Avondale's scoring ace who hit 43 points against Lake Orion a week ago, simmered down to 12 points Tuesday against Clawson. Despite Clawson's 3-6 record the Trojans have shown good balanced scoring in every game and they were due to break loose against someone. Five players were in double figures against Avondale.

After St. Mike's loss to OL St. Mary, Shanrock member Bob Minnowser remarked "That's the end of our 'Cinderella' role." The Mike's, having only one hold-over from the 1934-35 SCL champions, were undefeated until the Eagles delivered a KO punch.

Norm Masters, Michigan State tackle, signed to play with the British Columbia Lions of the Western Inter-Provincial Football Union. Masters, 22, was the 2nd draft choice of the Chicago Cardinals. He joins end Rommie Lound and fullback Doug Peters, both of UCLA, on the Canadian team.

See these Oklahoma A&M Cowpokes are moving back up into the power class of the basketball world. The Aggies were in the AP top 20 this week, and in their past few games they have been hitting their shots at a remarkable 55.1 per cent.

A total of five players have quit Oklahoma's basketball team in the past few days. Yesterday two more followed three who quit the team and the school earlier. Sophomore Gary Balding of Hazelton, Kans., and Jim Peck a junior from Leedy, Okla., left the Sooners saying they "had lost confidence." This shaves the Sooner quintet down to eight varsity players.

Basilio Gets Neil Award at Ring Party

NEW YORK (U)—Carmen Basilio, Harry Mendel and Bob Murphy will be honored for their contribution to the ring at tonight's annual dinner of the Boxing Writers Assn. Basilio, world welterweight champion, will be presented with the Edward J. Neil, Phoenix as "Fighter of the Year" in 1935. The presentation will be made by Murray Rose, Associated Press sports writer. Neil, an Associated Press boxing writer, was killed while covering the Spanish Civil War.

Briggs Says There's No Hurry to Sell Tigers

Sandy Beats Elorde by TKO

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Ringwise Sandy Saddler, his world featherweight crown still intact although somewhat battered, set his sights today on a crack at the lightweight title.

The 32-year-old Saddler, trailing by one point on all three official scorecards after nine rounds, retained his 126-pound championship with a technical knockout of Filipino (Flash) Elorde at 59 seconds of the 14th round last night. Referee Ray Flores stopped the scrap, a bloody melee in the final round, because of a long, deep cut over Elorde's left eye.

The game little challenger, who weighed 125 pounds to Saddler's 126, suffered the cut in the eighth round and appeared virtually blinded the rest of the way. He insisted, though, that he could have gone on.

The crowd, almost 100 per cent on his side, booed lustily when Flores' decision to stop it was announced.

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (U)—Is competition going to be tougher in next week's winter Olympics? Well, the Finns left their world champion skier at home and brought along 10 guys you never heard of who they say are better.

That should give you an idea. The games, Jan. 26 through Feb. 2 at this Alpine village, figure to be the toughest yet.

In addition to the evident increase in competition among the usual Olympic nations, Russia will unveil its "mystery" team in its first appearance at the winter games. From what the Russians have shown in warmup meets, it may be an auspicious debut.

Only yesterday the Russians swept the 500-meter race in the international speed skating meet at nearby Davos, Switzerland. And here, at Italia—the graceful Olympic ski-jump mountain—a curious in by ring physician Dr. Robert Laddon. "I finish strong," Elorde declared in his dressing room. "The eye was not bothering me. He never did hurt me."

Dr. Laddon disagreed on his third look at the cut. Twice previously—in the 10th and 11th rounds—Flores had stopped the action for an examination and both times Dr. Laddon sent Elorde back. In the 12th, at the obviously worried Flores' request, he called a halt.

Saddler, whose infighting tactics brought frequent boos from the crowd, took full advantage of the bleeding cut to swing the fight in his favor. Several times he was using his thumb to rub across the eye. When he was in the open, the champion shot left after left into the Filipino's battered face.

Young Elorde was leading on Flores' card and those of both judges—Eddie James and Johnny Agua Caliente, Mexico (U)—More than 133 golfers begin play today in the 72-hole Agua Caliente Open over the Caliente Country Club course, scene of many rich tournaments in the 1930s.

Tommy Bolt, Mike Souchak and Gene Littler are among the established favorites. Others expected to give a good account include Bill Maxwell, Freddie Haas, Wally Ulrich, Jay Herbert, Al Bessolink, Doug Ford and Dutch Harrison.

Also in the field are two former Agua Caliente Open champions, Paul Runyan and Fred Morrison, who won their titles during the early 1930s, when the purse went as high as $25,000.

Runyan estimates a score of 277 or 278 will win this year. The 7,200 yard par-72 Caliente course is made tough by 64 traps and cold ocean wind that rises about noon.

Saturday and Sunday the low 60 players wind up the last 36 holes.

Well, buckaroos, ole Cagey Clem didn't do too bad of a job last week in pickin' these here roundball games. Got me 17 out of 24 which is a pretty good percentage, but you know I gotta miss a few or else these here Cowpoke cagers might believe they're beaten before they start the game. Never figured for Armada, Waterford and Ortonville gettin' beat last week and I thought Clarkston and West Bloomfield would squeeze by and they didn't.

This week's pickin' will be mighty tough because all of the league-leading teams will be havin' one heck of a time with the top contenders on their ranch. One moment, let me get these predictions out of my saddle bag:

Fans, Opponent Protest Saddler's 'Dirty' Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Sandy Saddler kept his featherweight boxing title last night but the way he did it made him a target for sporadic booing from the fifth round until the referee stopped it in the 13th.

The crowd of 5,000 thundered protests when Referee Ray Flores ended the bout, ruling that Flash Elorde couldn't go on with a bleeding cut over his left eye.

Rosier Outlook for Canadiens After Victory

Montreal Stops Slump With Win Over Leafs; Rangers Trail by 8

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The National Hockey League picture today had a rosier outlook for the Montreal Canadiens, who were back on the victory path.

The league-leading Canadiens cracked out of a slump last night as veteran left winger Bert O'Leary scored a late goal on a 3-2 triumph over the Toronto Maple Leafs. The result moved Montreal 8 points ahead of the idle New York Rangers.

Shut out in their two previous games, Montreal hit the scoring column early in the second period with Boom Boom Geoffrion finding the net.

Geoffrion's tally made it 1-1. Maurice (The Rocket) Richard put the Canadiens in front 2-1, but the Leafs came back to tie it again on Tod Sloan's 25th marker of the season.

O'Leary's goal came at 14:38 of the final period.

The Canadiens have an opportunity to make it two in a row against the Leafs in Montreal tonight, Boston is at Detroit in the only other game on tonight's schedule.

LOS ANGELES (U)—End Jarv Walz of Central Michigan was the 24th round choice of the Detroit Lions yesterday as the National Football League wound up its annual draft session.

One of Walz' teammates, center Dick Kackmeister, who was honorable mention on the Associated Press little all-America team, was selected by Los Angeles in the 30th and final round.

They were the only two "small college" players from Michigan to be selected.

Halfback Tony Branstetter of Michigan went to the Chicago Cardinals in the 23rd round, while Carl Nystrom, Michigan

Floyd, Freeman Tops in NCAA

NEW YORK (U)—Dartell Floyd, the Furman hotshot who led all major college basketball players in scoring last season, again is setting the pace at the season's halfway mark this year. But little Roy Freeman of Ohio State is making it a close race.

NCAA statistics showed today that Floyd had piled up 370 points in 11 games through last Saturday for an average of 33.6 points a game. Freeman, in the same number of games, has scored 367 points for an average output of 33.4.

Floyd last season put together an average of 35.9 points a game, the second highest mark in history. Frank Selvy also of Furman holds the record with 41.7 set during 1933-34.

Dan Swartz of Morehead State and Tom Heinsohn of Holy Cross held onto third and fourth places while Bill Ebben of Detroit moved up two steps to fifth. Swartz is averaging 29.3 points a game, Heinsohn 26.0 and Ebben 25.4.

The Baltimore Orioles will spring-into action in Arizona.

Jack Fluke of the San Francisco Chronicle wrote:

"Cruel Sandy Saddler...pulled out all his weapons last night."

"It was a dirty fight throughout and all the onus must be on the 126-pound champion's sidmy shoulders. From this corner it appeared highly improbable that he could have successfully defended the title...if he hadn't resorted to all the so-called tricks in and out of the rule book."

Elorde's manager and father-in-law, Lope Sarreal, said:

"I'll always feel that he was deprived of a chance to win the championship. He wasn't hurt...he was going to win in the last three rounds if they hadn't stopped it."

Dr. Robert Laddon, ringside physician who ruled the cut dangerous, explained:

"I was afraid it would endanger his sight."

Elorde said:

"The eye was not bothering me. That cut was started by an unintentional butt. He butted me many times."

Sarreal again: "I complained to the referee that Saddler was heel-ing, elbowing and butting all through the fight. I didn't get anywhere."

Saddler's manager, Charley Johnston, countered:

"Elorde was hanging on and holding during much of the fight. Saddler had to get his arms free somehow."

Franchise May Not Even Go to Highest Bidder

Spike Points Out That Other Factors Are Held Important

DETROIT (U)—The Detroit Tigers' franchise—considered one of the finest in baseball—remains up for sale, but President Spike Briggs said today it won't necessarily go to the highest bidder.

Nor is it essential that the club must be sold by a fixed date.

"A lot of people think that whoever makes the highest bid will get the Tigers," Briggs said. "That's not so. There are other factors to be considered—factors which we (trustees of the Tigers) consider important."

"We don't want to sell out to some money-mad people who will milk the franchise dry in two or three years, make a big profit and then pull out, leaving a depleted ball park and nine old men on the field."

The trustees of the Tigers are Briggs and his four sisters. Their children are the eventual heirs to the estate left by the late Walter O. Briggs Sr., Tiger president who died in 1932.

The sisters decided that a baseball franchise was not a sound trust investment and decided to sell out. Briggs formed a syndicate to buy the club last fall but his 3 1/2 million dollar offer was turned down by his sisters.

"There is no time limit on the sale of the club," Briggs said. "It could happen this year, or next year, or even in 1936."

Briggs said that, thus far, there have been 25 "inquiries" into the sale of the club.

Big Four Getting Old

Father Time Has Indians on Trail of Pitchers

(This is the 4th of a series of articles by Associated Press baseball writer Joe Reichler about the rookie prospects of Major League baseball teams. Today he looks at the Cleveland Indians, tomorrow the Brooklyn Dodgers.)

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, who failed to produce a 20-game winning pitcher for the first time since 1945 last season, have taken the hint. They are bringing ten yearling hurlers to their spring training camp in Tucson, Ariz., next month.

Hank Greenberg, the astute general manager, realizes as well as anyone else that age has caught up with his once-famed Big Four. Hall of Fame candidate Bob Feller, now 37, has been reduced to a once-a-week performer; Bob Lemon is 35, Early Wynn is 34 and Mike Garcia is 32. It would not surprise too many folks if the 22-year-old Herb Score, last year's rookie sensation, takes over as the staff's No. 1 pitcher this year.

There are no new Fellers, or even a Score, among this year's rookies crop, but two or three may have a chance to stick. Those with the best chance appear to be Hank Aquirre, a 24-year-old southpaw; and righthanders Bud Daley, 23, Cal McLish, 30, and Doten Nichols, 25. A dark horse may be Ed Gasque, a returning serviceman who divided 14 decisions with Tulsa and Indianapolis last year.

The only 20-game winner of the lot is Don (Magic) Missick, a slender 6-3 righthander, who pitched the Reading club to the Eastern League pennant. The 24-year-old Virginian hurled 20 complete games in posting a 20-4 record, but observers say he doesn't have the necessary fast ball to make it in the big time. A number of his com-

U.S. Olympic Team Handles 1st Big Crisis

Too-Tight Ski Pants Pose Problem; Find New, Roomier Ones

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—The first major crisis to confront the U.S. Winter Olympic team—tight pants—has been conquered.

Members of the ski jumping team arrived, tried on their pants and blushed as they visualized a most embarrassing moment: A pair of pants splitting while leaping through the air above 50,000 Olympic fans.

Somebody goofed. Eight of the 30 pairs of pants were skin tight.

"We found new pants at local stores yesterday," said John J. Clair of Jamaica, N.Y., representing the Olympic Ski Committee.

"Believe me, it was a great relief to the boys."

U.S. Hockey Team Beats Germans, 6-2

MANNHEIM, Germany (AP)—Three players scored two goals apiece to give the United States Olympic Hockey team a 6-2 victory over a picked West Germany squad last night.

The contest before 7,000 spectators was a warmup for the winter olympics, which will open Jan. 26 at Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy.

Weldon Olson of Marquette, Mich., Wellington P. Burnett of Winchester, Mass., and John Matchett of Eveleth, Minn., each tallied twice for the Americans. The game was the first of three the U. S. team will play in West the Olympics.

Podres Finds Salary Boost

BROOKLYN (AP)—Winning two games in the World Series, including the deciding, "meant I had graduated," says Johnny Podres.

"To me it meant that I had arrived as a pitcher," said the 23-year-old Brooklyn southpaw today.

"I knew I had graduated from being just a thrower to a pitcher. There's quite a difference."

There sure was. Johnny's big win brought the Dodgers $9,768 each against the Yanks' $5,598 for the series.

Podres found a nice raise in the 1956 contract he signed Wednesday, boosting him to about $15,000.

"If I can handle my change-up like I did against the Yankees, I'll have a real big year—if I'm not in the Army," said Podres.

The stocky left-hander's control of his change of pace pitch gave him the final piece of equipment he needed to become one of baseball's outstanding hurlers. He has plenty of speed and a good curve. The change-up kept the Yankee batters off-stride and Johnny hopes to do the same in his own league this year if Uncle Sam doesn't call him up.

Fourth Period Splurge

The Rochester Royals poured in 32 points in the final quarter last night to defeat New York, 108 to 101, in a National Basketball Association game at Rochester.

In other NBA contests, Minneapolis downed Philadelphia, 105 to 94, and Boston triumphed over Fort Wayne, 95 to 90.

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—Tenley Albright has a chance for a figure skating grand slam, and she's ready.

The slender, pretty girl with the brown hair already holds the North American and world ladies championships. She makes her bid for the Olympics title as well Jan. 30.

"I think it's foolish to speculate," said the 20-year-old Newton Center, Mass., miss in an interview today. "I'll just wait to see what happens."

The Olympics crown is the only bauble to escape her. She was second in the 1952 games at Oslo—but only by 2 points.

Shamrocks Hope to Rebound

The scintillating Suburban Catholic League basketball title chase, which is fast becoming a four-team affair, resumes tonight with all contenders seeing action before the weekend is through.

St. Michael's Shamrocks, still feeling the sting of Tuesday's 47-45 loss to Orchard Lake St. Mary, start the ball rolling when they invade Center Line High School's gymnasium tonight to tackle cellar-dwelling St. Clement.

Undefeated until the Orchard Lake disaster, the Mikes will attempt to make the hapless Clements the "scapegoats" for their vengeance. Coach Bob Minewasser's eagerness will be heavy favorites to win.

The Clements are winless in four league starts and share the basement with St. James. St. Clement has two good scorers in Dick Daldine and Jack O'Mara.

St. James visits St. Frederick tomorrow night to tangle with the Rams and both teams will find that they have similar objectives. The Dales are still looking for their 1st loop victory while St. Fred, winner of its 1st two contests, is now trying to snap a three-game losing streak.

The battle looms as a tossup, but the Rams of Gene Wright rule a slight edge on the basis of home court advantage.

Friday night's No. 1 SCL attraction is scheduled at Highland Park where St. Benedict entertains Royal Oak St. Mary, currently leading the circuit with a 4-0 record.

This will be the stiffest test for St. Mary's Irish thus far. Despite their front-running status the Irish will be underdogs against Art Massucci's Ravens.

The once-beaten Bens are handicapped by the loss of star forward Don Philion plus other injuries, but the strong lure of a possible loop crown and the friendly confines of the home floor give them the nod.

Orchard Lake St. Mary's Eaglets, right back in the thick of things after bumping St. Mike, square off with St. Rita tomorrow night at Hazel Park.

Father John Rakoczy's lads, tied with the Shamrocks and the Ravens for 2nd place, are a firm choice to win. The Vikings have won only one league game, 40-38 verdict over St. Clement.

MSU Skaters Try Against Wolverines

EAST LANSING — Michigan State will try again Friday and Saturday nights for the first Spartan hockey victory in history over rival Michigan.

MSU hopes to win, however, since it is at the bottom of the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League standings and Michigan leads the league.

The rivals play on MSU ice Friday night and travel to Ann Arbor for the 2nd game Saturday.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

FALLING INTO STRIDE—The late Jimmy Bloun, who was world match king in the twenties, used an expression in teaching that told a lot in three words. "Fall into stride," is the way he put it.

What he meant was that the upper half of the body must move forward, as a slouch shows, with the push-away of the ball. Whether you hold the ball chest-high, waist-high, or lower, the forward-downward movement of the body above the waist is of top significance.

It's the key move that produces coordination of push-away and footwork—the push-away in exact timing with the first (right foot) step in 4-step footwork.

Bloun dropped immediately into a low crouch with the push-away—and remained low during the stride to the foul line. Thus, with the ball swinging in a very low arc, just missing the floor, he was able to apply tremendous finger-spinning action as he released the ball with one of the easiest arm lifts I've ever seen.

Experiment until you find which type of stance is most comfortable and workable, and from which position you can best push the ball away. But "fall into stride." It will make bowling easier, more enjoyable.

Growing Old—April in the Heart

By GRANTLAND RICE

If only through my heart there flows
A tide of spring, blue days and gold,
To match the gray of winter snows
That gather when the year is old—
A breath from morning that I knew
Before the twilight's purple thrust
Across the hills when night is due
And fields are faint with starry dust.
What is the drifting years slip by
In grim parade along time's chart,
Or ghosts of winter blue the sky
If April lingers in the heart?
If one can march through fog and haze
To see the sunlight on the hill
And feel through winter's shadowed days
That spring is calling to him still?
Though age may come in with the tide
And thinning hair, perhaps, is gray,
Young April whistles at my side,
A careless vagabond at play;
I'll take him with me for a mate
And make him share the growing load
Until we pass the final gate
That opens on another road.
Young April— with its ghosts of dreams,
With all the glory of the game—
I hear again the singing streams
And see the dogwood in its flame;
The years may pass in quick review
But this is all I care to know—
The sun is gold—the sky is blue—
And dogwood lanes are white with snow.

Block for Coach

Indiana Players Defend Crimmins Against Blast

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Indiana University football players threw a crisp block today for coach Bernie Crimmins, under fire after receiving a five-year contract extension in spite of a losing record.

The Indiana Daily Student, campus newspaper, opened up on Crimmins this week after the university gave him a new contract and a boost in pay. Three student members of the University Athletic Committee joined in, complaining student opinion was not consulted.

Fifty-three varsity and freshman players signed a letter, which the Daily Student carried on Page 1 today, saying they were "even more shocked and outraged at your unfair blast at Coach Bernie Crimmins than are the rest of the friends of the university."

"Building football team takes time and work—lots of both," the players said. "We have lost ball games—but you must admit a lot of those games were lost by close scores. They could have gone either way. We lost some more games by our own mistakes—not Coach Crimmins'. He is one of the hardest workers in the business and ranks at the top in ability and knowledge of the game."

The players said they felt the newspaper's editorials "will hurt us for the future and certainly will not encourage football players to come to Indiana."

St. Louis Team Batters Season High of 3,551 by 248 Pins

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Budweisers of St. Louis, who are after the National Match Game Bowling championship, set two national season highs last night with a 3,729 three-game block and a second-game 1,260.

Little Dick Weber shot a perfect 300 game to lead off the first game, but he wasn't high man for the night and the Bud's first-game 1,228 was the worst of the block. They hit 1,232 in the last game.

The Bud's 3,729, scored in a league match with another St. Louis team, was just 79 pins off the world record of 3,799, set in 1937 by the Herman Undertakers of St. Louis.

It was 248 pins better than the season's previous high of 3,551 set by a Pittsburgh team.

The Buds lead the defending champion Strohs of Detroit by 965 pins at the halfway-point of their 24-game match for the title.

Coach Fears Letdown

New Strategy for Titans--Vacation

DETROIT (AP)—Bob Calihan, basketball coach at the University of Detroit, has adopted new strategy in hopes of combating a letdown by his Titans in the second half of the season.

"I told the boys not to go near a basketball for 10 days," Calihan said today. "I told them to stay out of the gym and take it easy."

The University is in the midst of mid-term examinations, and Calihan hopes the two-week layoff from sports activities will give the team a "second wind."

"I don't want to go through again what happened last season," he said. "We had a 12-2 record for our first 15 games, then won only two of our last 11."

"We worked out during examination time and our boys seemed to get too much basketball. They seemed to lose interest."

"Heck, even if you played golf seven days a week, you'd get tired of it and probably want to go fishing."

Presently, University of Detroit has a 9-6 record for its first 15 games.

Calihan said his team was at a peak, strangely enough, for the very first game of the season.

Oklahoma City 74, Seattle 70

That was Dec. 1 when the Titans beat Notre Dame.

Detroit dropped its last two games before the mid-term layoff, losing to St. Louis and Bradley, and Calihan obviously sensed that history was in the process of repeating itself.

"Last year we got sky high for our 2nd game," he said. "That was for Michigan State. We beat 'em. But then, gradually, we tailed off."

"This time we play Michigan State Feb. 1. That's the one we're aiming for. I'm sure our boys will be ready by then."

The Titans resume competition

2 St. Nicholas Promoters to Appear Before Helfand

NEW YORK (AP)—The next phase of Julius Helfand's investigation into boxing was scheduled to open today when Promoters Tex Sullivan and Willie Glitzenberg of the Monday night fights at St. Nicholas' Arena appear before the chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission to show cause why their licenses shouldn't be revoked.

There were reports, however, that the hearing might be postponed.

The St. Nick's promoters, who operate as the London Sporting Club with a network television (Dumont) outlet must answer eight charges by the commission at a hearing. They will be represented by Francis Adams, former New York police commissioner and can call their own witnesses. Adams only took the case Monday and reports said he would ask more time to get ready.

Sullivan and Glitzenberg are charged with "conspiring with persons convicted of crime, book-making, gamblers and persons of similar pursuits" in connection with their attempt to transfer operations to Baltimore. They also are charged with trying to help members of the Boxing Guild of New York "sabotage" the commission by contracting to move the club out of the state.

Conclusion of first-round play for Pontiac High's cage Chiefs in Saginaw Valley Conference, Friday night, affords the PHS five a good opportunity to up its current 2-2 standing.

Art Van Ryzin's club travels to Saginaw to oppose the Saginaw High Trojans. This is the Chiefs' 5th Valley encounter and today coaches and players were hopeful of victory. Larry Landring's team has failed to win a Valley game in four starts. Season's overall mark is 1-5. Only victory was over Bay City Handy, 51-48.

There doesn't appear to be much chance of anybody stopping Flint Central's headlong rush to the 1936 crown. Joe Dowdy's high-scoring outfit is unbeaten in four SVC starts, and off the record doesn't stand to fall victim of Arthur Hill, Friday. Chiefs dumped the 'Jacks 53-44. Indians scalped PHS 80-58, beat Trojans 78-58. Pontiac and 'Jacks share 3rd place.

Northern's Vikings, 2nd place club, could run into trouble at Bay City, but are rated over the Wolves.

Friday's starters for Pontiac in all probability will be same as for the Royal Oak game Tuesday, won by PHS, 61-46. They are high point collector Willie Frewalt (123 for season, 71 in SVC) and Rod Treas at forwards; Hudson Ray, center; Larry Peet and Jim Skinner, guards.

Landring wasn't settled on his openers. But he thought they might include 6-5 junior, Dick Yates, and 5-10 Deb Blomdin (junior) forwards; either Ron Frost (6-4 junior), or Dick Lois (6-5 senior), center; Abe Huerta, stocky senior and sophomore Chuck Griffin at guards.

Chiefs open the 2nd half against Arthur Hill, in Saginaw, Feb. 3. But in between they oppose Catholic Central's club in PHS gymnasium, Jan. 27. Pontiac defeated the Detroit five in the season opener, 50-40.

Albion Trims Olivet

OLIVET (AP)—Albion connected on 50 per cent of its field goal tries in dealing Olivet College its 6th consecutive MIAA basketball defeat last night, 77-55.

John Hannett of Albion led the scoring with 18 points. Albion now has a 3-4 conference record.

Dales Get Bombed

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Larry Conorton netted 14 points to pace Assumption College to an easy 68-51 basketball victory over Hilldale last night. The win was the 5th in 12 starts for the Canadians.

Rambling Romeo Bounces Into Scotland Yard's Hands

LONDON (INS)—A rambling Romeo in a clergyman's collar named Robert Parkin Peters had only one problem: while he was studying the human race, Scotland Yard was studying him.

Thus it came to pass that Peters, the author of a book entitled "Know Yourself," had to sit glumly in a London courtroom and listen to excerpts from a report which proved how well the police knew Peters.

Thumbing through a two thousand word file on the life and times of Robert Parkin Peters, a police witness offered a fascinating travelogue which ranged from Colombo, Ceylon, to Columbus, O.

A silver tongue and a magnetic personality, the report declared, carried Peters around the world engagement ring under false pretenses. At first, police said, Peters appeared to be headed for a brilliant and entirely different sort of career. He had a distinguished record at a British theological college, and was ordained in 1923 and quickly became noted in two parishes for his excellent sermons.

In 1933 he married an attractive schoolteacher and three years later he had the distinction of preaching in London's famed St. Paul's Cathedral. But that same year, the Scotland Yard report said, he married a pretty London nurse without the formality of a divorce from his first wife.

DIVINITY SCHOOL HEAD
She—the first wife—divorced Peters on grounds of desertion in 1940. By that time he had thoughtfully removed himself to Ceylon. The trip was well-timed, since he had been arrested in Scotland, for bigamy and released on bail.

Peek Into Future Given at GM Motorama

Firebird Is Star of Annual Show

Offers Radar Control for Tomorrow's New 'Safety Autoway'

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors, world's largest industrial corporation, put its products on display for the public today in the 1936 renewal of Motorama.

The multi-million-dollar presentation was previewed last night by several thousand invited guests, including industrial and financial leaders, social and civic personalities.

The public showing, in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, will run through next Tuesday. Then the production takes to the road for showings in Miami, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Boston.

Passenger automobiles of the present and "dream" cars as envisioned by GM engineers as possibilities before 1976 are top features of the show.

But there were numerous other attractions like a new "Kitchen of Tomorrow," a model of GM's Aerobair, household appliances, and engineering and research exhibits, and one of the most fabulous jewel collections in the world.

Top attraction among the "dream" cars was GM's newest Firebird. A gas turbine vehicle, it is designed for normal operation or for radar control.

RADAR CONTROL

The radar control concept is coupled with operating on what GM engineers call the "safety autoway," which has an electric conductor strip running down the center. This is the electronic control strip or "beam." Other equipment of the Firebird includes a two-way radio and a TV control screen.

At either side of the nose of the Firebird is a cone-shaped receiver. Each of these houses an electronic pickup which picks up signals from the conductor strip on the "autoway." These signals keep the vehicle "on the beam."

The Firebird easily is the star of the show. It figures in the combination screen and stage show that is presented six times daily.

Besides the stage show with a cast of some 50 singers and dancers and the wide screen movie of the Firebird in action, today's visitors saw engineering exhibits of numerous automotive concepts, cutaway body displays by GM's Fisher Body Division. There were also displays by numerous others of GM's divisions.

FABULOUS JEWELS
The jewel collection, property of jeweler Harry Winston, is valued at more than two million dollars. The gems include the fabulous Hope diamond. It is being displayed, under heavy guard, on two mannequins assigned to the Buick display.

Use of ultrasonic waves to wash, rinse, dry and sterilize dishes is a feature of the "kitchen of tomorrow." The device is said to handle a basket of dishes in only three minutes.

Other features of the kitchen are a range that cooks without getting hot; an oven with a glass dome; a serving cart operated by remote control; a television telephone; ranges that automatically eliminate objectionable oven fumes and surface cooking on marble countertops.

Name 3 to New Positions in GMC Service Division

Three executive appointments in the General Motors Service Division of General Motors were announced yesterday by General Manager Ronald S. Withers.

William M. Walker Jr., administrator of government regulations for the procurement and scheduling section of GMC Central Office since May, 1931, was named operations director in charge of purchasing inventory controls, warehousing and personnel.

Vernon A. Dwyer, director of procurement, scheduling and merchandising for UMS since last June, was appointed executive assistant to Withers.

Samuel A. Orr, assistant general merchandising manager of UMS, was made general manager of the division.

All appointments are effective immediately, Withers said.

Walker, who joined GM on special assignments in the Central office personnel department in May, 1934, was director of personnel for central office from 1936 to 1931.

Dwyer has been employed by

AC Sales During '55 Go Up 41 Per Cent

Officials of the AC Spark Plug Division of General Motors said today that sales of its automotive products in 1935 broke all previous records and were 41 per cent above those for the previous year.

Total divisional sales, according to General Manager Joseph A. Anderson, were 10 per cent above the previous peak year of 1934 although defense sales were 30 per cent lower in 1935.

Sales of original equipment to the automotive industry were up by 52 per cent over 1934, Anderson said, while the gain in the replacement field was 27 per cent.

Anderson revealed that employment at the division's Flint plant currently totals 14,000, while another 4,000 are employed in the Milwaukee, Wis., plant. Both are records for peacetime.

AC supplies speedometers, instruments, air cleaners, spark plugs, fuel pumps, oil filters and other accessories to GM car and truck divisions as original equipment.

Wholesale Food Prices Said Lowest in 6 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—The Dun & Bradstreet index of wholesale food prices dropped this week to the lowest level in almost six years.

At $3.86, the index compared with $3.92 a week ago and $6.84 a year ago. It was down to its low mark since May 2, 1930, when the index stood at $5.84.

The index represents the sum total of the wholesale price per pound of 31 foodstuffs in general use.

Joseph M. Dodge, chairman of the board of the Detroit Bank, reports that shareholders have approved a 50 per cent common stock dividend. The necessary increase of 412,500 shares of stock, amounting to $4,125,000, was also authorized. When the stock dividend is issued, the capital stock will total $12,375,000, consisting of 1,237,500 shares.

The stock dividend (one full share for each two shares owned) will be payable February 8, 1936, to shareholders of record January 17, 1936.

Grains Steady in Early Trade

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains held steady in another market surrounded by uncertainty over new farm legislation on the Board of Trade today.

Trading was rather slow with neither aggressive buying nor selling. Most prices were a shade lower at the start. As dealings progressed a slight upturn appeared, largely reflecting a lack of selling pressure.

Best gain was scored by January soybeans on short covering. Some cash beans continued to be delivered on January futures but the amount is declining. Trading in January futures ends tomorrow.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to 1/4 higher, March $2.09; corn 1/4 to 1/2 higher, March $1.29; oats 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, March 63; rye 1/4 to 1 cent higher, March $1.21; soybeans 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, January $2.44, and lard 7 to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher, January $10.97.

U.S. Gives UM $5 Million Pact

Defense Contract to Go for Financing Secret '56 'Project Michigan'

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — The Defense Department has awarded the University of Michigan a five-million-dollar contract to continue research on battlefield surveillance. The grant, announced yesterday by the university, will finance the secret "Project Michigan" through 1956.

The project sometimes is described as a varied approach to the problems of obtaining information on a military situation. It employs electronic devices and visual and sonic observation as well as seismics, or ground waves.

The defense contract was the largest of 56 grants, totaling $5,681,266, announced by the University Committee on Budget Administration for this month. It is part of an annual research budget of some 16 million dollars.

Other items announced by the committee yesterday included: A $110,000 grant from the Rockefeller Foundation for a study of voting behavior in the 1956 presidential election.

A $24,914 grant from the Air Force for analysis of the conditions relevant to the will to survive. A $25,740 grant from the Atomic Energy Commission for continued study of the effect of atomic explosions on human biology and genetics.

Coast Guard Breakers Hammer at St. Clair Ice

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. — The Coast Guard icebreaker Acacia was to join the Cutter Tupelo in Lake St. Clair today in a fresh attempt to batter a channel through the ice-jammed St. Clair River.

The sturdy little Tupelo, a 935-ton vessel specially built for such jobs, ploughed through five miles of ice in the river yesterday, hammering out a channel 300 to 500 feet wide.

But another 20 miles of the river still was packed with ice up

Find Township Man Dead in Parked Car

A Waterford Township man was found dead of asphyxiation in his car at 6 p.m. yesterday, Waterford Township Police say. They said the body of Herman Olson, 49, of 1135 Myrtle St., was discovered after he had been reported missing since 3:15 p.m. yesterday by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Olson.

Itinerant Jailed in Child Beating

Arizona Police Arrest Man After Discovering Hurt Girl in Desert

MESA, Ariz. — A 33-year-old itinerant was arrested yesterday shortly after 7-year-old Caris Hixon, kidnapped on her way home from school, was found battered and bleeding in the desert.

County Atty. William P. Mahoney Jr. said in Phoenix he planned to charge the man, Wayne Vance Taylor, with the abduction. The child, who was found unconscious under a bush about eight miles northeast of here, was reported in serious condition.

FICKED UP GIRL

Mahoney said Taylor admitted he picked the girl up in his car Tuesday afternoon but claimed he could not remember what happened later. The county attorney said Taylor probably would be charged with kidnapping, aggravated assault and grand theft.

A doctor at the hospital where the girl was taken said an examination showed she had been sexually molested.

Taylor told officers he had been living in a car. Sheriff Carl Boies said Caris regained consciousness shortly before Taylor was arrested and described her assailant.

"He wanted to pick me up and take me home," she said. "I didn't want to get in the car. Then he hit me... and dragged me into the car. Then he took me to the desert."

Solon Asks State Probe of Groups' Electioneering

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Manning Hathaway (D-Detroit) today asked the state to investigate the influence of citizens groups on elections.

Hathaway asked the House to set up a special study committee to probe the membership of the citizens' groups, their financing and the method they use to select candidates for endorsement.

Hathaway said he had no complaint against any specific citizens group. In Detroit, he said, the citizens committees have "many times passed over some of our most outstanding, most respectable people in favor of the most common kind of 'hack.'"

Slugged Teacher Holds No Grudge on Toughs

CHICAGO (INS) — Anthony M. Grotz, teacher at Chicago's Schiller Elementary School, said he has no bitterness toward two teenage toughs who beat him. He continued: "I would like to see those boys straightened out so they may make something of their lives."

Milford GOC Celebrates Anniversary With Party

MILFORD — Members of the Ground Observer Corps celebrated their third anniversary at a party last night at the Presbyterian Church.

There are 120 members of the Milford Post which has been cited by the United States Government as one of the outstanding organizations in the country.

Main speaker John Saxton of Sub-Station 184 Squadron at Lapeer, told the group that the United States is the only country in the world that can stand up against Russia in her communist conquest.

He also said that Russia has an overwhelming potential to fight this battle for communism, and that they have airplane factories in every satellite country in Europe, working full time day and night. Reports also show that Russia has the largest submarine concentration on earth, Saxton said.

Mrs. Melvin Eberle, civil volunteer coordinator for Oakland County, was presented with a 5,000 hour pin for the third time and Mrs. George Reedy received a 5,000 hour for continuous service. She has been head of the Milford post for a year and is relinquishing her position to Mrs. Florence Stalcup.

June DeGarmo Felton, Gladys Agnew and Norma Reid received their 1,000 hour service bars and 20 other members received citations. A coffee hour followed the presentations.

'Farmers' Plight' Film Scheduled on Jan. 26

WASHINGTON (INS) — The plight of farmers caught in today's cost-price squeeze is the subject of an hour-long "documentary" film to be shown over the Columbia Broadcasting system's television network on Jan. 26.

CBS Commentator Edward R. Murrow said that Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson will also speak briefly at the close of his "See It Now" program. The film will be televised from 10 to 11 p.m. EST.

Deadline Listed for City Petitions

Clerk Evans Announces February 14 Date for Commission Candidates

No petitions have been filed as yet by candidates for the City Commission in preparation for the March 5 primary. City Clerk Ada R. Evans announced yesterday. The deadline for filing the petitions is Feb. 14, she said.

If only two candidates file in any one of the city's seven districts, no primary is needed in this district and the names of the two candidates automatically go on the April 3 general city election.

If three or more in a district petition, a primary must decide the highest two to be placed on the April 2 ballot, according to Mrs. Evans.

In addition to the election of city commissioners, voters will cast ballots on the $600,000 municipal parking issue and on increased compensation for commissioners at the March 5 primary.

Latins Skeptical on Red Offers

Past Experience Shows Soviet Talks Big but Acts Very Little

WASHINGTON (AP)—South American officials must weigh Russia's newest trade overtures against a record showing more promise than performance.

Available figures list 18 trade agreements between South American countries and the Soviet bloc. For 1955, these envisaged a total of nearly a half billion dollars in trade.

Performance totals have not yet been fully tallied, but the actual trade in previous years was considerably lower. In 1954 the total was less than 250 million dollars, in 1953 about 70 million.

Speculation about Moscow's intentions toward South America was heightened Monday when Vision, a news magazine put out in New York for Latin America, published replies to a series of questions it had put to Premier Bulganin. Bulganin said Russia is ready to expand its diplomatic and trade relations with Latin America.

The U. S. State Department made no comment. Secretary of State Dulles told his news conference yesterday, however, that Latin America "is very much concerned" in U. S. planning for long-range economic aid.

Privately U. S. and other diplomats saw more propaganda than anything else behind the Soviet gesture.

Argentina and Brazil account for the lion's share of Soviet trade in Latin America.

Argentina had deals involving trade goods amounting to 263 million dollars for 1955 with Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Russia. Brazil's arrangements with Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland had a total goal of 65 millions.

Available records show the Communists scored 55 per cent fulfillment on Argentine commitments in 1955, 42 per cent on those with Brazil.

The Soviet bloc trade goods primarily were manufactured products, machinery and equipment. In exchange, Argentina shipped livestock, hides and meats, Brazil sent coffee, cacao, cotton and wool. Neither Argentina nor Brazil scored 100 per cent of fulfillment but the records indicate they did better than the Communists.

The printing industry ranks eighth in salaries and wages paid among the nation's top twenty manufacturing industries, with a payroll of over two and one-half billion dollars.

MARK DAVIS

President of Chapter Is Featured Friday

Friday evening, Congregation B'nai Israel will pay tribute to the oldest and largest Jewish fraternal organization on the American continent, the B'nai B'rith.

Featured speaker of the evening will be Mark Davis, president of the Pontiac chapter of B'nai B'rith, who will speak on some facets of the organization on the contemporary scene.

Davis, a long-time resident of Pontiac, is a member of Congregation B'nai Israel, a former secretary of the B'nai B'rith, and past president of the local chapter of the Zionist Organization of America.

The regular Sabbath services will be conducted by Rabbi Henry Blochman following which, refreshments will be served hosted by Mrs. Belmont Kershenbaum and Mrs. Joseph Partney. The community is cordially invited to attend.

With Accidental Call Burglars Oblige Police

SHELBYVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Two would-be burglars obligingly—but accidentally—called the police when they entered a lumber firm in the wee hours.

One of them knocked a telephone off the hook. The operator relayed word to officers that something strange was going on. So the police rushed out and nabbed the pair.

Revising Zoning Laws

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—The Area Planning Commission has set a Feb. 15 deadline for Benton Harbor and St. Joseph Planning Boards to revamp their zoning ordinances. The measures, which must receive approval of the City Commissions, stress uniform residential, commercial and industrial development and virtually eliminate spot zoning.

Everyone Wants to Board Space Rocket Band Wagon

BALTIMORE, Md. (NEA)—Everybody wants in on the space act.

That's the big trouble facing engineers and scientists at the Glen L. Martin Company here, working on the prime contract for constructing the space satellite.

It will be launched from the surface of the earth sometime between July, 1957 and December, 1958.

When Uncle Sam first announced historic Project Vanguard scientists said the satellite would be the size of a basketball.

The scientists are trying to decide just what instruments should go inside the package before they begin designing it. Their deadline is Jan. 1, 1956.

REG AS MOON

If they accede to the wishes of all of the private firms and scientific groups in the U. S. anxious to take part in Vanguard the satellite will be as big as the moon.

Martin got the prime contract because of the previous success it had with the Viking rocket, used for upper air research. The only other firm with a commitment is General Electric.

It will supply the rocket motor used in the first stage of the launching vehicle. There will be two other stages of flight.

If all goes as planned, the satellite will be hurled to several hundred miles above the surface of the earth at a velocity of around 18,000 miles per hour. Then, if it is properly directed into its orbit, it will begin circling the earth once every 90 minutes.

This could last for days, or weeks, depending on atmospheric friction.

tions researchers and scientists engaged in all sorts of basic research all have some valid reason for getting in on the project.

But now the scientists must decide exactly what they want to learn from the first satellite. Its size and shape are to be determined by the limitations on power available to launch it into space.

Reference to "basketball" size does not imply that it will be round, Martin spokesmen say now. The shape mentioned most often would make it look like a drum.
