Romney Candidacy in Governor's Race Believed a Certainty

By RICHARD PYLE

LANSING (AP)—Sometime soon—probably within the next 45 days—Gov. Romney will make headlines by formally announcing his intention to seek re-election.

Or so it is popularly believed by virtually everyone on the Capitol scene, including Romney's political friends and enemies, legislators and the press.

It is next to impossible to find anyone who has any doubt whatsoever that Romney will announce for a second term, regardless of what happens later in the year.

★ ★ ★

"Romney announcing his candidacy is merely a formality," said a member of the governor's own staff. "It would only be news if he didn't."

NOBODY KNOWS

"Nobody in the executive office knows for certain if the governor will run," said another. "But there is no evidence to indicate that he won't."

Whether there is "evidence" to indicate that he will run, however, is debatable at this point.

Thomas Hart, a Michian Bell Telephone Co. public relations official who was active in the 1962 campaign and still serves in an advisory capacity, reportedly is to become 1964 campaign manager.

★ ★ ★

But Richard Milliman, press secretary to Romney, says no such decision has been made.

AGREEMENT

So does Republican State Chairman Arthur Elliott Jr., who managed Romney's campaign in 1962.

Both add that they have received no official word from Romney.

Another member of the staff had speculated then that Romney couldn't do anything but run because "it is one thing to pass laws to reorganize government, another to do it administratively, and Romney won't quit until it's done."

NOTHING CERTAIN

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, told newsmen a few days ago that Republican legislators have been told nothing certain but "generally assume" Romney will run again — and will announce shortly after he returns from Hawaii.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Romney stated in Hawaii yesterday that he has not heard that he is a candidate in Oregon's GOP presidential primary. Oregon Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr. has stated that the governor's name appears on the ballot at this time.)

Airliner Lost Over Austria

VIENNA (AP) — A British airliner carrying 75 passengers and a crew of 8 disappeared on a flight over Austria today..

★ ★ ★

It was last reported in mid-afternoon over Innsbruck Airport, which was closed because of fog.

The British Civil Aviation Ministry said the plane was a four-engine turboprop Britannia of the British Eagle Airlines.

It took off from London at noon on a scheduled flight to Innsbruck, which was the site of the Winter Olympics.

★ ★ ★

SUPPOSED TO LAND

"All we know is that the plane was supposed to land here at 3 p. m. (9 a. m. Pontiac time). But it could not land because Innsbruck Airport was closed because of fog.

Teacher Strike Is Ruled Illegal

State Says Law Bans Walkout in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A strike of Detroit's 300 public schools, called for in a vote by the Detroit Federation of Teachers, would be illegal under Michigan law, the State Attorney General's office said today.

Union members voted 2,109-387 Thursday night for a strike unless they are granted an election among the 10,000 public school teachers to determine a collective bargaining agent.

Rep. Edward M. Hutchinson, D-Mich., who in 1947 as a state senator sponsored the law barring strikes by public employes, said the ban "definitely and specifically" applies to teachers and originally was passed to counter a threatened Detroit teachers strike.

Hutchinson contended that any teacher striking automatically would lose his job and pension and seniority rights.

DFT President Mary Ellen Riordan said the union's executive board will meet Thursday to decide on a strike date and other union actions. She said the union also has called a March 9 meeting of picket captains for each school.

Fire in Troy, N.Y., Kills Nine in Family

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Nine children, all members of one family, perished early today in a fire that trapped them in their bedrooms on the second floor of their frame home near the business district.

The dead were eight children and a granddaughter of Napoleon B. Sousie, 43. Sousie, his wife, Lillian, and six other persons who were sleeping on the first floor of the house escaped.

Firemen said the fire apparently was caused by an oil space heater in the hall between the doors to the bedrooms.

Sousie said he had heard children banging on the heater during the evening.

The flames trapped the children in the rooms. Each bedroom had a second door in it, but the fire chief said the doors were nailed shut and beds were pushed against them.

★ ★ ★

Four of the children were found in one room and five in the other.

Smith called the tragedy "the worst family fire in this city in modern times."

OLDEST SON

Among the dead was Sousie's oldest son, Napoleon Jr., 18. The father said he saw the youth enter one of the bedrooms.

"But then I didn't see him any more," Sousie said. "I think he was trying to save the children in the room."

Besides Napoleon Jr., the dead Sousie children were identified as Boyd, 4, Donald, 7, Linda, 9, Edward, 10, Joseph, 11, Stephen, 12, and Gloria, 13. The other victim was grandaughter Judy Stone.

★ ★ ★

Sousie, his wife and six other children were taken to St. Mary's Hospital, but only Robert Sousie, 17, was admitted. He was reported in fair condition. The others were discharged after treatment for minor burns and shock.

SOUNDED ALARM

Robert Sousie had pounded on a neighbor's door after discovering the fire, and the neighbor, 17-year-old Michael Prusky, turned in the alarm.

Critics of Viet War Denounced by LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson denounced today what he called unjustified speculation on how the war is going in South Viet Nam and how it might be waged.

The protracted war against the Red guerrillas in South Viet Nam, which critics say is going badly, captured most attention at the 30-minute televised news session at the State Department's international conference room.

Johnson told a questioner that speculation about neutralizing Viet Nam, or that the anti-Red campaign is "losing" or "going to pot" does "our cause a great disservice."

And he declared that "too much speculation has already taken place, a good deal of it without justification," concerning future strategy.

He declined to say whether the campaign would be carried north to Communist North Viet Nam but indicated that no such plans have come before him yet as President.

★ ★ ★

He noted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is about to make an inspection trip to South Viet Nam which can be the basis of further action upon his return.

OTHER POINTS

On other points raised in the question session, Johnson had these comments:

PANAMA — He hopes agreement can be reached as early as possible. "As soon as I learned that the Panamanians had marched on our zone" and some of our soldiers had been killed, he said he called President Roberto Chiari of Panama and told him "I want to do everything I can to work this problem out peacefully and quickly."

He said he told Chiari a team of negotiators would be in the air in 30 minutes, but so far there has been no agreement.

He criticized speculation on

Ground Broken for OU Shell

To House Audience for Music Festival

Ground was broken today for the Howard C. Baldwin Pavilion on the campus of Oakland University.

The $200,000 pavilion and orchestra shell to be used during the Meadow Brook Music Festival this summer will be built in an area just north of Meadow Brook Hall. It will seat 2000.

Semon E. Knudsen, chairman of the festival steering committee, presided at ceremonies in the Oakland Room and turned the first spadeful of dirt on the actual site.

Mrs. Knudsen, members of the executive and building committees, the C. Allan Harlans and Chancellor and Mrs. D. B. Varner were also present.

SON O FTRUSTEE

Speakers included William H. Baldwin, son of the Kresge Foundation trustee, for whom the audience shelter is to be named, Mrs. Stanley Kresge and Rev. Mr. Gerald O'Grady of Christ Church, Cranbrook.

The Meadow Brook Festival, which will bring the Detroit Symphony Orchestra to OU's campus for 12 concerts, will open July 23 and continue through Aug. 15.

March to Scurry In Gentle as a Lamb

March will scamper in as gentle as a lamb tomorrow. Mild temperatures with partly cloudy skies are forecast.

The lows will range from 25 to 32 tonight, and the highs tomorrow from 38 to 43.

Seventeen was the low temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. today. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 44.

The Pontiac branch of the Secretary of State's office, 96 E. Huron, will be open until 8 p. m. for those who have not purchased their 1964 license tags.

Motorists using the 1963 tags after midnight today take the chance of being ticketed by police.

'Far Exceeds Any Aircraft in the World'

Johnson Also Tells of Threat to Life During Florida Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson revealed today the existence of a new U.S. super secret jet fighter plane "that far exceeds the performance of any other aircraft in use in the world today."

The President, in his first televised news conference, said the new long-range interceptor was being revealed at this time so that its flight testing and final phases of development could proceed in orderly fashion.

He said the program was set up in secret in 1959, with Lockheed Aircraft in charge of the program. The engine was built by Pratt and Whitney, he said, while Hughes Aircraft developed the fire control and missile system.

Johnson confirmed that extraordinary measures were taken to protect his life in Florida this week because there were "reasons to take additional precautions."

★ ★ ★

Johnson did not confirm reports that the measures were taken because of a tip that a Cuban suicide pilot might try to ram the presidential transport plane.

SITUATION HANDLED

He said he had asked that the situation be handled by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Secret Service.

★ ★ ★

The report of a Cuban "kamikaze" attempt on the Presidents life was published by the Miami Herald last night.

★ ★ ★

The precautions taken during the President's trip to Miami Beach amounted to virtual wartime security measures.

NO DETAILS

Johnson gave no details of the aircraft's performance, except to say that it flies at speeds in excess of 2,000 miles an hour and performs at altitudes up to 70,000 feet.

★ ★ ★

The problems solved in developing this jet fighter, Johnson said, will assist in the development of the supersonic air liner.

Monday's City Commission Primary Biggest in History

Polling places will open at 7 a.m. Monday for the biggest City Commission primary in Pontiac's history.

There are 28 candidates competing for 12 spots on the April 20 ballot in six of the city's seven districts.

However, no voter will be asked to choose from more than six commission hopefuls, since no more than six are running in any one district and Monday's primary is strictly a district vote.

★ ★ ★

Voters cast their ballot for only one candidate. The top two vote-getters are placed on the April 20 ballot.

City Clerk Olga Barkeley said there are about 30,000 registered voters in Pontiac. About 26,100 will be eligible to vote Monday.

There is no primary needed in District 3 where there are some 3,900 registered, because there are only two candidates there.

Incumbent Commissioner William H. Taylor and his opponent, Sam Gabriel, 30, of 257 Ottawa, were the only ones to file nominating petitions in District 3.

★ ★ ★

Asked for a prediction on the voter turnout, Mrs. Barkeley said, "I wouldn't even hazard a guess, after the turnout we had for the charter amendment special election Jan. 13."

NORMAL DOUBLED

The "normal" turnout of 5,000 predicted on Jan. 13 was more than doubled as some 12,000 voters went to the polls.

Past turnouts indicate that between 6,000 and 7,000 would be a "normal" turnout Monday. There were 3,199 votes cast in the 1962 primary when there were run-offs in three districts.

The total of 28 candidates in all six districts tops the previous record primary in 1954 when 26 ran for nomination in six districts.

District 1 candidates are the incumbent, Samuel J. Whiters, 50, of 453 Harvey, an electrical contractor; Robert J. Bowens, 41, of 316 Harrison, a Pontiac Motor employe; T. Warren Fowler Sr., 57, of 59 Lake, an electrical and heating and cooling contractor; and Rollie L. Jones, 45, of 212 Bondale, a

Citizens Glad to Get Tax Cut

A sampling of sidewalk opinion yesterday in Pontiac revealed some wariness but general enthusiasm over the tax cut bill signed into law by President Johnson Wednesday.

The $11.5-billion cut will reduce income taxes for 80 million individuals, by about 20 per cent, on the average, and about 9 per cent for business.

Most wage earners will feel the effect next week when the payroll withholding rate is reduced, giving the average worker two to five dollars more take-home pay.

★ ★ ★

When President Johnson signed the bill, which he said will stimulate the nation's economy, he drew this example:

★ ★ ★

"As you spend this money at the grocer's or department store, the grocer and department store owner in turn will spend it for their own needs — and in this fashion the money will circulate through the economy raising the demand for goods several times the amount of the tax cut."

COMPLETE AGREEMENT

Manager of the A&P supermarket at 25 W. Pike, Allen Andrews, said he was in complete agreement.

"People will not only be spending more on food, but I'm sure it will put more money into the economy."

Andrews said a number of his customers are from lower-income families, and "many told me they wished they already had the tax cut so they could spend more for commodities they couldn't afford."

ANDREWS SCHROEDER

Roy Schroeder, manager of the K-Mart in Glenwood Plaza, said he looked for increased sales as a result of tax cut but felt it was too early to tell what effect it would have on his store.

★ ★ ★

"I believe people will spend larger amounts in their general shopping, rather than on major appliances, since these higher-cost items are usually bought on installment purchases."

BUILDING PLANS

Both Schroeder and Andrews said their companies have extensive nationwide building or remodeling plans set for this year, but did not feel they were directly linked to the recent tax slash.

That her postal worker husband will bring home more on his bimonthly pays had no special impact on Mrs. William Kircher, 75 Union. "I am pleased about it, but I don't have any plans for spending it," she said.

Mrs. Kircher Mrs. Brooks

Housewife Mrs. Douglas Brooks, 515 N. East Blvd., was wary. "It's good that taxes are cut, but something else is bound to go up." She explained she had no plans on spending her husband's increased pay and felt it was too little to worry about.

★ ★ ★

William H. Pike, 244 N. Perry, said he is retired and would not benefit from the reduction. "But I think it's all right. We've been taxed to death." He predicted individuals and firms would spend their share: "That's what makes our economy."

PIKE MEREDITH

Truck driver Emmett Meredith, 3580 Bald Mountain, Pontiac Township, was doubtful. He feared other taxes would appear. "As a trucker I know taxes last. Look at what we have to pay on gasoline and truck equipment."

NOT FAMILIAR

Department store clerk Mrs. Timothy Underwood, 384 Exmoor, Waterford Township, said she wasn't familiar with the tax cut law, but added "We're glad to get it, we can use it."

Mrs. Underwood Myrtle Sturm

Myrtle Sturm, 2434 Gerald, Avon Township, a factory worker, plans to "save and spend on large and small things." She felt wage earners would disperse the added money on "everything."

Fred Haggard, president of the AFL-CIO Oakland County Council, injected a new note:

"It's supposed to increase purchasing power and help the economy. My hope is that it will also increase employment. The intention behind this is to have people spend the extra money."

HAGGARD

Arraignment Due for 2 Found in Store

Two men caught by police in a Walled Lake grocery early this morning were to be arraigned today on charges of breaking and entering.

★ ★ ★

Police identified the pair as Larry Montgomery, 21, and David LaPoint, 22. Both are believed to live in Pontiac, police said.

★ ★ ★

Walled Lake Sgt. Lee Pratt and auxiliary patrolman Ed Willer arrested them in the Penny Lake Grocery, 1101 N. Pontiac Trail, after discovering a door ajar.

MORE VIGILANCE COMING—Scenes like this—showing State Police Trooper Ronald Shulters watching traffic at Dixie Highway and Telegraph Road in the interests of safety—will become even more familiar starting tomorrow. That's when Shulters and 25 other state police of the Pontiac post will begin a new six-day week in a campaign to reduce highway fatalities.

State Police to Begin Traffic Crackdown

Starting tomorrow, the Pontiac State Police post will put in 234 more man hours every week in a stepped-up drive to cut down the growing traffic death toll.

The post will go from a five-day to a six-day week ordered for state police by Gov. George Romney Tuesday in the opening of a statewide campaign to halt the accelerating frequency of highway slaughter.

All the additional man-hours will go into traffic patrol for increased surveillance of traffic and stricter enforcement of driving laws, according to post commander Sgt. John Amthor.

★ ★ ★

"We hope it will make quite a difference," Amthor said. "It will, if everybody gets behind it."

SAFETY CAMPAIGN

He referred to plans by the governor to enlist the cooperations of judges, prosecutors and other local officials and community leaders in the safety campaign.

The governor also called for tougher penalties on drunk drivers.

Amthor said no particular roads or intersections have been singled out for special attention. The increased vigilance will be applied to all county roads, he said.

"The accidents have been occuring on the back roads as well as the main highways," he said.

★ ★ ★

Traffic deaths in 1963 were 50 per cent higher than 1962 in both Oakland County and the entire state. Fatalities have continued to mount at the same accelerating pace since Jan. 1, Amthor said.

SHARP EYE

While continuing their emphasis on enforcing speed laws, police will also be keeping a sharp eye on other accident causes such as improper turning and failing to stop for stop signs, Amthor said.

★ ★ ★

The police sergeant said one of the biggest causes of accidents is the failure of drivers to pay attention to their driving.

★ ★ ★

Amthor yesterday attended a meeting of post commanders in Detroit on implementing the governor's six-day week order and antitraffic death campaign.

DISTRICT TWO

In District 2, the incumbent, Commissioner Charles H. Harmon is not running for a second term, but five commission hopefuls will be on the ballot there.

They include Allan J. Denham, 49, of 93 Oriole, a process engineer at GMC Truck & Coach Division; Robert C. Irwin, 34, of 435 W. Iroquois, a Pontiac realtor; and Robert W. Jockwig, 70, of 250 Draper, a retired postal employe.

Other District 2 candidates are Philip R. Sauer, 55, of 59 Monroe, a local restaurant owner and former mayor; and Dr. Norman L. Wittkop, 66, of 1025 Argyle, a retired school superintendent.

★ ★ ★

In District 4 there are four candidates: Incumbent Commissioner Winford E. Bottom, 38, of 174 Euclid, secretary - treasurer of Thomas Die & Stamping Co.; George Grba, 33, of 28 Kimball, chief maintenance inpsector for the Oakland County DPW; Leslie H. Hudson, 41, of 361 Gallogly, a store owner and former state legislator; and Floyd P. Miles, 55, of 160 W. Columbia, part owner of a religious book store and a former commissioner.

DISTRICT FIVE

Voters in District 5 have the largest ballot in the city. There are six candidates to choose from.

Including the incumbent Commissioner Loy L. Ledford, 41, of 662 Linda Vista, general manager of McCandless Carpets, there are three candidates who have served on the commission:

John A. Dugan, 55, of 363 Nelson, a Pontiac Motor employe, was commissioner eight years and a mayor pro-tem. John H. Ridgway, 64, 435 Lowell, a semi-retired real estate salesman, is a former mayor and served six years on the commission.

★ ★ ★

Also vying for the District 5 nomination are Delbert E. Burnett, 33, of 595 Melrose, a wood pattern maker; Robert R. McKeever, 38, of 442 Lowell, and Cecil C. Mullinix, 49, of 571 Lowell both Pontiac Motor employes.

DISTRICT SIX

In District 6 there are five candidates on the primary ballot. Commissioner Dick M. Kirby, 46, of 91 N. Edith, is seeking a second term. He is business agent for the Wayne - Oakland-Macomb Counties Building and Construction Trades Council (AFL-CIO).

Competing with him are Frederick H. Beedle, 40, of 689 E. Pike, a Fisher Body employe and part-time real estate employe; a former commissioner Wesley J. Wood, 57, of 11 N. Sanford, and Christopher C. Hall, 39, of 23 Maynard, both GMC Truck & Coach employes; and Jack F. Prasil, 44, of 29 N. Anderson, a dry cleaning store owner.

Seeking the District 7 nomination are four candidates, including the incumbent, Mayor Robert A. Landry, 50, of 47 Center, a clerk at the Fisher Body Plant in Livonia, who is seeking his fourth term.

Others seeking nomination there are Curtis L. Webb, 30, of 294 Judson, a real estate salesman, licensed cosmetologist and GMC Truck & Coach employe; Emmett S. Wellbaum, 58, of 269 Seward, a Pontiac Motor inspector; and Elmer R. Betts Sr., 69, of 220 Cottage, a painting and decorating contractor.

Troy Plane Crash Kills One, Hurts 2

A light plane crashed at Berz Airport in Troy shortly after noon today, killing one of its occupants and injuring two others.

Troy police withheld the names of the victims until the next of kin were notified. They were taken to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

A spokesman at the airport said it was believed that the aircraft crashed on takeoff, hitting down next to a runway.

The plane was a four-seater Comanche.

The airport is on Maple Road between Coolidge and Crooks.

Area Fires Hit Barn, Two Homes

Two homes and a barn were damaged yesterday and today in separate fires in the county.

The roof of a large Oxford Township home was destroyed by flames yesterday afternoon, despite a three-hour battle by men of four fire departments.

The two-story home of the James Millers, 2265 Coats, was set aflame by sparks from the chimney. An estimated $3,000 damage was done.

Firemen from Metamora, Brandon Township, Oxford and Lake Orion fought the blaze.

SEVEN ROOMS

All seven rooms of a brick ranch home at 4535 Pickering, Bloomfield Township, were damaged by a fire that broke out in a living room davenport at 3:30 p.m.

Damage was estimated at $8,300.

A barn at the rear of 6810 Dequindre, Addison Township, was destroyed by flames early this morning. Romeo and Addison Township firemen worked to extinguish the blaze.

★ ★ ★

An Addison Township fire department spokesman said the barn contained a tractor and possibly some stock. The fire is still being investigated.

Lyle Buchanan, who is celebrating his 11th birthday today, is old enough to fight fires and get paid for it.

Buchanan was born on Feb. 29 forty-four years ago. He is Rochester's fire chief.

OK Budget for Schools in Oakland

Representatives of local school districts voted 12-7 last night to approve a $460,000 operating budget for Oakland Schools.

Twenty of the 30 school board designates met at Oakland Schools for three hours to consider the budget.

A Lamphere school district representative abstained from voting, claiming there was not enough time to go over the budget.

The 1964-65 budget is up $100,000 over this year's budget of $362,090. It anticipates a balance in June 1964 of $81,195.

FINAL BUDGET

The final budget, which would require a .14-mill tax allocation, was trimmed $13,000 from the $473,006 figure presented by the county school board.

Supt. William J. Emerson doubted if the .14-mill tax would be allocated by the County Tax Allocation Board. Oakland Schools received only a .10-mill levy this year.

Prior to presenting its preliminary budget, the county school board cut a controversial proposal for vocational education and reduced the operating balance by $22,420.

Two weeks ago, the board members had okayed a preliminary budget of $525,491, which included these two items.

DEPARTMENT CUT

The county school board eliminated the vocational education department upon the recommendation of the Oakland County School Boards Association.

This group recommended studying the matter for a year before initiating a program.

Emerson said the $13,000 yet to be eliminated would either come out of one of the programs or out of the $99,840 balance to result in June, 1965.

Only one new program is incorporated in the budget. This is $19,920 for research on new educational processes and techniques.

The budget now will go to the County Tax Allocation Board, which meets in April.

an agreement, either way, as wrong. He said the 1903 treaty on the Canal Zone has been modified from time to time, and that possibly the situation will require "adjustment in 1963 or 1964."

But, he said, "we are not going to make any pre-commitments."

LAOS — The United States has protested violations of the Geneva Agreement by the Pathet Laos in Laos, Johnson said.

IMPROPER POLICY

This was the reply to a question whether this country now thinks that, because of the activity of the faction, neutralization is no longer the proper policy for the Southeastern Asian country.

CYPRUS — Johnson said "We are deeply concerned, we think it is a very serious situation . . . the matter is now pending in the United Nations and we are doing our dead level best to find a solution."

CAMPAIGN DEBATES — Johnson was reminded the late President Kennedy had expressed willingness to debate with a Republican opponent in the next presidential campaign. He was asked whether he would do so.

"I haven't been nominated yet," he replied. "I think we'll have plenty of time to decide that after the convention and I'll cross that bridge when I come to it."

★ ★ ★

CUBA — Johnson said he was informed yesterday the commerce department was considering adding lard to the list of commodities to be barred from sale to Cuba.

He said the department had information on a huge sale of lard was about to be consummated.

"We have no evidence these rumors are going to develop into facts," he said, "but if they do the commerce department will make a determination as to what will be in the best national interest."

★ ★ ★

CIVIL RIGHTS—Johnson said he has never discussed with anyone any proposal to compromise on the public accommodations section of the civil rights bill now pending in the senate.

He said he thinks such rumors are Republican in origin.

BIRMINGHAM — With spring just around the corner, school problems of next fall are already filling the heads of Birmingham educators.

School officials are busy formulating the shape of their program for the 1964-65 year.

Among their major concerns are funds, proposed elementary redistricting and transportation for nonpublic school students. Administrators hope to have their plans under way within a month.

★ ★ ★

Enrollment spurts, both projected and already realized, carry with them financial implications. The requests of the various school staffs are now being correlated and weighed, according to Supt. John B. Smith.

NEAR FUTURE

He expects to have preliminary budget figures to present to the board of education in "the very near future."

While working on operational funds, administrators also are considering the areas in which additional buildings probably will be needed in the next few years.

"These items are being carefully studied in preparation for a firm proposal for consideration of the board of education," Smith reported.

★ ★ ★

To keep up with immediate increases in number of students, Smith has proposed a redistricting plan for Valley Woods and Beverly Elementary Schools.

BUS TRANSPORT

He has suggested that some of the pupils from each school be transported by bus to less-crowded facilities until a new building can be constructed.

The two schools were designed to house a total of 1,175 students. Projections indicate 1,581 youngsters are to attend them next fall.

Besides its own enrollment increase, the district will see another spurt in the number of students to be transported.

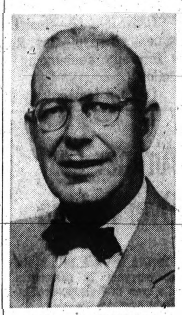

★ ★ ★

Preliminary figures indicate the district will be carrying about 1,000 nonpublic students to and from classes during the next school year.

PREPARE FOR INFLUX

To prepare for the influx, public school administrators have been meeting with officials from the nine nonpublic schools in the district.

"It is obvious that a good number of adjustments on school calendars, daily schedules and routes will need to be made," Smith commented.

Heart Attack Takes Banker

Service Set Monday for Harry E. Windiate

Assistant Vice President at Community National Bank, Harry E. Windiate, suffered a heart attack during the night and was dead on arrival early this morning at Pontiac General Hospital. He had had no previous illness.

Service will be 3:30 p.m. Monday in Sparks-Griffin Chapel with burial following in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Windiate, 65, of 1300 Otter Drive, Waterford Township, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Windiate, members of an Oakland County pioneer family.

A graduate of Ferris Institute, he entered the banking field serving the Oxford State and former Pontiac Commercial & Savings banks

Mr. Windiate has been with the Community National Bank since its organization in 1933.

He was a member of First Presbyterian Church, Elks Lodge No. 810 and Pontiac City Club.

Thieves Take $339 From Forum Safe

The Forum Theater, 12 N. Saginaw, was the target of safecrackers today.

Thieves escaped with $339 after blowing open the safe in the manager's basement office. The type of explosive used was not immediately determined.

A cleaning woman, Bertha Vance, 268 W. Pike, discovered the break-in at 6:40 a.m. when she arrived at work. A janitor had been in the building about 2 a.m.

★ ★ ★

The burglars gained entry to the building by prying open a rear door. They then tied it shut from the inside.

Car Hits Tree; Man Is Killed in Avon Twp.

A Rochester man was killed instantly early today when his car hit a tree after it left Auburn Road in Avon Township.

Dead of a broken neck is Jerry T. Yeargan, 23, of 2498 Harrison.

Sheriff's deputies said Yeargan was traveling west, apparently at high speed, when his car went out of control near Eastwood. The accident occurred at 1:19 a.m.

Service for Yeargan will be 1 p.m. Monday at the Pixley Memorial Chapel. Burial will be in Mount Avon Cemetery, Rochester.

Surviving are his father, Claud of Avon Township; his mother, Lou Riggs of Tennessee; three brothers, Bob of Utica, Lloyd and Wayne of the U.S. Navy; and two sisters, Brenda and Patricia Vaughn of Tennessee.

Estes Associate Found Dead

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — A convicted associate of Billie Sol Estes who was to start a 10-year prison term tomorow died yesterday in his fume-filled garage.

Findings of an autopsy on Harold E. Orr, 33, were to be disclosed today. A coroner's jury may be called to determine if the death was accidental or suicide. Orr was found beneath his car.

Estes, meanwhile, appealed his 15-year sentence yesterday on federal charges of fraud and conspiracy. Estes' lawyers submitted a 199-page appeal to U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans.

★ ★ ★

Estes was not available for comment on the death. When UPI telephoned his home at Abilene, Tex., his wife slammed down the receiver.

ORDERED COMMITMENT

Orr, Coleman D. McSpadden and Ruel Alexander operated a company that manufactured liquid fertilizer tanks for Estes. U.S. Dist. Court Judge R. Ewing Thomason ordered each of them committed under a statute that allows parole after 30 days.

The three testified for the government in the complex Estes case. They entered guilty pleas to fraud and conspiracy charges two years ago.

Estes, charged with using non-existing tanks as collateral for loans that helped pyramid a $150 million paper empire, was free on appeals bonds for the federal conviction and an 8-year state sentence.

★ ★ ★

Orr's attorney said the dead man had mentioned he would change the mufflers on his automobile. When the body was found by Orr's daughter, the engine had quit running but the ignition switch was turned on.

WOUNDED IN GUNFIGHT—Two police officers lift Raymond Hylton, 22, onto a stretcher after he was shot three times in a gunfight with a police officer in Kansas City late yesterday. Norris Johnson, 28, a motorcycle patrolman, said Hylton pulled a gun and fired following his arrest for questioning about an alleged child molestation.

13 Are Arrested in Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP)— Thirteen persons, both Negroes and whites, were arrested on disorderly conduct charges Friday when fighting broke out on a picket line in front of the Ann Arbor City Hall.

★ ★ ★

Police said several scuffles broke out about 4 p.m. as office workers began leaving the city hall where the pickets, members of the Direct Action Committee, had been protesting what they called police brutality.

★ ★ ★

Eight of those arrested were to be arraigned Saturday. Five were turned over to juvenile authorities.

WAS STRUCK

Police said a fireman, Richard Hartman, told them he was struck as he walked past the pickets on his way to pick up groceries for the fire station located nearby.

★ ★ ★

Officers said six to eight fights erupted, involving pickets, police and passersby, and fighting continued as officers attempted to get the persons involved into the police station which is located inside the city hall.

★ ★ ★

Two officers, Detective Sergeants Bobby King, 35, and Donald Carnahan, 33, were taken to local hospital for treatment of bruises and cuts.

Soviets Woo Norway Youth

OSLO (UPI) — Russian diplomats have launched a "charm campaign" for Norwegian students and youth organizations to pave the way for Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit this summer, it was reported here today.

Invitation cards for cocktail parties and special sessions have been handed out in rapid succession to Norwegian students and representatives of the main youth movements, including the conservatives.

The Soviet government called off a planned Scandinavian tour by Khrushchev some years ago, apparently because of the hostility of many residents of Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

Help Select the Candidates by Making a Primary Choice

In six of the City's seven districts Monday, the people of Pontiac will close voting machine curtains behind them.

Facing them will be the names of four, five or six men who want to be nominated for the City Commission election April 20.

★ ★ ★

The voter merely has to pull down the lever above the name of the single person he favors.

The two top vote getters will be nominated.

Pontiac residents will be voting in the largest primary election in the City's history. Twenty-eight candidates are seeking nominations in six districts.

In District 3, where just two men sought places on the ballot, no primary will be held.

★ ★ ★

The high number of would-be commissioners is a good indication of the interest in this election.

The strong turnout at the polls which swept the charter amendment to victory recently is also indicative.

The people of Pontiac are aroused and concerned.

Four men who served the preceding two years on the commission are running again. Their management of the City is up for judgment.

This is Bosses Day at the polls.

The residents of this city run Pontiac. They run it by delegating authority to those they elect to the commission.

In the primary election Monday, voters will cast a ballot only for a single nominee IN THEIR DISTRICT.

The recently-passed charter amendment which provides for city commission election at large ONLY CONCERNS THE APRIL 20 GENERAL ELECTION.

For those who have voiced dissatisfaction at the operation of this city for the past two years, Monday is half of the day of judgment. April 20 is the second half.

Supporters of those in power at city hall have their say, too.

Would it be too much to hope that we can have an election without a flurry of misleading brochures and literature which pose loaded questions when it is too late to answer them?

Monday is the day to lay it on the line. Get out and vote for the man you feel will give Pontiac the best city government.

Tuesday is too late.

Destruction at School Demands Big Penalty

In an orgy of destruction, vandals Wednesday night ripped through Hawthorne Elementary School, leaving a trail of wreckage and litter. The damage is estimated at $3,000.

Until the day comes when scientific progress in the psychic area of humankind provides means of coping with and preventing such maniacal outbreaks, society, it appears, is at the mercy of such depredators as those who wreaked their venom upon the school.

★ ★ ★

But as of today, preventive measures by the community are beyond the comprehension of the inner motivation for the barbaric behavior of both juvenile and adults that so often erupts.

One thing, however, is conclusive. In assessing the phenomenon, society is dealing with a reality—not a theory. And on such basis, the severest punishment under the law should be imposed when the despoilers are apprehended.

It is no time to dilute stern justice with starry-eyed theories of "misunderstood youth," or temper it on the premise of "psychological irresponsibility."

But it is time for application of jungle justice. If the term sounds harsh, we intend it to.

★ ★ ★

The culprits in the school wrecking should be given the maximum court sentences for their lawlessness. Not only that, but they, together with their parents, should be held fully accountable for reimbursement to the community for every last cent of the amount of damage caused.

If it takes the rest of their natural lives to make restitution, so be it. Or, as would otherwise eventuate, you as a taxpayer will inevitably make proportionate contribution to the expense of repairing the school.

Does this appeal to you?

LBJ Less Harsh on Critics, Asia

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, criticized for the way he criticized his critics, is a little more restrained with them now. And his foreign policy for Southeast Asia sounds a little less ominous.

Earlier this month, after Republicans had jumped on his foreign policy, Johnson made an off-the-cuff talk to some government employes. He didn't mention Republicans.

But he hit at his critics as "alarmists and people who like to jump on their government." He called them as "much of a problem as our other enemies" and said "God forgive them, for they know not what they do."

MARLOW

He described them as "bellyachers" and told his listeners "we are a much beloved people throughout the world." He got a bad reaction, particularly for bracketing his critics "with our other enemies."

The president took a much different line Thursday night in a speech to Democrats in Miami when he said "to those who cry havoc and shout for war, we must give understanding. We have always welcomed dissent. We would not muzzle disagreement."

★ ★ ★

He also took a tough line last week in a California speech—again without naming names—when he struck at those responsible for the guerrilla war against the American-backed government of South Viet Nam.

"Those engaged in external direction and supply," he said, "would do well to remember that this type of aggression is a deeply dangerous game."

Several things were left unclear. Was he aiming at the Chinese Reds for help given the North Vietnamese Reds? Was he just thinking of the North Vietnamese?

Or was he hinting at a change in American policy in Viet Nam and a much fiercer war, perhaps carried into Communist territory?

Immediately his words were interpreted by some as indicating a tougher policy toward North Viet Nam, the beginning of American psychological warfare against it, and even that U.S. reprisals might be in store.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

I AM THE RESURRECTION AND THE LIFE

Because the mob was trying already to stone Him, the disciples warned Jesus against going back to Bethany, where Lazarus, the brother of Martha and Mary, lay dead.

But Jesus was adamant. He insisted on going to His friends in their hour of need. When He arrived, Lazarus had been in the tomb for four days.

"Lord," said Martha, "If Thou hadst been here, my brother had not died."

But Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." (John XI:25)

At the tomb, He ordered the stone to be rolled away and, in a loud voice, cried out for Lazarus to come forth. In a profound preview of Christ's own resurrection from the dead, Lazarus came forth, swathed hand and foot in his grave clothes.

Still Lacks Military's Backing

Red Consumer Plan Just Talk?

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

The Soviet Communist party has issued a call for production of more consumer goods, but indications are that this is a vague promise made with the baleful disapproval of the Soviet military.

The debate seems far from over. It could have a heavy impact on future Soviet politics.

The tone of an economist's argument in Pravda, suggesting that the Soviet consumer too long has held the short end of the stick, is one of argument, as if this debate was likely to plague Soviet leaders.

News Analysis

In the background there are influential military voices, by implication disagreeing sharply that the gap between heavy industry and consumer production should be narrowed by any significant degree.

The day before the economist's article appeared was Soviet Armed Forces Day. To mark the occasion, the Soviet press and radio carried a rash of articles by high-ranking military personalities.

★ ★ ★

Two of these—Air Force Marshal Filip Agaltsov and Marshal Vasily Chuikov, declared it was a Stalinist idea to believe that a "peace-loving nation" such as the Soviet Union must necessarily be less prepared militarily than "the aggressive powers." The U.S.S.R. surely could not accept such an idea, they said.

FAR FROM STALINIST

The idea of de-emphasizing the armed forces is, in fact, far from Stalinist. But these days in the Soviet Union, Stalin is used as the goat on all sides of all arguments.

Economist Anushavan Arzumanyan—who incidentally received the Order of Lenin a few days before—signed the long, important Pravda article which ran in two installments.

Himself once a proponent of all-out emphasis on heavy industry which builds military power, Arzumanyan now suggested there should be more stress on consumer goods and that U.S. enterprise had shown this could be done without hurting the heavy industry side.

Not long ago that would have been heresy.

RISING PRESSURES

The Communist party has been caught between pressures—rising popular insistence on more and better consumer goods and the fears of diehard Communist conservatives, including the military, that response to public opinion might weaken central authority.

Premier Khrushchev seems on the side of the consumers. The notion that Soviet socialism must not be considered is attributed to V. M. Molotov, "production for consumption" whom Khrushchev ousted from power as "antiparty."

The idea thus is associated with the hard-line conservatives.

But if there is to be more concentration on consumer goods quality and quantity, it seems at least two years away. The 1964-1965 plan, in fact, provides for an even faster growth rate for heavy industry, which already had a 75 per cent share of the economy.

The Pravda discussion seems the opening gun of a campaign to assuage outraged consumer feelings. It looks more like a promise for the future than something within reach.

Czech Prelate Is Hoping to Be Able to Leave Soon

By HANS BENEDICT

VIENNA (AP) — Archbishop Josef Beran sits and waits in a Catholic home near Prague as rumors circulate that he soon may be allowed to leave Czechoslovakia for Vatican City.

"I wish these rumors were true," said the 74-year-old leader of the Catholic church in Communist Czechoslovakia in a telephone interview.

"I just sit here and wait for the government to do something about me. So far I have absolutely no indication that something will be done."

★ ★ ★

The archbishop said he is "all right and healthy — that's all I have to do right now."

ARRESTED IN 1949

The archbishop was arrested in 1949 during a sermon in Prague in which he cried out: "There is but one ruler above us — God."

Archbishop Beran was released from house arrest last October. He lives in a home of the Catholic Caritas, a charity organization 17 miles east of Prague.

It has been understood that the question of Archbishop Beran's future status — the regime has not formally asked him to renounce his title but bars him and eight other prelates from resuming their pastoral duties —would be discussed in secret talks between the Prague government and the Vatican.

Vatican sources earlier this month called reports about a forthcoming departure of Archbishop Beran to Rome as pure speculation.

Reports in various church circles have mentioned the possibility that the archbishop might be called to Rome by Pope Paul VI and made a cardinal of the Roman Catholic Curia.

Voice of the People:

'Has South Altered Song Written About Christ?'

Twenty-five years ago when I lived in the South I went to Sunday school in a Baptist Church. It was there I learned the song "Jesus Loves the Little Children." The third and fourth lines are . . . "Red and Yellow, Black or White; They Are Precious in His Sight . . ."

★ ★ ★

In view of the happenings in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, etc., the thought occurred that perhaps the words have been edited to suit the obviously Caucasian God that the segregationist "Christians" worship.

★ ★ ★

Church 'Entertainment' Good for Youth

If there is a minister in Auburn Heights who warns he will not tolerate any moving around or whispering from children or adults, I say praise the Lord for him. People who call themselves Christians shouldn't have to be called down for whispering and annoying others. In my church infants are taken to a nursery so parents can listen to the service. In "children's church" they are taught in a way they can understand. If this is called entertainment, then I want my little ones entertained.

Resident of Auburn Heights

Someone wrote about children being entertained during church service. We call our Baptist group (4 to 8 years) the Sunbeam Band. We have prayer time, roll call, activity time, and a Bible story and sometimes sing.

Has anyone tried to keep 13 to 18 children quiet for an hour? The parents should be grateful.

New Fire Regulation 'Burns Up' Tenant

The latest fire regulation for apartment houses has all fire doors closed at all times, thus hampering escape. No air can circulate and I dread to think of the heat in these halls this summer.

Fire doors are to be used at the time of fire only, thus closing off the affected areas, but are to be left open at other times. I suggest all apartment house owners have this regulation set aside before their buildings are emptied of all tenants.

Views Differ on Truck Length Bill

I agree with N. N. Card regarding Bill S. B. 1055. Increasing the length of trucks would increase their load capacity which would mean heavier loads, less trucks and less drivers, causing unemployment.

★ ★ ★

Truck drivers now hold a wonderful record on the highways. Why pass laws which would have a tendency to increase accidents and the death rate?

★ ★ ★

Mio — N. E. Haversham

Referring to Mr. N. N. Card's letter, the present legal length for car haulers is 55 feet, not 56 feet, and the proposed length (including tolerance or overhang) is 63 feet, not 66. National Safety Council's annual report shows the automobile transporting industry has one of the best safety records. It has 5.37 accidents per one million miles, while other vehicles had a record of 12.34 accidents per one million miles.

Reader Tells About Magazine Fraud

A fraud is going on in getting magazine subscriptions. I was called and told I was chosen as store owner of the week and would I accept free subscriptions to Look, True, Post and Esquire. Since this sounded fishy I asked for the gimmick and was told no gimmicks were involved—just pay the postage.

A man came a couple of days later and gave me a form to sign and asked for a deposit. I asked if I was correct in assuming that I would only be paying for mailing. I was told I was correct. A short time later I was billed for $91.

State School Gets 'OK on Trimester Plan

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Approval for opening the Grand Rapids Junior College academic year in mid-August on a trimester program, probably in 1965, was granted Friday by the Board of Education's calendar committee. Proponents indicated it would be important to tie the JC program to those of universities adopting the trimester plan.

Waterford Pageant Will Be at New Site

A change in the site of the March 7 Miss Waterford pageant was announced today by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, the contest sponsors.

The pageant will be staged at the 300 Bowl, 100 S. Cass Lake, rather than at Kettering High School as planned earlier.

Also switched is the setting for the precontest dinner at 7 p. m. Friday. It also will be held at the 300 Bowl instead of Airway Lanes.

Entries chairman Don Beedle said today that 11 girls already have entered the contest. He expects the total to reach 15 by Tuesday, the entry deadline.

WILL BE JUDGED

Girls will be judged on poise, personality, charm and beauty. Each will perform a three-minute talent routine during the competition beginning at 8 p.m.

The contest winner will be crowned Miss Waterford of 1964 by last year's titlist, Charlene Braden. The winner also will qualify for the Miss Michigan competition this summer.

Judging the contest will be Mrs. Dave Freeman, Mrs. Arthur Salley, Mrs. Edmund Windeler, Mrs. Dave Rulle, James Rahl, Max Adams and Gordon Nelson.

United Church of Christ Purchases 30 Acres

Rev. A. H. Meyer, former pastor of Bethel United Church of Christ, will be guest speaker Sunday at one of the last services to be held in the present location, Auburn at Mariva.

★ ★ ★

The "Past and the Future" will be his topic. The Senior Choir will present "Go Not Far From Me, O God" by Zingarelli.

★ ★ ★

The congregation has sold the present porperty to Beulah Holiness Church, formerly at 390 Osmun. While members make plans for a new building they will worship in William Beaumont School, 6532 Elizabeth Lake Road beginning March 11.

Thirty acres of land adjacent to the school was purchased by Bethel Church for the future church building.

Rev. Mr. Meyer was pastor of the local congregation from 1936 to 1952. He presently serves on the staff of Detroit Evangelical Home for Children and Aged of the denomination.

Rev. Donald Gabler is pastor.

150 Singers in Concert at Vesper

More than 150 singers in four choirs will join in presenting appropriate music at the Lenten vesper at 4 p.m. in Central Methodist 3883 Highland Church, March 8.

★ ★ ★

The Chancel Choir will sing Franz Schubert's "Mass in G" with string orchestra accompaniment. The Girl's Fellowship Choir, Junior Choir and Carol Choir will be featured.

★ ★ ★

Roland Richter, organist, will accompany all groups and play special music for the prelude.

A tea will follow in Fellowship Hall. A nursery will be provided.

David Ellen Entertainer

Joint Cultural Series Set for B'nai Israel

David Ellen, monologist and folk ballad singer, will appear before the joint cultural series of the two local Jewish congregations at 8:30 p.m. Sunday in B'nai Israel synagogue, 143 Oneida.

★ ★ ★

He furnishes his own piano accompaniment.

Mr. Ellen who appeared in the Broadway production of "The Swan Song" has toured the country in such well known plays as "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "Death of a Salesman" and "West Side Story."

His program tomorrow will consist of readings from the works of Yiddish authors as well as such contemporaries as Sam Lawrence, Harry Golden and Authur Kober.

His repetoire of songs include American, Yiddish and Israeli selections. One of Mr. Ellen's specialties is the translation of Negro Spirituals into Yiddish.

★ ★ ★

The Sisterhood of B'nai Israel will serve refreshments after the performance. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Oakland Ave. U.P. to Show Color Film

Priest Offers Mass

A Byzantine Rite Mass will be offered at St. Michael's Catholic Church at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday with Rev. Joseph Pohorilak of St. Nicholas Byzantine Church, Detroit celebrating the Mass in English.

★ ★ ★

Rev. James E. Hayes, pastor of St. Michael, urges parishioners to attend the Mass and receive Holy Communion. The fasting regulations are three hours from solid foods and one hour from liquids.

According to the Byzantine Rite the Host is a small particle broken from a large leavened bread and dropped into the Chalice.

The people receive, kneeling with heads tilted back. The priest with a golden spoon drops a small cube of the consecrated bread into each Communicant's mouth.

There are prayers of thanksgiving, followed by a short litany, a last blessing, a prayer of petition and remembrance and the liturgy is over.

The Byzantine Rite is the form or worship and administration of sacrements proper to the Christians of Byzantine, the old name for Constantinople now known as Istanbul.

It is the rite of over 5 million Catholics united with Rome recognizing the Supremacy of Pope Paul VI; and about 200 million Orthodox Christians under the spiritual guidance of Patriarch Athenagoras I.

It is not confined to any one paricular country or language. Inquiry classes will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. The Sacrement of Holy Order and Sacrement of Marriage will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Refreshments will follow.

Day of Recollection Slated for Convent

Rev. Robert N. Hinks, S. J., assistant professor of sociology at the University of Detroit, will give the meditation for A Day of Recollection at the Convent of the Sacred Heart, 1250 Kensington, Bloomfield Hills.

The opening conference will open at 10:30 a. m. on March 15 with all school teachers in and about the Detroit area invited to attend.

The Day of Recollection is sponsored by the Brownson Guild of Catholic teachers and administrators in the Detroit area.

All human discoveries seem to be made only for the purpose of confirming more and more strongly the truths contained in the Holy Scriptures. — Sir John Herschel.

Plan Parking Program

Improve Grounds to Aid Flow of Traffic

The Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian is launching a parking and grounds improvement program this spring. The project is intended to increase parking facilities; improve the flow of traffic and still enhance the natural setting of the historic lakeside chapel.

★ ★ ★

Girls—Plan Your Battle Strategy for Leap Year

"Popping the question" is the man's prerogative — except in Leap Year.

But year in and year out, "how to catch a man" is the subject of feminine discussions.

Such a discussion, recently overheard during a coffee break, was shamelessly recorded by an eavesdropper. The speakers were a bride of six months and her unmarried friend.

Mrs.: Let's get down to business. You want to catch a man. Right?

Miss: Sure. Why not? Men come in handy.

Mrs.: Oh, come on, if you really want to catch a man, you've got to come right out and admit it.

Miss: OK, I want a M A N!

Mrs.: You're over eager.

Miss: (Without conviction) Sorry.

Mrs.: That's all right. First, what are the most important facts about men?

Miss: We-e-ell, they're little boys at heart. They want to be mothered and waited on hand and foot. They're egotistical. And they all want to be Prince Charming to some Cinderella.

Mrs.: Pretty good. Now, what do men expect in women?

Miss: If I can read between their lines (and what lines some of them have!) they want — in one package — a wife, mother, mistress, scrubwoman, valet, interior decorator, budget director, fashion plate, hostess, Mrs. Fix-it, nurse, companion and a s . . .

Mrs.: (Interrupting) Excuse me, I know you could go on but I think you have the general idea.

Now, let's test your tactics. Think of your favorite type of man. How would you get him to ask you out?

Miss: Bribe him?

Mrs.: Try again!

Miss: . . . Uh, flattery? Be a little mysterious, just a little. Play hard-to-get, but not too hard-to-get.

Don't be afraid to go someplace by yourself or try something different. But never look as if you're ready to dig a pit and put twigs over it.

Mrs.: Your tactics seem all right.

Miss: Then, what IS my problem? I'm almost 25 and I haven't hooked a man yet!

Mrs.: It's obvious you are waiting for the perfect partner which may take a little longer.

Miss: And until then, I'll just love them all.

Mrs.: Good luck!

Help! I've been caught! Girls go all out to capture a man during Leap Year. Returning from the hunt are Diane Olsen (left) of Lakewind Drive and Martha Murphy of Norway Street. The unsuspecting male they bagged is Howard Lovett of Aquarina Drive.

Student Advises Teen-Ager to Pay Attention to Parents

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school teacher in Mount Vernon, Illinois. I read the following letter from your column aloud to my students, and asked them to write their own answers.

ABBY

I told them they didn't have to sign their own names, and gave them five minutes in which to complete the assignment. These students are an aevrage age of 16½.

I am sending you their answers. Perhaps you would like to select the one you think is best for publication. Sincerely,

MRS. C. T. RACHELS

★ ★ ★

Your letter :"DEAR ABBY:

I am a 17-year-old boy and I have been wanting to quit school for over a year, but my parents won't let me.

I hate school and I want to get a job. I failed two subjects last term, and know I won't do any better next time.

★ ★ ★

My parents found out I was smoking and they ordered me to stop it. I told them if they wouldn't let me quit school I wasn't going to quit smoking.

My Dad made a deal with me: he said if I quit smoking and continued with school, he'd buy me a car I wanted. I said okay.

★ ★ ★

He got me the car and I really have been trying harder at school, but he caught me smoking. Well, he took the car away from me and I'm grounded until June.

They said if I flunked anything I'll have to go to summer school. How can I get my parents to be more human?"

"MAD"

★ ★ ★

DEAR MRS. RACHELS: So impressed was I with the "answers" of your students that I had difficulty selecting the best.

But since I was compelled to select only one here it is:

"DEAR MAD: I don't believe your parents could be any more 'human'. It is YOU who should get out of space and come back to earth.

★ ★ ★

You probably think you know all the answers, but you will learn as time goes by that your high school education is the most important thing in your life.

Listen to your parents and you will find that they have already traveled the long journey that you are just starting, and they know what they are talking about."

Area Exchange Student Talks to BPW Group

Angelika (Geli) Lehmann of Hanover, Germany, spoke before the Waterford-Clarkston Business and Professional Women's Club, Thursday, in Howe's Lanes, Clarkston.

While attending Clarkston High School, Miss Lehmann lives with the Howard Kieft family in Clarkston and will return to Germany in August with other exchange students from Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Her talk included comparisons of family life here and in her native land.

Mrs. John Landon was chairman of the meeting planned by the World Affairs Committee.

Mrs. E. J. Lally Jr. and Mrs. Ernest Landon are co-chairmen for the April 9 card party in Howe's Lanes. Proceeds will aid the scholarship fund for a Michigan State University student.

★ ★ ★

Due to the Holy Week schedule, the next meeting will be on March 12 with the civic participation committee in charge. Mrs. Ralph Williams will be chairman.

Thursday's guests were Mrs. George Mazola and Velma Britton.

Cranbrook Registering Now Open

Registrations for the spring term of evening drawing and painting classes for adults are now being taken by Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries.

★ ★ ★

The class is planned for adult students who have had some previous instruction in the basic techniques of visual art.

Don Willett, who received his master of fine arts degree from Cranbrook Academy of Art, is the instructor.

★ ★ ★

The ten week session begins March 17 and continues through May 19. The classes meet on Tuesday from 8 to 10 p.m. in the room beneath the library.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the Cranbrook Institutions.

Revamped State Aid Plan Could Benefit City Schools

By L. GARY THORNE

New fuel has been added to the ever-burning fire to help education.

The fuel—a revamped plan for distribution of state aid — could mean a sizable chunk of cash ($385,926) for Pontiac.

Dubbed a "united" effort, a bill establishing a much-enriched school aid formula has been introduced in the legislature.

A spirit of bipartisanship surrounds the endeavor, which, simply stated, would give more state aid to a district that gives more local support to its schools.

★ ★ ★

The bill, still subject to legislative appropriation, is approved by the Department of Public Instruction, the Michigan School Board Association, the Michigan Association of School Administrators, the Michigan Federal of Teachers and the Michigan Parent-Teacher Association.

$65 MILLION

About $65 million more would be pumped into state school aid by the new formula.

Pontiac Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said he had not yet seen a copy of the so-called united educator's bill, but has talked to state school officials about it.

The local educator said that if the bill passed as it is proposed and the legislature appropriated sufficient funds, Pontiac's per pupil state aid would jump from this year's $172 to $189.

★ ★ ★

Proponents of the new bill say it is a new approach to school financing, giving the state a greater share of the costs and recognizing also the local school district's effort to support itself as shown by its extra voted millage.

News Analysis

MILLAGE VOTE

Pontiac has an extra voted levy of 8.75 mills, which expires this year. A millage vote is anticipated sometime this year to replace the present levy.

According to statistics from the state school office, the State of Michigan has been contributing less and less to the cost of public education.

For example, in 1950-51, the state contributed on the average about 52 per cent of the total school costs, while it now pays about 41 per cent. During the same period, local contributions rose from 43.5 per cent to over 55 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Setting 8 mills as the average, the bill would give more state aid to a district levying over this figure, while a district levying less than 8 mills would receive less state funds.

QUALIFYING FACTOR

However, a qualifying factor or equalizer is included in the united educator's proposal.

The equalizer is the local district's state equalized valuation behind each child. Under these circumstances, a wealthy district levying a high millage would not benefit as much as a poor district with the same millage.

The average statewide assessed valuation per pupil is $14,000. Pontiac at $17,000 is slightly above the average, but levies over the average extra voted millage.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac could go well over the 8-mill average after this year's millage vote. An increase in the present extra voted levy is being considered by a local citizens committee.

PROPOSED HIKE

The united educators' bill comes on the heels of a proposed increase in state aid from the governor's office.

Gov. Romney has proposed a hike in state aid of $10 per pupil, minus the deductible millage factor.

Pontiac could net $83,510 from this.

Chamber Issues Warning About 'Tricky' Salesmen

The belated complaint of a victim today resulted in another warning from the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce to beware of magazine and other house-to-house salesmen.

"Unethical magazine sellers are again operating in this area," said Max Adams, chamber manager. "We've had two or three dozen complaints in the past three weeks.

"But there is little we can do after someone has signed a contract or order. If they had called us earlier to check our solicitor files, we may have been able to help."

This advice, which the chamber offers periodically, followed a complaint to The Pontiac Press from a local merchant who claimed he was duped into ordering "free" magazines that later cost him $91.

OPERATION PLAN

"Here is how they operate," said the disgruntled merchant. "I was called on the phone and told I was chosen as store owner of the week and would I accept subscriptions to . . . (several nationally known magazines).

"It sounded fishy, but I was told no gimmicks were involved except paying postage."

The merchant said he wanted to think about the offer, but a few days later a man called at his store and again stated only postage costs were involved. The luckless merchant signed, and received his hefty bill a few days later.

★ ★ ★

"This sort of thing goes on on a national scale, and seems to hit Pontiac every few months," Adams said.

FACE VALUE

Based on the face value of long term magazine subscriptions, which are usually heavily discounted, Adams said the sales victim will probably receive what he paid for.

"What we object to is the sales methods and the contracts used to trap people," Adams explained.

He advised suspicious buyers to first contact the chamber or the Better Business Bureau office in Detroit before placing an order, whether it be for books, magazines, house modernization or the host of other services purveyed over the telephone or door-to-door with enticing offers.

Dear Friends:

I wish I could visit each of you who live in district #4, but you can understand this is a physical impossibility. If you will consider this a personal note I will be ever grateful.

It was my privilege to represent you on the City Commission from 1954 to 1960. Now it is not necessary to rehearse what has happened in Pontiac in the last few years. All Pontiac, as well as the nation, knows of our present predicament.

Right now Pontiac needs seven qualified, experienced Commissioners who will work together toward solving our problems. We need a commission who will perform its legislative duties & hire a capable City manager & give him freedom to operate the administrative department.

I may be a little old-fashioned, but I believe that we should live within our income as a City & I am convinced this can be done without a city income tax or any other new taxes.

Frankly, I don't have the answer to all the City's problems, but if you place your confidence in me I will sit down with other commissioners & appointive administrative heads to honestly face up to these problems. This is the only way we can get Pontiac back on the right track.

I will appreciate your vote in the Primary Election next Monday.

Sincerely
Floyd Miller

Spending Okayed for Coast Guard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Friday approved an authorization for more than $93 million to provide new ships, helicopters and operational facilities for the Coast Guard in the next fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

The compromise measure was passed Thursday by the House.

The original Senate authorization had allowed about $22 million less by eliminating one of two new large cutters and two of eight smaller cutters from the House approved bill.

NEW FISCAL YEAR

The Senate bill also limited the authorization to the new fiscal year which begins July 1.

The compromise restored the original House total with the Senate time limitation.

Sinatra Jr. Denies Hoping Plot Would Unite Parents

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — An ill and irritated Frank Sinatra Jr. reappeared briefly yesterday in the federal trial of three men accused of his kidnap for ransom.

Young Sinatra, frequently coughing and wiping his nose with a handkerchief during a 20-minute period on the witness stand, tersely denied that while a hostage he had said he hoped the affair would bring together his divorced mother and father.

The 20-year-old singer had flown from Europe to become the defense's first witness.

Assistant U.S. attorney Thomas Sheridan announced the "prosecution rests" at 3 p.m. yesterday on the 14th day of the trial and after more than 50 witnesses had testified.

BLASTS DEFENSE

U.S. Dist. Court Judge William East recessed the trial until Monday, but not before criticizing the defense for requiring him to call young Sinatra back to Los Angeles.

After Morris Lavine, one of the three defense attorneys, questioned Sinatra Jr. on the possible effect the incident might have on the Sinatra family, East said:

"This has nothing to do with the government charge. I cannot restrain myself. I feel I have had to make an unwarranted use of this court's process in calling Frank Jr. back."

★ ★ ★

It was expected that the elder Sinatra, in Tokyo, would be asked to testify the first of next week. A spokesman for Sinatra said, "He said he would be back here in 24 hours if asked by the court."

★ ★ ★

Accused of the gunpoint abduction of Sinatra Jr. from a Lake Tahoe motel on Dec. 8 and of receiving $240,000 ransom are Barry Worthington Keenan, Joseph Clyde Amsler, both 23, and John William Irwin, 42.

Teachers to Confer on Testing

Willing to risk the collective wrath of their students, some 60 Pontiac teachers will gather at 9 a.m. Monday at Pontiac Northern High School to learn how to prepare better classroom tests.

Seemingly oblivious to possible student displeasure, the instructors will take part in a conference on practical evaluation, cosponsored by Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey.

"Classroom tests exert a powerful influence on how children study and what they learn," said William Lacy, assistant superintendent.

★ ★ ★

"That is why we are anxious to do everything we can to help our teachers give better tests."

ALL SCHOOLS

Lacy said teachers from all schools would be represented at the conference.

★ ★ ★

The teachers will be shown how to plan a test, how to write good multiple-choice questions and how to analyze the results.

Playing It Cool

'Mr. Novak' Latest Teen Idol

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — James Franciscus, who seems destined to be the new sensation of the teen-agers, is playing it cool, and with good reason. He has seen what happens to teen-age sensations.

THOMAS

Matter of fact, it happened to him when he was starring in the first season of "Naked City." He chanced to go skating one day in Central Park in New York.

"Some girls recognized me and crowded around for my autograph," he recalled. "It was going all right until the manager told the girls to get off the rink. Then they were worried that they wouldn't get their turn, and they started grabbing at my collar, my tie, etc.

"When the mob scene was over, I was left standing with only my pants and my skates on."

The same clamorous life faces Franciscus as star of "Mr. Novak," a television series with built-in teen-age appeal. He plays a compassionate teacher of English in a high school.

The teen crowd seems to like the series, and Franciscus, too. He gets the message when he goes on locations at local high schools. That's as far as he wants to push his luck.

"I lead a very quiet life," said Franciscus, who seeks no more mob scenes.

★ ★ ★

Franciscus admitted that his wife didn't care much for his long working hours, but she understands the business. The Franciscuses have two young daughters.

After the series had been sold out but before shooting began, Franciscus drew the lead in the movie, "Youngblood Hawke."

I asked if he had any regrets about taking his second leap in to a series.

"None," he replied. "There still wouldn't be enough work for me in features. Perhaps there will be in two or three years—if 'Mr. Novak' goes that long. I think the chances are pretty good."

When Buying Insurance—

Don't Drop One Policy To Buy ANOTHER!

There are exceptions to this rule but they are RARE! Rates go up as you grow older, so you will pay a higher rate if you shift! Reliable agents will tell you that 9 times out of 10, in the shift from an old policy to a new one, no one gains BUT THE AGENT WHO SELLS IT. Most agents are honest but a few yield to the temptation to become a "twister"—salesmen who sell new policies by talking people into discarding their old ones.

IF AN AGENT OR ANYONE ELSE, SUGGESTS A CHANGE IN POLICIES, TAKE YOUR TIME! Know clearly why he thinks you should change. Write to your State Insurance Department for advice about your old policy, or consult that local Life Underwriters Association. If you aren't convinced that a change is advisable, DON'T CHANGE! Older policies should be kept in force if possible!

Over New Safety Rules

Nursing Homes Fired Up

EAST LANSING (AP)—State police were picketed Friday by nursing home operators fired up over proposed fire safety regulations that they said could force many of them out of business.

Some 300 representatives of Michigan nursing homes and other affected industries attended a public hearing at state police headquarters to discuss a broad new set of fire rules.

★ ★ ★

Picketing was done by members of the State Association of Licensed Nursing Homes Inc., a newly formed organization representing 66 "small homes" out of the state's 535. Their chief objection, they said, was a requirement that many of them install sprinkler systems.

About 20 members marched and carried sings in the orderly demonstration, said president Mrs. Glenis Laxton, who with her husband, Charles, runs the Fairview Convalescent Home in Lansing.

SMALL HOMES

The small homes could not afford sprinkler systems, she said, adding:

"Our home has 18 beds and it would cost a minimum of $10,000 to put in a sprinkler system. We would have to close up."

Her husband said a city inspector gave him a choice between a sprinkler system and a fire detection system a year ago. Laxton said he installed the detection system for $1,000, "and it was considered adequate."

Another group, the Michigan Nursing Home Association, also was represented. The group, headed by Dr. G. Robert Cotton, administrator of the Cedar Knoll Rest Home Inc. at Grass Lake, represents about 225 homes.

'HERE TO COOPERATE'

"We had nothing to do with the picketing," Cotton said: "We are here to cooperate."

Mrs. Laxton said enforcement of the sprinkler rule for all licensed homes of four beds or more, built of non-fire resistant materials, would "close 50 to 70 per cent of the nursing homes in the state."

In a prepared statement, her group said the economic squeeze applied by the new regulations would leave only the larger, more expensive homes and the unlicensed institutions—forcing the poorer patients into unlicensed homes—or to other states where present fire laws are less stringent.

Current state fire regulations are strict enough to make the sprinkler rule of little added value, the group said.

Cotton suggested a progressive time limit for compliance with new regulations by existing homes.

Cliff Russell and Harry Harkavy of Miami Beach form one of the greatest partnerships in the world. They also play against each other on occasion and are apt to provide fireworks when they do.

JACOBY

Cliff found himself in four spades in a rubber bridge game at Miami's Yarboro Club with his regular partner defending in the East seat.

West opened the king of hearts and Harry, who is one of our fastest players, wasted no time in overtaking his partner's king and returning the deuce of clubs.

Cliff paused to consider what was going on and came to the conclusion that Harry held the ace and one spade and was setting up a club ruff.

He also saw that he must keep Harry from putting his partner in the lead with a heart.

Cliff saw a way that might foil Harry's plan. He cashed dummy's king of diamonds; overtook dummy's queen with his ace; led his ten of diamonds and discarded dummy's last heart.

Harry won the trick with the jack and while he still made his ace of trumps he had no way to get his partner in the lead to give him that club ruff.

Cliff had been lucky in that he found the jack of diamonds in Harry's hand but he had given the cards a chance.

What do you do?

A — Bid two spades. Your partner should have a little stuff and you want to try to push the opponents up a trifle.

TODAY'S QUESTION

West bids three clubs and your partner doubles. East bids three hearts. What do you do now?

The largest eye among land animals belongs not to a mammal but to the ostrich. Keen vision and the ability to run 30 miles an hour protect this flightless bird from its enemies.

Plea for Community Colleges

CHICAGO (AP) — By 1970 three-fourths of the nation's college students will be in community colleges—if the colleges are available—the head of the social science division of Henry Ford Community College predicted today.

★ ★ ★

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the executive council of the American Federation of Teachers, Ray A. Howe of Dearborn, Mich., said the two-year institutions now having less than 25 per cent of college students are facing higher education's major student impact.

He added that present indications on whether enough community colleges will be available are "less than encouraging."

1ST PRIORITY

"Any consideration of who should pay for a community college education must take second place to the problem of the assurance that community college education will be available to those who want and need it," he said.

★ ★ ★

"While across the nation states have undertaken support programs, and while recently the federal government has had the foresight to provide for matching funds for certain buildings, the basic decision, and the basic responsibility rests with the community," Howe said.

Consumers Reports Use of Utilities Up

Consumers Power Co. says its statewide kilowatt-hour sales of electricity and natural gas both increased 7 per cent during the 12 months ending Jan. 31.

A. H. Aymond, chairman of the board, reported gross operating revenue for the period, as compared with a year ago, rose 6 per cent to $355,063,000.

Aymond said the growth in natural gas sales resulted from more than 38,000 new heating customers, and increased demands of industry.

★ ★ ★

Per share earnings on the average number of common shares outstanding for the 12-month period was $2.21, compared to $2.14 in 1963.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Sunday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Day for MEDITATION. Look around you; really OBSERVE. Make this a day to see and learn. Avoid rushing, jumping to conclusions. Be quiet within. Fine for meticulous thought, inspiration.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Visits with family members will prove beneficial. Key to wonderful day is sufficient REST. Highlight moderation. Obtain hint from ARIES message. Give problems time to "resolve themselves."

GEMINI (May 21 — June 21): Complete projects. Have inspirational talk with spiritual advisor. Set fine example for friends, family. Devote part of day to creative hobby. Fine evening for dining out.

CANCER (June 22 — July 21): Don't neglect details — especially those concerned with home improvement. Excellent day to try new foods, entertainment. Turn routine into exciting adventure. Emphasize personal touch.

LEO (July 22 — Aug. 21): Day features MENTAL ACTIVITY. Gain through written word; check features in your paper. There is answer close by to perplexing problem. Time for planning, research, adding to knowledge.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 — Sept. 22): Spotlight talents. Sparkle for friends. Display versatility, humor. Money-making idea due to be offered. YOU ARE ON RIGHT TRACK. But don't be misled by "incomplete" offer!

LIBRA (Sept. 23 — Oct. 22): Begin new month by resolving to SUCCEED. You do this by attending to details, by wagering on your own abilities. Don't listen to one who downgrades you. Know your own worth.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 — Nov. 21): Busy period. Time for making changes, writing, planning. Exceptionally good for showing loved ones you "care." Good to visit those confined to home or hospital. Follow Golden Rule.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): First day of month finds you attracting NEW FRIENDS. You can make impression by expressing ideas. No time for "holding back." Give of yourself. Attend church of your choice.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 20): Look beyond surface indications — includes analyzing your own emotions. Don't fool yourself. Know where you are headed. Otherwise, rude awakening due. You can make this a day to remember.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 — Feb. 19): Time to concentrate on SELF-IMPROVEMENT. Fine for consultation with expert. Gain indicated through reading, attending lecture. Stimulating conversation may turn up "missing key."

PISCES (Feb. 20 — Mar. 20): Think over what occurred yesterday. There was special message contained in events. Now plan actions based on experience. Emphasis should be on expansion. Avoid being petty.

IF SUNDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY: . . . you are sensitive, have deep appreciation of poetry . . . and upcoming year promises greater domestic happiness.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for LIBRA, SCORPIO, SAGITTARIUS. Special word to LEO: Stop talking and start doing!

For Monday

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Be realistic. Don't fall victim to WISHFUL THINKING. Temptation is just to hope for the best. But wise course is to WORK for desired. Accept responsibility and demonstrate worth.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Philosophical question concerns you. Someone's impression you seek to change. Adhere to policies which enhance public trust. Learn by teaching. Share knowledge. Fine for completing projects.

GEMINI (May 21 — June 21): Necessary how to get down to tasks. Obtain hint from ARIES message. One who seeks favor may not be sincere. Check numerous sources. Avoid public disputes. Be diplomatic rather than harsh.

CANCER (June 22 — July 21): Individual who advises you DOES want you to succeed. Avoid needless suspicion. Give of yourself — stress creative pursuits. Evening fine for romance, sharing of toys.

LEO (July 22 — Aug. 21): Travel interest sparked. Inspiration could be member of opposite sex. Reinforce recent resolutions concerning EMOTIONS. Recall thoughts involving budget. Key to making most of day is concentration.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 — Sept. 22): Emphasis on COOPERATION. Spotlight diplomatic manner with fellow workers. Many who serve you would like word of appreciation. Be mature, considerate. Smile rather than frown.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 — Oct. 22): Attend to necessary details. Don't attempt to skip vital tasks. Forego purchase of luxury items. Highlight patience. Bargains no substitute for what you REALLY need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 — Nov. 21): Cycle high. You exude strong appeal to those who previously were not impressed. Make the most of it! Highlight diplomacy, personality. Excellent for sharing interests with family.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): Don't be afraid to SEARCH. Means ideals may not be easy to attain, but they ARE worthwhile. Be persistent. Find out what makes loved one tick. Key is UNDERSTANDING.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 20): Get down to BASICS. Realize key issues require mediation. Friendly person helpful. Don't permit false pride to stand in way of progress. Excellent for showing you are intelligent, mature.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 — Feb. 19): Deal with those in authority. Confide aspirations. Ask for suggestions; present your own ideas, important that you are sincere, confident. Important advance due.

PISCES (Feb. 20 — Mar. 20): Good lunar aspect highlights correspondence, RECOGNITION. Prepare to take a bow! Be modest, but affirmative — charming, but forceful. Take initiative. Stress ORIGINALITY.

IF MONDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY: . . . upcoming year promises much in area of SELF-DISCOVERY. Your are intuitive, often moody, but always capable of responding during emergencies.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for SCORPIO, SAGITTARIUS, CAPRICORN. Special word to LEO: Make resolution to add to group of friends.

Fuselage and 58 Bodies

Submarine Devices Join in Plane Hunt

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Electronic devices used to hunt the sunken submarine Thresher today joined an array of scientific equipment searching Lake Pontchartrain for the fuselage of a crashed jetliner and bodies of 58 persons believed still in it.

A fresh oil slick found by the Coast Guard late yesterday became the focus of greatest attention early today. Boats returned to probe the spot while awaiting a report on analysis of the oil.

The analysis was to determine whether the oil was the type used in the aircraft.

★ ★ ★

"This may be a very good lead," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Seismographic equipment used in the search for the sunken submarine Thresher in 600 fathoms of water in the Atlantic Ocean was the latest addition to the gear.

Cause of Tuesday's Eastern Air Lines DC8 disaster remained a mystery. Federal investigators said finding the fuselage in the 610 - square-mile lake appeared the only hope for determining the cause.

They said there was no evidence for or against explosion aboard the four - eninge jetliner when it plunged into the water minutes after taking off from New Orleans International Airport.

On hand for the third day was a U.S. Navy S2F submarine-hunter apirplane with magnetic metal detection equipment. It picked up several "contacts" from large metallic objects in about 15 feet of water during the past two days.

OLD SCHOONER

But none of the past contacts yielded anything connected with the crashed plane. One turned out to be the hulk of an old schooner with metal fittings.

Search leaders also awaited results of special Air Force photographic reconnaissance of the lake yesterday. They declined to discuss the operation because it dealt with classified information.

They said the reconnaissance plane came from Shaw Air Force Base, S.C., and they had no idea how long it would take to learn results of the aerial photography.

★ ★ ★

Fritz Grice, a technician with Schlumberger Oil Well and Surveying Co. of Houston, arrived yesterday to operate the seismographic device.

He used the same procedure and equipment that proved successful in locating the Thresher.

Grocery Chain, Rights Group

Agreement Halts 'Shop-In' Race Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A supermarket chain has settled a dispute with the Congress of Racial Equality that brought picketing, boycotts and the newest civil rights weapon—the shop-in.

CORE and Lucky Stores, Inc., officials said they were happy with the settlement.

CORE initiated the demonstrations, contending Lucky had reneged on previous agreements to hire more Negroes in addition to those already working. Lucky denied discrimination and charged CORE with wanting "reverse discrimination."

★ ★ ★

The shop-ins followed picketing and boycotts at stores in Palo Alto, Berkeley and San Francisco. A crowd of CORE volunteers would monopolize the shopping carts, fill them and then refuse to pay for the groceries at the check-out counters after the prices were rung on the cash registers.

HAILED PACT

San Francisco Mayor John F. Shelley hailed the agreement, reached yesterday after the latest of a series of meetings in his office, as "a milestone for the future here and throughout the country."

Details weren't announced, pending ratification by the 11 Northern California CORE chapters—expected today. But a group shopping-in at a Berkeley store was told the agreement called for between 45 and 75 Negroes among the next 155 Lucky workers hired between now and July.

The group demonstrating at the Berkeley store was from CORE's University of California chapter, which ignored the halt in shop-ins reached in Palo Alto last weekend and in San Francisco Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

When the students heard of the agreement, they began putting back the food they had taken off shelves.

Waterford Twp. to Get Report on Youth Program

Waterford Township Board members Monday night will hear a report of 1963 activities of the township's 30-member Youth Assistance Committee.

The organization works with area youths in conjunction with Juvenile Court.

Also slated for board attention is a request from Community Activities Inc. for a temporary amusement park license for the annual CAI Fair, June 15-21.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the board will receive the monthly building department report and a report from the library advisory committee.

Airport Study Awaits Talks

County Dealing With San Francisco Firm

A proposed $10,000 study of airport needs in Oakland County today was awaiting further negotiations between county officials and a West Coast aviation consulting firm.

A representative of the firm, Leigh Fisher Associates of San Francisco, was expected to arrive here earlier this week to sign a contract.

Charles B. Edwards Jr., chairman of the county supervisors' avation committee, said yesterday he thought a working draft of a contract should be sent to the firm first.

"I wrote the firm advising them to hold off sending anybody until they have received such a draft from the county," said Edwards.

CAN MEET

"Then we can meet with their representative here to complete the final contract."

The draft was being prepared by the county's corporation counsel for committee approval, Edwards added.

He said the three-month study should be started within 30 days after the final contract is signed.

Mild City Winter Lowers Road Costs

"Beautiful winter we're having," said Clyde Christian, Pontiac Department of Public Works superintendent.

He talked like a man who had bet his life savings on Cassius Clay.

"No snow; no ice . . . if you could buy your winters at a discount store, you still couldn't beat this deal."

Christian was referring to the low cost, to date, of snow and ice removal on Pontiac streets.

$25,000 LESS

The winter street program has already cost about $25,000 less than a year ago.

At this time last year, the budget showed $66,667 spent for winter snow and ice removal. The DPW had used 2,782 tons of salt on city streets.

So far, the winter of 1963-64 has cost $41,256. Road crews have used 1,745 tons of salt.

We've even had road graders out on some of our gravel streets, it's been so nice," Christain said. "This is normally a spring and summer job."

ONE CATCH

There is one catch to the mild weather, and it gives Christian some cause for concern. The frequent thawing and freezing makes for a heavy load of patch work in the spring and early summer.

"I wouldn't be surprised if we run into street patch trouble this spring," he said. "We've already noticed some holes and cracks that usually don't show up until April."

The DPW spent $21,260 for patching trunklines and major and local streets in Pontiac last year. Christian said that chances are the expenditure will be greater this year.

"We're enjoying the easy winter," he noted, "but it looks like we'll have all the potholes we can handle come spring."

Annual Havana Carnival Tamed Down by Castro

HAVANA (AP) — Havana's annual carnival begins today, but some of the more exuberant traditions of the annual holiday have been banned.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government announced that the firing of sidearms will be forbidden. In the past Cubans liked to express their joyful mood by shooting into the air.

The government also decreed a ban on "indecent or equivocal costumes" and impersonation of members of the armed forces.

BIG PARADE

The carnival will be officially ushered in with a big parade through old Havana tonight. Special lights have been rigged on the city's main buildings, and big dolls hang from street poles.

Despite the happy mood, there is no holiday on Communist themes. The parade will include some 25 floats prepared by government ministries, unions and other organizations stressing ideas held dear by the regime.

* * *

One float will symbolize "Free Africa" and carry lions from the Havana Zoo. The lions presumably will be caged.

A pretty young housewife and mother of two children will reign as queen of the carnival, but in keeping with the sentiments of communism she is being called star rather than queen.

WILL CONTINUE

Unlike Mardi Gras celebrations elsewhere in Latin America, carnival time in Havana does not end on Ash Wednesday and the start of Lent, which began this year Feb. 12. It will continue on consecutive weekends until March 22, the Sunday before Easter.

In addition to tonight's kick-off parade, there will be other celebrations both in public and private on the four carnival weekends. Dances will be held in parks, and there will be other parades.

The government also placed another restriction on the wearing of costumes, aimed at ending carousing in the streets by holiday-garbed Havaneros.

The costumes can be worn only at dances. But the merry-makers can keep them on until 4 a.m.

Sweden will try out a penal institution without walls. Inmates will be paid contractural wages for building prefabricated houses.

It's So Peaceful in the Country

Stephen DuBruls Enjoy Suburbia With Urban Flair

Beautifully matched, golden Chesapeake Bay littermates Chico and Goldie, exuberantly welcome visitors to Breuil-Benoit, the country estate of the Stephen McK. DuBruls on Lake George Road in Oakland Township.

Built into a hillside, the DuBruls' home overlooks 250 acres of scenic orchards, woods, rolling hills and a private lake fed by a meandering stream. Gliding along the stream's icy waters are wintering flocks of wild mallards.

This year, an exotic crested mandarin duck and his mate are also enjoying the DuBruls' hospitality.

* * *

In a recent remodeling and redecorating venture, dark wormy chestnut beams and woodwork throughout the house were treated with a glaze, lightening them to a soft gray.

MORNING ROOM

For convenience, a room-wide counter and backboard of impervious bronze crackleware have been installed in the morning room.

It is here that Mrs. DuBrul prepares breakfast with the aid of small appliances.

Papered in mandarin foil the morning room features a Chinese altar table from a Shanghi temple. Centering it is an heirloom silver tea service of the late Georgian period.

* * *

A planter dividing the morning room from the more formal dining room, or the "brick room" as the DuBruls call it, has been removed and a glass-tiered divider installed to house the family's silver serving pieces.

BRICK ROOM

It is in the brick room, so called because of the glazed antique brick flooring, that Chico and Goldie have their built-in escape hatch.

It permits them to come and go without disturbing their mistress or master. The entrance, located beside the split fieldstone fireplace, is concealed behind an innocent appearing cupboard door.

Centering the room's banquet table of walnut-finished mahogany is a French silver plateau mirror.

BEESWAX CANDLES

Natural beeswax candles in brass wall sconces add an aromatic and colorful touch to the room. Mr. DuBrul's collection of antique swords is arranged on the side walls.

In the master bedroom wing, Mrs. DuBrul has chosen robin's egg blue as the woodwork accent for the two dressing rooms.

Her room — wallpapered in real butterflies and leaves under a silk screen — features a zodiac tile framed fireplace.

* * *

Mr. DuBrul's dressing room is wallpapered in a textured fabric with the ceiling repeating the metallic blue and gold wallpaper of the master bath.

MASTER BATH

The master bath, tiled in Pewabic turquoise tile, is lighted by imported Venetian fixtures with frosted hobnail shades. Dear to Mrs. DuBrul's heart and set in the place of honor on the wall-to-wall vanity is a gold tissue holder.

It was made of assorted macaroni pieces and gilt paint by her grandchildren, Peter, James and Stephen Settles.

A Mediterranean blue ankle deep shag rug covers the floor.

* * *

Flanking the king-size bed are a pair of white, antique casting figurine lamps called "The Lovers." A bright white heirloom spread contrasts with the electric blue of the rug.

GOLD SUITE

The gold suite or grandchildren's wing can be entered from the front foyer or the kitchen area. The two rooms, a sitting room and a bedroom, have been decorated in shades of gold.

To keep her green thumb in trim, Mrs. DuBrul has converted the glass-enclosed side porch of the children's suite to a garden room. The three-way exposure makes it ideal to winter plants and get a head start on spring.

A hand-hooked Norwegian throw rug in wheatfield design adds to the gay colors of the outside-inside room.

* * *

Cupboards finished in gray glaze with shadings of green and brown provide storage space plus in the DuBrul kitchen. A circular island stove with stainless steel hood dominates the practical and attractive work area.

INDOOR BARBEQUE

Wallpapered in reproductions of French bird prints, the kitchen also features an indoor barbeque framed in frosted harlequin bricks.

Wallpapered in China tea paper, the living room background is tortoise shell colored with an overlay of gold. Exhibited in wall cabinets is a grouping of early Eskimo art.

Off-white upholstery pieces in cut velvet fabric assure the room's visitors of complete comfort. Furniture pieces are done in mahogany and teakwood.

* * *

Above the fireplace hangs a collection of original prints. Arranged on the mantel are an authentic rope of Indian wampum and an Indian ivory and silver rosary.

CIVIC ACTIVITY

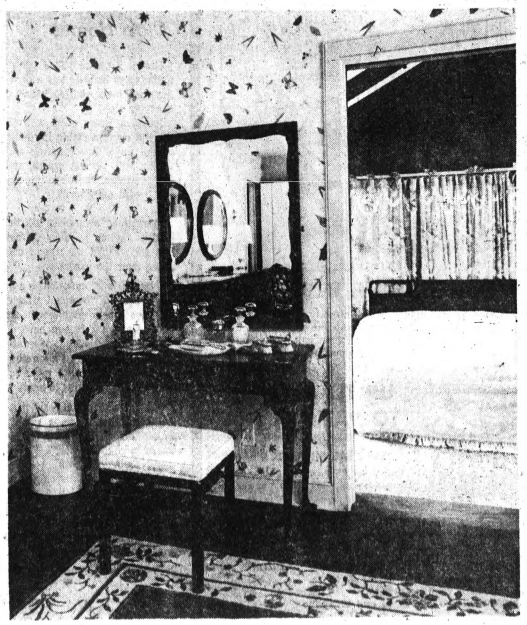

Many people will remember that Mrs. DuBrul was the sparkplug behind gowning of the Oakland University choirwomen in identical white, floor-length shifts for their performance with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra early in 1963.

In addition to teaching Canadian government at University of Detroit, Mrs. DuBrul is a member of OU's music committee to develop and advance the new Meadow Brook Music Center.

She also serves on the Meadow Brook ball committee and Rochester Tuesday Musicale.

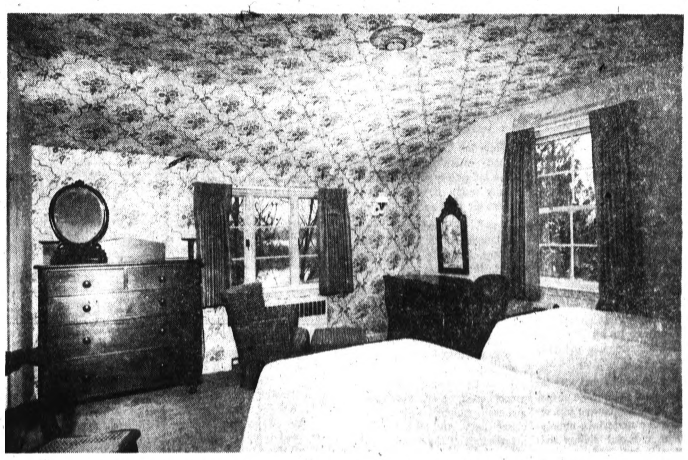

* * *

A published author, she has written "Tourist Operators' Handbook," "A Home of Her Own," "The Worst of the Bargain," "What Happened in Murdochville," and "In Full Right, Canada." She uses the pen name of Ella Cork.

DRESSING ROOM — Adjoining the paneled master bedroom is the feminine dressing room of Mrs. DuBrul. The unique wallpaper of real butterflies and leaves is enhanced by the royal blue background of the room's oriental rug. Arranged on the vanity table is a gold boudoir set which was owned by Mrs. Grover Cleveland when she was first lady.

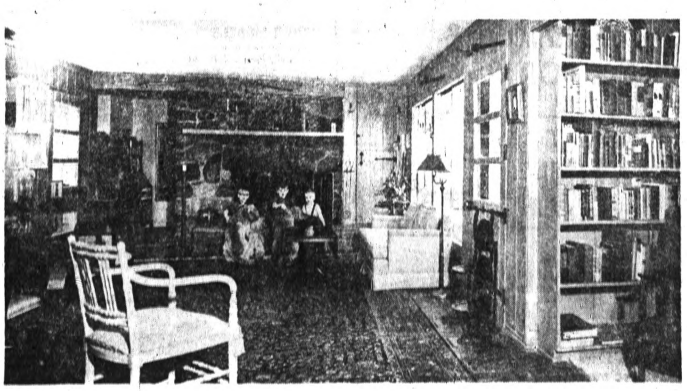

GOLD SUITE—Perfect for entertaining the younger generation is the two-room gold suite. Nicknamed for its color scheme, the room features raw silk draperies and dust ruffles. The spreads are off-white with inserts of Brussels lace. Furniture pieces are of walnut and mahogany.

COOKING IN THE ROUND—Centering the kitchen is an island stove complete with stainless steel vent fan and fluorescent lights. The cask on the indoor barbecue contains white wine made from apples grown in the DuBrul orchards. The DuBruls donate the main yield of the orchards to the Benedictine Fathers. Members of the Drahner Road religious community in turn raise and market the crop.

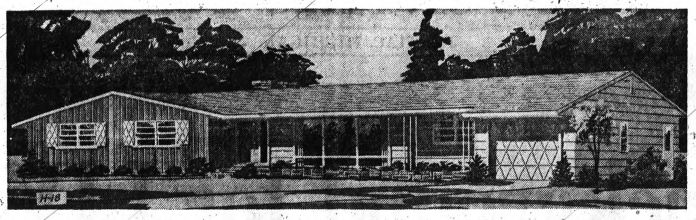

ELEGANT COMFORT — Flanking the split fieldstone fireplace in the Stephen McK. DuBruls' home are handmade wrought-iron lamps. Purchased by Mr. DuBrul's grandfather at the Brussels International Exhibition, they have been handed down through the family. Off-white cut velvet upholstery pieces prove to be the perfect complement to the room's richly colored Persian rug.

BRICK ROOM — The DuBrul grandchildren (from left) Peter, James and Stephen Settles love to pay grandmother and grandfather a visit. And when they do, of course, Chico and Goldie come in for their fair share of attention. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip K. Settles who live nearby.

Add Comfort to Basementless Slab Homes

Here's a tip for you if you're planning to build or buy a basementless home constructed on a concrete slab:

Insist on floors which will offset the uncomfortable hardness of the unyielding concrete and which will remain warm and dry in winter. These are important health safeguards.

★ ★ ★

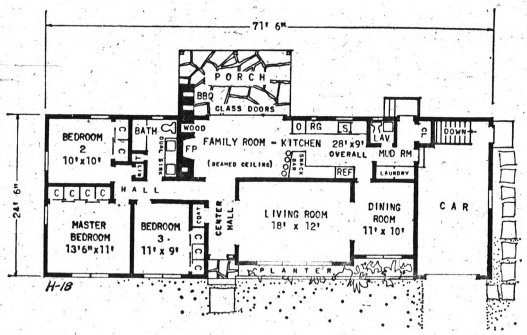

Increasing awareness of the health factor in slab homes has encouraged the use of oak floors over the concrete.

Nature has endowed oak with built-in "bounce" which enables it to cushion the shock to the skeletal system caused in walking. This tends to minimize fatigue, lessens the strain on bones and muscles and thus contributes to health.

Oak also possesses substantial insulating value, a quality which helps it keep a house worm in cold weather.

Strip hardwood flooring now can be installed at low cost over concrete by a new method which involves nailing it to 1x2-inch wood sleepers attached securely to the concrete.

FLOOR PLAN—An unbelievably small amount of space is devoted to hallways, yet movement to all rooms is direct, free and natural. Three exterior entrances at rear improve circulation. Total living area is 1,390 square feet not counting garage.

H-18 STATISTICS

A one-story house with three bedrooms, 1½ baths, living room, dining room, family room, kitchen, center hall, mud room, main level laundry, attached one-car garage, full basement, covered rear porch. Over-all dimensions are 71'6" wide by 24'6" deep. Total living area is 1,390 square feet not counting garage and porch.

Lots of Elbow Room Found in Small Ranch

Poor circulation, an unpleasant ailment to afflict a person, can be an equally melancholy malady when the patient is a house.

The symptoms are a stifling of movement between areas and sluggishness in getting from room to room.

Also there is a dreadful lack of privacy — as when small boys have to troop through a living room full of company to get wherever it is they are going, or when a young lady must peek to see that the coast is clear before making a discreet dash from bath to boudoir.

The smaller the house, the more difficult it is for the designer to assure good circulation; there simply isn't much room available to devote to hallways.

Architect Lester Cohen accepted a formidable challenge, therefore, when he limited today's house of the week—a three-bedroom ranch — to less than 1,400 square feet.

The house contains only 1,390 square feet to be precise, yet not a single room has to be used as a regular passageway in going from one place to another. That's the best test of good circulation, and this modest house passes it in fine style.

There are two key factors in its excellent circulation pattern: a central hall, which funnels traffic efficiently from the main entrance to formal, informal or sleeping areas; and three other exterior entries which provide direct access to all the main areas of housekeeping and daily living.

Cohen devoted equal care to his design of the outside of the house. By imaginative use of inexpensive materials, mainly vertical redwood siding and wood shingles, with a stone planter for accent, he was able to produce a striking yet economical facade.

Slender wood dowels support the overhang and give an impression of formal columns.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS

The hub of this house is the family room, a warm and inviting informal room with a ruggedly handsome fireplace and a beamed ceiling.

★ ★ ★

The stone fireplace wall extends outside forming a barbecue on the covered rear porch, reached through sliding glass doors.

Adjoining the family room is the kitchen. A snack bar, with stools on the family room side, serves as a divider.

Together the two rooms offer an informal expanse of more than 28' across the rear of the house.

The formal living and dining rooms both have broad banks of windows overlooking the front planter.

★ ★ ★

Arches, between hall and living and dining rooms, allow the rooms to flow together for a similarly spacious feeling in the main entertaining area.

While the kitchen is designed intentionally to be more intimately related to the family room, it still is quite accessible to the dining room.

A well designed mud room and laundry, with an adjoining lavatory, is nicely located next to both the kitchen and garage.

There are three doorways in this corner of the house alone—from the rear, the side and the garage—assuring complete freedom of movement in what otherwise might become an awkward, congested area.

All three bedrooms are well proportioned, well ventilated, and well equipped with copious closet space. And all are within a few steps of the family bathroom.

Not also that the bathroom is completely shielded from the living areas of the house.

A truly amazing feature of this house is the unbelievably small amount of space devoted to hallways. Yet movement to all rooms is free, direct and natural.

Another important aspect is the simplified construction, which means a savings in cost. The house is almost a perfect rectangle, yet there is no boxy look about it; instead it has an attractive roofline and a facade that would enhance any neighborhood.

Revolution Caused by Computers

Computers are becoming as much a part of home building as the tape measures and the level.

"No phase of the industry is unaffected by this revolution," reports the Journal of Homebuilding, official publication of the National Association of Home Builders.

Its February issue features a 20-page special section telling builders how "Electronic Brains Can Help You Manage, Build and Market Better."

In the most extensive magazine presentation thus far on data processing in building homes, the NAHB Journal gives a boost to both in-office use of computerized project control systems, and to use of outside service centers.

Articles tell how electronic data processing is influencing market research, land acquisition and use, planning, estimating, controlling, construction and selling.

Actual cases are discussed in detail. In "Computerized CPM Puts You in the Driver's Seat," Virginia builder John R. Minchew tells how the computerized Critical Path Method of project management has saved him at least $600 per house.

Before CPM, says Minchew, "I used to live in fear that some morning I would wake up, and my accountant would come in and tell me how I went broke three months ago."

Computer consultant Glenn L. White says in another article that generally less than 30% of home building activities are on the "critical path" directly controlling the project's length.

"This means that if project acceleration is desired and all activities are expedited, 70% of the money and effort is wasted," White points out. The builder is told how computerized CPM can provide a way to control his business effectively.

A revolution in marketing, brought about by computers and data processing, is forecast in the Journal special section. A system of market analysis by computer is described — a system, says the Journal, which can "judge the soundness of your latest project before you spent a nickel."

New Cabinet Adds Beauty

Imported baroque framing, practically a lost art in this country, is a feature of a new wall-mirror cabinet designed by Olympic Building Products to meet the needs of those looking for something new and distinctive in bath and dressing room decor.

The hand crafted wood frame, finished in harmoniously muted gold over a white base, with whisper glimpses of soft bronzed red, will complement almost any period design, from Early American to French Provincial.

The contrasting interior of the cabinet, baked-on over sturdy steel, has adjustable glass shelves, and is spaciousenough to hold all those beauty aids so dear to milady's charms.

Two sliding plate glass mirrors, electrolytically sealed against moisture and air, help her make sure every eyelash is curled to perfection.

The cabinet has an over-all size 31½" wide and 22" high. The required wall opening for recessing is 28" x 18". It is available from Olympic Building Products Company, Dept. N, 300 Babylon Turnpike, Roosevelt, Long Island, New York. Retail price $100.00 F.O.B. — Roosevelt, New York.

Modern Western Style Has Roots in Orient

The modern "American Style" of residential architecture has Oriental antecedents.

According to the Southern Pine Association, the practice of exporting parts of the structure for decoration has long been famous in Japan.

Exposed wood beams and decking in the roof structures of modern U. S. homes bear strong resemblance to Oriental styles.

The first recorded export shipment from this nation was a boatload of Southern Pine masts and clapboards dispatched to England in the year 1609.

What to Do?

Home Troubles Solved

It's not the problems in the home, but our attitude toward them that counts. Things will go wrong in the stateliest homes, so we shouldn't get a "wretched house" complex.

One must face up to individual obstacles as we approach them, and solve them as quickly as possible, without treating each one as a strike against the house.

★ ★ ★

Above all one shouldn't let little things accumulate until we are over our heads in disrepair.

SAFE FIREPLACE

"Our fireplace was built by a local carpenter, and the thing that bothers me is that I'm afraid it isn't safe," writes a woman.

"I'm afraid to use it when my husband isn't here. Is there any way to test it for saftey? It is a small, inadequate fireplace in any case, and that may be one reason I do not have confidence in it."

No fireplace that presents doubts should be in service. The best fireplaces need professional care, and a check at the end of each season.

A good chimney man will check it for leaks, grease and other matter that can start fires. He will check each flue.

★ ★ ★

The carpenter who built it must have worked from plans, and any experienced workman would have been careful in respect to safety features, even if fireplace building isn't his regular line of work. Your fears could be put to rest by a chimney expert.

CARPET CLASH

"We have an enormous heat register near the corner of our living room, and it is an unsightly mess. We brought carpet from our other home and I'm in favor of putting it over part of the register.

★ ★ ★

My husband wants to cut the carpet, but since we just rent the house, I'm against cutting the carpet.

Is there any solution to this without cutting the carpet?"

Experience with two wool carpets has shown that it is not affected by registers. These two instances involved dark rugs — a red and a gray with pads beneath. The registers did not affect them.

Each carpet was down more than five years and did not completely cover the registers. One carpet had a urethane underpad, the other had a jute underpad.

How carpet of other fibers would react to heat, I do not know, but you could get this information from the manufacturer.

FLOOR STENCILING

"I have read a number of stories about floor stenciling being in vogue, and since I cannot afford carpet right now, I thought I would try it. Is it a difficult job?

★ ★ ★

"Is there an easier solution to the problem so that the floors do not look too bad? I plan to do the living room first, and then the others as I go along."

Stenciling floors does take time and a little skill. Furnishings should be removed from the room and kept out of the room until everything is completely dry, for best results.

If one can stencil a room over a long period, it may prove to be a very enjoyable task, rather than a back-breaking one. A good alternate plan is to paint the floors a bright color.

Small area rugs could be used over floors, then moved to other rooms when carpet is purchased for the main room.

PROPER HEATER

It pays to check a house thoroughly when you buy it as this reader found out.

"We bought a small house recently, only to find that the bedrooms do not have heat. Outside in the hall between the two bedrooms there is a heater, and the house is adequately heated downstairs.

"We are now trying to decide on the kind of portable heating units we should buy. The bedrooms are small and it shouldn't take a great amount of heat to do it, but we would need a modern unit of some sort."

You could no doubt have heating units extended from your present heating system to these areas, depending on what type of heat flow you will have.

Since other people have lived there without heat, perhaps enough heat is derived from the hall for the bedrooms. It would be good to give the rooms a chance as they are. You could be surprised to find that the heat is entirely adequate, and that you like the rooms on the cool side.

Many modern homes are so over-heated that windows must be left open all night to keep bedrooms cool enough for comfort.

If you do decide on a portable heater, it is best to get advice from a heating expert who will select it on the basis of the size of your room and other factors.

Safety, economy, size and appearance are all to be considered when purchasing portable heaters.

Family Room Spruced Up With Paneling

Wonders in decorating can be performed even by amateur craftsmen nowadays.

A striking example is a damp dismal basement which, through the magic of modern paneling, lighting and other home improvement materials, can become a delightful family or recreation room.

Made bright and sparkling, it reflects the hospitality of the hosts.

Essential to the transformation are good planning, brand name products that have long life and easy care, and a dedicated craftsman or carpenter.

Home planning experts advise that the selection of a suitable wall surface is the key to success in this venture. Many families are using factory-finished, woodgrained hardboard. Developed by Masonite research, these handsome panels are dent and wear-resistant — just the thing for a fun-filled recreation room.

A wide selection of colors and grains is available at lumber and building supply dealers. They include cherry, walnut, teak, elm, pecan, and oak.

For an accent panel, hardboard in the motif of travertine marble is recommended by interior decorators.

The craftsman overcomes the problem of overhead conduits by boxing them with light lumber and covering the framework with the same pattern woodgrained paneling used on the walls. Thus, the woodgrain is carried into the ceiling area to enhance the overall appearance.

Overhead or indirect lighting and a light-textured floor covering complete the major installations required in changing a cellar from nothing to "really something."

As a final touch, put in furniture in keeping with the attractive room, and don't neglect the windows or fail to place a few well-chosen pictures on the walls, decorators advise.

A trend in architecture gaining popularity is the use of ceramic tile on the exterior of homes. Colorful, durable and available in a wide selection of sizes, shapes, patterns and colors, ceramic tile adds a distinctive touch to the home.

Walled Lake Trims Skippers; Takes 2nd in I-L Race

Pontiac Northern's Huskies ran into a fired-up Southfield quintet last night and came away licking their wounds after absorbing a 61-57 setback.

★ ★ ★

The defeat was the second in Inter-Lakes League action for the Huskies, who won the title with an 8-2 record.

Walled Lake pinned a 77-49 defeat on Waterford and finished in second place in the I-L race.

Berkley edged Farmington in the other loop contest, 63-59.

★ ★ ★

The Huskies handled the Blue Jays with ease in an earlier meeting on the PNH court, 79-66, but they lost the range on the Southfield court, making only 35 per cent of their field goal attempts.

TRAIL AT HALF

Northern was on the short end of a 35-30 score at halftime, but rallied to knot the count at 57-57 with 50 seconds remaining.

But Rick Smigielski, who finished the evening with 21 points, tossed in a two-pointer to put Southfield in front 59-57, and Ray Schlaff, who also collected 21 markers, iced the game with two free throws with three seconds left.

Mike Burklow led the Huskies with 20 points and Roger Hayward added 19. Hayward completed the season with an average of 19.2 points a game.

Southfield held a 59-31 edge in rebounding.

★ ★ ★

Waterford's Skippers found the lid on the bucket at Walled Lake as they hit on only 14 of 55 shots for a chilly 25 per cent.

Walled Lake romped to a 32-20 lead and broke the game open with 25 points in the third quarter.

LEADS ATTACK

Viking center George Bullock hauled in 23 rebounds, controlling both boards, and took scoring honors with 23 points. He hit on nine of 13 attempts from the field.

★ ★ ★

Aiding Bullock were Rick Trudeau (11) and John Thomas (10).

Rick Ziem paced the Skipper attack with 13 points and ended the season with an average of 16.4. Bill Lemaux collected 10 markers.

The win gave the Vikings an 8-7 season mark. Waterford finished with a 3-12 record.

Imlay City Drops 56-51 Encounter

Imlay City was still enjoying its big victory over New Haven last Tuesday and must have overlooked Deckerville last night.

The Spartans lost 56-51 after taking a 15-5 lead at the start and holding a 26-25 halftime advantage. Deckerville shot ahead in the third quarter and kept the lead the rest of the way.

Ed Lomerson had 18 and Ron Ruby 10 for Imlay while Bob Parrott had 22 for the winners.

ELUSIVE ROUNDBALL—The basketball slips from the grasp of Lessel Hanspard (right) during rebound scramble under Pontiac Central's offensive basket last night. Giving chase to ball and/or Hanspard is Saginaw Arthur Hill's Goulding (15), while PCH's Gerald Henry (40) seems somewhat perplexed by the whole development. Behind Henry are Central's Walter Moore (22) and Alvin Keel.

Pistons Edge Knicks by Two

Don Ohl Sparkles; Lakers, Boston Win

BOSTON (AP)—A couple of nowhere teams, Detroit and New York, battled down to the wire Friday night before the Pistons edged the Knicks 112-110 on Don Ohl's set shot.

★ ★ ★

In other National Basketball Association games, Los Angeles tripped Baltimore 115-112, Cincinnati edged Philadelphia 134-132 and Boston dumped San Francisco 107-92.

The Pistons and the Knicks, in last place in their respective divisions and both out of the playoffs, played as if every point counted. New York led 30-15 early in the game, was in front 60-54 at the half, and after Detroit took an 81-74 edge, the Knicks battled back into the lead 99-90.

With 13 seconds left, Ohl put the Pistons ahead 111-110. Seconds later he stole the ball from formr teammate Johnny Egan and Don Butcher sank a free throw just ahead of the buzzer.

★ ★ ★

In beating Baltimore, the Lakers all but clinched the final playoff spot in the Western Division.

Boston remained 2½ games ahead of Cincinnati in the Eastern Division with its victory over the Warriors. Wilt Chamberlain's 30 points led San Francisco.

Kettering Ends 15-0; W-O League Finishes in Tie

Captains Hit 15-0 Season

L'Anse Easy Victim; Oxford, Lapeer Win

Kettering's smooth-sailing basketball snip, manned by a sharp-shooting Captain quintet, docked last night after a 15-game trip through untroubled cage waters.

The squad slipped into port with a 70-39 triumph over L'Anse Creuse, and the win completed a 15-0 season. And the victory was the Captains' 20th in a row, a streak which stretches back to 1962-63.

The victory was also the squad's eighth in Tri-County League competition, earning the Captains their second league crown in succession.

In other games, Lapeer set a school-scoring mark with a 91-48 win over Romeo, and Oxford ventured outside the loop for a 75-72 decision over North Branch.

NO PRESSURE

The Captains, unruffled by the pressure that usually accompanies an undefeated team, sailed into a 17-7 first quarter lead and held a 34-19 lead at halftime.

And keeping the Captains' liner afloat was Earl Hook, who tossed in 23 points to lead the attack. Jim Nyberg came up with 14, followed by Bob Bogert (12) and Rick Pankey (10).

Mike Wawryzniak led the losers with 10 points.

Four players hit double figures in Oxford's tight win over North Branch.

★ ★ ★

Roger Miller led the way with 14, followed by Dave Houck (13), Elroy Converse (12), Dan VanVleet (10) and Jim Bates (10).

Oxford, now 4-11, rolled to a 41-36 lead at intermission and put the game on ice in the final minute of play.

Glen Jamison grabbed game scoring honors for the losers with 28.

Eleven players got into the scoring act as Lapeer set a new school scoring record of 91 points. The previous high (89) was set a week ago at the expense of Oxford.

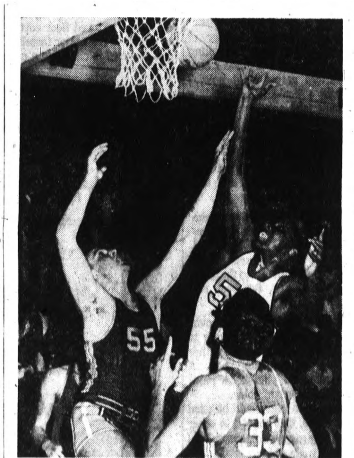

Dick Fellers led the Panthers with 18 markers, and Bob Rowley led Romeo with 12. The winners held a 44-28 advantage at halftime.

Clarkston, Hills Share Crown

Easy Loop Triumphs for Wolves, Barons

Bloomfield Hills and Clarkston divided the Wayne - Oakland League spoils Friday evening, putting the finish on the 1963-64 cage wars with impressive victories.

The Barons romped to a 65-44 decision over Clarenceville, and the Wolves held a feast at Northville, 56-39.

The wins gave both quintets 12-2 loop records, and for the Barons, it was their second share of the conference title in succession.

In other loop games, West Bloomfield rapped Brighton, 60-46, to gain a tie for third in the league race with Holly, a 63-51 winner over Milford.

The Barons, closing the campaign with a 14-2 mark, gained a 33-23 lead at intermission and wrapped up the game with 18 markers in the third quarter.

PACES ATTACK

Dan Mautte paced the attack with 17 markers. Wally Wengren tossed in 16 and Greg Anderson added 14. Dave Graves garnered 21 to take scoring honors for the Trojans, who finished the season with an 8-8 record.

Clarkston's fast - breaking squad raced to a 29-16 lead at intermission and outscored the losers 27-23 in the final half. The win raised the Wolves' season mark to 14-2.

Mike Bray turned in a sharp performance on the backboards and tossed in 16 points. Dan Craven also added 16 and Ken Miskin pumped in 15.

West Bloomfield (8-8), down 28-25 at halftime, poured in 35 points in the closing half to hand Brighton its 15th loss of the season.

Dan Greig led the winners with 19 markers, followed Rick Hacht (12) and Steve Melzian (12).

Holly trailed Milford through most of three periods but tossed in 22 markers in the final quarter to wrap up the game.

Waterford OLL Five Loses

St. Mike Quintet Victorious

Pontiac St. Michael pushed its record to 12-5 last night but Waterford Our Lady of Lakes added another defeat to its unbalanced season record (1-16).

The Mikemen took a 45-41 contest from Center Line St. Clement; while Country Day slipped by Waterford OLL, 48-46. It was the third win in 12 tries for Country Day, two over WOLL.

A big second quarter put the Shamrocks into a 27-16 halftime lead. The losers crept within four points late in the game, but never drew any closer than the final margin.

Mike DeConick's 15 points led the St. Mike offense, while center Mike Pope only had 13.

Waterford had a five-point lead in the third quarter against Country Day, but the Lakers lost their top scorer (Bill Brandt) and top rebounder (Wes Borys), plus Dave Troy, on fouls in the final period and fell behind.

Steve Sonda put in two free throws in the closing minutes to ice the decision for Country Day. Sonda led his team with 20 points. He had four of his five field goals in the second period.

Brandt took game honors with 21 points, including nine field goals. WOLL was called for 28 personals and the winners drew 21.

Hayes Jones Seeks Baltimore Record

BALTIMORE (AP) — With a field headed by high jumper John Thomas and hurdler Hayes Jones, at least six meet records will be in jeopardy tonight at the Sunpapers' 18th annual All-Eastern Indoor Games.

Thomas is rated a cinch to break the All-Eastern record of 6-9, even though his chief competitor, Gene Johnson, withdrew from the meet on the advice of his coach. Ted Palacios of Guatemala, who won with a 6-7 jump last year, will be back to defend his title.

Thomas, building up for another shot at Russia's Valery Brumel in the 1964 Olympic Games at Tokyo in October, already has won nine of 10 meets this season while failing to top 7 feet only twice.

Jones will be after his 54th consecutive indoor victory while trying to better the meet record of 7.4 seconds for the 60 - yard hurdles.

Rubin Carter Wins

NEW YORK (AP) — Rubin (Hurricane) Carter, a one-time wild man, turned crafty Friday night and carefully, methodically carved out a dull 10-round decision over James Ellis in a nationally televised middleweight bout in Madison Square Garden.

Henry had eight rebounds for the winners, all of them on the offensive backboard. He led all playmakers with six assists. His 14 points tied William Morgan for PCH scoring honors.

Al Keel had 13 in the contest and grabbed off the final defensive rebound following a last ditch shot by the visitors' Art Gelow in an effort to tie the contest again.

Gelow led all scorers with 24 points and 29 attempts. Morgan fired 22 times for PCH. The best shooting was done by Craig Schultz of the Lumberjacks with five of eight from the floor. He also had 12 rebounds, five of them on offense.

The Central reserves closed with a 73-59 victory over Arthur Hill's junior varsity, for their 13th straight win.

They lost a two-point decision at Flint Central, the only blemish on a 14-1 record which is the best in quite a few seasons for PCH's understudies.

PAY PLAYS

By VIC BUBAS
Coach, Duke University

In this very effective play, G-1 passes to F-1 and G-2 cuts for the basket for a quick pass back for layup.

BUBAS

G-2 cuts off C, attempting to screen off the defender of G-2.

F-1 may pass to G-2 if he is open, or may elect to pass to C, who has rolled down the lane after a switch on defense.

Should nothing develop on one side of the floor, F-1 can dribble to the spot vacated by G-1, pass to F-2 (who has taken G-2's spot), and G-2 can pass to G-1 in the right corner. Then the play starts all over again.

Seaholm, Ferndale End in EML Cage Stalemate

Maples Whip East Detroit Easily, 61-45

Co-Champs Gain Win Against Port Huron for 10-3 Mark

If anyone wanted to stretch the imagination, Birmingham Seaholm would be declared the winner of the Eastern Michigan League after the Maples defeated East Detroit, 61-45 last night.

Ferndale, however, won over Port Huron 83-62 and finished with an identical 10-3 record for a co-championship, however the Maples can point to the fact that they handed the Dales two of those three losses.

Royal Oak Kimball won its finale by edging Roseville, 56-53 and Mt. Clemens nipped Hazel Park, 57-56.

There is a possibility that Seaholm and Ferndale could meet in the tournament, if each should win its district title. They would then enter the regionals at Ferndale.

Seaholm started fast, taking a 17-6 first quarter lead and 23-17 at halftime. The Maples then pulled away at the start of the second half.

Jeff Meyers had 18 and Harold Wilber 14 for Seaholm.

Ferndale was never in trouble after leading 47-21 at halftime. The 83 points was a new school record, bettering the 82 of last year against East Detroit.

TOP SCORERS

Bruce Rodwan's 25 and Lee Palmer with 18, George Morey, 17, were tops for the winners, while Jim Cates and Doug Meyer each had 15 for Port Huron.

Kimball never lost its lead but Roseville stayed in close up to the two-minute mark, trailing 48-47.

The losers had one more field goal but couldn't take the lead at any point.

Mt. Clemens received 18 from Bill Ford, 17 from John Laurie and 13 from Al Hairston, but it took a jump shot in the last five seconds by Hairston to pull it out.

John Canine scored 19, Bob Clark 16 and John Michalski 13 for Hazel Park.

SECOND CHANCE—Gerald Henry (40) of PCH goes high on field goal attempt last night against Saginaw Arthur Hill, but the ball rolled off the rim. Les Hanspard (50) was there to tip ball, however, and Henry had another chance which he put in the basket. Craig Schultz (33) is the Lumberjack blocked out by Hanspard. Central won, 58-56.

Utica Is Setback in Cage Finale

A hot-shooting Warren quintet handed Utica a 99-70 setback in the season finale last night.

Warren, led by Frank Goodish (33) and Larry Salti (31), opened up a 49-28 lead at halftime and were never threatened.

Pacing the Utica attack were Dan Drca (31) and Ken Lane (12).

The loss left the Chieftains with a season mark of 2-13.

Bengals to Unveil 'Real' Hurler Faul

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) —It will be the real Bill Faul and not a pitcher under hypnotic trance that Detroit Tigers fans will see on the mound this year.

Faul, who gained considerable mention last season when it was revealed that he had seen a hypnotist before he was scheduled to pitch, has decided to make it on his own.

★ ★ ★

The 23-year-old Faul, a great believer in using weights and exercises to strengthen his arm, explained he was giving up on hypnotism "because I was afraid of what it might do to me.

"I didn't want to get to a point where I would be unable to do anything without it. I didn't want it as a crutch."

3-HITTER

Faul had a 5-6 record with the Tigers last year. Three of the victories were against the Boston Red Sox, one of them a three-hitter.

"I have been working on certain muscles in my throwing arm through a new set of exercises," Faul continued. "I hope I'll get a little more work because of it."

★ ★ ★

Faul was 6-1 with Dunedin in the Florida Winter Instructional League and termed the season very beneficial.

"I had a feeling some of the teams were picking up my pitches last year (which resulted in fewer starting assignments), so I worked at hiding the ball better," he said. "It also helped in another way because I was able to develop two more pitches."

TIGERS LOSE

While Faul and a few other players were drilling at Tigertown Friday, the rest of the squad was in St. Petersburg, where Detroit was defeated by the New York Mets' early camp 6-0. The Tigers collected only three hits.

★ ★ ★

Detroit catcher Bill Freehan and Mets' infielder Sammy Drake both suffered bruises in the game and were taken to a hospital for x-rays. Neither player received a serious injury.

Remaining Detroit pitchers and catchers on the major league roster were to assemble at Henley Field today for the start of regular spring training. The rest of the squad will report Wednesday.

Still unsigned are pitchers Hank Aguirre and Terry Fox.

N. Farmington Shares Crown

North Farmington upset Detroit Thurston Friday evening and the win gave the Raiders a tie with the Eagles for the Northwest championship.

★ ★ ★

The Raiders led most of the way in recording the 68-59 decision. The victory gave the squad a 9-7 season mark.

Mike Fleming led a well-balanced Raider attack with 16 points. John McDonald, Jim Uhl and Ray Dhue tossed in 14 each.

Paul Lawson canned 21 for the losers. Both teams finished the loop race with 7-1 marks.

In a second game, Livonia Franklin (2-14) handed Oak Park a 45-37 lashing.

★ ★ ★

Larry Duffield collected 14 points for the winners and Ralph Mayers picked up 12 for the losers.

Japan Fund Started

City Jaycees Boost Jones

One more goal, set many years ago when he was just starting on his track career at Pontiac Central, may be attained by Hayes Jones as his last big track endeavor in 1964.

Jones wanted to get to the Olympics. That he did in 1960. But, he also wanted to win a gold medal in the World Games. This he hopes to do in the 1964 games in Tokyo this fall.

In the 1960 Olympics in Rome, witnessed by his parents through the courtesy of a Pontiac Jones to Rome fund, Jones took third place in the hurdles and won a bronze medal.

He recently won his 54th straight indoor hurdles event and announced he was abstaining from any track events until the Olympic trials.

BE HIS LAST

At the age of 26, the Olympics will most likely be his last competitive event, and his many friends in Pontiac have decided to help him toward winning that gold medal.

Under the sponsorship of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, a "Jones to Japan Fund" has been initiated in the form of a "ghost banquet."

The "ghost banquet" tickets have been printed and the donation toward the "Jones to Japan" fund will "hereby appoint Jones' wife, Odeene, . . . to be mater of cheer and inspiration and to act in his behalf at the Olympic games."

What the "ghost banquet" means is that each donor sets his own home, his own menu, his own family and his own time for honoring Pontiac's most renown sports figure prior to his Olympic trip this year to Japan.

Jones as currently employed by the city of Detroit but he has indicated he is interested in returning as resident to Pontiac upon finding suitable employment.

O-A League Is Co-Shared

Orion Routs Madison; Avon Falters

By HERB PETERS

A tie for the Oakland A Conference basketball championship materialized as expected last night as Troy and Fitzgerald breezed to final victories and finished with 13-1 records.

Neither team was extended in completing sweeps of their league slates except for the single loss to each other.

Troy opened up a big lead over Rochester and then coasted to a 59-50 triumph. Fitzgerald had it even easier in applying a 62-38 crusher on Warren Cousino.

In other closing tilts, Lake Orion blasted Madison, 71-47, and Clawson was forced to come from behind in the fourth period to beat Avondale, 69-61.

★ ★ ★

The Colts corralled Rochester (2-12) with their big men, Ted Bauer and Chris Beacham, dominating both backboards, and their diminutive guards, Gay Goodwin and Bud Hether, carrying out harassing defensive tactics.

VARIETY

Bauer, exhibiting a variety of shots inside and out, popped in 27 points, including 17 in the first half when Troy romped into a 32-20 lead. Beacham collected 13, all but two coming in the second half.

Goodwin and Hether kept close guard on the Falcon shooters as the score mounted to 49-29 over three periods. Coach Peyton Goodwin switched to the seniors on his bench for the final three minutes when the count stood at 57-37, and Rochester closed the gap with a 13-2 scoring margin.

Fitzgerald used a press from the start and with Tom Dobberstein hitting 10 points rushed into a 20-8 first period lead. It was 38-18 for the Spartans at the half and 52-24 after three quarters.

Dobberstein led four in double figures with 18, Cliff Rolph posted 15, Randy Chaffin 12, and Randy Mix 10. Drew Pisha had 13 for Cousino (7-7).

★ ★ ★

Avondale rallied from a 27-23 first half deficit to take a 45-43 lead into the final period after going ahead by nine at one time in the third.

But Clawson (5-9) doomed the Yellow Jackets (2-12) with a 26-point outburst in the finale as Ray Hayes rammed in 13 points, including a couple of killing tip-ins.

Hayes, who was held to six points until the fourth, was high scorer with his 19. Lynn Thorpe collected 18 and Roger Ratliff 16 for Avondale.

★ ★ ★

Lake Orion (9-5) was never threatened by Madison (5-9) after a 16-15 first quarter. Jon Cucksey, enjoying his best game in recent weeks, led the Dragons into a 40-26 halftime advantage.

Starting the fourth at 54-37, the Dragons moved to 71-40 two minutes remaining. Cucksey wound up with 21 points. Bruce Fritz had 18.

Area Matmen Vying for Regional Honors

Three Oakland County Wrestling squads held an edge in the battle for team and individual honors as the regional mat tournament moved into the semi-final round today at Pontiac Northern.

The PNH crew breezed through the opening matches yesterday and finished with seven matmen undefeated.

Pontiac Central and Berkley sent six wrestlers into the semifinals. Southfield and Waterford Township had three each, Kettering one and Lake Orion one.

Semifinals opened at 9:30 a.m. today. Consolation matches were scheduled for the afternoon with finals set for 7 p.m.

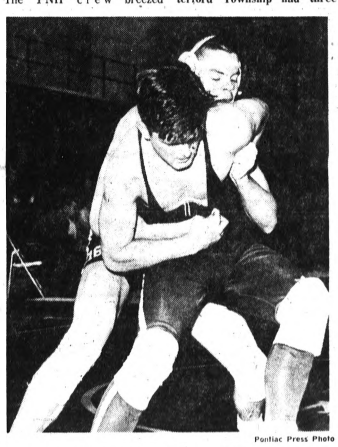

PNH WINS

Coming through with victories in the opening bouts for Pontiac Northern were Dave Oswalt (103), Dave Beebe (112), Jim Stephens (120), Pat McIlroy (127), Jim Kimmel (133), Don Weyer (145) and Al Rayner (165).

Leading the PCH squad were Clarence Thompson (95), Bill Roach (112), Willie Nelson (127), John Cato (133), Harold Whiting (138) and Paul Thompson, heavyweight.

Ron Carpenter (127), Mike Alsup (145) and Dale Jones (180) carried Waterford's colors into the semifinals.

Joe Allen (95) was Kettering's lone survivor in the opening round. Bill Schultz (180) was the only winner for Lake Orion.

Gus Lesnevich Dies

CLIFFSIDE PARK, N.J. (AP)—Gus Lesnevich, former world light-heavyweight boxing champion, collapsed and died of a heart attack in his doctor's office Friday night.

Lesnevich, 49, had complained of chest and stomach pains and was driven to the office of Dr. John Williams here.

He collapsed and died shortly after reaching the office, police said.

Lesnevich, a native of this town across the Hudson River from New York City, was world light-heavy champ from 1941 to 1948 and held the American title until 1949.

Dog Champ Is Pointer

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. (AP)—Smokepole, a Springfield, Ill., pointer, emerged Friday as the dog to beat in the finals of the National Shooting Dog Championships.

Running an outstanding race, the pointer discovered 10 coveys, two of them divided, and raised two singles.

The pointer, owned and handled by Herb Holmes of Springfield, was steady at the shot and finished strong.

Wahoo Chief turned in the second best performance of the day with eight covey finds and two backs of his bracemate, one on command.

He is owned and handled by Perry Gray of Hillsdale, Mich.

Want World Link From Tokyo

Hope for Satellite TV of Olympics

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Space Agency said Friday it could conceivably provide television coverage by satellite for the Olympic Games in Japan next fall if someone is willing to pay the cost.

But officials expressed doubt it would be feasible.

Scientists of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration have been considering transferring Syncom II from its perch 22,300 miles above the Atlantic to a strategic communications station out over the Pacific.

But NASA made it clear that it considers Olympics televising by satellite in the nature of something that private capital—the Communications Satellite Corp., for instance—might undertake. NASA has no plans to use its own time and money on such a venture.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Joseph Karth, D-Minn., said at a hearing on NASA appropriations that a space-borne TV link between Japan and the rest of the world at the time of the Olympic Games might more than pay off its cost in heightened U.S. prestige. He asked whether NASA would be willing to launch its one remaining satellite for this purpose.

Edgar Cortwright, NASA deputy administrator for space science and applications, said the agency does have one unused $5 million relay spacecraft on hand, which could be launched with $3 million delta rocket. He said that lacking a technological requirement for such a launch, NASA is not disposed to conduct it.

★ ★ ★

Cortwright noted that a live televising of a 1 p.m. Tokyo time Olympic event in Tokyo would be shown on the U. S. West Coast at midnight and on the Atlantic Coast at 3 a.m.

South Lyon Collects Double Overtime Win

South Lyon ran its record to 9-7 with a double overtime victory over Dearborn Lowrey last night. The final score was 61-60.

Pat Bane (22) and Tom Duncan (18) led the winners. Gerald Wood tossed in 24 for Dearborn.

Rockets, 13-1

New Haven Gains Title

New Haven launched its title Rocket in the Southern Thumb League last night with a 62-58 triumph over Brown City.

The victory closed a 13-1 league record for the Rockets, enabling them to nose out 1962-63 champion Capac by one game.

★ ★ ★

In other Thumb tilts, Capac whipped Anchor Bay, 48-42, Memphis turned back Almont, 52-46, and Dryden rapped Armada, 65-54.

Dwight Lee ignited the Rocket attack with 31 points. The candidate for All-State honors finished the season with an average of 25.3 through 16 games.

Bob Lints led Brown City with 18 markers.

Capac (13-3) fell behind at halftime, 22-20, but came up with 28 points in the final half to sew up the win.

★ ★ ★

John Scheuer led the Chiefs with 22 markers and Ken Adamski added 13. Cecil Haggard picked up 20 for Anchor Bay.

YOUNG LINEUP

Dryden's young lineup, three sophomores and two juniors, gained a tie for sixth place in the loop with the win over Armada.

Dryden's five starters hit double figures. Tom Sterner led the way with 16, followed by Ken Kitchenmaster (15), Ron Faulds (13), George Couzens (11) and Dennis Hillaker (10).

Armada's Rod Craven claimed scoring honors with 29 points.

★ ★ ★

Memphis captured the third position in the race in trimming Almont.

Bob Moore (15) and Don Burns (13) paced the Memphis attack. Bill Wallace and Dave Yennior canned six each for the losers.

'Operation Waterproof' Up to Parents

How many parents in the Pontiac school system would like to have their 4th graders learn how to swim?

★ ★ ★

The Department of Physical Education, Athletics and Recreation is promoting "Operation Waterproof — 4th Grade," and the decision as to whether the program should be initiated in the Pontiac school system will be up to the parents.

A questionnaire and survey sheet is being forwarded to all parents of 4th graders in the public and parochial schools of the city.

The parents will be asked to note their willingness to have their child receive beginner swimming lessons at Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern High school pools for 10 Saturday mornings beginning in March.

Because there is no budgetary allocations for the program, the 10 Saturday classes will cost $8.00 per child. The fee covers pool rental and instructional and supervisory salaries.

WANT RESPONSE

It is hoped that a good response from the parents will eventually lead to "waterproofing" the entire elementary system in Pontiac .

The physical education department is basing its teaching method for the program on the National Safety Council and Wafer Safety program of the American Red Cross.

★ ★ ★

It is generally accepted that children in the 4th grade have or are approaching the level of readiness necessary for their learning experience in swimming.

★ ★ ★

Statistics show that each year about 6,500 American drown and this is the 4th leading type of accident fatality.

★ ★ ★

The assistant national director of the Red Cross safety program, Richard L. Brown, pointed out that a survey of 70 drowning victims showed that 23 were under six years of age; 58 were swimming alone; 53 of the 77 had no training in water safety.

★ ★ ★

Brown noted that these findings strengthen the conviction that everyone should learn to swim and everyone should be taught to respect his limitations in the water.

Dr. Lee W. Haslinger, Director of Physical Education in Pontiac, will direct "Operation Waterproof—4th Grade." Red Cross instructors and physical education coaches will handle the instructional classes.

The program is expected to start in approximately two weeks — that is if parents denote on the survey sheets that they favor waterproofing their 4th graders and are willing to cooperate in the program.

Ironic Endings Hit Davidson, Tulane Fives

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Wildcats Fall in Big Upset

Green Wave Finishes by Snapping Drouth

By The Associated Press

Like snatching panties from girls' dormitories and stuffing 38 guys into a telephone booth, losing basketball games had become the fad at Tulane this season.

★ ★ ★

In contrast, winning had been a way of life at Davidson.

Both routines were shattered Friday night. Tulane spoiled its chance to establish an all-time major college mark for losing by whipping Louisiana State 80-68. Eighth-ranked Davidson had its NCAA tournament expectations ruined, losing in a major upset 82-81 to unheralded Virginia Military.

★ ★ ★

Tulane had been a bigger loser than Sonny Liston. The Green Wave had compiled a record unmatched in major college history—22 defeats without a victory in one year.

Then, to the accompaniment of drums, cymbals and the screams of the biggest home crowd of the season, Tulane swept by LSU, just as it had done in the 1963 finale.

LOYAL REWARD

Following the final buzzer, a number of the 2,500 loyal supporters on hand hoisted Green Wave players to their shoulders and carried them off the floor.

The story was completely different and utterly disheartening for Davidson, winner of the Southern Conference regular season play. The Wildcats had been favored to win the league tournament and advance to the NCAA.

Handed its fourth defeat in 26 games, though, Davidson faces nothing more than a consolation contest tonight against West Virginia, an 88-80 upset victim of George Washington.

Virginia Military, a two-time loser to Davidson already this season, was forced to come from behind after leading by 11 points in the opening minute of the second half.

★ ★ ★

Besides Davidson, seventh-ranked Oregon State was the only member of the Top Ten in action. The Beavers, entered in the NCAA, edged Oregon 71-68.

Texas A&M clinched at least a tie for the Southwest Conference title, beating Southern Methodist 75-70.

U.S.-Soviet Trackmen to Share Dorm

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Russian and United States track and field athletes will share the same dormitory, eat the same food from the training table and presumably work out together during the sixth annual meet here July 25-26.

The Russians want it that way, meet director Glenn Davis said today. He pointed out that such fraternization has been taboo with the Russians in the past.

The men's and women's teams will occupy the top four floors in the new eight-story Cecele and Michael Birnkrant Women's Residence Hall on the University of Southern California campus.

The dormitory is a short distance from Memorial Coliseum, site of the meet.

Finley Signs Agreement With Kansas City Council

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A smiling Charles O. Finley signed a four-year contract with Kansas City Friday for the use of Municipal Stadium by his Athletics.

No details were released pending ratification by City Council, but Councilman John Maguire, chairman of the city's baseball committee, said the lease contained a non-cancelable clause.

A little more than two hours later City Council unanimously adopted an ordinance approving the lease and Mayor Ilus Davis signed the document, which is described in one portion "as firm, binding and non-cancelable."

Prior to the council meeting the mayor issued a statement in which he said:

"With the firm and binding commitment from Mr. Finley, we can now assure the baseball fans of this entire trade territory that we have tenure by contract terms for our baseball team and it will remain in Kansas City.

"On behalf of the entire City Council, I urge all of you to put out of your minds the disputes and difficulties we have had and to get behind this ball team . . . We concur wholeheartedly with Mr. Finley that now is the time to 'play ball.' "

★ ★ ★

Finley's action climaxed more than two months of heated controversy during which he attempted to move the Athletics to Louisville and Oakland, Calif. held out for a two-year lease, and was threatened by other American League owners with termination of his franchise.

OPTIMISM

The A's owner read a prepared statement to a news conference after he signed the lease. It hit a note of high optimism.

"In spite of huge losses which I have suffered in Kansas City the past three years, I approach the new season with complete enthusiasm," he said. "I believe we have a good team capable of great things. With a break or two, we should definitely finish in the first division . . ."

Finley declined to discuss the lease controversy.

"Let's let everything be water over the dam," he said. "Let's go forward.'

Finley opened the conference with a declaration that it was for representatives of news media only and asked hotel employes to "act as guards at the door and keep out anyone else, including representatives of the city."

The wording of the lease concerning the tenure of the club said the "lessee agrees that this is a firm, binding and noncancelable four-year lease for the playing of all home games of the Athletics at the stadium during the terms of this lease, or any renewal thereof."

The lease provides Finley can not authorize television coverage of more than five home games of his choosing each season without the express written consent of the mayor or the city manager.

★ ★ ★

It also provides that, in the event Finley is offered an opportunity to participate in pay television, he must negotiate with the city regarding the respective shares of any such income.

Monday Games

Playoffs for Rec Loop

The city recreation basketball leagues will begin their postseason playoffs Monday night with four games at Pontiac Central and Lincoln Junior highs.

In the Class A action at PCH, Southwest Community Club will meet Cow's Fuel & Oil at 8:30 p.m., following the Class B 7 p.m. opener between the Bachelor's Club and White Lake Pharmacy.

In Class D play at Lincoln JHS, Minute Lunch will meet New Hope Baptist at 7 o'clock and Neopolitan Club will play Victor Paint at 8:30 p.m.

The Class C playoffs will start Tuesday night at 7 p.m. on the Lincoln floor with Wilson's meeting Town & Country. Messiah Baptist has an 8:30 p.m. clash with Beckers.

All tournaments are double elimination.

Appeal for New Trial

ATLANTA (AP)—Counsel for the Curtis Publishing Co. filed a motion Friday for a new trial in the libel judgment of $3.06 million granted by a jury to Wallace Butts, former athletic director and football coach at Georgia.

Mid-Point Tie in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Lionel Hebert and Mason Rudolph took the first-round lead in the $50,000 Greater New Orleans Open with four-under-par 68s Friday as Arnold Palmer continued to grope for the magic that has made him golf's greatest money-maker.

★ ★ ★

"I simply don't have the feel," Palmer complained after posting a 76 over the rain-drenched 7,020-yard Lakewood Country Club course. "I just can't get hopping."

★ ★ ★

As Palmer struggled the man who is challenging him for the top position in professional golf, Jack Nicklaus registered a 70 to tie Dave Marr for second.

★ ★ ★

Gary Player of South Africa, one of the "Big Three," shot a 75. U.S. Open champion Julius Boros came in with a 76, the victim of an unwieldly putter which forced him to three-putt the last two holes.

Some people think it never needs service.

It's easy to get that impression.
How many other makes have been driven 40,000 miles with the original pistons and cylinders intact? How many ordinarily get 40,000 miles on the same tires?
That doesn't mean the Volkswagen never needs service. It does.
To get the most out of it, have your VW serviced regularly. We call it preventive maintenance. We'll give you a book on preventive maintenance for the first 30,000 miles you drive. And every 30,000 miles after that.
In the book for new VWs, for instance, coupons start you off with two free maintenance services. One at 300 miles. One at 3,000 miles. After that, the coupons remind you to bring your VW in for specified services at regular intervals. It's the best way to keep your VW in top shape.
Service is so important that Volkswagen won't sell cars where they can't be properly handled. By factory-trained mechanics, like ours.
Parts are economical and quickly installed.
There isn't a Volkswagen made that you can't get parts for easily. Most are interchangeable from year to year. (You can have a 1963 fender put on your '58 model with 10 bolts. It fits perfectly.)
We pride ourselves on this fact. Our service is as good as the car. Ask anybody.

Markets, Business and Finance

Steer Prices Higher After Friday Run

CHICAGO (AP) — After Friday's unusually large run of cattle, the market for slaughter steers finished the week mostly 50 cents to $1 a hundredweight higher. Prices had been firmer earlier in the week.

It was the first weekly advance in more than a month. The general advance for car-lot dressed beef at wholesale outlets also was the first in seven weeks.

Demand for slaughter steers was fairly active throughout the week with buyers showing a little less selectivity of weights. Offerings over 1,350 lbs. scored the broadest gains.

Butcher hog prices were slightly firmer through mid-week but closed about steady.

In the sheep market, wooled slaughter lambs advanced as much as $1.25.

Navy Awards Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy awarded a $662,811,064 contract Friday to McDonnell Aircraft Corp., St. Louis, Mo., for production of more than 600 Phantom jet aircraft for the Air Force and the Navy.

Bonds Mixed During Month

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices were mixed in February compared with a steady to higher performance in January.

★ ★ ★

Corporates ended the month with scattered small gains, based on the Associated Press average of 60 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange. In January they registered their best advance in a year. However, this was the first time there has been consecutive monthly gains since November and December 1962.

GOVERNMENT BONDS

U.S. government issues, mixed last month, fell back all along the line. The maximum decline was about 12-32nds—just a point less than the biggest losses in January. Most of the February setbacks were in the more moderate 1-8th point range.

★ ★ ★

Corporate and treasury prices rose early in the month. They held even through mid-month and in the final sessions governments trailed off while corporates marked time or settled back slightly.

Warmed by Tax Cut Week's Stocks Make History

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made history this week as the Dow Jones averages reached new milestones.

The closely - watched Dow Jones Industrial Average closed above 800 for the first time in history.

The rise of the industrials was "confirmed" by the rail component of the Dow which finally surpassed the 1929 peak.

Warmed by enactment of the long-anticipated $11.5 billion tax cut, the stock market carried through its fourth straight weekly rise.

It finished the month of February with a substantial gain instead of a loss as many had expected.

On the final trading day, when the Dow industrials completed a week's rise of 3.15 to close at 800.14, many low - priced issues were heavily traded. Several of these stocks were rails.

Analysts differed as to what this might mean. Some said it was a dangerous evidence of "frothy" action, frequently a warning signal of an imminent market decline. Others hailed it as a sign of greater-anticipation by the small investor, the "public."

For February the Dow industrials gained 18.84, a substantial rise.

Th. Associated Press average of 60 stocks this week rose 2.4 to a record 298.0. For February, the AP average rose 7.4.

Grain Futures Market Mixed

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market closed the week with a mixture of moderate gains and broad losses on the Board of Trade with old crop wheat contracts swinging over their widest range in several months.

★ ★ ★

Net declines reached more than seven cents a bushel for the March delivery and more than six cents for the May. Rye, which followed the trend of wheat, was down more than six cents at the extreme. Oats also closed weak but corn and soybeans mustered a little firmness.

The major factor in the market was the tieup of wheat shipments for Russia at U. S. ports by longshoremen who objected to foreign flag vessels taking more than half the tonnage.

Late trading was related largely to notices of intention to deliver on March contracts in the pits. Friday was the first day for posting of such notices. The major surprise, perhaps, was the absence of any tenders of wheat and the small amount of soybeans offered.

In view of the sharp setbacks in those commodities the past few weeks, dealers had supposed the tender would be liberal.

★ ★ ★

At the end of the week, wheat was 7¾ cents a bushel lower on old crop months to ⅝ higher on the new, March $2.11½-12; Soybeans ⅛-1¼ higher, March $2.64⅜-¼; corn ¼ lower to 1¾ higher, March $1.18¼-⅜; oats unchanged to 2⅛ lower, March 63-64 cents; rye 2 to 6½ lower, March $1.33¾.

Upjohn Asks FDA to Clear New Pill

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Dravo Corp. of Pittsburgh submitted an apparent low bid of $928,944 Friday for lengthening a pier at the Soo locks.

★ ★ ★

C. A. Aune, of the Army Corps of Engineers, said the pier, located between the second and third locks, would be lengthened about 1,200 feet to accommodate new, longer lake freighters.

Work will begin about mid-April, Aune said.

★ ★ ★

NEWARK (AP) — Upjohn Co., a major drug producer of Kalamazoo, Mich., says it has applied to the Food and Drug Administration for clearance for an oral contraceptive pill. Company spokesman said the application had been sent to the FDA several months ago. The spokesman said he didn't know when Upjohn could market the pill.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — General Motors Corp. could have created 25,000 new jobs in 1963 if its operations had been limited to a 40-hour week, Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer, said Friday.

★ ★ ★

He spoke to the 12th annual union - management conference at the University of Notre Dame.

★ ★ ★

Mazey said the union's international convention in Atlantic City next month will consider the overtime problem along with proposals for earlier retirement and larger pensions.

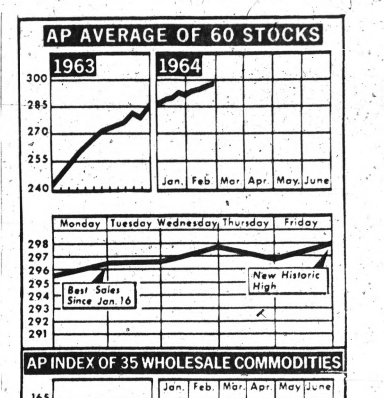

CLEVELAND (AP) — More pipelines in the Great Lakes area have cut down on petroleum products shipment by tankers, the Lake Carriers' Association said Friday.

★ ★ ★

The 12,416,588 net tons transported by 80 U.S. and Canadian vessel units in 1963 was more than 10 per cent under the tonnage in 1962 when seven more units were operating, the association reported. The volume last year was the lowest since 1948 when shipments totaled 10,955,745 tons, said the association secretary, Oliver T. Burnham.

★ ★ ★

The association also announced that its ice committee will hold its first meeting next Thursday to hear reports on ice conditions and make preliminary plans for opening of the iron ore season.

Princess to Wed Commoner

Betrothal Stuns Swedes

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) —All Sweden was talking today about the surprise leap year announcement of Princess Margaretha's engagement to British commoner John Kennedy Ambler.

The secret romance between the 29-year-old blue-eyed blonde and the dashing 39-year-old businessman even hit Ambler's personal secretary in London like a "bolt out of the blue."

Ambler, head of a London-based transport and freight company and wartime bodyguard of Sir Winston Churchill, was in Stockholm for the official court announcement last night.

★ ★ ★

TOOK LONGER

It was not "love at first sight" the couple maintained.

The romance blossomed, but was kept a closely guarded secret, the couple meeting when Ambler visited Stockholm, or Margaretha visited London.

"I think we managed to avoid discovery with a little bit of luck and a little bit of judgment," Ambler told newsmen and photographers.

★ ★ ★

The princess indicated she will live in London after the marriage.

MALE SUCCESSORS

Under the Swedish constitution, only males can succeed to the throne.

★ ★ ★

The princess will become a commoner after her marriage here to Ambler—at a date yet unset, but she will retain her Swedish title and will be known as "Princess Margaretha, Mrs. Ambler."

MINIATURE

MODEL OF NEW

HEARING AID GIVEN

A unique free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has just been announced by Qualitone Co.

A true life, actual size, inactive replica of the smallest Qualitone ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone sending in this advertisement. Try it on in the privacy of your home, without cost or obligation of any kind. It's yours to keep free.

The size of this Qualitone is only one of its many features. It weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head. Here is truly new hope for the hard of hearing.

These replicas are free while the limited supply lasts, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost and certainly no obligation.

Reflections

MIRACLES

"It's a miracle" is a glibly spoken exclamation about anything that isn't understood. Mayan priests let their people believe the comet they knew would appear was a miracle; a birth of a baby was a miracle; step on a blade of grass and it recreates itself or break a leaf-bud and that tree will rebuild that bud; neither is a miracle. Man, or woman, goes into a hospital with a diseased organ, it is removed and a new organ is grafted into its place; the patient lives a long useful life; that's medical know-how not a miracle.

The Luristanian people would have laughed if someone had told them we poke a finger in a hole, dial a number and talk to someone a thousand miles away. To them that would be a miracle, to us it is a commonplace occurance. I marvel at a baby's smile; it cannot walk, talk, nor do more than cry yet it communicates with a smile.

The Miracle of the earth isn't physical but a baby's smile.

GOP Aide to Tell Plans in Oakland?

Reports yesterday that Michigan's Mrs. Elly Peterson, Republican national vice chairman, may run for the U.S. Senate this year had the GOP faithful in Oakland Couty wondering if she may announce her candidacy while in Bloomfield Hills or Royal Oak.

Mrs. Peterson said the idea of her seeking the GOP nomination to oppose Democratic incumbent U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart was "intriguing" and she would make up her mind on running in two or three weeks.

That will be about the time she is expected to visit Oakland County for two speaking appearances.

Both are scheduled for March 24, one at 10 a.m. at Cranbrook Institute of Science in Bloomfield Hills and the other in the afternoon in Royal Oak.

WOMEN'S CLUB

Her Royal Oak talk, to be sponsored by that city's Republican Women's Club is to be given before a meeting at Royal Oak's First Presbyterian Church.

Both of her speaking appearances will be open to the public, according to plans.

Mrs. Peterson, 49, of Charlotte, who also is vice chairman of the Michigan GOP, said she was urged by several high-level Republicans.

Two men already have announced their candidacy to become the GOP's nominee against Hart. They are Grand Haven businessman Edward A. Meany and State Board of Education member James F. O'Neil, a Ford Motor Co. planning expert.

NOT INTERESTED

Republican Congressman Robert P. Griffin of Traverse City, who had been expected to enter the race, said recently that he would seek another term in his present post instead.

Michigan has never had a woman U.S. senator, although it currently has Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Detroit, in the House of Representatives.

State Names Bridge Chief

Birmingham Man to Lead Area Jobs

State highway bridge construction in the Pontiac district now is being headed by Noel S. Walker of 562 Pleasant, Birmingham.

He succeeded District Bridge Engineer Willard E. Smith, 70, of Dearborn, who retired Thursday.

Walker, 39, served as assistant to Smith for the past five years in this district comprising Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties.

Walker's appointment was announced by State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

Mackie simultaneously announced the appointment of Earl Knott, 36, of Avoca, as Walker's assistant bridge engineer.

Walker was transferred to the Pontiac district from Saginaw in 1959. He had worked as a project engineer in Saginaw, Lansing and Pontiac after joining the department in 1948.

A native of England, Walker was graduated from McGill University in Montreal.

Knott, a native of Iowa, joined the highway department in 1956 after graduation from Michigan State University. He has been assigned to various projects in southeastern Michigan.

Nab 11 Detroiters on Gambling Charge

DETROIT (AP) — Eight men and three women were arrested and charged with conspiring to violate state gambling laws Friday in the smashing of what police called a $7,000-a-week numbers racket.

Five automobiles, $500 and a quantity of mutuel bet slips were seized in the raids on three Detroit residences.

Romney Candidacy in Governor's Race Believed a Certainty

By RICHARD PYLE

LANSING (AP)—Sometime soon—probably within the next 45 days—Gov. Romney will make headlines by formally announcing his intention to seek re-election.

Or so it is popularly believed by virtually everyone on the Capitol scene, including Romney's political friends and enemies, legislators and the press.

It is next to impossible to find anyone who has any doubt whatsoever that Romney will announce for a second term, regardless of what happens later in the year.

★ ★ ★

"Romney announcing his candidacy is merely a formality," said a member of the governor's own staff. "It would only be news if he didn't."

NOBODY KNOWS

"Nobody in the executive office knows for certain if the governor will run," said another. "But there is no evidence to indicate that he won't."

Whether there is "evidence" to indicate that he will run, however, is debatable at this point.

Thomas Hart, a Michian Bell Telephone Co. public relations official who was active in the 1962 campaign and still serves in an advisory capacity, reportedly is to become 1964 campaign manager.

★ ★ ★

But Richard Milliman, press secretary to Romney, says no such decision has been made.

AGREEMENT

So does Republican State Chairman Arthur Elliott Jr., who managed Romney's campaign in 1962.

Both add that they have received no official word from Romney.

Last fall, before Romney asked members of his office staff to avoid indulging in speculation about his political plans or his future, it was Milliman who said he believed Romney "wouldn't run for anything, if not for governor."

★ ★ ★

Another member of the staff had speculated then that Romney couldn't do anything but run because "it is one thing to pass laws to reorganize government, another to do it administratively, and Romney won't quit until it's done."

NOTHING CERTAIN

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, told newsmen a few days ago that Republican legislators have been told nothing certain but "generally assume" Romney will run again — and will announce shortly after he returns from Hawaii.

'Not Running for President'

HONOLULU (AP) — Gov. Romney arrived in Hawaii yesterday for a three-week vacation and said he had not heard about reports that his name would be on the Oregon Republican presidential primary ballot.

"If I'm asked, I'll inform them that I'm not a candidate, do not expect to be a candidate, and thus I shouldn't be included," Romney said.

Six candidates, including Romney, were named by Oregon Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr. as appearing on the Republican primary ballot.

A Romney aide said John Martin of Grand Rapids, Mich., Republican national committeeman, would file an affidavit asking for withdrawal of Romney's name "as soon as we get official notification that his name is on the ballot."

However, Appling, a Republican, said the affidavit disavowing Romney's candidacy must be signed by Romney. He said Martin's signature would not be enough.

ONE, TWO, OR FOUR?—Mr. and Mrs. Survetus Ashby, of 1841 Burress, Brandon Township, expect numbers to be confusing on this day every fourth year. They know they have twins, Larry (left) and Garry. The proud parents also are certain that the two 4-year-olds are celebrating their first birthday today. The question is, how many candles should they put on the cake?

Fire in Troy, N.Y., Kills Nine in Family

TROY, N. Y. (AP) — Nine children, all members of one family, perished early today in a fire that trapped them in their bedrooms on the second floor of their frame home near the business district. The dead were eight children and a granddaughter of Napoleon B. Sousie, 43. Sousie, his wife, Lillian, and six other persons who were sleeping on the first floor of the house escaped.

"There was no way out for the children," said the Fire Chief William J. Smith. "We knocked the walls down as fast as we could, but we couldn't get them in time."

Firemen said the fire apparently was caused by an oil space heater in the hall between the doors to the bedrooms.

Sousie said he had heard children banging on the heater during the evening.

The flames trapped the children in the rooms. Each bedroom had a second door in it, but the fire chief said the doors were nailed shut and beds were pushed against them.

★ ★ ★

Four of the children were found in one room and five in the other.

Smith called the tragedy "the worst family fire in this city in modern times."

OLDEST SON

Among the dead was Sousie's oldest son, Napoleon Jr., 18. The father said he saw the youth enter one of the bedrooms.

"But then I didn't see him any more," Sousie said. "I think he was trying to save the children in the room."

Besides Napoleon Jr., the dead Sousie children were identified as Boyd, 4, Donald, 7, Linda, 9, Edward, 10, Joseph, 11, Stephen, 12, and Gloria, 13. The other victim was grandaughter Judy Stone.

★ ★ ★

Sousie, his wife and six other children were taken to St. Mary's Hospital, but only Robert Sousie, 17, was admitted. He was reported in fair condition. The others were discharged after treamtent for minor burns and shock.

SOUNDED ALARM

Robert Sousie had pounded on a neighbor's door after discovering the fire, and the neighbor, 17-year-old Michael Prusky, turned in the alarm.

The bodies of the dead children were taken to another hospital. A hospital attendant wept as they were carried into the building.

Ground Broken for OU Shell

To House Audience for Music Festival

Ground was broken today for the Howard C. Baldwin Pavilion on the campus of Oakland University.

The $200,000 pavilion and orchestra shell to be used during the Meadow Brook Music Festival this summer will be built in an area just north of Meadow Brook Hall, it will seat 2000.

Semon E. Knudsen, chairman of the festival steering committee, presided at ceremonies in the Oakland Room and turned the first spadeful of dirt on the actual site.

Mrs. Knudsen, members of the executive and building committees, the C. Allan Harlans and Chancellor and Mrs. D. B. Varner were also present.

SON O FTRUSTEE

Speakers included William H. Baldwin, son of the Kresge Foundation trustee, for whom the audience shelter is to be named, Mrs. Stanley Kresge and Rev. Mr. Gerald O'Grady of Christ Church, Cranbrook.

The Meadow Brook Festival which will bring the Detroit Symphony Orchestra to OU's campus for 12 concerts will open July 23 and continue through Aug. 15.

March to Scurry In Gentle as a Lamb

March will scamper in as gentle as a lamb tomorrow. Mild temperatures with partly cloudy skies are forecast.

The lows will range from 26 to 30 tonight, and the highs tomorrow from 38 to 43.

Seventeen was the low temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. today. At 1 p.m. the mercury stood at 40.

Fear Johnson Threatened by Suicide Pilot

Tip Said Attacker to Come From Cuba Precautions Taken

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson revealed today the existence of a new U. S. super secret jet fighter plane "that far exceeds the performance of any other aircraft in use in the world today."

At the same time, Johnson said today that extraordinary measures were taken to protect his life in Florida this week because there were "reasons to take additional precautions."

★ ★ ★

The President, in his first televised news conference, said the new long range interceptor was being revealed at this time so that its flight testing and final phases of development could proceed in orderly fashion.

He said the program was set up in secret in 1959, with Lockheed Aircraft in charge of the program. The engine was built by Pratt and Whitney, he said, while Hughes Aircraft developed the fire control and missile system.

Johnson gave no details of the aircraft's performance, except to say that it flies at speeds in excess of 2,000 miles an hour and performs at altitudes of up to 70,000 feet.

One key to the development of this plane, which flies at three times the speed of sound, is a new process of fabrication with titanium metal which successfully resists the extremely high temperatures resulting from supersonic flight, Johnson said.

SUPERSONIC LINER

The problems solved in developing this jet fighter, he said, will assist in development of the supersonic air liner.

Johnson did not confirm reports that the security measures were taken because of a tip that a Cuban suicide pilot might try to ram the Presidential transport plane, but told his news conference that Secret Service suggestions were followed.

He said he had asked that the situation be handled by the FBI and Secret Service. He reminded questioners that "I don't handle my own security."

Teacher Strike Is Ruled Illegal

State Says Law Bans Walkout in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A strike of Detroit's 300 public schools, called for in a vote by the Detroit Federation of Teachers, would be illegal under Michigan law, the State Attorney General's office said today.

Union members voted 2,109-387 Thursday night for a strike unless they are granted an election among the 10,000 public school teachers to determine a collective bargaining agent.

Rep. Edward M. Hutchinson, D-Mich., who in 1947 as a state senator sponsored the law barring strikes by public employes, said the ban "definitely and specifically" applies to teachers and originally was passed to counter a threatened Detroit teachers strike.

Hutchinson contended that any teacher striking automatically would lose his job and pension and seniority rights.

DFT President Mary Ellen Riordan said the union's executive board will meet Thursday to decide on a strike date and other union actions. She said the union also has called a March 9 meeting of picket captains for each school.

Cong Threats Force Tight U.S. Security

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A heavy guard stood outside the U.S. armed forces commissary and post exchange today following a report Communist terrorists planned to blow up the building.

U.S. military police also fanned out through Saigon checking whether Vietnamese police sentries assigned to protecting Americans were on their posts.

The tightened security measures have been in force since the Viet Cong bombing of a U. S. movie theater Feb. 16, killing three Americans.

Communist propagandists have been distributing leaflets during the past week calling for new violence against the American community in the capital.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge also has received death threats and now is accompanied by a heavy guard, informants said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

American women and children usually cram the commissary's supermarket on Saturday for their weekend shopping. Security officials regarded the building as a prime target for Communist terrorists.

The traffic in front of the building was allowed to move only one way to permit stricter control.

In a heavily wooded area 30 miles north of Saigon, South Vietnamese rangers fought off a Viet Cong attack on a road erew last night. U. S., military sources said 15 guerrillas were killed and about 20 wounded.

The U. S. informants said one ranger was killed and two were wounded. The attackers outnumbered the government force, two to one, they said.

★ ★ ★

An American military spokesman also reported that government forces had launched 71 operations in the past week, but failed to achieve any significant successes. It was one of the busiest weeks of the war.

CONG CASUALTIES

Viet Cong casualties were estimated at 160 for the week, a decline of 110 from the previous week.

Monday's City Commission Primary Biggest in History

Polling places will open at 7 a.m. Monday for the biggest City Commission primary in Pontiac's history.

There are 28 candidates competing for 12 spots on the April 20 ballot in six of the city's seven districts.

However, no voter will be asked to choose from more than six commission hopefuls, since no more than six are running in any one district and Monday's primary is strictly a district vote.

★ ★ ★

Voters cast their ballot for only one candidate. The top two vote-getters are placed on the April 20 ballot.

City Clerk Olga Barkeley said there are about 30,000 registered voters in Pontiac. About 26,100 will be eligible to vote Monday.

There is no primary needed in District 3 where there are some 3,900 registered, because there are only two candidates there.

Incumbent Commissioner William H. Taylor and his opponent, Sam Gabriel, 30, of 257 Ottawa, were the only ones to file nominating petitions in District 3.

★ ★ ★

Asked for a prediction on the voter turnout, Mrs. Barkeley said, "I wouldn't even hazard a guess, after the turnout we had for the charter amendment special election Jan. 13."

NORMAL DOUBLED

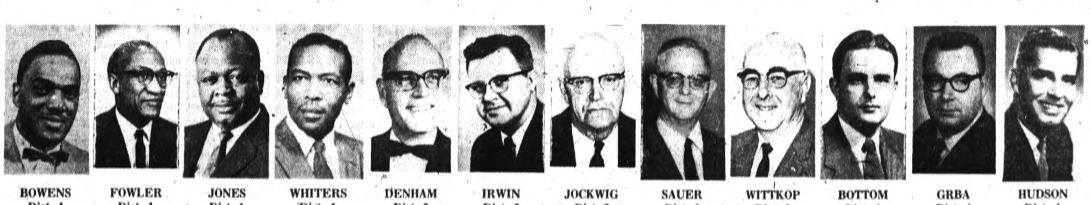

The "normal" turnout of 5,000 predicted on Jan. 13 was more than doubled as some 12,000 voters went to the polls.

Past turnouts indicate that between 6,000 and 7,000 would be a "normal" turnout Monday. There were 3,199 votes cast in the 1962 primary when there were run-offs in three districts.

The total of 28 candidates in all six districts tops the previous record primary in 1954 when 26 ran for nomination in six districts.

District 1 candidates are the incumbent, Samuel J. Whiters, 50, of 453 Harvey, an electrical contractor; Robert J. Bowens, 41, of 316 Harrison, a Pontiac Motor employe; T. Warren Fowler Sr., 57, of 59 Lake, an electrical and heating and cooling contractor; and Rollie L. Jones, 45, of 212 Bondale, a

Citizens Glad to Get Tax Cut

A sampling of sidewalk opinion yesterday in Pontiac revealed some wariness but general enthusiasm over the tax-cut bill signed into law by President Johnson Wednesday.

The $11.5-billion cut will reduce income taxes for 80 million individuals by about 20 per cent, on the average, and about 9 per cent for business.

Most wage earners will feel the effect next week when the payroll withholding rate is reduced, giving the average worker two to five dollars more take-home pay.

* * *

When President Johnson signed the bill, which he said will stimulate the nation's economy, he drew this example:

* * *

"As you spend this money at the grocer's or department store, the grocer and department store owner in turn will spend it for their own needs — and in this fashion the money will circulate through the economy raising the demand for goods several times the amount of the tax cut."

COMPLETE AGREEMENT

Manager of the A&P supermarket at 25 W. Pike, Allen Andrews, said he was in complete agreement.

"People will not only be spending more on food, but I'm sure it will put more money into the economy."

Andrews said a number of his customers are from lower-income families, and "many told me they wished they already had the tax cut so they could spend more for commodities they couldn't afford."

ANDREWS

SCHROEDER

Roy Schroeder, manager of the K-Mart in Glenwood Plaza, said he looked for increased sales as a result of tax cut but felt it was too early to tell what effect it would have on his store.

* * *

"I believe people will spend larger amounts in their general shopping, rather than on major appliances, since these higher-cost items are usually bought on installment purchases."

BUILDING PLANS

Both Schroeder and Andrews said their companies have extensive nationwide building or remodeling plans set for this year, but did not feel they were directly linked to the recent tax slash.

That her postal worker husband will bring home more on his bimonthly pays had no special impact on Mrs. William Kircher, 75 Union. "I am pleased about it, but I don't have any plans for spending it," she said.

Mrs. Kircher

Mrs. Brooks

Housewife Mrs. Douglas Brooks, 515 N. East Blvd., was wary. "It's good that taxes are cut, but something else is bound to go up." She explained she had no plans on spending her husband's increased pay and felt it was too little to worry about.

* * *

William H. Pike, 244 N. Perry, said he is retired and would not benefit from the reduction. "But I think it's all right. We've been taxed to death." He predicted individuals and firms would spend their share: "That's what makes our economy."

PIKE

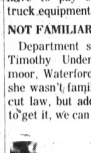

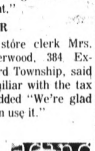

MEREDITH

Truck driver Emmett Meredith, 3580 Bald Mountain, Pontiac Township, was doubtful. He feared other taxes would appear. "As a trucker I know taxes last. Look at what we have to pay on gasoline and truck equipment."

NOT FAMILIAR

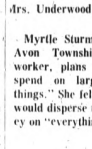

Department store clerk Mrs. Timothy Underwood, 384 Exmoor, Waterford Township, said she wasn't familiar with the tax cut law, but added "We're glad to get it, we can use it."

Mrs. Underwood Myrtle Sturm

Myrtle Sturm, 2434 Gerald, Avon Township, a factory worker, plans to "save and spend on large and small things." She felt wage earners would disperse the added money on "everything."

JAGGARD

Fred Haggard, president of the AFL-C Oakland County Council, injected a new note. "It's supposed to increase purchasing power and help the economy. My hope is that it will also increase employment. The intention behind this is to have people spend the extra money."

Arraignment Due for 2 Found in Store

Two men caught by police in a Walled Lake grocery early this morning were to be arraigned today on charges of breaking and entering.

* * *

Police identified the pair as Larry Montgomery, 21, and David LaPoint, 22. Both are believed to live in Pontiac, police said.

* * *

Walled Lake Sgt. Lee Pratt and auxiliary patrolman Ed Willer arrested them in the Penny Lake Grocery, 1101 N. Pontiac Trail, after discovering a door ajar.

MORE VIGILANCE COMING—Scenes like this—showing State Police Trooper Ronald Shulters watching traffic at Dixie Highway and Telegraph Road in the interests of safety—will become even more familiar starting tomorrow. That's when Shulters and 25 other state police of the Pontiac post will begin a new six-day week in a campaign to reduce highway fatalities.

State Police to Begin Traffic Crackdown

Starting tomorrow, the Pontiac State Police post will put in 234 more man hours every week in a stepped-up drive to cut down the growing traffic death toll.

The post will go from a five-day to a six-day week ordered for state police by Gov. George Romney Tuesday in the opening of a statewide campaign to halt the accelerating frequency of highway slaughter.

All the additional man-hours will go into traffic patrol for increased surveillance of traffic and stricter enforcement of driving laws, according to post commander Sgt. John Amthor.

* * *

"We hope it will make quite a difference," Amthor said. "It will, if everybody gets behind it."

SAFETY CAMPAIGN

He referred to plans by the governor to enlist the cooperations of judges, prosecutors and other local officials and community leaders in the safety campaign.

The governor also called for tougher penalties on drunk drivers.

Amthor said no particular roads or intersections have been singled out for special attention. The increased vigilance will be applied to all county roads, he said.

"The accidents have been occuring on the back roads as well as the main highways," he said.

* * *

Traffic deaths in 1963 were 50 per cent higher than 1962 in both Oakland County and the entire state. Fatalities have continued to mount at the same accelerating pace since Jan. 1, Amthor said.

SHARP EYE

While continuing their emphasis on enforcing speed laws, police will also be keeping a sharp eye on other accident causes such as improper turning and failing to stop for stop signs, Amthor said.

* * *

The police sergeant said one of the biggest causes of accidents is the failure of drivers to pay attention to their driving.

* * *

Amthor yesterday attended a meeting of post commanders in Detroit on implementing the governor's six-day week order and antitraffic death campaign.

DISTRICT TWO

In District 2, the incumbent, Commissioner Charles H. Harmon is not running for a second term, but five commission hopefuls will be on the ballot there.

They include Allan J. Denham, 49, of 93 Oriole, a process engineer at GMC Truck & Coach Division; Robert C. Irwin, 34, of 435 W. Iroquois, a Pontiac realtor; and Robert W. Jockwig, 70, of 250 Draper, a retired postal employe.

Other District 2 candidates are Philip R. Sauer, 55, of 59 Monroe, a local restaurant owner and former mayor; and Dr. Norman L. Wittkop, 66, of 1025 Argyle, a retired school superintendent.

* * *

DISTRICT FIVE

Voters in District 5 have the largest ballot in the city. There are six candidates to choose from.

Including the incumbent Commissioner Loy L. Ledford, 41, of 662 Linda Vista, general manager of McCandless Carpets, there are three candidates who have served on the commission.

John A. Dugan, 55, of 363 Nelson, a Pontiac Motor employe, was commissioner eight years and a mayor pro-tem. John H. Ridgway, 64, 435 Lowell, a semi-retired real estate salesman, is a former mayor and served six years on the commission.

* * *

Also vying for the District 5 nomination are Delbert E. Burnett, 33, of 595 Melrose, a wood pattern maker; Robert R. McKeever, 38, of 442 Lowell, and Cecil C. Mullinix, 49, of 571 Lowell both Pontiac Motor employes.

DISTRICT SIX

In District 6 there are five candidates on the primary ballot. Commissioner Dick M. Kirby, 46, of 91 N. Edith, is seeking a second term. He is business agent for the Wayne-Oakland-Macomb Counties Building and Construction Trades Council (AFL-CIO).

Competing with him are Frederick H. Beedle, 40, of 689 E. Pike, a Fisher Body employe and part-time real estate employe; a former commissioner Wesley J. Wood, 57, of 11 N. Sanford, and Christopher C. Hall, 39, of 23 Maynard, both GMC Truck & Coach employes; and Jack F. Prasil, 44, of 29 N. Anderson, a dry cleaning store owner.

Seeking the District 7 nomination are four candidates, including the incumbent, Mayor Robert A. Landry, 50, of 47 Center, a clerk at the Fisher Body Plant in Livonia, who is seeking his fourth term.

* * *

Area Fires Hit Barn, Two Homes

Two homes and a barn were damaged yesterday and today in separate fires in the county.

The roof of a large Oxford Township home was destroyed by flames yesterday afternoon, despite a three-hour battle by men of four fire departments.

The two-story home of the James Millers, 2265 Coats, was set aflame by sparks from the chimney. An estimated $3,000 damage was done.

Firemen from Metamora, Brandon Township, Oxford and Lake Orion fought the blaze.

SEVEN ROOMS

All seven rooms of a brick ranch home at 4535 Pickering, Bloomfield Township, were damaged by a fire that broke out in a living room davenport at 3:30 p.m.

Damage was estimated at $8,300.

A barn at the rear of 68100 Dequindre, Addison Township, was destroyed by flames early this morning. Romeo and Addison Township firemen worked to extinguish the blaze.

* * *

An Addison Township fire department spokesman said the barn contained a tractor and possibly some stock. The fire is still being investigated.

Rochester Fire Chief Marks 11th Birthday

Lyle Buchanan, who is celebrating his 11th birthday today, is old enough to fight fires and get paid for it.

Buchanan was born on Feb. 29 forty-four years ago. He is Rochester's fire chief.

GM Division Reports Highest Sales Level

FLINT (UPI) — AC Spark Plug Division of General Motors reported today that sales during 1963 reached the highest level in history.

J. A. Anderson, assistant group executive in charge of GM accessory divisions, told an AC meeting of group that sales were 12.7 per cent higher than the previous record, set in 1962. Spark plug sales were up 18 per cent; air cleaners 15 per cent; and oil filters 14 per cent. Anderson also said AC's replacement sales division scored new records for the 15th consecutive year.

OK Budget for Schools in Oakland

Representatives of local school districts voted 12-7 last night to approve a $460,000 operating budget for Oakland schools.

Twenty of the 30 school board designates met at Oakland Schools for three hours to consider the budget.

A Lamphere school district representative abstained from voting, claiming there was not enough time to go over the budget.

The 1964-65 budget is up $100,000 over this year's budget of $362,090. It anticipates a balance in June 1964 of $81,195.

FINAL BUDGET

The final budget, which would require a .14-mill tax allocation, was trimmed $13,000 from the $473,006 figure presented by the county school board.

Supt. William J. Emerson doubted if the .14-mill tax would be allocated by the County Tax Allocation Board. Oakland Schools received only a .10-mill levy this year.

Prior to presenting its preliminary budget, the county school board cut a controversial proposal for vocational education and reduced the operating balance by $22,420.

Two weeks ago, the board members had okayed a preliminary budget of $525,491, which included these two items.

DEPARTMENT CUT

The county school board eliminated the vocational education department upon the recommendation of the Oakland County School Boards Association.

This group recommended studying the matter for a year before initiating a pro-

Emerson said the $13,000 yet to be eliminated would either come out of one of the programs or out of the $99,840 balance to result in June, 1965.

Only one new program is incorporated in the budget. This is $19,920 for research on new educational processes and techniques.

The budget now will go to the County Tax Allocation Board, which meets in April.

Greece Warns of War

ATHENS (UPI) — Greece warned the United States and its European allies today that Turkish intervention in Cyprus could touch off a war in the Eastern Mediterranean.

"Armed conflict between Greece and Turkey under the present circumstances would be madness, but if Turkey opens the door of the lunatic asylum and enters we shall do the same," said a statement attributed to Premier George Papandreou.

The statement was broadcast by Athens Radio last night after Papandreou met with Crown Prince Constantine.

* * *

It was the first time any Greek or Turkish leader has referred flatly to the possibility of "armed conflict."

Foreign Minister Stavros Kostopoulos called in the Turkish ambassador to give him a "friendly warning" that Greece will react strongly if Turkey intervenes in the island.

The arning apparently was inspired by an official statement in Ankara that 24 Turkish naval vessels with an undisclosed number of troops aboard were engaged in maneuvers off the Turkish coast, 80 miles north of Cyprus.

Meanwhile, on Cyprus a virulent antiwestern campaign in the Greek-language newspapers created concern today about possible attacks on American and British residents of this strife-torn Mediterranean island.

* * *

President Makarios promised last night he would denounce the campaign, but observers here remembered that the Greek-language press has taken little notice of such statements from Makarios in the past.

INCITEMENT TO VIOLENCE

A U.S. official here said the newspaper attacks were a "virtual incitement to violence."

The press campaign was launched against a backdrop of overwhelming Greek Cypriot support for Russia.

Thousands of Greek Cypriots, many of them known Communists, surged through police barriers at Nicosia airport shouting "long live Russia" and waving red banners when a Soviet airliner made a "trial landing" here yesterday.

* * *

An agreement providing for regular air service between Moscow and Nicosia was expected to be signed later today.

Birmingham Area News

School Officials Ponder Problem of Next Fall

BIRMINGHAM — With spring just around the corner, school problems of next fall are already filling the heads of Birmingham educators.

School officials are busy formulating the shape of their program for the 1964-65 year.

Among their major concerns are funds, proposed elementary redistricting and transportation for nonpublic school students. Administrators hope to have their plans under way within a month.

* * *

Enrollment spurts, both projected and already realized, carry with them financial implications. The requests of the various school staffs are now being correlated and weighed, according to Supt. John B. Smith.

NEAR FUTURE

He expects to have preliminary budget figures to present to the board of education in "the very near future."

While working on operational funds, administrators also are considering the areas in which additional buildings probably will be needed in the next few years.

"These items are being carefully studied in preparation for a firm proposal for consideration of the board of education," Smith reported.

* * *

To keep up with immediate increases in number of students, Smith has proposed a redistricting plan for Valley Woods and Beverly Elementary Schools.

BUS TRANSPORT

He has suggested that some of the pupils from each school be transported by bus to less-crowded facilities until a new building can be constructed.

The two schools were designed to house a total of 1,175 students. Projections indicate 1,581 youngsters are to attend them next fall.

Besides its own enrollment increase, the district will see another spurt in the number of students to be transported.

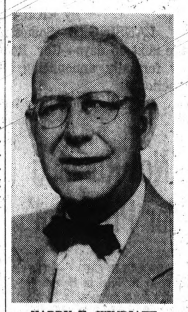

* * *

Preliminary figures indicate the district will be carrying about 1,000 nonpublic students to and from classes during the next school year.

PREPARE FOR INFLUX

To prepare for the influx, public school administrators have been meeting with officials from the nine nonpublic schools in the district.

"It is obvious that a good number of adjustments on school calendars, daily schedules and routes will need to be made," Smith commented.

HARRY E. WINDIATE

Heart Attack Takes Banker

Service Set Monday for Harry E. Windiate

Assistant Vice President at Community National Bank, Harry E. Windiate, suffered a heart attack during the night and was dead on arrival early this morning at Pontiac General Hospital. He had had no previous illness.

Service will be 3:30 p.m. Monday in Sparks-Griffin Chapel with burial following in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Windiate, 65, of 1300 Otter Drive, Waterford Township, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Windiate, members of an Oakland County pioneer family.

A graduate of Ferris Institute, he entered the banking field serving the Oxford State and former Pontiac Commercial & Savings banks.

Mr. Windiate has been with the Community National Bank since its organization in 1933.

He was a member of First Presbyterian Church, Elks Lodge No. 810 and Pontiac City Club.

Surviving besides his wife, Ruth, are a sister, Mrs. Clyde Underwood of Pontiac; and three brothers, Norman E. of Orchard Lake, Bud C. of Waterford Township and Andrew D. of San Francisco, Calif.

Thieves Take $339 From Forum Safe

The Forum Theater, 12 N. Saginaw, was the target of safecrackers today.

Thieves escaped with $339 after blowing open the safe in the manager's basement office. The type of explosive used was not immediately determined.

A cleaning woman, Bertha Vance, 268 W. Pike, discovered the break-in at 6:40 a.m. when she arrived at work. A janitor had been in the building about 2 a.m.

* * *

The burglars gained entry to the building by prying open a rear door. They then tied it shut from the inside.

Car Hits Tree; Man Is Killed in Avon Twp.

A Rochester man was killed instantly early today when his car hit a tree after it left Auburn Road in Avon Township.

Dead of a broken neck is Jerry T. Yeargan, 23, of 2498 Harrison.

Sheriff's deputies said Yeargan was traveling west, apparently at high speed, when his car went out of control near Eastwood. The accident occurred at 1:19 a.m.

Service for Yeargan will be 1 p.m. Monday at the Pixley Memorial Chapel. Burial will be in Mount Avon Cemetery, Rochester.

Surviving are his father, Claud of Avon Township; his mother, Lou Riggs of Tennessee; three brothers, Bob of Utica, Lloyd and Wayne of the U.S. Navy; and two sisters, Brenda and Patricia Vaughn of Tennessee.

The last of three suspects was released by police yesterday after questioning failed to connect him with the vandalism at the Hawthorne Elementary School Thursday.

Two other boys were released earlier.

Vandals ransacked the school at 1400 N. Telegraph, causing an estimated $3,000 damage.

Fuselage and 58 Bodies

Submarine Devices Join in Plane Hunt

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Electronic devices used to hunt the sunken submarine Thresher today joined an array of scientific equipment searching Lake Pontchartrain for the fuselage of a crashed jetliner and bodies of 58 persons believed still in it.

A fresh oil slick found by the Coast Guard late yesterday became the focus of greatest attention early today. Boats returned to probe the spot while awaiting a report on analysis of the oil.

The analysis was to determine whether the oil was the type used in the aircraft.

★ ★ ★

"This may be a very good lead," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Seismographic equipment used in the search for the sunken submarine Thresher in 600 fathoms of water in the Atlantic Ocean was the latest addition to the gear.

Cause of Tuesday's Eastern Air Lines DC8 disaster remained a mystery. Federal investigators said finding the fuselage in the 610 - square-mile lake appeared the only hope for determining the cause.

They said there was no evidence for or against explosion aboard the four - eninge jetliner when it plunged into the water minutes after taking off from New Orleans International Airport.

On hand for the third day was a U.S. Navy S2F submarine-hunter airplane with magnetic metal detection equipment. It picked up several "contacts" from large metallic objects in about 15 feet of water during the past two days.

OLD SCHOONER

But none of the past contacts yielded anything connected with the crashed plane. One turned out to be the hulk of an old schooner with metal fittings.

Search leaders also awaited results of special Air Force photographic reconnaissance of the lake yesterday. They declined to discuss the operation because it dealt with classified information.

They said the reconnaissance plane came from Shaw Air Force Base, S.C., and they had no idea how long it would take to learn results of the aerial photography.

★ ★ ★

Fritz Grice, a technician with Schlumberger Oil Well and Surveying Co. of Houston, arrived yesterday to operate the seismographic device.

He used the same procedure and equipment that proved successful in locating the Thresher.

Grocery Chain, Rights Group

Agreement Halts 'Shop-In' Race Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A supermarket chain has settled a dispute with the Congress of Racial Equality that brought picketing, boycotts and the newest civil rights weapon—the shop-in.

CORE and Lucky Stores, Inc., officials said they were happy with the settlement.

CORE initiated the demonstrations, contending Lucky had reneged on previous agreements to hire more Negroes in addition to those already working. Lucky denied discrimination and charged CORE with wanting "reverse discrimination."

★ ★ ★

The shop-ins followed picketing and boycotts at stores in Palo Alto, Berkeley and San Francisco. A crowd of CORE volunteers would monopolize the shopping carts, fill them and then refuse to pay for the groceries at the check-out counters after the prices were rung on the cash registers.

HAILED PACT

San Francisco Mayor John F. Shelley hailed the agreement, reached yesterday after the latest of a series of meetings in his office, as "a milestone for the future here and throughout the country."

Details weren't announced, pending ratification by the 11 Northern California CORE chapters—expected today. But a group shopping-in at a Berkeley store was told the agreement called for between 45 and 75 Negroes among the next 155 Lucky workers hired between now and July.

The group demonstrating at the Berkeley store was from CORE's University of California chapter, which ignored the halt in shop-ins reached in Palo Alto last weekend and in San Francisco Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

When the students heard of the agreement, they began putting back the food they had taken off shelves.

Waterford Twp. to Get Report on Youth Program

Waterford Township Board members Monday night will hear a report of 1963 activities of the township's 30-member Youth Assistance Committee.

The organization works with area youths in conjunction with Juvenile Court.

Also slated for board attention is a request from Community Activities Inc. for a temporary amusement park license for the annual CAI Fair, June 15-21.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the board will receive the monthly building department report and a report from the library advisory committee.

Airport Study Awaits Talks

County Dealing With San Francisco Firm

A proposed $10,000 study of airport needs in Oakland County today was awaiting further negotiations between county officials and a West Coast aviation consulting firm.

A representative of the firm, Leigh Fisher Associates of San Francisco, was expected to arrive here earlier this week to sign a contract.

Charles B. Edwards Jr., chairman of the county supervisors' avation committee, said yesterday he thought a working draft of a contract should be sent to the firm first.

"I wrote the firm advising them to hold off sending anybody until they have received such a draft from the county," said Edwards.

CAN MEET

"Then we can meet with their representative here to complete the final contract."

The draft was being prepared by the county's corporation counsel for committee approval, Edwards added.

He said the three-month study should be started within 30 days after the final contract is signed.

Mild City Winter Lowers Road Costs

"Beautiful winter we're having," said Clyde Christian, Pontiac Department of Public Works superintendent.

He talked like a man who had bet his life savings on Cassius Clay.

"No snow; no ice . . . if you could buy your winters at a discount store, you still couldn't beat this deal."

Christian was referring to the low cost, to date, of snow and ice removal on Pontiac streets.

$25,000 LESS

The winter street program has already cost about $25,000 less than a year ago.

At this time last year, the budget showed $66,667 spent for winter snow and ice removal. The DPW had used 2,782 tons of salt on city streets.

So far, the winter of 1963-64 has cost $41,256. Road crews have used 1,745 tons of salt.

We've even had road graders out on some of our gravel streets, it's been so nice," Christain said. "This is normally a spring and summer job."

ONE CATCH

There is one catch to the mild weather, and it gives Christian some cause for concern. The frequent thawing and freezing makes for a heavy load of patch work in the spring and early summer.

"I wouldn't be surprised if we run into street patch trouble this spring," he said. "We've already noticed some holes and cracks that usually don't show up until April."

The DPW spent $21,260 for patching trunklines and major and local streets in Pontiac last year. Christian said that chances are the expenditure will be greater this year.

"We're enjoying the easy winter," he noted, "but it looks like we'll have all the potholes we can handle come spring."

Annual Havana Carnival Tamed Down by Castro

HAVANA (AP) — Havana's annual carnival begins today, but some of the more exuberant traditions of the annual holiday have been banned.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government announced that the firing of sidearms will be forbidden. In the past Cubans liked to express their joyful mood by shooting into the air.

The government also decreed a ban on "indecent or equivocal costumes" and impersonation of members of the armed forces.

BIG PARADE

The carnival will be officially ushered in with a big parade through old Havana tonight. Special lights have been rigged on the city's main buildings, and big dolls hang from street poles.

Despite the happy mood, there is no holiday on Communist themes. The parade will include some 25 floats prepared by government ministries, unions and other organizations stressing ideas held dear by the regime.

* * *

One float will symbolize "Free Africa" and carry lions from the Havana Zoo. The lions presumably will be caged.

A pretty young housewife and mother of two children will reign as queen of the carnival, but in keeping with the sentiments of communism she is being called star rather than queen.

WILL CONTINUE

Unlike Mardi Gras celebrations elsewhere in Latin America, carnival time in Havana does not end on Ash Wednesday and the start of Lent, which began this year Feb. 12. It will continue on consecutive weekends until March 22, the Sunday before Easter.

In addition to tonight's kick-off parade, there will be other celebrations both in public and private on the four carnival weekends. Dances will be held in parks, and there will be other parades.

The government also placed another restriction on the wearing of costumes, aimed at ending carousing in the streets by holiday-garbed Havaneros.

The costumes can be worn only at dances. But the merry-makers can keep them on until 4 a.m.

Sweden will try out a penal institution without walls. Inmates will be paid contractural wages for 7 building prefabricated houses.

Markets, Business and Finance

Steer Prices Higher After Friday Run

CHICAGO (AP) — After Friday's unusually large run of cattle, the market for slaughter steers finished the week mostly 50 cents to $1 a hundredweight higher. Prices had been firmer earlier in the week.

It was the first weekly advance in more than a month. The general advance for car-lot dressed beef at wholesale outlets also was the first in seven weeks.

Demand for slaughter steers was fairly active throughout the week with buyers showing a little less selectivity of weights. Offerings over 1,350 lbs. scored the broadest gains.

Butcher hog prices were slightly firmer through midweek but closed about steady.

In the sheep market, wooled slaughter lambs advanced as much as $1.25.

Navy Awards Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Navy awarded a $662,811,064 contract Friday to McDonnell Aircraft Corp., St. Louis, Mo., for production of more than 600 Phantom jet aircraft for the Air Force and the Navy.

Bonds Mixed During Month

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices were mixed in February compared with a steady to higher performance in January.

★ ★ ★

Corporates ended the month with scattered small gains, based on the Associated Press average of 60 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange. In January they registered their best advance in a year. However, this was the first time there has been consecutive monthly gains since November and December 1962.

GOVERNMENT BONDS

U.S. government issues, mixed last month, fell back all along the line. The maximum decline was about 12-32nds—just a point less than the biggest losses in January. Most of the February setbacks were in the more moderate 1-8th point range.

★ ★ ★

Corporate and treasury prices rose early in the month. They held even through mid-month and in the final sessions governments trailed off while corporates marked time or settled back slightly.

Warmed by Tax Cut

Wall Street's Stocks Make History

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made history this week as the Dow Jones averages reached new milestones.

The closely watched Dow Jones Industrial Average closed above 800 for the first time in history.

The rise of the industrials was "confirmed" by the rail component of the Dow which finally surpassed the 1929 peak.

Warmed by enactment of the long-anticipated $11.5 billion tax cut, the stock market carried through its fourth straight weekly rise.

It finished the month of February with a substantial gain instead of a loss as many had expected.

On the final trading day, when the Dow industrials completed a week's rise of 3.15 to close at 800.14, many low - priced issues were heavily traded. Several of these stocks were rails.

Analysts differed as to what this might mean. Some said it was a dangerous evidence of "frothy" action, frequently a warning signal of an imminent market decline. Others hailed it as a sign of greater-anticipation by the small investor, the "public."

For February the Dow industrials gained 14.80, a substantial rise.

Grain Futures Market Mixed

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market closed the week with a mixture of moderate gains and broad losses on the Board of Trade with old crop wheat contracts swinging over their widest range in several months.

★ ★ ★

Net declines reached more than seven cents a bushel for the March delivery and more than six cents for the May. Rye, which followed the trend of wheat, was down more than six cents at the extreme. Oats also closed weak but corn and soybeans mustered a little firmness.

The major factor in the market was the tieup of wheat shipments for Russia at U. S. ports by longshoremen who objected to foreign flag vessels taking more than half the tonnage.

Th. Associated Press average of 60 stocks this week rose 2.4 to a record 298.0. For February, the AP average rose 7.4.

Late trading was related largely to notices of intention to deliver on March contracts in the pits. Friday was the first day for posting of such notices. The major surprise, perhaps, was the absence of any tenders of wheat and the small amount of soybeans offered.

In view of the sharp setbacks in those commodities the past few weeks, dealers had supposed the tender would be liberal.

★ ★ ★

At the end of the week, wheat was 7¾ cents a bushel lower on old crop months to ⅝ higher on the new, March $2.11½-12; Soybeans ⅛-1¼ higher, March $2.64¾-¼; corn ¼ lower to 1¾ higher, March $1.18¼-⅜; oats unchanged to 2½ higher, March 63-64 cents; rye 2 to 6¼ lower, March $1.33¾.

Firm Submits Low Soo Bid

Upjohn Asks FDA to Clear New Pill

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)— Dravo Corp. of Pittsburgh submitted an apparent low bid of $928,944 Friday for lengthening a pier at the Soo locks.

★ ★ ★

C. A. Aune, of the Army Corps of Engineers, said the pier, located between the second and third locks, would be lengthened about 1,200 feet to accommodate new, longer lake freighters.

Work will begin about mid-April, Aune said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Upjohn Co., a major drug producer of Kalamazoo, Mich., says it has applied to the Food and Drug Administration for clearance for an oral contraceptive pill. Company spokesman said the application had been sent to the FDA several months ago. The spokesman said he didn't know when Upjohn could market the pill.

★ ★ ★

SOUTH BEND, Ind., (AP) — General Motors Corp. could have created 25,000 new jobs in 1963 if its operations had been limited to a 40-hour week, Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer, said Friday.

★ ★ ★

He spoke to the 12th annual union - management conference at the University of Notre Dame.

★ ★ ★

Mazey said the union's international convention in Atlantic City next month will consider the overtime problem along with proposals for earlier retirement and larger pensions.

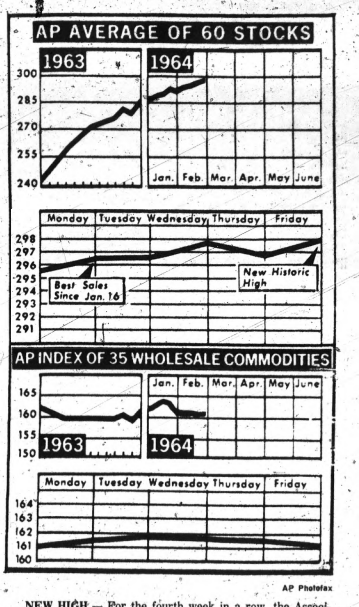

CLEVELAND (AP) — More pipelines in the Great Lakes area have cut down on petroleum products shipment by tankers, the Lake Carriers' Association said Friday.

★ ★ ★

The 12,416,588 net tons transported by 80 U.S. and Canadian vessel units in 1963 was more than 10 per cent under the tonnage in 1962 when seven more units were operating, the association reported. The volume last year was the lowest since 1960 when shipments totaled 10,955,745 tons, said the association secretary, Oliver T. Burnham.

★ ★ ★

The association also announced that its ice committee will hold its first meeting next Thursday to hear reports on ice conditions and make preliminary plans for opening of the iron ore season.

NEW HIGH — For the fourth week in a row, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced to a new high when it closed at 298.0 from 295.6 a week ago. The commodity index moved this week to 161.1 from 161.0 in preceding period. Livestock showed the largest gain.

Tax Cut Called Mixed Blessing

By GEORGE C. HARLAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Economists and businessmen think this week looked upon the biggest tax cut in the nation's history as a mixed blessing.

While the bill likely will trigger a new spurt in over-all economic activity, it also may set the stage for a round of price increases which would build up pressures for wage increases in basic heavy industries, they reason.

Despite pleas by the administration for restraint on the part of industry and labor, at least one businessman betrayed skepticism.

"We may soon find ourselves back on the old wage-price merry-go-round," he said.

NEW SPENDING

The injection of new spending power into the economy comes at a time when industry generally is operating at fairly high levels of capacity and the temptation to raise price tags is becoming stronger by the day.

To date there has been no serious breach in the price line, but signs of restlessness showed up this week.

Price increases were posted by Revere Copper & Brass on a broad line of copper and copper-alloy products not covered in the industry-wide price increases earlier this month.

PRICE HIKES

One chemical company made price hikes on a selected list of products and competitors said the move had not gone unnoticed.

The steel industry, whose price moves draw the most official attention because of their wide impact on consumer products, was watching the situation closely in view the rising rate of mill orders that has lifted mill operations to nearly 73 per cent of estimated capacity.

The industry has upped prices on a broad selective basis since last April but refrained from any across-the-board action.

★ ★ ★

It is known that the Federal Reserve Board is poised to act if such inflationary fires be rekindled.

It could damper them in a number of ways, possibly by a rise in interest rates to discourage a bank borrowing binge.

There was no indication, however, this week that the Federal Reserve was moving in the direction of tightening up credit.

In fact, this week the Fed increased the flow of cash immediately available to member banks' lending and investment.

★ ★ ★

It has been officially estimated that the new tax bill will allow business to keep about $1.5 billion they would otherwise have had to pay in taxes this year, and about $2.3 billion annually in the future.

PUBLIC REACTION

The first public reaction to this investment bonanza came from American Telephone & Telegraph, the biggest capital spender among the nation's corporations.

AT&T said that provided the savings will not have to be passed onto customers in the form of lower rates, it intends to make even larger 1964 capital investments than the record figure announced earlier.

The consumer apparently was not jumping the gun on his father pay envelope which he will pick up in about a week from now.

Princess to Wed Commoner

Betrothal Stuns Swedes

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) —All Sweden was talking today about the surprise leap year announcement of Princess Margaretha's engagement to British commoner John Kennedy Ambler.

The secret romance between the 29-year-old blue-eyed blonde and the dashing 39-year-old businessman even hit Ambler's personal secretary in London like a "bolt out of the blue."

Ambler, head of a London-based transport and freight company and wartime bodyguard of Sir Winston Churchill, was in Stockholm for the official court announcement last night.

★ ★ ★ ★

TOOK LONGER

It was not "love at first sight" the couple maintained.

The romance blossomed, but was kept a closely guarded secret, the couple meeting when Ambler visited Stockholm, or Margaretha visited London.

"I think we managed to avoid discovery with a little bit of luck and a little bit of judgment," Ambler told newsmen and photographers.

★ ★ ★ ★

The princess indicated she will live in London after the marriage.

MALE SUCCESSORS

Under the Swedish constitution, only males can succeed to the throne.

★ ★ ★ ★

The princess will become a commoner after her marriage here to Ambler—at a date yet unset, but she will retain her Swedish title and will be known as "Princess Margaretha, Mrs. Ambler."

Road Mishaps Hospitalize 4

Four persons were admitted to hospitals for facial lacerations suffered in traffic accidents in the area last night and early today. All are in satisfactory condition.

In Pontiac Osteopathis Hospital are Henry W. Robinson, 47, of 23 Maine; and Joseph F. McCoy, 34, of 292 Rapid.

In Pontiac General Hospital is Rosie Stroman, 30, of 276 Cottage. Robert G. Weaver, 19, of 48200 Rex, Utica, is in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

★ ★ ★ ★

The woman was a passenger in McCoy's car when it collided with one driven by Robinson at South Jessie and Wall at 8:10 p.m. yesterday.

★ ★ ★ ★

Weaver was injured when his car hit a tree on Avon Road at Wilcox, Avon Township, at 12:15 a.m. today.
