

'Seems in Good Spirits'

VISITS WINNIE—Lady Churchill makes a smiling exit from London's Middlesex Hospital today after a visit to the ailing Sir Winston Churchill. The former Prime Minister today developed a bronchial infection, a complication feared most by doctors treating him. Lady Churchill reported after her visit that she found her husband "a little drowsy . . . but he seems to be in good spirits."

Bronchial Infection Worsens Condition of Ailing Churchill

From Our News Wires
LONDON—Sir Winston Churchill, 81, today developed a bronchial infection.
The complication was one feared most by doctors treating the 81-year-old statesman for a broken left leg.
Disclosure of the new turn in the former prime minister's condition came in a special medical bulletin read to newsmen in the lobby of Middlesex Hospital in central London.
It followed earlier indications that Sir Winston, who broke his leg in a fall on the Riviera June 28,

Won't Force Showdown on Foreign Aid in House

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House foreign aid backers revised their strategy today and decided tentatively not to force a House showdown now on two controversial amendments to President Kennedy's foreign aid program.
They believed the House was about ready to pass a $4.6-billion authorization except in two respects.
They figured these could be worked out later in conference with the Senate.

Major Crime High in State

But Pontiac Statistics Show Decrease in 1961 From 1960

Although the amount of crime reported in Pontiac dropped slightly last year, statistics released today by the FBI revealed that major crime throughout Michigan increased from 1960 to 1961.
Scored against population in crimes, however, the statewide crime totals dropped in four categories.
Statistics released by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover indicated that overall the crime rate based on population increased slightly, from 1,234.3 per 100,000 in 1960, to 1,237.7 in 1961.
The major categories of crime listed by the FBI are murder and nonnegligent manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny of $50 and over and auto-theft.

Biggest Since 1954 Federal Tax Cut Takes Effect

Plan Phone Call New York-Paris Via Satellite

Talk to Be Late Friday With British, French Sending TV Tonight

From Our News Wires
NEW YORK—The Telstar satellite, spinning majestically around the earth after a historic television linking of the United States and Europe, is due to perform another first tomorrow.

This is to be a transatlantic telephone call by way of the satellite, between New York and Paris.

Speaking from here will be George J. McNeely, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., whose laboratories developed and built Telstar.

He will talk with Jacques Marette, director of posts and telecommunications for the French government.

The demonstration is scheduled between 5 and 6 p.m. (Pontiac time).

During orbit No. 24 from 6:36 p.m. to 7:32 a.m. tonight, the telephone company will transmit test material from Andover and the British will broadcast another television program.

During orbit No. 25, from 9:23 p.m. to 10:16 p.m. the French will put on another TV program after transmission of test material by the telephone company.

The material will be made available to the television network to do with as they choose.

Telephone service across oceans and continents is one of the prime objectives of satellite communications.

This is because present submarine cables are becoming overcrowded, and it is extremely expensive to lay new ones.

Radio-telephone is subject to fading and even blackouts.

Did Justice Dept. Get King Freed?

ALBANY, Ga.—The fines of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and a companion Negro minister serving jail terms growing out of integration demonstrations were paid today.

They left the city jail under protest since by serving their 45-day sentences they had hoped to rally sentiment behind their nonviolent challenge of segregation in this south Georgia city.

The Justice Department was reported deeply involved in King's release.

A spokesman said Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had given a "full report" on the King case to his brother, President Kennedy, and the White House was being kept informed of developments.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall made several telephone calls to King on King's behalf at the direction of the attorney general.

The department also sent an attorney from the civil rights division to Albany to act as an observer on the scene.

City officials disclaimed definite knowledge of who put up money for the $178 fines. Police Chief Laurie Pritchett quoted the desk sergeant as saying they were paid Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Michigan Guard Has Shrewd Strategists

CAMP GRAYLING (AP)—Fred Luckenhill, assistant field director for the American Red Cross at Camp Grayling during the summer field training of Michigan's National Guard 46th Infantry, is a busy man.

He has to check with local Red Cross chapters when a guardman asks to leave camp for a "family emergency" such as a birth.

After checking out five requests for emergency leave yesterday he told a group of guardmen: "Sometimes I suspect you fellows plan it this way. Twenty-two babies since Sunday."

Then the phone rang. "Twenty-three," he announced.

Business Gets Lion's Share of Reduction

Senate Finance Unit Finishes Its Work on $1.1-Billion 'Incentive'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The biggest federal tax cut of any kind since 1954 went into effect today. Business gets the bulk of the $1.5-billion reduction, designed to spur faster economic growth.

President Kennedy announced the cut Wednesday and noted that the principal pressure for it came from the business community. Many businessmen have been extremely critical of his policies in recent months.

On another tax front the Senate finance committee today completed work on a $1.1-billion tax incentive to U.S. business to modernize its plants with new machinery and equipment.

The committee reaffirmed its 10-7 decision yesterday to keep this modified investment credit action in the tax revision bill, then defeated new efforts to change it.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who opposed on credit, said that the group had finished its action on this part of the bill, although it was possible some further changes might be tried later.

But it appeared the vote was solid to retain it in the legislation—a victory of sorts for President Kennedy.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon told a news conference that Wednesday's tax cut—which also will benefit professional people and farmers—should have a quick impact on the economy. He said many businesses have promised to use tax savings to increase their investments in the latest machinery and equipment. And he forecast an upturn in orders for these items in the next couple of months.

The action, ordered by the Treasury which didn't need congressional approval, offers large tax deductions to firms investing in new, more efficient facilities. And, larger deductions obviously will mean lower tax payments.

Initial reaction from business spokesmen and congressional leaders generally was favorable. The sweeping overhaul of the tax deduction system—the first in at least 10 years—was designed specifically to meet business complaints that the old system was stifling economic progress.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of the Senate Finance Committee said "I strongly approve of the accelerated depreciation."

Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader, said "better depreciation rule is what we have been after all along."

Dillon cited the move as proof that the Kennedy administration is pro-business.

Ex-GOP President to See Library Dedicated at His Birthplace

WEST BRANCH, Iowa (UPI) — Two former U.S. presidents of widely different political ideologies will attend the dedication of the Hoover Presidential Library Aug. 10, it was announced yesterday.

Republican Herbert C. Hoover will be official host when he returns to his West Branch birthplace on his 86th birthday for the ceremonies. Democrat Harry S. Truman has accepted an invitation to attend.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was also invited but expressed "deep disappointment" because the date conflicts with plans to be in Europe with his family at the time.

Iowa Gov. Norman A. Erbe and U.S. Senators Bourke B. Hickenlooper and Jack Miller are also expected to attend.

For Hoover, it will be the first visit to his birthplace since 1874. He was born here Aug. 10, 1874.

The presidential library, which will house Hoover's personal papers and mementoes, was completed during the winter in the 28-acre Herbert Hoover Birthplace Foundation Park.

Transportation Act 'Unconstitutional'

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — In a precedent-shattering move, the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission has held that a federal transportation act is in violation of the U.S. Constitution.

The state agency said the Federal Transportation Act of 1958 violates the due process provisions of the Constitution, and said the Interstate Commerce Commission acted improperly in allowing the Pennsylvania Railroad to cut two intrastate trains from its Harrisburg, Pa.-Hagerstown, Md. run.

It ordered the two trains dropped last February with ICC permission, reasoned despite the fact that the federal agency had acted under the provisions of the law.

Want Rule for Full Wreck or None in Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — City officials have discovered that an ordinance regulating building demolition has one flaw: It doesn't require that the job be finished. The officials discovered this when they tried to take action on complaints against a theater owner who tore down everything except the front wall of the theater.

Devout Sikhs, the famed fighters of India, may not cut their hair or beards.

Dem Leaders Set Meeting to Plot Midwest Attack

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Democratic leaders will draw plans for an attack on the Republican Midwest citadel at a conference of party chiefs from 14 states at French Lick, Aug. 24-25. Speakers have not yet been chosen.

Represented will be the following states: North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, and Indiana.

Hospital Workers to Decide on Union

A vote on union recognition will be held 3 to 4:30 p.m. Friday at Bloomfield Hospital, 2100 Woodward Ave., Bloomfield Township, according to the Michigan Labor-Mediation Board.

The vote was asked by a newly founded labor organization, the Hospital and Sanitarium Employees Guild, Chapter 5, and will include only nonprofessional workers.

Waterford Unit Proposes Site for Civic Center

Waterford Township's Planning Commission Tuesday night recommended a 25-acre township-owned parcel at Tubbs and Crescent Lake roads for the future township city site.

The recommendation is expected to be acted upon by the Township Board at its meeting Monday. The proposed civic center would include an administration building, police headquarters building and maintenance and administrative facilities for the water department which would be constructed in the first stage of development.

Double-Duty Shelter Prevents 'Falling Out'

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — A nuclear fallout shelter salesman was puzzled by the prospective buyer's interest in whether the shelter was sound-proof.

Then the customer explained he was a clarinet player and was interested in a place to practice in the predawn hours after he got off work.

Firing Bomb Brings Protests from Reds

This Nation has detonated still another powerful bomb at unprecedented heights in our aggressive struggle to keep abreast—and ahead—of the war-like Russians.

As was anticipated, there have been protests from many sides. The chief howl came from the "pious" Russians. And this was a foregone conclusion, also. The bloody butchers are aggrieved to think that we'd do such an "inhuman" thing. Of course, they set the pace. They've fired off bombs bigger than ours. And they did it first. But that comes under the heading of "so be it," and our own experiments are something to shock all peace loving people everywhere.

The Reds refuse to disarm. They refuse to talk. They take every technical, every fair and every unfair advantage they can at every opportunity. Ethics and morals mean nothing and never have.

As soon as they finished firing their own sky-scraping firecrackers, they declared that no one should again pollute the sweet and heavenly atmosphere. It was indecent.

This Nation's super explosions have been considerably less powerful than the ones the Russians used. Also, we've selected the locations with great care. The world has not been in jeopardy. But the Russians overlooked no opportunity to point the finger of scorn and contempt at the United States. Whether its justified isn't important.

Their protests have aroused the same type of sentiments from the helpless and hapless captive nations. But again, this was anticipated and known in advance. The Reds are yelling as loudly as they can. Well, let 'em scream.

Isn't It Time to Squelch the Williams Fiascos?

A recent AP dispatch from Johannesburg, South Africa, once again points up the poor image G. Mennen (SOAF) WILLIAMS is setting forth in that troubled part of the world.

During the 12 years that SOAF held the reigns right here in Michigan he admittedly had almost as many foes as friends. In politics that's usually par for the course.

But the task that our Assistant U.S. Secretary of State for Africa is now undertaking is not of a political nature. His job as we understand it is to make friends and assist in communication between Africa and the U.S.

It seems that his African treks come under constant ridicule and it would appear that his visits only help to create poorer understanding between our two countries.

Recently the African paper Die Transvaler quoted WILLIAMS' statement on African conditions, then the political columnist added: "Anyone reading the above idiocy has to be told the source. The speaker can only be one man: SOAF WILLIAMS, President KENNEDY's insult to Africa."

The AP story further says Soapy missed only South Africa because the government found it "inconvenient" to receive him at the time. And now a commentator recently declared that "no convenient time is likely to be found before the year 2000."

Undoubtedly some of the bad press SOAF is receiving probably is of the sour grapes nature. Yet the fact that it continues and does not ease up would seem to indicate that you can't force someone where he is obviously not wanted.

We would suggest either a muzzling or censoring whichever could be accomplished with the least amount of fanfare.

$100 Fine Insufficient on Current Bomb Hoax

Another one of these "practical jokers" faced the judge.

Wise cracks and smart aleck remarks about bombs on airplanes are out. They aren't funny. Air personnel has instructions to notify authorities and a prompt arrest follows.

It should.

Vigorous court actions should tread swiftly on the heels of the arrest. There's no place around a modern airport for these misguided and errant "pranksters." The current case involved an Oak Park physician who was fined $100.

That's insufficient.

Train Fan Pines

Recalls the Grandeur of Famous Flier

BY HOWARD V. HELDENBRAND
A recent press release describing the decline of the famed Twentieth Century Limited from its status as a symbol of top in luxurious travel to just another train of cars awoke some nostalgic memories within the MAT's mainly bosom.

Inaugurated in 1902 as a 28-hour, extra-fare Chicago-New York train, it boasted such innovations aboard as a barber shop and a matron. Its lushness undoubtedly gave rise to the now familiar "red carpet" phrase identified with super service, for in boarding the Century passengers rode a train-length width of red carpet along the platform.

It was not only an all-Pulman train but, as equipment improved over the years, became an ALL-ROOM-Pulman train—which to a railroad buff was really something!

The Century made only one stop on the 990-mile run—to Toledo—which must be unmatched in continuous rolling. The original running time was reduced by steps to 15½ hours—now is back to 16. Up until five years ago, the New York Central redressed passengers for late arrival at the rate of $1.00 per minute.

Never having got over his small boys infatuation for trains, the MAT heading for New York on a long-ago occasion decided he would simply have to ride the Century. So, much to the chagrin of bystanders over the idiosyncrasy of traveling to Toledo to get on a train for New York, he did it!

Great experience! Riding the Century was as much a morale-lifter for a man as buying a new hat or getting a new hairdo is for a woman.

CRUEL DISILLUSIONMENT! A reader recently reported that one of her Day-lilies had seven blossoms with another about to bloom... wonders whether it was a record.

Along with a lot of traveling, he has kept interested in Pontiac's affairs, headed the Expansion Program Committee of the YMCA which just completed a successful year-long campaign... Furthermore, the MAT never saw him looking better nor radiating more vim and vigor.

East, West Face Peace Prospect

GENEVA—There is a change in the air here—the meeting place for international conferences of all kinds.

For years now in the background of them all, there has been an awareness of the wending struggle between the East and the West for mastery in the "cold war."

Economic subjects—the planning for the underdeveloped countries and projects for the alleviation of human suffering—have hitherto been dealt with in the atmosphere of a mortal combat between Communist and non-Communist countries.

The change that emerges today is no less real because it is not being proclaimed from the house-tops or dealt with in the formal phrases of official communications.

Despite what Soviet Premier Khrushchev said in a propaganda speech in Moscow this week about the threat of a new world war, the big development is that the prospects of an era of peace in the world have suddenly improved to a point scarcely dreamed possible a few years ago.

What has really brought about the change? Nuclear war today means mutual suicide, irrespective of the "first blow," and both East and West know it.

STALEMATE
This means that a stalemate has established itself and that the world is to live for a long time to come in a "balance of power" equilibrium analogous to that which maintained the peace of Europe for periods lasting through many decades.

This doesn't mean that all wars will be completely ruled out, nor that international disputes will cease to cause apprehension. But it does mean that the danger of nuclear war has been removed by the very fact that each side has the means of destroying the other.

But, it is being asked, would not the Red Chinese start a nuclear war since they undoubtedly will build up a strong nuclear force in the not-far-distant future?

The answer is that it takes more money than the Red Chinese have, or probably ever will have, to build a strong nuclear force. Similarly, Red China can be instantly devastated if it inflicts nuclear damage on another power.

Millions of Chinese on the mainland will not support any regime that might cause their own destruction. So the "mutual suicide" barrier applies to Red China, too.

It is not to be expected that today will be—for a long time to come, if ever—a treaty or agreement.

'Let's Divert Foreign Aid to Insure Senior Citizens'

Taxpaying senior citizens of average income have contributed generously to local and foreign aid. Now many are in need and their remaining years are beset with talk of insurance.

Insurance is an investment for the aid of all insured. How about foreign aid to countries that are in debt to us? Do they have an insurance policy? Why not divert foreign aid to our own senior citizens who made this aid possible?

Dr. William Brady Says:

Insists the Unbroken Skin Can't Absorb Substances

One of the numerous aphorisms on which I am at odds with the general medical profession is the permeability of the unbroken skin. I believe nothing can be absorbed through the unbroken skin. Most doctors think all sorts of chemicals, poisons and medicines may be absorbed through the skin.

Through the skin, scores of readers have reported, for my information, that they learned by experience that if they have absorbed enough nitroglycerine (dynamite) to give them beautiful headaches... and through the years I have learned that if they will refrain from breathing while handling it, or handle it only in a strong wind or draft blowing away from them, they will have no such headaches.

In the good old days, when an office consultant set you back 50 cents, we set great store by mercury as the sovereign remedy for syphilis in the first stage (chancre) or the second stage which is characterized by eight weeks (skin eruptions).

As an intern in a county (charity) hospital where there were many patients with syphilis, I remember how insistent the staff physicians were that the mercury should be administered by fumigation—rubbing "in" blue salve (mercury salve) six days a week, for many weeks, under the patient developed ptyalism (mercury poisoning).

I believed then that the mercury was absorbed through the skin. I doubt if any doctor believes that today.

Indeed, this method of administering mercury has long since been abandoned, because the amount of mercury the patient absorbs is proportional, being only that which is volatilized by the warmth of the body and inhaled by the patient. This is equally true of many other medicaments applied to the skin.

If the skin is even slightly blistered, scratched, punctured or cut, of course anything will be absorbed through the break. Many reports have been published, mostly news reports, of poisoning ascribed to absorption through the skin, absorption of such poisons as arsenic, notably poisoning from applying "aloe" (poisonous tobacco solution) on the clothing of greenhouse workers, dying down on the feet, spilling kerosene (tetra-ethyl lead) gasoline on clothing or skin, handling dynamite, cordite or nitroglycerin

In Washington:

Who'll Fill the Till After Tax Cut?

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The overlooked series in all the tax cut proposals now being made is how the government will use for money to make up for the lost receipts.

Nearly everyone now crowding the limelight in this act — from Auto Workers' President Walter Reuther to U.S. Chamber of Commerce President paraphrasing the old Plunderer — has a $10 billion hurry-up tax cut plan. But there are few constructive ideas on new sources of revenue to pay the government's bills.

The way out of it is expressed in a idea that it won't be necessary to raise new taxes that will make up the full amount of the tax cut. People who were crying all over the place a few weeks ago about raising the national debt from $300 billion to $350 billion are now saying it won't hurt to let it go a little higher, if taxes are cut substantially.

There are tax studies all over Washington now on possible variations. If taxes are cut $10 billion, raise only $5 billion in new revenues. If cut $20 billion, raise only $10 billion. If cut $30 billion, raise only $15 billion. Anyway you slice it, it still comes out $5 billion more debt.

Congress having shown no enthusiasm for closing the obvious tax loopholes on oil and mineral depletion allowances, expense accounts or interest and dividend payments, there isn't much hope for constructive action along these lines now — even if there is a tax cut.

"There's too much speculation on following the examples of the other states. They have been able to hold down and even reduce income taxes. But they have resorted to extreme taxation substitutes which would probably not go over here."

European countries have high taxes on liquor, sugar and other necessities such as matches. They have also imposed high sales taxes on nearly every commodity or manufactured item in trade.

Sales taxes in this country are now largely reserved to the states except on gasoline—where both federal and state governments took their bite—and on a few luxury items where there are still federal excises.

Congress has just killed the tax on railroad transportation and cut in half the tax on air fares, effective Nov. 15. Hiking those rates again just to make up for income and corporation tax cuts wouldn't be popular.

Eliminating these alternative selective taxes reduces the possibilities for new revenue sources to what is regarded as the most inelastic proposal of them all—the "manufacturer's sales tax." This has been called a "cock the poor" tax. It hits low-income people on every cent they spend, which is their entire income. And rich people don't feel it.

There is the proposal that all United States government expenses be cut to make up for the tax cut.

There is an excellent opportunity for this now. Not one federal government appropriation bill for the fiscal year which began

July 1 has been passed by Congress.

This provides an opening for any demon tax-cutting proposal that all appropriations be cut 10 percent right across the board. That would yield an estimated $5 billion saving, which is close to the amount of most proposed tax cuts.

Appropriations might also be cut selectively, beginning with a major hack on foreign aid. Anti-foreign aid congressmen in both parties are quietly discussing this. Some would like to go and campaigning, leaving the rest of the Kennedy administration program stranded high and dry.

Opening for tax cuts demographic action in this situation are great. They are being looked on with considerable concern by responsible leaders in government.

Fortunately, the Senate Finance Committee Chairman Harry F. Byrd and House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Wilbur Mills, the Congress has a pair of sound fiscal heads.

They are not expected to allow any piecemeal action on tax cuts (though they are both for economy in government), till they see one which equivalent to the ones coming from the new tax sources.

Rocky to Stick to State Issues This Year in N.Y.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he will refuse to discuss national issues, including the record of the Kennedy administration, during the New York State gubernatorial campaign this year.

"I am going to insist on the campaign being limited to state issues," he told a news conference Wednesday.

Rockefeller's Democratic opponent is yet to be chosen. Results of the contest are expected to have a major bearing on whether Rockefeller continues as a leading candidate for the Republican nomination for president in 1964.

Arrest Picket With Blackjack

Strike Truce Ends and Tempers Flare at Roseville Plant

ROSEVILLE, U.—Tempers flared anew at the picket line in the driveway of Detroit's Plastic Molding Co. here last night and a picket was arrested for carrying a blackjack.

Minutes after the end of an eight-hour "truce," during which signs of progress were reported from bargaining tables, police reported five fistfights as pickets cornered non-striking men in the building.

Pickets slapped the sides of a car and tore canvas from a covered truck carrying workers out, police said. The demonstration was during a heavy rain. No one was injured.

Two officers noticed a blackjack in a picket's pocket, and arrested him.

JAILED OVERNIGHT
Roseville police charged him with carrying a concealed weapon and jailed him overnight. They identified him as John Gleason, 43, East Detroit.

The United Auto Workers, Local 185, seeking to represent workers at the plastics firm, was represented in talks with company owner Michael Ladany and federal and state mediators in offices of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

There was a report of "some progress" from the office, but this came before the outbreak in the driveway of the suburban firm.

Roseville police said three police cars would stand by today. Lt. Ray Hartley said he expected pickets to number between 60 and 150 and that the crowd of curiosity seekers probably would be three times as large.

One Direct, Another to Shuttle

Asks Two Types of Moon Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's space agency has called for two new types of moon ships.

One would shuttle between a lunar satellite and the moon's surface. The other would take two men directly from the earth to the moon and back.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration asked the aerospace industry Wednesday to send in proposals for development of the first vehicle, NASA Administrator James E. Webb said.

Plans for the second vehicle would take longer to study, he said.

In other developments on the moon front:—NASA disclosed it has started a study in detail of design for an unmanned vehicle to provide support for the crews that visit the moon.

—The space agency said it is looking for suitable areas for landing spacecraft returning to earth from the moon.

The shuttle or lunar excursion vehicle would be a glass-enclosed cockpit for two men. It would be lodged in the nose of a three-man Apollo spacecraft and would moon for two to four days, they said.

AP Photos

be sent on a 72-hour journey to the area of the moon by an advanced Saturn C3 rocket.

The Apollo, with the miniature craft in its nose, would go into orbit about 100 miles above the moon. Two of the three crew members would climb into the excursion capsule, detach it from the mother craft, and descend to about 50,000 feet above the moon for closer examination of the surface.

If landing prospects appeared unfavorable the capsule would return to the orbiting mother craft. If everything was all right, it could hover directly over the moon's surface and then land.

After the men had explored the moon for two to four days, they would take off, hook up with the orbiting Apollo craft, and blast off for the return trip to the earth.

The two-man craft for the direct voyage to the moon also would be launched by a Saturn C3, but it would not be a part of a larger spacecraft.

The expanding U.S. space program got a vote of confidence in the Senate Wednesday when a shouted chorus of "ayes" passed a $1,620,515,250 spending authorization—more than double the money voted last year.

The measure for the fiscal year that started July 1 now goes back to the House which pared down President Kennedy's requests by $116 million. Actual funds will be voted in a separate appropriation.

Deke Slayton Ruled Out of Mercury Space Shot

WASHINGTON (AP)—A "cross-out" Donald K. (Deke) Slayton has lost his solo flight space wings because of heart trouble.

The 39-year-old Air Force major, a former jet test pilot, bowed reluctantly Wednesday to the respect of ground duty in Project Mercury.

This will involve engineering and planning work on the Mercury, Gemini and Apollo projects and other programs of the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston.

James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Slayton is not definitely ruled out of participation in the two-man Gemini and three-man Apollo flights that will follow the one-man Mercury experiments.

"We are not crossing every bridge in the future," Webb said.

COOPER MOVES UP

The decision on Slayton virtually assures an Air Force colleague, Maj. Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr., of an early try at space travel. Cooper, 35, will be the next astronaut slot after the forthcoming 6-orbit attempt of Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr. Schirra's flight is tentatively planned for early September and the Cooper mission might be the last on the schedule for 1962.

The grounding of Slayton was announced Wednesday at a news conference by Dr. Robert S. Gilruth, director of NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center.

Slayton's spectacular heart action, called atrial fibrillation, came to light last spring shortly before he was scheduled to make an orbital flight. He was replaced by L. Conrad Malin Smith Carpenter.

Gilruth said Slayton's general health is excellent. Slayton was off fishing in Wisconsin when the announcement was made. "Naturally, I am greatly disappointed," he said. "I'll work wherever management feels I can best contribute to the program."

Bar Assn. Chief Urges Group to Criticize Courts

CHICAGO (UPI)—The head of the American Bar Association (ABA) has accused his profession of behaving "like an ancient ostrich" in failing to exercise its "inherent right and highest duty" to criticize decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court.

John C. Satterfield, ABA president, writing in the organization's journal, said the Supreme Court itself has frequently stressed the need for such criticism and "shown itself tolerant of criticism, even where of questionable motive." Satterfield said lawyers have special responsibility to analyze and criticize rulings of the high court and that court because judicial decisions are making "fundamental changes . . . in our form of government."

Largely through court decisions, Satterfield said, the U.S. is becoming a "centralized, monolithic government with broad and sweeping control over the individual action of citizens."

Up to 300 Chutists at Large in N. Guinea

HOLLANDIA, Dutch New Guinea (AP)—Dutch authorities said today about 250 to 300 Indonesian troops are still at large in Netherlands New Guinea—wandering in the jungle without food, weapons or medicine.

These men are all that remain of about 1,000 Indonesians dropped in coastal areas earlier this year, the government claimed.

It said large numbers of Indonesian paratroopers had surrendered in the past two days and that the rest were being pursued by Dutch forces in the south and south western coastal districts.

Collection Is Costly

CRYSTAL LAKE, Ill. (UPI)—Menhery County State's Attorney Richard Cross admitted to an angry County Board of Supervisors he spent $3,190 trying to collect a $117.07 personal property tax bill from Donald Sheldon, of Madison, Wis.

THE AIROLO—Shown undergoing tests, this tractor-type vehicle with 26 balloon-like wheels will soon be carrying U.S. Marines and war supplies through anything—even quicksand. A product of the Ingalls Kalamazoo Division of Borg-Warner Corp. it is primarily a logistics craft known as Landing Vehicle Airolo (LVA). Its developers call it "the only universal terrain vehicle in the world."

Develop Tractor-Type Vehicle in Michigan for U.S. Marines

KALAMAZOO — A squat little tractor-type vehicle with 26 balloon-like wheels will soon be carrying U.S. Marines and war supplies through anything—even quicksand.

The developers of the new landing vehicle airolo (LVA) say it is "the only universal terrain vehicle in the world."

That's the description given by R. R. Bresnahan, test manager on the LVA, a product of the Ingalls Kalamazoo Division of Borg-Warner Corp.

He says it can cross bottomless swamps, deep snow drifts, or lakes, and can climb 35-degree hills. It carries a payload of 1,250 pounds or eight battle-equipped men.

Ingalls demonstrated the LVA for local newsmen here at the firm's Ft. Cluster proving grounds. It made 25 miles per hour across the beach and 64 miles per hour through clear water.

LIKE QUICKSAND
Through mud—a crusty swampy surface akin to quicksand—it moved at speeds between 10 and 15 miles per hour. The LVA is 14½ feet long, 8 feet wide, and not quite 7 feet tall, and its pneumatic tires carry only 4 pounds of air pressure. They are attached to tracks running the length of either side. The craft depends on what ingersoll calls the airolo principle of suspension and locomotion. It weighs 4,000 pounds unloaded, it has an aluminum chassis and is powered by a 102-horsepower Corvair engine, also using aluminum.

Eight LVA prototypes are being built under a $300,000 contract with the U. S. Marine Corps. The first two units will be delivered this month for marine testing under battle-like conditions.

Ingalls says it can produce larger versions to haul 20,000 pounds of men and material, produced to compete in price with wheel or track vehicles used by the armed forces.

The Marine Corps won't say what specific plans it has for the vehicle.

Young Bandits Apologize and Kiss Victims
BRICKET WOOD, England (UPI)—Two young gunmen apologized and kissed two elderly spinster sisters yesterday after robbing them of $40.

The sisters, Ena and Dilys Halley, told police they had just finished watching the transatlantic Teletar telecast when the men burst into their bedroom behind the local post office which they operate.

"Stop in your tracks and ask yourselves if you are really going on like this," Ena snapped at the men. "Because if you do, you will get terribly hurt."

"The lecture seemed to do some good because they said they were sorry and kissed us both on the cheek," said Dilys. The bandits were not too sorry. They took the cash with them.

Pigeons Find Easy Mark

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—Mae Belle Cain loves birds but enough is enough. A lame pigeon she nursed back to health last year spread the word all over town that she was good for a handout, and now she is beset by flocks of freeloaders. It is expensive feeding them and her neighbors complain they can't hang out their wash and get it back in wearable condition. FEATURE.

Letter Exchange Points to Truce in Prestige War

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new exchange of communiques between the House and Senate Appropriations committees pointed today toward a possible quick truce in the prestige war between the two groups.

The controversy, revolving around procedural matters such as who should preside at joint meetings and who shall start the annual money bills, has put the government on emergency financial rations since the fiscal year started July 1.

Not a single annual money measure has gone to the President because of the warring that started more than three months ago.

The door to a possible settlement was opened a trifle Wednesday when the chairmen of the two committees exchanged letters agreeing to a discussion of their differences. No date was set for a formal discussion session.

Reveals Phone Numbers Important to Boy, 7

DES MOINES, Iowa (U)—A 7-year-old Des Moines boy handed his mother a list of telephone numbers and asked her to keep it for him "so the other kids won't get them."

The mother checked on the numbers and found that they were for a priest, a bank, a cab company and a television repairman.

Balkan Peninsula Noted for Its Wars

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Balkan Peninsula in southeastern Europe is notorious as a powder keg of wars. For centuries various armies have marched up and down its vast reaches, dividing and conquering.

The Balkans, including Yugoslavia and Albania, today is the focal point of ever-dwindling opinion within the once-monoethnic communist sphere.

From the name Balkan comes the verb "balkanize," which means to break up into small weak and often conflicting units, the National Geographic Society reports.

GOP 'Citizens' to Raise Funds Only

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller, R-N.Y., said today his group has pledged the National Republican Citizens Committee will not support any individual candidate for the 1964 party presidential nomination.

Miller, the GOP national chairman, and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, have smoked a peace pipe over the issue.

"Bill Miller is still my chair-

Delay N-Blast at Nevada Site

Above-Ground Test Postponed Until Friday Because of Winds

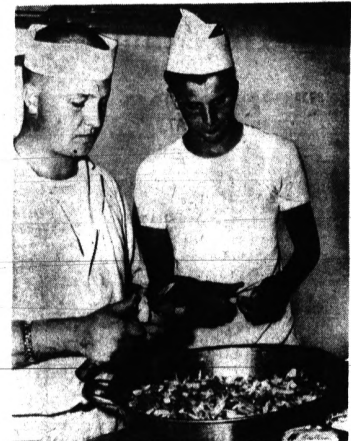

CAMP MERCURY, Nev. (AP) — An above-ground nuclear explosion scheduled today at the Nevada test site, was postponed until Friday because of unfavorable winds.

The low-power blast will be the second aerial shot since the United States resumed atmospheric tests, after a moratorium since 1958, with a similar detonation last Saturday.

A small atomic device was exploded underground Wednesday, thrusting skyward a geyser of earth and causing a ball of fire and a flash as bright as the morning sun.

Observers 30 miles away said there was no sound or shock wave. They could see only a billowing white cloud, which officials said rose to 11,000 feet.

The device was described as 30 kilograms or less. A kiloton is equal to 1,000 tons of TNT.

man, Goldwater said after a conference Wednesday. "But I still think the citizens committee will prove to be a divisive influence in the party."

Miller said in a separate interview he and Goldwater remain cooperative, even though he supports the citizens group and the senator doesn't.

DRAFT NIXON? Goldwater's associates had been convinced that the citizens group was being organized to provide a vehicle to draft Richard M. Nixon, former vice president, for the presidential nomination if he wins the governorship of California in the November balloting.

They regarded the group as hostile to both the senator and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Not so, said Miller. "It is clearly understood among all concerned that the citizens group will work in complete coordination with the national committee," he said. "There is the clear understanding that they will not support any particular candidate for the President or in the congressional elections, for that matter."

He added that the citizens committee will coordinate fund raising with the national committee and will not invade the policy-making field.

Miller indicated that the views of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had prevailed in establishing the citizens group.

"This had the whole-hearted support of President Eisenhower," Miller said. "He is the most sought-after speaker by Republican candidates today. It is only fair that we make every effort to implement his ideas in the campaign."

THEIR DEMAND Eisenhower is likely to be even more in demand as signs increase that President Kennedy intends to hit the campaign trail for Democratic candidates.

Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago said after a White House visit Wednesday that Kennedy will speak at a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Chicago Oct. 19.

Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen said, "There are certain things a President has to do for his party and this seems to be one of them."

Dirksen said in behalf of the Democratic senatorial nominee opposing Dirksen.

Kennedy, who has had staunch support from Dirksen on foreign policy matters, generally is regarded as reluctant to go all-out for the Republican leader's opponent. It apparently is Kennedy's feeling that important international policies might fare worse at the hands of some other Republican-Senate leader.

Philadelphia Probe Will Begin Sept. 4

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A grand jury probe of alleged City Hall corruption under former Mayor Richardson Dilworth has been ordered to begin Sept. 4 by Common Pleas Judge Eugene V. Alexander.

The decision Wednesday was on a petition filed by the city's Independent Republican Alliance.

Dilworth is the Democratic candidate for governor, having resigned to enter the race just February after 12 years as mayor.

His Republican opponent, U.S. Rep. William W. Scrantom, has hatched repeatedly at Dilworth's Philadelphia administration.

4 Red Nations Carry Account of U.S. Telstar

VIENNA (UPI) — Four Communist nations carried accounts of America's telstar experiment yesterday but only one voiced any enthusiasm.

Broadcasts from Warsaw, Moscow, Budapest and Prague all gave factual accounts of the experiments with the communications satellite. But only Prague radio called it "an indisputable scientific and technical success."

Prague radio said the feat was "an example of how a broad field of activity could be opened to international cooperation and complete disarmament."

Khrushchev Rehashes an Old Speech

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Premier Khrushchev's speech to the United Nations last night was a jolly one with more needles than a dressmaker, he'll probably poke one at the West soon again just to see it jump.

This week in Moscow he talked more than two hours without saying anything new. Yet, just because he's Khrushchev, he made front pages all over America, which is getting pretty good mileage out of a rehash.

STUCK ON A POINTS

He sounds stuck on three points: Military spending, nuclear testing, and Berlin.

The military spending is using up money he'd like to put into the Russian economy but can't because, as he made clear, Russia is going to keep on increasing its armaments.

Last May the Soviet government boosted most prices 30 per cent, but prices 25 per cent to pay for new farm equipment and explained to the people this had to be done because the money could not come out of military spending. (Although the American economy is humping a bit, Congress this year voted another $13 billion for missile purchases, and on Wednesday the Senate authorized almost another $4 billion for the space program.)

Khrushchev could save himself a lot of money by agreeing with the United States to disarmament. The trouble here is that the kind he wants the United States won't buy and the kind this country wants he won't touch.

NO INSPECTION
He went through all this in his speech. He wants disarmament without the inspection system that the United States insists is necessary before it agrees to disarm, to prevent cheating.

In mid-June the 11-nation disarmament conference wound up three months of getting nowhere in a barrage of charges and countercharges but will cheerfully resume talks again next Monday without any more sign of agreement than it had before.

Nevertheless, Khrushchev admitted to feeling the economic pinch. He said, "We are by no means happy that we have to spend so much effort and resources on the production of modern weapons."

But, to justify it, he said the West is planning preventive war.

And he frankly stated the Soviets will continue building up their nuclear stockpiles.

The Russians last fall suddenly announced an end to a voluntary ban on nuclear testing and began testing.

The reason may have been that they felt the West was getting ahead in the fine art of nuclear destruction and they couldn't afford to be outdone. In turn, the United States, now to be outdone either, resumed testing.

DENOUNCED U.S.

Without mentioning what Russia did, Khrushchev denounced the United States for what it did.

Last summer Khrushchev created a new crisis in Berlin, and it turned into an ugly one. He backed away from an explosion. And there hasn't been a settle-for quite a while now has been met. Since this was a setback simply marking time.

for him it's no wonder he keeps blabbing about it.

In his speech he suggested the Western allies get their troops out of West Berlin and let them be replaced by troops from two Russian satellites, Poland and Czechoslovakia, along with Norwegian and Danish or Dutch and Belgian troops.

By this arrangement, Communist troops would be allowed to go into West Berlin where they weren't allowed before. The thing wrong with this, the State Department said, was that the Russians had proposed it before and were turned down.

All in all, if Khrushchev didn't gain anything by the speech, he didn't lose anything either, which probably explains why he didn't mind making it since his policy. And there hasn't been a settle-for quite a while now has been met. Since this was a setback simply marking time.

Sylvan Lake Lets Black-Top Contract

A $14,633.80 contract to lay black-top over 1 1/4 miles of Sylvan Lake streets was approved last night by Sylvan City Council.

The job was awarded to the low bidder, Ann Arbor Construction Co., and involves laying a 2-inch bituminous top. Base work will be done by the city.

This is the third-year of the city's black-top program, according to City Manager LARRY TRIVETT. Only an estimated half mile will be left for next year.

France Paying Debts Quickly but Buying U.S. Gold

WASHINGTON (AP)—France is paying off ahead of schedule $283.4 million of debts owed the United States and is purchasing $112.5 million of American gold.

The mixture of good and bad news was disclosed today by the Treasury in an exchange of correspondence between Secretary Douglas Dillon and French Finance Minister Giscard d'Estaing.

The gold purchase will mark the first significant reduction in the U.S. gold supply in about two months. It will reduce the Treasury's gold holdings to $163 billion, the lowest level in more than two decades.

According to the announcement, France will buy the gold "in order to realize a more customary relationship between gold and dollars in French international reserves."

Pacifists, Backers Get 6 Months in Jail

SAN FRANCISCO (UPB)—Three seagoing pacifists and two men who sponsored their short-lived attempt to sail to the U.S. nuclear test zone were sentenced to six-month jail terms yesterday.

The three were crewmen of the Everyman I, which began its second voyage toward the Johnston Island test zone on the Fourth of July. Like the first attempt of the Everyman I, the voyage came to an end off the California coast.

U.S. District Judge William T. Swelgart held them in contempt for defying an injunction against their departure from San Francisco Bay. He said their action was further aggravated by the fact that they were aware the crewmen on Everyman I's first trip were given 30-day jail sentences for a similar offense.

'Oh, 'Scooze Me, I Jusht Wanna Rob Your Bank'

DETROIT (AP)—William Birmingham walked out of his birthday party yesterday and into a National Bank of Detroit branch at 4300 Kercheval to demand "all the money," police said.

A friend, who had also been at the party, dragged the 31-year old celebrant from the bank. "We wouldn't get into trouble," he was told.

But he was too late. Birmingham was turned over to federal authorities and his friend was held as a police witness.

Officers said both men were unarmed and had been drinking.

Excluding defense outlays, United States foreign-affairs activities this year cost more than $4 billion compared with less than $10 billion in 1959.

U.S. Freezes 2 Warehouses

Accuses Monroe Firm of Grain Shortages and Calls for Hearing

DETROIT (AP)—The federal government yesterday ordered frozen the operations of two grain warehouses owned by Haddix and Sons, Inc., former owners of two other warehouses, through into receivership.

U.S. attorney Lawrence Gubow won an order from Judge Ralph Freeman temporarily halting operations at the firm's warehouses in Blissfield and Monroe. As in the Woodbury and Decatur cases, large grain shortages were reported.

(Gubow accused the firm of being short $551,086 worth of corn in which the government owns or is obligated to protect. He said a routine check uncovered the new shortages.)

He said the Blissfield elevator yesterday had only 42,323 bushels of 708,523 bushels of government stored corn it should have had. He said the Monroe elevator had only 188,996 bushels instead of the 412,389 bushels it should have had.

Haddix & Sons was the original owner of elevators at Woodbury and Decatur which were placed under state and federal receivership. Federal and state authorities have promised that the interests of all parties will be protected.

Gubow also won an order calling for a receiver to be named for the Blissfield and Monroe warehouses. Judge Freeman set a hearing for July 19 on whether his temporary restraining should be made permanent.

Abe's Boyhood Home Now National Shrine

LINCOLN CITY, Ind. (UPI)—The beloved boyhood home of one of America's greatest men today belongs to all Americans.

The old Thomas Lincoln farm in the quiet countryside of Spencer County where Abraham Lincoln grew into manhood has become a national shrine.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, who accepted the shrine on behalf of the federal government, envisioned these assembled that, "The Lincoln story is ever fresh — and this will keep it so."

"A lover of the outdoors, I am delighted to know that in the fields and forests of southern Indiana, Lincoln learned of nature and its beauty," he said.

DEDICATED FOR ALL

"While originally conceived and completed by the people of Indiana in memory of Lincoln's years in Indiana and to his mother who is buried here, this memorial is dedicated today for all of the people of our land," he said.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., master of ceremonies, noted that more than most men who aspire to public office, Lincoln was to know bitter disappointment and defeat.

"In Lincoln," he said, "we all know there is a strong proof that greatness can grow from apparent mediocrity."

Dr. Louis Warren of Fort Wayne, head of the Lincoln National Life Foundation, traced Lincoln's life between the age of 7 and 21 when he lived on the farm.

The memorial covers about 140 acres of the present state park site. The shrine will include the memorial building, the Nancy Hanks Lincoln Memorial — burial place of Lincoln's mother — and the cabin site of the Lincoln family.

New Zealand Expels 2 'Spying' Soviet Aides

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—New Zealand expelled two Soviet diplomats today on charges of spying.

U.S., Red Chinese Resume Talks Today

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The United States was expected to keep probing Chinese Communist intentions in the Formosa Strait as the two countries resumed contacts today.

U.S. Ambassador John M. Cabot and Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan were to hold the 12th session of the ambassadorial talks which began at Geneva in 1958.

It is their first known contact since a top secret meeting June 23 at which Cabot reportedly reiterated American obligations to defend Nationalist China from attack and also assured Wang that the United States would not support any Chinese nationalist movement against the Chinese mainland.

Winners of Medal-of-Honor Marking Anniversary Today

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A century ago today President Lincoln signed legislation for presentation of Medals of Honor to Army men who distinguished themselves in battle "during the present rebellion."

Since then, the highest military decoration—for valor above and beyond the call of duty—has been awarded 2,139 times to Army men who fought in nine big or little wars.

World War I and II and of the Korea fighting have been awarded the medal. Selected to place the wreaths were Army Capt. Ola L. Mize, Ft. Benning, Ga., and Luther Skaggs, Washington. Mize was decorated for valor while a Marine private in Korea. Skaggs, national chairman of the Medal of Honor Society, won his honor as a private in World War II. He led an assault against the Japanese on Guam.

When the Medal of Honor was created on Dec. 21, 1861, it was for award to the Navy. But, the following July the Army was authorized to use it also. The Navy has conferred the medal on 729 Navy men, 273 Marines and one Coast Guardsman.

In addition, the Medal of Honor has been awarded under special act of Congress to 10 others. These include Col. Charles A. Lindbergh; Maj. Gen. Adolphus Greeley, the explorer; the three American unknowns and those of Belgium, Britain, France, Italy and Romania after World War I.

But it was in the Civil War that the preponderance of Medals of Honor were awarded—1,199.

The Civil War list would have remained even higher if years later, in 1916, a War Department board hadn't reviewed the circumstances of awards. From the Medal of Honor rolls, 911 names were clipped.

After the sifting out, the medal list was confined to those who had fought, and in many instances died, with valor or who otherwise, like Lindbergh, had brought high honor to the nation.

Result of City, County Changes

Taxes Up 17 Cents Per $1,000

For some 35,000 Pontiac taxpayers the worst is over. The bad news came last week in the form of their 1962 city-school tax bill. Nothing but good news lies ahead.

To clear any confusion about the old tax cost to Pontiac property owners this year, the picture looks like this:

City taxes went up, county taxes will go down and school taxes will be the same as for 1961.

The net result is a total tax rate rise of only 17 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation. The entire increase came in tax bills mailed out by the city assessor's office last week.

3-CENT HIKE
The city tax rate is $13.86 per $1,000 this year. It was $13.80 last year — a 3-cent hike.

The county tax rate in Pontiac will be 97 per $1,000 this year. It was $7.99 per $1,000 last year, according to City Assessor Edward C. Blo. This is a 9-cent drop.

The 1961 school tax rate of $4.04 per $1,000 will go unchanged. For property assessed at $5,000, the total increase this year will be only 15 cents.

The city-school tax bill increased $1.30 but the county tax bill, mailed in December, will be 45 cents less.

The party-line telephone has enabled people to know the most intimate facts about people they've never even met. . . . The real movie fan is the guy who goes to a drive-in movie even when he "can't" have a date. . . . Not only is the horse becoming rare, but so are people who'll work like one. —Earl William

Although the big hike came in last week's tax bills, City Treasurer Walter A. Giddings reports tax collections so far have been favorable.

"Through Monday we collected $254,518.33 on a total spread of $10,885,817.80," he said today.

"While this includes only five days of collection, it would indicate our percentage of collections should hold up equally with past years."

The collection percentage last year was 97.01 per cent, while $7.18 per cent of the taxes levied were collected in 1961.

This is considered a satisfactory level of collection according to Marvin M. Alward, city finance director.

Skin Diver at Home Waiting by Telephone

Waterford Township police officer Richard Beckman always wears the three big summer holidays at home close to a telephone which he hopes won't ring.

But it usually does. Beckman is a skin diver. When summoned about a drowning, he is always available and often is the first diver to arrive on the scene of trouble. Drownings take place anytime of the year but the holidays invariably are times for extreme vigilance.

"It's seldom that we don't have a drowning report on Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day," he said. "I feel obligated to be available."

Beckman, like other divers whose work is strictly voluntary, seemingly feels duty-bound to offer his services regardless of any personal sacrifice involved.

Having been a skin diver for eight years, Beckman is familiar with nearly all the Oakland County lakes.

In addition to two or three dives into the Detroit River, he has also been in some of the lakes in northern Michigan.

He even made an exploratory submergence off the coast of Florida into the cold waters of the Atlantic Ocean.

It was on a diving mission in the Detroit River a few years ago that Beckman almost met disaster. He was searching for a drowning victim on a cold winter night.

Moments after slipping through a hole in the river ice, Beckman's protective mask was knocked from his face by the ice.

Fortunately he reached out in the darkness and found the mask, quickly pressing it back upon his face.

READY FOR DIVE — Skin diver Richard Beckman (Moore) Beckman prepares for a dive. Beckman, a member of the Waterford Township police department, has accumulated 1,000 underwater hours in his eight years of diving.

Plans for Lake County OK'd, Go to Washington

Under the program, projects recommended for Lake County are in the areas of recreation, agriculture, industry and commerce.

Districts Ruling Awaits Meeting
State Supreme Court Mulls Scholle Suit, but Puts Off Decision

LANSING (UPI) — A decision on the constitutionality of Michigan's State Senate districting plan apparently will await a conference of the Supreme Court next Wednesday, court officials said today.

The seven justices considering a suit filed nearly three years ago by state AFL-CIO President August Scholle held a two-hour conference yesterday but handed down no decision.

Court officials said the justices could confer by telephone and reach a decision before the July 13 meeting. Previous practices, however, indicated the decision would be handed down after the justices' meeting here.

Scholle asked the high court to declare a 1952 amendment to the state constitution invalid as a violation of the federal constitutional guarantee of "equal protection" under the law. The state provision froze the 34 state Senate districts.

Atty. Gen. Fred J. Kelley has agreed with Scholle's contention that the 1952 amendment was unconstitutional, but the two disagreed on a proposed remedy.

Kelley, who represented state officials against whom the suit was filed, contended the high court should order the legislature to re-district the Senate. He said a court order for an at-large senate election should be made as an alternative to legislative reapportionment.

Scholle wanted the high court to order the Aug. 7 primary Senate election called off.

Japanese Told: Quit N-Protests

Be Prepared to Get Own Nuclear Weapons, Former Leader Says

TOKYO (AP)—Former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida declared today Japan should stop grumbling about nuclear weapons and be prepared to acquire them herself if necessary.

The 82-year-old elder statesman made this statement, one which is bound to stir up controversy in this nuclear-conscious nation, at a luncheon of the Japan-America Society, Former Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and U.S. Ambassador Edwin O. Reischauer were in the audience.

Yoshida, who has just returned from a world tour, is regarded as the most powerful behind-the-scenes political figure in Japan. He is regularly consulted by Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda.

The outspoken statesman, known for his pro-American and anti-Communist views, also said Japan must build up its defense not only to ward off attack on Japan but to stave off communism in Asia.

Ikeda repeatedly protested both to the United States and the Soviet Union against continued nuclear testing. The issue is one which many Japanese consider important in the light of their World War II experience.

The cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki were atom-bombed by the United States with great loss of life and physical injury from radiation. No politician of stature has dared to suggest Japan itself should prepare itself for the possession of nuclear weapons.

Stahlins Favors Hike in Legislator's Pay
BELDING (UPI) — A pay raise for legislators is all right with him, says Sen. John H. Stahlins, R-Belding.

Stahlins, a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, said he was replying to a criticism by Gov. Swainson of the proposed pay hike.

Swainson had said he believed legislators should get more pay but declared the approval of a $2,000 annual hike came at a bad time and left a bad taste because of legislative failure to resolve the state's financial problems.

"Gov. Swainson knows that the only way to get competent men into government is to pay them a decent wage," Stahlins said.

Expresses Fear for Stolen Art

Owner of 35 Paintings Thinks They'll Be Taken Behind Iron Curtain

LONDON (UPI) — The owner of 35 modern paintings stolen from a society art gallery expressed fear today the thieves might try and smuggle their $1.1-million haul behind the Iron Curtain.

Jacques O'Hana said the paintings taken yesterday from his gallery in the fashionable Mayfair section of London by knowledgeable burglars "are too well known" to be sold in Western countries.

Police also sought three young men who tried to steal a $20,000 Rembrandt last night from the Dulwich College art gallery here.

A gallery cleaning man said he spotted two men trying to remove the painting, "Portrait of a Young Man," from its frame. They and an accomplice fled and the Rembrandt was left undamaged on the gallery floor.

Scotland Yard and Interpol, the international police agency, watched ports and airfields to try and prevent the O'Hana paintings from being taken out of England.

The theft, said to be the largest in British history, was the third major art burglary here and the sixth in Europe in less than a year. The stolen works of art were valued at about $5 million.

O'Hana, who said he owned the stolen paintings himself, said the thieves took 12 works by Renoir, DRIVER UNINJURED — Mrs. Bertha Naomi Dynes, 44, of San Francisco, let her daughter out of the car. She pulled away, failing to notice the 10-foot pole on the truck ahead of her.

Glass flew as the pole pierced the car. But nary a splinter of glass or wood touched Mrs. Dynes.

Most valuable single work was an undated painting by Vuillard estimated to be worth $82,000.

Rusk, Red Air Berlin-Again

Soviet Envoy Dobrynin Seen as Pressed by Russian Public Opinion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin were meeting today for another round of arguments on the dedicated Berlin issue.

Their afternoon conference at the State Department came against a background of increased public pressure from Russia for a settlement of the explosive issue on Kremlin terms.

Rusk asked for today's meeting primarily to probe for any change in Russia's position prior to talks he plans to hold in Geneva within the next week or ten days with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The U. S. secretary also was expected to press Dobrynin for some reply to a two-week-old Allied proposal for East-West action to end the shootings and other incidents along the Communist-built wall in Berlin.

Rusk was holding a news conference just prior to seeing Dobrynin and he was sure to be questioned extensively concerning prospects for progress on the Berlin and German problems.

Other subjects likely to be covered at the news session included the question of U. S. recognition of the new Algerian government, American strategy when disarmament talks resume next week in Geneva and progress in the anti-Communist struggle in Southeast Asia.

Today's Rusk-Dobrynin meeting was their sixth Berlin session in three months.

Officials held out little hope for any progress but hoped that some headway might be made when Rusk and Gromyko get together in Geneva.

The Russian and American ministers plan to be in the Swiss city for the signing of the international agreement on Laos and have agreed to use the opportunity to meet, along with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home, for another review of the Berlin and German problems.

Rusk and Gromyko held several long talks on the subject last March when both attended the opening of the disarmament conference in Geneva.

Nixon Expected to Get More Time for Expense Tally

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, who failed to file a personal report of primary election campaign expenses by the Tuesday midnight deadline, probably will get an extension.

That opinion was expressed Wednesday by Secretary of State Frank M. Johnson, who released statements detailing candidate spending in the June 5 primary. Jordan said the former vice president — Republican opponent of Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown — probably would be granted an extension by a court. Jordan added that a court doubtless would order Nixon's name on the November ballot even if he didn't file a statement.

In Los Angeles, Nixon's office said he would have no comment. But the county registrar of voters there, Benjamin S. Hite, said Nixon plans to ask for an extension of the time limit. Hite said such a request was not unusual.

INSIDE GROUND STATION "ADONIS" AT ANDOVER, MAINE. Giant antenna inside men near rim of horn concentrates signals to Telstar in a narrow, powerful beam. In the same antenna a receiver amplifies signals coming from Telstar ten billion times.

New "TELSTAR" relays phone calls and TV pictures for first time!

Bell System microwave-in-sky satellite is latest communications triumph for America arising from telephone research

The world's first private enterprise communications satellite is now being used for dramatic experiments in relaying telephone calls and television internationally.

Its name: Telstar. It was launched from Cape Canaveral at Bell System expense by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Telstar receives signals beamed to it from a ground station, amplifies them and transmits them to another station on the ground below — perhaps an ocean away from the first one. The new satellite thus acts as a microwave relay station in the sky, enabling voices, TV pictures and data messages to leap thousands of miles in a new and exciting way.

The ground stations in the U.S. now being used for Telstar were built by the Bell System at Andover, Maine, and Holmdel, New Jersey. Organizations abroad have built stations in England and France. The latter, a near replica of the station in Maine, is being assembled with Bell System cooperation. A receiving station in Italy will be ready late this year, and another in West Germany next year.

Telstar is a first major experimental step toward a world-wide satellite communications system that was first proposed as a practical venture at Bell Telephone Laboratories. Progress toward such a system would not have reached its present state without continuing research and development by the private communications industry, including six fundamental Bell System contributions — the transistor, the solar battery, the traveling wave tube, ruby masers, the waveguide, and new antennas for the ground stations with innovations in circuitry.

Above all else, Telstar is the latest achievement in an unending Bell System quest — the search for ways to make your telephone service still better, more economical, and more useful.

Set Aug. 1 Arraignment on Pulp Price Charges

GRAND RAPIDS 11 — Seven pulp and paper manufacturers and three of their officers will be arraigned in U.S. District Court here Aug. 1 on charges of putting an illegal price squeeze on small Michigan pulpwood suppliers.

Several of the accused immediately denied the charges.

An indictment returned by a federal grand jury yesterday charged them with unlawful conspiracy to hold down the prices they pay to loggers and wood dealers.

The criminal indictment was coupled with the filing of a civil antitrust suit.

Defendants in both the indictment and civil suit were:

Packaging Corp. of America, Evanston, Ill., and Gordon A. Bonfield, a vice president and director; American Excelsior Corp., Chicago, and Edgar W. Hagis, a vice president and director.

Also indicted were Menasha Wooden Ware Corp., Menasha, Wis., and Roman L. Suss, manager of its mill at Oconto; Scott Paper Co., Philadelphia; S. D. Warren Co., Boston; Hammermill Paper Co., Erie, Pa., and Abitibi Corp., Alameda.

A spokesman for Packaging Corp. of America denied the firm had conspired to hold down prices for pulpwood it purchased.

He said the firm was confident that the court will decide the corporation's activities have not violated the antitrust laws.

The corporation has three plants in Grand Rapids and one at Manistee.

A spokesman for Scott said, "The company is confident that it will be vindicated if the case comes to trial."

In Boston an official of S. D. Warren Co. said, "We are not guilty."

An official of Abitibi Corp. denied any knowledge of price fixing.

In Detroit, Suss denied his company had conspired to hold down pulpwood prices paid Michigan loggers and wood dealers.

Suss added the thought that the basis of the indictments might be what he called a research group formed several years ago to discuss methods of utilizing forest wood that was decaying or becoming obsolete.

The group became the Lower Michigan Pulpwood Research Association but it never discussed prices or price fixing, Suss said.

Sees Write-Off Move as Business Stimulant

DETROIT 11 — The president of Cross Co., leading automation equipment manufacturer, today described a "Treasury Department move as a 'very strong stimulant' to purchase of his firm's products and machine tools.

The executive, Milton Cross Jr., said the department's release of liberalized depreciation schedules for plant and equipment investment "will open a whole new era of heavy capital expenditure by the manufacturing industries that could last a decade."

Airline Service Urged by Solon

Broomfield Requests CAB Okay on Petition by Area Civic Leaders

U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, has urged the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to "give early consideration" to a request by local civic leaders for direct airline service to Cleveland and Chicago.

In a letter to CAB Chairman Alan S. Boyd, Broomfield urged that the flights be authorized since Oakland County's rapidly expanding business and industrial climate has established a need for such service.

Officials of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce petitioned the CAB for the flights earlier this week.

Present one-plane airline service from Pontiac is to Sault Ste. Marie.

Broomfield pointed out that Pontiac Municipal Airport is "within easy driving distance of the center of the Detroit Metropolitan Area's center of population, which actually is . . . in Oakland County."

He listed freeway construction in this area, Pontiac's urban renewal programs and a population increase of 515,101 residents in Oakland and Macomb counties in the last decade as plus factors representing a need for the flights.

Authorization of present North Central Airlines flights at Pontiac's airport actually expired in June. The flights will continue, however, until a further ruling from the CAB.

Local officials are hopeful of a CAB decision by October.

Fiji Native in State for Adventist Parley

GRAND LEDGE IN — A native of Fiji Island, wearing aloha and sandals, arrived at Grand Ledge yesterday to attend the summer camp meeting of the Michigan Seventh Day Adventists.

The 41-year-old islander is Sainson Vula, an evangelist for the Central Pacific Union Mission of Adventists. Vula, father of eight children, the youngest 10 months and oldest 17, will speak to youth and adult groups at the camp meeting.

Accompanying him is another Adventist mission leader, J. B. Keith of New Guinea, an Australian who is president of the Coral Sea Mission of the Adventist Church.

The visitors from the Pacific area are in the United States as delegates to the 40th quadrennial convention of the general conference of Adventists, to be held July 26-Aug. 4 at San Francisco.

Air Center Finds Use for Its 48-Star Flags

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The National Aviation Facilities Experimental Center near here files an American flag with 48 stars during good weather but flies one with only 48 during bad weather. A spokesman said the center was overlooked with 48-star flags when the new one became official.

Princess Grace Says She Won't Return to Movies

PARIS (AP) — "I would like to act but it is not possible," Princess Grace of Monaco said in an interview published yesterday by the newspaper "France-Soir."

The princess was quoted as saying that a conflict in working dates with Alfred Hitchcock was not the only reason for canceling plans to make the movie "Marlie" in Hollywood this summer.

"That was not the only problem," she said. "The return to acting did not set well with the public. They thought that it was not in keeping with my place as a princess."

*Public opinion certainly influenced me greatly because it is here that I have my first duties. The Monaco are very near to my heart and I have my duties to them."

This statement seemed to close the door against her ever returning to films.

Values Are Twisted

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — "This represents a pretty twisted set of values," Louisville Court Judge Daniel P. Marshall said recently as he sent a 35-year-old defendant to jail for holding up a bus driver. The crime occurred just prior to Mother's Day. The youth said he staged the holdup to get money to buy his mother a present.

Cathay was the medieval European name for China. It was popularized by Marco Polo.

Have Fun in County's Lakes but Play It Safe

This Is Dangerous . . . Water Perils . . . So Is This

Young Swimmer Gets Out of Reach

Water Perils Lurk for All

By DON FERMOYLE
A 22-month-old boy and a 70-year-old man . . . What did they have in common?
Nothing except the way they died.
The little boy was the youngest drowning victim of 1961. The aged man was the oldest.
If history repeats itself, 19 more persons will meet the same fate this year.
Some will be overconfident teenagers certain they can "make it to the other side of the lake."
Others will be older persons forgetful of the strength the years have sapped from their muscles and hearts.
MANY UNDER 10
A shocking percentage of lives lost will be those of children under 10 years old.
Twelve of the 1961 drowning victims were youngsters in this age group.
In each of the drowning accidents involving children last year, the young victims were left alone, sometimes only for minutes, or left in the care of nonswimming adults at beaches, docks and swimming pools.

Nearly all the seven youths from 14 to 18 years old who drowned last year showed a lack of judgment which proved fatal.
Swimming or boating in weed-infested, unsupervised or similarly dangerous waters was a contributing factor in nearly every teen-age death.
Most of the 10 adults who drowned in 1961 did so because they ignored many of the water safety rules.
The incompatible combination of cold water and hot weather resulted in heart attacks for some of these victims. Some simply went down while swimming alone.
Half of the "over-21" victims drowned as the result of boating accidents. Overcrowding or standing up in a boat was the chief cause of the accidents.
Common sense may have saved all 29 lives lost on the county's waterways last year.

SHE'S A LIFESAVER—Resuci-Ann, a life-like plastic dummy used for artificial respiration instruction, already has been instrumental in saving a life. Howard Compton of White Lake Township took a course in which the model was used to teach the rescue technique. Two days later Compton saved a boy's life with mouth-to-mouth respiration at Lake Neva. Shown with "Ann" (from left) are Howard Canfield, president of the Pontiac Rotary Club which donated this model and plans to contribute another to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department; Donald Kraft, safety director for the department; and Edward Offer, the Detroit Edison Co. instructor who taught Compton the rescue technique.

Immediate Use of Rescue Breathing Saves Lives

Minutes could mean the difference between life and death for victims of drowning, asphyxiation or electric shock.
Trooper Larry Miller of the Pontiac State Police Post says mouth-to-mouth rescue breathing usually is effective only if applied within five minutes after a victim is recovered from the water.

Generally, there is not enough time to phone for police or firemen. The first person at the scene of a drowning should know how to use this life-saving technique.

A life-sized doll called "Resuci-Anne" is now used by the state police and other local emergency agencies to demonstrate the mouth-to-mouth process.
Miller is available to any organization in the county which wants instruction in the emergency technique.

In the series of pictures below, Miller instructs Pontiac Press reporter Don Fermoyle in the simple yet effective steps of artificial respiration.

CLEAR THROAT—Immediately after recovery from water, remove any foreign matter from victim's mouth with fingers. Strike victim sharply on the back to dislodge any obstructions in air passages. Stretch victim out on his back.

TILT HEAD—Place one hand under victim's neck. Lift up neck so the head tilts back and downward. Open mouth by pulling jaw from bottom. Pinch off nostrils with fingers of other hand.

BREATHE DEEPLY—With one hand still under neck and the other cutting off air through nose, take a deep breath. Form a tight seal between your mouth and victim's. Blow air into victim's vigorously. Use less pressure with children.

REPEAT PROCESS—After first breath, draw back and inhale again. Repeat 12 times a minute for adults and 20 times per minute for children. Miller explained that mouth-to-mouth respiration may be used with heart attack victims.

Would Authorize Sales in Michigan

Rules in Favor of More Panhandle Pipeline

WASHINGTON (AP) — A power commission examiner ruled yesterday that Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., Kansas City, should be authorized to construct natural gas pipeline facilities to cost about $68.6 million.

The new facilities would boost deliveries to customers in eight states.

The decision, by Examiner William L. Ellis, will become a final commission order unless a review is initiated within 30 days. The commission, at request of Panhandle, shortened the usual 60-day period for initiation of review.

Ellis also held that Panhandle should be authorized to sell 46,000,000 cubic feet of gas annually to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Detroit, during the seven winter months and develop the Howland, Mich., gas storage fields. He ruled further that the commission should approve pipeline facilities already constructed by Tyngline Gas Co., Houston, a subsidiary of Panhandle.

These facilities cost about $22.46 million and were built under a temporary commission authorization. Panhandle's system extends from Texas through Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan. The proposed new facilities would give Panhandle the additional capacity to serve a total contract demand of 1,675,983,000 cubic feet daily to make the off-winter sales to Michigan Consolidated.

The proposed sales to Michigan would continue 57,525,000 cubic feet in annual storage sales to Michigan Gas Storage Co., Jackson, Mich.; 5.5 billion cubic feet annually or off-winter sales to Union Gas Co. of Canada, and sales to direct industrial customers.

The proposals which Ellis ruled should be authorized were covered by him from a Consolidated proceeding arising from an original proposal by Panhandle to abandon the sale of 175 million cubic feet of gas daily to Michigan Consolidated at Detroit.

Ellis said his decision covered those phases of Panhandle's proposed construction upon which no contest or protest has arisen or is to be expected.

He said he severed these matters so that construction can proceed without delay and be accounted for in the history of the commission, continuing for about 200 days with a record of over 31,000 pages.

Among the issues left for further decision are Panhandle's proposal to use its Waverly, Ill., storage field; proposed increased sales to Michigan Gas Storage; some industrial sales; construction of three-mile sales lateral line at DeWitt, Ohio, and allocation questions with respect to two other pipeline companies — American Louisiana Pipe Line Co. and Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., both of Detroit.

When a man walked in with a brown bag under his arm and handed her a note saying the bag contained explosives which would be detonated if he failed to hand over the money, Mrs. Burton said, "you're nuts."

The handoff took place during the current season and also to settle the proposed sale to Michigan Consolidated.

The examiner said the proceedings have already resulted in a hearing, which was perhaps the most expensive in the history of the commission, continuing for about 200 days with a record of over 31,000 pages.

Clara Bow Left Out of Rex Bell's Will

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — L. G. Rex Bell left the bulk of his estate to two sons and made no bequest to his widow, former movie star Clara Bow.

In a will filed for probate Wednesday, Bell's estate was estimated only as "in excess of $10,000."

The will, dated Nov. 17, 1961, mentioned Miss Bow, the "cousin of Rex Bell," only in a clause declaring, "I am married to Clara Bow Bell, but . . . we have lived separate and apart for many years."

Miss Bow has lived in seclusion for 10 years or more in the Los Angeles area. However, she came to Las Vegas Monday to attend a second funeral service for Bell, conducted in Glendale, Calif. The initial rites were conducted in Las Vegas.

Big Bad John Good as Gold, Doctor Finds

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — "Big Bad John" turned out to be an all-right guy.

As Dr. Thomas Baker got out of his car Wednesday on a downtown street, his wallet, containing $18,000 cash, slid unnoticed from his pocket.

A tall, husky man picked up the wallet and caught Baker two blocks away, Baker offered the man a reward but the stranger replied, "Maybe you can do something for me some day."

The stranger would tell Baker only that his name was Jack, then added as he walked away, "but some of my friends call me 'Big Bad John'."

Titan 2 Scores Second Success

Giant Missile Strikes Target 5,000 Miles Away in S. Atlantic

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — America's military and space potential has been strengthened by the second successful test firing in three flights of the mammoth Titan 2 rocket.

The 10-story projectile, most powerful missile now planned by the United States, blasted off from Cape Canaveral Wednesday and struck a target 5,000 miles away in the south Atlantic Ocean.

SECOND SHOT FAILED

The Air Force announced success of the mission, which duplicated the maiden flight on March 8. The second test failed on June 8 because of trouble with the second stage.

The purpose of the flight was to further evaluate rocket design, propulsion, guidance and other systems.

Initial emphasis will be on developing Titan 2 as a black-battle weapon capable of delivering nuclear payloads like those designed for Atlas and Titan 1 to targets more than 5,000 miles away.

Once operational, hopefully in about a year, Titan 2 is scheduled to be the heaviest Gemini, Gemini, Gemini space capsule, the follow-on program to Project Mercury.

AF Sets Record With High-Flying Sampling Balloon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force said Wednesday a new balloon, designed to maintain constant altitude despite variations in day and night temperatures, has established a new record by remaining aloft for 30 days.

The big balloon, carrying a 50-pound payload of instruments for sampling the air at high altitudes, was launched from Bermuda June 10 and descended about 1,200 miles northwest of Honolulu Tuesday.

It had maintained a constant altitude of 66,000 feet since the launching, traveling meanwhile about 8,000 miles.

The balloon was equipped with a timing device to bring it down at the end of desired data-gathering flights.

Borrow Ideas on 'Materials Handling' When Stocking Canned Goods

When you place that armload of canned food on your pantry shelves, you can vote yourself a big dividend in time saved and back strain avoided, by lifting them in the correct manner — to the correct places.

This is the counsel of the "Tin Can Pantry," a new program of advice on purchasing and handling tin-canned food, as well as menu-planning, sponsored by Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation.

BARBECUED LAMB SHANKS — Barbecued lamb shanks make a unique barbecue, and one easily for these shanks should be marinated in a special sauce twenty-four hours before they are wrapped in quilted foil and roasted.

Man Cook Marinates Lamb Before Broiling

Men who like to cook have a flair for adding an exotic herb or ingredient which makes a truly gourmet dish. Here's an outdoor barbecue recipe for Barbecued Lamb Shanks American that was originated by J. D. Stevens of Fresno, Calif. This recipe was so delicious it won a prize in the annual Kaiser Cook-Off.

So next time you plan an outdoor barbecue and want a delicious off-beat menu, try these lamb shanks. Allow time to marinate them for twenty-four hours in the pungent marinade of onions, garlic, green peppers, oregano, parsley, wine vinegar and oil. The marinating time is one of the secrets of this recipe's great success.

- Barbecued Lamb Shanks American
- 4 lamb shanks
 - Salt
 - 2 teaspoons peppercorns, freshly ground
 - 1 tablespoon monosodium glutamate
 - 2 large Bermuda onions, chopped
 - 2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
 - green pepper, finely chopped
 - 1 tablespoon ground oregano
 - 2 cups coarsely chopped parsley
 - 1/2 cup olive oil
 - 4 strips fat bacon
 - 1 cup chopped fresh mint
 - 1 cup tangerine or orange juice
 - 1 prepared grape leaves for 4 lions

Add Buttermilk to Ground Beef, Fry in Deep Fat

Cultured buttermilk is truly a pampered dairy product. In days gone by it was the variable liquid left after cream had been churned into butter.

Today it is produced by scientifically adding bacteria cultures to pasteurized skim or partially skimmed milk. Cultured buttermilks are uniform in taste, texture and nutrients.

Just as buttermilk becomes your favorite mealtime dish no matter how plain or fancy.

Beefy Buttermilk Balls are crisp, meaty wonders. Combine 1 pound ground beef, 1 cup buttermilk and season with sweet-tartar sauce, ginger, grated onion, salt and pepper. Beat until light and fluffy.

Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls into deep fat 300 degrees. Fry 2 to 3 minutes, and drain.

Modern Way of Making Vanilla Sugar Is Easy

Many traditional recipes call for "vanilla sugar." Originally, this was made by tucking one or two split vanilla beans in a canister of sugar and letting it stand for a week before using. Much more modern is this way of making vanilla sugar with pure vanilla extract.

Turn one pound confectioners' or granulated sugar into a can of sugar with a lid. Pour 3 teaspoons pure vanilla extract in a small bowl of cotton. Place on a piece of aluminum foil and lay on top of aluminum foil and lay on top of aluminum foil. Let stand 1 week before using.

right way. They call it "materials handling." They conduct time-and-motion studies which establish the fine differences between the right ways to handle and the wrong ways — and the right places to put things and the wrong places.

Borrowing some of these principles from industry, the Tin Can Pantry program advises housewives to arrange tin-canned food in properly spaced shelves so that:

- Most frequently used canned food items are kept in a "maximum convenience" area of shelves.
- In a full open-shelf pantry setup, these items would be systematically arranged in shelves at a middle level, in a small cupboard (up to four feet high) the "maximum convenience" range consists of the two top shelves.

Large cans (the jumbo size cans of fruits and vegetables, for example) should be placed just below the "maximum convenience" level.

A low shelf — 4 1/2 inches high — should be provided just below the jumbo size canned shelf, for small cans: baby food, sardines, condensed milk, etc.

Spare cans, to replenish vacated spaces in the "maximum convenience" shelves, should be stored on the very low and the very high shelves in selling-height pantries; on the very low shelves alone, in the smaller pantry units.

That companion problem — lifting — challenges the housewife to use her arms, her back, her hips, and her knees in ways which do not tempt the accretion to go out of place — or demand more muscle than the job really requires. Prime causes of sore backs and tired muscles around the kitchen are: lifting too much at one time, and making jerky and off-center movements of arms and back.

In handling canned-food, the Tin Can Pantry specialists give such advice as the following:

Do not lift more than two jumbo cans at a time... or a handy amount of eight small cans. Bend the knees, lift the left arm and place one at a time upon shelves with the right hand.

To reach the floor level, bend the knees.

To reach higher levels, use a step ladder, if possible, enlist another member of the family to hand up cans for placing on top shelves.

Tin-canned foods, Jones & Laughlin notes, do not demand

Don't overlook those potatoes when you are going to use them for salad!

Bake and Bake Again

"If you bake a lot of cookies at your house, you'll be rewarded if you invest in a shiny cookie sheet about two inches smaller than your own," says Margaret Spader, home service consultant. Cut pieces of aluminum foil the size of the cookie sheet and while one pan bakes, you can be refilling the other sheet of foil and be ready to slide it on the cookie sheet as you remove the baked cookies. Saves time and heat, too.

HAPPY OUTDOOR BIRTHDAY PARTY — This month senior Girl Scouts at the third annual Round-up mark their 50th anniversary with a mammoth barbecue. Eight local senior Girl Scouts will enjoy this menu that you can adapt for your own backyard celebration. They will be preparing it at Button Bay, Vt.

Duplicate Scout Celebration Barbecue

A happy birthday party becomes an even happier occasion when it moves outdoors. All the traditional elements remain the same — the cake and candles, the festive food, the excited guest of honor. In addition, the outdoor occasion offers appetites sharpened by fresh air and the fun of watching the food cook on the grill.

To mark their 50th anniversary the Girl Scouts plan a mammoth birthday barbecue this summer in Button Bay Park, Vermont. The menu for the Golden Anniversary Dinner lends itself gracefully to the smaller backyard birthday party. Begin with canned fruit cocktail flecked with sprigs of fresh mint. Then the guests proceed to Golden Anniversary Chicken, succulent chicken halves brushed with a barbecue sauce based on corn oil.

Convenient canned foods make their usual contribution to the success of dinner in Sweet Tola. Join a la Juliette Lewis, named for the founder of the Girl Scouts, Fiesta Green Beans, and cranberry sauce. MSG goes into the mixed vegetables to bring out all the garden flavor.

And the cake! Butterscotch Birthday Cake provides an exciting finale to any birthday party. Indoors or outdoors. Its interior, two layers of white cake; its exterior, a butterscotch frosting of delicately creamy consistency. The festive party calls for a festive drink; provide a pitcher full of milk combined with quick strawberry-flavored mix. The Quick Strawberry Milk is a delicate pink, and it tastes just as good as it looks.

Thanks to the Girl Scouts, you have the perfect menu for the perfect birthday party — a perfect summer day.

Golden Anniversary Chicken
9 broiler-fryer chicken halves
Salt
Pepper
2 teaspoons MSG
1 cup corn oil
½ cup lemon juice
4 tablespoons brown sugar

Sprinkle chicken halves with salt, pepper and MSG. Place halves, skin side up, on grate set 5 inches from heat. Combine remaining ingredients in saucepan. Heat, stirring occasionally, until sugar is dissolved. Brush halves with sauce.

Cook slowly until tender, turning and brushing frequently. Allow 1 to 1½ hours total cooking time. To test for doneness, leg should twist easily out of thigh joint and pieces should be fork tender. Serve with canned cranberry sauce. Yield: 9 servings.

Sweet Potatoes a la Juliette Low
2 cans (18 ounces each) vacuum-pack sweet potatoes
½ cup maple-flavored corn syrup, divided
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided
½ teaspoon MSG, divided

Remove labels and tops from cans of sweet potatoes. To each can, add ¼ cup corn syrup, 1 tablespoon butter and ½ teaspoon MSG. Cover cans tightly with aluminum foil. Place on grill over coals until potatoes are heated through and bubbly, about 20 minutes. Yield: 9 servings.

Butterscotch Birthday Cake
1-6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch morsels
½ cup milk, divided
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
1 box (1 pound) confectioners' sugar
2 white cake layers, 8 or 9 inches each

Combine butterscotch morsels, ½ cup of the milk, butter or margarine and salt in a 9-inch skillet. Place over moderate heat, stirring until smooth. Remove from heat and gradually stir in confectioners' sugar. Cool 5 minutes. Stir in remaining milk until frosting is of spreading consistency. Fill and frost cake layers. Yield: 8 or 9-inch cake cake.

Young Appetites Need Satisfying

FROZEN BANANA POPPETTES — Maples love bananas on a stick. Intrigue them by serving these nourishing, tempting coated bananas as between-meal snacks. Chocolate or butterscotch covers the fruit. Nuts, coconut or colored candies add a glimmer note.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

This is the fourth week that the children have been home from school. Have their appetites increased enormously? They're playing all day, probably running most of the time.

Children seem to grow more in summer; sometimes they will gain several inches in height. You, mother, have the job of keeping them well nourished.

When they dash in, clamoring for a cool drink what do you give them? We would like to think that it's a fruit drink which will contribute something beyond empty calories.

What are empty calories? Well just plain sugar furnishes calories, but little else. We know that children need vitamins and minerals and all the other ingredients food supplies. Sweetened water doesn't do that. Fruit juices do. There are excellent canned juices, relatively inexpensive, that the youngsters like.

For a real special treat make up pretty pink milk cubes for a strawberry milk drink.

Strawberry Pop-Lips
Add 4 cup quick, strawberry-flavored mix to 3 cups milk; stir briskly until blended. Pour into ice cube tray and freeze. To serve, put pink ice cubes in 6 16-ounce glasses and fill with strawberry milk, made by stirring 1/4 cup quick strawberry-flavored mix into 1 quart milk. Serve with spoon.

Another nourishing between-meal snack for the children is made with bananas. You freeze halves on a wooden stick. Then you dip them in melted chocolate.

Heat the Peaches
When broiled or roll-over-cooked chicken is on the menu, be sure to include hot canned cling peaches as an accompaniment. Heat peaches in their own syrup, drain, and dress with dill or thyme just before serving.

late or butterscotch and roll them in silvered nuts, coconut or multi-colored sprinkles. Let the small fry help with this part of the job. (By the way, there is no cholesterol and practically no sodium in bananas.)

Frozen Banana Poppets
4-5 medium bananas, fully ripe
8-10 wooden skewers
1 package (6 ounces) 1-cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 tablespoon shortening
Flaked coconut, assorted sprinkles, chopped nuts
Peel bananas, halve crosswise; insert skewers in cut ends. Wrap in foil; freeze. Melt chocolate pieces and shortening over hot (not boiling) water; blend until smooth. With spatula or table knife quickly spread melted chocolate on frozen bananas; immediately roll in coconut, sprinkles or nuts. Serve, or rewrap in foil and return to freezer until ready to serve. Makes 8-10 pops.

Variation: Substitute 1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch pieces for chocolate pieces.

Time for lunch . . . serve Quickies. Adults will like the snack of strawberries in this recipe, but you may have to suit it for the children.

Frankfurter-Pineapple Quickies
8 frankfurters (about 1 pound)
3 tablespoons catchup
4 teaspoons prepared horseradish
1 lb. 1 can (1 pound 4 ounces) pineapple spears, drained
8 bacon slices

Cut frankfurters lengthwise almost through. Combine catchup and horseradish and spread on cut surface of frankfurters. Insert 1 pineapple spear in each. Wrap if desired.

each stuffed frankfurter with a bacon slice and fasten with a wooden pick.

Place frankfurters on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan and roast so that the top of meat is 2 inches from heat. Broil on one side about 5 minutes by until lightly browned. Turn and broil on second side, about 5 minutes or until browned. Serve immediately. 4 servings.

Note: Two teaspoons prepared horseradish may be substituted for 4 teaspoons prepared horseradish, if desired.

Crisp Nutty Shells Hold Delectable Frozen Filling

The soda fountain teen-age set should go overboard for "Party Almond Tarts." The tart shells, crunchily with delicious ground almonds and flaked coconut, are filled with ice cream topped with a sauce of orange juice, fresh dates and cherries. With Dairy Month being celebrated in June, this dessert treat can hardly miss scoring a big hit on festive occasions. Crisp almonds in numerous desserts provide unique texture and unmatched flavor.

Party Almond Tarts
1 cup bleached almonds
1 cup flaked coconut
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 pint vanilla ice cream
Sundae sauce

Grind almonds medium fine

3 tablespoons chopped marshmallows
1 cup cherries

Chop dates. Combine with orange juice, rind, brown sugar and butter. Boil mixture about 5 minutes, until thickened. Stir in cherries. Cool slightly. Spoon 1/2 into each shell. Bake 5 or 7 tart.

Error by Ancient Baker Lead to Yeast Bread

Modern homemakers are rediscovering the honey art of bread baking. Did you know that Egyptian cooks began making yeast breads almost 2,000 years ago? A baker for the royal household accidentally left some bread dough unattended overnight. It fermented and rose. Undaunted—the punishment for culinary error in those days was a beheading—the little baker went ahead and baked the dough. All ended happily after a delighted king tasted the bread and commended the baker for his "kingly" loaf of bread.

Negro Scorns Any Bigotry

Black Muslim's Speech Angers Bunches

By JACK V. FOX

On Sunday, June 3, a jetliner crashed during a take-off at Orly Airport in Paris. One hundred and thirty persons aboard were killed, among them 121 of the leading citizens of Atlanta, Ga.

On an auditorium platform in Atlanta last week, Dr. Ralph Bunche, Negro under secretary general of the United Nations, said that every decent American regretted the tragedy.

Then Bunche—addressing the annual convention of the NAACP—lashed out at fanatics and bigots within his own race in language so strong his listeners could scarcely believe they came from the lips of the usually soft-spoken Bunche.

"I both scorn and pity white bigots," Bunche said. "I despise those who are black."

What provoked Bunche into his blistering denunciation?

It was a speech made in Los Angeles on the same night the charter Air France plane carrying the Atlantans crashed.

On that occasion, a tall Negro arose to address a group of 1,500 in a church. This is how he began:

"I got a wire from God today which I—well, somebody came and told me that he had really answered our prayers over in France and dropped an airplane out of the sky with over 100 white people on it . . ."

"We call on our God—he gets rid of 120 of them at one whop."

MALCOLM X SPEAKS

The speaker was a man known as Malcolm X. He is a sort of second-in-command of a fanatic Negro organization known as the Black Muslims.

While the members are not recognized by Moslem groups, they profess to follow the Mohammedan religion, praying to Allah as their God, abhorring tobacco and alcohol.

One goal of the Black Muslims is a separate Negro state within the United States. They make no bones of their hatred of the white race.

And they have no doubt how vindictive they would be toward any whites that might remain in the area they devastated.

Malcolm X has a criminal record. The rally at which he spoke was the outgrowth of a Los Angeles riot which led to police intervention and the death of a Black Muslim demonstrator.

The group has only a smattering of followers, those centered mostly in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles. Not more than one Negro in 100 in the United States is affiliated with the Muslims or other extremist groups.

SPARKS RACE RIOTS

But small as they are, despised and disowned as they are by responsible Negroes, the violent views set forth by Malcolm X and others are an increasing source of concern.

They are the potential spark of race riot and violence. In New York's Harlem, the police keep a wary eye on them and admitted privately they are more concerned about the Muslims than any group ever active in the city's Negro center.

Bunche may have had that in mind when he singled out the Muslim X speech and said that it "saddened and sickened" him.

"This utterance could come only from a depraved mind," he said. "We do not have to become racists ourselves to win our struggle. No struggle such as ours is enhanced by bitterness, hatred or reckless emotion."

"The so-called Black Muslims, who are not at all Muslims and by no means are all black, practice an inverted racialism which is cynical and irresponsible in its exploitation of the Negro's unhappy status."

UPI asked other top Negro leaders what they thought of the Malcolm X speech. Did it represent the feelings of any sizeable section of the Negro community? Is antiwhite feeling growing with dissatisfaction at the pace of integration?

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, says he has detected no tendency among Negroes generally to gloss over the misfortunes of whites.

"This (the Paris crash) was a mass tragedy and I don't even know whether the Atlantans aboard were moderates or segregationists," he said. "I only know they were human beings . . ."

"Even when Negroes had their most violent enemies against them, they did not descend to any glad feelings over death."

REV. KING SPEAKS

If any one American Negro were to be singled out as the central figure in the drive for integration, it might well be the Rev. Martin Luther King of Montgomery, Ala.

Here is what he has to say on this subject:

"I do not feel that the hatred expressed toward whites by Malcolm X is shared by the vast majority of Negroes in the United States."

"While there is great deal of legitimate discontent and righteous indignation in the Negro community, it has never developed into a large-scale hatred for whites."

"I am amazed that it hasn't attracted more in the light of the conditions that still exist, and I am speaking of the conditions that they thrive on, such as economic deprivation."

"I think the vast majority of Negroes feel there is a way out of this dilemma and they have found a creative movement through which they can channelize their discontent—and this movement is rooted in the great tradition of their Judeo-Christian heritage which has always played the love ethic at the center."

Dr. Rufus Clement, president of the Atlanta University center, terms such an attitude as expressed in the Malcolm X speech as "uncharitable and inhuman."

"It represents just an infinitesimal part of the thinking of the Negro community," Clement says. "I don't know anybody myself who feels that way."

Swainson 'Can't Kill Legislative Pay Hike

KALAMAZOO — Gov. Swainson said in effect yesterday he would like to veto the 40 per cent pay raise state legislators voted for themselves.

"If this were a bill that could stand or fall on its own, the decision would be easy," he said. "I would veto it."

But, he said, since the pay raise is part of the $27 million general appropriations bill, a veto of the entire measure would kill the wages of all state employees. "By a veto in its entirety, we would face again some payless paydays, and I don't feel this is fair to the citizens of Michigan."

Some meteorologists believe lightning helps cloud droplets coalesce into raindrops.

Planning Flower Show

A get-acquainted luncheon was held today at Miracle Lounge to launch the flower show, "Miracle of Flowers," to take place Sept. 14 and 15 at Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

It is sponsored by the Lorraine Manor Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association and the Michigan Division Flower School.

Entries will be open to all members of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association and the Michigan Division Flower School.

This luncheon brought together the student judges who are attending the Michigan Division Flower School and serving as chairmen of the Miracle Mile Show. Their co-chairmen are members of the Lorraine Manor Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association. This is the first flower show put on by the Lorraine Manor Branch, which was sponsored by the Pontiac Branch in 1957, and now is completed in 1962.

The Miracle Mile Association has donated $500 to the Lorraine Manor Branch for scholarships for two students to attend Michigan State University. They are usually farming students.

Mrs. L. Clancy Nanny will serve as adviser for the entire flower show. Mrs. Nanny belongs to the Royal Oak Branch and the Michigan Division of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association and served as co-chairman of the Flower Show School for the years 1961 and 1962.

Others members participating in the organization of the show are Mrs. Warren C. Clevon, who is the general chairman as well as the flower show chairman for the Lorraine Manor Branch, Mrs. P. N. Askewness is schedule chairman of "Miracle of Flowers," vice president of the Williamsburg Branch, a member of the Birmingham Branch, and a student at the Michigan Division Flower Show School.

Entries chairman Mrs. Fred M. Trickey is a student at the Flower Show School as well as being on the committee for the Osage Branch of Women's National Farm and Garden Association. Mrs. Earle C. Helt is in charge of publicity for the show and also for the Westchester Branch.

Some of the student judges attending the flower show school are Mrs. Clevon, Mrs. Arthur Stiller, Mrs. Frederick Steffany, Mrs. Earle C. Helt and Mrs. Russell Kock.

Other chairmen for the Lorraine Manor Branch are Mrs. Harold Hackett, chairman of the judges; Mrs. Donald Lloyd, publicity chairman; Mrs. V. J. Mood, passing chairman; Mrs. Joseph Carpenter, entries chairman; Mrs. Robert Smith, staging chairman; and Mrs. Charles Cullen, schedule chairman.

Women's National Farm and Garden Club members interested in entering the "Miracle of Flowers" show may call Mrs. Trickey of Birmingham, entries chairman for the flower show.

Examining a flower arrangement similar to ones that will be entered in the "Miracle of Flowers" are Mrs. Warren C. Clevon of Tilmor Drive (right), Mrs. Fred M. Trickey, and Mrs. Earle C. Helt, both of Birmingham. A get-acquainted luncheon was held today at Miracle Mile Lounge to launch the flower show. Lorraine Manor Branch of Women's National Farm and Garden Association and the Michigan Division Flower School is sponsoring "Miracle of Flowers" to take place Sept. 14 and 15 at Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

Courage Is Just Habit

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-464: When George and Philip were about 10 and 9 years of age, they decided they wanted to camp out.

We were then vacationing at our little farm home in Indiana.

Two neighbor boys agreed to go with them. So they loaded their Shetland pony closer to the fire, which was doubtless an attempt to get a friendly creature into their midst.

Alas, the pony was gone! She had gnawed at the knot till she had freed herself and then run home.

This was literally the last straw, so George concluded that it looked rainy and they might as well go home.

Note that he was even then surrendering but slowly to the fear that had already driven two boys home.

As they trudged along the gravel road past an old deserted dwelling which they had always called the "haunted house," they felt a maximum amount of apprehension.

But George, as the older, couldn't admit terror nor could he very tactfully detour to avoid the "haunted house."

So he trudged along with Philip at his side.

"I'm surprised that Dad would let us borrow his 45's," George exclaimed very loudly when they were directly opposite the "haunted house."

"These heavy guns could kill a person if we pulled the trigger,"

Then he warned Philip to be careful with his 45, and both boys brandished their cap pistols bravely to simulate the 45's.

Obviously, George was trying to intimidate any imagined robbers in that "haunted

ATTEMPT FAILED

Later he decided to bring the Shetland pony closer to the fire, which was doubtless an attempt to get a friendly creature into their midst.

Alas, the pony was gone! She had gnawed at the knot till she had freed herself and then run home.

This was literally the last straw, so George concluded that it looked rainy and they might as well go home.

As they trudged along the gravel road past an old deserted dwelling which they had always called the "haunted house," they felt a maximum amount of apprehension.

But George, as the older, couldn't admit terror nor could he very tactfully detour to avoid the "haunted house."

So he trudged along with Philip at his side.

"I'm surprised that Dad would let us borrow his 45's," George exclaimed very loudly when they were directly opposite the "haunted house."

"These heavy guns could kill a person if we pulled the trigger,"

Then he warned Philip to be careful with his 45, and both boys brandished their cap pistols bravely to simulate the 45's.

Obviously, George was trying to intimidate any imagined robbers in that "haunted house." But he was also talking himself into a show of public courage, despite his inward fears.

COURAGE 'FRONT'

This is all courage amounts to, namely, a "front" that you force yourself to put up.

And it is this "front" of bravery that ultimately becomes so habitual that we call such a person courageous.

Later, at the age of 26, when George's jet plane was struck from behind at the Glen View Naval Air Show, he could have bailed out, but the crippled jet might have killed scores in the huge crowd below.

So he rode it into a vacant area and only ejected at the last minute when 200 feet above the ground, so he died.

But he had conquered fear of death at the age of 10 on his cowardly trip!

Mary Lou Schram and Robert Frank Hall exchanged vows in Waterford Township Tuesday. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schram of Midland Street and Mrs. Mabel Hall of Brewster, N.Y.

The newlyweds will live in New York where Mr. Hall is employed. Attending the bride was her sister Mrs. Oliver Goding of Keego Harbor.

Inn Patio Breakfast Follows Church Rite

Botsford Inn was the setting for a patio breakfast following the recent marriage of Dorothea Ann Buck to Lt. John A. Drittler in St. Luke Catholic Church, Detroit.

For the ceremony performed by Rev. Robert Kinyone preceding a nuptial Mass, the bride wore white silk organza over peau de soie, with chapel train. ALEXANDER lace accented the square neckline. Her veil of English silk illusion fell over a pearl tiara and orchids and staphylea rested on her white prayer book.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Clifford Buck of Green Street and the late Mr. Buck. The Harvon A. Drittlers of Detroit are the bridegroom's parents.

Maid of honor, Deanna Greengrove of Elizabeth Lake Road, Waterford Township, wore embroidered pink nylon chiffon with a cabbage rose headpiece. She carried pink-tipped white carnations.

Robert Brunsdall of Detroit attended the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Buck chose a black and white abstract printed chiffon sheath dress and corsage of yellow roses for her daughter's wedding. The mother of the bridegroom clipped white roses to her sheath dress of moss green silk shantung.

Abby Advises Girl in Hurry

Have Talk With Your Parents

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This is urgent. I MUST know at once in which states you can get married (A) without a waiting period and (B) without a blood test; (C) how old must the boy be and how old must the girl be to marry without the consent of their parents; (D) if you lie about your age, is the marriage legal; (E) how can you tell for sure if you are expecting without going to a doctor?

IN A HURRY

DEAR ABBY: In reply to questions A, B, C and D: The requirements differ in the various states. Call your local County Courthouse or the Justice of the Peace.

All lawyers or clergymen have this information. In reply to E: You can't — until it's too late. You sound as though you need to have a long talk with your parents. I recommend it.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I was invited by a classmate to spend the week-end "vacationing" at his family's seaside cottage. I accepted.

We took a ride on their boat for an hour on Friday, which was the only time we got near the water. Then he suggested we get some "exercise." So we spent all day Saturday and Sunday rebuilding a sea wall, mowing the grass and weeding the garden.

I appreciated the invitation, but I could have stayed home and worked on my own lawn. How does one reciprocate for a "vacation" like that?

A "GUEST" DEAR GUEST: Invite your "host" to your place one weekend and treat him to a little "exercise" on YOUR property.

DEAR ABBY: I have a dear friend whose husband is in the hospital. He has been there for over a month.

It's nothing serious, only a back injury. He calls all the nurses, aides and maids by their first names and acts very flirty with them. When his wife comes to visit, him he introduces her as his MOTHER. She feels hurt, but what can she say?

She has been thinking about bringing a strange man to the hospital with her next time and introducing her husband to him as her FATHER. Would that work?

A FRIEND DEAR FRIEND: If you would keep a friend, BE one. And stay out of the hospital.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LILY AT VEGAS: One rarely throws rice at a guy who throws dice. Yours could be a long wait.

Booths, rides, games and entertainment will be featured at Our Lady of the Lakes' festival Friday through Sunday at the parish grounds on Dixie Highway.

All parish organizations have been busy in recent weeks planning for the affair which is expected to provide most of the money needed for a new school bus.

Norman LaLone is general chairman of the festival. The Rosary Altar Society and guild units have charge of 10 of the 17 booths as well as the roast beef dinner planned for Sunday.

The festival will open Friday at 6 p.m. Special prizes for kiddie rides will be in effect Saturday afternoon. School buses will make their regular rounds to pick up all youngsters with wish tags. Advantage of the reduced rates. Buses will return the children home later in the afternoon.

Lorrie McCulloch is in charge of awards. Mrs. Stewart Sovey is chairman of the women's booths and Mrs. Lester McDonnell is the dinner chairman.

The men's organizations will operate seven booths and other concessions will be handled by boy scouts and members of the CYO teen club.

The dinner will be served from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday in the high school gym.

New York Woman Sells Art by Foot

By GAY FAULKLEY NEW YORK (UPI) — Michelangelo once was paid for art by the ceiling. Now, nearly 500 years later, one woman is paid for it by the foot.

Virginia Frankel runs an unusual business of supplying art to measure, catering in the main to hotels, motels, clubs, restaurants, showrooms and business offices. Customers are spread throughout the United States, U.S. possessions and Canada.

Mrs. Frankel, a slim and handsome brunette judging 40, acts as entrepreneur for some 40 artists-craftsmen who produce on order anything from an ash tray to a 35-foot mural for her clients.

3-DIMENSIONAL They execute their works, almost all of it three-dimensional, in plastics, ceramics, cork, glass, stone, metals, woods, fabrics — and in an infinite variety of combinations.

In art, we asked Mrs. Frankel, "This is good art. I couldn't tell it unless I thought so."

Her latest assignment was completion of three-dimensional glass murals in function rooms of New York's new Sheraton Motor Inn, using the themes of the Manhattan skyline and the George Washington Bridge.

This is how the Frankel studio works. When Mrs. Frankel is contacted by a hotel, restaurant or office, she draws up a complete portfolio on how the finished work of art will look — including samples of the materials to be used, a bibliography of the artist, and the artist's sealed drawings.

PAY BY THE FOOT It on the basis of this presentation, she gets the order, then she begins ordering the materials the artist will need. The artist is in charge of completing the work and installing it. The client pays anywhere from $15 to $100 per square foot for the completed work.

One artist-craftsman went to Bermuda to help install steel and bronze fountains he had made for the Carlton Beach Hotel.

A mural for the Sheraton Palace Hotel in San Francisco went crated in six by 12 foot sections, "shipped air freight, all 739 expensive pounds of it," said Mrs. Frankel. She rarely sees the finished product.

Most of her artists are in the eastern part of the country and many of them teach in schools or at museums. Working for Mrs. Frankel means added income, even though the craftsman may have only the corner of a room as a studio.

STARTED IN FOYER "A lot of fine stained glass is made on a kitchen table I know of," she said.

Mrs. Frankel started in a foyer. Born in New York, she attended the McDowell School of Dress Design, but she married, and that was that for a fashion designer's career.

She is separated from her husband, she said. There are two children — girls 19 and 14, the latter "such a string bean she looks like she needs a CARP package."

Jobs before she founded her current business four years ago included selling for a department store, directing the artists' guild at the Brooklyn Museum, and finally selling seed paintings. These are done by gluing assorted seeds and colors of seed onto a base to form a design.

"I found I liked art with texture to it," she recalled. She took some courses at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia, and her first commercial works were executed in her apartment foyer.

Today, there is a more luxurious setting with samples of materials crowding every corner. Mrs. Frankel now is a design associate of the American Institute of Decorators (AID), winner of one of AID's international awards, and has just been named design consultant and art buyer in the New York area for a greeting card manufacturer.

DEAR FRIEND: If you would keep a friend, BE one. And stay out of the hospital.

Festival Starts Friday

Checking over plans for the Our Lady of the Lakes festival this weekend are (from left sitting) Mrs. Stewart Sovey, Mrs. Lester McDonnell, Mrs. William S. Townsend and Mrs. Leonard Mathew.

Festival general chairman Norman LaLone and pastor, F. J. Delaney, are standing. Proceeds of the festival will go toward a new school bus.

Take Seattle Honeymoon After Rites

The Michael D. Quinlans who exchanged recent vows and rings in Our Lady of Refuge Church, Orchard Lake, will honeymoon in Seattle, returning later to a home in Keego Harbor.

Daughter of the Russell Greigs of Willow Beach Avenue, Keego Harbor, the former Carol Deane Greig, appeared in white Chantilly lace and tulle over tulle. Her tiered skirt featured a bustle-back and chapel train.

She wore a chapel veil of silk illusion, fitted to a pearl and crystal tiara and held a bouquet of white roses, natural and feathered carnations.

Sisters of the bride couple, Mrs. Joseph Sall Jr., served as matron of honor and Mary Ann Quinlan was bridesmaid. They were headed by a train of pink children and carried crowns of pink carnations and pom-poms.

Sons of the William Quinlans of North Cass Avenue, John D. Quinlan was best man and his brothers Anthony and Brian ushered with Joseph Sall Jr.

For the ceremony and the reception in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Mrs. Greig chose a soft brown chiffon over a beige floral silk print and corsage of pink cymbidium orchids. The mother of the bridegroom wore a black and white silk ensemble with white orchid at her shoulder.

Hold Meeting of Spirit Six

Ladies Auxiliary of Metropolitan Club Spirit Six met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph Koren. Hostesses were Mrs. John Schroeder and Mrs. Merrill Petrie. Mrs. William Malley became a member.

The next meeting is in August at the home of Mrs. John DePaw of Argyle Avenue.

In order to build the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C., a swamp beside the Potomac had to be reclaimed and filled.

A miscellaneous shower was given for Mary Frances Cervantes Sunday at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Paul Santana, of Center Street. Twenty guests were present. Miss Cervantes will wed William M. Clarkson Sept. 1. Parents of the couple are the Ignacio Cervantes of Parkins Street and the William Clarksons of Silver Circle.

Don't Neglect Them

Your Eyes Very Strong

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Our eyes are much tougher than we think. You have no doubt been told that reading on trains or planes or buses is bad for the eyes, and that watching television for long periods of time causes eye strain.

Most medical eye doctors feel that this is not true. However, if your eyes tire easily, you should have them examined. Sometimes an examination will bring eye defects to your attention.

If you use your eyes for long periods of time you may suffer fatigue, but if your eyes are normal and healthy, they will not be damaged.

Many mothers neglect their children's eyes without meaning to do so. Every child should have an eye examination before the age of six, and adults should have periodic check-ups.

RATIO INCREASES

Studies have shown that only five out of every 100 preschool children gave a real eye defect while 30 out of every 100 children of elementary and high school age do have a defect. This ratio increases with age.

If defects are recognized at an early age, so much can be done to correct this situation or at least hold it in check. Thousands of people have glaucoma and do not know it. There are no painful symptoms.

If you're suffering from simple eye weariness, try this exercise: Look at your finger, now look at the window. Repeat.

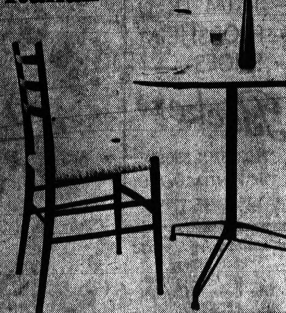

If you suffer simple eye weariness from overuse, eye exercises will be restful. Try this one. Look at the end of your finger for a few moments. Now look out the window at the far horizon. Continue.

If you would like to have my eye exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your re-

Separate Items

For better results, machine-wash any large item separately. Heavy bedspreads and slipcovers are large enough to require all the room in a washer, so don't hinder the ends action by crowding the tub with other laundry.

Youngsters Compare Stories

Parents Lay It on Thick to Teen-Agers

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth
Research, Inc.

Now you have some evidence, teen-agers, to support a claim you've been making for years: parents are all alike.

At least they are alike when it comes to reminding their children—and reminding them and reminding them and reminding them—how soft the kids have it.

nowadays in comparison with my children will. We are always with their own younger days.

Only 23 per cent of the 1,182 young people we questioned in our latest nationwide survey could say their parents never indulged in this popular game.

The other 77 per cent were virtually of one attitude, summed up nicely by 16-year-old Nanci Becker of Manitowoc, Wis.

"Times were harder and we realize it," she said, "but we don't appreciate being told about it."

Linda Rose, 17, of Oak Park, Mich., took a more philosophical view. "Our parents had it harder than we, and so did their parents, and I have it harder than progressing."

Like Nanci and Linda, 73 per cent of the teen-agers were convinced their parents did, indeed, have a tough childhood.

But there were those who felt as David A. Hildebrand, 17, of Macon, Ga., that this fact is placed before me so many times, I believe they are trying to believe it themselves.

Put another way, parents who keep dwelling upon it run the risk of shaking the conviction of their children. "They build it up TOO much," said 17-year-old Bob Couch of Portland, Ore.

Some, in fact, have passed from skepticism to disbelief—and not without good reason. "My grandmother and grandfather told me different," said 16-year-old William S. McCullough of Latrobe, Pa.

LAYING IT ON THICK

Most teen-agers realize their parents engage in hyperbole to some extent. The favorite exaggeration seems to be the distance from home to school.

Kenneth Richter, 14, of Fairbank, Minn., said her father or mother "had to walk to school eight miles over 50 mountains in the freezing cold with no shoes."

That's quite an exercise, but Leo Deas III of Macon says his parents told him they "had to get up in the morning and do their work, walk to school 20 miles away, come home and do some housework."

"When I was your age," says the father of Dennis Whalen, 16, of Sioux Falls, S.D., "I got up in the morning, milked the cows, fed the pigs and walked three miles to school in three feet of snow."

Leonard Grace Jr., 17, of Philadelphia, has the "Daddy" story. His father's walking distance was eight miles and the snow depth was four feet.

Times were tough indeed. "They always tell me how they couldn't wait for Sunday to come so they could have a glass of milk or an ice cream cone," reports Janet Kempiak, 16, of Manitowoc, Wis.

'DATING DEFERRED'

Dating was different then too, or so the parents claim.

"When I was a girl of 20 and working, I still had to be in the house at 10 o'clock. Even when I was engaged, my boy friend had to leave the house by 10." That's the story Sylvia Bimonte, 15, of New Haven, Conn., hears from her mother.

Mike Scott, 14, of Pocahontas, Mo., did a little investigating. "My folks say they didn't have any fun at night," he said, "I know they did, because I snoped in their year books."

William C. Lamper, 19, of Boone, Iowa, said he would like to be able to turn the calendar back and "see how much is exaggerated and how much is fact." Donald Lane, 19, of Philadelphia said he doesn't doubt his parents, but he also would like to go back and live some of their experiences "just to prove I could do it."

'ENOUGH TROUBLE NOW'

The majority—61 per cent—said on the other hand that they could see no point in reliving the experiences of their parents. "I've got trouble enough of my own," said 14-year-old Robert Bailey of Detroit.

Many felt their own "trouble" was just as real as their parents', if not quite as tangible.

As Dana Diehl, 18, of Denver explained it, "Life was harder then—but it's not easy living in the threat of nuclear war." Charlotte Maxwell, 16, of New Haven, agrees. "There are more pressures on the modern youth than ever before in history," she said. "Youth lives every day in a world of tension."

The opinion of 74 per cent of the boys and 62 per cent of the girls was that their children will have a softer life than they are having, just as theirs is softer than their parents'.

"They are always coming up with something new to make life easier," said Elizabeth Ruffner, 18, of Latrobe, Pa.

But few, teen-agers felt Utopia was yet in sight.

"Each age has its own problems," said 15-year-old Kathleen Wilber of Teaneck, N.J. "My children will have to cope with theirs just as we have to cope with ours."

Need Soap Niche

When remodeling or adding a bathroom, remember to include a soap niche at the shower taker's level, as well as at the usual position convenient for a sit-down bather.

When a stand-up bather can reach for the soap without acrobatics, a hot steamy shower becomes as pleasant and relaxing as a bubble bath.

NORMA CAROLYNN CRAWFORD

Bride Honored With Shower by Church Class

A miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Robert Scott, nee Kim Pink, highlighted the meeting of the Berean Class of Memorial Baptist Church which met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Erickson with a cooperative dinner.

Mrs. Frank Larson and Mrs. Lon Brown were cohostesses.

The Scotts were married May 12. Mr. Scott is a fireman apprentice, USN, in Charleston, South Carolina.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Claude Harroun of Davidson and Mrs. Willard Harroun of Richmond, Mo.

Names like Palmer, Snead, Hogan and Casper are to the PGA as Carter, Lubanski, Welu and Weber are to the PBA.

They are among the top professional of their respective sports, golf and bowling, and fans are drawn to their galleries when they appear in tournaments.

Golf fans of Michigan and especially Oakland County have seen the top PGA names in the arena many times. Bowling fans have also seen some of the leading pros of their sport, but not in the same proportion as the golfers.

The Professional Bowling Association is a young organization, hardly five years old, but it has set up a tour for pros similar to the PGA and is enjoying a much faster growth in tournament purses than the golf pros.

In 1939, PGA tournaments carried purses on the average of $5,000. The U.S. Open had a $6,000 purse and $1,000 first prize. By 1952, the average purse as the Masters was $10,000 and this year the major tournaments go from $35,000 to $100,000.

HIGHEST BOWLING EVENT

When the PBA tour appears at the 300 Bowl in August, the purse will total $23,400 plus $5,100 for the pro-am event. It will be the first time the bowling pros will be in Michigan as part of their PBA tour and it will bring together the largest assembly of bowling pros for a single event ever seen in Michigan.

This is a big thing for Pontiac and stands as a big financial risk for Joe Puertas of the 300 Bowl.

What makes it more important for bowling fans is that they needn't sit back strictly in the role of spectators.

How would the average handicapped golfer feel if he was teamed up with Arnold Palmer for an 18-hole round?

"I'd probably shake all the way down the fairway," was a typical answer, "but it would be a golf thrill to remember."

Then what would the 105 average bowler do if he was matched with Don Carter or Dick Weber and know that these pros are helping him win part of a $5,100 purse?

The bowling thrill would probably be as comparable and knee-shaky as the 18 holes with Palmer.

But, shaky knees or not, local bowlers will have the chance to match frames with the best in bowling. The pro-am event which will be tied in with the Pontiac PBA Open will have 204 handicapped bowlers taking pros as partners.

Actually, any handicapped bowler in Michigan is eligible to qualify for the pro-am event, but 300 Bowl pro, Monroe Moore, wants the Pontiac area bowlers to get the first crack at the pro-am.

"We've had requests from houses in Saginaw, Flint, Jackson, Port Huron and Detroit to allow qualifying there, but we've waited until we could see what the local response would be," said Monroe.

The local response as he puts it, has not been good. As far as the pro response however, it is the best of any tournament on the PBA circuit thus far this year, and the reason is obvious, it carries the largest purse of the PBA summer tour.

What do the local bowlers want? It can't be the prize fund which is $5,100 for 200 amateurs to fight for. It can't be the handicap which is 100 per cent.

Some bowlers have already qualified at one of the six local houses with averages as low as 106 and 110.

"If local entries aren't interested then we will have no other choice but to open it to the houses in other cities which have requested it," said Monroe, "and it will probably be within the week as there are only three weeks remaining."

Maybe it's those shaky knees that the local bowlers fear.

2.09 Average for Tiger Lefty

Aguirre Sets Pace in ERA

NEW YORK (AP)—Southpaw followed by Dave Stenhouse, Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Hank Aguirre of Detroit led the major leagues in earned run average Wednesday as the 1962 campaign heads into its second half.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press show that Koufax with a 2.14 ERA and Aguirre paces the American with 2.09.

Koufax has yielded 40 earned runs in 168 innings while winning 13 games and losing four. He also has struck out the most NL batters, 203. The Dodgers fireballer has posted two shutouts.

Aguirre has permitted 20 earned runs in six innings. He has a 7-3 record with one shutout. In his last three starts, Aguirre blanked Baltimore 1-0, lost to Cleveland 1-0 and defeated the Orioles 3-2. His string of 22 consecutive scoreless innings was broken July 4.

Dick Donovan of Cleveland is the American League runner-up. The veteran right-hander, who won the ERA title last season, has given up 42 earned runs in 137 1/3 innings for a 2.78 mark. He has 12-5 record, including a pair of shutouts, over Boston.

Whitney Ford of the New York Yankees, a two-time earned run champion, is third with 2.85. He is in 33.

Mrs. Wolverton's Week

It was Mrs. DeWitt Wolverton's week to shine in the Women's Silver Lake Golf League. Mrs. Wolverton took low net honors with 12-3 net record, including a pair of shutouts, over Boston. She won the "blind hole" event by shooting a par 4 at No. 7. Mrs. James Dando had 2nd low net in 33.

Shaffer rolled 234-208-202-192-156 to hold the top spot for the Open. This is not for the pro-am event but for the Open which will have 10 amateurs competing with 118 pros.

Houk and Scheffing Agree

Tigers Not Out of Flag Chase, 2 Pilots Claim

Detroit Manager Thinks Bengals, Baltimore Are Threats to Yankees

CHICAGO (AP)—Ralph Houk and Bob Scheffing agreed — the Tigers, despite their last half loundering and dismal position, aren't out of the pennant race.

Scheffing's prediction of optimism after his Tigers won Sunday's doubleheader was echoed yesterday by Houk, manager of the first place Yankees.

The Tiger manager had said his club and Baltimore would be the Yankees' strongest pennant rivals when play resumes tonight after the All-Star layoff.

Scheffing also said if the Tigers can stay close to the Yankees and improve, he'll be happy.

Houk said yesterday in New York that Kaline's return should have a tremendous influence on the pennant race.

"We're going fine now," said the Yankee manager. "But it's going to be a hot fight. A lot of clubs are much stronger and the Tigers are going to be rough when they're healthy."

KOPITZ RETURNS
The return of the number one minor league pitcher of 1961, Howie Kopitz, to the Tiger squad bolstered Detroit's sizzling pennant hopes today.

The 193-pound right-hander arrived in Detroit yesterday as the Tigers returned to practice drills after taking a break during the All-Star game.

The team won 2-1 last night in the 10th inning, and the Yankees manager said it was going to be a hot fight. A lot of clubs are much stronger and the Tigers are going to be rough when they're healthy.

RETURNING TO ACTION
Returning to action tonight against the Chicago White Sox, the Tigers are in fifth place, five games behind the first-place New York Yankees.

Tiger's game starts at 13-game Tiger road trip which may prove crucial.

The Tigers cannot afford to lose any more ground to the Yankees. The Tigers return home July 27 and that is manager Bob Scheffing's prediction for the date of Kaline's return to full-time duty.

Don Moss (7-3), victim of three shutouts in his last four starts, will pitch for the Tigers tonight. Juan Pizarro (4-7) will pitch for the Sox.

Low Scores Are Promised at Knollwood

Big Purse Lures Top Pros to Pontiac Open at 300

Pro entries for the Pontiac PBA Open to be held at 300 Bowl, Aug. 16-19, are arriving at a faster pace than any bowling tournament in the professional summer tour.

This was the observation of PBA officials who toured the 300 Bowl yesterday to lay the plans for the first visit of bowling pros to Michigan.

Presently, the total list of pro entries for 113 entries, plus 10 top amateurs. In the first week for registrations, 50 pros, including Buzz Fazio, Bob Kowalski, Dick Weber, Billy Welu, Ed Lubanski, Steve Nagy, Rennie Gaudner and George Howard have submitted entries.

The Pontiac PBA Open will carry one of the largest purses on the pro tour, $23,400. Only other tournament of the same amount is the Niagara Falls Open.

Last week in the $20,000 Southern California Open at Long Beach, Al Sava of St. Louis walked off with the top prize of $2,800. Don Carter won the Seattle Open, Glenn Anderson took the Salt Lake City Open and Darryl Cox won the big winner of the Spokane Open. This week the PBA tour is in Tucson, Arizona, for the $20,000 Tucson Open.

TEN AMATEURS
The Pontiac Open will have 10 amateurs competing and leading the field of qualifiers this week is Arley Shaffer of Pontiac. Shaffer rolled a 656 total which is three pins better than Bill Ball who is now second on the list with 1053.

Other amateurs who have attempted to qualify and have posted top scores are Ray Branchau with 1072 and Stan Kurzman with 1003.

It was the third try for Branchau and his total appears almost certain to make him a qualifier.

PRO-AM EVENT
In the pro-am event which will have 204 local handicapped bowlers competing for $5,100 in prizes, an additional six names have been added to the list.

John Janerek put together 818

At How's Lanes last week, Wes Frick and Lee Winchester came in with 886 totals and had to requalify for the qualifying position. Winchester won the requalifier.

Besides these houses, bowlers can also qualify at Auburn. Qualifying is held daily at the top six houses and the top 10 per cent for the week will make the qualifying list.

Monroe Moore, local pro, pointed out that chances for qualifying are much better now than in the final weeks when greater numbers of bowlers will attempt to make the pro-am event.

Tickets for the tournament have now been placed on sale at all qualifying houses. The season book for the six PBA Open sessions plus two pro-am and practice sessions is selling for $10. To buy the tickets individually would cost $14.50.

Stands to accommodate 840 spectators will be erected at the 300 Bowl. There will also be about 160 special reserved seats available.

Ford and Rosburg each pocketed $325 for sharing low pro honors. Frick earned $280 as pro on the winning team and Dave Ragan, whose team finished 2nd at 46, won $265.

A total of $3,500 was at stake in the preliminary, $2,500 for pros and $1,000 in merchandise awards for amateurs.

15 PLAYERS START
There were 148 pros and 10 amateurs on the firing line today for the first round of the Motor City classic.

The champion will collect $3,500 with the total tournament purse amounting to $13,000, largest in Motor City history. Billy Casper is the presumptive favorite, Casper's PGA's third leading money winner.

Knollwood, located on Maple Road west of Telegraph, measures 6,878 yards and has a par of 72. It was built by Mac McZurzy who thinks 272 to 274 will be needed to win.

Eighteen holes are scheduled daily today through Sunday. The field will be slashed to the low 60 pros plus ties for the final two rounds.

Defending Motor City champion is Mike Sorensen, who joined the PGA in 1960. He won the 1961 PGA's winning score is a Motor City record.

This marks the touring pros' 27th week in Michigan and will conclude their visit in this state for 1962.

Teeing Off

Ron Thomas, Phil Kelnhofer, Ed Parker and Jack Corbett — all figures in the world of golf, yet they're probably unfamiliar names to the majority of links enthusiasts.

Each one, you see, is an assistant pro at an Oakland County club. Except for a very occasional fling, the assistant pro's name is usually the most unpublicized in the game.

This is most unfortunate, we think, since they make such a vital contribution to the sport. They're the unsung heroes of every club, the ones who work long hours and render valuable service to members.

The four assistants named here are first-year men at their respective clubs—Thomas at Edgewood, Kelnhofer at Birmingham, Parker at Bloomfield Hills and Corbett at Orchard Lake.

It might be said that Thomas' popularity is rising to reveal that he is a former beauty queen. He is married to Shirley Baynes, who won the Miss Michigan title in 1960.

The 22-year-old was a four-sport star at Redford St. Mary and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, graduating from the latter in 1958.

He quarterbacked the Miami (Fla.) University freshman football team and had a short fling as a first baseman with the Philadelphia Phillies' Class BB farm club in the Texas league.

Thomas is studying industrial management at Lawrence Tech and only one semester of work remains.

Before joining Paul Van Loosen at Edgewood, Thomas served five years at Glen Oaks, two of them as greenskeeper during his prep days.

Kelnhofer, 31, joined Ray Maguire after five years at Druid Hills in Atlanta, Ga. A native of Duluth, Minn., Kelnhofer spent one year at Tulane's Engel Club, course before entering service.

He broke into the game as a caddy and player when he was 15. He's married and has two children—daughter Becky, 4, and son Bruce, 7 months old.

The 45-year-old Parker is a real veteran. He's really been around, serving eight years at Western C.C., two years at Fox Hills and single seasons at Glen Oaks and Atlas Valley. Now he's Bill Graham's top aide.

A native Detroit, Parker also spent 11 years in California where he had two different hitches with the U.S. Navy as well as a nine-season job at the Cloverleaf layout near Santa Monica. During his high school days at Mackenzie, he caddied at Warren Valley.

Corbett, 27, will be a busy young gentleman next week when Orchard Lake is host to the Western Amateur tourney.

Now in his 6th year as a professional, Corbett was signed by head pro Tommy Shannon as a replacement for Pontiac's Frank (Red) Wilson, who resigned to

ABL Owners to Decide Pipers' Fate Saturday

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Owners of the fading American Basketball League will meet in Chicago Saturday to decide whether to sell the new Cleveland franchise of the National Basketball Association, according to a part-owner of the ABL's Pittsburgh team.

Eugene Litman, who attended Tuesday's meeting in New York when the Pipers were granted the franchise, said Wednesday the owners are meeting at the suggestion of the NBA.

Litman said the NBA would like to have all ABL owners buy part of the Pipers. George Steinbruner was the principal stockholder in the Pipers last season when they won the ABL title. George McKen, owner of the San Francisco Saints, and Ken Krueger of the Kansas City Steers reportedly already have joined Steinbruner in ownership of the Pipers.

Red Wings Sign Gordie Howe for His 17th Season

DETROIT (AP)—Gordie Howe, highest pointmaker in National Hockey League history, signed a contract Wednesday for his 17th season with the Detroit Red Wings.

"Only three more contracts to go," said the 34-year-old Howe, who has refused to think about retirement until he has played 20 NHL seasons.

The veteran right winger enjoyed his finest campaign last season since 1958-59. Howe scored 33 goals and 44 assists for 77 points, third best in the league.

Howe is holder of the NHL's records for games played (1,050), assists (624) and points (1,126). He trails Maurice Richard's NHL record for goals by only 42.

Howe, winner of a record five Hart Trophies as the NHL's most valuable player, passed his 500-goal and 1,000-game milestones.

Salary terms were not disclosed, but he is expected to receive more than $20,000.

All matches up to the semifinals will be played next weekend, July 21-22 at Oakland Park and the finals are scheduled for July 28th. Trophies will be presented to winners and runnerup in each division.

All players must have one new ball for their matches. Tennis balls will be available for purchase for 65 cents at the tennis courts. The balls will be supplied to the players from the quarter-final stage.

Players, should report to the courts at least 15 minutes prior to their match.

Record Total Yachts in Port Huron-Mackinac Race

Boats Set Sail This Saturday in Port Huron

Oxford Lake Set to Host State Ski Championships

Two Pontiac Entries to Compete in Annual Run to Mackinac

A record total of 103 yachts will take part in this year's Mackinac sail race which begins at Port Huron Saturday.

"The fleet might have been bigger," Dick Brand, Mackinac race registrar, said, "but we had to hold to our (noon yesterday) deadline to allow the safety and measurement inspection teams time to check all boats before Saturday's starting time."

A total of 17 boats have registered for the cruising A class but missing is Clay Ewing's Dyna. Cruising B will have eight new entries and cruising C seven.

PONTIAC ENTRIES
A pair of Pontiac boats will be entered for the second straight year.

In cruising class E, Jim Nye will skipper Crusader which includes crew members Jack Moeller, Ted Barrett, Bill Ames and Bill Boyton.

The Crusader finished last in its class a year ago and since then changes have been made which may make it a possible contender.

A new spinnaker and fitting along with 800 pounds of lead have been added. "We were too light last year, that's why we had to make the changes," said Nye.

Last week on the St. Clair river in the July 4th regatta, the Crusader finished second in cruising class D.

Don Neal, of Otter Lake, will again have his "Windward" entered in cruising class B. Members of Pontiac Yacht Club's lightning crews will comprise the crew.

The fleet starts the race at 12:30 p.m. Saturday and the first boats are expected to arrive at Mackinac Island early Monday.

MOVES UP—Lynn Vermuelen, of Jackson, who last year swept the state and midwest water ski titles of three junior events, will be the top contender in men's division when the state water ski championships begin next week, July 21-22 at Oxford Lake.

Cellar-Dweller Hands Stroth's 1-0 Setback

League-leading Stroth's was handed a 1-0 setback by cellar-dweller, Sarko Investment last night at Dayton Plains in the Waterloo Softball League's feature Class B attraction.

Sarko tallied an unearned run in the 5th inning to break a six-game losing streak and snap Stroth's eight-game victory skid. Sarko pitcher Arky James, who hurled a three-hitter, dropped a pop fly bunt with two men out to permit the game's lone run.

Gene Lund hurled a five-hitter to pick up the win, Sarko's 2nd of the season. James made three of Stroth's five safeties. Stroth's 2nd leads the "B" race by two games. In a Class C contest, A&W Root Beer whipped Laidlaw, 10-1. Algie Black was the winning pitcher on seven hits.

Yanks Buy Dale Long

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators announced the sale of first baseman Dale Long to the New York Yankees on waivers Wednesday.

For the 5th time in six years, Oakland County will be the scene of the Michigan Water Ski Championships. The tournament, July 21-22, will be held at Oxford Lake on Lakeville Road, just east of Oxford.

For the past two years, the tournament was held at Loon Lake on Dixie Highway.

More than 25 entries are expected to compete in 16 different events which will start at 8:00 a.m. each day. Friday, July 20 will be devoted to practice sessions.

Oxford Lake is considered the ideal lake for such competition. The kidney-shaped lake permits jumping events and slalom events to be run simultaneously without interference and with good spectator vision.

Some of the outstanding names in state water skiing, including several local champions, will compete. Headlining the entries will be 18-year-old Lynn Vermuelen of Jackson who as a junior skier last year swept his division in jumping, slalom and tricks in the state meet and then went to Springfield, Ill., the following week and repeated the sweep in the Midwest regionals.

GREAT RECORD
This is the first and only time this has been done by any Michigan water skier. In the national tourney at Austin, Texas, Vermuelen won the national slalom title and placed second in tricks.

The Jackson high school senior will be competing in men's slalom this year against such defending champions as Ray Fullerton of Ann Arbor in jumping; Bill Blithe of Whitewater in slalom; and Bill Schenker of Flat Rock in men's tricks.

Vermuelen's entry into the men's division leaves the junior events up for grabs. Steve Starkey of Elizabeth Lake and Grose Point boys champion in nationals, is a strong choice in slalom. Allan Ramsay of Ann Arbor and Phil

Curtis of Jackson are the junior choices in jumping and tricks.

Among the top local entries are Paul Boel, of Oxford Lake, who is five-time state and midwest senior jumping champion; Dave Panks runnerup from Pontiac in men's slalom; Ken Oberst and Alice Shotwell, both of Pontiac, who were overall tournament winners in accumulated points last year. Oberst was 4th in jumping, 9th in slalom and third in tricks.

There is no admission charge to watch the tournament, but for a nominal parking fee with plenty of parking available.

Water Sports

Accessories Add More Boating Fun

For some boaters, just being on the water is simple pleasure — but for every one of these, there are many who are expanding their boating activities and finding whole new worlds of excitement and family fun afloat.

These are the people who are leaving the pleasure of handling well-equipped boats.

Families that "never left the local bay" are finding the thrill of exploration on day cruises, overnight and extended vacations aboard, all through the use of accessories. Many of them have been developed only during the past couple of years.

Generators have place lights, heaters, remote starting and all manner of electronic equipment at the fingertips of today's outboard.

Additional fuel supplies have increased the range — and the enjoyment — of cruising. Automatic shifting and tilting systems have taken a great deal of the muscle out of big-engine outboarding and have put the "best" where it belongs — in the power plant.

Ship-to-shore units have appeared on every sort of higher-powered craft, adding fun and greater safety to their operation. But until 1961, engine ignition was required to be on the boat.

Now, with a newly developed and highly efficient radio noise suppression system installed on 40-horsepower models, for the first time, the boatman can communicate with other skippers, with Coast Guard and weather stations, and can even call home without interference while under way.

CHANGE OF PROPELLERS
Joy-ride boating, has given way to dozens of activities that will appeal to a variety of family skippers.

One boat, merely through a 30-minute change of job-matched propellers, can provide the flash and speed of water skiing one day, and on the next, carry the family off for the relaxation of a weekend of water-borne camping. It can host a skin diving expedition to day, a cookout tomorrow and be ready for the fishing tackle or a wind-whistling speed session, in between.

Good Hurling, Slugging Win for Huron

Huron-Airway received some excellent pitching and also a bit of slugging Wednesday night at Jay's Park as the Class A City Baseball League leaders trimmed cellar-dweller Don Nicholite, 6-1.

The already pitching chore was posted by Don Sackett, who allowed only two hits while striking out seven and walking just one.

While Sackett was moving down the opposition, the teamsters were giving him right-hitter support, highlighted by home runs by John Lucardani and Al Barker. Barker's home run came with a man aboard.

It was Huron-Airway's 13th victory in 17 starts and the runrunder R. T. Clippers now trail Huron by four full games.

The losing hurler for Nicholite was starter Wayne Lundy. He was relieved by Dick Goldworthy in the 7th inning.

League-leading Cranbrook retained its slim half-game edge in the Class D junior circuit by slipping Pontiac Boys Club yesterday, 7-6.

Pontiac Central stood on Pontiac Northern, 4-5, in a "B" game called on account of darkness after six innings. Larry Hayward homered for the losers.

Class E results Wednesday: Providence, 13-5; Easton, 11-4; Dooler's Service, 5; Auburn Heights, 3; Club 8, Pontiac Tigers 1; McDonald's Drive-In 11, Arnold Drugs 3.

Class F scores yesterday: Rockets 22, Beaver 3; Eagles 10, 11.

18, Three Sisters 4; Lakers 7, 10; (forfeit); Indians 12, 13; Gunners 1; Whitefield Cubs 27, Yankees 6; Indians 14, Madison Twins 13.

Widget results: Devil Bats 6, Columbia Ave. R.A. 5; Mac's Mobil 15, Dodgers 3; Hawthorne Tigers 16, Pontiac Indians 11 7; LeBaron Colts 4, Mc Club 3. The Pontiac Optimist 1 squad was an 11-4 winner.

Ho Hum—It's Mrs. Koss Again in WMGA Event

The date and setting were different, but the result was still the same—Mrs. Joseph Koss won another weekly Women's Metropolitan Golf Association tournament Wednesday.

Mrs. Koss picked up eight pars and two birdies on her 41-43-84 scorecard, nine over women's par, to edge Mrs. W. H. Flaco by one shot at Sylvan Glen Golf Club.

It was her 7th victory in 11 WMGA events this year and she did not enter two of them because of a trip to Florida. A total of 85 players competed in yesterday's Metro outing.

Youngsters of Yesteryear Also Ran to Flabbiness

By PHILIP BATTISZ

NEW YORK — President Kennedy recently took a walk called the physical condition (or lack of condition) of our youth "shocking." Also "frightening."

Like most other adults probably, I read the report of his Council on Youth Fitness with furrowed brow and thought, alas, our over-privileged, super-leveled kids—they're not like they were in MY day.

This suddenly, in one those regrettable fits of nostalgia, I remembered what kids WERE like in my day.

And realized that the President's council is facing a problem which may be shocking, even frightening to the eager young athletes with access to the White House—but it certainly is not new.

When I was a youngster in my flaccid teens, there was no television to atrophy your arteries in front of. Physical education was a required subject in all of our city schools. Teen-agers with cars of their own were virtually unheard of.

In spite of all this, I—and most of my wily friends—managed to avoid exercise at every turn. We took trolleys to school, and were driven to parties in the family car.

We packed tuna fish sandwiches and sat slowly decaying through endless double features at the local movie house.

Worst of all, it was a very popular trend to get phony "doctor's excuses" to avoid taking the school's physical education courses.

GOT BY WITH IT
How did we get by with it? Our parents, having lived through a depression, were easily convinced that school was for the purpose of gaining an education to make your successful way through life—not for the purpose of putting on gym bloomers and playing games.

In the afternoon after school there were plenty of playgrounds to romp in and ball parks to compete on, but we were having none of it.

We'd trolley to town for a gathering over sandwiches or sodas, or we'd go to a meeting of a club, or we'd study.

Nights, we listened to the radio as avidly and unphysically as today's youth watches TV. In other words, from the time I gave up hop-scotch and jacks till the time I took up golf in my mid-twenties, my muscles were as flabby as nature would allow (nature gives resilience to even the laziest youngster).

An occasional summer-time swim, a modicum of refined fox-trotting, these were our exercises.

NO ONE WORRIED
Yet on one worried then, it wasn't considered shocking. Our President was FDR and he didn't take surveys.

He apparently was so concerned with physically handicapped youth (as he had been) that "normal" kids who were capable of running and jumping, even if they refused to, were not problems.

President Kennedy comes from a different environment. He was a lucky little bruiser as a child, with a heritage of muscles and energies to put to good use. He also was surrounded by a family large enough to provide competition in sports which most kids today only sit and watch.

It is understandable that he should find the latest surveys completely shocking—or seeing my youth laziness so disturbing. And no one with a patriot's conscience could quarrel with him that a nation is only as strong as its citizen, and needs agile bodies as well as minds.

But as one who, unfortunately, remembers for what a very long time this inactivity has been building up (or tearing down) in our society, I cannot be shocked. Or even terribly frightened.

Especially when I recall that, by keeping my mind on my studies and my feet on a hassock, I still managed to get by without com-

Don't misunderstand. I agree wholeheartedly with the President when he suggests that youth ask not what their country can do for them, but instead, ask what they can do for their country.

And the answer is—get with it. Chin that bar, tote that ball.

But I'm just happy, knowing what I know, that I'm not a kid again. Kids today can't do anything right. They can't even do NOTHING right.

Woman Freed in Fund Theft

Ex-Royal Oak Township Official Acquitted in $1,400 Embezzlement

A Circuit Court jury Tuesday acquitted a former Royal Oak Township woman deputy treasurer of embezzling some $1,400 in township funds.

Mrs. Mary Price, 35, of Belleville was freed after the jury deliberated only about 10 minutes. Her trial lasted five days.

After the acquittal, Mrs. Price's Detroit attorney, Harry Bockoff, said he would file suit in Circuit Court seeking payment of two years' back wages for Mrs. Price and restoration to her former township position.

Bockoff did not know when his suit would be filed.

Mrs. Price was suspended from her job in March 1960 when auditors discovered a juggling of township accounts.

In April, her former boss, township Treasurer George Glenn, was convicted of embezzlement in an unrelated case and placed on two years' probation.

Mrs. Price, despite clearance by a polygraph test, was charged with embezzling money from township tax returns.

In testimony during the trial, Mrs. Price denied the alleged embezzlement.

Expect 30,000 at Picnic for GMC Employees

Some 30,000 persons are expected to turn out this Saturday at Walled Lake Park for GMC Truck & Coach Division's 26th annual family picnic.

The outing for employees of the division and members of their families is one of Michigan's biggest industrial picnics. The entire park will be taken over by GMC from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Featured events include four roller-skating shows presented by a Pontiac Roller Skating Club team, the appearance of "The Commandos," a teen-age band composed of area youths, and a huge produce display headlined by GMC's Minuteman Missile Carrier.

Spread throughout the park will be V-8 engine displays, new trucks and coaches, and an exhibit of miniature GMC trucks and coaches dating back to 1902.

Numerous prizes, including a Pontiac Tempest, have been provided by the division for the occasion.

Unit to Study Lake Use Code

Waterford Council Appoints Committee to Submit Report

Following a lengthy discussion Tuesday night on a proposed lake use ordinance suitable for Waterford Township, the Greater Waterford Community Council named a committee to conduct a study and submit a report at the August 7 meeting of the GWCC.

When council members concur on features they believe should be incorporated in such an ordinance, their recommendations will be submitted for consideration of the Township Board.

Donald Kraft, safety director of the Oakland County Sheriff's Office, gave the background on the lake use ordinance recommended by the county which has been adopted by 12 communities. Waterford has not adopted it.

Some of those present felt the county recommended ordinance was not broad enough in its restrictions. It applies mainly to water skiing.

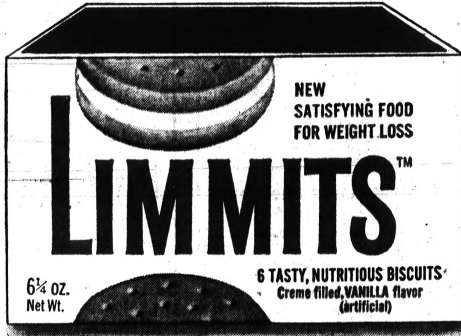

The some 60 persons present at the meeting also heard talks by 12 candidates for various offices in the August 7 primary election. Each office holder was allowed five minutes to speak.

First Lady's Stepfather to Sell Estate to Builder

Row Over Jackie's Girlhood Home Arouses the 'Elite'

(Editor's note—The nation's capital has been rent by many a squabble over landmarks. But few have generated more heat in high circles than a move to build a high rise apartment on the site of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's girlhood home.)

By HELEN THOMAS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A suburban county zoning controversy involving Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's girlhood home on the Potomac has touched off one of the angriest well-bred rows in Washington's new Frontier history.

The dispute involves a move to convert the McLean, Va., estate of Merrywood into a luxury apartment development. It has split some of the nation's powerful political and socially prominent figures into opposing camps.

The decision of Mrs. Kennedy's stepfather, Hugh D. Auchincloss, to sell the 46-acre river estate to an apartment builder has rattled the leopards and sharpened the cocktail conversations in the nation's capital.

It has brought a storm of protest from some McLean property owners that has had reverberations in the Fairfax County Board and on Capitol Hill.

STANDING FIRM

Despite the ire of neighbors and friends, Auchincloss, a millionaire broker, is standing firm in his intention to sell Merrywood to build a skyscraper. He will share his interest with a syndicate. Magazine will have 50 per cent.

Interest in the purchase. The three other members of the syndicate will share the other 50 per cent. They are Fairfax County Sheriff John Taylor, attorney Lytton H. Gibson, and William Page, a car dealer.

The syndicate signed an option to buy Merrywood within 30 days for about $650,000. Plans call for three 17-story apartment buildings and 30 luxury townhouses on the fenced-in grounds that have long been a landmark in Washington society.

The syndicate members expect to build the project on the banks of the Potomac at a cost of about $16 million.

Many McLean homeowners, including some of the elite in the fields of business, politics and the press, contend the towering apartments would destroy the beauty of the Potomac palisades just outside Washington.

The result, they say, would be just one more Virginia commuter suburb of the nation's capital.

One nearby McLean resident is Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, whose swimming pool has attained social page prominence at the place where his fun-loving wife, Ethel, or guests are apt to fall as he is pushed in at gay parties.

The first lady's brother-in-law has stayed out of the fight thus far. But a bill which would block the Merrywood apartment construction has been introduced by Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., a staunch conservationist. It has been referred to Robert Kennedy's Justice Department and other agencies for an opinion.

Jacqueline Kennedy's friends are reported to have asked her to appeal to Auchincloss in their behalf. But she was said to have declined on grounds that her stepfather was not likely to take her business advice.

Fury of the protesters has been directed not only at Auchincloss but at Sheriff Taylor and more so at Fairfax County Supervisor A. Claiborne Leigh in whose district Merrywood is located.

OWN CHANGE

The Fairfax County Board of Supervisors voted 5 to 2 April 12 to rezone the Merrywood estate to permit the apartment development.

Supervisor Leigh, who had campaigned repeatedly on a pledge to keep all apartments out of his district, voted yes. His constituents were incensed.

Petitions were signed and 50 citizens showed up at a protest meeting carrying signs reading "high rise is a low blow" and "capital gains means capital's loss."

A grand jury was convened to investigate charges of inappropriateness and conflict of interest in connection with the board's rezoning decision. On May 25, the grand jury found no evidence of corruption.

In addition to the Reuss Bill, Rep. Joel Brodyhill, R-Va., has submitted legislation which would impose federal control over all constructions along the Potomac River from Great Falls to Mount Vernon — a distance of 20 miles.

Reuss said his bill would attempt to preserve the scenic, historic, recreational and commercial interest of the nation's capital from dense high-rise development along the Potomac valley.

The measures have been referred to a House Interior subcommittee headed by Rep. J. T. Rutherford, D-Tex., who asked the Justice and Interior departments for their views. Rutherford has said he will try to the best of his ability to get action on the measure this session. But he cautioned that his subcommittee has a heavy backlog of work.

OFFICIALS PROTEST

Two prominent outdoorsmen — Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall and Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas — added their voices in support of McLean's protesting residents.

Udall, a McLean resident, expressed concern that approval of a rezoning would destroy the beauty of the area. Douglas called the proposed apartments "destructive of the river's shoreline beauty."

At the county level, 16 McLean residents have filed a suit to reverse the rezoning and the court action may impede arrangements for financing. But the builders are confident the case will be resolved in their favor before January.

A spokesman for the 16 protesters privately concedes the builders may be justified in their optimism. He pointed out that at a preliminary hearing, a Fairfax County judge threw out two of their three grounds for the suit.

Turned out were claims that Claiborne Leigh was not a local resident of the county and that statutory requirements for any zoning changes had not been met by the county board's vote.

Still at issue when the case proceeds on July 24 will be the claim that the rezoning was unreasonable and unwarranted by the facts offered by the builders.

The objecting 16 are also disturbed that the date for the court showdown has been set so soon. Their spokesman said that in similar cases, much lengthier delays are customary and in the Merrywood case the proceedings seem to have been speeded up at an unusual pace.

Meantime, Auchincloss and the first lady's mother have bought a new home in the elegant Georgetown section of this city.

Prosecutor's Office Handles 883 Cases

A total of 883 Circuit Court criminal cases and appeals was handled by the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office during the past fiscal year, Prosecutor George Taylor has reported.

Taylor said the figure, compiled from July 1, 1961 through June 30, 1962, represented about an 8 per cent increase over a comparable period the previous year.

Of the total, 805 were felony cases heard over to Circuit Court from lower courts, Taylor said. Seventy-eight others were Circuit Court appeals.

In addition, Taylor said his office handled six appeals to the Michigan Supreme Court.

New Jersey Warned of Serious Drought

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — Officials warned of a serious drought today as New Jerseyans sweated through their 36th consecutive rainless day.

Harold L. Gunther, chief engineer of the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission, called the situation "serious, the worst."

condition we've had since 1942 in respect to water on hand."

He said that unless there is substantial rainfall within the next two weeks, steps would be taken to curtail consumer use.

Throughout the state, pastures wilted, forests remained arid and farmers worked around the clock pumping water into crop irrigation ditches.

About 99 per cent of the air is a mixture of oxygen and nitrogen.

U.S. 'Had No Case' So Excused Hoffa
WASHINGTON (U.P.) — The U.S. Attorney's office, explained yesterday it dropped charges against Teamster chief James R. Hoffa because it didn't feel it had a case. The charge grew out of an alleged scrap with another union leader.

"We like to have a fighting chance of winning a case before we go to trial. We didn't feel we had that chance here," said U.S. Attorney David C. Acheson in explaining the action his office took Monday in the case.

The incident involved an alleged fight May 17 between Hoffa and Teamster executive Samuel Baron, a field director of the warehousemen's division of the union, in the Teamsters' building here.

Lovely Merle Oberon Makes Comeback
By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Merle Oberon is making a screen return after an absence of six years—too many, it might be added.

She remains one of the rare beauties of the movie world, after 30 years in films. The wide, high forehead and porcelain-like face match the portrait painted of her in the 1930s. The figure is slim as a girl's.

AT MANSION
These observations were made at her Beverly Hills mansion, where she lives a portion of the year surrounded by works of art by old and new masters. She had just returned from her homes in Mexico City and Cuernavaca where she had made her film return.

"We shot on location in my house," she reported. "What could be more convenient?"

The film is called "Oh Love and Desire" and she made it with Steve Cochran and Curt Jurgens. She plays a nymphomaniac.

"That's right, the same Merle who was the romantic lady in "Wuthering Heights," George Sand in "A Song to Remember," Empress Josephine in "Desiree."

"Well, styles have changed in movies," she explained, "and you have to keep up with them. Our picture isn't lurid or in bad taste; it is the story of a woman with a problem: she likes men too much."

1ST SINCE MARRIAGE
This was Merle's first film since her marriage to international financier Bruno Paglia.

"Bruno has been very nice about it," she said. "He wants me to be happy, and he knows that acting is a part of me."

"Until now, it has been difficult for me to schedule anything. We spent a part of the year in Mexico, part here, part in Europe and a month or six weeks in New York."

Stock Mart Continues Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—Still riding on a string of favorable news developments, the stock market continued its rally into the fourth session in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Gains of fractions to a point or better were scattered through the list of key stocks while some of the volatile "growth" issues did better. IBM held a gain of more than half a dozen points.

As the session wore on, some stocks backed away from early gains and showed losses.

The Treasury's revision of depreciation rates, which the administration says will give business $1.5 billion in taxes the first year, continued to be the latest news item to help the market.

Earlier this week, the out-in margin requirements for stock purchases and the Senate Finance Committee's rejection of proposed legislation withholding on dividends and Wall Street.

The ticker tape began at 13 minutes behind transactions when trading was at its heaviest. The trimming of prices began as the Dow Jones industrial average moved more than 40 points, a record 400 level, an upsurge in resistance area near which last week's rally ended.

American Telephone continued strong trading more than a point on continued news of successful use of its Telstar communications satellite.

By three motors, electric, lead, oil, utilities, aerospace, insurance, airlines, tobacco, and rubbers showed a generally higher trend while chemicals turned mixed and nonferrous metals showed scant change.

Prices advanced in fairly active trading on the American Stock Exchange. South Coast Corp. showed continued strength adding about 3 1/2 points. General took an about 2.

There was a scattering of fractional losses.

In new financing, about $10 million of a $22 million Puerto Rican issue awarded yesterday were reported sold. The issue, bearing the name of the Puerto Rico Water Resources Authority, consists of electric revenue refunding bonds, due serially Jan. 1964 to Jan. 1968.

Bonds Mostly the Same

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices were mostly unchanged in light opening trading today.

Among government issues, only a few intermediates showed any fluctuations and this amounted to no more than a few points.

Some corporate bonds posted fractional gains, but Central of Georgia 4 1/2 of 1965 and Lehigh Valley Harbor Terminal 5 1/2 of 1964 ran up gains of 2 points.

There was a scattering of fractional losses.

One Existence Like That Should Be Enough

Since When Do Cats Deserve 9 Lives?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—When the time for my next reincarnation rolls around, I have already decided what I want to be.

I want to be reborn as a cat—a big fat, smart, selfish and self-indulgent cat.

Being a husband in this world isn't a bad life in its way. The members of my family usually allow you a favorite chair to sit in. You are permitted to pick at it at least one television show a week—provided everyone else happens to like that one.

And on your birthday and Father's Day you always get a necktie and a card that says something like "We're awfully glad that you're Dad."

But when you get right down to it, a cat lives a richer, carefree life. With a cat it's Christmas all year 'round.

A cat has it made from birth. It never has to soil its dainty paws with honest sweat.

A cat doesn't have to pay rent, taxes or alimony. A cat doesn't have to meet a payroll, or look for a parking space.

NO EFFORT TO PLEASE

Unlike a dog, it doesn't make an effort to please the human race that serve it. Unlike a dog, it doesn't feel guilty if it is caught doing wrong. A cat feels it is always in the right. It never gets worried about anything or anything else in the wide, wide universe.

A cat cannot only look at a king. It can meet openly at a king and get away with it. A cat walks and acts like a fur-covered emperor or empress and has the imperial air of disdain natural to those born to the purple.

There are times when I look at our cat, Lady Dottie, with envy. She will soon be 4 years old and, so far as I know, never in her entire life has done any thing, except exactly what she chooses to.

She sleeps when she wants to, prowls the house when she wants to, plays when she wants to—not when you would like her to.

Lady Dottie has my wife, Frances, absolutely baffled. If Frances puts a new food on her plate she doesn't like, Lady Dottie sniffs at it, stalks away on feet of plush, and goes on a hunger strike.

In this context of feminine will, my wife always loses. After 12 hours she caves in and gives our cat what she wants—warm chopped up bits of beef kidney or liver.

In the morning Lady Dottie likes to stroll out in the hall and watch me step into the elevator as I leave for work.

"That shows she misses you," my wife says.

But I know better. There is a laughing look on Lady Dottie's face that clearly says:

"So long, slave. Go earn me a living."

BACK LIKE DOTTIE

Yes, if I come back for a second life, I want to return as a cat like Lady Dottie. My only trouble will be learning to like chopped beef kidney—but then every experience has some small problem.

Family Ran Out of Cookies

Idaho Bear Claws Girl, 2

MULLAN, Idaho (AP)—A little girl, daughter of Dutch tourists, was severely clawed about the head Wednesday by a bear which had been fed cookies alongside the highway.

Officials were told the bear reached into the small foreign car and scratched the girl. Five stitches at a hospital in nearby Wallace, Idaho, were required to close the wounds of Germina Derksen, 2, whose father is a student in Yellowstone and Glacier national parks in Montana.

Willie Derksen, the father, told officers the bear appeared nervous after they ran out of cookies while feeding it at a spring near Lookout Pass on the Idaho-Montana border.

Game officials said there had been complaints on at least 22 bears within the last week, many of them from tourists who apparently confused the wild type here with tamer bears they had seen in Yellowstone and Glacier national parks in Montana.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

The earlier hands this week have been examples of successful play to salvage an apparently hopeless slam contract. Today's hand is one that looks easy on the surface, because it breaks break, declares has 13 easy tricks.

Hearts did not break, yet Helen Sobel, the best woman bridge player of all time, made the play in a breeze.

She won the club opening in her own hand, cashed her ace and queen of spades, led a diamond to dummy's ace, ruffed a diamond, led a club to dummy's ace, ruffed dummy's last diamond, cashed her ace of hearts, ruffed her last club with dummy's ten of spades, led dummy's four of hearts, covered East's five with her six spot and secured her hand.

How did Helen know that the six of hearts was a sure winner? It was a matter of counting the hand. West had shown up with seven clubs, three diamonds and two spades. Hence when he played the eight of hearts under Helen's ace, she knew he had played his only heart.

Suppose East had split his jack-ten of hearts? Helen would have won the trick, gone back to dummy with the king of trumps and led another heart through helpless East.

Civil War Engine Taken for Real
 MEMPHIS, Tenn. — "The General," the wood-burning locomotive of an historic Civil War chase, was one of the top attractions of the 1962 Cotton Carnival. The ancient engine was wheeled up steam at the station for a run before carnival crowds when an elderly man walked up and asked: "Pardon me, but is this the train to Huntsville, Ala.?"

Ribicoff to Quit Cabinet for Connecticut Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff is expected to formally bow out of the Kennedy cabinet today and plunge into the thick of Connecticut politics.

Ribicoff, who called Kennedy at the White House Wednesday, said he will make an announcement on his resignation in a television address tonight.

The formal resignation, it was learned, will be handed to Kennedy before Ribicoff goes on the air in Hartford, Conn., at 7:30 p.m. EDT.

The first time Kennedy named to his Cabinet will become the first to leave the administration. Ribicoff said he wants to be as well as a voice for the programs he supports.

REIGNITED AS GOVERNOR
 Ribicoff, 52, resigned as Connecticut governor to accept the Cabinet post early last year. There is no help-along to his $25,000-a-year job. Ribicoff is leaving.

Speculation had centered on Ribicoff's choice to leave. He was asked about Weaver, Housing and Home Finance administrator.

The FCC said it was meeting with manufacturers to work out a reasonable "transition period."

He Don't Talk So Good but He Ain't Doin' Bad

NEW YORK — The mustached little character who plays "Nick Kanavaras," a dead-end-dose Greek orderly on "Bob Casey," came back to Broadway the other way and we rumormongered about the time he tried to learn diction.

Nick Dennis is Vince Edwards' close buddy now out of the Hollywood TV scene. But in the early 40s, Nick ran a restaurant (Greek, naturally), the Peerless on W. 45th St. That wasn't easy. Tough guys stood up the street. Old Ladies got rolled coming home from church.

Stabbings came with your bluejean apron. One night a customer at Nick's jabbed a knife at another customer's throat.

"Did you ever take acting lessons, Nick?" I asked him. He ran around the room laughing for two minutes.

"You remember Breilaine Windust, the director? He says 'Why don't you lose your accent? I'll have you in all my plays—LEADING PARTS:' wondrousful magazines with plenty inside, also prose. Lewandowski Fails to Win Appeal to Place Name in Lt. Gov. Race

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Joseph A. Lewandowski of Hamtramck appeared to be at the end of the trail today in his efforts to get his name on the primary election ballot as a Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor.

Lewandowski was turned down by the State Supreme Court yesterday in an attempt to appeal a ruling by the State Board of Canvassers that he failed to qualify for the Aug. 7 primary.

The court's action made it virtually certain that the only Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor will be the incumbent, T. John Lewis.

Three candidates have filed on the Republican ticket. They are Sen. John Stahlin of Belding, constitutional convention delegate Rackwell Gust Jr. of Grosse Pointe Park and a former GOP treasurer, Clarence Reid.

Lewandowski was denied a spot on the ballot by the canvassers on grounds he failed to file nominating petitions containing the minimum number of required signatures — 17,530.

The board said he also did not comply with the law requiring that at least 100 signatures each be secured from at least 20 different counties.

The Supreme Court followed its usual practice of making no comment on its rejection of appeal. In effect, this meant that the court agreed with the action of the canvassers.

Ribicoff, who was a member of the House from 1948 until 1952, seeks nomination for the Senate seat now held by retiring Sen. Prescott Bush, a Republican. The Republicans have chosen Rep. Horace Seely-Brown to run for the Senate.

Connecticut political observers believe Ribicoff has ample delegates backing to win in the Connecticut Democratic convention which begins Friday. Rep. Frank Rowland, Connecticut's congressional majority leader, also seeks the Democratic nomination.

Cook's 'Mush' Goes to Dogs
 ALASKAN COLLEGE KITCHEN Worker Travels to Job by Sled and Likes It

COLLEGE, Alaska (UPI)—When Miss Agnes Burget, head cook at the University of Alaska cafeteria, yells "mush" she isn't talking about the corn meal cereal.

She's talking to her sled dogs to get them going.

Miss Burget says she hasn't the time nor the patience to pamper an automobile or worry about getting stuck on snow-covered roads in 60 below zero weather. She travels her hobby for 40 years has dog sled.

She has mushed to work and wherever else she has had to go during the past three winters. No worries about gas bills, mushes home to the university two miles away.

The dogs are kept in a shed at the school while she works.

Miss Burget isn't the only one who uses this mode of transportation. During the winter here, it's not at all unusual to see badly acclimated students and students come mushing onto the campus.

"It's the safest, fastest, most economical and most dependable transportation I know," Miss Burget reports enthusiastically. "And it's also a lot of fun."

Has 5,000 Keys and Many Locks That Fit Them
 ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Toby Monday's father was a locksmith in Fort Scott, Kan., which is in the heart of the state's lead and zinc belt. Monday has been collecting keys of all sizes and shapes.

Monday figures he has 5,000 and many locks that fit them. He has a 30-pound padlock, its case about a foot square with an inch-thick steel shackle.

He has a heavy lock of German nickel silver, sculptured in the form of a gargoyles-like face, its mouth open. The lock came from a drawbridge across a mountain stream in Switzerland.

When the key is inserted in the mouth and turned, a bell rings. It is used to warn travelers that the bridge is about to open, Monday says.

Old Courthouse Soon to Crumble

By RICK HANSON
In order to save a city first must die a little.

Where an old building stands today, a vacant lot appears tomorrow.

The next buildings doomed to drop out of the downtown Pontiac scene are the old county courthouse and the former prosecutors' office next door.

Some or later the combined site as others will be redeveloped perhaps by a new building, a park, or maybe a parking lot. This city continues to be based on two wheels.

The hoped-for result is the attraction of more commerce, which is the life-blood of every city.

Take the courthouse, brooding vacantly at the corner of Saginaw and Huron streets. For instance.

Dedicated to last "for the ages" when completed in 1905, it is doomed to fall, the victim of demolition crews in the city's march to progress.

The job will be tackled in earnest by the Wolverine Lumber and Kreskings Co. of 320 S. Paddock St., within the next two weeks.

"She's a solid old building," in the words of George Arakelian, city planning committee member.

He has measured walls of stone, concrete and brick 8 feet thick in the building, long a landmark in downtown Pontiac.

Thirteen years of experience in the wrecking business will be pitted against the task ahead.

During that time, Arakelian has supervised the destruction of many old buildings as they outlived their usefulness in the city.

His firm currently is cleaning up the rubble after knocking down the old central fire hall on E. Pike Street.

"That one was easy," according to Arakelian. "The only problem was the tight working quarters."

While he doesn't expect the courthouse will come down easily, neither does he consider it the biggest demolition project he has taken on.

"The biggest job so far was the Rialto Theater," located on West Pike Street, Arakelian said. Wrecking Co. tore down the theater in 1953.

Arakelian is proud of the fact that none of his workers has ever been injured on the job, which he describes as, at best, a tricky business.

He recalled tearing down an old wooden mill in Rochester, also in 1953. One of his workers felled a still-chipboard into a former tool room of the building and it blew up.

"We didn't know that some gun powder had been split there by a former owner. Some of it must have gotten between the floorboards and stayed there," the wrecker noted.

He said only four workers will demolish the courthouse with the aid of a crane swinging a one-ton iron ball at the end of a cable.

The prosecutors office will be razed first to provide more working space for the major project.

But before the crane operator starts hefting the heavy ball against the courthouse, every piece of salvageable material will have been removed.

This will include as much of the exterior Cleveland sandstone as possible, Arakelian said.

He hopes to find buyers for the reusable stone later.

In the meantime it will be stored on company property off St. Clements Road.

1000 IN SALES
Arakelian estimated the firm already has realized about $600 through the sale of reclaimed marble from the courthouse interior.

Reclaimed brick also is worth about $30 a truckload, he said.

He expects to get enough brick from the courthouse and former prosecutors' office behind it to build a house, he said.

"Most wrecking companies don't figure on any salvage," claimed Arakelian, who said that was why he has been able to underbid them on many contracts.

"They just go in and bust everything up," he said.

Arakelian has built himself a home in Waterford Township to look into the incinerator from material salvaged of a number of past jobs.

Outlining his strategy for demolition of the courthouse, Arakelian said:

Once workers have gutted the building as completely as possible, they will pry off the tin roof in sections. These will be rolled up and lowered by crane into dump trucks below.

Next the walls will be knocked down floor by floor, by swinging the ton ball against them just above each floor level.

As the walls come down, the floors will be "dropped," he said, by pulling on them with the heavy ball dangling from the crane's hoist.

After a floor is dropped onto the one below, the walls will then be reduced another stage downward.

When the floor reaches a foot below ground level, it will be just a matter of sweeping up and passing city inspection.

Arakelian said the job will be completed in 90 days.

ORDERS SUITS
Cavanagh also ordered legal aides to prepare civil suits to help the money lost when department employees under-weighted work loads of rubbish and pocketed much of the fees which should have gone to the city.

Although Miral has denied any knowledge of the scandal, Richards said he told the former mayor last October that the Internal Revenue Service was investigating tax returns in connection with bribery at the city incinerator.

John W. Corry, chief tax lawyer for the prosecutors' office, was assigned to the case yesterday. Corry said he will ask revenue agents for authority to look at the records of the people indicted in the graft scandal.

The City Council directed Richards, Police Commissioner George Edwards and city officials to appear at the hearing and explain how the conspiracy could go undetected for more than five years, as police charged.

Edwards, who appeared before the council yesterday, said that his department was not responsible for policing city government.

Leftist Leader to Enter Oran

Ben Bella is Given Hero's Welcome Upon Arrival in Algeria

ALGERIA (AP)—Disident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella was expected to stage a triumphal entrance into Oran today and establish himself as the power of western Algeria.

The leftist deputy premier, who arrived in Oran today, Ben Kheida's moderate regime on the eve of Algerian independence, made his delayed return to Algeria yesterday and received a hero's welcome.

Thousands of Moslems turned out to greet him as he journeyed from the Moroccan frontier to Tlemcen, 15 miles south of Oran, Algeria's second city.

His next stop was Oran, where thousands of his armed supporters already were in control. Then army planned to proceed to Algiers and a possible showdown with the fledgling Algerian nation.

In Algiers, Ben Kheida's regime was reported growing in increasingly uneasy as Ben Bella demonstrated his hold on the Moslem masses on his journey through western Algeria. But Ben Bella struck a moderate pose.

URGES COOPERATION
Addressing a crowd of 6,000 Wednesday in the sports stadium at Tlemcen, Ben Bella made no mention of his rift with Ben Kheida. But he expressed hope that the new nation would solve its difficulties through the cooperation of the army, the people and the government.

Ben Bella spoke from a position of strength. He has the support of the 6,000-man liberation army now returning from exile in Morocco and Tunisia and of a great share of the former Moslem guerrilla units inside Algeria.

Ben Bella obviously has the support of western Algeria's Moslem civilians.

Tornadoes Touch Down in 4 States

By United Press International
Thunderstorms which brought funnel clouds to six Midwest and southern plains states continued during the night. Indiana was hit by electrical storms.

Tornadoes touched down in sections of Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Kansas but there were no reports of damage. Funnel clouds were spotted in parts of Oklahoma and Texas.

At Lafayette, Ind., airline employee Eddie Boyer, 21, was struck by a lightning bolt as he worked on a Lake Central Airlines plane. He was hospitalized with burns.

Earlier, two homes were damaged by lightning near Romeoville, Ill.

A funnel cloud was seen near Joliet, Ill. Another was spotted by Indiana state police near Lansing, Ill. A funnel cloud was spotted near Tulsa, Okla.

A thunderstorm brought 50-mile wind and 2 inches of rain to Borwick, Tex. Two light planes were damaged and a small building destroyed. Damage was estimated at $150,000.

Thunderstorms uprooted trees and snapped power lines in the Chicago area.

Several hours later, CBS made use of Testar's 16th orbit to relay history's first live show from England to the United States. The 12-minute program featured British officials explaining the transmitter located at Goolthly Downs and praising the American achievement.

YOU ARE IN PARIS
The French presentation was taped earlier in Paris for the historic broadcast from London in Britain and was seen here on all three networks for eight minutes beginning at 6:35 p. m. (Pontiac time).

The show opened with Jacques Tarette, French minister of posts and telecommunications, praising American-French cooperation and then advising:

"Relax, you are in Paris. I invite you to spend a few pleasant moments with me."

Testar's words, spoken in French, were translated into English for the benefit of his foreign audience.

The program was not seen in France, where the national network was already off the air for the night. It will be shown in France later.

Testar was on his 16th orbit around the earth, moving from Newfoundland to the English Channel, when it relayed the French signals here. As it moved eastward and out of range at its speed of 16,000 m.p.h., the television picture dissolved into static patterns.

The Day in Birmingham

Ex-Real Estate Salesman to Be Ordained a Deacon

BIRMINGHAM — John Bigler, a former real estate salesman with a Birmingham firm, will be ordained a deacon in the Episcopal Church at St. James Church here Sunday.

Bigler, 1219 Birmingham Blvd., will begin his ministry as assistant to the rector of Christ Church, the oldest Protestant church in Detroit in continuous service to the same location.

St. Rev. Archie H. Owsley, Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of Michigan, will ordain Bigler into the Diaconate. His father, the Rev. Canon Bigler, will present him.

A Birmingham resident since 1953, Bigler, 38, became a lay member of the church in 1959. He started attending the School of Theology of the Diocese of Michigan in 1959.

He is married and the father of two sons.

Most recently Bigler was employed by the Max Baer Realty firm before resigning to attend Seabury-Western Theological Seminary in Evanston, Ill., during the 1961-62 academic year.

Rev. Kenneth H. Cass, rector of St. James, will preach the ordination sermon and Rev. Herbert G. Myers, rector of St. David's Episcopal Church, Southfield, will be the liturgist.

Complaints that Woodward Avenue has become a speedway for reckless driving by Municipal Judge Alva Richardson.

Four young men were ordered to pay heavy fines yesterday for reckless driving by Municipal Judge Alva Richardson.

Fines of $100 each were imposed on Donald Urphart, 19, 2944 Virginia Court, Nepps Harbor James C. Harveys, 18, of 175 Pike St., Pontiac; Peter Barrington, 18, and Martin Bednarski, 21, both of Detroit.

Public safety director, Robert J. Stadler, said a number of complaints had been received by the city from motorists who drive on Woodward during the late evening and early morning hours.

"The crackdowns will continue as long as these drivers fail to obey all traffic laws," said Stadler. "They are a hazard to themselves as well as others."

Area Patrolman Held in Assault

On a case of a woman being handcuffed to a tree. Wort told his fellow officers, "I'm the one responsible for it."

He told them he could be reached at home.

Sackett, who said Wort has been on the police force for four years, believes that the patrolman's mind "snapped" while on duty.

An Army veteran, Wort suffered a leg injury in combat in Korea. He is married and the father of a baby girl.

His wife is expecting another child, Sackett said.

Mrs. Gold was examined by a doctor who found bruises on her wrists and head and scratches on her back.

Wort was booked yesterday at the county jail where he is to be examined today by two psychiatrists.

U.S. Tax Cut Begins; Break for Business

provides quick evidence of a willingness to help business and of a sympathy for business problems. Had there been no steel price rises in April and no stock market collapse in May, the announcement, probably wouldn't have been ready until late this month or early in August.

Steel will be one of the principal beneficiaries of the liberalization. Railroads and paper products also will receive substantial benefits.

The estimated first-year revenue loss of $1.5 billion will be the largest since Congress reduced the tax laws in 1954.

The depreciation overhaul probably means an end to any hope for a balanced budget in the 1963 fiscal year that began July 1. The revenue loss, by itself, will more than wipe out the $300 million surplus which Kennedy forecast in January.

However, Dillon said the government would quickly recoup at least part of the loss because liberalized depreciation will prompt job-creating business investments.

Kennedy said the result could be an increase of up to $6 billion in annual capital spending by business.

Rate Cut Told by Consumers

Gas Customers to Get $2-Million Reduction a Year, $3.4 Million Now

LANSING (AP) — Gas customers of Consumers' Power Co. will receive an annual rate reduction of $2 million and some $3.4 million in immediate refunds under an agreement announced today by the Public Service Commission.

The refund will probably range "from a few cents to a few dollars" for the individual customer, according to Pontiac Division Manager Charles Brown.

Brown added that exact rates would not be known until a ruling by the commission July 27.

Commission Chairman James H. Ingalls said the reduction in rates was based on negotiations involving pipeline gas prices to consumers.

Consumers, which serves some 30,000 customers in parts of 30 Lower Peninsula counties, was given a rate increase of $7.9 million annually in June 1961, partly based on its increased pipeline supply costs.

Ingalls said a temporarily allowed rate hike to Transline Gas and Fankhauser Eastern Pipeline was turned down recently by the Federal Power Commission.

The commission chairman said plans called for the refunds to be made in the form of a credit on September 1 to customers.

A short time later a multiparty motion of censure was filed on the same subject.

The vote will be taken Monday. The censure motion was signed by members of the Socialist, Radical Socialist, Popular Republican Movement and Independent Republican parties.

The government appears in no danger. Even if the opposition parties could rally the necessary 241 votes to topple the government, it is not sure they wanted to oust Pompidou. The tactic seemed to be to harass and embarrass the government rather than to force its resignation.

Negroes to Get Test for Voting

Federal Judge to Begin Precedent in Louisiana Under U. S. Act

MONROE, La. (AP)—A federal judge, in the first action of its kind in the nation, said today to administer tests to Negroes who want to vote in a northern Louisiana parish (county) where no member of their race had voted in 40 years.

U.S. Dist. Judge Edwin F. Hunter said he would test 74 Negroes from East Carroll Parish under the 1960 Civil Rights Act. That act empowers federal judges to process applications—or name a federal referee to do so—where there is an other way to end a "pattern of discrimination" against potential voters.

WOULD SET PATTERN
Hunter's action could establish a pattern in the handling of alleged vote discrimination in the south.

The parish, whose home at Lake Charles is in the opposite corner of the state from East Carroll, will give the Negroes literacy tests, require them to read the preamble of the state constitution and administer a simple citizen test.

The requirements are part of long-established state law for qualifying voters. In practice, many parishes in the past have skipped the tests. But the state recently ordered all parishes to comply with the registration laws. The move brought protests from the federal government that tightening of the requirements was designed to keep Negroes off registration lists.

The way for Judge Hunter's action was paved Wednesday in Lake Providence when the East Carroll Parish police jury failed to recommend a successor to succeed Vote Registrar Cecil Manning, who quit June 14 rather than submit to federal court orders to end discrimination against Negroes.

Algeria 'Confirms' North Korean Ties

TOKYO (AP)—Communist North Korea said today Algerian Premier Youssef Ben Khedda has expressed conviction that cooperation between the two countries will guarantee "success in our struggle against imperialism."

A North Korean radio broadcast, monitored in Tokyo, said Ben Khedda made the statement Tuesday in replying to a telegram sent him when Algeria became independent. Ben Khedda was quoted as saying:

"We are convinced that the tie of amicable cooperation formed between the two peoples in the period of the protracted liberation struggle of Algeria will be strengthened in the future and that this tie will become a guarantee for success in our struggle against imperialism."

And That Would Be Terrible

Monaco Better Watch It; or She'll Get Independence

By BOB CONSIDINE

MONTE CARLO — Princes and places... things... How do you like the nerve of that fellow Charles De Gaulle? The success of his moves to give independence to Algeria must have gone to his head. Now he wants Frenchmen living in and doing business in the picturesque principality of Monaco to pay their taxes!

Furthermore, he says that Prince Rainier does not do his bit to flush his rich French guests out from under their tax-free status, he, De Gaulle, will do a terrible thing to him, Prince Rainier.

He'll give Monaco full independence, not just the present principality status revocable, say, if Her Serene Highness

Grace, princess de Monaco, had not produced a male successor to the throne, Prince Albert the Marquis de Baux, born March 14, 1935.

Full independence sounds great in these days of emerging new states. But here, in Monaco—for a time, at least—it would be a catastrophe much worse than the breaking of the bank at the casino for seven straight nights.

Independence, if arrived at during a lull between the prince and De Gaulle, could shut off Monaco's drinking water, electricity, food, customs house, gas, telephone and telegraph service, radio, TV, and its use of French cops and firemen.

Given a little time, of course, the prince could supply all these things for his Monégasques

(There are perhaps 2,000 natives of this place, which is half the size of Central Park New York) plus a vast flotilla population that makes Monaco the most densely populated nation on earth.

A million and a half visitors drop in here every year to sample the delights. There isn't a square inch of the unoccupied land in Monaco is four or five times as costly as land a few yards down the road, in France.

For some years they have been boring a tunnel through the principality, to enclose the train tracks and turn the old road into building lots.

Unquestionably, a good measure of Monaco's boom can be traced to the crafty lading into this place of French capital. It has never been easy to collect a tax so from any Frenchman. In Monaco it has even been harder, and De Gaulle's balance appears to have run out.

A few old Monaco hands swear that the prince will "call De Gaulle's bluff." If so, it will be the first time in history that a state with an 88-man army, dressed like something out of an old Nelson Eddy operetta, made an atomic power back down.

Aristotle Onassis, the Greek oil king who owns more of Monaco than the Grimaldis, is trying to give—not sell—his extensive air line to the Greek government.

Olympia Airlines has line new jets, mostly British-built, an extensive sales force, popular routes, good pilots, engineers, mechanics, stewardesses and installations galore.

But, like so many airlines, it is having a tough time making a buck. The wary government of Greece appears to have rewritten an old promise and made it read: "Beware of Greeks bearing the gift of a $40 million airline."

My British friend Gus Newman and I appeared at the first tie of the spectacular Monte-Agil course the other day, eager to pit our erratic games against the superb layout which sits 2,500 feet above the sea. There was a nice looking French woman seated at the tree.

He gave her the bon jour mamielle bit and looked about for our laddies.

After a bit, she rose, walked over to the two heavy bags, pulled the hoods off our drivers and posted down the fairway. We tried to stop her when she slung both bags over her shoulders and started lugging them over a course that would have made any bachelorette blush. Mini could not speak a word of English. She briskly handed us the right club for each stroke. Once I "shook her off" and tried to take another club. Mini looked stern. She clucked, "tsk, tsk, tsk."

I put the club back and took the one she had chosen. It was the only golf lesson I've ever fully understood.

Tiny Siamese Twins Well After Surgery Success

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Siamese twin, born April 11, separated from her sister May 29, was reported doing well after an operation for a bowel obstruction.

Little Patricia Love underwent surgery Tuesday. The other infant, Prudence, has remained in Children's Hospital for cortisone treatment to promote activity of the adrenal glands.

The United States corn tops three billion bushels a year.

John St. John Seeks Separate Maintenance

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Jill St. John, charging mental cruelty, filed a separate maintenance suit on Wednesday against Lance Reventlow, millionaire son of heiress Barbara Hutton.

The 21-year-old actress asked a court order restraining Reventlow, 38, from selling any of the couple's community property.

Miss St. John told newsmen that she and her husband had fought during their two-year marriage over his liking for fast cars.

"Lance has taken up his racing license again," the actress said. "A big fight resulted."

The complaint said she and Reventlow separated July 2. The couple married in San Francisco in May 1959. They have no children.

Khrushchev Relashes an Old Speech

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press, News Analyst
WASHINGTON—Premier Khrushchev sounds stale but not dead. But, since he's a jolly man with more needles than a dressmaker, he'll probably pose one in the West soon again just to see it jump.

This week in Moscow he talked more than two hours without saying anything new. Yet, just because he's Khrushchev, he made front pages all over America, which is getting pretty good mileage out of a rebash.

STUCK ON A POINTS
He sounds stuck on three points: Military spending, nuclear testing, and Berlin.
The military spending is using up money he'd like to put into the Russian economy but can't because, as he made clear, Russia is going to keep on increasing its armaments.

Last May the Soviet government boasted most prices 30 per cent, butter prices 25 per cent to pay for new farm equipment and explained to the people this had to be done because the money could not come out of military spending. (Although the American economy is booming a bit, Congress this year voted another $13 billion for missile purchases, and on further aggravated by the fact Wednesday the Senate authorized almost another $4 billion for the space program.)

the United States insists is necessary before it agrees to disarm, to prevent cheating.

U. S. Freezes 2 Warehouses
Accuses Monroe Firm of Grain Shortages and Calls for Hearing

DETROIT — The federal government yesterday ordered frozen the operations of two grain warehouses owned by Haddix and Sons, Inc., former owners of two other warehouses thrown into receivership.

U.S. attorney Lawrence Gubow won an order from Judge Ralph Freeman temporarily halting operations at the firm's warehouses in Blissfield and Monroe. As in the Woodbury and Devatur cases, large corn shortages were reported.

Gubow accused the firm of being short $351,000 worth of corn in which the government owns or is obligated to protect. He said a routine check uncovered the new shortages.

He said the Blissfield elevator yesterday had only 432,523 bushels of 706,523 bushels of government-stored corn it should have had. He said the Monroe elevator had only 163,996 bushels instead of the 412,263 bushels it should have had.

Haddix and Sons was the original owner of elevators at Woodbury and Devatur which were placed under state and federal receivership. Federal and state authorities have promised that the interests of all parties will be protected. Gubow also won an order calling for a receiver to be named for the Blissfield and Monroe warehouses. Judge Freeman set a hearing for July 19 on whether his temporary restrainer should be made permanent.

And he frankly stated the Soviets will continue building up their nuclear armaments.
The Russians last fall suddenly announced an end to a voluntary ban on nuclear testing and began testing.

The reason may have been that they felt the West was getting ahead in the fine art of nuclear destruction and they couldn't afford to be outdone. In turn, the United States, not to be outdone either, resumed testing.

DENOUNCED U.S.
Without mentioning what Russia did, Khrushchev denounced the United States for what it did.

Last summer Khrushchev created a new crisis in Berlin, and it turned into an ugly one. He probably explains why he didn't back away from an explosion. And there hasn't been a settlement. Since this was a setback, simply marking time.

In his speech he suggested the Western allies get their troops out of West Berlin and let them be replaced by troops from two Russian satellites, Poland and Czechoslovakia, along with Norwegian and Danish or Dutch and Belgian troops.

By this arrangement, Communist troops would be allowed to get into West Berlin where they weren't allowed before. The thing wrong with this, the State Department said, was that the Russians had proposed it before and were turned down.

All in all, if Khrushchev didn't gain anything by the speech, he didn't lose anything either, which probably explains why he didn't mind making it since his policy for quite a while now has been simply marking time.

Debts Quickly Paid Buying U.S. Gold
WASHINGTON (AP)—France is paying off ahead of schedule $283.4 million of debts owed the United States and is purchasing $122.3 million of American gold. The mixture of good and bad news was disclosed today by the Treasury in an exchange of correspondence between Secretary Douglas Dillon and French Finance Minister Cocard d'Estange.

The gold purchase will mark the first significant reduction in the U.S. gold supply in about two months. It will reduce the Treasury's gold holdings to $16.3 billion—the lowest level in more than two decades.

According to the announcement, France will buy the gold "in order to realize a more customary relationship between gold and dollars in French international reserves."

PA MAKE OVER Have Fun in County's Lakes but Play It Safe

This Is Dangerous . . .

Water Perils Lurk for All

. . . So Is This

Young Swimmer Gets Out of Reach

By DON FERMOYLE

A 22-month-old boy and a 70-year-old man . . . What did they have in common? Nothing except the way they died.

The little boy was the youngest drowning victim of 1961. The aged man was the oldest.

If history repeats itself, 19 more persons will meet the same fate this year.

Some will be overconfident teenagers certain they can "make it to the other side of the lake."

Others will be older persons forgetful of the strength the years have sapped from their muscles and hearts.

MANY UNDER 10

A shocking percentage of lives lost will be those of children, under 10 years old.

Twelve of the 1961 drowning victims were youngsters in this age group.

In each of the drowning accidents involving children last year, the young victims were left alone, sometimes only for minutes, or left in the care of

nonswimming adults at beaches, docks and swimming pools.

Nearly all the seven youths from 14 to 18 years old who drowned last year showed a lack of judgment which proved fatal.

Swimming or boating in weed-infested, unsupervised or similarly dangerous waters was a contributing factor in nearly every teen-age death.

Most of the 10 adults who drowned in 1961 did so because they ignored many of the water safety rules.

The incompatible combination of cold water and hot weather resulted in heart attacks for some of these victims. Some simply went down while swimming alone.

Half of the "over-21" victims drowned as the result of boating accidents. Overcrowding or standing up in a boat was the chief cause of the accidents.

Common sense may have saved all 29 lives lost on the county's waterways last year.

SHE'S A LIFESAVER — Resucel-A, a life-like plastic dummy used for artificial respiration instruction, is a doll worth her weight in gold. Howard Compton (right), White Lake Township, saved a boy's life in nearby Lake Neva just two days after he had taken a month-to-mouth rescue breathing class in which this type of model was used. Shown are (from left): Howard Cantfield, president of the Pontiac Rotary Club, which donated this model to the Oakland County Sheriff's department and plans to donate another; Don Kraft, sheriff's department safety director; and Compton.

Immediate Use of Rescue Breathing Saves Lives

Minutes could mean the difference between life and death for victims of drowning, asphyxiation or electric shock.

Trooper Larry Miller of the Pontiac State Police Post says mouth-to-mouth rescue breathing usually is effective only if applied within five minutes after a victim is recovered from the water.

Generally, there is not enough time to phone for police or firemen. The first person at the scene of a drowning should know how to use this life-saving technique.

A life-sized doll called "Resucel-Anne" is now used by the state police and other local emergency agencies to demonstrate the mouth-to-mouth process.

Miller is available to any organization in the county which wants instruction in the emergency technique.

In the series of pictures below, Miller instructs Pontiac Press reporter Don Fermoyle in the simple yet effective steps of artificial respiration.

CLEAR THROAT — Immediately after recovery from water, remove any foreign matter from victim's mouth with fingers. Strike victim sharply on the back to dislodge any obstructions in air passages. Stretch victim out on his back.

TILT HEAD — Place one hand under victim's neck. Lift up neck so the head tilts back and downward. Open mouth by pulling jaw from bottom. Pinch off nostrils with fingers of other hand.

BREATHE DEEPLY — With one hand still under neck and the other, cutting off air through nose, take a deep breath. Form a tight seal between your mouth and victim's. Blow air into victim's vigorously. Use less pressure with children.

REPEAT PROCESS — After first breath, draw back and inhale again. Repeat 12 times a minute for adults and 20 times per minute for children. Miller explained that mouth-to-mouth respiration may be used with heart attack victims.

Churchill Sleeps After Big Day; Condition 'Good'

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill slept late this morning after a tiring day with visitors Wednesday. Middlesex Hospital attendants said he had a comfortable night and his general condition was good.

Reliable sources said the 81-year-old former prime minister may stay another two weeks at Middlesex and then recuperate on the French Riviera after a few days at his Chartwell country home in Kent. Churchill broke his high in a Monte Carlo hotel July 28.

Airport Money Bill Signed by Governor

LANSING — A bill carrying a $300,000 appropriation for construction at local airports around the state was signed by Gov. Swanson yesterday.

The appropriation, together with $400,000 from the State Aeronautics Fund, will match appropriations by local governments for construction and improvements at publicly owned airports. The state local funds, in turn, will be matched by federal grants.

Early Trading Is Heavy

Stocks Continue to Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed its advance into the fourth straight session early today in heavy trading. Key stock rose fractions to more than a point. There was a scattering of small losses. The ticker tape lagged behind transactions by five minutes or more. The market benefited from a series of encouraging news events. This week—the latest being the treasury's revision of depreciation rules which administration officials say will cut corporate income tax.

Bonds Mostly the Same

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices were mostly unchanged in light opening trading today. Among government issues, only a few intermediates showed any fluctuations and this amounted to more than 3/32. Some corporate bonds posted fractional gains, but Central of Georgia 4s of 1965 and Lehigh Valley Harbor Terminal 5s of 1964 ran up gains of 2 points.
