

News briefs

A publication of Oakland

University's News Service

377-3180

Lindell heads nursing

The university community is invited to a reception June 15 honoring Fred and Trisha Obear. The reception will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. in Lounge II of the Oakland Center. The many friends of the Obears are invited to say good-bye and to wish them luck as they prepare to leave for the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga.

The Oakland University Board of Trustees will meet June 17 from 7:30 p.m. in Lounge II of the Oakland Center.

Stanley Hollingsworth's Opera/Trilogy and the performances of OU students in one of those operas were well received by audiences and critics at the Spoleto U.S.A. festival in Charleston, S.C. The Hollingsworth works were "The Mother," "The Selfish Giant," and "Harrison Loved His Umbrella." OU students were featured in the last work.

The bookcenter will be closed for inventory on July 1, but the store is expected to be open for business on July 2. Departments are advised that no sales of any kind will be permitted during the single day closing.

Special parking

The university has designated two (2) 15-minute parking spaces in the Southwest #1 Parking Lot for use of students, faculty, and staff. These spaces are intended to allow convenient parking for the picking up and delivering of materials to the Print Shop, Stores, and the Mail Room. Parking enforcement of these spaces will be initiated for persons using these spaces for any extended periods of time.

Andrea R. Lindell, 37, is leaving the University of New Hampshire to become dean of the OU School of Nursing. The appointment is effective Aug. 1, 1981.

Lindell is currently an associate professor and chairperson of the Department of Nursing at the University of New Hampshire. She brings to the university an impressive background in professional nursing and education. At OU she will be dean and professor of nursing.

The new dean earned her diploma in nursing from St. Vincent School of Nursing in Erie, Pennsylvania in 1964, and the Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Villa Maria College in Erie. Receiving a Master of Science in nursing from Catholic University in 1972, with a specialization in psychiatric nursing. Lindell earned a Doctor of Nursing Science from Catholic University in 1975, with the same specialization.

Her teaching career includes three years as an instructor at St. Vincent in the 1960s, two years as chairperson of the master's program in psychiatric-mental health nursing at the Catholic University of America, and her four years at the University of New Hampshire.

In addition to her academic career, Dr. Lindell served as supervisor of nurses at Rouse Nurse Home in Youngsville, Pennsylvania, in 1966-67, director of the Warren County Visiting Nurses Association in Warren, Pennsylvania, in 1967-68, and charge nurse and team leader in the psychiatric unit at St. Vincent Hospital in 1969-70. She then was leader of the psychiatric health team at Prince George's Hospital in Cheverly, Maryland, in 1971, and director of special projects for Robert Brady Company in Bowie, Maryland, in 1972.

She has several publications and presented papers to her credit, and is active in professional associations such as the American Nurses Association and the National League for Nursing. She is a native of Warren, Pennsylvania.

In addition to Dean Lindell, the following personnel were approved by the OU Board of Trustees. New faculty—Paul G. Bator, assistant professor of rhetoric; Bandana Chatterjee, assistant professor of chemistry; Gary Moore, assistant professor of nursina; and Thomas C. Windeknecht, professor of engineering. Adjunct faculty—Janet Nagy and Eileen M. O'Connell, clinical instructors in nursing. All appointments take effect Aug. 15, 1981. Changes of status—James R. Ozinga, acting chairperson of the Department of Political Science now through Aug. 19, 1981; and Ronald A. Sudol, acting chairperson of the Department of Rhetoric from June 26 through Aug. 19, 1981.

A new dean for the College of Arts and Sciences will be considered at the June 17 board meeting.

Econ award

A Troy resident has won the coveted Scholastic Achievement Award of the American Marketing Association.

The winner is Cheryl Clodfelter. Cheryl is a 1981 graduate of the Oakland University School of Economics and Management where she majored in marketing and human resources development.

The AMA award is based on outstanding scholastic and leadership achievements in the field of marketing. The certificate of award was presented at a ceremony held recently at Carl's Chop House. John King, president of the Detroit Chapter of the AMA, made the presentation.

Cheryl was vice president of the newly formed Oakland University marketing club. She is a graduate of Troy Athens High School.

You Are

* * *

University P

June

for

Fred and Tris

3 to 5

Lounge

Wilson awards to Schaefers, Doyle

A computer and information science whizz and an NCAA swimming champion have won the 1981 Matilda R. and Alfred G. Wilson Awards as outstanding seniors at Oakland University.

The winners are Mary A. Schaefers and George Mark Doyle. They each received a cash award, a medal, and have their names engraved on a plaque on display at the university. The winners were announced during June 6 commencement exercises.

Schaefers is a computer and information science major now employed as a systems analyst at Burroughs Corporation. Schaefers' academic achievements include membership in Golden Key National Honor Society and the OU Honors College. She has held the Oakland Competitive Scholarship, the Upper Class Achievement Award, and a Student Life Scholarship.

She has been chairperson of the Concert Lecture Board, a member of the Academic Computing Committee, Slavic Folk Ensemble, chairperson of campus blood drive, an organizer of the 20-year anniversary party, and she is listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. She has been a board member of the St. John Fisher Chapel.

Doyle is a chemistry major in the OU pre-med program. He has been accepted at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine.

Doyle's academic honors include the William T. Morris Foundation Scholarship, the Anibal Burgum Scholarship, departmental honors, top senior scholar in the Department of Chemistry, Great Lakes Intercollegiate Arhletic Conference male scholar arhlete, and a nominee for the National Collegiate Arhletic Association Post Graduate Scholarship for 1981.

Doyle is the current record holder in the NCAA Division II 200-yard backstroke, an NCAA II national champion seven times, a member of the pre-med society, the American Chemistry Society student affiliated club, and he is listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. He has been a volunteer at the Oak Ridge (Tennessee) Hospital and a coach and instructor in the YMCA children's swimming program.

OHEP makes awards

The Oakland Health Education Program. (OHEP) Research Awards in medical laboratory technology were presented at the annual Awards Banquet held recently at Meadow Brook Hall, with both first place going to Oakland University students.

Receiving the top honor in the science/ technology division was William J. Davey, student at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, with Jane Taylor, Pontiac General Hospital, taking top honors in the management/education division.

The medical technology students at the five OHEP hospitals (Crittenton, Pontiac General, Providence, St. Joseph Mercy, and William Beaumont) submit research projects in one of the two research areas as part of the requirements for their year of clinical education. Each hospital then submits the best research papers in each division to a panel of judges. The papers are judged on originality, quality of research, written presentation and value to the field of medical technology. This is the first year that Oakland University students have been the recipients of the top honors in both divisions.

Judges for this year's competition were Dr. Kenneth D. McClatchey, assistant professor of pathology, the University of Michigan; Dr. Jeanne Riddle, director of rheumatology research, Henry Ford Hospital; and Dr. Joseph Wiener, chairman, department of pathology, Wayne State University.

Stinson directs alumni

Joan B. Stinson, a 1963 graduate, has been chosen to direct Oakland University's growing alumni association. The appointment is effective immediately.

Stinson comes to OU from the Fisher Body Division of GMC where she was employed as a materials manager and inventory and cost analyst.

In 1979, she became vice president of the OU Alumni Board of Directors and chairperson of the student career-sharing committee. She also acted as chairperson for the 1980-81 telefund and worked as an OU alumni fund direct solicitation volunteer in 1978.

Stinson's involvement with the university began while she was a student. In 1962-63 she served as a student senator. She earned her Bachelor of Arts in Secondary Education (English) with a minor in history.

Stinson brings strong ideas to the university. She explains that "the alumni have demonstrated an awareness of the reciprocal benefits derived from their continued support of Oakland. An excellent university reflects well on its graduates. It is critical that the alumni relations office reaffirm its dedication to fostering continued involvement of graduates in the learning and decision-making processes and to building a strong development structure with which to maintain our excellence."

Invited

* * *
Reception

* 15 or isha Obear

* p.m.

* II. OC

MB
Music Festival
GALA OPENING
June 25
TICKETS
377-2010

OU Faculty lecture, publish

Carlo Coppola (Modern Languages/Area Studies) has published "The Conflict of Modernity vs. Tradition in Indian Literature: Three Novels Considered" in Indus Chronicle, Vol. I, No. 4, 14-17, and "The Angare Group: The Enfants Terribles of Urdu Literature" in Annual of Urdu Studies, I, (1981), 57-69. He has also published reviews of M.K. Naik, ed. Aspects of Indian Writing in English: Essays in Honour of Professor K.R. Srinivas Iyengar (1979), Narayaniya Parvan du Mahabharata, tr. Anne-Marie Esnoul (1979), and Indira Parthasarathy, The River of Blood (1979) in World Literature Today, Winter 1981, pp. 175-177.

Lewis N. Pino, director of research and instructional services, is the author of Developmental Funding for Higher Education: A Case Study, published in a recent issue of Grants Magazine.

G. Philip Johnson, dean of the Graduate School, was named president of the Midwestern Association of Graduate Schools for 1981-82 at the 37th annual meeting of the association held in Chicago on April 7. The association, an affiliate of the Council of Graduate Schools in the United States, has 165 institutional members.

William F. Moorhouse, chair of the Human Resources Development Area of the School of Human and Educational Services, has been nominated by the area's faculty for the Association of Counselor Education and Supervision Distinguished Professional Service Award. His colleagues recognized his leadership skills and his significant contributions in program development, publications and service in professional organizations.

Abigail Adams: An American Woman has been chosen for the 1980 Book Award of the Colonial Dames of America. Author Charles W. Akers, history, received the award in April 30 ceremonies in New York City.

Lowell Eklund, dean of continuing education, was the banquet speaker at the April educational and training conference of the Indiana Commission on Aged; his topic: "Lifelong Learning—The Imperative for Lifelong Living."

Elizabeth Pinkstaff, School of Nursing, attended the University of North Carolina, School of Public Health's 5th annual conference for Community Health Nurse Educators at Chapel Hill, April 13-16.

Jane Bingham, human and educational services, has been elected to the scholarship committee of the International Children's Literature Association for 1981-84. The committee annually selects one or two scholars to receive awards ranging from $500 to $1,000.

Rhetoric notes

Recent contributions by the Department of Rhetoric faculty have been noted by Donald E. Morse, chairman.

Ronald Sudol, assistant professor, has been awarded a prestigious summer fellowship from the National Endowment for the Humanities for his project "Presidential Communication." He has also been handed a Danforth Associate from June 1, 1981 to May 20, 1986. The program offers opportunities for interdisciplinary and inter-institutional activities among faculty. Associates are invited to attend three biennial conferences with the cost of lodging, hospitality, and program paid by the foundation.

Wilma Garcia, special instructor, chaired the Committee on Local Arrangements for the spring meeting of the Michigan College English Association held at Oakland University, March 13, 1981.

Barbara Hamilton, special instructor, and Betty Bamberg, University of Southern California, have published the results of their computer-assisted study, "The Exam-Preparation Strategies of College Freshmen," in the Annual Proceedings of the Western College Reading Association, 1981. Ms. Hamilton and Bamberg presented their findings at the annual meeting of the WCRA in San Francisco last spring.

Colin Cass, part-time lecturer, will have an article "The Look of Hemingway's 'In Another Country'" in the summer number of Studies in Short Fiction.

Donald E. Morse, professor and chairman, published an article "Masterpieces or Garbage: Martin Tropp and Science Fiction," in the CEA Critic, March 1981. At the recent Second International Conference on the Fantastic in the Arts held in Boca Raton, Florida, he chaired the opening session, responded to a paper on the Arthurian legends, and presented an essay, "Biscuits, Changelings and Asses or Audience, Belief and Fantasy."

Three members participated in the annual meeting of the Conference on College Composition and Communication in Dallas, Texas, March 26-28, 1981. Paul B. Bator, assistant professor, was a panelist for the session on "Sentence Combining and the Teaching of Composition"; Margaret B. Pigott, assistant professor, reviewed Morton Miller's Reading and Writing Short Essays. She also chaired the session "Perspectives on Personal Writing: Theory and Pedagogy"; Ronald A. Sudol, assistant professor, chaired the session on 'Invention in Revision: New Perspectives on the Revision Process."

CALENDAR

FRIDAY, JUNE 12

8:30 p.m.

Hair

Barn Theatre

SATURDAY, JUNE 13

10 a.m.

University Picnic

Fun in the Sun Stoney Creek Park

Stoney Hair

8:30 p.m.

Barn Theatre

SUNDAY, JUNE 14

2:30 and 6:30

2:30 and

Hair

6:30 p.m.

Barn Theatre

1 to 5 p.m.

Meadow Brook Hall Tours

MONDAY, JUNE 15

3 p.m.

Reception

Fred and Trisha Obear

Lounge II, OC

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 17

8 p.m.

The Fog, Movie

Gold Rooms, OC

THURSDAY, JUNE 18

8 a.m.

Orientation

Freshman & Transfer Orientation

Gold Rooms, OC

noon

Patio Series, Concert

OC Patio

FRIDAY, JUNE 19

8:30 p.m.

Hair

Barn Theatre

SATURDAY, JUNE 20

7:30 p.m.

Tammy Wynette and George Jones, Concert

Baldwin Pavilion

SATURDAY, JUNE 20

8:30 p.m.

Hair

Barn Theatre

SUNDAY, JUNE 21

2:30 and

Hair

6:30 p.m. 1 to 5 p.m. Barn Theatre Meadow Brook Hall Tours

8:30 p.m. Frankie Vall

Frankie Valli & the Four Seasons, Concert

Baldwin Pavilion

MONDAY, JUNE 22

10 p.m.

Academic

Classes End

TUESDAY, JUNE 23

8 a.m.

Orientation

Freshman Orientation for Fall

Gold Rooms, OC

noon

Patio Series, Concert

OC Patio

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 24

8 a.m.

Orientation

Freshman Orientation for Fall

Goldrooms, OC

10 p.m.

Final Exams End