Saud Continues to Meet Arabs on Unification

King to Huddle With Ike in Final Conference Before Departure

WASHINGTON (AP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia continues today negotiations with other Arabs aimed at unifying the Arab world.

Saud, standing by for a final meeting tomorrow with President Eisenhower, has been holding long talks with representatives of the other Arab nations.

His goal has been to unify the Arab nations so they can speak with one voice in such fields as foreign policy.

If that day comes, it might well mean the end of Arab bickering which has interfered with attempts to solve Mideast problems.

It might even bring Arab-Israeli peace. And that is a prime target of U. S. foreign policy.

Saud met for 1½ hours yesterday with Crown Prince Abdul Ilah of Iraq, and has talked also with the Washington ambassadors of other Arab nations.

LEBANON SUPPORTS

Like the King and the Crown Prince, Foreign Minister Charles Malik of Lebanon is supporting President Eisenhower's Middle East proposal. The Eisenhower plan, to fight Red armed attack if necessary and to provide 200 million dollars a year in military and economic aid to anticommunist countries in the Middle East, is still awaiting final congressional approval.

Saud told a news conference the plan "is a good one which is entitled to consideration and appreciation" of the Arab countries.

TO TALK AT HOME

Saud, Malik and Abdul Ilah have indicated they will discuss the plan, and other Arab matters, with leaders of other countries when they get back home. Reports from Cairo last night said another Arab summit conference will be held on Saud's return there.

★ ★ ★

Distrust and intrigue in Arab affairs have kept the just-awakening, oil-rich countries apart for years. The main unifying force has been a pan-Arab hatred of Israel, with each Arab state seeming to try to outdo the other in that respect.

The feeling has been growing among diplomats here that, if only the Arabs could speak with one voice, many of them would

Reno Slowly Gets Back to Normal After Blasts

RENO (AP)—Downtown Reno, torn by explosion and fire Tuesday, had hopes of getting back to normal today.

Two of the main business blocks have been closed since the blasts. The evacuation area was doubled yesterday after some jittery, blast-conscious residents told the Fire Department they thought they smelled propane-air gas fumes.

More than 60 gas detection experts from half a dozen agencies worked through the night to be sure that no hidden concentrations remained in pioneer irrigation and drainage ditches which have been "built over" in the course of the city's growth.

When ditches are checked, the crews will turn to the mains and meters of the Sierra Pacific Power Co., which delivers the propane gas supply to Reno.

That procedure was determined yesterday at a somewhat stormy meeting of city officials and others interested.

Several felt checks by the utility company of its own facilities and assurance they were in order were sufficient to warrant opening of the blocked-off evacuated area.

Mayor Len Harris ruled the area would not be opened until checks of all possibilities had assured complete safety.

The four-block area was shut down for the second time yesterday morning—after reports of new gas concentrations were made.

Tuesday's blast was touched off by gas accumulations beneath buildings along Sierra Street just north of the Truckee River.

Two persons were killed and some 40 injured.

Property loss estimated at between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000 in the two half blocks fronting on Sierra street and the Truckee River where explosion and fire destroyed a number of buildings, including the modern Paterson department store and the Elk's Club.

Mayor Harris resisted pressure from business interests to reopen the newly closed area.

"Rather than one more dead, we'll keep the area closed," the mayor said.

Is Fat a Problem?

You can avoid it, according to nutrition expert Gaynor Maddox whose special six-part series on the re-education of eating habits begins Monday in The Pontiac Press. In this enlightening series, Maddox sums up the problem as it will be tackled by five distinguished researchers and physicians.

Kids on 'Jitterbug Diets'

HILLSDALE (AP) — "Jitterbug diets" of hot dogs, pop and potato chips are filling school children with "empty" calories, a county health study reports.

The survey of 133 fifth graders by the Hillsdale-branch Health Department showed that only one had a perfectly balanced diet.

All but six were found deficient in one of eight so-called necessary food categories. Only 36 — or less than 30 per cent — met minimum requirements in five or more of the eight classifications.

Children were asked to list what they ate at each meal and between meals over a five-day period.

Hot dogs, potato chips and pop for lunch, topped off with candy bars and soft drinks after school, fill children so full of "empty calories," the study said, they have "neither appetite nor capacity" for the evening meal.

Dondero Chosen to Tell Congress of Seaway Needs

Former Congressman George A. Dondero said today he has accepted a temporary position with the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp.

Dondero, retired Representative of the 18th District, was chairman of the House Public Works Committee. He was instrumental in steering through Congress the bill that authorized the seaway.

Dondero has been assigned to acquaint Congress members with the reasons for increases in seaway construction costs. President Eisenhower has asked Congress for an additional 35 million dollars to help complete the $105 million joint U. S.-Canadian project.

Dondero said the original estimates were made in 1952 and that costs have gone up considerably since then. Additional items such as longer locks and an administration building also have hiked the anticipated costs, he said.

Oakland County's former Representative added that the project is self-liquidating and the government will get back "every penny" of the money it is spending on the seaway.

West May Get More Slides

Trains Held Up, Roads Closed as Tons of Snow Skid Off Mountains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A forecast of continued mild weather and scattered showers today brought a prediction of more snowslides along the Idaho-Montana border, where cascading snow yesterday trapped two transcontinental trains and closed highways temporarily. No one was injured.

★ ★ ★

A Milwaukee Railroad westbound streamliner was trapped 11 hours between slides in the St. Joe Mountains before switching to Northern Pacific tracks and continuing.

An eastbound Milwaukee streamliner was halted by a slide just east of Avery, Idaho. Snowplows pulled the train back to Avery, where it was rerouted.

Tons of fast-moving snow in the Bitterroot Mountains knocked off the tracks and buried an eastbound Northern Pacific freight. One diesel unit rolled 75 feet down a bank.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Highways 10 and 10a, high in the Bitterroots in western Montana, were closed temporarily because of slides. Snow 12 feet deep was reported across U.S. 2 between Nyack and East Glacier.

Governor Clyde Agrees to Study Felon Demands

Guard Near Death and Several Convicts Hurt; Buildings in Shambles

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, UTAH (INS) — A night of blood rioting and arson ended early today at a Utah State Prison when some 500 convicts released their hostages and the governor of Utah agreed to study the prisoners' demands.

Acting Warden John Turner's guards immediately resumed control of the burned-out Point of the Mountain Prison located 18 miles south of Salt Lake City.

The inmates released 27 hostages, gave up a submachine gun, a rifle and a pistol, and returned to their cells in a happy mood of victory.

None of the hostages held during the night suffered harm.

As the nearly 12-hour-long uprising ended, Utah Gov. George D. Clyde said: "We will now carry out our pledge to consider complaints or suggestions given by the prisoners."

Meanwhile, one guard was near death from a stab wound, and several prisoners who refused to join in the rioting were under treatment for severe beatings and knife cuts suffered at the hands of fellow inmates.

The prison was a shambles following a night of destruction sparked by a minor hall disturbance and turned into a concerted convict demand for processing of 43 grievances.

NEW PAROLE BOARD

The prisoners' demands included a desire for a parole board made up of penologists and "not businessmen." They also wanted to publish their own newspaper, better food in the mess halls, and banishment of idleness in the penitentiary.

Another complaint was that some prisoners were serving too much "time," and that there were several teenagers in the penitentiary, including one 16-year-old, who

County GOP Dinner to Draw Big Crowd

A capacity crowd is all but assured at the Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club banquet Monday, president George F. Taylor said today.

More than 450 have bought tickets, he said, to hear U.S. Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif) speak at 6:30 p.m. in Northwood Inn, Berkley, on the eve of Abraham Lincoln's birthday anniversary.

Hillings, known for his investigations of Communism here and in Europe, is expected to speak on his recent trip behind the Iron Curtain, Taylor said.

George A. Dondero of Royal Oak, retired Oakland County representative (18th Dist.), will be master of ceremonies. William S. Broomfield, present representative, will introduce Hillings, Taylor said.

Hillings will talk earlier at a tea of the Republican Woman's Federation of Oakland County. The tea will be from 3 to 6 p.m. in the Royal Oak Women's Club.

TICKETS AVAILABLE

About 50 tickets to the banquet, at $3.50 apiece, are still available from County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, Taylor said.

★ ★ ★

Following the banquet, a board of directors will be elected for 1957. Officers were elected last fall.

City's Mild Weather to Stay Another Day

Today will be partly cloudy, with a mild 36 degrees at 2 p.m. dipping to 24 to 28 tonight.

Friday will be mostly cloudy with a high of 36 to 40.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. this morning was 33 degrees.

Prentiss M. Brown Suffers Heart Attack

ST. IGNACE (INS)—Former U.S. Senator Prentiss M. Brown, 67, head of the Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority, was reported resting comfortably today following a serious heart attack.

His oldest son, James, said he would be confined to an oxygen tent for perhaps a week and to the Mackinac Straits Hospital for at least three weeks.

Brown's physician, Dr. Herbert Hamel, summoned a heart specialist, Dr. Benjamin Blum, from Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey.

Friends said Brown had complained recently of a stomach ailment. He suffered the heart attack while driving on a road near the Straits. He entered the hospital yesterday at 1:30 p.m (EST).

Brown spoke Tuesday night here at an open forum on the future of St. Ignace.

A son, James, Mackinac county prosecutor, said his father had no history of a heart aliment.

Growing Population Puts Burden on Circuit Judges

Rapid Rise in Cases Swamps County Courts

By PETE LOCHBILER

The process of justice in Oakland County can be compared at this moment, Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said today, to a swimmer about to go down for the third time.

After a long battle and despite doubled efforts, he warned, circuit courtrooms are going to be swamped during the present session under the rising tide of pending criminal cases.

It will mark a turning point.

With the number of court cases mounting in proportion to the county's mushrooming population, the four circuit judges have nevertheless been able to hold their own.

Appointment of the fourth judge last January allowed the county to keep its head above water, with about as many cases cleared from the docket as were started during the year.

CAN HANDLE LESS

But this session, Taylor predicted, the court will be able to handle only about 60 per cent of criminal cases already before it.

This is not counting additional criminal cases that normally will be started while the court is in session.

The backlog will build up, Taylor said, despite emergency measures. During this session, lasting the month of February Taylor said, criminal cases will be tried in two courtrooms instead of the customary one.

However, Taylor figured, of the 140 cases pending right now, only 80 will have been cleared up by March 1.

"And we're lucky," he added, "that we've got no sensational cases that would require extra long trials."

By this September, Taylor predicted, the county will be faced with the biggest backlog of criminal cases in its history, possibly 200.

Taylor limited his figures to criminal cases. Others have predicted a similar situation with civil and divorce cases, which make up the bulk of the judges' work.

County Clerk Lynn D. Allen has said the advantage gained by having a fourth circuit judge will be buried by this fall under the increasing case load.

Some Oakland County lawmakers have responded by asking the legislature for a fifth circuit judge.

Others, agreeing there is a mounting need, have pointed out that there is no room in the present court house to put another judge and his courtroom.

NO SPACE

Taylor said: "Even if we had another judge, where would we put the new assistant prosecutors who would have to be hired to work on his cases?"

The county, he said, may be forced to call in juries during July and August, an unprecedented move.

"Right now," he said, "the best we can do is try those people who are in jail and clear their cases up. Some of the other cases, of people who are free on bond, we'll have to let slip by."

Old Detroit Company Again Saved

Workers Give Firm Financial Aid

DETROIT (AP) — For the second time in six years the Hammond-Standish Co. has called on its packing house workers for financial help.

In a unique labor-management plan announced yesterday, employes of Detroit's oldest and largest meat packing plant will loan 10 per cent of their earnings for the next five years to the financially plagued firm.

The plan was negotiated as a separate agreement between the 99-year-old company and local 190 of the United Packing House Workers of America.

Joseph Strobl, Hammond-Standish president, said the plan is expected to give the company $900,000 in working capital over the five-year period.

ALL WORKERS AGREE

Strobl said all of the company's 300 hourly workers agreed to the plan after it was explained that continuation of operations would be "uncertain" without their help.

Strobl said that the company feels the "faith" demonstrated by employes will aid in obtaining outside financial help, currently restricted to a "limited basis."

John Ison, local president, said union members voted overwhelmingly for the plan.

Executives and administrative employes also will participate in the plan, Strobl said.

IN TROUBLE BEFORE

Hammond-Standish has been in financial trouble since 1950. In 1951 the plant closed. The only action that saved the company at that time was an offer by employes to work for three weeks without pay, in order to put the firm back on a paying basis.

The action saved the firm and the employes later were repaid for two of the three weeks.

Under the current plan, if the company succeeds at the end of five years, money loaned by employes will be returned with six per cent interest. If the balance at the end of the period is lower than the total contribution, the remaining money will be divided among the workers on a prorata basis.

The plan was worked out independently of the regular union-management contract calling for a 5-cent wage increase and added fringe benefits.

Clamp Tax Lien on M. T. Wade

Area Man Imprisoned for Charity Fraud Hit by $140,000 Judgment

Morrison T. Wade, of 3402 Ward's Point Dr., West Bloomfield Township, now serving four to ten years in Southern Michigan Prison for defrauding the public of $750,000 through the Detroit Society of Good Neighbors, today is faced with a $140,000 tax lien.

Wade and his wife, Bessie Lou, were convicted of diverting the funds from charity they had solicited for the Society, an organization founded by themselves. Wade was managing director.

Judge Marion J. Harron of the U. S. Tax Court imposed the lien yesterday, following two days of hearings. The amount covers income and excess profits taxes and penalties for the years 1943 through 1957.

Wade was acquitted by a Detroit Recorder's Court jury in 1950 on charges that he influenced a witness before a one-man grand jury which investigated the society in 1948. He denied that he told orchestra leader Vere Wirwille to lie about use of society of Good Neighbor funds before the grand jury investigators.

The Wades were convicted on four counts in September, 1951: Conspiring to cheat the public of $750,000 in funds donated to the charitable society, conspiring to obtain another $750,000 by false pretenses, defrauding the public of $75,000 and obtaining $75,000 under false pretenses. Wade was sentenced to prison. His wife drew a five year probation term.

To Arraign City Man on Indecency Charge

A 30-year-old Pontiac factory worker, charged with indecent liberties with a 15-year-old boy, was examined in Municipal Court Wednesday before Judge Cecil McCallum and then bound over to Circuit Court to appear for arraignment Monday.

Richard W. Copeland, 496 Lowell St., was committed to the Oakland County Jail after failure to furnish a $5,000 bond.

Copeland was apprehended by Pontiac police at his home on January 20 on a complaint from the youth's mother.

Two Men, Woman Admit Grand Rapids Bank Job

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Two men and a woman have been nabbed in an $8,500 Grand Rapids bank holdup, and the FBI reports the trio has admitted the stickup and most of the loot has been recovered.

The woman and one man were arrested in Chicago last night. The other was picked up late yesterday en route from Kalamazoo to Chicago.

There is a possibility, police said, the three might have been involved in the $1,681 robbery of the State Bank of Elsie last Friday—four days ahead of the one in Grand Rapids. A rifleman and a woman were involved there.

Arrested in Chicago were Joseph Postelwaite, 20, of Kalamazoo, and Mrs. Minerva Goodman, 25-year-old Chicago divorcee. Taken along U.S. 12 en route to Chicago was Dwaine Lewis Krier, 22, of Aberdeen, S. D.

A tip, the source of which they refused to reveal, set the FBI and police on the trio's trail. It led to Kalamazoo, then Chicago. The chase ended without gunplay.

Charles W. Brown, Detroit FBI chief, said $7,248 of the loot was recovered.

Hostages Released, Ending Prison Riot should be segregated in another institution.

Earlier, Gov. Clyde conferred briefly with the prisoners but refused to negotiate further on their demands until all the hostages were released.

Six hostages were freed shortly afterward and later three more were released. Among the hostages were 13 members of a Latter-Day Saints Church basketball team who had come to play the prison team.

As the night wore on, fire department units from nearby communities fought and finally subdued blazes started in the prison's commissary, a cellblock and a storeroom.

POLICE MOBILIZE

Outside the prison, a heavily armed group of 250 state patrolmen, sheriff's officers, prison guards and National Guardsmen strung out around the prison's strong double fence.

The officers switched on headlights of their cars when the prison's power plant failed and kept the sprawling building under surveillance. Four armored cars were posted at intervals to back up the officers.

Prisoners Joe Valdez and Bill Randall appeared at the main gate of the institution after convicts had held out eight hours and made an historic television appearance explaining their stand.

Valdez and Randall, posing readily for the television cameras, outlined the convicts' demands and said they would let the hostages go when there was an assurance of no reprisal from authorities.

The acting warden named Valdez as being the cause of the riot. He said the prisoners were angry because Valdez had been placed in solitary confinement for fighting earlier in the week.

CRITICAL CONDITION

N. L. Colem, the guard who was stabbed as the tumult got under way, was listed "in critical condition" at the Salt Lake County Hospital.

A cordon of guards pulled his bleeding body from the mess hall as the crazed convicts began their wild demonstration. The guards slammed a huge door shut and were literally locked out while the convicts were locked in.

Prison officials named Ted Keener, serving a sentence for armed robbery, as being one of the ring leaders. Buddy Washington, a one-time welterweight boxer in Utah, spoke for the convicts several times.

Prison Warden Marcel Graham was out of the state on a business trip when the riot occurred.

Your Income Tax

This is one of a series of articles prepared by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service to help you prepare your Income Tax Return.

M AND D LIMITATIONS

Medical expenses are subject to the following limitations. First — add up the drug and medicine expense — from this total subtract 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income. Add the answer you get to your total of medical and dental expenses — take the total you now have and subtract 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income. The answer is your allowable medical deduction.

If either you or your spouse were 65 years of age or older in 1956 — all that is necessary for you to do is subtract 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income from the total of medicine and drug expense only.

Add the answer you get to the medical and dental expense you and your spouse had — and you have your allowable medical expense deduction — because you can disregard the 3 per cent figure.

If you or your wife are 65 or over — and you want to claim a deduction for medical expense paid for a dependent—the amounts paid for the dependent are subject to the limitations of the 1 and 3 percentages.

Has 6 Months More to Live

Man, 27, Doomed by Cancer; Satisfied With Full, Happy Life

DETROIT (AP) — "I intend to have a wonderful six months," said smiling 27-year-old Leonard Kerschke.

Dr. Clarence Hilberry, president of Wayne State University, had just delivered Leonard's bachelor of arts degree in psychology and the young man was happy, too, about the birth of a second daughter last Saturday.

But Leonard had received what would be soul-shattering news to most people a week ago. Doctors have told him he had cancer — and only six months to live, at most.

He greeted the news with: "Don't be sorry and don't fret. I can take it. I had six of the greatest years of my life being married to my wife. When you have lived a happy life, a full life, it matters little how old you are when you die."

"You see," he added, "I have an advantage over most people. I know when I'm going to die; others don't."

Kerschke entered a hospital Jan. 6.

An operation performed a week ago disclosed cancer. He got the news Friday.

News of the seriousness of his illness wasn't revealed to his wife, Athleyne, 26, until today, but he told newsmen:

HAD PREMONITION

"When I came in here my wife told me she had a premonition I wouldn't come out. While she hasn't been told, I'm sure she knows."

Kerschke, a 1947 graduate of Royal Oak high school, worked while studying for his Wayne degree. He held jobs at the United States Rubber Co. plant in Detroit, where he lived, and then at the Detroit Gear & Axle Co. Later he got a job with the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation.

Education Board to Let Contracts

Meets Tonight to Clear Way for 2 City Schools, Plus 2 Additions

The Board of Education will make further progress in its 1957 building program at a special meeting at 6 p.m. tonight in Pontiac Senior High School.

Contracts are expected to be let for two elementary schools. The Herrington Hills School, costing an estimated $466,500, will be on Bay street between Mt. Clemens street and Featherstone road.

The Kennett Road School will cost an estimated $483,500 and be west of Cloverlawn drive.

Both schools almost identical in construction, are expected to meet increased population in the areas. They are expected to be completed by this fall.

The board also is expected to let contracts for construction at two existing schools. Multi-purpose rooms and classroom additions are planned at Bethune and Malkim Schools.

Ten classrooms are recommended at Bethune and six classrooms and a kindergarten at Malkim.

There will be a progress report on purchase of an elementary school site near Whittier School.

Saud Meets Arabs to Unify Policies

Israel has expressed fears that a united Arab nation, instead of negotiating, might combine forces to attack Israel, but the United States reportedly has made it clear to the Arabs that it will not tolerate such an attack.

Saud is scheduled to fly to Madrid for a visit in Spain. He is expected to leave Saturday aboard Eisenhower's personal plane, Columbine III.

Kadar Vows Death to Rebels

Hungary Uprising on Way?

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Premier Janos Kadar has acknowledged signs that a new Hungarian revolt may break out soon.

"There are rumors that a new armed uprising is planned for March," he said in a speech at Salgotarjan, near the Czechoslovak border. "But we warn that anybody who lifts his hand against the people's democracy will be mercilessly liquidated."

A new form of greeting—"Muk"—is being heard in Budapest, the three letters are the initials of a Hungarian phrase meaning, "We'll start again in March." It was voiced frequently by students who returned to their classes at Budapest University yesterday, three months after the crushing of the Hungarian revolt.

Kadar's speech, broadcast by Budapest radio, was the first official notice given to reports that another attempt would be made to oust the Soviet-imposed government.

The Communist regime announced the arrests of 145 more persons, accused of participating in the October rebellion or escaping from prison during the uprising. Communist partisans accused a member of Parliament, Imre Kiss, of sympathizing with the anti-Russian revolt—possibly a prelude to his ouster.

Kadar ruled out any attempt to bring "national communism"—Tito-like independence from Moscow—to Hungary. This doctrine was the platform of former Premier Imre Nagy who was ousted when Russian tanks crushed the Hungarian revolt.

"National communism is the same as Hitler's national socialism," Kadar said.

He added:

"Though the counterrevolution is broken, it can still incite disturbances.

"We shall not permit the reactionary elements to exert any further influence in our schools and torture our children, in whom they try to instill the idea of God.

"We don't want a terror system, but we want to bring to account all those who have committed crimes."

Uncovers 25 Snakes

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Bulldozer operator Roy Holley, moving earth at a strip mine, uncovered 25 snakes all coiled together. They included a large copperhead, blacksnakes and chicken snakes. Not the least unnerved, he dumped them into a barrel, took them to a newspaper office to be photographed, then destroyed them.

Snake Skin or Banana?

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—"Yeah, sure, send me one sometime," said James T. Bird to banana dealer Dennis Pappas. Bird, a produce truck driver for a supermarket chain, had been told by Pappas that snakes sometimes squirm into bananas shipped to this country. This week, Bird had the problem of disposing of a three-and-a-half foot South American snake.

Oakland County C.I.O. Backs AFL-CIO Decision

In Wednesday's Press, we carried a significant statement from the Oakland County CIO Council.

President Fred V. Haggard declared that his group has gone on record as completely in opposition to the union officials who are afraid to disavow the "protection" of the Fifth Amendment.

"The Oakland Council supports the executive council in not permitting the good name of the labor movement to be sullied by crooks and racketeers," he declared. As the local group believes, labor can not hold the respect and confidence of its members or the public if it refuses to clean house when a house cleaning is indicated.

★ ★ ★

Here in Pontiac we have been fortunate in the kind and character of our labor leaders. By and large, they have been reputable men of honor and integrity. Their own membership and the community at large have had confidence in them. Inherently, they've square shooters.

Certainly labor is strengthening itself generally when it promptly disavows and repudiates the hoodlum element that creeps in here and there. The AFL-CIO means business in Miami Beach. It has ordered three unions to clean up or else.

All temporizing is ended.

TV Edict Out of Bounds for Commissioner Bell

In a recent Detroit-New York hockey game, fisticuffs flared openly. The exchanges were faithfully chronicled by the newspapers and photographs were widely printed showing two-men brawls and finally one that drew the attention of all 34 hockey players in uniform.

The last mentioned didn't break into open conflagration, and the action was held to two contestants, but mass conflict was imminent. The whole thing had complete and normal newspaper coverage.

Television cameras faithfully covered the incidents. Viewers at home were shown what transpired.

Contrast this with pro football. There, we understand, Commissioner Bell has "ordered" television cameras to turn away from a fight immediately. This is something the public mustn't see for the simple reason that Czar Bell placed a tin crown on his head and so decrees.

The journalistic giggle would resound from coast to coast. Nothing Bell can say or do will influence the course of the newspapers.

THEY'LL decide that.

And for your edification and enlightenment; they'll print and photograph whatever you readers want to see and know. YOU will be their guide. Mr. Bell won't even arise to the dignity of an also-ran.

Why can't television operate with the same freedom and independence? Why must any source of public information be handcuffed and hogtied at the whim of a minor and lesser dignitary?

We don't believe it can.

If television asserts itself and tosses the tissue shackles aside, we believe the network can follow the game as accurately as the newspapers. We think Bell might better concern himself with the Canadian situation, the lamentations of the players and his own paper work. Leave the reporting to reporting sources.

The Commissioner won't look quite as silly as he does now.

"Work makes more people happy than anything else," declares a psychologist. If so, it's passing strange that they dread, postpone and beef about doing something that makes them happy.

Public Good Needs Better Distribution of the Book

—Experience: A school which too many refuse to work their way through.

That massive history of Oakland County, 1817-1877, which was editorialized on this page yesterday, still is quite plentiful in the homes of this area. But, for the general good, it should have a better distribution.

There are public libraries in the county that do not have one, and there are many homes that do have one, but the younger generations have little interest in it. These two extremes should get together.

If you have one, and are willing to let it go, why not check with your home public or school library. If they haven't one, here's your opportunity to do a little philanthropy that will be greatly appreciated.

This column volunteers to be a clearing house, so these priceless volumes can be put to use. If you have one that you are willing to let go, or if you wish to buy one or your home library wants one, let us know.

Write Man About Town before Feb. 15, and we will refer your inquiry to somebody on the other side of the matter. Do not ask us to establish a price, and DO NOT phone or call in person. Simply write before the above date.

David Lawrence Says:

Campaign Cash Can't Be Limited

WASHINGTON—There's nothing in the Constitution which says a person cannot spend as much of his own money as he pleases to persuade other persons to vote for a particular candidate for public office.

In these days of solicitude for "civil rights," talk has arisen nevertheless about enacting a new law to limit campaign contributions. It relates to a possible requirement that only limited amounts of money may be placed in a party treasury or in the hands of an organized political committee.

The whole theory behind the Federal Corrupt Practices Act is that organized effort may be regulated only if it be used for some corrupt or illicit purpose. But the courts in the last few years have told the Department of Justice it could not invoke the Federal Corrupt Practices Act to prosecute a labor union in Michigan that was financing a television program on which speakers favorable to its viewpoint appeared during an election campaign.

LAWRENCE

While it is true, of course, that corporations and unions are by law forbidden to make any campaign contributions, this cannot prevent union members or corporation stockholders from acting as individuals outside the unions or corporations.

Some form of regulation—such as disclosure of funds contributed by anyone—can be valid without in any way altering the right of the individual to give as much money as he pleases to the cause in which he believes. But it is one thing to require publicity for campaign contributions and a different and doubtful procedure to try to limit by law the size of the contribution.

The same Constitution which permits a law to say that a foundation may spend tax-free income derived from philanthropic bequests and use millions of dollars a year to influence public opinion on any cause, ranging from socialism and theoretical communism to an espousal of the free-enterprise system, can be invoked by any citizen to safeguard his freedom of speech when he spends money as an individual in a political campaign.

FOR ANY PURPOSE

If Congress could say, for example, that no more than $500 or $5,000 may be spent to elect a candidate for public office, it could constitutionally say also what sums may be expended by the citizen for any purpose related to the selection of a nominee for office. The citizen might then be forbidden to use his automobile to transport persons to the polls, as this would be a "contribution." He might be prohibited from letting his home be used as a meeting place or from serving any refreshments to his guests if they talked about the current campaign.

The word "contribution" is defined by present law as "anything of value," yet corporate employes and union members continue to draw their regular salaries while spending days at a time at a campaign headquarters or making election speeches.

The Supreme Court in 1948, moreover, upheld the right of a union to publish and distribute its own newspaper and insert political messages therein. The court refused to ban this expenditure of funds as illegal. Yet when a corporation publishes a message giving its views on public questions, it is improperly subjected to criticism.

It is constitutional to prohibit anyone from attempting to bribe or unduly influence a candidate for public office in order to obtain some personal favor or beneficial action by such individual when elected, but it is hard to see how a citizen who spends his money to help elect someone and doesn't ask a thing for himself can be told he can spend only a specified sum.

If so, the individual can be prevented by law from spending his money for a cause that seems worthy to him. Nothing in the Constitution says the citizen can be deprived of such a civil right.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Patient Pyorrhea Tiptoes Into Unprotected Cavity

By the time the physical degeneration of the masticating structures — gums, teeth, mucous membrane, tooth sockets, muscles, jaw bone — has advanced far enough to impair the victim's ability to eat and enjoy coarse or hard foods, he or she is caught in a vicious circle. For such foods are generally the best sources of the vitamins which are most essential for good nutrition.

BRADY

So the more the poor g—, I mean the poor soul restricts his everyday diet to namby-pamby foods which can be gulped without chewing, the severer his nutritional deficiency becomes. Nutritional deficiency from childhood through the years up to the present is the chief cause of the physical degeneration of masticating apparatus which is commonly known as pyorrhea.

In the first part of this talk about pyorrhea I said Pyorrhea is not a disease. In dozens of pieces about insidious or chronic joint disability I have said rheumatz is not a disease. I have cited here repeatedly the honest conclusion reached by the National Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation and published in the Foundation's Bulletin May 11, '54:

"The principle shortcoming of modern drug therapy" (of so called arthritis) "is that while the results are more dramatic and immediate, they disappear when medication is discontinued. The various drugs in use today have not shown that they can alter the natural course of the disease or prevent crippling."

IN FACT, INSIDIOUS

(We must excuse the Foundation for presisting in calling insidiously developing or chronic joint disability "disease" and "arthritis.")

It is childish to believe there is a remedy or cure for either rheumatiz or pyorrhea, if one could only find a physician or a dentist who provides it for cutomers who have the price.

In my Pyorrhea file I find no testimonials, only an elaborate nine-page dissertation on the various stages of the disease by a D.M.D. (Doctor of Dental Medicine) who patiently explained that periodontist means a specialist on disease around the tooth, etc., etc., and an abstract of the report of Eugene Talbot, M. D., D. D. S., published in J A M A 4-12-'18 on the use of the solution named after him—Diluted Talbot's Solution—official in the N.F. as Glycerite of Iodine and Zinc Iodide.

In the booklet "Save Your Teeth," for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope, I tell in the chapter on pyorrhea how to use this diluted Talobt's solution.

And that's all I have to say about Talbot's solution, except that it is strong medicine, and Talbot suggested that the dentist apply it once a month, or teach parent or patient how to apply it.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Gives Opinion on Causes of Recent Air Tragedies

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

From the accounts that come to us daily from our newspapers, radio and TV, it appears that we have advanced to an age where a customer, in making an application for plane reservations, should be able to choose whether he wishes to die by being drowned or being burned to death.

Up to about a year ago, the trend seemed to be that the only choice one was afforded was to die by crashing into the side of a mountain. You hear people ask about the possible cause of all this, whether it could be sabotage.

This writer does not agree, but thinks that air travel has become so common that these men who pilot the planes have advanced to a point where they take too much for granted.

Selfishness on the part of the airplane officials and eagerness of pilots to please their employers by keeping each flight right on schedule, places the lives of passengers entrusted to their care strictly in the hands of fate.

A scheduled flight might a lot better be cancelled, even if it were a day late, than to try to set a record by defying the elements at the cost of many human lives, including women and little children.

Suggests Reading About Hypocrites

The dictionary description of a hypocrite is one who is not sincere in friendship, religion or virtue. Our daily paper keeps us well informed of the leaders we have chosen and with reports of our dear country. I suggest that anyone who professes religion to read the Scriptures on hypocrites, and I believe, then the figures of our terrible crimes, distrust and unhappy situations would decrease.

'Money to Hungary No Vets' Bonus'

Our Vice President made a trip to Hungary and spent the taxpayers money. Now, was that to help the people over there or just a political trip to help Mr. Nixon in 1960?

He made them think we were overflowing with money. I see we are giving them millions, but the sad part is we cannot pay our veterans one dollar of their bonus.

The soldiers that fought and shed blood for their country are put off with excuses and promises and we go give the taxpayers' money to some foreign country. Many of our veterans are in need of their bonus which is due them. Ninety per cent of them would spend their money in less than a year on their homes and other things which they are very much in need of.

It would put millions of dollars in circulation and help put many of our unemployed people back to work and help our country in many ways. I think the veterans would feel better towards our foreign aid policy if they were given their just and earned bonus.

Since southpaw pitchers are at a premium and stuttering as well as other inferiority complexes may result from changing the handedness of a child, we usually let him employ whichever hand he prefers. Be sure to read Homer's problem. About five per cent of children are originally left-handed.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-394: Homer F., aged 35, is a high school teacher.

"Dr. Crane, while I am the proud father of a lusty three-year-old boy," he began, "he worries me because of his stuttering, especially if he grows excited when guests drop in for a visit.

"Besides that trouble, he also has a tendency to be lefthanded. My wife and I have been trying to break him of this habit by offering him articles in such a way as to make him employ his right hand.

"Some of our friends tell us that we are wrong in even attempting to break this habit. They say it may upset his whole nervous system and even produce a social inferiority complex.

"Dr. Crane, what is your advice in this matter, and do you feel that his left-handedness contributes to his stuttering?"

FACTS RE STUTTERING

There are three periods in our lives when stuttering is likely to afflict us. The first is between the years of three to five when our capacity to understand words is greater than our ability to employ them in speech.

This is a normal period for stuttering. We simply think faster than we can speak, so our words get jumbled and we may then stutter.

You adults can well understand this dilemma by remembering how you reacted when you began studying a foreign language, as in high school or college.

Your "understanding" vocabulary was usually much greater than your "speaking" vocabulary in the strange language. And so it is with our youngsters in the pre-kindergarten stage.

TODDLER'S STUTTERING

If the parents and relatives will tactfully overlook the toddler's stuttering, it will disappear naturally in a year or two when he has acquired a larger speaking vocabulary.

But if they scold him, or make him feel tense and ashamed, they may give him an inferiority complex about his speech and thus "fix" the habit of stuttering upon him as a permanent misfortune.

The next two periods in which people are likely to stutter are at puberty, when they become sexually self-conscious and easily embarrassed, as well as in the late teens or early twenties when they may be having their first dates.

Social fear, with its resulting nervous tension, may not only fasten upon our larynx and produce vocal stuttering, but it may also select one's bowel, producing a spastic colon. It may likewise affect the stomach and cause nausea or actual vomiting.

It may affect the skin, too, and produce blushing, or the hands and cause such excessive trembling that the victim cannot play his violin or piano in public or even operate a typewriter if the boss is looking on.

COUSINS OF STUTTERING

Thus, there are many nervous reactions like the above mentioned, which are really first cousins of stuttering.

If the victim's attention is vividly focussed upon one of these nervous reactions, he may grow so acutely self-conscious about it that he becomes a slave to such a nuisance habit thereafter.

Statistics show that left-handed people tend to be more prone to stuttering, especially if these persons have been changed into right-handed persons.

But the essential explanation is doubtless the continual nagging or "No, no, Johnny, the right hand." type of criticism which bombards such a child.

If a youngster can tactfully be coaxed into employing his right hand, then we can eliminate this hazard.

Nowadays teachers seldom try to change the handedness of school children, however, for there is not much point in doing so, except a little more convenience to the child in using tools or musical instruments that are built for right handers.

If you wish my bulletin, "Psychology of Stuttering and Stammering—Tics Versus Chorea," send a 3-cent stamped addressed envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Parks Department Takes CD Exercise

Members of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation and Cemetery Depts. yesterday went through their second annual refresher course in Civil Defense Rescue Training at the city incinerator plant on East boulevard.

"The men executed the exercise properly in terms of techniques," said Robert A. Stierer, assistant CD director for Pontiac, "but were rather slow in performing the job."

* * *

He said this will necessitate more training to prevent the men "from getting rusty." No future exercises have been scheduled.

Thirty city employes, in three teams of 10 men, preformed three exercises in removing a "live casualty" from a simulated bombed building.

The first "casualty" was trapped in the basement of the incinerator. Rescuers had to remove debris, put a splint on his broken leg, and carry him up a stairway and out a window.

In the second exercise, the "victim" had to be lowered from the roof of the plant down its south side. In the third, by means of a block and pulley, he had been removed from the roof.

Four city officials from Birmingham and Royal Oak witnessed the exercises.

State Taxes Set Record

CHICAGO — All 48 states report that tax collections reached record highs during 1956. The average per capita state-tax burden of $81.60 across the nation exceeded by a substantial margin the tax average of the last five years. The burden varied from a low of $47 in New Jersey to a top of $131 in Washington.

Favors Training For Deferred Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of the draft system said today "it would seem wise . . . and humane" to give some military training to many of the men now deferred because of parenthood or other causes.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, said in testimony prepared for a House Armed Services subcommittee that it is "disquieting" to think of what the United States would have to do if it suddenly had to build up its armed forces by two million men.

* * *

He said the "two choices, both bad," would be "to recall at least one million of generally unorganized former servicemen, aging ready reservists, or take one million untrained who have not served, but unfortunately have not trained."

* * *

Hershey said that of the nation's pool of about five million men at the best age for military service, 1,300,000 are available for duty, 1,400,000 are fathers and 2,300,000 are classed as "unacceptable" for various reasons.

The pool of 1,300,000 available men, he continued, would probably "shrink all too fast" in case of need. But in any case, he said, men in this group "should be trained and used to replace the aging men among the 2½ million men who have already served varying terms of service."

* * *

Hershey went on to say that many of the fathers and "unacceptables" could "perform well, especially in a ready reserve."

"If there is a large mobilization they will be taken," he said. "It would seem wise for the nation and humane for them if they were trained."

The subcommittee is studying military reserve programs, especially one the Army wants to expand. Under this plan, men take six months active duty training, then go into a ready reserve drilling unit.

* * *

The National Guard is objecting to a new order that all its new enlistees must take six months of basic training. The Guard favors limiting this to 11 weeks for its recruits under 18½, the minimum draft age.

* * *

Maj. Gen. Edgar C. Erickson told the subcommittee in prepared testimony the Army National Guard had a net loss in enlisted men of 2,050 from July 1 through Dec. 31, 1956, "compared to a net gain of 14,681 for the corresponding period" of 1955. Erickson is chief of the Defense Department's National Guard Bureau.

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Ford Foundation has donated one million dollars for Hungarian students, intellectuals and artists who had to leave their home, it was announced today.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Converted Home Provides Luxury for Fire Fighters

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Except, perhaps, for a set or two of red suspenders, Milwaukee's newest fire station bears little resemblance to the conventional firehouse.

There are no shiny poles for the fire laddies to slide down, no big front doors to swing open as the truck roars out with sirens shrieking and bells clanging.

In fact, firemen never had it so good. The men assigned to Engine 29 are quartered in a ranch style home converted into a fire station. They sleep in its bedrooms, cook in its modern kitchen, walk on soft carpets instead of concrete and when an alarm sounds, they race across a breezeway instead of sliding down a pole, enter the family garage, climb aboard their big, red fire engine and wheel out of the driveway.

The house, purchased for temporary use as a fire station in territory recently annexed by the city, will be sold when the department has no further use for it.

Tire Sales Drop 9 Pct.

AKRON, Ohio — Although sales of motor-vehicle tires declined by about 9 per cent in 1956 compared with 1955, the rubber industry's total volume of business for the year equaled the 5½-billion-dollar 1955 sales record.

Gray to Be New Defense Mobilizer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gordon Gray has been heard to say of himself: "I'm not smarter than anybody else; I'm just more patient."

That quality of patience — together with unremitting hard work — is said by his friends to be one of the secrets of his success in business, education and politics.

At 47, Gray has been a high official in both the Truman and university president and a leading newspaper publisher in North Carolina.

Yesterday, President Eisenhower announced he was nominating Gray to succeed retiring Arthur S. Flemming as the nation's defense mobilizer.

Although born to wealth — his family made millions in the tobacco business — Gray is an apostle of hard work. He has been known to average 9 or 10 hours a day at his office and to carry full briefcases home afterward.

He didn't want to go to college — but he led his class at the University of North Carolina. Twenty years later, he became president of his alma mater.

He didn't want to go to law school either — but his father persuaded him to go and he graduated high in his class at the Yale Law School.

He did want to get in uniform, entered the Army as a private in 1942, came out a captain — and was secretary of the Army under President Truman seven years after he was a private.

Since then he has held other important federal posts.

In 1951 he was appointed director of the Psychological Strategy Board created by Truman to direct the cold war against Russia.

In 1955 Eisenhower called him back to Washington from his university post, this time to become assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs. He holds that job now.

Gray is a former state legislator and a former president of the Young Democrats of his state. But he has stated he voted for Eisenhower.

He was born in Baltimore, Md., May 30, 1909. His father Bowman Gray started as a salesman for the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. and rose ultimately to chairman of the board.

GORDON GRAY

After his first wife Jane died in 1953, Gray married the former Nancy Maguire Beebe. He is the father of four boys and the stepfather of three girls.

He is president of the Piedmont Publishing Co., which publishes the Winston-Salem Journal and the Twin-City Sentinel at Winston-Salem, N.C.

Outlaw Rock 'n' Roll? Crazy Man, Just Crazy

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — William B. McKesson, district attorney of Los Angeles County, appeared for a quiz session before a panel of teenagers. He was asked if he thought rock 'n' roll should be outlawed and gave this answer:

"No. Personally I don't 'dig' it, but that doesn't mean that I would want to ban it. There are good and bad elements in our current music. I believe that most teenagers are wise enough not to carry the bad elements to excess."

That's a Cool Ton

CHICAGO — What does a "ton" mean when used in rating the capacity of an air-conditioning unit? It's the amount of cooling equivalent to what you would get by melting a ton of ice in 24 hours.

Kefauver Threatens Controls Over Oil

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said today that if the voluntary program for increasing oil shipments to Europe doesn't work better, "it's going to have to be made a government program."

Kefauver voiced criticism of gasoline and oil price increases put into effect in this country since the program started, and of the failure to attain the 500,000-barrels-a-day goal set for shipments of crude oil to Europe.

A Joint Senate Antimonopoly Interior subcommittee has launched a broad inquiry into the formation of a government-sanctioned committee of major oil companies to handle the emergency oil shipments. It also is looking into the domestic effects of the program.

The program was put into operation after the closing of the Suez Canal last fall cut off Western Europe from most of its Middle Eastern oil supplies.

The subcommittee is looking into the effect of a recent 35-cents-a-barrel boost in crude oil prices on domestic utility costs and rates.

Punishment Fits Crime

STERLING, Colo. (AP)— Snowball tossers at Sterling High School now must do their throwing on the practice field behind the school building. The school has made a ruling that students caught throwing snowballs in front of the building will shovel snow the rest of the winter.

Although household washing machines have been in use for many years, they did not come into general use until after World War I.

Just No Doubt About It: Must Like Mickey Mouse

OKEMAH, Okla. (AP)—H. L. Oliver can't figure out his tomcat's likes. The cat naps in front of the TV set through all types of programs and commercials and only becomes alert when cartoons are on.

The first bill to grant statehood to Alaska was introduced in congress in 1916 by James Wickersham, a delegate from Alaska.

Why Print Gets Smaller

BOSTON — Presbyopia is the medical term for the "aging eyesight" that makes telephone books hard to read as you get older. It is a combination of Greek words meaning aging and eye.

YOUR DOG
The Fox Terrier

The fox terrier is a popular pet. He is small (weighing about 18 pounds) and usually is white with brown or black markings.

Children like the terrier because he is easily trained and responds quickly to commands. You may have seen fox terriers in trained dog acts on TV or in the circus.

Here is Ricky, a circus boy, with Nicky, his trained terrier. Nicky has been taught to do many tricks such as jumping hurdles, balancing a ball on his nose, shaking hands and walking on his hind legs. He likes to wear a pointed cap and pleated collar like his master.

Paste this picture on cardboard and color with crayons. Whatever color you use on Ricky's cap and collar, repeat it on Nicky's since they are a team.

Cut out the parts carefully. Cut slits in the caps where marked so Nicky and Ricky can wear them. Cut out along the heavy outline of the food pan and the small ball in the lower panel and fold it forward on the dotted line. Fold the whole panel forward but fold back the small panel at left. Now Nicky and Ricky will stand.

Doctor Claims Histamine Drug

French Physician Says Injections Will Relieve Certain Allergies

LOS ANGELES (INS) — The French physician who discovered anti-histamine drugs has described an experimental treatment for allergies involving periodic drug injections.

Dr. Bernard Halpern of Paris Monday told of the new treatment at the meeting of the American Academy of Allergy in Los Angeles.

Dr. Halpern's work is based on the theory that if all the body histamine can be released and cleared out of the body there will be none left to produce the allergic response.

* * *

To do this he uses a synthetic compound, called 1935L, which releases up to 50 per cent of the histamine in the body. It is given with an anti-histamine to avoid the damaging effects of the flood of histamine.

Then, after the histamine production is lowered in the patient, he is given cortisone which blocks the ability of the body to manufacture new histamine.

Dr. Halpern said his most dramatic case was a patient with severe hives who has been kept free of symptoms by periodic injections since last July.

Canned Goods and Beef Go on Shopping List Now

Local markets again offer good news for food shoppers. Beef, some cuts of pork, and eggs are the attention getters in protein foods. Add milk, plenty of green and yellow vegetables, fruits, cereals and breads to complete the market list for good eating and good health.

MEATS—Who could "beef" about the good supplies of high quality beef arriving at this season? The arm, blade or English chuck roasts continue to be attractively priced. Round steak for Swissing and steaks for broiling are being featured in many markets this week, reports the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

For pot roast or stews, the leaner range fed beef is just as nutritious and is usually several cents less per pound.

While pork costs inch upward and supplies get smaller, it will pay to look for thrifty cuts. The lean Boston butt is a bargain, especially in convenience. A whole Boston butt can be easily cut to make pork steaks, a lean roast, and cubes for chop suey. Three types of meals for three occasions will win the approval of many families.

Smoked ham and picnics are other pork cuts wearing reasonable labels. The picnic from the front shoulder does not have the fine texture or flavor that ham has, but it is usually less per pound. A picnic will serve 1½ to 2 portions per pound. Ham will yield 2 to 3 servings per pound depending upon whether it is a portion, half or whole ham.

Family appetites will help decide what poultry to choose. Fryers, stewers and turkeys are tagged about the same this week. Retail prices of fryers are higher due to an increase on the wholesale level.

EGGS—If all the eggs were put in one basket, the shopper would find that most are now of large size. Twenty-four ounces of high quality protein food in every carton of large size eggs ranks them one of the thrifty protein buys, even though some are a cent or two more per dozen than last week.

DAIRY—The average amount of money spent for milk is 15 per cent of the food budget, but for that 15 per cent the family gets 30 per cent of its food requirements. Milk used in cooking and baking count a plus for good health.

Improved processing methods have increased the convenience and quality of powdered milk, making it economical and easy to use.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—There is nothing to match the feeling of security that comes from having well-stocked pantry shelves and freezer baskets. Canned corn, green beans, cherries, frozen strawberries and orange juice are just a few foods that now offer a lot of value for dollars spent.

Salad bowls will be filled with good high quality lettuce this week. Some retailers predict slightly lower prices also.

Bright green cabbage, high in vitamin C, will have a reserved seat in most market baskets. It is reasonable and good.

The "big four" in fresh fruits are oranges, grapefruit, apples and bananas.

Pretty pink Michigan hothouse rhubarb can be found in some stores. For a plump pie, select 2 pounds. Keep it wrapped or covered in the refrigerator until ready to use. Then wash it before cutting into two-inch pieces for the pie.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Police, summoned in 12 degree weather, rushed Robert Fehl, 36, to the hospital for treatment of sunburn.

Hospital attendants said he suffered an inflammation of the eyes and superficial burns on his chest and back.

Fehl explained that he had been reading under a sunlamp and became so engrossed he lost track of time.

No Dog-Eat-Dog Here, but Puppies Help Pup

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—The dog may be man's best friend, but he doesn't do badly by his own breed at times, Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Wilson will testify.

When a puppy fell into their fishpond and was unable to climb out, two other pups barked encouragement and howled for help until a neighbor heard the racket and effected a rescue, the Wilsons said.

Modern Roads for Dusty Trails

Arabian Oil Will Build Improved Highways for Pilgrims to Mecca

WASHINGTON — King Saud's state visit to the United States coincides, appropriately enough, with a program for improving travel facilities within his own faraway land, Saudi Arabia.

In that vast desert region of the Arabian Peninsula, paved roads are few, says the National Geographic Soc. Yet over the relatively short stretches, and over the long, dusty trails that cross the country and rim its coasts, hundreds of thousands of Moslem pilgrims travel each year to the sacred cities of Mecca and Medina.

The current road-building program is focused on Mecca, birthplace of the prophet Mohammed and Islam's foremost shrine. Old roads leading to the city are to be reconstructed and new ones added.

Present routes reach Mecca from all directions. Shortest is the asphalt highway via the Red Sea port of Jidda, less than 50 miles to the west. One of the longest will be the renovated 1,000-mile road from An Najaf, deep inside Iraq on the northeast.

PILGRIMS FROM ALL LANDS

The pilgrims come from cold, lofty highlands of Asia's heartlands and hot plains of India and Pakistan; from China, Indonesia, and North and South America; from Africa, and neighboring Near East lands.

Some fly, or travel in shipboard comfort, or by private cars. Others crowd into freighters and buses, or jog along on camels. Many, starting a year in advance, trudge all the way from their homelands, gaining added merit through the hardships of traveling humbly.

Chief goal of the hadj is Mecca's massive stone Kaaba, the "house" believed to have been created by Abraham at God's command. There half a million Moslems may gather to pray for hours bareheaded under the blazing sun.

The improved highways promise some relief from traffic jams caused by mass movements of the hadj. But already other modern innovations, including electric lighting, power, and air conditioning paid for by Saudi Arabia's oil royalties, have brought dramatic changes.

But Taint of Tourism May Spoil Tropical Paradise

Key West Dreams in Balmy Breezes

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

KEY WEST, Fla. (INS) — Key West is as far south as you can wander in the United States without getting your feet wet, and is, consequently, an ideal place in which to get lost.

★ ★ ★

Unless you say defiant words against the Key Westers' special friends—such as shrimps, pompano and Harry S. Truman—they'll treat you with the courteous disregard all tourists from big cities so covetously seek.

Deep in ennui, warmed by the sun, slowed down by headwinds from the Atlantic Ocean on one side and the Gulf of Mexico on the other, the natives let their palm trees do their yak-clacking for them.

They are neither garrulous nor boastful, though their balmy 2x4-mile islet is one of the most picturesque gems nature ever poked up from the waters

"Data?" said the Chamber of Commerce curiously, when asked for propaganda about Key West. "Historical background? Well . . . Key West doesn't have much background worth talking about, ma'am. All we've got's fish and weather, both pretty good."

ROMANTIC PAST

Actually, the key at the tip of the States, which is closer to jazzy Havana, Cuba, than to razzle-dazzle Miami, Fla., has the kind of background that most romance-minded Americans would delight in narrating.

Settled by pirates and Spanish conquistadors, it was one of the hottest spots for hot treasure in the world until the U. S. Navy sailed in to clean it up and chase out the rascals in a bloody six-year struggle.

There is still rumored to be plenty of good goods, of the gold and jeweled variety, under the green grass and palm roots of Key West, but the 26,000 citizens are a bit embarrassed when their tainted history is mentioned.

"I think you'll find," said the Chamber of Commerce, "that most of the Spanish galleons were sunk up around the northern keys. Key West is known as the 'City of Beautiful Churches.'"

In the past five years, with the completion of the over-water highway from Key Largo (the northernmost portion of this southernmost tail of the U. S.), the tourist business has begun to boom to the point where there are now 3,000 rooms in courts, hotels and motels for visitors from the cold, fast "inner world" of the continent.

Eventually, this invasion of their lassitude is certain to change the casual Key Westers, perhaps even make them money-hungry.

Just recently, a dog-racing track was opened on Stock Island, which is the northern suburb, and there is talk that the innate honesty of the people may be wiped out when they begin spending their nights at gambling instead of fishing, and consequently feel the pinch of economic necessity.

"But I don't think we'll worry yet," says the Chamber of Commerce. "Even if a man wanted to commit a major crime in Key West, he'd think twice. There's hardly any way to escape the law without swimmin' indefinitely."

As an International News Service columnist I have now visited both the southernmost and northernmost towns in the U. S.: This key, where the air never cools down, and Point Barrow, Alaska, where the winds never warm up. It seems to me that the fisherfolk here and the Eskimos there are the most contented people on earth.

But with the influx of tourism, civilized pressures are squeezing in on Key West and, alas, within a few years the Chamber of Commerce may be propagandizing the porpoises and bragging about their bygone piracy (while perhaps practicing same in snooty hotels.

Radio Hams to Convene

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—More than 700 amateur radio operators from throughout Michigan and neighboring states are expected at the annual convention of the American Radio Relay League, scheduled March 9 in Grand Rapids. The Grand Rapids Amateur Radio Assn. is host organization.

Got a Vocation? Army'll Place You in Right Location

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — Army officers were stumped trying to place George R. Hamann, 32, of Rawlings, Mo., and Harry Wornath, 23, of Portland, Ore., in Army jobs that utilized their civilian experience.

Hamann was a wrinkle chaser; Wornath a cracker tester.

The wrinkle chaser (with a hot air jet on leather boots in a shoe factory) landed in the communications section as a wireman.

2 Pleas — Planes and Personnel

CAP Stresses Ground Procedure

The Pontiac Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol wants just two things in 1957—planes and more personnel.

Since the summer of 1954, the local squadron has been planeless. "But this isn't as unusual as it might sound," warns Capt. Robert F. Turner, of 180 E. Huron St., and commander of the unit.

Out of the 100 squadrons of the Michigan Wing of the CAP, Turner said there are "numerous" wingless groups that are limited to ground activities.

★ ★ ★

"It makes it kind of rough in most aspects," CAP Sgt. Michael F. Clark, of Sylvan Lake, said of the squadron's planeless situation. Clark, a senior at Pontiac High School, added that "it's not too serious to me because my emphasis in the unit is on communcations."

LEARN GROUND TECHNIQUES

Both Turner and Clark said the 29 cadets (men and women be- are search and rescue, maintaining and operating a radio net for Civil Defense, and assisting the Air Force in any means available. The local unit was activated Jan. 5, 1956.

INCENTIVE PROGRAM

In September of last year, CAP headquarters initiated a cadet incentive program with a certificate of proficiency being the "diploma." "Cadets with these certificates can enter the Air Force as Airmen Third Class," Turner pointed out.

★ ★ ★

Number one project during 1956 with the Pontiac Squadron was conducting an airport traffic survey at the Pontiac Municipal Airport. "We spent 618 man hours during which we counted 2,772 aircraft over six weekends," Turner explained.

The unit maintains its operation office at the local field.
tween 14 and 21) and 14 seniors of the units were making the most of the unit's "grounding." "We work on all ground procedures, parking and air traffic control, ground rescue, and communication networks," Clark said.

"Planes or no planes, we resort to what means are available," Turner mentioned. "We use our cars equipped with radios to learn proper radio-telephone procedure," he said.

Chances to get off the ground come when other Michigan squadrons visit the local group, with planes. Civilian instructors are often cooperative with flights. "One member is rebuilding a plane," the commander said.

The squadron will play host to the Plymouth unit this Sunday (Feb. 10).

Turner, a tool and die inspector for Pontiac Motor Division, said Pontiac has its name in at Wing Headquarters for a plane. "So have a lot of other squadrons," he added pessimistically.

Through "administrative drills" or banquets at which guest speakers appear, Turner hopes to encourage more volunteers to join in 1957. The next gathering is planned for Feb. 27.

The squadron meets every Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 at 210 N. Perry St.

"We're pushing for groups in Walled Lake and Rochester," Turner said eyeing the unit's objectives for the year.

Protocol Men Tear Hair Currying Carpet for Saud

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Bring on the official visitors from outer space. The protocol office of the State Department is ready for them.

After arranging the visit of King Saud ibn Abd al-Aziz Al-Saud of Saudi Arabia, rolling out the rug for a Martian would be a snap.

Old-time protocol experts who love recounting the diplomatic flap when Madame Chiang Kai-shek demanded silk sheets at the White House during the Roosevelt administration are finally muted.

The full amount of difficulties planning Saud's visit probably will never be told. Here are just a few examples which give an idea what was involved in the visit.

ELECTION DELAY

First, the official invitation couldn't be tendered King Saud until the election determined who his host would be. Then, preoccupation with the inaugural postponed final planning until he was practically on the boat steaming for New York.

With a shock, top State Department and White House brass then learned that Saud's official party totaled 65, including an official barber, two coffee-makers, keeper of the jewels, keeper of the curry powder, an incense-burner, a food-taster, a tailor and assorted strong-arm guards wearing swords and carrying guns.

So everybody volunteered to help and that's where the trouble really started. The White House decided to take over from State protocol experts, who might have pulled the whole thing off smoothly if left alone.

OIL FIRM PIPES IN

Next the Saudi Arabian embassy volunteered to arrange details. Finally the Arabian-American Oil Co. jumped into the turmoil with all kinds of sage advice. It has a $300 million oil contract with the King.

The more advice was mustered the more myriad became the problems. Because Saud didn't bring one or more of his four wives it was decided most social events would have to be stag. Because King Saud doesn't drink, no alcohol could be served.

Throwing a party here without women or liquor presented an almost insurmountable obstacle. To cap this off it was learned that the King prays five times a day starting at dawn. This called for elaborate reshuffling of schedules and transportation.

INCIDENTAL PAINS

Incidental headaches were providing 45 limousines, guards for the King's armed guards so they wouldn't get in trouble, guards for the 15 trunks of fabulous presents which the King was bringing, and of course, entertainment for the guards and guard-guards who would not be included in the official parties.

When King Saud was four days out of New York on the liner Constitution a report of final arrangements was wired him. He promptly wired back that the whole thing was unsatisfactory.

Apparently one thing he did not like was the fact that President Eisenhower would not meet him at the airport.

The fact that President Eisenhower reversed his airport-meeting policy indicates to what extent the King's other plans were rejiggered at the last minute to suit him. The changes also included cancellation of a trip to Texas after leaving Washington, for no revealed reason.

As one State Department protocol man reports from the rest home, "if Saud's goodwill visit doesn't eventually end up with both countries severing diplomatic relations it'll be sheer luck."

Well Done Action Ends Up Wail Done

GLADEWATER, Tex. (INS) — H. I. McAfee, city secretary of Gladewater, is a versatile man.

Only one fireman was at the station when a call came, so McAfee manned the driver's seat and drove the truck at a record speed.

Meantime, the fire department siren continued to wail, because no one at the municipal building knew how to stop it. A message to McAfee brought him back in a hurry, and he stopped the noise which by that time had aroused fears of many citizens that there had been a catastrophe.

Grave Penalty Raised

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The State Senate has unanimously passed a bill to increase the penalties for grave robbing in Pennsylvania. It raised the fine for tampering illegally with a buried body or damaging cemetery property from $1,000 to $5,000 and the maximum prison term from one to three years.

The Dominican Republic's tourist trade showed a gain of 36 per cent in 1955.

Michigan TB Deaths Cut in Half Since '50

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Tuberculosis Assn. has reported 5,488 new TB cases and 477 deaths from the disease were recorded in the state in 1955.

The association said Michigan faces roughly the same totals for 1956. The 1956 prediction was based on partially completed statistics.

Detroit had 2,836 of the new cases reported in 1955 and 231 of the deaths.

Reporting on progress made in combating TB, the association said deaths from tuberculosis in the state have declined 51 per cent since 1950.

Michigan now ranks 15th among the states so far as the TB death rate is concerned, the report said. The state's death rate is 6.6 per 100,000. The lowest rate is 2.9, belonging to Wyoming.

'Noblest Animals' Get Solons' Goat —and Billy's Goat

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—"One of nature's noblest animals," as the house minority leader described it, has lost a measure of its freedom.

★ ★ ★

The House of Representatives sided heavily with human beings in passing the "billy goat bill" introduced by Rep. Fred Thompson.

★ ★ ★

The bill would prohibit goats from roaming at large through New Mexico's towns and villages. Thompson said that even though the goat may be one of nature's noblest animals, it is exasperating to be forced to protect one's property against the ravages which free-wheeling goats cause.

Flint Doctor Cites Mower Accidents

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A Michigan surgeon says that men who accidentally trim their feet while they try to trim their grass are becoming a major medical problem.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Franklin V. Wade, Flint, Mich., surgeon and injury expert, made the statement in a speech before the Oklahoma Academy of General Practice.

★ ★ ★

He emphasized that accidents resulting from the use of power mowers are adding to the mounting total of home accident cases.

"There is a definite increase in wounds as a result of the do-it-yourself move," Wade said, "and home power saw and mower injuries are keeping doctors busy."

TV Spurs Reading

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Wyatt Earp, the cowboy hero of many child TV-listeners, apparently has a following among adults as well. Walter Brahm, state librarian, said that reader interest in Earp reached a new peak at the Ohio state library last year. Books in demand "clearly showed the stimulating effect of TV and movies upon reading and library use," he said.

Pick Your Question: Chances Extension Service Can Answer It

County Unit Hears 38,000 of Them in Course of Year

It takes time and know-how to try to answer 38,000 questions per year, but that's what staff members of the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service were faced with in 1956.

The questions came through by telephone, office calls, at meetings or via letter, said Lyle Abel, county agricultural agent, in his annual report to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Three agricultural agents, two home demonstration agents, two 4-H agents and a consumer-marketing agent form the corps that passes information on nearly every kind of subject to Oakland County residents.

New lawn problems, bothersome insects, new wonder fabrics that need special laundering, or aid in channeling children's lives in productive ways are just some of the subjects that the cooperative extension staff members are called on to answer daily.

The local service was established in Oakland County during World War I and is financed cooperatively by federal, state and county funds. Its original purpose created in the Smith-Lever Act still remains the same—that of "disseminating practical and useful information on agriculture and home economics—and encouraging application thereof."

Requests channeled to the three agricultural agents at the County Extension Service concern anything from fruits and vegetables, lawns, flower gardening and landscaping to problems of farm management, poultry, beef cattle, sheep, swine, dairying and field crops.

The latter two problems go to Abel. Horticultural problems are turned over to Wayne Siefert, while farm management and animal questions are sent to Agent Jay Poffenberger.

A major activity of the agents is in the soil-testing laboratory which is operated in connection with the Extension Service office. Abel reports that during 1956 over 1,000 samples of soil from fields, gardens and lawns were tested.

ADVICE ON SOIL

Using results of such tests as guides, the agents make recommendations for the kinds and amounts of fertilizer and lime to use to better the soil.

★ ★ ★

The agents also help Oakland County tree organizations. During 1956 over 350,000 trees were planted for reforestation, windbreaks or Christmas trees. Two-thirds of these trees were distributed and planted under the direction of the county agents working cooperatively with the Oakland County Soil Conservation district.

The service also works closely with the Oakland County Forester's Assn. to control Dutch Elm disease. Over 2,500 specimens of elm wood were sent from the county to a laboratory in East Lansing last year to be tested for the disease.

Despite a large demand for services from the county's half-million non-farm population, the county's 2,000 farm families are not neglected. A wealth of educational meetings and demonstrations were held in every section of the county to bring the most recent findings of science to the local farm operators.

The most outstanding branch of the program in Oakland County, Abel says, is the work for the homemakers. Under the direction of Mrs. Frieda Bennett and Mrs. Mary Hixon, home demonstration agents, the county program has the highest enrollment in Michigan.

1,550 ENROLLED

Enrollment for 1956 reached 1,550 women in 105 different groups.

Most of the educational programs in women's work are presented to local volunteer leaders at district training meetings conducted by the agents or by specialists from Michigan State University.

From there the information is taken to the neighborhood group by the local leader at one of the monthly meetings.

During 1956 a total of 650 women leaders in the county served without pay to carry this information to their groups. Subjects covered during the year concerned such things as meat budgeting, dress designing, improving storage space, home accessories, hobby hunting, furniture selection and Christmas workshop.

DECIDE ON PROGRAM

The women enrolled in the home demonstration groups decide the year's program. They are represented with the home agents by a council of 17 women elected from various sections of the county to advise the agents on their work and to assist in conducting county-wide events.

Consumer Marketing Agent Mrs. Josephine Lawyer studies the costs and trends of market prices and dispatches her information to the housewives through every medium of communication in another service of the County Extension.

Final agency within the county cooperative extension service are the builders of tomorrow's citizens . . . the 4-H agents. During 1956 a total of 61 clubs were organized under the direction of 4-H Club agents Suzanne Sturgis and Jack Worthington.

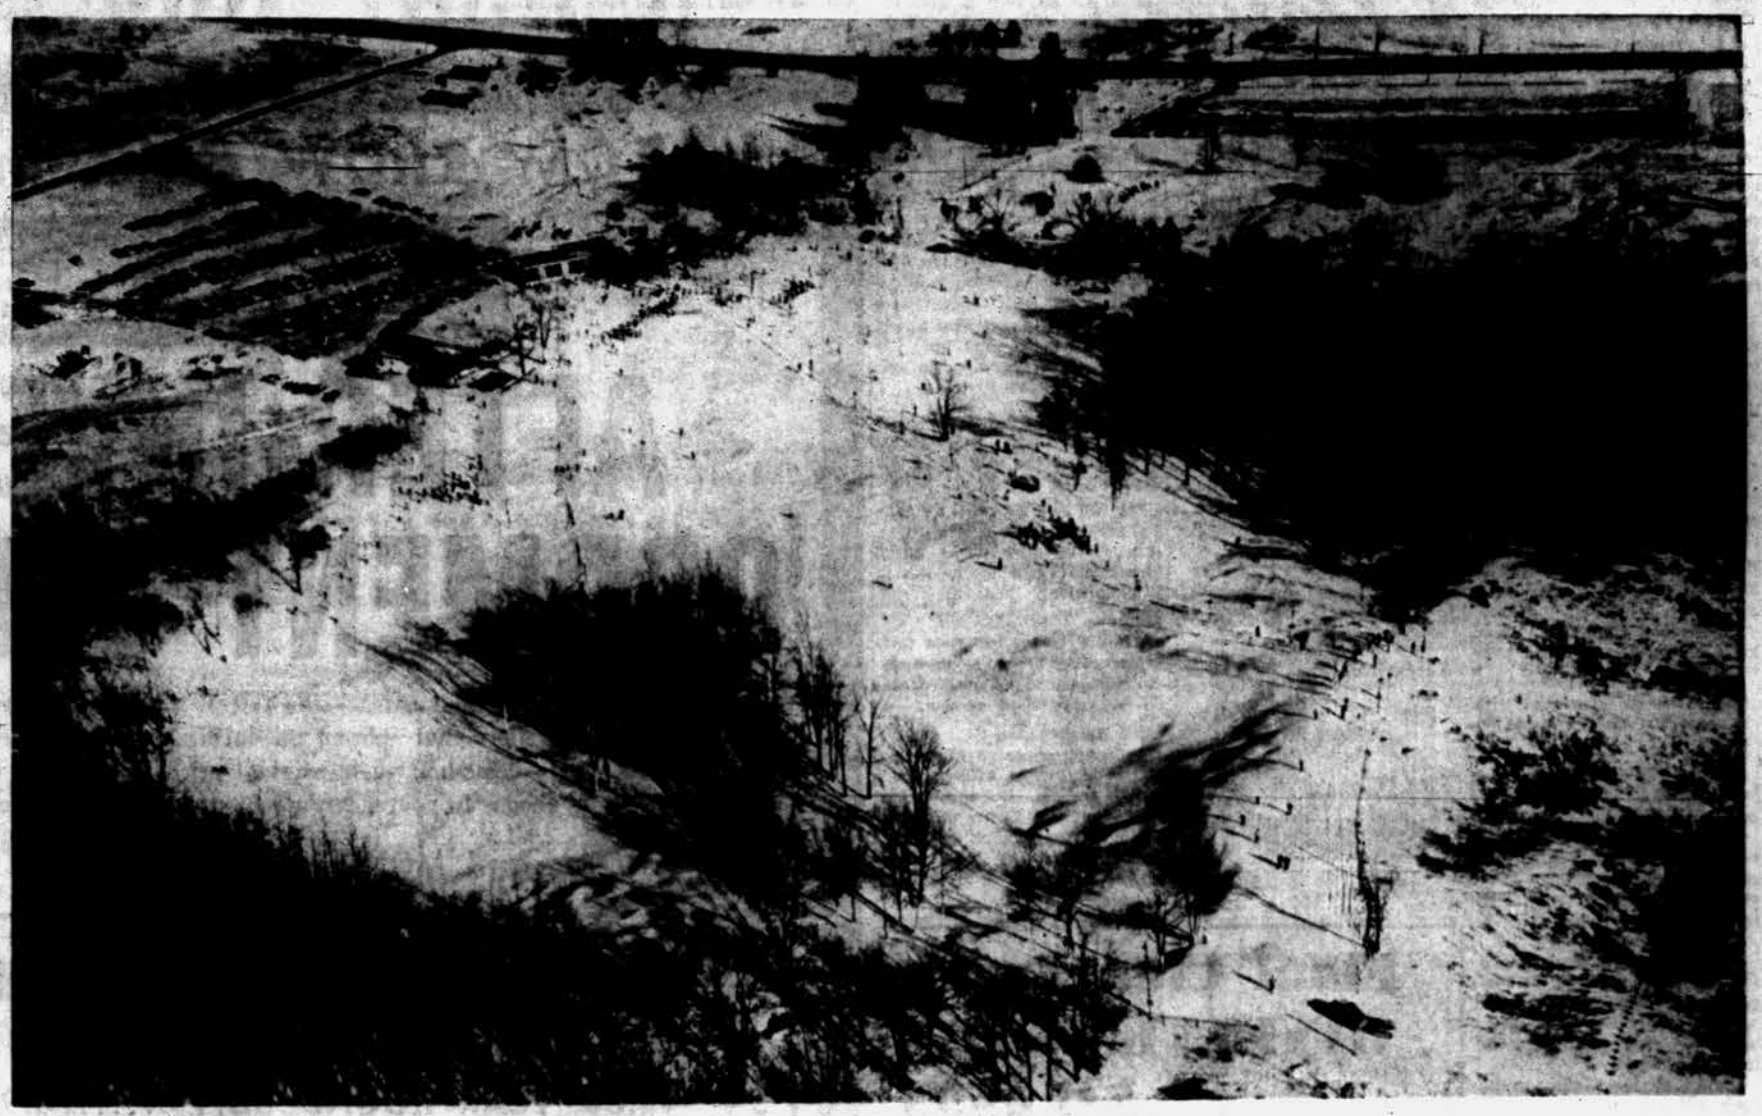

Heart of the 4-H program is the project work. Most popular among the female members during 1956 were meal planning, food preparation and preservation, clothing, home management, health and nursing.

The 593 boys belonging to 4-H in the county concerned themselves with handicraft, conservation activities and livestock projects.

Big event in the 4-H members' year is the annual 4-H Fair held in August. Many hours go into the preparation for the fair—hours of baking, sewing, raising choice vegetables and grooming livestock for competition for the prizes to be awarded on judging days.

Frosty Slopes Lure Thousands to Mt. Holly Ski Area

FOR SNOW SPEEDSTERS — An eagle eye view of Oakland County's Mt. Holly Ski Area shows the maze of fast trails that have made it one of the region's most popular recreation areas in recent months. The aerial photograph above was taken one busy afternoon when skiers and their cars lined approaches to the grounds. Specializing in beginner and intermediate instruction, the area is staffed by expert teachers who teach the modified "Arlberg Technique." Mt. Holly has six electrically-powered rope tows and is illuminated for night skiing. A special feature of the area is a snow-making machine which, according to officials, "compensates for the derelictions of Nature." Meeting place for skiers after a dash down the slopes is a combination lodge and restaurant. It is located on U. S. 10, 12 miles north of its intersection of M-15.

Giant Computer Ready by Fall

MSU Picks 'MISTIC' as Name for Robot Brain

EAST LANSING (AP) — A giant mechanical "brain" being built at Michigan State University is gradually acquiring a personality.

The people working on the huge electronic computer, to be completed this fall, have agreed to call it 'MISTIC.'

The letters stand for "Michigan State Integral Computer."

The machine will be able to solve in a few hours intricate mathematical problems that would take a man a lifetime to complete.

It will be put to practical use to answer problems originating on the campus in areas such as physics, engineering, mathematics, Chemistry, statistics and agricultural economics.

CAN'T THINK

"But it can't do your thinking for you," said Dr. L. W. Von Tersch, who is in charge of assembling the computer.

"The machine will be only as accurate as the facts it has to work with. If the person feeding in the problem makes an error, the answer will be in error."

The machine, about the size of a small newspaper press, will cost an estimated $150,000.

"We're getting it cheap," said Von Tersch, "because a lot of our labor is supplied by graduate students."

The computer is similar in construction and logic to one developed at the Princeton University Institute for Advanced Study.

Scouting Ideals Embodied in Code; Garb Signifies Devotion to Laws

With National Boy Scout Week just under way Wednesday, throughout Pontiac and the nation, most Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts will be wearing their uniforms in observance of the organization's 47th anniversary.

But, what are the ingredients, qualifications and requirements which allow a boy to wear such a uniform?

In scouting, there are certain rules and regulations which must be followed before and while a boy wears his uniform. They are the Scout's Code and consist of three forms: the Scout Oath, or Promise and Law, the Scout Motto and Scout Slogan.

Certainly, other requirements such as age, length of service, application and the usual formalities must be met before becoming a Boy Scout. But, understanding and keeping the rules are the most important.

The Scout Oath or Promise is short, concise and easy to memorize. Yet, packed behind every one of the 42 words, which over 2,000 Pontiac boys have pledged, is a wealth of meaning.

The first thing a tenderfoot must learn is this oath. Each time a troop meets, the boys stand and solemnly recite these words:

"On my honor I will do my best;

"To do my duty to God and my Country, and to obey the Scout Law;

"To help other people at all times;

"To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

As he recites these words, a Boy Scout knows his honor is respected. It may be hard to live up to all one has promised, but, a Scout is taught to always keep trying and to do his best.

To the very end of the oath, keeping himself "morally straight", a true scout is on his own. Yet, he knows he is representing the four and one-half million Scouts when he wears his uniform. He has a great responsibility.

Along with the oath, a Boy Scout has to learn and live up to 12 rules of the Scout Law. They are: A scout is trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.

These are the cornerstones on which scouting was founded. Any parent must be proud to know his son has promised to do his best in attaining these 12 goals.

"Be Prepared" were the two words which the forefathers of scouting chose as the motto of every Boy Scout. The motto means a scout is prepared at any moment to do his duty and face danger if necessary, to help others.

The Scout Slogan, "Do a good turn daily" means doing something helpful, but it covers more territory than that. The slogan includes doing something extra, beyond what one would do ordinarily.

True Boy Scouts obey all of these rules and regulations with or without uniform. When in uniform, he takes on other characteristics and responsibilities.

The Scout uniform shows the public that the boy belongs to the largest boys' organization in the world. Only scouts may wear the uniform. Congress authorized this and it is protected against unlawful use by an Act of Congress.

Chapter 28 in 'The FBI Story'

Path Yields Clues to Identities of Traitors

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is the twenty-eighth in a series of highlights from "The FBI Story," a book about the Federal Bureau of Investigation by Don Whitehead, Pulitzer Prizewinner.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

Nine months after J. Edgar Hoover flashed the warning that atomic secrets had been stolen by agents of the Communists, the whole wretched story of espionage was known to the FBI.

FBI agents had followed the spy trail to Dr. Klaus Fuchs, and from Fuchs to the Philadelphia chemist, Harry Gold.

From Gold, the path led to a 28 - year - old ex-Army ser-

Greenglass was in the kitchen preparing the baby's milk formula when two FBI agents knocked on the door. It was June 15, 1950. Greenglass left the kitchen and opened the door.

★ ★ ★

The agents showed their identification. "We are trying to locate information on materials lost, misplaced or stolen at the Los Alamos project. You worked at Los Alamos, didn't you?"

"Yes," Greenglass said. "But I can't help you. I know nothing about it."

MORE QUESTIONS

The agents continued to question the ex-sergeant. Would he have any objections if they looked around the apartment?

Harry Gold studied them. At last he said: "This is the man I contacted at Albuquerque."

For a time Greenglass protested his innocence. But then, like that of Fuchs and Gold, his part of the story finally spilled forth. Piece by piece, the parts fell into place.

No one person had all the information, but when the FBI had gathered together the parts, there was the clear picture of espionage later revealed in testimony in federal court.

On Nov. 29, 1944 — three months after T/4 Sgt. David Greenglass' transfer to the secret Los Alamos atomic bomb project — Ruth Greenglass arrived in Albuquerque, N. M. This was their second wedding anniversary.

TELLS OF TALK

One day while walking along Highway 66, out beyond the city limits, Ruth told David about a talk she'd had with Julius and Ethel Rosenberg in New York. Ethel was David's sister.

Ruth said:

"Julius said at last he's doing what he always wanted to do — give information to the Soviet Union!"

Ruth said that Julius knew David was working on the atomic bomb. Julius and Ethel wanted David to give them information about his work which would be useful to Russia.

If all nations had this atomic information, Julius said, one nation couldn't use the bomb as a threat against another nation.

David was scared. "I can't do it, Ruth," he said. But next day he agreed. Julius had been his hero for years. He didn't want to see Julius fail at anything he tried.

David gave Ruth a description of the Los Alamos layout, the approximate number of people working in the restricted area, and the names of scientists whose connection with the atomic project was supposed to be top-secret. He had picked up their names by overhearing talk at the plant.

Ruth memorized all David told her and repeated it to Julius Rosenberg when she returned home.

Two months after this meeting David returned to New York on leave. At Julius' request he made a number of sketches of a flat-type lens mold being used in atomic experiments.

He also gave Julius the names of people at Los Alamos who seemed to him to be sympathetic to communism and who might be recruited to give information.

Greenglass returned to Los Alamos late in January at the end of his leave. Ruth arrived in Albuquerque in February where David could come to her on his days off.

Only a few days before, Harry Gold had met Soviet Vice Consul Anatoli Yakovlev in a little bar and restaurant at 42nd St. and Third Ave. in Manhattan.

PRIVATE TALK

They had a drink, and then sat at a table where they could talk without being overheard.

The two men discussed the time and place of their next meeting. It would be after Gold's return from Santa Fe, where he was to pick up atomic information supplied by Dr. Klaus Fuchs.

Then Yakovlev told Gold that after seeing Fuchs, he must go to Albuquerque on another extremely important mission.

The Russian gave Gold a sheet of onionskin paper on which was written the name "Greenglass," and an address. Below the name was a notation: "Recognition signal, I am from Julius."

Yakovlev handed Gold an envelope containing $500 to be given to Greenglass.

Gold strolled through Santa Fe's streets toward his meeting with Fuchs. He saw the pale scientist driving toward him in an old car.

The car stopped and he got in. Within a few minutes Fuchs had given him a thick packet of information on atomic bomb secrets. He told Gold the bomb would be tested at Alamogordo, N. M., the next month.

Gold left Santa Fe by bus for Albuquerque. The Greenglasses had just finished breakfast when the stranger knocked. David opened the door.

"Are you Mr. Greenglass?"

"Yes."

Gold stepped into the living room. He said, "I come from Julius. Have you any information for me?"

Greenglass drew sketches of the lens mold on which he had been working, and described in writing how the lens was used as a triggering device in atomic experiments. Again he listed names of people he regarded as possible espionage recruits.

Greenglass was back in New York on another furlough in September, 1945. The atomic bombs had been dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The war was over.

This time David gave Julius a sketch of a cross-section of the Nagasaki type bomb as he visualized it from knowledge of his own work on the triggering device and from the discussions he had heard.

Julius was pleased. "This is very good," he said.

Maybe a Little Tardy, but Post Office Delivers

In the summer of 1908 her uncle, now dead, took a trip to England. He sent a picture postcard back to her at Fort Thomas, Ky., where she lived then.

The card arrived with a batch of Christmas cards recently without a word of explanation about the delay.

The message wasn't too urgent, however. The card said merely: "Greetings."

Joan, a senior at New Haven High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H Kuchenmeister, 30330 Carl Ave., New Haven.

She said that she has aspirations to become an airline stewardness.

The judges, faced with a deadlock in selecting the maid of honor, decided to divide the honor by awarding the title to two attractive contestants.

They were Mary Bobak, 18, of Utica, and Natalie Guastella, 17, of Warren.

The 14 candidates for the coveted queen title were interviewed privately by the three judges before changing from street dress to formal wear.

Later they reappeared before an audience of more than 100 to be further questioned by Asst. Supt. of Schools Floyd Ebeling, acting as master of ceremonies.

Paul Pitlow, Rotary Club president, spoke briefly on plans for the festival while the judges de-liberate. Charles H. Bannow, head of the queen's committee had charge of arrangements for last night's competition.

Bob Considine Says:

Twinkletoes Rates as Air Pioneer

NEW YORK (INS)—One of the features of the Travelrama show at the New York Coliseum is a little toy black cat named Twinkletoes.

The faded bow around its neck once was the proud blue and red of the RAF. Twinkletoes is what amounts to the world's first trans-Atlantic air passenger.

It flew from St. John's, Newfoundland, to a bog in Ireland in June 1919, a 1,900-mile flight which took just under 16 hours. It was the mascot of Lt. Arthur Whitten Brown, whose partner in that historic first direct flight across the Atlantic was Capt. Jack Alcock.

Twinkletoes was unearthed from a dusty trunk by Lady Whitten Brown not long ago and flown to this country in a Vickers plane powered by Rolls Royce engines — the combination that produced the 1919 event.

But the plane of old was a twin-engined biplane with open cockpits and a top speed of 120 m.p.h. Twinkletoes came over this time in Vickers Viscount—being delivered to Capital Airlines—at 25,000 feet and 350 m.p.h.

★ ★ ★

The first trip must have been more exciting, even for something made of imitation fur and sawdust. . .

PRISONERS OF WAR

Alcock and Brown spent much of World War I as prisoners of war, the former having been shot down in Turkey, the latter in Germany.

Each was fired with a single ambition: To find when the war was ended and they were released, a plane in which they could fly the Atlantic. Lord Northcliffe had put up a 10,000-pound prize for such a feat.

Fate brought the two together at the Vickers factory early in 1919. They were selected as the company's crew in what was a lively race to be the first.

Handley-Page had entered a big four-engined biplane bomber with a crew of six, headed by an admiral. Sopwith put in a single-engined plane and hired the great British ace, Harry Hawker, as pilot. There were half a dozen other hopefuls, and all in time gathered in Newfoundland.

Fields had to be scraped level and packed, to support the planes. The weather had to be waited on. With four planes on hand and ready, there was actually a two-month delay because of weather.

Hawker was first off. Fifteen hours, after traveling 1,100 miles, his engine's cooling system flew apart. Incredibly, it happened just as he passed over a small tramp steamer.

Hawker ditched the plane and he and his navigator were taken aboard. It took the ship six more days to reach land—during which time the men were considered dead, for the ship had no wireless.

THEY WERE OFF!

Alcock and Brown lurched into the air from a runway on which a rival plane had only recently cracked up on takeoff. For a time it appeared that they, too, must crash.

But the Rolls Royces overcame the pull of gravity and they were off. Twinkletoes bobbled up and down on top the instrument panel.

It was not what might be called an uneventful flight. Part of one engine flew away, but kept functioning. The generator for their radio was torn off in the windstream.

A violent storm spun the plane out of control, and it fell like a crazed rock from 4,000 feet. Alcock could not gain control of it until it was within 60 feet of the water. The spray washed the wings.

Five times during the crossing, Brown climbed out on the wing to chip ice away from the engines' air intakes, holding on to a strut with one hand, his body only inches from the propellor, the flaming exhaust inches over his head, the Atlantic 9,000 feet below.

But they made it and the world echoed acclaim. George V knighted them and they became wealthy men. But Alcock was to die before the year was ended. He hit a tree in France, looking for a familiar road.

Brown became more and more of a recluse, especially after he lost his son in the Battle of Arnheim. He put away the mementos of a dashing youth, among them the ever—Twinkletoes.

Only four illnesses — heart disease, cancer, cerebral hemmorrhage and nephritis — take a greater toll of lives today than accidents.

Urges Adherence to Uniform Code

Michigan Drivers Risk Arrest, Injury Because Interstate Road Laws Differ

By E. C. HAYHOW
Publisher Hillsdale Daily News

HILLSDALE (AP)—You are a resident of Michigan and are planning a business or pleasure trip that will take you through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

It would be logical and reasonable to expect that traffic laws in Michigan and in its four neighboring states would be uniform, wouldn't it? If you are, a law-observing driver in Michigan, it would seem to follow that you will be a law-observing driver in other states.

Nothing is further from the truth. And in many cases it is because Michigan's traffic rules of the road are out of step with those recommended in the uniform vehicle code.

While Michigan prides itself on it progressiveness, it has not kept pace in overhauling its traffic legislation to make the changes necessitated by modern-day highway travel and transportation.

CAUSES HIGH TOLL

Traffic safety authorities agree that this lack of uniformity in our traffic rules and regulations is causing a high fatality and injury toll and an incalculable economic loss.

Of slightly lesser importance is the feeling of confusion, frustration and irritation engendered in a motorist because of the lack of uniform laws. This feeling may understandably explode if he is stopped by a police officer enforcing an Ohio law that is exactly opposite from the Michigan law.

But let's take a trip and see what confronts us.

In the important matter of driving speed, we find that Michigan's highway speed limit of 65 during the day and 55 at night is identical only with the legal limits in Wisconsin. In Indiana it is 65 and in Illinois 60 either during the day or at night, while in Ohio it is 60 by day and 50 by night.

ABSOLUTE LAW

Michigan is the only one of the five states with an absolute speed law, now recommended in the uniform vehicle code. Under the absolute law, a driver is in violation—regardless of traffic and weather conditions—when he exceeds the 65-55 limits.

The other four states all have reasonable and proper, prima facie speed limits. This type of law provides that a driver may travel above the posted speed limit and not be found guilty, if he can prove he was driving in a resonable and proper manner considering traffic and weather conditions.

Traveling in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin, our motorist would easily recognize a school bus because it must be painted chrome yellow, the color recommended by the National Education Assn. and accepted by the uniform vehicle code. But in Illinois, a school bus can be any color as long as it has "school bus" painted on the back.

Michigan's departure from the uniform vehicle code provision requiring vehicles to stop whether approaching or overtaking a school bus loading or unloading passengers is a serious one.

The Michigan law requires only that the motorist stop when overtaking a school bus. In addition, Michigan law permits drivers to proceed with caution after stopping, whereas the other four states require the driver to remain stopped until the bus proceeds or the bus driver signals cars to move on.

The law in these four states, in keeping with the uniform vehicle code, does not apply on divided highways—a sensible exception.

Night driving is an important part of any trip because it is three times as dangerous to drive at night as during the day. All five states have provision that require the driver to dim his headlights.

* * *

But our traveler might find out the hard way that only Michigan and Indiana require that a driver must dim his lights 500 feet from an approaching vehicle. Illinois requires that lights be dimed at 350 feet while Ohio stipulates merely "when meeting an approaching vehicle."

Michigan made notable progress in traffic safety last year when some 250 fewer persons were killed on our highways than in 1955. But let's not forget that despite this improvement, nearly 1,750 persons met death in Michigan traffic.

It makes sense that uniform laws that are resonable and understandable, and that are uniformly enforced by police and courts, might contribute substantially to continue progress in traffic accident prevention.

Begin Safety Crusade

FREMONT (AP)—Newaygo County Safety Committee Chairman Stephen S. Nisbet reports a County Crusade for Safety Committee has been organized for 1957. The crusade is an extension of a program inaugurated several years ago in Muskegon and adopted in many Michigan areas to combat traffic deaths.

Cadillac to Get Vehicles

CADILLAC (AP)—City commission has accepted a bid of $16,000 for a tractor, earth scraper and trailer to be used for the city's new sanitary land fill method of refuse disposal.

Eastern Distributors to Return to Jobs

NEW YORK (AP)—Newspaper and magazine deliverers have voted to end a six-day strike which curtailed distribution in the New York metropolitan area. They were expected back on the job today.

★ ★ ★

At a stormy meeting last night, members of the independent Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union by a voice vote accepted a once-rejected contract offer of newspaper and magazine wholesalers. It calls for a $9 weekly package for two years.

As Sam Feldman, union president, announced the result, some members shouted disagreement and several fist fights broke out.

Vermont Mine Yields 80 Pct. of U.S. Asbestos

MONTPELIER, VT. — New England has only one asbestos mine, but it is the nation's richest. From rugged Belvidere Mountain in Vermont, barely 20 miles south of Canada, is extracted 80 per cent of the country's output — some 50,000 tons of fiber annually, valued at nearly $4,000,000.

Trapped in Own Tracks — Skunk Is Out-Thunk

WADENA, Sask. (AP)—The cookies had all gone, but a well-worn path gave a clue to Mrs. E. Lobar, who had placed a big stack out on the porch. The cookies had been carried away, one by one, by a skunk active in the mild spell. The trail led to a skunk's den.

Security For You

California, Florida Don't Lead in Oldsters

You may be surprised to know that California and Florida aren't among the states with the highest percentage of people 65 or older.

But, that's what the latest United States Census Bureau figures show. Iowa and New Hampshire run neck - and - neck for high honors. Both have 11 out of every hundred people in the older age bracket. And they far outrank California (26th) and Florida (16th).

In fact, averaging all the states together, California falls right on the national average — 8.6 out of every hundred people are 65 or older. Florida ranks slightly above the national average with 9.3 per cent.

You may also be surprised to find that among the top 15 states, seven are in the mid-west and five are in New England. The mid-western states are Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and South Dakota. The New England states are New Hampshire, Maine, Vermont, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

New Mexico has the smallest percentage with Arizona ranked next to the bottom.

There's at least one good explanation for the popular belief that California and Florida have a high percentage of oldsters:

Large numbers of retired people have moved there and it has been widely publicized. But, not so widely noted, has been a similar migration of younger people. The movement of the two groups has tended to balance out holding down the percentage of oldsters in the two states.

Even so the moves of oldsters haven't been as general as the popular impression suggests. In fact, most older people who are still working live and work where they spent their active lives.

FARMERS WORK LONGER

This offers one explanation as to why the mid-western states have a higher percentage of older people than most other states. Farmers work to a later age than do other types of workers. Thus, there has been the movement of older people, including farmers, out of the midwest. At the same time, the need for less human power on farms has caused younger people in the mid-west to move to cities in other regions.

Here are some not too surprising facts about where oldsters live:

—About four-fifths of the aged live in cities and towns. Among unmarried oldsters, the proportion is even higher.

— Realtively few larger cities attract large numbers of older men and women. The exceptions, are Los Angeles, San Diego, Seattle, Dallas, Houston, Memphis, Atlanta, Miami, Jacksonville and St. Petersburg.

— State capitals and university towns seem to attract old people.

—Southern California, peninsular Florida, and eastern Texas are the main areas to which older people have moved in the past 25 years.

Below is a run-down of how the states and the District of Columbia rank with the percentage of people 65 - and older in parentheses:

Iowa, New Hampshire (11); Maine, Missouri (10.8); Vermont (10.7); Nebraska (10.6); Massachusetts, Kansas (10.5); Oklahoma, Washington (9.8); Rhode Island, Minnesota (9.7); Wisconsin, Montana (9.6); South Dakota (9.5); Oregon, Indiana, Illinois, Florida (9.3).

Arkansas, Connecticut (9.2); New York (9.1) Ohio (9) Pennsylvania, Colorado (8.9); North Dakota, New Jersey, California, Kentucky (8.6); Idaho (8.3); Delaware (7.8); West Virginia, Tennessee, District of Columbia, Michigan (7.6); Wyoming, Mississippi (7.5).

Alabama, Maryland, Texas (7.2); Virginia (7); Georgia (6.9); Louisiana (6.8); Nevada (6.6); Utah (6.4); North Carolina (6.1); South Carolina (5.9); Arizona (5.8), New Mexico (5.3).

(You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your own Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

He's Young at Heart

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Othel Baxter had his heart set on taking the rugged federal rescue school course at Olney, Md., but New Jersey Civilian Defense officials turned him down. The course includes instruction in scaling walls and handling hysteria victims. They admired his ambition, CD officials said, but they thought the school was for younger men. Baxter, a retired cavalry major is 75.

Father to See Son After 8 Years Blind

GEORGETOWN, Ky. (AP) —Herb Mulligan a Georgetown College student, "can't wait to see dad, or rather for dad to see me" after eight years of total blindness.

Herb will go to their La Grange, Ill., home this weekend for the special reunion with his father, Merle C. Mulligan.

The father lost the sight of one eye when hit by a baseball at the age of 17. Years later he ran into a tree limb and sight in the other ee began to fade.

He underwent an operation two weeks ago. When the bandages were removed he could see with one eye, Herb said. He may not recover sight in his other eye but the operation has been termed a success.

Big U.S. Propaganda Effort in Egypt Brings Frenzied Red Retaliation

CAIRO (INS) — U.S. information officials disclosed today that 776,000 copies of eight different pamphlets and leaflets — or one to every 30 Egyptians — have been distributed in the past month to explain and clarify the Eisenhower Middle East doctrine.

From the Russian embassy at the same time came announcement of a new radio quiz show a la Madison Avenue, a new flood of Arabic language magazines and a shower of invitations to Egyptian editors to "come visit Moscow."

Weary officials in the U.S. Information Service feel highly gratified with the results so far of the biggest single American propaganda effort ever undertaken in the Middle East.

They point to tremendous public response to newspaper advertisements and Voice of America offers of Eisenhower plan pamphlets and leaflets — 54,000 requests by mail and personal calls at information offices in Cairo, Alexandria and Port Said.

They also point to Egyptian cooperation, or at least lack of interference. During the entire distribution effort which required 22 extra employes and nearly $10,000 additional to regular budget funds, there were only three minor incidents but distribution continued with official sanction after only momentary delays.

RUSSIANS BUSY

The Russians politely decline to comment on whether they feel their campaign is successful. But they are working as never before.

At any downtown newsstand you can buy for half the price of American weekly news magazines any of the Russian publications in English, French or Arabic, including the big, slick monthly "Soviet Union," which pointedly hails Egyptians in a double-page colored center spread as "Handsome, Proud People."

Nevertheless, news vendors report few buyers. Nor are Cairo editors using much of the 5,000-word daily report distributed free by the official Soviet news agency Tass, except for official Russian statements.

But the tone of editorials and veiled hints by top officials during the past few days indicate that President Gamal Abdel Nasser will listen carefully to what King Saud reports about his talks with Mr. Eisenhower before Egypt declares itself one way or the other.

Holland Outgrows Wells

HOLLAND (AP)—City water wells are scheduled for retirement to standby duty this month when Holland's new $3,000,000 filtration and pipeline system starts delivery of Lake Michigan water to homes, businesses and industry. Spokesmen said the new system currently is capable of delivering 14,000,000 gallons of water per day. Minor changes, they announced, could boost the amount to a maximum of 35,000,000 gallons.

Start Fund Raising

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — A civic committee has started an intensive campaign to raise $40,000 in 24 days for the northwestern Michigan college building fund. A total of $25,000 earlier had been subscribed to the fund through an informal drive to match a grant, promised conditionally by the Michigan Department of Education, for a new two-story addition at the school.

The County Council of Dublin, Eire, has asked the Minister of Justice to form a women's branch of the Civic Guard.

NEW YORK — A recently developed retractable trailer hitch enables one man to tie down a trailer to a flatcar in 2½ minutes. Other methods normally take a crew of four men 5 minutes or longer.

Soviet Video 'Spectacle' Dramatizes Spy Charge

MOSCOW (AP)—The Madison Avenue treatment has been applied with a heavy hand to Moscow's newest spy charge.

With television cameras trained setting, the Foreign Ministry presented a three-hour espionage activity claim against the United States. Featured were four live "spies."

L. F. Ilyichev, head of the Foreign Ministry press department, conducted the lengthy presentation before a news conference attended by some 200 Soviet and foreign reporters. Televised and broadcast live for the Moscow area, it also was filmed for later showings elsewhere in the Communist bloc.

★ ★ ★

Ilyichev charged the United States is carrying on an unprecedented espionage campaign that amounts to secret war against the Soviet Union and other Communist nations. Such action, he declared, makes the United States guilty of "gross interference in the home affairs of sovereign nations."

Charges detailed included operation of spy schools in West Germany, regular violation of Soviet air space and smuggling agents into the Soviet Union.

On a long table in front of the Foreign Ministry spokesman was a collection of what he called American spy equipment. It included portable radio transmitters and receivers, maps, forged documents, cameras and poison capsules. The poison, it was said, was to be swallowed if the agents were captured.

For a clincher Ilyichev introduced the four "spies" he said had been slipped into Soviet territory by the U.S. intelligence service.

Reading from prepared statements under the glaring TV lights, the four told stories of falling into the spy business through U.S. inducements that included drinking, gambling, swearing and visits to houses of prostitution.

The four identified themselves as Nikolai I. Yakuta, Mikhail P. Kudrayavtsev, Adam L. Novikov and Konstantin I. Khmelitsky. They said they fell into German hands during World War II, began working for U.S. intelligence agencies in postwar Germany and were trained by U.S. espionage schools there.

Describing his spy school education, Yakuta said:

"In order to turn us into obedient servants and make us forget our love for our motherland, the Americans encouraged drinking and gambling and bad language among us and even at times took us to Munich to visit public houses."

Red Cross Workers Sought for Relief Aid

Oakland County residents who are able to assist the Red Cross in any part of the country with disaster work are being sought by the group's Midwestern Area Office in St. Louis.

Harold Brady, home service chairman for the Oakland County Red Cross Chapter, says that the St. Louis office is seeking to compile a list of available disaster workers with a home life flexible enough to permit them to take from four to 12 weeks off.

Applicants must be experienced in social work, preferably with the Red Cross.

Further information is available from the local chapter or from Leslie This, director of personnel for the Midwest area, St. Louis.

Trap Traps Truck; DPW Traps Trucker

The Public Works Department estimated damage to the course at $100 and impounded the truck, belonging to a nearby horse farm, as security for payment.

Retired Couple Knead Dough

But They Don't Need Pension; Supply Baked Goods to Neighbors

EATON RAPIDS (AP)—Four years ago, at 75, Roy Simot and his wife, Dema, were dissatisfied with retirement—so they did something about it.

These days the Simots bake 130 loaves of bread, 42 dozen rolls and 10 dozen doughnuts every other night for some 300 families who treasure their baking.

Simot, a farmer by trade, said he wasn't happy just sitting around in retirement and, although he could no longer do farm work, he was able to do a job which did not require great physical labor.

Word got around until now the Simots work some 11 hours a day, baking, packing and traveling 60 miles three days a week to deliver the products.

Sundays, Tuesdays and Thursdays the Simots fry doughnuts and knead dough. By 2 a.m., the last of the cinnamon rolls are turned out. By 8 a.m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays they have the back seat of their car loaded and ready for the day's ride to deliver the goods.

But you won't find the Simots baking these days. During January and February they close up shop until road and weather conditions get better in the spring.

Brazil's coffee exports are gaining.

Man Off to Congo for Elephant Hunt With Bow, Arrow

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Would $10,000 be enough to lure you to the Belgian Congo to kill an elephant with a bow and arrow?

It is for William Negley, 43, an independent oil operator here. Negley plans to take off Saturday for Africa, where he hopes to bag an elephant with a bow made especially for elephant hunting. The hunt was prompted by a bet with a friend, he said.

The archery firm owner supplying his extra-heavy bow, Fred Bear of Grayling, Mich., said William K. Carpenter Jr., wealthy sportsman of Wilmington, Del., made the bet with Negley. Negley declined to either confirm or deny Bear's statement.

But he says the money is not the main purpose of the trip. His main reason, he says, is to bring back specimens for a new African hall at Whitte Museum here.

Got His Dollar's Worth

AUSTIN, Minn. (AP) — Truck driver Loy L. Keck of Fort Dodge, Iowa, heard a thumping as he drove away from the filling station after refueling. He had taken the gasoline pump with him. The hose caught on Keck's big vehicle as he moved away.

How Great the Pleasures Abandoning Civilization

By HAL BOYLE

ANDROS TOWN, Bahamas (AP)—I sit here by a cool green sea, warmed by a hot sun the color of a fried egg in the blue bowl of the sky.

★ ★ ★

One of these days I'm goin' to rare right up out of this chair and walk 15 feet and dunk a toe in the Atlantic, and test the widely held rumor it is wet. Maybe I'll walk along the shore also and scuff me up a shell with my big grubworm-white toe, and hold it to one ear and hear it sing me the tune of the sea that is already right there murmuring the same song it sang to Christopher Columbus.

A BIG CATCH

One of these days I'm going to drop a line in those waters, I'll bet you, and haul out a big-nosed fish with a high forehead, and it will be speckled with an exploding rainbow, and it will have orange eyes opened in lasting surprise.

But right now I'm going to just sit here and enjoy the remembered pleasure of my Missouri boyhood when summer came and a boy could take a load off his mind by removing his shoes, and feel the breeze cool his spreading toes, as one foot deliriously scratched another.

This is what I think of in the first few free hours of a winter vacation, as I sit here and look at my arm and watch the peculiar nerve jerks of civilization slowly subside.

I feel so grateful to be here. I feel grateful because I know I am fortunate. I realize fully that of the billions of people on earth only a few million ever get the chance to have a winter vacation of this type so far from home—and even fewer have the reckless courage to go so deeply in debt to do it.

It is trips like this that really separate the boys from the bankrupt. So long boyhood!

GRATEFUL TO WIFE

I feel so grateful to my wife, Frances, at this gracious moment. I learned about women from her, and after nearly 20 years of marriage, there isn't a day dawns that I don't learn more.

★ ★ ★

They do keep the moss from accumulating on a man.

I also admire women because they will battle corporations, big or small. Few men will. I am the kind of a guy who, if he puts a penny in a subway gum machine and the gum doesn't come out, walks cautiously back and forth on the platform to be sure it is deserted and there are no witnesses before going back and kicking the machine.

My wife—like most wives—has more grit. She believes that what is good for her should be good for General Motors. She has had a running feud with the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. that goes back to the days when Don Ameche invented Alexander Graham Bell.

TICKET TROUBLE

Here's an example:

She was sure that we wouldn't need to buy airline passage for our daughter, Tracy Ann, because "we can hold her on our laps—and she won't take up seat space."

★ ★ ★

Well, when we checked in at the airport the jolly ticket man chucked Tracy under the chin, and said, "Pretty child, how old are you?"

Tracy wisely kept her mouth shut, as did her mother, but proud papa had to bust out, "She's 3½—and big for her age."

As Frances glared at me, the airlines man said:

"Aha! Then she'll have to have a half-fare ticket!"

While the development of aviation halted, Frances and the airlines fellow battled out the issue.

Fifteen minutes and $91 later Tracy had her ticket and we were on our way.

STILL LAUGHING

I couldn't stop laughing, and I still can't. When you start off a vacation by spending $91 more than you planned on, you might as well laugh. You have 50 full weeks to cry about it after you get home.

Ah, sun, sand, sky, stars like deep candles in the soft night, green sea with your waves endlessly rolling, native boys laughing on the shore, throwing a stick to a dog in the surf.

Civilization, wherever you are, how fares it with you?

Heads Appeal Board for Airport Zoning

At a meeting held this week, Roy Alger of Clarkston, was elected chairman of the Joint Pontiac Municipal Airport Zoning Board of Appeals. J. A. Hubbard of Pontiac was elected vice chairman, and Frank Webber of Addison Township was elected vice chairman of the Joint Airport Zoning Board.

Members were furnished copies of a new zoning ordinance, adopted last month by the joint board, which regulates the height of buildings and other objects around the airport.

Welsh Purges Self of Contempt Charge

Mt. CLEMENS (AP)—A contempt citation against Mayor Thomas Welsh of suburban St. Clair Shores was set aside yesterday by the Quinn grand jury.

Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn of Cairo said Welsh had purged himself of the contempt charge by answering the grand jury's questions.

Judge Quinn, sitting as a one-man grand jury, is investigating allegations of vote fraud in Warren and graft in St. Clair Shores. Both communities are in Macomb County.

Welsh was sentenced to 60 days in jail by Judge Quinn Jan. 14 for refusing to answer questions asked by the gand juror. He served three days of the sentence, then was released on a Macomb County Circuit Court order, pending a State Supreme Court appeal.

Yesterday was the last day Welsh could have appealed.

Snowbound Couple Saved in Pikes Peak Country

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — A pretty coed and her date staggered out of the snowbound Pikes Peak country last night and sent back rescuers who brought in her parents, marooned in their car since Sunday.

Doctors found Beverly Ohlson, 20, had a broken ankle when she was brought to an Englewood hospital for treatment of frostbite and sunburn. They said she did not see how she had managed to struggle through four-foot snow drifts on it. She didn't know it was broken. Numbing cold apparently kept it from hurting.

She and Robert Bolasny, 22, had battled three days through the snow to reach a television relay station near Castle Rock, Colo.

Ten miles back on the Rampart Range Road, rescuers found Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Ohlson huddled in their car, cold, hungry and worried.

Ohlson is a 57-year-old Denver chiropractor. Mrs. Ohlson is 53.

The four had driven to Colorado Springs Sunday for a visit. On the way back they decided to take a scenic back road. The car bogged down in snow and ice.

All four stayed in the car Sunday night, running the car and its heater part of the time to keep warm.

Monday and Tuesday night they huddled in crevices and lighted fires. The temperature was around zero.

"We were just numb with weariness and the cold," Bolasny said. "Our feet were getting very bad. I don't think we could have gone much further."

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Ohlson burned the back seat of the car piecemeal for warmth. They melted snow for drinking water. There was nothing to eat.

"We really didn't feel hungery," he said. "We were too concerned over the safety of the kids."

2 Miles an Hour Over Antarctica

ON THE TRAIL TO MARIE BYRD LAND, Antarctica (AP) — Eighteen Americans aboard a bright orange tractor train are chugging across a desert of snow toward the Antarctic highlands.

Skirting yawning crevices and battling bitter cold, the train is averaging about two miles an hour. The round trip is expected to take a month.

The caravan moves around the clock in the 24-hour sunlight of the antarctic summer. Half the expedition members — 16 Navy Seabees and two Army transportation experts—sleep while the other half drive. They shift every 12 hours.

Each tractor is towing two 20-ton sleds carrying equipment and supplies. Fitted out for sleeping are wannigans — portable bunkhouses equipped with triple-tiered canvas bunks. Another wannigan serves as cookhouse and mess hall.

"Everything is fine," Lt. (j.g.) Robert White of Glens Falls, N.Y., the train commander, told a party that flew in to visit the trail blazers. "We're living like kings. The weather has been good. In fact, some of the men are sleeping on top of the wannigans."

Heading the party of visitors was Dr. Laurence M. Gould, director of the U.S. scientific program in Antarctica for the International Geophysical Year program. He was accompanied by four Navy men and four reporters.

John Hricsina of Franklin, Pa., a young Seabee mechanic who is making the Marie Byrd Land run, told the visitors he was "very excited." He added that his tour of navy duty has run from hot to cold.

"My last station was Antigua in the balmy Caribbean," he said.

Police Problem: Get the Evidence or the Fugitives?

MIDDLESBORO, Ky. (AP) — While police were chasing a speeding car, they saw two half gallon jugs tossed out of the auto ahead.

What to do? Stop and pick up the evidence? Or keep after the two occupants of the fleeing vehicle?

They stopped, gathered up bits of broken glass and the paper bags in which the jugs had been carried. Back at headquarters, the officers succeeded in spooning out enough moonshine to hold as evidence.

Turned out they guessed right. They came upon the fugitives an hour later, escorted them to jail, and later saw them sentenced to 60 days each.

This Bolt From Blue Made Him Want to Sue

NORFOLK, Va. — Henry A. Nichols Sr. won a $1,000 damage judgment in Federal Court for injuries received in an accident involving a train and a Navy Plane.

Neither hit the other, but an antenna weight hanging from the plane like a spent yo-yo as it came in for a landing, smashed into the cab of the Nichols' locomotive. Nichols suffered a leg injury and sued the government for $25,000.

Adenauer Offers $175 Million Aid

To Share Maintenance of 6 Nations' Forces on West German Soil

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government has offered around 175 million dollars to help maintain the armed forces of six nations stationed in West Germany.

For the year ending next May, West Germany is paying about 250 million dollars to these powers.

Responsible officials said the offer was submitted to the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Denmark.

The German offer came as a surprise to officials of these powers. Last year there was bitter wrangling before West Germany agreed to continue financial aid to their forces. This assistance formerly was paid as compulsory "occupation costs."

The Germans made the proposal to continue aid on the ground that their own rearmament program is behind schedule. They said the new funds would be extended as "mutual aid" under NATO.

The Germans implied that the 175 million dollar offer—about half as much as this year—was the absolute ceiling.

Texans Fired Up Over Proposal to Split County

FORT STOCKTON, Tex. (AP)—A proposal to split the sprawling west Texas county of Pecos into two counties is causing its own little cold war between East and West.

Unhappy "Easterners" want to divide the county, now four times the size of Luxembourg, because they figure they're getting the short end of the tax take.

Sparsely settled Pecos County has an estimated 10,933 population, 2.1 persons per square mile, most of which lives in the eastern part. It's total area of 4,736 square miles makes it bigger than a lot of nations.

A group of citizens living in Iraan, Tex., on the eastern edge of Pecos County, asked State Rep. Louis Anderson of Midland, Tex., to sponsor legislation to divide Pecos into two separate counties.

But Anderson vetoed the idea and in Austin yesterday, said he was sticking by his decision.

"I just don't think it would be the best thing to do," he said.

The Trans-Pecos Development Assn., composed of citizens from Iraan, claims about 70 per cent of the county's tax money comes from the Yatesville oil field near Iraan. They say county commissioners are spending 85 per cent of the tax money in the western part around Fort Stockton.

Those living west of the Pecos have been strongly opposed to the split, with the Fort Stockton Chamber of Commerce leading the opposition.

Michael James Rivenburgh, 17, of 48 Hazel St., waived examination in Municipal Court Wednesday before Judge Maurice Finnegan and was ordered to appear in Circuit Court Monday, accused of entering a Lincoln street home and taking items valued over $40 on January 28.

The youth, apprehended by Sgt. Raymond E. Meggitt and Detective James F. Bale, was committed to the county jail after failing to post a $200 bond.

The missing items, including a clock radio, taken from the Charles Tawlings home, 85 Lincoln St., has been recovered, according to Bale.

Queen's Favorite Parade Horse Destroyed Today

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth's favorite parade horse, Winston, is dead. The 17 - year - old golden chestnut had to be destroyed after he slipped and fell when being exercised this morning.

★ ★ ★

He was known as the horse with the perfect manners—and a complete indifference to noise, traffic and crowds. He was ridden by King George VI at London's trooping of the color ceremony in 1947. The late monarch liked the horse so much that he recommended him to his daughter when she was Princess Elizabeth.

★ ★ ★

She rode Winston first in 1947 and then at all troopings of the color she had participated in since becoming Queen five years ago. The horse belonged to London police.

Mother Waits 1 Block Away

Boy, 8, Dies Under Train

DETROIT (AP) — While his mother waited a block away to escort him across a busy street, 8-year-old Kelly Johnson was killed yesterday apparently trying to hitch a train ride to a nearby crossing.

★ ★ ★

The boy had been playing at a neighbors. When he was ready to return home, following his mother's instructions, he telephoned her so that she could meet him at a main street intersection. The mother, Mrs. Clairice Johnson, 26, had forbidden the boy to cross the street unaided.

When Kelly failed to appear, Mrs. Johnson began a search. She found the boy's body along the railroad track.

Eldon Cowher, 37, a fireman on the Detroit Terminal Railroad train, said he had seen a boy walking along the tracks as the train passed.

"But we were northbound and he was clear over beyond the southbound tracks," Cowher said. "He wasn't in any danger."

Police found blood on the 15th boxcar behind the engine. They theorized Kelly had decided to hop a ride to a crossing near where his mother waited and had missed his hold.

Slate Open Meeting on East Walton Drain

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Notices were circulated in East Walton Heights Subdivision last night, of an open meeting to be held Friday night at 7:30 to discuss the drainage problem of the area. The group will gather in Pontiac Township Hall.

The Rev. Gordon Lindsay, president of the East Walton Heights Improvement Assn., said yesterday that petitions are now being circulated for a plan approved by the Oakland County Drain Commission.

The proposed drain, he said, which is not guaranteed to solve the serious drainage problem in the area, would include a four-foot deep open ditch, one and three-quarters mile long, which would run within 200 feet of the newly-opened Will Rogers School. The estimated cost of the drain is $60,000.

March 15 Date Set for Election

Seek New High School; 13 Classrooms; Another Elementary

OXFORD — First step in providing adequate facilities for its students was taken at the recent meeting of the Oxford Area Board of Education when it voted to ask the district to bond for $1,500,000 for 27 years.

This is expected to provide a new high school building; 13 classrooms to be added to present elementary schools, and a site for a possible new elementary building on the west side of the district.

Election date is March 15. Only propety owners who are now registered with their township clerk, or who register by March 1, may vote on this issue.

Two precincts have been organized. Residents from Oxford Township and from the original Rock Valley, West Travis, and Oakwood districts will vote at Oxford High School auditorium. Electors living in Addison Township and those from the original Whigville district will vote at the township hall in Leonard.

A citizens advisory committee has been studying the problems involved and giving the Board of Education its recommendations.

Any interested resident is urged to meet with this group Thursday nights in the high school. Present school census figures indicate that the buildings outlined will be the minimum needed by 1958, when it is hoped construction can be completed.

The advisory committee and school board feel that immediate action is necessary because of the census and because construction costs and interest rates are steadily rising.

★ ★ ★

Hollywood Headlines

Three Cases Shed Light on Movieland's Divorces

By BOB THOMAS
Second of three articles

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Movie stars pay for their divorces, both in money and personal hell.

California law secs to it that they pay in money. This state has a community property law that decrees husband and wife share equally in wealth acquired during their marriage.

But divorce means more than money. It is also a tragedy of human conflict, and that's the area where it hurts most.

Often the whole story is not told in the divorce courts. Explained a lawyer: "The 'mental cruelty' grounds in California are so loose that almost anything can be used. Usually the wife doesn't want to harm an actor's career by saying he drank too much. So innocuous grounds are used."

But in three film breakups chosen from recent history the issues are fairly clear and they shed some light on marital problems in Hollywood. They are:

Despite one separation in the first year, this marriage had the outward appearance of being a happy one for 10 years. The couple was blessed with twin boys, to whom they were devoted.

But as Susan's career rose, Jess' descended. Once a successful stage actor, he found little work in films while she was winning Academy nominations.

Their smoldering differences rupted when he tossed her nude into the swimming pool after hot words. Then followed long and bitter court battles.

Case No. 2 — Greta Konen, 30, Gregory Peck, 27, married New York City, Oct. 4, 1942.

They met when he was a budding young actor touring with Katharine Cornell and she was the star's hairdresser. The years brought them three sons, and he became a top film star. Though they appeared happy, they grew apart. He had matured and changed from the struggling actor she first knew.

He worked abroad for two years to get a tax break. When she visited him, he told her, "We would be better friends if we were not married."

Diagnosis: Estrangement.

Case No. 3 — Jeanne Crain, 21, Paul Brinkman, 27, married Los Angeles, Dec. 31, 1945.

Although she married against her mother's wishes, the union was believed to be one of Hollywood's happiest. They had four children and always appeared affectionate in public.

Hollywood was shocked when they separated. She said he had beaten her unconscious, ripped off her clothes and threatened to disfigure her "so I would never work again and no man would ever look at me again." Each accused the other of infidelity.

Result: Divorce, Aug. 6, 1956; reconciled, Dec. 31, 1956, due to strength of religion and concern for children.

Speidel Named to Head NATO

Will Assume Command in April; First German to Hold High Post

PARIS (AP) — West German Lt. Gen. Hans Speidel has finally been named commander of NATO land forces in Central Europe. He assumes his new duties April 1, the first German to hold a top post in the North Atlantic command.

U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of Allied powers in Western Europe, announced the appointment. It had been expected for weeks, despite some objections in France and Britain to giving the important post to the former chief of staff to Field Marshal Erwin Rommel.

Norstad's announcement said the appointment was made "with the concurrence of the powers concerned." France was reported to have agreed finally because French forces in NATO have been reduced considerably due to the situation in Algeria.

The French also were said to regard Speidel — who drafted the terms for France's surrender in 1940 — as having been a military thinker and planner rather than a field commander for Hitler. In his new post he succeeds a Frenchman, Gen. Marcel Carpentier, who resigned last year.

Speidel is a 59-year-old bespectacled officer who has a PH. D. degree and speaks French fluently. He was on Rommel's staff during the Normandy invasion and is credited in part with the decision not to dynamite the Seine River bridges when the Germans evacuated Paris.

He was accused of implication in the July 1944 plot to bomb Hitler but denied having any share in it The Gestapo arrested him Sept. 7, 1944, and jailed him. He escaped and went into hiding before the war ended.

After the war he taught history at Tuebingen University. He was West Germany's first representative at NATO headquarters, where he has gotten along well with the multination staff.

Road Materials Listed

WASHINGTON—The 1956 federal highway-construction bill, which authorzies some 13 to 15 years of construction and the expenditure of 24.8 billion dollars in federal funds, will call for 49,000,000 tons of steel, 1,339,000,000 barrels of cement, and 128,00,000 tons of bituminous material.

His Education Enlarged During Baseball Dinner

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I mingled with the baseball players—and greatly enlarged my education.

Yogi Berra handed over his business card which reads, "Yoo-Hoo Chocolate Products, P. O. Box 22, Garfield N. J.—Lawrence P. Berra, vice president."

Lawrence Berra, of course, is Yogi. He's moving to a new home in Tenafly, N. J., because his family's increasing. Mickey Mantle, Whitey Ford and Billy Martin were with him at the Baseball Writers' Dinner at the Waldorf where George Gobel explained his own career.

YOGI

"One season," he said, "I only made two errors—I fell off the bench and I spit in the water bucket."

But an ex-St. Louis catcher, Joe Garagiola, now a radiocaster, was also a big hit in this very tough company.

"Most of my career was spent with Chicago and Pittsburgh so I'm not used to people," he said: Casey Stengel, he maintained, could open a meat market during Lent and make money. Further, he claimed he worked for a club whose signals were so messed up that a player on the other team said, "When you gonna steal? They've given you the signal three times already."

Dag Asks Israel to Clarify Aim

Gives Eban Questions to Learn Exact Stand on Pull-Out Conditions

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel's conditions for pulling out of Egypt and the Gaza Strip brought a counterrequest from U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold that the Israelis spell out their own intentions.

1. If Israel will allow the U.N. Emergency Force to post troops on its side of the Egyptian-Israeli armistice line.

★ ★ ★

2. Whether Israel recognizes that the General Assembly resolutions passed last weekend call for the Israelis to withdraw their administraive units as well as their troops behind that line. Israel has such units in the Gaza Strip and has proposed continuing her administration of that disputed area even if her troops pull out.

The Israeli delegation announced earlier it had submitted to the secretary general several conditions for withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egypt's Gulf of Aqaba coast and the Gaza Strip.

Israel demanded assurance from Egypt that she would refrain from shooting once Israel pulled out and that the Egyptians would not renew their blockade of Israeli-bound shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Hammarskjold had separate half-hour interviews with Eban and Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi. There was no indication, however, that Egypt would give any assurances or had been asked for any.

Candidate Loses Suit on Type Size on Wayne Ballot

DETROIT (AP) — Joseph Lewandowski has lost his suit to have the Feb. 18 Circuit Court ballots reprinted with all the names of the candidates in the same type as his.

Lewandowski had complained because the type used for his name is smaller than that of the 10 other judicial candidates.

The Wayne County election commission had said the name "Lewandowski" was too long to fit into the inch-long space allotted on the ballot if the regular-sized type is used.

Circuit Judge Robert M. Toms ruled yesterday the ballot met the state election law requirements which prescribe plain type that will reasonably fit the ballot space. Lewandowski had filed suit against the election commission.

Aloysius J. Suchy, assistant corporation counsel, said it would be impossible to reprint and reinstall ballots in voting machines in the 11 days before the primaries.

Judge Toms said in dismissing the suit that the smaller type is "distinctive and may be a blessing in disguise."

U.S. Red Party Debating Policy

Marx - Lenin Theories to Be Well-Examined for Outdated Ideas

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Communist party will consider sweeping changes in policy at its 16th national convention opening here Saturday.

At stake is the bitterly debated issue of whether it will continue to hew to traditiona' Marxism-Leninism, with the Kremlin as the guiding spirit, or take a more independent stand.

About 300 delegates elected on a regional basis are expected to attend. They will represent a membership estimated by the party at 25,000.

Some of the convention program is expected to be "open," but most sessions dealing with issues vital to the party will be closed.

The debate will center around a resolution drafted last September by the party's national committee, calling for re-examination of certain Marxist-Lenin theories on the ground they may have become outdated or obsolete.

A leading advocate of "sweeping changes" is John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper. He and his forces are known to the old-line Reds as "right-wingers."

Eugene Dennis, party secretary, generally is represented as favoring some change, but not to the extent proposed by Gates.

BIG BOOM — The Army's 280mm "atomic cannon" belches fire and smoke as the gun crew huddles nearby during maneuvers on the new rangeland acquired at Fort Sill, Okla., recently. The projectile flew 18 miles and marked first time near-maximum range utilized on the gun at Sill — made possible by acquisition of the new land.

Slate Special Meet for Waterford Board

The Waterford Township School District Board of Education will hold a special meeting tonight to receive bids on three projects.

Bids on the sale of $2,500,000 in bonds voted by district residents in February, 1956 will be on the agenda.

Also to be opened are bids on a new elementary school to be constructed at Elizabeth Lake Road at Lochhaven and Maceday Drive.

Necessity of a new well on this school site will bring bids on this project, too.

Broke Sound Barrier

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — The thundering crash of a jet airplane breaking the sound barrier caused an Atlantic City woman to turn in a fire alarm. She thought her oil burner had exploded.

Venezuela Plans Fair

CARACAS — Preparations for Venezuela's World Trade Fair, to be held in Caracas in 1958, are already being made by Dr. Ibrahim Velutini, who has been named co-ordinator.

No Case for Samaritan

JULESBURG, Colo. (AP) — Good-hearted Louis Hansen may not be so good-hearted in the future. After befriending a young married couple in Denver, Hansen purchased transportation for the newlyweds and rented a hotel room for them in nearby Sterling. He left his luggage in Sterling and continued on to Julesburg. The next day he returned for his luggage. The couple was gone. So was Hansen's baggage.

Keeps Busy 'Saving Face' of Lackadaisical Drivers

NEW ORLEANS (INS) — Drive carefully! The face you save may be your own!

That's right—"Face." It's not a pun.

The warning is made in all seriousness by Dr. Frank H. Mayfield, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who is head of the American College of Surgeons' Crash Injury Prevention Committee. He is devoting a goodly portion of his professional time to literally helping people save face.

"From 50 to 70 per cent of people injured in automobile accidents suffer facial injuries," Dr. Mayfield said.

This, he pointed out, is due to the sudden stop of a car involved in a collision or crash, slamming the occupants against the steering wheel or windshield.

AUTO MAKERS HELP

Dr. Mayfield, in New Orleans to attend an ACS meeting, said automobile manufacturers have done much to eliminate the hazard of facial injury in crashes by incorporating safety belts in their latest models. He said:

"If 60 per cent of those killed in auto accidents had bothered to use seat belts, they would be alive today."

The recessed steering wheel used on most new cars also meets with the doctor's approval. He refers to the old-time steering wheel as "a dagger pointed at the heart of the driver."

The Cincinnati specialist believes most car accidents result from "sheer and simple carelessness." High on his list of offenders is the drunk driver, who, in the doctor's opinion, merely compounds what he called the lackadaisical attitude most people have toward driving.

SPURN ADVICE

"People seem willing to take advice on almost any subject, except when it comes to their driving techniques," he said, adding "this singular lack of response to driver education results in sloppy driving habits which ultimately lead to accidents."

Dr. Mayfield would like to see each driver given a complete physical examination, with special emphasis placed on the motorist's ability to react quickly when faced with an accident situation.

He concedes that many states already require tests to determine a driver's reflex action, but feels these do not go far enough.

FAVORS EXAM

He is also in favor of having potential drivers undergo a psychological examination to fish out any mental quirks that might interfere with driving.

"But I suppose this is too much to ask," he said, conceding: "It would take a great many analysts to make such an examination feasible—far too many than we have on hand. But it's still a good idea."

* * *

Despite all the plans and ideas advanced to cut down the traffic slaughter, Dr. Mayfield believes there is only one way to prevent carnage on our highways.

"Slow down," he urged.

Meeting to Organize Extension Workshops

A preliminary meeting to organize two-day workshops on making bedspreads is planned by the Oakland County Extension Service for 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, at the County Building, 1 Lafayette St.

Jessie Marion, home furnishings specialist, will lecture, and extension members will be enrolled for the workshops.

Sinatra Tour Halt Riles Australians

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Promoter Lee Gordon left by air for Los Angeles today in a rush attempt to persuade singer Frank Sinatra to go through with an Australian tour.

* * *

Gordon told a reporter: "I'm going to get some kind of explanation from him, and if I don't get it, I'll see my lawyer about taking legal action."

Sinatra returned from Honolulu to Los Angeles yesterday and said he had called off a tour of Australia and the Far East because the airline he planned to take did not have enough berths for his eight-member party.

Sydney's two afternoon newspapers said Sinatra referred to "a lousy 15-day tour of Australia."

Michigan 2nd Highest in Duck Stamp Sales

WASHINGTON — Reversing the downward trend of the two previous years, sales of federal duck stamps in fiscal 1956 rose to 2,369,940, an all-time high.

The total was 188,374 higher than for fiscal 1955 and 73,312 above the previous record, set in fiscal 1953. California headed the 1956 list with 180,173 sales; Michigan was next with 169,229.

Home Alarm Warns Resident

City Defense Officials Watch Newly Designed Alert System

Pontiac Civil Defense officials are watching closely the development of a home alarm system which is designed to alert residents in their homes to the danger of enemy attack or natural disaster.

A small plastic covered box, known as the National Emergency Alarm Repeater (NEAR), is a receiver which could be placed in Pontiac homes and triggered by a signal transmitted over power lines.

"We're very glad to see a warning device of this kind," Walter K. Willman, Civil Defense director, said. "We would be interested if and when it is perfected."

Federal Civil Defense Administration officials have emphasized that the alarm is not available as yet. It was developed by the Midwest Research Institute of Kansas City, Mo.

The mechanism, which is proposed to sell for $5, could be plugged into a wall socket. It is designed to light up for the hard-of-hearing.

FCDA officials point out that "NEAR" would help solve the CD problem of how to alert persons where sirens cannot be heard.

Writer Seeks Cut of Television Profits

DETROIT (AP)—A woman writer sought a circuit court injunction yesterday to restrain the Lone Ranger and Sergeant Preston of the Yukon radio and television shows from reusing scripts she wrote without paying her.

Betty Joyce, 36, said she sold 300 scripts to the shows for $125 each and that they were to be used only once, on radio.

She said that four of her scripts have been used recently on television and 11 have been reused on radio.

She asked an accounting of profits from the reruns from Trendle-Campbell-Veurer, Inc., manager of the shows.

Raymond J. Meurer, general counsel for the firm, said "when Miss Joyce sold us the scripts there were no reservations made. We bought them outright. She was happy to sell them."

No date was set for a court hearing.

Urge Proposals to Curb Inflation

Solons Say Congress Unlikely to Act Until Ike Offers Specific Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)— Legislative leaders called on President Eisenhower today to lay down specific proposals if he wants Congress to enact controls against inflation.

Eisenhower's statement that the government may have to move in if business and labor fail to curb price and wage rises found Democrats and Republicans sharply divided over the present need for controls.

Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark) of Senate Banking Committee, who has supported the administration's "tight money" policy, said the country might have to go to more direct controls — particularly on consumer credit — if inflationary pressures grow.

"As a practical matter, though," he said, "Congress is not likely to do anything unless the President makes some specific recommendations."

Chairman Byrd (D-Va) of the Senate Finance Committee said that if Eisenhower is worried about inflation, the President could do something about it himself.

"He could stop this excessive government spending by cutting his own budget just as he cut Truman's budget by nine billion dollars in 1953," Byrd said.

Life Normal in Haiti, Even Without a Chief

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP)— This Caribbean republic still was without a government chief today but life went on much as usual.

Troops scattered a crowd of several thousand demonstrators in front of the Legislature building. Otherwise the capital was nearly normal.

Most stores were open again after a two-day general strike which forced Provisional President Joseph Nemours Pierre-Louis out of the office he took over when an earlier strike toppled Gen. Paul Magloire last December.

However, seven senators making up a parliamentary commission had reached no agreement on the next step to form a government until elections are held this spring.

★ ★ ★

Six of the seven presidential candidates think a revolutionary council should rule until a president is elected. The seventh, Sen. Louis Dejoie, contends the constitution provides for the senior Supreme Court justice to step in as acting president.

Pig Iron Production Up

RIO DE JANEIRO — Brazil's production of pig iron for the first half of 1956 totaled 565,450 tons compared with 526,227 tons in the like period of 1955.

More Red Arms Arrive in Egypt

Carried in Soviet Ships Since UN Cease Fire; May Violate Truce

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia is reported to have resumed arms shipments to Egypt in recent weeks in what appears to be a move to rebuild President Nasser's battered armed forces.

Top American officials who disclosed this today said, however, they could not be sure whether the shipments represent a new purchase or additional deliveries under a 250-million-dollar contract disclosed in September 1955. There have been rumors, but no confirmation, of a second such deal.

The officials said they have evidence of deliveries of medium tanks, artillery, personnel carriers and probably jet fighters.

These weapons are understood to have been unloaded in crates from Communist ships amid great secrecy, mainly at the Egyptian port of Alexandria.

Any new Soviet arms shipments to Egypt would be a violation of a United Nations Assembly cease-fire resolution, adopted Nov. 1, which called on all countries to refrain from introducing new war materials into the Middle East area.

Nasser's acceptance of additional Soviet arms would be almost certain to add to Middle East tension at this time.

American authorities have been unable thus far to determine how much Soviet equipment has been delivered since the fighting ended. They agree that the new shipments thus far are not nearly as big as the original 250-million-dollar order.

Actress Keeps Decree From Becoming Final

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former actress Anne Nagel, 41, who got an interlocutory divorce from Air Force Lt. Col. James H. Keenan, 44, nearly six years ago, has succeeded in preventing him from making the decree final.

Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle opposed Keenan's request for a final decree yesterday after Miss Nagel testified that she and her husband reconciled the same night the divorce was granted, May 22, 1951.

Under California law a reconciliation within one year of the granting of an interlocutory decree invalidates the decree.

The Boston-born actress is scheduled to appear in court today on her request for $400-a-month temporary alimony, pending trial of a suit for separate maintenance she filed against Keenan recently. They were married in 1941.

Water Freight Hits Peak

WASHINGTON — Freight traffic on the nation's inland waterways passed the 100-billion-ton-mile mark in 1956 for the first time. Traffic in 1955 totaled 97,662,567,000 ton-miles.

Almonds Flavor Stuffed Trout

Ask your fish dealer to prepare fish for stuffing, leaving head on cutting it off as desired. Rub the cavity of the fish with salt. Line a pan large enough to hold the fish with heavy aluminum foil. Rub about ¼ cup shortening over the foil. Pre-heat oven to 400 degrees, and while oven is heating, heat pan.

Baked Stuffed Lake Trout

4 pound lake trout
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped blanched almonds
1 cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped onions
1 cup rice
2 cups water
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Melt butter in heavy saucepan. Add almonds and cook, tossing continually, until they start to brown. Add onions and celery. Cook until vegetables are tender but not brown. Remove almonds, onions and celery.

Add rice to butter and cook, stirring frequently, until rice is toasted to a golden color. If necessary, add more butter. Add water and seasonings.

Cover pan and cook gently until water is absorbed, about 15 minutes. Add almonds, onion and celery to cooked rice. Taste; if necessary add more seasonings.

Spoon rice stuffing into cavity firmly but gently, being careful not to stuff it too full. The edges must come together for sewing. Sew the cavity together with large-eyed needle and white thread.

Place fish in hot fat in pre-heated pan. Bake 40 minutes (or 10 minutes per pound of fish), basting frequently with shortening. When fish is cooked, it will flake easily when tested with a fork. Garnish with lemon slices, parsley and stuffed olives (if desired). Cut fish into steaks to serve. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

BAKED STUFFED LAKE TROUT — This recipe is for a large lake trout, but it can be used with smaller fish. Perhaps the fisherman in your family will bring home a fish worthy of being prepared in this manner. Rice and almonds add delicate flavor.

Here's Super Way to Treat Spinach

Spinach Puff

1 package frozen chopped spinach
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk, salt, pepper
3 eggs (separated)

Cook spinach according to package directions; drain thoroughly. Melt butter in 1-quart saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Remove from heat. Gradually add milk, stirring until smooth after each addition.

Return to low heat; cook and stir constantly until thickened and bubbly. Remove from heat; mix in spinach, salt and pepper to taste.

Beat egg yolks a few minutes; gradually stir in a little of the spinach mixture; return to saucepan. Cook and stir over low heat a few minutes.

Beat egg whites until stiff; fold into spinach mixture. Turn into buttered deep heat-resistant glass pie plate (8½ by 1½ inches). Place in a pan of very hot water and bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until knife inserted near center comes out clean — 30 to 35 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Labels Provide Shopping Guide

Modern-age methods of merchandising foods have made the label the shopper's salesman and best guide in market selections.

The descriptive label takes the "guess work" out of shopping, says the Consumer Marketing Information Agent Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. When used to advantage, the label can make shopping easier and thriftier.

Develop the habit of label reading. Let the label serve as a window for the package or can.

The Food and Drug Administration requires that food labels give:

1. The name of the product.
2. The name and address of the producer or distributor.
3. The net contents.
4. A statement of use of artificial flavoring or coloring, of imitations, or of a chemical preservative.
5. Facts concerning foods for special dietary purposes.
6. A list of ingredients, with the food present in the largest quantity coming first on the label.

Jellied Apple Salad Delicious With Pork

Jellied waldorf salad, a delicious accompaniment for a pork meal, may be your own favorite apple and celery salad blended with partially thickened gelatin, or it may be prepared following these directions:

Jellied Waldrof Salad

1 3-ounce package lemon flavored gelatin
¾ cup boiling water
1 cup cold water
1 cup chopped unpared red-skinned apples
1 cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped walnuts

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add cold water and chill until partially thickened. Fold in remaining ingredients, pour into individual salad molds and chill until firm. Serve on crisp lettuce.

Steamed Pudding Is Jam-Packed With Fruit, Nuts

Sweet Steamed Pudding

2½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¾ cup honey
¼ cup sugar
1 cup finely chopped kidney suet (packed down fairly well)
1 egg
1 cup buttermilk
Grated rind of 1 lemon
½ cup seedless raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained)
½ cup diced mixed candied fruit
½ cup broken walnut meats

Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg. Mix honey, sugar and kidney suet well.

Beat in egg thoroughly, then buttermilk and grated lemon rind. Mix in sifted dry ingredients well. Fold in raisins, fruit and nuts.

Turn into 3 well-greased 1-pound size shortening cans, filling each can about two-thirds full. Replace or close can covers. Tie aluminum foil over tops of cans.

Steam on rack in kettle with boiling water coming halfway up cans. Keep water boiling gently and replenish as needed. Cover kettle tighty and steam about 1½ hours to 2 hours or until cake tester inserted in center of pudding comes out clean. Serve with lemon sauce.

Note: Suet may be chopped fine with sharp knife; be sure to remove any fibers.

Good Salad to Serve With Cheese Sandwich

A favorite luncheon sandwich is made from bread and cheddar cheese browned in plenty of butter or margarine in a heavy skillet or on a griddle.

A salad to go with this sandwich is a mixture of apple, celery, Brazil nuts and mayonnaise, plus romaine or water cress. This crunchy mixture is just right with the smooth toasted cheese.

Food Editor Answers Miscellaneous Questions

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We're going to take this opportunity to answer a few inquiries about food and recipes that have come in recently. They seem to pile up once in a while.

Our reader from Wixom, Mrs. Julia E. Adelitzo, wants to have some information about the caloric values of certain foods. Here's your answer, Mrs. A.

One fried veal chop, five-eights of an inch thick, has 225 calories. A breaded veal cutlet, one-fourth inch thick, has 560 calories in it. One pork chop, ¼ inch thick has 350 calories. A slice of roast pork, three-fourths of an inch thick, contains 350 calories.

Mrs. M. E. Dewey of Pontiac has lost her recipe for a fluffy uncooked frosting. We wonder if she is thinking of this recipe.

STRAWBERRY WHIP

1 egg white
1 quart fresh strawberries or 1 box frozen strawberries
½ cup sugar (for fresh berries, use 1 cup)

Put all ingredients into a bowl and beat until thick and fluffy. If you have a mixer, this isn't too difficult. Jam may be used in place of fresh or frozen berries. Try ½ cup, taste, then add more if desired.

An anonymous request has come in for Pineapple Ice Box Cake. One way to make this is to make lemon or orange gelatin, add 2 cups of crushed pineapple and use this as a filling for sponge or angel food cake. Frost the outside with whipped cream and let stand 8-12 hours before serving. But here is a different recipe.

PINEAPPLE REFRIGERATOR CAKE

1 cup butter or margarine
1½ cups powdered sugar
½ cup finely chopped nut meats
1 cup drained shredded pineapple
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
3 dozen vanilla wafers
Heavy cream, whipped

Cream together butter and sugar, add nuts and pineapple and blend thoroughly; fold in egg whites.

Line a cake pan with wafers and cover with part of the fruit-nut mixture. Add a layer of wafers and repeat until all ingredients are used, having a layer of wafers on top.

Chill in refrigerator at least 12 hours. Serve with whipped cream. Serves 6-8.

New Trick for Potatoes

Take boiled potatoes, dice them fine and to 2 cups add 1 cup canned sliced mushrooms and 2 small onions, sliced. Then saute all together in butter. Turn over and over until potatoes are brown and onions tender. Season to taste and serve hot.

40 to 50 Degrees Best for Storing Potatoes

Irish potatoes that have a sweet taste have been stored at too low a temperature of 70 to 80 degrees for one to three weeks.

Now that winter has arrived, potatoes must be properly stored to prevent freezing. A dark place where the temperature is 40 to 50 degrees is best for Irish potatoes. Set the potatoes off the floor on a raised board or shelf.

Sanitize as you WHITEN

Children's clothes should be sanitary, immaculately clean. Use Roman Bleach when you wash. It is the triple-action bleach that sanitizes as it whitens, removes stains. And it's softized so you can use it for nylon and dacron. You'll like Roman Bleach best.

White anklets are easy to keep snowy-white and spotless with Roman Bleach

We're Eating This Week From Yankee Cookbook

Pontiac Press Home Editor

This week I'm cooking out of a new little cookbook; at least it's new to me. Mary Hixon, one of Oakland County's extension agents, sent me a copy of "Foods That Made New England Famous." Not available in any bookstore, this little cookbook was put out some years ago by a New England dairy firm.

Each recipe is prefaced by a short history of its origin. Truly, ancient cookbooks were thoroughly scanned, and recipes, once existing only in the cook's mind, were set down.

I think it's fun to take one particular cookbook and get some new ideas for food out of that one during a week. For instance, when I was home on Tuesday, I made two loaves of raisin bread. I'm sure you'll like it as well as my family and I do.

RAISIN BREAD

1½ cups milk—heated
½ cup butter or lard
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon salt
2 yeast cakes (or 2 packages yeast)
½ cup warm water
4 beaten eggs
1½ cups raisins
6½ to 8 cups sifted flour

Pour hot milk over butter, sugar, salt and raisins. Let cool. Dissolve yeast cakes in warm water. Beat eggs. Combine with yeast and milk mixture (I did this with the electric mixer).

Add 5 cups sifted flour and mix well. Add more flour if dough is too soft. Stir until dough comes away from side of bowl. Let rise until double in bulk. Knead and let rise again. (I had to use a little more flour in order to knead it.)

Put into two medium greased bread pans. Brush tops with butter, sprinkle with sugar. Let rise again. Bake in 375-degree oven 50 minutes.

Plan to have it out of the oven and cooled before the children come home from school. They'll love thick slices of it buttered, accompanied by a glass of milk. At our house the eight-year-old did.

Some morning for breakfast I think we'll have Spider Johnnycakes. This recipe is supposed to be more than 85 years old. Doesn't it sound good?

SPIDER JOHNNYCAKES

2 tablespoons butter
½ cup sifted flour
1½ cups corn meal
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
2 cups sweet milk
1 cup sour milk

Melt butter in iron spider (frying pan) and spread over bottom and sides. Heat oven to 425 degrees.

Mix and sift flour, corn meal, sugar, soda and salt. Beat eggs. Combine with sour milk and 1 cup sweet milk. Add to dry ingredients and stir.

Pour into iron spider with the butter on it, then pour into the center, without stirring, the remaining cup of sweet milk. Bake; this requires about ½ hour. Makes eight pieces cut pie shape.

This sounds like a wonderful dessert. Guess we'll have it sometime this weekend.

EASY CREAM LEMON SHERBET

1 cup milk
1 cup sugar
1 cup cream, whipped
½ cup lemon juice

Stir sugar and milk until dissolved. Add lemon juice. Then add whipped cream and stir thoroughly. Pour into refrigerator trays. Freeze, stirring once during the freezing, just when it has reached the thick and mushy stage.

Personally I dislike parsnips. But I'm perfectly willing to have anyone else eat all he likes. Perhaps this recipe will appeal to parsnip lovers.

Green Mountain Parsnip Stew

2 slices fat salt pork
1 large onion cut fine
4 medium-sized parsnips
4 large potatoes
½ teaspoon salt
Dumplings*
1 cup hot cream

Cut salt pork in small pieces. Fry until lightly browned. Add onion and cook until golden brown. Peel and cut in pieces potatoes and parsnips. Combine with pork and onions. Add boiling water to cover. Add salt.

Cook until vegetables are beginning to be tender, about 20 minutes. Add dumplings to top of stew. Cover and cook until light and tender, about 15 minutes. Remove dumplings to hot platter. Add hot cream to stew and pour over dumplings.

Use Nutritious Liquid From Canned Foods

Stop! Save the liquid in canned foods. Since the liquid is full of nutritive value, drain it into a saucepan — not into the sink.

Boil the liquid until about one-third of the original amount is left in the saucepan, then add the vegetables. Heat quickly, season to the family's taste, and serve.

Canned foods are already cooked. When they are hot, they are ready to serve.

If you prefer use the vegetable liquid in sauces or soups, or to dilute canned soups.

ITALIAN HAM SCALLOP — Ham, cabbage and spaghetti blend flavors in Italian Ham Scallop. Serve it with a salad and hard rolls.

Casserole Extraordinary: Scalloped Ham Italienne

If you've never tried using cabbage in a baked casserole dish, Italian Ham Scallop will give you an opportunity to do just that.

In this dish, cabbage goes together with leftover ham, cream of mushroom soup, elbow spaghetti and a touch of horseradish. The resulting flavor combination is worthy of an entree that took hours to prepare.

Yet, Italian Ham Scallop falls into the category of quick-and-easy main dishes. Rather than making a complicated sauce just use a canned soup. Combine ingredients, and slide the baking dish into the oven while you prepare the rest of your meal.

The speedy, simple method for making Italian Ham Scallop is typical of most macaroni main dishes. You'll like their convenience. There's never any pre-preparation required for macaroni, noodles and spaghetti. Just take them out of the package and pop them into boiling water.

To make sure you buy the best quality macaroni products, look for the label "made from durum semolina" or "made from durum wheat" on the package. This assures you good cooking quality and superior flavor.

Italian Ham Scallop

4 ounces elbow spaghetti
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped onions
½ pound cubed cooked ham
2 cups chopped cabbage
¾ cup water
2¼ teaspoons salt
1¼ cups condensed cream of mushroom soup (10½-ounce can)
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
Buttered bread crumbs

Add 2 teaspoons salt and spaghetti to 3 cups boiling water. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly, for 2 minutes. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine in heavy skillet. Add onion and ham and brown lightly. Add cabbage and toss lightly with ham-onion mixture. Add water and salt. Cover and simmer gently 5 minutes. Stir in mushroom soup and horseradish and mix well.

Rinse spaghetti with warm water and drain well. Fold spaghetti into ham mixture. Pour into 1½-quart casserole. Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and bake in moderate minutes. Makes four servings.

Glamorize Toast

Here's a quick and easy way to glamorize toast. Sara E. Walls, director of home economics for a freezer company, suggests cutting the crusts from not too dry, thinly sliced bread, brushing the trimmed bread with melted butter and toasting it in the waffle iron. Then store in your home food freezer until needed.

Not 'for the Birds'

Don't feed the birds on all the leftover cake crumbs. Instead, freeze them in your home food freezer. When you want a crunchy topping for an open-faced fruit pie or a quick coffee cake, mix the cake crumbs with brown sugar and cinnamon . . . It's a tasty, time-saving topping.

Fruits Turn Cocktail Into Medley of Color

Fruit Cocktail becomes a medley of color when golden orange chunks, red skinned apple slices and green grapes are combined. Serve thoroughly chilled and drizzled with a lemon and honey dressing.

Rainbow Fruit Cocktail

4 California oranges
2 medium-sized red apples, unpeeled
1 cup seedless grapes
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
3 tablespoons honey
¼ teaspoon salt

Chill fruits thoroughly. Peel California oranges, slice into cartwheels and cut into chunks. Core apples, quarter and slice very thin. Arrange fruits in chilled sherbet glasses. Blend lemon juice, honey and salt, and drizzle a spoonful over each portion. Makes 6 servings.

Serve Carrot Nibbles

Wash and scrape carrots. Cut into thin strips. Chill in a bowl of water until crisp. Surround a bowl of your favorite cheese dunk with the straws and serve as "nibbles."

Try adding slices of pimiento-stuffed olives to your toasted cheese sandwich — interesting blend of flavors.

Paper Cartons Gain in Variety of Uses

Paper cartons are cropping up all over the place in supermarkets and grocery stores.

Once used solely for milk and other liquid dairy products, the cartons have become so popular with American housewives they are now taking to market all sorts of other items, from pancakes to apple cider, and are appearing on shelves far distant from the dairy section.

An official of the American Can Company said that an informal survey among housewives indicates the cartons have gained widespread popularity because they are easy to store, easy to use and are disposable, requiring no returns. As one instance of their growing popularity, he said four times as many paper cartons were made for citrus juices last year as previously.

Included in the products that now go to market in paper containers are a pancake batter which is griddle-ready, apple cider and apple juice, lemonade, tomato juice, orange juice, grapefruit juice and, of course, milk, cream, and a products.

Keep tuna, salmon, sardines, crabmeat and lobster on hand? Store them on a pantry-shelf that is cool and dark.

Now we can say WE TOLD YOU SO. Trading Stamps were criticized today as gimmicks which victimize not only the small business man . . . but also the customers of all businesses, big and small.

The principal, if not the only beneficiaries of the trading stamps practice, are the Trading Stamp Companies who profit not only from the sale of stamps but also from the huge percentage of unredeemed stamps . . . so declared Governor Williams Study Commission on Small Business.

Frank Lausche, elected five times Governor of the State of Ohio, and now a member of the United States Senate, and one of our most outstanding statesmen, said in a recent radio address that small business is the backbone of democracy. PROOF?—How many small Businesses are there in Communist Russia? ANSWER: NONE. The Trading Stamp "CRAZE" is a real threat to our National Security and dangerous to our National Economy. STOP! THINK! and SAVE DOLLARS instead of Stamps.

Ways to Add Dash to Commonplace Dish

To have on hand tidbits that add dash to a dish, try freezer storing such taste tempters as salted peanuts, cheese, and cocoanut.

A few salted peanuts gives cold applesauce an unexpected crunch and flavor; grated Swiss or cheddar cheese rolled lightly into baking powder biscuit dough is a delightful change from the usual biscuits, and cocoanut makes a wonderfully new dish of an ordinary curry.

It's easy to remove the seeds and white membrane inside a green pepper if you cut the pepper into quarters first.

Bake Pancakes, Serve Oven-Hot!

Did you ever eat a baked pancake? Among the many variations of this favorite food, the baked pancake is most easy to serve and you can keep second and third servings coming hot from the oven with little or no watching. The sausage topping for these pancakes makes an important contribution to the success.

Of course, the secret is to use brown 'n serve sausage that has been precooked so the sausage will be hot and unquestionably fully cooked when the pancakes are baked. Then, too, there will be no fat drippings to flood the batter and spoil the cake.

Oven-baked Pancakes with Sausage

2 packages (1-lb.) brown 'n serve sausage
2 eggs
1¼ cups milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1¾ cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1½ tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt

Beat the eggs until light and fluffy. Add milk and shortening. Beat. Sift together the flour, baking powder, sugar, and salt. Add these dry ingredients slowly to the liquid. Beat until batter is smooth.

Pour into a jelly roll pan rubbed with shortening. Arrange sausage links on the batter. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Cut into 10 servings. Serve hot with butter and sirup or Apricot Sauce.

Apricot Sauce

2 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
3 cups apricot nectar
3 tablespoons lemon juice

Combine sugar and cornstarch in a saucepan. Add nectar and lemon juice. Cook over low heat about 5 minutes or until sauce is thickened. Serve hot over baked pancakes with sausage.

OVEN-BAKED PANCAKES—Imagine baking pancakes in the oven! It's unbelievably simple to do. Furthermore, the pancakes stay hot for second and third servings. Top them with brown 'n' serve sausages before baking. Try these the next time you entertain at breakfast.

Stores Featuring Meat and Chicken; Eggs and Citrus Fruit Good Buys

Winter meals can never be the chore they once were. From the farm to the table, new ways to bring better food to our homes are discovered each year. Meals can be simple or elegant, easy or time consuming. It's up to the shopper, for variety is the magic word in the food stores. Today there are more decisions to make, but family food can be more fun because of them.

MEATS—If onne has to work within a food budget, the meat department is a good place to stop and compare. About 30 per cent of the food dollar is spent here. The cost of meat cuts is just one thing to consider. How many people can be served? Does the family like it? Will it make more than one meal?

This week, shoppers with thrift in mind may select beef chuck roasts, pork loin roasts, fryers and even roasters. Because ground beef fits into so many dishes for all ages, it remains a favorite and one of the most economical meat buys' reports Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent.

A large chuck roast can save time and energy, along with pennies, by making three meals. Ask the butcher to show how it can be cut to make a rolled boneless roast, a thick swiss steak, and meat for a hearty beef and vegetable stew.

In some stores roasting chicken is 10 to 20 cents a pound less than usual. This might add variety to next week's meals. Fryers continue to be a real value when cost is compared to other meats. Leaving the tight store wrap on chicken sometimes causes poor flavor, so remove it. Then wrap the chicken loosely in waxed paper before storing in the meat compartment of the refrigerator.

EGGS — Count on eggs! Chickens are laying more eggs per hen than ever before.

From now until March, the supply of large size eggs will be plentiful. Their low cost and excellent health value encourage all to go beyond the "one egg a day" rule.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—The yellow and greens in the produce department are guides to foods that rate high in minerals and vitamins. Add to the day's wholesome meals by including at least two choices from this food group.

Cabbage is a made-to-order vegetable at prices averaging about 10 cents a pound. These, too, could be placed on the econo-list: new carrots, potatoes, and rutabagas.

Slightly lower price tags on some vine-ripened tomatoes and lettuce is good news for shoppers. Quality is generally good.

Grapefruit are in front of other fruits when considering the cost per pound. Most are about 10 cents each or ten cents a pound. The Duncan variety with seeds is superior in flavor. However, the pink and white Marsh seedless varieties get many votes. Notice that the Marsh seedless are usually slightly smaller and may be rather flat on each end. A heavy grapefruit is always a juicy fruit.

Apples, bananas, and oranges are other reasonably priced fruits. Navel oranges that peel so easily vary about 10 cents a dozen depending upon size. The jumbo 75 to 88 size is more than the medium 100 - 110 size.

Mother Hubbard's cupboard would never have been bare if she had taken advantage of seasonal sales of canned fruits and vegetables. Last year's bumper crop of corn is only one vegetable now offered at just pennies per serving. Other vegetables, fruit juices and fruits are among the wise selections.

Savory Pot Roast

4 lb. arm or blade roast
2 onions, sliced
1 clove garlic, sliced
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
Salt and pepper
½ cup raisins
2 bay leaves
1 cup boiling water

Brown onions and garlic in lard or drippings. Brown meat on all sides. Season. Add raisins, bay leaves and water. Cover tightly and simmer 3 hours or until tender. Add liquid if necessary. Remove meat, strain and measure liquid. For each cup add 2 tablespoons flour. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Serve gravy with meat.

Here's a Bonnie Puddin' and Mighty Thrifty, Too

Rich butterscotch laced with tart applesauce and smoothed with creamy evaporated milk—aye, and it's a bonnie puddin' to tickle the taste of the dourest amongst us.

Applescotch pudding is mixed in a minute, is thirifty enough for the slimmest purse, and boasts a wonderful new flavor combination.

Pick it right off the pantry shelf for dessert in a hurry—takes a package of butterscotch instant pudding mix, a tall can of evaporated milk and a half cup of canned applesauce. Give it all a vigorous shake in a quart jar or shaker and pour into serving dishes.

Double-rich evaporated milk underscores the mellow butterscotch flavor and gives the instant pudding a delightfully, firm, creamy texture. It's high in nutrition, too, with just double the bounce to the ounce that you would get from the same amount of whole milk.

Cinnamon-apple and apple-banana are two other favorite pudding combinations which appeal especially to children. Make them for snacks and desserts—or let the children shake them up themselves after school.

Applescotch Pudding

1 tall can (1⅔ cups) evaporated milk
½ cup canned applesauce
1 package butterscotch instant pudding mix

Combine evaporated milk, applesauce and pudding mix in a quart jar or container. Cover and shake briskly for 1 minute, or until well mixed. Pour into serving dishes and chill. Garnish with thin peeled apple slices and red cinnamon candies. Yield: 4 servings.

Broil Fillets, Lobster

Brush thawed fish fillets or lobster tails very lightly with butter. Sprinkle with lemon juice, salt and paprika and broil to a golden brown. Garnish with a twist of lemon. For non-dieters, serve with brown butter or tartar sauce.

Apricot preserves mixed with lemon rind and lemon juice, dry mustard and soy sauce make a delicious sauce to serve with roast duck.

Heart Shaped Scones Play Cupid

Say "Be my Valentine" in a sweet and sentimental way with these homemade Valentine Jelly Scones—a not-too-sweet type of dessert bread that will win over any lady's heart. They're made in heart shapes with a center of tart jelly, serve them with lots of hot, strong coffee.

Valentine Jelly Scones

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
½ cup whole bran cereal
1-3 cup shortening
2 eggs
1-3 cup light cream or top milk tart jelly

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and 2 tablespoons of the sugar; stir in bran. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Beat eggs with cream. Add to bran mixture, stirring only until combined.

Turn out on lightly floured board; knead gently a few times. Roll out to about ¼-inch in thickness. Cut with heart-shaped cutter. Cut centers from half the heart shapes, using small heart-shaped or round cutter. Sprinkle with remaining sugar. Top plain hearts with heart outlines, pressing lightly together.

Place on ungreased baking sheets along with small cut-out hearts. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees) about 10 minutes. Just before serving, fill centers with jelly. Yield: 9 jelly scones, 9 small heart-shaped scones.

If you would prefer to have a scone that is made with white flour, the following one is excellent. When you serve these scones, include butter or margarine and a side dish of honey in your table setting.

Mrs. Sherman's Scones

2 1-3 cups sifted cake flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons granulated sugar
6 tablespoons shortening
5 tablespoons milk
2 eggs
2 tablespoons granulated sugar

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in shortening with 2 knives or pastry blender until consistency of coarse corn meal. Add milk. Separate 1 egg; reserve 1 tablespoon egg white. Beat eggs; blend into flour to make a dough.

Roll ½ inch thick. Cut into 3-inch squares; then cut each square into 2 triangles. Place on greased cookie sheet. Brush with slightly beaten egg white and sprinkle with 2 tablespoons sugar. Bake in 450 degree oven 10-15 minutes or until done. Makes 10 scones.

VALENTINE JELLY SCONES — You must celebrate Valentine's Day with some kind of special food. Scones, a dessert-type of bread, seem a good choice; especially when you fill them with crimson jelly. These scones would be good at any meal or for afternoon coffee or tea.

The SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

SKILLET DINNER, a fitting suggestion by Edward W. Paro, of Evanston, Ill. He says he uses a meat tenderizer on the steak for an hour before cooking. This serves 4 to 6.

1½ pounds round steak, cut 1-inch thick
Seasoned flour
3 tablespoons bacon fat
2 medium-sized onions, sliced
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 can tomato juice
1 tablespoon grated Parmesian cheese
1 green pepper, cut in thin rings
4 medium-sized yams, peeled and sliced ¾-inch thick
Salt and pepper to taste

Dredge meat in flour seasoned with salt and pepper. Melt fat over low heat, add onion slices and cook until golden brown, and remove onions. Brown the meat well on both sides. Add tomatoes, tomato juice, cheese, green pepper rings, and the onions. Cover and simmer about 1 hour, until meat is tender.

Add yam slices, cover and continue cooking until yams are tender (about 15 minutes). Season to taste with salt and pepper.

From Menlo Park, Calif., Mrs. Irby J. Richard sends us SOUTHERN SPOON BREAD. For this you need a buttered casserole and the following ingredients:

1 cup yellow corn meal
2 cups hot water
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon bacon drippings
1 cup milk
3 eggs

Cook corn meal and water in a heavy saucepan until mixture thickens. Add salt and bacon drippings and remove from heat. Add milk and beat in the eggs, one at a time. Pour into the casserole and bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Serve immediately, piping hot.

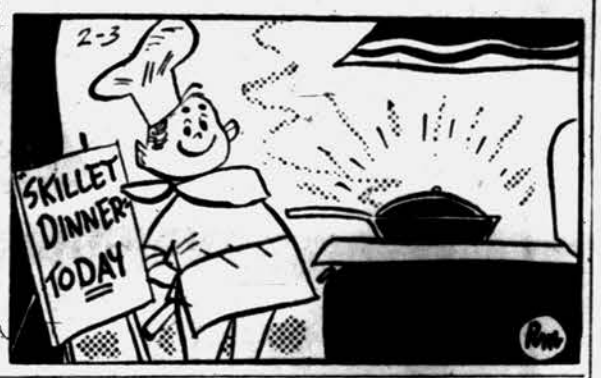

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Blanche Martin, New Orleans Times-Picayune Chapter, sends us "A GRAND DESSERT". "You name it," she says, but we think this is a fitting title.

½ pound vanilla wafers
1½ cups confectioners' sugar
¾ pound butter
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 eggs
½ pint whipping cream
1 can (8 ounces) crushed pineapple
1 tablespoon white wine or light rum (optional)
1 cup chopped pecans

Roll vanilla wafers fine. Cream sugar and butter thoroughly. Add lemon juice to eggs and beat eggs slightly, then beat well into the creamed sugar and butter. Put half the quantity of rolled wafers in an oblong glass dish, about 6½x8½x2 inches, then pour the egg mixture over.

Whip the cream, drain the pineapple and mix with it. The wine or rum may be added if you like. Pour this mixture over the butter mixture, top with remaining crushed wafers, and sprinkle nut meats over the top. Chill at least overnight in the refrigerator.

Pontiac Press Photos by Jim Maher

All students in the junior high schools and Pontiac High School were invited to the student concert presented by the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra at the high school Wednesday. The students above show mixed feelings about symphony music, some eager, others wondering. The concert was a dream realized for Pontiac music lovers, who had been working toward such an event for years.

Symphony Plays at PHS

Concert Thrills Students

By DORA DAWSON

A major event in the musical life of Pontiac took place Wednesday afternoon, when the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra put on its first concert in the Pontiac High School auditorium, especially arranged for all pupils in senior and junior high schools of the city.

The full personnel of the orchestra and a full complement of students were there, packing the auditorium, which stimulated an atmosphere of adventure that was successful beyond expectation.

Celia Merrill Turner, associate conductor of the orchestra, acted as narrator and introduced each section or family of instruments, which in turn played a snatch of melody to introduce its tone quality, leading finally to the introduction of Francesco DiBlasi, musical director and conductor, and the Overture by Glinka, from his opera "Russian and Ludmilla."

Mrs. Turner gave a short verbal preface to each number, adding interest to, and knowledge of, the thought of the composer.

Schubert's immortal "Unfinished Symphony," allegro moderato, came next, its beautiful melodies holding one at rapt attention. In fact, the entire program, a cross-section of great music of more than a century, was a compliment to the students and a challenge to the orchestra, which gave its best effort throughout and won enthusiastic praise.

BEAUTIFULLY PLAYED

"The Swan of Tuonela" by Sibelius, with solo on the English horn by Lare Wardrop of Detroit, was beautifully played, its characteristic minor quality and smooth singing tones aiding the imagination in picturing the gliding of a swan on quiet waters. Mr. Wardrop has long been recognized as a gifted artist on the English horn.

Popular excerpts from the opera "Carmen" were played.

A brand new composition, the "Torgot Dance" by Riisager, actually sounding like the racing, whinnying and stamping of wild horses on the Asiatic steppes, based on a Mongolian horse song, is modern in the extreme and yet the writer has caught a spirit that is fascinating in tone color and rhythms.

As an encore, the introduction to the opera "Lohengrin" by Wagner was an extra number that filled out an hour of great entertainment.

Due to the fine cooperation of the city bus service, the students were picked up at their schools and returned there. One could not have asked for a more orderly audience, quiet and appreciative.

The instrumental and vocal departments were there, those who are instrumental players possibly thinking that they may be a part of the Pontiac Symphony some day, just as the symphony members now were once students.

This concert was the fulfillment of a dream that the orchestra association has had since its inception, four years ago. The effort and sacrifice to put it on for the students, they feel was a very worthwhile accomplishment.

Contested, Curious Women Chattering About Children

Congresswoman Recalls Visit to Saudi Harem

WASHINGTON (INS) — Unless Saudi Aarbia has changed, the girls in King Saud's harem are a contented, curious group who spend much of their time chattering about their collection of children.

This conclusion comes from intelligence supplied by Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R-Ohio), the only member of Congress who ever saw the inside of an Arabian harem.

Mrs. Bolton told an interviewer that her memories of the occasion are vivid—even though her visit took place 12 years ago when Saud was still a prince and the harem belonged to his father, King Ibn Saud.

The congresswoman said she ate with Ibn Saud's four wives while other members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, with whom she had journeyed to the desert capital of Riyadh, were at a stag dinner with the King.

★ ★ ★

"We talked mainly about our children," Mrs. Bolton reported, "since that was the thing we had in common."

LAVISH DECOR

The harem, she said, was lavishly decorated with brocaded curtains and furnished with a combination of plush Arabian rugs and antique Chippendale chairs and tables.

"It was perfectly beautiful," she said, "but it can't compare, I suppose, with what Hollywood has to offer when they present their conception of what a harem is supposed to be."

Mrs. Bolton conceded, however that the harem at Riyadh—and any others Saud may have—is probably more luxurious now than it was when she was there in 1945. She explained: "They've put in air-conditioning since then, and believe me, they need it."

The Ohio lawmaker said that Ibn Saud's four wives—the maximum allowed under Islamic law—were "young, with beautiful brown eyes and wearing the most beautiful brocaded robes." She indicated their age would preclude any of them having been the 55-year-old current King's mother.

There were numerous other women around, she said, some of whom were "maid servants and others probably were what you might call the odd ones." Mrs. Bolton referred apparently to the King's concubines, which in Saud's case total anywhere from 80 to 100—with figures varying.

VERY CURIOUS

The women were at ease during her visit, and "extremely curious" about how women lived in the U.S., she said. They were particularly intrigued at how a woman could be elected to Congress, although it took some time to explain what Congress was.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bolton said that there were no men in the vicinity of the harem, except for "a number of sons, who came in and out of the harem at will" and were hardly noticed.

However, she added: "When the little major domo who was showing me around came in to lead me back to where the men were, on the roof of the palace, the women all hurriedly covered their faces with veils."

Food Cools While Guest Is Absent

Should the Hostess Refill Plate When She Returns?

By EMILY POST

A hostess writes me as follws: "The other evening I invited several friends to dinner. During the course of the meal, one of the guests received a telephone call. She did not return to the table for almost 10 minutes.

"By that time the food on her plate had become cold. Should I have offered her hot food? I did not do so, but my husband thinks I was very discourteous not to have done so. I would very much like to have your opinion on this matter."

Answer: If you could easily have sent her plate to the kitchen where it would have been kept warm, that would have been the polite thing for you to do. Nothing further was required.

After all, it was your guest who ~~was inexcusably rude~~—unless the telephone call she asked to have made to your house was of vital importance.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine told me that you said it was not proper to send out engagement announcements. We're not having a party to announce the engagement and I had intended to send engraved announcements to our many friends and relatives—many of them living out of town. This information rather puts a crimp in our plans. Is this true, or has my friend misinterpreted your advice?"

Answer: It is true. Correctly, the engagement is announced in the newspapers, and by letters to intimate friends who quickly spread the news.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When calling a business office and the telephone operator asks, 'Who is calling?' what is the proper replay to make? Would it be correct to answer, 'Mr. John Brown calling,' or should the title be omitted?"

★ ★ ★

Answer: It is quite proper to announce himself as Mr. John Brown to an unrecognized voice. To a social acquaintance and, of course, to a friend, he would omit the title.

Cover Book in Foil

Credit California teenagers with the idea of covering schoolbooks in household foil. Heavier grades, like the new quilted foil, are surprisingly durable and flexible. Foil bookcovers also may be cleaned with a damp cloth and are impervious to rain or snow. Print names or subjects on foil with nail polish.

Don't Try to Cultivate Alien Skills

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Nobody has everything. But too often, in our efforts to be so-called "well-rounded personalities," we try to develop talents which are alien to us.

This is especially true, it seems to me of artistic people.

Truly artistic people — gifted workers in the arts and crafts — are not good at selling their merchandise or at pricing it or keeping the records.

It isn't that they're above such things or too arty to be bothered. It's just that the truly artistic talent rarely goes hand-in-hand with the other abilities.

Such people often fail in business or in a home project because they are not good managers and lack the ability to organize a schedule.

And that's when they need somebody else to supplement their own inadequacies.

SUCCESSFUL PROJECT

I know a couple for example, who run a very successful roadside stand. Neither of them is artistic, but both are awfully good business people.

★ ★ ★

She handles bookkeeping and purchasing, he does the selling, displays, signs and advertising. Their merchandise is supplied by a small group of really artistic people in the vicinity.

The preserves are made by a woman who is an artistic genius in the kitchen, but who had failed twice trying to sell her homemade preserves.

The handmade ceramics are supplied by a couple who are also artistic, but who are too busy making lovely ashtrays and vases to be able to handle pricing and sales. They are very grateful to have such matters handled for the..

Little by little, the proprietors of the roadside stand will take on additional products of artistic merit and saleability. That is their talent — knowing what will sell at what price and how to sell it.

CULTIVATE TALENTS

It pays to cultivate the abilities you have and not to bemoan the lack of those you haven't.

★ ★ ★

If you're a good business type or a good salesman, be grateful for that and don't yearn to be an artistic or a poet. If you're very artistic, don't bemoan your lack of business acumen.

People of differing abilities can cooperate and make any venture a success for all concerned.

If you're interested in roadside stands, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my pamphlet on the subject.

Sick Child Loves Garden

AP NEWSFEATURE

As every mother knows, it's hard to keep a child entertained while he's convalescing from chicken pox or measles and has to stay in bed.

One solution is a bedside garden. Almost every child loves to stick seeds in the earth and then watch with wonder as the tiny green sprouts come up and grow into living plants.

You can make a garden for your sick-abed youngster simply and inexpensively. All you need are a few packets of flower or vegetable seeds, some containers and a small bag of potting soil or vermiculite. The latter is an inexpensive, clean, light substance in which seeds sprout easily.

You can use empty coffee cans for flower pots. Punch holes in the bottom, put a layer of pebbles in first for drainage, then fill with the potting soil or vermiculite. The cans may be painted a gay color or merely covered with foil or colored paper.

Set each can in a saucer, dampen the soil and let your gardener sow the seeds. Use only one kind of seeds in each container, and label them. Tamp down the seeds, and cover with a little more soil — then wait for results.

Seeds do not need light — only moisture and warmth — to sprout. Cover the containers with a paper and place in a warm spot — a table by the bedside is a good place.

Uncover them every day, and add water as needed. In four or five days the first sprouts should appear. From then on, the pots should be placed in the sun. Add a little plant food, keep them watered and watch the seedlings grow.

New Glasses Cases Feature Pocket Clip

Fashion can be utilitarian, too, as is proved by the latest billfolds which are shaped to eliminate pocket bulge, regardless of how much is packed in them.

For the businessman who is always misplacing his glasses, there are cases with a special pocket clip and an insert on which he prints his name and adress. Carefully designed glasses cases may also be had which carry two pairs, in leather to match her billfold.

Cleaning Kills Moths

Did you store any clothing in a cedar chest or cedar closet before you sent it to the dry cleaner? If so, beware. Moth larve continue to develop unless killed by cleaning. Keep your cedar closet cool, too. Moths like warm places.

Curvy Look Will Bow In From Paris

French Designers to Stress Figures in Spring Styles

By NORA W. MARTIN

PARIS (INS) — Dior, Fath, Lanvin, Maggy Rouff and other top Paris fashion designers are making ready for the birth of the "curvy look."

* * *

It will be smart for women to "wear" a rounded bust, rounded hips and even rounded shoulders this spring.

Bosoms, curved according to French, Italian or American possibilities, will be a sign of international elegance. Feminine hips also will be "a la mode" and outlined in swinging bell skirts, tucked width or hooped roundness. Cape styles to underline arched shoulders will hold over from winter into spring and summer.

With all the fashion hullabaloo aimed at the shapely "body beautiful," women's legs will have to stand back in importance. Skirt hems will drop from 16 inches off the ground in summer 1956 to a mere 12 or 13 inches for spring 1957.

* * *

YOUNG STYLIST

The youngest "hand" in Paris busy on women's clothes these days, is a 14-year-old boy, Jean Candillon, who works as a apprentice in Pierre Cardin's fashion house.

* * *

He started out designing styles for dolls and later dresses for his sisters. Today, this promising talented youth expertly handles silk and chiffon to be worn by fashionable women.

Dior whose controversial styles have started revolutions and commotions during the last 10 years, will have an "anniversary showing." It is exactly a decade since this now undisputed fashion czar waved his scepter for the first time in Paris.

Since his first "new look" in February 1947, this most illustrious of the Paris fashion creators has dictated styles from "short" to "flat" and from "A" to "F" to women all over the world.

* * *

Genevieve Fath, widow of the late Jacques Fath, has announced a new formula in haute couture fashions. She has decided to drop her prices by simplifying work procedures and eliminating costly embroideries and trimmings. Her new spring clothes will cost between $150 to $300 for one outfit.

WORK FEVERISHLY

The plushy fashion houses are humming with excited last-minute preparations. Scissors click, sewing machines rattle and bewildered mannequins switch from suits into ball gowns and from cocktail dresses into bathing suits.

* * *

The designers themselves work feverishly but in silence. Their mouths are filled with pins.

Kimonos Regain Favor

NEW YORK (INS) — Kimonos, which were hot stuff for women about 25 years ago, are getting popular again—but this time as a men's style.

Real Japanese silk kimonos are the new fashionable lounging wear for men, and they're as fancy as can be.

At prices that run from $30 up, you can buy genuine imported kimonos in sedate solid tones of black, gray, beige or brown lined with contrast prints, or kimonos made in eye-catching patterns of gold and black scattered on gray and natural silk.

Size is no problem in a kimono. They're all one size, all one length (56 inches). According to Hideo Fujisawa of Yokohama, a Japanese silk expert, a kimono fits everybody because it's designed loosely to provide ease of movement.

Fujisawa says the only concession made to American tastes in the imported kimonos is the use of belt loops to hold the sash.

You can even buy a "complete" kimono as Japanese men wear them—with a special undercoat called a haori that's quilted for warmth.

The silk expert says kimonos, even when patterned, are handwashable. He adds one tip: you can tell the quality of a kimono by checking seams—the best ones are sewn by hand.

Sewing Shears With Bent Handle Add Cutting Ease

AMES, Ia. (INS)—It's easier to sew at home if you have the right kind of shears.

Here are some tips compiled by clothing specialists: Get bent-handle shears. The bent handle enables you to cut out the garment while the fabric is lying flat on the table or cutting board.

The blades should be from seven to nine inches long and should cut cleanly the full length of the blade. The blades should be screwed together—not riveted. That is so they can be adjusted if they become too tight or loose.

A good pair of shears, made from high quality steel, cost from four to six dollars, say clothing experts.

Exercises Will Benefit Everyone

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Already my mail is beginning to indicate that many of you on the Marathon are showing marked improvement in your health, beauty and attitudes toward life. This gives me such a thrill! All I can say is keep up the good work.

Today I would like to offer a few exercises which will benefit all women whether on the Marathon or not. These exercises will be beneficial for the whole family, too.

I would never say that doing one exercise is just as good as another when you wish to reduce your hipline or your abdoman or waist, because I know it "ain't so." However, there are some exercises which are universally important for men, women and children because they counteract the natural tendency we have to give in to gravity and poor posture.

For instance, strong abdominal muscles are important to all of us, both from the standpoint of health and good looks. Also, the tendency is to slump through the shoulders, especially at teenage and at middle age.

* * *

So today I would like to give you an exercise for the abdomen and one for the shoulders. And remember, it is more fun to do exercises with others than to do them alone.

BEND KNEES

To strengthen the abdominal muscles: Lie on the floor on your back. Your arms rest on the floor overhead. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Grasp the knees with the hands, and pull back. SLOWLY, return arms to overhead positions as you stretch your legs toward the ceiling and lower them to the floor. Continue. This should be done slowly and with control.

* * *

For the shoulders: Stand tall with your arms at your sides. Raise your arms forward, shoulder height and shoulder width apart, palms facing. Briskly, swing your arms backward and turn the palms toward the back of the room.

In a relaxed manner bring your arms forward again to the shoulder height, shoulder-width-apart position. Continue. The return to the starting position should be relaxed but the swing back should be vigorous.

It still is not too late to join the Marathon. If you would like to lose 20 pounds in eight weeks or diminish any defects you may have, send 10 cents and a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

* * *

Tomorrow: "This '32 - 23 - 38' Needs Exercise to Trim Hips."

Individuality Keynotes Spring Suits

'57 Fashions Offer Variety of Material, Style and Color

NEW YORK (NEA) — This is the spring of the beautiful suit, beautiful any way you want it.

Have it fitted, semi-fitted, with short or long jacket. Have the skirt straight and slim or pleated. Pick your fabric from wool jersey or tweed or worsted or silk, but make it lightweight.

Rarely have there been so many pretty suits with a lady-like look. Colors are gentle (violet, gray or rosy) or clear (mixtures of black and white) and there are many touches of white at the lapels.

The tailleur is absent this spring and in its place is great individuality. This, of course, is fashion at its very best. For what is one woman's pet suit is another woman's pet peeve.

The wide choice this year means that we needn't all go about looking as if we'd just been outfitted for boarding school. There's something for everybody in design, color and fabric. Take your pick.

The T-strap shoe is back for spring in colors both pale and vivid and in shiny black patent leather as well. Pick your color but plan to include at least one T-strap in your wardrobe.

Return From Funeral at Crystal Falls

Mrs. Harriet Sandstrom and Mrs. Mary Jackson of Michigan avenue returned to their home Tuesday from Crystal Falls, where they attended the funeral of their sister and daughter, Mrs. Charles LaPlante.

Accompanying them were Mrs. Thomas James, Mrs. Leonard Wojtacka of Oak Park and Mrs. Clarence Ingersoll of Clarkston.

Like Certain Color? Does It Like You?

Learning that you really cannot ever wear a certain color or a certain fashion (suits, for instance) is a large part of knowing how to be well dressed.

If a certain shade of blue is not for you, give it up even though you dote on it. There are so many other colors that are for you!

PATRICIA ANN COOK

Mrs. Charles Kent of Summit avenue announces the engagement of her daughter, Patricia Ann Cook, to Richard Pinner, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Pinner of East Longfellow avenue. A May wedding is planned.

If tension has played hob with your sleep, it's time for some peace and quiet and a few luxurous, relaxing baths. Soak the tension away and catch up on your sleep.

Girl Scouts Train Leaders for Day Camping Programs

Snow is disregarded when Mrs. Albert Latendresse and her day camp committee, Mrs. John Yezbick, Mrs. William Weidaman, Mrs. Herbert Huber and Mrs. Keith Crissman, discuss plans for the 12 Girl Scout day camps which will be run this summer as a part of the extensive camping program offered by the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council.

Day camp directors, all volunteers in Girl Scouting, are taking study sessions at the Waterford CAI Building. The course, which began Tuesday, is conducted by Mrs. Evelyn Copeland, executive director of the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council, and Elaine Smith, district director and coordinator of the day camp program.

The courses, which will be held Feb. 8, 13 and 15, will include instruction in organizing day camps, administration of day camps, budgeting, purchasing, working with staff, securing personnel, training personnel and the selection of campsites and the developing of programs which make the best use of the sites selected and of the skills of the camp's councilors.

Representing the Pontiac Distrtict at the sessions are Mrs. Carlyle Bragen and Mrs. Harvey Pike from the Auburn Heights camp. At the completion of day camp director training, each director will train her own camp staff. Two sessions of that training will be held on the campsite just prior to the opening of the camp.

Day camping is the day-by-day out-of-doors program sponsored by the Girl Scouts. Campers are transported to and from camps daily.

Each camp is divided into small groups or units of 18 to 24 girls, with three leaders to each unit. The camp program games, songs, picnic lunches or cook-outs and camp crafts.

Each day camp is governed by a junior camp council, made up of delegates from each unit. This council makes the decisions about camp government, determines program activities and plans for the campwide program.

Because girls had to be turned away in the past, the council has expanded the program to include 12 camps, and repeat sessions will be held on some sites so Girl Scouts may attend near their own communities.

Each camp may register from 50 to 150 girls, depending on the size of the site and the number of volunteers available to staff the camp.

Lounge Lazily as Jiffy Dinner Cooks by Itself

★ ★ ★

So check up on yourself from day to day and make sure you're not subsisting on canned soup or sandwiches alone. Such fare is fine at times, but it doesn't comprise a complete diet, by any means.

★ ★ ★

In these times of frozen foods, it takes no time to prepare meat, a green salad or vegetable and a potato, all of them good for you. You can change into a robe and read the evening paper while dinner cooks.

Finish up with cheese and crackers and perhaps some fruit for desert and you will have had a well-balanced meal.

Literary Club Plans State Hospital Tea

Mrs. P. G. Latimer of Dwight avenue was hostess to members of the Woman's Literary Club recently. Mrs. Dale Moats presided.

Mrs. Raymond Swaney, Mrs. Joseph Phillips, Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh, Mrs. Ida Reeves, Mrs. Latimer and Mrs. Harry Vernon presided at the tea table.

This Hairstyle Needs Lot of Attention

Bouffant Hairdo Must Fit Your Face

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Some hairdressers predict that the bouffant hairstyle will fade out before long. Why? It seems the average girl doesn't know how to arrange one to suit her own type. She is likely to choose a style that is too wide for a fat face or too high for a thin face.

Bouffant hairdos should be governed by the shape of the face as to whether an extreme or modified style is selected. If you have a long, thin face, brush the hair back smoothly on top, puffing it out on the sides.

If your face is round it will need height above the brow to taper the line. The girl with an oval face, considered the ideal, may wear a bouffant hairdo in any style that pleases her.

The bouffant hairdo needs attention to keep it looking smooth. You'll need more than a casual run-through with a comb to keep your hair line chic. It must be groomed with the least possible effort to keep it in line.

Silk basket-weave sheath in pale grey with pleated lace for a bertha is designed by Gothe for David E. Gottlieb. Stitching detail forms a paneled front.

Most hairdressers advise that a permanent wave is essential to maintaining a good bouffant coiffure. It lends body and curl, basic to these new type coifs to avoid the droopy, dreary appearance that comes after you've slept on your curls one night.

The best basis for a bouffant hair style is the 40-curler permanent that waves the hair gently from the scalp, giving it plenty of body.

It is soft and natural, and may be sleeked down if you prefer, yet is full-bodied enough to withstand several haircuts.

WIDE CURLERS

You may do your wave at home with your own permanent waving kit. Select one that is suitable for your type of hair and use wide, ventilated curlers to give the kind of waves that are part of the heightened, widened look in hairdos, popular this season.

After you permanently wave your hair into a bouffant hairdo, work with your hairbrush, using long sweeping strokes and lifting the top layer at the temples. Pick up a strand at the sides, slipping your left hand under it, and brush the top hair smoothly over it.

The hair in back may be brushed down and folded in an easy unruffled arrangement if it is permanented properly, and you wield the brush in the right manner.

There is no doubt that there is nothing to beat a permanent wave if you are interested in a coiffure that needs body such as the bouffant hairstyle, bangs or the page boy.

If you have decided that you are against permanent waves for the hair, then other hairdos that require less body and curl for their arrangement must be chosen if a chic coiffure is desired.

In the interests of a beautiful skin, keep some containers of water about the house during winter weather. These will keep the air moist and keep your skin from drying out.

Multiple Packages Save Time, Money

CHICAGO (INS)—Today's woman likes buying more than one can in a package—it saves her time, and often money.

Or so indicates a survey taken for eight weeks, jointly sponsored by the Container Corporation of America, stores and the National Canners Association.

During the survey, multiple packages were displayed in supermarkets right next to single cans of the same product. Women almost invariably chose the multiple package.

You Can Beat Junior to Draw

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Everyone who has children has spent time worrying about the little darlings expressing their artistic talent with crayons all over the walls.

To save walls, and mother-wear and tear, put up blackboards in the child's room at the youngster's eye and arm level and leave around a generous supply of colored chalk instead of crayons.

The colors look best against the black, and even if junior should attempt an occasional experiment on the un-blackboarded surface, chalk is easier to remove than crayons.

Club Greets Washington Newcomers

Legislators' Wives Stage Traditional Open House

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—One of the finest of the many welcoming parties for newcomers to Congress and their wives is the traditional homey open house given by the Congrssional Club, Here the newly elected congressmen have a chance to meet old hands and get acquainted with each other.

The club, set up by act of Congress in 1908, is made up of wives of incumbent lawmakers. One of its main objectives is to make folks feel at home. Wives of new members always are asked to join.

Throughout the congressional year the club is a beehive of activity with morning study groups, bridge classes, Red Cross work, luncheons, teas, parties for children and receptions, including one for the President and First Lady.

At the 1957 open house, newcomers were met at the door by members and their husbands and each was pinned with a white tag saying "hello" and bearing their names and home town.

Among the old-timers who put in an appearance were Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) and House Minority Leader Joe Martin (R-Mass).

Rep. Frances Bolton (R-Ohio), sun-tanned and rested after seven weeks at her Palm Beach, Fla., home, bubbly Rep. Frank Boykin (D-Ala) and his wife; Judge Homer Ferguson of the U. S. Court of Military Appeals and former Republican senator from michigan, and Mrs. Ferguson; and Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis, widow of the late senator from Illinois, were also on hand.

Among those wearing the round white tags were Rep. E. F. Byrne (R-Ill), his wife, and his pretty daughter, Pat, who is working in his office; the brilliant India-born Rep. D. S. Saund (D-Calif) and his friendly, soft-voiced wife; and young Reps. Edwin H. May (R-Conn), Donald Tewes (R-Wis), F. M. Coffin (D-Maine) and their attractive wives.

Man Who Values Everything in Cash Cannot Fully Appreciate His Wife

"Surely my husband isn't the only man today who measures everything in dollars and cents. I wish you'd see fit to write an article for the benefit of such men," says one of my women readers.

Though this reader has five children under 10 years of age and does all her own work, she claims her husband thinks the only women who 'earn their way" are women who hold down outside jobs and bring home paychecks.

Just to prove to herself that she is earning her own way this wife set down a list of figures showing what it would cost for all the things she does in a day and came up with the total of over $5,000 "earned" by her in a year.

There's really no question that a wife who stays at home and runs a house and cares for small children is earning her way.

And any woman with five children under 10 years of age and no help is sure to work harder than her husband, no matter what kind of a job he holds down.

WORK IS PRICELESS

But women who are full-time homemakers shouldn't have to resort to bolstering their moral by figuring out how much money they "earn" a year by totaling up their hours of cooking, washing dishes, ironing clothes, scrubbing floors, etc.

They are doing such a valuable job no price tag can be set on it.

Sure, the work could be hired out. But what can't be hired is a mother's tenderness with a sick child, her willingness to help share a child's or adolescent's problems, her being at home when her children need her.

Nor can a price tag be put on all of the things a homemaker does to make a house a home, the birthday cakes she bakes, the troubles she smooths out, the happiness she creates for her family.

Any man who puts a dollar and cents value on everything couldn't possibly appreciate a wife fully, for a wife and mother's value to her family and therefore to the world is beyond price.

Foot Care Pays Off in Beauty

If Shoes Don't Fit, You'll Soon Acquire 'Sad-Sack' Look

It's difficult to look pretty when your feet are paining you. Best way to prevent foot trouble is to give your feet consistent care.

This means, first and foremost, buying the proper shoes. Have your foot measured each time and don't let the temptations of vanity or a sale lead you into buying a shoe which is not your size.

Take care of your shoes; be sure they get new heel lifts often. Otherwise, they'll throw your posture out of line and tire you.

Wash your nylons after each wearing and make sure you have a good supply on hand.

If possible, give yourself a foot bath every other day. This means a half-hour's soaking in hot, soapy water. You'll find it restful, and you can read or watch TV at the same time.

Keep shoes with very high heels and very little support for the evening hours when you're seated. Shoes for walking should have mid-heels and good support.

Joanne Phyllis Laughlin and Thomas W. Rollison were married Saturday. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Laughlin of Summit avenue, and Thomas' parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Rollison of South Edith street.

Joanne Laughlin Repeats Vows in Candlelight Rite

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church Joanne Phyllis Laughlin become the bride of Thomas W. Rollison.

The Rev. Theodore R. Allebach performed the 8 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 350 guests.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Laughlin of Summit avenue, chose a gown of Chantilly lace with a sweetheart neckline and long, tapered sleeves. The skirt of the bridal gown was of nylon tulle with handkerchief flounces of lace edged in tulle.

She wore a headpiece of sequins and seed pearls in a pillbox style. It secured a fingertip veil of French silk illusion.

Mary Robertson of Walled Lake, maid of honor, wore a burnt orange crystalette gown with a Sabrina neckline. French tucks detailed the bodice of the ballerina-length dress. She carried pink roses and white pompons.

Bridesmaid Arlene Farner was gowned similarly in a capucine shade. She carried yellow roses and white pompons.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rollison of South Edith street, asked John Frost to serve as his best man. Ushers were Jack Laughlin, brother of the bride, and Gene Vaughan.

★ ★ ★

Four hundred and fifty guests attended the reception held at the Bemis-Olsen Amvets Hall. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Laughlin wore a Dior blue silk sheath with light blue accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Rollison wore a beige brocaded sheath with light green accessories and a corsage of red roses.

On their return, the bridegroom will report to Greenland where he is stationed with the U. S. Army. The new Mrs. Rollison will reside with her parents until his discharge.

Guests attended the ceremony from Florida, Detroit, Royal Oak, Birmingham and Flint.

Keeps It Healthy, Controlled

Brush Child's Hair Often Daily

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

You can't expect your child's hair to be neat all day, just because you combed and brushed it this morning. New young hairs grow in all directions and are likely to become unmanageable unless brushed into shape during the day.

Little boys especially are likely to find it a nuisance to cope with cowlicks and stick-up strands on top of the head. Little girls have the problem of fly-away bangs, straggly strands and loose hanging ends from ponytails.

One small wisp stick made of bee's wax and castor oil is easy to handle and may come in handy for controlling Sis' hair. It is small and compact and may be carried in the pocket, so that the school-age child may use it during the day.

It doesn't have the drying effects of some lacquer sprays, or leave knots that hurt when you try to comb the hair later.

Stroke the little stick over the unruly strands and then brush it down. It is ideal for tucking stray neck hairs tidily into a ponytail and to coax loose strands into braids.

FOR FINE HAIR

If a child's hair is very fine it is best not to wash it too often. It may be controlled easier if an extra day or two elapses before the next washing, rather than the every-day hair washing routine which some parents employ.

Brushing a youngster's hair will help to control it. The hair brush will stimulate the scalp-releasing oils that somehow help to give the hair body and more gloss.

It is easier these days to get a youngster interested in hair brushing, shampoo and hair grooming, because Mom is more interested in her glamor, and youngsters like to mimic.

It is getting to be second nature for a little tot to maintain a bandbox look, especially for dressup occasions.

No longer does Mom have to say, "Keep your dress clean, don't muss your hair." The average little girl is proud of her chic appearance.

Little girls, like their mothers, are wearing a variety of hair styles these days. You may find short and long hair in every school room coiffured in a variety of ways. Today, as a matter of fact, mothers vie with each other to produce an unusual hair-style for their dainty offspring.

A dream will soon be a reality in the Pontiac school district.

The new high school, if it follows the five-year plan of the blue prints, will give to this city one of the finest educational and physical plants in the state.

Gone are the days when school buildings were built strictly for desks and books.

Today educators see the dire need for making physical education an integral part of the overall program. President Eisenhower has strongly advocated it.

The doors to the new school are scheduled for opening in the Fall of 1958. The paths for all the planned sports facilities will expand from 1958 to 1962.

With the original plans for 1958 are two separate courts for boys and girls. Each will be regulation 50-94. This will be made possible by rollaway bleachers, which when in use will be the seating for one center court.

When rolled into compact position, space will be made available for the two intra-mural courts.

A six lane pool, 45x75 with elevated seating, underneath which will be rifle and archery lanes, along with two handball courts, are part of the initial plans.

First year outdoor facilities include six tennis courts and parking for 200 cars.

A year later, 1959, completion is expected on baseball and softball diamonds, a track area, and a 3-hole golf area. For 1960, girls' practice field, ice hockey and skating rinks are planned.

By 1961, the natural terrain near Madison Junior High will make it possible for a skiing area, an artificial skating rink, outdoor archery range and by 1962 the final touch will include the completion of outdoor seating, fencing and parking.

Full anticipated enrollment is expected to be held at 1,600. The school will take about 800 students the first year from the present 2,600 at Pontiac High, and as far as classification, it is expected it will be in class B status for at least two years.

The question now pops up, where will the new school look for league affiliation? We doubt it will be the Saginaw Valley Conference.

It could be the Eastern Michigan or the Inter-Lakes, but by 1960 many fast growing schools in the county should reach Class A status, leaving the door open for a more compact area conference.

Red Wing 'Production Line' Among Greatest

Howe-Lindsay Mainstay Pair for 8 Seasons

Combined NHL Careers Cover 24 Years Amid Seven Centers

DETROIT (AP) — Atop the list of all-time great hockey lines is the "production line" of the Detroit Red Wings.

The mainstays for eight seasons, of course, are left winger Ted Lindsay and right winger Gordie Howe. The problem is something akin to the "who's on second?" routine when it comes to finding the man in the middle, or the center.

That's because Lindsay and Howe, whose combined National Hockey League careers cover 24 years, have worked their way through seven centers. The present center on the production line of the first-place Red Wings, 21-year-old Norm Ullman, is No. 8.

There were paralleling careers in each group of three players on lines which have dominated play down through the years.

The Boston Bruins had two great lines, the so-called dynamite line of the late 1920's and early 30's and the Kraut line of the 40's. The first crew had Dit Clapper, Cooney Weiland and Dutch Gainor. On the Kraut line were Woody Dumart, Milt Schmidt (now Bruin coach) and Bob Bauer.

The Cook brothers, Bill and Bun, had Frank Boucher as their center on the New York Rangers and about the same time the Montreal Maroons had Babe Siebert, Nels Stewart and Hooley Smith.

The "kid line" of the Toronto Maple Leafs included, Boucher Jackson, Joe Primeau, and Charlie Conacher. After that came Herb Lewis, Marty Barry and Larry Aurie of Detroit, then the tremendous Chicago line of Doug and Max Bentley, along with Bill Mosienko. Later on there was Montreal's punch line of Toe Blake (now the Canadien coach), Elmer Lach and Maurice (The Rocket) Richard.

But no three of these players ever ran away with NHL scoring as Lindsay and Howe have done. Since the 1949-50 season, Howe has won the scoring championship four times and had second, third and 5th place finishes.

Lindsay won it in 1949-50, and since then has twice been second, once third and once 6th. Over the past two seasons, hand and shoulder injuries plus a league suspension has held down his scoring.

The players who have been between Howe and Lindsay run almost from A to Z. Starting with Sid Abel, there have been, Max McNab, Metro Prystai, Alex Delvecchio, Glen Skov, Marty Pavelich, Dutch Reibel and now Ullman.

Howe and Lindsay are a long way from being "through." Current NHL statistics show Lindsay first and Howe third in points.

Johnny Podres Still Having Back Problem

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Podres still has trouble with his back. But before Brooklyn's opponents get excited, they might recall the sweet-pitching lefty also had back trouble in 1955. All he did that year was win the Dodgers' first world championship.

★ ★ ★

A phone call to Witherbee, N.Y. brought the information that Podres was "out" and wouldn't be available until later. It turned out he was ice fishihg on Lake Champlain.

"Got a load of what we call Lake Champlain ice fish," said Podres. "They run about seven or eight inches apiece."

It wasn't easy to switch the conversation to baseball and a bad back.

ACHING BACK — Spondylitis is the back ill which has been troubling Brooklyn Dodger pitcher Johnny Podres. Podres, who was discharged from the Navy because of it, is now having recurring pains.

"It's been pretty good," said John. "But I still have a little trouble with it. Like when I go fishing and sit down quite a while. After I stand up, it feels a little better.

"They told me in the Navy I might have to have an operation. I suppose I will eventually but there's no telling when. It might be two years and it might not be for five or ten.'

How did Podres feel about the statements by Manager Walter Alston who said he might use John on relief if his back bothered him like it did at Montreal.

"Whatever Walter says goes," Podres said. "I just hope it will be all right.

"I'm going South about Feb. 20 and I'm not going to bear down too much for a month or so. I don't want to overdo it at first. Oh, I'll pitch some but not too hard.

"By the time we start to work our way North from Vero Beach (Fla.) I ought to know what I can do."

★ ★ ★

The Dodgers suggested Podres pitch some winter ball after his discharge from the Navy, Oct. 26 But he didn't want to take a chance on aggravating the back condition. He said he hasn't tried to throw a ball yet.

Podres estimated he pitched about 85 innings last year in the Navy.

Another $100,000 Contract

Williams Dots Line

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams, temperamental throughout his brilliant career, is mellowing with age—or maybe it's just the off season.

The 38-year-old Boston slugger indicated yesterday that he has had a change of mind and might like to stay in baseball after his playing days.

Williams displayed a beaming grin after signing a one-year contract for about $100,000 which continues him as baseball's highest paid player.

But he turned off the grin and became serious when asked if he would like to remain in baseball when he has to quit as a player.

"After my playing days are over I will do everything possible to help the game," he said. "Other than that I want to fish any time in any place I want."

He thought the matter over carefully for a few more seconds and added:

"Put it this way. I would stay in the game if I'm wanted. As you get older you start realizing there isn't a whole lot of things you know better than baseball."

Ted indicated he would prefer to become a coach or an executive when he said, "I'm not so sure a man can come right out of the player ranks and become a manager."

Williams, who is noted for giving an honest answer even to his harshest critics, once blurted out he would rather be a fireman than play baseball. That was in his early days with the Red Sox.

Another time, in a temperamental outburst, he said he was through with baseball when his playing days were over. The reason: He wanted to go fishing.

But, apparently, those thoughts are part of the past as far as Williams is concerned.

Ted, who will be 39 in August, is looking forward only to the 1957 season—not beyond.

Asked how many more seasons he felt he could play, he replied:

"If someone asked me three years ago if I thought I'd be signing in '57, I would have bet them no."

In a serious tone, he added:

"I love the game. I also need the money. I know I've been criticized for saying that but I think many of the boys play for money."

After signing for his 16th season with the Red Sox, Williams predicted a fine year for himself and said, "I will do my very best to help the club."

Boston Will Be Contender

Higgins Sees 5-Team Race

(Another in a series of managerial views on the pennant races written under the managers' own bylines—Boston Red Sox.)

By MIKE HIGGINS

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It is my firm conviction the 1957 American League pennant race will be a five-team affair with the Boston Red Sox very much in the picture.

New York, of course, is the team to beat. But I look for Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit and our own Red Sox to battle the Yankees right down to the final day.

One thing I'm sure of—the Yankees won't enjoy the same romp they did last year. They're going to have their work cut out for them.

We haven't had any luck in making any deals this winter but owner Tom Yawkey and general manager Joe Cronin and I are still hopeful of strengthening the club with a trade or two.

But even if we cannot make any deals, I feel we have sufficient strength on our present roster to make a stronger flag fight than last year, provided we get a few breaks.

We didn't get them last year. You will recall that we were without the services of Ted Williams for the first month of 1956. There was a time when we had only three able-bodied pitchers on one western trip.

I do not intend this as an alibi for a 4th place finish because I know other clubs had similar setbacks. They are a part of baseball. But a few victories early last season might have tightened the race considerably.

Our pitching staff, centered around 19-game winner Tom Brewer, can be a great deal better with improved performances by Frank Sullivan, Willard Nixon, Mel Parnell and Bob Porterfield.

Dave Sisler, who won nine games for us in his first season, should improve. He did very well for us considering he had only one season in the minors. Porterfield certainly should win more than three games.

Ike Delock developed into an outstanding relief pitcher in '56 and I'm hopeful we can come up with additional bullpen strength.

Russ Kemmerer and Al Schroll are two righthanded pitchers the Red Sox have looked at before and both should be ready for major league duty.

Kemmerer won 12 games for San Francisco and was chosen for the coast league all-star team. Schroll started with San Francisco last year and then went to Oklahoma City where he had a 6-11 record.

We purchased Bert Thiel from Dallas and drafted Jack Spring, a lefthander, from Miami of the International League. Thiel had an 18-10 record and was selected pitcher of the year in the Texas League.

We should get stronger catching. We're going to keep three catchers next season. Haywood Sullivan, who did well in the Pacific Coast League, will make us stronger. Pete Daley was used last season and showed that he could handle the job.

Then there's always the chance that Sammy White could come up with a big year. He didn't do too well the past two seasons but he could snap back and catch and hit like he did in 1954.

BOW READY FOR BEAR — William Negley, 43, an independent oil man from San Antonio, Texas, limbers up his bow with which he hopes to win $10,000. Negley took a 10 to 1 wager that he could bag a tusker with his bow and arrow. The special elephant bow and arrow were made in Grayling, Michigan. Negley put up his $1,000 and he leaves this weekend for the Belgian Congo.

Seek Definite TV Grid Plan

CHICAGO (AP)—The NCAA Television Committee today was "hopeful" of agreement on a definite plan for telecasting college football next fall.

In its first two days of meetings, the committee has discussed 10 different plans that fall into these broad categories:

1. A national "game-of-the-week" series.

2. A combination of national and regional games, along the line of the 1956 program.

3. A control plan in which the NCAA would set certain basic rules and the individual schools and conferences would operate on their own.

The third plan is backed by the Big Ten Conference.

"We're getting close to formulating a plan and are hopeful of completing the job today," said Walt Byers, NCAA executive director. "If we don't we'll hold our next series of meetings in New York shortly."

The group already has heard, either in person or by letter, from about 20 interested parties—television stations, institutions and represenatives of the TV industry.

"We are trying to arrive at a program best fitted for the needs of the present day situation," said Robert J. Kane of Cornell University, committee chairman. "We don't like to think we are inert. The longer we wait, the less chance we have of attracting the kind of sponsors we are interested in."

The target date for vote on the plan by the NCAA membership is around March 1. It will be submitted by mail and passed if approved by two-thirds of those voting.

New Trotting Track?

AWOL Cager Ambles Back to Wildcats

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Sophomore basketball player Nick Mantis of East Chicago, Ind., had returned to the Northwestern campus today after being "AWOL."

He jumped the squad after Northwestern's 74-56 loss at Indiana Monday. He remained in Bloomington, Ind., to visit a friend who is a student at Indiana.

"I was just disgusted at the way we played Monday," Mantis was quoted as explaining his disappearance. "I didn't know what to do. You know, I've got my heart in this game. I hope they'll take me back on the ball club."

Wildcat Coach Waldo Fisher indicated Mantis might face disciplinary action if he rejoined the squad but preferred to wait until he talked to him before reaching a decision.

Driver Teams Named for Endurance Test

MILAN (AP)—Italy's leading Maserati and Ferrari cars stables announced today their official lineups for the 12-hour Sebring, Florida, endurance car race on March 23-24.

Michigan Billiards Champ Gains Victory

Hottest Putter Expected to Win Tucson Tourney

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Good putting was at a premium as the $15,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament opened today on the straight and easy El Rio Country Club course.

After the Professional Golfers Assn. was accused of a "breach of faith" for not providing top players, Gene Littler flew in from San Diego, Doug Ford returned from his sick son's bedside in New York and Fred Hawkins came from El Paso, Tex.

"This will develop into a putting contest," PGA Tournament Supervisor Harvey Raynor predicted. "The greens are excellent. The man with the best shots on the greens will be the winner."

The 6,434-yard El Rio layout has never been a mystery to the touring pros. Recent rains have softened the usually hard fairways and made it even more to their liking.

Yesterday's pro-amateur gave a forecast of things to come. Paul Harney, of Bolton, Mass., and Dean Short of Tucson, won with a best ball score of 59—or 11 under par.

Harney, Ed Furgol, St. Andrews, Ill., Bob Inman, Detroit, Mich. and Mike Fetchick, Mahopac, N. Y., split $650 for their low scores of 65. Most of the pros bettered or equalled par.

Among the local favorites to be fighting for top money in the final round are Finsterwald, Ford, Littler, Furgol, Billy Casper Jr., winner of last week's Phoenix Open, Mike Souchak, No. 4 money winner so far this year, and Bud Holscher, Apple Valley, Calif.

The Pontiac High wrestlers return to the friendly confines of PHS gym Friday afternoon hoping for their 2nd victory of the season as host to Southfield.

W. Virginia Cage Ace Retains NAIA's Lead

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ken Hammond of West Virginia Tech's Golden Bears scored 68 points in two basketball games last week to preserve his NAIA scoring lead with an average of 34.2 points a game.

The flashy senior has 204 field goals and 173 free throws in 17 games for 581 points. His 4-year total stands at 1,593 points, an average of 24.1 points for 66 games.

TEST YOUR BASEBALL KNOW-HOW...

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

By BEN OLAN

For his work in keeping Cincinnati in the thick of the National League pennant competition, Manager Birdie Tebbetts was voted the National League manager-of-the-year in the Associated Press' annual poll.

BIRDIE TEBBETTS

It was widely agreed that Tebbetts got the most from the material at hand. His Redlegs finished in third place, only two games behind the pennant-winning Brooklyn Dodgers.

Maneuvering . . . improvising . . . Tebbetts used keen strategy as the Reds won 91 games, far more than was expected from them at the start of the 1956 season.

Following is a situation which faced Tebbetts in a game during the early part of last season. If you were the Cincinnati manager what would you have done?

(Key: (R) righthanded; (L) lefthanded.)

The Giants lead Cincinnati 3-2 in the top of the seventh at New York. Starter Ruben Gomez (R) still is on the mound for the Giants. Ed Bailey opens the inning with a single. Roy McMillan (R) is the next batter with pitcher Joe Nuxhall (L) and Johnny Temple (R) scheduled to follow.

Would you:

a. Let McMillan swing away?

b. Order McMillan to sacrifice?

c. Put in a lefthanded pinch-hitter for McMillan?

Result: A — McMillan swings away and belts a home run into the right field stands scoring Bailey ahead of him. Redlegs pick up two more runs and win 6-3 (May 22).

PHS Improving, Could Give Close Battle in Friday Test Here

Pontiac High swimming coach Robert (Des) Boyce figures his constantly improving squad can give Flint Central a close battle here on Friday afternoon (4 p.m.) when SVC competition resumes after more than a week's idleness. Both varsity and reserves will be in action.

Central is well up in SVC standings and has a balanced team. But in the Chiefs' pool some of the long-pool advantages for the Indians are leveled out. Chiefs are 1-5 in Valley, 2-7 overall.

Boyce reported Duke Cummins back after a month's illness. Gid Robarge is again able to go following a week of illness, Chief top point hopes rest in the efforts of Captain Dennis Simonson, who is expected to take his two specialties (100 breast, individualy medley).

Other SVC and area meets Friday include Monroe at Royal Oak, Arthur Hill at Flint Northern and Bay City Central at Saginaw.

Bouncing back after trailing 21-3, the Southfield wrestlers eked out a 26-24 triumph over neighboring rival Farmington at the Bluejay gym last night.

Southfield scored four pins and a decision to pull out its 3rd win in four starts and 2nd over Farmington. The previous match was decided by one point.

Hazel Park, an Oakland County power, romped to its 3rd straight victory and 5th for the season with 28-16 romp over Port Huron.

Harney Lawyer Denies Pro Bid

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Charles L. Harney's attorney denied today that the contractor was bidding for a National Basketball Assn. franchise.

Jack Dooling said Harney never at anytime had agreed or implied he would finance in any way a pro basketball franchise here. He said the report probably grew out of an offer Harney had made to underwrite a barnstorming trip of the Boston Celtics, with profits going to charity.

Harney is an alumnus of the University of San Francisco, as is Bill Russell who plays with the Celtics.

Chief Quintet Becomes "Target"

It would be a fine feather in the cap of any of the six remaining foes to knock off the state's 2nd-ranked Class A basketball team, and the next attempt at Pontiac's scalp will be at Flint Central tomorrow night.

"When you are winning everyone wants to beat you, and that is why we can't take any of our remaining opponents lightly," said Coach Art Van Ryzin.

Detroit Catholic Central, a hot and cold team all season, came the closest in picking up a souvenir scalp. The Shamrocks played their best game of the season, but fortunately, so did the Chiefs last week.

Now the scene changes to Ballenger fieldhouse where the Indians of Coach Joe Dowdy are capable of beating anyone on any given night.

"If we are going to look at that 64-48 score in the first game with Central, then we should remember the rough time they gave us until the 3rd period," said Van Ryzin.

"Best thing for us to do is forget that score, and expect them to be pointing for us," he added.

With the injury to first-string forward Jim Skinner, Coach Van Ryzin has called up Harrison Munson, 6-feet-2 sophomore from the reserve squad.

Munson and Terry Zellhart are expected to share the position which may be vacated by Skinner for possibly three weeks.

The other forward, Dick Whitner, has won his battle with the flu and is in top playing form again. He, along with Hud Ray, Dave Diehm and Larry Peet, complete the regular lineup.

One fear which Van Ryzin has presently is that the Chiefs may be looking past the Flint Central encounter to Highland Park, the 3rd-ranked team in the state which visits PHS next Tuesday.

"We want that Valley title right now more than anything and it is far from being decided as yet," said Van Ryzin.

Dowdy has been experimenting with Indian lineup since the last Pontiac game. Having lost five of the last seven games after winning the first two, Dowdy has found a sophomore who is moving along at an 11.3 clip in the last three games.

He is Felix Miller, 6-2 sophomore, who will start along with Dave Jeffes, Mel Thomas and Tom Bell. Jeffes is the 5-4 guard who hit for 13 points in the first game against Pontiac. He is averaging 9.0 per game. Bell is hitting at a 10.4 clip.

The AAU state championships will be held in Detroit the first week in April.

Phillies Open Rookie School in Clearwater

Fifty players, including several veterans, will work out under Smith and the entire managerial staff of the Philadelphia farm system. The camp runs through Feb. 28, the day before the regular squad reports for the March 1 training camp opening.

Of chief interest at the school, is the attempt by former All-Star shortstop Granny Hamner to become a pitcher. Hamner suffered an injury to his left shoulder which hampers his batting and apparently has ended his career as an infielder. He'll try to make the club as a right handed pitcher.

Aquinas Has 2 Wins

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Aquinas College registered it's second basketball victory in 14 starts last night by scoring 12 of the last 14 points in the game and whipping Muskegon Community College 97-88.

Giardello Wins Split Decision

Heavily Favored Joey Blames Overconfidence for Poor Showing

CHICAGO (AP)—The 5-1 odds went to Joey Giardello's head last night.

He didn't look anything like the No. 2 ranking middleweight that he is. A ferocious last two rounds saved the victory for him.

Under the five-point system of scoring, Referee Walt Brightmore voted for Giardello 48-44 and Judge Frank McAdams favored him 47-45. Judge Frank Clark called it for Sandy, 47-46. The AP card had it 48-46 for Giardello.

"I just didn't have in my mind that this would be a tough fight. I read in the papers that Sandy wasn't much—and I read where I was a 4-1, 5-1 favorite. I just got overconfident

U.S. Fistic Domination Threatened

NEW YORK (AP)—Is the United States in danger of losing its grasp on the world's boxing titles?

With Cherif Hamia favored to move into the featherweight championship and the fly and bantam crowns already worn by outsiders, there is a threat of foreign domination.

While Joe Brown and Wallace "Bud" Smith have been fighting a series in the 135-pounds class, the No. 1 contenders, Duilio Loi of Italy awaits his chance to spirit the title overseason.

Unless somebody can stop the rapid advance of Cuba's Isaac Logart and Mexico's Gaspar Ortega, the welterweight round robin among Carmen Basilio, Johnny Saxton and Tony DeMarco will have to go.

Even the new middleweight champion, Gene Fulmer of West Jordan, Utah, must consider Charles Humez of France, everybody's No. 1 challenger after Fullmer takes on Sugar Ray Robinson in their April rematch. Fullmer beat Humez once before he won the championship but probably will have to prove he can do it again.

Only among the heavyweights is there no real foreign challenger. The best of the lot appears to be Ingemar Johannsson, of Sweden who is seventh in al ratings.

Cuba, Puerto Rico, Germany, France, Hawaii and Mexico parade across the TV boxing screen almost every week but it's an event when Panama gets into the act.

Isidro Martinez, touted as the best to come out of the Canal Zone since the days of Panama Al Brown, gets his second look Friday at Madison Square Garden when he boxes Bobby Courchesne of Holyoke, Mass.

A $1,500 purse was Martinez' best until he beat Ike Chestnut in a major upset, Jan. 4. Now he gets another whack at a $4,000 payday.

Martinez, 22, likes the Yankee dollar so much that he has settled down in a Bronx apartment and brought the wife and baby girl up to stay with him.

Manuel Alfaro, Martinez' manager, claims the fighter is ambidextrous. "Sometimes he eats righthanded, sometimes he eats lefthanded," said Alfaro. "He boxes the same way."

Brooks Gives CIO Cagers Double Overtime Victory

A field goal by Felix Brooks, his 7th of the game, brought CIO Local 594 a thrilling 53-51 double overtime victory over Booth Homes to headline last night's City League basketball action at Pontiac High.

Brooks, who totaled 18 points, scored all of the Union club's markers in the extra sessions. The CIO rallied to gain a 49-49 tie in regulation time.

Field goals by Brooks and Bill Dunstan of Booth Homes left the two quintets deadlocked at the end of the 1st overtime, 51-51. Then Brooks' fielder in the 2nd overtime supplied the clincher. Dunstan took game honors with 20 points.

Jim Bates netted 23 points to head five two-figured scorers as Walled Lake Super Market crushed the winless Clarkston Merchants, 76-39. Campbell made 14 for Clarkston.

In Class D actlvity at Lincoln Junior High, the Celtics won their 7th straight with a 37-33 decision over Coca Cola; the Northersns defeated the Blackhawks, 31-28, and Beedle's Cut-Rate dowged Home Lunch, 45-42.

Blower and Henry Pace Biddy Winners

Led by the 22 points Bill Blower contributed, Hawks yesterday defeated the Royals 39-31 in the Boys' Club Biddy Basketball League. Pintsized Joe Doyon had 11 for the winners. Losers were led by Kester Smith and Jim Farmer each with 11.

In the nightcap classy Jets overpowered the last-place Celtics, 36-27. Jets were again led by the league's leading scorer, Dick Henry, who tossed in 25. Big Jim Dalton of Celtics was high for his team with 12.

Ellsworth (Spider) Webb, Los Angeles middleweight, competed in track, football and boxing at Idaho State College.

Hot Rod's Clowning Has Place With Pros

NEW YORK (AP)—Which will it be? Hot Rod, the basketball player—or Hot Rod, the clown?

No less an authority on all phases of the game than Joe Lapchick says if the National Basketball Assn. knows it's whereof, it'll be a case of some of each when Rod Hundley finishes up at West Virginia and goes to work for one of the pro basketball clubs.

Lapchick, who has completed the cycle of college coach to pro coach and back to college coach, recently took his St. John's University Redmen on a visit to Morgantown, W. Va., for a game with Hundley and the Mountaineers.

He came back to the Big Town predicting that Hot Rod would become a great pro player as well as a standout crowd attraction with his liking for the unusual.

Hundley, who leads the Mountaineers against NYU in part of a college doubleheader at Madison Square Garden tonight, scored 30 points while West Virginia crushed a better than adequate St. John's club, 105-72. More than that, with the home crowd luring him on, Hot Rod threw a couple hook shots on free throw attempts, tossed in a handful of other "clowning" maneuvers, and stopped once or twice to take over leading the West Virginia cheering section.

★ ★ ★

But while it might be frowned upon in many college circles, it has a place in the pro league.

Hundley has amazing accuracy with a jump shot from close or far away. He has good speed and can drive. He has an excellent hook shot. But . . .

The crowd-pleasing antics, however, are confined to only Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics, Sweetwater Clifton of the New York Knickerbockers, a former Harlem Globetrotter and perhaps one or two others.

Combine his basketball and clowning abilities, Lapchick says, and some pro teams will have a potential gold mine in a year or two.

Hershey Gains Ground With 7-6 AHL Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Hershey Bears have tightened their hold on third place and moved to within a point of runner-up Cleveland, turning the American Hockey League into a hot three-team race.

The Bears closed the gap last night defeating the last place Springfield Indians 7-6. Hershey brought its point total to 50 and trails league-leading Providence by four points.

There were no other games scheduled.

Elk Keglers at Midway Point

By CHUCK ADAIR

The midway point in the 37th annual Michigan Elks Bowling Tournament comes up this weekend when keglers from five different cities compete in the event being sponsored by Pontiac Lodge 810.

Teams, doubles and singles entries from Pontiac, Lansing, Saginaw, Monroe and Big Rapids are scheduled for action Saturday and Sunday.

There is a strong possibility that this could be one of the biggest weekends in the tourney with defending champions in two divisions scheduled to compete. Two former winners have already fallen by the wayside.

A strong threat to replace Detroiter John Gavie at the top of the singles lists is Reuben Grover of Saginaw. He finished in a tie for the actual pinfall crown last year with 656 but must improve that considerably with Gavie well up at 691.

Also returning will be the 2nd 1956 doubles champion in as many weeks, Ed Baxes and Dick Masters, Lansing, combined for a 1347 last winter for the championship. That has already been surpassed. Plymouth duo of Bill Fann-Vern Miller set a new record for the event last Sunday with 1374.

★ ★ ★

There will be a host of other veteran bowlers back to shoot at the leading scores and all-time records. They will include Saginaw's Claude Schultz and Bill Morgan of Big Rapids.

State Elks Bowling President Robert Managh of Lansing and secretary Ralph Benedict are also taking part over the weekend.

There will be plenty of attention on team play where the Pontiac five-man group sponsored by Dickie's Service has reigned for two weeks now on scores of 2832 (actual) and 3201 (handicap).

Another leader certain to be hard to beat from here in is the Detroit doubles duo of K. Walker-E. Haviland. This pair has topped handicap play for two weeks with a 1217 total.

H. Zook, of Battle Creek, will be out to maintain his all-events lead for the 3rd straight week. He rolled a combined 1847.

Seeks 27th Victory

REVERE, Mass. (AP)—Willie Stevenson a 21-year-old Boston welterweight seeking to move up in the division, meets veteran Johnny Cunningham of Baltimore in a scheduled 10-round bout tonight at the Rollaway Arena. Stevenson has last only four bouts in 26 pro starts.

Tony Bartirome, who has been up as a first baseman with the Pittsburgh Pirates, batted .305 for Williamsport in the Eastern League last season. He beat out Dick Sanders of Binghamton by a fraction of a point for the hitting title.

Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves is the third Brave player in history to lead the National League in hitting. Ernie Lombardi led in 1942 while Rogers Hornsby paced the league in 1928, both as members of the Boston Braves.

BACKSTRETCH FEVER — Unlike most, Jerry Smith, a groom, makes his living with race horses. And as most intelligent people, he is allergic to thoroughbreds. So a doctor devised this special face mask, which allows him to take care of nags such as Better Mark at Gulfstream Park.

★ ★ ★

Holandes 'Cap Favorite

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—The South American thoroughbred, Holandes II, is the future book favorite to win the $135,000 Santa Anita Handicap Feb. 23. But the way Mister Gus is training may establish him as the betting favorite over the Argentine importation Saturday in the San Antonio Handicap at a mile and one furlong.

Mister Gus, a real speed burner who bested Nashua last year at equal weights, flew over the track yesterday for a 1:10 4-5 six-furlong workout. It was the fastest of the season.

Holandes II, Mister Gus and Honeys Alibi will be the big three in the San Antonio, but there are other really good ones in the field of eight, some of which could upset. Duc De Fer, Social Climber, Count Chic, Terrang, For Eternity and All She Wrote will round one of the best fields of the winter meeting at Santa Anita.

Mister Gus will carry 124 pounds Saturday, with Holandes II getting 122.

St. Fred, Mikes Battle Again

Shamrocks Seek Revenge in 2nd Intra-City Feud

Rams, St. Mike Fight for 3rd Place in SCL at PHS Gym Friday

By BILL CORNWELL

The 1956-57 Suburban Catholic League basketball race officially comes to a close Friday night and it ends on a high note as far as St. Frederick and St. Michael followers are concerned.

★ ★ ★

St. Fred's finest campaign in many a moon and a successful year for the Shamrocks will be brought to a fitting climax when the two crosstown foes collide for the 2nd time this season at the Pontiac High School bymnasium.

St. Mike will be out to avenge a 57-48 setback at the hands of the Rams on Jan. 4. The Mikes were underdogs in that contest, but developments since then make the two teams on a par for the return match.

Northside hopes are zooming because their chief nemesis in the 1st meeting, Bill Mountain, is on the sidelines. Mountain, who scored 18 points and controlled the boards in Round No. 1, turned ineligible at the start of the 2nd semester.

The Rams think they can repeat without Mountain, however. They still have some talented personnel in John Bradley, Tom Derocher and Dick Nickerson to name a few.

St. Mike will counter with southpaw Chuck Brown and jump-shot artist Dan Dropps, two of the league's top point-makers, and a good ball-handler named Ken Halpin.

There will be more at stake than the thrill of beating an intra-city rival. St. Fred and St. Mike are tied for 3rd place in the SCL with 6-3 records. The winner will gain that position.

Both schools have lost to the best in their league. The Rams dropped two decisions to unbeaten St. Benedict and one to runner-up Orchard Lake St. Mary. St. Mike bowed to the Ravens and the Eaglets in addition to St. Fred.

Orchard Lake St. Mary entertains Royal Oak St. Mary. St. James invades St. Rita and St. Benedict seeks to officially clinch its 2nd straight crown in other SCL games tomorrow.

Walled Lake vs. Berkley

I-L Title at Stake

This is the week of decision in the Inter-Lakes Conference.

A mighty Walled Lake team which grows in hardcourt finesse with each passing test lays its undefeated status on the block Friday night against Berkley, its No. 1 rival for the conference championship.

The Walled Lake-Berkley showdown on the Berkley court overshadows all other high school basketball games tomorrow night in the Oakland County area.

And that covers quite a chunk of ground, too, because these are several other top-notch offerings, such as St. Frederick's return match with city rival St. Michael and the Avondale-Rochester scrap at Rochester.

Walled Lake has mowed down 10 opponents this season, six in league play, and is currently ranked the No. 2 Class B power in Michigan.

Coach Bill Ullenbruch, in his 1st year at the Viking helm, has developed an offensive steamroller which is running the scoreboard raggedi. The Vikings hit their peak of point production last Friday when they rolled up 92 at the expense of Southfield.

Walled Lake's return bout with Berkley promises to be a hair-raiser. The Vikings nosed out Berkley at Walled Lake, 50-49, on a last-second free throw by Dean Hess after the visitors were penalized for calling too many time outs.

It was a bitter pill for the Bears to swallow and it's a cinch they haven't forgotten it.

The two teams are evenly matched in more ways than one. Hess, the hero of the 1st encounter, is no longer around and neither is Berkley's ace forward, Gary Price. Both players were mid-year, graduates.

Berkley, right on Walled Lake's heels with a 5-1 record, can practically assure itself a co-championship by getting even with the Vikings. The Bears are defending Inter-Lakes champs.

Victory for Walled Lake, however, will all but officially put the title in the bag. Neither club seems in too much danger of losing another league game.

Walled Lake will pit high-scoring Larry Hughes and an aggressive brand of play against Berkley's great balance and imposing height. Fireworks should be in order.

A rapidly-improving Avondale squad, riding a seven-game winning streak, invades Rochester to meet the Falcons, rated 9th in the state. This also looks like a sizzling engagement.

Anglers Lauded

Follow Letter of Law; Cooperate With Wardens

By H. GUY MOATS

Area ice-fishermen have been given a nice compliment, relative to their cooperation with conservation officers. And the praise comes from an Oakland County officer. Warren Kendall, Rochester, said today:

"I have found excellent cooperation on the part of shanty ice-fishermen this winter. They have almost 100 percent followed the very letter of the regulations regarding proper identifications on their shelters. Don't believe I've run across a single question on this score."

★ ★ ★

Kendall reminded anglers to be prepared for removal of shanties whenever the supporting ice begins to soften. There are penalties for failure to remove them before ice breaks up.

Bluegill, perch, pike fishing has continued generally good this week, conservation men report.

Good advice to ice fishermen: leave your cars on the shore. While there is between four and seven inches of ice on area lakes, days like yesterday, and Tuesday soften it, and with snow covering many areas dangerous spots are disguised.

Spearing through the ice concludes last day of the month, Thursday, Feb. 28.

Smart birds, those ringnecks! There's a bean field (5 acres), in east-of-Woodward area where hunting is banned that now is providing fine feeding for many birds. Most any day one can count 100 or more.

Looks like the fox population in the area is on the upswing again. Several big hunts lately have taken many, more than usual, game officers say. "Looks like there are just as many foxes around here now in lush times 10 years ago," one warden commented.

Two Oakland county lakes produce big lake trout, and ice-fishing for them this winter has yielded some nice specimens. They may be taken by deep-fishing, hook and line. Limit is two. Maceday is better known for its lakers although there are some in Cass Lake, also. Big hooks, tied-on lures most frequently used.

Hubcap Wins at Hialeah

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hubcap is the latest Florida-foaled thoroughbred to make a start toward making a mark in the sport of kings.

The brown 2-year-old owned by Elkcam Stable beat 11 other juvenile Florida-breds yesterday in Hialeah's annual Florida Breeders' Stakes, collecting $14,500 from the gross purse of $20,075.

Patterson Will Receive Award

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson will receive the Boxer of 1956 award from the Chicago Boxing Writers and Broadcasters' Assn., at the group's rescheduled annual ring dinner on Feb. 24.

The dinner, originally slated for Jan. 6, will be at the Sheraton Hotel.

Patterson's manager Cus D'Amato, will be presented an award as Manager of 1956. Patterson's wife, who gave birth to a daughter last Nov. 30, several hours before Floyd knocked out Archie Moore to win Rocky Marciano's vacated heavyweight title, also will attend the dinner.

Awards also will be made to lightweight Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., as the Most Improved in 1956 and posthumously to Johnny Behr, veteran fight official and member of the Illinois State Athletic Commission.

Harvard Continues Search for Coach

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Harvard continued its search for a new football coach today confident of finding a qualified man to succeed Lloyd Jordan, who was fired last month.

Athletic Director Tom Bolles, recently returned from a western trip, said yesterday that "lots of well qualified men have indicated a desire" to take over the job.

Bolles declined to disclose any names because "it might be embarrassing to some for only one person is going to get the Harvard job."

"I'm sure that some of the candidates would fit nicely into the Ivy League system," he added.

You could get by in . . . ???

Whenever a man tells us that he can "get by" wearing something cheaper, we can't help thinking he could, for that matter, get by in overalls...or a blanket...or any covering. Most men, fortunately, have more pride and more appreciation of the value of good appearance. Fine quality clothes, namely Kuppenheimer clothes, are not actually expensive...in fact, their long life makes them an economy to own...and this fall, we think Kuppenheimer values are greater than ever.

Field of 300 Trackmen Vie for AAU Honors

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A field of more than 300 trackmen will vie for honors here tomorrow in the internationally flavored Michigan AAU relays.

Preliminaries will be run in the afternoon and the finals tomorrow evening at the University of Michigan's Yost fieldhouse.

Entered in the sprints is Western Michigan's speedy Ira Murchison, three-time conqueror this season of Duke's outstanding dashman, Dave Sime.

Murchison, who'll compete unattached because Western Michigan is between semesters, is coholder of the world mark in the 100 meters and took fourth place in that event at the Olympics. He also was a member of the winning 400-meter relay team that cracked the world mark.

Representing Michigan State will be Dave Lean, a member of the Australian Olympic team. Lean finished fifth in the 400-meter hurdles at Melbourne and won a silvermedal for his efforts on Australia's 1600-meter relay team.

The field in the one-mile run is headed by Ted Wheeler of the Chicago track club. He competed for the United States in the 1,500-meter event at the Olympic.

Bear Team at Toledo

The once-beaten Berkley wrestling team puts a four match win streak on the line tonight in a big test against Whitmer High of Toledo in the Ohio city. The Bears have bowed only to Lansing Sexton in six outings.

FLOOR BOSS — Gerry Calvert is the quick-handed playmaker for Kentucky's powerful-as-usual basketball team. With Calvert calling the shots, the Wildcats were headed for another Southeast Conference title.

'M' Puckster Lost

ANN ARBOR—Center Don McIntosh of the Michigan Hockey team will be lost for the remainder of the season because of scholastic ineligibility.

Saturday Rites Set for Sports Writer Dunkley

CHICAGO (AP)—Funeral services for Charles W. Dunkley, famed sports writer and legendary figure in the profession, will be held Saturday afternoon. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery.

A wake will be held today, beginning at 3:30 p.m., CST, and continue tomorrow at Hursen Mortuary.

Dunkley, 69, died of a coronary occlusion in Miami, Fla., early yesterday. He was stricken while he and his wife, Evelyn, were visiting friends there. They lived in Williams Bay, Wis.

Dunkley was midwest sports editor of The Associated Press for 36 years before retiring in September 1952.

But Soil-Saving Incomplete

All-Out Soil Conservation Helps West

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Take it from the men who should know best, only soil conservation practices have kept current drought conditions from bringing back Dust Bowl days as bad as the "Dirty Thirties."

★ ★ ★

"Those out of touch with the land feel the conservation job is finished," Harral Allen, an Ada, Okla., farmer, said today. "But it isn't. We're still washing away twice as much soil a year as we're able to anchor down."

Sam Singleton, a farmer from Dalhart, Tex., agrees with Allen that progress so far in soil conservation has staved off a return of conditions as they were in the Dust Bowl '30s, when Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska were the hardest hit.

An estimated 1,200,000,000 acres of farm land, about 86 per cent of the total in the continental United States, are in soil conservation districts now—less than 30 years after a nationwide program got under way.

★ ★ ★

Holding the water where it falls is the purpose of the conservation programs. Planting grass cover, terracing fields and stubble mulching or tilling to keep crop stubbles on top are means to this end.

Bones 300 Years Old

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—A University of Texas professor has identified two skeletons found here as Indians about 300 years old. Dr. Donald Duncan, head of the anatomy department of the University of Texas medical branch, said the skeletons were those of a male and female. Telephone linemen unearthed their grave, which also contained pottery and beads, while digging post holes on Galveston Island.

Tax Collections Soar

WASHINGTON — Federal tax collections pushed upward to a new all-time high for the fiscal year ended last June 30. The total collections of more than 75 billion dollars represented a 13 per cent increase over the year before.

Market Quiet but Moving Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued higher in quiet early trading today.

The market was continuing yesterday's slight recovery trend following Tuesday's break, the biggest in four months. Some investors were reported encouraged by the ability of the market to stand its ground near a low point which has served as a downside barrier previously. Others said there was little conviction in the rally and a further test of the lows was in the cards.

Reduction in the British bank rate and an advance in the London stock market was a bullish factor.

The rise was fairly general. Most steels were up fractionally but Youngstown was off close to a point at the opening, later paring the loss. Bethlehem's new stock, a result of the 4-for-1 stock split, was up a fraction. Republic Steel gained similarly and U. S. Steel was stady.

MOTORS MIXED

Motors were narrowly mixed. Most leading rails were ahead slightly. Aircrafts, nonferrous metals, oils and manufacturers showed a fairly consistent array of small gains.

★ ★ ★

Among the gainers were Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, American Telephone, Kennecott, American Cyanamid, General Electric, Illinois Central, Royal Dutch and Lew's.

Among opening blocks were U.S. Steel up ⅛ at 61⅞ on 2,000 shares. Boeing up ¼ at 53⅜ on 3,000; General Electric up ¼ at 53¼ on 1,000 and General Motors unchanged at 40⅜ on 3,000.

Firmness Rules Most Grains

CHICAGO (AP)—Firm prices ruled for wheat, corn and rye while soybean and oats had an easier tone in another active session on the board of trade today. But price changes were not very large in any cereal.

Wheat attracted demand because the price has dropped below the government loan level in many sections of the country. Farmers reportedly were not willing to sell under that level. The drought helped to firm new crop wheat.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅜ to ¾ higher, March $2.32, corn unchanged to ⅜ higher; March $1.28¾, oats unchanged to ¼ lower, March 75, rye ¼ to ¾ higher, March $1.34½, soybeans ¼ to 1 cent lower, March $2.45, and lard unchanged to 25 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $15.15.

Commenting on the current price situation the Uhlmann Grain Co. said, "liquidation in all pits seems to have run its course, and the urgent selling seems to be over."

Regulations Proposed for Trade Stamp Firms

LANSING (AP) — Licensing and some regulation of trading stamp companies doing business in Michigan was proposed today in the legislature.

A bill filed by Sen. Charles S. Blondy (D-Detroit) called for licensing by the Secretary of State, with an annual fee of $100.

It would require each stamp firm to post $10,000 bond as a guarantee that stamps distributed through retailers to consumers could be redeemed for merchandise as represented by the companies.

★ ★ ★

Blondy said that trading stamp activity was mushrooming, and that he feared unless some protections were provided by law, marginal trading stamp companies would fold up, leaving consumers with their stamps holding the bag.

AMC Top Brass Hit by Detroiter

Asks to Discontinue Nash, Hudson Autos or Plan New Merger

DETROIT (AP)—A spokesman for a dissident minority stockholder group has asked the ouster of American Motors Corp. management and the discontinuance of the firm's Nash and Hudson cars or a speedy merger with a financially sound company.

Sol A. Dann, Detroit attorney, accused the company's top officials at a stockholder meeting here yesterday of "having led the stockholders to the brink of disaster."

Dann said he owned 900 shares of stock personally in the coporation and represented an undisclosed number of other dissatisfied stockholders.

He urged complete reorganization of the company to remove the present officers; discontinuance of the Nash and Hudson cars; the closing down of the company's Milwaukee plant, and concentration of the manufacture of the Rambler car.

As an alternative, Dann urged that as quickly as possible the company "take a look" at a financially sound company in an allied industry which could merge with or purchase American Motors.

Amerian Motors has had losses in each of the three fiscal years since its formation in May, 1954 out of Nash-Kelvinator and Hudson Motors.

LOSSES LOWER

Stockholders were told by the company yesterday, however, that AMC operations in the quarter ended Dec. 21, 1956, the first quarter of the company's fiscal year, showed a net loss of $2,994,613. This compared with an operating loss of $4,629,352 for the like period the previous year.

In the December, 1955, quarter, however, the company had a nonrecurring profit of $7,141,920 from the sale of a portion of its holdings in a subsidiary. This resulted in an actual net profit of $2,521,568.

The appliance division was reported in good shape, having made a profit during 1956 and with profitable prospects for 1957.

Dann said yesterday that before the next annual meeting he would offer a resolution which would reduce all officials' salaries to $25,000 or less per year if the company had not made money in the two preceding years.

PROMOTED—R. J. Flick, 6763 Desmond St., has been named assistant merchandising manager of American Motors Corp.'s automotive division, officials said today. Flick joined Hudson Motors in 1948, and before his promotion was assistant sales training manager for the automotive division. He is a graduate of Fordham University.

Firm Declares Dividend

A regular quarterly dividend of five cents a common share has been announced by Sherman Products Inc. of Royal Oak. The dividend will be payable March 15 to stockholders of record March 1.

Ford '56 Income Down From 1955

Report Near-Half Drop From Former Year Net —but Sales Still High

DEARBORN (INS)—Ford Motor Co. has reported that its 1956 net income was $236,600,000 or 45.9 per cent lower than the previous year, when earnings totaled $437 million.

The 1956 per share earnings amounted to $4.38, compared with $8.19 in 1955. A quarterly dividend of 60 cents a share, payable March 12, was declared by the board of directors.

However, company President Henry Ford II said net sales of $4,647,000,000 last year were only 16.9 per cent below those of 1955 and the second highest in the company's history.

Ford explained that unusual costs were incurred last year for facilities and product line expansion programs "which do not contribute to income until new plants are in full production and new products are sold in volume."

Ford said the company spent a record 530-million-dollars for expansion, modernization and replacement of facilities in 1956.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Bus Companies Need Tax Relief to Operate

LANSING (AP)—Fast tax relief is needed to keep the state's local and inter-city bus companies from folding, a legislative committee declared today.

The recommendation was contained in the report of a house interim committee created to investigate numerous bus company failures in Michigan.

Rep. James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain) is chairman.

Goulette said bus companies are in "dire straits" and suggested several forms of tax relief to keep them operating.

He recommended to the legislature that the local and inter-city bus companies be given tax relief such as is provided to local governments.

This would include the lifting of the gasoline and Diesel fuel tax, the weight tax and the portion of the mileage tax not used to help pay for operation of the State Public Service Commission.

Has Most Rental Cars

MIAMI—The Miami area boasts one-fourth of the world's rental cars.

Nanette, Carney May Team Up

Lou Costello to Appear Without Bud Abbott on Steve Allen Show

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Vincent Lopez' local show gets the full CBS network Saturday and Vincent, a dilettante numerologist and astrologist who prophesied his show would go network within six months after its start last October, now says his stars insist he'll have a network sponsor in 60 days . . .

Nanette Fabray and Art Carney may be next year's TV team to beat . . . Nan's off to Mexico while the haggling goes on. Carney is also considering a "Min and Bill" MGM series . . .

Lou Costello will steal a page from Jerry Lewis' book and will appear without Bud Abbot on Steve Allen's Sunday show, replacing Eddie Cantor, whose doctor won't let him play . . .

ABC has this pat on the back from Neilsen: 10 ABC-TV shows top all competition in their own time slots: Disneyland, Welk (once on Monday, two separately sponsored half-hours Saturday), Cheyenne, Conflict, Wyatt Earp, Broken Arrow, Rin Tin Tin and Jim Bowie.

The ARB top 10: Sullivan, Lucy, Como, GE Theater, Shower of Stars, Hitchcock, $64,000 Question, Groucho, Disneyland, Talent Scouts . . .

LINCOLN NAMESAKE

If folks have been wondering about Charles Van Doren on "21," be advised at least that his middle name is Lincoln—named after Honest Abe, on whose birthday the big cash winner also arrived . . . Van Doren is co-author of "Lincoln's Commando," to be published by Harper's April 17.

It's a cinch Arthur Godfrey won't be able to pay Pat Boone's price next season. Pat and ABC have agreed on a five-year $1,000,000 contract.

Lonesome George Gobel may be more lonesome if NBC can get him to accept fewer TV appearances for the good of his extended career.

DISC HIT LIKELY

Coca Cola gave up not only Eddie Fisher, but the NBC-TV time.

Probe Mistreatment of Marine Recruits

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Marine authorities at this recruit depot are probing charges by several recruits that they have been mistreated by drill instructors in their platoon.

* * *

The source said the investigation will determine whether formal charges will be placed against any of the instructors.

Rubs Cat Wrong Way

MARDELA, Md. (AP)— Mrs. Francis Hopkins noticed her pet cat was missing when she was doing the family wash. The cat couldn't hear her call because it is deaf, but she soon heard from it. Pulling the plug of her automatic washer, she dragged out a soaking, undamaged and very clean cat.

City Realtor Joins Fliers Association

The organization of "Flying Realtors," was organized in 1948 to exchange information, experiences and ideas on the use of the airplane in the real estate profession and promote aviation.

W. W. Lobdell, Rockford, Ill., president of the organization, announced Kinzler's election. Another local realtor, Les Arie is secretary-treasurer of the group.

West Kiwanians' Pancake Dinner to Aid Children

The West Pontiac Kiwanis Club will hold its second annual "Pancake Sale" Feb. 16 from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Civic Room of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Proceeds of the benefit will go toward the service club's projects for under-privileged children.

The pancake dinner will consist of sausage, pancakes, coffee and soft drinks. Adults will be charged $1 for "all they can eat," and children 50 cents. A club spokesman reported that the response to last year's event was very good with more than 1,200 people attending. The club's own band will entertain while 58 Kiwanians serve the guests.

Waterford Slates Winter Tourneys at Athletic Club

Winter tournaments in the Waterford Township Young Men's Athletic Club are scheduled to begin soon at the Community Activities building, on Williams Lake Road.

This Young Men's Athletic Club is supervised every Monday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. and has been organized for Waterford Township boys in grades 9 through 12, according to Tom Belton, recreational director.
