Holiday Traffic Toll Sets 6-Year Record; Michigan Toll is 26

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christmas holiday traffic deaths soared past the 500 pre-season estimate of the National Safety Council to a six-year record Monday night.

The latest count of the three-day yuletide period from 6 p.m. (local time) Friday to midnight Sunday, there were 521. Fires took 83 other lives and 85 persons died in miscellaneous mishaps. The over-all total of violent deaths was 689.

Two Die Sunday After Accidents

Deaths of Pair Push County's Traffic Toll to Five for Weekend

A Commerce Township teen-ager who survived an "incurable" kidney ailment as a child was one of two persons who died Sunday as a result of Oakland County traffic accidents.

Fatally injured in separate accidents were Lois L. Freeman, 18, of 8300 Marie St., Commerce Township, and David S. Kelly, 29, of 768 Tenney Ave.

The deaths bring the county's holiday weekend death toll to five. Three other area residents were killed in traffic mishaps between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday. There were no fatal accidents on Christmas in the county.

The Freeman girl died at 10:45 p.m. Sunday in Pontiac General Hospital from injuries suffered Saturday afternoon when her car skidded on slippery pavement and crashed into a concrete culvert on Williams Lake Road near R. Elizabeth Lane in Waterford Township.

Her mother, Mrs. Edgar A. Freeman, 41, a passenger in the car, is reported in satisfactory condition today at the hospital.

As a child of four, Miss Freeman successfully won her battle with chronic nephritis after spending most of her life at that point in Pontiac General Hospital.

Miss Freeman grew up to graduate from Walled Lake High School in June and to obtain employment as a nurse's aide at Green Haven Rest Home.

She planned to become a nurse. Kelly, the father of three young children, suffered internal and head injuries in a two-car collision Friday night on East Glass Road, just east of M15, in Brandon Township. He died at 11:30 a.m. Sunday in Pontiac General Hospital.

Kelly and David Cook, 28, 333 E. Glass Road, were passengers in a car driven by James F. Nickerson, 30, 751 Bingham Ave., Pontiac. Nickerson's car slid across FOOTBALL WEATHER — Football players from northern college teams invaded Miami, Fla., Monday and brought along cool weather, in which they are used to playing. It didn't help. They lost 35 to 16 in the annual North-South All-Star game played in the Orange Bowl stadium. Here, two spectators, Larry Maples, left, and Frank Marks, huddle bravely in the stands to watch the game. The temperature at game time was 47. The low on Christmas morning was 42.

Sees Father, Goes Back to Work

Kennedy to Get Checkup

PALM BEACH, Fla. — President Kennedy, attired informally to St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach, where his father is hospitalized.

In announcing that Wade would examine the President with the regular White House physician, Dr. Janet Travell, press secretary Pierre Salinger emphasized that Kennedy has experienced no recent trouble with his back.

The President's brother, Edward M. Kennedy, visited his father at St. Mary's Hospital this morning. He told newsmen his father appeared to be "about the same."

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger added to this report later by saying there was no change in Joseph Kennedy's condition. Fever, caused by the mild case of pneumonia, has virtually subsided, and the elder Kennedy's temperature is now "very near normal," Salinger added.

Dr. Wade planned to see the President about 1:30 p.m.

Former Senator From Maine Dies

Owen Brewster, Strong Opponent of Roosevelt's New Deal, Succumbs

BOSTON (AP)—Former U. S. Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine, an old foe of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal and for 18 years Maine's most potent political figure, died in a Christian Science retreat house Monday. He was 73.

The Republican lawmaker and his wife had been at the Christian Science Benevolent Association House for a week.

Brewster, a former president of the Christian Science Mother Church, had made periodic retreats at the house.

He is survived by his widow, Dorothy, and a son, Charles, a Bangor, Maine, attorney.

Christian Science funeral services will be held in the First Universalist church in Dexter, Maine, Thursday at 2:30 p.m.

DEFEATED '32
Brewster was defeated in his bid for a third Senate term in 1932. Since then he had lived quietly in seclusion, spending nine months of the year in Washington and the rest in Dexter, his home town.

In his career Brewster clashed with many political opponents. His most bitter feud was with Howard Hughes, millionaire plane and tool manufacturer.

In 1917 Brewster was chairman of a Senate War Investigating Committee. A subcommittee of that body investigated Hughes' World War II plane contracts.

Hughes claimed Brewster had offered to sidetrack the inquiry if Hughes would merge his firm with Brewster's.

Mercury Drops to 32 Degrees South of Miami

Clear Skies Prevent Snow; Low of 20 Is Felt in Dixie State

MIAMI, Fla. — Winter charged into Florida today and brought freezing temperatures south of Miami.

The Weather Bureau in Miami received unofficial reports of hard ice forming on automobiles in Homestead, 20 miles south of Miami, where the temperature fell to 32 degrees overnight.

"Under favorable conditions it could have snowed in Florida today," said forecaster John Lee, "but it can't snow with a clear sky overhead."

Record low temperatures were established for the day through most of the state, forecasters said. A 55-year record was broken at Jacksonville where the mercury hit 15 degrees.

The low of 42 degrees at Miami International Airport was 10 degrees lower than any Dec. 26 on record.

Farther north in Florida, temperatures dipped 6 to 22 near Bushnell. La Crosse had a low of 20 and Gainesville registered 22. Readings of 27 degrees, frost and ice were reported in Immokalee in the Everglades farming district.

AT CAPITAL
Other low early morning temperatures included Pensacola 20, Tallahassee 20, Tampa 24, Orlando 34, Vero Beach 37, Key West 51.

The storm front that stung Florida and other parts of the South with numbing cold had brought a white Christmas to a large area of the nation.

Other readings in Dixie included a 28 at Birmingham, Ala.

Residents and winter visitors to Florida's usually subtropical southeast coast pulled on sweaters and other warm clothing instead of shorts and swim suits.

Train for Christmas

"HAPPIEST" YULE — Mrs. Sallie Towler Lovelace, 87, of Dallas, Tex., has admired trains since she took her first train ride from Jacksonville, Tex., to Kilgore, Tex., when she was 10 years old in 1844. This Dec. 25, which she called her "happiest" Christmas, she played with her electric train pulled in her by her daughter. Said Mrs. Lovelace: "I know possessions are the curse of the world—but this train is terrific."

World Leaders Call for Peace and Unity

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Leaders of the Western world appealed by peace and unity in Christmas messages Monday while expressing grave concern over differences dividing major powers and flareups troubling lesser ones.

President Kennedy assured West Berliners in a taped television broadcast that the beacon of free Berlin "will continue to shine brightly for many years to come."

"We are at your side—as before," Kennedy declared. "We shall stay. Until truly there is good will among men, not walls to divide them, our pursuit of peace shall continue."

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt called Kennedy his "apostle of peace," asserting that "Berliners will take upon themselves new burdens rather than to forsake communism and principles which free men all over the world are willing to defend."

Churches were filled to capacity in both East and West Berlin. The grim concrete and barbed wire walls the Communists drew up to divide the city was softened a bit by the first Christmas snow in five years. Some 800 lighted Christmas trees twinkled along the Western side of the wall to remind the East Berliners that they were not forgotten.

TROOPS STAN GUARD
Berlin tables were heavy with the traditional Christmas goose, but troops and police of both West and East stood guard on each side of the wall.

Queen Elizabeth II said in a broadcast to the nation of the British Commonwealth: "We can only dispel the clouds of anxiety by the patient and determined efforts of us all. It cannot be done by condemning the past or by contracting out of the present. Angry words and accusations certainly don't do any good, however justified they may be."

Across the English Channel, King Baudouin of Belgium declared that a new united Europe "which is building under our eyes" must "become a powerful element for world peace."

In Bonn, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer noted the use of armed force in the Congo and India of Portuguese enclaves, in addition to gunplay in German border incidents, and observed: "How far is the world from the peace proclaimed by the Christian gospels."

Palestinians, pilgrims and tourists packed the Christian churches at Jerusalem, and about 100 visitors journeyed across the Jordan hills to services at Bethlehem, bathed in a brilliant winter sun.

"Nice Christmas" for Wife Sends Area Man to Jail
An unemployed Farmington husband wanted his wife "to have a nice Christmas." He was arrested for armed robbery Saturday by Redford state police.

Richard Byrne, 31, of 30812 Park St., already had spent the $100 from a stick-up at Honey's Market, 2200 Middle Belt Road shortly before he was apprehended at home, troopers said.

He spent the money, taken at pistol-point from storekeeper Louis Edsall, for Christmas presents for his wife, they added. Byrne was identified by a witness in the store, who said he was arrested today before yuletide jubilee of the peace Allen C. Ingles. The gifts will have to be returned, troopers said.

Sale of Waldron Hotel to Annett Announced

The Waldron Hotel Building, including 11 offices and business places covering nearly a city block, has been sold to Roy Annett, Inc. It was announced today.

The sale was disclosed to day by Bruce Annett, president and treasurer of the purchasing corporation and Howard Heidenbrand, hotel manager and vice president of Waldron Properties, Inc.

All details of the deal are not yet completed but major agreements were signed Saturday, according to Heidenbrand.

ACQUIRED HOTEL IN '33
Heidenbrand assumed ownership and management of Waldron Properties, Inc., shortly after it was named hotel manager in 1933.

At that time the property was being managed by Kora A. Kern, Inc., who took over management during the depression.

The three-story hotel has been a Pontiac landmark since it was built for $400,000 in 1927 by E. P. Waldron. The "Waldron" grew to include rented office space.

Included in the Saturday transaction were facilities housing the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, Western Union, WFOH Radio (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Icy Roads Possible as Snow, Rain Due

There's a chance of some light snow mixed with rain tonight.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said temperatures will average near the normal high of 31 to 35 for the next five days and drop to lows of 15 to 22.

Wednesday will be partly cloudy with a chance of snow flurries and a high of 34.

Celebrate Yule Under Red Guns in Viet Nam

Editor's Note: Malcolm W. Browne, Associated Press correspondent for South Viet Nam, spent Christmas at an advanced training base north of Saigon, where 15 U.S. Army instructors and their Vietnamese trainees observed the holiday under the eyes of Viet Cong snipers.

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
TRUNG LAP, South Viet Nam (AP)—Despite the constant threat of Viet Cong snipers and guerrillas, U.S. Army men and their Vietnamese trainees stationed at this lonely ranger base in the jungle observed Christmas with a midnight Mass, a Christmas tree and a turkey dinner.

The Mass was said in Vietnamese by a South Vietnamese army chaplain. The Christmas tree was small and mounted on cases of mortar shells. And the turkey dinner had been carried 30 miles north from Saigon over bumpy, dangerous roads. But Trung Lap camp spent a peaceful holiday.

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are declining to say anything at all about a declaration by Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., that the United States should invade Cuba and demand that the United Nations sanction the action.

"If the U.S. can sanction India's invasion of Goa, it should sanction our invasion of Cuba," Rivers said in Charleston, S.C., last week.

State Department officials said they had no comment on the declaration, a source usually followed when members of Congress make observations about foreign affairs.

The same stand was taken at the Pentagon.

The congressman's comment, however, appeared to have sparked widespread interest in diplomatic circles here.

Although some were inclined to believe the situation are not parallel, diplomats who consider the United States regime a menace to the United States and to other American republics say the Cuban problem is not something that will just go away.

UAW Vice President Transferred to Clinic
TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Richard Gosser, international vice president of the United Auto Workers Union, was transferred from Toledo Hospital to Cleveland Clinic Monday for treatment of a kidney infection.

Gosser, 61, was stricken last week and was admitted to Toledo hospital Wednesday.

At Cleveland Clinic, doctors said Gosser had shown some improvement. His condition was not as satisfactory.

Algerian Rebel's Trip to Rome Spurs Rumors

ROME (AP)—An Algerian nationalist rebel leader arrived today amid reports he will contact French representatives here about new negotiations on the future of Algeria.

The official, State Minister Lakdar Ben Toudia, declined to make a statement.

But before leaving his headquarters in Tunis, he said he was making a two-day trip on private business.

Secret contacts have been reported between the French and the rebels in Rome and Geneva in recent weeks.

President Charles de Gaulle is expected to make some reference to negotiations in a radio-TV address Friday night.

Personality Cult Blamed in Revolt

Hungary's Kadar Says
Views of Predecessor
Fostered '56 Violence

MOSCOW (AP)—Hungary's Communist party chief, János Kadar, says one reason for the 1956 Hungarian revolt was the personality cult (Stalinism) built up around Matyas Rakosi, one of his predecessors. Kadar, 59, pressed this view Tuesday in Pravda, the Communist party paper.

A bald, pudgy little dictator known to Hungarians as "Potato Head," Rakosi resigned under fire as the party's first secretary July 18, 1956—four months before the uprising.

Rakosi pleaded aged—64—and illness. He quickly headed to the Soviet Union and dropped out of sight. Deputy Premier Erno Gero succeeded him, only to be ousted after the revolt.

Kadar's article said: "Only after having liquidated the personality cult and all its consequences could our party again win the confidence and support of the people, which had been undermined as a result of the political views of Rakosi."

Kadar also compared the Albanian party chief, Gen. Enver Hoxha, with Leon Trotsky.

"In many respects," he wrote, "the views of Enver Hoxha and his lieutenants bear a striking resemblance to the views of the Trotskyites in the early 1930s, who shunned the work of Socialist construction, which requires daily endeavor, and also embraced adventurism and phrase-mongering."

In a general attack on consequences of the Stalinist line, Kadar said "the liquidation of the personality cult and the pursuit of a genuinely Leninist foreign policy have prevented a new world war."

Shopping Center to Feature Ward, Hudson Stores

Pontiac Mall Largest in 5-County Region

Pontiac Mall in Waterford Township, which will feature a Montgomery Ward and J. L. Hudson Co. budget store as its principal tenants, is the largest of the suburban shopping centers under construction in the five-county region of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe and Washtenaw.

Some 28 centers of community and regional size in this area have been established since 1953, according to a recent survey on the status of suburban shopping centers by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

The 28 centers represent an investment of more than $100 million.

Former Inkster Man Arrested for Theft

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—A former Inkster, Mich., resident, who was accused of stealing $16,000 from his partner in a proposed clothing deal, was free on $25,000 bond here today.

Michael D. Martin, 40, was arrested Sunday by the FBI in near by Spring Valley and was freed on bond at a special hearing before a federal commissioner.

He was arrested on a warrant issued in Dearborn, Mich., on complaint of Stanley Long, who said he gave Martin the money more than a year ago.

Martin fled as soon as he cashed the checks, Long said.

Refugee Says Cuba Has New Missile Silo

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A Cuban refugee says Fidel Castro's government has built an underground missile launching pad with the aid of Iron Curtain country experts.

Roberto Marrero, who fled Havana recently, said in an interview Monday the launching site in Pinar del Rio Province is heavily guarded by militiamen who recently completed a 60-day missile training course by Soviet and Czech technicians.

Seek Athletes in Theft

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Mrs. Edwina Crabbe is convinced that athletes are behind a theft at her home.

The reason? Their take was a 7-foot high, 30-foot wide baseball backstop.

Oakland County with nine centers at $37 million is second only to Wayne County, leading with 12 centers valued at $64.5 million.

Macomb County is third largest with five centers and 2.4 million square feet of store space were placed in operation.

It is quite evident from the data compiled by the commission that the pattern of suburban shopping centers has developed along the major highways where population has become increasingly dense.

Movement of population to the suburbs has enabled new planned centers to come to life and prosper. In some areas, the centers have been built in response to the needs of long-time residents of suburban communities.

In other places, the pattern of suburban shopping centers has developed along the major highways where population has become increasingly dense.

Other centers under construction are Garden City Plaza and Fairland in Wayne County and Westgate in Washtenaw County.

Glenwood Plaza in Pontiac and Madison Villa in Madison Heights are the two centers proposed for construction within the next year.

Of the two, Glenwood Plaza is the larger. It is projected to be a $3-million development, covering nearly 300,000 square feet of store space. Kresge is the principal tenant and completion is tentatively set for early 1962.

The other proposed center, Madison Villa, on John R. and 12-Mile roads in Madison Heights, will offer nearly 194,000 square feet of building area with J. L. Hudson's Budget Store as the major occupant. It is scheduled for opening in the spring.

The Regional Planning Commission in its report indicates that while there has been a lag in shopping center construction during the past two years with only one center completed in each of 1960 and 1961, as compared to an average of four centers for the period 1954 through 1959, 1962 will be another banner year.

structure are completed to the shopping center construction represents a normal economic response to potential markets by reason of the dispersed spread of population, the commission study indicated.

Generally, people who are going to the suburbs are young people with children and well suited market-wise to the planned type of shopping center, the commission noted.

New centers by themselves do not increase retail expenditure, but merely redistribute purchases, it explained.

What impact the larger centers have on the sales of the smaller centers and on the central business districts is difficult to ascertain. Their importance in altering the retail pattern, however, can of long-time residents of suburban communities.

Paralyzed Girl Smiles at Family Christmas

STATE CENTER, Iowa (AP)—Ann Hilleman moved her hand a few inches, fondled a stuffed toy, and smiled.

The smile, the excitement in her eyes and that tiny movement with her hand were the 17-year-old girl's only acknowledgments of Christmas at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hilleman.

Airliner Takes Off After Bomb Search

BALTIMORE (AP)—An Eastern Air Lines passenger plane left Friendship International Airport early today after a search disclosed rumors of a bomb aboard the aircraft.

The 65 passengers disembarked as airport police searched the plane, which was grounded here for about two hours.

Chief agent J. E. Baker said the tip was received from the airline's Washington office. He said the plane was bound from Syracuse, N.Y. to Nashville, Tenn.

U.S. Department of Agriculture researchers have developed what may be a new non-sweating wood which will eliminate the nuisance of tight-fitting windows and drawers.

Christmas at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hilleman. She lay in bed, a few feet from the gaily decorated Christmas tree, while her parents, three sisters and a brother waited their celebration so the commotion wouldn't tax Ann's strength. Her weak attempts to join the fun renewed the Hilleman's faith that Ann would yet recover from injuries suffered in a tragic crash last May after a high school prom.

... MAYBE BY EASTER "We were sort of hoping Ann would be able to talk by Christmas," said her father. "Maybe by Easter."

Rabbi Fills In for Deputies on Christmas

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Rabbi Samuel A. Friedman of congregation B'Nai Israel led his annual volunteer duty Christmas Day as relief man in the New Hanover County sheriff's office.

Continuing a service he began 10 years ago, the rabbi spent the day answering telephones, keeping records and operating the police radio to allow three deputies to spend Christmas with their families.

Although able to take but a few steps, to smile, and to use her hands to signal "yes" and "no," Ann's improvement is considered an answer to their prayers by the Hillemans.

She had lain unconscious more than four months after the crash in which a school chum was killed. She didn't move her eyes until late in September—an exciting day Mrs. Hilleman recalled—and didn't move her hands until early November.

"That's the way it's been," Hilleman said. "About the time you get discouraged she does something new."

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon" New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials of normal regularity As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style pills and noisier may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs frequently cramp and gripe. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONAD gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

Shortly before Christmas Eve she laughed aloud, boosting her parents' hopes she will regain her speech.

Doctors say they won't know for at least a year whether damage to Ann's brain is permanent. She suffered brain injuries, a broken jaw and a fractured cheekbone in the crash.

Her parents are counting on their prayers and Ann's drive to complete her recovery. "It takes determination," her father said. "Ann's got plenty of that."

Joseph Du Barry Dies

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—Joseph N. Du Barry, 68, retired assistant to the president of Smith, Kline & French, Inc., died Monday. Early in his career he was a reporter for the Philadelphia Bulletin and the old Philadelphia North American and Philadelphia Ledger. He retired from the drug firm in 1958 after 35 years service.

Montana is three times the area of the state of New York. It is equal to the combined area of the United Kingdom, Belgium and the Netherlands.

Checks Son's Report

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind. (AP)—A father decided to check his son's report that the boy's teacher threatened to "throw me in the furnace" if he didn't behave in class. It turned out the teacher had threatened to "drop him from the register"—the academic register, that is.

Pope Issues Bull Convoking Ecumenical Council in 1962

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII issued a papal bull Monday formally convoking an ecumenical council of the Roman Catholic Church next year. It will deal with internal affairs of the church, advance the cause of Christian unity and consider the problems besetting modern man. The Pope did not set the exact date for some 3,000 Catholic leaders to gather in St. Peter's Basilica. The worldwide council is expected to open late in 1962.

The internal administration of the church and paths toward Christian unity—two problems that have been major concerns of Pope John since his election in 1958—will be major topics at the council.

The Pope, expressing grave concern over "militant atheism, operating on a world plan," said the council "could not ignore the problems and troubles of the world."

"NEW ERA" "While humanity is on the verge of a new era," the papal bull continued, "the church faces tasks of immense gravity and breadth as in the most tragic epochs of her history."

"They concern, in fact, the need of bringing the living and perennial energies of the Gospel to the modern world—a world that exalts itself in its conquests in the technical and scientific fields."

The ecumenical council, known as Vatican II, will be the 21st in the history of the church. Many of its predecessors have issued historic decisions. The first, in 325, set the date for Easter. The 19th lasted 18 years—from 1545 to 1563—and condemned the beliefs of Martin Luther.

The last council, known as Vatican I and called in 1869, proclaimed the infallibility of Roman pontiffs when teaching in their full authority on matters of faith and morals.

Eliminating Backlog of Land Applications

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall reported Monday good progress toward eliminating a backlog of over 40,000 nonmineral applications for public lands.

This pile-up led to a declaration last February of an 18-month moratorium on public applications.

Udall said that at the end of October there were about 27,000 nonmineral applications cases left and that during the moratorium the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) had made over 2,000 adjudications and completed 15,000 field examinations.

The moratorium covers most types of new nonmineral applications for public lands. It does not apply to state or local government applications nor stop sales of land at the government's own motion.

From the Protestant viewpoint, in his drive for Christian unity he hoped for a return of "the separated brothers... in unity and peace" to the Roman Catholic fold and not toward a condemnation of churches with shared authority.

The remains of a small Viking (first or second century) have been unearthed on the Swedish island of Gotland in the Baltic Sea.

Congress' Next Session Should Prove Interesting

The upcoming session of Congress will be a boisterous spectacle with President John F. Kennedy asking for his "must list" of bills, and the opposition lining up to hold the line.

Quite possibly, the Democrats in the House will not be as strong this session. The prestige and influence of SAM RAYBURN is gone. In his place, JOHN MCCORMACK is the likely candidate as Speaker.

McCormack is not a new hand, but nevertheless, he cannot guide the Democrats on key issues as often as Rayburn once did. In some quarters of the party he is not too popular and some bickering is bound to result.

The overall picture gives the numerical edge to the conservatives over the liberals in the House lineup. This results from the coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats. It can be expected that with this strength they will probably outvote JFK on some issues.

Being politicians, however, they cannot stray often. This could be dangerous since they have constituents back home.

The Republican House leader Charles Halleck is shrewd and cunning. He is far from the most popular man in his party, yet he is still a good legislative tactician. In working with party members he can be offensive and at times hard to get along with.

Over in the Senate, MIKE MANSFIELD is the Democratic leader and without doubt is effective. He works quietly to round up the support he needs. His assistant, HUBERT HUMPHREY, has stopped sounding off and is picking up more influence as a result.

On the other side, Everett Dirksen, the Republican leader has lost his sidekick. Sen. Stiles Bridges died recently and will be missed. He was a strong force and was close to being a real boss of the Republicans in the Senate. Dirksen should take over, but remember this is election year and he will be busy in his own behalf getting re-elected.

Main issues at stake are tax reform, tariffs, medical care, postal rates and aid to education. Lobbying will be at an all time high. KENNEDY, of course, is an old hand with experience in both Houses.

So the outlook for the 1962 congressional session is that both sides will be swinging their political shilleghs in a slam-bang power struggle.

Old Theory in Politics to Get Thorough Test

A well-established name in politics means a great deal. This old theory will get a double testing in 1962 according to some recent reports.

The late Sen. Robert A. Taft's son Robert, is after the Republican nomination for Congressman at large in our neighboring state of Ohio.

Out for the U.S. Senate seat in Massachusetts is GEORGE C. LODGE, son of last year's Republican vice president choice, HENRY CABOT LODGE. The latter lost his seat in 1952 to President JOHN F. KENNEDY.

At this writing there is a great deal of speculation that young Lodge's 1962 Senate opponent may be Edward Kennedy, the President's youngest brother, now an assistant district attorney in Boston.

Word from Washington is that JFK has given his approval, and told Ted to go get 'em.

We've all heard that the younger generation is taking over in politics, but possibly we didn't realize how closely related it may be to the men who have gone before.

Yuletide Spirit

Lingers With Us Past the Christmas Day Observance

The Day After: When we should begin to extend the same spirit over the other 364.

A use has been found for the obsolete hoola hoop, according to Mrs. Leroy W. Davis of 5035 Pine Knob Road. Cover with white paper with red ribbon hangings, on which arrange your Christmas cards.

The family dog in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yecker of Rochester took a healthy bite out of Santa Claus' padding, but didn't like the taste.

The true Christmas spirit was shown by the cat of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Quarry of Keego Harbor. She moved her week-old kittens from a box in the kitchen and deposited them under the tree.

The canary bird of Mrs. Gladys Marcher of Waterford plays little attention to the usual radio or TV music, but joins in on Christmas carols.

A Christmas tree, grown in a tub, has done service for several years in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Padua of Birmingham. However, it does not thrive on the indoor treatment it gets at Christmas time.

The Old Farmer's Almanac has this to say about Pontiac weather this week: "Be of good cheer; blizzard is near."

According to Michigan State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, Michigan now leads the nation in highway construction. In spite of its geographical size, Texas is in second place. Of course, there's something to go to in Michigan.

Other parts of the nation, especially in New England, point to their covered highway bridges, and now

Mrs. Lauretta Smith of Royal Oak wishes to ask if we've ever had any in Oakland County. One of the first bridges over the Clinton River on Pontiac's Saginaw St. had such a covering for a short time, but our history has no record of another in this county. Do you know of any?

A phone call from Arthur Adairne of Birmingham tells me that he worked with Louis G. Hupp who died recently, developing the Hupmobile and other cars soon after the turn of the century.

You cannot tell me that Adlai E. Stevenson has given up his political quest. His annual Christmas card arrived on time.

"I helped build it, and was on its trial run," writes Forrest Caravel of Rochester, in telling that it was only ten years ago today that the ferry "Vacationland" was completed. It was put out of business by the bridge.

Coming clean, but odoriferously, Jack McGaffigan, who lives in the halls north of Rochester, says that he discovered the other day that he was mistaken in his idea that skunks hibernate.

Fallen Angel

David Lawrence Says: 'Peaceful' Man's Wars a Mystery

WASHINGTON — "Peace on earth"—nearly everybody wants it. "Good will toward men"—almost all the peoples of the world feel it toward one another. Then what's wrong? Why is war threatened despite the innate desires of peoples? These questions have never been satisfactorily answered since the Caesars of yesterday marched out of their native lands to conquer other lands. Nor have they been answered in the modern world of the victors must go always to the victor. Illusions still persist—that somehow by personal conferences between monarchs or heads of states Utopia can be achieved, or at least war prevented. But these talks have largely proved fruitless, because the approach is to an immoral dictatorship that threatens its adversary from a position of strength and believes he either will not fight or has too much at stake to risk a fight. If one party has no leverage when two sides "negotiate," then the victor will go always to the victor. The victor's doubtless feel they do not need to threaten, and eventually they will have their way. It is true that at West Berlin there has been a show of military force by the West that has caused the Communists at least to hesitate to provoke a large conflict. But, meanwhile, the Communists have pressed their "cold war" in other areas. They probably were back of India's seizure of Goa. For Krishna Menon, India's minister of defense, is known to be very close to the Communists. In U.N. meetings he invariably takes the Communist side. He has a strange and unexplained influence over Nehru. He doubtless persuaded Nehru that conquest of Goa is important to India's prestige. Poor Nehru! He said in a speech Saturday that it was "surprising" that friendly countries like Britain and the United States should have been angry over Goa. Such naivete by the head of the government of India, who recently returned from a visit with President Kennedy at the White House, seems incredible. "THOU SHALT NOT STEAL"—"Some of their (Western) newspapers," said Nehru, "called us hypocrites. India will not reply to them in anger. Perhaps they saw things from a different perspective." True, indeed, there's a different "perspective" in the Western world—perspective of morality and a belief that the commandment, "Thou shalt not steal," is ingrained in the moral philosophy of every religion of the world, including the Moslem faith. But how is the United States to assert its leadership in the face of India's theft of Goa and Indonesia's threat to steal Dutch New Guinea? What leverage can the West mobilize to impress Moscow? Is military force—which could mean nuclear force—the only answer? Sooner or later Western diplomacy, which relies on talk and more talk, negotiations and more negotiations, will have to find another source of strength in addition to military force. This could be based on a right long granted by international law—the right to withhold trade from an enemy. The principle can be applied to a "cold war" as well as it has been to a "hot war." If the free nations of the world decided to cut off all diplomatic, financial and economic relations with the Communists and also to "quarantine"—as the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt used the word—all those nations, whether in Latin America or Africa or Asia, which continue to allow Communist agents and Communist money to enter their domain, then there would be a powerful leverage in dealing with Moscow. Dr. William Brady Says: Cold Sore Cure for a Lip: Splints and No Yakety-Yak

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY The most familiar situation of herpes, commonly called fever blower or "cold" sore, is on the lip or on the skin of the face. First there is a tingling, burning and a feeling of tension, then in an hour or two the appearance of a little group of vesicles or papules upon a reddened base. The vesicles finally coalesce into a bleb. The bleb or blister usually breaks and in the course of a week or two, barring complications, heals, leaving no scar. Herpes of the cheek near the eye or on the eyelid may involve the covering of the eyeball and produce ulcer of the cornea, which is extremely painful and likely to leave a permanent defect of vision. Gentle application of spirits of camphor with the finger every few minutes seems to be the most satisfactory treatment for cold sore at the beginning, before the little groups of blisters break. After the vesicles break a weak alkali solution may be better—about five grains (a good pinch) of powdered alkali dissolved in an ounce of cologne water. Healing of a cold sore on the lip or face is favored by rest, just as in healing of broken leg. In other words, no yakety-yak and keep the lip in splints for a few days by applying a collodion splint. If it will stick, or a strip of plastic adhesive to the skin close to the sore in such a manner as to hold the lip slightly puckered, or, if this is not practicable, keep a thick covering of zinc oxide ointment on the lip. I haven't said anything about the cause of cold sores (herpes, fever blower) because I have no idea what the cause may be. To be sure, herpes often accompanies this or that feverish illness. It is a common accompaniment of mononucleosis. Some investigators have reported successful inoculation of patients with herpetic exudate. From this experiment, they theorized that the cause of herpes simplex is a virus. But all this is conjectural. In my good-so good that I sometimes confuse my notions with the facts, or at any rate what the rank and file of the medical profession consider to be facts. DUE TO DRYNESS! My notion of simple herpes, fever blower, cold sore is that the trouble is due chiefly to the extreme dryness of the climate where most people live seven or eight months of the year—the great "indoor Sahara." The extreme aridity of the air produced by overheating homes, offices, schools and shops is as hard on the skin and respiratory mucous membrane as it is on growing plants, musical instruments, furniture and book bindings. To combat the ill effects of excessive dryness of the air when house or building is artificially heated, it is necessary to evaporate, by one means or another, not less than two gallons of water in each room every day. Try this on your carpets, your cineraria, your haphazard or your winter cough. "Don't use X," said "Communism is intrinsically perverse, and it cannot be admitted that those who wish to serve the Christian civilization may in any way cooperate with it." (Copyright 1961)

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Dogs Serve as Child Psychiatrists

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE Case K-486: Tommy J., aged 9, is an only child. "Dr. Crane, I'm at my wit's end," his mother began. "For Tommy I want a puppy."

"But I know he'll have him in the house much of the time and I hate to have dog hairs all over my rug."

"Tommy is lonely at times because he has no brothers or sisters, so should I get him a dog?"

DOG PSYCHIATRISTS Recently Judge James B. McGee, former Chief Justice of the New Mexico Supreme Court, remarked that in his 13 years as a juvenile judge, no boy who owned a dog had ever been brought before him as a delinquent.

"A boy will be honest with his dog," added Judge McGee. "Dogs are great preventers of juvenile delinquency."

A child also confides in his dog. Therefore getting a lot of ardent love for his child.

Dogs thus function as superb child psychiatrists! They permit their youthful masters to launch upon "non-directive" types of interviews.

A city psychiatrist will charge $25 per hour to sit and listen to a patient's rambling confessions, whereas your dog will do it free!

So dogs can be heard, lodged and housed by thus serving as psychiatrists.

Voice of the People: Congratulates The Press on Annual Bowlerama

I would like to extend my heartfelt congratulations to The Pontiac Press on the annual Bowlerama.

I have never found an area where the press and the bowling profession have been able to work so closely together. The cooperation of your sports department was excellent.

'Reds Don't Intend to Disarm'

The reported agreement between Adlai Stevenson and Khrushchev on the first step toward disarmament promises victory for the Reds and disgrace for us, as have all prior agreements.

Khrushchev said the Reds would be shattering idiots if they didn't test nuclear devices in the interest of U.S.A.R. security. He announced a 45 per cent increase in Russia's military budget. These statements should warn us he has no intentions of disarmament.

Why do some few people, including quite a few in the State Department, believe any agreement with Russia is worth the paper on which it is written? Zorin's trick is to throw us off guard and keep down our military potential.

President Kennedy speaks forthrightly on foreign affairs but he permits Dean Rusk and Stevenson to vitiate such thinking by working policies that favor communism in the end. Americans want Kennedy to formulate a foreign policy based on the survival of free enterprise, and vigorously defend it.

J. Frank Lindsey

'Meaning of Fascist Has Been Changed'

One of our pseudo-liberals disavows history, in connection of another friend of this country, General Franco. Nationalists (Fascists) were right of center and loyalists (Communists) were left.

Our misinformed press and pseudo-liberals have turned the word fascist into something rotten, whereas originally it was simply a struggle of Christianity against barbarism (communism).

Only after the murder of Calvo Sotelo did Franco come back from exile. Franco did not call upon the citizens of Spain to rally around him until he had exhausted every other means.

I believe a greater service would be to ask for the gold (7,000 ounces) which was taken to Russia in the three ships Kila, Neva and Volgite, displaying the ECHO de France, April 1936. Lenin declared Spain would be the second Soviet Republic in Europe.

Pope Pius XII said "Communism is intrinsically perverse, and it cannot be admitted that those who wish to serve the Christian civilization may in any way cooperate with it."

This lady should study the documents of the Moscow plot to take over Spain. These were published in ECHO de France, April 1936. Lenin declared Spain would be the second Soviet Republic in Europe.

Can we criticize Russia for her denial of freedom when by supporting U.N. aggression in Katanga the U.S. government is denying Katanga certain "unalienable rights"? Get the facts by sending to the Senate Office Building, Washington, and asking for a free copy of "Senator Dodge Speaks on Katanga."

DOGS FOR NEUROTICS You neurotic parents are doubly in need of dogs to cushion the shock of your own jittery personalities on your youngsters!

For dogs show their fondness by wagging their tails and barking joyfully when the child comes home from school.

Parents may "cheer out" the youngster because of a low mark on his report card, so the child may actually dread meeting his mother and daddy.

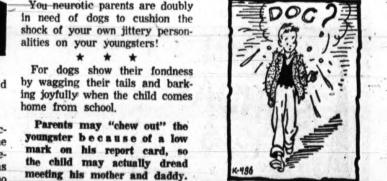

But he knows his faithful dog will always greet him with gladness! So dogs exert a loving influence that is wholesome and constructive.

Dogs don't criticize or scold or berate a child. Nor do they resort to sarcasm.

Dogs likewise do not foster neurotic health attitudes on the children. They don't convert youngsters into "wary wares" under parental influence.

They never teach a child to tell little "white lies," either, nor do they break their promises. So a child knows he can always rely on his faithful dog for so much affection and security.

Caddy Francoise Hopes to Visit Kennedy's Father

NICE, France (AP) — Francoise Autiero, Joseph Kennedy's favorite caddy on the Riviera, is preparing for a two-week vacation in Florida and hopes to call on the President's father in his Palm Beach hospital.

The 22-year-old blonde, who married Lucien Autiero a few months ago, said today she and her husband have been invited to help launch a new golf club (the Doral Country Club) near Miami Jan. 12. The club is paying all expenses for the couple, including a round-trip transatlantic flight and two weeks in America.

She told newsmen she hopes to visit the President's father. "I read in the newspapers that he is very ill," she related. "That saddened me very much. I hope he recovers very quickly. He is always so nice to me and to my family."

Hoover Blasts Coddling Violent Youth Criminals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover Monday recommended equal treatment for juveniles and adults in crimes of violence.

Hoover, in a copyright interview with U.S. News and World Report, said "the treatment of young criminals, like those who have passed their 18th birthday, should be fair, reasonable and realistic."

"However, I can see no difference between a 17-year-old who willfully robs, rapes or kills and a person of greater age who commits the same acts."

"Frankly," he said, "I am disgusted by misguided sentimentalists who want to pamper and excuse teen-aged thugs. This leads only to disrespect and contempt for law and order."

Church Choir to Sing 'Christmas Oratorio'

Announcing the engagement of their daughter Joanne May Tracy to Edwin C. Moore, son of Mrs. A. G. Moore of Robbins, N. C. and the late Mr. Moore, are Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Tracy of Savoy Street, Waterford Township.

JOANNE M. TRACY

J. S. Bach's Christmas Oratorio, often called the counterpart of Handel's "Messiah," will be presented at 3 p.m. Friday, Jan. 5 by the choir of All Saints Episcopal Church.

Dealing with the birth of Christ, the joyful work was written for the holiday season of 1734-35 and is bound together by a continuous scriptural narrative. Six separate sections, often incorrectly called cantatas, are featured in the oratorio of which eminent Bach authority Philip Spitta said, "No other work by Bach contains a richer collection of charming and easily comprehended melodies."

TO SING IN PRODUCTION
Charles Winger, tenor soloist at Kirk-in-the-Hills, Bloomfield Hills, will portray the Evangelist; Mary Lindquist, soprano; June Roberts, contralto; and William Vander Ven, baritone, all soloists at All Saints, also have roles in the production.

The presentation will be accompanied by organ and orchestra. Instrumental soloists will include John Calado, violin; Modesto de Santos, oboe; and Donald Tison, trumpet. Shirley Jolin will be organist for the performance under the direction of Edgar Billups, organist and choir-master at All Saints.

Commonly only the work's first three sections, presenting Christmas as found in St. Luke's Gospel, have been performed. The fourth section, in a meditative mood, concerns the naming of Christ. Sections five and six tell the Epiphany story of the Wise Men from the East as found in St. Matthew's Gospel.

All Saints' performance will include sections five and six in addition to the first three. Interested community residents have been invited to attend the special program.

The Lee J. Ogurs of Bloomfield Hills announce the engagement of their daughter Maryann Carol to Carl G. Karlstrom, son of Mrs. Gunnar Karlstrom of Birmingham and the late Mr. Karlstrom.

Seek Your Level

(NEA) — If most of the girls at school are shorter than you are, there's no point in slumping and ruining your appearance. You won't get down to their level that way, and you certainly won't look your best. So why bother? A tall fellow will come along.

Ability Alone Doesn't Always Land Gal a Job

Gilbert Youth Service

The girl who thinks that a prospective employer rates her on ability alone is making a great mistake. An employer may interview numerous girls who offer the skills and experience he seeks. What will highly influence the decision he makes among them is the applicant's appearance, whether she is neatly groomed, conservatively dressed and projects an air of responsibility.

TABOO LIST

Flashy clothes and low-cut necklines are taboo for the job-seeker. Gobs of jangle-jangle jewelry and weird colored nail polish are frowned upon by employers. Skirts that are too tight or short are out, too.

The job seeker should wear a simple dress or suit that is in good taste, well-pressed and neat. She should wear or carry gloves that are in good repair, white if possible.

Her hat may be tailored or flowered, but it must not be too large. Clipping a hat carelessly on the back of the head as an afterthought is not very smart. It must be selected and put on with care, the hat and hair coordinated to add to the wearer's attractiveness.

Should the tissue papers be removed before making waiting invitations? The answer to this question as well as correct wedding forms will be found in the new Emily Post Institute booklet, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements."

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Sides Splitting?

(NEA) — Don't throw rubbers away because sides are split. Patch with adhesive-type plastic tape on the inside of a tube-packaged repair compound to mend tear. Rubbers will serve well in home or garden.

Sympathy Can Be Constructive in Nature

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Our daughter's husband hasn't worked for five months. He has never been able to hold a steady job. We have been giving money to our daughter because we don't want to see her and our two dear little grandchildren suffer.
We are worried because we are retired and are using up our savings. What makes her father angry is that she won't tell her husband about taking money from us. She says it would hurt his pride.

ANSWER: In the old days parents said to children in your daughter's situation, "You made your bed. Now lie in it." This attitude had some value. By refusing to make a child's uncomfortable bed easy to lie on, they faced the child with the truth of his bumpy mattress and broken springs.

We can improve on the value of this old attitude. We can offer your daughter the means by which she herself can get up from this uncomfortable marital situation. Instead of giving her money to maintain it, let's offer to pay for a course in stenography that will enable her to earn her own.

Let's offer to look after the babies while she is learning, and later, working. But let's stop trying to make tolerable for her a bed whose intolerableness she has a right to be feeling.

You see, when we feel very sympathetic toward anyone dependent on us, he tends to interpret our sympathy as a promise of continued support. The sorrier we show ourselves to be for him, the surer he becomes that he can expect to go on leaning upon us.

UNFAIR TO HIM
As there are limits to what we can do for him, the sympathy is unfair to him. So, if we love him we tell him the truth.

We face him with the limits of what we can do for him and as I have suggested, try to open his eyes to ways by which he can help himself.

Your daughter may at first resent suggestions that she herself must take action on her problem. But not for long, I think. The probability is that she herself knows it and has been waiting for someone to clarify her awareness of what she knows.

If we regard a child's marriage as a poor one, we have no right to impose that opinion on him. But we have every right to hold it ourselves.

The more certain we are of our right to dislike it, the less critical we become, the less we need to make the resentful and hurting remarks that rally the misnamed child's defensiveness. That is always unfortunate.

All our criticism does is to drive him to hide his unhappiness from himself — and the energies he should be using to improve his uncomfortable lot are diverted to pretending that he likes it.

'Unwanted' Stamps Total $500 Million

A unique Utica, N.Y. bank is offering housewives the chance to enjoy playing once again a childhood game and to make money doing so.

The game is trading stamps, though in this case it's the kind you get with your grocery and other purchases. The income comes from getting the make of stamps you want for the kind you either don't want or throw away.

This simple trading idea is what's behind Utica's busy National Stamp Bank, the country's only clearing house for all kinds of trading stamps in the United States.

The bank got its start when its organizers realized that $500 million of trading stamps were never even redeemed in 1960.

YOU LOSE OUT
Translated into terms you can more readily understand, this means that your family stands to lose between $125 and $150 yearly if you don't accept, save, and redeem trading stamps.

This loss in income comes from the fact that most families save only one or two kinds of stamps, if they save them at all. All other "unwanted" stamps are either not saved or thrown away.

This is where the National Stamp Bank comes into the picture, for the bank exchanges stamps on a simple one-for-one basis.

When you write to the bank at the First Bank Building in Utica you receive in return several glassine pouches into which you place the stamps you don't want. The only restriction is that they must be of one kind. For a small fee — the fee for up to 60 stamps — you get back the same amount of stamps but in the kind you do want and save. Any amount can be exchanged.

Next time your grocer or gas station gives you stamps you don't save, think twice before refusing them. There's money in them for you, if you trade them the National Bank Stamp way.

Shoes Need Rest Between Wearings
Clothing specialists recommend a full 24-hour day of rest for a pair of shoes in between wearings.

Airing allows the shoes to dry and helps to prevent the lining deterioration caused by perspiration. It also serves as a protection from athlete's foot, which thrives in a warm, dark, moist environment.

Take Care of Your Feet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The National Foot Health Council has a booklet called "Foot Care for Nurses." Some of the directions in this are important for any woman who is on her feet a lot. It has been estimated that a nurse takes about 20,000 steps a day. I imagine many housewives take that many and more.

There is no doubt that foot problems such as corns and calluses, as well as pains in the feet, legs and thighs can cause much discomfort.

Great care should be taken to get a correct fit in both shoes and stockings. Seamless nylons with cotton feet are the most comfortable for the woman who is to be on her feet for many hours each day.

FEET BIGGER?

Remember that your stockings should be at least a half-inch longer than your longest toe. Also remember that after being on your feet for much of each day, for years, your shoe size may change because your feet may become longer.

Lease orthotics are best, with heels about one to one and a half inches high and with a rubber cap. Treated cloth linings will help avoid infection and excessive perspiration.

Shoes should fit well. Be sure that the back of the shoes fit well and have a firm counter for support and that the leather is soft and pliable and the sole flexible.

If a pair of shoes is correctly fitted you should not have to "break them in." You should be able to wriggle your toes comfortably in new shoes.

TRY ANOTHER PAIR
Try to change your shoes at least once a day. Twice is better.

In Moscow Exercise Class

Ballet Suffers But Figures Improve As Diplomats Dip

By ALINE MOSBY

MOSCOW (UPI) — The women of Moscow's foreign colony keep out their figures not by "one, two, three — bend!" but by "fourth position, fifth position."

An authentic Russian ballet master from the famed Bolshoi Ballet Theater is giving ballet lessons to wives and daughters of correspondents and diplomats this winter.

Twice a week the "instructor," as the Russians call it, foreign women, gather to struggle collectively through the elementary steps of the classic Russian ballet.

The women do their "plisse" and "tour de jeté" in the elegant ballroom of the home of the American ambassador, whose wife, Mrs. Llewellyn Thompson, organized the project.

Females of all sizes, shapes and ages climb into their "leotards" — or rather their black or red toe-to-waist winter underwear. Some discreetly add skirts. Others wear Bermuda shorts.

Then everybody — sometimes including the Thompson boxer dog — points and bows while ballet master Mikhail Petrov.

Yerшов colorfully calls out his commands. I joined the class one day to see what it was like to study with a Bolshoi Ballet member, and it was a struggle to get one foot onto the lowest rung of the exercise bar.

The wives of the American, French and West German ambassadors, and other wives from the British, Swedish, French, Dutch, Danish and Greek embassies were bending and swooping a little better.

Most of the ladies speak only a few words of Russian. Otherwise they would have heard the patient but occasionally despairing teacher sighing "Ah, terrible! Ah, worse!" as the ladies tried to stretch their arms gracefully.

"Bend your back, no the arms this way," the Russian exclaimed, running from an English woman to a Greek.

He tactfully commented, however, that his charges "are very good pupils." The rest of the week he teaches the young Russians at the Bolshoi Ballet Theater.

Mrs. Thompson said the class started three years ago when four women wanted to take lessons and requested the Soviet office that handles foreigners to send them a teacher.

By this year the group has mushroomed to 40 women divided into four classes a week.

"Nobody studies seriously," Mrs. Thompson said. "We do this for exercise and appreciation of the ballet."

"You realize the dancers' talent after you learn that just keeping your arm in the air is difficult."

Save Your Bath Towel

CHICAGO (UPI) — Prolong the life of towels with these precautions, suggested by the American Institute of Laundering:

Keep plenty of cleaning cloths or rags on hand in the bathroom and kitchen so that when something spills, you aren't tempted to wipe it up with a bath towel.

Provide the men of the family with a special cloth for drying razor blades. Many mysterious cuts and tears in towels can be traced to inadvertent slitting while wiping razor blades.

Do not use good towels for removing make-up. Some beauty aids, particularly lipstick, can leave damaging stains in the fabric and even the professional laundryman may find them difficult to remove.

ROTATE THEM

Avoid using the same towels over and over. Distribute wear evenly by rotating towels. Refresh your towel supply at regular intervals. This avoids having all the towels wear out at the same time.

Check bathroom and kitchen hampers, towel bars and linen closet shelves to protect towels from sharp points and splinters.

If a towel does become soiled, do not let it snagged thread at the surface; never pull the thread. Mend selvages, ravel or breaks immediately. Quick repairs can add months of wear.

Don't Toss Out That Burlap Bag

If you are the clever home sewer, don't discard those burlap potato sacks. Burlap is high fashion. You may want to create your own fashions from it. If you are too busy to "do it yourself," you won't have any difficulty finding what you want in the retail stores and shops. Burlap is available in a range of high fashion colors in a variety of items from hats to shoes.

COMES LONG WAY

Most burlap comes from India, where the jute is grown and woven. American converters purchase the fabric and then wash and scour it. It may be bleached and dyed. Burlap has by nature an objectionable odor. So the converter may use a deodorizing chemical. The fabric has a characteristic stiffness unless the converter treats it to make it soft and supple.

What makes for the variance in the price of burlap? Price is based on the fabric construction, yarn or thread count, the number of yards to the inch, the fineness or coarseness of the yarn, the type of jute used and the bleaching or dyeing of the fabric. For example: Tossa jute is a high grade fiber; hence it is used for the higher grade or heavier quality burlap fabrics.

Jute does not take dyes readily; so colorfastness can be a problem. Some of the dyes crack or rub off. Poor quality burlap fabrics usually have many dark spots, uncleanly and shed lint.

Burlap is being sold as dry-cleanable. Tests by the National Institute of Drycleaning confirm that it is, within the limits of fabric construction, fabric finish, application of color, and garment.

Preserve Pans

If metal cooking utensils warp and wobble when set on a flat surface, chances are they've been mistreated. Keep them flat and steady by letting them cool a few minutes before soaking. When hot pans are dunked or filled with cool water, they may warp from the rapid change in temperature.

Top Designers Stitch a Look

Denim Moves Into Fashion Spotlight

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Denim had been around a hundred years or more before anything much happened to it.

If you were a farmer you were blue overalls. If you were a cowboy you were blue jeans. If you were a mechanic you were blue or brown overalls. And if you worked on a railroad you wore hickory striped overalls and a matching jumper and cap.

About 10 years ago a couple of top designers, Bonnie Cashin and John Weitz, got to flogging around denim to see what could be done with it. They produced some items, including striped dresses, which were a sellout but which were pretty much ignored by most of the denim people.

The Good Car-Keeper Institute gave these tips: Replace frayed windshield wiper blades as soon as they more denim, somehow overlooked these possibilities and the denim people kept on turning out overalls.

About five years ago several other designers decided to see what they could do with denim, but they concentrated mostly on sports clothes for women and high fashion and left the work of denim strictly alone.

There was a lot of publicity meanwhile about juvenile delinquents in leather jackets and blue jeans, which got a bad name. The Denim Council kept busy, however. An education campaign showed that kids could get into trouble no matter what they wore.

Fretly soon the manufacturers were turning out 350 million yards of denim a year — enough for 170 million garments or almost one each for every man, woman and child in the United States. Mostly, though, the output was work clothes and children's pants. Then, last fall, the Denim Council decided it was time to do something about work clothes which were still made the same way as back in Civil War days.

With some trepidation, and remembering those women's high fashions, they called in 18 of the top designers in the country and told them to get to work on work clothes. The designers came back and the experts looked them over.

Some of the designs were too kooky for the working man and were rejected forthwith. One had some loose straps and things that could get caught in machinery. But five or six designs survived and will be produced next spring.

CAN LOOK AHEAD

Now the working man can look forward to such things as a striped apron with big solid color patch pockets, designed by Midge Grant. The apron can be worn around the waist or moved up toward the neck, depending on what kind of work is involved.

One by Ruth Rogers is a one-piece overall with rolled sleeves, eight pockets and worn with a reversible vest. She also did a waist-length jacket of blue denim lined with striped denim and worn with a striped shirt and slimmer denim pants reflecting the current "trim look" in men's wear.

Samuel Robert designed a tailored short coat of blue denim with hickory striped lapels. John Weitz came up with a belted jacket with long sleeves that can be rolled up easily and has patch pockets. Pants have eight pockets at strategic locations.

The Denim Council also got its research facilities going, and scientists now are working on a denim that stretches (they interlace nylon fibers with the cotton). They also are working on ways to make denim hold its crease so they can make suits out of it.

In the meantime, the council has been working on a campaign to publicize denim. The latest move was to name Marcia Banks as "Blue Jean Queen" for 1961.

Suggests Draperies Be Labeled

You wouldn't wear the same clothes working in the garden as you would to a formal dinner, says a spokesman for the National Institute of Drycleaning. Yet drapery makers and decorators all too often recommend the same fabric for all kinds of drapery uses.

Drapery locations ought to be rated as to the exposure to sunlight which they offer, says Albert E. Johnson, the Institute's Textile Relations Director. He proposes that all draperies be labeled as to the type of location for which they are qualified.

He suggests a "Class F" for drapery fabrics capable of withstanding full sun for two hours or more a day; "Class R" for use in reflected sunlight with a minimum of direct sun; "Class S" for use in fully shaded windows, and "Class I" for interior use where there is no contact with sunlight.

He suggests that the American Society for Testing Materials or the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists should be asked to develop laboratory tests with which to classify drapery materials as to sunlight resistance.

Close to ten per cent of all complaints of fabric malperformance studied by the National Institute of Drycleaning during 1960 involved drapery fabrics, Johnson points out, and these were mainly complaints of sun damage to the fabrics or the colors.

TV Commercial's Models Need More Than Looks

Gilbert York Service

There's a time clock in every model's carry-all. It's ticking away the years between 18 and 25, and they go mighty fast. If the model isn't in demand by the time she's 25, she might as well scrap her career. But if she has enough bookings to bring in a regular income, she can keep on long after that age, even if she never becomes the highest paid model in the business.

ONE WHO KNOWS

This mathematical gauge of success in a highly competitive field has been worked out by an astute model named Isabel Burns, who is just as candid when it comes to analyzing herself as she is in uttering prophecies.

Isabel specializes in the non-made-up look which photographers currently prefer. Enough eye make-up so the eyes don't become smaller before the camera, but otherwise a light hand with the cosmetics.

Starting as a fashion model, Isabel quickly recognized the added opportunities in TV commercials. "The more talents a model has, the more types of TV work available to her," says the 23-year-old blond.

"If she's athletic, she can be photographed in action shots like playing tennis or sailing a boat. If her speaking voice is good, she can be the voice as well as the face in the commercials."

Always one to say "yes" to all assignments, Isabel had to admit defeat only once. A client asked her if she could jump a horse. Isabel said she could, thinking she would be posed by the horse, and not in the midst of a jump. When she was introduced to the jumper and found she was to take the fence with him, she had to beg off.

Isabel currently washes her hair, puts on her face, and pounds the typewriter. She can't really type, to make those commercials come alive. Shooting the segments of a five-minute commercial may take all day, and be as tiring as movie-making.

STUDYING SPEECH

She's now planning to take speech lessons, so she'll be qualified for lines along with camera shots.

For the teen-agers who crave a modeling career, Isabel has many words of comfort. "You don't have to be beautiful, but you must have one striking feature. It can be your eyes, or your nose, or even freckles."

"You don't have to go to modeling school to learn the tricks of the trade. Your modeling agency will teach you to walk, to stand, and probably will change your hair style and your make-up."

Asked if she minded the constant turning of heads as she walks down New York's streets, Isabel says candidly, "The time to worry is when they stop staring."

Paris Copy Styles Are Everywhere

American women are buying Paris fashions constantly whether they know it or not.

As one Paris fashion expert puts it, "America is the most Parisian place of any nation." For example, only a short time ago lush Paris salons spotlighted their new Fall fashions. Today, the latest styles are ready for sale in stores from coast to coast.

BIG BUSINESS

Copying and adapting is a multi-million dollar business in our country — and not to be confused with pirating (the stealing of designs). To get the inside story on this "copying," a well-known woman's magazine interviewed leading fashion experts and buyers from manufacturers, department stores, and specialty shops.

American representatives must select from thousands of Paris fashions on show, those that have the best chance of earning popular success. The garments are brought back to the U.S.A. under bond — and manufacturers, who agree not to sell "originals," go over them inch by inch to take patterns and determine how they are made.

Some stores stress speed as the successful formula to Paris copy. Others feel speed is less important than quality or rightness. One store executive warns against buying strictly for price. $10 can make the difference between a good copy and a poor one, he says.

Swim Suit Resume

"Schimmer" is the word that sums up the newest look in beachwear. Swim suit designers favor the suggested fit instead of the tight fit to suit for next summer. Some bikinis are still around, but the more modest two-piece swimsuits her own hair short and other women followed suit.

Three Times Over

(NEA) — You can protect your nails against breakage and at the same time glamorize them by applying a triple application of nail polish.

'There's Only One Coco Chanel,' Declares Coco

ROSEETTE HARGROVE, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PARIS (NEA) — In an era when women seem to thrive on drastic fashion changes, it seems incredible that one Parisian designer could maintain her place at the top by doing the same type of elegant, timeless fashions season after season.

Yet Coco Chanel remains unquestionably the grand dame of French fashion. Her clothes are worn by the world's best dressed women year after year. They are copied all over the world and Chanel loves this.

IN HER 70s

Though she is now in her 70s, Chanel designs are beloved by young women as well as by older women. She is undoubtedly the only designer in Paris whose clothes are as suitable to a 20-year-old as to a woman of 40.

Chanel was the first designer to teach women to dress simply. Back in 1915, she started designing clothes that got women out of stiff corsets and many dragging petticoats. She wore her own hair short and other women followed suit.

She set fashions for the world until 1959 when the rumbling of World War II caused her to close down her business. Then, in 1954, against a feeling of skepticism in the fashion world, she made a sensational comeback. She's been going strong ever since.

SHE'S MOODY

Movie stars and queens beat a path to Chanel's door. Sometimes she consents to dress them and sometimes not. It depends on her mood. For Chanel is known to her staff as "the terrible mademoiselle." And they don't dare discuss in her presence the possibility of a Frederick Lowe — Alan Jay Lerner musical based on Chanel's life. (Such a musical has been talked of here.)

"Chanelians" are circulated in Paris with great delight. Some of them are:

ically is to cheat about her age."

"There are wealthy people and those who have money. They are not one and the same."

"For women, there is only one worth-while 'science': to love and, if possible, be loved."

Yet, despite this last, Chanel has never married. The story ran that when a wealthy and titled man once proposed to her, her answer was: "There are many titles in Europe, but there is only one Coco Chanel."

Well-Chosen Jewelry Is Enhancing to Your Skin

Jewelry can enhance your natural beauty even more if you harmonize your make-up with carefully chosen pieces to avoid clashing colors.

Temple No. 7 Has Meeting

A gay holiday centerpiece centered the refreshment table from which Mrs. H. Delos Nichol, Mrs. Glen Pittenger and Mrs. Lewis Reidling served the members of Mizpah Temple No. 7 Pythian Sisters, Thursday evening in Fellowship Lodge Hall.

The temple has donated considerable clothing for overseas relief and has sent gifts to a young man at the Lapeer State Home and Training School. Christmas food baskets will be given to needy families.

The degree staff, under the direction of Mrs. Nichol, captain, will assist the officers of Liberty Temple, Clawson, in the forthcoming initiation of a prospective member.

Pillar Club Members Celebrate Holiday

Pillar Club's annual holiday party was celebrated recently at First Congregational Church. Preceding dinner, members met guests during a social hour. Pontiac Northern High School's Christmas Carol singing was featured in a program in the Winifred Van Wagner Room. Mrs. Donald Hogue spoke on the origin of Christmas carols.

that you first consider your skin tone. Gold, for instance, is ideal if your complexion has a creamy tone. If there is a good deal of pink in your skin, however, silver will flatter it and even tone down an overly ruddy complexion. Silver is also a perfect complement for women with gray or silver hair.

Lipstick shades can be matched to the pink, rose, red, coral, or orange tones in your jewelry. A pastel shade of lipstick will enhance the brilliance of pastel jewelry and a clear red, such as red on red, will bring out the color of your deeper jewel tones.

MATCH EYESHADOW
If your jewelry is predominant in blue or green colors, try wearing matching shades of eyeshadow. The sparkle of the new powder eyeshadow colors will be particularly exciting when worn with matching jewelry.

Mary Martha Circle Holds Yule Breakfast

Mary Martha Circle of Oakland Park Methodist Church answered roll call with verses from Luke at a recent Christmas breakfast in the Glendale Avenue home of Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh. Toys were brought for children selected by the Salvation Army.

Rev. James Deeg, opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. Emerson Brown led devotions. The hostess read a Christmas poem written by the late Edgar Guest.

Guests were Mrs. Clayton Gillies, Mrs. James Householder and Iri Williams.

The January meeting will be with Mrs. Carrie D. Loucks on Nelson Street.

Wait 15 Minutes to Blot Lipstick

(NEA) — When you apply lipstick, don't just give the upper lip a swipe, moisten your lips and call it a day. The result will be smeary, amateurish and unattractive. Decide on the outline you want and apply it carefully.

Do upper lip first, then the lower lip. Then compress your lips so that the distribution is even. Wait for about fifteen minutes and blot with a tissue. Your lipstick should stay on smoothly for about four hours.

Back to Class or Slump Socially

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Let's face it. Nowadays if you aren't learning something new all the time you might as well be dead — socially that is.

It used to be that Mr. and Mrs. America could get together with their friends and spend the evening bragging about their children, grumbling about crab grass or the football coach with the losing team (depending on the season of the year), telling each other about their do-it-yourself projects, and discussing the latest movie or current favorite TV personality dominating the home screens.

But no more. Now to get a word in edgewise a couple has to discuss what they're learning. To get the floor conversationally they have to talk about the course they are taking in French or Spanish or, more impressive yet, Russian.

Or they have to be able to discuss art or music at length and none of this "I don't know anything about it; I just know what I like" stuff, either. If they aren't studying painting or taking a course in music appreciation no one is going to listen to what they have to say.

They might be able to discuss a book — if it is long enough and technical enough — but not if it's a best seller that anybody might have read.

GOOD OPENER

Best of all if they want to talk "books" is to begin with the statement: "I've been making a study of such and such . . . and then go on from there. Making a study isn't quite as hip as taking a course — but almost.

So it's back to the books and the classrooms for Mr. and Mrs. America. It's not the social evenings that take the time these days — it's doing the home work in preparation for them.

Call any up-and-coming couple you know any evening but Saturday or Sunday and chances are the child who tunes down the TV to answer the telephone will report, "Mama and Daddy have gone to art class, or French class, or some other kind of class."

In the adult world, going to class is getting downright classy!

If you study nothing else, be sure to read "How to Have a Happy Husband." Send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, care The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 488, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

It's a Fashion Fact

One and One Equal Four

Gilbert Youth Service.
Don't worry about your fashion homework. Just school yourself with the knowledge that coordinates can solve your clothing problems and make you look like a pro. Try this one in mathematics: Buy one sweater and one skirt. How many costumes do you have? That's right, One.

At the same time purchase a pair of slacks and a zootie cutie jacket. Now how many costumes do you have? (Careful. This is tricky.)

The answer depends upon whether or not you bought the slacks and jacket in a different color and fabric. If you did, you've got two costumes. But if you bought them to match your skirt, well, this is one of those rare instances when one and one make four.

PROVE IT

You can prove it out this way: Sweater plus skirt, and sweater plus pants; and jacket plus skirt, and jacket plus pants equal four interesting clothing combinations.

How's that for adding up a good wardrobe without subtracting too drastically from your wardrobe allowance?

Now for your lesson in psychology. Remember this: You don't have to be out of your don't have to have a split personality. You're even more interesting when you play it up in the right fashion.

With mix 'n' match costumes you can switch from the most quietly costumed lass in the class to your demure sweater and skirt to the coolest kid in the gang in your crazy plaid pants and jacket.

Surely your mother must have told you that it's a girl's prerogative to change her character as often as she changes her mind or her clothes.

Practice these wardrobe tricks and you'll surely be the style valedictorian of your class.

Sheepskin Will Pay for Itself

NEW YORK (UPI) — Have you ever wondered if a college degree pays for itself?

Does a college graduate earn enough in a lifetime to compensate for the four or more years when he was paying to learn, rather than being paid to work?

GENERALLY, YES

As a rule, he does. Under 1958 conditions, a man who had graduated from high school could expect a lifetime income of $231,500.

During that same time, from age 18 to 64, a college graduate could expect to earn $33,000—more than $150,000 more than the high school graduate.

The figures come from a recent analysis of income surveys conducted by the Bureau of the Census since 1945.

The analysis also showed that the demand for college-trained workers has kept pace with the increased supply of these workers.

Their income advantage over workers with less schooling has continued.

Yule Holiday Celebration to Curb Auto Production

DETROIT (AP) — Automobile production was expected to drop sharply this week while industry workers celebrated the Christmas holidays.

Many plants were scheduled to work only three days and Chrysler Corp. said assembly operations would stop completely at five of its plants between Christmas and New Year's.

Chrysler said plants getting the long holiday were at Newark, Del., St. Louis, Mo., Los Angeles, Calif., and Plymouth and Dodge at Detroit.

General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. both said they planned to resume regular production today.

CUT SATURDAY OVERTIME
This week's production figures were expected to be well below the 177,886 cars and 26,392 trucks built in the United States last week.

The effect of the holidays was felt last week's production with the elimination of Saturday overtime.

According to Automotive News, production last week was 10.6 per cent below the 165,396 cars turned out for the week ended Dec. 16. The trade paper pointed out, however, that last week's production was 28.5 per cent higher than the 115,655 cars built in the comparable 1960 period.

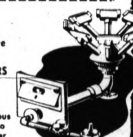

Last week's output brought total U.S. production for the year through Dec. 23 to 5,415,099, compared with 6,611,382 through Dec. 24, 1960.

Family Gets in Trouble; Ma, Pa as Bad as Teen

BY JACK V. FOX

SUBURBIA, U.S.A. (UPI) — Teen-age driving is one of the problems of suburbia. Combined with middle-age absent-mindedness it can become a menace.

This came home to our family a few weeks ago in rather forceful manner.

Our boy Stephen had just turned 18. He had had his eye on the family automobile for some time. I had had my eye on a statistic I read some place:

A high school student using a car each school day is 50 times more likely to make a falling grade than an "A" grade.

But on this day—April Fool's Day, I believe it was—the head of the family was out of town.

Now in this particular state of suburbia, a youth-turned 16 can drive without a license so long as someone with a driver's license is sitting in the front seat with him.

So Stephen took off at the wheel that April morning to drive to the commuter station at which he boards a train to the next stop for the walk to high school. His mother sat beside him. And his grandmother sat next to her. And in the back seat was his kid sister, Linda.

Halfway to the station a police car halted this entourage. Seems the little yellow insect plate signifying purchase of a new state license was not in place.

And you know who forgot to put it there before he left? The head of the family.

The officer was inquisitive. He asked Steve for his driver's license. The boy responded that he had none. The man asked the wife for her license. She responded that it was in the other purse. The officer asked about the new state registration. The wife responded that it must be at home. The man said, "Let's go see."

So they all drove into our stop-level driveway as neighbors peered from behind curtains. The wife produced a registration but it was for a trade-in Oldsmobile instead of the Buick in question. Finally they found the right one and Steve inserted the plates.

Then they all went to the station house. Steve was charged with driving without a license. Feryle with improper operation of a vehicle. Seems there is a regulation that only two must be in front seat during the instructional operation.

The bond was $50. Feryle said she didn't have $50. Also said her

Deal Me In, He Says, in 76-Year-Old Game

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The city of Baltimore may be able to lay claim on a rather colorful distinction — the oldest continuous poker game in the country.

Back in 1884, six Baltimore men — two newspaper editors, a dentist, a box maker, a tailor and an errand boy gathered for a "little Wednesday night poker game." That game still is going strong some 67 years later.

It has outlasted all of its original players, over 412,000 playing cards and the 15-cent deck.

Wars, wives, depressions haven't stopped it nor have blizzards, hurricanes, vacations or Baltimore's 100-degree summers.

IN 61RD YEAR

A number of players have died while still active in the game and one player still is "dealt in" now in his 63rd year of play.

The game is now played out in Baltimore's suburbs.

It's rules haven't changed much since the first game but the players have — one of them is the son of an original player.

Every Wednesday night at 8:30 sharp the players go off into a quiet room in the home of one member of the game. The game "floats" on a regular schedule among the homes of its five regular players.

OWNS HIS CHIPS

On the table are two crisp packs of cards and the player's own chips.

The game's house rules are simple: five-card, three-draw poker only, with the deal alternating on each hand.

Wild cards get played only when someone comes up with a full face, full house or if someone gets four of a kind. The wild card departure is known as "roddies" with deuces wild and is played for one full eye deal around the table.

None of the present players can recall how the term "roddies" came to be or when.

"Roddies" are played automatically between 12:15 and 12:30 to wind up the evening's play.

Ante is one chip which is worth two-and-a-half cents. A chip used to be worth a nickel but was devaluated back in the depression of the '30s and hasn't been upped since because the players say they like it that way.

A player can raise another man as often as he cares to, going on what his hand and his daring dictate. Limit on a raise of a raise is double.

The game moves swiftly, as one player deals, the man to his right shuffles a deck for the next hand.

Chips trade piles on an amazing even basis. According to the game's records kept by its secretary, Arthur V. Watkins, rash players average only about 40 cents loss per night. However, a winner can take home $20 if it's his night.

Watkins gives a won-lost report every three months, which the players say helps keep rivalry going and interest up.

The game's players are a congenial group, but they don't as a rule mix together in other social activity. They have one rule about conversation — business talk is taboo.

At 10:30 a break is held. The players have a light snack of sweet buns, cake, iced tea or coffee and may watch part of a ball game on television or the TV fights.

They say their wives don't mind, the women have gotten used to the institution — they have had to.

A new bowling ball has a retractable handle instead of holes.

Fronzizi Back in Buenos Aires

Visits Kennedy but Not Joao Goulart on His 35,000-Mile Trip

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — President Arturo Fronzizi returned Monday night from a 35,000-mile, round-the-world goodwill trip, climaxed by his Christmas Eve meeting in Palm Beach with President Kennedy.

Fronzizi flew here directly from Trinidad. He was met at the airport by Acting President Jose M. Guido and the entire cabinet.

There had been speculation that Fronzizi would stop off in Brazil to talk with President Joao Goulart, but he did not do so.

Foreign Minister Miguel A. Carcano said Fronzizi's conversations with Kennedy were "very harmonious," but he indicated that they produced no change in the Argentine president's "go-easy-on-Castro" attitude.

Carcano said flatly that the talks would produce "no change whatever" in Argentina's stand. But he hedged when he was asked exactly what line his country would follow at next month's foreign ministers' meeting in Uruguay.

First Army Chief, WAC Commander Wed in S. Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Lt. Gen. Hugh P. Harris, commander of the U.S. 1st Army Corps, married WAC Lt. Col. Kathleen Burns today in the main chapel of the U.N. command here.

Gen. Harris, 52, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., leads the U.S. force responsible for the defense of the western part of the demilitarized zone which separates North and South Korea.

It was the colonel's first marriage and the general's second. His first wife died in 1958.

The bride, who is 44, commands a WAC training battalion at Fort McClellan, Ala., and came here on leave for the wedding. She is from Williamstown, Mass., and has served in the Women's Army Corps 19 years.

'Bullet' Caught by Police After Four-Mile Chase

DETROIT (AP) — A fat man who says his nickname is "Bullet" because he moves so slow was jailed for speeding last night.

Police said they caught Alexander A. (Bullet) Goodin after a four-mile chase in Western Wayne County at speeds up to 105 miles an hour. They said they first spotted him going through a red light at 70 miles an hour.

Goodin told Lt. Edward Harris of the Wayne Police Department that he usually weighs more than 500 pounds and works in circus side shows. But he's down now, he said, to a little over 400 because he's out of work.

GOOD SPORTS—While sports at Michigan State University Oakland will be voluntary for students, these men working out in the basement of the Intramural Building find physical exercise compulsory to keep warm. Excavation on two basements is nearing completion, with foundation walls beginning to rise on the $1.5-million building to be completed next fall.

LICENSED TO MARRY — Mrs. Josephine Caswell, deputy county clerk in charge of issuing marriage licenses, hands a license to Gary A. Harriah, 20, a soldier stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky., and his bride-to-be Gloria G. Bailey, 19, of 638 S. Vermont St., Royal Oak. They were married Dec. 22.

License Seekers Bring Chuckles

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

They swap stories behind the marriage license counter at the courthouse.

Take this one from Mrs. Florence J. Allen, one of the several deputy clerks who fill out the 11-by-8½-inch "affidavit for license to marry" for thousands of prospective grooms and brides in Oakland County. Nearly 4,200 have been issued so far this year.

"This woman came in one Wednesday with one gentleman and applied for their license. On the following Monday this same woman returned—and with another man."

"The curiosity was killing me so I had to ask," Mrs. Allen said. "She told me that she had met the second man over the weekend and liked him better than the first."

Mrs. Allen issued the woman and No. 2 man a license.

From Mrs. Josephine Caswell, a brown-eyed-mother-of-three who is in charge of the marriage license bureau for County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr., came this account:

"This cute 16-year-old girl with a bad case of hiccups came in with her fiancé. The boy asked her whether she was going to hiccup her way through their marriage vows."

The clerks remember well the 82-year-old minister and his 71-year-old fiancée applying. Both had been married twice before—but they acted like first-time newlyweds," one said.

MAKES CROWD — One man probably didn't have too much to cheer about. He came in with his prospective spouse along with a third party—a deputy sheriff—who was about to escort him to Jackson Prison.

None, however, has bolted from the counter with cold feet. Just like at the altar, the men, Mrs. Caswell said, appear to be the most nervous and "the girls seem to be the surest of what they're doing."

"Occasionally we get a girl who is so nervous she can hardly sign her name," Mrs. Caswell said. "Some persons have just signed with an X."

Mrs. Letta Weir recalls the man from the South who didn't know his own occupation. "You've got me, Ma'am," Mrs. Weir quoted the man.

"By the way," she asked this reporter, "what's a body builder?" Invariably you'll find the woman assisting the boy with his parents' names.

They blush, they shake, they giggle, they whisper, and some even hold hands. "We even get smoochers," Mrs. Caswell said.

MOST PLEASANT — Most applicants are most pleasant, she said, although those living in another county get angry sometimes when they're told one member of the couple must live in Oakland County. They must be married here also.

The license, costing $2 and good for a month, can be picked up three days after it is applied for. "This is not a period of investigation but in order to give us time to type the licenses all out," Mrs. Caswell said.

There are few instances of applicants not picking up their licenses.

Blood tests must be taken before applying and the clerks will usually ask the younger applicants for some certificate of birth. The boy has to be 18 and the girl 16 or older, with parental consent until she is 18.

"The older applicants are much more sedate and reserved while the student crowd is more bouncy and comes in with more gusto," Mrs. Caswell said.

Some of the clerks have been issuing licenses so long—Mrs. Caswell since 1947—that they say they can spot from the behavior of the applicants which marriages will endure.

Sometimes they come in separately and others together. "It's 30-50," she said.

Mrs. Caswell said she thinks it's "terrible" for one to come in without the other.

She ought to know. She had to apply for her own license in 1947 because her husband Harold could not get off from his job.

Spellman Voices Pride in Troops, Sorrow at Wall

BERLIN (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman completed his Christmas visit to Berlin today, voicing pride over U.S. troops in the outpost city and sorrow over the Communist wall.

The 62-year-old Roman Catholic archbishop of New York—who is Catholic vicar-general of the U.S. armed forces—said it was a moving but sad experience to see the "separation of people who want to be united."

During his two-day visit to U.S. forces in Berlin, Cardinal Spellman took a helicopter journey along the wall and briefly stepped a few feet across the line at Friedrichstrasse to say "Merry Christmas" to Red border guards.

Family Gathers on Waddington Road

Holidays Full of Fun at the Estes'

If the weatherman cooperates there'll be a hockey game at 1085 Waddington Road this week.

Donning the silver blades will be a muffed six-footer who is just as much at home at the end of a hockey stick as he is at the end of a screw driver repairing a light socket.

Meet homely E. M. "Pete" Estes. You probably know him better as the new general manager of Pontiac Motor Division than as a hockey player.

When the 43-year-old former chief engineer for the division does escape from his second floor office, he prefers to leave his work behind and devote his full attention to his wife Cathryn and 16-year-old son William, a junior at Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills.

3 ADDED ATTRACTIONS

This week, during the Christmas and New Year holidays, there are two added attractions.

Another son, Edward, 21, is back at his mom and dad's Bloomfield Township home, for a little breather from studies and the sun at the University of Arizona.

He's a junior and a tip-top catcher on the university baseball team.

Joining the family festivities is the Estes' eldest son, Thomas, 23, who works in the Pontiac zone office in Cleveland.

A lot of Christmas attention was directed to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Estes' 2½-year-old son.

All one needs do is to mention sports in the Estes household and away go football, basketball and baseball are tops. Dad loved them all, and still does. He played sand lot baseball.

"When only 12 men came out for football, 6 for basketball and 10 for baseball you couldn't miss," snickered Estes.

Estes, who prefers the monkey Pete, given him when a factory foreman found Elliott "too hard to remember," ranks his wife and three sons as his first "holby."

WARM, SINCERE

The new General Motors vice president is a warm, sincere person with an abundance of laughs matched equally with a reserve tank of energy that gets things done.

Don't talk to him of a pre-Christmas ball. He was fortunate to squeeze out 15 minutes last Tuesday to pick up some presents.

But he doesn't complain of the PONTIAC'S NEW HEAD WITH FAMILY — Pontiac Motor Division's new general manager, E. M. Estes takes time out to help his grandson Tommy open a last minute present. Watching the proceedings are Mrs. Estes, and Mrs. Thomas endless hours put in as head of GM's second largest car division, although this will curtail fishing trips with his boys to Colorado and along the Au Sable River.

Despite his hectic schedule, seldom will you see a repair man around the Estes home.

"There's nothing I like better than to fix a light socket," said Estes, an expert do-it-yourselfer. A leaky faucet doesn't stay that way long.

He often can be found in his basement workshop or during the summer cultivating a vegetable garden back of the house. He leaves the flowers to his "flower girl" — Mrs. Estes.

Back of the house too is a swimming pool through which Estes splashes a length or two in order to keep around the 195-pound mark.

It's on this same pool that the Estes hockey team tangles. Without the time some men of industry have to visit squash courts or Turkish baths daily, Johnson City.

Estes' wintertime exercises consist of a round of sit-ups and push-ups before he showers each morning.

How many? "They reduce in number regularly," said a right-hand man.

MUSTACHE FAMILIAR

Just as the "wide track" is symbolic of the Pontiac automobile, the mustache has been a part of the genial general manager since he shaved off every bit of an overgrown beard, acquired during a bout with pneumonia.

A newspaper clipping about General Motors Institute in Flint, which a friend sent him, took him to a creamery and started him along the corporation ladder.

He graduated also from the University of Cincinnati.

He has contributed his engineering talents at the GM Research Laboratories and Oldsmobile Division, becoming chief engineer for Pontiac in 1956 and general manager on Nov. 6.

Associates predict that Estes' successful climb won't stop here.

Johnson's Sister, 49, Dies on Christmas

FREDERICKSBURG, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. James Moss, young sister of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, died Monday after Christmas festivities at Johnson's ranch.

Mrs. Moss, 49, died of a cerebral hemorrhage shortly after she returned to Fredericksburg from the LBJ ranch.

Services were scheduled today at the Cross Funeral Home in Johnson City.

Poles Hear From Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII sent a Christmas message of good wishes and encouragement to the Catholic people of Poland and it was read in all Roman Catholic churches, Vatican sources said today.

Kennedy's First Year Has Been Busy, Busy, Busy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — President Kennedy is coming to the end of his first year in office. How well did he do at home and abroad?
At home, with Congress, he has been competent but not brilliant. He has had some conspicuous failures.
In foreign affairs 1961 has been a matter of beginnings—of foundation-laying for the next three years—rather than of successes. He will be a forceful president if he follows through on some of them.
His most consistent, obvious quality has been a sense of action, which he promised in the 1960 campaign. He's been busy, busy, busy.
That, more than anything else, perhaps, is why the people give him unusually high grades in the public opinion polls.
Kennedy, a middle-roader, got that kind of program through Congress. He apparently was willing to settle for a half-loaf.
His philosophy seems to be: Avoid all-out fights on any one issue because it may antagonize enough people in Congress to block other issues.
So, instead of public appeals for pressure on Congress, a method which could be inflammatory, he worked through aides behind the scenes. The predictable result was no fractured skulls and only a moderate program. On three major issues he backed away from tough opposition: Civil rights, medical care for the aged, federal aid to education. All three were left hanging.

His appearance of eagerness was boosted by trips to Europe and Latin America for talks with Premier Khrushchev, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and the presidents of Colombia and Venezuela.
The trips showed no tangible good results. But no one could suggest they did any damage, either.
EARLY GOOP
He dominated American foreign policy completely. But he goofed early and badly in backing a half-baked Cuban rebel invasion against Fidel Castro.
Whether or not that shook his self-confidence, he's been cautious in all directions since. But most of the year he encountered problems which would have tested the patience and judgment of any president.

Khrushchev hit him with a number of problems, two in particular: His demands on Berlin intended to weaken the Allied grip on the city and, if possible, shake their unity; and the tricky matter he suddenly resumed nuclear testing.
Through it all Kennedy kept his head, showing some toughness himself, until Khrushchev de-layed a showdown. But Kennedy has to deal with him in 1962.

If Kennedy has a solution on Berlin, he hasn't revealed it. But he could hardly be expected to. And he says he still hasn't made up his mind whether this country should resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere to keep up with the Russians.
ALLIES DIFFICULT
At times his allies were almost as difficult as Khrushchev. West

German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, always worrying he might get sold down the river, was on Kennedy's back steadily, seeking reassurance. He got it.
De Gaulle was a prime pain in the neck to Kennedy who, with Adenauer and Macmillan was willing to discuss Berlin with the Russians. Not the lofty De Gaulle. He didn't help solve allied problems. He contributed to them.
Then Kennedy ran into opposition from both De Gaulle and Macmillan in backing the United Nations action in the Congo. That's quieted down, but like so much else, is still unsettled.
Meanwhile, Kennedy laid the foundation for new relationships in four important directions:
1. In demanding that countries that want American help to stand off Communism put in badly needed social and economic reforms. Viet Nam, for instance, the presidency amounts to is a beginning, and hardly more than that. He still has three years to make good on it.

2. In setting up a new economic aid program for Latin America plus a new understanding.
3. In adopting—at least in the case of the Dominican Republic—President Theodore Roosevelt's speak softly but carry a big stick policy, which could mean American intervention where and when Kennedy thinks necessary. How far he'll carry this is also one of the unknowns of 1961.
4. In trying to establish a new era of commerce with the allies. He has started a campaign, which must be fought out with Congress next year, to lower tariffs for the sake of better trade.
What Kennedy's first year in Ex-Con Admits Murder, Rape

Bodies of Youth, 19, Girl, 17, Found Near Holland, Mo.

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Sheriff Clyde Orton says James (Buddy) Williams, 34, a Negro convict, has admitted the shotgun slaying of an Arkansas youth and the rape of the youth's girl friend.

Frank Craig, 13, of Blytheville, Ark., and Brenda Joyce Raines, 17, of Holland, Mo., were found dead on a country road near Holland Saturday. Miss Raines had been raped and beaten.

Sheriff Orton said Williams admitted shooting Craig and raping the girl, but said he could not remember killing her.

Craig was found slumped behind the wheel of his car, killed by a shotgun blast in the head. The charge was fired through the windshield. The girl's body was found in an abandoned farm house about 200 yards from the car. The broken stock of the shotgun was found near the house.

Williams, who lives near the scene of the slayings, was arrested after witnesses reported seeing him near Craig's auto about the time of the murders.

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco left the hospital today with his left arm in a sling after two days of treatment for a hunting injury.

The left index finger of the Spanish chief of state was badly torn Sunday when one barrel of his shotgun exploded while he was shooting partridges outside Madrid. The accident is being investigated.

Doctors said they were able to save Franco's torn finger after removing metal and cloth particles from the wound. The 70-year-old Spanish leader customarily wears plastic shooting glasses.

Name Police Lieutenant Chief in Royal Oak Twp.

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — In a surprise move Saturday night, the township board unanimously appointed Lt. Edward L. Watkins as police chief to take the place of ousted Chief William Ware.

Watkins had submitted a written application for the job which bore the signatures of his fellow police officers, promising to support him in every way if he was appointed to the job.

Watkins' appointment was made under pressure from citizens who had been bombarding him since Dec. 15 to apply for the job. At that time, a citizens' group picked the township ofices protesting the hiring of former policeman Edward A. Wilson.

The board immediately fired Wilson, who had been named to the job only three days before. At last Saturday's special meeting, at which 80 residents were present, Watkins was appointed to the job for a 60-day probationary period.

OTHERS APPLY — An Ecorse detective and a veteran Oak Park police officer, Maurice Foltz had also applied for the job.

Up until last Saturday's meeting, Foltz had been considered top man for the position by the board. But under pressure from the citizens group the board hired Watkins.

Watkins, who is 37 years of age, lives at 21348 Westview St. He is married and the father of three children.

He has been with the Royal Oak Township Police Force for the past seven years and was promoted to lieutenant in October.

His salary as lieutenant was $4,880. As chief he will get $4,900. No date has been set for the swearing in. Ware's resignation becomes effective Friday.

HARRY F. PRESTON — Newly elected president of the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce is Harry F. Preston of 2712 New England St., president of the Avon Fuel Oil Corp.

Mrs. Oscar J. Sorenson Jr., co-owner with her husband of the Century Finance Co., is the C. of C.'s new vice president. He lives at 404 W. Third St.

Re-elected treasurer of the organization is Keith Crisman, owner of Crisman Chevrolet Co. Crisman lives at 1126 N. Main St.

The new officers will be installed at the C. of C.'s annual dinner Jan. 30. They will serve throughout 1962.

WMU President, Dean to Visit Nigeria Campus — Western Michigan University President James W. Miller and Dean George E. Kohnan leave Thursday for Nigeria to visit WMU staff members helping establish a technical college at a mission at Ibadan.

Under a four-year contract with the International Cooperation Administration Western Michigan provides a director and five instructors for the program and Nigerians are sent to the WMU campus to study technical education.

Michigan Crop at Record High — Michigan's combined output of its 18 major field crops set a record of 10.5 million tons this year, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

Output surpassed last year's harvest by 9 per cent and barely topped the previous high set in 1959.

New records were set for corn, dry beans and commercial apples.

Value of the 1961 crop was $324.4 million, nearly 11 per cent above 1960, the agency said.

Grain corn production exceeded 100 million bushels for the first time. Output of field beans led the nation again, rising to 7,200,000 hundredweight.

Soybean production increased 68 per cent to 7,400,000 bushels, and the potato crop went up 24 per cent to 9,116,000 hundredweight.

Sugar beet output rose 25 per cent to 3,177,000 tons, sixth highest in the nation.

Michigan's total fruit production, at nearly 624,000 tons, was 10 per cent above last year and 30 per cent above average.

Hay and grape production dropped sharply from last year.

County Ala-No Party Slated for New Year's — Oakland County Ala-No Center, Fourth at Joslyn Avenue, will hold its fourth annual New Year's Eve party to usher in 1962 "sober, safe and sane."

Refreshments, turkey and ham will be served and special favors and automobiles provided. The event is open to the public.

84 at CMU Ask Navy to Carry Foreign Students

MOUNT PLEASANT — An open letter from 84 Central Michigan University students and faculty members is asking President Kennedy to assign a man of war for transporting exchange students.

"It seems to us," the letter reads, "is particularly appropriate moment to indicate to the world that America's basic concern is always with the maintenance of peace, insofar as it is practicable to use our powerful Navy and Army for peaceful purposes, our nation is ready to do so."

It asks assignment of a United States warship twice a year to transport exchange students between this country and other continents.

"... If the cost of transportation can be met, then the main obstacle to student exchange will be overcome. We are firmly convinced that the exchange of students and professors among countries will tend to increase our understanding of other nations' problems. Let us urge the world to travel the road to peace," the letter concludes.

LAPEER — John R. Rood, 33, a retired University of Michigan Law School professor, died Saturday night in Lapeer County General Hospital of burns suffered last Tuesday in a fire which gutted his home.

An invalid for the past six months, Rood and his daughter, Dr. Marion B. Rood, were taken from the burning building at 8 Saginaw St. by Lapeer firemen.

He had been an attorney in Detroit and was considered one of the wealthiest men in Lapeer County.

As a youth he had worked his way through high school by selling apples at the Grand Truck Railway Station in Detroit. Later, he earned his tuition and expenses at the University of Michigan as a peddler. He was graduated in 1901.

Returning to the university in 1908 as a professor, Mr. Rood taught in the law school until 1918. During his career he wrote many widely used textbooks and drafted a bill setting a 15-mile limitation on property taxes.

His home, a century-old landmark on the Saginaw Trail, was not insured.

Services will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Baird Funeral Home. Burial will be in Stiles Cemetery.

Surviving besides his daughter, are a son, Royal D.; of Detroit; a sister, Mabel of Pontiac and a brother, the Rev. Dwight A. of Traverse City.

Montcalm Man Hurt as Car Rolls Over — A 21-year-old Montcalm man is listed in satisfactory condition at Community Hospital near Almont today. He was injured when his car rolled over on 24-Mile Road yesterday morning and rolled over.

Romeo State Police said Raymond Sackett apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car about 6:55 a.m. He received severe head lacerations and a shoulder injury according to hospital authorities.

Record 1,496 Fatalities — EAST LANSING — There have been 1,496 persons killed in traffic accidents in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 1,572.

Baby Takes Pills, Home Burns

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP — It has been the worst Christmas ever for the young Dennis Gritzinger family here.

Suspect Faces Hearing Today in Woman's Slaying — ATLANTA — Kenneth Wilcoxson, 23, of nearby Lewiston, was to be examined today on a murder charge in connection with the slaying of a wealthy Olney, Ill., divorcee.

The body of Mrs. Mildred Kurtz, 50, who owned a $100,000 summer home near Lewiston, was found on a street in that tiny Montgomery County village Dec. 14 after a three-hour search.

Police said Wilcoxson, a Lewiston hardware store clerk, admitted he struck Mrs. Kurtz and threw her from her car into a side street.

He was quoted as saying he slapped Mrs. Kurtz when she tried to resist his advances after he had dragged her from a trailer near Lewiston's main street.

Wilcoxson has been held without bond at the county jail here. His hearing today will be before Justice of the Peace J. R. Clark.

Agricultural Economy Improved in '61

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's agriculture saw its economic situation improved somewhat in 1961 as the federal government embarked anew on a stronger farm-aid program.

Net income of farm operators was expected by the Agriculture Department to total around one billion dollars more than the $11.7 billion earned in 1960.

Much of this increase reflected policies and programs of the Kennedy administration which sought to reverse those of the Eisenhower administration reducing the federal role in agriculture.

The new programs included higher farm product price supports and a plan under which feed grain producers were paid slightly more than three-quarters of a billion dollars to reduce production of corn and sorghum grains, crops available in oversupply.

considerably below levels of the late 1940s and early 1950s, and far below the amount the Kennedy administration considered necessary to provide farmers a fair share of the national income. By comparison, farm operators earned a record $17.78 billion in 1948 and $13.58 billion as late as 1958.

Improved economic conditions were not general throughout agriculture. Several sections the situation deteriorated because of lower prices for such products as poultry and eggs, beef cattle, potatoes and some lesser crops. Too, the Northern Great Plains suffered from a severe summer drought.

Where the Eisenhower administration had taken the stand that farm markets and production unhindered by government controls and regulation offered an eventual solution to farm income problems, the new administration took a position that it was essential that government embark upon a farm commodity supply control program.

The Kennedy administration did not get from Congress all the power and authority it needed to carry out its policies. As a consequence, both it and agriculture face a number of problems that may prevent any further upturn in farm earnings in 1962.

To make its policies work effectively, the administration would need power to control production of most crops and livestock products so that supplies could be brought into balance with commercial market needs and supplies donated under welfare and foreign aid programs.

Administration officials figure that effective operation of this market system, if left alone, would bring about an adjustment between production and needs.

The new year is expected to see the present administration press Congress for additional authority to carry out its policies. This would be done in a political atmosphere because most lawmakers will be looking ahead to the November congressional elections.

As has been the case for a number of years, agriculture—as represented by its private organizations—continued to be divided sharply over what government should do.

The influential American Farm Bureau Federation continued to fight for less government in agriculture, but the National Farmers Union and the National Grange largely backed the policies of the Kennedy regime. This division is expected to continue in 1962.

The year also saw a change in secretaries of agriculture. Ezra Taft Benson, the Utah churchman who had served in the post for eight years under Eisenhower, was replaced by Orville L. Freeman, former Minnesota governor. They, like the administration to which they were attached, were poles apart on farm policy.

Name Police Lieutenant Chief in Royal Oak Twp.

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — In a surprise move Saturday night, the township board unanimously appointed Lt. Edward L. Watkins as police chief to take the place of ousted Chief William Ware.

Watkins had submitted a written application for the job which bore the signatures of his fellow police officers, promising to support him in every way if he was appointed to the job.

Watkins' appointment was announced Saturday night.

The board immediately fired Ware, who had been named to the job only three days before.

At last Saturday's special meeting, at which 90 residents were present, Watkins was appointed to the job for a 60-day probationary period.

OTHERS APPLY
An Ecorse detective and a veteran Oak Park police officer, Maurice Foltz had also applied for the job.

Up until last Saturday's meeting, Foltz had been considered top man for the position by the board. But under pressure from the citizens group, the board hired Watkins.

Watkins, who is 37 years of age, lives at 2134 Westview St. He is married and the father of three children.

He has been with the Royal Oak Township Police Force for the past seven years and was promoted to lieutenant in October.

His salary as lieutenant was $4,800. As chief he will get $4,800. No date has been set for the swearing in. Ware's resignation becomes effective Friday.

Michigan Crop at Record High

Field, Fruit Output Surpasses '60 Harvest by 9 Per Cent

LANSING — Michigan's combined output of its 18 major field and fruit crops set a record of $1.8 billion tons last year, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

Output surpassed last year's harvest by 9 per cent and barely topped the previous high set in 1959.

New records were set for corn, dry beans and commercial apples.

Value of the 1961 crop was $184.4 million, nearly 11 per cent above 1960, the agency said.

Grain crop production exceeded 100 million bushels for the first time. Output of field beans led the nation again, rising to 7,290,000 hundredweight.

Soybean production increased 68 per cent to 7,410,000 bushels, and the potato crop went up 24 per cent to 9,116,000 hundredweight.

Sugar beet output rose 35 per cent to 1,177,000 tons, sixth highest in the nation.

Michigan's total fruit production, at nearly 654,000 tons, was 10 per cent above last year and 30 per cent above average.

Hay and grape production dropped sharply from last year.

County Ala-no Party Slated for New Year's

It also includes a grotto containing a statue of the Virgin Mary with a lighted cross on top and Santa Claus in his sleigh pulled by prancing reindeer coming up the lawn toward the house.

84 at CMU Ask Navy to Carry Foreign Students

MOUNT PLEASANT — An open letter from 84 Central Michigan University students, a faculty member is asking President Kennedy to assign a man of war for transporting exchange students.

"It seems to us," the letter reads, "a particularly appropriate moment to indicate to the world that America's basic concern is always with the maintenance of peace, insofar as it is practicable to use our powerful Navy and Army for peaceful purposes, our nation is ready to do so."

It asks assignment of a United States warship twice a year to transport exchange students between this country and other continents.

"If the cost of transportation can be met, then the main obstacle to student exchange will be overcome. We are firmly convinced that the exchange of students and professors among countries will tend to increase our understanding of other nations' problems. Let us urge the world to travel the road to peace," the letter concludes.

Baby Takes Pills, Home Burns

Double Disaster Strikes Area Family on Christmas

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP — It has been the worst Christmas ever for the young Dennis Gritzinger family here.

The couple's baby daughter was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital yesterday after swallowing a lethal dose of heart pills. And their brand new house trailer was destroyed by fire during the night.

When they returned from the hospital last night the Gritzingers spent the night with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolin Voss, 8566 Claridge Road, Springfield Township.

During the night the young family's new mobile home, parked behind the Voss home, burned to the ground.

The Gritzingers lost practically all of their personal belongings. Damage was estimated at $2,500 by Pontiac state police.

Trooper Wilbur Rykert was patrolling on nearby Dixie Highway at 2:10 a.m. when he noticed the blaze. The trailer was almost totally burned then, he said.

Rykert summoned the township fire department. The flames were extinguished within 15 minutes.

State police said the fire apparently started in the trailer's oil space heater.

Avon Twp. Rochester Families Earn Prizes in Home Contest

ROCHESTER — A manger scene, choir boys caroling in front of a chapel window and Santa Claus riding up the front lawn in his sleigh has earned first-place honors for the Anthony Grech family in the Rochester Christmas Home Christmas Decorations Contest this year.

Last year a similar display at the Grech home at 3600 W. Tienken Road, Avon Township, won the second place award in the annual competition. This year's top prize is $15 cash.

Several changes were made in their layout this year, Mrs. Grech said today. These included all new figures in the entire display.

Winner of the $10 second prize is the Yuletide scene at the Andrew Hughes home, 31 Childress St.

The Hughes' decorations include Santa in his sleigh on the rooftop with his reindeer just taking flight—and a manger scene—all illuminated—with Christmas music piped outside adding to the effect.

Artistic use of colored lights caught the judges' eyes at the William D. Sanders home, 20 Perrydale Road. His display was awarded the $3 third prize.

The contest was sponsored by the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce. Judges this year were Avon Township Trustee Wayne Holman, Rochester Village Councilman John J. Lowes and Mrs. Hazel Van Scoyoc.

The body of Mrs. Mildred Kurtz, 55, who owned a $100,000 summer home near Lewiston, was found on a street in that Montgomery County village Dec. 14 after a three-hour search.

Police said Wilcoxson, a Lewiston hardware store clerk, admitted he struck Mrs. Kurtz and threw her from his car into a side street.

He was quoted as saying he slapped Mrs. Kurtz when she tried to resist his advances after he had dragged her from a trailer near Lewiston's main street.

Wilcoxson has been held without bond at the county jail here. His hearing today will be before Justice of the Peace J. R. Clark.

The influential American Farm Bureau Federation continued to fight for less government in agriculture, but the National Farmers' Union and the National Grange largely backed the policies of the Kennedy regime. This division is expected to continue in 1962.

The year also saw a change in secretaries of agriculture. Ezra Taft Benson, the Utah churchman who had served in the post for eight years under Eisenhower, was replaced by Orville L. Freeman, former Minnesota governor. They, like the administration to which they were attached, were poles apart on farm policy.

South Gridlers Whip North Team, 35-10

Baylor Back Sparks Rebels to Easy Victory

Ply Passes for 3 TDs, Scores One; McRae Gets Only Nasty Tally

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The South again conquered the North in the Shrine's annual College All-Star series, and the latest hero in this football Civil War is Baylor's strong-armed quarterback, Bobby Ply.

The shifty Texan piled a slow-moving Yankee offense with 14 successful passes to three talented receivers Monday night and the Rebels, favored by one point, rolled instead to an easy 35-10 victory.

Glen Glass of Tennessee was the catcher on a 46-yard touchdown aerial play, and Miami's two ends, Larry Wilson and Al Starmer, both Miller, engaged the other Ply scoring throw for 10 and seven yards.

Ply also streaked 37 yards for a fourth touchdown in winning the press box vote as the most valuable player of this series which the South now leads, eight wins to six.

The game is played for the benefit of the Shrine's hospitals for crippled children, but the financial return was the lowest in the series history. Only 18,962 fans turned out in cold weather that dropped the temperatures into the 40s during the game.

In completing 14 of 26 passes, Ply overshadowed the North quarterback, Eddie Wilson of Arizona, who had an off night with 15 out of 39 throws.

However, Wilson gained the honor of starting the longest pass play in the history of the series, a 97-yarder to the end, Selick of Notre Dame, was good for 73 yards, four yards longer than the previous record.

For fine defensive work against the South's overwhelming attack, center Larry O'Neill of Northwestern was picked as the outstanding player for the North.

TOP RUSHER
Miami's Miami player, Jim Vollmeider, slammed 18 yards for a South touchdown and led all Rebel ground gainers with 41 yards in 12 carries. The leading rusher for the North was Steve Simms of Rutgers, with 40 yards in 10 tries.

The North's only touchdown came in the second period, trailing 24-0, Eddie Wilson passed five yards to Bennie McKee of Michigan. The Yankees added a safety on the game's last play when Larry Brown of Purdue tackled Ply in the end zone.

The Cleveland club of the National Football League has added to the name confusion. The nickname of the team is the Browns; coached by Paul Brown; and its star rusher is Jim Brown; and now rookie tackle John Brown of Syracuse has been signed.

The Dickie Kerr award, named for a former Chicago White Sox pitcher, will be awarded to Milwaukee's Warren Spahn as the outstanding hurler in the major leagues last season.

Archie Dees, former Indiana University basketball star, has agreed to terms with the Pittsburgh Pirates of the American Basketball Association.

The University of Tampa board of trustees has voted unanimously to continue football at the school for an indefinite period.

BENNIE RAMBLES—Bennie McKee of Michigan carries a pass from Eddie Wilson of Arizona to pick up eight yards for the North team in the North-South college all-star game Monday night in Miami, Fla. South's Bob Egger (66), University of Miami, and Bill Kirschner of Maryland missed the tackle.

Rebounding Rangers Keep Wings Losing

By The Associated Press
A week ago the New York Rangers were badly doing just what many National Hockey League observers had predicted—collapsing.

They hadn't won in six games and were slipping badly toward the lower reaches of the standings. So rookie coach Doug Harvey called his crew together and they talked it over.

THREE STRAIGHT
Some of the coach's ideas have been incorporated. Some he rejected. One he liked was a re-vamping of the attacking lines. His principal move was to shift the line to a 3-2-1 formation.

So the 6-4 victory over Detroit Monday night moved them to within four points of second place in the Eastern Division. Toronto was in last place in the league at the moment. In winning their last game, the Rangers have scored 11 goals in their last five.

Since then, the Rangers have won three in a row and once again are making their presence felt in the scramble for the top spots.

Van Brocklin to Coach West in Pro Bowl
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Minn. state Vikings coach Norman Van Brocklin, for years a popular figure here as quarterback for the Los Angeles Rams, returns in a new role.

The Dutchman today was announced as the head coach of the West Pro Bowl football game Jan. 14 featuring National League all-stars.

Van Brocklin's opposite number for the East will be Alvin Sherman, coach of the Eastern Division champion New York Giants.

Need One Win Over Italy

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Mighty Australia, with Roy Emerson and Rod Laver playing the brilliantly—despite stamina-sapping 50 degree temperatures—moved to within one victory of the 10th Davis Cup tennis championship in 12 years today against Italy.

Emerson, the U.S. champion who usually concentrates on doubles, defeated Italian ace Nicola Pietrangeli 6-4, 6-4, 6-3 in opening singles matches of the Chubb Brothers at Kooyong Stadium.

A doubles triumph Wednesday would close out the championship for Capt. Harry Hopman and his Aussie team, who faced up to an "Italian draw" with the sure formula of success—unbeatable tennis.

GOOD DRAW
The luck of the draw, pitting Pietrangeli against Emerson, was expected to help the underdog Italian.

While the official temperature approached 90, it was probably over 100 on the courts. Some 100 spectators fainted in the heat and all the players seemed affected by it, except Pietrangeli, who said as he left the court:

"The heat and flies were my enemy."

Big Tournaments Open

For College Cage Teams

By The Associated Press
Three major tournaments, featuring some of the nation's top teams, head the college basketball schedule today, while three other important tournaments kick off Wednesday.

Starting today in New York's Madison Square Garden, the inaugural Quaker City tourney at the Palestra in Philadelphia and one of the nation's oldest holiday tournaments, the 26th annual All-College at Oklahoma City.

Starting Wednesday are the Los Angeles Classic, featuring four of the country's top 10 teams, the Big Eight tourney at Kansas City and the Far West at Portland, Ore.

Those six top 10 of tournaments too numerous to mention and their progress—finals in all but the All-College affair will be Saturday night—should be the focal point of the week.

UNBEATEN CLASH
The list of the major unbeaten already trimmed to 10, will be reduced one more tonight when New York University and Dayton, each 5-0, clash in the Holiday Festival at New York.

Neither, however, holds the favorite role, with such powers as Cincinnati, defending NCAA champion, and ranked second in the nation, and third-ranked Providence in the field.

Defending champion, Wichita and tough Utah State, each 8-1, head the field in the All-College, while Duquesne and Villanova, two more unbeaten and surprise leaders in the East, share the line in the Quaker City affair.

Here are the first round pairings:
ECAC Holiday Festival at New York: Dartmouth (2-1) vs. LaSalle (3-1) and Cincinnati (6-1) vs. St. John's (N.Y.) (4-1) this afternoon and NYU (6-0) vs. Dayton (6-0) and Providence (5-2) vs. Wisconsin (4-2) tonight. Semifinals are Thursday, finals Saturday.

QUAKER CITY TOURNEY at Philadelphia: Duquesne (6-0) vs. Wyoming (4-3) and Penn State (5-1) vs. Iowa (2-1) this afternoon and Villanova (8-0) vs. Niagara (4-1) vs. Holy Cross (3-1) tonight. Semifinals are Thursday, finals Saturday.

ALL-COLLEGE at Oklahoma City: All-College at Oklahoma City: Quaker City Tourney at Philadelphia: Duquesne (6-0) vs. Wyoming (4-3) and Penn State (5-1) vs. Iowa (2-1) this afternoon and Villanova (8-0) vs. Niagara (4-1) vs. Holy Cross (3-1) tonight. Semifinals are Thursday, finals Saturday.

BASEBALL CONGRESS Honors Star Umpire
WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—The National Baseball Congress yesterday played Santa Claus in completing awards for the 1961 baseball season in the non-professional ranks.

John Bok of Grand Rapids, Mich., was named "arbiter of the year" from members of the NBC National Assn. of Umpires. Pres. Red Kelly and Tim Horton carried off the Leas, Murray Balfour and Ab McDonald scored the year.

J. C. Tremblay scored a burst of four goals in 21 seconds of the third period, pulling New York from a 3-3 tie to the 6-4 winning margin. Henry's 18th goal of the season and another by Hannigan were the other New York goals.

Alex Delvecchio got a pair for the Red Wings, Bill Gadsby and Vito Slanin the other two.

Chicago gained the tie with Toronto on Bobby Hull's 13th goal in the last period. Cliff Pennington and Leo Red Kelly and Tim Horton carried off the Leas, Murray Balfour and Ab McDonald scored the year.

PRO SCOUTS AWAIT Blue-Gray Tilt Coming Saturday
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Scouts from many professional football teams will be watching the 23rd annual Blue-Gray game Dec. 30, and the record indicates they'll take sharp notice of what they see.

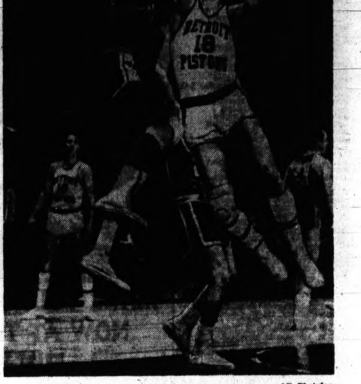

Current rosters of both the American and National Football Leagues list scores of players who saw action in the Blue-Gray while college seniors.

Earl Grant, the passer who leads the Green Bay Packers against the New York Giants for the pro title Sunday, played in the Blue-Gray game in 1955.

Chuck Bednarik, Philadelphia linebacker, had a heavy hand in pushing the North to a 26-0 Blue-Gray victory in 1955. Frank Tankersley, a top rookie quarterback with the NFL Vikings, and Norm Sneed, ace Washington passer, both played here as college stars last year.

The list goes on, and with the scouts coming back for more, it apparently will be extended next year.

The 24-man squads have been practicing for next Saturday's game the past three days.

STUCK PISTON—Ballely Howell of the Detroit Pistons tried for a basket only to have Chicago's Walt Bellamy knock down the attempt in the first period Monday in New York. The Packers, fined $2,500 for arriving late, downed the Pistons, 118-97.

Late Packers Down Pistons

Chicago Team Fined $2,500 for Play Delay

Host New York Celtics, LA Other Christmas Victors

By The Associated Press
Late by an hour, tired by a wearying day of travel, and fined a bundle of cash, the Chicago Packers posted one of their infrequent victories in the National Basketball Association Monday night.

For arriving late in New York for their opening game at the Madison Square Garden double-header, the league's newest entry got socked a $2,500 fine by NBA President Maurice Podoloff. The Packers then took the floor and whipped the Detroit Pistons 118-97.

In the second game, the New York Knicks battered the Philadelphia Warriors 135-135 in double overtime. The Boston Celtics tripped the Syracuse Nationals 127-122 and the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Cincinnati Royals 141-127 in other NBA action Christmas night.

DELAYS HURT
To arrive in time, and leveled the stiff penalty. There could be another financial setback for the Packers, if the Knicks make additional claims for damages suffered by refunding ticket money.

The Packers started slowly against the Pistons and fell behind by seven points in the early going, but took command at Detroit managed only one field goal during one nine-minute span.

Rookie Walt Bellamy paced Chicago with 35 points and 15 rebounds as the Packers won their seventh in 29 starts.

New York, not much better at 10-24, knocked off Walt Chamberlain and the Warriors on Johnny Green's rebound jump shot with 12 seconds left in the second period. The Knicks had an 18-point lead in the second quarter but had to fight from five points behind to get a tie and send it into overtime. Chamberlain poured in 39 points and grabbed 37 rebounds while Richie Guerin topped New York with 40 points.

BEST NIGHT
Tommy Heinsohn had his best scoring night in his six NBA seasons, collecting 45 points as the Celtics downed the Nets for their 26th victory in 30 games. Boston was ahead 124-107 when the Nets staged a furious winning shot that made it close. Dave Gambee topped Syracuse with 28.

The Lakers (28-9) padded their Western Division lead by beating the second-place Royals (18-16), with Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor and Chamberlain poured in 50 points, netting 40 points apiece.

TOP TENNIS STARS
DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Louis L. Thibault, a top tennis star, was scheduled to play in the 1961-62 season, but he was injured and had to cancel his participation in his favorite sport with some out-of-pocket expenses.

THREE SKI SKIER—One time Olympic skier Willy Schaeffer refused to let an injured Achilles tendon keep him off the snow-covered Colorado slopes. With a cast on his right leg, Schaeffer manages to participate in his favorite sport with some out-of-pocket expenses.

BRUMEL RUSSIA'S 'BEST'
MOSCOW (AP)—Valery Brumel, the Soviet's 7-foot high jumper, was named Russia's male athlete of the year Friday by the magazine Moscow Sports Week, which conducted a nationwide poll.

AMM DMITRIYEV, a many-time Russian tennis queen, was named the woman athlete of the year.

Field Goal Possible Decider at Pasadena

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The field goal, used sparingly by both, could be the clincher in the Rose Bowl battle between Minnesota and UCLA, a couple of close-to-the-event football practitioners.

As the New Year's Day game rivals resumed practice today after the Christmas holiday, the feeling grew that this could be the fourth Rose Bowl contest since 1950 to be settled by a field goal.

These are two teams dedicated to "position on the field" football, often punting on third down. But both the bowl-repeating Gophers, whose present 74-point favorite may shrink further before kickoff time, and the sturdy Bruins boasted only three success-

Giants Hand in 'Homework'

NEW YORK (AP)—It almost looked like a classroom in P.S. 85 today when the New York Giants' day," he said, "and neither will be handed in their 'homework' to Coach Alie Sherman.

But instead of "pass" or "fink," each Giant may be graded in terms of $55-5,000 of them to be exact, if he has learned his lessons well and the team beats the Green Bay Packers in Green Bay this Sunday for the National Football League's championship.

Sherman gave his squad a four-day-Christmas holiday but the players take along homework in the form of their play books, containing the basic plays and formations to be used in the Packers' game.

"If they don't have these basics down pat, then we're in trouble," Sherman said today.

WHITE PRACTICE
And he immediately dispatched them onto snow-fringed Yankee Stadium to begin intensive outdoor work to put their book knowledge into operation. Later, he planned to supplement the outdoor drills with skull sessions.

"We won't be putting in very much that's new these last few days," he said, "and neither will be the Packers. We'll go at each other with our strength, and prepare for the strength of the other."

Sherman admitted that while the Giants have great respect for the Green Bay's passing, it is still the Packers' tremendous running, led by fullback Jim Taylor, that poses the biggest threat.

"We feel we can stop this, or at least slow it down, by repositioning our defensive men," he pointed out. "We've got to make it a lot tougher for their blockers to get the angles and knock our men down, as they did in the game in Milwaukee."

GOOD KUSHING
The Packers won the regular season game 20-17 earlier this month as Taylor rushed the Giants' line for 188 yards. Sherman also admitted that his offensive unit must re-establish its offensive unit itself again, and get the angles and knock our men down, as they did in the passing of quarterback Y.A. Tittle to be effective.

Social Security Will Cost More

Rates Go Up Effective Jan. 1 to Cover New Benefits on Way

WASHINGTON (AP)—Social Security tax rates go up again Jan. 1, with the increased revenues helping meet the cost of benefit changes which became effective under amendments signed into law June 30.

The hike amounts to one-eighth of 1 per cent for employees and employers, and to two-tenths of 1 per cent for the self-employed. This makes the new rate 3 1/4 per cent for employee and employer, or a total payroll tax of 6 3/4 per cent for each employee, and 4 7/8 per cent for self-employed workers.

The tax applies to the first $4,800 of annual earnings by employees. The maximum annual amount of payroll tax will be $300 instead of the present $288, or $150 each on employee and employer instead of $144.

The new maximum tax for self-employed will be $225.60 instead of $216 a year.

Changes effective this year included: giving retired men the option to collect reduced benefits at 62 instead of at 65; increasing aged dependent widows' benefits by about 10 per cent; increasing the minimum from $13 to $40 a month; providing more incentive for beneficiaries to work by reducing the amount that has to be withheld from their benefits because of earnings above certain levels.

Book Authored by MSUO Prof on 'Right Reason'

A Michigan State University Oakland professor has for the first time traced the history of the 2,400-year-old idea of "right reason" first propounded by Socrates.

In his book, "Right Reason in the English Renaissance," Dr. Robert G. Hoopes, spends three chapters on the life story of this concept in classical and medieval times. The book is to be published Jan. 15 by Harvard University Press.

"Right reason" refers to the power of the mind to choose not only between truth and falsehood but also between right and wrong. A man who uses "right reason" is said to use both his powers of logic and conscience to think and make decisions.

The rest of Hoopes book is devoted to showing how this concept was used by writers of the English Renaissance, particularly by Milton and Spencer.

Hoopes teaches English at MSUO and is also assistant to the chancellor.

35 Finally Get to Mexico City

Coast Guard Barred Travelers From Ship, Then Planes Delayed

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirty-five of the 45 passengers barred from the cruise ship Aquapolo by the U.S. Coast Guard finally got off to Mexico City for what's left of the Christmas holidays.

But they went by air, and they had to shake the hex that stayed with them to the very end.

The determined 35 booked passage with 38 other tourists on an Aerovias de Mexico turbo jet. The aircraft was due to leave Idlewild Airport at 2:30 a.m. Monday, but hydraulic trouble kept it grounded until 10:17 p.m.

After a couple of hours of taxiing to take-off positions, then returning to the hangar, some passengers changed to an Air France plane scheduled to depart at 4:30 p.m. The jinx stood up, and mechanical troubles kept this one grounded until 9 p.m.

The Aerovias—scheduled to sail Friday for the Caribbean—was denied clearance by Coast Guard safety inspectors on grounds it had excessive wooden paneling and that two lifeboats were faulty.

It left for Mexico on Sunday with only its 250 officers and crewmen aboard.

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—The body of Georges Olivier, Swiss chief international Red Cross delegate in Katanga, was found today in a shallow grave near Camp Simoni in Elisabethville. The bodies of two of his assistants—a Dutchman and a Belgian woman—also were found.

Both U.N. and Katanga authorities claimed during the past week that they were unaware of the whereabouts of the three.

The plight was told in a story Christmas morning. Ivan read the story, just as his wife, Beth, was taking the Christmas dinner out of the oven.

A telephone call reunited the Cherrys.

Big Repayments Cut Foreign Aid Figure

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. aid to foreign nations totaled $5.2 billion last fiscal year, but big repayments by other countries cut the net figure to $3.9 billion, the smallest since World War II.

This report, issued by the Commerce Department Monday, noted that the $5.2 billion was the largest amount of military and economic aid since the 1953 fiscal year when it totaled $6,352,000,000. Included in the figures were such items as Mutual Security, Food for Peace, Export-Import Bank, and other programs.

Biggest items were $1.7 billion for military assistance, a decline of about $300 million from fiscal 1960, and $1.5 billion in exports of farm products.

Reserve outfielder Hector Lopez led the Yankees in runs batted in during the World Series with six. He drove home four tallies in the final game.

Mary Martin's Happy---At Last She Can Catch a Cold

By PHYLLIS BATELLE

NEW YORK — Mary Martin caught a cold last week. It may have been a common cold to anyone else, but for Mary it was a rarity. She rather enjoyed it.

"I never had time," she muses happily, "to catch one before."

Mary recently "retired" from the latest of her many Broadway hits, "The Sound of Music," and is enjoying a sabbatical from the stage. When her husband, Richard Halliday, besides being a successful producer, is constantly on manager-secretary-inspiration-bodyguard duty for his devoted wife.

Now that she's on "vacation," Mary could hardly be said to be wallowing in leisure.

"For 22 years, whenever anybody caught cold they were isolated immediately, because mother mustn't catch it. Mother had to go on that night."

"Well, last week I suddenly realized—Who cares if I catch a cold? I could get hoarse if I wanted to. I could even run a fever. So . . ." she grinned triumphantly, "I went to bed with my husband and I caught it."

"Was it uncomfortable?"

"It was fine, while it lasted. I had it Sunday and Monday, but I promised to make records on Tuesday, so I had to get over it."

SELF-DISCIPLINED

This is the story of Mary

Martin's life: Self-discipline.

When she is appearing in a long-running show (and all Mary's shows are), she must, as they say, husband her energies. Dick Halliday, besides being a successful producer, is constantly on manager-secretary-inspiration-bodyguard duty for his devoted wife.

Now that she's on "vacation," Mary could hardly be said to be wallowing in leisure.

'Slayer' of Dillinger Dies in Texas at 66

HOUSTON (AP) — John Vincent Murphy, one of the FBI agents who shot and killed desperado John Dillinger, is dead. He died in a Houston rest home Saturday at the age of 66.

Murphy retired last year after 36 years with the FBI.

'Admits Killing Teen-Age Wife'

Youth Allegedly Stabs Spouse Over Custody of Son at Fremont

NEWAYGO (AP) — State police said a youth admitted that he stabbed his estranged wife to death Sunday night because she refused to give him custody of their 6-week-old son.

Mrs. Doris Amelia Stevens, 18, of Route 4, Fremont, died of multiple stab wounds in her apartment about five miles west of here.

Her husband, Willard P. Stevens, 19, was held and Newaygo County Prosecutor John Shephard said a murder charge would be filed against him.

Sgt. Robert Halliday of the Newaygo state police said Stevens told of going to his wife's three-room apartment with a large hunting knife.

Halliday quoted Stevens as saying he stabbed his wife in the back, stomach and face as she tried to elude him in a room-to-room knife fight. She was found dead on the bathroom floor.

Halliday said Stevens, an employee of Gerber Products Co. of nearby Fremont, and his wife separated Dec. 19. He said they had been married about one year.

Gives Children White Christmas on 50-Degree Day

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Two New Orleans youngsters had a white Christmas even though the temperature climbed into the 50s.

William Nungesser, who owns and operates a seafood company, spread six tons of chipped ice on his front lawn Sunday night and added another four tons Christmas morning.

His children, Nancy, 4, and Billy, 2, built a four-foot snowman and, until the sun melted it, enjoyed the white Christmas for which they had wished.

A rare 18th century compilation of church music, compiled by the master of the orchestra of England's King George II has been added to the collection of the Grovesnor Reference Library in Buffalo.

Former Inkster Man Arrested for Theft

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—A former Inkster, Mich., resident, who was accused of stealing $16,000 from his partner in a proposed clothing deal, was free on $25,000 bond here today.

Michael D. Martin, 40, was arrested Sunday by the FBI in near-by Springfield and was being held on bond at a special hearing before a federal commissioner.

He was arrested on a warrant issued in Dearborn, Mich., on complaint of Stanley Long, who said he gave Martin the money more than a year ago.

Martin fled as soon as he cashed the checks, Long said.

Tire wear on highway curves is said to be at least 1,000 per cent greater than it is on straightaways.

Shopping Center to Feature Ward, Hudson Stores

Pontiac Mall Largest in 5-County Region

Pontiac Mall in Waterford Township, which will feature a Montgomery Ward and J. L. Hudson Co. budget store as its principal tenants, is the largest of the suburban shopping centers under construction in the five-county region of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe and Washtenaw.

Some 28 centers of community and regional size in this area have been established since 1953, according to a recent survey on the status of suburban shopping centers by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

The 28 centers represent an investment of more than $100 million.

Oakland County with nine centers at $37 million is second only to Wayne County, leading with 15 centers valued at $68.5 million. Macomb County is third largest with five centers at $12.6 million and Monroe County has one center costing $3 million.

Combined, the centers occupy 533 acres and house 719 stores with a floor space of over seven million square feet.

Under construction

The six centers currently under construction range in cost from $1 million to $13 million, and two multimillion-dollar centers are planned for construction within the next year.

In addition to the Pontiac Mall, Arborland in Washtenaw County and Regional Center in Macomb County are other large centers under construction. Both will feature Wards as the major occupant and both will be multimillion-dollar projects.

Other centers under construction are Garden City Plaza and Fairland in Wayne County and Westgate in Washtenaw County.

Glenwood Plaza in Pontiac and Madison Villa in Madison Heights are the two centers proposed for construction within the next year.

Of the two, Glenwood Plaza is the larger. It is projected to be a $5-million development that will provide nearly 300,000 square feet of store space. Kregge is the principal tenant and completion is tentatively set for early 1962.

The other proposed center, Madison Villa on John R. and 15-Mile roads in Madison Heights, will offer nearly 194,000 square feet of building area with J. L. Hudson's Budget Store as the major occupant. It is scheduled for opening in the spring.

The Regional Planning Commission in its report indicates that while there has been a lag in shopping center construction during the past two years with only one center completed in each of 1960 and 1961, as compared to an average of four centers for the period 1954 through 1959, 1962 will be another banner year.

Would never record

If the centers now under construction in this area were to be recorded, they would never record.

Future Uncertain for Orphaned Girls

WARREN, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Walter M. Campanian isn't certain about the future of her five granddaughters orphaned and injured in a traffic crash that killed their parents the day before Christmas.

"I don't know yet," Mrs. Campanian said Monday when asked where the youngsters would live after their release from a hospital. "It's too soon to tell."

IN FAIR CONDITION

The children—Judy, 15; Rita, 13; Mona, 12; Sandra, 11; and Janet, 9—are listed in fair condition at Warren General Hospital.

They were hurt in an auto-station wagon collision that killed their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Campanian of Falconer, N.Y., on U.S. 6 about seven miles west of Warren.

Also killed in the crash were Lloyd Palmer, 45, and Kathleen Smith, 37, both of nearby Irvine. Each is survived by five children.

The elder Mr. and Mrs. Campanian, who live near Irvine, were hosts Sunday at a dinner for five granddaughters.

Their son and his family then climbed into their station wagon for the 30-mile trip back to their home at Falconer.

They had gone about five miles when the crash occurred. State police, reconstructing the tragedy, said an auto-driven by Mrs. Smith swung left to go around a car ahead and smashed head-on into the station wagon.

Palmer was riding with Mrs. Smith. Other passengers were Palmer's daughter, Mary, 15; William Slocum, 37, of Irvine, and his wife, Dorothy, 33. They also are hospitalized with injuries.

Pope Issues Bull Convoking Ecumenical Council in 1962

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII issued a papal bull Monday formally convoking an ecumenical council of the Roman Catholic Church next year. It will deal with internal affairs of the church, advance the cause of Christian unity and consider the problems besetting modern man.

The Pope did not set the exact date for some 3,000 Catholic leaders to gather in St. Peter's Basilica. The worldwide council is expected to open late in 1962.

The internal administration of the church and paths toward Christian unity—two problems that have been major concerns of Pope John since his election in 1958—will be major topics at the council.

The Pope, expressing grave concern over "militant atheism, operating on a world plan," said the council "could not ignore the problems and troubles" of the world.

"While humanity is on the verge of a new era," the papal bull continued, "the church faces tasks of immense gravity and breadth as in the most tragic epochs of her history."

"They concern, in fact, the need of bringing the vivifying and perennial energies of the Gospel to the modern world—a world that exalts itself in its conquests in the technical and scientific fields."

The ecumenical council, known as Vatican II, will be the 21st in the history of the church. Many of its predecessors have issued historic decisions. The first, in 325, set the date for Easter. The 18th lasted 15 years from 1562 to 1563—and condemned the beliefs of Martin Luther.

The last council, known as Vatican I and called in 1869, proclaimed the infallibility of Roman pontiffs when teaching in their full authority on matters of faith and morals.

Eliminating Backlog of Land Applications

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall reported Monday good progress toward eliminating a backlog of over 40,000 nonmilitary applications for public lands.

This pile-up led to declaration last February of an 18-month moratorium on public applications.

Udall said that at the end of October there were about 27,000 nonmilitary applications case left and that during the moratorium the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) had made over 24,000 adjudications and completed 15,000 field examinations.

The moratorium covers most types of nonmilitary applications for public lands. It does not apply to state or local government applications nor stop sales of land at the government's own motion.

From the Protestant viewpoint, in his drive for Christian unity he hoped for a return of "the separated brothers... in unity and peace" to the Roman Catholic fold and not toward a confederation of churches with shared authority.

But the Pope made clear that

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—An estimated 200 persons have died as a result of a cold wave in North India that entered its 10th day today without relief in sight.

The lowest temperature recorded was 34.8 degrees in New Delhi Monday. Most Indian peasants have only meager clothing needed for the normal summer temperatures of more than 100 degrees in this area.

Ability Alone Doesn't Always Land Gal a Job

Gilbert Youth Service: The girl who thinks that a prospective employer rates her on ability alone is making a great mistake. An employer may interview numerous girls who offer the skills and experience he seeks. What will highly influence the decision he makes among them is the applicant's appearance, whether she is neatly groomed, conservatively dressed and projects an air of responsibility.

TABOO LIST

Flashy clothes and low-cut necklines are taboo for the job-seeker. Gobs of jingle-jangle jewelry and weird colored nail polish are frowned upon by employers. Skirts that are too tight or short are out, too. The job seeker should wear a simple dress or suit that is in good taste, well-pressed and neat. She should wear or carry gloves that are in good repair, while if possible.

Her hat may be tailored or flowered, but it must not be too large. Clipping a hat carelessly on the back of the head as an afterthought is not very smart. It must be selected and put on with care, the hat and hair coordinated to add to the wearer's attractiveness.

Church Choir to Sing 'Christmas Oratorio'

J. S. Bach's Christmas Oratorio, often called the counterpart of Handel's "Messiah," will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday, Jan. 5 by the choir of All Saints Episcopal Church.

Dealing with the birth of Christ, the joyful work was written for the holiday season of 1734-35 and is bound together by a continuous scriptural narrative. Six separate sections, often incorrectly called cantatas, are featured in the oratorio of which eminent Bach authority Philip Spitta said, "No other work by Bach contains a richer collection of charming and easily comprehended melodies."

TO SING IN PRODUCTION: Charles Wingert, tenor soloist at Kirk-in-the-Hills, Bloomfield Hills, will portray the Evangelist; Mary Lindquist, soprano; June Roberts, contralto; and William Vander Ven, baritone, all soloists at All Saints; also have roles in the production.

The presentation will be accompanied by organ and orchestra. Instrumental soloists will include: John Catalano, violin; Modesto de Santis, oboe; and Donald Tison, trumpet. Shirley Johns will be organist for the performance. Organized by the direction of Edgar Billups, organist and choir-master of All Saints.

Commonly only the work's first three sections, presenting Christmas as found in St. Luke's Gospel, have been performed. The fourth section, in a meditative mood, concerns the naming of Christ. Sections five and six tell the Epiphany story of the Wise Men from the East as found in St. Matthew's Gospel.

All Saints' performance will include sections five and six in addition to the first three. Interested community residents have been invited to attend the special program.

It's Proper to Ask Him to Remain

By The Emily Post Institute Q: This past summer while vacationing in another city I met a very nice young man. We had only one date and then he had to return to camp but he asked if I would write to him and I agreed.

In his last letter he invited me to go to a dance with him. It's at least a two-hour drive from my house to his and I would like to know if it would be proper to ask him to spend the night at my house rather than have him make the long trip back home? My parents have never met him. I would very much appreciate your answering this question for me.

A: If you have your parents' permission, it will be quite proper to invite him to spend the night in your house after you return from the dance.

Q: When invited to a large cocktail party where only the host and hostess are known to you, is it permissible to go up to two or more persons who are talking, so as not to stand alone? It is a very uncomfortable feeling to walk into a room and find yourself among a sea of strange faces.

A: If you can find another person who also seems to be alone, you could go up and talk to her, but you should not interrupt people who seem to be interested in the conversation they are having.

Q: Due to a difference of opinion, will you please tell me what is correct in the following instance? Before the plate is removed at the end of the main course, where should the knife and fork be placed? Should the blade of the knife be turned outward or inward and should the prongs of the fork be turned up or down?

A: When you have finished eating, place the knife and fork together on your plate with their handles over where five o'clock would be if the plate were a clock. The blade of the knife is turned toward and the prongs of the fork turned up.

Should the table papers be removed before mailing wedding invitations? The answer to this question as well as correct wedding forms will be found in the new Emily Post Institute booklet, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements."

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Post Office Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Hard-of-Hearing Should Try to See Other Point of View

By ARBAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Your sympathetic letter to "Exhausted Daughter," whose mother, was deaf, fell on deaf ears to me. Believe me, there are none so deaf as those who will not hear.

I have heard all the excuses. I'm too old to use a hearing aid. They're too noisy and make me nervous. They give me a headache, etc. It's all baloney!

My aunt ruined her daughter's life because of deafness. The poor girl used to rush home from her job to do the marketing and run all the errands.

She was literally chained to her hard-of-hearing mother. This girl was a beauty, but she never married because she had no social life. Tell those deaf people to TRY a hearing aid. And if that doesn't work, go to speech class and learn to lip read!

ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ABBY: Being totally deaf since childhood, I can only say "bless you" for the understanding you showed for the hard-of-hearing and deaf. I wonder how many people know that Helen Keller, who is both blind and deaf, once said, "I would rather have my sense of hearing than my sight!"

MAKING THE MOST OF IT

DEAR ABBY: In your column you said, "Love is a two-way game and it is impossible to be 'in love' alone." I agree with you. It is not possible to be in love with someone who doesn't love you. I know for sure that I was in love with someone who didn't even know I was alive. I'm no youngster, Abby. I'm old enough to be your mother. Please either retract your statement or explain it. I don't get it. SEVENTY PLUS

DEAR SEVENTY: It is possible to "love" someone, but in order to be "in love"—it must be mutual.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who was married before. He keeps all of his ex-wife's letters, their marriage certificate and an album full of pictures of them together. Later while they were still married.

I feel that either he should send these things back to her or throw them out, but he is jealous to me. I am very kind and jealous of her and it bothers me a lot. We have agreed to go along with him for now.

SECOND WIFE

DEAR SECOND: Your husband obviously does not want to part with these souvenirs yet. Consider him. Ask him to bundle up all the memories and store them out of sight. To insist that he destroy them is a mistake when he's ready to do it on his own. He will.

DEAR ABBY: My husband owns a garage and I keep all his tools and car in his garage. There is a woman who lives near us who has owned a car for over a year. I sent her one on the first of the month (a year ago) but she ignored it. My husband told me not to send her any more bills and

WSU Set to Stage Comedy

The Wayne State University Players, who leave soon for Europe to perform for U.S. servicemen, will present "Where's Charley?" Jan. 5 at the University Theater in Detroit. Additional 8:30 p.m. performances are scheduled for Jan. 6 and Jan. 11, 12 and 13.

"Where's Charley?" is a musical version of Brandon Thomas' 19th century farce, "Charley's Aunt." The book is by George Abbott, with music and lyrics by Frank Loesser.

Ray Bolger played the title role at the premiere in New York in 1948. Ten years later, at its London debut, the play was lauded by the British press as the best American musical since "Oklahoma."

The Wayne State production boasts props — including scenery, lights, properties, make-up and costumes — limited to a half-ton in weight. It is designed for the road and may be presented in any hall, with or without a stage. Backstage work is done by the cast.

The entire production is under the direction of Russ Smith, with musical direction by Wes Welby and Lee George. Patricia Weiling and Katherine Bank are the choreographers.

Leaving February 4 for Europe, the company will give some 30 performances for U.S. servicemen in Germany and Italy. Smith and Leonard Leve, director of the University Theater, will accompany the group.

The tour is sponsored by the USO and the American Educational Theater Association for the Department of Defense.

Wash to Wear

(NEA)—It is twice-daily face washing makes a young skin clearer and prettier, how much more necessary it is to a complexion that has weathered more years.

Bland Custard Pie Is Tasty After Rich Food

By JANEK ODELL, Pontiac Press Home Editor. After a weekend of eating rich foods, perhaps custard pie is a good choice for dessert today. Mrs. Edward Johnson of Rochester says there is a homely recipe.

Mrs. Johnson who is raising a grandson does some church work. She enjoys collecting stamps.

CUSTARD PIE
By Mrs. Edward Johnson
2 large or 3 medium eggs or 44 egg yolks

1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon or nutmeg
2 cups hot milk
Unsalted pie shell
Beat eggs, add sugar, salt, spice and milk. Mix well. Pour into unbaked crust. Bake 10 minutes at 450 degrees. Reduce heat to 125 degrees and bake another 30 minutes, or until silver knit, inserted in custard, comes out clean. Do not let custard boil or it will be watery.

making a study of such and such... and then go on from there. Making a study isn't quite as hip as taking a course — but almost.

So it's back to the books and the classrooms for Mr. and Mrs. America. It's not the social evenings that take the time these days — it's doing the home work in preparation for them.

Call any up-and-coming couple you know any evening but Saturday or Sunday and chances are the child who tunes down the TV to answer the telephone will report, "Mama and Daddy have gone to art class, or French class, or some other kind of class."

In the adult world, going to class is getting downright classy!

Back to Class or Slump Socially

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Editor-At-Large

Let's face it, Nowadays if you aren't learning something new all the time you might as well be dead — socially that is.

It used to be that Mr. and Mrs. America could get together with their friends and spend the evening bragging about their children, grumbling about crab grass or the football coach with the losing team (depending on the season of the year), telling each other about their do-it-yourself projects, and discussing the latest movie or current favorite TV personality dominating the home screen.

But no more. Now to get a word in edgewise a couple has to discuss what they're learning.

It's a Fashion Fact

One and One Equal Four

Gilbert Youth Service — Don't worry about your fashion homework! Just school yourself with the knowledge that coordinates can solve your clothing problems.

Try this one in mathematics: Buy one sweater and one skirt. How many costumes do you have? That's right. One.

At the same time purchase a pair of slacks and a nuptie cutie jacket. Now how many costumes do you have? (Careful. This is tricky.)

The answer depends upon whether or not you bought the slacks and jacket in a different color and fabric. If you did, you've got two costumes. But if you bought them to match your skirt, well, this is one of those rare instances when one and one make four.

PROVE IT

You can prove it out this way: Sweater plus skirt, and sweater plus pants; and jacket plus skirt, and jacket plus pants equal four interesting clothing combinations.

How's that for adding up a good wardrobe without sub-

Minister Bars Heels in Church

OXFORD, England (AP) — A Church of England minister today barred athletic heels from his 11th Century church.

"The wearing of those heels amounts to sacrilege," said Rev. Oscar de Berry, "especially when we're trying to beautify our church."

The rector said he was tired of having the sharp-pointed heels punching thousands of holes in the floor, and stuck a note on the church door.

"Ladies with this footwear may, however, remove them in the porch before entering for divine worship," he said.

The Rev. Mr. de Berry said one woman recently dug 5 pounds ($14) damage to the floor as she tapped her heels throughout a 20-minute sermon.

Well-Chosen Jewelry Is Enhancing to Your Skin

Jewelry can enhance your natural beauty even more if you harmonize your make-up with carefully chosen pieces to avoid clashing colors.

When choosing jewelry, a noted beauty authority advises:

that you first consider your skin tone. Gold, for instance, is ideal if your complexion has a creamy tone. If there is a good deal of pink in your skin, however, silver will flatter it and even tone down a overly ruddy complexion. Silver is also a perfect complement for women with gray or silver hair.

Lipstick shades can be matched to the pink, rose, red, coral, or orange tones in your jewelry. A pastel shade of lipstick will enhance the brilliance of pastel jewelry and a clear red, such as red on red, will bring out the color of your deeper jewel tones.

MATCH EYEBROW

If your jewelry is predominant in blue or green colors, try wearing matching shades of eyebrow. The sparkle of the new powder eyebrow colors will be particularly exciting when worn with matching jewelry.

Guests were Mrs. Clayton Gilles, Mrs. James Householder and Mr. Williams. The January meeting will be with Mrs. Carrie D. Locks on Nelson Street.

Temple No. 7 Has Meeting

A gay holiday centerpiece centered the refreshment table from which Mrs. H. Delos Nicholls, Mrs. Glen Pittenger and Mrs. Lewis Reiding served the members of Mizpah Temple No. 7 Pythian Sisters. Thursday evening in Fellowship Lodge Hall.

The temple has donated considerable clothing for overseas relief and has sent gifts to a young man at the Lapeer State Home and Training School. Christmas food baskets will be given to needy families.

The degree staff, under the direction of Mrs. Nicholls, captain, will assist the officers of Liberty Temple, Clawson, in the forthcoming initiation of a prospective member.

Installation of officers is scheduled for Jan. 9 in Fellowship Lodge Hall.

Mary Martin's Happy---At Last She Can Catch a Cold

By PHYLIS BATELLE
NEW YORK — Mary Martin caught a cold last week. It may have been a common cold to anyone else, but for Mary it was a rarity. She rather enjoyed it.

"I never had time," she mused happily, "to catch one before."
Mary recently "retired" from the latest of her many Broadway hits, "The Sound of Music," and is enjoying a sabbatical from the stage. When her husband, Richard Halliday, suddenly became hoarse and sneezy, the immediate family reaction was panic.

"For 22 years, whenever anybody caught cold they were isolated immediately, because mother mustn't catch it. Mother had to go on that night."

"Well, last week I suddenly realized—Who cares if I catch a cold? I could get home if I wanted to. I could even run a fever. So . . . I grinned triumphantly. 'I went to bed with my husband and I caught it.'"
Was it uncomfortable?

"It was fine, while it lasted. I had it Sunday and Monday, but I'd promised to make records on Tuesday, so I had to get over it."

SELF DISCIPLINED
This is the story of Mary

Martin's life: Self-discipline. When she is appearing in a long-running show (and all Mary's shows are), she must, as they say, husband and her energies. Dick Halliday, besides being a successful producer, is constantly on manager-secretary-inspiration-bodyguard duty for his devoted wife.

Now that she's on "vacation," Mary could hardly be said to be wallowing in leisure.

'Slayer' of Dillinger Dies in Texas at 66

HOUSTON (AP) — John Vincent Murphy, one of the FBI agents who shot and killed desperado John Dillinger, is dead. He died in a Houston rest home Saturday at the age of 66.

Murphy was waiting outside the Biograph Theater in Chicago with seven other FBI agents in July 1934 when Dillinger left the movie. As the agents moved in, Dillinger pulled his gun and died in a hail of bullets.

Murphy retired last year after 36 years with the FBI.

She is, instead, trying to be "the perfect producer's wife—whatever that is."

Halliday has just produced his first straight drama, an excellent play version of Morris L. West's best-seller, "Daughter of Silence." Mary went with him to Philadelphia during the Broadway try-out.

"I'd never been in front of the theater before," said Mary, whose last role was that of a postulate, "and after seeing what goes on—send me back to the abbey. That's hard work! I figured my job as the producer's wife was just not to say anything. Doesn't that sound reasonable to you? You just sit back and looked pleased and encouraging."

SNEAKED TO BED
"So one night after a run-through some lawyers and businessmen were coming back to the hotel for a conference with Richard. I thought, 'Now this is the time I'm not supposed to be around,' so I sneaked off to bed. About midnight Richard came in and belled. 'What kind of producer's wife are you? We have 20 people out here waiting for sandwiches . . . It was wonderful to be useful."

Since the drama opened, Mary has been playing hostess to Halliday's business acquaintances, and hers, at their exquisite penthouse above the East River. "You know me, I've never run a house. Don't know a thing about it. But I have a cookbook with illustrations showing what certain dishes are supposed to look like, and that helps."
