Floyd Lovett, 56, Wife Edna Die at Crossing on Franklin Road

A Pontiac Township couple was killed last night when their car was struck by a northbound commuter train at Franklin Road and the Grand Truck Western Railroad crossing.

Fatally injured in the accident at about 6:28 p.m. were Floyd F. Lovett, 56, and his wife Edna, 51.

Witnesses told Pontiac police Lovett drove into the path of the eight-car passenger train while warning lights were flashing at the railroad crossing.

The Lovetts' car stopped 187 feet north of Franklin Road after it was struck by the Grand Truck diesel locomotive. Mrs. Lovett was thrown from the car after the impact. Her body was found near the tracks over 100 feet north of the intersection.

Henry Wicks, of Warren, the train engineer, said he saw the victims' auto approach the crossing. Lovett looked northward as he neared the tracks but he failed to look south in the direction of the oncoming train.

The engineer said the Lovetts' car was struck by the oncoming train. Lovett was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a broken neck, a fractured skull and a crushed chest. Mrs. Lovett was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital from shock and a severely fractured skull.

A cab driver, Alfred Love Jr., 24, of 1011 Canterbury Drive, told police he heard two warning blasts from the locomotive as he approached Franklin Road from a side street.

Lowe said he saw the locomotive's headlight as he turned onto Franklin Road and noticed Mrs. Lovett's body fall out of the car. He immediately called police on his cab radio.

Temperatures for the next five days will average 2 to 4 degrees below the normal high of 34 and normal low 21, the weatherman says.

Thursday and Friday will continue cold but Sunday and Monday will be somewhat warmer. Freezing 18 will be tonight's low.

Fair and cold, the high reaching for 28 is the prediction for Thursday.

Precipitation for the period will total less than .4 of an inch with a chance of snow late Friday, and again Sunday and snow flurries likely Monday.

Twenty-nine was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury reading at 2 p.m. was 29.

Firemen in Action at Club

FIGHTING BLAZE—Firemen are shown entering the Orchard Lake Country Club after a blaze gutted the west wing of the two-story brick clubhouse this morning. Flames did not damage the main section of the building, but approximately $27,000 worth of golf equipment was destroyed. Firemen from West Bloomfield, Bloomfield, Commerce and Farmington townships had the fire under control in less than two hours.

Firemen from four neighboring departments were called in to fight the blaze which reportedly started in the golf pro shop in the west wing of the clubhouse.

Approximately $27,000 worth of golf equipment was destroyed in the fire, according to Thomas Shannon, 53, 2706 Heathfield Road, Bloomfield Township, golf pro at the country club.

Firemen said the main portion of the building was not damaged. They could give no estimate of damage to the west wing of the colonial-style clubhouse.

The blaze was brought under control by 11:30 a.m.

SPOTTED SMOKE Orchard Lake Police Chief Elmer Peters and Harold Hooper, an Orchard Lake DFW employee, noticed smoke pouring out of the west side of the building while they were on a service call in the area.

Fire departments from West Bloomfield, Bloomfield, Commerce and Farmington townships arrived at the scene within minutes.

The country club, which includes some of the most prominent residents of Oakland County as members, is scheduled to host its first national tournament the 1962 Western Amateur Championship, next summer.

Shannon, who has been the professional at Orchard Lake Country Club for 21 years, said today's fire marks the second time the golf shop has been burned out.

In April 1942, fire destroyed his shop when it was located in a different building on the country club grounds, Shannon said.

The present clubhouse was built in 1950. The west wing was added later.

Elder Kennedy Better Following His Stroke; Conference to Be Held

WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—President Kennedy's ailing father, hospitalized with a stroke that caused partial paralysis, was somewhat improved this morning.

And there definitely will be a meeting between the President and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain Thursday.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger told reporters, however, that there is a possibility the conference may be shifted from Bermuda to Palm Beach.

He said Macmillan has been in touch with the Chief Executive and places himself at the President's disposal.

At that time from physicians attending 73-year-old Joseph P. Kennedy, one-time ambassador to Britain.

One doctor said the patient has "a slight paralysis of the left side," but he said the elder Kennedy was better than when he entered St. Mary's Hospital Tuesday and better than he was last night. Salinger echoed this appraisal.

Announcement that the Kennedy-Macmillan conference will go on somewhere came just before the President left the ocean front mansion in Palm Beach where he is staying to drive to the hospital several miles away in West Palm Beach.

Topic: Pontiac State Hospital

DISCUSSING NEEDS—Dr. Walter H. Obenauf, medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, (standing) is shown discussing the hospital's needs with Gov. John B. Swainson (center) and Charles Wagg, state mental health director. Wagg and Dr. Obenauf gave the governor, his aides and a group of newsmen a first-hand look at facilities in Pontiac yesterday. The group had earlier toured Lapeer State Home and Training School.

Swainson Tours Hospital Here

Gov. John B. Swainson, several of his aides and a group of newsmen were given a few moments to reflect on what they'd seen and heard at Pontiac State Hospital yesterday.

A whirlwind tour of state mental health facilities was brought to an abrupt standstill when an overcrowded elevator left Swainson and 14 others suspended between the third and fourth floors for 10 minutes.

The governor said, "Don't panic" and everyone calmly waited for maintenance men to correct the trouble.

What they had seen and heard already had given them reason to "panic."

An overcrowded elevator is not unusual in an institution where nearly everything is overcrowded.

Dr. Walter H. Obenauf, Pontiac State Hospital medical superintendent described his hospital's needs with the assistance of State Mental Health Director Charles Wagg.

SAYS AID NEEDED

Dr. Obenauf told his visitors that the hospital desperately needs a bigger staff.

"We now have 35 nurses. If money requested in the 1962 budget is granted in full, we'll have 47. The minimum American Psychiatric Association (APA) standard calls for 172."

"The minimum APA standard for staff physicians is 36. We're about 13 under that now. We would need an additional 108 attendants to match the minimum APA standard," said Dr. Obenauf.

He emphasized that even if the proposed budget is granted in full, the hospital will still be below minimum APA standards in every staff classification.

"This hospital was built to handle 2,350 patients. It now holds over 2,000 and we have more than 100 on our waiting list."

"About 50 of our 80 emotionally disturbed children are living in adult wards. This is not healthy."

"We serve a 16-county area with a population of some 1.8 million. This works out to 187 beds available for every 10,000 people, the most drastic ratio in the state."

Name Detroit to Head Seaway

Selection of McCann Expected to Increase Importance of Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit industrialist Joseph H. McCann, Jr., the new administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp.

McCann, 46, former executive vice president and board member of the C. M. Hall Lamp Co., was named to the seaway post by President Kennedy Tuesday as successor to M. W. Oettershagen, who is retiring.

The appointment of McCann to the $200,000-a-year post is expected to increase the importance of Detroit as a seaway port.

McCann, who had been deputy administrator since last February, said he was not prepared to announce future plans immediately. Under Oettershagen, headquarters of the seaway corp. were at Mesquite, N.Y.

Oettershagen reaches the mandatory retirement age of 70 on Saturday. He has resigned effective Dec. 30.

The McCann appointment is a recent appointment permitting him to take office without Senate confirmation. However, his name must go to the Senate in January.

Gov. Swainson Tours Pontiac Hospital

"ideal" setup would be several "hospital units with their own team of doctors and administrators on the grounds, all under one superintendent. Each unit could have about 500 beds and handle cases only from a definite area.

"This way, the staff would get to know patients and their problems much better and we'd still have the advantages of a central administration and plant facilities."

All that Gov. Swainson heard was not as serious. He talked with many children and adult patients during the tour.

One small boy asked him, "What is a Republican?" The governor stopped to devise the answer the boy could understand.

Before he could reply, the lad said, "I mean, is he a elephant or a donkey?" The governor looked relieved.

He asked a 7 year old if he went to school every day. The boy smiled.

"Yep. You can't skip out here."

The governor said he would ask the legislature to start a long-range program toward better community care facilities for the mentally and emotionally disturbed and retarded.

One of the youths, James McCracken, Jr., 18, repeatedly attacked an Oakland County Sheriff's deputy after pointing a gun at the officer's back, according to police.

McCracken is being held today for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon.

His friend, Robert Cox Jr., 18, is accused of interfering with police officers who came to his home at 3145 E. Commerce Road on an emergency call to aid his father, who apparently had suffered a heart attack.

Deputies said the younger Cox started arguing with his father as he was being worked on by a resuscitator by Commerce Township firemen.

Cox was ordered out of the room and McCracken, 1949 Schuyler Road, then began to disturb the resuscitator crew, the deputies said.

One of the officers at the scene said McCracken grabbed Deputy Charles Parker's revolver from his holster after pushing the officer off balance.

LUNGED AT YOUTH Deputy Robert E. Mahwinney, seeing McCracken with the gun pointed at Parker's back, lunged at the youth and knocked the gun from his hand.

The deputies said McCracken kicked Parker in the patrol car on the way to the jail. Both youths also fought the policemen outside the jail.

Once their handcuffs were taken off at the front desk in the jail, McCracken hit Deputy Charles G. Rahn across the face. Cox joined in the attack.

FORCIBLY REMOVED The two youths had to be forcibly removed to their cells by eight sheriff's deputies. They were scheduled to be arraigned today.

The deputies said Cox, his father and McCracken had been drinking before the incident occurred. The elder Cox was transferred to Pontiac General Hospital.

Friends of Civil Service Found by Con-Con Group

Testimony was given in Pontiac last night indicating that most state employees are happy with the way civil service is today.

Nearly 100 persons availed themselves of the first hearing of the constitutional convention to be held in Pontiac. Most of the men and women were employees of state agencies in the Pontiac area.

Delegate Raymond L. King of the Pontiac area, who is chairman of the committee on the executive branch of government, held a two-hour session at the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St., to find reactions to civil service and whether any changes should be made in the new constitution.

"By and large," King, R-Pontiac, said, "the testimony was favorable with the way the system is today."

Criticism, however, came from two witnesses. O. F. Foster, an Orion Township farmer and unsuccessful con-con candidate, recommended that any change in the law give the legislative a two-thirds vote power over the Michigan Civil Service Commission, which Foster spurned as being "all too powerful."

Door Held Open by Indonesians

Willing to Negotiate on W. New Guinea, but Official Hints at Force

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Foreign Minister Subandrio told parliament Tuesday night that Indonesia can't be blamed if it takes West New Guinea by force but that the door is still open to a peaceful settlement with the Dutch rulers of the island territory.

He made clear that Indonesia will accept only a settlement giving it control of the western half of the big island, which the Netherlands retained in 1949 when it granted the rest of the Netherlands East Indies independence.

Meanwhile, said Subandrio, "for us there is no other way but to carry out the people's command" by mobilization of Sukarno who ordered total mobilization of the nation. Subandrio said he had instructed the armed forces to prepare to seize West New Guinea "at any time from now on."

NOT CLOSED "The possibility has not yet been entirely closed that this question may be settled peacefully. The door is still open."

He invited the Dutch to "seize this opportunity before it is too late" and asserted that the world could not blame the Sukarno government if it launches military action to prevent the Dutch from carrying out their plan to transform West New Guinea into the state of West Papua which would have the right of ultimate self-determination.

"Let the Dutch not underestimate our strength," the foreign minister declared. "Let the Dutch not consider the hand extended by President Sukarno as weakness of Indonesia but as a final appeal to seek a peaceful way."

The Day in Birmingham City Commission Amends Amusement Licensing

BIRMINGHAM — An amendment to the amusement regulation ordinance has been adopted by the City Commission which will allow an establishment to purchase a license for a period up to one year.

The annual license, which will cover a term from six months to a year, will cost $100 for a business which is offering entertainment to customers.

Up to the six-month period, the initial license will cost $5 plus $1 fee for each day the permit is issued. This has been the procedure in the past.

The old ordinance limited the payment to a period of 30 days, therefore making it necessary to have the license renewed monthly and at a cost of more than $200 if an establishment offers year-round entertainment.

The action by the commission was taken following a request by the Morris Coffee Shop to study the license fee schedule.

City Commissioner Carl Ingraham has been named to act as liaison between the commission and the Michigan Municipal League.

Purpose of the appointment is to allow the league to readily contact Ingraham when municipal licensing comes before the State Legislature.

This will allow the city to act promptly when its interests and position on city affairs develop in the legislature.

Admits Poisoning Kin for 'Eavesdropping'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Detectives say a widow has admitted poisoning her sister and brother-in-law but said she regretted their deaths were "so slow and painful."

Officers filed murder charges Tuesday against Eunice Beynon, 63. She was held without bond. Mrs. Beynon's brother-in-law, Frank Pahlman, 66, an insurance man, died Nov. 20. His wife died nine days later.

Capt. R. A. Benfer said Mrs. Beynon signed a statement admitting she put rat poison in jars of water kept in the refrigerator at the Pahlman home, where Mrs. Beynon also lived.

Cities Service VIP Dies

ORMAND BEACH, Fla. (AP)—William W. Lowe, 74, a former director of Cities Service Co., died Tuesday after a brief illness. He had been president and a director of Wolverine Pipe Line Co. since 1945.

Child Musician Wins Fight to Play With Pros

TORONTO (AP)—A 7-year-old saxophonist has won a 16-month battle with the Musicians' Union for the right to play professionally with union bands.

The American Federation of Musicians agreed Tuesday to let a member.

Attila Galamb of Toronto performed with union members without payment of the standby fee normally charged anyone employing a non-union member with a union band. The union stipulated, however, that Attila must charge union rates for his own playing. It also denied him union membership until he is 12.

The boy's lawyer in return agreed to drop his suit for child labor when the union accepted the child as a member.

Insurance Official Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—V. I. G. Peterson, 63, vice president of the Insurance Co. of North America, died Monday. Peterson was responsible for the original organization of the firm's world-wide operations, serving in Shanghai, China and later in Hong Kong. He was born in St. Petersburg, Russia, of Danish parents and came to the United States in 1917.

Kennedys Make Hit in South America

President JOHN F. KENNEDY and his likable spouse are back from a triumphal dash into South America. We repeat: "triumphal." No other word describes the trip.

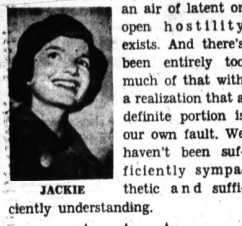

They were terrific. And this means each one.

There were advance rumblings that their reception might be worse than slightly chilly in certain localities. Other American dignitaries have been jeered and insulted. But the President and his "Jackie" took the place by sheer charm and won us an inestimable amount of good will.

South America is tremendously important to the United States. It's high time we spent more time, money and personal effort in helping develop this neighboring area rather than worrying ourselves silly over Europe, Asia, Africa—and even Australia. These other peoples are our immediate neighbors and they should be close friends and associates.

Perhaps we can help. They have enormous problems.

But it's a cinch we can be of no value to them—or them to us—when an air of latent or open hostility exists. And there's been entirely too much of that with a realization that a definite portion is our own fault. We haven't been sufficiently sympathetic and sufficiently understanding.

JACKIE

President and Mrs. Kennedy were grand ambassadors of good will. They were received with applause, cheers and warm smiles of friendship. And don't forget that this attitude had to be apparent first on the part of the Kennedys.

And it was.

These two young people are relatively inexperienced in international diplomacy. But, they're both home-blown experts with a ready smile, a friendly handshake and a warm acceptance of an extended welcome.

Both radiate youth and good spirits that are highly infectious. Our Southern neighbors reciprocated in kind. And so, this tour de force ends happily and with the cheers of our neighbors ringing in the ears of the two successful KENNEDYS—and more importantly in the ears of 185 million American people.

Nothing really "hung in the balance" and there were no great issues momentarily at stake. It was just a voluntary good will trip at a time when our Chief Executive was knee deep in pressing White House activities. These facts alone greatly strengthened the Kennedy trip.

Local Naval Reserve Receives High Tribute

In capturing honors as the top Naval Reserve outfit in the State recently, Pontiac's Naval Reserve Surface Division 9-104 was also ranked fifth in the Nation's 49 units.

This is a high tribute to the training efficiency which has always marked the local unit since its founding. Competing with men from five other divisions within the State, two local enlisted men also were ranked top in their class.

Pontiac is fortunate to have so many able men willing to participate in the vital role of reserve forces, doing so well in maintaining their proficiency. If we may be permitted, a "Well Done" to the local Naval forces.

The Man About Town

Feeding the Birds

The Ice Also Covers Up Their Usual Food Supply

Autobiography: Story of your car.

Several lovers of our feathered wild life have called attention to the fact that a snow coverage is not necessary to deprive our birds of their customary winter feed supply.

Many of them depend on weed, grass and other plant seed for their sustenance through the cold weather, and they are deprived of this when it is coated with ice following sleet storms such as we've recently experienced in the Pontiac area. It seals things up even more effectively than can be done by snow.

So the birds are hungry, and will appreciate a good menu on your feeding board, or in any other way that you may find convenient to serve it.

You need not go to any expense in order to have a part in saving our birds. The table scraps that you usually throw into the garbage can will be gladly appreciated, and paid for with a song that will make you glad you did it.

A rather unique corsage is owned by Mrs. Alice Cross of 88 Pratt St. It is made of World War saving stamps.

A card from Eustis, Fla., sent me by Eddie Curran, formerly with The Pontiac Press, says the water is so low in some of the shallow lakes and canals that he is catching 12-pound bass with his bare hands.

The Christmas card of Michigan State Highway Commissioner

A letter over the signature of "Lover of Courtesy," pays tribute to the pleasing manner with which Pontiac postal employees deal with the public. It continues, "from relatives in other locations I learn that many post office clerks act as if they owned the government, and actually are snotty."

Another Oakland County farm has been given a centennial marker, that of Thomas and Glenn Terrah of Groveland Township, in the same family for over 100 years.

A trifle belated Santa Claus letter, with a Clarkson postmark, comes from and requests only a doll that squeaks. If she will make known her full name and address to this column, the squeaker will be forthcoming.

Times are changing. Several Pontiac meat markets tell me that there's a bigger demand for chicken, duck or goose for Christmas than for turkey.

Phoning the somewhat puzzling question, "How fast does spring come back?"

Mrs. Geraldine Royster

of Birmingham thought she had me stumped. However, the actual figures show that when spring weather comes north, it does so at the rate of 15 miles per day.

India Is Aligned With Aggressors

WASHINGTON—India has turned the clock back several centuries to espouse the doctrine that might makes right. No longer is India "nonaligned." It now is aligned with the aggressors—and the Soviet Union.

'Children in County Home Receive Excellent Care'

Oakland County is extremely fortunate in the quality of care given children at the county children's home. I have observed these dedicated Christian women mothering the children, who somehow find the time to give extra attention. These cottages have a homelike atmosphere and a spirit of cooperation.

Mrs. K. Peterson

Says 'Home Rule' Isn't Democratic

We don't want "home rule." It takes government out of the hands of the masses and places it in the hands of a few. It starts us on the same "road" Rome took in her change from a democratic government to the heights of imperialism.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 20, the 35th day of the year with 11 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1780, the first successful American cotton mill was started at Pawtucket, R.I., by English textile machinery specialist Samuel Slater.

In 1883, the United States government officially took over control of the lands purchased from France in the Louisiana Purchase.

In 1917, Nikolai Lenin, the first Communist dictator of Russia, ordered the creation of the Cheka, the secret police agency which served throughout his regime.

A thought for the day: It is written in the Acts of the Apostles in the New Testament: "Wherein the just differ, though thou condemn themself."

Portraits

By JOHN C. METCALFE

I wonder what my little dog would have to say today to me. If he could talk with human words. . . . About our lighted Christmas tree. . . . I wonder if he's heard about. . . . The story of the Holy Child. . . . Before those tattered manger crib. . . . Three kings and many shepherds filed. . . . I wonder what his words would be. . . . About the music that he plays. . . . The soft angelic Christmas tunes. . . . Which were composed in olden days. . . . I wonder also if he knows. . . . Why all around this time of year. . . . The people who he loves so much. . . . Reflect a special sort of cheer. . . . I think that if my dog could speak. . . . With words which we could understand. . . . He'd be glad and call on all of us. . . . To wish for peace in every land.

Smiles

There's a lot of beautiful scenery in our country right behind a flock of billboards.

"How are you?" quite often leads to people telling you all of their troubles.

It's funny how folks drive miles and miles on weekends to take snapshots that are out of focus.

A wife used her husband for separate maintenance on their 25th wedding anniversary. Liberty struck her as a golden opportunity.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Train Self Out of Fear, Timidity

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-481: Donna R., aged 24, presents a common problem of both sexes.

"Dr. Crane, will you please tell me how I can overcome my fear of the opposite sex? I've been in a dead end."

"Such a fear is a tremendous handicap to me in business. When I find it necessary to work with a man, I become very nervous that I can hardly perform my tasks."

"When I am called upon for reports or conferences with male superiors, I cannot utter what I have previously planned."

"What I do say is in such a weak, tight little voice that anybody would be justified in thinking me incompetent."

"I do mingle some with men in the church, in social affairs of the Eastern Star, and other organizations, but I don't seem to improve very much. Dr. Crane, what is wrong with me?"

STAGE FRIGHT

Various factors can contribute to this very common fear. Donna feels that she is alone in having such a strange complex.

If she could just hear the "Amorist" that arise all over the country from thousands of young men, as well as women, who are reading this case today, she would be greatly reassured.

For most of our fears and complexes are not unique. They are shared by millions of other human beings.

But we seldom realize that, so we think our problem is peculiar to ourselves. Indeed, we may even believe we are so very abnormal that we fear for our sanity.

How could Donna have developed this dread? Well, some girls grow up in homes devoid of men folks, as where the father is dead.

Or they may have been reared by an old maid mother or a divorced mother, where men may have been regarded as dreaded beasts.

Such a sheltered childhood means lacking her own opinions, one's personality. When Donna finds herself in the midst of business men, some of whom bark orders in a loud voice, she trembles.

Probably some of the introverted young men in her same office also tremble, too, but Donna doesn't think of this. She thought she was unique in her terror.

NEGATIVE ADAPTATION

There is a "Law of Negative Adaptation" in psychology. It means simply that we grow less and less frightened if we continue to make contacts with the fear-some object that first causes terror, especially if it doesn't bite us or harm us seriously.

Donna must also extort her attention, and place it not on herself but on her associates. If she begins by self-centered and concerned with her own opinions, these emotions will grow less violent. But how can she forget herself? By thinking of somebody or something else.

This prescription I offered her was this:

"Become a social detective! Ferret out the good points in your associates. If the boss has an attractive, the compliment him regarding it, even if you are in a cold sweat meanwhile."

"If he dislikes letters in a clear, calm voice, screw up your courage and tell him you appreciate that fact. You may be almost petrified with fear. He may even say that you are frightened."

COURAGE BEGETS ADMIRATION

But courage begets admiration. And nobody dislikes a sincere success in life, but the goal is worth the sacrifice.

Cold sweat is the type of perspiration that proves you are growing, mentally and plunging into new situations which lead to success.

DEADLY COCKTAIL—George S. Herbert had two reasons for drawing this traffic safety cartoon. He is a California highway patrolman, attached to the La Canada substation, and he'll be on duty during the Christmas and New Year's holidays. And he knows at first-hand the tragedy of traffic death: He lost two of his own youngsters in an automobile crash.

Fido Jingle Prize Goes to Cat Owner

NEW YORK (AP)—Miss Cecile P. Wulff, a cat lover supreme, won a $4,000 prize in a dog food jingle contest.

And if you think she was surprised, think of the contest representative who delivered the check to her Brooklyn residence Tuesday.

"We have to take 'em as they come," he mumbled after catching a glimpse of the nine felines lounging about the apartment. Miss Wulff shares with her sister, Miss Harriet Wulff, the beaming winner advised him happily that the money would go a long way towards keeping Baby, Spotty, Aggie, Dolly, Doty, Hawkins, Frosky, Stacy, Nicely and Nanny in food.

"Unfortunately, we (Ralston Purina Co.) do not manufacture cat food," he sighed. Contest participants had to say which of five dog cartoons was funniest then supply the last line of a four-line jingle about dogs. Miss Wulff wouldn't disclose any of the eight entries she submitted.

Neither would the contest representative. If he did, he explained, thousands of losers all over the country would raise a howl at Oberlin since 1946.

Educator Succumbs

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP)—James W. Armstrong, 64, prominent educator, speaker and author, died Tuesday of a heart ailment. Armstrong, who once taught public speaking at Northwestern University, was director of counseling services at Henderson County High School and also taught classes in public speaking at the University of Kentucky Northwest Center. He was born in Centralia, Ill.

Ex-U.S. Official Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles B. Hook Jr., 47, president of the Hooker advertising agency and former deputy postmaster general, died Tuesday, apparently of a heart attack. He was vice president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad when chosen in 1953 as deputy postmaster general. Exports of Greek currants during the 1960-61 season amounted to $49,795 tons as against 41,302 tons during the previous season.

Oberlin President Philippine Envoy

MANILA, Philippines (AP)—William Edwards Stevenson has been appointed U.S. ambassador to the Philippines, the foreign office announced Tuesday. Stevenson, 61, president of Oberlin College in Ohio, succeeds John D. Hickerson, who has retired from the U.S. Foreign Service. Stevenson's appointment had been predicted by informed sources in Washington.

Stevenson was an educational consultant for the State Department in Japan, India, Lebanon and Egypt in 1952-53, and has served with the Commonwealth Fund, Council for Financial Aid to Education and the National Fulbright Selection Committee, and other groups. He has been president of Oberlin since 1946.

Weary U.N. Delegates Pushing to Wind Up Tonight

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The steering committee called for adjournment by midnight tonight, but the assembly was expected to sit past the deadline in order to clear a number of items from its agenda.

It was the second U.N. decision against Portugal within 24 hours. A Soviet veto Monday night blocked Security Council approval of a resolution calling on India to pull back its invasion of the three small Portuguese colonies on the west coast of India. The Indian army completed its conquest Tuesday.

India led the campaign to condemn Portugal for refusing to furnish information on itself, governing territories required by the U.N. charter. The vote was 903 by Portugal, South Africa and Spain voting no and Bolivia and France abstaining. The United States voted for the resolution after an unsuccessful attempt to soften the language of the resolution.

MAN COMMITTEE
The resolution authorized creation of a seven-man committee to conduct an investigation of conditions in the Portuguese territories and call on member states "to deny to Portugal any support and assistance which may be used by it for the suppression of people of its self-governing territories."

The chief targets of the latter provision were the United States, Britain and other members of the North Atlantic Alliance from whom Portugal obtains military supplies as a member of NATO.

The 10-nation budgetary committee assured assembly approval of a $200-million, 25-year bond issue to save the world body from bankruptcy. The committee recommended assembly approval of the bond issue by a vote of 45-11 with 21 abstentions. The Soviet bloc objected that the plan was illegal.

The proposal initiated by Acting Secretary-General U Thant "had strong backing from the United States, which pledged that President Kennedy would ask Congress for authority to buy a substantial share of the bonds."

The United Nations' grave financial situation results largely from the refusal of a number of nations to contribute to the organization's operations in the Congo. Thant estimates the U.N. deficit will be $170 million by next June 30.

BOWED TO REDS
The assembly bowed to Soviet bloc demands that when it resumes next month, its agenda will not be limited to discussion of the crisis in Portugal's African colony of Angola and the future of Belgian-held Ruanda-Urundi.

The assembly rejected a suggestion by the United States that the January session should take up only the two African items and dump all others not disposed of by tonight's adjournment.

In its drive toward adjournment the assembly and its main committee voted on a series of items years ago as "the United Nations de-Palestina-Commission-Commission-negotiations-between-Israel-and-Arab-nations." President Kennedy had proposed such action since Soviet troops suppressed the 1956 Hungarian uprising.

The political committee approved 61-9 an Asian-African resolution's credentials. It was the first time since 1946 that the United Nations had accepted the credentials of a new group of nations to resume negotiations on Algerian independence. The United States and 33 other nations abstained.

Police Preparing for Traffic Rush

EAST LANSING UP—The most dangerous period of the year for motorists is beginning and state police are planning a year-end effort to hold down traffic fatalities.

Unless holiday accidents take an extra-high toll, Michigan will end up the year with a one per cent reduction in last year's death count of 1,206, State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said.

On the 28-hour Christmas and New Year's weekends, 1006 Michigan National Guardsmen will join troopers for intensified road patrols, Childs said.

Patrols will be lengthened from 8 to 10 hours from noon Friday to midnight Monday this weekend and next.

TO CONCENTRATE PATROLS
Patrols generally will focus on the trunklines, and concentrate on high-accident areas, Childs said. Weather permitting, radar speed meter units will operate during the daylight hours.

"To celebrate the holiday season sensibly and safely," Childs urged, "police patrols will do what they can, but it's also the responsibility of drivers and pedestrians to do their part to avoid accidents."

Last year, 32 persons were

C124 Crashes, 7 Aboard Die

Globemaster Tries to Return After Take-Off, Falls Short of Runway

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A C124 cargo plane attempting an emergency landing crashed just short of the runway at Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base near here Tuesday, killing all seven aboard.

The four-engine craft plunged into a marshy field, missing a row of suburban residences by a quarter of a mile.

Huge Structure Will Protect 50 Families

Muskegon 'Ants' Build Shelter for Nuclear 'Winter'

MUSKEGON (AP)—Nearly every evening for some time now—Saturdays and Sundays, too—groups of 10 to 20 men have gathered in a huge hole in the ground in a field in Laketon Township and gone to work.

The eyes of the nation are on them, but if they realize it, they seem unconcerned. They are the adult, male members of nearly 50 Laketon families who have banded together to build one of the country's first community fallout shelters.

And if they sometimes resemble the fabled ant who pre-ferred to look ahead to winter and bag times—They can be forgiven.

Because many across the country who watch resemble the ant's fabled counterpart—the indolent grasshopper who refused to believe bad times could be ahead of him.

But for every "grasshopper" there are others who feel the urge to do something farsighted, too, in the face of the prospects of total war and nuclear destruction.

These others are beginning to make inquiries of the Laketon group, a nonprofit corporation operating under the title of Laketon Membership Fallout Shelter No. 1.

Who knows how many similar groups might be inspired to form over other community shelters.

NEARLY COMPLETED

Today the project in Laketon Township, located just northeast of Giles and Horton Roads, is no longer a hole in the ground, but a nearly completed underground building capable of protecting 200 men, women and children from fallout.

Built entirely by volunteer workers, the 175-by-30-foot cement block and concrete structure now has its roof of reinforced precast concrete slabs and nearly ready for its three-foot deep covering of protecting earth.

William Welner, 165 N. Horton Road, the man who started the community shelter idea among his neighbors and who is president of the corporation, said today they hope to have the shelter completed by Jan. 1.

When completed, it will have about 20 rooms, most of them separated by plywood partitions that will fold into the ceiling when not in use.

The shelter also will have a 20-by-30 "all-purpose" room at one end, that will double as extra sleeping quarters as well as a meeting and recreation room.

Shelter officers estimate the cost of materials, including plumbing, waste disposal equipment, generators, air purifiers and kitchen equipment, will exceed $10,000.

Cost per individual varies from $40 per person for those who have worked on the project to $75 for those who have been unable to do so.

Louisiana Dem Wins Election

Opposition Republican Makes Big Showing in Congressional Race

SHREVEPORT La. (AP)—Election of Joe Waggoner, a staunch segregationist and conservative Democrat, to Congress strengthens congressional opponents of the Kennedy administration.

Waggoner defeated Republican Charlton H. Lyons Sr. in a surprisingly close election in north-west Louisiana's 4th District Tuesday.

The new congressman made no secret during the hard-fought campaign that he differs widely with most policies of the national party which he bolted in the 1960 presidential election.

Complete returns gave Waggoner 33,846 votes to 28,273 for Lyons in a district that hasn't elected a Republican congressman since Reconstruction days.

Waggoner, of Plain Dealing, is 43 and a member of the State Board of Education, Lyons is 67, a wealthy Shreveport oilman.

Waggoner will serve until January 1963 filling out the term of the late Rep. Overton Brooks who died Sept. 16.

PARALLEL VIEWS
Most observers were surprised at the large vote for Lyons whose views closely agreed with Waggoner's. Lyons himself was a

Tabletappers Bring Joy to Handicapped

The Oakland County Tabletappers Association Monday distributed gifts to and provided entertainment for 26 crippled children at a Christmas party at Mark Twain Elementary School.

Tabletapper president, John Kennedy, donated two 6-foot toboggans to the crippled children's room at the school. Each child at the party received candy filled canes purchased from the Pontiac Lions Club.

A show, including Christmas music and magic, also was featured at the 2 1/2-hour party.

Youngsters Find Staunch Defender in Prince Philip

LONDON (AP)—The husband of Queen Elizabeth II Tuesday defended the rock'n'roll generation from criticism by their elders.

"There has been a tendency in recent years to pick on the younger generation for their dress, their social habits and their ways of enjoying themselves," Prince Philip told a luncheon meeting.

"It seemed to me that it was about time that the other side of the coin got a showing—to recognize the hard work and application of great numbers of young people throughout the Commonwealth."

At one time the uniforms of the British Army were made entirely from Welsh mountain sheep wool woven in Wales.

Space Monkey Missing in Ocean After Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An Atlas missile took a tiny rhesus monkey named Scatback on a 600-mile ride into space but chances appeared slim today that the little fellow will be recovered.

A ship lunched heavy seas in the south Atlantic Ocean searching for the capsule containing Scatback.

Officials expressed hope the capsule bearing the four-pound animal would be found, but admitted the odds were not good. It may have sunk in the rough water, with waves running seven to nine feet high.

The Air Force said that if the object was not spotted by sun-down in the recovery area, the lone vessel would give up the hunt and the monkey would be considered lost.

WORKED PERFECTLY

Scatback, with a radio transmitter and biomedical sensors imbedded under the skin, was in the capsule attached to the side of an Atlas which blazed away from the Cape at 10:32 Tuesday night.

The Atlas worked with perfection, unleashing the capsule on a 15,000 m.p.h. ballistic course six minutes after launching.

Less than 30 minutes later, the capsule, a 6-foot-long cylinder, plummeted into the intended impact zone more than 6,000 miles down range. A flotation bug was to give it buoyancy.

The package carried a radio beacon and flashing lights to help searchers zero in on it.

Two planes and the range vessel Sword Knot comprised the recovery fleet. The aircraft had to abandon the hunt after about three hours because they were running low on fuel.

Before the planes left, one of them sighted a floating object about 40 miles from the ship. The Sword Knot steamed in that direction in hopes of getting a closer look. Without aerial eyes to guide

U. N. OKs Plans for Arms Talks

General Assembly Also Approves Negotiations on Peace in Space

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — In a rare show of unanimity, the U. N. General Assembly gave its approval to compromise plans to launch negotiations on both disarmament and the peaceful uses of outer space.

The two plans previously adopted by the assembly's main political committee, were ratified without debate as the 104-nation body dove toward its Christmas recess deadline set for midnight.

Many delegates had declared during the long committee debate on disarmament that action to get the stalled negotiations going again was the major task before the assembly.

The deadlock was broken when U. S. delegate Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet delegate Valerian A. Zorin agreed that the negotiations should be carried on in a new 18-nation committee.

The assembly added eight countries to the 18-member body which had tried unsuccessfully to work out a disarmament plan in Geneva.

The resolution urged resumed negotiations at the earliest possible time, with a report not later than next June 1.

it, the ship's chance of locating the object was dim.

WILL TAKE TIME

Officials said it may take several days to analyze radio signals relayed on the monkey's condition during the flight.

Another monkey, Goliath, blasted off on the same intended course last Nov. 10 but was killed when the Atlas rocket exploded 30 seconds later. On Nov. 22, Escor the chimpanzee was recovered after successfully orbiting twice around the earth.

Group Learns of Park Needs

Tourist Ass'n Manager Cites Bald Mountain as One to Be Developed

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan needs better highways, more recreation areas and better road signs, a state Senate interim committee on recreation facilities was told Tuesday.

Leonard H. Thomson, Southeastern Michigan Tourist Association manager, told the three-member committee that the state must spend more money on tourist promotion.

Thomson also said "we need more recreation spots in Southeastern Michigan. The Waterford and Bald Mountain recreation areas ought to be developed. There are only two state parks on the Great Lakes shoreline in Southeastern Michigan. We need more of those."

Robert J. Furlong, state tourist council director, called for better roads, more tourist attractions and more promotion of these attractions.

APPROPRIATION LOW

Furlong said Michigan drew $50 million a year in tourist business but spent $400,000 a year to finance the tourist council and subsidize the four regional tourist associations.

He said this compared with $2,250,000 spent for the same purpose in neighboring Ontario, Canada, and called on the legislature to appropriate $776,000 in the forthcoming budget for tourism.

Richard D. McHenry, manager of the Greater Monroe Chamber of Commerce, called for accommodation signs on the state freeways. McHenry said the signs now say "food," "gas" or "lodging." He said more detailed information was needed.

Con-Con Body Hears Subzero Cold Hits Midwest

Mrs. FDR Denies Sending Rusk Wire

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says she did not send a telegram—signed with her name—criticizing Secretary of State Dean Rusk for comments after a visit with Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain.

A Western Union spokesman says the telegram, addressed to Rusk, was telephoned to the company's main office from a coin booth telephone. The sender, the company said, asked that the message be billed to a telephone number which proved to be Mrs. Roosevelt's private number.

Mrs. Roosevelt's secretary said Tuesday night that the private number was known to numerous persons.

Copies of the telegram were sent to news media Monday. It quoted Mrs. Roosevelt as saying in part that she was "shocked and disturbed" that a member of the administration "could praise a Fascist tyrant."

Freezing Finger Dips Into Flooded Sections of Mississippi

By The Associated Press

Zero weather hit Midwest states again today and it was freezing in a narrow belt southward into the flood-stricken sections of Mississippi and the Texas Gulf coast.

Skies cleared in most sections of the severe cold belt covering the Dakotas, Nebraska, Minnesota and Iowa after Tuesday's snow and freezing rain.

There was wet weather, snow, rain and freezing drizzle in the Northeast and rain and snow in the far Northwest. Fair weather prevailed across the southern tier of states from the Carolinas and Georgia to Southern California and from the northern Plains southward through Texas.

MERCURY -18 -16 -15

The mercury dropped far below zero again today, the last full day of the autumn season, in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Iowa. In North Dakota, Fargo and Jamestown reported -18, with -16 in both Aberdeen and Watertown, S.D.

The Rev. James W. Brishel testified against bingo as spokesman for the Michigan Council of Sioux City, Iowa, and -12 in Redwood Falls, Minn.

Temperatures also fell sharply through the Missouri River Valley southward to the Texas Gulf Coast and the lower Mississippi Valley, with freezing rain southward to Mississippi and Louisiana. It was 32 in Jackson, Tenn., and Longview and Tyler, Tex.

The freezing weather chilled Jackson, where an estimated 700 persons have been forced from their homes by flood waters from the Pearl River. More than 400 other persons have been evacuated along the Tombigbee and Loxley rivers in the Columbus and Aberdeen areas of Mississippi. Floods from rain-swollen rivers continued to menace areas in Alabama and Tennessee.

5 Persons Die as Earthquake Rocks Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Five persons were killed and an undetermined number injured in an earthquake that shook a wide area in Colombia today.

The quake caused a panic in Bogota but hit hardest in the cities of Armenia and Pereira in the western state of Caldas.

Two persons were killed and 13 injured in Armenia and two killed in Pereira. In another city named Armenia, in Antioquia state, one person was killed.

Heavy damage was reported at Sasame in Antioquia and the government sent troops and medical teams to the town. The Sason cathedral was damaged.

To Build New Auto

WASHINGTON (AP)—The land of the Troika will soon become the home of Chayka.

Soviet citizens, or at least some of them, will be riding around in convertibles one of these days, a report on Russia's auto industry discloses.

A vehicle with a neorigid top, called the "Chayka," is one of two new passenger cars on which production has started at the Gorkovskiy automobile plant, according to the Moscow report translated by the Commerce Department.

The other to be called the "Volga." Both cars could be great improvements over what Russians have been riding in, the department said.

The "Volga" is described as weighing the same as the present "Pobeda," but offering more room and greater fuel economy. Its parts will last half again as long as those in the "Pobeda," according to the Soviet report.

Russia also plans to produce the first light truck built in the Soviet Union since 1947, the report said.

Shark Test May Aid Hawaii's Fish Trade

HONOLULU (AP)—A shipment of Hawaii's black tip and gray sharks have been sent to Australia for a taste test.

"We have our fingers crossed," said Michio Takahashi, head of the state Fish and Game Division. If the sharks pass their exams, Hawaii may have a new industry.

Meat of the school shark is popular in Victoria, Australia, where it is served as "white filets."

Hawaii fishermen hope to become shark meat exporters, improving the islands' lagging fishing industry and decreasing the local shark population.

Best Way to Wind Up Christmas Shopping

Tips on Matching People With the Right Book

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Having trouble winding up your Christmas shopping?

Well, why not give a gift that costs little to buy, but—if well chosen—links both the giver and the receiver with a loyalty of the moment that lasts a lifetime? "I cannot live without books," said Thomas Jefferson. Thomas Carlyle observed: "My books are friends that never fail me."

PICK RIGHT BOOK

The main thing is to pick the right book for the right person.

As a potential guide, we present—all in fun—a suggested list of gift books for famous figures who made news in 1961:

"God Had a Dog"—Lassie.
"The Conduct of War"—Prime Minister Nehru.
"Chairman of the Bored"—David Susskind.

BOOK FOR HOFFA

"My Life in Court"—James R. Hoffa.

"I Should Have Kissed Her More"—Arthur Miller.

"The Age of Reason Begins"—Jane Mansfield.

"The Empty Canvas"—Grandma Moses, in memoriam at 101.
"But Not in Shame"—The Irish troops in the Congo.

"A Nation of Sheep"—Mao Tse-tung of China.

EXPENSE ACCOUNT ITEM

"Living Free"—Any pal on a good expense account.

"A Time to Stand"—President Kennedy.

"Make a Killing"—Fidel Castro.
"Digging for History"—Nikita Khrushchev.

"Twilight of Honor"—Sir Winston Churchill and Bernard Baruch.

YOUR FAVORITE WIFE
"I want to Quit Winners"—Your favorite bookie.
"On the Contrary"—Your favorite wife.

Teaches 15 Languages

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—With the addition of Chinese to the linguistics curriculum, the University of Texas now teaches 15 modern foreign languages, including all those described as "critical" under the National Defense Education Act.

"Information Please Almanac"—Allen Dulles.

"Money, Money, Money"—Your favorite income tax collector, or your landlord.

GOP'S WINTER
"Sex and Temperament"—Brigitte Bardot.

"The Winter of our Discontent"—

Any member of the Republican Dietrich.

"Social Security and You"—

Any Democrat with a new government job.

"Stay Young Longer"—Marlene Maxwell.

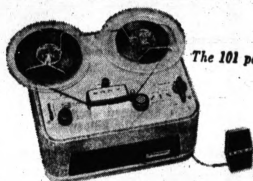

"A New Life"—Ike and Mamie Eisenhower.

"The Happy Golden Years"—Eleanor Roosevelt.

Family Understands . . . Abby

Small Wedding Is Better

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that I am being married in May and I am afraid I have a big wedding my mother-in-law will spoil it. She is absolutely off her rocker. I am not exaggerating.

She could start singing "Gloria Hallelujah" right in the middle of the ceremony. She is not bad enough to be locked up. I mean she's not dangerous or anything, but you never know what she is going to do next.

GETTING MARRIED

DEAR GETTING: If your mother is not in an institution, but has her "moments," forego the big wedding and give her the pleasure of being present at a small, intimate ceremony. If she bursts into song, your family will "understand."

DEAR ABBY: I am single and am living in a place where single girls are not very available. There is a dance coming up shortly (mainly for the married couples living here) and I asked one of the fellows I work with if I could take his wife.

DEAR SOCIABLE: A man does not "borrow" another man's wife as he might a lawnmower. Until you get your own girl, go solo or stay home.

DEAR ENJOYS: My husband's parents come to visit us once a year for three weeks. His mother is a regular old fuss-budget who complains constantly that smoke bothers her, so consequently I can't smoke in the same room with her, and certainly not in the same car.

DEAR ENJOYS: Doing without a cigarette for a few hours is a small sacrifice for a woman who REALLY wants to be a good wife and daughter-in-law. Go with your husband when he entertains his parents, and lay off the weed or your marriage could go up in smoke.

CONFIDENTIAL TO NEAL OF CALIF.: I do not consider myself a fashion expert, but I predict that this spring there will be much change in ladies' dresses, and little change in men's pockets.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

For Abby's booklet: "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $5c to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press.

Make your holiday party hairdo especially festive by tucking shiny bells, a sprig of mistletoe or a spray of holly in your coiffure.

With a flick of the wrist that fluffs bangs to meet an eyebrow, turns the ends of your hair up for a gay, young look. Now add a little glitter for glamor. Tuck in a tiny tree ornament, a spray of holly, a cluster of shiny bells or a sprig of mistletoe. For less formal occasions, top your hairdo with a bright velvet bow.

Now use a few rollers to turn bangs downward, or turn droopy ends up for a flip-up or wingaway style. Clip cheek curls in place.

Top hair can be put on rollers for a full, high crown. Spray hair lightly again. When dry, in about ten minutes, remove the rollers and clips. Brush out your new hairdo

Proceeds from the affair are used for the club's special projects. Members have voted to contribute to the Oakland County Girls' Ranch and to Loch Rio at Belleville, a Michigan State Federation of Women's Club project.

Speaker was Mrs. Arthur Dewey of Rochester, chairman of religious education and home life for Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs. Her talk "Christmas Is Everything" included two readings "Christmas Across the Tracks" and "A Red Rose for Christmas."

New member attending was Mrs. Lucinda Ashcraft. Decorated with candles and a greens and poinsettia centerpiece, the tea table was arranged by members of the day's committee who included Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. Alfred Coles, Mrs. Frank Harburg, Mrs. W. E. Blynn and Mrs. Clifford Steffey.

Others helping with arrangements were Mrs. William Krelow, Mrs. Aaron Fox, Mrs. Alfred Danton, Mrs. Nettie Hymer, Mrs. C. G. Holliman and Mrs. A. E. Ball. Future events for the club include the Oakland County Federation of Women's Club meeting Jan. 5 in Ferndale and the City Federation meeting at 7:30 p.m., Jan. 8 in First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland's building.

Doll Hugs Back

Dolls stuffed with foam rubber are favorites with the tiny tots who are at the hugging stage. There is one newcomer on the market that even hugs back. When her stomach is pressed, she throws her arms around the neck of her loving owner.

Styling Tips Help You Achieve Festive Hairdo

Holiday party time is here, and in keeping with the season, you'll want to make sure your hairdo is a festive one.

The formula: Hair spray, a comb, a handful of clips, some rollers and your own nimble fingers.

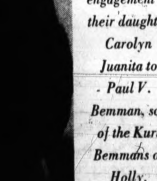

Naturally, for most hair-styling tricks, it's important to begin with a basic set in your hair. You find that if your original set is done with rollers rather than pin curls, your hairstyle can be changed to a different one more easily.

And the best way to put your hair in a cooperative mood, is to have a good permanent, one that gives body and manageability. With a hidden body permanent you can wear your hair many different ways; have a truly versatile coiffure.

Here's how to style your hair with flair and fun — spray first holding the container at least seven inches away from your hair. This way, you spray on a fine, invisible mist that keeps hair soft and lustreous without a trace of stiffness.

Now use a few rollers to turn bangs downward, or turn droopy ends up for a flip-up or wingaway style. Clip cheek curls in place.

Top hair can be put on rollers for a full, high crown. Spray hair lightly again. When dry, in about ten minutes, remove the rollers and clips. Brush out your new hairdo are Judy Nichols, Colrain Drive; Mrs. Joseph Little, Smith Court, Lake Orion; and Mrs. Ann Stapp, Inverness Street. This marks the third year for the project, one of the club's many civic and charitable activities.

Church Unit Meets for Yule Luncheon

Elizabeth Circle of the First Christian Church gathered for a Christmas luncheon Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Harry Kunsse of South Josephine Avenue.

Mrs. Allan W. Hersee gave devotions preceding the gift exchange by the 14 members. Mrs. John Bush and Mrs. Charles Walgren were guests.

Church Women Set Installation at Annual Tea

Newly elected officers of Pontiac Council, United Church Women of Michigan, will be installed at the annual silver tea, slated for 1:30 to 3 p.m. Monday, Jan. 7, at Behany Baptist Church.

Heading the roster is Mrs. Lenworth R. Miner, wife of Rev. Miner, pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church.

Others are Mrs. Harry H. Patten, first vice president; Mrs. Lewis B. second vice president; Mrs. H. B. McCulloch, recording secretary; Mrs. Earl Hunt, corresponding secretary; Mrs. P. G. Latimer, treasurer; Mrs. Stanley Kipp, Christian world relations; Mrs. Grace Steeves, Christian world missions; Mrs. Allan Priestley, Christian social relations; Mrs. J. Harry Boller, leadership education; Mrs. Robert Nienstedt, publicity; Mrs. Frank Gray, auditor; Mrs. James Covert, parliamentarian; Mrs. Fred Manes, church woman; and Mrs. James Givins, registrar.

Sorority Unit Holds Party

Members of Xi Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority, were guests of Marietta Spring in her home on Lancaster Road following a recent Christmas dinner party in Devon Gables.

Gifts were exchanged after an evening of games and carol singing led by Mrs. Louis Snyder. Guests were Hazel Potts and Gloria B. Hillier, past president of Delta Kappa Gamma International Society and charter president of Xi Chapter. A former Pontiac teacher, Miss Hillier is now with the Flint schools.

The committee for the affair included Mrs. Charles Wait, Mrs. Rudolph Kempf, Tama Hook, Adeline Hook, Mrs. Snyder and Miss Spring.

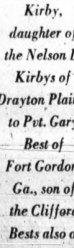

The clothes of the bride and bridegroom as well as those of their attendants are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet, "Clothes of the Bridal Party." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Dancers Stage Yule Party

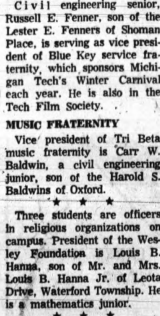

The Warren Allens taught the square dance "My Baby Just Ares for Me" at the Promoters' Christmas dance Saturday in Hawthorne School. New members Mr. and Mrs. Chester Murphy and the Lewis Steves were welcomed.

The New Year's Eve dance, with a Mexican theme, will be at the Waterford Community Center. The Chester Murphys are in charge of decorations and the John Oakleys are planning the refreshments. Tickets are on sale for both members and the public.

A Dec. 30th wedding is planned by Linda Lea Kirby, daughter of the Nelson L. Kirbys of Drayton Plains, to Pet. Gary Best of Fort Gordon, Ga., son of the Clifford. Bests also of Drayton Plains.

We Must Display Some Protectiveness

BY MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The youngest of six nearly grown brothers and sisters, he was born when his mother had thought she was through with childbearing.
One day when the minister was being entertained at tea out on his family's spacious lawn, he ran away and climbed to the roof of the house.
Then, a small figure against the sky, he called down to the party assembled around the tea table, "Hey, look where I am! Hey, look at me where I am!" His father, deep in a discussion of church finances, looked up and resumed his discussion. His mother, standing her eyes with her hand against the settling sun, waved, nodded and called back to him, "Hello, I see you."

FOCUS FOR RESENTMENT

became the focus for his most intense resentment at his parents. A man of 36, he said brokenly to his doctor, "I wanted them to tell me to come down from the roof. I wanted my father to rush up to get me."
"I wanted my mother to scream with fear for me. I wanted to know that they cared about what happened to me — but they never showed me they did. They never showed me."

The work problem is solved. He's come to understand how people in their 40s may not welcome an addition to a big, halfgrown family they are struggling to make ready for life. But he still has to labor with his belief that he must do most remarkable things in order to rate your attention.
In our eagerness to avoid the overprotective parent's anxiety over imagined dangers to children, let's not forget that it's fine for children to know that we will withdraw them from real dangers.
It's also fine for us. Because we don't want to appear overprotective, we sometimes try to pretend that we are unanxious when they climb high trees, announce their intentions of attending parties given by friends we have cause to disapprove or insist on attending school the day after a high temperature has returned to normal.

Nonchalance in the face of real danger not only places unusual restrictions on us but can suggest that their safety is not important to us.
Youngsters often feel a need for reassurance of our concern for them that we do not suspect. At such times they will invite it by exposing themselves to danger in order to give us the opportunity to be our most passionately protecting selves.
Even when they bluster their disgust with us, they are secretly happy that we've raised such a row.

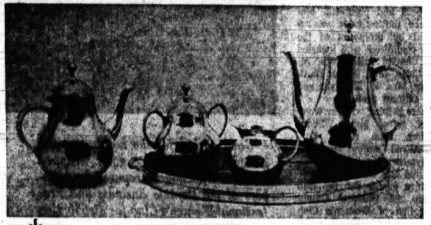

Grow 'Glover'
Less sleeve and more glove seems to be fashion's decree, regardless of season!
There's no doubt that coats, suits and dresses with abbreviated sleeves are very smart with matching or contrasting gloves in leather or fabric. And since most leather gloves are as washable as fabric, all are easy to sues and rinse after wear.

Have You Tried This?
Suet Pudding Chock Full of Colorful Holiday Fruit
BY JANET ODELL
Fruitful From Home Taster
In pictures of old time Christmas dinners there was always a pudding for dessert, often a flaming pudding. We don't know how many families still follow the traditional custom, but we're giving you a suet pudding recipe today — just in case.
This is Mrs. Joseph Province's recipe, sent to us by her daughter, Mrs. Don Donigan of Commerce. Mrs. Province lives in Madison Heights.
SUET PUDDING
By Mrs. Joseph Province
1 cup suet, chopped fine
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon soda
1 egg
1 cup wine
1 cup raisins
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups flour
1/4 cup EACH candied cherries, pineapple and orange and lemon rind
1/4 cup citron
1/4 cup currants
Combine all ingredients and tie in a cloth bag. Do not fill bag too full. Put a rock in a bottle of boiling water, set bag on it and boil 1 1/2 hours. The rock prevents the pudding from sticking to the bottom of the bottle. Keep bottle covered.
In the Province family the pudding is always brought to the table ablaze. Just before serving, brandy is poured over it and set on fire. Makes 8 servings.
Pudding Sauce
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup flour
2 cups boiling water
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 finger wine
Cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Serve with pudding.

Colorful Fur
Now there is a choice of color and fabric effects available in Southwest African peruvian lamb coats. Agency new shades include brown, slate grey, pepper and salt tweed effects with overtones of red, gold and beige. The fur first is bleached, then dyed. Natural white peruvian skins — developed through mutation — also are available.
An estimated 400 billion cubic feet of natural gas will be imported from Canada during 1961.

Some of the Old, Some of New in '62 Fashions
By GAILE DUGAN
NEW YORK — Those canny souls who can never bear to throw away a single dress they've ever bought are going to feel rewarded this winter with the return of fitted fashions.
They will, that is, until they actually try on such a fashion. For there's a world of difference in the new fashions and that old sheath that you've saved from some years back.
You can appreciate this only as your eye becomes adjusted to the new clothes. To understand it fully, wear your cherished sheath when you go to shop. The difference will strike you quickly and clearly.
The new moulding of the midriff, seaming of the skirt, handling of the neck and shoulder line tell the story. A good many women who have been less than happy with the unfitted or loosely fitted fashions of the past few years are going to take to this flattery immediately. Others will approach it more cautiously, try one or two fashions, then take to it wholeheartedly.
Ideally, this is the way fashion should evolve. The upheavals that cause all of us to toss out everything currently in our closets are senseless and wasteful.

Young People Need Little More Romance

By RUTH MILLET.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
"Courtship is just like buying a dress or suit of clothes—you shop around before making a choice. You don't fall in love, you grow into it," a family life counselor recently told an audience made up of college students.

*** * * *
If there's one thing today's young people don't need to be told it is that courtship is just like shopping for something to wear.

If there is one thing which today's teenagers lack—it's a romantic conception of love.

True, they are marrying younger than ever but it is rarely for any "We can't live without each other" emotion. Many of today's girls feel that if they don't marry by the time they are 20 they are doomed to be old maids. And so they "shop around" just long enough to find a man who will put an engagement ring on their finger.

MARRY FOR SECURITY
Many young men today are so sold on the idea of security that they marry for the same reason they look into a company's pension plan before taking a job—for security.

These young men shop around to find a girl who fits into their picture of a secure future. Whether they choose a girl with a good job, the boss's daughter, or a girl with the "right" background depends on what they think they need to make their future more secure.

And then there are young people marrying today for no better reason than that all their friends are getting married.

They shop around a while and decide that this person or that one is probably as well as they can do and some even make the mental reservation, "If it doesn't work out—there's always divorce."

No, young people today don't need to be told to be practical about choosing a mate. They're pathetically practical, already. Maybe that's one reason why so many of their marriages aren't lasting.

Those who "shop around" for a husband or wife instead of marrying only because they are so head over heels in love they are sure there is only one person in the world for them are likely to figure that if the first marriage isn't perfect they can call it quits and start shopping around for No. 2.

Men—there is good advice for the years in Ruth Millet's booklet, "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, care of The Pontiac Press.

Couple Marks Anniversary at Local Church

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Burch, Walnut Road, was celebrated Sunday afternoon at St. Luke Methodist Church. Some 50 guests attended the fête. Rev. Wayne Brookshear officiated for a mock wedding ceremony with the original wedding party.

Attendants included Mrs. Carl Vaughn of Omer and Mrs. Burch's brother Chester May of Prescott. Catherine Christie provided music.

Following the ceremony the Burches, including sons Robert, Gary and Ronald who serves with the Air Force in Goldboro, N.C., joined the attendants to form a receiving line.

St. Luke's Esther Circle helped serve refreshments. Mrs. Vaughn and Mrs. Woodrow Gray presided at the coffee table.

Mr. and Mrs. Burch were married in Prescott, her native town.

SEW SIMPLE By Eunice Farmer

This week's Tailor Trix pressing board is being sent to Mrs. L. H. McClanahan, San Diego, Calif., for this valuable sewing idea she is sharing with "Sew Simple" fans.

One of the greatest things I have run into in a long time is a package of colored jersey disks of fabric. These are usually sold for mending socks but they work wonders for reinforcing any places that have to be clipped.

Simply press a Jersey disk on the wrong side of the material, now machine stitch to reinforce, then you can clip with confidence. I use these for all gusset type construction as well as general mending.

MAN HAS FUN "Dear Mrs. Farmer, "Your columns would not normally attract a male audience, however, since my wife and daughter do all their own sewing, Sew Simple is very popular in our house. I try to find it first and then quiz them on your current sewing tips to see if they are on their toes. We've had a lot of fun with it."

"One little tip that my wife uses, we think other women will like to hear about. When she begins a new dress or suit, she keeps her thread, hem tape, zipper, buttons, and all other notions to be used on that garment in a large clear plastic bag."

In this way, she doesn't have to root through countless drawers and boxes to find them every time she begins to sit down and sew. She also keeps each pattern in a clear plastic bag because she claims it is humanly impossible to get all the pieces of a pattern back into the original envelope. Keep up your good work."

SKIRT TOO TIGHT "Dear Mrs. Farmer, "What makes a skirt pull instead of laying smooth just below the unpressed pleats at the waistline?" Mrs. J.C.

Whenever you have unpressed pleats or gathers at the waistline of the skirt, you cannot fit the skirt as tight as you can when it is darted to fit.

Your skirt has undoubtedly been fitted too tight and instead of the unpressed pleats hanging in even folds, they are pulling diagonally to the side seams, causing an unattractive puff of fabric just below the waistline.

PLACE DART RIGHT "Dear Mrs. Farmer, "I have just finished making a dress which has a dart at the underarm and also one below the bust. Somehow or other, it doesn't seem to fit right and the fullness is too close to the side seam. Is there any rule about this part of fitting a dress?" Mrs. B.E.B.

This is a pattern alteration that is seldom discussed and actually affects many women. The dart or ease in the bodice should be directly below the fullest part of the bust. If you find the fullness is too far to the side seam, you will have to change the spacing of the darts and bring them closer to the center front.

Please send your suggestions and questions to Sew Simple in care of this newspaper.

Soak Your Feet

Don't Panic Over Yule

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Well, it's just five days before Christmas! Does that make you nervous? It doesn't make me nervous. It just makes me numb—a sort of natural protection with which nature provides us in times of crisis, like, when one is about to be eaten by a bear.

All I hope to do in the next five days is to write six columns, buy 10 more gifts, wrap all gifts, mail off those which should have already been mailed off and address Christmas cards (at least I have the cards).

I also have to make about 100

telephone calls, have my hair fixed, go to the bank to see if I am already overdrawn, go for a fitting of a dress I want for Christmas, put Christmas wreaths up on the doors, see to the thousand and one things a woman sees to when she is getting the house ready for Christmas and dinner ready, buy some arch supporters, and have my head examined.

Actually I would be even more numb had I not been living by lists for the past 10 days or two weeks and if I had not used the telephone to save time.

If you have not made any lists, be calm anyway. Sit down and relax for a while, give your feet alternate hot and cold baths, and put an ice pack on your head. The important thing is—don't panic! Either go to sleep or think. Going to sleep is more pleasant, and probably at this point, more profitable. Face it tomorrow I will bring you a few suggestions which may help you solve the gift problems you have left.

I hope so anyway!

To Be Feted by Daughters

Mrs. Cornelius Lyons of Silver Circle, 88 years old today, will be feted at a dinner this evening given by her eight daughters.

Mrs. James Belisle of Watkins Lake Road, hostess, will be assisted by her sisters Mrs. Joseph Schepperty, here for the holidays from Boynton Beach, Fla.; Mrs. S. W. Christie, Miller Street; Mrs. Louis Goulet, Hamilton Street; Mrs. Margaret Jacobson, Silver Circle; Mrs. Samuel Carey, Kalamazoo; Mrs. Orville Rule, Parkinson Street, and Mrs. Marian Hoover, Judson Street.

Bridge Club Holds Tourney

Bonneville Club members were at ten tables of duplicate bridge for the monthly master-point tournament in Hotel Waldron Saturday evening.

Winning first were Mrs. Melvin Small and Henry Georgia, Mrs. Norma Keller and Dr. Robert Segula. Second place honors went to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richards, Edwin V. Clarke and Mrs. W. H. Barvon.

Other winners were Mrs. Harry Jaffa and David Brenner, Mrs. Stuart Murphy and Mrs. Lionel Thompson, Mrs. William Steele and Earl Watterman, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Patrick.

Your Scout Will Like a 'Sit-Upon'

Your Girl Scout daughter can have her own light weight "sit-upon" for use on hikes and field trips this fall.

It's easy and inexpensive to make one at home. You'll need padding, such as newspaper, absorbent cotton or paper towels; adhesive covering and one-half yards of cotton tape for a belt; about six yards of heavy knitting yarn, if you'd like to trim the sit-upon; scissors and a ruler.

HERE'S HOW

First, cut the adhesive covering 14 inches by 28 inches; then remove the backing and place the covering material on a flat surface, adhesive side up. Lay your padding in one strip, 26 inches by 11 inches, to half the desired thickness and place it on the covering material so there's a one-inch border. Now put the cotton tape across the middle, fold over and seal the cut edges together and run round corners away from the fold.

To add trim, punch holes one inch from the edge of the sit-upon, fasten yarn and blanket-stitch through the holes and around the edge, using a double strand of yarn.

With the wide variety of colors and patterns available in covering material, your Girl Scout's "sit-upon" will be both comfortable and colorful. It's easy to care for, too, since the plastic-coated covering material may be wiped clean with a damp cloth.

Long Skirt's Bad for Heavy Legs

It's best not to try to camouflage heavy legs with a long skirt. This looks dowdy and emphasizes the legs.

Instead, try exercising to slim the calves and ankles. And also create a trim illusion by sitting with the legs crossed at the ankles, and standing with the heel of one foot placed at the arch of the other.

Planter Points

Be sure to buy planters deep enough to accommodate your collection of clay-potted house plants, plus a half inch, or so or gravel or vermiculite. It's safest to use a planter at least two inches deeper than the height of the biggest clay pot you have. For symmetrical decorative effect, place larger plants in the rear and elevate smaller plants on inverted pots or clay saucers, so all their tops are level.

The sled-pulling husky dogs have an outer and inner set of hair, and their feet are furred between the pads and toes.

Watch His Recreation or Hobbies

Man in the House Easy to Please

Somehow, it's the man in the house that seems to pose the biggest gift problem at Christmas time. "What would he really like?" is the anxious — and often unanswered question in the secret family huddle that precedes the shopping expedition.

On Christmas morning, it usually turns out that, in his quiet and thoughtful way, the man himself seemed to know just what everyone else really wanted, and wives and relatives are often unhappy that they weren't able to do as well for him.

The problem, however, may not be that hard. A little less thinking may produce some happier surprises for him on Christmas Day.

Hindsight is one important key. Surprisingly enough, many families tend to forget that there's one big difference between buying for the youngsters and buying for dad — or granddad.

For the children, most of the gifts should be things that they can use right away. Not so for the man of the house. At Christmas-time the family may give him things that he won't need or use for many months.

Members of the family should think back and note dad's recreational and hobby activities perhaps even months by month. Chances are the ideas will start to flow.

How well he is fixed for equipment for his spring, summer and fall sparetime activities? For most sports and activities a whole array of new and useful equipment has become available within the last ten years and even in the last five years.

Take sailing, fishing or hunting for example. Someone who hasn't kept in close touch with new developments in these sports for four or five years will be astonished to learn how much is new in the way of equipment.

Among the items you may discover in your backyard glance are fishing reels, tackle boxes, steel shaft golf clubs, barbecue grills and utensils, home-workshop tools and equipment, garden tools, camping lanterns and stoves to name a few.

Then too, there are some activities that the whole family would enjoy, but that they haven't tried. Here again, the family that hasn't been keeping up will be astonished to find out what's available that will bring enjoyment, education and adventure to the whole household.

Take, for example, the new interest in space. Most people are fascinated by the heavens and the stars, but have never done anything about it because most equipment was strictly for specialists.

Today a whole range of equipment and telescopes are available for family use — all simplified for the layman, without sacrificing an iota of scientific quality. Here is a potential adventure for dad and the whole family.

USE WISDOM

The question of buying equipment to get dad started in a new sport or hobby is one that the family must approach with wisdom and care. When they feel sure of dad's interest, and when the new activity would involve the whole family in an educational adventure, it might well be worth a try.

Wild guessing on a sport or activity in which he has never engaged and which would involve him alone, however, is another thing. In many or most cases such ill-advised efforts will result in a waste of money and an inappropriate gift.

If there are retired persons or grandparents in the home, special gift problems are involved.

Party Honors Dona Parsons

Nancy Weaver of Third Avenue was hostess Sunday afternoon at a miscellaneous show honoring Dona Parsons, January bride-elect of Airman 3.C. Richard B. Bradshaw.

Mrs. George Parsons of Genes Drive and Mrs. Charles Bradshaw of Second Avenue, mothers of the engaged couple attended the party.

Places were also marked for Donna and Joan Mapley, Karen Gorske, Dorothy Coleman, Marilyn Kelly, Mrs. Terry Sonntag, Joyce Gooch, Sharon Nelson and Barbara Stechow. Johann and Henrietta Lupp of Clarkson and Constance Simpson of Waterford also were guests.

Buttons 'Big'

(NEA) — Buttons are getting a big play for winter. They are made of black silk fringe, satin trimmed with braid, marcelite, brilliants and bone.

Here a slightly more active approach to the question of helping these people to discover new interests sometimes pays big dividends, although good judgment is necessary.

A young housewife of Wisconsin noticed that her retired grandfather's eyes shone whenever he saw illustrations of ship models in newspapers and magazines. He had been a manual workers and was good with his hands. The family huddled and decided to take a chance. Several kits and an assortment of the right tools were waiting for granddad under the Christmas tree. The result: a new hobby and a renewed interest in living.

Christmas shopping for men, in short, should be based on a careful, there, on Christmas afternoon!

ful review of their activities for the whole year. Don't restrict gifts to things that have immediate use. Keep in mind the possibility of new adventures and educational experiences that dad can share with the whole family. For retired persons, watch their needs with especially sympathetic alertness and care.

And two final suggestions. Among other things, dad might like a gift certificate at a store that supplies items he needs in his activities. And, last but not least, what man can resist a good book in the area of his interests?

With his new gifts for next summer's sports and weekends safely in his closet, he can lounge with slippers and pipe and read an exciting new book — right then and there, on Christmas afternoon!

Army 'Explains' to Reserves in Callup Pamphlet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is distributing to all National Guardsmen and reservists called to active duty a pamphlet entitled "Why Me?"

Amounting to a "white paper" for most complaints about the service summons when no war exists, the 11-page pamphlet sums up the reasons and policies behind the partial mobilization order.

It quotes from speeches and statements by President Kennedy and Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr, and discusses the questions it says are most frequently asked by men called to active service last October.

As a preamble, the pamphlet outlines the doctrine behind the decision.

"Increasingly hostile behavior by the Sino-Soviet bloc made it necessary to build up U.S. military strength immediately to demonstrate determination to resist aggression. Soviet threats to liquidate Allied rights in Berlin called for development of combat-ready forces for dispatch to Europe, if required. Increasing tension elsewhere required development of strategic reserve forces to meet possible trouble at widely separated points."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Then the pamphlet gets down to questions and answers. Here are some:

Has the Army been expanded just to meet the Berlin crisis?

"No. Although world attention has been centered on Berlin for months, there are other major trouble spots—and many more potential trouble spots."

What has the callup accomplished?

"It has stimulated action by many of our allies to strengthen their military forces; it has demonstrated to Communist leaders the determination to fight, if necessary; it has helped Berlin to stand intact; it has "increased markedly the ability of the United States to deter the Sino-Soviet bloc from using force to expand its territory and influence."

Instead of calling up Army National Guardsmen and reservists, the Army is being expanded by larger draft calls but draftees are untrained men and it will be months before they are trained in infantrymen, artillery men, tankers, radar operators and other specialists and once they are trained as individuals still more time will be needed to weld them into fighting units. "Raw recruits are no answer to Communist aggression to

Construction Industry Enjoys a Banner Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Construction, the Mr. Big of American industry, had a banner year in 1961 despite a lull in the residential building market.

As the year draws to a close, all signs point to an even better 1962 with prospects that dollar volume will zoom over $60 billion for the first time.

More than offsetting the relative softness in the residential category is strength in commercial building, and several public construction departments — schools, highways, hospitals and the like.

In line of final official figures, some industry leaders think 1961 spending on new construction will set an all time high, exceeding the $56.1 billion mark posted in 1959.

The figure on nonfarm housing starts, after a slow, steady pickup from a dismal low in February, is expected to run comfortably past 1.3 million, or about 13 per cent below 1959's peak of 1,531,000.

UNUSUAL SPURT

An unusual spurt in apartment-building is taking up some of the slack in the single-family-home sector. Activity compares favorably with the big apartment building years of the 1920s.

And prefabricated housing makers, notably builders of "shell" homes, are registering good gains. However, their fraction of the over-all market, although rising, remains below 10 per cent.

The year was marked in Washington by congressional passage of the Housing Act of 1961, a $5.6 billion omnibus program which opened up FHA financing to limited-income persons heretofore excluded.

Under one feature, houses that cost up to $15,000 were made subject to 35-year mortgages — and in some cases, 40-year loans. The former limit was 30 years.

HE GRIEVES — A collier rests his head on the body of a little friend after it became apparent that the smaller dog was a traffic casualty in Peoria, Ill. The Collier would not only protect

3 to 94 years in the ready reserve." Highest priority was given to reservists with the least previous active duty so long as they met requirements for specific skills and grades.

Why were men called as fillers who had enlisted for only six months active duty under the Reserve Forces Act?

—Fair play—After serving six months these men are obligated for an additional period of from

Why were men called as fillers who had two or more years previous active duty?

Some men in paid drill status who had only six months active duty have not been called—why?

They are members of reserve component units; the current law prohibits the ordering to active duty as individuals those persons who are members of reserve component units.

If the reserve units were needed, why were they not sent overseas?

About 40 per cent of the Army already is overseas. Many of the recalled units sent to Europe to reinforce the 7th Army.

The critical need was to establish a powerful strategic reserve in the United States, capable of immediate deployment overseas when and as needed.

What is the basis for exemption?

Guardmen or reservists pursuing graduate studies on a full-time basis "in a field of primary interest to the Army" may be deferred; a member whose active duty would result in "extreme personal or community hardship" also may be deferred.

"No individual can qualify for deferment on a personal or community hardship basis unless he can establish that his call to active duty will create problems very much more severe than those which will be created by the call to active duty of any other National Guardsman or reservist."

Why have recent draft calls been smaller than at the outset of the buildup?

"The first quotas were large in order to bring the regular Army to its higher authorized strength rapidly. The requirements of this expansion are approaching fulfillment and enlistment and reenlistment rates have increased."

Auto Crash Kills 5 Including State Pair

HOLBROOK, Ariz. (AP)—A fiery, two-car smashup on U.S. 66 about 45 miles east of here claimed five lives Tuesday.

The dead were John Edward Harrell, 48, his wife, Dorothy Blanche, 47, their daughter, Irene Carolyn, 17, all of Fullerton, Calif., and Millard Scott and his wife, Esther, of Brown City, Mich. The Arizona highway patrol said the Harrell vehicle crossed the centerline. The gas tank on the Scott car exploded and the vehicle burned.

Bank Messengers Tricked, Robbed of 20,705 Pounds

LONDON (AP)—Robbers tricked two bank messengers and a cashier into a taxi and escaped with 20,705 pounds ($57,974) in the busy financial district of London today.

The cashier, Harry Hodges, and two messengers picked up the cash at the Bank of England. Their usual practice was to take a cab from a stand outside the bank to the Charterhouse Branch of Hambros Bank.

This morning the three men hailed a cab but instead of going to Hambros Bank the driver turned into a little lane. There, three other men piled into the cab and overpowered the bank men.

Doctors Admits Lies in TV Quiz Scandal

NEW YORK (AP) Dr. Michael Truppin pleaded guilty Tuesday to charges he lied in denying he received help in answering questions which enabled him to win $13,000 on the former "The Tac Dough" television quiz program. He received a suspended sentence.

The 34-year-old obstetrician was the sixth accused contestant to enter a guilty plea and to get a suspended sentence. Twelve others are awaiting trial.

Dr. Truppin, of 21 E. 90th St., Manhattan, pleaded guilty to one of two counts of second-degree perjury in connection with testimony before a grand jury.

The district attorney's office made no recommendation concerning a sentence for the doctor.

Manufacturing Output Sees Work Starting on 1,375,000 Homes

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the nation's leading building materials manufacturers predicts construction will begin on 1,375,000 houses in 1962.

The estimate was made by Allied Chemical Corp.'s Barrett division, which manufactures products such as shingles, roofing, paints, cements and floorboard.

"This will be 50,000 more starts than there were in 1961, about 100,000 more than in 1960," said H. Dorn Stewart, president of the division. In 1960, more than 1.33 million starts were recorded.

Stewart noted that residential building "generally shows the first fluctuations of the entire construction industry, and thus is a business barometer." He said it bode well for 1962.

Housing starts will account for $17.5 billion of business, he said, which would be an increase of 10 per cent over 1961's volume.

Stewart said his optimism was based partly on newly developed building materials which, he said, may "introduce new techniques that could change many building concepts."

Among these materials, he said, were plastic plumbing pipes, gutters and leaders; foamed plastic roof insulation, and non-flammable vinyl building panels.

Living costs in Lima rose by only 2.4 per cent last year against 18.8 per cent in 1959.

Radiation Stays Within Limits

Fallout From All Tests Only Expected to Carry Small Doses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Radiation exposure to humans from all nuclear tests since 1945—including the Soviet Union's recent burst—will remain within acceptable health limits, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission says.

The AEC Tuesday—in the most detailed account yet on fallout from nuclear tests, reported: The fission or fallout producing yield—not the explosive force—of the Soviet Union's recent test series was 25 megatons and raised to 50 megatons the fission yield of all Soviet tests, when compared with 35 megatons for American and British tests combined.

The amount of long-lived fallout products—strontium 90 and cesium 137—eventually may be deposited on the United States from the 1961 Soviet tests would be "equal to or a little more" than that from American and British tests.

The amount of such long-lived fallout products which may be deposited on the United States from all Soviet tests, including the 1961 series, would be twice that from all past American and British tests.

FRACTIONAL DOSAGE
The AEC study, given by Dr. Gordon M. Dunning, deputy director of the AEC's Division of Operational Safety, also reported on how this accumulation of fallout from all past tests would affect children.

A "rough estimate" indicates that the radiation dose over 70 years to the bones of children born in 1962 may be only one-fifth of the dose listed by the Federal Radiation Council as an acceptable limit for "normal peacetime operations." About 40 percent of this dose would be expected to come from the 1961 Soviet tests.

Transcript Biggest Ever; 1,246 Pages

One of the largest transcripts ever recorded by the prosecutor's office for a lower court examination yesterday was completed. It contains 1,246 pages—about five times the thickness of a Detroit telephone directory.

The transcript taken by court reporters, Mrs. Marcella Foster and Mrs. Helen Kingsbury, is from the 11-day examination before U.S. District Judge James C. Diehl of a defense motion to dismiss a charge of kidnapping with a defendant, a female 10-a.m. Sept. 19, 1960.

The examination began Sept. 19 and concluded Oct. 9.

The reporters had to make two copies—a rough draft and a final one—and then type out five copies for attorneys involved in the fraud case.

Christmas Card Leads to Laborer's Arrest

BLYTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—When an Alabama sheriff received a Christmas card from farm laborer Allen Culp, he reacted by mailing Blytheville police a warrant for Culp's arrest.

Officers said the sheriff, Hugh Champion of Chilton County, Ala., reported the 54-year-old Culp escaped jail eight months ago, serving a term for driving while intoxicated.

Pontiac City Affairs

Honor Rev. H. H. Savage

In a meeting brief to allow commissioners to take a little last minute Christmas shopping, the City Commission last night paid tribute to the retiring Rev. H. H. Savage and acted on several items of public improvement.

Commissioner Winford E. Botom introduced a resolution honoring the Rev. Dr. Savage, pastor of First Baptist Church, "for his long and worthwhile work in this city."

"He stood by this city in good times and bad. The Rev. Dr. Savage is a man of genuine character who contributed much to the growth of Pontiac," the resolution read.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry seconded the motion adding that the Rev. Dr. Savage was also instrumental in the founding of Macedonia Baptist Church in Pontiac and the people of District No. 1 owe him a great deal.

Coeds Wave, Men Parade at Columbia

NEW YORK (AP)—Coeds waved pom-poms and howled at dormitory windows like cheerleaders as 500 men students of Columbia University cavorted in a noisy campus spree early today.

Some of the girls threw underwear and flaring waists of paper at the cheering and shouting students who rushed around in a chilly drizzle.

The male students—perhaps pepped up over the approaching holidays—swarmed into the dormitory area of Barnard College, the women's undergraduate branch of the university.

Hundreds of the men scaled Barnard's high wooden fences, but none got into the locked dormitories.

Romania Reveals Arrest of 80,000

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—More than 80,000 farmers were arrested in Communist Romania's collectivization drive between 1959 and 1962, the Romanian party organ Scintila reported Tuesday.

This figure was disclosed by Nicolai Ceausescu, a member of the party's central committee, at a recent meeting which denounced Romanian leaders of terrorist acts against their comrades.

Scintila quoted Ceausescu as saying the arrests were ordered by the late Anna Pauker, former foreign minister who was ousted in 1962 and died in 1960.

Court Pension Cutoff Jinked Despite Dissent

An effort to equalize Oakland County employee pensions across 12 years of service ran into unexpected opposition at yesterday's County Board of Supervisors meeting.

In spite of objections a resolution by the retirement committee to eliminate a cutoff of accrued benefits at age 70 was approved by a 41 to 29 voice vote of the board.

Many objectors were dissatisfied when County Auditor Robert L. B. explained that approval would not change the retirement age from the present 65.

"It means only that an employee completing say 30 years service after age 70 would receive the same pension as one completing 30 years before age 70," he said.

A county employee may be retained on a yearly basis past age 70 on the recommendation of his supervisor, providing the employee passes annual physical and mental competence tests, and his continued employment meets the retirement committee's approval.

TO REQUEST FUNDS
In other action the board adopted a resolution to request $100,000 in state matching funds for continued marine law enforcement by the sheriff's lake patrol in 1962.

The board also authorized County Planning Commission director George Strubel to apply for a $140,000 federal grant to complete an economic survey of the county.

The survey concerns population, labor force and employment, industrial composition, industrial land use, retail land use and market structure and wholesale markets.

It would bring the county's economic survey up to date, completing the remaining portion of the county-land-use inventory and developing a better understanding of the county's economic potential, according to Strubel.

The grant would provide more money towards a job already being done by county planners, thus enabling faster completion of the survey, he added.

The county's share of 25 percent of the total $192,163 cost of the survey would be covered by the money to be spent in planning salaries here anyway, said Strubel. The grant, which would not have to be repaid, is for a two-year program.

300 Rebels Slain in Viet Nam Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam in a communique Tuesday night said some 300 Viet Cong rebels were killed on Dec. 12 and 13 in fighting in Kien Hoa Province in the Mekong River delta.

The fight began when four Viet Cong companies attacked the village of Ben Bau. A government civil guard unit forced the Viet Cong to withdraw, killing about 30. The same Viet Cong units then attacked the village of Ny Chanh Hoa, losing 120 men.

Viet Cong struggles were attacked later in the day by the civil guard and were wiped out.

Fled With State Money

St. Clair Shores Thorpe Couple End Prison Terms

LANSING (AP) — More than four years of prison life today for Floyd and Anne V. Thorpe, who thought they could live a life of ease and luxury in Mexico on some $80,000 stolen from the state.

Mrs. Thorpe, a plump and pleasant 40, will walk out of the Detroit House of Correction to be reunited with her husband and family in time for the Christmas holidays. Fifty miles away, bespectacled, bushy-browed Floyd Thorpe, 62, will leave Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson, his home since Sept. 30, 1957.

Both were sentenced to 7 to 10 years in prison for embezzling state funds collected at the secretary of state's office in St. Clair Shores.

Corrections authorities here said both have been model prisoners and won release after serving the minimum sentence with time off for good behavior.

Mrs. Thorpe was manager of the St. Clair Shores office when she and her husband took the cash receipts from rush-period vehicle license sales and fled by plane to Mexico March 2, 1956. With them was their 3-year-old daughter Kay.

Police in the two countries sought them for more than a year. They were seen at a bull fight in Mexico City and basking in the sun at the resort town of Acapulco, but always they managed to stay a step or two ahead of the police.

At Mazatlan, a fashionable winter resort on Mexico's Pacific Coast, they bought an interest in a $65,000 hotel and bar. Leaving police wives on their trail, however, they sold their interest and ventured back into the United States.

On June 4, 1957, FBI agents seized the couple in Corpus Christi, Tex., where they were negotiating to buy a cocktail lounge.

PRACTICALLY BROKE

With the Thorpes on their flight to Mexico were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Radwilt of Chicago. Mrs. Radwilt is Mrs. Thorpe's sister.

Radwilt drew a 3 to 10 year prison term in Michigan for aiding and abetting the embezzlement. He already has been released.

The Thorpes said they were practically broke when federal agents found them in Texas.

Virtually all the money was spent running and hiding in Mexico or in the hotel venture, they said.

The state recovered about $92,000, including $50,000 from a bonding firm and some $12,000 from a bank account and other property owned by the Thorpes.

Mackie Refuses Detroit Position

Tells Cavanagh State Work More Important Than DSR Job

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Mayor-Elect Jerome P. Cavanagh will have to find someone other than State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie to head the Detroit Street Railway System.

Mackie, in a letter to Cavanagh made public Tuesday, revealed Cavanagh had offered him the $25,000-a-year job as DSR general manager at a meeting in Lansing last Thursday.

Mackie said he considered his current job of more importance than that offered him by Cavanagh but added that "the highway department will cooperate fully in plans to improve transportation in Detroit or the metropolitan area."

"I am convinced from my meeting with you and from reports from mutual friends that you are going to revitalize Detroit."

"The DSR is the most important regional transportation in Michigan but the position I now hold is the most important in statewide responsibility."

Young GOPers Elect Miller 1962 Chairman

Miller, of 2999 Bevan Road, succeeds William Lachs.

Other new officers elected were: Al Magnus, Bloomfield Hills, vice chairman; William Powell, Birmingham, treasurer; Beverly Jones, Birmingham, recording secretary; Janet Jones, Royal Oak, corresponding secretary.

Elected to the nine-member executive board, which includes the five officers were Phil Seelinger, Royal Oak; Margaret McCaul, Bloomfield Hills; Bob Crink, Birmingham; and Hedy Glatelli, Birmingham.

Connecticut and Pennsylvania have the same state flower, the Mountain Laurel.

Must Register as Agents of Foreign Power

U.S. Communists Face Midnight Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The members of the U.S. Communist party—more than 10,000 by FBI estimates—have until midnight tonight to register as agents of a foreign power.

They are expected to follow their officers' lead and ignore the third—and last—deadline. If they do, the Justice Department could try to send them to jail.

When the party itself ignored a Nov. 20 deadline to register with the attorney general and the leaders did the same Nov. 30, the Justice Department got an indictment against the party.

If convicted, the party could be fined $10,000 for each day of non-registration. Officers and members are subject to the same penalty, plus five years in prison for each day of violation.

REQUIRED BY ACT

The registrations were required by the Internal Security Act of 1950, upheld by the Supreme Court earlier this year after a 10-year legal battle.

Party officials had declared well in advance that they would not comply with the registration provisions of the act. They also require the disclosure of party printing press locations, financial contributions and expenses.

After a federal grand jury returned a 12-count indictment against the party Dec. 1 in Washington the party pleaded innocent to the charges of failing to register as an agent of the Soviet Union. A trial is scheduled to begin Feb. 1.

The Justice Department, in acting against the party, asked for direct grand jury action. A more elaborate procedure would have been followed for indictment of individual members.

BOARD MUST ORDER

Each member must be formally accused before the Subversive Activities Control Board of belonging to the party and the board must then order him to register. This order is subject to full review by the courts.

Individuals must register with the Internal Security Division of the Justice Department in Washington, in person or by mail.

LETTER-BUG — Smugly at ease, purebred English bull Dixie looks over her litter of 11 pups. The brood, delivered by catamaran section, is unusually large for English bulls. Kennel owners said litters seldom run more than five. One of these pups died shortly after birth. Dixie was being kept by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowles of Phoenix, Ariz., for a friend when the windfall arrived.

Yanks Would Fight If Viet Cong Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. servicemen in South Viet Nam will shoot back if attacked while carrying out this country's increased aid program there.

Authorities admitted U.S. soldiers, now numbering over 1,000 in the Southeast Asian country, face increasing risks of attack as their work takes them closer to areas of conflict.

President Kennedy's statement last week that "We shall promptly increase our assistance" to South Viet Nam's fight did not mean that U.S. troops would be committed to combat.

But a source here said that "if anybody shoots at them they are going to shoot right back, believe me."

Mother Gets Thawed Out

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A first grader at Fort McKinley School here ran into the class room all excited and said: "My mother had her hall stones out and I can bring them to school for the children to see."

Handicapped Boy Goes on Errand, Is Killed by Car

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Dennis Thompson, 10, suffered from cerebral palsy, and he had to walk on crutches. His mother never let him go out alone at night because of his ailment.

But Tuesday night she made an exception: Dennis' picture, along with several other handicapped children, had been taken with Santa Claus, and it was going to be in the morning newspaper.

Dennis was so excited about it, that he insisted he wanted to buy a newspaper himself. His mother, Mrs. Joseph Thompson, reluctantly consented.

As he crossed a street, police said, Dennis was hit and killed by a car driven by Mrs. Lulu Hunter, 76. She said she didn't see the child. She was not cited.

Schriever Says U. S. Never Trained Reds

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — "I have never felt we were behind Russia in missile development," says Gen. Bernard Schriever, chief of the Air Force Weapons Systems Command.

Schriever, who heads the Air Force's missile development, told a news conference Tuesday that most officials believe the United States has closed the so-called missile gap with the Soviet Union.

"The gap has been applied to numbers and I don't think it exists anymore," Schriever said. "The Russians have nothing like our Polaris submarine missile and our Minuteman solid-fuel ICBM."

Schriever was here to dedicate new facilities for missile personnel at Norton Air Force Base.

Nativity Figures Stolen

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Christ Child figures in the manger scenes in front of the Holy Lutheran Church and the Granada Presbyterian Church have been stolen.

Researchers Dig at Robot Diagnosis and Cancer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. New research suggests that the memory stuff is date-glanced body cells which viruses then eventually electronic computers may help doctors diagnose heart disease and certain other ailments.

The robot medical aides might also be employed in "mass screening" of large population groups to help detect, unsuspected ailments.

That's the word from a team of U.S. Public Health Service, Cornell, and industry researchers. They report preliminary but promising results in using a computer to help tell whether a given person has a normal or diseased heart.

It does so, they say, by digesting punched card data corresponding to electrical and other signals given out by the heart—and automatically comparing it with similar data stored in the machine's memory department.

How then, could they possibly cause cancer? It might be, say the scientists, that common viruses—such as those that sometimes cause polio, colds and other ailments—might serve as carriers of such chemicals. They might take them right into susceptible

The scientists who said their theory stemmed from work on mice, granted the concept is open to challenge. But they said that if it proved correct, it might be possible to prevent some kinds of cancer by protecting people against viruses that pick up hitchhiking chemicals.

SUBMARINE PAINT
As any sailor can tell you, the Navy is always painting something to protect ship hulls and machinery from corrosion. In submarines—especially in long submerged nuclear subs—there's another reason for frequent painting and repainting: to prevent sailors from getting psychological problems that might arise from a monotonous environment.

With oil-based paints formerly used, the Navy found that such frequent changes of interior scene

Now, the Naval Research Laboratory has come up with a new, semi-gloss "acrylic-latex" paint—with a rubbery base—which scientists say solves the problem.

Urges Changes in Relief Law

Newburgh, N.Y. Official Says Defeat of Plan Shows Reform Need

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—City Manager Joseph Mitchell says the State Supreme Court action invalidating 12 of the 13 points of the city's controversial welfare code emphasizes a need for legislative changes at both the state and national levels.

"Here is a city trying to improve itself but being prevented from doing so by state and federal law," he said.

"We've had no grievances at all. We've cut taxes and the welfare budget. Our performance indicates we're right and the law should be changed."

The only point left standing after Justice Robert Doecher handed down his ruling Tuesday in the state-instigated action requires able-bodied relief recipients to report to the welfare department once a month.

Among those ruled illegal were ones denying relief payments to women continuing to have children out of wedlock and to able-bodied men refusing to work.

The plan, which turned this Hudson River Valley community into a seat of national controversy, was put into effect July 15. The 12 points were placed under a temporary injunction Aug. 18 when the state began its move for a permanent injunction.

Mitchell, who fathered the welfare code, claimed it was designed to knock chiselers off the relief rolls and to cut the city's welfare bill. He said in July that one-third of the city's annual $2 million budget went into welfare expense.

TV Waits as Tight Timetable Makes JFK Scurry

Kennedy Runs Behind Schedule on Fast Latin Tour

BY MEREDITH SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON — Backslatters at the White House: Little wonder President Kennedy came down with a cold at the end of his recent South American trip. The schedule was extremely tight with little room for lateness — and Kennedy ran late for several affairs including speeches on television.

This, however, is not the crime in Venezuela or Colombia that it might be in this country where network officials would come down with station-break fever if a president turned up 15 or 20 minutes late for a nationwide TV speech.

In Latin America where the broadcasting facilities are controlled by the state, a president goes on the air pretty much when he feels like it with no nervous fellow in the wings with a stopwatch. It makes for rather relaxed viewing, sitting there looking at an old movie and suddenly, without any warning whatever, the screen suddenly shows the president delivering an address.

When the president spoke in Bogota, Colombia, Sunday night, the program in progress when President Alberto Lleras Camargo suddenly took over the airwaves was a documentary starring of all people, U.S. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman.

The advance tip on Kennedy's cold came Sunday afternoon while he was in conference with Lleras at the ancient San Carlos place where Simon Bolivar's old bedroom is kept just as it was when he was in residence for about a month in 1828. (Bolivar departed by jumping from the bedroom windows just ahead of his enemies).

Woman Is Sentenced for Theft of Funds

IONIA (U. — Mrs. Ann J. Smith, 38, Tuesday was placed on probation for three years, ordered to make restitution of $673 and pay $180 court costs on her conviction of embezzlement.

Former treasurer of the Ionia Little League Mothers Boosters Club, Mrs. Smith was convicted of embezzling club funds by Circuit Court Judge Dec. 7.

Commenting at the sentencing Tuesday, Judge Morris K. Davis said: "I know you got into the money because by checking we know that you were living beyond your means."

He also said since the case dealt with children and their impressions it was "impossible" to do anything but sentence Mrs. Smith to probation.

Smallest bones of the human body are the three which are located in the middle ear compartment.

At the President's suggestion, some of the security guard — a TV. They smiled when Mrs. Kennedy first appeared; then as she paused when she finished. And this army enlisted men and a few talked, they applauded vigorously apparently went on all over Venezuela officers — were watching on with each sentence. In fact, they zuela.

ONE THING WRONG

Then the business session resumed at 5:40 p.m. and lasted until 6:35 p.m. Only one thing was wrong — Lleras had invited several hundred guests for a 6 p.m. reception and their invitations had suggested politely that they be prepared to depart right at 7 o'clock. The Kennedy's did not appear for the reception until 7 o'clock and with a banquet still ahead on the schedule, they shook hands with all guests in about 20 minutes. Doors to the reception chamber were quickly closed and that was all the guests saw of the distinguished visitor until he went on television later in the evening.

The impact of Jacqueline Kennedy on her new-found friends in Venezuela and Colombia was best demonstrated Sunday night at the conclusion of her husband's speech on television.

Since she had been such a smash hit in Venezuela delivering a speech in Spanish to a farm audience, the President turned to her in Bogota and before the national TV audience and said there was someone with him who did not require the services of an interpreter as he did.

She walked to the microphone and began to speak in Spanish. In another room of the palace,

Nehru Speaks Out Against Aggression

By United Press International

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has for years spoken for peace and against aggression. These are his words:

"You cannot draw the sword at every nonessential. That is absurd childishness." (NBC's Meet the Press, Nov. 12, 1961)

"The admission of the Peoples Republic of (Communist) China in the (U.N.) Security Council is necessary to bring the Korean conflict to a prompt and peaceful conclusion..." (Statement concerning North Korean Communist invasion of South Korea, June 25, 1950)

"The fact that a war is a little war does not make it less of a war." (Aug. 18, 1950)

"Profoundly shocked... This aggression (must) be halted and foreign troops withdrawn from Egyptian territory... naked aggression." (Letter to U.N. secretary general protesting Anglo-French Suez invasion, Nov. 1, 1956)

"We see in Hungary today human dignity and freedom outraged" and the force of modern arms used to suppress peoples and to gain political objectives." (Speech concerning Russian intervention in Hungary, Nov. 5, 1956)

"We do not propose to have a military alliance with any country, come what may." (To Parliament, May 4, 1960)

"Negotiate, negotiate, and negotiate to the bitter end." (Answering parliamentary critics demanding that India break off relations over Red China's border incursions, Dec. 21, 1959)

"It is vitally important that the deterioration resulting from the Summit collapse does not lead to a further worsening of international situation, otherwise the Cold War will be intensified and the outbreak of terrible war — an untimely catastrophe — made possible." (Cairo, May 20, 1960)

"I am free to confess to this house that my soul reacts against war anywhere. That is the training I received throughout my life, and I cannot easily get rid of it at the age of 72." (To Parliament after his Nov. 20 return from the United States and Mexico.)

PREPARE FOR WORST—Under the watchful, wondering eyes of children, a few Muskegon area men work on a 200-person neighborhood fallout shelter in Laketon Township. Leaders of the project, named Laketon Township Membership Shelter No. 1, have had inquiries from all over the country. They hope to finish their work by Jan. 1.

Dr. Christopher E. Sower, professor of sociology and anthropology at MSU, will arrive in Colombo, Ceylon, shortly before Christmas to begin assisting that country's government in achieving a 10-year goal of development.

MSU Professor Named to U.N. Post in Ceylon

EAST LANSING (U-P)—A Michigan State University professor has been named to a post with a United Nations team carrying out an evaluation study of the rural development in Ceylon.

Dr. Christopher E. Sower, professor of sociology and anthropology at MSU, will arrive in Colombo, Ceylon, shortly before Christmas to begin assisting that country's government in achieving a 10-year goal of development.

Congo Action Curtailing Spread of Communism

LOS ANGELES (U-P)—Undersecretary of State George W. Ball says the United States supports United Nations action in the Congo because:

"We wish to insulate the African continent from the kind of military intervention by the Soviet bloc that has created such problems in other parts of the world."

The United States wants to avoid creation in Africa of a new Korea or a new Laos, Ball told a Town Hall meeting Tuesday night in what was described by State Department experts as a major policy speech. Town Hall is a forum presenting high-ranking speakers.

The State Department's No. 2 official supported the U.N. action on the ground that it is aimed at preventing Soviet domination of the Congo and an armed confrontation of the United States and the Soviet Union in the heart of Africa.

Should the Soviet bloc get a foothold in the heart of Africa, he added, it would have a base of operations "from which to spread its tentacles over this newest continent."

His speech was interpreted by State Department experts as an answer to critics of the Kennedy administration who deplored the U.N. action against secessionist Katanga and U.S. assistance to the United Nations.

Critics have contended the U.N. and the U.S. — were attacking the West's best friend in the Congo, in Katanga's President Moise Tshombe, and playing into Communist hands.

SOVIETS IN CONGO
Soviet bloc countries had already moved agents and military equipment into the Congo before the U.N. intervened, Ball added.

"Their prospects for setting up shop in the middle of Africa appear excellent," he declared. "Counterpressure for direct American involvement were growing."

He said the United States could choose among three alternatives: It could "stand by, wringing our hands and doing nothing";

It could have intervened directly, "putting U.S. power face to face with Soviet power";

Finally, it could support the United Nations and "we exercised the option."

He characterized Cyrille Adoula, prime minister of the Congo central government, as a noncommunist moderate and said legitimacy of Adoula's government was "unquestioned."

Ball said Adoula's efforts to unite the Congolese are being undermined by the defection of Tshombe and Antoine Gizenga, leftist deputy premier in Eastern Congo.

If Adoula cannot deal effectively with the Katangese secession, he added, Gizenga likely would try to take over the government, conceivably touching off a bloody civil war throughout the Congo.

Air Taxi Firms Have Licenses Revoked by FAA

WASHINGTON (U-P)—The Federal Aviation Agency has revoked the certificates of two California air taxi services.

FAA Administrator N. E. Halaby told a news conference Tuesday of the action affecting two services associated with Far West Airways, San Francisco.

He said the FAA revoked the certificates of Golden Gate Airways and Travis Air Taxi, San Francisco, affiliates of Far West, after a crash in October of a Travis plane, killing six.

The agency, Halaby said, is looking into management relationships between Far West and Arctic-Pacific, Inc., Oakland, Calif. Arctic-Pacific's certificate was revoked last year after a football charter crash at Toledo, Ohio, in which twenty-two persons were killed.

Aliens Are Reminded to Report Addresses

A reminder that aliens must report their addresses during January was issued today by the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Aliens not required to make this report are diplomats, those accredited to certain international organizations and those who have entered the country temporarily as agricultural laborers.

Forms for making reports will be available at all post offices and also at offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, during January.

Detroit District Director Walter A. Sahli said information concerning naturalization also will be available.

The Detroit office is located at 370 E. Jefferson Ave.

Suit Seeks Dismissal of San Antonio Officials

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (U-P)—A suit asking the ouster of Mayor Walter McAllister and seven other members of the City Council was filed Tuesday by District Atty. Charles Luck Jr.

The suit resulted from participation by the firm of Councilman Roland Bremer, a home builder, in a city housing project.

Gay Cookie Ornaments Decorate Family Tree

BY JANEY ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor
Homemade ornaments for the Christmas tree are not new. But not many people use them exclusively the way the Clark B. McPhail family of Sylvan Manor does. This year Mrs. McPhail has made 125 cookie ornaments and strung yards and yards of popcorn and cranberries.

The baby — 10-month-old Kathy — makes a bee line for one particular Santa Claus every time she toddles into the living room. Santa has lost his head already. But she doesn't touch any other cookies.

The dog started chewing up the popcorn strings the first day. Then she knocked off a cookie and decided that tasted better. He's more trouble than the baby.

Big sister Shelley who's two and a half is old enough to understand that the cookies on the tree are just for looks now.

Mrs. McPhail has done this type of tree-decorating in the past. In fact, she carefully saved all the cookies two years ago and used them last year. She says they get too hard to eat, but looked all right.

Mrs. McPhail shares her cookies and frosting recipes with Pontiac Press readers.

ROLLED SUGAR COOKIES
¾ cup soft shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
½ teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt

Cream shortening and sugar. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Sift dry ingredients and stir in. Chill at least 1 hour.

Roll out ¼-inch-thick and cut into desired shapes. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake 6-8 minutes or until a delicate brown in a 350-degree oven.

EASY CREAM ICING
(for base or background)
Blend 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon vanilla or other flavoring and about 1 tablespoon water or 1½ teaspoons cream. Tint if desired. Spread on cooled cookies with spatula or pastry brush.

DECORATIVE FROSTING
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg white, beaten stiff
1 tablespoon granulated sugar

Blend confectioners sugar, cream of tartar and salt. Add gently to rest of ingredients. This will harden rapidly. Keep unused frosting covered with a wet cloth or a plate.

Use just a little at a time, about 4 tablespoons, and add 1 drop of food coloring at a time until desired color is achieved.

If frosting is too thick, add a few drops of milk to thin it as desired. Use this frosting in a pastry tube to decorate the iced cookies.

In 1900, each farm worker fed himself and six others. Today, each farm worker feeds himself and 25 others, relates the Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Sawyer.

Still remembered as a cherished symbol of Yuletide, the log "burns" here in the guise of a luscious cake. Two bakers' jelly rolls are fitted together — end-to-end — and heaped with snow, fluffy frosting: 1 cup heavy cream, ¼ cup confectioners' sugar, 1 egg yolk, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, and ½ teaspoon vanilla extract — beaten together until stiff.

Edible Yule Log Really Jelly Roll

Curds of coconut are drifted over the "log," which is chilled before serving. For a warm glow, a trio of candles are set aflame on top of the cake.

Cold Rice Entree
Prepare 1½ cups packaged precooked rice according to directions; while rice is warm, add ¼ cup Spanish olive oil, 2 tablespoons vinegar, a pinch of dried tarragon, ¼ cup minced celery, 1 pimiento or sweet red pepper, chopped, and salt and pepper to taste. Toss lightly. Serve cold for lunch with sliced turkey or chicken.

Put Stars in Their Eyes

If you are making cookies for children, cut them in varied shapes and tint them in different colors. A beautiful assortment for one gladdened youngster included little green Christmas trees, red wreaths, tiny ducks and chickens, moon crescents, small white snowballs, stars dipped in icing after baking and then rolled in coconut, and blue stars.

Relish Can Take Star Salad Is Teaser Place of Gravy for Holiday Dinners

The hardest part of being on a limited calorie diet is eating dry, tasteless meats without gravy. This is enough to discourage even the most determined weight-watcher. However, instead of giving up a dull diet in despair use relishes, especially those containing sugar, to add taste dimension to the meal.

Sugar is a quick energy food and is used to make many other foods more palatable — what's more important, particularly to the dieter, there are only 18 calories in a teaspoon.

An easy no-cook fresh cranberry relish to serve with meat entrees is given below. Prepared with fresh tart cranberries, sugar, celery, pickle relish, onion and lemon rind, Cranberry Pickle Relish contains about 33 calories in a tablespoon. To make your next meal appetizing and attractive, try refreshing cranberry relish with your favorite meat entree — beef, ham, pork or lamb.

Cranberry Pickle Relish
2 cups fresh cranberries
2 ½ cup sugar
1 cup finely diced celery
½ cup sweet pickle relish
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind dash of salt

Snowy Meringues Hold Creamy Lemon Filling

Each year, just about everyone dreams of a white Christmas. Whether or not the festive day brings drifts of white fairy architecture to the outdoors, you can have your share of snow indoors — on the dessert platter.

The snowy effect is achieved by rippled shells of meringue, filled with cold lemon soufflé and garnished with maraschino cherries and bits of angelica to provide the look of snow-covered wreaths.

The delectable cold soufflé that fills the Meringues de Noel is a classic favorite of French chefs. Unlike a hot soufflé, there's no risk involved in the cooking of cold soufflé. Thanks to the presence of unflavored gelatine, the soufflé cooks only a few minutes — the length of time it takes to dissolve the unflavored gelatine. Into the lemon, sugar, and unflavored gelatine mixture goes whipped cream.

Then the delectable soufflé is spooned into the meringue "wreaths" and the whole is chilled. The lightly tart flavor of the lemon soufflé lends the sweet meringues an excellent taste contrast.

Meringues de Noel provide a memorable dessert for the holiday dinner or a snack deluxe with coffee for guests of the evening.

Meringues de Noel
4 eggs, separated
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cups sugar, divided
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup cold water
½ cup lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

To prepare meringue shells, beat egg whites until foamy. Add cream of tartar and salt; beat until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add ½ cup of the sugar and beat until very stiff.

Cover baking sheet with heavy brown paper. Fill meringue into of 2415 Walce, Sylvan Manor, the mother of the little girls, has made 125 sugar cookie ornaments for the family tree. Cookies, and popcorn-cranberry strings are the only decorations.

The snowy-white of fresh endives and the bright, festive red of cranberries combine in the Christmas Star Salad... a real teaser for your holiday table!

Endives and cranberries are long-time favorites in Europe and America. The crisp Belgian endive was developed in 1886 at the Brussels Botanical Gardens where government scientists were working with chicory roots, seeking a coffee substitute.

A gardener accidentally left one of the roots in his basement and a few days later, discovered delicate white leaves had sprouted from the root. Lab tests showed that the fresh-smelling leaves were edible and distinctly flavorful.

Endive — or witloof as it's known in Belgium — became a diet staple in Europe. And it wasn't long before the low-calorie, vitamin-rich Belgian vegetable was discovered and popularized in America.

Delicious cooked or raw, as a salad or appetizer or in soup, endive is available in our supermarkets from September through May and keeps in the refrigerator for weeks.

ADD CRANBERRIES
Cranberries have complemented our holiday dinners since the first Thanksgiving. And a cousin of the American cranberry is now popular in Europe.

In the seasonal but unusual Christmas Star Salad, small stars molded of cranberries with rays of endive halves are enticingly topped with a smooth sour cream dressing.

Delicious and decorative, the salad is a snap to prepare — its freshness and tart-sweet taste can be preserved in the refrigerator for hours. Recipe instructions follow:

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
2 cups fresh cranberries, chopped
½ cup sugar
½ cup chopped apple
½ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped walnuts
1 tablespoon finely sliced green onions
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
8 stalks (approx. 1 pound) Belgian endive

Prepare gelatin, following package directions: Chill until slightly thickened. Meanwhile, combine cranberries with sugar; add celery, walnuts, onion, salt and pepper. Fold into gelatin.

Pour into 8 lightly oiled star-shaped molds. Chill until firm. Cut endive in half lengthwise; arrange on platter with molds. Serve with dressing made with equal parts mayonnaise and sour cream. Make 8 servings.

Edible Greetings
Frost 14 cup cakes with white icing and put one letter of Merry Christmas on top of each cake with red cinnamon drops. These can be used to spell out a greeting when arranged on a tray.

Packaged Potatoes Mixed With Chives

This quick potato dish is delicious with turkey. Chives (fresh or frozen) do the trick!

Fluffy Chive Potatoes
1 package (6½ ounces) mashed potato flakes
Water
Butter
Salt
Milk
¼ teaspoon white pepper
1 egg yolk
3 tablespoons chopped chives

Make up the two envelopes of potato flakes according to package directions, using the amount of water, butter, milk and salt called for. With a spoon, beat in 2 tablespoons extra butter, pepper, egg yolk and chives. Turn into a 9-inch baking and serving dish. Cover and refrigerate until needed. At serving time reheat in a moderate or hot oven for about 20 to 30 minutes. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

BERRY SALAD BOWL—"Soup and Salad" suppers taste especially good between holiday meals. Try this hearty salad of crisp greens, citrus fruit sections, sharp Cheddar cheese cubes and a sprinkling of sliced fresh cranberries. Accented with a delightful dressing prepared from an envelope of onion salad dressing mix, it's sure to be a welcome change from rich and festive foods.

Salad and Sandwich Are Welcome Fare in Holiday

Holiday time is so often a time of over-eating and although no one of us wants to give up these holiday pleasures, we can do something to compensate for the times we go overboard. During this festive period with its round of parties, a soup and sandwich or salad and meat is appreciated between the feasting.

Canned soups are so convenient to use and there are no limits to the variations you can conjure up by combining two or more soups. Try chicken cream of asparagus with cream of celery... cream of chicken with green peas... tomato with chicken gumbo.

With recipe by using enriched white bread, and by adding crumbled crisp cooked bacon to the peanut butter mixture.

For a really different salad, here's one that has a bit of the color of Christmas and the perfect mate for hot soup. It's full of hidden surprises and tossed with a superb dressing that combines onion salad dressing mix with honey, vinegar and oil. You'll find it more than satisfies family appetites.

To complete this simple but good tasting meal, make a festive pudding dessert with low calorie pudding mix. Topped with crushed peppermint candy, it's as worthy of praise as any rich dessert.

Berry Salad Bowl

1/2 cup vinegar
2 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon honey
1 envelope onion salad dressing mix

Oven Sandwiches

1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons maple-blended syrup
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
8 slices white or raisin bread
1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
8 slices crisp bacon (optional)

Combine 1/4 cup maple-blended syrup with butter. Brush 4 slices of bread on one side with 1/4 of the syrup mixture. Place on a baking sheet, syrup side down. Spread each slice with a mixture of 2 tablespoons maple-blended syrup and peanut butter. Place 2 slices crisp bacon on peanut butter-syrup mixture on each sandwich. Top with remaining bread slices.

Brush top of each bread slice with remaining syrup mixture. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 10 minutes; then turn and continue baking 8 to 10 minutes, or until golden brown. Makes 4 sandwiches.

small saucepan, stirring until well blended. Add 1 tablespoon of the crushed candy. Heat and stir to a boil. Remove from heat and pour into serving dishes. Pudding thickens as it cools. When cool, garnish with remaining candy. Makes 4 servings.

Peppermint Pudding

2 envelopes dietetic vanilla pudding
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons crushed peppermint stick candy
Add pudding powder to milk in

Who Said Prunes Weren't Exciting?

Prunes are good enough for company when they're prepared in this interesting way.

Delmonico Prunes

1 package (1 pound) large prunes
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup dry red wine
1 stick cinnamon
2 bay leaves
Rind of 1 lemon (removed in long strips without white membrane)

Soak prunes in cold water to cover overnight; drain, placing prunes and 1 cup of the soaking liquid in a saucepan with the remaining ingredients. Boil gently about 20 to 30 minutes or until prunes are tender. Chill. Remove cinnamon and bay leaves. Serve with whipped cream or dessert topping.

Exciting Foods of Mexico Make Christmas Buffet Memorable

A Mexican menu for a buffet supper offers a gay and colorful way of saying "Merry Christmas" to the family circle or a crowd. The food is exciting and different from the usual run of holiday feasting. Best of all, being "made yesterday," it gives the hostess a chance to enjoy the party.

MEXICAN CHRISTMAS BUFFET SUPPER

Sangria (a fruit juice and wine punch)
Guacamole (an avocado dip) with corn chips OR Tostaditas (fried tortilla wedges)
Frijoles de Olla (Idaho Pinto or Red Beans "cooked in a clay pot")
Chili con Carne (meat in a red chili sauce)
Heated tortillas with Whipped Butter OR

Sopapillas (deep-fried biscuit diamonds)
Christmas Eve Salad
Caramelo (a caramelized sugar dessert)
Fresh Pineapple
Mexican Cookies (could be your prized butter cookies)
Coffee

Sangria: mix juice from 4 lemons and one orange, from which the peel has been cut in a spiral with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup granulated sugar. Add 1 large bottle ($\frac{4}{5}$ quart) red table wine. Chill. Just before serving, add 1 quart chilled carbonated water. Pour in pitcher over ice and orange peel spiral, lemon and lime slices. Serve in tall glasses half-filled with ice. Or pour over fruit, garnished ice block in punch bowl, serve in punch cups.

Guacamole: mash 3 large ripe avocados with a fork until fairly smooth. Add 1 clove crushed garlic, 1 teaspoon salt, lemon juice to suit taste. Garnish with pomegranate seeds, if desired. A 4-ounce can peeled green chiles, chopped, give authority.

Tostaditas: cut tortillas into 6 pie-shaped wedges; fry in deep fat (370 degrees F.) until crisp and brown. Serve hot to scoop up appetizer dips.

Frijoles de la Olla ("cooked in a clay pot for a long time, served in the thick broth"): for 6 hearty servings, wash 2 cups Idaho Red or Pinto Beans, place in heavy saucepot or Dutch oven; add 6 cups water. Bring to boiling point; rapidly, boil 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Cover, allow to stand for 1 hour. Or soak overnight. To cook, add 2 tablespoons salad oil or butter to beans and soaking water, to keep down foaming, and 2 teaspoon salt, 1 whole onion, if you like. Bring to boiling point, reduce heat to simmer; cover and cook until very tender and the liquid is of gravy consistency. Stir occasionally but gently to keep from breaking beans. Serve very hot, after lifting out the onion.

Chile con Carne: cook $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped beef fat until crisp. Add 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ pounds beef shoulder or round cut in 1-inch cubes; brown. Add 1 and $\frac{1}{4}$ cups chopped onion. Reduce heat and cook onion until tender. Add $\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoons chili powder, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon oregano, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon cumin, 1 small bay leaf, 2 medium cloves crushed hot garlic, 1 teaspoon salt, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon sugar, 2 cups tomato puree (No. 303 can), 1 and $\frac{1}{2}$ cups beef bouillon. Cover, let simmer about 1 hour or until meat is tender and sauce thickened. Add more chili powder if desired. Serve hot over the "frijoles." Makes 6 servings. Chili con Carne, canned or frozen, is available in stores.

Sopapillas: make biscuit dough, turn out on floured cloth, knead a few minutes. Let stand 5 minutes, then roll out into rectangle about 12 by 15 inches. Dough should be about $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch thick. Cut in diamond-shaped pieces. Drop in deep fat heated to 300 degrees F. turning at once to puff evenly, then turn back to brown both sides. Drain on paper toweling. Serve attractive in a glass bowl shredded lettuce, 8 small cooked beets sliced or diced, sections of 4 peeled oranges, 2 red apples unpeeled but cored and sliced, 2 cups pineapple chunks fresh, canned or frozen, 4 bananas peeled and sliced on the bias, brushed with lemon or lime juice.

Christmas Eve Salad: arrange brown syrup, slowly add $\frac{1}{4}$ cup water, hot or cold; allow it to boil up until smooth. The hard mass will dissolve as it boils.

Mix together: $\frac{1}{4}$ cup brown or granulated sugar, 3 tablespoons flour, dash of salt, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water. Carefully stir this mixture into the syrup. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon cinnamon, 1 tablespoon butter.

Four pudding into bowl, cover and chill. Just before serving, stir in $\frac{1}{4}$ to 1 cup chopped walnuts or slivered blanched almonds. Put not more than 3 tablespoons in a little cup or shallow sherbet glass for each portion. Top with slightly sweetened whipped cream, ly sprinkled with cinnamon. Or use fresh pineapple and cookies for dessert.

Best Basting for Turkey Done With Melted Butter

Butter Basted Turkey Breast is a treat for the gourmet but as traditional as pumpkin pie. Wash and drain a 10-12 pound turkey breast; pat dry with paper toweling. Soften $\frac{1}{2}$ cup (1 stick) butter, spread over entire breast covering well; place on rack in shallow roasting pan skin side up. Melt $\frac{1}{4}$ cup (1 stick) butter for basting.

Roast in preheated 325 degree oven, brushing occasionally with melted butter and drippings. Turkey is done when meat feels very soft when pressed with protected fingers or when an internal temperature of 185 degrees is reached.

SPLINT PERSONALITY—Romper, family pet of Mrs. John Riggs, of St. Albans, W.Va., tries to stand on three splinted legs. The owner claims that the cat was caught in muskrat traps laid near her home by neighborhood boys. Mrs. Riggs has asked the St. Albans City Council to outlaw such traps within the city limits.

Teen Dimes Drive to Be Directed by Nancy Fleming

EAST LANSING (U)—Nancy Anne Fleming, last year's Miss America, now will take an additional duty, as chairman of the March of Dimes teen-age program.

Nancy, a freshman at Michigan State University, will have the job of directing some 50,000 Michigan high school and college students to raise $1.5 million to help in the fight against crippling diseases.

"Teen-agers have a large stake in the effort by the national foundation to wipe out paralytic polio—a disease that hits young people hard," she said. "Now we are contributing to help fight two that offer even greater challenges—birth defects and arthritis."

The teen-age volunteers, the former Miss America said, will try to raise their money quota through disc jockey shows, bread sales and sporting events.

Approve Record Budget

FLINT (U)—The Genesee County Board of Supervisors Tuesday unanimously approved a record budget for 1962 of $8,141,537. The figure was $194,393 more than the current budget.

Progress Comes but Slowly

JFK Sees Big Task Ahead in S. America

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As President Kennedy's motorcade moved out of Caracas and onto the broad highway which cuts through Venezuela's coastal range to Maricao Airport, Venezuelan soldiers leaned idly on their rifles.

In the President's ears still rang the cheers of hundreds of thousands of the vast and friendly throng which greeted his first visit to South America.

In Venezuela, Kennedy had seen both the hope and the enormity of the task facing his Alliance for Progress program.

At La Morita, on the Caracas outskirts, he saw some of the first results of the Venezuelan land reform program.

Here, 36 families had been settled on eight-acre plots as part of President Romulo Betancourt's program to supply Venezuela's landless peasants with homes of their own on land of their own.

This was the hope.

But as he moved out of Caracas toward the airport on his way, to Bogota, the second stop of this trip, he saw the other side of the coin.

This was the Avenida Sucre area where in 1958 mobs swept out of the hills to storm Vice President Richard Nixon's automobile and to spit upon the vice president and his wife.

Here, flimsy shacks creep up the mountainsides, tacked together with whatever material can be found. They are inhabited by the squatters who surround the big cities of much of South America.

These are the people who desert the poverty of the countryside to find greater poverty and filth in the cities' fringes, to become ready prey to apostles of revolution and violent overthrow.

Unable to help themselves, they nonetheless wield a power which many Latin American governments fear.

In Caracas, as a government concession to them, electric lines have been strung to the shacks so that each has electricity, and ing and more than money. It starts at the very beginning, wherein people first must be taught to read before they can understand either modern machines or modern agriculture.

To give the child a chance to become an adult, he first must learn the rules of hygiene. The enthusiasm with which the throngs of Venezuela and Colombia received President and Mrs. Kennedy was a symbol of the hope aroused in Latin America by the Alliance for Progress program.

the promise that the program not only will be carried out but will be speeded.

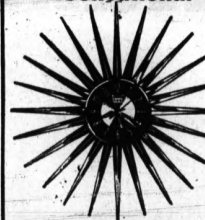

To other Latin American nations, their governments, their landowners and their industrialists he left the clear warning that he expects them to duplicate the reforms of Colombia and Venezuela and to join with the United States in barring the door to communism in the American hemisphere.

Submarine mines and booby traps were widely used in the Civil War.

try, was found guilty Tuesday night of manslaughter for the deaths of 12 patients. He was acquitted of criminal responsibility in the deaths of three others.

A jury returned its verdict shortly before midnight, after 12 hours of deliberation.

It ended a trial that began 58 days ago in Camden County Court and included the testimony of nearly 200 witnesses.

Many were former patients who testified they saw dried blood on infusion tubing in Weiner's office. Nearly a score of the witnesses were medical experts. Records of the case filled 6,500 pages.

The state went beyond the language of the 15-count indictment which spoke only of hepatitis, a liver disease, to prove that the deaths were caused by serum hepatitis.

Prosecutor Norman Heine said he did this to show the deaths were attributable to Weiner's use of unsterile and contaminated equipment and drugs, said to be the cause of serum hepatitis.

The jury foreman, Miss Clara Sombat, 51, a secretary, responded "not guilty" to the court clerk's queries on the first two counts of the indictment. On counts three through 11 she responded firmly "guilty." Then came an acquittal and three more convictions.

Weiner showed little reaction until near the end of the polling of the jury. When he left the courtroom, walking behind a wedge of friends and relatives, his head bowed, he appeared deeply upset. His wife fought back tears and dabbed at her eyes with a handkerchief.

Mrs. Weiner was a central figure in the case. A registered nurse, she testified she had instructed other nurses employed in Weiner's Ertion office on procedures he used.

Once the jury came back to ask Judge Edward V. Martino if a doctor was responsible for acts of nurses in his office.

The judge replied the doctor was responsible if the nurses did not perform the duties as he specified and the doctor knew of it.

Ex-ABC Executive Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — John H. Mitchell, 53, retired vice president of the American Broadcasting Co., died Tuesday of pneumonia. Before he retired early this year Mitchell was manager of WBBH, the ABC television outlet in Chicago, and of the company's central network. He also had served as vice president in charge of the ABC radio and TV station KGO in San Francisco.

To Rent (Not Buy) Things Latest Trend in This Decade

By PHYLLIS BATTLELLE
NEW YORK — Lillian Gish claims she owns practically nothing except a few clothes. She never has owned anything more, and she never will.

"Ownership, fortunately, was left out of my nature altogether. I remember how sorry I felt for Mary Pickford, back in the days when she made silent films together. She always had to rush home from the studio because she was responsible for 17 people."

Miss Gish's eyes were comically large and sad in her still-dainty face. "Imagine that! Seventeen people, it took to run her home, 'Pickfair,' and take care of her possessions."

"That's not my idea of what you work for. The unhappy people I know have just nothing but possessions. It's an American trend . . . don't you think?"

Well, this week a big multimillion-dollar American concern said no, it didn't think so at all.

"The status symbol of ownership is fast declining," said a spokesman for the firm.

"American women have finally come to realize that there is too much excitement in life to spend their time cleaning the family silver, and that there is less space in homes for storing valuable china."

"The trend today is to rent what you need when you need it. It's going to become as big in this decade as the installment plan was in the 1920s. We know."

How well they know! Unlike Miss Gish, whose anti-possessions attitude is spiritual, this corporation — Hertz Rent-All — has a whopping inventory to prove its contentions.

This week they opened a glittering New York showroom on Madison Avenue where they say the citizenry can rent anything from A to Z — "Ashtrays to Zithers," and they were confident of its success. In the past year they have launched nine other such services around the country; already, they claim, it's a $100-million industry.

"Somebody remarked," smiled spokesman Mill Kramer happily, "that we rent everything but the kitchen sink. But that's ridiculous."

Customers 'Reward' Good Sales Conduct

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A department store here (Lane Bryant) is creating good will and better service by handing out gold cards to customers who are asked to observe the attitude of sales personnel.

If the customer feels the salesperson has given good service, he "awards" the gold card. The salesman then takes the customer to the general manager who presents the customer with a bottle of perfume. The salesman gets a silver dollar.

Many hemiplegic patients do not walk as fast as they could because of fear, suggests a research team from the University of California Medical School and the Oakland Veterans Administration hospital.

"You want a kitchen sink, we'll be happy to get it for you." * * *

Among the items Hertz rents are sickroom supplies (wheelchairs, hospital beds, etc.), reducing aids (massage tables, exercise bikes), baby needs (strollers, cribs), oil paintings, color TV sets and all the appurtenances.

for parties from the elegant to the ridiculous types. Prices range from a stainless steel spoon at three cents a day to closed circuit color TV sets at $75. Soon to come: A fur coat department so mama can mink it up on special occasions. "We'll get you virtually anything," promised Kramer. "A request for an elephant might make us blanch a bit. But anything else?" * * *

The Hertz-considered proof that Americans no longer want to bother with costly possessions is that of all their rental items the most often requested are the fine chinas, crystal tables, chairs and decorations for giving grand parties. * * *

And they are, indeed, fine, judging from the price. A sterling centerpiece flower holder, excluding flowers, is rented and delivered with a high polish and a matching price tag — $75.

It takes a lot of money not to own anything expensive. * * *

BIG, LOUD TOYS

Speaking of money, it is a season of big, big, loud, loud toys for children. Toy tea pots whistle, coffee pots perk, robots fire missiles, dolls utter burp or scream bloody murder.

And there is a general feeling among many mothers that if a toy is small enough to be picked up by the child, it's not impressive enough. * * *

"But this is a healthy sign. For some years, according to the Toy Guidance Council, parents bought smaller, quieter toys — probably because such dainties would not clutter up their slick, polished ranch houses. Kiddies occasionally showed their contempt for such little gifts by eating them. * * *

This year, apparently, parents are being more considerate of their darlings than of their decor. . . .

St. Mike Gains First Win; Southfield Beats Maples

Wayne Trips Skippers, 60-48

Waterford went down to its 2nd defeat in three starts as St. Michael and Southfield were winning in impressive fashion last night.

The Skippers dropped a 60-48 verdict at Wayne. St. Mike posted its initial season triumph after three beatings by 45-30 at Utica St. Lawrence. Southfield edged Birmingham Seaholm, 62-56.

Utica tripped Warren, 55-50. Ferndale fell before Gross Pointe, 65-51. Clawson edged Lamphere 49-45. Madison was on the short end of a 65-57 count at Lathrup East. South Lyon whipped Howell, 11-57. Brown City wallowed almost, 58-52. L'Anse au Loup was a 63-48 conqueror of Clintondale and Otisville Lakeville set a new school scoring record by wallowing Millington, 56-45.

Waterford trailed only 24-20 at halftime but a veteran Wayne quintet caught fire for a 21-point 3rd period to pull away for good. Paul Moran continued his steady scoring sharing Skipper high honors with Dave Abel at 22. Bob Code finished 18 for the winners.

The Shamrocks, making their best showing yet, kept it up ahead 14-8 and kept building up the margin along the way.

Charlie Dault topped eight point-getters with 14. Mike Zabori's 11 and 10 for Ron Berg took care of most of the St. Lawrence offense.

The Trojans are now 5-1. It was Lamphere's 1st loss.

Tom Redinger of Madison took game honors with 30 points and 10 rebounds. He shot 12 of 17 from the field and 5 of 7 from the free-throw line.

South Lyon continued to show good scoring punch to get over the 500 mark again. Coach Bob Meeth's charges overcame a 38-27 halftime deficit with a 26-point 3rd stanza. Lowell Browne camped 24, Steve Showerman 16 and Jim Sprinkles 10 for the Lions.

Brown City had no trouble after piling up an early 20-0 advantage. Al Martin and Ken Miller combined to outscore almost 25 and 15 in that order. Tony Patch hit 10 in the Southern Thresh count. BC is 3-1 and Almont 0-4 in the loop.

L'Anse Creuse pulled away a 25-25 deadlock to pull away to a 44-30 lead and coasted to its 2nd victory in six tries. Rick Peoples' 27 sparked the cause. Mike Putnam got 16 for Clintondale.

Don Robinson made 19 to head 45 Lakeville boys in double numbers compared to Millington's one Tony Fritz with 12. The Cards made a comeback attempt after trailing 27-12 but the visitors had too many horses. There were 38 free throws in the roller coaster affair. Millington has dropped four of four.

Clawson gets back into action Thursday night as host to Oak Park in an Oakland A. duel. Port Huron plays Hamtramck.

Another Pontiac Press Bowlerama tournament is history. Everything went along well again thanks to the cooperation of the host establishments, the Pontiac Bowling Chapter, the many league secretaries contacted, several key places not directly involved this year and—most of all—the bowlers.

The handicaps even have grown bigger and better each year since 1957 but the current contest really developed into a great one in all ways.

Entries topped the 1,000 mark after reaching a high of 636 last year. There were outstanding battles for qualifying berths, team honors and then the big money prizes. The only easy victory was turned in by Bob Richards with the big 704 in the 3rd annual Actual Invitational.

His series was one of the long list of top scores posted throughout the three weeks of competition at Lakewood Lanes, Winderlakes Lanes, Collier's Lanes, Huron Bowl and 400 Bow.

A record 163 different men won prizes with some taking home two and others earning three of them.

Richards' strong performance in The Press tournament came as no surprise to the fellows he bowled with regularly. The lucky young man recently hit 728 in the Huron "A" loop on 215-257.

Gary DeFrayne was 2nd among five over 600 with 674 including a 556. There were 27 200s. Oxford Mattress was the biggest game taking four points.

Area leaders and followers looking forward to Monroe Moore's appearance on the national TV program "Make That Spare" Saturday at 10:45 p.m. on ABC.

He will be going against one of the country's best players in Andy Rogoznick. The latter defeated veteran star Tom Henneman on the show last week.

Anyone interested in seeing "Mo" practice on the spaces he will be shooting for big money can do so by being at 300 Bow Thursday afternoon between 3 and 5 p.m. He started working on his accuracy yesterday and will continue here through Friday and then have two sessions on the "space" lanes in New York before the competition begins.

The Kukulniks have come up with Christmas gifts for their Lakewood league members. They gave away 14 chickens for night pool participants on the basis of one for every two lanes. A box of candy or alley was distributed to bow bowlers.

The program will continue until March 3, 1962 and the next field day is scheduled for Pontiac Central on January 27. All boys entered in the program swim at least one event in the field day meet regardless of ability.

2 Chiefs in County Top 20

Mulcaster Leads Scoring

By CHUCK ABRAH
 Slim Tim Mulcaster a 13.9 average pointmaker last year heads the opening Oakland County individual prep scoring list for the 1961-62 basketball season.

He has posted in 126 points in five games for St. James for a 25.2 mark to head the county in both total and average. Tom Redinger of Madison follows with 20.7 for three games.

Rochester's Jerry Olsen ranks No. 2 in total with 97 and is 4th in average with 19.4, one-tenth of a point behind Lowell Burgess of South Lyon.

Steve Showerman and Jim Sprinkles give the Lions three of the top six places with 19 and 18.9 averages respectively.

Rudy Ransom of Pontiac Central and big Hank Akin of Troy share the 19th and 20th spots.

Ex-Michigan End Sues Green Bay for 10 Grand

DETROIT (UPI) — Lenny Ford, former University of Michigan end, has filed a $10,000 damage suit in circuit court here against the Green Bay Packers.

Ford, a defense end for eight seasons with the Cleveland Browns, charged in the suit he signed a contract with the Packers in June, 1958, which contained a clause that stated he could not be fired without advance written notice.

He said the Packers fired him without notice on Dec. 13, 1958, losing his $916 salary for the Packers' final game of the season. Ford said the dismissal also injured his reputation.

Circuit Judge James Montane has scheduled a hearing Jan. 11.

Little More Patience and Ice Will Be Safe

By DON VOGEL

If the weather continues cold, as predicted, ice fishermen should be getting on a few nearby lakes next week to try their Christmas presents.

A survey of several Oakland County lakes near Pontiac Tuesday disclosed some completely covered with ice, but looking very unsafe. No anglers were seen. Deer Lake near Clarkston had a thin shelf of ice in the bay near the boat launching site, but was otherwise open water.

Reports say some fishermen are trying their luck at Bald Eagle Lake south of Orionville and other shallow lakes in that area.

By the time ice gets thick enough to hold shanties, it will be time to take the spear along. The spearfishing season on northern pike, walleye and other large fish opens New Year's day.

Pontiac Lake is noted for its large pike, but is closed to all spearfishing. Black bass, however, will remain legal on this lake under the experimental plan of the Conservation Department. The bass season ends on Dec. 31 for other waters.

Rainbow become legal through the ice Jan. 1 or have they been legal this month?

One Conservation Department pamphlet claims the trout are open during December, the 1961 Fish Law Digest indicates the season resumes next month. It doesn't make much difference because of the poor ice conditions in Southern Michigan.

BROKEN BOTTLES
The State Liquor Commission started a squabble when it banned throw-away beer bottles.

Conservation groups and glass manufacturers were expected to square off today at a public hearing on the order in Lansing. The order goes into effect Jan. 30.

Mrs. Ralph D. Keller of Wyandotte, representing the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, told the commission Tuesday that the ban against growing bottles won't control a disposable litter problem.

"In our opinion, the proper way to control roadside litter is by enforcing laws against litter, and by educating the public to dispose of travel trash properly," she said.

"Volunteer groups, working with government agencies, have tackled the litter problem successfully in some states," Mrs. Keller said. She called for formation of a study committee to look into the problem and recommend legislation.

Expected to take a strong stand today supporting the ruling was the Michigan United Conservation Clubs and other similar groups.

Owens-Illinois Glass Co. and other manufacturers are against it.

ATTENDANCE JUMP
Two new attendance records were established for the month of November at Kensington Metropolitan Park south of Milford.

Over 51,400 persons visited the park during November this year compared to 50,000 in 1960; 43,000 in 1959, 33,000 in 1958 and with 30,000 in November 1957.

The park's Nature Center, a museum of natural science featuring several seasonal exhibits, was visited by over 5,700 persons during November (1961) compared to just over 4,000 last November (1960). The Nature Center is open for public viewing from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on weekdays.

DAFTER 9—Rosa Armstrong is depicted in an unusual trophy at his home in this Chippewa County community near Sault Ste. Marie.

Armstrong shot and killed a Canadian lynx, an animal rarely seen in Michigan, while hunting this week. The lynx was 61 inches long and its claws were five inches in diameter, Armstrong said.

Rickey Is 80 Today

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Branch Rickey, the elder statesman of organized baseball, celebrated his 80th birthday today still visualizing the creation of a third major league.

COOL RESCUE—A person breaking through the ice should remain calm (upper left) and attempt to get a handhold on the edge of the hole. Rescuers can get in the same trouble if they make a hasty move. Get as close as possible to the person in trouble and slide him files, screwdrivers, picks or any other sharp object so he can pull himself out of the hole (upper right). If this doesn't work, and no rope, plank or spud is handy, a coat can be used (bottom) to make the rescue.

Conservation in State Reviewed

Up and Down in '61

For conservation in Michigan, 1961 was not unlike other years. There were ups and downs, moments of pride and disappointment, old problems and new hopes.

The year produced its share of progress for the state's conservation movement which marked its 40th anniversary under the helm of the Conservation Commission and Department.

Probably in no area of conservation was there more headway, headlines, and headlines than in the broadening field of recreation.

In state parks, the year signaled the start of construction work and lands purchases under the opening $2 million phase of a $5 million bonding program financed by park users through special vehicle permit fees.

Elsewhere on the state's recreational scene, headline news was made when the federal government announced its plans to establish the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Recreation Area which would embrace some 77,000-82,000 acres in Benzie and Leelanau Counties.

GAVE SUPPORT
The Conservation Commission gave its qualified support to overall plans for the national recreation area.

It reserved full endorsement of the Sleeping Bear proposal until matters having to do with hunting, fishing, timber products, private ownership, and land acquisition procedures are more clearly spelled out.

Conservation programs remained hobbled by license money problems during 1961. Forced savings in the form of unfilled personnel vacancies, deferred equipment replacements, and other cutbacks all down the line lingered on; more economizing was forecast for 1962.

An estimated 2,000,000 people fished and hunted in the state during the year, roughly 100,000 less than in 1960 when Michigan ranked as the nation's second most popular state for fishing and hunting.

The state's fall hunting season showed mixed results compared with the year before.

Although there were fewer deer hunters in the woods, buck kill rose to an estimated 57,000 animals, about 10,000 over last year's take of antlered whitetails.

Phasant kill dipped to about 950,000 birds, about 22,000 shy of last year's mark, with part of the decline traced to reduced hunting pressure. Ruffed grouse hunters had a banner season, possibly their best in the last eight years.

Duck hunters, limited by a 30-day season and other sharp restrictions, did fairly well under the circumstances.

OTHER HAPPENINGS
Other important conservation happenings in 1961:

Natural gas production set a record—24.5 billion cubic feet—and oil output rose to 19 million barrels, the best since 1943.

Four million lake trout eggs were produced at the Marquette state fish hatchery in the international effort to resettle the species to the upper Great Lakes.

Yearling trout to be raised from the eggs are scheduled for release in 1963. Efforts to control the lamprey, the eel-like parasite that wiped out lake trout in the Great Lakes, are making headway.

More and more local communities and conservation and sportsmen's clubs, especially in northern areas, responded to a call to assist the state in carrying out conservation activities.

Winter Fishing Opens for Some With Big Splash

Anglers Urged to Study Ice Before Taking Gear to Favorite Spot

Within the next week—old man winter cooperating—thousands of ice fishermen will move onto Southern Michigan's inland lakes to kick off a new season.

For some, the season will start with a splash—with them plunging through seemingly solid ice into icy-cold waters. It happens every winter, particularly at the beginning and tail end of the ice fishing season.

There are, of course, a few simple ways to keep "high and dry" this winter.

First of all, fishermen should size up conditions on their lakes, making sure they are safe and noting danger spots before carrying their shanties and other paraphernalia onto the ice.

A good place to start checking lakes is right around the shore. If ice along the shoreline is squishy or broken up, it's a pretty good bet that the lake is still not safe.

At this time of year temporary mid temperatures are common; that they stall or set back freeze-overs.

It pays to know the lake to learn about springs and other features which may pose dangers. Spring-fed lakes generally have some thin patches through the winter, especially around their inlets.

Stay clear of dark spots in the ice or places where the snow looks discolored; underwater springs may be at work, swirling the water so ice is unable to thicken. Do the next guy a favor by placing tree branches or other markers near these trouble spots.

The sound of squeaking, cracking, and booming ice is not to be taken as a storm warning of unsafe conditions. When solid ice is made colder, it contracts causing these noises to often heard in the early morning or toward evening of cold days.

Confused Black Duck Gets All 'Fowled' Up

MONROE—Outdoorism have developed several methods of decoying wild ducks within shooting range.

But a black duck was snaggd recently by a Monroe resident who had no intention of "fowling it up."

John G. Ruman of 322 W. Seventh St. tarred the floor of his back porch one night.

The next morning Mrs. Ruman heard a strange scratching noise. "It sounded as if it were coming from between the walls," she said.

"I looked out back and saw what appeared to be an owl. I looked again and saw that a duck was caught in the still-sticky tar." From the air, the freshly tarred floor apparently resembled a pool of water to the duck. The bird landed in the thick material and became mired.

"My youngest child, Diane, 4, and I were the only ones home when I discovered the duck," Mrs. Ruman explained. "My other four children were at school and my husband was at work."

After Mr. Ruman returned home, Monroe county conservation officer John Mink was called to remove the bird.

"I turned the duck carefully and lifted it as I twisted," officer Mink said. "It took only a few minutes to free it from the tar." He later gave the bird several baths in soap and water. "It was very tired and the lower part of its body was covered with the material," the officer noted.

Mr. Mink kept the bird about 2½ days while it recuperated from the ordeal. The only apparent injuries it sustained were abrasions at the joints of both wings.

"I washed it several more times to get as much of the oil from the tar off the bird as possible. I had to use a small plunger to force it to eat by shoving food into its mouth."

Ask Concession Bids on State-Owned Land

Invitations were mailed this week by the Conservation Department for sealed bids on concession leases at 11 state parks and recreation areas in Michigan.

Offered for leasing are concessions at Grand Haven, Hayes, Holland, Interlochen, Mearns, Mackinac, Ogemaw Lake, Sterling, and Wells parks and Rochester-Utica and Waterloo recreation areas.

Persons interested in the leases, who are not on the department's mailing list for bid invitations, may obtain bid proposal forms and information on the concessions by writing to the Michigan Department of Conservation, Parks and Recreation Division, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing 26.

Bids will be opened at 2 p.m., Jan. 3, in Room 412 of the Mason Building.

Coon Hunters Elect

The Pioneer Coon Hunters recently elected officers for 1962. They are James Belden, president; Freeman Peace, vice president; Jack Hamilton, secretary-treasurer; and directors John Feldman, Ogemaw Lake, Sterling, and Wells parks and Rochester-Utica and Waterloo recreation areas.

Ernest Latimer, Carl Kennedy and Lewis Werner.

Bond Named Director

Cash Bond, 2 Delaware St., Pontiac, has been elected a director of the Michigan Rifle and Pistol Association.

He also is a director of the Oakland County Sportsman's Club. All MRPA officers were re-elected.

Most Changes Fractional

Trade Creeps as Prices Zigzag

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market trading continued to drag early this afternoon as prices followed an irregular course. Some prices moved higher before settling, while others gave, giving the list a somewhat firmer tone. Most changes were fractional, however, and turnover was at the slowest pace in a long while.

Popular averages are at their lowest level since early November and business news remains good with November personal income.

Bond Prices Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices were irregular today at the start of trading.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities said most intermediates and long issues were unchanged from Tuesday's closing.

Changes were a few small price points. Trading was exceptionally slow.

Among corporates traded on the

at a new high and new orders and sales rising for durable goods producers, but the market was slow to respond to these normally bullish factors.

Seasonal influences remained an important factor, brokers said. These included profit-taking and the fact that Friday is the last session when stocks can be sold "regular way" (four day delivery) in order to take a taxable profit this year.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mostly higher in moderate trading. Gains of a point or so were made by Sherwin-Woodward, Sperry, Rand, and Vitamin, Gulf American Land and Mount Clemens Metal Products. There were a number of changes amounting to a full point, mostly

They included Chicago Great Western Railway is off 1 at 70, Consolidated Edison 5/8 at 104, Baltimore Gas & Electric 3/8 at 17 1/2 and General Cigar 5/8 up 2 at 102.

U.S. Economy Scooting Higher

Corporate Profits May Go to $50 Billion by End of This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's economy made new gains in November in sales, profits and income, reports Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

Among other things, he said, the rate of Americans' annual income leaped $4 billion for the second consecutive month.

At a news conference Tuesday, Hodges also disclosed that corporate profits reached an annual rate of $47 billion in the third quarter.

He predicted it would vault to $50 billion by the year's end.

Hodges didn't elaborate on the profits report but repeated his earlier forecast that corporate earnings will ring up a record by year's end.

REPORTS GAINS
Among the gains that Hodges reported:

Sales of durable goods rose 3 per cent in November, new orders at the factories increased 1 per cent.

Both sales and incoming new business were at record levels.

Factory shipments were up at most 18 per cent over a year ago with automakers and metal workers plants showing the greatest gains.

Grain Futures Market Quiet and Mixed

CHICAGO (AP)—Trade in the grain futures market was quiet and mixed during the first several minutes after opening.

The same under moderate selling pressure and the market's scattered speculative support.

Other grains generally started off in a steady to easier range.

FOR '62—These four-door sedans and station wagons will be available through Pontiac dealers in January. Featured are new exterior styling, new interiors, broader color selections and more efficient better-performing 40-cu.-in. engines.

Integral body design with lower center of gravity for better ride and road-holding characteristics, makes new models longer, wider and lower.

LONGER AND LOWER
The four-door sedans and station wagons are longer, lower and wider, with an overall length of 173.2 inches, overall height of 55.5 inches and overall width of 64 inches.

New integral body design with lower center of gravity for better ride and road-holding.

The engine is a 52-horsepower, four-cylinder model, using aluminum for the intake manifold, timing gear case, water pump body, oil pump body and cover, gearbox year cover and clutch housing.

The compact engine also features big aluminum valves with individual ports, heavy-duty main bearings and chrome-plated pistons. Compression ratio is 7 to 1, at 4,000 rpm.

Transmission is synchromesh, with three forward positions and a reverse.

Vauxhall also claims excellent gas mileage and low maintenance costs.

Available accessories include heater, radio, windshield wiper, cigarette lighter, outside rear view mirror, towing attachment and roof luggage rack.

WASHINGTON—The world's statesmen, by Ralph Waldo Emerson's reasoning, all have large minds. And this consistency is the 75th anniversary of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, as noted by statesmen among others.

Under this definition, as their nations' national interest, there is nothing little about present-day statesmen. For some their only consistency is their inconsistency. A few examples prove it for them.

When the North Korean Communists invaded South Korea in 1950 the United States, Britain, France and practically everyone else, including India, voted for action against the invaders.

Russia, which got its signals mixed, was absent at the time but came back strong by announcing it would not try to get North Korea to call off the invasion because the Soviets were against butting into others' affairs.

MARK MEANDERING
But, when the United States blocked North Korea, Russia called this aggression, even though the United Nations had voted for action. And Egypt voted against helping South Korea. It said this was all just a West-East rumble.

India, which went along with condemning North Korea, is far away from the land of Prime Minister Nehru who voted against condemning Red China, which is a next-door neighbor, when it attacked the U.N. forces.

Things got a little mixed up a few years later.

In 1956 when British-French-Israeli forces decided to invade Egypt—the land of the pharaohs, which would condemn the Red invasion of North Korea, went running to the United Nations for help against her own invaders.

In this case, for a change, the United States and Russia joined up against Britain and France. But in the Security Council Britain, which had vetoed a resolution against themselves for doing the same thing to Egypt, India also had something to say in the General Assembly. Although refusing to be unpleasant to the United States, India also joined the United States and Russia in calling on France and Britain to quit Egypt.

On this one the United States had a little trouble deciding what it ought to do. At first it considered not voting at all.

But China, all the way back in 1956, and at the very same time, Russia, attacked at Britain and France for attacking Egypt. India, which had been neutral in the Hungarian revolt against the Communists, sided with the Communists.

The Security Council—which included the United States, Britain and France, besides Russia, was for condemning the Russian attack on Hungary. But the Russians vetoed that. It was different in the General Assembly.

There the United States and a host of other countries—along with Britain and France, went under fire for what they had done to Egypt—teamed up overheli-ingly to condemn Russia on Hungary.

All Russia could do in this case, since there is no veto in the assembly, was vote no. But Egypt, which wanted U.N. action against Britain and France, wouldn't vote yes or no on Russia. It just abstained. So did Nehru's India.

Then the United States got its neck caught in a door when it backed the rebel invasion of Fidel Castro's Cuba. Russia demanded the country be condemned. The United Nations wouldn't go for that but Nehru criticized the United States by calling its action interventionist.

Next in the history of inconsistency came Nehru himself when India this week attacked and overran Portuguese Goa.

Once, after the central states, Britain and France teamed up in feel-

Seeks $2 Million to Assist Youth

State House Committee Wants to Launch 5-Point Project for Delinquents

LANSING UP — A special House committee on juvenile problems says it will ask the State Legislature for an initial $2 million to start a five-point program to rehabilitate juvenile delinquents and promote job training for teenagers.

The youth commission also is working with the legislative committee in attempting to gain support for bills which call for the establishing of a Civilian Conservation Corps camp for non-delinquents and a rehabilitation center for juvenile delinquents.

Rep. Harry D. Mason, R-Battle Creek, asked support of the plan Tuesday at a public hearing in Lansing before 70 persons representing various public and private agencies.

The youth commission also is working with the legislative committee in attempting to gain support for bills which call for the establishing of a Civilian Conservation Corps camp for non-delinquents and a rehabilitation center for juvenile delinquents.

The plan also calls for public service employment training, a job upgrading program for school dropouts and regional technical centers.

E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, told the group he hopes money can be obtained from the state's general fund to start the program.

Other legislators proposed that money be raised through taxes. They also are hoping that private contributions will be made to further the program.

Rep. Harry D. Mason, R-Battle Creek, asked support of the plan Tuesday at a public hearing in Lansing before 70 persons representing various public and private agencies.

When the North Korean Communists invaded South Korea in 1950 the United States, Britain, France and practically everyone else, including India, voted for action against the invaders.

Russia, which got its signals mixed, was absent at the time but came back strong by announcing it would not try to get North Korea to call off the invasion because the Soviets were against butting into others' affairs.

MARK MEANDERING
But, when the United States blocked North Korea, Russia called this aggression, even though the United Nations had voted for action. And Egypt voted against helping South Korea. It said this was all just a West-East rumble.

India, which went along with condemning North Korea, is far away from the land of Prime Minister Nehru who voted against condemning Red China, which is a next-door neighbor, when it attacked the U.N. forces.

Things got a little mixed up a few years later.

In 1956 when British-French-Israeli forces decided to invade Egypt—the land of the pharaohs, which would condemn the Red invasion of North Korea, went running to the United Nations for help against her own invaders.

In this case, for a change, the United States and Russia joined up against Britain and France. But in the Security Council Britain, which had vetoed a resolution against themselves for doing the same thing to Egypt, India also had something to say in the General Assembly. Although refusing to be unpleasant to the United States, India also joined the United States and Russia in calling on France and Britain to quit Egypt.

On this one the United States had a little trouble deciding what it ought to do. At first it considered not voting at all.

But China, all the way back in 1956, and at the very same time, Russia, attacked at Britain and France for attacking Egypt. India, which had been neutral in the Hungarian revolt against the Communists, sided with the Communists.

The Security Council—which included the United States, Britain and France, besides Russia, was for condemning the Russian attack on Hungary. But the Russians vetoed that. It was different in the General Assembly.

There the United States and a host of other countries—along with Britain and France, went under fire for what they had done to Egypt—teamed up overheli-ingly to condemn Russia on Hungary.

All Russia could do in this case, since there is no veto in the assembly, was vote no. But Egypt, which wanted U.N. action against Britain and France, wouldn't vote yes or no on Russia. It just abstained. So did Nehru's India.

Then the United States got its neck caught in a door when it backed the rebel invasion of Fidel Castro's Cuba. Russia demanded the country be condemned. The United Nations wouldn't go for that but Nehru criticized the United States by calling its action interventionist.

Next in the history of inconsistency came Nehru himself when India this week attacked and overran Portuguese Goa.

Once, after the central states, Britain and France teamed up in feelingly to condemn Russia on Hungary.

Plan $1.5-Million Resort Development at Copper Harbor

Quiet Winters May Be Over for Tiny Village in UP

COPPER HARBOR UP — Those quiet winter days following Copper Harbor's summer tourist season may be over for good.

But complaints among the tiny Upper Michigan village's 60 citizens are few for the prospect of a $1.5-million winter and summer resort could make Copper Harbor a 12-month vacation playground.

For years the area's residents have been saying a resort was needed and now Milwaukee and local investors are listening.

"They like what they've heard so well that the Copper Harbor area was formed about a year ago and has started rounding up the $1.5 million needed for development of the resort."

The idea has been three years in the making by Bruce P. Reid and Associates of Milwaukee and H. J. (Jim) Westcott, Calumet investor, who owns the hotel on Copper Harbor.

Reid says $750,000 already has been raised and when another $750,000 is obtained construction $750,000 is obtained construction will start.

"If everything goes as planned the resort, definitely will be in operation next winter," Reid said.

SQUARE MILES
Land for the proposed resort is spread over a three-square-mile area immediately west of Copper Harbor on the eastern slopes of the Brockway Mountains in the Keweenaw Peninsula.

The site is owned by the Calumet and Hecla and Copper Range mining companies, but lease options already have been obtained said Reid.

He and his associates plan a "high class development" and are converting to hotel, that will appeal to vacationers from a state-to-state area.

Plans include a complete ski resort with housing facilities initially for 500 people, as swimming

Motorist Calm, Knew Gunman Was Real Dummy

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — The Highway Patrol officer got an emergency message. A pedestrian reported seeing a man holding a gun to a motorist's head in a station wagon on busy Santa Ana Freeway.

Patrolman Robert Riechels spotted the car and observed the motorist, who looked quite calm.

The gunman turned out to be punting 6-foot dummy dressed in Western clothes. The motorist, Frank Hicks of Beverly Hills, a professional quack-draw artist.

Bring Joy to the World for Christmas Season

Film Makers Remember How to Entertain

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD — There is joy on the movie screens this Christmas season, proving that film makers have not lost their touch in making entertainment.

Sometimes you wonder. Producers have been so enamored with the downtown and the proved this year that they fear they have forgotten their ability to entertain.

But at the close of the year, the best sense of the term, the film companies have managed to bring out some films that prove happiness has gone out of style. Five of the new offerings—two musicals, two comedies and an adventure drama—seem to have those showmanly qualities to make the box office cash registers play "Jingle Bells."

"HICKO ADVENTURE," a reviewer has a right to expect. It is a romantic adventure in the new tycoon. It never quite rises above the level of a fable, but it is played with such warm-heartedness that you want to believe it.

The casting of Rosalind Russell in the role originated by Gertrude Berg was roundly criticized, but by gum, if she doesn't pull it off, Alice Guiney, who plays the though not so convincing in her impersonation.

The nice thing about "A Matry of Love" is the pleasant glow it leaves you with afterwards. That feeling is hard to find in films nowadays.

DISNEY AT WORK
3. "Babes in Toyland" is something for the kiddies. Old master Walt Disney has a sure touch for entertaining the small fry while not antagonizing the parents. Technically, the film is rich in imagination. A grown-up wish that the comedy would be on less primary level and music less dated. Best of the performers is Ray Bolger, who as a sneaky, mischievous, deep-eyed villain.

4. "Flower Drum Song" is a glib, snappy musical life in San Francisco's Chinatown. It is a happy musical, not to be taken seriously, just enjoyed. The number is not first-rate. Rodgers and Hammerstein, but even a secondary R&H score is better than most. The players are a pleasure to watch, especially the well-trained Natchy Ryan.

5. "Love Come Back" reunites two of the most attractive people in the world, Doris Day and Rock Hudson. As in "Pillow Talk," the comedy revolves around sex, and it (the comedy) is greatly aided by the presence of Tony Randall.

FOUR-OF-A-KIND FOR SANTA — Santa Claus is going to do a double-double take when he climbs down the chimney at the Cutaiars' home in Malvern, Pa., this year. The quadruplet daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Cutaiar are all prepared for Santa's visit. The girls born last March 15, are LEANNE-LEAH-LEAH, Bernadette, Celeste and Denise. The Cutaiars have two other children.

Romney Awaits Word

Herbert Hoover May Visit Con-Con

LANSING (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover has indicated that he may talk to Michigan's constitutional convention—if his doctors approve.

Reporting on a meeting with Hoover in his New York hotel suite, convention Vice President George Romney, R-Bloomfield Hills, told newsmen Tuesday that the 87-year-old former president expressed "great interest" in an invitation to address the 144 delegates on national-state problems.

The convention heard President Dwight D. Eisenhower has asked, and Ex-President Harry S. Truman is expected to appear before the delegates next week, although plans are still tentative and no date has been set.

Romney said Hoover told him that he is under doctors' orders not to do much traveling.

"Hoover said he would give the matter careful consideration and confer with his doctors to see whether they are willing to let him travel," Romney added.

AWAITS DECISION

Romney said he expected final word from Hoover within a week or 10 days.

Meanwhile, the convention's committee on the executive branch heard testimony from two members of the State Administrative Board on what changes, if any, should be made affecting their offices.

Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski related that the governor and lieutenant governor should run as a team, so that the two top offices would not be held by members of opposing parties.

Lesinski said the nominations should be decided in an open primary, not at a convention. He said he also felt the lieutenant governor should have the right to enter into debate in the Senate so that he can express the position of the administration on key issues directly.

The largest award, $315,000, went to Brian John May, 11, and his mother, Mrs. Norma M. May, at Pacific Palisades state teacher. The boy had been confined to an iron lung since April 1955.

Auto Safety Day to Be Observed in Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Flags at half mast on public buildings and a memorial wreath in a downtown square will be sobering decorations Friday in Grand Rapids.

They mark traffic safety memorial day.

In its observance the community recognizes the personal loss and public tragedy of traffic deaths.

The memorial, a project of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was inspired by a similar event in Japan. It is scheduled partly on the last working shopping day before Christmas, traditionally the worst driving day of the year. The date was set by joint city-county county proclamation and has the endorsement of area police agencies.

JUST IN CASE — State Highway Department employees John Pennala (left) and Norbert Smith of Pontiac examine a highway truck with a monitor after completing a two-day radiological monitoring course in Lansing last week. Together with 22 other Highway Department employees

Echo 1 to Appear Twice

The Echo 1 will make a pair of early morning appearances in the Pontiac area Thursday morning. The first will be at 4:44 a.m. in the south sky, 24 to 30 degrees above the horizon, moving to the northeast.

Gov. John B. Swainson, several of his aides and a group of newsmen were given a few moments to reflect on what they'd seen and heard at Pontiac State Hospital yesterday.

A whirlwind tour of state mental health facilities was brought to an abrupt standstill when an overcrowded elevator left Swainson and 14 others suspended between the third and fourth floors for 10 minutes.

The governor said, "Don't panic" and everyone calmly waited for maintenance men to correct the trouble.

What they had seen and heard already had given them reason to "panic."

An overcrowded elevator is not unusual in an institution where nearly every thing is overcrowded.

Dr. Walter H. Obenaus, Pontiac State Hospital medical superintendent described his hospital's needs with the assistance of State Mental Health Director Charles Wagg.

SAYS AID NEEDED
Dr. Obenaus told his visitors that the hospital desperately needs a bigger staff.

"We now have 35 nurses. If money requested in the 1962 budget is granted in full, we'll have 47. The minimum American Psychiatric Association (APA) standard calls for 173."

"The minimum APA standard for staff physicians is 26. We're about 13 under that now. We would need an additional 108 attendants to match the minimum APA standard," said Dr. Obenaus.

He emphasized that even if the proposed budget is granted in full, the hospital will still be below minimum APA standards in every staff classification.

"This hospital was built to handle 2,350 patients. It now holds over 3,000 and we have more than 100 on our waiting list."

"About 30 of our 89 emotionally disturbed children are living in adult wards. This is not healthy."

"We serve a 10-county area with a population of some 1.8 million. This works out to 167 beds available for every 10,000 people, the most drastic ratio in the state."

PROPOSES IDEAL SETUP

Blaze Out of Control at Area Country Club
A fire which broke out between 9:30 and 10 a.m. was reported raging out of control shortly before noon today at the Orchard Lake Country Club, 5000 W. Shore Drive, Orchard Lake.

Firemen from West Bloomfield, Bloomfield and Commerce townships were at the scene. The blaze is believed to have started in the pro shop of the two-story clubhouse. Observers said the fire was being fanned by strong winds.

Train-Car Crash Kills County Pair

A Pontiac Township couple was killed last night when their car was struck by a northbound commuter train at Franklin Road and the Grand Trunk Western Railroad crossing.

Fatally injured in the accident at about 6:28 p.m. were Floyd F. Lovett, 56, and his wife Edna, 51.

Witnesses told Pontiac police Lovett drove into the path of the eight-car passenger train while warning lights were flashing at the railroad crossing.

The Lovetts' car stopped 187 feet north of Franklin Road after it was struck by the Grand Trunk diesel locomotive. Mrs. Lovett was thrown from the car after the impact. Her body was found near the tracks over 100 feet north of the intersection.

Henry Wicks, of Warren, the train engineer, said he saw the victims' auto approach the crossing. Lovett looked northward, as he neared the tracks but he failed to look south in the direction of the oncoming train, the engineer said.

Lovett, a milkman for the Maple Leaf Dairy, was found at the wheel of his wrecked car after it was hit by the Detroit-to-Pontiac commuter train.

He was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a broken neck, a fractured skull and a crushed chest. Mrs. Lovett was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital from shock and a severely fractured skull.

A cab driver, Alfred Lowe Jr., 24, of 1011 Canterbury Drive, told police he heard two warning blasts from the locomotive as he approached Franklin Road from a side street.

Love said he saw the locomotive's headlight as he turned onto Franklin Road and noticed Mrs. Lovett's body fall out of the car. He immediately called police on his cab radio.

The Lovetts are the parents of a daughter, Mrs. John Sawyer of Hazel Park, and three sons, Dale of Rochester, Wallace of Drayton Plains and Donald of Clarkston. They also are survived by eight grandchildren.

Funeral service are pending at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home in Pontiac.

Freezing 18 Tonight; Thursday Cold, Too
Temperatures for the next five days will average 2 to 4 degrees below the normal high of 34 and normal low 21, the weatherman says.

Thursday and Friday will continue cold but Sunday and Monday will be somewhat warmer. Freezing 18 will be tonight's low.

Fair and cold, the high reaching for 28 is the prediction for Thursday.

Precipitation for the period will total less than .4 of an inch with a chance of snow late Friday, and again Sunday and snow flurries likely Monday.

Twenty-nine was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 3 a.m. The mercury reading at 1 p.m. was 27.

The disheartened father wheeled the car into the post lot and ran in for help. Corp. Matiland Landan called for an ambulance while Trooper Powell put his birth assistance training to use for the first time.

The Ecamilia's have five other children.

A Towel Tree or Slicer Gadget

Auntie Likes the Unusual
No, we certainly have NOT forgotten Aunt Matilda. She's fun to shop for because she likes unusual gifts.

For instance, we think she'd love to have one of those gadgets that lets you slice a piece of bread into two thinner slices. Makes wonderful Melba toast.

A little metal towel tree with hands to hold the guest towels would look correct in Aunt Matilda's bathroom. It makes one think of the gracious living of bygone days.

Designers of candlesticks rarely come up with anything revolutionary.

Aunt Matilda has grandchildren whom she adores. She'd have a new place to display their pictures if we gave her some bookends we saw. Made of thick strips of wood like a cutting board, these have inserts for photographs on one side.

Efficient Aunt Matilda types all her letters. She likes to be up-to-date on equipment. You might introduce her to the type cleaner that looks like pretty tape that allows the typist to correct mistakes neatly.

Older women no longer dream in dreary colors—thank goodness! With that in mind, why don't you get Aunt Matilda a new lounge robe? One we're thinking of is the brightest happiest red you ever

AFTER HOSPITAL VISIT — President John F. Kennedy (center) talks with his wife Jacqueline and brother Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy after the three had visited the Kennedy's father Joseph, Tuesday night at St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach, Fla. The elder Kennedy, who suffered a stroke Tuesday, was reported somewhat improved at midmorning today.

Macmillan Talks OK

WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—President Kennedy's ailing father, hospitalized with a stroke that caused partial paralysis, was somewhat improved this morning.

And there definitely will be a meeting between the President and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain Thursday.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger told reporters, however, that there is a possibility the conference may be shifted from Bermuda to Palm Beach.

He said Macmillan has been in touch with the chief executive and places himself at the President's disposal.

A decision on the site of the conference will be reached late today on the basis of a report at Washington (AP)—President Kennedy has postponed today's scheduled news conference due to the illness of his father, Joseph F. Kennedy, in Palm Beach, Fla.

One doctor said the patient has "a slight paralysis of the left side," but he said the older Kennedy was better than when he entered St. Mary's Hospital Tuesday and better than he was last night. Salinger echoed this appraisal.

Announcement that the Kennedy-Macmillan conference will go on somewhere came just before the President left the ocean front mansion in Palm Beach where he is staying to drive to the hospital several miles away in West Palm Beach.

Premature Victory Claims by Indians Now Correct
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A defense ministry spokesman's report today showed Indian claims to full victory Tuesday in Portugal's coastal enclaves were premature, but he said the conquest was complete Tuesday night "and conditions are fast returning to normal."

Portuguese troops at the heavily mined naval base of Marmagao fought on after the fall of nearby Panjim (Nova Goa), the capital. The spokesman said they finally surrendered at 11 p.m.

Portuguese Goa's Governor General Manuel Vassallo E. Silva, who vowed Monday to fight to the end for Goa, Damão and Diu, was among the captives.

The spokesman said he was found in a small house at Marmagao. A Portuguese army general, Silva was reported being accorded normal courtesies and consideration. India has named the commander of the invading forces, Maj. Gen. Kenneth P. Candeth, to succeed him.

In telling of the battle for Marmagao, the spokesman did not immediately revise casualty figures announced earlier. These were eight killed and "some wounded" on the Indian side and presumably small losses on the Portuguese side, including 40 wounded in a Panjim hospital.

NEWSPEN BARRED
"Most of the Portuguese soldiers have laid down their arms," the spokesman said.

Newsmen in India were barred from crossing into the enclaves as the Indian forces tilted up.

The Defense Ministry announced that the remaining points of resistance in Goa had collapsed but kept dozens of reporters and photographers waiting outside of the biggest enclave at the Indian command post town of Belgaum. The smaller enclaves of Damão and Diu, north of Bombay, fell earlier before the lightning attack launched early Sunday.

Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, en route to the United Nations in New York, reportedly said prior to his departure that the military government had to organize and clear roads of mines and that it would be some days before journalists would be allowed to enter.

The news has left the outside world dependent on official Indian reports of the capitulation of Portuguese rule in the city and the reception of the invading troops. Tanks and warships by its residents.

One Way to Get Presents
LONDON (AP)—A gang of eight masked robbers wielding black-jacks and clubs invaded a postal sorting station a block from Buckingham Palace today and grabbed Christmas mail worth 15,000 pounds ($42,000).

Tshombe, Adoula Seek Settlement

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga's Moïse Tshombe and Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula began difficult negotiations on Katanga's secession today in the hospital room of a closely guarded U.N. base.

The scene of the conference was Kilona, an isolated section of the Congo River. News-men were barred from the base.

The two men were seeking a settlement of the problem of the secession of mineral-rich Katanga Province, the issue that has dogged the Congo's existence in nearly 18 months of independence and exploded into two periods of fighting between U.N. and Katanga forces.

Adoula and Tshombe met Tuesday for the first time in months.

They astonished U.N. and American diplomats by embracing like old friends, and sitting together on a couch for 30 minutes, laughing, telling stories and sleeping each other on the leg.

Today's political talks opened a less happy prospect. U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche waited outside the conference room with four top-flight mediators. The four are well-acquainted with both Tshombe and Adoula, and the problems of pride and international interests that have kept them apart.

U.S. Ambassador Edmund A. Sullivan, who personally escorted Tshombe to the meeting, nervously paced the hospital corridor.

Name Detroit to Head Seaway

DETROIT — A Detroit industrialist Joseph H. McCann — is the new administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp.

McCann, 46, former executive vice president and board member of the C. M. Hall Lamp Co., was named to the seaway post by President Kennedy Tuesday as successor to M. W. Ottershagen, who is retiring.

The appointment of McCann to the $20,000-a-year post is expected to increase the importance of Detroit as a seaway port.

McCann, who had been deputy administrator since last February, said he was not prepared to announce future plans immediately.

Ottershagen reaches the mandatory retirement age of 70 on Saturday. He has resigned effective Dec. 30.

The McCann appointment is a routine appointment permitting him to take office without Senate confirmation. However, his name must go to the Senate in January.

Gov. Swainson Tours Pontiac Hospital

"Hospital units with their own team of doctors and administrators on the grounds, all under one supervision. Each unit could have about 500 beds and handle cases only from a definite area."

All that Gov. Swainson heard was not so serious. He talked with many children and adult patients during the tour.

One small boy asked him, "What is a Republican?" The governor stopped to devise some answer the boy could understand.

Before he could reply, the lad said, "I mean, is a elephant or a donkey?" The governor looked relieved.

He asked a 7-year old if he went to school every day. The boy smiled.

"Yep. You can't skip out here."

The governor said he would ask the legislature to start a long-range program toward better community care facilities for mentally and emotionally disturbed and retarded.

NATIONAL WEATHER: It will be colder tonight over much of the eastern third of the nation with a warming trend likely in the Rockies and the Plains. Snow flurries are expected in the Detroit-Mt. Light area for Saturday. Southern Louisiana and Mississippi.

One of the youths, James McCracken Jr., 19, repeatedly attacked an Oakland County Sheriff's deputy after pointing a gun at the officer's back, according to police.

McCracken is being held today for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon.

His friend, Robert Cox Jr., 18, is accused of interfering with police officers who came to his home at 3145 E. Commerce Road on an emergency call to aid his father, who apparently had suffered a heart attack.

Deputies said the younger Cox started arguing with his father as he was being treated on with a resuscitator by Commerce Township firemen.

Cox was ordered out of the room and McCracken, 1989 Schuyler Road, then began to disturb the resuscitator crew, the deputies said.

One of the officers at the scene said McCracken grabbed Deputy Charles Parker's revolver from his holster after pushing the officer off balance.

Deputy Robert E. Mahewiney, seeing McCracken with the gun pointed at Parker's back, lunged at the youth and knocked the gun from his hand.

The deputies said McCracken kicked Parker in the patrol car on the way to the jail. Both youths also fought the policemen outside the jail.

Once their handcuffs were taken off at the front desk in the jail, McCracken hit Deputy Charles G. Rahn across the face. Cox joined in the attack.

FORBIDLY REMOVED
The two youths had to be forcibly removed to their cells by eight sheriff's deputies. They were scheduled to be arraigned today.

The deputies said Cox, his father and McCracken had been drinking before the incident occurred.

Willing to Negotiate on W. New Guinea, but Official Hints at Force

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Foreign Minister Subandrio told parliament Tuesday night that Indonesia can't be blamed if it takes West New Guinea by force, but that the door is still open to a peaceful settlement with the Dutch rulers of the island territory.

He made clear that Indonesia will accept only a settlement giving it control of the western half of the big island, which the Netherlands retained in 1960 when it granted the rest of the Netherlands East Indies independence.

Meanwhile, said Subandrio, "for us there is no other way but to carry out the people's command" by President Sukarno who ordered total mobilization of the nation.

Tuesday, Sukarno said he had instructed the armed forces to prepare to seize West New Guinea "at any time from now on."

NOT CLOSED
The possibility has not yet been excluded that this question may be settled peacefully. The door is still open," Subandrio said in a lengthy statement explaining Indonesian policy toward the area it calls West Irian.

He invited the Dutch to "seize this opportunity before it is too late" and asserted that the Dutch could not blame the Sukarno government if it launches a military action to prevent the Dutch from carrying out their plan to transfer West New Guinea into the state of West Papua which would have the right of ultimate self-determination.

"Let the Dutch not underestimate our strength," the foreign minister declared. "Let the Dutch not consider the hand extended by President Sukarno as weakness of Indonesia but as a final appeal to seek a peaceful way."

A flood of sheep clamped him, offering signs and symbols to awaken man's spiritual awareness.

"With an everlasting kindness he has drawn them . . .

"He has drawn them with the bread of tears."

"How often they rebelled . . .

"They walk in their own iniquities."

Hemmed in by the illusion of their own mastery, estranged from their origins, men had made themselves and their earth the center of their lives, the goal, instead of recognizing that it was the mere foot of a ladder reaching upward.

JOY FOR THE REPENTANT
Indeed, the need was extreme. Innocent worlds had looked with compassion on earthly darknesses. Even when a single sinner repented, there was joy among the angels. But all humans felt abysmally short of Godly health.

They had rejected it and were still the worst of men in their insensitive state, immersed as they were in transient material objectives, it seemed impossible that they could ever resume permanent life of being.

Poor bedeviled creatures, taken in by that seducer, Satan, and his cunning shades, Man could see little more than the accoutrements of feathering, flesh, financial holdings, titles, adornments, buildings, vehicles, high position.

And all this was certain for disintegration. How many in their nature paralyzed and trodden underfoot, could ever be reconstituted, God only knew. But what a triumph it would be.

"I have seen his ways, but I will heal him. I will heal him and requite him with comfort, Peace, peace to the far and to the near, and I will heal him."

"Bring My sons from afar and My daughters from the ends of the earth, every one that is called by My Name . . . I will lead the blind in a way that they know not. In paths that they have not known, I will guide them."

Proclaimed the Lord, the "I am who I am."

The news set off a celebration in the spirit world, for all creation was bound together by the law of love, the highest of all laws. So proud of their nature, the angels warmed the heart of heaven.

Yet the means for accomplishing the project remained for man, of various levels, a mystery. And it was a subject of much pondering. "When men fall, they . . . rise again?"

"Who can bring a clean thing of an unclean?"

MAN'S BAD CHOICES
Man, given a free rein, had made so many bad choices that the way back was overgrown with cross-purposes, complications, conflicts. He stumbled on in serene desperation with a haunted conscience. He was lost.

From the beginning, God had tried to reorient him to his inward stature, rescuing him from bondage, leading him across seas, guiding him through deserts, showing him with manna, blessing him covenant on Sinai, counseling

The Day in Birmingham City Commission Amends Amusement Licensing

BIRMINGHAM — An amendment to the amusement regulation ordinance has been adopted by the City Commission which will allow an establishment to purchase a license for a period up to one year.

The annual license, which will cover a term of six months to a year, will cost $100 for a business which is offering entertainment to customers.

Up to the six-month period, the initial license will cost $5 plus a $1 fee for each day the permit is issued. This has been the procedure in the past.

The old ordinance limited the payment to a period of 90 days, therefore making it necessary to have the license renewed monthly and at a cost of more than $300 if an establishment offers year-round entertainment.

The action by the commission was taken following a request by the Main Coffee Shop to study the license for amusement.

City Commissioner Carl Ingram has been named to act as liaison between the commission and the Michigan Municipal League.

Purpose of the amendment is to allow the league to readily contact Ingram when municipal interest comes before the State Legislature.

This will allow the city to act promptly when its interests and position on city affairs develop in the legislature.

Friends of Civil Service Found by Con-Con Group

Testimony was given in Pontiac last night indicating that most state employees are happy with the way civil service is today.

Nearly 100 persons attended themselves to the first hearing of the constitutional convention to be held in Pontiac. Most of the men and women were employees of state agencies in the Pontiac area.

Delegate Raymond L. King's subcommittee of the committee on the executive branch of government held a two-hour session at the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St., to find reactions to civil service and whether any changes should be made in the civil constitution.

"By and large," King, R-Pontiac, said "the testimony was favorable with the way the system is today."

Criticism, however, came from two witnesses. O. F. Foster, an Orion Township farmer and unsuccessful con-con candidate, recommended that any change in the law give the legislative a two-thirds vote power over the Michigan Civil Service Commission, which Foster spanked as being "all too powerful."

FINDS FAULT
A former State Highway Dept. employee also found fault with the system.

Support was voiced for the present 1 per cent employee payroll deduction which provides the funds to operate the 180-member Civil Service staff in Lansing, King said.

One of the witnesses favoring its retention was George A. Higgins, a former member of the Michigan Civil Service Commission.

City Studying Pay Hike

Employees Ask Health Insurance

At an informal meeting Monday night the City Employees Joint Council told Pontiac city commissioners that they would forego a proposed 2 1/2 per cent pay hike next year in exchange for full Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage and a longevity program.

Commissioners said they would consider the latest proposal in employee pay negotiations, but pointed out that it totals about $18,000 more than is available in the 1962 preliminary budget proposed by City Manager Walter K. Williams last month.

The benefits would total some $12,000. The 2 1/2 per cent pay hike would add up to about $110,000. The figure provided for increases in pay and benefits for employees in the proposed budget is $110,000.

When employees first began negotiating last September, their requests totaled $303,000. This included the pay hike, full Blue Cross-Blue Shield (the city now pays half), longevity and one extra week of paid vacation for employees with 20 or more years service.

Subsequent meetings with administrators resulted in employee request cuts to $239,000, then $172,000 and last night to $128,000.

Spokesmen for the council were Sidney Miller, of the Pontiac Firefighters Association; Sgt. Herbert Cooley, of the Pontiac Police Officers Association; and Sam Baker, of Local 100 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Union (AFL-CIO).

All are presidents of their respective groups which form the joint council. Baker is a Department of Public Works employee. Miller is chairman of the council.

FIGURES CHANGE

"Earlier this year the city manager told us there would be about $120,000 available for employee pay and benefits," said Miller. "Then it was cut to $110,000. We have cut about $175,000 from our original requests, bringing us down to a point about $2,000 under what we were first told would be available."

"Now we're told we are $15,000 above what is available," Miller said.

"We decided to drop our requested pay increase and the extra week's vacation plan, although the pay hike would have put our salaries in a favorable position compared to other cities in this area."

"Blue Cross paid completely by the employer and a longevity program is enjoyed by a large segment of employees in this area."

"While not expecting to attain wages and benefits equal to employees of local industry, we certainly have a deep desire to provide our families with a comparable standard of living," Miller concluded.

Commissioners pointed out that some $300,000 had also been trimmed from original department requests for operating costs.

"The 1962 budget already will require a tax rate hike of 25 cents per $1,000 of assessed property value," Mayor Philip E. Borenstein said. "We will certainly take the council's latest proposal into consideration, but I don't know where we'll get the extra $15,000 without a further tax hike."

Commissioners unofficially favored the 2 1/2 per cent pay hike. They questioned the future expense connected with Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage and longevity.

The longevity program requested would see employees get an automatic annual bonus, figured on percentage of their pay, each time they passed a five-year interval in service.

Supervisors OK 4 Items

Adopt Home Rule Amendment

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday adopted four items to be sought in the 1962 State Legislature including a controversial amendment to the City Home Rule Act.

The proposed amendment would require a separate vote in the village and township when the incorporation of a new city within their boundaries or city annexation is to be decided upon.

Leading the opposition, Huntington Woods Supervisor Fred L. Yockey labeled the amendment "another stumbling block" to the locating of new industries within the county.

He noted that when a company seeks to build a new plant in a rural area near an existing community it hopes to be able to use municipal facilities such as water and sewer. This invariably requires annexation.

MOTION DEFEATED
Southfield Supervisor Hugh Do-hany's motion to have the issue referred to the legislative committee for further consideration was defeated 45 to 33 in a voice vote by the board.

Other issues in the county's 1962 Legislative Program approved by the board of supervisors included proposed amendments to Michigan DPW Act and Drain Code to facilitate Oakland County drainage and sewage projects.

The board also will urge state legislation to authorize the county Board of Public Works to "establish, finance and operate an airport."

The board's Aviation Committee has recommended that the county develop a major airport by 1975 to meet the growing needs of a population increase in the metropolitan area.

The board's final item for its legislative program to date seeks to amendment to the state's divorce laws.

The proposed amendment would substitute the friend of the court for the prosecuting attorney in the filing of court appearances where minor children are involved in the pending case.

"This could be done more expeditiously by the friend of the court and would eliminate any possibility of those involved in a divorce case overlooking the filing requirement," according to county corporation counsel Norman R. Barnard.

In Cuba This Christmas

Urges Shopping Cutback

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — There will be no Christmas shopping spree for Cubans this year — not if they want to display "revolutionary consciences."

And apparently the chief ornament on Cuba's Christmas tree is to be the claim that Fidel Castro's regime has conquered illiteracy.

The text of an announcement repeated over and over on Cuban radio stations monitored here: "Christmas of 1961! The first socialist Christmas in our free country! It is a happy and joyful Christmas that we celebrate this year with a new victory, the victory of literacy."

"Cuba this Christmas is a territory free of illiteracy. Show your immense joy to noble and profound by thinking of others. Buy only necessary things so that no one else will go without because of you."

"Sing! Dance! Laugh! Enjoy this Christmas holiday! And when it is time to make purchases, give one more example of your revolutionary conscience."

Wants 2 Units Discharged Over Stalled CD Center

Civil Defense Committee Chairman Charles E. Cardon dropped a small bomb on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday. The bomb fizzled.

Cardon's real targets were the Ways and Means and Buildings and Grounds committees at yesterday's otherwise quiet board meeting.

He sought to have the two committees discharged of their joint responsibility to provide county funds for final architectural plans for a county civil defense communication center and to determine a suitable location for the proposed underground building.

Cardon charged the committees with procrastinating on the question of a communications nerve center and failing to report on the current status of plans for the building.

Ways and Means Committee Chairman David Levinson and Buildings and Grounds Chairman Luther Heacock reacted to a microphone to answer Cardon's charges.

Levinson, getting there first, replied that the reason his committee failed to approve $30,000 for final plans was because the federal government was still undecided whether counties should have individual responsibility to act.

Further, he stated, that the federal government as yet has no set policy on what type of area civil defense centers would be required in the event of nuclear attack on the United States proper.

"I expect (federal) direction on what to do in months to come," said Levinson. "We've got to keep calm; now is not the time to plunge into this until we get more information from Washington."

He pointed to Detroit's CD communications center as already obsolete and an example of too hasty action.

Heacock noted that the estimated cost of $40,000 for the county's proposed center was arrived at in 1960. "The cost would be well over half a million dollars today," he said.

He also blamed "indecision at the federal level" with stymieing efforts here.

Cardon's motion to discharge the two committees lacked a necessary two-thirds majority when the board of supervisors voted 8 yeas

Parking Ticket Found on Street by Woman

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A parking citation with a $5 bill attached arrived at the municipal court traffic fines bureau Tuesday.

An accompanying note said: "I have found this ticket on the sidewalk. Not knowing if the car-owner has ever seen it, I feel it would be nice if I made the remittance for him or her."

"I have parked over my allotted time and never received a ticket. I can remember how grateful I was, too."

Chayka to Replace Troika?

To Build New Auto

WASHINGTON (AP)—The land of the Troika will soon become the home of Chayka.

Soviet citizens, or at least some of them, will be riding around in convertibles one of these days, a report on Russia's auto industry discloses.

A vehicle with a nonrigid top, called the "Chayka," is one of two new passenger cars on which production has started at the Gorkavsk automobile plant, according to the Moscow report translated by the Commerce Department.

The other is to be called the "Volga." Both cars could be great improvements over what Russians have been riding in, the department said.

The "Volga" is described as weighing the same as the present "Pobeda," but offering more room and greater fuel economy. Its parts will last half again as long as those in the "Pobeda," according to the Soviet report.

Russia also plans to produce the first light truck built in the Soviet Union since 1947, the report said.

Shark Test May Aid Hawaii's Fish Trade

HONOLULU (AP)—A shipment of Hawaii's black tip and gray sharks have been sent to Australia for a taste test.

"We have our fingers crossed," said Mable Takaka, head of the state Fish and Game Division. "If the sharks pass their exams, Hawaii may have a new industry."

Meat of the school shark is popular in Victoria, Australia, where it is served as "white filets."

Hawaii fishermen hope to become shark meat exporters, improving the islands' lagging fishing industry and decreasing the local shark population.

On Tree or in Stocking

Handmade Puppets Fun for Kids

"Do-it-yourself" foam rubber hand puppets make excellent Christmas surprises for youngsters. They can be hung from the Christmas tree, placed in the stocking or included in a gaily-wrapped package.

And they are so simple to make, the kiddies can have fun producing their own supply for a home puppet production as well as gifts to their young friends.

Ingredients are simple: A supply of latex foam sheeting (sold by the yard at many department stores), several felt nib pens of different colors, and a bottle of rubber cement.

Brown paper can be used to make a pattern for the front and back of the puppets scaled to fit a child's hand. Then with a felt nib pen, trace the outline of the puppets on the foam rubber, drawing carefully around the pattern.

Put the foam along the outline with an ordinary scissors, then press the back and front together. They will stay firmly glued in place.

Brush rubber cement along the inside edges of each figure. Let dry two minutes, then press the back and front together. They will stay firmly glued in place.

Co-op Fete Held by 2 OES Units

Arena Chapter No. 503 and Pontiac Chapter No. 228, Order of the Eastern Star, gathered for a cooperative dinner Monday in Roosevelt Temple.

Mrs. Ann Joyce of Port Huron, grand conductress of the state of Michigan, gave a composite school of instruction. Presiding in the east were Mrs. Harry Lamford, Mrs. Joseph Minton, Melvin Patterson and Sylvan Clark.

Honored guests were Mrs. Roy Wilton, past grand Mar- tha; Mrs. Parker Eckerssen, Birmingham, grand counselor of District 5; Mrs. Eugene Per- kins, president of the Oakland County Association; and Mrs. Vincent Butera of Lake Orion. Others were Mrs. Arthur Cot- cher, Mrs. Laura Waite of Oxford and Mr. Erickson.

Mrs. A. J. Latzo of Pontiac Chapter will be a guest of the Ferndale Chapter for Friends' Night Jan. 15.

Serving on the dinner com- mittee were Mrs. William Downes, Mrs. Earl Hoskins, Mrs. Albert Kugler, Mrs. Clar- ence Curry, Mrs. Sylvan Clark, Mrs. Duane Boughton and Mrs. Robert Calvary.

Love Denims

Graduates returning to visit the campus at Oregon State University note one unchanging element — denims drying in dormitory basements.

Denims continue popular with new undergraduates be- cause, as one student ex- plained: "Even I can wash them out and, without special stretchers, can put them right on."

Unit Holds Its Annual Silver Tea

Bethany Baptist Church was the scene of Pontiac Woman's Club's Christmas Silver Tea Monday.

Proceeds from the affair are used for the club's special proj- ects. Members have voted to contribute to the Oakland County Girls' Ranch and to Loch Rio at Bellevue, a Mich- igan State Federation of Wom- en's Club project.

Speaker was Mrs. Arthur Dewey of Rochester, chairman of religious education and home life for Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs. Her talk "Christmas Is Every- thing" included two readings "Christmas Across the Tracks" and "A Red Rose for Christmas."

New member attending was Mrs. Lucinda Ashcraft. Decorated with candles and a greens and poinsettia cen- terpiece, the tea table was ar- ranged by members of the day's committee who included Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. Al- fred Coles, Mrs. Frank Hard- enburg, Mrs. W. E. Blynn and Mrs. Clifford Steffey.

Others helping with arrange- ments were Mrs. William Krelow, Mrs. Aaron Fox, Mrs. Alfred Danton, Mrs. Net- tie Hyman; Mrs. C. G. Holl- and and Mrs. A. E. Ball. Future events for the club include the Oakland County Federation of Women's Club meeting Jan. 5 in Ferndale and the celebration meeting at 7:30 p.m., Jan. 8 in First Fed- eral Savings and Loan Associa- tion of Oakland's building.

Church Unit Meets for Yule Luncheon

Elizabeth Circle of the First Christian Church gathered for a Christmas luncheon Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Harry Kunske of South Josephine Ave- nue.

Mrs. Allan W. Hersee gave devotions preceding the gift ex- change by the 14 members. Mrs. John Bush and Mrs. Charles Wallon were guests.

Styling Tips Help You Achieve Festive Hairdo

Holiday party time is here, and in keeping with the sea- son, you'll want to make sure your hairdo is a festive one.

The formula: Hair spray, a comb, a handful of clips, some rollers and your own nimble fingers.

Naturally, for most hair- styling tricks, it's important to begin with a basic set in your hair. You'll find that if your original set is done with rollers rather than pin curls, your hairstyle can be changed to a different one more easily.

And the best way to put your hair in a cooperative mood, is to have a good permanent, one that gives body and manage- ability. With a hidden body, permanent you can wear your hair many different ways; have a truly versatile coiffure.

Here's how to style your hair with flair and fun — spray first holding the container at least seven inches away from your hair. This way, you spray on a fine, invisible mist that keeps hair soft and lustrous without a trace of stiffness.

Now use a few rollers to turn bangs downward, or turn droops ends up for a flip-up or wingaway style. Clip cheek curls in place.

Top hair can be put on rollers for a full, high crown. Spray hair lightly again. When dry, in about ten minutes, re- move the rollers and clips.

Sorority Unit Holds Party

Members of Xi Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority, were guests of Marietta Spring in her home on Lanester Road following a recent Christmas dinner party in Devon Gables.

Gifts were exchanged after an evening of games and carol singing led by Mrs. Louis Snyder. Guests were Hazel Poys and Ola B. Hiller, past president of Delta Kappa Gam- ma International Society and charter president of Xi Chap- ter. A former Pontiac teach- er, Miss Hiller is now with the Flint schools.

The committee for the af- fair included Mrs. Charles Watt, Mrs. Rudolph Kempf, Irma Hook, Adeline Hook, Mrs. Snyder and Miss Spring.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that I am being married in May and I am afraid if I have a big wedding my mother will spoil it.

She is absolutely of her rocker. I am not exaggerating.

She could start singing "Gloria Hallelujah" right in the middle of the cere- mony. She is not bad enough to be locked up. I mean she's not dangerous or anything, but you never know what she is going to do next.

Do you think we should let her come to the wedding and take our chances, or should we arrange to have her "entertained" by someone while the wedding takes place, and then go to her for her blessing im- mediately following the cere- mony?

GETTING MARRIED

DEAR GETTING: If your mother is not in an institu- tion, but has her "moments," forego the big wedding and give her the pleasure of being present at a small, intimate ceremony. If she bursts into song, your family will "under- stand."

DEAR ABBY: I am single and am living in a place where single girls are not very avail- able. There is a dance coming up shortly (mainly for the married couples living here) and I asked one of the fellows I work with if I could take his wife.

The dance falls on my night off and he will have to work that night.

His wife is willing to go. I like to dance and all I have in mind is an enjoyable sociable evening. He said he'd go by your decision.

SOCIABLE

DEAR SOCIABLE: A man does not "borrow" another man's wife as he might a lawnmower. Until you get your own girl, go solo or stay home.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's parents come to visit us once a year for three weeks. His mother is a regular old fuss- budget who complains con- stantly that smoke bothers her, so I told my husband in a nice way in the same room with her, and certainly not in the same car.

We live in the suburbs and must drive an hour to get to the city. I don't enjoy going for hours without a cigarette, so I told my husband in a nice way to entertain his folks and leave me home with the chil- dren. He wouldn't hear of it. How can I solve a problem that is becoming more irritat- ing every year? I want to be a good wife and daughter-in- law.

ENJOYS A SMOKE

DEAR ENJOYS: Doing with- out a cigarette for a few hours is a small sacrifice for a wom- an who REALLY wants to be a good wife and daughter-in- law. Go with your husband when he entertains his parents, and lay off the weed or your marriage could go up in smoke.

CONFIDENTIAL TO NEAL OF CALIF.: I do not consid- er myself a fashion expert, but I predict that this spring there will be much change in la- dies' dresses, and little change in men's pockets.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

For Abby's booklet: "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50c to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press.

Fallout From All Tests
Only Expected to Carry Small Doses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Radiation exposure to humans from all nuclear tests since 1945—including the Soviet Union's recent test—will remain within acceptable health limits, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission says.

The AEC Tuesday, in the most detailed account yet on fallout from nuclear tests, reported: The fission or fallout producing yield—not the explosive force—of the Soviet Union's recent test was 25 megatons and raised to 50 megatons the fission yield of all Soviet tests. This was compared with 35 megatons for American and British tests combined.

The amount of long-lived fallout products—strontium 90 and cesium 137—which eventually may be deposited on the United States from all Soviet tests, including the 1951 series, would be twice that from all past American and British tests.

The amount of such long-lived fallout products which may be deposited on the United States from all Soviet tests, including the 1951 series, would be twice that from all past American and British tests.

FALLOUT DOSAGE

The AEC study, given by Dr. Gordon M. Dunning, deputy director of the AEC's Division of Operational Safety, also reported on how this accumulating fallout from all past tests would affect children.

A "rough estimate" indicates that the radiation dose over 70 years to the bones of children born in 1962 may be only one-fifth of the dose listed by the Federal Radiation Council as an acceptable guide for "normal peacetime operations." About 40 per cent of this dose would be expected to come from the 1951 Soviet tests.

Transcript Biggest Ever; 1,246 Pages

One of the largest transcripts ever recorded by the prosecutor's office for a lower court examination yesterday was completed. It contains 1,246 pages—about five times the thickness of a Detroit telephone directory.

The transcript taken by court reporters, Mrs. Marcelle Houtre and Mrs. Helen Klingworth, was the 11-day examination before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dierker of six men charged with defrauding a Ferndale loan company of $100,000.

The examination began Sept. 19 and concluded Oct. 9.

The reporters had to make two copies—a rough draft and a final one—and then type out five copies for attorneys involved in the fraud case.

Christmas Card Leads to Laborer's Arrest

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — When an Alabama sheriff received a Christmas card from farm laborer Allen Culp, he reacted by making Blytheville police a warrant for Culp's arrest.

Officers said the sheriff, Hugh Champion of Chilton County, Ala., reported the 34-year-old Culp, who had been in jail for 10 months while serving a term for driving while intoxicated.

Pontiac City Affairs

Honor Rev. H. H. Savage

In a meeting kept brief to allow commissioners to do a little last minute Christmas shopping, the City Commission last night paid tribute to the retiring Rev. H. H. Savage and acted on several items of public improvement.

Commissioner Winford E. Botom introduced a resolution honoring the Rev. Dr. Savage, pastor of First Baptist Church, "for his enduring and worthwhile work in this city."

He stated by this city in good times and bad, the Rev. Dr. Savage is a man of genuine character who contributed much to the growth of Pontiac; the resolution read.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry seconded the motion asking that the Rev. Dr. Savage was instrumental in the founding of Macedonia Baptist Church in Pontiac and "the people of District No. 1 owe him a great deal."

Coeds Wave, Men Parade at Columbia

NEW YORK (AP) — Coeds waved panties and bras from dormitory windows like cheerleaders as 500 men students of Columbia University converted in a noisy campus uproar early today.

Some of the girls threw underclothing and laundry made of paper at the cheering and shouting students who rushed around in a chilly drizzle.

The male students—perhaps pepped up over the approaching holidays—swarmed into the dormitory area of Barnard College, the women's undergraduate branch of the university.

Romania Reveals Arrest of 80,000

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — More than 80,000 farmers were arrested in Communist Romania's collectivization drive between 1950 and 1952, the Romanian party organ Scintila reported Tuesday.

This figure was disclosed by Nicolai Ceausescu, a member of the party's central committee, at a recent meeting which denounced Romanian leaders of terrorist acts against their comrades.

Scintila quoted Ceausescu as saying the arrests were ordered by the late Anna Pauker, former foreign minister who was ousted in 1952 and died in 1950.

Deaths in Pontiac and Nearby Areas

MRS. CHARLES W. BALMER, Mrs. Charles W. (Blanche) Balmer, 71, of 6380 Williams Lake, died yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital after a brief illness.

Mrs. Balmer was a member of First Methodist Church.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Beulah Graham of Drayton Plains; three sons, Paul S. of Waterford, Orville L. of Pontiac and Emory W. of Fostoria; five grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; two sisters and a brother.

Service will be held 2 p.m. Friday at the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home, Clarkston, with burial in the Lakeview Cemetery.

MRS. ELMUS BROWN, Mrs. Elmus (Birdie S.) Brown, 64, of 724 Melrose St. died yesterday after an illness of two weeks.

Mrs. Brown was a seamstress at Pontiac Laundry Co. and a member of Sunset Club. She attended Christian Science Church.

Surviving are a daughter Mrs. Gertrude Gable of Pontiac; four grandchildren; 11 great-grandchildren; and five sisters.

Service will be held at 1:30 p.m.

County Pension Cutoff Jinked Despite Descent

An effort to equalize Oakland County employee pensions according to years of service ran into unexpected opposition at yesterday's County Board of Supervisors meeting.

In spite of objection, a resolution by the retirement committee to eliminate a cutoff of accrued benefits at age 70 was approved by a 4-3 to 29 vote of the board.

Many objectors were dissuaded when County Auditor Robert Little explained that approval would not change the retirement age from the present 65.

"It means only that an employee completing say 30 years service after age 70 would receive the same pension as one completing 30 years before age 70," he said.

A county employee may be retained on a yearly basis past age 65 on the recommendation of his supervisor, providing the employee passes annual physical and mental competence tests, and his continuing employment meets the retirement committee's approval.

TO REQUEST FUNDS

In other action the board adopted a resolution to request $10,000 in state matching funds for continued marine law enforcement by the sheriff's lake patrol in 1962.

The board also authorized County Planning Commission director, George Scrubb, to apply for a $141,130 federal grant to complete an economic survey of the county.

The survey concerns population, labor force and employment, industrial composition, industrial land use, retail land use and market structure and wholesale markets.

It would bring the county's economic level up to date, complete the remaining portion of the county-land-use inventory and develop a better understanding of the county's economic potential, according to Scrubb.

The grant would provide more money towards a job already being done by county planners, thus enabling faster completion of the survey, he added.

The county's share of 25 per cent of the total $192,163 cost of the survey would be covered by the money to be spent in planners' salaries here anyway, said Scrubb.

The grant, which would not have to be repaid, is for a two-year program.

200 Rebels Are Slain in Viet Nam Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam in a communique Tuesday night said some 200 Viet Cong rebels were killed on Dec. 12 and 13 in fighting in Kien Hoa Province in the Mekong River delta.

The fight began when four Viet Cong companies attacked the village of Ben Bau. A government civil guard unit forced the Viet Cong to withdraw, killing about 30. The same Viet Cong units then attacked the village of Ny Chanh Hoa, losing 120 men.

Viet Cong stragglers were attacked later in the day by the civil guard and were wiped out.

Communists will prevail in the Congo."

"ALL VERY WELL"

Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama used similar words in a separate interview to describe the President's policies. He said it was all very well for Nixon to characterize as "an incredible mess" the administration's decision to back U.N. efforts to force unification of the Congo.

"But what would Mr. Nixon have done?" Sparkman asked. "Without Katanga the Congo can't be made a viable country. Without Katanga it would offer an invitation for the Communists to come in."

Nixon said in a copyright article in the Los Angeles Times-Mirror that the United States had been put in the position of allying itself with the Soviet Union and against most of its North Atlantic Organization allies in the Congo. He said the central Congo government was "infiltrated by Communists and Communist sympathizers."

Replying to this, Humphrey said that Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula can be regarded as just as anti-Communist as Katanga President Moise Tshombe. He said if Tshombe and Adoula can reach an agreement, he is confident they can repress Communist influence in any resulting government.

FINANCIAL INTERESTS

Noting that some Democrats and Republicans have been demanding an investigation into the United Nations course in the Congo, Humphrey said he thinks it would be worthwhile to look into the efforts of Belgian, French and British financial interests to promote independence for Katanga.

"THE BELGIANS, FRENCH AND THE BRITISH HAVE GOT TO LEARN THAT THEY ARE GOING TO HAVE TO GIVE UP ECONOMIC, AS WELL AS POLITICAL COLONIALISM," he said.

DENONCES MYTH

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., one of those who have been plugging for a Senate investigation of Congo policies, denounced at a news conference Tuesday what he called "the myth that the nationalist government in Katanga results from the influence of foreign mercenaries."

Dodd labeled as tragic what he said was the United Nations' arbitrary policy that the Congo must be united under "the discredited, incompetent and Communist-infiltrated central government."

Satellite Oscar Still Circling and Saying 'Hi'

SUNNYSIDE, Calif. — Satellite Oscar, the 10-pound radio ball is still circling the earth, beeping the Morse code letters for "hi" to radio hams.

Oscar passed over San Francisco at noon Tuesday and was transmitting perfectly. T. M. Lott, director of communications for the project headquarters here reported.

Launched Dec. 12, the satellite is expected to broadcast its message about three more weeks.

Kennedy Runs Behind Schedule on Fast Latin Tour

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON — Backstairs at the White House:

Little wonder President Kennedy came down with a cold at the end of his recent South American trip. The schedule was extremely tight with little room for lateness — and Kennedy ran late for several affairs including speeches on television.

This, however, is not the crime in Venezuela or Colombia that it might be in this country where network officials would come down with station-break fever if a president turned up 15 or 20 minutes late for a nationwide TV speech.

In Latin America where the broadcasting facilities are controlled by the state, a president goes on the air pretty much when he feels like it with no nervous fellow in the wings with a stopwatch. It makes for rather relaxed viewing, sitting there looking at an old movie and suddenly, without any warning whatever, the screen suddenly shows the president delivering an address.

When the president spoke in Bogota, Colombia, Sunday night, the program in progress when President Alberto Lleras Camargo suddenly took over the airwaves was a documentary starring, of all people, U.S. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman.

The advance tip on Kennedy's cold came Sunday afternoon while he was in conference with Lleras; at the ancient San Carlos place where Simon Bolivar's old bed was kept just as it was when he was in residence for about a month in 1828. (Bolivar departed by jumping from the bedroom windows just ahead of his enemies).

Woman Is Sentenced for Theft of Funds

JONIA ON — Mrs. Ann J. Smith, 38, Tuesday was placed on probation for three years, ordered to make restitution of $573 and pay $100 court costs on her conviction of embezzlement.

Former treasurer of the Jonia Little League Mothers Boosters Club, Mrs. Smith was convicted of embezzling club funds by Circuit Court Judge Dec. 7.

Commenting at the sentencing Tuesday, Judge Morris K. Davis said: "I know you got into the money because by checking we know that you were living beyond your means."

He also said since the case dealt with children and their impressions it was "impossible" to do anything but sentence Mrs. Smith.

Smallest bones of the human body are the three which are located in the middle ear compartment.

At the President's suggestion, the business conference was suspended and he went to his apartment at once. Embassy officials said Kennedy felt the need of a nap.

ONE THING WRONG

Then the business session resumed at 5:40 p.m. and lasted until 6:35 p.m. Only one thing was wrong — Lleras had invited several hundred guests for a 6 p.m. reception and their invitations had suggested politely that they be prepared to depart right at 7 o'clock.

The Kennedys did not appear for the reception until 7 o'clock and with a banquet still ahead on the schedule, they shook hands with all guests in about 20 minutes. Doors to the reception chamber were quickly closed and that was all the guests saw of the distinguished visitor until he went on television later in the evening.

The impact of Jacqueline Kennedy on her new-found friends in Venezuela and Colombia was best demonstrated Sunday night at the conclusion of her husband's speech on television.

Since she had been such a smash hit in Venezuela delivering a speech in Spanish to a farm audience, the President turned to her in Bogota and before the national TV audience and said there was someone with him who did not require the services of an interpreter as he did.

She walked to the microphone and began to speak in Spanish. In another room of the palace, some of the security guard — a TV. They smiled when Mrs. Kennedy first appeared; then as she talked, they applauded vigorously. Apparently, they went on all over for officers — were watching on each sentence. In fact, they smiled.

Rent (Not Buy) Things Latest Trend in This Decade

By FAYLLIS BATTLELLE
 NEW YORK — Lillian Gish claims she owns practically nothing except a few clothes. She never has owned anything more, and she never will.
 "Ownership, fortunately, was left out of my nature altogether. I remember how sorry I felt for Mary Pickford, back in the days when we made silent films together. She always had to rush home from the studio because she was responsible for 17 people."
 Miss Gish's eyes were conspicuously large and sad in her still-dainty face. "Imagine that! Seventeen people, it took to run her home, 'Pickfair,' and take care of her possessions."
 "That's not my idea of what you work for. The unhappy people I know have just nothing but possessions. It's an American trend... don't you think?"
 Well, this week a big multimillion-dollar American concern said no, it didn't think so at all.
 "The status symbol of ownership is fast declining," said a spokesman for the firm.
 "American women have finally come to realize that there is too much excitement in life to spend their time cleaning the family silver, and that there is less space in homes for storing valuable things."
 "The trend today is to rent what you need when you need it. It's going to become as big in this decade as the installment plan was in the 1920s. We know!"
 How well they know! Unlike Miss Gish, whose anti-possessions attitude is spiritual, this corporation — Hertz Rent-All — has a whopping inventory to prove its contentions.
 This week they opened a glittering New York showroom on Madison Avenue where they say the citizenry can rent anything from A to Z — "Ashtrays to Zippers," and they were confident of its success. In the past year they have laughed nine other such services around the country already, they claim, it's a $100-million industry.
 "Somebody remarked," smiled spokesman Milt Kramer happily, "that we rent everything but the kitchen sink. But that's ridiculous."
 For parties from the elegant to the ridiculous types.
 Prices range from a stainless steel spoon at three cents a day to closed circuit color TV sets at $75. Soon to come: A fur coat department so mama can milk it up on special occasions.
 "We'll get you virtually anything," promised Kramer. "A request for an elephant might make us blanch a bit. But anything else."
 The Hertz-considered proof that Americans no longer want to both with costly possessions is that of all their rental items the most often requested are the fine chinas, crystal tables, chairs and decorations for giving grand parties.
 It takes a lot of money not to own anything expensive.
 BIG, LOUD TOYS
 Speaking of money, it is a season of big, big, loud, loud toys for children. Toy tea pots whistle, coffee pots perk, robots fire missiles, dolls either burp or scream bloody murder.
 And there is a general feeling among many mothers that if a toy is small enough to be picked up by the child, it's not impressive enough.
 But this is a healthy sign. For some years, according to the Toy Guidance Council, parents bought smaller, quieter toys — probably because such dainties would not clutter up their slick, polished ranch houses. Kiddies occasionally showed their contempt for such little gillies by eating them.
 This year, apparently, parents are being more considerate of their darlings than of their decor.

"That's not my idea of what you work for. The unhappy people I know have just nothing but possessions. It's an American trend... don't you think?"

Customers 'Reward' Good Sales Conduct

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A department store here (Lane Bryant) is creating good will and better service by handing out gold cards to customers who are asked to observe the attitude of sales personnel.
 If the customer feels the salesperson has given good service, he "awards" the gold card. The salesman then takes the customer to the general manager who presents the customer with a bottle of perfume. The salesman gets a silver dollar.
 Many hemiplegic patients do not walk as fast as they could because of fear, suggests a research team from the University of California Medical School and the Oakland Veterans Administration hospital.

Little More Patience and Ice Will Be Safe

By DON VOGEL

If the weather continues cold, as predicted, ice fishermen should be getting on a few nearby lakes next week to try their Christmas presents.

A survey of several Oakland County lakes near Pontiac Tuesday disclosed some completely covered with ice, but looking very unsafe. No anglers were seen. Deer Lake near Clarkston had a thin shelf of ice in the bay near the boat launching site, but was otherwise open water.

Reports say some fishermen are trying their luck at Bald Eagle Lake south of Orionville and other shallow lakes in that area.

By the time ice gets thick enough to hold skates, it will be time to take the sport along. The opening season on northern pike, walleyes and other large fish opens New Year's Day.

Pontiac Lake is noted for its large pike, but is closed to all skating. Black Lake, however, will remain legal on this lake until

Winter Sports Activities Set Around Michigan

LANSING (AP)—As the mercury drops the list of winter sports activities is going up in Michigan.

The calendar for the next four months lists some 80 special events including all sorts of skating races, winter carnivals and ice fishing festivals.

The winter carnivals on the list include Jan. 25-26; Potosky, Jan. 25-Feb. 1; Sault Ste. Marie, Jan. 25-Feb. 3; Clare, Jan. 27-28; Eastland, Jan. 27-28; Tawas, Feb. 2-4; Houghton, Feb. 7-9, and Alpena, Feb. 10-11.

The annual Tip-Up Town ice fishing festival at Houghton Lake is scheduled for Jan. 20-21, while Higgins Lake will hold its annual lake trout and ice fishing festival Feb. 24-25.

Pereville on Tawas Bay opens next month.

Commission Approached

Seeks Longer Season for Hunting Grouse

Support for a longer grouse hunting season in Michigan has been requested of the Conservation Commission.

Making the request was Harold W. Glassen, ex-commissioner and avid grouse hunter, who suggested that the "pat" season be extended through Dec. 31 with a possible shutdown on bird shooting during the Nov. 15-30 firearm deer season.

The ex-commissioner said a longer season would work no biological hardships on grouse, a point supported by game biologists who have found that present hunting has no appreciable effect on the population trends of these cycle birds.

He estimated there are only about 1,800 dyed-in-the-wool grouse hunters who would take advantage of the longer season, adding that hunting pressure would be regulated by bird numbers to provide a built-in control against grouse being over-harvested.

Kenneth S. Love of Marquette, new member of the commission and a devoted grouse hunter himself, felt it would be best to leave the season unchanged in the upper peninsula.

He explained that the proposed extension in hunting days could expect to encounter stiff resistance in that part of the state where there has been some talk about shortening the season.

Harry D. Ruhl, chief of the Conservation Department's game division, remarked that grouse num-der the experimental plan of the Conservation Department. The bass season ends on Dec. 31 for other waters.

Rainbow become legal through the Ice Jan. 1 or have they been legal this month?

One Conservation Department pamphlet claims the trout are open during December, the 1961 Fish Law Digest indicates the season resumes next month. It doesn't make much difference because of the poor ice conditions in Southern Michigan.

BROKEN BOTTLES

The State Liquor Commission started a squabble when it banned throw-away beer bottles.

Conservation groups and glass manufacturers were expected to square off today at a public hearing on the order in Lansing. The order goes into effect Jan. 1.

Mrs. Ralph D. Keller of Wyandotte, representing the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, told the commission Tuesday that the ban against disposable bottles won't control a growing litter problem.

"In our opinion, the proper way to control roadside litter is by enforcing laws against litter, and by educating the public to dispose of trash properly," she said.

Volunteer groups, working with government agencies, have tackled the litter problem successfully in some states, Mrs. Keller said. She called for formation of a study committee to look into the problem and recommend legislation.

Expected to take a strong stand today supporting the ruling was the Michigan United Conservation Clubs and other similar groups.

Owens-Illinois Glass Co. and other manufacturers are against it.

ATTENDANCE JUMP

Two new attendance records were established for the month of November at Kemington Metro-Park south of Milford.

Over 51,000 persons visited the park during November this year compared to 50,000 in 1958 and 45,000 in 1959; 38,000 in 1958 and 30,000 in 1959.

The park's Nature Center, a museum of natural science featuring several seasonal exhibits, was visited by over 3,700 persons during November (1961) compared to just over 4,000 last November (1960). The Nature Center is open for public viewing from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on weekdays.

It reserved full endorsement of the Sleeping Bear proposal until matters having to do with hunting, fishing, timber products, private ownership, and land acquisition procedures are more clearly spelled out.

Conservation programs remained hobbled by license money problems during 1961. Forced savings in the form of unfilled personnel vacancies, deferred equipment replacements and other cutbacks all down the line lingered on; more economizing was forecast for 1962.

An estimated 2,000,000 people fished and hunted in the state during the year, roughly 100,000 less than in 1960 when Michigan ranked as the nation's second most popular state for fishing and hunting.

bers have held up in heavily hunted areas as where gun pressure is light. He added that Michigan probably ranks among the nation's top five states in grouse production, but its season is shorter than 24 of 37 other states and Canadian provinces where these birds are legal targets.

PERMITS ON SALE — Here is Michigan's 1962 annual state parks vehicle permit. The new permits are now on sale at state parks and hunting and license dealer establishments. They are $2 each with a 15 cent dealer fee added. The 1962 tags are being honored through December.

COOL RESCUE — A person breaking through the ice should remain calm (upper left) and attempt to get a handhold on the edge of the hole. Rescuers can get in the same trouble if they make a hasty move. Get as close as possible to the person in trouble and slide him files, screw-drivers, picks or any other sharp object so he can pull himself out of the hole (upper right). If this doesn't work, and no rope, plank or spud is handy, a coat can be used (bottom) to make the rescue.

Conservation in State Reviewed

Up and Down in '61

The state's fall hunting season showed mixed results compared with the year before.

Although there were fewer deer hunters in the woods, buck kill rose to an estimated 67,000 animals, about 10,000 over last year's take of antlered white-tails.

Phasant kill dipped to about 930,000 birds, about 22,000 shy of last year's mark, with part of the decline traced to reduced hunting pressure. Ruffed grouse hunters had a banner season, possibly their best in the last eight years.

Duck hunters, limited by a 30 day season and other sharp restrictions, did fairly well under the circumstances.

Other important conservation happenings in 1961: Natural gas production set a record — 24.5 billion cubic feet — and oil output rose to 19 million barrels, the best since 1943.

Four million lake trout eggs were produced at the Marquette state fish hatchery in the international effort to protect the species to the upper Great Lakes.

Yearling trout to be raised from the eggs are scheduled for release in 1963. Efforts to control the lamprey, the eel-like parasite that wiped out lake trout in the Great Lakes, are making headway.

More and more local communities and conservation and sportsmen's clubs, especially in northern areas, responded to a call to assist the state in carrying out conservation activities.

The new fishing licenses and parks permits will be honored during this December as well as in 1962. This year's licenses and permits are valid through Dec. 31, 1961.

Michigan's fishermen and park users now are able to buy their 1962 licenses and annual permits at local license dealers, the Conservation Department reports.

Distribution of next year's fishing licenses, trout stamps, fish law digests, and annual parks vehicle permits was begun by the department last week.

Approximately 1,500,000 fishing licenses, with law digests, went to some 4,000 dealers in the state. Nearly 100,000 annual parks entrance permits have been mailed to about 2,000 of these dealers in areas covering parks where they are required.

Winter Fishing Opens for Some With Big Splash

Anglers Urged to Study Ice Before Taking Gear to Favorite Spot

Within the next week—old man winter cooperating—thousands of ice fishermen will move onto Southern Michigan's inland lakes to kick off a new season.

For some, the season will start with a splash—with them plunging through seemingly solid ice into icy-cold waters. It happens every winter, particularly at the beginning and tail end of the ice fishing season.

There are, of course, a few simple ways to keep "high and dry" this winter.

First of all, fishermen should study up conditions on their lakes, making sure they are safe and noting danger spots before carrying their shanties and other paraphernalia onto the ice.

A good place to start checking lakes is right around the shore. If ice along the shoreline is squishy or broken up, it's a pretty good bet that the lake is still not safe.

At this time of year, temporary mild temperatures are common; they stall or set back freeze-overs.

It pays to know the lake to learn about springs and other features which may pose dangers. Spring-fed lakes generally have some thin patches throughout the winter, especially around their inlets.

Stay clear of dark spots in the ice or places where the snow looks discolored; underwater springs may be at work, swirling the water so ice is unable to thicken. Do the next guy a favor by placing tree branches or other markers near these trouble spots.

The sound of squeaking, cracking, and booming ice is not to be taken as a storm warning of unsafe conditions. When solid ice is made colder, it contracts causing these noises so often heard in the early morning or toward evening of cold days.

MAKE OVER PAGES Gets All 'Fowled Up'

MONROE (AP)—Outdoorsmen have developed several methods of decoying wild ducks within shooting range. But a black duck was snagged recently by a Monroe resident who had no intention of "fowling it up."

John G. Ruman of 322 W. Seventh St. tarred the floor of his back porch one night.

The next morning Mrs. Ruman heard a strange scratching noise. "It sounded as if it were coming from between the walls," she said.

"I looked out back and saw what appeared to be an owl. I looked again and saw that a duck was caught in the still-sticky tar." From the air, the freshly tarred floor apparently resembled a pool of water to the duck. The bird landed in the thick material and became mired.

"My youngest child, Diane, 4, said I was the only one home when I discovered the duck," Mrs. Ruman explained. "My other four children were at school and my husband was at work."

After Mrs. Ruman returned home, Monroe county conservation officer John Mickel was called to remove the bird.

"I turned the duck carefully and lifted it as I twisted," officer Mickel said. "It took only a few minutes to free it from the tar."

He later gave the bird several baths in soap and water. "Its wing tips and the lower part of its body were covered with the material," the officer noted.

Mickel kept the bird about 2½ days while it recuperated from the ordeal. "The only apparent injuries it sustained were abrasions at the joints of both wings."

"I washed it several more times to get as much of the oil from the tar off the bird as possible. I had to use a small plunger to force it into its mouth by shoving food into its cavity."

It pays to know the lake to learn about springs and other features which may pose dangers. Spring-fed lakes generally have some thin patches throughout the winter, especially around their inlets.

Stay clear of dark spots in the ice or places where the snow looks discolored; underwater springs may be at work, swirling the water so ice is unable to thicken. Do the next guy a favor by placing tree branches or other markers near these trouble spots.

The sound of squeaking, cracking, and booming ice is not to be taken as a storm warning of unsafe conditions. When solid ice is made colder, it contracts causing these noises so often heard in the early morning or toward evening of cold days.

Other important conservation happenings in 1961: Natural gas production set a record — 24.5 billion cubic feet — and oil output rose to 19 million barrels, the best since 1943.

Four million lake trout eggs were produced at the Marquette state fish hatchery in the international effort to protect the species to the upper Great Lakes.

Yearling trout to be raised from the eggs are scheduled for release in 1963. Efforts to control the lamprey, the eel-like parasite that wiped out lake trout in the Great Lakes, are making headway.

More and more local communities and conservation and sportsmen's clubs, especially in northern areas, responded to a call to assist the state in carrying out conservation activities.

The new fishing licenses and parks permits will be honored during this December as well as in 1962. This year's licenses and permits are valid through Dec. 31, 1961.

Michigan's fishermen and park users now are able to buy their 1962 licenses and annual permits at local license dealers, the Conservation Department reports.

Distribution of next year's fishing licenses, trout stamps, fish law digests, and annual parks vehicle permits was begun by the department last week.

Approximately 1,500,000 fishing licenses, with law digests, went to some 4,000 dealers in the state. Nearly 100,000 annual parks entrance permits have been mailed to about 2,000 of these dealers in areas covering parks where they are required.
