Isbell Aiming 10 Top Newsboys Honored by Press at Carolinas

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Isbell, confounding the weather forecasters, turned the wrong way today and aimed rain, high tides and 100-mile winds toward the already flood-stricken Carolinas.

Expected to turn northeast away from the coast, Isbell swung northwest instead and black and red hurricane warning flags were hoisted in a hurry from Georgetown, S.C., to Morehead, N.C.

The Miami weather bureau warned all residents in the hurricane warning area to be ready for the blow by this afternoon or early this evening.

The hurricane moved into the Atlantic after a fast Florida crossing that spared the state the devastation Isbell brought to Cuba. But she gave birth to tornadoes that injured 39 persons in Florida.

Six small tornadoes, roaring like freight trains through afternoon darkness and into the night, whipped out of the storm's leading edge to demolish house trailers, lift roofs, and knock over cars and power poles.

The main body of the storm, racing across the peninsula at 18 to 20 miles an hour, and mostly through an untracked wilderness, made a mess of fallen trees and power lines here and there but did little harm compared with that suffered in Cuba.

Charge LBJ Covered Up Aide's Arrest

President's Associate
Resigns After Second
Morals Case Known

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has ordered a complete FBI investigation of the circumstances related to the resignation of White House aide Walter W. Jenkins.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman Dean Burch charged today that President Johnson "covered up for five and a half years" a morals charge arrest of Walter W. Jenkins, a top Johnson aide.

Burch issued a brief statement in Jenkins' arrest and said he would say no more until Johnson addresses the nation tonight.

Burch said he assumed Johnson would talk about the case on nationwide television tonight.

The reference was to a 10-minute campaign talk Johnson has scheduled sometime between 9 to 9:30 p.m. tonight.

A Democratic source said he had no reason to believe Johnson's taped speech would deal with any other subject than nuclear power.

Burch said the "Walter Jenkins episode raises grave questions of national security which only the President can—and must—answer. The story up to now is only partially revealed."

RESPECTABILITY
"President Johnson, who talks about responsibility, now has the responsibility to explain why he covered up for five and a half years—since Jan. 15, 1959—that his top aide had been arrested on a similar perversion charge," Burch said.

Jenkins' resignation and appointment of Bill D. Moyers, another White House aide, to take his place were announced by George Reedy, White House press secretary, at a news conference in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Johnson was at the hotel to address the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation dinner.

"Knowing, as he must, the vulnerability of morals offenders to blackmail," Burch said, "the President should tell us whether Mr. Jenkins was permitted to sit in on meetings of the National Security Council, meetings of the Cabinet, and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

UAW, AMC Unexpectedly Take Recess

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. and United Auto Workers Union negotiators unexpectedly recessed today as they debated the fate of the auto industry's only profit-sharing plan under the threat of a midnight strike deadline.

The two sides scheduled a return to the main bargaining table only 10 hours ahead of the strike deadline.

Subcommittees worked on local-level agreements, which supplement the national package.

Keeping profit sharing was "the single most important question" as AMC and UAW bargainers met, said Douglas Fraser, head of the union's American Motors department.

The 52-member UAW negotiating committee voted last night to negotiate continuance of the unique plan won by the UAW in 1961 or call 25,000 AMC production workers off the job.

The vote was "over two to one," Fraser said.

On virtually all other major issues, the UAW and AMC were reported in agreement.

The union wants profit sharing, American Motors said, on top of an economic package equal to those the UAW won previously at General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp.

Moscow Rumors Put
Top Communist Posts

MOSCOW (AP)—Usually reliable sources said today Premier Khrushchev has resigned. Leonid I. Brezhnev has taken over as first secretary of the Communist party and Alexei Kosygin has become premier. There was no official confirmation. Khrushchev's name was omitted tonight from an official list of Soviet leaders.

MOSCOW (AP)—Strong rumors, supported by a number of signs, swept Moscow tonight that a change at the top of the Soviet government might be imminent.

Premier Khrushchev, 70, has not been mentioned publicly for two days. He was missing today in the party. Khrushchev is first secretary of the party as well as premier.

The government newspaper Izvestia, which usually publishes in the evening, delayed its appearance until tomorrow morning. It will coincide with publication of the Communist Party newspaper Pravda.

Such simultaneous publication is the traditional way of making announcements of supreme importance here.

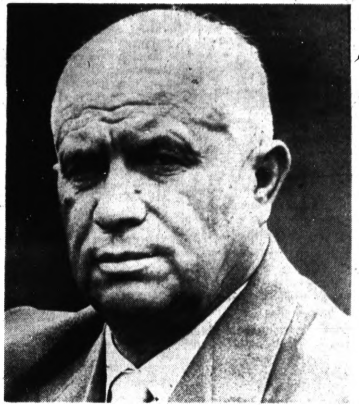

The London Evening News said tonight "changes are imminent in the Soviet government and that these changes could affect Premier Khrushchev himself."

In a dispatch from Moscow, an Evening News correspondent said the speculation was heightened by "three mysteries surrounding the Russian leader."

First is the fact that Khrushchev's portrait is missing from its place in Red Square.

Second, said the News, President Oswald Dorticos Torrado of Cuba, who arrived in Moscow yesterday for a state visit, has not yet met Khrushchev.

The third factor is lack of mention of Khrushchev by the Soviet press and radio over the past two days.

Weather May Spur Record British Vote

LONDON (AP)—British voters, encouraged by good weather and whipped up by the rowdiest campaign of modern times, streamed out in huge numbers today to decide if the Conservatives remain in power or Labor takes over the nation's destinies.

Spots of rain and overcast were dissipated by sunshine in many areas. Most sectors reported early turnout which if continued could produce a record vote.

Conservatives, Laborites and the small Liberal party each saw something good for themselves in the heavy balloting. But even the most optimistic spokesmen conceded the tussle was neck-and-neck.

Last-minute bets on the Conservatives retaining power, if even only by a slim margin, were reported by Coral's, London bookmakers.

Joe Coral said "the betting so far this morning favors the Tories" but the odds still remained 4-1 on Labor and 2-1 against the Conservatives.

One thing was sure: Interest in high Leeds and Edinburgh reported the morning balloting higher than in the 1959 election.

BOOTHS PACKED
Bristol said booths were packed at a 4-1 rate over five years ago. Newcastle upon Tyne and the Cardiff area of Wales started slowly but picked up toward noon as shift workers poured out of the mills and mines.

Leaders of both the Conservative and Labor parties made the usual predictions of victory, but all conceded the finish would be close.

There was a possibility that the Liberal party, which had only seven members in the last Parliament, would emerge with the balance of power.

The election will name 630 members of the House of Commons. The party which wins the most will form the government.

If the Conservatives win, Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home will go back to No. 10 Downing Street to lead a fourth term of Tory rule.

Barry Claims Doubt Is Cast

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater said today there is "a rising tide of doubt and dismay...all across the land" concerning the presidency and charged President Johnson is "shadowed by" suspicions which no amount of hand-shaking and hurrah can chase away.

The Republican presidential nominee said Johnson's "great and good friend, Bobby Baker, has been exposed as a manipulator of high office," and the President's "name and office is linked with that of a convicted criminal, Billie Sol Estes."

Goldwater swung into south Texas for a day of campaigning after two days before large, enthusiastic crowds.

He met them as he moved back and forth across the Midwest farm belt and on to the edge of the Rocky Mountains for a rally last night in Denver.

Goldwater said today he would have no comment "at any time" on the case of Walter W. Jenkins, a top assistant to President Johnson for 20 years, has resigned after being arrested on morals charges.

In a speech prepared for his first Texas stop in Harlingen, Goldwater returned to the attack on the Bobby Baker case—the issue he said hurts Johnson most. He paired this with the Billie Sol Estes affair.

Estes, a Pecos, Tex., financier, has twice been convicted for fraud.

The Arizona senator said the President "must be using every power of his great office, right now, yesterday and tomorrow, to cover up one of the sorriest rumors we have had in the nation's capital."

In response to a question before he delivered the speech, Goldwater said he meant rumors about Bobby Baker's ties with the White House.

In his campaigning, Goldwater said he had found something troubling the people of America.

He added: "The people have looked at the White House and have found it dark with scandal."

"The latest Bobby Baker investigation has been called off until after election. The latest report on Billie Sol Estes has been a whitewash."

Sol Estes was a friend of the man who now occupies the White House and that he dealt with the principal assistants of the man who now occupies the White House."

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals held a 6-3 lead over the New York Yankees in the sixth inning today in their showdown seventh and final game in the World Series.

Right-hander Bob Gibson received the nod from manager Johnny Keane as the Cardinals' starting pitcher against the Yanks.

Gibson was opposed once again by Mel Stottlemyre, the Yankees' 22-year-old right-hander.

The Yankees' who tied this best-of-seven series for baseball's world championship at three victories each yesterday by whipping the Cardinals 8-3, were slight 6-5 favorites for today's final clash at sun-baked Busch Stadium.

It marked the third head-on Health Service Meets Delay

City Hospital Needs Program Approval

Pontiac's bid to have the first contract in the state for community mental health services appears to have encountered a delay.

Previously, it had been announced that Pontiac General Hospital would garner the first contract in the form of expanded outpatient mental health services. This was expected to become effective Oct. 1.

However, the County Mental Health Services Board is still waiting on the state for approval of its program for the balance of 1964.

Dr. Clare Gates, public health consultant for United Community Services and also part-time director for the county board, said that work on the 1964 budget was continuing with state help.

The Department of Mental Health is working with county officials in setting guidelines for mental care programs and budgeting.

AGREEMENT WORKED

Pontiac General Hospital administrator Harold B. Euler had informed the hospital board of trustees Sept. 17 that an agreement was being worked out for outpatient services through the county board.

The agreement covered expansion of the hospital's new outpatient clinic on a three-month trial basis.

Euler said there had been no further steps to institute the proposed program, although Dr. Norman Rosenzweig, temporary consulting director for the county board, toured the hospital.

Dr. Gates confirmed that there had been no movement toward the proposed Pontiac General outpatient program.

BUDGET APPROVAL

"We can't have any movement until we get our budget approved by the state," explained Dr. Gates.

The county board is now in the process of getting programs and budgets approved for the remainder of 1964.

Pontiac General is in the same position as other general hospitals in the county, he added. Dr. Gates saw no reason why some agreement could not be reached for the rest of the year.

LBJ, Kennedy in N.Y.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—President Johnson and Robert F. Kennedy campaigned together in New York today, praising each other with no restraint.

Johnson and Kennedy, the Democratic Senate candidate in New York, made their first appearance of the day before several thousand banner-waving partisans at an airport rally in Rochester.

The President, who last night accepted the resignation of his long-time friend and aide Walter Jenkins in the wake of Jenkins' arrest on morals charges, was somewhat subdued but smiling. He spoke very softly.

"The country needs Robert Kennedy in Washington," said Johnson. "New York needs Robert F. Kennedy in the United States Senate."

He said Kennedy's "great ability and talent" must be put to work for New York, the nation and the world.

INTRODUCED LBJ

Kennedy, who resigned as Johnson's attorney general to make the New York race, introduced the President.

Kennedy said he had "affection and admiration" for Johnson, because of his record in office, because of his support for President John F. Kennedy and because of "the great consideration he has shown to me and members of

In another plug for Kennedy's Senate candidacy, Johnson described him as the "loyal, devoted and dedicated brother" of the assassinated president.

During the Cuban missile crisis, Johnson said, President Kennedy got "excellent and careful assistance" from the attorney general.

When Johnson finished speaking, many in the crowd shouted "We want Bobby, we want Bobby!" In response, Johnson held Kennedy's hand aloft.

Working Against Nov. 3 Deadline

Romney, Staebler in Detroit Area Vote Push

By The Associated Press
Republican Gov. George Romney and his Democratic rival Neil Staebler devoted their attention to the Detroit area again Wednesday, working against a Nov. 3 deadline in their quest for votes.

Romney, in a speech at a GOP headquarters, said Staebler would "either put Michigan back in debt or have to raise taxes" if he, the governor, made good a campaign suggestion to finance construction by selling bonds.

Romney, who seldom mentions Staebler in his campaign, hit the congressman hard Wednesday.

He also termed improvements in state disability compensation laws "a must at the next (legislative) session."

Staebler, meanwhile, outlined his position on government-sponsored medical care programs in a talk to representatives of the Wayne County Medical Society.

STILL WORKING

"I have pledged myself to oppose any insurance plan that would provide medical benefits for people who are still working," he said. "The way to avoid the welfare state is to make people pay for benefits whenever they can."

Staebler said the Democrats' program "is to give more people more income so that they can pay for the services they need and not rely on the government."

Romney's schedule for today called for a halt in his campaign to catch up on official business. But he was to attend a Southfield Business Men's Dinner in the evening after officiating at the opening of the Detroit Red Wings first hockey game.

Staebler was to remain in southeastern Michigan, touring plants and shaking hands, visiting the Riverview Municipal Building, and stopping off at several Detroit area shopping centers.

SHORT SPEECH

The congressman planned a short speech at a dinner in Southgate before spending his second consecutive night in Detroit.

Democratic U.S. Sen. Philip Hart, meanwhile, carried his reelection campaign to the Jackson area, praising his party's labor legislation record at a speech to United Auto Workers Local 666.

"We Democrats don't have to worry about talking too much about our labor record," Hart said. "We've got so many good things to say we don't have to be afraid of overexposure. I'm afraid our opposition isn't so well off."

But he contrasted his position with GOP presidential contender Barry Goldwater rather than that of Mrs. Elly Peterson, the Republican campaigning for his Senate seat.

Hart planned to campaign in the Calhoun County area today, with stops at an iron works, a Negro reception, a luncheon at Albion College, a school assembly at Marshall High School, a news conference at Battle Creek, and a Calhoun County Democratic dinner.

It's Same Old Story: Ignorance Is Bliss

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Once upon a time there was an ambitious young man named Clarence Frothersbee-Smythe.

Frothersbee, as his friends called him, was doing pretty well as a customer's man in Wall Street, plus what he made driving a taxicab on Saturdays and Sundays.

But Frothersbee was a bit of a snob.

"I do not want to be a soulless money-grubber," he said. "Culture is above cash. I want to be the most cultured man in the world."

So he set out in pursuit of culture.

"Socrates was the most cultured man of his day because he knew everything there was to know then," he told himself. "I will become the most cultured man of my day by learning everything there is to know now."

READ BOOKS

At first everything went swimmingly. He read all the great books. Then he began reading not-so-great books. He became prodigiously informed about everything from the Aardvark to Zygotes. He also knew about philosophy and phillars, about music, muscles, mussels and mummies.

Frothersbee became the life of every party, because he could answer every question but insisted on answering every question so finally, his friends dropped him.

"You are a cultural bore," one told him.

Frothersbee still was doing all right at his office, because they found his tremendous fund of information useful. But the day his bosses bought a computer, they fired Frothersbee, who hadn't sold a stock or bond in two years.

DOESN'T PAY BILLS

"Culture may be paying you dividends, but it isn't doing a thing to help pay ours," they said.

"Boors!" sneered Frothersbee. "Philistines!"

Once he was depressed momentarily, when he saw a newspaper item that said the sum of man's knowledge was doubling every seven years.

"It just means there's that much more culture to assimilate," he told himself.

GREW A BEARD

Frothersbee grew a beard. His clothes became tattered. He ate out of garbage cans. He slept in railroad stations and abandoned houses.

But every hour it was open he spent at the public library.

In time there didn't really seem much that Frothersbee didn't know.

On his 60th birthday, as he sat alone in the public library mulling and scratching himself, two men in white jackets approached Frothersbee, threw a net over him, and took him to a booby hatch.

STILL LECTURES

There you can find him still endlessly lecturing his fellow inmates on such topics as "The historical influence of the ether on Austrian economics."

They don't know what Frothersbee is talking about — and he doesn't know that they aren't listening.

Moral: It ain't culture that makes the man. It's man that makes the culture.

Detroit Police Appeal for Help in Unsolved Murder of Youths

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit police homicide bureau detective Tuesday appealed to more than 600 neighbors of Sheldon Miller and Francis (Pat) Brown to help in the search for the killer of the two boys.

Brown, 17, and 14-year-old Miller were shot to death the eve of July 4 on a playfield in north-west Detroit.

"We don't know who killed those boys or why," Detective Edward Hay told a PTA meeting at nearby Emerson School.

"The murderer may be sitting in this room right now," he said.

"The answer lies somewhere in this area," said Hay who has worked steadily on the case. "But the police department cannot do much about solving murders without your help."

GUN PLACED

"Those boys were not just shot down," he added. "Someone placed a gun against both of their heads and literally blew their brains out."

"We don't know whether the motive was revenge or robbery or jealousy, or whether homosexuality played a part in it or if the first shot was accidental," he said.

Hay said police have "checked more than 700 pistols and given about 50 lie detector tests" in an attempt to find the killer. He said a 17-year-old youth who supplied information about the crime turned out to be a psychopathic liar.

"He had us going in circles for two weeks with the phony information he was supplying us," Hay said.

He said a major problem was "not one person came forward, to say he was there that night, although we now have established that 28 people were there within an hour on either side of the murders."

WASHINGTON — The United States has held presidential elections every four years since 1788, the National Geographic says. The electoral vote for George Washington, who had no opposition, totaled 69. The popular vote for him is not known. In 1960, 68,838,979 Americans voted for president.

Helping Hand Needed for State's Cherries

Nature in her infinite wisdom provides man with the sustenance of life—but lets him struggle with its supply and demand.

Currently Michigan is blessed with the greatest cherry crop in history, but the blessing is not an unmixed one. The growers don't know what to do with it.

Our state leads the Nation in cherry production. With the rest of it pretty well confined to several Great Lakes states. Of the 430 million pounds harvested in the U. S. this year, Michigan accounted for 295 million—half of it concentrated in the Traverse City area. Last year the state harvested a meager 72 million pounds.

But here the head of cherry economics rears its ugly head. Despite the record-setting 1964 yield, the cherry industry is in dire straits. Because production is so far ahead of demand, the fruit gluts the market—and 50 million pounds of Michigan cherries went unharvested and to waste.

It costs the growers three cents per pound to harvest cherries, and other costs run two-three cents a pound more. The processors so far are paying but three cents per pound for this year's crop, though agreement has been made to up this ultimately to five cents. Last year, the price paid was ten cents per pound.

Though price reductions to consumers, because of the depressed state of the cherry market, will probably be small in processed products with cherry base, there has been substantial drop in the approximately 25 per cent of the cherry crop that finds its way to grocers' shelves in one pound cans.

Here prices fluctuate, but in some markets cherries have been sold at 15 cents a can—half that of a year ago.

Housewives can kill two birds with one cherry stone by buying and feeding their families all the cherries they'll eat. They can simultaneously give badly-needed assistance to one of Michigan's top industries and make a worthwhile dent in food budgets.

High Court Convenes, Tinged by Liberalism

Back in session after its summer layoff is the United States Supreme Court. An arm of the Federal government that had traditionally labored in virtual obscurity so far as the general public was concerned, it has for more than two years been continuously in the limelight.

This is true, of course, because many of its decisions have affected hitherto untouched areas of public interest while reflecting a philosophy of marked liberalism in constitutional interpretation.

This trend began with the famous "school prayer" decision, continued as past decisions of the Court with respect to Civil Rights were reversed and culminated in the recent jolting ruling on state legislative reapportionment.

Many Americans disaffected by decisions of the Court have heatedly wondered just who it thinks it is to extend its reach to such lengths.

Well, the Supreme Court is, as its name indicates, the top judicial body in the Nation.

As a final arbiter of Federal law it has also become, in a sense, the supreme legislative body in the Nation.

And with a veto on the constitutionality of Federal laws and state laws touching constitutional questions, it has acquired a measure of executive supremacy.

This is not because the men who comprise the Supreme Court are necessarily the wisest men in the land. It is simply because somewhere in government there must be a final authority—second only to the people, with their ultimate power of constitutional amendment.

Many authorities believe the Court should be ever so slightly behind the times—as FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT called it during his New Deal innovations—to act as a conservative brake on impulsive lawmakers. Others believe it should lead, as it undeniably is doing today.

But here again the Founding Fathers seem to have displayed deep omniscience in building into the Constitution the checks and balances that have made it the greatest instrument of democratic rule in history. With the governmental authority divided between three branches—legislative, executive, judicial—the means are provided for constraint of the power of one should it become excessive.

No High Debate in '64 Campaign

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — A gentlemanly debate on a high plane is the ideal but not the reality in a presidential campaign, as this one and some others show.

Tuesday Sen. Barry Goldwater, while being charged with racism in this campaign by 726 fellow-Episcopalians, was a criticizing President Johnson's religious practices.

He said Johnson's visiting "church after church and city after city" on Sundays was a "political travesty of the Lord's day."

This is the latest in a hardly gentle list of criticisms Goldwater has dumped on Johnson.

The President has made mostly indirect cracks at his rival.

American voters may have forgotten it, because of all that has happened since then, but they watched pretty much the same thing in the 1960 race between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Some of the very words those two men used against each other four years ago have popped up again.

Nixon said Kennedy was a "deadly risk" and an "immature, rash, impulsive man" making dangerous statements. And he compared Kennedy's promises to a "carnival confidence man selling... quick medicine to an unsuspecting public."

Kennedy wasn't any kinder to Nixon.

He suggested "someone had better cut the cards" before Nixon dealt. And he pictured Nixon as a baleful kind of individual whose political career has often seemed to show charity toward none and malice toward all.

Nixon, to Kennedy, was the "trigger-happy" leader of a "wrecking crew."

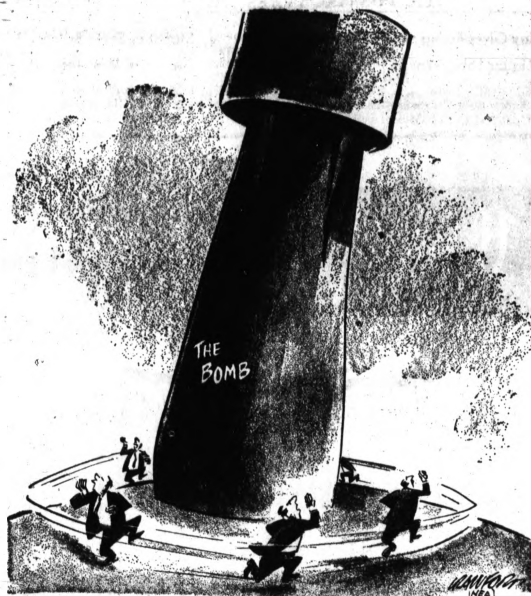

This year, even after Goldwater accused the Johnson Administration of being "soft on Communism," the President refused to be riled into firing back directly.

Instead, again without mentioning Goldwater's name, he said:

"I see... the new and frightening word of the Republican party is merely trying out this charge at the moment to see if it works."

Verbal Orchids to—

The Campaign War Dance

David Lawrence Says:

Barry Aide States Ethics Issue

WASHINGTON — The current presidential campaign is unique in one respect — more emphasis is being placed on the personal characteristics of the candidates than has been true in preceding campaigns.

Republicans are displeased because of the implication that Sen. Goldwater would, if elected, be a "reckless" president. Lawrence said, while Democrats are unhappy because of the persistent campaign questioning the "ethics" of President Johnson.

Perhaps the frankest statement on what is meant when the Republicans call Mr. Johnson a "wheeler dealer" has come from Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who said:

"Well, I think the big issue that we are finally getting down to in this campaign is the character of the President of the United States."

"In other words, for so long the people of this country have equated politics almost with hypocrisy. They have been fed a diet of cream of wheat as far as politics. And now they are faced with one candidate whose candor is sometimes mistaken for recklessness when in fact all he is being is honest, the unorthodox politician. On the other hand, we have the classic politician, the present incumbent."

PART OF SYSTEM

Burch was asked if he didn't think that "wheeling and dealing and twisting people's arms to arrive at compromise is part of the democratic system and are desirable attributes in the White house." His reply was as follows:

"Not the way the President works it — no, I wouldn't say so. This might have worked in the legislative body, where he got all of his training, in the Congress. There is a great deal of wheeling and dealing and arm-twisting in the Congress."

"But I think it is a little unbecoming for the President of the United States to be twisting arms in the Congress, because they are two separate branches of the government."

When asked to give a specific example of wheeling and dealing and arm-twisting, Burch replied:

"I am talking about the votes on the civil rights bills. Anybody who shows the least bit of nervousness about a vote for the administration gets a call from the President, and it is suggested that he should well reconsider his position... He (the President) suggests that he has a long memory and that if he (the congressman) wants his district taken care of, and if he wants to be on the inside of the White House he had better go along with the administration program."

NOT NOVEL

What the Republican chairman has described, however, is a tactic that is not novel in Washington. Other presidents have used it, too.

Many members of Congress have risked their political futures by refusing to go along with administration policies with which they disagreed.

What is called "arm-twisting" and "wheeling-dealing" today is something which has grown in scope over the years, and now plays a significant part not only in lining up votes in Congress but in the allocation of some government contracts and the selection of sites for governmental projects.

All this doesn't necessarily impugn the personal character of a president, but it certainly emphasizes how far the American politician has strayed from what used to be called "unselfish devotion to the public interest."

Comments From Two Victims of Strike

I thought men on strike were supposed to stick together but it seems some unions can pick out a chosen few and give them cards to get surplus food. With millions in the strike fund why aren't all paid at the same time—I get just as hungry on the 12th as I do on the 16th. I can't make my little ones understand what dignity is. It doesn't help their stomachs.

HUMBLE

Come on, Walter, settle that strike. You should have been at the welfare office when a lot of GM workers were lined up for surplus food. You would have seen our dignity dropped a little farther.

'BOYS AND GIRLS OF THE JURY'...
—Something new in juries—a teen-age group—is shown at work in Hinsdale, Ill., deciding on discipline for other teens convicted of minor violations. By choosing the Youth Jury, juvenile offenders can make restitution without getting a prison record.

Youth Jury Rated Success by Both Officials, Offenders

HINSDALE, Ill. (AP)—Juvenile delinquents in this suburb of Chicago are learning fast that a jury of fellow teen-agers can be tougher than adult justice.

Nevertheless, every young offender, given the chance, has chosen the Youth Jury for sentencing since its inception in Hinsdale seven months ago.

By doing so, offenders can make restitution without getting a police record.

The punishment meted out by the Youth Jury are designed to induce perspiration and contrition. They usually consist of menial but constructive work—such as mowing lawns, scrubbing walls, cleaning streets or working as an orderly in a hospital or sanitarium.

REALLY HELPING

"We think it's really helping. Our acts of vandalism are going down," says police Sgt. John Beukema, Hinsdale youth officer.

Magistrate Richard R. Brown attributes the success of the Youth Jury to the enthusiasm of the youngsters and community cooperation.

"It's basically self-rule. The youngsters seem to be more adept at punishing their own and more adept at accepting punishment from their own," Brown explained.

The jury does not rule on guilt or innocence. It passes sentences in cases presented to it. The sentences themselves can be increased or tempered by Brown.

SIMILAR SYSTEM

The Youth Jury was proposed by a Hinsdale high school student, Greg Mertz, 17, who read about a similar system in Jacksonville, Fla. Officials of Hinsdale, a community of 16,000 west of Chicago, agreed to give it a try.

Sgt. Beukema decides which cases should go before the Youth Jury after analyzing the past record of the offender and holding a long interview with his parents.

The offenses involved include vandalism, shoplifting, petty theft and traffic violations.

Mertz explained the basic philosophy of the Youth Jury this way:

"We feel our primary work is in rehabilitation rather than punishment. In most cases, a monetary fine would be inadequate. By having an opportunity to work, an offender can prove he is worthy of the privilege we have given him."

See Two-Thirds at Red Confab

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's invitation for a preliminary showdown meeting in Moscow Dec. 15 on the Sino-Soviet split has been accepted by about two-thirds of the Communist parties invited, informed sources said today.

These 25 parties were asked Aug. 10 to start work in mid-December on plans for a worldwide Communist congress which could result in the formal expulsion of Communist China from the world Communist bloc.

A similar group prepared the Moscow congress of 81 Communist parties in 1960—the last occasion on which the Soviet Union and Red China were able to present a facade of unity.

Now Communist China has turned down the Soviet invitation and has warned Khrushchev, "The minute you call your meeting, you will step into your grave."

Communist North Korea has rejected the invitation and Communist Albania is certain to.

REJECTIONS LIKELY

Rejections are likely from Communist Romania, Communist North Viet Nam and the Communist parties of Japan and Indonesia.

This would still leave the Kremlin with a comfortable two-thirds majority of the invited parties, more than enough to proceed with the organizational meeting.

Qualified sources say the following parties have accepted or have indicated their willingness to attend:

Communist bloc: Bulgaria, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Mongolia, Poland.

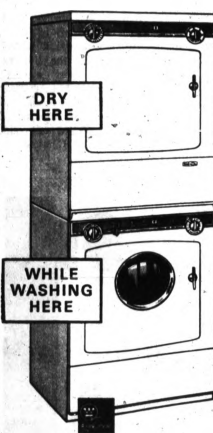

Others: Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Finland, France, West Germany, Great Britain, India, Italy, Syria, United States. This makes a total of 19 when the Soviet Union is included.

Says 'Suspicion' Will Oust LBJ

CHICAGO (AP) — The American electorate will oust President Johnson next month to end a "suspicion of his own leadership," Rep. William Miller predicts.

He said the voters "are discouraged and uneasy about Lyndon Johnson over many things" and there's no doubt they are going to elect Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate.

Miller, the GOP candidate for vice president, declared in a speech Wednesday night that the "many things" include the Bobby Baker case and the President's "personal fortune, created in a monopoly situation in an industry wholly regulated by the Federal government."

Miller pressed his attack on Johnson on the Bobby Baker issue in a speech to a rally at Indiana State College in Terre Haute. A GOP official estimated the crowd at 4,000.

5th VISIT

Miller spent the entire day and evening in Indiana, his fifth visit to the state, which the GOP considers crucial.

The candidate flew to Chicago late Wednesday night, spending the night at a motel in preparation for an intensive round of campaigning — including five speeches — in the Chicago area today.

has reopened an investigation of Baker's private business dealings while he was secretary to the Democratic majority in the Senate but no hearings are scheduled until after the election.

"While holding that voters were disturbed about the President, Miller said that Goldwater "stands before the nation as a refreshing symbol of decency and honesty and courage."

Michigan Executive Gets Gas Unit Post

In his speech at Indiana State College, Miller said that "This man in the White House has a tremendous amount of explaining to do about Bobby Baker."

Describing Baker as a "good friend and loyal subordinate of the President," Miller called upon Johnson to "get the truth in the Bobby Baker case to the public before Nov. 3."

Bats in the Belfry? Squeeze Real Hard!

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — In case you're wondering how to get rid of bats in the belfry, Dr. Louis P. Gebhardt has the answer—just squeeze.

That's right, just squeeze one hard, he says — hard enough so he yelps, and all the rest will fly away and never come back.

Now everybody doesn't have a belfry or bell tower to worry about, nor are bats a common household nuisance.

But sometimes you find those spooky, night-flying mammals nested in the barn or the attic of your summer cabin and it might take a machine gun to get rid of them. Even then the ones you missed probably would come back.

Not long ago Dr. Gebhardt got a phone call from a man in Wyoming's Jackson Hole country who said he'd tried everything but just couldn't get rid of a bunch of bats who had encroached themselves in his tourist cabins.

HARD SQUEEZE

"People didn't like to sleep in the cabins anymore, he said. What could he do?

"All you've got to do is squeeze one hard," Dr. Gebhardt said, "and the whole bunch will fly away — and they won't come back. I don't know what it is, but if you squeeze one hard enough so he squeals, then the others will hear that and fly right out."

What do you use to squeeze them? A pair of tongs, or large forceps, with rubber on the pinching ends. "You want to squeeze them hard, but not break the skin — just hard enough to squeal."

Dr. Gebhardt speaks with experience. He's chairman of the medical school's department of microbiology and is often out in the woods tracking down the disease organisms transmitted by bats, rodents, snakes and the like.

Catholics Ban Bias in Building Pacts

LANSING (AP) — A non-discrimination clause will be required as part of all future contracts entered into by any Catholic church or school in Michigan, the Michigan Catholic Conference has announced.

Conference executive director Francis Coomes said the policy would apply to general or prime contractors working for a Catholic school as well as subcontractors.

Nearly 700 pastors of all Catholic churches in Michigan have been notified to include the nondiscrimination clause in all contracts, Coomes said.

Say Truman Recovery Is Routine

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two fractured ribs are giving Harry S. Truman some pain and there is some congestion in his left lung, but doctors say the 80-year-old former president is making a routine recovery from his fall into a bathtub.

"Resting well and comfortably," Research Hospital reported after Truman went to sleep about 9 o'clock Wednesday night without the benefit of a sedative.

"He ate well and read the evening paper," a spokesman said.

An earlier report said his heart and blood pressure were normal and the laceration over his right eye was healing.

NO VISITORS

A "no visitors" order remained in effect for his two-room suite in the hospital's maternity section — the only suitable quarters available when he came in as an emergency patient late Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Truman spent more than seven hours with him Wednesday.

ONE FOR THE BOOKS

Despite his indisposition, Truman engaged in an exchange of sorts with Sen. Barry Goldwater. Truman had made a political telecast tape and called a news conference for Wednesday morning to make public its contents about the same time the Republican presidential nominee hit Kansas City for a campaign appearance.

A bouquet of red carnations was delivered to Truman's room on behalf of Goldwater about the time he arrived, and it's card said: "Get well. No campaign is worth the name without you."

"That's one for the books," Truman commented.

In his campaign speech, Goldwater said: "I wish my prayers for a speedy recovery. The longer he lives the better president he gets to be."

Truman's associates went ahead and released his statement.

"The Republican candidate," it said, "has been proposing some curious ideas — some silly, some damaging. It is not a pleasant thing to see how the Republican candidates have aimed their appeals mostly to the suspicious, to the backward, to the simple-minded, to the uninformed, to the frightened and to the timid among us."

Candidate Loses Shirt on the Campaign Trail

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP) — A. L. Kramer, Republican candidate for secretary of state of Washington, lost his shirt on the campaign trail.

While Kramer was speaking to the Lion's Club Wednesday someone broke into his car and stole all his clothes. The thief also took a supply of campaign literature.

Rep. Roosevelt Heading House. Probe

Labor Problems in Multiemployer Bargaining Aired

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is seeking to find out whether legislation is needed to keep the public from being caught in a squeeze during labor disputes between unions and large groups of employers.

The study represents the first hard look Congress has taken at the problems caused by employers banding together to bargain with unions.

The study is being undertaken by a House Labor subcommittee headed by Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif.

Two recent labor disputes that hit the multimillion dollar food industry in two major cities and threatened for a time to spread from coast to coast will serve as object lessons in the investigation.

LITTLE ATTENTION

Subcommittee investigators say Congress in the past has paid little attention to the growing practice of multiemployer bargaining.

"There has been a reluctance by Congress to interfere," Roosevelt said in a statement released by his office today.

Hearings are scheduled in Los Angeles Nov. 12 and 13 on the month-long Teamsters' union strike against one food wholesaler that led to the shutdown of 55 others.

James R. Hoffa, Teamster president, had threatened to spread the strike to 16 other major cities before a tentative agreement was reached two days ago.

The subcommittee has already taken a preliminary look at the Baltimore retail food strike by the AFL-CIO Retail Clerks International Association that shut down more than 200 supermarkets for two months last summer.

But Roosevelt has emphasized that the investigation will not center on the two food industry disputes as such, but study them only as the most recent examples of the problems of multiemployer bargaining.

Plan Training on Marital Aid

County Group Starts
Counseling Program

A program providing training and professional advice in marriage counseling has been initiated by the Religious Assistance and Protective Services, Inc., of Oakland County.

Dr. Arthur Riewald, a Birmingham psychologist, has been named director of the Marriage and Family Consultation Program. Dr. Aaron Rutledge, head of the Marriage Counseling and Psychotherapy Program at Merrill-Palmer Institute, Detroit, will serve as consultant.

The program was made possible by a three-year grant from the McGregor Fund and the Mott Foundation, for $25,000 annually.

The experimental project is designed to increase the resources for trained marriage counseling within the community, particularly at the preventative level, according to Riewald.

The initial emphasis of the program will be upon the supplemental professional training of ministers, priests and rabbis.

A series of three public lectures for clergymen in the county already has been scheduled. The first of these will be held Oct. 28 at 10:30 a. m. in the county courthouse auditorium. Dr. Rutledge will be the speaker.

WORK WITH OTHERS

The new service is intended to work in conjunction with other community agencies and professional persons providing assistance to marriages and families in need.

Although unrelated to the courts, there will be a close working relationship with the recently instituted marriage counseling service within the Oakland County Circuit Court.

Clergymen and other professional persons desiring more information about the service can contact Dr. Riewald at 409 Pontiac State Bank Building.

Ike Urges Ohioans to Cast Straight GOP Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, hitting the political hustings on the day after his 74th birthday, asked today "that Ohio vote Republican, all the way, in every contest on the ballot."

In notes prepared for a speech to a Republican rally at Veterans Memorial Auditorium, Eisenhower said "Republicans are pledged to sound and progressive government, searching out modern solutions for modern problems."

And he said attacks on GOP defense, foreign and domestic policies were "tommyrot."

The former president commented that Ohio had supported Republican presidential candidates in 1952, 1956 and 1960 and that "it will do the nation great good to learn that Ohio has once again voted for a Republican president — for Barry Goldwater."

ONLY MENTION

That was Eisenhower's only mention of the GOP presidential candidate in his prepared remarks.

Eisenhower praised Rep. Robert Taft Jr., GOP candidate for the U.S. Senate, and Rep. Oliver Bolton, running for congressman-at-large "to replace

Taft, saying "these two men, on their record as public servants and private citizens, reflect Republican commitment to common sense in government." Eisenhower was scheduled to

Viet Rebel Tosses Grenade at Yanks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A terrorist on a motorcycle threw a hand grenade Wednesday night into a trishaw in which two American soldiers were riding in Saduc, 85 miles southwest of Saigon.

One of the soldiers caught the grenade and threw it back. It exploded in the air, injuring one of the Americans slightly. American sources declined to reveal his identity. The terrorist escaped.

hower had asked that they not have a motorcade to the auditorium.

Eisenhower said that three "grand purposes of the republic" lower above all others: "To be secure against a massive onslaught which could destroy us in an hour of terror."

"To advance and strengthen our global partnerships, purposefully with our friends."

ring to attacks on his administration during the 1960 presidential campaign and in commenting on these three charges he said were being made this year: That "a Republican administration will abuse and misuse the missiles that a Republican administration developed."

That "a Republican administration will arouse deadly fear and even enmity within the international partnerships a Republican administration strengthened."

That "a Republican administration will pauperize millions, taking from them the security a Republican administration gave them."

Tributes Pour In for Negro Leader

Telegrams flooded King's room at St. Joseph's Infirmary in Atlanta, where he is undergoing a routine physical checkup.

"This is an extremely moving moment in my life," said the 35-year-old integration leader, the youngest winner since the award was first made in 1901.

Among the first to send congratulations was U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche, the only other American Negro to receive the peace prize.

Bunche, who won the prize in 1950 for negotiating the Palestine armistice, said the award to King was "a striking international recognition of the cause and struggle of the American Negro for full equality in the American society."

In New York, former U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said King "symbolized the struggle of mankind for justice and equality through nonviolent means."

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York wired: "You have now joined a select company of world leaders. Free men everywhere salute you."

"This is an eminently appropriate award," Dr. Frederick A. Schiots, president of the American Lutheran Church, said in Minneapolis.

TIME IS COMING

"Many Americans will fail to understand this, but the time is coming when it will be generally recognized that Dr. King's work has lapped a boil on the body politic, relieving pressures that could otherwise disrupt the peace."

Whitney Young, executive director of the National Urban League, said King had "demonstrated by personal example that love and faith may yet conquer tyranny and hatred, not only in America, but everywhere in the world."

State officials in Atlanta remained silent on the award to a fellow Georgian. But Atlanta's Mayor Ivan Allen extended the city's congratulations, saying King fully deserved the honor.

Leander H. Perez Sr., the Louisiana segregationist leader, said in New Orleans: "That only shows the Communist influence nationally and internationally. Martin Luther King now a Nobel Prize winner. Shame on somebody."

Newspapers in Western Europe generally hailed the award and expressed hope it would help the cause of the American Negro.

Brazil Official Keeps Boycott of De Gaulle

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle faced the prospect of a new snub by Gov. Carlos Lacerda of Guanabara State on his return today to Rio, the last stop on his 10-nation South American tour.

De Gaulle was flying in by jet from the southern industrial metropolis of Sao Paulo.

The governor's island airbase in Rio Harbor had been cleared for de Gaulle's jetliner and the only highway to the island was closed to traffic as a security measure.

Lacerda, who hopes to be Brazil's next president, refused to greet de Gaulle when the 73-year-old French leader landed here Tuesday. He boycotted a banquet given for de Gaulle in Brasilia.

The Guanabara governor was retaliating for de Gaulle's refusal to see him when he visited Paris recently.

"Guanabara State will ignore de Gaulle as long as de Gaulle ignores Guanabara," he said in explaining his refusal to attend the banquet.

THIRD GRADE CLASS

Louise Lytken unwittingly led her third-grade class into this campaign in the winter of 1959.

It started during the preparation of an Arbor Day class project when the pupils simultaneously discovered that Luther Burbank was relatively unknown, that he developed the shasta daisy, that there was no national flower and that a congressional hearing to recommend one was coming up shortly.

California celebrates Arbor Day on March 7, birthday of Burbank, the horticultural wizard from Santa Rosa.

YOUNG

Rep. J. Arthur Younger, the Republican who represents the San Mateo area, introduced J. H. Resolution 409 in Congress to name the shasta daisy as national flower.

WROTE TO ALL

The youngsters wrote all congressmen.

The most favorable reaction came from Rep. Philip J. Philbin, a Massachusetts Democrat who introduced his own resolution favoring the shasta daisy.

His district includes Lancaster, where Burbank was born in 1894.

Even though the first hearings were inconclusive, the letter writing continued. Most of the answers were politely noncommittal.

"I will give your recommendations every consideration," replied Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, D-Tex., said he would submit a youngster's letter to the proper subcommittee.

"As fond as I am of the Burbank shasta daisy," replied Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., "I am at present committed to the corn tassel."

One sentence in a letter written by the late John F. Kennedy, when he was a senator from Massachusetts, indirectly provided the basis for the entire argument for the shasta daisy.

"It is very difficult to blend the historic, aesthetic and geographic considerations which must underlie a final choice," he wrote in 1950.

2-PAGE SHEET

The students compiled a two-page, mimeographed fact sheet pointing out the historic, aesthetic and geographic attributes of their favorite flower.

The second congressional hearing on the national flower convened, last June 5 failed to produce a decision, and the Burbank shasta vowed to keep pressing.

It seems a shame to have to tell them that, despite its name and how it looks, the shasta daisy really is a chrysanthemum.

SCAN THE SKY — Supervisory officers watch elements of the 82nd Airborne Division, representing the aggressor Redland forces, parachute into Blueand territory near Cheraw, S.C., yesterday as Army Exercise Air Assault II got under way. The Blueand forces are composed of the 11th Air Assault Division and the 10th Air Transport Brigade. The exercise is designed to evaluate the concept of replacing ground vehicles with aircraft and ground weapons with aerial weapons systems.

Would Shasta Daisy Look Swell on Your Lapel?

Young Lobbyists Boost U.S. Flower

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Thousands of young lobbyists dedicated to a single cause have resumed their massive letter writing campaign to get Congress to give them an answer true.

Over the past five years each and every senator and representative has heard at least three times from the primary school pressure group.

From a modest and accidental beginning in 1959 among 31 relentless third-graders at San Mateo's Baywood Elementary School to its present nationwide stature, the kiddie crusade has retained its sole purposes:

To get Congress to name the shasta daisy the national flower.

INSPIRED LETTERS

The campaign naturally has inspired unique congressional correspondence.

"The shasta daisy would really look swell on my Uncle Sam's lapel," wrote Mark Eisenberg from Baywood on the San Francisco peninsula.

To which Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., replied: "Roses are red, Violets are blue, I thought your poem was cute, And I bet you are, too."

Yale Men Demand More Time for Gals

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Yale men are demanding an end to a four-year ban on weekend women visitors in their rooms.

Some say it isn't enforced anyway.

Since a 1960 scandal involving a 14-year-old girl, the university has prohibited women visitors except on Friday and Saturday, from 11 a.m. to midnight, and on Sunday, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

"How much longer must the specter of a 14-year-old girl hang over the Yale campus?" asked one student.

The student newspaper, the Yale Daily News, urges immediate repeal of the restrictions.

More than 1,500 upperclassmen signed petitions circulated by the newspaper for weekend visiting hours.

"The present rules are silly," said Alexander E. Sharp II, chairman of the News.

"They treat students like moral infants when the university says they are mental adults. They make a mockery of all types of rules because they are not being enforced," he continued.

The student newspaper asked the Council of Masters of the 12 residential colleges to discuss it at a recent meeting. The council refused, on grounds that it was not on the agenda.

NO POSITION

President Kingman Brewster Jr. has taken no position. But George A. Schrader Jr., chairman of the Council of Masters, said the present rules strike a satisfactory balance.

"I don't know whether students or dean will consider the question as a sudden emergency demanding immediate response," Schrader said.

Another student group was urging a slower, more studied approach than the newspaper.

Christopher W. Walker of Bethesda, Md., said this group, the "Visiting Hours for Women Committee," will do research and present a report to the administration.

'REFLECT OPINION'

"We hope to responsibly reflect student opinion," Walker said.

Yale has received a petition from 80 young women at nearby Southern Connecticut State College. It asked for more liberal visiting hours.

"I'm dating a boy there pretty steadily," said one girl. "It's just a matter of bringing a book up to his room, instead of handing it to a guard."

"They're big boys now," she said. "They can take care of themselves."

Erhard Issues Challenge to K

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard challenged Soviet Premier Khrushchev today to let all Germans choose between Communism and the West.

Khrushchev is expected in Bonn early next year for his first visit to West Germany.

Opening a foreign policy debate, Erhard told the Bundestag he agreed with Khrushchev that every country has a right to choose its own government and that the Germans must decide for themselves if their country is to be Communist or democratic.

"So let the Germans decide for themselves," he said. "Ask them directly and without dialectical tricks for their true opinion."

"Give all Germans the opportunity to visit the 'capitalist' and 'socialist' parts of their country freely, let them talk freely with one another and then make their considered judgment."

Erhard spoke on the eve of his first anniversary as chancellor.

Erhard said that after getting a firsthand look at West Germany, Khrushchev might reconsider whether a reunited Germany might not be a better partner than "A German nation condemned to unrest by an illegal and unnatural division."

Washington News Roundup

3rd Quarter GNP Rate Put at $627.5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary estimates by the Department of Commerce showed Wednesday that the gross national product in the third quarter of 1964 reached an annual rate of $627.5 billion.

This is $9 billion above the second-quarter level and $43.5 billion above the gross national product for 1963.

The report also showed: —Consumer purchases of goods and services, paced by a vigorous demand for automobiles, rose about $8.5 billion during the July-September period.

—Fixed investments increased about $2 billion.

—Residential construction dipped $500 million, and the rate of inventory accumulation dropped from $3.7 billion to $1.7 billion.

The estimates will be revised next month when comprehensive information becomes available.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed a bill Wednesday that gives ministers until next April 15 to decide if they want to be covered by Social Security.

An earlier law making ministers eligible for Social Security had fixed the deadline at April 15, 1962.

Johnson also signed a bill extending to June 30, 1967, the period during which federal payments may be made for foster care in child-care institutions under the aid to dependent children program.

The measure also raises from 18 to 21 the age limit for benefit payments to dependent children attending high school or vocational schools.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten pickets paraded Wednesday in a downtown park across from a building which houses the Mexican government's tourist office in protest of what they termed support for Fidel Castro's Cuban regime by the government of Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Luis Reyes, a New York restaurant worker and chairman of the picketing movement by Cuban exiles here, said:

"We are going to continue the demonstrations here in an effort to discourage tourists from going to Mexico, and as a protest at what we consider the unfortunate, mistaken personal policies of President Lopez Mateos."

Episcopalians in Rift on Church Council

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) Sharp, conflicting feelings swirled today around an issue before the Episcopal Church — the question of its future relationship with the National Council of Churches.

With several moves afoot at the denomination's triennial general convention seeking withdrawal from the inter-church cooperative body, an open hearing was called this morning on the matter.

The council, including most of the nation's major Protestant and Orthodox churches with a total of 40 million members, carries on joint work in relief, publishing missions, Christian education and other fields.

Both critics and supporters of it marshaled their arguments before a special commission here. It subsequently will present its findings to the assembly.

PRELIMINARY REPORT

It is headed by Bishop J. Brooke Mosley of Delaware.

Authorized three years ago to inquire into the conduct and usefulness of the council, the commission already has drawn up a preliminary report urging "increased participation" in it.

However, a barrage of criticism of the council has continued with several proposals already introduced here either for the Episcopal Church to quit it or sharply censure it.

Laymen and clerical deputies, representing 3½ million Episcopalians across the country, also have been deluged with material accusing the council of "a philosophy at variance" with the church.

POLITICAL ARENA

The complaints charge the council has "entered into the political arena" and reflected ideas that "appear in large part to be of the 'left' in their politics."

The council's activity in behalf of racial integration has been a particular target lately.

Amid the tension surrounding the issue, the Rt. Rev. Henry I. Lottitt, bishop of South Florida, said in the House of Bishops "our companying with our Christian brethren is under attack."

He said some anticouncil groups "have joined in an unholy, demonic conspiracy with die-hard segregationists and professional patriots" who deal in half-truths "while waving the flag as anti-Communists."

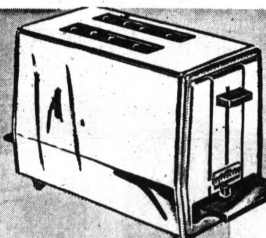

The Rev. Canon Theodore O. Wedel, one of the church's leading scholars, said the council is "the only hopeful agency on this continent by means of which we can cooperate with our Christian brothers."

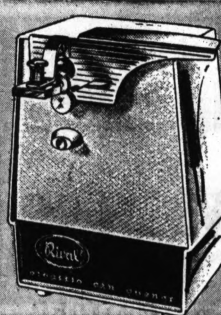

"We're desperately needed there," he said. "Our churchmanship, liturgical and doctrinal must be a healthy catalyst in the coming Protestant-Catholic dialogue."

Lewey is the combined effect of wind velocity and direction, current velocity and direction and wave action.

Says He Kidnaped Son

Wife Charges Vic Damone

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Singer Vic Damone has been arraigned on his ex-wife's charge that he kidnaped their son, but he and the boy have been reunited pending a custody hearing.

Damone, 35, was freed without bail Wednesday after arraignment in Municipal Court. He was arrested here on a New York warrant, charging him with abducting his son, Perry, 9, in New York two weeks ago and bringing him to California.

Damone's ex-wife, Italian actress Pier Angeli, 32, swore out the warrant there Tuesday. She testified that she was given custody of their son when she and Damone were divorced five years ago and that Damone had taken the boy without her permission.

The boy was held briefly at the Beverly Hills police station in protective custody following his father's arrest, but was later released to Damone pending a custody hearing in Superior Court Nov. 12.

After Damone had been booked, Police Chief Clinton Anderson suggested that he go to Perry's school with two officers and pick up the boy so that Perry would not be frightened. The officers were in plain clothes and the police car was unmarked.

Damone entered the school. As he came out with Perry to the police car, the boy was carrying a paper sack in his hand.

"That your lunch?" Damone asked him. Perry nodded.

Michael J. Clemens, Damone's counsel, said that during the day he obtained a 15-day restraining order against removal of Perry from California by his mother.

Damone has filed for custody of the boy in California courts.

Sitting with his son at police headquarters while awaiting arraignment, he told newsmen: "Since I've had my boy for a little over 10 days we've grown to know each other. I will continue to fight for my son. I want to make him another American kid."

Damone said the boy spoke little or no English because he had lived so long in Rome with his mother.

Later Damone and his present wife, actress Judy Rawlins, took Perry home with them to their Beverly Hills home.

Damone is scheduled to appear in court Nov. 20 on a fugitive charge, based on the issuance of the warrant in New York. Officials said if Damone is to be tried on the kidnapping charge, it will be in New York.

Tells of Probes on Imposters

DETROIT (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley revealed Wednesday night that 28 investigations are under way involving imposters or others practicing the healing arts without a license.

The crackdown, he said, followed the exposure of Thomas Novak, 29, of Livonia, who had practiced medicine for four years although his formal education went only as far as high school.

Kelley said there are investigations under way and pending action in these various fields:

Medicine 12, podiatry, 8; dentistry, 5, chiropractic, 2, and optometry, 1.

Criminal convictions since the first of the year have included nine in nursing and three each in medicine and dentistry, Kelley said.

Romney Proclaims Forest Product Week

LANSING (AP)—The week of Oct. 18 will be Michigan Forest Products Week in recognition of the $700-million industry, Gov. George Romney proclaimed Wednesday. He also proclaimed Oct. 23, the eighth anniversary of the 1956 Hungarian uprising, as Hungarian Freedom Fighters Day in Michigan.

Turn In Coins—Dillon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It's time for grandma to dig out that jugful of pennies she has hidden in the cellar. The U.S. Treasury needs them.

Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon yesterday made an urgent appeal for Americans to break open their piggy banks, empty their cookie jars and look through dresser drawers for coins to help relieve the present shortage.

Dillon held a news conference to help the U.S. mint and the American Bankers Association open a campaign to ease the shortage. He said that although the mint is turning out 20 million coins a day, the shortage will continue to be serious through the Christmas shopping season.

The shortage is temporary and an end is expected sometime next year, Dillon said. He blamed several causes, but said the main one is that speculators are busy in the coin market.

Association President William F. Kelly said the ABA was distributing spot film announcements to 600 television stations and taped messages to more than 4,000 radio stations.

Area Jaycees Unit to Aid Vote Report

In an effort to speed up the local reporting of voting results of the presidential, gubernatorial and U.S. Senate races at the precinct level in the Nov. 3 general election, members of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce will serve as precinct reporters for Network Election Service (NES).

The NES news group includes the Associated Press, United Press International and ABC, NBC, and CBS radio and television networks.

Charles E. Hatter, 2363 Old Salem, Pontiac Township, president of the Pontiac Jaycees, said members of his chapter will call from their assigned precincts to the NES news gathering center at the Leland Hotel in Detroit.

6 Years to Fenton Teen

OWEN SOUND, Ont. (AP) — Ronald James McLain, 16, of Fenton, Mich., was sentenced to six years in the penitentiary Wednesday for the July 7 rape of a 16-year-old girl, despite Crown and defense pleas for a shorter term.

Justice C. D. Stewart of Ontario Supreme Court recommended the case be reviewed after two years when a parole board might decide to release the youth on a suspended sentence.

East Pakistan and West Pakistan are separated from each other by nearly 1,100 miles of Indian territory.

Seminar Set on Retarded

A ten-week training seminar has been scheduled for 15 parents in the county who operate day care centers for severely retarded children.

The seminar, conducted by the special education staff of Oakland Schools, will include lectures on teaching techniques, mental retardation and organizing and managing classrooms.

Specialists in speech, perceptual and psychological problems that beset retarded children will serve as discussion leaders.

The seminar will begin Dec. 17 and continue each Thursday. Parents from Pontiac, Waterford Township, South Lyon and Clarkston will attend.

Election Today

Sketch of British Party Chiefs

LONDON (AP) —Here are brief sketches of political leaders involved in Thursday's British election.

Labor party:
Harold Wilson, born to a lower middle class family, has struggled to reach the heights of political power for as long as he can remember. His brilliance of mind brought him steadily through the ranks of the Labor party until he was elected its leader Feb. 14, 1963, on the death of Hugh Gaitskell.

Wilson was born March 11, 1916, the son of an industrial chemist. He won honors in philosophy, politics and economics at Oxford.

His first cabinet post came in 1945 as parliamentary secretary to the minister of works. This was in the Labor government which ousted Sir Winston Churchill's wartime coalition. Two years later he became president of the Board of Trade, a post he held until Labor's fall in 1961.

IN PARLIAMENT
He has been member of Parliament for Huyton, near Liverpool, since 1950.

George Brown, 50, deputy party leader, has often been described as his own worst enemy.

His political career began at the age of 8, distributing party propaganda.

He left school at 15 to work but continued studying at night.

He entered Parliament in 1945. Brown is slated to become minister of economic affairs, a kind of super-ministry, in any Labor government.

Quiet, thoughtful, Patrick Gordon Walker, 57, is the likely foreign secretary if Labor wins.

A linguist, he has often worked in Europe as a journalist or in international organizations. He graduated from Oxford in history and was elected to Parliament in 1945.

An intellectual first and a politician second, Dennis Wilson Healey at 47 is the youngest of labor's top ten. He would be the party's minister of national defense. He has been in Parliament since 1952.

James Callaghan is the Labor party's "third man," behind Wilson and Brown. Callaghan would be chancellor of the exchequer. He was elected to Parliament in 1945. He is 52.

Richard Howard Stafford Crossman is the Labor party's leading intellectual.

Despite an earlier quarrel over a proposal on education, Wilson is reported to have picked Crossman to be Labor's secretary for education and science. His reputation as an intellectual has made him unpopular with some sections of the party's administrative officials. He is 56 and an Oxford man, and has been in Parliament since 1945.

Conservative party:
Sir Alec Douglas-Home renounced a centuries-old title last October in order to succeed Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at the head of the Conservative party.

FIRST POST
He was born July 2, 1903, and like most British aristocrats was educated at Eton and Oxford. He was elected to Parliament in 1931. His first governmental post came in 1937 when he became parliamentary private secretary of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. He was minister of state in the Scottish office 1951-55. Then he ran commonwealth affairs for five years until Macmillan in 1960 appointed him foreign secretary, the post he relinquished on becoming prime minister.

Richard Austen Butler, widely considered the most experienced, intellectual and practical of Conservative party leaders, was passed over by the party's highest post in 1957 and 1963.

Undersecretary for foreign affairs in the critical period 1939-41, Butler, 61, had to defend in Parliament many of the unpopular aspects of Neville Chamberlain's foreign policy. Powerful figures in the party never forgave Butler.

He has been in Parliament since 1929. His first cabinet post came in 1932 as undersecretary of state at the India office. He has been minister of education, labor, chancellor of the exchequer and home secretary. Douglas-Home made him foreign secretary last October.

FUTURE MATERIAL
Bluff, friendly Reginald Maudling, chancellor of the exchequer, is likely future prime minister material. At 47, he holds one of the government's most responsible offices. Traditionally the chancellor is second only to the prime minister.

Maudling took first-class honors in classics at Oxford. Elected to Parliament in 1950, he has held many government posts.

Edward Richard George Heath, 48, secretary for trade, industry and regional development, is a troubleshooter. Prime Minister Macmillan used Ted Heath, then second man at the foreign office, as Britain's chief negotiator in its abortive efforts to join the European Common Market.

He was a lieutenant colonel in World War II and was elected to Parliament in 1950.

FIERY ORATOR
Quintin McGarel Hogg, who renounced his title in order to sit in the House of Commons, is a fiery orator who can rouse party followers to enthusiasm.

His mother, Elizabeth, was the daughter of Judge Trimble Brown of Nashville, Tenn. He was educated at Eton and took first-class honors in classics at Oxford. He had a distinguished military career. He was chairman of the party 1957-59.

Hogg, 57, was a contender with Butler to succeed Macmillan as prime minister. Both lost to Douglas-Home, who appointed Hogg secretary for education and science.

Jo Grimond, another Oxford man, in 1958 married Laura Miranda Bonham Carter, daughter of the late Sir Maurice Bonham Carter, and was immediately launched into the forefront of Liberal party politics.

Divers Bother Fishers
SELSEY, England (UPI) — Fishermen here complained that "amateur" skin divers were making them struggle for a living by catching too many lobsters, crabs and fish.

A uniform system of highway markers for Federal routes was adopted in the U.S. in 1925.

Images of sleek rockets, spaceships and astronauts come to mind at mention of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

But NASA also has a navy. Flagship of this assorted fleet is a converted World War II utility landing craft. Her top speed is an unimpressive six knots.

The ungainly flagship is in daily use in the Gulf of Mexico and in Galveston Bay on experiments and tests conducted by technicians from the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex. These experiments range from astronaut and paratrooper escape training with Gemini and Apollo capsules, to testing effects of sea water on new materials and equipment.

The ship has been aptly christened Retriever—the role in which she is currently cast in parasail space capsule recovery tests for Project Gemini. The parasail is a device being developed by Manned Spacecraft Center technicians to bring returning space capsules to a landing on ground instead of water.

The parachute borne capsule is air dropped from three miles up and shroud lines are radio-controlled by a technician on the after deck of the Retriever. The huge capsule chute is sliced with vents and openings which make it maneuverable much as a skydiver's parachute is controlled for pinpoint landings. An inflated yellow rectangle encloses the target area.

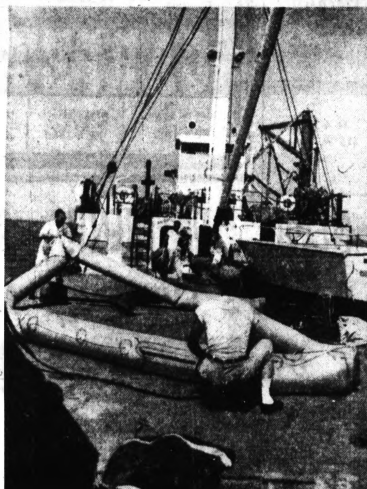

To make room for the parasail control equipment and other necessary electronic gear, the Retriever's galley has been converted into an instrument room and electronics laboratory. The ship's crew—electronics engineers and technicians who couldn't look less like sailors—must bring along lunches on the day-long tests.

The lumbering awkward craft, her sides cut away to permit easy loading and unloading of recovered instruments and capsules, is out of character with NASA's sleek supersonic image but she is playing an important role in the space program—even with a top speed of only six knots.

NASA'S NAVY

Technician checks out radio equipment in Retriever's converted galley.

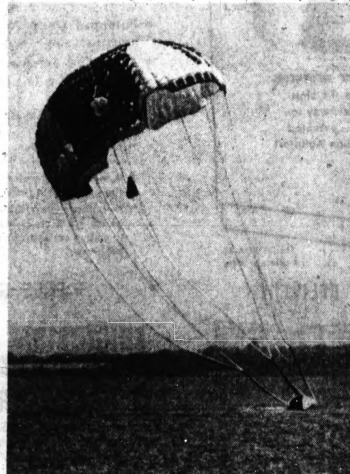

Floating target is readied on deck for Gemini parasail experiment.

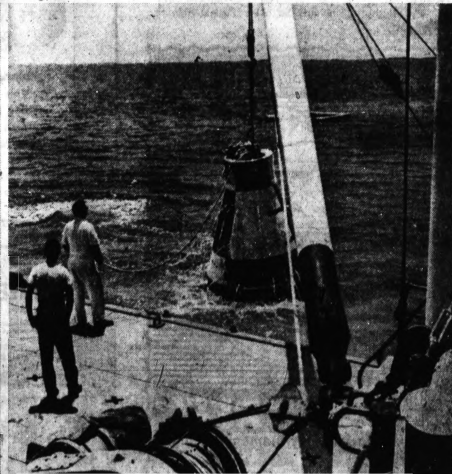

NASA photographer angles bank of cameras to follow capsule's descent from plane to water.

Parachute-borne Gemini capsule splashes down just off target.

Spouting water, capsule is hoisted aboard Retriever. Target is at top right.

DOWN THE MISSISSIPPI—These folks are standing near Angola, La. Rather, they are standing where it is represented on this miniature scale model of the Mississippi River. The layout was made by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers at their Waterways Experiment Station near Vicksburg. Since rivers and streams from the Appalachians to the Rockies drain into the Mississippi, the model duplicates most of the United States. The purpose of the electrically operated model is to study flood control and plan dams.

Defies Move to Industrialization

Farmer Bucks Trend in Africa

ADIAKE, Ivory Coast — Isaac Morrison is an unusual African farmer. He is chauffeured to his pineapple patch in a sleek, black limousine.

Morrison likes farming at a time when industrialization is the magic word in Africa's developing nations.

Countries which once were self-sufficient for their basic food crops now must import them. Ten years ago, neighboring Liberia produced enough rice to feed its population.

The population has grown very little but much rice is now imported because so many farmers left the land.

Building of new factories while importing food that could easily be grown in these mostly fertile tropical lands has helped cripple more than one nation's economy. It has also swung attention back to the farm and men like Morrison.

"It is hard work and there is lots of risk, but farming is more satisfying than anything else," he says.

FATHER PROSPEROUS

Morrison is thin, graying and slightly built at 55. He was born in nearby Ghana where his father was a comparatively prosperous timber exporter.

Educated in Ghana and Nigeria, Morrison speaks English, French and several tribal tongues. He reads widely and has made six visits to Europe.

Vast banana, coconut, coffee and cocoa plantations were operated here when the Ivory Coast was a French colony. Many French planters left when the country gained independence in 1960.

A shortage of farm labor discouraged French planters. It has largely been solved by bringing in some 800,000 workers from Upper Volta who are glad to find any employment, even outside their poor country.

The Ivory Coast is between Liberia and Ghana on the underside of the West African "bulge." It's 3.7 million people live in a tropical land about the size of New Mexico.

Almost alone among black African nations, the Ivory Coast is enjoying a boom. Profitable exports of coffee, cocoa and tropical woods provide full employment and a $150-million budget surplus.

Much of the prosperity brought about by high commodity prices trickles down to bush villages. While the French still control much of the exporting, most farms — particularly the lucrative cocoa and coffee holdings — are owned by Ivorians.

Morrison has invested profitable in such sidelines as coffee trading, a general store and a filling station — but always farmed.

PALM OIL TREES

A French-owned cannery near this village of 3,500 takes all the pineapples Morrison and his fellow growers produce. He is expanding his cognac groves, owns cocoa and coffee holdings with relatives, and is thinking about developing palm oil trees.

Morrison admittedly is an exception. The average African farmer labors long hours with his hoe and machete (bush knife) to scratch a meager living from the soil. Overworked and low paid, the remote bush farmer leads a primitive life and faces an early death.

But despite the great effort to industrialize, agriculture will remain the key to Africa's economy for many years. Morrison and men like him believe life on the farm should be improved and not scorned. Otherwise young men will continue to desert the land.

"I have two sons in school," he said. "If they don't care for the land, who will?"

Fliers Need Cold Shield

DAYTON, Ohio — If a flier is forced down in the Arctic, the pressure suit which is his protection in high altitude flying will not shield him from the cold, a researcher says.

Capt. James H. Veghte of the Aerospace Medical Laboratories, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, says shelter and fire are essential.

Special cold weather clothing should be donned to replace the pressure suit, he adds.

ARRIVES IN COURT — Former Massachusetts Gov. Foster Furcolo appeared in Superior Court in Boston yesterday for arraignment on a charge of conspiring with four 1960 executive councilors to arrange a bribe. Furcolo pleaded innocent and will file special pleas, set to be heard Monday.

Captured Yank 'Treated Well'

TOKYO (UPI) — A U. S. Navy pilot shot down during the Tonkin Gulf fighting, was quoted by Radio Hanoi of Communist North Viet Nam today as saying he is being "well-treated."

The pilot, Lt. (jg) Everett Alvarez Jr., of San Jose, Calif., was flying a carrier-based jet fighter when he was shot down Aug. 5 by a North Vietnamese antiaircraft battery.

He was taking part in an air strike ordered by President Johnson in retaliation against North Vietnamese attacks against U.S. warships in the Tonkin Gulf.

Radio Hanoi quoted only brief portions of a letter it claimed Alvarez wrote to his bride of a few months.

It opened with a greeting to his parents and said, "This letter is to let you know I am still all right. In the course of past events, when I was captured and since then, I have not been hurt nor injured in any way. I feel fine, and my health seems to be good..."

TREATED WELL

"I have been well-treated by my captors," the station quoted him as writing. "I have a big room in which to live... I am given food and water, clothing and books and papers to read. "There is medical aid available in case I need it... there is also a table and chairs where I read and eat. I do get fresh air daily and plenty of sleep."

'Glib Slogans, Risk of War Best GOP Has to Offer'

Humphrey Calls for Goldwater Rejection

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey told University of Pittsburgh students today to "reject a candidate and a foreign policy which offer us nothing better than glib slogans and the risk of nuclear war."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, said Humphrey, "has acquired his reputation for recklessness not by misinterpretation, but through his own statements."

The Democratic vice presidential nominee recalled in his prepared remarks that it was just about 11 months ago that the late John F. Kennedy was assassinated and passed "the torch of leadership for a new generation of Americans" to President Johnson.

"At next January's inaugural," added Humphrey, "the world must not witness the extinction of that torch by a man who has never realized that the American dream is progression and renewal, not stagnation and reaction. And America must not witness the extinction of the torch of our world leadership by the bitter whirlwind of holocaust."

FINAL 19 DAYS

Humphrey swung into the final 19 days of the campaign today with four stops scheduled in the big-vote state of Pennsylvania — at Reading, Johnstown, Pittsburgh and Alliquippa — and then on to Milwaukee tonight.

Speaking at a Democratic rally at Dundalk, Md., near

22 Formosans Buried Alive in Landslide Friday

TAIPEI (UPI) — Twenty-two villagers were buried alive in a landslide at Wanli, near Taipei last Friday, delayed police reports said.

Rescue workers have dug out three bodies but have not reached the others yet, the reports said.

Tons of rocks and dirt tumbled down from the top of a nearby mountain before dawn last Friday, caught the villagers asleep in a row of shacks and buried them alive, the reports said.

The reports quoted rescue workers as saying they held no hope of finding any of these villagers alive.

Baltimore, Humphrey Wednesday fired one of his sharpest attacks at Goldwater.

He called the GOP presidential candidate "a radical and a dangerous one."

The Minnesotan declared he deeply resented what he described as opponents' attacks on President Johnson and said the only answer for the "foul play" is to "give them the whipping of their lives" on Nov. 3.

LAST STRETCH

In his last stretch of the campaign Humphrey has a streamlined schedule that will send him across the country.

His aides are trying out a timetable, starting toward the end of the week, that would eliminate some of the dawn-to-midnight days that he has had in the past.

Humphrey, in his remarks to the Pittsburgh students, said he had been asked why he does so much campaigning on university campuses and he said:

"When I talk to university audiences, I am not only refreshed by new ideas — I am restored by new zest and energy. Our opponents in this campaign are going around the country saying that Americans are 'sick and tired' of this, and

Mourners May Attend Card Party

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My father passed away very suddenly two months ago. Last week a friend asked me to go to a large card party which is being given by a club to which she belongs. I would like to know if it would be improper for me to go to a public function so soon after my father's death.

A: The seduction that used to be exacted by people in mourning has been almost completely done away with and I don't think, in this present day, anyone will criticize your going to a card party.

If it was a dance, that would be something else again, but card playing is one of the few recreations permitted to people in mourning.

Q: Will you please tell me the correct way to hold a stemmed wine glass? I always thought it was held by the bowl but have been told that it should be held by the stem.

A: A small glass is held by the stem. A large stemmed glass is held with thumb and first two fingers around the base of the bowl.

Honor Dr. H. M. Nelson Upon His Retirement

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Dr. Harry M. Nelson of Kirkway Drive, who after 32 years' association with the American Cancer Society, on the national and local levels, retired Wednesday to the division's honorary life presidency.

Stanford Stoddard, chairman of the Southeastern Michigan Division, presented Dr. Nelson with a resolution and engraved sterling silver plaque at the Division's annual meeting in the Embassy hotel. Over 400 volunteers attended the dinner meeting.

The Hon. George M. Leader, former Governor of Pennsylvania and the 1964 National Crusade Chairman, lauded Dr. Nelson for his devotion and faithful pursuit in the cause of cancer. He said that he was doubly pleased to be in Detroit and pay tribute to Dr. Nelson who has not only led the Southeastern Michigan Division for the past five years, but whom he has known on the national scene for many years.

PRaises VOLUNTEERS

Mr. Leader commended the large, loyal volunteer core, who by efforts small or large, play an important role to help mankind all over the world.

Among those present were Mrs. G. Mennen Williams; Mrs. Harry Nelson, Dr. Eric Muirhead and Mesdames: Edward Wellock, J. D. Richard-

Family Moves to the City; Husband Sows Wild Oats

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last year we moved from the country to the city so our children could go to the best schools, study with the best music teachers and get all the cultural advantages of the art museum, symphony, ballet and so forth.

Well, the children haven't learned much, but their father has learned plenty. Every Saturday night I have to send my brother down to the burlesque house to drag my husband home.

My man has gone hog wild. He signed up for a course in ballroom dancing and he goes by himself every Monday night and I don't see him again until after work on Tuesday.

He says I don't need lessons because all I have to do is "follow."

He needs lessons because he has to "lead." (Is that true?) I suggested moving back to the country and he refused to go.

How can I straighten him out?

SORRY WE MOVED

DEAR SORRY: I don't know what your man "sowed" in the country, but it wasn't his wild oats because he appears to be sowing them now.

Waits your overgrown kid back onto the straight and narrow if you have to enlist a marriage counselor or clergyman to help you.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl, and people tell me I am cute-looking and have a good personality, but I have never had a real date.

I think I know why. Boys are afraid to ask me out or come over because my father is a policeman.

How can I get boys to date me with this handicap? I am hankering for a date.

DATELESS

Only a thief runs when no one pursues.

I hope you aren't hankering for dates with boys who fit this description.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ROG AT PENN: The best way to start the day right is by starting the night before.

Zonta Schedules 7th Annual Fair

Members of the Zonta Club of Pontiac have been working for months to get ready for their annual fair. Shown with some of the articles to be sold Wednesday at First Federal Savings of Oakland are

Town Hall's Opening Star

Thelma Ritter—'Fragile' Strength

By JEANMARIE ELKINS

"Acting is not for people who bleed easily."

Petite Thelma Ritter looks as though she should have a "Fragile" sign draped around her neck.

But this show business celebrity has survived the rigors of her profession for a good number of years.

Miss Ritter appeared yesterday to open the Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall season and to give a sell-out audience an insight into "The Many Faces of Show Business."

ROUGH JOURNEY

Her journey to this city was not without incident. Her plane from New York was late "on the installment plan."

Local Teachers Attend Convention

Five area teachers attended the fall convention of the Michigan Music Teachers Association held Oct. 11-13 in Ann Arbor.

They are Mrs. Lester Snell, Mrs. Carl Clifford, Mrs. Don Derragon, Mrs. Claude Kimler and Amy Hogle.

She kept being told it would be another half hour.

The bus from Detroit to Pontiac "had asthma." According to Miss Ritter, "it was ready for Medicare — obviously a senior citizen."

To complete the picture of efficiency, the hotel in front of which the bus stalled had just been robbed and was unable to lend much assistance to the stranded passengers.

The going has been rough before for one of Hollywood's most well known stars.

HARD TIMES

With the advent of talking motion pictures, many actors were without jobs. Miss Ritter and her husband, Joseph Moran, lived in an apartment house with other actors, writers and musicians.

Her husband took to entering the "Tell us in 25 words or less" contests then popular on radio. Among the items he won was a beautiful pink coat.

"I wore that coat from September to June one year, usually to hide the $2.96 dress beneath."

Miss Ritter has played the White House on two occasions and was "awestruck" with the treatment.

"I would have been happy to ride up on the freight elevator. But we were treated like visiting diplomats."

"I love directors who direct and hate directors who teach acting," says Miss Ritter. "My favorite is Alfred Hitchcock — who doesn't direct at all."

Miss Ritter describes herself as "a chronic worrier."

"If you want any worrying done, I take it in by the hour."

"A star is something — different." In her discussion Miss Ritter tried to give the audience a realistic insight into her profession. She tried to take some of the candy coating off the image and some of the gold dust out of the eyes of the hopefuls.

Writers to Meet

The regular meeting of the Oakland Writers' Workshop will be held at 1 p.m. today at the YWCA.

The Zonta club of Pontiac will sponsor its seventh annual fair Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the First Federal Savings of Oakland building. Luncheon and dinner will be served.

Mrs. Howard Brooks and Margaret Stark are co-chairmen of the affair.

For this major fund raising activity of the year, Zonta members began accumulating items at the beginning of the year.

Among the array will be knitted and other hand-made articles, clothing, toys and novelties for children, art objects, antiques; jewelry, aprons, candles and books.

Among the committee chairmen working on the fair are Mrs. Grover Scott, Mrs. Neal J. Scott, Mrs. Beecher Fawcett, Charlotte McManus, Mrs. Ralph Williams, Mrs. Adrian Ish, Mrs. Oscar Sorenson, Mrs. Dimitri Lazaroff, and Helen Travis.

Hostesses are Mrs. Earl L. Clark, Mrs. Roy Riddle and Grace Clark. Three immediate past presidents who have key positions are Mrs. Hiram H. Smith, Mrs. T. W. Jackson and Mrs. Charles S. Renwick.

Money raised by the fair will strengthen the Pontiac Zonta club's service fund and other projects benefit from the fair profits.

Sorority Group Slates Dinner for Tuesday

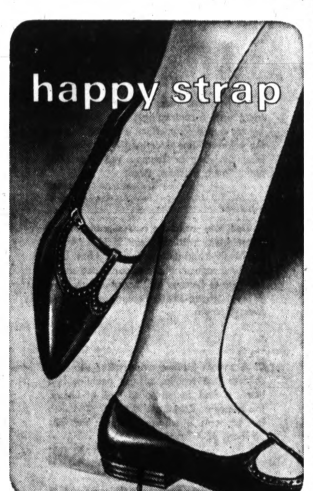

Area members of the North Woodward Alumnae Association of Kappa Kappa Gamma will hold a cooperative dinner at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Pine Tree Trail home of Mrs. Frederick Ellber.

Hostesses will be Mrs. William Decker, Mrs. Miller Hanson, Mrs. Robert Close, Mrs. Ronald Nelson, Mrs. Raymond Bender and Mrs. Howard Herbst.

October marks the 94th anniversary of the founding of the fraternity. Kappas all over the United States meet this month to pay tribute to the six girls who founded the sorority in 1870 at Monmouth College in Illinois.

Province director of chapters Mrs. Cornelius Brogan of Ann Arbor, will speak.

Mrs. Brogan will tell of some of the problems facing fraternities and sororities on campuses today.

Newlyweds Have Home in Ohio

Residing in Columbus, Ohio, after recent vows in the First Congregational Church of Rochester, are the Paul Alford Andersons (Doris Suzanne Neuman).

Their parents are the Edgar T. Neumanns of Washington, Mich. and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Stevens of Columbus.

Marcella Nagelvoort of Ferndale was maid of honor at the candlelight ceremony performed by Rev. Robert Jacobson.

Bridesmaids were Judith Hochman, Pittsburgh; Sally Jo Schmidt of Romeo; Barbara Will, St. Clair Shores, and Mrs. Lawrence Leto of Warren.

Tamara Leto was flower-girl for her aunt and Scott Brooks of Columbus carried the rings.

Best man was Robert Morris Jr. of Columbus, with ushers Lawrence Leto; Rudy Samples and John Simkins, both of Columbus; and Gerald Owen, Dublin, Ohio.

The bride attended University of Michigan and is presently enrolled at Ohio State University. Her husband attended Bliss College in Columbus.

Pirelli resilient webbing and gay colorful scotchgard upholstery are features of the new Michigan white cedar rustic furniture. The furniture will fit into a summer cottage or the family's den or rumpus room. It is virtually indestructible. Available locally.

Michigan white cedar, used often for telephone poles, fence posts and log cabins, is now being made into rustic furniture. Unbelievably light in weight, this wood is given a fruitwood finish. Tables have a rubberized plastic coating that will not peel, dent, chip, crack or stain.

Honeymooning in Missouri at the Lake-of-the-Ozarks are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arlan Martins (Carol Jean Taylor). The Christ Gospel Church of Algonac was the setting for their recent marriage before Rev. Allan E. Buck, and the reception.

Parents of the couple are the Elmer B. Caylors of Anchorville and Mr. and Mrs. Adelino Martins of Ashburnham Road, Avon Township.

COLONIAL GOWN

With her colonial gown of tiered Chantilly lace over taffeta, the bride wore a silk illusion veil. She carried white feathered carnations and pom-poms entwined with seed pearls, repeated in her tiara.

With Mrs. James DuMars of Mount Clemens, her sister's honor attendant, were bridesmaids Bonnie Wiseman and Sue Garrett of Algonac. Flower-girl and ring-bearer were Joanne and Martin Buck.

Gerald Schrubba, best man and groomsmen included William Nemeth, South Bend, Ind. and Kurk Kuhne. Seating guests were James DuMars and Ronald McDonnell.

The bride is an alumna of Eastern Michigan College of Commerce, Port Huron, and her husband was graduated from General Motors Institute. They will live on Sashabaw Road.

If the measure of a good suit depends on the absence of unnecessary lines, Brigrance can claim at least a pocketful of laurels for this well-mannered suit.

There are no superfluous lines; every one has a purpose. The pockets are neatly set into the streamlining Princess seams.

The slope of the shoulder seam is the perfect complement to the high-rise neckline. The extra gusset insert skirts away the usual bulky arms of a suit.

perfect design. To select your correct size, use Spadea's exclusive ready-to-wear size chart.

Cook and Freeze Halloween Pumpkin for Pie Treat

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

After all the Halloween hobgoblins and witches have left your premises, you can use these pumpkins bought for decoration.

When a friend told us how she made her family's Alhambra's Eve pumpkin into puree and froze it, we followed suit. A comforting-giving task! It's pleasant to have the makings of a number of pumpkin dishes at hand in the freezer — and economical, too.

Our friend, whose three chilren are "of pumpkin age" — as she says — has a family ritual.

Late in the afternoon on Halloween, she and the children cut a lid in the pumpkin (leaving on the stubby stem for a handle), remove the seeds and stringy portion, and carve out the traditional "face."

Then a candle goes into the pumpkin and the jack-o'-lantern is used for that evening's celebration.

Next day when the children come home from school, their mother cuts away the bottom part of the pumpkin onto which the candle has dripped! The children help to get the pumpkin puree ready for the freezer.

If your jack-o'-lantern turns out to be too tired to use for food, you may wish to start with a brand-new pumpkin. Either way these directions work well.

Moist and strain cooked pumpkin by putting it through a food mill. If the pumpkin puree seems to be more watery than the canned pumpkin you are accustomed to using in your recipes, allow ample time for the water to drain from it.

For this draining, you can turn the puree back into the food mill (with the blade, still attached) and stir it occasionally, or you can use a colander placed over a bowl.

Chill the strained pumpkin by setting it (in a bowl) over cold water. Fill the freezer containers (plastic, glass or treated cardboard) with pumpkin puree, leaving at least 1-inch air space at the top of each container for expansion.

When freezing pumpkin for use in pumpkin pie, fill each container with the amount of pumpkin called for in your favorite pumpkin pie recipe. If you ordinarily make two pies at a time, freeze enough puree for two pies in one container. Label and freeze.

To use, thaw several hours at room temperature.

Add Scallions Too

Garlic bread is extra savory when minced scallions are added to the garlic-butter mixture for spreading over the bread cuts. Count on using a half cup of butter (one stick) for a long loaf of French bread.

Gingerbread Goes Well With Hot Coffee

The Man of the Hour graciously answers our last question and glances casually at his wrist-watch. The happy truth is that our candidate has another group of voters awaiting him at another coffee party not far away.

He quickly swallows a final sip of coffee and departs in a flurry of thank-yous. Hopefully, he has just left behind a new group of election supporters.

This same scene is taking place in homes all over the country these days. It's the political kaffeeklatch, a friendly, informal party where candidates meet their constituency.

Both Republicans and Democrats consider political coffee parties so important they have published advice on how to give them most effectively.

Coffee-party chairmen, for instance, are encouraged to schedule several coffees in the same area to use the candidate's time to best advantage. The candidate, by the way, always arrives after the guests assemble. The party hostess makes the introductions. Then, after the candidate has greeted each guest, he gives a brief talk.

Brevity is essential; a talk any longer than twenty minutes might mean a vote for the opposition!

Finally, there is a question period. The hostess is wisely advised to prime someone with a question on the candidate's favorite topic, then allow him time to discuss it. This is his best chance to impress his listeners with his mind and personality.

Refreshments should be simple. Coffee — lots and lots of coffee — is a must, of course. If you'd prefer to serve something simple with the coffee, try this luscious Mochamallow Gingerbread. It cuts into firm slices which can be eaten out of hand, and its flavor is excellent.

Whatever you serve, be sure the coffee is your best. It could swing votes, you know.

When you measure coffee and water, follow this simple formula: one part ground coffee to six parts fresh cold water. For forty servings — enough for 20 to 25 persons — allow one pound of coffee and two gallons of water. Time the brewing carefully and keep the coffee coming as long as the party lasts.

Mochamallow Gingerbread
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 cups light molasses
2 eggs, beaten
5½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt

Cookie Topping

Small fry enjoy sprinkling sugar cookies, just before the cookies are baked, with a sugarcinnamon mixture. For this topping, use a teaspoon of cinnamon to four tablespoons of sugar.

When you are serving herring as an appetizer, it deserves an earthy dark bread and sweet butter as an accompaniment.

Whiting Bakes With Herbs

The Fish and Seafood Parade has come to town! This celebration, held annually during the month of October, marks the time when seafoods are most plentiful and prices are low.

Herb-Baked Whiting
Allow one or two whole dressed whiting per serving. Wipe fish with damp paper towels. Arrange in greased oven-proof serving dish. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, chopped parsley and chopped chives. Arrange 1 small can mushroom buttons around fish. Sprinkle with the juice of 1 lemon and ¼ cup melted butter.

Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) for 12 to 15 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

Add Sausage to Sauce

Add interest to that standby spaghetti tomato sauce by allowing Italian sausage (sweet or hot) to contribute flavor. Slice the sausage and brown it in a skillet, then let it simmer in the sauce during the last hour of cooking.

Freezer Pumpkin

Cut a pumpkin in half; cut each half into wedges and then into chunks. Remove seeds and stringy portion with a knife or by scraping it away with a spoon. Cut off the rind.

Measure enough water into a large kettle to have a 1-inch

Dough Is Soft

When you are making pastry dough for turnovers from butter, cream cheese and flour, roll out one small portion of the dough at a time; this mixture is usually soft and it takes an experienced hand to roll it out in a large quantity.

Spread Shrimp on Apples

Party time is here again, just as the best of the apple crop comes to market. A savory dip made with shrimp and a high seasoning calls for raw apple slices as the accompaniment.

Apple-Shrimp Appetizers

2 cans (5 ounces each) de-veined shrimp
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
2 tablespoons drained pickle relish
1/2 cup mayonnaise
Few drops Tabasco
Unpeeled slices of red apples

Mash shrimp to a paste; blend in Worcestershire sauce, garlic powder, horseradish, relish, mayonnaise and Tabasco. Spread on apple slices; garnish with stuffed olives and slivers of green pepper. Serve with assorted crackers. Makes about 2 cups.

Chicken Stands Out as Bargain Good Eating

To add zing to chicken salad, combine the mayonnaise with curry, ginger, and finely cut chutney to taste. Combine with the diced cooked chicken, garnish with almonds.

In making sauteed or broiled chicken, keep in mind that the bird combines especially well with these herbs and spices: tarragon, rosemary, parsley, basil, thyme, poultry seasoning, paprika, or curry.

Homemade bread crumbs make a great crisp coating for fried or oven-fried chicken. Use bread at least a day old, grate, and spread in a shallow pan overnight to dry before using.

If you are frying chicken with a flour coating, try dipping the pieces in undiluted orange juice concentrate and dredging them in seasoned flour, for a fresh new flavor. Fry as usual.

Two simmered chickens (3 pounds each) provide about 5 cups diced cooked chicken. Cool chicken, remove from bones and wrap in aluminum foil to keep handy in the freezer for unexpected guests. Use the meat for chicken salad, casseroles, or casseroles.

Busy Woman Needs Quick Recipes

Pontiac Press Food Editor

To already busy women, campaigning for the Pontiac Area United Fund is just another part of their well organized lives. They sandwich it in between chauffeuring the kids, PTA and their class at the YWCA.

But . . . when night falls, the family comes home, expecting a good dinner. The well-organized homemaker plans meals ahead when she knows she is going to be extra busy.

This year, United Fund volunteers have been given slim cookbooks featuring quickie recipes for harried housewives.

We've seen this group of recipes from area volunteers; in fact we edited them. We're going to pass some of them on to you in the weeks to come.

But in the meantime, here are a few more quick main dish recipes for United Fund workers, homemakers with outside jobs and anyone who wants to prepare dinner in a hurry.

The family will never accuse you of shortchanging them if you serve them this delicious chicken dish. That hint of spices enhances the flavor.

Mexican Chicken

2 broiler-fryer chickens, cut in serving pieces
1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 cup blanched almonds
1 can (1 pound, 4 1/2 ounces) pineapple chunks

1 1/2 cups orange juice
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon and cloves
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons water

Sprinkle chicken with salt. Melt butter in a large skillet. Add chicken pieces and brown on both sides, about 20 minutes, turning once. Add almonds last 5 minutes browning time.

Drain pineapple, measure 1/2 cup of the syrup. Add to chicken pieces with orange juice. Stir in Tabasco and spices. Cover; simmer 30 minutes. Remove chicken; keep warm.

Add drained pineapple chunks to skillet. Blend together cornstarch and water; add to skillet, stirring rapidly. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and comes to a boil.

Spoon some of the sauce over chicken; serve remaining sauce separately. Garnish chicken with avocado wedges. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Kidney beans deserve a better fate than always being assigned to the chili pot. In the following casserole dish they provide the basic starch and make the recipe a hearty one.

Burger Casserole

1 lb. ground beef
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup onion, chopped
1 teaspoon garlic, minced
4 cups (2 1-lb. cans) kidney beans

1 tablespoon chili powder
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup grated Cheddar cheese
1/4 teaspoon oregano
Dash pepper

1 cup (8 oz. can) tomato sauce
1/4 cup crushed corn chips

Brown meat in heavy skillet and turn into 2-qt. casserole. Melt butter in skillet. Add onion and garlic and saute till onion is clear. Add and mix together all other ingredients except cheese. Spoon over meat and sprinkle with cheese.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minutes or till heated through and bubbly. Makes 4 servings.

Along comes Friday and you're tired of fish. Probably you're just plain tired. So here's a main dish that will be ready in 15 or 20 minutes.

Olive-Mushroom Quick Supper

3/4 cup ripe olives
1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk
1 1/4 cups grated American cheese

Cook and stir over very low heat until cheese is melted. Stir in pimiento, olives and mushrooms; heat well. Serve over hot toast. Makes 6 servings.

Dash Tabasco
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 diced pimiento

Toast

Cut olives into wedges. Sauté mushrooms in butter over low heat until lightly browned — about 5 minutes. Remove mushrooms. Add onion and cook until tender-crisp. Stir in flour. Add milk; cook and stir until mixture boils. Add cheese, Tabasco and Worcestershire.

Cook and stir over very low heat until cheese is melted. Stir in pimiento, olives and mushrooms; heat well. Serve over hot toast. Makes 6 servings.

Skin Side Down

When you are oven-baking chicken pieces in melted butter, turn the chicken skin side down for the first half of the baking; then turn skin side up for the remaining baking time.

Hearty Dessert

Steamed puddings, served after a soup and salad supper, make a hearty contribution. To make a hearty pudding, you might like to add minced preserved ginger to regular hard sauce.

"RINGED TO WIN"—A sandwich pie and a dessert pie may be offered guests who join you to view campaign parties on the TV. Easy Ham Sandwich Pie features a large center slice of round bread, spread with a tasty deviled ham mix, set by baking. Candidate Cheese Chifon Pie can be prepared hours ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator. Key feature of this unbaked pie is its easy-to-prepare filling.

For Second Day

Leftover roast meat on hand? Slice thin and reheat in tomato sauce. Serve with rice, noodles or mashed potatoes.

Crackers to Thicken

If you like your homemade fish chowder thickened and don't want to make a white sauce, soak crackers in some of the milk and add toward the end of the cooking.

One Pie Is Meaty and One Is Sweet

How can a homemaker stimulate her friends and neighbors to vote — and to vote the way she'd like them to? The answer is almost as easy as pie.

Many politically-active homemakers have begun hostessing "at home" TV parties. After watching one of the major candidates in a campaign address, the guests participate in a follow-up discussion of his remarks. In the process many fence-sitters will be won over to the party and enthusiasm kindled for the campaign.

Obviously, no hostess can expect her guests to respond to a diet of politics alone. Politicians, like pie, need filling.

Easy Ham Sandwich Pie

2-3 tablespoons margarine
1 large (9" diameter) round slice of bread, 1/2" thick
1/2 cup (4 1/2 oz. can) deviled ham
2 tablespoons sour cream or mayonnaise
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon chopped chives
1 teaspoon instant minced onion

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Spread margarine generously over bread. Combine deviled ham, sour cream, egg, chives and onion; blend well. Spread over bread. Place on baking sheet. Bake in hot oven about 8-10 minutes or until ham mixture is set. Top with slices of raw onion rings, olives, tomatoes, and pickles, if desired. Makes 16 portions.

Candidate Cheese Chifon Pie

1 envelope dessert topping mix, prepared according to package directions
2 (3 oz.) pkg. cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
1 9" crumb crust

Cover prepared dessert topping and refrigerate. Cream together cheese and sugar, until fluffy. Add egg and flavoring; beat until well-blended. Fold in topping.

Pile lightly into pie shell. Chill, until firm, about 2-3 hours. Makes 1 9" pie.

This Sunday, when the family is gathered together, is the perfect time to serve roast duckling. It is truly a Sunday special and is bound to excite the appetites of everyone, especially when you fill the duck with this savory stuffing.

It is so quick and easy to make when you use packaged herb-seasoned stuffing. The stuffing is already prepared with just the right amount of spices and when you add your own personal touch of celery and oranges, you'll have a meal fit for a king.

Roast Stuffed Duckling
1 (4 to 5 pound) duckling
Salt
1 package herb-seasoned stuffing
1 1/2 cups finely chopped celery
1/2 cup diced orange sections
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
Orange slices

Clean and thoroughly dry duckling. Then rub with salt inside and out.

Prepare stuffing according to package directions. Add celery, orange sections, and rind to prepared stuffing mixture. Toss together lightly. Then stuff duck and secure opening with skewers. Prick bird well with a sharp fork.

Place, breast side up, on a rack in a shallow roasting pan. Roast in moderate oven (325 degrees) 2 to 2 1/2 hours. Garnish with orange slices. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Shrimp Measure

If you are serving shrimp as a cocktail, you'll find that a pound (in the shell) usually makes enough for four eaters. If you are using the shrimp for a main dish, count on a pound serving three.

Make Fudge of 2 Flavors Layer in Pan

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor

If you're interested in reviving the art of homemade candy making, we recommend this recipe to you.

In this rule, a basic fudge is made into a new two-layer, two-flavor affair. When we served the candy at our house, it was enthusiastically acclaimed.

TWO-LAYER FUDGE

1 recipe Chocolate Fudge
1 recipe Blonde Fudge
Prepare Chocolate and Blonde Fudge by recipe below. Pour Chocolate layer into pan. Prepare Blonde Fudge and pour on top.

Chocolate Fudge layer may be cold; or Blonde Layer can be poured on before chocolate layer is cold, if two people are making batches. Cool at room temperature. Cut into squares. Makes about 4 pounds.

Chocolate Fudge

3 cups sugar
¼ cup milk
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons light or dark corn syrup
3 ounces unsweetened chocolate
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts or pecans
Combine sugar, milk, butter, corn syrup and chocolate in heavy 3-quart saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils.

Then, cook, stirring occasionally, until temperature reaches 238 degrees on a candy thermometer, or until 1 teaspoon of mixture dropped into 1 cup of very cold water forms a soft ball that flattens on removal from water.

Remove fudge mixture from heat. Add vanilla. Cool to lukewarm (110 degrees). Beat until fudge begins to thicken and loses its gloss. Stir in nuts.

Quickly pour into greased 8 by 8-inch pan. When cold, cut into squares. Makes about 2 pounds.

Blonde Fudge: Follow recipe for Chocolate Fudge, omitting chocolate and increasing corn syrup to 3 tablespoons and vanilla to 2 teaspoons.

To Keep Fat White

Cook bacon over very low heat so the bacon fat will be white in color and mild in flavor. Refrigerate the bacon fat in a covered container and use for frying chicken, in a rice and seafood dish or a beef stroganoff.

Beef tenderloin should always be roasted in a hot oven for a short period of time.

TWO-LAYER FUDGE

Braised Veal

Ever hear of veal stew going to a party?

It can, of course, easily when you dress it up with mushrooms, sour cream and parsley.

With its delicate flavor, veal can be used in harmony with many ingredients including surprise ones like the herb, thyme, or cauliflowerettes as a vegetable.

For a buffet setting, serve it with rice or noodles, molded into a ring.

Veal Stew With Sour Cream

3 pounds boneless veal shoulder cut in ½-inch cubes
¼ cup flour
3 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Is Party Dish

3 medium onions, quartered
1 cup sliced celery
2 cups water
½ teaspoon thyme
1 medium head cauliflower, broken into flowerettes
1 can (4 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
1 cup dairy sour cream
¼ cup chopped parsley

Mix flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat with seasoned flour. Brown meat in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add onion, celery, water and thyme.

Cover tightly and cook slowly 1 hour and 15 minutes. Add cauliflower and continue to cook slowly 30 to 45 minutes.

Add mushrooms, sour cream and parsley. Heat through. 8 to 10 servings.

Cooked Beef Is Hearty Note

One of soup's most valuable characteristics is its ability to impart a wonderful sense of well-being. This soothing quality has accounted for its centuries of fame.

Canned condensed soups have made possible innumerable menu combinations for quick-to-prepare, nourishing, tempting meals. And now, to delight mildly even more, there are two new soups to add greater variety to her time-saving meals.

Old Fashioned Vegetable Soup has a true homemade flavor with its rich beef and vegetable stock, kitchen-cut vegetables, and enriched pearl macaroni.

Fix a tray supper for two soon, and feature the vegetable one of these great new arrivals. For added interest, diced cooked beef (a marvelous way to use that left-over roast) and chopped green pepper blend well. Pop some frozen puff pastry turnovers into the oven to bake for dessert. Supper will be ready in minutes... and what a refreshing way to end the day.

Supper Vegetable Bowl

½ cup diced cooked beef
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
¼ teaspoon oregano, crushed
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed old fashioned vegetable soup
1 soup can water

In saucepan, brown beef and cook green pepper and oregano in butter until green pepper is tender. Add soup and water. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

With Ice Cream

Time honored, but ever popular is Apple Sauce a La Mode: Just top chilled canned apple sauce with ice cream and shake a little cinnamon over all.

How to crack that egg shell? Tap the egg with a knife or rap the egg against the side of your mixing bowl.

Using frozen rabbit for a dish? Thaw before cooking!

In Teen Drinking Case

Arraignment Today for Adults

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — Thirteen adults were on court call today to answer charges that they served liquor to minors at private parties in upper-class suburbia.

Their arraignment was scheduled in the compact paneled courtroom of Circuit Judge Alfred Toscano, a stocky man with a white mustache.

Some, if not all, of the defendants are expected to plead no contest to charges that they violated a 31-year-old Connecticut law by serving drinks to minors during a round of teenage parties in neighboring Darien last June 22.

Such a plea means that the defendants express willingness to accept the penalty without admitting guilt. The charge is a misdemeanor, with a maximum penalty of a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

STIRRS CONSCIENCE

The case has stirred the conscience of well-to-do Fairfield County, a socially esteemed Connecticut suburb about 50 miles from New York.

It grew out of an auto accident in which attractive Nancy Hitchings, 17, was killed about two hours after attending a dinner party and a debaucherous gathering where hard liquor was served to the youthful guests.

Tuesday, in Darien Circuit Court, Michael Smith, 19, another guest at the parties, was sentenced to 60 days in jail and fined $50 as the driver of the death car. He reportedly consumed 12 scotches with water before the accident. His lawyers are appealing the sentence.

Smith and Miss Hitchings had attended a small dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Dutcher. He is a vice president of Johns-Manville Corp.

Evolution Texts in Texas 'Trial'

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The jury was out on the "Texas monkey war" today, much as another jury once deliberated the same issues in the famous Tennessee Scopes trial in 1925.

The jury this time was the state textbook committee. Three ministers appeared before the committee yesterday to flay the teaching of evolution as godless, atheistic and contrary to the Bible.

They were objecting specifically to a series of three high school biology books, written under the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation.

The committee was holding a public hearing on books proposed for use in state schools. Without such approval, school districts cannot use state-supplied funds to purchase the books, thus virtually ruling out the use of books not on the approved list.

The committee was expected to make its decision in a closed session today, but it wasn't known whether it would be made public immediately. The committee reports to the state board of education at the board's meeting Nov. 5.

TAUGHT EVOLUTION

John Thomas Scopes was a Tennessee teacher accused of violating state law by teaching the evolution of man from lower animals. His tumultuous trial was a landmark of the 20s.

He was found guilty and given a light fine, but the conviction was overturned on appeal by a technicality before it could reach the U.S. Supreme Court.

Yesterday, a Baptist minister, two Church of Christ ministers and two allied biology teachers testified against the three books.

Later, the youngsters moved on to the deb party at the home of psychiatrist George S. Hughes and his wife. Cohorts there were Dudley P. Felt, a consulting engineer, his wife, and William F. Otterstrom, a general auditor for Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., and his wife.

The Dutcher, the Hughes, the Felts and the Otterstroms were

Aim Program at Attracting New Doctors

ALLEGAN (AP) — A program aimed at encouraging prospective young doctors to set up practice in this area is under way at the Allegan Health Center.

Administrator Charles Yeates said the program will enable third and fourth year medical students "to observe the advantages of living and practicing in a small community."

Each student participating in the program would spend periods of one to three months visiting the area with part of that time devoted to training at the center.

He would receive a scholarship providing $200 a month plus furnished accommodations for him and his family, including free meals at the hospital and three family meals each week throughout the program.

The health center's medical staff will sponsor the program in cooperation with the center's board of trustees and other Allegan organizations.

arrested last month on order of Circuit Judge Rodney S. Eielson.

Based on testimony he had heard up to that time at young Smith's negligent homicide and reckless driving trial, Eielson declared:

"I cannot comprehend nor condone the irresponsibility of parents serving liquor to minors and aiding in the delinquency of minors. The guilt of needless loss of life is in every living room in this community and in the conscience of every parent who knew his or her child was going to be served liquor or who served liquor to a minor on that night."

1933 LAW

A 1933 Connecticut law decreed a penalty against "any person except a parent or guardian of a minor who delivers or gives any such liquors to such minor, except on the order of a practicing physician."

Connecticut forbids the sale of intoxicants to anyone under the age of 21. Also arrested in the case were three men who served as bartenders at the Darien parties — Carlton Josse, a science teacher in a Fairfield public school, and Henry K. Clem and Alan Doebler.

The other defendants named by the state were the caterers of the two parties, Emily Agnes Peterson, 51, and Helen Bussey, 56.

Because he issued the warrants, Judge Eielson was prohibited from hearing the case and it was assigned to Toscano.

Expect OK on Avondale Building Plans

The Avondale School Board is expected to give a go-ahead for final planning on the second phase of a $1.25-million building program at its regular meeting Monday.

At a discussion meeting this week, the board went over working drawings of the initial plans, which call for work at the junior and senior high schools.

The first phase of the program, financed through the sale of $850,000 in bonds, dealt with the elementary schools and has been completed.

The remaining $440,000 in bonds for the second phase were sold Aug. 17.

The building program itself dates back to Citizen's Study Committee recommendations made after a 1961 study.

AREA NEWS

The $1.25-million bond issue was approved in 1962.

Second phase plans call for the addition of two classrooms, remodeling of the kitchen, establishment of a counseling office, relocating and remodeling the library and additions to the shop and a cafeteria at the junior high school.

The senior high will gain two classrooms, relocation of the library, remodeling of science labs and an addition to the industrial arts shop. Cut out of original plans were an art room and music room at the junior high and two classrooms at the senior high, due to lack of funds.

FUTURE SITE

Out of the $440,000 allotted to the high school program, $48,638 has been spent on a future school site in the Bloomfield Orchards Subdivision area.

That leaves $391,362 for the junior and senior high schools.

Architects O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach of Birmingham told the board after a recent study that they felt the second phase could be completed for about $300,000.

The board anticipates construction costs of about $220,000 at the junior high and $118,000 at the senior high.

Troy Board Eyes New School Vote

TROY — With the Oct. 2 defeat of a $4-million bond issue for school buildings and sites, the School Board is considering three possible courses of action.

One of them would call for a vote on the same issue after a six-month lapse required by law.

Another would involve the alteration of the amount asked by 40 to 50 per cent, up or down, for a vote at any time.

The third alternative requires a petition with the signatures of 50 per cent or more of the registered voters in the district, asking that the same issue be voted on again.

In this case, the petition would enable an election to be held without a lapse of six months.

SOUND OUT PTA

At its regular meeting, the board instructed Schools Supt. Dr. Rex B. Smith to sound out the Troy PTA Council and the Citizens Election Committee about the feasibility of such a petition campaign.

Tied up in the issue are buildings and sites for the growing enrollment in the district.

Unofficial fourth-Friday figures showed a total of 4,266 students at all levels in the district's schools. This includes 2,565 elementary, 675 junior high and 1,086 senior high students.

The total compares with 4,121 at the same time in 1963, when there were 2,442 elementary, 627 junior high and 1,052 senior high students enrolled.

LESS STATE AID

The 1963-64 enrollment at this point is 42 below that anticipated in January. The difference will result in the district's receiving $10,000 less in state aid than expected this year.

The board received a progress report on path and bridge construction for walking students, showing that 10 projects are done.

Another project is partly completed but delayed by right-of-way problems.

Three are being held up by imminent installation of sewer or water lines, another by right-of-way negotiations and still another while it is decided whether a street will be put in or not.

The board authorized bus transportation for those elementary students between Delemere and Elbow Lane to Poppleton School. Those living between Elbow Lane and Todd on West Big Beaver have a crossing guard at Todd.

A safety committee, composed of two members each from the administration and the board, was established to consider walking hazards and related complaints to be submitted in writing.

Particular attention will be paid to opportunities for small business.

Dr. Milton E. Muelker, vice president for research development at Michigan State and chairman of the conference's program committee, is expecting about 200 participants.

"Michigan's future," he noted, "depends in large measure on an understanding of the resources, interactions and proper utilization of government, industry and universities."

Detroit Home Unit Loses Court Case

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court Wednesday dismissed a complaint asking it to prevent the State Civil Rights Commission from nullifying Detroit's so-called home owners' rights ordinance.

The Greater Detroit Homeowners Council contended the commission had publicly announced an intention to act against the ordinance. But Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh said the complaint gave the court no issues to act upon.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, representing the rights commission, had sought the dismissal.

He contended the commission has not indicated "it intends to exercise powers other than those granted by the Constitution."

Individual help in house planning, landscaping and interior design is available during the course.

General contractor Erwin Kerner of Utica has already staked out the property on Auburn opposite the new post office, and has begun grading.

Avon Board in Deadlock on Assessor Mileage Rate

AVON TOWNSHIP — Assessor John F. Marmon has completed a 30-day trial period on a 20 cents per mile car allowance, but he'll have to wait at least until Oct. 28 to find out what he'll get from now on.

The township board was to have decided last night whether to continue the allowance set temporarily in late August when Marmon told the board the 10 cents per mile he was receiving was inadequate.

But an abstention by trustee Lyle Knapp resulted in a deadlock vote, 3-3, on whether Marmon should get a flat $300 per year or a township car.

At the end of the trial period, Marmon turned in a mileage statement indicating that he had covered 416 miles in the course of his work.

Taken as an average, Marmon would cover about 5,000 miles a year at that rate, which would work out to 16 cents a mile if he were given an $800 flat rate.

RETURN TO 10 CENTS

Marmon told the board he would rather go back to the old 10 cents per mile rate than use a township car.

The deadlock vote led to tabling of the matter until the next meeting of the board. Marmon's compensation for that two-week period was not determined.

Campbell also asked township attorney Lewis R. Bebout for an opinion on the legality of a flat rate with no accountability.

The $800 per year proposal for Marmon would be such a rate. Supervisor Miller is now on that basis, receiving a flat $100 per month with no accountability to the board for his actual mileage.

After about two months of consideration, the board decided to pave 1.22 miles of Avon Road between Livernois and Crooks roads.

An alternate proposal to pave West Teikens Road between Rochester and Livernois roads will have to wait until next year for inclusion in the 1965-66 budget.

Funds are now available for only one of the two projects.

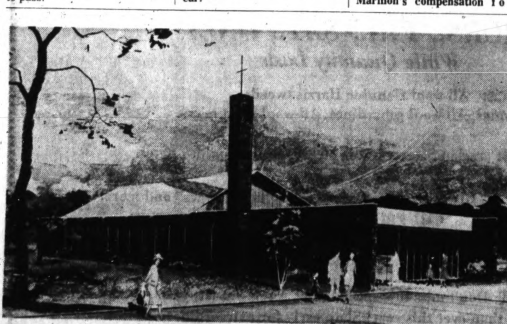

In other action, the board refused to act directly in overturning a ruling of the zoning board which denied a petition to allow construction of a station at the northeast corner of Adams Road and Walton Boulevard.

Shell Oil Co. had asked the Township Board to allow rezoning of the land from GP (general farming and residential) to commercial.

The zoning board previously turned down the firm's rezoning petition in a 4-3 vote, despite the planning commission's recommendation for approval.

Although the township board could have overturned the ruling, it decided to send the petition back to the zoning board for reconsideration.

First Peace Talks Due Between Warring Yemen Factions

CAIRO (AP) — Yemen's two warring factions are expected to hold their first peace talks next week in an attempt to end the civil war that has split the Red Sea nation for more than two years.

Authoritative sources said the United Arab Republic and Saudi Arabia, which have backed the opposing camps, will take part in the conference with the overthrown monarch, Imam Mohammed Al-Badr, and President Abdullah Al-Sallal of the Yemeni Republic.

Informants said the talks probably will be held Oct. 20 in Beirut, Amman or Port Sudan.

At the Arab summit conference in Alexandria last month, Prince Faisal of Saudi Arabia and U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser pledged to seek an end to the civil war in Yemen.

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and the premiers of Canada's 10 provinces have agreed on a formula for amendment of the Canadian Constitution by the nation's Parliament and not by Britain's.

A communique after a meeting Wednesday between Pearson and the premiers termed the agreement a "milestone in the evolution of Canada's government."

All changes in the British North America Act — the Canadian Constitution — now must be approved by the British Parliament.

An act incorporating the agreement will be approved by the provincial legislatures and

Plan GOP Dinner for Kuhn Campaign

A dinner to raise campaign funds for Richard D. Kuhn, GOP candidate for the U. S. House of Representatives, will be held Oct. 22 in Farmington.

The 6:30 p.m. dinner will be held at the Frontier House, located at the rear of the Parker House Restaurant, 30689 Grand River.

Cochairmen for the event are Mrs. John Schrenk, 2636 W. Long Lake, Orchard Lake, and Ernest Crawford, 609 E. Flint, Lake Orion.

The dinner is being sponsored by the GOP 19th Congressional District organization, recently formed at the Republican State Convention, to serve the new congressional district.

Tried Candy, Quit Smoking; So Did Gun

PASCO, Wash. (AP) — John Severson just may give up candy mints.

Since he quit smoking, Severson always has carried a cylinder of the mints in his pocket. Out hunting, he reached into his pocket for a cartridge, loaded his shotgun and pulled the trigger when a pheasant was flushed.

All he heard was a click. Severson opened the chamber and out popped the cylinder of candy.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The Malaysian government said today its forces have killed three more Indonesian guerrillas and captured 16 in Jobore State in the past few days.

The announcement said two guerrillas were killed in the Lahis region of Jobore, where an estimated 96 Indonesians made a parachute drop Sept. 2. The third guerrilla was killed and 16 prisoners taken in the southwest coastal area of Pontian, where more than 100 armed raiders landed Aug. 17.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The military advisers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization ended a routine meeting today after discussing alliance defense plans for the area.

"Detailed attention was given to the plans for the defense of the SEATO treaty area as part of the constant high priority requirement to meet likely contingencies," the final communique said.

Admiral U.S. Grant Sharp, commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific, told a news conference after the meeting that the discussion stuck to military matters and that politics was not brought up.

He said the advisers did not discuss the extension of SEATO military aid to South Viet Nam. Nor was the Indonesian-Malaysian dispute brought up, he said.

Southern Governors All Oppose Reapportionment Ruling

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Southern governors agreed to disagree with federal courts on legislative reapportionment.

But a move by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace to demand an end to federal intervention in public school affairs met formal defeat, although receiving a majority vote Wednesday at the final session of the 30th Southern Governors Conference.

Action on resolutions highlighted the final few hours of the annual meeting, which was dominated the first two days by presidential campaign talk.

Most of the governors — 16 Democrats and one Republican — predicted President Johnson would carry all but a few Southern states.

Texas Gov. John B. Connally, a former secretary of the Navy and a friend and long-time political worker for Johnson, was named conference chairman.

Virginia Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr. is vice chairman.

SCHOOL PROPOSAL

Wallace told newsmen at the opening of the conference about his resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to give states exclusive control over public schools. He conceded then it had little chance of success because conference adoption requires unanimous approval.

When the Wallace resolution was presented for a voice vote, Govs. Edward Breathitt of Kentucky and Elbert N. Carvel of Delaware said "No" loudly. Connally said later he did not vote.

Carvel told newsmen he thought at least two other governors also voted against the measure.

"I just want to say that I think it is highly significant that the majority of this conference voted in favor of the resolution," Wallace told fellow governors.

UNANIMOUS VOTE

The 11 conference members attending the final session voted unanimously for a resolution by Mississippi Gov. Paul B. Johnson supporting a constitutional change that would let one house of a state legislature be picked on some basis other than population.

Federal courts have held that population is the sole criteria for legislative representation.

Another resolution calls for a government study of what effect foreign trade has on jobs under the antipoverty program.

Other resolutions ask that the cotton subsidy program be made permanent, that legislation be passed to regulate oil imports, that distribution of federal research funds be revised to include more universities, that a study be made of a possible interstate compact on surface mining, and that the conference continue its fight for equitable freight rates for Southern lines.

Invitations were presented for the 1965 conference to be held in Charleston, S.C., and Sea Island, Ga. A decision on the site will be made later.

New Movie 'The Outrage' Lost Fine Art in Translation

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD—The new

"The Outrage" is more perplexing than outrageous. It poses the age-old inquiry: What is truth? The only answer is provided by a con man: "People see what they want to and they say what they want to hear."

THOMAS

Like "The Magnificent Seven," "The Outrage" performs a classic Japanese film

—it was also a Broadway play — to a Western setting.

But something was lost in the translation of Kurosawa's great "Rashomon"; somehow its art doesn't register amid the gunfights as it did with the samurai.

Three lone figures gather in a rainstorm at a broken down railroad station — a disheartened preacher, a garrulous charlatan, an idealistic prospector. Together they relate the scandal of a small Western town.

THREE VERSIONS A trial has been held. A Mexican bandit was accused of the rape of a woman and the murder of her husband. But the testimony of the bandit, the woman and the dying words of her husband provide three versions of what happened.

Then the prospector confesses he saw the whole thing, and it was entirely different from what the other three said.

"The Outrage" could have been a clever exercise in irony, and it does sustain interest through much of the story-telling, thanks to director Martin Ritt and top-flight acting. But the irony rusts in the final sequence, which descends to farce and erases any pretense to serious consideration.

Paul Newman, Claire Bloom and Laurence Harvey perform above and beyond the call of duty in enacting their charade four times. Newman is robust, but his accent makes him sound a bit like a growly Jose Jimenez OVERDUE AWARD? Edward G. Robinson, William Shatner and Howard da Silva are fine as the narrators, especially Robinson as the con man. His performance might well draw an Academy Award that is long overdue.

Samuel Goldwyn Jr. attempted with "The Young Lovers" something his father never did — to direct as well as produce a motion picture. The results indicate that young Sammy Macapagal said he leaves the United States convinced more than ever of the unbreakable bonds between our two peoples and with an increased feeling of affectionate esteem for you.

Sees America in Grave Danger

Birch Founder Dedicates Life to Cause

(Editor's Note: One of the most mysterious organizations in the United States is the John Birch Society. In this first of two dispatches, a UPI reporter examines what the society is. The second story will deal with where the group stands.)

By MYRON FEINSILBER
United Press International

When Robert H. W. Welch Jr., a retired candy maker from Massachusetts, gathered 11 businessmen in an Indianapolis hotel room on Dec. 8, 1958 to found the John Birch Society, he told his listeners:

"The Communists, through long and careful and insidious preparation, already have gone at least one-fourth of the way towards the accomplishment of their third and final step—which is taking over this country."

Three years later, the society reported "The total Communist influence over our national activities" at "a minimum of 40 per cent of total control."

And, in its latest evaluation, the society found the U.S. "50 to 70 per cent Communist-controlled."

In its sixth year of existence, the John Birch Society by its own accounting thus finds the scope of its self-assigned task increasing . . . and also finds itself the subject of more controversy — and probably more curiosity — than ever.

EXTREMISM ISSUE

They result in part from the emergence of the "extremism" issue in the Presidential campaign. Liberal Republicans fought at their party's San Francisco convention to condemn the Birchers by name, along with the Ku Klux Klan and the Communist party, in the 1964 platform.

They lost the fight, but the fight focused attention on the Birch society. The Democrats proceeded to single out the three groups for condemnation.

The Birch Society has remained a mystery to most Americans.

"You had probably never heard of John Birch before our society came into the limelight," says Robert H. W. Welch Jr., its founder. "This is simply because the Communists in Washington planned it that way."

Welch makes the statement in the course of a two day speech which he estimates he has delivered 29 times.

In its printed form, it is the famous "Blue Book," which contains Welch's analysis of the Communist threat to America. He believes it is wholly internal, from domestic Communists.

BIRCH WAS MISSIONARY

Welch explains that John Birch was a Christian missionary in China who was killed by the Chinese Communists 10 days after V-J Day.

"He thus became probably the first American casualty in that third world war, between the Communists and the ever-shrinking 'free world,' which is still being waged against us," Welch says.

"His heroism, accomplishments and nobility of character were to make him a legend which the Communists could not allow to live," Welch adds.

And he charges it required five years of effort "to pierce the blanket of oblivion which had been so brazenly thrown over his life and death by Communist sympathizers in our government."

FORMED SOCIETY

The 11 businessmen from nine states who heard Welch tell about John Birch and the Communist conspiracy in the Indianapolis hotel agreed to join with him and formed the society.

Welch says chapters exist in all the states except Alaska and Hawaii.

Nothing about Robert Welch suggests zealotry. He has said "The secret Communist looks and acts just like anybody else only more so" and he, too, looks like anybody else.

He is a short, white-haired, soft-spoken man, a lover of practical jokes, sometimes quick to anger, a nervous public speaker. He is a native of North Carolina, a product of that state's university and of Harvard and the U.S. Naval Academy, a former vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers, a resident of the well-to-do Boston suburb of Belmont. He was born in 1899.

In the 1940s he became alarmed over the spread of communism and socialism. He visited England in 1948 to study its Socialist government. He made a month-long trip around the world in 1949.

FIGHTS COMMUNISM

He visited President Syngman Rhee of Korea and President Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China in 1955, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Germany in 1956. He decided to devote the rest of his life to fighting communism. His associates say he devotes 18 hours a day to that cause.

The businessmen who listened to Welch for two days — while a tape recorder took down his soliloquy — were told:

"You have only a few more years. We are living . . . in such a fool's paradise as the people of China lived in 20 years ago.

DANGER INTERNAL

"The danger is almost entirely internal from Communist influences right in our midst and treason right in our government."

Welch said communism was being slipped over on the American people gradually and insidiously. Before long, he said, "They can no longer resist the Communist conspiracy as free citizens, but can resist the Communist tyranny only by themselves becoming conspirators against established government."

"The greatest enemy of man is, and always has been, government."

"We are not beginning any revolution, nor even a counter-revolution in any technical sense . . . yet our determination to overthrow an entrenched tyranny is the very stuff of which revolutions are made."

Welch pointed out that the Constitution does not use the word "democracy."

DEMOCRACY MERELY

"Democracy is merely a deceptive phrase," he said, "a weapon of demagoguery and a perennial fraud." The founding fathers "visibly spurned a democracy as probably the worst of all forms of government."

Then he outlined what he thought should be done to save the republic.

He made it clear that the society would be monolithic. "No collection of debating societies is ever going to stop the Communist conspiracy from taking us over," he said.

He estimated 5 million Americans were supporting "ineffective" anti-Communist groups.

He said he could win the battle with communism "If I could coordinate the activities of those million men and women with some degree of positiveness and efficiency approaching the coordination by the Communists of their members and fellow travelers."

ORIGINAL STRUCTURE

The society retains the structure Welch outlined. There are no other national officers and no elections. There is no accounting of funds to members. And while its goal is 1,000,000 members, it declines to say how many members it does have.

A "council" of 38 members or fewer exists, its chief purpose to advise Welch and to pick his successor in event of his death. Paid and volunteer "coordinators" recruit members. Local and national "end-orers" lend their names to the society, but are not necessarily members.

The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, a Jewish men's society, recently studied right-wing organizations. By its analysis of the Birch Society's reports to the attorney general of Massachusetts, it estimated membership at 24,000, at the maximum, at the end of 1962.

It estimated society income at $1 million last year. (Others have estimated membership as high as 100,000. Welch declines to disclose the figure.)

Dues are $24 for men, $12 for women, a year. A life membership costs $1,000.

ORGANIZE CHAPTERS

Members are organized in chapters of 10 to 20 persons. A community can have any number of chapters. The society is said to be strongest in Texas, California and Ohio and weakest in the East.

At the start of each month, each member receives in the mail the society's "bulletin." It lists the month's "projects." Welch writes the bulletin himself and signs it. He points out that no member is required to carry out any "project" which interferes with his conscience.

But members know they can be dropped from the society, without explanation or appeal, any time headquarters in Belmont decides upon it.

"Those members who cease to feel the necessary degree of loyalty can either resign or will be put out," Welch said in forming the society.

Americans Not Yet Able to Bolster Shaky Regime

Observers Ponder Past, Present, Future of U.S. in S. Viet Nam

By The Associated Press
Q. Is the attempt to hold back the Communists in South Viet Nam being stepped up?
A. The number of U.S. advisers is increasing. Special Forces operating in small units throughout South Viet Nam have been beefed up 50 per cent. About 1,000 of these tough Americans in about 60 teams are on the job.
Civilian economic advisers are being increased. More support goes to the "pacification" program, an attempt to win rural people by bringing economic, technical, educational and other aid to gain their confidence.

Q. What about the hamlet program?

A. These were called "strategic hamlets" by the Diem regime, which started them. Now they are "new life hamlets." Often they are fortified with bamboo-spoke fences, behind which are armed local militia. The system under Diem aroused rural resentment.

Government troops often forced villagers from their homes, burned villages, made people live in the fenced-in compounds.

Force is no longer used, and other aspects are changed, but there is still little indication of over-all improvement in the hamlet effort.

Q. Why does the Saigon government have so much political trouble?

A. A variety of reasons. Diem's government was widely criticized as having a dictatorial attitude. The army was full of rivalries and corruption, lacked initiative.

Troops and officers often showed little will to fight or pursue the enemy. Unrest in cities was widespread.

Q. Doesn't South Viet Nam claim to stand for democracy?

A. Yes, but it's a distant goal. A military coup overthrew the Diem regime last November. A government under Maj. Gen. Duong Van (Big) Minh foundered and in turn was overthrown by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

This remained essentially a military dictatorship. Khanh called himself president, later adopted the title of premier. Big Minh now is titular chief of state.

The only political party of any significance, the Dai Viet, with an anticommunist, anti-Communist background, plays little part in today's government.

Q. Did the coups help matters?

A. At first. Buddhist resistance to Diem helped produce his downfall.

This same volatile factor threatens Khanh although he is a Buddhist. There is unrest among students, intellectuals, other urban political elements.

Students have staged rallies demanding that Khanh step aside in favor of a civilian government. Some Buddhists call him a dictator.

Q. From all this, it seems the United States has a tiger by the tail. What are the alternatives?

A. None are pleasant. (1) The United States could consider Red China and North Viet Nam the root of the trouble and extend the war in an effort to end outside Viet Cong support. This might cause general war in Asia.

(2) The United States could agree to neutralization of South

JOINT EFFORT — U.S. Air Force C123 transports drop Vietnamese troops on a Viet Cong-infested area of Tay Ninh province. The paratrooper drop is one way U.S. aid is used to fight Communists in Viet Nam.

Viet Nam. This would be viewed by many as a step toward Communist control. (3) The United States can continue as it is, looking forward to a long, hard struggle.

Q. Who supports neutralization?

A. France's President Charles de Gaulle it, evidently meaning neutralization of all former French Indochina. Communist North Viet Nam is unlikely to agree to neutralizing itself but would accept neutralization of the south.

Hanoi supports a new Geneva Conference, apparently with that goal in mind. President Johnson has denounced talk of neutralization or U.S. withdrawal.

Q. Is the United States getting help from its allies?

A. Washington asked 25 nations to help. About 10 help with small training missions or economic aid, but the United States carries practically all the burden.

Q. What does it cost?

A. At the rate of about $500 million annually since 1961, but likely to be $600 million in 1964 for all types of aid. From all causes, the United States lost 284 dead, about 2,000 wounded as of Oct. 1.

Q. If U.S. forces are only advisers, why so many casualties?

A. The word "combat" is avoided but Americans are in combat often. There is a fiction that U.S. pilots fly planes only as advisers, but any Vietnamese abroad often will be along just for the ride.

Q. Why did North Viet Nam attack U.S. warships in the Tonkin Gulf?

A. Few believe it would have happened without Red Chinese approval. The guessing is that it was a test of both U.S. and Soviet reaction. Both Red China and North Viet Nam are feuding with the Soviet Communists.

Q. Is there a danger Viet Nam will be another Korea?

A. U.S. officials say pouring in hundreds of thousands of U.S. troops — as in Korea — would be no solution and the United States doesn't plan to do so.

Q. What about the question of extending the war to the north?

A. Premier Khanh advocated it, then toned down the suggestion. Washington never firmly ruled out the idea publicly, although U.S. authorities said it would not be policy to extend the war.

Q. Didn't the Tonkin Gulf crisis raise a prospect of Peking's interference?

A. The Red Chinese threatened before the crisis to intervene if the war was carried to the north. After U.S. planes bombed North Viet Nam shore installations, the Chinese showed little inclination to widen the conflict.

Q. Can Premier Khanh hang on in the face of all the odds?

A. He says he'll turn over power to a civilian national council by Oct. 27, as a step toward a more democratic regime. But South Viet Nam's chronic imbalance leaves the success of this project in doubt.

Q. Can the struggle be won?

A. The outlook at the moment is gloomy. Allegiance of the rural people is a key to victory but that requires large-scale retooling of Saigon politics.

There is widespread fear in the countryside that the Communists are winning, and people tend to flock to a winner's banner. The government's failures in education, in coping with Red propaganda and in keeping young men from joining the Viet Cong are costly.

There is still official misbehavior and even corruption in local government. U.S. policy is to regard victory as possible, but the responsibility of the Vietnamese.

A. What's at stake in South Viet Nam?

A. Washington says the outcome will profoundly affect the future of Asia and underdeveloped areas in Africa and Latin America. President Johnson has said the future of all Southeast Asia is at stake and that the United States must remain determined to stand by Viet Nam.

Metal Hits Auto, Killing Driver, 58

KINGDOM CITY, Mo. (AP) — A five-pound piece of metal apparently fell from or was kicked up by a truck, and Ivan A. Berry, 58, a hatchery and feed merchant at Sedalia, was killed Wednesday when it smashed through the windshield of his car.

Berry was returning from the World Series game in St. Louis and was driving behind a dump truck about eight miles east of Kingdom City. His car went off the road into a culvert.

Economists estimate that some 75,000 families will have acquired vacation homes this year.

Precincts Still Grass Roots of Elections

(EDITOR'S NOTE: — As every practical politician knows, it's the battle in the precincts that produces the payoff on election day. It's here that countless workers toil to bring out the vote for each party. Their efforts can be decisive. This is the second of two articles on this grass-roots combat.)

By LARRY SPURUS

WASHINGTON (U) — Across the nation the infantrymen of politics are on the march. By the thousands, the men and women who fight in what politicians call the grass roots are tramping the streets with but one goal — voters on Nov. 3.

They are men and women like:

• Joseph F. Lockard, 51, a professional politician who is Democratic committeeman for his district in Philadelphia. With him politics is a full-time job.

• Mrs. Norman Harrower of Hamden, Conn., a Republican worker who says cheerfully "My life is involved with Yale University, three children and a lot of politics."

• Harlan Weber, 30, of Little Rock, Ark., an insurance claims adjuster making his first political plunge on behalf of a young and growing Republican party in the South.

• Lynn Sperry, 87, retired farmer who first began harvesting Republican votes north of Bismarck, N.D., in 1908 when William Howard Taft beat William Jennings Bryan.

ALL DO SAME

For all, this is the busy season. An Associated Press survey of precinct work across the nation showed they all are doing pretty much the same thing.

For weeks, now, they've been locating potential voters and getting them registered. The job now is one of trying to convince the undecideds and, above all, of getting those people favorable to their candidates to the polls on election day.

Fifty years ago, when an immigrant was sick and jobless, and his youngsters were hungry and cold, more often than not a ton of coal or a basket of food would be delivered, compliments of the local ward boss. Come election day, the commitment was usually returned, in the form of a vote.

One of the basic elements of precinct work — personal service — remains. Today's precinct worker offers the voter a ride to the polls, or baby-sitting service if necessary.

KNOWS EVERYONE

Lockard, a Philadelphia district committeeman since 1952, says he knows every family in his district. When they have problems with traffic lights, zoning or trash removal, they know he's a man who can go to bat for them at City Hall.

"They understand what we do well enough on a year-around basis," he said, adding that they often consult him on election day. "These people may not have much formal education, but you can't fool them."

There's no question among political leaders of both parties about the value of good grass-roots organization.

They point, for instance, to the whopping vote for Sen. Barry Goldwater turned out by thousands of his dedicated backers in Los Angeles and Southern California in that state's June 2 Republican presidential primary.

WORKS FOR GOLDWATER

Goldwater went on to win the GOP nomination. The same team, beefed up, is working for Goldwater again in a state which the nominee considers crucial to his election chances.

"We win or lose elections in a precinct a vote at a time," said Matthew Reese, special assistant to Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey. "Our job is to get the ones convinced to vote for us from in front of their television sets to the registration office and then to the polls."

With registration books in most states closed or closing, the emphasis now is on convincing voters. Some party workers think it's a waste of time and effort to work on members of the other party. But others think it can be fruitful.

As one GOP worker in Tulsa, Okla., put it: "Party lines are no longer valid in Tulsa County. It's moved to conservative vs. liberal."

PRECINCT ACTIVITY UP

Party leaders and neutral observers report a general increase in precinct activity in most states. It could be an important factor if voter turnout — reflecting widespread reports of apathy — is light.

Nowhere is this increased activity more apparent than in the South where an army of Republican workers has suddenly been mobilized.

"Win, lose or draw in November, the Republican party is in the South to stay," said Raymond V. Humphreys, director of education and training for the Republican National Committee.

He conceded that some of the enthusiasm is for Goldwater only, but said a majority of the workers are sold on the GOP, with or without the senator.

NO HOME WITH DEMS

Much of the muscle, he said, comes from young businessmen, executives and civic club members "who found they had no home in the Democratic party."

If there's a new breed of grass roots worker in the suburbs and city streets for votes, what happened to the old ward heeler and his ton of coal?

Reese provides at least three answers:

• The voters, as a group, are more intelligent.

• Patronage, the reward for faithful precinct work, has been reduced.

• Public and private welfare sources now provide help that the ward boss used to dole out. Who has replaced the ward heeler, and why?

INTERESTED AS STUDENT

Lockard first got interested in politics as a student at the Harvard School of Business Administration after World War II. A professor asked him if he'd like to help a young friend — a man the professor predicted would someday be president.

Lockard agreed. Years later, in 1960, he had the satisfaction of seeing his Philadelphia district go for John F. Kennedy by 350 to 200.

His day usually starts at the city's Democratic headquarters where he runs through his mail and keeps in touch with party leaders in the state legislature and the city's members of Congress. During registration periods he extends his hours to three nights a week and works weekends.

Lockard also makes use of his sons — 10 and 11 years old. They report new arrivals in the neighborhood and help distribute campaign literature.

LIVE POLITICS

At one time Lockard owned a string of shoe repair shops "but I live politics, so I just sold the stores." He now earns $13,200 a year, paid by the Democratic City Committee.

Mrs. Harrower, the wife of a Yale University faculty member, was active for years in civic life.

"I've done all the civic jobs I could do — art galleries, United Fund, symphony orchestras, just name it. But I just felt that civic work wasn't as rewarding as politics, where everything you do is needed."

"Fortunately, I am blessed with a husband who not only is interested in what I do in politics but who wants me to do it," she adds.

Mrs. Harrower, 36, was a backer of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania for the GOP nomination this year. She is, nevertheless, working hard for Goldwater.

Why do anything?

"I know it sounds corny," she said. "I just darn well want to hold up my head and be proud of the Republican party and be part of this human chess game called politics."

Mrs. Sima Odanovich, 48, a Republican precinct worker in Fargo, N.D., cites another reason. A Czech-born Austrian citizen who came to the United States 14 years ago, she says:

"I went through Hitler's war. When I came to this country I didn't want to get involved in politics. But I saw so many opportunities in this country and people weren't waking up, so I got involved."

PERSONAL CONTACT

While the people may have changed, the basic tool of precinct work — personal contact — hasn't.

Both parties are making wider than ever use of telephone canvassing, but, in the words of Humphreys, the GOP committee official, "it doesn't beat shoe leather. Nothing beats eyeball-to-eyeball contact."

While the aim is the same as ever — votes — there are some new wrinkles in precinct work.

Ohio Democrats, for instance, are using computers to produce lists of unregistered voters by street address, thus making it easier to contact them.

In Florida, a Democratic leader got volunteers by the simple expedient of asking for them in the want-ad columns.

A Republican county leader in Florida showed an AFL-CIO film about precinct work in a Wisconsin Democratic candidate's victory "to get our people fired up a little."

ESKIMO HOUSES

QUESTION: What are Eskimo houses made of?

ANSWER: The Eskimo snow igloo (1) is so well known that many people think Eskimos live in snow houses and nothing else. But these wonderfully ingenious little dome-shaped homes are mostly built in the central Canadian Arctic region, where there is an absence of other materials.

Using long bone snow knives, Eskimos slice blocks of closely-packed snow and lay these on edge in a spiral, winding up and sloping inward. A single key block is fitted on top. The entrance leads down first, and then up, conserving the heat.

A sleeping platform of packed snow, with skins piled on it, acts like a bed. These houses are warmed with seal and whale oil, burned in lamps made of stone or pottery, over which the cooking is done. Such snow igloos are winter dwellings.

Some families build them in a community near the sea, where fish and seals can be caught. In summer, the families separate, many striking inland to follow the caribou, which give them valuable hide and fur as well as meat.

On these journeys they live in skin tents, some as in (2), others shaped like an Indian tepee. Where it is possible to obtain driftwood or flat stones, Eskimos will build winter houses of sod piled over an inner structure (3).

FOR YOU TO DO: Compare these tiny Eskimo dwellings, where seven or eight people live crowded together in a space about 10 feet square, with your own house where you have so much room and comfort.

Soviet Scientists Lavish in Praise of Space Flight at Meeting Honoring Cosmonauts

MOSCOW (AP) — "The ground called cosmodrome is wonderful, from here roads run to the planets."

Scientists waxed poetic with this and other praises of the three-man Soviet space flight during a meeting at the Baikonur launching site honoring the crewmen of the spaceship Vostok-1.

The cosmonauts "looked very well, cheerful, energetic," Trud reported today.

Red Star, the Soviet Defense Ministry paper, said the three travelers returned to Baikonur Tuesday night with smiles and "no signs of tiredness on their faces."

Photographs and other indications had pointed toward some physical discomfort and possible illness on the part of the scientist in the space crew, Konstantin Feoktistov, 38. On earlier space flights, spokesmen claimed the cosmonauts were feeling fine but Soviet scientists later admitted temporary ill effects.

Trud said the cosmonauts are now at the disposal of doctors. Each crewman is making a full, separate report on his part in the 16-orbit, 24-hour trip.

They were loaded with flowers at the meeting at the launching site, Trud said.

It described the main thought of the meeting as being: "Our country is remarkable, our people great, that they were able to make such a thing which delights the entire world, the entire mankind."

There was still no official word on when the cosmonauts would come to Moscow for the traditional triumphant reception in Red Square. Informed sources indicated earlier it would be this weekend.

Construction crews worked through the night under floodlights erecting stands, flagpoles and other facilities in Red Square for a celebration. They are primarily intended for the Revolution Day parade Nov. 7, however.

Man in Brooklyn Slays 2 Detectives, Then Self

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn man sought as a wife beater got the drop on two detectives and shot them to death with a rifle early today, police said.

He then took their service revolvers, police said, went home and killed himself with one of the pistols. The man was identified as Donald Guyette, 35, of Brooklyn.

The gunplay erupted after a clergyman, whom Guyette and his wife had been consulting about their marital discord, tipped off police that the man had threatened to shoot his wife.

The clergyman told where Guyette could be found — in an apartment he shared with another woman, police said.

SLAIN DETECTIVES
The slain detectives were James Donegan, 38, and Sol Potenza, 35.

When detectives found Guyette dead in his home with a bullet through his head, they searched the apartment and uncovered five rifles and two automatic pistols. These were in addition to the rifle found in Guyette's car parked near his home.

The clergyman who had been trying to help the Guyettes is the Rev. William H. Lothrop of the Calvary Baptist Church of Manhattan, police said.

WARNED POLICE
The Rev. Mr. Lothrop notified detectives and told them Guyette was a "vicious character" and had a police record in Boston. He also told the detectives the best place to look for Guyette was at a basement apartment in Brooklyn, where he might be with a woman — later identified by police as Victoria Brown, 20, an unemployed waitress, of Brooklyn.

Donegan and Potenza were sent to the basement apartment to pick up Guyette.

A few moments after their arrival, timed at 12:20 a.m.,

SWISS BOOTERS LOSE

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Switzerland sagged to a 10 defeat against Northern Ireland in the first leg of a World Soccer Cup qualifying round tie Wednesday night.

KEY PLAYERS

Tricky quarterback Tom Sterner, a senior, and junior end Dennis Hilliker are the key performers on offense and, also, man defensive halfback slots.

League title will continue Friday at Oxford

The Wildcats are the team that tied Kettering for the championship last year, despite a 34-0 trouncing when the Captains inaugurated their new field last year.

Lapeer, expected to battle for the crown, will try to raise its 1-4-1 leap mark in a 7:30 p.m. contest at Romeo (6-2).

The Wayne-Oakland circuit's top encounters have Milford at West Bloomfield and Northville at Bloomfield Hills, the latter at 3:30 p.m. tilt.

League leading Milford (3-0) has to win to stay ahead of the host, Lakeland (2-1). Holly also is 2-1 and will host winless Brighton.

ELIMINATION

Both Northville, defending co-champion, and Hills, under new coach Bill Tunniff, are 2-1 and will be fighting to stay alive. Clarenceville (1-2) will attempt to break its sixth place tie with Clarkson when it visits the Wolves.

Millington will play at Deckerville and North Branch is host to Imlay City in key South Central League games. The Millington and North Branch eleven are 1-0 in the race, and will meet next week.

Orionville Brandon will travel to Flint Hamdy for a Genesee Suburban conference clash.

Kettering has won four straight and yielded only one touchdown in its bid for recognition among the state's top Class A gridiron powers.

All-County candidate Jim (The Traveller) One Haviland will attempt to add to his touchdown total which is now seven.

Swiss Booters Lose

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Switzerland sagged to a 10 defeat against Northern Ireland in the first leg of a World Soccer Cup qualifying round tie Wednesday night.

DRYDEN DYNAMITE — Quarterback Tom Sterner puts the spark to a good Dryden eleven that has exploded for a 4-0 mark this year. The diminutive senior's strongest point is his excellent ball handling. He calls the plays, too.

Moment of Truth Arrives for Dryden Football Team

The moment of truth approaches for the Cardinals — Dryden's football Cardinals, that is.

The school's most successful entrant in the Southern Thumb gridiron race faces its biggest hurdle probably of the entire season Friday night when it visits the Wolves.

Both teams are 4-0. Both are rated among the top 10 in the Associated Press' weekly Class C-D prep poll.

The defending champion Rockets, third rated, have used the 10-touchdown running of fleet Rich Chennault to post their four wins, boosting their two-year winning streak to 12 in a row.

The Dryden squad will also be shooting at the New Haven 11-game home winning string and the 10 straight league victories the Rockets have produced. The tilt will mark New Haven's homecoming.

Coach Bob Mason of the 10th ranked Cardinals professes having one of the slowest teams in the league and also one of the smallest offensive teams.

Tricky quarterback Tom Sterner, a senior, and junior end Dennis Hilliker are the key performers on offense and, also, man defensive halfback slots.

Romey will conduct the first face-off at center ice as Detroit opens its 39th season in the NHL.

Gov. Romney on Hand for Red Wings' Opener

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney will be at Olympia Stadium tonight when the Detroit Red Wings host the Toronto Maple Leafs in the opening National Hockey League game for both teams.

But the U.S. stars of the past — Billy Steintraus, Frank Chappot, May Meirs and Kathy Kusner — will be missing. All four are in Tokyo for the 1964 Olympic Games.

In their place comes the new breed of American equestrian. One is Billy Robertson, 23, a former Golden Gloves boxer from Darien, Conn. Another is Jim Saurino, 20, a one-time prep school quarterback from Miami.

Joining them are Neal Shapiro, 19-year-old rider from Glen Head, N.Y., and Carol Hoffman, 21, a slender brunette from North Branch, N.J., who won the first even in which she rode.

Perfect Shooting in Skeet Contest

DALLAS (AP) — Ed Dvorak of Albuquerque, N.M., a perfect winner in 410 gauge competition Wednesday, led 118 entrants today into the 35 gauge class of the Pan-American Skeet Championships.

Dvorak didn't miss a single bird in 100 shots in a performance described as equalled only on eight other occasions in 410 gauge skeet competition.

Martin (Bubba) Wood of Dallas was awarded second place after deadlocking with W. T. (Bill) Session III of Los Angeles at 98.

Kathy McGinn of Houston won the women's title with 91 out of 100.

I-L Teams to Test 'Non-League' Foes

Is the Inter-Lakes League or the Eastern Michigan circuit stronger in football this fall? The answer will come Friday when three teams from each league square off.

Walled Lakes strong I-L leader entertains Detroit Eastern in a game that should indicate the relative strength of the Motor City's public school football.

Port Huron, the fourth member of the EML, is at Hamtramck. Mt. Clemens has a 1-2-1 record opposed to PNH's 1-3, but the Bathers have shown more scoring punch and this will make them favorites.

Bob Herry, John Ashby and Rosco Herring are the scoring threats for Mt. Clemens. ONE TOUCHDOWN Pontiac Northern hasn't scored since its opening game.

Eastern Show Will Preview Young Riders

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A potential Olympic team of the future will carry the banner of the United States into international jumping competition at the 1964 Pennsylvania National Horse Show opening here.

Challenging U.S. supremacy in the week-long event will be teams from Brazil, Argentina, Mexico and Canada.

But the U.S. stars of the past — Billy Steintraus, Frank Chappot, May Meirs and Kathy Kusner — will be missing. All four are in Tokyo for the 1964 Olympic Games.

Central Meets Bay City Unit

Winless String Now at 13 for Chiefs

The feeling grows that Pontiac Central's Chiefs will soon sit down to a victory feast after almost two years of gridiron starvation.

Since the season ending triumph over Pontiac Northern in November of 1962 the Chiefs have not tasted victory.

They have gone through 13 games with only a 4-4 stalemate last season with Bay City Handy to satisfy their cravings.

The Wildcats are on the menu this week, and the bill of fare should be appealing to PCH. The Handy eleven has an 8-3-1 mark for four tries, and this includes losses to Midland (26-0) and Flint Central (54-0).

The Chiefs were also blanked by those two Saginaw Valley Conference foes. However, neither found the Central square a treat. Midland won 6-0 on its home field and Flint found slim pickings, 6-0, last Friday at Wisner Stadium.

SOUR PLUM But PCH coach Paul Dellerba has to sweeten one big sour plum — the inability to win on the road — if the Chiefs are to enjoy their trip to Handy Stadium.

PCH has failed to win its last 15 SVC games, and have not triumphed away from Pontiac in their last 12 tries. This a victory at Handy would be very digestible indeed.

The Wildcats finally scored a touchdown in the third quarter of last week's 13-6 loss to Saginaw.

Diminutive sophomore quarterback Lance Lukowski took over the field leadership and took them on a drive for the score. He is expected to see extensive playing time this week.

Central's defense has been impressive in recent starts, although linebacker Tom Howard suffered a head injury Friday while playing one of his best games and is a question mark for this week.

The Chiefs will have to produce some scoring, however. They, too, have only one touchdown this season, and have gone two and a half games without crossing the opponents' goal line.

Major Hoople Sees Notre Dame Upset

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Original Wizard of Odds

Egged, dear readers, this is the week you have all been waiting for. I have made my selections without the help of any of my assistants.

Not, please understand, because they have been doing a poor job. In fact, just the opposite is the case and I am rewarding them by giving them a week off (Ed: Note: Without pay, no doubt.)

Every year there comes a time when peace and quiet settles over the football fields of our fair land. And a careful perusal of all factors indicates this weekend will be such a period.

The favored elevens can be expected to cash in heavily this Saturday.

However, the day will not be completely devoid of surprises. The Hoople Three-Star special is UCLA to prevail over the rejuvenated Fighting Irish of Notre Dame. I predict a 21-20 triumph for the lads from California—Har-rumph!

Only slightly less spectacular will be Purdue's 17-14 conquest of the strong Michigan Wolverines.

Richard Petty Has Pole Spot

Plymouth Hits 150
in '400' Qualifying

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Plymouth driver Richard Petty set a new four-lap mark of 150.711 miles per hour for 1 1/4-mile courses Wednesday in winning the pole position for Sunday's National 400-mile stock car race.

Petty also established a new one-lap mark of 151.472 m.p.h. as he blitzed Charlotte Motor Speedway's new asphalt surface with what he said was "plenty of power left."

The old one-lap mark of 148.474 m.p.h. and the four-lap, or six miles, record of 145.102 were held by Junior Johnson, Ford driver from Ronda, N.C. They were set last May, before track officials put a new two-inch asphalt surface on the high banked third and fourth turns.

MORE SPEED

The new surface allows drivers to travel at greater speed on the back stretch and thus enter the third and fourth turns at higher speeds.

In all, 13 drivers qualified for Sunday's fifth annual $60,000 race, last major distance event on NASCAR's 1964 calendar. All of them bettered Johnson's old marks, including Johnson himself.

Atlanta Decision Due Soon

ATLANTA (AP)—It's generally conceded that major league baseball is inevitable in Atlanta — and a 10-day deadline has been set on whether the Milwaukee Braves are the "inevitable."

William C. Bartholomay, chairman of the board for the Braves, set the 10-day limit Wednesday after accepting a firm contract offer from Atlanta officials.

But at least one Braves official regarded the announcement of a contract offer as the definitive word on what management would do.

"It came as a shock. I was surprised at the finality of the announcement. You always hope that the inevitable will not happen," the Braves' business manager, William Eberly, said in Milwaukee.

TOURED STADIUM

Bartholomay, who toured Atlanta's $18 million stadium now under construction, conceded the inevitability of major league ball for Atlanta in a news conference with Mayor Ivan Allen Jr.

As for the Braves moving from Milwaukee, he said:

"The Braves recognize the responsibility and public trust involved in even considering the moving of a professional sports franchise from one area to another.

However, since baseball is truly a national sport, we can no longer ignore the vast areas of this country which do not currently enjoy our great game."

Allen has said all along that he had a definite commitment from a major league baseball team and now he will admit to talking often with Bartholomay. There still is no definite word from Allen, however, that the Braves are the team in Atlanta's 1965 baseball future.

The big question, of course, is what is in the offer — what will lure the Braves out of Milwaukee, where attendance isn't what it used to be?

STANDARD PACT

Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the Atlanta Stadium Authority, refuses to disclose the terms of the contract. Allen said the contract was a standard one, fair to all.

The stadium itself is scheduled to be completed in time for the opening of the 1965 season.

Construction is ahead of schedule. Its designers figure that it will seat 52,000 for baseball and 57,000 for football.

Lined with that is a television package which reportedly would bring the Braves millions of dollars in comparison with a $325,000 radio-television offer in Milwaukee.

The Milwaukee team is relatively near two other major league teams in Chicago. If the club moved to Atlanta, it would be the only team for hundreds of miles.

North Carolina football coach William & Mary under Carl Jim Hickey played tailback at Violes.

Colts Take Over Offensive Totals

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League standings this season show about the best-balanced race you can imagine. The team offense and defense statistics back it up.

The latest statistic issued by the NFL show the Baltimore Colts as the top offensive team with Minnesota, Dallas and Philadelphia bunched not far behind. All four have shown almost equal balance between gaining on the ground and in the air.

On defense the Green Bay Packers are No. 1 and they've been able to stop enemy passing and running about equally.

Up through Monday night's transferred game against the St. Louis Cardinals, the Colts had gained 1,718 yards with 815 by rushing and 903 by passing.

The Cards, top passing team with 1,016 yards are only fourth in total offense and the Pittsburgh Steelers, No. 1 in rushing with 827 yards, are eighth overall.

Green Bay is the No. 1 defender against passes, allowing only 656 yards, and has given up only 332 yards on the ground—59 more than pace setting Dallas—for a 1,188 yard total. Detroit is second in total defense, giving up 1,225 yards, No. 2 against rushing and No. 3 against passing.

All-America QB to Make Trip with Middies

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy's All-America quarterback, Roger Staubach, hospitalized for a week and a half with an ankle injury, will be released today and will make the trip for the Middies' game Saturday with California.

Navy Coach Wayne Hardin said he doesn't "anticipate his playing in this ball game, but at least he'll be in the wings."

"He definitely will not start," Hardin added.

Township Runners First

Waterford Township picked up its first cross-country win of the season Tuesday when it edged Rochester, 26-29.

John Meyer (W) took individual honors over John Pellerito (R) by 19 seconds with an 11:30 timing. The winners also took fourth, sixth, seventh and eighth places.

Life of a Grid Coach's Wife

Sports Page Reported Her Marriage

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — June Manchester got engaged on the sports page.

She got married there, too. And for 23 years, she's lived with football.

That's the way it seems when you marry a football star who becomes a professional player and then a college coach.

But, says June—Mrs. Glenn Dobbs, wife of the University of Tulsa head coach—"I'd do it just the same again."

Glenn Dobbs Jr. was a tall, slender football prospect at Tulsa when he and June Manchester first met in the fall of 1939.

By the time they married in 1942—between football and basketball, right after the Sun Bowl—Glenn Dobbs was one of the country's top run-pass-kick single wing tailbacks and a 1942

Associated Press All-America. He completed 21 passes in that Sun Bowl game.

He's been athletic director at Tulsa since 1955 and head football coach since his brother, Bobby, left Tulsa in 1961.

This fall Tulsa fans are seeing Glenn Dobbs play again. Glenn III, 19, is a sophomore quarterback on his dad's Tulsa team.

LIKE FATHER

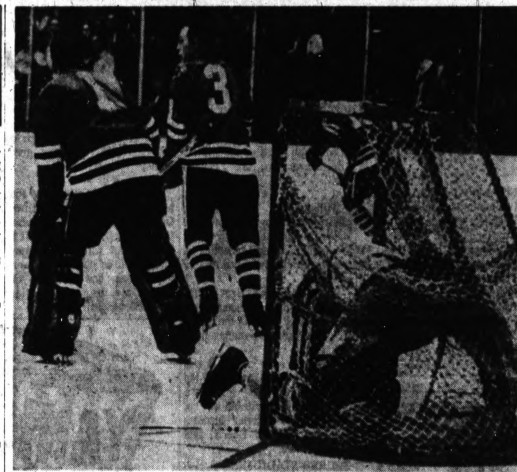

He's not likely to see too much action, understudy Jerry Rhome, one of the nation's top passers. But, says his mother, he "looks exactly like his daddy when he was a freshman and sophomore... he runs just like him... he even throws the ball like his dad."

There's another quarterbacking Dobbs, too, John, a 16-year-old high school junior.

Not surprisingly, Mrs. Dobbs sees three or four football games a week. She never misses a Tulsa home game or a high school game in which John plays. She drives to all but the most distant Tulsa road games—then goes with Glenn to scout at least one high school game a week.

Though Mrs. Dobbs is "a great fan" of all sports, "I'd have to say football is my favorite, possibly because I know more about it."

She's liked football since cheer-leading days at Tulsa Central High School. "I didn't know too much at first," she said, "but you soon catch on—in self defense."

NET RESULT: NO SCORE — Boston right wing Tom Williams tries to disengage himself from the net of the Chicago Black Hawks after propelling himself into it. The puck did not go into the net. Goalie Glenn Hall (1) and Pierre Pilote (3) skate away as action continues down the ice. The Hawks won, 3-0.

Veteran Cage Squad at U-D

Coch Calihan Opens
Practice Today

DETROIT (AP) — Coach Bob Calihan took on the added duties of athletic director when he opened his 17th basketball season at the University of Detroit today.

A veteran team which led the nation in scoring last year with a 96.1 point a game average while posting a 14-1 record was back for a 26-game card. The opener is Dec. 1 against Purdue at the U of D Memorial Building.

"We lost two top players from that team — Dick Drzik and Al Coch," said Calihan. "They had a combined average of 36 points a game and Drzik was third in the nation in rebounding. We are going to feel their loss."

FIVE STARTERS

Calihan said he expects to start seniors Terry Page and John Schramm at forward, senior John Watson and junior Lou Hyatt at the guards and junior Dore Murray at center.

"Murray is going to be a prime factor in our plans and he shows every sign of being a great player for us," said Calihan.

Guard Bill Downs and senior forward Bill Sarver are the two remaining lettermen.

Cardinals' Keane Denies Buc Offer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Manager Johnny Keane of the St. Louis Cardinals denied a report Wednesday night that the Pittsburgh Pirates had offered him a three-year contract to move there in a similar capacity.

"There's no truth to it," Keane said on the eve of the seventh game of the World Series between the Cardinals and the New York Yankees.

Keane said he will meet with Cardinals officials the day after the World Series to discuss his future with the St. Louis club.

(Momentary silence.)
"Pardon. What was that again?"

"When's 'bar' season? What's the matter can't you understand English. You know 'bar' season, like the Chicago 'Bars'."

"Oh, how stupid of me. I'm sorry, of course I should have known, you mean 'bar' season," was the reply of the Michigan English speaking writer in the West Virginia speaking caller.

Well, anyway in the National Football League, "bar" season takes place every Sunday from September through December, and this weekend it's the Detroit Lions turn to go "bar" hunting in the Windy City.

LOSE THREE
The Chicago "Bars," defending world champions, have been wounded seriously in the early season, having lost to Green Bay, Baltimore and San Francisco in three road games.

The wounds mounted in the first four weeks but last week they returned home for the first time and thoroughly dismantled the high flying Rams from Los Angeles 35-17 with quarterback Billy Wade passing for four touchdowns, two each to flanker Johnny Morris and Mike Ditka.

Morris caught 11 passes of the 23 completed by Wade and he is far ahead of all receivers in the NFL with 38 receptions for 397 yards.

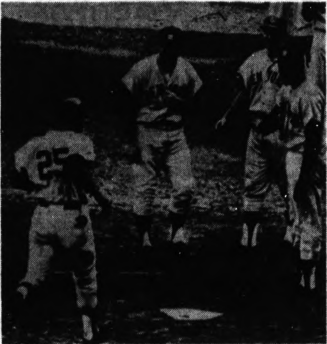

The Lions, with a 3-1 record in second place of the Western Division, have won their last two games behind Earl Morrall starting at quarterback, but strangely the Lions did it with a minimum of passing.

There are no Lions pass receivers among the top 10 of NFL receivers. Gail Cogdill has 17 receptions for 243 yards, while Terry Barr had 16 for 364 yards and Jim Gibbons 13 for 164 yards.

INTERCEPT FIVE
The Bears' pass defense really came to life against the Rams by snatching off five of Bill Munson's series. Prior to this the Bears had only two pass interceptions to show for four games.

The Lions' secondary currently is second best to the Redskins in interceptions. Washington has 12 for the season and Detroit has nine, having stolen four against the Giants two weeks ago and three against the Vikings last week.

WELCOME COMMITTEE — Smiling Mickey Mantle, Tom Tresh and Elton Howard, (from left), greet Joe Pepitone (25) at the plate after the Yankee first baseman stroked a bases-loaded homer with them aboard in the eighth inning yesterday. The Yanks won the 6th game, 8-3 to force the World Series into a 7th game.

Arnie, Jack Bid for Cash, Prestige in Sahara Open

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — It's a clash for money and prestige as Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus lead the way into the first round of the $70,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament today.

A field of 120 professionals are on the starting line. Other big name golfers here are Tony Lema, Ken Venturi, Bill Casper Jr. and Bobby Nichols, all of whom have had their share of success this year.

The 72-hole autumn desert classic will be played at the par 36-35-71 Paradise Country Club course.

LAST TOURNEY

This is the last major money tournament of the year. There is $12,000 awaiting the winner, and if either Palmer or Nicklaus wins, it will clinch the dollars championship of the year.

There is prestige in the top monetary ranking.

Nicklaus won the Sahara last year with a 72-hole score of 276, eight under par for the distance.

Palmer was nine shots back. Wednesday Nicklaus suggested to Palmer they play a few practice holes during the pro-am competition in which neither participated.

"No, it's too crowded out there. Besides, Jack, you know the course pretty well," Palmer said.

Nicklaus chuckled. Ken Still of Tacoma, Wash., captured individual honors in the pro-am 36-hole event with a 68-67-135 and picked up $500.

Four Starters Back for 'M' Cage Team

ANN ARBOR (AP) — With four of his five starters back and 10 of 13 lettermen, Michigan basketball coach Dave Strack opened team practice today.

The squad which tied for the Big Ten championship and placed third in the NCAA competition is augmented by several promising sophomores.

The Wolverines open against Ball State Dec. 1.

Mainstays of the squad again will be senior center Bill Buntin and junior guard Cazzie Russell.

STILL BOTHERED

Russell, a second team All America last year, was hampered the last part of the season by an ankle injury which handicapped his efforts for an Olympic bid. Strack said he hoped the injury has fully healed but it had still bothered Russell sometimes.

Wolverine forwards Larry Tregoney and Oliver Darden are back, leaving only a guard vacancy caused by the graduation of Bob Cantrell to be filled by a newcomer this year.

Strack listed three Wolverine lettermen scrambling for the position—John Thompson, John Clarkson and Tom Ludwig. Practice will determine who it will win the starting spot.

Craig Dill, a 6-foot-10 sophomore center, from Saginaw will either play behind Buntin or as a forward or center with Buntin, Strack said.

The Wolverines' second game Dec. 5 is with Duke, the team that knocked the Michigan cagers out of the NCAA tourney last spring.

League Games for Grid Pair

Wolverines Must Win for 1st Place Tie

By The Associated Press
Unbeaten Michigan takes on Purdue and Michigan State, crippled by injuries to key players, tries to get back on the winning track against Indiana in two of the Big Ten football games scheduled Saturday.

Ohio State, the league leader after clubbing Illinois last week, entertains Southern California, while Northwestern plays host to Miami (Ohio) in another non-conference encounter.

Illinois is at Minnesota and Iowa at Wisconsin in the other conference games.

OUT OF ACTION

MSU's Spartans, off pace with two losses against one victory, heard disturbing news from the team physician Wednesday. A bruised heel will keep senior fullback and right half back Harry Ammon out of action against Indiana. The Holt youth was the only returnee from last year with more than 100 yards gained rushing.

Michigan, Purdue, Minnesota and Iowa are all 1-0 and victories Saturday would move them into a tie with the Buckeyes.

Michigan can expect its ground game to undergo another stiff test against the Bollermakers. Purdue is the conference defense leader on the basis of having allowed only 147 yards in its victory over Wisconsin last week. Only 46 of the yards came on the ground.

Wolverine defensive halfback John Rowser, undergoing surgery today for a knee injury, is not expected to see active service this season. Also sidelined are Michigan halfback Jack Clancy and quarterback Dick Vidner.

RUNNING ATTACK

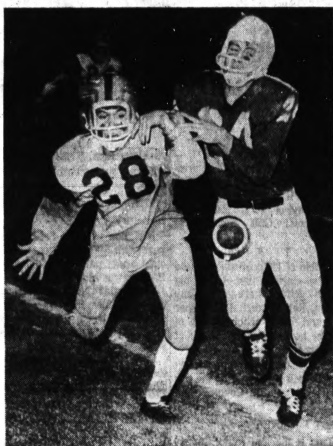

Purdue, like Michigan, relies heavily on its ground game. Five of their eight touchdowns have come on running plays.

Michigan State, which has a 13-4 edge in the series with Indiana, expects the Hoosiers to be tough. Indiana has lost all three of its games so far by a total of 10 points—the last two by a single point.

MSU Coach Duffy Daugherty has switched offensive tactics. Rahm Bentley and Jerry Rush to defense.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Las Vegas bookies have posted the New York Yankees as a 10-13 favorite to take the last World Series game and the championship Thursday.

SURE-HANDED GRIP — Rochester's Al Boughner (24) has a better grip on the left arm of Clawson defensive halfback Mike Potts (28) than he does on the ball during incomplete pass play last night. The visiting Trojans, though, had their hands on the pigskin more than enough in posting a 32-0 upset of the blue-shirted Falcons.

Rochester Loses Mid-Week Game, 32-0

By HERB PETERS

Clawson found that its usual style of play was a waste of time in drubbing Rochester, 32-0, last night in an Oakland A Conference encounter.

Drilled in ball-control tactics by coach Bob Acton, the Trojans relied on that technique only once in scoring three times the first half and twice in the final period.

Moving from the opening kickoff, Clawson consumed over eight minutes in marching 76 yards in 16 plays with Larry Mazzio going 16 yards for the TD at 3:38.

But from then on it was different.

With 52 seconds left in the first quarter, Ron Kaiser hauled in a Rochester punt at his 28 and scooted 80 yards for a touchdown.

A Rochester fumble on the first play of the second period started the Trojans rambling again. Taking the ball near midfield, they went 52 yards in four plays.

Quarterback Dave Kedrow passed to Ernie Scullo, who raced 32 yards for the score at the 9:29 mark. Joe Dillon booted his second conversion for a 20-0 lead which stood up at the half.

TWO MORE

Quick thrusts also produced the final two touchdowns. Jim Neidowitz put the Falcons in a hole at their six-yard line with a 48-yard punt, and two plays later they lost a fumble at the eight.

It was fourth-and-five on the first play of the final session when Mazzio went over for his second TD to make it 26-0.

Sophomore Bob McDonald then capped the scoring with a 62-yard gallop with two minutes remaining.

The Trojans never made a first down the second half although scoring twice. They made only eight during the game with four coming on the opening drive.

Tests Resume on Ailing Wilt

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, star of the San Francisco Warriors pro basketball team, checked into Temple University hospital here Wednesday night for further attempts to diagnose abdominal pains that had his West Coast physicians baffled.

Dr. Stanley Lorber — Chamberlain's personal physician here and a specialist in digestive tract ailments — immediately began examining the National Basketball Association scoring champion.

A hospital spokesman said tests would be started today, and there would be no statement until they were ended.

Chamberlain was not available for comment following his flight here from San Francisco, where he had left St. Mary's Hospital Tuesday after three weeks of examinations.

He had said there, however, that his eventual return to the Warriors for pre-season training depends on what his doctor says.

'LITTLE STRANGE'

Dr. Dudley J. Fournier, who had charge of the examination in San Francisco, had described Chamberlain's ailment as "a little strange." He said Chamberlain did not seem to have any gastrointestinal ailment, although he showed symptoms of an ulcer.

Meanwhile, Temple Hospital's staff solved one of Chamberlain's problems before he arrived. After searching the area, the institution managed to borrow an over-sized, 7-foot-long hospital bed from Frankford hospital, to accommodate the 7-foot-1 star.

Lifer Given Sentence in N.J. Crime

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP) —

A man serving a life term for murder in Southern Michigan Prison was sentenced here Wednesday for a crime committed in New Jersey 19 years ago.

Robert F. Smith, a 40-year-old Chicago native, was brought to New Jersey last week from Michigan and pleaded guilty Friday to robbery and carrying a concealed weapon.

Bergen County Judge Benjamin P. Galanti sentenced Smith to 3½ years on the robbery charge and 1½ years for the weapons complaint, both to run concurrently with the life term.

The New Jersey crime occurred in 1945.

IDENTITIES HIM

In 1946, authorities said, the victim identified Smith from a newspaper picture as one of three men who robbed him.

In that year Smith was sentenced to life imprisonment in Michigan for fatally shooting a man.

The prosecutor's office said that although the New Jersey charge was lodged against Smith then, reciprocity agreements with Michigan did not go into effect until recently.

Smith, a thin, soft-spoken, spectacled man, has spent much of his time in the Michigan prison working on medical research in the prison hospital.

He said he was anxious to return there for a new project involving cancer research.

The prisoner, who reportedly will be eligible for parole in a few years, was taken back to Jackson, Mich., following the sentencing.

Sanction Eyed in Mixed Rites

Unity Move Does Not

Apply to Protestants

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican Ecumenical Council officials disclosed today the assembly is considering granting full recognition to mixed marriages between Eastern rite Catholics and Orthodox even performed only before an Orthodox priest.

But this move to promote Christian unity would not apply to mixed marriages involving Protestants.

The matter of mixed Catholic-Orthodox marriages came up in a schema on the oriental church put before the 2,500 council fathers in St. Peter's Basilica today.

Council spokesmen told newsmen the schema dealt with relations between the Roman Catholic Church of the West and both the Eastern rite Catholics and non-Catholic Orthodox.

Spokesmen said the schema, in addition to the mixed marriage provision, also:

- States that any Orthodox converting to Catholicism need only make a simple profession of faith, and that Orthodox priests would be allowed to carry on their priesthood.

LAST RITES

• Provides that Orthodox may go to confession and receive communion and anointing of the sick (last rites) in a Catholic church, while Catholics may ask these same sacraments of an Orthodox priest if a Catholic priest is not available.

Eastern rite Catholics are those who recognize the Pope but do not follow the Latin, or Roman, rite of the West. Instead they have eight different rites for worship. These are similar to Orthodox rites.

The Eastern rite Catholics remained with Rome after the schism of the 11th century, while the Orthodox rejected papal jurisdiction.

In 1949, the Vatican reaffirmed church law cast all wedlocks between Catholics and baptized non-Catholics must be celebrated before a Catholic priest.

MAY DISPENSE

The schema put before the council today allows bishops to dispense with this requirement when the mixed marriage involves an oriental Catholic and an Orthodox and when there are "grave reasons" for not having a Catholic priest present.

Phrasing of the schema indicates its application is only for Eastern rite Catholics, and not Roman rite Catholics.

Nab Escapee

at His Home

Jerry Rappuhn, 21, of 7609 Eston, an escapee from Ionia State Reformatory, was captured at his home Wednesday by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

Rappuhn had fled from Ionia Sept. 22 with two other inmates, David LaPointe, 20, of 67 Tregent, and Jerry Reynolds, 21, of Sheridan.

LaPointe and Reynolds were captured by State Police on Sept. 26.

Rappuhn was serving a larceny-from-a-car sentence.

Lake Studies Reviewed

Two expert — but differing — opinions on the feasibility of cleaning out Wolverine Lake were presented last night to some 300 shoreline residents of the lake.

Two engineering studies on the project were reviewed at a public meeting of the Oakland County supervisors' drain committee in the Courthouse Auditorium.

Most of the property owners feel the project is feasible.

The Oakland County Drain Commission feels it isn't.

The experts are $570,000 apart in their estimated cost to do the job.

LIVELY DISCUSSION

A lively discussion of the project, presided over by drain committee chairman Curtis Potter of Royal Oak, lasted 2½ hours.

About 18 months ago more than two-thirds of the property owners around the lake petitioned the Oakland County Drain Commission to start proceedings to restore the drying lake to its original depth.

Hubbell, Roth & Clark, Inc., a Birmingham engineering firm frequently employed by the drain commission, made a preliminary study of the project and estimated the cost at $965,000.

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry then ruled the project recommended that it be abandoned.

NOT SATISFIED

Not satisfied with the report or Barry's recommendation, the Wolverine Lake Rehabilitation Association employed John R. Snell Engineers, Inc., of Lansing, to make another study of the project.

The Snell firm recommended that a new dredging process previously used on nearby Long Lake be used on the Wolverine Lake project and came up with an estimate of $425,000.

The Snell report, presented to the association last June, was turned over to Barry, who referred it to Hubbell, Roth & Clark for study.

Representatives of both firms attended last night's meeting to defend their positions on the project.

The Snell report proposes removal by dredging of 855,000 cubic yards of material at an average cost of 48 cents per yard.

HRR&C recommends removal of 600,000 yards, 25 percent by dredging and the rest by dragline and truck, at a cost of $1.44 per yard.

Snell estimated the cost to property owners at $9.70 per front foot, compared to $22.10 estimated by HRR&C.

The two principal areas of disagreement between the engineering firms concern the source of water to replenish the lake after it is cleaned out and disposal of the material to be taken from the lake bottom.

LISTED COSTS

HRR&C listed costs of $48,000 for purchase of 160 acres of land for spoil area and $50,000 for 5,000 feet of enclosed drain to return the water from the spoils back to the lake.

The Snell report listed no provision for obtaining spoil area.

Dr. John R. Snell, owner of the firm, told the group last night that a post-card survey he had conducted indicated that at least one out of six property owners around the lake would be willing to permit the dumping of spoils on their land.

He also recommended "tapping" the nearby Huron River to obtain water for Wolverine Lake.

NO DEFINITE ANSWER

Legal problems connected with such a project are myriad, however, and when questioned by Chairman Potter on how he intended to cope with them, Dr. Snell failed to give a definite answer.

The Birmingham engineers contend that dredging the lake will dry it up completely before the project is one-quarter finished.

Snell maintains that dredging only 16 hours a day instead of around the clock, as is usually done, will permit the lake to restore itself at the rate of 6,400 gallons per minute.

The question of financing the project was presented to Louis H. Schimmel, financial consultant for the county.

DIFFICULT TO SELL

Schimmel said bonds would be difficult, if not impossible, to sell unless the full faith of the county and Commerce Township were pledged.

The rate of interest would be at least 6 percent, Schimmel said, because of no previous credit rating on such projects.

Fred Aboud, a Lansing attorney retained by the association, told the committee that proper procedures were not being followed because the Michigan statute covering such projects entitles the petitioners to a hearing before a nonpartisan board of review to determine necessity.

It is then up to the department of conservation, not the drain committee or the drain commissioner, to determine feasibility, Aboud said.

HEARTY VAPPELSE

The attorney got hearty applause for his statements.

The majority of those attending the meeting seemed to be in favor of Snell's version of the project, regardless of the possible consequences.

Barry maintained his original stand, agreeing that the project is feasible from an engineering standpoint but casting serious doubts on the possibility of financing it.

Toward the end of the meeting the possibility of another type of lake-level control project, such as a new dam or a pumping station, was brought up.

UNDER WAY

Several such projects are already under way in the county.

The idea seemed to meet with considerable favor among the audience.

It was pointed out, however, that a new petition will have to be submitted to start proceedings for such a project.

Eighty per cent of the county's sulphur deposits is turned into the sulphuric acid used in anti-freeze and detergents, pharmaceuticals, resins and additives. Sulphur is also widely used in the preparation of fertilizer, and is an essential in iron and steel, in paper-making and the processing of rubber.

Her Mouth Is Evidence

LONDON (UPI) — A nagging wife was granted a divorce yesterday because her husband refused to have her back despite her promise to be good.

After hearing a tape recording, a divorce court judge said, "No man could be expected to go on living with a wife who behaved as having behaved."

Mrs. Ida Lonn was granted the decree for desertion. Lonn did not contest it.

Good Weather Boosts Turnout at British Polls

Voters Deciding if Conservatives Stay or Labor Will Take Over

LONDON (AP) — British voters, encouraged by good weather and whipped up by the rowdiest campaign of modern times, streamed out in huge numbers today to decide if the Conservatives remain in power or Labor takes over the nation's destinies.

Records Show Jenkins Faced Morals Charge

President's Associate for 20 Years Resigns, Goes Into Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Dean Burch charged today that President Johnson "covered over for five and a half years" a morals charge arrest of Walter W. Jenkins, a top Johnson aide.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter W. Jenkins, a top assistant to President Johnson for 20 years, was arrested at the Washington YMCA on morals charges in 1959 and again last week, police records show. The White House has announced his resignation.

A soft-spoken Texan who was an Army major in World War II, Jenkins, 46, and the father of six, has been associated with the President since Johnson was a congressman. His resignation was announced in New York where the President was campaigning last night.

Records of the police morals division showed that Jenkins was arrested five years ago on a charge of "disorderly conduct pervent" and on Oct. 1, this year on a charge of "disorderly indecent gestures." He forfeited collateral in both cases.

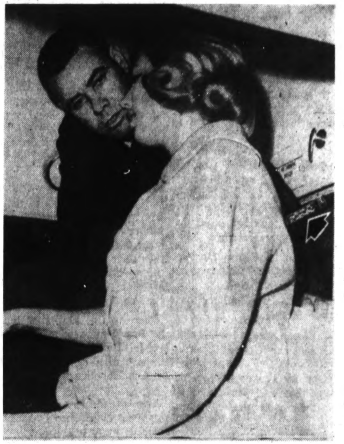

The Jenkins development may carry political implications as the presidential campaign heads into its stretch run.

Aides traveling with Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican candidate for President, declined to comment immediately. But in Washington, Clifton White, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Goldwater, Miller, said in a statement "the effects upon America both nationally and internationally can only be surmised at this time."

And, before the Jenkins resignation was announced, Dean Burch, Republican national chairman, issued a statement that charged "the White House is desperately trying to suppress a major news story affecting the national security."

Later, in New York, a White House aide was asked if Jenkins had sat in on meetings of the sensitive National Security Council. "I'd have to rely on memory in a case like KNIFED FOR 75 CENTS — The handle of a knife (see arrow) sticks out from the back of Jill Nietert, 24, as she sits in an ambulance en route to New York's Kings County Hospital. Her assailant stabbed her with the six-inch switchblade in a Brooklyn subway station, snatched her purse and fled. The purse contained 75 cents. Jill is in critical condition. Shown assisting her is an ambulance attendant.

LBJ in Upstate N.Y., Keeps Campaigning

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — President Johnson carried his election campaign to upstate New York today with smiles and waves.

He continued his drive for votes by flying here from New York after the arrest in Washington on a morals charge of one of the President's top aides.

The aide, Walter W. Jenkins, a special assistant and long-time friend of the President, quit his post last night after it was learned he was arrested last week on a charge of disorderly conduct involving indecent gestures.

The resignation was announced 15 minutes after Johnson arrived to address the Alfred E. Smith dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. For two hours previously the President had made no public appearances, skipping two scheduled events without explanation.

On his upstate trip, Johnson was accompanied by Robert F. Kennedy, the Democratic-Liberal party candidate for U.S. Senator, as he left the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York for LaGuardia field and a flight to Rochester.

The President met former Postmaster General James A. Farley and stopped to talk with him briefly.

Kennedy told newsmen that despite a New York Daily News poll showing him leading his opponent, Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, by a 3-2 margin, he believed he still faced a tough fight.

The poll reported Johnson leading Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater by 3-1 in New York State.

Johnson, appearing in Rochester and Buffalo before returning to New York for a Liberal Party rally in Madison Square Garden tonight, showed no signs of the hoarseness that bothered him in public appearances yesterday.

Estes, a Pecos, Tex., financier, has twice been convicted for fraud.

The Arizona Senator said the President "must be using every power of his great office, right now, yesterday and tomorrow, to cover up one of the sorriest rumors we have had in the nation's capital."

In response to a question before he delivered the speech, Goldwater said he meant rumors about Bobby Baker's ties with the White House.

MOSCOW (UPI) — The government newspaper Izvestia announced it is not publishing tonight. Such action usually precedes major Khrushchev developments. The London Daily News reported there were Moscow signs of government changes that could affect Premier Khrushchev.

Isbell Aiming 10 Top Newsboys Honored by Press

Hurricane Turns Left, Deals Out Tornadoes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Isbell, crossing up the weather bureau, swung today into a broad turn that aimed her 100-mile-an-hour winds at the North Carolina coast.

An advisory at 8 a.m. said the hurricane was expected to make a right turn away from land. But one and one-half hours later, Isbell had swung instead to the left.

A still bigger turn then was forecast and North Carolina residents were warned that hurricane force winds and high tides probably will reach the coast this afternoon.

The hurricane moved into the Atlantic after a fast Florida crossing that spared the state the devastation Isbell brought to Cuba. But she gave birth to tornadoes that injured 39 persons in Florida.

Six small tornadoes, roaring like freight trains through afternoon darkness and into the night, whipped out of the storm's leading edge to demolish house trailers, lift roofs, and knock over cars and power poles.

The main body of the storm, racing across the peninsula at 18 to 20 miles an hour, and mostly through an untracked wilderness, made a mess of fallen trees and power lines there and but did little harm compared with that suffered in Cuba.

The Pontiac Press paid tribute to 10 of its most outstanding carriers last night at the annual Press award dinner for newsboys at the Waldorf Hotel.

The event was held in conjunction with National Newspaper Week (Oct. 12-17). Newsboys and their parents attended, with each carrier receiving a certificate of merit.

It was the first time the proud parents have had the opportunity of seeing their sons receive the "Outstanding Newspaper Boy Award."

Each award was signed jointly by Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher, Fred Thompson, Press circulation manager, and William F. Canfield, secretary of the Inland Daily Press Association, co-sponsors of the program.

Selection of the ten outstanding carriers is based on their keeping up with their studies at school, the lack of complaints, and making their deliveries and collections promptly.

Following the dinner, Thompson introduced Roy Macklem, on the staff of the Detroit Lions football organization.

FOOTBALL HIGHLIGHTS — Macklem showed a movie—"1963 Highlights"—featuring outstanding plays in the National Football League. He also spoke briefly and answered questions from the audience.

The ten outstanding newsboys who attended the dinner with their parents included Dennis R. Slade, 961 Voorheis, Danny W. Love, 142 Cadillac, Robert D. Pintano, 1590 Joslyn, Robert N. Cooper, 210 Judson.

Others were Clark V. Boyles, 289 Voorheis, and Jearl Hollington, 2254 Rosemary, both of Waterford Township; Kenneth Kieffer, 1765 Woodland, Sylvan Lake; Kenneth Keener, 8900 Davisburg, Springfield Township; Scott A. Smith, 2880 Charnwood, Troy; and Harvey T. Wells, 1881 June, Rochester.

Forecast for Area Is Fair and Mild

Three cheers for the weatherman! He promises fair skies and mild temperatures for the area through Saturday, at least.

The mercury will drop to a low of 40 to 48 tonight, he says, and rise to a high of 68 to 76 tomorrow.

See Story, Pages B-9

Conservatives, Laborites and the small Liberal party each saw something good for themselves in the heavy balloting. But even the most optimistic spokesmen conceded the tussle was neck-and-neck.

Last-minute bets on the Conservatives retaining power, if even only by a slim margin, were reported by Coral's, London bookmakers.

Joe Coral said "the betting so far this morning favors the Tories" but the odds still remained 4-11 on Labor and 2-1 against the Conservatives.

One thing was sure: Interest ran high. Leeds and Edinburgh reported the morning balloting higher than in the 1959 election.

BOOTH'S PACKED — Bristol said booths were packed at a 4-1 rate over five years ago. Newcastle upon Tyne and the Cardiff area of Wales started slowly but picked up toward noon as shift workers poured out of the mills and mines.

Leaders of both the Conservative and Labor parties made the usual predictions of victory, but all conceded the finish would be close.

There was a possibility that the Liberal party, which had only seven members in the last Parliament, would emerge with the balance of power.

The election will name 630 members of the House of Commons. The party which wins the most will form the government.

HOME OR WILSON — If the Conservatives win, Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home will go back to No. 10 Downing Street to lead a fourth term of Tory rule.

If the Laborites win, Harold Wilson will become prime minister and Britain will take a swing to the left.

myre, who will be pitching with only two days rest.

The thin-faced youth from the Far West pitched a seven-hitter in winning game No. 2 here at sun-baked Busch Stadium last Thursday.

NOT AROUND — He also started the fifth game at New York Monday but was not around at the finish when Tim McCarver's three-run homer in the 10th inning earned the Cardinals a 5-2 triumph and a 3-2 series edge.

The winning pitcher for the Cards that day was Bob Gibson, and he is expected to be manager Johnny Keane's choice again today.

"I don't like to work a man with only two days rest, but Bob is big and strong, and I feel he can get the job done," said Keane.

Gibson, a 6-foot-2, 190-pound right-hander from Omaha, Neb., said he "felt like I just finished a 10-round fight" after his sixth, 13-strikeout performance against the Yankees Monday.

UAW Votes to Strike for Profit Sharing

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry's only profit sharing plan was put to a life-or-death test as the United Auto Workers headed today for a midnight strike deadline at American Motors Corp.

Keeping profit sharing was "the single most important question" as AMC and UAW bargainers met, said Douglas Fraser, head of the union's American Motors department.

The 52-member UAW negotiating committee voted last night to negotiate continuance of the unique plan won by the UAW in 1961 or call 25,000 AMC production workers off the job. The vote was "over two to one," Fraser said.

On virtually all other major issues, the UAW and AMC were reported in agreement.

AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman declared he was "shocked and amazed that the union would strike to continue progress-sharing on their terms."

REST OF PACKAGE — The union wants profit sharing, American Motors said, on top of an economic package equal to those the UAW won previously at General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp.

Records of the police morals division showed that Jenkins was arrested five years ago on a charge of "disorderly conduct pervent" and on Oct. 1, this year on a charge of "disorderly indecent gestures." He forfeited collateral in both cases.

The Jenkins development may carry political implications as the presidential campaign heads into its stretch run.

Yanks Pin 7th-Game Hopes on Rookie

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The New York Yankees will send a comparative boy, rookie right-hander Mel Stottlemyre, out to do a man's job against the St. Louis Cardinals today in the decisive seventh game of the 1964 World Series.

The odds makers obviously feel the 22-year-old, lanky youngster from Mabton, Wash. (population 940) will succeed, for they have installed the Yankees as narrow 6-5 favorites.

The Yankees stole a page from the Cardinals' book of comebacks yesterday when they rode back-to-back solo homers by Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle and a grand slammer by Joe Pepitone to an 8-3 victory that knotted the best-of-seven series at three victories apiece.

So today it was up to Stottlemyre, who will be pitching with only two days rest.

The thin-faced youth from the Far West pitched a seven-hitter in winning game No. 2 here at sun-baked Busch Stadium last Thursday.

NOT AROUND — He also started the fifth game at New York Monday but was not around at the finish when Tim McCarver's three-run homer in the 10th inning earned the Cardinals a 5-2 triumph and a 3-2 series edge.

The winning pitcher for the Cards that day was Bob Gibson, and he is expected to be manager Johnny Keane's choice again today.

"I don't like to work a man with only two days rest, but Bob is big and strong, and I feel he can get the job done," said Keane.

Gibson, a 6-foot-2, 190-pound right-hander from Omaha, Neb., said he "felt like I just finished a 10-round fight" after his sixth, 13-strikeout performance against the Yankees Monday.

RESERVED DECISION — The former Harlem Globetrotter basketball player still wasn't feeling exactly 100 per cent yesterday and that's why Keane was reserving a final decision on whether he would start Gibson until after watching him warm up before today's game.

"I'll have Bob warm up early, and if he's not ready I'll go with (Ray) Sadecki," said Keane.

There also was a remote possibility that Roger Craig would get the nod from Keane to start this all-or-nothing-at-all game for the Cardinals.

Craig limited the Yankees to two hits in 4 1/2 innings of relief work to gain credit for the Cards' comeback victory in Monday's fifth game.

STRONGEST CHOICE — However, Gibson appeared to be the strongest choice. Big Bob took two hits in 4 1/2 innings of relief started and lost the second game, striking out nine Yankees, before getting even with the American League champions Monday.

Blessed with a blazing fast ball and a good curve, Gibson won 19 games during the regular season as the Cardinals came from 11 games back to nose out the Philadelphia Phillies and the Cincinnati Reds for the National League championship.

Plan Training on Marital Aid

County Group Starts Counseling Program

A program providing training and professional advice in marriage counseling has been initiated by the Religious Assistance and Protective Services, Inc., of Oakland County.

Dr. Arthur Riewald, a Birmingham psychologist, has been named director of the Marriage and Family Consultation Program. Dr. Aaron Rutledge, head of the Marriage Counseling and Psychotherapy Program at Merrill-Palmer Institute, Detroit, will serve as consultant.

The program was made possible by a three-year grant, from the McGregor Fund and the Mott Foundation, for $25,000 annually.

The experimental project is designed to increase the resources for trained marriage counseling within the community, particularly at the preventive level, according to Riewald.

The initial emphasis of the program will be upon the supplemental professional training of ministers, priests and rabbis. A series of three public lectures for clergymen in the county already has been scheduled. The first of these will be held Oct. 28 at 10:30 a. m. in the county courthouse auditorium. Dr. Rutledge will be the speaker.

WORK WITH OTHERS

The new service is intended to work in conjunction with other community agencies and professional persons providing assistance to marriages and families in need.

Although unrelated to the courts, there will be a close working relationship with the recently instituted marriage counseling service within the Oakland County Circuit Court.

Clergymen and other professional persons desiring more information about the service can contact Dr. Riewald at 409 Pontiac State Bank Building.

Lions Go NFL 'Bar' Hunting in Windy City Sunday

Chicago Pros Healthy Again

Detroit Defense Has Another Test Ahead

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
The telephone rang in The Press sports department recently and a voice with a West Virginia tone asked, "When's 'bar' season start?"
(Momentary silence.)
"Pardon. What was that again?"
"When's 'bar' season? What's the matter can't you understand English. You know 'bar' season, like the Chicago 'Bars'."

"Oh, how stupid of me. I'm sorry, of course I should have known, you mean 'bar' season," was the reply of the Michigan English speaking writer to the West Virginia speaking caller.

Well, anyway in the National Football League, "bar" season takes place every Sunday from September through December, and this weekend it's the Detroit Lions turn to go "bar" hunting in the Windy City.

LOSE THREE
The Chicago "Bars," defending world champions, have been wounded seriously in the early season, having lost to Green Bay, Baltimore and San Francisco in three road games.

The wounds mounted in the first four weeks but last week they returned home for the first time and thoroughly dismantled the high flying Rams from Los Angeles 38-17 with quarterback Billy Wade passing for four touchdowns, two each to flanker Johnny Morris and Mike Ditka.

Morris caught 11 passes of the 22 completed by Wade and he is far ahead of all receivers in the NFL with 38 receptions for 597 yards.

The Lions, with a 3-1 record in second place of the Western Division, have won their last two games behind Earl Morrall starting at quarterback, but strangely the Lions did it with a minimum of passing.

There are no Lions' pass receivers among the top 10 of the NFL receivers. Gail Coghill has 17 receptions for 243 yards, while Terry Barr had 16 for 364 yards and Jim Gibbons 13 for 164 yards.

INTERCEPT FIVE
The Bears' pass defense really came to life against the Lions by grabbing off five of Bill Munson's aerials. Prior to this the Bears had only two pass interceptions to show for four games.

The Lions' secondary currently is second best to the Redskins in interceptions. Washington has 12 for the season and Detroit has nine, having stolen four against the Giants two weeks ago and three against the Vikings last week.

The Lions have been getting their best performances from their offensive unit the past two games, with Danny Lewis and Nick Pietrosante running strongly and Tommy Watkins running kicks back in spectacular fashion.

WELCOME COMMITTEE — Smiling Mickey Mantle, Tom Tresh and Elston Howard, (from left), greet Joe Pepitone (25) at the plate after the Yankee first baseman stroked a bases-loaded homer with them aboard in the eighth inning yesterday. The Yanks won the 6th game, 8-3 to force the World Series into a 7th game.

Arnie, Jack Bid for Cash, Prestige in Sahara Open

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — It's a clash for money and prestige as Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus lead the way into the first round of the $70,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament today.

A field of 120 professionals are on the starting line. Other big name golfers here are Tony Lema, Ken Venturi, Bill Casper Jr. and Bobby Nichols, all of whom have had their share of success this year.

The 72-hole autumn desert classic will be played at the par 36-35-71 Paradise Country Club course.

LAST TOURNEY

This is the last major money tournament of the year. There is $12,000 awaiting the winner, and if either Palmer or

Nicklaus wins, it will clinch the dollars championship of the year.

There is prestige in the top monetary ranking.

Nicklaus won the Sahara last year with a 72-hole score of 276, eight under par for the distance.

Palmer was nine shots back. Wednesday Nicklaus suggested to Palmer they play a few practice holes during the proamateur competition in which neither participated.

"No, it's too crowded out there. Besides, Jack, you know the course pretty well," Palmer said.

Nicklaus chuckled. Ken Still of Tacoma, Wash., captured individual honors in the pro-am 36-hole event with a 68-67-135 and picked up $500.

Four Starters Back for 'M' Cage Team

ANN ARBOR (AP) — With four of his five starters back and 10 of 13 lettermen, Michigan basketball coach Dave Strack opened team practice today.

The squad which tied for the Big Ten championship and placed third in the NCAA competition is augmented by several promising sophomores.

The Wolverines open against Ball State Dec. 1.

Mainstays of the squad again will be senior center Bill Buntin and junior guard Cazzie Russell.

STILL BOTHERED

Russell, a second team All America last year, was hampered the last part of the season by an ankle injury which handicapped his efforts for an Olympic bid. Strack said he hoped the injury has fully healed but it had still bothered Russell sometimes.

Wolverine forwards Larry Tregoning and Oliver Darden are back, leaving only a guard vacancy caused by the graduation of Bob Cantrell to be filled by a newcomer this year.

Strack listed three Wolverine lettermen scrambling for the position—John Thompson, John Clawson and Tom Ludwig. Practice will determine who if any will win the starting spot.

Craig Dill, a 6-foot-10 sophomore center, from Saginaw will either play behind Buntin or as a forward or center with Buntin, Strack said.

The Wolverines' second game Dec. 5 is with Duke, the team that knocked the Michigan cagers out of the NCAA tourney last spring.

Spartan Five Loses Center

MSU Cagers Practice First Time

EAST LANSING (AP) — The big man Michigan State needed in basketball—a 6-foot-8 center—has been fouled out by elbow problems, so the Spartans face another rough season.

"We'll be struggling to keep our heads above water," admitted coach Fordy Anderson. "If we do as well as last year, it will be a pleasant surprise."

Michigan State had a respectable over-all record of 14-10 last season and tied for fourth with Purdue on an 8-6 mark in the Big Ten.

The Spartans were planning a lot of hopes on letterman Bill Noack, but found out his college center days were over because he earlier had played at Albion before transferring to State.

GOOD SPEED

Still remaining are six lettermen in a squad short in height but good in speed. Junior Stan Washington and senior Marcus Sanders, both stretching to 6-3, each hit for better than 14 points a game last year.

The schedule includes 14 conference games in January, February and March of next year and a nine-game pre-conference tuneup with the opener against Northern Michigan at home Dec. 3.

'M' Awaits Purdue; MSU Ailing

League Games for Grid Pair

Wolverines Must Win for 1st Place Tie

By The Associated Press

Unbeaten Michigan takes on Purdue and Michigan State, crippled by injuries to key players, tries to get back on the winning track against Indiana in two of the Big Ten football games scheduled Saturday.

Ohio State, the league leader after clubbing Illinois last week, enters Southern California, while Northwestern plays host to Miami (Ohio) in another non-conference encounter.

Illinois is at Minnesota and Iowa at Wisconsin in the other conference games.

OUT OF ACTION

MSU's Spartans, off pace with two losses against one victory, heard disturbing news from the team physician Wednesday. A bruised heel will keep senior fullback and right half back Harry Ammon out of action against Indiana. The Holl youth was the only returner from last year with more than 100 yards gained rushing.

Michigan, Purdue, Minnesota and Iowa are all 1-0 and victories Saturday would move them into a tie with the Buckeyes.

Michigan can expect its ground game to undergo another stiff test against the Boilermakers. It is the conference defense leader on the basis of having allowed only 147 yards in its victory over Wisconsin last week. Only 48 of the yards came on the ground.

Wolverine defensive halfback John Fowler, undergoing surgery today for a knee injury, is not expected to see active service this season. Also sidelined are Michigan halfback Jack Clancy and quarterback Dick Vidmer.

RUNNING ATTACK

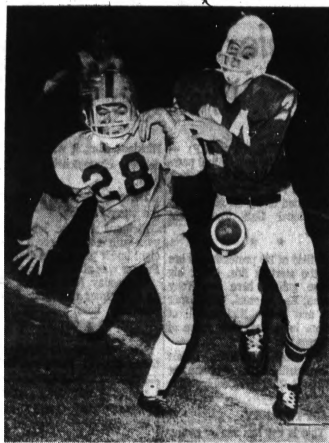

Purdue, like Michigan, relies heavily on its ground game. Five of their eight touchdowns have come on running plays.

Michigan State, which has a 13-4 edge in the series with Indiana, expects the Hoosiers to be tough. Indiana has lost all three of its games so far by a total of 10 points—the last two by a single point.

MSU Coach Duffy Daugherty has switched offensive tactics. Rahn Bentley and Jerry Rush to defense.

Bookies Pick Yankees

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Las Vegas' bookies have posted the New York Yankees as a 10-1 favorite to take the last World Series game and the championship Thursday.

Rochester Loses Mid-Week Game, 32-0

By HERB PETERS

Clawson found that its usual style of play was a waste of time in drubbing Rochester, 32-0, last night in an Oakland A Conference encounter.

Drilled in ball-control tactics by coach Bob Acton, the Trojans relied on that technique only once in scoring three times the first half and twice in the final period.

Moving from the opening kickoff, Clawson consumed over eight minutes in marching 76 yards in 16 plays with Larry Mazzio going 16 yards for the TD at 3:38.

But from then on it was different. With 52 seconds left in the first quarter, Ron Kaiser hauled in a Rochester punt at his 29 and scored 80 yards for a touchdown.

Japanese Rider Dies

TOKYO (AP) — Toshiaki Kitai, prominent Japanese horseman and his country's first post-war Olympic rider, died early Thursday apparently of a heart attack.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, star of the San Francisco Warriors pro basketball team, checked into Temple University hospital here Wednesday night for further attempts to diagnose abdominal pains that had his West Coast physicians baffled.

'LITTLE STRANGE'

Dr. Dudley J. Fournier, who had charge of the examination in San Francisco, had described Chamberlain's ailment as "a little strange." He said Chamberlain did not seem to have any gastrointestinal ailment, although he showed symptoms of an ulcer.

Meanwhile, Temple Hospital's staff solved one of Chamberlain's problems before he arrived. After searching the area, the institution managed to borrow an over-sized, 7-foot-long hospital bed from Frankford hospital, to accommodate the 7-foot-11 star.

Chamberlain was not available for comment following his flight here from San Francisco, where he had left St. Mary's Hospital Tuesday after three weeks of examinations.

He had said there, however, that his eventual return to the Warriors for pre-season training depends on what his doctor says.
