

Thursday, October 9, 2003

Learn about OU's offerings at Grizzly Days

By Jeff Samoray, OU Web Writer

One of the best ways to decide which college to attend is to visit university campuses. And one of the best ways for high school juniors and seniors to learn about Oakland University is to attend "Grizzly Days" on Monday, Oct. 20, or Wednesday, Nov. 19, from 3 to 6 p.m. on OU's campus.

"Grizzly Days are open house events that serve as an introduction to the campus," said Assistant Director of Admissions Megan McNally. "We'll give an overview of our academic programs and student services and also offer helpful breakout sessions on how to plan for college life. It's really the best way to obtain information and have all your questions answered in a one-day event."

The program begins with a formal welcome to OU, followed by campus tours given by current OU students. An academic resource fair follows, where attendees can meet representatives from academic and student services departments. Students also can attend sessions on exploring college options.

There is no fee to attend Grizzly Days, but attendees must register by Monday, Oct. 13. To make a reservation, use OU's convenient online reservation system or contact the Office of Admissions at (248) 370-3360 or (800) OAK-UNIV.

SUMMARY

One of the best ways to decide which college to attend is to visit university campuses. And one of the best ways for high school juniors and seniors to learn about Oakland University is to attend "Grizzly Days" on Monday, Oct. 20, or Wednesday, Nov. 19, from 3 to 6 p.m. on OU's campus.

Created by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Thursday, October 9, 2003

Modified by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Thursday, October 9, 2003

Article Start Date: Thursday, October 9, 2003