'Speed Up Our Public Works,' Plea of Dem Leader Johnson

May Be Launched This Week

Vanguard Checked

It was conceivable that a new attempt to fire the three-stage rocket, and possibly to place a grapefruit size satellite in an orbit, might come within a day or two.

It might also develop—should the Vanguard experts find that the repeated delays have weakened any part of the sensitive vehicle—that there would be a considerable postponement.

The Vanguard rocket came within 35 seconds of launching Saturday, shortly after 3 p.m.

Then, it was learned from informed sources, the so-called umbilical line—the missile's last link with the ground—failed to disconnect.

The crane operator who was to have been on hand for such an emergency was missing. As a result there was a costly delay.

Similarly, a "hold" or temporary delay in the approaches toward launching time was ordered on the basis of a weather report indicating high winds aloft.

At the time the Navy received the wind report the weather officer said it might be in error.

Vanguard officials could not afford to take a chance. The Vanguard rocket is so tall and slender that winds over 15 miles an hour are a menace to it. A "hold" was ordered and there was a long wait.

Finally a weather balloon was sent aloft. It refuted the wind forecast. Almost immediately the countdown resumed.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Frustrated by a faulty weather report, a crane operator's absence at a crucial moment of need, and a series of minor technical breakdowns, the Navy today prepared a new attempt to launch its Vanguard space rocket, possibly this week.

A new firing schedule was under discussion in conferences between officials of the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, the Martin Co. —builder of the big rocket—in Baltimore, and the Air Force missile test center here.

Orders Hospital to Give Records to Sullenberger

Judge Adams Rules on Files of 25 Cases Cited in Ouster Action

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams today ordered Pontiac General Hospital to make certain of its medical records available to counsel for Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger, but denied a move aimed at protecting the ousted staff surgeon's reputation.

The records are those of patients in 25 cases in which it has been alleged Dr. Sullenberger violated professional medical standards.

Judge Adams noted that he was not ordering the hospital to turn over any records that have been especially developed for its defense in the $250,000 damage suit brought by Dr. Sullenberger for reinstatement.

"Those public records accumulated during the normal course of hospital business are the ones affected by this ruling," Judge Adams said.

Attorneys agreed that photostatic copies of the records included under the ruling would be prepared within one week.

Judge Adams stipulated that the names of the patients involved would be deleted from the photostats for protection of their privacy.

ATTORNEY SATISFIED

Dr. Sullenberger's attorney, Harry N. Dell, who stated that he had to inspect the records to prepare the case for its trial next month, said he was satisfied with the ruling.

Calls for Action on Senate Plan to Create Jobs

Supports Ike's Program for Pumping New Vigor Into Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) testified today for an accelerated federal public works program and declared, "what we want is action—not credit, not an issue."

"We want to get rid of the issue by putting people on jobs," the Senate Democratic leader said.

Johnson was the first witness at a public works committee hearing on a resolution he and 65 other senators are sponsoring to put the Senate on record as favoring a speedup of civil public works projects.

The Texan said the resolution covered about four billion dollars already appropriated for such projects as dams, river and harbor improvements, and public buildings.

Johnson noted that President Eisenhower on Saturday "announced some steps to pump new vigor into the economy."

"I believe most of us would endorse those steps—insofar as they have been explained up to this point," he said. "In return, I believe we should let him know that we endorse the fullest practicable use of his resources to battle unemployment."

Eisenhower announced that some already appropriated public works funds would be released.

He also called for extension of the period during which workers are eligible for unemployment insurance benefits.

Strike in Garment Industry May End Within 24 Hours

NEW YORK (AP)—Striking garment workers and dress manfacturers have reached agreement on money issues and appear headed for a full settlement today or tomorrow.

The ticklish problem of contract enforcement — the other major issue in the six-day-old strike — is still to be resolved.

An employer spokesman said last night both sides agreed on a 11½ per cent package increase.

The spokesman said it includes an 11 per cent boost in base pay and a payroll deduction for severance pay of one half of 1 per cent.

Agreement also was reached on overtime for piece workers—81 per cent of the workers are employed on this basis—after 35 hours.

Union officials declined to confirm or deny the reported terms.

The dispute, first major strike by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union in 25 years, has affected nine Eastern states and idled 105,000 ILGWU members.

The wage agreement came after two days of intensive mediation by two peacemakers appointed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner—former U. S. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman and Harry Uviller, impartial chairman of the dress industry.

The mediators joined with David Dubinsky, president of the

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts mostly cloudy, rather windy and cold weather for tonight and tomorrow. Scattered snow flurries are also expected.

The low tonight will be 24-28 degrees and the high tomorrow around 34.

The outlook for Wednesday is mostly cloudy with little change in temperature.

The Weather Bureau's five-day forecast predicts temperatures will average around three degrees below the normal high of 42 and normal low of 26.

Only minor day-to-day temperature changes are expected. There will be snow flurries or rain Wednesday and Thursday and snow flurries Friday.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 27. At 2 p.m. the reading was 37.

Venus, Jupiter Beyond Scope of Foreign Aid?

WASHINGTON (INS) — An economy-minded Ohio congressman warned administration foreign aid planners today that he was drawing the line at handouts for Venus or Jupiter.

Republican Frank T. Bow urged his constituents in a letter to "consider what may happen if we find that Martians are truly warlike and aggressive. . .

"Will we be called upon to give defense support to Venus, arms to Jupiter, set up an interplanetary missile base on the moon?

"What has been labeled a gigantic budget this year might then become astronomical."

Bow said he knows "only too well what has happened to American taxpayers since some of my colleagues discovered 'world responsibility.' I dread to think what might happen if they should also discover a responsibility for the welfare of the universe."

The legislator declared he wants "to go on the record in opposition to any interplanetary cooperation administration or galactic agency."

John Cross Replaces Richard Mack on FCC

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today nominated Democrat John S. Cross to be a member of the Federal Communications Commission. He succeeds Richard A. Mack, who resigned under fire.

Cross, 53, now is assistant chief of the State Department's telecommunications division.

He has been in the communications field for about 22 years, the White House said.

Mack, also a Democrat, resigned a week ago today while under sharp criticism from members of a House investigating subcommittee, and others.

In accepting the resignation, the President called the step wise and told Mack he had impaired his usefulness.

The subcommittee took testimony that Mack accepted loans from a Miami lawyer interested in a case pending before the FCC. Mack denied any wrongdoing.

The nomination of Cross, a legal resident of Arkansas, is subject to confirmation by the Senate.

A native of Birmingham, Ala., Cross has worked for the State Department since 1946.

He was graduated in 1923 from the Alabama Polytechnic Institute with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering.

In 1941 Cross served as a member of the Defense Communications Board.

In 1936-41 he was a member of the federal government's interdepartment Radio Advisory Commission.

Fails to Appear at House Probe

Whiteside Breaks Date for Further Quiz on FCC TV Channel Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thurman A. Whiteside, Miami lawyer, failed to appear today for scheduled questioning by a House committee investigating the Federal Communications Commission.

Chairman Harris (D-Ark) declined to tell reporters immediately what, if any, word he had received from Whiteside.

Harris ordered a closed meeting of the committee.

Whiteside had not been subpoenaed for more questioning on his relationship with former FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack.

Neither Whiteside nor his attorney, Richard A. Hunt, was reported registered at the Washington hotel where the Miami businessman-lawyer had been staying.

Whiteside appeared twice last week before a U. S. grand jury investigating matters relating to the FCC. He is scheduled to report to the grand jury again.

Whiteside gave the grand jury records of financial dealings with Mack.

Like the House committee, the grand jury is studying the conduct of Mack in connection with the FCC's grant of television Channel 10 in Miami to a subsidiary of National Airlines.

Whiteside at one time pushed the application of Public Service, which won the channel over three other applicants.

Mack, who voted with the FCC majority in favor of Public Service, acknowledged accepting thousands of dollars in loans and free stock in two firms from Whiteside, whom Mack described as a long-time friend. Mack denied he was swayed by Whiteside to vote for Public Service, and contended he had not done anything wrong.

Community Service Unit Under Way

Break Ground for Center

Ground-breaking ceremonies at 10 a.m. today inaugurated construction of Pontiac's Community Service Building on Franklin boulevard near Orchard Lake avenue.

The first spade of earth was turned by City Manager Walter K. Willman; Glenn H. Griffin, chairman of the United Fund building committee; William B. Hartman, president of the Pontiac Area United Fund board of trustees, and Paul A. Kern Jr. of the Paul A. Kern Co., leaseholder.

The building will be financed by the Kern company which will lease it to the Pontiac Community Chest. However, at the end of 12 years, the Community Chest will own the building.

The new structure was blessed by Dr. William H. Marbach, of the First Presbyterian Church. When completed, about July 15, the building will house the Pontiac Area United Fund offices as well as 10 local Community Chest agencies.

The Community Chest expects its installments on the two-story building will run less than the rent now being paid to house the agencies separately.

Other dignitaries at the ground breaking today included Karl W. Bradley, PAUF executive director; members of the building committee Abe Lapides, Harold J. Muldowney, James Corwin and Robert R. Eldred; and executive directors and presidents of Community Chest - supported agencies.

Also present were Elmer Johnson, Waterford Township supervisor; Robert M. Glenn, chairman of the PAUF administrative committee and a Community Chest director; Robert S. Nelson, chairman of the Community Chest budget steering committee and also a director; Fred V. Haggard, PAUF vice president, and Tom Roth of Roth and Sons, Birmingham, which will construct the building.

North Korea Agrees to Return U.S. Pilot

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—North Korea today agreed to return a U.S. Air Force pilot shot down over the demilitarized zone last Thursday by Communist gunfire. No date for the release was given.

The Communist announcement came at a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission at which the U.N. Command warned it would shoot down any Red planes deliberately crossing the truce line.

Capt. Leon Pfeiffer of Kenosha, Wis., who parachuted from the stricken Sabre Jet into Communist territoy, was being given "humanitarian treatment," the Communist delegates said. There was no indication whether he was wounded.

The U. N. delegate, Gen. Olaf Kyster, admitted that Pfeiffer's and other American planes had violated the demilitarized zone but told the Reds it was because of "mistakes and carelessness on the part of the pilots."

HONG KONG (AP) — North Korean soldiers have been taking over from withdrawing Red Chinese "volunteers" in the past few days, Peiping radio said today.

The broadcast said the first Communist Chinese elements will complete their pullout before April 30. The size of the group was not indicated.

The Chinese Reds said two weeks ago they would pull back their entire force in North Korea — estimated at 370,000 men — by year's end. They demanded that U.N. troops do the same in South Korea.

Lenten Meditations

By ROBERT L. DIEFFENBACHER, D.D.

When some people are urged to go to church they cast unpleasant glances at the hypocrites who pray on Sunday and who sin against their brothers on Monday. Some see only the unworthy who fill a few pews of our churches.

They overlook the many who silently follow the will of God seven days a week.

One of the mistakes of many serious Christians is the very silence of their worship.

They hide their religion from others. They fail to bear witness for the Master who gives life eternal.

Somehow we must make our loyalties known. We must let others know that God is guiding our every deed and that we are in constant touch with Him.

There are many who will not read the Bible, but they would read the Gospel According to You. Our lives must reflect God's presence.

Lyndon Hazen, 59, Plainwell, was killed Saturday night when struck by a car near his home.

Jesse T. Rhew, 27, Three Oaks, was injured fatally when his car sideswiped another and overturned east of Bridgeman Saturday.

Rachel Campbell, 12, Dexter, and her 2½-year-old sister Lucinda, were killed when the car in which they were riding collided with a train between Dexter and Chelsea Saturday.

Leo Gill, 65, Port Huron, was injured fatally Friday night when his car struck a tree near Marysville.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Does the sun create clouds?

Yes, indirectly, the sun is responsible for clouds. And the sun also creates the wind, to a great extent.

By heating the earth (which heats faster than the water area of the earth) the sun causes the rising thermals that condense into visible moisture droplets, or clouds. As the heated air rises, other air, perhaps cooler air from nearby water areas, flows in to replace the heated air.

This creates wind. The wind at the lake or ocean, from water inland, is caused by this sun-energized system of movement. Thus the clouds and many of our winds are caused by the warming rays of the sun.

Wounded Girl in Good Condition

Abductor of Ex-Wife Held

MASON (AP)—A 23-year-old unemployed laborer was held on an open charge today in the abduction of his divorced wife and the wounding of her sister.

Sheriff Willard Barnes said he would confer with the Ingham County prosecutor's office today to determine what charges will be filed against Robert Shepherd of Dansville.

The sister, Loma Craft, 17, was reported in good condition at Foote Hospital in Jackson. She was shot and wounded in the shoulder, wrist and chest.

Mrs. Norma Shepherd, 22, told police she was divorced six weeks ago after five years of marriage.

She said that she was going out on her first date since the divorce Saturday night when Shepherd came to her house. He argued with her and with her date, Harry Smith of Jackson, and her sister.

Police said Shepherd fired a .22 caliber rifle at the Craft girl before forcing Mrs. Shepherd into an auto and fleeing. Police found them four hours later at a lake six miles away. The woman was unharmed.

Dulles Arrives in Manila for SEATO Conference

MANILA (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles arrived today for the annual SEATO foreign ministers' meeting, which is expected to focus on a possible linkup with similar anti-Communist alliances in the West and Middle East.

In contrast to other ministers here for the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization parley, Dulles declined to comment on the latest Soviet proposals for the Far East situation.

Asked whether he planned to confer with his colleagues on the Soviet Union's latest call for a summit conference, Dulles said, "I came here to discuss the problem of SEATO. I expect that will occupy us fully."

Dulles told newsmen he had not seen official reports on the Soviet demand for an atomic-free zone in Asia and an Asian collective security system, broadcast by Moscow radio in an assault on SEATO. Other foreign ministers rejected both proposals speedily.

The U.S. secretary said the three-day parley, which opens tomorrow, must strengthen further the fabric of this regional defense organization."

High on the agenda is a scheme for linking SEATO with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Baghdad (Middle East) Pact. The Philippines made the proposal. Britain already is opposed to it.

Member nations are the Philippines, the United States, Britain, France, Pakistan, Australia, New Zealand and Thailand.

Captured U.S. Flier on His Way Home

TOKYO (AP)—U.S. Air Force Lt. Col. Howard W. McClellan, 39, of Buchanan, Mich., who was co-pilot of a Korean airliner hijacked by Communists agents and flown into North Korea Feb. 16, arrived here Sunday en route home.

He is being reassigned in the United States.

McClellan was returned from North Korea at Panmunjom last Thursday with another American pilot, Willis P. Hobbs of Vallejo, Calif., two Germans and 22 Koreans.

McClellan declined to talk here about the incident. He is leaving Tokyo Tuesday.

Hammers Mid-Atlantic States

Heavy Snow Hits Virginia

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Late season snowstorms chilled sections of mid-Atlantic states today and storms which hammered parts of the Rockies moved into the Plains region.

Near-record falls of snow for the date were reported in parts of north central and western sections of Virginia yesterday. Snow also fell in parts of West Virginia, Maryland, in the Washington, D. C., area and in Delaware. The drifting snow forced the closing of half a dozen school systems in Virginia.

The weekend storm in the Rockies which dumped up to 8 inches of snow at Lander, Wyo., moved into Montana, the Dakotas, and southward through Kansas.

The wet belt extended into the southern Plains, mostly in the form of light rain, but heavy snow warnings were issued for the Texas Panhandle.

Nine inches of snow fell in a six-hour period in St. Louis. A bright, warm sun melted snow off streets, but blanketed yards and drifts remained.

In Virginia, 15 inches of snow was reported from the Mt. Crawford area near Harrisonburg and 14 inches fell in Bath County.

Europe's cold spell spread south today, bringing snow flurries and icy winds to the Mediterranean coast from the French Riviera to Sicily.

Many roads in Britain and France were blocked by snow.

Denmark shivered in what a meteorologist described as the most prolonged wintry spell for years.

A snow carpet lay over almost all France.

Traffic accidents on icy roads caused two deaths in Italy.

Rome had its first snow of the winter, and gales battered the Naples harbor.

It was in this field that Eisenhower directed a speedup of projects where that can be done.

Johnson said he has been informed that the unexpended balances of money Congress has provided for military and civilian construction stood at $7,100,000,000 Jan. 1, the last date for which figures are available.

Johnson gave no sign that presidential criticism will deflect him from a determination to set up a Public Works Administration to plan job-giving projects for development if employment fails to pick up later in the year.

Newspaperman Dies in Akron

Frank Knight Started Career at Pontiac Press in 1951 at Age 23

Funeral service will be held Tuesday in Akron, Ohio, for Frank McLain Knight, 30, youngest son of John S. Knight, editor and publisher of Knight Newspapers, Inc., and a former Pontiac Press advertising solicitor.

Young Knight died in an Akron hospital yesterday following an operation for a brain hemorrhage. He had been rushed to the hospital Saturday after he was discovered in a coma in the family's Akron home.

The young newspaperman, who worked in the national advertising department of the Akron Beacon Journal, one of the papers in the Knight organization, had been named to the board of directors of the Knight newspapers last fall.

The group also includes the Detroit Free Press, Chicago Daily News, Miami Herald and Charlotte (N.C.) Observer.

Frank Knight began his newspaper career at The Pontiac Press. He worked in the classified and display advertising departments here from July 1951 to December 1953.

From Pontiac, he went to the Akron paper, continuing to learn the newspaper business. He worked in almost every department of the Beacon Journal.

MANY FRIENDS HERE

Frank Knight made many friends in Pontiac. He lived at 34 Seminole Ave., and served as president of a YMCA Toastmaster's Club.

Born in Akron Feb. 9, 1928, he was graduated in 1946 from Culver Military Academy. He attended Cornell University and was graduated from the University of Miami in 1951, shortly before he went to work at The Press.

Besides his father, Knight is survived by a brother, Landon, a staff member of Life Magazine; an uncle, James L. Knight, general manager of the Miami Herald and publisher of the Charlotte Observer; and his grandmother, Mrs. Charles Landon Knight, of Akron.

The funeral will be Tuesday afternoon in St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Akron. Private burial will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Commission to Discuss Tree Buffer Line Request

BIRMINGHAM — A request for the planting of trees to serve as a buffer between the area just north of Buckingham road and the Grand Trunk railway will be taken up at tonight's City Commission meeting. Five families who live on the street made the request.

The residents say they feel that such a planting would reduce noise, dust and dirt of passing trains.

Commissioners also will consider a request from the Berry Steel Door Corp. for aid in the disposal of some of its property at the eastern end of Cole street.

The firm is asking city cooperation in the possible development of the street so that 2.8 acres may be sold in smaller lots rather than as a whole.

Departmental reports, including six deficiency roles on completed city projects, will be received.

Building remains slack in the Birmingham area, according to the monthly report of building Inspector Andrew Butt.

Only 16 permits were issued last month for construction valued at $84,950. Three new buildings are planned, with the rest involving alterations, the report stated.

The economic and political scene with reference to Amrican Aid to India and Pakistan will be discussed by Mrs. H. W. Muenchinger at the meeting of Ruth Shain International Relations Class tomorrow morning at the Community House. Mrs. Muenchinger is a member of the group.

The meeting is open to the public, free of charge.

The traveling emblem will be presented to Pride of Oakland Rebekah Lodge 445 by Milford Lodge 511 Wednesday evening at the Community House.

Noble Grand Alta Loeding will be a special guest at the gathering. Ina Nixon will be in charge of the social hour.

Mrs. August Larson

Requiem Mass will be conducted for Mrs. August (Evelyn) Larson, 55, of 31275 Bingham Rd., Birmingham, at the Holy Name Church at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Officiating will be Msgr. Eugene Paddock with burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Mrs. Larson died Saturday at her home after a long illness.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tonight at Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co.

A Birmingham resident 25 years, Mrs. Larson was treasurer of the Larson Clay Pipe Co. of Ohio and a partner of the Larson Co., Builder and supply firm, Detroit.

She was a member of the Hospital Guild, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the Holy Name Altar Society and was active in several Catholic charities.

Surviving are her husband; four sons, Edward A., John A., Donald R. and Robert P.; and her mother, Mrs. Mary Gearald.

Quizzing Mazey on Kohler Boycott to a jury of clergymen that the UAW chief is a "more dangerous menace than the Sputniks or anything Russia might do."

The union leader said he would exit from the labor movement if Goldwater could prove the accusation made by the senator in a January speech.

Reuther, in a public statement, also urged "sanity and responsibility" in the Senate hearings, which have been marked by repeated explosions between Democrats and Republicans, as well as between the opposing factions in the Kohler disputes.

Reuther said the hearings have been "a sad spectacle of recrimination by both the company and the union."

The first week and a half of hearings were devoted primarily to charges of violence on both sides.

The committee planned sometime this week to summan John Gunaca of Detroit to testify on charges that he broke the neck of an elderly non-striker, William Bersch, in a July 4, 1954 scuffle.

Gunaca will come to Washington under special court protection obtained by the committee to prevent his extradition to Sheboygan on a felonious assault charge.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams has turned down all attempts by Wisconsin authorities to extradite the UAW member.

Some Republican members of the committee claim Bersch's death in October 1955 was the result of the alleged beating, but UAW spokesmen contend he died of a heart ailment.

Blood of Neighbors May Save Girl, 11

ONSTED (AP)—Blood offered by 24 neighbors may course through the body of Susan Kurtz for five hours tomorrow while the 11-year-old girl undergoes a heart operation.

The 24 offered their blood within a few hours after it became known that Susan must undergo the operation in a Cleveland hospital.

Starting today, the neighbors in this southern Michigan village are to go by car caravan to Cleveland to give their aid.

Lloyd Kurtz, the girl's father, said surgeons told him Susan would not live six months unless she was operated on and that the odds were 5-1 against its being successful.

The operation, to be performed by Dr. Frederick S. Cross, a Cleveland heart specialist, calls for use of a mechanical heart and lung to take over for Susan's own heart during the five hours that surgeons estimate the operation will take. Blood from donors will pass through the mechanical heart.

At the age of 3 Susan had an artery transplanted from her right arm to her heart to replace a defective part of the heart. The artery failed to grow as the rest of her body grew and the new operation became necessary.

Face hair grows four times thicker than scalp hair.

Seven Burglaries Reported in City

All Saints Episcopal Church Victimized for 3rd Time in 2 Weeks

Seven burglaries, including the third one in the past two weeks of All Saints Episcopal Church, were reported to Pontiac police over the weekend.

All Saints, 171 W. Pike St., was entered Sunday afternoon through an unlocked door and 42 cents stolen. Three offices were ransacked by the thief who removed a small pane of glass from an office door and reached in to unlock it.

Thieves took $3 from the First Church of the Nazarene, 60 State St. They broke a basement window to gain entrance.

Gas stations were a prime target for burglars during the weekend. The Gulf station at 59 Auburn Ave. was entered, but nothing is reported missing.

Another Gulf station at 208 N. Paddock St., reported a window broken, but it was not certain whether entry was gained.

Two juveniles were apprehended by Patrolman Medford Pittman and admitted entering a gas station at 728 W. Huron St.

Pittman spotted the boys running on W. Huron and gave chase. He caught one boy carrying a bag filled with cigarettes and other items taken from the gas station. His companion was later arrested at home.

Mickey's Bar, 338 Franklin Rd., was looted by thieves who opened a steel door at the rear. Change was taken from coin machines and an unknown amount of liquor stolen.

A single dollar bill was stolen from Eakle Cleaners, 131 Oakland Ave. The dollar was taken from a cash register.

Burglars attempted to enter the McKenna Hardware, 900 Joslyn Rd., by prying the front door lock, but were unable to open the door.

Jewel Theft Suspect Hunted Across Nation

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (INS)—A former member of New York's notorious "Matinee Gang" was the object of a nationwide alert today in connection with a $160,000 jewel robbery in Miami Beach.

The jewels were stolen last Sunday from entertainer Arthur Godfrey's apartment penthouse in the plush Kenilworth Hotel at Bal Harbor, Fla., occupied by Chicago industrialist Titus Haffa and his wife.

Authorities in Miami Beach reported yesterday they want to question Albert Abrahamson about the afternoon theft, reminiscent of daylight house robberies by the "Matinee Gang."

Abrahamson, according to authorities, also is wanted in California for jewel thefts.

Also known as Abrams, Abrahamson served almost four years in Sing Sing Prison for his part in a $23,000 robbery. He also served part of a 10-year term for a Mimai Beach theft in 1940 and 13 years later was identified as the gunman who broke into the home of a wealthy Florida couple.

He fled Florida and later was arrested in Beverly Hills, Calif., for burglary.

Plastic Film Produces Drawings for Blind

WOODSIDE, N.Y. — An effective drawing kit for the blind, developed by a Woodside concern, produces raised lines on thin plastic film by the use of a ballpoint pen and a special writing board.

Writing on the film placed over the rubber-surfaced pad produces a series of tiny bumps, which appear as raised lines on the upper surface of the film, easily traced with the fingertips.

2 of 4 Florida Prisoners at Large

Escape From 23rd Floor of Jail

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Four prisoners climbed out a 23rd-story window of Dade County's skyscraper jail last night and crept down a rope made of mattress ticking.

Norman J. Mackiewicz, 34, New Britain, Conn., accused murderer of a policeman, and Howard Bartlett Piccott, 40, charged with raping a child, made good their escape. A statewide alarm was broadcast.

Roger Wayne Carter, 18, Chicago, charged with slaying a bar worker, and Edward L. Kille, 27, held on a federal car theft charge, were collared in the jail-courthouse within an hour of the daring escape bid at 7:42 p.m.

Investigators said the quartet sawed out a bar of a window with a smuggled hacksaw blade, made fast a rope of torn-up mattress ticks and inched down the northeast corner of the 26-story building in downtown Miami.

Carter kicked in a window pane at 19th floor level, possibly in a misstep while "walking" down the side of the building, and got into the County Criminal Investigation Bureau laboratory. He hid in the building after women employes who heard the crash of glass summoned help, and gave himself up after about an hour.

Kille was captured downstairs by guards mobilizing to check the break.

Officers said Mackiewicz and Piccott, wearing civilian clothes as prisoners awaiting trial, apparently mingled with street floor passers-by and vanished. They and Kille appeared to have descended on their makeshift rope to the 17th story, wriggled in a window, and walked down stairways to the second floor and slid down to the street on a roller towel they found in a second-floor washroom.

Police quoted Piccott as bragging that he escaped from a jail at Hanover, Pa., while being booked there last April 19.

Army Told to Halt Airy Call to WRACs

British Whistling in Dark?

NEWCASTLE-UNDER-LYME, England (AP)—Men of the royal artillery unit here have been ordered to quit whistling at girl soldiers.

The local unit includes 51 men and 25 members of the Women's Royal Army Corps.

"Whistling at WRAC members," the order read, "will cease." Failure to comply will involve "disciplinary action."

Capt. N. Cameron Smith, the company commander who posted the order, said he acted on instructions from higher authority.

Capt. Joyce Roberts, the trim, 35-year-old commander of the WRAC'S, said she had filed a complaint because "the whistling upset the girls and I had to do something about it."

Commented Pvt. Edna Russell, 18: "I like the whistles. They make a woman feel womanly."

Register Handles 10,979 Transactions

The Oakland County Register of Deeds office handled 10,979 papers totaling $15,032.75 during last month, according to Daniel T. Murphy r., register.

There were four new plats recorded during February by the office.

The February 1958 total compares to $15,476.80 worth of 10,756 papers transacted during February the previous year.

Last month's business included: 2,123 deeds recorded worth $3,456; 1,056 mortgages, $3,560; 2,032 miscellaneous transactions, $2,958; 1,594 photos, $884, and 4,174 chattel transactions totaling $4,173.

Find 17 Bodies of Air Victims

Two From Michigan Among 26 Marines on Death List

TOKYO (AP) — Seventeen bodies have been recovered from the wreckage of two U.S. Marine planes which collided Friday night off southern Okinawa. Hope was abandoned for nine men still missing.

Two were from Michigan.

A U.S. Marine spokesman said today 13 bodies were recovered Sunday. Search parties combing the water off Naha had recovered four Saturday.

U.S. military helicopters, small aircraft and tugs continued the search for the nine missing, who are considered dead, the spokesman said.

Nineteen Marine passengers and a crew of six were aboard a Marine R4Q flying boxcar transport and a single pilot aboard a Marine AD5 fighter bomber which collided three miles off Naha. The planes were en route from the Philippines to Japan.

Among the 17 dead is T. Sgt. Ernest A. Sohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Sohn of Saginaw. He was the husband of Mrs. Kathlee F. Sohn of Anaheim, Calif.

Among 9 reported missing is Sgt. Kenneth D. Alpine, son of Mr. and Mrs. DeVerne T. Alpine of Flint.

Lost St. Bernard Goes Back to Marine Group

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — The 7th Marine Regiment was happy to get George back and so was Ken Flaten, city pound master at nearby Oceanside.

George, a 150-pound St. Bernard and quite a chow hound, went AWOL to explore the town and was picked up by the pound man. He had eaten everything in sight, including scraps from the city jail, by the time Marines located him and took him back to his regiment.

Launch Church Rocket —Shooting for Heaven

BALTIMORE (AP)—After a countdown of the Ten Commandments, a "rocket" blasted off on a string of rubber bands to the ceiling of Baltimore's St. Mary's Episcopal Church yesterday.

All eyes were solemn.

As the "Churchnik" began to smoke at takeoff because of dry ice dropped into water, the Rev. George F. Packard told his flock: "Confirmation launches us into the flight of life and the fuel is Holy Communion."

The eight-foot, silver-colored cardboard rocket had three orange fins. It bore an orange cross and the word "soul."

Despite Losing Battle With Frost King

Florida Trying to Prove Horn of Plenty Overflows

By JOE HAAS

MIAMI, Fla. — One of Florida's most worthwile sights was not affected by the cold weather. It is the 35-mile line of tropical evergreen trees along the north side of the Tamiami Trail on its Miami approach.

HAAS

I wonder if there is anything else in the same line in the entire world. To me it somewhat tends to the sublime.

Now about a foot in diameter and set eight feet apart, all in the same formation, around 25 feet tall, with no limbs for the first 10 feet, they form a continuous line equal to the distance from Pontiac to Flint.

SAFETY BARRIER

There are over 20,000 of them and they're beautiful safety barrier between the pavement and ditch that was created by scooping up the dirt for the highway.

Following a losing battle with the frost king early in the winter, Florida's principal occupation now is to prove that its horn of plenty still overflows. If figures don't lie they're proving the horn's erupting.

They show that 90 per cent of all citrus products canned in the entire nation comes from Florida. Without using frozen fruit, this is decreased less than 10 per cent this season.

The frozen fruit is a problem. The agricultural interests sought to convert it into cattle feed. Then it was feared it might affect the quality of the milk. But the cows attended to that — they won't eat it.

Oranges and other citrus fruits that have matured on the trees after the freeze are now coming on the market, which is approaching the normal stage. Vegetables that were replanted grow to the harvest point in a few weeks of weather like we've had here since the freeze.

In the flower industry, in which Florida ranks first in the nation, the thousands of acres covered by a thin canvas to protect the flowers from the bright rays of the sun had its protection this time from the frost in the same manner. Commercial flowers are a $40 million industry in the state.

Given a big impetus by the proof that Florida cannot always be depended upon as the place where summer spends the winter, the state-wide meeting to promote industry finds that there are 7,500 items that can be manufactured here as advantageously as in the north. And Florida offers better advantages than the north to over 1,000 items.

As proof that its future is not affected by some unusual quirks of the weather, the local papers show that the bonds on a multi-million dollar city improvement project have just sold at the lowest interest rate in history.

The stores refuse to admit their trade has been affected to any great extent, but still advertise heavy woolen blankets under the caption, "Don't be caught uncovered again."

The better class hotels and motels were but little depressed by the cold weather. They had largely been sold out to capacity several months in advance, and their customers came, regardless of the weather. Most of them already are reserved to capacity for next winter.

But the second and third rate overnight places were bumped hard. As most of their patronage comes from those who make no advance reservations, their vacancy signs always were out. That class of people simply didn't come when the weather wasn't good.

Any reports about reduced rates among the good hotels and motels are pure hooey. They did not have to make any reduction — and are making none for next year.

A sample of going away back to get the figures to prove a point is found in the official announcement that the gasoline tax collection on a recent two-day period in Florida exceeded that for the entire year of 1921.

It also is shown that while the betting at Hialeah and other Florida race tracks really did slump somewhat when Jack Frost reigned, it got so brisk with the first warm weather that they're having a good year after all — thanks to the northern suckers.

Notes Small Effect of Foreign Aid Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top State Department official says the extent of foreign aid this year has not been "particularly affected" by a billion-dollar cut in administration requests a year ago.

But C. Douglas Dillon, deputy undersecretary of state for economic affairs, said the full amount of this year's request of $3,940,000,000 'is necessary to enable us to continue the basic program." And he said it will not replenish depleted pipelines, or backlogs of funds, for military and defense-support aid.

Further, Dillon said, contingency funds are "dangerously depleted" and "we would have great difficulty meeting an emergency should one arise before the end of the current fiscal year." June 30.

Dillon said this in testimony Feb. 27 at a closed-door hearing of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. The testimony was made public today.

10,000 'Shot' at Once

Youngsters Admit Drowning Boy, 8

DALLAS (AP)—Felipe Hernandez, 8, drowned in a gravel pit yesterday. And today two boys admitted they had tossed him naked over a 6-foot cliff.

Police said the two, aged 10 and 14, told officers the drowning came after a dispute. Officers quoted several other boys as saying the Hernandez lad was first shoved into shallow muddy water and that when he scrambled out he was stripped of clothing and tossed into deeper water.

Police held and questioned several youngsters, all Latin-American. No names, including those of most witnesses, were released.

Farmer Max Humphrey of Leakesville, N.C., had trouble with cannibalism among his young chickens, or pullets. He installed a cooling system in their pens. Now they don't get irritated by the heat and peck each other to death.

Cadillac

It's an Easy Step from Dreaming to Driving!

Here he is at last—just a few miles out on his maiden journey—with his hands on the wheel and his head in the clouds. It's his!

And yet, truth to tell, he does have one small regret. For now he knows that he needn't have waited this long, had he but realized what an easy step it is from dreaming of a Cadillac to driving in a Cadillac.

Like a great many motorists, for instance, he was not aware that a Cadillac—in view of its many obvious virtues—could be so modest in its original price.

Nor did he appreciate, until the facts were presented to him, how wonderfully the car maintains its value through the years.

And little did he suspect how accommodating his dealer would be in welcoming him to membership in the great and distinguished family of Cadillac owners.

So, if you have your heart set on a Cadillac, you should hesitate no longer to investigate this happy set of circumstances.

In fact, why not visit your dealer today? He will be happy to help you select your favorite Cadillac with your favorite Fleetwood interior—be it the luxurious Sixty-Two Coupe or the magnificent Eldorado Brougham.

Much Maligned, But a Good Month

In March, 1817, the first white settlement was made in the area that was to become Oakland County.

In March of the same year the first steps were taken in Detroit to organize the Pontiac Company that in 1818 made the first settlement here.

In March, 1820, Oakland County was organized by act of the Michigan territorial legislature.

In March, 1829, the federal government recognized that the Oakland County area was not a "hopeless morass," as claimed by earlier surveyors.

In March, 1837, the Village of Pontiac was incorporated under one of the first acts of Michigan's first state legislature.

In March, 1839, the first railroad toward Pontiac was started from Detroit, arriving here in 1844.

In March, 1861, Pontiac became a city by special legislative act.

These historical dates show that March has been the favored month for starting things here.

While it is one of the few months with no general legal holiday, it has the first day of spring, St. Patrick's Day and other dates of note.

The weather is its heaviest handicap. That's because it has the disagreeable task of shuffling off winter in its desperate final fling.

In doing this, it only is laying the foundation for the April showers that bring May flowers, and almost everything else that makes for good, joyous and healthful living.

In this area, at least, history has smiled upon March.

The month should fill us with anticipation.

Peaceful Nuclear Power Moves Nearer

While headlines are captured by news of satellite launchings, and plans for bigger and better guided missiles, another and only slightly less glamorous phase of the new atomic age goes quietly and steadily forward.

We refer to the building and operation of the first pilot plants for nuclear production of electricity.

It has been three and a half years since Congress, in the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, permitted private industry to own and operate nuclear power plants.

Some 123 electric utility companies are carrying on a broad industry program to bring about economic nuclear power.

They spent through 1955 about $14 million; it jumped to $39 million last year; is expected to hit $60 million this year and reach a grand total of about $230 million by the end of 1959.

For these huge expenditures to pioneer the way, three nuclear power plants already are in operation, the largest at Shippingport, Pa. Six other large plants are in construction or under contract, and five other projects are in various stages of planning.

Closest to Pontiac is the Enrico Fermi Atomic Plant being built on Lake Erie, at Lagoona Beach, near Monroe. This plant, scheduled for operation by late summer of 1960, will have an eventual capacity of 156,000 kilowatts of electricity, and will cost an estimated $75 million.

Detroit Edison will own and and operate a conventional steam-driven generating portion of the plant; Power Reactor Development Company (a 21-member nonprofit Michigan corporation) will provide the steam for the generators by using heat from a fast neutron breeder reactor.

But even as these first power plants of a new age are being pushed to completion, further discoveries of the scientists foreshadow their obsolescence.

While the new plants will operate on steam obtained from heat generated by splitting the atom (nuclear fission) experiments in fusion of the hydrogen atom gives promise of electric current directly from this process, eliminating the traditional operating equipment.

Much work remains to be done; but this may some day tap a new reserve of energy.

The Man About Town

Odd Construction

Building to Provide for Outdoor and Indoor Work

Common sense: What often is too uncommon.

Former Pontiac resident,

Pierce Fleischer,

writes me that his present home city of Pittsburgh, Pa., is doing something about the weather. It is preparing to defy the elements.

Ground is being broken for a combined amphitheatre and auditorium with a push-button roof. In the warm season the roof retracts, making it an open-air stadium.

The Pittsburgh architect who designed it says the movable roof can be built for a figure not much larger than an ordinary roof. Outdoor programs then would defy the weather.

This might give us something to cogitate upon here in Pontiac. It surely would be a novelty in architecture, and give our city another "first" in Michigan.

Contrary to reports in Detroit papers, our County Clerk Lynn D. Allen

tells me that our divorce rate is much lower than in Wayne and some other Michigan counties. "But our rate is still far too high," he says.

Pontiac and Flint are "growing together". While the down town distance between the two cities is nearly 40 miles, that between the subdivisions that have been platted is less than ten miles.

Our home folks annoy me with their modesty in plugging for their home area and its products, whether they come off the assembly line or out of the ground. I like that slogan about the potatoes from a certain state of our union

"The Maine difference is flavor."

There's something to think about in a letter from which says, "At 20 I didn't care what the world thought of me; at 30 I worried about what it thought of me, and at 40 I discovered that it wasn't thinking of me at all."

"Approaching Fifty,"

The proposition to incorporate our Novi Township as a village is to be submitted to its electors on St. Patrick's Day, although insists it is not a scheme to get the Irish vote.

Of particular interest in the Pontiac area is the fact that of the 26,000 firms from coast to coast who supply the various with goods and services, 6,000 are in GM's home state of Michigan. Of these, over 4,500 are small firms, employing less than 100 persons, which receives $350 millions per year from GM.

David Lawrence Says:

Limits Sought on Supreme Court

WASHINGTON — Perhaps the most remarkable comment on the all-important issue of how far the Supreme Court of the United States shall be permitted to develop into a "third legislative chamber" has come from Judge Learned Hand, retired. He is one of the most respected and most famous members of the Federal bench.

LAWRENCE

The three lectures he recently delivered before the Harvard Law School have just been published by the Harvard University press. They leave no doubt that in his opinion the Supreme Court overstepped its powers in the way it ruled in the "segregation" cases.

In the last few days Judge Hand's lectures have been the subject of much favorable comment at the capitol here among senators who all along have felt that the Supreme Court has been usurping legislative power.

Judge Hand sat for many years on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New York City. He is known as a "liberal," but he is also known as a fearless judge who did not allow considerations of political expediency or emotional feelings to impair his reading of the Constitution or his study of the basic precedents established by the courts in previous years.

In his day, Judge Hand's opinions were usually accepted by the Supreme Court becouse of their persuasive interpretation of the "law of the land."

Judge Hand finds himself perplexed by the decisions in the "segregation" cases. He says it is "curious" that the Supreme Ccurt failed to mention section three of the Fourteenth Amendment, "which offered an escepe from intervening, for it empowers Congress to 'enforce' all the preceding sections by 'appropriaite legislation'."

Judge Hand, after endeavoring to analyze the Supreme Court's 1954 opinion in the "segregation" cases, says:

"I must therefore conclude this part of what I have to say by acknowledging that I do not know what the doctrine is as to the scope of these clauses. I cannot frame any definition that will explain when the court will assume the role of a third legislative chamber and when it will limit its authority to keeping Congress and the states within their accredited authority."

Judge Hand says, moreover, that he "has never been able to understand" on what basis the Supreme Court adopted the view that it may actually legislate.

He asks whether we should establish a "third legislative chamber," and then adds:

"If we do need a third chamber, it should appear for what it is, and not as the interpreter of inscrutable principles."

Judge Hand, however, doubts whether any judge should be permitted to "serve as a communal mentor" and deplores any wider form of judicial review that is based on the "moral radiation" of court decisions.

Judge Hand says, in effect, that the Supreme Court these days is not following the Constitution or the precepts of the "founding fathers." If there is to be a "third legislative chamber," Judge Hand doesn't want its members serving by appointment.

Congress is today face to face with the issue of whether the Supreme Court as a "third legislative chamber" should continue to usurp power.

Bills are pending and hearings are being held currently by the Senate Judiciary Committee to determine the limits that shall be placed by law on the power of the Supreme Court to decide certain types of cases.

The Constitution explicitly gives Congress the power in certain instances to limit the authority of the Supreme Court.

It will be interesting to see whether Congress will abdicate its functions by inaction or stand up for its right to conduct its own legislative business, including the pawer to set forth the rules that shall govern its committees in conducting hearings and inquiries so as to assume itself of the information necessary for lawmaking.

The Country Parson

"One of the easiest things to accept—and the most damaging—is the flattering opinions of us others express."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Host of Miseries Result From Breathing Foul Air

Lassitude, fatigue, headache, lack of appetite, anemia, and a predisposition to so-called catarrhal affections of the respiratory tract and connecting sinuses — these are familiar consequences of excessive exposure to vitiated, foul or bad air.

DR. BRADY

In Russia there is a great deal of fog, rain and raw damp wind in September and October. Mud and slush everywhere; it is dark by 3 p.m. and night continues until 10 a.m.

In November, snow falls. The temperature then may be below zero but "in this dry sparkling atmosphere the people get rid of their coughs and colds," not to say cri or catarrh. (The quotation is from Alan Moorehead's "The Russian Revolution.")

"In Montreal, January, the coldest month of the year, but with steady temperature, has usually a comparatively low death rate from pneumonia." (This quotation is from Dr. Wm. Osler's "Practice of Medicine," 1906.)

But please keep your shirt on. I'm not going to harp on the CRI. I just want to suggest that in September and October the Russians probably remain cooped up indoors; and after the November snowfall they get out to enjoy the dry, sparkling, below-zero air.

Nor do I know about January in Montreal. But in New Haven, Hartford, Springfield, Albany, Utica, Buffalo, Cleveland and Chicago, February is the coldest month of the year and there's more cri, including pneumonia, from Feb. 14 through March 16 than in any other month of the year.

Several times I have offered here a practical and inexpensive solution for the bad air problem, whether it be in an office, kitchen, bedroom, attic, basement or bathroom. Open a window and use a screen made of unbleached muslin or extremely fine wire mesh.

This will exclude wind, snow, rain, dust, draft, freshen the air in the room and yet keep it comfortably warm. Still better, use several such screens. You'll never know how satisfactory such ventilation can be—till you try it.

Such a window ventilator is a wise precaution to take where kitchen, bedroom, bathroom or other small room is heated by any kind of fuel burning appliance. Even an ordinary gas jet gives off six times as much carbon dioxide as man does.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

'Women in Factories Have Worked Hard for Seniority'

Maybe we women in the shops should give our jobs to unemployed men, but we've worked hard and long for our seniority, and we don't get any special consideration. A lot of us work harder than most men. Also, the men had the same chance.

Give us credit for going to work when we were sick and the house needed cleaning and our children needed looking after. Our husbands may be laid off, too, but we're not crying.

We're not old shoes that are discarded when they're not useful anymore.

Working Mother and Wife

'God Can't Do Everything'

Whether or not you're a good Christian will have no bearing on how and when the GM contract will be settled, or put food in your mouth when your unemployment runs out or during a strike.

Do you expect manna to drop from heaven into hungry children's mouths? God expects you to do some things for yourself, not wait for a miracle. Eating is a bad worldly habit. How long could you survive without it?

The real issue is whether to strike or not. I'm for 40 hours and no strike, not "pay without work." I see nothing un-Christian in wanting steady work and pay.

Still Worried

'Complainers Need to Think More'

People who rewrite the 23rd Psalm and Four Days should be locked up together and made to regret what they've said and done. People who blame Republicans for bad times while Democrats get all the glory should think back a few years. It was a Democrat that created jobs by using money that our great, great grandchildren will pay for. One never receives something for nothing. Someone must pay.

Complainers should take inventory of themselves, and they'd find the fault is in ourselves. Hard working men and women are willing to share wages with men who'll never lose their homes and big cars and will never be cold or hungry. It's time people started worshiping the real God, not an earth-made one.

This is the time of year Christ was placed on the cross. How many people think about that? I'm sorry people fight over politics. The biggest mistake is that people forget to vote and then are first to throw mud on the party if they don't get what they think is due them. Better start going to church and asking God to forgive your foolish ways.

Reading the editorial of Still Alive, I must congratulate him on his answer to Four Days. We should all be thankful we have a President in the White House that knows the horrors of war. He has done everything possible to stay at peace, yet he doesn't tell the people there shall be no "wah" as FDR did.

Neither does he call any of the Reds good guys as did Harry S. Truman when he spoke of Old Joe Stalin. Ike refused to send a known Communist out of the country to return legally, as FDR did with Earl Browder's wife. Yes, FDR was going to take care of the unemployment situation. Now may I ask you, Four Days, how did he do it?

And remember, while our men died in Korea, the Missouri Mule called it "police action." That's Harry S. Truman.

TWO-WAY DIVIDENDS

Dividends received on stock you own must be included in income. However, each individual is entitled to exclude from income up to $50 of dividend income received from qualifying domestic corporations.

If a joint return is filed and both husband and wife have dividend income, each one may exclude up to $50 of dividend income—but one cannot use any portion of the $50 exclusion not used by the other.

If the husband had $100 in dividends and the wife has $25, the exclusion would be $50 for the husband and $25 for the wife.

If the stock was jointly held—and the total dividend received was $125—they would be entitled to a $100 exclusion—$50 for the husband and $50 for the wife.

The exclusion does not apply to amount received from such organizations as mutual savings banks, Federal savings and loan associations, or domestic savings and loan associations.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Now therefore give me this mountain, wherof, the Lord spake in that day; for thou heardest in that day how the Anakims were there, and that the cities were great and fenced; if so be the Lord will be with me, then I shall be able to drive them out, as the Lord said. — Joshua 14:12.

Self-Trust is the essence of heroism.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Don't Let Defect Spoil Your Life

Faith is an attractive girl who has a rather common facial defect. She has magnified it till it seems like a mountain to her, though I regard it as a molehill. After you employ all modern medical aids to improve your appearance, then join the "Compliment Club," for it will widen your horizon quickly.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X - 349: Faith G., aged 18, is entering college next term.

"Dr. Crane, I am desperate," she began, "and my problem is shared by a lot of other girls.

"In my sophomore year at high school, I began to notice superfluous hair on my face, especially on my upper lip and my cheeks.

DR. CRANE

"So I consulted a dermatologist, for my hair is dark though my skin is blonde, as you can see.

"This doctor advised me to try a certain wax treatment at the beauty parlor. For two years, therefore, I went for this wax treatment every two weeks.

"It helped, but always left a few straggler hairs and some broken ones under the skin.

"I have debated electrolysis treatments but hesitate lest they scar my face until I look worse than I do now. I've tried chemical depilatories with not much success.

"Lately, I have tried to pull each hair with a tweezers, but this is torture and too tedious.

"But what else can I do to avoid looking like a toothbrush or hairbrush? I don't want to be shunned socially because of surplus hair on my face?"

HAIRY WOMEN

For a limited area, electrolysis is usually a good method by which to destroy unwanted hair.

Or you can bleach it and then extrovert your attention upon other people via joining my "Compliment Club."

Most people who suffer from what they regard as a defect, soon focus attention so exclusively on their own problem that they lose perspective.

It thus looms mountainous to them, though it may still be only a molehill to outsiders.

So you women with superfluous hair should beware lest you become a slave to it.

Many men have reported to me that they would far rather date a girl with a little extra hair on her face and legs, than one who uses a razor until those stubby hairs feel like a briar patch.

Hair growth is chiefly a matter of your heredity. Some men are almost as hairy as apes, while others have hardly a hair on their chests.

American Indians and Negroes have scanty beards, while some Caucasians look like Santa Claus.

And just as the amount of hair varies in men, so it does in women. They usually are much less hairy as an average than are men, but some women have a fuzz on their upper lip and hairy legs.

PSYCHOLOGICAL REMEDIES

In occasional cases, an ovarian tumor may cause a woman to grow a full beard, like the bearded ladies at the circus.

But the usual hairy woman will get along quite successfully in social life if she will simply bleach the hair and then laugh at her problem thereafter.

To help divert her attention, let her start paying an honest compliment every day to a minimum of three co-workers or companions.

For the important thing in popularity is whether you make your associates feel happier and more important as a result of your contacts with them.

If you praise them honestly and learn how to carry on gay conversation, you can win husbands easily, as millions of fuzzy lipped girls have done.

So send for the "Compliment Club Booklet," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Try it for 30 days. See if it doesn't broaden your horizon and zoom your popularity far faster than depilatories, and hand tweezers.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Junior Editors Quiz on HISTORY

QUESTION: Was there a real Davy Crockett?

ANSWER: Yes. Colonel David Crockett, who died in 1836, was a real Tennessee backwoods hero, a mighty hunter and Indian fighter.

Crockett combined great courage with good sense and wit, with the result that he was chosen by the people of his area to represent them in Washington, where he was very popular and became known as "the coonskin congressman." But when he opposed President Jackson's plans for dealing with the Indians he lost favor, and so he decided to move to Texas, a state which was then struggling for independence from Mexico.

Crockett fought hard for Texas, and met a hero's death in the famous defense of the Alamo.

Soon after his death, the story of Davy Crockett turned into an American legend. Many of the wise things he had said, such as "Be always sure you're right, then go ahead," became household phrases. His humor was also remembered. He was so ugly, he once said, that he could make a coon fall from a tree by grinning at it. As people told and retold his story, more strange and wonderful things were added, until we have the Davy Crockett legend as it exists today.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the illustration (Crockett's buckskin suit should be a light tan) then cut it out and mount it on a piece of cardboard. Then make your own picture of the Crockett legend—say of Davy grinning and the coon falling.

Bob Considine Quotes Noel Coward:

'Critics Remain Something of a Blight'

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Noel Coward and beautiful Eva Gabor were among the luncheon guests of that delightful San Franciscan Louis Lurie, at the wonderful old place named Jack's.

Coward, spearing one of those tiny and ineffably tasty shrimp that abound in the sharp sauces of the city's fabled restaurants, was saying that he had found the native critics considerably less than carniverous.

"Critics, of course, remain something of a blight," the remarkable man said in precisely the manner of one of the characters with which he has populated the international stage. "Here in this city—which I adore more than any other American city—they are a benevolent blight. In New York they are more malevolent than benevolent." He paused elegantly. "Hmmm, better make that read 'London' rather than 'New York.'

"Opening nights everywhere, or wherever, are the same. You sense the presence of the critics and your mind is more on them than on the play. The audiences are on guard, too, terribly afraid of being un-chic by responding incorrectly. They will admit little or nothing during the intermissions.

"It's like playing before an audience that includes the queen. Nobody follows what is being said or done on the stage. Everyone is busy glancing discreetly at the queen, searching out her majesty's reaction before permitting themselves the luxury of their own."

Someone at the table has seen Coward in his "Nude With Violin" and remarked about his deft ease.

"Nothing takes the place of the spontaneity that comes from six hard weeks of rehearsal," Coward said cheerfully.

The Mummers went off to work, leaving the others alone with the host and his special coffee pot—which is engraved "Louis R. Lurie's Round Table, 1916-1957." He poured our coffee with a steady hand, his gold nose-tweeze glasses wiggling saucily as he recounted the history of the old restaurant.

He has had lunch at that particular table every weekday while in the city for the past 42 years, and the world's famed and notorious have paused to break the French bread with him.

His barber makes a 13-mile trip each week to give him a shave at his suburban home. Louie is at his office at eight each morning, and the door is open.

One morning at 8:45 last May, Matty Fox ("who looked like Capone for a minute, there, but turned out to be a very nice man") walked in and told Louie he needed $1,000,000 before 9 o'clock to clinch a closed-circuit TV deal with the baseball Dodgers. By 8:55 the money was in Walter O'Malley's account in Brooklyn, and as a result Lurie now has the toll-TV monopoly on Dodger games in an area reaching from Fresno up to Oregon.

Congress Set to Debate Tear-Jerking Proposal

WASHINGTON (INS) — Congress takes up a tear jerker this week.

Debate has been ordered for the middle of the week on a bill by Mrs. Gracie Pfost (D-Idaho), which would prohibit futures trading in onions on the Chicago and New York mercantile exchanges.

Mrs. Pfost charged that wild fluctuations on the market caused by speculators, buying frequently depressed the prices paid growers, shippers and processors.

"And," she added, "when the prices are low the savings are not passed on to the consumer. It's the speculator who gets the money."

Rep. Jerry Ford (R-Mich.) predicted the measure would quickly pass the House, and added: "Things lok encouraging in the senate."

Mrs. Pfost explained that most of the futures trading on the market is in so-called yellow globe onions. Most of the yellow globes are grown in nine states: Michigan, New York, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Massachusetts and Iowa.

She said, however, that fluctuations on the yellow globes also depressed prices for Spanish sweet onions grown in the good old state of Idaho.

Mrs. Pfost was asked the difference between yellow globes and Spanish sweets. She said the globes were generally smaller with thinner rings and layers, while the Spanish sweets had "thicker, sweeter and juicier layers" and were larger.

"Put it like this," she said. "If I were eating a hamburger, I'd rather have a slice of Spanish sweet onion on it."

Whatever the fate of the onion bill, somebody is going to shed some tears. If it passes, speculators will cry. If it is defeated, there will be wailing among the growers.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — About 150 of Marvin Langford's 246 pupils in "Marriage and Family Living" gave him a surprise housewarming at his new home yesterday.

Langford teaches in Kansas City's Southeast High School. His house was blown away by a tornado last May.

"For the last two or three months many of the boys have helped me on Saturdays working on the outside of the place, doing yard work and moving things," Langford said.

'I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a President'

By CLIFF EDWARDS

AUSTIN, Tex. (INS) — "I didn't raise my boy to be a president."

Mrs. Rebekah Johnson, sprightly 76-year-old mother of Senate majority leader Lyndon B. Johnson, was talking about her son's possible presidential ambitions.

Admittedly proud of the powerful position the Texas Democrat occupies in the U.S. Senate, Mrs. Johnson said with conviction:

"I would not urge him to be president. It is the hardest job in the world. It is crucifying and a slayer, especially for anyone that is conscientious and loves his people."

When Johnson made a flying trip to Austin she was abed with the flu, but she is fully recovered now. Obviously not slowed down by the years, she is active and alert and follows closely the political fortunes of her eldest son.

"Lyndon has told me that he has no desire to be president," she said, and added that he told her, "I have my hands full now—and I just want to be a good senator."

Mrs. Johnson pointed out that being Senate majority leader with its heavy responsibilities, chairman of the Senate's new special committee on space, and chairman of the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee is a "full-time job."

His mother said Sen. Johnson has fully recovered from his heart attack of July 1955, and she pronounced him "fit as a fiddle" on a recent Austin visit.

She said his doctor has ordered him to "go sparingly" on sweets and rich foods.

Realizing the pressure of his many duties in Washington, Mrs. Johnson said she asked him, "Why don't you give it up?" She said Johnson, who will be 50 next Oct. 27, answered:

"I wouldn't feel right if I did. I'm in it now and to a certain extent it's my responsibility—and I can't walk out."

But what if the senator should change his mind between now and the 1960 elections?

"As a mother, I wouldn't wish that job for my child. But, I would leave that up to him. His wife, Lady Bird, feels the same way about it, too."

Then she added quietly: "The country would be very fortunate if he became president. I would be as happy as I am now. I think he has done a great service to his country."

Mrs. Johnson said she didn't believe that "Lyndon would take the job (president) just for the sake of the position. He has a very realistic love for his country and would do the right thing at whatever the cost to him."

With a twinkling eye the senator's mother loves to relate her oft-told story that "I always felt since I first saw him at birth he would be capable of doing great things." Of course, she observed, "maybe a lot of mothers would feel that way about their first child."

She didn't wait to hurry him along the road to national fame. She taught him to spell at the age of four before he entered the country school near their Stonewall, Tex., farm home. There Lyndon raced through the primer and first reader in four months.

Mrs. Johnson had plenty of time for her son at their isolated farm home because her husband, Sam Ely Johnson, was busy with his real estate business and spent a lot of time as a state representative at Austin. He died in 1937.

Lyndon sailed through grade school and finished high school at 15 as president of his class. His mother said "he wanted only facts and rejected stories about things that never happened," adding that it was a "characteristic" he carried over in his "realistic attitude" toward politics.

But Mrs. Johnson despaired in the two years following his graduation from high school, when "he was not interested in anything except to have a good time."

She earnestly told him many times while he was driving a road tractor that she wanted him to "do something with your head, and not just with your hands."

"He came to me one day and said: 'I'm tired of working with my hands. I'll try the head for awhile.'"

He enrolled in the Teachers College at San Marcos, Tex., and completed three months of prep work and the four-year coures in three years.

At 20 he was principal of a grade school at Cotulla, south of San Antonio, then went on to other teaching work before joining the staff of the late Congressman Richard Kleberg of Texas.

Apparently it was the right decision for the man, who now is considered the second most powerful person in the nation's capitol.

Reuther Runs Dems, Sen. Potter Charges

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) charged Saturday that Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, controls the candidates in the State Democratic Party in Michigan and wants to dominate the Democratic National Convention."

Potter made his remarks at a Shiawassee County Republican dinner at Owosso.

In other actions over the weekend the Michigan Republican senator urged Michigan businessmen to go and get more missile business for the state.

He said in a statement released by his Washington office, "I am working to get more missile contracts into the state, but industry has to show interest and go after the business, too."

Potter, in another statement, lauded President Eisenhower's announcement of a stepped-up federal spending program to bolster the nation's economy. He said:

"The announcement indicates that the Administration has been working diligently on the economic problems while others have been spending their time trying to spread planned pessimism."

Waterford PTA Favors Council

Discussion-Meeting Set for Friday to Consider Separate Group

Parent-Teacher Associations in Waterford Township have indicated that they would like to form their own council, and a discussion-meeting has been set for 8 p.m. Friday at the high school.

All 17 of the schools in the Waterford Township school district are now members of the Oakland County Council of PTA and constitute one-half of the entire council.

Guest speaker will be president of the State Congress of PTA, Mrs. Charles Neldrett who will conduct a discussion on the pros and cons of breaking away from the county-wide council.

School principals and PTA presidents have been invited to attend the meeting as delegates, acquiring information to present later to their individual school groups for a vote.

According to Mrs. Glenn Walters, who is spear-heading the move, Waterford Township school enrollment has grown so rapidly that more can be accomplished by having an individual council.

All parents that are interested in this meeting, have been urged to attend, Mrs. Walters said.

Swedish Palace Told to Shut Up About Romance

LONDON (AP)—A British aristocrat in effect told the Swedish court today to shut up about the romance between his son and Princess Margaretha.

The romantic difficulties of Robin Douglas-Home, nephew of the Earl of Home, and the Swedish princess have been headline fodder for months. The young man failed to win her hand on a visit to Sweden last week, but a Stockholm paper reported today that the court expected a fall wedding.

Said Robin's father, Maj. the Hon. Henry Montagu Douglas-Home, in a statement to the press: "It is my wish that no further communique, however trivial, will be issued by the royal palace of Stockholm or its spokesman until these two children have made up their vacillating minds undisturbed by anyone.

"As far as I am concerned I wish to hear no further comment whatsoever on their romance."

During his five days in Sweden Douglas-Home, 25, was formally introduced to King Gustaf, the princess' grandfather, and dined regularly at the royal palace.

The tall, wavy-haired nephew of a British peer, Douglas-Home first met Margaretha in London last year while he was playing piano in a cocktail lounge.

His first marriage proposal was rejected by her family because his salary of $126 a week was not considered regal enough to support a princess. Douglas-Home got a better job and kept on trying to win his princess.

Hal Boyle Says:

Mischa Elman Refuses to Hang Up Fiddle

NEW YORK (AP)—Many a youthful violinist grumbles rebelliously to his parents: "I'll bet Mischa Elman doesn't practice as much as I do."

But he's wrong. At 67, Elman, who has no intention of hanging up the fiddle and bow he first clutched in a Russian ghetto at the age of 5, still practices up to three hours daily.

"Some artists, as they get older, lose interest in practicing," he said. "They regard it as drudgery.

"To me it is still a pleasure. Even in practicing you make discoveries, and it is the discoveries that inspire you."

This is the golden jubilee season in America for the small, sturdy wizard of the strings who has a puckish face resembling one of Santa Claus' elves. But he had been a child wonder in Europe for more than five years when he made his debut here as an artist of 17.

Acclaimed as one of the great masters of the violin in this century, Elman has given more than 3,500 concerts. He has a repertoire of more than 600 numbers and enlarges it each year.

"If you cease doing new things," he remarked, "you cease to grow."

More than two million of his records have been sold. Some of the earlier ones, made with tenor Enrico Caruso, with whom he used to tour in joint concerts, are now highly prized by collectors.

Chance has played more than a casual role in his long career. When he was 12 he failed to turn the gas jet all the way off the night before his Berlin debut—he had never seen gaslight before—and was overcome by the fumes.

When he was 13, in London, a hot glass of tea he was holding burst and badly gashed a finger of his right hand.

"Had it happened to a finger on my other hand," he remarked, "my career would have ended."

All his life he has been unable to indulge in sports for fear of injuring his multi-million-dollar hands. His favorite game: chess.

Asked the most important factors in a concert artist's career, Elman grinned and said:

"Well, entrances and exits are important—just as important as they are to an actor.

"Technical skill is important, of course, but the most important thing is heart. The artist's contact with his audience is through his heart. If he has no heart, he has no contact.

"And work is important. People think a person of genius or great talent doesn't have to work. Actually, he has to work harder because he has higher standards and higher ideals to satisfy.

"My definition of talent is: self-criticism."

Among Elman's pleasant memories is playing in a string quartet with scientist Albert Einstein who, as a musician, was a very fine mathematician.

"But I found his violin playing easier to understand than his theory on relativity," said Elman.

Mankind's Privacy Shot to Bell by Phones

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—On this day, 82 years ago, a long, good looking chap who rather resembled Don Ameche, barked out the first words ever heard over a telephone:

"Mr. Watson, come here. I want you."

EASILY BOSSED

Mr. Watson was an amiable man, easily bossed, and what's more he was devoted to Mr. Alexander Graham Bell, who was in the next room calling the shots.

So he rushed to the door of Bell's bedroom, and shouted, "Mr. Bell, I heard every word you said distinctly."

Bell had been preoccupied with a liquid battery which he had upset, pouring acid all over his clothes (that night Bell and Watson were about to try a new liquid transmitter), but he was so ecstatic at the news that the telephone actually worked, he forgot the accident and, as some historians put it, "whooped."

From that moment, one suit of clothes and mankind's privacy were simultaneously shot to Bell.

The fact that he had mastered the telephone didn't mean much to Alexander Graham, until June of that year 1876. On the 25th of that month, he showed up to exhibit his "instrument" at the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition, but none of the exhibit judges noticed him.

Finally, as they were ready to quit for the day, one judge, Dom Jedro of Brazil, recognized Bell. They had met through schools for the deaf, Bell's chief interest outside of the phone, and now Dom Pedro insisted that the judges consider his acquaintance's exhibit.

Pedro himself picked up the receiver to listen.

It is recorded that he may have said, "My word, it talks!" although those who understand Portugese believe the statement was stronger.

At any rate, the telephone was therewith launched, and a few weeks later a man named Sir William Thompson, Lord Kelvin, called it "the most wonderful thing in America."

This statement was never officially corroborated, and Thompson was never heard of again, beyond press releases from the Bell Telephone system.

The next year, Queen Victoria called the telephone "most extraordinary," which probably was more like it.

Anyway, today on the anniversary of the first message, there are more than 110 million telephones in the world, with the U. S. claiming 55 per cent of the total.

Only three COUNTRIES in the world have more phones than New York City's 4,077,000.

And the U.S.S.R. is the great mystery of the system, having refused to make any report on their phone total since 1936, at which time they claimed only one phone per 200 persons—as compared with the U. S.'s record of 35½ phones for every 100 people.

In one respect, anyway, you could call Russia a peaceful land.

County Engineer Society Plans 'Surprise' Program

The Oakland County Engineering Society has arranged a "surprise" program for its annual ladies' night banquet Tuesday at the Pontiac Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave., at 7 p.m.

Summit Meet in June Ill-Timed to Suit Italy

ROME (INS) — Italian government leaders are privately worried that the West might "deliver us to the dogs" if it agrees to an East-West Summit Conference in June. They do not like the timing.

Russia has proposed that the heads-of-government meeting be held in June, with the West represented by the United States, Britain, France and Italy, and the East by the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Romania.

Russia's timing is extremely important for Italy because the country will hold national elections in late May or June. While the date has no special importance for the United States, Britain and France, it may mean millions of votes up and down the Italian boot.

Moscow is already helping the Italian party to gear up the Red electorial campaign. It also has set in motion a clever side issue by saying the Kremlin would like to approach the Vatican on the delicate subject of diplomatic relations.

There cannot be any doubt that Moscow is worried about the Italian elections. Virtually every foreign observer believes that under the present circumstances the Italian Communist Party will lose 20 per cent of its strength in both the chamber of deputies and the senate. The Reds, who are already reeling from the loss of power in nationwide factory council elections, might never recover from such a national election setback.

Most reliable informants insist that Khrushchev and company promised Italian Communist Party Chief Palmiro Togliatti very strong support during Togliattti's latest visit to Moscow.

Therefore, Amintore Fanfani's Christian Democratic Party, which now rules Italy, strongly feels that Russia will use every opportunity to woo Italy's voters with all types of promises.

A top leader in the Demo-Christian movement told this correspondent that on the missile bases issue alone, his party could lose two million votes if Russia played its propaganda cards hard-and-fast. About 23 million votes will be cast.

No Italian government leader seriously believes that Russia is trying to arrange a summit conference just to support Italy's Reds. However, they agree that the timing certainly is not mere chance.

Safeguard Your Health to Prevent Fatigue

Today's Super-Active Life Demands Pep

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Modern woman is curvacious and feminine (some modern fashions to the contrary) but she has not gone soft. The old days of the covered wagon seem restful when compared to the demands made on women today.

Yet today's woman is alluring in a soft, lovely way. Even in slacks or shorts she manages to be extremely feminine. Even with the complexity of her life she still has more glamor than previous generations.

I was in a beauty salon not long ago when a woman came in for a quick hairdo. She had just finished 400 miles on a high-speed throughway and had 150 still to go. She looked a little tired when she arrived, but as fresh as a daisy when she left.

I gathered from her conversation that she is the mother of three children and was on her way to be auditioned for television. I have often wondered what happened. Bet she made it!

What a life! Airplanes, knitting and golf. Babies, tennis, swimming, laundry work, painted toenails, homemaking and careers! Yet they all fit together in an attractive modern way. They fit together if the woman has superlative energy.

Today a woman who drags about with cronic fatigue and backaches or flies into tempers is out of date. Today a woman must build her health habits into her daily routine in order to be in the swim with the truly vital members of her sex.

Most of the rules for health are simple bits of advice we have heard over and over again and have not taken seriously because they are so familiar.

We would all be wise to pin a list of rules on our bedroom door so that we are reminded morning and night of the value of good health habits.

If you would like to have my this one leaflet "Essential Daily Routine for Beauty and Health" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 19 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Science tells us that way back before the ice age the ancestors of man went around on all fours just like any other self-respecting animal. Then with the passing of hundreds of generations man gradually got up on his hind feet and acquired philosophy, foresight, ambition and responsibilities — along with poor posture and constipation!

Once he was standing upright it did things to his mind and to his innards. He fell heir to all of those noble qualities which make him man but he also received, as penalties for his blessings, round shoulders, prolapsed abdomens and sway backs, to say nothing of budgets and inferiority complexes.

GROWING PAINS

There are days even yet when each of us would like to crawl around on all fours and give our insides and our minds a chance to fall back into place. But now we have growing pains, physical and mental. We are big boys and girls now and have to take it.

A strong abdominal wall is one of the great aids in combatting the triumphs or mistakes of our ancestors. Nature endowed us with a strong natural girdle made of our own muscles.

Women in particularly should indulge in abdominal exercises since childbearing does stretch these muscles, and also since a protruding abdomen is one of the most usual feminine figure faults. Try

Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms extending straight out from the shoulder pits, palms toward the floor. Bend the right knee. Make circles with the knee. Circle first in one direction and then in the other. Return right leg to the floor. This time bend the left knee and make circles with it, first in one direction and then in the other. Return left leg to the floor.

As soon as you can do so bend both knees. Make circles with both knees, circling first in one direction and then in the other. Return to the floor periodically for a rest and then continue.

If you would like to have my tested abdominal exercises, which take inches from that measurement and strengthen the abdominal muscles, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Hubby Happy—Wife Lost Overweight on Marathon."

Happily sporting the pledge pins that they received in ceremonies that marked the end of sorority rushing at the University of Michigan last Sunday are (back row) Peggy Fagen, Frances Garrison and Judy Huntwork. In front are Joanna Sherman and Sharon Boyce.

Area Girls Join U. of M. Sororities

By ROSE PERLBERG
U. of M. Correspondent

ANN ARBOR—Laughter and tears, hugs and kisses marked Pledge Day, the end of sorority rushing at the University of Michigan.

The traditional happy, hectic day culminated four weeks of rushing, a month during which actives and rushees sacrificed sleep and classes to pursue the getting-to-know-you process.

Both had a chance to observe each other in formal and "fun" situations, with the five sets of parties that made up this spring's rushing schedule.

AREA PLEDGES

Among the 580 coeds who went Greek are a number of young people from Pontiac and the area.

Pledging Alphi Phi is Carey Ann Charles of Avondale avenue, while the sisters of Alpha Gamma Delta have drawn Frances Martha Garrison of Covert road. Prospective actives of Pi Beta Phi are Peggy Ann Fagen of West Huron street and Judy Ann Huntwork of Illinois avenue.

Delta Gamma will be next semester home of Sharon Ellen Boyce of Starr avenue, while Karen Nancy Purnell has pledged herself to Delta Phi Epsilon and Joanna Sherman has taken the Sigma Kappa oath.

Some coeds from Bloomfield Hills have also decided to try the sorority life. Looking forward to life as a Collegiate Sororis member is Barbara Whitcomb Barker. Delta Delta Delta is the affiliation of Jane Curie, while Susan Lorena Kennedy has chosen Gamma Phi Beta.

FILLS THE BILL

For Marilyn Alice Malone, Kappa Kappa Gamma fills the bill. Linda Frances Meyers has decided that Delta Gamma is the house for her, while Alpha Phi sisters attracted Judith Mary Nelson.

Victoria Ann Nunneley plans to spend the rest of her college career under the roof of Pi Beta Phi; Catherine Eleanor Dyni has pledged her allegiance to Zeta Tau Alpha and Karen Smith has taken the oath of Chi Omega.

The hand of sisterhood also beckoned to coeds from Birmingham. Chi Omega was the choice of Dawn BeMent, Susan Burkhart and Janice Lynn Eskew. Alpha Xi Delta appealed to Martha Ruth Cox, while it is Alpha Phi for Linda Arleen Rakas, Janet Elizabeth Miller and Sheilah Susan James.

Delta Delta Delta sisters impressed Nancy Susan Maxwell. Kappa Alpha Theta has the pledge of Beverly Ann Ford, Judie Ann Reynolds and Judith Louise Krempa. Selecting Kappa Kappa Gamma are Barbara Abbott and Mary Brooks Burkman.

OTHER CHOICES

It's Pi Beta Phi for Janice Kay Goulder, Sally Jane Manson and Elizabeth Jane Thompson. Sigma Kappa will be the future home of Janet Ann Mitchell and Barbara Ann Place, while Peggy Ann Zulak will reside next semester in the Zeta Tau Alpha house.

For the next few weeks the pledges will go through the training period that helps them to get better acquainted with actives and their own pledge sisters before initiation ceremonies later this spring.

Dear Abby....

Remember, Students, Life Begins at 40

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our principal has flipped over one of our teachers. When she should be in study hall she is always out in the hall talking to him.

ABBY

They giggle and blush and act worse than some of the students. She's an old lady almost 40 and he is over that. Don't you think they should know better at their age?

THEIR STUDENTS

DEAR STUDENTS: Life Begins at 40! Don't frown on this romance—if it works out you might get a holiday on the day of the wedding.

DEAR ABBY: When do you think it is too late to have a family? My husband and I have been married for 12 years and there is nothing wrong with either of us. We put off having a family because we both held good positions and we didn't want to stop making good money.

I am 38 and he is 41. Now he says he thinks we should give up because we are too old. His mother says I am past my prime and childbirth at my age would be dangerous. Have you (or your readers) any information on this subject?

WANTING A FAMILY

DEAR WANTING: Nature decides who's too old. Get checked by your doctor, and you are young enough if you are ready, willing and able. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a boy who kisses a girl on the first date? I am not complaining—only wondering.

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I think he believes in never putting off till tomorrow what he can do today.

DEAR ABBY: Before my best buddy went into service, he asked me to keep my eye on his girl for him. She wouldn't date others, so I went over to keep her company and I started taking her to a show now and then.

Before we realized what was happening we found ourselves in love with each other. She wants to write and tell him the truth and I say we should keep it quiet until he comes home. Please advise us. He comes home in March.

"TEX"

DEAR TEX: Do not write him this news. When he returns, let the girl talk to him alone. Possibly she was just lonesome in his absence and found you a welcome substitute.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Proposals About Summit Conference Resemble Old-Egg Throwing Contest

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (UP) — It looks like an egg-throwing contest — with old eggs. Both sides are splattered in the high-level American-Soviet discussions on how to hold a summit meeting.

Premier Bulganin has written President Eisenhower four letters since December. Eisenhower has replied with three. Both agree peace is wonderful. Each uses a lot of paper blaming the other side for the mess the world's in.

Others heaved eggs of their own from the sidelines: Secretary of State Dulles, Communist party boss Khrushchev, the State Department, the Soviet Foreign Office.

So, while both sides talk of the summit, both are using the exchanges for propaganda. This may be the diplomats' idea of how to arrange a meeting. To a layman it may seem the best way to have none at all.

Bulganin, sandwiching in topics he'd like a summit meeting to discuss, has: charged the United States with war preparations; taken a crack at Dulles by brushing off the idea that foreign ministers should meet to arrange a summit conference; accused people in this country of calling for a preventive war; blamed this government for not squelching them.

That's just a briefed down version of all he said. He got under Eisenhower's skin. The President, knowing the whole world was reading his correspondence with Bulganin, went to great lengths to defend this country and blast the Soviet Union.

He blamed the "cold war" on communism; accused the Soviets of running out on promises to help unify Germany and let the satellites hold free elections; condemned the Soviet Union for undermining nations with its 82 vetoes in the United Nations.

He needled Bulganin for being too wordy in his letters; blamed the Soviet Union for the arms race and wanting to overthrow other governments; and he told Bulganin one of his letters was just a mild rehash of a "bitter speech" by Khrushchev before a bunch of farmers in Minsk last Jan. 22.

While Bulganin was writing about peace and togetherness, Khrushchev at Minsk belittled this country's efforts to launch a satellite, ridiculed Eisenhower and Dulles, and blistered the "Western imperialists" who wanted to preserve a war atmosphere in order to make money.

In short order, the State Department issued a statement tearing into Khrushchev for spreading a "distorted view of United States policies and motivations."

Meanwhile, the Soviet Foreign Office in a note to this country — called by diplomats an aide memoire — suggested that maybe, after all, the foreign ministers could meet to arrange a summit conference.

But upon analysis, all the Soviets were suggesting was that the foreign ministers act like a bunch of booking agents without authority to make preparations for a summit meeting that might accomplish something.

That was what the State Department fired back in an aide memoire of its own. What it meant in nondiplomatic language was: Whom are you kidding? What it actually said: Do you want a worthwhile summit meeting or a "spectacle"?

U. of M. Opens Galleries

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Renovated galleries of the University of Michigan Museum of Art in Alumni Memorial Hall will be re-opened today. Prof. Charles H. Sawyer, museum director, said reconstruction will increase space for exhibits.

Dulles Greeters Sprayed by Oil Off Plane Wing

MANILA (UP)—Manila dry cleaning establishments—already busy polishing up dinner clothes for functions during the meeting here of the SEATO foreign ministers—reaped another bonanzo today with the arrival of U. S. Secretary of State Dulles.

Just as Dulles walked down the ramp from his plane, a sudden gust of wind blew a spray of oil from the wing and engines over the large and impressive greeting party.

Ambassador Charles Bohlen and Adm. Felix Stump, the U. S. Pacific commander, were among those doused. The large press corps on hand also got a good soaking.

The oil shower missed Dulles.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Residents Go to Polls Today

Special Issues Include Annexation, Tax Plan, Charter Revision

Residents of 10 Oakland County area communities, townships and two school districts are going to the polls today in special and regular elections.

Among the special issues on ballots are annexation, charter revisions, a taxing plan and the sale of liquor by the glass.

Milford is voting whether to set up a five-man commission to draft a home rule charter. Also on the ballot is a proposal to permit the sale of liquor by the glass in village taverns.

Voters in the Village of Holly will decide whether they want to become a city. A nine-member charter commission will be elected at the same time if the proposal is approved.

The Village of Oxford and Oxford Township are voting on a proposal on the annexation of 450 acres of township land to the village. The village councilmen also will be elected.

Bingham Farms is voting on a proposal which would bring the village charter in line with state laws, in order to permit the village to levy a tax.

Residents in Franklin are voting on a charter amendment to allow village tax money to be used for village roads.

Before voters in the Farmington and West Bloomfield School districts are proposals for bond issues totaling $1,840,000.

The largest is in Farmington where a one and a half million dollar bond issue is at stake. The money would be used to build two new elementary schools, a service building and to buy new school sites.

The West Bloomfield district is asking approval of a $340,000 bond issue to provide funds for improvement of school facilities and sites.

Rochester will elect four village councilmen from a field of eight candidates, while in Romeo voters will confirm nominations of a whole slate of village officers, barring write-ins.

Washington Township voters will decide whether they want to authorize the township board to hire the services of a professional planning consultant.

Cheerful Barber Plies Trade Despite Being Unable to Stand

By LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO — Duncan "Dunk" Barkley is a barber by trade and a cheerful philosopher by nature.

While cutting hair in his shop, located in his house at 152 W. Washington St., he dispenses a brand of good-natured humor his customers enjoy.

Barkley has counted among his regular patrons five generations of at least two Romeo families, the James Burlisons and the Lloyd Quicks. Others of his old cronies have been coming to him for haircuts for more than 25 years.

Barkley, 55, was born in Almont and began barbering after school there in 1914. A year later he began commuting to Romeo where his older brothers, Jack and Bill, already had a shop of their own. Dunk was only 13 at the time.

"I'd do the lathering, then my brothers would shave the customers," Barkley recalls.

"When I started barbering, there were 10 shaves to one haircut. Now it's 20 haircuts to one shave," he said. "I don't shave anymore because it involves standing up."

A casual customer in Barkley's shop would never realize to watch him work that he is unable to be on his feet. In 1936, a serious attack of multiple sclerosis left his legs partially paralyzed.

The Barkley family had moved to Romeo in 1924, and in the '30's both of his brothers died, leaving Dunk in charge of the barber shop on South Main street.

Barkley's trips to and from work after his illness were quite strenuous. They involved pulling himself an parallel bars from his house to the car, then using bars which lined the walls of his shop for support on the way to his barber chair.

The Village Council, realizing his limitations, four years ago voted to allow him to open a shop in his home.

Barkley is a cheerful person whose red hair is gradually turning white and who has hardly the sign of a wrinkle. He has barbells and dumbbells which he uses daily to strengthen his back and arm muscles.

On a large wall near his customers' couch he has a bulletin board upon which he fastens postcards sent to him from all over the world.

Dunk married a Romeo girl, Ruth Robertson, in 1926 and they are parents of a son and daughter, both married now and living in Utica. The Barkleys also have four grandchildren.

Mrs. Barkley has been a bookkeeper for the Romeo Savings Bank for 21 years. She and her husband, with their respective business contacts, have little difficulty keeping up with the news both on the local and national scene.

Only one thing bothers him in his business, Barkley says, and that is when he is asked for an Elvis Presley style haircut. "I've had very few requests, but when I do, I try to talk them out of it."

Rules Teacher Can Keep Job

Tenure Group Orders Hazel Park to Reinstate Marveta Hine

DETROIT (AP)—The State Tenure Commission ordered reinstatement of Marveta A. Hine, a 52-year-old teacher, by the Hazel Park School Board with back pay.

Miss Hine was dismissed from her $6,200-a-year job Jan. 3, 1957, when she refused to take a psychiatric examination. She originally was suspended in 1955 for alleged refusal to obey board rules and regulations. Between her suspension and her dismissal she drew pay, although she didn't teach.

The Detroit suburb's school board may appeal the tenure commission's ruling to the State Supreme Court. Officials could not be reached for comment immediately.

Miss Hine, who lives at 2111 N. Washington, Royal Oak, will have about $7,000 in salary coming if the commission's ruling stands. She had been a Hazel Park teacher 20 years before her dismissal.

The commission held her dismissal "erroneous, illegal and void" and said the board did not act "reasonably."

The ruling stated:

"It is the opinion of this commission that, under the facts and circumstances as shown by the evidence, the appellee (the school board) did not act reasonably in its manner of dismissing Miss Hine, and further, that she was not guilty of insubordination for refusing to appear for a psychiatric examination.

"It is also the opinion of this commission that Miss Hine was not inefficient, incompetent, immoral or was found to have disobeyed any school laws or neglected her duty in any way."

Retraining of 30 Benefits County

Job Rehabilitation Plan Saves Oakland $23,716 in Welfare Costs

By rehabilitating 30 Oakland County persons back into paying jobs last year, the county saved $23,716 in welfare payments to these individuals, according to the State Office of Vocational Rehabilitation.

The office, which receives funds on a state-federal matching basis, rehabilitated the persons who were dependent on public assistance into jobs where their combined wages totaled $132,496.

"They are thus able to provide a better life for the 143 children and other dependents whom they support," said Ralph E. Cummins, Oakland County counselor for the state office.

"Our costs to rehabilitate these persons was $9,314," said Cummins. "This is far less than what Oakland County would have had to pay out in welfare if this program had not succeeded."

Cummins said this program training could be increased for many other disabled persons if the state could match federal funds. "It takes a little over one dollar in state funds to match and earn two dollars in federal funds," he said.

He said $500,000 in federal funds are unclaimed this year because Michigan could not match the money.

Forgarty came to Michigan after his escape and worked as a metal polisher in Clarkston. He married last May and his wife is expecting a child this month.

The Knicks won, 123-81, to prevent the Warriors from clinching 3rd place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association. New York players are Guy Sparrow (5) and Ray Felix (19). This action took place in the 2nd period.

Have Scored 1 Run in Last 29 Innings

Are Yanks Losing Touch?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Could the proud New York Yankees be turning into a bunch of hitless wonders—and not so wonderful, at that.

The Yanks wound up their 1957 business by going 11 scoreless innings against the Milwaukee Braves in the final two games of the World Series.

They opened their exhibition season Saturday by being shut out by the St. Louis Cardinals. Yesterday, they finally scored a run, but it wasn't enough, and the Cards won the ball game at St. Petersburg, Fla., 2-1.

Yank Manager Casey Stengel is on record as saying, among other things, that more power is needed in the Bomber lineup.

Yet, for all his woes, Stengel can take a measure of solace in the performance of 19-year-old Deron Johnson who could wind up making a serious pitch for a regular job.

This lad was with Binghamton last year, and was held over from Prof. Stengel's rookie school. His age and lack of experience are against him. But Stengel has been known to overlook such shortcomings as witness Tony Kubek.

The Yanks managed to collect only seven hits and two were long doubles by Johnson. So you might say the cloudy day had a silver lining for Stengel.

Not to be outdone, the Cards produced a slick looking rookie, too, in Jim Frey, who is getting a look-see after hitting .336 at Tulsa last year.

Frey not only snatched a bid for extra bases from Elston Howard in the fifth with a fine catch, but also scored the winning run after leading off with a double in the ninth.

Another rookie, Benny Valenzuela, a citizen from Mexico who has his eyes on the third-base job, accounted for the other Card run with a sixth inning home run off Johnny Kucks.

In other games, the Cincinnati Redlegs defeated the Chicago White Sox, 5-4, at Tampa; the San Francisco Giants whipped the Cleveland Indians, 5-1, at Phoenix; the Chicago Cubs licked the Baltimore Orioles, 5-4, at Mesa, and the Los Angeles Dodgers edged the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-4, at Miami.

FOLLOWING DAD'S PROFESSION — Jim Sewell, center, 19-year-old son of Rip Sewell, left, puts his signature on a Cincinnati Redlegs baseball contract at the club's Plant Field spring training camp in Tampa, Fla. Gabe Paul, Redlegs vice president and general manager, watches. Sewell was signed to a bonus pact. A pitcher like his father, he had been working out with the Redlegs at their early camp before he was signed. His dad won 179 games in his big league career, mostly with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Rip was noted for his "blooper ball." The Sewells live in nearby Plant City.

Detroit Divides Weekend Pair With Milwaukee

Tigers Drop 4-3 Tussle to Braves Sunday After Winning Saturday, 9-8

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

BRADENTON, Fla. — There's something familiar about the way the Detroit Tigers have started their 1958 exhibition season. Two Grapefruit circuit games have been played and both have ended as one run decisions.

Saturday afternoon at Henley Field, before one of the largest exhibition crowds in Lakeland history, the Tigers blasted the Milwaukee Braves for 17 hits to take a 9-8 decision in 10 innings. Yesterday, on a muddy field in Bradenton, the Braves evened the two game series by taking a 4-3 victory.

During the regular season in 1957, the Tigers played 55 one run games and came out on the winning end 26 times.

Outstanding pitching performances in the two weekend games for the Tigers came from rookie Bob Shaw and veteran Frank Lary.

Lary started yesterday's game and in three innings he struck out five batters without allowing a run, walk or hit.

The Braves started their scoring off pitcher Tom Morgan in the 5th inning when Mel Roach singled, Warren Spahn singled and John Demerit hit a sacrifice fly.

In the 6th inning Earl Hersh teed off on one of Morgan's fast balls and sent the ball over the right fence 400 feet away.

The Tigers got their first run in the 7th inning on an error, but the Braves came back in the bottom half to score twice when Demerit drove in Roach and Al Spangler, who had singled, with a three-run triple.

In the 9th inning the Tigers scored twice amid some confusion. After singles by Charley Maxwell, Lou Skizas and Tom Yewcic filled the bases, Mickey McDermott batted for Don Lee.

McDermott's ground ball went to second basemen Roach. He threw to shortstop Morgan at second and Morgan fired to first for what was presumed to be a double play.

The second base umpire, however, said that Morgan had pulled his foot off the bag, and while the umpires were busily clearing the field of the Milwaukee players who thought the game had ended, Skizas stayed on the base paths and scored.

Since time was not called the run counted and Yewcic was on third. Steve Boros, however, flied to center field to end the game.

Morgan, the losing pitcher, allowed three hits and two runs, while Lee, who worked the last two innings, permitted two runs, two hits and a walk.

Saturday afternoon a crowd of 3,720 watched as Charley Maxwell clouted a homer in the bottom of the 9th to tie the score at 8-8. In the 10th Bill Taylor lashed out his second hit of the game to drive in the winning run.

The attendance for the opening game did not reach the 3,900 fans who watched the 1956 exhibition opener in Lakeland when the Brooklyn Dodgers were the foes.

For this afternoon's fame against the Chicago White Sox, manager Jack Tighe has named Jim Bunning, Bob Bruce and Bob Rozman to share the mound duties.

Tomorrow the Tigers meet the Philadelphia Phillies in Clearwater.

Hoosiers NCAA Darkhorse

Indiana Wins Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Teams participating in the NCAA basketball tournament probably shouldn't sell Indiana short because of its 12-10 record.

The Hoosiers lost 10 times, but 9 of those defeats came in the first 14 games and coach Branch McCracken's crew climaxed a tremendous comeback by whipping Michigan State, 75-72, at East Lansing for the Big Ten championship.

That's quite an accomplishment in itself, and can be verified by Butler, Colorado, Notre Dame or any of six Big Ten teams which were victimized at East Lansing.

The quick-moving, hard-hitting Big Ten champions apparently don't scare easily. They trailed Michigan State only once in Saturday's title battle. That was 1-0.

Once in front, the Hoosiers stayed there. They led by 16 points at one time only to see their lead cut to one point. But they didn't panic even though the partisan crowd of 12,350 was howling for MSU.

When the Spartans came within one point with 7:14 to play and the score 63-62 Big Archie Dees gave his team breathing room with a basket.

Twice Michigan State came back to within one basket of tying the game and twice Indiana steadied itself and pulled ahead.

Dees is the Hoosiers' big gun but this is no one-man team. Dees, 6 feet 8, scored 560 points for the season and had 362 in conference play to win his second straight Big Ten scoring title.

He hit only 14 against Michigan State and was outscored by Bob Wilkenson who had 18 and Sammy Gee who finished with 17.

Michigan State, an eight-point favorite over Indiana, dropped into a second place tie with Purdue (9-5). Northwestern defeated Illinois, 88-72, for an 8-6 mark and a fourth place tie with Ohio State.

Iowa lost to Michigan, 95-92, and had to settle for sixth place with a 7-7 mark. Michigan (6-8) finished seventh, Illinois and Minnesota tied for eighth with 9-5 records and Wisconsin (3-11) was last.

Rocky Rejects $1¼ Million Bid

He's Retired, Period, Says Marciano; Kearns Makes Offer

CHICAGO (INS)—Retired heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano has flatly rejected a $1,250,000 offer by veteran promoter Jack Kearns to return to the ring and fight titlist Floyd Patterson.

Marciano said he was "flattered and grateful" but: "I have retired, period. I have no desire to return to boxing."

The retired champ added that he had refused a similar offer of three million dollars "some time ago." He did not elaborate.

Marciano's refusal of Kearns' offer was voiced Sunday night in Louisville, Ky. The proposed bout prompted thoughts of a possible six million dollar total gate.

Kearns, one-time manager of the great Jack Dempsey, who helped make the first million dollar gate a reality, saw theater or paid television as the biggest factor in establishing a record financial figure for a fight between the undefeated Marciano and Patterson.

Two Others Qualify for State

2 Chiefs Mat Champs

Dave Payne and Mel Nosanchuk won championships and two others battled their way into this weekend's state finals at Lansing as the Pontiac Central wrestling team turned in an outstanding performance in the regional tournament at Berkley over the weekend.

The Chiefs wound up 4th in a field of 18 teams and just missed finishing even higher. Waterford was 11th and Walled Lake 12th.

Hazel Park easily won the team championship with 108 points: Flint Northern was runnerup with 75, Berkley had 68, Pontiac 58, surprising Royal Oak Kimball 54, Farmington, Flint Central and Southfield tied with 34, Fitzgerald had 28, Port Huron 23, Davison 19, Royal Oak Dondero 13, Waterford 10, Walled Lake 8, Oak Park 7, Flint Tech and Birmingham 1 apiece. Van Dyke was the only team which failed to score.

Payne, last year's Saginaw Valley champ, took the honors in the 127-pound division while Nosanchuk was the 133-pound winner. Others to make the state meet were semi-final losers Jack Keller, 103, and sophomore Erasme Trevine, 138.

Waterford and Walled Lake failed to gain a 1st place. Farmington had one in 120-pounder Jim Marsh. Big Dave March of Southfield took heavyweight honors.

Hazel Park had a total of four 1sts, Berkley and Flint Northern two each.

The team trophy was presented to Hazel Park and medals went to the top individual performers following the tournament. The four highest finishers in each weight class will compete in the state finals.

HAPPY CHAMPS — Press photographer Tom Gerls calmed down their post-game celebration long enough to get this group shot of the happy Rochester Falcons Saturday night following the Class B district title contest at Pontiac Central. Rochester whipped Lake Orion 61-47 to move into the PCH regional this week. The five boys who played all the way in the big win are shown kneeling in front. Jones Sets KC Hurdle Record

Pontiac track flash Hayes Jones added more laurels to an already impressive list Saturday night in the Knights of Columbus games at Madison Square Garden in New York.

The Eastern Michigan College sophomore set a new meet record in the 60-yard high hurdles with a time of 7.1, a tenth of a second off the world indoor mark.

The victory was the 2nd in succession for Jones over Olympic performer Elias Gilbert. The pair had also met in the AAU finals.

Ron Delaney won his 22nd straight mile race in a feature of the program.

Nick Davis, senior on Maryland's championship team, and Lou Pucillo, North Carolina State's flashy junior, each received 57 first team votes and one second team vote. Completing the top team were Charlie McNeil, Maryland, and Tommy Kearns, North Carolina.

College Powers Begin Cage Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seventy-two college basketball teams, survivors of more than 800 that started scampering up and down the hardwood floors some four months ago, swing into action this week in quest of four major post season titles.

The big plum is the NCAA title for major schools starting Tuesday with 24 entries. The NCAA small college division tournament, its ranks reduced from 32 to eight, settles the issue at Evansville, Ind., starting Wednesday. The National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament gets underway today at Kansas City with 32 entries.

And on Thursday the first of the 12 teams invited to the National Invitation Tournament at New York's Madison Square Garden join the picture.

Actually 26 schools still are running for the big NCAA affair since two conferences ended in a tie. Oregon State and California, who ended Pacific Coast Conference play with 12-4 records, meet at Eugene, Ore., tonight to determine which one will carry the conference banner into tournament play. Arkansas and Southern Methodist determine the Southwest Conference representative at Shreveport, La., Tuesday.

NCAA UNIVERSITY—Field will be reduced to 16 by Wednesday for regional tournaments this weekend at Charlotte, Lexington, Ky., Lawrence, Kan., and San Francisco.

NCAA SMALL COLLEGE — Wheaton opens defense of its title against Chapman of California. Other first round games: St. Michaels, Vt., vs. Grambling, La.; Southwest Missouri vs. South Dakota; Evansville vs. American University.

NAIA — Unbeaten Western Illinois, winner of 23, is seeded No. 1 and defending champion Tennessee State (25-3) No. 3. Portland, Ore., (18-10) is No. 2. Tennessee State meet Northern Michigan tonight. Western Illinois swings into action tomorrow against Geogia Teachers.

NIT — Dayton and Bradley, seeded No. 1 and 2, respectively do not play until next Tuesday. First round games Thursday are: St. John's, N.Y. vs. Butler and St. Joseph's, Pa., vs. St. Peter's, N.J. Four games are scheduled Saturday with play continuing March 18, March 20 and finals the afternoon of March 22.

Round Table Will Not Run in Rich Race

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—The $100,000-added San Juan Capistrano Handicap tomorrow at Santa Anita will be run without Round Table, who is fast climbing toward the distinction of being the greatest money winner of the turf.

Round Table's owner, Oklahoma oil man Travis M. Kerr, said he will reserve the horse for the Gulfstream Handicap in Florida, March 22. He said Round Table is passing up tomorrow's race, not because he was assigned 134 pounds, but because to ask him to run a mile and three quarters now might dull his speed for later races.

Ekaba and Promised Land now become the top horses for the San Juan Capistrano. Tomorrow's racing program closes the season at Santa Anita.

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

(First of a series)

By BEN OLAN

For his fine performance in his first season with the Chicago White Sox last year, Al Lopez was named American League Manager of the Year.

Here's an opportunity to match wits with the veteran pilot. In the following situation, Lopez had to make a split-second decision. He made the right one. What would you have done?

The White Sox and Kansas City are tied 0-0 in the last of the 10th at Chicago. Tom Morgan (R) is on the mound for the A's. Jim Rivera opens the frame with a double. Jim Landis is purposely passed and Fred Hatfield singles, filling the bases with none out. Ron Northey's grounder forces Rivera at the plate. Sherman Lollar (R) is sent up to pinch hit for pitcher Jim Wilson. The count on Lollar goes to three balls and one strike.

Would you:

a. Order Lollar to "take" the next pitch (not to swing)?

b. Let him swing away at the next pitch?

c. Have him try a squeeze bunt on the next pitch?

AL LOPEZ

Result: B — Lollar swings at the next pitch and hits a sacrifice fly to centerfield, scoring Landis. White Sox win 1-0 (April 21).

Baylor Can Gain Point Lead Tonight

Seattle's Elgin Baylor goes against Bradley at home tonight in an attempt to overtake Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson in the major college individual scoring race.

It will be the last regular season game for Baylor before the Chieftains enter the NCAA tournament. Robertson has finished regular season play but will also see action in the NCAA event where all scoring counts toward the individual title.

BIG OCCASION — Saturday night was a momentous occasion for head basketball coach Gerry Wallace and his Waterford Skippers. The Skippers defeated Utica, 62-57, to gain a spot in this week's Class A regional at Bentley and Wallace is shown here accepting the Southfield district championship trophy from tournament chairman Monte Charles. It was Waterford's first tournament victory in the school's history and also the Skippers' first basketball trophy.

OL St. Mary, St. Ben in Class C Regional

Orchard Lake St. Mary is the only Class C team in Oakland County still in the running for state honors as the post-season playoffs move into the regionals this week.

The Eaglets advanced to the Birmingham regional by sidetracking Almont 52-40 Saturday night at Pontiac Central.

Area power Highland Park St. Benedict, Orchard Lake's Suburban Catholic League foe, also gained the 2nd round at Birmingham by downing Roseville Sacred Heart 52-47 while Imlay City was dropping a 49-47 verdict to Richmond in other "C" finals.

St. Mary had more trouble with Almont than it should have had due to some inferior shooting and the losers' agressiveness.

Orchard Lake connected on only two of 23 1st period shots from the floor and missed five of eight fouls to trail 9-7. Chet Wlodkowski hit three successive fields to put the Red and White cagers ahead to stay in the 2nd.

It was 18-14 at halftime and the locals kept getting better as the game progressed as their shooting luck changed. Only some excellent 3rd quarter shooting by Almont's football great Frank Hartway and a big 4th for Don Eschenburg prevented the champions from pulling away early by a wide margin.

Wlodkowski topped all the scorers with 17 digits hitting 7 of 11 shots. Stan Moniuszko rung up 16, half of the total on fouls, as he and Goisdzinski combined to hit only 8 of 39 shots. Hartway scored 14 and Eschenburg's 10, all in the last period.

It was the 4th straight district championship for OLSM coach, Rev. John Rakoczy, two each in Class B and C.

Imlay bowed in the last 27 seconds when Richmond ace Ted Gundlach sunk two free throws to break a tie. Jim Ward tallied 20 and Chuck Vlieg 14 in a defeat which snapped a 15-game win streak.

Memphis stayed in the running in Class D whipping New Baltimore St. Mary 57-34 to move into a regional at Ypsilanti.

PCH, Skippers Enter Regional Play at Bentley

Dales, Berkley, Oaks Move Into Birmingham Class A Tourney

By BILL CORNWELL

The first Class A high school districts in state basketball tournament history have gone by the boards and five Oakland County schools are still in the running.

Pontiac Central, Waterford, Ferndale, Berkley and Royal Oak Dondero survived district play and wade into this week's regional action at two area sites.

The Chiefs probably had the easiest trip to the regionals of the bunch. PCH drubbed Southfield by a 68-26 margin in its district opener, then coasted to a leisurely 65-51 triumph over outclassed Farmington Saturday night in the finals of the Southfield tournament.

Waterford didn't have it so easy. The Skippers, required to play only one game at Southfield, were happy to stop there after fighting furiously for a 62-57 conquest of Utica.

Pontiac and Waterford enter regional play at Livonia Bentley, along with Detroit Catholic Central and host Bentley, the other Southfield district winners.

Waterford's victory marked up two milestones for the Skippers. It was their first tournament win in the school's history and the championship trophy they received after beating Utica Saturday was their first basketball award.

Ferndale, Eastern Michigan League co-champion this season with East Detroit and a strong county favorite, toyed with outmanned Van Dyke Lincoln Saturday night for an easy 59-32 win and a berth in this week's Birmingham regional.

Dondero and Berkley had already qualified for regional activity. The Oaks made the grade in comparatively easy fashion by dumping weak Royal Oak Kimball while Berkley, the Inter-Lakes champion, earned additional tournament privileges by thrashing Birmingham.

A 31-point performance by Waterford's John Herrington, 22 in the first half, led the Skippers to their hard-earned win over Utica. The game was closely contested all the way with seven points the widest lead ever attained.

Herrington's scoring spree tied the school single game record set by himself against Farmington during the regular season. Jim Cole starred for Utica with 21 points.

Pontiac led Farmington at the half, 35-21, and 56-32 entering the 4th period as coach Art Van Ryzin emptied the bench. Harrison Munson with 15 points and Charley Barge with 14 were tops for the Chiefs while Harvey Chapman had 14 for Farmington.

Drawings for regional tournament pairings will be held today. The Bentley regional draw was scheduled at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Three Oakland County teams will be among the five entries in the Class B regional to be played at Pontiac Central this week with a trip to Lansing hanging in the balance.

Rochester, Troy and West Bloomfield all won their district championships Saturday night in impressive fashion and now will be competing here for higher stakes along with Marysville and Brighton.

Rochester started early and kept the throttle out most of the way in trouncing Lake Orion 61-47 at PCH getting revenge for an earlier setback.

Troy, now 18-0, broke up a close tussle with a big last half to wallop Romeo 80-53 while West Bloomfield was eliminating Bloomfield Hills 44-33. Fitzgerald lost out in a 'B' final at Centerline, 57-48.

Rochester skipper Gene Konley got probably the best overall team showing of the season out of his charges in completely dominating an expected thriller.

The Falcons, with cool floor general Carl Montross in charge, had the upper hand right from the start with Bruce Ennis and Gene Hohf swishing the nets consistently.

Ennis hit on five of six shots in one spree and Hohf tallied five straight to spark a 50 per cent 1st half shooting performance and a 40-24 lead.

Both cooled off in the 3rd quarter when Orion made its only bid of the night to make a battle of it. The Dragons outscored RHS 10-2 to conclude the 3rd quarter nine down at 46-37 led by scoring specialists Jim Drake and Nick Neira but it was all in vain.

The Falcons wrapped up the outcome early in the 4th with a string of seven successive points and held on through the final minutes with Montross spending most of the time dribbling through, around and away from the frustrated Dragons.

Ennis and Hohf, not usually up in the scoring finished, with 16 apiece and Montross contributed 13 while doing a good defensive job on Neira forcing the county scoring champ to hurry most of his shots. Neira had 15 and Drake 14 for the losers.

West Bloomfield defeated Bloomfield Hills for the 3rd time paced by scoring ace John Lucadam with 19 points and a strong showing by Rolf Gordhammer.

PCH Tankers Finish 5th, AH Wins 8th SVC Title

Arthur Hill's all-winning Saginaw Valley swimming team practically swamped all other opposition (as was expected) in Saturday's SVC championship meet in Flint Northern's pool. Dave Gainey's club piled up a 51-point edge on Saginaw, the Lumberjacks' closest competitor and left all otner Valley teams far back in the wash. Pontiac finished 5th.

Results of the meet:

Arthur Hill 114; Saginaw High 63; Flint Central 47; Bay City Central 32; Pontiac Central 21, and Flint Northern 9.

Hillites captured five firsts, plus a heavy percentage of 2nd places, in chalking up their 8th straight Valley championship. They have been out of the title only once in the last 14 years. Bay City won in 1950. In two other years Pontiac shared the title (1948) and Bay City tied in 1952.

Two meet records were set: 100-yard back stroke by Ron Gage (AH) 1:00.4) and 150-yard medley by Bill Darnton (FC) 1:35.5. Eight pool marks also were eclipsed.

'Jacks won the 200-yard medley relay, the 100-yard butterfly (Paul Nieman), the diving (Pete Cox) and 200-yard freestyle relay.

Only two Chiefs qualified for the finals, Saturday. Duke Cummins was 3rd in 50-yard freestyle finals at 25.7 and Gideon Robage was 4th in 100-yard orthodox breaststroke at 1:13.1. The PCH 200-yard Medley team was 3rd at 2:00.0. Swimmers were Jim Gibbs, Robarge, Jerry Powers, Cummins, and the 200-yard freestyle team (Denny Roberts, Jim Ruth, Rollie Tollefson and Barry Horst) was also 3rd at 1:47.0, rated excellent time.

Boyce will take Robarge and Cummins to the state meet Saturday at Ann Arbor. They were the only qualifiers.

Bailey and Howe Star as Detroit Halts NY Streak

Boston Keeps Battling Redshirts for 3rd Spot With 7-0 Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Bruins and the Detroit Red Wings are engaged in an intriguing struggle for third place in the National Hockey League with the victors hardly getting the spoils in this instance.

The team which finishes third in the regular season race receives more money for its efforts, but faces the unenviable task of meeting the champion Montreal Canadiens in the first round of the Stanley Cup playoffs. The club which ends up fourth plays the second-place team.

The New York Rangers currently are second, holding a five-point advantage over the Bruins. Boston is third with 62 points and Detroit fourth with 61.

The Bruins and Red Wings kept pace with each other last night. Boston blanked the Toronto Maple Leafs 7-0 and Detroit turned back the Rangers 4-2. In the other game the powerful Canadiens whipped the tailend Chicago Black Hawks 4-1 to boost their first-place advantage over New York to 21 points.

The Wings have a game in hand over Boston. Detroit has seven games left and the Bruins have six remaining. The Rangers have seven to go.

Goalie Don Simmons, playing only his second game with the Bruins since suffering a shoulder separation in December, turned in his fifth shutout as Boston posted its third victory over Toronto. Don McKenney sparked the Bruins with two goals and two assists and linemate Flemng Mackell collected one goal and three assists.

Third-period tallies by Gordie Howe and Bob Bailey—his second of the game—gave the Red Wings their triumph and snapped the Rangers' nine-game unbeaten streak. New York's Andy Bathgate tied the score 2-2 early in the third stanza after setting up Camille Henry's 31st goal earlier.

Dickie Moore, the league's leading scorer and Jean Beliveau caged a pair of goals apiece to pace Montreal. Moore's goals were his 33rd and 34th and 11 of them have come against Chicago. Eric Nesterenko averted the Hawk's shutout with a last-period tally.

Chicago won a nationally televised game from Detroit 4-3 Saturday afternoon. At night New York nipped Montreal 3-2 while Boston and Toronto played to a 3-3 tie.

Yardley Tops 2,000

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Balding George Yardley, the prolific scoring ace of the Detroit Pistons, today was virtually a stranger in paradise.

As his club battles to maintain second place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn., Yardey scores almost at will in winning and losing causes.

Yardley notched 26 points yesterday as the Pistons bowed to Syracuse 111-90 and lost an opportunity to clinch second place. But the versatile Yardley accounted for his 2,001 point this season—the first player in NBA history to enter the charmed circle.

The loss left Detroit in second place, a game in front of the Royals, who moved up by crushing Boston 121-107. Cincinnati needs victories in its two remaining games to gain a tie for the runner-up spot.

New York remained in contention for the Eastern Division's last playoff berth by thumping third-place Philadelphia, 123-81. The Knicks must win both their remaining games while the Warriors lose a pair to gain a tie.

In the other game yesterday, Minneapolis defeated St. Louis 107-99.

The Nats had six men in double figures—including Dolph Schayes who had 23.

Frustrations Fail to Halt Miss Berg

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A series of third-round frustrations slowed Patty Berg's golf game but she still was two strokes ahead at 223 today going into the final round of the $5,000 Jacksonville Women's Open.

Two strokes back at 225 after 54 holes were Marlene Hagge of Delray Beach, Fla., and veteran Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C.

The amateur contingent was paced by Nan Berry of Quincy, Ill., who added an 80 to her earlier rounds of 82 and 80 for 242.

Soviets OK Housing Plan

LAHTI, Finland (AP) — The Russians have lowered their own barriers and agreed to house their 1960 Olympic team with the other competing athletes at Squaw Valley, Calif., it was learned today.

Konstantin Adrianov, president of the Soviet Sports Federation and top Russian Olympic official, agreed to the plan after a conference with Alan Bartholemy, American technical director of the Squaw Valley winter games.

Adrianov and his staff plied Bartholemy with a host of technical questions and after he was told that the Olympic village would be "for all the athletes" the Russian official commented:

"The plans for the village are fine and we like them. Yes, our team will live there."

Adrianov said also they did not mind if other teams are quartered with them in the same building.

It is the first time the Soviets have not insisted on being off by themselves.

Teenagers Discuss Love, Dates, Marriage

Will I Love Her When She's 30-lbs. Heavier?

CHICAGO (AP)—How will you know when you meet the right one?

That's one of the questions that figure in discussions of love, dating and marriage that drew hundreds of teenagers to 14 Roman Catholic churches in the Chicago area last night.

The talks, a series of six running through Lent and getting down to such facts of life as sex, dishes and garbage, are conducted by the Cana Conference of Chicago.

The Rev. Walter Imbiorski, assistant director of the organization, said you will know that you have met the right one, boys and girls, if you can say "yes" to the following queries:

"1. Can I find happiness making the other person happy?

"2. Will he—or she—see my faults and weaknesses and still love me?

"3. Can I reveal my fears, ambitions and dreams and still be desired?

"4. Can I see myself washing 50,000 dishes for him, or carrying out the garbage for her 365 days a year for 50 years?

"5. Will I love her when she's 30 pounds heavier, or love him when he's bald?

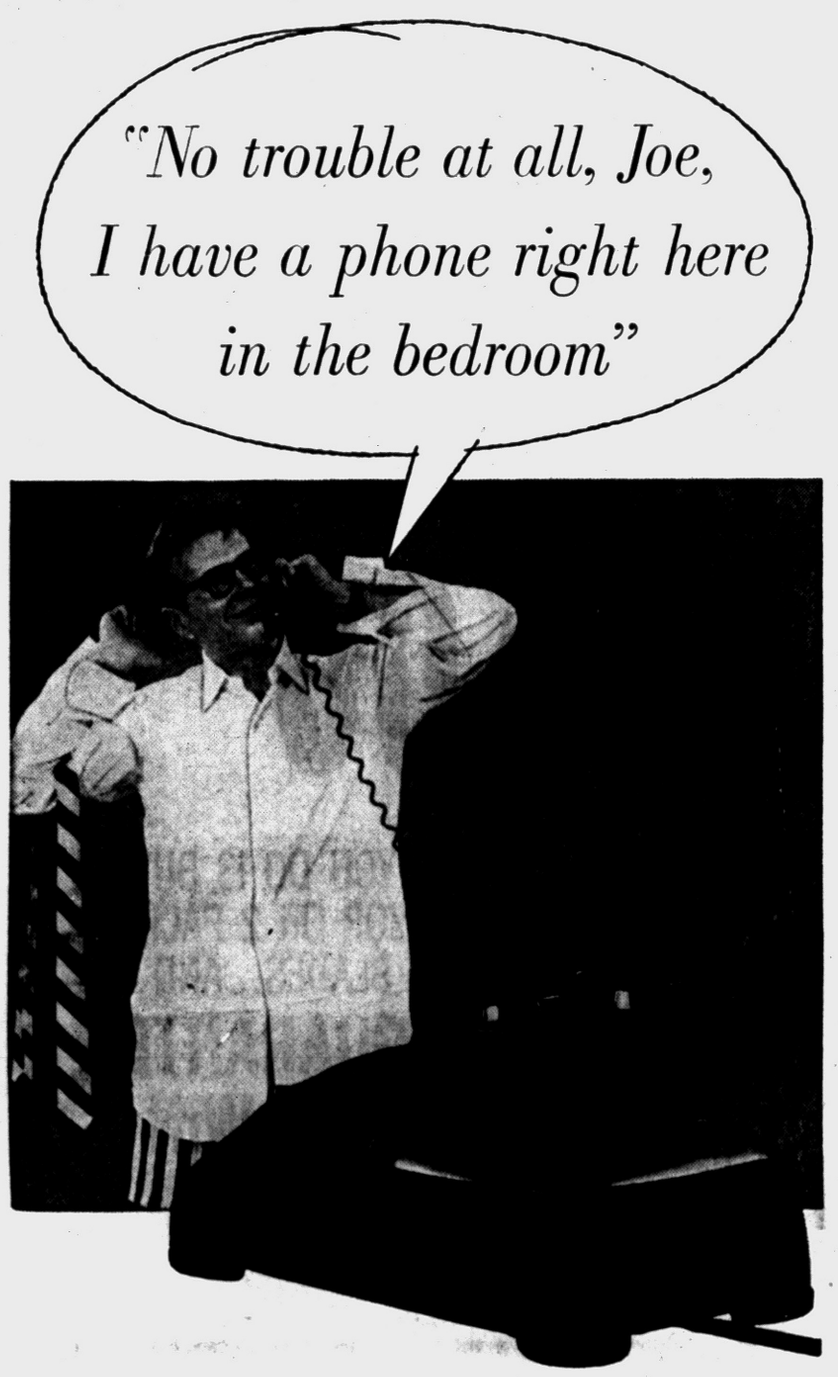
"6. Am I a better person since we met—more thoughtful, less selfish?

"7. Am I proud of the partner I have chosen? Do I enjoy introducing her — or him — to my friends?"

Father Imbiorski said the answers should come from the head, not the heart.

Cana conferences — the name is derived from the biblical marriage feast—are aimed generally at making good marriages and protecting them.

"No trouble at all, Joe, I have a phone right here in the bedroom"



Extension phones make your home more comfortable. For example, a bedside phone means a lot of step-saving convenience. Your wife would probably like it in color, including adjustable loud-soft bell. Extension phones cost only about a dollar a month after a small one-time installation charge. Extra one-time charge for color. Call the Business Office to order yours.

Patti Page Considering Starring Role in Musical

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — After her show Wednesday night Patti Page flies to Los Angeles to keep a date with Jerry Wald. Jerry telephoned Patti to ask her if she would be interested in "Student Body," a musical by Sammy Fain and Paul Francis Webster.

In verifying the story, Jerry, who is up to his eyebrows in the Academy Awards show, said Fain and Webster had brought him the story of "Student Body" which they wrote together.

It's about a top TV singer (Patti) who makes a guest appearance at a college and stays on to enroll as a student.

Before I hung up Jerry put Harold Lloyd, who was in his office, on the phone. Jerry has sweet-talked Harold into appearing in the Academy Awards show.

Tyrone Power, who had no immediate movie plans when he left here and didn't seem too interested in making any, put his signature on a deal (with his partner Ted Richmond) to buy "Showdown in the Sun."

"It's by Will Guelick who wrote Jimmy Stewart's picture "Bend of the River" and it must be good to lure Ty away from his stage kick.

Right now he's on tour in the East in "Back to Methusalah," which I hear is going very well. Another angle that interests Ty, who has the wanderlust fever, is that "Showdown" has a Spanish locale. Sarita Montiel would be excellent for the lead, and she's the girl being sought. The script is by Ed Worth who did the screenplay of "Cowboy."

One of my favorite people, Deborah Kerr, got away to Austria before I had a chance to say au revoir.

On the way to Vienna, where "The Journey" is being made with Yul Brynner, she and Yul stopped in Paris where Debbie says she was a guest of honor at a party hosted by Ken Kendall and Rex Harrison.

One hundred and seventy newspaper, radio and TV correspondents and interviewers will talk to them in Vienna. Anatole Litvak, who is making "The Journey" in conjunction with Yul Brynner for GMG, will act as interpreter. You can bet all the tea in China and more that these two popular people, Debbie and Yul, won't sound off with any silly comments.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Lauren Bacall is back and Frank Sinatra's got her! They've been together every night since she returned.

Rumors from New York are that Marilyn Monroe is expecting a baby again. Let's hope it's true.

There's one day's work for Bob Wagner in Phoenix on "The Hunters," so Natalie Wood will make it a sentimental journey and accompany him. They were married there Dec. 27.

I hope Tony Bennett's opening at the Cocoanut Grove March 26 will be postponed. It's unfair to him to have it Academy night. Buddy Adler is giving a dinner dance after the awards and there are many other parties that night.

Kay and Clark Gable and Bill Perlberg will be guests of Chicago attorney Sid Korshak at a big press party at the Chez Paree kicking off the opening of "Teacher's Pet." Governor Stratton of Illinois and Mayor Daley of Chicago have accepted the date for March 31.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Ingrid to Spend Summer on Isle With Millionaire

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — Ingrid Bergman and Swedish millionaire Lars Schmidt say they will spend the summer together on a small island off Sweden's west coast. But they wont talk about wedding plans.

Standing with Ingrid in the courtyard of his big estate, the 45-year-old play producer told newsmen he recently bought a house on the island in the Swedish Archipelago.

"I love that little island," interposed Ingrid, 40, whose romance with her now-estranged husband, Italian movie director Roberto Rossellini, developed on the volcanic isle of Stromboli. Rossellini seeks an annulment in Italy of their Mexican marriage by proxy.

Police in Cuba on Special Alert

29,700 Set for Action if Castro Rebels Call General Strike Today

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Contingents of heavily armed national police stood special alert duty today with orders to act decisively if Fidel Castro's rebels use their "ultimate weapon" — a general strike call.

The 7,700 policemen and 22,000-man armed forces were ordered to take "whatever steps necessary" to break a strike and crush any outbreaks of violence that might develop on this sixth anniversary of President Fulgencio Batista's last military coup.

Batista canceled all celebrations except for a radio speech from a nearby military garrison, where he is protected by thousands of troops.

Castro has threatened a general strike at any moment. The rebel mountain guerrillas are reported running short of arms, and Castro has declared that a general strike would be his last blow — and the one sure to topple Batista.

Leaders of 60,000 high school and university students, already on strike against the arrest of fellow students, announced they would support any walkout to oust Batista.

But the powerful Cuban Confederation of Labor said its 1,200,000 workers would stay on the job. Batista recently decree wage boosts for them.

Castro, however, claimed secretly organized support among the workers.

Liz Taylor Says '58 Probably Her Last Movie Year

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor, a top contender for this year's Oscar as best actress, said today that 1958 will probably be her last year as a movie queen.

"My husband (Mike Todd) doesn't want me to be an actress," she told a reporter. "And I don't want it either."

She currently is making "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" at MGM, the studio where she made her first picture in 1942—"Lassie, Come Home."

Only 26, she has spent 16 of those years working in front of cameras.

Her contract winds up with "Cat." She's also committed to work for her husband in "Don Quixote," the picture that may be her farewell performance.

But what of an exceptional script — the lure that has brought many an actress out of announced retirement?

"There's no script good enough to get me back once I quit—and that time is no more than two—at the most, three — pictures away.

"I am just too busy otherwise."

She has three children, two by her previous husband, Michael Wilding, and one by Todd. That's what she means by "too busy otherwise."

Liz, despite publicity to the contrary, is less actressy than most movie stars.

To intimates, she seemed more thrilled about being a Connecticut housewife than anything else.

She admits her favorite role is Mrs. Mike Todd but adds:

"It's really more of an occupational disease than a role."

The Braille system, by which blind people are able to read books by sense of touch, was invented by Louis Braille, a Frenchman.

Expansion for U.N. Proposed by Stassen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold Stassen has proposed a two-fold expansion of the United Nations to include a permanent atomic-armed police force and an international space development agency.

The former disarmament adviser to President Eisenhower broached the suggestions in a speech last night before a conference of the American Assn. of the United Nations.

Stassen said both proposals should be preceded by a Soviet-American agreement to suspend nuclear testing for two years.

Most Grains Up in Firm Opening

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grain futures prices were firm in early dealings on the Board of Trade today as offerings became a bit more limited.

All contracts were well over on the plus side, but rye and soybeans were the best gainers with advances of around a cent a bushel.

Trade was described as about moderate and fairly well distributed among all interests.

Holland was reported to have bought between 400,000 and 500,000 bushels of corn over the weekend for shipment during March, April and May.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was ⅛ to ⅝ higher, March $2.23⅜; corn ⅜ to ⅞ higher, March $1.16½; oats ⅛ to 1⅜ higher, March 67; rye ¾ to ⅞ higher, March $1.34⅝; soybeans ¼ to 1⅛ higher, March $2.23¾, and lard 10 to 23 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $12.80.

Time to Get Chest X-Ray

TB Detection Project Opens Today in Pontiac; Free to All Adults

Beginning today through April 11, Pontiac adults have the opportunity to have the yearly free chest X-rays, recommended by tuberculosis officials.

The chest X-ray mobile unit will be set up on the north side of Huron street, between Saginaw and Wayne streets, today through March 25, Mondays through Fridays, according to A. R. Musson, executive secretary of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association.

Residents will be able to get X-rayed between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. March 11, 12, 14, 19, 21, and 25. The unit will be open from noon until 8 p.m. March 13, 17, 18, 20 and 24.

From March 26 through April 11, Mondays through Friday, the unit will be located at the Tel-Huron Shopping Center. It will be open from noon to 8 p.m. on March 27, 31, April 1, 3, 8, and 10.

March 28 and April 2, 4, 9, and 11, the unit will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The annual program is sponsored by the Southeastern Michigan Tuberculosis Detection Project, the state and county health departments and the county TB association.

It is approved by the Oakland County Medical Society, Musson said.

He added that TB is more common in men over 40 years of age and women over 30.

"There are no symptoms in the early stages of TB so all adults 18 and over should want to make sure they don't have it. They might be infecting their family and friends right now," he said.

Market Eases in Quiet Start

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market eased in quiet trading early today.

Most leading stocks were fractionally lower, but many were unchanged and there was a scattering of gainers.

The generally lower tone was established in the opening which was moderately active. Then turnover slowed.

Steels, motors, rails and oils showed small minus signs mostly. Nonferrous metals, chemicals and aircrafts were irregular and produced some gainers.

Du Pont and Polaroid were ahead about a point each, General Electric a major fraction. Lockheed, Lorillard, Westinghouse Electric and Allied Chemical also rose.

Three Women Injured in Collision on U.S. 10

Two Waterford Township women and a Flint woman were injured in a two-car collision Sunday on U.S. 10 at Walton boulevard in Waterford Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Vesta B. Gist, 53, of Flint was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with a dislocated foot and broken leg, and is reported in satisfactory condition today.

Donna J. McCarty, 24, one of the drivers, and Amelia M. Sever, 27, both of 2115 Watkins Lake Rd., were treated and released. The other driver, Conway Gist, 29, of Flint, was uninjured, said deputies.

City Driver Hospitalized; Ran Car Into Tree

A 26-year-old Pontiac man, who police believe may have fallen asleep at the wheel, ran his car into a tree and was admitted to the Pontiac General Hospital Saturday.

Vernon B. Locke, of 591 Montana Ave., is in satisfactorily condition today with possible chest and internal injuries.

His car ran off the road and hit the tree on Motor street, near South boulevard.

Engineers Consider Relocating Motor

Study Ways to Rid Car of Hump in Floor

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — American car makers are becoming concerned about that steadily growing hump in the floor of today's automobile.

Some experts say the hump, covering the drive shaft and rising as height of the car has been lowered, has made a four-passenger car out of the six-passenger vehicles of earlier years.

Engineers are studying the possibility of relocating the engine, transmission - differential and suspension components. Various suggestions have been advanced. Some engineers would move the transmission to the rear of the differential.

Obviously there are problems involved in such a drastic change of design. Many smaller foreign-built cars have engines in the rear but the problem becomes of greater magnitude when principles of small car design are applied to standard size American-made cars.

Either in the front or rear of the car the engine requires space. It might be that moving the engine to the rear would almost eliminate the conventional luggage compartment and possibly sharply reduce the space available for rear seat installation.

Ward's Automotive Reports, commenting on the possibilities of redesign, says:

"The trend toward lower rear deck lids further complicates the situation, and in station wagons rear transmissions would seem impossible. Independent rear springing, in view of weight considerations, would be a must."

Automotive News, analyzing the same situation, says that in addition to the rear engine installation, consideration has been given to the front wheel drive and the rear-end transmission with front-engine.

It adds, however, that a solution probably based on the adoption of of the rear-end transmission or "transaxle" will be forthcoming in the next four or five years. The trade paper's engineering editor, Joseph M. Callahan, says:

"Whenever the transaxle arrives, it will produce a revolutionary change in the typical American chassis. It will require a new transmission, a new propeller shaft, a new independent rear suspension, a new rear axle assembly and possibly inboard brakes."

Most ideas advanced for elimination of the "hump" down the center of the car floor have been tried in some form or other. This is true of front-drive vehicles as well as of the so-called transaxle. Of the latter proposal, Callahan says:

"Some top drive-line engineers feel that a U.S. transaxle could do a much better job of reducing the tunnel than the Lancia transaxle does by tilting the engine more and by making use of some of the things that have been learned about three-joint prop shafts in recent years.

"They feel that with these steps, plus a few other measures, it will be possible to eliminate the entire front hump and most, if not all, of the back floor hump.

Just to keep the record straight, Callahan points out that the transaxle, like most so-called innovations, is not completely new — even on current cars. It was used briefly on the 1919 Studebaker, but discarded.

The transaxle gets it designation from the combination of transmission and axle in the rear. In the inboard braking idea, the decelerating pressure is applied to the axle shaft rather than to the conventional brake drums.

Industry Foresees $4 Billion Increase

Expects Record Sales in Food

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — You have to eat. You like to eat well. That is why, recession or no, leaders in the food industry say today they expect to set new sales records this year and to beat or equal past profit levels.

Some companies look for as much as a 25 per cent gain in sales volume. The industry as a whole talks of a four billion dollar food sales increase over last year's 75 billion.

Confidence is reflected by food processors and grocery chains who say they are going ahead with expansion plans and emphasizing research.

Other companies whose products are used by or sold in grocery stores—paper, wine, cleansers—also look for increases.

Current tonnage figures are running well above those of peak year 1957, according to the trade publication, Food Business. It looks for new sales records in the next three months, on the basis of an industry poll. Some leaders feel sure this momentum will carry through the second half of the year.

"Sales thus far this year have been encouraging," says Hanford Main, president of Sunshine Biscuits, Long Island City, N.Y. He says industry sales should rise to 79 billion dollars.

Some setbacks are noted by Robert A. Magowan, president of Safeway Stores, Oakland, Cal. He cites reduced sales volumes in cities hit by output cutbacks in metals and lumber, but adds: "Nothing that has happened so far has been a deterrent to our expansion program, and we will open a minimum of 150 new stores this year."

Joseph B. Hall, president of Kroger Co., Cincinnati, says his chain will go ahead with new distributing centers, bakeries and stores as planned. The chain's sales are running 12 per cent ahead of last year.

George H. Coppers, president of National Biscuit of New York, reports the industry is increasing research expenditures and development of new products.

DEMAND FOR QUALITY

An expanding demand for high quality foods is foreseen by Porter M. Jarvis, president of Swift, Chicago meat packers.

The nation has steadily upgraded its diet, says Charles H. Bell, president of General Mills of Minneapolis. The consumer demands better nutrition, more convenience and variety and isn't likely to change his ways in a mild recession.

Lyle C. Roll, president ow Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich., says Americans will continue to spend a substantial portion of their income for food. His firm plans to build a new plant this year in Memphis.

INCLUDES LUXURIES

A frozen food processor, Earl R. French, vice president of Red L. Foods Corp., Great Neck, N.Y., sees as unabated the public's willingness to purchase food, "even those which to some are considered luxuries."

Sales gains are predicted also by: Daniel F. Gerber, president of Gerber Products, Fremont, Mich.; Ned N. Fleming, Topeka, Kan., wholesaler W. F. Straub, president of a Chicago special food manufacturer; C. Clyde Loftis, president of Kraft Foods division of National Dairy Products, Chicago; Charles G. Mortimer, president of General Foods, White Plains, N.Y.; and Jerome S. Neuman, president of Joseph Martinson, New York, who thinks his and other coffee companies will be helped by the possibility of lower coffee prices raising consumption.

Other optimists: Ernest Gallo, president of a Modesto, Calif., winery; W. F. Dietrich, president of Green Giant Co., Le Suer, Minn.; A. E. Staley Jr., president of A. E. Staley Manufacturing Co., Decatur, Ill.; A. M. Ghormley, president of Carnation Co., Los Angeles.

Noted British Doctor Says:

Most Geniuses Afflicted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Almost all the world's geniuses have been alcoholics, narcotic addicts, tuberculars or mentally unstable, says a former president of the British Royal Society of Medicine.

Dr. V. B. Green-Armytage said in an interview while here to address the International Congress of Surgeons that a study of genius showed:

"Practically all geniuses were under 5 feet 3 inches in height.

"Nearly all were either impotent or had little sex instinct.

"Almost none produced offspring of genius stature.

"There have been no women geniuses.

"There is no doubt that defective parentage has something to do with the creation of genius."

He said short-statured geniuses included Lord Nelson, Shakespeare, Picasso and Einstein, and among tubercular geniuses were Voltaire, Chopin, Moliere, Euclid, Raphael, Schiller and Shelley.

"It is interesting," Dr. Green-Armytage said, "that most tubercular geniuses produced their best work about six months before they died."

As for his conclusion that there have been no classic examples of women geniuses, he said: "God or providence provides women with one factor of creative genius: to have babies."

Dr. Green-Armytage said geniuses possibly resort to alcohol or narcotics for the added stimulus it gives them to attain a "diamond" personality which is unattainable in nongeniuses.

Observing that medical science is making great strides in conquering disease, Dr. Green-Armytage said: "The quantity of genius is bound to deteriorate or lessen."

Quizzing Mazey in Kohler Probe

Senate Rackets Probers Under Taft-Hartley Act Check UAW's Actions

WASHINGTON (INS) — United Automobile Workers secretary-treasurer Emil Mazey faced questioning by Senate Rackets probers today on a nationwide boycott instituted against Kohler plumbing fixture products by the UAW.

Mazey was slated to return for his third day as a witness in the inquiry into the strike that has kept Sheboygan, Wis., in an emotional state for 47 months.

The committee hoped to determine whether the boycott of Kohler products is a secondary boycott, which is illegal under the Taft-Hartley Act, or a legal primary boycott.

It also appeared likely Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) might fire a new blast in his long, bitter feud with UAW President Walter Reuther at the 2 p.m. hearing.

Reuther challenged the Arizona Republican on Saturday to prove to a jury of clergymen that the UAW chief is a "more dangerous menace than the Sputniks or anything Russia might do."

The union leader said he would exit from the labor movement if Goldwater could prove the accusation made by the senator in a January speech.

Reuther, in a public statement, also urged "sanity and responsibility" in the Senate hearings, which have been marked by repeated explosions between Democrats and Republicans, as well as between the opposing factions in the Kohler disputes.

Reuther said the hearings have been "a sad spectacle of recrimination by both the company and the union."

The first week and a half of hearings were devoted primarily to charges of violence on both sides.

The committee planned sometime this week to summon John Gunaca of Detroit to testify on charges that he broke the neck of an elderly non-striker, William Bersch, in a July 4, 1954 scuffle.

Gunaca will come to Washington under special court protection obtained by the committee to prevent his extradition to Sheboygan on a felonious assault charge.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams has turned down all attempts by Wisconsin authorities to extradite the UAW member.

Some Republican members of the committee claim Bersch's death in October 1955 was the result of the alleged beating, but UAW spokesmen contend he died of a heart ailment.

$300 Million Defense Backlog at Chrysler

DETROIT (INS) — Chrysler Corp. announced today it entered 1958 with a backlog of $300 million in defense orders for missile systems, tanks, trucks and other military equipment.

This is three times the amount of orders in possession at the beginning of last year.

Corporation President L. L. Colbert said in the 1957 annual report now being mailed to shareholders, military product sales last year accounted for $125 million, or 3.5 per cent of the firm's total business.

Colbert indicated the 1958 figure would be much greater when he revealed production of the Army's Jupiter and Redstone missile systems "is proceeding on schedule."

The first U. S. earth satellite was launched with a Jupiter-C modification of the Redstone and Jupiter missiles.

Board to Meet at Waterford

Street Lighting Project for Oakwood Manor to Be Discussed

When the Waterford Township Board meets at 7:30 p. m. tonight, members will discuss the establishment of a street lighting district in the Oakwood Manor subdivision.

Plans call for installation of 86 street lights in the subdivision, located in the Dixie highway-Silver Lake road area.

A special hearing was held from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. today for possible objections. Property owners in the development will be assessed an additional $12 a year, Johnson said.

In other business, bids on comprehensive general liability insurance policies on all township-owned property will be opened at 8 p.m.

The board also will take action on the releasing of additional building permits to the Coleman-Friedman Construction Co., Ferndale.

The firm's home-building project on M59 near Cass Lake road has been held up by township officials for non-payment of bills owed for operation and maintenance of the subdivision's sewer treatment plant.

Johnson said there will be probable action on instituting a sewer administrative procedure ordinance to release money now tied up in "good faith deposits."

A request from Waterford Township Board of Education to extend water service from the Watkins Hills subdivision to a proposed new school on Lakewood boulevard also will be discussed at tonight's meeting.

Shoved Down Steep Mt. Ogden in Utah

Snow Slide Sweeps Skier and Rescuer to Death

SNOW BASIN, Utah (AP) — A snow slide swept a skier to his death down a steep mountainside yesterday. Hours later, a second slide killed a member of his rescue party.

Ironically, the second slide may have been touched off by a rescue unit farther up the slope.

The bodies were found about 200 yards apart, on the east face of Mt. Ogen. They were left overnight.

The victims were Dr. Lincoln Ellison, 49, Ogden, a U.S. Forest Service official, and John Anthony (Tony) Deane, 23, Salt Lake City, a former Denver University and Colorado State University skier. Deane, formerly of Aspen, Colo., had been married just a month.

Ellison was research director for the Intermountain Forest and Range Experiment Station at Ogden, 18 miles west of this northern Utah ski resort.

He was part of a group of four experienced skiers touring through expert-class country high above the top of the Snow Basin ski lift. The others, following his tracks, emerged from a clump of trees to find his trail disappeared under snow left by an avalanche.

Two began probing for Ellison while Fred Montmorency, 58, Ogden, started back for help. A second slide tumbled him 100 yards down a nearby slope but he got out and kept going.

He met some members of the Snow Basin ski patrol, who quickly organized a rescue party—Deane among them — and started off.

Some, but not all, were roped together. The going was treacherous.

Suddenly, a second avalanche swept six of the party away. One grabbed a tree and successfully hung on. Four others were able to pull themselves out. Deane had disappeared.

Patrol head Ray Nye said the avalanche that claimed Deane probably was inadvertently touched off by part of the patrol party working farther up the slope.

We have been commissioned by a large storage company to liquidate a large quantity of household goods—It is estimated it will take 20 weeks to accomplish this. These sales are always interesting because you never know what you will find. There is always something for everyone. Due to increased facilities we will still be able to handle all other consignments whether one piece of a household. We also act as professional appraisers in connection with liquidation of estates. Lunch room will again be operated under capable management of Millie Muckenhirn. Come to where the big crowds are. We get top prices for usable merchandise. Sale starts 7 p.m. All storage items on display every Tuesday. Paul Hillman, Auctioneer.

Predicts Trend for Next Season

Viewers Can Expect Revival of Comedies, Decline of Musicals

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — One of Videoville's top television executives glanced into his crystal ball today and predicted that viewers can expect more westerns, a resurgence of situation comedy and fewer musicals on their home screens next season.

The forecast, said Alan Livingston, thoughtful young vice president in charge of network programs for NBC-TV's Pacific Division, is based upon the bitter and the sweet experiences of the current season, in which musical shows avalanched into the TV market—and right out the bottom.

Westerns, on the other hand, continued to score heavily in terms of audience popularity, he pointed out, although the reigning range riders of the previous season were challenged by dozens of gun-toting "strangers" this semester.

Situation comedy, rather a neglected format this season, will return in force next fall, Livingston said, but not in the slapstick, flicker-witted form that proved so successful for such pioneers shows as "I Love Lucy."

"What is needed," said Livingston, whose wife, Betty Hutton, is a comedienne of no small talent, "is more sophistication. We've got to go beyond the trite situation comedies, which have worn themselves out to the extent that no one thinks they're funny any longer.

MOST SUCCESSFUL

"I look for a return to situation comedy—of a sophisticated nature—because there's been a dearth of it this season and because when it's successful, it's the most successful form of television. It's just that success is a little harder to achieve in situation comedy."

Livingston agreed with the majority of TV critics that shoving just about every singer who ever made a hit record into the video channels this season was "a mistake."

The error shouldn't be charged against the networks, however, he insisted, but against those who actually decide what will be seen on television—the advertising agencies who purchase shows for their clients.

"I really don't know what started the trend toward musicals exactly," he said dubiously. "The people who buy shows just started buying them. Musicals are something the networks had avoided for years because they're the toughest kind of shows to do.

"There's only so much you can do with them, which means that they all must be pretty much alike. I think musicals will be difficult to sell next season."

Indonesia Ready to Invade Island

Seeking Rebel Leaders on Sumatra; Warns Off All Foreign Planes

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian air force today said it had "intensified operations" against the rebels in Central Sumatra. A spokesman said a troop landing could be expected at any moment.

A report from Padang, the rebel center in Sumatra, said rebel troops were keeping a sharp watch on the Central Sumatran coast and leaders there expected a landing attempt in the next few days.

"Maybe four forces have landed or maybe they're about to land," said Air Force Capt. Agus Soeroto. He added that the rebel leaders would be the targets of the landing forces and "we will scrupulously try to avoid inflicting casualties on civilian populations."

The central government in Jakarta, meanwhile, ordered all foreign planes to keep out of air lanes around the Indonesian islands, forcing airline operators to suspend or re-route a number of flights to and from Singapore.

The air commander at the Singapore airport said the Indonesian order halted flights between the Malayan metropolis and Kuching, British North Borneo, and would cause detours of more than 100 miles between Singapore and Australia.

Actor John Conte, Wife Have First Child—a Boy

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A 6-pound boy, their first child, was born to actor John Conte and his wife, Ruth, in Doctor's Hospital last night.

The baby, John Charles, and his actress mother were reported doing fine.

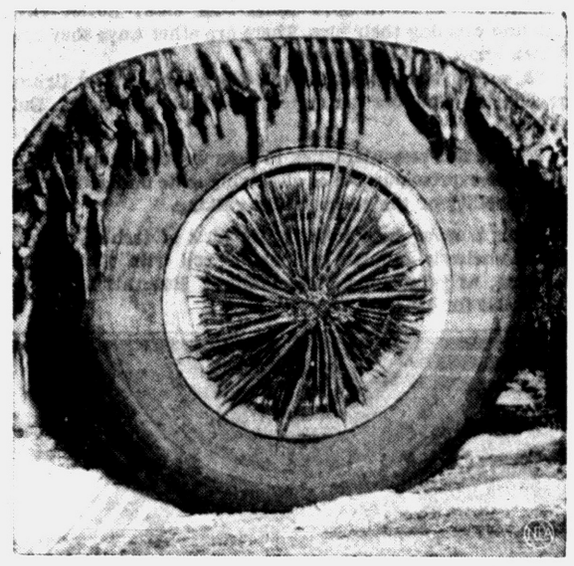
Conte, the host of "NBC Matinee Theater," a daytime TV drama, said his part in today's show will be televised from a room at the hospital so he can stay with his wife and the new arrival.

3 Named to Council

ANN ARBOR (AP)—John C. McCurrey, general manager of the Michigan Manufacturers Assn.; I. L. Malcolm, director of employe relations, J. L. Hudson Co., Detroit, and Willis H. Hall, secretary-manager of the Detroit Board of Commerce have been named to the Community Council of the Institute of Labor and Industrial Relations of the University of Michigan and Wayne State University. Prof. Raymond C. Miller of Wayne State and Prof. Sidney Fine of the U. of M. were named to the faculty council.

ADC to Sponsor Dinner

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit chapter of Americans for Democratic Action will sponsor the 11th annual Roosevelt Day dinner in Detroit next Saturday. Speakers will include Thomas Finletter, former secretary of the air in the Truman administration.



WINTER'S WIRE WHEEL—Old Man Winter was the mechanic who worked on the wheel of this car to give it the wire-spoked effect. Spotted by a winter-conscious photographer at Scottsbluff, Neb., both front wheels of an auto, driven to town by a salesman, sported the snazzy sports car look. The rear wheels featured nothing but the usual road dirt.

Even Men in Congress Resort to 'Horse Play'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Feuds, feuds, feuds!
I'm glad I'm so peace-loving.

Senators Wayne Morse and Wm. E. Jenner have a playful little feud. When Jenner called Morse a "political evangelist," Morse retorted, "Then there must be a few political devils around."

WILSON

Morse claims that when he got kicked in the jaw by a horse, Jenner went around taking up a collection. "We want to buy a nice present," Jenner explained sympathetically to Senatorial colleagues, "for the horse."

We now expect Ed Sullivan and Walter Winchell to patch up their feud . . . One of the Crosby kids confided to a pal, "Daddy's become a young lion— he's let Kathy's condition go to his head" . . . Bob Hope couldn't get his Russian visa and is flying back to premiere "Paris Holiday" in Miami with Anita Ekberg. Hope finally gave up hope on Russia.

Sabrina, the beautiful, busty English star who came here for the Steve Allen show, told me about her bosom insurance with Lloyds of London. Lloyds bets her that she'll never be under a size 40 and if she is, they'll pay her about $15,000 an inch—a year. Right now she's a size 41½. That, it seems, makes her healthier by a half-inch than Jayne Mansfield.

SABRINA

Linda Christian has heard her rich boy friend has a secret gal stashed in Rio. She plans to force a showdown and maybe call off the marriage in headlines . . . Jack Paar doesn't have to use Dody Goodman EVER under her new contract. Depends on "attitude."

Paulette Goddard was a Ziegfeld Girl at 10! Whattayamean, impossible? When she got married she gave her age as 42. She was in the 1926 Follies. That made her 10. Simple arithmetic—that's all.

Lawrence Tierney will make his comeback in a TV series, "Civil Air Patrol" . . . Sponsors of Polly Bergen's TV show went into a big huddle . . . Porfirio Rubirosa's wife wants him to bow out of the Sebring auto races March 22 . . . Ed Sullivan denies reports that he'll quit TV . . . Ray Anthony was rushed into "High School Confidential," first film he's made with his wife, Mamie Van Doren . . . Gambler Meyer Lansky came up from Cuba to have his ulcers treated, but the sour reception he got just made 'em worse.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A local woman tells of her busy day: "I left the house five minutes after Dave Garroway and didn't get back till 15 minutes after Jack Paar."

That's earl, brother.

Trial by Ordeal Kills 2 Women in Deep Africa

ZOMBA, S. A. — Trail by ordeal has resulted in two deaths in Nyasaland, Zomba reports.

After a child's sudden death its mother accused her own sister of having planted a spell on the baby. To find the culprit, the child's grandmother resorted to the traditional justice and prepared cups of muabvi, a poison distilled from bark of the swamp - growing muabvi tree. Tribal lore has it that when the liquor is drunk to separate guilty from innocent parties the innocent ones always escape by throwup the poison. But the guilty ones writhe in agony and die.

In this case the grandmother — perhaps to show her faith in the instrument of justice also drank the poison, as did her daughters. The grandmother and the aunt died but the child's mother survived.

Now she is being prosecuted, because trials by ordeal have been outlawed.

Two Deputies Die in Ambush

Sheriff Hunts Killers Who Waylaid Men Checking Tavern

COPPERHILL, Tenn. (AP)—"We haven't caught them yet. But we will. We won't quit until we do."

So said Polk County Sheriff Bud Payne of the ambush slayers of two of his deputies.

Payne said he had several leads to the Saturday night shotgun killings of Louis Wright, 49, and R. A. (Bob) Rogers, 65, but not enough evidence to make any arrests.

"So far we've had to confine a lot of our investigation to questioning persons who were in the beer tavern when the deputies were ambushed outside," Payne said.

Wright and Rogers, the father of 10 children, were killed as they stepped from their patrol car on a routine check of the tavern located on State Highway 68 about six miles north of here.

The probability that politics may have entered into the slaying was voiced by Copperhill Mayor Emil Greene.

"I think it was politics," Greene said, "and most of those with whom I have talked agree."

Payne said he was uncertain as to the cause. "I have heard speculation it may have been politics. But it may have been personal — a deputy sheriff is bound to make enemies. I just don't know for sure."

An all-night search of the barren Copper Basin Hills after the deputies were killed proved fruitless.

Clawed Trainer Returns to Cage, Bests Lioness

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Pat Anthony returned to hi circus lion taming act yesterday and faced down the lioness who sent him to the hospital Friday.

It took more than 100 stitches to close the fang and claw wounds on his left arm. The arm still was in a sling and practically useless when he returned to the cage after missing three performances.

Tension mounted at the point in the act where the lioness went on her rampage. She was supposed to leave her perch and join five other big cats in a line lying on the floor.

Anthony cracked his whip and shouted. The lioness lunged off the perch toward him. He dropped his whip, flipped a white barrel on its side and rolled it toward her, took up his whip again, snapped it at her and shouted some more.

The lioness wheeled and ran to her place, still snarling.

Anthony got an ovation from the crowd of 12,000 at the Hamid-Morton show sponsored annually by the Kansas City Police Department.

"I don't think she'll give me any more trouble," he said. "She's scared to death of that barrel."

Ballet Leaves for Tokyo

NEW YORK (AP) — Sixty-seven members of the New York City ballet company left here by plane today for San Francisco en route to Tokyo to begin a five-month tour of the Far East.

Famous Flower Show Opens in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The 41st International Flower Show—four acres of beauty and educational exhibits on horticulture—is on at the New York Coliseum.

The show, which opened yesterday, will run through Saturday.

"The World is Your Garden" is the theme of this year's show.

Among the features are plants from all parts of the world.

As usual, there are spring gardens, with running brooks, trees and masses of flowers.

Doukhobor Sect Set to Leave Canada

KRESTOVA, B.C. (AP)—The Sons of Freedom, a fanatical disrobing sect of the Doukhobors, are ready to leave Canada at once for the Soviet Union if the British Columbia government will assit in their transportation, a member of their council said today.

The statement followed a mass meeting of about 1,000 members of the sect yesterday.

A delegation which recently visited the Soviet Union reported on the trip. It was disclosed last week the Soviet government has made available two sites in Siberia.

The meeting in this Kootenay area village, 240 miles east of Vancouver, B.C., was held outdoors.

Early in the proceedings a group of 15 women in the center of the crowd disrobed. Disrobing has been a prime weapon of the Freedomites in their long campaign of passive resistance to Canadian authority.

The Freedomites are a numerically small segment of the British Columbia Doukhobors population. The Doukhobors migrated to Canada late in the 19th century to escape Czarist oppression.

Wiggle-Hips Must Go

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today Soviet girls must stop wiggling their hips. There are other ways they can let men know they are female.

"A woman's dress should suit the shape of her figure, stressing her contours and grace," the broadcast noted. But it added:

"It is not very attractive to pose as some women do with the express purpose of displaying quite unnecessarily the mobility of their hips while walking.

"This may be good training for girls of fashion abroad who shamelessly indulge in rock 'n' roll with its hideous stamping, wriggling and somersaulting. But this is not at all suitable for our girls."

Few Change at U. of D.

DETROIT (AP) — Varsity News, student publication, said a survey of University of Detroit students showed only nine per cent plan to increase science studies. The newspaper said only three per cent are changing career plans as result of increased interest in science at the dawn of the space age. Varsity News said, "Most students feel that philosophy and religion are necessary and major elements of education and life."

About 1,055 boys are born for every 1,000 girls.

To Direct Scout Camp

DETROIT (AP)—Sherman E. Scott of Alpena has been appointed director of Camp Greilick for this summer. The camp is 15 miles southeast of Traverse City. Scott is a district executive for the Boy Scouts of America.
