

m s u o

Good Students Go

TO M S U O

- - - and for Good Reason.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY OAKLAND is the kind of place that excites and stimulates the person who wants to learn.

In one of the loveliest natural college settings in America, you have the privilege of daily contact with a brilliant, friendly young faculty of the highest competence, assembled from the great universities of the world. You get the most from them because classes are of congenial size and faculty office doors are always open.

THE FACULTY is teaching a curriculum which requires that every student take about one-half of his work in liberal arts studies that are the heart of a college education, which in turn is a process of developing the powers of mind and character. The spirit of this program is rooted in the idea that as a man thinketh, so is he. It is also riding the wave of the future, for the world into which we are moving will require no abilities as much as these.

Michigan State University Oakland's curriculum has four programs: liberal arts, engineering science, teacher education and business administration. It was developed in a year of study by many distinguished persons seeking the best and most promising ideas in higher education.

THIS PROGRAM has been the subject of international attention. TIME, LIFE and READER'S DIGEST have called it "glittering" and "remarkable". Hundreds of newspapers across the country have carried feature stories on it. The U.S. Office of Education has just published a booklet suggesting that it is such new colleges as MSUO that offer the best hope of resolving higher education's massive problems. The voice of America and the U.S. Information Agency have devoted worldwide radio broadcasts and news stories to MSUO because the MSUO idea appeals to people everywhere. That is why this infant institution in its second year has attracted students from four other countries and twelve other states, even though it will not have dormitories until next September.

TO ACCOMMODATE a growing student population, a $1.5 million library given by the Kresge Foundation and a $2 million science and engineering building provided by the Michigan legislature will be ready next fall. Plans for a $1.5 million intramural building with swimming pool and basketball courts are nearing completion, as are student dormitories housing forty-eight students in each house.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY OAKLAND welcomes visits by all interested persons, and it welcomes applications from prospective students. Here are the salient points on admission of freshmen:

Admission Requirements

- A. Graduation from an approved high school in the upper quarter of the graduating class, in a college preparatory curriculum.
- B. Recommendation of the high school principal.
- C. If a student is not in the upper quarter of his class, he will be required to take an entrance examination. The result of this examination is one of the criteria for determining admissibility.

Calendar For Applying And Enrolling

OCTOBER 15, 1960 — Application for admission may be submitted. The sooner applications are made after this date the better. They should in any case be made before the end of the school year.

JUNE, 1961 — Final grades are submitted by the high school.

AUGUST, 1961 — Final admission materials and directions for orientation and registration are sent to students.

Admissions And Counseling Services

The University wants to do all it can to help prospective students. Appointments for aid or advice on admission procedures may be had by telephoning the Admissions Office. For the sake of smooth and effective operation, appointments should be requested at least two weeks in advance.

To give students a clearer understanding of university life and to help them in planning their college work, a summer orientation program is conducted on campus in which all entering students take placement tests, have individual interviews with professional counselors, meet with members of the faculty and staff and upper-classmen and tour the campus.

Financial Aids

A number of scholarships are available for deserving students, and information on this program can be obtained from the office of your high school principal. For further information write to the Director of Scholarships, Michigan State University Oakland. The deadline for scholarship applications is March 1, 1961.

The University also has loan funds made available under the National Defense Education Act which bear interest at the low rate of 3% starting the year after students leave school. There is a 10-year repayment period. Up to 50% of such loans are forgiven those who go into public school teaching. Privately donated loan funds are also available.

Student Housing

It is expected that dormitories will be available by September, 1961. Applications for dormitory space or other housing should be made to the Dean of Students by March 1.

For further information, write:

Director of Admissions
Michigan State University Oakland
Rochester, Michigan