Favor Sales Tax Hike

New Levy Move Gathers Steam in Cash Crisis

Any Action to Be Held Up Until After Williams' Talk Friday Night

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today called a special meeting of the State Administrative Board to review the financial plight of the University of Michigan and Michigan State University.

"We'll review the situation and see what relief if any we can give them, but probably we won't be able to give any," the governor told a news conference.

LANSING (AP) — A Republican move to add a penny to the state sales tax was picking up steam in the legislature today as the state's cash emergency tightened another notch.

But there still was doubt whether the fourth cent would be formally proposed. It was certain to be held up until after Gov. Williams shows his hand on new taxes Friday night.

The let-the-Governor-speak-first attitude of Republicans was shaken for a time when word spread that banks had cut off further credit to Michigan State University and the University of Michigan.

Williams' proposed $24 million dollar state budget for 1959-60 had an impact, too. It was not laughed off in the style of former years despite its record high spending level.

Unless cash help comes from somewhere, the two big universities may face payless paydays by late February or March.

Main topic of discussion in huddles among GOP leaders was a resolution that would:

1. Put to a statewide vote April 6 a constitutional proposition for fixing the sales tax rate at four cents. Instead of the present three, and thereby raise an additional 100 million dollars a year.
2. Split the proceeds this way: 50 millions to the state, 25 millions to schools and 25 millions to cities.

GOP Waits for Word on New Taxes

LANSING (AP) — Republican legislators waited impatiently for Gov. Williams' tax proposals today after giving his record high 1959-60 budget a comparatively mild reception.

Republican reaction to the Democratic governor's budget outline varied from contempt to outright endorsement. But some GOP legislative leaders who usually jump on the governor's spending ideas offered only mild criticism.

Williams' budget message to lawmakers yesterday called for 140 million dollars in new taxes to support a 324-million-dollar general purpose spending program and cut the state deficit.

He held off outlining his tax ideas until a statewide telecast Friday night. GOP leaders generally said they couldn't appraise the budget without first hearing the tax plan.

Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, called it a "pretty good budget," and "rather tight."

The only place he lets out very much is in education," he said. "The rest of it is pretty much in line."

Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingsford), GOP floor leader in the House, agreed that "most of the things he has asked for are worthy."

Both men, however, questioned the governor's installment plan for retiring debts expected to reach 110 million dollars by June 30.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), who earlier vowed that new taxes would be adopted "over my dead body," depicted Williams as "quite a gambler."

First he has gone broke, he said. "Now he's going for bankruptcy."

Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) offered a blanket endorsement of the budget "provided the tax program is reasonable and acceptable."

"I don't think we should cut it a bit," said Sallade, a leader of the so-called Young Turk GOP delegation in the House which occasionally has bolted party lines to vote with Democrats.

Protest 8-Mile Drain in Capital

Southfield Residents Motor to Lansing to Fight Assessment

LANSING — They came, they listened, and left — but still boldly opposed to the $4,760,000 Eight-Mile road storm drain.

"They" represents a group of nearly 200 Southfield residents who chartered six buses and rode in cars to carry their protest fight against the proposed drain before the Municipal Finance Commission here yesterday afternoon.

After two hours of listening to the pros and cons of the sewer project, the group, which calls itself the Eight-Mile Road Drain Taxpayers Assn., had but one assurance in its favor. This came from Frank S. Szymanski, state auditor general and a member of the commission.

"I am aware of the fact that if we want to stop it we could," Szymanski told the group meeting in the Lansing Civic Center. This brought a loud round of applause.

It will be the commission that must decide whether Oakland County can issue more than four million dollars in drain bonds to finance the sewer, slated to serve Southfield and Oak Park.

Paul L. Adams, state attorney general and commission chairman, said it would be "a minimum of two weeks" before a decision is arrived at.

Should it be no, Oakland County would be forced to abandon plans for the sewer, said Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry. "I don't see how we could finance it," he said.

Barry was met with some quiet boos when he stepped to the microphone to explain that Southfield homeowners were being assessed more than residents of Oak Park because their area makes up most of the drainage district.

This didn't satisfy Howard Coleman, Detroit accountant and association president. "This is absolutely confiscatory," he said. "There may be foreclosures by the hundreds, perhaps by the thousands." (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Forecast High of 30 in Warming Trend

Seems like spring is on the way. The weatherman predicts a high today of 30 degrees and a high Thursday of 32. Tonight's low is expected to be near 18.

For the next five days temperatures will average 4-6 degrees below the normal high of 33 and normal low of 19. Thursday night and snow flurries Friday with snow likely again about Monday.

The lowest recording preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 8 degrees. At 1 p.m. the thermometer read 26.

Precipitation will total two to three tenths of an inch with snow late Thursday or Thursday night and snow flurries Friday with snow likely again about Monday.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States intends to explore fully the Soviet Union's talk of a cold war thaw, despite an officially expressed belief here that Moscow is simply trying to create an illusion of peace.

This country and its chief Western allies are preparing for a wide open, high level East-West conference on German and related European issues which diplomats now consider probable in about three months.

President Eisenhower was holding a news conference today and was expected to elaborate on the U. S. attitude.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference Tuesday that so far the Soviet government has demonstrated "a very strong desire to delude us into thinking the cold war is ended," but no direct interest in proposals to end it.

The latest Kremlin move toward a new East-West conference came Monday when Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev told a group in Moscow that he thought "there is a possibility of a thaw in our relations" with the United States. He said he got that impression from the report he received on Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan's visit to the United States earlier this month.

Other U. S. officials said Russia stands a good chance of overtaking the United States economically, but not in the 12 years predicted by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

They said Khrushchev's forecast was based on a too-rosy view of the Soviet production potential. The experts doubted that the Soviet Union can score the eight per cent a year gains Khrushchev mentioned.

U. S. officials said that because it is bigger both in area and population, the Soviet Union eventually might surpass the United States in total production.

They added, however, that it would be difficult to foresee the day when the average Soviet citizen would enjoy as high a standard of living as the average American

City Will Place Police Status on April Ballot

Move Comes as Safety Director Maps Charges Against Chief Straley

After two hectic years, Pontiac city commissioners have placed the question of civil service for police back in the hands of the voters.

They ordered a proposition placed on the April 6 ballot which would repeal civil service if a majority of those voting want to put police back under the old trial board.

This action, unanimously approved by the City Commission last night, climaxes 22 months of tension during which internal strife within the Police Department burst into the open with civil service as a sounding board.

It came as charges against Police Chief Herbert W. Straley were being prepared by George D. Eastman, public safety director, for filing by City Manager Walter K. Willman with the Civil Service Commission.

The charges would remove Straley from office on grounds of incompetence.

Opposed to civil service at the time Pontiac voters moved by referendum to place police under the State Civil Service Act April 1, 1957, and angered by recent publicity concerning Straley, commissioners unleashed a torrent of criticism last night.

"Bitter experience has shown that civil service hasn't done the job it was expected to," said Commissioner William W. Donaldson.

"Civil service has been the source of dissension and controversy in Pontiac."

"The police department should be kept out of politics. But under civil service, there has been more politicking in the department than ever before."

"The administration has no say at all over the Police Department under civil service. It would be an improvement to put the department back where it was before civil service."

Supporting Donaldson's motion to put civil service to a vote was Commissioner Robert A. Landry. He said:

"It is unquestionable that morale in the department has reached a (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Latest Atlas Firing Said Successful

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile launched Tuesday night from Cape Canaveral, Fla., flew the intended range over the Atlantic and produced most of the results desired, the Defense Department said today.

"On the basis of early telemetry the test achieved most of the Air Force objectives," a spokesman said.

"The Atlas flew the programmed range."

"The Atlas was not programmed for full ICBM range."

It was understood the big missile traveled slightly more than 4,000 nautical miles.

The Defense Department did not explain immediately its reference to the Atlas achieving most of the objectives. However, there were reports the instruments recording the flight did not function completely.

The missile was reported to have been seen re-entering the atmosphere near the intended impact area.

Local Man Reveals Teamster Deal

Hoffa Linked to Misuse of Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor-Management Committee sought today to learn who got huge sums it contends were improperly charged against labor union welfare and pension funds.

Investigators were told Tuesday the business agent of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa's own local drummed up $19,711 in trucking business as a sideline.

The agent, Rolan McMasters of Detroit Local 299, refused, on grounds of possible self-incrimination to answer questions.

The story of McMasters' sideline was told by William Rumminger of 1900 Humphrey Ave., Birmingham, Mich., a salesman for the Douglas Trucking Lines in Detroit.

In response to questions by committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy, Rumminger said he had, since 1953, operated a sales firm called the Aero Cartage Co. to line up business for trucking firms on a commission basis.

"Business was bad," Rumminger said, until McMasters approached him.

He said he agreed to split commissions 50-50 with McMasters and suddenly his account prospered with the McLouth Steel Corp. in Detroit.

Rumminger said he did not pay commissions to McMasters directly, but to a concern called the M & G Cartage Co. from 1955-57, he said, these commissions totaled $19,711.67.

"Who was in the company I did not know," he said.

Kennedy said he has a statement from Wayne County officials indicating that M & G Cartage Co. is owned and controlled by McMasters.

The committee also received testimony Tuesday that Hoffa worked with New York insurance executive Leo Perlman and Chicago insurance broker Allen Dorfman to set up welfare-pension deals originally.

Witnesses testified that between them, Perlman and Dorfman overcharged three different labor union welfare-pension funds at least $1,650,000 and perhaps as much as $2,250,000 for their insurance.

Neither Hoffa nor Perlman is on the announced witness list. But Dorfman invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to give any testimony about his insurance business. He said answers might incriminate him.

The testimony about the alleged overcharges came from Seymour Goodman, supervising examiner of the New York State Insurance Department, and Martin Uhlmann, a staff investigator for the committee.

Goodman said Dorfman has

Man May Be Landing on Mars in 10 Years

Tests Under Way to Select Pilot of 1st Space Ship

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Top space experts said today that within 10 years men could be landing on Mars, reaching out for Jupiter, living in space stations and telecasting to all the world.

Moreover, one expert—Dr. Eugene Sanger of the Technical University of Stuttgart—said men within 10 years may be flashing to the stars and galaxies at the speed of light—186,000 miles a second. He also said men may be destroying their enemies with death rays.

The dazzling futuristic forecasts—compiled in a report by the House Space Committee—were written by 56 space experts in the United States, Great Britain, Germany, Italy and the Far East.

They followed disclosure by Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, that the United States already has started selecting the pilot for its first manned space satellite.

Glennan startled a staid dinner meeting of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences with this disclosure Tuesday night in New York.

The new federal space agency, he said, has picked 110 rugged young Americans as candidates for the first manned satellite to orbit the earth.

They will assemble in Washington for further tests, Glennan said, and be asked to volunteer for space flight. Within three months, their ranks will be reduced to about a dozen.

"I suspect that the one who will make the flight will not know he is to do so until count-down day," he added.

He said he does not know whether this country will get a man into orbit before the Soviet Union.

The house committee's report predicted these space developments by 1969.

— Designs for rockets, capable of boring through the earth, construction of underwater cargo ships and operation of manned orbital bombers.

— Space probes to the planet Mercury.

— Accurate weather forecasting.

— Various stages of progress on such forms of rocket propulsion as ion and photonic power, plasma jets, solar boilers, magnetic braking and even solar sails—a sail propelled by light from the sun.

One expert—George I. Heller, a General Electric Co. vice president—summed up the tone of the report in his statement:

"Man's venture into space is the great enterprise of this century. Tremendous progress has already been made. Yet in the light of what remains to be done all that has been accomplished so far is no more than a tennis ball as viewed in relation to the earth."

All of the experts based their predictions on the assumption that men are willing to make the necessary effort—and pay the price. They made clear the price would be staggering. But so would be the gains.

Dr. Herbert York, chief Pentagon space scientist, put the cost at an average of about one billion dollars a year for the next 10 years. Another Pentagon expert put the cost at two billion a year.

public experts and believes will be corrected through legislative action," he said.

"Equally important they will do so without imposing arbitrary restrictions or punitive measures on the legitimate activities of honest labor and management of firms."

Some of the changes Eisenhower proposed were asked by labor unions, others by employers.

Eisenhower's recommendations signaled the start of a congressional battle with sharp political overtones.

A bill already introduced by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) was termed a half measure by the President Tuesday.

In his message, Eisenhower proposed tightening Taft-Hartley laws against certain forms of picketing and secondary boycotts—matters not included in Kennedy's bill.

Getting in ahead of the President, an AFL-CIO spokesman told Congress today that such picketing and boycott proposals would endanger passage of any labor bill this session. The AFL-CIO made it clear it would fight any new picketing and boycott bills.

Andrew J. Biculler, AFL-CIO legislative director, told a Senate subcommittee that legislation to limit picketing and boycotts has no place in a measure meant to eliminate labor racketeering.

The President's recommendations generally, however, were along the lines believed acceptable to labor. In fact, he offered one surprise—a Taft-Hartley law change designed to speed up union representation elections. This would make it somewhat easier for unions to obtain bargaining rights from employers.

Like the administration's bill last year and like the Kennedy measure this year, the President's new proposals call for detailed accounting to the government of union fund spending, with heavy penalties for fraud.

Approval Seen for Hawaiian Statehood Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Leo W. O'Brien (D-N.Y.) predicted today that the House Interior Committee would overwhelmingly approve the Hawaiian statehood bill next Wednesday.

Statehood backers rested their case today at the House committee's hearings. No opposition was expected.

O'Brien, presiding at the hearings, predicted that only three opposing votes would be cast when the bill comes up for its final test in the 31-member committee.

Civil Service Repeal Set to Introduce Bill to Be Ballot Issue

new law under civil service and will continue to decline.

"Real discipline is now unattainable," said Commissioner John A. Dugan, who said he had always opposed civil service.

"It handcuffs the city manager and ties on his hands too," said Mayor Philip E. Rowston and Commissioner Floyd P. Miles and Wesley J. Wood remained silent on the question. Commissioner Milton R. Henry was absent from the meeting.

Rank and file members of the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. (PPOA) indicated they would wage a get-out-the-vote campaign to fight repeal of the act.

It was the PPOA which organized the petition movement that put civil service on the spring ballot two years ago over the objections of the Commission. It has been the PPOA that has voiced strongest criticism of Straley.

Theodore Carlson, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, also indicated he would personally fight the repeal movement.

"The city administration has always opposed civil service because it doesn't want to abide by any rules," Carlson angrily asserted.

The Pontiac Fire Fighters Assn. will remain neutral at present, said Elmer Fanglebner, president. Protected by the same State Civil Service Act for 17 years, firemen helped police petition for civil service two years ago.

Straley, protected by civil service against the newest movement to oust him from his job, nevertheless halted the Commission action.

"I've always been opposed to civil service," he said. "I'm glad the City Commission is taking this action, even if civil service applies to me too."

"I consider it a dubious honor to be protected by civil service," he added.

Landry, who had threatened two weeks ago to call for action against civil service, claimed that a minority group within the Police Department was using the act to gain influence.

Without mentioning any names, he asserted that the group was anti-Straley and was holding the chief up "to public ridicule through insinuation and innuendo."

He said that a group of "disgruntled and disillusioned individuals" controlled the department to such a degree that the average policeman "has to agree with the minority or else."

Some officers, Landry contended, have adopted the attitude of "if you don't like it, file charges and be damned."

"It has gotten to the point where the city manager can't exercise his full prerogatives because of the bad publicity," he said.

Landry called the $9,000 spent for the Public Administration Service (PAS) study of the Police Department and the $24,000 tied up in Eastman's two-year contract "a waste of money."

"The need for these expenditures was not felt before civil service," said Landry, who voted for both of them.

"And with all that money spent, the problems of the department have not been solved."

The PAS report on its study recommended that the Civil Service Act either be repealed in Pontiac or amended in Lansing. It said the act contained provisions that were unworkable.

Supervisors to Vote Again on Home-Rule Proposal

on Andrews' bandwagon in time to push for the vote. A Feb. 6 deadline has been set as the time his bill must clear the Senate and House of Representatives and receive Governor Williams' signature.

Another hurdle was reported in the way of Andrews' measure when several Oakland supervisors said they had learned that Wayne County legislators would oppose it, thus despite the fact that Wayne supervisors two months ago unanimously voted for a home-rule constitutional amendment.

Home-rule would give counties that so desire the right to frame and adopt their own charters to reflect the needs of their communities. Today, counties come under governing provisions of the 1908 Michigan Constitution.

Yesterday's suggested safeguards will also protect current governmental setups of townships and villages. This was proposed by Arno L. Hulet, Bloomfield Township supervisor who is also a member of the legislative committee.

"It seems obvious that everybody wants to know if this change is going to hurt them," Ingraham remarked.

John L. Carey, Springfield Township supervisor who heads the governing matter was tentatively set for today.

A big question was whether Gov. Williams would block a referendum by withholding needed Democratic votes in the almost evenly divided House. Some Republicans thought he would.

To gain ballot listing, a constitutional amendment requires a two-thirds favorable vote in both Senate and House. The Governor has no say so. The deadline for such action is Feb. 15.

It was obvious that apprehension has grown among Republicans, both as to the state's cash emergency and the prospect of being confronted with the sales tax proposal they think the Governor is likely to make.

"It's surprising the amount of correspondence I have had favoring an increase in the state sales tax as the answer," said Rep. Charles A. Boyer (R-Manistee).

"People are fed up with income tax forms and the getstap methods used by the Internal Revenue Service which hovers over them like a culture," he said.

ands because our people won't be able to pay their assessments."

It is the association's suggestion that all Oakland County residents be assessed for the sewer.

Also, Detroit should be assessed a portion as that city stands to benefit from not having to continue to treat sewage from Oakland County after the eight-mile sewer is constructed, it contends.

Some protesters said they didn't feel their area even needed the sewer, while Clarence Foosler, Detroit civil engineer who has prepared charts on the project, said: "We're not opposed to the drain, only to the apportionment."

Attorney for the association, Daniel Hodgman, told the commission his group was prepared to go as high as the supreme court to block the sewer based on present assessments.

"If you engage in these delaying tactics I assure you costs of the drain must shoot up another million dollars," Barry said.

Supporting Barry was Claude H. Stevens, the county's bonding attorney. He said the county had complied with the statute in notifying residents of a Oct. 14 public hearing on assessments at which but five property owners turned out.

Hodgman charged the county had "hidden" the date in notices on when bids were to be taken on the project. One lady from the audience shouted, "who even got these notices in the mail?"

Stevens denied association claims the sewer would be both for storm rains and sanitary sewage, and reminded the commission that its sole purpose was to rules on whether the state's credit would be hindered should the county issue bonds.

However, Stevens did admit that some sewage from the proposed Evergreen and Farmington sanitary sewers would flow through the eight-mile drain.

He insisted to the group that this would reduce and not increase their costs, and that users of the other two projects would be charged for these sewage rights.

on Andrews' bandwagon in time to push for the vote. A Feb. 6 deadline has been set as the time his bill must clear the Senate and House of Representatives and receive Governor Williams' signature.

Another hurdle was reported in the way of Andrews' measure when several Oakland supervisors said they had learned that Wayne County legislators would oppose it, thus despite the fact that Wayne supervisors two months ago unanimously voted for a home-rule constitutional amendment.

Home-rule would give counties that so desire the right to frame and adopt their own charters to reflect the needs of their communities. Today, counties come under governing provisions of the 1908 Michigan Constitution.

Yesterday's suggested safeguards will also protect current governmental setups of townships and villages. This was proposed by Arno L. Hulet, Bloomfield Township supervisor who is also a member of the legislative committee.

"It seems obvious that everybody wants to know if this change is going to hurt them," Ingraham remarked.

John L. Carey, Springfield Township supervisor who heads the governing matter was tentatively set for today.

A big question was whether Gov. Williams would block a referendum by withholding needed Democratic votes in the almost evenly divided House. Some Republicans thought he would.

To gain ballot listing, a constitutional amendment requires a two-thirds favorable vote in both Senate and House. The Governor has no say so. The deadline for such action is Feb. 15.

It was obvious that apprehension has grown among Republicans, both as to the state's cash emergency and the prospect of being confronted with the sales tax proposal they think the Governor is likely to make.

"It's surprising the amount of correspondence I have had favoring an increase in the state sales tax as the answer," said Rep. Charles A. Boyer (R-Manistee).

"People are fed up with income tax forms and the getstap methods used by the Internal Revenue Service which hovers over them like a culture," he said.

Refund on Assessment Calls for Special Form

BIRMINGHAM — Local businessmen seeking a refund of money paid to the city on parking lot assessments will have to make special application on Form 843 to the U.S. Treasury Department Internal Revenue Service, according to R. I. Nixon, district director with the Detroit office.

In a letter to James Howlett, city attorney, Nixon said individual taxpayers must make their own application for refunds and must meet certain requirements before they will be granted.

The Chamber of Commerce, in its January bulletin, says corporations which made the 1955 payments for the Pierce lot have until Mar. 15 to file their claims.

Non-incorporated businesses have an additional month for filing.

Justice Elmer Dieterle of West Bloomfield Township yesterday sentenced Robert J. Squares, 18, of 26421 Normandy Rd., Franklin, to 10 days in the Oakland County Jail for assault and battery.

Squires was charged with striking Patrolman Martin McLaughlin of the Bloomfield Township Police as the officer tried to arrest him and two companions on Jan. 21.

Michael Hogan, 18, of 1538 Pierce St. was charged with drunk and disorderly conduct. Justice Dieterle postponed sentencing until Feb. 10 when Hogan said he was interested in joining the Navy. Dieterle released the youth pending his possible enlistment. The justice did, however, order Hogan to attend church each Sunday and present written confirmation to the court from his pastor.

A third youth who escaped at the time of arrest has not been identified.

At its regular meeting Friday the Senior Men's Club will see films on the construction of the Mackinac Bridge. C. H. Sander of 867 Pilgrim Rd., a member of the American Bridge Co., who worked on the project, will show the films he took.

Mrs. Paul C. Grasse

Service for Mrs. Paul C. Grasse, 37, of 172 Pleasant Ave., will be at 1 p.m. Thursday in the First Methodist Church here. The body will be taken to Easton Pa., for service Saturday and burial at Easton Cemetery.

She died yesterday at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak after a brief illness.

Mrs. Grasse was a member of the First Methodist Church, the American Assn. of University Women, the Alumnae Club of Simmons College in Boston, and was on the board of the Midvale PTA.

The body will be at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home until the time of service.

Surviving besides her husband are two sons, Terry and Bobby, both at home; her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Granville E. Kiefer of Easton, Pa.; a sister and a brother.

Mrs. Jennie C. Leland

Service for Mrs. Jennie C. Leland, 84, of 916 Southfield Rd., will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be at 2:30 p.m. at Manchester.

She died Monday in a rest home in Detroit.

Surviving are two children, Mrs. William A. Brown and Robert C. Leland, both of Birmingham.

Straley Backed by Rema Club

Urges City Commission to Put Chief of Police Back in Power

"Put Herbert W. Straley back in power as chief of police in fact as well as in name," the Rema Club of Pontiac urged the City Commission last night.

The club, an organization of Negro business and professional men, made the recommendation in a statement read by its president, Everett C. Spurlock.

Five other recommendations were put forth as a result of the mammoth Dec. 5 raids which centered in District 1.

The club called the raids "shameful," in view of the fact that 54 persons arrested in them were subsequently cleared of charges in Municipal Court.

"Their release underscores the injustice of the acts," read Spurlock. "It has left scars upon a whole community of people."

The club chided the City Commission for not making a public apology for the raids.

"We are going to investigate the entire raid as soon as the court cases are disposed of," promised Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

"The Commission will take steps to correct any ills it discovers," he said, promising that the club's recommendations would be taken under consideration.

Spurlock said after the Commission meeting that he believed the raids would have been handled better by Straley than by Public Safety Director George D. Eastman, who was in charge of them.

The club also recommended that a committee on human relations be set up by the city and that a citizens committee be appointed to study a replacement for civil service for police.

Repeal of the State Civil Service Act for police was urged, and the club declared that all public statements about the Police Department be cleared through the city manager from now on.

It urged the city not to provide legal assistance to any police officer named in a damage suit as a result of the raids.

Bills Introduced for Upgrading of Two Colleges

LANSING (AP) — Bills in the legislature today to give university status to Central Michigan College, at Mt. Pleasant, and Eastern Michigan College, at Ypsilanti.

Rep. Russell H. Strange Jr. (R-Clare) filed the house bill for Central Michigan and Rep. James F. Warner (R-Ypsilanti) introduced the Eastern Michigan bill.

The State Board of Education, governing body of the institutions, and a legislative survey group previously had approved the proposed upgrading for the two colleges.

This Practical Joker Wasn't Appreciated

ENID, Okla. (AP)—Kenneth Quick and his family probably feel that all the service they have been getting is too much.

In a week's time some joker sent to their home: four typewriters, $10 worth of medicine; dairy products from two farms and a lawn mower.

They saw an advertisement in the newspaper offering their furniture for sale and dozens of calls have been made by dry cleaning pickup men, plumbers, television repairmen and cab companies.

Deaths Elsewhere

OMAHA (AP)—Harvey E. New, 83, retired editor-in-chief of the Omaha World-Herald, died Tuesday of a heart attack. New, 1898, was a reporter, was named editor in 1910 and editor-in-chief in 1914. He won a Pulitzer Prize in 1919 for an editorial. He retired in 1949.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—William B. Craig, 79, managing editor of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin for 19 years before his retirement in 1948, died Tuesday. Craig had been with the Evening Bulletin for 30 years and was city editor for 15 years.

CHICAGO (AP)—William F. Peterson, 62, of Des Moines, assistant to the president of the Rock Island Railroad, died Tuesday, apparently of a heart attack. Peterson also was vice president and general manager of the Rock Island Motor Transit Co., a railroad subsidiary. He was born in Leonardville, Kan.

TARBES, France (AP)—Maj. Gen. Pierre Agostini, 55, died of a heart attack Tuesday as he stepped forward to decorate the French army's 1st Parachute Regiment. Agostini had commanded French troops in Morocco and was deputy to Marshal Alphonse Juin when Juin's troops fought as allies with the U.S. 5th Army in Italy in World War II.

MOSCOW (AP)—Pyotr V. Nikitin, 50, Soviet economic expert, died Tuesday after a severe illness. He was a candidate member of the Soviet Communist party Central Committee and deputy chairman of the State Committee for Foreign Economic Relations.

New Meeting Place Announced by CAP

Arrangements have been completed with the 9613th Air Reserve Squadron of the U.S. Air Force to use its headquarters building at 67 Oakland Ave.

Meetings will be held at 7:30 p.m. every Wednesday beginning tonight. An Air Force reserve member of the 9613th Squadron will be at attendance at every meeting to serve as advisor.

Inquiries regarding membership in CAP can be made during any regular meeting night.

Membership is open to young men and women between the ages of 14 and 21.

Radio Documentary Deals With Juveniles

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Who Killed Michael Farmer?" a radio documentary broadcast recently, is being distributed as an LP album to institutions asking for it.

The decision to issue the album was made after 7,000 requests for the broadcast transcript were received from schools, colleges, libraries, penal institutions, churches, police departments, social agencies and churches. The hour-long broadcast dealt with a brutal juvenile gang killing in New York.

Your Income Tax No. 2

File Proper Class of Return to Avoid Overpayment

Yesterday's article explained which form to use. This one discusses the various classes of returns. Other topics to be explained are exemptions and tax-able income, job-connected expenses, deductions and methods of checking your return. Clip and save all for help when you're ready to make out your return.

By FRANK CORMIER
AP Staff Writer

A lot of Americans pay Uncle Sam more taxes than they have to because they don't understand the four basic classes of income tax returns.

Two of the classes—the joint and the separate return—are more familiar than the others. The ones which remain an expensive mystery to many taxpayers are:

1. The special joint return for certain recent widows and widowers. This gives the same tax advantage as a regular joint return.

2. The special "head of household" return for certain single people or those legally separated from their husbands or wives. This gives about half the advantage provided by a joint return.

THE SEPARATE RETURN

The separate return is for single taxpayers or those married taxpayers who prefer to file individual returns. While married couples of most always pay a lower tax if they file jointly, they must file separate returns if:

1. Either the husband or wife was a nonresident alien at any time during 1958.

2. Husband and wife use different tax years, as when the wife pays taxes on a calendar year basis and the husband uses a fiscal year—July 1 to June 30, for example.

3. The husband and wife became divorced or legally separated during the year.

If separate returns are filed each individual must report his own income and list his own exemptions and deductions. If one item izes, the other must also itemize. Many states have community property laws which credit the wife with half the family income even though she earns nothing herself. Taxpayers in these states may split the family income if they file separate federal tax returns. In all other states, however, the wife may report on her separate return only her own separate income.

In community property states, deductions paid out of community funds may be split equally if husband and wife file separately.

A CHOICE OF FORMS

Separate returns may be filed either on form 1040 or 1040A, depending on which best fits your situation and, of course, provided you qualify to use form 1040A.

The joint return can be used by any couple married as of last Dec. 31. It doesn't matter whether the wife actually had any income. However, the return must list all income of both husband and wife and both must sign it.

If your husband or wife died during 1958, even on the first day of the year, you can still file a joint return and claim an exemption for your deceased spouse.

A joint filing saves money for most couples because it usually puts them in a lower tax bracket. In effect, the tax is calculated on only half of the family income, then is doubled. This is quite different, and cheaper, than calculating the tax on the full income to start with.

If in doubt about what you should do, figure your tax on both a joint and separate basis. Choose the method that gives you the lowest tax. Normally there are only two situations in which a married couple can lower their tax bill by filing separately:

1. If both have capital losses of $1,000 or more. Since not more than $1,000 of capital losses can be deducted on any one return, separate filings permit deduction of $2,000.

2. If both husband and wife have income but only one has substantial medical expenses. Separate returns sometimes pay because, if you're under 65, you can deduct only those medical and dental costs which exceed 3 percent of your adjusted gross income.

The third class of tax return can be used if your husband or wife died during 1956 or 1957 and you meet certain qualifications. This return must be filed on form 1040. You claim only your own exemption and deductions. However, in figuring out your tax you use schedule two on page 15 of the instructions. This is the same schedule used in filing a regular joint return.

Here are the qualifications you must meet to get this tax break:

1. You must not have remarried through the end of 1958. If you have, you can file a joint return anyway.

2. You must have been entitled to file jointly with your deceased spouse at the time of death (or she was not a nonresident alien, etc.).

3. Since then you must have furnished over half the maintenance of your home which is the principal living place of your child or stepchild for whom you're entitled to claim a dependency exemption. If your husband or wife died before 1956, you still may qualify as a "head of household."

This return, which can be made only on form 1040, is for single, widowed, divorced or legally separated persons who maintain a household. It also applies to anyone married during 1958 to a nonresident alien.

The special tax rates which you use are given in schedule three on page 15 of the instruction booklet. These are the requirements you must meet:

1. You must furnish over half the cost of maintaining a home which is the principal residence of both you and your unmarried child, stepchild or grandchild, even though not a dependent of yours, or any other relative whom you can claim as a dependent.

2. Or you must pay more than half the cost of maintaining a separate household for your father or mother, if either qualifies as your dependent. The test here is whether you pay more than half the cost of keeping the home, including such things as mortgage interest, rent, taxes, insurance on the home, etc.

Tomorrow: Your exemptions and your income.

Campaign Raises $682.50 for Tot's Leukemia Fight

AVON TOWNSHIP — A check for $682.50 was presented yesterday afternoon to Mrs. Louis Castor, mother of five-year-old leukemia victim Johnny Castor. The money was raised Monday night in a porchlight campaign conducted by leaders, co-leaders and mothers of the Elmwood School Girl Scouts.

Johnny was a student at Elmwood School when he was stricken with the dread disease — cancer of the blood.

At least 70 area women—and three men—participated in the house-to-house campaign for Johnny which covered Auburn Heights, Avon Township and a large section of Rochester.

Dr. R. M. Hardy Interim Minister at Rochester

ROCHESTER — Dr. Ray Morton Hardy has been asked to be interim minister at the First Congregational Church here until a full-time minister is selected and called, a church spokesman announced today.

Dr. Hardy, who has occupied the pulpit for several Sundays, has accepted the offer and will begin his new duties Feb. 1. He will be at the church Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week to counsel or advise those who need him.

Families wishing to contact him during the week may do so by calling the church office. The title of Dr. Hardy's sermon Sunday will be "The Meaning of Communion." The sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated at both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services.

Dr. Hardy is a retired Congregational minister who lives in Lincoln Park and has had pastorates in Lansing, Grand Haven and Dundee.

B'nai B'rith Sponsors Six-Week Workshop

OAK PARK — The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith is sponsoring a six-week workshop in conjunction with the Department of Public Safety here. It was announced today by Mrs. Samuel S. Aaron, chairman of the Michigan Regional Advisory Board of the ADL.

The project, entitled "Community Relations and the Police," is being presented at the request of Public Safety Director Glenford Leonard.

Classes are being held Thursday from 2 to 4 p.m. and again from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Police Administration Building. The workshop will terminate Feb. 19.

The course is centered around the role of the peace officer in dealing with intergroup relations tensions and problems. It includes sessions on "Prejudice and Discrimination," "Civil Rights and the Law," "Organized Hate Movement," "Prevention of Violence," and utilizes audio-visual and audience participation techniques.

Participants also include public safety officers from Huntington Woods, Hazel Park and other neighboring communities.

Hospital Foundation Sets Annual Meeting

ALMONT — The annual meeting of the Community Hospital Foundation will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Romeo Community Youth and Civic Center, Thomas K. Richards, hospital board president, announced today.

Among the items of business on the agenda is the election of foundation members and trustees to replace those whose terms expire this year.

The annual financial report will be given, and action will be taken on a minor change in the by-laws, Richard said.

The three men who joined the women knocking on doors were Lawrence Edgingfield, Bobby Farris and Ellsworth Morris.

The group which conducted the drive has also placed appropriately-marked canisters in area stores to augment the Johnny Castor Leukemia Fund. The canisters will be picked up Saturday or Monday and the money turned over to Johnny's family to help pay mounting medical expenses. The courageous youngster goes today to the hospital every other day for treatment.

Mrs. Edgingfield said Mrs. Castor was "so excited she didn't know what to say" when she received the check yesterday at her home at 2965 Hartline Rd.

Johnny was there, too, lying on the couch, and Mrs. Edgingfield said, "He's a darling with his red hair and large, saucer brown eyes."

$600,000 Sale Finances Work on Junior, Senior Highs at Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — The board of education has completed the sale of $600,000 building and site bonds to Halsey, Stuart and Co. of Chicago at an average rate of slightly over four per cent, it was announced today by a school official.

These funds will go toward covering costs of the new junior high school and for an addition to the senior high school. The junior high, now under construction, is scheduled to open sometime this fall.

The bid for printing the bonds was awarded to the Midwest Bank Note Co. of Plymouth at the low bid of $195 plus $15 for each change of interest.

The board ordered paid in full a note which the Community National Bank of Pontiac held in the amount of $50,000. This represented funds the board had borrowed when state aid payments were withheld.

Contracts were signed for two teachers. They are Mrs. Helen Beeman who will teach home economics in the junior high school and Alexander Ropke, to teach in the commercial department of the senior high school.

The board has set 8 p.m. Feb. 2 as the time of a special meeting with citizens in the district relative to a proposed millage election. The meeting will be held in the junior high library.

SHADES OF PAUL BUNYON'S "BABE" — There's more to this huge replica of a Hereford steer than meets the eye. Named "The Babe," the 19-foot-long plastic steer has been featured in several national cattle shows and exhibitions. Inside, displays illustrate how the vital organs of the real animal convert feed into beef and how a cow makes milk. So lifelike is the exhibit that the steer's body gives off the sound of his heart beat. On loan to the Agriculture Dept., "The Babe" is being sent to Europe for display at trade fairs to promote the sales of U.S. farm products abroad.

Secret Missile Plant in Area Unveiled by Chrysler Today

STERLING TOWNSHIP—Chrysler Corp. today is taking the wraps off its previously top secret missile plant at 16-Mile and Van Dyke roads here.

This is the plant where short-range Redstone missiles and intermediate range Jupiter rockets move down parallel assembly lines.

Also ready for showing on a newsmen's tour was so-called ground support equipment, roughly estimated to cost 50 per cent as much as the missile it fires. This includes special hauling vehicles, electrical power trucks, cranes and fuel wagons.

On its parallel lines, Chrysler starts missiles as raw sheets of aluminum and steel. At the end of the line they emerge ready to fire.

As many as 300,000 parts are assembled on the parallel lines to form a single missile. And elaborate test installations are maintained to put the missiles through simulated launchings and flights.

Chrysler describes its ground support equipment as "miniature Cape Canaveral on wheels," used by both Army and Air Force units to transport, set up, fuel, test and fire Redstones and Jupiters in the field.

The plant has 2,100,000 square feet of floor space, all on one level.

The 500-mile range Redstone has become an operational weapon assigned to U.S. Army units deployed in Europe.

The Air Force reportedly plans to equip three squadrons, 15 missiles to a squadron, with Jupiters which will reach out to 1,500 miles. Chrysler released figures today to show there have been 35 successful Redstone launchings, including three tactical firings by troops, against three unsuccessful ones.

It said there have been eight successful Jupiter-C firings, against one which was only partially successful, and eight successful Jupiter launchings, four partially successful ones and one failure.

In the Jupiter and Jupiter-C firings three nose cones were recovered, indicating, Chrysler said, a successful solution of the atmosphere re-entry problem.

Chrysler listed as successful the army's one firing of a Juno II rocket, a modification of the Jupiter, as a space probe.

MILAN, Italy (UPI) — It was old masterpiece, "The Last Sup-

NOT A BOYCOTT — You can tell from the snow that this isn't Los Angeles, and they haven't boycotted cars to beat the smog problem. This is a typical Sunday go-to-meeting scene outside

Farmington Youth, Another 'Confess' Student Jailed in Arson

FARMINGTON—A Farmington student at Olivet College in Charlotte was jailed today to await Circuit Court trial on a charge of arson.

Phillip R. Hammill, 22, of 25897 Ridgewood Rd., waived examination and was bound over for trial after his arraignment yesterday in Charlotte Municipal Court.

He is being held at the Eaton County jail in lieu of $1,500 bond. Sheriff's officers say Hammill and a fellow student, Bradley A. Richardson, 22, of Vandalia, have admitted setting fire to two vacant Eaton County Houses "for excitement." They were arrested Thursday.

Authorities report that the two students have given written statements in which they admit burning down one house last Wednesday and setting another one afire the previous Sunday.

Richardson is awaiting examination in county jail on the arson charge.

Want to Reduce Wheat Acreage

Rep. Bentley's Bill Would Cut Allotment and Change System

WASHINGTON — A plan to reduce the national wheat acreage allotment by 20 million acres and convert individual allotments to a bushel system has been proposed by Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich).

He said his bill would eliminate the present 30-acre limitation on wheat used for feed on the farm.

"We must face the facts and make an honest effort to reduce our surpluses," Bentley said. "Our carryover of wheat on July 1, 1958 was 881 million bushels. It is estimated that our carryover on July 1, 1959 will be 1,300 million bushels, the largest in our history."

It will cost the taxpayer $700,000 a day next year to store this surplus, Bentley said, adding that this plan would bring this cost within reason and reduce our cost by millions.

The bill would reduce the present 55 million acre allotment by 5 million acres each year, beginning in 1961, until a national allotment of 35 million acres is reached in 1964.

Present individual acreage allotments would be converted to bushel allotments by multiplying acreage allotments by the normal yield of the farm. Bentley said acreage allotments have become useless because of steadily increasing production per acre.

Re-Elect Officers to Credit Union at Rochester

ROCHESTER—All officers were re-elected last night to serve another year on the board of directors of the Credit Union of the Rochester Assn. The organizational meeting was held at the high school.

Re-elected officers are Richard F. Huizenga, president; Howard Minke, vice president; William Rubink, secretary; and Opal Walker, treasurer.

Three new members, David Bentley, James Burn and Kent Lawson, were received into the organization, total membership of which is now 251 shareholders.

4-H to Sponsor Hops

LAPER — The Lapeer County 4-H Service Club will sponsor two "Big K Hops," one this Saturday evening and the other the following Saturday, Feb. 7. Both dances will start at 8 p.m. and last until midnight. Music will be furnished by an area disc jockey, and the building will be especially decorated for the two events.

Kefauver Would Ban Interstate Baby Sales

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) has introduced legislation to outlaw interstate sale of babies.

Kefauver said in a statement that the measure was needed to stamp out "interstate baby racketeers" and to protect the estimated 160,000 illegitimate children born in the nation each year, their mothers and prospective foster parents.

In a way, it was Leonardo's own fault that his masterpiece stands in such constant danger. He neglected to use a water-color mixture that would resist time and weather.

But this was his only lapse. He spent nearly 15 years meditating on the idea for the painting, drawing countless designs and sketches before actually getting down to work. He patiently examined every artistic and technical element involved and only when he believed every problem solved did he start.

Leonardo's "The Last Supper" is a masterpiece for its sublime spirituality and its technical skill. It differs from other "Last Supper" paintings in that every disciple shows an intense individual emotion.

The painter placed the 12 disciples in groups of three with the central figure of Jesus bathed in light from a window behind him.

Leonardo never seemed to be satisfied with the models who posed as the disciples and he often went into the country districts around Milan searching for new ones with the exact facial expressions he had in mind.

It was on one of these trips that Leonardo met a young peasant farmer who became the model for his Jesus.

Local Company Gets Go-Ahead

To Construct $50,000 Edifice in Shop Center, Announces Broomfield

WALLED LAKE — The go-ahead on construction of a new post office for Walled Lake has been given to the Robell Real Estate and Building Co., 1102 W. Maple Rd. here, it was announced today by Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland) in Washington.

The Robell firm will construct the proposed building for approximately $50,000 according to Forrest Hubbel, company spokesman. It will be leased to the U.S. Post Office Department for 15 years at an annual cost of $5,390, as is being done frequently nowadays.

The new post office will be located in the Walled Lake shopping center, adjacent to Butler's Bakery. It will have all of the features of the modern new Post Office in Pontiac plus air conditioning, according to J. Jehowski, who is U.S. Post Office Department real estate officer for the metropolitan area.

Government policy only recently has been changed to allow air conditioning of post offices in Michigan.

Broomfield said the size of Walled Lake's new post office will be 4,236 square feet with a second level of 288 square feet. It will feature 12,488 square feet for parking and maneuvering vehicles, and will be of brick and masonry construction with all new postal equipment of the latest design.

The building will be completed by July at the latest, Hubbel said, and construction will start in the early spring, weather permitting.

Masons at Clarkston Will Stage Banquet

CLARKSTON—Masons of Lodge 60 will stage a banquet for past masters at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at Cedar Lodge.

Frank J. Vargo will be honored as the youngest of past masters locally in keeping with the custom. He is a member of the Oakland Chapter 5, Royal Arch Masons.

Guest speaker will be Clyde Beattie who will show travelogue films in color. The invocation will be given by the Rev. William J. Richards, pastor of the Methodist Church in Clarkston. Floyd L. Anderson is to be toastmaster. Tickets are available from the officers of Cedar Lodge.

Southfield OES to Hold Good Neighbor Night

SOUTHFIELD — Good Neighbor Night will be featured during the special meeting of local Chapter 519, Order of the Eastern Star at 8 tonight in the Birmingham Masonic Temple.

Farmington Chapter 239 will co-host the event. Fifty representative members of Windsor Chapter 1 of Canada will be included among the guests.

The opening address is to be given by Rose Mahoney, worshipful matron of the Farmington chapter.

Artistic Thieves Make $2,000 Haul in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit police were looking for artistic thieves today who made off with $2,000 from the Budd employees Federal Credit Union Monday night or early Tuesday.

Police said the thieves hauled the real safe into a back room, but painted knobs and dials on a metal filing cabinet and moved it into the front office while they did their dirty work.

There was more privacy in the back room. Policemen on the beat couldn't see them there.

Area Floral-Gift Shop Broken Into Last Night

ROCHESTER — Thieves entered Holland Floral and Gift Shop at 308 Main St. and stole $95 from a cash register and small safe sometime last night, Rochester Police reported today.

Owner William Holland found the back door open when he arrived for work this morning, police said.

SILENCE — IT'S WONDERFUL — Mike McCann, right, student council president at the University of Detroit, argues with freshmen co-eds the merits of his "silent" records in the juke box in the student union. For those who want a few

Roads Can Even Affect Crops

Highways Problem to Farmers

LANSING (UPI) — The ever-expanding web of highways and superhighways spreading through Michigan and the nation provides easy, speedy transportation routes for most of the public but for the farmer, sometimes the whole thing is a big headache.

A farmer with 800 acres, who finds a superhighway will run through the middle of his land, won't be happy, especially if he finds he cannot get to the land on the other side of the highway without going five miles to get to the crossing point.

An orchard owner who has had frost-free groves because of swift air drainage finds frost pockets developing because of a 20-foot fill made by the adjacent highway changes the air currents. His crop is cut in half.

These are only a few of the problems that occasionally crop up and to solve them means many hours of planning by the road builders and perhaps several hearings and meetings with the affected landowners.

Joe Cox, right-of-way administrator for the Michigan Highway Department, said the system involved a complicated series of contacts with landowners, appraisals and arrangements to determine the effect on the farmer.

He said things generally go smoothly but with perhaps 10 per cent of the landowners, condemnation proceedings are needed to arrive at a price for the land and for any damages that result.

Included in damages would be the case of the farmer whose land was divided and who had to go many miles to get to his other acreage across the highway.

"When we do a proper job," he said, "most everyone—the farmer and the department—is happy."

A spokesman for the Michigan Farm Bureau said the highway department generally handled the building program suitably for the many interests involved.

"There are many differing and sometimes conflicting interests in these things," he said, "and it's sometimes nearly impossible to arrive at what are proper damage settlements."

He said the department sometimes buys the land on the other side of the highway and resells it to other farmers or sometimes an exchange is made by farmers who are affected on opposite sides.

Besides the problem of air drainage, which can affect orchards and which happens "very often" in Michigan, there is the possible problem of water drainage.

A farmer, planning to drain part of his land, sometime might find it nearly impossible if a highway cuts through the area. The price of constructing a drain across the highway would be prohibitive for most farmers.

One observer said the problems would probably become more numerous when the federal aid program for highway building increases and more highways are built.

Detroit Receives New Archbishop

Most Rev. Dearden Takes Over Catholic Archdiocese Thursday

DETROIT (UPI)—The son of a Cleveland glass works foreman takes over Thursday as chief shepherd of the 1,500,000 Roman Catholics in the Detroit Archdiocese.

The Most Rev. John F. Dearden has been Bishop of Pittsburgh for the past eight years and a member of the Catholic hierarchy since 1948. He will succeed Edward Cardinal Mooney who died Oct. 25 in Rome, 70 minutes before he was to enter a secret conclave to elect a new pope.

At 51, Dearden will be the youngest Catholic Archbishop in the United States.

Bishop Dearden will be the seventh Catholic leader in the 125-year history of the Detroit diocese and its second Archbishop. The eight-county Detroit Archdiocese is the seventh largest in the United States by Catholic population.

The appointment last Dec. 17 by Pope John XXIII also carried the parallel office of Metropolitan, or presiding prelate of Michigan. This comprises the dioceses of Grand Rapids, Marquette, Saginaw and Lansing, in addition to the Detroit Archdiocese.

Pope Pius XII appointed Dearden coadjutor to the Bishop of Pittsburgh with the right of succession March 15, 1948. He was consecrated May 18, 1948.

When Bishop Hugh C. Boyle, 78, of Pittsburgh died on Dec. 22, 1949, Bishop Dearden succeeded him immediately.

He will be following in the footsteps of a former teacher. Thirty days when he accepts the shepherd's staff, symbol of pastoral authority. He once studied under Cardinal Mooney.

Jack Teagarden Rests After Double Operation

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—Jack Teagarden, jazz trombonist, was recuperating today from a double operation at Glendale Hospital.

Surgeons operated to correct a bladder malfunction and a hernia. The musician will be in the hospital at least 10 days, perhaps longer, doctors said.

Teagarden returned Friday from a 20,000-mile tour of the Far East under auspices of the State Department.

Sterling Hayden Runs Out on 'A Summer Place'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Before Sterling Hayden sailed for the South Seas with his four children and 20 odd people in the crew, he had agreed to play a top role in "A Summer Place," the Sloan Wilson story.

He left a message for Director Delmer Daves saying that he was sorry to run out on him this way, but he felt morally obligated to the men and women who had given up other jobs and changed their plans to sail with him to make pictures.

Two of the nicest young people in our town are John Gavin and his attractive wife, Cecily. They were both very depressed over the loss of their baby a few weeks ago.

Now things look brighter for John who has been given the role of the young Julius Caesar in "Spartacus" by his studio, Universal International.

He is described to me as a handsome, forceful character who is important to the story. John will be on his mettle in this, playing with such actors as Kirk Douglas, Laurence Olivier and Tony Curtis.

Jeannie Carmen gave up her movie career last year in favor of a 20,000-mile tour of the Far East under auspices of the State Department.

fun, too, because she's back for a featured role in "The Naked Goddess" with Linda Christian and Robert Alda.

In fact, Jeannie may combine movies and golf later on. She's been mentioned many times as the logical choice to play the immortal "Babe" in the film "Babe" when the Babe's life story is screened.

A letter from Maureen O'Sullivan, Farrow tells me they have moved into a house in London where Oscar Wilde once lived. They plan to come back to Hollywood after Johnny directs one picture.

Good to hear Tommy Sands' voice from New York. He has just signed a contract with a shoe company which specializes in shoes for debutantes and children, and he'll start a radio show for them in August.

An ex-convict of San Quentin penitentiary stands to make a fortune when "Portrait of a Murderer" is presented on Playhouse 90 in made into a motion picture. Tab Hunter had the starring role on TV, which is a true story of the convicted murderer, Dan Bashor.

14-Year-Old Goes to Washington

Chicago Boy to Become Only Negro Page in House

CHICAGO (AP)—A Chicago boy left for Washington Tuesday night to become the only Negro page boy in the U. S. House of Representatives.

The youth, James A. Johnson Jr., 14, was appointed a page under the sponsorship of Rep. Barratt O'Hara, a Chicago Democrat.

O'Hara, who said there was a slight mixup over approval of the boy's appointment by the House Patronage Committee, said he had been assured by Southern congressmen they would not oppose it.

"I inquired more than a year ago when the boy's name first was mentioned to me, if there ever had been Negro pages before in the house," O'Hara said. "I did not want to push the boy into an integration battle which might prove embarrassing."

"I was assured that there had been Negro pages before. Now they contend the House never had one, but my grandson, Barratt III, told me that when he was a page there were Negro pages."

O'Hara, in Chicago to address his grandson's high school commencement exercises, said confusion arose when members of the House Patronage Committee thought O'Hara and Rep. Thomas J. O'Brien, also a Chicago Democrat, were appointing the same boy, Martin J. Oberman.

O'Hara, 76 and serving his fifth term in the House, said the committee apparently was not aware he had submitted a separate nomination, which was approved.

In Washington, Rep. Harry R. Sheppard (D-Calif.), a member of the committee, said he knew nothing about whether a Negro page had been appointed.

"The committee doesn't concern itself about race," he said. "There are hundreds of Negroes holding patronage jobs around the Capitol."

Veteran Capitol employees said they did not recall any Negro ever having served there as a page. There is one Negro page at the Supreme Court.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fighting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... only parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermicide... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. B. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Widow Omitted for Reason

DeMille's Will Filed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Because she has independent means, the widow of Cecil B. DeMille received nothing in his will. But her name was prominently mentioned.

The famed producer-director expressed in the document his love and admiration for Mrs. DeMille. Meantime, he left more than half of his multimillion dollar estate to their daughter, Cecilia DeMille Harper.

The will filed for probate Tuesday names Mrs. Harper and her husband, Joseph, executors.

DeMille's widow, 85, is an invalid. She was left nothing, the will explained, because she has means of her own and needs nothing from DeMille's estate.

A fourth of DeMille's securities was left in trust for another daughter, Katherine DeMille Quinn, wife of actor Anthony Quinn; and sons Richard and John.

State Called Bootlegging Paradise

LANSING (AP)—Michigan is "a bootlegger's paradise" thanks to its four per cent excise tax on liquor, a group of retail liquor licensees contends.

The Michigan Allied Beverage Licensees Council yesterday pleader with the legislature to kill the tax, enacted in 1957 to help public schools.

Higher prices "have turned honest men and women into dishonest patrons of the bootlegger," the council said.

U. S. Revenue agents, it said, seized 78 stills in 1956 and 170 last year.

"It is safe to assume that these illicit operations deprive the state of hundreds of thousands of dollars in revenue," it said.

The council contended the tax also failed to live up to expectations.

It was designed to raise eight million dollars annually, but produced $6,693,000 in its first year of operation, the liquor sellers said. Many persons, they said, now buy their liquor in neighboring states where prices are cheaper.

As a substitute cure for school money problems, the council recommended "a broad based tax that will draw support from every segment of the economy."

Sticky Evening for the Hostess Ends With Bang

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Somebody dropped the sorghum and thus began the wildest evening in Mrs. Raymond Fisher's life. That was the night she was having a dinner party.

A friend dropped by with a quart of sorghum and fumbled it as it was being put in the refrigerator. The result: Wall-to-wall sorghum.

Then somebody else brushed too close to the kitchen stove—and over went a big roaster pan almost brimful of giblet gravy.

Somehow or other, Mrs. Fisher got her 10 guests fed, then stumbled wearily off to bed. Four hours later she awakened with a touch of dyspepsia and reached in the dark for a piece of indigestion-cure chewing gum.

She got something, put it in her mouth and bit down. Boom! It wasn't gum at all, but a tiny torpedo firecracker, the kind kids fling on the sidewalk.

Williams Will Attend His Aunt's Funeral

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams will fly to Montclair, N. J., Thursday to attend funeral service for his aunt, Mrs. William G. Mennen. She was the wife of the head of the Mennen Co.

The Governor has cancelled a meeting with mayors of principal Michigan cities scheduled for Thursday.

Williams plans to return to Detroit in time for a Friday evening television talk on taxes and a civil rights conference with several governors.

Blame Lacquer in Tuller Fire

Accounts for Rapid Spread of Flames That Took Four Lives

DETROIT (AP)—Lacquer on wood paneling has been blamed by a fire marshal's preliminary report for rapid spread of the fire at the Hotel Tuller Jan. 17 that took four lives. Scores of guests and employees fled to safety.

"We have established through laboratory tests that the wall panels were finished with a high-combustible lacquer," said Fire Marshal Matthew H. McNally yesterday.

The wood paneling was installed in 1949 and was shipped to the Tuller from Wisconsin with the lacquer already on it, McNally said.

The use of lacquer is not in violation of city fire codes, said Charles E. Allen, deputy commissioner of buildings and safety fire codes. However, Allen said new fire-resistant paints and finishes now on the market will be investigated for possible future required use.

Says High Court Prestige Fallen

Law Professor Blasts Judicial Backbiting and Individual Opinions

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Dr. Bernard Schwartz says the Supreme Court's public prestige has fallen because of its sharp differences in judicial philosophy and public backbiting among its members.

Dr. Schwartz, New York University law professor who was a controversial figure in investigation of the house committee on legislative oversight in 1958, criticized the court in an article in the University of Michigan law review.

The NYU expert said frequent rendering of individual opinions by the justices has tended to lower the authority of the court's position. Dr. Schwartz was fired as chief counsel of the house committee in a policy dispute.

"A pantheon that speaks with nine separate voices can hardly inspire the listener with any feeling of divine certainty," Schwartz said.

He said backbiting in public has characterized several sessions of the high court during the past term.

This bickering between justices, Schwartz said, "threatens to destroy what had been hoped to be (Justice) Earl Warren's main contribution" to the court, he said.

He said the bickering reflects in part basic differences in the proper role of the Supreme Court in the American judicial system.

Army Sentry Shoots 2 Fleeing Koreans

SEOUL (UPI)—An American army sentry shot and seriously wounded two Korean civilians today when they ignored his orders to halt.

The U.S. Army said Pvt. Carl B. Mick, 19, of Clendenin, W. Va., challenged the two men when he saw them trying to leave the compound of an artillery unit attached to the first cavalry division.

Mick ordered the men to halt in both Korean and English, the army said, and fired a round into the air when that didn't stop them.

Mick then fired two rounds at the men, hitting 18-year-old Kim Tak Nae in the stomach and an unidentified Korean in the head.

Their guest of honor, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, 77, a Texas Democrat, came in for his share of his music too, with songs of his home state. Both the Marine Corps band and entertainers at an after-dinner musicale made sure the President heard "The Yellow Rose of Texas." They played it twice to make up for an unfamiliar version by Lawrence Welk's orchestra Monday night when the President requested it at a state dinner for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The Eisenhowers ended their 1958-59 social season—an abbreviated version of only five state dinners—with a doubleheader on two successive nights. But there was nothing similar about the affairs for Nixon and Rayburn. Everything was changed from the menu to what Mrs. Eisenhower wore.

Instead of the champagne music of Lawrence Welk, the 76 dinner guests and about 150 other invited to the musicale got a variety "Memories in Music" program provided by talent culled from night clubs and local groups. The numbers included such old-timers as "Roses of Picardy," "Smiles," and "Always Chasing Rainbows."

Turkey was on the menu in place of beef. Mrs. Eisenhower shifted from a white brocade to a pale blue brocade with matching gloves and jewelry.

A bipartisan group of 16 senators and 22 representatives, half Democrats and half Republicans, were among the guests. Speaker Rayburn would have swung the balance over to the Democrats but illness of the wife of Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) and his last minute cancellation left things absolutely even.

Bachelor Rayburn came early with his sister Mrs. Edward Bartley of Bonham, Tex., and spent 10 minutes before the dinner visiting the President and first lady in the family living quarters. Rayburn got his musical salute

Charge Woman in Kidnaping

Puerto Rican Who Took Tavaréz Baby Goes to Hospital Afterward

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Asuncion Ortiz, 24, was formally charged today with kidnaping infant Johnny Tavaréz, apparently because she hoped to hold her common-law husband by giving him a son.

The morning Puerto Rican woman was taken by ambulance to the Roosevelt Hospital prison ward for a physical examination immediately after the early morning booking. She complained of being ill and was spitting blood.

If convicted of kidnaping, Mrs. Ortiz can receive a sentence of 20 years to life in prison.

The 29-day-old baby's parents, Jose and Doralisa Tavaréz, said they hoped Mrs. Ortiz would receive "a lot of assistance."

"But I can never forgive her for this deed she did," the 31-year-old, Dominican-born mother said.

Johnny was reported getting along well at Roosevelt Hospital where he is being treated for an upper respiratory infection and a mild infection of the intestinal tract. He was expected to be well enough to be taken home next week.

Mrs. Ortiz, who confessed the abduction after her arrest early yesterday, told authorities she decided to steal a baby to replace the stillborn child she gave birth to last Tuesday.

"It was because I lost my own baby," she said. "I had to make it up to my husband."

Mrs. Ortiz has two sons and a daughter by two previous common-law husbands. Police said they believe she wanted to bind her present husband, Angel Ortiz, to her having his child.

370 on Welfare Ordered to Get Rid of Jalopies

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Welfare Commission has ordered 370 welfare recipients to get rid of their jalopies.

The commission acted after an investigation showed some families on welfare were using their relief checks to pay traffic fines. A spokesman said that 1,130 of 12,000 surveyed were driving cars.

Many of them will be allowed to keep the cars because they have not been on welfare for 90 days or because of a pressing need for transportation. The jalopies the commission wants to get rid of are worth $50 or less.

Stealing Is Hard Work

CARTHAGE, Miss. (UPI)—Burglars entered a local bank and carried away 33,000 pennies, police reported yesterday.

Beatnik Coffee Houses Slapped With Curfew

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Beatnik coffee houses have been told to close at 2 a.m. and procure entertainment licenses, despite the entertainment being, provided by the customers.

County supervisors said the 2 a.m. closing hour will eliminate a potential law enforcement problem and keep teenagers from sitting in the houses all night.

DID SOMEBODY MENTION GASOLINE MILEAGE?

Although we deliberately engineered improved gas mileage into the '59 Buicks, we have not made much point of it in previous advertising for THE Car. People's driving habits can get very different results even from the same car. So we are now happy to report that our plans for greater economy of operation have been very successfully indeed . . . in everyday owner experience.

Owners report excellent records

Most owners are naturally proud of their new cars, and may sometimes overstate a little. But even allowing for that, listen to these reports from owners! A Detroit man drove his Electra 9,000 miles around the country, and reports a little over 19 miles a gallon. A Louisiana LeSabre, with Twin Turbine Transmission, after 4,000 miles is giving its owner 17.6 miles per gallon. A St. Paul man reports 18.1. From Atlanta comes 17.5. From Pittsfield, Mass., 20. Some are even higher. Some lower. But these are typical.

Tests confirm new economy

Recently a very thorough set of tests was run, putting Buick LeSabre and another car of comparable size which is known for good economy, through identical tests under all sorts of driving conditions. The Buick came out best in every single test.

How Buick mileage was improved

It took a combination of several steps. New, more efficient Wildcat engines was one . . . compression up to 10.5, better carburetion. In the case of LeSabre there is also a new, twin-barrel economy carburetor as standard equipment. All this to get more power out of the fuel. In addition, new combinations of transmissions and rear axles put this power to work more efficiently.

Owners also report QUALITY outstanding

"Best-performing Buick ever!" . . . "My sixth Buick and the best I ever owned!" . . . "Best operating car I've driven in thirty years!" . . . "Much the best Buick yet!" . . . Learn for yourself why this year's Buick owners are so enthusiastic. Go to your Quality Buick Dealer and see why The Car is The Buy.
