Rusk Invites Vote on U.S. Viet Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk, the administration's chief foreign policy spokesman, has issued a ringing invitation to Congress to vote again on Viet Nam war policy "if there is any doubt" about it.

Rusk voiced his assurance the vote would be as overwhelming as it was in 1964 when Congress handed Johnson the resolution authorizing him to act in Southeast Asia.

Bus Overtakes in Illinois; Three Killed, 20 Hurt

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Three persons were killed and more than 20 were injured today when a Burlington Trailways charter bus overturned on snow-slicked U.S. 66 about 10 miles north of Joliet.

State police said the driver, John O'Connor of Chicago, told them he had 46 passengers, relatives of residents in the Lincoln State School and Colony, Lincoln, Ill.

The driver said that he sought to avoid crashing into an automobile which went into an uncontrolled skid in his path, and the bus skidded and overturned in a ditch.

Area Soldier Killed in Viet

Sgt. John Groover Was 7-Year Veteran

The Defense Department announced yesterday that Army Sgt. John W. Groover, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Zikowski, 32840 Raphael, Farmington, has been killed in action in Viet Nam.

Mrs. Zikowski said today that the family was notified of the death Feb. 8.

Surviving, besides the parents, are his wife and three children.

Groover, a seven-year veteran who was making a career of Army life, had served in Germany, training for jungle warfare in Hawaii.

It was while stationed in Germany that he met and married his wife, Sigrid. Mrs. Groover was in Germany visiting her parents when notified of the death.

QUOTES LETTERS
Mrs. Zikowski quoted Sgt. Groover's letters as saying "the people over here are treacherous. We can't tell the South Vietnamese from the Viet Cong. We are in a continuous state of apprehension."

Mrs. Zikowski said "We have no business over there. We should be in Cuba, if anywhere, outside our own country."

Women Killed in Smashup on County Road

5-10 Below Forecast Tonight for Area as Winter Tightens Grip

Two women were killed on snow-slick Dixie Highway yesterday as winter tightened its icy grip. Temperatures will drop even more tonight—down to 5 or 10 below zero.

Dead in an auto crash caused when one car skidded across the center line were Mrs. Alex Harrower, 60, of 15377 Mackay, Holly Township, and Mrs. Robert C. Fetting, 58, of Mt. Morris.

Mrs. Harrower was driving north on Dixie near White Lake Road in Independence Township alone at 5 p.m. when her car collided with southbound autos driven by Mrs. Fetting's husband, 82, and Victor Babka, 42, of 2755 Watkins Lake, Waterford Township.

Babka, who was driving behind the Fetting car, told sheriff's deputies that Mrs. Harrower's car began sliding into the southbound lane.

He said that the two cars collided directly in front of his auto and that he was unable to avoid the accident.

BOTH DEAD
Both women reportedly were dead at the accident scene.

Fetting is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Babka escaped with only a minor injury and his son Victor, 18, a passenger in the car, was uninjured.

Sheriff's deputies said that the highway was extremely slippery due to yesterday's snow.

MISHAPS DOUBLE
Area police officials said that the weather resulted in double the normal number of accidents in a 24-hour period from yesterday morning until this morning.

Tomorrow will continue cold with highs creeping up to 12 to 18. Skies will be sunny.

The outlook for Monday is fair and not quite so cold.

The mercury registered at a bone-chilling 2 above at 8 a.m. today. At 2 p.m. the recording was 13.

Bobby: Take Viet Coalition With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., proposed today that the United States express willingness to accept a coalition government, including Communists, in Viet Nam to get peace negotiations started.

Kennedy told a news conference that to achieve a negotiated settlement of the war each side must make some concessions.

He said the United States cannot destroy the "objectives and forces" of North Viet Nam without inviting Communist China to commit large forces to the hostilities.

"We are not going to get a complete surrender from them and they certainly are not going to get it from us," he said.

The alternative to killing off all the Viet Cong, he said, is to bring its political arm, the National Liberation Front, to the bargaining table.

BACKED DEBATE
While expressing his own views, Kennedy supported the current senatorial debate over U.S. policies in Viet Nam, but urged "moderation and mutual indulgence" in the exchange of opinions.

He read a statement in which he said the Vietnamese Communists that "to admit them to a share of power and responsibility is at the heart of a negotiated settlement."

Aussie, Hubert Talk: May Hike Viet Force

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Following talks with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Prime Minister Harold Holt announced today that Australia may increase its troop commitment in Viet Nam.

"We hope to announce soon what Australia can do to supplement our present forces in South Viet Nam," Holt told a joint news conference.

He said that Australia had been considering for some time what more it could do in Viet Nam but that no conclusions had yet been reached. Australia has about 4,500 combat troops in Viet Nam.

About 150 anti-Viet Nam pickets surged toward Humphrey's car today as he emerged from Parliament House following a meeting with Holt.

They screamed, "We want peace" and called Humphrey a "warmonger."

Police kept the demonstrators away from the vice president, but one bearded student got close to the car before he was pulled back.

The noisy demonstration lasted about 10 minutes and was the rowdiest seen in Canberra in many years but police said there were no arrests.

Fat Bunnies May Lose Their Ears

NEW YORK (AP) — The hearts of frightened Bunnies all over America went pitter-patter-pitter-pitter-pitter yesterday.

With fear and misgiving, they studied their mirrors for fateful signs of plumper hips or lines around the eyes.

The management of the Playboy clubs has decreed that Bunnies who outgrow the Bunny look must turn in their ears.

More than a score, ranging in age to a venerable 29, have been set free from the plush Playboy warrens of Chicago, Cincinnati and New York.

No pretty doe knows which doe may be next to go.

As all red-blooded American males are aware, the Playboy Club Bunnies are girls dressed in costumes with rabbit ears and tuffy tails.

NOT AS SLEEK
Recently the Playboy head office in Chicago decided some Bunnies were no longer as sleek as they were when they first donned the uniform.

In mid-January nine bunnies in the Chicago Playboy Club were fired.

"Bunnies must be youthful," explained Alan Spiers, manager of the Chicago club, "they know when they are hired that they cannot keep their jobs if they do not keep their looks."

The ax next fell in New York, where the club manager, Tony Roma, said he had issued warning papers to a number of girls (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

13 States Hit by Below-Zero Air From Arctic

Minus 44 Registered in Minnesota Town; Some Snow Reported

By The Associated Press
A pool of arctic air covered the North today from the Rockies to New England, driving the temperatures below the zero mark in 13 states.

The mercury sank to 44 below zero in Roseau, Minn., and to 43 in International Falls, Minn. Farther east it didn't get down nearly that far, stopping at 15 below in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and 5 below in Burlington, Vt.

The winter-conditioned residents of International Falls covered the North today from the Rockies to New England, driving the temperatures below the zero mark in 13 states.

There was a scattering of snow in the zero belt. Most of it was light. More than two inches fell in six hours in Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y.

One below-zero belt covered areas in Montana, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Nebraska. Near-zero was reported in northern Illinois.

As the cold air and snow moved into the Northeast, temperatures dropped to zero in parts of Maine and Vermont and to near-zero in other sections of northern New England and northern New York.

SEVEN DEATHS
Snow piled up to nearly a foot in Milwaukee but tapered off during the night.

At least seven deaths were attributed to the stormy and cold weather in Wisconsin, including five who died while shoveling snow and two who were killed in a car-truck crash on a snow-covered highway.

Snow fell in parts of the extreme Midwest and belt, including areas in Nebraska, the Dakotas and Montana.

Snow also was reported in northern Ohio, parts of Michigan, northern Indiana, northern Illinois, northeastern Missouri and southeastern Iowa and in sections of the Northeast. Two inches fell at Buffalo, N. Y., during a six-hour period.

GUSTY WINDS
Gusty northeasterly winds fanned areas in the Midwest, and driving conditions were hazardous from northern Illinois and Wisconsin across lower Michigan to the eastern Great Lakes region.

In other parts of the nation, rain splashed coastal sections of California and in parts of the Southeast. Clear, cool weather prevailed in most of the Southwest.

More than 150 residents in the Davenport, Iowa-Rock Island, Ill., area on the Mississippi River were forced from their homes by flood waters caused by a seven-mile ice jam.

The river divides the two cities which have a population of some 90,000. The river was nearly two feet over flood stage of 15 feet last night.

Press Guess a Success

International soothsayers and the crystal ball experts can move over for one of our own boys.

Last Thanksgiving, Arthur Sanford of the Press advertising department declared that Feb. 19 would be the worst day of the winter. Well, he was a wee mite wrong—but only a wee mite.

On the 19th, we had the steadiest and most persistent snowstorm of the year and on the 19th the mercury sank to a cool 2 above.

That isn't amateurish forecasting for three months in advance. Today, this unchallenged authority consulted his private oracles, went into a deep study and declared that August 3 would be the hottest day of the coming summer.

Be ye hereby advised, cautioned and warned.

Scranton Tells of GOP Goals

Congress Seats 'Sole 1966 Aim'

Pennsylvania Leader Firmly Backs Romney

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Republican party's sole aim this year, says Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, is victory for its candidates in congressional elections.

He put a firm stamp of approval, however, on Michigan Gov. George Romney, both in the forthcoming gubernatorial race and as a GOP presidential candidate in 1968.

"I sincerely hope the people of Michigan will reelect Gov. Romney by the biggest majority ever," Scranton said Friday in an interview.

Certainly if he is the nominee in 1968, I'd be delighted to work for him," said Scranton. The Pennsylvania governor was candidate for presidential nomination in 1964.

Scranton was interviewed prior to his address at a Lincoln Day Dinner. Kent County party leaders said 1,700 tickets were sold, the largest number for any Lincoln Day Dinner crowd in area history.

Scranton was joined in late stages of the interview by Robert Taft Jr., and by Congressmen Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., now campaigning for nomination as candidate for U.S. Senate. Taft is a candidate for Congress from Cincinnati, Ohio.

Scranton said the GOP coordinating committee has its sights set firmly on the 1966 elections.

"We made it clear at our very first meeting that 1966 would be our target," he said. The mention of a possible presidential campaign for 1968 has never come up at any of the committee's meetings, said Scranton, "and I've been at every one."

He insisted he is not interested in 1968 politics and said "I don't believe any other Republicans are either."

Scranton credited the efforts of Republican governors for a GOP resurgence. "When people see good government, it has been proven that they will support it," he added.

Republicans, he said, favor a policy of "peace with justice" in Viet Nam. He said he thought the United States should do "a better job of bombing primary targets."

Scranton also said he believed it possible to carry on the "Great Society and a war if we can support both," but he explained, "when serious inflation occurs, you have to cut down on internal spending."

He said it was taking its cause "more to the people than it has the past... the old notion of the GOP as the party of 'big business' no longer is true."

In his formal address, Scranton stressed human rights, sound fiscal policy, belief in federalism — including strong state and local governments — and firm foreign policy as the mainstays of Republicanism.

"Work, not catchy phrases," he said, "is the answer."

Maritime Union Unit Warns LBJ

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The Maritime branch of the AFL-CIO served notice on President Johnson yesterday to persuade allied nations to stop trading with North Viet Nam or have their ships boycotted in American ports.

The ultimatum came in a resolution by the 33-man executive board of the AFL-CIO's Maritime Trades Department at the end of its two-day meeting.

The resolution originally called for an immediate boycott of all ships of nations trading with North Viet Nam, but it was amended at the last minute to give Johnson "a period of time" for possible new consultations with allied nations.

Paul Hall, president of the Maritime Trades Department, said "all interested unions" will convene in Washington within four to six weeks.

If "no effective action" to stop allied trade with North Viet Nam has been taken, Hall said, the boycott will be put into effect without further delay.

SINGLED OUT — Great Britain, Norway, Sweden and Denmark were among the countries specifically pointed out in the resolution for criticism for trading with North Viet Nam.

UNDER AMNESTY — After their release under an amnesty which freed an estimated 2,500 to 3,000 persons, the accused were said to have "established contacts at home and abroad, and with encouragement from the West, have again rigged up conspiratorial plans."

The official report gave only a vague description of the alleged conspiracy. It said the accused were advised by their Western contacts to create an internal opposition which, hand in hand with the forces abroad acting for disruption, would take over power at a suitable time and change the social system.

Some of the alleged plotters were identified in the announcement as Roman Catholic priests.

Dean Rusk Security Guard Hiked After Phone Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — A moderate step-up in security for Secretary of State Dean Rusk was maintained today in the wake of an anonymous threat on his life.

One security agent is usually assigned to Rusk during his public appearances, and it was understood this protection would be temporarily reinforced.

Rusk was testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday afternoon in nationally broadcast and televised hearings on Viet Nam when a Baltimore television station, WMAR-TV, received the anonymous call. It quickly notified the FBI.

According to WMAR news director Dave Suckle, his assistant, Jack Suckler, answered the telephone about 4:20 p.m. to hear "a woman with a husky voice" say:

"Dean Rusk will be shot right between the eyes when he leaves that building in Washington." Then she hung up.

ALERT SOUND — The secretary of state continued his testimony uninterrupted while his security aides went on alert and 20 to 30 District of Columbia police officers assembled outside the old Senate Office Building hearing room.

Shortly before 6 p.m., the hearing over, he left the building across from the Capitol and returned without incident to the State Department with one security car ahead and two behind his limousine.

City Eyeing Building, Land Buy

With its Tuesday meeting shifted to Monday because of the Washington birthday holiday, the City Commission will take up the purchase of a service building and adjacent property from Consumers Power Co.

The sale price reportedly will be $320,000—$20,000 less than the building and land had originally been offered at.

The terms of the city's purchase were to be $2,000 down, and one quarter of the balance when the city took possession, tentatively scheduled for April 1, 1968.

The balance would be paid off through an eight-year loan contract at 4 percent interest.

Funds for the purchase would come from the city's capital improvement fund.

INCLUDED IN SALE — The purchase would include the two-story service building, plus smaller buildings and some vacant land for a total of about 13 acres.

The Consumers Power facilities are located south of Western and west of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks.

A previous staff recommendation in favor of the purchase said the buildings could accommodate three city departments.

The Department of Public Works, parks and recreation and electrical departments could be housed in the service building.

$500,000 COST — City officials have estimated that to build adequate facilities for these departments would cost nearly $800,000.

These departments currently are located either at City Hall, the Lake Street Yard or in both locations. Purchase of the Consumers' building would put them all at a single location.

Te administration recommendation also said Consumers' facilities would amply provide for current needs and provide a reasonable space for expansion.

Consumers Power officials have said they intend to construct a new service in the city.

U.S. Steel to Hike Price on Plate Type

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — U.S. Steel Corp. said yesterday it will hike the prices of carbon steel flange and firebox quality plates by $4 a ton, effective Monday.

U.S. Steel said the products affected by the increase are used to manufacture boilers and storage tanks and represent less than three per cent of the firm's plate output. The price increase averaged less than three per cent, according to U.S. Steel.

City Eyeing Building, Land Buy

With its Tuesday meeting shifted to Monday because of the Washington birthday holiday, the City Commission will take up the purchase of a service building and adjacent property from Consumers Power Co.

The sale price reportedly will be $320,000—$20,000 less than the building and land had originally been offered at.

The terms of the city's purchase were to be $2,000 down, and one quarter of the balance when the city took possession, tentatively scheduled for April 1, 1968.

The balance would be paid off through an eight-year loan contract at 4 percent interest.

Funds for the purchase would come from the city's capital improvement fund.

INCLUDED IN SALE — The purchase would include the two-story service building, plus smaller buildings and some vacant land for a total of about 13 acres.

The Consumers Power facilities are located south of Western and west of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks.

A previous staff recommendation in favor of the purchase said the buildings could accommodate three city departments.

The Department of Public Works, parks and recreation and electrical departments could be housed in the service building.

$500,000 COST — City officials have estimated that to build adequate facilities for these departments would cost nearly $800,000.

These departments currently are located either at City Hall, the Lake Street Yard or in both locations. Purchase of the Consumers' building would put them all at a single location.

Te administration recommendation also said Consumers' facilities would amply provide for current needs and provide a reasonable space for expansion.

Consumers Power officials have said they intend to construct a new service in the city.

WARREN P. CLEARY

County CD Effort Lauded

Oakland County's Civil Defense program was praised yesterday by visiting state and regional CD officials.

Warren P. Cleary, CD director of Region 4 which includes Michigan and four other midwestern states, termed the Oakland County training facilities "excellent."

Capt. Jack M. Nemirava, deputy director, Civil Defense Division of the Michigan State Police, said there is no CD training center in the state that equals the Oakland County facility.

The county CD headquarters at 1 Lafayette was the final stop yesterday in a five-day inspection tour of state facilities by the two officials.

Bull Fights Automation

MORWENSTOW, England (AP) — Figaro, a pedigree bull, charged a truck at Morwenstow Farm here Friday.

The truck contained devices and instruments for artificial insemination of cows.

Figaro smashed down a fence and thundered into the side of the truck, toppling it over. Then he went back to his pen.

Union Plea Rebuffed by AMC

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. has rejected a United Auto Workers union request to reduce its work force rather than close down all assembly plants from Feb. 21 through March 7.

The auto workers asked American Motors Friday to cut its work force "to a realistic number" rather than execute a near-complete shutdown of auto production.

The union proposed the reduction at a meeting with management as a means of operating its plants on a continuing basis.

"We are fulfilling the contract," said George E. Gullen Jr., American Motors vice president for industrial relations.

'TURNED DOWN'
Gullen said the union's request was turned down because the company believes keeping a work force at 14,800 "in the long run is in the interest of both employees and the company."

Earlier this year, American Motors shut down its auto plants at Kenosha and Milwaukee, Wis. It said both actions were taken to balance production with dealer inventories.

The union accused the company of "indifference to production workers' well-being." It added, "It should be pointed out that at no time during this period has AMC laid off its white collar workers."

A joint statement from Douglas Fraser, director of the union's American Motors department, and three local presidents, accused American of a "harsh feast-or-famine scheduling policy" which, it said, "has economically harmed both the long-service worker and the relatively young worker."

'WAITING WEEKS'
"Older workers have suffered waiting weeks without employment compensation. Younger workers have been deprived of the opportunity to gain full-time employment elsewhere in their communities."

The union said shutdowns were the result of a sales decline which it attributed to "the company's designs, promotion and sales methods."

Mother of Veep Evacuated After Rest Home Blast

HURON, S. D. (UPI)—The 86-year-old mother of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and 57 other residents of a nursing home were evacuated into 17-below-zero temperatures yesterday when a boiler exploded.

Mrs. Christine Humphrey and the other nursing home residents escaped injury when the boiler in the basement of the home exploded. There was no fire.

She was taken to St. John's Hospital but did not need treatment.

Other residents of the home found refuge in the hospital, hotels and private homes.

Cause of the explosion in the Violet Tschetter Memorial Rest Home, where Mrs. Humphrey has been a long-time resident, was not known.

Giant B52s Use I-2 Technique, Antitunnel Bombs to Hit Cong Strongholds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. B52 bombers using a new technique of hitting targets twice in a row, struck at Viet Cong concentrations only two miles short of the Cambodian border today.

The giant eight-engine warplanes hit three areas of western Tay Ninh Province about 75 miles northwest of Saigon in a repeat of the almost twice daily raids on the second for the past week.

The planes started their one-two punch technique because the Viet Cong had felt it fairly safe to come out of hiding after one strike.

Another innovation was a new fusing device to penetrate Viet Cong tunnels. It is designed to bore straight down. Its effectiveness has not yet been evaluated by ground reconnaissance, the Air Force said.

DEEP HIDEOUTS

Viet Cong tunnels and caves are constructed often on three levels in hard and flinty soil. Infantrymen have often run out of explosives in trying to break up the labyrinths.

Today's raids were zeroed on a Viet Cong infiltration point, a central headquarters area, a storage sector and a suspected training ground.

The area, just inside the Vietnamese border, has long been used as a delivery point for men and supplies coming from the north via the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

U.S. intelligence has placed an estimated three Viet Cong regiments in the territory struck by the B52s.

The bombing raids are part of a drive against supplies from the north. Air Force and Navy carrier planes continued to fly punishing missions over North Viet Nam Friday in the constant effort to choke off Hanoi's support for the rebels in the south.

F106s and F4Cs pounded 13 targets all in the area about 30 miles north of the 17th Parallel which divides North and South Viet Nam.

The targets were mostly roads, bridges, buildings and some new underground storage spaces spotted around Vinh. Heavy flak was encountered on some assaults.

The Navy sent 16 missions off the carriers Kitty Hawk and the Enterprise, centering around Dong Hoi's road network and the communication lines about 80 miles west of Hanoi.

NO SURVIVORS

One A6 from the Kitty Hawk failed to pull out of a bombing run and pilots of accompanying aircraft said the two-man crew could not have survived the crash. It was the 10th plane lost over North Viet Nam since the bombing was resumed January 31 after a 37-day lull.

The accentuated air war accompanied a contrasting downscale of ground action.

It was fruitless to speculate whether the insurgents had been too badly mauled or whether they were only regrouping for new assaults.

Intelligence sources had evidence for both. The biggest allied show — Operation White Wing, formerly Masher — 300 miles north of Saigon around Bong Son and the An Lao Valley produced skirmishes Friday and today with another 51 killed in the U.S. 1st Cavalry (Airmobile) Division's bag.

Unfair to Single Out Car as Accident Cause--Roche

CHICAGO (AP)—General Motors President James M. Roche said yesterday it is "completely unrealistic to single out the automobile as the scapegoat for traffic accidents."

The GM president, in a speech prepared for delivery at a Chicago Auto Show press luncheon, vigorously defended the auto industry's safety record.

"All of us are concerned with getting effective, workable solutions to the highway accidents problem—solutions based on facts, experience and research," he said, adding, "the problem is serious and important and should not be distorted by emotionalism, misinformation or biased opinion."

KEY PARAGRAPH

Then, in a key paragraph interpreted by many observers as a rebuke to government and private groups which have accused automakers of dragging their feet on auto safety problems, Roche said:

"To serve the public effectively, the auto industry must be flexible. We guard against anything that slows its reflexes, whether it comes from within the industry or outside. We watch closely for any signs that our industrial arteries may be hardening and take prompt corrective action when needed. We must resist external attempts to inhibit the flexibility of our operations."

Roche said there is "an immediate, urgent need for a broad balanced program of proved measures to reduce the auto industry's safety record."

He warned that unless such a program is put into effect soon "the extremists and sensationalists may well gain acceptance of hasty 'cure-all' proposals which will compound the problem rather than solve it."

Roche listed a six-point program which he said would reduce auto accidents. It included:

—An official vehicle inspection program that will give greater assurance that vital car safety equipment is properly maintained by owners.

—Sound traffic laws and enforcement programs that will have educational values for all motorists and that will be a potent deterrent to the wilfully reckless.

—Licensing procedures that will make a driver's license a meaningful certificate of fitness.

—Training sources for high school students and other new drivers that will give fullest assurance of the right attitudes and skills.

Public information programs that will make all of the people aware of their responsibilities for traffic safety.

MAXIMUM HELP
—Highway design features and traffic control devices that will give motorists maximum help in avoiding accidents.

Roche, in his assessment of 1966 auto business, stuck pretty closely to GM's line of December. At that time, board chairman Frederic G. Donner predicted car and truck sales would total about 10.8 million units, virtually the same volume as 1965.

Roche sweetened that estimate a bit, saying in his prepared remarks the figure "could near the 11-million mark."

Alfred P. Sloan Jr.

ALFRED P. SLOAN JR.—"Mr. General Motors"—died Thursday at the ripe age of 90.

The industrial accomplishments and benefactions of Mr. SLOAN would fill volumes, as indeed they have.

A graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Mr. SLOAN in 1916 was persuaded by WILLIAM C. DURANT, president of newly-formed General Motors Corp., to merge a group of automotive accessory companies to form United Motors Corp.

Two years later General Motors took control of the consolidation, and when the parent firm found itself in financial straits in 1920 Mr. Sloan replaced Durant as executive head of GM. He inherited a sick corporation, but quickly welded its diversified units into an integrated and forward-moving organization.

Mr. SLOAN continued as president until 1937, when he relinquished the post to become chairman of the board. He retired in 1956 with the title of honorary chairman. As a business genius he is bracketed with such greats as JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, CORNELIUS VANDERBILT and J. P. MORGAN.

A man of ascetic personal habits, Mr. SLOAN saw the ALFRED P. SLOAN Foundation, which he had formed in 1934, grow to an institution with a capital fund of over $300 million. With his friend and associate, the late CHARLES P. KETTERING, the philanthropist established the SLOAN-KETTERING Institute for Cancer Research.

By virtue of the industrial acumen and altruistic spirit of Alfred Sloan the American scene has been incalculably enhanced.

No one in history better fulfilled his mortal mission than he. His imprint on our scientific and cultural spheres is indelible.

A multitude of friends and associates mourn his passing.

Socialist Doctrine Forsaking Pet Theory

For time out of mind, the rallying cry of Socialist and other left wing groups everywhere has been nationalization of industry. The goal was to make all enterprise of any size and basic significance the property of the State.

But now, writes RICHARD E. MOONEY in the New York Times, a profound change in attitude is found on the European continent. There, he says "not even Socialists make more than a perfunctory clamor anymore over the question of nationalization." He cites an example in Germany where the nation's big United Electricity and Mining Company, a government property, is being partially denationalized through public sale of shares representing a 45 per cent interest.

It is Moody's opinion that nationalization is no longer a vital central precept of European Socialism: "The economic causes that it promotes are more ordinary welfare causes, designed to increase personal incomes."

The trend away from nationalization is all to the good; history tells us of the failures of governments whose philosophies were rooted in that old idea.

At the same time, ominous signs remain. Private enterprise is of value to the welfare state as a producer of tax revenues, as well as of goods and services. But state controls can be, and often are, extended to the point where there is only a technical difference between state and private ownership. Freedom become circumscribed, and political power supreme.

This is a clear and present danger in our own country. The cost of welfareism, measured not only in money but in lost freedom and opportunity, can be unbelievable high.

UNUSUALLY unusual weather recently lashed the West Coastal area. For many months the weather has wrought considerable damage in a number of areas, but it is still probably more of an asset than a liability, as no weather at all might turn the whole world into a disaster area.

TRAVELING abroad at Government expense may broaden congressmen, but it contributes to flattening the taxpayer.

LBJ Aim: to Bury 'Domino' Theory

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Defending its Vietnamese war policies before Congress and country, the Johnson administration is waging a fight against an old ghost of an issue from the early days of the Eisenhower administration 12 years ago.

The present leadership is trying, as Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor did Thursday, to bury the "falling domino" theory as an argument for preventing Communist conquest of South Vietnam.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower advanced the theory at a news conference in 1954; its authorship has been generally attributed to his secretary of state, John Foster Dulles.

Taylor told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he does not approve of this theory "if it means belief in a law of nature which requires the collapse of each neighboring state in an inevitable sequence following a Communist victory in South Vietnam."

Taylor went on to warn against "the possible effects worldwide" if "the Communist war of liberation scores a significant victory" in Vietnam.

SIMILAR STAND BY RUSK Secretary of State Dean Rusk has taken a similar stand on the "domino theory." Like Taylor, he contends the automatic collapse of other Southeast Asian countries—Burma, Thailand, Cambodia, Laos, Malaysia—would not necessarily follow if South Vietnam should fall.

He also argues that "the integrity of the American commitment" all over the world is at stake in Viet Nam.

Such arguments seem to obscure the issue. If U. S. abandonment of South Viet Nam at this stage of the game would wreck the faith of Western Europeans in American defense commitments, it seems obvious that the impact of the countries of Southeast Asia would be even greater. No country there has the power to stand alone against Red China.

An underlying consideration of U.S. strategy for years, in fact, has been that the fall of South Viet Nam to communism would open the way for Red conquest of other countries in the area.

Conversely, many top officials believe that the defeat last fall of Communist China's ambition to communize Indonesia was made possible by the political atmosphere created by U.S. defense of South Viet Nam.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Recently a U.S. Air Force civic action team crashed in their plane and died near a village in Western Panama. They had been giving help to the villagers. The natives, saddened by the accident, worked hard helping the Air Force evacuating group to recover the bodies and most of the wrecked aircraft from a rugged hillside. The commanding officer asked them what he could give them in return for their diligent work. They asked only for two bags of cement.

He thought this was a strange and small request, but he complied and gave them the two bags of cement. A few weeks later the officer and the evacuation group returned to get the rest of the wrecked aircraft. At the exact spot where the crash had occurred they found a concrete cross. It had been made from the two bags of cement.

Religion in America:

When Prayer Ends, Faith Ends

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press International

"Whoever would draw nigh to God must believe that He exists, and that He rewards those who seek Him."

That comment on the relationship between faith and prayer was made 1,900 years ago by the anonymous author of the New Testament letter to the Hebrews.

It is still timely, according to one of America's most respected seminary deans.

The very Rev. John B. Coburn, dean of Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge, Mass., reports that a number of today's seminarians and young clergymen are having "difficulty" in their private prayers, and some have given up trying to pray.

Dean Coburn believes that this development is related to the "change in theological climate" that has taken place in the past few years, specifically, to the so-called "new theology" which is currently in vogue.

RECAST DOCTRINES

The basic premise of the new theology, expounded by Bishop John A. T. Robinson in his book, "Honest to God," is that Christian doctrines must be radically recast to make them acceptable to modern man.

High on the new theologian's list of things that must go is the traditional concept of a personal God. It is argued that modern man feels quite at home with abstract nouns spelled with capital letters.

So it is all right to speak of "the ground of being" or "the ultimate source of values." But to speak of "our Father in heaven," or even to use a personal pronoun in referring to God, automatically stamps you as an old-fashioned Christian who doesn't dig the new theology.

Dean Coburn has no quarrel with any legitimate attempt to rephrase Christian beliefs in contemporary language. He is confident that "the eternal Gospel" will find its proper expression for this age as for every age.

But he is by no means convinced that the new theology, now so fashionable in seminars, really constitutes a "proper expression" of the Gospel for our age.

He suspects that it may in fact reflect "a crisis in belief." And the difficulties which its adherents are having with their prayers would seem to corroborate the view that in the new theology much more than mere terminology is being sacrificed for the sake of sounding up-to-date.

FOUNDATION DESTROYED

When the concept of a personal God is abandoned, he asks, what basis remains for any human being to enter into the intensely personal encounter with God which is known as prayer?

It is one thing to take your joys and sorrows, your gratitude and guilt to a loving

Father whose concern for his creation encompasses every sparrow. But can anyone really pray to "the ground of being?"

If prayer were an optional extra of Christian life, if its only function were to comfort the one who prays, Christians might shrug off a theological difficulty which makes prayer difficult if not impossible.

But, Dean Coburn notes, the author of Hebrews covered only half the equation when he said that faith is indispensable to prayer.

It also works the other way around. As the great Catholic theologian Bernard Haring has put it: "Faith lives on prayer... from the moment we begin truly to believe, we are already praying. And when prayer ends, faith ends also."

What's going on with our postal service? I mailed three letters, two in self-addressed envelopes, and put my return address on all. They were never received. I thought a letter was returned to its original owner if it was unclaimed or lost.

Many times we hear "Don't forget to write the servicemen." What good does it do if they don't receive the mail? My son in the Army has called on numerous occasions from overseas to see what is wrong that he hasn't heard from home. Important papers mailed airmail and certified in September were received by him December 14. He has sent valuable packages and had them insured, but we never received them.

Where does the trouble lie? I urge anyone who has loved ones in the Armed Forces to write your congressman and see if this can be cleared up.

A letter appeared in which a mother rebuked persons who shut the door on a little girl who was selling candy for a worthy cause. Selling from door to door is hazardous and no child should be exposed to such danger. Deteriorated an ordinance prohibiting children from soliciting door to door, but too late to save this child's life. There are worse things than having a door slammed in one's face.

Taxpayers Comment on U.S. Aid to India

Vice President Hubert Humphrey must be joking when he offers India a $100 million loan and doesn't even ask for interest. If the United States has such an "abundance" how come so many well-deserving students may have to drop out of college for financial reasons. These students are willing to pay interest and their parents have excellent credit ratings.

When President Johnson was asked how he could justify sending additional food supplies to India when he was cutting back on school lunches for American children, he failed to reply. I am sure actions such as these by our Democrat leaders will be reflected at election time.

A Junior Editors Quiz About ASTRONOMERS

QUESTION: How do astronomers know there are galaxies outside our own?

ANSWER: A galaxy is a huge grouping of stars. Until the 1920s, astronomers thought that all the objects in the sky were part of our own galaxy, the Milky Way.

After many years of study and controversy, the experts had generally agreed on the size and shape of the Milky Way, but had no knowledge of what lay outside of it.

Then, in the 1920s, the brilliant woman astronomer, Henrietta Leavitt, studying certain stars which regularly grew brighter and dimmer, discovered a way to relate this change to the true brightness of the stars and to use this brightness to estimate the distance.

Finer telescopes were also being made. In 1923, Edwin P. Hubble, studying and photographing a mysterious hazy object with a new telescope, found it full of stars arranged in spiral shape as in our galaxy.

Applying Henrietta Leavitt's measurement scale, he found it nine times further away than the known length of our own galaxy—which proved it was far outside; it was a whole galaxy by itself, Andromeda.

After this, various other ways were discovered to prove that enormous numbers of other galaxies lie outside the Milky Way.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to learn the names of the constellations of stars you see in the sky.

Board to Eye Bar Rezoning in Waterford

The Waterford Township Board Monday night will consider a request to rezone a parcel of property at M59 and Tull for construction of a tavern.

In opposition, 49 members of Tull Acres Subdivision Association have signed a petition.

The Township Planning Commission previously recommended the request be approved by a unanimous vote.

Final action by the Township Board is expected at its Feb. 28 meeting.

In other business, board members will consider a request from the bargaining committee of the Waterford Township Professional Fire Fighters to enter into negotiations for salary adjustments for firemen.

TRUCK CHASSIS

The township vehicle committee will present recommendations regarding bids opened last Monday for a new fire truck chassis.

CMC Truck and Coach Division submitted the only bid—$7,268 for a conventional cab and $7,507 for a tilt cab.

Hairdo Is 'for Birds' This Spring

HONOLULU (UPI)—Spring hair styles are for the birds—literally.

The "dickie bird" hairdo is the newest coiffure style outlined by the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, Inc., in its recent spring styles meeting here.

The style features a small head look, accented with softly waved (not curled) locks that flip up into a crest on one side.

The height of the crest can be "adjusted" high over one eye or the other, to give an asymmetric balance to the silhouette.

For evening, it is dressed into a high "flare" with the aid of hair pieces.

LENGTH
In length, the association said, spring calls for short hair although some individual hair stylists have revived the page boy look with hair pieces. Exact length of the short buds depends on individual needs.

In coloring, the one-color look is out, said the association's official Hair Fashion Committee. It is "echo coloring," with harmonizing shades. Typical: beige blonde front shading into darker blonde tones at the back.

PALE SHADES
To go with the bright and light colors in spring clothes, hair shades will continue pale. "Blonde shades ranging in value from soft porcelains through creams and filtered sunlight will be among the most popular colors," said the association.

Light brown tones will echo curry and nutmeg. Black hair will have tones of licorice and smoke, discreetly used. And redheads will echo paprika and cinnamon.

She's in the Swim
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Mrs. Kenneth L. Polgren, mother of four and grandmother of six, set a new record for the local YWCA when she completed a 50-mile swim. Now 68, Mrs. Polgren took up swimming at 40.

Planning a July wedding are Sharon Lavern Masters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Masters of Boston Avenue, and Ersul William Textor, son of the Ersul Textors of Eldridge Street.

Mary Jane Allen Weds

Lawrence Raymond Yoder

A reception in the home of the Bernard Greenes on Kempf Street followed the recent marriage of their niece, Mary Jane Allen, to Lawrence Raymond Yoder, in the First Church of the Nazarene.

Parents of the couple are the Albert G. Allens of Hadley Road, Independence Township, the senior James M. Yoder of St. Clair Street, and the late Mrs. Lois Yoder.

The bride appeared in floor-length white brocade with short veil held by a Dior bow. Her shoulder corsage included red roses and carnations.

Mrs. and Mrs. James M. Yoder Jr. attended the couple at the ceremony performed by Rev. Harold Hughes. Dean and Dwight Williams were ushers. The couple left for a brief honeymoon in Owosso.

Luci's Getting Assist Buying for Wedding

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A blonde Washington socialite and friend of the first family is helping bride-to-be Luci Baines Johnson line up her trousseau.

Mrs. Edmund Howar is acting as a fashion consultant for the President's 18-year-old daughter, but she made it clear in an interview that Luci makes her own choices.

DOES 'LEGWORK'

Mrs. Howar, tall, slender and chic, explained she merely does "some of the legwork" to help out Luci, who has very little time to shop.

Mrs. Howar spent a couple of days in New York looking around the stores, but she indicated it was a bit early to be making selections for Luci's wedding wardrobe.

WEDDING DATE

Her marriage to Airman Patrick J. Nugent is scheduled for Aug. 6 at the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington.

Nugent, 22, went to Mrs. Howar when he was thinking about an engagement ring for Luci. He was so meticulous about what he wanted for his sweetheart, he designed the ring himself.

Mrs. Howar did the rest by guiding Nugent to her own jeweler, New York's Harry Winston, who made the ring.

'EXCELLENT TASTE'

"Luci had nothing to do with it," said Mrs. Howar. "He designed it himself. He has excellent taste. He loves it."

DR. WOODROW WILSON SAYRE

Will Discuss "Philosophies We Live By"

Author of the best-seller "Four Against Everest," Dr. Woodrow Wilson Sayre will address Birmingham Town Hall Thursday and Friday.

The philosopher and famous mountain-climber will appear at 11 a.m. in Birmingham Theater.

Grandson of the former president of the United States, son of Francis B. Sayre (former professor at Harvard, assistant secretary of state and U. S. representative to the United Nations) and brother of the Dean of the Washington Cathedral, Dr. Sayre, holds an M.A. and PhD from Harvard.

He has taught at Pomona College and until recently, at Tufts University.

MUCH PUBLICIZED
Dr. Sayre, whose lecture subject will be "Philosophies We Live By," has been much publicized lately as central figure in the "publish or perish" controversy in which Tufts administrators did not renew his teaching contract because he would not publish a sufficient body of "scholarly" work.

Dr. Sayre contended that a dangerous overemphasis existed on the publication of such material by faculty, downgrading the teaching profession. He fought for this belief and was backed by students, many educators, the press and most of the general public.

Looks Back on Past Letter and Finds Advice Still True

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am almost 20, and for nearly five years I have carried one of my wallets.

It is so worn I can scarcely read it, but it's done me more good than any single thing I've ever read. Please reprint it, Abby, for girls who need the advice as much today as I did then. I am enclosing the column. I am the girl who wrote the letter signed "Mother Hater."

Sincerely yours,

"WISER NOW"

April 9, 1961

DEAR "WISER": Yes, I'll reprint the column. And here it is:

"Dear Abby: You will probably think I am a monster, but I am a girl of 14 and I hate my parents. Especially my mother. 'She is so old-fashioned it's pitiful. She wants to pick out all my clothes and tell me how to wear my hair. And I am the only girl in our crowd who doesn't wear eye make-up. She won't let me go in cars with boys. All she worries about is my reputation, and I swear I haven't done anything wrong. 'She is killing my chances to go with the right kids and be popular. 'Don't tell me to talk it over with her because she will only give me a long lecture on this bull about how it's all for my 'own good.' 'I would like to be able to tell her things but, heck, I don't want to get killed. I hate to sneak behind her back, but I have no choice. I sure wish I had a different mother."

"Mother Hater"

"Dear Mother Hater:

"Girls' your age, who feel as you do, regard all adults as the enemy. Perhaps a letter from a girl your age with a different point of view on the same subject will help you more than any advice I could offer."

"DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and think more girls my age should appreciate mothers who love them enough to care about what they do. I feel sorry for young girls my age whose mothers let them go in cars with boys, wear eye make-up and hair-dos that are too old for them."

"I am not allowed to go on car dates until I am 16. My mother helps me select my clothes. I wear no make-up to school, and only a little on special occasions."

"My mother has lived a lot longer than I have, and I have learned from experience that when she forbids me to do something she always has a good reason for it."

"I am thankful that I have a mother who loves me enough to raise me right."

Cottage Grows Up With the Family

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

The William Deans Jr. home on Forest Drive might well be called the house that Bill built.

Though he had an assist from Poole Lumber Co.'s Home Improvement Center with the family room — the most recent addition — the balance of the house grew from a three-room cottage to a rambling two-story under his handy hammer.

Nail carriers have included Mrs. Dean and the seven little Deans, Vincent, 11, Joseph, 10, Timothy, 8, Stephen, 5, Patrick, 1, Therere, 6, and Julia, 3.

Paneled and beamed in rich-toned knotty cedar, the cathedral ceiling living room is carpeted in emerald green.

Copper lanterns circle a wagon wheel fixture created by Mr. and Mrs. Dean. Suspended from a black iron chain, the fixture lights the living area, casting interesting shadow patterns on the wood paneled ceiling.

Covered in an Early American print of burnt orange and brown on beige, a wing-back sofa stands before the picture window draped in white boucle.

An antique candlestick holder of walnut and brass with an etched-crystal hurricane shade balances the burnt-orange ashtray on the room's maple coffee table.

The bedroom belonged to Mrs. Dean's great-grandfather, Stephen Cloonan.

Against the sidewall, a shades-of-green chair is grouped with a maple drawer.

table. An oil still-life by Bernice Steiner, a friend of Mrs. Dean's, adorns the wall above the grouping's antique spinning wheel.

The top of the drapery cornice serves as a dish rail to display family treasures. A massive brass plate and a hand-hammered aluminum tray by Mrs. Dean's aunt dominate the arrangement.

In the book nook near the stairway is a burnt-orange swivel rocker. One of a matching pair, its mate is used before the room's brick fireplace.

Off the second-floor stairway is the loft ledge. Among the items highlighting the ledge are a collection of Irish walking sticks which once belonged to great-grandfathers on both the Dean and the Cloonan sides of the family.

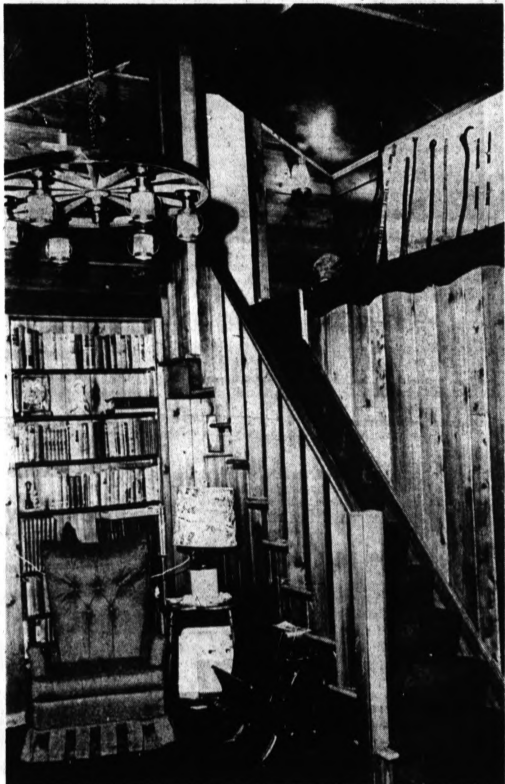

Other collector's items on the ledge are a bottle capper, a maple yarn winder, a cobbler's shoe form and a free-standing gun rack.

Proud of the hall tree in the emerald-green carpeted entrance hall, Mrs. Dean said, "That was once Bill's grandmother's."

"It was about to be tossed out for the trash man when we salvaged it. We sent it out to be refinished and it has been one of our favorite pieces ever since."

Dark toned oak floors are throwing new light on the home decorating scene.

They're helping to spark a refreshingly new approach to room planning, in which bright, gay area and accent rugs, free form and novelty rugs are winning the favor of interior designers and homemakers alike.

It's a breakaway from what some designers have termed the monotony of endless miles of single-tone wall-to-wall carpeting.

As one decorating publication puts it, "The tired cliché of wall-to-wall carpeting that stretches as far as the eye can see has become as passe as feather dusters."

Dark oak floors offer a pleasing background for the bold colors.

There is no sacrifice of wood beauty since the dark tones permit the inimitable natural figure of the oak to appear prominently.

And the contrast between the dark wood and the bright colored rugs allows each element to stand out. They complement each other without competing.

Many of the rugs are domestic, some are imported from Scandinavia, Iran, France and other countries. Among the domestic favorites are many braided and hooked rugs, and rugs with colorful motifs that include musical, nautical and other designs.

Among proponents of this new style in floor treatment is William Pahlmann, one of the nation's best known interior designers.

AREA RUGS
Pointing out that rich area rugs make a room look warm and inviting, he says their increasing use has been spurred by "the returning interest in bare wood floors."

He adds that area rugs are practical because they can be turned to save wear, sent out for cleaning, switched from one room to another to give a new feeling, and even changed from season to season.

Incidentally, he says, if you have had the good fortune to inherit or otherwise acquire an old Aubusson, Savonnerie, needlepoint, Gros Point or Oriental, your rug can establish the theme of your decoration.

"You can take your color scheme from the design in the rug," he explains, "and plan your fabric, furniture and room arrangements around it."

The best way to set off this kind of treasure is to lay it on a dark, polished wood floor.

Coincidentally with the trend toward dark brown tones in oak, observers note, there is growing interest in treating the floors in appealing decorator colors—various shades of blue, green and red, for example.

Set for Nine-Day Run

Cobo Hall Show Opens Today

Visitors will be treated to a preview of spring at the annual Home, Furniture and Flower Show opening at Detroit's Cobo Hall today.

A pool 100-feet long, with water cascading over volcanic rocks at the back and the whole area in full leaf and flower turns the clock forward to May for the winter-weary.

Show visitors will walk into the garden on a ramplike elevation built as an overlook to make viewing the display more pleasing and picture-taking easier.

"Our exhibit this year," said Richard Fanning, superintendent of forestry and landscaping, Detroit's department of parks and recreation, "will have Japanese influence but we do not consider it an Oriental garden."

"There will be a pagoda-type structure, for viewing only, and this is to be tied into the pool," Frank Blanchard, Detroit floriculturist and head of Belle Isle greenhouses, revealed. "Work of forcing the flowers for the exhibit has been going on for several weeks."

TIGHT SCHEDULE
It takes nearly all winter to force some plants, shrubs and trees and to have them ready on the tight schedule the show calls for.

Hundreds of rhododendrons and azaleas will dominate the whole picture in a profusion of color with masses of yellow daffodils and crocus, serving as bright accents.

The lofty evergreen background will include spruce, pine, arborvitae and juniper. Among the shrubs are honeysuckle, dogwood, viburnum and other garden favorites.

Tuesday, the Michigan Horticultural Society is sponsoring an all-day conference as a part of its annual Garden Path exhibition at the show.

"GREEN CITIES"
"We call this our 'Green Cities' conference," said Mrs. Lloyd Hughes, executive secretary of the society.

"We are bringing together representatives of practically every garden club and many other organizations to hear speakers of national reputation."

Persons interested in further information may contact Mrs. Hughes at the society's headquarters, the White House at Belle Isle, Detroit.

A major award, the Chrysler Cup, will be presented.

COVETED PRIZE
For the last two years, the coveted prize has been won by the Hill and Dale Club of Farmington.

Organizations participating in the Garden Path programs include Michigan Area Violet Society, Michigan and Detroit Audubon Society, Michigan Botanical and Detroit Chrysanthemum Society.

Others are Detroit Garden Center, Detroit Iris Society, Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, Detroit Rose Society, Michigan Orchid Society and the Pointe Orchid Forum.

Along the Garden Path, sponsored by MHS, will be special exhibits such as Bonsai (dish gardens), Terrariums, Bottle Gardens, Begonias, Trained Ivy, Forced Bulbs and Window Boxes.

There will be special days on the Path for various flowers: orchids, today; roses, tomorrow; Adonis, Monday; Iris, Wednesday; pansies, Thursday; violets, Friday; Michigan Botanical, Next Saturday; and lily, next Sunday.

The 1966 Home, Furniture and Flower Show opened today at 9 a.m. and closes at 9 p.m. Feb. 27.

Show hours tomorrow will be 10 a.m. to 11 p.m., the hours on the final day, Feb. 27, will be 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.—all other days, hours are 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Dishes Are Drudge for Homemakers

Dishwashing is the most disliked household chore for American homemakers.

A survey of manufacturers of stainless steel sinks, disclosed that of all the work they do at home, "doing the dishes" rates as the most disagreeable task. A total of 37 per cent of housewives queried in the study chose dishwashing as the most unpleasant part of housework.

General house cleaning rates as second most disliked chore with 18 per cent of housewives terming the combination of dusting and sweeping their homes or apartments their most depressing task.

Third most disliked job of housewives is making beds, which was chosen by 12 per cent of those queried as the most disagreeable chore. Next in line as most distasteful was shopping picked by 8 per cent of housewives.

Other household chore mentioned by women as irksome tasks in their daily routine were laundry, sewing, cooking and ironing.

"Despite all our modern mechanical household conveniences, the little lady of the house finds her daily chores a considerable burden," comments Karl Jensen, president of Jensen-Thorsen Corp., of Addison, Ill.

State Farmers Aided by REA

By Esther Van Wagoner Tuffy
WASHINGTON — As the rural electrification program reaches its 30th year, each state is reporting what the passage of the REA act of 1936 has done for the farmers.

In 1935, only about 10 per cent of the nation's farms received electric service, mostly because of the failure of private industry to provide the service, which would have yielded a low revenue per mile from the low consumer density.

Today, there are 108,430 rural Michigan consumers over 21,450 miles of line. Loans have totaled $99,698,812. The first REA loan was approved in June 1936 by the Presque Isle County Electric Cooperative in Onaway.

REA borrowers in Michigan serve only 4.7 consumers per mile and average $533 in revenues per mile, compared with 20.4 consumers and $6,661 per mile for Class A and Class B commercial utilities.

Of the 105,000 farms in the state, 99.1 per cent were receiving electric service as of June 30, 1964, compared with only 42,152 farms, or 21.4 per cent, when REA was created in 1935.

By July 1, 1965, REA borrowers in Michigan had made a total of $39,084,781 in payments on their government loans. The payments included $23,741,806 repaid in principal as due; $11,488,597 of principal paid ahead of schedule; and interest payments of $4,854,378. No borrower in Michigan was overdue in its payments. Borrowers include 15 REA cooperatives.

LAS VEGAS MEETING

The National Rural Electric Cooperative Association is meeting this week in Las Vegas.

This 24-year-old trade association for rural power industry, is voting on a plan to establish a bank with federal, Co-op, and Borrowed money that could lend up to $4.32 billion to co-ops in the next 13 years to reach the remaining farms and to improve service to others.

This would be on top of $4.38 billion extended by the federal government during the same period under the REA act.

MORE CARE — Young patients at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital are cared for under conditions which leave something to be desired. The present pediatric department is overcrowded and lacking in some features that a modern children's unit should have. The enlarged hospital will have a new pediatric department with more beds and thoroughly up-to-date facilities.

At St. Joseph Hospital

Larger Pediatric Unit Planned

A prominent British physician once said, "The adult may safely be treated as a child, but the converse can lead to disaster."

In other words, from a medical standpoint, children cannot be regarded or treated as small-size adults.

This is the reason for the development of pediatrics — the special branch of medicine concerned with the maintenance of health and the treatment of disease in children.

It is also the reason why modern hospitals have a pediatric department where children are given specialized care.

And this, in turn, is why more children today grow to healthy maturity than ever before.

NINE OUT OF TEN
Whereas at the turn of the century only seven out of ten children born in the United States lived to see their tenth birthdays, now more than nine out of ten safely round out the critical first ten years of life.

Most of the children enjoying the pediatric beds at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital are there because of common childhood ailments.

Respiratory diseases are a frequent reason for admission. Diseased tonsils and adenoids top the surgical list.

Burns and fractures are also common, and every now and then a youngster is brought in after having swallowed some liquid meant for external use only.

UNUSUAL REASONS
Increasingly, however, children turn up for more unusual reasons which reflect the day and age we live in.

For example, more and more youngsters are being admitted to hospitals because of feeding problems.

In the past, many of these children would not even have been considered undernourished, since a deceptive chubbiness may sometimes conceal a serious nutritional deficiency.

Aware that poor eating habits may be psychologically conditioned, pediatricians and pediatric nurses are not surprised at the rapid improvement shown by youngsters when removed from a tense home environment.

MAY RELAX
With no anxious mother hovering about and trying to force the child to clean his plate, he may relax to the point where a chicken leg ceases to be a bone of contention and becomes something to enjoy.

In general, according to Miss Mary Owens, director of nursing services at St. Joseph, children make a much better adjustment to hospital surroundings than their parents expect.

The tot who is wailing when the anguished parents tip toe out of the room often will stop crying a little while after they are gone and become a model patient.

Miss Owens does not hesitate to describe the hospital's present pediatric facilities as inadequate in size and unsatisfactory from the standpoint of efficient operation.

ONLY 66 BEDS
There are only 66 beds — not enough to care for the volume of pediatric work the hospital does.

An isolation room is lacking, and there is no treatment room or playroom.

With the amount of space available, children cannot be segregated on the basis of age.

Older children have to be put in rooms with adult patients — a far from satisfactory arrangement.

Generally speaking, child patients are in and out of the hospital faster than their elders. But even though the turnover is brisk there are times when the pediatric occupancy rate is 100 per cent or — when children are placed in adult accommodations — more than 100 per cent.

Plans for the greater St. Joseph Mercy Hospital include a new and larger pediatric department with 91 beds. Forty-five of these will be ready for occupancy by Aug. 1. The new department will have a seven-bed isolation unit, a treatment room with an adjoining consultation room, two playrooms, three waiting rooms for parents, and a classroom for teaching.

In addition, there will be separate accommodations for adolescents, and some rooms where a parent can remain with the child at night if that is deemed advisable.

These improvements will make the hospital stay much more pleasant and comfortable for youngsters, and will meet all their special requirements.

Morning Devotions Begin at 6:15

World Day of Prayer Is Friday

Pontiac area men and women will join their counterparts across the nation and around the world, Friday, in the annual observance of World Day of Prayer.

Mrs. W. T. Billings of 655 Riverside, chairman of United Church Women's World Day of Prayer in Pontiac, said all interested persons are invited to the special service at 10 a.m. in Baldwin Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Beginning at 6:15 morning devotional prayer periods will be conducted by ministers of the community. People going to or coming from work may stop for an interlude of prayer.

Coffee, rolls and coffee cake will be served.

Rev. Dwight Reibling of the Baldwin EUB Church will conduct the first devotional.

Rev. Lenworth R. Miner, pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church will be in charge of the 7:15 prayer period; and Rev. Ross Geiger of North East Community Church, the 8:15 devotional.

Now 80 years old, World Day of Prayer is observed in 125 countries and on six continents around the globe.

SPONSORED BY WOMEN

In the United States it is sponsored by United Church Women—the national fellowship of Protestant and Eastern Orthodox women's agencies, a department of National Council of Churches Division of Christian Unity.

Observed each year on the first Friday in Lent, the day of prayer is worldwide in character. The same order of service translated into many languages is used in all parts of the world, Mrs. Billings said.

She pointed out that each year's order of service is planned by an individual or committee in a different country.

The 1966 service is designed by women of Scotland. It is based on the international theme, "You Are My Witness." "This year's service stresses the idea that ordinary church members can change the world by their daily actions," said Mrs. Lewis Ball, president of United Church Women of Pontiac. "It also reflects the ancient tradition of the Scottish church."

For 30 years this unique day of prayer for peace and brotherhood has united women across personal, national and racial barriers in a solemn act of dedication to their common mission throughout the world. Prayer requests have been received from Europe, Latin America and Asia.

Mrs. John Appleton and Mrs. James Mallory will be readers for the service. Mrs. Earnest Adler of the Salvation Army Men's Social Service Center will be guest speaker.

BIRMINGHAM

Observance of the World Day of Prayer in the Birmingham area will be held at First Methodist Church at 10 a.m. Friday. Guest speaker will be Rev. Elsie Johns of Clarenceville Methodist Church.

Other participants will be members from the committee, who represent churches in the area, and who are planning the service as arranged by World Day of Prayer committee in Scotland.

Following worship, those taking part will go to Pontiac State Hospital and present the service to patients.

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP

Jerry Blanchard, director of curriculum for Waterford Township Public School System, will be the speaker for the World Day of Prayer observance by the Waterford Fellowship of Churchwomen. Mrs. Donald Broyles of Drayton Community Presbyterian Church will be soloist.

The program is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Friday at Christian & Missionary Alliance

Church, M59 at Cass Lake, Waterford Township.

Participating during the afternoon will be women of the Township churches including Mrs. Minor White, Trinity Methodist; Mrs. Wilfred Lobb, Drayton Presbyterian; Mrs. B. T. Marshall, Church of the Atonement U.P.; Mrs. A. G. Shoemaker, Stringham United Missionary; Mrs. Ruth Beneké, Waterford Community.

Mrs. Roland Curtis of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will take part as will women of Lakeland Presbyterian and Lutheran Church of the Ascension.

Mrs. Carl Hoffman of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church is assisting with preliminary plans.

CHRIST CHURCH CRANBROOK

A former actress will be the guest of Christ Church Cranbrook Ash Wednesday. Sister Marilyn Elisabeth will come from Palmsville, Ohio to lead a Quiet Day, sponsored by the Episcopal Churchwomen, and which is held for all in the parish who can come.

The day will begin with Holy Communion at 9:30 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m.

Sister Marilyn, an actress whose training in the theater was at the famed Pasadena Playhouse College of Theater, is a member of the Episcopal Theater Guild.

In 1958 she joined the Community of the Sisters of the Transfiguration with headquarters in Glendale, Calif. She came to the Diocese of Ohio in 1963 as Sister in Charge of St. John's Home for Girls.

A Quiet Day is a time of spiritual regeneration. Silence is kept from the beginning to the end, with the exception of participation in Holy Communion.

Blue & Gold Banquet at St. Trinity

Cub Scout Pack No. 301 of St. Trinity Lutheran School will receive achievement awards at the annual Blue & Gold Banquet set for 6:30 p.m. Feb. 26 at St. Trinity Lutheran Church, Auburn at Jesse.

The boys will witness Gary Page show the art of making up as a clown during the evening program. Mr. Page entertains children who are ill at hospitals and often provides laughs at banquets and parties.

The movie "World's Fair" will be shown as part of the entertainment. Lloyd MacDonald, cub master, will be in charge of the evening.

Mrs. Bruce Burmeister and Mrs. Elmer Klemm are den mothers.

Guests will include new Cub Scouts, their parents and officers of the Clinton Valley Council.

LEADERS — Jerry Blanchard of 4413 S. Telegraph, Bloomfield Township (left) and Mrs. Donald A. Broyles of 1145 Lynsue, Waterford Township, select songs for World Day of Prayer, Friday, in Christian & Missionary Alliance Church, M59 at Cass Lake Road, Waterford Township. The observance is sponsored by the Waterford Fellowship of Churchwomen.

COMPLETE ARRANGEMENTS — Leaving First Methodist Church, Birmingham, are (from left) Mrs. Roy Troutaud of 31250 Inkster, Franklin, Mrs. Donald Barlow of 610 Tottenham, Birmingham, and Mrs. Henry

E. McQueen of 621 Henley of Birmingham. The women are participating in plans for the World Day of Prayer observance of Birmingham United Church Women, Friday.

Young People to See Film in Detroit

Young people of Silvercrest and Memorial Baptist churches are among the many young people who will see the film, "Beloved Enemy," at 7:30 to-night at Detroit Bible College, 1770 Meyers, Detroit.

The public is invited to the film and to refreshments following the showing of the movie.

Sponsored by the World Missionary Fellowship, the student missionary organization of the school, the film is the story of a brilliant young scientist who, because of his unbelief, is rejected by the girl he loves.

Embittered he sets out to disprove the deity of the Christ. Carefully investigating the accuracy of the Gospels and the massive evidence for the physical resurrection of Jesus Christ, he eventually comes face to face with the Christ.

This 90-minute color film produced by Films for Christ Association of Peoria, Ill., presents a scholarly defense of the Christian Faith.

Bloomfield Hills Knots W-O Race

Barons Corral Share of Lead at Northville

Center Bruce Hall Sparks Second Half Drive by Winners

By FLETCHER SPEARS

NORTHVILLE — The race isn't over in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Defending champion Bloomfield Hills, a preseason choice to finish a few notches from the top, knocked off Northville in a mid upset last night, 56-53, to move into a first-place tie with the losers.

Both teams own 103 records, and Hills will close the campaign next Friday by entertaining Brighton, while Northville will wind up the season on the road at West Bloomfield.

Northville, despite an earlier 64-46 loss to Hills on the Barons' court, was a solid favorite to wrap up the title on its home floor and then proceed with the championship celebration.

For a couple of periods, it looked as though the Mustangs would have little trouble in scoring up the title.

Paced by 63 center Jerry Inland, the Mustangs, down 12-11 after the first quarter, came back in the second frame with 17 points to take a 28-20 lead at intermission.

LIFTS MUSTANGS

Inland counted 16 or his game-high 22 points in the first half and gave the Mustangs solid support in the rebounding department.

It took the Barons a little while to catch on, but when they did, they checked off Inland's scoring and began an offense of their own.

The tide turned in the third period when the Barons moved back onto the floor in a court press, forced Northville into numerous mistakes.

Hills took advantage of the miscues and out Northville's lead to 37-35 at the three-quarter mark.

The Barons made their big move in the final period.

LEADS ATTACK

Bruce Hall, a 6-5 center who tolled most of the game with three personal fouls, began to find holes in the Mustang defense and he collected 22 of Hills' 21 points in the fourth period as the team roared from behind to claim the decision.

With 2:31 left and the score tied at 49, Hall dropped in a charity toss for a 50-49 Hills lead, and in the next minute of play he added a layup and another, free throw to shove the Barons in front, 53-49.

At the 26-second mark, Hall collected his 12th point of the quarter and moments later, teammate Bert Griffin tossed in a pair of charity tosses to tie the game.

Hall finished with 16 points to pace the win, while Griffin, who picked up 12 in the first half, wound up with 16.

Cold Shooting Cools Lancers

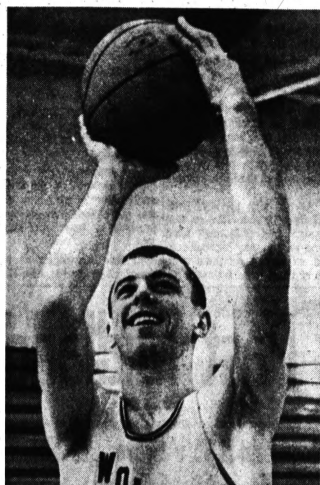

Emmanuel Christian hit eight field goals in the first period then could only muster seven more the rest of the game as it dropped a 58-42 verdict to Warren Mot last night.

The Lancers were tied, 17-17, after the opening outplay, then lagged in the middle stanzas. They scored only twice in the third period.

Tony VanderMeer (33 points), Len Loveless (11) and Chuck Caldwell (10) topped the home team's scoring; while Mott's Bill Selaga led all marksmen with 22 points. Emmanuel is 1-10.

RAMPAGING WOLF — Clarkston's Dan Fife went on a scoring rampage at Holly last night. The 6-2 junior poured in 49 points to lead the Wolves to a 72-67 victory. He hit 14 field goals and converted 21 of 26 free throws.

Big News at Extremes of SEM Cage Standing

There was big news at the top and bottom of the Southeastern Michigan Conference basketball standings last night.

Ferndale polished off Royal Oak Kimball, 63-59, to gain at least a share of the crown. At the other extreme, Birmingham Seaholm downed Berkley, 55-40.

Slow Start Too Costly for Brandon

A slow start proved costly for Ortonville Brandon last night. The Black Hawks got the first basket of the game, but dropped an 85-72 Genesee Suburban league basketball game at Byron. Brandon now has a 9-4 overall record, and also lost a chance for third place.

After the opening basket, the Hawks didn't score until 1:30 remained in the first period. They trailed 41-35 at the half took a 50-48 lead midway in the third period before failing before the goal.

GETTING IN SHAPE — Chicago White Sox catcher John Romano, busy whipping himself in shape for the 1966 season, works out on a rowing machine in a gymnasium in Sarasota, Fla., under the direction of Jim Alviani, YMCA health club director. The White Sox will open training drills Monday for pitchers and catchers.

Fife Wrecks Holly With 49-Point Spree

Clarkston's Dan Fife put on the greatest prep basketball show of the season last night as the Wolves edged Holly, 72-67.

This is what the 6-2 junior accomplished in the Holly gym:

1. Scored 49 points, the highest by a county prep this season.

2. Netted 24 of the Wolves 25 points during the last quarter rally that earned the victory.

3. Led the team in assists with nine, and in rebounding with 12.

"We tried everything on him (Fife)," said Holly coach Le Roy Mills, "but we just couldn't stop him."

Fife, who went into the game as the county's top scorer with a 31.1 average, scored 5, 11, 9 and 24 points by quarters. He made 14 field goals and converted 21 of 26 free throws.

Holly was badly handicapped in the fourth quarter because two starters had fouled out and the other three each had four. Fife scored at will from close in and on long shots. He hit eight fielders and eight free throws.

Bill Taylor led Holly with 28 points. The junior guard sat out six minutes of the third period with four fouls or he might have been in the 30. Mark Phalen, playing a superb game for the Bronchos, contributed 22.

The victory pulled Clarkston within a game of front-running Northville and Bloomfield Hills in the Wayne-Oakland race. Each team has one league game remaining.

Holly led 37-29 at the half, but with Taylor on the bench in the third quarter the Bronchos couldn't muster their offense and the Wolves cut the margin to one point going in the last quarter.

Mike Madison and Rod Allen turned in strong rebounding performances for the Wolves. The loss dropped Holly into a tie for fourth place with West Bloomfield, a 72-61 winner at Clarenceville. Brighton edged visiting Milford, 67-66, in the other W-O game.

Domination of the backboards by Bill Burt and Tim Moller in the second half triggered West Bloomfield to its win. The lakers quickly broke a 30-30 halftime tie and slowly pulled away.

Moller led all scorers with 17 points, Burt added 15 and Greg Hepinstall 14.

Brighton had to stave off a strong fourth quarter comeback by Milford. The Wildcats held a 38-31 halftime lead and maintained the seven point spread in the third quarter.

Warren Cousino made a mockery of its showdown game with the Fitzgolds last night by blasting the Spartans, 68-55, to win the Oakland A League basketball championship.

Rochester put down Troy's Bruce Bass in the second half and went to dump the Colts, 75-59, to clinch third place. Avondale lost fourth place to Clawson, 68-51, and Madison edged Lake Orion, 52-49.

Paul Papak led Cousino with 19 points and Gene Krivick scored 16. Don Billy netted 19 for Fitzgerald.

Bass scored the last 30 of Troy's 32 points in the first half.

Utica Makes It Official: Clinches Bi-County Title

Utica's Chieftains made it official last night.

They did what everyone has suspected for the last few weeks — won the Bi-County League basketball championship. An 81-59 win over Centerville clinched the crown.

The victory was the 14th for unbeaten Utica which has no trouble with Centerville after the opening minutes. The Chieftains were held at 6-6, but then broke loose and pulled away with ease.

They led 32-19 at the half and 59-43 going into the last quarter.

Big Bob Didier led the Chieftains to their second title in three years with 23 points. The 6-5 senior playmaker pumped in 10 field goals and three charity tosses.

Bob Drea was next with 19. John Madill sparked Centerville with 25 and teammate Greg Hable added 15.

Utica needs two more victories to wrap up a perfect season. But next Tuesday's contest against Mt. Clemens could be anything but easy.

The Bathers have taken on some of the top teams in the state — including No. 1 East Detroit — and complete in the Eastern Michigan League. Utica's final contest will be against Warren Lincoln.

Falcons Claim Outright Title

N. Farmington Loses to Thurston, 87-83

Birmingham Groves' basketball team set two records last night.

The Falcons won their 15th straight by downing Northaven Franklin, 87-54. Every time Groves wins, the longest winning streak in the school's history goes a game higher.

The triumph also gave the Falcons undisputed right to wear the laurels of Northwest Suburban League titlists. This is the first time a team has won the outright championship since the league was formed three seasons ago.

North Farmington and Detroit Thurston locked in a fierce struggle with the Detroit school coming out on top, 87-83 in double overtime. Oak Park swept past Wayne John Glenn, 76-52, in the other league encounter.

Although their field goal shooting was only a mediocre 36 per cent on 25 of 72, the Falcons had more than enough firepower to subdue winning Franklin.

Mike Rafferty pumped in eight baskets and made eight of eight free throws to lead Groves with 24 points. The Falcons are rated fifth in the state in the Associated Press Class in the third and nine in the fourth and Clawson pulled in.

North Farmington rallied in the third period to overtake Thurston, 53-41, and then played its opponent even through the last quarter and the first overtime.

But Thurston broke loose for 13 points in the second overtime to salt away the victory and second place in the standings.

Rick Lorenz paced the Raiders with 23 points. Gary Schmaier hit 15, and Thurston's Bill Bowles and Paul Rudolph each had 14. Randy Samuelson's 26 and Don Block's 23 topped Thurston.

Royal Oak Dondoro's hope of winning two straight over Dearborn Fordson this basketball season was fractured before the game even started last night.

Fordson rolled to a 43-26 halftime lead and was never threatened.

Gary Dunn paced Fordson with 20 points and Guy Del Guidice added 18. Jim DeJulius was high for Dondoro with 16. The Oaks now have a 6-6 overall record.

Detroit Five Halts Losing Streak at 6

By The Associated Press
Blame it on the absence of the New York Knicks Walt Bellamy or on anything else, but the Detroit Pistons were back in the winning column today after snapping a six-game losing streak Friday night.

Despite a Knick rally which overcame a nine-point Detroit advantage in late minutes, the Pistons, last place club in the National Basketball Association's Western Division, drove to a 120-118 victory.

OTHER GAMES

In other action in the NBA, San Francisco downed the Boston Celtics 128-106 and Baltimore nipped Cincinnati 118-114.

John Tresvant and Dave Debuschere flipped in field goals in the final 90 seconds of the Detroit-New York battle and helped the Pistons to their 19th victory against 45 defeats.

Eddie Miles led the Detroit scoring attack, netting 30 points. Rookie Rick Barry and Nate Thurmond were the key players for the Warriors, who had dropped two straight to lowly New York while Thurmond sat on the sidelines with a back injury.

LEADS WAY

Barry scored 33 points for the Warriors and Thurmond added 23 while controlling both offensive and defensive play. Paul Neumann pitched in with 22. Sam Jones paced the Celtics with 21.

Kevin Loughery and Johnny Egan combined for nine points in the final minutes as Baltimore held off Cincinnati.

Don Ohlstill, recovering from a fractured left cheekbone, led the Bullets with 24 points as seven Baltimore players reached double figures.

Whitmore Lake Victim No. 13 of Country Day

Undefeated Detroit Country Day last season lost Whitmore Lake its season last night by a score of 73-59.

Tim Baughman led the Yellow Jackets with 24 points. Teammate Paul Miller added 14. Bill Applegate was high for the losers with 17.

The Yellow Jackets had to work hard for the victory. After pulling to a 33-28 halftime lead, they managed to carry only a 50-48 advantage into the fourth period. A 23-point outburst took care of Whitmore Lake.

Country Day tries for victory No. 14 at home tonight against Warren Mott.

Pott in 2nd Round Tucson Lead

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Steady Johnny Pott shot a six-under-par 66 on the Tucson National Golf Course Friday to take the second round lead in the $60,000 Tucson Open tournament.

Pott, who won $3,000 for fourth place in the recent Phoenix Open, came from three strokes off the pace and took a three-stroke advantage.

His 66, which included an eagle, six birdies and two bogeys, combined with a first-day 70 to give him a 36-hole total of 136, eight strokes under par on the 7,200-yard layout.

Tied for second at 139 were Dick Lotz, Joe Campbell, Julius Bore and Doug Sanders. Bore shot a 69 Friday, Campbell and Sanders had 70s, and Lotz 71.

FOUR BEHIND

Four strokes off at 140 were Bob Johnson, who shot 71, Joe

Carr, who had a 72, and Gardner Dickinson, who carded a 71. Dickinson finished second in the Phoenix Open last weekend after leading for three rounds. He has been taking pain pills daily for a bad back.

Charles Coody, the first day leader with a 67, soared to a 76 and was grouped with six other pros at 143.

Pott's eagle came on the par-five 545-yard 15th hole, where he holed a wedge shot from 40 yards. He was right down the middle most of the day, missing the fairway only on the 10th hole, when he hooked his drive into a lake and settled for a bogey.

Net Ace Bidding for Cup Position on U.S. Squad

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Ron Holmberg would like to win back his place on the U.S. Davis Cup squad, but he refuses to go begging.

"I wanted to go to Australia with the fellows last year but they didn't ask me, and I'm not going to get down on my knees to anybody," the 28-year-old veteran said today after stroking his way into the semifinals of the National Indoor Tennis Championships for the second straight year.

Forest Lake's Bob Gajda fired a 73 for the second straight day and fell nine strokes of the pace with a 146.

Homeniku, who along with McCallister and Art Wall of Honesdale, Pa., were tied for the top spot after the opening round, with 69s, also shot a 68 for a 137 p.m., EST, Holmberg will play Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, who ousted Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., 6-3, 8-6 with a slashing two-flisted backhand Friday night.

Wall, who last year won this opening stop on the Caribbean tour, double bogeyed the 14th and finished with a one-over-par 73 for a 142 total.

Kansas Frosh Paces Milers

Russian Lass Sets Broad Jump Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—It had to be one of the strangest things ever run.

Ed Dean tried to steal it, which would have ranked right up there with one of Willie Sutton's jobs. Jim Grelle just wanted to win it. And Jim Ryan frankly didn't know what to do.

But Ryan, the leggy, 18-year-old Kansas freshman finally solved his dilemma by running his own race and holding off Grelle's famed finishing kick in a 4:02.2 effort in the New York Athletic Club's Indoor Games Friday night.

SOME BOOS

There was a scattering of boos when the time was announced, but a resounding cheer for Dean, a Notre Dame runner relatively unknown on the indoor circuit who finished dead last.

The crowd of 15,137 had been lured to Madison Square Garden by the promise of the first sub-four indoor mile in two seasons, and the prospect of an indoor record half mile in the Bill Crothers-Tommy Farrell race. Neither happened.

Russia's blonde Tatiana Schelkanova salvaged a little with a woman's indoor record broad jump of 21 feet 5 1/2 inches, but Farrell pulled out of the half mile with an old leg ailment and Grelle and Ryan were too busy watching each other to break four.

Crothers went for the record by himself, finishing easily in 1:50 flat — two-tenths off Farrell's mark. He also ran a 48.1 440-yard leg — fastest of the night — on a Toronto relay team and won the Mal Foote Award at the meet's outstanding athlete.

REDS SHINE

With Miss Schelkanova leading the way, the Russians won two of the three women's events. Tamar Dmitriyeva took the 800 Y 2:14.9, but Eleanor Montgomery of Tennessee A&M won the high jump on fewer misses at 5-6.

Of the five Russian men, only Igor Ter-Ovanesyan was a winner. He took the long jump at 25-5.

Rice Ends Losing String; Oregon State Pulls Upset

By The Associated Press
The Rice Owls were exuberant, the UCLA Bruins downcast. That was the big news in college basketball Friday night.

The Owls ended their 28-game losing streak, the longest for major colleges in 10 years, by smashing the Baylor Bears 89-70.

STREAK ENDS

The Bruins were beaten by Oregon State 64-51 for the first time in eight years, a defeat that diminished almost to the vanishing point their fading hopes of a third straight national championship.

A crowd of 10,307 at Corvallis, Ore., cheered Oregon State as the Beavers wiped out the sting of their 79-35 licking by UCLA earlier in the season. It was the Beavers' eighth straight victory in the Pacific Athletic Conference and increased their first place lead over the Bruins to two games, 8-1 to 6-3.

Bill Doty, with 32 points on 14 field goals and four of five free throws, paced Rice to its home court triumph over Baylor.

A 14-point spree that broke a 42-4 tie early in the second half put the Owls out of danger of losing their 29th straight. The Owls' last previous victory was against Trinity, Tex. in January, 1965. They lost their final 10 games last season and their first 18 this season.

PULLS UPSET

LaSalle upset its Philadelphia city rival, Temple, 86-85 in the second game of a doubleheader at the Palestra after Penn had whipped Columbia 67-58 and took over first place in the Ivy League.

Cornell whipped Princeton 86-77, knocking the Tigers out of a tie for the top and climbing into a three-way

Champ Dick Tiger Posts Quick Win

DORTMUND, Germany (UPI)—World middleweight boxing champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria today blamed West German veteran Peter Mueller for the quick end to their non-title fight.

Tiger, in a warmup for his April 25 title fight against Emile Griffith in New York's Madison Square Garden, knocked out the stalwart Mueller after 57 seconds of the third round, of their scheduled 10-rounders.

"I would have liked to go on to the tenth or eighth round to test my condition and to entertain the crowd," the board-shouldered Tiger said.

"I wanted to take my time, but Mueller attacked so fiercely and jumped around so it just happened."

Rusk Invites Vote on U.S. Viet Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk, the administration's chief foreign policy spokesman, has issued a ringing invitation to Congress to vote again on Viet Nam war policy "if there is any doubt" about it.

Rusk voiced his assurance the vote would be as overwhelming as it was in 1964 when Congress handed Johnson the resolution authorizing him to act in Southeast Asia.

"We'll give him a chance to find out next week," Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as the group shut down yesterday the public part of its probe of the president's Viet Nam policy.

Morse, the most outspoken among Senate critics of U.S. involvement in Viet Nam, said he intends to force a vote on rescinding the 1964 resolution passed after North Vietnamese PT boats attacked U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin off Viet Nam.

Morse and Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, were the only two in Congress to vote against the resolution then. The House approved it by a 414-0 vote and the Senate went along 88 to 2.

ADD RESOLUTION

Morse said he would try to rescind the resolution by an amendment to the bill authorizing $12.3 billion in additional defense funds now pending in the Senate.

His move, however, drew no support from other members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, ended the sessions at least temporarily after hearing Rusk give a lecture on the roads to war and peace.

"I personally don't see any need for further public hearings," declared Fulbright. But he said he would let the committee decide if it would like to ask Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to appear at closed sessions.

PRIVATE CHAT

After that, Fulbright sat down with Rusk for a private chat in the emptying caucus room as technicians dismantled the lights and cameras around them.

As the committee rung down the curtain on the hearings that have become the center of Viet Nam debate, one committee member put out an invitation to the President for some private, heart-to-heart talks.

Last week, Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., declared bluntly that the aim of the hearings which have been broadcast and televised nationally was to "go over the head of the President to the people" and thus express Senate "concerns to the President through the people."

"And, said Gore yesterday, "we have reached the President by this hearing. I understand he has been listening to day and yesterday."

Rusk Watch Is Increased After Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — A moderate step-up in security for Secretary of State Dean Rusk was maintained today in the wake of an anonymous threat on his life.

One security agent is usually assigned to Rusk during his public appearances, and it was understood this protection would be temporarily reinforced. Additional precautions were also being taken at his Northwest Washington home.

Rusk was testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday afternoon in nationally broadcast and televised hearings on Viet Nam when a Baltimore television station, WMAR-TV, received the anonymous call. It quickly notified the FBI.

According to WMAR news director Dave Stickle, his assistant, Jack Surrick, answered the telephone about 4:20 p.m. to hear "a woman with a husky voice" say:

"Dean Rusk will be shot right between the eyes when he leaves that building in Washington." Then she hung up.

ALERT SOUNDED

The secretary of state continued his testimony uninterrupted while his security aides went on alert and 20 to 30 District of Columbia police officers assembled outside the old Senate Office Building hearing room.

Women Killed in Smashup on County Road

5-10 Below Forecast Tonight for Area as Winter Tightens Grip

Two women were killed on snow-slick Dixie Highway yesterday as winter tightened its icy grip. Temperatures will drop even more tonight—down to 5 or 10 below zero.

Dead in an auto crash caused when one car skidded across the center line were Mrs. Alex Harrower, 60, of 1577 Mackey, Holly Township, and Mrs. Robert C. Fetting, 58, of Mt. Morris.

Mrs. Harrower was driving north on Dixie near White Lake Road in Independence Township alone at 5 p.m. when her car collided with southbound autos driven by Mrs. Fetting's husband, 42, and Victor Babka, 42, of 2735 Watkins Lake, Waterford Township.

Babka, who was driving behind the Fetting car, told sheriff's deputies that Mrs. Harrower's car began sliding into the southbound lane.

He said that the two cars collided directly in front of his auto and that he was unable to avoid the accident.

BOTH DEAD

Both women reportedly were dead at the accident scene.

Fetting is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Babka escaped with only a minor injury and his son Victor, Jr., 18, a passenger in the car, was uninjured. Sheriff's deputies said that the highway was extremely slippery due to yesterday's snow.

MISHAPS DOUBLE

Area police officials said that the weather resulted in double the normal number of accidents in a 24-hour period from yesterday morning until this morning.

Tomorrow will continue cold with highs creeping up to 12 to 18. Skies will be sunny.

The outlook for Monday is fair and not quite so cold.

The mercury registered a bone-chilling 2 above at 8 a.m. today. At 1 p.m. the recording was 12.

Press Will Feature 'Lent Guideposts'

Interesting personalities will offer intimate glimpses into how faith in God made a difference in their lives in the 40-day series "Lenten Guideposts" starting Wednesday in The Pontiac Press.

Hollywood stars, sports figures, housewives, a gas station attendant and others from many walks of life will relate critical periods in their past where religion played a part.

The one-day tales begin with the story of Carl Erskine, former pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, who pitted a prayer against a sore shoulder and came out with a no-hitter.

GOP Deciding on Senate Pick

State Chiefs Debate: Augenstein, Griffin

LANSING (AP) — Republican leaders met today to choose between U.S. Rep. Robert Griffin and Michigan State Professor Leroy Augenstein for the party's U.S. Senate nomination.

Griffin, 42, was heavily favored to outpoll Augenstein, but the question was whether he would get the necessary 75 per cent of votes to win a "preferred candidate" designation.

Griffin supporters, operating for five days from a telephone canvassing center in a Lansing hotel, claimed their man would poll 95 per cent.

Augenstein, 37, a political novice, predicted he could hold Griffin below the 75 per cent mark, in which case he said he would challenge the five-term Travers City congressman in the Aug. primary.

Prospects of a deadlock at the afternoon meeting lessened yesterday when a third candidate, state Sen. Guy VanderJagt of Cadillac, bowed out in favor of Griffin and said he'd run for Griffin's ninth district House seat.

NO STATEMENT

Gov. George Romney continued his refusal to say which candidate he'd prefer. He said only that either would be acceptable.

The eventual GOP nominee will be an underdog whether the Democratic candidate is incumbent Patrick McNamara, former Gov. G. Mennen Williams or Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh.

Griffin, who did not jump aggressively into contention until last week, points to his congressional experience and discounts labor opposition expected to develop from his sponsorship of the Landrum-Griffin Act in 1959.

Press Guess a Success

International soothsayers and the crystal ball experts can move over for one of our own boys. Last Thanksgiving, Arthur Sanford of the Press advertising department declared that Feb. 19 would be the worst day of the winter. Well, he was a wee mile wrong—but only a wee mile. On the 18th, we had the steadiest and most persistent snowstorm of the year and on the 19th the mercury sank to a cool 2 above. That isn't amateurish forecasting for three months in advance. Today, this unchallenged authority consulted his private oracles, went to a deep study and declared that August 3 would be the hottest day of the coming summer. Be ye hereby advised, cautioned and warned.

Icy Weather Chills Midwest, Hits Northeast

Temperature Plunges to 40 Below Zero in Minnesota City

By The Associated Press
Severe wintry weather, with bone-chilling cold, snow and blustery winds, grew worse in the nation's midsection and extended into the Northeast today.

The mercury plunged to 40 below zero at International Falls, Minn., on the Minnesota-Canadian border early today after yesterday's -42, a record low for February.

Temperatures 20 below zero and lower were reported across many Northern border cities and suburbs cold knifed across nine states in the Midwest and two in New England.

One below-zero belt covered areas in Montana, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Nebraska. Near-zero was reported in northern Illinois.

As the cold air and snow moved into the Northeast, temperatures dropped to zero in parts of Maine and Vermont and to near-zero in other sections of northern New England and northern New York.

SEVEN DEATHS

Snow piled up to nearly a foot in Milwaukee but tapered off during the night.

At least seven deaths were attributed to the stormy and cold weather in Wisconsin, including five who died while shoveling snow and two who were killed in a car-crash on a snow-covered highway.

Snow fell in parts of the extreme Midwest cold belt, including areas in Nebraska, the Dakotas and Montana.

Snow also was reported in northern Ohio, parts of Michigan, northern Indiana, northern Illinois, northeastern Missouri and southeastern Iowa and in sections of the Northeast. Two inches fell at Buffalo, N. Y., during a six-hour period.

GUSTY WINDS

Gusty northeasterly winds fanned areas in the Midwest, and driving conditions were hazardous from northern Illinois and Wisconsin across lower Michigan to the eastern Great Lakes region.

In other parts of the nation, rain splashed coastal sections of California and in parts of the Southeast. Clear, cool weather prevailed in most of the Southwest.

More than 150 residents in the Davenport, Iowa-Rock Island, Ill., area on the Mississippi River were forced from their homes by flood waters caused by a seven-mile ice jam.

The river divides the two cities which have a population of some 90,000. The river was nearly two feet over flood stage of 1 foot last night.

Near-zero cold added more ice to the huge gorge, which was reported by Army engineers as "solid to the bottom."

In contrast to the bitter cold in the northern Midwest, mild weather continued in Florida.

Say Condition of Admiral Is Growing Worse

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, 80, a hero of the Navy's war in the Pacific, is in serious condition today at his Yerba Buena Island home in San Francisco Bay.

A spokesman for the 12th Naval District said the old sailor's condition had "worsened" since his release from Oak Knoll Naval Hospital two weeks ago.

The admiral was hospitalized Jan. 3 after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage.

This followed treatment last November for minor back surgery.

Area Soldier Killed in Viet

Sgt. John Groover Was 7-Year Veteran

The Defense Department announced yesterday that Army Sgt. John W. Groover, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Zalkow, 3220 Raphael, Farmington, was killed in action in Viet Nam.

Mrs. Zalkowski said today that the family was notified of the death Feb. 8.

Surviving, besides the parents, are his wife and three children.

Groover, a seven-year veteran who was making a career of Army life, had served in Germany, training for jungle warfare in Hawaii.

It was while stationed in Germany that he met and married his wife, Sigrid. Mrs. Groover was in Germany visiting her parents when notified of the death.

QUOTES LETTERS

Mrs. Zalkowski quoted Sgt. Groover's letters as saying "the people over here are treacherous. We can't tell the South Vietnamese from the Viet Cong. We are in a continuous state of apprehension."

Mrs. Zalkowski said "We have no business over there. We should be in Cuba, if anywhere, outside our own country."

Fat Bunnies May Lose Their Ears

NEW YORK (AP) — The hearts of frightened Bunnies all over America went plitter-platter-pitter-platter yesterday.

With fear and misgiving, they studied their mirrors for fateful signs of plumper hips or lines around the eyes.

The management of the Playboy clubs has decreed that Bunnies who outgrow the Bunny look must turn in their ears.

More than a score, ranging in age to a venerable 29, have been set free from the plush Playboy warrens of Chicago, Cincinnati and New York.

No pretty doe knows which doe may be next to go.

As all red-blooded American males are aware, the Playboy Club Bunnies are girls dressed in costumes with rabbit ears and tuffy tails.

NOT AS SLEEK

Recently the Playboy head office in Chicago decreed some Bunnies no longer as sleek as they were when they first donned the uniform.

In mid-January nine bunnies in the Chicago Playboy Club were fired.

"Bunnies must be youthful," explained Alan Spiers, manager of the Chicago club. "They know when they are hired that they cannot keep their jobs if they do not keep their looks."

The ax next fell in New York, where the club manager, Tony Roma, said he had issued walking papers to a number of girls (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

'Sole 1966 Aim: Congress Seats

Pennsylvania Leader Firmly Backs Romney

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Republican party's sole aim this year, says Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, is victory for its candidates in congressional elections.

He put a firm stamp of approval, however, on Michigan Gov. George Romney, both in the forthcoming gubernatorial race and as a GOP presidential candidate in 1968.

"I sincerely hope the people of Michigan will reelect Gov. Romney by the biggest majority ever," Scranton said Friday in an interview.

Certainly if he is the nominee in 1968, I'd be delighted to work for him," said Scranton. The Pennsylvania governor was a candidate for presidential nomination in 1964.

LINCOLN DAY DINNER

Scranton was interviewed prior to his address at a Lincoln Day Dinner. Kent County party leaders said 1,700 tickets were sold, the largest number for any Lincoln Day Dinner crowd in area history.

Scranton was joined in late stages of the interview by Robert Taft Jr., and by Congressman Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., now campaigning for nomination as candidate for U.S. Senate. Taft is a candidate for Congress from Cincinnati, Ohio.

Scranton said the GOP Congressional Committee has its sights set firmly on the 1966 elections.

"We made it clear at our very first meeting that 1966 would be our target," he said. The mention of a possible presidential candidate for 1968 has never come up at any of the committee's meetings, said Scranton, and I've been at every one.

He insisted he is not interested in 1968 politics and said "I don't believe any other Republicans are either."

Scranton credited the efforts of Republican governors for a GOP resurgence. "When people see good government, it will support it," he added.

Republicans, he said, favor a policy of "peace with justice" in Viet Nam. He said he thought the United States should do "a better job of bombing primary targets."

Scranton also said he believed it possible to carry on the "Great Society" and a war if you can support both. But, he explained, "when serious inflation occurs, you have to cut down on internal spending."

Scranton said an "amazing change" has gone largely unnoticed in the Republican Party. He said it was taking its cause "more to the people than it has in the past."

The old notion of the GOP as the party of "big business" no longer is true.

In his formal address, Scranton stressed human rights, sound fiscal policy, belief in federalism — including strong state and local governments, and firm foreign policy as the mainstays of Republicanism.

"Work, not catchy phrases," he said, "is the answer."

These departments currently are located either at City Hall, the Lake Street Ward or in both locations. Purchase of the Consumers' building would put them all at a single location.

The administration recommendation also said Consumers' facilities would supply for current needs and provide a reasonable space for expansion.

Consumers Power officials have said they intend to construct a new service in the city.

U.S. Steel to Hike Price on Plate Type

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — U.S. Steel Corp. said yesterday it will hike the prices of carbon steel flange and firebox quality plates by $4 a ton, effective Monday.

U.S. Steel said the products affected by the increase are used to manufacture boilers and storage tanks and represent less than three per cent of the firm's plate output. The price increase averaged less than three per cent, according to U.S. Steel.

Maritime Union Unit Warns LBJ

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The Maritime branch of the AFL-CIO served notice on President Johnson yesterday to persuade allied nations to stop trading with North Viet Nam or have their ships boycotted in American ports.

The ultimatum came in a resolution by the 33-man executive board of the AFL-CIO's Maritime Trades Department at the end of its two-day meeting.

The resolution originally called for an immediate boycott of all ships of nations trading with North Viet Nam, but it was amended at the last minute to give Johnson "a period of time" for possible new consultations with allied nations.

Paul Hall, president of the Maritime Trades Department, said "all interested unions" will convene in Washington within four to six weeks.

If "no effective action" to stop allied trade with North Viet Nam has been taken, Hall said, the boycott will be put into effect without further delay.

SINGLED OUT

Great Britain, Norway, Sweden and Denmark were among the countries specifically pointed out in the resolution for criticism for trading with North Viet Nam.

Wisnietzky died Wednesday of a self-inflicted bullet wound after he shot the rabbi.

Japan Blasts Kill 4 at Fireworks Factory

Ward's Exec Cites Need for Youths in Retailing

Speaking before planners of the eighth annual Careers in Retailing Week, getting under way Monday, S. D. Ward, metropolitan district manager for Montgomery Ward & Co. said:

"We need help and we need it fast. Spare no effort in recruiting young people."

Careers in Retailing Week will be held Monday through Saturday, Oakland County merchants are taking an active part in the distributive education program, in cooperation with more than 45 high schools in the Metropolitan area.

"You might say that success has spoiled the retail business. Just look around and you can see how we have outgrown ourselves," Ward said.

Mrs. George Apperson, 3844 Upper Strals, Orchard Lake, personnel manager of the Pontiac Mall Ward's store, concurred with Ward's remarks and said, "Ten years ago, you could count the number of suburban shopping centers on one hand. The area is something to behold now."

Cooperating in Careers in Retailing Week in this area are:

A&P, Big D Markets, Frank's Nurseries, Hudson's, Hughes-Hatcher-Saffrin, Kroger Co., and Saks Fifth Avenue.

San Francisco Banker Guilty

Charged With Taking $400,000 for His Use

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A banker Don C. Silverthorn, a high-flying financier whose San Francisco National Bank collapsed in ruin last year, was found guilty last night of misappropriating $400,000 for his own use.

The colorful 61-year-old banker, who became more of an institution in the West than a man, was convicted of misappropriating $400,000 for his own use.

The colorful 61-year-old banker, who became more of an institution in the West than a man, was convicted of misappropriating $400,000 for his own use.

He was found guilty on 13 counts of misappropriation of bank funds and one count of aiding and abetting such misappropriation.

An associate in the unusual banking business, real estate promoter William S. Bennett, was convicted of one count of larceny totaling $8,000.

Silverthorn's financial empire went up in smoke in January 1964, when Comptroller of the Currency James J. Saxon seized San Francisco National's $58-million assets.

PORTLY BANKER

The portly banker, a former vice president of the Bank of America, claimed the government took the action because the "big banks were out to get me."

Specially, U.S. attorneys said Silverthorn got hold of the huge sum by taking on high-risk loans, charging an extremely high premium, and pocketing the excess over the regular, lower bank fees. And these risky loans were the reason San Francisco National went on the rocks, the government said.

Some large depositors suffered heavy losses in the collapse. The United Auto Workers had $3 million in the bank. Numerous civil suits have been filed and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. is seeking $32 million from Silverthorn and other bank officials.

It took a federal court jury just over eight hours to return the guilty verdict.

Neil Wannen, manager of the club in Atlanta, Ga., reported: "No trouble here. Southern girls make great Bunnies. Their personalities are warm enough to be pleasant, but not so warm that we've had to fire any."

He has taught at Pomona College and until recently, at Tufts University.

MUCH PUBLICIZED
Dr. Sayre, whose lecture subject will be "Philosophies We Live By," has been much publicized lately as central figure in the "publish or perish" controversy in which Tufts administrators did not renew his teaching contract because he would not publish a sufficient body of "scholarly" work.

Dr. Sayre conducted a dangerous overemphasis existed on the publication of such material by faculty, downgrading the teaching profession. He fought for this belief and was backed by students, his department head, many educators, the press and most of the general public.

Looks Back on Past Letter and Finds Advice Still True

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am almost 20, and for nearly five years I have carried one of your columns in my wallet.

It is so worn I can scarcely read it, but it's done me more good than any single thing I've ever read. Please reprint it, Abby, for girls who need the advice as much today as I did then.

Many of the leading operatic voices from the greater enclosing the column. I am the girl who wrote the letter signed "Mother Hater."

Sincerely yours,
"WISER NOW"

DEAR "WISER": Yes, I'll reprint the column. And here it is:

"Dear Abby: 'You will probably think I am a monster, but I am a girl of 14 and I hate my parents. Especially my mother.'"

"She is so old-fashioned it's pitiful. She wants to pick out all my clothes and tell me how to wear my hair. And I am the only girl in our crowd who doesn't wear eye make-up. She won't let me go in cars with boys. All she worries about is my reputation, and I swear I haven't done anything wrong. 'She is killing my chances to go with the right kids and be popular.'"

"Don't tell me to talk it over with her because she will only give me a long lecture on this bull about how it's all for my 'own good.'"

"I would like to be able to tell her things but, heck, I don't want to get killed. I hate to sneak behind her back, but I have no choice. I sure wish I had a different mother."

"Mother Hater."

"Dear Mother Hater: 'Girls your age, who feel as you do, regard all adults as the enemy. Perhaps a letter from a girl your age with a different point of view on the same subject will help you more than any advice I could offer.'

"DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and think more girls my age should appreciate mothers who love them enough to care about what they do. I feel sorry for young girls my age whose mothers let them go in cars with boys, wear eye make-up and hair-dos that are too old for them."

"I am not allowed to go on car dates until I am 16. My mother helps me select my clothes. I wear no make-up to school, only a little on special occasions."

"My mother has lived a lot longer than I have, and I have learned from experience that when she forbids me to do something she always has a good reason for it."

"I am thankful that I have a mother who loves me enough to raise me right."

"FOURTEEN AND LUCKY"

CONFIDENTIAL TO REV. EREND F. IN TULSA: No one said it better than Harry Emerson Fosdick: "Vital religion is like good music. It needs no defense, only rendition."

"A wrangling controversy in support of religion is as if the members of the orchestra should beat the folks over the head with their violins to prove that the music is beautiful."

Here is a hand that broke up one of the great bridge teams of all time. North was the unlucky expert.

His opening no-trump was the sort of psychic bid that is bound to make someone unhappy. This time it was his teammates.

West just happened to have a two spade overall and no one can find any fault with South's jump to four hearts. West looked on the four heart bid as money from home which it was. He doubled and opened the king of spades.

The defense did not have any real problems because there really was no way for them to go strong. Eventually, they collected two spades, three trumps, one diamond and three clubs for a 1,100 point penalty.

The game was total point team of four and while South was to be tied, North explained glibly that they would probably show a profit on the criticism but this South remained mad.

Unfortunately for our unlucky friend, it turned out that his East and West partners had arrived at six spades. South opened the ace of hearts and continued the suit to give his partner a ruff.

East and West became more and more angry and we really can't blame them. It is mighty tough luck to lose a slam because of a seven-zero suit break. It is particularly tough to be criticized for it. In any event, that particular team never has played together since that debacle.

State Capital Fourth Floor Said Unsafe

LANSING (AP)—Legislators deciding the fate of the 87-year-old Capitol have another fire marshal's recommendation to consider: close the building's top floor until more fire-resistant exits are provided.

The recommendation came despite recent alterations and improvements in the fourth floor, where the Legislative Service Bureau and several legislative offices have offices.

Det. Glen E. Turner said his recommendations were "necessary and reasonable for the preservation of life, valuable records and the building itself."

Besides the item on the fourth floor, there were 19 other recommendations for major alterations and improvements in this report.

A three-man panel will discuss "Pornography, Censorship and the Law" at this initial session.

Subsequent meetings will feature other facets of the current moral crisis in America.

Proceeds will be used to finance some of the gifts of food the young people take to Pontiac State Hospital. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from church youth.

Celebrating Shrove Tuesday is an old, old custom. It is the day before Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent. Its name came from the old custom of confessing on that day.

Shrove Tuesday is a time of rejoicing in many countries and communities.

It is the last day of the carnival season in Europe, and corresponds to the Mardi Gras of the French and the Pancake Tuesday of the English.

Similar customs are also found in Germany.

One cool judgment is worth a thousand hasty councils. The thing to do is to supply light and not heat. — Woodrow Wilson, 28th U. S. president.
