Suspect Arrested in Dr. King Murder

Mines Explode; Five Die in Iowa

BURLINGTON, Iowa (AP) — An explosion at the Iowa Army Ammunition Depot—the third in less than a year—killed five men yesterday.

The blast, in a warehouse where land mines were stored, blew apart the building's tile walls and part of the roof.

George Mathes, assistant plant manager, said relatively few of the concussion mines exploded. Adjacent warehouses were not damaged, he said.

Four of the victims were Gary Wayne Lawrence, 24, of Lomax, Ill.; Gary Raymond Young, 23, of Keokuk, Iowa; Robert L. Walker, 23, of Burlington, and Willis Bogan Henson, 37, of Stronghurst, Ill.

NAME WITHHELD

The name of the fifth victim was withheld pending notification of relatives, who were traveling.

Mathes said there were no reports of others being injured. More than 7,600 persons are employed at the plant, which is on a 20,000-acre site about seven miles west of Burlington.

The plant commander, Lt. Col. Frank O. Munn, said a gate keeper was within 500 feet of the building when it exploded, but he was not hurt.

On June 22, 1967, an explosion at the plant killed four women workers and injured four others. Two persons were injured in another blast last May 2.

PRESIDENT'S WIDOW AT SERVICES — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, followed by her son John, daughter Caroline, and her sister Princess Radziwill, moves to pew for funeral services for her brother-in-law, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, in St. Patrick's Cathedral this morning. President Johnson is at center right.

Ray Found Armed at London Customs

WASHINGTON (AP) — James Earl Ray, chief suspect in the slaying of Martin Luther King Jr., has been arrested in London, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark announced today.

Ray, object of an intensive manhunt for two months, was arrested by Scotland Yard detectives as he passed through British immigration offices for a flight to Brussels, Clark said.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Ray is being held under maximum security conditions on a passport violation.

Hoover said Ray was armed with a fully loaded pistol when taken into custody at 11:15 a.m., London time, today.

ASSUMED NAME

He was traveling under the name of Ramon George Sneyd and had two Canadian passports in that name in his possession, Hoover said.

King, 39, and a 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner, was standing on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel April 4 in Memphis, Tenn., when the fatal shot was fired apparently from a cheap roominghouse 205 feet away. He died of a bullet wound of the neck less than an hour later at St. Joseph Hospital.

The FBI placed Ray, originally sought as Galt, on its most wanted list April 20.

Ray, 40, is a fugitive from the Missouri State Penitentiary at Jefferson City, Mo. He had served seven years of a 20-year sentence when reported missing in April 1967.

A first-degree murder indictment was returned against Ray by a grand jury in Memphis last May 7 and necessary extradition proceedings will begin shortly, Hoover said.

The charges on which he is being detained in England is the use of fraudulent documentation — a passport — and for carrying a concealed weapon.

Hoover said one passport Ray was using was issued in Ottawa on April 24, almost three weeks after the murder of King. The other was isused May 16, at Lisbon, Portugal, by the Canadian embassy in that city, Hoover said.

Ray's arrest was announced in a statement released by the FBI and no elaboration was given by FBI officials.

DURING FUNERAL

The announcement came during the funeral in New York of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy attended by King's widow, Coretta. Kennedy had attended King's funeral April 9 in Atlanta, Ga.

The manhunt for Ray spread throughout the United States and several other countries including Canada, Mexico and Australia.

School Elections Loom in County

Monday is decision day for voters in Pontiac, Waterford and 18 other area districts on local school board and Oakland Community College trustee candidates and millage and bond proposals.

More than 37,000 Pontiac School District voters are eligible to go to the polls to elect one out of four candidates to replace James L. Howlett for a four-year term.

Candidates are Pontiac attorney Christopher C. Brown, Sylvan Lake Mayor Fred P. Crossman, Pontiac attorney John K. Irwin Jr. and Francis M. Webster Jr., general chairman of the School district's Finance Study Council.

In Waterford, six candidates are seeking two 4-year terms on the board of education and two are competing for one 2-year seat.

NOT RUNNING

Two board members, John D. Boardman and Robert E. Field, are not seeking reelection.

Waterford candidates are Edward J. Kuhn, William D. Motzny, Frank A. Lane, Louis H. Schimmel Jr., Harry L. Smith, Robert Carr, Mrs. Peggy Wood and incumbent Philip M. Hampton.

Thirteen of the 18 area school districts are holding millage and bond elections, many of them trimmed down versions of earlier issues which were defeated.

Several of the districts are having financial woes. Defeated millage property tax increases are certain to mean cutbacks in school programs in many instances.

Brother Eulogizes RFK

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the last son of a family that gave three sons to its nation, eulogized his slain brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, today as a man who "gave us strength in time of trouble" and "will always be by our side."

Related Stories, Pages A-3, A-10

His voice sometimes near breaking from emotion, Kennedy told mourners in St. Patrick's Cathedral what the fallen senator meant to his family and about his capacity for love.

The President, four men seeking that office, world and national figures and leaders from all fields had gathered for the solemn Requiem, celebrated by Archbishop Terence J. Cooke.

After the Offertory of the Mass, Leonard Bernstein led 30 members of the New York Philharmonic in a movement from Gustav Mahler's Fifth Symphony, a solemn, flowing piece that echoed in the far corners of the massive cathedral.

As the orchestra played, the Kennedy children went slowly to the altar and one by one handed wine and wafers to the archbishop.

Archbishop Cooke administered the Holy Communion to the sons and nephews of Sen. Kennedy, who served as altar boys.

Then the widow, dressed starkly in black, her solemn face veiled, and other members of the Kennedy family approached the altar for the Communion.

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, who celebrated the funeral mass for President Kennedy 4½ years ago, led the mourners in blessing of the body and commendation of the soul. The audience joined in the recitation.

Flash

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP)—Three spectators waiting for the train bearing Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's body to Washington were killed today by a train heading in the opposite direction.

Police said the crowd was jamming the tracks and the three persons apparently could not get out of the way of the northbound train.

Sirhan Charged; Girl Not Held

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan has been arraigned on a charge of murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in a hearing held behind an unprecedented wall of security.

Meanwhile, a girl who identified herself as the "mystery woman in the polka-dot dress" called sheriff's officers and said she wanted to talk to them. She was released after questioning.

Sirhan, 24, calm and composed, sat yesterday in the chapel of Los Angeles County men's jail as a deputy district attorney read the murder indictment, returned an hour and two minutes earlier by the county grand jury.

The indictment said the slight, olive-complexioned native of Jordan did "wilfully, unlawfully, feloniously and with malice aforethought murder Robert Francis Kennedy."

The judge ordered Sirhan to return to court June 28 to enter a plea and agreed to a defense request that he be examined by two psychiatrists before that date.

Kathy Fulmer, 19, a Los Angeles dancer, told Sheriff Peter J. Pitchess and newsmen she had seen Sirhan watching Kennedy before the shooting, heard the shots, and then rushed from the Ambassador's Embassy Room in near-hysteria shouting, "They shot him!"

A Kennedy campaign worker had told police she heard a young blonde woman say, "We shot him."

Miss Fulmer said she did not know Sirhan.

The mercury soared to 97 degrees yesterday, the highest temperature recorded for the day since 1872 when the U.S. Weather Bureau began keeping official records. This was also a new high for the season.

Good old summertime temperatures are here, and the chances are they will stick around for a while.

Summer is due to arrive June 21.

Families flocked to beaches and children ran in and out of yard sprinklers in an effort to beat the heat.

There's a chance of thundershowers cooling the area this evening but not much change is in sight otherwise.

Here is the official U.S. Weather Bureau forecast for the Pontiac area:

TODAY — Partly cloudy, continued warm with a slight chance of afternoon or evening thundershowers. High today 89 to 95, low tonight 66 to 72.

Winds light and variable, mostly southerly at four to 12 miles per hour.

TOMORROW — Partly cloudy, continued warm with chance of thundershowers.

TOP JAYCEES Rewarded for top service at the annual installation and awards banquet of the Waterford Township Jaycees last night were, (from left) Ron A. Rogers, project chairman of the year; Whit Carnahan, Jaycee of the year; and W. Cecil Stricklin, key man.

W. Cecil Stricklin, who last month was elected president of the Waterford Township Jaycees for 1968-69, last night was presented with the group's Key Man Award for the year 1967-68.

The award was made at the Jaycees' annual installation and awards banquet, held at Howe's Lanes in Independence Township. It is given annually to the member who is judged to have helped the club and the club president the most over the course of the past year.

Also cited for service to the Jaycees were Whitney Carnahan, named as Jaycee of the Year, and Ronald Rogers, chosen as Project Chairman of the Year.

Stricklin, 31, of 3325 Angelus, last year was selected as the outstanding first year member of the Michigan Jaycees and was one of 10 Jaycees named as outstanding new members at the 1967 national Jaycee convention.

INSTALLED AS PRESIDENT

He is the immediate past internal vice president of the Waterford Jaycees and last night was installed as president of the group for the year 1968-69.

De Gaulle Economics Denounced by Foes

PARIS (AP) — Labor and opposition political leaders are using epithets ranging from "hollow" to "outrageous" to denounce the reform plan President Charles de Gaulle proposed Friday as better than capitalism or communism.

Thousands of French auto and metallurgy workers still were on strike, although millions of other workers were preparing to go back to their jobs at substantially higher wages won in the general strike that paralyzed France.

De Gaulle's "third solution," offered in a nationwide broadcast, was "participation," presumably meaning workers and managers would share in the profits and control of businesses.

This, he said, was better than the "moral and material constraint" and perpetual dictatorship of communism, and the "alienation" of the capitalist system.

APPEALS FOR SUPPORT

De Gaulle appealed for massive public support of his proposals in the June 23-30 elections and said everything depends on the voting results—"the republic, liberty, progress, independence and peace.

"If the (election) results are bad, all is lost," the 77-year-old president declared.

Georges Seguy, Communist leader of France's largest worker syndicate, called de Gaulle's reform plans for business and education "hollow formulas that are not the stuff to satisfy the workers."

Francois Mitterrand, head of the non-Communist Federation of the Left, said de Gaulle's "definition of participation." is in reality a definition of paternalism."

'OUTRAGEOUS DEMAGOGY'

Socialist leader Guy Mollet described the proposal as "picturesque" and Communist party Secretary-General Waldeck Rochet accused de Gaulle of "outrageous social demagogy."

De Gaulle has spoken on and off the past 20 years about "participation."

The president did not spell out precisely how his plan would work, but he did make it clear "participation" did not mean that employes would operate businesses.

Employers have felt the plan would diminish their management authority.

The General Confederation of Small Businesses declared Friday night that de Gaulle's plan "must not interfere with either the initiative or the authority of business owners because they and they alone bear the financial risks of their activity."

Vietcong Offensive is Flaring in Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Light, scattered fighting flared in two sections of Saigon today and a fifth day of enemy shelling sent the civilian toll to 196 killed and 672 wounded in the five weeks of the enemy "peace talks" offensive.

A member of the South Vietnamese House of Representatives, Ngo Cong Duc, called for a halt in the U.S.-North Vietnamese negotiations in Paris if the Vietcong continues shelling civilian areas.

The civilian casualties have resulted both from shellings and street fighting, government officials said.

In today's clashes, South Vietnamese army casualties were reported extremely light. The government troops reported killing 12 Vietcong soldiers and capturing 13 in Cholon, the Chinese district in southwestern Saigon.

Government spokesmen said five Vietcong soldiers surrendered in the northeastern suburb of Gia Dinh and one told interrogators that government troops had wounded a regimental commander and a deputy battalion commander in the Cholon fighting. The deputy battalion commander had been reported killed in today's fighting.

The enemy battalion commander was reported killed earlier in the week.

The new fighting suggested that fresh Vietcong troops may be surfacing. Reports earlier this week said fresh enemy troops disguised in civilian clothes were infiltrating into Cholon to reinforce Vietcong units which lost 146 men killed in the last three days, according to government figures.

In central Saigon, two gunmen on a motorbike, believed to be Vietcong assassins, killed a South Vietnamese army lieutenant today half a block from the house of U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

Top S. Viet Honor to Westmoreland

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland today received South Vietnam's highest decoration from President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Thieu embraced the general as he pinned the Vietnamese National Order First Class on Westmoreland.

Westmoreland, who has been commander of American forces in South Vietnam for more than four years, leaves next week to become the Army's chief of staff in Washington.

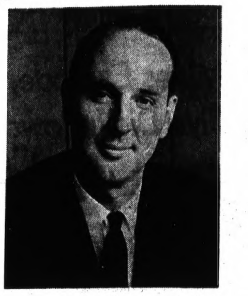
Local Man Running for Appeals Seat



JOHN F. FOLEY

BIRMINGHAM — John F. Foley, 523 Mohegan, has announced his candidacy for judge of the Michigan Court of Appeals in the Second District.

Foley, 40, is presently commissioner of the court. He will take a leave of absence from that position to run for the judgeship.

The state legislature has enacted a law expanding the Court of Appeals from nine to 12 judges. The law calls for the election of three new judges, one in each of the court's three districts.

Before being appointed commissioner by the Court of Appeals, Foley was in general practice of law and was an attorney and hearing officer for the Michigan office of the National Labor Relations Board.

NAVY VETERAN

A graduate of Birmingham High School, Georgetown University and the University of Michigan Law School, he served four years in the Navy during the Korean war. He also worked as a news writer for radio station KROS, Clinton, Iowa.

Foley will seek election in the Southeastern Michigan district, composed of the counties of Huron, Tuscola, Sanilac, Shiawassee, Genesee, Ingham, Lapeer, St. Clair, Livingston, Oakland, Macomb, Jackson, Washtenaw, Hillsdale, Lenawee and Monroe.

The Bloomfield Lions Club will honor Mr. and Mrs. Arno Hulet at its noon meeting Tuesday at Devon Gables Restaurant on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Hulet, treasurer and long-time member of the Bloomfield Township Board, was one of the club's organizers.

Mrs. Lenore Romney, wife of the governor, will be guest speaker for the meeting.

Tributes will be made by Homer Case, Bloomfield Township Supervisor; the Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Pontiac; and District Governor Warren D. Bracken, representing Lions International.

Musical selections will be furnished by the Jills of Bloomfield Hills Andover High School.

Program chairman for the event is George Andrews.

DRAIN COMMISSION

He is married, the father of two children and is employed by the Oakland County Drain Commission.

Rogers, of 2159 St. Joseph, West Bloomfield Township, was named as Project Chairman of the Year for his work with the club-sponsored track team which won the state Jaycee championship, and with the state Jaycee track team which won the national Jaycee finals.

He is a national director of the Jaycees and is a state district vice president. Married and the father of six children, he is employed by the Social Welfare Dept. of the State of Michigan.

Besides Stricklin, six officers were installed in the ceremonies last night. They were Richard Cooper, internal vice president; Larry Ettinger, external vice president; Darwin Johnson, ways and means vice president; Michael Halfpenny, recording secretary; Robert Newman, treasurer; and Robert Bloomer, corresponding secretary.

DIRECTORS INSTALLED

Members of the board of directors who were installed were Jack Hull, Lyle Kittridge, Gregory Neiswonder, Michael Patterson, Ronald Rogers, David Zuehlke and immediate past president Charles Wood.

Guest speaker for the evening was Dick St. John, a past president of the Michigan Jaycees.

Sub Fate Theory: Undersea Crash

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—With mechanical failure virtually ruled out, Navy investigators showed growing conviction today that the nuclear submarine Scorpion sank to the bottom of the Atlantic after colliding with an undersea mountain.

The formal court of inquiry, entering its fourth day of hearings today, heard testimony yesterday affirming previous witnesses who said there were minor mechanical faults in the attack submarine's equipment but nothing that jeojardized its seaworthiness.

Capt. Wallace Greene, commander of Submarine Division 62 of which the Scorpion was a part, summed up his study of the eight-year-old vessel's condition with the statement Scorpion was "fully ready for sea."

A note of mystery was introduced yesterday when Greene told the court the Scorpion was off course at the time of its last radio transmission because it was on a secret mission. According to previous testimony, it was 27 miles from her assigned position at that time.

After Greene's comment, the court went into private session.

U.S., N. Viets End Week of Stalemate

PARIS (AP) — U.S. and North Vietnamese negotiators probing the possibility of de-escalating the war in Vietnam are winding up one of their least active weeks to date.

W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance of the U.S. team are both in the United States to attend the funeral of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The Paris talks opened May 13. In four weeks the negotiators have held seven meetings. They are now in their longest recess — from a session last Wednesday to another scheduled for next Wednesday.

Disobedience Okayed

NEW YORK (AP) — The general board of the National Council of Churches has adopted a policy statement approving peaceable civil disobedience.

The board, in a statement yesterday on "religious obedience and civil disobedience," said civil disobedience means deliberate, peaceable violation of a law deemed unjust in relation to conscience or a higher law.

Burn Victim, 3, Is Facing $20,000 Worth of Surgery

RALPH HUDSON

"I'm going to be pretty someday," vows 3-year-old Annette McLean.

Her doctors agree she'll be pretty after some $20,000 worth of plastic surgery and hair grafts.

Annette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin McLean of 1480 Hillway, White Lake Township, was severely burned by hot water in March 1965. Her cheeks, chest, ears, nose and lips must be fixed in a series of operations.

Now an active, restless little girl, Annette was burned when she fell against a hot water tap, pushing it on. She spent months at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and will be entering Pontiac General next month for additional skin grafting and plastic surgery.

Doctors — she has at least four — have already attempted to fix Annette's nose but the skin graft was not successful, according to Mrs. McLean, and will have to be tried again.

McLean, a jitney driver at GMC Truck and Coach Division, and his wife have two other children, Richard, 9, and Susan, 6.

Annette wonders "why don't I have hair like Susan's?" When Mrs. McLean touched Annette's face, the little girl would hide her face behind her hands, saying "No."

An account has been started at the Community National Bank branch at 1620 Union Lake for donations to help build Annette a new face.

Waterford Man in County Race

A candidate who believes in the county-manager form of government under the new redistricting system for Oakland County has announced that he will seek the Waterford Township District 25 post.

Ralph Hudson, 33, of 3920 Dill, Waterford Township, has filed nominating petitions on the Democratic ticket for the position of county supervisor.

A salesman-pilot for Aerodynamics Inc. (Beech Aircraft distributors for the state of Michigan), Hudson is married and has four children, aged three to eight.

A lifelong county resident, he attended Lake Orion schools, Flint Junior College and was graduated from the Arme School of Aeronautics at Fort Worth, Tex.

ACTIVE DEMOCRATIC

He has served as vice chairman of the Orion Township Democratic Party and was the city of Pontiac's delegate to the Oakland County Democratic Party.

Hudson served with the Army for five years, two of them as a general staff aide. He is a charter member of the Orion Junior Chamber of Commerce, a member of Orion Lodge No. 46 F&AM and the Scottish Rite Valley of Detroit.

"Waterford District 25 still has many problems — roads, water, sewage, zoning, airports, taxes and sanitation. If elected I will work to improve these conditions," he said.

Mace Vindicated by 'M' Team

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The chemical Mace can be used as a riot control weapon with safety, a University of Michigan research team reported yesterday.

Mace temporarily incapacitates and there is "potential hazard in its misuse," the team reported, but added that it contains no toxic ingredient other than tear gas.

The study was carried out with monkeys and other animals. The team was headed by Dr. Maurice H. Seevers, chairman of the University of Michigan Medical School's Pharmacology Department.

Mace does not contain poisonous Dimethyl Sulfoxide (DMSO) and does not attack a person's nervous system, leaving him stunned, the 20-page report said.

AEROSOL SPRAY

Mace contains Alpha-Chlotoacetophenone (tear gas) as its active component, but its method of delivery as an aerosol-type spray does not pose the dangers inherent in traditional tear-gas delivery involving explosives and other propellant materials, the report continued.

Dr. Seevers said the formula for Mace was disclosed to him on a confidential basis, but added the manufacturer is withholding public disclosure of the formula while awaiting patent issuance.

"This is unfortunate," he added, "since it has engendered a rash of rumors, concerning possible other toxic ingredients in addition to tear gas."

Seevers said use of Mace should be limited to the minimum required to effect incapacity, that the recipient should be alert and in possession of normal protective reflexes such as blinking, eye closure, breath-holding and turning away from the spray.

The spray also should be directed at a recipient from a distance that permits his reflexes to be brought into play, Seevers said.

Dr. Seevers said "Severe, long term and possibly permanent occular (eye) damage may occur if the cornea of the eye is exposed directly to chemical Mace in liquid form."

Then he added, "Such exposure resulting from discharge of the cannister would, in our opinion, constitute misuse of the weapon, and he said the manufacturer should prepare a brochure "describing proper methods of use and the potential hazards of misuse."

Damage could occur, the report continued, if the spray were discharged directly into the eye or face at very close range, if there is prolonged discharge into the face of an already incapacitated person, or if large quantities are discharged in a confined space such as a small room or closed automobile.

CLEAR WATER

Washing with clear water as soon as possible after exposure will minimize the local effects, Dr. Seevers said, suggesting that "application of ointments of any kind be avoided since they localize the irritant at the site of application."

* * *

He said there is no scientific evidence to support the view that significant bodily effects on the nervous system or other organs are induced by Mace, "even by exposures which could produce serious injury to the eye, skin or mucous membranes."

* * *

In addition to tear gas and inert propellant gases, the report said Mace contains organic solvents, but added that concentration of these solvents are such that the total dose delivered in aerosol spray would not be in the toxic range since the absorption into the body is too slow.

* * *

Drs. Julian E. Villarreal and Ian F. MacLeod worked with Dr. Seevers in his study and report, requested by Ann Arbor city officials after Ann Arbor police suspended use of Mace.

Soviet Poet Rips U.S.

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia's angry young poet, Yevgeny Yevtushenko, Thursday put into verse his thoughts on the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy:

"You are shooting yourself America. You can kill yourself this way."

Though he had met Kennedy and talked with him on a recent trip to the United States, Yevtushenko said little of the fallen senator personally when he recited on Moscow television.

Instead he turned his anger on the United States and repeated the theme of official Soviet press reaction to Kennedy's death.

"You promised to be the conscience of the world,
"But beside the shameful abyss
"You are not shooting at Martin Luther King
"But at your own conscience.
"You are bombing Vietnam, and along with this,
"You are bombing your honor.
"So rise, stricken Statue of Liberty
"And condemn the freedom to kill."

ROBERT HAN

Teen of Week From Pontiac Is PNH Voice

The last Pontiac Teen of the Week chosen during this school year is Northern High School's Robert Han, the well-known voice of the school's public address system.

A three-year member of the debate squad, Bob has mellow tones easily recognized by any Northern student.

During Youth Appreciation Week he received an award for leadership and was further honored in the Salute to Youth contest.

Han is a photographer for the school newspaper and was recently inducted into the National Honor Society with a B-plus average.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Han of 2375 Snellbrook, Bob plans to attend Oakland University this fall and major in biology. He wants to become a doctor.

"Never fear to do what you feel is right, for only you have to live with your conscience," he says is his motto in life.

Four Charged in Break-in at Local Store

Pontiac police have charged four men arrested yesterday with breaking and entering, minutes after a break-in was reported at a city business.

Taken into custody following the burglary report at Frayer's Appliance Store, 589 Orchard Lake, were William Watson, 35, of 45 Lake; Thoney M. Griffin, 21, of 71 Wall; Roosevelt Adams, 22, of 85 Willard; and S. J. Rogers, 26, of Ferndale.

They will be arraigned Monday, according to officers.

The four were arrested in a car at Orchard Lake and Thomas about 11:20 p.m., police said.

A witness who reported the break-in told officers she saw several men carrying a television set out of the store.

Investigators said entry to the building was made by kicking out a window. The burglars pried open a door to carry out an undetermined quantity of goods.

Dinner Planned

State Fire Kills Five in Family

NOTTAWA, Mich. (AP) — A 34-year-old father and his four children were killed today in a fire in their home in Nottawa in St. Joseph County in southwestern Lower Michigan.

Killed were David Toyer and his children, David, 10; Roger, 8; Debra Sue, 7; and Betsy, 6. Mrs. Toyer escaped with minor burns and was treated at a hospital.

Sheriff's deputies said they could see the blaze which destroyed the home from two miles away. The Centreville Fire Department was called in to fight the blaze, but they arrived too late to save the family, believed killed while asleep on the second floor of the home.

State fire marshals are investigating the yet undetermined cause of the fire.

Wallace Campaign Meeting Is Tonight

Guy Foster, chairman of the Ortonville campaign headquarters of Wallace for President, announced a meeting will be held tonight at 7 at 2160 M15, Ortonville.

Floyd S. Kent

In the death of FLOYD S. KENT the area lost a pioneer resident who for half a century had been a prominent real estate operator in Pontiac.

KENT

Born on a farm near Ortonville, Mr. KENT began his business career with a Detroit real estate firm, moving to Pontiac in 1916 to develop acreage now known as Seminole Hills. Subsequently, he established here and conducted until recently a general real estate business.

Attracted by the imprint of Indian lore on the community the developer in naming the streets of the Seminole project chose Indian names, after having become something of an authority on America's first inhabitants.

Devotion to his business interests left little time for recreational pursuits, though hunting and fishing claimed what relaxation he allowed himself.

The sorrowing friends and acquaintances of Mr. KENT will find comfort in the knowledge that his personal and business life was marked by integrity and steadfastness.

Tax Collector Bites Deeper North of the Border

If you are past draft age but still entertain occasional thoughts of fleeing to Canada to escape not Selective Service but the tax collector, forget it.

Increases in income, sales, gasoline and diesel fuel, tobacco, liquor, motor vehicle and other taxes have been hiked in eight of Canada's 10 provinces so far this year, reports Commerce Clearing House.

Quebec has slapped a 6 per cent surtax on the income tax of individuals and doubled the capital tax on corporations. Newfoundland has upped its corporation income tax rate for the third time in two years.

As for the ubiquitous sales tax, it has been notched up another percentage point to 5 per cent in Saskatchewan and 7 per cent in Newfoundland.

Seven provinces have raised their gasoline taxes, by from 1 to 3 cents a gallon—except for Newfoundland, whose 5-cent boost brings its total to 25 cents a gallon, the highest in either Canada or the United States.

Five provinces have made it easier this year to kick the smoking habit. Ontario led the way with an increase from 2 cents to 6 cents on a pack of cigarettes.

You're just going to Canada to fish and see the scenery, you say?

Ontario plans numerous increases in fees and licenses — an ominous note for tourists, campers, anglers, hunters and just plain nature lovers, says Clearing House.

New Hippie Image: Hair Today, Gone Tomorrow

Shaving was fast becoming a lost art among barbers, long before the comeback of the beard. Now the same may be true for the haircut.

The long-hair trend has knocked the barbershop business off by about 15 per cent from 1966, complains a Barbers' Union official in Los Angeles. The result has been a decline of more than 50 per cent in the number of apprentices working at the trade, he says.

Some barbers have begun counterattacking, however, reports the Los Angeles Times. There is more emphasis in barber schools on hair styling and analysis, tinting and dyeing, shampooing, razor cutting—and beard trimming.

Even if you don't have a beard, some shops will accommodate you. It seems there are a surprising number of weekend hippies who have to be clean-shaven on the job but who come in on Fridays to have false beards fitted.

In New York, wig makers are also enjoying a boom thanks to the part-time hippie population—young men who are respectable conformists from 9 to 5, then transform themselves into instant swingers for an evening on the town.

So far, no one has reported seeing a mild-mannered clerk enter a telephone booth, doff his civvies and emerge as — Super-hippie.

Student Unrest No U.S. Innovation

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

The most surprising thing about the student unrest, the demands and demonstrations that have swept the country, is that it has not happened before in the United States. Other countries have had it, but it has been a phenomenon distinctly not American.

DIRKSEN

Such student movements, tinged with a revolutionary spirit, often began on university campuses in Europe and Latin America. Quite often, new political undertakings in those countries began among students.

When representatives from other lands visited such universities they were met with nasty indignities and discourtesy of the crudest sort, even when the invitation to appear there had been formally extended.

Given ample time, such maladies of the spirit can become infectious over the entire world.

There was a hint of fever and unrest on American campuses as long as 15 years ago. One evening I dined with members of a gilt-edged fraternity. What do you think they spouted? You wouldn't believe what some of those students, who came from fine homes and whose grooming, handsomeness and outward social demeanor was so refreshingly American, had to say. They said that the world owed them a living.

The crazy talk had no racial tones nor tinges of communism. Such complications came later.

The Soviet Union probably would be rocked to its foundations by the self-assertion of students were it not that Russian students know full well that such outbreaks would be suddenly and sharply repressed.

The Soviet government is fully and watchfully aware of what happened in Red China when the millions of youths, encouraged by Chairman Mao, engulfed the whole country.

We think we understand how such things can happen abroad, but it is difficult to understand how it could happen in our country.

Once upon a time, students in America let off steam in unusual ways, but those were fads, not indiscretions aimed at political or social complaints.

When college students swallowed live goldfish, raided girls' dormitories or pilfered Pullman blankets and tableware, they were feeling their oats, so to speak, and having fun.

Today, the demonstrations have a goal that seems to be aimed at getting a place in the sun. The students want to be considered as not only IN the school, but as part of the makers of school policy.

Some of the demands are amazing, and juvenile, too. Look what was sought at Northwestern University. The demonstrating students demanded that chitlins and collard greens be served in the campus cafeteria. Now, chitlins is a word that is a corruption of chitterlings, which means boiled or fried intestines of hogs.

If you think chitlins as dinner fare is a proper goal for student enterprise, then consider the complications that could result if every racial or ethnic group organized itself and demanded table fare that followed racial or ancestral tradition.

Demands for separate dormitories are demands for segregation. Demands for certain kinds of foods that are not at all usual to campus cafeterias or even the ordinary city restaurants, are demands for segregation that fly in the very face of the Supreme Court's reversal of the "separate but equal schools" doctrine.

They are demands that are at variance with what was demanded before and what the President, the Congress and the courts have sought to effect in the interests of racial peace, harmony and justice for all.

This fever is not sensible nor is it practical. It will run its course. Tranquillity and good judgment will be restored if we all use our heads, including those students who don't want to let the duly constituted school authorities administer the schools.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

The Statue of Christ on Mount Corcovado has stretched out its arms over Rio de Janeiro for a quarter of a century. Glistening in the sun by day and bathed in electric lights by night, it is symbolic of the faith of Brazil, the world's largest Roman Catholic nation. From earliest history Corcovado has been endowed with religious significance.

The first explorers called Corcovado the "Pinnacle of Temptation," in reference to the Biblical description of the temptation of Christ. It seemed almost inevitable that a statue of Christ would some day be erected on the mountain.

Early in the history of Rio, a Catholic father wrote, "O Corcovado, there rises the giant of precipitous stone, tall and sad, as if interrogating the immense horizon . . . When will you come? So many centuries I have waited. Yes, here is the only pedestal in the world, where the colossal statue comes, image of the one who made me."

The symbolism extends beyond the exterior of the statue, for inside the chest of the hollow interior a heart is carved in the reinforced grey concrete.

Confident Living:

Get Spiritually Tuned in on Life

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Harvey and his wife successfully surmounted a tough and trying period of anxiety and strain.

DR. PEALE

The couple's first child was a "blue baby" and had to have major heart surgery when only six days old. She survived it. Later, however, little Cathy developed mysterious high fevers. This condition persisted and the young parents were worried sick about it.

Then Harvey lost his job. Weeks passed. Still no job. And the small monthly unemployment check which he received was their sole subsistence. Came a day when he had exactly $47 to his name—sick baby, rent due, no job and only $47.

Harvey was a praying man. He had been asking, he says, for some sign of a plan for his life so that he would not be forced to take a low-paying stopgap job. But his prayers had failed to bring any help or answer. And he was feeling pretty bitter.

Then it occurred to him to pray differently. "I swallowed my enormous pride for a moment and cried, 'Take my life, Lord, and do with it what You will. I let it go!' Suddenly I felt a great peace and knew that I had finally turned myself over to God." And did he tune in on life?

The very next day came a letter from a lawyer informing him that a distant relative had bequeathed him a small sum of money. That relieved the immediate pressure. And on the following Sunday Harvey accidentally (or was it accidental?) opened the employment section of the newspaper to the wrong page. There he saw an ad which resulted in his getting an exciting job — one with a real future — in social work.

Sounds melodramatic, doesn't it? Not at all the way things ordinarily happen in real life. It shouldn't happen — but the fact is, it did. The next good thing to occur was that little Cathy's temperature suddenly went down to normal and stayed there.

I have heard many people say that you cannot expect to get material circumstances changed through prayer. I have even heard some religious leaders say this. Prayer, they maintain, has no effect upon materiality but only upon spiritual conditions. But the plain facts of human experience seem to contradict this view.

"I was frustrated and unhappy," writes a girl of 18 from the Northwest. "For a long time I had sensed that we in our family were growing apart. It bothered me deeply." She had been disturbed by her parents' remarks that she should make something of herself.

She felt obligated to go to college right from high school — even though she wanted first to try different kinds of work so she could define her objectives in life. She felt overpressured by her parents' attitude.

"I prayed for help," her letter continues, "I am sure it was somehow meant for me to read your books. I tried a few spiritual techniques and to my amazement they worked.

"This led to a long confidential talk with my parents and we found a new understanding between us. Then I regained the sense of harmony and peace in my world which I had when I was younger.

"So I have rediscovered my parents and myself. Most important of all, I have discovered God. My faith has multiplied several times over."

When faced with a tough situation, how foolish to start indulging in resentment or self-pity. Those emotions only make things worse. What if this hard situation did develop through no fault of your own? It is still a problem life has handed you — and an opportunity, for every problem contains bright possibilities for turning it to one's advantage.

Get spiritually tuned in on life. Then your mind will begin detecting and acting upon those bright possibilities. You will develop the kind of attitudes that attract creative developments.

Washington Notebook:

VP Job Has Nice Fringe Benefits

By NOEL GROVE

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Sen. Eugene McCarthy said he would not settle for the vice presidency and that if he wins the nomination he would be more concerned about selecting a secretary of state than a vice president.

Gov. Ronald Reagan said: "I am not seeking, am not available for and will not accept the vice presidential nomination, regardless of whom the nominee for president might be."

The No. 2 spot seems to have hit a new low in popularity. Candidates and non-candidates alike might be urged to look at history to see just how much potential the vice presidency really holds.

Of 37 vice presidents before Hubert Humphrey, 15 ultimately sought the nomination and, of those, 11 actually ran for the presidency, eight on major party tickets, and all but Richard Nixon won.

Even among those who were never seriously considered for the nomination, many had interesting careers. John Breckenridge (VP under Buchanan) for example, was elected to the U.S. Senate while still vice president, although he was later expelled for supporting the Confederacy.

In the meantime, however, while a senator-elect and about to retire as vice president, he ran for the presidency and carried 11 states, but was defeated.

Another VP, John C. Calhoun, had the unusual distinction of serving as vice president under two successive presidents who were political opponents — John Quincy Adams from 1825 to 1829, and then Andrew Jackson.

Today's vice presidential possibilities might even be cheered by knowing that at least two No. 2s were remembered for memorable phrases:

John Adams, our first vice president, said of his office, "In this I am nothing, but I may be everything."

And it was Thomas R. Marshall, Wilson's vice president, who said those immortal words, "What this country really needs is a good five cent cigar."

Leaders of the Poor People's Campaign in Washington still claim they'll stick around until they get "results" from Congress and cabinet members for the poor people of America.

"We'll follow them wherever they go, to get what is needed," said Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, SCLC president and leader of the campaign.

"If nothing happens here," he said, with a mischievous grin, "we may even go to Florida (to the Republican National Convention) and get ourselves a nice tan."

Though his chief is out of the political arena, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman couldn't resist telling a favorite campaign story in a speech at a conference for labor editors at a Washington hotel recently.

A candidate was filling a meeting hall with ringing oratory, until a listener jumped up in the back row and shouted:

"You big windbag, I wouldn't vote for you if you were St. Peter!"

To which, Freeman said, the candidate replied, "If I were St. Peter, you couldn't vote for me because you wouldn't be in my district."

Voice of the People:

'Parents Are Responsible for Problems of America'

It's time for the American people to take a good look at themselves. Let's quit passing the buck and put the blame where it belongs—not on television, not on all young people, not on funny books, not on anyone or anything but parents.

We have taken the paddle out of our homes and placed money in the hands of our children to get them out of our hair for awhile. We have taken the "hickory stick" away from the teachers in our schools and then gripe because our children aren't being taught anything. We have taken the jurisdiction away from our policemen and expect them to keep law and order. We have tied the hands of the people that have always formed the guidelines for a good America.

American parents who have children in college, where does the money come from for them to attend? Are they working for their education like you would probably have had to do, or is it coming from you and giving them time to take part in demonstrations? You fathers who fought so bravely in World War II or in Korea, where would we be now if you had burned your draft card and refused to fight for this country?

Let's all take a good look at our children and a good, long look at ourselves. Be honest, put the blame where it belongs, and then get to work and change it; or God help us all.

'Politicians Cause of Many of Our Troubles'

In hearing of the slaying of Senator Robert Kennedy and then the inane platitudes of Senator Dirksen about getting up another committee to investigate the murder of prominent politicians and our Country's seeming disregard for law and order of any kind, it appears that the fundamental cause of a great many of our troubles is the politicians themselves.

Examples are:

Congressmen and Senators who are members of law firms and these law firms receiving retainers and fees from large businesses and corporations; the cases concerning Clayton Powell, Senator Dodd and others, and the whitewashing of LBJ's favorite boy Baker; the trading of votes in critical legislation—you vote for my Pork Barrel Project and I'll vote for yours, and to heck with the Country's welfare and money; the railroading through of state and city income tax but the Legislators feel they should be exempt; the ridiculous piece of legislation concerning school taxes just recently passed; and to come to our own doorstep, Miriani, Cavanagh and Brubeck in Wayne County.

Question and Answer

Can you tell me how many Congressmen have sons on active duty in Vietnam?

READER

REPLY

Congressman MacDonald checked into this and found that such information is not available. No record is kept on this basis, and the Defense Department said that many sons of Congressmen wish to remain anonymous and even the Department is unaware they're Congressmen's sons. In other cases, Congressmen don't wish this information known, as it might endanger their sons and lead to complications if their sons were captured. The Selective Service department says Congressmen's sons receive no special deferment, that draft laws apply to them in full.

Romney Signs Special Education Bill

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney Friday signed into law a bill to allow intermediate school districts to join in the construction of facilities for handicapped, retarded or mentally disturbed children.

The measure was asked by Washtenaw County to permit the construction of such a facility near Ann Arbor.

The measure specifically permits an intermediate school district or any constituent school district to enter into agreements with other units of government in establishing a building authority.

Financing must be by revenue bonds limited by the amount of taxes which may be raised within the affected school districts.

ASSESSING GUIDES

Also signed was a bill establishing new guidelines for assessing procedures.

Local assessing officers would be allowed to file a complaint with the State Tax Commission under the same conditions now allowed any individual taxpayer.

Any change in the assessment resulting from such an action also will change the state equalized value of the local unit.

In addition, the measure provides that when the State Tax Commission is required to prepare an assessment roll for a local district, the local assessing district must pay for the cost of the work.

OTHER BILLS

Both new laws have immediate effect.

The governor also signed bills:

—Allowing county boards of supervisors to create delinquent tax revolving funds for the payment of delinquent taxes to political subdivisions.

—Permitting a friend of the court to petition for a change in a child support judgment in a divorce case when the parent or guardian has applied for or received any form of public aid.

—Limiting the filling or refilling of a prescription for a habit-forming drug to not more than five times within a six-month period after the prescription is issued. After six months the issuing practitioner may renew it.

—Allowing boards of county road commissioners to install and maintain uniform traffic control devices on trunkline highways when the cost would be less than estimated by the State Highway Commission.

—Providing that all life, accident and health insurance sold in connection with credit or loan transactions be subject to the credit insurance act except when sold in connection with loans on dwellings or mobile homes where the term is for more than five years.

—Restricting the authority of county and regional units of government to purchase property outside their districts for recreationsl purposes.

A Junior Editors Quiz About VOLCANOES

QUESTION: How are volcanoes formed, and are there any in the U.S.?

ANSWER: A volcano is formed around an opening in the earth's crust which reaches down to where there is hot, melted rock called magma. Gases in the magma expand and create tremendous pressure. Since the gases can't go down or sideways, they push up.

When they find weak spots in the earth's crust, they blow violently out, hurling molten rock into the air. Cooling, this turns to lava and is dropped to the sides; so, a cone is built up, such as the one at upper left. Volcanoes may relieve the pressures below and cool down or they may go on erupting.

Most of them are located in belts close to mountain ranges where there is weakness in the earth's crust. Our map shows one such chain.

Notice that the map locates three important active volcanoes in U.S. territory: Katmai in Alaska (shown erupting in upper picture), Lassen in California, and Kilauea in Hawaii, lying on the slopes of Mauna Loa, another volcano which erupts occasionally.

We illustrate an old Hawaiian legend that Pele, goddess of fire, sometimes bursts out in the guise of a young woman.

'Bourgeois' N. Viet Doctor Is Glad to Defect

SAIGON (AP) — "I am not interested in politics or the war. I am a doctor only interested in treating casualties."

But Dr. Le Cong Hung, 37, a thin, cheerful man, is more than just a doctor.

He is from Hanoi and was a regimental surgeon with a crack North Vietnamese unit that has been fighting around Saigon for more than a month. He surrendered to South Vietnamese marines yesterday after hiding in an abandoned house for several days in suburban Gia Dinh.

"I gave myself up, not only because of the failure of the present offensive but because under communism I am classed as a petite bourgeois, which in North Vietnam is terrible," he said. Hung, a senior captain, spoke in Vietnamese between bites of American hot dogs and beans and other C-rations given to him by the marines. His remarks were translated into English by Vietnamese newsmen.

Hung said his unit was the Dong Nai Regiment, a Viet Cong unit U.S. officials estimate now comprises more than 80 per cent North Vietnamese.

Hung said the regiment moved into the Saigon area at the beginning of the present offensive in May. He has been in South Vietnam for about a year, most of the time in War Zone D, a thick jungled area north of Saigon.

"During the last seven days my regiment has taken heavy casualties," he said. "I know that all of the command of my regiment has been lost.

"Before I came to South Vietnam most of the fighting was done by the Vietcong. Now the units are mostly North Vietnamese. Most of my battalion is North Vietnamese."

WIDESPREAD APATHY

"There is widespread apathy among the people of the South toward the Vietcong, the Communists in general and especially to the North Vietnamese," he said.

"I intended to surrender the first chance I got," Hung added.

NANCY COVER

Future Writer Is Waterford's Teen of Week

A senior at Waterford Kettering High School who plans eventually to become a writer is this week's Waterford Township Teen of the Week.

Recipient of the honor is Nancy Cover, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cover of 2446 Georgeland, Waterford Township.

She is secretary of the senior class and editor of the Navigator, the school newspaper. She is an active member of the Dramatics Club.

Nancy has been a member of the National Honor Society for the past two years.

DAR AWARD

This year she was the recipient of Kettering's Daughter of the American Revolution Good Citizen Award and was accorded the Navigator Award for outstanding journalism.

In the recent senior mock election, Nancy was selected "most all-around" by her classmates. In addition, she was one of 10 "outstanding senior citizen's" chosen by the faculty.

This week's top teen likes to write poetry and short stories as well as to play golf, tennis and softball. She plans to attend Central Michigan University next fall as preparation for a career as a professional writer.

State's Kennedy Delegates Are Adrift, Bewildered

LANSING (AP) — Michigan delegates who planned to vote for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy at the Democratic National Convention now face switching allegiance to another presidential candidate.

"I ran as a Kennedy delegate," said Rep. Dale Kildee, D-Flint. "I have no commitment beyond that."

Kildee said he was "absolutely shocked" when he learned that Kennedy had been fatally wounded Wednesday in Los Angeles.

Before deciding whether to support Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy or Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Kildee said, "I would want to do some serious thinking and talk with other delegates."

18 SAID FOR RFK

Following the State Democratic Convention last weekend, Humphrey sources estimated that the New York Senator would receive 18 of Michigan's 96 votes. McCarthy was listed with two votes.

Humphrey expected to receive 62, with the remainder uncommitted.

"I really feel we do have very capable people in Sen. McCarthy and Vice President Humphrey," added Alex Ott of Flint, a Kennedy supporter.

"However, I am bewildered at this time," he said. "I want to give it some thought."

None of the delegates elected was reported bound by caucus rule to vote for Kennedy. In theory, they would be free to vote for the candidate of their choice.

The delegates were scheduled to meet Sunday in Lansing, but the meeting was cancelled Wednesday by State Chairman Sander Levin after Kennedy was critically wounded.

Following the senator's death, Levin urged all Democratic political activity in Michigan to cease through Sunday.

It was not expected that any delegates who had committed themselves to support Kennedy would make any decisions until early next week.

LIKED VIEWS

Many Kennedy supporters were for the New York senator because of his stand on Vietnam and domestic issues. Humphrey has stated publicly that he backs the administration.

Whether Kennedy supporters will switch allegiance to McCarthy, whose views were similar to Kennedy's, remains to be seen.

"It's too early to speculate," said Allen Zemmoll of Oak Park who added that he was uncommitted.

"The only known effect is that Kennedy is out," he said. "It's possible that another now non-candidate could become one. It is a remarkable political year."

'CAN'T IMAGINE CAMPAIGN'

Dr. L.D. Mitchell, Three Rivers, added, "I can't imagine how the candidates can carry on any sort of campaign between now and the convention, and I doubt very much that they will do so."

"I'm numb," he said.

Sen. Jerome T. Hart, D-Saginaw, and Angelo Trogan, also of Saginaw, predicted that Kennedy's death would mean that Humphrey would get nearly all of the Michigan delegation's votes.

But the sentiment of most Michigan delegates was perhaps best summed up by Mrs. Mary Garzelloni of Nunica.

"As a delegate I was not pledged to any candidate although my personal leanings have been toward Humphrey," she said. "However, at this time my heart is going out to the Kennedy family."

Billy Graham to RFK Rites

HOUSTON (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham said Thursday he would attend the funeral of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy "even if I can't get into the church."

He said at a news conference at Hobby International Airport if the church at Kennedy's funeral was too full he would "stand on the sidewalk and weep for American as Jeremiah wept for Jerusalem when it departed from God."

He said he favors the death penalty in capital crimes and he called for immediate and strict enforcement of the law.

Graham, who arrived in Houston to address a Southern Baptist Convention Friday night, said there are too many "preaching hate and violence, causing riots — and police feel handcuffed by Supreme Court rulings.

"God has ordained the use of force to keep order in our society. The Bible certainly had the death penalty in the old laws, and I don't see anything in the New Testament that does away with it," he said.

May Highway Toll Sets New Record

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police report 221 traffic deaths in May set a new high for the month, 14 more than the 207 recorded the same month two years ago.

The May highway toll also was more than the 186 during the same month last year.

It was only the second time since police started keeping records in 1933 that May deaths have topped the 200 mark.

Traffic deaths for the first five months of the year totaled 809. This was 85, or 12 per cent more than the 724 deaths in the same period last year.

Poor People's Rally Suffers Setback as Coordinator Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The month-old Poor People's Campaign, showing signs of withering, has lost the chief organizer for its planned massive June 19 rally in the nation's capital.

Although a new coordinator was named, his acceptance of the job was still in doubt today.

Bayard Rustin, who built the 1963 Washington civil rights demonstration by 200,000 persons, bowed out as organizer Friday in a dispute over campaign aims.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, heading the campaign, said the New York civil rights leader would be replaced by Sterling Tucker, executive director of the Washington chapter of the Urban League.

NO ANSWER

But a Tucker aide said afterward there would be no decision on whether to take the post until late today. The aide said Tucker had other commitments and "has not given Mr. Abernathy any answer yet."

The June 19 demonstration on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial is considered crucial to reviving momentum in the campaign.

Protest marches have been announced and canceled frequently in recent days.

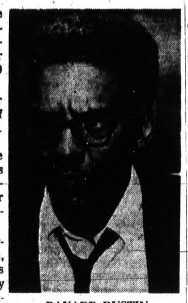
On Friday, leaders halted demonstrations over the weekend in mourning for the slain Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Kennedy's funeral cortege was to move slowly past the Poor People's campsite today as it curved around the Lincoln Memorial, carrying his body to its burial ground in Arlington National Cemetery across the Potomac.

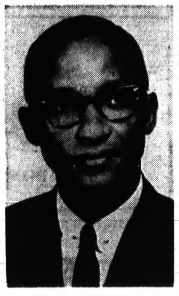
PERMIT EXPIRATION

The antipoverty rally at Lincoln Memorial will come three days after the scheduled expiration of the campground permit, but Abernathy said again Friday, "We are not going to be run out."

The mass demonstration already has been delayed once. It originally was set for Memorial Day with predictions from Abernathy for a crowd of one million persons. Rustin said earlier this week the rally would be fortunate to attract 100,000.



BAYARD RUSTIN



STERLING TUCKER

Rustin's resignation was triggered when he issued a set of goals for the campaign less sweeping than those originally listed by Abernathy and his aides.

When one of Abernathy's assistants ridiculed the statement and dismissed Rustin as a public relations man, Rustin wired Abernathy asking reassurance of his authority over the rally. He set a noon deadline Friday for a reply and resigned when it expired.

'WANTED OUT'

Abernathy told a news conference he talked with Rustin by telephone and asked him to continue. But, Abernathy said, "He decided he wanted out and he resigned."

Abernathy said the rally would proceed anyway. He insisted, "We are not going to allow the enemies of the campaign the satisfaction of seeing it collapse."

New Urgency for McCarthy?

Senator, VP Meet to Discuss Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — A close adviser to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says Robert F. Kennedy's violent death is leading the Minnesotan to conclude his own White House bid has become a more pertinent, urgent undertaking.

Kennedy and McCarthy, despite tough primary battles, agreed on a great many issues, most notably in their opposition to the administration's Vietnam war policy.

Kennedy's assassination means that for the first time since the New Hampshire primary last March, the issue will be clearly drawn between McCarthy and the administration in the form of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, his only rival for the Democratic presidential nomination.

McCarthy and Humphrey met for about 30 minutes Friday to discuss the best way to conduct the campaign.

'TRYING TIMES'

McCarthy's adviser, asking not to be named, said the senator is going through "a very difficult personal period" because of Kennedy's death.

But, he added, McCarthy will begin campaigning again next week, "hopefully with renewed significance to what he is doing."

"I am convinced he is inexorably reaching the conclusion this really makes it a more pertinent and a more urgent undertaking. I think that, given a little passage of time, this tragedy leaves the issues pretty clear."

* * *

McCarthy is expected to combine a renewed challenge to the administration with a warning of a Democratic election disaster in November unless the party switches course by nominating him.

He is due to speak in New York Thursday before the Fellowship for Reconciliation, a Quaker group.

McCarthy delegates are competing in most of New York State's 41 congressional districts for the state's June 18 primary. Humphrey aides said Friday Humphrey would not campaign anywhere through at least June 18 and that ads of financial aid to delegate candidates in New York have been stopped.

* * *

McCarthy's main effort from now on will be to convince delegates to the August Democratic National Convention of his belief that national opinion is running against the administration and its course in Vietnam.

Renewal Project Plan Grant OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Housing and Urban Development Department says it has approved a planning advance of $164,918 to the Myrtle-Humboldt Urban Renewal Project in Detroit.

The agency also reserved $1,899,000 for possible granting to the program.

Schedule on OU Session for Women Is Announced

Oakland University's Continuum Center for Women extends an open invitation to all Detroit area women to take advantage of a special summer morning review of its "investigation into identity."

The program begins June 18 and continues through July 18, on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., in Room 163 of Oakland's South Foundation Hall.

The June 18th meeting will be a guest orientation session designed to familiarize women with the program.

ROLE

Mrs. Priscilla Jackson, director of the Center, will present "Women's Changing Role in Today's Society" and Dr. Gerald Self, Continuum Center psychologist, will discuss "Testing — Its Use and Misuse."

The guests will divide into groups for discussion, led by volunteer discussion leaders who have themselves been through the Continuum Center program.

A new feature of the summer program will explain the meaning of each test and testing session on the results of the tests. The psychologist administering the test will explain the meaning of each test and each woman can get a picture of herself within the context of her group and in relation to the scores of women who have taken the test already.

Allowance is given in the interpretation of results for the relative rustiness of housewives, many of whom have not taken similar tests for many years.

Following sessions include a discussion of the "Eight Stages of a Woman's Life," "E-V-E" (opportunities in education, volunteer service and employment) and a lecture-discussion on "Decision Making: How Women Choose."

Individual counseling sessions with the staff psychologist and the Center's education, volunteer service and employment advisers complete the program. A counseling call-back interview is conducted six months after the last session to check on each participant's progress.

Full information about the current program can be obtained by writing or calling the Continuum Center at OU.

Bride elect Charlene Perinjian, a senior at Wayne State University, and her fiance, Marc Alton Stretten, a student in WSU's College of Medicine, are planning to wed July 14. She is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Perinjian of Worchester Road, West Bloomfield Township and the late Mr. Perinjian. Parents of the bridegroom-to-be are the Ivan J. Strettens of Lochlin Lane, West Bloomfield Township.

Blames Mom for Child's Fantasy but She Claims No Knowledge of It

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My son called me on the phone, and I was totally unprepared for the bawling out I got.

It seems that my four-year-old grandson had been crying all day. He was afraid to go outside alone and play for fear the "boogie man" or "trash man" would carry him off.

ABBY

My son said he asked the boy who had told him a story like that, and he said, "Granny did!"

Abby, I have not been over to their house in two weeks. Besides, I would never think of telling my grandson such a frightening tale. (I never told my own children anything like that, so why would I tell it to my grandson?)

When I tried to explain that I was completely innocent, my son refused to listen. All he said was, "The child couldn't have made it up, and you MUST have told him."

I can't tell you how much this hurt me, to get the blame for something I didn't do. And then to be practically called a liar by my own son. What would you do in my place, Abby!

M.C.

DEAR M.C.: Your son should be made to understand that young children very often confuse fantasy with reality (and even dreams!) and are not always accurate in their reporting. If your son doesn't believe this, HIS son might grow up before he does.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is being married soon, and I have had so many phone calls from friends asking, "What does Nancy need?" This puts me on the spot because Nancy "needs" a lot of things, but I haven't the faintest idea of how much these people want to spend, so what can I say?

Yesterday, one of my dearest friends called and asked if Nancy "needed" sheets and pillow cases. I replied, "Yes, she does." Then I thought I had better mention that Nancy was going to have a king-sized bed, so my friend blurted out, "KING-SIZED? Good heavens, I can't afford sheets for a bed that size!" I felt like two cents, so I quickly added, "But she could also use some tea towels."

Abby, will you please tell women who ask for suggestions on what to buy a bride to please ask like this: "Can Nancy use an electric mixer?" Or, "What color is her kitchen, I want to buy her a couple of dish cloths."

ON THE SPOT

DEAR ON: Some brides "register" with a local store and the items they "need" are listed to avoid duplications. Clue Nancy in on this. It will not only help Nancy's friends. It will relief you of much embarrassment.

Pair Departs for Hawaii

En route to Hawaii are newlyweds, the Norman K. Joneses, following a reception in their honor Friday evening at the Detroit Yacht Club.

The former Geraldine Carole Felker, daughter of the Bruno H. Felkers of Richfield, Minn., and son of Mrs. Burwell J. Jones of Orchard Lake and the late Mr. Jones were united in St. Joseph Catholic Church, Dearborn.

Attended by her sisters, Mrs. Gilbert Copeland and Marlene Felker, as matron and maid of honor, the bride wore a traditionally fashioned peau d'ange ensemble.

To complement the A-line sheath with Chantilly bodice and wrist length sleeves, she chose a matching lace headpiece securing a bouffant veil.

Her bouquet was white roses.

ATTENDANTS

Members of the usher corps were Dale Pontz Jr., John C. Hofer, James Audas, Louis Kovach, Henry Wiegand Jr. and Carl Westerberg.

Dr. Burwell Jones served as best man for his brother with Lisa Pontz and John G. Felker as flower girl and ring bearer.

Following the honeymoon trip, the bridal couple will make their home in Troy.

Also installed as directors were Mrs. Myron Cirka, Mrs. Joseph Pospichal, and Mrs. Edward Weliver.

Mrs. Ogg received an award as outstanding jaycette of the year. Others receiving awards were Mesdames Pospichal, Landis, Terrance Tollefson, James LaVergne, Hundza, and Jack Rhoades.

Cohostesses for the dessert event were Mesdames Nicholas, Ogg and James Gallagher.

Vows Exchanged by the Doughertys

Margaret Susan Harbaugh was escorted to the altar of All Saints Episcopal Church today where she became the bride of 2nd Lt. Roy Russell Dougherty, USMC.

Carrying a nosegay of white orchids with ivy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan C. Harbaugh of Orchard Lake, wore a day length linen ensemble highlighted with a lace bodice.

A ribboned bow capped her short veil of illusion.

Honor attendants for the ceremony were Priscilla Watkins and 2nd Lt. Joseph Gallo, USMC.

Following a reception at the Holiday Inn, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. Dougherty of Yale, Mich. and his bride departed for a northern Michigan honeymoon.

May Certainly Invite Clergy for a Dinner

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: We live in a small community and attend a very small local church. We would very much like to invite our minister and his wife to dinner. Is this socially correct, or does it depend on local custom?

We are new in the area and we do not wish to create the wrong impression among our fellow church members.—Mrs. A. N.

Dear Mrs. N.: I can think of no reason why you should not invite your minister and his wife to dinner. They are, after all, human beings and would enjoy a social evening with you as much as anyone else. If it is not the custom in your community, I suggest that you start a new trend by doing it, and your minister will surely have a pleasanter life in the future.

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine recently tried to commit suicide. After realizing what she had done, she admitted herself to a mental hospital. I understand she has been released and is living at home.

I would like very much to visit her, but I'm at a loss as to what I should say or talk about. I feel I shouldn't mention what has happened. Also, I felt a small gift would be in order, possibly a handful of fresh flowers. Any advice you can give me would be greatly appreciated.—Louise

Dear Louise: Do visit your friend — she needs all the love and support you can give her. Don't talk about her illness unless she brings up the subject. If you want to take a gift, your idea of fresh flowers is ideal because you might take those to anyone — sick or well.

In other words, act perfectly normal, and as if you thought she were, too.

Students Note Recital

Piano and organ students of Loren Meyer will give a recital June 15 in St. John's Lutheran Church of Rochester.

The program, consisting of sacred, classical and popular music, will begin at 1 p.m. The public may attend.

Auditions Planned at OCC Theatre

Auditions for the Oakland Community College Community Summer Theatre will be held at 7:30 p.m. June 19, in the Ferndale High School auditorium, according to Robert Falk, assistant professor for Theatre and Drama at OCC.

One female and five male singing roles are available for the off-Broadway hit musical, "The Fantastiks," and between 25-30 roles are available for "The Dragon," a satirical fantasy utilizing the Lancelot and the dragon theme.

"The Fantastiks" will be directed by Clyde Vinson of the Court Theatre and Wayne State University, and Falk will direct "The Dragon."

Auditions are open to the public, and those interested in "The Fantastiks" are urged to bring their own music; a piano accompanist will be available.

For more specific information, contact Falk at Orchard Ridge.

Groups Demand Gun Legislation

DETROIT (UPI) — An organization of 30 Detroit area women's clubs pledged Friday to "do all in our power" to secure gun control legislation.

"We not only urge this action, we demand it," the women said in letters to President Johnson, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, Michigan senators and congressmen and Gov. George Romney.

The Inter-Group Council speaking for such organizations as the Detroit branch of the American Association of University Women, the Blackwell Branch of the American Medical Women's Association, the Women Lawyers Association of Michigan, the Detroit Business Women's Club and the Federation of Women's Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, claimed to represent more than 200,000 women.

"We are no longer going to stand by passively accepting the violence that plagues our country today as 'the American way of life,'" the council said. "We can no longer remain passive.

Regardless of our individual political affiliations and sympathies, we urge you as our leaders to bring about the enactment of laws governing the sale of guns," it said. "We know that this action is not the whole answer to the problems that beset us today, but it is a step in the right direction."

Mrs. J. T. Arno Hostess for Group Luncheon

Mrs. Joseph T. Arno of Commerce Road, West Bloomfield Township will host a luncheon Wednesday for members of the Countryside Improvement Association.

A program on "Our Philanthropies" will be given. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Mary Holmes, Dr. Caryl Kulsavage and Mrs. Elizabeth B. Rutledge.

French Designers Disregard Crisis

PARIS (AP) — The Paris fashion showings will go on as scheduled late next month, with the French crisis causing no delay, officials said today.

A statement by Daniel Gorin, president of the Paris High Fashion Association said:

"In view of the numberous questions being asked . . . and also to dispel any misleading rumors circulating in various countries, we herewith officially announce that no modification or changes have been brought or made to the normal routine of the haute couture openings.

As usual they will present their winter 1968-1969 collections to buyers and press on Monday, July 22."

The showings continue for about 10 days.

How to Handle a Grease Fire

If grease gets hot enough to flare during cooking, don't pick up the pan or run with it. This fans the flames that then can blow back against you, your clothing or other flammables such as curtains and towels.

Water will cause splattering and spread the flames. Turn off the heat and cover the pan with a large lid to smother the flames, advises the Greater New York Safety Council. An oven grease fire will extinguish itself when the heat it is off and the door is kept closed for a few minutes.

Utilize Baby Oil to Protect Orioles

Would you believe the Baltimore Orioles are being babied? When a reporter visited the Florida training camp, he found the trainer busy ordering gallons of baby oil.

His question brought the response, "to protect the pitchers against wind or raw weather."

Couples Note Wedding Bells

Barbara Jean LaBrie and James Henry Baroky joined family and guests at the Mountain View Country Club Friday following early evening nuptials in Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church.

The bride's sheath was fashioned from organza over taffeta with lace appliques. Her short veil of illusion was crowned with a cluster of beaded petals.

White carnation and daisies encircling yellow roses comprised her bouquet.

Mary and James LaBrie assisted at their sister's wedding as honor attendants. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald LaBrie of Farner Street.

Other members of the wedding party were bridesmaids Judith Tossey and Patricia LaBrie with James Cook and Julian Baroky serving as ushers.

The son of Mrs. Susie Baroky of Seward Street and his bride departed for a Canadian honeymoon, following the reception.

LONGPRE-WHEATCROFT

Mr. and Mrs. George Wheatcroft of Hopefield Street announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Sandra Lee, to Ronald O. Longpre. He is the son of the Vernon Longpres of Kirmount Street.

Honor attendants for the evening nuptials in Oxford Methodist Church were Mrs. T. R. Weber, the bride's sister, and the bridegroom's brother, Gregory.

Prior to their departure for a honeymoon to northern Michigan, the couple was feted with a reception at Keatington's Antique Village.

Men's Fashions Turning to Knits in Coming Fall

The name of the men's fashion game in upcoming seasons is knits. From bottom to top, they read:

Socks: Fine-gauge wools and synthetics are marching out in "dusty pink" and "firehouse red" (and argyles are back!)

Shirts: The turtleneck still leads the fashion pack, with the Nehru and cossack looks in hot pursuit, while stripes have a fashion thing of their own going and even dress shirts are stepping out in knits.

Sweaters: Are bright, bulky cable knits.

The knit cap: Puts the crowning touch on the winter scene.

The Textile Dye Institute assures the watchful buyer that quality-dyed knits are the most colorfast.

Michael Arrives

Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson (Adrian Pankoff) of Kempf Drive, announce the birth of a son, Michael Clark on May 12. Grandparents are the Ira A. Wilsons of Royal Oak and Mrs. Nadia Stankoff of River Rouge.

Hints for Baby Sitters

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell M.B.T. that I baby-sit for from 10 to 15 people and really enjoy it. To get started, I helped in the church nursery. There I gave the various parents my name, address and telephone number and asked them to call me if they ever needed a sitter.

M.B.T. could tell friends of her parents and anyone else she knows. If she is old enough and knows enough about caring for babies she could sit for them as well as older children. The kids, young or old, will like her better and she will have more fun, too, if she plays with them and does not just sit and watch. She should get the kids ready for bed gradually instead of stopping them in the middle of a game.

I do wish her the best of luck for it is fun, and even more fun it she loves children. One other tip: Never favor one child more than another as this is not fair. — J.S.

DEAR POLLY — It seems to me that if M.B.T. would have some handbills printed that state her name, address, telephone number and qualifications and then distribute them among her neighbors who have children, she would have no trouble starting a babys-itting service. — MARY

DEAR POLLY — I have just read the letter from M.B.T., who wanted suggestions on obtaining baby-sitting jobs. I am the mother of five normal, active children, two to nine.

The reason I do not like to bother with a sitter (while I am at home) is that they are not helpful enought. I work on a 11-to-7 shift and need my rest. I find sitters seem to misunderstand — that sitting with little ones does not mean just sitting. When I was in high school and did baby-sitting, I would read, play games or take them for a walk. Most sitters now seem more concerned about the wages and what is in the refrigerator.

I have lost all confidence in them. What I would like to know is where are all those sitters hiding? And how can any of us mothers be sure we are paying enough for the service? I really need a good one desperately. Thanks for letting me get this off my chest. — TIRED

Paula Collins was awarded a BA degree during commencement exercises recently at Albion College. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stowell Collins of Rochester will resume studies toward a master's degree at the University of Michigan in Library Science.

Dean Souden, who was recently graduated from Olivet College, will join the staff there as admissions counselor in July. A mathematics major, Dean is the son of the Edward L. Soudens of Robinwood Street. His wife, the former Nancy Jack, is the daughter of the R. B. Jacks of Marie Circle.

Memphis Pair Are Married in Airplane

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — With the drone of the engines providing the music and yellow roses decorating the luggage rack and door leading to the pilot's compartment, a local couple exchanged wedding vows in a twin-engine plane flying 2,000 feet above Memphis.

Janice Elaine Hardy became the bride of Richard E. Dixon, with The Rev. James Fondren of Second Baptist Church in Water Valley, Miss., officiating. The bride's father, John Leland Hardy Jr., a mechanic for Delta Air Lines, checked the DC3 out personally before the flight.

Mrs. Dixon's matron of honor, Mrs. Judy Brandon, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Ferrell Tipton Dixon, were both taking their first airplane ride. The couple spent their honeymoon in New Orleans — traveling on the ground by car.

Favorite Scent

Luxury doesn't have to cost a small fortune. For a scented after-bath rubdown, simply add a small amount of your favorite perfume to a bottle of baby oil and shake well.

Right after your bath, while your skin is still warm and pores are still open, smooth the perfumed oil lightly all over your body. Let your skin absorb the oil for a few minutes, then towel off excess.

Beauty, Comfort Are Combined in Modern Linens

Hardly anyone goes around putting a pea under nine mattresses any more, like the princess in the fairy tale. Indeed, bedding manufacturers insist on beauty and comfort. Witness the non-iron polyester blend sheets that refuse to wrinkle under you.

Combine this with the profusion of pattern and color and the linens will go straight to the head of the decorating class. Look for patterns that bloom with flowers or coordinate with plaid curtains and bedspreads; solids that swing in shades of canary yellow, shocking pink and jade.

The Textile Dye Institute assures you that colorfastness is no fairy tale — modern dyeing methods guarantee it.

E. T. White Home, Built In 1836 As Eagle Tavern And Stagecoach Stop, Still A Lapeer Landmark

Stagecoach Stop Today

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Sitting in the pleasant living room of the E. T. White home, it seems incongruous if not impossible that in this very room well over a century ago other women, their flowing gowns sweeping the wooden floor, sat waiting for a stagecoach to arrive.

"At that time," said Mrs. White, "it took one and a half days to reach Lapeer from Pontiac."

Built by Enoch J. White in 1836, the house has remained in the Whites' possession to the present time.

Its last remodeling venture took place 49 years ago after the home had served as a granary for 12 years.

ADAPTED

"Each generation," said Mrs. White, "has done something to adapt the house to its mode of living.

"We had a wing of 14 rooms torn off, added a fireplace in the living room which was originally two sitting or waiting rooms and changed the dining room.

"The dining room," she continued, "was of a period I called 'early Pullman.' We lowered the domed ceiling, eliminated the bay window and painted over the dark butternut wood."

The curved brick fireplace of the original structure was preserved. Beside the fireplace worked into a panel of the dado was a dumb waiter . . . for during the home's tavern times, the kitchen was in the basement and the waiter simplified the serving of food to hungry travelers.

ITALIAN DECAL

Flanking the remodeled window are the room's two original corner cabinets.

In the entryway, an Italian decalcomania depicting the life of Christ frames the door. The panels, each like a miniature painting, date back to 1847.

Aqua grass cloth and aqua carpeting set the background for the living room's heirloom and traditional pieces.

Under a copy of Rembrandt's "The Doctor" (a favorite of Mrs. White because her father was a physician) stands a gold-striped sofa. Handcarved rosewood, it is a White heirloom. Traditional mahogany lyre tables hold the china lamps that light the sofa grouping.

WING-BACKS

Matching quilted cotton wing-backs in shades of aqua are used before the Italian marble fireplace.

A brass Belgium milk jar near the hearth brings back many memories to Mrs. White.

"When they were young, my grandchildren used to put sticks and stones in the jar and roll it around the house to hear it rattle. That's where the dents came from . . . and I rather like them myself."

The hooked rug between the two chairs was made by Mrs. White. Shades of blue, lavender, green, rose, gold, aqua and brown are worked into the flower pattern.

Create Atmosphere in the Dining Room

Sit-down dining has been making a welcome return. With all the world of difference between dining and just plain eating, it is important to create an atmosphere that aids the appetite and pleasant conversation at the same time. Whether your table finds its way into the living room or enjoys the luxury of a room of its own, it can be gracefully restoring social dignity to the family scene.

The dining room used to be the easiest room in the house to decorate. It was also often the dullest. Happily this is far from the case today when the dining room can often be one of the most exciting, most individualized areas in the home.

Even if your dining room is only an L-shaped extension of the living room or a windowless entrance foyer, it can be enlivened by imaginative backgrounds, cheerful color schemes and interesting accessories.

Certain elements like mirrors, chandeliers and sconces remain delightful in any dining room, and inexpensive but authentic reproductions like a dramatic sconce with nine candles to set its crystal beads a-shimmer, are certainly within even a modest budget.

A handsome area rug or a distinctive wallpaper will go a long way to transform the stuffy and starched look typical of formal treatments of the past.

FOCAL POINT

After creating any style you want from a banquet hall to an indoor gazebo by attention to the details of comfort, color, lighting and accessories, the focal point still remains the basic elements of the table and chairs.

House-owners with real dining rooms can indulge in the grander styles of tables, a slick slab of modern teak or the graceful and elliptical styles with curving, cabriole legs. Apartment dwellers without a room reserved only for dining, can have the same feeling of luxury in the grand manner with a table which starts for two, but which can be expanded with extra leaves for party situations.

The venerable drop-leaf table which can be pushed against a wall when not in use, is an old idea but wonderfully suited to modern space problems. Round tables are naturally gregarious, and when they have pedestals instead of legs they can help still further to unclutter a small area.

Chairs must be comfortable, especially if your family and guests like to dawdle over dessert and coffee. When you buy, there is no need to match the chairs to the table. Just make sure that the cushioning is comfortable and the back provides the right support. One of the best choices is a chair with a foam-filled seat and an upholstered back that reaches to the shoulders.

Laps and counters are fine for eating. But for dining, put your feet under a table!

NEAT BUT NOT GAUDY—Contemporary lines gives this house a trim look. Blending of wood shakes with vertical siding, shutters and window box add charm and homey appearance. One-car garage at right could be expanded if needed and space were available.

3-Bedroom Ranch Is Keyed to Budget

To build a three-bedroom house which meets the requirements of good living and yet costs under $20,000 is somewhat unusual these days.

Architect Samuel Paul has met this challenge with a ranch house that has been estimated to cost $18,900 in the Long Island, N.Y., area.

Builder estimates in other parts of the country might vary (many being lower), but there should be no appreciable difference either way.

The one-story dwelling consists of living room, dining room, kitchen, three bedrooms, two baths, a one-car garage and a storage area. In addition, there are many closets and a decorative fireplace.

SQUARE FOOTAGE

Excluding the garage and the space behind it — a laundry and storage section — there are 1185 square feet of habitable area.

The cottage-like exterior, contemporary in styling, has charm and an intimate scale. The large overhang of the roof accentuates the horizontal look, making the house appear longer than its 55'8", and at the same time offers good portection for the windows.

The materials are wood shakes with an accent of vertical siding.

Examine the plan and you will find the flow of traffic well organized around a central foyer, not too often seen in a house in this price bracket. Moving from the attractive entranceway into the foyer, one finds a double closet on the left and the living room on the right.

The living room is nearly 20' long, with a fireplace at one end visible from the foyer.

BAY WINDOW

A large front bay window accentuates the room's size. Flowing off the living room, and also off the foyer, is a dining room with sliding doors leading to a rear terrace.

Off the dining room is a complete kitchen, equipped with a refrigerator, countertop range built-in oven, dishwasher, garbage disposal, ample wall and base cabinets, and a corner for informal dining.

The rear terrace can be viewed from the kitchen window so that children playing there can be easily watched.

Conveniently located next to the kitchen is the laundry room, which also acts as the service entrance.

It has two closets, one actually a large storage area. The laundry equipment consists of a clothes washer, a dryer and overhead cabinets.

The garage contains a space for a heater and hot water boiler, with room for extra storage or placement of a workbench.

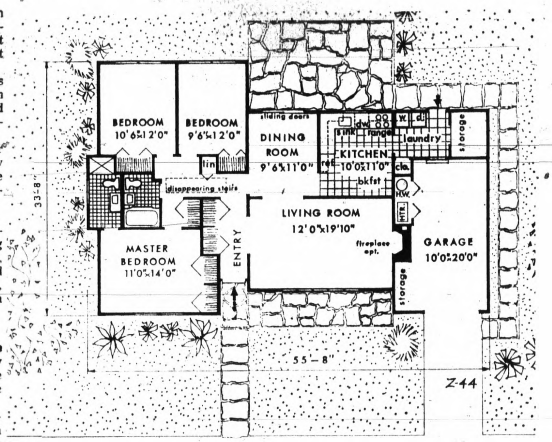
At the left side of the house, directly accessible from the central foyer without going through any of the other rooms, are the bedrooms.

MASTER BEDROOM

There are two closets and a bath with stall shower in the master bedroom. The second bathroom, with a tub, is just off the two other bedrooms.

An additional feature is a disappearing stair located in the bedroom hall to give access to a portion of the attic for extra storage.

For complete one-story living, without placing a strain on the budget, this house is the answer.



FLOOR PLANS — Modest exterior dimensions and necessity of keeping costs down combined to make imperative an effective utilization of available space. Architect has achieved objective, even using space behind garage for laundry room and storage area.

Z-44 STATISTICS

Design Z-44 has over-all dimensions of 55' 8" by 33' 8", which include the one-car garage, the laundry and storage section. The habitable area totals 1185 square feet and includes the fireplaced living room, dining room, kitchen, foyer, three bedrooms and two baths. Since there is no basement, space for a heater and hot water boiler are provided in the garage close to the door leading to the laundry room.

Good Brush Important

A good quality paint brush or roller is essential to a satisfactory job.

Paint cannot be properly applied with a poorly made brush that sheds bristles, or a roller that lays the paint down irregularly.

Sacrificing results to save mere pennies on applicator tools is false economy.

Air Conditioning No Longer a Luxury

Who needs a room air conditioner?

Before too long, the answer may be "everybody"! Only a few years ago, air conditioners were considered luxuries. But last year, the sale of 4,175,000 room air conditioners won third place among major appliance best sellers — topped only by refrigerators and clothes washers.

People usually buy air conditioners because they want to live or work in comfortable temperatures during hot weather. Yet temperature control is only part of the total indoor comfort package delivered by air conditioning. It also removes excess moisture from muggy summer air, provides air circulation and cleans the air by removing dust, odors and bacteria.

William H. Mullin, Chief Air Conditioning Engineer, Philco-Ford Corporation, told the National Home Appliance Conference recently that, "Mrs. Consumer is well aware of the advantages of being comfortable and is expecting these advantages from her air conditioner. But does she realize that she will also have a quieter, cleaner house, requiring less frequent dusting, less washing and scrubbing of shades, woodwork and floors, and that her furniture, rugs, draperies and clothing will stay fresh and clean longer, thus reducing cleaning bills?"

A survey by the DuPont Company has shown that people who have air conditioners eat and sleep better. By eating a more balanced diet and maintaining their proper rest, these people are enjoying healthier, happier lives. Allergy sufferers are benefited by removal of pollen and dust from home air.

INVESTIGATION

Research done by the Haskel Laboratories of the DuPont Company has also shown that physical tasks performed at 100 degrees require 50 per cent more energy than the same tasks performed at 75 degrees. Tasks performed in air-conditioned homes and offices take less physical effort and so are less tiring.

By reducing fatigue, air conditioning permits a homemaker to work longer at top efficiency. This results either in her getting more work done or in her taking less time for household chores and having more time for other activities.

Families living in air conditioned homes report that they spend more time together at home because they have less needed to escape to air-conditioned restaurants, theatres and clubs. Because of improved dispositions they say that family harmony is maintained.

The majority of room air conditioners are made for mounting in a double-hung window. But there are models for casement and sliding windows as well as for permanent through-the-wall installation.

Many start their air conditioning experience with a portable unit which they take home and install themselves. Manufacturers report that the comfort of one air conditioned bedroom often leads to a completely air conditioned house or apartment.

Cooling capacities in room air conditioners range from 4,000 to 36,000 BTU's. It is thus obvious that a "room" air conditioner is not limited to use in one room. Units of large capacity can serve a living area, an upstairs sleeping area or even an entire house or apartment.

The consumer who purchases a heat pump air conditioner can have both heating and cooling. During the reversed cycle, heat is removed from the outside air and pumped into the room. If greater heating capacity is needed, there are models available which provide supplementary electric resistance heating.

Mullin emphasized that the purchaser of an air conditioner must provide the proper electrical facilities. Some units may be used on the same circuit with other light electrical loads, while others need their own electrical circuit. He also pointed out that extra-quiet units, desirable for bedroom installation, require the use of larger coils than standard models, larger and slower speed fans, and sometimes larger compressors.

Before purchasing a room air conditioner, the consumer should check the "Cooling Load Estimate Form," published by the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers, at his dealer to be sure he is getting the right size for his particular needs.

He should also look for the AHAM Certification Seal on the unit's nameplate. This is his assurance that the stated cooling capacity, amperes and watts are verified and certified under the AHAM Certification Program.

OPTICAL ILLUSION — This relatively small room was "opened up" with the skillful use of Marlite's "Ponta Roma" mural. To create the feeling of space, the mural panels of plastic-finished hardboard were cut in half and separated by vertical dividers. The illusion is one of an open, colonnaded porch overlooking the dramatic Tiber, Roman bridge and surrounding palaces. The continuing, panoramic view offers a feeling of distance and space. Available locally.

Block Lights With Screen

Sometimes a house is positioned so that the headlights of passing cars shine into front windows. While hardly a serious problem, it is a bother, especially during the summer when draperies often are left open.

A front yard screen will eliminate the headlight nuisance. One can be built either close to the house or near the street, whichever is the more desirable position.

To judge just how tall and wide the screen should be, put together a team of two family members, one to drive a car up and down the street, the other to stand where the screen will be built, holding a sheet or something else large and lightweight.

With the sheet, you can determine just where the headlights strike and what will block them.

For the screen, use a fairly solid pattern. The board-on-board is good, as are slats if not spaced more than a quarter inch apart.

Build the screen of a good outdoor wood like Douglas fir, ponderosa pine or white fir.

Some $300 million worth of frozen potatoes, mostly french fries, were sold in the U.S. last year.

Electric Air Cleaner

Allergy Sufferers Aided

By LAWRENCE FALK
UPI Newsfeature

Contractors and heating suppliers report a long step toward solution of the problem of the chornic allergy sufferer.

It is now possible, they say, to filter out harmful pollen and dust which cause many Americans so much discomfort in the summer and — in many cases — the winter as well.

The solution is an electric air cleaner, which can be installed in most houses for as little as $300. It is considered the most effective means now available to clean air.

Basically, the cleaner is installed in hot air ducts where it generates a 5000-volt power field. This field charges air passing through it electrically and the individual molecules of air are pulled through a filter.

Because it has both positive and negative poles, the filter gathers almost all the dust, dirt, pollen and other substances which cause energies from air-born sources.

PORTABLE SYSTEMS

In homes where there are no ducts, portable systems are available which circulate the air in a room and attract foreign substances in the same way.

The electric air cleaner was developed seven years ago but has only recently become popular. Jerry Dean of Atlas Supply Co. here says "in the last year we have sold between 125 and 150 cleaners, that is a 90 per cent increase over the last five years."

Deans says the general increase in use of the cleaner has been about constant throughout the country.

The cleaner can be installed in almost any part of a home, but is usually placed in the basement next to a furnace.

The portable units, of course, can be carried from room to room.

Dean says it is necessary for a home to have air conditioning in the summer in order for the cleaner to work effectively. He points out, however, most persons suffering from allergies have air conditioning during the summer anyway.

Scandinavian Influence

Bath Takes on New Look

With all the glorious materials available today, it doesn't take a whole gob of talent to create a beautiful bathroom. But like anything in life, it does require a little advance planning.

First you have to answer the question of just how "modern" your bathroom should be. There are some who feel it should be an auxiliary reading-writing-music room. Others hold that it's no good unless it extends outdoors to a private sunbathing patio, perhaps with an indoor-outdoor shower.

Neither concept may be your cup of tea, but most families will agree that by expanding its size, the bathroom makes a dandy exercizing room. Allow enough space to swing arms and legs and to stretch full-length on the floor, and excuses vanish for not including a 15-minute toe-touching session as part of the bathing ritual.

Most families agree, too, that the antiseptic look is out and the living room look is in. Influenced by Scandinavian-born interior designers and by the sauna, bathrooms now sport solid lumber paneling on walls, creating an appearance far richer than its dollar cost.

The Scandinavians like their wood as natural as possible and lean toward softwoods, using resawn or rough sawn panel boards on walls and satin-smooth lumber for cabinetwork.

FIR A FAVORITE

Douglas fir, an "everyday" wood in this country, is highly prized abroad and is frequently the choice of a Scandinavian designer. Most often, they'll finish fir clear to enjoy its unusual orangy-gold coloring, but occasionally stain is specified to complement a particular color scheme.

Using wood in the bathroom is no different from using it elsewhere. Modern exhaust fans carry moisture to the outside and, when finished with a tough polyurethane, smooth-surfaced panel boards are as washable as laminated plastic.

The traditional Scandinavian sauna is lined with unfinished boards, and resawn paneling used in the bathroom also may be unfinished except for a seal coat on both sides and edges.

With the texture of wood to temper them, the slick surfaces of plastic and enamel no longer appear hard or cold, and colors come alive.

Primary red, larkspur blue, antique gold, buttercup, avocado, celery, purple and sizzling pinks are exciting and can be used with abandon for countertops, floor covering and window treatments, as well as in towels and accessories.

If adding a new bathroom or remodeling an old one, there's no need to skimp on costs, for surveys show conclusively that every penny spent is reclaimed on a future sale of the house.

Marketable Title Vital to Purchaser

Normally, the purchase agreement will require the seller to transfer to you as purchaser a "marketable" title to the property free from all indebtedness or limitations on its use, except for those you may have agreed to accept.

A title is "marketable" when it is of such quality as to assure its ready acceptance by a future purchaser or lender.

It is up to you, as the purchaser, to be certain the title you get is marketable.

This always requires a careful search of the various public records accumulated in past years, and a legal analysis of any irregularities found.

Transfer Insurance Before You Move

If you are moving this spring or summer transfer your fire and chattel insurance to cover your possessions in the new residence.

Insurance must be transferred before the move, otherwise there will be a period when you are not covered.

If you are moving to a distant city, transfer your bank account in advance.

Have your present bank arrange a credit reference with which to establish new accounts.

Cranbrook Manor Maisons

Luxury Complex Now Open

The $1.6 million Cranbrook Manor Maisons presented by the Thompson-Brown Co. at Woodward and Cranbrook Roads in Bloomfield Hills is open for public inspection with the completion of a furnished display model apartment.

The first eight of a total of 42 maisons which will make up the community have been completed and are ready for occupancy. Rentals have been set at $550.

Built by the Thomas Franke Construction Company, the Cranbrook Manor Maisons were designed by Byron Ireland & associates, architects of Columbus, Ohio.

Maisons in the truest sense of the word, each of the approximately 2,000 square foot, three - bedrooms, three - bath units also includes an expansive full basement as well as attached two-car garage with direct access to the kitchen. For the further convenience of maison residents, electric garage door openers are provided.

CLUSTERS OF FOUR

Built in clusters of four and separated, for complete privacy, by solid masonry walls, each of the apartments has both a private entrance court and an enclosed atrium between the living room and master bedroom suite.

A striking 18-foot high studio ceiling in the 21-foot living room of each Cranbrook Manor maison is further accented by a ceiling-high natural fireplace. A studio balcony room (which may be used as a third bedroom, guest room or library) provides a panoramic view of the living room.

The studio room also has its own outside balcony overlooking the community grounds.

Each maison kitchen has an outside window facing the unit's private garden court. In addition, all kitchens feature Hotpoint built-ins including self-cleaning electric oven and range, frost-free refrigerator, dishwasher, waste disposer and outside venting range hood.

Ample breakfast space has been alloted. Custom cabinets are used in all kitchens.

The abundance of closet space in all bedrooms is further complemented by the storage area provided in each maison's full basement.

Still other features of the maisons are air conditioning, master TV and FM antenna, telephone prewiring and quarry tile entrance foyers.

Complete exterior maintenance including snow removal, landscape care and window washing is provided by the management. Public "front door" bus service is available for domestics.

In doing the model apartment, Bloomfield Hill's M. Ellene Schoenly, A.I.D., selected an "English feeling" — slightly country, slightly urban, not too stereotyped — general enough to allow prospective residents to identify with their own existing pieces.

The display maison at Cranbrook Manor is open daily (except Thursdays) from noon to 6 p.m. Private appointments may be arranged by calling Jean Ruckstahl at Cranbrook Manor.

Brighten a Hall

Bright colored ceramic tiles in decorator colors and textures can help to brighten a dark hallway. New tile-setting adhesives and mortars have greatly simplified installation of tile on a wide variety of surfaces.

Front Entry Takes Beating

As every exasperated housewife knows only too well, this is muck time. One particular spot that really takes a beating is just inside the front door. Slush and mud are tracked in and ground into the floor by even the best disciplined families. If you find that this floor area needs replacement, why not try vinyl asbestos tile.

This heavy-duty floor tile is especially appropiate for areas that get lots of wear. You can keep it clean with a swish of the mop, and it has a life expectancy of 20 to 25 years.

Vinyl asbestos tile is made in an extensive range of colors. Before choosing one, consider the size of the area and the amount of light falling on it. A dark front hall will be lightened considerably by a bright color on the floor. However, don't select one that "shouts" at visitors coming through the door. If there is already sufficient color in the area, the ever popular black and white squares are a good choice.

The textured patterns now available — made to resemble stone, brick and pebbles — are excellent for an entryway because the embossed surface doesn't show dirt as readily as a smooth floor.

Remember: Your front hall is a welcome mat. It clues visitors as to what kind of people you are. So make it as attractive as you can.

In 1967, sales of trading stamp firms fell for the first time since 1955.

Textured Paneling Interior Favorite

Handymen can inject a rugged, masculine note into a remodeled den or family room by covering the old walls with leather-textured paneling.

Avaliable at local building materials dealers in brown, tan, white, and green, this ⅛ inch thick leather-textured paneling can be used in a wide variety of do-it-yourself projects.

It is ideal, for instance, in giving new life to old tables and desks.

This new panel has the appearance of real cowhide, yet its baked plastic finish resists stains, heat and hard wear.

How To Keep Your Cool In Summer

In the Market for a Pool? Heed an Expert's Advice

As warm weather approaches, many homeowners are looking at the backyard and resolving that this will be the year they will buy that longed-for swimming pool.

This time of resolve is also a time of questioning: "Where shall I buy the pool?" "What type of pool is best?" "How much does a pool cost?"

John Pereira, president of Weatherking Pools, Inc. in East Greenwich, Rhode Island, manufacturer of above-ground and in-ground aluminum pools, has some advice for prospective pool buyers.

"First of all stop! Don't be in a hurry," Pereira advises. "Secondly, look around at different pools and different manufacturers," he says. "Thirdly, listen to the rules of pool buying," which he has outlined here

DOZENS OF DEALERS

Pereira says there are dozens of reliable swimming pool manufacturers and dealers throughout the country. A quick scanning of the Yellow Pages will reveal numerous possibilities, several of which should be contacted before a final decision is made.

The local newspapers also begin carrying pool display ads this time of the year, and this too would be a good place to look.

Swimming pools fall into two general categories, in-ground and on-ground, each of which features a variety of models. Among the in-ground installations there are the concrete, fiber-glass, gunite (sprayed cement), and vinyl-lined pools.

The vinyl-lined pool may have either wood, steel, or alumunum walls, and are generally the easiest to install and maintain, the most durable and least expensive.

The on-ground pools are usually made of plywood, steel, or aluminum, all of which have vinyl lined interiors. The advantages of this type include its coming with a deck and fence, and in many townships it is not taxable as a home improvement.

COST SIMILAR

The cost of the average in-ground vinyl-lined pool and the on-ground pool are about the same, under $3,000 including installation. The other in-ground types are more expensive and take longer to install, but have the advantage of offering a wider variety of shapes and sizes.

The newest innovation of the pool industry is the above ground aluminum pool. It comes complete with filter, skimmer, aluminum walls and frames, and miscellaneous assembly components.

It is the most easily and quickly installed, and many people save a good deal of money by setting it up themselves. There is almost no maintenance required for this type as it never needs painting or patching, and it is the most resistant to all weather conditions.

In deciding upon a dealer, certain things should be taken into consideration. The dealer should be a member of the National Swimming Pool Institute of Washing, D.C. or of a rec- of Washington, D.C. or of a recognized regional swimming pool association.

These organizations require high standards of workmanship and business ethics. Reputable dealers warantee component parts for periods ranging from five to ten years depending upon the pool manufacturer.

Ask to see some pools he has installed and speak to the owner to see if he is satisfied. Find out if his line of pools is a well known and respected brand.

Once a dealer has been decided upon, the next and most important step is the drawing up of the contract.

The purchaser should supervise the contract carefully to insure that all the agreed upon details are present.

TIPS

Be sure to include the following in all contracts:

- The specifications of all pool materials, accessories, and component parts.
- Items, labor and prices that are to be added as accessories.
- Those accessories that are to be included in the stated price.
- Retention of a reasonable percentage of the final payment until the pool has been installed.
- Relocation of electrical, water or gas lines if necessary.
- Terms of any financing agreement.

All in-ground pools are subject to tax assessment as a home improvement, usually at one half its actual cost. As previously stated, the on-ground pool is not subject to tax assessment in many townships, but this matter should be checked with the local tax assessor.

In any case, it represents only a minimal amount and should not prevent one buying a pool.

More and more Americans are purchasing pools each year. It's the best way to cool off a long, hot summer.

Exposed Floors and Rugs Win by 13-1 Margin

The decorative trend to exposed floors with area rugs, as opposed to fixed carpeting, was exemplified dramatically in model rooms unveiled recently at New York's famed Bloomingdale's.

Of 14 model rooms displayed, all but one featured exposed floors and rugs.

Home Furnishings Daily, the "Bible" of the home furnishings industry, reported on the event.

Quoting Barbara D'Arcy, interior designer for Bloomingdale's, the publication said, "Rugs are the look today. Of course, wall-to-wall will always be popular but there is nothing more beautiful than a nicely polished floor and rug."

The publication also reported that in the fall and winter model rooms at Altman's, another high fashion New York store, "rugs were the rule and wall-to-wall carpet the exception."

In the exposed floor decorative plan floors are usually of oak or other hardwoods in one of four styles — strip, plank, block or parquet.

Buying a Home, Avoid Title Woes

The "title" to real estate is the right of the owner to its peaceful possession and use, free from the claims of others.

In buying your home, you want to be certain that you acquire the right to occupy it without interference, and also that you will be able to sell or mortgage it whenever you wish to do so, without the threat of title problems.

Tip to Consider

So, You Want to Buy a Pool

With the robins now north, many homeowners are facing that long-delayed decision to buy that long-desired swimming pool.

Most states have dozens of reliable pool distributors and dealers who are at your beck and call. You'll find them in the Yellow Pages under "Swimming Pool," "Builders" or "Home Improvement." You'll see their display ads in The Pontiac Press. You may be on their direct mail list as a good prospect.

The biggest decision facing most homeowners seeking that backyard status symbol: what type of pool is best in the long run?

There are many types of residential in-ground pools of all sizes and shapes: poured concrete, gunite (sprayed cement), fiber glass or vinyl lined. The vinyl line pool comes with either galvanized steel, aluminum or wood walls. These pools are noted for their durability, ease of installation, minimum of maintenance expense, and radically lower costs.

There are also many types of on-ground pools. Walls are usually made of plywood, steel or aluminum. All have vinyl lined interiors and are surrounded by a redwood, raised deck. While this type is relatively new, it has an advantage of coming with its own deck and fence, and in a few townships it is not taxable as a home improvement. (Check first with your local tax assessor). Otherwise, costs are about the same as most in-ground pools.

TAKES THREE

For example, an in-the-ground vinyl-lined 16 by 32 foot pool with steel walls, (approximate cost under $3000 installed, with all components and accessories) can be installed by three experienced men in less than a week. The same size pool in either poured or sprayed concrete normally takes three to four weeks to install, (depending on the weather) and costs much more initially.

While the concrete pool offers some shapes which provide a certain aesthetic beauty, yearly maintenance costs, including repainting and repairs of cracks or chipping, could be substantial.

The vinyl-lined, prefab pool, which has revolutionized the pool industry in the past five years, comes in a package which can be installed by the homeowner. It can be purchased through a recognized distributor or dealer.

The package is complete, with a filter, skimmer, steel walls and frames, vinyl liner, and miscellaneous assembly hardware. The pool is ready for use once the liner is installed and filled. There is little maintenance on this type of patching or painting. By getting a few neighbors together, you can save almost half the total cost of the pool if you're willing to devote a few weekends purchasing the components and installing your own.

Both the distributor and his dealer, from whom you buy the pool kit, will be glad to offer advice and field supervision if you need it, since they are anxious to sell your neighbors too. About 30 per cent of these pools are installed by do-it-yourselfers.

Once you've decided on the type of pool you want, contact a reliable distributor who will work with you whether you install your own or not. In some cases, his company may not do the actual installation, but he will have an experienced builder or dealer who installs the pools he sells.

The distributor will supply you with all the accessories you might want, such as: a heater, coping, diving board, chemicals, vacuum cleaner, test kit, ladder or safey line.

ACCESSORIES CHEAPER

He will deal directly with the accessories manufacturers and be able to supply all accessories near cost, since he is primarily interested in selling pools. If you shop around for these items yourself, you will not save much money and you will not get the guarantees or service that the established distributor will give.

Once you have selected a distributor or dealer who handles the guaranteed type of pool you want, start enumerating all details that you want included in the contract you will be signing. This is the most important step in the entire procedure of becoming a pool owner.

The contract is the basis for avoiding any misunderstandings, so, make sure every item you agree upon is on the contract. It should detail the dealer's responsibility for all products, costs, time involved and the final installation. Most important, know what you're signing.

Most pool contracts are financed. When financing is not involved, contracts call for substantial payments upon signing, then upon delivery of materials, and again upon completion of the installation.

Pool buyers should include the following factors in the standard contract signed:

- The specifications of all pool materials, components and accessories.
- What accessories (diving board, ladder etc.) are to be installed by the builder.
- Items, labor and prices that are to be added as accessories.
- A heater, depending on the size of your pool, that will raise the temperature 25 degrees in 24 hours.
- Retention of a small, reasonable percentage (5 per cent) of the final payment until the pool has been installed.
- Relocation of electrical water or gas lines, if necessary.

Find out if your dealer is a member of a regional swimming pool association or of the National Swimming Pool Institute of Washington, D.C. These organizations require rigid codes of ethics and high standards of workmanship for their members, particularly in spelling out all details in the contract.

You may rest assured that an established dealer representing a brand name pool manufacturer, is a person of principle and integrity. He is conversant with local health, building and plumbing ordinances and knows what is needed for your pool's requirements. He is licensed to help you finance your pool through a local bank or through national credit firms.

Most dealers will advise the pool buyer to be reasonable in asking the builder for any guarantees. Reputable manufacturers warrantee their major component products for a five or ten year period.

QUALIFICATIONS

Make sure your builder is qualified. Ask to see some pools he has installed. Make sure he is representing a distributor of a well known pool line or a pool manufacturer

FINANCING

Swimming pools may be financed over a period of two to five years — in some cases, up to seven years — often without a down payment, and usually with modest monthly payments. The cost of new types of factory prefabs developed over the past five years is within the reach of almost every homeowners' income.

Pools are normally assessed in most states at one half the actual cost. The assessments very by township ranging from $30 to $100 a year on a 16 by 32 foot vinyl lined pool, to about $250 for a cement pool.

Patios, and other permanent improvements are also taxable, but many costs, such as excavation, regrading, landscaping, retaining walls, or fencing are not taxed. You should contact your local tax assessor in order to obtain an accurate tax rate on your type of pool.

If you'd like to own a $25,000 home in 1970, buy it now for $23,000!

Home costs go up about $1,000 every year!

Don't let "tight money" talk keep you from making a solid real estate investment. The prudent man who bought a house in earlier "tight money" periods was smart. The home he paid $16,000 for, is easily worth $20,000 today.

Tight money is the result of prosperity, actually. Money is like any other commodity; when an expanding economy increases the demand for it, the price (interest) goes up. But since the first of this year there's been a ready supply of money locally.

Construction costs are going up. There's every indication that inflation will be around in the foreseeable future. Best estimates show that today's $23,000 house will cost $25,000 in 1970. The reasons: prices on land, labor and materials keep going up.

The humorist Will Rogers once said: "Buy land — they're not making any more of it." Will was funny but Will was right, and as this country's population continues its fantastic growth, more young adults enter the home market. The demand for land increases and prices go up. Some folks estimate land prices around Pontiac will go up 5% to 10% next year. That means a home on a $5,000 lot will be worth more next year simply because of the increase in the value of the land.

Mortgage payments don't change. With the nation's economy growing steadily and incomes going higher, today's mortgage payments on a new home will look even better in the next few years. Remember, a new home starts increasing in value the day it's finished, but the mortgage payments remain the same for the life of the loan — even if interest rates soar in the future. And the equity you build up as a home owner certainly beats paying out rent . . . dollars you'll never see again. In addition, mortgage interest and property taxes are deductible from Federal income tax.

Don't wait for prices to decline. It may be a long, long time. And you're not postponing the purchase of anything else because of high prices and interest rates. Automobiles, TV sets, air-condotioners — all those things are bought on time payment plans with interest rates much higher than a home mortgage. Yet, these commodities decrease in value as soon as they're bought. A house — large or small — grows in value each year.

There's never been a better selection of choice homes than those now offered by O'Neil Realty. For outstanding values, today's homes are the best buy ever. They are better designed, more durable and more comfortable than ever. Roomier, too, and loaded with extra items considered available only in luxurious homes a few years ago.

Whether you prefer to build or buy, by all means visit O'Neil Realty today. Let their friendly, experienced, home sales experts help you. The folks at O'Neils have been helping home buyers and sellers for years — and they would consider it a privilege to put this experience to work for you and your family.

Group Visits the Little Town of Bethlehem

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth in a series of articles of a tour of Europe and Bible Lands with Dr. and Mrs. Tom Malone by Mary Anglemier, church editor of The Pontiac Press. The fourth stop with the group of 25 was Bethlehem and Nazareth).

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Church Editor

The words and melody of "O Little Town of Bethlehem" rushed to my mind as we drew near the little village of Bethlehem after leaving Jerusalem.

The beloved carol was written by Philip Brooks after a visit to the Holy Land one Christmas Eve.

It was in Bethlehem when Joseph and Mary had come from Nazareth to pay their taxes that Jesus Christ, believed by Christians to be the Son of God, was born. Above His birthplace stands the Basilica of Bethlehem. Today the Latins, Greek Orthodox and Armenians hold the place divided in possession.

To enter the low doorway of the church one must humbly bow his head.

GROTTO

From the pillared church we descended to the Grotto by two stairs. Here amid burning oil lamps at the altar a silver star bears the words: "Hic de Virgine Maria Jesus Christus natus est—Here of the Virgin Mary Jesus Christ was born."

To the right of the Grotto is the place where the manger stood in which Mary placed the Child. In front of it is an altar in memory of the Magi.

Around the manger the natural rock from which the Grotto was excavated is visible.

NAZARETH

On the drive to Nazareth our guide pointed out the thousands of trees planted by the Israelis. The Jewish people are leaving little land uncultivated. Hillsides are being destoned and groves of olive, orange and lemon trees planted.

The country is beautiful.

I always thought Nazareth was in hilly country but we climbed a steep mountain with some gals of the group screaming at each hairpin turn. It must have taken Mary and Joseph several days to journey down the mountain side and over the plains to Bethlehem by foot and donkey.

Roses were in bloom at the hotel where we had lunch. A large veranda surrounded the dining room affording a view of the country for miles.

Our bus rolled us down the mountain toward Tiberius located by the Sea of Galilee. We visited Capernaum where Jesus performed so many miracles and stepped into the beautiful blue water of Galilee.

EXCHANGE PRISONERS

The next morning found us crossing the bridge where the Israelis and Jordanians exchanged prisoners at the close of the six-day war in June 1967.

On the plateau at the top of Golan Heights there was sadness and emptiness as we viewed the remains of tanks and trucks smashed during the June war.

Our guide warned us not to step off the road pavement as all fields were filled with land mines.

It was hard to believe that the hillsides covered with anemones, thicket roses, scabious, daisies and other field flowers were so dangerous. Barbed wire encased all of these fields.

On our way to Tel-Aviv we journeyed through Haifa, a large city on the Mediterranean noted for its ship building, oil refineries and washing machines.

The World center of the Baha'i Faith is located here on Mount Carmel.

We continued to Caesarea, capital of the Roman Procurators to visit the ruins of the Roman and Crusader eras.

Somehow I was sorry to leave the peaceful country for the city of Tel-Aviv often called the New York City of the Middle East.

TEL-AVIV

Our Tel-Aviv Hilton Hotel was on the Mediterranean with sandy beaches stretching for miles.

After dinner several of the group met in the room of Mildred Lyon and Pearl Erickson of Iron Mountain for a brief Sunday service of Scripture reading, prayer and reviewing the many places visited in the Holy Land.

We were told it is nearly always springlike in Tel-Aviv. The literal meaning of Tel-Aviv in Hebrew is "Hill of Spring" with skies sunny and blue, a cool breeze from the sea, and sidewalk cafes gay with sunshades and people.

There are fine old buildings, narrow streets, the theater, symphony orchestra, museums and art galleries, all in Tel-Aviv.

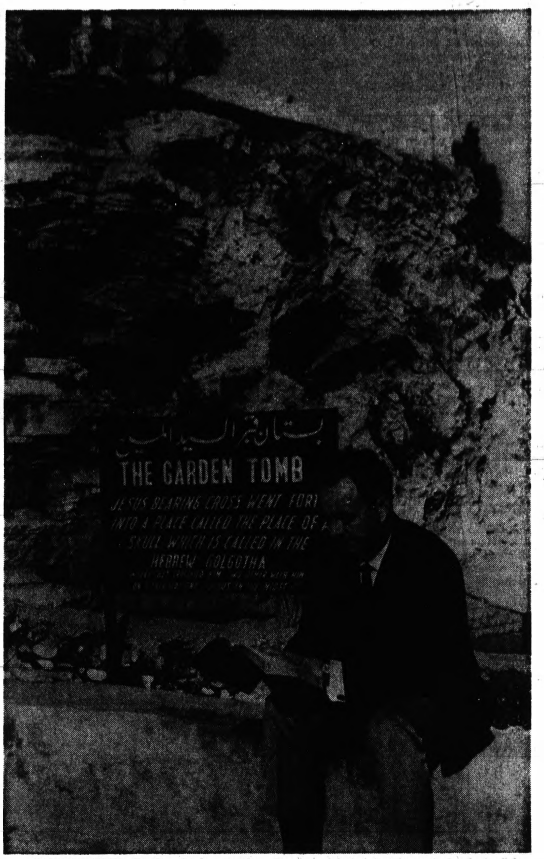
Monday morning members of the group gathered in the hotel lobby for the next stop—Athens, Greece.

BETHLEHEM—The Church of the Nativity shown here stands above the Grotto, the place were Jesus Christ was born. The entrance near the back of the picture is small so that everyone bows his head to enter. The Greek Church presently has charge of the building but every Christmas Eve Protestants are given the privilege to hold services. It was in the cave-like Grotto that Mary and Joseph were taken when they were told there was no room in the inn.



GARDEN TOMB—Dr. Tom Malone reads the New Testament as he meditates on the Life of Jesus while visiting the Tomb of Christ in the small garden area. The Garden Tomb is located just beneath Gordon's Calvary, outside the walls to the north of the Damascus Gate of the Old City of Jerusalem.

SEA OF GALILEE—After visiting the ancient temple at Capernaum members of the group walked down to the Sea of Galilee. Some are shown standing and sitting on the dock. Everyone stepped into the bright, clear blue water. This is the north end of the lake, and late in the day.

SHEPHERD'S FIELD — Shepherds watch over their flocks of sheep on the hillsides as they did 2,000 years ago. It was from this field shepherds saw the wondrous star on the night that Christ was born. Bethlehem may be seen in the distance on the hilltop. This site is known as the Shepherd's Field today.

MT. TEMPTATION — It was on this mountain, according to the Scripture that Jesus was tempted by the devil. The mountain towers over the plain of Jericho. Oranges, lemons and other fruit are plentiful in the Jericho area, located near the Jordan River and the Dead Sea.

TIBERIUS — This is a small city on the western shore of the Sea of Galilee. It was on this sea that Jesus stilled the waves. It was here that Jesus found Peter and Andrew casting nets from their boats as they still do today. He called out to them "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men." They left their nets and followed Him.

REV. BILLY WALKER

Davisburg Church to Hold Rally

A Hiawatha Rally will be held in the First Baptist Church in Davisburg tomorrow beginning at 9:45 a.m.

Speaking at the service and showing slides of Hiawatha Camp and explaining its ministry will be Evangelist Billy Walker.

Assisting him will be Dave Edwards, graduate of Moody Bible Institute; Sally Harris, graduate of Detroit Bible Institute; and Lynn Lashlee, student at Taylor University.

These three young people serve on the Hiawatha staff. They will provide special music, and slides of Hiawatha camp.

According to the Rev. Robert Hazen, pastor of Davisburg church, Hiawatha is the largest interdenominational youth camp in the Midwest.

More than 3,000 acres are available to the hundreds of young people that visit the camp each summer. The camp site overlooks Piatt Lake in Michigan's Northern Peninsula.

Hiawatha has facilities to accommodate 150 young people at one time.

PLAY SUNDAY NIGHT—Greeting Brig. John F. Grindle (center) as he arrives at the Salvation Army for band rehearsal are Fidel Jimenez of 422 Howland and Elizabeth O'Berry of 5805 S. Aylesbury, Waterford Township. Fidel and Elizabeth will play with the Salvation Army Band tomorrow night at the revival service conducted by the Rev. Karl Wittman in Evangelical Missionary Tabernacle, 5800 Watinks Lake, Waterford Township. Brig. Grindle is in charge of the local Salvation Army, 28 W. Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Douglas of Judah Lake, Orion Township, will show the pictures and describe the work which they observed during a week's stay at the orphanage in the spring.

Pastor F. William Palmer will raise the question "Which Way Are You Heading?" at the 11 a.m. worship. Elder Dorothy Churchill will read the Scripture.

At 3:30 p.m. the lay recruitment committee will get together with Willie Jacobs presiding.

Salvation Army Band in Service

Brig. John Grindle, officer in charge of the Salvation Army, and the Salvation Army Band will be guest performers at the 7 p.m. revival service tomorrow night in Evangelical Missionary Tabernacle, 2800 Watkins Lake, Waterford Township.

The Rev. Karl F. Wittman of Toledo, Ohio is the evangelist holding services each evening this week. He will preach on "Second Coming of Christ and the Signs of the Times."

The Rev. Mr. Wittman will tell of his conversion in one of Billy Sunday's tabernacles years ago and his call to the ministry tonight. During his 50 years in the ministry he has been responsible for building 30 tabernacles where revivals were held.

Evangelist Wittman said "Preaching the old time Gospel of Christ is the only answer to the problems in the United States and the world. American needs to come back to God."

DEDICATE BUILDING — Participating Sunday in the dedication ceremonies of the new activities building of St. Joseph Catholic Church, Lake Orion are (from left) William Offer, chairman of the church committee; Rev. Members to Meet With Detroit Group

The Pontiac area members of Spanish American Outreach who meet for Bible classes at Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church will join with the group meeting in Detroit on Sunday mornings.

After the service at Fort Street Presbyterian Church in Detroit, tomorrow, the group will hold a picnic dinner and games at Belle Isle.

On June 15 the group will be guests at the Fort Street Church with a picnic following at Bob Lo Island.

Through the efforts of the Presbyterian Association for Spanish Speaking Outreach, the Pontiac Board of Education placed a book entitled "El Primer Paso Importante" (the first Big Step) in the hands of every Spanish American parent registering a kindergarten child in the Pontiac Schools this month.

Bi-lingual classes for preschoolers will be held this summer, through the efforts of Spanish American Outreach and their director, Tom Chavez Jr.

SAVE YOURSELF

First Tim. 4-16 take heed unto thyself and unto the doctrine—and continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt save both thyself and them that hear thee: you may say no one can save themselves, yes they are the only one that can—the Lord has got it so filled. The Lord has finished his work and the Apostles left us the blueprint, and all we have to do is to find out what they did. The Lord called Saul in Act 9 but the Lord couldn't tell Saul what to do to be saved, but he sent him, to Ananias, and he told Saul; and Saul was filled with the Holy Ghost, and was baptized. So you can see that there is more to do then just believe. To save yourself Peter in Acts 2:40. Peter said save yourselves, he gave the way to save yourself. He said repent and be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins. If you don't do that or if you haven't done that your sins haven't been remitted. Some say I don't believe that. It is in your Bible. Acts 2:38. Read it and do it to be saved. Please let me hear from you.

Martins Leave for Trinidad

Leaving for Trinidad, West Indies yesterday where they will replace a missionary couple for three months on an emergency furlough were Mr. and Mrs. Terry R. Martin of Waterford Township.

Martin will pastor the Trincity Church in Trinidad during this time. In the fall the Martins will return to this country for deputation work, and go back to the field as permanent missionaries as soon as possible.

The son of the Rev. and Mrs. V. L. Martin of Sunnyvale Chapel, Martin was graduated from Bob Jones University in May. He was married to the former Dana Lynn Nulph of Galesburg, Ill. Monday evening.

Mrs. Martin is also a graduate of Bob Jones University.

QUARTET SUNDAY

The LeTourneau College Male Quartet from Longview, Tex. will present gospel music at the 6 p.m. service tomorrow in Sunnyvale Chapel, 5311 Pontiac Lake.

Their reportoire includes a wide selection of gospel songs and spirituals. Testimonies will be given of their personal faith in Christ.

The purpose of the college is to blend academic, spiritual and practical in such a way that graduates will learn to be effective Christian witnesses and excellent workmen, Pastor Martin said.

The enrollment is near the 700 mark. Traveling with the quartet will be the Rev. Victor Werner, director of college music.

Day Camp Set for Elmwood

Elmwood Methodist Church, 2680 N. Crooks, Avon Township, will sponsor a Vacation Bible School Day Camp June 17 through June 21 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. daily.

There will be planned lessons in arts, crafts and recreation for children of kindergarten age through the ninth grade. Youngsters are asked to bring a sack lunch.

'Marriage,' Subject of Sermon

June is the month for weddings and North Oakland Christian Church lists the "Christian Marriage" as a topic of concern during morning worship service tomorrow.

A traditional wedding song will be presented, the marriage ceremony will be discussed, and husbands and wives will be asked to stand during the sermon and repeat their marriage vows.

Honored during the service will be some 30 to 40 couples that the North Oakland pastor has married in Pontiac during the past seven years.

Mrs. F. Gary Failla, married by the pastor, will sing "I Love You Truly." The Scripture will be read from I Corinthians 13.

A reception at Pastor Jack H. C. Clark's home, 497 W. Iroquois from 2 to 4 p.m. will honor couples married by Pastor Clark.

SMALLEST EVER — This child, when born at Pontiac General Hospital March 14, was the smallest ever recorded there—one pound, three ounces. Holding the girl, Lynette Michelle, is her mother, Mrs. Leonard Righter of Clawson. The baby is doing well, weighs five pounds, and soon will be sent home.

'Smallest Baby Ever' Is 3 Months Old, Fine

—Spec. Meas. 22.3—M-M indent—

The smallest baby ever born at Pontiac General Hospital is alive and well today, just short of three months after its day of birth.

The little girl weighed just one pound, three ounces when born March 14—less than a half-quart bottle of pop.

Named Lynette Michelle, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Righter of 343 Rochester, Clawson.

Nurses said the baby lost weight after it was born, as most babies do, and the child went down to one pound, one ounce. She was just 12 inches long and had been born about three months prematurely.

Kept in an Isolette until May 31, the child responded well to intensive care and yesterday checked in at over five pounds.

The child appears healthy and alert, according to attending nurses. She wil go home in about a week, they said.

Two Mute in Drug Case

LANSING (AP) — Three persons charged with sale of narcotics were free today on bonds reduced from $10,000 to $1,000 during circuit court appearances Friday.

Mrs. Catherine Ann Reed, 21, and John MacAllan, 25, both of Lansing, stood mute before Judges Marvin Salmon and Sam Street Hughes.

They were expected to request municipal court examinations, waived earlier, on the advice of an attorney.

The arraignment of John Keiller, 21, of Lansing, was adjourned until June 14.

The three were among 12 persons arrested Monday in a crackdown on drug traffic in the Michigan State University area. The other nine persons arrested had demanded examination before East Lansing Municipal Judge William Harmon.

Trial to Enter 4th Week

Dr. Spock Will Testify Soon

BOSTON (AP) — The anti-draft conspiracy trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock and four others begins its fourth week Monday with the pediatrician preparing to testify in his own defense.

On trial with the 65-year-old Spock are Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Mitchell Goodman, 44, a writer and teacher from Temple, Maine; Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student; and Marcus Raskin, 34, a Washington research director.

They are charged with conspiring to aid, abet and counsel young men to avoid the draft, a federal crime which carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Spock will be the last defendant to take the witness stand before the prosecution and defense lawyers make their closing remarks, U.S. District Judge Francis J. W. Ford charges the all-male jury, and the jury deliberates on a verdict.

SIT-IN DESCRIBED

The trial recessed for the weekend Friday as Aryeh Neier, executive director of the New York Civil Liberties Union, was on the stand describing what he saw last Dec. 5 at an antidraft sit-in outside the city's Whitehall Street Induction center.

Spock and Goodman were arrested for obstructing passage into the center when they sat down on a sidewalk. The incident is one of several upon which the government bases its conspiracy indictments against the men.

Another witness who described the activities at the center was David McReynolds, secretary of the War Resisters League in New York City. He said he was one of the planners of the Whitehall sit-in.

McReynolds said he could not describe all that took place at Whitehall and remember everyone who was there besides Spock and others because he was arrested soon after he got there and "I think I beat most of them to jail."

LAUGHTER

Judge Ford brought laughter to the crowded courtroom when he peered from the bench and asked the witness: "Did you beat most of them getting out?"

The trial was scheduled to resume at 10 a.m. Monday.

Gets Tigers' Game Winning Hit

Stanley 'Checks' Swing, Tribe Strategy

Norm Cash Blasts Pair to Help Pad Bengals' Lead

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Mickey Stanley outsmarted not only himself but all of the strategic moves made by Cleveland Indians' manager Alvin Dark in the wildest and most exciting game of the year at Tiger Stadium last night.

The young outfielder, with a notorious reputation of thriving on left handed pitching, tried to check his two-strike swing in the bottom of the ninth inning and instead laced it into right-centerfield for a two-run triple to give the scrappy Detroit Tigers a 5-4 triumph over the surging Tribesmen.

The hit came off lefty Mike Paul, who took the mound twice in the same inning as part of the Cleveland manager's strategy.

CASH BLASTS TWO

Norm Cash, with two home runs, and Willie Horton with his 16th round tripper of the season, dished out the main course meal for the Tigers while Stanley provided the dessert, as the Bengals moved into a 3½ game lead in the American League race.

Cleveland starter Steve Hargan threw a lot of pitches, but none of them were for hits until Dick McAuliffe started the 6th inning with a sharp single to center.

Stanley however hit into the Tigers' third double play of the game thus giving Hargan a chance to start the 7th inning with a 3-0 lead.

The Indians took advantage of southpaw John Hiller's wildness in the first inning by scoring on two walks and a single by Joe Azcue.

In the 5th inning, two walks, a single by Vern Fuller and a two base error by Don Wert gave Cleveland a pair of unearned runs as Hiller retired to the showers.

To start the 7th, Cash drove his 5th homer of the season into section 36 of the second deck in right field.

NEXT BATTER

Willie Horton, who had not had a hit in his last 15 trips to the plate and was only one for 23 up to this point, sent another one of Hargan's pitches into the left field stands to make it 3-2.

With a 3-1 count on Wert, manager Dark brought in Harold Kurtz who issued the 4th ball to Wert and then hit Ton Matchick in the ankle.

Managers Smith and Dark then increased their battle line strategies.

After catcher Jim Price failed to sacrifice in two tries, Gates Brown came in to pick up Price's two strike count. Dark immediately counted with southpaw Mike Paul and he proceeded to strike out Gates, Pinchhitter Bill Freehan and McAuliffe.

He also started the 8th inning by striking out Stanley, but with two outs Cash slammed the southpaw pitch high along the right field line The ball cleared the wall to tie the score at 3-3.

After Paul got a 3-1 count on Horton, he issued an intentional pass and then struck out Wert to end the inning.

The rhubarb really started in the 9th inning as did the Tiger fireworks.

Fred Lasher, who had struck out the side in the 8th inning, started the ninth by walking Paul. Paul was sacrificed and Jose Cardenal beat out an infield hit to short.

FIRES HOME

Tony Horton then lined a short shot to right field and Jim Northrup quickly fired the ball into home plate.

Umpire Bill Honochick first ruled Paul was out on Freehan's tag at the plate and then ruled him safe, claiming Freehan juggled the ball.

This brought a stormy protest from manager Smith, the Tigers and fans.

Smith was ejected for the second time in a week for a similar call at home, and the fans pelted the field with debris aimed at Honochick.

But one run scored and when Azcue walked it loaded the bases. Dark called for the squeeze play, but Max Alvis bunted to Lasher who caught Cardenal at home and Alvis at first for the double play.

Paul started strong in the 9th by striking out Tom Matchick and forcing pinch batter Dick Tracewski to ground out.

SINGLE TO LEFT

The strategy got stronger in the 9th when with two out and a 3-1 count on Freehan, Dark brought in righthander Stan Williams and placed Paul on first base in place of Tony Horton.

After Freehan bounced a single to left, Williams left the mound and Paul returned to pitch to lefty McAuliffe. The Tiger second sacker bounced a shot between first and second and Lee Maye, now on first base, tried a bare handed stab but bobbled it for an error.

Dark then gave up on his strategy and like the Tigers, started playing hunches by letting right handed Stanley bat against southpaw Paul.

With one ball and two strikes on him, Stanley fouled off several and then hit the game winning shot into right-center to score Freehan and McAuliffe who beat the throw from Cardenal.

WANTED TO CHECK

"It wasn't a solid hit. I didn't want to strike out and I just wanted to keep things going, so I was going to check my swing," said Stanley.

Speedy Cardenal made a lunge for the ball but it bounced away and Stanley crossed third base as the winning run was scoring, amid 31,646 screaming fans and teammates.

Cash, who has hit three home runs in his last six official trips to the plate, said he was so excited on Stanley's hit he thought he was having a heart attack in the 85 degree evening heat.

"I can't remember when I heard cheers overcome the boos," said Cash, who had long been the object of heckling Tiger fans.

Mickey Lolich will take the mound against Luis Tiant, the righty with an 8-4 record, including five straight shutouts this season.

The game is being played at 8:00 p.m. tonight due to the funeral services this afternoon for Senator Robert Kennedy.

WINNING HIT—Mickey Stanley punched a triple to right field that scored the tying and winning runs in the last of the ninth. The centerfielder's hit came with two out.

Prefer Mourning to Tribute

Baseball Players Not Happy

By The Associated Press

Baseball began its tribute to slain Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today, but players and management still found ways to squabble over the manner in which it should be done.

Four games scheduled today were postponed—New York Mets at San Francisco, California Angels at New York Yankees, Minnesota at Washington and Atlanta at Chicago Cubs.

Three games scheduled for Saturday afternoon were postponed until Saturday night — Cleveland at Detroit, Chicago at Boston and St. Louis at Cincinnati.

Three American League games scheduled Sunday also were postponed, a doubleheader, Oakland at Baltimore, and a single game, Chicago at Boston.

SOUGHT MORE

But the players wanted more postponements and the Houston Astros, despite a warning from management, voted Friday night not to play Sunday against Pittsburgh.

Astros' General Manager Spec Richardson said the game will be played unless Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert rules otherwise.

Pittsburgh Manager Larry Shepard said he would discuss the Houston vote today with Joe L. Brown, general manager of the Pirates.

"It is unanimous as far as the ball players are concerned," said Dave Giusti, the Astros' player representative. "All 25 have agreed to this. We're not going to play Sunday.

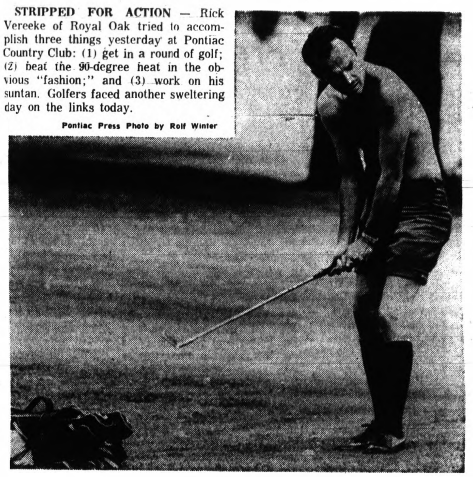
"We are unanimous in our decision not to play Sunday and we will stick with that decision."

The Major League Players Association Friday urged Eckert and the two major league presidents to declare a day of mourning for Sen. Kennedy.

"The Major League Baseball Players Association on behalf of the players hereby expresses its strong opposition to the decision of the commissioner of baseball to permit each club to decide whether or not it will play its full schedule of games this weekend," said a telegram to Ekert signed by Marvin Miller, executive director of the players association.

"The players believe that each club should observe a day of mourning as a tribute to the memory of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and they hereby urge the commissioner and the league presidents to so order."

Eckert replied that baseball is, indeed, paying tribute to Sen. Kennedy and cited his Thursday order that no Saturday games begin before the completing of Sen. Kennedy's funeral and that appropriate tribute be paid by all clubs prior to or during the Sunday games.



STRIPPED FOR ACTION — Rick Vereeke of Royal Oak tried to accomplish three things yesterday at Pontiac Country Club: (1) get in a round of golf; (2) beat the 90-degree heat in the obvious "fashion;" and (3) work on his suntan. Golfers faced another sweltering day on the links today.

U. S. Netters Make Singles Sweep in Cup Zone Tourney

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner made an impressive sweep of the first round singles matches in the Davis Cup American Zone finals Friday night to give the U.S. team a commanding 2-0 lead over Ecuador.

Ashe defeated Pancho Guzman 6-3, 6-3, 6-2 in the first match, then Graebner whipped Miguel Olvera 6-2, 6-1, 6-2.

AVENGE '67

A crowd of some 3,000 watched as the U.S. squad did what it had vowed it would do: take the offense in an attempt to avenge last year's 3-2 upset at the hands of Ecuador in Guayaquil.

Both Ashe and Graebner demonstrated powerful serves in crushing the Latin Americans. Neither of the U.S. players committed a double fault.

In the second match Olvera failed to break Graebner's service.

The fiberglass playing surface of the Charlotte Coliseum seemed to bother the Ecuadorians, who are used to playing on clay courts.

Publinx Qualifying Will Begin Monday at Burroughs Farms

The publinxers will hit the golfing trail Monday in quest of national honors.

A field of 225 will play 36 holes at Burroughs Farms near Brighton with the low 50 and ties qualifying for another 36-hole test the following Monday (June 17).

There are 54 players exempt from the 36-hole round Monday, those who scored 150 or better in last year's qualifying.

Those 54 exempt players then will join the 50 qualifiers this Monday for the final 36 holes. The low 10 scorers from that round will advance to the national tournament slated for July 10-13 at Tenison Memorial Golf Club in Dallas, Tex.

Michigan Pair Wins

HALIFAX, N.S. (UPI) — Scott Harvey of Dearborn Heights won the eighth annual Shell 4000 Trans-Canada rally Friday night.

Harvey and his navigator, Ralph Beckman, a University of Michigan student, finished with a total of eight penalty points, half as much as collected by their nearest rivals. The race lasted six days from their starting point in Calgary, Alta.

THREE-MAN DUEL—The 100-meter dash finish last night in the Coliseum-Compton Invitational Track Meet at Los Angeles results in a blanket three-man finish among Jim Hines (left), John Carlos (right) and Ronnie Ray Smith (next to Hines). All were clocked in :10.3 with Hines of the Houston Striders gaining the judges' decision. The order of finish was Hines-Carlos-Smith. Flint prep star Herb Washington is visible behind Hines and Smith.

'M' Runner Blisters 880 Time

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Robert Kutchinski of Michigan ran the fastest 880-yard run in the world this year Friday night in the United States Track and Field Federation meet with a blistering time 1:47.1

The time was the fastest run in Texas. Felix Johnson of Prairie View was a fading second with a time of 1:47.8.

Milderette Netter of Alcorn A&M flashed to a meet record in the 220 yard dash and Karl Salb of the Jayhawk Track Club shattered a record that had stood since 1963 in the shot put.

CLIPS TIME

Miss Netter's time clipped one-tenth of a second off the old mark of 24.2 set by Patricia Atkinson of Texas Southern University in 1966.

Salb's toss of 60 feet 7 inches eclipsed a mark of 60-6 set by world record holder Randy Matson when he was a freshman in 1963.

In the women's 220, Georgia Johnson of the Lone Star Track Club, a heavy favorite, waited too long for her finishing kick and finished second with a time of 24.8.

Jim Green of Kentucky rolled to victory in the 220 yard dash with a time of 20.9, well off the meet record.

Jesse Ball of Prairie View ran a sizzling 50.7 in the 440-yard hurdles, two-tenths of a second off a meet record. Bub Bornkessell of Shawnee Mission High School in Kansas finished a strong second in time of 51 seconds flat.

The Jayhawk Track Club took an early lead in the standings with 22 points.

Signs Cage Contract

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) Veteran forward Dave Gambee signed his 1968-69 contract with the new Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association, it was announced today by General Manager John Erickson.

Gambee played with the San Diego Rockets last season and averaged 13.4 points a game. The 6-foot-6, 215-pounder is considered one of the best free throw shooters in the league.

Cranbrook Squad Sharing Second

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Sturgis entered the final two-rounds of the state high school Class B tennis championships today, assured of its second straight title.

Sturgis scored 6½ points Friday, which is enough to offset any late challenges by Holland Christian and Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook, which were tied in second place with four points each.

In Class A Hamtramck — seeking its 17th title in 20 years — shared the lead with Niles at five points each going into today's finals. East Grand Rapids was third with 3½ points and Midland fourth with three.

Defending Class C-D champion Grosse Pointe University School held first place in Friday's first rounds with three points. Galesburg-Augusta and Richmond were tied in second with two points each.

Gregg Stephenson of Lapeer scored the tournament's major upset Friday when he handed Brian Paauwe of Holland his first loss of the season, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2, in the opening round of Class A singles.

Vancouver to Apply for NHL Franchise

MONTREAL (AP) — The annual National Hockey League meetings open Monday with a franchise application by Vancouver, B.C., and the intra-league draft among the items on the agenda of the four-day session.

Clarence Campbell, NHL president, said the Vancouver Canucks of the Western Hockey League will make a full-scale pitch for the first franchise opportunity that becomes available.

Campbell stressed, however, that no further expansion is being considered and none among the current 12 teams is expected to move to another city.

Honor 'M' Sophomore

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Elliot Maddox, 1968 Big Ten batting and slugging champion for the University of Michigan, Friday was named winner of the Ray L. Fisher Memorial Award.

Maddox, 19, a sophomore from Vauxhall, N.J., hit .467 in the conference and .393 through the Wolverines' season. His slugging average of .756 also was high in the conference.

YANKEES CATCH ANGEL — New York catcher Jake Gibbs (41) blocks California Angel baserunner Roger Repoz away from the plate Friday night to prevent a run in the second inning of the nightcap game in a Yankee Stadium twin bill. Gene Michael relayed Andy Kosco's throw to Gibbs after Don Mincher had singled deep to right field. Angels gained a split with an 8-4 win in the game.

A's Whip Orioles Twice

2-Out Single Ruins 'Blue Moon' No Hitter

BALTIMORE (AP) — John "Blue Moon" Odom allowed one hit, a two-out single in the ninth inning, and Jim Nash stopped Baltimore on four hits in the second game as the Oakland Athletics swept a twi-night doubleheader 6-1 and 6-0 from the Orioles Friday.

Dave Johnson broke his bat when he sliced a 2-1 sinking fast ball into right field, ruining Odom's bid for no-hit fame.

The 23-year-old right-hander walked eight and was aided by four outstanding defensive plays.

SACRIFICE FLY

Three of the walks came in the opening inning and Baltimore scored on a sacrifice fly by Brooks Robinson.

The A's benefitted from three walks in the second when they scored four runs. Loser Tom Phoebus, 5-5, walked Odom to force in the first run, Bert Campaneris singled for two more and Rick Monday doubled in another.

Monday also drove in two runs in the nightcap. He grounded out following John Donaldson's first-inning triple and doubled after Donaldson singled in the third off loser Bruce Howard, 0-2.

California Angels rapped 15 hits

YAZ NOT FOOLED

BOSTON (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski crossed up Chicago strategy on an apparent intentional walk and cracked a two-run homer in the seventh inning Friday night, powering Boston to a 3-2 victory over the White Sox.

With Manager Eddie Stanky in the clubhouse after being ejected at the start of the Boston fourth for arguing with umpire Ed Runge, the White Sox tried to fool Yastrzemski with Joe Foy on first and two out in the seventh.

Joe Horlen threw two outside pitches in what looked like what was going to be an intentional walk. He then came down the middle with a pitch, and Yastrzemski sent the ball into the Boston bullpen in right for his 10th homer to snap a 1-1 tie.

Boston scored on two errors in the fifth, and Chicago tied it in the seventh on doubles by Russ Snyder and Duane Josephson in the seventh. Josephson added a solo homer in the ninth.

Newcomers Spice NCAA Field

Southern Cal Is Favorite

Double Elimination Baseball Tourney

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Four newcomers led by Southern Illinois spice the 22nd NCAA College World Series opening here Monday night, but it's getting to be old hat for baseball coaches Rod Dedeaux of Southern California and Chet Bryan of Oklahoma State.

Dedeaux and Bryan might be wise to buy summer homes in Omaha.

This is USC's 11th trip to the NCAA finals and the Trojans have won four championships, the last three under Dedeaux. He's in a slump, though. He hasn't won it since 1963.

USC was voted No. 1 in the nation in the final poll of the nation's coaches. The Trojans finished with a 45-14 won-lost mark.

OTHER TEAMS

Harvard, North Carolina State Brigham Young and SIU all are coming to Omaha for the first time. This is the fourth trip for St. John's of New York, all under Jack Kaiser, Texas is in its 12th NCAA showdown, but the first under new coach Cliff Gustafson.

On opening night, Harvard, 19-7, faces St. John's, 23-8, at 5:30 p.m., CDT, and North Carolina State 23-7, faces Southern Illinois 34-12, at 8. To complete the first round Tuesday night, it's OSU, 20-7, vs. Texas at 5:30 and USC vs. Brigham Young at 8. It's a double-elimination tourney.

Brundage Claims Rhodesia Not Matter for IOC Action

CHICAGO (AP) — The president of the International Olympic Committee said Friday there was nothing his group could do about a "political-caused" denial of participation by Rhodesia in the Olympic Games at Mexico City next October.

Avery Bundage, 80-year-old IOC chief, said he was notified by cable of the decision by Mexico's Olympic Organizing Committee that Rhodesia could not compete in the Games because of a May 29 resolution by the Security Council of the United Nations.

The UN dictum keeps Rhodesians from entry into all United Nation member countries. Rhodesia has declared its independence from Great Britain which has declined to recognize the move.

"This doesn't concern the IOC or the Mexican Organizing Committee at all," said Brundage. "If all the United Nations agree that no Rhodesians be permitted in their countries, what can we do about it.

TRAVEL EMBARGO

"I understand the UN resolution also urged airlines to recognize the embargo of Rhodesians in UN countries. Are we supposed to get those people to Mexico in moon vessels?"

Brundage recalled the IOC's recent action in barring South Africa from the Olympic Games following an international turmoil and threatened boycotts when that country received an earlier IOC approval to compete at Mexico City.

"Here we have another case (Rhodesia) throwing the Olympic movement into the middle of an international controversy when the cause is political and has nothing at all to do with sports," said Brundage.

"It's a sad commentary on the state of the world, a tragedy of our times, when political pressures can intimidate a truly democratic group which calls for a true brotherhood of man in the field of sports."

Brundage stresses that the IOC action in banning South Africa was not because of that country's racial policy but because of potential violence if South Africa participated at Mexico City.

"Our action is somewhat supported by the tragic event that just has happened," said Brundage in obvious reference to the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Pitcher, Mates Stay Perfect

Two Lopsided Games in Waterford Loop

Doug Hall and his Spencer Floor Covering teammates continued their perfect Waterford Township men's softball performances Friday night in a 10-0 win over winless Midget Bar.

The opener at the Drayton Plains park found Clarkston Appliance routing Lighthouse Lanes, 11-0. Both games were called after five innings under the 10-run lead rule.

Hall remained unscored upon with a five-inning one-hitter, his fourth straight shutout triumph. The victory was Spencer's eighth without a defeat.

After its first two batters were retired, Spencer's broke loose for five unearned runs. It added three more in the fourth. Jerry Carlton had three runs batted in and scored once.

Bob Smith's bases-loaded triple opened Clarkston's scoring and he added two singles to produce six runs in all. Ron Norquist won his first start with a two-hitter, permitting just three Lighthouse baserunners.

The appliance squad is now 5-

The appliance squad is now 5-3 while Lighthouse slipped to 2-6.

Cap Peterson reached second base on the errant relay. The Twins won the first game, 5-3, but lost the nightcap.

Irish Golfer Tries to Win British Title

TROON, Scotland (AP) — Joe Carr, the Irishman who captains Britain's Walker Cup team, met England's Mike Bonallack today in the final of the British Amateur golf championship—a match that shapes up as a classic.

"Life begins at 45, not 40," said Carr.

Joe meant that he now is 46 and playing better than ever. His opponent, a lanky man with a giant's drive, is 33.

The final is 36 holes of match play on Troon's 7,130-yard par 36-37—73 links. The wind whipping in off the Firth of Clyde can change those par figures quickly, making some holes more difficult and others comparatively tame.

LONG PUTT

Carr reached the final by defeating Reg Glading of England 3 and 1 in Friday's semifinal. It was Glading who sank a 40-foot putt on the 18th hole in the previous round to knock out world amateur champion Ronnie Shade of Scotland.

Bonallack's semifinal match was a 2 and 1 win over Geoff Marks of England.

Carr won the title in 1953, 1958 and 1960. Bonallack took it in 1965.

Crampton Preserves Lead

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Bruce Crampton preserved his two stroke lead with a two-under-par 70 Friday, but Lou Graham moved into serious contention with a record-tying 66 in the second round of the $100,000 Speedway Open Golf Tournament.

Sam Snead, who turned 56 last week, and Mike Hill of Jackson, each shot 69 and tied Graham for the second spot at 140 — two strokes behind Crampton.

Tied at 141 were Billy Casper, the PGA's leading money winner; Speedway defending champ Frank Beard, veteran Dutch Harrison and Mike Higgins.

The 148 cutoff erased 1964 champion Bobby Nichols, along with Larry Hinson, who hit 66 in the pro-amateur tourney here Wednesday. Nichols shot 74 in the second round for a 149 total. Hinson hit par 72 but still had a 150 total.

Stefanich Leading Seattle Keg Meet

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., continued to set the pace Friday through three rounds of the Professional Bowlers' Association's $30,000 Seattle Open.

The 5-foot-10, 180-pounder rolled a 1,309 six-game series in Friday's action to raise his total for 18 games to 4,149. This was six pins better than that posted by Vern Downing of San Francisco.

Downing had a 1,464, to move from seventh to the runner-up spot. Dick Weber of St. Louis shot 1,421 for his six games to move from 19th place to fifth with 4,013.

umpire Ed Runge, the White Sox tried to fool Yastrzemski with Joe Foy on first and two out in the seventh.

Joe Horlen threw two outside pitches in what looked like what was going to be an intentional walk. He then came down the middle with a pitch, and Yastrzemski sent the ball into the Boston bullpen in right for his 10th homer to snap a 1-1 tie.

ANGELS-YANKS SPLIT

NEW YORK (AP) — The including homers by Don Mincher and Tom Satriano and whipped the New York Yankees 8-4 for a split of their twi-night doubleheader Friday.

The Yankees took the opener 4-1 behind Fritz Peterson's eight-hit pitching.

Mincher's three-run shot in the first inning gave the Angels a quick lead, and Jim McGlothlin weathered some rough early going to post his fifth victory.

McGlothlin was touched for a two-run homer by Mickey Mantle in the Yankees' first and a run-scoring triple by pinch-hitter Charlie Smith in the second.

TWINS SPLIT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four straight 10th-inning hits climaxed by Paul Casanoga's single gave the Washington Senators a 3-2 victory over Minnesota and a split of a twi-night doubleheader Friday.

Rich Rollins doubled home the decisive run in the eighth inning and Minnesota overcame six errors for a 5-3 triumph in the opener.

Perch Flow Down Drain at Drayton Nature Site

A pool full of perch went down the drain this week at the Drayton Plains Nature Center.

"We drained the pond so that it can be deepened and trout stocked," explained Jim Shea, naturalist at the old hatchery grounds. "The water was about four and a half feet deep and we want to remove about two feet of muck that has accumulated over the sand bottom.

The pond was drained into the Clinton River and that's where the perch are located. The river runs along the north side of the 87-acre property.

* * *

This stretch of the river has been supplying some excellent fishing.

PERMIT NEEDED

Brown trout up to 20 inches, calicos, perch and an occasional black bass have been taken by fishermen who must have a permit.

These permits are free and can be obtained at the main building at the end of Denby Street from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"If anyone wants to come in earlier than our opening hour he should pick up a permit the day before," said Shea. "If he stays later than 5, there will be a box available."

* * *

The permits are part of a joint effort between the nature center and Conservation Department to obtain fishing data. The department will supply the fish for the four main ponds and stock the river with trout.

* * *

In exchange, the nature center will collect data from the permit cards.

ANOTHER YEAR

"The trout ponds won't be ready for another year," Shea pointed out, "and we don't permit spearing or bow and arrow fishing."

Shea, a former taxidermist with the Conservation Department, is a one-man staff at the center. He is the naturalist; guides and lectures up to 600 school children a day; and is the maintenance man.

Shea is still working on the old hatchery building. Live animals are located on the first level and stuffed birds and animals will be exhibited on the second floor.

The center is currently trying to raise $58,000 to pay a loan from the Forbes Foundation. A total of $24,000 has been raised in the last three weeks, including a $10,000 donation from the Ford Motor Company.

Two local businesses — Lou's Automat Car Wash and Airway Lanes — will donate Sunday's proceeds to the center. The drive is facing a June 30 deadline.

Tennis Crown Shared by 2 in Tourney

The Barons of Bloomfield Hills Andover and North Farmington's Raiders are sharing the crown in the fifth annual Walled Lake Invitational Tennis Tournament.

The Barons and Raiders finished in a dead heat with 5 points, while fedending champion Clarkston took third with 12. Farmington was fourth (6), followed by Northville (5), Walled Lake (4) and Pontiac Northern (2).

Redlegs Stop Cardinals

Pitchers Keeping LA in Contention

By the Associated Press

Sandy Koufax might be gone but it's business as usual on the mound for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Picked by many to finish in the second division in the National League, the Dodgers have moved only 2½ games from the lead with the kind of pitching that won them pennants in 1963, 1965 and 1966.

Claude Osteen showed the way Friday night, hurling a four-hitter that downed the Philadelphia Phillies 2-0 for Los Angeles' fifth consecutive complete game triumph.

Osteen started the spree with a seven-hit 2-0 shutout. Don Drysdale followed with his record-breaking sixth shutout in a row, a three-hitter; Bill Singer added a six-hit 2-1 decision in 10 innings, and Don Sutton turned in another six-hitter for a 4-2 victory.

That's 26 hits and three runs in the last 46 innings by Dodgers' pitching. Not bad, without the retired Koufax.

METS SHARP

The New York Mets, who also have shown fine pitching although with less success, rode the combined four-hit efforts of Nolan Ryan and Cal Koonce to a 4-0 decision over San Francisco.

In other National League night games, Steve Blass handcuffed Houston on five hits in Pittsburgh's 5-0 victory and Jim Maloney put an end to league-leading St. Louis' nine-game winning streak with a 4-2 triumph.

Atlanta outhit the Chicago Cubs 7-6 in the only day game.

The good-pitch, little-hit Dodgers managed two runs off Chris Short, 3-7, on Bob Bailey's triple and Ken Boyer's sacrifice fly in the fourth inning and Ted Savage's run-scoring double in the seventh. It was enough for Osteen to end a personal string of nine losses in a row to the Phillies and raise his record to 5-7.

Ryan, who pitched out of a bases loaded, none out jam in the seventh inning, led 1-0 on Cleon Jones' run-scoring single in the eighth before he walked the first man in the bottom of the inning and Koonce relieved.

Ryan, 5-4, allowed only four hits in besting Ray Sadecki, 6-7, who was knocked out in the ninth when Ron Swoboda and Tommie Agee homered. Sadecki thus was shut out for the fourth straight time as the Mets won their fourth game in a row.

Blass, 2-2, turned in his first complete game since June 30, 1967, and it ended Pittsburgh's five-game losing streak, pulling the Pirates out of last place and dropping Houston in.

Roberto Clemente, who set up one run with a single, homered for two more and Gary Kolb added another homer for the Pirates.

EARLY TROUBLE

Maloney, 6-3, had his troubles early, giving up a run-scoring double to Orlando Cepeda in the first inning and Curt Flood's fifth homer in the third, but from then on he had command and finished with a six-hitter.

Pete Rose settled the verdict with a two-run single off loser Hal Gilson, 9-2 in the fourth.

Atlanta overcame a 6-4 deficit in the sixth inning with three runs, the last two on Felipe Alou's homer. The Cubs had trailed 4-0 earlier, but two runs in the fourth and four in the fifth put them ahead.

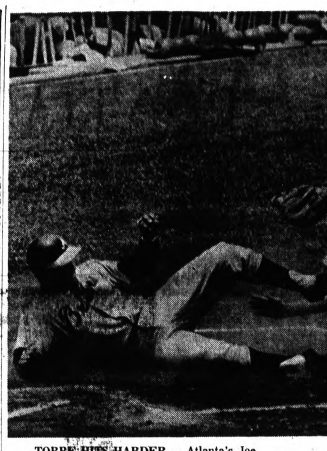
Friday's Fights
By The Associated Press

ROME—Nino Benvenuti, 161, Italy, knocked out Yoshiaki Akasaka, 170½, Japan, 2, non-title; Franco Zurlo, 120½, Italy, outpointed Billy Brown, 118½, Philippines, 8.

MANILA—Pedro Adigue, 135, Philippines, outpointed Sadanori Tsujimoto, 134, Japan, 12. Adigue retained Orient lightweight title.



TORRE HITS HARDER — Atlanta's Joe Torre (left) scores a run despite rugged collision with Chicago catcher Randy Hundley who is turned around by the force of Torre's slide. Also scoring on the Friday afternoon first-inning double by Tito Francona at Wrigley Field was the Braves' Felix Millan (17). Four runs in the opening frame carried Atlanta to an 8-6 triumph.

Tennis Draws Paris Fans

PARIS (AP) — No wonder Jean Borotra, nearing 70, looks so happy as he hurries off in white flannels for tennis practice these evenings at the Roland Garros Stadium.

He has to push his way through the thickest crowds this famed tennis center has seen since Borotra was in his heyday as a player, leading France to Davis Cup triumphs more than 40 years ago.

That is what open tennis has done for the French championships. A sellout crowd of 12,000 watched Friday's all-professional men's singles semifinals on the center court.

That's the biggest crowd yet. But day after day the crowds have been around the 10,000 mark.

"We've never seen anything like this at the championships — even on finals day," one tournament official said.

SINGLES FINALS

Another sellout crowd was expected today for the men's singles final between Australian professionals Rod Laver and Ken Rosewall. The winner will net 15,000 francs $3,000 and the loser 10,000 francs $2,000.

Laver, 29, and Rosewall, 33, have played each other hundreds of times in exhibition matches on the professional circuit. This is the first time they have met in one of the world's major tournaments.

Laver won a 6-3, 6-3, 6-1 victory over Pancho Gonzales, 40-year-old veteran from Los Angeles, in the semifinals Friday. Rosewall fought for five sets before overcoming Andres Gimeno of Spain, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3.

Nancy Richey, United States Wightman Cupper from San Angelo, Tex., defeated her old teammate, Mrs. Billie Jean King, and qualified to play another pro, Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain, in Sunday's final.

What's This! Shutout in Slow Pitch

A rarity in city men's Slowpitch Softball highlighted Friday night's schedule of makeup games: Dog 'N Suds shut out Huron Gulf, 4-0.

Stan Austin benefitted from his teammates errorless fielding to yield only four hits in the low-scoring contest. Triples by Bill Duncan and Bob Vollmar featured Dog 'N Suds' attack.

In the other games, Captain Nemo's tallied an unearned run in the last of the eighth after Al Jenks' lead-off three-bagger for a 7-6 conquest of M G M Cleaners; and 14 home runs sailed out of Northside Park as Wagon Wheel routed the Auburn Heights Sportsmen, 22-13, and Commercial Contractors dumped Oxford's Merchants, 12-6.

* * *

MGM rallied twice from two-run deficits, the last time tying the score on Ed Freeman's two-run homer in the sixth, but could not tally in the final two innings.

3 IN A ROW

The Contractors had successive homers by Bill Maloney, Phil Patton and John Shanks to overcome an early 2-0 Oxford edge and coast to a win.

Nine circuit clouts were registered in the Wagon Wheel-Sportsmen battle. Down 5-1, WW had 11 straight men hit safely and score in a wild 15-run third inning.

* * *

Ron Porritt, Al Pierce and Earl Richardson each hit two round-trippers for the winners with Porritt and Richardson both having four hits. Harry Bartkowiak had a single, double and home run for the Sportsmen.

Hammer Toss Meet Record

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — Aubrey Zilmer of Monmouth College in New Jersey threw the hammer 195 feet 1 inch to set an NCAA College Division track and field meet record Friday, but was bitterly disappointed.

"I warmed up with 217, 215 and 212," he said. "Then I cooled off like mad. I had to wait too long between throws" in the 16-man event, one of four finals run off Friday.

Two of Zilincar's practice throws would have bettered the collegiate record of 213-10 by John Lawlor of Boston in 1960. He did top the meet record 189-5¾ by Alex Schulten of Bowdoin in 1964.

C. B. Course of Case Tech of Cleveland won the discus at 157-10.

Syracuse Club Mired In Last: Seeks Manager

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Syracuse Chiefs, mired in last place in the International Baseball League, were in the market Friday for a new manager.

Gary Blaylock, manager of the Class AAA club since last year, resigned Thursday.

Steve Souchock, a scout in the parent New Yrok Yankee organization, will serve as interim manager until a successor is named, probably next week.

'Nino' KO's Foe

ROME (UPI) — Nino Benvenuti of Italy, the world middleweight champion, scored a second-round knockout over Yoshiaki Akasaka of Japan Friday night in a non-title bout.

Benvenuti had a two-pound weight advantage at 161 pounds.

U.S. Golf Open to Be Seen on ABC-TV

ABC Dives Into Sub Rescuing

ABC News Science Editor Jules Bergman attacks the Navy for relying on "World War I rescue methods" to save the trapped victims of nuclear submarines such as the Scorpion.

In his May 31 commentary on the "ABC Evening News with Frank Reynolds," Bergman said:

"The officers and the men of the Scorpion are almost certainly dead at the bottom of the cold Atlantic. But even if they are alive, trapped in fairly shallow water, there is little chance to find them and no chance to rescue them.

"Even if the Scorpion were found her crew couldn't be rescued in water deeper than 850 feet. Yet our nuclear submarines operate under water at depths of nearly 2,000 feet.

DEVICES LIMITED

"There are 74 nuclear missile and attack submarines already operating, yet the Navy still relies on World War I rescue methods. If Scorpion suffered a radio failure, all she could do was send up a radio buoy with a 25-mile range and with batteries good for only 6 hours.

"Airlines have long since had powerful, crash locater radio beacons — that are automatically turned on in a crash. Our submarines should also carry flight recorders. There is something totally unbelievable when the crews of $150-million submarines have to hammer on their own hulls to be rescued when they're trapped under water.

"The entire nation has been concerned about rescuing three astronauts in space, yet there are now 10,000 American submariners at sea with no real way of being rescued in most cases.

"Five years ago, after the Thresher disaster, the Navy called for a $300-million program to develop a real submarine rescue system.

ONE COLOR

Standing atop their superpowered racing cars, the "Spirit of America" (left) and the new AMX, Craig and Lee Breedlove are featured as the world's land-speed record holders on a Channel 7 documentary Saturday at 4 p.m.

'Mr. and Mrs. Speed' Featured

"Down to Gehenna or up to the throne he travels the fastest who travels alone."

As the jet-powered car thunders toward the distant barrier at 600 miles an hour, the road ahead is a blurred ribbon of shimmering crystalline and the wind sets up a sibilant blast.

In the cockpit of the "Spirit of America," a streamlined juggernaut glittering in the brilliant morning sun, Craig Breedlove guildes the 8,000-pound monster to its ultimate destiny—a world land-speed record.

The story, by now, is a familiar one to Craig Breedlove and his wife Lee, who share six land-speed records—five for men and one for women.

THE 'SPEEDLOVES'

Known to racing fans the world over as "Mr. and Mrs. Speedlove," their saga of triumphs over time and distance is graphically told in a Channel 7 color documentary, airing Saturday at 4 p.m.

At 31, Craig can look back on a love affair with cars spanning 17 years.

At 14 he had already built his first car, and had to wait impatiently for two years until he was old enough to drive it. When he was 17 he won his first speed trophy, for driving a hot rod 103.84 m.p.h. on a California drag strip.

Craig graduated in 1955 from Venice (Calif.) High School, where he majored in drafting and machine shop—two skills he was to utilize in building his early cars.

LANDS JOB

His post school years were spent around drag strips and in working long hours on cars.

Subsequently he landed a job with a Santa Monica, Calif., company that built racing cars and learned many of the basic principles of speed car construction and design. By 1959 he was building a three-wheeled jet-powered car in his father's back yard while working as a fireman in Costa Mesa.

Craig's first "Spirit of America" jet car was built in 1963, and on Aug. 5 of that year he had the satisfaction of returning the world land speed record to the United States by driving the vehicle 407.45 m.p.h.

This shattered the mark of 394 m.p.h. held by England's John Cobb. Thus, Craig became the first American to hold the record since 1928, when Ray Keech posted a record of 207.52 m.p.h. with his white triplex.

ADDS RECORDS

Craig set two more records in 1964, and became the first man to crack the 500 m.p.h. barrier in a land vehicle. In 1965, he drove his second "Spirit of America" through the traps to a speed record of 600.601 m.p.h. on the Bonneville, Utah, Salt Flats.

After posting the mark, Craig said that since he had made his record runs on minimum afterburner, he estimated that he could rev up his time "in the high 600s" by extending the afterburner to maximum setting.

With a reasonably straight face he added, "the 600.601 m.p.h. is about 1,000 times better than 599.999."

Opening lead—♥ J

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

In general, the lower the contract the more variations are possible in the play. At the one level you expect to let your opponents gain the lead several times and can hope they won't find the best return.

JACOBY

In slam contracts you can't afford to give the opponents the lead more than once. If they get in a second time you will have been set.

South was one point shy for his jump to three no-trump and North was quite a bit shy for his jump to six. Not that the contract was hopeless. South had 10 top tricks and would make his slam if East held both the king of spades and ace of diamonds.

The first trick went to dummy's ace of hearts and South looked things over. Should he start by running off the club suit? East and West would have no trouble discarding but South would. Furthermore, play of the clubs would give East and West a chance to see what South's problems really were.

Therefore South played dummy's three of diamonds at trick two and went right up with his king. At this point West could have taken his ace and returned a diamond to set the slam two tricks or he could just have taken his ace and let South whistle for his 12th trick but unfortunately for the defense West had been thinking while South was planning his play and West had come ot the conclusion that South's hand was just what it was plus the queen of diamonds.

In that case, if West took his ace of diamonds South would fall back on the spade finesse for his 12th trick, while if West ducked South might lead a second diamond to make the needed trick in that suit.

But after the king of diamonds held South cashed the clubs and hearts. Then he took the spade finesse to make his contract.

Dan Duryea Dead at 61

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — With a sneer, Dan Duryea shot other actors on the screen and slapped women around. But at home he led a Cub Scout pack and opened his home to his son's friends.

Duryea, who died Friday of cancer at 61, said he didn't want his sons to remember him as "the guy who took the pot shots at Gary Cooper."

In his long career Duryea played more than 150 roles on the stage, in television and in motion pictures.

* * *

In almost all, he was a Western character or a villain.

His female audiences loved it when he belted beauties black and blue.

CHARACTER ROLES

Duryea turned more to varied character roles in recent years. He was a tired adventurer in the movie, "Flight of the Phoenix," and a wandering confidence man, Eddie Jacks, in the television series, "Peyton Place."

Duryea, was a native of White Plains, N.Y. He was graduated from Cornell University.

His wife of 36 years died last year. His son Peter, 28, is an actor, and his son Richard, 25, a talent manager.

Funeral services will be held Monday at Forest Lawn.

Zoe Ad-Libbed Ceremony When Marrying Her Robert

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—When the minister pronounced actress Zoe Caldwell the wife of producer Robert Whitehead, she didn't say the things brides usually do. She exclaimed, "Oh, super!" Pronounced "Soo-pah!"

WILSON

Her bridegroom left the morning after their wedding night and went to California for two weeks.

"I've been with my husband for about 10 hours," Miss Caldwell told me along about the time he'd been gone for two weeks. "I just love married life!" The red-haired Australian-born star who won a Tony for "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" is riding very high in the Sardi's Set. Her marriage to Whitehead followed the Tony award by about two weeks. "I've been having a lovely time signing 'Mrs. Robert Whitehead' and showing off my gold band," she said.

"Marriage is so lovely, I can't think why I never got around to it before," Miss Caldwell went on. "The reason I didn't before," she added, suddenly serious, "is that I didn't know Robert before. He is kind of the wonderful mainspring of my entire life. We first met five years ago through Hume Cronyn, who is Bob's cousin, met again three years ago, and decided about two years ago that we liked each other."

They never actually got engaged.

Gaiety Is Draining From American Life

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It is difficult to conduct a column in a lightsome vein at a time when gaiety is draining out of American life.

WEST

I am not referring only to periods of intensive sadness, such as occasioned by the death of Robert Kennedy. The sour mood that is enveloping this country began developing long before that.

How long has it been since you heard anyone described as "happy-go-lucky?" I have known people who were happy-go-lucky even when they were unlucky enough to justify unhappiness. Today anyone has a sunny disposition.

The United States has attained a level of prosperity never before achieved by man. And nearly everyone is miserable about it.

VIOLENT REMEDY

Public figures deplore violence with utterances that have undertones of violence themselves. "Stop being violent or I'll kill you" seems to be the remedy most often proposed.

Humor still exists, of course, but it is largely of a sardonic nature — the so-called "black humor" popularized by off-Broadway shows, arty movies and numerous books.

The jokes are bitter and carry a social message. Wise men have ceased to relish the "little nonsense now and then" that makes knowledge bearable.

Kennedy was an exception to the trend, being one of the few men in public life capable of engendering a blithe spirit.

HE FELT DEEPLY

This is not to say he didn't feel deeply about the issues that concerned him. But like his late brother, John, he managed to have a little fun along the way. And some of it rubbed off on others.

The loss of his lilting element makes his death all the more tragic.

I'm not certain the college students who flocked around his banner fully understood or appreciated that quality. Young people these days suffer from the same up-tightness that inflicts their elders.

"You've got to be committed," they say. Why?

Youth should be an interlude of high-jinks and tomfoolery. In after-years, there is world enough and time for as much commitment as the human body can endure.

The saving grace of American politics has always rested on our tradition of not taking politicians too seriously. This is why a political assassination gives us such a shock.

STICKY AFTERMATH — A truckload of asphalt with a lid ajar passed through an 11-block stretch of Wood River and Roxana, Ill., yesterday, leaving a wide swath of damage in its wake. Police said the hot liquid hit at least 50 homes and businesses and 400 cars. They estimated damage at $1 million. Truck driver Charles Summers said he did not stop immediately because he feared an explosion.

ROK Troop Leader Says North Koreans Are in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Chae Myung-shin, commander of the South Korean troops in Vietnam, said today he is virtually certain North Korean troops are operating in South Vietnam with the Viet Cong.

In an action 10 days ago west of Nha Trang, the general said, the Korean White Horse Division killed eight enemy soldiers who turned out to be members of a North Korean psychological warfare team.

"One of them had a diary written in Korean in his pocket, along with a Russian-Korean dictionary," Chae said. "We did not take any North Korean prisoners, but we have photographed all the bodies and hope when we do get a prisoner we can make better identification."

The 43-year-old general, who commands the 48,000 ROK—Republic of Korea—troops in Vietnam, said a sweep of the battlefield also turned up several AK47 automatic rifles manufactured in North Korea and a rather crude wooden hand press for turning out propaganda leaflets on rice paper.

EXPERT PROPAGANDA

"But the propaganda was not so crude," the general said. "It was quite expert. It was not the work of a Vietnamese who knew some Korean."

Chae said in an interview that Radio Hanoi had been making propaganda broadcasts to Korean troops well before the Tet offensive, and occasionally the clandestine Liberation Radio has beamed some propaganda broadcasts at the Tiger Division operating west of Qui Nhon.

"All of this has been fairly professional," the general said, "But it has had no effect. There has not been a single instance of a Korean soldier defecting to the enemy or refusing to go on operations."

Chae said part of the propaganda, both printed and broadcast, has been aimed at getting ROK troops to support the idea of a coalition government headed by the National Liberation Front, the Vietcong's political arm, as the basis for a peace settlement in Paris.

'KEEP UP PRESSURE'

"I told my troops the best way to negotiate with the Communists is to keep up the military pressure. We don't care what is being said in Paris as long as there is still fighting here," he said.

Chae, who commanded a regiment at the time of the Panmunjom conference that ended the Korean war, recalled the "two years of bitter fighting that followed the outbreak of those talks."

Aiming propaganda broadcasts and leaflets at the South Korean troops represents a new psychological warfare tactic for the enemy command.

Although they pretty much avoided any direct contact with Korean troops during the big Tet offensive, the Vietcong used numerous propaganda blasts again "the American Korean lackeys" as part of the plan to bring about a general uprising in Qui Nhon and Nha Trang.

NO UPRISING

"The uprising didn't happen," the general said. "Instead, the people applauded then the Korean troops marched in to help defend Qui Nhon."

Chae said he believes the two North Vietnamese divisions operating in the coastal provinces where the Koreans are stationed "are facing a very difficult time for food and supplies. The people are not supporting them even in the villages."

A week ago, he added, one North Vietnamese battalion became "so desperate for food" it moved into a village in daylight to forage for rice, after failing two or three times to purchase supplies from the local population.

The villagers tipped off the Koreans, who surrounded the village and killed 202 of the enemy, he said.

PLIGHT CONFIRMED

Among those captured was the deputy commander, who confirmed the difficult plight the unit had in obtaining supplies since Tet, Chae said.

The general, who has been in Vietnam three years now, had a close call early Friday. A rocket landed in the house next to his Saigon villa. The blast knocked out all his windows, and shrapnel fragments slammed into his bedroom, hitting his refrigerator, piercing some cans of tomato juice. An aide who rushed in mistook the tomato juice on the floor for blood.

Chae laughed off the incident.

Mixed Guard Asked for Murdered Marine

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The father of a white Marine killed in a Washington shooting in which three Negroes were charged with murder has asked for an integrated honor guard for his son's funeral.

"Somebody has to make the first step," said William G. King Sr. Friday. "His death cannot be a total loss.

"My wife and I feel that the time has come when we have to stand up as individuals for what we believe in—for understanding and harmony."

His son, 2nd Lt. William G. King Jr., 21, and a friend were shot and killed Wednesday after an argument with three Negroes in a Washington hamburger shop. Two others in the party were wounded.

LINK DISPUTED

Police said the Negroes identified themselves as being part of the Poor People's Campaign. However, officials said they were not living at the Resurrection City encampment and were not registered as participants.

"I've been able to wash out of my mind and heart any animosity toward Washington or people, black or white," the elder King said. "I have no desire for revenge."

King said he and his wife requested the integrated honor guard because "We want to show that we do not have any animosity toward any color. My son felt very strongly about this."

Killed with King was 2nd Lt. Thaddeus Lesnick, 20, of Fishtail, Mont. Wounded were 2nd Lt. Elsworth Kramer, 26, of Arlington, Va., and Miss Barbara Kelly, 25, of Adelphi, Md.

OSC GRADUATION

The four went to the hamburger stand after attending the traditional last mess, the final get-together of the three officers' graduating class at the Marine Officer Candidate School.

Police said there was an exchange of words after one of the men made a remark about one of the Marine's names which was displayed on his uniform.

The three Negroes departed and then returned shortly and a barrage of shots was fired, police said. The men were apprehended about a block away, charged and jailed.

Board to Get Request for Copying Unit

The Waterford Township Board Monday night will consider a request from the township librarian for a coin-operated copying machine.

Four rezoning requests will be read, but will not be acted upon until subsequent meetings.

Applications from the North Shores Elizabeth Lake Association and the Elizabeth Lake Estates Improvement Association for July 4 fireworks permits will be considered.

Reports will be read from the fire department and from the board's vehicle committee.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Waterford Township High School cafeteria.

Licensing Open

LANSING (AP) — The State Department of Licensing and Regulation reports it now is accepting applications for certification as marriage counselors. The initial fee is $25 with an additional $25 required for each annual renewal. The department estimated there are some 600 marriage counselors who will require certification.

Friday News in Brief From State Capitol

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Governor

Announced he would attend the requiem funeral mass for the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy Saturday at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City.

Vetoed a bill that would have permitted any local unit of government to issue bonds or notes for current expenses on a majority vote of its governing body.

Signed into law a bill to allow intermediate school districts to join in the construction of facilities for handicapped, retarded or mentally disturbed children.

The Legislature

Was adjourned until later this month.

New Rates, Services Due at Bell

LANSING (AP) — The State Public Service Commission has authorized Michigan Bell Telephone Co., to introduce a variety of new, optional services, increase some service charges, reduce rates and establish rates for listings that require special handling.

Most of the new rates and services will be effective July 1. The commission said they will offer most customers either some savings or a wider calling range at lower prices.

One of the rate reductions applies to certain calls dialed from coin telephones within the Detroit, Pontiac and Grand Rapids districts. Interzone calls now costing 15 cents will be reduced to 10 cents.

Among the new services is a statewide "nickle-a-minute" service.

WITHIN STATE

This will allow all residence and business customers to direct dial long distance calls anywhere within the state for five cents a minute after 10 p.m.

To qualify for the rate, customers must pay a basic charge of $2 a month.

Under this service system, as an example, a Detroit subscriber could call Marquette or any other place in Michigan and talk one minute for a nickle, two minutes for a dime and 10 minutes for 50 cents.

Two-way, inward and outward wide area telephone service will be offered for an additional $25 a month. Previously, this bulk-rate, long distance calling plan for business customers was available in one direction only—either in or out.

$725 MONTHLY

The customers now subscribing to the standard wide area telephone service for $700 a month can add calling in one more direction for an additional $25 a month.

A new charge for a semi-private listing will be available for 50 cents a month. Under this service, the number is kept out of the directory but can be provided by the operator on request.

A private telephone listing, previously free, now will cost $1.

A new standard charge for installing a telephone in a home will be $6, an increase of $1 in Detroit and a maximum increase of $2.25 outside.

CITY OF PONTIAC INCOME TAX
OFFICIAL INCOME TAX RULES AND REGULATIONS
ORDINANCE NO. 1573

AN ORDINANCE by reference to the "Uniform City Income Tax Ordinance" as set forth in Act 284 of Public Acts of 1964 of Michigan and to provide penalties for violation of such ordinance so adopted.

THE CITY OF PONTIAC ORDAINS:
UNIFORM CITY INCOME TAX ORDINANCE

Sec. 1. This ordinance shall be known and may be cited as the "Uniform City income tax ordinance."

Sec. 2. For the purpose of this ordinance, the words, terms and phrases defined in sections 3 to 8 and their derivations have the meaning ascribed to them therein. When not inconsistent with the context, words used in the present tense include the future, words in the plural include the singular and words in the singular number include the plural. The word "shall" is mandatory and "may" is always merely directory. "May" is always permissive.

Sec. 3 (1) "Administrator" means the official designated by the city to administer the provisions of this ordinance.

(2) "Business" means an enterprise, activity, profession or undertaking of any nature conducted or ordinarily conducted for profit or gain by any person, including the operation of an organization exempt from taxation as a religious, educational organization.

(3) "Capital gains" and "capital losses" mean the same as defined for federal income tax purposes.

Reg. 3.1. "Capital gains" shall also mean gains from the sale or exchange of non-capital assets ordinarily taxable as, or taxed as capital gains under Sec. 1231 of the federal internal revenue code.

Reg. 3.2. "Capital gains" and "capital losses" shall not include such gains or losses such gains or losses occurring prior to the effective date of the income tax, January 1, 1968. In determining the gain or loss on property acquired prior to January 1, 1968, the fair market value as of January 1, 1968, shall be used. The fair market value shall be determined by an appraisal or other reliable evidence for such assets as corporate securities. The fair market value shall be the closing price of such securities on the last trading day prior to January 1, 1968. The bid price shall be used if quotations are given in this way. If no fair market value can be determined by these means, the following method shall be used:

a. Compute total gain or loss for Pontiac City Income Tax (January 1, 1968 to date of disposal).

b. Compute the percentage of time held since the effective date of the City Income Tax (January 1, 1968) to the total time property was held.

c. Apply the percentage determined in b. above to the total gain or loss to compute the capital gain or loss taxable by the City.

Sec. 4. (1) "City" means the city adopting the ordinance.

(2) "Compensation" means salary, pay or emolument given as corporation or as employee for work done or services performed, in cash or in kind. It includes, but is not limited to, the following: salaries, wages, bonuses, commissions, fees, tips, incentive payments, pay, vacation pay and sick pay.

(3) "Corporation" means a corporation or a joint stock association organized under the laws of the United States, this or any other state, territory, foreign country or dependency.

(4) "Doing business" means the conduct of any activity with the object of gain or benefit, direct or indirect, and includes the:

(a) The solicitation of orders by a person or his representative in the city of goods or tangible personal property which orders are sent outside the city for approval or rejection and, if approved, are filled by shipment or delivery from a point outside the city.

(b) The solicitation of orders by a person or his representative in the city in which such orders are solicited for the respective customers of a person, if orders are subject to approval or rejection by the customer to fill orders resulting from such solicitation are orders described in paragraph (a).

(c) The mere storage of personal property in the city for sale or delivery by the owner not leased by the taxpayer.

Reg. 4.1. "Doing business" shall not be considered to be doing business in the city by the mere fact of maintaining a place of business, establishment in the city or engaging in other activity in the city, merely by engaging in one or more of the following acts:

a. maintenance, by a corporation, of a resident agent in the city;

b. installing or repairing or instructing in the use of equipment or other property sold to customers, by the employee, salesman of such person hired where such activity is incidental to the employee - salesman's primary sales activities;

c. occasional credit investigations or collections by an employee - salesman of such person where such activities are incidental to the employee - salesman's primary sales related activities;

d. exhibiting goods for a short time, by leased employee, at a convention, exhibition or trade show;

e. mere ownership of real or tangible personal property in the city which is not used or employed or related to the activity in the city and which does not produce gross income in the city.

Sec. 5. (1) "Employee" means a person from whom an employer is required to withhold federal income tax under the federal social security laws.

(2) "Employer" means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, non-profit organization, governmental body or agency or trustee or trustee in bankruptcy whether or not taxable under this ordinance, employing or paying one or more persons on a salary, bonus, wage, commission or other compensation basis, whether the employer is in business.

Reg. 5.1. "Employer" means the same as "employer" as used in Section 3401 (d) of the federal internal revenue code of the United States in effect on the last day of the taxpayer's tax year.

(3) "Financial institution" means a bank, trust company, savings and loan association, building and loan or savings and loan association, investment company, small loan or industrial loan company, regulated insurance company, or any other business enterprise defined in Section 581 and the following sections of the federal internal revenue code of 1954, whether or not subject to the federal income tax imposed by this ordinance.

Reg. 7.2. Depreciation shall be computed in the same manner as under the federal income tax laws, except as modified by the state exempt act taken on the taxpayer's federal income tax return for the tax year. Depreciable assets acquired before the effective date of the city tax levied shall be depreciated on that basis. Depreciable assets acquired after the effective date of the city tax shall be subject to depreciation on an emergency basis. Emergency depreciation is defined as depreciation at rates not exceeding depreciation at rates not exceeding depreciation allowable under Section 167 (k) of the federal internal revenue code for federal income tax purposes, but without deduction of the additional first year depreciation allowance under this ordinance, but without deduction of net operating loss carry-over or capital loss carry-over deduction for the effective date of this tax.

Reg. 7.3. "City taxes based on income" as used in Section 7, (2) of the ordinance is a tax for which credit is allowed against tax imposed by this ordinance.

Reg. 7.4. Depreciation shall be computed in the same manner as under the federal income tax laws, except as modified by the state exempt act taken on the taxpayer's federal income tax return for the tax year. Depreciable assets acquired before the effective date of the city tax levied shall be depreciated on that basis. Depreciable assets acquired after the effective date of the city tax shall be subject to depreciation on an emergency basis. Emergency depreciation is defined as depreciation at rates not exceeding depreciation allowable under Section 167 (k) of the federal internal revenue code for federal income tax purposes, but without deduction of the additional first year depreciation allowance under this ordinance, but without deduction of net operating loss carry-over or capital loss carry-over deduction for the effective date of this tax.

Reg. 7.5. "Net profits" means the net gain from the operation of a business, profession or other activity conducted in the city after all costs and expenses incurred in the conduct thereof are determined on the cash or accrual method, on the same basis as required by the federal income tax law of the taxpayer's federal internal revenue code for federal income tax purposes, but without deduction of net operating loss carry-over or capital loss carry-over, but without deduction of net income and without deduction of net operating loss carry-over or capital loss carry-over deduction for the effective date of this tax.

6 Area Men Nabbed in City Gaming Raid

Six men were arrested — two on conspiracy charges — in a raid by Pontiac police at an alleged gambling house yesterday.

Officers of the special investigative unit (vice squad) raided the house at 15 Parkdale about 4:30 p.m. while a card game was in progress, police said.

Arrested on a warrant charging conspiracy to violate state gambling laws were Frank W. Pyle, 50, of the Parkdale address, and Carl L. Frye, 37, of 105 E. Fairmont.

They face preliminary examination June 19.

In addition, Pyle will be examined on a charge of maintaining an illegal gambling place.

Both are free on personal bond set by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Arrested for loitering in an illegal gambling house were Charles E. Clayton, 65, of Box 133, Oxford; George Baird, 47, of 805 St. Clair; Edward Fondren, 26, of 34 Steinbaugh; and Russell Lilly, 35, of 2671 Marlington, Waterford Township.

All pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor charge and were fined $35 by McCallum.

Police said several tables and decks of cards were impounded at the house.

Cyclist, 26, Injured in Shelby Township

A motorcyclist, Gary Kervin, 26, is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens, recovering from an early-morning traffic accident in Shelby Township.

Kervin of 45645 Brownell, Shelby Township, was motoring north on Shelby Road, a half-mile from 22 Mile Road, while a car driven by William Bondy, 22, of 50215 Gravel Ridge, Shelby Township, was driving south on Shelby, according to township police.

One sideswiped the other. An investigation is in progress, added police.

Local Pair Slightly Hurt, Landing Plane

CADILLAC (AP)—A Pontiac couple escaped serious injury Friday afternoon when their small plane hit a ditch after making a forced landing in a field at Cadillac.

Police said the impact knocked off the plane's nose gear and slightly injured the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ossie Gates of 637 Phillips.

The 48-year-old Gates said he had engine problems and had to land the plane in a field near the city's water plant, police said.

Gates and his wife were treated for cuts and bruises.

THINK ABOUT IT!

WHY ADVERTISE!

The late John Wannamaker once said, "Half the money I spend in advertising is wasted. But I have never been able to figure out just which half."

Maybe he was jesting. Maybe not. We don't know. But we do know there are problems in even attempting to do any funeral home advertising. Almost all funeral homes can and do say the same things. The ads usually stress quiet, dignified service; reverent care; sympathetic understanding; reputation for attention to detail — and so on. Actually however, when funeral home services are needed, the selection is nearly always made for reasons of reputation.

Through the years, our firm has earned a deservingly good reputation. Many families already know this. Even so, to better acquaint everyone with who we are, what we stand for, how and what we think, — this new column will appear every week in this paper. Watch for it. Read it. You will find it interesting. . .

Reflections

FLAG DAY

June 14th is Flag Day, a time when our Stars and Stripes mean everything wholesome, brave, honorable, decent, great and small men in every level of our society have an equal share in that banner.

On June 14th, 1777, wrangling ceased, a vote was taken and 13 stripes and a star for each state was officially adopted as the emblem of our United States. That emblem belongs to all, black or white, Protestant or Jew, farmer or merchant, the underprivileged or the affluent. It has proudly waved over our battle grounds, courts, schools . . . wherever men gather in the sincere belief of justice and peace.

Flag Day, June 14, 1967 . . . let the proud banner float from your home. Display it in pride!

Your memory is keepsake,
With which we'll never part.
Though God has you in his keeping,
We still have you in our hearts.
Sadly missed by wife and daughter.

IN MEMORY OF LELAND Spicer, who passed away June 8, 1966. Dear husband, out of the answer. Your absence has brought to my heart.
Have grown fragrant flowers of memory.
To bloom all the years we're apart.
Sadly missed by wife, Goldie.

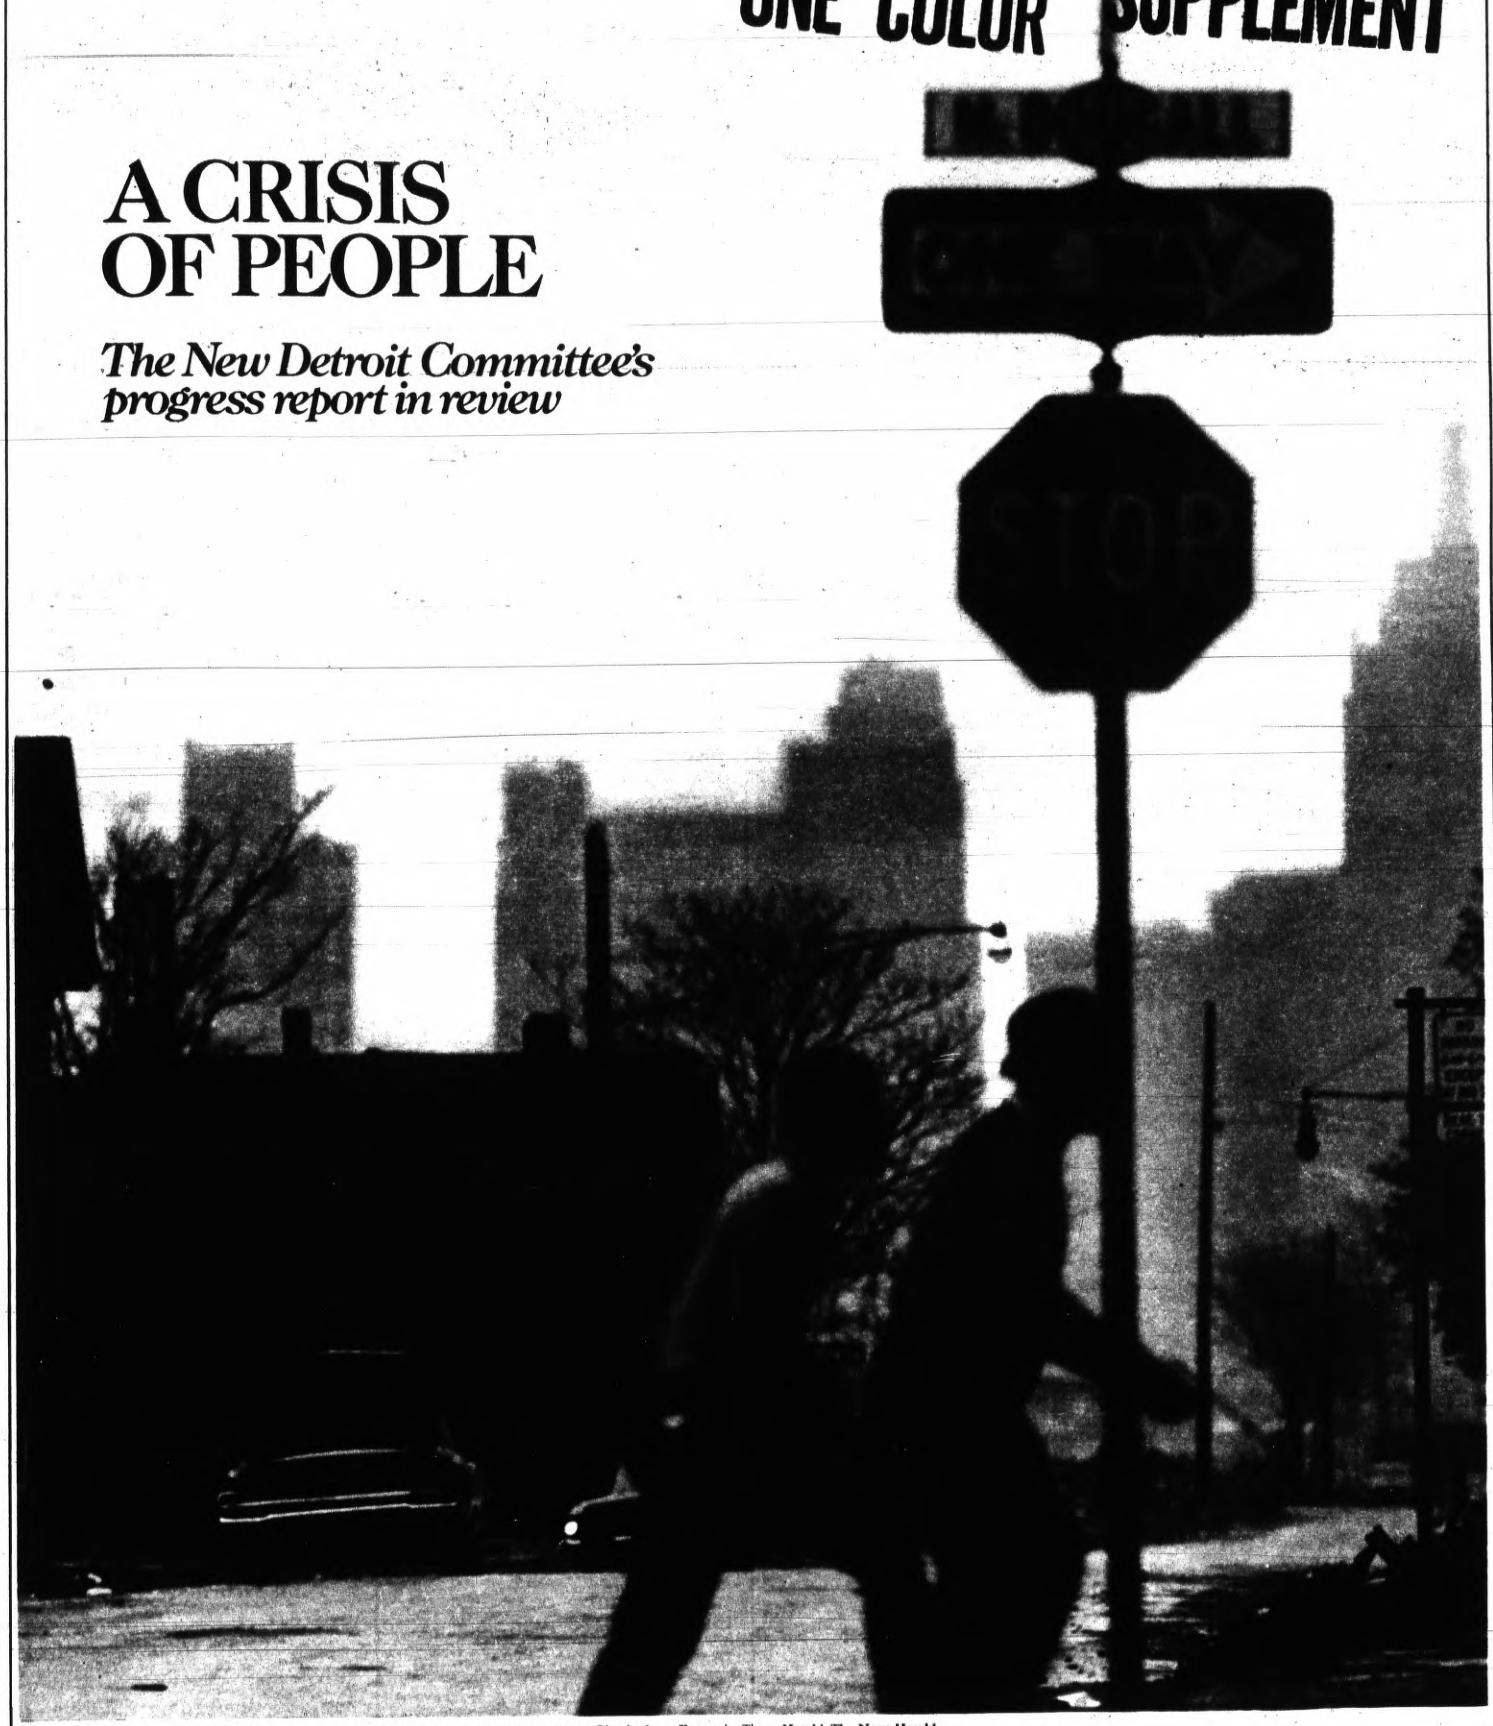
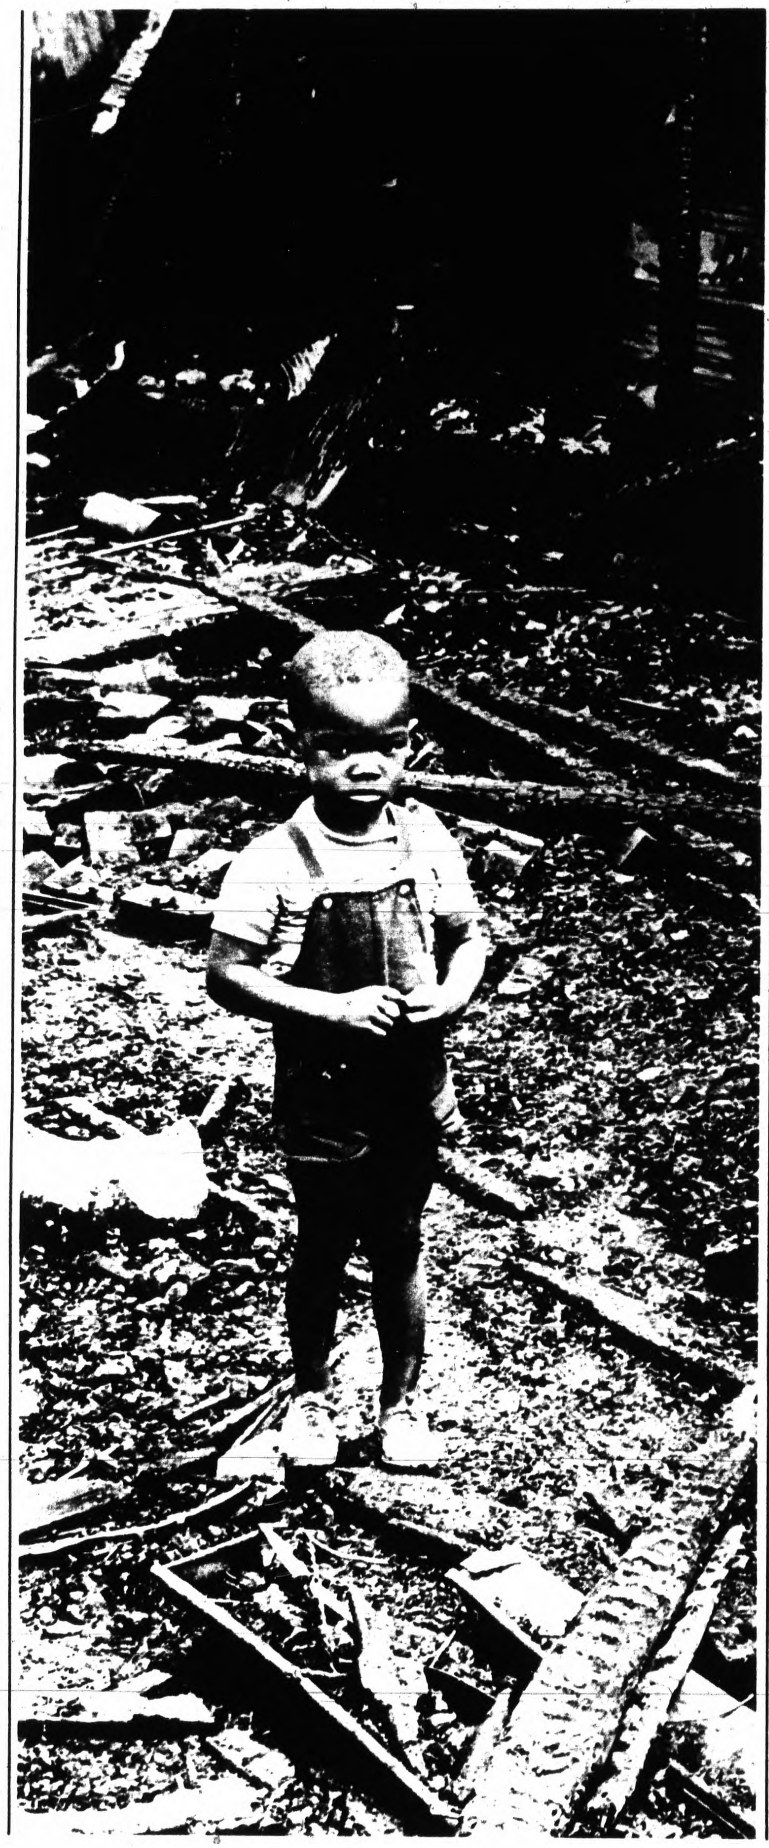
ONE COLOR SUPPLEMENT

A CRISIS OF PEOPLE

The New Detroit Committee's progress report in review



Supplement to: Macomb Daily, The Pontiac Press, The Ypsilanti Press, The Ann Arbor News, Birmingham Eccentric, Times-Herald, The News-Herald, Associated Newspapers, Inc., The Observer Newspapers, Inc., The Courier Newspapers, Inc., The Detroit Shopping News, River Rouge Herald, Ecorse Advertiser



I: A CRISIS OF PEOPLE

What we have come to call the urban crisis is, at its core, a crisis of people and their concern for each other. At its heart, the problem is not how to mobilize a city, a county, a state or a nation into action although mobilization is desperately needed. It is, instead, a struggle to change attitudes and mobilize millions of individual consciences into responding to their fellow human beings in practical, material ways.

In many ways it has been too convenient for many of us to think of the urban crisis as so gross and monolithic as to be only the concern of institutions and agencies, without relating it to ourselves and the personal sacrifice and commitment that will be necessary to change the face of any city such as Detroit. For we, in our dedication or our inaction, all have a role in the urban crisis. The solution to the urban crisis lies in the response of one human being to another. But the time has come for that response to move from mere philosophical commitment into the area of tangible accomplishment.

The measure of this response can be expressed in concrete terms: How much we as Americans and Detroiters are willing to expend in effort and financial resources, both public and private, to bring about a solution. If we are willing to pay the price, in terms of energy and money, the urban crisis can be solved. Such a solution will require commitment from every level of our society, from the personal to the national.

It will require a refocusing of national priorities, and the expenditures of vast sums of money, the channeling of national resources of energy and talent, of good will and patience. No sector of our society would remain undisturbed by the task.

The New Detroit Committee is committed to, and believes in, the proposition that a solution is possible.

The New Detroit Committee believes change and progress are possible, and that programs, people and attitudes can change and be changed.

These beliefs are grounded in the many acts of courage and selflessness and commitment the Committee has witnessed in the past nine months. The first of these began in the very heart of the July riots, and have continued to the present moment. No moment now passes in Detroit that someone, somewhere is not working in a practical, dedicated way in the cause of the urban poor.

Nevertheless, the situation remains critical. Progress has been insufficient viewed against the perspective of the problem. Racist attitudes still afflict society. There have been failures and disappointments. There is little time for further delay.

Detroit in the spring of 1968 is too little changed from the city that exploded into the nation's headlines in July, 1967. The goals of social progress that were enunciated in the wake of the riots last year remain largely unfulfilled. Recognizing the accomplishments of the past nine months, there is still too little that is new in New Detroit.

The accomplishments and the failures of the New Detroit Committee during the past nine months mirror, to a large extent, the accomplishments and failures of individual conscience in Detroit.

In some areas, progress has been made. In others, the problems seem almost impenetrable and frustratingly resistant to treatment.

In every area Detroit must do more.

Perhaps this was to be expected.

The system that binds the urban poor into lives of grinding and demeaning emptiness was not built in a day. Centuries of systematic and diligent racism, neglect, inaction, complacency and flawed communications forged today's urban ghettos. For many years, we have substituted empty phrases for solid accomplishments. All of these barriers, carefully constructed through will and through negligence, cannot be expected to fall in a day. We must proceed, however, as if they could.

In Detroit, no major area of need, no root cause of what was expressed as the riots of July, 1967, has been either cured or adequately treated. Martin Luther King's beautiful dream of a free society of equal opportunity remains the waking nightmare of our urban slums.

To meet the complexity and cost of dealing with this problem, the New Detroit Committee believes federal involvement in terms of great sums of money and leadership will be needed in order to arrest the continuing growth of inner-city hopelessness and despair. Federal control is not implied. The job cannot be done without the fullest participation of private and local interests. But full recognition must be given to the fact that Detroit's problem is the nation's problem, involving a national enterprise of will, effort and resources.

Closer to the roots of the problem, local units of government must learn how to become more responsive. Barriers to equality, both in law and in custom, must fall immediately. A broadly-based pattern of individual community response must be established. Just as in the area of air and water pollution, not much is accomplished if one community solves its problems while only a few blocks away another community acts out its life in another century.

Local government has also found itself unable to meet two of the most serious needs of the inner-city poor—jobs and housing. These are problems that can be properly developed only with the wholehearted cooperation of industry and labor as a solid investment in the future.

Existing agencies must change or be replaced. New local agencies and institutions must be created. In many cases, the very agencies that have been charged with ministering to the needs of the poor have in themselves become major irritants.

In every sector of need new programs must emerge.

Just as in a mosaic, no single piece of tile comprises the entire work. So in the great works of a city, a state or a nation, no single program can do the entire job. It will take many. Just as in the mosaic, although no single piece of tile makes the whole, the failure to provide a single piece leaves the work uncompleted.

We must try, perhaps fail, but continue. We must do this, not because our efforts will put an end to riots, which they eventually will, or because we seek the thanks or gratitude of the poor, which is to misunderstand the meaning of what it is we are attempting to build. We must continue because it is the proper business of America to see that every man has the opportunity to live the kind of life each of us would ask for ourselves, that his children can grow up in the kind of world each of us would ask for our own children, that education, housing, job opportunity and respect for individual dignity be of the highest order an abundant society can provide.

What is perhaps most urgently needed in obtaining individual commitment is a new definition of racism and its implications in white America.

To many Americans, racism merely means active bigotry and discrimination, a charge from which they readily acquit themselves.

Racism, in reality and practice, is more subtle, and wears many masks.

It is hate. It is also indifference. It is the implied inferiority that is practically expressed in demeaning jobs, low wages, limited horizons and the countless small and unremarkable daily indignities suffered by millions of Negro Americans. It takes the form of unexamined values that casually deny status and dignity. It is complacency. It is the passive acceptance of the status quo. It is the belief that because you do not hate, you have not harmed anyone. It is the inability to put on, if only for a few moments, a black skin and look out at the world with new eyes. It is the inability to understand that each of us, in ways great and small, has benefitted because the Negro has suffered.

The New Detroit Progress Report, of which this is but a review and commentary, includes a series of proposals that have grown out of New Detroit's experience and outlook since July, 1967. The Progress Report represents a belief that the citizens of the Detroit area badly need a public inventory and assessment of their sweeping social obligations as well as their present resources for meeting them.

Underneath the cold facts and figures, behind the dry recommendations for action, there are people. We, the people, represent the ultimate agency of responsibility.

The New Detroit Committee urgently hopes that this document will be more than just another massive committee report.

It must represent an embarrassing and gnawing reminder to the people of our state of our failure to fulfill the American dream for the poor of Michigan. We must admit our past failure, and begin again.

It is hoped that this report can indicate the great distance that remains to be traveled. It should also serve as a personal challenge to [illegible] effort that will be needed to achieve a truly New Detroit of substance and reality.

No legacy could better serve the memory of the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., an American who expressed in the works and words of his life the promise of our nation.

II:
A CRY AND A RESPONSE

"Social and economic conditions in the riot cities constituted a clear pattern of severe disadvantage for Negroes as compared with whites, whether the Negroes lived in the disturbance area or outside of it. . . . Powerlessness, indignity, discouragement, and finally blind irrational rage have been the bitter fruit of generations of black frustration. And yet, a Gallup Poll, published on July 22, 1967, revealed that only one white American in 100 thought the Negro was being treated 'badly.'"

—The National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders

The New Detroit Committee was born on Thursday, July 27, 1967.

It grew out of the still smouldering embers of the Detroit riots. It was rooted in the belief that man-made problems, however complex, are accessible to man-made solutions.

The 39-member committee was organized in an attempt to focus the thought of leaders from all segments of the community on practical achievement, and to establish, in the very act of its creation, a small but effective bond of communication where little or none had existed before.

The impetus for the creation of the New Detroit Committee was provided by Governor George Romney and Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, who called a meeting of 150 community leaders to discuss the city's current and future problems.

ONE COLOR

It was this group, called the Citizens Resources Committee, that quickly evolved into the symbolically named New Detroit Committee.

Joseph L. Hudson Jr., president of the J. L. Hudson Company and chairman of the board of the Metropolitan Fund of Detroit, has served as Committee chairman since its inception. Hudson agreed to serve with the understanding that the Committee would be a working group, that Committee members would not only lend their names but their talents and efforts to an enterprise of critical importance.

The Metropolitan Fund, a privately-supported, regionally-oriented urban affair research and coordination agency, provided immediate staff and financial support.

The fulltime staff of the New Detroit Committee was, and continues to be, drawn largely from local business, labor, governmental and civic groups on leaves of absence. Hudson asked from the very beginning that cooperating businesses and organizations send to the Committee only their most talented, irreplaceable personnel.

"If you can do without them," he said, "they won't be able to help us."

With the exception of a few core members of a permanent Metropolitan Fund Staff, all salaries of New Detroit Committee volunteers are paid by their sponsoring organizations.

The work of the Committee is divided among eight task forces, each with its own volunteer, fulltime staff, each specializing in an area of critical need. The task forces are communications; community services; education; employment; youth, recreation and cultural affairs; law; economic development; and housing.

From the beginning, the New Detroit Committee described for itself the role of "causer of good deeds." It had no power, governmental, financial or otherwise, to bring about any of the changes it became convinced were necessary. If progress were to be made, it decided, it could not be dictated.

The Committee operated under three simple guidelines:

1) Aim at helping the community use existing agencies more effectively, both in private and public sectors.
2) Stress actions and achievements, not promises.
3) Listen. Learn to listen better.

The Committee believes that it has learned a great deal since those early days of July, 1967. The Committee believes the roots of this experience should not be permitted to wither. The Committee, once considered a temporary organization responding to emergency conditions, is now a permanent organization. The emergency, for Detroit and for the many urban areas of our country, continues.

Looking back over those past nine months, the New Detroit Committee's public record has been a story of accomplishment, occasional reverses and continuing stalemates. To a public whose great expectations often exceed its appreciation of the obstacles, New Detroit's effect on the local scene may occasionally seem minimal and primarily psychological.

To some, isolated by circumstance and disillusioned by experience, the Committee may seem to represent little more than a transparently predictable "establishment" reaction to a civic disaster.

But to many, the perpetuation and unflagging vitality of the New Detroit Committee as both an idea and an assemblage of concerned citizens has given assurance that change, however slow and ponderous, is on its way.

The Committee, while conscious of the pervasive racism afflicting this nation, sees signs of hope. The Committee has seen people change from apathy and indifference to fervent concern for the well-being of the less fortunate. It has observed an easing of previously inflexible views on housing and employment. It has noted the growing legislative success of open housing measures in the Detroit area and throughout the State of Michigan, with all its symbolism of inter-racial good will. Often, there are intangible successes that cannot show up on the pages of a printed report, but which reflect the changing of attitudes.

Although the New Detroit Committee has placed no special stress on public awareness of its role in programs sponsored and carried out by others, it has been deeply involved since its inception in concrete projects.

It has, in the last nine months, played a role in initiating successful hard-core employment programs. It has aided in changing attitudes and rules influencing the availability of mortgage money and loans for inner city construction and rehabilitation. It has attempted to persuade government, both in Lansing and Washington, to act constructively in the cause of the disillusioned. It has actively and persistently advocated state open housing legislation and support of local referendums. It has objectively investigated a number of governmental agencies, their actions and their policies, which are believed to contribute to the state of alienation and the distrust of authority.

The Committee and its staff have served as an open channel of communications in a frequently divided community, providing some means by which requests, demands and other information can be transmitted.

The New Detroit Committee is no longer unique.

Many other such urban groupings and coalitions are coming into being across the United States.

New Detroit remains closely watched, however, as representing what can be expected from a citizen-based coalition, given the best of intentions and resources.

It has been said: "The urban coalition is facing its first test in the City of Detroit."

Although not by choice, the New Detroit Committee has come to mirror national resolve.

It accepts that challenge, and looks forward to the future with confidence.

III: NINE MONTHS OF ACTION

Since the New Detroit Committee was formed in July of 1967, more than 50 individual projects or endeavors have been undertaken by the committee and its staff members.

Most have produced some accomplishment. Many have been surprisingly successful. Whatever their results to date, almost all have led the Committee to suggest responsibility for future action.

Successful or unsuccessful, the important thing is that the Committee has pursued its role as causer and catalyst.

Many projects were initiated and spearheaded by subcommittees. Others were referred to existing public or private agencies which were already working on comparable projects, or were prepared to handle new ones. In most instances, the New Detroit Committee received enthusiastic co-operation and support, and stands ready to aid these agencies until the job is done.

Many of these projects also permitted the Committee to compute costs, and to identify sources of necessary funding, which will be covered later in detail in a subsequent report.

The following section will undertake to highlight in abbreviated form some of the things that have been happening in each of the eight central areas of New Detroit Committee concern.

HOUSING

The Problem: How to bring dignity into the lives of thousands who now know only blight and decay through the construction of new homes within the means of lower income people and the rehabilitation of substandard housing units.

There are at least 100,000 substandard housing units in the Detroit Metropolitan area, 75,000 of them within the City of Detroit, most of them occupied by Negroes.

The residents of these "homes" are trapped by a lack of mortgage funds barring rehabilitation or replacement, by segregated housing patterns which permit even the least desirable of these units to remain marketable, and by low family incomes which do not permit purchase or rental of adequate housing without some form of subsidy.

For these reasons, the ability to improve their living conditions has passed out of the hands of most inner city residents.

In the view of the New Detroit Committee, this condition and the feeling of hopelessness that accompanies it are prime causes of long-standing civil unrest.

The Committee, therefore, directed a major portion of its attention and resources to the subject of housing. While this problem cannot be solved overnight, it is in this area that the Committee anticipates significant progress and, in turn, significant results.

The New Detroit Committee feels the solution to the community's housing problems rest to a great extent with the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority.

The MDCDA is working toward the creation of $500 million worth of new and rehabilitated housing. It is committed to the belief that community progress cannot be achieved unless there is adequate housing for all.

MDCDA's major undertaking to this point has been Elmwood Park II, 18 acres of land designated for the construction of homes for moderate and low-income families. Sponsored by Ralph Bunche Homes, Inc., with the assistance of the Foundation for Cooperative Housing, the project will feature mixed housing with below-market interest rate mortgages, rent supplements and public housing leasebacks. Provisions have been made for day-school nurseries, a commercial center and a library. Special planning has been made to accommodate the elderly.

MDCDA is also sponsoring, with the H. F. Campbell Co., the demonstration of a new low-cost construction technique on a 1.1-acre section of the old Nagel Playfield. The new technique involves the use of cement blocks joined together with epoxy rather than the more traditional mortar. Some 26 units are now being built.

Plans are now being developed, in co-operation with the Virginia Park Rehabilitation Association and the Virginia Park Service Corporation, for the rehabilitation of four apartment buildings totaling 188 units.

The New Detroit Committee believes that the Phoenix Homes Project, designed to determine the possibility of building modular, mass-produced homes for inner city families, could represent an important breakthrough in the low-cost housing field, and represents grass roots participation at its best. As a major breakthrough in construction techniques, this could provide a significant reduction in monthly expenses over an extended mortgage. The project is co-sponsored by the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit and the Positive Neighborhood Action Committee. The New Detroit Committee, which will follow developments closely in this important project, hopes it will be able to provide assistance and encouragement to future endeavors of this type.

The New Detroit Committee supports the principle of open occupancy in Michigan. Acting as individuals and as representatives of their organizations, Committee members and staffers have worked consistently for open housing, and will continue to do so, despite intensive criticism.

Although open occupancy will have little effect on the many who lack the financial resources to buy homes, it will affect those who do. Whatever the case, this state must recognize its responsibility to open doors too long shut, both literally and figuratively. Hopefully, by the time of this reading, such action will have been taken. Recent action at the federal level should not forestall this important step in Michigan. The New Detroit Committee staff is also developing plans to help implement such laws when they are eventually developed.

As a related symbol of progress in this area, the New Detroit Committee by formal resolution suggests that the phrase "Equal Opportunity Owner," like the phrase "Equal Opportunity Employer" come into wide-scale use in housing owned or controlled by Michigan concerns and institutions.

Even though new construction and fair housing opportunity are essential, great numbers of people still depend on the city's large supply of substandard homes.

The spread of blight and urban rot must be arrested and improvements made. The Michigan State Housing Code, for instance, fragmentally enforced at best, is half a century old and is as much obstacle as help in achieving modern housing standards.

Better code enforcement must be a priority goal. A comprehensive analysis of present codes and enforcement problems has been completed with New Detroit help, and proposals for code revision and enforcement have been prepared for submission to the State Legislature.

In rental housing, New Detroit has found tenants have too few rights, with present law landlord-oriented. Tenancy is a mutual-performance contract with both landlord and tenant supposedly assuming equal responsibilities. Present law prevents tenants, however, from seeking adequate redress of grievances without the threat of eviction. As a consequence, maintenance standards have dropped, and rental profits have risen.

The New Detroit Committee urges the legislature to establish appropriate tenant rights without jeopardizing the position of the honest landlord. When such a law is passed, tenants should be informed of their rights. The New Detroit Committee also plans to take steps to see that enforcement procedures are promptly and equitably applied.

EDUCATION

The Problem: How to improve the quality of inner city education, and through such an improvement produce gains in almost every other sector.

No area of concern has such a wide and pervasive influence on the various aspects of inner city economic life as does education.

In a modern technological society, the lack of a proper education has a crippling effect in life. Improvement in all other sectors has little meaning without a commensurate improvement in the level of education available in the inner city.

The area of need in education is so broad as to encompass every aspect of the field from pre-school to post-secondary school development.

As the Detroit Public School System recognizes, an appropriate level of education is not being maintained in Detroit. The lack of a long-term solution to the school system's chronic financial difficulties raises serious doubt if the schools can even maintain their current level of service, let alone meet the expanding needs of the community. The best motives in the world have little meaning unless they are backed by adequate financial resources necessary to make them a reality.

The New Detroit Committee believes the school system must adopt an approach toward education to provide students with varying degrees of help based on varying degrees of need. Those who have been the victims of deprivation must be given the opportunity—and society its opportunity—to make up these very severe educational deficiencies.

The New Detroit Committee has suggested the study of a year-round school program. The concept of the ten-month school is being increasingly questioned. The Committee wishes to determine if the public school system were operated throughout the year with students attending three out of four quarters on a rotating basis, school facilities would be increased, thus helping to relieve overcrowded conditions in many inner city schools. The New Detroit Committee will seek funds for a comprehensive study of this plan to determine its feasibility.

Shortly after the July riots, the New Detroit Committee began to seek ways to encourage business and industry to become partners with inner city high schools, and to put business resources and talents to work solving inner city problems. These efforts have resulted in several programs of high significance and potential. Both the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and the Chrysler Corporation have already undertaken ambitious and encouraging programs of this type.

Long overdue attention must be given to post-secondary school educational opportunities.

Although the community college concept is one of the most promising tools for progress, Wayne County has only three such colleges, and effective as they may be, the New Detroit Committee feels they are not equipped or designed to meet the heavy demands.

The Committee, therefore, urges that voters seek local and state financial support for Wayne County Community Colleges with special emphasis on inner city needs. It also recommends the private funding of an extension center as promptly as possible, to handle basic education programs, college parallel and transfer programs, career training and high school diploma programs. The New Detroit Committee is presently studying detailed plans for this program, and may recommend lending its own resources to the initial financing of the extension center.

The Committee also recommends that the public schools be so structured as to permit a greater degree of community involvement in the planning and implementation of educational decisions. The Committee believes such involvement will create more positive attitudes toward the schools on the part of parents, which should be reflected in the scholastic performance of the children. Such participation will also provide a continuing check by which school programs can be made more relevant and responsive. The New Detroit Committee is prepared to provide funds for the study of such decision-making.

EMPLOYMENT

The Problem: How to produce jobs and effective employment opportunity for the employed and unemployed and an upgraded standard of living in the inner city.

The New Detroit Committee early recognized that unemployment was one problem requiring careful and immediate attention.

Jobs in the Making; Hiring the Hard Core Unemployed.

It was no secret that chronic unemployment was a serious cause of discontent, and that statistics showed a much higher rate of unemployment among Negroes than among whites.

With the heads of some of Detroit's largest employers as part of its membership, the New Detroit Committee decided it had an unparalleled opportunity to attack the problem of inner city employment.

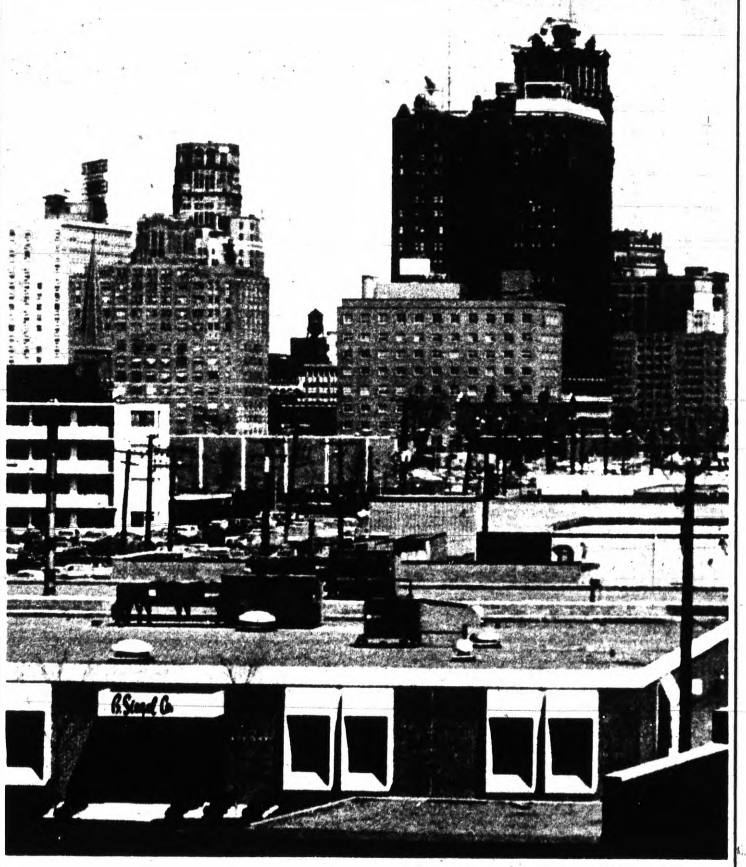
Joining forces with the Manpower Development Committee of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce, the New Detroit Committee aided in starting a program of inner city job recruitment. One immediate result of the joint efforts was the establishment of an inner city job recruitment center at Twelfth and Clairmount, next to the scene of the "blind pig" raid which set off the July riots. At last count, 1,700 of the "hard-core" unemployed had been placed in jobs through this center alone.

Companies like Ford, General Motors, Chrysler, J. L. Hudson and Michigan Bell have all become involved in special programs of inner city hiring. Most recent reports, at the time of this writing, indicate that an estimated 12,000 of the so-called "hard-core unemployed" have been hired by Detroit area firms. This has been coupled with an encouragingly high rate of retention, which, in the experience of several firms, more than matches retention rates through their regular channels of employment.

The New Detroit Committee has also concentrated efforts aimed at placing Negroes in building trade unions apprenticeship programs, in working with the Michigan Employment Security Commission to make it a more significant agency for hiring the unemployed, and with the Volunteer Placement Corps to offer counseling and placement to high school seniors within the inner city. The Committee will lend its efforts to raising the funds needed to continue the work of the Volunteer Placement Corps.

The New Detroit Committee, after surveying 22 companies, learned that too often applicants are being evaluated on the basis of standards, such as physical appearance or marital status, that have little or nothing to do with their abilities or potentials.

The Committee has urged employers to reassess their hiring practices, and design them so they are aimed at retaining, rather than rejecting.



A Major Hope: Economic Development.

COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS

The Problem: How to encourage total participation and solutions.

The New Detroit Committee realizes the struggle to improve the quality of inner city life calls for the recognition of the value of the involvement of people working within their own organizations.

Because of this, both financial and other aid has been provided to inner city community organizations by the New Detroit Committee.

To coordinate the activities of more than 20 separate inner city groups, the Detroit Council of Organizations was formed in August, 1967. The DCO has as its goal to "mold the Negro community into a positive force that is uncompromising in its struggle to win full freedom and justice for the Negro people, but whose struggles are based on the realities of American life" and to "promote and encourage meaningful interaction and dialogue between the Negro community and other liberal forces and groups in the larger community."

The DCO is already publishing a newsletter, developing three neighborhood service centers, and planning a Career Development and Manpower Program, two Day Care and Child Development Centers and other projects. Partial funding for the projects has already been pledged by the New Detroit Committee. A citizens' fund drive and other private and government sources will provide additional funds.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

The Problem: How to develop economically the inner city society has scorned as an economic desert.

One of the most effective and lasting means of getting at the roots of poverty is to encourage the economic development of what has been until now an economically blighted area, the inner city.

If the inner city is developed economically, the New Detroit Committee believes it will provide a broader economic base, a stake in the community and pride in accomplishment. Major efforts are being made toward this goal.

ONE COLOR

The New Detroit Committee has set three objectives: Development of industrial and office centers; development of small business, and the establishment of an insurance pool program to provide inner city business protection at a reasonable cost.

Although a bill to provide the necessary insurance protection is now pending before the Legislature, progress toward the first two goals have been small and ineffective to date, illustrating the difficulties that are present. The New Detroit Committee has spent much time working with small companies interested in building plants in Detroit and with city departments on behalf of potential plant builders. Time has also been spent with Negro businessmen who have problems related to credit and product distribution. This area will remain of high priority to the New Detroit Committee.

To counter the consequences of a serious industrial lag in Detroit, the New Detroit Committee believes development can be achieved in several ways.

First, an aggressive program to bring industry to the inner city can be pursued by the city administration. All sectors of the community should encourage and support the establishment of small business in the inner city with emphasis on shopping and service facilities in new housing developments.

Consumer co-operative shopping facilities hold promise of being of particular value to inner city residents, who often view existing retail establishments as channeling away economic power, providing few jobs and exploiting residents with higher prices.

In keeping with its commitment to and belief in the principle of self-determination, the New Detroit Committee will be prepared to cooperate with such promising ventures as the Inner City Business Improvement Forum, which has set as its goal the development of the economy of the inner city.

YOUTH, RECREATION AND CULTURAL AFFAIRS

The Problem: How to fill previously blighted lives with a portion of the world they have never before known.

As the New Detroit Committee continued its work, it became increasingly aware of the importance and critical need for action in the areas of youth, recreation and cultural affairs. It has found itself devoting more of its time to these matters, and has recently established a special subcommittee to handle them.

Tremendous voids exist in Detroit's inner city, coupled with a glaring lack of cooperation between existing agencies.

The new subcommittee has worked closely with the Mayor's Office, Youth Opportunities Council, the Department of Parks and Recreation of the City of Detroit, the Detroit Board of Education, the Youth Foundation, the United Community Services, the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce, and numerous inner city groups in the planning of a number of programs and the development of several proposals for the summer of 1968.

The New Detroit Committee's efforts in the field of recreation have led to the establishment of a Joint Recreation Committee, comprised of key staff members of 11 interested organizations, to help fill the enormous void that exists in this area.

To date, the Joint Recreation Committee has been instrumental in the planning and development of a number of new recreational projects.

Among them is a program which, it is hoped, will bring together a city-wide program of activity for youth, including four city-wide festivals on Memorial Day, Independence Day, Youth Day during Michigan Week and on Labor Day. Expanded camping programs, to provide 1,000 one-week camping scholarships, are also planned, with the use of Fort Wayne as a camping and recreation center. Businesses are being urged to sponsor youth days and youth programs at reduced prices. Professional athletic organizations are being asked for, and have indicated deep concern, in providing instruction and leadership for clinics and athletic events.

A summer opportunities for youth program will place emphasis on 11,800 temporary jobs for youths 16 years of age and over. Funds are being sought to recruit, train and employ 1,000 inner city youths in neighborhood-oriented projects. The Detroit Junior Board of Commerce plans to form a young people's corporation to provide small grants or interest-free loans to youth groups for worthwhile projects.

Projects are also under study to provide for the possible use of schools during the summer and to establish workshops in the fine and the performing arts, to fill an acute cultural gap in the inner city. Funds are also being sought to permit the construction of tot lots, postage stamp parks and playfields and to provide the opportunity for other forms of organized outdoor activities.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

The problems of Detroit in the area of community services could serve, in miniature, as a description of the problems faced by the entire nation.

The problems are so broad that both the needy and those in charge of treating their needs become infected with a sense of helplessness and hopelessness.

The result: A survival technique of apathetic impersonal service. The opportunities for change become stymied because, although the local needs are great, the solutions are usually constructed elsewhere at the state and federal levels.

WELFARE

The Problem: How to help without debasing.

Indications are that the present welfare system, rather than helping poor people become self-sufficient, serves to maintain the poorest groups in a permanent condition of poverty. This occurs because the system destroys the potential of individuals and families to improve themselves.

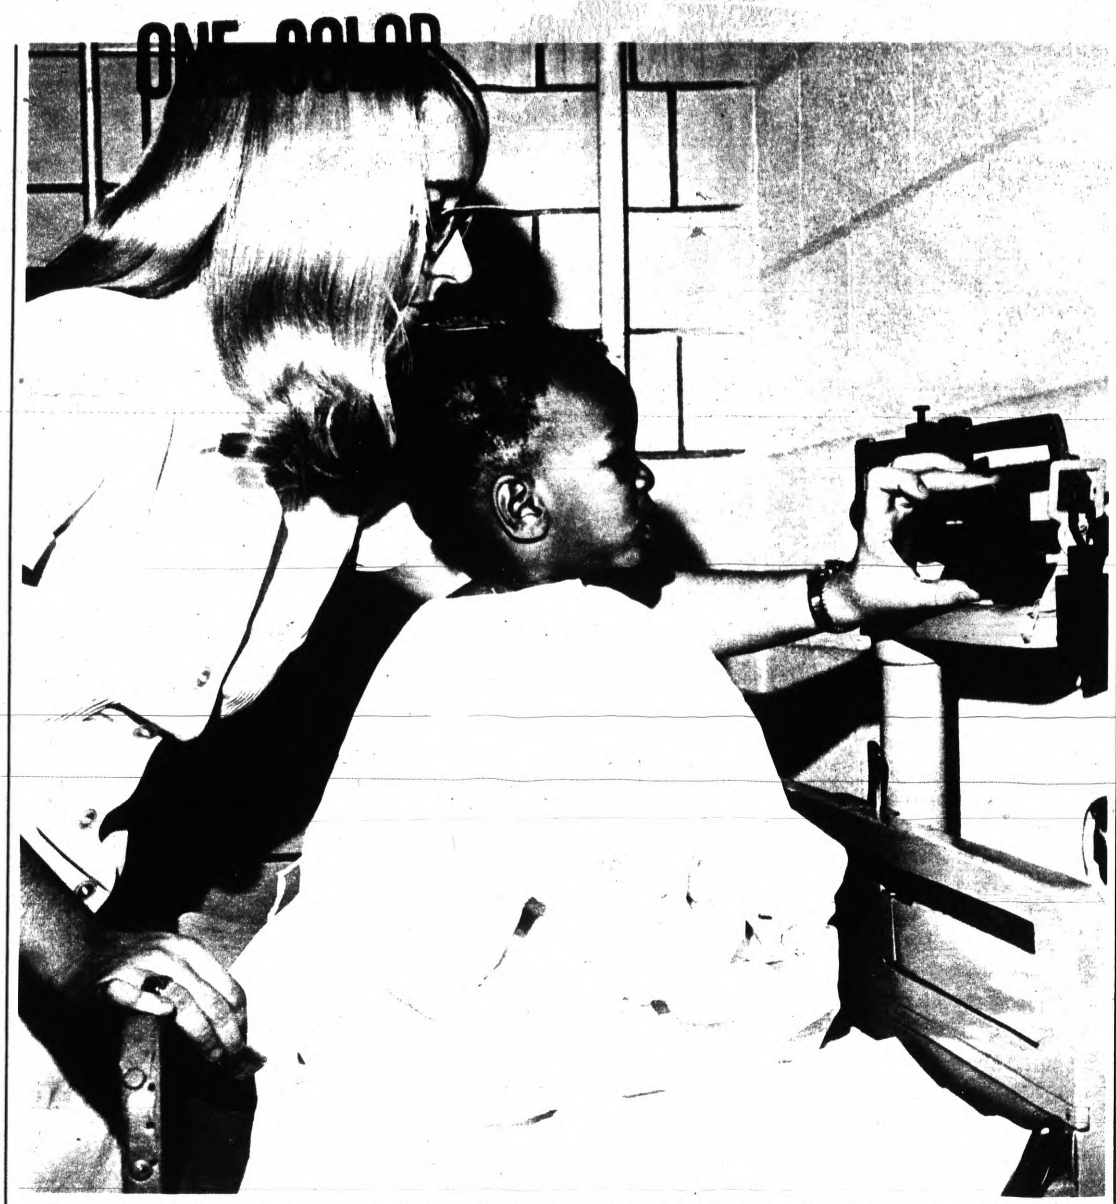
The present system has led to the separation of families, and has contributed to an increase in illegitimacy. It has resulted in the infringement of basic human rights through the search of dwellings by welfare workers. It has stigmatized recipients. It has left recipients without the means to effectively state complaints. It has given recipients little incentive to help themselves.

Additionally, the system in Michigan is economically unsound. The present grant schedule in aid to dependent children, for instance, is based on budgets drawn in 1958. These budgets provide only 70 cents a day per person for food.

The New Detroit Committee has therefore recommended that:

1) Truth of need be assumed for all applicants. Periodic checks would determine continuing assistance.
2) An administrative bureau be established to effectively and compassionately handle all complaints.
3) An explicit appeal procedure be established, and made known to all applicants.

Another problem area in securing adequate social services involves simply knowing how and where to get them. Applicants are frequently blocked by a lack of information. Potential applicants too often do not know what services are available and where. Welfare agencies are themselves often unclear as to what services an applicant can receive.



The New Detroit Committee recommends a systems approach, utilizing advanced management techniques, to coordinate agency handling of individual cases, to plan programs and to accurately measure results. Such a program, if established, would link all private and public agencies in the fields of health, education, public welfare, employment, housing, recreation and social welfare in the Detroit area through a central data processing system. This would permit these agencies to respond quickly and accurately on the basis of all current information as to the needs and resources. A proposal for funding has been prepared and is being considered by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

HEALTH SERVICES

The Problem: How to treat the very serious physical afflictions of the inner city.

A New Detroit Committee staff report effectively summarizes the nature of the Committee's findings in the area of health services to the city's poor. It puts it this way:

"Public health service as it has been applied in the city of Detroit in depressed areas is lacking in concept, administration, and meaningful implementation. Health service as applied at the grass roots level is regarded by the community as being largely dispirited, ineffective, unresponsive and administered dispiritedly. What service there is, is not readily available to those most in need. Treatment, secondary prevention, and rehabilitation services for individuals are scattered about the community and recipients find it difficult to fight through the maze of public agencies to avail themselves of the service to be rendered. Such a pattern . . . leaves the respondent confused, degraded, and in the end largely unaided."

ONE COLOR

The Committee finds in this critical area there is no plan, no order of priorities and no vigorous leadership.

Perhaps symbolic of these deficiencies is the long overdue report of the committee assigned to implement plans for a new Detroit General Hospital. The Committee began work in late 1965, and there is at this time no evidence that any significant progress has been made. New Detroit believes the report should be made in the immediate future, or that the study group should be disbanded and work begun anew.

The Committee further urges the Mayor to involve local medical and hospital organizations, the Wayne County Medical Society, the Detroit medical societies, the Wayne State University Medical School, the Detroit Area Hospital Council and all other public and professional organizations and agencies in the development of a program of service to the city's medically indigent.

In other areas of the health care sector, the Committee believes that the strengthening of the Mayor's Medical-Dental Program is providing one of the few agencies meeting the health needs of the community at the grass roots level, and believes it should be expanded. The program presently provides four neighborhood centers, and although coverage is not complete, all evidence indicates that the neighborhood concept has validity, and is able to act responsively.

Detroit also lacks adequate day care services for children whose mothers work either part or full time. The need of low income mothers is great for such facilities, yet their ability to pay for them is small. The working mother is left with only a few gloomy alternatives. She can leave her children completely unattended, she can leave them with a relative or a neighbor, or she can quit her job and depend on welfare.

On July 1, the need for day care centers becomes critical, as a new federal ruling goes into effect, requiring mothers receiving Aid to Dependent Children payments to be trained for work when judged able. The law provides $4 a day for day care of children, but makes no provision for the additional centers that will be needed. The inner city has very few day care centers. In the Herman Kiefer area, where 5,600 ADC supported families live, there are none. Some efforts are being made to provide new centers, but the need outstrips these individual efforts.

The New Detroit Committee urges that provisions of new legislation that may tend to punish innocent children not be enforced until adequate day care facilities can be provided.

The Committee will also work toward the development of an outstanding day care demonstration model and training center in an attempt to motivate community groups to sponsor similar facilities.

PUBLIC ORDER

The Problem: How to assure every citizen that society maintains a single standard of justice and a single standard of protection for every man.

One of the most dramatic findings of the Kerner Commission was that the relationship—probably better characterized as the lack of a relationship—between inner city residents and the police constituted the largest single irritant present.

Mutual trust and confidence in law enforcement must be established before a climate of progress can be assured. Constructive steps have been taken in the Detroit Police Department: departmental reorganization, proposed neighborhood centers, personnel changes and salary upgrading.

However, basic unrest and tension have not been reduced, if, in fact, the situation has not deteriorated.

Basic to the reduction of such tensions and unrest is the establishment of a single standard of justice and enforcement for all citizens.

This includes:

1) Equal protection of human and civil rights of all citizens in the process of arrest, search and seizure.
2) Equality of treatment by the legal profession and the courts, in arraignment and bail proceedings, in the quality of defense and in the nature of sentences.
3) Non-discrimination in hiring and advancement in all police forces.

The New Detroit Committee believes that respect for the law is the root strength of our society when it is justly and equally enforced.

The New Detroit Committee believes that a review, which last summer it proposed, of the Detroit Police Department should be undertaken, together with an intensive recruitment campaign and evaluation of hiring criteria so as to bring more Negroes into the police department to assure an appropriate and beneficial racial balance. The New Detroit Committee is presently working with police officials to examine current hiring criteria in order to bring more Negroes into the police department, with full Detroit Police cooperation.

In other areas involving justice and respect for rights in the inner city, attention should be given to the establishment of grievance machinery to provide an independent agency to hear and investigate citizen complaints with reference to all government services and recommend immediate action.

Bail [illegible] assure the basic Constitutional right to stay out of jail unless convicted of a crime, should be undertaken. An indigent defendant has little chance of posting or securing necessary bail. In the eyes of the poor, this is an instance of discrimination, and on a practical level it jeopardizes jobs and has large effects on the composition of families.

COMMUNICATIONS

The Problem: How to help people to listen to voices that have never found an ear throughout the entire region, and in the process bring about massive attitudinal changes.

The New Detroit Committee, in cooperation with the Metropolitan Fund's Citizens Information Division, has pursued an active communications program in the firm belief that attitudes can change, and information can be exchanged only when people begin talking to each other, frankly and reasonably.

This program has taken advantage of virtually every media of communications, from a Speakers Bureau to private meetings between individuals. In this way can the myths of racism, some obvious, some more subtle, be abolished?

In the inner city, the New Detroit Committee has conducted a Community Contact Program designed to establish lines of communications between the Committee and diverse inner city groups and insure a meaningful dialogue.

A similar program of communications is being conducted in the suburbs designed to illustrate how the inner city problem is part of a whole that involves everyone, not just a few, and to secure essential suburban attitudinal change.

The Committee has an active Speakers Bureau, which has made presentations to more than 12,000 people since its establishment.

The Metropolitan Fund and New Detroit now issues a newsletter on urban affairs that goes to some 5,000 business, civic, church and labor leaders and other interested persons. Circulation will eventually total 10,000.

WHAT IT ALL MEANS

This section represents only a brief listing of some of the major observations and recommendations of the New Detroit Committee's Progress Report. The full Report itself represents, in the perspective of the larger problem, only a brief listing of some of the things it will take to build a New Detroit.

The fulfillment of these goals ultimately rests in the hands of individuals.

If you have been moved to ask "Well, what can I do?" you have already made a start.

IV: WHAT CAN BE DONE

The past nine months have been months of progress in Detroit. Yet, realistically, measured against the total needs of the inner city, progress has been inadequate, particularly in such crucial areas as housing and education.

It would be an exercise in self-deception for the people of Detroit to believe that any program, however far it has progressed, however large its hopes, has met the challenge to basic unity that faces this community.

This review and commentary is an abbreviation of many important observations and programs contained in the New Detroit Committee's Progress Report. We urge that the full report be read and considered in depth.

The crisis of the city is a complex and costly one. The Committee is convinced that:

1) Detroit alone cannot solve the problem. It will take money in amounts only the federal and state governments can supply. It will take cooperation of both private and public interests to provide steady jobs, adequate education, and decent homes.

2) Various government agencies have been under fire as major irritants in the urban crisis. Much of this criticism has great validity, and the Committee concludes that these agencies will be less than effective in implementing any program until this image is changed.

Crucial to the Committee's proposals is that the President and the Congress of the United States help dispel prevailing apathy and lack of urgency in dealing with the urban crisis by taking action on the call of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders (the Kerner Commission) for a national commitment "compatible with the historic ideals of American society."

Although the New Detroit Committee applauds the passage into law of the new Federal Civil Rights Act, it is clear that the nation needs to move more aggressively to basic legislation that will directly and dramatically affect people.

Congress must recognize, for instance, that no open occupancy provision has substantial meaning while those who are presumably affected by the law are financially unable to actually purchase homes and have little chance to do so in the future. Good will has meaning only when it is accompanied by good works.

At the state level, the New Detroit Committee proposes a similar commitment. The New Detroit Committee calls upon the Governor and the State Legislature to enact legislation, together with the financial backing necessary to support it, designed to eliminate conditions which deprive the individual and cause group alienation.

The Committee's proposals may seem to some to be overly ambitious, but the Committee does not believe that they are beyond the capabilities, the responsibilities, or the will of the people of Michigan.

The Committee's specific action proposals are directed, in addition to the President and the Congress, the Governor and Michigan lawmakers, to the Mayor of Detroit and the Common Council, to the Michigan Employment Security Commission, the Detroit Council of Organizations, to all employers, to the Detroit Board of Education, the Building Trades Unions, and the Detroit Bar Association, to mention a few.

The Committee wishes to lay particular stress on local response, which should receive no less high a priority than action at national and state levels. One of the most difficult things for many people to understand is the tremendous impact of local government and local agencies on the life of the poor in their intensive day-to-day contact with these agencies. Every effort should be made to assure that these agencies and institutions provide balm, rather than salt, for the wounds of the poor.

In order to provide proper local response, both the City of Detroit and the Detroit School District must receive the funds necessary to make a significant impact on the problem.

In summary, the New Detroit Committee proposes:

In housing, passage of open occupancy and landlord-tenant bills, revised housing and building codes, funding of a State Financial Public Housing Program, enactment of a State Rent Supplement Program for low-income families. The State Housing Development Authority Act should be amended to provide non-profit sponsors with mortgage loans of 100 per cent of the cost of housing. Programs to provide social services in housing developments for low-income families should be enacted.

The City of Detroit is asked to seek remedies for housing and building code violations and to unify the city's code enforcement machinery along with a systematic inspection enforcement program. It is suggested that the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority seek development of a minimum of 25,000 housing units over the next five years for low- and moderate-income families.

In education, the Committee suggests the state provide the funds necessary to permit the Detroit Public Schools and other systems to assure an acceptable standard of public education for all our people, and asks support of the upcoming funding program to establish a community college system in Wayne County with particular attention to inner-city needs. The Board of Education is asked to intensively examine the concept of the year-round public school, and to pursue all possible means of obtaining funds for summer school programs for 1968 and the years that follow.

The Committee proposes that the McNamara Skills Center be given assurance of a permanent staff and operational funds, that community groups be given greater opportunities to share in educational decisions.

In employment, all employers of any size are asked by the New Detroit Committee to conduct recruitment programs within the inner city. Building trades unions should make every effort to open their apprenticeship programs to Negro applicants. All employers should carefully examine their hiring practices so that barriers against the hiring and promotion of inner-city residents can be eliminated.

In health and medicine, cooperation is urged of all major health and hospital associations and organizations to develop a comprehensive program for Detroit's medically indigent. Construction of a new Detroit General Hospital is strongly recommended. Support for the Mayor's Medical-Dental Program should be provided until it can be replaced by programs more responsive to neighborhood needs.

In law, the entire area of criminal justice in the state should come under review. Alternatives should be found to the money bail system. Rehabilitation homes for juvenile delinquents should be developed. Additional judges and probation officers are needed. Efforts to improve police-community relations are of the highest priority and are keyed to police performance and basic understanding of inner-city problems. Governmental agencies should be made more responsive to citizens' complaints through the establishment of an effective grievance system to improve communications and to end the mutual isolation of government and the poor.

In the area of public assistance, existing public welfare policies and practices should be carefully examined and revised, with particular attention to nonpunitive treatment of ADC mothers.

In communications, the Committee urges that channels between all segments of the Detroit area be kept open. In pursuit of this goal, and, most importantly, to provide a basis for massive attitudinal changes, the New Detroit Committee's communication subcommittee, working through Metropolitan Fund's Citizen Information Division, plans to put increasing emphasis on the new Comprehensive Suburban Communications Project, which is designed to serve as a generator and stimulator of action in promoting understanding and in bringing together diverse groups in meeting the urban crisis. The program is designed to operate through state and local government, church and volunteer groups, the communications media, schools and individuals —employing film showings, group discussions, exchange programs, a newsletter, and other methods. Although the program is new, it has already through its Speakers Bureau alone made presentations before more than 12,000 people. The figure is of particular significance since the New Detroit Committee's Speakers Bureau has not yet actively sought speaking engagements. New Detroit Committee members and task force members have been appearing at the request of interested groups.

In youth and recreation activities, the New Detroit Committee hopes to involve all Detroit public and private agencies in the New Detroit Summer Program, a specially developed and massive program of employment, education, recreation and culture for the city's young people, with special emphasis on the inner city. The Committee plans to press for the acquisition of federal funds for recreation leader training, the establishment of inner-city workshops in the fine and performing arts, the utilization of school buildings for recreation activities in the summer months, and for the establishment of small parks in the inner city.

The New Detroit Committee is pledged to the continuation of its current programs.

In addition, examinations are planned in the near future in such matters as the use of city firemen as detection squads to identify and expose substandard housing conditions; public transportation from the inner city to outlying employment centers; changes in the system of electing school board and common council members to assure more acceptable representation for inner-city and minority residents; on-the-job training programs; job simulation as a training technique; organizational changes in the Detroit Public School system; establishment, on a demonstration basis, of an all-Negro house building corporation with building trade union cooperation; housing financing; job upgrading for members of minority groups; long-range summer recreation and basic welfare programs.

CONCLUSIONS

The New Detroit Committee is not a "super agency."

It cannot mandate programs into being, much as it might like on occasion to be able to do so.

It can only attempt to motivate and to persuade.

Whether or not any or all of the programs outlined here are accomplished rests inevitably with the people and their determination and influence on the various components of organized society—government, civic, labor, business, church and home.

The New Detroit Committee is an experiment in attempting to solve the conflicts of a society by democratic, constructive means.

As such, it has determined to stay in existence to serve as a focal point for those who believe in overcoming the problems facing our city.

This does not mean that the Committee intends to duplicate or supersede any private or public agency now in operation. It simply means the Committee will continue to serve as a coordinating agent to help spread the solution of social problems facing the City of Detroit.

The New Detroit Committee is committed to changing what has seemed until now to be the unchangeable.

We call upon the people of Southeastern Michigan to join us in that commitment. The problem is not Theirs, but Ours.

Our region, as does our nation, faces a period of years of severe trial.

New Detroit has not effected permanent change.

We hope that this report, however, will help move us toward a fairer and more just society. To this end we hope that every citizen will read the full report, and be moved to act upon it to the full extent of individual conscience and responsibility.

EPILOGUE

Although overall progress in the urban crisis often may seem frustratingly slow and hesitant, advances in specific areas provide encouraging evidence that constructive action is being taken in Detroit.

Since the original publication of its Progress Report in mid-April, in addition to those accomplishments listed in the report, the New Detroit Committee has assisted in bringing a number of efforts into being that provide the basis of hope and encouragement for those involved in working for the progress of this urban area.

For example, in the field of youth activities alone, two major developments involving activities of the New Detroit Committee have recently been announced.

These include the announcement by Mayor Jerome Cavanagh of a city-wide summer program of recreational projects, cultural events, classroom activities, special projects and summer jobs, all with a heavy emphasis on the needs of the inner city. The United Foundation, the United Community Services and the New Detroit Committee have joined in pledging a special $600,000 grant to help finance the program, designed, also, at providing 12,000 jobs for inner city youth during the summer. The city's plans include the construction of new park areas and playgrounds, the promotion of neighborhood cleanup drives and neighborhood art festivals and other activities, and plans for concerts, talent shows, art workshops, drama groups, camp projects and special trips.

The New Detroit Committee has also extended a $100,000 grant to the Volunteer Placement Corps to continue its valuable work of placing graduating seniors from Detroit inner city high schools in universities, apprenticeship training programs and jobs. The New Detroit grant will allow the Corps to expand activities and provide placement services for 5,000 graduating students in 10 inner city schools in the 1968-69 school year.

In the crucial field of communications, the New Detroit Committee has co-sponsored a major Suburban Media Seminar at Oakland University. The seminar, attended by representatives of suburban radio and television stations and newspapers, was designed to illustrate the critical role understanding plays in relating the suburbs to the urban experience. A similar role has been undertaken by the Suburban Action Centers of the Interfaith Action Council, which are supported in part by a grant from New Detroit. The centers have begun to disseminate information aimed at fostering understanding between the suburbs and the inner city, tailoring their activities to individual community needs and attitudes.

In another area of communications, the New Detroit Committee is now beginning to distribute for showings before concerned groups a specially produced film, "The Black Eye," which is aimed at providing an inside view of inner city life and attitudes.

The Committee has also participated in the financing of the Interfaith Action Council's Southeastern Michigan Community TV Forum, a series of five locally produced television programs on urban problems and racial understanding so structured as to not only provide informative viewing but to provoke discussions by small, informal groups.

Another promising program, "Focus: Summer Hope," has received New Detroit financial backing. The multiphase "Focus: Summer Hope" is designed to achieve attitudinal changes through relevant programs that range from mass urban crisis training sessions to retail shopping surveys.

In education, the New Detroit Committee has provided immediate financial support for a $400,000 public school program designed to serve 20,000 children in summer school. The three-stage program will provide scholarships for 8,000 students, provide special remedial and tutorial instruction and provide support for a Junior High Work Training Program.

The Committee also has approved immediate funding for the establishment of a six-month demonstration "Education for Life" school aimed at the re-assimilation of 100 students, who had either been suspended or dropped out of school, into the Highland Park High School System.

Action-oriented programs such as these lead the New Detroit Committee to believe that progress is possible for those who seek it, and that although we live in an age of crisis, we also live in an age of vital change.

Johnson at Kennedy Funeral

NEW YORK (AP) — The President, four men seeking that office, world and national figures and leaders from all fields gathered in the splendor of St. Patrick's Cathedral today for a solemn Requiem for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, slain as he sought the presidency once held by his assassinated brother.

President Johnson, accompanied by his wife, flew from Washington to join mourners at the funeral Mass celebrated by Archbishop Terence J. Cooke of New York.

Four men who sought the presidency with Kennedy were seated in the great cathedral — Vice President H. Humphrey, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The body of the slain senator was to be borne to Washington in a 21-car train carrying about 1,000 persons. Burial in Arlington National Cemetery will be below and to the side of his brother's, in an open space near two Japanese magnolias, a family spokesman said.

Among the 2,100 persons invited to the funeral were representatives of at least 50 foreign nations.

Vice President Humphrey led an official delegation of 69 senators and 40 representatives to the funeral. The House delegation is all 40 representatives from New York.

James M. Roche, chairman of the board of directors and chief executive officer of General Motors Corp. attended the service.

The final blessing over the sealed Kennedy casket will be pronounced by Richard Cardinal Cushing, 72, an old friend of the Kennedy family.

N.Y. PHILHARMONIC

Leonard Bernstein led the New York Philharmonic orchestra in the slow movement of Gustav Mahler's Fifth Symphony.

The eldest son of Sen. Kennedy and his last surviving brother were among the pallbearers.

There also was U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman; former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara; Lord Harlech, former British ambassador to the United States; and former astronaut John Glen.

Among the ushers; Pierre Salinger, former presidential press secretary; Kenneth O'Donnell, former White House aide; Paul Fay, former undersecretary of the Navy; Roosevelt Grier of the Los Angeles Rams and Rafer Johnson, former Olympic decathlon champion, both of whom helped seize the alleged assassin.

The funeral train is to arrive at Union Station in Washington at about 4:30 p.m. Six Navy pall-bearers will carry the coffin to the hearse for the 4.6-mile trip to Arlington, expected to take about 30 minutes at 10 miles an hour.

Candidates, Issues In Hands of Voters

Monday is decision day for voters in Pontiac, Waterford and 18 other area districts on local school board and Oakland Community College trustee candidates and millage and bond proposals.

More than 37,000 Pontiac School District voters are eligible to go to the polls to elect one out of four candidates to replace James L. Howlett for a four-year term.

Candidates are Pontiac attorney Christopher C. Brown, Sylvan Lake Mayor Fred P. Crossman, Pontiac attorney John K. Irwin Jr. and Francis M. Webster Jr., general chairman of the School didstrict's Finance Study Council.

In Waterford, six candidates are seeking two 4-year terms on the board of education and two are competing for one 2-year seat.

NOT RUNNING

Two board members, John D. Boardman and Robert E. Field, are not seeking reelection.

Waterford candidates are Edward J. Kuhn, William D. Motzny, Frank A. Lane, Louis H. Schimmel Jr., Harry L. Smith, Robert Carr, Mrs. Peggy Wood and incumbent Philip M. Hampton.

Thirteen of the 18 area school districts are holding millage and bond elections, many of them trimmed down versions of earlier issues which were defeated.

Several of the districts are having financial woes. Defeated millage property tax increases are certain to mean cutbacks in school programs in many instances.

OCC TRUSTEES

Voters in each of the 28 school districts in Oakland County will have an opportunity to vote for three out of 13 candidates for six-year terms on the Oakland Community College Board of Trustees.

Both incumbents, David W. Hackett and Gordon C. Henderson, are in the race. A candidate will be selected to fill a new seventh seat on the board to eliminate tie votes.

Polls in all school districts will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Mines Explode; Five Die in Iowa

BURLINGTON, Iowa (AP) — An explosion at the Iowa Army Ammunition Depot—the third in less than a year—killed five men yesterday.

The blast, in a warehouse where land mines were stored, blew apart the building's tile walls and part of the roof.

George Mathes, assistant plant manager, said relatively few of the concussion mines exploded. Adjacent warehouses were not damaged, he said.

Four of the victims were Gary Wayne Lawrence, 24, of Lomax, Ill.; Gary Raymond Young, 23, of Keokuk, Iowa; Robert L. Walker, 23, of Burlington, and Willis Bogan Henson, 37, of Stronghurst, Ill.

NAME WITHHELD

The name of the fifth victim was withheld pending notification of relatives, who were traveling.

Mathes said there were no reports of others being injured. More than 7,600 persons are employed at the plant, which is on a 20,000-acre site about seven miles west of Burlington.

The plant commander, Lt. Col. Frank O. Munn, said a gate keeper was within 500 feet of the building when it exploded, but he was not hurt.

On June 22, 1967, an explosion at the plant killed four women workers and injured four others. Two persons were injured in another blast last May 2.

The plant is operated for the Army by Mason and Hangar-Silas Mason Co., Inc., of Lexington, Ky. The firm has operated the plant since 1951.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today and tonight, both 10, Sunday 20.

Sirhan Charged in Killing; 'Mystery Woman' Not Held

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan has been arraigned on a charge of murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in a hearing held behind an unprecedented wall of security.

Meanwhile, a girl who identified herself as the "mystery woman in the polka-dot dress" called sheriff's officers and said she wanted to talk to them. She was released after questioning.

Sirhan, 24, calm and composed, sat yesterday in the chapel of Los Angeles County men's jail as a deputy district attorney read the murder indictment, returned an hour and two minutss earlier by the county grand jury.

The indictment said the slight, olive-complexioned native of Jordan did "wilfully, unlawfully, feloniously and with malice aforethought murder Robert Francis Kennedy."

The judge ordered Sirhan to return to court June 28 to enter a plea and agreed to a defense request that he be examined by two psychiatrists before that date.

SPELLED OUT

Superior Court Judge Arthur L. Alarcon, using the blond hardwood chapel altar as a temporary court bench, spelled out for Sirhan his constitutional right to a fair, speedy trial.

Then, Alarcon ordered all police, attorneys, court officials and witnesses to say nothing about the case or release any evidence that might in any way jeopardize Sirhan's right to a fair trial.

Just as the grand jury was formally charging Sirhan with murder, a girl who identified herself as the "girl in the polka dot dress" sought by Los Angeles police called sheriff's officers and said she wanted to talk to them.

HEARD SHOTS

Kathy Fulmer, 19, a Los Angeles dancer, told Sheriff Peter J. Pitchess and newsmen she had seen Sirhan watching Kennedy before the shooting, heard the shots, and then rushed from the Ambassador's Embassy Room in near-hysteria shouting, "They shot him!"

A Kennedy campaign worker had told police she heard a young blonde woman say, "We shot him."

Miss Fulmer said she did not know Sirhan.

Man With Gun Is Held

NEW YORK (AP) — A man with a gun was arrested as he entered St. Patrick's Cathedral today about 15 minutes before President Johnson arrived to attend a Requiem Mass for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Police said the man was searched as he tried to enter the main door of the cathedral. He was taken to a nearby police station.

He was not identified, but police described him as a printer from Syracuse, N. Y.

WASHINGTON (AP)—James Earl Ray, chief suspect in the slaying of Martin Luther King Jr., has been arrested in London, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark announced today.

Fed Puts Brake on Speculation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board, moving to slow speculation in stocks, now requires that persons buying stocks and convertible bonds on credit make bigger down payments.

The board raised the down payment to 80 per cent of the purchase price on stocks and 60 per cent on bonds which can later be converted into stock.

The old margin requirements were 70 per cent on stocks and 50 per cent on bonds.

Although the new requirements went into effect today the first practical effect will come Monday when the stock exchanges reopen.

NATIONAL EXCHANGES

The new credit restrictions apply only to new loans by brokers, banks and other lenders to buy or carry stocks and convertible bonds listed on national stock exchanges.

In New York, Robert W. Haack, president of the New York Stock Exchange, said the move appears to be cautionary to prevent excessive speculation. He called it constructive.

The American Stock Exchange said the board acted in the interests of the economy.

Under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the board has power to fix margin requirements to prevent excessive use of credit in stock buying.

It said margin credit of brokerage customers jumped $200 million during April, raising the total outstanding credit at brokerage firms to $6.4 billion.

Woman Dies After Heart Transplant

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The first heart to be transplanted to a woman functioned satisfactorily for an hour and a half last night at Dallas' Parkland Hospital before it failed for "unknown reasons."

Mrs. Esther Matthews, a 41-year-old Dallas Negro mother of five, died at 9:30 p.m., four hours and 45 minutes after the transplant was begun by a team of surgeons from the University of Texas' Southwestern Medical School.

The heart came from a white man, Bobby Wayne Blocker, 26, a Euless, Tex., used car dealer, who died 47 minutes before the transplant begin.

Blocker, married and the father of two, had been injured Wednesday in a Dallas automobile accident that killed three other young men.

De Gaulle Economics Denounced by Foes

PARIS (AP) — Labor and opposition political leaders are using epithets ranging from "hollow" to "outrageous" to denounce the reform plan President Charles de Gaulle proposed Friday as better than capitalism or communism.

Thousands of French auto and metallurgy workers still were on strike, although millions of other workers were preparing to go back to their jobs at substantially higher wages won in the general strike that paralyzed France.

De Gaulle's "third solution," offered in a nationwide broadcast, was "participation," presumably meaning workers and managers would share in the profits and control of businesses.

This, he said, was better than the "moral and material constraint" and perpetual dictatorship of communism, and the "alienation" of the capitalist system.

APPEALS FOR SUPPORT

De Gaulle appealed for massive public support of his proposals in the June 23-30 elections and said everything depends on the voting results—"the republic, liberty, progress, independence and peace.

"If the (election) results are bad, all is lost," the 77-year-old president declared.

Georges Seguy, Communist leader of France's largest worker syndicate, called de Gaulle's reform plans for business and education "hollow formulas that are not the stuff to satisfy the workers."

'OUTRAGEOUS DEMAGOGY'

Socialist leader Guy Mollet described the proposal as "picturesque" and Communist party Secretary-General Waldeck Rochet accused de Gaulle of "outrageous social demagogy."

De Gaulle has spoken on and off the past 20 years about "participation."

The president did not spell out precisely how his plan would work, but he did make it clear "participation" did not mean that employes would operate businesses.

Employers have felt the plan would diminish their management authority.

The General Confederation of Small Businesses declared Friday night that de Gaulle's plan "must not interfere with either the initiative or the authority of business owners because they and they alone bear the financial risks of their activity."

Vietcong Offensive is Flaring in Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Light, scattered fighting flared in two sections of Saigon today and a fifth day of enemy shelling sent the civilian toll to 196 killed and 672 wounded in the five weeks of the enemy "peace talks" offensive.

A member of the South Vietnamese House of Representatives, Ngo Cong Duc, called for a halt in the U.S.-North Vietnamese negotiations in Paris if the Vietcong continues shelling civilian areas.

The civilian casualties have resulted both from shellings and street fighting, government officials said.

In today's clashes, South Vietnamese army casualties were reported extremely light. The government troops reported killing 12 Vietcong soldiers and capturing 13 in Cholon, the Chinese district in southwestern Saigon.

Government spokesmen said five Vietcong soldiers surrendered in the northeastern suburb of Gia Dinh and one told interrogators that government troops had wounded a regimental commander and a deputy battalion commander in the Cholon fighting. The deputy battalion commander had been reported killed in today's fighting.

The enemy battalion commander was reported killed earlier i nthe week.

The new fighting suggested that fresh Viet Cong troops may be surfacing. Reports earlier this week said fresh enemy troops disguised in civilian clothes were infiltrating into Cholon to reinforce Vietcong units which lost 146 men killed in the last three days, according to government figures.

In central Saigon, two gunmen on a motorbike, believed to be Vietcong assassins, killed a South Vietnamese army lieutenant today half a block from the house of U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

Top S. Viet Honor to Westmoreland

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland today recieved South Vietnam's highest decoration from President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Thieu embraced the general as he pinned the Vietnamese National Order First Class on Westmoreland.

Westmoreland, who has been commander of American forces in South Vietnam for more than four, leaves next week to become the Army's chief of staff in Washington.

Disobedience Okayed

NEW YORK (AP) — The general board of the National Council of Churches has adopted a policy statement approving peaceable civil disobedience.

The board, in a statement yesterday on "religious obedience and civil disobedience," said civil disobedience means delberate, peaceable violation of a law deemed unjust in relation to conscience or a higher law.

U.S., N. Viets End Week of Stalemate

PARIS (AP) — U.S. and North Vietnamese negotiators probing the possibility of de-escalating the war in Vietnam are winding up one of their least active weeks to date.

W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance of the U.S. team are both in the United States to attend the funeral of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

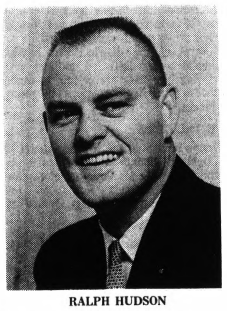
The Paris talks opened May 13. In four weeks the negotiators have held seven meetings. They are now in their longest recess — from a session last Wednesday to another scheduled for next Wednesday.



RALPH HUDSON

Waterford Man in County Race

A candidate who believes in the county-manager form of government under the new redistricting system for Oakland County has announced that he will seek the Waterford Township District 25 post.

Ralph Hudson, 33, of 3920 Dill, Waterford Township, has filed nominating petitions on the Democratic ticket for the position of county supervisor.

A salesman-pilot for Aerodynamics Inc. (Beech Aircraft distributors for the state of Michigan), Hudson is married and has four children, aged three to eight.

A lifelong county resident, he attended Lake Orion schools, Flint Junior College and was graduated from the Arme School of Aeronautics at Fort Worth, Tex.

ACTIVE DEMOCRATIC

He has served as vice chairman of the Orion Township Democratic Party and was the city of Pontiac's delegate to the Oakland County Democratic Party.

Hudson served with the Army for five years, two of them as a general staff aide. He is a charter member of the Orion Junior Chamber of Commerce, a member of Orion Lodge No. 46 F&AM and the Scottish Rite Valley of Detroit.

"Waterford District 25 still has many problems — roads, water, sewage, zoning, airports, taxes and sanitation. If elected I will work to improve these conditions," he said.

Burn Victim, 3, Is Facing $20,000 Worth of Surgery

"I'm going to be pretty someday," vows 3-year-old Annette McLean.

Her doctors agree she'll be pretty after some $20,000 worth of plastic surgery and hair grafts.

Annette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin McLean of 1480 Hillway, White Lake Township, was severely burned by hot water in March 1965. Her cheeks, chest, ears, nose and lips must be fixed in a series of operations.

Now an active, restless little girl, Annette was burned when she fell against a hot water tap, pushing it on. She spent months at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and will be intering Pontiac General next month for additional skin grafting and plastic surgery.

Doctors — she has at least four — have already attempted to fix Annette's nose but the skin graft was not successful, according to Mrs. McLean, and will have to be tried again.

McLean, a jitney driver at GMC Truck and Coach Division, and his wife have two other children, Richard, 9, and Susan, 6.

Annette wonders "why don't I have hair like Susan's?" When Mrs. McLean touched Annette's face, the little girl would hide her face behind her hands, saying "No."

An account has been started at the Community National Bank branch at 1620 Union Lake for donations to help build Annette a new face.

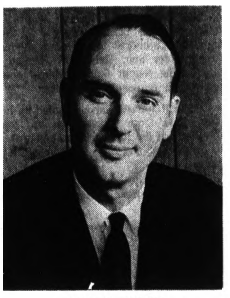
BURNED—Little Annette McLean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin McLean of 1480 Hillway, White Lake Township, clutches her doll in comfort. Annette was severely burned by hot water over her face and chest and must undergo $20,000 worth of plastic surgery. Her father, a jitney driver at GMC Truck and Coach, is trying to raise the necessary money.

Birmingham News

Local Man Running for Appeals Seat



JOHN F. FOLEY

BIRMINGHAM — John F. Foley, 523 Mohegan, has announced his candidacy for judge of the Michigan Court of Appeals in the Second District.

Foley, 40, is presently commissioner of the court. He will take a leave of absence from that position to run for the judgeship.

The state legislature has enacted a law expanding the Court of Appeals from nine to 12 judges. The law calls for the election of three new judges, one in each of the court's three districts.

Before being appointed commissioner by the Court of Appeals, Foley was in general practice of law and was an attorney and hearing officer for the Michigan office of the National Labor Relations Board.

NAVY VETERAN

A graduate of Birmingham High School, Georgetown University and the University of Michigan Law School, he served four years in the Navy during the Korean war. He also worked as a news writer for radio station KROS, Clinton, Iowa.

Foley will seek election in the Southeastern Michigan district, composed of the counties of Huron, Tuscola, Sanilac, Shiawassee, Genesee, Ingham, Lapeer, St. Clair, Livingston, Oakland, Macomb, Jackson, Washtenaw, Hillsdale, Lenawee and Monroe.

The Bloomfield Lions Club will honor Mr. and Mrs. Arno Hulet at its noon meeting Tuesday at Devon Gables Restaurant on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Hulet, treasurer and long-time member of the Bloomfield Township Board, was one of the club's organizers.

Mrs. Lenore Romney, wife of the governor, will be guest speaker for the meeting.

Tributes will be made by Homer Case, Bloomfield Township Supervisor; the Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Pontiac; and District Governor Warren D. Bracken, representing Lions International.

Musical selections will be furnished by the Jills of Bloomfield Hills Andover High School.

Program chairman for the event is George Andrews.

Discount Chain Ends Gun Sales

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — One Midwestern discount house, prompted by the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, announced Friday it is going out of the gun business.

At the same time, another discount operation which earlier quit selling guns reported it will no longer sell ammunition.

Marty J. Rosen, president of the J-Mart Family Discount Centers in Columbus, announced that his firm's four outlets have dropped the gun business entirely.

J-Mart donated its arsenal of small arms, hand guns, ammunition and related items to the city police department for its disposition? The 500-odd weapons werre valued at more than $20,000.

The Jaycee of the Year award is also presented yearly to the member who has best embodied the spirit of the Jaycees and who has provided the group with uncommon inspiration and leadership.

Carnahan, of 1323 Nancywood, served as the club's president two years ago and is a Jaycee International senator.

DRAIN COMMISSION

He is married, the father of two children and is employed by the Oakland County Drain Commission.

Rogers, of 2159 St. Joseph, West Bloomfield Township, was named as Project Chairman of the Year for his work with the club-sponsored track team which won the state Jaycee championship, and with the state Jaycee track team which won the national Jaycee finals.

He is a national director of the Jaycees and is a state district vice president. Married and the father of six children, he is employed by the Social Welfare Dept. of the State of Michigan.

Besides Stricklin, six officers were installed in the ceremonies last night. They were Richard Cooper, internal vice president; Larry Ettinger, external vice president; Darwin Johnson, ways and means vice president; Michael Halfpenny, recording secretary; Robert Newman, treasurer; and Robert Bloomer, corresponding secretary.

DIRECTORS INSTALLED

Members of the board of directors who were installed were Jack Hull, Lyle Kittridge, Gregory Neiswonder, Michael Patterson, Ronald Rogers, David Zuehlke and immediate past president Charles Wood.

Guest speaker for the evening was Dick St. John, a past president of the Michigan Jaycees.

The state organization presented the group with the Gold Chip Award in recognition of its efforts to serve the community and to develop the club internally.

Sub Fate Theory: Undersea Crash

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—With mechanical failure virtually ruled out, Navy investigators showed growing conviction today that the nuclear submarine Scorpion sank to the bottom of the Atlantic after colliding with an undersea mountain.

The formal court of inquiry, entering its fourth day of hearings today, heard testimony yesterday affirming previous witnesses who said there were minor mechanical faults in the attack submarine's equipment but nothing that jeojardized its seaworthiness.

Capt. Wallace Greene, commander of Submarine Division 62 of which the Scorpion was a part, summed up his study of the eight-year-old vessel's condition with the statement Scorpion was "fully ready for sea."

A note of mystery was introduced yesterday when Greene told the court the Scorpion was off course at the time of its last radio transmission because it was on a secret mission. According to previous testimony, it was 27 miles from her assigned position at that time.

After Greene's comment, the court went into private session.

Schedule on OU Session for Women Is Announced

Oakland University's Continuum Center for Women extends an open invitation to all Detroit area women to take advantage of a special summer morning review of its INVESTIGATION INTO IDENTITY.

The program begins June 18 and continues through July 18, on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., in Room 163 of Oakland's South Foundation Hall.

The June 18th meeting will be a guest orientation session designed to familiarize women with the program.

ROLE

Mrs. Priscilla Jackson, director of the Center, will present "Women's Changing Role in Today' Society" and Dr. Gerald Self, Continuum Center psychologist, will discuss "Testing — Its Use and Misues."

The guests will divide into groups for discussion, led by volunteer discussion leaders who have themselves been through the Continuum Center program.

A new feature of the summer program will explain the meaning of each test and testing session on the results of the tests. The psychologist administering the test will explain the meaing of each test and each woman can get a picture of herself within the context of her group and in relation to the scores of women who have taken the test already.

Allowance is given in the interpretation of results for the relative rustiness of housewives, many of whom have not taken similar tests for many years.

Following sessions include a discussion of the "Eight Stages of a Woman's Life," "E-V-E" (opportunities in education, volunteer service and employment) and a lecture-discussion on "Decision Making: How Women Choose."

Individual counseling sessions with the staff psychologist and the Center's education, volunteer service and employment advisers complete the program. A counseling call-back interview is conducted six months after the last session to check on each participant's progress.

Full information about the current program can be obtained by writing or calling the Continuum Center at OU.

Bride elect Charlene Perinjian, a senior at Wayne State University, and her fiance, Marc Alton Stretten, a student in WSU's College of Medicine, are planning to wed July 14. She is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Perinjian of Worchester Road, West Bloomfield Township and the late Mr. Perinjian. Parents of the bridegroom-to-be are the Ivan J. Strettens of Lochlin Lane, West Bloomfield Township.

Blames Mom for Child's Fantasy but She Claims No Knowledge of It

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My son called me on the phone, and I was totally unprepared for the bawling out I got.

It seems that my four-year-old grandson had been crying all day. He was afraid to go outside alone and play for fear the "boogie man" or "trash man" would carry him off.

ABBY

My son said he asked the boy who had told him a story like that, and he said, "Granny did!"

Abby, I have not been over to their house in two weeks. Besides, I would never think of telling my grandson such a frightening tale. (I never told my own children anything like that, so why would I tell it to my grandson?)

When I tried to explain that I was completely innocent, my son refused to listen. All he said was, "The child couldn't have made it up, and you MUST have told him."

I can't tell you how much this hurt me, to get the blame for something I didn't do. And then to be practically called a liar by my own son. What would you do in my place, Abby!

M.C.

DEAR M.C.: Your son should be made to understand that young children very often confuse fantasy with reality (and even dreams!) and are not always accurate in their reporting. If your son doesn't believe this, HIS son might grow up before he does.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is being married soon, and I have had so many phone calls from friends asking, "What does Nancy need?" This puts me on the spot because Nancy "needs" a lot of things, but I haven't the faintest idea of how much these people want to spend, so what can I say?

Yesterday, one of my dearest friends called and asked if Nancy "needed" sheets and pillow cases. I replied, "Yes, she does." Then I thought I had better mention that Nancy was going to have a king-sized bed, so my friend blurted out, "KING-SIZED? Good heavens, I can't afford sheets for a bed that size!" I felt like two cents, so I quickly added, "But she could also use some tea towels."

Abby, will you please tell women who ask for suggestions on what to buy a bride to please ask like this: "Can Nancy use an electric mixer?" Or, "What color is her kitchen, I want to buy her a couple of dish cloths."

ON THE SPOT

DEAR ON: Some brides "register" with a local store and the items they "need" are listed to avoid duplications. Clue Nancy in on this. It will not only help Nancy's friends. It will relief you of much embarrassment.

Pair Departs for Hawaii

En route to Hawaii are newlyweds, the Norman K. Joneses, following a reception in their honor Friday evening at the Detroit Yacht Club.

The former Geraldine Carole Felker, daughter of the Bruno H. Felkers of Richfield, Minn., and son of Mrs. Burwell J. Jones of Orchard Lake and the late Mr. Jones were united in St. Joseph Catholic Church, Dearborn.

Attended by her sisters, Mrs. Gilbert Copeland and Marlene Felker, as matron and maid of honor, the bride wore a traditionally fashioned peau d'ange ensemble.

To complement the A-line sheath with Chantilly bodice and wrist length sleeves, she chose a matching lace headpiece securing a bouffant veil.

Her bouquet was white roses.

ATTENDANTS

Bridesmaids were Barbara and Carol Felker, Rozlynn Toth, Patricia Irwin and Marilyn Dyer.

Members of the usher corps were Dale Pontz Jr., John C. Hofer, James Audas, Louis Kovach, Henry Wiegand Jr. and Carl Westerberg.

Dr. Burwell Jones served as best man for his brother with Lisa Pontz and John G. Felker as flower girl and ring bearer.

Jaycee Auxiliary Notes Installation of New Officers

The Pontiac Jaycee Auxiliary installed its new officers for 1968-'69 at a general membership meeting Wednesday.

Mrs. David Ogg will lead the group as president. She will be assisted by Mrs. William Landis, vice president; Mrs. Richard Hundza and Mrs. Richard Brown, secretaries and Mrs. Jack Nicholas, treasurer.

Also installed as directors were Mrs. Myron Cirka, Mrs. Joseph Pospichal, and Mrs. Edward Weliver.

Mrs. Ogg received an award as outstanding jaycette of the year. Others receiving awards were Mesdames Pospichal, Landis, Terrance Tollefson, James LaVergne, Hundza, and Jack Rhoades.

Cohostesses for the dessert event were Mesdames Nicholas, Ogg and James Gallagher.

Students Note Recital

Piano and organ students of Loren Meyer will give a recital June 15 in St. John's Lutheran Church of Rochester.

The program, consisting of sacred, classical and popular music, will begin at 1 p.m. The public may attend.

Vows Exchanged by the Doughertys

Margaret Susan Harbaugh was escorted to the altar of All Saints Episcopal Church today where she became the bride of 2nd Lt. Roy Russell Dougherty, USMC.

Carrying a nosegay of white orchids with ivy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan C. Harbaugh of Orchard Lake, wore a day length linen ensemble highlighted with a lace bodice.

A ribboned bow capped her short veil of illusion.

Honor attendants for the ceremony were Priscilla Watkins and 2nd Lt. Joseph Gallo, USMC.

Following a reception at the Holiday Inn, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. Dougherty of Yale, Mich. and his bride departed for a northern Michigan honeymoon.

May Certainly Invite Clergy for a Dinner

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: We live in a small community and attend a very small local church. We would very much like to invite our minister and his wife to dinner. Is this socially correct, or does it depend on local custom?

We are new in the area and we do not wish to create the wrong impression among our fellow church members.—Mrs. A. N.

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine recently tried to commit suicide. After realizing what she had done, she admitted herself to a mental hospital. I understand she has been released and is living at home.

I would like very much to visit her, but I'm at a loss as to what I should say or talk about. I feel I shouldn't mention what has happened. Also, I felt a small gift would be in order, possibly a handful of fresh flowers. Any advice you can give me would be greatly appreciated.—Louise

Dear Louise: Do visit your friend — she needs all the love and support you can give her. Don't talk about her illness unless she brings up the subject. If you want to take a gift, your idea of fresh flowers is ideal because you might take those to anyone — sick or well.

In other words, act perfectly normal, and as if you thought she were, too.

Groups Demand Gun Legislation

DETROIT (UPI) — An organization of 30 Detroit area women's clubs pledged Friday to "do all in our power" to secure gun control legislation.

"We not only urge this action, we demand it," the women said in letters to President Johnson, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, Michigan senators and congressmen and Gov. George Romney.

The Inter-Group Council speaking for such organizations as the Detroit branch of the American Association of University Women, the Blackwell Branch of the American Medical Women's Association, the Women Lawyers Association of Michigan, the Detroit Business Women's Club and the Federation of Women's Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, claimed to represent more than 200,000 women.

"We are no longer going to stand by passively accepting the violence that plagues our country today as 'the American way of life,'" the council said. "We can no longer remain passive.

Regardless of our individual political affiliations and sympathies, we urge you as our leaders to bring about the enactment of laws governing the sale of guns," it said. "We know that this action is not the whole answer to the problems that beset us today, but it is a step in the right direction."

Mrs. J. T. Arno Hostess for Group Luncheon

Mrs. Joseph T. Arno of Commerce Road, West Bloomfield Township will host a luncheon Wednesday for members of the Countryside Improvement Association.

A program on "Our Philahthropies" will be given. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Mary Holmes, Dr. Caryl Kulsavage and Mrs. Elizabeth B. Rutledge.

French Designers Disregard Crisis

PARIS (AP) — The Paris fashion showings will go on as scheduled late next month, with the French crisis causing no delay, officials said today.

A statement by Daniel Gorin, president of the Paris High Fashion Association said:

"In view of the numberous questions being asked . . . and also to dispel any misleading rumors circulating in various countries, we herewith officially announce that no modification or changes have been brought or made to the normal routine of the haute couture openings.

As usual they will present their winter 1968-1969 collections to buyers and press on Monday, July 22."

The showings continue for about 10 days.

Auditions Planned at OCC Theatre

Auditions for the Oakland Community College Community Summer Theatre will be held at 7:30 p.m. June 19, in the Ferndale High School auditorium, according to Robert Falk, assistant professor for Theatre and Drama at OCC.

One female and five male singing roles are available for the off-Broadway hit musical, The Fantastiks," and between 25-30 roles are available for "The Dragon," a satirical fantasy utilizing the Lancelot and the dragon theme.

"The Fantastiks" will be directed by Clyde Vinson of the Court Theatre and Wayne State University, and Falk will direct "The Dragon."

Auditions are open to the public, and those interested in "The Fantastiks" are urged to bring their own music; a piano accompanist will be availab.e

For more specific information, contact Falk at Orchard Ridge.

E. T. White Home, Built In 1836 As Eagle Tavern And Stagecoach Stop, Still A Lapeer Landmark

Stagecoach Stop Today

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Sitting in the pleasant living room of the E. T. White home, it seems incongruous if not impossible that in this very room well over a century ago other women, their flowing gowns sweeping the wooden floor, sat waiting for a stagecoach to arrive.

"At that time," said Mrs. White, "it took one and a half days to reach Lapeer from Pontiac."

Built by Enoch J. White in 1836, the house has remained in the Whites' possession to the present time.

Its last remodeling venture took place 49 years ago after the home had served as a granary for 12 years.

ADAPTED

"Each generation," said Mrs. White, "has done something to adapt the house to its mode of living.

"We had a wing of 14 rooms torn off, added a fireplace in the living room which was originally two sitting or waiting rooms and changed the dining room.

"The dining room," she continued, "was of a period I called 'early Pullman.' We lowered the domed ceiling, eliminated the bay window and painted over the dark butternut wood."

The curved brick fireplace of the original structure was preserved. Beside the fireplace worked into a panel of the dado was a dumb waiter . . . for during the home's tavern times, the kitchen was in the basement and the waiter simplified the serving of food to hungry travelers.

ITALIAN DECAL

Flanking the remodeled window are the room's two original corner cabinets.

In the entryway, an Italian decalcomania depicting the life of Christ frames the door. The panels, each like a miniature painting, date back to 1847.

Aqua grass cloth and aqua carpeting set the background for the living room's heirloom and traditional pieces.

Under a copy of Rembrandt's "The Doctor" (a favorite of Mrs. White because her father was a physician) stands a gold-striped sofa. Handcarved rosewood, it is a White heirloom. Traditional mahogany lyre tables hold the china lamps that light the sofa grouping.

WING-BACKS

Matching quilted cotton wing-backs in shades of aqua are used before the Italian marble fireplace.

A brass Belgium milk jar near the hearth brings back many memories to Mrs. White.

"When they were young, my grandchildren used to put sticks and stones in the jar and roll it around the house to hear it rattle. That's where the dents came from . . . and I rather like them myself."

The hooked rug between the two chairs was made by Mrs. White. Shades of blue, lavender, green, rose, gold, aqua and brown are worked into the flower pattern.

Gets Tigers' Game Winning Hit

Stanley 'Checks' Swing, Tribe Strategy

Norm Cash Blasts Pair to Help Pad Bengals' Lead

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Mickey Stanley outsmarted not only himself but all of the strategic moves made by Cleveland Indians' manager Alvin Dark in the wildest and most exciting game of the year at Tiger Stadium last night.

The young outifelder, with a notorious reputation of thriving on left handed pitching, tried to check his two-strike swing in the bottom of the ninth inning and instead laced it into right-centerfield for a two-run triple to give the scrappy Detroit Tigers a 5-4 triumph over the surging Tribesmen.

The hit came off lefty Mike Paul, who took the mound twice in the same inning as part of the Cleveland manager's strategy.

CASH BLASTS TWO

Norm Cash, with two home runs, and Willie Horton with his 16th round tripper of the season, dished out the main course meal for the Tigers while Stanley provided the dessert, as the Bengals moved into a 3½ game lead in the American League race.

Cleveland starter Steve Hargan threw a lot of pitches, but none of them were for hits until Dick McAuliffe started the 6th inning with a sharp single to center.

Stanley however hit into the Tigers' third double play of the game thus giving Hargan a chance to start the 7th inning with a 3-0 lead.

The Indians took advantage of southpaw John Hiller's wildness in the first inning by scoring on two walks and a single by Joe Azcue.

In the 5th inning, two walks, a single by Vern Fuller and a two base error by Don Wert gave Cleveland a pair of unearned runs as Hiller retired to the showers.

To start the 7th, Cash drove his 5th homer of the season into section 36 of the second deck in right field.

NEXT BATTER

Willie Horton, who had not had a hit in his last 15 trips to the plate and was only one for 23 up to this point, sent another one of Hargan's pitches into the left field stands to make it 3-2.

With a 3-1 count on Wert, manager Dark brought in Harold Kurtz who issued the 4th ball to Wert and then hit Ton Matchick in the ankle.

Managers Smith and Dark then increased their battle line strategies.

After catcher Jim Price failed to sacrifice in two tries, Gates Brown came in to pick up Price's two strike count. Dark immediately counted with southpaw Mike Paul and he proceeded to strike out Gates, pinch hitter Bill Freehand and Dick McAuliffe.

He also started the 8th inning by striking out Stanley, but with two outs Cash slammed the southpaw pitch high along the right field line. The ball cleared the wall to tie the score at 3-3.

After Paul got a 3-1 count on Horton, he issued an intentional pass and then struck out Wert to end the inning.

The rhubarb really started in the 9th inning as did the Tiger fireworks.

Fred Lasher, who had struck out the side in the 8th inning, started the ninth by walking Paul. Paul was sacrificed and Jose Cardenal beat out an infield hit to short.

FIRES HOME

Tony Horton then lined a short shot to right field and Jim Northrup quickly fired the ball into home plate.

Umpire Bill Honochick first ruled Paul was out on Freehan's tag at the plate and then ruled him safe, claiming Freehan juggled the ball.

This brought a stormy protest from manager Smith, the Tigers and fans.

Smith was ejected for the second time in a week for a similar call at home, and the fans pelted the field with debris aimed at Honochick.

But one run scored and when Azcue walked it loaded the bases. Dark called for the squeeze play, but Max Alvis bunted to Lasher who caught Cardenal at home and Alvis at first for the double play.

Paul started strong in the 9th by striking out Tom Matchick and forcing pinch batter Dick Tracewski to ground out.

Freehan kept things alive on the cluttered stadium turf by bouncing a single to left.

The strategy got stronger in the 9th when with two out and a 3-1 count on Freehan, Dark brought in righthander Stan Williams and placed Paul on first base in place of Tony Horton.

After Freehan bounced a single to left, Williams left the mound and Paul returned to pitch to lefty McAuliffe. The Tiger second sacker bounced a shot between first and second and Lee Maye, now on first base, tried to bare handed stab but bobbled it for an error.

Dark then gave up on his strategy and like the Tigers, started playing hunches by letting right handed Stanley bat against southpaw Paul.

With one ball and two strikes on him, Stanley fouled off several and then hit the game winning shot into right-center to score Freehan and McAuliffe who beat the throw from Cardenal.

WANTED TO CHECK

"It wasn't a solid hit. I didn't want to strike out and I just wanted to keep things going, so I was going to check my swing," said Stanley.

Speedy Cardenal made a lunge for the ball but it bounced away and Stanley crossed third base as the winning run was scoring, amid 31,646 screaming fans and teammates.

Cash, who has hit three home runs in his last six official trips to the plate, said he was so excited on Stanley's hit he thought he was having a heart attack in the 85 degree evening heat.

"I can't remember when I heard cheers overcome the boos," said Cash, who had long been the object of heckling Tiger fans.

Mickey Lolich will take the mound against Luis Tiant, the righty with an 8-4 record, including five straight shutouts this season.

The game is being played at 8:00 p.m. tonight due to the funeral services this afternoon for Senator Robert Kennedy.

Prefer Morning to Tribute

Baseball Players Not Happy

By The Associated Press

Baseball began its tribute to slain Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today, but players and management still found ways to squabble over the manner in which it should be done.

Four games scheduled today were postponed—New York Mets at San Francisco, California Angels at New York Yankees, Minnesota at Washington and Atlanta at Chicago Cubs.

Three games scheduled for Saturday afternoon were postponed until Saturday night — Cleveland at Detroit, Chicago at Boston and St. Louis at Cincinnati.

Three American League games scheduled Sunday also were postponed, a doubleheader, Oakland at Baltimore, and a single game, Chicago at Boston.

SOUGHT MORE

But the players wanted more postponements and the Houston Astros, despite a warning from management, voted Friday night not to play Sunday against Pittsburgh.

Astros' General Manager Spec Richardson said the game will be played unless Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert rules otherwise.

Pittsburgh Manager Larry Shepard said he would discuss the Houston vote today with Joe L. Brown, general manager of the Pirates.

"It is unanimous as far as the ball players are concerned," said Dave Giusti, the Astros' player representative. "All 25 have agreed to this. We're not going to play Sunday.

"We are unanimous in our decision not to play Sunday and we will stick with that decision."

The Major League Players Association Friday urged Eckert and the two major league presidents to declare a day of mourning for Sen. Kennedy.

"The Major League Baseball Players Association on behalf of the players hereby expresses its strong opposition to the decision of the commissioner of baseball to permit each club to decide whether or not it will play its full schedule of games this weekend," said a telegram to Ekert signed by Marvin Miller, executive director of the players association.

"The players believe that each club should observe a day of mourning as a tribute to the memory of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and they hereby urge the commissioner and the league presidents to so order."

Eckert replied that baseball is, indeed, paying tribute to Sen. Kennedy and cited his Thursday order that no Saturday games begin before the completing of Sen. Kennedy's funeral and that appropriate tribute be paid by all clubs prior to or during the Sunday games.

STRIPPED FOR ACTION — Rick Vereeke of Royal Oak tried to accomplish three things yesterday at Pontiac Country Club: (1) get in a round of golf; (2) beat the 90-degree heat in the obvious "fashion;" and (3) work on his suntan. Golfers faced another sweltering day on the links today.

U. S. Netters Make Singles Sweep in Cup Zone Tourney

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner made an impressive sweep of the first round singles matches in the Davis Cup American Zone finals Friday night to give the U.S. team a commanding 2-0 lead over Ecuador.

Ashe defeated Pancho Guzman 6-3, 6-3, 6-2 in the first match, then Graebner whipped Miguel Olvera 6-2, 6-1, 6-2.

AVENGE '67

A crowd of some 3,000 watched as the U.S. squad did what it had vowed it would do: take the offense in an attempt to avenge last year's 3-2 upset at the hands of Ecuador in Guayaquil.

* * *

Both Ashe and Graebner demonstrated powerful serves in crushing the Latin Americans. Neither of the U.S. players committed a double fault.

In the second match Olvera failed to break Graebner's service.

The fiberglass playing surface of the Charlotte Coliseum seemed to bother the Ecuadorians, who are used to playing on clay courts.

Publinx Qualifying Will Begin Monday at Burroughs Farms

The publinxers will hit the golfing trail Monday in quest of national honors.

A field of 225 will play 36 holes at Burroughs Farms near Brighton with the low 50 and ties qualifying for another 36-hole test the following Monday (June 17).

There are 54 players exempt from the 36-hole round Monday, those who scored 150 or better in last year's qualifying.

Those 54 exempt players then will join the 50 qualifiers this Monday for the final 36 holes. The low 10 scorers from that round will advance to the national tournament slated for July 10-13 at Tenison Memorial Golf Club in Dallas, Tex.

Michigan Pair Wins

HALIFAX, N.S. (UPI) — Scott Harvey of Dearborn Heights won the eighth annual Shell 4000 Trans-Canada rally Friday night.

Harvey and his navigator, Ralph Beckman, a University of Michigan student, finished with a total of eight penalty points, half as much as collected by their nearest rivals. The race lasted six days from their starting point in Calgary, Alta.

In Federation Meet

'M' Runner Blisters 880 Time

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Robert Kutchinski of Michigan ran the fastest 880-yard run in the world this year Friday night in the United States Track and Field Federation meet with a blistering time 1:47.1

* * *

The time was the fastest run in Texas. Felix Johnson of Prairie View was a fading second with a time of 1:47.8.

* * *

Milderette Netter of Alcorn A&M flashed to a meet record in the 220 yard dash and Karl Salb of the Jayhawk Track Club shattered a record that had stood since 1963 in the shot put.

CLIPS TIME

Miss Netter's time clipped one-tenth of a second off the old mark of 24.2 set by Patricia Atkinson of Texas Southern University in 1966.

Salb's toss of 60 feet 7 inches eclipsed a mark of 60-6 set by world record holder Randy Matson when he was a freshman in 1963.

In the women's 220, Georgia Johnson of the Lone Star Track Club, a heavy favorite, waited too long for her finishing kick and finished second with a time of 24.8.

Jim Green of Kentucky rolled to victory in the 220 yard dash with a time of 20.9, well off the meet record.

* * *

Jesse Ball of Prairie View ran a sizzling 50.7 in the 440-yard hurdles, two-tenths of a second off a meet record. Bub Bornkessell of Shawnee Mission High School in Kansas finished a strong second in time of 51 seconds flat.

* * *

The Jayhawk Track Club took an early lead in the standings with 22 points.

Signs Cage Contract

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) Veteran forward Dave Gambee signed his 1968-69 contract with the new Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association, it was announced today by General Manager John Erickson.

* * *

Gambee played with the San Diego Rockets last season and averaged 13.4 points a game. The 6-foot-6, 215-pounder is considered one of the best free throw shooters in the league

Cranbrook Squad Sharing Second

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Sturgis entered the final two-rounds of the state high school Class B tennis championships today, assured of its second straight title.

Sturgis scored 6½ points Friday, which is enough to offset any late challenges by Holland Christian and Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook, which were tied in second place with four points each.

* * *

In Class A Hamtramck — seeking its 17th title in 20 years — shared the lead with Niles at five points each going into today's finals. East Grand Rapids was third with 3½ points and Midland fourth with three.

* * *

Defending Class C-D champion Grosse Pointe University School held first place in Friday's first rounds with three points. Galesburg-Augusta and Richmond were tied in second with two points each.

* * *

Gregg Stephenson of Lapeer scored the tournament's major upset Friday when he handed Brian Paauwe of Holland his first loss of the season, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2, in the opening round of Class A singles.

Vancouver to Apply for NHL Franchise

MONTREAL (AP) — The annual National Hockey League meetings open Monday with a franchise application by Vancouver, B. C., and the intra-league draft among the items on the agenda of the four-day session.

Clarence Campbell, NHL president, said the Vancouver Canucks of the Western Hockey League will make a full-scale pitch for the first franchise opportunity that becomes available.

Campbell stressed, however, that no further expansion is being considered and none among the current 12 teams is expected to move to another city.

Honor 'M' Sophomore

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Elliot Maddox, 1968 Big Ten batting and slugging champion for the University of Michigan, Friday was named winner of the Ray L. Fisher Memorial Award.

Maddox, 19, a sophomore from Vauxhall, N.J., hit .467 in the conference and .393 through the Wolverines' season. His slugging average of .756 also was high in the conference.

STICKY AFTERMATH — A truckload of asphalt with a lid ajar passed through an 11-block stretch of Wood River and Roxana, Ill., yesterday, leaving a wide swath of damage in its wake. Police said the hot liquid hit at least 50 homes and businesses and 400 cars. They estimated damage at $1 million. Truck driver Charles Summers said he did not stop immediately because he feared an explosion.

ROK Troop Commander Says

SAIGON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Chae Myung-shin, commander of the South Korean troops in Vietnam, said today he is virtually certain North Korean troops are operating in South Vietnam with the Viet Cong.

In an action 10 days ago west of Nha Trang, the general said, the Korean White Horse Division killed eight enemy soldiers who turned out to be members of a North Korean psychological warfare team.

"One of them had a diary written in Korean in his pocket along with a Russian-Korean dictionary," Chae said. "We did not take any North Korean prisoners, but we have photographed all the bodies and hope when we do get a prisoner we can make better identification."

The 43-year-old general, who commands the 48,000 ROK—Republic of Korea—troops in Vietnam, said a sweep of the battlefield also turned up several AK47 automatic rifles manufactured in North Korea and a rather crude wooden hand press for turning out propaganda leaflets on rice paper.

EXPERT PROPAGANDA

"But the propaganda was not so crude," the general said. "It was quite expert. It was not the work of a Vietnamese who knew some Korean."

Chae said in an interview that Radio Hanoi had been making propaganda broadcasts to Korean troops well before the Tet offensive, and occasionally the clandestine Liberation Radio has beamed some propaganda broadcasts at the Tiger Division operating west of Qui Nhon.

"All of this has been fairly professional," the general said. "But it has had no effect. There has not been a single instance of a Korean soldier defecting to the enemy or refusing to go on operations."

Chae said part of the propaganda, both printed and broadcast, has been aimed at getting ROK troops to support the idea of a coalition government headed by the National Liberation Front, the Vietcong's political arm, as the basis for a peace settlement in Paris.

'KEEP UP PRESSURE'

"I told my troops the best way to negotiate with the Communists is to keep up the military pressure. We don't care what is being said in Paris as long as there is still fighting here," he said.

Chae, who commanded a regiment at the time of the Panmunjom conference that ended the Korean war, recalled the "two years of bitter fighting that followed the outbreak of those talks."

Aiming propaganda broadcasts and leaflets at the South Korean troops represents a new psychological warfare tactic for the enemy command.

Although they pretty much avoided any direct contact with Korean troops during the big Tet offensive, the Vietcong used numerous propaganda blasts again "the American Korean lackeys" as part of the plan to bring about a general uprising in Qui Nhon and Nha Trang.

NO UPRISING

"The uprising didn't happen," the general said. "Instead, the people applauded then the Korean troops marched in to help defend Qui Nhon."

Chae said he believes the two North Vietnamese divisions operating in the coastal provinces where the Koreans are stationed "are facing a very difficult time for food and supplies. The people are not supporting them even in the villages."

* * *

A week ago, he added, one North Vietnamese battalion became "so desperate for food" it moved into a village in daylight to forage for rice, after failing two or three times to purchase supplies from the local population.

The villagers tipped off the Koreans, who surrounded the village and killed 202 of the enemy, he said.

PLIGHT CONFIRMED

Among those captured was the deputy commander, who confirmed the difficult plight the unit had in obtaining supplies since Tet, Chae said.

The general, who has been in Vietnam three years now, had a close call early Friday. A rocket landed in the house next to his Saigon villa. The blast knocked out all his windows, and shrapnel fragments slammed into his bedroom, hitting his refrigerator, piercing some cans of tomato juice. An aide who rushed in mistook the tomato juice on the floor for blood.

Chae laughed off the incident.

Mixed Guard Asked for Murdered Marine

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The father of a white Marine killed in a Washington shooting in which three Negroes were charged with murder has asked for an integrated honor guard for his son's funeral.

"Somebody has to make the first step," said William G. King Sr. Friday. "His death cannot be a total loss.

"My wife and I feel that the time has come when we have to stand up as individuals for what we believe in—for understanding and harmony."

His son, 2nd Lt. William G. King Jr., 21, and a friend were shot and killed Wednesday after an argument with three Negroes in a Washington hamburger shop. Two others in the party were wounded.

LINK DISPUTED

Police said the Negroes identified themselves as being part of the Poor People's Campaign. However, officials said they were not living at the Resurrection City encampment and were not registered as participants.

"I've been able to wash out of my mind and heart any animosity toward Washington or people, black or white," the elder King said. "I have no desire for revenge."

King said he and his wife requested the integrated honor guard because "We want to show that we do not have any animosity toward any color. My son felt very strongly about this."

Killed with King was 2nd Lt. Thaddeus Lesnick, 20, of Fishtail, Mont. Wounded were 2nd Lt. Elsworth Kramer, 26, of Arlington, Va., and Miss Barbara Kelly, 25, of Adelphi, Md.

OSC GRADUATION

The four went to the hamburger stand after attending the traditional last mess, the final get-together of the three officers' graduating class at the Marine Officer Candidate School.

Police said there was an exchange of words after one of the men made a remark about one of the Marine's names which was displayed on his uniform.

The three Negroes departed and then returned shortly and a barrage of shots was fired, police said. The men were apprehended about a block away, charged and jailed.

Bat Bites Brothers, Vaccine Flown In

GOODING, Idaho (AP) — Rabies vaccine was flown from Boise to Gooding in an Army National Guard helicopter Friday night to treat two brothers bitten by a rabid bat.

Barry Brown Jr., 4, and Kelly, 6, were bitten earlier this week while playing with the bat, which they captured. Tests at the State Health Department laboratory in Boise showed the animal was rabid.

Barry Brown, the father of the boys, was on active duty with a National Guard unit in the desert south of Boise when he was notified the children had been bitten. Brown, assistant chief of police in Gooding, returned in the helicopter carrying the vaccine.

Friday News in Brief From State Capitol

New Rates, Services Due at Bell

LANSING (AP) — The State Public Service Commission has authorized Michigan Bell Telephone Co., to introduce a variety of new, optional services, increase some service charges, reduce rates and establish rates for listings that require special handling.

Most of the new rates and services will be effective July 1. The commission said they will offer most customers either some savings or a wider calling range at lower prices.

One of the rate reductions applies to certain calls dialed from coin telephones within the Detroit, Pontiac and Grand Rapids districts. Interzone calls now costing 15 cents will be reduced to 10 cents.

Among the new services is a statewide "nickle-a-minute" service.

WITHIN STATE

This will allow all residence and business customers to direct dial long distance calls anywhere within the state for five cents a minute after 10 p.m.

To make the rate, customers must pay a basics charge of $2 a month.

Two-way, inward and outward wide area telephone service will be offered for an additional $25 a month. Previously, this bulk rate, long distance calling plan for business customers was available in one direction only—either in or out.

$725 MONTHLY

The customers now subscribing to the standard wide area telephone service for $700 a month can add calling in one more direction for an additional $25 a month.

A new charge for a semi-private listing will be available for 50 cents a month. Under this service, the number is kept out of the directory but can be provided by the operator on request.

A private telephone listing, previously free, now will cost $1.

A new standard charge for installing a telephone in a home will be $6, an increase of $1 in Detroit and a maximum increase of $2.25 outstate.

MOVING FEE

Charges for moving a telephone within a home will be a standard $4. This is an increase of $1.50 in Detroit and Grand Rapids and $1.75 in smaller communities.

New charges for installing business telephones will be $10, representing increases ranging from $3 to $4.50. Charges for moving or changing business telephones will be $7, representing increases ranging from $3.50 to $3.75.

Assassination Effect Prompts Trial Hold

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A Denver man accused of murder won postponement of his trial Friday after his lawyer argued the jury would be selected from citizens "who have experienced great emotional upset" after the assassinations of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Truman Coles, the city's deputy public defender, said the jury of Clarence R. English, 22, "may be more prone to base a verdict upon passion, prejudice and hysteria rather than upon the evidence submitted."

English is accused of firing six .22-caliber bullets into Leslie Nov. 26 after an argument over a record player.

District Judge Edward J. Byrne said he would set a new trial date.

He'll Run Again

LANSING (AP)—State Rep. Louis Schmidt, R-Livonia, has filed as a candidate for reelection to the House of Representatives from the 35th District. Schmidt, a former high school principal and superintendent of schools, has been serving as chairman of the House Committee on Colleges and Universities.

CITY OF PONTIAC INCOME TAX ORDINANCE AND UNIFORM RULES AND REGULATIONS ORDINANCE NO. 1573

An ORDINANCE adopting by reference the "Uniform City Income Tax Ordinance" as set forth in Act 284 of Public Acts of 1964, as amended, and to provide penalties for violation of said ordinance, as adopted.

THE CITY OF PONTIAC ORDAINS:

UNIFORM CITY INCOME TAX ORDINANCE:

Sec. 1. This ordinance shall be known and may be sited as the "uniform city income tax ordinance."

Sec. 2. For the purpose of this and ordinance, the words, terms and phrases set forth in section 2 of the uniform ordinance have the meaning given thereto. When not inconsistent with the context, words used in the present tense include the future, words in the plural number include the singular number, and the singular number includes the plural. "Shall" is always mandatory and not merely directory. "May" is always directory.

Sec. 3 (1) "Administrator" means the administrator appointed by the city to administer the provisions of this ordinance.

(2) "Business" means an enterprise, activity, profession or undertaking of any nature conducted or undertaken by persons for profit or gain by any person, including the operation of an unrelated business by a charitable, religious, educational organization.

(3) "Capital gains" and "capital losses" mean the same as defined for federal income tax purposes.

Rep. 3.1. "Capital gains" shall also mean gains from the sale or exchange of non-capital property where the property was acquired to produce revenue.

Rep. 3.2. "Capital gains" and "capital losses" shall not include any portion of such gains or losses occurring on account of the effective date of the income tax ordinance, 1968. In determining capital gain or loss on property acquired prior to January 1, 1968, the fair market value as of January 1, 1968, shall be used. The taxpayer shall be required to substantiate by appraisal or other reliable evidence the market value of such property. In the event no market value shall be the closing price of such securities on the last business day prior to January 1, 1968. The basic price shall be used if quotations are shown in more than one market and such price shall be determined by the above means, the following method shall be used:

a. Compute total gain or loss for federal income tax purposes.

b. Compute the percentage of time held within the city (after the effective date of City income tax (January 1, 1968) to the total time the property was held.

c. Apply the percentage determined in b. above to the amount in a. above to determine the capital gain or loss taxable by the City.

Sec. 3.1. "City" means the city adopting the ordinance.

(2) "Compensation" means salary, pay or emolument, or fee, commission, bonus, wages for work done or services rendered, profit, gain or income, and specifically but is not limited to the following: salaries, wages, bonuses, commissions, fees, tips, incentive payments, severance pay, vacation pay, sick pay, etc.

(3) "Corporation" means a corporation or a joint stock association organized under the laws of the United States, this state, or any other state, territory, or foreign country or dependency.

Sec. 3. "Doing business" means the conduct of any activity for the purpose of gain or benefit, except that it does not include:

(a) The solicitation of orders by a person or his representative in the city if such orders require acceptance outside the city before they become contracts, and if they are filled by shipment or delivery from a point outside the city.

(b) The solicitation of orders by a person or his representative in the city in the name of or for the benefit of a respective customer of a person, if orders by the customer be initiated outside the city, the customer to fill orders resulting from the solicitation be orders within the meaning of paragraph (a).

(c) The mere storage of personal property in the city in a warehouse neither owned nor leased by the taxpayer.

Rep. 5.1. A person shall not be considered to be doing business in the city, in the absence of maintaining a fixed place of business establishment in the city or engaging in other activity in the city of a permanent nature, by engaging in one or more of the following acts:

a. maintenance, by a corporation, of a resident agent in the city;

b. solicitation of orders by instructing in the use of equipment or other merchandise sold, consigned or leased to employee, salesman of such person and other such activities are incidental to the employee - salesman's primary selling activities;

c. occasional credit investigations or collections by an employee - salesman in the city where such activities are incidental to the employee - salesman's primary selling activities;

d. exhibiting goods for a short time, in a leased or rented space, at a convention, exhibition or trade show;

e. maintenance of real or tangible personal property in the city which is not used in or related to business activity in the city and which does not produce gross income in the city.

Sec. 4. (1) "Employee" means a person from whom an employer is required to withhold for either federal income or federal social security taxes.

(2) "Employer" means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, non-profit organization, governmental body or agency, or trust or estate in the city whether or not taxable under this ordinance, and such activities are incidental to the employee - salesman's primary selling activities.

(3) "Fiduciary" means a trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, conservator, or any person acting in any fiduciary capacity for any person, trust or estate.

(4) "Financial institution" means a bank, trust company, savings and loan association, credit union, safety and collateral deposit company, investment or investment company as defined in section 851 of the Internal Revenue Code, or any other company organized and operated as a financial institution or trade show;

Rep. 5.2. Ownership of real or tangible personal property in the city which is not used in or related to business activity in the city and which does not produce gross income in the city.

Sec. 4. (1) "Employee" means a person from whom an employer is required to withhold for either federal income or federal social security taxes.

(2) "Employer" means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, non-profit organization, governmental body or agency, or trust or estate in the city whether or not taxable under this ordinance, and such activities are incidental to the employee - salesman's primary selling activities.

(3) "Fiduciary" means a trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, conservator, or any person acting in any fiduciary capacity for any person, trust or estate.

(4) "Financial institution" means a bank, trust company, savings and loan association, credit union, safety and collateral deposit company, investment or investment company as defined in section 851 of the Internal Revenue Code, or any other company organized and operated as a financial institution or trade show;

(5) "Fiscal year" means an accounting period of 12 months, ending on any day other than December 31. Only such fiscal years as have been approved by the Internal Revenue Service for federal income tax purposes may be used for city tax purposes.

(6) "Net profits" means the net gain from the operation of a business, profession or enterprise, after provision for all costs and expenses incident to the conduct thereof, determined on either a cash basis or accrual method, on the basis as provided for in the federal internal revenue code for federal income tax purposes, but without deduction under this ordinance, but without deduction of federal and state income taxes on income and without deduction of net operating loss carry-over or net operating loss carry-over sustained prior to the effective date of this act.

Sec. 5. (1) "City taxes based on income" as used in Section 5, (2) of the ordinance shall mean a tax by the City of income tax imposed by this ordinance.

Sec. 7. (2) Taxes shall be computed in the same manner as under the federal income tax ordinance, except as herein provided, to the same extent as taken on the taxpayer's federal income tax return for the taxable year. Depreciable assets acquired before the effective date of the city income tax ordinance shall be valued as of such effective date and depreciated on that basis, provided, however, that the taxpayer may take depreciation on an emergency basis which shall be allowable as a fully depreciated on its official books, on which basis the taxpayer has computed its tax, in lieu of depreciation under the authority of Acts of Congress for federal income tax purposes.

Sec. 8. (1) "Nonresident" means an individual domiciled in the city.

(2) "Person" means a natural person, partnership, association, joint stock association, corporation, limited liability corporation or other entity. When used in a clause prescribing and imposing a penalty, "person" as applied to an association means the partners or members thereof, and as applied to a corporation, the officers thereof.

Sec. 9. (1) "Place of employment" means that city imposing a tax under the uniform city income tax ordinance other than the city of residence or which the taxpayer estimates he will earn the greatest percentage of his compensation from the employer, which percentage is 25 per cent or more.

Sec. 10. (1) "Resident" means an individual domiciled in the city. "Domicile" means a place where a person has his true, fixed and permanent home and principal establishment, and to which whenever absent therefrom, he intends to return, and wherein he and his family voluntarily reside, not for a specific or limited purpose. An individual has but one domicile. Once established it continues until a new one is established, coupled with the abandonment of the old. Prima facie, a married woman has the same domicile as her husband. Ordinarily, the domicile of a minor follows that of his parents.

The Administrator may require of individuals claiming domicile outside the City of Pontiac, a statement of information with respect to the particular case, mailing address and production of statements in license and other applications, establishment of accounts with social contacts, marital status, and other such facts are evidence of domicile, but no one such item is controlling.

Rep. 9.2. If an individual is a resident during part of a taxable year and a non-resident during the remainder he shall in filing any returns, if he is required to file under this ordinance he shall file a resident return, but may claim a reporting thereon the period of time for which such income which is taxable to residents but not to non-residents (e.g. interest on bonds) is reported, and shall be subject to tax, only for the portion of the year during which he was a resident.

Rep. 9.3. Each person shall use the following basis for the purposes as such person uses for federal income tax purposes.

Sec. 11. Subject to the exclusions, additions, limitations, credits and deductions herein provided, an annual tax of per cent of the compensation, net profits or dividends and ½ per cent on non-resident individuals for general revenue purposes of the net profits of a business or profession earned and received on and after the effective date of this ordinance.

Sec. 12. The tax shall apply on the following basis to the income of a resident individual to the same extent and on the same basis that the income is subject to taxation under the federal internal revenue code:

(a) On salary, bonus, wage, commission and other compensation for services rendered, or from business done, or services performed in the City, "taxable compensation" for the salary and a bonus paid by the employer are deemed to have been earned in the city if such assignment or work location and duties are taxable by the City, and for the normal earnings of the employee for work actually done or services actually performed.

(b) On a distributive share of the net profits of a partnership or other unincorporated business, profession, enterprise, undertaking or other activity as a result of work done, services rendered or business transacted or conducted in the city.

(c) On capital gains less capital losses from sales of and on the net profits from rentals of, real and tangible personal property, if such property is located in the city.

Rep. 12.1. The amount of taxable compensation of nonresidents working in and out of the city shall be determined by dividing the total number of days worked in the city by the total number of days worked during the year, or the total number hours worked in the city by the total number of hours worked during the year, and applying the resulting percentage to the total compensation earned, including vacation, holiday, sickness and bonus pay, except that the maximum taxable compensation of a nonresident salesman, agent or other employee whose salary is secured or other results achieved by him, such as a salesman on a commission basis, shall be the amount received by him for business secured or other results achieved by him attributable to the efforts in the city.

Rep. 12.2. The mere fact that a nonresident employee is subject to call at any time during the year for the performance of compensation on a seven day per week basis, shall not be held to mean that such employee is compensated on a seven day per week salary basis, when he does not in fact perform services on a seven day per week basis. The mere fact that a nonresident employee is on call to confer with him and performs such work at his home shall not be held to constitute such compensation.

Rep. 12.3. A nonresident employee who is paid commissions and renewal commissions for selling insurance, not on general insurance business written in his own independent insurance business, shall allocate and apportion same to the following basis: for life, health and accident insurance business, to the basis of location of the purchaser of the insurance at the time the contract is made, to the location of the group; for fire and casualty insurance the locus shall be the location of the risk insured, except that on vehicles it shall be the owner's residence.

Rep. 13.4. Compensation paid to officers or employees of the City of Michigan is not subject to the tax. Such compensation shall be taxable only to the state where duties are performed on property owned or controlled by the state, or the corporate limits of the City of Pontiac.

Rep. 13.5. Compensation paid to officers or employees of the United States Government, not for service in the armed forces, is subject to the tax. Such compensation shall be taxable even though the services are performed on property owned or controlled by the United States Government within the corporate limits of the City of Pontiac.

Rep. 13.6. The mere fact that part or all of the duties of a resident employee working within the City limits may be performed at his home, in connection with books, projects, undertakings, or other activities outside of the corporate limits of the City of Pontiac does not give rise to any deduction or related compensation from taxable income.

Sec. 14. The tax shall apply on the following basis to a corporation doing business in the city, being levied on such portion of the net profits of a firm owned by the corporation as a result of work done, services performed and other business activities conducted in the city, as determined in accordance with this ordinance. "Taxable net profits of a corporation" means federal taxable net profits of a corporation determined under the federal revenue code but taking into consideration the modifications and adjustments provided in this ordinance. No deductions shall be allowed for:

(a) Net operating losses and net capital losses sustained prior to the effective date of this act.

(b) The city income tax imposed by this ordinance.

A corporation may deduct income, war profits and excess profits taxes imposed by a foreign country or possession of the United States to the extent that any part of such taxes would be allowable as a deduction in determining taxable income under the applicable provisions of the federal revenue code.

Rep. 14.1. Corporations are not permitted to file a consolidated return for tax purposes. Every corporation subject to the tax shall file a return, regardless of any option available to it under section 1371-1378 of the federal internal revenue code. The taxable income or net operating loss of a corporation shall be taxed to it and not to its shareholders and reported on their individual returns.

Rep. 14.2. In determining taxable net profits of a corporation no deduction shall be allowed for:

a. Net operating losses and net capital losses sustained prior to the effective date of the city income tax ordinance which date is January 1, 1968.

b. The city income tax imposed by the uniform city income Ordinance No. 1573.

Sec. 15. An unincorporated business, profession or enterprise carried on by two or more persons subject to the tax as either a sole proprietorship or partnership shall be taxed on the net profits from carrying on the unincorporated business, profession or enterprise and shall file a separate income tax only in their separate and individual capacities on the following basis:

(a) A resident proprietor or partner is taxable upon his entire distributive share of the net profits, regardless of where or whether the activity is conducted.

(b) A nonresident proprietor or partner is taxable only upon his distributive share of the net profits earned in the city of the activity which is attributable to the work done, services performed as provided in this ordinance.

(c) In the hands of a proprietor or partner an unincorporated activity, the character of any item of income taxable under this ordinance is determined by how such item were realized by the individual taxpayer. For example, where one has a distributive share of interest, dividends, royalties, capital gains or losses, the same income is directly related to the nature of the business (as, for example, where one is in the business of lending out his money at interest).

Sec. 16. (a) The unincorporated business, profession or other activity owned by 2 or more persons shall file a partnership information return setting forth:

(1) The income for the period covered by the return and the taxable portion of the net profit attributable to the city.

(b) The names and addresses of the owners of the unincorporated activity and each owner's taxable distributive share of the net profits and each nonresident owner's share of the taxable net profit attributable to the city.

Sec. 17. At the election of an unincorporated business, profession or other activity, the entity, on behalf of the owners, may compute and pay the tax due with respect to each owner's share of the net profit of the activity at the entity level effect to exemptions to which each owner is entitled. This election is available to all unincorporated business entities having as owners persons in the state of residence of the owners. The tax thus paid by the entity confirms to tax due with respect to each owner's distributive share of the net profits of the unincorporated business, profession or other activity.

(a) The unincorporated business, profession or other activity elects under this section file a return and pay the tax on behalf of its owners, the election and computation of the tax and the requirements of this ordinance for the filing of a return for each owner, who has no other income subject to the tax. However, the election is not available to an owner having taxable income other than his distributive share of the net profits of the entity. In such case the income is subject to the tax shall be included in the return filed and the tax paid on behalf of the unincorporated business, profession or other activity.

If the unincorporated business, profession or other activity elects under this section to pay the tax on behalf of the owners, then the unincorporated business, profession or other activity assumes the status of a taxpayer and is liable for interest and penalties if payment is not made by the due date, in accordance with the calendar or fiscal year adopted by the business, profession or other activity.

Sec. 18. When the entire net profit of a business, profession or other activity arises from business activities exclusively within the city, the entire net profit shall be taxed. Net profit, earned as a result of work done, services rendered or other business activity conducted within the city, shall be determined at the election of the taxpayer, either by separate accounting or by the allocation formula hereinafter provided for in Sec. 24, or Sec. 25.

Sec. 18.1. The fact that a person fills orders by shipment to an out-of-city customer, maintains a stock of goods regularly maintained and established out-of-city business activities, does not entitle such person to apportion part of his net profits earned as a result of work done, services rendered or other business activity conducted within the city.

Rep. 18.2. The mere solicitation of orders by salesmen or by catalogue or other mailed matter, from a location within the city for shipment to an out-of-city customer, does not of itself give rise to a situs out-of-city activity. The solicitation of orders within the city must be carried on by employees or by an agent rather than an independent contractor, does not constitute doing business within the city.

Sec. 19. The separate accounting method if such taxpayer regularly keeps its books and records in such manner as to show the net profits attributable to the city. Net profits attributable to work done, services performed or rendered, and business or other activity conducted within the city, shall consist of the net profits derived from the unit, branch or activity in the city is operated as a separate business, profession or independent profit making business.

Sec. 20. The separate accounting percentage method shall be used if such taxpayer does not keep its books on a separate accounting method of allocation. The entire net profits of such taxpayer earned as a result of work done, services rendered or other business activity conducted within the city shall be arrived at by determining the total "in-city" percentage of payroll and sales. "In-city" percentages of property, payrolls and sales shall be determined as follows, as determined in accordance with sections 21 to 24.

Sec. 21. First, the taxpayer shall ascertain the percentage which the average net book value of the tangible personal property owned and the real property, including leasehold improvements, owned or used by it in the city is to the average net book value of all the taxpayer's property, including leasehold improvements, owned or used by the taxpayer in business during the taxable period wherever situated. Real property and tangible personal property rented by the taxpayer shall be valued at eight times the annual gross rental thereon. The average net book value shall be determined by the actual sum of money or other consideration paid or accrued for such property during the period covered by the return for the use or possession of real property and includes but is not limited to:

(a) An amount payable for the use or possession of property, real or personal or thereof, whether designated as a fixed sum of money or as a percentage of receipts, profits or otherwise.

(b) Any amount payable as additional rent or in lieu of rent such as property taxes, insurance, repairs or other amount required to be paid by the terms of a lease or other arrangement.

Sec. 22. The numerator of the taxpayer shall ascertain the percentage which the total compensation paid by the taxpayer for services performed within the city during the period covered by the return is to the total compensation paid by the taxpayer for the use or possession of all the taxpayer's employees within and without the city during the period covered by the return. For the purposes of this section, compensation shall be computed on the basis of time records or other equitable method used in computing the entire compensation of employees.

If an employee performs services within and without the city, the following examples are not all inclusive but may be used as a guide for determining the amount to be treated as compensation for services performed within the city:

(a) In the case of a salesman, the proportion which his working time within the city is to his total working time.

(b) In the case of an employee compensated entirely by commissions, the business secured by him, such as a salesman on a commission basis, the proportion received by him for business attributable to his efforts in the city.

(c) In the case of an employee compensated on other results achieved, the proportion which the compensation received which the value of his services performed in the city bears to the value of his services.

Sec. 23. Third, the taxpayer shall ascertain the percentage which the gross revenue of the taxpayer derived from business done or services performed in the city is of the total gross revenue from the taxpayer's entire business transacted or rendered during the period covered by the return.

(1) For the purposes of this section, sales made to the United States Government where the goods, merchandise or property is received in the city by the purchaser, shall be considered sales made in the city. In the case of delivery of goods in the city by the taxpayer's own trucks or by other means of transportation, the place at which the goods are received by the purchaser.

The following examples are not all inclusive but may serve as a guide for determining sales made in the city:

(a) Sales to a customer in the city with shipments to a destination within the city from a stock of goods within the city. Such city location are considered sales made in the city.

(b) Sales to a customer in the city with shipments to a destination within the city directly from the taxpayer's in-city supplier or out-of-city supplier are considered sales made in the city.

(c) Sales to a customer in the city with shipments to a destination within the city from a stock of goods within the city regularly maintained and established out-of-city business activities are sales made in the city.

Sec. 24. Sales to an out-of-city customer with shipments or deliveries to the customer's location within the city are considered sales made in the city.

(a) Sales to an out-of-city customer with shipments to out-of-city destination are considered out-of-city sales.

(b) In the case of public utilities or businesses furnishing transportation, the following examples are not all inclusive but may be used as a guide for the purposes of this section may be measured by the following reasonable measure of the proportion of gross revenue obtained in the city by such business.

Sec. 25. In determining "sales made in the city" the fact that title may pass to the purchaser in the city or that the order or private carrier or other means of transportation may originate in the city at which the goods are ultimately delivered to the destination shall be considered, shall be considered as the place at which the goods are received by the purchaser.

Sec. 26. Capital gains and capital losses, other than gains and losses on securities issued by the government of the United States, shall be included in the taxable base only to the extent that any of the gains or losses which occur after the effective date of the ordinance. In determining the amount of gain or loss, the basis of property shall be the adjusted cost basis for the purpose of computing gain or loss from the sale or exchange less fair market value as of the effective date of the ordinance. The fair market value of property shall be determined by an appraisal or similar method. Quotations on a market value of a security shall be the closing price of the last business day prior to the effective date. For a security traded over the counter the last sale price shall be the last bid price on the last business day prior to the effective date. The taxpayer may determine the gain or loss on a security in the same manner as taking the adjusted cost basis thereof, multiplied by that portion thereof which occurs after the effective date. The portion of that gain or loss attributable to the ordinance. The same will be the same proportion of the gain or loss as the number of days that the property was held after the effective date of the ordinance bears to the total time the property was held. In any city income tax ordinance in effect prior to this ordinance, which provides for a net capital loss carry-over, losses shall be included to the extent that portion of such gains or losses which is subject to the city income tax in the original city income tax ordinance.

Sec. 27. A capital loss carry-over of capital gains in a taxable year, the unused portion of such capital loss may be carried over to the following year or years, and so on the same basis as provided in the federal revenue act.

Sec. 27. An estate or trust is not subject to the tax under this ordinance except that it shall be treated as a taxpayer for individual purposes of section 11 of this ordinance to the extent that income of the estate or trust described in section 11 is not taxable in the hands of the beneficiary individual as "income from estates and trusts" or "taxable compensation" or "net profits" under this income subject to this ordinance without regard to the situs of the fiduciary, or for any purpose, an "estate" means the estate of a deceased person during the period of administration or settlement and a "trust" means an inter vivos or testamentary trust established by a person for the benefit of 1 or more persons.

Sec. 28. (1) The term "income from estates" means "income" as defined in section 643 (a) of the federal internal revenue code, properly paid, credited or distributed but not taxable to a resident individual's share of the distributable net income of the estate decreased by the amount of tax exempt interest income properly paid, credited or distributed but not taxable to a resident individual as a deduction under section 642 of the federal internal revenue code. The exceptions hereinafter set forth with respect to trusts are also applicable to income from estates.

(2) The term "income from trusts" means the amount of "income" as defined in section 643 (a) of the federal internal revenue code, required to be distributed currently or credited or distributed by the amount of deductions for depletion allowed under sections 652 (a) or 662 (a) (1) of the federal internal revenue code, whether decreased by the amount of deductions for depletion allowed under section 642 of the federal internal revenue code, with the following exceptions:

(a) Dividends on stock of state and national banks and trust companies.

(b) Interest from obligations of the United States or the governments or the units of government of the states.

(c) Interest received by a resident individual from a fiduciary shall retain the tax free character it had in the hands of the fiduciary. With respect to trusts where the fiduciary is required to distribute some other person under subpart E of subchapter J of the federal internal revenue code, the grantor or other person shall include in his return all items of income, exemption and deductions under this ordinance.

(d) An individual shall include "income from estates and trusts" in his return in the taxable year in which it is required by the federal internal revenue code with respect to distributions of income from estates and trusts. The amount of income to be reported in the return for the first taxable year of individuals receiving income from estates and trusts, shall be computed as provided in the tax year in which the estate or trust for federal income tax purposes began or terminated, and ended with the end of the tax year of the individual for federal income tax purposes which ended next following the effective date.

Sec. 21. An individual tax payer for computing his taxable income is allowed deductions from his net profits for dependency exemptions authorized by the federal internal revenue code. The taxpayer may claim the following exemptions as dependents as exemptions, but if the taxpayer may claim as exemptions, but if the taxpayer may claim as exemptions, but if the taxpayer may claim
