NYE FLIES HOME—Alan R. Nye of Whiting, Ind., condemned to death by a Cuban military court but freed on condition he leave Cuba, boards a plane for Chicago. He was accused of being part of a plot to kill Cuban leader Fidel Castro.

Nye Flies Out of Cuba Step Ahead of Executioner

CHICAGO (AP) — Alan Robert Nye is back home with his family in nearby Whiting, Ind., and says he wants to forget quickly his imprisonment in Cuba and suspended death sentence for the alleged plot to kill Premier Fidel Castro.

The 31-year-old former U.S. Navy flier landed at Midway Airport Sunday night on a flight from Havana, less than 20 hours after a Cuban military tribunal pronounced a death sentence.

The tribunal suspended the sentence on condition Nye leave Cuba within 48 hours.

Nye, who steadily maintained his innocence during his 106 days in jail and at the trial, was greeted at the airport by his mother, Mrs. Joseph Lynch, 51.

"We're all right now mom, aren't we?" Nye asked, embracing his mother. "Don't cry. We're safe now."

Then the garbling Nye, appearing jubilant, turned and kissed his stepfather, Daniel Lynch, who had attended Nye's trial in Havana and flew back with him and his attorney Joseph P. Sullivan.

WON'T COMMENT

Both Nye and Sullivan declined to comment on Nye's conviction on charges of conspiring to kill Castro while Castro was fighting to overthrow the Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista. Nye was arrested last December and had been a prisoner in grim La Cabaña fortress overlooking Havana since January.

Dressed in khaki trousers, a tan and black combat boots, Nye told home, "I'm going to Whiting and get a good rest."

Asked about his imprisonment and trial, he said, "I can't discuss Cuban politics and I don't want to say anything about my trial."

"Cuban politics don't concern me anymore and never will again. I'll never go back there again." (The military tribunal said Nye will face a firing squad if he ever returns to Cuba).

At New Orleans earlier, Nye said he had about as much chance (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Susan Cabot Flying to Meet Jordan's King?

Hussein, who met her while he was visiting in Southern California is now in Detroit. He is due to New York Tuesday.

The couple dated several times after meeting at a party. Susan, a petite divorcee of 31, termed Hussein "the most charming man I have ever met."

Hussein, who is 23 and also divorced, has maintained a regal silence about the affair.

Hussein in Detroit Stresses Red Threat

DETROIT (AP) — Jordan's King Hussein followed a busy schedule of auto plant visits and receptions today as guest of the Motor City.

Stops at General Motors, Chrysler and Ford were on the program of a city tour to be capped by a civic dinner tonight at the Detroit Athletic Club.

The young monarch, 23, repeated a pledge to fight for Arab unity and against Communism in a talk last night at a reception held by Detroit's Arab Community.

"Communism and Arab nationalism can never be together," he said.

Upon his arrival from Chicago he was greeted by a few sign-carrying demonstrators at the Detroit Metropolitan Airport. The pickets were orderly. A few also appeared at the hotel where he spoke. They identified themselves as members of the Arab Student Assn.

Signs carried by the pickets said "We Want Arab Unity" and "release Arab Nationalists from Prison."

Michigan's lanky Gov. G. Mennen Williams, towering a full head over the King, was among Hussein's welcome at the airport.

The mustachioed little king, well put out in a neat dark suit, emphasized his position against Communism in an airport interview.

"We are all on the side of freedom and we all recognize the threat of communism," he said.

Hussein is on a four-week tour of the United States. His next stop tomorrow will be West Point.

U.S. to Launch Three Earth Satellites Today

Plan 2-in-1 Shot From Canaveral, North-South Try at Vandenberg

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States plans to launch three more earth satellites today — two from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and one from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

If all goes well, the three man-made moons will be fired skyward before midnight.

The new satellites are designed to glean more data on the earth's make-up and weather, and explore the possibility of putting huge reconnaissance satellites into orbit in the future.

The Cape Canaveral shot is scheduled to be a unique 2-in-1 launching with the Vanguard rocket. It will carry an instrumented satellite for measuring the magnetic field, solar radiation and meteor effects, and a 30-inch inflatable sphere for checking air density.

Actually, the Canaveral scientists may put three objects in orbit if all goes well. The third and final stage of the rocket assembly is expected to go into orbit with the two satellites.

At Vandenberg, the Air Force will try to put a discoverer satellite into a south-north polar orbit. This launching will be part of a long-range endeavor to develop satellites capable of scanning the earth with television and photographic cameras.

The 1,300-pound discoverer probably will eject a package of instruments which scientists will try to recover. However, defense officials were mum on this aspect of the experiment.

MADE FOR STABLE FLIGHT

The Discoverer satellites, which are designed to achieve stable flight rather than tumbling about like other satellites, have an important relationship to eventual (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

1960 County Budget Calls for Tax Hike

A preliminary 1960 county operating budget of $13,906,584 — for which Oakland County taxpayers can expect a tax increase of 85 cents for each $1,000 of property valuation — will be presented to the Board of Supervisors tomorrow.

The budget, for the purpose of setting a 1959 county tax rate to meet next year's monetary needs, is $1,620,861 higher than the current 1959 budget of $12,285,723.

Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors, said the 1960 budget would require a county tax rate of $6.47 — "the largest we've ever had."

This would be the rate needed, he said, to raise $11,705,584 in taxes under the proposed 1960 budget. The balance of $2,201,000 will come from anticipated receipts paid to the county, Moore said.

For the second straight year the county budget is swelled by the soaring cost of social welfare and hospitalization which it is being burdened with.

Welfare costs alone in the 1960 budget amount to $2,733,700, some $800,000 more than what was allocated in the current budget. Hospitalization is listed for $1,012,040, or some $300,000 more than set out this year.

County 1958 taxes, to raise funds to meet this year's operating budget, were levied on a rate of $5.62 for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

This rate, which was 13 cents less than what the county needed to meet its present budget, failed to bring in enough money to keep Oakland County from facing a deficit of $1,193,293 by the end of this year, Moore said.

COSTS TO SOAR

Welfare and hospitalization costs are the biggest contributing factors to the deficit, he said.

Because of these costs primarily, he added, the county can expect to spend $427,568 more this year than its estimated 1960 budget of $13,906,584.

Moore said no attempts could be made in the 1960 budget to start erasing the whopping "paper deficit" because the county has to wait until it knows the actual dollar and cents deficit the county is in the hole.

"The $1,193,293 paper deficit is based on only the first two months of this year disbursements," Moore said. "What the actual figure will be won't be known until the end of the year."

Supervisors tomorrow will only receive copies of the 1960 budget. It is preliminary so that the County Tax Board, when it starts its tax hearings next month, will know what the county's fiscal needs for next year will be.

With the county needing a record-high $6.47 tax rate, which would be levied, if approved, in December, it means also that this would leave but $8.53 to be split among the townships and schools, based on the 15-mill statutory taxing limitation.

No Music Cut, Says President

Griffin, MacAfee Report Committee to Work on Bond Time Issue

Board of Education President Glenn H. Griffin said today there is no intent on the part of the Board to de-emphasize the school system's instrumental music department curriculum.

"On the contrary," Griffin said, "an attempt is being made to strengthen and expand this part of our educational system, just as we are constantly examining and trying to strengthen many other fields of the system."

Griffin's comment came in the wake of last Thursday's Board meeting where 100 persons protested Board policy concerning the Pontiac Central High School Band.

The band's practice time has been cut from two to one school period and junior high instrumentalists are no longer allowed to practice with the group.

"We are most happy that the citizens' group, interested in this particular question, accepted our invitation to form a committee to work with the Administration in studying every phase of this particular area," Griffin said.

"This may take considerable time and we are hopeful that a mutual understanding and solution may come from this joint study group of administration and citizens."

Griffin's statement was welcomed by Roy MacAfee, chairman of the committee which will meet with school administrators.

"While we consider that the theories and actions of the administration have not been such as to inspire optimism on our part, we still want to give this offer of negotiation every chance to effect a (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Secretary Slips in His Battle Against Cancer

Officials Expect He'll Resign Now Although Ike Still Hopeful

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Foster Dulles, returning unexpectedly from a Florida rest to a hospital room, undergoes intensive new medical checks today in his battle against cancer.

President Eisenhower today headed back to Washington where he will get a new report on the condition of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Eisenhower was reported deeply concerned about Dulles' continuing illness.

A high Republican official said the President was informed several days ago that Dulles had not responded to treatment as well as had been hoped.

Eisenhower had arranged his 24-hour return to the capital to keep a series of engagements made before he went to Augusta, Ga., for a golfing vacation.

LOOKS HAGGARD

The 71-year-old secretary, a world-renowned figure in diplomatic battles against the Soviet Union for six years, re-entered the hospital Sunday afternoon.

Looking haggard and considerably underweight, Dulles cut short his Florida rest stay to undergo a new head to toe check-up to determine what could be done to arrest the cancer.

Dulles returned to Washington only a few hours after the State Department said "it is now desirable he have a period of further observation."

Many of his worried aides gleefully reported that barring a medical miracle, Dulles probably would have to lay aside the foreign policy chores he loves so dearly.

IKE WAITS

Eisenhower was understood to be holding off any decision until Dulles' doctors complete a new series of tests.

The President was reported still hopeful that Dulles could serve as special adviser, at least, during the Big Four foreign ministers conference on Germany. This is to open in Geneva May 11.

"I feel pretty good," Dulles told newsmen at the airport as he walked slowly down the ramp from the President's plane.

He even managed to joke about the weather, a windy mixture of sleet and rain. In appearance, however, Dulles was a far cry from the rugged 185-pound New Yorker who broke all travel records during his six years as secretary of state.

His complexion was ashen. His gray topcoat hung loosely on his frame. Newsmen who have covered his activities for years estimated he had lost 15 to 20 pounds.

One of his top aides said Dulles has not yet submitted a resignation. But, this official thought, some sort of "clarifying announcement" might be issued within a few days.

Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter, who joined Vice President Richard M. Nixon in meeting Dulles at the airport, was reported to be Eisenhower's choice as Dulles' successor if Dulles quits.

Dulles' sudden return came three days after he visited the Palm Beach Air Force Hospital. Nixon talked for 10 minutes with Dulles aboard the plane.

JIMMIE GLEASON

Famous Actor of Character Parts Dies at 72

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Jimmie Gleason—the dour, long-faced actor who played character roles in scores of Hollywood films—died late Sunday night.

Gleason, 72, had been in ill health for a year. Death came at the motion picture country house hospital in nearby Woodland Hills. His last part was a minor role in "The Last Hurrah."

He entered the hospital almost a year ago, suffering from chronic asthma.

Actor Pat O'Brien termed Gleason's death "a great personal loss." Gleason was godfather to O'Brien's daughter, Mavourneed.

O'Brien said that Gleason's only son died during World War II and that his wife passed on shortly afterward. The only survivor is a grandson.

OSCAR NOMINEE

Gleason was nominated for an Oscar in 1942 for a role in "Here Comes Mr. Jordan." It was probably the high point of a career which took him through all the theatrical mediums.

"I played in 'em all," he told an interviewer last year. "Everything but a minstrel show and a medicine show."

Eastern U.S. Gets Wet Snow as Surprise

By The Associated Press
A belt of moist air moving up from the Carolinas ran into a cold front coming down from the North Sunday, creating scattered April snowstorms over parts of the eastern United States.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in New York City reported today that the cold air was drifting out to sea around the middle Atlantic Coast.

The snow fell in scattered areas south of a line from Nantucket, Mass., down through the middle of Connecticut and southern New Jersey. Rain fell to the north of the line.

The snow was wet, and mixed with rain in many places. The highest accumulation reported was 6 inches at Oakland, Md. Parts of West Virginia reported 5 inches. There were 4 at Altoona, Pa.

New York City had a trace of snow—too little to measure. It fell for several hours and melted before changing to rain just before midnight.

Virginia reported a 3-inch snowfall in the Shenandoah region, threatening pear and plum crops. Washington, D.C., had intermittent snow and rain, coming after a day of 90-degree temperature, the hottest for the date in 30 years.

West Virginia was almost entirely covered with about 1 to 3 inches. In the northern Panhandle up to 5 inches was reported.

Flurries quickly turned to rain in Baltimore, but west of Chesapeake Bay in Maryland from 2 to 6 inches was reported.

Spring Fever --- It's Real

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — It can strike any day now, and we have no cure for it, said University of Michigan Professor E. Wendell Hewson.

"We learned a lot about it during the war years," he said. "But still it is a mystery to men of science. However, it is real and not psychological."

It strikes down the most ambitious of men, the professor said. It can hit you while you are looking at the calendar, reading about spring training or cleaning your fishing gear.

Police Get New Name, Description on Suspect in Lassiter Murder

Armed with a revised description and a different name, police throughout the area continued their search for the killer of Parvin (Bill) Lassiter, Royal Oak used car dealer.

Lassiter's body, with a bullet wound in the head, was found in a ditch near Willow Run Wednesday. He had arrived at the nearby air terminal Monday.

State Police Det. Lt. Howard Whaley came up with the new look after further questioning of the TWA clerks who saw the man meet Lassiter at Willow Run Airport Monday and apparently was responsible for his death.

Whaley said the man has blonde hair, crew-cut, and is about 30 years old. He has blond, crew-cut hair, dusty as if covered with sand or cement. Whaley believes the man is a construction worker.

Whaley said all suspects questioned have been released. But police still are being flooded by tips. Lassiter was buried yesterday in his hometown of Murray, Ky.

His last name sounds like "Kolb" and his first name like "Hope" or "Pope."

50,000 Attend Billy Graham's Sydney Opening

SYDNEY, Australia (U-P) — An estimated 50,000 persons attended the opening of Billy Graham's crusade Sunday.

Hundreds waited several hours for the gates to the city show ground to open. Thousands of automobiles and some 400 special buses created one of the largest traffic jams Sydney has experienced.

An official said 3,036 persons made "Decisions for Christ."

The North Carolina evangelist said the numbers are not so important "as the effect of it all five years from now."

The Rt. Rev. Ronald Kerle, coadjutor Australian bishop of Sydney, said Australia's Christian churches never had such unity as under the crusade's banner.

He said that during World War II doctors learned that when troops were flown from high, cold latitudes to warm areas in the tropics, the men had a period of lassitude or inertia.

He explained that the volume of blood in the human body varies about 20 per cent. It increases from winter to summer and decreases from summer to winter.

Hewson pointed out that the body becomes accustomed to the change from cold to warm weather by expanding the fine blood vessels near the skin. These tiny vessels are constricted during the winter to provide a layer of insulation against the cold.

He said this also accounts for the large number of spring colds brought on when the body resistance to cold is lowered by the off-and-on warm spells of early spring.

He said that during the negotiation period no useful purpose would be served by a public controversy such as might develop in the Pontiac Press "Voice of the People" column.

Waterford Board Acts Tonight on Road Work

The final hearing for the black-topping of Lansdowne and Marion streets in Waterford Township will be the only items on the agenda for tonight's Township Board meeting according to Clerk James E. Seetlin.

Tentative bids for the work have been awarded and bonds will be sold to pay for the two streets plus Camley avenue.

Individual property owner assessments have been set up by Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson and these are expected to be presented at the hearing tonight.

Trouble-Shooter Will Go Ahead

2nd 59ers' Group Cagy

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's second Alaska 59ers group hopes to avoid the misfortunes of the first by sending a scout ahead.

Frank Milazzo, a co-leader, is leaving this week to visit the Kenai Peninsula camp site of the group now in Alaska.

A spokesman for the second group, which plans to leave June 22, said Milazzo will try to learn the causes of all the first group's difficulties so they don't be repeated.

The second group, larger than the first, plans to go in a caravan of 75 cars and trucks.

On the way to Alaska and since their arrival, the original homesteaders encountered numerous troubles, including car and truck breakdowns on the 6,500-mile journey. Reports also have told of difficulties over the availability of good homesteading sites.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission to Consider Letter on Library Plans

BIRMINGHAM — The "lone voice in the wilderness" will be heard by city commissioners tonight as they consider the letter of Carleton C. Patterson Jr. of 783 Pilgrim Rd. concerning the proposed Baldwin Library addition.

A lifelong resident of Birmingham, Patterson said he has always been impressed with the dignity of the library.

"I remained silent when modern furnishings and lights were put in, but the idea of a modern wing on the old building is too much. I protest and do so violently," Patterson wrote.

He suggests that a branch library be built, possibly for the exclusive use of children and teenagers. He pointed out that a wing of modern design on the library "would be contrary to the overall picture of the so-called civic center which includes the Municipal Building and Shain Park."

"If enough townspeople feel as I, then I think the present plans should be stopped," Patterson concluded.

Tonight's meeting also will see three commissioners returned to office and sworn in by City Clerk Irene Hanley. They are Mayor Carl Ingraham and former Mayor Charles Renfrew, beginning three year terms, and William Burgum, re-elected for a one-year term.

Following this, commissioners will select two of their group to serve as mayor and mayor pro tem for the coming year.

Bloomfield Hills Police are charging an 18-year-old Royal Oak youth with a $1.20 from a Crippled Children's Fund canister at the Bloomfield Hills Bowling Alley.

Police Capt. Walter Sluiter said Robert H. Monroe of 3538 Elmhurst St., Royal Oak gained entry by forcing his six-foot-four frame through the louvers of a ventilation fan last Tuesday night. Monroe was arrested yesterday.

He was apprehended through the license number of his car and button torn from his shirt as he entered the building.

The youth has been released in the custody of his parents pending his appearance in Bloomfield Hills Municipal Court May 7.

Two home burglaries were reported to Birmingham Police over the weekend.

At the Jared W. Finney home, 1588 Stanley St., $55 was stolen while the family was away on a two-day trip. Police said the dwelling was completely ransacked.

Between 8:30 and 10 p.m. yesterday, the home of Dr. Kenneth W. Sproule, 1568 Yorkshire Rd. was broken into and $28 in cash and tools estimated to be worth $15 were taken.

Birmingham Chapter 220 OES will observe Friendship Night at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Masonic Temple.

Officers from other south Oakland County chapters will exemplify the degrees of the order.

B. Frank Turcott Service for B. Frank Turcott, 45 of 908 Pierce St. will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Mr. Turcott, a sand and gravel contractor, died yesterday in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after a short illness.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Scholtus of Battle Creek and Judith Ann at home; a son, Frank, at home; his mother, Mrs. Della Dingle of Detroit; three sisters and seven brothers.

Crane 'Copter Unveiled Today

New Development Has Big Future in Army, Transportation Industry

STRATFORD, Conn. (U-P) — The new Sikorsky S60 crane helicopter, radical in construction and use, was unveiled today.

Instead of the conventional passenger or cargo cabin, the fuselage of the S60 consists of a bridge-like boom extending from the cockpit to the tail rotor. Loads are carried externally by hoists suspended from the fuselage at a point directly under the main rotor.

The aircraft is powered by two 2,100-horsepower Pratt & Whitney piston engines. It can carry a 4-to-6-ton payload up to 100 miles.

Its construction was a joint project of the Navy and the Sikorsky Division of the United Aircraft Corp.

In today's demonstration, the helicopter lifted a two-ton public utility pole and placed it in a hole; transported a 60-foot, 4,500-pound Army bridge span and positioned it on a foundation; and ing a dummy of an Honest John missile across the flight field carrying a dummy of an Honest John missile, demonstrating the mobility the flying crane will give the Army's missile arsenal.

Lee S. Johnson, Sikorsky general manager, predicted the crane would revolutionize the transportation industry.

efforts to put a man in space as well as to military communications, meteorology and reconnaissance.

The current experiments eventually may lead to 10,000-pound satellites hurled aloft by Atlas intercontinental missiles.

Both the Vandenberg and Canaveral launchings will be under the auspices of the National Aeronautical and Space Administration (NASA). The former is strictly military, however, while the latter is part of experiments started during the International Geophysical Year (IGY).

The Vanguard satellite will carry a magnetometer to measure the strength of the earth's magnetic field, fluctuations in the field caused by charged particles from the sun and the relation of such variations to radio signals, magnetic storms and the aurora.

It also will feature a radiation balance device. This will consist of four "ping pong" balls mounted on antennae which will measure the difference between energy reaching the earth and energy reflected by the earth.

In addition, it will carry a small plastic-aluminum balloon folded into a compact package. Once the satellite goes into orbit, the package will be detached and the balloon will be inflated with nitrogen. It weighs only seven-tenths of a pound.

Icebreaker to Cut Channel Near Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE (P) — The Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw was ready to start clearing a shipping channel near here today or tomorrow.

Cmdr. E. J. Bodenlos said the vessel would attempt to clear the lake channel near the entrance to Lake Huron. He said the Mackinaw would move into the heavy icefield in Lake Superior's Whitefish Bay at a later date.

The Great Lakes shipping season is scheduled to open Thursday. Both the American and Canadian canals at the Soo have been opened and are ready for the first ships.

Liquor License No Bar, Claims Petoskey Mayor

PETOSKEY (P) — Donald Stark says he intends to become Petoskey's mayor tonight despite legal problems arising from his interest in a grocery where beer and wine are sold.

The 31-year-old mayor-elect said he expects to work out the problems with the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

The Commission has ruled that a mayor, who is a peace officer unless someone else is designated in the charter, cannot hold any type of liquor license while in office. The grocery in which Stark is a partner has a beer and wine takeout license.

Stark said he was working with an attorney to settle the problem. He defeated incumbent Chester A. Crago in last Monday's election.

Government to Tell Court:

No Tainted Evidence Used in Goldfine Case

WASHINGTON (P) — Attorneys resume this afternoon a court argument over whether House investigators had benefit of electronic eavesdropping and stolen records when they questioned Bernard Goldfine last July.

Asst. U.S. Attorney William Hitz said he would offer evidence before Federal District Judge James W. Morris that the special subcommittee on legislative oversight used no tainted evidence.

The question was raised Friday when Goldfine's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, contended the questioning of the Boston industrialist was "born of a theft."

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), was checking into Goldfine's relations with various federal agencies and with Sherman Adams, then top assistant to President Eisenhower.

Williams argued that the hotel room of Miss Mildred Paperman, Goldfine's secretary, was entered during her absence from Washington over the weekend of July 3-6, that Goldfine's personal papers were taken away and photographed, then returned.

He said a hotel cashier, William Walters, removed the documents and turned them over to Baron Shackelford, then the subcommittee's chief investigator. Walters was arrested, but a grand jury refused to indict him.

Hitz said he knew of no evidence used by the committee which was obtained either by eavesdropping or by theft. No such evidence was presented to the grand jury which indicted Goldfine on 18 charges of contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions, Hitz said. He added that no such evidence will be used in the trial.

Can your child afford not to have a college education?

ADVANCED EDUCATION does not miraculously confer health, wealth and wisdom. But it helps—as millions have learned. Thus, every year, more and more high school graduates enroll in the particular college program best designed to develop their abilities.

U. S. Census statistics show that the cost of college is returned many times over in extra earnings in later years.

In an average lifetime, college graduates earn $100,000 more than those with a high school education only. And this takes no account of the extra satisfactions a college education can give.

One way to help make sure your children will have the education they need is through Metropolitan's Education

Estate Builder Plan.

This policy may be taken out shortly after a child's birth. Of course, the younger the child, the lower the premium. Then, on maturity of the policy, the amount is available for the child's education. For a slight additional cost, the policy can even provide for the waiver of future premiums to maturity date in the event of the father's death.

And still another advantage to this Metropolitan Education-Estate Builder Plan is the privilege of conversion:

When the policy matures, if the money is not then needed for education, each $1,000 of the plan can be converted into $5,000 of Limited Payment Life insurance. The premium remains unchanged and no medical examination is required.

Thus, this converted insurance becomes a ready-made insurance estate for your child's start in family life.

Planning for your children's education is not a thing that you should put off. It is never too soon to prepare for the costs of a college education.

That is why it is a good idea to talk to your Metropolitan Representative as soon as possible. He will be happy to explain how a Metropolitan Education-Estate Builder Plan can help you give your children the advanced education they will need.

Russian 'House Cleaning'

Shakeup in Soviet Sports

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — A big shakeup in Soviet sports will be completed this week by a high-level conference which meets in Moscow to pick new bosses for Russia's two billion dollars-a-year sports effort.

The April 17 conference of sports, government, army, trade union and Young Communist League representatives is expected to mark the end of a sweeping housecleaning in Soviet sports. It was set off a year ago by a string of stunning defeats and scandals involving some of Russia's most pampered sports stars.

The housecleaning slowly built up, from condemning and punishing individual cases of failure or corruption to changing selection and coaching methods and to a review of basic planning methods in Russia's state-directed sports life.

Now, reorganization apparently is reaching its highest level. The Moscow conference is expected to formally dissolve the sports ministry and put supreme direction into the hands of a non-government, more Democratically functioning "union of sports societies and organizations."

Slated to become chairman of the new organization is Nikolai Romanov, who looks like an elder Yul Brynner. He has been a senior official in both the Soviet and the International Olympic committees. "The (new) Union's principal task will be to make sport one of the basic means of improving the people's health," Tass recently quoted Romanov as saying.

But Romanov failed to explain

Dorothy Gets Commutation to Life in Zoo

HUGO, Okla. (AP) — Zoo officials will bring Dorothy, the once-doomed circus elephant, back alive to Tulsa this month.

Director Hugh Davis of Tulsa's Mohawk Zoo said the man-killing elephant will be taken from here to her new home April 22.

Davis said Dorothy will be used strictly for exhibition, "although she is an expert performer."

It was two faulty performances which caused her present owner, circus owner Jack Moore, to order her execution.

Moore purchased Dorothy from another circus after she performed a headstand on her trainer, crushing him to death.

He thought he could rehabilitate the elephant, but two weeks ago she repeated her stunt on another trainer. He was injured.

Davis said his elephant trainer "says she might straighten up and become a perfect lady."

But they'll take no chances. Her first 60 days in Tulsa, Davis said, the elephant would be shackled inside the elephant building. With the completion of a moat around the building, she'll be unchained.

"We've saved Dorothy's life at no cost to the city," Davis said. "She's a beautiful elephant and will be used only for exhibit."

The cost of shipping Dorothy to Tulsa will be paid by Tulsa radio station manager Bob Hoth, who suggested to Davis the zoo might obtain the doomed elephant.

"Everybody is very happy about the ending to this," said Hoth.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The little woman may have good reason to complain of a headache after a day of housework.

A Los Angeles eye expert, Dr. James R. Gregg, told the Utah Optometric Assn. Sunday a survey of 200 occupations showed the housewife's job is more demanding on the eyes than any other.

Extradition Hearing for Trilk Scheduled

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Gov. Leroy Collins will hold an extradition hearing this afternoon at 2:30 for a man wanted in Michigan on gambling graft conspiracy warrants.

Russell Trilk, downriver Detroit gambling suspect, was one of eight defendants named in the warrants charging conspiracy in the suburb of River Rouge in February.

Trilk left for Florida some weeks before the others were picked up. He surrendered to Florida police Feb. 25 but elected to fight extradition.

Chief trial lawyer Raymond J. Deryck and Assistant Prosecutor Paul Slack of the Wayne County Prosecutor's office will represent the state at the hearing. They flew to Florida Saturday.

The other defendants were bound over for trial April 1 after examination before Common Pleas Judge Thomas A. Kenney.

Workers behind the scenes of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra play an important role in the success of the organization. Left to right are Mrs. Fred Coleman, who is responsible for the program booklet at each concert; Mrs. James Rosenthal, who prepares the music notes for each performance; Mrs. Roger Welton, who recruits new talent, and Lillian Laska, the business manager. Each of these women has devoted a great deal of time, talent and effort to make the Pontiac Symphony a success.

Dedicated 'Back-Stage' Workers

What's Behind Symphony?

By DORA S. DAWSON

When the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra closes its season of concerts April 21 at Northern High School, fine music will be enjoyed, but few will realize the unsung work that has been done by a score of willing,

Shower Honors Bride-to-Be Arline Green

A miscellaneous shower honoring Arline H. Green, bride-elect of Leonard Sheffer, was given at the home of Mrs. Douglas L. Green on James K boulevard.

Arline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scherly L. Green of Gregory road, and Leonard, son of Mrs. Sinda Sheffer of Prescott, will be married May 15 at the First Free Methodist Church.

Guests invited to the shower were Mrs. Green, Mrs. Sheffer, Mrs. L. J. Green, Mrs. Marvin Middleton Jr., Joan Strine, Eleanor Gilling, Joan Turner, Mrs. Lewis Turner, Mrs. Eugene Green, Mrs. Gerald Green, Mrs. Henry Fosmoen, Mrs. Marie Cix, Mrs. Robert Petersen, Mrs. Fred Green, and Mrs. James Marsh.

Women's Unit of Symphony to Meet Monday

Mrs. E. D. Foley of Locklin lane will entertain members of the Women's Association of Pontiac Symphony Orchestra at 1 p.m. today.

Philip Steinhaus, organist and choir director of All Saints Episcopal Church, will be guest speaker. He will present a resume of the orchestral numbers to be played at the April 28 concert at Northern High School auditorium.

Mrs. F. J. Moreau will be social chairman for the coffee hour preceding the program.

interested people who have worked behind the scenes. They have fulfilled jobs that have been a necessity to the success of the concert. Good attendance is a matter of innate love of music, the persuasiveness of members of a selected ticket committee, or the result of publicity, window displays, posters and individual effort.

To go behind the scenes — at each rehearsal there is the business manager, Lillian Laska, who signs in each orchestra member, keeping track of attendance and turning this report in to the treasurer of the executive board of the management.

SERVES AS CONTACT

Miss Laska acts as a contact between the board and the musical director. In getting acquainted with each member, she in turn has acquainted the members with each other and created a unity of spirit that is a bond in their desire to produce to the best of their ability the interpretations the director calls for.

She established a coffee break in rehearsals, bringing together members who in private lives are of many professions, but have the love of music in common.

Then, there is the setting up of chairs, music desks, podium, lighting and equipment by the house committee, and the distribution of parts of the music for each individual orchestral section and the collection and care of the same by the librarians after rehearsals.

Ushers, generally young music students, are chosen for each concert.

SCOUTS FOR TALENT

Mrs. Roger Welton, an accomplished musician in solo and ensemble music, is recruitment chairman and constantly on the alert for new talent — either youngsters or seasoned musicians who are new in the county and can pass the audition. With the increased instrumental training in the schools, future players are anticipated and listed, as it is the desire to make the orchestra an ever-growing one in the area.

Another feature that takes time and thought is the program booklet, prepared by Mrs. Fred C. Coleman, for each concert. Items, personnel lists, advertising and program material have to be adjusted to pages with the plan to save space, yet accommodate everything before being taken to the printer.

Appearing in the program booklet for each concert are notes about the music to be played. This takes research and study. They have been completely and capably prepared by Mrs. James Rosenthal.

Music planned for each concert is worked out with director Francesco DeBlasi, and the music committee, Mrs. Celia Merrill Turner, associate conductor; George Putnam; Robert Peterson; Mrs. Rosenthal; Jay Jacobson and Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, with the thought of presenting the finest music available both in traditional and contemporary compositions.

300 Attend Dr. Jones' Zonta Tea

By MARY ANGLEMEIER

Dr. Sarah VanHousen Jones greeted nearly 300 fellow members and friends of the Pontiac Zonta Club at a tea in her Stony Creek home near Rochester Sunday afternoon.

Receiving with Dr. Jones were Alice Serrell, Margaret Stark and Maude Chambers.

GRACIOUS SETTING

The home, with its log burning fires and candlelight, was the perfect setting for a Sunday in the country. Guests were welcome to wander through the century-old residence to see the many possessions which have been loved and cared for by five generations.

A chest in the dining room was brought to the home when the Taylor family came to the area in 1812 from Albany, New York.

From windows on three sides of the house, the rippling water of Stony Creek could be seen meandering through the farmland. The creek begins at Cranberry Lake and empties into the Clinton River near Rochester.

AT TEA TABLE

Pouring during the afternoon were Mrs. Andra Francis of Saginaw, international president of Zonta Clubs, Mrs. Chad Mellinger, president of the Pontiac Zonta Club, Mrs. L. Harvey Lodge and Mrs. Fotis Takis.

A spring bouquet of roses, daisies, stock and pansies in a silver epergne centered the tea table. The organdy cloth and the candles were mint green.

Chairman Mary Kelly was assisted by Mr. Roy H. Riddle, Mrs. Neal Scott, Mrs. Dorothy Brooks, Mrs. John Kinzler, Mrs. Katherine Baker, Mrs. Richard Wolfe and Mrs. Nat Morrison.

Pine Lake Club Hears Art Talk

Mrs. Malcolm Sweezy of Pine Lake road opened her home for the board meeting of Pine Lake Art Club this afternoon.

A talk on "Backgrounds of Art" was given by Mrs. LeRoy Small.

At 1 p.m. Wednesday, the club will hold its regular meeting and luncheon at Rotunda Inn. This will be a closed meeting as officers are to be elected.

Feted at Shower

A pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Melvin McDowell was given by Mrs. George McGlone and Mrs. Delbert Burnett at the McGlone residence on Cameron avenue.

Selecting geraniums to be used as prize prizes for the benefit to be given by Pontiac branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association are left to right, Mrs. Milo J. Cross, Mrs. A. R. Young and Mrs. R. S. Nelson. The club is sponsoring a

We Guests All Close Relatives?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My brother's wife has a distant relative of hers living with them in their house. We have family 'get-togethers' several times a year on different occasions. I would like to know if it is necessary to invite my sister-in-law's relative to these get-togethers.

"I feel that she has no place at these gatherings but have been told that it would be very rude to leave her out. I would like your opinion."

Answer: If these gatherings include none but immediate members of the family, it is unnecessary to invite her. But if you are going to have any relatives or friends, it would be rude to leave her out.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is correct or even in good taste when serving a scotch (or rye) and soda to guests in one's house, to leave the 'stirrer' in the glass? I have encountered this quite a few times and was rather surprised.

"It is not only very awkward to attempt to drink out of a glass with one of these in it, but it is impossible to find a place to rest it should one try to get rid of it. It is my contention that the 'stirrer' belongs at a bar or in one's kitchen. What is your opinion?"

Answer: If a "stirrer" is used at all in one's house, it should be removed from the glass.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My girl friend was to have been married this spring at a large wedding. I had planned to give her a shower before the wedding. However, two weeks ago she and her fiancé eloped and were married in another city. I would like to know if it would be proper to still give her a shower?"

Answer: There is no reason why you may not still give her a shower at this time if you like.

It's Where He Works, Not What He Drinks

Memorial to Sen. Taft Recalls '52 Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Times change, politics makes strange bedfellows, your opponent can become your friend, and it is fitting to speak well of the dead.

Against a background of such time-proven statements, Dwight D. Eisenhower will take part tomorrow in a ceremony honoring the late Robert A. Taft.

No one who remembers the 1952 Republican convention in Chicago will forget the bitter fight between Taft and Eisenhower for the presidential nomination, or its strange and somewhat poignant aftermath.

Taft, "Mr. Republican," Senator from Ohio, mastermind of Senate GOP strategy, desperately wanted to follow in his father's footsteps and be elected President.

He tried more than once, and failed. He thought '52 was his year. It almost certainly would have been except that Eisenhower dusted off his five stars and knocked Taft out with one punch in a first ballot nomination at Chicago.

Remember? Ike muscling through crowds on that Chicago street to clap the beaten Taft on the shoulder... Taft summoning up a weak smile...

And then Taft, renouncing all White House hopes, hitting the campaign trail for Ike... meeting with Ike after the election... charting his own program for the new administration... getting Ike to go along with most of it... steering it through Congress.

And then dying of Cancer July 31, 1953.

Curiously, Taft noticed the first sign of his fatal illness—a weakness in the legs—just before leaving for Augusta, Ga., for a golf date with the President who had become his friend.

Today Eisenhower flies back from Augusta to take part in the dedication of a Taft memorial bell tower 16 blocks from the White House which Robert Alphonso Taft never got to occupy.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.* Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

First Venus Probe Likely Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States plans to launch a 50-pound satellite next month as a preliminary step toward exploring the planet Venus.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said Sunday night the launching will be attempted from Cape Canaveral, Fla., under NASA supervision. He said a follow-up attempt probably will be made in June to send a satellite into the vicinity of Venus.

Next month's satellite, equipped with four rectangular fins, will have a solar battery much more powerful than the one contained in Vanguard I. The first Vanguard, launched almost 13 months ago, still is orbiting and its solar-powered transmitter is still sending signals. The fins on the planned satellite will provide more area for gathering solar energy.

NASA hopes the new satellite will orbit at a peak altitude of 20,000 to 30,000 miles, dipping to a low altitude of 200 miles. It will contain devices to measure cosmic rays and check magnetic fields.

Ship Makes It to Open Water

Tanker Leaves Ontario Port on Lake Erie for Toledo

PORT COLBORNE, Ont. (U.P.A.)—A narrow channel opened in the ice pack off this Lake Erie port during the weekend and a ship slipped through yesterday into open water.

The tanker Imperial Hamilton headed for Toledo for a cargo of aviation fuel.

Meanwhile, three other tankers, the Imperial Quebec, Imperial Collingwood and Imperial Cornwall, left Sarnia as soon as the Hamilton reported herself clear but were not sure they could get through the channel.

Capt. T. K. Knight of the Imperial Hamilton, a veteran lake sailor, kept a close watch on the ice during the weekend as steady north winds slowly shifted it southward.

At 7 a.m. yesterday he sailed through a mile-wide corridor and into the lake 15 miles west of here. The ship was preceded by a tug with a depth recorder to keep her in deep water.

Southwest winds developed during the day. They could shift the ice back into the channel. The Imperial Quebec, expected to arrive here yesterday, draws 20 feet of water, 7 more than the Hamilton, and officials were not sure she could use the channel.

Still in harbor here are the bulk carriers James B. Norris and Frank A. Sherman which made unsuccessful attempts to get through the ice last week. They have laid off their crews and are waiting for better conditions.

A major ice jam is reported at Whitefish Bay at the Lake Superior side of the Sault Ste. Marie canal. Large concentrations of moving floes were making ship movement dangerous.

The average life span of a house mouse is four years, of a cottonmouth moccasin 21 years, an elephant 69 years and a giant tortoise 152 years.
