Lay Cornerstone for Courthouse

Several hundred persons today gathered under sunny skies at the site of the new Oakland County courthouse for the building's historic cornerstone laying ceremonies.

With this afternoon's sealing of a memento-filled copper box in the cornerstone by four top county officials, the long-awaited courthouse moved closer to realization.

Master of ceremonies at the 2 p.m. program was Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors. He had three special guests with him on the bunting-draped platform.

They were Joe Haas, the county's official historian and editorial staff member of The Pontiac Press, Mrs. Marion Blakeslee of Waterford Township and Mrs. Miriam C. McWilliams.

Haas and Mrs. McWilliams were among the crowd of thousands that gathered Aug. 30, 1904, at Saginaw and Huron streets to watch the cornerstone laid for the present downtown courthouse.

Mrs. Blakeslee, 79, contributed to the 16-by-12-by-12-inch copper box placed in the new building's cornerstone a program from the 1905 dedication of the present courthouse.

Featured speakers at the ceremony today were former Oakland County Congressman George A. Dondero of Royal Oak, former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner, now a resident of Bloomfield Township, and Pontiac Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

DETHMERS CAN'T ATTEND

A fourth scheduled speaker, Chief Justice John R. Dethmers of the State Supreme Court, was unable to attend the historical county event because of an accident to his mother.

Given the honor of sealing the box in with specially donated trowels were Supervisors John B. Osgood of Royal Oak, David Levinson of Birmingham, Luther Heacock of Birmingham and Robert Y. Moore, veteran chairman of the Board of Auditors.

Osgood is chairman of the special County Building Committee, Levinson chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and Heacock chairman of the Buildings and Grounds Committee.

★ ★ ★

All three committees worked hand-in-hand in laying plans for the three-million-dollar building.

There was a touch of the "good old days" when spectators drove up to the rapidly-forming County Service Center off Telegraph road. Traffic direction was handled by the mounted posse of the Sheriff's Dept.

Music was provided by the bands from Royal Oak and West Bloomfield high schools.

Before the ceremonies, members of the 83-member Board of Supervisors along with county officials gathered for a special pre-ceremony luncheon at the nearby County Garage.

"Fifty-six years ago in 1904 the Board of Supervisors met with citizens of the county at the corner of North Saginaw street and West Huron street in Pontiac to celebrate the laying of the cornerstone of the preesnt courthouse," Hamlin said.

"With justifiable pride they pointed to the large limestone building as a great achievement in providing suitable and adequate facilities to better conduct the affairs of the county government for its then 44,792 residents."

Ike to Address U.S. Tonight on Asian 'Success'

Reportedly Feels Trip Valuable in Welding Relations There

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, back from a 23,000-mile good will tour of the Far East, tells the nation tonight why he reportedly considers it a big success despite concellation of his Tokyo visit.

His speech from the White House at 6:30 p.m. EST will be carried nationwide by television and radio. Advance reports are that he will stress a belief the trip was valuable in strengthening U.S. ties with the countries he visited.

Eisenhower held long conferences today on international and other affairs with Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

The President's half-hour speech will be broadcast over radio stations WWJ and WXYZ at 6:30 p.m., WKMH at 7:30 p.m., WJBK at 8:30 p.m. and WJR at 10:30 p.m. On television, the hours will be 7:30 p.m., on channels 2 and 4, and 11:15 p.m. on channel 7.

The chief executive returned to the capital Sunday exactly two weeks after setting out on the trip which took him to Alaska, the Philippines, Formosa, Korea and Hawaii.

He was to have visited Japan as the climax of his tour beginning June 19 but Premier Nobusuke Kishi withdrew the invitation when left-wing and Communist-led riots against a new U. S.-Japanese security pact caused him to decide he could not guarantee the President's safety.

★ ★ ★

Stepping jauntily down the ramp from his jet airliner at Andrews Air Force Base, Eisenhower appeared tanned and rested after six days of golfing in Hawaii.

"How was your trip, Mr. President," a reporter asked.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter headed a group of officials and foreign diplomats who welcomed him home.

The weatherman predicts that it will remain warm with a high tomorrow of 80 to 86, but scattered showers and thundershowers are on the way for tonight and tomorrow.

Tonight will be partly cloudy and cooler with temperatures ranging from 60 to 65. Light southeasterly winds will increase to 12 to 18 m.p.h. this evening.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. today was 62 degrees at 2:45 a.m. At 2 p.m. the mercury read a warm 85.

Sabotage in Cuban Arms Blast Now Minimized

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban army officials today said it was premature to say anything about the origin of a munitions dump explosion that rocked Havana with the force of an earthquake, killing one person and injuring more than 50.

Fidel Castro ordered the bomb site sealed off immediately after the blasts Sunday night stunned Cubans in the capital just before 7 p.m. and shattered windows over a four-mile area.

★ ★ ★

One young militiaman poking angrily about the shattered glass fronts muttered: "Los Americanos, Los Americanos."

A traffic jam developed as streams of autos and crowds milled about. Many persons appeared dazed and in a state of shock.

Castro himself had a narrow escape when his car crashed into another car racing to the scene. He jumped into another car and kept going.

The prime minister and President Osvaldo Dorticos, who inspected the area with him, had no immediate statements.

Flying glass caused most of the casualties in the blast—the second munitions explosion in Havana Bay in three months.

Reds Scuttle Geneva Talks on Disarmament

Toss Sudden Torpedo Into Stalled 10-Nation Conference

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union and its satellites abruptly broke up the deadlocked 10-nation disarmament conference today and announced they would put the whole matter back before the United Nations.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin told the conference the Soviet Union could no longer participate in the talks because, he alleged the West had refused to negotiate.

It had been anticipated that Russia would exit from the talks until after the American election.

Zorin said the Soviet Union would place its new plan for "general and complete disarmament" before the U.N. General Assembly.

He ignored the new Western disarmament plan which the Western delegations were readying for submission to the conference, possibly this week.

Zorin's announcement brought an end to the 10-nation conference which first opened on March 16, and recessed for six weeks before and after the abortive summit meeting in Paris.

As Zorin stalked into the session to make his dramatic announcement, he met U.S. delegate Fredrick M. Eaton, who returned from Washington Saturday with a draft of the new Western proposals.

Typhoon Rakes Luzon; 100 Die

Winds and Rain Sweep Manila With Hundreds Reported Missing

MANILA (AP)—Nearly 100 persons were reported dead and several hundred missing tonight after Typhoon Olive raked the main Philippine island of Luzon.

Manila, a city of two million, was partly paralyzed by the 80-mile winds and driving rain of the storm, which hacked a northwest path across Luzon late Sunday and early Monday and then churned out into the China Sea.

Reports reaching Manila from southeastern Luzon, which bore the brunt of the storm, told of possibly 60 dead in Albany province, another 21 in the provinces of Camarines Sur and Carmines Norte, and more than 500 fishermen missing in this area.

Seven deaths were reported in the Manila area.

Willman Uses Powers of Charter Amendments

By MAX SIMON and PETE LOCHBILER

He called the 55-year-old police official into his City Hall office shortly before 10 a.m. and handed him a one-page letter that concluded:

Named acting police chief by Willman is Capt. Joseph Koren, who is presently in the services bureau.

He had already called Koren to his office. Koren said Straley announced to him:

"I've been fired. You're going to be chief."

His secretary said Straley was "too busy" to talk to newsmen.

Willman said he was acting under the powers granted him in the charter amendments adopted by voters April 18.

He said he was firing Straley because of the situation in general that has existed within the police department for years.

Willman said he was taking into the account the charges marshaled against Straley during his first ouster 16 months ago.

★ ★ ★

He said he was disappointed also that Straley had not successfully worked with former Public Safety Director George D. Eastman to improve the department along the lines suggested by the controversial Public Administration Service report.

Willman noted that during Straley's ouster hearing last year he had recommended that the chief be dismissed.

"Nothing has occurred since then to make me change my

JOSEPH KOREN

Acting Leader Has 20 Years on Local Force

A police captain with 20 years service on the local force has been appointed acting Pontiac police chief.

He is Joseph Koren, 45, who joined the department in the summer of 1940. Koren has been serving as head of the services bureau, the department's records section.

Born in Grand Rapids, Koren moved to Pontiac with his family at the age of eight and is a graduate of Pontiac Central High School.

From 1933 until he chose a police career, Koren was an assembly line worker at Pontiac Motor Division.

He was promoted to sergeant in 1951, made lieutenant in 1954, and captain in 1957. Before taking over the Services Bureau, Koren was commander of the traffic and safety bureau.

In August of 1955, Koren was awarded a scholarship for a nine-month course at the Northwestern University Traffic Institute for law enforcement officers.

He will head the department until the city holds competitive examinations to select a permanent chief.

Koren lives at 261 S. Cass Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

New York Dems Say: 'We Have to Pick a Winner'

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first in a series of special dispatches to The Pontiac Press based on the political poll taking of a well-known national organization in that field. These "Sum of the People" dispatches will appear intermittently until the November election.)

By JOHN KRAFT

On July 11, the largest delegation at the Democratic convention will be the 114 votes from the "Empire State," New York. But the leadership of the delegation was confronted with this choice:

Should they support the man whom the Democrats in the state would like most to see head up the ticket, or should they support the man most likely to run the strongest race against the Republican candidate? The two are not one and the same.

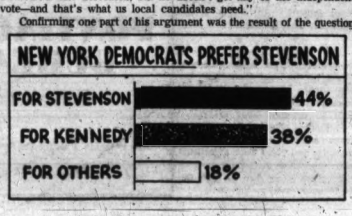
The candidate for local office in one of New York's suburban counties summed up the problem in these words:

"I'm running for coroner here, and this is a town the Democrats haven't won since '48. Stevenson got swamped in the last election and hurt the whole ticket. Much as I'd rather see him as president, I don't think he can run as good a race as Sen. Kennedy will. We Democrats like Stevenson, but he doesn't get any of the independent vote—and that's what us local candidates need."

Confirming one part of his argument was the result of the question asked of Democrats throughout this largest state, now led by Republican Gov. Rockefeller and Republican Sens. Javits and Keating.



THE QUESTION: "Which of the leading Democratic candidates would you most like to see head up the ticket this fall?"

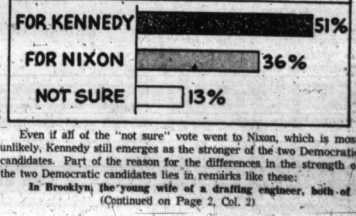
But quite apart from this evaluation is another question—can Stevenson win? Can he overcome the Eisenhower margin of victory if he runs against Nixon this fall? Almost, the survey indicates, but not quite:

Nixon	47%
Stevenson	45%
Not sure	8%

And, if the group which is still not sure made up its mind to vote as it had in the past, the result would look like this:

Nixon	51%
Stevenson	49%

By sharp contrast, if Sen. Kennedy were the Democratic standard-bearer, the election results would be quite different:



Even if all of the "not sure" vote went to Nixon, which is most unlikely, Kennedy still emerges as the stronger of the two Democratic candidates. Part of the reason for the differences in the strength of the two Democratic candidates lies in remarks like these:

In Brooklyn, the young wife of a drafting engineer, both of

"I don't know why I did it."

★ ★ ★

He had just admitted that he shot and killed his 12-year-old stepson Mitchell (Mickey) Steele, as the boy walked up the driveway of their home Saturday, a bag of candy clutched in his hand.

Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said the killing apparently stemmed from a family quarrel over a nickel's worth of candy.

The couple began quarreling Saturday morning when Mrs. Henley returned to the home at 2680 Wisconsin St. from a grocery store where she had purchased a racing form for her husband and five cents worth of candy for Henley's natural son Fritz.

MITCHELL STEELE

TWO ROOT BEER CANDIES

Mrs. Henley, in a statement to the prosecutor's office, said her husband became furious when she gave the candy to their 5-year-old son—two root beer candies besides a whistle and two balloons.

★ ★ ★

She quoted her husband as saying: "I told you not to give the boy so much candy. You're spoiling him. He didn't eat his supper last night."

The younger boy went to an upstairs room to watch television. Henley continued yelling at his wife, then flung a dollar bill at Mitchell and ordered: "Go to the store and stuff yourself."

Mrs. Henley said her husband struck her, and she hit him back.

When she went into the kitchen to call police, he took a loaded shotgun from a downstairs bedroom and fired a blast into the kitchen, it was reported.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Henley ran across her yard to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Mary Lowery, 2701 Dashwood St.

CALLED POLICE

Mrs. Lowery said she called police for the near-hysterical woman, who kept repeating:

Mrs. Betty Wyatt, 2691 Dashwood, volunteered to check on her sons.

As she drove up in front of the house, she saw Mitchell's body sprawled on the dirt driveway of the home.

★ ★ ★

The father was on the porch of the home.

She drove back to the Lowery home.

He said he hadn't been drinking.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lowery was taken to William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak where she was treated for shock.

She later said that Henley had always resented the boy during their seven years of marriage.

"Mitchell was aware of it," she said through tears. "He'd wash his father's feet and did what he could to make him love him."

She said that despite a better-than-average income, the family was deeply in debt. She said her husband frequented race tracks weekly.

★ ★ ★

Henley is being held in the Oakland County Jail without bond on a charge of first-degree murder, pending arraignment in Circuit Court.

Why did he do it?

"I don't know," he said in the Troy police station.

★ ★ ★

New York Democrats Say: Must Pick Winner

whom will be voting for the first time, said: "We've talked it over a lot, and it isn't because we're Catholic that we're for Kennedy. It's just that Stevenson has already proved he'll never make it—he's a two-time loser!"

A middle-aged cabinet maker in upstate Monroe County told us he had been an Ike man "but I think it's time for a change—I'd rather see a young man in there, a man with some new ideas, and frankly I'm a Catholic myself, and I think it's time we had a chance."

★ ★ ★

The proprietor of a small jewelry shop in suburban Westchester County, a Protestant, was explicit in his reason: "I like Stevenson. I voted for him once, but he is just not a practical man. He is a dreamer! In these tough times, we need a president who can get tough if he has to—and Kennedy is the man!"

★ ★ ★

Not all spoke this way.

A Jewish attorney in Manhattan wasn't sure how he'd vote in the fall if the Democrats nominated Kennedy. Said he: "Stevenson is the only man for the job. He has traveled all over the world, and he knows the problems. He's got savvy! If Kennedy gets nominated, I don't know whether I'd vote for him or Nixon—it's a toss-up—they're both political opportunists!"

"The rest of my family is Republican, but I'm a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat and always vote a straight ticket. But this time, I'm not so sure. I like Stevenson. Johnson and Symington are OK in my book, but I don't know about Kennedy—I just don't think he'd represent all of the people!"

Adding up these comments, then, here's how Kennedy and Stevenson would each stack up against Nixon among New York voters of the various religious faiths:

KENNEDY OUTPOINTS STEVENSON IN N.Y. RELIGION-POLITICS SURVEY

	CATHOLIC	PROTESTANT	JEWISH
WOULD VOTE FOR STEVENSON	43%	28%	91%
WOULD VOTE FOR KENNEDY	71%	29%	87%

Immediately, it can be seen that, while both Democrats run roughly equal races among Protestants and Jews, only Jack Kennedy appears able to bring Catholic citizens back to the traditional Democratic moorings; for these same Catholic voters in the state had voted for Eisenhower.

★ ★ ★

In sum, then, the New York state delegation is faced with this choice: To vote for Stevenson because he is the rank-and-file, party-worker favorite, or to vote for Kennedy because he stands the best chance of winning and, therefore, promises greatest support for local candidates.

At a meeting in Albany last Thursday, Kennedy received 87 votes of the 105½ recorded. Thus delegates showed they wanted a winner and not a party favorite. The Democratic electorate went for Stevenson in New York, the survey shows, but nearly all the vital 114 votes will go for Kennedy in Los Angeles.

BLAZE GUTS HOME — Three Pontiac firemen battle an estimated $6,000 blaze that gutted the home of Alvin Bulluck, 122 E. Fairmount St., early yesterday morning. Firemen said a short in an electric lamp started the fire which spread from the living room to the rest of the one-story frame house. No one was injured. Three fire trucks answered the call.

Willman Dismisses Police Chief Straley

mind," the manager said in today's memorandum.

"The city administration has endured confusion and dissention in the police department for the past several years," Willman noted in terminating the chief's employment.

"Groups in your interest opposed the charter amendments politically and legally. But approval of these amendments indicates the voters' desire for peace and harmony in the police department."

The amendments removed the position of Police Chief from the protection of the Police Trial Board and gave the manager discretion to fire him "whenever, in his opinion, it becomes necessary."

Although the manager, theoretically, does not need City Commission approval to fire anyone, the manager himself could be fired by a 5-2 vote of the Commission.

A recent 4-3 vote by the Commission on the subject of Straley apparently convinced Willman that he had the majority on his side.

The vote came as a group of police officers — all opposed to Straley in their sentiments — were speaking of quitting the department because Straley, they said, had promised promotions and advancements to officers they described as "his favorites."

★ ★ ★

"All through this long controversy a majority of the city commissioners have supported the former director of public safety and the city manager in their efforts to improve the efficiency of the police department," Willman noted in the letter.

"I have no reason to believe the same support will be lacking in the decision I have now to make."

Mayor Philip E. Rowston, who has led the Commission fight against Straley during his nearly three years as chief executive, was informed of Willman's action and said he was pleased by it.

Rowston said that he knew the dismissal was coming, that only yesterday he had talked with Willman about it.

"I was aware that the only way we could restore tranquility in the police department would be to replace the department head and go ahead with the changes which Mr. Eastman began, pursuant to the PAS study," said the Mayor.

Both Rowston, who is an attorney, and City Attorney William A. Ewart were persuaded that there were no legal restrictions, at the moment, to prevent Willman from firing Straley.

Willman was asked if he thought a new legal battle might develop.

"It's possible," he admitted.

It was on Feb. 9, 1959 that Willman first suspended Straley — that time on multiple charges drawn up by Eastman, former public safety director.

Eastman had come to Pontiac five months earlier to bring order out of the chaos that an independent study (the Public Administration Service report) asserted existed in the Police Department because of poor leadership by Straley.

Straley was charged then with insubordination, incompetency, inefficiency, failure to maintain good behavior and neglect of duty. He denied the charges.

Straley declared that Willman and the anti-Straley commissioners had brought in Eastman to act as a "hatchet man." He maintained that troubles in the Police Department were not traceable to him, but rather to a small group of "disgruntled" officers associated with the Pontiac Police Officers Assn.

After a marathon hearing, the former three-member Police Civil Service Commission voted unanimously April 4 to fire Straley.

Ousted from the Public Safety Building, the beleaguered Straley wouldn't quit. With the help of his attorney, Clarence L. Smith, he successfully appealed his dismissal.

In December, Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis of Ionia County overruled the ouster on technical grounds and the city was ordered to take Straley back — with back pay.

Eastman's immediate impulse was to put Straley in a corner when he returned in January. But Willman and Mayor Philip E. Rowston ordered the chief restored "to full authority."

★ ★ ★

The meaning of "full authority" was questioned by Straley and his supporters, though, since Willman also told the chief there would be no policy changes without approval from City Hall.

Willman said he was trying to preserve "the good things" accomplished under Eastman.

Eastman, who had been planning to leave Pontiac in the fall of this year, quit earlier than expected. Saying "my hands are tied by politics," Eastman left at the end of March to take a teaching post at Michigan State University.

Three days later — on April 23 — City Commissioners Milton R. Henry and Robert A. Landry brought the suit that prevented the enforcement of the amendments — until today.

The suit — it charged mainly that the provision separating Straley from the Police Trial Board was coupled, unfairly, with the re-enactment of the Police Trial Board — was dismissed by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem but immediately appealed to the State Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

The high court has yet to consider the appeal. A series of stays granted by Judge Ziem prevented the city from taking any action until the middle of this month.

The Straley question preoccupied the 1958-1960 Commission and again became the subject of debate in recent weeks by the present Commission.

In April, Henry and Landry proposed a six-month "truce period," during which Straley would be given a free hand by the manager. Their proposal apparently fell on deaf ears.

★ ★ ★

The administration already had a report that Straley had been actively involved in the April 18 City Commission election, reportedly favoring candidates who lost to anti-Straley incumbents.

★ ★ ★

On June 8 the Straley question arose again as Police Captain Donny Ashley charged that police morale had plummeted since Straley's return. An avowed foe of Straley, Ashley charged that Straley's effect on morale was resulting, indirectly, in poor traffic enforcement.

★ ★ ★

Straley again denied the assertions.

At the next Commission meeting the subject of Straley came up again and Mayor Rowston said that he was "ready to act" on Straley if the legal blocks brought by Henry and Landry were removed.

Thirteen days later by a 4-3 vote, the Commision rejected a move by Landry and Henry "to restore full powers" to Straley.

The vote was the first taken on Straley by the 1960-1962 Commisson and it showed that anti-Straley sentiment was in the saddle.

★ ★ ★

Newly-elected Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. sided with Rowston and the two other anti-Straley commissioners from the 1958-1960 Commission—John A. Dugan and Wesley J. Wood. Winford E. Bottom, the other new commissioner, sided with Henry and Landry.

Rocky Sidesteps Nixon Support

New York's Governor Avoids Signing Pledge at Conference

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP)—Feuding governors are scuffing out party lines as Democrats blast at political kinsmen and Republicans harpoon each other in this election year governors' conference.

With snow-thatched Rockies as a backdrop, the Democratic battle is hot and heavy between adherents of the top contenders for the party's presidential nomination—Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachuetts and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

On the Republican side it was Nixon almost all the way. But there was an ominous note from the party's publicized lone wolf —Rockefeller—that the election is going to be "very tough and close race this year for the Republicans" to win.

In this vein, Rockefeller asked and got an early morning caucus of all the GOP governors present. He gave no advance notice of the topic of discussion.

In a nimble performance Sunday Rockefeller neatly sidestepped signing a round-robin in which most of the other Republican goveronors pledged "full and loyal support" to Nixon in his quest for the presidency.

Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire, who once criticized Nixon on the anti-Communist issue, said he wanted to hear Rockefeller's latest statement before he decided what to do.

Smilingly, Rockefeller told a news conference that he heads an uncommitted New York delegation and "therefore it would not be appropriate" for him to sign the GOP manifesto.

How to master 30 of the most crucial situations of modern traffic 17

By MAXWELL N. HALSEY

BLIND-CORNER BLUFF

A blind intersection unprotected by stop signs will often cause accidents involving cars going less than 25. Don't try to bluff your way through. When approaching, with cars parked on your right, slow down. You can't see through them to a car coming on the cross street.

Commission to Decide on Fireworks for Fourth

BIRMINGHAM — Whether Birmingham will have a Fourth of July fireworks display this year will be decided at tonight's regular meeting of the City Commission.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Charles Mortenson has requested permission from the Commission to stage the display on the Seaholm High School football field.

If approved, the display will be under control of an experienced off-duty city fireman who will fire the works during the free show, according to Mortenson.

The Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the show, with costs borne by local businesses and professional people as a public service.

Five members of a Pontiac family and a Detroit woman were injured yesterday in a two-car collision on Telegraph road at Lincoln road in Bloomfield Township.

Injured were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jensen of 983 Berwick St., Pontiac, their children Linda, 9, Donald, 5, and Suzanne, 14, and Mrs. Jennie Biggelman, 59, of Detroit.

The Jensen family and Mrs. Biggelman all suffered bruises and abrasions.

The Jensens were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, for treatment and released. Mrs. Biggelman was treated and released at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Jensen, driving north on Telegraph, was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting a car driven by Charles Dram, 22, of Detroit, when Dram, coming in the opposite direction, attempted to make a left turn onto Lincoln road.

Mrs. Biggelman was a passenger in the Dram car, along with Mrs. Dram, 22. Neither Mrs. Dram nor her husband were hurt.

Postal Clerks Fear Pay Raise Veto by Ike

The organized postal clerks of Pontiac are expecting the worst today when their 7½ per cent pay raise just voted by Congress is handed to President Eisenhower for his approval.

Robert L. Hukka, president of Local 1766 of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, said that the President's fiscal advisers have been instructing him to veto the bill.

★ ★ ★

The local leader said that in the event of a veto, the Union's AFL-CIO affiliates throughout the nation would throw "every possible resource" into a campaign to override the presidential action.

What Will Happen After Congo Gets Freedom?

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (AP)—No country in Africa was ever less prepared for national independence than the Congo.

* * *

This vast, wealthy country of over 13 million people, sprawling across the equator, shakes itself loose from Belgian administration next Thursday, but so far it has a government with no program, no name for the independent country—although the one word Congo is greatly favored—no national anthem, and no national flag.

Young, debonaire Patrice Lumumba, 34, went wild with joy when the Senate voted strongly Friday in favor of his government. He had battled to form it, day and night, for over a week—the first national ministry in the Congo and one which will be watched carefully by the world as it evolves a policy whose effects could reverberate around Africa.

* * *

The Senate vote bolstered a similar confidence ballot in the Chamber of Deputies to give Lumumba's administration the constitutional authority it needs to govern the country after independence.

Thus emerges in the Congo a new African leader, modeled on the pattern of Nkrumah of Ghana, astute, smiling, suave, young, and ready to learn. He is fiery at times, grave at others, a man about whom the world has yet much to learn.

In the past days of difficult political negotiations, Lumumba was in the teeth of Belgian Minister Gindshof van der Meersch the minister's implied conclusion that Lumumba could not form a government, Friday's Senate and Chamber of Deputies voting showed he had succeeded where many thought he must fail.

Per 'Surprise,' She Finds Sister Dead on Floor

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—"Be sure and come up," said the letter to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Singleton, "I have a surprise for you."

They found her sprawled dead on her bedroom floor, a plastic bag over her head. Police listed the death of the 47-year-old office clerk as suicide.

Big Latin Strides Reported by Baptists

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) —The 10th congress of the Baptist World Alliance got down to business sessions today after hearing an optimistic report of big strides the church is making in South America and over the world.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Theodore F. Adams of Richmond, Va., alliance president, told the opening meeting Sunday the number of Baptists in the world had increased from 20 million to 23 million since he took over as president five years ago.

This growth, he said, was achieved despite persecution and lack of religious freedom in many countries.

Dr. Adams spoke before an estimated 10,000 Baptists, including a delegation from the Soviet Union, in the first congress of the alliance ever held in Roman Catholic South America.

Expecting to Thwart Blaze North of LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A fire that has torn through some 1,700 acres of watershed in the foothills north of Los Angeles is expected to be brought under control tonight.

★ ★ ★

Flames sprang up Saturday at three different spots in Tujunga Canyon. This prompted firemen to call in arson investigators.

The fire climbed as high as the 4,500-foot level on hills five miles north of suburban Tujunga. The only structures reported damaged were three outbuildings on a ranch. Four firemen suffered minor injuries.

In an average trading day on the New York Stock Exchange, a floor broker for a commission house walks more than 12 miles over the trading floor.

Two New African Nations

Free British Somaliland and Island of Madagascar

LONDON (AP) — The Union Jack was lowered in British Somaliland Sunday and with joyous crackling of fireworks the East African territory celebrated a new status that will last just five days.

★ ★ ★

British colonial authorities wound up their 73 years of rule over the nomadic herdsmen populating the 68,000 square-miles of country on the horn of Africa.

A last toast was drunk to the Queen, the Royal Highland Fusiliers beat retreat and on a hillside overlooking the capital, Hargeisa, a giant electric sign flashed on the slogan "Long Live Independence."

TO MERGE FRIDAY

On Friday British Somaliland merges with Somalia, an adjacent territory now administered by Italy as a United Nations trusteeship. The combined territory will become a nation called the United Somali Republic.

★ ★ ★

The new republic will have an area of 262,000 square miles and nearly two million people.

Moscow radio reported a Soviet government delegation was on the way to attend the festivities for the birth of the larger Somali union.

MADAGASCAR, TOO

President Philibert Tsiranana and French Secretary of State Jean Foyer exchanged documents on the plain of Mahamasina at the site of a sacred stone where the ancient kings of Madagascar held court.

Madagascar is the third of the 12 semi-autonomous countries of the French Community to choose full freedom from French control. It will remain in the community in an arrangement similar to that of the British Commonwealth.

Louisiana was admitted to the union as a state in 1812. In this same year the first steamboat, coming down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers from Pittsburgh, reached New Orleans.

Belgian Congo Plans Same Designation as Ex-French Neighbor

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (AP)—The Belgian Congo, becoming a new nation this week, is adopting a neighbor's name.

Congolese leaders decided to call the country the Republic of Congo when it becomes independent Thursday even though a former French colony across the Congo River already has taken that name.

★ ★ ★

The two Republics of Congo seem sure to lead to confusion.

The government of Premier Patrace Lumumba brushed aside several other suggested names—among them Congo, Kong, and Republic of Central African States.

With independence from Belgium approaching, there was some restlessness in the country.

Bolinkango was defeated for president by Joseph Kasavubu last week. He charged Lumumba had gone back on a promise to support him.

Members of the Bengala tribe, who have traditionally cooperated with the Belgians, engaged in skirmishes Saturday in which six persons were injured.

Q. My husband and I see many injured birds on the highway when we're traveling. Is there anything we can do for them other than feeling pity?

A. Unfortunately, there is not a great deal you can do. Wild birds have an innate fear of us and the shock of contact coupled with the shock of injury may prove more than the bird can stand.

Unless you feel you can help, leave it alone. In many cases, the injured bird is paralyzed, and placing it in a quiet cage with water and bread crumbs may accomplish recovery.

If you detect a fractured leg or wing, this can be set by a veterinarian. When the victim is disabled in a sunny spot, remove it to the shade. Another humane gesture is to remove the bird from the path of more danger. Handle it gently, and wear gloves for your protection.

If the patient recovers through your care, give him back his liberty. It is unlawful in most states to keep a wild song-bird in captivity.

Chickens Find Life Whole Lot Softer

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — A professor of poultry husbandry at Pennsylvania State University has developed a "cushion" for hens that reduces egg breakage and handling.

Dr. Glenn O. Bressler says the cushion keeps the eggs cleaner than litter in a nest and also reduces the time needed for collecting eggs after they are laid.

★ ★ ★

The eggs land on the cushion and roll out the back into a collection tray. The innovation, he says, works equally well with conventional nests or with mechanical egg collection systems.

The cushions, made of a fibrous material, will last for several years.

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (UPI) — St. Cloud State College took a survey and found that more than half its 2,838 students help finance their education with part-time work.

The jobs include cake decorator, fishing guide, tutor for blind student, dancing instructor, charter plane pilot (a 20-year-old girl), policeman, beautician, crop duster, deep sea diver, preacher, farmer, school bus driver and organist.

WHEN YOU'RE TRAVELING and you decide to drop in on friends along the way, do the thoughtful thing. Phone ahead to let them know you're coming.

Your friends will appreciate knowing beforehand when you're stopping by. They'll give you a warmer welcome!

You'll avoid disappointments, too. There'll be no risk of learning too late that the people you're visiting aren't at home.

Phoning ahead is a simple, courteous, and inexpensive thing to do. Try it next time and see for yourself.

The "good guys" don't always wear white hats!

In real life, it's not as easy to identify the "good guy" as it is in TV westerns. Many of today's heroes accomplish their good deeds without a white hat, a white horse, or a marshal's badge. Your Prudential Agent, for example . . .

Last week in Nebraska, he delivered a Prudential check which rescued a widow from financial distress, permitting her family to keep the home they love.

In Michigan a PRUDENTIAL agent outflanked possible trouble by suggesting a Partnership Insurance Plan. In case of a partner's death, money will be available to settle the estate and keep the business intact.

In Wisconsin, another PRUDENTIAL agent helped a young husband protect his income should he be unable to work because of sickness or injury.

And in South Dakota, he showed a young father a plan to guarantee the money to send his boy to college when the time comes.

Cornerstones Are Necessary to Progress

History is being made today out on Telegraph Road.

It is a history that runs in cycles in Oakland County.

We find it necessary to build a new courthouse about every so often.

They're really forced upon us by the growth of our county.

Would you want to live in a county that didn't have any growth?

This courthouse was made imperative by a growth that was explosive.

We think we have gone out where we never again will lack the room for expansion.

★ ★ ★

We've thought so before.

So, who can claim to be competent to visualize our future?

Reflect a little on what has happened since that last similar event.

★ ★ ★

For a few years after our county was organized 140 years ago, its seat of government was in temporary square block wooden structures on South Saginaw Street.

★ ★ ★

Then around 1850 we had such growing pains that a permanent courthouse was proposed.

Running true to the form that was to persist in the future, our voters kept turning it down until 1857.

★ ★ ★

Then a two-story brick structure was erected on the site of the present courthouse.

That sufficed until the turn of the century when a few more elections were necessary to put the thing across.

The cornerstone laying of Aug. 30, 1904, was the result.

Another half century and an election marathon was required to bring about today's event.

So, according to historical precedent, we should be laying a new courthouse cornerstone about 2015.

We'll be seeing you.

Soviet Press May Start Own People to Wonder

The Soviet press continues to rake over our top government officials. They lambasted President EISENHOWER after the Summit affair and are now castigating some of the lesser officials.

★ ★ ★

In a recent article in the newspaper, Soviet Russia attacked Vice President Nixon. In short, they charged Nixon with being an "exponent of aggression," "tool of millionaires," etc. These charges are of slight importance, but the following is:

★ ★ ★

"The California millionaires can do much," the paper said. "But there is also the American people and they decide who becomes president."

If the Russian press continues to talk in this vein, it just might be that the Russian people will wise up and start thinking about just how their own leaders are chosen.

Let's Make Summer Safer for Children

Summer is for kids — yours and mine.

Summertime not only calls for increased driver caution on country highways but in the city as well. Most youngsters are free as a bird flying about with not a care in the world.

★ ★ ★

They expect us to look for them. By and large they place their safety in our hands. We have already read of a couple of unfortunate accidents where local youngsters have been hurt or killed.

With the children out of school in happy carefree droves for vacation, all drivers should be extra alert. Dismal statistics show that accidents involving children always shoot up during the summer months.

This need not happen. Just remember that a ball rolling into the street probably has a child not far behind it. Also, that rows of parked cars are choice hiding places for unthinking, darting children. Children don't always stay off the streets or within playground boundaries.

Summer is for all of us, especially the kids. Let's help to see that it is not marred by some unfortunate accident.

To Match Record of This County Graduating Class

America: Where we seem to be burdened with excess prophets.

It is doubtful if any high school can equal in every way the achievement shown by the Class of 1909 at Holly. It stands out as quite unique.

It's a Two-Way Game, Khrushchev

WASHINGTON — Nikita Khrushchev has come up with what he thinks might be the solution to all our problems.

LAWRENCE

He made a speech the other day in Bucharest to the Romanian Communist Party Congress which was reported by Tass, the Soviet press service.

In a nutshell, as the headline in one New York newspaper put it, "Khrushchev bids U.S. vote wisely."

The exact quotation from the Soviet Premier's speech is of paramount interest to the American people—and perhaps even to the Soviet people. For he says:

"The present leaders of the United States are evidently not able correctly to build the relations between states with differing social systems."

Khrushchev is quoted by the Soviet press agency also as conceding that it is for the people of the United States to decide who will be their next president.

He, however, added:

"But our state, our people, of course are interested in the election of such a president and the formation of such a government as would remedy the mistakes made by the present government of the United States."

Now, a good argument can be made in support of Khrushchev's approach.

INFLUENCE ELECTIONS

He wants to influence the American elections and to tell the American people what kind of president they shall choose, even though he professes not to be trying to decide the issue for them.

If, however, Khrushchev can tell the American people the kind of president he wants, should there be any objection to a bit of advice being transmitted to the people of the Soviet Union as to how they should choose their rulers?

Much can be said in favor of such a principle of reciprocity, especially in these days of "cultural exchanges" between nations "with differing social systems."

After all, as Khrushchev himself has said, "peaceful coexistence" depends upon interchanges of this kind.

But what would happen if the President of the United States made a speech addressed to the Soviet people and really told them that they ought to choose a president in a free election?

He could add that, of course, the United States has no intention of interfering in the purely internal affairs of the Soviet Union and that, after all, the whole question is quite impersonal.

The President could say that "our state, our people, are interested in the election of a chairman of the Moscow government and the formation of the kind of government that would remedy the mistakes made by the present government of the Soviet Union."

Would such a speech by the President of the United States ever be printed in Soviet Russia? It is doubtful.

Would such an address ever be heard over the radio throughout the Soviet bloc, or would the American radio stations trying to broadcast it be jammed so that listeners in Russia wouldn't get it?

Experience indicates that Khrushchev believes in a one-way street.

He thinks he can influence the American electorate, but he would resent any attempt to influence the choice by the people of the Soviet Union of their ruler.

It may be that Khrushchev thinks the President of the United States is some kind of dictator who can make policy, irrespective of what the people or the Congress say.

Khrushchev's interest in the American election is constant. He has referred to it several times in recent weeks.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Simple Method Relieves Painful Cramps in Legs

A Catskill reader describes a simple method of preventing or relieving painful leg cramps, taught him by Dr. Edwin K. Fauver, director of physical education at the University of Rochester 33 years ago.

DR. BRADY

"It amounted simply to STRETCHING the calf by thrusting the heel away from me and bringing my toes in the opposite direction. (I thought it was ridiculous until I tried it.)

★ ★ ★

"That was 33 years ago. In all the intervening time I have had cramp in the leg START a good many times, but have stopped it immediately by this maneuver.

"I have never found anyone for whom it has proved unsuccessful.

"It works if one is flat on his back in bed, so one doesn't even have to get up.

EVEN IN SWIMMING

"It even works while one is swimming. After playing tennis a couple hours I have sometimes taken a swim.

"Occasionally when I would dive, a cramp would hit a calf, like the thump in a water line when the water is shut off suddenly.

"When diving, the position of the feet in the air is the reverse of the corrective position described.

"All I did was turn on my back and float, using the corrective measure—the rigid calf always relaxed like a charm.

"I am now following your suggestion for prevention of painful leg cramps—high calcium diet supplemented with six calcium capsules daily.

"I hope you will give Dr. Fauver's method a trial and, in case you think a man of my age playing tennis must be a crackpot, ask my doubles partner, for we won the doubles championship . . ."

APPROVES OF TENNIS

On the contrary, sir, I approve of tennis for a man of your age—which, I can only guess, is 53 years.

Tennis as a diversion, that is. I advise any man or woman past 40 NOT to engage in tournament championship or prize contests.

EXERCISE is good for everybody, even for persons with C V D—heart trouble, arteriosclerosis, etc.

A reasonable amount of general exercise, the equivalent of two miles of oxygen on the hoof, three times a day, is the best medicine I know for C V D, prophylactic or remedial, and this applies to coronary thrombosis, angina pectoris or myocarditis, as well as valvular incompetence.

TENSION is bad for everybody, especially for persons who already have C V D.

(If my language is at all confusing, send 35 cents and a stamped envelope bearing your address, for Little Lesson No. 2; the booklet C V D about heart and artery troubles.)

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Glad Officials Had Stamina to Hold Graduation Outside

Each graduate at Waterford High School would have been allowed two tickets if the commencement activities were held inside. This would have permitted less than 900 people to view the ceremony. If, as officials estimated, there were approximately 3,000 people who attended, 2,100 disappointed people would have been turned away. I'm sure there were many cases like our own where grandparents had made a trip of many miles especially for this event.

★ ★ ★

Besides, when did rain keep our graduates from attending school in damp clothes? Most of them had spent time waiting for a school bus for 13 years in weather much worse than that of June 15th.

★ ★ ★

We sat through the shower happily and I say thanks to the officials who had courage enough to risk a little criticism to ensure that two-thirds of their audience wasn't disappointed.

'Expanded Airport Isn't a Necessity'

The residents of Waterford Township, who live within a radius of from five to ten miles of the Pontiac City Airport, should become alerted as to what is being proposed in the extension of the present facilities.

Future planning is a fine idea and should have been done a long time ago, but the idea of expanding the present airport, within a fast increasing living area, into an airport capable of handling jets, is future planning we can get along without.

The ambitions of Manager Homer D. Hoskins, the apparent acquiescence of our Township Board and Supervisor, plus our own lack of interest is the creation of another superfluous large airport in the middle of long established homes and many new subdivisions.

As a user of Willow Run and Metro Airport facilities in my work, I can see no need or customers in the foreseeable future for an expanded airport.

Now is the time, not later, to let our Township authorities know how we feel.

Voting Importance Emphasized Again

We are losing our band director through the actions of our school board and I know that in expressing my dismay I convey the feelings of a very large group of sincere and concerned citizens in our area.

★ ★ ★

Many of us are in a way responsible for this tragic event because of our apathy in the past and our indifference. May we all learn through this unhappy experience to accept fully our responsibilities as parents and citizens. May we never again neglect our voting privileges and thus allow such things to happen.

★ ★ ★

Very unfortunately, tenure was again defeated and for some time yet, our teachers' positions will be insecure. I hope that some day this will be remedied.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Give a Quick Retort to Teasers

Do you blush or stutter or feel self-conscious. A tennis player cannot laugh at your behavior on the court, if you constantly keep him preoccupied by striking the ball back at him. In similar fashion, people who blush or stutter, should learn the knack of keeping the focus of conversation on the other person.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"But, Dr. Crane, my life is miserable," she said, and the tears came to her eyes.

DR. CRANE

"I blush at the slightest provocation. Whenever I am in a crowd, if the conversation turns my way, I become so self-conscious I can feel my skin growing warm and red.

★ ★ ★

"The more I feel the blush forming, the worse it becomes. And if a boy talks to me, I always turn as red as a beet.

"To make matters worse, the boys like to tease me about it, and this increases my blushing even more than ever.

"So, I have been refusing dates and party invitations lately, but I am not happy alone while the others are having a grand time. What can I do?"

BLUSH STRATEGY

Blushing is one of those nuisance habits that form when we are in a social situation and feel unduly nervous or embarrassed.

It is a first cousin of stuttering, trembling hands, spastic colitis, social nausea and vomiting, as well as the excessive desire to empty the bladder when on a date.

All of these nuisance habits seem to take almost fiendish delight in enslaving their victims.

They like to remain in the focus of attention, for this increases their dominance of the one whom they have afflicted.

★ ★ ★

Lena's blushing thus has become a dictator. Medically, it consists of a sudden dilation of the blood vessels in the skin.

NUISANCE HABITS

Lena once mispronounced a rather common word is grammar school. Everybody laughed. She felt embarrassed. Her face flushed.

"Look at her blush," teased the boy who sat behind her.

This directed her conscious attention to this normally involuntary act by which the vessels of the skin relax and thus permit extra blood to accumulate there, thus giving the skin its reddish tint or blush.

For the ensuing six years, Lena has permitted this blushing to dominate her brain and upset her happiness when she is in a crowd of people.

She has allowed her emotions and a tiny "segmental" habit concerning the blood vessels of the neck and face, to mutiny against the normal dominance of the brain.

Never permit such mutiny! Always keep your brain on the throne, and let it dictate the behavior of your organs or emotions.

EXTROVERT ATTENTION

Like a spoiled child who grandstands and always tries to monopolize the social spotlight, this nuisance habit has occupied the number one position in Lena's attention.

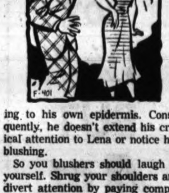
★ ★ ★

She must push it out of that dominant spot. How? By parrying the teasing remarks with a stock, ever-ready retort.

"That just proves I'm a loyal, red-blooded American," she can nonchalantly laugh it off, and then quickly turn the conversation upon her companion, as by paying him an honest compliment on his tie or hair or pearly white teeth.

★ ★ ★

When the focus of attention is on him, he becomes relatively self-conscious. This restricts his thinking to his own epidermis. Consequently, he doesn't extend his critical attention to Lena or notice her blushing.



So you blushers should laugh at yourself. Shrug your shoulders and divert attention by paying compliments to your companions.

Policy Swings May Be Wild

Red Nations Square Off

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

London observers predict the ideological struggle between Moscow and Peiping will get worse before it gets better.

Red China's Mao Tse-tung is not ready to bow to Nikita Khrushchev's dictate that Moscow will be the sole interpreter of Marx and Lenin and will look to the diehards in the Kremlin and East Europe for support of the old idea that war between socialism and capitalism is inevitable.

However, both sides will try to avoid a formal rift which would be in the interest of neither Moscow nor Peiping.

The deep-seated rift may account for some wild swings in Communist policy during coming months.

BITTER ASHES:

All the hopes raised by the Algerian rebel agreement to come to Paris for talks with President Charles de Gaulle could turn to still more frustration and bitter disappointment.

The rebels may break off any talks unless the question of cease-fire is extended to conditions of eventual "self-determination" in Algeria.

De Gaulle, so far, is determined that talks with the rebels shall be limited to a cease-fire. Should he agree to an extension into political fields, he well might face another Algiers settlers' uprising backed by former Minister Jacques Soustelle and other "French Algeria" diehards in Metropolitan France.

SELF-EXTERMINATION?

The Belgian Congo will become independent on June 30, but that is no guarantee that the country will remain united. Tribal and other quarrels may emerge more fierce than ever between the 150 or so groups with dozens of languages and customs that make up the Belgian Congo and, with the Belgians pulling out, now will lose the one thing that binds them together.

Some of the Congolese are as different as Norwegians and Greeks and some live as far apart from each other, with poor communications. Many of the small minorities fear they face oblivion and are thinking of secession.

Predictions in Japan are that the Japanese Socialists will show little, if any, gains as result of the recent massive antigovernment demonstrations.

Political observers in Tokyo believe that Japanese will remember with extreme regret that these demonstrations caused cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit and could threaten the loss of Japan's healthy two-way trade with the United States. The result — they will stick with the liberal-Democratic Party now in power.

Capital Granted Debt Extension

4th Foreclosure Delay by Vickers Probably Is Result of New Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capital Airlines has received another extension in its struggle to prevent foreclosure by a British firm.

The British company, Vickers-Armstrong Ltd., granted the extension Friday, allowing Capital until July 11 to answer a $33,800,000 suit.

Capital had been scheduled to appear in Federal Court today in New York.

The extension, the fourth granted Capital, apparently stemmed from a repayment proposal submitted by Capital to Vickers-Armstrong. Capital owes the debt for a group of Viscount planes delivered by the British firm.

Thomas D. Neelands Jr., board chairman of Capital, said the proposal was submitted Wednesday. It was reported to be the first detailed repayment proposal made by Capital since foreclosure proceedings began in April.

Friend Bossy Originated 8-Hour Day

ELKHORN, Wis. (UPI) — The eight-hour day is a part of American life today. But who originated it?

Samuel Gompers, the labor pioneer? Or would you give credit to John L. Lewis, George Meany or Walter Reuther?

According to Will A. Foster, it was none of these men. Instead he picks the common dairy cow for the honor.

Foster, a retired dairy company executive and a native of Elkhorn, has studied milking herds for 35 years. He is recognized as an authority on the subject of bovines.

A cow, Foster says, grazes four hours a day and takes 40 to 70 nibbles per minute. (That, incidentally, averages out to 3,300 nibbles per hour; 13,200 nibbles per nibbling day; and 92,400 nibbles per week.)

Bossy spends the next four hours placidly chewing her cud. This she does while stationary—standing or lying down. It's not loafing, though. Her jaws and stomachs are working full time.

Then it's milking time, followed by sleep and then the eight hour cycle begins all over again.

Japanese Toy Makers Fear Canceled Orders

TOKYO (UPI) — Japanese toy manufacturers, who sell more than a billion dollars worth of toys a year to the United States, expressed fears today that recent anti-American actions by some Japanese groups might hurt their business.

★ ★ ★

"We have heard that some American businessmen are canceling their contracts with Japanese toy manufacturers," said Tomojiro Zaima, chairman of the federation, "and we are afraid that others will follow."

They said Communists were behind the recent demonstrations against the U.S.-Japan Security Treaty and against Eisenhower's good will visit to this country.

The federation in a written statement to "American friends" said that "it is our heartfelt regret that a series of collective violences recently committed by some radical parties has compelled our government to temporarily postpone the planned visit of your President."

"More than 10 million people work in the field of toy manufacturing," Yoshiro Kishi, executive director of Asahi Toy Manufacturing Co. said, "and they did not participate in the demonstrations.

"They are busy working and have no time to take part in any sort of demonstrations."

Kishi said Japanese businessmen should have taken some measures to stop the demonstrations which led to mob violence against White House Press Secretary James Hagerty at Tokyo International Airport and the cancellation of Eisenhower's visit.

Red China Hints at Formosa Deal

Indicates Island May Be Price for Following K's Coexistence Line

TOKYO (AP)—Red China indicated today that acquiring Formosa might be Peiping's price for going along with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence with the capitalist world.

Mme. Sun Yat-sen, a vice president of Red China and widow of the founder of republican China, declared: "China is willing to coexist peacefully with anyone, even imperialism. In fact, we have to coexist with it (because) imperialism exists as an objective reality."

But she added: "We will not allow U.S. imperialism to rob us of our own territory (Formosa). We have not won, after untold sacrifices, the independence of our nation and the benefits of our Socialist (Communist) revolution just to give them away under the false illusion of maintaining peace with insatiable imperialists."

CHIANG'S SISTER

Mme. Sun Yat-sen, now 69, is the former Soong Ching-ling and a sister of the wife of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, president of Nationalist China, which controls Formosa.

Red China's official Peiping radio broadcost her declaration, which appeared in an article written for Peiping newspapers today. It appeared to take a softer line than previous Peiping assertions that coexistence was out of the question.

NY Taxi Men Must Hand Over 10c Tax Rebate

NEW YORK (AP) — This city's 35,000 taxi drivers will offer 10-cent tips to their passengers next Friday.

A year ago the city slapped a 10-cent tax on each ride. The drivers protested, contending the tax cost them many less riders and reduced tips.

The city gave in and ordered the tax to expire June 30.

But until the meters in all the 11,685 licensed cabs have been recalibrated to eliminate the tax, the cabbies are obligated to offer 10-cent rebates to their passengers.

Arizona Blaze at Standstill

But 1,000 Firefighters Worry About Kaibab Trees if Wind Shifts

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (AP)—Fire licked hungrily today at the Kaibab National Forest about six miles from the north rim of Grand Canyon National Park.

One of Arizona's worst fires, it burst out of a remote pocket in the forest Wednesday and by Sunday night had consumed 7,500 acres of timber, scrub pine and brush.

★ ★ ★

Most serious was the loss of 3,500 acres of prime yellow pine and Douglas fir trees amid the scenic splendor of a forest visited by tens of thousands each year.

★ ★ ★

Manning the rumbling 15 miles of shallow trench encircling the flames were 1,000 firefighters equipped with bulldozers, hand tools, three small water pumpers and backed by a small aerial fleet.

"We fought it to a standstill yesterday," said Forest Ranger Merle C. Oleson, who put in 19 hours helping direct the fight.

★ ★ ★

"Barring too much wind, we should be able to control it within two or three days," he said.

Six hundred of the firefighters are Zuni, Santo Domingo and Jemez Indians from Arizona and New Mexico.

International Police Promoted by Truman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Former President Harry Truman wants the United Nations to establish an international police force as the next step toward world peace.

Speaking in the city where the United Nations was born June 26, 1945, Truman told a 15th anniversary celebration Sunday night that such a police force would not impair the sovereignty of nations.

"In reality," he said, "the sovereignty of nations would be made more secure."

Truman's 20-minute talk was interrupted many times by applause.

In a speech sometimes caustic, he termed the United Nations the only organization through which the world can hope to attain peace.

Foreign Students Tops

NEW YORK (AP) — More foreign students studied in the United States during 1959-60 than ever before, reports the Institute of International Education. The institute's annual survey, issued Sunday, said the 48,486 visitors represent the largest foreign student population in the world.

Mark Twain warned men not to take their dog to heaven. He wrote: "Heaven goes by favor. If it went by merit, you would stay out and the dog would go in."

Philharmonic to Give West Berlin Concerts

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Philharmonic plans two concerts in West Berlin in September to lend a musical hand in the ideological fight against communism.

★ ★ ★

The Ford Motor Co. will foot the $150,000 bill.

With Leonard Bernstein conducting, the 106-member orchestra will play Sept. 22 and 23 at West Berlin's 1960 cultural festival.

Henry Ford II said Sunday he regarded the move "as a fine opportunity to aid the courageous people of West Berlin in their ideological battle with Communist East Germany."

To make the flying trip the Philharmonic will shuffle dates for a seven-week transcontinental tour starting Aug. 10. Scheduled appearances in four cities during the six-day period of the Berlin trip will be dropped and made up in a post-season tour next spring. They are Raleigh, N.C.; Columbia, S.C.; Richmond, Va.; and Baltimore, Md.

Traffic, Water Kill 21 in State

By The Associated Press

Two teen-agers were killed and two others critically injured Sunday night in a head-on auto crash near Greenville.

Traffic mishaps claimed 11 lives. Seven persons drowned. Three others, including two young girls, died in miscellaneous accidents.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press tabulation of weekend accidental deaths began at 6 p.m. Friday. It ended at midnight Sunday.

Victims of the Greenville area smashup were Kathleen Spahn, 18, of rural Greenville, and Edward Jorgenson, 19, of rural Sheridan.

Two other Greenville boys, Richard A. White, 17, and Kent Guinwepp, 18, were injured critically. Mary Lee Dissell, 18, also of Greenville, escaped with minor injuries.

★ ★ ★

Other traffic victims outside of Oakland and Lapeer counties included:

David Brandon, 25, Toledo, killed Sunday when his car missed a curve and sideswiped another auto in Lenawee County.

Enzo Dupree, 3, Detroit, killed Sunday when he ran into the path of a car near his home.

James B. Dodds, 47, and his son Freddie Lee, Litchfield, killed Friday night in a two-car crash in Calhoun County.

Mrs. Mary Kaufman, 22, East Detroit, killed Saturday when a motorcycle she was riding and an auto collided on a Macomb County road.

Drownings:

Timothy Fordham, 19, and his sister Jacqueline, 18, Coppersville, drowned Sunday in Muskegon County. They were on an outing with a group of teen-agers.

Dennis Kalinowski, 8, Detroit, drowned Saturday in a Macomb County canal after slipping from a bridge.

Gerry Davis, 12, Detroit, drowned Sunday when he toppled into the Huron River near Flat Rock.

Ernest Troutman, 68, Lisle, Ill., drowned Saturday after a small boat in which he was riding struck a log and overturned near Grand Haven.

Miscellaneous:

Debbie Jones, 10, killed Saturday in a tractor accident on the family farm near Laingsburg. She was pinned beneath the overturned tractor.

James C. Warren, 42, a transient, killed Saturday when struck by a freight train on a trestle near Riverside, Berrien County.

Dems Examine 4 State Hopefuls

Ex-Republican Keyes Describes Nixon as a Party Hatchet-Man

LANSING (UPI) — The Democratic State Central Committee yesterday took a close look at four of the five candidates for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

Dearborn political maverick Eugene G. Keyes, Flint labor leader George H. Dougherty, and Grand Rapids attorney Richard Vander Veen made brief speeches before the party's high command.

Rep. T. John Lesinski (D-Detroit) failed to show up on schedule, but arrived later and addressed the committee.

William J. Coughlin, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, notified the committee he was ill with a virus infection.

★ ★ ★

Keyes, who served two terms as a Republican lieutenant governor before he turned Democrat in 1954, told the committee a dinner with GOP presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon was the deciding factor in his party switch.

He called the vice president "an arrogant man with a reputation as a party hatchet-man."

Keyes said he found in Democrats "basically a warmth" that Republicans lack.

The Dearborn doctor-dentist-lawyer said he thought he would be an asset on the 1960 Democratic state ticket because of strength in marginal districts.

The state central committee took a public hands-off attitude on Keyes' efforts to force his name onto the Aug. 2 primary ballot.

Keyes has a petition pending in the State Supreme Court asking for an order to state elections officials to put him on the ballot. The elections division of the secretary of state's office challanged more than 4,000 signatures on Keyes' nominating petitions.

Abby Says: I Can't Believe It

Your Parents Unwelcome? How Selfish Can You Get!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please print your opinion of parents who come to visit their married children without an invitation and whenever they feel like it.

The only advance notice we ever get is, "We are dying to see the grandchildren."

ABBY

My husband and I have been annoyed by these spur-of-the-moment visits from his parents and mine. No sooner does one set leave when the other set shows up.

Don't you think parents should realize that if they were wanted they would be invited? Just because our children happen to be their grandchildren seems to be a pretty poor excuse for barging in.

IMPOSED UPON

DEAR IMPOSED UPON: Do YOU need an invitation to visit your parents' home? I doubt it. Most parents make it plain that THEIR home is THEIR CHILDREN'S home.

And many parents have kept their large homes in spite of the added work and expense so their children and grandchildren may visit them.

Your parents probably feel welcome because they don't suspect you are as small and selfish as you really are. You two make a serpent's tooth look dull!

DEAR ABBY: There is a young woman who drives by our house every morning about 8:05 in a blue and white Chevy. My husband feels that it's his duty to smile and wave at her. He doesn't know her from a load of hay. I say he can look the other way. He says it will hurt her feelings.

I am getting upset over this routine. Am I wrong to object or not? Please put your answer in the paper, Abby. I want my old goat to see it.

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: If he doesn't know her from a "load of hay," maybe he is just feeling his oats. Next time, stand right beside your husband, embrace him affectionately and smile and wave to the friendly stranger. I'll bet she either changes her route or her routine.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy of 12 and I am having trouble with my brother, who is 10. He wore my Boy Scout uniform and took my bugle outside and blew it all day.

When I caught him I gave him a little tap on the head. He was standing on the porch by the mailbox and his head accidentally hit the mailbox and a little tiny cut was made and maybe two drops of blood came out. He ran in the house screaming and my mother went into hysterics.

I am now being punished by having to stay in the house all day Saturday and Sunday. My brother didn't get punished at all for wearing my uniform and blowing my bugle. Do you think this was fair?

PUNISHED

DEAR PUNISHED: Your brother had punishment coming, too. But your mother probably felt that matter was taken care of when you "tapped" him (some tap!) on the head. Next time, leave the punishing to your mother.

Others were Mrs. Charles Harmon, Mrs. Reginald Cox, Mrs. W. W. Abbott, Mrs. Carroll Osmun, Mrs. Robert Zimmerman, Mrs. Max Thompson of Van Dyke and Mrs. Thomas Lerew of Detroit.

The Flint Golf Club was the setting for a Thursday linen shower and luncheon honoring Miss Braid, with Mrs. L. C. Burkhardt and Mrs. Andrew Lobban cohostesses for 16 guests.

Saturday, Mrs. Otto Krieger of Atlas entertained at a brunch and miscellaneous shower in honor of the bride-elect and later in the day Dr. and Mrs. Victor Ross of Flint entertained 14 guests at a buffet dinner and "grub stake" shower honoring the couple.

Lace jackets topped the attendants' ballerina - length dresses of blue nylon jersey over taffeta, styled with rhinestone shoulder straps. Their jeweled tiaras were gifts of the bride.

★ ★ ★

They held white plastic baskets of white pomponis and blue and white carnations. Red rosebuds were added to the honor maids' baskets.

★ ★ ★

Richard Burton was assisted by best man Willard Burton of Roscommon and ushers, Thomas F. Gallo, Richard Schwalm of Rochester, and Donald Card of Pinconning.

MRS. GEORGE M. VANLEUVEN

MRS. RICHARD L. BURTON

For traveling to Northern Michigan the brides donned bouffant pastel blue cotton dresses. The VanLeuvens will live in Davisburg and the Burtons will be at home in East Greenwich, R.I., where Richard is stationed with the Navy.

Mrs. Garnett appeared in medium blue lace trimmed with satin. Mrs. Van Leuven wore blue and gray printed silk jersey and Mrs. Burton bouffant pastel pink nylon over satin, with lace bodice.

Mrs. Milton Walters, today's cook, is concerned with the weatherman too. She's an enthusiastic gardener. She is also active in church and club work. Her only son is in the Navy. But four grandchildren keep Grandma interested in young people.

APPLE SAUCE CAKE
By Mrs. Milton Walters

2½ cups unsweetened apple sauce
4 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cloves
2½ cups sugar
¾ cup shortening
4 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups raisins
1 cup chopped nuts

Mix soda with apple sauce, stirring well. This keeps the cake from being sticky, says Mrs. Walters. Stir in other ingredients and bake in a greased tube pan at 325 degrees. This should take 45 to 60 minutes.

Hold That Curl the Way Top Beauticians Do

(NEA) If none of the many hair sprays on the market has proved 'really satisfactory to you, don't give up hope. You needn't spend the hot humid summer months with wisps of hair hanging in your eyes.

When you have just shampooed your hair, dried it thoroughly with a terry towel and brushed it one hundred strokes, set it with flat beer. Add about one-fourth of a cup of water to one can of beer. You'll find that your hair will hold its curl all through damp and humid weather. But use the beer only once a week since it has a tendency to dry your hair.

As a matter of fact, if your hair is dry, you should be giving yourself a hot oil treatment at home just before each shampoo. This will counteract any dryness which the beer may give your hair.

If you haven't heard of the beer method of hair setting, it's used by most top stylists in New York. They find it most effective for holding curl through all kinds of weather.

Alabama Woman, 59, Visits Her 100 Kinfolk

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

A 59-year-old Mobile, Ala. woman is having the time of her life visiting some of her 100 children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews in the Pontiac and Waterford Township areas.

Not only does Mrs. George W. Everett have nine children, 24 grandchildren, 36 great nieces and nephews, 20 great-great nieces and nephews, and 11 great-great-great nieces and nephews, but she claims she is her own aunt.

CHARLES E. GAVETTE

Recipient of a B. S. degree in accounting from Wayne State University is Charles E. Gavette of Florence street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miller Gavette of Petrolia street. Mr. Gavette is married and has a daughter. He will be employed as an accountant with a broadcasting company in Dearborn.

It all sounds complicated but Mrs. Everett says its very simple. Her uncle married her great niece's mother, who was Mrs. Everett's niece. She later married her great niece's father, who was a brother of her former husband and that's how come she is her own aunt. Her second husband died last year.

As for having fun up here in Michigan, the Alabama visitor is enjoying the wonderful cool weather. She said, "A person almost dies with the heat in Mobile this time of year, and it's a treat to beat the heat for a change."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Everett has been enjoying automobile rides areound the lake area with her daughter and her family, the Larry Easons of East boulevard. Reminiscing with her sister Mrs. Charles Craig of Michigan avenue and a favorite niece, Mrs. Mary Evens of LaBlanc street, Waterford Township, also has kept the youngish grandmother busy.

★ ★ ★

After a visit to the zoo, Briggs Stadium and additional rides around Oakland County, Mrs. Everett left "cool" Michigan Saturday and headed for Mobile, certain that she has the "best if not the most relatives in the world."

Why Do We Do Things Just Like Others?

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

This Saturday morning 16-year-old Mort will seek out his father in the driveway where his parent is washing the family car and ask permission to use it for himself and a new date this evening.

His father will say:

"Uh-uh. Mother and I are driving downtown tonight to catch that John Huston movie at the Regent."

But Mort is a child of his time. When his father comes into the kitchen to ask his wife for another polishing rag, she'll say:

"You know, dear, I do feel that Mort should have the car tonight. All the boys in his crowd get Saturday night use of the car.

"Why don't we stay home and watch TV? I've still got the upstairs cleaning to do and I may be too tired by tonight to . . ."

Mort gets the car. His parents' claim to it is overwhelmed by the claims of Mort's "group."

★ ★ ★

His parents submit to its rules because they are so used to conforming to the rules of their own "groups" that they can't help obeying those of Mort's.

Mort's father uses the same credit cards as his neighbors, buys the same insurance policies, exercises by playing the same golf.

As to Mort's mother, her standards of maternal conduct have been regulated for years by the Dr. Spock read by her neighbors and the child psychology experts who address her PTA.

As a result of all this "group" allegiance, Mort and his parents know very little about each other.

So long as Mort uses his "group" regulation on Saturday night use of the family car to hide his personal adolescent need for self-importance, his parents cannot know that need.

So long as we give to Mort the thoughts and feelings processed for us by our "group," Mort is related, not to us, but to Dr. Spock and our golf club buddies. There can be no true contact between us.

We can know Mort only when he can speak out of himself and say: "I want the car because I want other kids to know I'm as important to you as they are to their parents."

★ ★ ★

"I understand this wish, not because my PTA experts say I should understand it but because I, too, like to know myself loved."

But in today's allegiance to group-processed thought and feeling, children and parents live together as strangers.

Couple to Live in Dearborn

Say Vows at St. Hugo

Bermuda is the honeymoon destination for Mitrrell Clark Miller of Glengary road, Dearborn, and his bride, the former Jeanne Catherine Killoran who were wed Saturday morning at St. Hugo of the Hills.

Reception and luncheon in the Bloomfield Room of Greenfield's Birmingham restaurant followed the nuptial Mass celebrated by the Rev. Francis Stack.

The bride is the daughter of the John Leo Killorans of North Berkshire road, Bloomfield Township. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. Hazen Miller of Greenleaf boulevard, Royal Oak, and Mrs. Marguerite Miller of Tucson, Ariz.

Waist-length French illusion veiling cascaded from a petal cap of seed pearls. The bride held a hand-cascade of stephanotis and ivy.

Light blue silk organza, with fine tuckings on bodice and skirt, fashioned shirtwaist dresses for honor maid Dolores Kalif of Birmingham and bridesmaids Marla Jackson and the bride's cousin Susan Schneider of Woodbridge, Conn.

Both the bride and her husband are University of Michigan graduates. Her sorority is Alpha Delta Pi and he is a member of Acacia fraternity. They will live in Dearborn.

Among wedding guests were

the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Andrew Schneider, and an aunt, Mrs. Nicholas Greisler, both of Schenectady, N. Y. Dr. and Mrs. Francis Schneider of Woodbridge, Conn., the Floyd Schneiders of Millidale, Conn., and the Frank Killorans of Owosso attended their niece's wedding.

Thatching Roofs Practiced Today

About 750 craftsmen in England are still actively practicing the Old-World art of thatching roofs. They are using more rye straw than wheat, these days, since farmers are growing "short" wheat to accommodate combine-harvesters.

A combed rye or wheat roof may last as long as 60 years. A roof thatched with heather is good for a century without repair, according to information gleaned by an airlines company.

No Slight Intended to Relatives

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My family consists of three brothers, a sister and myself — all married. My father is also living. A cousin of ours is to be married shortly and we all received invitations to the church but only my sister and I (and of course our husbands) and my father have received invitations to the reception.

Since we are a rather clannish family and have always attended family functions together, we feel quite put out over this and think that it is a direct slight to the other members of our family. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this.

Answer: I am sure your cousin meant no slight to the rest of the family and that their not being invited was a question of economy.

In the present day when costs are so high, it is not always possible to invite as many guests as one would like to the reception. And when a family is large, it is often necessary to invite only those to whom the bride feels closest and eliminate the others.

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter (who was a widow) has recently remarried. I would like to know how she should introduce her first husband's mother with whom she has remained friendly, to the friends of her present husband. (Her present husband's mother is living).

My daughter has been introducing her as "My mother-in-law — Mrs. Blank" which I think is incorrect. Will you please tell us what is proper in this situation?

Answer: She should introduce her as "Mrs. Blank" and add, "My first husband's mother."

Such Silly Blunders Can Ruin Marriages

By RUTH MILLETT

You'll not be married long if you:

Make your husband look like a dope in front of your friends—by recounting his errors in judgment or correcting his manners, or telling of the opportunities he has missed by not listening to you.

Let yourself go in the belief that your husband should love you and be proud to introduce you as his wife no matter how unattractive you've let yourself become, through overweight or careless grooming or a total lack of interest in clothes.

Let your marriage get into a rut—with nothing special to do today or to do tomorrow—just the same old routine day after day and week after week.

Tear down your husband's ego instead of building it up—by being overly critical.

★ ★ ★

Drive a wedge between your children and their father by making Papa out as the old bear who doesn't understand them and playing yourself up as the one who understands their problems and wants them to have what they want.

Wear the pants for the family, making all the major decisions, deciding how the family income should be spent, where the family should live, and so on.

Refuse to share your husband's interests—so that you gradually go your own way and he goes his.

Be jealous and suspicious so that you are always creating scenes.

★ ★ ★

Be a poor housekeeper—so that home is not a place your husband can be proud of.

Criticize his parents and other of his relatives or make them feel less than welcome in your home.

Show disappointment in the gifts he buys you—either by returning them or putting them aside, unused.

★ ★ ★

When you hear that a couple who have been married for years and years are getting a divorce, it is often because a wife thinks that a husband who has long put up with a less than happy marriage relationship will go on putting up with it forever.

Don't Look for 'Crash' Results

NEW YORK (UPI) — Are you discouraged because exercise doesn't take off pounds overnight? You're just rationalizing, says the Nutrition Foundation, which researches the science of nutrition.

Too many weight-watchers are scared off by the lack of "crash" results in exercise, the foundation said. For instance, they rationalize that it takes seven hours of log chopping to lose a single pound. However, the foundation reported, chopping only half an hour a day would lose about two pounds a month or 26 pounds a year.

There are about 42,000 gas and oil companies and more than 200,000 gas and oil service stations in the U. S.

Then You'll Reduce

Wear It and Suffer, Gal

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A title of this column might be "Wear it and Suffer!" Sounds kind of gruesome, doesn't it? I wore it — a dress which was too small — and I found it so gruesome that I have lost six pounds since then, and that was only seven days ago.

★ ★ ★

Many times in this column I have suggested that you buy a dress or suit in the size which is right for you (something you REALLY like) and then get rid of those five to 10 pounds you are carrying (you know where) which ruin the costume for you.

I have done this many times myself. I gain weight rapidly and can lose it just as rapidly—but I sometimes have to write myself a letter and adopt my own reducing diet!

BUT, I had never said to myself or to you, "Wear it and Suffer." Believe me, I know from recent experience that this will put an end to any tendency to procrastinate about dieting.

Yep, instead of looking at the beautiful outfit in the closet and saying "I've really got to lose those 10 pounds, so I can wear this dress," I put it on and suffered. This made a quick dieter out of me!

Nobody has more fun gaining weight than I do. A wonderful appetite and perfect digestion make me enjoy every mouthful. However, I do not like the way I feel and I hate the way I look with even a few pounds too many.

And I believe that any time we begin fitting the clothes to us rather than fitting ourselves to the clothes we should be able to wear, it is the beginning of the end—of our figure and maybe even our health.

So, take my advice, "Wear it and Suffer" — its a good lesson. You'll be anxious to diet then, and it won't be long before you're wearing it with pleasure.

If you missed my Nine-Day Reducing Diet, and would like to have the convenient diet booklet, send 10 cents with your request. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

If she crowds herself into this dress, she'll suffer. It may be a good idea—then she'll be more determined about reducing.

Auto Accidents Claim Lives of 3 Area Drivers

Two Are Killed Early Sunday

Romeo Victim Dies of Injuries Received Friday Night

Laurence O. Priest, 71, of 232 S. Main St., Romeo.

Hall died in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, less than an hour after his car struck a stop sign and then rammed into the rear of a parked car at Wilshire and Royal roads in Berkley early Sunday morning.

Hall was thrown through the windshield, and when he attempted to extricate himself, he cut his throat fatally on the broken glass, according to investigating officers.

He was a bachelor and lived with his parents.

★ ★ ★

Levine, a free-lance musician and entertainer on the Soupy Sales televisoin show, was killed early Sunday when his convertible smashed into an abutment on E. Eight Mile and Queenston roads in Detroit.

He was dead on admittance to Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital, Detroit.

Detroit police were at a loss to what caused the accident. They reported there were no witnesses at the scene.

Priest died Saturday at Community Hospital, near Almont, of injuries received in a two-car collision the night before, two and a half miles east of Romeo.

According to Romeo state police, Priest was a U-turn at the intersection of Romeo Plank and E. 32-Mile roads in front of another car, which smashed broadside into the victim's car on the driver's side.

★ ★ ★

Driver of the other car, William A. Troppman, 31, of Richmond, was treated for a cut on the forehead. He was not held.

Priest, a certified public accountant, died about eight hours after the accident.

5 Queen Finalists Will Be Chosen

Preliminary Judging in Miss Orion Contest Set for Tonight

LAKE ORION — Five finalists will be picked tonight from a field of about 10 contestants for the title of Miss Orion in preliminary judging at the Orion Township Hall, 571 S. Broadway.

A panel of out-of-town judges will screen the candidates on the basis of poise, personality, appearance, beauty and speaking ability.

Then on Friday night the five finalists will appear before three different out-of-town judges who will pick the queen to reign over the Lake Orion Homecoming celebration this weekend.

APPLICATIONS CLOSED

Entrants in this year's contest had until midnight Saturday to file their applications. This is the group that will be screened by the judges at 8:30 p.m. today in the first phase of eliminations, according to the contest chairmen.

Conducting the 1960 competition are three previous Miss Orions, including Diana Roberts, Mrs. Rex Furney Jr. and Mrs. John McGee.

In addition to reigning over the village's three-day festival, which opens Friday and lasts through Monday, Miss Orion of 1960 will be eligible to represent the village in the Romeo Peach Festival competition early in August.

A street dance sponsored by the Merry Makers Square Dance Club will take place at 8:30 p.m. on North Broadway between Flint and Shadbolt streets.

Other events of the holiday weekend will include the Venetian Water Parade at 10:30 a.m. Sunday and a water carnival at 1 p.m. the same day.

Swimming races, log-rolling contests, rowboat races and water skiing competition also are planned for Sunday.

Features of the July 4 program will be fire engine rides and water battles by the Orion Fire Department.

★ ★ ★

Rides on the fire engine will be given to any child wearing a red plastic fire hat which may be purchased at any local store between now and the Fourth, according to Fire Chief Jack Caylor.

On Rochester-Pontiac Trail

Pick Pony Express Riders

ROCHESTER — Riders who will carry the "mail" by Pony Express Saturday from Rochester to Pontiac and return were picked yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The 25 members of the Rochester 4-H Trail Blazers underwent rigorous testing to see which youngsters and horses could best meet the hazards of both city and country riding.

★ ★ ★

Country riders will be Frank Warner, Frank Jablinskey, Carol Mann, Ann Johnson, Ned Ralph, David Taylor, Saundra and Sherry Ayers and Mary Reynolds.

Others are Linda Lake, Bob Middleton, Jim Bair, Carol Jablinskey, David Fletcher, Judy Varner, Sue Sprengel, Judy Bauer and Bob Ryan.

They were tested under all conditions that could arise in both riding through city traffic with its honking of horns, sudden moves by pedestrians, and other hazards, and riding through the countryside on slippery gravel roads, over ruts and on asphalt pavement.

Judges were two well-known Rochester horsemen, Stuart Hutchins and John Klein.

The Pony Express ride will serve a two-fold purpose. It will mark the 100th anniversary of the famed frontier postal service and also promote the Trail Blazers Horse Show July 9 and 10.

The riders will start at the Rochester post office at 9 a.m. on the first leg of their circuit to Pontiac and return. It will take them about 45 minutes each way.

The route they will take will be down Rochester road to Avon road, then to Crooks road, cutting south on Adams road to Featherstone road, across Opdyke road to Mount Clemens street and into the City of Pontiac.

In Pontiac the riders will deliver greetings and an invitation to the horse show to Mayor Philip E. Rowston, and other "mail" from the Rochester Post Office.

★ ★

On their return trip they will carry the mayor's response to Rochester Village President Sydney Q. Ennis and "mail" from Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Arrangements have been made for persons in Rochester and Pontiac to send mail by Pony Express. The procedure is for the Pontiac resident to send a letter addressed to the postmaster in Rochester with the writer's return address in the corner and marked "Pony Express."

★ ★ ★

Rochester residents send their letters the same way addressed to the Pontiac postmaster with their return address in the corner and marked "Pony Express."

The Trail Blazers are planning the horse show to raise money for college scholarships for their members. It will take place on the northwest corner of John R and Auburn roads.

His Quips Keep Britain Mirthful

Philip Is a Prince of Laughs

LONDON (UPI) — "I have just thought of a new science — dontopaedics," Prince Philip remarked once to a meeting of the British Dental Assn. "It means putting your foot in your mouth."

★ ★ ★

The Queen's husband just a few moments earlier had informed the gathering of some of Britain's most distinguished dentists that "I very seldom go to the dentist and then it very nearly takes a general anaesthetic to get me in."

PRINCE PHILIP

His audience laughed heartily.

Philip has been having a good go lately at "dontopaedics," taking perhaps his best dip into that science when he twice rolled off a "hell" in chitchat with a group of Scottish teen-age girls last week.

If the attention that incident got bothered the debonair duke, he showed no signs of it when he returned to England the next day to make additional school awards. He quipped and jollied his way through the day, although this time no one heard him say anything stronger than "jolly good!"

The prince appears to enjoy his role of pin-pricker of royal stuffiness, and all reports are that Queen Elizabeth enjoys it with him. She is said by intimates to delight in her husband's ability to take some of the stuffiness out of the royal round — something she herself cannot do under any circumstances.

The post mortem published memoirs of British kings and queens are filled with passages in which the monarchs privately protest the stiff upper lipped conduct always expected of them. No member of the royal family ever dared break the grin-and-bear-it tradition in modern times.

Until along came Philip.

There was the time Philip was introduced to the husband of a prominent woman scientist. "My wife is the more important member of the family," said the husband.

"I know," replied Philip. "We have the same trouble in our family."

NOT SCANDALIZED

Britons have come to expect Philip to say the thing that simply isn't said, to do the thing that simply isn't done.

"Duke Puts Teen-agers at Ease," headlined the Glasgow Bulletin. In its article on the royal visit, the newspaper said, "His easy manner, knowledge of the many subjects and his humor put the young people immediately at ease." And the newspaper went on to detail just how Philip said "hell" twice.

Philip is an avid sportsman — as long as he takes part. Polo is his favorite. He enjoys shooting game birds. But when duty calls him to watch a cricket or soccer match or even horse races (which the Queen dearly loves), Philip yawns openly.

★ ★ ★

There was the time Sir Tom O'Brien, a Labor Party bigwig, met Philip who noticed Sir Tom's ruddy red nose. "Been in the sunshine?" asked Philip.

"I'm afraid it must be bottled sunshine that does it," Sir Tom replied.

"Ah," said a grinning Philip, "so that's what they're drinking in the House of Commons these days, is it?"

Clip or Pay, City Warns

Weed Cutting to Begin

The city's fifth summer of weed cutting will begin next month.

* * *

As soon as the July 4 holiday weekend is over, the weed inspector — Lester Sweet, principal at Hawthorn School — will be touring the city with an eye for vacant lots with overgrown weeds.

If property owners don't get the weeds trimmed, the city will do it for them — at a pretty steep price.

The Parks & Recreation Department bills property owners at a rate of $12 an hour.

"We figure the price of inspections, bookkeeping and labor in the billings," said David R. Ewalt, parks and recreation director.

"Our labor costs are on an overtime basis, too, since the men are busy at regular departmental work during the days. They have only evenings and Saturdays for weed cutting."

After Sweet's first inspection, notices will go to property owners giving them 10 days to cut their weeds or get them cut.

A second inspection follows, and if the weeds still aren't cut, the city will move in.

"We suggest that property owners do their own cutting or hire people who are in the business," said Ewalt.

* * *

The weed program was initiated by the City Commission in 1956 in an effort to eliminate noxious weeds and "jungles" on vacant lots.

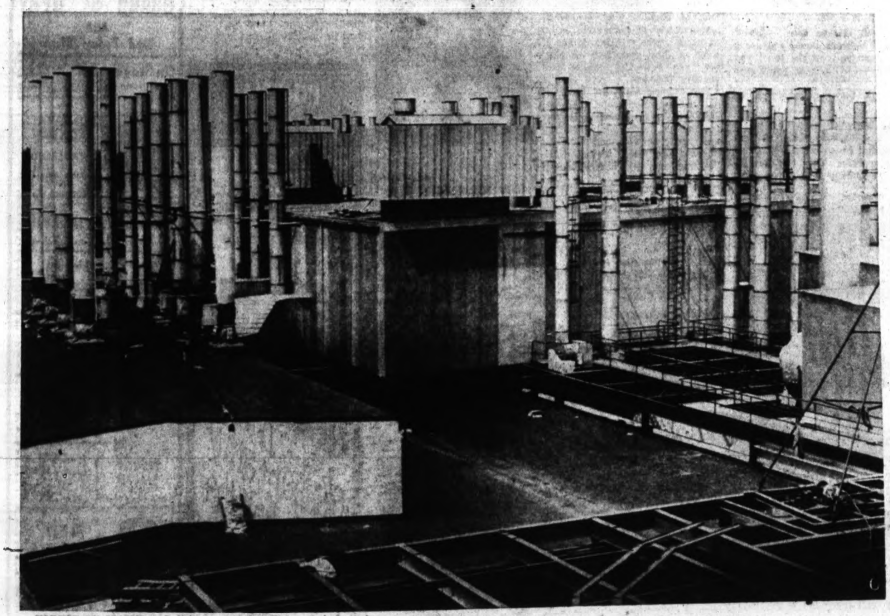
Pieces Fall Into Place on Fisher Modernization



FOREST OF STACKS — Despite reports that Fisher Body looks like a missile base, these stacks are not launchers. They carry off fumes from the new paint sections which are part of the giant modernization program. When completed, there will be 10 spray booths, compared to four previously. Bake ovens have also been moved to the roof, improving working conditions on the main floor.

Pontiac Press Photos by Vanderwarp

COOL COMFORT — This worker spraying a Pontiac body as it moves along is working in one of the new paint-spraying booths in cool comfort. Water beneath the floor grating catches excess paint and fumes, and is carried up through the walls, making working conditions clean and cool.

18-Month Project Near Completion

By HARRY J. REED
Managing Editor, Pontiac Press

Entering the stretch run in its 18-month modernization program, Fisher Body's gigantic jigsaw puzzle is beginning to fit together.

★ ★ ★

The modernization program, termed "the biggest ever attempted in a Fisher plant" by Plant Manager Thomas F. Wiethorn, has been going on 15 months.

The next 90 days will see completion of two separate production lines as the multimillion-dollar project nears its full initiation.

TOUGH SITUATION

Both lines will have body, paint and trim departments.

The complete changeover has been conducted under extremely trying situations — production has continued, and 95 per cent of the changes have been within the existing walls.

The accident record of Fisher employes during this period has been spotless, and there was only one brief work stoppage because of construction.

One of the chief changes is movement of the high heat paint-baking ovens to roof locations, which will greatly improve working conditions in the main plant area. There will be eight ovens, compared to two before.

Almost everything has been relocated. One change that is obvious to those passing the plant is the large number of stacks which has sprouted on the roof.

The change has produced what appears to be a giant pipe organ or missile launching platform.

Wiethorn explained how the new paint shops make use of downdrafts instead of the old-fashioned updraft models. There will be 10 spray booths, compared to four previously.

The gleaming-white paint section is cooler than most air-conditioned offices. Workers do not need bothersome masks or respirators.

Giant fans suck the paint fumes down through floor gratings and into water below, which carries the fumes and excess paint to the sides of the booth, and up through the walls to the stacks on the roof.

"With the completion of our program here, we'll have the most modern painting facilities in the industry," the manager said.

The new plant, and you find yourself calling it that, although the same walls are there, will have five spray booths on each line.

Upon completion, the local Fisher plant will be the only one which will supply the complete body needs of an adjacent motor plant, Wiethorn said.

Beside regular Pontiac bodies, Pontiac station wagons and convertibles will ride the conveyors into the Pontiac plant, along with bodies for the new compact Pontiac, the Tempest.

"This great modernization program here at Fisher Body shows that General Motors has great confidence in the future of this area. We are creating a rate of production never before possible here," Wiethorn said.

CHECKING DETAILS — It takes a lot of engineering to completely modernize a plant the size of Fisher Body. Here, officials go over one of many blueprints. From left are Harry Emerson, production manager; William Weaver, senior production engineer; Thomas F. Wiethorn, plant manager; and Henry Daniel, plant engineer. Fifteen of the 18 months scheduled for the changes have passed.

GOING UP — Sparks fly as a construction worker uses a cutting torch in the foreground, as one of the new ramps to the roof soars behind him. The ramp will take painted bodies to roof-top baking ovens. This switch has improved working conditions on the main floor, and allows more room there for the twin body lines. Some 450 construction workers have been working the past 15 months on modernization of the Fisher plant.

WATCH THOSE BRICKS — Down come the walls of an inner court near the former paint shop, as expansion at Fisher Body enters the final 90 days of an 18-month modernization program. Upon completion, the plant will have its highest production potential ever. Here, the former paint department is being changed over into the new trim department. Fisher Body workers have had a perfect safety record during the construction period.

Stiff N.D. Race at Showdown

Senate Vote Tomorrow Seen as Weather Vane for Nationwide Election

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — North Dakota's neck - and - neck Senate race comes down to the wire today, watched by the nation as a potential weather vane in the presidential election next fall.

Political analysts are watching it closely for these reasons:

1. As a possible barometer of the farmers' feelings toward Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and his farm policy, and therefore the outlook in the farm belt for the Republicans next November.

2. The outlook for the GOP in a state which, until recently, has been a rock-ribbed Republican stronghold.

The race looks so close that impartial observers say it may be decided by a few thousand votes either way. Even the partisan backers of Burdick and Davis seldom predict a margin of 10,000 for their man.

Is Birgit to be discarded because her magic didn't work — and because some advisers thought Ingo shouldn't be so much with girls?

Friends say it may work just the opposite. They feel that the Hollywood glamor boy movie and TV buildup — which required now, and that Ingo's loss may hasten the marriage. They point out that a time like this, Ingo might need a wife to comfort him.

BIRGIT

"Besides," they add, "if Ingo were married to Birgit — naturally, he wouldn't be spending so much time with her."

Heston Still Seeking a Role to Suit Him

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

★ ★ ★

"I've been offered at least eight tremendous epics," said this year's Oscar winner for "Ben-Hur." "I turned them all down. I think it would be suicide for me to do another one now. I'd never get out of the spectacle classification if I did. Besides, what would I prove?

"What I really want to do now is a modern comedy. The trouble is that they all go to Cary Grant. I'm not proud. I'd be willing to take his leavings."

Heston was moaning over losing "Let's Make Love." He was offered the lead opposite Marilyn Monroe the same day that an offer came to do "the Juggler" on Broadway with Laurence Olivier's direction. He chose the play. It was a flop, and the Monroe picture went to Yves Montand.

HESTON

SINATRA VS. PRESLEY

There was a tense moment on the "G.I. Blues" set when Frank Sinatra dropped in to visit his favorite girl, Juliet Prowse. Her co-star, Elvis Presley, had been displaying unusual interest in Juliet during Frank's absence in the Orient.

Brightest of the new pictures is "Bells are Ringing," which brings entertainment back to the screen. The show has wit and sunny tunes and Judy Holliday. She is the principal asset, shining in her musical numbers and shading her comedy performance with enough heart to make it believable. Dean Martin has never been better; for the first time he exudes warmth. With more bell-ringers like this film, Hollywood's problems would be minor.

JA Enjoys a Profitable Year

Pontiac's 16 small Junior Achievement companies which liquidated last month enjoyed a profitable year operating in the American free enterprise system.

★ ★ ★

The profits gained by the teenage businessmen and women weren't measured in dollars and cents alone.

Some 250 high school juniors and seniors from Pontiac now have a greater understanding of what our competitive economic system is all about.

And this, according to JA officials, both locally and nationally, is the real net profit gained through Junior Achievement's unique "learn by doing" process of economic education.

The total impact which the 16 JA enterprises have made on the community impresses, considering the fact that JA had opened the door to the real meaning of free enterprise for most of these youngsters for the very first time.

Since they began operations last October, the Pontiac junior business firms have sold $5,994 worth of products to the general public. Materials alone cost these small companies some $3,169.

In all, the local diminutive corporations have produced 5,740 units ranging in size from small key holders to larger items such as children's novelty lamps and stools.

It is interesting to note that 1,348 local stockholders invested 50 cents for each share of JA company stock bought—with a limit of five shares per person.

Wages, sales commissions and bonuses amounted to $2,046 and $135.84 was paid in "taxes" which went to the Achievers Assn. of Southeastern Michigan, JA's teen-age chamber of commerce.

Similar JA companies will reopen again this fall at the JA business center, 20½ E. Pike St. Nationally and internationally, nearly 4,000 Junior Achievement companies in 40 states (including Hawaii) and Canada and Finland sold approximately two million dollars worth of products.

Get-Together's a Picnic for Two Crippled Girls

CHICAGO (AP)—Two little girls with misfortune in common met Sunday, and it was a picnic.

★ ★ ★

Andrea Cappaert of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Jody Alfano of Chicago both are 7. Both have an uncle, Albin R. Anderson of Chicago. Both contracted polio a day and a half apart when they were 2½.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cappaert telephoned Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Alfano Sunday and said they would be driving near Chicago. Uncle Albin suggested everyone get together on U.S. 6 near suburban Cicero.

James Sotern, a restaurateur and also a friend of the uncle, heard of the picnic, and supplied roast chicken dinners for all.

Andrea and her family went in a specially fitted bus Cappaert bought for $255 so his daughter could travel with the family. It can carry an iron lung and has bunks for the other three Cappaert children.

10 Saved as Boat Explodes Near Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Ten persons were rescued yesterday afternoon when a 26-foot cabin cruiser exploded, burned and sank in the Detroit River.

When the explosion occurred, Mrs. Dolores Chiorocchi, Allen Park bundled three of her four children and a playmate of theirs into life preservers and pushed them overboard.

The other persons aboard were Mrs. Chiorocchi's mother, Mrs. Anna Brisbois, 87, and Thomas and Louisa Masteny, Dearborn. All 10 were picked out of the water by small craft in the area, then taken to outer drive hospital. Three were treated.

★ ★ ★

Chiorocchi said the boat exploded after the engine failed and he attempted to start it again. The cause of the blast was not immediately learned.

The accident occurred on the Canadian side of the river, opposite Ecorse, just south of Detroit.

Again Discuss Water System

Township Board and Engineers Talk Tonight in Waterford

Another discussion on an interconnecting water system for Waterford Township will be taken up by the Township Board and township engineers Johnson & Anderson at tonight's 7 o'clock board meeting.

★ ★ ★

The Federal Housing Finance Commission has granted the township a $100,000 loan to get the ball rolling on an overall township water system program.

A contract for starting the project has been drawn up with the engineering firm.

Recommendations of Clerk James E. Seeterlin to install ground water survey equipment at the Boston street well house will be considered.

DAILY EVALUATION

The program will be conducted jointly with the United States Department of Interior to provide day-to-day evaluation of the township's ground water supply.

The Department of Interior will pay half the cost of $600 for the first year's operation and $400 for each succeeding year, with the township assuming the balance.

Seeterlin will also recommend that the Johnson & Anderson firm be directed to prepare construction drawings for extending a 12-inch water main 292 feet west on Cass Lake road from Cass-Elizabeth Lake road to connect with the new Michigan Bell Telephone Co. building.

★ ★ ★

The township attorney will present his recommendations on two Workmen's Liability Compensation insurance policies.

Two bids were submitted at last week's meeting, and referred to the township attorney.

Board members will discuss a report from the township zoning board regarding a lot in Maceday Lake Gardens subdivision.

The zoning board would like the Oakland County Road Commission to construct a road through the lot, located on Williams Lake and Maceday Lake roads.

The board will also set a hearing for intent to proceed with plans for a sewer line on North Tilden street.

Was 34 Years Wed to a Yale Man Just Too Much?

NEW YORK (AP)—A crossword puzzle in the New York Times listed this definition to fill 10 spaces in the vertical column: "For God, for country and for Yale."

The correct answer was "anticlimax."

An irate letter of objection appeared in Sunday's Times. The writer, a Yale graduate, said, "I presume the creator of the puzzle was a Harvard man."

Not so, replied the Times. It said the puzzle was designed by a Smith girl—married to a Yale man for 34 years.

British statesman William Pitt said in a speech in 1777: "If I were an American, as I am an Englishman, while a foreign troop was landed in my country, I would never lay down my arms — never! never! never!"

HOUGHTON (UPI) — A weekend of festivities marked the opening of the world's heaviest lift bridge across the busy Keeweenaw Waterway between the sister cities of Houghton and Hancock. The $11-million-dollar span provides the only direct link between the two Upper Peninsula cities.

DeWitt-Dykes Hold Tiger 'Summit' Meeting

Team's Batting Average Is Poorest in Either League

DETROIT (UPI) — President Bill DeWitt of the Detroit Tigers huddled with manager Jimmie Dykes in a hastily called 'Summit' meeting last night after the Tigers dropped a doubleheader to the Washington Senators.

DeWitt said later he plans no changes in the organization at this time.

DeWitt stalked into the Tiger clubhouse and walked directly to Dykes' quarters. He sat and talked with Dykes for more than 15 minutes in view of the players, and some of them regarded it as an intrusion.

Several players complained privately it was a bad time and a bad place for such a meeting.

★ ★ ★

"This club is unsettled enough, struggling around trying to snap out of it," said one veteran. "This sort of thing doesn't help."

DeWitt defended the meeting, the time and the place, thus: "It won't hurt the players to know that I'm concerned."

Detroit has lost seven of its last nine games. The fifth-place Tigers had a 5-9 record in the just-closed home stand.

"I have no criticism of the manager. I have no theories on what is wrong with the club. I have no suggestions on how to get the team going. Dykes is running the club."

★ ★ ★

He said he has met with Dykes and the coaches—Bill Hitchcock, Tom Ferrick and Luke Appling—a couple of times recently.

"I'm just concerned about the hitting," said DeWitt. "It's up to Dykes and the coaches to find out what's wrong and correct it. They're all working hard, trying to get the most out of the players. And I haven't seen a single player dogging it.

"Rick Ferrell (DeWitt's assistant) has been watching the hitters for more than a week, trying to figure out what we're doing wrong. It's not strange for two or three guys to slump, but our whole team is doing it. We have the worst batting average in either league—and have had all year."

DeWitt said there may be some player changes in a couple of weeks.

"I'm not going to tear this club apart," he said, "but we may make some changes around All-Star game time if we don't get moving."

Dykes, who has seen the Detroit club run hot and cold through 63 games, would not divulge what he and DeWitt said to each other.

"I'm fresh out of ideas," Dykes said. "I told him (DeWitt) if he had a suggestion, just to name it and I'd try it. We'll try anything now."

★ ★ ★

Dykes said he will stick with his current lineup for the seven-game road trip just ahead.

Dykes replied: "Yeah, if I make it."

AN ERROR — Chico Fernandez, Detroit Tiger shortstop, takes to the air in an effort to take a high, wide throw from catcher Red Wilson as Washington first baseman Julio Becquer stole second in the first game of their twinbill in Detroit yesterday. Wilson was charged with an error. Washington won both games, 4-2 and 7-4.

SPORTS

Fans Bid Tigers 'Bye With Jeers

They completed a stumbling home stand yesterday against the Washington Senators by losing both ends of a doubleheader. The scores were 4-2 and 7-4.

The Tigers lost nine of 14 during the home stay and tumbled into fifth place, 7½ games out of first. They are 3½ out of the first division and only 2½ ahead of the sixth-place Senators.

The fans obviously are becoming irked with the punchless Tigers and they howled during the double setback, saving most of their jeers for outfielder Al Kaline.

Making the losses more difficult was the fact that three former Tigers Reno Bertoia, Bill Fischer and Don Lee—played major roles in the disasters.

Bertoia hit .429 as the Senators took three games in the four-game series. The young infielder from Windsor, who was dealt away for Eddie Yost after several tries with Detroit, had six hits in 14 at-bats.

Bertoia's final hit of the series was a two-run home run—his first of the season—in the eighth inning of the nightcap. It iced the game that Paul Foytack lost in the first inning when the Senators raked for five hits and four runs.

Fischer, former Tiger reliefer, carried a 5-1 lead into the seventh inning when Lou Berberet hit a three-run homer. One of the Washington runs was Fischer's first big league home run, hit against Hank Aguirre in the second inning.

★ ★ ★

When Fischer faltered in the seventh, Ray Moore came in and got the last eight outs without yielding a hit.

The first game was more frustrating. The Tigers left 10 runners on the bases, giving them 39 runners stranded in three games. They had at least one runner on base in every inning.

Pedro Ramos and Lee handcuffed Detroit on seven hits in that one. Ramos had to retire after five innings when he hurt his pitching elbow. The injury will keep him out of action for 10 days.

He left Lee with a 3-1 lead, and the former Tiger hurler took good care of it. He allowed only three hits and the only run the Tigers got off him was unearned.

★ ★ ★

Frank Lary was charged with his eighth defeat against six victories. He went seven innings and gave up eight of the 10 Washington hits.

Bertoia and Jose Valdivielso accounted for half of the hits. Bertoia doubled and singled in four trips and Valdivielso, hitting .187 going into the day's action, singled three times and drove in a run with a sacrifice fly.

THAT'S ALL, JIM — Umpire Hank Soar points in the direction of the showers while Jim Piersall, Cleveland center fielder, continues to argue about being called out in trying to steal second in the 5th inning against the Yankees yesterday. Later, the Indians ordered Piersall to take a few days rest.

Snead Falters but U.S. Clinches Canada Cup

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland (AP)—Arnold Palmer, who teamed with Sam Snead in winning the Canada Cup golf trophy for the United States, left for Scotland today with some new shots in his bag and hopes of adding the British Open to his American Open and Masters titles.

The Canada Cup tournament was decided Sunday over the 7,093-yard Portmarnock links on the edge of the Irish Sea, and it was a new experience to the 30-year-old Latrobe, Pa., golfer.

★ ★ ★

"It's been entirely different playing this course," Palmer said. "It's the first time I've played a course like this one. I've learned a lot of new shots — shots I've never played before in my life.

"I'm taking them with me to St. Andrews for the British Open."

Snead, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., will pass the British Open starting July 4, because of business commitments at home.

Snead had the individual title in his pocket at the start of the last day of the four-day tournament. Then he blew to a 75 and Belgian socialite Flora Van Donck slipped through and collected the crown.

★ ★ ★

Van Donck finished with a 68-71-70-70—279 for the four rounds. Then he nervously waited for 90 minutes while Snead completed his round.

Snead needed a par 72 to win. He went out in 36 and looked likely to do it. Then he blew to a 39 on the last nine and the title belonged to the Belgian.

"I've been so close so many times," Van Donck said, "So you can imagine my pleasure at winning. And I've got to thank Snead for helping me to do it."

Snead said:

★ ★ ★

"I thought I had the fish on the hook when I got a birdie on the first hole. But then came the 10th, 11th, and 12th holes — and the fish had got away."

Snead finished with 71-68-67-75—281; Harry Weetman of England 75-70-68-71—284; and Palmer 69-71-75-69—284 to tie for third.

The United States took the team title with a total of 565, England was second with 573, Australia third with 574, Ireland fourth with 575 and South Africa fifth with 578.

Playoff Decides State Tourney at Farmington

By BILL CORNWELL

Diminutive Ron Fox, a 23-year-old Detroit professional, won the Michigan PGA Golf Championship Sunday at Farmington Country Club in a scorching battle between driving range operators.

Fox, who stands only 5-5½ and weighs 145 pounds, rifled a birdie three on the 1st hole of a sudden-death playoff to defeat Cliff Settergren, a 50-year-old veteran from Muskegon.

"I came here to win the tournament," was Fox' remark after his birdie on the 395-yard par four hole had conquered Settergren, who got into trouble off the tee and wound up with a bogey five.

Settergren needed a strong rally on his afternoon round to shoot his tying 141 and force the playoff. Settergren shot 73 in the morning, but bounced back with a torrid 63 to deadlock Fox.

Both pros are driving range instructors. Fox runs an indoor school on Woodward avenue in downtown Detroit and also works for the Northland Shopping Center at an outdoor range.

Fox made quick work of Settergren in the playoff. He laced his tee shot down the advantageous right side of the fairway while Settergren hooked his drive into the woods.

After Settergren shanked his iron shot to the right of the green, Fox punched a 7-iron within three feet of the cup. Settergren landed his next shot on the carpet 30 feet from the pin, but required two putts to hole out. Fox canned his short putt for a "bird" and the State PGA title was his.

Fox and Settergren had similar rounds, each posting eight birdies and five bogies. Fox' scorecard read 38-33-36-34 while Settergren's went 38-35-35-33.

It was the first golf crown in Fox' career. A pro for seven years who began playing golf at the age of 12, Fox' best previous tourney effort was an 8th-place finish in the 1957 Michigan Open.

The triumph netted Fox $350 while Settergren pocketed $250 for runnerup honors. The total purse was $1,500.

Fox nearly picked up a two-stroke penalty on the 18th hole of his final round. His 2nd shot on the 405-yard 18th hole stopped on the adjacent 9th green.

Fox was planning to putt from the 9th green, hoping to stroke the ball onto the right carpet, but PGA officials Joe Belfore and Warren Orlick warned him that this was against the rules. Fox was allowed a free drop at the back of the green from where he pitched within three feet and got his par.

Saginaw's Bill Markham finished 3rd with 72-70—142, two under par, over the par 36-36—72 layout. Ben Lula of Hillcrest came next with 72-71—143, followed by Lakepointe's John Dalrymple at 73-71—144.

Kilburn Wins Feature at Waterford

Record Crowd at Sports Car Races

J. C. Kilburn of Grosse Pointe won the feature 9th race of the Sports Car Club of America regionals yesterday at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

Driving an English Lotus, Kilburn sped around the 1.5 mile track in Waterford Hills in 1:28.

Bob Clift, of Pontiac, who was favored in the race, ran into difficulty. He drove his car 30 feet across a field and it continued through a wooden fence. Clift was not hurt.

Clift had previously won the over all points in 7th race by nosing out Kilburn 1:27.3 to 1:27.2.

Over 5,000 fans turned out to watch eight 10-lap races and the 15-lap feature race consisting of the first three place winners of the eight previous races.

Two-time winner of the over-all title in two races was Bob Johnson who took the honors in the 6th and 8th races in his Corvette. His winning times were 1:32.5 and 1:31.2 respectively.

These were the winners of the eight races yesterday:

1. William Cleminshaw, Cleveland, Ohio, driving a Saab.
2. Al Beasly, Hudson, Ohio, driving a Formula Jr.
3. Jud Holcombe, Grosse Pointe, Mich., driving an Alfa-Romeo.
4. Robert Kimes, Dayton, Ohio, driving an MG-A.
5. Robert Parsons, Lakewood, Ohio, driving an Alfa-Romeo.
6. Bob Johnson (h o m e town UNAVB), driving a Corvette.
7. Bob Clift, Pontiac, driving a Corvette.
8. Bob Johnson (h o m e town UNAVB), driving a Corvette.

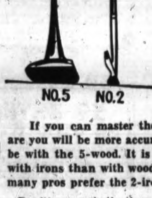
Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "I'll never master the 2-iron."

DIAGNOSIS: Maybe you need a 5-wood.

TREATMENT: Some golfers seem destined never to learn to play good long-iron shots. I think that in most instances the problem is at least partially mental, but that is largely beside the point.



If you play rather infrequently, and long-iron shots continue to be your nemesis, I urge you to replace the 2-iron in your bag with a 5-wood. The two clubs will provide about the same distance, and it's definitely easier to get the ball up with the 5-wood. The wood does have a bigger hitting surface on the clubface.

If you can master the 2-iron, however, chances are you will be more accurate with it than you could be with the 5-wood. It is just easier to be accurate with irons than with woods, as witness the fact that many pros prefer the 2-iron to the 5-wood.

Don't carry both these clubs in your bag at the same time, though. With the 14-club limit—which you should observe whether or not you are playing in a tournament—there will be too much duplication if you carry both.

Doug Wilson Beats School Teacher in Publinx Final

ANN ARBOR — Doug Wilson finally made it to the top of the heap in the Michigan Publinx Golf Association.

The 35-year-old Ypsilanti veteran, who has frequently been a contender but never a winner, conquered Al Whited of Wayne, 4-3, Sunday afternoon at Loch Alpine Country Club to win the State Publinx Invitational Match Play Championship.

Wilson, who has qualified for the National Public Links tournament five times and twice reached the quarter-finals of the state event, won qualifying medal honors Thursday with a one-under-par 71 and then swept past six foes to pocket all the marbles.

Wilson, a foreman for the Detroit Transmission Division of General Motors, made it to the title round with a 2-up victory over 19-year-old Tommy Ahern of Detroit in Sunday morning's semi-final duel.

★ ★ ★

Whited, a 28-year-old principal at Taylor Junior High School, was the surprise of the tourney. Competing in his 1st golf event, Whited advanced to the championship test with a 1-up triumph over Jim Briegel of Ann Arbor, who was playing on his home course.

Andonian, seeking his 4th crown in a five-year span, took one of the worst beatings of his career, a 6-5 pasting from Merle Blackmun of Jackson. Andonian, playing badly, carded only three pars on the front side and was 7 down at the turn. Blackmun was ousted by Wilson, 3-2, in the next round.

Wilson, a member of the Idyl Wyld team in the MPGA league, was eliminated by Andonian two years ago in the state semis at Pontiac Country Club. He had Whited 4 down at the turn and closed out the match on the 15th hole with a seven-foot birdie putt.

The Pontiac Retailers handed Buettner's Cleaners its first loss of the year, 4-2, behind steady seven-hit hurling by Earl Mudge. The winners made only two hits, but capitalized on three errors and six walks to pull the upset.

O'Neil Realty clubbed a dozen safeties, three by Dean Parsons, for a 12-9 triumph over Langdon's Boat Livery. Sno-Bol stayed at the head of the pack in the American division with a 3-1 win over the Moose behind Dick Shell's four-hit pitching.

The Elks were awarded a forfeit decision over the CIO in the other scheduled game.

After Latest Ejection

Order Piersall to Rest

BOSTON (AP) — Jim Piersall, Cleveland's high-strung outfielder, is bewildered by a doctor's order that he take a rest to soothe his jangled nerves.

"It's a complete shock to me," the Cleveland firebrand said Sunday night. "I don't really understand it."

Piersall, who spent part of 1959 in a hospital after a nervous breakdown, said he had no idea when he may return to the team.

"I'll just wait until I hear from Mr. Lane (General Manager Frank Lane)," he said.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Don Kelly, the Indians' team physician, advised the rest after Piersall was ejected from the second game of a doubleheader with the Yankees in Cleveland Sunday. Piersall left immediately and didn't know of the decision until he arrived in Boston to visit his family in suburban Newton.

"This was a big series," he said. "I always play hard against the Yankees."

He was thrown out of the game for disputing a call by Umpire Hank Soar after he unsuccessfully attempted to steal second base.

Jim has been at odds with umpires since early May. He has been arguing with opposing players and has a running verbal and sign battle going with the official scorer.

At the same time, he has fielded spectacularly and was hitting .296.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Kelly announced that Jim would get a rest after conferring with Manager Joe Gordon. Gordon said he hoped Jim would be back in action in a few days. Dr. Kelly didn't make a prediction. Piersall said it was up to the Indians.

Dr. Kelly said he recommended Piersall be given the rest after observing the outfielder for some time. "He's very tired and losing weight, almost exhausted," he said.

Piersall suffered a nervous breakdown midway through the 1952 season. He went to the Westborough State Hospital near here and for a while was in the violent room. He recovered and returned to the Red Sox next season. He was traded to the Indians last year.

Piersall said he was aware that Dr. Kelly had been "sitting on the bench, observing me. That puts you under something of a strain, you know."

Cubs Surprise Pirates by Taking 2

By The Associated Press

Once in a great while a baseball game looks like a sure thing. A can't miss proposition like Ingemar Johansson over Floyd Patterson last week . . . Or Patterson over Ingo last year.

The sure thing was all ready for the picking Sunday, Pittsburgh leading the National League, was playing Chicago, the last place team. The Pirates had two of the best pitchers in the league going for them, Bob Friend (9-3) and Vern Law (11-2). The Cubs had lost nine straight. Just to put the lock on it, the games were to be played in Pittsburgh.

So what happened? You guessed it. The Cubs turned on the Pirates and beat them twice 7-6 and 7-5.

Even the Pirates could afford to enjoy the irony of it all. Their league lead hardly was touched. Second-place Milwaukee also lost, bowing to Los Angeles 6-3 and third-place San Francisco fell before Cincinnati 10-4. As a result, Pittsburgh dropped only a half game and still leads by three full games.

The best pitching effort of the day was turned in by the Phillies' John Buzhardt who settled down after a shaky start and held St. Louis hitless for 9 2-3 innings of a 12-inning 3-2 victory. The Phils' Chris Short had a 3-1 lead going to the ninth of the second game only to have the Cards' Hal Smith hit his first homer of the year with two on for a 4-3 victory.

The Cubs just barely made a 7-2 lead stand up in the ninth inning of the first game with the Pirates. Ernie Banks' run-scoring double off the left field scoreboard in the top of the ninth proved decisive when the Pirates came back with four in the last of the ninth, including a record-tying 11th pinchhit homer by Smoky Burgess.

Rookie Ron Santo, just called up from Houston, delivered a double and single in the opener, driving in three runs, and knocked in two more in the second game decision over Law. Mark Freeman and Seth Morehead were the Chicago winners.

Frank Howard, Los Angeles' storied rookie, hit two homers and knocked in four runs in the defeat of Milwaukee. Johnny Podres was in control as the Dodgers finished off Lew Burdette in three innings, snapping his five-game winning streak. Howard now has hit nine homers since his recall from Spokane in mid-May.

★

Bob Purkey gave up 11 hits, the most damaging a homer by Orlando Cepeda, but the Cincinnati sluggers bombed Jack Sanford and three successors for 12 hits including a homer by Wally Post.

Buzhardt gave up a run in the first inning and a lead off homer by Joe Cunningham in the second. He didn't allow another hit until Stan Musial singled with two out in the 11th. Tony Gonzales' two-run homer won the opener in the 12th.

Short had a four-hitter and appeared on the way to victory until he ran into trouble in the ninth. Bill White beat out a bunt, John Glenn singled and Smith hit a homer. A 3-1 lead had turned into a 4-3 defeat.

Ferrari Is Winner of Endurance Race

LEMANS, France (AP) —"It didn't cost me as much as they say, but I didn't get much out of it either," sighed American sportsman Briggs Cunningham today after watching the Ferraris defeat his own entries in the Le Mans 24-hour endurance race.

"I'll be back next year with my Cunningham's Corvette was put out of the race when co-driver Bill Kimberley of New Milford, Conn., scraped a retaining wall.

cars better prepared," Cunningham said.

It was the seventh time that Cunningham, as builder or driver, has come across the Atlantic to tackle the toughest of all sports car classics. He has never won.

Baltimore Back in Charge of AL

By The Associated Press

Jim Gentile, a conditional purchase from Los Angeles last fall, is showing the Baltimore Orioles how to take charge of the American League.

Gentile's seven runs batted in Sunday helped the Orioles regain first place by a one-game margin over the New York Yankees. His three hits in five at bats sent him into first place in the league batting race at .347 with a 10-point edge over Boston's Pete Runnels. The slugging first baseman is right up there in RBI too with 49, good for second place.

* * *

The former Dodger farmhand wasn't the whole show in Baltimore's Sunday success story. Chuck Estrada, a rookie right-hander, had a no-hitter going for seven innings and wound up with a two-hitter in the Orioles' 9-2 victory over Kansas City.

New York faltered after Whitey Ford had pitched a 6-2 first game victory over Cleveland with a four-hitter. Despite Roger Maris' two home runs and four RBI, the Indians won the second 7-6 in 11 innings on an error by the same Mr. Maris. After the games, Jimmy Piersall, high strung Cleveland outfielder, was sent home for an indefinite rest.

* * *

The Chicago White Sox, awakening from their springtime slumbers, looked like defending champions once more in taking a pair from Boston, the first gently 4-3 and the second with a sledge hammer 21-7.

* * *

Gentile has been just another guy in the Dodger farm system since he started playing pro ball in 1952. His best year was .314 with Pueblo in the Western League in 1954. Until the Orioles bought him, he appeared doomed to spend the rest of his career in the minors.

Although Manager Paul Richards has platooned him with Walt Dropo, the 26-year-old rookie has been a steady performer. His RBI total of 49 with only 150 at bats is a real startler. Roger Maris, the leader with 58, has been up 246 times.

Estrada lost his no-hitter when Bill Tuttle led off the eighth with a single. Andy Carey's sixth homer was the other hit. Gentile's two homers, his 9th and 10th both off loser Dick Hall, gave him seven RBI for the day, the best of the year in the majors.

* * *

Maris had done all he could to keep the Yanks in the second game after Ford had won the opener from Ted Bowsfield before 57,261, the largest American league crowd of the year. Maris hammered his 21st and 22nd homers and got a run-scoring single. However, with Hank Foiles on first and two out in the 11th he let Bob Hale's pinch double roll past him while the winning run scored. Jim Perry was the Cleveland winner over relief man Johnny James.

* * *

Billy Pierce drove in two runs and held Boston to five hits in Chicago's opening victory. Early Wynn coasted home with an 18-1 lead after the White Sox scored 11 runs in the fourth inning of the second game. Chicago delighted a crowd of 37,281 by sending 15 men to the plate in the big inning. Frank Sullivan and Tom Borland were the Boston losers.

Upsets Galore at Red Run

Ahern, Linklater Win Title

Two veteran golfers from the Detroit District, 49-year-old Randall Ahern and 38-year-old George Linklater, won the annual Red Run Invitational Best Ball golf championship Sunday afternoon with a 1-up triumph over Howard Hamilton and Don Hibbard.

The Ahern-Linklater victory was the climax to a couple of upsets in Sunday morning's semifinals.

Chuck Kocsis and 18-year-old Gary Mouw, who had combined for 13 birdies while winning easily in their first two matches, were upset by Hamilton and Hibbard, 1 up, 21 holes.

Ahern and Linklater beat Hamilton and Hibbard for the title by parring the 14th hole for a 1-up lead and halving the rest of the way.

Woman Rider Hurt in Spill

Egan, Smith Double Champs

By H. GUY MOATS

Under bright skies and ideal conditions, and with the week's biggest gallery, the 1960 Detroit Horse Show wound up its six-day round of colorful action, Sunday night, with two exhibitors walking off with a pair of big titles apiece.

Only discordant note of the finale was the injury sustained by well-liked Betty Queen, of Oxford. Mrs. Queen, a prominent professional rider here for a number of years, is in St. Jospeh Mercy Hospital, with facial cuts, bruises and a concussion. Her condition was reported as satisfactory today, but she will remain under observation for a few days, said Dr. John R. Hubert.

Mrs. Queen went down when Honibear, her mount in the green hunter stake event, Sunday's 2nd action, jumped short at a barrier, then rolled on the prostrate rider. The accident was the only serious one of the show.

Big winners were Birmingham's Robert C. Egan and Morton W. (Cappy) Smith of Middleburg, Va. Each captured two titles. John S. Pettibone, also from Middleburg, repeated his last year's victory with Duke of Paeonian getting his 3rd straight title at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

Sunday's attendance was estimated by show offiicals as a good, big 8,000. Stands and boxes were filled all day and evening.

A varied and highly interesting program, Saturday, featured western horses, included the handsome Arabians, sleek Morgans, plus many regular show events. It also included announcement of two more victories for Birmingham's junior ace, Alicon Cram, who won the Grosse Pte. — BOH high score trophy, and the BOH junior equitation awards for horsemanship excellence.

* * *

Alison also was winner of several other equitation events during the week.

The big finale was a redhot competition for most of the top show titles, between Egan, Smith, the Pettibones and the two Firestone girls, with their Lauray Farms stable, handled by veteran Max Bonham.

Closeness of the competition is seen in the final totals. Bob Egan's Blue Monday, one of the show's busiest performers, scraped by for working hunter honors with a one-point margin over Krystn Glancy's Moonflight, 18 to 17. In the same competition Christy Firestone's Mysterious had 16.

* * *

Egan's other title was the green conformation hunter, won by Mr. Deliberate, who lived up to his name with a steady, smooth performance over the rolling outside course. He collected 18½ points. Max Bonham's New Rule went reserve with 9.

Sunday's wins for "Cappy" Smith closed out the husky southerner's show activities for the season. "I'm going to take a good rest now," he said Sunday. The big fellow had to give away about 40 pounds to opposing riders, with his 210-pounds making him the heftiest show rider in the country.

Slower Than Expected but Records Rise

Business Is Showing Good Bounce

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's less business buoyancy this June than there was in January. Still, the midyear finds many more optimists than pessimists in Washington.

A majority of economists interviewed predict the economy will keep on making gains and setting records throughout 1960, and possibly beyond.

But the rate of advance has slowed markedly. It may slow further. National output probably will show less growth in the last part of the year than it did in the first quarter alone.

By the yearend, in the private view of government and industry economists, the economy will be moving on a high plateau having only a slight incline.

The time to watch out for a recession, if one is in the offing, is in early or middle 1961, some of the experts believe.

Meantime the outlook for the second half of 1960 is for:

1. A national output totaling about 507 billion dollars worth of goods and services. That is lower, by around five billion, than the average of the New Year's forecasts. It would be 5½ per cent better than last year's gross national product, however.

2. A stable cost of living. Consumer prices are expected to advance by not much more than 1 per cent during the entire year, in spite of the May bulge caused by bad crop weather.

3. A rather sluggish job picture. Employment keeps setting records, but it is not full employment. Joblessness is staying stubbornly close to 5 per cent of the working force, compared with 4 per cent or less in recent years of high prosperity.

4. Rising incomes. Total personal income probably has topped by now the 400-billion-dollar mark; it reached 399½ billion in May. The steady rise of wages, salaries and other forms of income has surprised many economists. Income rose during the 1959 steel strike and this year's March weather setback.

5. Strong consumer demand. Most economists believe the consumer is the real key to business growth in second-half 1960. The householder's proven willingness to borrow and spend should offset an already visible slowdown in business outlays.

★ ★ ★

6. Easier credit. The Federal Reserve Board's decision on June 3 to cut the discount rate—the interest charge on money it lends to banks—amounts to a proclamation that the board will wield its huge money power to stimulate business activity.

The board's move had a curiously stimulative effect. Nine times out of 10 in the past, businessmen would have taken alarm. They would have interpreted a drop in the discount rate as an official recognition that a recession already was under way.

This time, the stock market went up and business confidence firmed. Businessmen generally accepted at face value the board's emphatic statement that "the economy is on a solid base and inflationary psychology has lessened."

Moreover, administration officials said privately that businessmen today give the board more credit than in the past for keeping alert to business trends—for trying to anticipate possible slumps or inflationary booms rather than waiting until the harm is done.

Actually, the board moved deliberately and cautiously to make sure its action was properly timed. The reasons for its cautions reflect the economic pattern of the past six months.

EXPECTED UP TREND

When the year began, economists and businessmen alike expected a rapid and possibly inflationary surge of demand. Industry had to replenish stocks depleted by the steel strike, and optimistic auto manufacturers thought they could see a tremendous seven-million-car year ahead. It was commonly believed that inventory-building would keep production climbing through most of the first half of the year.

But the inventory rush played out much sooner than expected. The auto outlook, while still very good indeed, wasn't up to the rosiest expectations. In March a noticeable business slowdown occurred. The reserve board and everyone else had to wait and see whether a recession was developing or whether the economy had merely stalled temporarily in the massive March snows.

The latter guess proved correct. By the time this was clear, however, the U2 spy plane incident and the collapse of the summit had aroused fresh inflationary alarms. Would businessmen and consumers rush to buy, in anticipation of a war scare and a crash defense build-up? If so, a cut in the discount rate would simply have added fuel to the fire.

Consumers and businessmen did not panic. The Cold War crisis was taken in stride, and the board made the easier-money move that perhaps could have been made many weeks earlier.

★ ★ ★

The outlook now is one of conflicting trends, but most Washington experts believe that expansionary forces still have the upper hand.

Industry's outlay for new plant and equipment is scheduled to rise throughout the rest of the year. It will reach a 37½-billion-dollar rate in the final quarter, by official estimate. Although this is a bit lower than some economists had expected, it represents enough spending to replace part of the drop in business outlays for inventory.

Auto sales surged with the arrival of spring. In May they hit the highest rate since 1955, the industry's best-ever year. A slowdown must be expected, however, as the production lines are halted for the fall model changeovers.

Steel production, which skidded to below 65 per cent of capacity after the strike-depleted pipelines were refilled, is expected to regain considerable momentum this fall when the auto orders pour in.

And although the federal government's budget operations will be strongly deflationary, the heightening of international tensions has encouraged sentiment in Congress for heavier defense spending. That New orders to manufacturers have been diminishing in recent weeks. This could be a trouble sign, but consumer demand has been high and steady enough to suggest that it will be translated into heavier orders at the factory in the reasonably near future.

★ ★ ★

Homebuilding remains in the doldrums, still suffering from the tight-money squeeze. Yet overall construction activity is at or near record levels. And the prospect of easier credit has aroused hope in the housing industry that more plentiful mortgage money will provide a shot in the arm.

New Contract Reached by Lake Firms, Seamen

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Maritime Union has reached an agreement with eight Great Lakes companies operating dry cargo and tanker ships on a new work contract for 1,700 seamen.

Senators Wary of U2 Handling

Group Issues Report After Probe; Says Bad Luck One Factor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee issued its report Saturday night on an intensive inquiry into the U2 spy plane case and the summit conference failure.

★ ★ ★

The report, signed by 14 of the 17 members of the panel, charged that the Eisenhower administration's handling of the ill-fated May 1 flight over Russia was "most lacking" in direction and that "at crucial points coordination broke down."

The report also said failure of the spy flight was "just plain bad luck" and that there was "no reason to believe" that captured pilot Francis G. Powers was "unreliable."

Administration officials were criticized for refusing to disclose why the flight was so important it was ordered in spite of the approach of the East-West meetings two weeks later.

★ ★ ★

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev used the flight as the reason for sabotaging the Paris meeting—and the report declared "in the absence of compelling reasons to the contrary, there is good reason to conclude that the flight should not have gone."

Crash Ends Wild Chase in Royal Oak

A chase at speeds up to 90 m.p.h. on Woodward avenue through Royal Oak early Sunday ended in a fiery three-car smash-up and the arrest of a Birmingham man.

★ ★ ★

Police said they stopped Geggie twice for speeding just before the crash, but both times he sped off as they got out to question him.

In trying to avoid the blockade, Geggie's car struck a vehicle driven by Thomas S. Maxwell, 17, of 897 Mohegan Rd., Birmingham. Maxwell, alone in the car, escaped unhurt.

Geggie's car then ran into another car stopped at the blockade. It burst into flames. The driver, James A. Krause, 30, of 26641 Hill Rd., Warren, leaped clear in time. He was unhurt.

Owner of the car driven by Geggie, Nikolis C. Micelli, 22, of 1014 E. Lewiston St., Ferndale, was a passenger in the fleeing vehicle.

★ ★ ★

He received slight head injuries in the crash and was treated at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, and released.

★ ★ ★

Geggie was arraigned in Royal Oak Municipal Court today on charges of felonious driving, and driving without a license. He stood mute and was released on $100 bond until his trial scheduled for Aug. 3.

Market Steady: No Big Spurts

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was irregular as trading slackened to a fairly moderate pace early this afternoon. Some specially - situated stocks made good gains.

★ ★ ★

Gains and losses of fractions to a point were the general rule for most key stocks. Some volatile issues picked up 2 or 3 points.

Steels dribbled off as another reduction in the industry operating rate was anticipated. Rails showed very little movement.

A few of the electronics and other recent favorites met renewed trading interest.

Oils and aircrafts were slightly lower. Chemicals, tobaccos and drugs were mostly on the upside.

Beckman Instruments picked up more than 3. Zenith and Universal Match advanced about 2 apiece.

★ ★ ★

Reliance Manufacturing, usually a drab performer, spurted more than 2 points in brisk trading. NAFI erased an early rise of about 2 and showed a fractional net loss.

Weather Is Good, Grain Prices Off

Setbacks running to major fractions were posted in nearly all pits within the first half hour. Broadest losses were in the July contracts.

Trade reports over the weekend said the expanding wheat harvest was showing better average yields than expected and that as operations spread into Kansas the quality of the grain was showing marked improvement also.

Ike Nominates Grosse Pointer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today nominated Charles H. King of Detroit to be a member of the Federal Communications Commission, replacing former Chairman John C. Doerfer.

King, dean of the Detroit College of Law, will complete the unexpired seven-year term of Doerfer, who resigned following disclosure of his acceptance of yacht trips in Florida from a broadcasting executive.

Eisenhower previously had nominated Edward Mills Jr. of Morristown, N.J., for the vacancy but his name with withdrawn at Mill's request. He said his life interest in two trust funds created a possible conflict of interest problem.

King is 53, a Republican and a resident of Grosse Pointe, Mich. He was a professor of law at the Detroit institution before becoming dean in 1944.

Hospital Do-It-Yourself Cuts Costs by One Half

Such self-help makes it possible to reduce to two — from five — the number of nurses on duty. The patients' daily room rates are reduced by 50 per cent.

Lots of Luck Crashes Into His Windshield

KEENE, N.H. (UPI) — Horse shoes may be a lucky omen for some people — but not Norman G. Gauvin of Marlboro, N.H.

He was driving in South Keene when suddenly a horse shoe crashed through his windshield and landed in the front seat next to him. He said a horse was going in the opposite direction and somehow tossed the shoe.

Why Taxes Are High!

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—Deputy State Treasurer William Shepard ordered 1,500 social security forms from the federal government and received 15,000. He returned them postage collect noting it would take at least 35 years for them to be used up in Vermont.

Boy Scouts Get Ready for Trek to U.S. Jamboree

This weekend, 102 boy scouts and scout leaders met at Camp Agawam, near Lake Orion, to go through a vigorous training session for the Fifth National Jamboree at Colorado Springs, Colo., July 18.

★ ★ ★

The 94 boys and eight men make up the 2½ troops which are going to represent the Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council.

Scoutmasters of these units are William Genette of Milford, Troop 61; Everett Sherrick of Orchard Lake, Troop 62; and Jack Frost of Clarkston, Troop 63.

Troop 63, a half troop, will meet with a half troop from Midland to form a full troop for participating in the Jamboree events.

★ ★ ★

In reality, the training course is a shakedown to familiarize the boys with their Jamboree equipment, and to enable them to work as an efficient team while at the Jamboree.

Foresees Christians Back in Catacombs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says he believes the time may come when Christians will have to go underground again, into catacombs as in the days of Rome.

Christians will suffer persecution at the hands of those who are filled with "the spirit of the anti-Christ," he said.

Where Did They Go?

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Connecticut is wondering whether 812 of its school rooms "graduated." A poll of school superintendents showed there are 15,456 classrooms, as compared with 16,268 the year before.

U.S. Overseas Sales of Meat Well Above '59

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Overseas sales of most U.S. livestock and meat products during the January-April period were well above those of a year ago, according to a survey by the Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS).

Red meat exports were up substantially during the period. Major exceptions to the uptrend were miscellaneous natural sausage casings (mainly beef) and canned meat. Exports of casings were down 10 per cent from the same period last year, while canned meat shipments were off 45 per cent.

Williams 'Fires' at Sen. Johnson

But Threat to Withhold Support on Aged Bill Called Nonsense

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP)—The Democratic political firing began almost as soon as the nation's governor's arrived for their annual conference at this sparkling resort.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan started it off by raising the issue of whether Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson had threatened to block a bill to give medical aid to the aged if Williams came out publicly for Sen. Kennedy.

Williams is sponsoring a resolution he hopes to have the governors' conference pass urging Congress to act on a medical bill.

Williams said Mildred Jeffrey, an alternate national committeewoman and AFL-CIO official, told him June 2 that Johnson had told the UAW's Walter Reuther he couldn't support the medical aid bill if Williams openly backed Kennedy for the nomination.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, supporting Johnson, promptly denounced the whole thing as "a pure political fabrication."

★ ★ ★

"Lyndon Johnson made no such threat," Daniel declared. "I am surprised that Gov. Williams would give credence to any such report."

In Washington Johnson said, "It seems hardly necessary to point out that this is totally untrue. It ought to be evidence to anybody that this is pure political convention nonsense."

Kennedy supporters among the governors appeared supremely confident their favorite all but has the nomination in the bag.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, said he now counts 727 first-ballot votes for Kennedy toward the 761 needed for nomination.

Send MacArthur Back

Flood Waters Ravage Coastline of Texas

The floods, caused by steady and heavy rains since Thursday, were called the worst disaster to hit some towns since a 1945 hurricane.

Eight persons drowned since Thursday. Two are missing and presumed dead.

Flood waters began to recede Sunday night but more thundershowers were forecast for today.

Up to 30 inches of rain fell in some areas since Thursday, forcing the Brazos River at West Columbia 10 feet above flood stage. Port Lavaca requested aid from the Navy and the 4th Army. Cots and blankets were sent to the city by helicopter and trucks.

While the floods caused widespread hardship many youngsters considered it an occasion for joy. They paddled down flooded streets in washtubs and floated in inner tubes.

Assistant civil defense director Floyd Miller of Houston said, "a woman called me and said a water skier was running up and down the street in front of her house."

Snakes from flooded bayou and creek banks searched for dry ground. They crawled on sidewalks in Houston, giving some persons more trouble than the floods.

Loves Monkeys, Trains Them and Sells 'Em

NAPLES, Fla. (AP)—Monkey business is good for the Snowballs — Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Snowball, that is.

Snowball gets delinquent monkeys from the Miami Humane Society, tames them, trains them as pets and sells them.

"I sell them as fast as I can train them," says Snowball, a former circus animal trainer.

Under Snowball's tutelage, the monkeys become affectionate and learn tricks. He says his secret is treating them with care and kindness.

Lay Cornerstone for Courthouse

GEORGE A. DONDERO

DELOS HAMLIN

New Building Heralded Under Sunny Skies

Two at Today's Fete Saw Same Ceremony in 1904

With this afternoon's sealing of a memento-filled copper box in the cornerstone by four top county officials, the long-awaited courthouse moved closer to realization.

Master of ceremonies at the 2 p.m. program was Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors. He had three special guests with him on the bunting draped platform.

They were Joe Haas, the county's official historian and editorial staff member of The Pontiac Press, Mrs. Marion Blakeslee of Waterford Township and Mrs. Miriam C. McWilliams.

Haas and Mrs. McWilliams were among the crowd of thousands that gathered Aug. 30, 1904, at Saginaw and Huron streets to watch the cornerstone laid for the present downtown courthouse.

Mrs. Blakeslee, 79, contributed to the 16-by-12-by-12-inch copper box placed in the new building's cornerstone a program from the 1905 dedication of the present courthouse.

★ ★ ★

DETHMERS CAN'T ATTEND

A fourth scheduled speaker, Chief Justice John R. Dethmers of the State Supreme Court, was unable to attend the historical county event because of an accident to his mother.

Given the honor of sealing the box in with specially donated trowels were Supervisors John B. Osgood of Royal Oak, David Levinson of Birmingham, Luther Heacock of Birmingham and Robert Y. Moore, veteran chairman of the Board of Auditors.

Osgood is chairman of the special County Building Committee, Levinson chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and Heacock chairman of the Buildings and Grounds Committee.

★ ★ ★

All three committees worked hand-in-hand in laying plans for the three-million-dollar building.

There was a touch of the "good old days" when spectators drove up to the rapidly-forming County Service Center off Telegraph road. Traffic direction was handled by the mounted posse of the Sheriff's Dept.

Music was provided by the bands from Royal Oak and West Bloomfield high schools.

Arms Blasts Rain Panic on Havana

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban army officials today said it was premature to say anything about the origin of a munitions dump explosion that rocked Havana with the force of an earthquake, killing one person and injuring more than 50.

Fidel Castro ordered the bomb site sealed off immediately after the blasts Sunday night stunned Cubans in the capital just before 7 p.m. and shattered windows over a four-mile area.

The explosions — two small blasts and one terrific outburst — created a frenzy in the capital.

One young militiaman poking angrily about the shattered glass fronts muttered: "Los Americanos, Los Americanos."

A traffic jam developed as streams of autos and crowds milled about. Many persons appeared dazed and in a state of shock.

Castro himself had a narrow escape when his car crashed into another car racing to the scene. He jumped into another car and kept going.

The prime minister and President Osvaldo Dorticos, who inspected the area with him, had no immediate statements.

Typhoon Rakes Luzon; 100 Die

Winds and Rain Sweep Manila With Hundreds Reported Missing

MANILA (AP)—Nearly 100 persons were reported dead and several hundred missing tonight after Typhoon Olive raked the main Philippine island of Luzon.

Manila, a city of two million, was partly paralyzed by the 80-mile winds and driving rain of the storm, which hacked a northwest path across Luzon late Sunday and early Monday and then churned out into the China Sea.

Reports reaching Manila from southeastern Luzon, which bore the brunt of the storm, told of possibly 60 dead in Albany province, another 21 in the provinces of Camarines Sur and Carmines Norte, and more than 500 fishermen missing in this area.

Seven deaths were reported in the Manila area, from drowning and electrocution. There were reports of six deaths, possibly more, other southeast Luzon areas.

Eisenhower Back; Will Speak Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, back from a 23,000-mile good-will tour of the Far East, tells the nation tonight why he reportedly considers it a big success despite cancellation of his Tokyo visit.

His speech from the White House at 6:30 p.m. EST will be carried nationwide by television and radio. Advance reports are that he will stress a belief the trip was valuable in strengthening U.S. ties with the countries he visited.

★ ★ ★

The chief executive returned to the capital Sunday exactly two weeks after setting out on the trip which took him to Alaska, the Philippines, Formosa, Korea and Hawaii.

The President's half - hour speech will be broadcast over radio stations WWJ and WXYZ at 6:30 p.m., WKMH at 7:30 p.m., WJBK at 8:30 p.m. and, WJR at 10:30 p.m. On television, the hours will be 7:30 p.m., on channels 2 and 4, and 11:15 p.m. on channel 7.

★ ★ ★

He was to have visited Japan as the climax of his tour beginning June 19 but Premier Nobusuke Kishi withdrew the invitation when left-wing and Communist-led riots against a new U. S.-Japanese security pact caused him to decide he could not guarantee the President's safety.

★ ★ ★

Stepping jauntily down the ramp from his jet airliner at Andrews Air Force Base, Eisenhower appeared tanned and rested after six days of golfing in Hawaii.

"How was your trip, Mr. President," a reporter asked.

The President told Nixon and Herter he wanted to get the Cabinet together. They replied they would be ready to meet any time, but he said that first he must get some sleep. He had about 4½ hours of sleep during the 10-hour flight from Hawaii, broken by one refueling stop at Travis Air Base in California.

Warm Weather Will Continue— With Showers

The fair weather Pontiac and vicinity has been enjoying over the weekend is due to change.

The weatherman predicts that it will remain warm with a high tomorrow of 80 to 86, but scattered showers and thundershowers are on the way for tonight and tomorrow.

Tonight will be partly cloudy and cooler with temperatures ranging from 60 to 65. Light southeasterly winds will increase to 12 to 18 m.p.h. this evening.

★ ★ ★

Reds Break Up Geneva Meeting

Suddenly Say, 'We're Through'; Ignore New Allied Disarm Plan

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union and its satellites abruptly broke up the deadlocked 10-nation disarmament conference today and announced they would put the whole matter back before the United Nations.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin told the conference the Soviet Union could no longer participate in the talks because, he alleged, the West had refused to negotiate.

It had been anticipated that Russia would exit from the talks until after the American election.

Zorin said the Soviet Union would place its new plan for "general and complete disarmament" before the U.N. General Assembly.

Zorin's announcement brought an end to the 10-nation conference which first opened on March 16, and recessed for six weeks before and after the abortive summit meeting in Paris.

As Zorin stalked into the session to make his dramatic announcement, he met U.S. delegate Fredrick M. Eaton, who returned from Washington Saturday with a draft of the new Western proposals.

Eaton told him his trip had been "very useful." He said he was discussing the new proposals with his allies and might have something to put before the conference later this week.

Zorin replied merely that in his view the conference had not been very profitable thus far, but gave Eaton no hint that he was about to break up the talks.

Zorin's prepared speech ignored the new Western proposals but charged repeatedly that the five Western delegations — the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada — had refused to discuss any genuine disarmament measures.

WALTER K. WILLMAN

HERBERT W. STRALEY

Manager Acts With Authority of City Charter

Recent Amendments Are Basis for Action Taken This Morning

By MAX SIMON

He called the 55-year-old police official into his City Hall office shortly before 10 a.m. and handed him a one-page letter that concluded:

Willman said he was acting under the powers granted him in the charter amendments adopted by voters April 18.

He said he was firing Straley because of the situation in general that has existed within the police department for years.

Willman said he was taking into the account the charges marshaled against Straley during his first ouster 17 months ago.

He said he was disappointed also that Straley had not successfully worked with former Public Safety Director George D. Eastman to improve the department along the lines suggested by the controversial Public Administration Service report.

Willman noted that during Straley's ouster hearing a year ago he had recommended that the chief be dismissed.

"Nothing has occurred since then to make me change my mind," the manager said in today's memorandum.

"The city administration has endured confusion and dissention in the police department for the past several years," Willman noted in terminating the chief's employment.

"Groups in your interest opposed the charter amendments politically and legally. But approval of these amendments indicates the voters' desire for peace and harmony in the police department."

The amendments removed the position of Police Chief from the protection of the Police Trail Board and gave the manager discretion to fire him "whenever, in his opinion, it becomes necessary."

Although the manager, theoretically, does not need City Commission approval to fire any one, the manager himself could be fired by a 5-2 vote of the Commission.

Crash Ends Wild Chase in Royal Oak

A chase at speeds up to 90 m.p.h. on Woodward avenue through Royal Oak early Sunday ended in a fiery three-car smashup and the arrest of a Birmingham man.

In trying to avoid the blockade, Geggie's car truck a vehicle driven by Thomas S. Maxwell, 17, of 897 Mohegan Rd., Birmingham. Maxwell, alone in the car, escaped unhurt.

Geggie's car then ran into another car stopped at the blockade. It burst into flames. The driver, James A. Krause, 30, of 26641 Hill Rd., Warren, leaped clear in time. He was unhurt.

He received slight head injuries in the crash and was treated at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, and released.

★ ★ ★

Geggie was arraigned in Royal Oak Municipal Court today on charges of felonious driving, and driving without a license. He stood mute and was released on $100 bond until his trial scheduled for Aug. 3.

New York Dems Say: 'We Have to Pick a Winner'

By JOHN KRAFT
(Special to The Pontiac Press)

On July 11, the largest delegation at the Democratic convention will be the 114 votes from the "Empire State," New York. But the leadership of the delegation was confronted with this choice:

★ ★ ★

Should they support the man whom the Democrats in the state would like most to see head up the ticket, or should they support the man most likely to run the strongest race against the Republican candidate? The two are not one and the same.

★ ★ ★

The candidate for local office in one of New York's suburban counties summed up the problem in these words:

"I'm running for coroner here, and this is a town the Democrats haven't won since '48. Stevenson got swamped in the last election and hurt the whole ticket. Much as I'd rather see him as president, I don't think he can run as good a race as Sen. Kennedy will. We Democrats like Stevenson, but he doesn't get any of the independent vote—and that's what us local candidates need."

Confirming one part of his argument was the result of the question asked of Democrats throughout this largest state, now led by Republican Gov. Rockefeller and Republican Sens. Javits and Keating.

THE QUESTION: "Which of the leading Democratic candidates would you most like to see head up the ticket this fall?"

And the state's Democratic leadership must weigh this opinion in the context of the fact that enthusiasm for a candidate breeds hard work when the election campaign waxes hot and it is time to canvass, get voters registered and get out the vote.

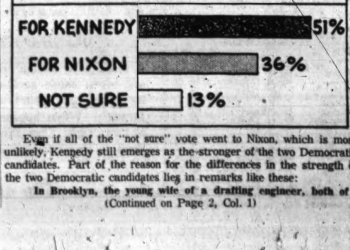
But quite apart from this evaluation is another question—can Stevenson win? Can he overcome the Eisenhower margin of victory if he runs against Nixon this fall? Almost, the survey indicates, but not quite:

Nixon	47%
Stevenson	45%
Not sure	8%

And, if the group which is still not sure made up its mind to vote as it had in the past, the result would look like this:

Nixon	51%
Stevenson	49%

By short contrast, if Sen. Kennedy were the Democratic standard-bearer, the election results would be quite different:



Even if all of the "not sure" vote went to Nixon, which is most unlikely, Kennedy still emerges as the stronger of the two Democratic candidates. Part of the reason for the differences in the strength of the two Democratic candidates lieg in remarks like these:

whom will be voting for the first time, said: "We've talked it over a lot, and it isn't because we're Catholic that we're for Kennedy. It's just that Stevenson has already proved he'll never make it—he's a two-time loser!"

A middle-aged cabinet maker in upstate Monroe County told us he had been an Ike man "but I think it's time for a change—I'd rather see a young man in there, a man with some new ideas, and frankly I'm a Catholic myself, and I think it's time we had a chance."

★ ★ ★

The proprietor of a small jewelry shop in suburban Westchester County, a Protestant, was explicit in his reason: "I like Stevenson. I voted for him once, but he is just not a practical man. He is a dreamer! In these tough times, we need a president who can get tough if he has to—and Kennedy is the man!"

★ ★ ★

Not all spoke this way.

A Jewish attorney in Manhattan wasn't sure how he'd vote in the fall if the Democrats nominated Kennedy. Said he: "Stevenson is the only man for the job. He has traveled all over the world, and he knows the problems. He's got savvy! If Kennedy gets nominated, I don't know whether I'd vote for him or Nixon—it's a toss-up—they're both political opportunists!"

"The rest of my family is Republican, but I'm a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat and always vote a straight ticket. But this time, I'm not so sure. I like Stevenson. Johnson and Symington are OK in my book, but I don't know about Kennedy—I just don't think he'd represent all of the people!"

Adding up these comments, then, here's how Kennedy and Stevenson would each stack up against Nixon among New York voters of the various religious faiths:

	CATHOLIC	PROTESTANT	JEWISH
WOULD VOTE FOR STEVENSON	43%	28%	91%
WOULD VOTE FOR KENNEDY	71%	29%	87%

Immediately, it can be seen that, while both Democrats run roughly equal races among Protestants and Jews, only Jack Kennedy appears able to bring Catholic citizens back to the traditional Democratic moorings; for these same Catholic voters in the state had voted for Eisenhower.

★ ★ ★

In sum, then, the New York state delegation is faced with this choice: To vote for Stevenson because he is the rank-and-file, party-worker favorite, or to vote for Kennedy because he stands the best chance of winning and, therefore, promises greatest support for local candidates.

At a meeting in Albany last Thursday, Kennedy received 87 votes of the 105½ recorded. Thus delegates showed they wanted a winner and not a party favorite. The Democratic electorate went for Stevenson in New York, the survey shows, but nearly all the vital 114 votes will go for Kennedy in Los Angeles.

BLAZE GUTS HOME — Three Pontiac firemen battle an estimated $6,000 blaze that gutted the home of Alvin Bulluck, 122 E. Fairmount St., early yesterday morning. Firemen said a short in an electric lamp started the fire which spread from the living room to the rest of the one-story frame house. No one was injured. Three fire trucks answered the call.

Willman Dismisses Police Chief Straley

Straley in their sentiments — were speaking of quitting the department because Straley, they said, had promised promotions and advancements to officers they described as "his favorites."

★ ★ ★

"All through this long controversy a majority of the city commissioners have supported the former director of public safety and the city manager in their efforts to improve the efficiency of the police department," Willman noted in the letter.

"I have no reason to believe the same support will be lacking in the decision I have now to make."

Willman was asked if he thought a new legal battle might develop.

"It's possible," he admitted.

It was on Feb. 9, 1959 that Willman first suspended Straley — that time on multiple charges drawn up by Eastman, former public safety director.

Eastman had come to Pontiac five months earlier to bring order out of the chaos that an independent study (the Public Administration Service report) asserted existed in the Police Department because of poor leadership by Straley.

Straley was charged then with insubordination, incompetency, inefficiency, failure to maintain good behavior and neglect of duty. He denied the charges.

Straley declared that Willman and the anti-Straley commsioners had brought in Eastman to act as a "hatchet man." He maintained that troubles in the Police Department were not traceable to him, but rather to a small group of "disgruntled" officers, associated with the Pontiac Police Officers Assn.

★ ★ ★

After a marathon hearing, the former three-member Police Civil Service Commission voted unanimously April 4 to fire Straley.

In December, Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis of Ionia County overruled the ouster on technical grounds and the city was ordered to take Straley back — with back pay.

Eastman's immediate impulse was to put Straley in a corner when he returned in January. But Willman and Mayor Philip E. Rowston ordered the chief restored "to full authority."

The meaning of "full authority" was questioned by Straley and his supporters, though, since Willman also told the chief there would be no policy changes without approval from City Hall.

Willman said he was trying to preserve "the good things" accomplished under Eastman.

Eastman, who had been planning to leave Pontiac in the fall of this year, quit earlier than expected. Saying "my hands are tied by politics," Eastman left at the end of March to take a teaching post at Michigan State University.

Three days later — on April 23 — City Commissioners Milton R. Henry and Robert A. Landry brought the suit that prevented the enforcement of the amendments — until today.

The suit — it charged mainly that the provision separating Straley from the Police Trial Board was coupled, unfairly, with the re-enactment of the Police Trial Board — was dismissed by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem but immediately appealed to the State Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

The high court has yet to consider the appeal. A series of stays granted by Judge Ziem prevented the city from taking any action until the middle of this month.

The Straley question preoccupied the 1958-1960 Commission and again became the subject of debate in recent weeks by the present Commission.

In April, Henry and Landry proposed a six-month "truce period," during which Straley would be given a free hand by the manager. Their proposal apparently fell on deaf ears.

The administration already had a report that Straley had been actively involved in the April 18 City Commission election, reportedly favoring candidates who lost to anti-Straley incumbents.

★ ★ ★

On June 8 the Straley question arose again as Police Captain Donny Ashley charged that police morale had plummeted since Straley's return. An avowed foe of Straley, Ashley charged that Straley's effect on morale was resulting, indirectly, in poor traffic enforcement.

★ ★ ★

Straley again denied the assertions.

At the next Commission meeting the subject of Straley came up again and Mayor Rowston said that he was "ready to act" on Straley if the legal blocks brought by Henry and Landry were removed.

Thirteen days later by a 4-3 vote, the Commision rejected a move by Landry and Henry "to restore full powers" to Straley.

The vote was the first taken on Straley by the 1960-1962 Commisson and it showed that anti-Straley sentiment was in the saddle.

Newly-elected Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. ided with Rowston and the two other anti-Straley commissioners from the 1958-1960 Commission—John A. Dugan and Wesley J. Wood. Winford E. Bottom, the other new commissioner, sided with Henry and Landry.

"I don't know why I did it."

He had just admitted that he shot and killed his 12 -year-oldstepso Mitchell (Mickey) Steele, as the boy walked up the driveway of their home Saturday, a bag of candy clutched in his hand.

Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said the killing apparently stemmed from a family quarrel over a nickel's worth of candy.

TWO ROOT BEER CANDIES

Mrs. Henley, in a statement to the prosecutor's office, said her husband became furious when she gave the candy to their 5-year-old son—two root beer candies besides a whistle and two balloons.

She quoted her husband as saying: "I told you not to give the boy so much candy. You're spoiling him. He didn't eat his supper last night."

The younger boy went to an upstairs room to watch television. Henley continued yelling at his wife, then flung a dollar bill at Mitchell and ordered: "Go to the store and stuff yourself."

Mrs. Henley said her husband struck her, and she hit him back.

When she went into the kitchen to call police, he took a loaded shogun from a downstairs bedroom and fired a blast into the kitchen, it was reported.

Mrs. Henley ran across her yard to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Mary Lowery, 2701 Dashwood St.

CALLED POLICE

Mrs. Lowery said she called police for the near-hysterical woman, who kept repeating:

As she drove up in front of the house, she saw Mitchell's body sprawled on the dirt driveway of the home.

The father was on the porch of the home.

She drove back to the Lowery home.

★ ★ ★

He said he hadn't been drinking.

Mrs. Lowery was taken to William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak where she was treated for shock.

She later said that Henley had always resented the boy during their seven years of marriage.

"Mitchell was aware of it," she said through tears. "He'd wash his father's feet and did what he could to make him love him."

She said that despite a better-than-average income, the family was deeply in debt. She said her husband frequented race tracks weekly."

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Henley is being held in the Oakland County Jail without bond on a charge of first-degree murder, pending arraignment in Circuit Court.

Why did he do it?

"I don't know," he said in the Troy police station.

Williams 'Fires' at Sen. Johnson

But Threat to Withhold Support on Aged Bill Called Nonsense

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP)—The Democratic political firing began almost as soon as the nation's governor's arrived for theirtheir annual conference at this sparkling resort.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan started it off by raising the issue of whether Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson had threatened to block a bill to give medical aid to the aged if Williams came out publicly for Sen. Kennedy.

Williams is sponsoring a resolution he hopes to have the governors' conference pass urging Congress to act on a medical bill.

Williams said Mildred Jeffrey, an alternate national committeewoman and AFL-CIO official, told him June 2 that Johnson had told the UAW's Walter Reuther he couldn't support the medical aid bill if Williams openly backed Kennedy for the nomination.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, supporting Johnson, promptly denounced the whole thing as "a pure political fabrication."

★ ★ ★

"Lyndon Johnson made no such threat," Daniel declared. "I am surprised that Gov. Williams would give credence to any such report."

In Washington Johnson said, "It seems hardly necessary to point out that this is totally untrue. It ought to be evidence to anybody that this is pure political convention nonsense."

Kennedy supporters among the governors appeared supremely confident their favorite all but has the nomination in the bag.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, said he now counts 727 first-ballot votes for Kennedy toward the 761 needed for nomination.

Senators Wary of U2 Handling

Group Issues Report After Probe; Says Bad Luck One Factor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee issued its report Saturday night on an intensive inquiry into the U2 spy plane case and the summit conference failure.

★ ★ ★

The report, signed by 14 of the 17 members of the panel, charged that the Eisenhower administration's handling of the ill-fated May 1 flight over Russia was "most lacking" in direction and that "at crucial points coordination broke down."

The report also said failure of the spy flight was "just plain bad luck" and that there was "no reason to believe" that captured pilot Francis G. Powers was "unreliable."

Administration officials were criticized for refusing to disclose why the flight was so important it was ordered in spite of the approach of the East-West meetings two weeks later.

★ ★ ★

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev used the flight as the reason for sabotaging the Paris meeting —and the report declared "in the absence of compelling reasons to the contrary, there is good reason to conclude that the flight should not have gone."

U.S. Overseas Sales of Meat Well Above '59

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Overseas sales of most U.S. livestock and meat products during the January-April period were well above those of a year ago, according to a survey by the Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS).

Red meat exports were up substantially during the period. Major exceptions to the uptrend were miscellaneous natural sausage casings (mainly beef) and canned meat. Exports of casings were down 10 per cent from the same period last year, while canned meat shipments were off 45 per cent.

Arizona Blaze at Standstill

But 1,000 Firefighters Worry About Kaibab Trees if Wind Shifts

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (AP)—Fire licked hungrily today at the Kaibab National Forest about six miles from the north rim of Grand Canyon National Park.

One of Arizona's worst fires, it burst out of a remote pocket in the forest Wednesday and by Sunday night had consumed 7,500 acres of timber, scrub pine and brush.

★ ★ ★

Most serious was the loss of 3,500 acres of prime yellow pine and Douglas fir trees amid the scenic splendor of a forest visited by tens of thousands each year.

★ ★ ★

Manning the rambling 15 miles of shallow trench encircling the flames were 1,000 firefighters equipped with bulldozers, hand tools, three small water pumpers and backed by a small aerial fleet.

"We fought it to a standstill yesterday," said Forest Ranger Merle C. Oleson, who put in 19 hours helping direct the fight.

★ ★ ★

"Barring too much wind, we should be able to control it within two or three days," he said.

Six hundred of the firefighters are Zuni, Santo Domingo and Jemez Indians from Arizona and New Mexico.

International Police Promoted by Truman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Former President Harry Truman wants the United Nations to establish an international police force as the next step toward world peace.

Speaking in the city where the United Nations was born June 26, 1945, Truman told a 15th anniversary celebration Sunday night that such a police force would not impair the sovereignty of nations.

"In reality," he said, "the sovereignty of nations would be made more secure."

Truman's 20-minute talk was interrupted many times by applause.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

★ ★ ★

Excuse me," he says, "are you German?"

You shake your head.

"English?"

"You say you are American. The shyness vanishes. He breaks into a broad happy smile and showers you with questions.

That is a factor behind the Kremlin's strenuous campaign to blacken the name of President Eisenhower and vilify American leadership. But my experiences, coupled with samplings by competent Western observers in the capital and countryside, indicate majority of Russians do not want to believe all that Khrushchev is telling them today.

RUSSIANS FRIENDLY

Torrents of abuse have been poured on the United States by Moscow's propaganda machine since the U2 spy plane incident and the collapsed summit conference. But ordinary Russians remain cordial and friendly — perhaps more than ever — to visiting Americans.

★ ★ ★

Russian popular opinion did react to the American confession of spy flights over Russia. The reaction amounted to a feeling of hurt and disappointment rather than one of anger. The attitude seems to reflect genuine fear that Soviet-American relations will bring back the ickiest days of the cold war, in contrast to the warmth generated by Khrushchev's United States visit.

★ ★ ★

There can be little question about this: Russians hope for a higher standard of living. They relate this hope to better relations with the United States. They relate their fears of dashed dreams to the specter of renewed cold war.

When Khrushchev called Eisenhower a man of peace, Russians were eager to believe it.

But in the Communist party, the Soviet army and among Communist allies — particularly the Red Chinese—certain elements viewed the Khrushchev peace campaign as dangerous to the Communist world movement.

In the U. S. S. R. Khrushchev's activities seemed to generate new pressures from the population. Khrushchev himself from time to time reacted with promises and often a show of performance.

Some among the eight million members of the ruling Communist party likely were worried. Were their privileges in danger? Just one straw in the wind: some new apartment housing projects were giving priority to those needing housing rather than offering first chance to privileged party members.

Some in the armed forces were annoyed. Officers, high as the rank of general and admiral, had been demobilized and sent to civilian tasks, often as administrators of enterprises in remote, primitive areas — hardly suitable places for officers' ladies accustomed to the amenities of a privileged caste.

And there were those Communists who saw the easing of international tensions as threatening to bring a weakened world movement.

Khrushchev evidently reacted to these pressures.

In Stalin's time, ordinary Russians concentrated their energies on the problems of day-to-day living. Under Georgi Malenkov, with his promises of abundant consumer goods, they keyed their hopes to being able to buy the things they long had yearned for.

Today, many a Russian has raised his sights. Hopeful of buying the things he wants, he even dreams of emulating the Americans and traveling on his own, unguarded and unshepherded, to foreign lands.

To such Russians elimination of dangerous tension means hope that a living standard approaching the West's is an attainable goal. That's why they want to believe in better relations with the United States.

ANOTHER FLYNN — Sean Flynn, son of the late Errol Flynn, is making his debut in a motion picture being filmed in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. He got a bit part through a friend. Sean, 19, is a student at Duke University and lives with his mother, Lili Damita, in nearby Palm Beach.

Ex-Senator Dies; Played Lone Hand

During his four terms in Washington, the Minnesota senator stood in the forefront of the fight against foreign involvements, a theme he hit on the Senate floor, in public forums and in speeches to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

A practicing dentist before he entered politics, Shipstead was a political lone wolf, but he built up a tremendous personal following. He was the first Farmer-Laborite elected to the Senate.

Starting in 1922 he was sent to the Senate three times on the Farmer-Labor ticket, now the Democratic Farmer-Labor ticket, and was elected on the Republican ticket in 1940. He was defeated in 1946.

Jose M. Velasco Ibarra is thrice president of Ecuador. "Give me a balcony (from which to make speeches) in every town and I will win," he once said.

His Quips Keep Britain Mirthful

Philip Is a Prince of Laughs

LONDON (UPI) — "I have just thought of a new science — dontopaedics," Prince Philip remarked once to a meeting of the British Dental Assn. "It means putting your foot in your mouth."

★ ★ ★

The Queen's husband just a few moments earlier had informed the gathering of some of Britain's most distinguished dentists that "I very seldom go to the dentist and then it very nearly takes a general anaesthetic to get me in."

PRINCE PHILIP

Philip has been having a good go lately at "dontopaedics," taking perhaps his best dip into that science when he twice rolled off a "hell" in chitchat with a group of Scottish teen-age girls last week.

If the attention that incident got bothered the debonair duke, he showed no signs of it when he returned to England the next day to make additional school awards. He quipped and jollied his way through the day, although this time no one heard him say anything stronger than "jolly good!"

The prince appears to enjoy his role of pin-pricker of royal stuffiness, and all reports are that Queen Elizabeth enjoys it with him. She is said by intimates to delight in her husband's ability to take some of the stuffiness out of the royal round — something she herself cannot do under any circumstances.

The post mortem published memoirs of British kings and queens are filled with passages in which the monarchs privately protest the stiff upper lipped conduct always expected of them. No member of the royal family ever dared break the grin-and-bear-it tradition in modern times.

Until along came Philip.

There was the time Philip was introduced to the husband of a prominent woman scientist. "My wife is the more important member of the family," said the husband.

"I know," replied Philip. "We have the same trouble in our family."

NOT SCANDALIZED

Britons have come to expect Philip to say the thing that simply isn't said, to do the thing that simply isn't done.

"Duke Puts Teen-agers at Ease," headlined the Glasgow Bulletin. In its article on the royal visit, the newspaper said, "His easy manner, knowledge of the many subjects and his humor put the young people immediately at ease." And the newspaper went on to detail just how Philip said "hell" twice.

Philip is an avid sportsman — as long as he takes part. Polo is his favorite. He enjoys shooting game birds. But when duty calls him to watch a cricket or soccer match or even horse races (which the Queen dearly loves), Philip yawns openly.

★ ★ ★

There was the time Sir Tom O'Brien, a Labor Party bigwig, met Philip who noticed Sir Tom's ruddy red nose. "Been in the sunshine?" asked Philip.

"I'm afraid it must be bottled sunshine that does it," Sir Tom replied.

Automobile Accident as Easy as Sneezing

Leonard R. Romans, 42, told police that while driving, he sneezed, causing his glasses to slip off his nose. In pushing them back into place, he said, he turned the steering wheel of his car and the vehicle struck a utility pole.

'Eat Your Spinach' Differs With Age

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) — Do you "taste" as well when you're young as you do when you're old?

Researchers at Rutgers University are experimenting with over 200 persons to find out why youngsters refuse to eat some things that they may find delicious when older.

So far they report "there's a tremendous difference in taste" as any child with a plateful of spinach could tell them.

Business and Finance

Narrow Range Marks Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — A few selected issues made good gains in an otherwise narrowly mixed stock market early today. Trading was fairly active.

The general run of key stocks showed narrow changes, most of them well within a point.

A familiar segment of more volatile issues produced some gainers such as Zenith, up 3, NAFI up about 2 and Universal Match, ahead more than 2.

Ampex advanced more than a point. There was a published report that it is considering a merger.

Steels were mixed as industry sources expected another drop in the operating rate. Motors also produced small gains and losses.

General Motors was fractionally lower while DuPont rose more than a point. A Senate committee approved a measure which would give DuPont shareholders substantial tax relief on any GM stock they might receive if a court order requires DuPont to get rid of its GM shares.

Utilities continued their recent good performance, many making fractional gains. Western Union, an exception, dropped about 2.

Aircrafts shaded lower, as did oils and mail order-retail stocks. Chemicals were generally higher. Coppers tended to ease.

Was Team's Iron Man

Weather Is Good, Grain Prices Off

Setbacks running to major fractions were posted in nearly all pits within the first half hour. Broadest losses were in the July contracts.

Trade reports over the weekend said the expanding wheat harvest was showing better average yields than expected and that as operations spread into Kansas the quality of the grain was showing marked improvement also.

Hospital Do-It-Yourself Cuts Costs by One Half

Such self-help makes it possible to reduce to two — from five — the number of nurses on duty. The patients' daily room rates are reduced by 50 per cent.

Lots of Luck Crashes Into His Windshield

KEENE, N.H. (UPI) — Horseshoes may be a lucky omen for some people — but not Norman G. Gauvin of Marlboro, N.H.

He was driving in South Keene when suddenly a horse shoe crashed through his windshield and landed in the front seat next to him. He said a horse was going in the opposite direction and somehow tossed the shoe.

Why Taxes Are High!

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—Deputy State Treasurer William Shepard ordered 1,500 social security forms from the federal government and received 15,000. He returned them postage collect noting it would take at least 35 years for them to be used up in Vermont.

Mystery Show Proves Dull for One Long Hour

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — In television, even in the Westerns, the villain is increasingly being depicted as a pathetic, pitiable fellow in need of competent psychiatric assistance.

That's all right for serious drama, but it isn't fair to use him in a mystery, to most of us an entertaining puzzle. In this form you got to have a villain who is a bad guy.

NBC's hour-long Mystery Show Sunday night was no mystery at all. It was, instead, a story about a fear-ridden husband and wife—he afraid that something in his past would be found out and she afraid of her husband.

What suspense there was involved whether Simon would toss his wife down a 100-foot cliff and what was causing her migraine headaches. That may be an adequate plot of a month or so of soap opera episodes, but it's not the stuff for a 60-minute evening mystery show while Alfred Hitchcock and his bright suspense tales are opposite on another network.

This one called "Fear Is the Parent" was pretty dull. It featured Mona Freeman, Arthur Franz and the interior of a perfectly delightful country house.

CBS radio will repeat its 55-minute recapitulation of events leading to the fall of France Thursday night (9:05-10) after receiving requests from listeners who missed it when it was originally broadcast on June 13, the 20th anniversary of that sad day.

Doug McClure who this season plays Flip Flippen in this season's NBC period "Overland Trail" will turn up next season playing a modern private eye in CBS's "Checkmate" series. The series promises well, incidentally. It was dreamed up by Eric Ambler; one of the best in the mystery-and suspense writing business.

ABC says its broadcast of the Johanssen-Patterson fight last week had the biggest radio audience in history for an entertainment or sports events. It was estimated by a ratings service at more than 50 million listeners and the network claims this total has been exceeded only by the numbers who listened to FDR's wartime speeches. And on a night when TV was competing with its Emmy awards show, too.

Awaits Action on Five Murders

Prisoner in Memphis Also Suspected of 4 Other Killings

BALTIMORE (AP) — Federal attorneys confer today about their next move against a man charged in the slaying of five persons and wanted for questioning in the murder of four others.

★ ★ ★

Melvin D. Rees Jr., 31, a dance band musician and piano salesman, is in jail at Memphis, Tenn., awaiting a July 6 hearing on the charges.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Atty. Leon H. Pierson of Baltimore said he would meet with Asst. Atty. Gen. Malcolm R. Wilkey, head of the Justice Department's criminal division.

WOULD OK TRANSFER

Pierson said if Wilkey concurs, the case will be taken before the federal grand jury in Baltimore Tuesday.

The FBI explained that a federal grand jury indictment would permit Rees' transfer to Maryland merely by proving to the U.S. commissioner in Memphis that Rees is the man named in the indictment.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Commissioner H. Allen Mezger said Sunday night that a hand-written account, describing the last journey of Mrs. Carroll Jackson and her daughter, Susan Ann, was found in Rees' Hyattsville, Md., home.

Heed Rules in Hunting for House

NEW YORK (UPI) — What is the first rule of house-hunting?

"Don't go in over your income," says Herbert Sadkin, president of a company (All-State Properties) all over the United States.

"Set a limit on the purchase price at twice your annual earnings," Sadkin said. "For example, if you make $9,500 a year, you will do well to limit yourself to a $17,000 house."

These include closing costs, running from 2 to 4 per cent of the total purchase price: insurance costs, and the charges for moving your family and furniture into the new home.

The builder, whose company erected the typical American home for the Moscow exhibition, suggested that once an area for the "dream house" is selected, the purchaser take into consideration transportation costs and the proximity of schools, shopping and churches.

On the matter of design, Sadkin warned that sometimes getting the "most house for the money" could become a financial trap. In some big houses, he said, there is a lot of wasted and inefficient space.

"Rooms of an odd shape, for instance, might be cute," he said, "but just try fitting a 9 by 12 rug into them."

Where Did They Go?

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Connecticut is wondering whether 812 of its school rooms "graduated." A poll of school superintendents showed there are 15,456 classrooms, as compared with 16,268 the year before.

Italy Going to Build Largest Telescope

ROME (UPI) — Italy has announced plans to build the largest telescope in Europe at a cost of $3,200,000.

The telescope, which will take three years to build, will measure about 120 inches in diameter.

★ ★ ★

Italian Education Minister Giuseppe Medici, who approved the plans, said the telescope will be available for use by both Italian and foreign scientists. Medici has named a committee to select a site for an observatory to house the new telescope.

★ ★ ★

At present, the largest telescope in Europe is 80 inches in diameter. While the new one will dwarf this one, it still will be smaller than the largest telescopes now in use in Great Britain and the United States.

Do They Strike Home?

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—State Rep. George Brush told the House "bills should be written so that even if you're dumb you can understand them."

Light Bulbs Packaged at 32-Million-Year Rate

BLOOMFIELD, N. J. (UPI) — that builds single-family homes The Westinghouse Corp. is producing 32,000,000 light bulbs a year with what it claims to be the largest and fastest lampmaking machine in the world.

Where Is Mustard?

Cause Death, Flight

Flood Waters Ravage Coastline of Texas

The floods, caused by steady and heavy rains since Thursday, were called the worst disaster to hit some towns since a 1945 hurricane.

Eight persons drowned since Thursday. Two are missing and presumed dead.

Flood waters began to recede Sunday night but more thundershowers were forecast for today. Up to 30 inches of rain fell in some areas since Thursday, forcing the Brazos River at West Columbia 10 feet above flood stage. Port Lavaca requested aid from the Navy and the 4th Army. Cots and blankets were sent to the city by helicopter and trucks.

While the floods caused widespread hardship many youngsters considered it an occasion for joy. They paddled down flooded streets in washtubs and floated in inner tubes.

Assistant civil defense director Floyd Miller of Houston said, "a woman called me and said a water skier was running up and down the street in front of her house."

Snakes from flooded bayou and creek banks searched for dry ground. They crawled on sidewalks in Houston, giving some persons more trouble than the floods.

Loves Monkeys, Trains Them and Sells 'Em

NAPLES, Fla. (AP)—Monkey business is good for the snowballs — Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Snowball, that is.

Snowball gets delinquent monkeys from the Miami Humane Society, tames them, trains them as pets and sells them
