Pilot Says X15 Flies Pretty

From Our News Wires

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. — "We're in business now. We know we can take 'em up and bring 'em back in one piece."

Scott Crossfield speaking — the quiet-spoken test pilot who piloted the X15 rocket plane on its first solo flight Monday.

The X15 dropped free from the bomber at 517 m.p.h. Crossfield held the ship level and cut air speed. Then he dove from 38,000 feet to 31,000 where he put the swept-wing plane into a series of pitch and yaw tests.

★ ★ ★

"It's a pretty airplane," he said later. "A pretty airplane always flies pretty."

Crossfield made a series of "lazy S" turns between 20,000 and 15,000 feet before settling down at nearly 200 m.p.h. on the dry lake with the plane's skids kicking up a huge spray of dust. The flight took 5 minutes and 10 seconds.

The X15 is designed to rocket to the edge of space — 100 miles

Keen competition of nine Waterford Township candidates for two positions on the Board of Education drew only 1,778 out of a possible 20,000 registered voters in yesterday's annual school election.

★ ★ ★

Only 349 votes were needed to re-elect Edmund L. Windeler, an experimental engineer with Pontiac Motor Division, to his fourth term.

A past treasurer, secretary and president of the Waterford Board, Windeler will resume his seat for the 10th consecutive year.

Eldon C. Rosegart, a music instructor at Pontiac Northern High School, won the second seat with 259 votes.

Both winners will serve three-year terms.

Defeated candidates were M. Virginia Ross, Norman L. Cheal, Dr. John F. Naz, Jerome E. Mulligan, Donald R. Murphy, Dean A. Salley and Kurt H. Kuhne.

Monroe M. Osmun and the Rev. J. Allen Parker yesterday were re-elected to 4-year terms on the Pontiac Board of Education.

Only one of the other four challengers in the race threatened to unseat the incumbents. He was Dr. Leonard F. Klausmeyer.

Sparse by last year's turnout, a meager eight per cent of the 40,753 registered voters in the Pontiac School District showed up at the polls this year.

A total of 6,550 ballots were cast in 1958 as compared to 3,349 this election.

While many school officials termed the response "deplorable," the participation was rated as "average" overall among other elections by Vernon L. Schiller, treasurer of the Board.

Dr. Parker, minister of the Newman A.M.E. Church on Auburn Avenue, will begin his second term on the Board. He led the field with 1,588 votes, a little less than half of the total ballots cast.

Osmun, a downtown merchant, will begin his fifth term on the Board. He received 1,376 votes. Dr. Klausmeyer, who has practiced dentistry in Pontiac since 1940, followed with 1,250 ballots in his favor.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Klausmeyer loomed a threat to each of the victors late in the race, with tallies in from 15 of the 19 precincts.

Pontiac area residents will swelter for another day or so with temperatures soaring in the near 90's.

The weatherman says the low tonight will be a warm 70 degrees with tomorrow's high 88-90.

Tonight and tomorrow will be partly cloudy and there is a chance of a few showers by tomorrow evening, the Weather Bureau predicted.

Today's southwesterly winds at 10-20 miles an hour will become southeasterly by tomorrow.

Scattered showers and thundershowers throughout most of the state are forecast for Thursday with temperatures cooling off a little.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 70 degrees.

Will Propose City Keep '59 Tax Rate

A city tax rate of $13.27 will be recommended to the City Commission tonight for the second straight year.

If adopted, it will keep Pontiac's rate down at the lowest point since 1949, when it was $13.10.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the tax rate could be maintained at the 10-year low point without any cutbacks in services.

A rise of $6,269,800 in assessed valuations will offset increased operating costs, he said, including 1½ per cent cost-of-living raises granted city employes in December.

By adopting the rate, Pontiac would become one of the few Michigan cities to hold taxes steady this year without cutting services or switching to the higher, state equalized valuations.

At a tax rate of $13.27 for each $1,000 in assessed valuation, the average homeowner in Pontiac would pay $46.44 on a home assessed at $3,500.

Last year, assessed valuations went up $16,824,759 and commissioners as a result trimmed 43 cents off the $13.70 tax rate in effect in 1957.

The city's 1959 budget is $5,919,250, about $235,000 higher than last year's.

In offering the budget for adoption in January, Willman predicted it could be supported by a tax rate of $13.27 if the city's assessed valuation rose $5 million.

It is expected that $3,649,250 of the budget will be raised by taxes, with another $1,870,000 coming from such sources as fees and highway funds and the balance made up through $400,000 in unappropriated surpluses.

Included in the $13.27 rate, Willman said, is the voted millage of $3.50 for capital improvements and debt service on Pontiac General Hospital construction bonds.

Solves Traffic Problem

CHICAGO (UPI) — City Architect Paul Gerhardt, who also is chief of maintenance for the Municipal Central Office Building, solved one of Chicago's traffic problems yesterday. He eased the congestion in the fifth floor men's lounge by suspending 10 city janitors he found lounging overtime.

Berkley Child Dies of Burns

Year-Old Girl Victim of Royal Oak Blaze at Grandparents' Home

A 14-month-old Berkley girl died early this morning from burns received yesterday in a flash fire in the garage of her grandparents' home at 2607 Carman St., Royal Oak.

Royal Oak firemen said Terri Lynn Smith of 4013 Gardner St. was burned when a water heater pilot light apparently ignited gasoline she had spilled from a one-gallon can onto the garage floor.

Terri, who suffered third-degree burns over her entire body, was rescued by her grandmother, Mrs. Annie Tabor, from the $2,500 fire which followed the blast. She wrapped the child in her coat.

Mrs. Tabor was burned slightly, firemen said.

Mrs. Tabor said she was babysitting with Terri Lynn and her two-year-old sister, Stephanie Anne while their parents were on their way to work in Detroit.

The grandmother said the girls had been playing in the back yard when Terri Lynn went into the attached garage.

Police Search for Missing Detroit Girl

DETROIT (UPI)—Police searched Detroit's northwest side today for a tiny, 14-year-old schoolgirl who has been missing since yesterday morning.

The girl, Susan Lawrence, is 4 feet 11 and weighs 70 pounds. She was last seen at 9 a.m. when she left home to go to the library to study for final examinations. She failed to arrive at Mumford High School for noon classes.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lawrence, reported her missing at 8 p.m. A team of 23 policemen searched the neighborhood during the night and questioned the girl's schoolmates today without result.

Susan has brown hair and blue eyes and was wearing a red and white checked dress.

The parents said that in recent weeks Susan had received one threatening telephone call and a number of nuisance calls.

Police said that recently some money was stolen from Susan's purse at school and as a result another girl was expelled. Officers were investigating to determine whether the incident was linked with Susan's disappearance.

Ford-Canton Jobless Pay Upheld by Supreme Court

LANSING (UPI)—The way apparently was clear today to pay jobless benefits to 11,500 Detroit Ford workers idled by a strike at a Canton, Ohio, Ford plant.

The U.S. Supreme Court set the stage yesterday when it dismissed the Ford appeal from a Michigan decision allowing state jobless benefits to the Detroit workers.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission said it would announce today plans for paying the money.

There was no immediate comment from Ford or the United Auto Workers union.

Three plants in the Detroit area —Mound Road, Highland Park and Rouge — had to lay off workers for lack of parts from the Canton plant. At the UAW's suggestion, more than 11,000 Detroit employes filed for unemployment compensation.

★ ★ ★

Michigan's Employment Security Act denies a worker benefits if he is directly involved in a labor dispute at the time.

The MESC denied the claims of the Ford workers on this ground.

The commission's appeal board and the Wayne County Circuit Court agreed.

The board held that the Ford plants in Ohio and Michigan were "integrated" — that is, they were functioning as a single unit. Therefore the Michigan workers were "involved" in the Canton strike and barred from receiving benefits.

This followed the reasoning of the Michigan Supreme Court in a 1941 case involved the Chrysler Corp. The Chrysler case concerned only plants within Michigan. But the Ford case carried the principle across state lines.

Because of this, the Michigan Supreme Court reversed itself last January and allowed the Ford workers benefits.

Gunman Sought on Bob-Lo Isle

Hostage Freed, Suspect Held as Police Foil Amusement Park Theft

The gunman was one of two masked men who let loose a spray of bullets when they walked with a hostage into a police trap on the island early this morning.

The hostage, Norman Paisley, superintendent of the park, fell to the floor when the shooting started.

Less than an hour later, a man was arrested for investigation in the case by Amherstburg Police as he was opening the door of his car on the main street of the town.

The gunmen's bullets passed between and over the heads of the five officers who were waiting inside the washroom of the island manager's home.

The firing started when a flash light was shone in the faces of the gunmen as they opened the washroom door.

Police had been waiting in the washroom for three hours before the gunmen appeared. They were tipped off by a phone call.

Police said the two men intended to force the manager of the island, Harold Gorry, to take them to his office and open the safe.

In a cafeteria next to the office, five more policemen were waiting.

Labels Lodge Proposal 'Poll Tax'

Voter Fee Bill Fails

Hoping to "stir in people an idea of what the right to vote means," Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County) was defeated in a move which would have canceled registration of a voter who skipped a primary or general election.

Shouts of "poll tax" bounced around the Senate chambers last night as some senators questioned whether citizens didn't have just as much right not to vote as to vote.

"A poll tax bill, that's all this is," shouted Sen. Charles S. Blondy (D-Detroit). "Charge $2 to register. Next time it'll be $2 to vote. This is what they have in the South. It's disgraceful."

Under Lodge's bill, later killed by a voice vote, registration would be canceled automatically if no vote was cast at a primary or general election. A $2 fee would have been charged for reinstatement.

However, under the measure, registration wouldn't be canceled if a voter showed that his failure to go to the polls was for circumstances beyond his control.

FOREIGNERS KNOW

"It takes a new citizen who comes from foreign shores to understand, sometimes it seems: Ninety to 95 per cent of them vote because they realize what the right to vote means."

Lodge said he questioned the good citizenship of those who turned out at presidential elections every four years, and stayed home between times.

"If nothing else, this will demonstrate to those who aren't good citizens that some thought is being given to the voting privilege," Lodge said in fighting for his bill.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) defended the right of persons to "consciously refrain" from voting, and said that in some circumstances such conduct was an office of good citizenship.

Ike Calls Confab on Missile Row

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower summoned the top men in the Pentagon to a meeting today in an effort to iron out interservice disputes over missiles.

The White House said that other than the bare announcement of the meeting, it would have nothing to say before or after the session on the nature of the discussions.

All presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty would offer in explanation was that the conference "will deal with the air defense question of the United States."

In reply to a question, Hagerty said he couldn't say for sure whether Eisenhower would be receiving a report on the missile problem which Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy has been preparing.

★ ★ ★

McElroy and Acting Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon topped the list of men called to the meeting.

In addition, all the chiefs of the armed services were summoned, as well as presidential advisers on science and defense.

Asked whether there was any world emergency or crisis which required the meeting, Hagerty replied emphatically: "No sir, there is not."

Eisenhower was questioned at a news conference last week about an interservice dispute over the Army's Nike-Hercules missile and the Air Force Bomarc. He was asked whether the point had been reached where he had to step in and make a decision.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower replied that he didn't think the matter had reached him for specific decision at that point. He went on to say that McElroy was making a complete, exhaustive study of the missile field, which should be completed in 10 days.

Jet Pilot Taken From Atlantic

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (UPI)—An Air Force fighter pilot was rescued from the Atlantic Ocean off the eastern tip of Long Island today eight hours and 40 minutes after he parachuted from his crippled jet.

Lt. Edward E. Parsons Jr., 25, of Payette, Idaho, was picked up off Montauk Point by a Coast Guard helicopter at 5:35 a.m. EDT.

Officials at Suffolk County Air Force Base said first reports indicated he was "all right" after a night in the water.

He was spotted shortly after dawn when he released a dye marker to guide searchers to his position.

Parsons was seen parachuting from his F102-A fighter about five miles off shore at 9:33 p.m. last night. His plane plunged into the sea in flames, another member of the flight training mission reported.

Suffolk County Air Force Base, to which the flight was returning, said the pilot reported a fire warning signal, indications of engine trouble and then a flameout, or loss of jet power.

Made 'Courtesy' Call!

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two thieves invaded the apartment of Miss Mary O'Connor, 20, an airline ticket agent, stole $70 in cash and $425 worth of jewelry, and then politely telephoned her boss that she'd be half an hour late for work.

Two Policemen Win Promotions

Gaines Made Sergeant, Skrobeck Is Raised to Detective's Rank

Promotions of two Pontiac police officers were announced today by Public Safety Director George D. Eastman.

Patrolman Robert C. Gaines, 28, has been raised to the rank of sergeant and Patrolman Earl W. Skrobeck, 28, to detective.

Both officers joined the local police department in 1952.

Gaines has served as a uniformed patrolman and is currently aide to Eastman.

SKROBECK

Skrobeck has also seen patrol duty and has been a member of the Special Investigations Unit (vice squad). He is currently in the Detective Bureau.

Eastman said both promotions are effective immediately.

Radio Ham Sets Up Overseas Phone Calls

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — W. L. Townsley, 59, an amateur radio operator here, set up more than 1,000 overseas telephone calls in 1958 for families with relatives abroad.

Townsley said he has relayed calls to persons in 43 states from relatives in Okinawa, Antarctica, South America, Mexico, Midway, Guam, Wake, Hawaii, Korea and Alaska.

More New Pens Stolen, but Still Cost Less

DENVER (UPI) — No one ever stole the scratchy old pens they used to have at the Denver post office, but Postmaster Ted Hefner still thinks he's saving money by using ballpoint pens, even though 42 of them disappear every month.

Hefner pointed out that servicing the old pens required 17 quarts of ink, 300 points and 1,000 hand blotters a month.

Mercury Stays Sizzlingly High in Most of U.S.

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather showed only minor changes today and temperatures again headed into the 80s and 90s in most areas. There were some wet spots this morning and the usual threat of afternoon and evening showers.

The main precipitation belt during the night was in the South, from the lower Mississippi Valley to Alabama. Another showery area was the upper Mississippi Valley, mostly in Minnesota.

Although it was fairly warm in the major part of the country, some cool Pacific air moved from northern California northward to Canada and eastward across the northern Plateaus and Rockies, with the leading edge reaching into extreme northwest Minnesota and Nebraska.

Temperatures in the cool air were mostly in the 50s and lower 60s.

Temperatures in the 90s extended northward into New York State, Michigan and Minnesota Monday. They again soared above 100 degrees in parts of the sunny Southwest. Top marks of 105 were reported at Presidio, Tex., and Gila Bend, Ariz. The cool spots were in northern New England and parts of the Pacific Northwest with temperatures in the 50s.

City Centennial Planners Urged to Hire Professional

Hire a professional planning service, Pontiac centennial planners were advised yesterday.

"The aid of pfofessional planners will save you money, time and headaches," the Pontiac Centennial Advisory Commission was told.

The recommendation came from H. Andrew Hays, vice president of the American Bank and Trust Co. in Lansing.

Hays is general chairman of the Lansing centennial observance, which has been under way since early this year and will reach a climax this month with the production of a giant outdoor show depicting the capital city's past and future.

Hays interrupted his busy schedule yesterday to talk to the 35-member citizens' committee, formed this spring by Mayor Philip E. Rowston, to begin plans for a celebration in Pontiac in 1961 of the city's 100th birthday.

The Pontiac group has been considering hiring the John B. Rogers Producing Co., a Fostoria, Ohio, firm that has been behind most of the giant spectaculars with which many United States cities have marked important dates in recent years.

Hays said the Lansing Centennial Corp. hired the Rogers firm after about half of its centennial plans were formed.

"I wouldn't have taken on the job of general chairman if we hadn't hired the Rogers company, and I think our planning would have gone smoother if we had hired them sooner," said Hayes.

It is the Rogers company that has recruited 1,500 Lansing residents to serve in the cast of a historical pageant called "Four to Go," which the company will produce in Lansing's Sexton High School stadium June 19-28.

"The pageant will bring our centennial to a climax. It will also be our chief source of revenue to offset expenses involved in other centennial activities."

Hayes said that Lansing probably will spend around $200,000 on its centennial. To get the centennial off the ground, the Lansing City Commission donated $10,000 and private subscription raised another $57,000 he said.

"We hope to pay all, or at least part, of this back," he said.

With the approval of the Pontiac centennial group, Rowston has already asked the Pontiac City Commission to consider appropriating $50,000 for the centennial in the 1961 city budget.

Hayes indicated that centennial planners may have a hard time filling a key position here—that of general chairman.

"Since January I've devoted all my spare time and virtually all of my working day to the centennial," Hayes said. "Whoever, your general chairman is, he must have an employer who has a generous attitude toward the centennial."

★ ★ ★

Besides looking for a general chairman, the Pontiac group is seeking officers for a centennial corporation, which is expected to be formed here soon.

FIRST IN THE NATION — Huge chunks of ripped-up pavement are piled high in what was Kalamazoo's busiest intersection until recently. Construction of the $65,000 shopper's mall is proceeding, and the area is scheduled for completion by mid-August. The auto-less mall is part of a project to revitalize the downtown area. In a one day test May 23, some 15,000 persons thronged through the two blocks closed to traffic.

Cities, Schools May Get Nothing

State $50 Million Short

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Michigan will have just five million dollars to pay 55 million dollars in bills the rest of the fiscal year, State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown said today.

It was only a bit of the bleak news Brown had for lawmakers who last night indicated they were as far apart as ever in their five-month impasse over fiscal matters.

Brown warned that state employes, universities and cities and villages face the prospect of getting "absolutely nothing" out of the state treasury if additional revenue is not provided soon.

Both Democrats and Republicans have been eyeing the veterans trust fund as the source for the additional revenue to ease the immediate cash crisis.

But Brown disclosed securities in the 50-million-dollar fund now have a market value of only about 41 million dollars.

Brown said the state would have about 15 million dollars in revenue for the next three weeks. But 10 million dollars will go for welfare payments that rank at the top of a priority rationing formula approved by the State Administrative Board.

The state has 55 million dollars in other obligations due by the June 30 closing of the fiscal year.

The treasurer said it was "anybody's guess" whether the state would meet its June 18 payroll of $5,100,000.

Williams, who has yet to work with a Legislature of his own political party, is seeing his legislative program chopped up this year as perhaps never before in his 11-year reign.

Last week Republican-controlled committees in the House and Senate tossed aside 50 of the 131 bills actively supported by the Democratic governor. Some, including the seal of quality agricultural program, he has cultivated and promoted for years.

Most of those that remain are due for almost certain death, many at the hands of GOP-controlled appropriating committees. Only one bill—guaranteeing school aid payments at $190 per pupil—has been enacted.

After meeting for 21 fruitless weeks, lawmakers are ready to go home and take up summertime pursuits. Few are eager for involvement in more weighty issues.

Liquor Sales Increase

LANSING (UP)—Case sales of liquor totaled 362,764 last month, about 13,000 more than in May a year ago, the State Liquor Commission reported today. Sale of whisky, aperitifs and vodka accounted for most of the gain. Wine sales were down from a year ago.

Youth Sentenced to Jackson Prison for Safe Robbery

One of a gang of six youths charged with robbing a safe from a Birmingham home of $8,000 in non-negotiable stocks and bonds was sentenced to Jackson Prison yesterday.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams imposed a term of 2½ to 15 years on Larry McFarland, 19, of 1220 E. Myers St., Hazel Park.

At the same time, another of the youths, Gregory Bosak, 17, of 796 Ruffner St., Birmingham, withdrew his guilty plea to safe robbery and pleaded guilty to a second count of breaking and entering during the nighttime. Sentencing was set for June 29.

On the same day, Carl and Clark Mays, 17-year-old twin brothers of 311 E. Muir St., Hazel Park, will be sentenced on the same charge. They pleaded guilty to breaking and entering during the nighttime June 5.

The gang, which also involved three juveniles, was caught last month after breaking into the home of Elmer Kapke, 1263 Brookwood Dr., three times before carting off the safe. The Kapkes were away at the time.

Pioneer County Resident Dies in Novi at Age 103

One of Oakland County's oldest pioneer residents, Mrs. Adell (Granny) Richardson of Novi, died quietly in her sleep early this morning. She was 103 years old last October.

Known throughout the area for her quick wit and humorous attitude toward life despite her age, she had lived in the Novi area all her life. Recently she lived in a Novi convalescent home.

When Mrs. Richardson was 100 years old, the Republican party staged a rally honoring her for never having missed voting at an election since woman's suffrage. More than 200 friends attended the affair at the township hall.

"Granny" was one of the first organists in the Walled Lake Methodist Church some 80 years ago, but resigned when they installed a piano, eliminating the pump-organ.

Mrs. Richardson is survived by a grandson, Ralph, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Albert Harden, both of Novi. She also has a granddaughter living in California.

The Hallam Family, an American group, sang and played about 200 operas in the United States between 1735 and 1800.

Heat Kills Detroiter

DETROIT (UP)—The first death of the year in Detroit because of heat was reported yesterday. Dewey McElroy, 61, an iron-worker, collapsed and died after complaining of the 90-degree heat. He had been working on a wrecking job at Fort Wayne in Detroit.

Sisal is a fibre made from leaves and used in the manufacture of string and awnings. It is grown mostly in Central America and Mexico.

Alyea Begins Prison Sentence

Gets 7-to-15-Year Term for Slaying of Southfield Watchman

Still maintaining his innocence, Raymond L. Alyea today began a 7-to-15-year prison term for the fatal stabbing of a Southfield nursery watchman last Aug. 1.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer imposed the sentence on Alyea, a 36-year-old combat Marine Corps veteran and ex-convict, after saying he had committed "a horrible crime."

Before passing sentence, Judge Beer asked the Detroiter if he had anything to say. Dressed in a sport coat and bow tie, as he had been throughout two trials, Alyea calmly said: "I still maintain my innocence. It's hard to accept the verdict."

A Circuit Court jury May 22 convicted Alyea, a former part-time gardener, of manslaughter after an earlier jury this year was dismissed when it could not arrive at a verdict. Alyea, of 12004 Lansdowne St., was charged with first-degree murder, which carries a mandatory life sentence.

Police found the battered body of Anthony Jasinski, 51, night watchman for the Ilgenfritz Nurseries, 22951 Northwestern Highway, in a drafting room last Aug. 1. A pair of hedge trimmers were run into his neck and he'd been stabbed in the side of the head with a pair of smaller scissors, police said.

Alyea was picked up the next day when it was learned he had cashed a check made out to Jasinski.

With his lips sealed tightly, Alyea remained composed when Judge Beer handed down the sentence. However, his mother, an aunt and two sisters, who had been by his side throughout the two long trials, broke down and cried as two sheriff's deputies escorted Alyea back to jail to await transportation to Jackson Prison.

Four Taken Off Submerged Isle

Rescued in Detroit River After Boat Hits Maumajuda Pilings

DETROIT (UP) — Four men marooned on a submerged island in the Detroit River were rescued by yachtsmen last night.

A Great Lakes freighter, Benson Ford, saw the four in her spotlights and flashed a call for help by radio.

Within minutes, a virtual flotilla, including vessels of the Wyandotte Yacht Club, Coast Guard, Grosse Ile Naval Air Station and Wyandotte Police, was on its way into the area.

One boat took the four men off submerged Maumajuda Island as they stood in about three feet of water.

Their own boat, a 17-foot outboard called the Sleepy Lipson, apparently was stove in by pilings that cover the island. Maumajuda Island is a quarter mile out in the river, a few yards off Fighting Island channel.

An outboard motorboat, smallest of three vessels sent out by the Wyandotte Boat Club, took the men aboard and brought them ashore at the clubhouse.

Beier, Combe, Loomis Win School Board Posts

BIRMINGHAM — The largest list of candidates in many years faced Birmingham School District voters yesterday with eight vying for two seats on the board.

Mrs. Dean Beier, who received 1,533 votes, was unopposed for the one-year unexpired term on the board.

Mrs. Peter B. Loomis was returned to the board for four years with 1,101 votes. George W. Coombe Jr. was the successful candidate for the post left vacant when Amos Gregory declined to seek re-election. Coombe polled 950 votes.

Other candidates were Richard L. Halsted, 425; Francis H. Allen, 305; Theodore H. Szynke, 186; George J. Ferguson, 144; Granville C. Ryen, 140; and Albert H. Giual, 69.

Birmingham City Commissioners declared a public necessity on the widening and repaving of Eton Road from Yosemite Street south to east Lincoln road, after listening to the usual objections of cost and traffic increases last night.

City Manager L. R. Dare explained that side street residents will pay only a small share of the total cost. Owners of industrial sites on the east side of the street and the city at large are both paying more than on the usual assessment plan, he said.

Although the roll has not yet been prepared, Dare said that probably no resident will pay more than $100 and some as low as 33 cents.

The project estimated at about $59,000 will include drainage and straightening the double curb near the Grand Trunk station.

The Peake Asphalt Paving Co. of Utica received the contract for the street resurfacing. The company's bid of $46,270.95 was the lowest of seven bidders.

Didn't Stay for Sermon

ANNISTON, Ala. (UP)—Sunday was workday for a thief at Pine Avenue Baptist Church. Police reported somebody took the entire Sunday School collection of $213.36 while the money was left unattended briefly between Sunday school and church services.

We're in Business, Says Pilot of X15

or more high at speeds of 4,000 m.p.h.

The 37-year-old Crossfield is under contract to North American Aviation Inc. for the specific purpose of flying the revolutionary new missile-like space ship.

He regards his job as something not particularly heroic. That's because it's his job, a self-imposed "thing I have to do."

Crossfield is a slightly built, wiry man with black eyes, black hair and has the intense look of a dedicated aerial pioneer whether he's pouring over a blueprint of the X15 or strapping himself into the silvery space suit designed to protect his compact body at extreme altitudes.

He doesn't believe any special training is required for rocket flying because "any competent test pilot could do it with sufficient preparation."

"It is brazen conceit for us to believe we can build a machine that can surpass the capabilities of man," he says emphatically in discussing man's role in space travel.

He speaks such thoughts quietly, although he can become eloquent on many subjects — mostly about the history of aviation on which he is an expert. But he looks upon his X15 flight as nothing radically new. He regards it as merely an extension of previous experiences, such as becoming the first man to achieve mach 2.01, twice the speed of sound.

Why does he do it?

"I have no explanation," says Crossfield. "It's a thing I have to do. I just want to — I don't know why people do this."

Crossfield was born Oct. 2, 1921, at Berkeley, Calif. He is married and lives in the Westchester section of Los Angeles near the city's big International Airport. The Crossfields have five children, ranging in age from 10 to 1 years.

His wife, Alice, doesn't question him too closely about his job, because Crossfield has a firm belief about keeping his home and flying separated.

He admits his plans for the future are all wrapped up in the X15, but he sees no scientific reason why a flight to the moon can't come in his own lifetime.

"We have problems — not barriers," he says.

Federal Court Backs State's Right to Tract

LANSING (AP) — For the first time in its history, the State Highway Department has sought federal help to obtain property blocking construction of a federal interstate highway.

U. S. District Court Judge Raymond Starr ruled at Grand Rapids Friday for immediate possession of a 16.6 tract of land south of Kalamazoo on the Detroit-Chicago expressway, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie reports.

Mackie said appeals to state courts have denied his department the land since 1955.

The property, appraised at $135,000 by the department, is owned by Harry and David Lookholder of Kalamazoo. It includes a service station and a house located west of South Westnedge avenue.

Mackie said payment for the property will be determined at a later date at a hearing in the federal court at Grand Rapids.

There's Poison Aplenty, but Mice Don't Mind

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — City sanitary inspector John E. Pipes looked around a storage room at the city public health laboratory, which probably holds enough poison to kill thousands of rats.

"What's that?" he asked, pointing to a can.

Officer Explains Fallout Hazards

Army Colonel Compares It to Dust Storm, Gives Survival Advice

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The hazards of nuclear warfare fallout were translated today for American women into terms of a housewife's nightmare — a dust storm in the house.

"Radioactive fallout", said Lt. Col. Ingalls H. Simmons of the Army Medical Corps in a talk to a women's group, "is just like dust.

"It is as if you took the sweepings in your vacuum cleaner, shook it in front of a fan, and let it blow all over the house. The main problem is to keep fallout from getting into your stomach, where it can really do damage.

"In disaster situations, therefore, never take chances with food and water. The simple precaution of turning a food can or box upside down and opening the end that sat on the shelf, the table, or the floor may save your life."

Dr. Simmons, of Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., offered these tips in a talk prepared for a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Medical Assn., held in conjunction with the 108th annual convention of the AMA.

Declaring that the essentials for survival would be the same as they were in the days of the cave men—water, food and shelter—the colonel offered various other grim tips.

1. Remember that the home water heater in the basement contains at least 25 gallons of water which could be tapped if the regular water supply is destroyed by the bomb blast.

2. If you have warning of an attack, gather the family under the cellar stairs or in a corner of the basement "where you will have at least three feet of dirt between you and the bomb."

3. Wherever you are when the bomb explodes, always drop flat on your stomach, face down, immediately.

★ ★ ★

President Eisenhower will address the AMA convention tonight. His 25-minute address, starting at 9:05 p.m. EDT, will be carried by the Mutual and CBS radio networks.

3 Pontiac Teens Fined for Possession of Alcohol

Three teenagers arrested Sunday for illegal possession of alcoholic beverages pleaded guilty yesterday before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum and were fined $25 each and two days in jail.

They were Larry L. Mason, 18, 228 Going St.; David Manville, 17, 228 Going St. and Carl R. Lowes, 18, of 293 N. Saginaw St.

'Village' Coffee Shops Need No Poetic License

By MARK SHEEHAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The police department says Greenwich Village poets can go on spouting their stuff in coffee houses, even though they lack poetic license.

Police had been handing out summonses to the coffee houses which dot the Village, a Bohemian section of lower Manhattan.

The police worked on the theory that the poetry was entertainment, and since the coffee houses didn't have cabaret licenses they couldn't legally offer entertainment.

★ ★ ★

The poets, good and bad, beat and nonbeat, bearded and nonbearded, have been packing the coffee houses. The readings have been a big attraction both for tourists and Village natives.

One coffee house poet, Dick Woods, from Shreveport, La., summed up the poetic sentiment this way: "These summonses are strictly a bum rap."

Monday the police department, which usually doesn't dig poets, in effect agreed. The summonses already handed out would be prosecuted, but there would be no more, said Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm.

Stooping to the occasion, he phrased his statement on the "bum rap" in bum verse.

"Technically an entertainer spouting poetry is an entertainer under law," he spouted.

"But though in violation to the cops he's just a bore. (To some New Yorkers, believe it or not, this rhymes.)

"He can talk throughout the night if he doesn't incite to riot."

To some of the more sensitive poets, such versifying is worse than a summons. To most, though, co-existence was the answer all along.

Sure, man, why not offer that deputy commissioner a chance to air his verse at some coffee house?

Firemen Avert Blast Near East St. Louis

EAST St. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—A riverfront disaster on the southern fringe of this city was averted Monday night as firemen repelled flames before they reached two liquefied gas tanks and four gasoline trucks.

Firemen from East St. Louis and four nearby communities brought the flames under control 2½ hours after the fire started in a wrecking company yard.

The flames reached the MacArthur Bridge, 80 feet above the yard, filled with old timber and plumbing fixtures. Underpinning of the bridge was damaged and the bridge was closed.

"If those tanks and gasoline trucks had blown it would have torn up a chunk of ground a mile wide," said East St. Louis Asst. Fire Chief William Eckles.

Ousted Pastor Receives Offers

Other Churches Seek Minister Allegedly Fired Over Integration Issue

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — The Rev. Robert B. McNeill, removed from his pulpit here, said Monday night that national publicity over his dismissal has resulted in tentative offers from several other Presbyterian churches.

The Rev. Frank King of Valdosta, head of the judical commission that announced McNeill's dismissal, said recent newspaper publicity given the First Presbyterian church of Columbus, Ga., has been misleading.

"The major problem in that church is not the racial issue," said King. "The present difficulty is deep and involved and has a history of several years standing. The racial issue has merely been used to trigger the explosion."

The judicial commission was appointed two years ago to look into reports of unrest among some of the Columbus church's 1,200 members. That was shortly after McNeill had written an article published in Look magazine in which he advocated "a creative contact between leaders of both races" to ease racial tensions in the South.

★ ★ ★

Both McNeill and King, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Valdosta, speculated on a possible appeal of the ouster decision.

King said at Valdosta he believed the issue is important enough to warrant a called meeting of the Synod of Georgia.

McNeill said he had not decided whether to appeal. He also said he did not know of any formal complaint against his ouster by any member of his former congregation.

★ ★ ★

King said there was little possibility that the judical commission, appointed by the Southwest Georgia Presbyterian, would rescind its action.

Normal Living Advocated for Space Trainees

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Should space pilots be kept in sterile isolation during training, or should they be allowed to live normal lives?

In short, as a flight surgeon with a sense of humor put it at a session of the American Rocket Society: "Should our space pilot sleep with his ultra-violet lamp or with his wife?

Dr. Toby Freedman of North American Aviation Inc. said the answer is simple.

"If space flight were a one-shot affair," he said Monday, "no precaution would be spared to keep the crew germ free. But once we realize that space flight is not a one-shot affair and that the fliers will be trained, not for a single stab into the darkness but for continuing space exploration, then it is obvious that isolation is neither possible or desirable."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Freedman proposed normal life for space candidates as a guiding principle for flight surgeons who will be faced with making decisions that will affect the survival of tomorrow's rocketmen.

Soviet Germany Has Prosperity but No Joy

(Associated Press Correspondent Michael Goldsmith went with a group of 10 Western newsmen on a two-day trip from Geneva to East Germany at the invitation of the Communist government. Here are some things Goldsmith observed on the trip.)

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

The Communist teacher in the huge, super-modern school pinned the little girl's effort on the classroom wall along with similar student products.

The central theme of drawings made by children of the model school at Stalinstadt, East Germany's "first Socialist city," was fear—fear of the capitalist warmongers piling up nuclear weapons to destroy the "Socialist camp of peace-loving nations."

Stalinstadt is the pride of the East German regime. Its vast iron smelting combine on the Oder-Neisse border with Poland grew from a sandy waste in less than a year. Now it turns out more than a million tons of pig iron a year for East Germany's growing industries.

★ ★ ★

The foundry's 6,000 workers live in the new state-built, state-owned and state-operated city of 24,000 inhabitants. Three and four story buildings are clean, bright and well designed. The accent is heavy on social services. Nurseries, hospitals, schools and recreation centers are all free, or nearly so.

★ ★ ★

Basic food in the state-owned stores is cheap and plentiful. The average worker pays less than one tenth of his wages for a three-room apartment. All material conditions are there for comforts above the average enjoyed by industrial workers in Western Europe.

But the streets are without life and without laughter. The people have a glazed, unreal look like sleepwalkers. It is a familiar atmosphere in East German cities.

Only two buildings in Stalinstadt are not state-owned. The makeshift Protestant and Roman Catholic churches have been built with church funds. Church attendance is discourage by authorities. The state religion is "socialism."

In schools, nurseries, hostels and old age homes throughout East Germany there are shrines to socialism and peace. Fashioned from scarlet drapes, flowers and slogans, they feature photographs of Red party secretary Walter Ulbricht and other Communist leaders.

The state religion has ceremonies corresponding to christening, confirmation, marriage and funeral services. Children leaving school go to "youth consecration" where they swear to help build socialism.

Communist burial services are less common. "The old people haven't had time to get adjusted," one Communist official said.

The aged are well cared for in East Germany. Any Western city would be proud of a beautiful, air-conditioned old folks' home on the outskirts of Berlin. But one aged inmate caught a Western newsman alone and whispered, "It's good to be here—but the young ones outside, just think of them."

A Czechoslovak army officer on a visit to East Berlins tood looking at a photograph of goosestepping soldiers of the new East German army.

★ ★ ★

The goosestep has been a symbol of German military aggression in Europe for three generations. The officer walked off shaking his head.

When a Western newsman tried to talk to the officer. He froze and turned away.

Green-uniformed police are as much in evidence as Hitlers storm troopers once were. The color of the uniform is different, but they still patrol in paris, never alone.

★ ★ ★

Most of the policemen are in their late teens. Their entire lives have been dominated by dictatorship and war. Slogans come naturally to them. They are jackbooted and armed and they know who runs their country.

★ ★ ★

Soviet troops keep scrupulously out of the way. In East Berlin, Soviet troops and their families live on the outskirts of the city. They are rarely seen in town.

"But we know they are here," a retired civil servant said. "Those who would rebel remember Hungary. If they are realists, they know there cannot be any hope at all."

Firestone, Goodrich Out Since April 16

Rubber Strikes Depleting Auto Makers Tire Stocks

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—Strikes at two major rubber companies are cutting sharply into the supply of original equipment tires available to the auto industry.

★ ★ ★

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. and B. F. Goodrich Co. have been strikebound since April 16, longest strike against a major rubber company in the industry's history.

These two companies normally produce one in every four tires sold in this country, and make an even higher percentage of the tires used on new cars.

Of the big three auto makers, only Chrysler is unaffected by the strike. It uses Goodyear tires exclusively. Goodyear settled without a strike.

★ ★ ★

Ford normally uses about 50 per cent Firestone and 25 per cent Goodrich. General Motors uses slightly more than 25 per cent Firestone and about 20 per cent Goodrich. Almost all other GM tires come from U.S. Rubber, which was struck for three weeks before a settlement.

★ ★ ★

A Ford spokesman said today that the company is experiencing some trouble in certain tire sizes, but generally has no immediate problem. However, he added, if the strikes were to continue through the month more serious problems will arise. He suggested that Ford might drop to supplying new cars with only four tires and then send the spare along later when tire supplies improve.

At General Motors, a spokesman said there are no serious problems, "but we certainly have no fat — there aren't any extras around."

The auto industry bought huge supplies of tires in anticipation of the strike, just as it has been buying heavily in steel against a possible strike in that industry.

Most auto makers have enough steel to run from two to four months in case of a strike.

One dark cloud is that there will be further rubber industry negotiations on wages for all major companies in August. The current problems center on pensions, vacations and grievance procedures.

Israeli AF Head Cites Era of Peace

DETROIT (AP) — Israel has enjoyed more peace the last two years than it has since becoming independent in 1948, says its air force commander, Gen. Ezer Weizmann.

★ ★ ★

The 35-year-old general, oldest pilot in the Israeli air force, told a press conference yesterday:

"We aren't aggressive about our boundaries — just watchful." But he said his air force has orders to shoot down any "enemy" planes that fly over Israel.

★ ★ ★

Missile A-Sub Launched

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The nation's first missile-firing, nuclear powered submarine slips down the ways today with the advance billing of a "vital deterrent" against enemy aggression.

A crowd of 10,000 was expected to watch the launching of the 380-foot, 5,400-ton George Washington, first in a new class designed to fire the polaris missile from either underwater or surface.

President Eisenhower, in a message for reading at the ceremonies, hailed the new vessel as one which "will add greatly to our ability to preserve the peace."

"It is my prayerful hope that this ship will be always ready but never used," Eisenhower's message said.

After the launching at the Electric Boat Division of the General Dynamics Corp., several months of fitting out will be required for the George Washington before builder's trials.

CAR LIFE JULY 1959

THE BEST CAR BUY IN THE U.S.A.

RAMBLER

HERE'S WHY:

"Rambler is a well-made, efficiently designed, comfortable car with outstanding structural strength and rigidity, smooth, quiet economical operation, outstanding maneuverability in traffic and parking, satisfactory roadability, ride and handling, competive performance, good operating economy and very significantly low ownership costs—in short, it's our choice for overall best buy among U. S. cars."

COST

"First of all, it has a lower initial price, and on the basis of current figures will retain a greater percentage of its original cost than any other car anywhere near its price."

STYLING

BODY DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION

"Most evident is the solidity of the unit-construction body. On the road there is never a trace of annoying body shake or vibration. Rambler's unit-construction body gives a solid, quiet, vibrationless feeling normally associated with the largest, heaviest and most expensive cars. A hidden plus ... the entire unit, body and frame structure is dipped in a tank of rust-proofing chromate primer, a virtual guarantee against the rusting out of inaccessible panel surfaces."

INTERIOR

"Rambler is an extremely comfortable car for all six passengers because the centers of both front and rear seats are not crammed down close to the transmission housing and driveshaft tunnel."

HANDLING AND ROADABILITY

QUALITY

Navy Flotilla Cut Requested

Canada Says Seaway Cruise by U.S. Fleet Could Be Bottleneck

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada has asked the United States to reduce the numbers of a U. S. Navy flotilla going through the St. Lawrence Seaway to the Great Lakes this month, Transport Minister George Hees said today.

He also told the House of Commons the government has suggested that no more than two of the U. S. Naval vessels be passed through the locks per day in view of possible clogging of the waterway to commercial vessels.

The minister said U. S. authorities are studying the request.

Twenty-seven Navy ships are due to traverse the seaway between June 23 and June 28, Hees said. He did not indicate whether the Canadian government had asked for a specific lesser number.

Hees said it has been drawn to the attention of U. S. officials that possible serious effects could result from the proposed passage of the American warships.

The minister was replying to MP Lionel Chevrier, who said it would be desirable that the U. S. vessels remain in Montreal for several days rather than add to seaway congestion.

GOP Dinner Pulls in Dough

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)— A sound dollar—with plenty of them available for GOP campaigners—is the prescription of President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon for a 1960 Republican victory.

In a turnout that astonished its Senate and House sponsors, Republicans overflowed two large banquet halls at a $100-a-plate dinner Monday night to honor party members of Congress who survived last November's GOP debacle, and many who didn't.

What seemed of more practical importance than anything said by either Eisenhower or Nixon—or a long series of other GOP speakers, was the solid fact that the dinner racked up more than $300,000 net for party purposes.

The two congressional campaign committees will split the amount, 60 per cent to the House group and 40 per cent to the Senate unit.

Eisenhower told the applauding Republicans that he is not fighting to balance the budget just to claim that as an accomplishment. This, he said, is no effort to pinch pennies.

"At this moment," the President continued, "We are engaged in a highly important battle for a sound dollar. This is a fight to promote an expanding economy and domestic prosperity. This is a fight to make sure that a dollar earned today will tomorrow buy for the housewife an equal amount of groceries."

Texas Pastor Quits in 'Improper' Affair

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Dr. W. S. McBirnie, Baptist minister who admitted and accepted full blame for "improper involvement" with a woman in his congregation, has resigned as pastor of Trinity Baptist Church.

Dr. McBirnie, 39, confirmed the affair last Wednesday before a standing-room-only special meeting of the church congregation. The situation became known when Dr. McBirnie sought out Paul Thompson, San Antonio News columnist, and told him of the involvement.

★ ★ ★

At the time, Dr. McBirnie asked the congregation to replace him, but said he didn't intend to resign. Monday, sources close to the board of deacons said Dr. McBirnie resigned Sunday night.

Dr. McBirnie was not available for comment.

Married and the father of a teenage son, Dr. McBirnie said he became involved with the woman —whose name was not disclosed —while attempting to reconcile the woman and her estranged husband.

Teenagers Egg Man On as He Wrecks Hotel

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —A man broke into a closed hotel Monday and flung furniture out the windows of rooms on six of the seven floors.

Teenagers outside the Soreno Hotel were yelling "Go, man, go," when police collared the man on the fifth floor.

He was booked as Bruce Moran, 25, for investigation of breaking and entering. Loss was estimated at several hundred dollars.

Detroit Officers in Rape Case Failed Lie Test

DETROIT (AP) — A State Police lie detector technician says two Detroit policemen acquitted of rape charges failed to pass lie detector tests and also tried to "distort their responses."

Detective Sgt. Frank Barkman so testified yesterday before a police trial board hearing for suspended Patrolmen Edwin B. Cable, 36, and Michael R. O'Donnell, 31.

Cable and O'Donnell, both married men and fathers, were acquitted May 20 by a Recorder Court's jury of charges brought by a 22-year-old waitress who said they assaulted her Dec. 15 on her way home from work.

Barkman testfied that the two officers gave false answers to questions in the lie detector tests.

"In my opinion," he also said, "both officers made deliberate attempts to distort their responses during the tests."

Barkman said both appeared to be breathing hard intentionally and appeared to be deliberately disregarding instruction to sit quietly.

Missile Mail Costs 4 Cents

Lower Rates on Rocket Delivery Is Not Herald of Drop in Stamp Price

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Some 3,000 letters airmailed 103 miles by an unmanned space age missile cost the senders four cents instead of the usual seven cent air mail stamps.

But rather than the predecessor of lower postal rates, an era when letters are delivered by rocket seemed only a few years away after the first U. S. missile mail delivery.

A Regulus I missile carrying 3,000 letters was successfully fired yesterday from a submarine off the Atlantic coast. It landed 22 minutes later at the nearby Mayport, Fla., Naval Air Station.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, who made the formal announcement of the flight, said it was believed to be the "first missile mail delivery in the history of mankind."

He said additional experiments will soon be carried out in what was aptly dubbed "Pony Express II Missile Mail Project."

"I believe we will see missile mail developed to a significant degree before man has reached the moon," Summerfield predicted.

Carton of Fireworks Blasts Truck, Windows

ADAMS CITY, Colo. (AP) — A dynamite-like explosion was set off Monday when a heavy truck-trailer crushed a carton of fireworks on U.S. Highway 6 in this Denver suburb.

The box of 1,440 cherry bombs tumbled from a panel truck and rolled under the rear wheels of a following truck. The explosion smashed windows in a nearby home, ripped off rear tires from the truck and blasted the semi-trailer unit four feet off the road bed.

Paul Sparrow Says It's Time to Pitch the Tie

Men, help out.

Remove your necktie these stifling days and thus bolster the courage of your fellow associates and even of an absolute stranger. Wear a sports shirt and contribute to the advancement of the humble, shuffling male.

★ ★ ★

Women are allowed the luxuries of an open neckline winter and summer, but the custom-bound man must dog it alone with that halter around his throat and an absolute lack of circulation "inside." Men don't begrudge the women their superior dress. They merely "want in" to some tiny degree.

★ ★ ★

Always there are border line cases when the mercury notches up to 84, 85 and 86 and the average male is uncertain. He doesn't want to take technical advantage of a custom.

★ ★ ★

We've discussed this with Paul Sparrow, President of the Open Throat and No Necktie League and he says all border line cases are accepted without question. There will be no investigations, no finger pointing and no eyebrow raising. Anything that's close, qualifies on the comfort side. President Sparrow says that in his own personal book whenever the mercury notches past 80, it's an open invitation.

★ ★ ★

Leon V. Belknap

LEON V. BELKNAP, retired Oakland County Road Engineer who died Sunday, was a successful man in all the ways one can think of. He was responsible for making the Road Commission, with which he was associated for nearly half a century, an outstanding public service.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Belknap had a well developed business sense and his main interest was the public which he served. Today many of the roads in Oakland County were developed under his expert leadership.

★ ★ ★

He spent his lifetime connected with engineering projects after his graduation in civil engineering from Michigan State University in 1909. For many years until near the end of his long career LEON was practically a one man Road Commission.

★ ★ ★

He was a man of high ideals and fair play. Mr. Belknap was a public spirited citizen of the first order and was always willing to do more than his share. He will long be remembered as a spearhead of our Oakland County road system.

His passing will be felt by many, but his roads will be a permanent inspiration to others.

No One Would Gain By Steel Strike Now

Just what can be gained by a steel strike at this time is a little hard for us to understand. Considering all sides of the question, it seems that no one would gain.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps labor will analyze it differently, but the cold facts seem to be these.

Raising real wages is next to impossible because if this happens, it will only mean that prices will go up all around. This pattern never changes. This is inflation, and inflation hits nobody as hard as the wage earner.

Since 1940 Government statistics show that the American dollar is already down in purchasing power. Today's value is 48 cents. Inflation will only take it lower. It's possible that it could get so low as to be practically worthless.

On top of regular pay comes fringe benefits and they, too, must be calculated in relationship to costs of production and prices. A great many people are of the opinion that hospital insurance, pensions and other benefits don't figure in wages. This is a misconception, since they must be figured as part of the worker's pay.

★ ★ ★

The American steel industry has a problem. So, too, have the workers, but on top of it all, our entire economy seems to be threatened. We cannot see where a steel strike will settle the important issues.

★ ★ ★

Curbing inflation and keeping American production competitive is the public's concern. This is a year where all-around statesmanship is needed. This is not a time for labor politics.

The Man About Town

Wildcat Days

When Money Was Cheaper Than Common Wall Paper

Hard work: By which some succeed; others marry the boss' daughter.

With Oakland County's ghost town of Kensington in line for a marker to be placed there by the Michigan Historical Commission to memorialize the wildcat banking days, a little digging into the archives is in order.

Kensington was located in Lyon Township, on the present Grand River Road where it crosses the Huron River, 23 miles southwest of Pontiac. It struck its biggest boom a century and a quarter ago, in the stage coach days.

When it was deemed advisable to move the state capitol from Detroit to a central Michigan point, Kensington seemed in line to get it. The citizens there even offered a free site. But with the extension of Grand River Road, it was beat out by Lansing.

When money could be issued by most anybody who had access to a printing press (and the correct political pull), Kensington became a "financial center." It had a great boom for a short time, but when the bubble burst it was left flat.

The wildcat money became so cheap that ten dollar bills were used for wall paper. The extension of the railroads put the stage coaches out of business, and Kensington died.

Some of the last buildings torn down when the Grand River super highway was put through only a few years ago, still had rooms papered with currency.

The area now is mostly included in Kent Lake Park of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

If that old saying about corn, "knee high by the Fourth of July," holds true this year, according to it will be a midget's knee.

I like that close of a letter from the Fisheries Department:

"O-fish-ally yours."

Again referring to weeds,

Jack Oberman

of Walled Lake says they can stand a drouth much better than the vegetables in his garden.

That national expert on publicity,

David Lawrence Says:

Adenauer's Plans Went Wrong

LONDON—The right man at the right time has affected the destiny of many a nation, including our own United States. So today there has emerged coincidentally a man of popular strength in Germany, in France, in Britain and in America, respectively.

LAWRENCE

This reflects not so much a blind faith in personalities, but a fundamental yearning for national stability. It is the basis for the support given to democratically chosen leaders.

To a remarkable extent at the moment, each one of these Western leaders has, in his own way, won the confidence of his people. There may be bickerings among the political parties and an impatience at times as economic cycles interfere with the political progress of the party in power.

There may be differences of opinion as to how far the dominance of individuals may affect the democratic process. But the fact is that the emergency makes the man and realism demands continuity.

★ ★ ★

Just as the American people in a time of crisis broke tradition and elected Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third and a fourth term in the midst of a world war, so Americans today must judge patiently and realistically the decision of Dr. Konrad Adenauer not to give up the chancellorship of the West German Republic but to continue to serve out the remainder of his term, which runs until the autumn of 1961.

CAN REMOVE HIM

At any time, of course, between now and the election that a majority of the Parliament wants to remove Dr. Adenauer and put a new chancellor into office, it has the constitutional right to do so.

This is not likely to happen, because Dr. Adenauer has the support of the people. His own party would not risk the political cleavages that might come from embarking on such a course.

All this having been said, it is important to examine just what has been motivating the chancellor in his recent maneuvers. First, he announced that he would resign and accept the presidency. He had in mind that, like the case of De Gaulle in France, it might be possible for the powers of the presidency to be enlarged so as to exert a continuing influence on foreign policy.

★ ★ ★

The plan looked good, but Dr. Adenauer had counted on the selection of his finance minister, Franz Etzel, as chancellor. There is harmony of thought and a deep understanding between the two men. Obviously Dr. Adenauer expected to be able to continue to function alongside the new chancellor.

FAVOR ERHARD

But what went wrong was the upsurge of sentiment among the politicians in favor of Ludwig Erhard, vice chancellor and economics minister, as the logical successor. The canvass showed the party of Dr. Adenauer to be split.

Nobody can explain just what the differences between Dr. Adenauer and Erhard really amount to. Some say Erhard would be too conciliatory toward the Soviets. This is vigorously denied by his supporters. Others say that Etzel is better balanced than Erhard and would work much better with Dr. Adenauer.

Whatever the conflicts may be, Dr. Adenauer, as the party leader, has the right to change his mind and stay as chancellor. Originally, because of his advanced age—he is 83 now—it was thought best for him gradually to release the reins so that the party would be able to train a new man in the chancellorship two years before the 1961 election.

This is a good argument, but it is outweighed now in Dr. Adenauer's mind by his desire to keep a firm grip on foreign policy in the critical months ahead as a "summit" meeting approaches and the whole future of German reunification is up for momentous consideration.

Don't Fuss Over Children—They Know What to Wear

An Ohio reader writes:

"Taking my three children to join my husband in Korea for 15 months, I can think of no better way to be prepared to care for their health than to take a set of the 23-volumette Pocket Cyclopedia of Health with me. I enclose check for $7.50.

DR. BRADY

"Because of your wise teachings we have been freed of many fears as we have reared our children — the fear of their not wearing enough wraps of their sitting in drafty places, or on the damp ground.

Mrs. C. O. H.

I don't know how early the Ohio reader allows the kids to go barefoot, but I beg to state here, for the benefit of kids everywhere, that so far as health is concerned it is never too early or too late in the season spring, summer, autumn or winter to go barefoot. This applies to going in swimming, too.

I hope a million other parents besides Mrs. C. O. H. will accept my assurance about this.

While we are on the subject, let me tell the world also that it is ridiculous to worry about children not having enough wraps or about them sitting in drafty places or on the cold damp ground or getting their feet wet or sitting in school with their feet wet, or changing from winter to summer underwear whenever they wish, or going without hats or caps or peeling off clothing they find too warm for comfort.

So far as health is concerned the sensible course for an intelligent parent is simply this: Let the children decide for themselves what is comfortable to wear — that is, if the children are not really idiotes.

QUESTION BOX

"When doctor told me the trouble in my legs was Buerger's disease, I sent for your CVD booklet about heart and artery troubles and began taking calcium and vitamin D. Then I was 70. Now I'm 75 and feel better, than for years, able to work again, and sleeping nights.

(C. R. J.)"

Ans. — There are three chapters on thrombo-angitis obliterans (Buerger's disease) in the booklet. You do not mention whether you quit smoking. I believe carbon-monoxide anoxia (not "nicotine poisoning") is the harmful factor in smoking, particularly cigarette smoking.

"Is there anything I can do for the constant itching of my eyes or eyelids? (H. R. H.)"

Ans. — That is frequent manifestation of riboflavin deficiency. Riboflavin is otherwise known as vitamin B2 and formerly vitamin G. Best source of riboflavin is milk — be sure to get 1½ pints of whole or skimmed milk daily. Or take a 5 mg. tablet of riboflavin three times a day for a month.

'Nowhere Can Equality Be So Undisputed as in Voting'

It just occurred to me that voting is one of the last evidences of true democracy, not only the right to vote, but the act of voting itself. It's one of the few things left that, no matter how important, rich, influential or busy you may be, if you want to cast a vote, you must make the trip to the polls and do the voting yourself, just like everyone else. And no vote counts more than another.

With such an opportunity to have your opinion felt just as much as any other, it's hard to understand why so many people fail to take advantage of it.

'Don't Blame Soapy for Company Move'

A letter Saturday castigated Governor Williams because a company is moving from Michigan do to what Mr. Fondling labels the "economic climate." Such an accusation is absolutely unfair to Governor Williams, inasmuch as the crazy tax laws that are bothering Michigan corporations are due to Republican governors and legislatures of past years.

★ ★ ★

However, most of the companies which have moved have done so because they can hire workers for $1.00 and $1.50 per hour in the South. Many communities also offer them tax-free property for a period of years. Many companies take advantage of such offers and then move again when this tax-free period expires.

★ ★ ★

If our state legislature will quit playing politics and adopt some type of tax bill which is fair to all, Michigan will soon be over its troubles. A letter addressed to State Senator Harvey Lodge, telling him to get busy and do something constructive in Lansing will most likely bring results.

Readers Protest Scooter Censure

I was a bit shocked at the editorial against motor scooters. Bicycles, motorcycles, boats and even cars take their daily toll in lives, yet we never consider a ban on them. It seems to me that a scooter, which can't produce the speed of a car, would be the ideal thing for our youth. With juvenile delinquency the problem it is, let's not deprive our children of the good, clean pleasure they get from their motor scooters.

Please don't knock them down.

'European Wages Affect Our Prices'

Automobile workers and management alike now feel the pinch of these inflationary prices. European wages are so far under ours they can outsell us in the U.S. with great ease.

★ ★ ★

Reuther is scheduling a trip to Europe to raise the wage rate so the prices will go up and we won't get undersold so badly.

★ ★ ★

Now who wants to deny that the wage raise forces the price increase instead of the opposite, as Reuther's lieutenants have been trying to argue.

★ ★ ★

Automobile buyers of U.S. cars have to pay for wage rates that are more than double those in England, France, Germany, Italy, etc. And as a result of this we are losing sale after sale.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Life Reflects Your Own Outlook

Flavian Myers is a remarkable personality for he has the cordiality and friendliness of an extrovert, yet is a banker. But his basic doctrine of life is well expressed in the parallel anecdotes he tells, so discuss this unique case in church or Sunday school. And take a cue from William Penn's technique, too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B - 546: Flavian Myers, aged about 48, is a leading banker in Washington, Indiana, with literally thousands of friends.

CRANE

His Kiwanis Club sponsored my day of lectures there last winter, and Mr. Myers chaperoned me during my visit.

As we drove across the city almost all the townsfolk waved at and greeted Mr. Myers by name, both children and adults. As I commented on the cordiality and friendliness of the citizenry, he smiled and told me an interesting story.

He said that one of the old residents of the city was standing on the corner on a certain afternoon. A tourist car stopped. It contained a man and wife, plus several children.

"We're looking for a place to settle down," began the stranger, "so what kind of people do you have in your town?"

The old man smiled and replied: "What kind of people did you have in the last place where you lived?"

"Oh, they were the meanest folks I ever saw," added the tourist. "They would cheat and gossip about you and never lend you a helping hand for anything."

So the tourist drove onward. But within a few minutes a second car stopped at the curb.

It was also loaded with a family who were migrating from some eastern city.

"What kind of people do you have in this town?" asked the driver of the car, as he accosted the old timer. "What sort of people did you leave in the last town where you lived?" came the old timer's reply.

"Oh, they were wonderful folks," added the stranger. "They were kind and neighborly and would give you the shirt off their back."

★ ★ ★

LIFE MIRRORS YOU

And that was a very shrewd observation by the old timer, for life tends to mirror your own outlook.

If we are kind and courteous, unselfish and thoughtful, then other folks will respond, accordingly. But if we are mercenary and selfish, curt and thoughtless, then we shall find ourselves surrounded by similar people.

And that holds true not only of civilized folks, but also of the aborigines.

Most of the early settlers in North America considered the natives as cruel, savage beasts. They even called them "Injuns".

And these "Injuns" lived up to all such unfavorable press agenting, for they scalped the whites, burned their homes and stole their cattle.

Then they encountered another white man named William Penn. He regarded the natives as brothers and treated them with kindness and consideration.

And what was the astounding result? Well, they reciprocated his friendliness. They respected and loved him.

There was no scalping or burning of settlers' cabins, and no stealing of cattle.

Put Aluminum Fences by Roads, Executive Urges

DAVENPORT, Iowa (UPI) — State governments as wellas his own industry would benefit, says Frank R. Nichols, if aluminum chain-link fences vere installed along the U. S. superhighway system now being built.

Nichols, who is president of the Nichols Wire and Aluminum Co. here, pointed out that while the federal government is paying 90 per cent of all construction costs, the states will have to pay 100 per cent of the maintenance bills.

Aluminum fences would reduce these bills, Nichols said, because they would not rust and would need no painting.

YOU'RE MILES AHEAD WITH MOBIL

First Jaunt to Bermuda Was Rough One

HAMILTON, Bermuda—My wife and I have our 28th wedding anniversary coming up, so we thought it might be a good idea to spend a weekend in this honeymooners' paradise.

For some reason, the honeymoon couples look younger through the years. You gaze at them and say to yourself, "My gosh, they're children." Ah, youth!

You say to yourself, "How can they support themselves? . . . Make their way? . . . Get along in this day and age of high prices, confiscatory taxes?"

You study their fresh faces, and then you know as you should have all along. They're ready to face life as it comes, war, peace, depression, prosperity — what have you. They'll make do.

The important things are they're in love, married forever, forever and forever more, and they're the only two people in the world who really matter and truly understand Life.

Bermuda has changed in many ways since our first visit here, on what was our first wedding anniversary. There was something happening at the time called a Depression.

My salary on the Washington Post had been cut from $35 a week to $31.50. Millie was working in the State Department and was in the chips. She made $35.

We read an enchanting advertisement about Bermuda in some Sunday newspaper and immediately wrote to the only hotel we had ever heard of on the island—the Princess—and asked for rates.

Whoever answered misunderstood. The nice man wrote that the penthouse, or some such suite, would be available during our intended stay. He was nice enough to quote the price, too. It was $90 a day.

NO $90 FLOP

Well . . . it was some years before we got to that delightful hotel which certainly isn't a $90-a-day flop, if you can endure less than a penthouse. But we made it in 1932, too.

There was a steamship line running out of Baltimore which offered to cart people here for $60 a head, which included room and victuals.

It was a glorious voyage, though rough. We were scheduled to stay in Bermuda from nine in the morning until sailing time at five or six o'clock that same day.

Millie and I rented bicycles and tooled around the lovely town and came back in time to make the ship. Consternation! The man from the steamship line said, at the pier, that it had gone out of business. Our hearts sank. We were busted.

"I haven't got a sou," my wife said, setting up a line which Joan Crawford was to use 27 years later. That meant that I didn't have a sou either, for I was sponging on her pretty baldly, what with the difference in income.

RAY OF HOPE

But the man from the busted steamer company had more to say. He said that we wouldn't actually be stranded in Bermuda and face the risk of being picked up as vagrants by the colonial police. Arrangements had been made, he said, to send us refugees home via Furness Withy — which ran two wonderful vessels, the Monarch and the Queen of Bermuda.

We never had it better. We moved into a place that no longer exists, at least by that name—Grasmere by the Sea. Cost peanuts. Cecil Dickson of the AP, then, and his wife Ruth were with us, or vice versa.

Dick helped me over a couple rough spots with a sawbuck or two loan, and we all had a real ball of a time.

The honeymooners my wife and I were watching at Ev Hetland's wonderful Bilbow Beach Hotel, where honeymoons practically were invented, and at the stately Castle Harbour, which is now largely American owned and managed by Jack "Royal Hawaiian" Fishbeck, probably are rich by comparison.

When we first went to Bermuda the chief means of transportation were by foot, bike, horse carriage and a cross-island electric train. Now there are countless motor bikes, motor scooters and little English cars and taxis, and it isn't quite as proper, colonially.

It as exhilarating in 1932 to ride in a carriage at eight knots, but it's oddly exasperating today to ride in a cab rigidly confined to a speed limit of 20 m.p.h.

But, of course, the thing to do is just sit and look at this glorious island set in water that defies description, if it is light blue you hope to describe. People like Juan Trippe of Pan American World Airways now fly to Bermuda after the Friday working day in New York, U.S.A., and fly home Sunday evening, like a man motoring to and from a neighboring beach resort, except that it takes less time to get from there to here—and it is another world.

Protection for Racketeers Probed

Quiz Indiana Prosecutor

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Indiana county prosecutor accused of protecting gambling rackets says he got no money from racketeers or labor unions.

But Metro Holovachka of Gary, Ind., refused to tell Senate rackets probers Monday how he got amounts which other witnesses said exceeded $300,000 in eight years. He said that was a private matter.

★ ★ ★

Counsel Robert Kennedy of the special Senate committee identified the racketeer as Sam (Moony) Giancanna and the coin machine company as the Lakeside Specialty Co.

He said the company has a virtual monopoly on such devices in the East Chicago and Indiana Harbor, Ind., areas.

Kennedy said another witness would be Johnny Formosa, identified in earlier testimony as the owner of a Gary, Ind., house of prostitution.

Kholvachka is a former chief prosecuting attorney of Lake County and is now assistant prosecutor. He angrily refused to account for huge sums of cash allegedly spent or deposited by him during his eight years in public office.

Holovachka, perspiring under the photographers' hot floodlamps, contended the committee had no right to delve into "my personal affairs."

He shouted at one point, however, that "I will say this. Not one dime of it came from labor in any way. Not one dime of it came from any racketeer."

College Grads Get Good Jobs

Will Pay $20-$40 More Per Month Than Boom Wages of 1957

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—The cold, cruel world will give a warm welcome to college graduates of 1959.

This was revealed Saturday by an insurance firm survey disclosing that this year's graduates will exchange their mortar boards for jobs paying $20 to $40 more per month than the boom-time wages of 1957.

Ninety per cent of the engineering seniors will have jobs by commencement time, the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. survey reported.

In addition, 75 per cent of business administration grabs and 65 per cent of liberal arts seniors will step right from the campus into the office.

★ ★ ★

Starting engineers will command salaries between $490 and $510 a month. Business administration graduates will command from $385 to $420 and the liberal arts majors will receive a few dollars less.

The survey, conducted annually since 1935 by the Northwestern National life family economic bureau, took its statistics from college placement directors.

The directors said the demand for accountants and the heavy call for engineers by defense industries were the outstanding characteristics of the 1959 college employment market.

Journey To Love

By Virginia Nielsen

© 1959 by Virginia Nielsen. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Kathie Ebberts believes someone has attempted to steal a yellowed deed to some Hawaiian property which she is carrying in her purse. Kathie is going by ship to Hawaii to investigate the worth of the deed.

CHAPTER XI

Kathie and Alex paused at the rail, looking down. The water looked black and oily and not at all like the picture she had in her mind.

"Wait until we're nearer the islands," Alex said, as though answering her unspoken thought. "You've never seen such blue water, Kathie. Indigo, it is. And flying fish—"

The horizon was invisible now, lost in the blackness of night and clouds and water.

But the moon seemed to dip down and down and down toward the rail of the ship and then spring high into the murky heavens again as the rail leaned down to meet the water.

Kathie shivered. "It will be warmer, too, won't it?"

"Oh, much!"

"Mauka!" Kathie repeated, abruptly facing him. "What does that mean?" For she had recognized the word. It was used in her deed!

★ ★ ★

"On the mountain side," Alex smiled at her, and his eyes seemed to come wonderfully alive, as they had once before. Kathie stared at him, feeling her breath catch in her throat. Unconsciously she moved a little away from him.

"The Hawaiians don't say north or south," he explained. "They say 'Toward the mountains.' Or 'Toward the sea.' "

LET'S GO UP'

"Mauka," Kathie repeated softly. "Toward the mountains."

The boat deck was nearly deserted. They stood by the rail and let the wind whip through their hair. The water was far away and it seemed as if they were riding the clouds.

★ ★ ★

Her face was raised to him, intent and sober. He started to sing softly.

Alex, looking down at her, found his voice dying away in his throat. Kathie caught her breath in a startled gasp as he pulled her into his arms.

It was just a kiss, she told herself urgently. Just a kiss that he had not foreseen and could not prevent. Then why was her blood pounding in her ears, and why did her lips quiver as though no man had ever touched them before?

Her name on his lips sounded like a caress. It seemed he could say nothing else.

"Alex," she protested. "You shouldn't — you mustn't —" She pulled away from him, and when he saw how genuinely troubled she was, he let her go.

DISTURBED

He walked beside her along the deserted upper deck, and his nearness was almost as disturbing as his kiss had been.

Kathie, silent, was thinking of many things—of her tumbled clothes in the brand-new luggage, of the wink Alex had given Leilani when he took Kathie away from the cocktail party just before sailing time, of the gushing way Leilani's mother had claimed kinship.

"We won't speak of it any more," Alex was saying anxiously. "We'll talk about your old deed, shall we? I've been meaning to ask you, Kathie. Where are you keeping that deed?"

"Do you think I would be fool enough to tell you that?" Kathie cried.

Alex stopped still to look at her. He seemed surprised. "I merely wanted to suggest that you take it and any other valuables you have to the purser for safekeeping," he said coldly.

Kathie stared up at him, her whole mind an agony of questions. "How did you know my cabin had been searched?" she demanded.

Alex started. "Good Lord!" he said. The moon peeped through a rift in the clouds, and Kathie, watching his face intently, seemed to read in it an echo of her own anxious questions.

KATHIE FELT ILL

Then Alex began to walk again, pulling her along with him. "If that's true, Kathie, you'd better take your things to the purser at once."

★ ★ ★

Kathie felt almost ill with the turmoil of emotions that churned inside her. It had been a day so stimulating, so charged with feeling and nervous excitement, that she had come near the end of her rope emotionally.

Alex broke off his reflection to say, "You know, I'd like to see that deed, Kathie."

She faced him, wary and miserable. "How do I know you didn't search my stateroom?"

Alex looked as if she had struck him. She saw his jaws knot as he fought back his immediate reaction. Finally he said stiffly, "You don't know, of course."

At her door, he said, "Have you reported this to the ship's authorities?"

★ ★ ★

She shook her head.

"Why not?"

"I—I don't know." She couldn't tell him that she had not wanted to acknowledge even to herself that he was the one she suspected most.

"I'd advise you to take your suspicions to them," Alex said coldly, and with a strained good night he left her.

When Kathie locked her door behind her, she was very near to tears. Alex had been very angry, but he had denied nothing.

OKs Quizzing Teacher Beliefs

Supreme Court Grants Congress Privileges in Upholding Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled Monday Congress has the right to question educators about their political beliefs in making sweeping investigations of Communism.

The 5-4 ruling upheld the contempt conviction of Lloyd Barenblatt, former teacher at Vassar College and the University of Michigan who refused in 1954 to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities whether he was a member of the Communist Party.

Justice Harlan, who wrote the majority opinion, said the high court would always be alert against intrusion by Congress into academic teaching freedom —that "broadly viewed, inquiries cannot be made into the teaching that is pursued in any of our educational institutions."

But, he said, as to inquiries into communism in the field of education:

"An educational institution is not a constitutional sanctuary from inquiry into matters that may otherwise be within the constitutional legislative domain . . ."

DISSENTING OPINION

In a dissent, Justice Black noted that Barenblatt relied upon the First (freedom of speech) Amendment, and that the court majority held that First Amendment freedoms may be abridged in the interest of the nation's security. Black added:

"That notion rests on the unarticulated premise that this nation's security hangs upon its power to punish people because of what they think, speak, or write about, or because of those with whom they associate for political purposes. . .

"I challenge that premise, and deny that idea can be proscribed under our Constitution. I agree that despotic governments cannot without stifling the voice of opposition to their oppressive practices."

Black said too that the First Amendment says in no equivocal language that Congress shall pass no law abridging freedom of speech, press, assembly or petitions, and he added:

"The activities of this committee (on Un-American activities) authorized by Congress, do precisely that, through exposure, obloquy and public scorn."

Votes to Extend Korea War Tax

House OKs Year More of Temporary Excise, Corporate Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Monday passed and sent to the Senate another one-year extension of the Korean War corporate and excise tax rates.

The action, by voice vote, was taken amid gloomy forecasts of continued budget deficits. House tax leaders declined to hold out any ray of hope for future tax cuts.

This was the sixth time the House has voted to continue the temporary rate increases enacted in 1951

The extension forestalls an automatic drop in the rates July 1. The lower rates would entail a $3,100,000,000 revenue loss for a full year of operation.

Under the bill the corporate income tax continues at 52 per cent instead of falling to 47 per cent.

The tax on liquor continues at $10.50 a gallon instead of dropping to $9. Cigarette taxes stay at 8 cents a pack instead of 7, the new car tax remains 10 per cent instead of dropping to 7 per cent, parts and accessories at 8 per cent instead of 5 per cent, beer at $9 instead of $8 a barrel, and wine at present varying percentages according to alcoholic content.

Heavy Voting Marks Area School Elections

Thousands of voters turned out under bright skies yesterday to cast their ballots in the annual elections in a number of Oakland County area school districts. Only where there were no races for board of education posts was the voting comparatively light.

SOUTHFIELD

A record number of voters turned out yesterday to cast their ballots in the Southfield Public District election—to favor a two-mill increase for operation by a vote of 1,695 to 1,379.

John G. Campbell, who was a candidate for election to the Board of Education last year and was defeated by a small margin, was successful in his bid for a three-year term yesterday. He polled 1,556 votes to incumbent appointee Ernest J. Coverdill's 1,221.

Gordon C. Henderson defeated incumbent Liev Larson for the four-year post on the Board by a vote of 1,101 to 838. The other two candidates for this position, Kenneth Carakostas and Sol Siegel, polled 336 and 609 respectively.

School officials said that unofficial returns seemed to indicate that yesterday's turnout of electors was way ahead of the number who went to the polls to vote on the bond issue two years ago.

ROCHESTER

The Board of Education of the Rochester Community Schools was given the go-ahead yesterday to proceed with its desired educational program for the next year when the voters favored a two-mill operating tax increase by a vote of 701 to 482.

Victor Zink was successful in his bid for election to the one vacancy on the Board. He polled 437 votes to 422 for John Terry, 266 for Fred Houghton and 85 for Raymond Storm.

HOLLY

In a relatively close race for election to the two posts open on the Board of Education of the Holly Area Schools, winners included one of the incumbents, Howard F. Chanter with 197 votes and newcomer Vasil M. Kerensky with 186.

Next highest vote-getter was William B. Darnton with 176, followed by the other incumbent Mrs. Elinore Seavey with 175 and Warren Mendez with 126.

FARMINGTON

Out of a possible 13,000 voters in the Farmington School District only 1,025 turned out to reelect Vernon P. Fisher and Leland G. Clifford yesterday in the race for the two positions on the School Board.

In the light voting Fisher came out with 680, Clifford with 670, and the loser A. William Tilder got 404 votes.

AVONDALE

Gordon S. Hamilton, president of the Avondale Board of Education, was defeated for re-election to one of the two positions open in yesterday's annual school election here.

R. Grant Graham, incumbent Board member, polled the most votes with 490, and next was Earl C. Wilson, Citizens Committee chairman, with 359. Hamilton received 266.

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP

Mrs. Frances M. Leaf was re-elected to her third three-year term on the Board of Education of the West Bloomfield Schools in yesterday's annual election. She received 387 votes to 253 for Frank Jones and 66 to Mrs. Virginia Vogelsburg. Only one post was open.

IMLAY CITY

In a close race yesterday in Imlay City School District, Howard Caldwell, incumbent, and Francis Spencer won over Kenneth Anderson for two positions on the Board of Education.

Caldwell polled 209 votes, Spencer 198, and Anderson 190.

The voters approved the Board's request to sell two parcels of land by a margin of 285 to 26. The two pieces are one-half acre, formerly the Donovan School property and three-fourths of an acre, which was the White Sand Hill School property.

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP

Voters in Dublin School District voted down an increase of eight mills for the operation of schools during the next eight years by a scant 6-vote majority. Also in the election yesterday incumbents Philip C. McCullough and Norman T. Seator were re-elected.

Voters turned down the millage issue despite the fact that they would have faced only a three mill hike since 5 mills are being deducted from the building bond at this time. The millage proposal was defeated 96 to 90.

ROMEO

The active campaign waged in recent weeks by backers of two of the remaining four candidates for the two positions open on the Board of Education in the Romeo Community School District paid off in yesterday's election.

Raymond Wilson and Mrs. C. Harold Wills were elected to office by votes of 665 and 574 respectively.

They far-outdistanced Clyde Hotchkiss Sr., the incumbent who polled 438 votes, and local attorney Edward A. Jacob, making his bid for election to the Board after six years' absence. He received 264 votes.

The three remaining candidates for the two vacancies had withdrawn from the race, but too late for their names to be eliminated from the ballot.

They were Conrad J. Friedemann, who received 26 votes, George Burns, 19 and M. T. Cummiskey, 14.

ALMONT

Robert Currey and Robert Wilson were elected yesterday to positions on the Board of Education of the Almont Community School District. The vacancies were created after two veteran members decided not to seek re-election this year.

Currey tallied 364 votes and Wilson 358. The other two candidates were Richard Bristol and Mrs. Jean Swayze, who received 320 and 290 votes respectively.

LYON TOWNSHIP

Wilfred A. Heidt upset incumbent William I. Markham yesterday in the contest for two Board of Education trustee offices of three-year duration in the Lyon Township School District.

MILFORD

Voters in the Huron Valley School District yesterday returned Mrs. Louise Dildine, the incumbent, to office for a one-year term. Eugene Martin was elected to a three-year term, and both the millage and teacher tenure proposals passed.

The millage proposal will provide funds for the maintenance of the schools in that area for the next five years.

In her bid for re-election, Mrs. Dildine polled 346 votes. Martin received 309. His competitors, Dr. Thomas Nugent, Anthony Coppola and Mervyn Kidd, received 225, 111, and 301 votes, respectively.

ROYAL OAK

Electors in the Royal Oak School District yesterday defeatd a five-mill increase for operation and a two-mill hike for new construction.

School officials said that as a result of the defeats, classroom programs will have to be reduced sharply. Supt. James C. Covert stated that elementary grades will lose 25 per cent classroom time.

FERNDALE

In Ferndale, voters turned out of office a supporter of demoted Principal Scott Street and elected two critics of Supt. Roy E. Robinson, who has been considered a Street sympathizer.

The school district has been split over progressive education.

E. Daniel Irwin was removed from the school board, and Mrs. Gretchen DeWinter and Edward W. Reid were elected.

WALLED LAKE

Reclassification of the Walled Lake Consolidated School District from fourth to third class was approved by the electorate yesterday. The proposal passed by a vote of 150 to 26.

Incumbent school board members Joseph Long and Julius Nelson, both unopposed, were returned to office by votes of 169 and 166 respectively.

TROY

Voters in the Troy School District named three to the Board of Education yesterday as they adopted a seven-man board policy.

President Ben S. Jones was returned to office for a four-year term with 446 votes.

Elected for three years was Mrs. Elizabeth Hotton with 414; and for two years, Gene Johnson with 278.

Other candidates were Robert Meade, 388; Harry Awdey, 222; Russell E. Kaufman, 352; Robert J. Tucker, 188; Jack B. Muir, 328; William Pickett, 262, and Larry E. Phillips, 273.

Squeals, Crash Stirs Franklin

Motorist Rams High Tension Pole, Escapes Shower of Sparks

FRANKLIN—All was quiet in this usually peaceful village early yesterday when all of a sudden there was a squeal of brakes, a resounding crash, and a flurry of shooting sparks coming from high tension wires.

All this occurred when James Schneider, 24, of 11423 Nashville, drove his car into a power pole on Franklin road in the middle of the village.

When the sparks started flying from the wires Schneider and his passenger, James C. Cronin, 27, of 428 Cadieux St., Grosse Pointe, leaped to safety.

The engine was still running and the car was still in gear. Then there was a loud explosion caused by the friction of the spinning wheels, — then another.

By this time aroused residents of Franklin had summoned State Police, fireman and ambulances. Cronin and Schneider were taken to William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. Both were released after first aid.

Schneider was ticketed for drunk driving. A Detroit Edison crew turned off the electricity and patched the wires. Franklin slept again.

LINDA MARIE GREENE

Mr. and Mrs. W. Rodger Greene of 1906 Pinecrest, Ferndale, announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Marie, to James Stewart Hull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Hull, 613 Commercial St.

They both are graduates of Michigan State University. The bride-elect was affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta and her fiance with Delta Upsilon.

VIVIAN LOUISE FREEMAN

The engagement of Vivian Louise Freeman to Louis J. Mallat has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Freeman, of 8090 Mario St., Commerce Township. The bridegroom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mallat, of 18245 Roseland Rd., Lathrup Village. The wedding date is set for Oct. 24.

BETTY ANN STEPHENS

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bohlman of 2566 Metamora Rd., Oxford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty Ann Stephens, to Oliver C. O'Dell, son of Mrs. Arthur Cox, of 1255 Amos Rd., Pontiac, and William O'Dell of Grand Rapids. A June wedding is planned.

Utica OKs School Bonds, Tenure Act for Teachers

UTICA — The Board of Education of the Utica Community School District was successful yesterday in its third attempt to gain passage of a bond issue for school expansion. The electorate favored the $2,886,000 issue by a 218-vote majority of 1,364 to 1,146.

Two previous issues, both for $5½ million, were defeated—one last September and one on April 20.

The other proposition on the ballot, requesting that teachers in the district be placed under the Teacher's Tenure Act, also passed. The vote was 1,633 to 921.

Incumbent Board Secretary George F. Roberts was successful in his bid for re-election. He received 1,052 votes with Charles F. Bannow right behind him with 1,000. The third candidate for the one vacancy was Gerald A. Moll who polled 512 votes.

Yesterday's bond proposal was pared almost in half to appeal to the voters and to try and avert half-day sessions believed necessary if no more money was made available now.

The latest bond issue will finance construction of a 24-room elementary school, 11-room additions to the West Utica and Ewell Elementary Schools, a four-room addition to the Dresden Elementary School and replacement of three rooms at Burr Elementary School.

It will also cover cost of replacing 16 rooms in the junior high school annex, of an addition to Sterling High School, enlargement of the high school cafeteria and sites and site development.

The bond issue was defeated in three of the four precincts but carried by 445 votes in the Dresden Village precinct — enough to carry the proposal.

To Get Teacher's Degree

WASHINGTON — Kay Jean Diselrod will receive her bachelor of science degree in education and her teacher's certificate Saturday from Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

★ ★ ★

State High Court to Get Street Case

To Review Ferndale Row

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court has agreed to review a dispute over progressive education in Ferndale which resulted in a school principal being demoted to teacher.

Last February the Ferndale Board of Education dropped Scott W. Street as principal of the Paul Best School and re-assigned him to a visiting teacher post.

The Board said he ignored its policy by following progressive teaching methods at the school.

In March, the State Tenure Commission ruled Street was entitled to serve out the school year as principal.

The school Board appealed to the high court, contending the Tenure Commission lacked jurisdiction in the case.

The board argued Street had tenure as a teacher, but not in the administrative capacity of principal.

★ ★ ★

Last Thursday Street wrote a letter to 400 Ferndale citizens announcing that he would quit the school system. He said a formal letter of resignation to the school board had not yet been composed.

Sees Steady Prices for Michigan Wheat

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan wheat producers can look forward to steady prices between now and harvest time, a Michigan State University economist reports.

★ ★ ★

John Ferris says prices should stay near the effective support level of $1.70 to $1.85 per bushel from August to next April.

★ ★ ★

However, he notes that prices may dip below the support level at harvest of weather conditions are good.

Ferris estimates Michigan will harvest nearly 33,000,000 bushels of wheat this summer, about average for the past 10 years.

Schools Offering Summer Term

Six-Week Session at Rochester Will Begin June 15, End July 24

ROCHESTER — Rochester Community Schools are offering a six-week summer session beginning June 15 and ending July 24, Superintendent Donald C. Baldwin announced today.

Classes on the elementary level will be set up to provide remedial help in reading and arithmetic. Groups will be limited to 20 students per teacher and will be separated into age groups.

Parents will be required to furnish transportation. Tuition will be $15 for the full morning of of instruction during the six-week period.

On the junior and senior high level, courses will be offered as demanded. It is expected that enough students will be interested in English, U.S. history, and government to offer these courses on the high school level.

Junior high courses will be offered in English, science and mathematics. Junior and senior high tuition fees will be $15 per course or $25 for two courses.

Parents and students interested in the program should contact the building principals to make arrangements, the superintendent said.

Jerusalem's unique antiquities are carefully preserved, the National Geographic Magazine says. In the Arab section, which holds many of the world's most sacred shrines, the city council must pass upon all improvements. No structure may be changed without written permission, and an ordinance forbids erection of any building near the 16th Century walls that still encircle the Holy City.

Youth Code Distributed by Troy Guidance Unit

TROY — A Youth Code of Behavior was recently distributed to all junior and senior high school students in Troy. The code was prepared by the Troy Child Protection and Youth Assistance Committee with the cooperation of Troy students.

The code is intended to be a basis for determining acceptable conduct regarding proper dress, dating, parent-youth relationships, allowances, car and property respect, profanity, drinking and smoking, a committee spokesman said today.

Copies will also be given to the new seventh graders entering Baker Junior High School in September.

A year ago, several members of the Youth Protection Committee met with 13 representative students to make up a questionnaire on youth behavior in Troy. Nearly all the questions for the questionnaire came directly from these young people.

A seven-page questionnaire was prepared and given to all students in grades seven through 12. The results were then tallied by the Youth Protection Committee members and the code formulated from the students' answers.

Contributions from the Troy Rotary Club, Troy Exchange Club and the Troy City Commission paid for the printing of the code. Mrs. Herman Trost, PTA representative on the committee, Boyd Larson, assistant superintendent of Troy schools; Peyton Goodwin, high school athletic director and recreation department director and the Rev. Reginald Hocking, minister of Big Beaver Methodist Church, are the members of the Youth Protection Committee who worked together and with the students in the preparation of the code.

EXTRA COPIES

Extra copies of the code may be obtained from the Troy Police Dept. or from Gerald Judd at Troy City Hall. Judd is the case worker for Troy and executive secretary of the Troy Child Protection and Youth Assistance Committee.

The Rev. Ralph Janka of Troy Methodist Church, who is chairman of the Youth Protection Committee, said, "We are very pleased with the results of those young people and adults who have worked so diligently to produce this new youth code. It has taken us some time to complete it because we have sought to give our young people themselves ample opportunity to express their own views.

"Though we are certain that this code does not answer all of the questions on youth behavior, we do feel that this will provide a good basis for young people and their parents to discuss and decide upon these important matters," the Rev. Janka commented.

One Way to Halt Hi-Infidelity—Abby

Wife Offers Her Job to Siren: 4 Kids, $25 Week, No Day Off

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband started cheating on me and being no dummy I knew it. I kept still about it. Finally I got a phone call from a woman who said she was my husband's "sweetheart." She said if I would give up my husband she could make him happy as they were in love. I told her to come on over and I would move out and she could take over.

ABBY

I said, "There's a 9-room house and four kids (one still in diapers) to take care of. All the laundry and cooking, no time out and $25.00 a week to cover everything." She slammed the receiver down and that was the end of the affair. That was 19 years ago, Abby. My husband hasn't cheated since.

NO DUMMY

DEAR NO: Good for you! If every girl who had designs on a married man would visualize herself in the "wife's boots" there would be less "hi-infidelity."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My problem is the same one that faces almost every teenaged girl I know. It's the anti-social attitude of the boys our age. We don't understand it. They run around with boys their own age for entertainment and rarely include girls. If they go to dances, they go stag. At parties they stand around in little groups and talk to each other.

If it's money they're worried about, I wish you'd tell them that most girls don't have to go to expensive places to have a good time. A walk or a ride or an evening at her house would be heaven. Please answer this and wake up a couple of million young men. Thanks. JUDY

DEAR JUDY: Your letter is typical. I am printing it in hope that it will inspire some shy guys to call up a girl who looks interesting and simply invite himself over.

DEAR ABBY: I've been divorced since 1955. I am raising two children. I met a nice fellow who lost his wife two years ago. He has three children of school age. We get along swell and are thinking of marriage but we have big problems unsolved. Should I move into his house or should he move into mine? Should I sell my car or should he sell his? Should I continue to work. He wants me to quit. Thanks for any help you can offer. M. AND M.

DEAR M. AND M.: Select the home that would be best for your five children. If neither is adequate, sell them both and buy another. If you don't need two cars, sell yours and share your husband's. If he doesn't want you to work — quit. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman of 63. My sister's daughter is ten years old. They were in my home and during the conversation I made a small error in my English and the ten year-old spoke up quickly to correct me. Her mother thought it was very smart and cute. Was it right for the child to correct me in front of other people and was it right for her mother to approve?

CORRECTED

DEAR CORRECTED: The little girl may have learned her English lessons well, but she failed a far more important lesson: "Respect for her elders and consideration for others." Rude children are the products of ignorant parents.

Use Family Plan

Select The Way You'll Go

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Vacations mean different things to different people. What is fascinating to one individual might bore another to death. However, there is a general meeting ground. There is one thing a vacation must be if it is to be a vacation to anyone, and that is relief from usual routine and responsibilities. If it deserves the name "vacation" there must be no familiar deadlines to meet at home, at work, or just in life.

I think a trip on a ship or a boat is extremely restful. You are completely cut off from your regular life. However, the same thing is true of a trip on a train or plane or even in the family car if you do not continually call home or the office.

If you are going on a vacation some distance from home, it is wise to think carefully about your mode of transportation. Some people like to get there in a hurry and spend more time in one spot; therefore they prefer flying. Others feel that half the pleasure of a trip is seeing the changing countryside. These like best a trip by train or bus or in their own car.

FAMILY PLAN

If you plan to go by train you may not know of the Family Plan which often is available. This means that the husband pays full round trip fare and the wife only the fare for one way. If there are children between the ages 12 and 22, each pays, like the wife, one way. If the children are between the ages of 5 and 12, each pays one-half of one way.

All eastern railroad lines have this plan and it applies to trips to the far west, the mid-west and the southwest. I imagine many other railroads have similar plans.

And this is a nice feature: If you buy a roundtrip ticket from New York to San Francisco, you could go to Los Angeles and San Diego without any extra charge and have the same stopover privileges you have with any ticket. If you are using the family plan, you must depart on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday.

If you are flying, you will find the costs on all airlines pretty much standardized. Many of them offer special rates on some trips if you depart on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday.

All major airlines have a down-payment plan. The terms may differ from company to company but in general one has from six to 12 months to pay after an initial deposit of 25 per cent of the total cost has been made.

Many people have the idea that flying tourist means flying on old or two engine planes. Most lines have tourist flights on their best planes. Tourist flight is designated in a number of ways. Often planes are tourist when they travel at odd hours like a 3 a.m., departure. Or often the plane may be divided into tourist and first class, depending on seating.

On one line there is no "deluxe" meal served to tourist-class passengers. On another airline, tourist has no reserved seats. So it varies. In some instances it may mean a two-engine plane, but anyone can get tourist passage on a four engine plane. Usually the difference between first and tourist is just a question of a little extra luxury in comfort and service.

Buses are the cheapest means of transportation. Of course the time element is greater, but they are faster than in the past. And here you can look leisurely at the passing countryside. They also go some places trains and planes don't.

If Tact Fails Try a Club—Frankness

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I moved to the suburbs about six months ago and like living here very much except for one thing — over-friendly neighbors. There is one in particular who lives next door to me who thinks nothing of running in and out of my house every chance she gets. I am busy all morning with household chores and I find this constant intrusion very annoying. Will you please tell me how to cope with this situation without being unduly rude?"

Answer: Your problem of an overfriendly neighbor is a serious one that has no satisfactory solution. Try, without being rude to be less than enthusiastic when she comes in. If this does not help, be busy and ask if she won't come back later, or tell her frankly that you don't like to be seen by her until you are dressed for guests, and your house is in apple pie order.

Dear Mrs. Post: I think it is too formal to say "how do you do" when introduced to young people of my own age (I'm 13). Mother thinks this may be true, but she also think's that "hello" or "hi" isn't just the thing to say to strangers, no matter how young they are. I would like your opinion."

Answer: When you are introduced to an older person, it is correct and not too formal to say "how do you do." "Hello" or "hi" is quite all right when you are introduced to anyone your own age.

St. Paul Church Scene of Saturday Wedding

Are We Overlooking Important Virtues?

By RUTH MILLETT

Today's parents are so concerned with the social adjustment of their children and so anxious for them to be "accepted by the group" that they often neglect some of their other duties as parents.

As parents we are obligated to open our children's eyes to the fact that there is a big, wide world beyond their school, their friends, and their own town. But the more concern we show for their place in their own little group, the smaller the world looks to them.

As parents it is our duty to teach our children how to enjoy being alone, to acquaint them with the fun of reading, listening to music, of doing things with their hands, of soaking in the beauty of a sunset or a bird's song. But if we are so busy rushing them to dancing class, to Little League ball games, to swimming lessons and to birthday parties we don't have much time to learn how to enjoy being alone and they don't either.

As parents one of our big jobs is to teach our children to think for themselves and to develop their own individuality. But the more concerned we are with seeing that they "fit in with the group" the more cowardly we are about encouraging them to be themselves.

As parents we know that such basic character traits as honesty, the qualities our children are going to need to meet life's later demands. Yet we often neglect to develop those traits because we are so busy emphasizing the qualities that lead to "popularity" and quick acceptance by other children.

★ ★ ★

It's fine and dandy to help our children become accepted members of their group. But that's no reason for overlooking some of our other responsibilities toward them.

Sour Cream, Cheese Varies Beef Noodle Dish

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Casserole dishes are good in the summer time. You may make them ahead of time and have them piping hot, ready for service on the patio or porch. This hearty casserole from Mrs. Lawrence Shepard of Rochester may be prepared the day before it is needed.

Mrs. Shepard is an active young homemaker. She is on the MSU Alumni Board of the county, belongs to the Junior Women's Club and the Village Players in Rochester and likes to ski with her husband.

GOULASH
By Mrs. Lawrence Shepard

1 pound ground chuck
1 chopped garlic clove
Salt and pepper
2 cans (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1 cup sour cream
1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese
6 chopped green onions
1 package (8 oz.) noodles, boiled
Grated cheddar cheese

Fry meat in 1 tablespoon butter, pulling off tiny balls of the meat as it cooks. Add garlic and tomato sauce and simmer 15-20 minutes.

In a casserole put ⅓ of the noodles, ⅓ of the sour cream mixture, then ⅓ of the meat. Repeat twice more. Top with grated cheddar cheese. Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Serves six.

'It's Not Enough Cold, the Heart,' Says Anna

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — There is a softness about Anna Magnani that one wouldn't expect to find in the most earthy, explosive actress in the world.

She makes every move from the heart. And "it's not enough cold, the heart."

She almost cries when she talks of her polio-stricken son, and she wilts with emotion when she remembers the stray dogs she has taken into her life, and she moans in real agony over the English language.

"Ah," Anna said softly, shoving her hands through the least glamorous hairdo in movies, "I get so mad at me, I don't speak good. I want to tell about how I feel about life and how can I—I am so bad at saying." There were frustrated tears in her eyes. "I don't like much interviews, I'm sorry."

It was an unusual occasion. Miss Magnani gives so few press interviews she is compared to the inaccessible Garbo, and proud of it. "I respect very much Garbo's way of life, and I am the same. I work for them (the fans) so they judge me as an actress, not as a person. You will not ask what toothpaste I use? Is a crazy question."

We came prepared with the few facts that are known about this dark, vital actress who has been Italy's most powerful star since the 1930s and an American box-office favorite since her "The Open City" and "The Rose Tattoo." We asked first about her 15-year-old son, Luca, a polio victim. Was he well? She studied the question, with saddened eyes, before she spoke.

"I do not talk about him, if you don't mind," she smiled finally. "He has a wonderful face. That I can tell you."

The actress, herself, has the most wonderfully facile face we've ever tossed questions to. Every thought passes across her face like a storm or a zephyr; the only expression that never appears is boredom.

"I'm like—you know, when the horse is in the box for the race," she explained. "I am full of emotion, full of temper, full of joy. I don't like to be under an anaesthetic. I like to suffer and to joy and that's life."

She has been called "temperamental," but claims she is not, in the usual sense. "To be temperamental is to be capricious, and I am not at all. When I want something I know it's right for me, and if other people think it's wrong, I don't care."

Miss Magnani care nothing for chic. She clips her own unpainted fingernails, washes her hair in the shower and dries it in the wind, wears black sweater and slacks whenever possible. She does not do it for "effect."

"Other women may like other ways, but I don't know other women. I know only myself. Everyone is a little world for themselves."

She has never performed on television, never intends to, doesn't even watch it. Asked if she doesn't occasionally break down and watch the good dramatic shows, she was round-eyed. "Where they are—the good dramatic shows?" she asked.

★ ★ ★

She rarely makes more than one film a year, because not enough suitable roles come along. "I wear a role like a dress. It must be good material." About Hollywood actors who never rest between pictures, she shrugged.

"I don't know why they do it," she said. Then her eyes brightened as if with realization. "Maybe you need more role over here, huh—to pay your tax?"

Miss Magnani has been in New York since early May, preparing for her role opposite Marlon Brando in a Tennessee Williams film, "The Fugitive Kind." It frightens her, the thought of making a movie with Brando. She has dreamed of it, and so has he, for four years.

"I hope really to make the best picture in my life," she cried, clutching her fingers together as if this grip would keep her from exploding. "I am the horse in the box again, waiting to start."

Two Congressmen Fear Lobby Ups Defense Cost

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heads of two potent House committees share President Eisenhower's concern about what has been called the munitions lobby, but they doubt that a congressional probe would solve anything.

They agreed lobbying activities have had the result of forcing defense costs higher, but they pretty well agreed also that the average citizen himself unwittingly is a strong force behind the drives.

These views came from Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee and Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La) of a House Armed Services investigating subcommittee.

But they and other Congress members who were interviewed had differing ideas on what constitutes a munitions lobby—if any.

Of course there are sales representatives trying to peddle their firms' products to the government and, to do that, seeking congressional appropriations to provide the money. Some push newly developed planes, or missiles, or guns as the best and most necessary weapons of defense.

★ ★ ★

Hebert referred to advertising as one of the stronger ways the lobby works. He and Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) criticized some firms' hiring of high-ranking military officers as they retire. Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) referred to executives from business and industry who hold temporary but important posts in the Pentagon.

But Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), Senate majority leader and head of a Senate Preparedness investigating subcommittee, discounted the idea of a 'munitions lobby as such.

"I don't know any who deserve that label," Johnson said.

He saw no need for an investigation, and was joined in that view by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), a former secretary of the Air Force and a sharp critic of Eisenhower administration defense policies.

★ ★ ★

The subject came up at Eisenhower's news conference last week. A reporter said several senators had quoted the President as having spoken sharply to them about efforts by a munitions lobby to alter his defense program.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower said he didn't think he had used that term, but said he doesn't want to see political and financial considerations involved in defense matters.

Ike Sees Need of Higher Rates

U.S. Bond Holders May Earn More

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower proposed Monday to give the savers a b r e a k. It's been a long time coming.

Those who buy U.S. savings bonds — whether at their bank or through payroll deductions — may see their returns from new purchases go up by one half per cent to 3¾ per cent.

And there's sweetening proposed for those who are holding bonds—despite the jeers of their neighbors who have been piling up profits (at least paper ones) in the stock market. The yield on outstanding savings bonds, even those that have matured, may be raised.

Should you cash your old bonds to buy new ones?

Better look carefully before you do. When and if the Congress agrees to the President's proposal, the treasury is likely to increase the yield by shortening the maturity time of the new bonds.

Present E bonds yield 3¼ per cent if held to maturity—8 years and 11 months. In the early years after purchasing the bonds yield much less if redemmed.

To increase the yield at maturity to 3¾ per cent the treasury is likely to shorten the period of maturity (you'll still pay $75 for a $100 bond).

But, as in the case of the present bonds, the 3¾ per cent yield won't be paid if the bonds are redeemed in the early years after purchase.

CHECK TABLE

Before reedeming your present bonds you should look carefully at the maturity tables to see how much you'll get for them and how long you'll have to hold the new bonds before they yield you as much as your present ones now do.

There also is a tax angle — especially those who are holding bonds that they expect to redeem only after they retire.

Those who haven't been prorating the interest on the bonds each year, but are waiting to pay income tax on the interest in one lump after they finally redeem them, may do well to wait until they retire. Their annual income will be lower then and the interest won't land them in an expensively higher bracket.

The Congress may or may not agree with the President on raising bond interest rates. But raising rates on savings bonds will be more popular than some other of the President's proposals.

Why does the treasury want to pay higher interest rates on your savings bonds?

First, at present rates more bonds have been turned in for redemption than new bonds have been sold.

Those who redeemed them were lured by higher returns from other investments.

That's a drain on the treasury—at a time when it's been running a deficit—that it can't afford.

Second, sale of savings bonds is almost free of the taint of inflation. They can't be sold, as many other government securities can — only redeemed. Thus they take money out of circulation as long as they are held.

Some other government securities — mainly the shortest term ones — are regarded in financial circles as "the next thing to cash." Their practical effect on the volume of money and credit is called by many financial experts as almost the same as if the Treasury had merely turned on the printing presses.

The nation's money managers are trying hard to hold down excess expansion of money and credit at a time when business recovery seems set to turn into boom. The more savings bonds you buy the better the Treasury should like it.

Man-Changed Weather Might Change Man

WASHINGTON (NEA)—No telling what's going to happen to man when we start changing the cli-

That thought has scientists worried. Some of them have been discussing the problem informally in and out of meetings of the National Academy of Sciences.

They note that man is delicately adjusted to the weather:

That men—husbands and bachelors both—get more emotional at certain periods of the month and in different seasons of the year.

That reports from Europe indicate periods of warm and dry southerly winds are always associated with increases in death rates, in automobile accidents, in mental disorders.

That climatic changes "have probably been influential" in determining the growth and decay of civilizations all over the world.

That many physicians are convinced that "ertain types of weather disturbances are associated with particular illnesses.

Diseases — even diabetes — ebb and flow with the seasons. So do outbreaks of crime.

THE ADDITION OF DATA from weather satellites to that already collected by other methods will give man a more comprehensive picture of weather and help in discovering how climate affects man's physical and mental condition.

Scientists note that any changes from the narrow range of environment man is used to—are likely to cause serious disturbances.

Some scientists are apparently as concerned about the effects of air conditioning on man — as they are about space travel or about tampering with the weather itself.

What happens to a man, questions Rene J. Dubos, of the Rockefeller Institute in New York, who makes "sudden and repeated shifts from the hot, humid atmosphere of the street to the cool and dry environment indoors? Comfort of the moment may have to be paid in the future in the form of new respiratory and circulatory disorders."

What that might eventually do to his emotions makes some scientists click their tongues. Of course, for all the scientists know, it could change man for the better.

There were several things besides weather that worried the scientists looking into man's fragility. There was new research information on animals which suggested that men might possibly be more easily killed by atomic radiation than women.

There were reports that large atomic or hydrogen bombs explode at the right heights hundreds of miles in the atmosphere would kill by radiation men living in satellites long distances away.

The scientists looked to animals to determine more new ideas on what climate changes might do to man.

They noted that animals living in colder climates are usually larger than those living in warmer climates.

They quoted reports that the higher the temperature, the faster ants move.

They referred to findings that whole new strains of some viruses develop when living under slight differences in temperature.

And, reported one researcher, referring to crickets: "It is said that counting the number of chirps in 14 seconds and adding 40 will give the temperature within a couple of degrees."

But they didn't go so far as to say that upping the temperature of the world would make man smaller, make him work faster—or make him sing with a quicker rhythm.

Ike Gets Bill for Space Funds

Nearly $500,000,000 Approved by Congress for Civilian Agency

The House completed congressional action on the spending authority for the nation's civilian space agency by agreeing to senate admendments to the bill.

As passed by the Senate last week, the bill authorized $485,300,000 for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

This was the exact amount requested by Eisenhower but was $50,000 above the amount voted previously by the House.

The actual funds are provided in separate appropriations bills now pending before committees in both house.

Although the Senate restored some funds that had been deleted by the House Space Committee, Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La) of the House group recommended that the House go along with the Senate action. After only moments of debate, the House agreed.

The major items in the NASA authorization bill include 333 million dollars for research and development, about 58 million for construction and equipment and some 94 million for salaries and expenses.

Included in research and development are 70 million dollars for project Mercury, America's manned space flight program. Under this program, NASA hopes to launch a man into orbit and return him safely to earth some time during the next 18 months.

Senate Turns to Dillon OK

Up for Confirmation as Undersecretary of State in Today's Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—With debate on Lewis L. Strauss temporarily bogged down, the Senate turns its attention today to confirmation of C. Douglas Dillon as undersecretary of state.

Dillon, approved 16-1 by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is expected to win overwhelming confirmation by the Senate, probably today. But he faces opposition from Sen. Russell K. Long (D-La), who prepared to speak against the nomination.

Dillon was named to succeed Christian A. Herter as first undersecretary when Herter replaced the late John Foster Dulles as secretary of state.

Long's argument, first heard in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is that Dillon represents the "type of leadership" responsible for what Long calls the failure of the foreign aid program.

Action on Dillon's nomination had been held up pending Long's return from the South where his uncle, Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana, has been placed in a psychiatric hospital in Texas.

Ike Aide Sees No Drop in Debt

Merriam Says More Taxes Could Damage Federal System

MONTREAL (AP) — President Eisenhower's deputy assistant, Robert E. Merriam, said Monday there is little or no chance of reducing the record national debt of the United States in the next year or so.

"We will be fortunate to hold the line," Merriam said in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Mutual Finance Officers Assn. of Canada.

However, Merriam said, budget surpluses which would permit debt reduction and federal tax cuts are essential if state and local governments are to avoid serious financial trouble.

He said federal borrowing to maintain a national debt of 286 billion dollars makes it difficult for other levels of government to sell bonds to finance needed programs. And, he added high federal taxes make it equally difficult for state and local officials to boost tax levies.

At present, he said, state and local taxes have gone just about as high as they can go in many areas unless federal taxes are cut.

Merriam said that if demands for more federal spending are translated into new programs, "there will be no loosening of resources to state and local governments. In fact, either federal taxes would have to be raised or more deficit financing undertaken."

He said this would create pressures which "could do irretrievable damage to the federal system."

"I'm not particularly proud of it," he says. "But then maybe they wouldn't think much of my being on the side of the law."

Most Soviet Doctors Women, Get $75 a Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet medicine is a state-run affair from birth to death and the Communist party claims credit for the health standards of the people.

Three-fourths of Soviet doctors are women. Men go into engineering or science, which have higher government priorities and pay more.

★ ★ ★

Soviet physicians get the equivalent of $75 amonth when they graduate from a medical institute, about half the pay of an airline hostess or truck driver.

★ ★ ★

Those are some of the conclusions reached by a five man American exchange team headed by Dr. Thomas Parran, former U.S. surgeon general. The group toured the Soviet Union last year.

The report said Soviet progress in medicine since czarist times was "as impressive as the appearance of Sputnik." But medical care and educational standards still "fall far short of those in the United States."

Can Bring Bride to U.S. From Russia—If Real

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is willing to let a Boston student bring his Russian bride home — if he really has the bride and if the Soviet government agrees.

★ ★ ★

A department spokesman discussed the matter Monday in response to inquiries about the status of Thomas Joseph Hegarty, 23, a student at Moscow and Leningrad Universities, and Luisa Ivanovna.

Hegarty, one of 22 American graduate students studying in Russia under an exchange program, informed the American embassy in Moscow in April of his intention to marry Luisa.

The department said as far as it knows he did marry her, but has never officially notified the embassy of this.

The spokesman said Luisa is reported to have been born in Uruguay and to have been brought to Russia by her parents. She is understood to have retained her Uruguayan citizenship in addition to having acquired Soviet citizenship.

Charge Navy Flotilla Would Jam Seaway

ST. ANDREWS, N.B. (UPI) — A Great Lakes shipowner charged that plans for a 32-ship U.S. Navy Flotilla to transit the St. Lawrence Seaway this summer on a courtesy visit could delay Great Lakes shipping schedules up to three days.

T. R. McLagan, president of Canada Steamship Lines, which operates one of the biggest lake fleets, added that "repercussions" of the visit "will be felt for at least three weeks."

McLagan said lake shipping companies and industrial interests had protested to the Canadian government about the plans for the U.S. units, led by the heavy cruiser Macon, to travel through the waterway as a group en route to ports on the lower lakes. The visit is sheduled for this summer.

The Welland Canal so far has proved to be the biggest bottleneck in the seaway complex.

Doctor Uses 'Spine Jack' to Ease Back Curvature

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Successful use of a metal "spine jack" to reduce curvature of the backbone was reported Monday by a New York orthopedic surgeon.

The jack, about six inches long, operates much the same as one used to raise the wheels of an automobile. Instead of lifting something, it's attached to the curved spine in such a way that it presses against the two extremities of the curve, tending to straighten it.

Dr. H. Leslie Wenger of New York City described its development in a scientific exhibit at the opening of the American Medical Assn. 108th annual meeting.

The jack is inserted during an operation, attached to the curved spine by means of two special screws inserted through vertebrae, and then elongated with an end-wrench until the maximum correction of the curved spine is attained.

The instrument is left in the body indefinitely, Wenger told of several cases where the jack has now been in place for periods up to more than four years.

At another exhibit, a team of Walter Reed Army Medical researchers described development of a kind of sword or sword-swallowing technique to get tissue samples from inside the body to test them for cancer and certain other conditions.

★ ★ ★

A tiny, rotating, spring-activated knife is contained in a small capsule which the patient swallows. The capsule is attached to the end of a tube through which suction can be applied to pull part of the bowel surface into the capsule, the knife is automatically "uncorked" and cuts a tiny slice of tissue then the capsule then is drawn out through the patient's mouth.

Vacation on Wheels Wins Thomas

California Family Decides Trailer Fun

By BOB THOMAS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — What's it like to take a vacation in a trailer?

When you're on the highway, you have the strange feeling that something is following your car closely. (Something is.)

You're surprised when you can't make a quick getaway from a signal, and climbing hills is a bit of a strain. But on flat roads you scarcely remember what you're hauling.

Living in the trailer makes you claustrophobic at first. But then you become delighted at how cozy and convenient everything is.

It all started when another Associated Press staffer, Jack Quigg, suggested we join his family on a trailer vacation. The suggestion sounded like a lark, so we tried it.

★ ★ ★

First, preparation. I pored over the California Vehicle Code to learn the laws about trailers. You can't drive faster than 45 m.p.h. You've got to have rear lights on the trailer and wide-arm side mirrors on your car.

SMALL ONES BEST

Mobile homes of 30 feet and over cost from $3,500 to $9,000. But most trailers rented for vacations are 15-footers. They can sleep four comfortably, have gas stove and oven, electric lights, ice box and dining area.

They are under 1,500 pounds; California state law requires special brakes and hitches above that weight. Rental in the Los Angeles area: $25 a week.

Enough of facts, let's get on the road. I got the family car equipped with a hitch and reported to a company in Sun Valley to pick out a handsome 23-footer.

So I pulled out, the monster behind me. As Dixon suggested, it followed right along. I soon realized I didn't even need to make the wide, sweeping turns around corners.

At home, the parents and two daughters loaded the home-on-wheels with a hundred pounds of food, clothes, bedding, books, games, records, etc. Storage space was everywhere. At last we were ready for the big adventure and set out on the Hollywood Freeway.

DRIVING DIFFERENT

It's unnerving at first to cling to the right-hand lane with the old folks and trucks while the other cars go whizzing past. But you get used to it. You also learn to baby your load along accelerating deliberately and anticipating the stops.

First stop was a trailer park near Palm Springs. We got parked—backing up isn't easy, as you may have suspected—and hooked up to water, electricity and sewer.

Then we began the trailer life. First impressions:

1. Living is amazingly simple—like camping out but with the comforts of civilization. Cheap, too. Park rentals averaged $2 a night. Compare this to motel or hotel lodging, plus eating out.

2. Trailer folks are warm and friendly. But they don't intrude; there seems to be a mutual respect of privacy.

After two days in the sun, we pulled the plugs and headed south through the date palms and orange groves to Borrego Springs, a lovely, unspoiled section of desert amid rolling mountains. This was our first experience with no parking space; trailer facilities at the state park were full. So we found a privately operated park.

Carl and Olga Vogt, parents of five children, both work at other jobs to finance a swimming pool and other facilities for their trailer enterprise. We learned a trailer park is no small investment. The Vogts figure a $1,500 bill for each installation.

New parks for 100 trailers are costing an initial $250,000. There are 14,000 in the country today. Despite the big cost, 1,000 new ones are being added yearly.

Another two days passed swiftly, and then we left the desert for the mountains of San Diego County. After a side trip to Mt. Palomar observatory, we continued to the Pacific for our last stop before heading up the Coast Highway to home.

Our trailer experiment was a success, a refreshing escape to the simple life. If you try it, I'd make these suggestions:

1. Don't try to cover too much ground. Pulling a trailer is more tiring than ordinary touring.

2. Make sure you'll have a place to park. Facilities are often crowded, and many parks won't take travelers, especially those with children.

3. Go with another family. It's more fun that way.

Crash That Killed 16 Migrants Probed

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — More than a half-dozen agencies and organizations today continued their investigations into a fiery crash of a makeshift bus in which 16 Mexican farm workers were killed.

Three of the 32 laborers injured in Monday's accident remained in critical condition.

The victims were cremated when the heavily loaded vehicle smashed into a tree and exploded in flames. Most were asleep on the floor or trapped near the front of the bus—a converted truck with canvas sides and top, and no windows.

The driver, Natividad Manuel Gloria Jr., 20, told the highway patrol he dozed at the wheel. He was booked for investigation of manslaughter.

Lear, Inc. Sales Soar

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Lear, Inc. announces first quarter sales were up to 35 million dollars as compared with $25,250,000 for the same period last year. The firm also has a backlog of orders worth $75,250,000 for electronic aviation controls.

Middle age is when you stop having emotions and start having symptoms . . . Nowadays if a couple's minds don't run in the same channel, they need two TV sets . . . Two can't live as cheaply as one—but in June, who cares? —Earl Wilson.

Two Change Minds, Admit to Assault

Two Detroit brothers changed their minds yesterday and pleaded guilty to assault with intent to commit armed robbery in the holdup in April of Epps Store, 27661 Northwestern Highway, Southfield.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer set sentencing for June 22 for James E. Bailey, 28, of 8545 Dumbarton St., and Carl E. Bailey, 30, of 19488 Fielding St.

The Baileys, both prison parolees, pleaded innocent May 11 to an original charge of armed robbery. They were being held in the county jail awaiting trial.

When taken before Judge Beer yesterday, both men decided to plead guilty to the reduced charge, although it, too, carries a maximum term of life imprisonment.

They are charged with robbing the store of an arsenal of five weapons, shells, and $536 while one brother held a .38 revolver on eight customers.

Detective Work Returns Chimp Worth $1,250

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Scientific detective work returned Lulu, a rare Duala chimpanzee worth $1,250, to the Oakland pet shop from which she was stolen.

★ ★ ★

At the time of the theft, police took Lulu's fingerprints from a drinking glass. Six weeks later, they matched them with those of a chimp found in Glendale, 400 miles away. It was Lulu.

TV Refugee Alan Young Forced Back to U. S.

By BOB THOMAS

Young was told recently by the American Embassy in London that he would lose his American citizenship if he stayed any longer in England.

The comedian, who had been working in his native land for most of three years, explained: "I'm here because there isn't any comedy on television in the states. If I went back there, I'd be out of work and collecting unemployment insurance. Think of the money I'm saving the government!"

The officials weren't impressed with his argument, and so he's back in his adopted country.

It is perhaps a commentary on the state of comedy that Young has returned not to play it for laughs. He is appearing in a dramany TV shows there, as well as Time Machine."

This is the same fellow who did some wonderfully comic things in pictures like "Margie" and "Chicken Every Sunday" and was one of the early hits in television. Yet he had to return to England to work as a laugh-getter. He did many TV shows there, aswell as the movie "Tom Thumb."

"The English still like their comedy," Young said. "They are intensely loyal to their old favorites, almost too much so. You see some pretty dreadful comedy, all because the public keeps supporting the oldtimers.

"Another thing is that there are only two TV channels in England. With so little exposure, comedians can last longer over there."

★ ★ ★

It's different over here, as he himself can testify. He was a victim of TV's voracious appetite for performers, especially comics.

Young put his finger on another element: greed.

"I think maybe the comedy stars ask for too much money," he said. "The price of comedy shows has gone up and up until sponsors get panicky. If they don't get a good rating in the first four weeks, they cancel."

Calls on Rebels to Surrender

Nicaraguan Army Chief Claims Victory in First Real Test

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Nicaragua's commander in chief today called on rebels against his family's government to surrender and claimed they had been knocked out in the rebellion's first major battle.

★ ★ ★

Gen. Anastasio Somoza, brother of President Luis Somoza, said the insurgents apparently ran out of ammunition in a bloody battle Monday which, he claimed, marked a decisive turn. Neighboring Honduras reported, however, that civil resistance to the Somoza regime was increasing.

Agustin Torres Lazo, first secretary of the Nicaraguan Embassy in Washington, resigned Monday and aligned himself with the anti-Somoza faction led from Costa Rica by Dr. Enrique Lacayo Farfan.

Gen. Somoza gave no figures on casualties—either for the rebels or the National Guard—in the two-hour battle on a rain-drenched hill known as Cerro de la Guna about 120 miles northeast of Managua.

But he said, "I consider militarily these people (the rebels) are liquidated."

Message to the Worry-Clutchers---Try Joy

I've seen you scrunch past a million times, with your lips clamped tight and your eyes like oncoming thunder.

You don't walk. You grind the pavements beneath your feet.

You don't see people. You see potential pickpockets.

You don't live. You hate yourself into gritty dust.

Yes, it's you I'm talking about—the you who can't bear the reflection of yourself in a store window.

Wise up, willya? Life's too short for hatred. Ponder a minute on that old wheeze. Even if you live out your three score and ten—which you won't, at the rate you're using up your vital juices—there isn't time for hatred.

I'm watching you go past on the street as I sit here at a typewriter.

You don't look good. You're gray, even when young—although you probably were born old.

You rush all the time, to destination nowhere. What's the hurry? The grave will claim you soon enough, and the grass will grow unhurried to cover you.

★ ★ ★

Try strolling. Start earlier and take longer. Risk a smile now and then—even a secret inward smile. Work up, or outward, to a smile at some total stranger. Even me. We won't misunderstand. We'll stop being saddened by the sight of you.

Joy, glory, happiness are your rightful legacy—from God or your healthy heartbeat, if yous till have one. Unfrown. Unsnarl. Unzip your resentments. Love. The early Christians knew the meaning of that. Whatever became of them, or of the Word?

Okay, it's raining. Don't hunch your shoulders like a brooding hen. Walk in the rain. Strut in it. You're waterproof. The worst that can happen to you is a head cold and a dry-cleaning job. You'll recover from both.

Slow down. Straighten up. This is your world. Enjoy it. Don't look down your nose at strangers; they'll only look back at you. Glare at the world—as I just saw you doing—and it will snap at your heels.

★ ★ ★

So endeth today's sermon, which never would have happened if your reporter had not glimpsed himself in a store window mirror today, scowling, rushed, and ornpure unnecessary cussedness.

Lawmakers Will Probe Hiring of Retired Generals

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—How does a general—when he retires—get a fat job with a big corporation selling millions of dollars worth of military equipment to the government?

It could happen in a lot of ways. It could—and did—happen this way: On the day a general retires he gets a cryptic telephone call from an old friend, telling him to call a man at a certain number in California.

He does. It turns out well. He becomes president of a company making bombers and gets a salary of $75,000 a year, plus a $25,000 bonus.

A congressional subcommittee will soon start looking into the question of how high-ranking military men, after retirement, get big-paying jobs with big companies dealing with the government.

The subcommittee—headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La)—will also root around among the military equipment makers to check on how they compete to get Uncle Sam to buy their stuff.

But this kind of investigation doesn't have unanimous approval in Congress. For instance, Sen. London B. Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, does not think a munitions lobby as such exists or needs investigating.

BIG HELP

Neither does Sen. Stuart Symington, Missouri Democrat and former secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration. Symington himself was once a big help to a retiring general through a simple telephone call.

Hebert's group learned about this three years ago when it was examining the aircraft industry. His subcommittee now would like to know how some other generals and admirals got their jobs and what they do to earn their pay.

In its 1956 inquiry Hebert's group called—among top men in the aircraft industry—J. T. McNarney, former Air Force general who retired in 1952 and quickly became president of the Convair Corporation.

This firm made the B52 bombers for the government and McNarney testified that in the late 1940s, when the value of this particular plane was in dispute, he backed development of the B52.

Hebert asked him how he got his job with Convair and McNarney told this story: "On the morning of my retirement (Jan. 31, 1952) I did receive a cryptic telephone call and the question asked of me was: 'Have you signed up with anybody to go to work?' I said 'I have not.'"

CALL THIS NUMBER

McNarney said he told the caller he was going to San Diego to live—because he had married a San Diego girl—and the voice on the phone said: "Well, when you get to San Diego, would you call this number?"

McNarney indicated that from the telephone exchange the caller gave him—it was in Indio, Calif.—that he guessed the one who answered that phone would be Floyd B. Odlum, chairman of the Convair board of directors.

★ ★ ★

When he got to San Diego, McNarney said, he called the number. And it was Odlum. The financier offered the retired general the presidency of Convair.

For five years as president, he would receive $75,000 a year, plus a $25,000 bonus yearly. For the following 10 years — while he served as a consultant—he would receive $30,000 a year.

The general said it was Symington, with whom he had worked at the Pentagon when Symington was secretary of air. At the time of the call Symington was no longer elected senator.

McNarney said there was no connection between his championship of the B52—while he was still in service—and the fact that the company later hired him as president.

He said he had never been approached—while still in service—about a job with Convair.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

This is the month when college recruiters ride the highways through village and hamlet pulling strings in a last ditch effort to line up the top prep athletes for their schools.

By Big Ten ruling, prospective athletes must submit their tenders to conference schools by mid-June.

After months of personal contacts by crews of assistant coaches, June becomes "T" (for Tender) month until the rush ends with the signature of football, baseball or other prospects.

Burt Smith, one of Duffy Daugherty's talent scouts at Michigan State, admits that recruiting today is more than just an added task for an assistant coach. He says it is a full time job in itself and he's quite right.

Once a high school athlete signs a tender to a Big Ten school, he cannot accept a scholarship to another conference school. He can, however, go to an independent institution, and this is where the Big Ten suffers numerous losses of players it thinks it has all locked up.

The spread around the country of former state assistant college coaches to various head coaching posts has started a mad dash for prep stars from Michigan.

Bob Devany at Wyoming, Sonny Grandelius at Colorado, Frank Kush at Arizona State, Dan Devine at Missouri and Jerry Planutis at Indiana, all former MSU aides, along with Forest Evashevski at Iowa and Bill Orwig at Nebraska, ex-Wolverines, are strongly pushing state schools for the top prospects.

Michigan and Michigan State are still getting some of the most wanted boys, but the competition has become a dog-eat-dog affair.

From one day to the next it is difficult to keep track of the intentions of the prepsters. It seems they are so confused after weeks of campus visits and ear-banging lectures on the merits of Podunk, they decide on a new Alma Mater daily.

The scramble in this state has become a frantic battle and as Michigan aides continue into top coaching ranks it will get tougher. MSU landed a few blue chip athletes who were supposedly all set for Iowa or Indiana, but likewise the Spartans lost some to recruiting competitors.

Michigan probably got its best crop in several years, but also lost a few to outsiders.

U. of D., with its most intensive recruiting program in history, has plucked away some topnotch names who appeared almost certain for enrollment at Big Ten schools. New Titan coach Jim Miller, ex-Purdue aide, has a half dozen Saginaw Valley grads on his rolls of freshmen-to-be.

Dave Behrman, one of the top prep linemen from Dowagiac, was all set for Iowa. He mailed his tender to MSU, Jerry Gross, all-state quarterback from Bay City declared his intention to U. of D. after Iowa and Arizona State had him "sewed up."

U. of D. thought it had Bay City center Jim Kanicki but his tender went to MSU. On the other hand, MSU counted on John Lucadam and he decided on Ann Arbor.

So, the recruiting merry-go-around continues. You can expect to see Michigan prep names high and wide across the land.

DUFFY'S PRIZE CATCH — College recruiters from all over the Midwest are giving state schools tough competition for Michigan prep stars. Dave Behrman of Dowagiac is one prize catch however which Michigan State got after it was reported he was going to Iowa with Forest Evashevski. Behrman signed an MSU tender and Duffy Daugherty was happy. (See 2 column Press Box on recruiting.)

Face Ends Pirate Skid; Burdette Wins 9th, 9-5

By The Associated Press

The stubby right-hander has been Pittsburgh's right-hand man in the Pirates' climb from obscurity. He hasn't been beaten in more than a year, figuring in 34 victories since he last was a loser, on May 30 of last year.

In that time, Face has won 13 and saved 21 with a 1.51 earned run average, allowing just 17 runs in 100 2-3 innings.

So far this season, the 31-year-old former Dodger farm hand has won eight, saved four for a 1.03 ERA in 35 1-3 innings. He collared that eighth victory last night by collaring the slugging San Francisco Giants in a 12-9 Pirate success decided by Harry Bright's three-run, two-out homer in the 11th inning.

That ended the Bucs' skid at four games and pushed them into a three-way tie for third place with the Chicago Cubs and Los Angeles.

The Cubs were beaten in the only other game scheduled, losing 9-5 at Milwaukee as the first place Braves regained a three-game edge over the second place Giants.

Face blanked the Giants on three hits in his three innings of relief last night, walked none and fanned one after the Pirates caught the Giants with a five-run eighth - inning capped by Dick Stuart's two-run homer. That was the first time the Pirates had been able to score more than one run in any of 43 consecutive innings.

Young lefty Mike McCormick (3-5) was the loser in relief for the Giants, giving up a single by Bill Mazeroski, a sacrifice and an intentional walk to Dick Groat before Bright batted for Face.

The Pirates also got a solo first home run from catcher Danny Kravitz, who came on after Smoky Burgess was struck a glancing blow on the head on Giant shortstop Andre Rodgers' throw to first base in the first inning. Felipe Alou and Willie Kirkland homered for the Giants.

Willie Mays, who dropped 21 points to .321 over the weekend, was benched by Giant Manager Bill Rigney for a "little rest" that ended when Willie singled as a pinch-hitter in a three-run eighth. Mays was 2-for-2, but bruised his side while sliding and switched from his normal center field post to left field.

Lew Burdette was almost the whole show for the Braves, batting 4-for-4, driving in four runs and winning his ninth. He needed relief help, however, when he finally gave into 89-degree heat in a five-run eighth inning after blanking the Cubs on three hits for seven. Don McMahon saved it, retiring the four men he faced after coming on with two out in the eighth.

Seeks to Atone for Poor Start

Ol' Casey Warns Foes Yankees are 'UP' Now

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees isn't through "settling the score" with the rest of the American League.

The grizzled pilot said today he wouldn't be happy until the Yankees wiped out the shame of losing six of their first seven Yankee Stadium games against the Western teams.

He expects his players to atone for this lapse during the current Western invasion which starts with tonight's game against Kansas City. The Yanks have won nine of their last 11.

"They caught us when we were down," explained Casey. "It should be different this time. We're up now."

The defending world champions, a sorry looking lot during the first six weeks of the season, definitely are "up" now.

Although still in sixth place, they are only 3½ away from the top and have lost only two more games than the first-place Chicago White Sox. The Yankees' early season failure has made this the closest race in years. Only six games separate the first and last place teams.

To give you a better indication of the tightness of the race, a Yankee victory tonight together with a Detroit defeat would boost the Yankees into the first division.

Three former Yankee favorites will be making their first Yankee Stadium appearances in Athletics' uniforms. They are pitchers Johnny Kucks and Tom Sturdivant and infielder Jerry Lumpe. Kucks (1-2) is slated to oppose Whitey Ford 6-3 in the opener of the three-game set.

Detroit, which has been playing .667 ball under new Manager Jimmy Dykes, comes in for a four-game series Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Jets Bombard Jewelers, 12-4

Make 13 Hits, Breeze to One-Sided Victory in Class A Loop

It was "easy pickin's" for the Jets yesterday in the Class A City Baseball League.

The defending city champions found the offerings of two Shaw pitchers right to their liking as they banged out 13 hits and breezed to a 12-4 win over the Jewelers at Wisner Field.

They jumped on starter and loser Herman Bishop for nine runs and eight hits in five innings, then nicked relief hurler Don Stone for the rest of the damage. Gene Cox led the Jet attack wth a triple, double and two singles in five times at bat.

Dick Goldsworthy was the starting and winning pitcher for the Jets, but he needed relief help from Jim Jones in the 6th inning after yielding all of Shaw's four runs and eight hits. Goldsworthy struck out 10 men.

Old-Timers Rehearse for Season's Opener

Preliminary workout for the opening of the 1959 Old-Timers League is set for Sunday at Washington Junior High field, at 10 a.m. Pontiac manager is Herm Bishop, present City League hurler, who hopes to have his squad in shape for the start, at Toledo, June 20, at 5 p.m.

League comprises Pontiac, Toledo and Detroit.

Plans call for the loop playoffs to be held in Pontiac, July 22-23 at Wisner field. Complete schedule, and officers, will be announced shortly.

EASY FOR JIM — Jim Bunning hung up another victory over his Boston buddies as the Tigers opened an Eastern invasion with a 6-3 triumph last night to take over 4th place.

Bunning's 6-Hit Job Backed by Mates' 15 Blows

Davie Goes After His 3rd Win in Tonight's Second Tilt of Series

BOSTON (AP)—The Detroit Tigers' fancy new look made them proud fourth-placers in the American League today, thanks to a Jim Bunning "Boston Repeat."

Bunning beat the Red Sox 6-3 last night on a solid six-hitter as his teammates smashed out 15 blows in moving to within two and a half games of the league lead and going above .500 for the first time this year.

Slim Jim, who beats the Red Sox often, turned in a smooth job. He had trouble only in one inning, the fifth, when Boston scored all its runs on three hits and Jim's one walk.

All the rest of the time Bunning was invincible. For a change, he didn't even permit a home run. He struck out seven men.

Detroit's victory was its 24th in 34 games under manager Jimmie Dykes. It moved the Tigers out of their tie with the Kansas City Athletics and within one game of third place. Fourth place is now all their own. They stand 26-25.

The Tigers and Red Sox play their second game of the series tonight. Young Jerry Davie will be going after his third victory against one defeat for Detroit.

With Al Kaline getting his 11th homer and two other hits, and Rocky Bridges and Eddie Yost also getting three blows each, the Tigers abused starter Tom Brewer and two other Sox pitchers.

Detroit was guilty of an old fault: Leaving men on base. An even 12 were stranded.

Four Boston double plays held the Tigers score down. Bunning hit into two of them, each time with the bases full.

Bunning's mound performance gave him a 6-3 record for the season and an 11-5 overall mark over the Red Sox. Three of his victories this year have been over Boston.

Kaline smashed his homer in the ninth inning with no one on base. He singled home two runs in the fifth.

The Tigers went to work early. Singles by Kaline and Gail Harris along with a fielder's choice scored a run in the second. Two hits went to waste via a Boston double play in the third. But Kaline came through in the fifth with his two-run single with the bases full on an error, Yost's double, and a walk to Charley Maxwell.

On the one and only time they got free with Bunning the Red Sox collected their three runs in the fifth to tie the score. Gary Geiger singled and pinch hitter Marty Keough walked. Don Buddin scored both men with a double and then came across on Pete Runnels' single.

Three straight singles—by Lou Berberet, Bridges and Frank Bolling — filled the bags for Detroit with none out in the sixth. Berberet scored as Bunning hit into his first double play.

Bridges singled in opening the Tigers eighth but after Bolling walked he was picked off second base on a throw from the catcher. Bolling drifted to second on the play and scored on Yost's single.

Kaline opened the ninth with his homer. Berberet singled and Bridges doubled. Putting men on second and third after Larry Osborne rolled out. Bolling was walked intentionally and Bunning drove into his second double play.

Seward Wins 1st Pro-Amateur

Milt Seward, a 30-year-old Ann Arbor professional, joined forces with an Ypsilanti businessman Monday at Farmington Country Club to win the Pro-Am Best-Ball golf tournament.

John Leabu, a seven-handicap player who specializes in sewing machines and vacuum cleaners, combined with Seward for a nine-under-par 63, tops in the 18-hole event by two strokes.

Seward, head pro at Huron Hills Golf Club, and Leabu, a Washtenaw member, had seven birdies and one eagle on their scorecard. It was the first Pro-Am victory for Seward, who led the assault on par with a blazing putter.

The Seward-Leabu team shot 32-31 against par 37-35. Seward, who never saw the Farmington CC layout until yesterday, fired a 69 with his own ball, which was the best individual effort of the tourney.

Faust Bianco, veteran pro at Dearborn CC, and Dr. Lee Jones carded a 28 on the back nine and tied two other teams for 2nd place at 65. Bianco also scored 28 on the back side with another partner, John Dahlinger, for a 67.

Majors OK 2nd All-Star Game, Aug. 3

NEW YORK (AP)—Details of the second major league all-star baseball game this year will be worked out today when Warren Giles and Joe Cronin, presidents of the National and American Leagues, respectively, meet with Commissioner Ford C. Frick.

The game, to be played Aug. 3 in the Los Angeles Coliseum, was approved unanimously yesterday at a meeting with Frick, attended by members of the pension committee and major league player representatives.

Frick said it will be possible to play the game without interrupting the regular schedule, thanks to plane travel. Pressed as to whether the same teams would compete in both games he said that would be revealed after the meeting today. It was assumed the teams would be the same.

Frick said he already had completed negotiations for radio and television rights for the second game. The agreement, with the same sponsor, calls for $250,000, the same sum as for the first game. The regularly scheduled game will be played in Pittsburgh, July 7.

The second game is scheduled for this year only, and Frick said if it is successful consideration then will be given to continuing it through 1960 and 1961.

Receipts of the second game will be split on the same basis as prevails for the first game—60 per cent to the players' pension fund and the remaining 40 per cent to the central fund of the major leagues.

The leagues will use their share for minor league support; for the Association of Professional Baseball Players of America, and for the promotion and maintenance of Juvenile baseball programs.

Robin Roberts, Philadelphia pitcher and one of the players' representatives present at the meeting yesterday, said the purpose to which the new pension money will go has not been determined officially.

It was the judgment of the player representatives and the pension committee members, however, that most of the new money would be used to pay for the back service obligations for old-time players' pensions and to guarantee full retirement benefits for the current ball players.

IOC Rejection Blow to Taipei

TAIPEI (AP) — Taipei was stunned today by the summary rejection of its bid to be readmitted to the Olympic movement.

The Nationalists sought readmission as the "Republic of China Olympic Committee" in place of the former designation, "Chinese National Olympic Committee."

But within hours of the bid, Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee said the Nationalists would only be readmitted if they dropped any reference to China in the name.

Lakeside Rally Wins, 3-2

Blanked on just two hits for six innings by pitcher Chuck Long, the Lakeside Royals rallied with three runs in the bottom of the 7th inning to defeat Deni's & Herk's 3-2 in Monday night's feature City League softball attraction.

★ ★ ★

Two errors and successive singles by Perc McConner, Jim Gardner and Larry Douglas sent three runners across the plate to pin a heartbreaking loss on Long, who apparently had the outcome well under control. McConner was the winning hurler in relief of Tim Jones.

Algie Black of Griff's twirled a sparkling one-hit shutout as the Grill team dumped Rogers Electric 5-0. Ted Wharry of Griff's slammed a leadoff home run in the 4th.

In other games last night, Jake Mazur hurled five-hit ball as Stadium Inn conquered the Pontiac Merchants 4-2, and Drive-In Cleaners staged a big four-hit four-run uprising in the 6th to sink Langdon's Boat Livery 5-3.

Stadium's two-run rally in the 6th broke a 2-2 tie and pinned defeat on Ken Spears, who came to the mound in relief of Jerry Thomas.

Waterford Victories to Nonne's, Sno-Bol

Nonne's of the American League whipped Lakeland Pharmacy of the National League 4-1 and Sno-Bol downed the Arrows 7-3 in Waterford Softball last night.

Two runs in the 2nd clinched the Nonne's triumph which counted in the AL standings but not in the NL records.

Dale Badder gave up three hits and was hindered by five errors in hurling the Sno-Bol victory.

Umpire Quits After Beating by LL Manager

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—E. G. Rea says he's going to quit umpiring and go back to managing Little League baseball teams.

Rea told assistant Oklahoma County attorney Ryland Keys yesterday that he sustained a broken nose, two black eyes, chipped teeth and a cut lip Saturday after umpiring a game in which one team beat another, 11-0.

Grill 'Steals' Win in Class B Scrap

With the score tied at 4-4 and one man away in the bottom of the 6th inning, Marv Evans walked. He then proceeded to steal both 2nd and 3rd from where he scored the eventual winning run on Chuck Moore's single after pitcher Jerry Pointer had fanned for the 2nd out.

Pointer hurled a four-hitter to gain the decision over Talbott's John Warner, who gave up seven safeties. Don Eustice clouted a two-run homer for Talbott in the 2nd and Griff's Jerry Hill socked a sole homer in the 1st.

Card Veteran Cross Cancels Retirement

By The Associated Press

The Washington Redskins signed one draft choice but learned they will lose All-America Billy Austin to the Air Force. Dick Haley of Pitt agreed to terms.

Although his dad claims he is missing after going to Mexico, the Toronto Argonauts say they have received word from quarterback Ronnie Knox he is "raring" to go for another grid season.

Spartan Track Squad Names Lake Captain

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan State University track squad has picked Bob Lake, Kalamazoo junior, as captain for 1960, a spokesman said today.

Lake, Big Ten indoor and outdoor mile champion, has been called the fastest miler in MSU track history.

Lake, a 1956 graduate of Kalamazoo Central High School, has been clocked at 4:04.9 and has been picked as a possibility to become the second United States runner to break the four-minute mile.

MONDAY'S HOME RUNS
NATIONAL LEAGUE
Mathews (20), Braves; Alou (8), Kirkland (7), Giants; Kravitz (1), Stuart (8), Bright (2), Pirates.
AMERICAN LEAGUE
Kaline (11), Tigers.

Try Again, Don

BROOKLYN, N.Y. (UPI)—Don Carter of St. Louis, Mo., first bowler to use a mottled white ball in ABC competition, tested the solid black lanes used on the Major League bowling television show recently and clicked for a 298. Astounded, he tried again — and rolled a 299!

1958 Champ Bolt Laughs at Open Odds

MARTIN ON MOVE — Former Cranbrook star Dave Martin has already become quite a respected miler around the Big Ten after only two years at Michigan. Big things are expected of him in the future. He ran a 4:09.6 finishing 2nd in the league meet this spring.

Ex-Crane Martin May Become 'M' Great

Martin is in a fine position to surpass his former teacher's best Big Ten mark of 4:09.0 which stood as a record until the Big Ten outdoor championships on Ferry Field a couple of weeks back.

In fact, Martin ran a 4:09.6 mile to finish second to Michigan State's Bob Lake in the record-shattering run for the title. Lake ran a 4:08.5 mile to eclipse McEwen's mark by half a second.

A year ago Martin ran a 4:17 mile as a freshman, the fastest time ever run by a Wolverine yearling and he showed that this performance was no flash in the pan by turning in a 4:13.9 mile at the Big Ten indoor championships last March to take third. Lake won this one also, in 4:10, with Ken Brown of Illinois second and Martin third in 4:13.9. Martin turned in a 4:16.1 in tuning up for the outdoor conference and then ran his finest race to date in the outdoor Conference.

Coach Don Canham thinks Martin can cut down his best time by many seconds. "I hesitate to predict how fast Martin will run before he's through at Michigan. The way distance and middle distance marks are being slashed, and the way I've seen him run, I think its pretty much up to him just how fast he eventually will be able to run the mile. But he's nowhere near his potential peak as yet."

Ben Snyder, present Cranbrook head coach who worked with Dave as a track assistant and also in soccer, goes along with Canham in hoping for big things for Martin.

"I've never know a finer competitor or a higher-type kid. He has a wonderful habit of beating boys who have beaten him," said the Crane skipper.

Martin, who will participate in the National Collegiate meet at Lincoln, Neb., Saturday, holds both the Cranbrook and Inter-State loop mile marks. The Flint native accomplished the feat in 4:32.6.

Avon Church Loop Tied Up Five Ways

Elmwood Methodists' 12-8 win over Lake Orion RLDS gave winners a share of the lead. Nike beat St. Paul Methodists 5-1, United Presbyterians defeated Avon Baptists 10-1 and Pontiac RLDS blanked Stone Baptists to also gain a tie. All have 4-1 marks, as does LO, which dropped its first game.

Church of God went ahead of Auburn Heights Free Methodists in the 4th, 6-5, to stay ahead for a 10-9 win.

Snead, Palmer Are Cofavorites for Big Event

Play Starts Thursday at Winged Foot; Pros Pleased With Course

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (UPI)—Defending champion Tommy Bolt today laughed at the odds that made Sammy Snead and Arnold Palmer co-favorites to win the U.S. Open championship starting Thursday and warned "don't sell old Tommy too short."

Temperamental Tommy, who insists he has "gotten into the habit of positive thinking," didn't feel too badly because he was listed at 20 to 1.

"Why there aren't more than 20 guys who can win this tournament and they all ought to be 20 to 1," he reasoned. "I'm not picking myself, but I'm playing well. Don't sell old Tommy (he's now 40) too short. I've got into the habit of positive thinking."

Optimistic and quieter than usual, Bolt snickered when advised that Snead and Palmer were joint favorites at 6 to 1.

"Maybe those odds-makers know something I don't," said Bolt after shooting a 35-37—72 the first time he played the west course. "I don't put much stock in odds." He recalled he was "a long shot" when he won the Open at Tulsa last year with a three-over par four round 283.

"Let 'em put me down the list again," he commented. "It makes no difference to me."

Snead, as usual the sentimental favorite, turned in a two under par 36-32—68 practice round yesterday — the fourth successive sub-par round he has shot here.

"I just don't know. I feel good," Snead said. "But when they ring the bell I'm liable to go right through the windshield again."

Cary Middlecoff, a two-time winner of the Open who said he "just isn't hitting the ball the way I should," was listed as the third choice in the field at 7-1 followed by Wall at 8-1. Then after that 12-1 group came Burke, Boros, P.G.A. champion Dow Finsterwald, Gary Player and Jay Hebert at 15-1.

Ben Hogan, shooting for his fifth Open title and grouped with Mike Souchak and Gene Littler at 12-1, carded a 36-34 par 70 yesterday, but complained that his back "still bothers me now and then."

He is not the only one in the field of 150 who will tee off Thursday with an ailment. Masters champion Art Wall, the year's leading money winner with $33,880 in his pocket, had a bad ankle, but was able to play an exhibition game in New Jersey on Monday and checked in at Winged Foot later in the day. He said his ankle was swollen but that he would not have come here, "if I didn't expect to play."

Palmer, who was forced to withdraw from the Eastern Open at Baltimore on Sunday because of a bad back, wired officials of the United States Golf Association (U.S.G.A.), that he would show up for the practice rounds today.

Others who were hurting included Jackie Burke with a pulled tendon in his left wrist; former Open champion Julius Boros who complained of "back spasms," and Clarence Doser with a bad elbow.

But all were expected to be ready for the first of the four 18-hole rounds on Thursday.

Gene Bone Will Make Open Debut

Harbert, Wally to Try Again

DETROIT (AP)—Golf's biggest prize, the U. S. Open championship, has eluded Michigan's two top touring professionals, Chick Harbert and Walter Burkemo.

But both the veterans will be back for another crack at the coveted crown this week at Winged Foot in Mamaroneck, N.Y. It will be the 16th open appearance for Harbert and the eighth for Burkemo.

Harbert, who at the age of 20 was the youngest player competing in the 1935 Open at Oakmont in Pittsburgh, had his best finish at Canterbury in Cleveland a few years back when his 287 was three strokes off the winning pace. Harbert, now 44, led the first round at Inverness in Toledo two years ago and finished in the top 10.

Burkemo, twice-wounded World War II veteran, missed by two strokes that same Open. He had a final round 65 and could have tied with an 8-foot putt on the 15th green and a 5-footer at the 18th.

Burkemo's only objection to toughening up the Open courses is the way the rough is established around the greens.

"If you miss by two or three feet," he explained, "I don't think you should have to wedge it out. Other than that, the courses are mostly fair, I believe. Of course, it takes straight shooting and a good touch with the putter to do any scoring.

"Naturally you can't go to sleep anywhere. The big danger is getting a double bogey. It's real easy to do that. One or two bad drives in that 72-hole tournament can take you way out of contention, because the birdies are a pretty scarce item."

Neither Burkemo nor Harbert has had much time to prepare for the Open, since both have been busy with lessons at their clubs, Burkemo at Franklin Hills and Harbert at Meadowbrook, site of the Motor City Open in August.

"This is the busy time of the year," said Burkemo, "when people expect to take a lesson or two and get their 105 scores down to 80."

But Burkemo regards the Open competition as a continuing thrill in golf. And Harbert still remembers vividly his first Open in 1935.

★ ★ ★

"I was only 20," he recalled, "and I started out with eagle-birdie-par-birdie — four under par after four holes. Everybody was talking about it and the wires were buzzing. I finished up with an 82 or an 83, and the buzzing stopped."

★ ★ ★

Housewife Gets 236, Aching Feet

She's Only 164 Over Par

DETROIT (AP) — Phyllis Ransdell is more worried about her aching feet than with any records she may have set as a participant in the National Golf Day tournament over the weekend at Bob-O-Link Golf Club.

Mrs. Ransdell played 18 holes over the nine-hole course in a whopping 236, carding an outgoing 122. Par for 18 holes is 72.

"I read where Sam Snead likes to play barefooted, so I tried it," she said, "that was a good hunch. I cut my back nine score to 114."

Michigan PGA president Joe Belfore called the housewife's score the highest official tournament score he'd ever heard of in 35 years of golfing.

"Actually, I have improved," she said. "I played golf once last year and they said I had over 300 but I think it was 200 and some.

"But then I may have cheated last year by throwing the ball out of some traps. That 236 this year is an honest count."

She required 23 strokes for the par-4 hole. But she bounded back on the par-3 sixth hole for a solid six.

★ ★ ★

"I didn't want to play with Jerry, anyway. He's too good. He shot a 139," she explained.

Rathmann's Back Broken in Tuneup

Physicians told him he suffered a broken back in a practice warm-up run for a 100-mile auto race at State Fair Park on Sunday when his car landed atop one driven by Richard Amick of Muncie, Ind.

Rathmann was right behind Amick when Amick's car slipped into a spin on a turn. Amick hit the wall and Rathmann followed him in. Then Rathmann's car climbed on top of Amick's. Amick was not injured.

Mine Owner Shot to Death

Sniper's Bullet in Back Part of Tennessee and Kentucky Coal Strike

LAKE CITY, Tenn. (AP) — A sniper's bullet killed a coal mine owner Monday as he worked his machinery on a federal flood control project here in defiance of threats of sabotage or death.

Five persons were questioned at length in the slaying of Jess Fesler, 53, of Sunbright, Tenn., shot in the back as he stood beside his bulldozer on the project near the Lake City High School.

Anderson County Sheriff Glad Woodward questioned two of the men in Clinton, south of here, and Campbell County Sheriff Rose Kitts held three men for questioning in Jacksboro, north of here.

Lake City is located on the Anderson - Campbell county line about 30 miles northwest of Knoxville. It is in the coalfield area extending through southeast Kentucky and northern Tennessee.

The area has seen numerous cases of violence since the United Mine Workers began a drive to bring all mines under union contract. Three persons have been killed in Kentucky.

Sheriff Woodward said, however, "We are positive this shooting is in no way concerned with union troubles."

Car Hits School Bus, Kills 4 Californians

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Sun apparently blinded a young housewife whose small foreign sedan rammed the side of a school bus Monday, killing four persons.

Highway Patrolman Leon Walters said the absence of skid marks indicated that Thelma Pauline Shirley, 22, didn't see the bus crossing an intersection near her home at San Martin, 20 miles south of here.

Other victims were her children, Ronald, 2 months; and Leona, 4, and Millie Shirley, 71, of Tranquility, Calif.

Another of Mrs. Shirley's children, Cathy, 2, suffered slight injuries. Three youngsters in the school bus were treated for minor cuts and bruises.

Ike, John Wayne Overwhelmed by Autograph Quest

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and screen actor John Wayne were kept so busy giving autographs Monday night they scarcely had time to eat.

Eisenhower was the principal speaker at a $100-a-plate Republican dinner and Wayne was the master of ceremonies. They sat together at the head table.

Both men still were on the first course when dozens of diners and some waitresses came from all parts of a big banquet hall to get the signatures of the President and Wayne. Mrs. Eisenhower, seated at Wayne's left, also signed her name many times.

The President, the first lady and the Hollywood star smilingly stayed at it for about a half hour. Then Wayne stepped to a microphone and announced: "Ladies and gentlemen, we are going to have to ask you to stop asking for autographs here. I'm sorry."

That ended it.

Long in Mental Clinic Plugs Bills by Phone

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long, in telephone calls from a psychiatric clinic in Galveston, Tex., Monday called on the Louisiana Legislature to pass bills he had sponsored and said he hoped to be home soon.

The calls, apparently made with permission of the governor's physicians, came one day before the Legislature's final adjournment.

Long was flown to John Sealy Hospital in Galveston May 30 after venting his wrath before the Legislature with profanity. He was committed June 2 by Mrs. Long.

Both the House and Senate, acting within minutes of each other, passed a resolution urging the 63-year - old governor to continue treatment as long as necessary to recover completely.

Libel Suit Brings Out Disgusted Quotes From Critics and Papers

LONDON (AP) — U.S. pianist Liberace complained in court today that there seems to be an unusual number of weak stomachs among British show critics.

Testifying for the second day in his libel action against a British newspaper accused of describing him as homosexual, Liberace declared: "They sure have a lot of people who want to throw up here, that's all I can say."

His comment came after counsel for the defendant Daily Mirror and its columnist William Neil Connor read a number of London newspaper criticisms of Liberace.

An Evening News critic was quoted as saying a movie in which Liberace appeared "delighted his fans and sickened the critics."

Another Evening News article said the pianist's smile "had a mildly emetic effect on me."

Connor, in one of the articles in 1956 which led to the libel suit, said Liberace was "the biggest sentimental vomit of all time."

"This emetic language is new to me," said Liberace. "No American critic has ever referred to me in such words."

Gromyko Has Made No Concessions; Awaiting Word From Nikita

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet-Russia and the Western Powers failed again today to make any progress toward an accord on Berlin. An American spokesman said "it is anyone's guess how much longer" the four power conference will continue.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville rate the danger of a breakdown greater than does Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, highly placed authorities said.

All three still hope that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will get instructions from Moscow in a few days enabling him to make last-minute concessions.

But Herter particularly is now much less hopeful in this respect in view of statements made by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in an interview published in Hungary last weekend.

Gromyko has made no concessions, but neither has he slammed the door on further negotiations.

Western diplomats had expected him to receive orders from the Kremlin before this. Now they believe it may be several days, since Khrushchev is conferring in Moscow with top East German officials.

Search for Crew of Bomber That Crashed in 1943

★ ★ ★

The crew had been pronounced killed in action when their big B24 Liberator bomber—the "Lady Be Good"—failed to return from a mission against Naples in April 1943.

After a survey of the crash scene, the investigating team reported yesterday that "it believed the mirciless heat and privations of a sandy waste, devoid of life and water, probably claimed the lives of the nine-man crew."

The investigators think the crew

bailed out at low altitude before the big bomber belly-landed. But no traces of the nine men have been found yet, Air Force headquarters said.

★ ★ ★

The search team will be supplied tomorrow with water, food and fuel by an Air Force cargo plane from Wheelus Air Base, near Tripoli, Lybia.

Equipped with desert vehicles, the search party is expected to hunt for at least 10 days.

Two Michigan men were aboard the plane. They were Tech. Sgt. Robert E. LaMotte of Lake Linden in the Upper Peninsula, and Sgt. Harold Ripslinger of Saginaw.

Grain Futures Make Gains

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market firmed up generally today during the first several minutes of dealings on the Board of Trade.

Rye, which made some of its broadest gains in recent weeks in late transactions yesterday, pushed on ahead as much as a cent of bushel. Brokers said the support for rye was linked with the decline of commercial supplies the past week to less than a half million bushels here.

Wheat gained major fractions on the nearby deliveries on word that only a small percentage of the new crop harvested over the weekend had been sold into trade channels.

After about an hour wheat was ⅛ to ½ cent a bushel higher, July $1.84¼; 1960 contracts ½ to ¼ lower; corn ¼ to ½ higher, July $1.26⅛; oats ⅛ to ½ higher, July new type contract 63¾; rye ¼ to ¾ higher, July $1.23¼; soybeans ½ lower to ⅛ higher, July $2.25.

The safety council annually recognizes cities and states that have contributed outstandingly to traffic safety.

Other area cities that received achievement certificates were Birmingham, Royal Oak and Ferndale. A total of 20 Michigan cities won similar awards.

You Figure It Out

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — After serving three years as assistant chief of the police bureau of identification under a provisional appointment, Vincent D. Quinlan was given permanent title to the post.

As a result of the promotion his salary dropped from $5,800 to $5,600 a year.

Stocks Higher Following Dip

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market steadied with prices slightly higher early today after an initial flurry to the downside.

★ ★ ★

Motors, steels, drugs and most aircrafts were narrowly ahead.

Chemicals, rubbers, utilities and tobaccos were irregular. Electronics recovered substantially.

The market was lower at the opening in a resumption of yesterday's shakeout, the sharpest in half a year. Brokers said the action had the look of a temporary selling climax.

Firing of Pair Is Rescinded

Third Man Confesses Firecracker Incident at American Motors

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — American Motors Corp. today rescinded its discharge of two men for horseplay with firecrackers that idled 3,500 production employes here at Kenosha over the weekend.

A company spokesman said a third man "voluntarily stepped forward" and accepted sole responsibility for the firecracker throwing.

Herman Steffes, secretary of United Auto Workers Local 75, said a letter will be mailed by the union to all employes in a "war on saboteurs" at the plant. Steffes would not elaborate except to say the letter would be "an eye-opener for wives and parents of plant workers."

AMC did not say whether it would seek the discharge of the third man or if he had already been fired.

The company and union met in an all-day session yesterday and then announced that the two men caught with firecrackers last Friday had been discharged.

★ ★ ★

First shift workers at the AMC body plant began leaving their jobs Saturday morning when the company indicated it would discharge the two men. They were accused of throwing firecrackers at fork-lift truck drivers.

Production was resumed Saturday night after the union said it could not condone juvenile actions by its members.

Prison Term Rocks Fenton Attorney

"I haven't yet recovered from the shock of the decision," said Clifford B. Dye, former Fenton Village attorney as he pondered what legal action he would take to escape a 2 to 10 year prison term.

Still terming his 1956 assault conviction a "terrible miscarriage of justice," the 57-year-old practicing Fenton attorney said he did not know whether he would ask for a rehearing of a State Supreme Court ruling.

The high court has affirmed by a 5 to 3 vote the March 1, 1956 conviction in Oakland County Circuit Court of Dye for the 1955 non-fatal shooting of William C. Clark, 30, following disputes between the two over management of a farm leased by Clark from Dye's sister.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, who sentenced Dye to Jackson Prison, said today, "It seems to me, theoretically, he's on his way to Jackson."

However, the judge said when depends on whether he asks for a rehearing and what time limit the $10,000 bond he is under specifies when he must surrender.

Thompson Gets 2nd Delay

A second postponement has been granted in the sentencing of Jack D. Thompson, Flint Teamsters buiness agent convicted of being the second man in the Frank Kierdorf human torch arson case last summer.

Genesee Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth yesterday deferred sentencing of the 42-year-old ex-convict to June 29.

This second adjournment was allowed after Thompson's attorney, Joseph R. Joseph of Flint, asked for a new trial for his client if it can be proved, as he claims, that a juror lied under oath when he said he could give Thompson a fair and impartial trial.

Joseph asked the court to investigate the charge that a juror —who was not identified—had been involved in a strike by Teamsters and was aligned against the union.

Judge Roth last week denied Thompson a new trial and had set sentencing for yesterday when Joseph came up with his latest charge. Joseph said he wanted additional time to file a brief to back up his charge.

Thompson remains free on a $1,500 bond. He was convicted April 3 by a jury of nine women and three men of arson in the Aug. 3 mysterious burning of the Latreille Dry Cleaners, on the outskirts of Flint, in which Kierdorf, a fellow Flint Local 332 business agent, suffered fatal burns.

Thompson faces a maximum of 10 years imprisonment.

Lapeer Crash Injures 3

LAPEER — An 18-year-old mother, her 2-year-old son and another passenger in her car were injured yesterday when she missed the brake and hit the accelerator pedal, sending the vehicle through a plate glass window in the local D&C Store at 148 Nepessing St.

Mrs. Elizabeth King, of 3846 Hunt Rd., Nepessing Lake, was pulling in to the curb when she hit the accelerator pedal by mistake, Lapeer police said. The car, which was an open convertible, went shooting over the curb and crashed through the window.

Mrs. King and her son, John Paul, were taken to Lapeer County General Hospital where they were treated for cuts and bruises and released.

The other passenger in the car was Mrs. Katherine Pickard, 18, of 412 Adams St., Lapeer. She suffered from shock, a bruised arm and a bump on the head. She is listed in "fair" condition at the Lapeer County Hospital.

Lapeer police said it was a "miracle" the trio's injuries were not more severe.

Consumers Power to Spread Rate Hike

LANSING (AP)—Consumers Power Co. today was authorized to apportion nearly three-fourths of a $6,788,000 annual electric rate increase to residential customers.

The state public service commission approved spread of the other one fourth among commercial and industrial customers.

If the $5,036,000 share allocated to the company's 698,905 residential customers fell equally on each, it would mean an average increase in monthly bills of about 60 cents.

Royal Oak Boy Run Over by Motorist, 14

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — A Royal Oak Township boy is in fair condition in William Beaumont Hospital from injuries received when he was run over by a car driven by a 14-year-old boy at Pasadena and Ithaca streets yesterday afternoon.

Carl E. Kelley, 8, of 21134 Bemis Lane, is suffering from a concussion and fracture of both ankles, hospital authorities say.

Royal Oak Township Police say that Carl apparently was crossing Pasadena street when he was struck by the car driven by Roy H. Lyons, 14, of 96 Cottage Grove Rd., Highland Park.

Lyons told police that he had stolen the car keys from his father's car some time ago and had had a copy made. He admitted he was driving without his father's consent, police said.

The youth was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Postpone Action on 2 Projects

Waterford Fire Dept. Budget, Airport Area Rezoning Studied

Two major projects last night were tabled for one week by the Waterford Township Board, which also turned thumbs down on a request to reconsider a real estate development change.

A revised Township Fire Department budget was presented, totaling $73,400 for salaries, maintenance and operation. After reviewing the proposed budget, the board postponed action for further study.

Rezoning of a 40-acre plat at Pontiac City Airport from agricultural to commercial for a proposed Airport Service Center was discussed. Board members plan a personal inspection tour of the land before taking action.

Pontiac attorney David Utley, representing the Holiday Farms Subdivision, requested that the Township Board reconsider a former decision compelling developers to provide one additional egress and ingress to the subdivision.

The new development is located on M59 at Airport roads, and has only two outleading roads. The Board said that this was not adequate in case of a fire or police emergency.

The Board had suggested that the builders construct a bridge over the Clinton River at the southeast section of the development. However, after bridge plans were presented, the Oakland County Road Commission refused to approve the project.

The large increase was due to some $47,000 received by the township in Michigan State sales tax, it was reported.

Pontiac Lake Scene of Red Cross Session

Lifeguards Take Grueling Test

There were "drowning victims" all over Pontiac Lake beach yesterday in Waterford Township as Michigan State park lifeguards went through a rugged, all-day testing session by Red Cross instructors.

Over-loaded boats were upset in deep water, then flipped back over and the occupants pulled back in to hand-paddle the water-laden boats to shore.

Some of the newly-hired guards were tossed into deep water with orders to "go to the bottom," then their companions were given instructions to find the "bodies," bring them up and get them over the side of a waiting boat.

Already well tanned, the 15 strong, young lifeguards from all parts of southeastern Michigan were put through the pace from 10 a.m. until late afternoon by special American Red Cross field representatives Evan Thompson and State Police trooper William Carter.

This is the first year the state has required lifeguard testing, according to H. B. Guillaume, assistant chief of Michigan Conservation Field Operations.

"With the new program in operation, we can make doubly sure that these men are qualified to handle the multitude of people who swarm the beaches in state-owned parks," Guillaume said.

41 lifeguards have been hired for state park beaches this summer. However, there are eight major areas that will not be protected with guards because of a lack of funds, he added.

"There is a great need for more guards on beaches such as Keego Harbor's Dodge Park No. 4, Holland and Grand Haven, which accommodates more than a million people each summer," Guillaume said.

LIFEGUARDS ARE TESTED — A state park lifeguard demonstrates proper technique of artificial respiration, under supervision of instructor, as a group of lifeguards look on. The scene was Pontiac Lake beach where lifeguards from all parts of southeastern Michigan underwent a refresher course and tests in life-saving.

To Air Project for Cass Avenue

City Commission Has Public Hearing Tonight on Assessment Rolls

City commissioners tonight are scheduled to hold a public hearing on assessment rolls covering the $108,000 proposed widening of Cass avenue to four lanes between Oakland and Wisner Stadium.

Assessments make up only $11,475 of the big undertaking with the city paying $96,489 out of highway funds for widening the street from 22 to 46 feet.

Commissioners are also expected to confirm the assessment rolls for another big project recently completed, recapping of Telegraph road, Huron to James K boulevard.

The Telegraph road project approved last year, was undertaken by the State Highway Department. It included new curbing.

Commissioners, in other business, are scheduled to hold more public hearings on intention to proceed with eight smaller public improvements this summer.

★ ★ ★

Included are two grading and graveling projects, involving the alley north of Auburn avenue, Sanford to Ardmore, and Arlene street, Perry to Madison.

The other five projects involve new sidewalks, including repairs in front of six homes on Bartlett street; the east side of Stanley avenue, Kennett to south of Strathmore; south side of Irwin avenue, Going to East boulevard; west side of Going street, Perry to Central; and the west side of Going street, Irwin to South boulevard.

There are four reports from the Planning Commission on zoning matters on W. Huron street, Perry street and Walton boulevard.

Mourns Demise of Phil Silvers Soldiers Show

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK (UPI)—The demise of Phil Silvers' soldier program, which occurs June 19, distresses me for a reason other than that this will remove from TV one of its few genuinely funny programs.

Smugly assuming that it would go on forever, I have often daydreamed of what those beaten-up army characters such as Doberman, Ritzik and Barbella — even Bilko himself — would look like in O.D.'s say, 10-20 years from now.

I resent the fact that now I'll never know. Of one thing I am sure, however — Col. Jack Hall (Paul Ford) would not have changed an iota.

New Baptist Head Emphasizes Belief

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Edwin H. Tuller subscribes to the belief that having church members with deep Christian beliefs is more important than striving for increased church membership.

★ ★ ★

He is the newly elected general secretary of the American Baptist Convention, now meeting in Des Moines.

Dr. Tuller, 51, says he also favors action to end friction with the Southern Baptist Convention by "joining together in common projects to emphasize cooperation and help minimize the differences between us."

★ ★ ★

A soft-spoken man with dark hair, piercing eyes and incisive mind, he leaves no doubt that he has a positive program for the church, which has around 1,500,000 members in 6,600 local congregations.

GOP Honors Hoffman

WASHINGTON (AP)— Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich), a 24-year veteran of House service, was awarded a special elephant pin at a Republican Party fund raising dinner last night. Hoffman was one of 26 honored at the event.

Holdup Men Foiled as $750 Vanishes

★ ★ ★

So did a roll of bills he was holding.

Sewell said he will have to spend $150 to tear into the wall to get the money. But he'll do it. There was $750 in the roll.

He Loves Lucy's Eyes and Her Meringue Face

By WILLIAM EWALD

Miss Ball may be the only current example of a human being who can punctuate a scene with her eyeballs. They are extraordinary jellies and she has a spooky ability to knead their pulp into exclamation points, question marks, semicolons, hyphens, parentheses and even an occasional ellipsis.

She has a marvelous lemon meringue face and a shock of hair that can only be described as cheerfully insane. She couples all this to a body made of pure grasshopper, one that bounds in and out of scenes with the kind of disjointed abandon of an experienced stiltwalker. The combination is all sublimely grotesque and Miss Ball makes it work for her with the casual elegance of genius.

Last night, Miss Ball delivered a sturdy demonstration of her art in "Lucy's Summer Vacation," a one hour entry of the CBS-TV Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz Show. The script was a bewhiskered example of comedy writing—two couples booked into the same vacation cabin by mistake, the girls stuck with the fish cleaning, a climax in a leaky rowboat—but Miss Ball made it play.

Even more important, in several of its parts, she made it play hilariously. Perhaps the finest example of her genius in firing dead matter occurred in a scene in which she was awakened at five in the morning to go fishing—a terribly thin bit, but Miss Ball fattened its joints with wondrous skill.

SHORT SHOTS: "Christabel," a test film for a proposed James Thurber series, wound up on NBC-TV's Goodyear Theater last night and it packed some solid moments—it caught very well some of the Thurberian hostilities of family life, but its overplay of cute touches clashed with Thurber's hard prose. It should be added that the sound track laughter cheapened the show.

ABC-TV's Pantomime Quiz returned as a nighttime entry last night with a show that moved at the usual skedaddle clip. It seemed to me not entirely accidental that Denise Darcel, sheathed in a toothpaste tube dress, got this charade to act: "She was only the balloon maker's daughter, but she was the biggest bust in town."

Nicky Will Get Married Again — to Same Girl

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Nicky Hilton and his bride Trish are amused by rumors of a split because they're hoping that his annulment from Elizabeth Taylor, which he's been attempting to get, is soon forthcoming so they can be married again—this time in the Catholic Church.

He said: "I know one New York kid who goes to Scranton to play. No wonder he's late for supper every night."

Tony Perkins got pneumonia — evidently from becoming overheated while playing basketball at the New York Athletic Club getting ready for his movie role in "Tall Story"—and been battling it at home with penicillin for a week. A rumor that he had collapsed while playing and been carried out on a stretcher was "not even remotely true," he said from his bed the other day.

YVONNE

"I'd been playing real hard, and first I got the flu and then pneumonia. I'm not too good, but I hope to be out of bed in a couple of days." Tony will go back to basketball again, but more gently, for the filming which starts in torrid old August.

Foxy Greta Garbo was asked for her autograph by a cab driver who said, "My wife would never believe you were in my cab if I didn't show her your autograph." Refusing, as she has always, Geegee said, "Oh, but if she is your wife, she should believe you."

Derailment Caused by Tampered Lock

McRAE, Ga. (AP) — Who took the lock off the switch that caused derailment of a freight train and dumped two car loads of dangerous chlorine gas in this southeast Georgia community?

The tank cars containing 16,000 gallons of gas were placed on flat cars and carried out of the area. Residents breathed easier for the first time since Sunday night.

D. D. Strench, division superintendent of the Southern Railway in Atlanta, said the wreck "apparently was caused by someone tampering with the switch at a main line and an auxiliary track."

The tank cars containing the gas and 17 loaded with pulpwood rumbled off the tracks and ended in a tangled heap of metal and wood. A warehouse was damaged.

Two Teens Rescued From Burning Boat

ST. CLAIR (AP)—Two teenagers clung to their burning boat for a half-hour today before their cries brought help from cottage dwellers on the St. Clair River.

Ronald Gurdziel, 18, of Hamtramck, and Norman Gadzinski, 17, of Detroit, told police their rented 18-foot boat caught fire when a spark from the engine ignited some spilled gasoline.

Fearing the craft would explode, the youths jumped overboard and hung onto the side. They said their cries were unheard by crewmen on two passing lake freighters.

Their calls were heard by Tom Bower, who lives along the river bank about three miles south of St. Clair. Bower went out in his boat and rescued the two about 50 feet offshore in 30 feet of water.

The youths said they rented the boat at Marine City, about eight miles south of here, to go fishing early this morning. Neither was injured.

Bolshoi Ballet Earns $1,350,000 for Series

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Commissars, take note: the Soviets Bolshoi dancers grossed $1,350,000 for a series of performances and four one-hour TV shows on videotape here.

An interpreter for the ballet said the dancers spent money in capitalist style. Bellhops at their hotel got such a steady flow of packages they had to store them in the basement.

And a shipload it was, Miss Smirnova explained. The goods were loaded on a Soviet ship in Los Angeles harbor.

Clothing was the big item. Men bought tuxedos with shawl collars. Everyone bought shoes and sports clothes. Kitchen utensils were in great demand.

Oscar Levant Leaves His TV Show for Rest

"I'm just tired," Levant said during his show Monday night. "I don't feel good and I want to rest."

Levant, who mixes piano solos, caustic comments and complaints on his show, said he has no plans when he will return.

State Sedition Laws Valid

Supreme Court Says It Was Misunderstood in Earlier Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Supreme Court has clarified its controversial rulings on state sedition laws and congressional investigations, saying earlier decisions in these fields were misunderstood.

Splitting 5-4 in both cases, the court Monday said state sedition laws may be invoked to protect the state, and upheld the right of congressional committees to question educators as well as others about alleged Communist activity.

In making these rulings, the court affirmed contempt convictions against Dr. Willard Uphaus, director of the New Hampshire World Federation Center, and Lloyd Barenblatt, a former teacher at Vassar College and the University of Michigan.

Uphaus had been convicted under New Hampshire's sedition law for refusing to provide a membership list of the center to the state attorney general. Barenblatt had refused to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities whether he had been a Communist party member.

Earlier decisions in the same fields had drawn severe criticism from some congressmen and from groups as the state attorneys general and the American Bar Assn. Moves were started in Congress to try curtailing the court's power.

Detroit Accident Halts Emigration to Alaska

DETROIT (AP)—The Alaskan trip of two prospective homesteaders from West Virginia was brought up short on a city street yesterday.

Police said the station wagon, stopped for a red light, was struck in the rear by one car and hurled against a second car. Porter suffered internal injuries and his wife a broken rib.

AF Air-to-Ground Missile Gets Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force gave another test to its highly secret Bold Orion air-to-ground missile Monday.

★ ★ ★

An informed source, however, reported the test was another in a series designed to provide the Air Force with a missile capable of being launched effectively from a bomber. Such a missile could extend the life of the B47 and B52 strategic bombers. The planes could fire the missile from beyond the range of enemy radar.

Detroiter Shoots Self

DETROIT (AP)—William Taylor, 59, of Detroit, was still conscious and coherent when police took him to Receiving Hospital Monday with a bullet wound in the head. The shooting took place at an East Side bar. Police said patrons heard a shot and then saw Taylor place a .32 caliber pistol on a table at the booth in which he was sitting. The bullet entered one side of Taylor's head and came out the other. Officers said the man was despondent over the death of his wife five years ago.

Lake Michigan Dragged for Missing Teenager

HOLLAND (AP)—Lake Michigan was dragged yesterday in a search for Robert Godfrey, 18, of Holland, missing since Sunday.

2-Year-Old Stabbed

DETROIT (AP)—Two-year-old Thomas Abraham was reported in serious condition with a stab wound in his chest. The mother, Mrs. Barbara Abraham, 20, told police she had gone to the basement to wash clothes Monday, leaving Thomas and his brother, Ronald, 3, in the kitchen. When she returned a 6-inch paring knife was protruding from Thomas' chest. Police said the brother was unable to tell them how the stabbing occurred.

First Tooth Extracted at 82—'It Didn't Hurt'

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Francisco Maldonado came to another milestone in life Monday. He had his first tooth extracted.

Mazey Asks Distribution of Surplus Food in U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers, has called upon Congress to enact a surplus food distribution program that will help "banish hunger" from the United States.

Mazey said there are 17 million persons in this country who suffer from some form of malnutrition, and that the present surplus food disposal program is inadequate.

Appearing before the Senate Agriculture subcommittee on production marketing and stabilization, Mazey called for passage of a bill embodying the principles of a bill introduced by Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass).

Herter Unable to Visit His Ancestors' Villages

GENEVA (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has regretfully turned down invitations to visit the West German mountain villages where his family had its origins.

★ ★ ★

Herter and his wife were invited to visit Burgfelden and Pfeffingen by local officials. The secretary replied with a personal letter conveying his warm thanks and saying that he "very much regrets" that time will not permit the visit.
