Royal Oak Twp. Goodfellow Gets Religion Lesson

Ordered to Write Out 10 Commandments for 2 Years, Fined $100

Royal Oak Township's former acting police chief, Capt. William Ware, will learn a lesson well because he stole from the poor.

The 43-year-old law enforcement official was convicted yesterday in the Justice Court of Lonnie C. Cash on charges he kept money he collected for the Goodfellow Fund.

Cash sentenced Ware to 90 days in jail, suspended if he pays a $100 fine.

Ware will long have missed the pinch of the fine before he forgets the Ten Commandments, especially the eighth . . . "Thou Shalt Not Steal."

He had been ordered also to write out the Ten Commandments each week for the next two years and mail them to his probation officer.

Cash announced the verdict to an overflow crowd of 150 persons at the end of a four-day trial.

Ware was called by telephone early today for his reaction to the sentence. "I," he started to speak softly, and then his wife broke in on an extension, "No comment, no comment, no comment."

The former police chief, ousted from the position after his arrest on Dec. 14, then said, "I don't have anything to say about it."

His attorney said the conviction will be appealed in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Ware was among eight policemen and firemen arrested by State Police who passed out $57 in marked money in buying Goodfellow newspapers, the proceeds from which were to be used as Christmas charity for needy families.

Police said only $6 of the marked bills were turned in, all of it from one man.

The township's trustees fired all the accused policemen and firemen, including police Sgt. James

Straley Asking a 'Free Hand' as Police Chief

Immediate Return Is Unlikely, However, as Discussions Continue

Herbert W. Straley wants a "free hand" as police chief, if and when he returns to the Pontiac Police Department.

This was one of several points which officials said were brought out yesterday as the city took an initial move to reinstate the ousted police officer.

Straley and Mayor Philip E. Rowston met officially for the first time since Straley's ouster nearly nine months ago. They conferred 1½ hours in the office of Clarence L. Smith, Straley's attorney, with Smith and City Attorney William A. Ewart.

"Straley reiterated his desire to return to office if he is given a free hand," said Rowston.

'NO DECISIONS'

But the mayor said no decisions were reached.

"This was only a first meeting —an exploratory session. We will probably have to meet more. Next week will probably be the next time."

Smith said it may take "a couple weeks" of discussions before Straley actually seeks to return.

Among other points brought up, Rowston said, was the effect Straley's return would have on the Police Department and its personnel.

★ ★ ★

Smith said a clear distinction is sought from the city on the difference between the duties of the public safety director and the police chief.

He said city charter provisions and the present rules and regulations of the department are confusing concerning the two jobs.

Smith's contentions brought up the possibility that there will be a move to revise the regulations. This could probably be accomplished only by the Police Trial Board, which, under the charter, is responsible for them.

NO PAY LOSS

It was noted that Straley will not lose any pay during the time elapsing before he returns to work.

Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis of Ionia ordered the city to give Straley all of his back pay up to the time he is actually on the payroll again.

This was a provision of an order which Judge Davis signed yesterday, telling the city to put Straley back on the job.

Straley was fired by the Civil Service Commission in April on charges brought by City Manager Walter K. Willman. Judge Davis earlier this month held the ouster invalid on technical grounds.

If You Drink . . . or Don't: Drive Carefully Tonight

Area law enforcement authorities today issued warnings to New Year's Eve celebrants to drive carefully tonight.

The Pontiac State Police Post will have every available trooper patrolling in an effort to prevent death on Oakland County's highways. State Police will be assisted by National Guardsmen.

"If you must drink and drive, drink coffee and tea," was the advise of State Police Sgt. Lorenz Ahlgrim. "If you drink anything heavier, don't drive— drink it at home."

Sheriff Frank Irons urged motorists to drive slowly on the highways.

"Just because you haven't taken a drink doesn't mean that the other fellow hasn't," Irons warned. "This is certainly one night where every driver must proceed with caution."

State, county and Pontiac police warned motorists that all drunk drivers will be arrested.

They were watching the skies anxiously in the hope that there would be no repetition of last year's New Year's Eve storm which covered all major roads with a thick coating of ice, causing hundreds of accidents and a stranding of thousands of celebrants.

BULLETIN

The Michigan Auto Club issued this highway bulletin:

"Holiday traffic will be the most dangerous from 4 p.m. New Year's Eve until 4 p.m. New Year's Day.

★ ★ ★

"Highway traffic will be generally light over the weekend as most people will stay close to home.

"The heaviest traffic will come Sunday afternoon, partly due to college students returning to classes."

To Arraign Girl on Check Charge

Young Wife Is Accused of Passing $2,000 in Bogus Drafts

A pretty 17-year-old housewife faced prosecution today after being arrested while attempting to cash a bogus check for $485 at the Perry Street Branch of the Community National Bank.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Nancy Harper, 1639 Avalon St., Auburn Heights, was to appear in Municipal Court today. She is charged with uttering and publishing.

Detectives said she admitted cashing more than $2,000 in bad checks at the bank since Dec. 7.

Her husband, David, 20, was picked up by police a block away from the bank. He is on probation for an uttering and publishing conviction in Oakland County Circuit Court.

★ ★ ★

Police said the stolen car Harper was driving was taken from Birmingham. He was to be turned over to Birmingham police today.

★ ★ ★

The notes Mrs. Harper passed were written on blank checks and drawn from the account of Clarence H. Smith, local distributor for a patent medicine company. His office is at 150 N. Perry St.

5 Judges Take Oaths, Doty Says Farewell

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

With the pounding of the court officer's gravel, a new chapter in Oakland County's judicial history opened yesterday as a great era came to an end.

Sworn in for their first six-year terms as circuit judges were Frederick C. Ziem, former prosecutor, and Stanton G. Dondero, former Royal Oak attorney.

Beginning new terms with them tomorrow will be incumbent Judges H. Russel Holland, who will be starting his 24th year on the local bench, Clark J. Adams and William J. Beer, both of whom are entering their first elective six-year terms. They had been appointed by the governor.

But inadvertently overshadowing the swearing-in of the five judges yesterday by State Supreme Court Justice George Edwards were the emotional "swan song" remarks of retiring senior Judge Frank L. Doty.

The popular Doty, 79, who was presiding for the last time at the historic ceremony in his jam-packed courtroom, found some words came hard as he asked to be heard. After 32 years on the Oakland Bench, Doty retires regretfully tonight at midnight.

RENEWED MEMORIES

He renewed for some the many unforgettable chapters in the country's judicial history, paying tribute to the great lawyers and judges he said had passed through his Courtroom No. 1 "which has grown old together with me."

"But nobody's so great that nobody can take his place," he assured the five judges.

Despite the solemnity of the occasion, Judge Doty's well known wit brought laughter from the standing-room-only crowd of relatives, friends, and county officials and employes.

★ ★ ★

He motioned to two "before and after" pictures of himself, one taken when he first came on the bench and the other recently, hanging to the left of his bench.

"If any of you young attorneys have any desire to become a judge," Doty said, "all you have to do is study these two pictures and your aspirations will be gone."

★ ★ ★

"You might title the pictures 'What the bench did to me,'" he joked.

AND THEN THE OATHS

After Philip Pratt, president of the County Bar Assn. which staged the ceremony, introduced the five

Power Lines Down in Area

Keego, W. Bloomfield Residents Are Without Electricity Over an Hour

Residents in Keego Harbor and parts of West Bloomfield and Waterford townships were without electric power for an hour and a half today when a construction crane knocked down a power line.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the Detroit Edison Co. said that a private construction company crane knocked down a "feeder line" into a substation on Orchard Lake road at 11 a.m.

"Power was returned to the area at approximately 12:30 p.m.," the spokesman said.

Police in Keego Harbor kept a constant check on the bank in the city since it was without an alarm, Clerk Eileen Van Horn said.

★ ★ ★

"We were receiving more calls than I can remember from citizens who have electric operated furnaces who wanted to know what was happening," she said.

Holds Him Up in Icy Water

White Lake Girl, 15, Rescues Boy

COMFORTED AT HOSPITAL — Little Tommy Rynerson is comforted in his hospital bed by 15-year-old Nancy Monetta who yesterday saved his life after he had fallen through the ice in Oxbow Lake, White Lake Township. The four-year-old boy was playing with friends and had gone onto the thin ice to retrieve a ball when he fell through. The girl, who was passing by at the time, rushed to his aid, holding him above water until help came.

Four-year-old Tommy Rynerson of White Lake Township owes his life to a heroic teen-age girl who rescued him from the icy waters of Oxbow Lake yesterday afternoon.

Tommy was with two companions along the shoreline when suddenly he dashed onto thin ice to retrieve a ball with which the youngsters had been playing.

A thin layer of snow and ice partly covered the water and the boy crashed through it about 12 feet from shore.

His two companions screamed for help. At this moment Nancy Monetta, 15, and her sister, Sally, 16, were passing by on their way to a nearby skating rink.

Nancy dashed to edge of the open water and grabbed the struggling boy. She broke through the ice but was able to stand up and hold him until two teen-age boys were attracted to the scene. The water was over Tommy's head.

Willard Lighthall, 17, of 3033 Glenbroke St., Keego Harbor, and Steven Jewett, 18, of 125 E. Walled Lake, found a 12-foot pipe and pushed it towards the two water-soaked children.

Tommy clung to the pipe and was hauled ashore. The two boys then pulled Nancy out of the water.

Suffering from shock, Tommy was taken to the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital where doctors report his condition as satisfactory today. Nancy was taken home.

Tommy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rynerson of 9859 Elizabeth Lake Rd. Nancy lives with her parents, the A. J. Monettas at 10161 Elizabeth Lake Rd.

Judge Souris to Replace Voelker; Will Be Youngest

LANSING — Circuit Judge Theodore Souris, 34, of Detroit today was appointed to the State Supreme Court. He will become the youngest justice in Michigan's 132-year history.

Gov. Williams announced his selection as a replacement for Justice John D. Voelker of Ishpeming, whose resignation will be accepted Monday. Souris' appointment is effective at that time.

Souris, who will be 35 on Aug. 5, comes to the high court 5½ months younger than Justice Jame V. Campbell, also 34 when he was seated on the high court a century ago.

Campbell served from January 1858 continuously until 1890. His 32-year tenure set a record.

Justice George Edwards was the youngest appointee to the State Supreme Court in modern times, having been appointed in 1956 at the age of 41.

Souris was appointed Wayne County circuit judge only last Feb. 6 to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge Joseph A. Moynihan, which ended today.

Moynihan died after the filing date for the next term and Souris had no chance to run for the post.

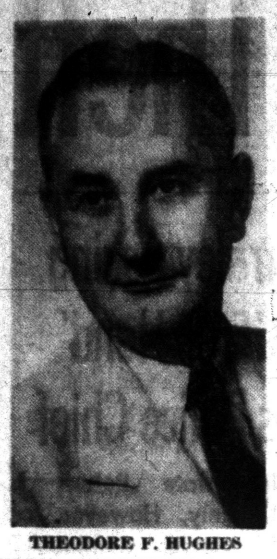

Souris said a few days ago he would return to private practice. The 34-year-old judge lives in Grosse Pointe Farms, is married and has two sons and a daughter.

The appointment does not require Senate confirmation but Souris will have to run for the office in the election next November to keep his spot on the high court bench.

JUDGE SOURIS

Judge Hughes' Term Now State History

THEODORE F. HUGHES

Oakland County's and probably the state's one and only elected half-year-term circuit judge leaves the bench today the same way he came in — quietly.

Termination of his unprecedented six-months term doesn't seem to bother Judge Theodore F. Hughes much.

"I don't think there's a bit of difference in being a judge or an attorney," the judge said. Hughes said he'll return to his private law practice in Berkley on Jan. 4.

But the ambition of sometimes returning to the bench — maybe as the county's proposed second probate judge — remains, he said in reviewing the past six months and looking ahead.

★ ★ ★

Asked whether he'd be a judicial candidate again, the silver-haired former Republican state representative was slow in answering.

"You make those decisions when the proper time comes," he finally replied.

Not so slow was Hughes' answer to a question whether he had aspirations to return to the Legislature, either as a representative or senator.

"Nope," he said unhesitantly.

SKIMPY PAY

Asked for his reason, the 51-year-old judge said, "Because I consider our legislative setup too unrealistic to do the job." Hughes, during his four years as representative of Oakland's Fourth District, learned pay of legislators was alarmingly skimpy.

Because he started on his unique short-term July 1 realizing it would be ending just about as soon as it started, Hughes expressed no disappointment at having to relinquish the bench to incoming six-year Judge Stanton G. Dondero.

His brief judicial experience was of great satisfaction to him. "It rounds out the training of a lawyer and gives you a chance to see cases from a different point of view," he asserted.

★ ★ ★

With the official end of his term at midnight tonight, Hughes will have experienced three cycles of government — legislative, judicial and executive. He was once city attorney for Berkley.

"I liked the legislative best," he said.

As representative, Hughes introduced the bill, signed by Gov. Williams April 14, 1958, creating the county's fifth judge. Hughes, however, was quick to deny any credit for adding the short-term clause for the fifth judgeship, which, he said, probably could have been skipped.

But a cleaned-up Circuit Court docket is proof that much was accomplished by putting the fifth judge to work six months early. Hughes lost out in a bid to win a regular six-year term which begins Jan. 1.

BIG HELP

"Our docket is in better condition today than it has been in many years," the out-going judge remarked. Oakland's other four judges will attest to the fact that the fifth judge helped greatly in lessening the load on them, one of the heaviest among Michigan's judicial circuits.

His desk covered with last-minute cases he's clearing up, Hughes mentally surveyed the cases he has handled and was unable to put his finger on any standouts.

He estimates he handled 750 cases, mostly civil.

"Each one to me as a judge was just as important as the other," he said.

His term about to become an historical record, Hughes summarized his time on the bench with:

"Yes, being a judge is all right. I liked it."

Proxmire May Face Humphrey

Welcomes Him Into '60 Wisconsin Primary as Possible Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) today welcomd the entry of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) into Wisconsin's presidential primary, but said Humphrey will not win by default.

Unless Humphrey has other opposition, Proxmire said, he himself will run as a favorite son candidate to provide a test of sentiment in the April 5 primary.

Proxmire in effect thus invited Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) to make Wisconsin a principal battleground in his expected bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Humphrey announced his candidacy Wednesday, and Kennedy is expected to do the same on Saturday.

★ ★ ★

"I certainly welcome Sen. Humphrey to Wisconsin," Proxmire said. "He will make an extremely attractive candidate, a splendid spokesman for Democratic principles and, if elected, a great president."

Proxmire said, however, that unless Kennedy or some other contender enters the state contest he will run as a favorite son.

"But I won't make the race as long as the voters have a choice," Proxmire said in an interview.

That seemed to refer to Kennedy. Among the others prominently mentioned for the nomination, Adlai E. Stevenson, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) all have made it clear they will not willingly let their names go into any primaries.

★ ★ ★

All may find themselves on the ballot in Oregon's May 20 primary, with or without their consent. Humphrey said he is going into that state, as well as into tests in the District of Columbia May 3 and South Dakota June 7.

No New Year's Celebration for Safety Official

CHICAGO (UPI) — Maj. Gen. George C. Stewart won't be out celebrating the new year tonight. He'll stay home and worry.

Every holiday weekend has Stewart worried. Executive vice president of the National Safety Council, he's unnerved by the hundreds of traffic deaths over holiday weekends.

A big, graying man with the soft speech of his native Selma, Ala., the 57-year-old general fought in World War II and Korea before his retirement from active service in 1954.

"I have seen dead men, as many as 100 at a time," he said. "But I still cannot resign myself to losing the equivalent of two army divisions in traffic fatalities every year."

His Ability Goes Far

Marches Confidently Into New Decade

Trade Up, Europe Happy

By COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP)—Fashion - conscious French girls look to Italy for their shoes and sweaters.

Car-crazy Britons take the road in snazzy Citroens from France.

Christmas tables in Germany are piled with the products of a dozen countries.

That's a representative picture as booming Western Europe marches confidently into the new decade, more than ever a family despite occasional squabbles.

From country after country the year-end report is one of boom, with more prosperity expected.

Except in Italy, unemployment is negligible. For Italy it is an old, old problem, and the government is enticing northern industry to the impoverished south to help matters.

Only in Belgium, overdependent on coal exports which few countries now want to buy, was the past year less then booming. Even there the recovery prospects are bright.

Paradoxically, the rival trade blocs which threaten to split west Europe's economy may actually help to unite it.

The year saw West Germany, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Italy and Luxembourg unite in a common market with tariffs reduced on trade between each other.

Britain and six other countries —Switzerland, Austria, Portugal, Norway, Sweden and Denmark—replied with a tariff cutting scheme of their own. It comes into effect in 1960.

★ ★ ★

Soon the two groups start talking together. If all goes well, the result will be lower tariffs everywhere.

Britain has taken a stake in the Italian auto industry and is building toys in Germany. France builds cars in Britain. Germany assembles radios in Britain.

American subsidiaries in a dozen industries are booming in countries of both European trade groups.

Nixon's Stumped on Steel as His Mediation Fails

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today he and Secretary of Labor Mitchell have met with leaders on both sides in the steel dispute but that no agreement had been reached between the parties.

★ ★ ★

Said the Vice President:

"As for what progress has been made, all I can say is that the parties are still meeting and have not reached an agreement.

"As for the prospects of a settlement, I cannot anticipate at this time what the outcome will be."

Nixon said the last meetings were held in Washington yesterday.

Asked whether he is reporting to the President on the situation, Nixon replied:

★ ★ ★

"The President is, of course, always kept informed on meetings in which members of the Cabinet participate."

Nixon was questioned at Idlewild Airport before he took a plane for Pasadena, Calif., where he is to be grand marshal of the Tournament of Roses Parade tomorrow.

Nixon said he had delayed his flight to California in order to take part in the talks yesterday.

Members of the United Steelworkers Union are back at work in the nation's basic steel industry under a Taft-Hartley Law injunction. The injunction expires Jan. 26.

★ ★ ★

However, the government is mapping legislative proposals to deal with the emergency if the steel strike is resumed at the end of the injunction period.

5 Judges Sworn In, Doty Bids Goodby

for their oaths as "the embodiment of the ideals of justice," Justice Edwards moved forward with Clerk - Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr.

★ ★ ★

The five, the largest bench Oakland has had, placed their left hands on a Bible held by Murphy, and repeated the oaths of their offices simultaneously after Edwards. Edwards, himself a former Wayne County circuit judge, then congratulated each.

Five past presidents of the local Bar—Verne C. Hampton, William B. Hartman, David C. Pence, William R. Beasley and Gilbert H. Davis—then helped the five judges into their black judicial robes, Ziem and Dondero for the first time.

Presented to the judges from the association were engraved gavels.

Edwards was pinch-hitting for Chief Justice John R. Dethmers, unable to administer the oaths as originally scheduled due to a death in his family.

HUGHES RECOGNIZED

Besides welcoming Ziem and Dondero to the judicial circuit, and congratulating Holland, Adams and Beer on their continuing service, Edwards paid special recognition to Doty and Judge Theodore F. Hughes. Hughes completes his six-month term of the fifth judgeship tonight.

★ ★ ★

In his remarks, the justice said, "The American judiciary has stood calm and courageous in the realization of the maintenance of fundamental liberties of our people in times when others shrank away from these duties."

From a prayer he recalled from his days as a circuit judge, the visiting jurist ended his remarks with the Biblical reminder to the judges to "Do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly in the spirit of our Lord."

★ ★ ★

Elected in April, the five will start their new terms Jan. 4. They run through 1965. With Doty's retirement, Judge Holland becomes the Sixth Judicial Circuit's senior judge.

★ ★ ★

Following the ceremony a steady line of attorneys, friends and relatives filed past the five judges to shake hands. Some of the judges and their families visited the courtrooms they will occupy Monday.

The organization of attorneys served coffee during a reception after the ceremony.

Surviving are her parents, two sisters, Elizabeth of New Haven, Conn., and Sarah at home; two brothers, Philip and Douglas, also at home at 940 Harmon St., Birmingham; and grandmothers Mrs. Henry W. Ingraham of Peaks Island, Maine, and Mrs. Howard G. Philbrook of Gorham, N.H.

Eight Stars Leave Hedda Hopper Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight movie personalities have withdrawn from "Hedda Hopper's Hollywood" TV show, but they have been replaced by other film notables, says the National Broadcasting Co.

NBC said Wednesday the changes for the Jan. 10 show merely represented "final casting" and had nothing to do with CBS - TV star Ed Sullivan's charges that Miss Hopper paid off in newspaper column mentions instead of money.

Sullivan's charge that she was underpaying her stars brought a countercharge from Miss Hopper that "he's a liar."

Sullivan, also a newspaper columnist, took his complaint to two unions—the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists and the Screen Actors Guild. The Guild said the matter was not in its jurisdiction. AFTRA is investigating.

Withdrawing from the show, NBC said, were Charlton Heston, Mickey Rooney, Bette Davis, Steve McQueen, Gary Merrill, Robert Horton, Joan Crawford, and Tuesday Weld.

The replacements, the network said, will be Bob Hope, Robert Cummings, Don Murray, Hope Lange, Janet Gaynor, Harold Lloyd, John Cassavetes, and Ventia Stevenson.

Heston said he had not known the program would be telecast nationally, competing with the regular Sullivan show on which Heston recently was paid $10,000 for an appearance.

A Hollywood trade publication quoted AFTRA as saying it has learned that the 30 film personalities slated for the Hopper show would be paid the $210 minimum, with each appearing about one minute.

TV SPAT — Stirring up trouble, and maybe a little interest, was television "Shewman" Ed Sullivan, left. He has charged that Hedda Hopper is lining up guests for a Jan. 10 show by offering to pay top talent only with mention in her newspaper column. To this Miss Hopper said, "He's a liar." The special show will vie with Sullivan in the same time slot. Meanwhile, back in the dressing room, Charlton Heston, right, withdrew from the Hopper show, saying he thought it was to be a local offering. He was recently paid $10,000 for an appearance on the Ed Sullivan show.

County Home for 11 Children

Avon Parents Charged With Child Neglect for Rearing Them in 'Filth'

Eleven children taken from their Avon Township home, described as "filthy" and "unfit" by sheriff's deputies, will remain at the Oakland County Children's Home pending a Juvenile Court hearing next month.

★ ★ ★

The decision to keep the children at the home was made by James Van Leuven, Juvenile Court referee. The hearing will be held before Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barrett, 2621 Weaverton St., called the home "better than anything we've ever seen."

★ ★ ★

The parents have been accused of child neglect. A complaint was filed by Deputy Charles G. Rahn after he was taken to the home by the mother, Mrs. Helen Barrett, 40. She had called deputies to the home Monday to report that her husband was beating her.

★ ★ ★

Eleven of the children slept on the floor in one bedroom covered by a single blanket, deputies said. The eleven children range from 10 months to 16 years of age.

Start Scholarship Fund for Advanced Teachers

BIRMINGHAM — Nearly $1,000 has been contributed to a scholarship grant fund set up by four doctors to assist in advancing the education of teachers in the Bloomfield Hills school system.

Supporting the fund are Dr. Mark Dale, Dr. Harry Lichwardt, Dr. Jack Hertzler and Dr. Ralph M. Fox.

Explaining the purpose of the fund, Dr. Dale said, "The money will assist teachers to advance their own training, which in turn will benefit students.

★ ★ ★

"The grants are also expected to attract the highest caliber of teachers to the school system," he added.

★ ★ ★

Each grant will be $500, and the number of grants will depend on the amount raised by subscription.

"It is hoped that $2,000 to $3,000 will be contributed annually," Dr. Dale said.

Teachers will be selected on the merits of the project for which the grant is intended, he said.

"Applicants will submit letters outlining the research, course of study, or travel for which the money will be used," Dr. Dale explained.

★ ★ ★

"The program fills a definite need in education."

"Although there are grants for research in industry and science, there are few grants for advanced teacher training. This is especially true in the case of high school and elementary teachers," he said.

Construction of the Birmingham Eccentric's new newspaper office and printing plant at 1225 Bowers Ave. is expected to begin this week, H. F. Campbell Construction Co., contractor for the one-story building, announced today.

★ ★ ★

Completion of the $250,000 building is expected in early July, and will provide 22,800 square feet to accommodate editorial, display advertising, composing room and stock room activities.

Probe for Cause of Fatal Fire

Midland Blaze Kills One and Injures Three; Only Minor Damage

MIDLAND (AP) — Dow Chemical officials sought today to determine what set off a flash fire that killed one employe and injured three others in the company's phenol plant.

The fire yesterday noon spread through the open installation of pipes and tanks but caused only minor damage. It was under control within three hours.

Dow refused to identify the casualties for more than two hours after the accident.

Robert Guettler, 32, of Bay City, who had been a Dow employe for 11 years, was killed by a sudden burst of flame from a large cylinder used for processing phenol.

Arthur Schroeder, 40, of Midland, suffered extensive burns of the face, chest, arms and legs and a broken left leg. His condition was listed as fair at Midland Hospital.

Casper Scharick, 37, of Midland, and Otto Sparsam, 58, of Bay City were treated at the Dow medical building and released. Sparsam suffered minor facial burns. Sharick was treated for shock.

The four men were members of a construction crew. They were using a mobile crane to remove the cylinder. Guettler and Schroeder were standing on a raised platform 30 feet above the ground steadying the cylinder. Benzine ran out the bottom of the cylinder and ignited. The sudden flames enveloped Guettler and he died at the scene. Schroeder jumped aside.

Company officials said it has not been determined what ignited the benzine.

Gatewood, who was acquitted in his trial before Judge Cash.

It was announced yesterday also that the township attorney has been instructed to file charges against the eight men with the Civil Service Commission.

An official said the men have only seven days left in which to appeal to the commission for reinstatement.

Ware said today, "I don't intend to appeal to the commission. I don't think I can appeal there unless I've been cleared first of the charges on my appeal to the Circuit Court. Maybe Gatewood should appeal. He wasn't found guilty."

★ ★ ★

Bond was set at $400 for Ware, pending the appeal.

GIVEN MARKED BILLS

State Police had testified at Ware's trial that they had given him a marked $5 bill and six marked $1 bills when he was selling Goodfellow newspapers on Dec. 14.

None of the bills, they said, turned up in his receipts, which included 11 $1 bills and some coins.

The former head of the department, Ware had been a policeman for 14 years.

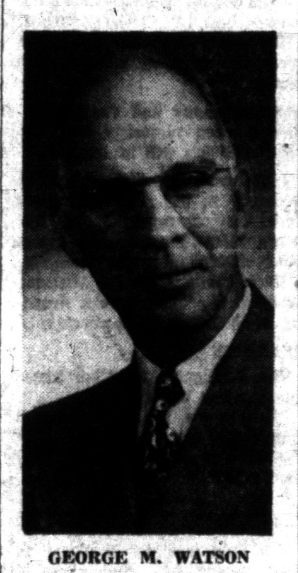

Cash announced yesterday he was turning the trial of the remaining police and firemen over to Justice James Renfrew of Huntington Woods.

Renfrew began hearing the case yesterday against the fire chief, Capt. Sam Mitchell.

Mitchell's trial resumes 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. He has asked for a jury.

Others facing trial are patrolmen William Boyd, Ernest Wilson and Ananiah Ruffin; firemen Edward Tenant and James Anderson; constable Willie Brown; and citizens David Lockridge, James Dickens and Robert Thorne.

All pleaded not guilty at their arraignment on Dec. 17 with the exception of Thorne, who pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and placed on one year's probation.

Nuclear Paint Pushed for Cars

Producers Await Word From AEC on Approval of H-Bomb By-Product

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — The auto industry is ready to put a by-product of nuclear bombs to work on automobiles if the Atomic Energy Commission will only give it a go-ahead.

The T K F Co., operated by Thomas K. Fisher, son of one of the Fisher brothers who founded the auto industry's most famous body company, has generated widespread interest in the auto industry in a new luminous paint made with tritium.

Tritium, which is sold by the AEC as bottled gas under pressure to licensed buyers, is an isotope by-product of lithium, generally considered to be the "guts of the H-bomb."

The AEC has made 1,000,000 curries of tritium available for research and development by private industry but so far has not licensed any commercial application of the atomic by-product.

Using tritium, scientists have developed a luminous paint which is 20 times brighter than radium-base paints now used on luminous watch dials and the like.

Although it is a direct by-product of the hydrogen bomb, tritium is actually safer than radium because it emits only beta radiation, not the deadly gamma rays.

The AEC said the beta particles emitted by tritium are identical with the electrons bombarding the screen of the ordinary home television set.

In automotive and household applications it will be covered with a plastic coating to protect against any direct contact with the skin. Actually this is only an extra precaution because tritium is considered dangerous only if taken internally.

Fisher said he believed tritium paint will eventually have many consumer and commercial uses, but he believed it would be especially suitable for use in automobiles.

Some of the applications he suggested for use of the glowing paint were: a thin line of paint around the ignition key and door key slots so they could be easily located in the dark, illumination of the gear shift quadrant, on the cigar lighter so it can easily be returned to its proper place on the dashboard without fumbling around in the dark, radio dials, on ash trays, and on buttons and controls which have to be located in the dark.

It'sh New Year'sh Eve

C'mon, Shport, Get Blotto

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Shake those martinis! Chill that champagne! Shake those bones of contention! Lower those inhibitions, and raise that cain!

It is the night to be gay.

Those are orders, ladies and gentlemen.

This is New Year's Eve and anybody who doesn't have a good time is not playing the game. This is the night you kiss your neighbor's wife and slosh her husband with champagne, and don't have to apologize. The night you wear a funny hat and blow a funny horn so you don't have to listen to yourself think — nasty business, thinking.

The night you act absurdly like a child so you can forget the past, not dwell on the future, and cling a little woozily to the fence between what's gone and what's coming.

Ah, come on. Pay no never mind to that young kid weeping in the corner. Apply that spoon to that saucepan and hit. Tune in Guy Lombardo, stick a pin in a balloon and have another drink.

Anybody who goes to bed is a sissy. A maladjusted sissy. Be gay, man. It is traditional. The herd is having a raucous time and you've simply got to join or be labeled antisocial. What fun is that?

If you wake up tomorrow with a clear head, you'll just have to work. Or read the papers. There'll be nobody who'll talk to you.

SOME SHUDDER

There are millions of people who dread New Year's Eve, because it's a night when it takes a lot of alcohol to become as abandoned as you just have to be. To keep from thinking nostalgically about the mistakes of last year, to keep from peering meekly into the frightening future—this takes a maximum of noise and mayhem.

But most of these people are well enough adjusted to the herd that they can make it—temporary oblivion—if they throw themselves into the game early in the evening.

One note of caution: Everyone agrees that a possible way to save your life is to have one coffee for the road before you drive or weave home. Try to remember that now. Tie a little noose around your finger.

Everybody prepared? Okay. Ready . . . set . . . blotto!

Of course, there are some Americans who just won't conform. They will go to church, or to a neighborhood movie, or to bed before midnight. And get this. Some folks will drink hot chocolate instead of champagne.

You never get your name in the papers—society section or obituaries—that way.

★ ★ ★

But these people are the lucky, unpublicized, nonconformists who do not need to blot out the loud sounds of the old year in their consciences.

They are the fortunate few who have come to like themselves, their own company, their own deeds.

They can toast 1959 with self-satisfaction, and 1960 with eager anticipation.

For them, laughter doesn't require a paper hat.

Lighthouse Man Has Toothache; Wife Suffers Too

SEMMEN, England (UPI)—Handel Bluer, 31, has a toothache, and for three weeks it has been giving his wife a pain in the back.

Bluer has been stranded by heavy seas for three weeks at his keeper's post on the Longships Lighthouse two miles offshore, and without a telephone.

So for three weeks Mrs. Joan Bluer, 29, has been using semaphore flags to relay dental advice from shore to lighthouse.

"It's back-breaking work waving these flags," Mrs. Bluer said. But promised to continue her unflagging, flagging until a boat can fetch Bluer to shore. "I must keep up his morale."

Editors Vote Sputnik Decade's Top Story

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Sputniks"—their implications to mankind and what they portend in the opening of the space age—constituted the top news story of the decade, according to a poll of executives and editors of United Press International.

Running a very close second was the story that opened the decade: Communist invasion of Korea and the historic decision for U.N. intervention. Third was the 1953 death of Stalin marking a new alignment of power in the Kremlin and the first signs of thaw in the cold war.

★ ★ ★

In giving his reason for voting for the 1957 advent of Sputniks, one editor said: "Because it well could be the story of the century."

Another said: "Russian mastery of Sputnik technology was truly revolutionary—as significant as the first A-bomb bursting over Hiroshima. It brought immediate political, military, and economic reassessment throughout the world. It ushered in a new 'age.' The other nine stories merely were the fifties' version of stories long old in history."

Those polled were asked to select the one top story from a list of 10 "story of the year" choices made by UPI client newspapers and UPI editors in the 1950s.

Wisconsin Tightens Nuptial-Divorce Law

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — "Marriages performed" signs, a trademark of justice of the peace across the country, come down in Wisconsin tomorrow.

A tightening of the state's family relations law, effective Jan. 1, restricts performance of marriage ceremonies to judges and clergymen. This eliminates court commissioners as well as JP's.

The law, known as the family code, also boosts the price of a marriage license from $1.50 to $3.50 and of a permit for waiver of the five-day waiting period from $2 to $5.

The code was introduced in the legislature in February, signed into law in November. One of the most controversial points was the ban on marriage ceremonies conducted by justices of the peace.

Although grounds for divorce remain about the same, a 60-day cooling-off period has been added in an attempt to stem the state's 4,500-a year divorce rate. The new procedure, adopted earlier in Illinois, has been upheld by its Supreme Court.

COOLING-OFF PERIOD

The cooling-off provision prohibits filing of a complaint until 60 days after a summons starting the action is served.

During the 60-day period family court commissioners — acting in a role similar to that of divorce counsels under present law—will work toward reconciliation. If they fail, their written reports form the basis for a ruling on custody, support and alimony or property division.

The new code also carries stiffer penalties for failure to support as ordered by the court in a divorce proceeding.

Out-of-state divorces will come under Wisconsin's one-year ban on remarriage when the code ges into effect. This restriction, which will apply whether or not the other state has a waiting period, probably will undergo a court test.

★ ★ ★

Applicants for remarriage who are obligated for child support will be required to prove to a court or record that they are meeting payments. The court will be empowered to refuse permission to remarry.

Another section requires 30-day residency for marriage license applicants, ending the present practice of establishing residence during an overnight stay.

Stiffer parental consent requirements are included, giving parents or guardians more leeway for annulment suits. The minimum age for marriage of a girl is raised from 15 to 16, and parental consent is required until her 18th birthday.

Consent of parents orguardian is required for males 18 to 21. Both marriages at a younger age are allowable only under court order. This is designed for cases where the prospective bride is pregnant.

Parade Floats Being Decorated in Much Secrecy

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — In the seclusion of garages and tents, 61 floats were being decorated today for the Tournament of Roses parade on New Year's Day.

★ ★ ★

Vice President Richard M. Nixon will ride as grand marshal, for the second time.

Reigning over all will be Rose Queen Margarethe Bertelson and her six princesses—all students at Pasadena City College.

The forecast was for cloudy skies in the morning, sunshine in the afternoon. It has rained only a few times in the parade's 71-year history.

Selective Service Man Dies in Heart Attack

LANSING (AP) — Kenneth B. White, 53, assistant to the procurement officer of state Selective Service, died suddenly here Tuesday of of asheart attack.

A native of Jackson, White worked for the Jackson City Bank and Consumers Power Co. before becoming assistant to the chief of the administrative section and personnel officer for the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1938.

TO REPRESENT U.S. — Frederick M. Eaton, above has been appointed by President Eisenhower to head the U.S. delegation to the 10-nation disarmament conference scheduled to start early next year in Geneva. Eaton, 54, is a senior partner in a N.Y. law firm.

'59 Crop Output Low in Michigan

Strawberries Hurt by Lack of Rain; Smaller Yield for Vegetables

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan did well in many crops in 1959, hitting new highs in some types but total production of vegetables for fresh market and processing was down about 3.5 per cent from 1958, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service indicated today.

★ ★ ★

Michigan's strawberry crop was down about 25 per cent from the previous year when a hot June ripened the crop quickly and a picker shortage at harvest time caused trouble.

The size of the strawberry crop also was hurt by lack of rain in June, the service said. Total value of the 30,600,000 pounds was $5,116,000, about 24 per cent less than the value of the 1958 crop.

Total value of the commercial vegetable crop, not including mint or potatoes, was $32,311,000, about 6 per cent less than for 1958.

★ ★ ★

The smaller 1959 vegetable crop was caused by lower yields combined with smaller acreage than in 1958. Dry June and July times, plus too much rain in September, hurt some of the crops.

The only vegetable crops doing well were cantaloupes, cucumbers, onions and mint, the service reported.

Billy Graham Plans Worldwide Crusades

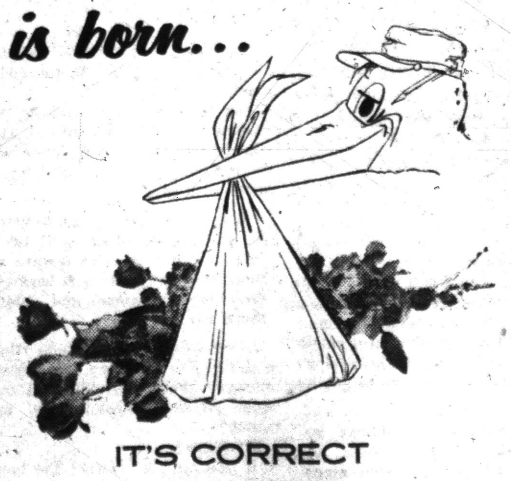

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — The Billy Graham evangelistic team has announced crusades for 1960 in Africa, Brazil, Switzerland, Germany, Washington, D. C. and a New York City crusade for Spanish-speaking people.

★ ★ ★

The schedule for January through March includes evangelistic meetings in 16 cities of nine African countries: Liberia, Ghana, Nigeria, Southern Rhodesia, Northern Rhodesia, Tanganyika, Kenya, Ruanba-Urundi and Ethiopia.

Associate evangelists will hold a preliminary campaign of about one week in each African city, prior to closing meetings conducted by Graham.

American Small Cars Outsell Foreign Makes

Point of Interest: Just announced statistics show sales of American-built compact cars overhauled the foreign imports in October, the first month that the Big Three's "little" three were in the showrooms.

★ ★ ★

It's too soon to tell whether it was just the newness of the American compacts, or that Americans really prefer the Falcons, Corvairs and Valiants to the "prestige" products of Europe.

★ ★ ★

Ward's Automotive Reports says, however, that thus far there has been no significant fall-off in the import sales. And lumped together, the U.S. compacts which include Rambler and Lark and the foreign imports took 22.9 per cent of the market in October.

U.S. Begins to Crack the Language Barrier

For many of the past years, Americans have looked with disinterest or disdain on acquiring the tongue of other lands. This has been a distinct handicap in many areas of government, trade and general good will, and is personified by the European cartoons of the touring Americans who refuse to learn the basic necessities of other languages in the lands they visit.

★ ★ ★

While the world was shrinking daily with faster and faster transportation and communication, many U.S. people who were working with other governments and lands retained an "isolation" theory about languages — that everyone should learn English.

★ ★ ★

They found out in many cases they themselves could learn a lot, if they knew the local lingo. Our foreign aid funds dispensed all over the globe abetted this unspoken feeling that "if they can take our money, they can learn to speak our language."

★ ★ ★

We hold no particular brief for the purists, and even Prof. 'enry 'iggins asides to the My Fair Lady audiences that "English hasn't been spoken in America for years."

But it is encouraging to see the upsurge in language studies across the nation, as reported by our news wires. More and more of the students are taking a deeper interest in foreign languages, and will be able to understand and communicate with the everyday citizens of the other nations when they take their places as leaders in the future.

★ ★ ★

None less than DICK NIXON and NIKITA K. are leaders in this, as witnessed by their halting but sincere attempts to say at least a few words of each other's languages during their recent exchange of visits.

Although the high level discussions will probably always need the U.N. type battery of interpreters, the increased study of languages is bound to begin paying dividends soon.

Now's the Time to Plan for Future Water Safety

As our Oakland County lakes slowly glaze over with ice, not too many people are thinking of boating, but now is the time to begin working on water safety rules which may save lives next summer.

One of these is the requirement that every motor boat must have one life preserver for each passenger carried. This has been a requirement of commercial water carriers for years, and it makes sense.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County is one of the fastest growing boating centers in the country, and hundreds of boats are brought in by trailer each weekend in the summer to swell the total of thousands on the local lakes. Some protective regulations are needed before the situation gets out of hand.

★ ★ ★

The life preserver regulation is established and enforced by the Coast Guard on the Great Lakes, and it would be a good idea to extend the scope of that law to the many inland lakes in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Water Safety Study Commission has also recommended that all new boats be tagged with the maximum loading and horsepower capacities, to cut down the overloading and overpowering which causes so many accidents on our lakes.

IT's strange that Moscow hasn't pointed out that although the United States continues to declare it is for peace and amity, currently one of the most popular songs in the U.S. is "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Get Early Refund

By Being Prompt in Filing 1959 Income Tax Return

Shiftless: What the automatic transmission has made us.

Kindly held up until after the Christmas holiday, the income tax blanks are now being received. They come as gifts on which there is no exchange date.

While it is not actually necessary to file your return for over three months, it is pointed out that prompt action has its rewards. You'll get your refund earlier.

The returns are processed in the order of their receipt, and last year many of the local prompt filers got their vouchers in time to help finance their winter vacation trips, or in liquidating bills — or adding to their savings accounts.

'Just Keep 'Em Walking—and Talking, Son'

David Lawrence Says:

One-Plant Strike Could Trap USW

WASHINGTON — Surely David McDonald, president of the national Steelworkers Union, coundn't have been serious when he hinted the other day that, instead of resuming the strike in the 11 big companies of the steel industry, he might decide to halt operations only in the plant of one or two companies at a time.

LAWRENCE

For the nation would then be given a dramatic demonstration of the monopoly power of big unionism. A single powerful union would be revealed as damaging one competitor, while benefiting another, by the discriminatory use of the strike weapon.

★ ★ ★

There is even a possibility that this kind of economic "restraint of trade" might come under existing antitrust laws. For, while the right to strike is not itself restricted under current laws—except when an 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act is issued—there have been prosecutions in the past when labor unions have deliberately conspired with managements to hurt third parties.

It could be argued that, in this instance, the companies that are permitted by the union to keep their plants open would not be voluntarily cooperating with the strategy of the union. But, on the other hand, the adverse effect on free competition would be the same.

★ ★ ★

There never has been a test of the legality of a strike called in part of an industry after an industrywide bargaining process has collapsed. But the National Labr Relations Board has recognized as legal a lockout declared by employers who are parties to an association-bargaining formula.

MIGHT TRY LOCKOUT

In the case of the current steel controversy, there isn't any association bargaining as such, because each company is, theoretically at least, engaged in negotiating its own contract, and in the past separate contracts—largely covering the same terms, but with local differences—have been signed.

★ ★ ★

The 11 companies might endeavor to exercise their right of lockout, and it could mean a protracted legal battle, so that, for all practical purposes, the net result would be to emphasize to the American people that a national union, financially supported by the nation's biggest labor-union organization—the AFL-CIO—can pick on a single employer and bring to bear enormous economic pressure to get its way.

Congress would doubtless be impressed by this show of strength and would listen more attentively to appeals for a curb on industrywide bargaining.

To select certain companies for a strike and to let others, temporarily at least, continue operations is not likely to be palatable to the workers themselves, especially those selected for the first period of forced idleness. This is bound to produce resentment among the workers. For years they have been accustomed to industry-wide bargaining in steel.

There are some industries, like automobiles, where the strategy of the national union is to pick on one company at a time and threaten a strike before putting direct pressure on a second or third company. The auto workers have been educated to these tactics, but the same is not true of the steel employes.

If Mr. McDonald carries on a partial strike in steel, the country will have an opportunity to see just how the economic power of a big union is exercised. Congress would then be asked to stop all collusion between competitors in fixing wages or working rules, and this would naturally be extended to cover the representatives of the employes of all competitors.

Legislation would be proposed to require the employes of each company to operate independently of the union in any other company. If adopted, this could certainly be construed to mean that uniform expiration dates of contracts would in themselves be evidence of a conspiracy between competing companies.

★ ★ ★

Mr. McDonald will be taking a big risk if he follows through on his reported plan.

The Country Parson

"We've grown so used to having others do things for us that we even ask God to do for us what He expects us to do."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Youngsters Who Smoke Cigarettes Are Stinkers

The American Cancer Society found that about 3,000 of 11,060 boys and 1,370 or 10,920 girls in high school in Portland, Ore., are smokers.

DR. BRADY

The report of this survey or study does not tell how the 8,060 boys and 9,550 girls manage to get along without smoking.

Some youngsters smoke because they are morons. They have enough intelligence to know that they are inferior mentally, physically or socally, and in their stupid way they think the business of lighting a cigarette covers up their deficiency.

Some smoke because they are afraid the smart Alecks or Alices will call them "chicken."

★ ★ ★

Some cultivate the habit because "all the fellows" or "all the girls" smoke nowadays.

The percentage of smokers, the Portland survey showed, is substantially higher among boys who do not participate in athletic or other activities.

Why don't pupils participate in athletic or other activities? Is it because they are aware of their inferiority? Or is it because their parents pamper and coddle them too much?

How many parents help their children to dodge gymnasium classes? How many teachers consider physical education a nuisance?

Sourpuss?

If you happen to visit the bowling green one of these days and see no one smoking a pipe, I'm not there.

★ ★ ★

Any young person who begins to smoke while he or she is dependent upon parents or others for support is in my opinion a stinker.

Now you may say I am biased in my opinion that cigarette smoking is most harmful, cigar smoking is less harmful and pipe smoking is least harmful.

I believe it is the C.O. (carbon monoxide) in tobacco smoke that accounts for the ill effects. If nicotine were as poisonous as the old timers would have us think, one good chew of tobacco would take the chewer for his last ride. And besides, combustion destroys nicotine and generates or produces carbon monoxide.

You may dispute some of my teachings but not this one: It is fine character training for a boy or girl NOT to smoke or drink.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Offers Advice for Breaking Habit

Edith wants to make some new resolutions but has failed twice before. Her husband would like to free himself from slavery to tobacco and she wishes to slenderize by 25 lbs. If you are the type who hates to be enslaved by nuisance habits, then read the advice below and declare your independence NOW!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE D-440: Edith M., aged 24, has a very common problem.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "my husband smokes excessively and I am overweight, so we'd like to make a new resolution and get rid of these bad habits.

CRANE

"But we have tried to do it twice before and soon we slipped back into the old rut.

"So is it worthwhile to make such resolutions when we may not keep them?"

MAKE NEW RESOLUTIONS

Yes, indeed, it is very valuable to make new resolutions, even if many of them may be broken later on.

★ ★ ★

For no progress ever occurs without first adopting a new idea. So write down your resolutions NOW.

Then set your goal at short intervals of time. Don't try to quit cigarettes for the entire year of 1960, for example, but use the admirable doctrine of Alcoholics Anonymous.

They urge their members to "Stay dry just till bedtime."

They thus shoot at a 24-hour goal. For it helps your morale to chalk up many quick victories.

Edith can likewise set her dieting goal on a one-day basis, while her husband tries to cut out his tobacco for that same day.

Then, next morning, set up a new 24-hour goal. And mark off your victories on the wall calendar so you can see them. After you have 5 or 6 wins to your credit, your confidence zooms rapidly.

And you can also improve faster by such team work, for Edith can prod and praise her husband for his victories, while he lauds her day to day successes.

BREAK BAD HABITS

In trying to free yourself from former bad habits, work up as much ire as possible.

And personalize your nuisance habit. Declare a revolution. You can even talk back to your former master, such as a pack of cigarettes, and tell it off!

"You can't make a slave out of me," you can whisper. "I'll prove that I am stronger than any nuisance habit." Then try to channel as much of your former muscular habit pattern as possible into a new and better outlet.

For example, it isn't so much the nicotine that makes you want to smoke but a temporary piling up of unused energy. Then your arm craves a chance to wave around, as in the act of handling the cigarette.

So give that hand and arm the similar outlet by carrying candy coated gum in the same pocket. Then shake out a piece of gum, put it in your mouth and restore the package to the pocket.

Thus, the same arm gets used at frequent intervals and it is this "muscle hunger" of the familiar hand and arm that is your biggest problem.

10 LBS. IN 10 DAYS

Eith can easily lose 10 lbs. in 10 days by limiting her food input to 800 calories per day and reducing her fluid intake to one full glass (8 oz.) the first day; 2 glasses the 2nd day, and 3 glasses from the third through the 10th days.

This dehydration diet kills hunger. Your thirst may zoom but in your mind stays on ice cubes instead of pie and cake!

This dehydration diet thus permits a fast quick loss the first 10 days which bolsters your morale. And it doesn't involve taking dangerous drugs.

So be master, instead of slave, of your habits. To help you declare a revolt, send for the booklet "How to Break the Tobacco & Liquor Habits," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Deduction for Dependents Should Be More Realistic'

In reply to Taxpayer, quite a few years ago the cost deducted from our income tax for dependents was sufficient for the cost of living. But now, with the highest cost of living in history and the added taxes on everything we have to buy to exist, the $600 deducted for wife and children is deplorable. Perhaps one of these days someone will raise that figure to somewhere near the true cost of living for the average worker.

'Simple Statements Solve Problems'

As a great flash of lightning dispels the darkness, so do the astonishing and simple statements of Jesus concerning the fundamental laws of life clear the darkness before us.

★ ★ ★

Jesus revealed the fundamentals of God's laws, to wit: the Golden Rule, Ten Commandments and Brotherhood of Man. He tells us to love our neighbors and to abandon the vain glorious things of the world. To seek the Kingdom of Heaven within. That we should lift up our consciousness to God in prayer and this would help us on our way to eternal life and happiness. It is as simple as that.

★ ★ ★

If we talk to God in prayer, he will help us follow these laws and we will lead a happy and contented life here on earth and our spiritual body will be happy to return to God when our time on earth is ended. We should all heed the advice of Jesus.

Social Security Cost to Jump Starting Friday

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Starting Friday, Uncle Sam will take more from your pay check for Social Security taxes.

The 20 per cent hike, which will be felt by virtually every worker and employer in the nation, is designed to bring the government an additional two billion dollars a year in revenue.

It will be the fourth increase in Social Security taxes in the last six years. The present law calls for three more increases spread over the next nine years.

Higher taxes are needed to cover the swelling costs of the program, which now provides monthly benefit checks to 13,400,000 persons.

Beginning Friday, wage and salaried employes will pay Social Security taxes amounting to 3 per cent of the first $4,800 in annual earnings. That compares with 2.5 per cent this year.

So if you make $4,800 or more, your tax next year will total $144—an increase of $24 over this year, and $49.50 more than the tax was in 1958.

Employers will be affected, too, since they must match the contribution of each employe to the system.

Self-employed persons won't be hit until they file their tax returns in April 1961. They will pay 4½ per cent of their first $4,800 in 1960 earnings, compared with 3¾ this year. Their maximum tax will climb from $180 this year to $216.

The program covers all workers except federal employes who have their own retirement systems, some state and local government workers, self-employed doctors, and irregularly employed domestic help and farm hands.

By 1969, under the present schedule, the tax rate will be 4½ per cent of the first $4,800 in annual earnings to be paid employes and employers, and 6¾ per cent on the self-employed.

There's a good chance that congress will act in the meantime to step up the tax rate, however.

Indications are the lawmakers will do something to liberalize the program next year, just as they have in each of the past five election years—boosting the tax schedule to meet the added cost.

Hope to Label Earth Blasts

Scientists See Size of Undetected Explosion as Arms Talks Block

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)— A group of scientists says there is hope of finding how to tell the difference between shock waves from earthquakes and underground atomic blasts.

But it's a problem, they admit, because of the recent finding that a bomb five times the size of that which wrecked Hiroshima could be exploded undetected at the bottom of a hole in the earth.

★ ★ ★

Some of the scientists who discussed the subject at a meeting of the American Physical Society were present at Geneva during recently discontinued talks on how to detect underground atomic blasts. The United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union participated.

★ ★ ★

It was at Geneva that the American team presented data indicating that a hole 3,000 feet deep and 800 feet in diameter could buffer the blast of a bomb equal to 100,000 tons of TNT.

Simple Shower Gift Best

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Don't you think that something should be done about limiting the value of shower presents? After all, shower presents are not supposed to be the same as wedding presents, and many of the bride's friends are unable to give handsome shower presents and then a nice wedding present besides.

The other afternoon I went to a shower for a girl I know and brought her a nice present, but not a very expensive one. All of the others gave her really valuable gifts which made mine look like nothing at all.

Answer: I agree with you that shower presents should be small ones, and these other presents should be given to her at some other time.

Judging by several letters similar to this, it would seem that the shower question is becoming a serious one, and I do think it is a pity to let the spontaneous lightness of a friendly gesture become a burdensome obligation.

TABLE MANNERS

Dear Mrs. Post: When one puts a forkful of food into one's mouth is it proper to put it back on the tongue and close the teeth on the fork, but not the lips, or is it correct to close the mouth (lips) completely as one removes the fork from the mouth? I have seen many women follow the former procedure. I realize it is done to keep from smearing one's lipstick but it does not seem correct to me.

Answer: Even though done with the best of intentions, the procedure you describe of closing the teeth and not the lips on the fork is far from correct.

Dear Mrs. Post: My employer's wife is quite seriously ill in the hospital. I would like very much to send her some flowers if you don't think I will give the impression of forwardness.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: Is there any objection to wedding invitations being printed on tinted paper? Instead of the usual white, I would like to have a pale ivory or an extremely light pink. Would this be in good taste?

Answer: Neither pink nor pale blue would do at all. Pale ivory would be considered as white and entirely correct.

Symphony Gets $1,200

Presents Check

A check for $1,200 to help defray the expenses of the December concert of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra was presented yesterday to George H. Putnam, chairman of the orchestra's Board of Directors, by Mrs. Socrates V. Sekles, treasurer of Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall.

Stated purpose of Town Hall has been to assist the Symphony and to bring other cultural events to Pontiac. Less than a year old, Town Hall has brought "Music Man" Meredith Willson, his wife Rini and sculptress Fiore de Henriquez to the stage of the Oakland Theater for well-attended sessions. Three more lectures will complete the series.

An unexpected cultural bonus for the area is Town Hall's sponsorship of the Canadian Players from Stratford, Ontario, in a one-night presentation of William Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" Feb. 26. Open to the public, this promises to be a sell-out performance, according to ticket chairman, Mrs. J. A. Rammes of Rosedale street.

Personal Happiness Second, Good Health Third Wish

Teen-Agers Asking World Peace for 1960

By EUGENE GILBERT

The New Year finds young people in America making a heartfelt wish for peace.

We asked teen-agers across the country what they want most in 1960.

Boys and girls alike place world peace at the top of their list.

Their second biggest desire is for personal happiness, with good health third.

"Peace on earth—prejudice dissolved between men" is the wish of 16-year-old Novello Matatall of Tonawanda, N.Y. Some 55 per cent of the 640 teen-agers polled agree with that view.

Gerald Oppen, 17, of Los Angeles, wants "peaceful coexistence and complete disarmament."

Susan Berd, 14, of Indianapolis, wishes "that we make friends with Russia and don't ever have to worry about war any more."

And 16-year-old George Streid of New Orleans hopes "that the United States starts catching up in rocketry and exceeds Russia."

★ ★ ★

Boys should be interested in this finding: 5 per cent of the girls—but no boys—wish for marriage in the coming year.

As for New Year's resolutions, most of the 640 young people we interviewed hadn't made any yet. Some didn't intend to.

Said 18-year-old Karen Boswell of St. Louis, "If you have to make resolutions, you must be weak willed."

Ed Coding, 15, of Portland, Ore., commented "I'm good enough now."

VOW BETTER GRADES

However, most teen-agers who have settled on their aims for the New Year are concerned with doing better in school and with being a better person. Each of those resolves drew 19 per cent.

There were a number of more personal resolutions. Elaine Bense, 17, of St. Louis, "has decided to go on a diet—not eat so much."

Bonnie L. Kind, 16, of Indianapolis, is going to try "to be nicer to my mother."

Faye Esposito, 16, of Buffalo, N.Y., hopes "not to lose my temper too quickly and not to cry so much."

★ ★ ★

Dick Gimler, of Atlanta, says he's "not going to have so many girls on the line." And 16-year-old Bobby Mento of Phoenix, Ariz., says there'll be "no more goofing off in school" for him.

For celebrating on New Year's Eve, most teen-agers whose plans are set will go partying (34 per cent). Some 17 per cent will go out to nightclubs, shows or dinner. Four per cent will spend New Year's Eve with their families and 2 per cent — all girls—will baby sit.

Janet Baily, 16, of Chinchilla, Pa., says the gay spirit and relaxation of inhibitions makes it an exciting night. She adds, "You can do things you can't do other times."

Susan Moore, 17, of St. Louis, likes New Year's because "everyone is in a good mood."

As for special holiday observances, many teeners mentioned family church attendance. Mary Loomis, 16, of Phoenix, says, "We call each other up early in the morning around 5 a.m. and talk for hours about everything."

New Year's Eve seems to be a time of family clampdowns on car driving. Sixty per cent of the teen-agers report their parents forbid them to go out in a car, whether their own or a friend's. And the young people generally agree with that decision.

Don't Correct Tiny Stutterer, Expert Says

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—Don't worry if your pre-school child stutters or repeats himself, says a human relations specialist.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Dalton Vernon, of the Vermont Extension Service, said a child does not notice anything strange about his speech unless someone stops him to point out his hesitations.

★ ★ ★

"Repetitions in speech don't indicate anything wrong with most children. But they can be aggravated into something serious if the child is interrupted and constantly told to slow down. A real stutterer is conscious of his speech and usually is embarrassed by it," Vernon said.

'Don't Rock the Boat,' Says Abby

Better the Dust Should Fly Than You

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When I was hired to do secretarial work I wasn't told that I was also expected to do the work of a cleaning woman. I don't mind dusting off my own desk and the file cabinets, but when my boss asks me to please vacuum the carpet, wipe off the Venetian blinds and to dust his furniture — well, I think I am being taken advantage of. He is a good boss in every other way. The pay is excellent and I get plenty of time off and generous bonuses. But this gripes me. I've been seriously considering scouting around for another job. Or do other secretaries do these chores?

ABBY

GRIPED

DEAR GRIPED: "Better to live with the ills you know than to fly to others you know not of." You have plenty of secretaries in your boat. Don't rock it!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What does a woman do when she realizes that her marriage is absolutely hopeless? I have been married to this bum for 21 years and there is no love lost. It died a long time ago. There isn't room in your column to print all the reasons I have for wanting to be rid of him. Don't tell me to stay with him because of the children because they already hate him. Divorce is out because of our religion. I want to know if I can force him to support me and the kids. I am not trained to support myself.

HOPELESS MARRIAGE

DEAR HOPELESS: I don't give legal advice in my column, but I think everyone should be aware that a husband is required by Law to support his wife and children. If you doubt it — ask any lawyer.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister-in-law who has a lovely new home. But nobody ever sees her furnishings because she has rugs on her rugs and covers on her covers. All the furniture and lamps and even the carpets are covered with old, beat-up, faded bedspreads and tablecloths.

If we brought our little children along when we visited them, we could understand it. But when adults are invited to someone's home for an evening, wouldn't you think she'd undrape the place? It is so depressing to go over there. It reminds me of a morgue. Do you think I should tell her? My husband says not to.

LORRAINE

DEAR LORRAINE: Listen to your husband. Underneath it all — she's got her reasons.

It's 'Heads Up' to Shun Sags

If you want to avoid having a wrinkly neck by the time you're 50, carry your head high. Avoid digging your chin into your coat collar. Pick your book up when you read rather than putting it in your lap. Look at the sky and treetops rather than the sidewalk when you walk.

And cream your neck as well as your face every night before you go to bed. In the morning, on arising, splash both your face and neck with cold water. Never use ice water. Use cold water from the tap and splash it liberally.

Don't Overlook

When dusting, don't overlook light bulbs in lamps, especially those lamps with bulbs pointing upward. Dust can cut down appreciably on light output.

Prepare for 60 at 16

Count Ruts, Not Birthdays

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I am bringing you some NEW THOUGHTS for the NEW YEAR.

In his book, "The Way I See It," just published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., Eddie Cantor says that he believes we should begin preparing for the age of 60 when we are 16 or a bit older. He suggests that we begin developing interests and hobbies or avocations at least by the age of 46. These should be interests you can carry through life with you.

Those of you who read my column know that I have been waging a battle against limited horizons and the resulting boredom for years and have fought age consciousness as though it were a major disease, which I believe it to be.

Listen to what Mr. Cantor has to say: "You can't help aging but you do not have to fossilize. Forget all those fool ideas about WHAT you can do WHEN."

★ ★ ★

Another quote from his book: "Mental rigidity is responsible for most of the misery of old age." Another, "While boredom isn't officially listed as a degenerative disease and cause of death, it's a well established fact that you won't live very long without any interests in life."

It's not the birthdays that slip up on people but the ruts they suddenly find themselves in.

It is the tremendous impact of group thinking which has caused them to plan their lives and activities according to the number of years they have lived rather than their natural interests and abilities. This is such a terrible waste of happiness and accomplishment and vibrant living. Nothing could be more deadly.

Eddie Cantor suggests that we begin developing interests and hobbies or avocations at least by the age of forty-six.

Middle age is barely soon enough to begin adding new interests to the daily grind, no matter how much you love the grind or what a great service you are now rendering. Life and situations change and we must be prepared for this.

To me it is very sad that the years which could be so rewarding and exciting, after responsibilities have lessened somewhat, are so often times of despair and boredom for so many folks!

Tomorrow: "No, You're Not Crazy — But Your Figure's Okay."

Is Your Conversation an Age Giveaway?

By RUTH MILLETT

If you don't want to call attention to your age, don't:

Begin remarks with, "At my age . . ."

Wonder out loud what the world is coming to.

Talk about how awful young people are today.

Begin remarks with, "I guess I'm old-fashioned but . . ."

Resist anything new just because it is new and you only trust the old and familiar.

Spoil the effect of a pretty, new dress with some remark such as, "I hope it isn't too young for me."

Talk a lot about the good old days.

Point out to young people how easy they have it today and how much harder you had to work when you were young.

★ ★ ★

Turn up your nose at everything of modern design — without even trying to see if it has any merit.

Talk about the state of your health continually, not failing to add, "At MY age I guess you just start falling apart," or, "But I guess I'm lucky at MY age not to be in worse shape."

Feel free to offer advice to anyone, making good use of the phrase, "I'm old enough to know. . ."

Figure there's no point in putting a bright face on things if a sigh will get you sympathy.

Talk about the things you've had to give up as you have grown older.

Keep reminding folks that you don't expect to be around many more years.

★ ★ ★

You can make sure that others will think of you as "old" if you want to. But why do you want to emphasize your age?

The kid who brags about being bright will find plenty who are ready to polish him off.

Detroiter Is Man With No Country

State Dept. Rules He Lost His Citizenship Enlisting in Canada

PARIS (AP)—Joseph Greeson, Detroit-born and American-reared is a modern man without a country.

Greeson insists that he is American.

The U. S. State Department has ruled he forfeited his citizenship by swearing allegiance to a foreign power while serving with Canadian forces in World War II.

★ ★ ★

"I didn't take an oath of allegiance in Canada," Greeson protests. "I took a simple oath of service. But the State Department won't listen to me or give me a chance for a hearing before a court."

★ ★ ★

Trapped by the demands of international officialdom for identity papers he can't supply, Greeson has been bouncing from place to place for five years.

"Every place I've been I went to the American consulate to ask for papers to get me home. All I got was a cold shoulder," said Greeson. "It's been five years of pure misery. I've been reduced to living on charity. But I've still got a lot of fight in me. And now I've got a job in Paris (as an accountant), so maybe I can get back on my feet."

★ ★ ★

Greeson was born in Detroit July 22, 1917. His father, Alexander Greeson, lives in Hartford, Conn. Greeson says he holds a bachelor of science degree from Syracuse University, a bachelor of arts degree from Washington University at St. Louis, Mo., and is a metals engineer and a certified public accountant.

Pravda Paints Paris Bright Rosy Color

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Communist party organ Pravda said today the summit conference scheduled May 16 in Paris "undoubtedly will bear fine fruit for mankind."

A Pravda editorial carried by the official Tass agency said Russians and the peoples of the world "look with great hopes" to the talks.

The editorial coupled its rosy predictions for the summit meeting with a slap at capitalism.

"What has the world of capitalism, torn by differences, brought in the year that has passed?" it asked. "New ordeals for the working people, new alarms and lack of confidence in the morrow."

400,000 Ramblers Top Independents' Record

KENOSHA, Wis., (UP) — American Motors 400,000th Rambler of 1959 rolled off the assembly less than 27½ hours before the year's end.

Completion of the four-door six-cylinder white Rambler last night gave AMC the distinction of becoming the first independent American auto maker to turn out over 400,000 units in a year. The previous record for an independent was 307,000, produced by Willys Motors in 1928.

Transplanted Heart Keeps Canine Alive

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — There's a little mongrel dog—call him Butch—who is alive today, thanks to another unnamed dog. Butch has his heart.

Two Stanford medical research surgeons, Dr. Norman Shumway, 36, and Dr., Richard Lower, 30, performed an unusual operation last week and announced Wednesday that Butch had a new heart, taken from another dog and still lived after the transplanting.

Other physicians hailed the operation. It is not known to what extent it might apply to humans, but the fact the dog has lived for a week was regarded as remarkable.

Claims Injury in Drinking Tiff; Area Pair Sued

A Birmingham couple is being sued for more than $25,000 by a youth who claims his nose was injured permanently in a teen-age drinking brawl at their home.

The suit against Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Sumner of 852 Colonial Ct. was filed in U.S. District Court, Detroit, by Jeffry S. Life, 21, of Brookfield, Wis.

Life's suit contends he and other teen-agers attended a party at the Sumners' home on June 2, 1957, after a high school prom. It said drinks were served at the party and alleges the Sumners had a responsibility to prohibit drinking by teen-agers but failed to do so.

★ ★ ★

Life charged his nose was injured in a fight which started when "the party got out of control and rowdyism prevailed." He said the injury prevented him from "engaging in the normal pursuits" of one his age.

FDA Delays Its Ban on Lipstick Colors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration has delayed until Jan. 25 the start of its ban on 17 coal tar colors in lipstick.

★ ★ ★

Commissioner George P. Larrick expects to decide by then whether to hold public hearings asked by lipstick makers. The manufacturers have protested that the ban would affect about every lipstick on the market and could ruin their business.

★ ★ ★

FDA officials had said the dyes caused illness and death when included extensively in the diet of laboratory rats. The makers said there was no substantial proof that humans could be harmed by the dyes.

Ciro's Reopening Draws Crowd of Movie Stars

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Filmland personalities flocked to Ciro's last night for reopening of the famed nightspot on the Sunset Strip.

Actress Debbie Reynolds and her frequent escort, shoeman Harry Karl, were among several hundreds patrons to visit the club which had been idled for about a year by bankruptcy. Frank Sennes, owner of the Moulin Rogue in Hollywood, recently bought Ciro's for $352,000.

Sennes invested an estimated $200,000 more to renovate the club in an effort to make it the hangout for stars at it was back in the days when Errol Flynn and others used to be frequent guests there.

Among those at the opening were Jimmy Durante, John Ireland, Cara Williams and Jerry Lewis.

40-Year Men Quit State Posts

Weber, Chief Highway Engineer; Health Dept. Employe Shephard

LANSING (AP)—Two employes with 40 years of service each head a list of state workers retiring after the first of the year.

Carlos A. Weber of Lansing, chief engineer of the State Highway Department, learned at his retirement luncheon that his name would be put on a northern Michigan state park.

★ ★ ★

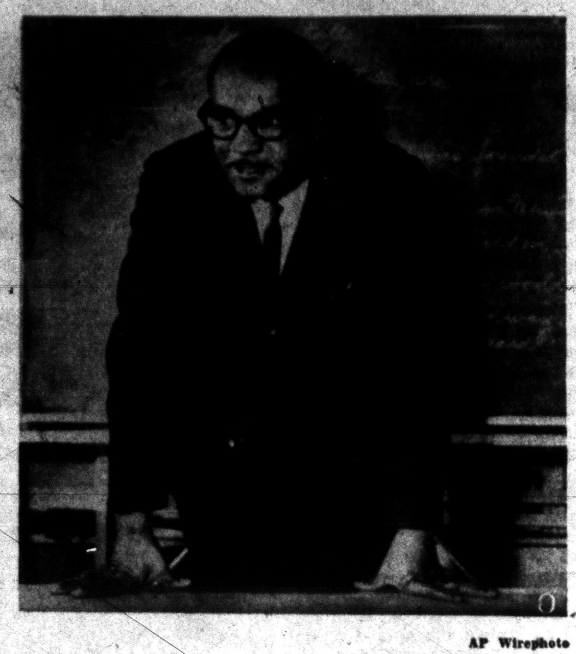

The roadside park is located on U.S. 131 and overlooks Petoskey. Some 250 Highway Department friends attended the gathering.

Willard F. Shephard, 40 years with the State Health Department, was honored for his pioneering in the field of sewage control and its treatment as head of the department's engineering division.

Shephard is credited with ending typhoid epidemics in Michigan caused by polluted water because of his insistence on control.

★ ★ ★

Also retiring after the year's end are Walter H. Taylor, an assistant attorney general for the past 14 years; Ralph J. Budd, 24 years with the State Social Welfare Commission and director of the surplus commodities division, and King J. Stacy, 36 years with the Boys Vocational School at Lansing as a music instructor.

See Ban Proving Street Parking Is Hazardous

LANSING (UPI)—A parking ban on parts of U.S. 25 in Mount Clemens shows that parking on city streets is a major cause of accidents, the Highway Department reports.

★ ★ ★

The ban resulted in an accident drop and increased the highway's capacity, department studies indicated.

In one spot in downtown Mount Clemens, parking was removed from only one side of the street, causing accidents on that side to drop and increase on the parking side.

"Drivers have a tendency to veer out farther from a parked car than a moving car," said Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

German Signs Attack Jews

Fresh Swastikas Are Dripping From Walls All Over Country

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) —More swastikas and anti-Semitic abuse appeared during the night in widely separated areas of Germany.

The sneak sign campaign, concentrated in northwest Germany during the past week, spread to Bavaria.

A court house in Scheinfeld, a small town in western Bavaria, was branded with several swastikas and the sign "Down with the Jews."

At nearby Ansbach, white swastikas were smeared on the houses of Jewish citizens, on a Roman Catholic church and on the City Hall. The symbols were accompanied by such words as "Germany Awake" and "Heil Hitler."

Trees, street lights and a wall in Hanover were defaced with swastikas. Similar smears were reported at Nienburg.

Isolated anti-Jewish incidents were also reported in Britain and France.

Chimp and Pal Back Together After Love 'Theft'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Pending further revolutions of the wheels of justice, Robert Tomarchin and Mr. Moke, his chimpanzee pal, are enjoying togetherness by court sanction.

★ ★ ★

Justice of the Peace Francis J. Christie Wednesday entrusted Mr. Moke to Tomarchin who in turn has been placed in custody of his lawyer in connection with charges that Tomarchin stole the chimp from the St. Louis zoo.

★ ★ ★

Tomarchin trained Mr. Moke and sold him to the zoo. Then, believing the chimp was unhappy in his new home, Tomarchin broke in and smuggled Mr. Moke away, leaving a $1,000 cashier's check in part payment. He brought Mr. Moke to Florida by bus.

Doesn't See Shift in Iowa Farm Vote

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Wallace's Farmer magazine said the farm vote changed very little from 1948 in Iowa's 4th District congressional election early this month.

Failure of Democrats to vote in Ottumwa, the district's heaviest population center, helped Republican John Kyl to victory more than a switch in the farm vote, the magazine said.

One reason for this change, the magazine said, was the fact that in 1958 the presence of Gov. Herschel C. Loveless former mayor of Ottumwa, on the ticket provided the Democrats with a sizable advantage.

About four million U.S. cars are scrapped in a year.

Copper, gold and aluminum, when ground fine from their metallic state, are often used as ingredients in the mixing of modern paints.

Milford Man Sees End to Snow, Ice, Fog

Puts Heat on Weather Woes

By JIM LONG

MILFORD — Fog, snow and ice have plagued airports ever since the Wright brothers.

However, a resident here thinks he has a solution to these adverse weather conditions.

According to A. F. Holden of 2195 S. Milford Rd., his firm the A. F. Holden Co. of Detroit, has developed a system of instantaneous heat that will prevent fog from enclosing airstrips, melt snow and ice already on the ground, and keep snow and ice from accumulating.

★ ★ ★

The system's machinery — developed after nine yars of original research and five years of productive research — can be mounted on a truck flatbed or be used as a permanent installation, Holden said.

The unit, which is made up of "luminous wall" heat sections, emits radiant heat instantly at 2,000 degrees fahrenheit, he said.

"Though the unit fires at such high temperatures, the radiant heat is no more dangerous than the rays that reach earth from the sun," Holden said.

"This past summer I focused the machine on a small tree behind my farm for days, hoping it might destroy it, but after checking I found that the tree was only warm."

The 60-year-old Holden said that by use of his method of melting snow and ice, the need to pile snow at the side of the runways or haul it away is eliminated.

"The snow and ice just melts and drains away as water," he said.

Operation of the mobile unit requires only one man, Holden said, compared to many individuals used to operate snow plows and trucks.

"Snow and ice usually do not arrive without warning. By running the mobile unit up and down the runway before the snowfall, enough heat is absorbed by the concrete to melt falling snow," Holden explained.

Snow and ice dispersal units can be installed where planes are loaded, he said.

"By installing units in areas where planes are parked, enough heat can be provided so that passengers and workers can have summer comfort, even with temperatures below zero," he said.

Holden has been invited to the Detroit Metropolitan airport early in January for a demonstration of his machine.

To prove the worth of the unit, Holden experimented with it on his farm last winter.

"In one area I put so much heat into the ground that when snow fell, the spot was kept free from it for two months," he said.

FOG TOO

Fog can be dispersed in the same manner as snow and ice by mounting permanent installations at the airport, tilted upward.

The thrust of the rays from the unit can "actually bend" the wind upwards away from the landing area, Holden said.

"Besides the safety measure that could be provided for airlines, it also would save them money," he said.

"Failure to land at a selected airport means a loss of money to airlines, such as extra expense for personnel, overtime requirements for personnel at the alternate airport, transferring of passengers to other forms of transportation, and meals and hotel accomodations."

"It is estimated that airlines lose $15 on every ticket if the plane cannot land at its destination," Holden said.

Holden, whose firm manufactures metallurgical products for industry, claims the radiation unit can be used for many purposes other than airport weather problems.

"In industry, the unit could thaw coal, ore and limestone in open boxcars. Railroads could remove snow from their yards, melt snow at switch areas, and preheat frozen brakes."

"Supermarkets could melt snow from their parking lots in a matter of minutes. So could used automobile dealers," Holden continued.

He said the equipment would be a great money-saver in the construction of highways, road painting and ground thawing.

"Actually, the uses for this type of radiant heat are unlimited," Holden said.

To Discuss State Problems

Northeast Oakland CFM Sets Meeting

The newly organized Northeast Oakland County chapter of "Citizens for Michigan," formed to "sell Michigan and study the problems of state government," will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Oxford Township Hall, 18 W. Burdick St., Oxford.

Also created to combat apathy among the voters throughout the state, the new organization is composed of Oxford, Orion, Addison and Oakland townships with Melvin F. Lanphar of Addison Township as chairman.

The charter application has been filed, and dues have been set at a dollar a year.

Membership is open to everyone in the area.

Spearheaded by William H. McGaughey, publicity chairman of the state organization, the area unit has been divided into three study groups.

STUDY GROUPS

They are "State Services," with O. F. Foster of Lake Orion as chairman, "Financing of State Services," with Mrs. Brace Beemer as chairman, and "Structure and Organization of State Government," with Addison Township Supervisor Frank Webber as chairman.

Named to serve on Foster's committee are Dan Abbey, Preston Mann, Martin Parker, Mrs. Ruth Anderson, Mrs. E. Emrich, Stuart Braid and Mrs. Lessiter, secretary-treasurer of the chapter.

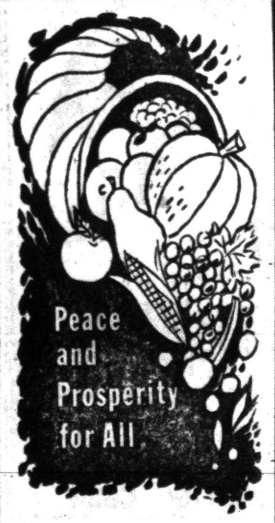

On the "Financing State Services" committee are John Lessiter, Ray Alt, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Ray, Keith Middleton, Arch Mehaffey and Mrs. Dan Abbey.

Working with Webber are Mrs. O. F. Foster, McGaughey and Mrs. Webber.

George Romney, president of American Motors and chairman of the state "Citizens for Michigan" organization, says a person has three responsibilities—to his Maker, his family and as a citizen.

It is the latter responsibility the the four-township chapter, like the parent organization, is stressing.

The meeting Tuesday night will concern problems facing the state, means of studying them, and, above all, the participants' discovery of and action upon their responsibilities as citizens.

May 1960 prove to be your most happy year. Best Wishes!

Dr. Goodpaster Named as Slayer of Neighbor

MARION, Ill. (AP)—A coroner's jury Wednesday night named Dr. Walter J. Goodpaster, brother of Brig. Gen. Andrew Goodpaster, staff secretary to President Eisenhower, as the slayer of a neighbor woman Christmas morning.

The jury returned a verdict that Margaret Strunk, 51, met her death "by a gunshot wound in the head at the hands of Dr. Walter J. Goodpaster." It recommended that he be held without bail for the grand jury.

The 46-year-old optometrist read a statement at the inquest that he declined to testify on the ground it might tend to incriminate him.

Plans New System for Farm Census

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government plans a new system for listing farmers in next year's census. All rural dwellers will not be counted as farmers.

In the past, the bureau lumped several groups of people together under the heading of farm population. These included actual farmers, people who lived on former farms but did not farm, and people who lived in the open country.

Under the new setup, the bureau will consider only actual farmers as the farm population.

The bureau said it did not know how much this will drop the total of farm population but the figure would be substantial. At present, the bureau estimates the U.S. farm population at 21,172,000.

City Doubles Offer to N.Y. Transit Union

NEW YORK (AP) — The city has doubled its wage offer to transit workers in a new move to avert a bus and subway strike now set for 5 a.m. New Year's Day.

Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, said it still wasn't enough — although "bargainable" when negotiations resume today.

Talks between the union, the Transit Authority and seven private bus lines ended in a stalemate Wednesday.

The Transit Authority has asked for an injunction to stop the strike.

★ ★ ★

The plant employed about 300 workers in its zinc die casting and plating facilities before it closed down last month. C. of C. officials met with Hoover officials Tuesday to discuss the future of the plant and then released the report which said the company had no plans to reopen the Adrian plant and was offering it for sale at $750,000.

Editors Pick Souden Slaying Second

Tax Wrangling State's Top Story

DETROIT (AP) — Editors of Associated Press member newspapers and radio-television stations were almost unanimous in selecting the state's prolonged tax fight as Michigan's big story of 1959.

Voting in the annual poll on the top 10 stories in Michigan, the newsmen gave 435 points of a possible 450 to the tax fight as the biggest story of the year.

Forty of the 45 editors who voted picked the Lansing tax battle for the No. 1 spot. The other five rated it very high.

Voting was on the basis of 10 points for the story picked as No. 1; nine points for the No. 2 choice and down to one point for the story selected as No. 10.

Two stories of tragedy finished in the No. 2-3 positions.

In second place, was the story of the slaying of State Trooper Albert W. Souden near Brighton on the Labor Day weekend. The intensive hunt for the missing trooper, the discovery of his bullet-riddled body and the arrest of his alleged slayer. It got 318 points.

The No. 3 story, with 252 votes was the tragic drowning of 12 members of one family when their small boat was swamped September 22.

In fourth place was the State Supreme Court's decision of Oct. 21 ruling unconstitutional the four-cent sales (use) tax which the Legislature had approved.

The story of the auto industry's introduction of its new, compact cars got a lot of attention and finished in fifth place with 214 votes.

French Franc Shifts Decimal; Status Quo

PARIS (AP) — Jacques DuPont is getting a New Year's present from the state — a bright new shiny franc worth 100 old francs but purchasing no more.

DuPont — the typical Frenchman — may wonder what all the fuss is about.

To the government the change is important psychologically, at least. Goods will seem to cost less although they really cost the same.

An article selling for 500 francs today will be offered for 5 hold its own with the Swiss franc and the West German mark, roughly of the same value (around 20 cents).

On paper all francs are moving two decimals to the left effective tomorrow. The simple rule for converting old francs to new: divide by 100.

★ ★ ★

All checks must bear "Nouveaux Francs" after the figure drawn. Bank balances will be automatically converted to give everyone a square start. Old and new prices will appear in store windows to show wary shoppers that things cost the same, however quoted. Later the old tags will be withdrawn.

Shopkeepers, while awaiting modification in cash registers, have been invited to stick in decimal points by hand.

No one will force DuPont to count in the new money, since the old francs are still good for some time to come, but it will figure on all written documents —bills, tax statements, bank checks, etc.

The only really solid change seems to be that the new francs will come in pure nickel, where the old ones are of a metal alloy. The coins come into circulation next Monday.

Although some Frenchmen grumble about all the mental arithmetic the change will involve, it is expected to go through smoothly.

"Nothing is changed—you still need money," grumbled the Communist newspaper Humanite. "One may well ask what all this serves? Grandeur? Prestige? We will be neither stronger nor richer by one centime in the new francs. What does the reform do? Nothing."

Tibetans in Nepal Freezing, Starving

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI) — A Tibetan colony in Nepal is so filled with refugees from their Red Chinese-ruled homeland that hundreds are camped out freezing and starving in open fields, it was reported today.

Nepalese government officials said aid would have to be sent to the Tibetans living in the Katmandu Valley northeast of the capital of this Himalayan mountain kingdom.

The Tibetans reported tales of horror in their native land but the Nepalese government officially denied that the people were refugees.

Usual Giddy Atmosphere Prevails at Pasadena

46th Rose Bowl Is Surrounded by Excitement

Wisconsin - Washington Battle Ends Current Big Ten-PCC Pact

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The usual giddy atmosphere, plus wonder at what the future holds, prevailed today on the eve of the Wisconsin-Washington game in the Rose Bowl.

The excitement is easily understood. This is the 46th game in the history of the oldest post-season game of all—and the 14th in an intriguing series between the Big Ten and what was once the Pacific Coast Conference.

But the Big Ten-PCC pact, as written, expires Jan. 2.

The PCC is dead. In the future, the Rose Bowl contest belongs to the newly created Athletic Assn. of Western Universities, otherwise known as the Big Five, and the Tournament of Roses.

The Big Five can name the Western representative. As matters stand in the Midwest, a Big Ten school can accept—or reject—an invitation to play here.

To the players involved, however — the Badgers, winners of their first indisputed title in the Big Ten since 1912, and the Washington Huskies, kingpins of the Big Five or old PCC—these details are merely incidental.

The game is the thing.

So will it be for around 100,000 fans expected to witness the battle, plus a national television audience (NBC).

Game time: 2 p.m., Pacific Standard Time.

The expected temperature is around 60 degrees, probably with clear skies.

Wisconsin features a bruising attack, a huge line and a fine quarterback in Dale Hackbart.

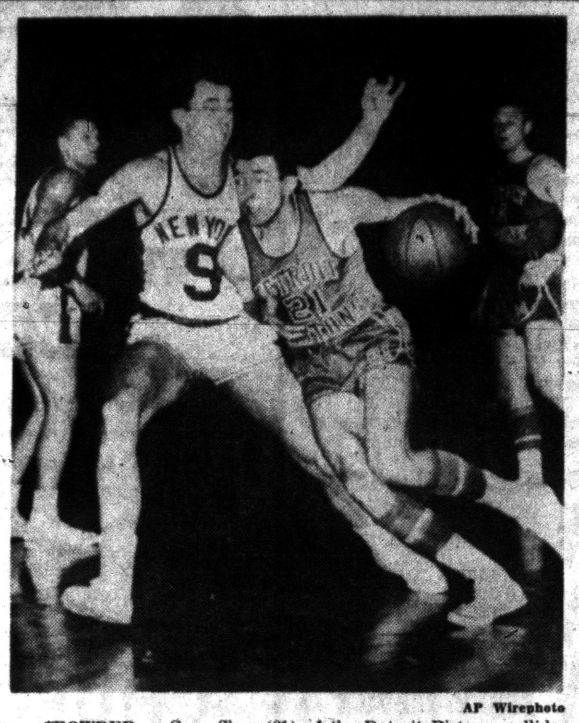

Most observers feel the contest will be close—the odds makers tab Wisconsin by about six points—and everyone expects a fine game.

Wisconsin is known as a "grind-it-out" team on offense. The Badgers' longest run for a score last season was 11 yards.

Washington is not noted as a break - away team, either. But Coast viewers feel that All-America quarterback Bob Schloredt, like Hackbart, is a potent individual weapon.

Wisconsin, coached by Milt Bruhn, won seven games and lost two, to Purdue and Illinois.

Coach Jim Owens' Huskies won nine games and lost one, to Southern Cal, 22-15.

LSU, Mississippi Wait for Rematch

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — There's an expression among race horse trainers to get their charges "just as fit as hands can make them." Well, that would just about apply for Mississippi an Louisiana State for their meeting tomorrow in the 26th Sugar Bowl football game.

In the case of LSU, this took some doing. Halfback Johnny Robinson's left hand will be encased in a special foam rubber cast, due to a fall in a scrimmage session last week. But the Tiger training staff gave up on field goal specialist Wendell Harris, out with a broken arm.

Mississippi coach Johnny Vaught, eager to make amends for the 7-3 whipping his Rebels took from LSU during the regular season, reported his crew in top shape, lending strength to the seven-point favoritism accorded Mississippi.

LSU coach Paul Dietzel hasn't been waving the crying towel, but he stressed the LSU injury list.

"When you meet a team like Ole Miss, you need everything you've got, and then some," he said. "I'm not making any excuses now and I won't have any if we get beat."

But there's nothing wrong with All-America halfback Billy Cannon, winner of the Heisman Trophy and The Associated Press "back of the year" award. And LSU is leaning heavily, even more than usual, on the 210-pound Bayou Bullet to pull this one out of the fire.

It was Cannon's 89-yard touchdown run on a punt return — the most spectacular play of the season — that decided the LSU-Ole Miss regular season game last October.

Don't think for a minute that Mississippi has forgotten that run. It separated the Rebels from an unbeaten season and quite possibly the national title. Mississippi finished the season as the No. 2 team in the final AP poll behind undefeated Syracuse.

Despite the broken left hand, Robinson will start the game at right halfback, but his efficiency will hardly be at its peak. Defensive specialist Tommy Neck, a sophomore from Marksville, La., probably will see a good deal of action on offense.

Tulane Stadium has long been sold out for the rematch — the first in Sugar Bowl history — and the crowd of 83,000 and a national television (NBC) audience will be looking for another thriller when the whistle blows at 2 p.m. (EST).

Cannon and 18 other Tiger seniors will be playing their last game for LSU. Cannon's No. 20, a headache for opposing coaches for the last three years, will be retired after the Sugar Bowl game.

Cannon has been drafted by the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League and Dallas of the embryonic American Football League. The Detroit Lions picked Robinson and LSU quarterback Warren Rabb.

All-America fullback Charlie Flowers is the wheelhorse of the Rebel attack on Mississippi partisans are looking to him to steal the thunder from Cannon tomorrow.

SURE SHOT — Among numerous other things, Mississippi will trot out an extraordinary place-kicker against Louisiana State in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day. Quarterback Billy Brewer holds the ball for Bob Khayat.

McGuire Loses First Game as Piston Boss

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I'm scared," said Dick McGuire when he became coach of the Detroit Pistons and it's pretty easy to see why.

McGuire, who inherited the job from the deposed Red Rocha Monday, made his coaching debut last night. The Pistons were the same old Pistons under McGuire as they were under Rocha.

The new Knickerbockers, McGuire's one-time teammates, ruined his debut with a 124-109 victory. The loss was the Pistons' sixth straight and 13th in the last 16 games.

Detroit held New York even for one period. But the Knicks jumped to a 60-48 lead at halftime and opened it to 21 points in the third quarter.

One of the Knicks' big guns was McGuire's old running mate, Carl Braun, now New York's player-coach. Braun, named coach only two weeks ago, pumped in 16 points. He too lost his coaching debut, but New York has won five of six games since. McGuire played sparingly and notched one point.

The Pistons scoring leaders were Gene Shue with 26 points, Walter Dukes with 22 and Bailey Howell with 20. Willie Naulls was New York's top man with 31.

In the second game of the National Basketball Assn. doubleheader, Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain pumped in 45 points and his Philadelphia Warriors downed the Minneapolis Lakers 122-107. The Lakers' loss permitted the Pistons to retain sole possession of second place in the Western Division.

★ ★ ★

Detroit finished its work for 1959. The Pistons return home New Year's night, meeting St. Louis in a doubleheader. Boston goes after a record-breaking 18th straight victory against Cincinnati in the first game.

The Celtics won their 17th straight last night with a 96-82 victory over St. Louis. Cincinnati beat Syracuse 131-127.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Tropical Park placing judges admitted a photo finish mistake Wednesday—and touched off an unruly scavenger hunt for discarded win tickets on strongly-backed Teacher in the sixth race.

A few scuffles broke out and track police had to separate some fuming rival claimants to the strewn-around tickets. No arrests were reported.

In the sixth, with three horses finishing noses apart, the judges took a look at the photo and declared Deemster a $6 winner by a nose, with Teacher second and Whose Babu third.

An hour later, just before the ninth and last race, the track announcer told the crowd the judges had decided after a second look at the sixth race photo that Teacher actually had finished in a dead heat with Deemster. The track said it would pay $5.30 win mutuel on Teacher.

Almost as one, the fans stooped and scooped among the discards —many of which had been torn up by apparent losers.

Teachers went off at $5.45 to $1 and handle on the race was $117,843 among the 10,845 fans attending.

Wolverine Five Winds Up Last

End Winless Trip to Coast on 79-72 Loss to Northwestern

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Michigan returns home for what looks like a mighty long Big Ten season with the booby prize in the first annual Los Angeles Basketball Classic.

The Wolverines finished last in a field of eight teams, the only quintet leaving without even a consolation victory. Fellow Big Tener Northwestern downed Michigan yesterday 79-72 in the battle for seventh place.

Michigan now has but one victory in eight games and plays Miami (Ohio) in Ann Arbor Saturday, its last tune-up for conference action.

Terry Miller, who scored 32 points in the opening round, slumped to eight in the second round, regained his form in the tourney finale. The little Wolverine captain pitched in 22 points. Lovell Farris added 19 for the Wolverines.

Cawley Sugar Bowl High Hurdles Champ

Former Farmington High star Rex Cawley sped over the 110-meter high hurdles in 14.6 seconds to win the Sugar Bowl championship Wednesday. He is now a freshman at Southern Cal.

Surprise losers in the meet were distance specialist Max Truex, sprinter Bobby Morrow and pole vaulter Don Bragg. Dave Sime won the 100-meter dash. Young Dyrol Burleson of Oregon broke the bowl record for 1,500 meters to take top athlete honors.

Wings, Toronto Battle for 2nd

DETROIT (UPI)—Gordie Howe will try to pull himself and his Detroit Red Wings out of slumps tonight when the Wings entertain the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Howe hasn't blinked the red light in Detroit's last seven starts—his longest scoring drought since the 1955-56 season.

And the Wings have dropped their last two starts to New York and Montreal.

Tonight's battle will be for second place. The Wings currently hold a one-point edge over the Maple Leafs for the No. 2 spot.

Detroit and Toronto have met six times previously this season with the Leafs enjoying a slight edge. Toronto has won three games and Detroit two with the other game ending in a tie.

Southwest Coaches Oppose Tournament

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Southwest Conference basketball coaches continue to oppose their annual pre-season tournament, despite its financial success.

Six of the eight coaches hope the tournament will be discontinued. The Conference faculty committee will decide on the future next week at the NCAA Convention in New York City.

A majority of the coaches have called for discontinuance the past several years but have been overruled by their faculty representatives.

'Sportsman of the Year'

NEW YORK (AP)—Ingemar Johansson Wednesday was named sportsman of the year for 1959 by Sports Illustrated, which also called for international control of boxing.

Johansson supported the idea of international control to decide who are the champions and what contenders they should fight.

Syracuse Expects Longhorns to Pass

SPORTS

Aerial Defense Looks Like Sole Orange Fault

Texas Two-Touchdown Underdog for Cotton Bowl Game

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Syracuse coach Ben Schwartzwalder expects Texas to throw the ball in the Cotton Bowl tomorrow.

It would appear a logical assumption although coach Darrell Royal of Texas won't confirm it. If there is a chink in the armor of the mighty Orangemen, basking in the spotlight as national champions, it's pass defense.

But that weakness isn't much to work on. Syracuse has allowed an average of only 19.3 yards on the ground and 76.9 in the air. Texas has given up 159.1 rushing and 88.4 passing. So perhaps Texas had best be worrying about its own pass defense rather than Syracuse's.

★ ★ ★

Pass defense has been the only trouble encountered by the Orangemen. This Texas, looking at that grudging allowance on the ground, is perhaps taking the best course it can think of.

Texas passed little during the regular season but came out very well when it did, getting nine touchdowns in 86 attempts. Syracuse made 12 in 160.

Bobby Lackey, the Texas quarterback, has done most of the passing, completing 11 of 23 for 142 yards and two touchdowns. But it's not Lackey that Syracuse fears the most. Texas has a couple of halfbacks, Jack Collins and Rene Remirez, who are adept at the running pass.

Syracuse is pretty good at intercepting passes, which might make Texas hesitate at all-out throwing. The Orangemen have grabbed off 19 enemy aerials in 10 games.

What either team's offensive maneuvers will be wasn't indicated in yesterday's brief drills. Both Syracuse and Texas arrived in time for workouts on Cotton Bowl soil. The Orangemen came from Houston, Texas from Austin.

★ ★ ★

The odds are 12½ points favoring Syracuse.

WISCONSIN BOWLMEN — With 13 players posing for Wisconsin's starting lineup, it looks like they'll have quite an advantage over Washington in the Rose Bowl game, but that's because coach Milt Bruhn hasn't decided which of the backs he will start. They are left to right: end Henry Derleth, tackle Jim Heineke, guard Jerry Stalcup, center Bob Nelson, guard Ron Perkins, tackle Dan Lanphear, end Allan Schoonover. Backs left to right are Ed Hart, Bob Zeman, quarterback Dale Hackbart, Bob Altman, Ron Steiner and Billy Hobbs.

But Don't Sell Missouri Short

Georgia Favorite in Orange Bowl

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Coach Wally Butts' Georgia football squad still rules a 12-point favorite in Friday's 26th annual Orange Bowl game which is expected to lure more than 75,000 to the vast stadium.

Although few flatly predict a victory for Missouri, some who have seen the Tigers in action think the game will be tighter than many believe.

Everett Grandelius, Colorado coach whose team eked out a 21-20 decision over Missouri, warned anyone who would listen not to sell coach Danny Devine's club short.

"Their 6-4 record is deceiving," he said. "Their first unit can match any one unit Butts can put on the field. They don't have Georgia's depth, though.

"Missouri has three fine interior linemen in center Tom Swaney, guard Joe Calhoun, and tackle Mike Magac. And in Danny LaRose and Russ Sloan it has two really fine ends. I know we couldn't run against Missouri's line."

Despite his lack of depth, Devine plans to use two units against Georgia's two-unit system, taking his cue on when to put in the second unit from Butts' strategy.

Both teams have emphasized passing patterns in their work-outs here, and Georgia seems to have the edge in the throwing department. The Bulldogs have three excellent tossers in Francis Tarkenton, Charley Britt and Tommy Lewis. Lewis sees comparatively little service, but he is available and able.

★ ★ ★

Tarkenton threw 102 of his team's 142 passes and had only six intercepted. He and Britt threw a total of 10 touchdown passes.

While Missouri boasts its good games, Georgia talks of its lone defeat. The Bulldogs lost to South Carolina, 30-14, after the Gamecocks had run up a 24-0 lead by cashing in on four Georgia fumbles and a blocked punt.

In other Friday bowls, Presbyterian (9-1) goes against Middle Tennessee State (9-0-1) in the Tangerine Bowl, a night battle at Orlando, Fla., and Prairie View A&M (5-2) entertains Wiley (2-8), another Texas school, in the Prairie View Bowl at Houston.

Crowds are expected to range from the 100,295 at the Rose Bowl down to 12,000 for the Tangerine. The Sugar expects 83,000, the Orange 76,500, the Cotton 75,504 and the Prairie View 18,000.

The last of the post-season games involving amateurs will be played Saturday when Arkansas meets Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, and all-star teams clash in the East-West Shrine Classic in San Francisco and the All-American Bowl at Tucson, Ariz.

Here's the line-up for tomorrow's post-season bowl games in college football, including team records, expected attendance and radio-TV coverage (time is Eastern Standard):

Cotton Bowl, at Dallas—Syracuse (10-0) vs. Texas (9-1), 75,504, CBS-TV, radio, 3:30 p.m.

Rose Bowl, at Pasadena, Calif.—Wisconsin (7-2) vs. Washington (9-1), 100,295, NBC-TV, radio, 5 p.m.

Sugar Bowl, at New Orleans—Louisiana State (9-1) vs. Mississippi (9-1), 83,000, NBC-TV, radio, 2 p.m.

Orange Bowl, at Miami—Missouri (6-4) vs. Georgia (9-1), 76,500, CBS-TV, radio, 1 p.m.

Tangerine Bowl, at Orlando, Fla.—Presbyterian (9-1) vs. Middle Tennessee State (9-0-1), 12,000, 8:15 p.m.

Prairie View Bowl, at Houston—Prairie View A&M (5-2) vs. Wiley (Tex. (2-8), 18,000, 3 p.m.

Named Charleston G.M.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Marvin Milkes was hired Wednesday as general manager of the Charleston Senators.

He comes here from San Antonio, Tex., where he was manager of the Texas League team there.

'Pep Pills' for Plante!

By The Associated Press

Every time goaltender Jacques Plante of the Montreal Canadiens adds a new twist to his National Hockey League career he stirs up a controversial storm. Nevertheless the Canadiens keep on winning.

★ ★ ★

Plante's latest addition to his repertoire of gimmicks is a pep pill. He had taken one before each of Canadiens' two weekend games and was prepared to take another one last night. He decided at the last minute, however, to do without. He turned in a sensational effort as the Canadiens defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-2 in the night's only game.

Henri Richard led the Canadien scorers with two goals. Jean Beliveau added the other, his 21st. Bobby Pulford scored both Toronto goals.

Plante revealed yesterday his use of the pills.

"The last couple of weeks, I've been going pretty bad," Plante explained. "The doctor said maybe it was because with the mask I wear I was so sure I wouldn't get hurt, I was too relaxed. He said to try the same pills I took earlier in my career when asthma bothered me.

"I didn't feel anything last weekend but maybe it works. I know I took them before two games and let in three goals altogether. After I get readjusted, I stop."

★ ★ ★

Club officials have indicated they aren't too happy about the pills.

General Manager Frank Selke is going to have a talk Monday with the Montreal doctor who prescribed them. If they contain a narcotic "Plante will have to stop taking them."

All-Star Pin Points

PINSPOTTER UPS SCORES
By JOE BROWN

With the development of the automatic pinspotter, bowling is not only more enjoyable and easier, but higher scores have resulted.

This mechanical marvel sets the pins up automatically, returns the ball and accomplishes all the other pit services previously done by hand. The pinspotter's cycle of operation is quicker than the old hand set method and gives a rhythmic quality to the game, which is an all-important aspect inherent to the entire delivery.

The pindicator, the screen shielding the mechanism, indicates a strike, first or second ball and the pins remaining after the first ball. It is no longer necessary for the bowler to move far to the right or left or strain his eyes to determine which pins are left.

The automatic foul detector eliminates the guesswork in deciding whether a bowler has committed a foul by sliding across the line.

★ ★ ★

These and many other devices have been installed for the greater convenience and enjoyment of the bowler.

Robertson Amasses 50 Points as Cinci Beats Hawkeyes

'Big O' Too Much for Iowa

By United Press International

California dumped West Virginia from the unbeaten ranks by holding vaunted Jerry West to one field goal—and the only reason the same fate didn't befall top-ranked Cincinnati was because no one could hold Oscar Robertson.

The Golden Bears, in a remarkable display of ball - hawking, shocked West Virginia, 65-45, Wednesday night in the final of the Los Angeles basketball classic to duplicate their victory over the Mountaineers in last season's NCAA title game.

Cincinnati survived an early scare in the final of the Holiday Festival tournament against Iowa, but Robertson smashed two records with a 50-point performance that carried the Bearcats to their ninth straight triumph, 96-83.

West canned his lone basket against California with 4:25 left to play and wound up with only eight points as the Mountaineers suffered their first defeat in 11 games. Darrall Imhoff, Cal's 6-10 center, also was off in his shooting, scoring only five points, but his rebounding played a big part in the Bears' 25th straight victory.

Bill McClintock took up the slack for Imhoff with a 23-point barrage while Tandy Gillis, guarded by West, added 18.

It was just like old times at Madison Square Garden as a capacity crowd of 18,000 watched Robertson strut his stuff against dogged Iowa. Although the Cincinnati hotshot played almost the final 10 minutes with four personal fouls against him, his 50 points set a single game record for the Holiday Festival and gave him a three-game total of 122 for another tournament mark.

Iowa, a 12-point underdog, zoomed to a 24-13 lead in the first nine minutes. However, Robertson then rammed in six field goals and a free throw in less than four minutes and the Bearcats were off to the races.

At halftime, Robertson left the floor with 33 points that carried Cincinnati to a 54-42 bulge. The Hawkeyes again started fast in the second half to reduce their deficit to 55-51, but "Big O" went on another tear to yank the Bearcats out of trouble for the last time.

Other major tournament champions crowned last night included Wake Forest in the Dixie Classic, Western Kentucky in the Sugar Bowl, Iowa State in the Big Eight Conference tournament, Utah State in the All-College, Texas A. & M. in the Southwest Conference tournament.

Billy Packer, a 5-10 sophomore guard, converted two free throws with five seconds remaining to help Wake Forest edge North Carolina, and give the Deacons their first Dixie Classic title. Packer wound up with 16 points and the tournament's MVP award.

Western Kentucky presented coach Ed Diddle with his 700th victory and the Sugar Bowl championship by downing Tulane, 71-67. Charlie Osborne scored 26 points and Bobby Rascoe added 21 for the Hilltoppers, who hit on 50.9 per cent of their shots from the field.

Sophomore Vinnie Brewer, a New York City import, scored 21 points in sparking Iowa State to an 83-70 triumph over Kansas in the final of the Big Eight Jamboree. Wayne Hightower tallied 24 points for the Jayhawks, who fell behind midway in the first half and never caught up.

★ ★ ★

Utah State led all the way in breezing to a 75-59 victory over Oklahoma City University in a rough windup to the All-College tournament. Bob Sahmaunt of OCU suffered a possible broken cheek bone and teammate Fred Moses was treated for a possible broken rib in the wild affair.

City Skaters Win 11 Events in Rolladium Competition

Pontiac roller skaters won a total of 11 events in the week's two-day, five-state regional competition at the Pontiac Rolladium.

City skaters picked up four wins on opening day, then added seven first places the following day to collect a lion's share of honors.

More than 300 skaters from the Great Lakes region competed in the third annual Rolladium Invitational meet at the city rink.

Spartan Star, Martin, Signs With Pro Titans

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Blanche Martin, star halfback for three years at Michigan State, has signed a contract with the New York Titans of the American Football League.

Duffy Scoffs at Role of Favorite

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach Duffy Daugherty of the East scoffs at the odds making his club a solid favorite over the West in Saturday's annual Shrine charity football game here—and recent history tends to support him.

This is the fourth straight year the East has gone into the game the choice to win, but the West has come out with two victories.

Three years ago the West surprised with a 7-6 victory and in the next game came out ahead 27-13, despite four All-Americas on the East roster.

Last year, with Daugherty as head coach, the East reversed the trend, 26-14.

With an advantage in weight, power and speed, the East has been installed a touchdown favorite for this 35th annual game for the benefit of the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital. The kickoff is scheduled for 1:50 p.m. PST with national television (NBC) coverage.

Daugherty is expected to start a line averaging 225 pounds and a backfield with power, speed and passing ability. Dean Look, who played for Duffy at Michigan State, was expected to open at quarterback with Ron Burton of Northwestern and Ray Jauch of Iowa at the halves and Bob White of Ohio State at fullback.

★ ★ ★

Along the line are ends Monty Stickles, 230, from Notre Dame, and Don Norton, 180, Iowa; tackles Mike McGee, 240, Duke, and Palmer Pyle, 240, Michigan State; guards Zeke Smith, 220, Auburn, and Gene Goassage, 235, Northwestern; and center Jackie Burkett, 220, Auburn.

For this game, the free substitution rule will be in effect and each club has offensive and defensive platoons.

Linemen on the offense for the West aren't midgets but they'll average 14 pounds lighter than those on the East. Probable starters are ends Chris Burford, 200, Stanford, and Gail Gogdill, 195, Washington State; tackles John Wilcox, 220, Oregon, and Frank Sally, 220, California; guards Bobby Loveless, 215, Southern Methodist, and Paul Ogiesby, 230, UCLA; and center Bob Peterson, 198, Oregon.

Consolations to Milford, Holly

Brighton Wins Tourney

Brighton became the only area team to win a championship in four holiday high school basketball tournaments by walloping Flint Bendle 66-48 last night in the Fenton Invitational.

★ ★ ★

Milford and Holly were consolation victors in that meet. The Redskins downed the host team 80-71 while Holly walloped Bloomfield Hills, 66-50. Clio tripped Howell 57-47 in the other contest.

Don Appleton fired in 32 points to lead Brighton. He finished with 85 for three games. Milford shot 53 per cent to stun Fenton. The Redskins dominated play after taking a 19-8 early edge. Dick Whitman tallied 28 and Gene Schuett 23. Jeff Evans rung up 25 and Jim Bruder 18 for Fenton.

Holly's strong balance was too much for Bloomfield. Bob McKenzie garnered 20 and Ron Morlan 16 to head the pack. Tom Maron of the losers took game honors with 22.

★ ★ ★

Farmington and Berkley came out of the Livonia Bentley Invitational with consolation honors Wednesday.

Harvey Chapman and Bill Smith swished 17 points apiece to spark the Falcons to a 61-37 trouncing of Garden City.

Berkley slammed Southfield 49-31 led by Ray Reynolds with 15 points.

Host Bentley won its own tourney defeating Inkster Roosevelt 48-38 in the title contest. Jackson was an easy consolation winner on a 72-42 rout of Redford Union.

Skiing Varsity Sport at NMC

MARQUETTE (UPI) — Northern Michigan College has announced that its men's and women's ski teams, successful on a club basis in recent years, have been given varsity sport status.

The ski teams will compete with Michigan Tech in dual meets and in two Michigan championships.

★ ★ ★

The skiers won the men's and women's divisions of the Michigan Intercollegiate Alpine championships at Boyne City last year, and so become defending champions in that meet in their first year of varsity competition.

The women's team will be shooting for its fourth straight Michigan Intercollegiate championships title.

Men skiers from Northern Michigan will also be defending their title in the meet, as they won last year after finishing fourth the year before.

Olson Is Rated Top Contender for U.S. Squad

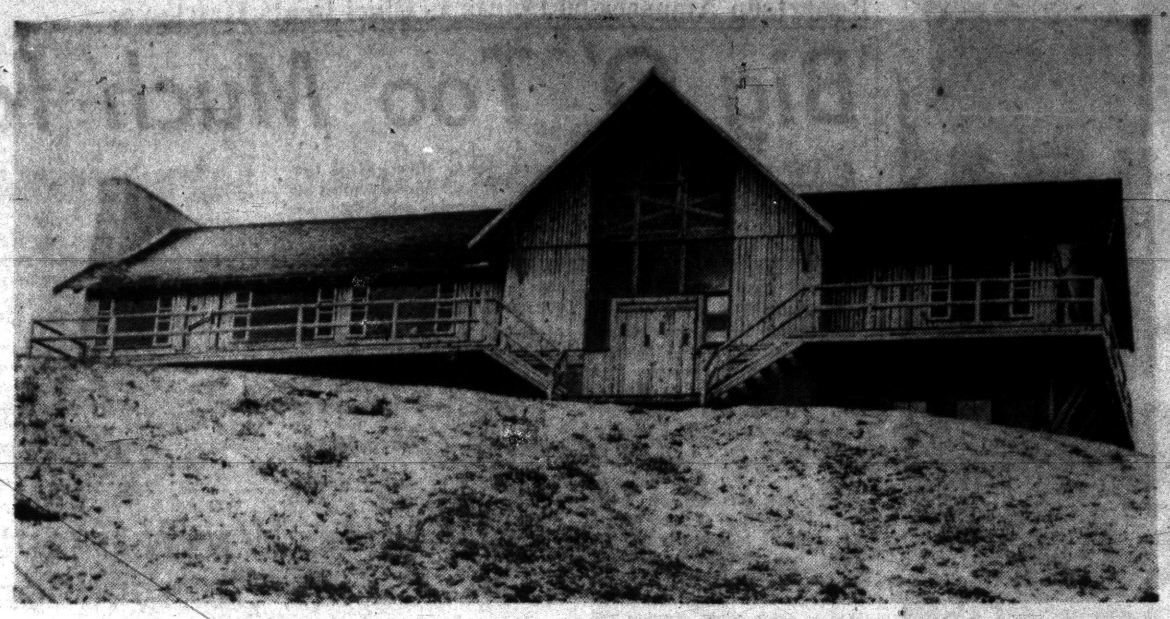

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. (AP)—A slightly built 29-year old certified public accountant from Eau Claire could become the first U.S. ski jumper to compete in three Olympic Games.

Billy Olson, rated a leading contender for a position on the four-man U.S. jumping squad that will compete at Squaw Valley, Calif., Feb. 18-28, participated in the Olympics at Oslo in 1952 and Cortina, Italy, in 1956. He placed 22nd at Oslo and 41st at Cortina.

Other jumpers have qualified for more than two teams but none has skied in more than two. Art Devlin of Lake Placid, N.Y., made the grade in 1940, 1948, 1952 and 1956 but actually competed only in 1952 and 1956. Walt Bietila of Iron Mountain, Mich., and Sverre Fredheim of Minneapolis, each qualified for three teams but did not compete in all three.

SWISS STYLE — Dryden Ski Club has become one of the more beautiful winter resorts in the area with its new Swiss style chalet with many improvements on the slopes and for parking. The ski club is located on Hough Road which is 18 miles north of Rochester, 1½ miles west of Rochester Road. The snow making machines have been in operation and the slopes are being used. Walt Haefeli, popular ski pro from Oakland County, heads the instructional school at Dryden this year with the assistance of his wife, one of the two licensed woman ski instructors in Michigan.

Ski Club Gets Okay

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — The city commission has approved a plan by the Grand Rapids Ski Club to build a new ski jump in Richmond Park.

The commission gave the club a three-year lease on a portion of the park with the stipulation that the club be liable for accidents in the area.

Don Newcombe notched 101 strikeouts during 1959.

Despite such tumbles, the dangers of skiing are greatly exaggerated, according to enthusiasts of the sport. Werner's Loss Big Void for U.S. Olympic Skiers

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Determination in action, rather than words, stands out in the training camp of the U.S. men ski racers battling here for positions on the 1960 Olympic team.

They face long odds. The nation's No. 1 racer, Bud Werner, is on the sidelines with a broken leg — a casualty of the daring, fierce competitive spirit evident in the practice runs on Ajax Mountains.

Werner won't be able to ski for months — long after the Olympic games at Squaw Valley, Calif. That leaves a big void in the U.S. team.

The big load falls on the husky shoulders of Dave Gorsuch, Climax, Colo.; Tom Corcoran, a U.S. citizen living at St. Jovite, Quebec; Max Marlot, Aspen; Marvin Melville, Salt Lake City, Utah. All are veterans of the last Olympics.

All have shown steady improvement in the rigorous seven-days-a-week training schedule. Observers have been impressed with Gorsuch's downhill speed and daring in the slalom runs.

Others in training here are Ken Lloyd, Bishop Calif.; Charles Ferries, Houghton, Mich.; Frank Brown and Stan Harwood, both of McCall, Idaho; Jim Barrier, Kalispell, Mont.; Gordon Eaton, Littleton, N.H.; and Gary Vaughn, Old Forge, N.Y.

Werner, 23, who suffered his leg break in slalom practice Dec. 12, has gone to his home at Steamboat Springs, Colo., to recuperate. He was the only U.S. Olympic candidate who had met and defeated foreign competitors on their home courses.

The eight skiers on the U.S. team will be chosen in final tryouts races here Jan. 7-9. The team will go to Sun Valley, Idaho, to wind up training before going on the Squaw Valley.

Six-Inch Base

Follow Rules and Skiing Will Be Much Safer

LANSING (UPI)—Skiing isn't a very dangerous sport, the Michigan Tourist Council said, but here are some tips to make it an even safer sport.

Get in shape for skiing by exercising regularly to tone up muscles before starting on an outing.

—Get professional instruction; most injuries are caused by poor technique.

★ ★ ★

—Wear ski goggles to prevent snow blindness.

—Give a moving skier the right of way and find a ski patrolman in case of accident; he is trained in first aid.

Records show most accidents occur late in the afternoon because skiers are tired, slopes become faster and shadows tend to conceal treacherous spots on hills.

Seventh for Colorado

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Colorado College stormed to its seventh consecutive Western Collegiate Hockey Assn. victory last night with an 8-4 pasting of Minnesota.

NEW UNIVERSITY OPENS—One of the biggest local news stories of the year was the opening of Michigan State University Oakland in September. Playing key roles in the development of the nation's newest university were these four scholars. In their academic robes for MSUO's first convocation Sept. 18 were (from left): Dr. Robert Hoopes, dean of faculty; D. B. Varner, MSUO chancellor; Dr. John A. Hannah, MSU president and Dr. Thomas H. Hamilton, president of the State University of New York.

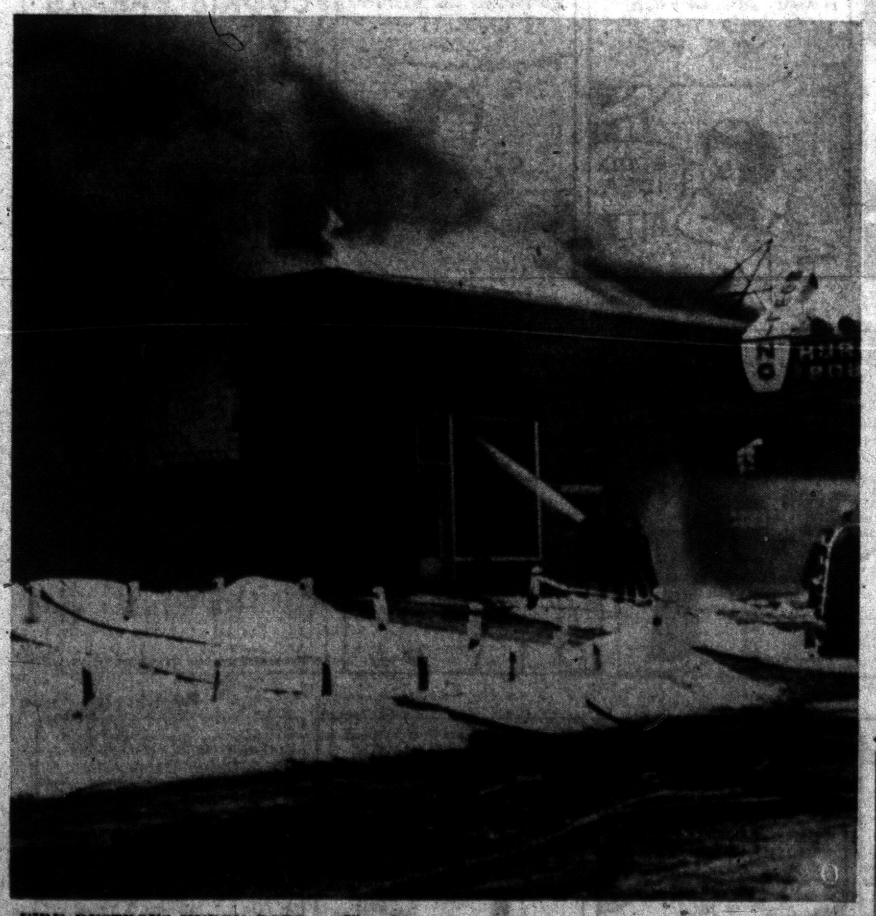

PONTIAC'S FLOOD — On the morning of July 29, Pontiac was drenched by torrential rain such as it hadn't experienced before in the memory of old-time residents. Within a period of about two hours roads, parking lots and basements were flooded. The scene here is The Pontiac Press parking lot, overflowed by Pontiac Creek.

A KISS FOR MISS MICHIGAN—Blonde, green-eyed Susan Westergaard, 20-year-old Southfield beauty, receives kiss from her mother, Mrs. Jessie Westergaard, after having been crowned Miss Michigan July 9 at Walled Lake Casino. Susan, who was selected from 16 finalists for the state title, represented Michigan in the Miss Universe contest at Long Beach, Calif.

FIRE DESTROYS HURON BOWL — Fire destroyed the $700,000 Huron Bowl Building at 1124 W. Huron St., Waterford Township, on Feb. 23. The one-story steel and cement block structure housed the bowling alleys, the 300 Lounge Bar, a restaurant and four other business concerns. All were gutted. Approximately 55 firemen from Waterford Township and Pontiac fought the raging inferno in vain.

STRALEY TESTIFIES — It was a dramatic moment at the end of March. Ousted police chief Herbert W. Straley (right) defends his record before the Civil Service Commission. At left is Stuart A. Austin, who presided over the 45-hour hearing. Other principals to the right of Austin are Clarence L. Smith and Philip Pratt, Straley's team of defense attorneys. Five days later, Straley was fired.

OFF TO JAIL — Herman Kierdorf, uncle of human torch victim Frank Kierdorf, is trotted off to jail on July 18. The first of two persons to be sentenced following the sensational Kierdorf case, Herman was convicted of possessing a pistol silencer. Later in the year Jack Thompson, another Teamsters business agent, was convicted of arson in the burning of a Flint dry cleaners that took the life of Frank Kierdorf.

English Lass Still Hunts Pet

Will Visit Detroit Dog Pounds, Hoping to Find Her Lost Jinty

DETROIT (AP) — Judy Ferren, whose search for a dog has become an international topic, planned to visit all the dog pounds in the Detroit area, hoping to find her lost pet.

The 17-year-old English lass arrived back in Detroit Wednesday night from St. Thomas, Ont., to resume the hunt for Jinty. The year-old Alsation female shepherd slipped her leash here Dec. 23 and scampered out of a railroad baggage car.

★ ★ ★

There has been no trace of Jinty since. At least $250 in rewards have been offered to anyone who finds the dog.

★ ★ ★

Judy's first search for Jinty in this city of about two million people failed. She hitchhiked the 114 miles from St. Thomas and arrived in Detroit Sunday with less that $1.

The New York Central Railroad's police chief, Al Faust, who helped in the search, bought Judy a ticket back to St. Thomas.

Judy returned with two Toronto Star newsmen for a second try. The Star and the Detroit Free Press joined in offering a reward of $150 to whoever finds Jinty. The St. Thomas Times Journal advertised a reward of $100.

Jinty was lost on a trip from Southhampton, England, to St. Thomas, via Detroit.

$30 Million Due Soon for State Schools

LANSING (UPI)—An even 30 million dollars in state school aid money will be in the hands of county treasurers by the end of next week, the State Department of Public Instruction said today.

★ ★ ★

$24,600,000 of the total was realized from the sale of veterans trust fund securities. The remainder was made up from regular state aid fund monies.

The payment will leave the state only 10 million dollars behind in the obligations to schools. The next aid payment becomes due Feb. 25.

INGEMAR PAYS A VISIT — World heavyweight boxing champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden (second from right) was feted at a reception Sept. 23 at the Detroit Broach and Machine Co., Avon Township. Among the 300 industry executives on hand for the affair were Pontiac Motor Division officials Thomas E. Seavy (shaking hands), and Buel E. Starr (right). At left is Gustav von Reis, Johansson's personal friend and owner of the plant.

PEACH QUEEN — Reigning over the Romeo Peach Festival on Labor Day was pretty Lorelei Hoxie of Armada. The 18-year-old miss is shown here sampling some of the delicious area peaches she helped to publicize.

JET CRASH — A member of the Air Police Squadron stands guard over wreckage of a jet plane that crashed Nov. 6 near Armada six minutes after take-off from Selfridge Air Force Base. The two pilots bailed out without serious injury. Debris was sent flying all over the countryside and into a farmhouse where the sole occupant also escaped unhurt.

1960 Won't Be Boom Year

Economy to Start Fast...Finish???

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A strong start and an uncertain finish: that's 1960, as seen today by government and industry economists.

★ ★ ★

Within three months the nation will have topped its best 1959 output rate. By spring it will have passed the 500-billion-dollars-a-year production milestone.

Nevertheless, say Washington experts, this year which ushers in the long-heralded decade of the Golden 60s won't be a boom year.

Growth will be quite rapid in the half year just ahead because of industry's snapback from the steel strike. But this may be followed by slower gains when strike-depleted warehouses and stockrooms are filled up.

CREDIT TO TIGHTEN

Credit will be tight. Home building will be so-so. The government will be trying to curb spending. Persistent inflation—still creeping, not running—may dampen consumer demand. The threat of more major strikes will restrain business confidence.

A year from now, a good many of the economists believe, the economy may be ripe for the start of another recession.

Some had expected the dip to come next fall. They now think the 116-day steel strike, by setting the business cycle back about six months, apparently has postponed any downturn.

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless, some officials already are predicting that, if the administration achieves the budget surpluses it is shooting for, there will be much talk of tax reductions as a recession-preventative by the time the election campaign reaches a climax in November.

This may sound like borrowing trouble. But the economists are aware that by October the business rise will have lasted as long as the average upswing, about 30 months.

And if the steel pipelines are refilled more rapidly than is now foreseen, it is possible that the expansion will have touched its ceiling and begun to turn down before next New Year's.

SLOW, LONG CLIMB

The odds now favor a slower, longer climb, according to a dozen economists for federal agencies and business organizations who gave their views in private interviews.

It was their consensus that output still will be climbing in the final quarter of the year, and by then will have reached a rate of about 515 billion dollars a year. A few go as high as 520 or 525 billions.

In the past quarter, they judge, the rate was roughly 485 billion dollars. It might have come close to the half-trillion dollar mark except for the steel strike. Instead, it has just about regained the level of six months ago.

★ ★ ★

This economic yardstick — the gross national product, representing the total of all goods and services produced, is in terms of dollars. If prices creep up as expected, the 1960 totals may be higher; they might show, for instance, a 6 per cent gain over 1959 instead of the approximately 5 per cent predicted.

Business will be rebuilding inventories hand-over-fist in the next six months if the steel mills keep running.

For some time that industry will be hard put just to keep up with current needs of the auto makers and other steel-starved manufacturers.

'FULL-EMPLOYMENT' LEVEL

Along the way, economists believe, the country will have reached the "full-employment" level of prosperity which it never did achieve in the recovery from the 1957-58 recession.

Government economists never define "full employment" too exactly, but it seems to imply unemployment averaging around three million.

Joblessness was not brought down to that level last year, because of the steel strike. There were 3,272,000 idle in October, the month which is usually the lowest in th year.

Adjusted for seasonal fluctuations, this was 6 per cent of the labor force.

The Labor Department considers this "substantial" unemployment.

The cautiously optimistic forecasts are all off, the economists warn, if the steel strike resumes when the Taft-Hartley cooling-off injunction expires in late January.

And it would be sheer disaster, thy imply, if this were followed by a railroad strike in the spring.

"That just cannot be allowed to happen," one White House adviser said.

★ ★ ★

He indicated that the administration would quickly call on Congress to act in either case, steel or rails —but would be hoping that the mere threat of legislation would be enough to bring about a settlement.

Sees No Refugee Problem in Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) said Wednesday, "There is now no European refugee problem."

The House Immigration Subcommittee chairman told a new conference that in all western Europe there are now only about 28,000 refugees registered with the United Nations or other international agencies as prospective emigrants.

Walter recently returned from a seven week trip including attendance at the session of the Intergovermental Committee for European Migration in Geneva. He also visited Dakar, capital of the new Mali Federation in Africa, as well as Brazil and Argentina, and the West Indies.

He praised especially the efforts of South American countries to provide new homes for persons displaced in Europe. The opportunities for resettling additional migrants there are almost unlimited, Walter said.

The remaining troublesome refugee problems, Walter said, are those of Arabs who formerly lived in Israel, Chinese refugees in Hong Kong and Tibetans and others recently dislodged by Communist moves in the Far East.

Penny Singleton Sued for Defamation in Tiff

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A $1,180,000 defamation suit has been filed against actress Penny Singleton by Jackie Bright, national administrator for the American Guild of Variety Artists.

Bright alleged she maliciously accused him of mismanagement and embezzlement of $50,000 in union money.

His suit, filed in U.S. District Court Wednesday, charges Miss Singleton wrongly criticized the purchase of a 62-acre tract in South Fallsburg, N.Y. He said the Guild's national board approved the purchase to provide a home for the union's aged.

Weak Grain Prices Rule Yearend Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market continued its retreat today with most contracts off small fractions during the first several minutes of trading.

Soybeans were down major fractions, however, on a belief that offers to deliver on January contracts would exceed a half million bushels before trading ceases today.

Dealings again were light and in small volume. Brokers said market influences at the year-end were virtually absent.

With trade virtually at a standstill near the end of the first hour, wheat was unchanged to ⅜ cent a bushel lower, March $2.04; corn unchanged to ¼ lower, March $1.13⅞; oats ⅛ to ½ lower, March 75¾; rye ½ to ¾ lower, March $1.27; soybeans ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, January $2.11¼.

Near Record for Dow-Jones

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market mounted a vigorous rally today, once more challenging the record high in the Dow-Jones industrial average. Prices were below their best early this afternoon.

The Dow industrials at 11 a.m. (EST) topped the historic closing high of 678.10 reached Aug. 3 but to establish a new record they would have to remain above that figure by the market close.

It was the third time this month that the Dow industrials at the end of the first hour had broken through the Aug. 3 top but on the two previous occasions they ended the day with a loss, failing to establish a new peak.

Coming in the midst of a vigorous advance on the final trading day of 1959, the drive toward a new high was more vigorous than its forerunners.

Steels, motors and oils were active gainers. Key stocks advanced from fractions to more than a point. Space age stocks did better, Motorola adding about 7.

The Dow industrials stood at 680.30 as the first hour ended but profit taking pared prices as trading, though still active, moderated. At noon, the Dow stood at 679.03, up 2.86.

With most of the yearend tax loss selling out of the way, the market could respond better to reinvestment demand, especially by institutions and other sources anxious to dress up their portfolios for the final balance sheet of the old year.

The general prospects for 1960—outside of the uncertainties of the steel strike and tight money — seemed excellent to Wall streeters.

The long-neglected oils continued their rebound, Texaco rising about a point while Jersey Standard and Royal Dutch gained fractions. Rails made a stronger showing than for some time, continuing their rebound of yesterday. Illinois Central and Chesapeake & Ohio were up about a point.

U.S. Steel, up more than a point in early dealings, clipped all but a fraction from the gain. Republic Steel continued more than a point higher.

THEY SIT TOGETHER — Mrs. Lois Clark, 30, whose husband Charles R. Clark, was killed by a sniper's bullet in their home at Mentor, near Painsville, Ohio, Christmas Eve, is shown in the Lake County prosecutor's office with her father-in-law, Carl E. Clark of Rochester, N. Y. Mrs. Clark, who has been questioned in the slaying, was given a polygraph Wednesday. The prosecutor is convinced she knows nothing about the slaying.

Officials Sure Widow Clear in Clark Slaying

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Whoever fired from the Christmas Eve darkness to kill Charles R. Clark in the kitchen of his Mentor home today had a one-week start on the men trying to solve the crime.

The victim's lovely wife, Lois, 30, made a televised appeal Wednesday night to the person who holds the key to the mysterious slaying of Clark, electrical engineer, model husband, Boy Scout leader and Methodist sunday school superintendent.

★ ★ ★

"If anybody is listening who knows anything about what happened," Mrs. Clark said in a filmed appearance on a Cleveland station, "or if the person who did it is listening, please, for my sake, for my children's sake and the neighbors' sake—"

★ ★ ★

Her voice broke, she began to cry, and the camera moved to her mother-in-law, Mrs. Carl E. Clark of Rochester, N.Y.

The victim's widow and mother of their four children Wednesday convinced authorities she knows nothing about firing of the slug that crashed through the kitchen window and pierced the right temple of clark.

"I'm mentally exhausted and extremely tired," she said after four hours of questioning and polygraph tests. "I just want time to think."

Prosecutor Edward R. Ostrander said the brunette beauty insisted her husband's death must have resulted from a "unique accident."

★ ★ ★

"We are convinced," Ostrander declared, "that she knows nothing of the murder, nor did she perpetrate or collaborate in any way in arranging her husband's death."

Earlier this week authorities came to the same conclusion regarding Floyd E. Hargrove, 35. Sheriff William B. Evans said Mrs. Clark and Hargrove, a truck driver who had a place in his leisure time for gospel work and girlie magazines, had admitted an eight-month love affair.

The parents of the slain man are "going to stand behind this girl all the way," said Carl Clark, a Rochester bus driver.

"We all make mistakes in our lives, and now she's paying for hers. We're going to help her all we can to start a new life."

East Coast Strip Called 'a Disaster'

HULL, Mass. (UPI)—The tide-ravaged South Shore town of Hull waged a war against pollution and disease today in the wake of a howling Nor'easter which left hundreds of persons homeless.

The National Red Cross declared Hull a disaster area because of havoc caused by new moon high tides driven across this peninsular community by gale winds Tuesday.

Hull was among the communities hardest-hit by the storm which barreled out to sea after dumping more than two feet of snow in parts of Northern New England and sent surf pounding against waterfront property from Maine to Rhode Island.

Hull town officials appealed to the Massachusetts congressional delegation and the White House for federal financial aid.

More than 200 families were driven from their low-lying homes by relentless tidal rivers which swirled around seawalls and collected in small lakes behind the barriers.

The tidal waters choked off cesspools and set up a problem of pollution control. Residents of the area were urged to boil their drinking water.

Scores of homes stood dark and empty during the night with at least seven streets still impassable because of high water.

The highest tide Tuesday left six feet of standing sea water in parts of the Kenberma section of Hull, a narrow strip of land forming the southeastern arm of inner Boston

Our New Taxes Likely to Stay

Only Two Levies Ever Killed: Malt and Per Capita Ones

LANSING (AP)—History throws an interesting light on the "temporary" new state tax bite that falls at midnight on Michigan drinkers, smokers, telephone users and corporations.

It's lesson: The new and increased taxes are likely to endure indefinitely.

Technically, the new tax laws expire June 30, 1961—unless they are extended by the Legislature. By then, there presumably will have been enacted a sales tax or an income tax increase to supplant them.

Legislators, fighting this summer and fall for their political lives, probably will drum on the temporary aspect of the new tax program as they press their drives for votes.

Clarence W. Lock, deputy state revenue commissioner, recalls only two Michigan taxes put on the books in modern times that ever came off.

One was the malt tax enacted during the 1920s—during prohibition. After beer was legalized in 1933, revenues diminished to the vanishing point, Lock recalled, and the levy was repealed.

Here was a chance for the lawmakers to cast a cheap vote for the popular cause of lightening tax burdens.

The other tax that withered and died was the $2 per capita tax, or head tax, enacted at the bottom of the great depression to help finance old age pensions.

It promptly ran into constitutional objections, and never was generally enforced.

Liquor drinkers and cigarette smokers don't have to go back very far to recall a temporary tax that quickly achieved permanence.

In 1957, the Legislature, confronting a school money emergency, slapped the original four per cent excise tax on liquor—temporarily of course. This is one of the taxes being doubled tomorrow.

Also doubled, effective at 12 p.m., is the present $1.25 a barrel state tax on beer.

A second "temporary" tax voted in 1957 was the increase in the state cigarette tax, then three cents a pack, to the present rate of five cents.

The cigarette tax rises to six cents a pack tomorrow.

Other provisions in the 47 million dollar a year tax package effective with the start of the new year:

A 20 per cent levy on cigars, pipe tobacco, snuff and other tobacco products, excluding cigarettes.

A three per cent tax on telephone, telegraph and intrastate leased wire bills.

Papers in India Dislike U.S. Test Decision

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Two leading Indian newspapers today attacked the U. S. decision to put its ban on nuclear weapons tests on a day-to-day basis.

The Times of India called the decision "unfortunate."

The Hindustan Times published a cartoon showing Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as an angel on a cloud with a halo over his head. President Eisenhower, on a mushroom cloud nearby, is swinging a halo around his waist like a hula hoop saying, "We had better progress in peace talks—my halo can't stay up forever."

100 a Day Die on Roads

CHICAGO (AP) — Auto accidents killed slightly more than 100 persons each day this year. An estimated 1,400,000 persons suffered disabling injuries.

This year's death toll was placed Wednesday by the National Safety Council at between 37,500 and 38,000. The figures were based on statistics for the first 11 months and a projection of them through December.

Last year 36,981 persons were killed and 1,350,000 were injured.

The record traffic death toll was 39,696 in 1941.

Waterford Mark for December

Building Sets Record

Commercial construction work in Waterford Township continues to spiral, reaching an all time high for the month of December, according to township building inspector Carl Walton.

Usually one of the slowest months in the year, building permits for two new companies and large additions to three business establishments totaled nearly $100,000.

The Redford Iron Works Co. has cleared land on Alliance street just east of Scott Lake road in preparation for construction of a 118-by-125-foot building.

Owned by G. H. Denisin of Redford the $35,000 building will have a large drafting room and facilities for producing fabricated steel for construction companies in various parts of the state.

After eight years of conducting a boat sales and service business on Oakland Avenue in Pontiac, Frank Slaybaugh is constructing a new $30,000 building on Dixie Highway near Sashabaw road.

The property borders on Loon Lake making it possible for customers to have "live" demonstrations of boat performances before making a purchase Slaybaugh said. The project is expected to exceed $100,000 when completed he added.

Owners of the former Drayton Post Office, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hagerman, of 75 Wenonah Dr., have secured a building permit totaling $2,500 for remodeling the building for a store.

★ ★ ★

Louis Dorman Sr. has a building permit for $2,000 for an addition to the kitchen of the Old Mill Tavern in Waterford, and a new restaurant costing $15,000 is under construction on Elizabeth Lake road east of Airport road by owner Eugene Popa.

★ ★ ★

A $1,600 office is being added to the White Swan restaurant at 4370 Highland Rd., according to building department reports.

Mart Tradition: Stocks to Rise

Usually Higher Dec. 31 Than on Christmas Eve; Up in January, Too

NEW YORK (UPI) — The tradition of a higher stock market on Dec. 31 than on Dec. 24 is one of the best documented traditions in market lore, notes W. E. Hutton & Co.

And historically, the firm adds, there have been few reversals of intermediate upward trends in January.

"In a greatly mixed stock market like this, however, these seasonal observations could be more academic than practical. Remember that for months there have been about as many stocks standing still or going down as going up — but that the action of the Dow-Jones Industrials has given the list the appearance of bouyancy."

The strong market action of Checker Motors simply reinforces our belief that the stock is in a strong upward pattern and has further forward potential, says Bache & Co.

Hayden, Stone & Co. comments on Anacondona: The company should have a profitable year in 1960 with earnings estimated at $6.50 to $7 a share. Its Chilean mine should reach potential. A dividend increase up to $3 is possible.

Walter G. Bernthal of Filor, Bullard & Smyth said the oil group, which has been depressed due to the heavy inventory position and tax selling could prove a good speculative medium over the next couple of weeks.

Illinois Power is selling at 17 times current earnings and affords a generous 4.4 per cent yield, notes Standard & Poor's. "Purchases are recommended for income and further moderate capital gains."

Problem Is Immediate

ROCKY HILL, Conn. (UPI) — Residents here have been digging themselves out of a heavy snowfall without thought of summer. They braved a storm Tuesday night to attend a town meeting and tabled a motion to buy lawn mowing equipment.

The U.S. manufactures more than one-third of the world supply of cement and more than four times as much as the next largest producing nation.

Ad Charges Distorted, GM Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Trade Commission charges that General Motors used camera trickery in filming television advertising for the glass in its cars have been denied by the giant automaker.

GM said yesterday that in any case the commercial was discarded before the FTC issued a complaint on Oct. 30. The automaker asked for dismissal of the charges.

The Libbey Owens-Ford Glass Co. of Toledo, also cited in the complaint, has not yet filed a reply.

The FTC charged that TV commercials falsely represented that safety plate glass used in the wide windows of GM cars has no optical distortion. It said camera tricks were used to compare this glass with the safety sheet glass used in other brands of autos.

GM contended there is no optical distortion in the glass it uses and that the challenged commercials "gave a fair and truthful portrayal of what they purported to portray."

Two MSU Students Feared Lost on Peak

MT. WASHINGTON, N. H. (AP) —Two Michigan State University students were feared lost today on snow-covered, wind-swept Mt. Washington — the Northeast's highest peak.

White Mountain National Forest officials identified the youths as Richard B. Onnier and Harold Karagosian, both of Watertown, Mass.

Officials said the two were reported to have begun climbing the mountain last Sunday. They have not been heard from since then.

The water content of meadow grass is reduced form about 75 per cent to about 15 per cent in the farm process of making hay for food.

Moscow All Excited on New Year's Eve

MOSCOW (AP)—Russians worked a short day today, then headed for the shops and a last minute buying binge in anticipation of the two-day New Year holiday. Weathermen predicted relatively mild temperatures for Moscow.

New Year's is one of the Soviet Union's three big holidays, marked by celebrations and gift-giving on a grand scale. Others are May Day and the Nov. 7 celebration of the Bolshevik Revolution, featured by massive parades with political banners.

Only New Year's escapes political implications.

For most Russians, the night will be celebrated with their families and friends in their homes. But for Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, members of the presidium and high ranking artists and scientists, there will be a gathering in the great Kremlin Palace to drink toasts at midnight. Foreign ambassadors are invited.

★ ★ ★

For days, the streets have been filled with people carrying home fir trees. These are exactly like Christmas trees in the West, but in officially atheistic Russia they are reserved for New Year fetes.

Every important store in Moscow is lavishly decorated and has representations of what a Westerner would recognize as Santa Claus, known here as Grandfather Frost.

Long-time foreigners here say the windows and shelves of the stores are filled with more, plus more colorful, goods than ever before.

★ ★ ★

Christmas will be celebrated as usual in orthodox style Jan. 7. Messages from patriarch Alexius appealing for world peace will be read in the churches.

In a sort of recapitulation of the biggest news stories of the year, the government newspaper Izvestia editorially listed such Soviet achievements as beginning the current seven-year plan, launching of the atomic icebreaker Lenin and Khrushchev's trip to the United States.

South Korea Denies Shot at Red Ship

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — South Korea today denied a Soviet charge that a South Korean warship fired on an unarmed Soviet survey ship off the North Korean coast Monday.

Ths South Korean navy termed the accusation "another piece of the Communists' usual false propaganda."

The navy issued an initial statement saying that a North Korean ship probably carried out the attack by mistake and that the Korean Reds were trying to pin the blame on South Korea.

A navy spokesman also reported that South Korean navy ships had "sighted gunfire" in the area of the reported attack. But later both these statements were ordered deleted from the official navy statement on the charge. No explanation was given.

The navy said its ships do not operate as far north as the point of the alleged attack—30 miles off the North Korean coast and 36 miles north of the South Korean boundary.

The spot is more than 100 miles south of the course being used by two unarmed Soviet transport ships repatriating Koreans from Japan to North Korea. South Korea had threatened to use force to prevent the migration, but so far is not known to have interfered.

The Soviet charge, announced Wednesday night by the Soviet news agency Tass, said a South Korean warship of the "Big Hunter type, No. 205," fired on the hydrographic vessel Ungo, causing heavy damages and a number of casualties. Tass said the attacker then made off to South Korean waters.

Ike to Watch New Year In With Friends

AUGUSTA, Ga., (AP)—President Eisenhower is planning a quiet New Year's Eve, as such things go, at the exclusive Augusta National Golf Club.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower would spend the evening with friends and fellow club members. Presumably the chief executive will watch the new year in.

The President hopes to have today and Friday free of the pressure of official business, then hold a Saturday conference on the budget which he will submit to Congress Jan. 18.

Mrs. Eisenhower is here with her husband. They brought some friends with them from Washington last Sunday—William E. Robinson of New York, chairman of Coca-Cola Co., and Mr. and Mrs. George Allen.

Barnes Treks North to Consider Quitting

LANSING (AP)—Ingham County Sheriff Willard P. Barnes was in seclusion today, considering demands for his resignation because of two drunk driving charges in three months.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of the County Republican Committee and the Michigan Sheriffs Assn. teamed to ask Barnes to resign.

They said a recall election was in prospect unless he quit.

Barnes refused to resign, said he would consider the matter and report back, the petitioners said.

Friends said Barnes had "gone north" for a rest.

Americans Gave Away $7.5 Billion in 1959

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans donated a record 7½ billion dollars to various causes in 1959, a survey shows.

The figure was announced by Charles A. Anger, board chairman of John Price Jones Co., an institutional fund raising firm. He said individuals gave about 80 per cent of the total.

Wants Old Yule Trees to Hold Sand on Beach

OCEAN CITY, N. J. (AP) — Mayor Nathaniel Smith has asked residents to turn in their Christmas trees to be placed on the beach.

He said the trees would be lined up as a windbreak to keep sand from blowing away.

Williams Calls State Set for Nuclear Lead

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams says Michigan is ready to assume leadership in the nuclear power field, and that eventually industry can reap important advantages.

The governor said yesterday he was heartened by news of a plan for a 50,000 kilowatt atomic power plant at Big Rock Point, near Charlevoix, and of a bid for a nuclear power facility in Detroit.

He called the Consumers Power Co. proposal to build at Big Rock Point, on Lake Michigan, an expression of confidence in the industrial future of the state.

★ ★ ★

If the Atomic Energy Commission acts quickly, he said, the new plant could produce power before the end of 1962.

The governor applauded an application by the Detroit Public Lighting Commission for an atomic electric plant, and added:

"Already an atomic power plant is under construction near Monroe. These scientific advances increase Michigan's advantages for industry and I am sure everyone in Michigan will want to support these projects."

Six-Jet U.S. Bomber Burns in Spain; 4 Die

MADRID, Spain (AP) — A big six-jet bomber of the U.S. Air Force crashed and burned today while taking off from Torrejon Air Base. The four crewmen were killed.

It was the first fatal crash for the U.S. 16th Air Force in two and a half years of operation in Spain.

The B47 of the Strategic Air Command's 93rd Bomb Squadron was returning to its home base at Homestead, Fla., after temporary duty at the joint U.S.-Spain air base 15 miles from Madrid.

Names of the dead men were withheld until their next of kin were notified.

Musicians Object to TV Imports

NEW YORK (UPI)—The "cool" jazz background music rises to an exciting pitch as a television private eye stalks his man.

The nostalgic, "pure-Western" tunes on several other TV series hark back to America's early days as hoof-beat heroes face down their men on a dusty street.

Westerns, who-done-its, and their music are as American as apple pie. Or are they?

The American Federation of Musicians (AFL-CIO) charges that the music on 16 TV series — 10 of them Westerns—is recorded in foreign countries.

In newspaper advertisements, the AFM branded the practice "a species of fraud on the American public." It said recording the music abroad allows television producers to cut costs at the expense of American musicians, and is becoming a serious threat to employment opportunities.

Accused of diluting their all-American plots with imported music were these shows:

"Bat Masterson," "Black Saddle," "The DuPont Show," "Johnnie Ringo," "Lassie," "The Lockup," "Men into Space," "Richard Diamond," "The Rifleman," "Robert Taylor's Detectives," "Sea Hunt," "Tales of the Plainsmen," "Tombstone Territory," "Wanted Dead or Alive," "Witchita Town" and "Zane Grey Theater."

4 Cabinet Ministers of Syria Quit Posts

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser's domination of the United Arab Republic was underlined today with the resignation of four Syrian cabinet ministers, including Vice President Akram Hourani.

Hourani was one of four vice presidents named when the U.A.R. was set up in February 1958—two for the Egyptian province and two for Syria. His resignation leaves Syria without a vice president as the other one, Sabri Assali, quit in the fall of 1958.

★ ★ ★

No reason was given for the resignation of Hourani and the three other ministers. But Nasser has shown annoyance at the refusal of old Syrian political parties to stop functioning.

Nasser last October strengthened his personal hold on Syria by sending one of the Egyptian vice presidents, Field Marshal Abdel Hakim Amer, to the province with virtual dictatorial powers.

NEEDS NO DOUBLE — Heiress Gloria Vanderbilt insisted on playing this scene herself and got a good soaking for the sake of realism. She plays the part of the neglected wife of a weather station operator on a remote Pacific island. Here Gardner McKay, star of the series "Adventures in Paradise," rescues her during a "hurricane." The show will be aired in February.

Time to Squabble Over Dates at End (?) of Every Decade

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you are planning to let off some extra steam this New Years Eve in the belief it's the end of the decade, think again. You could be wrong.

Of course you can take any New Year's Eve and call it the end of a decade. And tonight is certainly the end of the 1950s.

★ ★ ★

But if you follow that system of reckoning back to the beginning of the Christian era, you won't come out even. Your first decade will have only nine years in it. That's because the Christian Era began with the year 1.

★ ★ ★

Astronomers don't take any firm stand on when a decade expires.

"It's mostly a matter of semantics and personal choice," was the word today from astronomer Simone Gossner of the almanac office of the U.S. Naval Observatory.

"However, we do take a very definite stand on the matter of centuries, and, believe me, there's always a squabble at the turn of a century."

Paste the date in your hat right now: Astronomically speaking, the next century will begin Jan. 1, 2001 — not Jan. 1, 2000.

"The reason for our stand," Mrs. Gossner explained, "is that there is no year zero. Thus, the first century began with the year 1 and ended with—and included—the entire year 100."

★ ★ ★

And why is there no year zero?

"The reason is," she explained, "that the Western world of the Dark Ages never had a symbol for zero. It wasn't until about the 13 century that the zero came into the arithmetical reckoning of the Western world. The Arabs used the zero long before that — but communication was poor in those days."

★ ★ ★

Dating the beginning of the Christian Era is an arbitrary thing, she said.

"We consider that the Christian Era began Jan. 1 in the year 1 A.D.," she said. "But that doesn't correspond to the year of Christ's birth. Best current estimates are that the birth of Christ occurred somewhere between 4 B.C. and 8 B.C.

"The reason for the confusion is that the man who determined the beginning of the Christian era — a sixth century non-mathematician named Dionysius Exiguus who was an abbott of Rome at the time — made a number of errors."

Summing up the whole business, Mrs. Gossner said: "once you get involved in these things, you lose your mind."

There'll Be Parades and Football Aplenty

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — It seems obvious that network programmers believe the best cure for hangovers is a combination of parade and football-watching. New Year's Day schedules are crammed with them.

★ ★ ★

First things first, however: If you got your reservations mixed up or if you prefer to stay home tonight, there are plenty of New Year's Eve parties you may attend vicariously and without payment—then or the morning after. CBS will throw its regular—and final—"Big Party," 9:30-11 p.m. with a galaxy of stars and entertainers. Dick Clark's festivities on ABC will start at 11 p.m.; good, gray, Guy Lombardo takes over the CBS cameras at 11:30, just as Arlene Francis starts acting as substitute hostess on NBC's Jack Paar Show.

ROSE PARADE

Both ABC and NBC will televise the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Parade, starting at 11:30 a.m. And from 12:45 p.m. until after dark NBC and CBS will be broadcasting bowl football games —Orange, Sugar, Cotton, and of course, Rose. Friday night, in case you're weary of sports, there's the Telephone Hour of music, 8:30-9:30 p.m., NBC.

★ ★ ★

On Saturday there is more football and basketball in the afternoon, but Sunday is the busy TV time. At 11 a.m. CBS premieres its "FYI," a new public affairs show, with an examination of crime in New York City. At 3 p.m., CBS kicks off its new weekly "Sunday Sports Spectacular," and at 6 p.m. Sen. John F. Kennedy turns up on NBC's "Meet the Press." Later, there's "The Margaret Bourke-White Story" on NBC's Sunday Showcase, 8-9 p.m., followed on the same network by Janet Blair in "Around the World with Nellie Bly."

★ ★ ★

On Monday, ABC starts its new audience participation show, "About Faces," with Ben Alexander as host. On Tuesday evening, Audie Murphy stars in "The Man," a mystery story on NBC's Startime, 9:30-10:30 p.m. On Thursday night CBS brings us Maureen O'Hara in "Mrs. Miniver," 9:30-11 p.m.

There's Nothing Kookie About Real Edd Byrnes

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Edd (Kookie) Byrnes stretched out on the bed in his hotel room and spoke into the phone. "Will you ask her to call me back in an hour?" he said.

★ ★ ★

And then, came another call. "No, I'm not engaged to anybody," I heard him saying.

He turned back to me. "That was somebody wanting to know if the girl I was walking in Central Park with this morning is my fiancee. MY FIANCEE!"

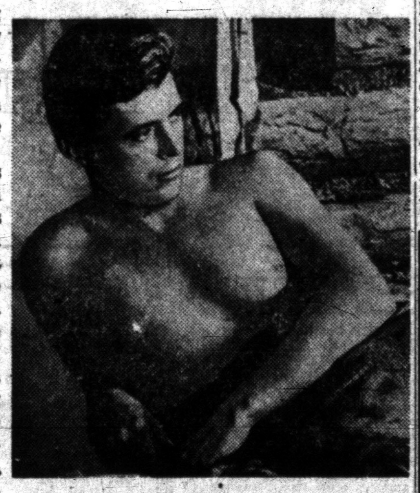

WILSON

"Looks like you have to beat 'em off with a club," I remarked to the polite good-looking 26-year-old who plays the hip parking lot attendant in "77 Sunset Strip" on TV. But I was thinking—what would Rudolph Valentino have been with the dames if there'd been television instead of pust little old silent movies?

"Two years ago you could have gone around New York unnoticed," I said.

"Two years—one year!" he howled. "Two years ago I was sitting in the drug store in Radio City waiting till somebody with some money came in and bailed me out."

BYRNES

And now it's front page news in the trade papers that Kookie's "on layoff" and that his agents are hassling about a new contract raising his pay from $500 to $1750 a week and giving him a chance to do some non-Kookie TV roles, too, and that Warner's are shooting without him to bring his agents into line — even using other actors in his place.

★ ★ ★

Ed Wynne gave a party for the six-foot blondish bachelor —at which I saw five members of the agency representing Kookie—besides Hugh O'Brian, Monique Van Vooren, briefly Paul Stewart, Dolores Wilson, et al. He seemed relieved when I got him away from his female admirers. He wouldn't talk about the job hassle at all.

"I'm very grateful that people recognize me," he said. "But sometimes . . . like when I went to see my 13-year-old sister Joann in a play at St. Jean's . . . " There was so much head-turning that he left his seat and quietly stood in the back. "I was afraid my sister was going to get into trouble," Kookie explained.

Kookie—whose favorite color must be red—at least he had dates here with redheaded model Brenda Sammis — never once said anything boastful or fresh or threatening or egotistical —or kookie.

★ ★ ★

"I don't go in for it too much except on the program," he told me. "I guess we wore out one word," 'ginchiest.' We substituted 'the skizziest.'"

"From schizophrenia?" I asked.

"No." Kookie looked vague. "'Ginchiest' meant the most and 'skizziest' means more than 'ginchiest.'"

"Do all the girls you go out with seem to want to get married?" I asked.

"Why, I imagine they do, being girls, but I never talk to girls about that—it's a subject I avoid." Which, I guess, is the reason he's the skizziest.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

John Barrymore Jr. tried to reconcile with Cara Williams again (on his return from Rome, bound for Hollywood) but she replied: "Negative" . . . Billy Rose was touched by one holiday gift: a folder of baby pictures of Gypsy Rose Lee from June Havoc. Gypsy gave Billy an Afghan puppy which got lonesome in the big house amid the expensive rugs and was sent back to Gypsy's house to await her return from St. Petersburg, Fla., where she's doing her act . . . Glenn Ford holidayed with Debbie Reynolds.

★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Football coaches will adopt the three-platoon system — (says the Graham, Texas, Scandal Sheet)—"one platoon for offense, one for defense, and one for study" . . . That's earl, brother.

Presley's Idol? Frank Sinatra

Friends Say He Wants to Stress Acting After Army Release

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) —Elvis Presley has a secret ambition. He wants to be like Frank Sinatra.

Friends of the soldier-singer, now winding up two years of army service with the 3rd Armored Division, said today that when he returns to Hollywood he wants to branch out and become more of an actor.

"I think Elvis' idea is to keep singing while switching his main channel of activities to acting," a source close to Presley said.

"I guess you could say that Frank Sinatra is the man he wants to model himself on. After all, Sinatra made the transition from just another pop singer to one of the world's top movie stars—why shouldn't Elvis?

★ ★ ★

"You might say that this two years' soldiering has broadened his mind; he knows he can do more than swing his hips and sing the blues, and he wants to give it a try."

Presley is scheduled to leave the Army camp at Bad Nauheim about Feb. 15. With other members of his unit he will travel by rail to Bremerhaven and sail from there to the United States.

He is due in Hollywood April 1 to start filming interior scenes for the film "GI Blues." Exteriors for the picture were shot in and around Bad Nauheim last fall.

After that he has several other pictures lined up. Members of his staff said he will be occupied in the movie city at least through September and probably until the end of the year.

★ ★ ★

He is expected to buy a Hollywood home for his family. Previously Elvis "commuted" between Hollywood and the family home in Memphis, Tenn.

National Debt Cut Foreseen in 1960

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury hopes to cut the national debt by 5½ or 6 bilion dollars in the next six months, but apparently not enough to avoid another temporary boost in the debt ceiling.

A drop in the debt total is not unusual in the first half of the year—the period of greatest tax receipts.

The debt is now 291 billion dollars. The Treasury said Wednesday it expects by the end of June to reduce the total to 285 or 285½ billions.

The current temporary debt limit drops automatically on June 30 to 285 billions. So the Treasury's estimates indicate Congress will have to be asked again for another temporary increase in the ceiling.

Even if reductions bring the limit to less than 285 billions by June 30, provisions have to be made for the last half of the year when tax receipts drop and expenditures usually surpass receipts.

Les Brown Jr. Fined as Hit-Run Motorist

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Les Brown Jr., 19, has been fined $200 and placed on two years probation for failing to stop after his car struck a pedestrian Nov. 1.

★ ★ ★

Municipal Judge Adolph Alexander was told young Brown, son of the bandleader, returned later to the spot where John Aragon was injured.

Brown was ordered to pay Aragon's medical bills and stay away from liquor.

Memory Sieve Strains High Spots of Season

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Before 1959 goes to black, as TV directors say it, I'd like to zoom in with a memory lens and recapture some especially gratifying TV moments that were left behind.

My list, a partial one at best, is based on the theory that seasonal good will causes the bad to slip into oblivion through a fine-mesh memory screen. The good, of course, sticks.

Anyhow, here's an idea of what TV viewing left with me in 1959, not counting a slight touch of eye strain.

Jason Robards impassively watching a wooden bridge . . . Lee Cobb's inspired determination as Don Quixote assaulting a windmill . . . Cobb again. This time as a dying, life-loving scientist in "Project-Immortality" . . . A battered Nehemiah Persoff, growling, "I don't provoke" . . . Geraldine Page and Jason Robards in a bedroom encounter superbly directed by John Frankenheimer . . . Laurence Olivier glaring at his dull companions in a Paris cafe.

John Gielgud's totures in "The Browning Version" . . . Kathleen Widdoes reliving a teen-age birthday in "Our Town" . . . James Donald in "The Power and the Glory," as a fugitive priest attempting to celebrate Mass in a peasant hut (on a local TV series called, "The Play of the Week") . . . Maximilian Schell as a young German lawyer in a Playhouse 90 production about the Nuernburg war crime trials . . . Maria Schell's forlorn, peaceful expression in "For Whom the Bells Toll."

Ingrid Bergman's subdued case of nerves in the Henry James story, "The Turn of the Screw" . . . Young Heyward Morse's acting in the same production . . . the climactic crater scenes in "The Tunnel" on Playhouse 90 . . . Jimmy Stewart's Air Force documentary, "Cowboy 57."

All the tidbits mentioned above told me things about the minds and hearts of men. Continuing the list:

Harry Belafonte's singing of "Sylvie" before a silent group of men . . . Odetta, the folk singer, whacking her guitar and singing "Water Boy" . . . Fred Astaire and Barrie Chase frolicking through a jazz number called, "My Baby" . . . The Astaire show's theme, "Like Young" . . . Ed Sullivan's videotaped Spoleto and Moscow shows . . . The spontaneous Nixon-Khrushchev "debate" . . . a fleeting shot of Frank Sinatra practically dragging Khrushchev off to meet some pals during a Hollywood reception . . . Andy Williams' fresh, swinging summer TV series . . . "The Population Explosion" . . . the theme music on "Riverboat."

IMITATIONS

Laughs? The Jack Benny-Jimmy Stewart restaurant sketch . . . chimpanzees on a Jack Benny special . . . George Burns recalling his vaudeville days on a Jack Paar show . . . Art Carney's imitations of John Daly, an American tourist and an aspiring president . . . Hans Conried portraying an Italian waiter, a Greek multimillionaire on Art Carney shows, and, earlier, reciting "Little Orphan Annie" . . . The Sid Caesar-Jose Ferrer comedy confrontations . . . Tallulah Bankhead on the first "Big Party" show.

Steve Allen's skit about a silent screen cowboy hero, played by Dayton Allen, making his TV debut in a western . . . Tom Poston's portrayals of Francis X. Tishman, an old-time matinee idol, on last season's Steve Allen show.

Happy New Year to all.

THE CHANNEL SWIM:

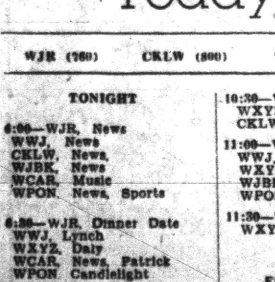

An adult cartoon show, The Flagstones, is going into ABC-TV's nighttime schedule next fall. The situation comedy format by Hanna-Barbera Productions will comment on modern-day life by depicting life among a family of suburban stone age cave dwellers.

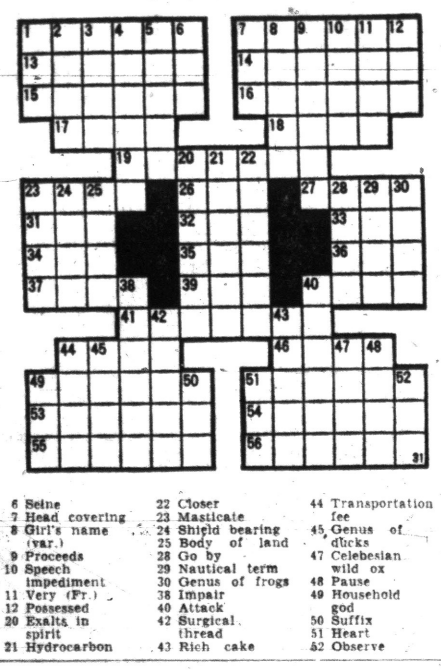

NBC-TV's Rexall special for Sunday, Feb. 14 will be an adaptation of "The Devil and Dan'l Webster," with Edward G. Robinson as Webster and David Wayne as the devil.

Henry Fonda and his daughter, Jane, report they will star in CBS-TV's DuPont Show of the Month for April, an adaptation of Ruth Gordon's play, "Years Ago."

Beatrice Lillie, Cyril Ritchard, Tammi Grimes and the satire of "Mad" magazine will comprise the Pontiac Star Parade special on NBC-TV Feb. 24 . . . ABC-TV's Man with a Camera runs out of film next March . . . The replacement for NBC-TV's western, Wichita Town, may be a new "visit" show called Place to Place, created by John Aaron and Jesse Zousmer, who worked out the Person to Person format.
