Rusk Asks Swift Action

NATO Backs Build-Up Call

Proxmire Hits Appointment as 'Stacking Deck'

Continues His Battle Against Confirmation of Lawrence O'Connor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., told the Senate today President Kennedy's appointment of a former Texas oil man to the Federal Power Commission amounts to "stacking the deck, loading the dice, against the householder."

Proxmire renewed his one-man fight against Senate confirmation of Lawrence J. O'Connor Jr. for a seat on the FPC, which regulates the oil and gas industry.

Proxmire spoke during most of Monday's nine-hour Senate session, and said he would need 8 to 10 hours more to complete his speech.

As he resumed his speech today, he denied he was filibustering. He said he has stuck to his subject of criticizing O'Connor's fitness for the post, and has not used quorum calls or other delaying tactics to consume time.

Proxmire charged that O'Connor is a man with a "built-in bias in favor of the industry" he would help to regulate as an FPC member.

Proxmire said O'Connor has been an active official of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, an industry group which has fought against FPC regulation of natural gas rates at the well head.

The senator said regulation starting at that point should be "the guts of natural gas regulation," but is not attempted by FPC.

He said James M. Landis, Kennedy's adviser on agency affairs, has advocated appointment to the FPC of "qualified and dedicated members with the consumer interest at heart."

"Is Lawrence O'Connor this kind of man?" Proxmire asked.

He also quoted statistics which showed, he said, that the industry has such vast power that it has obtained special tax benefits under which some rich oil companies pay a lesser rate than wage earners.

Factory Men Pledge Longer Day

Rally Workers Behind Nikita

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today organized a show of workers' solidarity behind Premier Khrushchev's firm stand on Berlin. Defense workers gathered at meetings to pledge a longer day at the plant if needed.

Khrushchev, who called for East-West negotiations on Germany but stuck to his demand for East German control of the access routes to Berlin, told the Soviet people Monday night that no sacrifices would be necessary to bolster the nation's military power.

But defense workers throughout the nation were summoned to factory meetings immediately after the speech. Communist party activists in fiery speeches called for a show of support for Khrushchev's policy and workers raised their hands to approve previously prepared resolutions on a longer work day. The Communist party paper Pravda published a picture of one-solemn-faced group with hands raised at a Moscow defense plant.

The paper said the workers' meeting "approach the government with the request to permit defense plants to switch from a seven-to eight-hour working day for the purpose of further strengthening the defenses of the fatherland."

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union may have to move divisions to its Western borders and call up reservists. But he told the Russians that no extra appropriations would be necessary for the arms build-up.

"The armaments which have already been produced and are being produced by our industry will be sufficient," he said. "We shall not make the people shoulder unnecessary, unjustified burdens."

In an 85-minute radio-TV speech delivered against the background of Soviet Maj. Gherman S. Titov's successful earth-orbiting space flight, Khrushchev accused the West of pushing the world toward war over Berlin. He threatened in turn an accelerated build-up of the Soviet military strength.

"It may be that we shall have to increase in the future the numerical strength of the army on the Western frontiers by moving divisions from other parts of the Soviet Union," he said.

"In connection with this, we may have to call up a part of the reservists so that our divisions will have a full complement and be ready for any eventuality."

He called these "reply measures" to President Kennedy, who on July 25 pledged to defend West Berlin, and called for 217,000 additional men for the U.S. armed forces.

Kennedy's speech was a response to Khrushchev's threats at their Vienna meeting the month before that Moscow would end allied occupation rights in West Berlin by the end of the year through a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

Alliance Council Reacts Quickly to Big 4 Mood

Agrees to Intensify its Readiness for Crisis Over Berlin

PARIS (UPI) — The NATO alliance today unanimously endorsed an American appeal it beef up its military strength without delay to meet the Russian threat against Berlin.

The permanent council of NATO heard Secretary of State Dean Rusk report on the results of last weekend's Berlin talks by the Big Four Western foreign ministers and then ask for a Western show of force to match Moscow's rocket-rattling threats.

A NATO spokesman said afterward the council "unanimously endorsed" the American appeal.

A NATO communique published after the meeting said "the permanent council, in view of the seriousness of the situation, agreed to intensify its consultation on these matters" in the spirit of the decisions of the NATO foreign ministers at their last meeting in Oslo in May.

The Oslo council session in its closing communique reiterated the Western alliance's determination to maintain the freedom of West Berlin and its people and warned that the Soviet Union cannot end Western rights in Berlin simply by signing a peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

Diplomatic informants said Rusk was calling on all the NATO nations to join the United States, Britain, France and West Germany in helping to bring NATO's "shield" in Europe nearer to full scheduled strength before the West opens

No Compromise on Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders conceded today Congress probably will amend the foreign aid bill but clung to hope that President Kennedy's main proposals would survive.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas said there has been no indication from the White House or the Democratic leadership in Congress of any willingness to compromise on the administration's plan to finance long term economic development [illegible] funds borrowed from the treasury.

Rayburn reiterated the administration's no compromise stand as Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., threw his support behind long range foreign aid as recommended by Kennedy.

Rayburn and other Democratic leaders, including Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, met for an hour with Kennedy this morning at their regular Tuesday breakfast parley.

Afterward Rayburn told reporters the administration measure may be amended before it clears the Senate and House but added: "I don't think that fundamentally it will be hurt too much."

Any important legislation is likely to be amended in some respect, Rayburn said, but "I doubt if this one is amended in what you would call a vital spot."

Rayburn's optimistic reference clearly bore on long range aspects of Kennedy's aid program.

Study Seven Bids for Urban Wrecking

Bids from seven wrecking companies seeking the first contract for clearance in the urban renewal project were under study today at City Hall.

Dore Wrecking Co. of Kawkawlin, $50,472; Associated Wrecking Contractors, Inc., of Dearborn, $52,050; Ace Wrecking Co. of Warren, $78,475; Allen & Son, Inc. of Pontiac, $79,787; Star Wrecking Co. of Southfield, $88,330; Arrow Wrecking, Inc., of Dearborn, $94,122; and Gibralter Wrecking & Supply Co., of Union City, New Jersey, $101,500.

Latin Leaders Hail Development Plan

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Brazilian Finance Minister Clemente Mariani today joined other Latin-American leaders in general support of the aims of President Kennedy's sweeping program for hemisphere development.

Mariani praised the U.S. offer of long-term multi-billion-dollar aid to help raise Latin-American living standards in an address to delegates of the Inter-American Conference.

He warned that grave dangers have arisen in the Southern Hemisphere because of its poverty and population explosion.

"Our apprehension over the East-West conflict is justified," Mariani said, "but it would be imprudent to ignore that the tension between the Northern Hemisphere is perhaps even more crucial."

With the exception of Cuban Economic Chief Ernesto Guevara, delegates have lauded the U.S. proposal.

However, serious objections were expressed on a seven-man planning committee that would coordinate development programs in the various countries.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was described today as pleased with progress of the conference in Uruguay to plan for economic development of Latin America.

Alfonso Gumucio Reyes, Bolivia's minister of national economy, told the delegates he hoped President Kennedy's alliance for progress would help Latin America face increasing competition from Africa.

He said Latin America's "entire economic system is absolutely vulnerable."

Such key nations as Argentina, Chile, Brazil and Mexico have strong reservations about centralized direction of continental planning. These countries want to plan their own way out of their individual problems and prefer an individual approach, even though the process might take longer.

★ ★ ★

Argentina, Mexico and Chile indicate they feel they are making significant strides on their own in planning. Brazil, largest of the Latin-American countries, considers itself a case apart, worthy of special treatment.

Big Door Slams, Killing 5 Men

58-Ton Lid Crashes at Titan Missile Silo; 8 Suffer Injuries

DENVER (AP)—A 58-ton steel and concrete door [illegible] Titan missile launching silo slammed shut with an earth-shaking crash, killing five workmen and injuring eight others Monday.

Three bodies were recovered. Two others were pinned between the door and the edge of the huge silo. A spokesman at Buckley Field, scene of the tragedy 15 miles east of Denver, said "it may be as long as 72 hours before the door can be raised."

★ ★ ★

Buckley Field identified three of the dead as Lacy C. Wareheim, Seattle; Jerry E. Brancio of Denver; and George Graham of Aurora, Colo.

Only two of the injured men were hospitalized, Charles W. Postle, 42, of Aurora and Howard Hoffman, 56, of Littleton, Colo.

Exhaust Control to Be Mandatory

Ribicoff Will Request Legislation if Plan Not Ready by January

WASHINTON (AP) — Auto makers must soon start equipping cars with devices to control exhaust fumes or Congress will be asked to force them to do it.

Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff said Monday if the industry does not come up with a voluntary plan by January, he will ask Congress to require 1964 models to include air pollution control devices as standard equipment.

He said representatives of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, Inc., and engineering experts he conferred with Monday "are going back to Detroit and present the matter to the proper authority and give us an answer as soon as possible."

The auto men told Ribicoff the industry is now testing such devices but hadn't solved all the engineering problems.

"Most of the engineering leadership" understands the problem and wants to help solve it, Ribicoff said.

Both He, His Spaceship Ready Again, Says Titov

MOSCOW (AP) — Maj. Gherman Titov said today his space ship survived 17 orbits of the earth as well as he did and everything is "fine and in working order—ready for another flight."

The Soviet Union's second cosmonaut was interviewed by correspondents of Pravda, the Communist party paper, at the undisclosed landing area as Moscow prepared a hero's welcome for him.

The newsmen described Titov as in excellent health and having an "almost bronze-colored face, as if tanned by outer space."

Although Titov said he encountered no trouble aboard the space ship for more than 24 hours—"conditions of weightlessness are good for working"—he did confess to one difficulty: He was homesick for solid ground.

"I knew that there was something in the nature of homesickness called nostalgia, but I found that there is also a homesickness for the earth. I don't know what it should be called but it does exist," Titov said.

"There is nothing more splendid in the world than mother earth on which one can stand, work and breathe the wind of the Steppes.

"I saw the fantastic sun and stars, the extraordinary, unearthly colors. The cosmos awaits its own painters and poets, and of course, scientists."

PRAISES NIKITA

Titov also came up with expected praise for Premier Khrushchev. The cosmonaut said a multiorbit flight could have been accomplished before now, but Khrushchev "insisted that the designers should reduce the risk to a minimum not only to life, but to the health of the cosmonaut who would spend such a long time in outer space."

Khrushchev himself will lead the welcome for Titov in Red Square, probably Wednesday. Workers are busy decorating the square in front of the Kremlin for a huge demonstration.

Titov's father, Stepan Pavlovich Titov, 52, and his mother, Alexandra Mikhailovna, were en route from the remote Siberian village of Pokovnikova to join in the festival. His wife, Tamara, will also be present. So will the first space traveler, Maj. Yuri Gagarin, who hurried home from a Canadian visit.

Titov was still reporting today to scientists on his 17 trips around the globe, which ended after 25 hours and 18 minutes of space travel at 10:18 a.m. Monday.

The Soviet Union's second spaceman made a pinpoint descent near the Volga 450 miles southeast of Moscow, the Soviet announcement said, almost at the spot where Gagarin landed and at almost the same hour of the day.

REFUGEES SWAMP W. BERLIN—Women and children from East Germany sit outside the Marienfelde camp for refugees in West Berlin today amid their possessions taken from the Communist-controlled zone. The day's count of refugees hit 2,021, highest daily total in eight years, West Berlin officials said. The actual number of people fleeing from East Germany may be much higher since many people did not register immediately.

E. Germans Pour Into West

BERLIN (UPI) — Record numbers of refugees from East Germany poured across the border into West Berlin today in the wake of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's speech on Germany.

About 2,021 East Germans reached freedom to bring the total since Aug. 1 to 11,000, the largest number for a single week since the spring of 1953, immediately before the East Berlin uprising.

The flow of refugees was stepped up in the expectation that the Communists will seal off the border to prevent escape to the West. Hundreds were believed to have failed today in their attempt to get past border guards.

West German Minister for All-German Affairs Ernst Lemmer called the increase in refugees "staggering". West Berlin officials made plans to open a 16th transit camp for refugees awaiting flights to West Germany.

FEAR BORDER CLOSING

Most of today's refugees had interpreted Khrushchev's speech of Monday as meaning that the Berlin border between East and West would soon be closed.

Officials feared the exodus could become so great that refugees would overflow the city's camps and have to be lodged in private homes.

Khrushchev's announced readiness to negotiate made little impression here. It was noted that Khrushchev as always coupled a bid for talks with a flat statement he would not back down on his plan to give Germany a peace treaty and end Western rights in Berlin.

"Khrushchev will negotiate — but without concessions," bannerlined the West Berlin newspaper Morgenpost.

Install Clocks on Hospital Grounds

They'll Know What Time It Is

Pontiac State Hospital patients are currently looking up to some very timely gifts—two large outdoor electric clocks.

"Time no longer stands still for our patients," said Dr. Walter H. Obenauf, hospital superintendent, "thanks to the generosity of our volunteers and employes."

The clocks, each 26 inches in diameter, have been installed on the west side of the South Infirmary building and above the entrance to the hospital chapel.

* * *

In recent years, with the advances made in treatment and rehabilitation of mental patients, time has become a very important factor.

Earlier this year, according to Dr. Obenauf, patients commented about the need for outdoor clocks "to help them get places and do things on time."

There are now more than 1,000 patients—one-third of the hospital's total patient population—on ground privileges.

These people are getting better Dr. Obenauf said, and most will eventually be full-fledged members of the community again.

WANT TO BE ON TIME

"The improving patient wants to be on time for doctors appointments, therapy classes, meals, work therapy and visitors," the superintendent explained.

When the time problem was brought up at a meeting of the Oakland County Citizens Committee for Pontiac State Hospital a series of fund-raising projects began.

The committee got valuable help from the Pontiac Chapter of the Psychiatric Attendant Nurses Association; Women's Relief Corps of New Haven, in Macomb County; and Pontiac State Hospital Local 49 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes Union (AFL-CIO).

* * *

The clocks were bought and installed for about $200.

Pontiac Second in State With Off-Street Parking

You think parking is rough in downtown Pontiac?

Some statistics gathered for a report at Michigan State University indicate the city has provided more metered off-street parking than any other city in Michigan except Dearborn.

Pontiac has even more off-street meters than Detroit, according to the report prepared by Samuel G. Chapman for the Institute for Community Development at MSU's Kellogg Center.

The report is based on information from 68 Michigan communities of over 10,000 population.

* * *

According to the report, Pontiac had 11 municipal parking lots last December with a total 1,239 meters. An added 449 on-street meters pushed the total number to 1,688.

MORE ADDED

Since then more meters have been added in two new, small lots in Pontiac and some more will go into place when the Pine Street lot is expanded through a West Huron Street access.

Pontiac is one of 12 Michigan cities with a population of 50,000 to 100,000. Of the 11 others, Saginaw had 13 municipal lots with a total of 590 off-street meters. An additional 1,862 on-street meters pushed its total to 2,452 meters in all.

The other 10 cities in the population group had fewer municipal lots than Pontiac and fewer parking meters.

* * *

Ann Arbor, Bay City and Kalamazoo all had more than 1,000 on-street meters, but Ann Arbor had only two municipal lots with just 67 meters, Bay City three lots with 370 meters and Kalamazoo, three lots with 378 meters.

* * *

In other words, Pontiac had more than twice as many metered parking spots in municipal lots than any other city in its population category.

In the whole state, only Dearborn had more metered off-street parking than Pontiac. In the population category of 100,000 to 250,000, Dearborn had nine lots with 2,201 meters. Including 1,414 on-street meters, Dearborn had 3,615 meters in all, a little more than twice the number in Pontiac.

FLINT HAS LESS

Flint didn't have as many meters as Pontiac. It had a total of 1,053, including 938 on-street meters and 115 off-street meters in two municipal lots.

* * *

Grand Rapids, second biggest city in the state, had only 936 more meters than Pontiac. There were 2,624 in all, including 2,133 on the streets and 491 in seven municipal lots.

Lansing, the state's capital, had just 731 more meters than Pontiac. There was a total of 2,419, including 1,891 on the streets and 528 in 10 parking lots.

Pontiac had 1,239 meters in 11 lots while Lansing had only 528 meters in 10 lots. Dearborn's lots were bigger. There were 2,201 meters in nine Dearborn lots.

Detroit, of course, had more metered parking than any other Michigan city—9,591 meters in all. But 8,932 of these were on the streets. Detroit's eight municipal parking facilities had only 659 meters.

Sweltering Heat in Oregon Perils Forests of Pine

By United Press International

Searing heat pushed the forest fire danger near the explosive point in the evergreen forests of Oregon today.

Firefighters had all of the state's fires under control. But temperatures in the 90s and 100s yesterday increased the hazard of new blazes.

* * *

Cold air knifed into the Northern Great Plains during the night, dropping the mercury 15 degrees from the previous night's lows. The Canadian air mass spread eastward toward the Upper Mississippi Valley and the Northern Great Lakes.

Two forest fires in Oregon destroyed 18,000 acres of timber before they were brought under control.

* * *

In Montana, 4,000 men battled fires which destroyed nearly 24,000 acres of timberland. The Montana crews were bolstered by U.S. Forest Service reinforcements from as far away as Wisconsin.

NATO Backs Call for Troop Build-Up

what may be critical talks with the Soviets.

Rusk, U.S. NATO Ambassador Thomas K. Finletter and six advisers arrived at NATO's gleaming new headquarters building facing the Bois de Boulogne Park shortly before 3 p.m. (9 a.m. Pontiac time).

* * *

The session was described as "private" and even an official record was not kept

A few hours earlier, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home flew back to London with a warning that negotiations with the Soviets would be pointless unless they stand a chance of succeeding.

In an obvious reference to Monday night's broadcast by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who demanded an East-West summit meeting, Home warned "there is no point in repeating the word negotiations.

* * *

"If negotiations are undertaken, they must be on a basis that would let them succeed and let them improve the situation."

'VERY WORTHWHILE'

Later, it was announced officially that Rusk will fly to Rome Wednesday to meet with Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani and Foreign Minister Antonio Segni and then fly back to Northern Italy to see West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer at his Lake Como vacation retreat before returning to the United States.

* * *

Before he made his report, observers said Rusk was expected to tell the NATO Council that there is "more than a theoretical chance" of war over Berlin.

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — Police Chief Louis Allen said a couple hired to clean windows in the Episcopal Church of the Messiah here during the weekend cleaned up the stock of Communion wine instead.

Edgar and Elizabeth Horgan, natives of Walhalla, S.C., were arrested on charges of drunkenness and larceny. He said they had six full bottles of wine in their car and told officers they had downed four already.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is issuing a new insect repellent which it claims will drive off most mosquitoes, fleas, chiggers, ticks, flies and gnats. The "deet," was developed by the Agriculture Department with Army medical research funds.

Irate Woman Blows Whistle on Herself

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A Springfield woman called police Monday asking that the owner of a lot in her neighborhood be forced to cut the weeds. She gave police the name of an attorney she said was responsible for the property's management.

* * *

Police told the attorney the weeds must be cut. The attorney said he no longer was responsible for the property because the lot had been sold.

Police found the new owner was the woman complaining about the weeds. She told police she had been dickering for the lot but was not aware the deal had gone through.

She was given five days to have the weeds cut.

Snake Milking Dangerous Job

Cobra Bite Brings Man Jolt Lacking in Other Reptile Strikes

MIAMI (UPI)—A hissing Indian cobra, its hood flared, riveted its yellow eyes on the calm man reaching for its head.

* * *

Swaying menacingly, the snake saw an opening and struck. Its fangs ripped into a vein in the man's forearm and it spurted enough venom in his bloodstream to kill several men in minutes.

Still working calmly, the man pulled the serpent from his arm.

Grasping the cobra behind the head, he forced its fangs over a vial and squeezed out the rest of the venom. There was little left. He put the snake back in its cage and walked to his laboratory.

BUILDS IMMUNITY

The time was 1956 and the man William Haast, now 49. He was not too worried that day four years ago.

He had been bitten many times and he had built up an immunity to cobras through injections of its poison.

This time his system had received too much venom, however. He began to see double. His legs became paralyzed.

Breathing became more difficult. By the time his son got him to a hospital, his windpipe had collapsed and his face was black.

Haast spent three days in an iron lung. Two days later he was back at work squeezing venom from his serpents.

COBRA HOBBY

As an airline engineer 13 years ago, Haast had a hobby of bringing cobras home from India.

The hobby became a business, and now the snakes are shipped in ventilated packages to Haast's serpentarium just south of here.

About 25,000 tourists a year pay $1.50 to watch him squeeze out the venom for use in medical research.

A horrified group of tourists was watching Haast the day of his worst bite four years ago. Since then he has been bitten twice, once by a rattler and once by a cobra.

* * *

Haast has survived 64 bites in all — 33 from cobras and the others from rattlesnakes, copperheads and water moccasins, and the blue krait, which Haast says is the deadliest of them all.

Algerian Rebel Leader Is Killed in Ambush

ALGIERS (AP)—French forces reported today that a well-known Algerian rebel leader and member of the top rebel policy-making body was killed Monday in an ambush.

* * *

Dead was Bounaama Djidjalli, 35, better known by his rebel code name of Si Mohamed, chief of the central Algerian combat sector of the National Liberation Front.

U. S. State Dept. Considers Swap

Offered Hijacked Plane for Cuban Patrol Boat, Says News Story

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department isn't slamming the door on the possibility of exchanging a Cuban patrol boat for a hijacked American airliner.

But any enthusiasm for such an exchange was carefully restrained.

* * *

Press officer Lincoln White on Monday said merely that if such a proposal was made officially by Fidel Castro's government "it will be given consideration in line with this government's efforts to secure return of the plane through diplomatic channels."

The idea of a swap first was mentioned over the weekend in a New York Times story from Havana. It said the Cuban government had outlined the swap idea in a note to the Swiss Embassy, which represents U.S. interests in Cuba.

* * *

An Eastern Air Lines Electra was hijacked by an armed Cuban July 24 and flown to Havana at gunpoint. It is valued at $3.5 million.

The 40-foot Cuban patrol vessel recently was taken to Key West by Cuban refugees. Its value is estimated at less than $40,000.

The Coast Guard is holding the Cuban vessel. So far, no court order has been issued to seize it to meet claims by creditors against Castro. Some Cuban planes have been seized for debts in the past by U.S. creditors.

7 Are Rescued by Deputy From Smoking Home

Ingham County Sheriff's Deputy Richard Norman of Mason suffered smoke inhalation in saving Kenneth Hyatt and his six children from the house which was filled with smoke from a flaming mattress.

Norman was on patrol when he noticed smoke pouring from the front door of the Hyatt home shortly before midnight.

He dashed into the house three times, leading and carrying the six children from two bedrooms, and dragging Hyatt by the foot when he was unable to awaken him. Mrs. Hyatt was working at a nearby hospital at the time.

Council Vote Sought

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI)—Nigeria Prime Minister Lahaji Abubaker Tafawa Balewa urged Monday night that African nations be admitted to the U.N. Security Council "to give us an effective voice in that organization."

Gave Property to State

LANSING (AP)—Federal surplus property worth $9 million was distributed to schools, hospitals and civil defense organizations in Michigan last year, the State Department of Administration reported today.

The Day in Birmingham

Study Requiring Manager at Self-Service Places

BIRMINGHAM — Additional information on the operation of self-service dry cleaning establishments will be studied by the City Commission before any action is taken that would require a full-time attendant.

A recommendation from City Manager L. R. Gare to adopt an ordinance that would make it mandatory for an attendant to be on duty at all times met with little enthusiasm from the commission.

Gare had suggested on the advice of the fire department that self-service laundries and dry cleaners have some type of supervision to prevent fires and discourage vandalism.

Commissioners indicated that if such legislation was adopted that would require a manager at all times it could put the establishments out of business because of increased costs.

The Commission directed Gare to obtain more information on the self-service dry cleaner that is being planned for the city.

AWARD CONTRACT

The City Commission awarded a contract to the Nu-Cast Stone and Step Co. for 330 precast bumper strips to be used in the Northwest Quadrant Parking Lot and the Eton Park Lot.

The Detroit firm, the lowest of six bidders, received the contract for $1,633, approximately 11 per cent below the estimate.

Of the 330 strips, 160 will be used in the new lot now under construction and 170 will be installed in the Eton Park Lot. Each strip is 8 feet long.

ROBERT HAWKINS

City Hall Hires New Inspector

Move in Anticipation of Construction and Improvement Boom

A new inspector has been hired at City Hall in anticipation of a construction and home improvement boom.

* * *

Robert Hawkins, 55, of 324 Crystal St., Milford was named heating, refrigeration and air-conditioning inspector at a beginning salary of $6,155 a year.

Hawkins, who lived in Pontiac in his teens, has been heating inspector in Milford and Milford Township since 1957.

He spent most of his career either in business for himself in the sales and service field or as an employe of heating equipment manufacturers.

Pontiac's inspection staff, always short-handed, now has more duties under the new city codes adopted in the past few years in connection with urban renewal. And there is the expectation that undeveloped areas of the city will open with the advent of more sewage treatment facilities.

* * *

Franklin Blaze Guts Residence, Damage $25,000

Fire gutted a Franklin Village home early this morning causing an estimated damage of more than $25,000.

* * *

The two-story brick home at 26175 W. 13 Mile Road is owned by Dale Webb. Webb, his wife and four children were out when the fire was discovered about 11 p.m. by neighbors.

Allen Young, 19, of 32647 Franklin Road, a Franklin auxiliary fireman, was injured slightly when plaster and insulation fell on him while he was fighting the blaze.

* * *

He was taken to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, where he was treated for an eye injury and released.

Training Divisions Ordered to Get Ready

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army has called for the immediate conversion of three training divisions into combat divisions ready for deployment on short notice, the White House notified Sen. John A. Carroll, D-Colo., today.

* * *

* * *

Simultaneously, Carroll was notified that an Army basic training center capable of training about 16,000 soldiers will go into operation at Ft. Carson, Colo., Sept. 7.

5,000 Paratroops Drop in Gigantic War Games

CAMDEN, S. C. (UPI—An estimated 5,000 combat ready paratroopers of the 82nd Airborne Division bailed out near here today in the first paradrop of Exercise Swift Strike, the largest U. S. war games since World War II.

Hundreds of civilian spectators lined roads in the area adjacent to the jump area to see the paratroopers hit the silk. The jump, originally scheduled for 9 a.m. (Pontiac time), was postponed an hour due to uncertain weather.

Skies were still cloudy at 10 a.m. when Col. G. M. Griswold of the 2nd Airborne Battle Group made the first jump. He was followed by thousands of men and tons of equipment.

* * *

First reports listed only one major injury. PFC Marvin Gerkins of the 501st Airborne Infantry hit a fence on landing and broke a leg. There were several other minor injuries such as sprained ankles.

Two equipment chutes failed to open and one truck and a pack of mortars were lost.

About 40,000 Army and Air Force troops, many of them on emergency alert by presidential edict, are participating in Exercise Swift Strike in eight sandhill counties of South and North Carolina as the United States tests its cold war readiness to fight a limited war.

Participants in the maneuvers have been gathering at Ft. Bragg, N. C., since Sunday in preparation for today's first full-scale mock battles.

Fourteen of the Air National Guard units participating in the exercise are on emergency alert for possible recall to active duty. They were alerted last week by presidential order.

Supersonic fighter planes will make ground sweeps over the simulated battle areas today before the airborne troops and members of the Strategic Army Corps (STRAC) move into the area.

Eichmann Trial in Final Stages

Israeli Hits Lack of Remorse in Summation of Case Against Nazi

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel's attorney general today launched a towering summation of the prosecution case against Adolf Eichmann and bitterly attacked the former Gestapo officer's lack of remorse for the part he played in the Nazi extermination of the Jews.

Prosecutor Gideon Hausner began his sum-up of the massive prosecution evidence presented in Eichmann's 16-week trial. The Israeli court has reconvened following a two-week recess.

Eichmann, 55, wearing the dark business suit, white shirt and blue-striped tie he has worn since his trial opened April 11, stared ahead from his glassed-in prisoners' dock as Hausner accused him of perpetrating a "great horror."

"Adolf Eichmann, who stands trial before you, was Hitler's henchman and executed the crimes required of him," Hausner told the three judges. "He was the instrument of this destructive force."

CALLED ACCOMPLICE

Hausner contended Eichmann was guilty as an accomplice in the Nazi conspiracy to liquidate Europe's Jews.

Eichmann, chief of the Gestapo's Jewish affairs section, is charged with criminal responsibility in the massacre of an estimated six million Jews during the Nazi wartime pogrom. He claimed he was only a small cog in the Gestapo machinery who never acted on his own.

Speaker to Run for Seat Held by Clare Hoffman

LANSING (UPI)—House Speaker Don R. Pears will lay down his gavel at the end of the 1962 session and set his sights on the 4th District congressional seat.

Pears said today he would announce his candidacy for Congress "later this month."

The 61-year-old Republican from Buchanan has been eying the congressional seat held by Clare E. Hoffman, Allegan Republican, for several years.

Reports were widely circulated last year that Hoffman, who will be 86 next month, would not run for his 14th term.

He won that term in the six-county district but told GOP leaders to look for "someone who is courageous, patriotic and stubborn," to run in the district in 1962.

Russians Bounce German Writer From Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI). — The Soviet Union today expelled on journalistic grounds the first Western correspondent since the formal abolition of censorship March 23.

He is Botho Kirsch, for the past 15 months correspondent of the Frankfurter Rundschau.

* * *

Kirsch was summoned by an official of the press department of the Foreign Ministry and accused of "systematic disparagement of the policy of the Soviet Union and of its leadership."

* * *

He was given no deadline to leave the country but was expected to leave within a few days.

Kirsch was strongly criticized by the government paper Izvestia on July 24 for alleged unobjective and offensive writing.

Cuba Is Reopened to Air, Sea Traffic

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba was reopened to international traffic today after being shut off from the rest of the world for an exchange of currency.

All air and sea traffic to and from the island republic was halted Saturday in a surprise move to prevent now worthless old bills from being smuggled in and changed for new ones. The exchange was designed to stop wealthy exiles from sending in money to finance counterrevolutionary activities against Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

Dag Takes Poll Over Tunisia

Consent of Three More Nations Is Needed for Special Session Call

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold begins polling the 99 members of the United Nations today to determine if three more will agree to a special session of the General Assembly to take up the French-Tunisian dispute.

Tunisia's Asian-African supporters lined up 47 signatures on requests for the session, but turned the task over to Hammarskjold after a week of trying unsuccessfully to get the necessary majority of the U.N. membership.

* * *

The request is for an assembly meeting as soon as possible "in view of the gravity of the situation" resulting from the French-Tunisian battle last month around the French naval and air base at Bizerte, Tunisia.

Tunisia accuses France of aggression and refusal to withdraw its troops to prebattle positions as demanded by the Security Council July 22.

A Soviet request for the session went not to Hammarskjold, whom the Soviet bloc refuses to recognize as secretary-general, but was addressed "to the secretariat." The Soviet delegate, Platon D. Morozov, pointedly told newsmen he had handed the bloc's request to Andrew Cordier, undersecretary in charge of General Assembly affairs.

Air Hijacker Hopes to Change His Plea

OROVILLE, Calif. (UPI) — Bruce McRae Brill, who went on a shooting spree while trying to hijack an airliner last week, hoped to change his plea today on three charges of attempted murder.

Britt, 40, of Smackover, Ark., pleaded guilty to the three-count indictment last Wednesday. He now intends to plead innocent on grounds of insanity.

* * *

Authorities said Britt has admitted firing three shots and pulling a knife during an unsuccessful attempt to hijack a Pacific Airlines DC3 at Chico, Calif., last Monday night. Two persons were seriously wounded and another was narrowly missed by the bullets.

Committee OKs Life Sentences for Air Hijackers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Commerce Committee today unanimously approved legislation to impose life imprisonment on anyone convicted of hijacking an airplane.

The hijacking of a Continental airliner over El Paso, Tex., last week and other similar incidents in recent weeks spurred action on the bill.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., the committee chairman, told newsmen he hoped to get a Senate vote on the bill this week.

The bill, backed by the Kennedy administration, provides stiff penalties for carrying concealed weapons aboard an airplane and also makes federal offenses of murder, assaults, robbery and other crimes of violence committed aboard planes in flight.

Senators Busy Lining Up Those Costly Junkets

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators by the dozens are busily lining up expense-paid junkets to far places after Congress quits, probably in September.

Thirty-eight of the 100 senators don't have to worry. They already have it made by appointments to attend conferences where their presence at working sessions will be at their own discretion.

These conferences are being held in convenient cities, too—London, Brussels and Paris. No tramping about in tropical jungles, no worries about the aftereffects of native food.

* * *

Moreover, it's cricket to bring the little woman along. She can have a free round trip by government plane, so there would remain only the cost of food, lodging—and shopping.

$80,000 TAB

Congress will pick up a $80,000 expense tab for the three conferences. They include the Interparliamentary Union meeting in Brussels, Sept. 14-22, the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association in London, Sept. 24-Oct. 1 and the NATO Parliamentary Conference in Paris, Nov. 13-18.

The bill may be $15,000 higher if House members decide to attend the London meeting as well as the other two.

* * *

An even dozen Democratic senators drew a NATO assignment when Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson handed out the plums Monday. Republicans will send only four, since they didn't go into the business of selecting alternate delegates as their Democratic colleagues did.

Another dozen Democrats and four Republicans will go to the Brussels meeting. The London conference will draw four Democrats and two Republicans.

* * *

These assignments about use up the conference possibilities but those of the remaining 62 senators who have the urge to travel know from past experience there is rich ore to be mined in Senate committees.

Says Judy Garland, Husband Separated

Miss Garland's manager, Freddie Fields, said she confirmed the separation rumors in a telephone conversation with him Monday.

Trucker Enjoys Grandstand Seat at Fiery Show

TURNERTOWN, Tex. (UPI)—Bud Burton's big trailer truck came too close to a broken high voltage line Monday and sparks ignited fumes coming from an empty oil tank on the trailer.

* * *

The tank exploded. It was blown into a patch of woods about 200 yards away. The burning tank set the woods on fire.

* * *

A late model car parked on the edge of the woods was engulfed in flames and demolished. So was Burton's trailer and the tank. Damage was more than $9,000.

Burton sat in the cab of his truck, watched the whole thing and did not get a scratch or a blister.

Eckerman Woman Killed in Collision on M28

NEWBERRY (UPI) — Mrs. Edith Helms, 60, of Eckerman, was killed Monday night in a two-car collision on M28 10 miles southeast of here.

Miles Helms, her husband, was injured critically. John Ogston of Newberry, driver of the other auto, and William Ritterhoff, 52, of McMillan, a passenger, both suffered injuries.

U.S. Pure Water Supply Endangered by Pollution

The nation now uses an average of 322.9 billion gallons of water a day. Experts predict water use will jump to 411.2 billion gallons daily by 1970 and to 597.1 billion gallons daily by 1980.

At the same time, most of the nation's rivers — the main source of water — are becoming more seriously polluted every day.

Residents of Washington don't need water tests to tell them on a summer day that the Potomac River has become virtually an open sewer.

New England's Connecticut River has been declared unsafe as a public water supply, and the pollution situation on the Mississippi River at St. Louis has been classified as "serious." In California, dissolved fertilizers, insecticides and herbicides choke the lower San Joaquin River during the irrigation season. The same problem exists in nearly every port of the nation.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—What are the chief causes of polluted streams?

A.—Municipal sewage and industrial wastes, along with some agricultural pollution.

In the last 60 years, municipal wastes rose 200 per cent, while industrial pollution jumped 2,000 per cent. Streams also have registered an increase in chemicals from insecticides that are washed into water supplies.

Added to this is the danger, not entirely in the future, of radioactive wastes contaminating the water we use.

* * *

Q.—Is the pollution problem widespread?

A.—Yes, every section of the nation is affected. Boston Harbor, southern Lake Michigan, San Francisco Bay and the Hudson, Delaware, Ohio, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red and Colorado Rivers are among the major waterways with serious pollution problems.

* * *

Q.—What is the pollution-control picture at this time?

A.—The U.S. Public Health Service estimates the nation needs $4 billion in municipal and industrial sewage treatment plants that it doesn't have.

Experts say that 4,000 new sewage plants and the modernization of an additional 1,700 others are needed to handle the present load of municipal sewage and that industry needs 6,000 new projects right now.

* * *

Q.—What has been done to combat municipal pollution in recent years?

A.—In the last four years, some $1,044,000,000 has been spent on municipal sewage facilities.

The federal government has provided $180 million of this amount.

Results of the expenditures include 2,156 new sewage treatment plants and the improvement of 21,000 miles of streams.

* * *

Q.—How much will it cost to provide full pollution control by 1968?

A.—Local governments will have to spend $4.6 billion and it will cost industry between $575 and 600 million annually if the nation is to have adequate sewage facilities by 1968.

* * *

Q.—What is the largest problem in controlling pollution?

A.—The Public Health Service says the biggest difficulty is "building public awareness and public interest in the problem" of pollution.

* * *

It is the cities and industries down river that reap the benefits of clean water.

Moreover, proper pollution control requires large-scale planning and this presents equally large problems of engineering and enforcement since rivers do not respect state borders.

* * *

Q.—Who uses the most water in the United States?

A.—Industry, consuming 159.9 billion gallons a day in 1960, is the largest user of water, followed by agriculture at 141 billion gallons and municipalities at 22 billion.

Industry's demand for water has increased steadily in recent years. In 1920, it accounted for less than 30 per cent of the nation's water consumption.

This year it uses almost half, and by 1980 it will be using about two-thirds.

* * *

Q.—Why has industry had such a marked increase in water consumption?

A.—Our expanding industrial economy is perpetually thirsty. It takes 770 gallons of water to refine 42 gallons of petroleum; 65,000 gallons to produce a ton of steel or a ton of paper; 200,000 gallons to make a ton of viscose rayon; and 600,000 gallons to make a ton of synthetic rubber.

* * *

A.—Yes. "Even now there is not enough 'new' water to meet all water needs everywhere in the country," says the Public Health Service.

Water is drawn from the river—at certain times of the year—used and dumped back for further use an average of 3.7 times during its 1,000-mile course.

Q.—Will this pattern continue?

A.—Definitely. In 10 years, experts say the nation will use 16.2 billion gallons of water a day over it available and dependable supply and by 1980, this figure will reach 82.1 billion gallons — enough to fill more than eight lakes the size of Lake Mead backed up behind Hoover Dam.

Two People Hurt in County Traffic

Two persons were injured in traffic in Oakland County last night. Both were taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

* * *

Reported in fair condition today, Betty A. Sarvis, 17, of Miller Road, Clarkston, had possible internal injuries resulting from a crash on Ellis Road at Rattalee Road in Springfield Township.

She told sheriff's deputies her car missed a curve in the gravel road before crashing in a field.

Charles W. Harper, 33, of 9491 Wise Road, Commerce Township, suffered a broken arm and face cuts when his car crashed into a ravine near his home.

* * *

He was listed in satisfactory condition today at the hospital.

Harper told sheriff's deputies his car was forced off Wise Road by a passing auto that kept going.

West 'All Ears' When K Speaks

Nikita Plays to a Captive Audience

By HARRY FERGUSON

PARIS (UPI) — Every actor in the world should be jealous of Nikita Khrushchev. He is a past master at getting the customers into the theater and holding them until the final curtain.

* * *

He went on the air at 6 o'clock, Paris time, Monday night and talked for an hour and a half. The tension began mounting here around 3 p.m.

The U.S., British and French foreign ministers are assembled in Paris to draw a blueprint for the defense of West Berlin and other points on the map which are potential areas for Communist aggression.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and his colleagues realized Khrushchev could speak three or four sentences which might force them to start their work all over again.

The U.S. embassy checked with United Press International to find out whether the Moscow report on the Khrushchev speech would be handled with speed on its teletype machine.

They wanted to tear it off the machine in short takes and deliver it to Rusk.

They were assured that nobody in the business is faster on a hot story than Henry Shapiro and his Moscow staff.

POISED OVER TICKERS

The British and French also were poised over their news tickers. The British technique on these matters is to first read the news dispatches, then get a summary and finally the full text of the Khrushchev speech.

Then the monocles and magnifying glasses are polished and the speech is studied word for word, comma by comma. Attention is paid to what Khrushchev does not say as much as what he does say.

The clock ticked toward 6 and business came to a halt in the three Western delegations. Henry Shapiro's story began rolling in from Moscow.

It contained many quotations from Khrushchev's speech and all of them were weighed and assessed as though they were jewels in the Amsterdam diamond market.

* * *

To the nonexpert eye the speech seemed to be old stuff. He repeated he was going to sign a peace treaty with East Germany . . . he denounced the Western powers as aggressors . . . he said President Kennedy was threatening him.

But the men who are paid to assess what Khrushchev thinks and says cannot take it for granted that it is all old stuff.

Far into the night and into the early hours of today they still were wearily scanning each word, sentence and paragraph, searching for hidden meanings in obscure phrases.

They were a captive audience for Khrushchev.

The Soviet premier even took charge of a social function here. French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville gave a dinner for Rusk and Lord Home, British foreign secretary.

By the time the soup was served each foreign minister had a good idea what was in the Khrushchev speech.

Later reports from the dinner left no doubt as to what was the topic of conversation throughout the evening.

"Lend me your ears," pleaded Mark Antony to the Romans as he began his funeral oration for Caesar. Khrushchev never has to make such a request. He gets them automatically.

Plane Hijackers Quiet Prisoners

2 Face Possible Life in Prison; Indictment Handed Down Monday

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Two Arizonians today were described as quiet, cooperative prisoners with healthy appetites although they face possible life imprisonment after a thwarted attempt to deliver a Continental Airlines jet, its crew and hostage passengers to Cuba.

* * *

Leon Bearden, 38, and his son Cody, 16, kept in separate cells in the county jail here, showed little emotion as they received copies of the indictment handed down Monday by a federal grand jury.

* * *

The indictment charged the Beardens, of Coolidge, Ariz., with kidnaping members of the plane's crew and transporting the aircraft, crew and hostages across state lines. They will be arraigned in U.S. District Court at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

* * *

The prisoners were not allowed to talk with newsmen but jailers said they had no trouble with the Beardens. They said neither the father nor son had any conversation except with investigating officers.

Held on $100,000 bond each, they probably will be brought to trial soon after Labor Day.

Russians Score Another First Orbiting Titov Around Earth

So, O.K.

Again, we bow before Russia.

The Reds leap into the limelight with another major achievement in outer space that breaks their own personal record. To quote the most dowdy and shopworn cliche in all Hollywood:

"They've done it again."

★ ★ ★

But there's nothing dowdy about what they've accomplished. They took one Major Gherman Stepanovich Titov, a Soviet citizen, and shot him into full orbit and allowed him to whirl around this breathless and awe-stricken world at the rate of 17,000 miles an hour for 17 complete circuits of the earth.

★ ★ ★

Titov traveled more than the distance from here to the moon and back and that's quite a jaunt for a warm summer day. At times he was close to temperatures that would have frozen him into a solid mass in the twinkling of an eye; and equally he was adjacent to mercury readings that would have converted him into ashes in even less time.

★ ★ ★

We may not like it, but here it is. We give Russia credit.

A good sportsman always extends the hand of acknowledgment and friendship to his conqueror and we've "been taken" once more in this space deal.

The half-million mile ride doesn't really prove anything of great international import, but psychologically it's the biggest lift any nation on the globe has had since — since — well, since the Russians shot YURI GAGARIN way out there and whirled him once around the world and then returned him safely.

Here we earthly mortals argue and niff-naw about East Berlin and West Berlin and other mundane affairs. And Russia seizes this precise opportunity to electrify the world with a sensational and death defying performance such as mankind has rarely seen.

★ ★ ★

Many think back now to the time during the Truman administration when Congress decided not to go all out in the space race. We more or less surrendered this fantastic and strictly drawing board proposition to the Russians. And they went to town. They took advantage of a several year jump and we've never overhauled them since. During the Eisenhower administration we again appropriated money for the space deal and we've been at it, hammer and tongs. We've gained appreciably ever since but we're very, very distinctly in second place.

The Pontiac Press salutes the winner. But STILL, we can't see that Russia has accomplished much for the advancement and betterment of mankind. They've built Russian prestige and they've commanded a good global press.

Wanna go?

The Man About Town

Starts Foundation

In Memory of One Who Left a Terrible Void

Your "must" for this week: The 4-H Club Fair.

Honoring the memory of

Mrs. Winifred Haas,

a Foundation is to be established at the 4-H Club Fair tonight, in furtherance of a project in which she held a deep interest for many years.

She loved our young people and never failed an opportunity to give them a better chance in life. And those young people who had the privilege to know her loved her.

In driving around Oakland County she often remarked about the appearance of cattle, finding landscape beauty in herds all of one breed, and regretting that the "calico" herds showed a deviation from the sources of good results.

Tonight an outstanding registered Holstein cow will be presented to the boy or girl whom the fair management feels has done the most to promote 4-H work in Oakland County during the past year.

She comes from the herd of Merwin Steinacker, one of the top Holstein breeders in our neighboring Livingston County, which has nationwide fame for its Holstein cattle.

This cow, Liz Veenam Ox Bow, was born Sept. 16, 1959. Her sire is one of Michigan's greatest Holsteins. Her mother led all Livingston County cows last year, with a production of 18,000 pounds of milk, which yielded a remarkable 635 pounds of butterfat. The average Holstein yield is 300 pounds of butterfat.

Liz Veenam Ox Bow was bred to one of the state's leading Holstein sires, and is due to freshen on Oct. 2.

The winner of this cow tonight is to be her absolute owner as long as she lives, also to have all of her offspring, until she has a heifer calf, which is to be the prize for the youngster chosen for the same reason at that year's fair. Thus the foundation becomes perpetual.

One of my best liked contemporary newspapermen has the name of which makes me feel fortunate. A short name like mine will save time in signing checks—if I ever get a bank account.

Still sticking with the Tigers is that ever loyal baseball fan,

Fletcher Crestline

of Birmingham, who is making no dates that might conflict with the World Series.

"Sounds like the usual Texas tall story," writes of Rochester, in commenting on a press service item that a cat in that state is 30 years old. She has a cat 15 years old, which she says is equivalent to an age of 120 years in humans, and wonders if anybody else has one that really beats that.

Mrs. Harriett Jardinier

St. Louis Girl Is Hailed as Rising Opera Star

Reports from the annual Wagner operatic festival at Bayreuth, Bavaria indicate that 24-year-old GRACE BUMBRY scored a triumph there when she sang the role of Venus in "Tannhauser."

★ ★ ★

The tall, strikingly handsome American girl is the first member of the Negro race to sing at Bayreuth. German critics hailed her soprano voice as "radiant, noble, brilliant, precise as crystal."

Grace Bumbry started out as a girl, singing in a church choir. Born in St. Louis, her mother is a Mississippi school teacher and her father a railroad freight handler.

★ ★ ★

WIELAND WAGNER, manager of the Bayreuth music festival, and grandson of the famous composer whose works are featured there, said: "When I heard GRACE BUMBRY I knew she was the perfect Venus."

An 'Eternal' Triangle

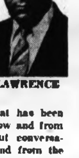
Red Space Shot Greatest of Hoaxes?

IN EUROPE — Until and unless the Soviet Union allows scientists and members of the press from other countries to witness the ascent into and descent from space of astronauts aboard satellites that circle the earth, the alleged exploit of Gherman Titov must remain a matter of doubt. It could have been the hoax of all times.



LAWRENCE

For everything that has been reported from Moscow and from other countries about conversations by radio to and from the satellite itself could have been reproduced artificially by tape recordings in advance without the actual presence of any astronaut aboard during the flight.

Indeed, a Reuters News Service dispatch from Cape Canaveral, Fla., on Sunday contains this significant paragraph about an American space project:

"A two-ton project Mercury capsule, it is hoped, will be launched into a single orbit by an Atlas rocket this month. This capsule will contain an 'artificial astronaut,' a 'crewman simulator' which will 'breathe, sweat and talk.'"

The foregoing experiment, if successful, is to be followed later by a manned capsule sent into orbit by the United States. But the press of the world will be invited to see the launchings and the return and to hear the uncoded reports from the spaceship.

In attempting to get ahead of America, the Soviets may well have "simulated" the whole flight. It seems incredible, for instance, that Titov would actually sleep eight hours while engaged on such a hazardous and momentous undertaking wherein every minute, it may be assumed, would require him to be alert to see that nothing went wrong mechanically.

It doesn't seem possible that the astronaut, who is but 26 years old and supposed to be in the air only 25 hours, would waste any of those hours in sleep, or that he really could be so calm as to drop off into slumberland at the appointed time with the greatest of ease.

In fact, the Moscow report said that by prearrangement he was supposed to sleep only 7½ hours, but extended his slumbers by 37 minutes.

COULD HAVE BEEN TAPED

This recess, incidentally, afforded an opportunity for complete silence in communications while the satellite was supposedly over certain parts of the globe. Whatever messages came from the ship and were heard at all could easily have been taped beforehand and broadcast from the satellite.

It is significant that nobody but the Russian ground staff could communicate with the satellite during its flight and that no conversations from outside Russia were permitted.

There were no television reels shown in Russia of pictures taken at the beginning or ending of the flight, though even these could also have been taped beforehand. A Moscow dispatch by Reuters says:

"Details of the landing were not disclosed immediately, but it was believed the spaceship came down suspended from parachutes. The procedure involves the firing of a retrorocket to take the ship out of its orbit and head it back to earth. There is also an alternative method whereby Titov could be ejected in an emergency and descend in his space suit by parachute."

★ ★ ★

All this is the kind of hazardous performance which, in the case of American astronauts Shepard and Grissom, the press and its photographers were able to witness.

Television cameras at once gave the entire world a bona fide movie of what was happening in both instances.

Why, then, did the Soviets prefer to do it all in secrecy? A United Press International dispatch from Moscow says: "Western observers were not permitted to witness Titov's take-off or landing."

★ ★ ★

The claim was made in one of the Moscow dispatches that television cameras, presumably aboard the satellite, were sending back pictures of Titov in flight. But these pictures could, of course, have been made before the ship left the ground.

The Country Parson

Dr. William Brady Says:

Here's Two Grand Recipes Using Whole Wheat Flour

A 17-year-old Hoosier girl says she plans to do all her baking with whole grains. She has been hunting for a cookbook containing wheat recipes but hasn't found one in five months. So she will appreciate it if I'll send her my "Wheat to Eat."

DR. BRADY

I am happy to send the free pamphlet to any one who asks for it and provides a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The University of Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station's Bulletin 730, issued in June, 1959, is titled, "Whole Wheat for Every Meal." It gives numerous recipes using whole wheat flour, but most of them include more or less ordinary "all-purpose" flour as well.

The bulletin is elaborately dressed up with illustrations. Someone sent me a copy in the mail. I don't know whether it is available to the public, or if it is, at what price.

Two recipes in the Missouri bulletin deserve a place in Pamphlet 36:

GRIDDLE CAKES

1 cup whole wheat flour
1 teaspoonful baking powder
⅛ teaspoonful salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 egg well beaten
¾ths cup milk
2 tbsp shortening, melted

★ ★ ★

Stir together first four items. Mix egg and milk. Add shortening. Mix liquid and dry ingredients and stir just enough to moisten. Batter should be lumpy. Pour batter into hot griddle or skillet. Cook until top surface is covered with bubbles. Turn over and brown on other side. Yield: Five 6-inch griddle cakes.

WAFFLES

2 cups whole wheat flour
(freshly ground, of course)
2 teaspoonfuls baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
2 egg yolks
¼ cup shortening, melted
2 egg whites
1 tablespoon sugar

★ ★ ★

Stir together flour, baking powder and salt. Beat egg yolks, add milk and shortening and stir. Combine liquid and dry ingredients, stirring just enough to moisten flour. Batter should be slightly lumpy. Beat egg whites until frothy. Add sugar and continue beating until stiff, but not dry. Fold into batter. Bake in waffle iron to desired brownness. Makes five 7-inch waffles.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People:

'Greed Must Be Stopped Before It Destroys Man'

I agree with Ralph Keeling's letter of Aug. 5. Greed is the destroyer of man and will destroy us unless we destroy greed.

If we would live according to God's constructive laws instead of manmade destructive laws, the earth would be heaven. Today Khrushchev and Castro hold the world's spotlight, but if we could peek behind the Iron Curtain we would find a group of international financiers who want to own and control the world and make slaves of everyone. Castro and Khrushchev are merely taking their orders from these financiers. They must do as they are told or their heads would go in one direction and their legs in the other.

Frank Miller

124 S. Johnson St.

Feel City Should Drill Deeper

The public should be more informed as to why we should go to Detroit for our water. We're surrounded by lakes and yet no water. People who have their own wells go down several hundred feet for water. If they don't find enough they drill deeper. Why can't we go a little deeper if the water table is dropping? We should have more and deeper wells and it wouldn't be like putting another straw in the soda glass as The Press indicated. There are several underground streams. Does a water shortage actually exist or is someone trying to sell us something?

Instead of going out of town for these "experts" we should turn to some of our own citizens who are in the business.

Frank L. Jacomino

298 N. Paddock St.

Northern Oakland County has one of the best underground water supplies in the nation. There is plenty of fresh water down to and beyond 300 feet. To pump this dry, we face the law of diminishing returns. Water from a deep well is safe and needs no chlorine. There is little chance of chemical contamination, for the factories dump industrial waste into the rivers.

★ ★ ★

This move to Detroit water seems to be based on information from a Toledo firm. The only people who know what is down there are your local well drilling contractors.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's Centennial was a great thing for the city. I still hear comments from far outside the city and I also continue to see references to the fine special edition that was put out by The Pontiac Press. There will be copies of that in existence when the next Centennial rolls around as a reference work. The whole area and county are proud of the great work Pontiac did.

'China Admission a Bad Possibility'

Letting Red China come into the United Nations would be a bad blow to U.S. prestige in the world at large. Peiping is nothing but a self-starting pretender and doesn't represent the sound Chinese.

We are in a very precarious position, for the vote in the U.N. is slowly shifting by sheer weight of numbers.

The Almanac

Today is Tuesday, Aug. 8, the 220th day of the year, with 145 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history: In 1940, the German Luftwaffe began a carefully planned assault on the British Isles. It was intended to knock out the Royal Air Force — the Battle of Britain started.

In 1945, the Soviet Union declared war on Japan.

In 1955, delegates from 72 nations opened the first international conference on the peaceful uses of atomic energy in Geneva, Switzerland.

A thought for today: Harry Truman said, "The responsibility of the great states is to serve and not to dominate the world."

Smiles

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Play Averages in Picking a Mate

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE J-462: Harry H., aged 32, is the twice divorced man mentioned yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"Why have I failed twice in marriage?" he asked.

DR. CRANE

His second wife had already married and divorced three husbands before Harry met her at a tavern. Under the influence of liquor and her experienced technique, he proposed to her, so they eloped.

When you marry, you pledge your future 50 years of earnings to the other member of your little family corporation.

If you wanted to pick a bank president to run the institution in which you deposited all your savings for the next 50 years, would you select somebody you met at a tavern? And half drunk at the time?

Then you young bucks better use a little more "horse sense."

Imitate the baseball manager, too, and play the batting averages. Will a girl who frequents taverns be more likely to remain true to her husband than one who is active in a local church?

Will a woman who has already been divorced several times be as likely to establish a permanently happy home as the woman who has not made a failure of marriage?

Obviously some women who patronize taverns may remain faithful wives and some active church women may not.

But what do the batting averages prove? Be scientific: There are about 50 times as many divorces among non-church members as among couples who are both active together in the same church.

POOR SPORTS

Because a woman who will take one drink can usually be teased or coaxed into taking a second. And after two drinks, any skillful man can get her so liquored up she will acquiesce.

That proves they are poor sports. They would be sneered at by hunters who disdain anybody with a shotgun who draws a bead on a sitting quail or rabbit.

But thousands of males refuse to show similar sportsmanship when they date a lush thrush.

For they immediately try to dope her up with liquor so she will surrender with little protest.

MALE DEFENSE

"Dr. Crane," some of these poor sports have defended themselves, "every woman nowadays knows what liquor will do.

"So if we offer her a drink and she accepts, we figure she is simply inviting us to go the limit."

And that is a fairly common viewpoint among males, for when a woman voluntarily takes a drink, the unwritten code among modern men, holds that she is subconsciously asking for seduction.

"But I was just being polite," such a female will defend her martini. However, most men laugh at such a protest, so you women better get hep to cold reality.

Ann Arbor Officials Worried at Competition

Faculty Raiders Worry U. of M.

(Editor's Note: In this, the first of a three-part series, AP Ann Arbor correspondent Richard Pyle, describes steps being taken by the University of Michigan to prevent raids by industry and other schools on its faculty.)

By RICHARD PYLE

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The faculty raiders are descending on the University of Michigan in force these days, and the U. of M. administrators who plot counter strategy are worried.

A record number of offers of employment have been received in recent months by U. of M. faculty personnel, many of them key men in the academic-research structure on which Michigan prides itself.

There are no actual figures because not all offers from other schools and private industry are reported.

But U. of M. Vice President Marvin L. Niehuss, the man charged with the task of finding top men and keeping them, estimates that about 20 per cent of U. of M.'s faculty of the rank of assistant professor and above have received offers of jobs elsewhere.

"There is no doubt that the offers are increasing every year," said Niehuss, "and that fact alone makes the job of finding and holding top men even tougher."

As offers have increased, so have losses. But because of a normal mobility among faculty members, especially on top levels where research leaves, sabbaticals and retirements are frequent, they are difficult to evaluate.

"About all we can say is that in the last two years our losses have increased substantially," said Niehuss.

* * *

"Our losses were always small among people with tenure (associate professors or higher) but in the last two years these have increased twofold."

Michigan's only saving grace, he added, is that it has been fortunate to find replacements to keep the faculty at "a relatively constant level of quality."

ARTS AND SCIENCE SUFFER

Roger Heyns, dean of the college of literature, science and the arts, is another man whose concern for faculty losses runs deep. The departments under his guidance are among those most often victimized.

In recent months several of them — history, sociology, anthropology, psychology and near eastern studies — have had to adjust to the loss of 10 full professors and other key personnel.

The sciences are still the area in which competition for academic talents is stiffest, but it is also growing in fields which, in the past, had a stable order of supply and demand.

"We now face competition in everything from geography to the Romance languages," said Heyns, "and for example, I know of not one philosophy professor who did not get some kind of offer in the last 18 months."

The reasons for the upsurge in competition, Niehuss and Heyns agree, are several:

—Higher salaries, greater prestige and better opportunities in the fields of teaching and university-level research.

—In some fields, chiefly the sciences, a mobility among teachers, offering them opportunities to make contacts and establish connections with other persons and institutions.

—The general growth of higher education, which means schools are getting more money, spending more. They are opening up new departments and looking for qualified men to head them.

A growing number of universities and colleges are moving into graduate work for the first time.

* * *

In U. of M.'s case, these factors are compounded by the financial problems faced by the state in the last few years, plus the publicity resulting from them.

Delay Sentence for Mrs. Ragatz

Court Action Gives Time for Attorney to Seek New Trial Motion

Sentencing of Mrs. Sarah Ragatz was again delayed a week yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court to allow time for a hearing on the motion of her attorney for a new trial.

Mrs. Ragatz, 50, of 6098 Ashland St., Commerce Township, was convicted of manslaughter in June in the shotgun slaying of her husband Ernest, 38, last Feb. 13.

She said the shooting was an accident. Yesterday's adjournment was the second postponement of sentencing before Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero.

Mrs. Ragatz's attorney, Howard I. Bond, asked for a new trial on grounds that prejudicial testimony was erroneously permitted during the cross examination of a witness and that former Assistant Prosecutor Robert W. Carr was allowed to pursue this testimony in his argument.

Plan Renewed Efforts to Settle Bus Strike

DETROIT (UPI) — Management and union officials planned to meet today in a renewed effort to settle a week-old bus strike affecting some 30,000 suburban Detroit commuters.

* * *

Walter Quillico, state labor mediator, and James Burke, a federal mediator, said the meeting would seek possible ways of settling issues that have idled 200 drivers and mechanics of Intertown Suburban Lines Corp.

The employes walked off their jobs a week ago when negotiations on a new contract collapsed.

Shouldn't Go to His Apartment

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: Do you think it proper for a secretary to go to her employer's apartment to take dictation when her employer is ill and cannot come to the office? One of the secretaries in our office was asked to do this recently and several of the girls questioned the propriety of this situation.

A: The answer to this question depends on the secretary and her employer, their characters and their reputations, but even if these are of the highest, he should not expect her to come to an apartment in which he lives alone.

Parents Have Objections

Tell Your Little Drummer Boy to Play It Straight or Cut Out

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a man my parents hate. I'll call him Joe. My father checked up on him, and now he won't let me go with him. Joe is a musician. He plays the drums.

ABBY

My father says a drummer is no musician; that a person who plays the piano or violin can call himself a musician — but a drum is no instrument. Is this true?

Also, my father found out that Joe is 28. He lied to me and said he was 24. I lied to my parents and said he was 20. (I am 17.) I want to know: No. 1 — If you could call a drummer a musician? And, No. 2 — if you think, as long as he is a gentleman, my parents should let me go with him?

JOE'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: No. 1: A drummer IS a musician. But what's all this jazz about his lying about his age? That is another kettle of drums! Tell your drummer boy to play it straight, or beat it!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a boy who says the only reason he wants to kiss you on the lips is to taste your lipstick?

MADELINE

DEAR MADELINE: Turn your cheek to him, and tell him not to do you any flavors.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor, who is impossible to talk to, throws bread in his yard every day to feed the pigeons. The pigeons fly back and forth from his roof to mine all day long. They have nests in my chimney. I don't have to tell you what a couple of hundred pigeons can do. It is impossible for me to hang out my washing. And to enjoy sitting outside is out of the question. Every day more join the flock. Do you or any of your readers know any way to get rid of pigeons? Or do they do some good that I don't know about?

PIGEON HATER

DEAR PIGEON HATER: The most constructive function ever credited to pigeons was carrying messages, and Alexander Graham Bell put them out of that business years ago. But pigeons can still carry diseases. If your neighbor is "impossible" to talk to — talk to the Board of Health, and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Augustine Tesolin of Highland and the late Mr. Tesolin, and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Walkerdine of Woodland Avenue.

For her wedding gown Miss Tesolin chose silk sheer over taffeta and lace. Insets of seed pearls and a chapel sweep train embellished the gown. A tiara set with seed pearls secured her fingertip veil. Her single strand of pearls was a gift of the bridegroom. White carnations centered by a white corsage comprised her bridal bouquet.

* * *

Linda Sist of Southfield attended her cousin as maid of honor in a powder blue sheath dress of taffeta featuring a bouffant overskirt. She carried a natural wicker basket with white and pink carnations and roses. Janet Sue Walkerdine, sister of the bridegroom and Ella Bourcert of Highland served as bridesmaids dressed like the maid of honor, but carrying only white carnations and pink roses.

Flowergirl was Clara Belelvere. Her dress was of powder blue organdy. She carried a wicker basket of flowers.

Thomas Tesolin of Highland was ring bearer.

Some 350 were present for the reception at the VFW Hall, Keego Harbor. * * *

The bride's parents are the Nathan G. Hargetts of Maplecroft Court, Orchard Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Killion of Indianapolis, Ind. are parents of the bridegroom.

A floor length gown of taffeta and lace with a sweetheart neckline, featuring a long-sleeved jacket with bridal points and pointed collar and a fingertip veil secured by a white crown, was worn by the bride. White carnations and ivy comprised the bridal bouquet carried on a white Bible.

'. . . Shed 57 Pounds'

Losers Praise Marathon

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This week I am printing a few letters from Marathon winners (or "losers") — those women who have benefited by following the suggestions outlined in my self-improvement Marathon. As most of you know, the idea of the Eight-Week Marathon is to see how much you can improve your appearance in just eight short weeks. I am here to help you.

* * *

Today I want to emphasize the value of exercise in a reducing program, not only because it speeds the loss in inches but because of the sense of well-being and the increase in energy it gives you. But, just considering exercise from the viewpoint of the figure, it is so important! Let me give you a few excerpts from readers' letters.

"A few years ago I followed your diet plan and had great results with the diet along with your exercises. I lost 57 pounds. I am so grateful for your Marathon. I still do the exercises every night for 15 minutes. I feel like a new person. Will you please tell me if my measurements are right? Bust 36 inches, waist 25 and hips 36." (Her measurements are lovely.)

Another: "Your Eight-Week Self-Improvement Marathon has done wonders for me. People think that I have lost lots of weight. Actually, I have lost only 7 pounds but the exercises in your Marathon booklet really slimmed my waist and abdomen down. It sure makes me feel good to look so much better.

"Please send your Marathon booklet to my mother. She wants one since she saw what it did for me. I told her about the exercises but kept it a secret from everyone else." (Why not share it with others?)

Another: "I am just writing to let you know how I did on your Marathon. It worked just fine. I lost 13 pounds and 18 inches!"

(Exercise will increase your loss in inches in specific spots and will at the same time increase tone.)

* * *

If you missed Marathon last January and would like to lose from 15 to 20 pounds in the next eight weeks, and improve your health and looks at the same time, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Showing off is second nature to a toddler, but actually a bit of ham-acting isn't entirely bad. It often helps develop self-confidence and social poise. However, when it goes beyond the limits of self-expression and high spirits, it's a good idea to distract your little entertainer with some quiet play.

Little appetites are always better off when you set a toddler's table with Gerber Junior Foods. Why? Because the flavors are luscious, the colors sing and the texture is properly minced for tots with teeth. Like Gerber Strained Foods, they're specially processed to preserve true flavors and the utmost in nutritive values.

Little appetites tend to taper off at about the end of the first year, because baby's rate of growth slows down considerably. Naturally he doesn't need the amount of food he needed during the first year. Good way to keep your toddler's appetite bright — serve something new in the way of a taste surprise.

New flavor surprise for the light of your eyes: Gerber Junior Spaghetti, Tomato Sauce and Beef. Tender, enriched spaghetti teams up with bits of juicy beef and savory tomato sauce. So "grown-up" good you won't have a bit of trouble tempting your tyke.

Cheer-up Dept. Does baby have a fussy spell about the same time every day? If so, it often helps to shift bathtime to this cranky time. Water is a wonderful relaxer as well as a distraction.

New, for you! Now, most Gerber Baby Foods come in wide-top jars with Quick-Twist* caps and "Shop-Easy" labels. The caps twist off or on with a quick quarter turn. The new labels speed shopping time, make selection a cinch because the variety name is at the top. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Mich.

Ordered to Stop Urging Arms for A-Panic Defense

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — A civil defense official, who told a group they should learn how to use pistols in case a nuclear attack hits Los Angeles and its residents flee here, was ordered Monday to halt public appearances and interviews.

Keith Dwyer was quoted last Friday in Beaumont, Calif., as warning his audience to prepare to fight off evacuees from Los Angeles in case of a nuclear attack.

* * *

The Riverside County Board of Supervisors passed a motion Monday ordering Dwyer to make no public appearances, grant no interviews or make statements on the county's civil defense policies without permission from the supervisors.

Dwyer said Monday he did not mean the townspeople should fight off evacuees but should have weapons to defend themselves if necessary.

Music Lovers Somber at Met's Closing

NEW YORK (AP) — Music lovers reacted in somber tones to the announced closing of the Metropolitan Opera for the 1961-62 season and the cancellation of the Met's annual spring tour.

* * *

Words like "disgrace" and "irreparable blow" came from some of the world's greatest opera singers. One appealed directly to President Kennedy to help settle the labor dispute which the Met blamed for the closing.

* * *

More optimistic patrons of the arts recalled, however, that two other announced cancellations in recent years never went into effect. Labor troubles, blamed then too, were subsequently ironed out.

* * *

In making the announcement Monday, Met General Manager Rudolph Bing said "I see no hope" of saving the 1961-62 season. He was gloomy about prospects for the 1962-63 season.

The crux of the situation is that since July 30 the top stars and even the lesser ones have been free to make other commitments.

NEED SINGERS

"We cannot have a season without these singers," Bing said, adding that as many as two dozen of the more than 100 artists on the roster "already have been lost."

Soprano Anna Moffo is known to have made other arrangements for the season, but such operatic lights as Leontyne Price had been holding off in hopes of a settlement.

In all, nearly 700 employes — including singers, musicians, the chorus, the ballet, the administrative and technical staffs and backstage workers — are affected.

* * *

Bing, calling the cancellation a "catastrophe," blamed Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians, saying it had demanded a weekly salary for musicians of $248 for six performances plus other benefits, as against last season's rate of $170.13 for seven performances.

* * *

An official statement from the Met said the demands would have added $750,000 to the Met's prospective deficit, which last season hit $840,000 before contributions.

The Met has reached agreement with 14 other unions.

CANCEL OPERA SEASON — Rudolf Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera, tells newsmen in his New York office Monday that there will be no 1961-62 opera season. Bing said that the decision to cancel the Metropolitan's season came because of a labor dispute with its musicians. The musicians had asked a $78 a week boost for the 90 members of the Met orchestra. Hear 20 Witnesses in Murder Exam

NEWBERRY (AP) — The pretrial murder examination of James Yenik, 39, of Flint, opened Monday with testimony of 20 witnesses, including a truck driver who reported seeing a man near the slaying victim.

* * *

Yenik is charged in the July 28 shooting of Michael Richmond, 14, whose body was discovered beside a logging trail near here.

* * *

The truck driver, Leonard Arkwright of Hulbert, replied "I wouldn't say" when defense attorney Frank Ferguson asked him if Yenik was the man he saw near the logging trail shortly before Michael was shot.

"I caught the image of a fellow behind him (Richmond)," Arkwright said. He said the man was about 15 feet behind Michael as the boy sat on the roadside.

Claims Soviets Have Never Lost a Cosmonaut

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Prof. A. A. Mikhailov, director of the Pulkovo Observatory in Leningrad, Russia, said the Soviet Union never has lost a spaceman.

"There were no manned flights prior to Gagarin," he said at the International Symposium on Space Age Astronomy.

* * *

He said Maj. Titov may have ridden in the same vehicle that carried Gagarin.

"I think the capsule with Gagarin landed quite undamaged and could have been used again," he said. "But I'm not sure that it was."

Suburban School Row Could Be Felt by North

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (UPI) — This suburban town outside New York is getting a taste of what it means to implement the Supreme Court decision on desegregation.

The outcome of a school conflict here could set a pattern for towns across the northern section of the United States.

A federal court has ordered that the Negro grade school children of New Rochelle this fall may choose to go to any one of the 12 elementary schools rather than the one in their neighborhood.

The school board is appealing the case to the Supreme Court.

The situation here is much different from southern towns which are resisting desegregation and attempting to operate on the "separate but equal" basis.

New Rochelle for years has had Negroes in its schools. It has only one high school and any Negro can enter. The two junior high schools are equally open to Negroes in this town with 16,000 colored people in a population of 76,000.

The trouble spot here is Lincoln Grade School (built in 1888) which has only 29 whites in an enrollment of 490.

BIG INFLUX

New Rochelle has been a wealthy commuter and family town, one of the nation's most exclusive. Since World War II there has been a big Negro influx and certain areas have become almost solid Negro in population.

Lincoln is in the midst of the Negro residential area, which explains the 94 per cent enrollment.

It is not the only Negro grade school. Nine others have Negro enrollment varying from 52 per cent on down.

But a spirited campaign led by NAACP lawyer Paul Zuber has attracted such support of the Negro community that some 300 children are expected to be applying for transfers to another school this fall.

New Rochelle, he says, has no opposition to integration of Negroes in its schools. The board simply thinks children should go to the school that is closest to them in their neighborhood.

Rukeyser points out that the town had approved funds for a new, $1.3-million Lincoln School before it was held up by the court suit. But Rukeyser insists that was no attempt to create "separate but equal" facilities.

OBEYS MANDATE

"This is no question of a Negro child living across the street from a white school and having to go to a Negro school 4 miles away," he says.

Pending a final Supreme Court ruling, the board is obeying the mandate of the lower court.

Transfer applications have gone to all families in the Lincoln district. Parents may signify four other schools in order of preference and children will be moved provided there is room — per the court order. It designated maximum classes of 29.

Anticipation is that almost 300 children will try to move, leaving Lincoln with a tiny enrollment although its faculty and facilities are as good as several of the others.

SIMPLE MACHINE SAVES 7,000 KOREANS FROM STARVING

Until a simple noodle-making machine was brought to South Korea, 7,000 orphans, widows and students were on the verge of starvation. Now, 500 miles of noodles a day, every day, are made from American wheat flour, corn meal and powdered milk—and Kyonggi's hungry people can face the future with new hope and courage.

This life-saving assistance is the direct result of Americans supporting their faith's Overseas Aid Program. While this endeavor is Catholic, all three great faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain extensive relief programs.

The needs of millions are being met, one by one . . . and the work must go on. These religion-sponsored programs are often the only hope for destitute millions throughout the free world. Next time you are asked to support your faith's Overseas Aid Program, remember what just simple noodles can mean in terms of human life.

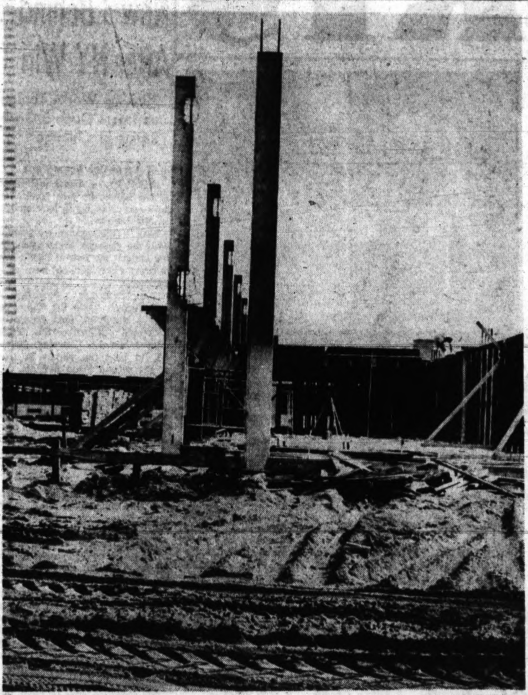
New Farm Law Cuts Surpluses, Ups Income



SCHOOL ADDITION GOING UP — Right on schedule is the construction work on a new 16-room addition to Rochester Community High School which was started less than three months ago. Avondale Rejects 2nd Proposal

OK 3.9-Mill School Levy

A millage proposition which will allow the Avondale School District to maintain its present school program was approved by a heavy turnout of voters in a special election there yesterday.

However, a second proposition asking for additional funds to upgrade the district's instructional services was defeated by a margin of 29 votes.

Proposition No. 1, a request to levy 3.9 mills for school operation for five years, was passed by a 76-vote margin, 379 to 303.

Failure of this proposal would have meant a slash of some $160,000 in the district's 1961-62 budget, school officials said prior to the election.

Approval of this request will mean no increase in voted taxes over the 1960-61 rate. It replaces three mills formerly levied for operation and nine-tenths of a mill for debt service which went off the tax rolls during the past year.

REQUEST DEFEATED

The second proposition on the ballot, a proposed 2.6-mill operational levy or two years, gained the support of 324 voters while a majority of 353 defeated the request.

The Avondale Board of Education had asked for the 2.6-mill tax increase in order to help pay off an operating debt that has accumulated for several years.

"We can maintain the same type of program we've been offering in the district," School Supt. Leroy R. Watt said today.

* * *

"But we will have to ask the banks to either defer payment or allow us to make reduced payments on outstanding operating debts," said Watt, referring to the failure of the second proposal.

The school superintendent said the money paid out in interest on the debts is taken out of the district's operational program.

WON'T CUT BUDGET

Watt said Avondale will not have to cut its budget, but it cannot proceed with added improvements to its school program or increase the staff without the extra millage.

The first proposition passed in both of the district's voting precincts. However, the proposal gained greater support in Precinct No. 1, located west of Adams Road, receiving 194 yes votes to 138 no. The electorate in this precinct narrowly approved the second proposal, 166 to 165.

The second proposal was defeated when it was turned down by a 30-vote margin in Precinct No. 2, which usually supports millage requests and bond issues in the district. Proposition No. 2 failed in the second precinct, 188 to 158.

The nearly 700 voters who showed up at the polls was one of the heaviest turnouts in several years, according to Watt, who said the total was especially surprising since the election was held when many persons were on vacation. He said there was a large number of absentee ballots.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Mayor of Southfield Wins on Planning Appointment

The council approved the appointment 4-2 with one member abstaining.

Clarkson appointed Decheim as the city's first full time planner in June but the council rejected the action.

The mayor then withdrew his appointment of Decheim agreeing with the council that an experienced city planner was needed for the full-time position. Decheim also agreed that his name be withdrawn.

NOT FULL-TIME

Southfield has never had a full-time city planner. At present Alb Munson is the city's planning consultant, a part-time job.

The mayor's appointment of Louis J. Angelo as city assessor was tabled for further study by the council.

Clarkson fired Assessor Gerald Eastlick from his 9-year-old job in June and then named Myron Greenfield to the post. The council refused to confirm the appointment, however, and named Eastlick an assessing consultant.

In the meantime a committee to review assessment procedures has been named by Council President C. Hugh Dohany. They are Councilman Thomas C. Rowley and Clarence Durbin, Herbert Fries, Phillip Blanchard and Will J. Oliver.

The committee was organized to investigate charges made by the mayor of gross injustices and discrepancies in the assessor's office.

A committee report containing its findings and recommendations has been requested by the council by Sept. 11.

Kroger, Union Reach Contract Settlement

DETROIT (AP)—Representatives of the Kroger Co. and Local 876 of the Retail Store Employes Union agreed to a contract settlement Monday—three days after the company headed off a strike threat with a last-minute offer.

The union, which represents Kroger employes in 99 stores between Detroit and Alpena, said it will present the agreement to its members for ratification later this week. Details were not announced.

OKs Upgrading License

NOVI — The Village Council last night approved the upgrading of a beer and wine license to include serving liquor at Duke's Tavern, 801 S. Lake Road.

Compromise Bill Signed by JFK at White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today signed into law a bill to cut costly grain surpluses and increase farmers' income.

The law requires farmers to cut next year's wheat planting allotment by 10 per cent in return for payments based on 45 per cent of the normal yield of the idled land. Durum wheat would be exempted.

Farmers could cut back wheat plantings by an additional 3 per cent in 1962 for payments based on 60 per cent of the normal yield.

Wheat farmers must approve the new marketing quotas in a referendum Aug. 24 before they go into effect. The voting was regarded as a formality since farmers have never rejected any such proposition.

* * *

The law also provides that farmers growing corn, feed barley and grain sorghum will not be eligible for price supports on these crops unless they reduce plantings 20 per cent below their 1950-60 average.

As a further inducement, farmers who cut acreage will get payments based on 50 per cent of normal yield. This is basically a continuation of the 1961 feed grains program.

The signing marked a sharp turn away from the Eisenhower administration's philosophy of relaxing and eventually ending government intervention in production of crops.

The law reflects Kennedy's policy of more government action to restrict output and bolster farm prices. But it does not contain his controversial request to give the secretary of agriculture more responsibility for drafting price guarantee legislation.

'WILL SAVE MONEY'

Administration officials claim the law will save taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars in storage and price support costs by reducing the nation's huge grain surplus.

* * *

By making payments for land taken out of production, the government in effect will be renting the land to keep it from producing surplus crops. This land must be put into pasture or other conservation uses.

The law also provides broader use of marketing orders so farmers can adopt restrictions on selling of some products to raise their prices without federal props.

Other provisions of the law:

—Extension for three years of the "food-for-peace" program under which surplus products are exported for foreign currency. Sales would be limited to $4.5 billion over the period with a $2 billion ceiling in any one year.

* * *

—Extension of the wool price support program for four years and renewal of the great plains conservation program for 10 years.

The law was a compromise version of different Senate and House bills. It was approved by Congress last Thursday.

There is no mention of 1962 grain support rates but the administration has indicated the present $1.79 a bushel rates for wheat will be boosted to $2 next year.

Southfield Youth Injured in Crash

Father Also Hurt as Car Hits Trailer on 12-Mile Road

SOUTHFIELD—A 9-year-old boy was in critical condition today at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after being thrown through the windshield of a car in which he was riding on 12-Mile Road.

Syrell Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Baldwin of 28048 Tyler Road, suffered severe lacerations of the face, head and both arms.

His father, who was driving the car, was in fair condition with fractured ribs and lacerations of the face. He was undergoing surgery this morning.

Southfield police said Baldwin, whose car was towing a small trailer, was traveling east on 12-Mile Road near Northwestern Highway when the accident occurred at 4:49 a. m. today.

Baldwin told police he saw a truck tractor with two trailers parked on the right side of the road as a car with bright headlights approached him from the opposite direction.

Baldwin, believing he would not have enough room to pass the large truck and trailers, swerved off the road to the right shoulder and struck the parked vehicle.

The impact threw his son through the windshield. Police said the pair apparently were going on a camping trip.

MRS. STANLEY E. KIPP Pontiac Press Photo

Directs Mealtime at County 4-H Fair

By LEE WINBORN
Area News Editor

Mrs. Stanley E. Kipp is performing her annual labor of love this week for her nearly 200 "children."

For the sixth consecutive year Mrs. Kipp is serving as chief cook and bottle washer at the Oakland County 4-H Fair which opened today. Officially she is supervisor of food service for the five-day event.

This means she must rise early to be at the fairgrounds at 6 a.m. each day to get breakfast ready for the some 100 children who stay overnight all week to be near their animals.

The youngsters are quartered in large boys' and girls' tents and must be fed before they start getting their animals in shape for fair competition.

No sooner has Mrs. Kipp finished serving breakfast than she and her crew must begin preparing lunch and then dinner for some 100 to 150 more youngsters who will be on hand the rest of the day.

The larger groups also include judges of fair projects.

When asked when she began cooking on such a large scale, the Pontiac Township 4-H leader said it was when she was 10 years old.

"My father had a threshing outfit out West, and mother had to plan and prepare meals for crews of approximately 30 men. I started out by helping her," said Mrs. Kipp.

OTHER PROJECTS

Since those days she has had a lot more experience including three or four years as a cook at a girl scout camp and often preparing meals for large church functions.

Mrs. Kipp, whose husband drives her to work each day from their home at 1123 Doris Road, is assisted in the kitchen by 4-H volunteers. Livestock owners who have animals to show at the fair are having a member of their families help Mrs. Kipp with at least one meal this week.

Usually there are about 16 women working in the kitchen.

And cooking at the fair is not Mrs. Kipp's only 4-H contribution throughout the year. Although she has no children of her own, she helps 18 girls in the Galloway Lake 4-H Club with their home economics projects.

They meet once a week.

A devoted worker, Mrs. Kipp wields a pencil as well as pots and pans. She is secretary of the Oakland County 4-H Council which sponsors the fair jointly with the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

Novi Will Study Sewer System

Meeting on Wednesday Will Consider Linking With Wayne County

NOVI — A plan to connect future subdivisions here with the Wayne County sewer system will be discussed tomorrow at a meeting at the Orchard Hills Elementary School.

* * *

Attending the 8 p.m. program will be village and township officials, representatives of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, developers and planners.

Harold Ackley, village manager, said the proposal was made by the Village Sewer Committee and would only affect new homes.

The project, he said, would cost an estimated $1.6 million over a 15-year bonding period. The improvement would be paid for by developers through tap-in fees.

PLAN ESCROW FUND

Ackley said the developers of new subdivisions would put money into an escrow fund to pay off the bonds.

* * *

He explained that the work would have to be contracted through the Oakland County DPW which then would contract with Wayne County to service the area.

* * *

It's been estimated, Ackley said, that 2,900 homes could connect with the Wayne County system without difficulty.

This would mean each tap-in fee would be approximately $300 in cash or $500 over the 15-year period, the village manager said.

The plan calls for construction of two miles of pipeline in Oakland County and one mile in Wayne County.

* * *

Both the village and township would have to agree on the plan since both have property within their boundaries that can be subdivided.

U.S. Wants Changes in Harmsworth Rules

PICTON, Ont. (AP)—Miss Supertest III's monopoly on the Harmsworth Trophy has promoted suggestions that the international powerboating classic's rigid rules be modified to allow better competition.

The unbeaten Canadian waterflyer, which Monday became the first boat to win three Harmsworths, has shown convincingly she can master any challenger from the United States.

* * *

Supertest sped away from Miss Detroit, the U.S. challenger, and won Canada's third Harmsworth in the minimum of two heats.

Bob Hayward had Supertest nearly two laps ahead of engine-troubled Miss Detroit at the end of Monday's 15-lap, 45-mile race. She won the first heat easily Saturday.

American powerboat owners have been calling for a change in Harmsworth engine rules to return the United States to its position of power in Gar Wood's heyday. Wood brought the famed Harmsworth to the United States in 1920. It wasn't surrendered until Miss Supertest captured it two years ago.

* * *

'Aging' Musial, Berra Wield Noisy Artillery

By The Associated Press

Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris? Forget the kids. The home run sluggers of the moment are Stan Musial and Yogi Berra, a couple of old guys who may be on their way out, but who refuse to go quietly.

* * *

It was Berra, now 35 and put out to pasture, you might say, in left field, who broke up a tie with a home run as the New York Yankees beat the Los Angeles Angels 4-1 Monday night. That gave the Yanks a five-game streak and a three-game lead, their biggest bulge yet, over idle Detroit in the American League race.

* * *

And it was Musial, still The Man at 40, who socked a three-run homer that boosted St. Louis to a 5-1 victory over Cincinnati and dropped the second place Reds .006 percentage points behind the idle Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League scrap.

Berra's shot was his 14th of the season. Musial's was No. 11. Between them they have little more than half the total of either Mantle (43) or Maris (41) as the two Yankee outfielders shoot for Babe Ruth's long elusive record of 60.

Musial's, however, was the 440th of his 20-year career—a total topped only by Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Ted Williams, Mel Ott and Lou Gehrig, and second to Ott's 511 in National League history.

* * *

Yogi's was the 332nd of a 16-year career with the Yanks, most of it spent behind the plate, and broke a tie with Hall of Famer Hank Greenberg for 14th place on the all-time list. Only Ruth, Foxx, Williams, Gehrig, Mantle and Joe DiMaggio have hit more in the AL.

* * *

In other games, Pittsburgh smacked Philadelphia 3-1 in the NL, while Baltimore defeated Kansas City 5-4 and Boston took a twi-night pair from Minnesota, both by 5-4, in the only other AL games.

Mantle and Maris were held to one hit each, and got just one ball past the pitcher's mound between them against losing right-hander Ken McBride (9-8). But even with singles they were the big guys for the Yanks—next to Berra. Maris caught the Angels by surprise with a two-out bunt that scored a run and made it 1-all in the third inning. Maris and Mick then paired for the insurance runs in the eighth. Maris walked and scored as Mantle's single got past center fielder Kent Hunt for an error. Mick came in on a wild pitch.

* * *

Bud Daley (9-15) became the first southpaw to go the distance against the Angels since May 21 and broke a personal losing skid at five games by holding Los Angeles to six hits, all singles.

Brain Inflammation Stops Browns' End

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Jim Marshall, defensive end for the Cleveland Browns of the National League, is suffering from a brain inflammation and will be out of action for at least a month.

The diagnosis of encephalitis was made at Marymount Hospital in Cleveland by Dr. Vic Ippolito, the team physician, it was learned Monday.

* * *

The former Ohio State star had been bothered by severe headaches and was taken to the hospital for tests last week.

* * *

Dr. Ippolito said complete recovery is anticipated but there is a possibility Marshall may not be able to play any football this season.

The news caused Coach Paul Brown to juggle the lineup somewhat, with rookie John Brewer of Mississippi being switched from linebacker to defensive end, where he will share duties with Jim Houston and Paul Wiggin.

'Lunatic Fringe' Blamed for Evils on College Courts

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A "Lunatic fringe" is to blame for many of college basketball's woes the president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches says.

By "lunatic fringe," Wilbur (Sparky) Stalcup says, he means overenthusiastic alumni and "a few misguided coaches" who think the end justifies any means.

As a solution, he proposes: "Investigate the alumni. Investigate the coaches. The players. Everybody."

McKinley, who breezed past Paul Sullivan, Belmont, Mass., 6-2, 6-3 in Monday's first round, faces 17-year-old Clark Graebner, Lakewood, Ohio, the Wimbledon junior champion, in the second

He's Just Another SS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dick Groat, the National League batting champion and most valuable player of 1960, is just another shortstop "scratching and trying to get along," this season.

For the first time since the peppery captain of the Pittsburgh Pirates came out of Duke University and joined the Bucs in 1952 the game has become a struggle instead of a joy.

"Everybody wants to know what's the matter," Groat said today. "And I can't begin to tell them. I don't know. If I did I would do something about it."

* * *

The infielder who won the batting title with a .325 average last year, has been poking along about 75 points under that mark this season and it's reached the stage now where he admittedly "becomes overwhelmed when I get two hits in a game."

"I thought I was out of that .250 class," said Groat, an over .300 batter in three of his previous seven campaigns. "But I suppose I was only kidding myself."

Groat went 0-for-4 Monday night, dropping his average to .256 as the Pirates defeated Philadelphia 3-1 behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Friend.

* * *

"When I hit the ball good, it's generally right at somebody," he said. "And while some players pick up a hit now and then on a 'blooper' or topped ball, it never seems to happen to me. I'm disgusted."

Idle Bengals Now 3 Behind After NY Win

Bunning Works Tonight as Tigers Open 3-Game Series in Chicago

From Our News Wires

CHICAGO — Those astronauts of baseball — the New York Yankees—are starting to look smaller on the horizon.

With a three-game road series with the Chicago White Sox starting tonight, the Detroit Tigers hope to prevent the Yankees from going into orbit.

* * *

Yesterday, while the Tigers sat idle — dreaming fond dreams of a rested bullpen — the Yanks clipped the Los Angeles Angels, 4-1, to go three games in front of the second place Bengals.

As manager Bob Scheffing puts it: "You've got to beat the club you're playing yourself." With this in mind, he planned to employ Jim Bunning (13-8) on the mound against Frank Baumann (8-7), manager Al Lopez' choice for the Sox.

Scheffing used one of his starters, Jim Bunning, in relief on Saturday to preserve a 7-6 lead over the Indians. It was Bunning's first relief job of the season, and it came after he had gone nine innings in a four-hit victory on Thursday.

"I can't make this a practice though, and I realize it," said Scheffing. "I could do it Saturday because it was Bunning's day to pitch batting practice anyway, and I held him out of that in case we got in a jam."

* * *

But Scheffing said he would spot Bunning, Paul Foytack and Don Mossi in similar situations down the stretch run if it meant losing or winning a game. Frank Lary has been pitching well all season but has complained of arm trouble since the season began, so Scheffing said he would not take a chance on using Lary in relief.

"I'm not conceding anything," said Scheffing, "but you just don't see championship teams without good bulpens. And let's face it — we haven't got one."

The Tigers' only stopper is Terry Fox, a young righthander acquired from the Milwaukee Braves last winter. Fox has a 1.65 earned run average and a 3-1 record in 38 innings, but for the past couple of weeks he has been out of action with a sore elbow. Scheffing does not know how long it wil be before Fox is ready.

The Tigers recently acquired Gerry Staley, who is almost 41 years old, from Kansas City. "If he is as effective as he was two years ago with Chicago, he could mean a great difference in our club," said Scheffing, who has used Staley only once — not enough to learn much about him. "If he's not that sharp, then we'll just have to struggle along without a bullpen."

Horton Homered There

Detroit Bonus Player Likes Tiger Stadium

DETROIT (AP)—Willie Horton, the recipient of the biggest bonus contract ever paid a Negro prospect, thinks Tiger Stadium is a good place to hit baseballs.

* * *

Two years ago—when he was only 16—Willie socked one into the upper deck while performing for Northwestern High School in a city league title game.

"He also hit a couple into the third deck in right field," recalled Freddie Snowden, one of Willie's former coaches. "They were foul but man, what power."

Snowden agreed with an observer's comment that Horton, a bull-necked youth with almost unbelievable muscles, bears a striking resemblance to Roy Campanella.

"You can say he hits like him, too," said Snowden. "If this guy doesn't make it, I'll quit coaching."

* * *

Apparently the Tigers have some faith in Horton and in scout Louis D'Annunzio's appraisal of his talents. They signed him to a contract reported to be around $50,000.

That beats anything ever given to a Negro player to sign—including such past and current luminaries as Jackie Robinson, Campy, Hank Aaron and Frank Robinson.

The Tigers emphasized that Willie, an 18-year-old, 5-10, 190-pounder, had been signed as an outfielder — even though he achieved his prep and Detroit sandlot fame primarily as a catcher.

That the Tigers earlier signed catcher Bill Freehan, the Big Ten batting champion, off the University of Michigan campus, might have something to do with that.

* * *

Horton will be assigned to the Tigers' Class AAA Denver team and will report to the parent club in spring training next year.

Present at the signing yesterday were attorney Damon Keith, Horton's legal guardian who handled negotiations with nine or 10 major league clubs, and probate judge Ira Kaufman, who appointed Keith.

Rose Paces 12 County Golfers

Driving Range Owner Shoots 73 in Trials at Farmington

Pontiac's Carl Rose was Oakland County's best player Monday as 38 golfers earned berths in the annual Michigan Open golf tournament in 18-hole qualifying rounds at Farmington Country Club.

* * *

Rose, who operates a driving range on the Dixie Highway near Telegraph, qualified with a one-over-par 36-37—73 to lead 12 county players into the State Open tourney.

* * *

Bill (Buster) Pembroke of Pontiac also hurdled the qualifying test by shooting 38-28—76.

Other Oakland golfers who qualified include Tim Baldwin of Birmingham, Jack Clark of Franklin Hills, Al Stanker of Union Lake, Tom Carmichael of Drayton Plains, Don Cochran Jr. of Berkley, Rayme Martin of Berkley, Bill Mattson of Edgewood, Lincoln Jackson of Forest Lake, Jim Brafford of Orchard Lake and Jerry Naglo of Birmingham.

Cass Jawor, youngest of four professional golfing brothers, took medal honors at Farmington with a two-under-par 38-32—70. The 25-year-old Jawor, assistant to brother Chet at Rackham, was the only one to break par among the 150 entries.

* * *

A birdie four on the 2nd extra hole enabled Don Callahan, assistant pro at Jackson C.C., to gain the 38th qualifying spot in an eight-way sudden-death playoff.

* * *

Jerry Berles and Bill Wingo each shot 71 to set the pace in Open trials at Grand Rapids where five places were available. There were 127 exemptions from the qualifying event.

Michigan Troopers Gain Pistol Honors

Topping the winners was Tpr. Robert Steinhurt of East Lansing, who chalked up a score of 2598 of a possible 2700 to capture the master police title. He was trailed closely by Tpr. Richard Brantner of Ionia, who fired a 2590.

* * *

In the four-man team events, Michigan entries took fourth in the .22 caliber and third in the .38 caliber and .45 caliber competition in a field of 55 police teams.

Others placing high in the matches were Cpl. Roman Sonsara and Tprs. Lester Doubleday and Delbert Cody of East Lansing and Door Wiltse of Ionia and Howard Hoag of Jackson.

Beer in Paper Cups

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Beer was sold in paper cups Monday night in Connie Mack Stadium for the first time during the game between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. The Pennsylvania legislature recently passed a law legalizing the sale of beer in paper cups.

Tournament Under Way

EAST LANSING (AP) — Tournament play was to begin here today as Gov. John B. Swainson served the first ball in the eighth International Jaycee Junior Tennis Championship. Some 220 matches were scheduled today.

Dreams of $100,000 Perfect Game

OGDEN, Utah (UPI) — Maxie Kosof, who made Odgen a mecca for the nation's bowlers, dreams of the day when he'll be able to offer $100,000 for a perfect game.

* * *

"And that dream may become an actuality soon," said sturdy, dark-haired 54-year-old Maxie today as he sat in his plush office at the handsomely modernistic Paramount Bowl where the pin topplers are busy on his 20 lanes—around the clock.

Because of the fame of Kosof's annual 164-day "World Open Classic," one of the nation's largest corporations is now considering a special annual one-day "endurance championship" with $100,000 in prizes and the final hour to be televised nationally.

"If that deal goes through," he added eagerly, "I personally will try to arrange for Lloyd's of London to offer $100,000 for each perfect game during that one-day tournament. I would put up $5,000 that someone in the tourney will bowl a perfect game, against Lloyd's $100,000 that no one does."

* * *

Naturally, Lloyd's would have a tremendous advantage at those odds, he admitted.

Kosof's "World Open Classic," which started in 1955 as a national "endurance" tournament in all departments of play with 178 entrants, had 6,006 entries last year from all states in the Union (except New England) and Canada.

"And this year, before the classic is finished on Labor Day," he said probably, "we'll have had more than 10,000."

The Ogden Chamber of Commerce regards Maxie's annual 164-day classic as perhaps the city's greatest tourist attraction. It has also gained a national reputation as a rich sports event.

Kosof explained today, "It is the only bowling tournament in the world—or sports event—that has 86 awards of $1,000 each, in addition to the top awards of $5,000 each to the top winners in the handicap and scratch divisions of both men's and women's play. It is also the longest tournament, starting the last weekend in March and running for 164 consecutive days to the grand finale on Labor Day, Sept. 4 this year."

Each competitor in the classic must bowl 20 consecutive games in singles, a 10-game team event, five games in doubles and a five-game special singles, for a total of 40 games.

A major reason for the classic's success, he said, is its sensible handicap system. For men, the handicap is based against a 220-point average instead of the usual 200. And for women, it's against 200. Among men, for example, an entrant with an average of 184 would have a handicap of 24 pins again based on two-thirds of the 36-pin difference between 184 and 220.

Big 'New Line' Under Contract for Red Wings

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings had their new "big line" all under contract today with the signing of Ed Litzenberger and Alex Delvecchio.

Litzenberger, 29, was captain of the Black Hawks last season. The Wings got him in a trade for Jerry Melnyk and Brian Smith. Delvecchio is a 10-year-man with Detroit.

K Proposal to Negotiate Greeted With Skepticism

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal to "negotiate in an honest way" on Berlin drew generally skeptical reaction from congressional and diplomatic sources.

U.S. experts found little that was new on Khrushchev's plan for Berlin in the Soviet leader's radio-TV speech Monday.

The State Department also was officially silent.

U.S. officials, however, still expect the Berlin question to result in negotiations late this year, and not until then do they expect Khrushchev to reveal what concessions he might have in mind.

* * *

Once again the Soviet premier said he planned to sign a peace treaty with the Communist East German government.

Also, as he has in the past, Khrushchev denied any intent to "infringe upon any lawful interests of the Western powers" in Berlin.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that Khrushchev was "more positive than he has been before" in his statement denying plans for a new Berlin blockade.

"I believe he wants to negotiate about Berlin," Fulbright said. "Whether he wants to negotiate on the basis of what is yours is mine is another matter. Nevertheless, I don't see why we cannot take the position that these differences should be discussed."

* * *

One problem in any negotiations is that Khrushchev and the Western powers do not agree on what the West's "lawful interests" in Berlin are.

Khrushchev has made plain that undder his proposed treaty the West must seek its access to West Berlin from the East German regime, which the West does not recognize and which has threatened to shut down Western activities in the city.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Khrushchev appeared to be talking "in the language of both war and peace."

"It is to be devoutly hoped that, unlike the great Russian novel of that title, the balance this time is on the side of peace," Mansfield said.

* * *

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant Republican leader, said he felt the speech had a belligerent tone.

"If, God forbid, war should come, Khrushchev will be the aggressor. He knows it and the world knows it," Kuchel said.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., said he believes the Khrushchev statements "open the way for negotiations" despite the threats the Soviet premier made.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, said the Khrushchev speech should clinch passage of President Kennedy's foreign aid program.

* * *

The speech proved, he said, that "we are faced with an intensified Communist propaganda program filled with threats, with the possibility of war."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a member of the Foreign Relations Committee said, "I think Khrushchev took a good, long step forward in what he said about maintaining access to Berlin.

Aiken said he thinks it is "time for both sides to stop shaking missiles and start talking."

Charged in Raping of Governor's Kin

WAKEFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Carroll C. Cobb, 42, was charged today with raping Mrs. Richard Volpe, sister-in-law of Gov. John A. Volpe.

* * *

Dist. Atty. John P. S. Burke said Cobb was arrested Monday night in the woodland reservation where Mrs. Volpe was beaten and raped last Thursday night.

* * *

Police Sgt. James T. McKeon had driven Mrs. Volpe, 47, to Stoneham to look at a suspect. Returning to Wakefield, the sergeant drove into Breakheart Reservation so Mrs. Vole could show him where the attack occurred.

They saw a parked car and McKeon went to investigate. When he saw Cobb asleep inside, he called Mrs. Volpe to look at the man and Mrs. Volpe identified him as her attacker.

* * *

Convenience Costing Americans Billions

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — What price convenience? Several billion dollars a year. That's what Americans are spending for processed foods, disposable containers, home appliances and gadgets — almost anything designed, at a price, to make living easier by saving time or labor.

All these make for more leisure hours—one of the most prized dividends of the American way of life. So, ever since World War II we have been willing to put a larger percentage of our cash into convenience.

* * *

Sales of convenience items increased 157 per cent during the last decade, according to a research marketing agency, the A.C. Nielsen Co. of Chicago.

Container manufacturers have been among the major gainers—and innovators. They have multiplied their sales, thanks to the U.S. consumer's yen for disposable cups, plates, cartons, bottles, cans and packages of all kinds.

The coffee break and in-plant vending machines have been a big help to sellers of paper and plastic containers.

ROADSIDE SERVICES

The auto industry has contributed. More cars on the road have meant more roadside services for Americans on the go—and the disposable container has found a happy home in these stopping places.

Hot coffee poured into more than two billion paper cups from automatic vending machines last year, according to Merrill Bank, executive vice president of Maryland Cup Corp. This is 400 million cups more than in 1959. Bank puts sales of soft drinks, ice cream, coffee and hot meals by vending machines last year at $2.5 billion, compared with $680 million in 1946.

His firm is now out with a line of disposable plastic bowls, plates, cups and dishes for use in restaurants and institutions, but also for marketing in leading supermarket and variety chains.

* * *

Maryland Cup's sales have grown from $11 million in 1950 to $40 million in 1960. Other producers, such as Lily Tulip, Continental Can and the Dixie Cup division of American Can, also show big gains.

U.S. Department of Commerce reports paper containers making up 45 per cent of all container shipments, for a total of $4.5 billion a year, up a billion in 10 years. Metal containers have grown from $600 million to $1.6 billion in the same period. The Can Manufacturers Institute estimates this year's output at 43 billion units and sales at $2 billion.

PLASTICS ON RISE

Glass containers account for slightly more than $1 billion in sales. Plastics are estimated as still well below $500 million, but now starting to come up fast.

Convenience plays a big role in this.

Take paper milk cartons. In 1940 less than a billion were used, and now 15 billion are bought and thrown away in a year. The use and reuse of glass bottles might cut the cost of milk at the store, but the housewife dislikes washing and returning them, and the grocer is content to skip the handling.

Sales of no deposit, no return beer bottles have more than doubled in the last five years. Convenience, both to the consumer and the dealer, is the answer. Canned beer and soft drinks also have doubled, for the same reason.

* * *

Aersol can output has gone from 50 million in 1950 to 775 million in 1960. The collapsible and disposable tube for everything from toilet articles to food items has also reached big sales volume, with convenience again a top consideration. Metal foil and food dishes are omnipresent, as many a TV watcher knows.

And every housewife knows that she may pay more because she wants bread presliced, vegetables and other foods prepared and packaged, squeezed, frozen, concentrated or precooked.

More women with jobs are credited with increasing sales of convenience and time saving items. But so too are the growing American income totals and the increase in middle-income families.

In-plant feeding, especially in factories moving to the suburbs, has helped the makers of disposable containers. But so has the growth of large cities. Apartment dwellers prize the easily diposed of containers and all the convenience items that take up less space or require less preparation in restricted quarters.

Boy Burns to Death as Blaze Guts Barn

CHARLOTTE (UPI) — James Starkweather, 8, was burned to death Sunday in a fire that destroyed a 30-by-30-foot barn on his parents' farm, about 15 miles northeast of here.

Police said James was playing in a loft where he and his brothers had built a hut of baled hay. His father, James II, found the loft in flames when he arrived and was unable to get to his son. He suffered minor burns.

Eaton County Sheriff Elwyn Smith said he believed the boy, who was alone in the barn, had been playing with matches.

Titov Apparently Landed in Rolling Russian Country

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Soviet spaceman Gherman Titov apparently ended his 25-hour adventure in open, rolling country, a University of Michigan specialist in Soviet geography said Monday.

* * *

Prof. George Kish, 45, said BBC reports from London said Titov landed at Saratov, about 450 miles southeast of Moscow, in Volga River country.

This area offers favorable terrain for a parachutist, said Kish, who has compiled a book of maps of Russia.

Kish also said the similarity of orbits of Russia's satellites indicates the Soviet Union has a major installation — similar to Cape Canaveral — in the Baikonur area, a terminus for all major Russian railroad lines.

Kelvinator Plant Cuts Week From Shutdown

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — American Motors Corp.'s Kelvinator plant here will shut down for inventory for only two weeks instead of the usual three this year, officials have announced.

* * *

The shutdown will begin Aug. 21 and end Sept. 5. Three-week shutdowns have been normal since 1956, but continued heavy production schedules will reduce the idle period this year, said George H. Weld, plant works manager.

Grain Futures Turn Generally Downward

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices turned generally downward today during the first several minutes of transactions on the board of trade.

Soybeans were off about a cent in spots, but other losses were limited mostly to small fractions. Dealers said there appeared to be some profit cashing in wheat. The pressure in corn and soybeans was described largely as short selling.

Commercial influences were understood to be rather scant. Mill demand for wheat was light and export business slower.

Mart Moves Up on Broad Front

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved ahead over a broad front early this afternoon with trading proceeding at an active pace.

Key issues showed gains running to a point or so, while the few losers in evidence were mostly down by only fractions. These issues traded slowly, in contrast to the greater number of active and higher stocks.

Aircraft-missile shares again were in the latter category, along with many of the blue chip issues which have characterized recent strength in the market.

McDonnell Aircraft and General Dynamics extended their gains to more than a point and North American Aviation was ahead around a point. Boeing was moving more slowly, but steadily, higher, while Douglas also was up.

* * *

Anticipation of increased defense spending was behind the group's advance, just as it has been the leading background factor for the past fortnight.

Steels, motors, some rubber shares, electronics, metals, most chemicals, oils and building material shares also were higher. Airlines turned mixed and tobaccos eased.

United Aircraft, down in early trading, moved over to the plus side after a published interview indicating a good jump in earnings because of defense spending. The stock was up around a point, adding to a good rise Monday.

Indications of rising steel production, and a consequent less than usual summer slump, were reflected by U.S. Steel's rise of around a point (bringing it close to its 1961 high) and a gain of nearly a point by Jones & Laughlin.

A plea of innocent was entered by circuit court yesterday for Major Bryant, 52, of 5386 Ormond Road, who is charged with felonious assault in the shooting of his brother.

Bryant is accused of firing a 20-gauge shotgun three times at his brother Dave, 59, of Detroit, during an argument at Bryant's home,

BREAKTHROUGH—With this test firing of a solid fuel rocket motor at Morgan Hill, Calif., Saturday, scientists are claiming that major roadblocks in the production of a single rocket of up to 3 million pounds of thrust have been overcome. The rocket is anchored nose down on its concrete pad. It operated for 80 seconds and produced 250,000 pounds of thrust.

Bell Telephone Suit Dismissed in Circuit Court

A suit filed last month by a Troy man against the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., was dismissed yesterday in Circuit Court.

John G. Garner of 6951 Dublin Fair Road, had charged that Michigan Bell's rate structure was unjust and discriminatory against segments of its subscribers.

In yesterday's show cause hearing, William R. Beasley, attorney for the company, moved for dismissal on ground that Garner had not first asked the State Public Service Commission to hear his complaints and that the Oakland court had no jurisdiction over the suit under a state statute governing such action.

Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero dismissed the case.

Activities Are Added to Recreation Plan

Additional activities have been included in a 1961-62 program to be presented by Recreation Director Robert Lawyer at tomorrow night's Waterford Township Recreation Board meeting.

Lawyer will ask that classes in small watercraft safety, fiber flower making, and landscaping and gardening be part of the large activity program already scheduled.

Officers will be elected after the meeting opens at 8 p.m.

Lawyer also will present a summary of the summer's activities involving 3,212 residents who participated in softball play, swimming, playground, blooperball and the day camp programs.

According to Lawyer's report, more than 1,900 children registered for playground activities, 380 boys played junior baseball, about 570 took swimming lessons, 150 men played league softball and between 250 and 300 children attended Day Camp.

Rubber, Tire Firms Warned to File Return

The district director of Internal Revenue today reminded all jobbers, wholesalers and retailers who had inventories of tires, tubes or tread rubber for retreading on July 1 that they must file a floor stocks tax return, Form 3174, on or before Oct. 15.

This tax was imposed by the Federal-Aid Highway Act passed by Congress this year.

UAW Leaders Talking Strike

But Expressing Hope New Contract Can Be Reached Peacefully

DETROIT (AP) — Leaders of the United Auto Workers at General Motors and Chrysler were talking strike today but expressing hope for contract settlement without a walkout.

Three-year contracts at GM, Chrysler and Ford—the big three—run out Aug. 31.

Six-week-old bargaining continued at the big three. Negotiations were in recess at American Motors Corp., the only automaker to offer a settlement proposal thus far.

The UAW announced Monday that both GM and Chrysler local leaders across the country had voted to ask for a strike authorization vote.

Ken Bannon, UAW Ford chief, said this also was under consideration at Ford but that a decision had not yet been reached.

Strike vote authorization must come from the UAW's 24-man international executive board. The board has scheduled a special meeting next Sunday to hear a report on negotiations progress.

It's been so hot hereabouts that even Perry Como couldn't sleep. He woke up every three or four days . . . Today's best simile is borrowed from yesterday but still good: "As meek and quiet as a woman the first day and a half after she's married." — Earl Wilson.

Trio Arraigned, 5 Sought in $100,000 Fraud Charge

Accused of bilking a loan company in Ferndale of more than $100,000, three alleged members of an eight-man ring were arraigned before West Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dieterle yesterday.

Dieterle also has issued warrants for five other men believed to have been involved in a long list of swindles last year.

All eight men worked together, forging names to credit statements, selling low-cost household goods to bad credit risks and putting the loans through a Ferndale branch of the General Public Loan Co., according to Oakland County Senior Asst. Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry Jr.

They have been charged in the warrants with obtaining money under false pretenses, conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses and conspiracy to avoid paying the state sales tax.

Demanding examinations of these charges when arraigned yesterday were Ivan Batten, 46, of 29460 Fall River Road, Southfield; Peter Lazaros, 27, 2410 Dalesford Road, Troy, and Jordan Raider, 24, of Detroit.

RELEASED ON BOND

Batten and Lazaros were released on $10,000 bond each. Raider was freed on a personal bond, pending examination in justice court August 29.

Arrest of the three climaxed six months of investigation by State Police Detective Charles Leaf.

Still being sought by police on the warrants are Gino Ronchetto, 33, of Garden City; William Tees, 39, Detroit; Robert Levine, 27, Detroit; Anton Postic, Highland Park; and Frank Besmos of 12925 Wales St., Huntington Woods.

Ronchetto, former manager of the loan company branch office at 22848 Woodward Ave., Ferndale, is believed to be honeymooning in Florida.

* * *

According to Barry, Ronchetto and Levine, also a former branch employe, were approving the credit applications for a kickback and concealing the deals from the home office in St. Louis, Mo.

Eventually the home office got wind of the deals, after more than $100,000 in uncollectible "bad paper" had piled up, said Barry.

The household merchandise, including television sets, home freezers and furniture, was retailed through three now-defunct companies in Ferndale, Royal Oak and Madison Heights from April 1960 until January 1961, Leaf said.

Expect Commission to Act on Hospital Trustees

After two weeks consideration, the City Commission is expected to act tonight on appointment of three members to the 11-member Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees.

The terms are four years.

Terms of three trustees who have served since 1957 have expired. They are those of Isaac Smoot, Cecil J. Cosgrove and Rev. Theodore R. Allebach.

2 HEARINGS SLATED

Also tonight only two hearings are scheduled, covering plans for curbs and gutters on Hillside Drive, Burt to City Line, and on Elm Street, Paddock to Jessie.

A hearing date will be scheduled on assessment rolls covering the proposed $27,500 sanitary sewer project on Clara, Fuller and Peacock streets in Northeast Pontiac.

* * *

Assessment rolls are to be confirmed for payment to finance nine blacktopping jobs on neighborhood streets.

Cost estimates are ready for two proposed sidewalk improvements, a small sanitary sewer and some more curbs and gutters.

W. Europe Feelings Mixed Over Khrushchev's Talk

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe reacted today to Premier Khrushchev's "let's talk it over" speech with a mixture of caution, skepticism and a willingness to negotiate.

Most British newspapers agreed with Khrushchev that it was time for East-West leaders to sit down at a table and negotiate the pressing issues of Berlin and Germany.

* * *

But in France and West Germany, there was caution and some suspicion of Khrushchev's motives. Some newspapers and politicians felt that the Soviet premier had not changed the crisis climate.

"Negotiation in his eyes can be conceived only on the basis of the settlement he envisages for solving the Berlin crisis," said Paris' conservative Figaro.

BILL SPACE FEAT

Despite the urgency of the situation, many newspapers throughout Europe gave top billing to Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov.

* * *

Even the Communist party newspapers in London, Rome and Paris considered the space traveler the biggest newsmaker of the day. So did the London Daily Mirror and Daily Herald, and all early editions in Rome and Paris. Copenhagen papers were too preoccupied with Titov to mention his premier editorially.

* * *

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said Khrushchev had done nothing to reduce East-West tensions. Brandt assailed Khrushchev's statement that self-determination for Germany was just a hypocritical Western slogan. The mayor said the Germans' elementary wish for self-determination cannot be passed off with the art of dialectics.

NO DIFFERENCE

The deputy chairman of West Germany's opposition Socialist party, Herbert Wehner, agreed that Khrushchev had not departed at any point from his previously stated position on Berlin.

The London Daily Mail called for a summit meeting with Khrushchev "at the earliest moment to find out what his real intentions are." The London Times said the door on both sides is open to negotiation.

Plumbing Code Given Approval

Waterford Twp. Board Adopts Plan Similar to State Setup

The Waterford Township Board last night adopted it's first plumbing code, after recommendations were presented by the newly appointed plumbing board.

The new code is almost identical to the Michigan State plumbing code with the purpose of "establishing a uniform minimum standard for construction, installation and inspection of plumbing and drainage." The code will go into effect 30 days after publication.

OK PAVING PROJECT

There were no objectors present at a public hearing for black topping 3,310 feet of Kempf Street. The board approved the $30,748 project.

The board discussed a request of Police Chief Millard A. Pender for the hiring of eight additional reserve officers to relieve the regular patrolmen.

There are now only six reserve officers and all receive a $1 token fee.

* * *

Chief Pender said, "These men are doing a magnificent job. However we need more, as two men are needed on the midnight shift, and we just don't have enough regular policemen for night patrol duty."

Judge Dismisses Kidnaping Charges

Mrs. Wolf charged that Wolf had abducted their son, Jeffrey, 10, from Camp Sea Gull near Charlevoix July 29. She said that when they were divorced last May 19, she was given custody of Jeffrey and his sister, Karen, 11.

Justice Lynn said there was no indication that Wolf had tried to conceal his son's whereabouts and that he surrendered willingly to state police.

Man Stands Mute on Abortion Charge

A former Pontiac beauty shop owner, Albert Bicolli alias John Abbot, 46, of Detroit, stood mute when arraigned on a charge of abortion in Circuit Court yesterday.

Bicolli was arrested July 28 by Redford state police detectives after an Ypsilanti hospital reported a bungled abortion.

Investigation led them to Bicolli who owns a Detroit beauty shop where the victim had been employed.

Ex-Teamster Surrenders on Bad Bond Charge

Samuel J. Marrosso, business agent for Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 in 1950 and 1951, surrendered to FBI agents yesterday on charges of transporting counterfeit bonds across state lines.

* * *

In an appearance before Federal Judge Ralph M. Freemen in Detroit, Marrosso, 47, of Warren was released on $5,000 until a hearing Friday.

Marrosso, convicted with two other former officials of Local 614 in an extortion plot in 1954, is now charged with two other men in taking $191,000 worth of phony Ohio Turnpike bonds to the Bahama Islands for deposit in a bank.

Enlistments Up in Last 2 Weeks

Boost Following Talk by Kennedy Has Failed to Slacken

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sustained surge of volunteers has followed President Kennedy's call for a build-up of U. S. armed forces and the announcement of higher draft calls.

* * *

Defense Department sources said today a sampling of enlistment trends in widely scattered areas showed there has been no letup in the increased rate that followed the President's speech two weeks ago.

Major emphasis is on the Army which is authorizd to add about 133,000 men to build up to over 1 million men.

3 MORE DIVISIONS

One of the first efforts will be to train manpower to fill out three present training divisions in the Strategic Army Force—STRAF—then convert those divisions into combat units. The three divisions are the 1st Infantry at Ft. Riley, Kan., the 2nd Infantry at Ft. Benning, Ga., and the 2nd Armored at Ft. Hood, Tex.

A combat infantry division has an authorized strength of 13,700 men, an armored division 14,600. Present permanent strength—cadres of trained men—in those divisions is believed to be less than half of authorized combat strength.

* * *

The Defense Department and Army now are completing detailed plans for adding manpower, training men and converting the three STRAF divisions to combat outfits. Then they will be added to the 14 combat divisions now in the Army.

The threat of the draft is spurring voluntary recruiting for all services. Only the Army uses the draft. President Kennedy, in his July 25 nationwide address, said that draft calls might be doubled or tripled. Subsequently, the quota for August, which had been set on July 12 at 8,000, was boosted to 13,000.

* * *

Announcement of the September quota is expected within a few days. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said it will be at least 20,000.

Plan Would Help State Employes With Tuition

LANSING (UPI) — State employes would be encouraged to enroll in night school or take extension courses under a $5,000 tuition refund program under study by the State Civil Service Commission.

The program would allow payments of up to $80 per person for any one academic year, with prior approval of the courses required.

Under the plan, applicants must be full-time employes with two years of service in a state job. Tuition refunds would be limited to between $10 and $20 for each course per semester.

A total of $5,000 would set aside, with the number of workers approved for refunds being limited by available funds.

6 Cabinet Members Plan Trip to Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and five other members of President Kennedy's Cabinet will come to Japan in November for economic talks, Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka told newsmen today.

* * *

Kosaka said the U. S. delegation also would include Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg. The six Americans will meet with their Japanese counterparts to launch the new U.S.-Japan Economic Council which Kennedy and Premier Hayato Ikeda decided to create when they met recently in Washington.

Astrorat Is Sacrificed on Altars of Science

PARIS (AP)—Hector, the little white rat the French fired up about 65½ miles into space in February, was sacrificed for science while the world was acclaiming Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov Monday.

* * *

Hector, who survived his trip atop a French Veronique rocket well, was put to death so scientists could make microscopic studies of his brain tissue.

A report on what the studies show will be presented to the tenth International Congress of Aeronautical Medicine in late September.

Money Voted for Space, Moon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress Monday voted $1,671,755,000 for the U.S. space flight program, including $471.75 million for the manned moon shot effort.

* * *

The money was carried in a compromise measure providing a total of $8,962,350,000 to finance 20 different government agencies in the fiscal year which began July 1.

The bill sailed through both the House and Senate by voice votes.

The over-all amount is $337 million more than President Kennedy asked.

Over half the total is in one item — $4,888,000,000 for the Veterans Administration.

* * *

Other major items include $723 millions for the Federal Aviation Agency, including funds for its airport air program; and $78.25 million to the Civil Aeronautics Board for items including payment of subsidies to airlines plus $6 million for helicopter service subsidies.

Michigan Employed 300 to Repair Guard Rails

LANSING (UPI)—Some 113 miles of highway guard rails were repaired this summer—providing temporary jobs for 300 unemployed workers, the State Highway Department says.

Red Space Shots Tied to Political Moves

BY BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—The best way to find out what the Russians plan to do in the space race is not to study their cosmonauts and the sophistication of their giant boosters but to examine their scheduled political moves.

She went up just as the comrades from many lands assembled in Moscow to whoop up the 40th anniversary of the conspiracy's murder of the Democratic-minded Kerensky government.

It was a smashing publicity stunt as well as a profound achievement in expanding man's horizons. The only victim was Laika.

Soviet space experts had not yet figured out a method of delaying a capsule's orbit by means of retrorockets. Laika burned to a cinder on reentry.

* * *

The prototype of the Vostok capsule in which Gagarin and Titov made their historic flights was sent into orbit just as President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan and President de Gaulle were about to sit down with Khrushchev at the disastrous Paris summit conference.

Khrushchev arrived in Washington once two days after the hammer and sickle had been imbedded in the moon.

Titov was blasted out of this world's atmosphere on the eve of Khrushchev's reply to President Kennedy in the Berlin crisis, within hours after the Warsaw pact nations announced they'd stand firm on the impending peace treaty with East Germany, and just as the foreign ministers of the United States, Great Britain, France and West Germany sat down to unite their Berlin opinions.

NEXT IN OCTOBER

The next Soviet shot? That's easy. It will come in October and coincide with the 22nd congress of the Communist party.

Henry Shapiro, UPI-Moscow, says that the talk is that three cosmonauts will go up in the same big capsule, and stay aloft for three or four days.

The whole world marveled Sunday when Maj. Titov calmly announced from on high, "Now I wish to say good night to you dear Muscovites. I am going to bed. Do whatever you may like to do—but I go to bed now."

Who tended to the store while the self-styled Eagle was sacking out?

* * *

Well, his capsule probably has what amounts to an automatic pilot, just as our Mercury capsule.

The capsule can be operated from ground stations, too, as was Gagarin's Vostok I.

Titov could have conked off while waiting on the pad and slept throughout the entire flight and the landing, and the vehicle would have performed as well. Man tends to become a bit superfluous up there.

Dozing at the wheel is a little different in space than on Route 66. The spaceman has little or no chance of colliding with another vehicle.

In space, each molecule of air—air as we know it—is separated by perhaps five miles. There is nothing to retard the vehicle, no way it can go off course.

It just keeps "falling" at about 18,000 mph, "falling" toward a horizon that eludes it as it is drawn toward it. There is no wind pressure.

The 100-foot Echo communications balloon which we sent up months ago is still in orbit at the above mentioned speed though it apparently has been punctured thousands of times by tiny bits of space debris.

Sleep in space will lose its novelty as man ventures farther out into the limitless expanse. A trip to the moon will consume two and a half days; a probe of Venus a matter of months.

* * *

At present space speeds, an infant astronaut would die of old age long before his craft reached some of the other planets that revolve around that feeble and insignificant star we call the sun—a tiny speck of luminous matter lost among the outer fringes of the Milky Way.

Morton Backs Long-Range Aid

Calls JFK's Program 'Identical in Principle' With Eisenhower's

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, former Republican national chairman, today threw his support behind President Kennedy's long-range foreign aid program.

Kennedy seeks Treasury borrowing authority to finance a five-year, $8.8-billion loan program for development of struggling new nations.

Morton, in a prepared Senate speech, said the proposal was "identical in principle" with one advocated by former President D. Eisenhower in 1957, for which 21 Republicans now in the Senate voted at the time.

"I see no reason in principle that they should not support the same proposal when made by this administration," he said.

GOP OPPOSITION

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., however, has predicted that 30 to 36 Senate Republicans will vote for an amendment sponsored by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., to require that financing of the loan program come from annual appropriations.

Aiken, in another prepared speech, called the authority to borrow from the Treasury "primarily a grab for power" that would rob Congress of its control over the foreign aid program.

"The President requests Congress to give him authority to bet $9 billion in the game of power politics, with no assurance that it will not be lost," Aiken said.

A good secretary is one who is as fast as her boss when he's dictating—and faster when he's not . . . It's easy to see how most girls like to be treated. Often. . . . The only thing wrong with earning a big salary is that it costs so much to let people know it.—Earl Wilson.

Damage From Fire in July Doubles First 6 Months

Fire damage in Pontiac last month totaled $163,195 — more than double the total from January through June.

In June damage totaled $33,480.

There were no deaths from fire last month. Two persons were injured, the same as in June.

* * *

Per capita, the fire department reported Pontiac lost $1.99. The June figure was $0.41.

Of these 55 were fire alarms — 21 fires in buildings, 8 brush and grass, 1 rubbish near building, 3 dump, 4 miscellaneous, and 16 in motor vehicles.

The other calls included 41 rescue and emergency runs, 1 accidental alarm, 24 false alarms and 23 investigations.

The fire department made 247 inspections, 13 less than in June.

Discounts Claim Reds Far Ahead in Nuclear Subs

GROTON, Conn., (UPI) — A top Navy official today discounted claims by the Russians they are ahead of the United States in nuclear submarines.

Under Secretary of the Navy Paul B. Fay Jr., here for the commissioning of the Ethan Allen, the Navy's newest Polaris missile submarine, said this country was definitely ahead of the Soviets in the nuclear submarine race.

He added, however, that he didn't doubt Russian claims of possessing 400-450 submarines. Most of these are conventionally powered with electric batteries and diesel engines, he said.

"It is my personal feeling that the Russians are not as far along with nuclear submarines as we are," Fay said during a news conference prior to the commissioning.

Trans World Airlines Sues Howard Hughes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Trans World Airlines today filed a $115-million antitrust suit against Howard Hughes, head of the Hughes Tool Co., and Raymond M. Holliday, a TWA director.

The suit, filed in Federal District Court, charged them and the Hughes company with illicit acts to seize control of TWA "for their own purposes."

The complaint said the defendants had conspired since 1939 to restrain commerce by providing financing for TWA acquisition of aircraft on condition that all such aircraft be acquired from the Hughes company.

The suit identified Holliday as chief operating officer of the Hughes company and Huges as the sole stockholder.

Former Singing Star of 'Carman Jones' Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Muriel Rahn, 50, Negro singer, died today in Sydenham Hospital of cancer.

JFK Asks Congress for Extra $150 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy asked Congress today for more than $150 million extra, mostly to carry out legislation enacted during the present congressional session.

The largest amounts are $74,575,000 for housing and $37.22 million for controlling stream polution.

Another $14.7 million was requested to repay to banks government-guaranteed loans defaulted by the New Haven Railroad. And $10 million was sought for temporary unemployment pay for railroad workers.

Defense Alert Planned Oct. 14 for U.S. Skies

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Another large-scale defense exercise, called Sky Shield II, covering the continent will be held Oct. 14.

All commercial and private plane flights will be grounded for a 12-hour period, from noon to midnight, Eastern Standard Time.

Re-Armament Founder Dies

Dr. Buchman Suffers Heart Attack in City Where Idea Started

The Pennsylvania-born Lutheran clergyman died while resting in a suite at his hotel in this Black Forest resort where he first had the inspiration to found his movement. Dr. Buchman was here for a holiday and rest.

Peter Howard, British newsman and author who was one of Dr. Buchman's closest friends, was with him when he died. Also present were Prince Richard of Hesse, Dr. Maurice Martin, an old friend, and Dr. Paul Campbell, who was the late Henry Ford's physician.

* * *

Howard said Dr. Buchman had a coronary attack at 10 p.m. and died 15 minutes later without regaining consciousness. Dr. Campbell attended him

War Games Devastate S. Carolina Melon Patch

PATRICK, S.C. (AP) — Exercise Swift Strike has barely begun, but C. H. Hicks of Jefferson said troops have found the melons in one of his fields so tasty he must file a reimbursement claim with Uncle Sam.

The federals are prepared, however. Col. R. M. Gray of the 3rd Army's judge advocate section heads a staff of men sent to Cheraw to process damage claims by landowners during the two-week war games now under way. Gray said the government will pay Hicks for the melons.

Pat Boone Finds Zulus Rocking to Transistors

NEW YORK — Pat Boone, who's been circling the globe, flashes me that in Zulu huts outside Johannesburg — "where the women and men wear birthday suits with few accessories" — he found them listening to American-made transistor radios.

"Here where wives can be bought for $28 or five cows, the whole family did tribal dances for me, and upon my soul, the rock-'n-roll beat was traced to its source," Pat reports.

"It traveled to New Orleans, put on jazz and Dixieland suits, finally graduated to 'all-out Rock,' very similar to the original music, rhythms and dances," he says. "And now I discovered Zulus in their still-primitive huts using their radios to catch up on the latest from the 'States' — their same old beat, brought up to date."

U.S. Tourists Off in Europe

Most Spots Note Drop of 10 Per Cent; Search for Explanation

LONDON (AP) — The familiar figure of the camera-carrying American tourist isn't seen as often this summer as in former years at most of Europe's resort spots.

* * *

Early reports from hotels and tourist agencies show a definite dropping off of visitors from across the Atlantic. The falloff ranges around 10 per cent.

Among reasons advanced are:

1. President Kennedy's appeal to Americans to save dollars for America by spending their vacations at home.

2. The Berlin crisis. The average American tourist is highly sensitive to international trouble.

3. Tanks in Paris streets during the recent Algerian troubles.

* * *

The official figures for May — the most recent ones available in Britain—show a 10 per cent decrease from last year, although the number of visitors from other countries went up 10 per cent. One Scottish tourist agency man estimated the American fall-off at as much as 40 per cent.

* * *

Paris, a mecca for American tourists for many decades, estimates a drop of at least 10 per cent. The figure is given by W.L. Windler, American Express travel manager. He expressed doubt that uneasiness about Berlin and Algeria had discouraged many of the missing tourists. He noted that most travel plans were made in February and March, before Berlin became a hotspot.

He said such special attractions as the Olympic Games in Rome, Italy, where American tourism has been climbing steadily every year, showed somewhat inconclusive figures. As in most lands, the first four months showed an increase of 15 to 20 per cent in tourists over last year, American tourism went up 5 per cent. But in June the over-all tourist influx increased only 10 per cent.

About six hours are required for penicillin to achieve maximum effect.

ANCIENT HISTORY:

Gasoline gum used to cause unexpected repair bills. Today, one of Super Shell's 9 ingredients fights off gum —to save you money and give you top performance

The gum preventive in today's Super Shell is so powerful that one thousandth of an ounce is enough to treat a whole gallon. Read what this remarkable "chemical policeman" does to make costly gum problems a thing of the past.

But as far as Shell scientists are concerned, the carburetor gum problem is ancient history. And so are all the other troubles that used to be caused by gum in gasoline. Like sticky intake valves. And fouled automatic chokes.

How Super Shell fights gum

Next, Shell technicians make a point of keeping gasoline clean. They guard all tanks, pipes, and trucks against dirt and other contaminants.

But Shell scientists know that, in time, even the purest gasoline can form gum (see test below). And that's why they include a powerful gum preventive in Super Shell's nine-ingredient formula.

"Chemical cop" at work

This remarkable ingredient has been described as a "chemical policeman." It helps keep unstable elements in the gasoline from sticking together—just the way a skilled policeman prevents trouble by keeping a crowd from forming.

Hot Weather Blend

And for top performance all summer, keep your tank filled with Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend. It's formulated to fight engine flooding and other hot weather troubles. At Shell stations now.

#1 is TCP* for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
#2 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.
#3 is anti-knock mix to resist all kinds of knocks.
#4 is Alkylate to control "high-speed knock."
#5 is Butane for quick starts.
#6 is "cat-cracked" gasoline—for power.
#7 is an "anti-icer" to help prevent icing stalls when cold weather strikes.
#8 is gum preventive to keep carburetors clean inside.
#9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

Latins Laud Aid Offer

Approve JFK Aims

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Latin-American leaders generally agreed today with the aims of President Kennedy's sweeping program for hemisphere development, but the biggest nations objected to a U.S. call for coordination of economic planning.

With the exception of Cuban economic czar Ernesto Guevara, delegates to the Inter-American Conference lauded the U.S. offer of long-term multibillion-dollar aid to help raise Latin-American living standards.

However, serious objections were expressed to the proposal for a seven-man planning committee of experts to coordinate development programs in the various countries.

Such key nations as Argentina, Chile, Brazil and Mexico have strong reservations about centralized direction of continental planning. These countries want to plan their own way out of their individual problems and prefer an individual approach, even though the process might take longer.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was described today as pleased with progress of the conference in Uruguay to plan for economic development of Latin America.

* * *

Argentina, Mexico and Chile indicate they feel they are making significant strides on their own in planning. Brazil, largest of the Latin-American countries, considers itself a case apart, worthy of special treatment.

OUTLINES PROGRAM

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon outlined the Kennedy program at Monday's session. He pledged the United States to a 10-year development program involving more than a billion dollars a year in U.S. contributions alone to help lift Latin America out of its centuries-old rut of misery and illiteracy.

Dillon offered U. S. guarantees to development loans on a long-term basis "running where appropriate up to 50 years." Most of these loans, Dillon told the delegates, would be "at very low or zero rates of interest." The loans would actually amount to 80 per cent grants and would match or better the terms offered by the Soviet Union in its loans to backward nations.

Dillon warned Latin-America's wealthy landlords they would have to sacrifice many of their traditional privileges if the plan were to succeed. He referred to honest tax structures, surrender of vast landholding rights and other accommodations to the 20th century.

Guevara, who abstained from the prolonged applause that greeted Dillon's speech, listed himself as a speaker for the conference session this afternoon.

* * *

He reportedly intends to present the view that his country wants to remain in the Latin-American economic family — without, however, acknowledging any U.S. role in the future development of the area.

Both He, His Spaceship Ready Again, Says Titov

MOSCOW (AP) — Maj. Gherman Titov said today his space ship survived 17 orbits of the earth as well as he did and everything is "fine and in working order—ready for another flight."

The Soviet Union's second cosmonaut was interviewed by correspondents of Pravda, the Communist party paper, at the undisclosed landing area as Moscow prepared a hero's welcome for him.

The newsmen described Titov as in excellent health and having an "almost bronze-colored face, as if tanned by outer space."

Although Titov said he encountered no trouble aboard the space ship for more than 24 hours—"conditions of weightlessness are good for working"—he did confess to one difficulty: He was homesick for solid ground.

"I knew that there was something in the nature of homesickness called nostalgia, but I found that there is also a homesickness for the earth. I don't know what it should be called but it does exist," Titov said.

"There is nothing more splendid in the world than mother earth on which one can stand, work and breathe the wind of the Steppes.

"I saw the fantastic sun and stars, the extraordinary, unearthly colors. The cosmos awaits its own painters and poets, and of course, scientists."

PRAISES NIKITA

Titov also came up with expected praise for Premier Khrushchev. The cosmonaut said a multiorbit flight could have been accomplished before now, but Khrushchev "insisted that the designers should reduce the risk to a minimum not only to life, but to the health of the cosmonaut who would spend such a long time in outer space."

Khrushchev himself will lead the welcome for Titov in Red Square, probably Wednesday. Workers are busy decorating the square in front of the Kremlin for a huge demonstration.

Titov's father, Stepan Pavlovich Titov, 52, and his mother, Alexandra Mikhailovna, were en route from the remote Siberian village of Pokovnikova to join in the festival. His wife, Tamara, will also be present. So will the first space traveler, Maj. Yuri Gagarin, who hurried home from a Canadian visit.

Titov was still reporting today to scientists on his 17 trips around the globe, which ended after 25 hours and 18 minutes of space travel at 10:18 a.m. Monday.

The Soviet Union's second spaceman made a pinpoint descent near the Volga 450 miles southeast of Moscow, the Soviet announcement said, almost at the spot where Gagarin landed and at almost the same hour of the day.

Workers Rally Behind Nikita's Berlin Stand

Show of Solidarity Is Organized as Employes Pledge Longer Day

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today organized a show of workers' solidarity behind Premier Khrushchev's firm stand on Berlin. Defense workers gathered at meetings to pledge a longer day at the plant if needed.

Khrushchev, who called for East-West negotiations on Germany but stuck to his demand for East German control of the access routes to Berlin, told the Soviet people Monday night that no sacrifices would be necessary to bolster the nation's military power.

* * *

But defense workers throughout the nation were summoned to factory meetings immediately after the speech. Communist party activists in fiery speeches called for a show of support for Khrushchev's policy and workers raised their hands to approve previously prepared resolutions on a longer work day. The Communist party paper Pravda published a picture of one-solemn-faced group with hands raised at a Moscow defense plant.

Congress Skeptical, P. 16
Europe Unsure, P. 18

The paper said the workers' meeting "approach the government with the request to permit defense plants to switch from a seven-to eight-hour working day for the purpose of further strengthening the defenses of the fatherland."

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union may have to move divisions to its Western borders and call up reservists. But he told the Russians that no extra appropriations would be necessary for the arms build-up.

'SUFFICIENT ARMS'

"The armaments which have already been produced and are being produced by our industry will be sufficient," he said. "We shall not make the people shoulder unnecessary, unjustified burdens."

K's Speech Opens Refugee Floodgates

BERLIN (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's tough speech on Germany sent greater numbers of East German refugees surging across the border to West Berlin today.

Told that the Soviets would not back down on Berlin, East Germans fled in ever increasing numbers in fear their escape route soon might be closed.

During the night 1,157 East Germans registered at West Berlin's Marienfelde Reception Center. It was thought the total today would reach 3,000, a figure surpassed only on the eve of the East German revolt of June 17, 1953.

Almost as many refugees came during the night as in all of Monday when 1,468 fled.

* * *

Khrushchev's announced readiness to negotiate made little impression here. It was noted that Khrushchev as always coupled a bid for talks with a flat statement he would not back down on his plan to give Germany a peace treaty and end Western rights in Berlin.

"Khrushchev will negotiate—but without concessions," bannerlined the West Berlin newspaper Morgenpost.

The view expressed in some Western nations that Khrushchev's speech was reassuring was not shared by Berliners.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said Khrushchev did nothing to lessen East-West tension. He described the speech as "unrealistic."

* * *

He considered the significant part of the speech the accent on Soviet military preparations.

Brandt said the flight of refugees showed what East Germans thought of Khrushchev's plan.

Exhaust Control to Be Mandatory

Ribicoff Will Request Legislation if Plan Not Ready by January

WASHINTON (AP) — Auto makers must soon start equipping cars with devices to control exhaust fumes or Congress will be asked to force them to do it.

Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff said Monday if the industry does not come up with a voluntary plan by January, he will ask Congress to require 1964 models to include air pollution control devices as standard equipment.

He said representatives of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, Inc., and engineering experts he conferred with Monday "are going back to Detroit and present the matter to the proper authority and give us an answer as soon as possible."

The auto men told Ribicoff the industry is now testing such devices but hadn't solved all the engineering problems.

"Most of the engineering leadership" understands the problem and wants to help solve it, Ribicoff said.

Some Showers May Be Coming Here Tonight

Chances are we may have a few scattered thundershowers tonight and tomorrow. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts a low of 66 tonight.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 66 degrees. The reading at 1 p.m. was 83.

SEN. WILLIAM PROXMIRE

May Delay Vote on Texan to FPC

Proxmire Not Sure He Will Complete Speech Against Oiler Tonight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said today he may delay until Wednesday a Senate vote on confirmation of Texas oil man Lawrence J. O'Connor as a federal power commissioner.

* * *

Proxmire told newsmen as the Senate convened that he was not sure he could complete his opposition speech on the nomination by tonight. "It may be tomorrow," he said.

Proxmire rambled on for seven hours and nine minutes Monday, but he had virtually no hope that the Senate would return the nomination to committee.

The Wisconsin Democrat said he only wanted to make the record clear, "for the future, if not for now." Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the effort was to continue today.

He allowed other senators to interrupt his talk for routine business such as announcing hearings, appointments, and such.

* * *

The Senate floor frequently appeared to be all but deserted. But Proxmire listed in scrupulous detail his charges that O'Connor was unqualified for the appointment.

STOCK IN 29 FIRMS

As former acting head of the Oil Import Administration, a position he held earlier this year, O'Connor owned stock in 29 firms which produce, import, or distribute oil, or related business interests, Proxmire said.

This, the senator contended, was a conflict of interests.

Proxmire said the Senate Commerce Committee, which approved the nomination, refused to ascertain how great O'Connor's holdings were.

"We were told it is not important, how rich he is," Proxmire said. "But how can we evaluate the conflict of interest if we don't know the amounts involved."

He said this was the first time the Senate ever was asked to approve a man named "directly from the gas industry to the FPC, the first time such a big gas and oil stockholder" was proposed for the post.

Rusk Reports to NATO on Big 4 Talks

European Nations Are Urged to Build Strength Before Berlin Talks

PARIS (UPI) — The United States called on all its European allies today to step up their military strength without delay to meet the mounting Berlin crisis.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk appeared before the 15-nation NATO permanent council to report on the results of last weekend's Berlin talks by the Big Four Western foreign ministers.

Diplomatic informants said Rusk was calling on all the NATO nations to join the United States, Britain, France and West Germany in helping to bring NATO's "shield" in Europe nearer to full scheduled strength before the West opens what may be critical talks with the Soviets.

Rusk, U.S. NATO Ambassador Thomas K. Finletter and six advisers arrived at NATO's gleaming new headquarters building facing the Bois de Boulogne Park shortly before 3 p.m. (8 a.m. Pontiac time).

* * *

The session was described as "private" and even an official record was not kept.

A few hours earlier, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home flew back to London with a warning that negotiations with the Soviets would be pointless unless they stand a chance of succeeding.

In an obvious reference to Monday night's broadcast by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who demanded an East-West summit meeting, Home warned "there is no point in repeating the word negotiations.

* * *

'VERY WORTHWHILE'

Later, it was announced officially that Rusk will fly to Rome Wednesday to meet with Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani and Foreign Minister Antonio Segni and then fly back to Northern Italy to see West German Chancellor

Nation's Center of Population in Illinois Field

WASHINGTON (AP)—The country's population center has been officially located in a field on the farm of Fred Kleiboeker about a mile south-southwest of Shattuc, Ill., a small rural community.

* * *

The Kleiboeker farm is about 6½ miles northwest of Centralia, Ill.

The Census Bureau defines the population center as "that point upon which the United States could balance, if it were a rigid plain, without weight and the population were distributed thereon with each individual being assumed to have equal weight."

"It has no scientific value," a bureau spokesman said. "It merely symbolizes the westward movement of the population."

* * *

Since the first census in 1790 the population center has moved westward 701 miles from its original point 23 miles east of Baltimore.

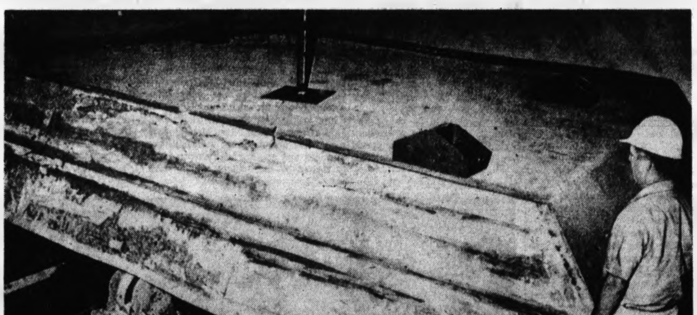
News Flashes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department today announced the arrest in Pocatello, Idaho, of Willie Hughes, 46, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted fugitives. Hughes is accused of the June 12, 1960, slaying at Detroit of Russell Sharpe.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee today unanimously approved a resolution calling for a probe of stock market operations.



Big Titan Silo Door Slams, Killing 5

DENVER (AP)—A 58-ton steel and concrete door atop a Titan missile launching silo slammed shut with an earth-shaking crash, killing five workmen and injuring eight others Monday.

* * *

Three bodies were recovered. Two others were pinned between the door and the edge of the huge silo. A spokesman at Buckley Field, scene of the tragedy 15 miles east of Denver, said "it may be as long as 72 hours before the door can be raised."

"It presents a considerable engineering problem," said a spokesman for one of the civilian contractors on the $160-million construction job.

* * *

Only two of the injured men were hospitalized. Charles W. Postle, 42, of Aurora and Howard Hoffman, 36, of Littleton, Colo. The others were treated and released. Postle suffered a broken back.

Witnesses said some of those who were injured leaped into safety nets placed at intervals in the 165-foot silo.

* * *

A spokesman at the missile complex said either a hydraulic failure or failure of a retaining cable caused the door to crash. It cracked and split with a tremendous roar.

The tragedy scene was the first of a Titan three-site complex to be turned over to military control. Each site on the Colorado plains will have a capacity of six missiles.

The prime contractor, Morrison-Knudson & Associates of Boise, Idaho, formally turned the missile complex over to military control last week.

Install Clocks on Hospital Grounds

They'll Know What Time It Is

Pontiac State Hospital patients are currently looking up to some very timely gifts—two large outdoor electric clocks.

"Time no longer stands still for our patients," said Dr. Walter H. Obenauf, hospital superintendent, "thanks to the generosity of our volunteers and employes."

The clocks, each 26 inches in diameter, have been installed on the west side of the South Infirmary building and above the entrance to the hospital chapel.

They are the first outdoor clocks installed since disasterous fires destroyed the original timekeepers shortly before the turn of the century.

* * *

In recent years, with the advances made in treatment and rehabilitation of mental patients, time has become a very important factor.

Earlier this year, according to Dr. Obenauf, patients commented about the need for outdoor clocks "to help them get places and do things on time."

There are now more than 1,000 patients—one-third of the hospital's total patient population—on ground privileges.

These people are getting better Dr. Obenauf said, and most will eventually be full-fledged members of the community again.

WANT TO BE ON TIME

"The improving patient wants to be on time for doctors appointments, therapy classes, meals, work therapy and visitors," the superintendent explained.

When the time problem was brought up at a meeting of the Oakland County Citizens Committee for Pontiac State Hospital a series of fund-raising projects began.

The committee got valuable help from the Pontiac Chapter of the Psychiatric Attendant Nurses Association; Women's Relief Corps of New Haven, in Macomb County; and Pontiac State Hospital Local 49 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes Union (AFL-CIO).

* * *

The clocks were bought and installed for about $200.

Pontiac Second in State With Off-Street Parking

You think parking is rough in downtown Pontiac?

Some statistics gathered for a report at Michigan State University indicate the city has provided more metered off-street parking than any other city in Michigan except Dearborn.

Pontiac has even more off-street meters than Detroit, according to the report prepared by Samuel G. Chapman for the Institute for Community Development at MSU's Kellogg Center.

The report is based on information from 68 Michigan communities of over 10,000 population.

* * *

According to the report, Pontiac had 11 municipal parking lots last December with a total 1,239 meters. An added 449 on-street meters pushed the total number to 1,688.

MORE ADDED

Since then more meters have been added in two new, small lots in Pontiac and some more will go into place when the Pine Street lot is expanded through a West Huron Street access.

Pontiac is one of 12 Michigan cities with a population of 50,000 to 100,000. Of the 11 others, Saginaw had 13 municipal lots with a total of 500 off-street meters. An additional 1,862 on-street meters pushed its total to 2,452 meters in all.

The other 10 cities in the population group had fewer municipal lots than Pontiac and fewer parking meters.

* * *

Ann Arbor, Bay City and Kalamazoo all had more than 1,000 on-street meters, but Ann Arbor had only two municipal lots with just 67 meters, Bay City three lots with 370 meters and Kalamazoo, three lots with 378 meters.

* * *

In other words, Pontiac had more than twice as many metered parking spots in municipal lots than any other city in its population category.

In the whole state, only Dearborn had more metered off-street parking than Pontiac. In the population category of 100,000 to 250,000, Dearborn had nine lots with 2,201 meters. Including 1,414 on-street meters, Dearborn had 3,615 meters in all, a little more than twice the number in Pontiac.

FLINT HAS LESS

Flint didn't have as many meters as Pontiac. It had a total of 1,053, including 938 on-street meters and 115 off-street meters in two municipal lots.

* * *

Grand Rapids, second biggest city in the state, had only 936 more meters than Pontiac. There were 2,624 in all, including 2,133 on the streets and 491 in seven municipal lots.

Lansing, the state's capital, had just 731 more meters than Pontiac. There was a total of 2,419, including 1,891 on the streets and 528 in 10 parking lots.

Pontiac had 1,239 meters in 11 lots while Lansing had only 528 meters in 10 lots. Dearborn's lots were bigger. There were 2,201 meters in nine Dearborn lots.

Detroit, of course, had more metered parking than any other Michigan city—9,591 meters in all. But 8,932 of these were on the streets. Detroit's eight municipal parking facilities had only 659 meters.

Sweltering Heat in Oregon Perils Forests of Pine

By United Press International

Searing heat pushed the forest fire danger near the explosive point in the evergreen forests of Oregon today.

Firefighters had all of the state's fires under control. But temperatures in the 90s and 100s yesterday increased the hazard of new blazes.

* * *

Cold air knifed into the Northern Great Plains during the night, dropping the mercury 15 degress from the previous night's lows. The Canadian air mass spread eastward toward the Upper Mississippi Valley and the Northern Great Lakes.

Two forest fires in Oregon destroyed 18,000 acres of timber before they were brought under control.

* * *

In Montana, 4,000 men battled fires which destroyed nearly 24,000 acres of timberland. The Montana crews were bolstered by U.S. Forest Service reinforcements from as far away as Wisconsin.

No Compromise on Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders conceded today Congress probably will amend the foreign aid bill but clung to hope that President Kennedy's main proposals would survive.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas said there has been no indication from the White House or the Democratic leadership in Congress of any willingness to compromise on the administration's plan to finance long term economic development projects with funds borrowed from the treasury.

Rayburn reiterated the administration's no compromise stand as Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., threw his support behind long range foreign aid as recommended by Kennedy.

Rayburn and other Democratic leaders, including Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, met for an hour with Kennedy this morning at their regular Tuesday breakfast parley.

* * *

Afterward Rayburn told reporters the administration measure may be amended before it clears the Senate and House but added: "I don't think that fundamentally it will be hurt too much."

Any important legislation is likely to be amended in some respect, Rayburn said, but "I doubt if this one is amended in what you would call a vital spot."

Rayburn's optimistic reference clearly bore on long range aspects of Kennedy's aid program.

Dag Takes Poll Over Tunisia

Consent of Three More Nations Is Needed for Special Session Call

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold begins polling the 99 members of the United Nations today to determine if three more will agree to a special session of the General Assembly to take up the French-Tunisian dispute.

Tunisia's Asian-African supporters lined up 47 signatures on requests for the session, but turned the task over to Hammarskjold after a week of trying unsuccessfully to get the necessary majority of the U.N. membership.

* * *

The request is for an assembly meeting as soon as possible "in view of the gravity of the situation" resulting from the French-Tunisian battle last month around the French naval and air base at Bizerte, Tunisia.

* * *

Tunisia accuses France of aggression and refusal to withdraw its troops to prebattle positions as demanded by the Security Council July 22.

* * *

A Soviet request for the session went not to Hammarskjold, whom the Soviet bloc refuses to recognize as secretary-general, but was addressed "to the secretariat." The Soviet delegate, Platon D. Morozov, pointedly told newsmen he had handed the bloc's request to Andrew Cordier, undersecretary in charge of General Assembly affairs.

Workers Get Behind Nikita's Berlin Stand

orbiting space flight, Khrushchev accused the West of pushing the world toward war over Berlin. He threatened in turn an accelerated build-up of the Soviet military strength.

"It may be that we shall have to increase in the future the numerical strength of the army on the Western frontiers by moving divisions from other parts of the Soviet Union," he said.

"In connection with this, we may have to call up a part of the reservists so that our divisions will have a full complement and be ready for any eventuality."

'REPLY MEASURES'

He called these "reply measures" to President Kennedy, who on July 25 pledged to defend West Berlin, and called for 217,000 additional men for the U.S. armed forces.

Kennedy's speech was a response to Khrushchev's threats at their Vienna meeting the month before that Moscow would end allied occupation rights in West Berlin by the end of the year through a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

* * *

In his speech Khrushchev told the United States, Britain and France: "Let's sit down around a table and negotiate in an honest way. Let's not create hysteria. Let's clear the atmosphere. Let's rely on sense and not on the strength of thermonuclear weapons."

U. S. Calls on Allies to Strengthen Forces

Before he made his report, observers said Rusk was expected to tell the NATO Council that there is "more than a theoretical chance" of war over Berlin.

His report also was expected to include these points:

—The United States, Britain, France and West Germany have agreed to strengthen their conventional forces in Western Europe within the next two months.

—The Western Big Four are ready to clamp an economic boycott against the Iron Curtain countries at points "where it hurts most" if the Berlin impasse hardens.

* * *

—There will be no formal offer to negotiate with Russia until after Sept. 17, when West Germany holds elections and the allies have boosted their military might in Europe.

Air Training Exercise Set Oct. 14 by NORAD

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — The North American Air Defense Command today announced that a defense training exercise is scheduled for Oct. 14.

The exercise, to be called Sky Shield II, will include restrictions on civil flights for a 12-hour period from 1 p.m. Oct. 14 to 1 a.m. Oct. 15.

Air Hijacker Hopes to Change His Plea

OROVILLE, Calif. (UPI) — Bruce McRae Britt, who went on a shooting spree while trying to hijack an airliner last week, hoped to change his plea today on three charges of attempted murder.

Britt, 40, of Smackover, Ark., pleaded guilty to the three-count indictment last Wednesday. He now intends to plead innocent on grounds of insanity.

Authorities said Britt has admitted firing three shots and pulling a knife during an unsuccessful attempt to hijack a Pacific Airlines DC3 at Chico, Calif., last Monday night. Two persons were seriously wounded and another was narrowly missed by the bullets.

Surprise Lurks in Bottle of Stolen French Cologne

CHICAGO (UPI)—The thief who looted a car of a package labeled "French Cologne" might regret turning it over to his girl friend, police said today.

CHE GETS WOUND UP — Ernesto (Che) Guevara, Cuba's minister of industrial production, holds a mate (tea) gourd in one hand and uses the other to make a point Monday during his visit to Uruguay's President Victor Haedo (right) at Hadeo's summer home at Punta del Este. The visit took place after the morning session of the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference.

U.S. State Dept. Considers Swap

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department isn't slamming the door on the possibility of exchanging a Cuban patrol boat for a hijacked American airliner.

But any enthusiasm for such an exchange was carefully restrained.

* * *

Press officer Lincoln White on Monday said merely that if such a proposal was made officially by Fidel Castro's government "it will be given consideration in line with this government's efforts to secure return of the plane through diplomatic channels."

The idea of a swap first was mentioned over the weekend in a New York Times story from Havana. It said the Cuban government had outlined the swap idea in a note to the Swiss Embassy, which represents U.S. interests in Cuba.

* * *

An Eastern Air Lines Electra was hijacked by an armed Cuban July 24 and flown to Havana at gunpoint. It is valued at $3.5 million.

The 40-foot Cuban patrol vessel recently was taken to Key West by Cuban refugees. Its value is estimated at less than $40,000.

The Coast Guard is holding the Cuban vessel. So far, no court order has been issued to seize it to meet claims by creditors against Castro. Some Cuban planes have been seized for debts in the past by U.S. creditors.

7 Are Rescued by Deputy From in Smoking Home

Ingham County Sheriff's Deputy Richard Norman of Mason suffered smoke inhalation in saving Kenneth Hyatt and his six children from the house which was filled with smoke from a flaming mattress.

Norman was on patrol when he noticed smoke pouring from the front door of the Hyatt home shortly before midnight.

He dashed into the house three times, leading and carrying the six children from two bedrooms, and dragging Hyatt by the foot when he was unable to awaken him. Mrs. Hyatt was working at a nearby hospital at the time.

The Day in Birmingham

Study Requiring Manager at Self-Service Places

BIRMINGHAM — Additional information on the operation of self-service dry cleaning establishments will be studied by the City Commission before any action is taken that would require a full-time attendant.

A recommendation from City Manager L. R. Gare to adopt an ordinance that would make it mandatory for an attendant to be on duty at all times met with little enthusiasm from the commission.

Gare had suggested on the advice of the fire department that self-service laundries and dry cleaners have some type of supervision to prevent fires and discourage vandalism.

Commissioners indicated that if such legislation was adopted that would require a manager at all times it could put the establishments out of business because of increased costs.

The Commission directed Gare to obtain more information on the self-service dry cleaner that is being planned for the city.

AWARD CONTRACT

The City Commission awarded a contract to the Nu-Cast Stone and Step Co. for 330 precast bumper strips to be used in the Northwest Quadrant Parking Lot and the Eton Park Lot.

The Detroit firm, the lowest of six bidders, received the contract for $1,033, approximately 11 per cent below the estimate.

Of the 330 strips, 160 will be used in the new lot now under construction and 170 will be installed in the Eton Park Lot. Each strip is 8 feet long.

ROBERT HAWKINS

City Hall Hires New Inspector

Move in Anticipation of Construction and Improvement Boom

A new inspector has been hired at City Hall in anticipation of a construction and home improvement boom.

Robert Hawkins, 55, of 324 Crystal St., Milford was named heating, refrigeration and air-conditioning inspector at a beginning salary of $6,155 a year.

Hawkins, who lived in Pontiac in his teens, has been heating inspector in Milford and Milford Township since 1957.

He spent most of his career either in business for himself in the sales and service field or as an employe of heating equipment manufacturers.

Pontiac's inspection staff, always short-handed, now has more duties under the new city codes adopted in the past few years in connection with urban renewal. And there is the expectation that undeveloped areas of the city will open with the advent of more sewage treatment facilities.

* * *

Russians Bounce German Writer From Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI) —The Soviet Union today expelled on journalistic grounds the first Western correspondent since the formal abolition of censorship March 23.

He is Botho Kirsch, for the past 15 months correspondent of the Frankfurter Rundschau.

Kirsch was summoned by an official of the press department of the Foreign Ministry and accused of "systematic disparagement of the policy of the Soviet Union and of its leadership."

He was given no deadline to leave the country but was expected to leave within a few days.

Franklin Blaze Guts Residence, Damage $25,000

The two-story brick home at 26175 W. 13 Mile Road is owned by Dale Webb. Webb, his wife and four children were out when the fire was discovered about 11 p.m. by neighbors.

Allen Young, 19, of 32647 Franklin Road, a Franklin auxiliary fireman, was injured slightly when plaster and insulation fell on him while he was fighting the blaze.

40,000 Begin Massive Peacetime Maneuvers

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (UPI) — About 40,000 Army and Air Force troops, many of them on emergency alert by presidential edict, today began the most massive peacetime maneuvers staged by American forces since World War II.

The operation, called exercise "swift strike," will spread throughout the Carolinas as the United States tests its cold war readiness to fight a limited war.

The military had to await the weatherman's okay, however, as scattered showers were expected over the area which could delay the jump until Wednesday.

* * *

The weather was clear during the early morning hours, however, and authorities said the jump would be held as scheduled.

The participants in the maneuvers had been gathering at this sprawling military reservation since Sunday in preparation for today's first full-scale mock battles.

Fourteen of the Air National Guard units participating in the exercise are on emergency alert for possible recall to active duty. They were alerted last week by presidential order.

Supersonic fighter planes will make ground sweeps over the simulated battle areas today before the airborne troops and members of the Strategic Army Corps (STRAC) move into the area.

The purpose of exercise "swift strike," officials said, is to evaluate equipment, training and strategy.

* * *

Plane Hijackers Quiet Prisoners

2 Face Possible Life in Prison; Indictment Handed Down Monday

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Two Arizonians today were described as quiet, cooperative prisoners with healthy appetites although they face possible life imprisonment after a thwarted attempt to deliver a Continental Airlines jet, its crew and hostage passengers to Cuba.

Leon Bearden, 38, and his son Cody, 16, kept in separate cells in the county jail here, showed little emotion as they received copies of the indictment handed down Monday by a federal grand jury.

The indictment charged the Beardens, of Coolidge, Ariz., with kidnaping members of the plane's crew and transporting the aircraft, crew and hostages across state lines. They will be arraigned in U.S. District Court at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

The prisoners were not allowed to talk with newsmen but jailers said they had no trouble with the Beardens. They said neither the father nor son had any conversation except with investigating officers.

Held on $100,000 bond each, they probably will be brought to trial soon after Labor Day.

Irate Woman Blows Whistle on Herself

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A Springfield woman called police Monday asking that the owner of a lot in her neighborhood be forced to cut the weeds. She gave police the name of an attorney she said was responsible for the property's management.

★ ★ ★

Police told the attorney the weeds must be cut. The attorney said he no longer was responsible for the property because the lot had been sold.

★ ★ ★

Police found the new owner was the woman complaining about the weeds. She told police she had been dickering for the lot but was not aware the deal had gone through.

She was given five days to have the weeds cut.

Church Window Wipers Clean Up on Wine Stock

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — Police Chief Louis Allen said a couple hired to clean windows in the Episcopal Church of the Messiah here during the weekend cleaned up the stock of Communion wine instead.

Edgar and Elizabeth Morgan, natives of Walhalla, S.C., were arrested on charges of drunkenness and larceny. He said they had six full bottles of wine in their car and told officers they had downed four already.

West 'All Ears' When K Speaks

Nikita Plays to a Captive Audience

By HARRY FERGUSON

PARIS (UPI) — Every actor in the world should be jealous of Nikita Khrushchev. He is a past master at getting the customers into the theater and holding them until the final curtain.

He went on the air at 6 o'clock, Paris time, Monday night and talked for an hour and a half. The tension began mounting here around 3 p.m.

The U.S., British and French foreign ministers are assembled in Paris to draw a blueprint for the defense of West Berlin and other points on the map which are potential areas for Communist aggression.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and his colleagues realized Khrushchev could speak three or four sentences which might force them to start their work all over again.

The U.S. embassy checked with United Press International to find out whether the Moscow report on the Khrushchev speech would be handled with speed on its teletype machine.

They wanted to tear it off the machine in short takes and deliver it to Rusk.

They were assured that nobody in the business is faster on a hot story than Henry Shapiro and his Moscow staff.

POISED OVER TICKERS

The British and French also were poised over their news tickers. The British technique on these matters is to first read the news dispatches, then get a summary and finally the full text of the Khrushchev speech.

Then the monocles and magnifying glasses are polished and the speech is studied word for word, comma by comma. Attention is paid to what Khrushchev does not say as much as what he does say.

The clock ticked toward 6 and business came to a halt in the three Western delegations. Henry Shapiro's story began rolling in from Moscow.

It contained many quotations from Khrushchev's speech and all of them were weighed and assessed as though they were jewels in the Amsterdam diamond market.

To the nonexpert eye the speech seemed to be old stuff. He repeated he was going to sign a peace treaty with East Germany . . . he denounced the Western powers as aggressors . . . he said President Kennedy was threatening him.

But the men who are paid to assess what Khrushchev thinks and says cannot take it for granted that it is all old stuff.

Far into the night and into the early hours of today they still were wearily scanning each word, sentence and paragraph, searching for hidden meanings in obscure phrases.

They were a captive audience for Khrushchev.

The Soviet premier even took charge of a social function here. French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville gave a dinner for Rusk and Lord Home, British foreign secretary.

By the time the soup was served each foreign minister had a good idea what was in the Khrushchev speech.

Later reports from the dinner left no doubt as to what was the topic of conversation throughout the evening.

"Lend me your ears," pleaded Mark Antony to the Romans as he began his funeral oration for Caesar. Khrushchev never has to make such a request. He gets them automatically.

Pontiac Press Photo

SCHOOL ADDITION GOING UP — Right on schedule is the construction work on a new 16-room addition to Rochester Community High School which was started less than three months ago. The $336,491 facility, part of the Rochester Community School District's $3.1-million expansion program, is slated to be ready for occupancy by the second semester of the 1961-62 school year.

Compromise Bill Signed by JFK at White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today signed into law a bill to cut costly grain surpluses and increase farmers' income.

The law requires farmers to cut next year's wheat planting allotment by 10 per cent in return for payments based on 45 per cent of the normal yield of the idled land. Durum wheat would be exempted.

Farmers could cut back wheat plantings by an additional 3 per cent in 1962 for payments based on 60 per cent of the normal yield.

Wheat farmers must approve the new marketing quotas in a referendum Aug. 24 before they go into effect. The voting was regarded as a formality since farmers have never rejected any such proposition.

* * *

The law also provides that farmers growing corn, feed barley and grain sorghum will not be eligible for price supports on these crops unless they reduce plantings, 20 per cent below their 1950-60 average.

As a further inducement, farmers who cut acreage will get payments based on 50 per cent of normal yield. This is basically a continuation of the 1961 feed grains program.

The signing marked a sharp turn away from the Eisenhower administration's philosophy of relaxing and eventually ending government intervention in production of crops.

The law reflects Kennedy's policy of more government action to restrict output and bolster farm prices. But it does not contain his controversial request to give the secretary of agriculture more responsibility for drafting price guarar legislation.

'WILL SAVE MONEY'

Administration officials claim the law will save taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars in storage and price support costs by reducing the nation's huge grain surplus.

* * *

By making payments for land taken out of production, the government in effect will be renting the land to keep it from producing surplus crops. This land must be put into pasture or other conservation uses.

The law also provides broader use of marketing orders so farmers can adopt restrictions on selling of some products to raise their prices without federal props.

Other provisions of the law:

—Extension for three years of the "food-for-peace" program under which surplus products are exported for foreign currency. Sales would be limited to $4.5 billion over the period with a $2 billion ceiling in any one year.

* * *

—Extension of the wool price support program for four years and renewal of the great plains conservation program for 10 years.

The law was a compromise version of different Senate and House bills. It was approved by Congress last Thursday.

There is no mention of 1962 grain support rates but the administration has indicated the present $1.79 a bushel rates for wheat will be boosted to $2 next year.

Southfield Youth Injured in Crash

Father Also Hurt as Car Hits Trailer on 12-Mile Road

SOUTHFIELD—A 9-year-old boy was in critical condition today at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after being thrown through the windshield of a car in which he was riding on 12-Mile Road.

Syrell Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Baldwin of 28048 Tyler Road, suffered severe lacerations of the face, head and both arms.

His father, who was driving the car, was in fair condition with fractured ribs and lacerations of the face. He was undergoing surgery this morning.

Southfield police said Baldwin, whose car was towing a small trailer, was traveling east on 12-Mile Road near Northwestern Highway when the accident occurred at 4:49 a. m. today.

Baldwin told police he saw a truck tractor with two trailers parked on the right side of the road as a car with bright headlights approached him from the opposite direction.

Baldwin, believing he would not have enough room to pass the large truck and trailers, swerved off the road to the right shoulder and struck the parked vehicle.

The impact threw his son through the windshield. Police said the pair apparently were going on a camping trip.

MRS. STANLEY E. KIPP

Directs Mealtime at County 4-H Fair

By LEE WINBORN
Area News Editor

For the sixth consecutive year Mrs. Kipp is serving as chief cook and bottle washer at the Oakland County 4-H Fair which opened today. Officially she is supervisor of food service for the five-day event.

This means she must rise early to be at the fairgrounds at 6 a.m. each day to get breakfast ready for the some 100 children who stay overnight all week to be near their animals.

The youngsters are quartered in large boys' and girls' tents and must be fed before they start getting their animals in shape for fair competition.

No sooner has Mrs. Kipp finished serving breakfast than she and her crew must begin preparing lunch and then dinner for some 100 to 150 more youngsters who will be on hand the rest of the day.

The larger groups also include judges of fair projects.

When asked when she began cooking on such a large scale, the Pontiac Township 4-H leader said it was when she was 10 years old.

"My father had a threshing outfit out West, and mother had to plan and prepare meals for crews of approximately 30 men. I started out by helping her," said Mrs. Kipp.

OTHER PROJECTS

Since those days she has had a lot more experience including three or four years as a cook at a girl scout camp and often preparing meals for large church functions.

Mrs. Kipp, whose husband drives her to work each day from their home at 1123 Doris Road, is assisted in the kitchen by 4-H volunteers. Livestock owners who have animals to show at the fair are having a member of their families help Mrs. Kipp with at least one meal this week.

Usually there are about 16 women working in the kitchen.

And cooking at the fair is not Mrs. Kipp's only 4-H contribution throughout the year. Although she has no children of her own, she helps 18 girls in the Galloway Lake 4-H Club with their home economics projects.

They meet once a week.

A devoted worker, Mrs. Kipp wields a pencil as well as pots and pans. She is secretary of the Oakland County 4-H Council which sponsors the fair jointly with the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

Novi Will Study Sewer System

Meeting on Wednesday Will Consider Linking With Wayne County

NOVI — A plan to connect future subdivisions here with the Wayne County sewer system will be discussed tomorrow at a meeting at the Orchard Hills Elementary School.

* * *

Attending the 8 p.m. program will be village and township officials, representatives of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, developers and planners.

Harold Ackley, village manager, said the proposal was made by the Village Sewer Committee and would only affect new homes.

The project, he said, would cost an estimated $1.6 million over a 15-year bonding period. The improvement would be paid for by developers through tap-in fees.

PLAN ESCROW FUND

Ackley said the developers of new subdivisions would put money into an escrow fund to pay off the bonds.

* * *

He explained that the work would have to be contracted through the Oakland County DPW which then would contract with Wayne County to service the area.

* * *

It's been estimated, Ackley said, that 2,900 homes could connect with the Wayne County system without difficulty.

This would mean each tap-in fee would be approximately $300 in cash or $590 over the 15-year period, the village manager said.

The plan calls for construction of two miles of pipeline in Oakland County and one mile in Wayne County.

* * *

Both the village and township would have to agree on the plan since both have property within their boundaries that can be subdivided.

Elmwood PTA Head Attends Workshop

AVON TOWNSHIP — William H. Bishop, president of the Elmwood School Parent-Teachers Association, attended a leadership workshop last Thursday through Saturday.

* * *

Sponsored by the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, the workshop was held at Waldenwoods Camp near Hartland.

* * *

Also present for the Friday session were Mrs. J. W. Freeland, local PTA treasurer, and Mrs. O. G. Nichols and Mrs. K. K. Evans, council members.

Avondale Rejects 2nd Proposal

OK 3.9-Mill School Levy

A millage proposition which will allow the Avondale School District to maintain its present school program was approved by a heavy turnout of voters in a special election there yesterday.

However, a second proposition asking for additional funds to upgrade the district's instructional services was defeated by a margin of 29 votes.

Proposition No. 1, a request to levy 3.9 mills for school operation for five years, was passed by a 76-vote margin, 379 to 303.

Failure of this proposal would have meant a slash of some $160,000 in the district's 1961-62 budget school officials said prior to the election.

Approval of this request will mean no increase in voted taxes over the 1960-61 rate. It replaces three mills formerly levied for operation and nine-tenths of a mill for debt service which went off the tax rolls during the past year.

REQUEST DEFEATED

The second proposition on the ballot, a proposed 2.6-mill operational levy or two years, gained the support of 324 voters while a majority of 353 defeated the request.

The Avondale Board of Education had asked for the 2.6-mill tax increase in order to help pay off an operating debt that has accumulated for several years.

"We can maintain the same type of program we've been offering in the district," School Supt. Leroy R. Watt said today.

* * *

"But we will have to ask the banks to either defer payment or allow us to make reduced payments on outstanding operating debts," said Watt, referring to the failure of the second proposal.

The school superintendent said the money paid out in interest on the debts is taken out of the district's operational program.

WON'T CUT BUDGET

Watt said Avondale will not have to cut its budget, but it cannot proceed with added improvements to its school program or increase the staff without the extra millage.

The first proposition passed in both of the district's voting precincts. However, the proposal gained greater support in Precinct No. 1, located west of Adams Road, receiving 194 yes votes to 138 no. The electorate in this precinct narrowly approved the second proposal, 166 to 165.

The second proposal was defeated when it was turned down by a 30-vote margin in Precinct No. 2, which usually supports millage requests and bond issues in the district. Proposition No. 2 failed in the second precinct, 188 to 158.

The nearly 700 voters who showed up at the polls was one of the heaviest turnouts in several years, according to Watt, who said the total was especially surprising since the election was held when many persons were on vacation. He said there was a large number of absentee ballots.

Mayor of Southfield Wins on Planning Appointment

The council approved the appointment 4-2 with one member abstaining.

Clarkson appointed Decheim as the city's first full time planner in June but the council rejected the action.

The mayor then withdrew his appointment of Decheim agreeing with the council that an experienced city planner was needed for the full-time position. Decheim also agreed that his name be withdrawn.

NOT FULL-TIME

Southfield has never had a full-time city planner. At present Alb Munson is the city's planning consultant, a part-time job.

The mayor's appointment of Louis J. Angelo as city assessor was tabled for further study by the council.

Clarkson fired Assessor Gerald Eastlick from his 9-year-old job in June and then named Myron Greenfield to the post. The council refused to confirm the appointment, however, and named Eastlick an assessing consultant

In the meantime a committee to review assessment procedures has been named by Council President C. Hugh Dohany. They are Councilman Thomas C. Rowley and Clarence Durbin, Herbert Fries, Philip Blanchard and Will J. Oliver.

The committee was organized to investigate charges made by the mayor of gross injustices and discrepancies in the assessor's office.

A committee report containing its findings and recommendations has been requested by the council by Sept. 11.

Grain Futures Turn Generally Downward

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices turned generally downward today during the first several minutes of transactions on the board of trade.

Soybeans were off about a cent in spots, but other losses were limited mostly to small fractions. Dealers said there appeared to be some profit cashing in wheat. The pressure in corn and soybeans was described largely as short selling.

Commercial influences were understood to be rather scant. Mill demand for wheat was light and export business slower.

Ups Outweigh Downs on Mart

Key issues rose fractions to a point or so in some cases, but a few small losers kept the list from running away. Trading held to a fairly active pace.

The general tone of the advance was heartening to brokers, who were hoping Monday's mixed market would be only a one-day interruption in the recent march to record levels.

Aircraft-missile issues again were in the limelight, reflecting anticipation of further defense spending. Boeing was up ⅛ at 55 on three successive blocks of 2,000 shares after opening unchanged on 5,000. McDonnell Aircraft rose nearly a point, adding to Monday's climb, while General Dynamics rose a major fraction and Douglas also was firm.

Steels, motors, some rubber shares, electronics, metals, most chemicals, airlines, drugs and building material shares joined in the advance. Utilities and rails were mixed and oils about unchanged.

U. S. Steel and Republic moved higher after a rise in industry operations last week and reports that output may rise still further this week. Bethlehem erased a small early loss.

AMEX MIXED

Insurance Co. of North America was an exception, jumping 1¼, while fractional gainers included Creole Petroleum, Heli-Coil, Ogden Corp. and Cubic.

Judge Enters Plea for Area Resident

A plea of innocent was entered by circuit court yesterday for Major Bryant, 52, of 5386 Ormond Road, who is charged with felonious assault in the shooting of his brother.

BREAKTHROUGH—With this test firing of a solid fuel rocket motor at Morgan Hill, Calif., Saturday, scientists are claiming that major roadblocks in the production of a single rocket of up to 3 million pounds of thrust have been overcome. The rocket is anchored nose down on its concrete pad. It operated for 80 seconds and produced 250,000 pounds of thrust.

Damage From Fire in July Doubles First 6 Months

In June damage totaled $33,480. There were no deaths from fire last month. Two persons were injured, the same as in June.

* * *

Per capita, the fire department reported Pontiac lost $1.99. The June figure was $0.41.

Firemen answered 142 alarms in July, 35 less than in June.

Of these 53 were fire alarms — 21 fires in buildings, 3 brush and grass, 1 rubbish near building, 3 dump, 4 miscellaneous, and 16 in motor vehicles.

The other calls included 41 rescue and emergency runs, 1 accidental alarm, 24 false alarms and 23 investigations.

* * *

Activities Are Added to Recreation Plan

Additional activities have been included in a 1961-62 program to be presented by Recreation Director Robert Lawyer at tomorrow night's Waterford Township Recreation Board meeting.

Lawyer will ask that classes in small watercraft safety, fiber flower making, and landscaping and gardening be part of the large activity program already scheduled.

Officers will be elected after the meeting opens at 8 p.m.

Lawyer also will present a summary of the summer's activities involving 3,212 residents who participated in softball play, swimming, playground, blooperball and the day camp programs.

* * *

According to Lawyer's report, more than 1,900 children registered for playground activities, 380 boys played junior baseball, about 570 took swimming lessons, 150 men played league softball and between 250 and 300 children attended Day Camp.

Bell Telephone Suit Dismissed in Circuit Court

A suit filed last month by a Troy man against the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., was dismissed yesterday in Circuit Court.

John G. Garner of 6951 Dublin Fair Road, had charged that Michigan Bell's rate structure was unjust and discriminatory against segments of its subscribers.

In yesterday's show cause hearing, William R. Beasley, attorney for the company, moved for dismissal on ground that Garner had not first asked the State Public Service Commission to hear his complaints and that the Oakland court had no jurisdiction over the suit under a state statute governing such action.

Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero dismissed the case.

Pontiac Area Directory Coming Out August 20

A new Pontiac area directory will be available Aug. 20, publisher Bresser's Cross-Index Directory Co. of Detroit announced today.

Rubber, Tire Firms Warned to File Return

The district director of Internal Revenue today reminded all jobbers, wholesalers and retailers who had inventories of tires, tubes or tread rubber for retreading on July 1 that they must file a floor stocks tax return, Form 3174, on or before Oct. 15.

* * *

This tax was imposed by the Federal-Aid Highway Act passed by Congress this year.

Trio Arraigned, 5 Sought in $100,000 Fraud Charge

Accused of bilking a loan company in Ferndale of more than $100,000, three alleged members of an eight-man ring were arraigned before West Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dieterle yesterday.

Dieterle also has issued warrants for five other men believed to have been involved in a long list of swindles last year.

All eight men worked together, forging names to credit statements, selling low-cost household goods to bad credit risks and putting the loans through a Ferndale branch of the General Public Loan Co., according to Oakland County Senior Asst. Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry Jr.

They have been charged in the warrants with obtaining money under false pretenses, conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses and conspiracy to avoid paying the state sales tax.

Demanding examinations of these charges when arraigned yesterday were Ivan Batten, 46, of 29460 Fall River Road, Southfield; Peter Lazaros, 27, 2410 Dalesford Road, Troy, and Jordan Raider, 24, of Detroit.

RELEASED ON BOND

Batten and Lazaros were released on $10,000 bond each. Raider was freed on a personal bond, pending examination in justice court August 29.

Arrest of the three climaxed six months of investigation by State Police Detective Charles Leaf.

Still being sought by police on the warrants are Gino Ronchetto, 33, of Garden City; William Tees, 30, Detroit; Robert Levine, 27, Detroit; Anton Postic, Highland Park; and Frank Bezzo of 12925 Wales St., Huntington Woods.

Ronchetto, former manager of the loan company branch office at 22848 Woodward Ave., Ferndale, is believed to be honeymooning in Florida.

* * *

According to Barry, Ronchetto and Levine, also a former branch employe, were approving the credit applications for a kickback and concealing the deals from the home office in St. Louis, Mo.

Eventually the home office got wind of the deals, after more than $100,000 in uncollectible "bad paper" had piled up, said Barry.

The household merchandise, including television sets, home freezers and furniture, was retailed through three now-defunct companies in Ferndale, Royal Oak and Madison Heights from April 1960 until January 1961, Leaf said.

Expect Commission to Act on Hospital Trustees

After two weeks consideration, the City Commission is expected to act tonight on appointment of three members to the 11-member Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees.

The terms are four years.

Terms of three trustees who have served since 1957 have expired. They are those of Isaac Smoot, Cecil J. Cosgrove and Rev. Theodore R. Allebach.

2 HEARINGS SLATED

Also tonight only two hearings are scheduled, covering plans for curbs and gutters on Hillside Drive, Burt to City Line, and on Elm Street, Paddock to Jessie.

A hearing date will be scheduled on assessment rolls covering the proposed $27,500 sanitary sewer project on Clara, Fuller and Peacock streets in Northeast Pontiac.

* * *

Assessment rolls are to be confirmed for payment to finance nine blacktopping jobs on neighborhood streets.

Cost estimates are ready for two proposed sidewalk improvements, a small sanitary sewer and some more curbs and gutters.

W. Europe Feelings Mixed Over Khrushchev's Talk

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe reacted today to Premier Khrushchev's "let's talk it over" speech with a mixture of caution, skepticism and a willingness to negotiate.

Most British newspapers agreed with Khrushchev that it was time for East-West leaders to sit down at a table and negotiate the pressing issues of Berlin and Germany.

* * *

But in France and West Germany, there was caution and some suspicion of Khrushchev's motives. Some newspapers and politicians felt that the Soviet premier had not changed the crisis climate.

"Negotiation in his eyes can be conceived only on the basis of the settlement he envisages for solving the Berlin crisis," said Paris' conservative Figaro.

BILL SPACE FEAT

Despite the urgency of the situation, many newspapers throughout Europe gave top billing to Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov.

* * *

Even the Communist party newspapers in London, Rome and Paris considered the space traveler the biggest newsmaker of the day. So did the London Daily Mirror and Daily Herald, and all early editions in Rome and Paris. Copenhagen papers were too preoccupied with Titov to mention his premier editorially.

* * *

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said Khrushchev had done nothing to reduce East-West tensions. Brandt assailed Khrushchev's statement that self-determination for Germany was just a hypocritical Western slogan. The mayor said the Germans' elementary wish for self-determination cannot be passed off with the art of dialectics.

NO DIFFERENCE

The deputy chairman of West Germany's opposition Socialist party, Herbert Wehner, agreed that Khrushchev had not departed at any point from his previously stated position on Berlin.

The London Daily Mail called for a summit meeting with Khrushchev "at the earliest moment to find out what his real intentions are." The London Times said the door on both sides is open to negotiation.

Plumbing Code Given Approval

Waterford Twp. Board Adopts Plan Similar to State Setup

The Waterford Township Board last night adopted it's first plumbing code, after recommendations were presented by the newly appointed plumbing board.

The new code is almost identical to the Michigan State plumbing code with the purpose of "establishing a uniform minimum standard for construction, installation and inspection of plumbing and drainage." The code will go into effect 30 days after publication.

OK PAVING PROJECT

There were no objectors present at a public hearing for black topping 3,310 feet of Kempf Street. The board approved the $30,748 project.

The board discussed a request of Police Chief Millard A. Pender for the hiring of eight additional reserve officers to relieve the regular patrolmen.

There are now only six reserve officers and all receive a $1 token fee.

* * *

Chief Pender said, "These men are doing a magnificent job. However we need more, as two men are needed on the midnight shift, and we just don't have enough regular policemen for night patrol duty."

Judge Dismisses Kidnaping Charges

Mrs. Wolf charged that Wolf had abducted their son, Jeffrey, 10, from Camp Sea Gull near Charlevoix July 29. She said that when they were divorced last May 19, she was given custody of Jeffrey and his sister, Karen, 11.

Justice Lynn said there was no indication that Wolf had tried to conceal his son's whereabouts and that he surrendered willingly to state police.

Man Stands Mute on Abortion Charge

A former Pontiac beauty shop owner, Albert Bicolli alias John Abbot, 46, of Detroit, stood mute when arraigned on a charge of abortion in Circuit Court yesterday.

Bicolli was arrested July 26 by Redford state police detectives after an Ypsilanti hospital reported a bungled abortion.

Investigation led them to Bicolli who owns a Detroit beauty shop where the victim had been employed.

Ex-Teamster Surrenders on Bad Bond Charge

Samuel J. Marrosso, business agent for Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 in 1950 and 1951, surrendered to FBI agents yesterday on charges of transporting counterfeit bonds across state lines.

* * *

In an appearance before Federal Judge Ralph M. Freemen in Detroit, Marrosso, 47, of Warren was released on $5,000 until a hearing Friday.

Marrosso, convicted with two other former officials of Local 614 in an extortion plot in 1954, is now charged with two other men in taking $191,000 worth of phony Ohio Turnpike bonds to the Bahama Islands for deposit in a bank.

Money Voted for Space, Moon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress Monday voted $1,671,755,000 for the U.S. space flight program, including $471.75 million for the manned moon shot effort.

* * *

The money was carried in a compromise measure providing a total of $8,962,350,000 to finance 20 different government agencies in the fiscal year which began July 1.

The bill sailed through both the House and Senate by voice votes.

The over-all amount is $337 million more than President Kennedy asked.

Over half the total is in one item — $4,888,000,000 for the Veterans Administration.

* * *

Other major items include $723 millions for the Federal Aviation Agency, including funds for its airport air program; and $78.25 million to the Civil Aeronautics Board for items including payment of subsidies to airlines plus $6 million for helicopter service subsidies.

Michigan Employed 300 to Repair Guard Rails

LANSING (UPI)—Some 113 miles of highway guard rails were repaired this summer—providing temporary jobs for 300 unemployed workers, the State Highway Department says.

Red Space Shots Tied to Political Moves

BY BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—The best way to find out what the Russians plan to do in the space race is not to study their cosmonauts and the sophistication of their giant boosters but to examine their scheduled political moves.

She went up just as the comrades from many lands assembled in Moscow to whoop up the 40th anniversary of the conspiracy's murder of the Democratic-minded Kerensky government.

It was a smashing publicity stunt as well as a profound achievement in expanding man's horizons. The only victim was Laika.

Soviet space experts had not yet figured out a method of delaying a capsule's orbit by means of retrorockets. Laika burned to a cinder on reentry.

* * *

The prototype of the Vostok capsule in which Gagarin and Titov made their historic flights was sent into orbit just as President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan and President de Gaulle were about to sit down with Khrushchev at the disastrous Paris summit conference.

Khrushchev arrived in Washington once two days after the hammer and sickle had been imbedded in the moon.

Titov was blasted out of this world's atmosphere on the eve of Khrushchev's reply to President Kennedy in the Berlin crisis, within hours after the Warsaw pact nations announced they'd stand firm on the impending peace treaty with East Germany, and just as the foreign ministers of the United States, Great Britain, France and West Germany sat down to unite their Berlin opinions.

NEXT IN OCTOBER

The next Soviet shot? That's easy. It will come in October and coincide with the 22nd congress of the Communist party.

Henry Shapiro, UPI-Moscow, says that the talk is that three cosmonauts will go up in the same big capsule, and stay aloft for three or four days.

The whole world marveled Sunday when Maj. Titov calmly announced from on high, "Now I wish to say good night to you dear Muscovites. I am going to bed. Do whatever you may like to do—but I go to bed now."

Who tended to the store while the self-styled Eagle was sacking out?

* * *

Well, his capsule probably has what amounts to an automatic pilot, just as our Mercury capsule.

The capsule can be operated from ground stations, too, as was Gagarin's Vostok I.

Titov could have conked off while waiting on the pad and slept throughout the entire flight and the landing, and the vehicle would have performed as well. Man tends to become a bit superfluous up there.

Dozing at the wheel is a little different in space than on Route 90. The spaceman has little or no chance of colliding with another vehicle.

In space, each molecule of air—air as we know it—is separated by perhaps five miles. There is nothing to retard the vehicle, no way it can go off course.

It just keeps "falling" at about 18,000 mph, "falling" toward a horizon that eludes it as it is drawn toward it. There is no wind pressure.

The 100-foot Echo communications balloon which we sent up months ago is still in orbit at the above mentioned speed though it apparently has been punctured thousands of times by tiny bits of space debris.

* * *

Sleep in space will lose its novelty as man ventures farther out into the limitless expanse. A trip to the moon will consume two and a half days; a probe of Venus a matter of months.

At present space speeds, an infant astronaut would die of old age long before his craft reached some of the other planets that revolve around that feeble and insignificant star we call the sun—a tiny speck of luminous matter lost among the outer fringes of the Milky Way.

TALKS TO NIKITA—According to the Tass caption accompanying this radio wirephoto from Moscow, Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov is on the phone talking to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev after Titov's successful space flight.

Actors Have to Talk to Keep on Acting

By FRED DANZIG

* * *

And it seems that in order for the actor to keep acting, he must talk to writers who keep writing for readers who like to keep reading. If you examine this broad design closely, you'll sometimes find an interior pattern. The unvarying show biz pattern might be a three-year cycle of interviews which, when condensed into one column, might look like this:

After 26 years as a motion picture star, Niff is excited about his first TV venture, a situation comedy called, "The Bunch Back Home."

In an exclusive interview, Niff said he would portray an elderly banana peddler, the head of a large, rambunctious family, who encounters fresh adventures and bananas each week

* * *

"It'll get me away from being type cast as a suave gambler," Niff said. "Everyone who has seen the pilot film has loved it. They tell me the agency guys and the network brass have all flipped.

Sponsors are lining up. Believe me, it's a great feeling. You know," Niff said, "Motion pictures were no longer fulfilling for me, as an artist I mean . . . etc."

YEAR GOES BY

One year later: Handsome Glenn Niff is happier than ever. When he's not on stage, starring in the new Broadway comedy hit, "Shave and a Haircut," he's thanking his lucky stars that he missed getting dragged into a TV series last year.

"We made a pilot film for a comedy show about a banana peddler," Niff recalled. "I had reservations about it, but I got carried away by everyone's enthusiasm.

* * *

"If I went into TV, I'd be tied up for years. Broadway—where I have realized full artistic fulfillment—would have been out of the question . . . etc."

Pat Boone Finds Zulus Rocking to Transistors

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Pat Boone, who's been circling the globe, flashes me that in Zulu huts outside Johannesburg — "where the women and men wear birthday suits with few accessories" — he found them listening to American-made transistor radios.

* * *

"Here where wives can be bought for $28 or five cows, the whole family did tribal dances for me, and upon my soul, the rock-'n-roll beat was traced to its source," Pat reports.

"It traveled to New Orleans, put on jazz and Dixieland suits, finally graduated to 'all-out Rock,' very similar to the original music, rhythms and dances," he says. "And now I discovered Zulus in their still-primitive huts using their radios to catch up on the latest from the 'States' — their same old beat, brought up to date."

* * *

Eddie Fisher — on the phone from Beverly Hills — told me he felt honored, pleased and grateful that Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and the rest of "The Group" heckled him at his recent opening. (Some reports gave an opposite impression.) "I like to be heckled by them and the audience was hysterical — it was marvelous," said Eddie. He and Liz Taylor will sail from New York for Rome late in August.

* * *

LOUISE

Pretty singer Louise O'Brien said "Congratulations!" to Mrs. Jack Carter (Paula Stewart) last week and I said, "Why? Is Paula pregnant?" Louise explained, "No — but she got the part in the George Gobel show" — ("Let It Ride") — "that I was up for, and if I couldn't have it, I'm glad she got it."

* * *

Word comes from Paris that Alan Jay Lerner has abandoned a musical about Coco Chanel and is writing a TV adaptation of Charles De Gaulle's war memoirs . . . Rocky Marciano received an award for Italian-American Athlete of the Century . . . "I'm used to the best of everything," the traveler said when he checked in at the smalltown hotel. The clerk replied, "The change will do you good" . . . That's earl, brother.

Re-Armament Founder Dies

The Pennsylvania-born Lutheran clergyman died while resting in a suite at his hotel in this Black Forest resort where he first had the inspiration to found his movement. Dr. Buchman was here for a holiday and rest.

Peter Howard, British newsman and author who was one of Dr. Buchman's closest friends, was with him when he died. Also present were Prince Richard of Hesse, Dr. Maurice Martin, an old friend, and Dr. Paul Campbell, who was the late Henry Ford's physician.

* * *

Howard said Dr. Buchman had a coronary attack at 10 p.m. and died 15 minutes later without regaining consciousness. Dr. Campbell attended him

War Games Devastate S. Carolina Melon Patch

PATRICK, S.C. (AP) — Exercise Swift Strike has barely begun, but C. H. Hicks of Jefferson said troops have found the melons in one of his fields so tasty he must file a reimbursement claim with Uncle Sam.

The federals are prepared, however. Col. R. M. Gray of the 3rd Army's judge advocate section heads a staff of men sent to Cheraw to process damage claims by landowners during the two-week war games now under way. Gray said the government will pay Hicks for the melons.

N-Sub Ethan Allen Joins Fleet Today

GROTON, Conn. (UPI) — The nuclear Polaris submarine Ethan Allen, whose solid-fuel missiles can wipe out any land or sea military target within 1,500 miles, joins the Navy today.

She will be the sixth fleet ballistic missile sub to be commissioned, and the first of five to fire the 1,500-mile missile. All of her predecessors fire the 1,200-mile missile and most of them now are on patrol.

The second generation of Polaris submarines, the Ethan Allen displaces 6,900 tons and will carry 16 nuclear missiles which can be fired while the ship is submerged or surfaced.

Claims Insurance Plan Has Success Assured

LANSING (UPI)—Success of a new group life insurance program for the state's 31,000 classified employes has been assured, says Franklin K. DeWald, state civil service director.

DeWald told the Civil Service Commission at a meeting Monday that tabulation of 8,589 enrollment cards indicated more than 90 per cent of the state employes checked to date planned to join the state-sponsored program.

DeWald said he had expected more than two-thirds enrollment, "or possibly as much as 75 per cent, but this level of acceptance was totally unexpected."
