Cold Front May Snap Heat Wave Friday Night

Rain Yesterday Fails to Bring Relief to Area

Mercury Reaches 90s Again for 6th Straight Day Here

8 a. m.	79	11 a. m.	91
9 a. m.	83	Noon	92
10 a. m.	88	2 p. m.	94

The thermometer registered in the 90s today for the sixth straight day, but the weather bureau held out hope of relief this weekend.

Scattered electrical storms in the northwest section of Oakland County left some homes without utility service. A rash of minor traffic accidents were attributed to the driving rain.

One storm death was recorded in the state.

The temperature was expected to hit the 90s again tomorrow, but a cold front moving through the western plain states may bring relief from the heat tomorrow night.

Cooling breezes should end the heat wave by Saturday or Sunday, the weather bureau stated.

The immediate local forecast was for partly cloudy and continued hot and humid through tomorrow with widely scattered thundershowers mostly in the afternoon and evening. Tonight's low was predicted at 72-76.

The mercury in downtown Pontiac climbed from 79 at 8 p.m. today to 94 at 2 p.m.

BOY IS KILLED

Dean Richards, 8, of Laingsburg, was struck by lightning and killed yesterday while playing alone on the grounds of that Shiawassee County Community's school.

Storm damage in this area was confined to power line breaks due to lightning.

A traffic light at Dixie Hwy. and Andersonville Rd. in Waterford was off from 3:55 p.m. to 4:45 p.m. A minor traffic tie-up occurred until Waterford Township police arrived.

The Detroit Edison Co. reported about 150 persons without service from two to three hours in Waterford Township. Scattered service shut-offs occurred in White Lake, Springfield, Commerce, Rose, Independence and Orion Townships plus Pontiac city.

Wires were down in Waterford at 4049 Walton Blvd. and at Hedge and Edgeton Rds.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. reported about 600 phones out. The Drayton Plains-Lake Orion-Clarkston region was hardest hit. Service was restored completely this afternoon after crews worked all night.

Assemble Model A's at Dearborn Today

DETROIT (AP)—Lined up at their original home in suburban Dearborn today are 57 Model A Ford cars, most of them as "spry" and shiny as the day they left the assembly line some 25 years ago.

They returned for the first annual meeting of the Model A Restorers Club, Inc. Its 800 members are trying to restore their old Model A's to peak condition.

Ford Motor Co. built some 4½ million Model A's between 1928 and 1931.

William White, who drove his 1931 Model A 2,700 miles from Carlsbad, Calif., won prizes for the most miles traveled and for the most passengers carried.

11 Freed Airmen Arrive Happily at Manila Base

Fliers Due in Tokyo Tomorrow Before Trip Home to Families

MANILA (AP)—The eleven American airmen freed by Red China tonight arrived at Clark Air Force Base from Hong Kong, where they earlier had crossed happily over the border to freedom.

They were met by Brig. Gen. William L. Lee, commander of the U. S. 13th Air Force, and by U. S. Ambassador Homer Ferguson.

It was sort of a homecoming for all eleven. They previously were attached to the 581st Wing at Clark before they went to Korea on rotation in 1952.

They will fly tomorrow to Tokyo and then to the U.S. West Coast for reunion with their families.

They were in Hong Kong only a few hours and it was there they gave the few remarks permitted so far.

Col. John Knox Arnold Jr., 41, Silver Spring, Md., their leader, bitterly told a press conference, "Peiping is not entitled to a g--d--- thing" in now releasing the 11 B29 crew members.

Communist China convicted them as spies last November. They had been held since their plane was shot down Jan. 12, 1953, in the Korean War.

Arnold declared his B29 was shot down 35 to 40 miles south of the Yalu River China border while on a leaflet dropping mission over North Korea. All crewmen bailed out and were captured in North Korea, he said in his first chance directly to deny Communist China's assertion the plane intruded into China.

IN GOOD CONDITION

Two medical checks after they crossed the border bridge to freedom today showed all in "fairly good condition," three doctors reported.

Maj. William H. Baumer, 32, of Lewisburg, Pa., was on crutches. He said his left leg was wounded when the plane was shot down. He later suffered frost bite.

Elated in their freedom, the fliers refused to look back into the Red China.

Arnold glanced over his shoulder and said, "That is all. I don't want to look back any more." Another said, "I can't, I won't look back."

Emotion so choked Arnold when he was called before television and newsreel cameras at Hong Kong's plush Jockey Club that he couldn't speak. He turned away and mumbled, "I simply can't say how I feel."

Gun Battle Nets Brink's Bandits

Third Escapes After Trio Ambush; Shoot Guard in Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Three armed men ambushed a Brink's armored car, shot a guard and made off with $160,000 in racetrack receipts last night. Two were captured after a gun battle. The loot was recovered.

The bandits, clad in silk-stocking masks and armed with a submachinegun, broke into the Brink's, Inc., garage and vault before the car arrived with almost $498,000 in receipts from the Fort Erie race track just across the Niagara River in Canada. Three Brink's employes were on the truck.

Two of the holdup men were captured a half hour later after an 11-block running gun battle.

"I thought I was a dead man," said Eugene Clohessy, 27, the wounded guard.

"Saw 'em and pulled my .38 but before I could fire a shot the guy with the tommy gun got me in the shoulder."

The bandits were identified by police as Anthony Pettinato, 39, Baltimore, and Sylvester Mazella, the Bronx.

Pontiac Area Employment Shows Increase Over '54

Despite a moderate employment decline in the past 30 days, there are currently 5,900 more persons working in the Pontiac area than there were a year ago, the Pontiac office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported today.

The area's largest industry—motor vehicles—has on its payrolls 3,700 more employes than a year ago, said James H. Dudley, office manager.

Employment currently stands at 80,800 in the area north from 14-Mile road, 800 less than during the previous 30-day period, Dudley said.

A continuation of the slight downward trend is foreseen through mid-September, the manager stated. He estimated the figure will drop by another 500 in the six weeks' period.

Unemployment at mid-July was estimated at 2,900, up 300 in the past month but 3,100 less than a year ago, Dudley said. The unemployed now make up 3.3 per cent of the total labor force compared with 3 per cent in June and 7.1 per cent in July, 1954.

"Increases in the number of unemployed reflect some decreases in employment, continuing immigration and the entrance into the labor market of school graduates and summertime job seekers," Dudley said.

Unemployment compensation activity continued at a very low level, reaching the lowest point in two years last week.

Health Director Favors Shorts for Men on Job

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—City Health Director James T. Googe says the time has come when "we should break American tradition."

How? By making it acceptable to wear walking shorts to work.

Dr. Googe said last night, "Many men, including myself, change into shorts upon arrival home from work. But we don't wear them on the job because they aren't acceptable. What it takes is for 30 or 40 men in a town to band together and lead the parade."

Turnpike Survey in Area Finished

MTA Head Is Convinced Toll Road Route Here Is Best Possible

The chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority yesterday completed a block-by-block survey of the proposed toll road route from Pontiac to the south Oakland County line and said he is convinced the general layout is the best possible.

George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, said, "I'm willing to listen to any suggestions but feel only a few minor engineering changes are needed before the present route will disrupt individual homes and communities the least while still meeting traffic demands."

Higgins stated his group will meet Aug. 15 with Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo to "listen to any suggestions the mayor has about the route through the Detroit area."

Once the turnpike's construction is started, the chairman declared, "I'm going to insist that it be finished as near the 2-year mark as possible." Previous estimates placed construction time at three years.

The authority will meet Monday in Lansing with the State Highway Department in an attempt to agree on a coordination of plans. Highway Commissioner Charles M. Zeigler has asserted he will push construction of a north-south freeway to run through Oakland which would make a toll road impractical.

Calls U.S. Plan 'Unrealistic,' Praises Geneva

Lauds Eisenhower but Offers Own Program for Arms Control

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Bulganin today turned down as "unrealistic" President Eisenhower's plan for a swap of military blueprints and mutual air inspection of each other's territories.

Deputies to the Supreme Soviet Parliament assembled in the Great Kremlin hall burst into laughter when Bulganin said the real effect of the President's proposal would not be considerable because "both countries have limitless territories on which one could hide anything."

The President offered at the Geneva summit conference on July 21 to pinpoint American military establishments and let them come under the eyes of Russian aerial inspection teams in return for reciprocal action by the Russians.

The President said he made the proposal to convince everyone of "the great sincerity of the United States in approaching this problem of disarmament."

The Soviet premier's rejection of the Eisenhower plan came near the end of his 95-minute report to the Soviet people on the Geneva conference. He spoke to a special session of 1,500 deputies to the Supreme Soviet.

GENEVA EASED TENSION

He made three main points about the conference:

1. Geneva helped to ease international tension.

2. The personal contact there proved fruitful.

3. It marked the beginning of putting an end to the cold war. He pledged the U.S.S.R. would work to end the cold war.

He said all four powers displayed a desire at Geneva to end the cold war.

Referring to Eisenhower's plan as a step toward disarmament, Bulganin said:

"We must pay tribute to his efforts for a settlement of this question, but the real effect could not be considerable and we said in unofficial talk at Geneva that both countries have limitless territories on which one could hide anything."

Emancipator Heldenbrand Strikes Blow for Freedom, Comfort

Reason triumphs.

Sanity prevails.

(And that's unusual when it comes to fashions—animal, vegetable or mineral.)

Howard V. Heldenbrand swelters and sizzles in formal shirt with collar and tie as the mercury threatens to leap from the top of the tube.

Wednesday's Press announced that six hardy pioneers in Pontiac had agreed to wear sport shirts without neckties when the mercury reached 90, providing other businessmen showed a willingness to follow.

This was a startling innovation, for the t.b.m. has been a silent, suffering victim of social edicts since the beginning of time.

The response was immediate.

It was amazing.

It was unanimous.

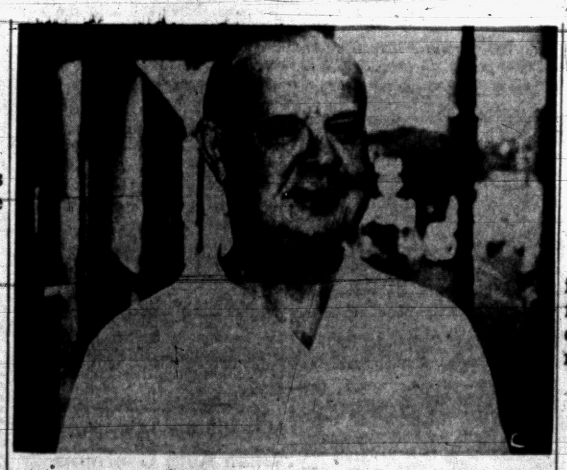

And it was "YES."

★ ★ ★ ★

Replies came in by telephone, telegraph, special delivery, dog team, registered mail, cablegram, sky writing, smoke signals and pony express. Yes, and late this morning an Egyptian hieroglyphist unearthed an unmistakable "yes" chiseled on a Babylonian tablet. Verily, this move is becoming world wide.

★ ★ ★ ★

With the customary enthusiasm and journalistic enterprise with which we cover all earth shattering events, the Press immediately rushed for photographs of one of the Head Men in the New Move. We selected

This is the same Howard V. Heldenbrand. Now he has switched to a sport shirt and divested himself of that ghastly necktie which locks the heat inside. Which do you favor?

Howard Van Antwerp Heldenbrand because of his unusually photographic physiognomy; because of his long record of social leadership; because of his compassion for suffering men; and because he was closest.

Appended herewith are two likenesses of His Grace. One was taken after he had been enduring the debilitating effects of 90 plus temperature and its concomitant exhaustion. The other was taken after he had discarded Mankind's Greatest Summertime Curse and was comfortably clad in a sport shirt, sans necktie.

Red Arms Control Plan Calls for A-Weapon Ban

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here are the chief points of Russia's arms inspection plan which Soviet Premier Bulganin has offered as an alternate to President Eisenhower's "blueprint" exchange proposal.

Broadly it calls for immediate withdrawal of the bulk of the foreign forces from both East and West Germany and prohibition of atomic weapons as part of an overall peace plan.

Further, the Russians listed these specific points as necessary to "free humanity from the threat of a new destructive war":

1. Full prohibition of the use and production of nuclear and other weapons of mass destruction and diversion of this force to peaceful aims.

2. A considerable reduction of all armed forces and conventional armaments. The United States, Soviet Russia and Communist China would be limited to armed forces of 1½ million men each and smaller quotas would be fixed for other powers.

3. Setting up of a control organ with authority guaranteeing effective observation by all countries of this prohibition and reduction.

As to the problem of Germany, Bulganin said:

"When discussing the German problem two different approaches were displayed at the Geneva conference. The problem is whether the development of Western Germany will answer the interest of peace or if it will adopt the policy of militarization.

"The three Western powers did not conceal the fact they wanted to draw a unified Germany into a military bloc.

"It is clear the Soviet government could not and cannot agree with such a point of view, for this point of view is directed against the security of the people of the Soviet Union, which we must not ignore. . ."

Bulganin expressed regret Soviet proposals to discuss Asian problems at Geneva were rejected in spite of the fact the "urgent nature of these problems was evident if one wanted to look facts in the face."

Then he said: "It is obvious the Soviet delegation could not agree to discuss the question of the situation in the Eastern European countries and the question of international communism." He said Russia had pointed out that to put the problem of the situation in the Eastern European countries on the agenda at Geneva would "push us toward interference in the internal affairs of the states concerned."

As regards international communism, which he said "in certain quarters is the accepted bogey to frighten naive persons," Bulganin said:

"We have stated the Geneva conference was convened to discuss problems of relations among states not to discuss either the activities of these or other political parties in various countries or the relations among these parties."

Bulganin said the Soviet government holds that conclusion of a general European treaty or the setting up of a system of collective security with the participation of all European states and the United States would be the most reliable way of insuring security for Europe.

He recalled that the U.S.S.R. delegation at Geneva urged that ultimately no foreign troops should remain on territories of European states.

"We are profoundly convinced that genuine security of European states can and must be assured only when an end is put to the policy of military groupings, when all European states as well as the United States join in their efforts in the struggle for peace."

The premier said new possibilities of reaching an agreement on Germany would be reviewed during the foreign ministers conference in October in Geneva and added such possibilities should not be considered exhausted.

Diaper-Clad Tot Stops City Traffic in 2 A.M. Stroll

DETROIT (AP)—Screaming tires of veering cars, their brakes suddenly slammed to the floorboard, brought Patrolman Arthur Lavigne and Bernard Hickey tearing up from blocks away at 2:45 a.m. They veered and slammed their brakes down, too.

Right in the middle of busy Twelfth Street sat 2-year-old Deborah Dunigan, clad only in a diaper and clutching a half-filled baby bottle.

Apparently it had been just too hot and Deborah had decided to leave her apartment crib for a breath of cool air, without mentioning it to her sleeping parents. She strolled a block before sitting down.

Lavigne and Hickey couldn't find any houses in the neighborhood with lights on. So Deborah got a ride to headquarters, and police settled back to await the inevitable frenzied telephone call.

It came at 5:45 a.m., a moment after Mrs. Nancy Dunigan got up to prepare breakfast for her factory-worker husband, Ralph. She rushed by cab to reclaim Deborah, explaining:

"Deborah sleeps in a room by herself, and I'm not surprised that she wanted to get some air. It was 80 at midnight. But I can't figure how she unhooked the screen door."

Two Men Are Named to Plan Commission

Waterford Township Supervisor Lloyd Anderson and Pontiac Township Supervisor Howard C. Decker have been named to the Oakland County Plan Commission by Supervisors' Chairman Floyd Andrews.

They replace County Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt and Assistant Civil Defense Director Ransford Bromley who resigned to devote full time to their other duties. The new appointees will attend their first meeting Aug. 10.

Ready 2 Clinics for Polio Shots

Tab Pontiac, Royal Oak as Children's Centers for Missed Vaccine

Oakland County youngsters who missed out on booster and second round Salk polio shots this week, will have a second chance.

Two clinics—one in Pontiac and the other in Royal Oak—will begin Monday to administer the make-up inoculations, Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County health director, announced today.

The injections will be given from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday, with termination date for the program to be announced later.

The Pontiac clinic, which is located at the Oakland County Health Department, 15 W. Huron St., will service youngsters from north Oakland County. This includes Pontiac, Avondale, Rochester, Waterford, Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Walled Lake, Huron Valley and Dublin school districts.

The southern part of the county will be cared for at the South Oakland County Health Center, 2401 E. Fourth St., Royal Oak. Youngsters from Madison, Farmington, Clarenceville, Ferndale, Carver, Troy and Southfield school districts will receive their make-up shots there.

Birmingham School District residents may bring their children to either clinic. However, they must pick up the child's identification card at the Birmingham Board of Education office and bring it when appearing for immunization. Residents of other districts will find their children's cards filed at the designated clinic.

Ike's Inspection Plan Rejected by Bulganin

published in London May 10, and repeated by him at the Geneva conference, was "more realistic."

Bulganin said he agreed with Eisenhower it is necessary to follow a constructive and not a negative line in world affairs.

The delegates applauded when Bulganin announced he and Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev will visit Britain next spring. They applauded again when he announced French Premier Edgar Faure has been invited to the Soviet Union.

Bulganin concluded:

"We will now have to find ways to resolve several outstanding issues. The foreign ministers will face difficult tasks but if discussions continue in the proper spirit then they should be fruitful. The Soviet Union will do everything in its power to make the forthcoming October talks between the foreign ministers of the four powers successful."

The deputies will debate Bulganin's report tomorrow. They will also approve actions taken by the Cabinet and the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet in the period since the last meeting in February. The Presidium acts for the Supreme Soviet between sessions.

U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen — Eisenhower's interpreter at Geneva — listened intently to Bulganin's version of the Geneva conference.

Race With Police Brings Jail Term

A 21-year-old Troy Township cement mason will have the next 90 days to ponder whether his 100-mile-an-hour race with police Tuesday night was worth while.

Lester Kurkowski, of 4180 Rochester Rd., who led Troy Township police on a 5-mile chase on John R Road from 16 Mile Road to Auburn Road, was sentenced to 90 days in Oakland County Jail and assessed a $100 fine and $25 costs last night by Township Justice Scott Belyea.

Officers said Kurkowski's driver's license had been revoked two years ago by Detroit authorities for a 3-year-period.

Expressway Project Low Bidder Named

Low bidder for construction of the first project in the Farmington-Brighton expressway was announced today by the State Highway Department.

C. A. Hull Co., Inc., of Dryden, was low with a $144,007 bid for a contract to build a bridge to carry Twelve Mile and Beck Roads over the expressway two miles northwest of Novi a short distance north of present U.S. 16.

Completion date is June 15, 1956.

The expressway will start at U.S. 23 just east of Brighton and extend 2¼ miles to a connection with the present divided highway on U.S. 16 east of Farmington near Middle Belt Road. It will replace U.S. 16 between these two points. Total estimated cost is $11,000,000.

Pontiac Post Office Still Setting Records

New records continue to be set at the Pontiac Post Office. According to figures released by Leslie H. Dean, acting postmaster, mail receipts for July totaled $90,703.96 while 2,237,389 pieces of mail were processed.

The receipt figure represents an increase of $11,247 over July 1954 and an upswing of 176,947 pieces of

Private Syndicate Plans to Pipe Water Into Area

Representatives of a private syndicate were scheduled to meet with the Supervisors Inter-County Committee today to reveal plans for piping water from Lake Huron to parts of the Detroit area.

Spokesman for the group, R. R. Stitt, vice president of the Lafayette Engineering Co., 2619 Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains, said the group plans to build a system to service sections of the Detroit area excluded from the Detroit system.

Whether any parts of Oakland County would be included in the area where water would be sold was not revealed.

The project, to include installation of 65 miles of mains and two purification plants, would cost about $250,000,000, he said.

New York financing is being sought, Stitt said the unnamed syndicate plans to issue bonds and turn the system over to a water authority in 25 years. The line would have a daily capacity of 1,625,000,000 gallons, more than double the Detroit system.

The inter-county committee, including Oakland, Wayne, Washtenaw, Macomb and Monroe Counties, is attempting to formulate a plan to provide water from the Great Lakes.

'Long Way to Usajima'

11 Released Airmen Sing Own Lyrics to 'Tipperary'

HONG KONG (AP)—The 11 airmen released from Red Chinese captivity had a song ready for their freedom. One lyric, to the tune of "Tipperary":

"It's a long way to Usajima (GI slang for United States).

"To hell with People's China . . .

"It's a long way to Usajima, the land of the Golden Gate.

"It's a long way, where I've got a date."

Their new uniforms fitted the men loosely. Col. John Knox Arnold said ruefully, "Once I was quite fat." He quickly added he feels "very well but somewhat tired."

Air Force officers said the men had a combined accumulated pay of more than $70,000.

Telling of the MIG fighter attack which forced the 11 to bail out of their flaming B29, Arnold told the news conference:

"I don't know the exact spot. But we were on a routine leaflet mission against six targets in Korea."

He said they had to bail out at the sixth target, which was "near the coast and, as I recall, about 35 or 40 miles or more south of the Yalu River."

He said he was picked up about 8 a.m. next morning by troops he now knew to be Chinese Reds. Each airman was captured individually.

He reported the group was taken across the Yalu to Red China Jan. 16 or 17, 1953—four or five days after being shot down.

He said he was held and treated as a prisoner of war for four days and then put in prison. He said he never was in a prison camp.

Last Sunday came the news of being released.

"I was sitting in my cell alone," he said. He said he had spent 11 months in a cell, but was advised not to answer if he had been in solitary confinement.

Arnold said they received Red Cross food parcels for the first time Sunday although they knew, from sources not identified, that Red Cross packages had been at Peiping for at least two months.

The Oakland County Sheriff's switchboard received a series of minor accident reports shortly after the rain hit yesterday afternoon.

Two Avon Township women were injured when their auto careened into a ditch and overturned after its windshield wipers failed and the rain blinded them.

Admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with a back injury was the driver, Viola Stuart, 40, of 2588 N. Adams Rd. Her condition was reported as good.

Her passenger, Marilyn Ann Fielhauer, 22, of the Adams address, was treated for a minor back injury.

The driver told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies that the wipers failed as she started to pass another car on Pontiac Road near Brewster Road. She said she lost control of the car, which swerved into a ditch on the left side of the road and overturned.

MERCURY PLUMMETS

Rainfall totaled .07 inches in Pontiac. The storm dropped the temperature from 92 to 74 between 3 and 4 p.m. here.

On the national scene, blistering heat ranging from 90 to 100 blanketed the major part of the country again yesterday. Some 80 deaths have been attributed to the hot weather.

The Chicago weather bureau reported the third tropical storm of the season—"Connie" by name—is building up about 800 miles east of Guadeloupe in the French West Indies.

Manchester Man Hurt When Auto Overturns

John V. Hayes, 24, of Manchester, was admitted at Pontiac General Hospital after suffering a concussion when his car overturned on M59 in White Lake Township, early today, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

The Day in Birmingham

Urge Residents Turn Out to Donate Blood Monday

BIRMINGHAM — An appeal is being made to area residents to turn out for the Birmingham Community Bloodmobile, which will be stationed at the First Methodist Church on West Maple from 2 to 8 p.m. Monday.

Appointments originally were to have been made no later than last Monday. However, because so many vacationers have returned since the recruiting period, the time limit has been extended by the Oakland County Blood Advisory Board of the American Red Cross, sponsors of the drive.

Mrs. O. S. Koskinen, one of the blood chairmen for the county said,

"It is so difficult to meet the county blood needs at this time of year, that this can't be accomplished unless people do make an effort."

Donors can be credited in the Community Blood Bank so that their donations given now will entitle Birmingham residents to blood in case of a future need.

Mrs. Koskinen said even "walk-in" appointments will be accepted on the day of the drive, but added that operations would be speeded if they were made in advance.

Local residents who may be called include Mrs. Koskinen of Bloomfield Glens, Mrs. Leland Rosemont of Devonshire road, or Mrs. Edward Lerchen of Gordon court, Birmingham blood chairman.

While the city's water tanks have shown not much more than a normal demand for the past several days, Fire Chief Park Smith said yesterday he sees no immediate rescinding of the city's added sprinkling regulations (no sprinkling between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m.) which took effect July 15.

"The demand in surrounding areas is just as heavy, and the water lavels have not recovered to any great extent," he explained.

Games scheduled to start the YMCA Softball League playoffs on Monday have been moved up to 6:30 tonight. Birmingham Merchants will play Birmingham National Bank at St. James Park, with Michigan Bell Telephone and Reeves Service vying at Booth Park.

In court cases tried yesterday before Justice John J. Gafill, Roger Miller, 27, of 3080 McClure, paid a $28 fine after pleading guilty to charges of speeding, violation of a traffic signal and making an improper right turn.

Pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving was Robert Knight, 22, of Rochester, who was fined $35.

Jack Ott, 18, of Rochester, was found guilty of illegal possession of an alcoholic beverage and placed on eight months' probation. His sentence was suspended on provision that his conduct is good and he enter the armed forces.

Mrs. John MacLennan

Service for Mrs. John (Christine Grant) MacLennan of 656 Purdy St., will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with burial in Oakview Cemetery, Royal Oak. She died Wednesday on her 54th birthday, following a long illness.

Besides her husband, Mrs. MacLennan is survived by one son, John G. of Birmingham; one brother, Colin Grant of Pontiac; and three sisters living in Scotland.

Baldy Beans Bow Benignly Before Barren Results

STOKE MANDEVILLE, England (AP) — Bad news for baldies: The great hair-raising scheme under way at the hospital here appears to be proving a failure.

Its not official yet, but the 80 bald hopefuls experimenting with the drug pyridyl carbinol report sadly they've grown barely a new hair.

"We've just one or two new fuzz patches to show," a hospital spokesman reported. "Otherwise, I'm very much afraid it's been a washout."

The experiment was launched last November after a Glasgow doctor reported two oldsters on his books sprouted a new fuzz after taking the drug for artery trouble.

His findings, reported in the medical press, set off a nationwide rush for the drug, despite official warnings it was unsafe to use without medical supervision.

Dr. P. D. N. Wilkinson, general medical consultant at the hospital, roped in the 80 local baldies for the pilot experiment. They've been taking four pills daily, and their scalps have been photographed every month.

In a week or so the 80 men will parade before the cameras for the last time and a panel of doctors will study the results.

"It's going to be a big disappointment to thousands," the hospital spokesman said.

"But there we are—it was worth a try."

Area Woman Injured in Three-Car Pileup

Injured in a 3-car pileup yesterday on Rochester Road, Mrs. Barbara Case, 22, of Rochester, was reported in good condition today by authorities at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

She was riding with her husband, Charles, 24, when their car was struck in the rear by one driven by Thurle V. Riggle, 58, also of Rochester.

Riggle told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies his car struck Case's when a third auto, driven by Lucille C. Hartwick, 39, of Rochester, struck him, driving him into the Case car. Case had stopped for a bus.

Says Tough Unions Hurt State Industry

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A representative of management said last night that tough local unions had forced about 40 automotive parts manufacturers to close up shop in Michigan in the last five years—many of them relocating outside the state.

Frank Rising, general manager of the Automotive and Aviation Parts Manufacturers Assn., speaking on a panel at the University of Michigan, said:

"Harsh treatment by many union locals in Michigan may have kept some industry out of the state and forced others to move elsewhere even though they continue to deal with the same international union."

Brendon Sexton, educational director of the CIO United Auto Workers, answered Rising, saying, "The only employers who are complaining these days of unions forcing exorbitant demands on them are outside the state."

He cited Willys, American Motors and Studebaker.

Thief Gets Suit, $240 From Rhode Island Man

Benjamin Piechocki of Providence, R. I., reported to Pontiac Police that a suit containing $240 in ten dollar denominations was stolen from his parked automobile sometime yesterday.

Piechocki told police that he had left his rented car windows partially opened for ventilation while it was parked at Pontiac Motors lot.

Car Is Reported Stolen in Auto Agency Breakin

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives today are investigating the theft of a new car taken during a breakin at an Ortonville auto agency Wednesday night.

The car, a 1955 red Ford Thunderbird convertible, was taken from the garage of the Beck-Wilson agency, according to officers. Offices of the building at 968 M15 were ransacked, employes said.

Theater Owners Select Favorites

Public to Vote on Best Pictures and Stars in November

HOLLYWOOD — The nation's combined motion picture theatre owners this week had their first opportunity to publicly announce their favorite motion picture stars and selections for most promising newcomers, thus starting the first public motion picture election.

Announcement of the exhibitor nominations based on pictures released between Oct. 1, 1954 and Mar. 31, last, was made at a luncheon in the Crystal Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel. Nominees now become eligible for balloting by the public during the final election—Nov. 17 to 27. Other nominations will be made by exhibitors from pictures released between Mar. 31 and next Sept. 30.

The 10 pictures nominated as the best were:

"The Bridges of Toko-Ri," Paramount; "Battle Cry," Warner Brothers; "Blackboard Jungle," MGM; "Country Girl," Paramount; "The Long Gray Line," Columbia; "Rear Window," Paramount; "Sabrina," Paramount; "A Star Is Born," Warner Brothers; "There's No Business Like Show Business," 20th Century-Fox; "White Christmas," Paramount.

The 10 male players nominated for best performances and the pictures in which they appeared were as follows:

William Holden in "The Bridges of Toko-Ri," Paramount; Spencer Tracy in "A Bad Day at Black Rock," MGM; Glenn Ford in "Blackboard Jungle," MGM; Bing Crosby in "Country Girl," Paramount; Marlon Brando in "Desiree," 20th Century-Fox; Tyrone Power in "The Long Gray Line," Columbia; James Stewart in "Rear Window," Paramount; James Mason in "A Star Is Born," Warner Brothers; Gary Cooper in "Vera Cruz," United Artists; Burt Lancaster in "Vera Cruz," United Artists.

The 10 female players nominated for best performances and the pictures in which they appeared were:

Ava Gardner in "The Barefoot Contessa," United Artists; Dorothy Dandridge in "Carmen Jones," 20th Century-Fox; Grace Kelly in "Country Girl," Paramount; Maureen O'Hara in "The Long Gray Line," Columbia; Elizabeth Taylor in "The Last Time I Saw Paris," MGM; Audrey Hepburn in "Sabrina," Paramount; Judy Garland in "A Star Is Born," Warner Brothers; Susan Hayward in "Untamed," 20th Century-Fox; June Allyson in "A Woman's World," 20th Century-Fox; Doris Day in "Young At Heart," Warner Brothers.

Mt. Etna Eruptions Begin New Series

CANTANIA, Sicily (AP) — Mt. Etna's northeast crater burst out in a new series of explosions before dawn today.

After belching smoke and lava for more than a month, the Sicilian volcano had shown signs of quieting down. Late last week, just when the eruption appeared over, it flared briefly back to life.

Two streams of lava have reached more than a mile down the mountain's northeast slope, but villages have not been seriously threatened.

Blueberries Ripen

HOLLAND (AP) — Ottawa County farm labor officials have appealed for more than 100 berry pickers to assist the present work force in harvesting blueberry crops. Heat and dry weather have hastened the crop ripening.

Crusaders Will Compete

State's Help Is Asked to Solve Water Problem

When Senator Broomfield and Secretary James M. Hare joined in asking State help on the water shortage problem, they were acting in the public interest.

In their conference with Gov. Williams, Broomfield and Hare suggested that a fact finding commission be established. The main purpose of such a commission would be to coordinate efforts of local and county groups to create a water district.

The district's aim, in turn, would be to pipe water from Lake Huron to the many rapidly growing and water short communities of Southeastern Michigan.

Evidence of the situation's seriousness exists in the Supervisors Intercounty committee which is conducting a survey of the area's water needs. The survey covers Oakland, Wayne, Monroe, Macomb, Washtenaw and St. Clair Counties.

It is to be hoped the Governor fully appreciates the alarming proportions of the problem arising from the steady decrease in this six county area's surface and underground water resources. If he does, there should be little doubt about his endorsement of the proposal advanced by the Senator and Secretary.

The record breaking heat of the past three weeks not only has intensified the water problem, but has emphasized the imperative need of early co-operative action to solve it.

Release of Our 11 Fliers Eases U.S.-China Tension

Release at Peiping of 11 American fliers held on trumped up spy charges has done much to launch scheduled U.S.-Red China conversations at Geneva in a favorable atmosphere.

This effect was heightened by further Chinese announcement that negotiations for the release of some 40 American civilians would be on the Geneva agenda.

President Eisenhower spoke for the Nation when he said that release of the airmen held since January 12, 1953, is a cause for nationwide relief and joy. A further reason for happiness in the homes of the now freed fliers is the news that they already have left Peiping and will reach Hong Kong Thursday.

In some Administration quarters this latest international development is viewed as a vindication of Secretary Dulles' policy of patience toward Red China. Elsewhere it has been described as a personal triumph for U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, who early this year flew to Peiping to initiate release negotiations.

The Nation owes these airmen a heroes' welcome home.

Our Unbossed Farmers

Russian farm experts visiting in Iowa show by their questions that there is one thing about our agriculture they can't understand.

It's the absence of bosses from Washington telling the farmers what to plant and how to run their business.

While the visitors were at Iowa State College one of them asked the dean of agriculture who runs the institution from Washington. When he was told that nobody does, the Russian seemed unbelieving and pressed the question in different forms.

When another Russian asked the college president who fired him, he said that only the board of regents had that power. It was pointed out, however, that the college had had only 10 presidents in 97 years and that none had been fired.

When at last the Russians met a county agent they felt they had found the Washington man who bossed the farmers. The agent tried to set them straight on this matter but they cross questioned the next farmer they met. Even then the visitors seemed unconvinced though the farmer assured them that nobody tells him what to do on his farm and that he could let it grow up in weeds if he wished.

It's a safe guess that our systems of farm price support, acreage allotments, marketing quotas and gigantic crop surpluses are even more baffling to the Russians.

A second safe guess is that there is one question the Russians won't dare voice when they get home. That is, why if our bossless agriculture is so productive they need so many political bosses on their farms.

The statement by a Wisconsin scientist that the human life span will soon be increased to 1,000 years probably gave the Social Security Administration a hard spell of the jitters.

"It's the motions of the hands that tell the story in a hula dance," says a choreographer. Maybe so, but most people miss the story because other motions steal the scene.

Missing Persons Bureau Has Large Nationwide Business

Gossip: Although it may not have a leg to stand on it travels mighty fast.

tells me it has successfully handled 547,640 missing persons cases in the 30 years it has been in business. Its report on shows that over a million people disappear in our nation each year, few of which are criminals. Among the disappearances handled by them were 74,831 husbands, of whom 48,220 were wanted for non-support, 16,259 had mother-in-law trouble, and 10,352 left with other women. Missing wives totaled 4,620 cases, 182 of whom had abandoned their children, 4,302 had mother-in-law trouble, and only 136 had left with other men. It also handled cases of 135,426 debtors, 17,114 teen-agers, 35,215 lease breakers, 13,146 heirs, 12,604 relatives and 9,148 love swindlers.

'Concerned Motorist' Offers Sashabaw Curve Solution

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Ever since Sashabaw Road was resurfaced some time ago, it virtually has been a race track for some motorists. These dangerous persons have failed to make the curve at the east end of Woodhull Lake innumerable times, ripping up guard rails and fences.

So far, by some miracle at the time of this careless driving, there has been no on-coming traffic for these southbound speed demons to ram head-on.

At the rate this speeding is continuing, it could mean death for some innocent driver or family at this particular curve the next time this happens.

A possible solution may be to specify the rate of speed each curve can safely be taken, as some states show on their 'curve' signs.

This suggestion, along with the one appearing several days ago on the pedestrian traffic interlude at intersections, should warrant some loyal supporters to help cut the death rate on our hazardous curves to alleviate hampered traffic downtown.

Nitroglycerin Sale Bans Cruel to Heart Sufferers

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

One poor soul writes me that at last he has found a druggest who sells him at nominal cost nitroglycerin tablets whenever he needs a supply—a vial of twenty tablets, each tablet containing 1/200th of a grain of nitroglycerin.

I don't know, but I assume the druggist breaks a law or an ordinance when he sells nitroglycerin without a prescription. If so, I honor him for it.

It is a cruel thing, putting the person in need of nitroglycerin to the trouble, delay and expense of getting a prescription for it. Cruel though legal.

I don't know how long this restriction on the sale of nitroglycerin has been in effect, but I suspect the restriction was applied some time after I began recommending that individuals subject to certain heart and/or artery troubles should always carry a few nitroglycerin tablets in pocket or pocket - book and take one upon the slightest threat of distress and repeat the dose in five minutes if necessary — details in booklet C V D for which send 25c and stamped, self - addressed envelope.

OTHER VICTIMS

I know a similar restriction was applied to the sale of such innocuous items as citrate of soda, iron and ammonium citrates, salicylic acid only after the popular demand for these items, which I recommended to readers, threatened to reduce the sales volume of more profitable nostrums.

Topping all previous attempts of the trick specialists, "clinic" racketeers, retail and wholesale drug vendors and their plant tools, the federal drug control bureau boys, to frighten the public about the use of simple home remedies was the hulabaloo whipped up by a premature "scientific" report of some cases of alleged poisning of infants by boric acid applied in the form of borated talcum powder or boric acid ointment to irritated or raw areas of skin.

Following publication of this hasty report in a medical journal, various popular magazines contained articles by "science" writers, warning the public against further use of boric acid solution, boric acid ointment, or boric acid in powder form.

Some of them advocated that the sale of boric acid be prohibited except on physician's prescription. They had their readers pretty scared about boric acid and indignant about the doctors who had been using it for a century or more without cautioning people about its poisonous effects.

TEST UNRELIABLE

Well, sir after the panic had passed the doctors who had made the original report, of alleged poisoning of infants by absorption of boric acid from borated talcum powder and other external remedies, published in the same medical journal a sequel to their "scientific" report, acknowledging that the test for boric acid in the urine, on which they had based their diagnosis of poisoning had proved to be unreliable.

As yet, however the popular magazines that went to town with the typical discovery of the headline hunting "scientists" have refrained from letting their readers in on the hoax. Leave medical problems to the doctors — that's their motto!

Incidentally, the same admittedly unreliable "test" for boric acid in the urine has misled physicians and others for years concerning absorption through the unbroken skin. My skin and my money, and, if you're a gullible geek, my life, are available for any properly controlled test of this question, provided the outcome shall terminate the controversy.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

David Lawrence Says:

Dem Congress Leaves Sorry Record of Discord on Issues Vital to America

WASHINGTON — Congress has gone home and leaves behind a sorry record. It is a record of discord on vital issues that can affect the prosperity of the country for generations to come. It is a dramatic example of the mistake made by the American people in electing a Democratic Congress at a time when a Republican administration had been elected for a four-year term to control the executive branch of the government.

The so-called "achievements" in the boastful publicity announcements naturally stress the fact that the Democratic Party went along with the President on foreign policy—as if to be patriotic and non-partisan on foreign policy is a matter for laudation.

In an international crisis close to war the two major parties have always worked together, and the nation has hitherto not believed medals should be bestowed because of such manifestations of traditional patriotism.

It is on the domestic side that the "cold war" between the President and the Democratic majority has been carried on. There has been some friction between the President and a few members of his party but, if the American people had given a working majority to the President's party in 1954, the handful of dissenting Republicans could not have been influential.

Sectional issues and local considerations always cause some defections in a majority party but in many instances the Democratic Party in Congress voted almost solidly against the administration on key issues.

SALARY DISGRACE

Perhaps the most disgraceful item in the record of the Congress just closed was the handling of salaries for government employes. Members of Congress and members of the judiciary deserved the increases they got. But Congress forgot the men who risk their lives for America. They forgot the commanding officers who have tremendous responsibilities, including the handling of billions of dollars of government property.

One dispatch by the United Press in particular is worth quoting. It reads as follows:

"The House of Representatives was passing out increases late into the night, including raises for House parliamentarian Lewis Deschler from $16,400 to $20,500 and for Assistant Parliamentarian William T. Roy, from $13,670 to $16,500.

"The Senate was caught off guard and didn't have time to match the raise for its parliamentarian, Charles Watkins. Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (Republican of Maine) said it was 'disgraceful' for Watkins to receive less than his House counterpart. And Sen. Wayne Morse (Democrat of Oregon) promised to do something about it when Congress meets next January."

GENERALS FORGOTTEN

But everybody in Congress evidently forgot that men who command the highest and most important posts in the Army, Navy and Air Force get less salary today than the assistant parliamentarian, General Gruenther, who commands all of the NATO forces overseas, and General LeMay, who heads our Strategic Air Command, each receives around $15,000 per year as four-star generals.

This is the type of negligence which is inexcusable in a Congress which voted every member an increase up to $22,500 and justices of the Supreme Court up to $35,000 a year.

Undoubtedly they deserved the increases, but one would think that members of Congress which has just gone home would have thought about the salaries to the generals and admirals who are responsible for the defense of America and who may at any moment be required to direct the men who risk their lives in combat.

CONSPICUOUS PROOF

But the record of legislation that failed of passage is the most conspicuous proof of what discord can do in Congress. Highway legislation is needed badly if American transportation is to be efficient and adequate.

Bills to promote the health of the nation and to improve social security were killed. Also federal aid to school construction was withheld. The important amendments needed to improve the Taft-Hartley act on labor-management relations were abandoned. A program to help stabilize the farm economy, with particular reference to low-income groups, was not passed, though proposed by the administration.

Wherever the Democrats could embarrass the President, they tried to do so. They went along on foreign policy largely because they feared greater political injury if they didn't.

As for 1956, divided government will be an issue. The last session furnishes enough evidence of how to stalemate national progress on the domestic front by giving control of both houses to a party that is not in sympathy with the executive.

Hal Boyle Says:

Expert Blames Hay Fever on American Prosperity

NEW YORK (AP)—America, which leads the world in telephones and automobiles, also has more hay fever victims than any other country.

Why? Prosperity, good old prosperity.

This is the theory of Dr. Rudolph Mayer, discoverer of pyribensamine, an antihistamine used in the treatment of hay fever.

In Europe, where every available piece of land is tilled or utilized in some way, there is no room for ragweed, which is blamed for 80 per cent of all hay fever.

"Only in the United States can we afford the luxury of unused open fields and lots, where ragweed grows," said Dr. Mayer.

While hay fever may be a by-product of national prosperity, it gives its victim —whose annual seasonal torture begins this month —anything but a sense of individual well-being.

And the ailment is on the increase.

4 MILLION SUFFERERS

The U.S. Public Health Service says there are nearly 4 million asthma and hay fever sufferers in this country. It is estimated the two diseases cost some 24,750,000 lost workdays each year.

One of the sorest points with those afflicted with hay fever is that they meet with little sympathy from their nonallergic friends. Their plight is regarded a oddly humorous. The surest way to make an enemy of a man with hay fever is to tell him, "It's all in your mind."

It isn't ragweed pollen in itself that causes hay fever, but certain chemicals in it resembling the chemicals in viruses. These chemicals start the liver to manufacturing protective antibodies. They in turn produce histamine, a decomposition product which causes the wheezing, sneezing, eye-watering nose-running symptoms of hay fever.

Dr. Mayer sees no immediate hope of cutting down the incidence of hay fever. He expects the number of cases to grow in the next few years.

Many European who never had hay fever before develop it on coming to this country. Dr. Mayer, who came here in 1942, is an exception.

"So far, I haven't had any," he said. After spending 25 years studying allergies, the last thing he wants is hay fever.

Praise of Hometown Industry Lacking in Most Communities, Doctor Believes

Start a "Compliment Club" in your area, but pay a few generous compliments to your local factories. They won World War II for us, and are responsible for our luxurious standard of living, which is the envy of the rest of the world. Help your school children understand the facts below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-304: Lee H. Hill, aged 50, is a brilliant management expert in New York City.

I first met him at the Allis Chalmers plant in Milwaukee, when he invited me there to address management personnel of that big organization.

Since then we have maintained a friendship and have exchanged ideas on efficiency engineering and personnel strategy.

Recently he opened my eyes concerning the widespread benefit to an area which even a small industrial plant will offer.

For example, suppose a small factory locates in your town. If it furnishes employment to only 100 workers, that isn't the end of its benefits!

JOBS CREATED

Every 100 factory jobs create an additional 74 jobs in other lines of work, such as gas station attendants, sales clerks, etc.

These figures are drawn from our own U. S. Chamber of Commerce reports over a 10-year study period.

Those 100 new factory jobs also cause 112 more households to be established. They add 296 more people to the town's population; 107 new auto registrations; 70 new telephones; four new retail firms.

And from those 100 factory jobs, the retail sales of the area are increased by $360,000 per year.

Personal income rises $590,000, and the bank deposits zoom by $270,000.

PRAISE INDUSTRIES

Many communities need to adopt the "Compliment Club" idea but direct some of their praise t. local industries for the boon they have been to the entire community in which they are located.

Not long ago I was invited by the Chamber of Commerce of Monessen, Penn., to address a large banquet session in that industrial region just south of Pittsburgh.

"We are trying to show our industries that we really appreciate them," the banquet chairman informed me.

And scores of executives of large local plants sat at the long speakers' table and were introduced to the assembled crowd of civic leaders.

BUSINESS CRITICIZED

Alas, during the past score of years, the general attitude has been to criticize factories and management in general and "pick on" American business, though it has tipped the scales for us in both World Wars.

* * *

Actually, nothing is more shortsighted and unfair, for American industry has been the mammoth goose that has laid the golden eggs of prosperity and present our high standard of living.

We are the envy of the world. One big reason why communism keeps attacking our American type of business is envy of us!

"It's only the apple trees which bear the big, luscious fruit that have sticks and stones thrown at them," runs an old adage.

"Those which bear the sour, runty little apples are ignored."

ORDNANCE CITED

With all due respect to the bravery of our American boys, it wasn't their bravery which won World War II for us, since the enemy also had brave troops.

And it wasn't superiority of generals and admirals. Nor greater population.

What won the war was our superiority in ordnance—meaning, tanks and trucks, guns and food, plus all the other vital manufactured articles!

Indeed, we equipped our own vast forces and then furnished the ordnance for our allies. Remember, the Russians rode victoriously in the Balkans on American made tanks and trucks!

So be grateful to our factories. They are our greatest defense in war.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Ancient Flints Found in Desert

Syrian Discovery May Shed New Light on History of Man

WASHINGTON — A 20 - foot - square cave in the Syrian Desert has yielded thousands of shaped flint pieces that may reflect new light on the region's dark antiquity.

The find was made by Dr. Carleton S. Coon, anthropologist of the University Museum in Philadelphia and a member of a National Geographic Society expedition. The natural cave is situated some 14 miles northwest of the ruined city of Palmyra in an area once trod by Roman legions and wealth - laden caravans.

Spearheads, scrapers and hand axes predominated in the earth-covered cave, which seemed to have been a prehistoric flint-tool "factory." The relics await specialized study, but tentative examinations indicate their makers may have walked the area some 10,000 to 30,000 years before Christ.

And yet, in that remote time, hand - fashioned implements had already been used for ages. Kenya in east Africa perhaps knew the first, shaped from split pebbles. These implements date probably from the beginning of Pleistocene time a million years ago. Pebble-tool users also lived in Algeria, Egypt and Uganda.

Gradual refinements of flint weapons and tools brought in the hand ax. Made of either flint or quartzite and roughly almond - shaped, these implements were so skillfully wrought as to defy present - day reproduction.

Few bones of early man exist, but the earth remains a rich repository of his handiwork and a source of scientific study.

A cave at Bisitum in western Iran provided some 1,100 finished implements. Taken from a few cubic yards of earth, the relics included double - and single-edged knives and spearheads. Broken pieces of flint abound on the Arabian peninsula.

Evidence that flint implements were used by early peoples was found in M'lefaat in northern Iraq.

Rhee Hints Coexistence With Reds Is Possible

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee today vaguely hinted that coexistence with the Communists might be possible if they withdraw from land south of Parallel 38.

"The Communists must do it if they ever want to realize so-called coexistence with the free world," he said at a news conference.

He refused to elaborate. But it was unusually mild talk from the fiery 80-year-old leader who has long advocated reuniting Korea by force.

Alaskans Not Too Anxious About Statehood

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (INS)—The question of whether or not Alaska is ready to become a 49th state is hot enough to sizzle the snows off Mt. McKinley—if it were ever discussed on that high a plane, of course. Even the governor of the territory neatly sidesteps the issue these days.

"Well, you can be sure that 75 per cent of the people up here want statehood," Gov. B. Frank Heintzelman drawls. "The rest of them are against it, because it would increase taxes so much, and they think costs are high enough now."

But how do you feel about it personally, Governor?

"Well, of course, we'd have to develop our industry—you can see that," he goes on, slowly, cautiously. "And we have to develop some of our natural resources to pick up the slack when the government construction jobs level off. Could be an awful lot of unemployment when that happened."

But about statehood, Governor...

"I'm very optimistic about our potential opportunities in uranium. An engineer for the Territorial Department of Mines has predicted there's at least a million dollars' worth of uranium—high grade, too—in the southeast."

THE 'POTENTIAL'

And so it goes, on and on. The governor talks about the vast "potential" of Alaska. But as for committing himself on whether it is prepared for immediate statehood, it seems safe to observe that the territorial chief is not specifically saying.

You take sides in that fracas, he concedes, and people get awful mad at people awful fast.

The reason seems to be that most Alaskans, like any devoted citizens of a U. S. territory, would like to be granted the voting privileges of any other citizens of the United States. They like to think of themselves as members of a great new world.

Some Alaskans call the U. S. "The Old America," and yet they do not want to feel treated like rude cousins from the hills.

It's a matter of pride, as well as business.

On the other hand, most leaders whom I have met here seem to agree that Alaska, with its small and vastly dissimilar (in race and living habits) population, is not yet ready to be granted the distinction of statehood.

BASES ARE VITAL

If the military bases were suddenly removed from Alaska, these people say, the Alaska of today would be little more than a small town—spread over 586,000 square miles. Should a small town that has not even a mutual gathering place in which to meet and discuss issues, be given the same voting privileges as any one of the United States?

Governor Heintzelman, a man spare of body and of words, has big hopes for the improvement of the territory he was appointed by Mr. Eisenhower to head in 1953 . . . whether it's to become a state soon, or not for 20 years.

"You know, the only thing the Alaskans ever thought about was gold in the old days," he says. "Now, with the price of gold frozen, they've got to develop other resources. I'd like to see the coal and coke resources more thoroughly studied; we don't even know how rich those deposits can be.

"And we have to concentrate more on our tin. Why, we've got the only tin on the North American continent. Add uranium, which we're very optimistic about, and lumber and the tourist business—which Alaska has never worked to get, but most certainly develop—and this could be a territory as prosperous as it is beautiful."

Meantime, B. Frank Heintzelman isn't worried. If you live in Alaska long enough—and he has, for 16 years—you get too contented to stew!

Unwritten Tragedy

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — A bag of discarded clothing donated to Goodwill Industries contained one unused wedding dress.

Rampaging Raccoon

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP) — Fred Marshall heard a scratching in his living room early one morning. When he got out of bed he found a big, snarling raccoon. Marshall chased it to the third floor and back down stairs before it escaped through a hole in a screen door which had been made for the cat.

Legislators Fail to Watch Health While at Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Our nation's lawmakers are so busy taking care of the country they often fail to take care of themselves, says Dr. R. W. Gifford, assistant attending physician to Congress.

He terms life in Congress a "process of natural selection" with voters retiring law-makers who become senile or lose their agility and drive. He says congressmen have hard, tough jobs, physically and mentally.

"Our biggest problem is to get them to take care of themselves," he says. He cites long, tiring sessions of Congress as conducive to heart ailments. Overweight is a major problem; there are too many banquets—they eat on the run and their habits are irregular."

And, he adds, congressmen generally are reluctant to admit they are under medical care. He says many of them won't even admit they're on a diet.

Vagrant Uses Church Belfry as Domicile

DAYTON, Ky. (AP) — Police and church officials investigated a report that a man had set up housekeeping in the belfry of St. John's Episcopal Church. They found:

A bed made of linens taken from the altar, with kneeling pads from the pews serving as pillows; eight candles, also from the altar, stuck in niches in the stone wall, and tea, cheese and paper cups stolen from the kitchen in the basement of the church.

But the quarry had flown.

FLIGHT TO VALHALLA — Droning along at not much over 60 miles per hour, Joseph Hager pilots this 1929 Curtiss Fledgling biplane over St. Louis, Mo., as he wings the old ship to New York City where she'll acquire a measure of immortality as one of the planes to be used in filming the life of Charles A. Lindbergh. The ancient craft, in storage for eight years, is back in business because of insistence by the famed flier that all details of the film be absolutely authentic.

Huge Windows for Henhouses Improve Laying

NEW YORK (INS)—The "coolest" looking house on the farm of the future—the air conditioned building with the big picture windows—is likely to be the hen house.

Farmers traditionally take the first and finest care of their livestock, and have already introduced hot and cold running water to the hog house and symphonic music to the cow barn.

Now, according to W. Everett Eakin, director of farm research for a glass company, there's evidence that chickens go for resort-hotel luxury and are not too happy with their present accommodations.

Experiments at Mississippi State College prove, Eakin said, that summertime temperatures cut down egg production, reduce fertility, stunt the growth of growing birds and cause deaths from heat prostration. But in a poultry house using picture windows and air conditioning, the chickens stay cool and comfortable and never think of demanding a vacation.

There's no vacation in the winter, either, Eakin said. For the oversized, insulating-windows keep the hen house warm and dry, and business goes on as usual.

Wifey Is Honest

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Mrs. Glen Edward Thomason appeared in police court and told Judge James Demopolos she'd take all the blame for her husband's ticket for speeding. She explained it was her fault because she had disconnected the car's speedometer. Mrs. Thomason asked that she be allowed to pay the fine. The judge went one better and suspended sentence.

If Job Loses Appeal Find Nearest Door

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (INS)—A steel company executive believes too many young businessmen and junior executives do not know how to quit their jobs.

John N. Marshall, chairman of the board and president of the Granite City (Ill.) Steel Company, asserted:

"If what you are doing is not personally stimulating you can save yourself a life-time of discontent by taking an action that is really very simple.

"Pick up your hat and coat, shake hands with your boss and leave for good. You'll be doing yourself a favor and, no matter how faithfully you have applied yourself, you'll be doing your employer a favor too."

Southeast Asia Chinese Pave Way for Communists

By OLEN CLEMENTS
AP Foreign Correspondent

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Communist seizure of Southeast Asia is well under way.

The Red Chinese are doing it the easy way, through the schools, the wealth, the culture of 9.5 million "overseas Chinese" in the countries of Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia, Thailand, Burma, Malaya, Singapore and Indonesia. In combined area, population and undeveloped wealth these nations rival the United States.

The Chinese scattered through this area are divided politically. Almost to a man all of them feel loyalty and pride in China, which is controlled by the Communists. Many of them have never been to China, but their children flock there each year by the thousands.

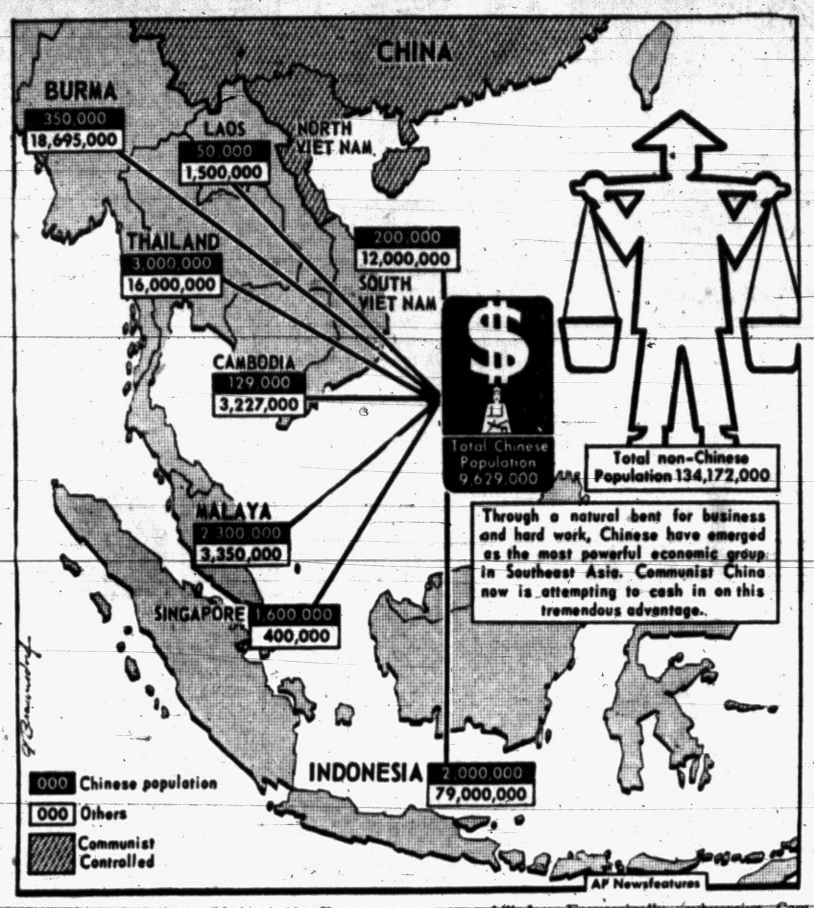

Subversive Chinese have infiltrated every country in Southeast Asia. They maintain and direct small guerrilla bands in Burma, northern Thailand, Laos, Cambodia, Viet Nam, Malaya and Indonesia. In Malaya these military forces have kept 250,000 British and Malayan troops busy for seven years.

Guerrilla bands have only a nuisance value. The real fight now is economic and educational. And the Reds are grabbing the advantage fast.

Area by area here is the picture today:

SINGAPORE

Communist influence in the Chinese schools, unions and the business world is terrific. Chinese students, young men of 20 to 22, have batted the government's ears down twice in the last 12 months. They did it first in May 1954, when they rioted against military conscription.

This year, on pretense of helping striwing Chinese bus drivers, students caused a riot on May 12. Four persons were killed among whom was American newsman Gene Symonds.

Economically, subversive Communists are worming their way into the business world of Singapore. They are doing it through bank and loan sharks, ransom kidnapping of wealthy Chinese merchants and playing on Chinese pride in the rise of Red China as a world power. An estimated 400 students each month leave Singapore for Red China to complete their education.

MALAYA

Less than 4,000 Communists gurerillas flit through the jungles, pinning down 250,000 British and Malayan troops. Forty per cent of Malaya is Chinese. They control vital tin mines and rubber plantations.

The Chinese leader is Chen Ping, who fought with the British against the Japanese. The British made him an officer of the Order of the British Empire. But Chen, now 35, went back into the jungle and was fighting the British before they could deliver his medal.

The British say he is now in Thailand. The Thais say he is not. Wherever he is, there is a price of $84,000 on his head.

The Communists are losing the Malay guerrilla war. But they are making progress through subversion.

INDONESIA

The Chinese problem is not as acute in Indonesia as elsewhere, but they have a good hold on the country's economics because the Chinese are natural merchants and business men. Chinese students migrate to Red China to complete their education at the rate

BURMA

There are only about 350,000 Chinese in Burma. Rangoon, the capital, has more Chinese merchants than any other place in Burma. There are two banks in Rangoon supported by Chinese Communist money.

Loans are made to Chinese merchants by these banks at low rates provided the merchants enroll their children in Communist-supported schools.

CAMBODIA AND LAOS

Cambodia has adopted the neutralism of India and Burma and is friendly to the Chinese. Chinese of university age are permitted to journey to China at will. Neighboring Laos is populated mostly by mountain folk whose educational standards are low. They are anti-Communist and watch their Chinese population closely.

South Viet Nam is tottering on the verge of chaos. Under the terms of the Geneva agreement ending the Indochinese War, an election will decide the future of the entire country. Observers in the south believe that if the election were held now the Communists would win.

Street Changes Names So Often It's Confusing

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (INS) —In Albuquerque there's a group of citizens who have trouble telling people where they live.

A sign on a curb identifies a street as Simms Court, but the Post Office Department lists the area as Simms Ave.

And last month traffic engineers installed a sign on the corner which reads Anderson Pl. S.E.

A woman who lives on Simms Court or Simms Avenue or is it Anderson, says:

"It is very confusing. Especially when you have friends coming in from out of town and try to tell them where you live."

New Mexico Dilemma

SANTE FE, N. M. (INS)—The New Mexico Tourist Bureau reports Nathan Thompson of Tallahassee, Fla., wrote in with a request for a visa to visit New Mexico. The bureau fired back a form letter — they get many such requests: "You seem to have the impression that New Mexico is a foreign country. Of course it is one of the 48 states and you will have no more trouble traveling here than in Georgia or Mississippi.

DISNEYLAND CASTLE — A fairyland castle fascinates little Andree Nerpel, 5, at the Disneyland project at Anaheim, Calif. The turreted castle, complete with moat and drawbridge, is the entrance to Fantasyland, a 17-million-dollar project.

Small Fry in San Diego to Get Zoo of Their Own

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (INS)—San Diego's small fry will have a zoo of their very own when a San Diego Zoological Society project is completed next year.

Leading architects, artists, child psychologists and zoologists have spent 18 months in intensive study for the project which is designed especially for children up to 10 years of age.

The Children's Zoo, to be built at a cost of $150,000, raised by private subscription, will occupy a two-acre site in Balboa Park.

The animal hostelry will be scaled down to the level of a youngster between four and eight years old with a number of the exhibits sponsored by industrial concerns.

Structures housing the animals, which range from familiar birds to barnyard animals to monkeys of various species, will be of modern design.

SEA LIONS

A specially constructed tank for sea lions will have windows placed in the sides so the children can watch the playful animals cavorting underwater.

Among the novel exhibits will be one of parsol ants who eat only rose petals. Children may see these tiny creatures as they carry about pieces of rose petals above their heads in parasol fashion, in a specially constructed pavilion equipped with a window of magnifying glass.

A miniature roundhouse theater, seating about 200 children, will present entertainment by animal performers. They include trained bird acts and monkeys behaving like humans plus demonstrations on how to handle animals.

A big problem that has faced the Zoo's officers and directors has been how to achieve the maximum entertainment value for the children and at the same time preserve the well-being of the animals.

This will be solved, the officials feel, by utilizing lessons learned at the San Diego Zoo, which has an international reputation for promoting longer life among captive animals than any other zoo in the world.

It was learned there that animals, like humans, must be treated with care and consideration if they are to remain healthy and contented.

The zoo's officials believe that with proper care for the animals, coupled with adequate supervision of the youthful visitors, the Children's Zoo will be a roaring success.

The zoo will be strictly off-limits to adults unless a youngster condescends and allows a mere grown-up to accompany him.

Mighty Narrow Escape

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A car roared around a corner at the edge of downtown Minneapolis, hit a curb, hurtled end over end and then skidded 200 feet on its roof. The three teenage occupants stepped out with only minor injuries.

Rome's Subway Has Treasures

Underground Riders Circle Lake and View Ancient Mosaics

WASHINGTON—When in Rome these days one may do what New Yorkers, Parisians and Londoners do: take the subway.

Seven miles long—and 16 years in building, Rome's new subway delights a population whose ancestors traveled the same distance in chariots. It ranks among the shortest of subway systems but conveys its patrons through a treasure-chest of historic ground.

During excavation for the subway the earth yielded mosaics, statues and bas-reliefs. Blending past and present, the relics now adorn some of the stations, one near the Colosseum.

Though something new in Rome, the subway as a means of transportation is old. The first was built in London in 1863. In 1886 Glasgow built one and Boston followed in 1895—the first on the American continent. New York's 51-year-old system is antedated by subways in Budapest, Paris and Berlin.

EVERYWHERE

As city populations swelled, the idea traveled around the world. Today, "Let's take the subway" may be heard in Spain, Sweden, Japan, Australia, Russia, Canada, Argentina, Austria and Norway.

Most subways share a common feature—deficits. Most systems charge flat fares, but mileage fares have been used in London and Sydney.

Subways present various appearances: New York's teeming stations are utilitarian; Latin American scenes glow on murals in Buenos Aires; Japanese watch newsreels in subway theaters; Moscow's stations were done in several architectural styles; the lights of Rome's sleek cars reflect on an underground lake.

TV and Movie Reach Parting of Ways Again

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Screen Actors Guild and the producers of television entertainmnt films have broken off negotiations again, and spokesmen say it means a strike is almost certain tomorrow.

Management and labor officials said that talks have failed and that the strike, set for 12:01 a.m. tomorrow, seems inevitable.

There will be no immediate effects on television broadcasts.

Idea Was Costly

DENVER, (INS) — Denver's recently passed dog-leash law is beginning to run into money. The law which went into effect July 1 already has cost $19,000 for enforcement and $47,000 for new dog pound facilities.

One copy of the new Palomar atlas of the universie will cost $2,000.

Strikes Affect 900

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Strikes kept about 900 workers off the job Tuesday at the Jervis Corp. and Blackmer Jump Co. in CIO United Auto Workers demands for supplemental layoff pay.

Take Stratosphere Ride

'Guinea Pigs' Return Home

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP)—A contented little colony of mice and guinea pigs has returned to "home base" after munching on carrots and potatoes high in the stratosphere.

Many of the 40 little animals that soared to 125,000 feet above Minnesota and North Dakota in a sphere attached to a research balloon will take off on another air-conditioned flight tomorrow or Friday.

The animals are being used in a series of test flights launched here by Winzen Research Inc., Minneapolis, for the Air Force.

The balloons are being sent aloft to study the effects of cosmic radiation at high altitudes.

Otto C. Winzen, head of the research firm, said the flight Monday carried animals and instruments higher into the stratosphere than ever before. He said the animals and instruments carried by the big plastic balloon were unharmed when they parachuted to earth near Crosby, N.D., after the 26-hour flight.

Instruments in the balloon enable Winzen planes and trucks to follow the course of the flights. At set times, the balloons disintegrate and the "cargo" floats slowly to earth.

Balloons being used in the current series of tests are 240 feet long and have a diameter of 172 feet.

Latest statistics reveal that coal still is the greatest source of power for the generation of electricity in the United States. In 1954 coal generated nearly 51 per cent of all the power produced.

Custer Recruit AWOL 78 Years

Survived Last Battle of 7th Cavalry by Not Being There

CHICAGO (INS) — A 98-year-old Custer, S. D., veteran says he is alive because he went AWOL when Gen. George Custer made his last stand at the Little Big Horn in Montana.

Ed Ryan, who admits he has been absent without leave from Custer's command for 78 years, also claims he is listed among the dead on a monument at the battleground. But he said during a visit in Chicago that he is listed under the name of George Ryan — a name he assumed to join Custer's 7th Cavalry in June, 1874, at the age of 17.

Stroking his long white beard, Ryan retold the story of his Indian fighting days. He said:

"I joined Custer's cavalry after enlisting in St. Louis. Custer established camp in the black hills about three miles from Custer, S. D., where I now live.

"We were exploring the hills," Ryan continued, "not fighting Indians, but when Custer decided to break camp on June 1, 1876, my tentmate became sick and I was not able to go with the cavalry."

Ryan said Custer told him to remain behind for one day until his "tentmate felt better."

"Then Custer rode west to his fate," recalled the veteran.

Ryan said his tentmate became worse, and so he never reported back to Custer's band — not even after his patient died. Ryan said a few months later he learned that the entire command was killed at the Little Big Horn.

DOG DAYS — Here's how great-grandfather got power for churning butter 100 years ago. This model of a dog-sized treadmill was found on a farm near Corunna, Mich. It'll be on display at the Centennial of Farm Mechanization, August 15-20, at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Denmark's Tivoli Offers Gaiety

Traditional Harlequin Theater Perpetuated in Dane Fairyland

WASHINGTON—Summer in Denmark, when the evening sky is light and the mood of the people even lighter, is the time to go to Trivoli.

Copenhagen's century-old garden is designed to put a visitor in "Tivoli humor"—Danish for "high spirits".

Last year between the first of May and mid-September, more than 4,000,000 pleasure-seekers passed through the park's turnstiles. That is about as many persons as there are in all Denmark, says the National Geographic Society.

The 20-acre amusement park has the usual fun house, roller coaster, and shrieking girls. But has a lot more.

Tivoli, "a state within a state," has its own Royal Guard, a pint-sized replica of the King's Guard, recruited from the city's handsomest 10- to 16-year-olds. It has its own symphony orchestra, its own ballet and 20 restaurants.

It has its own Pantomime Theater, the only stage in the world still offering the traditional Italian harlequinade. Twice a night a crowd in front of a small Chinese temple fastens its eyes on a giant peacock whose tail feathers curtain the stage.

When the peacock lowers its tail, the silent show is on. And once again, as in the Commedia dell 'Arte of the Middle Ages, Harlequin sets out to win Columbine over the bumbling protests of the clown Pierrot.

Georg Carstensen created the pleasure garden. In 1843 when revolution lurked around almost every corner in Europe, he convinced King Christian VIII that Tivoli was just what the Danes needed to keep their minds off politics. Two months later the garden swung open its gates.

A business man stops at a sidewalk cafe for refreshment. A factory hand takes his "day in the country" at Tivoli—under a willow tree where he unrolls his packet of sandwiches as the orchestra strikes up the first note of its noon concert.

Regardless of his tastes, his station or his mission in life, in Tivoli the man is boy again and the boy is king.

2 More States to Use Reflecting License Plates

PIERRE, S. D. (INS) — In a move to help reduce traffic deaths, two more states have switched to reflectorized automotive license plates.

Motorists in Minnesota will start using the plates that reflect the light from car headlights back to approaching motorists in 1956.

South Dakota motorists will make the switch on Jan. 1, 1957.

These adoptions bring to eight the states using such plates either for all motor vehicles or for commercial vehicles.

Similar legislation is also now being considered in several other legislatures.

The reflectorized plates are 100 times brighter, visible to approaching cars from 1,500 feet and readable from 150 feet, by legislative specification.

The changeover was influenced by the safety value of the reflective plates and the success of similar programs in other states, Minnesota and South Dakota officials point out.

Pupils Double Checked

EAST LANSING (AP) — Absent elementary school pupils will be double checked this fall. Teachers devised the plan following several national reports of kidnaping and molesting of youngsters. School personnel will call the pupil's home the first thing in the morning and right after lunch in cases of unexplained absences.

Report Old Elm Trees Now Ready to Succumb

URBANA, Ill (AP)—Elm trees on the Illinois campus are on their last legs. Robert S. Chamberlain, the university's superintendent of operations, says all the 1,600 elms are expected to succumb to Dutch elm disease in the next two years.

Th elm arched Board walk in the heart of the campus, one of the famous sights of the university, has lost 48 of its 117 elms which are 81 years old.

Jolly Roger Still Alive

MANILA (AP) — Piracy is not dead. The Philippines has turned over to Indonesia $15,000 worth of loot recovered from Filipino Moro pirates who raided Ogamas on the island of Celebes in January.

Feathers Fly as Birds Battle in Love Triangle

WINDY HILL BEACH, S. C. (AP) — Bird watching proved more interesting than fishing when a strange martin tried to start an affair with a female nesting on a fishing pier.

When papa martin returned, feathers flew for a while until he drove the stranger off.

The fishermen watching the battle paid no attention when one of their number was bitten on the finger by a small shark he had caught, or when a fish pulled one woman's tackle into the sea.

Bald Bull Rarities

ROCKY HILL, Conn. (AP)—A bald bull is one in 100 million, but the Harry J. Hayes farm has two of them—two-year-old Pink and Hairless, a young calf.

Who Got Stung?

HIGH SPRINGS, Fla. (AP) — D. M. Landrem says he got stung. Forty four hives of bees were stolen from his property while he was away on a visit.

Whistle and He Works

PALATKA, Fla. (AP) — Anybody wanting to get from the east to the west of the St. Johns River here probably will have to whistle. Somebody stole the 16-inch bell and the 16-foot post to which it was attached from the Gates ferry crossing. It was used to summon B. G. Thorpe, the ferry operator.

Many people formerly believed that European storks became men after they migrated to Egypt and remained men until ready to return to Europe.

Courteous Convict

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Alachua County jailers accustomed to abuse from prisoners were surprised to receive a postcard from Ernie Thomas, mailed in Jacksonville 60 miles away after he was released from serving a sentence for being drunk. It said "I got here o.k. Thanks to everybody for being so nice to me."

NO PIPE DREAM — Thomas J. O'Brien will soon turn in his monkey wrenches and pipe fittings and go to Oxford University in England. The 28-year-old journeyman plumber from Chicago, Ill., won a scholarship to the famous English university by writing a winning essay on labor relations, which is what he'll study.

Prison Forgers Free Convicts

Officials Scan Records for Evidence of Ring Cutting Records

ANGOLA, La. (AP) — Louisiana penitentiary officials today began burrowing through five years or more of records for further evidence of a forgery ring that freed at least a dozen convicts before their time.

For payments of $200 to $300, convict clerks in the ring erased records and invented new ones to reduce sentences and alter crimes of inmate customers.

In one case, a man sentenced to 10 years for armed robbery had his sentence shortened to two years and his offense changed to simple burglary.

The forgeries came to light when Warden Maurice Sigler, a veteran of the federal prison system, became suspicious of a clumsy erasure on the records of a man scheduled to be freed Tuesday.

Prison officials said the convict turned out to be a contact man for the ring, soliciting business among the 3,000 inmates on the 18,000-acre prison farm.

Fugitive warrants were issued for seven men given gift reprieves by the ring. Records of all convicts in the past five years will be checked.

Three ring leaders and four others thought to be dickering for an early release were placed in solitary confinement. One had $300 in his shoe.

Special investigator Sargent Pitcher said alterations ranged from crude, hasty erasures on the folder and top sheets to complete substitution of files, including commitment papers, FBI records and prison papers.

Sometimes "consecutive" sentences were made to read "concurrent," knocking out several years internment with the change of a word.

Eisenhowers Celebrate Son's 33rd Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower drove to Ft. Belvoir, Va., last night to help celebrate the 33rd birthday of their son Maj. John Eisenhower.

There was a private dinner party at the two-story brick house into which Maj. and Mrs. Eisenhower and their three children recently moved. John Eisenhower has been assigned at Ft. Belvoir as an infantry training officer.

The President and "Mamie" drove the dozen or so miles to Ft. Belvoir and returned to the White House about 10 p.m.

Tunisian Self Rule Seen as Possibility

PARIS (AP)—A plan providing a large degree self-government for Tunisia was approved 254-25 today by the Council of the Republic, upper house of the French Parliament. It now goes to President Rene Coty for signature.

The program was announced last fall and largely ended anti-French violence in Tunisia. Trouble in France's other North African territories, Algeria and French Morocco, has been increasing steadily.

The plan already has been approved by the lower house of Parliament, the National Assembly.

The program, worked out by French and Tunisian nationalist leaders, will give Tunisia considerable control over its domestic affairs, while France retains control of defense and foreign relations.

Minnesota Likes Youth

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS, Minn. (AP) —Election of a youthful mayor was assured when John Stopka spent his 27th birthday checking an election recount with his opponent. He won by three votes.

It Just Wasn't What He Came Into Store for

CHICAGO (AP) — A man walked into a bakery shop to get a dozen rolls and walked out with a roll of bills.

Mrs. Frieda Schacter, 70, said she put the sack of rolls on the counter and her attention was distracted as the man dropped change to pay for them. After he had gone she discovered that the man had left the rolls and had taken an identical sack containing $800 in cash.

Before police squads arrived, the man returned to the shop, left the bag with the money on the counter, took his rolls and departed. No one learned his name.

"What an honest man," Mrs. Schacter sighed.

Matter of Outlook

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Danny Dalton, 3, was taken to Father Arthur Kale to be baptised.

"What are you doing here, little boy," he was asked.

"Came to get the devils chased out of me," was the reply.

Denver Eatery Stumped by "Western Sandwich"

By EARL WILSON

COLORADO SPRINGS—What a shock! I could see Pike's Peak. But when I asked a waitress at "The Cottage" for a Western sandwich, she'd never heard of it. Yet in every restaurant in New York City . . .

★ ★ ★ ★

I felt sorry for Pike's Peak. You're already up so high here that the 14,000-foot peak seems not much loftier than the Poconos around Scranton and Wilkes-Barre. Too bad they can't give the peak a mountain-lift or something.

ETHEL

This is the uranium jumping-off country. A Denver Post ad urged you to "trade in your old Geiger counter on a new model."

Leon Henderson, ex-OPA chief, now associated with Lowell Birrell of New York in uranium-hunting at Junction City, told me cheerfully:

"We've hit ore and we're not even selling stock . . ."

Ethel Merman's husband, Bob Six, Continental Airlines prez, lent us a car (just a simple little Caddy) and we got caught in a flash flood. With water almost up to the radiator. But Denver can smile at a flood—they need it.

Up in the Denver Skychief room, I found Charles Laughton, Elsa Lanchester, Cesar Romero, Producer Paul Gregory and Don Taylor. Their plane to Los Angeles had been delayed.

To kill time, Elsa Lanchester hit Don Taylor in the kisser with a hunk of cake—the "pie-in-the-face" bit familiar to vaudeville fans.

'Twas cool over in Kansas City. Only 103.

Big NY realtor William Zeckendorf was still amazed at a local nudist wedding he dropped in on, where Evelyn West wore absolutely nothing. "I'm like the boy who saw a giraffe the first time," he said. "I saw it, but I still don't believe it."

★ ★ ★ ★

I drove around LA a few days before coming to Colorado. After driving in Paris, I find the California drivers very careful; in fact, ladies and gentlemen. What does Red Skelton mean about them playing "pedestrian polo?"

Clark Gable and Kay Williams met Johnny Meyer in a Hollywood restaurant. "Hi, Johnny," they said, before he could, "what's new?"

★ ★ ★ ★

I saw beautiful Peggy Knudsen emoting with Jennifer Jones at 20th in "Good Morning, Miss Dove." They were chums around NY and Hollywood a dozen years ago . . . lived together . . . job-hunted together . . . now act together — and they're still good friends.

PEGGY KNUDSEN

Josh Logan told me at the Beverly Hills pool he's so happy Hollywooding he doesn't know about another B'way show.

He and Renee Carroll, the wife of Broadway ticket broker Lou Schonceit, recalled a favorite ticket story.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Dick Haymes still fears to leave the U. S. because he only beat half the deportation rap, so Princess Yasmine's visit to Aga Khan is again stymied . . . Frank Sinatra's signing a big 5-year NBC-TV deal . . . A woman fan asked Joe DiMaggio to get Johnny Mize's autograph for her, and he did. That's earl, brother.

Coast Guard Marks 165th Anniversary

NEW YORK (AP) — The Coast Guard, originally organized as an antismuggling fleet, is 165 years old today.

On Aug. 4, 1790, the first Congress authorized Alexander Hamilton, secretary of the Treasury, to buy and equip 10 vessels costing $1,000 each. This division of the Treasury Department was founded eight years before the Navy.

In 1798, the Coast Guard also became a fighting force and since has played an important role in all U.S. wars.

The importance of coal in cement manufacture is demonstrated by the fact that more than one-third the cost of a barrel of cement goes to pay for the coal used in its production.

THAT'S WHY THEY'RE PAINTERS — Adoption of Bermuda shorts by these Dallas, Tex., painters reveals a possible reason why they chose the art of the brush and paint pot for their life's work. Those knobby knees just wouldn't do if they'd aspired, for instance, to make their career the ballet.

Writer Finds Sturgeon Producing

By JACK PATTERSON
Pontiac Press Outdoors Writer

If there is one Michigan trout stream that can be counted upon to produce regardless of weather, it's the Sturgeon. We've known that for a long time but thought the unusually long hot, dry spell would be the acid test. So we eased over to take a look.

WOLVERINE — We feel lucky to have escaped from the Platte Lake group with a whole hide. Nice bunch of people but some of them stay up too late.

As a matter of courtesy, purely, we always feel constrained to be in on the hanging of the last dog. Hence we're apt to greet the arrival of morning with a somewhat jaundiced eye.

PATTERSON

Took a few minutes to fish the Platte River solely because local opinion was unanimous to the effect that trout aren't "taking" at all during daylight hours.

Well it took about 10 minutes to hook a trout, a brownie, too, which species generally prefers evening activity.

Won't comment on the size, except to say that it was a keeper, and we mention it here only as an example of how wrong people who give advice on fishing are apt to be.

FISHING IN SLUMP

But for the most part, west side fishing is in a bad slump. Warm water is the big culprit. Even the big streams are doing poorly and the lakes — and it doesn't matter which one you name are producing panfish and that's all.

This year's weather probably accounts to some extent for a record tourist year in just about all areas. Resort operators are tickled pink with the volume of business. But to farmers in the Traverse City area freak weather has dealt a double blow. Frost got the cherry crop this spring and heat has done in the berries this summer.

The river is performing true to expectations and some very nice rainbows and browns in the five or so pound category are coming out regularly. Trout fishing in the stream isn't exactly hurt by the fact that the local state hatchery is being forced to dump its mature trout — fish up to 16 or more inches into the stream because hatchery water temperatures have reached the 74 degrees danger point.

The "fall" run of big fish hasn't started in earnest but some are in the stream already. At the mouth of the river, where it enters Burt Lake, we counted 35 boats loaded with anglers trying for big bows.

STURGEON FAVORITE

The Sturgeon is a long-time favorite of local people, so we weren't surprised to find on checking at Schreider's Camp at Wolverine that the Jack Ramseys and Al Parkers of Pontiac and the John Ploes of Walled Lake rank high on the list of current rainbow slayers.

Now then, if anyone feels the need to catch a trout our recommendation is the Sturgeon. All it needs for topflight fishing is a good rain, and it looks very much at the moment as though some such thing was in the offing.

Forget the flies, though. The Sturgeon is, for the most part, a bait and hardware stream.

Past Reflected in Walled City of Quebec

By JOE HAAS
Pontiac Press Feature Writer

QUEBEC — This is the only walled city in North America. In this respect and in its narrow streets, it takes one back further than anything we have south of the Canadian border.

HAAS

Its ramparts and ancient monasteries reflect further into the past than its Plains of Abraham, and the stories of that English - French battle in which the generals of both armies, Wolfe and Montcalm, were killed.

Its present day two greatest drawing cards are outside its limits. One is man made—the famous shrine of shrines, Ste. Anne de Beaupre, the Lourdes of the Americas.

The other is the Falls of Montmorency, higher than Niagara, a natural attraction that awes you in its magnificence and thunder. It would seem that the waters from it surely cast a wider spell over the mighty St. Lawrence, into which they flow just after making their thrilling leap.

Montreal, the Canadian metropolis, and quite comparable in size with Detroit, has the second largest French speaking population of any city in the world, exceeded only by Paris itself.

In this respect, Quebec maintains about the same proportion. In fact, in both cities the two languages are repeated side by side wherever the printed word appears. You can get by if you don't speak any French, but in most of the shops you can get by better if you don't speak any English.

In monetary transactions the slight trade balance in favor of Canadian currency is now grabbed off with a gusto, even on a five-cent deal, and also when you tender Canadian currency and look like a tourist, and don't watch your step.

It surely is quite different from only a few years ago when the balance was the other way, and the shops sobbed their heads off as they grudgingly came across with that 10 per cent. We hear that everything is soon to be par.

U. S. NEWS CUT

The big newspapers in the Dominion cut the news from the U.S. to a mere minimum. New York is the only city big enough to get its temperature into the weather reports. What its like in Detroit, we must judge from the daily report on Windsor.

In the possibilities of what the Seaway will mean to Sarnia the papers print whole columns, but Port Huron never is mentioned. Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Chicago, Milwaukee and Duluth are mere incidents.

However, the most congested traffic area in Canada is in Montreal and its suburbs, and it has the undesirable distinction of beating out the Detroit area in deaths. They even beat the whole state of Michigan.

Over the last weekend there were 37 fatalities in the Montreal area, all being traffic deaths, with the exception of a few drownings. This, I believe, tops any weekend in Michigan's history.

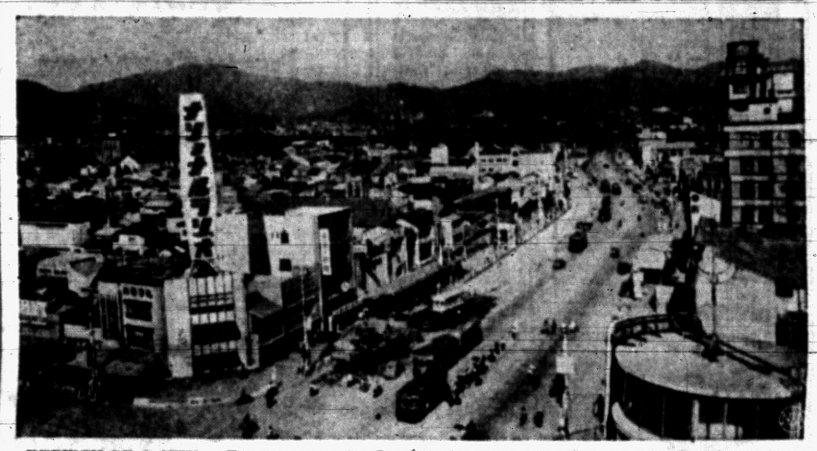

TORISTS IGNORED

In counting up the dead, the local papers have a way of showing how they esteem the American tourists only for the money they spend here. A list of the names of the local people killed is followed by, "the remainder being tourists," with no names mentioned.

But we sometimes hear it said that Canadians are more truly American than we living south of the border. Perhaps that's why they have so many traffic fatalities, although the proportion of cars is far less.

In papers in both Montreal and Quebec Monday appeared full page ads that warm the heart of the writer. It says: "The facts speak for themselves. In the face of a buyers' market, Canadians from coast to coast are picking Pontiac cars at the fastest rate in history . . . a sensational 64 per cent boost in sales over the same period last year." Call up Robert Critchfield, and tell him something he probably already suspects.

REBIRTH OF A CITY — Ten years ago this Saturday — Aug. 6, 1945 — American bombers dropped the world's first atomic bomb on Hiroshima. The top picture shows what remained of 4.1 square miles of the Japanese city a few seconds after the explosion. Some 8,150 of the city's 343,969 citizens died almost instantly. Shown below is the thriving, bustling city that has sprouted from the ruins.

Capital Records Hottest Month

Temperatures in July Averaged 82 Degrees Throughout Nation

WASHINGTON (INS) — Things were pretty warm for Gen. U. S. Grant — weatherwise — when he occupied the White House, but his regime no longer holds the record for the "hottest" administration in history.

The U.S. Weather Bureau spokesman disclosed today that Washington has just sweltered through the hottest July on record.

The average temperature throughout the torrid month was a "shade" (you should pardon the expression) over 82 degrees, a full degree above the previous high mark for the month, set in 1872 when Grant was running for a second term.

Nor has August brought any promise of relief.

It was so hot yesterday that President Eisenhower, with no reference to politics, called the White House rose garden a "bake oven." He duly apologized to a special Governors' committee for having to take them out in the blistering, broiling sun at 11 a.m.

The President expects to clean up his desk and take off about 10 days hence for the comparative coolness of a month-long vacation in Colorado.

But Washington is far from the only sufferer from the blistering heat wave. One Weather Bureau source reported that on Monday every one of the 48 states registered temperatures of 90 or above.

He pointed out that Boston, Seattle and other cities much farther north had readings higher than the local one which was in the upper 90s.

Unique Truck Put in Operation Here to Service Earth-Movers' Giant Tires

The only one of its knd in Michigan, a truck especially designed and equipped to service giant tires used on earth-moving machinery was put into operation here yesterday.

It will be used by the Pontiac Goodyear Service Store, 30 S. Cass Ave., to serve 90 earth movers being used for construction of the new Ford Motor Co. proving grounds near Romeo.

Goodyear's contract with the builder, S. J. Groves & Son, Indianapolis, runs through October, 1956, according to George Willison, store manager. It was one all major tire companies sought, he said.

Each tire costs from $850 to $2,500 and the contractor is using them at the rate of three a week.

Equipped with a winch able to lift easily the 1,000-pound tires, the truck will be stationed at the scene of construction, Willison said. A supply of tires and tubes will be stored there and at the store.

The $7,000 vehicle also carries a regular 50-ton jack and an air jack with a 100-ton capacity. A compressor behind the cab inflates one of the 11-foot tires in 18 minutes.

According to Gene Richter, commercial salesman, another slightly smaller truck will arrive next week.

THE HEAT GOT THEM — Fifteen hundred dead chickens surround Everett Weissbrodt on his poultry farm at Fort Wayne, Ind. His chickens died when the weather reached a scorching 104 degrees. Other poultry farmers in the area suffered similar losses in the heat wave.

It's Important! Finding Will Set Precedent

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Does a citizen break the law when he warns motorists of a radar speed trap?

That was the question put to City Judge B. R. Boushe. The judge, after finding the defendant guilty, said:

"Someone higher than a poor little city judge should pass on this case." The defendant's lawyers agreed and said they would appeal.

The decision of the higher court would apparently set a precedent for Tennessee.

Last week J. W. Evans, 30, was stopped by radar officers for speeding and fined $11.

A few days later a radar crew became suspicious when all cars passing through its "trap" remained well inside the speed limit.

Up the road a bit they found the answer — Evans holding a piece of cardboard with the word "radar" printed on it.

Evans was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. The charge was amended to interfering with an officer acting in the line of duty.

His lawyers contended there was little difference between "radar enforced" signs installed by police and the cardboard sign waved by Evans.

The prosecution couldn't go along with that at all. It said, "If a police officer were standing at a busy intersection trying to handle police affairs and someone came up and interfered with that duty there would be no question of guilt. It's our contention that the same thing happened here."

Judge Boushe fined Evans $16.

Scientists Studying Effects of A-Bomb

(What happens to human beings who have been exposed to the Atom-bomb and live? What if any effect does it have on the children they bear? These are some of the vital questions being tackled by the Atom Bomb Casualty Commission located at Hiroshima. This article tells what unique organization of experts has found out and the task it faces.)

By KENNETH ISHII

HIROSHIMA (INS)—Atop a hill overlooking Hiroshima, 800 dedicated men and women are trying to find out exactly what happens to human beings who have been exposed to an atomic bomb and live.

These are the scientists, doctors, nurses and other experts of the Atom Bomb Casualty Commission charged with an assignment vital to man's fate should an atomic war ever break loose.

Assisted by a companion organization in Nagasaki, the ABCC has amassed a mountain of data on some 8,000 survivors of the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki ten years ago.

But since the unique program was launched after World War II, these are the two main findings the ABCC has been able to report:

1. No abnormal genetic effects have thus far been determined in first generation offspring of parents exposed.

2. There has been an increase in the incidence of leukemia and cataracts among persons exposed.

WELL STAFFED

The ABCC's program is supervised by a committee chosen from renowned U. S. scientists. ABCC's data is available to any scientific organization in the world, has no classified documents, and all are available for the asking, even to the Russians.

An average of 75 A-bomb survivors are brought daily to the hill-top research center in ABCC-furnished transportation for continuing examination or treatment.

"We try to have a patient come in for a checkup at least once a year. But there is no time limit. If necessary we have them come in more frequently," Robert H. Holmes, the director, said.

Checkups are thorough and include extensive laboratory work. All data is analyzed, filed away to check against subsequent reports.

But despite almost ten years of laborious research, Dr. Holmes stressed, "we cannot make any sweeping dogmatic statements. Our work requires patient plodding."

Neither can it be dogmatically stated on the basis of findings so far that the incidence of cancer, kidney, liver and other ailments definitely increases due to radiation exposure.

One important problem raised has been the possibility of mental retardation of children whose parents were both exposed to radiation in Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

But Holmes said the latest ABCC report raises hope that this question might not be significant.

HEAT DEADLY

Actually most of the 78,000-plus deaths in Hiroshima were the result of the tremendous pressure waves and thermal heat of the more than half-a-million degree Fahrenheit "miniature sun" created by the bomb 1/10,000th of a second after it exploded.

Studies indicate only 15 per cent died of radiation and most of these deaths occurred between the third and sixth week after the explosion.

On the other hand some who suffered from all three effects of the bomb—blast, heat and radiation—are leading apparently normal, healthy lives today.

Dr. Holmes described ABCC's relationship with the Japanese medical profession in Hiroshima as "excellent."

No patient is forced to submit to examination by the ABCC; he is requested to do so. Dr. Holmes pointed out that the refusal rate has been "very low."

Another part of ABCC's program is the training of Japanese doctors. Today there are 27 in residency. Some have already been sent to the U. S. for further training and others will follow.

"The ABCC study on the human population," Holmes said, "is the only one of its kind being conducted, and it is also the largest study known to have been undertaken on genetics as it relates to human beings."

He concluded:

"We cannot say how long our program will continue. There is still a lot of work to be done. But what we do find, we will report to the world without restriction."

Ragweed Harvest Opens

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — The annual ragweed harvest, long sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and other civic groups, has been started. A total of $200 in cash prizes is awarded area youngsters for pulling the noxious weed before it ripens to cause distress among allergic persons.

Ike Unresponsive to Second Term Urgings of GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was quoted by Ohio Republican leaders today as saying that no President has reached his 70th birthday in the White House and that there is an erosion that takes place in the presidency.

The Ohio group said it got that response to urgings that Eisenhower run for a second term. But the White House callers said they were not discouraged by the remark, and predicted he would run again.

The group, headed by Ohio State Chairman Ray Bliss and including Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) and more than half a dozen House members, called on the President to present a resolution adopted by the Republican State Committee June 9 requesting that the President become a candidate for re-election.

OMAHA, (INS) — If you think the price of milk is too high, don't blame the dairy farmer. The average farmer in Eastern Nebraska and Western Iowa received only 7.4 cents a quart for the milk he produced this spring.

Judge Hands Down Ruling on Corner

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — City Judge C. C. Wright witnessed an automobile accident, then watched as one irate woman driver assailed the other one.

He interposed to say he thought the irate one was in the wrong.

"That will be for the judge to decide," she snapped.

"I am the judge, lady," he replied.

Wife Gets Wish: Twins Join 17 Other Children

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mrs. Emma Janson of suburban Lemay, already mother to 17 children, gave birth today to twin boys.

She and her husband, Gregory, a paper cutter who sells insurance in his spare time, have 13 children of their own and have reared six nieces and nephews whose parents are in ill health.

Janson said the twin boys, Harold and Gerald, came as a reward for his wife's patience. He explained she always wanted to have twins.

The Jansons recently moved from a seven-room to a nine-room house.

Oddest Deaths Surpass Fiction

List of Fatal Mishaps Includes Strange but True Tragedies

OMAHA (INS)—A man in Chicago leaned down to pet a dog last year and was killed when his gun fell to the pavement and discharged.

This was listed as one of the 10 most unusual accidental death on which death benefits were paid in 1954.

Also in Chicago, a 41-year-old man was electrocuted when the air hammer he was operating struck an underground electric cable.

Among the other unusual accidental deaths listed were those of a middle-aged Iowan who died three hours after being stung by a wasp and a Minnesota man who died of a broken neck when he fell out of bed.

In Kansas, a 49-year-old farmer opened the door of his truck and stepped out but a strong gust of wind slammed the truck door shut on him.

And a 65-year-old Idaho farmer fell off a haystack and was suffocated when the stack tumbled on top of him.

A Montana rancher died after being kicked in the leg by a cow and a farmer in Indiana was killed when the crank of his tractor flew back and struck him in the stomach.

A Chicago executive changing planes at an airport ran into the propellor of the first plane while trying to catch a second. He never learned that he was catching the wrong airplane.

White Parents Boycotting Arkansas Area Schools

HOXIE, Ark. (AP)—More than 150 white persons agreed last night to boycott schools in this northeast Arkansas town until racial integration is abolished.

They signed a resolution presented at a town meeting by Herbert Brewer, a farmer, and they agreed to withhold their children from school, starting today.

Hoxie, like many towns in the east Arkansas cotton land, starts its fall term early in order to be able to close during harvest season.

Integration went into effect without incident with the opening of school last month. There were 20 Negroes and 1,000 white students.

British Ship Reports Red Chinese Attack

HONG KONG (AP) — The British freighter Inchwells reported today she was bombed and machine-gunned at the entrance to Foochow harbor on the Red China coast.

The ship's owners, Williamson and Co., of Hong Kong, said the radioed report did not specify the identity of the attackers but presumably they were Chinese Nationalists.

One crewman was injured seriously and another was hurt slightly in the attack yesterday afternoon, the spokesman said.

Last July 9 the Inchwells was bombed and machine-gunned by two Thunderjet aircraft in the Min River near Foochow.

6 WACs Discharged After Morals Trial

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (AP)—An investigation of moral conduct among part of Ft. Jackson's WAC detachment has resulted in the discharge of six members.

Authorities said yesterday the action was "for the good of the service. They declined comment on the investigation itself. The discharges, according to the public information office, were "of the undesirable type."

The office said the investigation began two weeks ago as a result of reports "received from certain members of the WAC detachment" containing "allegations of questionable moral conduct on the part of a small group within the detachment."

Authorities also declined comment on a Chicago Tribune story that one of the WACs attempted suicide because of "the solicitations of a group of WACs who had tried repeatedly to induce her to engage in immoral acts."

The WAC detachment here is made up of about 100 members.

Israeli Mining Worker Finds Petrified Reptile

TEL AVIV (INS)—Israeli geologists have reported the discovery in the Negev of a petrified reptile believed to have lived 100 million years ago.

The reptile, first of the Cretaceous Era found intact in Israel, was discovered by a phosphate mining worker.

Artificial Isles More Common

Number of Manmade Islands Growing Fast Along U. S. Shores

WASHINGTON — Man-made islands standing on long steel legs above the sea, like motionless herons are appearing off United States shores in growing numbers.

An entire archipelago—some 600 oil-drilling platforms—sprouted off the Gulf coast of Texas and Louisiana in the last eight years. Sometime this summer the first "Texas Tower," a huge radar sentry post, literally will let down its feet in the Atlantic Ocean, 100 miles or more east of Cape Cod on Georges Bank.

These stations on sea stilts scarcely class as "land," although they certainly are surrounded by water. Made of steel and concrete, they rank as fixed, inhabited islands nonetheless — created by man rather than nature, the National Geographic Society says.

Scattered up to 27 miles out on the oil-rich coastal shelf of the Gulf of Mexico, spindly drilling derricks march from the Mississippi Delta to the Rio Grande. Some rest on permanent pilings driven into the bottom. Others are submersible barges, whose upper platform remains high above the water while the main hull sinks to become a solid foundation.

The fantastic Texas Towers, however, carry their own legs. They push them down to the sea floor, then jack themselves up above the highest waves like a boy shinnying up a pole. Already used for oil-well rigs and at Thule air base in Greenland as piers, they will take the form of huge triangular platforms, 200 feet on a side, for the Atlantic radar sites.

Five such guard posts are planned in a 1,000-mile chain from the Virginia Capes to Newfoundland. They will stand on the continental shelf, an undersea plain reaching as far as 200 miles offshore. Rotating crews of radar specialists will man the stations, probably a month at a time.

'FROGMEN' AT WORK IN ARCTIC — A U. S. Navy "frogman" holds on to ice, center, while a companion has gear checked at right during check of navigational facilities of an ice-packed channel for Coast Guard ship Northwind, background, in the Bering Sea. Teams of "frogmen" have been aiding in surveys of beaching sites, and checking navigable channels across top of Canada since June 10. This picture was taken June 22 and has just been made available.

Embarrassing Mishap

Young Boy Gives His Pup to Ease a Mother's Grief

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Eleven-year-old Rod Wilson has bid a tearful farewell to Smoky, his black mongrel puppy who is en route by air to Southern Pines, N.C., to bring comfort to a grieving mother.

Rod gave the puppy to Calvert Wilson, no relation, in exchange for a promise of a bicycle, but shortly afterward Calvert Wilson and a companion died on the desert from heat after their truck broke down. Several days later Smoky was found, hungry and forlorn, in the dead man's deserted manufacturing plant in Burbank.

Rod claimed him from the Burbank animal shelter, from which he originally got Smoky. Calvert Wilson's mother Mrs. Frank Wilson, of Southern Pines, wrote Rod's father Roderick Wilson and asked for the dog as the last link with her son. She is critically ill.

So Smoky and Rod said goodby yesterday, perhaps for the last time, Rod was crying as he left the airport.

Says Education Economic Cure

New C. of C. President Believes Learning Best Answer to Problems

JACKSON, Miss. (INS)—A. Boyd Campbell, new president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, believes that education is the answer to all economic problems.

Campbell, who calls himself a "pencil peddler from Mississippi," puts his thesis in this terse sentence: "The higher your education level, the higher your economic level."

Campbell, 65, is chairman of the Mississippi School Supply Co., a firm he started in 1919 with a borrowed $10,000.

Campbell refuses to believe that the concept of "more goods at lower prices" is the answer to economic problems.

He says, for example, "You may make one million pencils for the price of 1,000—but you can't sell any pencils unless people can write."

This holds true, not only for his own business, he believes, but for other businesses as well. "You can't have a market among illiterate people," he says, "Except for the barest necessities."

Campbell believes education is also the answer to other problems — such as the racial issue.

He said, "We have little chance to survive in today's world, unless we educate all the people, and educate them well."

To illustrate the financial value of education, Campbell tells this story:

A train he was riding on a recent trip stopped for fuel. The fuel tank was located next to the water tank. A porter was told to fill the train's fuel tank. Unable to read, the porter put water in the engine's fuel tank.

"Besides the delay in getting started again," Campbell said, "The cost of cleaning out the engine would have paid for a college education for that man."

Two Seek Governor Post in Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Atty. Paul Johnson and J. P. Coleman, state's attorney general, face each other for the governorship of Mississippi in the Aug. 23 Democratic primary.

Johnson, making his third bid for the post once held by his father, led a field of five candidates in Tuesday's first Democratic primary. Under Mississippi election laws, if no candidate receives a majority the two leaders go into a runoff primary. Nomination in the Mississippi Democratic primaries virtually means election.

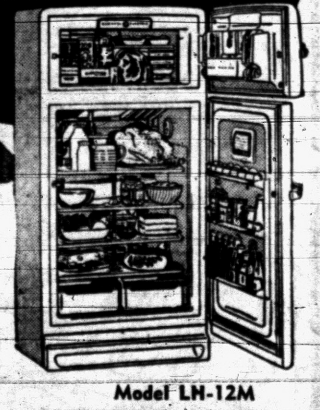

Unofficial incomplete returns gave Johnson 110,748 votes in 1,763 of the state's 1,852 precincts; Coleman, 102,567.

Thompson Meets With Ike Aides

Cadillac Representative Presses Air Force Base Relocation Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—With a recall movement still seething among her constituents, Rep. Ruth Thompson (R-Mich) says she is continuing a fight to obtain a proposed jet plane base for her congressional district.

Miss Thompson took the controversy over where-in-Michigan to build the base directly to the White House yesterday? After discussing the matter with two of President Eisenhower's aides for over an hour, she declared she is "still hopeful" the 16 to 20 million dollar installation will be located in her district.

She met with Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons, deputy assistant to the President, and Fred A. Seaton, one of the President's administrative assistants.

"They made no commitment to help me," she reported, "but I outlined my case thoroughly and they were, to say the least, very impressed."

Miss Thompson said she would be summoned to another White House conference on the matter within a few days, indicating possible White House intervention.

The Air Force originally planned to build the base at a site in Benzie County but later was moved to another near Cadillac. Both sites are in Miss Thompson's district and she objected to the shift, contending it "put me in the middle" with her constituents.

Texans Plan Six-Day Crockett Birthday Fun

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—San Antonio is going to celebrate Davy Crockett's birthday for six days. It will begin with a parade Aug. 17 to the Alamo, the fortress where Davy died defending freedom.

Aug. 17 is the birthday of the King of the Wild Frontier.

Then the celebration will keep right on going through Aug. 23, including a party for youngsters whose birthdays fall on Aug. 17, displays by the Texas Muzzle Loaders and Rifle Assn., and a "b'ar grinnin' " contest for the kids.

Interlochen Operetta

INTERLOCHEN (AP)—High school students will present the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "Patience" Aug. 5-6 at the National Music Camp. Singers will be directed by Maynard Klein, director of choirs at the University of Michigan.

It takes about seven miles of thread and 700 hours of labor to make a mink coat.

THIS IS A WHIZ — Looking somewhat like the Kon-Tiki on rails, this rocket sled is believed to be the fastest land vehicle on earth. The unmanned supersonic sled, built by Radioplane Co. of Van Nuys, Calif., has streaked 1100 m. p. h. at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. That's 60 m. p. h. faster than the previous land speed record.

Six Couples Buy Bus

'Big Business' Group on Incorporated Jaunt

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—Vacation, yes, but how about an incorporated vacation?

That's the brainchild of six Owensboro couples, stockholders in "Kentucky Wonders? Inc."

With that legend lettered broadly across their converted school bus, they plan to leave for the East Saturday morning for 16 days of "roughing it."

Sightseeing at Niagara Falls, a lobster feast in Maine, and more sightseeing and possibly radio-television appearances in New York.

The couples are Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Foster Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Shelton Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Glover Cary Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Fulton, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Owen.

The idea was born recently when Foster mentioned a bus-bound vacation. The couples talked it over, then bought a 1946 model bus, equipped it, figured out a vacation drew up articles of incorporationdrew up articles of incorporation, which were issued by the state.

The budget calls for an expenditure of $100 per person, including $25 each for the cost of operating the bus. Each couple is limited to one suitcase in addition to two dresses each for the women and a suit apiece for the men.

The campers will stock enough food to carry them through the first two days; after that, they'll buy provisions along the way.

Mrs. Owen explained that Kentucky Wonders? Inc. has a double meaning: it can be interpreted as a description of the passengers, or that Kentucky wonders just what the heck these people are doing.

Atomic Invitation Given

LONDON (AP)—Britain has announced it will invite all 60 nations participating in the Geneva atomic conference to take an unrestricted look at its atomic research establishment at Harwell. Russia and several of her satellites are among the 60 nations.

Contract Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower yesterday signed into law a bill to extend through 1956 the renegotiation law, which gives the government power to review negotiated defense contracts and recapture excessive profits.

Air Force Probes Atmosphere With New Type Rocket

BEDFORD, Mass. (INS) — Air Force scientists are going to make another attempt to unlock secrets of the atmosphere at high altitudes.

Officials at the Air Force Cambridge Research Center said that another sodium vapor rocket designed to reach an altitude between 20 and 60 miles will be launched the week of Oct. 14 from Holloman Air Force Base, New Mexico.

Top geo-physics experts of the nation connected with the research center are studying the possibility of the presence of sodium at high altitudes.

Last Jan. 19, at sunset, a so-called "Aerobe Rocket" was released in New Mexico. When it reached an altitude of about 20 miles, there was a flash. A slight cloud immediately formed.

This led the scientists to the opinion that there was more sodium to be vaporized in the air above levels already reached.

It was emphasized that the experiments of the rockets, which have been going on for five years, are devoted to determining composition of the atmosphere and have nothing to do with possible man-made satellites.

Crash Victim Dies

CHATHAM, Ont. (AP) — Edmond Balski, 28, of Detroit, died in a hospital last night after he was injured in an automobile accident yesterday afternoon near here. Doctors said Balski suffered head injuries when thrown from his car.

Bob Considine Says:

Don't Forget the Mind Behind the Satellite

WASHINGTON (INS)—The man who made possible the proposed earth satellite has been all but forgotten in the excitement that has followed President Eisenhower's dramatic announcement that such a man-made moon will be launched.

Dr. Robert Hutchings Goddard, who died in 1945 after seeing the Nazis steal his designs and create the monstrous V-2, is to the rocket what the Wright brothers are to the plane. Such authorities as Jimmy Doolittle credit Goddard also as the forefather of jet propulsion, strongly related to the quiet physicist's lifetime pursuit of a space piercing rocket.

The visitor to Washington today can see an exhibit of the gestation period of the Goddard rocket, the biggest and last of which inspired the V-2 with which Hitler experts rained death on London. The exhibit is at the aircraft building of the National Air Museum on the grounds of Smithsonian Institution.

A regular visitor is the pioneer's widow, who was the official photographer of Dr. Goddard's pre-war rocket tests in the New Mexico desert and a close technical assistant in his work, Mrs. Goddard lives at No. 1 Tallawanda Drive, Worcester, Mass.

Dr. Goddard was born October 5, 1882, and died near the end of World War II, at which time he was a civilian employe of the Navy. He was a product of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, taught there after graduation and became a professor at Clark University, Worcester, where his first serious rocket research began about 1910.

FIRST ROCKET

He worked in bleak obscurity so far as the world was concerned. The public in general knew nothing about him until July 17, 1929, when he fired from a farm on the edge of Worcester an 11-foot-6-inch rocket that used liquid fuel and carried a barometer, thermometer and a camera. It was the first experiment of its kind.

The rocket made considerably more noise than Goddard expected. Police and firemen, responding to calls that a plane must have crashed in the experimental area, rushed there to find the studious professor, his wife and his aides thoughtfully studying details of the historic flight.

Dr. Goddard was taken in custody, while reporters wrote of his effort to "shoot the moon." In time he was told by the state fire marshal that he could never again fire a rocket in Massachusetts.

The incident came to the attention of Charles A. Lindbergh, then serving as a technical adviser to the Guggenheim Foundation for Aeronautics.

LINDY HELPED

Lindbergh called on Goddard, was deeply impressed, and interested the late Daniel Guggenheim and his son, Harry, prominent financier and sportsman, in the rocket project.

The Guggenheim funds supplemented a small but much needed grant from the Smithsonian Institution, which had enabled Dr. Goddard to take his dreams out of the lab and shoot the result at the sky.

Dr. Charles Doolittle Walcott, fourth secretary of the institution, was the far-sighted patron who had sprung research funds from the "Hodgkins Fund," set up many years ago "to encourage explorations of the upper air." A previous grant had been three miles of silk string to the inventor of a high flying kite.

But the U.S. government saw Goddard's dream only dimly. The principal buyer of the Smithsonian Institution's three slender but informative pamphlets on the Goddard liquid-fueled rocket was the military attache to the German embassy in Washington. Price—15 cents.

Out of those pamphlets was born the V-2, and out of the V-2 has come the promise of Dr. Goddard's old dream of reaching into the great unknown above our heads.

Anderson Awarded Medal of Freedom

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today presented Robert B. Anderson of Vernon, Tex., who is retiring soon as deputy secretary of defense, the Medal of Freedom for "exceptionally meritorious service in furtherance of the security of the United States."

The ceremony in the White House rose garden was attended by Pentagon civilian and military leaders.

The citation accompanying the medal said Anderson had contributed to the sound advancement of national security through his work in international affairs, particularly as defense member of the Operations Coordinating Board, and through his participation in meetings of the North Atlantic Council and in the development of the St. Lawrence Seaway program.

The Medal of Freedom was established in 1945 at the suggestion of President Truman for distinguished service by civilians in the interest of the nation's security.

Chuck Roast Leads List of Weekend 'Better Buys'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That favorite of economy-minded housewives, chuck roast, is back at the top of the best buy list in the nation's food stores.

A survey of leading markets shows that chuck will be widely featured for the weekend. It's by far the most popular cut among beef items on the special list.

Pork offers good value for your money, too. Pork prices went down last week in most areas and further reductions are being made for the coming weekend. In the livestock markets, hog prices are down to the lowest summer levels since 1946, which accounts for the downtrend in pork chop and pork loin price tags.

There are specials in some cities on legs of lamb, prime ribs, fryers and some cuts of veal. By and large, prices on these items are about in line with a week ago.

The Department of Agriculture figures you'll find slightly lower retail food prices in the next few months. It reports that production of meats, poultry and other livestock products is at record levels and that crop production will be the second largest on record. This last half of the year will bring especially large supplies of pork, potatoes, and some fruits and vegetables, the Department says, but seasonal decreases in supplies of milk and eggs.

EGG PRICES UP

Egg prices are already on the way up. One major chain is posting increases of two cents a dozen for large grade "A" whites in Los Angeles and Detroit, four cents in Boston, Chicago, Washington, D. C., and Jacksonville, and 10 cents in New York.

Tomatoes have joined potatoes, onions and cabbage in the list of especially good buys, according to specialists in the produce markets. They rate these as good buys—peppers, corn, iceberg lettuce, carrots, beans and eggplant.

Prices of squash and spinach advanced moderately during the week.

Good buys in fruits include oranges and grapefruit, limes and watermelons. In addition, cantaloupes and honeydews are much lower and prices are considered attractive. The produce men say these two items are about as low as they're likely to get this season.

More apples are available, and prices are down. However, they're mostly cooking apples. Also declining this week were nectarines, pears and western cherries. Plums and grapes cost about the same as a week ago.

A bit of care is necessary in buying peaches. There are numerous varieties available and quality varies widely. Prices are irregular.

Curiosity Gets Opossum

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A mother opossum and her youngsters waddled into the railroad diesel shops for a looksee at railroading at the 'possum eye level. Workers organized a hunt. Mother and her brood were captured and ushered from the shops. Railroad routine was then resumed.

Grand Rapids Abolishes Milk Date Requirement

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The City Commission has voted to abolish an ordinance which requires dates on milk containers and forbids sale 72 hours after the date is stamped. The ordinance had been in effect since 1928.

The Grand Rapids Milk Dealers Assn. told the Commission the ordinance had cost the group's 30 dairies $128,000 annually. Spokesmen said modern refrigeration and industry precautions are ample protection for the public. Grand Rapids and Detroit are reportedly the only Michigan cities which required dates stamped on milk containers.

"They can't be just '1!"

"... But they are! I just saw them!"

"Any good?"

"Terrific! ... Vat dyed, imported Sanforized fabrics ... and so many styles!"

"I couldn't buy the material for that!"

"Of course not ... That's why I got 3 blouses: I really wanted more."

"I could use a check blouse."

"Who couldn't? There are ginghams and solid colors ... and yes, some blouses have those cute doll sleeves."

"Goodbye ... I'm going right now. Call you later!"

Lichen Everywhere

WASHINGTON (INS) — Among nature's competing classes of plants, the lichen can be safely voted the one most likely to succeed — anywhere. The humble lichen thrives on solid stone and thin air, seemingly indifferent to extremes of heat, cold, height and humidity. It seeks out desolate places that others shun. According to the National Geographic Society, it grows more widely over the earth's surface than any other plant.

Doctor Defends Today's Teeners

Michigan Psychiatrist Maintains It's a Crazy Mixed-Up World

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Teenagers are not crazy mixed-up kids—but the world they live in is.

So says a University of Michigan child psychiatrist.

Dr. Ralph D. Rabinovitch, chief of the children's service, neuropsychiatric institute at the university, explains:

"With all his problems, the adolescent has priceless assets which, given proper nurture, far outweigh the negatives — but some things continually get in his way."

In an article in the English Journal, printed by the University of Chicago Press, Dr. Rabinovitch takes aim at some current child psychology axioms which he thinks have gone astray.

In trying to give their child independence many parents, Dr. Rabinovitch believes, go too far, depriving them of needed family security and guidance.

As a result, he says, they are forced to stand on legs too wobbly to hold them.

"In some families," he writes, "it is though parents no longer dare direct a child after he has reached the magic age of 16 . . . it is certainly nice to grow up with one's children, but it is also wise to be more mature than one's children."

COMIC BOOKS EVIL

"Comic books are the evils of the times." But, he says, this theme is overdone. "At least in Superman and Mighty Mouse the child knows that good triumphs over evil."

Dr. Rabinovitch feels that the horrors of everyday life are more gruesome than comic books—although he adds that some comics do offend.

He believes that adolescents need more than a school course in the anatomy and physiology of sexual functions. He says:

"The primary elements of sex education are found in family relationships, in feeling tones between parents and in feeling tones between parents and child."

There is too much of an effort now, Rabinovitch says, to keep sentiment out of young lives, to give teenagers a sort of toughness.

On the other hand, children must be allowed to feel and appreciate the sentiment of the world's great literature, which will give them a respect for individuality and originality. He adds:

"If our aim is to raise gangsters, then, of course we must avoid sentiment at all cost . . . if we want to produce thinking, feeling young citizens capable of spotting potential despots, then sentiment, far from being a sign of weakness, has an important place in the school experience."

A Turtle

TOMORROW: A Puppy

If you want a small pet that doesn't require much space, a turtle is your answer.

They are best as pets if you have a place to keep them outdoors. It should be a sheltered spot, but one where there is some sunshine. They can be kept in terrariums in the house too. The little green turtles usually sold in pet shops need careful attention if they are to live.

Although turtles can swim well, and spend much time in the water, they must have a place to come out and dry off in the sunshine. Turtles don't stand cold weather well.

A rectangular tank is a good turtle home. At one end should be water, preferably in a separate dish that can be taken out and cleaned every day. At the other end put gravel and earth with growing plants.

Never paint a turtle's shell. It keeps him from growing and makes his shell soft.

A healthy turtle that is well taken care of will grow to be 10 or 12 inches long and will live for many years.

Feed him daily chopped raw fish and beef and liver as well as worms, grubs, lettuce. He likes to drag his food under the water and eat it there. Be sure to remove all left-over food each day to keep the tank clean.

304 Bills Await Attention of Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower had 304 bills before him today, not counting many passed in the final hours of Congress which adjourned early today.

He is expected to act on many of these before leaving some time this month for about six weeks of rest and work at the summer White House in Denver. No definite date has been set for his departure for Denver.

The White House said today the President will leave Friday, probably soon after a Cabinet meeting, for his usual weekend at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Something Fishy

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—The sheriff's office arrested a fisherman for driving while drunk and finally figured out what to do with all the fish he had. They were sent to the county jail kitchen.

Sawdust Pile Burns Despite All Efforts

CAVE JUNCTION, Ore. (INS)—Coal seams that burn for years have a parallel in a smoking sawdust pile near Cave Junction in southern Oregon.

Spontaneous combustion resulting from pressure started the fire in the sawdust pile, which covers an acre and is 70 feet deep in several places. A crew pumped water on the pile all day, but it kept on burning beneath the surface.

Forestry and fire experts went to the scene and said the only practical thing to do was to cut a fire break around it and keep the fire under control.

The only other way to handle it, they said, would be to bulldoze the sawdust out over square miles of land to uncover the fire.

The fire is expected to burn for at least 10 years, maybe 20.

Science Enters Do-It-Yourself Trend Today

PITTSBURGH, (INS) — The popular do-it-yourself trend is getting the scientific treatment.

A power tool maker has established the first do-it-yourself "laboratory" to help solve hobbyists' problems in the workshop.

"Scientist" Al Warkaske, previously employed professionally as a cabinet maker, operates the laboratory which serves as an information center for thousands of hobbyists who write in seeking advice on building furniture or answers to workshop problems.

An additional duty of Warkaske's is to edit a 24-page magazine published six times a year.

The magazine is packed full of projects which, before publication, are worked out in advance by Warkaske to determine how they can best be made and what they will look like when completed.

Michigander's Work Full of 'Letdowns'

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Steve S. Malsam, 26, was a paratrooper in the Korean War and he's still jumping. He says there are only three men in the country who go up in balloons and parachute to earth as an entertainment stunt. He is one of them.

He's a welder in cold weather but gets a leave of absence from his job to do his jumping in the summer. Although he gets up to $300 for each leap, he says the real reason he does it is because it is fun. Expenses are high. His balloons cost $800 to replace and parachutes cost $100 apiece.

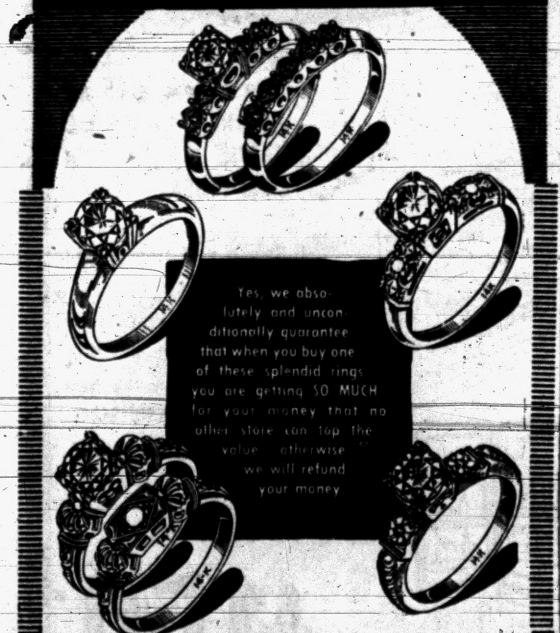

He does stunts on a trapeze as the hot-air-filled balloon rises, then lets go and falls free for 800 feet before opening his 'chute. That free fall takes about 28 seconds, he says. He carries a little bag of flour to make a trail in the air.

Permanent frost extends at least 765 feet into the ground on Cornwallis Island, 560 miles north of the Arctic Circle.

Age Plays Role in Ike's Decision

President Explains Views of Second Term Hazards to Person and Country

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower indicated for the first time today that his age will be a factor in his decision on whether to seek a second term.

Mr. Eisenhower noted in accepting another resolution calling on him to run for reelection that no President has ever reached his 70th year in the White House.

The 64-year-old Chief Executive would be 70 by the end of another four years in office.

Mr. Eisenhower again indicated, however, that the world situation a year from now will be the determining factor in his second term decision.

The President's remarks were made to a delegation of Ohio Republicans who presented the resolution passed by the state GOP committee. He said that if it were possible to look ahead and see what the "situation" would be at this time next year, he might be able to give his answer right now.

Mr. Eisenhower said in his most candid discussion to date of what is in his mind as he considers a second term that an "erosion" occurs in any man who holds the Presidency.

Newsmen were not permitted in the President's office to hear his remarks, but they were filled in by Senator Bender who said he felt Mr. Eisenhower did not commit himself one way or the other on whether he would be a candidate in 1956.

Bender said, however: "My opinion is he has to run, because he's doing such a wonderful job and the country expects him to."

Bulganin Reports Peace Intent of U.S.

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Nikolai Bulganin told a special session of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) today all four powers at the Geneva summit conference displayed a desire to end the cold war.

He said the conference was "a definite success for the peace-loving forces."

He told 1,500 deputies assembled from the Soviet Union that the Geneva parley "ranks as an important historic event since it opens a new page in relations between the U.S.S.R., the United States, Great Britain and France."

40 STORIES UP — Daring Betty Fox does tricks 40 stories above a Chicago, Ill., street. Betty, the other half of the Betty and Benny sky dancers act, did her jumping exercises from an 18-inch board thrust from a hotel window. She was practicing for an appearance before thousands of Shriners at the "Shrinerama" pageant at Soldiers Field.

Red Peace Offensive Puts Dulles Under Tense Strain

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Richards (D-SC) said today the Communist peace offensive has put Secretary of State Dulles under growing pressure "to compromise or be destroyed."

Richards, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said he has "never been more disturbed" lest Red peace talk dissipate "our patience, our will and our determination to resist."

"I think Secretary Dulles understands the Communists and properly evaluates the issues," he said in an interview.

"I don't believe that the pressures that will be exerted on him in the name of peace will weaken his resolve to stand firm no matter what winds blow.

"But the pressures will grow and grow to make concessions to the Communists, to recognize Red China, to abandon our commitments to weaker allies, to enfold in our arms the Communists' promises of peace."

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said, meanwhile, Eisenhower administration foreign policies of the past six months have been "extraordinarily successful." But he declared the democratic party will "get a lot of credit from the voters" for support he said it has given the President.

Mansfield, a Foreign Relations committeeman, particularly praised President Eisenhower's "courage" in seeking from Congress last January special authority to use U.S. amred power in defense of Nationalist-held Formosa and related areas near Communist China.

"In retrospect," he said in a separate interview, "we must give Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles a lot of credit for that resolution. The results could have been catastrophic and they knew it."

The effect of overwhelming congressional approval, he said, showed solid support for the administration's Formosa policy and "reversed an unhappy trend of repeated backing down by the administration the previous year."

Deeds Office's July Work Volume Is Up

The growth of Oakland County was again reflected today when July's business in the Register of Deeds Office was tabulated and compared to the same month last year.

Statistics released by Register Orrin McQuaid show an increase of 1,299 total papers processed over July 1954, when 14,864 papers were handled last month.

Receipts for July amounted to $22,460.90, a $2,146.40 upswing over the same period last year, while deeds for the county totaled 3,642, a slight increase.

Seventeen new plats were listed last month, while 2,234 miscellaneous papers were recorded, an increase of 519.

Detroiters Go to Ohio to Take Gotham Plane

DETROIT (AP)—Some Detroit people have found that the trip to the airport is the longest part of the trip to New York. They say they can take an air taxi from Detroit City Airport, make a 90-mile trip to Cleveland, land at the Municipal airport there and catch the New York plane.

Through airlines make their Detroit stops at the Willow Run Airport. The passenger says the 90-mile trip to Cleveland saves time.

'Dracula' Ready for New Horror Story Picture

NORWALK, Calif. (AP) — Rehabilitated, Bela Lugosi will leave the Metropolitan State Hospital tomorrow and start work on a new movie in two weeks. He was treated for three months for drug addiction.

The 66-year-old actor said he had been studying the script for his part in "The Ghoul Goes West" during his rehabilitation.

His step firm, his voice firm, and his eyes as piercing as ever, Lugosi has come a long way back from the emaciated addict who could barely walk when he was committed to the hospital at his request.

His desire to act again, plus the countless letters of encouragement helped him over the rough spots, Lugosi confided to a newsman.

"I just couldn't have done this alone," he said.

Army Heads Visit Korea

SEOUL (AP)—Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, U.S. Far East commander, and Gen. Isaac D. White, commander of Army Forces Far East and the 8th Army, arrived today on a routine visit.

Swimmer Fails in Ontario Try

19-Year-Old Girl Gives Up 2 Miles from Toronto After 21 Hours

TORONTO (AP) — Shirley Campbell, a 19-year-old typist, failed today in her try to become the second person to swim the forbidding 32-mile expanse of Lake Ontario between Youngstown, N.Y. and Toronto.

Shirley's bid to place her name alongside Toronto's Marilyn Bell, who swam the distance last year, ended when she was pulled from the water at 1:15 a.m. with less than two miles to go.

Automobile lights on the Toronto waterfront twinkled at her as 50,000 waited to give her a boisterous welcome. Searchlights lit the way to the finish line, but she was forced to give up after 21 hours, 27 minutes in the water.

She was exhausted and almost unconscious when pulled out. She was taken to the Toronto harbor police headquarters and then whisked in an ambulance to a hideaway on the outskirts of Toronto.

Shirley, of Fergus, Ont., made her unscheduled plunge at Youngstown, N.Y., at 3:48 a.m. Wednesday with only a few persons on hand. The end came in forbidding darkness amid a small flotilla of boats.

It was a tortuous journey for the attractive 119-pound swimmer.

Her starting stroke of 68 to the minute had gradually decreased to 58, 56, 52, 42, 22 and then zero. She tried swimming with one arm and then by only threshing her legs. But she couldn't make much headway. Her arms were sore, her body bone-weary.

"I'll get there if I have to swim on my back or crawl on my stomach," she told her coach, Max Hurley.

Intermittent heavy showers splashed down on her. The waters became choppy. She appeared to get her second wind, but Toronto's lights weren't getting any brighter.

Brenda Fisher of Grimsby, England, plunged into the water and swam alongside Shirley to keep up her spirits. Then the Ontario girl appeared to be swimming in circles and her coach decided she had had enough.

Hopkins Will Captain Arthritis Fund Plea

NEW YORK (INS) — Gen. George C. Kenney announced today that John Jay Hopkins, board chairman and president of General Dynamics Corp. has accepted the post of campaign chairman of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

Kenney, national president of the foundation, said Hopkins will head the annual nationwide fund raising activities of the organization that will get under way Nov. 7 with Stop Arthritis Week. The goal is $5,000,000 for the fund which will be used in the program of patient care rehabilitation research and public and professional education.

Hopkins in mid-May won wide attention with an address before the International Chamber of Commerce meeting in Tokyo. He proposed establishment of an Atomic Energy Community for Free Asia, an atomic counterpart of the European steel and coal community.

GOP Sees Win From Kentucky

Bitter Democrat Fight for Governor Splitting 'Solid South' Vote

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's fiercest political fight in years today found the two major candidates for the Democratic governor's nomination in a hard-driving finish to a furious campaign.

Saturday, Kentucky Democrats will choose between former Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, seeking to be governor again, and former Appellate Judge Bert T. Combs, making his first bid for statewide elective office with state administration backing.

The winner will run in the Nov. 8 general election. Five of the last seven governors have been Democrats.

But the Republicans are counting on factional bitterness among Democrats to put the first GOP governor in office since 1943. The term is for four years.

Running for the Republican nomination in a relatively quiet campaign are former U.S. Dist. Atty. Edwin R. Denney, 51, endorsed by Ambassador to India John Sherman Cooper, former U.S. senator from Kentucky, and James L. Clay, 43-year-old attorney.

Outcome of the Combs-Chandler contest will have a bearing on the political future of U.S. Sen. Earle C. Clements, acting majority leader, and the makeup of this state's delegation to the 1956 Democratic presidential nominating convention.

Chandler has indicated that if he's elected governor he would have an opponent face Clements in next year's primary. Thus the Chandler-Combs race represents a struggle for power between factions headed by Clements, 1947-50 governor, and Chandler, 1935-39 governor and 1939-45 U.S. senator. Each side predicted victory.

Grand Haven to Vote

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—City Council had scheduled Sept. 27 for a special election on a proposal to modernize the city charter. Voters also will ballot on candidates for the nine posts on a charter study commission, contingent on approval of the revision plan. A majority vote is required for passage of each proposal.

Church Fund Begins

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — The memorial gifts phase of a campaign to raise $100,000 for a new St. Patrick's Catholic Church building is set to open Sunday. The old church, a city landmark, recently was sold to make way for a state highway improvement project.

Pair Arrested in Extortion Try

$100,000 Sought From Grandfather in Threat Against 3 Grandsons

LOS ANGELES (AP) — FBI agents say that an unemployed musician and his blonde wife sought to extort $100,000 from a millionaire contractor whose daughter was murdered last month.

Edgar Leon Williams, 22, and his wife, waitress Veronica Williams, 24, are in jail, named in a complaint accusing them of violating the federal extortion law.

They were arrested yesterday by FBI agents, who said the couple had mailed a letter to John Thompson, threatening death to his grandsons unless he mailed $100,000 to a "Dale Smith." The three children are sons of Mrs. Norma McCauley, 33, who was stabbed and strangled July 5 in her nearby Bel-Air home.

Agents said a dummy package was mailed to the address given in the note. A woman at the address said there was no Smith there. The mailman returned the package to the post office.

The FBI said Mrs. Williams was arrested when she went to the post office, identified herself as Dale Smith, and asked for the package.

Williams, wearing a green-and-white checked hat and a bright sports shirt, was arrested soon afterward at the address given in the letter as that of "Smith," the FBI said.

The couple was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Theodore Hocke and remanded to jail in lieu of $20,000 bail each.

FBI agents said that the Williamses apparently singled out Thompson because of the publicity resulting from his daughter's slaying.

Mrs. McCauley's former houseboy, John R. Crocker Jr., 31, is awaiting trial on a charge of murdering her. He worked for her prior to he divorce five months ago, helping to care for the three children, Craig, 7, Kirk, 5, and Kevin, 2.

Texas Music Club Gives New Lodge for Interlochen

INTERLOCHEN (AP) — Dedication ceremonies were set today for a $3,000 Scholarship Lodge, donated to the national music camp by the Texas Federation of Music Clubs.

Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, camp director, said the lodge will be used to house visitors. Rental proceeds are planned to provide at least two partial scholarships annually for worthy talented Texas music students.

The lodge is the first of two, donated by the Texas group, to be opened at the camp this summer.

Maddy said Mrs. Ronald A. Dougan of Beloit, Wis., president of the National Federation of Music Clubs, is attending the dedication. Dr. Roderick Gordon, director of the music department at North Texas State College in Denton and a camp faculty member, represents the Texas federation.

GM Employes Claim Coercion

Court Restrains UAW From Forcing Company to Fire Non-Members

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A temporary restraining order barring enforcement of a union shop clause in the new contract between General Motors Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers was issued in Marion County superior court today.

Judge John L. Niblack set Monday for a hearing on whether to make the order permanent.

Judge Niblack acted in a suit filed Tuesday by George Rose, attorney acting for V. R. Smith, an employe of GM's Allison division here, and in behalf of 200 other non-union GM workers here and at Anderson.

Rose said the new contract would force non-union employes to join the union by Aug. 26 or lose their jobs. The suit, naming as defendants GM, the CIO-UAW and union officials, contends the union shop provision violates the Indiana constitution and state law protecting workers from interference or coercion by employers.

It contends GM is compelled by the union shop clause to coerce workers to join the union.

Lake Captain's Funeral Held Today in St. Clair

ST. CLAIR (AP)—Funeral services were to be held here today for Capt. Charles H. Anderson, 62, veteran ship captain who sailed the Great Lakes for 46 years.

Anderson died Tuesday in Cleveland after suffering a heart attack in the wheelhouse of his last ship command.

At 30 Anderson was one of the youngest certified captains on the lakes. He commanded the excursion steamer St. Clair for many years, then in 1940 became skipper of the Columbia which plied the Detroit River.

He leaves his widow, Grace, and two sons.

Truck Driver Is Injured When Vehicle Overturns

Bobbie G. Henson, 25, a Drayton Plains truck driver, was treated for chest cuts and bruises yesterday afternoon when his truck skidded on wet pavement and rolled over.

Henson told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies his truck skidded as he headed west on Pontiac Road near Mt. Clemens Street, and overturned into a ditch. He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

Romeo Parade Theme Selected

Hollywood and Vine Idea to Spark Interest in Peach Festivities

ROMEO — One of the featured parts of the Labor Day Peach Festival program, the children's parade, will be staged in true film-land style, according to chairman Mrs. Herbert A. Miller.

In announcing the theme, "Hollywood and Vine", Mrs. Miller said it offers many possibilities for costumes and impersonations. Church groups, area organizations and parents are being advised as to the limitless categories which will be acceptable in the selection of entries.

Actors, actresses, animal screen favorites, cartoon characters, comedians, and scenes from actual films are but a few of the many ideas offered by the parade committee.

The children are entered in one of four categories; single entries, walking groups, small floats, or large floats, with prizes awarded to outstanding entries in each of the categories.

The parade forms at the North Grade School at 10:00 a.m. the morning of Sept. 5 with the route through the center of town past the reviewing stand yet to be announced.

In addition to the children in costume or riding on floats, the Romeo Junior and Senior High School bands will participate in the parade. The Michigan Peach Queen to be selected from 11 contestants next Tuesday evening and members of her court will also ride in open cars at the head of the line of march.

Mrs. David Ross, former window display artist, has offered her services to organizations which may need suggestions about materials which may be used most effectively in the construction of a float. She will also assist in a discussion of the number of children needed to ride on the float and how they should be costumed to create a most striking entry.

Bulganin Calls Big Four Meet Definite Success

MOSCOW (INS) — Soviet Premier Marshal Nikolai Bulganin said today the Big Four Geneva Meeting was a "definite success for peace-loving forces" in the world.

He told the hastily summoned members of both houses of The Supreme Soviet (parliament) that the Geneva Conference last month was "a historic event because it marked a turning in the relations between the U.S.S.R. and the Western Powers."

Western allied diplomats attended the special joint session of parliament to hear Bulganin refer to the "atmosphere of cooperation and mutual understanding" of Big Four leaders.

He said the fact that the conference convened ten years after the last meeting of heads of government at Potsdam was "of important significance."

Bulganin said the Big Four leaders "displayed a desire to put an end to the cold war."

ALICE A. NIVISON

The engagement of their daughter Alice Adell has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. John Nivison, of 5590 Livernois Rd., Rochester. Her fiance is Donald Wayne Maness, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Maness of Bonham, Texas. An Aug. 29 date has been set for the wedding.

State to Spend $1,650,703 for National Guard

LANSING (AP) — The state will spend $1,650,703 for its summer National Guard training this year, Brig. Gen. George C. Moran, State Adjutant General, said today.

The money has been set aside for the training of some 12,000 officers and men at Camp Grayling, Alpena Air Guard Base and Camp Claybanks in Michigan and Fort Knox, Ky., and Camp Williams, Wis.

Of the more than million and a half dollar total, $1,186,360 has been set aside for the training at Camp Grayling, where 8,900 troops of the 46th Infantry and attached units will train Aug. 6 to 20.

A major portion of the money will go back to home communities in the form of pay and allowances for the Guardsmen, totaling $1,215,285.

The second highest total is the $267,662 set aside for rations or subsistence.

Other estimates of the money to be spent include $68,877 for petroleum products, $49,495 for travel, $30,343 for transportation of equipment, $16,946 for miscellaneous services such as laundry, ice, medcine and jantorial expenses and $2,095 for communications.

Adenauer Has Briefing for Moscow State Visit

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his foreign policy advisers held a special conference today on plans for his impending visit to Moscow.

Adenauer summoned his aides to Muerren, the Swiss mountain resort where he is vacationing, after receiving a Russian note agreeing that the visit should take place early in September and that the establishment of diplomatic, economic and cultural relations should be discussed.

Vice Chancellor Franz Bluecher said the new Russian note makes it certain that Adenauer will visit the Soviet capital.

Visit to Russia by Nixon Hinted

White House Sources Rule Out Possibility Ike May Go Himself

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sources close to the White House believe that Vice President Richard M. Nixon may visit Russia if the atmosphere of East-West friendship continues.

However, they ruled out the possiblity that President Eisenhower might make a trip to the Kremlin himself.

The sources pointed out that Eisenhower's dual role of chief of state and head of government ties him closely to his job and raises insoluble protocol problems.

Furthermore, such a visit by the chief executive would call for similar visits to the capitals of U. S. allies—and such a series of visits by the busy President would be out of the question.

NIXON SUBSTITUTE

However, it was noted, none of these objections applies to the vice president who has gone on many good-will visits as a representative of Eisenhower. The President has warmly praised Nixon for his handling of the assignments.

Close associates of Nixon report that he is eager to undertake the trip. Ambassador to Moscow Charles E. Bohlen, an adviser to Eisenhower at Geneva, is reported to have counseled the President that the time is diplomatically ripe for such a gesture.

Medical Recruiting Wins Recognition

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—The Michigan State Medical Society was awarded a bronze plaque today by American Trade Association executives for its work in recruiting medical technicians and nurses.

The plaque was presented to Dr. William Bromme of Detroit, chairman of the council of the medical society, bzy Russell A. Stevenson, Dean of the School of Business Administration of the University of Michigan.

The citation, signed by Secretary of Commerce Weeks, praise dthe society for rendering "outstanding service" in recruiting laboratory technicians, medical secretaries, nurses and other specialists.

The award was made at the 35th annual meeting of the ATAE.

Macabre Humor

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — A pair of 18-year-old youths face arraignment on charges of littering the highway after a prank led motorists and Ferrysburg residents to phone police with reports of a traffic mishap. State Police said the two had placed a home-made mansized dummy in a Ferrysburg street to see what reaction it would bring.

JEAN PORRITT

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Porritt of Clarkston have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to Patrick Thompson. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thompson of Clarkston. An early spring wedding is planned.

Few Kids Will Get Shots in New Vaccine Release

LANSING (AP)—Only about nine per cent of Michigan children in the 5-through-9 age group will receive Salk polio vaccine under the latest shipment ordered released to the State Health Department.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state healthe commissioner, said he had not been informed when the shipment of about 42,500 doses would be sent to Michigan.

"When we get it," he said, "we will allocate to each county a percentage based on its ratio of eligible children to the 400,000 children of that age group in the state."

The vaccine may be administered either in free public clincs —as was the first and second grade group now nearing completion—or in family physicians' offices for a fee.

COUNTIES DECIDE

Dr. Heustis said each county must decide for itself how to divide its available supply between the clinics and the physicians, or whether to conduct clinics at all.

A state advisory committee appointed by the governor has recommended that each county set up a similar local committee to pass on such matters.

"This is such a small amount of vaccine," Dr. Heustis said, "that apparently none of the counties has made any plans yet to handle it—especially since we don't know when we will get it. We have had no indication yet how many counties will conduct clinics."

Queen Going to Russia? Laborite See It Coming

LONDON (AP) — A left-wing Labor member of Parliament predicted today that Queen Elizabeth will be visiting Russia one of these days.

Emrys Hughes, who has long urged getting on friendlier terms with the Soviets, commented in the Scottish Labor weekly Forward on plans of Russia's leaders to visit Britain. Then he observed:

"In due course we can expect to hear that Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh have been invited to the U.S.S.R. and have decided to go to Moscow."

A Buckingham Palace spokesman said: "No suggestion of this sort has come to our attention."

Seventeen German bakers in Munich produce 10,000 loaves of bread a day for U. S. Army forces.

8,000 Legionnaires Arriving in Detroit

DETROIT (INS)—The advance party of 8,000 American Legionaires began filtering into Detroit today for their 37th annual state convention.

Twin headquarters were opened in the Veterans' Memorial Building and the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel this Morning.

Welcoming speeches at the first formal meeting tomorrow will be given by Mayor Albert E. Cobo, State Commander Kent T. Lundgren and William Newberg, president of Dodge Division of Chrys-Corp.

Among resolutions expected to come out of the convention are a request for a naval training carrier in the Great Lakes, action to curb "fifth amendment Communists" and immediate freedom for American prisoners in China.

French OK Red Visit

PARIS (AP) — The French Cabinet today authorized Premier Edgar Faure and Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay to accept an invitation to go to Moscow. No date has been fixed. A spokesman said it probably would be in the first half of October.

For Coming Year

West Bloomfield District School Tax Up 1.5 Mills

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Taxes in the West Bloomfield School District were raised 1.5 mills for the coming year, with a total school tax of 18.33 mills.

The Board of Education set the new rate at a meeting this week. Operating costs will account for 8.33 mills, plus a voted 3.5 mills increase. The millage for debt service is now 6.5 mills.

The board accepted architect's plans for a kitchen at Roosevelt School and authorized advertising for bids on the work. The bids will be opened at the next regular meeting, Sept. 12.

Authorization to sign an agreement with Keego Harbor for the use of the Community School building for one year was given.

Other authorizations included a go-ahead on equipping the typing room at the high school with up to 30 typewriters (22 are now on hand); the purchase of furniture for three classrooms; and investing $4,232.23 with the Michigan National Bank for the 1952 school bond reserve account.

The board approved a partial payment of $5,051.10 for blacktopping the parking area at the high school. The whole job, which includes grading, leveling and two layers of blacktop, will cost $14,168.

Contracts were given to nine new teachers, and resignations of three teachers—Douglas McEachren, Jack Bruhn and Mary Jane Thompson—were accepted.

Ike Got His Way on Farm Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress gave President Eisenhower most of what he asked in the way of farm legislation this year. Unlike 1954, he made no major recommendations.

But a renewal of the smouldering dispute over basic farm legislation is certain to come in next year's session.

Both the presidency and party control of Congress will be at stake in next year's elections, and vote margins in major farm belts often decide the winners in these contests.

Biggest victory for Eisenhower in the farm legislation field this year was a negative one.

After tough battles in both the House and Senate the administration in 1954 won congressional approval for flexible farm price supports. The system took effect with this year's crops.

House Democrats, with some help from farm area Republicans, several months ago pushed through a bill to junk the flexible price supports and reinstate mandatory fixed price props that had operated since World War II. But the Senate took no action.

The Senate Agriculture Committee, headed by Sen. Ellender (D-La), plans a nationwide tour of major farm regions this fall. What the group will recommend next spring is a pure guess at this point.

Early this year, Eisenhower told Congress his goal is an "agriculture that is stable, prosperous and free." Since then farm prices and income have continued a downward trend and huge surpluses, piled up under government price supports, remain.

To continue the price support program, Congress approved during the past week a 2-billion-dollar increase in funds for the program, raising the total available to 12 billion dollars.

Congress also increased authority of the secretary to cut prices on exports of farm surpluses to world markets. And it more than doubled—from 700 million dollars to 1½ billions—the authorization for accepting foreign currencies or outright barter on the surpluses.

Famed Musicians' Reunion Makes Town 'Jazz Capital'

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYOOD (AP)—Drama makes this town the world's jazz capital this week.

Hollywood's jumping to some of the best swing music heard in 20 years—and no wonder. Two of the greatest bands of the swing era are reunited.

The reunion is only temporary, but while it lasts some great music is being made.

At Universal-International, they are making "The Benny Goodman Story" and most of the original members of that greatest of swing bands are rocking the sound stages. Gene Krupa, Teddy Wilson, Harry James, Lionel Hampton and Goodman, the King of Swing himself, seem to be playing better than ever, if that is possible.

On tonight's Climax show over CBS-TV, the original Bob Crosby Bobcats will be reunited. This band, one of the greatest of all Dixieland stylists, will perform their old arrangements of "Muskrat Ramble," "Gin Mill Blues," "Little Rock Getaway" and other Dixieland classics.

The play "One Night Stand" will dramatize a true incident in the history of the Bobcats. Playing themselves will be such Dixieland experts as Eddie Miller, Nappy LaMarr, Matty Matlock, Bobby Haggart, Billy Butterfield, Charlie Teagarden and Crosby.

It's hard to believe that the world came close to missing Goodman's music.

Krupa disclosed how Goodman once despaired of ever getting the public to buy his ideas in swing.

When the band started on its first one-nighter trip west, often there were more musicians in the ballrooms than paying customers," he said. "Business was so bad that Goodman called a meeting to suggest that perhaps the band had better give up swing and start playing the commercial, Mickey Mouse-type music that was the rage then.

"We talked him out of that fast. We all told him that we could make more money elsewhere but that we were with him because of his ideas—not his commercial appeal."

So the Goodman band stuck with swing and finally—at the old Palomar Ballroom here in Los Angeles—the new type music hit. The rest is history, else U-I would not be making a movie about Benny Goodman.

Invite Speed Violators

DUNN, N. C. (AP)—Speeders convicted in Harnett County are invited to join the 55 Club. The state speed limit is 55 miles an hour.

Membership cards say they are eligible 'by reason of being convicted of a speeding violation on the highways of the state and by reason of the fact that (they have) since that conviction, promised to assist the fight against speeding in Hartnett County and North Carolina."

Cpl. Romie F. Williamson of the state Highway Patrol orignated the idea for the club which is approved by Ed Scheidt, state motor vehicles commissioner.

Ohio produces nearly half of the nation's greenhouse tomatoes.

To Fight Elm Disease

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The City Commission has voted $13,000 to the Park Department for a program of spraying city-owned elm trees against an epidemic tree disease. Park Supt. Fred C. See had warned it might cost $100,000 to remove infected trees if the city's 10,000 elms were not sprayed.

Congress Leaves 14 Major Bills Behind

WASHINGTON (AP) — The things Congress left undone, a big part of the story of this year's session, promise lively squabbles in 1956.

Fourteen important measures President Eisenhower asked for did not reach his desk. Several other major bills also were left hanging.

All pending legislation will be alive when Congress returns Jan. 3.

Perhaps the most important Eisenhower bills stranded were those to start a multibillion-dollar expansion of the nation's highway building program and to aid in local school construction.

The Senate passed a road bill which omitted the bond-financing feature supported by the President. The House became snarled over how to pay for the new highways and passed no bill.

Neither branch passed a school construction bill, although the House Education Committee approved one in the closing days of the session. In Senate committee, the measure remained snarled in a dispute over an antisegregation provision.

These were administration bills which passed only one branch:

Upper Colorado River authorization — passed Senate, approved by House committee.

Customs simplification—Passed House, tied up in Senate Finance Committee.

Pay increase for Cabinet officers and several hundred other top government executives—Passed House, died in the Senate last night.

Military survivors benefits — Passed House.

These were measures asked by the President which neither body passed:

A constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18 in federal elections.

Revision of the Taft-Hartley labor-management relations law.

An increase in postal rates to reduce the deficit of the Post Office Department.

Liberalization of Refugee Relief Act.

Atomic peace ship — The House passed an atomic merchant ship bill, but not the demonstration vessel asked by the President.

Program of loans and other aids to low-income farmers — One minor measure passed Congress, but the principal legislation was not acted on.

In addition, several major bills which largely originated among the lawmakers failed to win final passage this session, but most of them are certain to be revived early next year.

These includes bills to provide new social security benefits for women over 62 and disabled workers over 50, to exempt natural gas producers from federal controls, to restore rigid high price supports on basic farm products, to cut income taxes chiefly for low-income families, and to increase quotas for domestic sugar producers.

All five of these passed the House this session, but were not acted on in the Senate, except for the income tax reduction, which was killed.

St. Louis Cabby, 82, Oldest in America

ST. LOUIS (INS)—An 82-year-old St. Louis taxicab driver, William F. Harder, advises his colleagues to be friendly, help the unfortunate and take the shortest route to a destination if they hope to be a success.

Harder has been driving cabs in St. Louis since 1941 when he was retired from the Southern Pacific railroad where he had worked for 38 years.

The 82-year-young cabbie is hailed by his fellow drivers as the oldest in the nation.

During his 38 year stretch with the railroad, the slight but sprightly octogenarian never was absent from work because of illness. And since becoming a cab driver, Harder hasn't missed a day since he recovered from a broken hip suffered in a fall in 1952.

Richmond, Va., Shares Its Name With 16 Others

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Col. Lester H. Kyle, retired, thinks this city is the main Richmond on the map, but he knows Maine has a Richmond, too—in fact 17 states have Richmonds.

A motorist asked him how to find the address shown on an envelope. The colonel explained that it was Richmond, Me. The stunned visitor turned around and headed north.

Wonder What It Cost to Own by the Minute

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP)—J. Paul Jackson, 32, Holdenville, drove his 1955 auto out of a showroom here yesterday.

Twenty minutes later his car and a model 1940 auto collided on U.S. Highway 270, four miles west of here.

The highway patrol said Jackson's car was a total wreck. Damage was estimated at $1,500. Jackson's wife suffered minor injuries.

Michigan Farm Bureau Opens Lansing Building

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Farm Bureau will hold a formal dedication and opening of its new half a million dollar office building on US 16 west of Lansing on Aug. 10.

The building, which contains 44,000 feet of office space, will consolidate under one roof the 250 executive and other office employes of the Michigan Farm Bureau, Farm Bureau Services, Inc., Farmers' Petroleum Cooperative, Inc., Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Co., Farm Bureau Life Insurance Co. and the Michigan Association of Farmer Cooperatives.

Spreads Vary Corn on the Cob

You'll be up to your ears in flavor with summer's bounty of roasting ears meltingly spread with an array of flavorful margarine toppings.

Whether you prepare a feast of corn steaming from a big pot of boiling water or whether you roast the corn, foil-wrapped over an outdoor fire, lots of a flavorful topping is a must.

With the economy of delicately flavored quality margarine, you'll feel free to serve it lavishly to enrich the fresh corn goodness.

For those special corn feasts, add a smart twist by serving a variety of flavored spreads which you have whipped to a fluffy consistency. You will think of many favorite combinations of your own, but you might want to start with a margarine and onion whip or a peppy combination of Worcestershire sauce and margarine.

For those who like a bland mixture, a sesame seed spread is an unusual topper. Shakers of salt and pepper grinders for seasoning the corn are musts, along with the spreads.

Keep the rest of the menu simple. For outdoor fare, franks in buns or cold fried chicken are fine "finger foods" to accompany the piping corn.

Relishes and fresh fruit or cupcakes complete this "out of hand" menu. Watermelon, cut in big wedges, is a particularly fine dessert for this special midsummer feast. Make certain you provide plenty of paper napkins.

Sesame Seed Sprad

¼ pound margarine or butter
2 teaspoons sesame seed, toasted

Onion Spread

¼ pound margarine or butter
1 teaspoon chopped onion

Soften margarine at room temperature. Add onion. Mix thoroughly. Serve with hot corn on the cob. Makes one-half cup.

Pep-up Spread

¼ pound margarine or butter
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Soften margarine at room temperature. Add Worcestershire sauce. Mix thoroughly. Serve with hot corn on the cob. Makes one-half cup.

SPREADS FOR CORN — Give those roasting ears a new flavor this year with a variety of spreads made with butter or margarine. Left to right they are Sesame Seed Spread, Onion Spread and Pep-Up Spread. Start the corn season out right.

Sausage meat is sold in bulk, cellulose casings or cloth bags. It contains the same meat and seasonings as does link sausage.

Bean Needs 'Curing'

The vanilla bean has little flavor until it has been "cured." The curing process is a lengthy one and must be done by experts, as it is this process which brings out the delicious flavor we know as pure vanilla.

Cherry Sauce Glorifies Cake Made With Mix

Want to dress up that yellow or white cake made from a mix? Serve squares of it with cherry sauce and whipped cream.

To make the sauce, pit a pound of sweet red cherries and put them in a saucepan with half a cup of light corn syrup.

Heat the cherries and syrup, stirring occasionally; then simmer about five minutes. Stir in a quarter teaspoon of almond extract and cool.

5 Minutes Needed for Corn Casserole

Exactly five minutes preparation then into the oven . . . that's Corn Casserole, a featured attraction for last-minute meals in the current issue of a home magazine.

To make it just arrange two cans of whole kernel corn in a quart baking dish.

Place two pimientos (sliced) and six slices of cut-up bacon down the center and bake it in a moderate oven (375 degrees) until the bacon is crisp . . . say about 25 minutes.

It's delicious and a perfect hot dish for summertime . . . especially when you don't want to spend the whole afternoon in a warm kitchen.

Fresh Green Beans Ideal for Serving Hot or Cold

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

One of the chores I thoroughly hated as a little girl was stringing beans. You had to start the string just right, or it wouldn't come off all the way.

Nowadays, thank goodness, most beans are stringless. I don't think I've pulled more than a dozen strings off green beans since we've been raising them ourselves — and that's getting close to twenty years.

Fresh green beans are an ideal vegetable. They lend themselves to a variety of "fixin's," hot or cold. They're easy to fix. Almost everyone likes them.

When you buy fresh green beans, snap one in your fingers. It should break with a crisp sound. Try to get beans all in the same stage of maturity so that they will cook uniformly. One pound of fresh green beans will make four or five servings.

Don't overcook green beans. They need only a minimum of water on them. One delicious way of preparing the tender beans is to melt a quantity of butter or margarine in a sauce pan with a tightly fitted lid. Put the beans in and cover the pan. Steam in the butter over a low flame, shaking the pan often to prevent the beans from sticking.

Salt, pepper and a bit of butter are all that is really needed to prepare the cooked beans for serving. A sliver of garlic cooked with them (and removed) leaves an intangible taste.

BEANS GOOD WITH BACON

Although my children will have none of this way of serving green beans, I like it. Dice a couple of strips of bacon and cook gently with some chopped onion. Pour off the accumulated fat and add the cooked beans. Stir to mix season and serve at once.

Cooked green beans make excellent salads. If small, they may be left whole and the resulting salad is most attractive. French dressing is the ideal one for this salad. For a little variation you might try the following recipe.

Pickle Frenched Bean Salad

1 pound green beans, cut French-style
3 tablespoons French dressing
2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish
Lettuce

Cook green beans in boiling salted water until tender. Cool thoroughly. Combine beans, French dressing and sweet pickle relish in a bowl; mix well and chill several hours, or preferably overnight. Serve on lettuce. Makes 4-5 servings.

3 Ways to Brew Good Iced Coffee

Remember that good iced coffee starts with good hot coffee, and that takes 2 level measuring tablespoons, or one standard coffee measure, of coffee to each three-quarters of a measuring cup of fresh cold water. You have a choice of several ways to convert it into iced coffee.

Coffee Ice Cubes

Freeze regular strength coffee in your freezer tray to make coffee ice cubes. (This may easily be done by brewing extra coffee at breakfast time for the purpose.)

When the time comes that you need your iced coffee, make it regular strength and pour it immediately into tall glasses filled with coffee ice cubes. They will cool the coffee quickly without diluting it.

Double-Strength Method

Make coffee double strength by using half the amount of water to the usual amount of coffee. Pour over regular ice cubes in tall glasses. The extra strong coffee allows for the dilution caused by the melting of the ice.

Pre-Cooled Method

Make regular strength coffee. Cool in a non-metallic container for not more than three hours or, if the container is tightly covered, chill in the refrigerator. Pour over regular ice cubes when the iced coffee is needed.

Finally, don't forget that instant coffee, made according to the directions on the label of the jar, makes a truly delicious brew with a minimum of fuss and bother.

Serve all iced coffee with a pitcher of cream and sugar, or a simple sugar syrup, to taste.

Many People Prefer to Eat 6 Meals a Day

Many persons feel better on six meals a day than they do on four. The extra meals should be midmorning, midafternoon and before-bedtime snacks.

Foods suitable for these extra meals are milk, fruit, cheese and crackers, vegetable cocktails and vegetable finger foods such as tomato wedges, carrot strips, celery stalks, cucumber sticks.

Give Deviled Eggs Zip

Lemon juice adds zest to deviled eggs. Mash the yolks of hard-cooked eggs and add to them a little canned or frozen pure lemon juice. Season to taste with salt, pepper and a dash of curry powder, chili powder or celery salt. Adding sour cream to the lemon juice and mashed yolks is good, too.

'Picnic Deluxe' Takes Elegance Outdoors

Chicken in one of its most popular "fancy" versions for indoor dining and a Caesar salad, equally associated with elegant dinner service, move out-of-doors to become the delicious highlights of a brand-new kind of casual meal — a "picnic deluxe."

These two newcomers to summertime picnic fare, "Crispy Chicken a la King" and "Hi Ho Caesar Salad," are sure to delight even gourmet guests with their fresh, different flavor and new texture interest supplied by the tasty crackers used in the recipes.

Good news for the party planner is that both dishes are easy to make and are perfect choices for serving, informal American style, in simple outdoor settings.

The crisp crunchy shells for the "Crispy Chicken a la King" are made in advance in easily portable aluminum foil pans, and the rich chicken filling is added, piping hot, from the outdoor grill at the scene of the picnic. Here's the way to make the shells.

Crispy Shells for Chicken a la King

2½ cups (12- finely crushed crackers
2 teaspoons dried basil
½ cup butter or margarine
2 beaten eggs

Preheat oven to 375 degrees (moderately hot). Combine cracker crumbs, basil and butter in a medium-sized bowl. Cut butter into the crumbs, using a pastry blender or two forks, until butter particles are the size of rice. Add eggs and blend mixture well.

Pack crumb mixture into six greased 5-inch individual aluminum foil pie pans. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes, or until crusts are lightly browned. Makes six shells.

The filling "a la King," like the shells, may be prepared in advance of the picnic and simply heated when serving time arrives. The new recipe, with its delightfully subtle blend of seasonings, provides for extra-rich chicken flavor in its use of 2 cups of chicken stock. Make it this way:

Chicken a la King Filling for Crispy Shells

1—4½ pound drawn roasting chicken
1 tablespoon salt
1 bay leaf
1 medium-size onion, sliced
¼ cup butter, margarine or chicken fat
6 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk or light cream
2 cups chicken stock
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
2 pimientos cut in thin strips
1 cup cooked fresh or frozen peas, or 1 cup canned peas, drained

Wash chicken and place it in a large heavy kettle with a tight-fitting cover. Add tablespoon of salt and boiling water to cover. Add bay leaf and onion slices. Cover and cook slowly until chicken is very tender (about 1½ hours).

Remove chicken from broth and let stand until cool enough to handle easily. Then remove skin and bones and cut chicken into one-half-inch pieces.

Melt butter in a skillet over low heat. Stir in flour; gradually add milk, stirring until mixture is smooth and thickened. Add pepper, remaining one-fourth teaspoon salt, Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco, cut-up chicken, pimiento and peas.

Stir to blend. Serve piping hot in crispy shells. Makes 6 generous servings.

Ideal as an accompaniment to this chicken dish is the new "Hi Ho Caesar Salad," quick and easy to make and a special treat for all salad lovers.

Full of both vitamins and flavor, this version of a well-established favorite combines three different kinds of greens with a tasty dressing and rich buttery crackers that are rubbed with garlic and halved before tossing with the other ingredients. Here's how to make it:

Fill Melon With Wine, Chill Several Hours

Cut a hole in an unpeeled melon and with a spoon carefully remove the seeds and juice from the center cavity. Fill with sherry sauterne or port; plug hole of filled melon and chill several hours.

To serve, draw plug from hole in melon, scoop meat into chilled dishes and top with some of the wine.

To give a better flavor and color to French toast, add 2 tablespoons unsulphured molasses to each one-half cup milk and egg used.

Hi Ho Caesar Salad

½ cup salad oil
3 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 small head chicory
1 small head romaine lettuce
1 small head escarole
2 medium size tomatoes
8 Hi Ho crackers
1 small bud garlic, cut in half
1 raw egg

Combine salad oil, lemon juice, salt and pepper in small bowl. Wash chicory, romaine and escarole and remove any limp, outer leaves. Break or cut greens into 2-inch pieces, discarding tough spines.

Wash and quarter tomatoes and remove stem ends. Dice into one-half-inch cubes. Rub one side of crackers with cut surface of garlic; also rub inside of large wooden salad bowl with garlic.

Arrange greens and tomatoes in garlic-rubbed bowl. Break round buttery crackers into halves. Break the raw egg over the salad; add the halved crackers.

Stir oil-vinegar dressing to blend well; pour over salad and toss with a salad fork and spoon until greens are well coated with egg and dressing. Makes six to eight generous servings.

To complete this truly deluxe picnic, serve hot corn-on-the-cob and iced tea; and top the meal with a delicious assortment of packaged cookies, allowing each guest to select his favorite.

Coffee Cake Topping

Good topping for a baking-powder coffee cake: Mix a third cup of brown sugar with a couple of tablespoons of flour and a quarter cup of soft butter. Add a third cup of chopped nutmeats such as pecans or walnuts. Sprinkle the topping over batter to be baked in an 8-inch-square pan.

Next time you make rolls—from a hot-roll mix or from scratch—let them rise to double in bulk, then brush with egg white and sprinkle with poppy seed before baking.

Noted Great Lakes Pastry Chef Gives His Recipe for Coffee Rolls Bollinger

Here's an early morning treat from a kitchen that travels over 2,200 miles every week during the summer. Hot, spicy coffee rolls from the bake shop aboard the Georgian Bay Line's Great Lakes cruise ship SS North American

Al Bollinger, pastry chef par excellence, is the creator of all the baked goods for some 500 passengers and 175 crew members each week during the Georgian Bay Line cruise season. His specialty, rich sugary coffee rolls, is the talk of the Great Lakes.

Every morning at 4, he arrives at his "office." Two hours later nearly 1,000 hot rolls are baked and ready to start the passengers' day.

Estimating conservatively, Bollinger makes from 5,000 to 7,000 of his famous coffee rolls on each of the SS North America's seven-day cruises along the water highways of America's great inland seas—nearly 75,000 from the beginning of the summer sailing season until its close about the first of September.

It's fun (and a little breathtaking) to think of the number of coffee rolls, luncheon rolls, dinner rolls, cakes and pies he has fashioned during the 10 years he has sailed with the Georgian Bay Line.

During the winter Bollinger relaxes in the sun of Hollywood, Fla. But here is his special recipe, so you can try these popular coffee rolls yourself . . .

Coffee Rolls Bollinger

1 cup milk—lukewarm
2 ounces baker's yeast—dissolve in milk
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup butter or shortening
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
6 cups bread flour
Dash of nutmeg—lemon flavoring

Blend butter, nutmeg and sugar thoroughly. Add eggs and mix well. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm milk. Add milk and yeast, lemon flavoring and flour to butter and sugar mixture. Blend thoroughly. Dough must be very well mixed and allowed to rest in a warm place for one-half hour before making into rolls.

Roll out dough in long strip and butter well with pastry brush. Spread 1½ cups of pecan pieces (or currants, raisins, cut fruit, etc.) evenly over dough. Sprinkle with two-thirds cup of cinnamon and sugar.

Roll tightly and cut in pieces weighing approximately 1½ ounce. Place rolls on buttered pans with plenty of space between and allow to rise. Wash with beaten egg using pastry brush.

Sprinkle liberally with butter streussel (two-thirds cup sugar, two-thirds cup butter, 2 cups bread flour, dash of nutmeg) or cinnamon-sugar topping as preferred.

Put rolls in warm place to rise until about double in bulk. Bake in a good sharp oven—about 450 degrees. When baked, frost with a blend of 4X confectioners sugar and water to which has been added a dash of vanilla. Makes about 36 rolls.

Melon Varies Salad

Substitute diced cantaloupe for half the usual amount of apple in Waldorf Salad. The sweet flavor blends with the remaining chopped apple and adds a surprising an different flavor.

Traveling Family Advised to Fix Roadside Breakfast

Thrifty vacationing families know that one way to save time and money while traveling is to prepare their own breakfast. A A basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter — recommended by doctors and dietitians — is quick and easy to prepare and serve.

Elaborate camping equipment is not necessary for breakfast preparation. Many families like to get an early start in the cool of the day. They may travel for a couple of hours before stopping for breakfast.

Generally, by 9 o'clock the stores are open. It takes just a few minutes to purchase fresh milk, fruit, and bread or rolls. Supplies could be purchased the previous day if the family owned a small portable refrigerator.

Simple picnic kits can be made to store cutlery, paper goods and a plastic tablecloth. The variety packages of individual servings of ready-to-eat cereals are easy to store in your picnic basket.

Drive to a local park, roadside picnic table, or to a shady spot by the road. Paper cups and cereal bowls save cleanup time. It takes just a few minutes to quarter the oranges, serve the cereal and milk and fresh rolls. Mother and dad find a thermos of hot coffee or hot water to make instant coffee a fine addition.

CLEAN UP IN JIFFY

The family enjoys an adequate breakfast attractively served ith no concern about sanitation. Clean-up time is quick — in just a matter of minutes paper goods are disposed of and picnic area made tidy.

Here's a trick — wipe, then store the cutlery in a plastic sack. It can be washed that night in hot, soapy water.

On a rainy day a basic cereal breakfast can be prepared in a motel or tent. No cooking facilities are required if mother and dad can forego their coffee.

The family which regularly starts a hot summer day by eating a basic breakfast will feel better, and work or play better, especially in the late morning hours.

Hawaiian Pie Blends Fruits

"Couldn't eat another bite," they'll say after the picnic "main course," but when you bring out apple pie for dessert, it will be another story.

Here's a recipe for a novel apple pie with a tender lard-made crust. It's an Hawaiian-style apple pie made with crushed pineapple.

Pastry

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅔ cup lard
5 to 6 tablespoons water

Sift flour with salt. With a pastry blender or two knives, cut in half of the lard until the mixture resembles corn meal; cut in remaining lard until mixture is the size of small peas.

Sprinkle water over mixture, about a tablespoon at a time and blend with a fork until mixture is moistened.

Shape into a ball and cut in half. On a lightly floured board, roll out half the dough to one-eighth inch thickness. Line a 9-inch pie pan. Roll out the remaining dough for the top crust.

Filling

5 cups thinly sliced tart apples
1 can crushed pineapple (approx. 9 oz.)
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Mix sugars, spices and salt. Place half the apple slices and half the well-drained pineapple in crust. Sprinkle with half the sugar mixture.

Top with rest of fruit, piling up slightly towards the center, then add rest of sugar mixture. Dot with small pieces of butter or margarine.

Put on top crust, slash in several places and bake at 425 for 40 to 50 minutes.

Use Light-Hued Fruit in Preparing Lemonade

When selecting your lemons for that cool, refreshing drink, the best quality has a finely textured skin with a waxy appearance. These lemons are heavy for their size.

Most people desire lemons for their acid taste. Therefore, although deep yellow-colored lemons are more mature, have thinner skins, and a larger proportion of juice than the light yellow or greenish lemons, the lighter colored lemons are preferred because they are more acid.

Beware of the dry, shriveled, or hard-skinned lemons, for they contain little juice.

Add minced chives and fresh basil to olive oil, vinegar, salt, freshly ground pepper and prepared mustard for a French dressing to serve over sliced red-ripe tomatoes.

Lemon Icing Tops Cup Cakes

Eating out-of-doors is the great American sport in the summer time. Hostesses of all ages entertain in the backyard.

Teenager Sally Vogel of South Anderson street invited three friends over for a picnic supper recently. They roasted wieners at the outdoor grill, ate fresh fruit salad, consumed quantities of root beer and toasted marshmallows. As an added treat, thirteen-year-old Sally served her favorite Apple Sauce cup cakes.

Ever since she belonged to a 4-H Club in Indiana, Sally has enjoyed baking. She helps her mother around the house in other ways also. During the school year Sally takes oboe lessons, plays in the Eastern Junior High band and plays the piano.

Here's Sally's recipe for her cup cakes.

APPLE SAUCE CUP CAKES
By Sally Vogel

2-3 cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup unsweetened applesauce
½ cup raisins
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves

Cream butter or shortening and sugar thoroughly. Add well beaten eggs and applesauce. Sift together the flour, soda, nutmeg, cinnamon and cloves and add to the first mixture. Mix well and add the raisins. Turn into well-greased or paper lined cup cake pans and bake in a 350-degree oven for about 20 minutes. Frost with Lemon Cream Icing.

Lemon Cream Icing

2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind
3 tablespoons cream (about)

Combine ingredients and mix well. If necessary, add more cream to make right consistency for spreading. Makes enough icing for one cake or one recipe of cup cakes.

Start Luncheon With Distinctive 'Soup on Rocks'

Luncheon "for the girls" on the patio or in the backyard is the perfect time for combining food that's especially attractive and tempting with ease of preparation. If you're looking for something new to serve, here are some hints for you.

First, start the meal with Soup on the Rocks—a delicious, refreshing and low-calorie drink made simply by chilling cans of beef bouillon in the refrigerator and serving over ice cubes.

Don't dilute it—pour it straight from the can. The result is something so appetizing, you'd better have more on hand for second servings.

Salads are summer mainstays, and this recipe for new "Row-on-Row" Salad makes good use of the foods that are available in groceries now in such appetizing array.

Use your favorite salad bowl (any shape will do) and arrange the salad ingredients "row-on-row," starting at the center and working out.

Select foods for their "go-goodness," as well as for color, texture and variety. Canned luncheon meat which is minced, diced or chopped goes well with cucumber, tomato, ripe avocado and hard-cooked egg.

Or try a combination of chopped or minced fried bacon, hard-cooked egg, sardines or anchovies, tomatoes, and cooked, slivered string beans.

And, of course, fruit combinations are wonderful!

Serve crisp greens in another bowl, if desired. Just before serving, mix in the appropriate dressing to complement the salad combinations you use.

Cantaloupe Makes Delightful Appetizer

Cantaloupe Cooler

Cut wedges of chilled cantaloupe into bite-sized sections. Top each section with a plump, cold, juicy watermelon ball held in place by a brightly colored cocktail pick. Add a wedge of lemon or lime for a tangy touch and the "cooler" is complete.

No silverware needed here, just pick up each melon section on its own cocktail pick.

Sherbet Used in Baked Alaska

A layer of delicate white cake, topped with tangy cool sherbet (made from lemon, raspberry, orange or lime sherbet mix) is covered with fluffy meringue.

Here's a party-pretty dessert you can make ahead of time and take from your freezer at dessert time to delight your most critical guest.

Sherbet Baked Alaska

2 cups milk
1 5-ounce package sherbet mix
1 8-inch white cake layer
4 egg whites
½ cup sugar

Add contents of package of sherbet mix to milk. Beat with rotary beater until dissolved — about two minutes. Pour into freezing tray and freeze until firm. Remove from tray to bowl. Break up into small lumps with fork.

Beat with rotary beater until free from lumps but still a thick mush. Pour into an aluminum 1-quart mold. Freeze until very firm (about 2 hours).

Unmold and place on top of white cake layer. Put in freezer until ready to spread on meringue. Beat egg whites until stiff, adding sugar gradually. Cover sherbet and cake completely with meringue.

Place on a wooden board covered with aluminum foil. Bake at 450 degrees until lightly browned. Cut in wedges.

SHERBET BAKED ALASKA — You've eaten regular Baked Alaska. But have you ever made or eaten it made with cooling sherbet? Choose your favorite flavor of sherbet, or one to match your color scheme of the day. You may make it ahead of time and freeze it until you're ready to serve.

Warm Climate Vital

Vanilla orchids, the plant from which we derive our pure vanilla extract, need a warm, moist climate the year around in order to mature. It is for this reason that the island of Madagascar off the coast of Africa is so ideally suited to their culture.

These Cookies Recall the Past

In answer to a request indirectly received, we are publishing a recipe for old-fashioned soft molasses cookies. Perhaps this will bring back childhood memories to many of you readers.

Soft Molasses Cookies

6 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
3½ teaspoons powdered ginger
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup lard
2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
3 eggs
1 cup dark molasses
1 teaspoon baking soda
1½ cups hot water
Granulated sugar

Sift the flour, measure and resift with next four ingredients three times. Cream lard and brown sugar thoroughly. Add eggs, one at a time and beat mixture thoroughly after each addition.

Stir in molasses. Stir in the flour mixture, then add the combined soda and water. Mix thoroughly.

Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheets and sprinkle with granulated sugar.

Bake at 375 degrees 8 to 10 minutes. Remove to cake racks to cool before serving or storing. Makes 8-9 dozen cookies.

A modest amount of fat, included in a low-calorie diet, helps to prevent persistent hunger and fatigue.

Horseradish Sauce

Horseradish Sauce is wonderful with assorted cold meats for a hot-weather buffet. To make the sauce, whip a half cup of heavy cream and fold in a quarter teaspoon salt, a teaspoon of prepared mustard, a tablespoon of lemon juice and about 3 tablespoons grated bottled horseradish.

Add a little poultry seasoning to buttered bread crumbs; use as a topping for a creamed chicken casserole.

Fragile Vanilla Orchid

The vanilla orchid, the flower of the plant from which pure vanilla extract is derived, is a pale lemon-yellow blossom. It blooms one morning and dies by early afternoon.

CANTALOUPE BOWLS — Chilled cantaloupe halves make the "bowls" that are filled with cereal for a unique summer breakfast. Cereal-in-a-melon is an adventure in good eating. Children especially love to eat the "bowl," and the whole family will enjoy this flavorful fruit and cereal treat.

Combine Ham, Fruit

Any leftover cooked ham in the house? Dice it and add it to a fruit salad for a luncheon salad. Serve the salad in lettuce cups with mayonnaise or some other favorite dressing as a topping.

Melon Shouldn't Be Icy

For the peak of flavor, remove cantaloupes from the refrigerator an hour before serving. A melon that is too cold loses some of its flavor. It should be cool but not icy.

Dip raw vegetables — sliced carrots, cauliflowerets, snap beans and parsley sprigs—in a fritter batter and then fry in deep fat.

Stores Stress New Packaging

The latest in steaks — his and hers!

The "his" and "hers" theme you've seen in bath towels and beach robes has now hit the supermarket! One large chain is cellophane-wrapping two steaks in the same package—a larger one labeled "his" and a daintier size termed "hers."

This same chain has had considerable success with its unique "three-legged chickens" — three fresh dressed half fryers packaged in protective cellophane to retain flavor and tenderness.

Packaged Cauliflower

From the West Coast comes fresh, trimmed cauliflower, packaged in a novel wrap of cellophane banded with aluminum foil which twists tightly at the back of the head.

The colorful wrappers protect the vegetable and prevent bruising. They're easy to reclose, too, if you wish to use only part of the head at one time.

Potato Chips and Trays

Here's unsurpassed convenience! A unique twin-pack for potato chips contains two separate cellophane bags of chips plus two handy serving trays which form the top and bottom of the package . . . all over-wrapped with a second bag of cellophane to insure fresh, crisp chips.

The serving trays are perfect for picnics, parties or TV-time snacks!

Baked Corn, Eggs Perfect for Lunch

Baked Corn And Eggs

8-ounce can cream-style corn
¼ cup finely diced green pepper
2 eggs
salt and pepper
grated cheddar cheese

Turn the corn into two individual shallow baking dishes. Mix 2 tablespoons of the diced green pepper into each portion of corn. Break an egg into each dish; sprinkle with salt and pepper.

Sprinkle eggs with cheese, using 3 or 4 tablespoons for each egg. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 14 minutes; remove from oven and let stand five minutes or so, then serve at once. Makes two servings.

Side Trips Split Up Visiting Red Farmers

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — Lengthy side trips of individuals and groups from the delegation of Soviet farm chiefs distracted attention today from their tour of South Dakota farms.

Leader of the group, Vladimir Matskevich, is flying to Texas tomorrow for a quickie tour of the agriculture of the biggest state in the Union. Matskevich is proceeding to Texas A. & M. college and will rejoin the main body of the delegation, according to present plans, on Sunday in Minneapolis.

A group of three of the Soviet farm leaders, headed by Yuri Golubash, is to fly to Wyoming Friday to visit the Keeling ranch at Gillette. This trio will also rejoin the main group in Minneapolis Sunday.

Professor Boris Sokolov, corn breeder, yesterday flew to Fargo, N. D. to confer with an outstanding American corn breeder at North Dakota State College. He is scheduled to rejoin the main group tomorrow.

The other Russian visitors will proceed from here today to Brookings, S. D. But shortly after they arrive in Brookings, they will, according to present plans, be flown to Huron, S. D. to see an ice show, and then back to Brookings the same evening.

They will travel to Huron and back on a plane provided through the courtesy of South Dakota's Gov. Joe Foss.

The Russians yesterday visited a grain elevator, a farm and a ranch in this area. They had an hour to shop by themselves and they were entertained at dinner in the evening by the Aberdeen Chamber of Commerce.

While there is continued interest among local citizens in the Russians it is by no means so intense as it was in Iowa where they started their journey to see American farms.

When they went shopping yesterday the members of the Soviet delegation devoted a certain amount of attention to men's clothing.

One of the group, for instance, reportedly purchased nine underwear shirts of orlon and nylon. He wanted more but the store he visited sold out its stock to him in this price class. He paid $2.95 for each shirt.

One of the American interpreters with him reportedly pointed out to the Russian that there were cotton underwear shirts of good quality to be bought at 80 cents each.

The Americans accompanying Russians report the Russians have been well provided with money for their journey by the Soviet government.

"You should see that roll of twenties," one of them was overheard remarking to an American colleague.

It had been also noted by the American interpreters and coordinators that the Russians are glad of any chance to visit stores.

10-Floor Plunge Stopped as Foot Catches at Ninth

DETROIT (AP)—A man who fell from the top floor of a 10 story building escaped without injury when his foot caught in a ninth floor window and four men pulled him to safety.

Harold Welsh, 55, told police last night he fell from a window. He was taken to a hospital for observation.

Free Methodists Pick Alpena District Leader

FLINT (AP)—Henry Schmidt of Alpena was chosen superintendent of the Alpena District of the Free Methodist Church yesterday by 2,500 persons attending the group's district conference. He replaces L. H. Howison.

Re-elected at the district conference were the Rev. E. L. Boileau of Perry, Superintendent of the Lansing District; E. E. Walling, Flint; C. B. Collver, Port Huron; and T. H. Reid, Gladwin. They will receive assignments next Sunday when the week-long conference ends.

Roger Burris (left) and David Adams spend many hours swimming, digging in the sand, playing in the water and feeding their ducks at Silver Lake. The boys, who are cousins, are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon C. Burris of Sylvester avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Adams of West Walton boulevard.

"Shep," the brown and white collie, is resting after a romp with Risky, (left to right) Mary, James and Judy Olsen. They are the children of Dr. and Mrs. Richard C. Olsen of Franklin road. Every morning at 6:30, winter and summer, the three older children go for a bird walk accompanied by their father, Dr. Olsen, an ornithologist.

Munching a cookie as he sits on the knee of his master, Michael Pender, is "Sampson," the pet of the household. The four year old brown and white monkey drinks from a cup and delights in swinging from the clothes line. Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Millard J. Pender of Overridge road.

Club Objects to Smoker's Bad Taste

By EMILY POST

"I belong to a discussion group consisting of twelve women ranging in age from forty to the late sixties," a reader tells me. "We meet once a month at a different member's house. All but one of this group are nonsmokers. The one smoker always smokes at these meetings. I can see her doing this when the meeting is held at her house but when held in the houses of the nonsmokers I think she should refrain from smoking for the time being.

"None of us question the right of any woman to smoke if she wants to, but we do question the good taste of smoking under the circumstances. What is your opinion?"

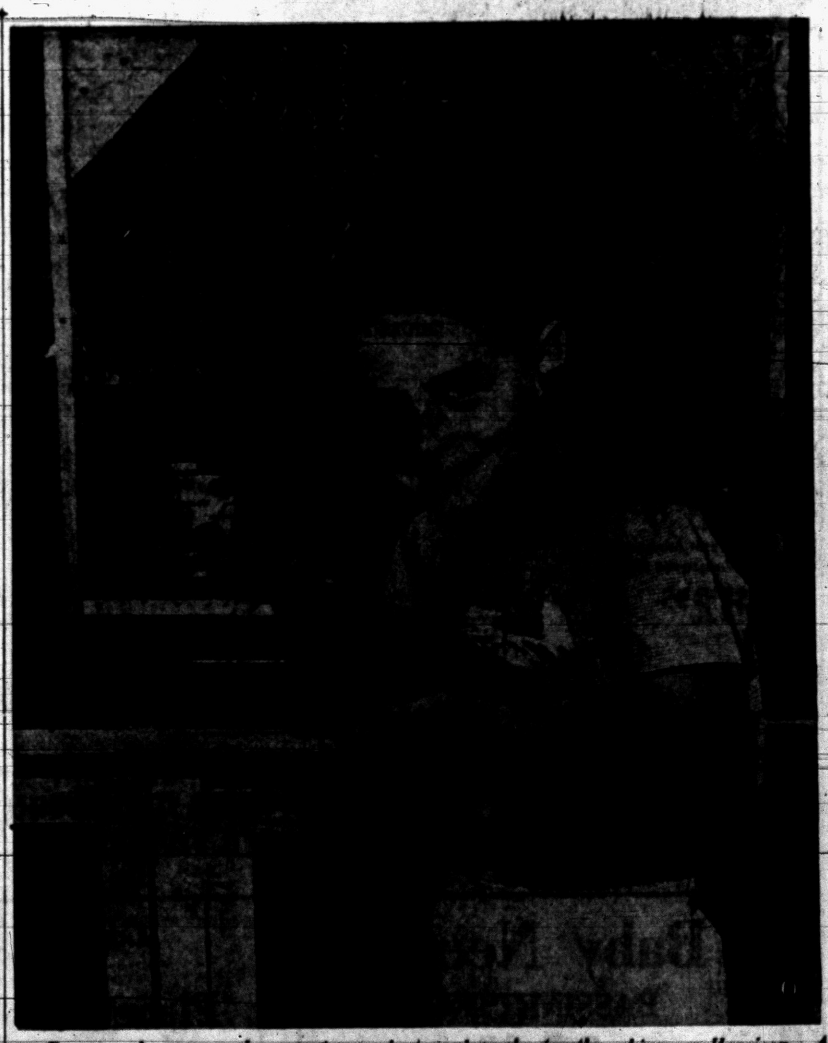

Answer: Being myself a nonsmoker, I naturally sympathize with you, and in any case I think that she, being the only smoker, should be more considerate of the tastes of all the rest of you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In your opinion, is it necessary in order to be thought polite, to say thank you to the elevator operator when he lets you off at your floor? Would it make a difference if the elevator was in an apartment house or an office building?"

Answer: I have never heard of anyone's saying thank you to the operator of a busy elevator. Imagine the picture of person after person getting off and saying "thank you," requiring the elevator operator to answer, "Your welcome, your welcome, your welcome, etc."! If it were a small elevator making a trip for you alone, thanking the operator would be polite!

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a widow, or divorcee, is asked if she is married, what is the correct answer to make?"

Answer: "I have been, yes!" This should end the subject because it would be in very bad taste on the part of anyone to ask the definite meaning of the past tense. This is because in neither case could the subject be a happy one for her to discuss.

Pretty and pert are the pet pigeons belonging to Dale Darling pictured above. The pigeons love to light on Dale's head and shoulders. Besides his pets, he likes to go north to the family cabin near Harrison. A student in the fifth grade at Central School, Dale is the son of Mrs. Mac Darling and the late Mr. Darling of South Paddock street.

Winston (Bucky) Pfahlert is playing with his pets—three brown bantam chickens. They eat from his hand and like perching on his shoulder. Bucky says bantams are easy to train. If he holds out his arm they will walk up and down. Bucky also has a parakeet. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Pfahlert of Lakeland avenue, Sylvan Lake.

Birmingham Gallery Features Oils

The high point of the "Europe 1955" show to be in progress Aug. 5 to Sept. 8 at the Little Gallery in Birmingham will be a collection of oils and gouaches by the Swiss painter Jurg Spiller.

Still in his early forties, Spiller has achieved a solid European reputation for originality; for somber beauty and for excellent craftsmanship. For many years a friend of Paul Klee and his Bauhaus circle, Spiller was never an imitator of that master of satirical line.

His early paintings indicate his preoccupation with space, not in the single designer sense but with imagination and emotional overtones. Jurg Spiller's headquarters are his home city of Basel, Switzerland but he has lived and worked in Paris, London, Munich, Italy and Greece.

Recently he spent a year and a half in Mexico. This experience marked a turning point, a blossoming in his art life. The core problem no longer is form in space but light and form in motion. The rich warm primitive colors of Mexico, the feeling of mysterious, sometimes even sinister movement are the background against which Spiller superimposes black calligraphic symbols.

The method is in the best sense Abstraction, the result is primitive, daring, dramatic and sophisticated. The emotions evoked and invoked, are very powerful—in short, they are typical of "Europe 1955."

DANISH CERAMICS

Subtle pieces of ceramics from Denmark as were seen in the recent Scandinavian show at the Detroit Art Institute, as well as the stoneware from Germany are on exhibition. Leather boxes from Italy and Austria—all hand made and individually designed.

The beautifully styled brasses from Austria—smoothe and simple in form and the colorful pottery by the famous Gamboni from Florence are only a few of the fine examples in crafts.

Walter Florell's draped giant earth brown velour dramatizes the designer's belief that more hat is more elegance and a better balance for the slim silhouette in clothes.

Supplementing and complimenting these are exquisite enamels from Italy and Austria. The craftsmanship is superb — design and color, elegant—and the originality of all the pieces is easily distinguished.

As well as functional and decorative pieces for the home, there is enameled jewelry from Vienna and Copenhagen unequalled in this country — contemporary silver jewelry set with abalone from Denmark, and corals from Italy.

This summerarizes the exhibition current at the Little Gallery, 915 East Maple, Birmingham, Michigan, August 8 to September 8. Hours: 9 to 6 Daily. Closed Sundays.

This is the tenth anniversary of the liberation, an anniversary which is being observed more in the hearts and minds of the peoples of Europe than in public demonstrations or national holidays.

It seems strange that so little attention is being paid to the anniversary of the ending of the most devastating war in history. In part, at least, this is due to the fact that for the past ten years everyone has been too busy.

There was so much to be done, not only the repair and rebuilding of the physical destruction but, even more important, the rehabilitation of the spiritual and cultural damage.

Everyone knows of the twentieth century renaissance in Italy but only those who have visited Europe regularly in very recent years is aware that the same processes have been at work in Austria, in Holland, in Germany and Denmark with results only slightly less spectacular.

In architecture, furniture and decoration the artist-designer has become increasingly important and influential. It is not enough that the new building or car or coffee pot be merely novel or only functional. The emphasis is equally on gracefulness, on comfort, on values which include but also transcend practicality.

Teeners Fool Nobody Trying to Look Older

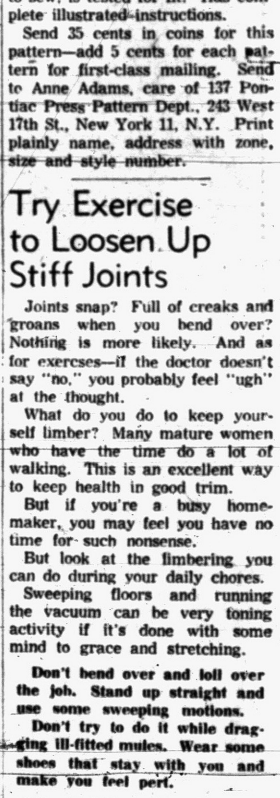

Older women look at teenagers with a kind of indulgent amusement when the teeners start padding their age with fictitious years. They know it's all too soon that the young ladies will start peeling the years off.

Realistically, it's quite annoying to be thought too young for a job, when one is quite a responsible 17 or 18.

Adding years may help. More often than not it backfires, though.

One thing that surely doesn't help is trying to add years via the beauty route. Long, garish fingernails on a gal applying for a typist's job only prove that she is foolish and impractical, not that she is "over 21." Heavy make-up only looks pathetic on a fresh young face.

To clean a discolored waffle iron, use a wire brush on the grids while they are hot. After cleaning, "season" with a little vegetable oil.

Try Exercise to Loosen Up Stiff Joints

Joints snap? Full of creaks and groans when you bend over? Nothing is more likely. And as for exercses—if the doctor doesn't say "no," you probably feel "ugh" at the thought.

What do you do to keep yourself limber? Many mature women who have the time do a lot of walking. This is an excellent way to keep health in good trim.

But if you're a busy homemaker, you may feel you have no time for such nonsense.

But look at the fimbering you can do during your daily chores.

Sweeping floors and running the vacuum can be very toning activity if it's done with some mind to grace and stretching.

Don't bend over and loll over the job. Stand up straight and use some sweeping motions.

Don't try to do it while dragging ill-fitted mules. Wear some shoes that stay with you and make you feel pert.

Use stretching often, in a sensible way. Don't pop underpinnings and strain, but stretch easily for the other side of the bed you're making or for that dish on the middle shelf. Don't flop, stay conscious of the grace of controlled stretching.

Is your walk to the supermarket a shamble or a walk? Keep the pace somewhat brisk. Don't double yourself under heavy bundles it impairs your balance and breathing. Get a go-cart and wheel the groceries home at a refreshing pace.

Take advantage of your tasks to erase those creaking joints and stiff muscles.

To cut frosted cake without crumbling the icing, dip the knife in hot water and wipe dry before using.

Here is the look you love . . .

Cocktail Party Sparks Social Whirl

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The lovely "Gone With the Wind" type home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Wellock was gay Saturday evening when eighty guests were entertained at an out-of-door cocktail and supper party.

The affair was given for Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Young of Long Lake road who have moved here recently from Grosse Pointe, and for the Wellocks' house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Coryell of Bay City. The Coryells left for their home Monday morning.

On Wednesday Mrs. Wellock entertained a few guests at luncheon at Orchard Lake Country Club honoring Mrs. Herbert W. Mason and her house guest, Mrs. Robert VanHyning of Stockton, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brettnel Williams (Susan Cunningham) announce the birth of a daughter Lucy Chase, on July 25.

Bloomfield Hills Country Club was the setting Tuesday for a luncheon and shower given for bride-elect, Sandra Tischer. Hostesses were Mrs. James Wernig and Mrs. Beverly Boyd.

Sandra will be married Sept. 2 to William S. Bonham of Cambridge, Ohio. She will be honored at another luncheon and shower next Tuesday when Mrs. J. Thomas Smith and Mrs. L. C. Goad will be hostesses in the Goad home on Lone Pine road.

Mrs. Richard de Beaubien and her children of Metamora are spending several weeks with her mother, Mrs. Melvin R. Kates, at her cottage at Good Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Taylor and their small daughter are busy this week moving back into their home on Orchard Ridge road after remodeling it. During operations they occupied the gate house on Long Lake which Mr. Taylor's mother Mrs. Harry W. Taylor of The Towers, Detroit, will soon move into.

* * *

Mrs. Harry Farmer of Los Angeles and her two sons are visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Auleppe of Lakser road.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Anderson are home again after a month at their cottage at Bellair Lake.

From the Fath American collection for Schindelheim and Lupia is this travel coat christened "Avion" by Madame Genevieve Fath. The narrow-and-wide line of the obelisk silhouette goes sportive in black and royal blue wool tweed. Accent at the top of the silhouette is an attached fringed scarf that ties close to the face or slings across the narrow shoulder line. Easy flare builds width around the hemline. "Stowaway" pockets have deep pleats at each side.

Paris Designer's Widow Creates Sweeping Lines

Madame Genevieve Fath, widow of the late Jacques Fath and new president of the company, was inspired by the ancient obelisk for the gently tapered silhouette used with many variations throughout the Fath American Collection designed for Schindelheim & Lupia.

A fluid, sweeping line, it is interpreted in daytime coats and suits, travel costumes and glamourous evening wraps in a ransom-range of fabrics.

Luxurious textures she works with include superb wool tweeds, flannels, knit-simulated woolens and sleek zibelline from such outstanding mills as Lesur, Rodier and Forstmann. Princely silk velvets reign in evening fashions. Silk taffeta, pastel striped or white satin linings add a further note of beautification to "interiors."

Peak point of the slim-then-wider shape is at the neckline or apex of the obelisk. Standing collars, smooth or draped, cut in one from the shoulders, sculpture the neck, halting virtually at the chin-line. Collars set into the neckline stand high and close to the face.

Suit collars button or tie right under the jaw. From the top, it gently sweeps out via long, diagonal pleats, folded panels, low-set hip flounces, deep knee pleats, exaggerated pockets or flaring "apron" on suit skirts—all ways by which Mme. Fath "builds" bottom width on her new silhouette. One of its most dramatic expressions is in a ruby red wool zibelline afternoon coat with a neck-hugging collar and low oversized patch pockets.

Separate mufflers of silk velvet, mocha with cashmere or emerald with oxford grey flannel, swath the neck reaching up around the ears in another variation of the obelisk theme.

COAT GROUP

In the travel coat group that Madame Fath calls "Avion," she accents the neckline via attached fringed stoles tossed with deliberate carelessness around the shoulders. Black and royal, leaf gold with deep charcoal are color schemes chosen for rugged tweeds textured with tiny loops.

Details are deftly managed so that they become an integral part of the silhouette in the Fath American Collection. Pockets set high on suits combine with narrowly fitted shoulders to emphasize the tapered top line that graduates into the wonderful-for-walking "apron" skirt with its gored flaring front panel and straight back.

Wide box pleats, pleat clusters that unfurl like a lady's fan or the frankly flared skirt on the "St. Cyr" suit—christened for its waist-long moulded military jacket—project the sleek slim-and-widening line. Pockets on town coats, sometimes marked by folds, sweep from the hipline in long diagonal curves that graze the hemline.

Straightish shapeliness is always suggested in her suit group intended to curve, but never hug, the waistline. Here the pyramidical contour is put forth with long jackets, kept close to the figure and mated to skirts with tailored box pleats or flares that start low on the hipline.

For evening fashions the tapered Fath cotour is elegantly dramatized in regal velvets of Spanish black or pulsating electric blue.

Creamy, Bronzed Beauty Is Lovely Summer Bride

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—If yours is a mid-summer wedding and you've inadvertently turned to a deep tan under the summer sun, do not try to cover it with light make-up, but become a beautiful bronze bride instead.

A tan skin which is forced to look less tan by the application of lighter make-up results in looking cold, colorless and muddy. Against the white of the veil and gown, the muddy tones become even more muddy and dull.

However, when the deeply tanned skin is enriched with warm, harmonizing make-up, the white veil and gown become spotlights which play upon the bronzed skin and turn the bride into one of natural beauty and glamor.

Be sure to match your tan with foundation make-up. Choose one with such high fidelity colors that only the thinnest veil of make-up will be needed to make your skin look rich and flawless under the brightest light, candle light, or the dim lights of the church.

USE SHADOW

Wear eyeshadow, for you will need variation in this all-over bronze coloring. Try the blue or green shades, and decide which is the most becoming.

A mixture of the two may be better than one. Rouge will also add to this variation, and it will offer a soft, warm feminine touch to your bronze beauty.

So that you will maintain a bridal look, do not apply your eyebrow pencil with a heavy hand. Arch your brows beautifully, but lightly. Outline your eyes with pencil and blend so the line will not be evident.

Apply your eyelash make-up from the roots to the tips of your eyelashes and brush them into a soft, natural fringe with a dry eyelash brush.

Do not make the mistake of choosing one of the pale pink, orange, or orchid shades of lipstick because you believe a light shade will look more bridal.

These shades will look artificial and unnatural. Instead choose a warm, true red shade which will bring out all of the beauty of the bronze tones, give life to your entire face, and even clear the whites of your eyes.

Write First if Boy Friend Asks for Letter

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

The one who goes away is supposed to write first. But sometimes what a boy is supposed to do and what he does are two entirely different things. Transplant some boys into new settings, surround them with new experiences and new acquaintances and they act as though they'd broken all ties with the recent past. It's out of sight, out of mind with them.

It's sheer laziness. They're busy reacting to new things, and they forget that the girls they left behind them are haunting the mailman.

It's not indifference, really. It's just that their minds are on other things. So why not remind them? Why wait too long for them to write? Get busy with your own pen and paper. That's what this girl should do.

"Dear Miss Woodward: My boy friend has gone away for the rest of the summer, and he asked me to write to him while he's away. Should I wait until I hear from him, or can I write first?"

Answer: What kind of letter-writer is he? Have you had any experience with him before? Reliable? Or very sketchy? If he's never written to you before, perhaps he doesn't know how to get started. So, write to him.

Tell him what's been going on since he left. Ask some interested questions. Skip lightly over what you're going to do next week, and mail it. That will remind him that he asked you to write—and that it's now his turn.

"Dear Miss Woodward: My boy friend recently moved away, but I got his address from a friend. I suppose by now that he has found a new girl friend, and I don't know whether I should write to him or just forget about him. What do you think?"

Answer: Write and tell him that he might have vanished into thin air for all the news you've had of him since he's been gone. Ask how he likes it where he is. Give him news of his old pals if you know any. Tell him you miss him—things aren't quite the same without him. But don't pry, don't gush. Keep your letter on an even keel. He'll answer it unless he wants you to forget him!

"Dear Miss Woodward: When school stopped he said he'd call me, but he hasn't yet. You see, he lives seven miles out in the country and never comes in. I miss him terribly. What can I do?"

Answer: Give him some reason for coming into town. He did it every day while school was open. So he might come if you invited him to do something special at your house. Call him and see if he wouldn't like a picnic and a swim. Round up some of his best school friends. Make a party of it. It might start him coming into town often.

Lipstick Signal Wanted

Train engineers, when passing each other on adjoining tracks, have a universal gesture to indicate a "hot box" on the approaching train. The engineer can't see the trouble back on his own train, but when he sees the other engineer holding his nose, he knows what the problem is.

It has often occurred to us that it would be useful to have a universal signal for lipstick on the teeth. Nothing is more disconcerting in company than to have someone blurt out, "You have lipstick on your teeth."

The only thing that approaches this discomfort is to see a woman with lipstick on her teeth and to sit and wonder what to do. One doesn't want to be tactless, but on the other hand, she doesn't know how untidy she looks.

Teenagers, who are just getting their cosmetic habits under control, are particularly prone to this sloppiness.

It's unlikely that some signal will ever be worked out. The supposedly clever "it's snowing down south" for the slip showing trouble is about as subtle as an auto crash. And any lipstick signal would be about as secret.

About the most reasonable gambit is to suggest a trip to the ladies' room and earnestly hope that the young lady involved will take a good look in the mirror.

And while there, you might take a good look at yourself. She may have been wondering how to tell you.

Vinyl Clay Eliminates Messiness

Junior Can Show His Talent Without Harm to Home

NEW YORK (NEA)—It takes a wise mother to know when to encourage and when to discourage certain creative tendencies in a child.

These tendencies can range from the artistic trend indicated in writing on the bathroom walls to the culinary talent displayed in mixing up a mass of cookies.

Nearly all children show a marked tendency to create something or other. The mother who wants to save herself the most wear and tear will channel this inclination in the right direction.

And the right direction is one that won't wreck the house and and leave her a shattered heap.

If your little darling loves to dabble in modeling clay, don't make discouraging noises about it.

It's true that some clays stain hands, clothes, wallpaper and woodwork. Hands and clothes can be scrubbed. And you'll just have to rise above the wallpaper and the woodwork.

But if you don't feel like being drastic, there is a solution, one that will allow you to clean up on the artistic aftermath without crushing latent talent.

There is, for instance, a brand-new modeling clay developed from a vinyl plastic. Its makers claim that it will stay clean, colorful and nontoxic no matter how long it's used.

The job, therefore, of scrubbing both child and room after an art session is practically eliminated.

It's the vinyl in this clay that gives it the advantage of staying pliable indefinitely. But if your youthful Rembrandt wants to preserve a masterpiece for posterity, you need only pop it into the oven along with a load of biscuits.

Take the art object out first, since it bakes into a permanent, unbreakable object in a matter of minutes and at a medium temperature.

Color, too, is permanent when baked. As a matter of fact, the clay comes in packages of assorted colors so that little Wilbur can use one color or a color combination.

And either way, you'll probably wish he hadn't. Consolation lies in the fact that while the process may not produce anything pleasant to the eye, it is clean and neat.

Escaped Boa Snake Scares Iowa Town

MERIDEN, Iowa (AP)—A squirming, 27½ foot boa constrictor nearly turned an ordinary carnival sideshow into a frightening experience for this northwest Iowa town.

The snake escaped from its cage and bit a trainer, B. C. Davenport, on the wrist.

Later, when the trainer opened the cage to be photographed with the boa, the lights went out. About six feet of the snake slithered onto a platform before it was captured and returned to the cage.

Atoms Now Working for Peaceful Ends

BRECKSVILLE, Ohio (INS) — In the early 1940's the total supply of radium in use throughout the world was about 1,000 grams. Today, an atomic testing facility in use by a single company gives off radiation comparable to that provided by approximately 1,500 grams of radium.

The testing device is a five-ton steel-and-lead "pig" containing four one-pound slabs of radioactive cobalt which has been put to work at the research center.

Prepared at Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island, the radiation source is the largest especially designed for use in private industry.

Linscott, Andrews in 'Crossroads' Fight

LINSCOTT		ANDREWS

43½	Chest Expanded	42

Two young hopefuls of the middleweight class tonight reach what has been called a real "crossroads" in their fistic careers.

Gene Linscott, former AAU welter champion, now moving along a comeback path after a period of idleness in the ring business, while on an army tour of duty, tangles with Al Andrews, the Superior, Wis., toughie.

The boys headline a six-bout card in Wisner Stadium, 1st outdoor show here in many a year. It also ranks as the most important card in more than a dozen years for Pontiac, where a dearth of pro boxing has been experienced.

Four opening bouts, four-rounders, start off the program at 8:30 p.m.

A semifinal, between Jackie King and Larry Boaz, will precede the main go. Semiwindup is over a 6-round route, while the big bout is scheduled for 10.

Both fighters weighed in at 1 p.m. today. Both were reported in the finest condition for an all-out battle.

For Gene tonight's contest may determine his future. He will have to win if he expects to continue in fast company. On the other hand, Andrews, a family man, also must come through. A loss would hurt his prestige greatly.

Gene is the home town favorite, but the hard-headed boys who rate these affairs today had Andrews on top because of his greater experience.

Gene has won all six of his pro fights since his return to the ring, and has improved materially. He could surprise the experts.

Tonight's fights are sponsored by the Motor City Fight and Pontiac's Iraq Gotto. Part of the proceeds will go to charitable work conducted by the grotto, whose members will lend some added color to the crowd, with their red fezzes.

Here's the supporting card:

Buddy Harris, Pontiac vs Napoleon Ludy, Detroit at 135 pounds.

Grady Johnson, Pontiac vs Jerry Carbuck, Saginaw, at 135 pounds.

Sam Piliarik, Saginaw, vs Floyd Brooks, Detroit, at 160 pounds.

King George, Detroit, vs Gene Jackson, Cleveland, heavyweights.

149 Open Fire on Tam Layout

CHICAGO (AP)—Golf's big shots were poised today for a par-wrecking onslaught at the 6,915-yard Tam O'Shanter course, sunbaked by the prolonged broiling weather and regarded by most pros as "ready to be took."

A field of 149 started out on their expected massacre of the 36-36—72 par in the main section of the All-American tournament, a $25,000 preview of next week's frolic, the "World Championship."

The "World" guarantees the winner $50,000 in cash and $55,000 for 55 exhibition dates.

Running simultaneously with the men pros section are 72-hole medal play tourneys for men amateurs, women pros and women amateurs.

Typical of the par bombarding in prospect came in qualifying rounds of 300 lesser known pros gunning for places left open after 76 of their better known colleagues were exempted from the trials.

To make the grade for the eventual 73 qualifying berths, par 72 or better was needed.

Leading the qualifiers was Lionel Hebert of Erie, Pa., who slammed a seven-under 65. Bob Gadja of Detroit and veteran Herman Keiser each had 66s. In all, 34 fired 70 or better.

Most of these players who completed their tests yesterday are club pros who do not compete on the PGA circuit. You can see what may happen when the campaigners of the tourney trail take aim.

Mike Souchak, whose 27-under-par 257 set a PGA record in the Texas Open at San Antonio this spring, is among the majority who believe Tam O'Shanter's marks may be rewritten.

The best 72-hole score ever posted at Tam was 269 by Byron Nelson in 1945's All-American. The course record for 18 is 63 by Lloyd Mangrum in 1948.

Anyone breaking that 63 in the next 10 days of competition will receive an additional prize of $10,000, a target posted today by Promoter George S. May.

"If the hot weather holds up and the course plays as fast as it has been, I think Nelson's record may go down the drain," said the long-hitting Souchak. "All the long par-5 holes may become simple because of the distance we are getting and a lot of the fellows will be putting for eagle-3s on them."

Drive-In Cleaners Defeats North Side, 8-6, in 10-Inning City Softball Battle

Drive-In Cleaners scored three times in the top of the 10th inning to defeat North Side Service, 8-6, in a National loop men's softball game Wednesday night at Beaudette Park.

Singles by Alex Sesock and Ed Smith and two enemy errors put the game on ice for the Cleaners in the 3rd extra session, North Side outhit Drive-In, 12 to 9, but the losers' leaky defense was responsible for a dozen miscues.

Four pitchers worked for Drive-In during the overtime contest, Bob Harris, Bob Dennis, Bob Orr, and Bill Ryan shared mound duties, with the latter getting credit for the win. Gil Luebke went the distance for North Side.

Bicmar Inn downed Elks 810, 6-2, in the opening game at Beaudette. Bob Agnew hurled four-hit ball for the winners and right fielder Bill Reed aided the cause with a lead-off home run in the 4th inning. Jack Choler was the losing pitcher on a five-hit effort.

Avondale's girls pushed across two runs in the 7th stanza to edge Shaw's Jewelers, 12-11, at North Side. Three walks loaded the bases for Elaine Line's two-run single to hand Avondale the verdict. Shirley Thorpe and Joyce Fralick clouted homers for Avondale.

League-leading Giles Realty continued to boast its superiority in the girls' circuit with a rousing 14-7 win over Gingellville. Giles' girls banged out a lusty 18 hits, including home runs by Katherine McGown and Nancy Milton. Nancy McCarter blasted a round-tripper for Gingellville.

Four games are scheduled on tonight's card: Gingellville meets Avondale at 7 p.m. and GMC faces Shaw's at 8:30 in girls' contests at North Side. Knights of Columbus plays Ashland Flying Octane at 7 p.m. and Riteway Softwater clashes with the Wolverines of Southfield in an 8:30 exhibition attraction in men's games at Beaudette.

Slo-Mo IV Sets New Mark; Mishap Hits Detroit Racer

SEATTLE (AP)—A cross-town battle was assured today for Sunday's Gold Cup hydroplane racing classic as well as all the color and hot rivalry guaranteed by the entry of boats famed in the "World Series" of racing.

Miss Thriftway, Seattle entry sponsored by a Washington State grocery chain, became the third boat to qualify yesterday after Stan Sayres' Slo-Mo-Shun IV, Seattle's three-time winner of the classic, had set a new qualifying speed mark earlier in the day.

Slo-Mo's sister boat, the V, and at least four others were also scheduled to try to qualify today, under requirements that they travel the 3¾-mile course three times at better than 85 m.p.h. Twelve boats can qualify for the race.

Slo-Mo IV, with Joe Taggart driving, flirted with the 2-mile-a-minute mark yesterday but finally settled for a qualifying time of 117.391. That was a short time after orchestra leader Guy Lombardo's Tempo VII, of New York, with Danny Foster at the controls, had qualified at 116.7. The previous qualifying record of 111.632 was set by Slo-Mo V last year.

Miss Thriftway made its runs late in the day after the lake roughened up some. Driver Bill Muncey, Detroit, held it down to an average 103.846 miles.

A mishap left Such Crust III, Detroit, owned by Jack Schafer, sinking yesterday but the boat was expected to be repaired in quick time. A propeller blade was hurled through her hull. It was picked up by a Coast Guard patrol boat and beached just before it nearly sunk.

'Frost' Victor in Harness Racing Biggest Show

California Horse Wins Hambletonian Race in Straight Heats

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP)—You'll have to pardon Hoot Mon, an 11-year-old stallion, if he holds his head a little higher as he canters around the pasture at Hanover, Pa., today. For his son Scott Frost is the toast of the trotting world after winning the 30th Hambletonian.

But Scott Frost couldn't quite match his old man's 1947 performance as he whirled around Good Time Park's triangular-shaped track in 2:01 3-5 and 2:00 3-5 Wednesday for a straight heat victory in the glamor race of harness racing.

Hoot Mon himself won the 1947 renewal in two minutes flat but Scott Frost's second heat time was the second fastest in the history of the Kentucky Derby of trotting. And on top of that the Hoot-Mon-Scott Frost is the first father-son combination ever to put together a double in the rich event.

Hoot Mon also has the distinction of siring Helicopter, a filly which carried off the honors in the 1953 renewal.

Scott Frost, purchased by Sol Camp of Shafter, Calif., as a yearling for $8,200, was the favorite of the crowd of some 16,000. He had trotted a mile in two minutes when he won the 1954 2-year-old title and matched that time this year in an all-victorious campaign.

And he didn't disappoint his fans this time. Using his somewhat awkward but powerful stride to get into motion, he took the first mile by a half-length from Mrs. Charlotte S. de Van's surprising Leopold Hanover and then edged William T. Maybury's Galophone by a head in the second heat.

The victory was worth $51,075.63 and boosted Scott Frost's total earnings to $102,654.75. Leopold Hanover and Galophone split second and third moneys, winning $14,897.06 each. And Butch Hanover, stablemate of Scott Frost, finished fourth in both heats for fourth money of $4,256.05. The first four were all sired at Lawrence B. Sheppard's Hanover, Pa., farm.

Promoters of Bout Seek to Ground Archie

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (AP)—It looks as though Archie Moore, who will fight champion Rocky Marciano for the world heavyweight championship Sept. 20, may be "grounded."

Promoters of the big New York fight are unhappy over the off-moment flying lessons Moore has been taking recently.

Tribe, Yankees Still in Knot at Second Spot

Woodling's Home Run, Garcia's Hurling Give Indians 2-1 Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Whew!

After two days of hostilities in the red-hot fight for second place in the equally torrid American League pennant race, the Cleveland Indians and the New York Yankees have scored a total of six runs.

And going into the rubber game of their three-game set in the Yankee Stadium today, they're back where they started, tied for second place a game behind the Chicago White Sox.

Yesterday's 2-1 Cleveland victory was fashioned by Gene Woodling, who hit a homer against his old mates with one on, and Mike Garcia, who held the Yanks to four hits until the ninth.

He needed help from Don Mossi and Ray Narleski in the ninth when Mickey Mantle opened with a single. But he had the Yanks well in check. Manager Al Lopez just wasn't taking any chances.

"I was afraid he might be losing a little something," said Lopez. "Anyway, that Yogi Berra (the next batter) always scares you in a situation like that. I felt a lot better with a lefthander like Mossi pitching.

"We're in good shape physically now and won't have any excuse if we don't start winning. We appeared to snap out of the doldrums a couple of times before, but something always happened. Maybe this will be it."

Woodling, a member of five Yank championship teams from 1949 through 1953, always hit well against the Indians. He was sent to Baltimore in the Bob Turley deal and was dealt to Cleveland June 15.

"That's the first homer I ever hit against the Yanks," he grinned, accepting the congratulations of Tribe third baseman Al Rosen.

"About time," said Rosen. "You hit plenty against us."

When Mossi came in, Yank Manager Casey Stengel ordered Berra to bunt in order to get Mantle into scoring position. That he did and for a fleeting second Mossi turned as if to throw to second.

Jackson Stops Ezzard Charles

'Hurricane' Pours Blows on Ez to Capture a Unanimous Decision

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The Hurricane Jackson camp is singing "we told you so" and Ezzard Charles' managers are yelling for a rematch after Wednesday night's furious heavyweight scrap at War Memorial Auditorium.

Jackson, 23, the perpetual motion man from New York's Far Rockaway, showed the local fans why they call him Hurricane. After the first three rounds, he poured punches at the former champion, flapped an annoying jab into his face and danced a jig between rounds to win a unanimous decision in 10 rounds.

Even the famous Jackson "double uppercut" was exhibited to the 3,636 who paid $12,200 to watch the nationally televised bout. The Hurricane unlimbered a few doubles in his corner after the eighth or ninth rounds.

District Golf Title Tourney in Action Today

Big Field Starts Off on 18-Hole Qualifying; Match Play Friday

Between 130-140 golfers teed off for 18-hole qualifying rounds today at Orchard Lake Country Club in the annual Detroit District Golf Association tournament. Tourney concludes its four-day run Sunday.

Entry list includes the state's finest amateurs and a fast field is anticipated. Target for this year's competition is Bob Babbish, the defending champion.

Today's qualifying rounds will result in a championship flight and five additional flights for match play starting tomorrow. Thirty-one golfers will join Babbish in the title flight to battle for the DDGA crown. Babbish does not need to qualify.

Match play will be conducted over the 18-hole distance in morning and afternoon sessions Friday and Saturday, then wind up with the 36-hole championship final Sunday.

There will be 16 golfers in each of the remaining flights, with all matches scheduled for 18 holes.

Inter-Zone Cup Draw Up Today

Interest Focused Upon Aussie Selections for Davis Matches

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP) — The draw for the inter-zone Davis Cup tennis match between Australia and Japan was to be made at noon today at the Nassau Country Club, with attention focused on the selections of Aussie Captain Harry Hopman.

If Hopman passes over Lew Hoad as he did in Canada last week and nominates Rex Hartwig for the singles, it doubtlessly means Hoad is in the doghouse for keeps.

* * *

Ken Rosewall is certain to be named for one of the singles spot. Hoad has been off his game and is reported fretting over failure of the Australian brass to permit his bride to accompany him to America.

Takeichi Harada, the veteran Japanese captain, has no such problems.

Better Hunting!

Longer Season, Larger Duck Limit Proposed

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A longer waterfowl hunting season and a larger bag limit of ducks will be recommended by the Mississippi Valley Flyway Council.

The valley group, representing administrators of the fish and game departments of the 14 states of the flyway and their staffs, decided to recommend a 60-day season with a bag limit of seven ducks, of which two must be pintails, at a meeting here Wednesday.

Federal regulations last year provided for a 55-day season and a four-duck limit.

The recommendation will be made next Monday and Tuesday at a meeting of the National Migratory Waterfowl Flyway Council in Washington. This group, in turn, makes suggestions to the interior department's Fish and Wildlife Service which has the final decision.

Bruce Stiles of Des Moines, Iowa, chairman of the Mississippi Valley Council, said surveys of the breeding grounds "show an increase of approximately 10 per cent in breeding pairs over last year."

Title Chance Offered Area 'Barnyard Golfers'

Two amateur horseshoe pitching champions will be crowned this year in Michigan. Championship finals for Junior and Senior divisions will be held Sept. 2-4 at the Detroit Fairgrounds as a feature of the annual Michigan State Fair.

A junior class has been added for the 1st time. All pitchers who have not attained their 17th birthday by Sept. 1 will compete in a separate tourney.

Finalists in both divisions at Detroit will be determined at regional horseshoe tourneys in over 60 out-state cities. All finalists will be guests of the State Fair.

Pontiac area pitchers interested in entering the tournament should contact David R. Ewalt, director of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

Lifting of Pro Boxing Ban in Pennsylvania in Sight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gov. George M. Leader was expected to make an announcement today on the lifting of a 90-day ban he imposed on professional boxing in Pennsylvania.

Commissioner Alfred Klein of the state athletic commission said last night that an announcement would come from the governor's office within 24 hours and he indicated it might bring the end of the ban.

Klein's statement came after he met with officials of the International Boxing Club in effort to reach a settlement of differences between the promotion organization and the commission.

The meeting followed by a few hours passage by the state House of Representatives of the new Pennsylvania boxing code — designed to place the sport under more stringent state supervision. The measure now goes to the state Senate.

The ban was imposed May 10 by Leader following the Harold Johnson-Julio Mederos fight here May 6 in which Johnson was unable to answer the bell for the third round. The commission said Johnson had been drugged prior to the fight.

Semifinal Berths at Stake Today

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Two semi-final berths were slated to be filled in the Eastern Lawn Tennis Championships today and if form holds up, two more members of the foreign contingent will be shunted to the sidelines.

Davis Cupper Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., was paired with Roger Becker of England, while Gil Shea of Los Angeles, a youngster who could blossom into a star this year, tackles Johann Kupferburger of South Africa.

Hall of Famer's Son Leads Air Force Golf

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—Young Ray Terry, who swings a golf club almost as well as his father, baseball Hall of Famer Bill Terry, used to swing a bat, has taken a three-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the 72-hole World Wide Air Force Golf Tournament.

Waterford Takes Legion Game From Birmingham 9

Waterford knocked Birmingham out of a tie for 1st place in the 18th district American Legion baseball circuit with a 4-3 victory Wednesday night at Birmingham. It was Waterford's 2nd win in 2nd-round play.

Waterford - Birmingham game was the only one played in the league yesterday. The Huron Valley Boys Club - Berkley tilt was postponed until Saturday night under the lights at Berkley at 8 p.m. The Rochester-Clawson contest was postponed because of rain.

Waterford nine scored four runs in the 1st inning, then hung on to post its decision over Birmingham. A double by Tom Bryce, a base on balls, a single by Jack Swindeman, an error, and singles by Leroy Nicholas and Harry Dearborn accounted for the winning margin.

Birmingham tallied single runs in the 1st, 5th, and 7th frames, but failed to dent pitcher Jerry Kruskie for the tying run in the final stanza. Kruskie hurled seven-hit ball for the winners to match Birmingham's O'Conner, who struck out 11 batters.

Bryce and Swindeman sparked Waterford at the plate. Bryce collected a double and two singles while Swindeman picked up a two-bagger and single.

Junior, Little League Games Halted by Rain

Wednesday's scheduled Waterford Little League softball game between Waterford Village and Puertas Service was postponed because of rain. The contest has been re-scheduled for Friday night.

Waterford Junior League softball tiff between Drayton Drug and White Brothers was also delayed last night by showers. A new date for the game has not been set.

Junior Favorites Still in Action

Three Match Par at Purdue in National Golf Tournament

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Favorites were still alive today as the pace of the U.S. Golf Assn.'s National Junior Golf Tournament stepped up to two-a-day matches after a long first period.

Allen Geiberger of Santa Barbara, Calif., and two other contenders, James Gilbert of Bowling Green, Ky., and Sam Carmichael of Martinsville, Ind., matched par on Purdue University's South course in yesterday's first round.

All won easily. Geiberger defeated Harper Pearse of Brigham, Utah, 4 and 3. Gilbert beat Gustave Thurguson of Berwick, La., 6 and 5, and Carmichael eliminated Wayne Pence of Kansas City, 3 and 2.

Pontiac Golfers Among Top 24 in Tam Prelim

CHICAGO (AP) — Four Michigan pros were among the low 24 qualifiers for the 1st round of the All-American Golf Tournament today at the Tam O'Shanter Club. In all, 73 players qualified.

The Michigan men were Bob Gajda of Forest Lake Club, Pontiac, with 66; Max Evans, Utica, 69; Eugene Bone, Pontiac, 70, and Tom Talkington, Ypsilanti, 70.

Tribe, Waiting for 'Lightning' to Strike, Still Doing OK; Brooks Stretch National Edge

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For a club that's just marking time, waiting for lightning to strike, those Cleveland Indians aren't doing bad at all.

They haven't had a chance to catch fire yet, not with Bob Lemon ailing and Al Rosen, Larry Doby and Vic Wertz in slumps, yet Manager Al Lopez has his defending champs in a second-place tie with the New York Yankees in the brawling American League race.

On top of injuries, Lopez had to wait until little more than a month ago before he could count on Mike Garcia again. But after losing six straight, Big Mike has won five of six decisions, including a dandy four-hit job against New York for a 2-1 victory.

With Boston thumping first-place Chicago 6-4, the Indians and Yanks are just one game shy of the White Sox. Boston is three games back.

Detroit stayed 3½ behind Boston, beating Washington 3-0. Kansas City split with Baltimore, winning 5-1 after a 4-3 defeat.

Brooklyn went 14½ games ahead again in the National, beating Milwaukee 9-6. New York knocked St. Louis 5-3; Philadelphia whipped Cincinnati 8-4, and Chicago split with Pittsburgh, winning 5-4 in 12 innings after losing 3-2.

Garcia, the league's earned run leader in '54, who lost his touch at season's start, needed help from Don Mossi and Ray Narleski after Mickey Mantle led off the ninth with a single. But the two relief aces wrapped it up in short order to protect the decision that ex-Yank Gene Woodling manufactured with a two-run homer in the fourth.

Bob Turley lost his 10th, giving three hits and striking out eight in his eight frames, but again going wild. He walked eight, five of them in the first three innings when he stranded seven runners, and gave Al Smith a free ride ahead of Woodling's shot.

Boston three times battled back to tie the White Sox before Jackie Jensen delivered a two-out double for two runs in the eighth. Ted Williams, passed intentionally by reliefer Millard Howell after Billy Goodman reached second on a single and error, scored all the way from first on the extra-base hit.

Minnie Minoso snapped his slump with two homers for the Chisox, but Chicago couldn't do a thing as Tom Hurd wrapped it up with 2 1-3 innings of one-hit relief.

Detroit remained in contention on rookie Frank Lary's two-hitter. He didn't give a hit in the last 6 2-3 innings, riding in on Fred Hatfield's homer and two RBIs by Frank House.

Gil Hodges and Don Zimmer each homered twice for the Brooks. Hodges' pair were good for six runs. His grand-slammer in the first inning was the 11th of his career, one short of the league mark. The Braves, who lost Joe Adcock for the season Sunday, will be without Ed Mathews for three or four days. He cut a finger in an accident at his home.

Harris Sees Wide Open Title Battle

Bucky Regards Campaign as a 5-Team Affair

Figures Tigers Could Win; Detroit Is Only 6½ Games Off Top

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bucky Harris said today he regards the American League pennant battle as "a wide-open, five-team" affair.

He included the 5th place Detroit Tigers.

"Anything can happen," Harris said. "We can win the pennant."

The veteran manager, in his 1st year of a new hitch with the Tigers, said he doesn't think there is one team that must be beaten, that there is no way of deciding logically on a favorite.

Going into today's games, the close American League campaign found the Chicago White Sox in 1st place, a game ahead of the New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians. Boston was 4th, three games out of 1st and the Tigers 5th, 6½ games behind the leading White Sox.

Was Harris surprised at being that close?

"Not a bit," Bucky replied, "as a matter of fact, watching the way we've lost some of these games, I think maybe we ought to be even closer."

Tigers were not even given an outside chance in the pre-season doping, but Harris has worked his collection of youngsters into a cohesive unit.

Pitching has not been Detroit's strong point, but the club's "big five" has a combined record of 46-31 with lefthander Billy Hoeft the big winner at 10-4.

Addition of veteran Joe Coleman may help. Appearing in relief, Coleman was the winning pitcher in Tuesday night's 13-10 victory over Washington, the club Harris managed last year.

In addition to Hoeft, the club's top five boast these records: Al Aber (5-1), Ned Garver (10-9), Frank Lary (11-11) and Steve Gromek (10-6).

Harrs conceded hs ptchers—he called them "a little green"—have a difficult assignment in facing the veteran ptchers for the other clubs in the closing weeks of the campaign.

WEDNESDAY'S STARS

PITCHING—Mike Garcia, Indians, gave just four hits, one a leadoff single in the ninth, before giving way to relief in 2-1 victory over Yankees. He walked but two, one intentionally, and struck out four.

HITTING—Gil Hodges, Dodgers belted two home runs for six RBIs, one a grand-slam clout that put him one shy of the league career record of 12 bases-loaded shots, in 9-6 decision over Braves.

Shotgunners to Test Skill in 3-Way State Tourney

Who is the best marksman with a shotgun—a trap shooter, a skeet shooter, or a field shooter?

Many of the state's better shots will attempt to answer that debatable question when the 1st annual Michigan Shotgun Championship Tournament is held Saturday and Sunday at 7387 Lapeer Road in Davison.

A tricky layout of 75 targets lies in wait for all competitors, who are figured to miss more frequently than they would in a normal trap or skeet tourney. Bird field, with its 60 concealed traps, is expected to determine the winner of this unique event.

Trophies and chevrons will be awarded to the top 10 high guns in Michigan. Similar awards will be presented to the best professional shot, best out-of-state marksman, women's titlist and junior champion.

Saturday's preliminaries begin at 1 p. m. Fields will be open for practice Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Championship firing starts Sunday at 8 a. m.

Katlin Winner of Two Events

Mickey Takes 4-Car Dash, Feature Race at Speedway

Mickey Katlin had just too much for his competitors in the Wednesday night racing program at Pontiac Speedway. The Mick won the 4-car dash and the feature. He was the fastest qualifier for the event.

Feature marked Katlin's 4th win of the season and his 2nd straight. Bill Dillard was semi-finals winner.

Joy Fair was back in action, but found the company so fast he had to be content with 3rd in qualifying, and 4th in feature, back of Katlin, Benny Howell, and Joe Doyle. He had been away from Pontiac Speedway since June.

Heat winners:

1st—B. aBtton; 2nd—L. Cockrell; 3rd—Howell; 4th—Chuck Ragats; 5th—B. Stillwell.

Quantico Marine Wins

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—Bob Benning of Quantico, Va., was open division champion of the first annual All-Marine Golf Tournament today.

Benning's 72-hole total of 292 Wednesday edged out Emory Lee of Cincinnati, Ohio, by two strokes.

Detroit Stays Within Striking Space of Top

Beats Senators 3-0 on Fine Pitching Job by Frank Lary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Since the Detroit Tigers persist in staying within apparent striking distance of the American League pennant contenders, maybe the time has come to examine the long, tough road ahead.

The Tigers beat Washington last night for the 14th time in 17 starts this season, leaving them only 6½ games behind the front running Chicago White Sox. Frank Lary, in one of his best performances, held the Senators to two hits in a 3-0 triumph.

The 6½ game gap is a little deceptive. Here's why:

Detroit has played 104 games, winning 57 and losing 47. It has 50 games to play. And 35 of these are with the four clubs ahead of the Tigers in the standings—Chicago, New York, Cleveland and Boston.

So far the Tigers have played those four clubs 53 times and have only a 23-30 mark against them. They are 6-7 against Chicago, 7-7 against the Yankees, 4-6 against Cleveland and 6-10 against Boston.

The plus side of the Tiger ledger all comes from two of the three also-rans — Washington and Baltimore. Even 6th-place Kansas City holds a 9-7 edge on Detroit so far. But the Tigers are on the long end of a 14-3 count with Washington and are 13-5 against Baltimore.

None of this means the Tigers couldn't win it all, providing the four clubs ahead of them keep obliging by whipping each other. Detroit has four games with New York and three with Cleveland coming up on the current road trip. And before the month ends the Tigers will face the White Sox seven times.

Last time Detroit was involved in such a tight race was 1940. At this stage that year Tigers and Indians were at the top of the heap and Tigers won the flag by one game over Cleveland.

Pitching has been a sore point for the Tigers but they couldn't ask for much better mound work than Lary turned in last night. Roy Sievers singled in the 2nd and Ed Fitz Gerald singled in the 3rd. Lary got the next 17 men in order before walking Ernie Oravetz in the 9th.

Tigers have another game here this afternoon before moving to New York tomorrow night.

Only One Breed of Cocker Dog, Magazine Says

According to a recent issue of a national magazine, there are not two separate breeds of cocker spaniels — one for bench shows and one for hunting. The breed is the same, but certain strains have been developed mainly for conformation, coat, and general beauty.

Others have been developed mainly for hunting purposes. In the latter type the utility capacities of the dog are considered more important as long as its appearance conforms generally to the accepted standard.

Reynolds' Widow Inherits $12 Million

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Richard S. Reynolds Sr., aluminum magnate who died last week, left an estate of $12,780,000 with his widow the sole beneficiary.

The probate of the will here yesterday disclosed that Mrs. Julia Parham Reynolds will receive a life trust consisting of cash, stocks and personal effects.

Upon her death, the estate will be divided equally among the Reynolds' four sons. Reynolds, 73, was chairman of the board of Reynolds Metals Co. Richard S. Reynolds Jr. is president of the firm and the other sons, Louis, W. G. and David P. Reynolds, hold vice presidencies.

Tragedies Stir AAA to Drop Racing Sanctions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two automobile racing tragedies this year were given as factors in the decision of the American Automobile Assn. to withdraw its sanction of auto racing in the United States after this year.

The AAA announced its decision Wednesday.

Indications came that the National Assn. of Stock Car Auto Racing may try to take the role AAA is leaving.

At Daytona Beach, Fla., Bill France, NASCAR president, said all AAA drivers and car owners are welcome to compete in NASCAR sanctioned events if they meet qualifications.

The Sports Car Club of America was mentioned as a possibility of taking over sponsorship of the annual Memorial Day race at Indianapolis.

The death of Bill Vukovich, popular racing figure, at the 500-mile Indianapolis race this year was one of the tragedies mentioned in the AAA decision. The other was that at Le Mans, France, where 79 persons were killed and 91 injured in a racing accident that spilled into spectators.

The AAA has nothing against automobile racing itself, AAA President Andrew J. Sordoni, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., said in announcing the decision.

He added that the AAA felt that racing, with emphasis on speed, contributed little to one of the main objectives of the AAA in promotion of street and highway safety.

The AAA has given its sanction to only about 10 per cent of the auto races in this country, officials said, but these were the major ones, including the Indianapolis Classic.

Anton Hulman Jr., owner of the Indianapolis Speedway, said the 40th annual 500-mile race will go on as scheduled next May 30.

He predicted that other major races will be continued also.

The AAA has put up no money for championships but has had a contest board since 1902. It also has set up a benevolent fund for the benefit of injured drivers.

Sordoni said the AAA's decision "is taken without prejudice to racing, when conducted under the highest possible safety standards."

At Kansas City, Lou E. Holland, president of the AAA from 1949-51, said he was disturbed over news the association was getting out of the racing business.

Holland, a member of the executive committee of the association for 10 years and at present a member of the AAA contest board, said he was certain an "organization will be formed that will follow the 53-year-old example of the AAA in conducting races that will provide both spectators and contestants with the utmost in safety precaution."

Holland said he was not present at the executive committee meeting when the action to disassociate the AAA with racing was taken.

Klaus Is the Spark

Veteran Observers Credit Peppery Star With Much of Bosox Rush Toward Top

BOSTON (AP)—As the upstart Boston Red Sox continue to roll along, scaring the daylights out of the White Sox, Yankees and Indians, there are various theories as to what makes them win.

A great deal of credit, of course, is given to Ted Williams, baseball's greatest hitter, and Mike Higgins, who is proving himself to be a sound manager and an astute handler of men.

It is surprising, however, how many veteran observers are convinced the real spark plug of the Red Sox is an unheralded, unwanted and undismayed Billy Klaus. This spirited little rookie shortstop, according to quite a few, actually has been more important to the Sox cause than even Mr. Slugger himself, Ted Williams.

"Klaus is the spark that ignited the club," said a writer who has been with the Red Sox from the start of the season. "Right now he's the most valuable player on the Red Sox. It's not a coincidence that we started our climb the day he took over the regular shortstop job in between games of a doubleheader with Kansas City. That was June 5.

"Since then the Red Sox won 40 out of 53 through games of Sunday July 31. Not only has Klaus played a magnificent game in the field but his hitting has been deadly. It seems every time you look up he's on base. He's always swinging—and almost never caught looking. He's a pesky batter who hits to all fields. I'll bet he hasn't been called out on strikes more than twice this season."

A veteran of eight years in the minor leagues, Klaus was discarded by both the Milwaukee Braves and New York Giants. It was Higgins who endorsed his purchase from Minneapolis last winter.

"I've seen Klaus play three years in the American Assn. and I know he can help the Red Sox," Mike recommended.

MANAGER, SPARK — Boston Red Sox manager Mike (Pinkey) Higgins sits on steps of Fenway Park dugout with shortstop Billy Klaus, left, who is considered by most observers as the spark plug behind the team's current drive which propelled them from 7th place two months ago to a few games behind the league-leader.

Em Tunnel, defensive backfield star for the football Giants, has played in every Pro-Bowl game since the classic was started eight years ago.

Sam Snead's Golf Clinic

Get rhythm for the "pay off".

It takes a lot of mental discipline to think of golf as a game of accuracy and placement rather than of power. Most players could bring the clubhead back from this position to the ball accurately, because it is just about right — that is horizontal. Stop your backswing at horizontal.

The fun in golf comes from turning in low scores in your class and watching yourself whittle away that handicap. School yourself to think of this game of golf as one of rhythm, and forget it as a powerhouse proposition.

Then a fact that will creep up on you slowly but surely, is that as you increase your rhythm you will gather more yardage, and straight yardage. And you can depend on 220 or 230 yards down the fairway — and that's plenty. Do this and the boys will pay you at the nineteenth.

All-Star Tilt Tests Browns' Quarterback Needs

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Next week in Chicago against the College All-Stars, the Cleveland Browns, champions of pro football, begin finding out how well they can get along without Otto Graham.

For two weeks the Browns have been at work here without the T-quarterback whose passes keyed the club's offensive successes for nine seasons. During those two weeks the feeling has grown that Otto will be back, forsaking the retirement he announced last winter.

Graham will be 34 on Dec. 6, but he has no physical disabilities from his long gridiron career, and his performance last season was one of his greatest. He also commands one of pro football's biggest salaries, reportedly around $22,000.

Otto says he won't come back unless the Browns need him. The need could develop long in advance of the first National Football League game, because Coach Paul Brown has only two quarterbacks on his present 43-man squad—George Ratterman and rookie Bobby Freeman.

Ratterman, who quarterbacked the College All-Stars to a 16-0 victory over the Chicago Bears in 1947 and set up both touchdowns with his passes, is the heir-apparent to Graham's job.

Ratterman hasn't been overly impressive in camp, but Brown says: "George is a slow starter. We know what he can do." had only a limited opportunity to

As a matter of fact, George has show what he can do since he joined the Browns. Now in his fourth season with the club and his ninth in pro football, Ratterman's start in the All-Star game next week from tomorrow will be only his second as a Brownie. He got the call in place of Graham two years ago against the New York Giants in a game Cleveland won 62-14.

Freeman, his brilliant college record notwithstanding, is unlikely to see much action this season. Past experience shows it takes several years to develop even the most talented rookie into a pro quarterback.

There is the further possibility that Freeman might be legally barred from continuing practice or play with the Browns. A Federal Court hearing opens here today on a petition by the Winnipeg Blue Bombers to enjoin Freeman and his Auburn teammate, center Jack Locklear, from playing with Cleveland on grounds they had previously contracted to play in the Canadian Football League.

Locklear left camp a week ago for his home at Fort Payne, Ala., to consult his family doctor. He said he experienced breathing difficulties and headaches during the first week of practice.

Leggett Moved to Defense Job

Lambeau Doesn't Want Waste Talent of OSU Quarterback

CHICAGO (AP) — Dave Leggett, quarterback of Ohio State's national college football champions, has been slated for the defensive platoon Aug. 12 when the College All-Stars meet the pro champion Cleveland Browns.

All-Star Coach Curly Lambeau after Wednesday's practice said he believed Leggett was "too good on defense" not to be used in that capacity.

George Ratterman is slated to quarterback the Browns.

A sweepstakes for the No. 1 offensive quarterbacking job of the All-Stars has developed between Ralph Guglielmi and Tom Carey of Notre Dame, George Shaw of Oregon and Paul Larson of California, with Shaw appearing to have the edge.

Area Resident Finds 18 Baby Rattlesnakes

Rives, who lives at 5640 Maybee Road, found the eggs under a rotted post near his barn while searching for crickets. All of the soft eggs were broken and five of the tiny rattlers had emerged. Rives destroyed one of the venomous reptiles while transferring the eggs to a bucket. Heads of the snakes were protruding from nearly every egg.

Rives was advised to destroy the snakes since they are dangerous even as tiny babies.

Grand Rapids Man Wins Senior Title

DETROIT (AP) — Carl Herrud, Grand Rapids sausage maker, captured the 1955 Michigan Seniors Golf tournament yesterday and came near setting a new scoring record for the event.

Herrud linked rounds of 75 and 69 over the two courses at the Detroit Golf Club for a five-over-par 144 in the tournament for golfers aged 50 and over. Only the 142 fired by the late Chris Brinke in the 1952 competition bettered Herrud's performance.

Runnerup among the 268 entrants was Harvey Oldson of Lochmoor with 146.

Washington State and Kansas will play football for the 1st time this season. They meet on Sept. 24 in Kansas.

Ohio Pacer Victor in Northville Race

Sam's Song, owned by W. B. Williams of Fairfield, Ohio, won the feature pace at Northville downs last night in 2:03 3/5. The favored Liz finished 4th behind King's Knight and Billy Norris.

Hennessey Hangover won the feature trot in 2:07 3/5. Sir Dixon Spencer was 2nd and Bluemound 3rd.

Bingo Ist Verboten

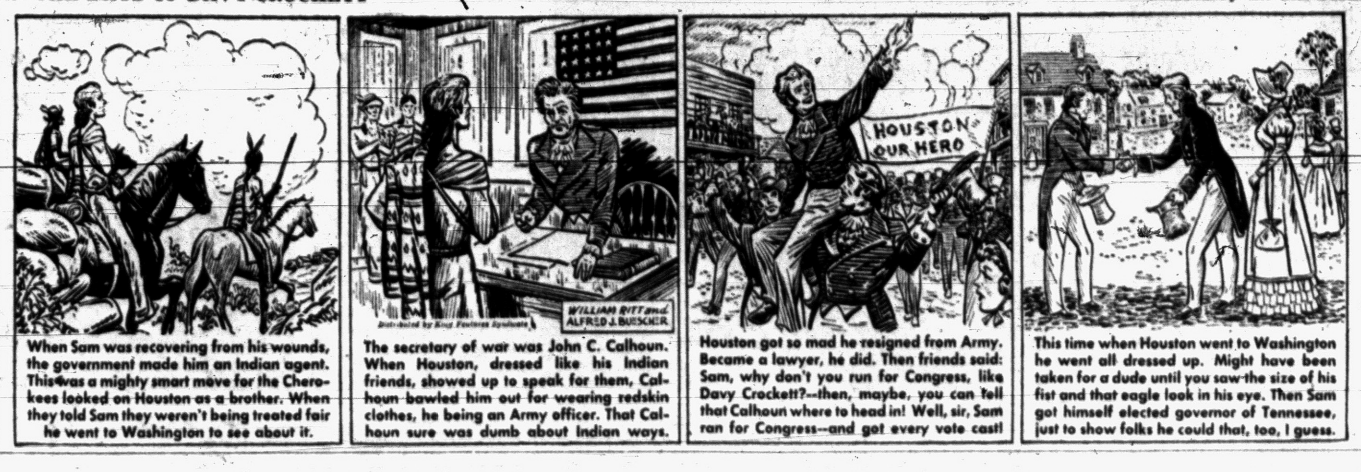

ALLEGAN (AP) — Officials of the Allegan County Fair emphasized there will be no bingo at the 1955 fair, scheduled Sept. 11-17. The announcement followed a joint statement from Prosecutor Dwight M. Cheever and Sheriff Walter Runkel which warned warrants would be served on anyone operating a bingo game in the county.

Hotelman Dies

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—William R. Duffy, veteran of more than 30 years in Michigan hotel business, died today at the Pantland Hotel where he had lived since his retirement in 1939. Duffy, a native of Niles, was 88 and formerly had been associated with the hotel industry in Jackson and Grand Rapids.

IN THE DAYS OF DAVY CROCKETT

Told by an Old Scout

When Sam was recovering from his wounds, the government made him an Indian agent. This was a mighty smart move for the Cherokees looked on Houston as a brother. When they told Sam they weren't being treated fair he went to Washington to see about it.

The secretary of war was John C. Calhoun. When Houston, dressed like his Indian friends, showed up to speak for them, Calhoun bawled him out for wearing redskin clothes, he being an Army officer. That Calhoun sure was dumb about Indian ways.

Houston got so mad he resigned from Army. Became a lawyer, he did. Then friends said: Sam, why don't you run for Congress, like Davy Crockett?--then, maybe, you can tell that Calhoun where to head in! Well, sir, Sam ran for Congress--and got every vote cast!

This time when Houston went to Washington he went all dressed up. Might have been taken for a dude until you saw the size of his fist and that eagle look in his eye. Then Sam got himself elected governor of Tennessee, just to show folks he could that, too, I guess.

Nothing GOES like a Chevrolet V8!

NOTHING
(not even the high-priced cars)
HAS GOT SO MUCH TO GO WITH!

The most up-to-date V8

Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire" — that's the quick way to say "the most modern, and the goingest, V8 on the road"! So advanced in design and so efficient in operation that it needs only 4 quarts of oil instead of the usual 5. Shortest stroke of any V8 in the industry. Delivers more horsepower per pound than any engine in Chevrolet's field. Take your choice of the 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire" or the 180-h.p. "Super Turbo-Fire," optional at extra cost.

Two Sizzling 6's

If you go for 6's, Chevrolet offers two that will really go for you! They're the most powerful 6's in Chevrolet's field — with all the advantages of Chevrolet's long leadership in valve-in-head engine design. And like the V8's, they give you the extra punch, performance and reserve power of the only 12-volt electrical system in Chevrolet's field.

Powerglide, Overdrive or Synchro-Mesh

Chevrolet gives you the drive to suit your driving. A new and finer Synchro-Mesh transmission, or, as extra-cost options, oil-smooth Powerglide automatic transmission or Touch-Down Overdrive. It all adds up to nine engine-drive combinations available on all models —the greatest choice going!

New engineering advances on steering, springing, suspension

Special ball bearings in the steering gear roll with the turn of the wheel to reduce friction. Special spherical joints in the Glide-Ride front suspension roll the bumps smooth. Outrigger rear springs straighten the curves. This new Chevrolet rides, handles and corners like no Chevrolet ever did before!

CHEVROLET

It's the new winner in stock car competition . . .
and it's winning new, young-minded friends faster than you can say America's hottest V8.
Because of its liveliness, its looks, and because it holds the road like it loves it—which it does.
Come try it, won't you, if only for the fun of it!

U.S. Books Fill Russian Libraries

Depend on American Papers for Agriculture Know-How

KRASNODAR, U. S. S. R. (AP) — Translations of books and papers written by Americans now take up virtually all the space in Russian collective farm and experiment station libraries being visited by American farmers.

According to observations of the U. S. farmer delegation touring the Soviet Union, the Russians' vast drive to develop a corn-hog culture on the Iowa pattern leans heavily on American know how.

One of the most popular American texts is "Corn and Corn Breeding," written by Henry Wallace and Dr. Earl Bressman. The first Soviet printing of 3,000 copes was snatched up in three days and a second printing of 30,000 is expected shortly.

The American delegation recently split into two groups to visit sugar beet farms and corn lands in the Kuban area of the Caucasus.

Soviet Agriculture, the Ministry of Agriculture's newspaper, reported the visiting American farmers are intensely interested in comparing the living standards of American farmers and Soviet collective peasants.

Soviet Agriculture quoted Ralph Olsen, Ellsworth, Iowa, farmer, as saying:

"As for my opinion, I can say the following — I've noticed the children of the Soviet people can laugh happily and the women here are pretty.

Five County Confab to Discuss Problems

A five county meeting to discuss water and road problems in the Detroit Metropolitan is set for today.

The counties which will coordinate their efforts are Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw and Monroe.

Edward Connor, chairman of the Inter-County Committee, said:

"We have got to work as a team to solve the pesky shortage of water in our area."

He added that the road situation is "vexing" and will receive the fullest attention of the committee.

Two experts on the present water condition will explore the problems for the committee. They are Laurence G. Lenhardt, general manager of the Detriot Water System and Albert T. Kunze, Wayne County Sanitary Engineer.

Harley Shafer Taken by Death

Veteran Postal Employe Dies Here Yesterday After Long Illness

Harley C. Shafer, 73, a native of Pontiac and a Pontiac postal employe for many years, died Wednesday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He had been in ill health for two years.

Born here March 20, 1882 he was the son of Charles A. and Jessie Adams Shafer. He married Jessie Baker in Birmingham Oct. 21, 1908 and was a member of the Baptist Church.

Mr. Shafer entered the postal service here in 1910 and carried mail on North Saginaw street for 18 years. In 1928 he transferred from carrying mail to inside as foreman of carriers. He retired Jan. 1, 1944.

He was an active member and president for many years of the Metropolitan Club, past president of the Marine Corps League, commander of Veterans of Spanish American War, life member of Lodge 21 F&AM and Knights Templar.

Mr. Shafer served in the U. S. Army in Panama from 1898 to 1903. Enlisting in the U. S. Marine Corps in October 1903 he served until 1907. His foreign service included Panama and Cuba.

Besides his widow he is survived by two daughters and three sons, Mrs. Esther Schebel of Reseda, Calif., Gerald of Davisburg, Mrs. Marion Moore of Union Lake, Chester N. and Volney C. of Pontiac.

Funeral will be at 3 p.m. Saturday from Donelson-Johns Funeral Home. The Rev. John T. Bell of Davisburg Community Church will officiate and burial will follow in Oak Hill Cemetery in charge of Spanish American Veterans.

News in Brief

Floyd Foster, 38, of 20 S. Sanderson St., paid a $100 fine and $10 costs yesterday after pleading guilty to reckless driving before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback.

Pontiac Police received a report yesterday from Frank Dunkel, 4401 Sedum Glenn, Drayton Plains, that two wheel discs were removed from his car sometime between Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning.

A bicycle belonging to the son of Mrs. Joseph Spadafore of 345 W. Iroquois Rd., was reported stolen early Monday morning according to Pontiac Police. Value of the bicycle was placed at $98.

After pleading guilty to reckless driving, Donald Glaspie, 23, of Birchcraft, paid a $50 fine and $10 costs. He appeared before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy.

Selling Flurry Strikes Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market absorbed the shock of new credit restrictions today with an orderly retreat.

The Federal Reserve yesterday announced higher interest rates on money it lends to its member banks as a blow at more inflation. At the same time, New York commercial banks boosted their charges for top-rated loans to business.

The Stock Market weathered a selling flurry at the start today with price concessions of 1 to around 5 points, but the pressure never got beyond normal bounds. The rush of selling orders easily was reported on the tape without resorting to any of the customary speed-up devices when trading expands inordinately.

All divisions of the list were lower, mostly by fractions to between 1 and 2 points, and after the initial drop, a few leading issues staged a recovery from their lows.

The new boost in interest rates, which puts them at the highest levels in more than two decades, were announced after the close of the Stock Market yesterday. The market had finished a shade higher with early gains cut by late selling.

TOP LEVEL JOB — The level headedness of a customer is measured by barber W. R. Tanner of Decatur, Ga. He uses a carpenter's square to give "flat top" haircuts, which call for perfectly even, flat hafr plane. Here, Tanner does his "level" best to give patrolman Jim Helms a top as flat as his cop's feet.

Deals Slacken From Fast Pace

CHICAGO (AP)—The advance in corn and soybeans ran into resistance on the board of trade today. Prices tilted lower despite the fact the hot, dry weather continued unabated.

There was some profit-taking in these cereals after their sharp upturn over the past several days. In addition, widely scattered showers were forecast for much of the Midwest. Finally, a private crop forecast indicated no serious damage to these crops as yet from the weather.

The rest of the market also tended lower, largely in sympathy with corn and soybeans. Dealings slackened from the quite fast pace of the past several days.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to 1½ lower; September $1.98½; corn 1½ to 1¾ lower, September $1.38; oats ⅞ to 1⅛ lower, September 61¼; rye ⅝ to 1 cent lower, September $1.01¼; soybeans ½ to 1¾ lower, September $2.30½ and lard 3 to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $10.57.

GMAC Registers Data With Securities Agency

NEW YORK — General Motors Acceptance Corporation is filing today with the Securities and Exchange Commission a registration statement covering $200 million of twenty-year debentures due 1975, according to Charles G. Stradella, president.

The proceeds will provide additional working capital to help finance its increased volume of business. It is expected that the public offering will be made on August 17, 1955 by a nationwide group of underwriters headed by Morgan Stanley and Co.

Pontiac Deaths

James G. Brady

Word has been received of the death in Florida of James G. Brady, a former Pontiac resident. His death occurred yesterday at his home in New Port Richey after a long illness. He was 72.

Mr. Brady came to Pontiac with his family in 1927 and was employed at Pontiac Motor Divison. He retired and went to Florida to make his home in 1943.

He is survived by his widow, Annie E., and three daughters, Mrs. Marion Mott, of New Port Richey; Mrs. Margaret Miller, of Pontiac; and Mrs. Thelma Fleming, of Williams Lake.

Burial will be at New Port Richey.

Mrs. Mark R. Fisher Jr.

Service for Mrs. Mark R. (Amy P.) Fisher Jr. 28, of 755 Coolidge Rd., will be held at 11 a.m. at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mrs. Fisher died Tuesday at the University Hospital at Ann Arbor after a brief illness.

She moved to Pontiac with her parents when she was a small child, graduated from Pontiac High School and in nursing from Highland Park General Hospital. More recently she had served at Pontiac General Hospital.

She married Mr. Fisher here Aug. 14, 1948.

Survivors besides her husband include one daughter, Janice M., at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton E. Sellers of Pleasant Ridge; three brothers, John B. Sellers of Dunkirk, N. Y.; Robert H. of Ann Arbor; Richard S. of Pleasant Ridge; and two sisters, Mrs. John Ellsworth of Royal Oak and Mrs. Orrin De Laud of Ypsilanti.

Murder Seldom Hits Front Page in Boiling Egypt

CAIRO (AP) — Murder in Egypt rarely hits the front pages. Life seems cheap in this country where tempers match the heat of the sun and Arabian Nights traditions flourish a step outside cosmopolitan Cairo.

A classic story is the stabbing of a waiter by a customer because there was a fly in his dish of black beans. One headline read, "Man killed, 10 injured in Cafe Clash over Piastre (3 cents)."

This kind of unpremeditated mayhem is usually the result of bazaar arguments with the mercury hovering around 100.

Next come the "honor" crimes, an old custom. In pre-Islamic times some desert Arabs buried their baby daughters alive lest they grow up and bring shame and dishonor to the household. Islam prohibited this practice but today in some Egyptian villages it takes very little to slit the throat of a girl. Sometimes a mere whiff of scandal leads to a killing.

Another big source of crime is vendettas which flourish in upper Egypt. Some vendettas date back a hundred years. Often the original reason for them is forgotten.

West German Tradesmen to See U.S. Industries

They will visit New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Chicago. Their trip was organized by the International Cooperation Administration.

Mason County Tag Day

LUDINGTON (AP)—The Women's Auxiliary of Paulina Stearns Hospital has set Aug. 5 as annual hospital tag day throughout Mason County. This is a adrive for voluntary contribution to the hospital.

Most Offerings to Be Revues

Poor Production, Lack of Imagination Hurting Frankie Laine

BY JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK, (INS)—The Milton Berle show hasn't signed a writer yet. Most of its next-season shows will be revues; in other words—the Old Uncle Miltie . . . too bad his Wed. night Godfrey substitution is getting such ordinary production and lack of imagination, because Frankie Laine sings up a solid storm once he gets away from that dull backstage TV rut.

British TV announced it would utilize none of the dullness of American TV once it goes commercial, then signed up to use U.S. TV's "People Are Funny," which isn't very . . . "Captain's Paradise" will be on channel 9's Million Dollar Theatre next fall.

Ella Fitzgerald, the free-style songstress champ (she can sing just about any style better than the best-in-class) has been neglected on TV too long but is making up for it. Ella was on "Music '55" and will be on Julius La Rosa's show Saturday night and the Matt Dennis show Aug. 16.

Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey's mom said her favorite musician is Liberace and Jimmy and Tommy no like . . . the first word of Broadway's "Damn Yankees" has been banned on several Boston stations. Beantown Deejays are calling it "Doggone Yankees," "Dang Yankees" and other tidy variations . . . Lois Hunt of the Robert Q. Lewis casts, whose son Jeffrey Marcus Hunt was born July 11, returns Aug. 15.

MONITOR "LETTERS"

Margaret Truman will tape "letters" from Europe starting next week to be heard on NBC-radio's weekend mishmash "Monitor." Alan Dinehart Jr., director of "Pantomime Quiz," is the son of the late and very good character actor of stage-films . . . several Notre Dame grid games this fall (Navy and Iowa) will be theatre-telecasts.

Pres. Frank M. Freimann of Magnavox gave a stentorian call for afternoon color programming so that possible purchasers of tinted-TV sets might have a chance to see the rainbows during selling hours, and now NBC has dashed to the rescue with a vast assortment of daytime rainbows.

"Home" will have a series of daily quarter-hour color; all New York world series games will be in color if the local teams manage to finish in front, which seems a cinch for Brooklyn at least, so that event is a virtual certainty for daytinting; four fall collegiate football games will be colorcast by NBC; the Davis Cup matches will show tinted tennis Aug. 27 and 28 2 to 5 p.m.

Howdy Doody will have its inanities in color daily starting Sept. 12; the new daytime "Matinee," NBC-TV's afternoon hour-long dramas starting Oct. 3 will be in color from Hollywood.

"Wide Wide World" is a "probable" Sunday afternoon color series and mobile units will pour into Dave Garroway's "Today" Mother Nature's hues with occasional, and possibly frequent, morning tinction (tinction with distinction, might even say). Needless to add, Magnavox has hopped into the color-TV set manufacturing sweepstakes with both chromatic feet.

Indian Envoy Advocates More Big Power Parleys

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—V. K. Krishna Menon said today the ambassadors of the United States and Communist China "have made a good start at Geneva . . . Let them keep on talking."

Menon, roving envoy for Indian Prime Minister Nehru, arrived here from Geneva, London and Washington. He exchanged warm greetings at the airport with U.S. Ambassador John Sherman Cooper.

Man Killed in Mishap

IONIA (AP)—Ernest Winans, 48, of nearby Muir, was killed early today when a car struck a tree along M66, a mile and a half north of Ionia. Loyal Rounds, 29, also of Muir, was identified as the driver of the car. He was injured seriously.

HEIRESS — Actress Ann Sheridan is the sole beneficiary of $218,399 in insurance policies left by her close friend, Press Agent Steve Hannagan, when he died in 1953. The amount was announced after a recent inventory of his estate, valued at over a million dollars.

East Jordan A'Building

EAST JORDAN (AP)—Eleven commercial construction projects, under way or planned for the East Jordan area, have a total value of nearly $1,000,000. The biggest project is construction of $400,000 East Jordan elementary school.

Pioneer to Attend

BONN, Germany (AP)—Prof. Otto Hahn, first man to split the atom, will head the West German delegation to the Geneva atoms-for-peace conference opening Monday.

Bungling Burglar Back Behind Bars

DETROIT (AP) — Thomas J. Tiggett did everything wrong.

Police said he bungled a lumber yard burglary so badly they were able to nab him.

Taken to a police station, Tiggett sat down right under a "Wanted" circular. It stated Thomas J. Tiggett was wanted as an escapee from Southern Michigan Prison. He was ordered returned there.
