'Roved Space in a Saucer'

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—An Indian chief in full regalia told yesterday how a spaceship took him on a four-year flight to the edge of the galaxy.

Frank B. Standing Horse of Perris, Calif., told the Amalgamated Flying Saucer Clubs of America convention he touched the moon, Mars, Clarion, and Venus, but spent most of his time in Orion, which he described as a planet on the outer edge of our galaxy and which was inhabited by a super-modernistic society.

He said his journey began July 12, 1859, near Sapulpa, Okla., at a spot where he was clearing an area for a church camp. Standing Horse, who claims he saw his first flying saucer in 1949 and had sighted 14 unidentified flying objects since, said a spacecraft 250 feet in diameter and 28 feet high landed during the night.

He said he talked with the crew of three men, who "looked like anyone else," and decided to go away with them "because it was a new experience for me."

★ ★ ★

Once aboard, he said, he met a beautiful lady 6 feet 4 inches tall with long black hair and blue eyes.

NOT MUCH FUN

She fed him and tucked him into bed after giving him a Orion-style kiss—three finger taps on the cheek "which was no fun."

They landed on Mars at a building "made of rock from our moon." After eating earth-style food, they flew to the moon where he saw "people, buildings, animals, snow and ice."

Still-to-Come Ruling Spurs Ballot Jitters

Oakland County election officials are nervously awaiting a circuit court ruling that could give them any number of headaches before, and possibly after, the Aug. 2 primary.

The pending opinion revolves around suits brought by two area attorneys who have questioned the constitutionality of a legislative act that canceled the election this year of justices of the peace.

Petition Law Is Challenged

Area Man Wants to Get on Senate Ballot

LANSING (AP)—A Birmingham lawyer who would like to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator has turned to the Michigan Supreme Court and Court of Appeals for help.

Lawyer James Elsman is challenging the constitutionality of the state law which requires a candidate to collect nominating petition signatures equivalent to one per cent of the vote cast for his party's candidate for secretary of state in the last election.

The law, he says, denies him the right to be considered as a candidate.

He is joined in the suit by Mrs. Marilyn Roelofs of Royal Oak, a citizen who claims the law denies her any reasonable hope of voting for a candidate

At the same time, the legislature extended the terms of office of some justices until Jan. 1, 1968.

The lawyers, Barry A. Kushner and Richard B. Kramer, had filed petitions as candidates for justice of the peace in Bloomfield and West Bloomfield Townships, respectively, before the measure was approved.

They claim they have been deprived of their rights to be candidates.

★ ★ ★

The legislature approved the measure June 9, five days before the filing deadline, as a means of providing a more orderly departure of justices when the position is abolished on a statewide basis Jan. 1, 1968.

CASES SIMILAR

While the cases are similar, different questions are posed and a ruling favoring one or the other, or both, can easily upset preelection procedures.

One of the first problems facing election officials is the matter of timing.

Since all arguments in the case haven't been heard, Judge James S. Thorburn isn't expected to make a decision until July 18, five days after absentee ballots have to be distributed to city and township clerks, and only five days before machine ballots have to be ready under state law.

★ ★ ★

Printers already had been told by election officials to delay preparing the machine ballots for Bloomfield and West Bloomfield Townships until after the court ruling is rendered.

ORDER BALLOTS

Yesterday, election commissioners decided that the state law can't be ignored and ordered the printing of the absentee ballots for the two townships, risking the consequences of the ruling.

One of the commissioners, County Clerk John D. Murphy, explained that if the court rules in favor of the attorneys, it's possible that the absentee ballots in the two townships could be invalid, and later questioned in court, because the names of the justice candidates did not appear.

There may be time, he said, to revise the machine ballots for the two townships, but a ruling favoring the two attorneys may have a countywide effect.

Regulations Altered

Board Acts to Ease Air Crisis

LOTS OF QUIET—Chicago's O'Hare International Airport, the nation's busiest terminal, is desolate and quiet today as a result of a strike against five of the country's biggest airlines. This aerial view shows a couple of lone planes (right) but the majority of the passenger loading sections stand quiet.

U.S. Terminals Congested by Employe Strike

Unaffected Carriers Are Allowed to Make Flight Plan Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board acted today to relieve air traffic congestion over the nation built up by a strike against five major airlines.

The board approved a series of measures to increase service at air terminals where passengers have been held up by the strike of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists.

The relaxation of regulations affecting both scheduled and nonscheduled airlines was announced by the board as negotiations were resumed in the day-old strike that has snarled travel in 231 cities.

The strike was called yesterday against Eastern, National, Trans World, United and Northwest Airlines.

★ ★ ★

The orders issued by the board will:

- Give authority to other certificated airlines to provide unrestricted service between points on their own route systems where 25 per cent of the number of flights were provided by the struck carriers as of July 1.
- Permit the 13 nonscheduled air carriers to charter their equipment to the certificated lines, both trunk and local service, for traffic these carriers otherwise would be unable to handle.
- Authorize nonscheduled and certified carriers to agree to arrangements under which the supplementals could carry passengers who hold tickets from the regularly scheduled airlines. The supplemental carriers may not normally sell individual services.

★ ★ ★

- Authorize the supplemental air carriers to carry individually waybilled cargo on their military and commercial charter flights.
- Authorize the carriers to hold discussions, looking toward the leasing of equipment and the rationing of route services in order to provide transportation in markets with the greatest need.

Cong Force Swallows Bait, Hit by Yanks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. armored column lured a heavy Viet Cong force into the fire of waiting artillery, alerted warplanes and battalions of helicopter-borne 1st Infantry Division troops north of Saigon today.

It was the second execution of such reverse ambush tactics in 10 days.

Contact was broken just before dark. Field reports said it was believed the enemy—a force of at least regimental size estimated at more than 2,000 men—was withdrawing to the northwest.

That would be in the direction of the Cambodian frontier.

A spokesman at a forward command post reported American units were setting up a blocking force behind the Viet Cong in an effort to cut off their escape routes.

There was no immediate report of casualties on either side.

Coupled with the sudden flareup in fighting after a 10-day lull, the U.S. Command reported renewed aerial pounding of five oil installations in North Viet Nam.

A U.S. spokesman said a Viet Cong force of at least regimental size hit an armored column of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division which had been put out as bait along a secondary road near the Cambodian border.

By prearranged plan, the spokesman said, U.S. forces immediately flew in several battalions of reinforcements by helicopter and hit the enemy force with pre-planned air attacks and artillery barrages.

Troy Mother Visits Son Abandoned in '65 ... Finds He's Happy

RICKY THORNE

TROY (AP) — "He smiles a lot . . . so I know he's happy," said Mrs. Maynie Thorne.

The subject was her son, Richard Bruce (Ricky) Thorne, whom she abandoned at Miami International Airport last Sept. 21 because "I was at the end of my rope."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Thorne's legacy to Ricky was three cents and a sandwich. For three days authorities tried to identify the boy, a 13-year-old who appeared perfectly normal except for one thing . . . he did not talk

PICTURE IN PAPERS

Pictures of Ricky appeared in newspapers all over the country. His father, Victor, 48, spotted one while in Chicago on a business trip with his wife. He is an executive of a small tool and die company. The family lives at 2435 Dalesford.

Thorne told his 44-year-old wife to go to Miami and make a clean breast of things. She did. A court order placed Ricky in a Miami clinic for mentally retarded and emotionally disturbed children. She was forbidden to see him until this summer.

★ ★ ★

Charges of child abandonment against Mrs. Thorne were dropped when she and her husband agreed to the court order and Mrs. Thorne consented to seek psychiatric help in Michigan.

She tried her hand at selling real estate and waited.

Last week, Mrs. Thorne went to Florida and spent two nights and three days with Ricky.

★ ★ ★

"He gave me a kiss when I picked him up," Mrs. Thorne said. "He seemed embarrassed. But the doctor said that was normal for teen-agers. It's hard to believe he's 14 years old.

"We went to Fort Lauderdale. It was a nice motel. Ricky loves the water. He came in with me but he wouldn't go in on his own. His feet got sunburned. I felt sorry for him."

PSYCHIATRISTS OPTIMISTIC

Psychiatrists at the clinic were optimistic, she said.

"He still hasn't talked but they're sure he can," Mrs. Thorne said.

★ ★ ★

Tanned and wearing a print dress, Mrs. Thorne looked relaxed in the kitchen of her comfortable ranch home in Troy.

"There's a full-time speech therapist working with him," she said. "The doctors refuse to classify him as emotionally disturbed or mentally retarded.

"He's the pet of the clinic and the school. They say there is much more to Ricky than meets the eye."

★ ★ ★

"It's a matter of work . . . setting up the climate . . . to make a breakthrough," she said.

Although doctors declined to go into details of Ricky's case with his mother, Mrs. Thorne said they are not entirely convinced that Ricky suffered from encephalitis—as she had always believed— when he was 18 months old. The disease often causes brain damage because of high fever.

"They won't tell me what they think caused Ricky's condition," Mrs. Thorne said. "They took X-rays, but I don't know what the results were."

SURE OF DECISION

Mrs. Thorne appeared disturbed that doctors would not confide in her or say definitely if and when Ricky could come home. But she is confident that her decision to fly to Miami and abandon Ricky last fall was the right thing to do.

Her efforts to seek help for Ricky in Michigan were stymied because of overcrowded mental hospitals and a fear of leaving her son on his own.

★ ★ ★

"If someone had told me then I would have abandoned my son at an airport I would have said they were crazy," she said.

"But I couldn't give Ricky what he's got down there. At home he would sit and become more and more withdrawn. We would play tag and hide-go-seek. But that was all I could offer him.

★ ★ ★

"Now he's in a room with three boys his own age. He has buddies. He had none here."

Prison 'Tightens Up' After Riot

Sentence Klansmen for Rights Violation

ATHENS, Ga., (AP) — U.S. District Judge William A. Bootle sentenced two Ku Klux Klansmen today to 10 years in prison on conviction of conspiring to violate Negro rights.

It was the maximum imprisonment he could have imposed on the pair — Joseph Howard Sims, 41, and Cecil W. Myers, 26, who were convicted last night. Four fellow klansmen were acquitted of the same charges.

They could have been fined $5,000 each in addition.

Their attorney, James Hudson of Athens, said they would appeal and he volunteered to represent them as court-appointed counsel.

$35,000 BOND

Bootle set bond at $35,000 each.

The government had charged all defendants with forming "a broad conspiracy" to "injure, oppress, threaten and intimidate" Negroes including Washington educator Lemuel A. Penn who was shot to death in 1964.

A codefendant, Herbert Guest, was sentenced to two years in prison on four counts of selling "pep" pills without a license. He pleaded guilty to that charge before the trial began.

Sims, a stocky, 41-year-old machinist, and Myers, 26, a bespectacled crew-cut carpenter, were identified to the FBI by another klansman as the men who fired shotguns into the Penn car on a dark and foggy road near Athens early July 11, 1964.

They were convicted in the first of two back-to-back trails but their verdict had been sealed in an envelope since last Saturday.

The all-white jury that convicted Sims and Myers returned a verdict of innocent for George H. Turner, 33 an employe in the maintenance department of an Athens poultry company.

The 12 white men who tried the second case deliberated about 9½ hours yesterday before acquitting Guest, 39, a garage operator; James S. Lackey, 30, former manger of an Athens service station; and Denver Willis Phillips, 26, a mechanic.

18 Injured in Alps as Cable Cars Fall

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — Eighteen persons were injured, three critically, today when three gondolas of an aerial cableway plunged 30 yards onto a glacier in the Alps.

Police said 13 of the injured were in the gondolas that fell and 4 others were in a gondola that was tossed about in the air but did not fall. The other injured person was a skier struck by a falling cable.

★ ★ ★

A hospital spokesman said eight of the injured were West Germans. Five were members of a single French family, and the other five were Italians.

Officials said 65 other persons were stranded in gondolas swinging over the snowy sides of Mont Blanc, Europe's highest peak.

Sewer Service Is on Agenda

Waterford to Weigh Contract With Pontiac

The Waterford Township Board Monday is scheduled to consider a proposed contract with Pontiac for extension of city sewer services to an area in the township.

★ ★ ★

Under the agreement, sewer facilities would be extended to the new Cherokee Hills Elementary School and neighboring property.

Last Tuesday, the City Commission approved final details of the proposed 20-year agreement.

Provisions call for township residents to pay a double sewer connection charge—$300 against $150 charged city residents. Quarterly service rates also would be double to township users.

★ ★ ★

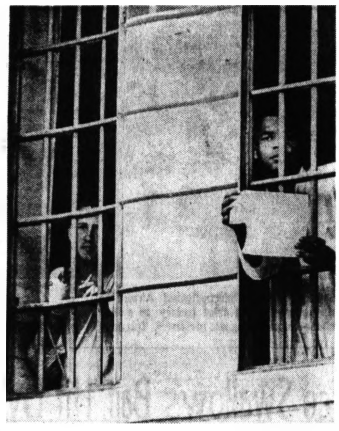

In other business, the board will consider whether to collaborate with the school district in the purchase of three pedestrian overpasses.

UNABLE TO AGREE

Until recently, the township and school district had considered splitting the costs for erecting one overpass, but were unable to agree on a definite location.

The three overpasses would be located on Pontiac Lake Road, Scott Lake Road and Williams Lake Road.

Benefitting schoolchildren would be from Leggett, Cherokee Hills and Schoolcraft schools

SILENT PROTEST—A prisoner at the Maryland Penitentiary displays a ripped sign saying "Less Brutality" after a destructive riot by 1,000 inmates yesterday. Prisoners set fire to prison shops, threw rocks and looted the commissary. Authorities used tear gas to stop the disturbance which resulted in an estimated $200,000 damage.

$200,000 Damage at Maryland Institution

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)— Extraordinary tight security regulations are in effect at the Maryland Penitentiary following a riot by inmates that caused damages estimated by authorities at $200,000.

About 1,000 of the 1,461 prisoners roamed through the yards of the 154-year-old institution for two hours, setting fire to buildings, throwing rocks and looting the commissary.

★ ★ ★

Authorities fired tear gas to help quell the disturbance and fire hoses were used to keep rampaging inmates out of the power house. But not a shot was fired by the expanded guard force or scores of Baltimore city policemen. No serious injuries were reported.

To prevent a recurrence, Warden Roger B. Copinger Jr. said the prisoners would be allowed from their cells today in only small, controlable groups.

GRIEVANCE SESSION

Copinger and other prison officials, including three chaplains, talked with the prisoners in the yard during the riot and the warden promised a grievance session which was held Friday night.

At the three-hour meeting, 19 inmates complained of such things as food, low pay, the commissary, the hospital alleged favortism in assigning inmates to work release programs, and the operation of the state parole system.

Vernon L. Pepersack, the state commissioner of correction, described the complaints as "the gripes you always hear in prisons."

Pepersack contended many of the complaints were not valid because society couldn't be expected to comply with all the requests. But he agreed the prison, built for 850 inmates, was overcrowded and lacked sufficient staff.

Personal Woes Theory in Trio's Disappearance

CHESTERTON, Ind. (UPI)— Authorities worked on the theory today that three young women missing at Indiana Dunes State Park may have run away.

They said there were indications all three had personal problems.

The organized search of Lake Michigan and the park was called off yesterday, with no trace found of the young women.

Mrs. Renee Bruhl, 19, of Chicago; Miss Patricia Blough, 19, of suburban Westchester; and Miss Ann Miller, 21, of suburban Lombard, left their homes last Saturday morning to spend a day at the Dunes.

They were last seen later that same morning getting into a speed boat with three young men.

LETTER FOUND

Indiana State Police said a letter found in Mrs. Bruhl's purse that indicated she was not happy in her marriage.

Miss Miller had moved out of her parents' home in Lombard about two weeks ago, authorities said.

Miss Blough's boyfriend went to California recently, and authorities said that she almost went with him at the time.

★ ★ ★

Scuba divers completed their underwater search last night.

A mounted posse already had completed combing the 2,180-acre park.

More than 100 searchers, including soldiers from an Army missile base, checked 250 cottages in the area of the park. Bloodhounds could not pick up a trail.

The petition provisions, Elsman said, discriminate against any but the "rich or organization-related candidate."

He said earlier he had spent $4,000 in rounding up signatures before giving up.

Romney Labels Viet War 'Mistake'

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Michigan's Republican governor, George Romney, visiting Salt Lake City yesterday said the United State's greatest mistake in Viet Nam was having ever gotten involved in an Asian land war when we had no commitment to do so.

Speaking at an airport news conference, the governor said, "It is too soon to know whether it will remain the kind of conflict we can deal with or whether it will develop into a much broader conflict and showdown with communism."

Romney stopped in Salt Lake City to visit his family on his 59th birthday.

He was enroute to an evening speaking engagement at a fund-raising dinner for Wyoming Gov. Clifford P. Hansen at Cheyenne.

From the airport, Romney's first stop was for a visit with the first president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

PLAYS GOLF

He later brunched with relatives and local Republican leaders and then played nine holes of golf on one of the city's golf courses.

During his press conference, Romney said he was a candidate for reelection as governor of Michigan and not for president of the United States.

He said, "Reelection to the governorship of Michigan is the only thing I'm interested in from the standpoint of candidacy."

★ ★ ★

MAJOR ISSUE

Romney said one of the major issues facing the conference was the problem of preventing "top-heavy" government with too much power at the federal level.

When told Utah Gov. Calvin L. Rampton had charged him with less than constructive criticism on Viet Nam, Romney said his criticism was based on a refusal "to give President Johnson a blank check in Viet Nam.

Romney also said the real control over the direction the war takes was not primarily in our hands and, he said, "We don't know whether it is in the hands of North Viet Nam or within the control of China or Russia."

Teachers and Board Divided on 2 Issues

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Definite progress is being made on contract negotiations but there are still two areas of disagreement between the Board of Education and Bloomfield Hills Education Association (BHEA), according to George E. Cavin, of the BHEA negotiating team.

★ ★ ★

Cavin said the disagreement pertains to two clauses which the teachers have included in their contract proposal calling for compulsory arbitration of grievances and released time from teaching for negotiating future contracts.

Negotiations are still continuing on a supplementary salary for coaches, he said.

Three meetings have been scheduled for next week between the board and teacher representatives and it is possible that a final settlement could be reached in the next two weeks, Cavin said.

★ ★ ★

The teachers and board representatives previously agreed last week to a tentative salary schedule for the fall calling for a $375 boost in the system's base pay, currently at $5,300.

ITEMS OF AGREEMENT

Final agreement on the salary schedule will not be reached until the entire contract has been completed and ratified by both teachers and board.

Other items of agreement include a 5 per cent incentive pay for any teacher who is eligible to receive it; a duty-free lunch period for all teachers; a sick leave of 10 days per teacher per year, cumulative to 100 days; and two personal business days for each teacher.

Also included is a $125 allotment per teacher per year for hospital and medical insurance except where the total premium are less.

BIRMINGHAM — International guitarists Ramon Dona-Dio and Gonzola Torres will appear at the Community House, July 18 at 8:30 p.m.

Gonzalo Torres was born in Mexico and by the age of 13 was playing at national festivals. He records for RCA Victor International.

Tickets for the concert are on sale now at Grinnell's in Birmingham and at the Community House.

McNamara Credits Boost in War Tempo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today the increased tempo of U.S. operations in Viet Nam in recent months has denied the Communists "the opportunity to assemble sufficient forces to mount a monsoon offensive."

McNamara, returning from a Viet Nam war conference at U.S. Pacific Command Headquarters in Honolulu, described himself as cautiously optimistic and said, "We're gaining militarily."

★ ★ ★

But the defense secretary said it would be impossible to predict a time when the campaign might be brought to a successful conclusion.

McNamara conferred in Honolulu with Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, U.S. Pacific commander, who recently returned from a visit to Viet Nam.

AN APPRAISAL

Among other things, McNamara and top aides appraised the progress of a major supply and support buildup in Viet Nam and measures to smooth out kinks in the supply lines.

From the Honolulu meeting came a report that the Viet Cong had been thrown off balance and thwarted in its efforts to mount a rainy-season offensive because of the growth of U.S. forces.

★ ★ ★

Speaking at planeside here, McNamara credited recent gains in the war to what he called a "very substantial expansion" of U.S. forces in recent months to a total of about 280,000 men and particularly to the increase in the helicopter force to about 1,700 machines, giving the U.S. troops a swifter striking ability.

As a result of the helicopter-provided mobility and the fast reaction it permits, McNamara said, Communist Viet Cong ambush tactics — so successful in the past — are now "suffering severe setbacks."

5 Viet Generals Sentenced for Roles in Uprising

SAIGON (AP) — Five generals who cooperated with Buddhist dissidents in the spring uprising, including a major rival of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, were sentenced today to 60 days in prison and forced into retirement.

The sentences were handed down by a special disciplinary council consisting of 20 generals. They had deliberated for two days.

★ ★ ★

Four among those sentenced had commanded, in quick succession, the strife-ridden Vietnamese 1st Army Corps, whose area covers South Viet Nam's five northernmost provinces.

Fuel Storage Area Burns; Harbor Strait Sea of Fire

PERTH AMBOY, N.J. (AP)—Flames leaping from a blazing petroleum storage area have turned a New York harbor strait into a sea of fire for the second time in three weeks.

Five persons were injured Friday, one critically, in the explosion and fire on the New Jersey waterfront.

* * *

About 600 petroleum storage drums blew up in a series of explosions. Some of the 55-gallon drums were rocketed like mammoth Roman candles across the mile wide Arthur Kill to Staten Island.

Others fell in the Kill itself, spreading a carpet of flame across the channel, which was closed to navigation by the Coast Guard for two hours.

* * *

The scene of Friday's blaze was about five miles south of the Kill Van Kull, another harbor channel where two tankers collided June 16 with the loss of 33 lives in the explosion of naphtha carried by one of them.

$250,000 DAMAGE

Howard Gast, senior vice president of Hess Oil and Chemical Co., owners of the storage area, said he did not know the cause of the fire. He estimated damage at $250,000.

* * *

A brush fire was started on Staten Island and some homes were evacuated but no serious damage was reported there.

Joseph Spolowitz, 42, a Hess employe, apparently was blown into the water by the blast. He suffered second and third degree burns and was hospitalized in critical condition.

Mackie Claims He Helped Speed Highway Funds

FLINT (UPI)—Rep. John C. Mackie, D-Mich., last night took credit for lifting a delay of $30 million in quarterly highway funds allotted to Michigan by the federal government.

Mackie, who served seven years as highway commissioner before being elected to Congress in 1964, from the seventh district, said he was contacted by current commissioner, Howard Hill, to see what he could do to make sure federal allotments for the state's $140 million highway program would not be held up.

* * *

He said he was able to get the Public Roads Bureau in Washington, D.C. to assure him the Michigan allotment would be approved by July 12 so that advertising and awarding of bids would not be interrupted.

Battle Creek Crash Kills 1, Injures 4

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Judith Elaine Cain, 24, of Battle Creek, was killed in a two-car crash at an intersection here, Battle Creek police reported Friday. A passenger, Bernadine Skidmore, 37, also of Battle Creek, was taken to Community Hospital with severe facial injuries. Three persons in the other car were also injured. They were: James H. Baker, 22, his son Brian, 7, and Eve Harister, 44, all of Battle Creek.

Korean War Turncoat Is Back Home

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Korean War turncoat Clarence Adams, back home after 16 years behind the Bamboo Curtain, spent his first day here quietly, visiting with relatives and friends.

* * *

He arrived by train in the early morning darkness Friday—unnoticed except by his family and neighbors who greeted him at the railroad station.

* * *

Adams, a slender Negro, said he planned to relax for a few days and declined to talk at length with newsmen.

* * *

Adams said life in this country is "as different as night and day from the one I have been living." He added he wanted to "settle down and find my way back to this life."

VISITS MOTHER

The former Army corporal brought his Chinese wife, Liu, and children, Della, 7, and Louis, 3, to the home of his mother, Mrs. Gladys Peoples, where he sat down to a meal of barbecue and beer.

* * *

Mrs. Peoples hadn't seen her son since he enlisted in the army when he was 18.

* * *

Now 37, Adams said "the immediate thing is supporting my family," repeating an earlier statement that he hoped to teach Chinese. He said he was prepared to teach at any college or university interested in Chinese, "but I would prefer to remain on the mainland and be near my home."

* * *

About 50 of Adams' relatives visited as he relaxed during his first day home. A steady stream of neighbors also dropped by.

Motorcyclist Killed in Crash With Auto

LANSING (AP) — Bruce Remor, 25, of Lansing, was killed Friday when his motorcycle collided with an auto in East Lansing. A passenger on the motorcycle, Myron Essex, 26, of Lansing, was treated for a broken nose and severe face cuts. East Lansing police said the motorcycle collided with a car driven by Josephine Moralez of East Lansing. No one in the car was injured. Remor died at Sparrow Hospital where his wife is a nurse.

Britain's Discount Bank Rate Rumored Nearing an Increase

LONDON (AP) — Reports spread in British financial circles today that the bank discount rate, which governs the country's interest rates, may be raised this coming week.

The British bank rate has stood at 6 per cent since June 3, 1965.

The prices of British government funds declined sharply on the London Stock Exchange yesterday, with some undated issues reaching all time lows.

Strong pressure on interest rates was also evident in London's money market, where the rate of "fine" bills rose to 6 1/6 per cent, exceeding bank rates for the first time on record.

The rate of interest on Treasury bills, which the market buys by tender, also rose again.

HIGHEST LEVEL

It now is at its highest level since the bank rate was cut from 7 to 6 per cent last year.

Sterling had another unsettled day. Forward rates came under selling pressure from overseas and fell sharply against the United States dollar.

Confidence in the currency remained at a low ebb.

The pound has taken a hammering this week and languished under what used to be accepted as the support rate of $2.79.

Say U.S. Lags in H-Test Work

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — An Atomic Energy Commission staff report contends that the United States is falling behind the Soviet Union and the rest of the world in the quest to harness peacefully the power of the hydrogen bomb, it was learned today.

The report, prepared by Atomic Energy Commission scientists and made available to the Associated Press, termed the situation "alarming" and urged the federal government to boost research spending by 15 per cent annually over the next five years.

* * *

The scientists said that since 1962 the nation's investment of money and manpower in the development of a thermonuclear fusion reactor has dropped from one-half to one-fifth of the total world output.

This type of research, the scientists said, could provide mankind with a new source of energy that can last for some 20 billion years. They warned that if the world's power needs multiply by a thousandfold in the next century — as some reports predict — present fuel sources would be burned out within decades.

It was further learned that the report has been reviewed by the AEC and will be forwarded to the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee.

* * *

Amasa S. Bishop, assistant director of the AEC's controlled thermonuclear research program, told a newsman, however, that the commission has made some key changes in the study. Bishop declined to elaborate.

Cemetery Exec Gets 30 Days

DETROIT (AP)— Sidney List, former cemetery manager who failed to appear for an exhumation Wednesday, was sentenced Friday to 30 days in the Wayne County jail for contempt of court.

* * *

Circuit Court Judge Joseph G. Rashid found List guilty because of his failure to appear at the Brookdale Memorial Park Cemetery in Livonia to locate two graves.

Rashid had ruled in December that List must be available for all exhumations.

Survivors of Jack Alexander and Ruthie Mae Adams had said that they were not buried in the correct graves while List operate the cemetery. List said on June 30 he would be present to identify the graves.

An attorney for the court-appointed receiver, Bernard Belke, testified that a telegram had been sent to List on July 6. He said that List had failed to comply with an order to appear.

Surveyor's Life Draws to End on Lunar Surface

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)— The last hours of life for America's super-efficient lunar photographer, Surveyor I, approached today as scientists monitored the craft's overheating battery.

* * *

"We've knocked off all the experiments, and we're only keeping an eye on the battery temperature," a spokesman for the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, controllers of the craft, explained.

"Our last move was to position the high-gain antenna so it'll cast a long shadow, perhaps to be seen by the lunar orbiter later this summer."

The temperature of the battery had reached 140 degrees by midnight and was creeping upward slowly, he said. The test limit for the batter is 141 degrees after which its components may melt, he said.

In California Town

120 Flee From Fumes

BRAWLEY, Calif. (AP) — Dangerous chemical fumes forced evacuation of five square blocks of this Imperial Valley community Friday night during a fertilizer warehouse fire, police reported.

An estimated 120 residents in the stricken area were evacuated, most to homes of friends and relatives. All apparently escaped serious harm, officers said. The town has 16,000 residents.

About 30 firemen, a handful of residents and 20 officers at the city's police station a block from the fire scene received shots of atrophine, a drug used by military forces to counter nerve gas.

The residents were told by Dr. Stanley Leland, Imperial County health officer, they should be able to return home sometime today. Jail prisoners were transported to nearby El Centro.

The fire burned the big warehouse to the ground and destroyed its contents of dry fertilizer, said Fire Chief Leroy Jones of Brawley.

The health officer said the fertilizer, when burned, gives off a lethal gas known as thimet.

There were no cost estimate of damage.

Jones said young boys were seen in the area before the blaze broke out.

Cavanagh Hits 'Debate Dodge'

By The Associated Press

Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, a candidate for Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, yesterday took a swipe at his opponent, former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, for refusing to debate in public with Cavanagh.

Cavanagh quoted Williams as saying at a meeting of the 17th District Democratic Executive Board Thursday that he had "no intention whatsoever of failing for the political trick of debating the issues with the mayor."

Cavanagh reported sending a telegram to the Democratic State Central Committee members in Michigan saying: "It strikes me as incredible that the other candidate now considers debate to be political trickery."

Last year, Cavanagh refused to debate Walter Shamie, his opponent for mayor of Detroit.

Williams was not immediately available for comment.

IN HAMTRAMCK

Cavanagh spent most of yesterday in Hamtramck then returned to his office for business.

Today, the mayor's schedule called for him to visit Arborland Shopping Center and Ypsilanti in Washtenaw County.

Republican Sen. Robert P. Griffin, who is running for his first full terms in the Senate, spent last night in Detroit after campaigning in Warren, Livonia, Plymouth and Harper Woods.

* * *

Today, his schedule called for him to open two GOP headquarters, one in Plymouth and one in Northville.

At 5 p.m., he was scheduled to attend a Soap Box Derby race in Ann Arbor.

'Just Desserts' Due Boat Rammer

Of the hundreds of fatalities that marred the Nation's Fourth of July weekend, none was more reprehensible than that inflicted upon WALTER BALASKEY by an operator of a motorboat on Oakland Lake.

The 30-year-old Pontiac man and three members of his family were fishing from an anchored boat when struck broadside by another craft, throwing all into the water. BALASKEY's death, an autopsy showed, resulted from drowning.

Witnesses testified that the boat that rammed Balaskey's was being operated recklessly and that the operator, Harold Ions, sped off without attempting to render assistance to the victims. Sheriff's deputies said that Ions was intoxicated when apprehended at his home.

★ ★ ★

IONS, a 52-year-old Waterford Township resident, faces a charge of manslaughter for what enforcement officers describe as the worst boating accident since a youth died two years ago in a still unsolved hit-run accident on Cass Lake.

With the County's lakes becoming virtually alive with motorboats (more than 60,000 are registered) the safety of those who seek boating recreation depends on strict enforcement of regulations governing operation of powered craft and imposition of fitting punishment for violators.

There's More to Packaging Than Meets the Eye

Congress is currently trying to hammer out a "truth in packaging" bill. But there is also a "truth about packaging" that is more than a matter of air-filled boxes and fractional ounces.

According to WALTER P. MARGULIES, who develops packages, product and brand names, the irrational fancies of consumers who don't know a good thing when they see it give him as many headaches as manufacturers who plague him with demands for new, different, better packages.

★ ★ ★

On the top of the list are ketchup bottle devotees who would rather fight than switch to a container that would allow ketchup to flow more freely.

Tubed toothpaste offers another case in point.

"No matter that a half-empty tube becomes rolled up, wrinkled and squeezed out of shape, the public obstinately refuses anything better for the bathroom shelf."

Sometimes, however, the conservatism of the manufacturer is at fault.

"The paint industry produces a can with a tongue-and-groove seal for the lid. But what amateur painter can remove all the paint from the groove before tamping down the lid? If it doesn't ooze down the sides, it splashes."

★ ★ ★

Margulies' conclusion is that the consumer is frequently irrational in his or her buying demands. The packaging innovator who seeks rational ways of satisfying needs does so at his own peril. And not even an act of Congress can do anything about that.

Federal School Aid Puts Foot in Classroom Door

A school superintendent of a small western city is having troubles —troubles which are not of his own or the community's making. They are troubles which are shared by innumerable other school districts the country over. They have to do with the masses of red tape involved in Federal aid to education.

News accounts report that the city's school board supports the superintendent and fears that Federal aid is turning into Federal control.

The sad fact is that it would be remarkable if it didn't. The old adage still applies: "He who plays the piper calls the tune." And the demands made on local bodies inevitably grow ever larger.

This is the bureaucrats' way of showing that they must have more funds, more staff, more authority. So, little by little, local and individual responsibility, local determination to forge ahead, and local rights and liberties, are whittled away.

Nothing is sharper than the knife of the bureaucrats.

Boys Home for Christmas--Maybe

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nobody has said yet the boys will be home from Viet Nam by Christmas — or even a year from Christmas, but optimism is in the air.

It is guarded, of course, and at the State Department officials privately are counseling caution.

But at no time since the United States jumped into the Vietnamese war has Washington seemed so confident. And the confidence starts at the top.

"Our diplomatic reports indicate that the opposing forces no longer really expect a military victory in South Viet Nam," a buoyant President Johnson told the nation Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

He was quick to add, "I am aware of the dangers of speculation," but it did not detract from what became the dominant theme this week. The tide has turned in favor of the United States.

HAPPENED BEFORE

Johnson has been optimistic before. For instance, he said last January in his State of the Union address: "The enemy is no longer close to victory. Time is no longer on his side."

But this time a chorus of top administration leaders are blending their voices with the President's. And activity is the diplomatic arena appears to give solid substance to their song of cheer.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who has been hinting at a new peace bid for some weeks, will fly to Moscow toward the end of next week.

★ ★ ★

In Hong Kong, senior American officials were reported predicting another diplomatic approach to persuade Hanoi to negotiate.

MORALE IS FAILING

In Washington, Undersecretary of State George Ball told a news conference Wednesday foreign diplomats in North Viet Nam had reported deteriorating Communist morale.

And in Los Angeles to address the annual governors' conference, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey spoke Wednesday of "flickering bits of evidence" that indicate North Viet Nam's leaders are seeking "some way out" of the war.

The current round of optimism was touched off last Saturday in Saigon when Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Viet Nam, said "yes" when asked if "we have begun to win."

★ ★ ★

Like the President, Humphrey, Rusk and Ball mixed in full measures of caution.

FLICKERING EVIDENCE

Humphrey said the "flickering bits of evidence" were "not solid or concrete." Rusk said, "we have seen no evidence that the other side wants peace." And Ball said, "I don't want to create an overly optimistic picture."

And yet the optimism is there, on the record, for all to see.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." St. John, 15, 13

Being willing to lay down his life for a friend, Major Bernard P. Fisher was a witness to his Mormon faith one day last March, even though both survived.

In one of the most daring rescues of the Viet Nam war, Major Fisher snatched Major Dafford W. (Jump) Myers right from under the enemy's nose.

Shot down, Major Myers had managed to land his burning plane on a shell cratered runway in enemy territory. Instead of just calling for help, Major Fisher followed right behind him, landed and taxied by the burning plane, looking for Myers. Myers wasn't there so Fisher taxied to the end of the runway, turned around and made another pass. This time, Myers jumped from a shell hole and scrambled onto the wing of the rescue plane. Fisher pulled him into the cockpit while other pilots strafed North Viet Nam positions on both sides of the runway. Even so, Fisher's plane was riddled with bullet holes.

Asked about the affair, Major Fisher said: "It's hard to talk about things like that; I am guided by my conscience."

Confident Living:

Pies Parlayed Into Prosperity

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

One of the greatest things a person can have is enthusiasm. When it is well mixed into anybody's personality, whether he has much else on the ball, that vital enthusiastic factor will carry him a long way. It is the top - quality motivator of people who do things and go places. Indeed, as Emerson said, "Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

Dr. PEALE

Well, anyway, I personally like enthusiastic people — no matter what they are enthusiastic about, sports, travel, a job or whatever. Enthusiastic people get a huge charge out of life and more importantly they recharge other people.

The other night I was in a small midwestern city to make a speech, and I was seated alongside a man who was spilling over with zest for life. He came through with some really good jokes that kept all of us laughing. But more than that he was positively inspiring due to his enthusiastic slant on things.

"How come your boundless enthusiasm?" I asked.

"Pies," he answered. "It's pies that give me a big kick out of life. Yes, sir, good old pies!"

"What do you mean pies?" I asked mystified. "I like pies, too, but in my case they slow me down by adding pounds."

That launched him into a story of how enthusiasm lifted him out of the doldrums, set him up in a really prosperous business, and got him away up on top of life's problems. It seems this man was in a sales job which took him from town to town in a couple of states. The job and product "left him cold" and naturally he was just doing so-so at it.

One day in a small town he stopped for lunch at an ordinary-looking restaurant. The food was surprisingly good but it was the pie that really got him. "That pie was out of this world," he said. "So I went all out and had myself a second piece. Boy, it was really something.

"I returned frequently to the restaurant and though the meal itself was good, I ate through it fast to get to that marvelous pie. On one trip, however, I was in for a disappointment. The pie just wasn't the same. I called the proprietor and asked what had happened to the pie. He told me that the woman who baked the pies was old and ill and was forced to quit. He had to buy commercial pies. What else could he do?

★ ★ ★

"As I made my rounds seeing customers I just couldn't get out of my mind what a shame it was that those pies had gone forever. Then an idea hit me like a ton of bricks. My wife's pies were every bit as good as those I'd gotten in that restaurant. I dashed home. 'Honey,' I shouted, 'get busy and bake up a half dozen pies.' She thought I had really gone off the beam, but she is a wonderful wife and she made three apple and three cherry pies that would make your mouth drool."

Then our friend went downtown and sold those homemade pies to a restaurant man who willingly gave double the price he was paying for regular pies. They went like hot cakes — or in this case like hot pies.

"Today," he said, "I have a two-million dollar pie business."

"But now that you are commercial how about that homemade touch?" I queried.

"Well some of that may be a bit less but I still think my pies are the greatest!"

Would you believe this? I had just gotten into bed about 11:30 p.m. when came a rap at my door. There was a bellboy with two hot pies, a cherry and an apple.

"Mr. —— sent these. They are the first pies out of the oven for tomorrow morning," he said.

Well, the pies were indeed good. But it was the man's enthusiasm that was the really heartwarming and spirit-lifting thing.

It happens that I am in the sermon preaching business. It occurs to me that if I were as enthusiastic about religion as that man is about pies — I would get more customers to go for it. Just how enthusiastic are you about your job? Yes, sir, it's enthusiasm that really motivates.

Expressway Wrangling May Force State Action

As former Mayor of Berkley, I wish to express my deep regret over the failure of the fifteen cities to agree on the much-needed East-West Expressway that has been an issue now for the past nine years.

★ ★ ★

The fact that two cities, Roseville and Pleasant Ridge, would not agree on any terms whatsoever can only mean the loss of local control for home rule cities. I might remind these two cities that it was just two months ago the Legislature was attempting to dictate policy to home rule cities in a number of areas. Only strong opposition by local units of government throughout the entire state defeated these proposals. Now Governor Romney and the Legislature have no alternative but to call a special session of the Legislature and take this "power of consent" away from all cities, some 400 in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The loss of local control is too high a price to pay and will be deeply regretted. The State stands to lose 161 million dollars; the 4 million citizens of metropolitan Detroit lose a vitally needed expressway. I strongly urge the City Councils of Roseville and Pleasant Ridge to reconsider their positions.

Opposed to New Civil Rights Legislation

We feel that more than enough Civil Rights legislation has already been passed. Everyone we know feels the same way.

★ ★ ★

The proposed new law gives too much power to the Justice Department to persecute the innocent and harass those who oppose the administration. This is a free country. We have a right to oppose any law. I might want to give my house to God and this law would prohibit me from doing so.

Title V is anti-labor and the Justice Department could use the powers of Title V to control the people by threats of one-year prison sentences and $1,000 fines. This entire bill must be stopped.

Older Drivers Preferred to Hot-Rodders

I'd rather see an elderly person drive a car slowly and carefully than see young hot-rodders using LeGrande Avenue as a race track.

Older people don't burn rubber, race two cars side by side down the street, scream as they race or make terrible noises, such as we have to listen to every night.

Question and Answer

I have heard so many different answers on how many lakes there are in Oakland County, I'd like to get a straight answer. Can you find out for me?

AL FROM ROCHESTER

REPLY

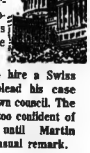

Difference of opinion on what constitutes a lake is probably the reason you've heard so many different figures. Steve Swan of the Michigan Conservation office says there are 1,682. His figure comes from an inventory by C. R. Humphrys of the Department of Resource Development at Michigan State. In the Humphrys report, anything over one-tenth of an acre is classified as a lake.

'Political Refugee' Wins Refuge

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Joseph Martin of San Francisco, former Republican national committeeman of California, was trying to buy a house near a small Swiss village. The Swiss don't encourage foreign interlopers, so he was having a little trouble.

He had to hire a Swiss lawyer to plead his case before the town council. The man wasn't too confident of winning until Martin dropped a casual remark.

He happened to note that he had been for New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller against Barry Goldwater in the 1964 California primary. Since Rockefeller lost the race, said Martin with a laugh, his key supporters were pretty close to being political refugees from California.

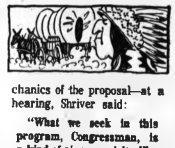

The lawyer's face brightened. When he went before the council, he straightfacedly presented his client not as an interloping foreigner but as a political refugee. Martin got his house.

When Rep. Ben Reifel, R-S.D., first came to Congress in 1961, many people were unaware of his Indian background (his mother was a Sioux). They included Sargent Shriver, who at that time was trying to sell the Peace Corps to dubious congressmen.

Cornering Reifel—who had been a bit critical of the mechanics of the proposal—at a hearing, Shriver said:

"What we seek in this program, Congressman, is a kind of pioneer spirit—like that of the men who settled the Dakota territory."

"Yes, I know all about that," Reifel replied coolly. "My folks were there to meet them."

★ ★ ★

The mid-winter meeting of the Republican National Committee, generally held in January, has run into foul weather the last two years in Chicago and Washington.

This fact is most disturbing to warm-blooded Thomas Stagg, national committeeman from Louisiana.

So, clearly for reasons of climate, he proposed at the recent meeting that the committee convene next January in New Orleans. Drawing out his resolution, he sounded remarkably like Everett Dirkson:

"Whereas, the mid-winter meeting of the National Committee is and has been subjected to the vicarious vicissitudes of inclemency previously unmet in historical records, and

"Whereas, this baleful occurrence has stricken our laborers alike in Chicago and Washington on consecutive Januarys and,

"Whereas this committee of eminent Republicans deserves a more salubrious clime for its biannual convocations . . ."

Negro Eyed for Minnesota Senate Race

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Minnesota Republicans, seeking a candidate for Vice President Hubert Humphrey's old Senate seat, may turn to a Negro lawyer.

The lawyer Stephen L. Maxwell, 45, of St. Paul, a World War II veteran, and former Republican State Chairman Robert Forsythe of Edina are the most-mentioned prospects to oppose Democratic Sen. Walter F. Mondale, 38. Neither is a declared candidate, however.

* * *

A father of two, Maxwell has spent 15 of the last 21 years in public service, including five years as assistant Ramsey County attorney in St. Paul and the last two years as St. Paul corporation (city) counsel.

Either Maxwell or Forsythe would have a formidable opponent in Mondale, who polled more than 58 per cent of the vote for state attorney general in two elections before being appointed to succeed Humphrey.

* * *

And both have indicated they would demand adequate campaign financing before allowing themselves to be picked by the GOP State Central Committee next Saturday.

The ticket would serve as a temporary license valid until the court date shown on the ticket.

In Waterford

Fire Statistics Are Given

Fifty-five fires were quenched by Waterford Township firemen last month, raising the number of blazes to 271 at the midway point of the year, the total is three less than for the same period in 1965.

Last month's figure exceeded the total for the previous June by two, but was five fewer than the 60 fires extinguished in May this year.

Broken down, the 55 fires included 19 of the brush and grass variety, 14 in cars and eight in buildings.

For the first six months this year, fire damage was estimated at $96,375, far less than the $140,040 in damages for the same period of 1965.

Last month, township firefighters responded to 73 alarms, compared with 79 the previous June and 84 this May.

At the halfway mark, 414 alarms have been answered against 416 a year ago.

Elegant arabesques combine to make elegance with Oleg Cassini's pure Italian print silk, renaissance-inspired new evening wear.

Emphasizing neon colors in her short evening dresses with glitter for instant impact, Adele Simpson achieves a paradoxical combination of simplicity and dramatic sophistication in this mandarin yellow shift with gold beading. The full-bodied lustrous Sheraton twill of "Orion" acrylic, "Acele" acetate and Du Pont nylon is shaped with seaming to give the suggestion of a waistline and the season's flared skirt. A myriad of beads band the neck and hemline. In this mood the short evening dress can go almost anywhere.

Throughout his collection Donald Brooks emphasizes asymmetric design and long-bodied jackets, often with pleated skirt flaring beneath. These fashion features and fabric give particular distinction to this gold-yellow suit in jersey.

Don't Build Fire Under Suitor or Romance Goes Up in Smoke

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother is a very attractive widow, 62 years old but she looks much younger. She met a 60-year-old bachelor, and they hit it off like a couple of teen-agers. He's a real sport and a big spender.

ABBY

He has told all their mutual friends she's the best thing that's happened to him in years, he adores her, blah, blah, blah.

They have vacationed together, he took her to the Derby, and now he's talking about a trip to Europe. Abby, mom is going out of her mind waiting for this man to ask her to marry him. They seem so perfect for each other. She doesn't even look at anyone else, and as far as she knows, he doesn't either.

What on earth is he waiting for? It's been nearly two years now. How can mom build a fire under this man? She'll do anything. HER DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Tell your mom not to build any fires under her reluctant Lothario or she's likely to see the romance go up in smoke. He sounds like the kind of sport who would rather rent than buy.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 22-year-old college girl who has to be continually coaxed and begged to help her mother now and then with an evening meal, to clear off the table, help with the dishes, make her own bed, hang up her clothes, or do her own ironing?

When she was away at college, she lived at the dorm and shipped her laundry home for mother to do and ship back.

During the summer she is not punching a time clock as so many girls do to help pay for her college expenses. Instead, she is out having a good time and sleeping late.

Ever since she was a young girl she has expected me to be her slave. Why?

HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Because somewhere along the line she was given the impression that she could get away with it. And apparently she was right.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A very attractive forty-ish woman is posing quite a problem among the husbands at our country club. She dances the first dance with her husband, and then he goes into the bar where he spends the remainder of the evening, and she goes around asking the other husbands to dance with her.

This leaves our wives sitting and seething. How does a man handle this situation without being rude to the woman or to his wife? NO GIGOLO

DEAR NO: It isn't necessary to be rude to either. Tell the lone woman that you are "sitting it out" with your frau, but you'd be glad to waltz her over to her husband.

Holland Jaycees Object

HOLLAND (UPI) — The Holland Junior Chamber of Commerce has informed directors of the Miss Michigan Pageant the local group will not participate in the program in the future unless four changes are made in the procedure for choosing a winner.

* * *

Her Real Objective Is Your Interest

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Our 9-year-old girl, though four years older than our younger one, has to have everything her sister gets. She has three pairs of shoes, all in good condition, but when I recently bought her little sister a new pair she really needed, there were the usual sulks at my unfairness.

My husband says she likes to feel unfairly treated. She has two spring coats because I didn't dare buy her sister one last season without getting her one, too . . .

ANSWER: Nobody enjoys feeling unfairly treated. We miss the point entirely when we imagine that happiness is the result of this kind of demandingness in children.

Power over us is its result. By using accusations of our unfairness to scare us into buying her a new spring coat she doesn't need, our daughter gains control of us. That's what she's after.

The accusations are a power ploy. They're used to make us feel so mean, so unjustly indulgent of her sister at her expense that we surrender our decisions to her and allow her to dictate the purchase of the new shoes or the new spring coat.

Your daughter derives no more joy from this power over you than she does from the things she compels you to give her. It's rooted in distrust of your interest in her. Until this distrust is dealt with, you can keep on giving her things until doomsday — and still fail to satisfy her.

As so many of our problems with children, this demand for duplicate things given to brothers and sisters develops out of our failure to give the demanding child true attention.

If instead of buying your daughter a second spring coat, had you taken the trouble to show some interest in her old one, that interest might have been just what she needed to begin to trust your interest in her.

Had you suggested that it might be brightened by new buttons made in the shapes of fruits or flowers, the thought and imagination expended to create such a suggestion would have been very reassuring to her. Had you taken her to a button store and with her selected the new buttons, all this effort would have made clear, not merely your concern with the brightening of her old spring coat but also your concern for her happiness with it.

* *

It requires no time, no attention, no effort or imagination to merely buy a child a coat she thinks she wants. It just takes money.

The soft life calls for the ease of a knit knicker ensemble, designed by McKnit for leisurely fence-sitting and related autumn afternoon activities. The outfit is of down brushed "Orlon" acrylic, subtly argyle-patterned in tones of blue and green. Care, too, is a leisurely project; this knit has a knack for the ins and outs of a quick hand sudsing.

Inspired by a wonderfully colorful period in American history when generations of frontiersmen fought to push this country's borders to the blue Pacific, Vera Maxwell designs an "Earliest Americana" collection for Fall 1966. Here she takes a contemporary—yet warmly nostalgic look at that wild, sweet strain of pioneer women who contributed their own spirit and candor and spark to the winning of the West. The rendering here, in sassafrass tweed, heathered for a rugged, homespun look, is called "Mrs. Lewis." The gently curved shape is forthright and uncomplicated — and the sudden, smoldering brightness of the trim is as unexpected and refreshing as a fiery spirit under a tranquil exterior. In this case, the trim is miles and miles of rich, wool ric-rac surrounding an inset border of printed challis.

The Reginald Shaws of Montroyal Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Penny Lynn, to Pfc. Robert Carter Moore, son of Mrs. Maurice Nolm of Granada Drive and Robert D. Moore of Anaheim, Calif. Her fiance is stationed at Frankfurt, Germany. Early November vows are planned.

Pale blue popcorn pompons in her bouquet of white carnations complemented the bride's sheath gown and cathedral train of while silk organza over taffeta. Her veil was of tiered lace.

With Mrs. Thomas Lauinger, matron of honor, were bridesmaids Mrs. Richard Ryan, Mrs. Robert Lamson, Mrs. Steven Sheeran and Laurie St. Dennis, junior maid.

Clifford Frazer Jr. was best man. Ushers included Steven Sheeran, John Schlicht, George Taylor Jr. and Thomas Lauinger.

The bridegroom is stationed at Lockbourne AFB, Columbus, Ohio.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. I am 14 years old. I am wondering if you have any beauty tips for me. I am asking because at school I do not make many friends with girls or boys. I wonder if you have any material to send to help me make more friends. What do you think about dancing?

Some say that if you don't go dancing you won't have any friends. My weight may have something to do with it. I am five feet and three inches tall and weigh 133 pounds. Please help me.

A. I am sure that your weight has much to do with it because you should lose close to 20 pounds. This, no doubt, makes you less attractive looking, and I bet that it makes you self-conscious.

FORGET SELF

Self-conscious people are not usually popular. They are their own worst enemies. Being self-conscious keeps them from making the first gesture toward friendship. Their shyness is often mistaken for conceit or unfriendliness. Lose your extra weight by eating less of everything and leaving off inbetween meal snacks.

Then forget self and how you are impressing others. Become interested in them and in their interests.

If you are a good dancer, it certainly helps build popularity. Of course, you can have friends without dancing but this is a pastime which most young folks enjoy and, therefore, you would be left out many times if you didn't dance.

LOW HEELS

Q. I have worn high heels constantly for years. Now that low heels are so stylish I am wearing them much of the time. However, since starting this I find that the backs of my legs seem to feel tired and ache a little.

Could this be connected with the change in shoes?

A. Definitely! You have worn high heels so constantly that your calf muscles have shortened. As they stretch, the discomfort will disappear, if this is the cause. Exercises which stretch these muscles will help.

This is why I often advise readers to change from high heels to low periodically. High heels should not be worn all the time.

* * *

Q. Is there any truth in the idea that wearing a pony tail hairdo will lead to baldness?

A. Most experts feel that the constant tension on the hair may lead to thinning.

Q. Why do people get ingrown toenails when they don't file their toenails straight across; they don't get ingrown fingernails and they aren't cut straight across the top.

A. I suppose it is because of the pressure on the feet which the hands do not have.

Miss Holland Repeats Vows

Their parents are the William L. Hollands of East Ann Arbor Avenue and the Charles D. Wilsons of Pontiac Lake Road.

The bride's gown of white taffeta was styled with bouffant tiered skirt and chapel train. She wore an illusion veil and held a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Jeannie Lee Hart was maid of honor with Randee Emory, bridesmaid. Connie and Randy Holland were flower girl and ring-bearer.

With Alfred Hill, best man was Michael Gray, groomsman. Seating guests were Ricky and Roger Holland, with Robert Stoneburg.

Reception in the UAW Union Hall followed the ceremony.

Dangling Hose Are Outmoded

Your husband will be glad to hear that wet nylons and lingerie draped over the shower rod may soon be a thing of the past. That drippy line-up he runs into and growls about now has a new place to dry.

Merchandising Week reports that a built-in clothes dryer for the bath is on the market.

Designed mainly for drying lingerie, it fits flush to the wall, conventinetly out of the way. The dryer also serves as a room heater, towel warmer, and humidifier.

Looks like your husband will have to find a new pet peeve.

Volunteer Speaks Up on Rudeness

By ELIZABETH L. POST

This week's prize-winning letter, is, I think, particularly interesting because the situation the writer describes is so contrary to the theme I try to stress: that etiquette, or good manners, is not a rigid formula but a code of behavior based on consideration, appreciation and unselfishness. A copy of Emily Post's "Etiquette," revised by Elizabeth L. Post, has been sent to the writer who asked that her name be withheld.

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm a housewife and mother who lists "home duties" as my sole occupation. I am therefore called upon to take up most of the charitable collections in my neighborhood, for cancer, heart, cerebral palsy, etc. I could even enjoy doing this but for the offensive manner in which I am received at some homes.

For example, the houseowner who says, "We don't choose to give," and slams the door in your face. Or, the two-income family that comes up with 25 cents. And the family just back from a month in Hawaii that tells you they're broke.

These people are redeemed somewhat by the poor widow who willingly hands over all that she can and wishes it were more. But as for the others I wish they would realize I am doing this for them, and often in place of them, and a little polite attention and generosity would make the job worthwhile. — Mrs. C. R.

Dear Mrs. C. R.: The idea that neighbors could be short, or actually rude, to someone willing to give time and effort for the benefit of others is repugnant.

It is not up to the volunteer to criticize the amount given as there may be circumstances about which he knows nothing. However, it is his right and duty to persuade the family to give as much as they possibly can to his cause.

But whatever their decision may be, it is inexcusable of them to take out their irritation or inflict their feelings on the volunteer.

The clothes of the bride and groom as well as those of their attendants are described in the booklet, "Clothes of the Bridal Party." If you want a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Find True Motives

Try to Analyze Yourself

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-455: Dr. Jay, aged 38, has a problem that troubles many people in all fields of endeavor.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I have a flourishing practice in my own small city of 5,000 population.

"Yet I don't feel satisfied!

"I have a craving to be in a big city and do some teaching on the side.

"But I have a wife and family so I debate whether I should pull up stakes and start over afresh in a larger area.

DR. CRANE

"Why can't I be content here in my present location?"

Ambition is a splendid trait if you don't use it to camouflage a secret complex, sexual or otherwise.

So face the facts and analyze yourself!

Is it merely egotism that makes Dr. Jay want to link up with a professional school in a big city?

Or does the "Professor" title serve as a superior status symbol?

If he simply craves the chance to teach and thus wield a constructive influence on young people, he can do that right where he now lives.

For he can become active in the Boy Scouts. Or teach First Aid to those seeking Merit Badges.

Or he can handle a teen-age Sunday School class.

Besides, when you save a human life by removing an inflamed appendix in a city of 5,000, that is just as laudable as removing such an appendix in Chicago or New York!

Notice how I am showing you how to attack your own problems, for we shall never have enough psychiatrists to handle everybody. So learn how to eliminate your problem by the simple scientific method of self-analysis.

* * *

Obviously, Dr. Jay has some hidden motive for feeling frustrated in his present practice.

During the war, he served as a Major and was accustomed to being saluted.

Does he thus want more public acclaim?

Many egotists also crave to be writers, hoping to crash the big time in that fashion, just as the typical teen-age girl looks to Hollywood as the Mecca for her egotism.

But Dr. Jay had another secret motive that was rankling his ego.

His wife seemed indifferent to his erotic advances, so he felt he had lost prestige in her sight.

Karen Strong, daughter of the J. L. Strongs of South Ardmore Street was graduated cum laude from Kalamazoo College. A chemistry major, she has done laboratory work at the University of Chicago. Elected Phi Beta Kappa, she has been awarded the UpJohn Graduate scholarship for advanced study at Stanford University.

Campers Tote Electricity

If you're the sort of camper who wishes the good old outdoors had some of the modern appliances you left sitting at home, don't despair. Go ahead and pack the electric frying pan, the toaster, the electric can opener, even the television.

Just don't forget the portable electricity.

All you need to make camping less primitive is a portable 12-volt battery and automatic charger that comes in a stylish carrying case.

It's capable of providing enough electricty for opening an endless number of caviar tins, for frying a week's supply of buffalo meat, or for 1,000 hours of TV viewing.

Keep your family out of the crossfire!

A useless war is now going on over interest rates on savings. Like other wars, there can be no winner. Certainly not you and your family. What to do?

Keep calm. Stop switching your savings from place to place just to earn a dollar or two extra in interest a year. Rates that go up can also come down.

If gambling is in your blood, go play poker or bet on the horses.

If you want to do some serious investing, go see a good stock broker. Or dabble in real estate. This is what risk capital is for.

But remember—we savings institutions are thrift institutions, not investment houses. Our dividends (whether 4¼% or 5%) are not designed to make you rich. They are designed to encourage you to save the money that will make you rich.

Say you now have $500 in a savings account. A year from today dividends will have probably added $20 or $25 to that amount. But—if you save just two dollars a week, you'll have close to $650.

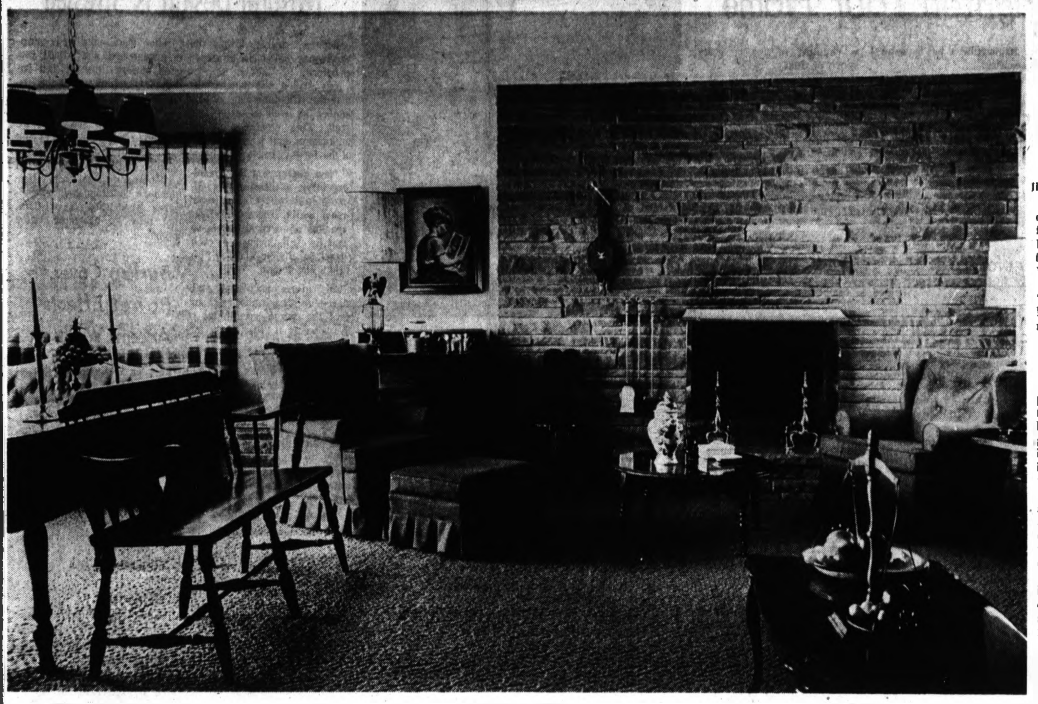

This is thrift. It's what sends youngsters to college, pays for vacations (cheaper when you pay cash) and makes the retirement years happy and worry free.

Be wary, too, of the so-called "90-day notice" account. This is where the bank says something like, "Promise not to touch your savings for 6 months or a year, and we'll pay you an extra half of one percent."

The trouble here is you then have to give the bank 90-day advance notice before you can get your money. (How many of us know when we're going to need emergency cash 90 days in advance!)

While the rate war rages, our advice is simple and sound. Keep your head—and keep saving whatever dollars you can. And keep your money where it's safe, insured, convenient, and always available at a moment's notice...

And have a nice summer.

Early American Is Favored

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Heirloom pieces passed down through generations influenced Mrs. Dean Gotts' selection of a colonial interior for her home on Rippleway, White Lake Township.

"Besides," said Mrs. Gotts, "I like the warmth and friendliness Early American furnishings project."

Among the family's heirlooms is a trunk dating back to the Civil War.

"After the war," she said, pointing to the trunk at the foot of the bed in the master bedroom, "my husband's grandfather, who had been held prisoner in Georgia, sent his clothes home in that trunk."

The mustard-gold walls and area carpet in the room are accented by the red ball fringe on the white draperies and the olive green of the rocker cushions and table lamp.

Leading the way to the kitchen, she continued, "That cranberry and crystal berry set on the table belonged to my great-grandparents."

Wallpapered in a provincial print in shades of gold and green with muted bittersweet touches, the kitchen features knotty pine beams and cabinets.

In the adjoining living room, Mrs. Gotts chose a neutral background of pale gold walls, shades of gold horizontal striped draperies and a textured sand-beige carpeting.

The room's maple dry sink acts as a table for the amber glass eagle lamp and as an entertainment bar.

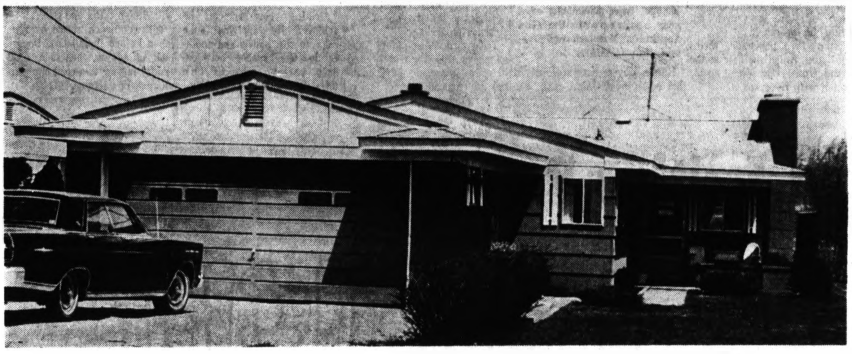

A barn-red and brass drop fixture illuminates the deacon's bench and harvest table grouped midway in the ell of the large room.

Introducing an interesting and deliberate change of pace is the French provincial coffee table before the scarlet wing-back sofa.

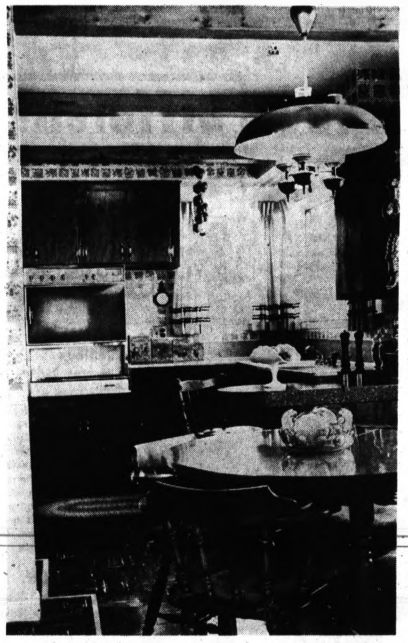

The Gotts have two children, Debra, 11, and Jerry, 13

No Great Skill Needed

Floor Finish Can Brighten Your Home

Making old wooden floors look like new can make an old, run-down house look bright and inviting once more.

* * *

No great skill is needed, only care. The equipment can be rented, so that the only investment is in a new floor finish and your time.

Floors will need sanding before applying a new finish. But before sanding, prepare the surface.

If nail heads show, set them with a hammer and nail set and fill the holes with wood putty.

* * *

Cracks should be filled with putty also.

MOLDING

To make sanding around the edges of a room easier, remove the molding along the baseboards.

Pry up carefully to avoid splintering or cracking.

You can then bring your sander right to the edge of the floor without damaging the molding or the baseboard.

* * *

Occasionally, a floor will have a bulge or high spot. Plane these smooth, since the sander would just ride over such an area.

CLEAR ROOM

Clear the room of all furniture, shades, pictures, mirrors. Open windows but close doors to adjoing rooms.

Floor sanders can be rented from tool rental agencies, most hardware or paint stores.

Have the dealer show you exactly how this model works. Buy enough sandpaper for the machine and get three grades — coarse, medium and fine — which you will use in that order.

* * *

Start with coarse grit paper and sand the floor lengthwise with the floor boards. Start at one wall and move straight to the opposite wall.

SAME PATH

Come back along the same path. The next pass with the sander should overlap the previous by two or three inches.

The coarse grit paper cuts through the old finish. The second sanding with medium-grade paper is to get rid of the roughness left by the first sanding.

The final sanding with fine paper is to make the floor properly smooth for finishing.

Although the second sanding leaves the floor smooth, it is the final sanding that will give the finished floor a mirrorlike surface.

NEXT STEP

Dusting is the next step. Use a vacuum to pick up every speck of dust.

Be sure to dust window sills, shelves, baseboards — any place that dust may have settled. Nothing will ruin your new finish more quickly than dust.

Clear finishes are used on floors to protect the surface while permitting the attractive grain patterns to show through.

* * *

The usual finishes are shellac, plastic finishes and wax.

GOES ON EASY

Shellac goes on easily, dries quickly, does not chip or crack but is not as durable as varnish for long-wearing use.

Shellac is too thick to use as it comes out of the container and should be thinned with an equal amount of alcohol or commercial solvent. Apply several thin coats.

Varnish is hard and brittle but wears well. It goes on easily but dries slowly, about 24 hours between coats as compared with four or five hours for shellac.

* * *

Two or three coats are needed. Sand in between. Finish both shellac and varnish by waxing.

SEALER LASTS

Penetrating sealers are oil-based, penetrate the wood, leave nothing on the surface. The sealer, because it has soaked in, last under heavy use. Use wax as a finish coat.

A variety of plastic finishes go on easily, dry rapidly, wear well, need no waxing unless desired.

These are more expensive than shellac or varnish but could be worth it.

Special penetrating waxes seal and finish the floor at the same time. Use several coats; polish with floor wax.

Discovery by Manufacturer

Mattresses Last Longer

Your mattress would last longer if you invited your friends and neighbors to take turns sleeping on it.

That's the surprising report from makers of the double-duty sleep equipment you find in countless motel and hotel rooms.

They discovered that mattresses last longer in motel and hotel rooms than in private homes — when you'd think it would be the other way around — and decided to find out why.

The secret is that a mattress lasts longer if a different person sleeps on it every night, which is what happens in hotels and motels.

* * *

Each person curls up — or sprawls out — in a different position, on a different part of the mattress, and the whole thing wears out evenly.

Practically everybody has a favorite sleeping position — and if the same person sleeps on the same mattress every night, the wear and tear is always in the same spot.

In real life, it's impossible to expect neighborhoods — or even large families — to start rotating beds just to prolong the life span of their mattresses.

* * *

The psychological wear and tear if every day were moving day would probably be even worse than the wear and tear on the mattress.

* * *

But if a day comes when you can't climb out of bed after the alarm has gone off, don't blame your old age until you've checked the mattress. You may find youself lying in a trench.

Lacquer Tip for Painters

Lacquer used over oil-base paint acts as a paint remover, reminds the National Paint Varnish and Lacquer Association.

So be sure to use it only over previous coats of lacquer.

* * *

If you're in doubt about the nature of previous coatings, stick to an oil-base finish.

FOCAL POINT — All yards need decorative landscape accessories. Besides being attractive, a wishing well can serve double duty as a storage center for the garden hose and small tools. An easy project, the pattern gives step-by-step directions and photographs showing the assembly procedure. To obtain wishing well pattern number 371, send $1 by currency, check or money order to Steve Ellingson, Pontiac Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif. 91409

Gas Provides Cooling Agent

Another entry for the "Leave It to American Know-How" notebook: Now they're cooling the air with a gas flame.

It may sound a little chilling, but the paradox is explained by the fact that since air conditioning equipment needs a source of energy, natural gas can provide this source as well as it can for warmth or cooking.

Still a fairly new development, gas cooling systems in use now number more than 100,000, twice the amount of a year ago, reports the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association (GAMA).

Home buyers have welcomed this equipment, GAMA said, because of its simplicity and economy of operation. The only moving part is the blower apparatus. Gas air conditioning can be added in homes with gas-fired furnaces using the same duct systems to distribute the cooled air that in winter distributes the warmed air.

Special Nails Fill Construction Needs

The lowly nail hasn't been neglected in the march of construction progress.

Today, stainless steel and aluminum nails are widely used in places where no rust qualities are required.

Three-Dimensional Effect

Natural Design Is Stressed

Modern design brings out wood's natural character as never before.

New styles and patterns display the full dimensions of solid lumber as well as texture and grain. This creates a modern impression and a warm feeling of the forests inside your home.

New patterns of Pine paneling offer a pleasing three-dimensional effect on interior room walls. There is a slight spacing of vertical panels so that the full thickness of each panel is visible along with width and length.

This gives depth and substance to the walls and conveys the same pure image of the wood as it grows in the forest.

* * *

Such patterns are well adapted to home remodeling projects, such as the transformation of little-used areas into family rooms.

The paneling can be applied directly to existing surfaces or floor-to-ceiling height. The latter feature saves material and effort.

Pine's high resistance to wear is especially useful in areas subject to rough treatment, such as the family room.

Modern finishing techniques further accentuate the charming natural character. With a natural finish, the actual wood color is left unchanged.

With stain-type finishes, any hue in the spectrum can be applied. The transparency of the applied color leaves grain and texture exposed and the stain seems just as natural as the wood's original hue.

Striking contrast can be achieved by applying one color to the panels and another to the spaces between. Such variety enhances the three-dimensional impression.

When wood paneling is properly seasoned and "sealed," a good quality finish will last indefinitely which makes the installation maintenance free.

* * *

All grades of Southern Pine paneling carry mandatory 12 per cent moisture content limits. Sealing of the wood pores with a penetrating sealer or other moisture resistant coating minimizes absorption of moisture that may be generated inside the home.

Burlap Cover, Panel Effects Accent Walls

For an elegant wall treatment, try this.

Cover the wall with burlap in natural tone or a subtle color.

Then create a paneled effect with rails and stiles of screen stock, ¾-inch thick by 2¾-inches wide.

Space the stiles, the vertical pieces, to match stud spacing, usually 16 inches on center.

The rails, or horizontal pieces, are evenly spaced to make three panels between floor and ceiling.

BASEBOARD

Rails are also used top and bottom, easing into a baseboard at the floor and a cove molding at the ceiling line.

Then outline the panels created by the rails and stiles with cap molding, mitering corners.

The cap molding is applied to the edges of the rails and stiles with finish nails and glue.

All woodwork should be finished before installation. Use a coat of sealer, then stain, and finally one or two coats of clear varnish or lacquer.

Kitchen Design

Try a 'Work Triangle'

Is happiness in your home being threatened by a triangle?

Then maybe you ought to do something about it.

The triangle that most often ripples the waters of domestic tranquility is not caused by "another woman," but by an inefficient work pattern in the kitchen that can make a woman tired and cranky from sheer overwork, and ready to fight with her husband when he comes home.

The man to solve this family's problem is not a marriage counselor but an understanding kitchen designer who knows that a motion-saving "work triangle" can conserve time, steps and energy in meal preparation and kitchen cleanups.

* * *

The points of the "work triangle" are formed by the kitchen sink and dishwasher area, range and refrigerator-freezer—the three main work centers of the kitchen.

RIGHT SPACE

The sum of the three legs of this triangle should be at least 15 feet (less than that will result in an overcrowded work pattern) and no more than 22 feet (more than that will cause the homemaker unnecessary motion and effort).

U-shaped and L-shaped kitchens are the most efficient, because appliances, cabinets and work areas can all be located within easy reach.

One-wall layouts or "corridor" plans (where two facing walls are used) are less efficient, but circumstances sometimes dictate their use.

* * *

If the kitchen has a window, you'll probably want the sink located beneath it.

PREFERABLE?

Most women prefer this arrangement, because while working at the sink, they can watch the children at play or watch anything but the wall.

The automatic dishwasher should be positioned next to the sink, near the plumbing and within easy reach.

The experts suggest that whether the homemaker is right or left handed, the dishwasher can be placed to the left or right of the sink, whichever position she prefers and the one that makes it easier for her to load the dishwasher.

* * *

RIGHT SIZE

First, this appliance should be large enough to accommodate the family's needs now and in the near future without excessive trips to the market.

If the doors to your refrigerator-freezer open to the right of the sink.

* * *

COUNTER SPACE

For most efficiency, provide five to five-and-a-half feet of counter space between refrigerator-freezer and sink.

The third leg of the triangle is formed by the range. Preferably, it should be located near the dining area.

The new electric ranges are available in a wide variety of styles — free standing, eye-level consoles, high-low double-oven ranges, separate cooktops and compact, one-piece built-in ranges — to suit any need.

GARDEN GAZEBO — Simple post-and-beam assembly serves as framework for shade roof and screen wall of this charming gazebo. Posts are Douglas fir 2x4s triple nailed on either side of 2x4 beam at top and through spacer block at bottom. Units are spaced eight feet apart; support roof of 2x2s and 2x4 stringers for screen wall of vertical 1x2s.

Booklet Tells Siding Facts

The first balmy days of spring will bring several million home owners out into the sun to take a look at the exterior of their houses and note any deterioration or damage caused by the rigors of winter. A good percentage of them will see flaking and peeling paint on siding and trim.

If you are among this latter group, hold up your repainting plans long enough to take a look at a booklet entitled "26 Straight Answers on Aluminum Siding," which will give you all the facts on this relatively new but fast-growing home improvement material.

Will it eliminate the need for painting? Will it improve the looks of my house? Will it save me money? These and many other questions are answered in a clear, objective way.

For a free copy write to "26 Answer Booklet," Alcan Aluminum Corp., 111 West 50th, New York, N.Y. 10030.

Better Quality Materials May Mean Savings

If you're planning a major home improvement, it pays to use high-quality materials.

It's often more economical in the long run.

Home improvement experts note that labor costs for installing premium-grade materials in a home are frequently about the same as for materials of lesser quality.

The longer life expectancy of the materials, however, may make them more economical on a per-year-of-life basis.

Heavyweight asphalt roof shingles, for example, are applied the same way as standard weight shingles, so the installation cost is about the same.

But since heavyweight shingles last longer, look better and increase the resale value of a home, many homeowners consider them a better investment.

Nearly one-third of all lumber produced in this country goes into homes.

To Home Security

Strong Foundation Important

All good homes have sound "underpinning."

The quality of foundation and floor system has far reaching effect on over-all house performance. Safety, comfort and maintenance costs are all deeply involved.

The foundation, formed with masonry or pressure treated wood piling, should be of sufficient depth.

Above the foundation and beneath the floors exists a structure which is the most important single element of the home. This structure carries the weight of the entire house, occupants and contents. It also constitutes the vital link between foundation and dwelling.

* * *

The floor structure should have strength to support its great loads. It should provide cohesiveness to prevent the house from being blown from its foundations by hurricanes or other violent storms.

STABILITY

It should have stability to keep the floors above on an even keel. Finally, it should provide resiliency for walking comfort.

The floor structure should be securely bolted to foundation walls. It should also be formed with lumber to take advantage of wood's resilient strength — an ability to sustain the shock of heavy loads and cushion footsteps for easy walking.

But not just any lumber will do.

* * *

The specifications should call for an appropriate species and grade that meet the exacting standards of the use.

Some species of lumber are blessed by nature with greater strength and nail holding ability than others. These differentials should be taken into account in drafting the specifications.

Nail holding ability is all-important. The safety of the house in violent storms depends on the firmness with which the lumber grips nails and bolts to hold house and foundation together.

* * *

Therefore, the lumber should be properly seasoned and preshrunk before being surfaced to final size. Nails will not loosen in preshrunk lumber as they do when unseasoned material dries in service.

The stable sizes of preshrunk lumber in the structure keeps the floors above smooth and even and prevent squeakiness.

Morpheus was the god of dreams in Greek mythology.

Heating Unit Against Wall

Are you stuck, decoratively speaking, with an indoor heating system that just won't go away? And no matter how many couches, chairs or tables you buy, you can't cover up the ugly heat distributors?

* * *

Take heart! A modern hydronic (hot water) heating system is attractive and simplifies home decorating.

Baseboard units for hot water heating systems (now known as hydronics) fit snugly against the wall at ankle level and, thus, do not interfere with wall-to-wall carpeting.

Also, they can be painted to blend or contrast with the decor of the room. Furniture can be placed against any wall and draperies can be hung full length.

* * *

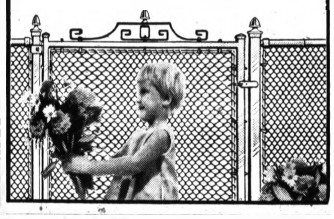

Even the boiler in a hydronic system can be a pleasure for the decorating woman.

Today's heating plant is attractively encased and extremely compact (almost as small as a bread box in some cases).

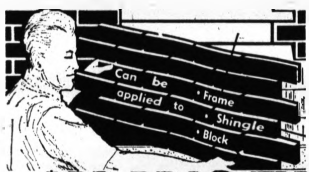

And the boiler can be installed anywhere — in a closet, the garage or even in a pit in the back yard.

Lady of House Should Share in Renovations

Here's a revolting development:

After years of tolerating an old-fashioned kitchen with stained sink, old-fashioned washtubs and antiquated stove, a woman is put in the position of joyfully discovering that I'm to have a new kitchen, but rudely told by my husband that I'll have nothing to do with the planning of it or the equipment that will go into it."

Shouldn't a woman be able to plan her own kitchen, she wants to know.

Good kitchen planners are hard to find. If your husband has located one, great.

* * *

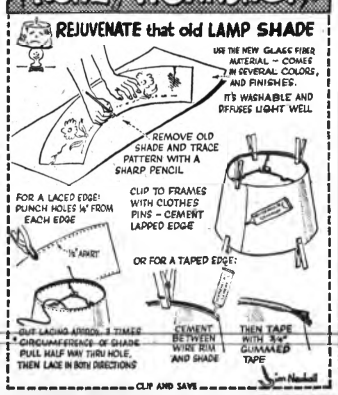

(Sneak a hint that you hope he'll have sink, range and refrigerator in a step-saving triangle.)

* * *

But the lady of the house should be able to make some suggestions about (1) the color of appliances (2) what she'd need in the way of equipment (3) preferences about such things as standing ovens vs old-fashioned range (some women prefer the old-fashioned oven) and freezer-refrigerator as against a full freezer and small refrigerator.

FLOOR PLANS: There's plenty of room to move around in this three-bedroom ranch. Note family room nearly 25' long, covered rear porch even longer, dinette-kitchen more than 19' and master bedroom 18', plus large foyer and 2½ baths.

BETTER LIVING PLUS: Architect Samuel Paul designed this stylish ranch for the family seeking features to make living free and easy; there is an abundance of architectural attractions fitting into a theme of indoor-outdoor informality.

Ranch Designed for Family Living

It has been a long time since the House of the Week series featured a home with more than 2000 square feet of living area on one floor.

This one is distinguished by more than its size (2285 square feet). It is a long, low, ground-hugging house reminiscent of the prairie ranch.

It is designed for easy family living, both collectively and individually.

An activity wing behind the two-car garage includes a huge family room with fireplace, an all-purpose room which can be used as a hobby room, den or studio, and a compartmentalized lavatory and dressing room with stall shower, a laundry and service hall.

* * *

A covered porch extends further toward the rear and merges with a tremendous patio along the entire rear of the house. Architect Samuel Paul suggests an optional outdoor swimming pool centrally located in the rear, with easy access from the family wing or from the master bedroom.

SPACE ENSEMBLE

This ensemble of space inside and out, strategically located, is conducive to recreation and informal living in general — the kind of environment where one can really feel free to do as he or she pleases.

And for more formal living, where a quiet, relaxing atmosphere is desired, the living room is located off the foyer in front of the house.

The kitchen is placed where there is complete control over the family wing and all activities on the rear patio.

* * *

Although separated from the family area by two steps and a decorative railing, the kitchen-dinette is completely open to it.

To create a flow of indoor-outdoor living, sliding glass doors are provided off the family room and den, and also off the master bedroom.

As one enters the house through a large central foyer, 13' 7" by 7' sheltered by an entrance portico, one looks through a large glass dining room wall out to the swimming pool and the rear garden.

OFF FOYER

Off the foyer is a large walk-in closet.

The bedroom wing is set off to one side at the opposite end of the activity area, thereby insuring quiet and privacy.

It includes a master bedroom 18' long, with its own bath, large closets and sliding doors going out to the rear patio.

* * *

A large hall bath which services the other two bedrooms, and which is convenient to the main foyer, is equipped with two basins and a built-in tub with overhead shower.

The combination dinette-kitchen has two sinks, a dishwasher, a countertop range and wall oven, and a 14-cubic-foot refrigerator.

A large window over the double sink looks out on to the patio and pool.

* * *

The kitchen features a pass-through to the outside, making it easy for the children and adults to get snacks and drinks without going into the house.

A two-car garage and a stairway to the basement complete the plan.

The exterior is composed of stone with random vertical siding and large windows. The low pitched roof has large overhangs for direct sun and weather protection.

Although this is a large home, its cost is not excessive because of the simplicity of shape and construction.

* * *

A supporting partition down the middle of the house not only reduces the size of the structural members, but makes handling of the framing lumber and erecting comparatively easy.

Design G-44 requires a lot of 100' by 100' to take full advantage of its many features. It is definitely a home for better living.

G-44 Statistics

Design G-44 has a living room, dining room, dinette-kitchen, large foyer, three bedrooms, family room, den, laundry, 2½ baths, a two-car garage and a covered rear porch. Total living area is 2285 square feet, excluding the garage and porch. Overall dimensions are 81' 1" by 56' 5". Although the plans call for a basement, this house could be built on a concrete slab if desired.

Follow Rules for Care of Frozen Foods

There's more to freezing food than keeping it safe for consumption.

In a modern refrigerator-freezer, properly frozen food should be as appetizing, flavorful and high in nutritive value when it leaves the freezer as when it was stored away. And it will be if a few simple rules are followed.

To safeguard the original quality and freshness of food, freeze it as soon as possible. Special directions, such as blanching vegetables or trimming meat and poultry, should be followed carefully.

The zero-degree temperature maintained in the freezer compartments in most of today's refrigerator-freezers is important for proper freezing.

* * *

It is this extreme coldness which freezes food rapidly and keeps its quality, color and flavor intact.

FLAVOR LOSS

Frozen food must also be protected from exposure to air which can cause drying out and flavor loss.

Package food tightly in foil, plastic wrap, freezer paper or containers and seal with freezer tape. The tape also makes a handy label for marking the contents, amount and storage date of each parcel.

Foods freeze best when the walls and shelves of the freezer compartment are free of frost. No-frost models maintain evenly cold temperatures, keep the freezer section clear, and prevent food packages from sticking together.

* * *

Ice will not form around the packages and labels will stay easy to read.

KNOW PERIOD

Although almost all food will stay safely and tastefully frozen for substantial periods of time, it is a good idea to know the recommended length of storage for different items.

* * *

By using frozen food during the suggested period, quality and freshness will be at their peak.

* * *

A good rule is to plan on seasonal turnover, and to use foods first which have been in the freezer longest.

Correspondence education is a method of teaching people who find it inconvenient to leave home and attend classes on college campuses.

U. S. Gave Prince Philip Do-It-Yourself Spectacular

If Prince Phillip ever becomes bored with the look of that old palace furniture, he might call on some do-it-yourself tricks he observed in America.

The 11-room suite occupied by the Prince and his staff at the Hotel Pierre in New York had a number of innovations that should be new to Britain.

Yankee ingenuity was apparent in the royal digs that included do - it - yourself ventures and gadgetry.

Put together by William Pahlmann and his staff, the decorating the Prince's interest in conservation, the navy, sports, art and gadgetry.

* * *

"We wanted to do something different, not try to compete with Buckingham Palace," Pahlmann explained.

HEADBOARD OF BED

The headboard of the bed Phillip slept in was made of two posts and a big leaf of a Sheraton dining table.

A large mule chest in the bedroom was used originally for blankets but was turned into a chest fit for a prince.

The long, six-foot chest of oak and banded mahogany had simulated drawers with hardware and opened from the top, but was converted to a more useful role for the prince by fastening the top and making real drawers out of fake ones.

Oak complemented the bedroom color scheme, red (wastepaper basket, rug, two chairs, appointment pad) and vivid blue (two chairs, bedspread, window shades painted to match draperies).

CUSTOM BED

Gadgets in the room included the bed that could be raised or lowered at either end at the press of a button, and electric ashtray for disappearing ashes and a telescope — on the theory that there would be more clear days than the Prince is accustomed to in foggy Britain.

In the blue bathroom were other gizmos — an electric toothbrush, water pick (replaces toothpicks), electric shaver, bathroom scale and a pair of art nouveau copper shields with beetle motif and inlaid with New Zealand seashells.

Outside his bathroom, the Prince's dressing room was a work of art nouveau — a handsome military chest of camphor wood and church chairs.

An art nouveau bronze and enameled vase was transformed into a lamp for his drawing room where there was a considerable collection of contemporary art including a Shakespeare collage and a $6,000 oil, "The Herring Fleet," all borrowed for the occasion.

SCULPTURE

There was a terra cotta sculpture of Fred Astaire.

Hotel furniture used in other rooms adjacent to the Prince's suite was jazzed up in a number of interesting ways.

Spatterdash, a process that involves painting the furniture and then spattering it with little specks, was used on quite a few pieces.

* * *

In one room a dark blue chest was dotted red, in another room, chest, telephone table and occasional table were dark green with lighter green specks and a few sprinkles of red. In another room blue was flecked with white.

PAINT JOBS

There were interesting furniture paint jobs — walnut-color furniture had been painted so that insets of a bisquit color were decorated with crosshatching in a Venetian blue.

Another used the bisquit color as a background with a burgandy stripe around drawers.

One long chest that had its innards removed looked handsome in a new guise, a library table, with a white marble top.

* * *

A handsome mirror combined an old red and gold Chinese carving that had been set into the top of a black framed modern mirror.

* * *

Art included owls and polo prints in the Prince's bedroom, naval battles (Nile and Trafalger) in an adjoining room, statues of Napolean and Wellington on a Siamese table flanked by French Gothic Revival chairs in the foyer.

A pretty front yard fence for a traditional house can be designed with stock spindles set between 2x4-inch rails.

Self-Lined Fabric Proves a 'Saver'

To save the cost and effect of sewing in a separate lining, look for a new-type drapery fabric with a "built-in" self-lining.

A chemical process called "cross linkage" gives the back of the fabric a pure white permanent coating for opacity and insulation against heat and cold —as well as improved drapability, crease resistance, and tensile strength.

* * *

This roc-lonized fabric is also shrinkage-controlled so it can be washed safely by hand or machine in warm soap or detergent suds.

The handsome and commercially valuable Ponderosa pine tree grows in a belt that extends from the Cascade Mountains eastward to the Rockies.

Cancer Victim Now Has Hope

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Larry Rink's second experimental cancer transplant has been completed and he is out of the hospital today with hope the operation might have prolonged his life.

Rink, 21, of Centerville, Mich., was discharged yesterday from Roswell Park Memorial Institute. He and his wife, Jean, who is expecting their first child in September, plan to visit his mother in Constantine, Mich.

In Constantine, the mother said she was told her son's travel plans had been disrupted by the nationwide airlines strike.

"We still expect him home later one way or another," she said.

He was the only survivor of a four-way series of transplants last March at Roswell Park, the state's cancer research and treatment center.

Rink lost a leg to the disease, a rare type of bone cancer called osteogenic sarcoma, before the treatment here. He is employed in a house trailer manufacturing plant in Mottville, Mich.

He returned June 5 for the second exchange. The hospital would not identify his new partner of give details of the second operation.

In the first experiment, Rink was paired with Thomas E. Welker, 21, of Conrad, Mont., who died May 19. He also exchanged tissue with Robert F. Allen, 29, of Tucson, Ariz.

Allen died May 8. The fourth participant, Harry T. Griffith, 63, of Flourtown, Pa., also paired with Allen, died April 25.

CONSENTS TO EVICTION — Ellen Borden Stevenson, former wife of the late Adlai Stevenson, is assisted by two Chicago policemen yesterday as she consented to leave her house under an eviction order. A Circuit Court jury ruled March 10 that Mrs. Steveson is incompetent to handle her financial affairs.

Drug Profiteering by Doctors to Be Investigated by Senators

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate hearings later this summer will follow the Justice Department's lead and probe for situations where doctors are profiting from drugs or devices they prescribe.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said yesterday "we're going to expand on the Justice Department action" which a day earlier accused the American College of Pathologists of promoting artificially high prices for some laboratory medical tests.

Hart heads the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee which in a few weeks will begin hearings on legislation he introduced to prohibit doctors from profiting on items they prescribe for their patients.

These hearings, and others to be held by the Monopoly subcommittee of the Senate Small Business Committee, are also expected to touch on the week-old Medicare program, rising medical costs and the drug industry:

* * *

Hart, calling a doctor's patients "captive consumers," said the "worst situation" involves doctors who own drug repackaging firms.

The physician buys big wholesale quantities of a drug under its chemical name and packages them under a trade name, Hart charged. "Then the doctor will prescribe his own drug which the druggist is required to give the patient."

Reserve Force Awaits Tests

Part-Time Soldiers Molded Last October

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selected Reserve Force — an elite band of citizen soldiers — concludes its summer training program this weekend and then faces a battery of rugged readiness tests laid down by the regular Army.

The National Guard Bureau, which has guided the force since its controversial beginning, predicts that 85 to 90 per cent of the major units will pass the tests with flying colors.

* * *

The guard bureau has added reasons for its high hopes: It has the job of proving that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was right.

The McNamara decision to eliminate the old-line organized Army Reserve and reduce the National Guard in order to concentrate on a 150,000-man ready force of part-time soldiers drew anguished cries from members of Congress, governors and veterans groups.

ON THE BOOKS

The Selected Reserve Force —SRF for short — went on the Pentagon books last October when 976 units — with three divisions and six brigades of the National Guard as its fighting corps —were organized.

Gen. Winston P. Wilson, chief of the National Guard Bureau, said these units have achieved one major objective already: to be able to move with seven days notice from local armories to a mobilization station for advanced unit training this summer.

For many SRF units, the summer training in the field was the first exposure to the difference, as one participant put it, between "moving pins around on a map in an armory and having to position and fire artillery with real tanks charging down on the unit."

The rise in imported alcoholic beverages last year amounted to 11.4 per cent over the amount imported in 1964.

AMC Eyes Rumble Seat Car for '68

DETROIT (UPI) — A sporty "experimental" American Motors Corp. car with a new-fangled rumble seat may be in production during the 1968 model year, Chairman Robert B. Evans said yesterday.

The car, called the AMX, would compete with Ford's Mustang and a number of other sporty brands scheduled for introduction with the 1967 line.

Evans said a final decision on whether to produce the sleek AMX would be made "in the latter part of the fall."

He said the rumble seat, a modern version of a feature which wowed the younger set of a generation ago, would be optional, Evans said.

* * *

The back roof, which would be the trunk lid on a normal car, is hinged at the extreme rear of the car. The roof panel and windshield swing up, opening the rumble seat.

The AMX is one of four "idea cars" AMC has been displaying in various cities. The other three are not presently scheduled for production.

Two Person Drown in Kalamazoo County

KALAMAZOO (AP) — An instructor at Western Michigan University and a Kalamazoo County man drowned in separate accidents near Kalamazoo, Kalamazoo County sheriff's officers reported Friday. Dr John E. Vollmer, 39, was believed to have drowned Thursday night while swimming alone in Pretty Lake. Sheriff's skin divers recovered the body of John Kloosterman, 61, after he apparently drowned while fishing in Gull Lake.

Hospital Aides Given Assist

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., — For 30 minutes a day, five days a week, a psychiatrist appears on television to advise, educate, calm and correct hospital aides in charge of mental wards.

* * *

Once a month, he travels 120 miles for a meeting with his staff and patients, the only time he ever sees them.

Closed-circuit television was cited today as one radical solution to the manpower shortage that exists in some state mental hospitals.

Drs. Emmet M. Kenney of the University of Nebraska School of Medicine, and Robert Osborne, clinical director of the Norfolk State Hospital, told psychiatrists attending the annual American Psychiatric Association meeting here that the staffing situation at Norfolk Hospital had become so bad that there were only four psychiatrists and two general practitioners in the entire 1,000-bed facility.

* * *

Although the hospital had 12 nurses, only five worked directly with patients.

Since the 100-bed Nebraska School of Medicine in Omaha, only 120 miles away, was amply staffed, the doctors instituted a closed-circuit TV system to help the Norfolk Hospital.

Waterford Man Faces Charge of Obscene Phoning

A 21-year-old Waterford Township man faces trial next week on an obscene phone call charge following his arrest by Pontiac police.

Norman W. Sluiter of 7048 Howell entered a plea of Innocent before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum, who set the trial for Friday and released Sluiter on personal bond.

* * *

Sluiter was apprehended by vice squad officers Thursday after an allegedly obscene telephone call had been traced to his number.

Lt. Fred L. Goines said police have formally cleared 14 previous complaints with the arrest.

Defendant Free on Bail

Boat Case Adjourned

Preliminary examination of a Waterford Township man facing a charge of manslaughter was adjourned yesterday until Aug. 16 at the request of defense counsel in the case.

* * *

The defendant, Harold Ions, 52, of 4489 Parnell is free on $1,000 bond.

He was arraigned before West Bloomfield Justice Christian Powell following the drowning of a Pontiac man in a boating collision last Sunday night.

Oakland County Sheriff's Lt. Donald K. Kratt, who headed an investigation into the accident, asked for a manslaughter warrant after witnesses testified a boat driven by Ions had run into an anchored fishing boat at a high rate of speed.

* * *

Walter Balaskey, 30, of 174 Florence was thrown from the boat and drowned. Three other persons in the boat suffered minor injuries.

Attacker 'Barely' Saved His Skin

DENVER (UPI) — A nude would-be assailant probably got a bigger surprise than his two prospective victims.

Two female employes of Children's Hospital said an attacker climbed into their apartment. After a short scuffle, the two girls tossed him out the second-floor window.

* * *

MAGAZINES

We constantly receive calls from housewives complaining that some magazine salesman or woman was at their door explaining some kind of a contest or they give a very strong sympathy appeal urging the housewife to purchase books or magazines.

Your Business Ethics Board frowns on such tactics. Buy the magazines for what they are worth and give charity to some local, legitimate agency.

The expression "counting the hand" represents bridge thought at its best. It also is fairly easy if you get in the habit of starting your count early and bear in mind that when you know how many cards a player holds in three suits then by simple subtraction from 13 you know the total in the fourth.

JACOBY

Everyone at the table except South scraped the bottom of the barrel in order to find bids. With 19 high card points, South was well within bounds when he jumped to three no-trump.

South won the second heart and went to dummy with the queen of clubs in order to lead the ten of diamonds for a finesse. West won with the king and, for want of anything better to do, returned the suit.

Usually, when both sides play the same suit one is wrong but this time both sides were playing correctly.

South checked off two hearts for West. Had West held another heart, West would have led that suit. South ran the rest of his diamonds while West followed. South checked off four diamonds. Then South took his ace and king of clubs and checked off two clubs when West discarded on the last club lead.

This meant that West had started with five spades and was still holding four of them. East therefore held only one spade.

South played his king of spades. West took his ace and led the suit back. He couldn't do anything else because he was down to spades. South ducked in dummy and let the trick ride around to his ten spot. There was no danger in the play. South knew that East had no more spades just as surely as if East had exposed his hand.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♦	1 ♠	2 ♣
Pass	3 ♦	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♦	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ A 2 ♥ K J 8 4 ♦ Q 3 2 ♣ A 10 8 6
What do you do?

A—Pass. You have already bid everything your hand calls for and probably a trifle more.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of responding one diamond your partner responds one heart to your opening club bid. What do you do now?

Answer Monday

Capital Fund Campaign Planned for November

Plans for a capital funds campaign with a goal of "more than $20,000,000" by The American Lutheran Church for its colleges and seminaries were announced in Minneapolis, Minn., this week by Dr. Fredrik A. Schiotz, president.

* * *

Blue print for the campaign is subject to final approval by the ALC convention here Oct. 19 to 26.

* * *

Tentative approval for the campaign has been voted by the ALC's Joint Council at its meeting in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, Dr. Schiotz said.

The Rev. George S. Schultz, executive secretary of the ALC board of trustees, will be given a leave of absence from his present position to assume charge of the drive, according to the plan.

Twelve ALC colleges and three theological seminaries will benefit by the funds which the drive is expected to raise.

Rapid growth of enrollment in all of the church's schools in recent years has put a burden for expansion of campus facilities, Dr. Schiotz said.

* * *

The plan provides that an intensive program of information and promotion be designed to reach each of the ALC's 5,200 congregations during the 12 month period beginning immediately after the church convention in October.

* * *

Gifts and pledges will be sought in a church-wide solicitation in November, 1967, according to the plan.

Appointed District Superintendent

Rev. John W. Mulder, former pastor of Walled Lake Methodist Church, and presently serving Henderson Memorial Church, Detroit for the past three years, was appointed district superintendent of the Saginaw Bay District by Bishop Dwight E. Loder at the annual Detroit Conference.

* * *

Rev. Mr. Mulder was associate minister for four years at Central Methodist Church serving with Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor.

During his seven years in Walled Lake a new church was built, and the church celebrated its centennial in 1958.

Instrumental in forming the Walled Lake Minister's Association, the former pastor served as its president for two years. He also helped found a youth organization to help prevent crime.

During his present ministry he was honored with a plaque in recognition of his "outstanding contribution to the Fitzgerald Community in Dynamic Human Relations."

Mrs. Mulder was secretary of the organization.

Chairman of the Detroit Conference Retirement Homes Corporation, which includes retirement homes for senior citizens at Chelsea and the Boulevard Temple home in Detroit, Rev. Mrs. Mulder is actively engaged in plans for a new retirement home to be known as For-Mor Manor to be located in Flint.

The new district superintendent will continue serving as dean of the Detroit Conference School of Missions held at Albion and his work with youth.

The Mulder family moved last week to their new home, 4091 Weiss in Saginaw.

Workers, in Mexico City for a one-week orientation program, come from the United States, Guayana, Panama, Costa Rica, Guatemala and Mexico.

Rev. Kenneth Prunty, director of youth ministries for the sponsoring Board of Christian Education at general offices of the church here, said a similar program in 1967 has been scheduled for Alaska.

Mennonite Group Selects Deacon

ELMIRA, Ont. (CP) — Old Order Mennonites "made a deacon" here recently.

The choice was made by the custom of choosing a man by lot. The method is based on Acts 1:26: "And they gave forth their lots; and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the 11 Apostles."

More than 200 horses and buggies were tethered outside the meeting house for the selection.

The deacon is in charge of the congregation's welfare. He first interviews backsliders. He must see that enough food, clothing and sustenance is available for widows and the needy.

It is an onerous position, held for life and there is no remuneration.

Dean's a Peanut Butter Nut Says His Summer Fill-In

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Comedian Dom DeLuise, who's taken over as one of Dean Martin's summer replacements, took me into his confidence and revealed to me the true nature of Dean's secret vice.

"I thought I was going to see a totally bombed guy," Dom said.

"Instead, Dean is in his room eating peanut butter. That's correct, peanut butter sandwiches. His room is full of cold cuts till it looks like an Italian wedding. And Dean is eating peanut butter, all day long he's eating peanut butter."

Dom, a Brooklyn boy who looks a little like Jonathan Winters, has made Dean his particular private hero. He most admired Dean's refusal to be restricted to the usual ways of taping TV. Dean does one dress rehearsal and then one take of the scene—and that's it.

"Dean, can you do it over?" a director may ask Dino.

"I just did it, Pal, didn't you see it?" he answers. If the director looks sad, Dean says:

"Once, Pal, once. I only do it once."

★ ★ ★

"I heard Dean say such a wonderful thing on the set of one show. There was a mixup and there were no cue cards!" Dom said.

"The director said 'It's not your fault, Dean, and it's not my fault' . . .

"Dean said, 'It's not your fault, and it's not my fault, and it's not Gregg's fault. It's nobody's fault—like Hitler.'"

LBJ Fancies Views, but Denies 'Poll Fever'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is addicted to the reading of public opinion polls — but he passed the word today that he is not really swayed by them.

At his news conference at Johnson City, Tex., Tuesday, the President reeled off poll after poll to show he is doing right well in the opinon of majorities of the surveyed citizens.

★ ★ ★

This led some newspapers to have editorial qualms — lest the President be relying too much on public pulsetaking, instead of calling the shots as his own judgment dictates.

For example, the New York Times, in an editorial entitled "Poll Fever," said: "Polls can be a useful if not always accurate tool. They are no substitute for individual judgment, which is the stuff that leaders are made of."

RELAYS REACTION

The President read that, and relayed this reaction through his press secretary Bill D. Moyers: "I agree with that — and that's what I'm doing."

Meaning that he's trying to do what he thinks is right, regardless of the polls.

★ ★ ★

The subject came up Tuesday when a reporter remarked that some recent polls "show a drop in your performance rating" and that a newspaper poll in California said Democrats there "preferred Sen. Robert Kennedy 2-to-1 over you."

The President said a number of polls come to him each day. "Mr. Gallup reported last week that we had gained 4 per cent. Mr. Harris reports today (Tuesday) that we have about 55 per cent of the total in the country."

NATIONAL POLL

He said a national poll, later identified by the White House as the Oliver Quayle survey, showed 85 per cent approved the bombing of oil installations near Hanoi and Haiphong. And he cited a number of state polls approving the Johnson record.

He said that if newsmen were interested in further details, he would see that Moyers supplied them.

★ ★ ★

At the White House Friday, Moyers read to an inquiring newsman from a stack of neat, brown-bound folders, each containing the report of a poll.

★ ★ ★

A California poll made at the President's request, Moyers said, showed 57 per cent approving the president's over-all job performance, and 43 per cent unfavorable.

Howard Plays Ralston in Semifinal Round of Western Tennis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Turner Howard, 18-year-old Tulane sophomore from Knoxville, Tenn., joined three Davis Cuppers in the Western Tennis Tournament semifinals today after carving a 6-3, 8-6 victory over Bobby Brien of Australia.

★ ★ ★

Howard faced Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., the tourney's No. 1 U.S. seed, in one of the matches. Cliff Richey of Dallas, Tex., depending champion and second-seeded behind Ralston, met Mexico's Jaoquin Loyo-Mayo in the other match.

Howard, national indoor doubles champion and a member of the Junior Davis Cup team, reeled off four straight games Friday in winning the first set.

The teen-ager said he had been looking forward all week to a semifinal shot at Ralston and cited conditioning as a big factor in his success this week on his first swing around the adult circuit.

★ ★ ★

Ralston settled down after a slow start and defeated Mike Belkin, third-seeded Canadian Davis Cupper, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3. Richey outclassed the No. 4 foreign seed, Ray Moore of South Africa, 6-2, 6-1,, while Loyo-Mayo, No. 8 foreign entry, bumped Cliff Buchholf of St. Louis, 6-2, 7-5.

In the women's singles semifinals today, Peaches Bartkowicz, 17, Hamtramck, Mich., played Peachy Kellmeyer, Charleston, W.Va., and top-seeded defending champ Nancy Richey opposed Kerrie Melville, 18, of Australia.

Esme Emanuel and Maryna Godwin of South Africa upset second-seeded Elena Subriats of Mexico and Miss Richey 6-3, 5-7, 6-4, in women's doubles Friday.

★ ★ ★

They played top-seeded Karn Krantzke and Miss Melville today for the title. The Australians ousted Mimi Henreid, Los Angeles, and Nadine Netter of Scarsdale, N.Y., 6-1, 6-3.

In men's doubles, the stage was set for a U.S.-Aussie showdown that failed to materialize in the singles. Richey and Marty Riessen, Evanston, Ill., battled Bill Bowry and Owen Davidson in one match.

In the other, Ralston teamed with U.S. indoor champ Charlie Pasarell of Santurce, P.R., against Roy Ruffels and Tony Roche.

COUNTDOWN TO ROLL CALL — The Detroit Lions will open their annual rookie training camp at Cranbrook Schools in Bloomfield Hills Tuesday so equipment manager Friday Macklem is busy now carefully laying out the gear for next week's rush. Dave Craig helps the veteran Lions' employe.

New Breed of Kaat Hands Tigers Defeat

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota Twins appeared to be a new breed of Kaat Friday night as they reversed Thursday's loss to the Detroit Tigers.

Jim Kaat, a native of Holland, Mich., was on the mound for the Twins and helped out with a two-run homer in the fourth as Minnesota defeated Detroit 6-1.

★ ★ ★

Kaat and Tigers starter Mickey Lolich each struck out the first six men faced.

In the third inning, Bill Freehan hit a single to left and, after Kaat had disposed of Dick McAuliffe and Lolich at the plate, Freehan stole second. It was his fifth steal of the season, tops for the Tigers.

Don Wert was at the plate but grounded to third, ending the inning with Freehan on base.

FIRST HIT

In the Twins' third, Bob Allison walked and Zoilo Versalles got the first hit off Lolich. But Cesar Tovar, Kaat and Rich Rollins ended the inning without a score for the Twins.

Al Kaline doubled in the fourth and Willie Horton scored him with a single.

★ ★ ★

Two freak plays in the Twins' half gave them five runs. It happened when Lolich walked Earl Battey with two out and Ted Uhlaender hit a liner to center that took a bad hop past Kaline for a double. Battey scored all the way from first.

Allison hit a high fly which got lost in the lights and fell a few feet in front of Horton for another double. Tovar lined a single to score Allison, making it 4-1.

SECOND HOMER

Kaat followed with his second homer of the season to widen the gap.

Tover grabbed two near hits from Freehan and McAuliffe in the fifth.

Bob Swift sent Joe Sparma in to pitch for Detroit in the bottom half of the fifth, and Sparma set the Twins down in order.

★ ★ ★

Norm Cash got to second on a wild pitchout by Tover in the sixth but Kaline ended the inning on a fly ball to center.

Tovar grabbed two near hits with a double and went to third on a ground ball by Kaat. Versalles scored Tovar with a single to left, making it 6-1.

Denny McLain was set to pitch against Minnesota this afternoon in the third of the four-game series.

Orioles Win as Powell Hits Homer in 9th

AL Leaders Stretch Advantage; Athletics Defeat Cleveland

By United Press International

Boog Powell, losing the battle of the bulge, is winning Baltimore's war against the American League.

Powell, ordered to hold the poundage line at 240, has added eight pounds to his 6-4 frame since the season began. And while his weight was on the upswing, his hitting took off in the same direction.

In one month, Powell has raised his average 50 points to .300 slammed 10 of his 19 homers and increased his RBI total from 26 to 67. At that time, the Orioles were tied for first place. Today, they're 8½ games ahead of their closest pursuers—the Detroit Tigers.

His RBI production Friday night wasn't spectacular, but it provided Baltimore with a 2-1 victory over California.

The 24-year-old first baseman led off the ninth inning against Marcelino Lopez by Slamming a home run over the right field wall, breaking a 1-1 tie and providing the Orioles with their 11th victory in their last 14 decisions.

Elsewhere in the junior circuit, Kansas City shaded Cleveland 2-1, New York stopped Washington 7-5 after losing 7-6 and Boston swept a pair from Chicago 3-1 and 5-1.

MAKES CONTACT

"I'm using Woody Held's theory," Powell said after the game, referring to Baltimore's utility outfielder. "Held says: 'Swing hard-in case you make contact, it's liable to go far.'"

Both opposing pitchers allowed only one hit for five innings, but Baltimore's Billy Short was forced to leave after the fifth when his pitching arm tightened. Paul Blair drove home Sam Bowens in the eighth when Baltimore tied the game 1-1.

Stu Miller, who holds the best winning percentage among AL hurlers, pitched one inning of relief and raised his record to 7-1 while snapping California's five-game winning streak.

The KC first baseman scored Bert Campaneris and Joe Nossek in the eighth when his checked swing dropped the ball behind theird base. Sonny Siebert, hurling a one-hitter through seven stanzas, lost his fourth game against 10 triumphs.

★ ★ ★

Ray Barker drove in three runs including two with a bases-loaded single during the seventh to send New York ahead 6-5 in the nightcap.

The Senators scored twice in each of the first two innings but the Yankees whittled away behind the hitting of Joe Pepitone and Mickey Mantle, who hit his 18th home run and 491st of his career.

Mantle, however, tore a muscle in his left thigh while running out a single in the fifth inning and will be out of action until after the All-Star break.

Pinch hitter Frank Howard hit a sacrifice fly with the bases filled in the opener to score Ken McMullen and break a 6-6 tie. The Senators had taken a 5-0 lead in first inning but New York came back to tie it 5-5 on homers by Mantle and Pepitone.

Tony Conigliaro tripled in a pair of runs during a four-run eighth inning as Boston took the twinbill from Chicago. Conigliaro, whose seventh-inning double was the first hit off Bruce Howard, also scored on George Scott's single.

Jim Lonborg, going the route in the opener for the first time since last August, limited Chicago to six hits. Jose Tartabull figured in two Boston runs and Joe Foy homered for another.

BEARING DOWN ON BEARS—Phil Rodgers stares as his putt moves to the cup Friday during the third round of the British Open Golf Tournament at Muirfield, Scotland. Rodgers rallied to move past the Golden Bear, Jack Nicklaus, with a sizzling 30 on the back nine—taking a two-stroke lead over-all.

Two Play Tonight at Atlanta

Lions Ready to Welcome Rookies

Two of the Detroit Lions top rookie prospects play in Atlanta tonight on the East squad in the Coaches' All-America game, then embark for the Cranbrook training camp.

The Lions will welcome 30 rookie prospects and 12 veterans Tuesday as the annual early camp opens prior to the regulars reporting next weekend.

Linemen Bill Malinchak, an end from Indiana, and guard Doug Van Horn, Ohio State, should have a head start on the conditioning phase of camp since they're playing tonight for East coach "Duffy" Daugherty (Michigan State) at Atlanta Stadium.

One rookie won't report until after the College All-Stars-Green Bay Packers' game in Chicago next month. That is lineman Bob Kowalkowski, a 6-3, 245-pound guard drafted from the University of Virginia in 1964.

The rookie camp will include 18 draftees and 12 free agents. A returning draftee is quarterback Karl Sweetan, who guided the Pontiac Arrows to the Midwest Football League title last fall and is back for a second tryout with the Lions.

Coach Harry Gilmer has three new aides on his six-man staff and is expecting to improve upon last season's slow start with an earlier reporting date for the veterans this summer.

Two National Football League all-time greats are on the staff for the first time: Sammy Baugh, the Washington Redskin's greatest passer; and Joe Schmidt, the Lions' premier middle linebacker. Lou Rymkus, a former Cleveland Brown line star, is the other new assistant.

Unlike previous training camp, this year's sessions at Cranbrook won't be open to the public.

The National Football League picked off a majority of the college standouts who will battle in the Coaches All-America game tonight.

Thirty-four of the 60 players choosen for the nationally televised game soon will be working out in NFL training camps, with 21 of the players ticketed for duty in the American Football League.

Five of the players have not been signed by either league, but they are hoping to make impressive showings that will win them pro contracts.

M. G. Collision capitalized on Talbott Lumber errors and walks for a 4-2 Class A League victory Friday night at Jaycee Park and now shares third place in the city men's league race.

The winners (7-5) scored four unearned runs in two-run sprees during the third and sixth innings, and needed only one hit to do it.

In each instance, an error and walk on the first two batters opened the scoring gates. One of Talbott's two runs also was a gift.

The teams entered the sixth inning tied, 2-2. M. G. broke the deadlock with a lead-off walk, followed by a stolen base, an infield error, another pilfered sack, a passed ball and a sacrifice fly.

After Dick Miller's double and Mike Miller's single combined to give Talbott a 1-0 second-inning lead, the lumbermen could never put more than one runner on base in an inning.

Winning hurler Bob Tuck (now 3-3 after a slow start this season) whiffed nine and walked only two. Only one Talbott runner reached second base after the third inning.

Booth Homes attempts to climb above .500 at 8 p.m. today against winless Evans Equipment.

Emily Fisher Tackles Plum in Net Final

Special to The Press

DAYTON, Ohio — Bloomfield Hill's Emily Fisher picked one plum Friday and goes after a bigger one today in the Western Junior Tennis championships.

Miss Fisher, a Kingswood School sophomore, meets top-seeded Connie Capozzi of Middletown, Ohio for the girls' 16-and-under division title today.

She ousted highly regarded 'Plums' Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, 7-5, 6-2, in Friday's semifinals. Miss Capozzi eliminated another Hamtramck girl, Nancy Ornstein, 6-2, 12-10.

Kalamazoo's Carol Hunter 17, won the 18-and-under crown Friday by defeating Ginger Pfeiffer of Springfield, Ohio, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4.

Mario Andretti Drives to Grand Rapids Win

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Mario Andretti moved from 14th starting position Friday night to win the 50-lap feature race for midget auto racers at Berlin Raceway.

Andretti, national big-car driving champion from Nazareth, Pa., took over the lead on the 21st lap from Jimmy Knight of Chicago and was never headed as he went on to establish a track record of 13:59.11.

Early Golfing Exposure Inspires Phil Rodgers

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — Phil Rodgers first handled a golf club when he was five years old, and he hit the ball right off.

"Hey," said a spectator at the driving range in San Diego, Calif. "That kid might go places some time."

★ ★ ★

Today, 23 years later, Phil leads the field in the British Open Golf Championship with a 210 starting the last round in the 72-hole test.

His five-under-par 30 on the last nine for a one-under-par 70 put him into a two-shot lead as favorite Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio faded with a 75 for a 54-hole total of 212.

The story of young Phil's first taste of golf was told by his father, Harry Rodgers, who has become a familiar figure around the Muirfield links. He watches every shot his boy makes.

WANTED TO PLAY

"Phil is a natural left-hander, but he learned with my clubs so he plays right-handed," said the elder Rodgers. "He was crazy about the game from the start.

"When he was a youngster I used to bring him home crying from the course in the evening. He would have played all night if I'd let him."

Now making his fifth try for the British Open title, the ex-Marine has a reputation as a clowner on the course. But this time he has been restraining his antics.

The British crowds love his little touches like solemnly holding his cap over his heart when the long putt goes down.

And newsmen still find it difficult to get a serious answer from him.

"Just what were you in the Marines?" one asked.

"I was one over a general," said Rodgers. "A general flunky."

Two Victories Help Gain Lead in Track

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Wins in the broad jump and shot put Friday boosted Phil Mulkey of Birmingham, Ala., into the lead of a U.S. Track and Field Federation decathlon at the University of Florida.

Mulkey, 34, a school teacher and former Olympic performer, soared 23-4¾ in the broad jump. He heaved the 16-pound shot 49-1½.

His point total after the broad jump, shot put, 100 meter dash, high jump and 400 meter run was 3,808.

Local Athlete Holds 1st Place in State Meet

Special to The Press

FLINT — Roland Garcia of the Pontiac Track Club is the halfway leader here in the junior division of the Michigan AAU Decathlon Championships.

Garcia, competing in the 18 and under division, yesterday piled up 2,607 points. Teammate Jerry Hinsperger is third with 2,433 and Jon Costello, another PTC member, holds down fifth with 2,385.

★ ★ ★

This is the first time Garcia has competed in the meet and he can wrap up the crown today with strong showings in the discus, javelin, high hurdles, pole vault and 1,500-meter run.

Costello placed fifth last year and Hinsperger was 10th.

Defending Champs Await Links Foes

The champions will be on hand next Saturday to defend their Mixed Two-Ball Foursome title at Pontiac Municipal Golf Course.

Taking the title last year were Charles Barker and his wife, Helen, who defeated Chris and Bobbi Miller in sudden death.

Course manager L.C. Barner is now taking registrations for the event. Teams reserve starting times by calling Barner at FE 5-1702.

Ex-Grid Star Victim

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Dick Christy, 31, an All-America football halfback at North Carolina State in 1957, was killed Friday in an auto accident.

Several Favorites Lose in Overtime at Forest Lake

Polish Track Aces Waiting for Decision

Team Set to Depart for U.S., but Roster Isn't Complete

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Polish track athletes leave Warsaw for Berkeley, Calif., Wednesday but the team has not yet been completely picked.

Zygmunt Gluszek, Warsaw track expert and sportswriter said in Sports Review today:

"This prolonged waiting to hear whether one is or is not on the team must reflect on the athlete's form and also cause a nervousness in the whole team, a thing we should avoid before a meeting like the Berkeley one."

* * *

Polish officials are in doubt about two stars: best middle-distance runner Witold Baran and Wladyslaw Nikiciuk, holder of the season's best javelin throw (272 feet, 10 inches).

Baran's foot was pierced by a fellow-runner's spike in a 3,000-meter race in June. Baran was forbidden to leave the track. As a result his injury worsened and kept him out of training.

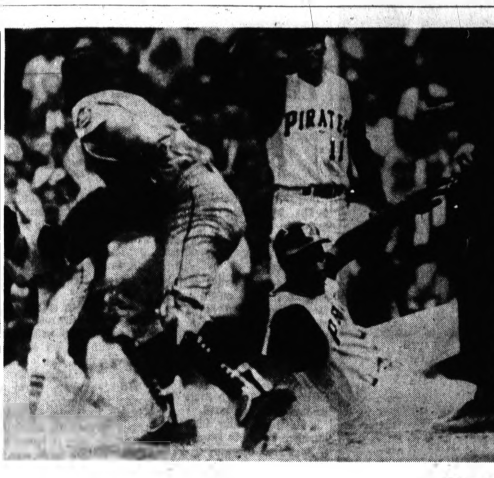

LOSING FORM

Nikiciuk's arm is in a cast and doctors will decide Tuesday if he may compete next weekend. He probably will not, but meanwhile his substitute, Jozef Glogowski, tensely awaits the final decision 'losing form and ... appetite," one of his teammates said.

World record holder Ewa Klobukowska ran her first sprint of the season at Prague, Czechoslovakia, recently. Her time was 11.5 seconds.

* * *

She was ill this winter and resumed training in June but her coach, Andrzej Piotrowski, said "I am confident Ewa will shortly return to her peak form. If she doesn't feel strong enough to run alone, she will nevertheless be a strong asset in our relay."

Extra Holes Needed in Annual Tourney

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

It was a long overtime golf day for many of the top teams in the opening round of match play of the fourth annual Forest Lake Country Club Invitational yesterday.

When play ended at 7:50 p.m. many of the top names in the star-studded tournament found themselves relegated to the consolation bracket as surprising losers.

Among the defeated players were Chuck Kocsis, Pete Green and Bob Babbish.

Those who needed sudden-death extra holes to win were past champion Harry Nederlander and Tom Draper, and outstanding GAM player Gene Woodward with Don Miller of Lochmoor.

* * *

Koscsis, playing with Red Run partner Floyd Burdette lost to Knobby Walsh and Jim McGaffin of Indianwood, 1-up, on the 19th hole when McGaffin dropped a spectacular 40-foot birdie putt.

Walsh, former assistant pro at Forest Lake and now back in the amateur ranks, hit his tee shot 40 feet past the cup. While Kocsis and Burdette were waiting to get their par, McGaffin dropped the long putt to end the match.

Nederlander and Draper took a par on the 21st hole to defeat Les Tuohy and Hal Olson after tying it on the 18th, 1-up, and Woodward and Miller were pushed to the 22nd hole by Grosse Ile players Steve Erickson and Roy Zellner before winning 1-up.

Pete Green and his father Ed were 4-3 losers to Bob Martin and Ted Schmidt of Indianwood, while defending champions George Linklater and Dr. Robert Lurie defeated Chuck Newton and William Newcomb of Ann Arbor, 3-2.

Also in the championship flight, George Prieskorn and Dan Pearsall, plus Walt Hagen, Jr. and Bill Benjamin were first round winners.

Babbish, playing with Jim Ellis was a second flight loser 1-up to Paul Eddy and Frank Pelton.

In the same flight Canadian amateur champ Nick Westlock and Forest Laker Bob Potvin won 5-4 over B. Wright and R. Thalner of Pine Lake.

The "tallest" win of the day was in the 6th flight where 6-7 Detroit Piston player Dave DeBusschere and his 6-8 partner Steve Krall defeated H. Barkley and D. Hershey, 1-up.

The semifinals and finals will be Sunday.

Gentle Style Helps Golfer

Miss Mann Pacing Buckeye Tourney

CINCINNATI (AP) — Carol Mann says the way for her to win golf tournaments is to play just the way she feels.

"I had a sort of a gentle feel today, a sort of controlled feel," Miss Mann said Friday after taking a one-stroke lead after the first round of the $20,000 Buckeye Savings Women's Professional Golf Tournament.

* * *

Miss Mann's gentle style gave her a sizzling 32-35—67 for the 18 holes—five under par for Clovernook Country Club's 6,200 yard course. The tall blonde from Pensacola, Fla., came to Cincinnati with four previous victories on this year's tour to her credit.

* * *

One stroke behind her was Clifford Ann Creed of Alexandria, La., who stands 11 inches shorter than Miss Mann's 6-feet-3.

Three other players—Althea Gibson of Englewood, N.J.; Marlene Hagge of Pensacola and Sandra Haynie of Fort Worth, Tex., were grouped at 69.

'Helped' by Waterford

Clarkston Posts Legion Upset

Coach 'Curley' Burns of the Waterford entry in the District 18, American Legion Baseball League learned Friday night that being a nice guy can haunt you.

Clarkston hurt the Waterford title chances with a 2-0 upset victory that dropped the losers (10-5) two and a half games behind red-hot league leader Farmington (13-3).

The pace-setter trimmed Milford, 7-2, for its seventh straight victory, and Southfield dumped Troy, 5-2, in the other games last evening. The Walled Lake-Berkley night game wasn't reported.

When Clarkston's new entry in the circuit had roster trouble early in the season, Burns directed some player help its way and the fortunes of Clarkston's team have improved since then.

Last night, Roger Thornton limited Waterford to three hits, struck out five and pitched out of last-inning difficulty in boosting the winners' record to 6-8.

Teammate Gilmore doubled home the only run Thornton needed.

* * *

Jerry Turner's two-hit pitching and a 13-hit attack paced Farmington's victory. Carl Misch had three hits and Mike Snearly two, plus two runs batted in, against Milford's hurling.

Four double-headers are on the league's Sunday slate.

Franks Prepares to Take Reins of NL All-Stars

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There is a possibility that manager Herman Franks of the San Francisco Giants will manage the National League All-Stars next Tuesday in St. Louis instead of Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

* * *

Alston's mother has suffered a stroke and he might go to Darrtown, Ohio, instead of the All-Star Game. Franks, whose Giants ran second to the Dodgers last year, is one of the coaches of the National League squad.

Franks said Friday night that he had been in telephone contact with Alston and "Walter told me that he would know definitely Sunday whether he'll be able to get to the game and told me to start thinking in terms of starting lineups, pitching rotation and strategy."

Franks has been studying several potential batting orders for the game in case he is called upon to manage.

Ailment Sidelines U.S. Distance Star

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Gerry Lindgren, the slim distance runner who beat the Russians in the 10,000 meter race at the 1964 U.S.-Russian Track and Field Meet in Los Angeles, probably will miss the 1966 meet later this month.

* * *

Lindgren said he still is recuperating from an attack of tracheal bronchitis and his doctor has "laid me off for one week.

"I've been running as much as I could," said Lindgren, "but I have been coughing and my throat gets sore when I'm working out."

The layoff would put the Washington State University sophomore out of the U.S.-Polish meet in Berkeley, Calif., July 16-17.

Billiards Ace to Miss Show

Cancer Overrules Last Wish

NEW YORK (UPI) — This particular young man didn't ask too much.

All he really wanted was to keep living until this week coming up, but he never made it.

* * *

His name was Harold Worst, he came from Grand Rapids, Mich., and any affecionado of the sport will instantly recognize that name as one of the foremost in the entire history of billiards.

Before he died of cancer at the age of 37 June 16, Worst, frequently referred to as Willie Hoppe's "protege," won the world three-cushion championship, the national snooker crown and the world all-around Pocket billiards title, making him the only man ever to capture those three championships.

WAS AWARE

Worst was aware he had contracted cancer of the lymphatic system early in 1962 but he didn't go around advertising his trouble.

He knew he didn't have long to live but that didn't stop him from traveling to Johnston City, Ill., and competing in the all-around Pocket billiards championship last October.

Worst won the title and his victory was filmed by ABC-TV, which scheduled it to be shown on the Wide World of Sports on July 16.

That was the day Worst was waiting for.

"I'd like to see it on television before I die," the stricken champion told George Jansco, promoter of the all-around pocket billiards championship.

As the days dragged along and Worst's condition deteriorated, he said to his brother, Carl:

* * *

"I wonder why they're holding it up. How come they haven't released it yet."

Carl Worst then got in touch with ABC officials and told them about his brother's eagerness to see the championship on TV before he died. So they moved up the showing to June 25.

Then when Harold Worst died on June 16, the network officials thought it might be in poor taste to show the film only nine days later. They wondered whether it might offend anyone to show it at all.

But Carl Worst called them up and said he knew his brother would have wanted the film to be shown more than anything else. And so it will be on July 16.

NO VANITY

It wasn't a matter of vanity at all with Harold Worst, his brother, Carl, explained today from his home in Grand Rapids.

"Harold's prime reason for wanting the championship to be shown on television had to do with the image of the game," said Carl Worst.

"He wanted the people to see for themselves the difference between a tournament type player and the so-called pool hustler.

* * *

"All his life, Harold worked to raise the public image of billiards. He had a conservative, Puritan-type upbringing and he knew many of his friends did not have a tolerance for billiards.

"He wanted them to see that it actually can be a high type game."

Franklin 9 Surprises Boys' Club

A final Northside Boys Club rally fell short Friday night and Franklin upset the previously unbeaten city Junior Baseball Class D nine, 5-4, to tighten the race considerably.

The loss dropped the boys club into a first place tie with P.O.A. and left Franklin only one game off the pace.

Franklin needed three pitchers to subdue Northside, with Larry Kirchner replacing winner Lee Juett in the seventh and retiring the boys club with the tying run on third and the winner on second.

Lyle Walters lifted a one-out sacrifice fly in the last of the seventh to score the deciding marker as Clarkston nipped Bloomfield Hills, 5-4 in the other "D" game.

The F.O.P. Yankees thumped the Auburn Heights Boys Club Preps, 9-2, for their fourth straight without a loss in the Class E American League.

Doug Turner's no-hitter stopped Webb Fuel, 9-0, as the Moose team remained right behind unbeaten Lakeland in "F" American action.

Big Dragsters Top Feature

DETROIT — Big fuel-burning dragsters and match race cars from the NASCAR Fueler Circuit will be featured at Motor City Dragway, 26 Mile, east of Edsel Ford Freeway, tonight.

A field of more than 20 of the nitro powered cars including such famous rail dragsters as Roland DeLong's "Hawaiian," and the Frantic Four will compete against such stock-appearing, but equally speedy, cars as Roy Steffy's 1966 Mercury Comet Cyclone.

Time trials begin at 6:30 with the first race at 8 p.m.

After Speed Record

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Art Arfons, who lost the world land speed record for jet-powered vehicles to Craig Breedlove last fall, has set Aug. 7-19 fod another bid.

Curtailment in Deer Quotas Gets Approval

Other Hunting Laws About the Same as Former Years

HIGGINS LAKE (UPI) — The Conservation Commission Friday approved deer hunting regulations which will result in a "substantial cut" in this year's kill of does and fawns.

The commission approved a quota of 15,000 antlerless deer for the Upper Peninsula — 14 per cent below last year — and a quota of 18,750 in the Northern Lower Peninsula — 55 per cent under the quota for last year.

* * *

The combined figures for the northern two-thirds of the state average out to a 43 per cent cut in the quota.

The number of permits available was also reduced. the Upper Peninsula will be issued 62,000 and the Northern Lower Peninsula 71,000.

The commission said adequate food supplies in the Southern Lower Peninsula have resulted in a rapid increase in the deer herd.

The commission consequently approved a quota of 22,000 does and fawns — eight per cent higher than last year. It will issue 9,600 permits for the area.

SAME DATES

Under legislation passed last year, the commission affirmed the dates for a split firearm deer season — Nov. 12-Nov. 27 in the Upper Peinsula and Nov. 19,Dec. 4 in the Lower Peinsula.

The bow and arrow season will be the same as last year.

The commission made no changes in the early and regular bear sseason and for the second straight year bears will be protected in the Lower Peninsula because of a low population.

The commission also reminded hunters that there will be no elk season this year.

There was a season for the last two years on the Pigeon River in the Lower Peninsula, but the Legislature did not renew the season for this year.

The commission said last year's quail season in 15 Lower Peninsula counties will be repeated this year and extended to Berrien, Cass, Clinton, Ionia, Livingston and Shiawassee counties. The season is Nov. 11-15 with the same bag limit as last year.

The turkey season will be repeated in Allegan County and expanded to include areas of Lake, Oceana, Mason and Newaygo counties and Beaver Island.

The commission also ordered no hunting signs posted in Iron and Menominee counties and on Drummond Island for prairie chickens and sharp-trailed grouse because of a decline in the numbers of the birds.

Can't Escape Tragedy

SUPERIOR, Wis. (AP) — Robert Kaarto, 23, an auto race driver was killed at the Tri-State Speedway Friday night when his old-model stock car caught fire. Witnesses said Kaarto was hit by another car as he leaped out of his burning auto.

Roostertail Chosen Smirnoff Successor

DETROIT (AP) — Owners of the wrecked hydroplane Smirnoff have renamed another boat to replace it and Bill Cantrell will return to racing to pilot the craft, it was announced Friday.

Gale's Roostertail, owned by Gale Enterprises, will replace the Smirnoff destroyed in last Sunday's Gold Cup accident which killed driver Chuck Thompson, said Joseph A. Schoenith and J. Lee Schoenith of Gale Enterprises Inc. Gale enterprises also owned the ill-fated Smirnoff.

* * *

Cantrell, who started the season as Smirnoff's driver, indicated earlier this year that he was through as an unlimited hydroplane driver.

Smirnoff U-80, a strong contender in unlimited hydroplane racing circles in the past two years, will be entered in the sport's next event in Kelowna, B.C., July 17, its owners said.

SAME POINTS

The new Smirnoff will carry on the number and point standings of the original.

"Although we had originally considered leaving the circuit for the rest of the season," Joe Schoenith said, "we have since realized that quitting would be an ill-chosen memorial to Chuck Thompson, who devoted his life to boat racing."

Schoenith also cited obligations to employes, commitments to sponsors and personal love of racing as factors in the decision to continue.

Ex-Slugger Named to Hall of Fame

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mike McCormick, whose potent bat helped Cincinnati win the 1940 World Series from Detroit, has been elected to the Reds Hall of Fame.

The 49-year-old former outfielder, who now lives at Ventura, Calif., will be installed into the Hall of Fame July 28 along with two old timers whose names will be announced later.

McCormick was selected by Reds fans. His closest rivals were infielders Grady Hatton and Bobby Adams, who both came to Cincinnati in 1946.

Veterans' Benefits—5

Job Preference, Reinstatement Rights

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the 5th in a 17-part series on veterans' benefits.)

By RAY CROMLEY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Federal employment preference and private and government job reinstatement rights are now granted to most cold war veterans on the same basis as to veterans of World Wars I and II and Korea.

You are eligible for federal employment preference if you have served 181 days on active duty since Jan. 31, 1955, or if you're a veteran of World War I or II or Korea or have served in a peacetime campaign or expedition for which a badge or service medal is authorized.

Veterans disabled in service are eligible regardless of how long they have served on active duty or when.

Active duty for training purposes such as that undertaken by reservists does not count.

For eligible veterans, five points are added to a passing score in competitive examinations for jobs in the federal civil service.

Veterans awarded a Purple Heart for a wound received in action, or who now have a service-connected disability, or who receive compensation, disability retirement benefits or a pension receive a 10-point preference.

In addition to the point preference, time in active military service is credited toward the experience required for an assortment of government positions.

That is, military experience gives you the equivalent of seniority in experience in the type of position held before service. Actual experience gained in the armed forces also counts toward eligibility for appropriate government jobs.

★ ★ ★

Under some conditions, regardless of point scores, veterans' names are put at the head of a civil service list of eligible applicants for a particular type of job. Usually this privilege is extended to disabled veterans. But this special preference does not apply to positions requiring considerable technical or administrative training.

WAIVE RESTRICTIONS

In most instances, age, height and weight restrictions are waived for veterans applying for civil service jobs.

Veterans already in federal employment have "preference for retention" when a reduction in force takes place.

In some cases, a 10-point veteran's preference for federal civil service jobs may be authorized for the wife of a veteran with a service-connected disability, the unremarried widow of a veteran, the mother of a deceased veteran and the mother of a veteran with a service-connected disability which is total and permanent.

★ ★ ★

To be eligible, the mother must be widowed, separated or divorced from her husband or her husband must be totally disabled.

SERVICE REPRESENTATIVES

Federal civil service representatives are located in most first and second-class post offices. They can provide you more detailed information.

If you have left your job (unless it's a temporary post) to enter the U.S. Armed Services as a volunteer, draftee or reservist, you have specific re-employment rights.

These apply whether you left a private or a government job and whether you are a cold-war veteran, a hot-war veteran or have simply been up for a short period of reserve duty for training.

★ ★ ★

To be eligible, you must have served no more than four years of active duty, unless the additional service is imposed by law. Furthermore, upon seperation you must be qualified to perform the duties of your former job.

JOB GUARANTEE

If you meet these qualifications, you are guaranteed your former private or government job, or a job of like seniority, status and pay.

There's an exception, however. In private employment, you get your old job back unless "things have so changed as to make restoration impossible or unreasonable."

Usually, a veteran must apply to his former employer within 90 days after separation from active service or release from hospitalization.

★ ★ ★

Reservists and national guardsmen who perform an initial period of three to six months of active duty for training must apply within 31 days of their release from active duty or from hospitalization.

REPORT BACK

An employe given leave of absence for training duty must report for work on the next regularly scheduled workday after he is released from duty or hospitalization, with allowance for necessary travel time.

Veterans hospitalized for more than one year after release from active duty lose their re-employment rights.

If your private employer refuses to re-employ you, you should contact the U.S. Department of Labor's Office of Veterans' Re-employment Rights through the nearest state employment office.

★ ★ ★

Veterans denied their federal re-employment rights should contact the nearest regional office of the Civil Service Commission.

Ex-Criminal Gives Credit to Graham

LONDON (UPI) — A 19-year-old Briton who surrendered to police and confessed to 40 burglaries has credited American evangelist Dr. Billy Graham with converting him from a life of crime.

★ ★ ★

"I know I am going to be punished," Stephen Harvey told two court magistrates yesterday, vowing that "If I do have to go to prison, I will make a fresh start."

The magistrates, who heard Harvey confess to burglarizing 40 shops, were told he had been leading the life of a criminal since he was 15 and that he was thrown out of his home by his father because of his lawlessness.

Harvey's father was in the courtroom. He said he talked to his son in his cell and now wanted the youth to come back home.

★ ★ ★

"I didn't appear to be talking to the same son," the father told the magistrates. "He has completely change. I can't grasp it."

Ex-Regent Heads Microfilm Board

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Eugene B. Power, who resigned from the board of regents of the University of Michigan, yesterday was elected chairman of the board of University Microfilms, Inc.

★ ★ ★

It was Power's connection with the company, a subsidiary of Xerox Corp., that led to the controversy over possible conflict of interest on the part of Power since the major customer of the microfilm company is the university.

★ ★ ★

Power was elevated from the presidency. Replacing him in that spot is James Lundy, 35, who also will serve as chief executive officer of the company.

Pontiac Woman Leaves Laundry After 37 Years

A Pontiac woman, Mrs. Loran E. Shelton, 61, of 803 Monticello retired yesterday from Oakland County's Central Laundry where she was employed for 37 years.

★ ★ ★

Fellow employes held a luncheon Thursday for Mrs. Shelton, a supervisor at the Service Center facility.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Shelton and her husband plan to visit in the State of Washington this summer. Yesterday was her last day on the job.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOHN Kent, who passed away July 9, 1965.
He had a smile, a pleasant way,
A helping hand to all he knew
He was so generous and true.
On earth he nobly did his best
Grant him, Jesus, heavenly rest.
Sadly missed by wife, son, and daughters.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF GLORIA Chambers Hawkins, who left us one year ago July 10, 1965.
Bid not the hands of time, for me, to wait;
Let every moment count, nor say too late,
For life is good. Strive to the last
To live it well; what's past is past.
Remembered in love by Mom and Dad Chambers.

IN MEMORY OF GLORIA D. Gawkins, who passed away July 10, 1965.
So much like a sister,
Yet only a friend
I still sadly miss her,
But He needed her smile,
And her heart full of love,
For His own special angel
In His Heaven above.
Sadly missed by Peggy Swan and family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF TILLIE M. Atwood, who passed away July 9, 1963.
While you, dear Grandmother, rest and sleep;
Your loving memory we'll always keep.
Sadly missed by Audrey Brewer & Family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear Mommy and Daddy, Mr. & Mrs. Albert E. Rose, who passed away July 10, 1965.
Gone but not forgotten.
Sadly missed by children, Bobby, Johnny and April Lynn Rose.

Sad Trip Home for Latin Child

Miami, Fla. (AP) — A chubby girl of 6 leaves the United States today to return to her home on the edge of the Colombian jungle.

She probably will never sleep in a bed again, eat an ice cream, ride in an automobile, or enjoy a warm bath. She also may never laugh again. She is going blind and there is no cure.

Gladecita Mosquero didn't know how to laugh — she rarely even smiled — when she was brought to Miami two weeks ago.

Now she must return to Bogota and her benefactors must tell some of the most powerful people in Colombia, people who moved bureaucratic mountains to make the trip possible, that it failed.

MUST TELL PARENTS

They also must tell Gladecita's parents, whose faith in the United States is boundless, and then explain that Gladecita's sister, 10 months, also probably never will see, because the trouble is hereditary. They also hope to tactfully suggest that any other children also may be doomed to blindness.

* * *

"It's the saddest trip of my life," said Ian Glass, whose wife and five children gave Gladecita a home while a battery of specialists searched for a cure. "It may also be the most difficult. These are very simple people. They have great faith in the United States."

"I'm not sure what will be said or how we will say it," Glass said.

Glass, Sunday editor of the Miami News, and Terry Johnson King, a writer, met Gladecita at the village of Los Micos after a safari up the Guaviare River last winter.

5 Hospitals Given Medicare Checks

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Medicare payments have been delivered to at least five hospitals and first checks should be received by others throughout the nation next week, Social Security officials said today.

With the government-operated program of health insurance for the elderly just one week old, officials said checks had been received by Hartford Hospital, Hartford, Conn; Holmes Hospital, Cincinnati, Ohio, and three hospitals in the state of Washington — Midvally in Omak, Samaritan in Moses Lake, and General Hospital in Everett.
