VICTIMS OF DISASTER — This woman and her grandchildren are among the earthquake refugees in Varto, Turkey. They are shown in one of the few buildings left standing in Varto. The building was turned into a hospital. It is feared the death toll will pass 3,000.

Two New Temblors Hit Turkey

ERZURUM, Turkey (AP) — Two new earth shocks today struck rubble towns of eastern Turkey, where the government launched a massive campaign to fight hunger and disease among thousands of refugees from last week's killer earthquake.

The new temblors caused little damage and no casualties to add to the toll from Friday's disastrous quake — 2,300 bodies counted, with estimates 3,000 may have died. But the shocks spread fear and panic among the people, many sleeping in the open.

Relief crews ministered to 2,300 injured and the thousands left homeless. Others dug through the ruins of homes in towns and villages looking for more victims.

Health officials were afraid a cholera epidemic raging across the border in Iraq might spread north to Turkey.

For the peasants, the main fear was not disease but a recurrence of the major quake. Both small quakes came before dawn this morning and followed after shocks Saturday and Sunday.

OPEN FIELDS

The peasants slept in the open fields, under cone-shaped tents or wrapped in thick blankets.

Health Minister Edip Somuncu ordered mass inoculations against typhoid and told local health officials to add chlorine to drinking water.

Bodies uncovered from debris were being buried as soon as possible, often even before identification.

Some survivors asked for picks and shovels to dig out their dead relatives, later wrapping the corpses in bed sheets and squatting around them in tears for hours.

Harmony Grows for State Dems

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Solidarity was growing in Michigan Democratic ranks today, following the party's weekend nomination convention.

The gathering of more than 2,000 Democrats provided a platform for the first public display of party harmony since the Aug. 2 U.S. Senate primary election battle between ex-Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh.

Democratic Candidates in State Listed

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Here is a list of Democratic candidates nominated on the party's ticket at Saturday's state convention.

Nominated for governor, Zoltan Perency; lieutenant governor, John B. Bruff; attorney general, Frank J. Kelley; secretary of state, James M. Hare; State Supreme Court, Thomas J. Kavanagh and Otis Smith.

Nominated for the State Board of Education, Dr. Leon Filt and Donald M. D. Tharber; University of Michigan Board of Regents, John J. Collins and Mrs. Irene Ellis Murphy; Michigan State University board, Warren Huff and Nathan Conyers; and Wayne State University Board of Governors, Leslie R. Schmier and Mrs. Joan McKee.

MONTREAL (AP) — Union leaders announced at a news conference today that Canada's major railways will be struck at noon Friday by 120,000 employees to enforce wage demands.

Hope for Peace Talks Tied to DeGaulle Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today French President Charles de Gaulle's scheduled visit to Cambodia might produce some first steps toward Viet Nam peace negotiations.

Mansfield said in an interview that de Gaulle's discussions with Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian chief of state, are certain to include possible means of ending the war.

The French leader is scheduled to arrive in Cambodia Aug. 28.

"These discussions will might produce some tentative steps toward negotiations," he said.

He added that while de Gaulle has criticized the U.S. course in Viet Nam, he believes the French president would do what he can to end the fighting.

Mansfield noted that de Gaulle is maintaining communications with Hanoi and recently has stepped up the ranking of the French commercial mission there.

"I think Hanoi would be likely to give its attention to any suggestions that de Gaulle might make," he said.

Mansfield, who has conferred several times with Sihanouk on visits to Cambodia, said that after de Gaulle's visit the prince may be more amenable to visit by U.S. roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

Sihanouk postponed a proposed visit by Harriman next month because of the U.S. bombing of a village which the prince claims is in Cambodian territory.

In other developments yesterday:

• Former White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said that if President John F. Kennedy were still alive, he probably would be running the Viet Nam war much as President Johnson has.

The pace of the war stepped up in 1964, a year after Kennedy died. But Salinger said "we must consider it in the light of his commitment to an American presence there in Viet Nam. The commitment was clear."

• Sen. Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii, advocated the bombing of Haiphong harbor to halt the flow of munitions into North Viet Nam.

He said if that measure had been taken 1½ years ago — when the Republicans advocated such a move — "probably the conflict would have been ended."

In the interview, Mansfield said he fears the internal upheaval in Communist China — which appears to have installed Defense Minister Lin Biao as second man to Mao Tse-tung — will result in a hardening of anti-American policies.

"It is not usual for the Communists to put a military man in this position," he said.

"It points in the direction of a step up in China's military forces and a hardening of the policy of hatred toward the United States."

• Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a Foreign Relations Committee member, said in a separate interview, however, he doesn't believe that China is nearly as responsible for keeping the Vietnames fighting going as the Soviet Union.

Market Skids Through Its 6th Session

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market skidded in heavy trading today, marking the sixth straight session of decline.

At noon, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks dropped to 796.16 points, off 6.46 from the Friday close. The last time the average closed below 800 was on Feb. 27, 1964.

In February, the Dow almost touched 1000, a major milestone. The stockbrokers were optimistic.

Now they are pessimistic, citing uncertainty over the course of the war in Viet Nam and the future of the government's fiscal policy, inflation, the balance of payments problem, fear for the British pound and its possible consequences for the dollar, the airline strike and the breakthrough in the administration's wage-price guideposts which leaves some of the biggest companies — General Electric, General Motors, Western Electric — facing difficult wage negotiations.

Cavanagh, who had opposed Williams against the advice of party powers, was welcomed back into the fold Saturday.

His address was filled with praise for Williams and was interrupted 12 times by applause, mostly at the mention of Williams' name.

ACCEPT DECISION

"I accept the decision (of the voters) and I look forward to the day when G. Mennen Williams will represent us in the United States Senate," Cavanagh said.

He then turned his guns on U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., saying the Republican

Big 3 Indicate No Labor Talks

Answer on Contract Reopening Due Today

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry's Big Three indicate they will turn down today a United Auto Workers request that labor contracts be reopened to grant immediate raises to skilled workers.

General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. planned to give their answers to the union this afternoon.

The three biggest car makers hinted during the weekend that they would reject the UAW's request to reopen contracts to talk over wage demands of nearly 100,000 skilled tradesmen. The union asked for a reply by today.

In last-minute news releases, the firms said their 700,000 production workers will get automatic pay hikes totaling $160 million two weeks from now.

Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford, said reopening of the contract would be "inadvisable," and added: "There is a contract and I think they ought to live with it."

Besides the upcoming pay hike, provided for by the contract, the union and industry officials have agreed workers may get an additional one or two cents hourly through cost-of-living escalators in the past. Furthermore, the firms said, hourly rated employees will get everything hospital-medical benefits Sept. 5.

WAGE INCREASE

The UAW wants the labor pacts reopened — they don't expire until Sept. 6, 1967 — to give skilled workers an immediate wage increase of at least 50 cents hourly.

The skilled tradesmen said they are underpaid for their work in auto plants in comparison with wages for similar skills elsewhere.

The tradesmen said tool and die makers in auto plants receive $3.97 an hour but they cited wages of $4.43 hourly for carpenters and $5.20 hourly for electricians in the Detroit area.

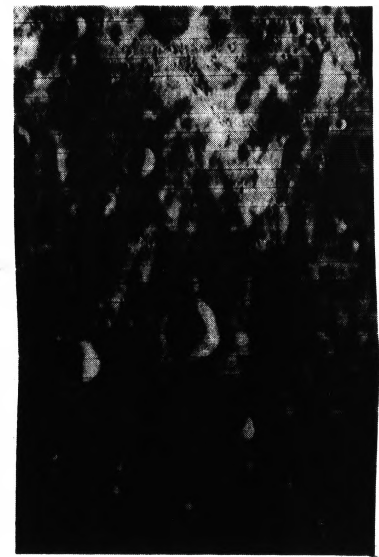

There were indications the 600,000 unskilled and semiskilled production workers would ask for the right to bargain over new wages if contracts were reopened.

2 City Nines in State Finals

Two Pontiac junior baseball teams reached the finals of their respective Michigan Recreation Association championships at Jackson this morning with semifinal round victories.

The Pontiac Officers' Association Class D squad beat Battle Creek Lakeview, 6-5, and was to meet the Plymouth Optimist team at 2:15 p.m. for the state title.

The Fraternal Order of Police Yankees reached the E finals against Dearborn by whipping Holland Aerosol, 8-1.

Orbiter Photographs Apollo Landing Zone

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The U.S. Lunar Orbiter snapped its first pictures of the Apollo astronaut landing zone today but scientists said it would be several days before the public could see them.

The 850-pound spacecraft took 16 twin-picture frames at an altitude of about 35 miles above the dry Sea of Fertility, a dark-colored equatorial plain on the right side of the moon.

This area is about 900 miles west of the region covered by Lunar Orbiter's earlier photographs of the far right edge of the lunar disc. The earlier pictures were taken from a height of about 130 miles.

A U. S. Space Agency spokesman said radioed data indicated that the camera's shutters and film moved but there was no way of knowing the quality of the pictures until they are sent to earth later.

Many of the photographs taken by the camera's high resolution system, designed to show objects as small as a card table from its present altitude, have been blurred. His medium resolution pictures, showing less detail, have all been good.

The area covered today is known as Site 1 of nine potential astronaut landing areas in the lunar equator.

Site 2, farther west in the Sea of Tranquility, was to be photographed later today.

Rain to End This Evening

Scattered showers and thunderstorms that covered the Pontiac area yesterday and today should end this evening, the U.S. Weather Bureau predicts.

It will be cooler tonight with partial clearing lows of 55 to 60.

Tomorrow will be partly sunny and cool with highs of 70 to 78.

Winds will be west to northwest 8 to 15 m.p.h. late today and northwest 12 to 20 m.p.h. tomorrow.

Precipitation probabilities are 60 per cent today, 30 per cent tonight and 10 per cent Tuesday. Sixty-nine was the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac today. The mercury had climbed to 70 by 1 p.m.

State Dems Tap an 'Unknown'

GRAND RAPIDS (U) — A tall young man who says he was bachelorette in college and once shared a law practice with two conservative Republicans is the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor.

He's John B. Bruff, 37, of Mount Clemens, who went to the weekend Democratic state convention looking for a different job—but accepted the tap on the shoulder from gubernatorial candidate Zolton Ferency.

"I believe in being a candidate for office if it's necessary," Bruff told a newsmen as he sat backstage writing his acceptance speech.

"If the party says I'm wanted, I really had no choice. There were no personal considerations involved," he said.

AN UNKNOWN

That he was asked in the first place was a surprise to delegates, most of whom didn't know Bruff.

But Ferency, a long-time friend of Bruff, picked the former Air Force legal officer in football and basketball at the hope he can help recapture normally Democratic Macomb County from Republican Gov. George Romney.

The party leadership couldn't come up with an acceptable running mate known statewide for Ferency. Their best possibility, former State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, said flatly Friday night he wasn't interested.

Bruff, an active alumnus of Michigan State University, wanted to run for the MSU Board of Trustees.

GOT THE WORD

"But at 7:30 Friday night I got word from an intermediary that Zolton wanted to see me," Bruff related. "I went up and he told me after consultation with Neil Staebler (national committeeman), aides to Menen Williams (U.S. Senate candidate) and later leaders that I was his nominee for lieutenant governor."

Bruff, a 6-foot-5, 225-pound friend of Bruff, picked the former Air Force legal officer in football and basketball at Cheesaning, made one check with East Detroit Mayor Edward Bonier, favorite son candidate from Macomb County.

Bonier promptly withdrew although some Macomb politicians think he might have helped the ticket more than Bruff.

Bruff moved to Mount Clemens in 1955 after leaving the Air Force.

LAW PRACTICE

"I was in law practice with two archconservative Republicans who didn't object to my political activities," he recalled.

He went to work politically in 1956, and wound up managing campaigns for U.S. Rep. James O'Hara. Bruff lost in the 1960 Macomb County prosecutor primary election but was elected circuit court commissioner in 1962. He resigned that job after two years.

Perhaps buoyed by the sight of delegates wearing "Bruff" signs with the "MSU Trustee" portion torn off the bottom, the political unknown grasped hands with Ferency and told the shouting delegates:

"With the enthusiasm of this convention, I'm sure the November election will be a breeze."

3 in Coast Guard Honored for Rescue

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI) — Two Coast Guard pilots and an enlisted crewman from the Coast Guard station at Selfridge Air Force Base received awards Saturday for their rescue of four persons from Lake St. Clair.

Lieutenants Lonnie Mixon and Thomas Watkins and enlisted man Edward Harwood made the rescue two weeks ago after the four jumped into the water when their boat exploded.

The awards held a special significance for the man who presented them, Mount Clemens American Legion commander Melvin Trombley. He was one of the persons rescued.

Albion Plant Walkout Ends

ALBION (UPI) — Production at the Albion Malleable Iron Co. was back to normal today following the end of a four-day walkout by members of Local 474 of the United Auto Workers Union.

The striking workers held a meeting yesterday and voted to end their unauthorized walkout, which began Wednesday after a union steward was discharged. Workers began returning to their jobs last night.

Local president Willie Whitehead said the question of the discharged employee will be taken up at a meeting with company officials.

Avon Asks U.S. to Aid Sewer, Water Systems

AVON TOWNSHIP — Applications for federal aid in financing the township's proposed new water and sewerage systems should be in the hands of Federal Housing and Urban Development Department officials within a month, according to Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller.

Miller recently received a favorable reaction from department officials when he reviewed plans for the water system with them in Chicago.

He estimated that the cost of the project would run to about $7 million.

Tentative approval for the $7.8-million townshipwide sanitary sewerage system was received early in July from the department.

Plans for the two projects were drawn up by the township engineers, Johnson and Anderson, Inc., after a year-long study financed by a $132,000 federal grant.

FIFTY PER CENT

The grants, if approved, could cover up to 50 per cent of the total cost of the two projects.

Miller, however, said he doubted that the township would receive the maximum aid, even though it technically satisfies all requirements.

The department's funds, he said, are limited and therefore only the most depressed areas are being considered for full program participation.

Miller indicated that the completed system would eventually tie in with the Detroit water system, although details in that area have yet to be worked out.

The system originally was designed to include eight communities but the withdrawal of Pontiac and Orchard Lake have cut the number to six.

Four of the six have decided to join the system, leaving only Avon and Independence townships still undecided.

Miller indicated that he had met with little success in his efforts to have the township's share of the project cost reduced.

He said the township board might make a final decision on the matter this week.

Avon Township is now slated to absorb 26 per cent of the $28,627,500 total cost of the project.

Individual municipalities are not eligible for federal aid in financing their parts in the Clinton-Oakland system.

Dr. Graham Edgar devised the octane scale for gasoline in 1926.

220 From County in State 4-H Show

Some 220 4-H Club members from Oakland County will be among more than 3,000 from all over Michigan entered in this week's 51st annual State 4-H Club Show at Michigan State University.

The show opens tomorrow and will continue through Friday.

The youngsters earned the right to enter their exhibits and demonstrations in the state show by winning top honors on the county level.

More than 1,200 of those participating will have a leadership role.

State winners, who will represent Michigan in national competition in Chicago this fall, will be chosen at the show, along with winners who will receive scholarships, Michigan field trip awards, and other special prizes.

HIGHLIGHT

Exploring career opportunities will be one of the highlights of the event. The MSU campus will give 4-H'ers an opportunity to visit with scientists in their laboratories and explore the new veterinary science complex with campus veterinarians.

Many will be able to visit university specialists and obtain first-hand knowledge about career fields.

A market livestock show has been added to the program this year, and much of the state's "prime beef" will be on exhibit. No sale will be held since many of the animals will be exhibited at the Detroit Junior Livestock Show later in the year.

The 4-H State Show is sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service, with facilities which place the show in a unique position among other states.

1-Car Mishap Hospitalizes 5

ATTICA TOWNSHIP — Five members of a New York family are in fair or satisfactory condition in two area hospitals to follow a one-car accident yesterday on Inlay City Road.

According to the Lapeer County Sheriff's department, the car driven by 22-year-old Nancy McKeever of Brooklyn, N.Y., ran off the edge of the road, hit a ditch and rolled over.

Undersheriff Clarence Saunders said he discovered the car apparently right after the accident, while on his way to work about 7:30 a.m.

Nancy McKeever, her mother, Carol, 49, and her aunt, Rose, 55, are in satisfactory condition at Lapeer County General Hospital.

Her father, John 50, and her sister, Karen, 18, are in fair condition at Hurley Hospital, Flint.

Growth Hits Detroit

Water Plan Is Revised

The Detroit Department of Water Supply has been forced to revise the program of expansion for its water system because of the growth not previously anticipated.

A report from the department points out that areas not expected to be served with Detroit water until 1965 have already joined the system.

By 1970 it is anticipated that 4.8 million persons will be served by the Detroit system. The number is expected to rise to 6.2 million by 1980 and will reach 8 million by the year 2000.

Much of the expansion is caused by the development of the Lake Huron Project. A water source in Lake Huron, once sought independently by Flint and Detroit, is coming into existence sooner than expected.

Flint has signed a contract with Detroit for water by June 1967.

The addition of Flint to the system has opened new areas for development along the pipeline route, causing reevaluation of population, water demand and construction estimates.

The first stage of the Lake Huron Project is a 33-mile-long, 8-foot pipeline from the North Service Center in Troy to the site of a pumping station northeast of Inlay City and 23 miles of 6-foot pipeline from that point west to within 10 miles of Flint.

These pipelines are to be completed next year.

Hit-Run Mishaps Kill Two as 11 Die on State Roads

By the Associated Press — Hit-and-run drivers killed two persons as a total of 11 died in traffic accidents over the weekend.

A 31-year-old Deford man, Joseph J. Hawley, was struck by a car while walking south on Bayport Rd. Sunday in Huron County. The driver of the car stopped to help Hawley, who was then run over and killed by a second car which sped away.

Police said the driver of the car that first struck him was not held.

The Wayne County Sheriff's office said today it is waiting for the driver of a car that struck and killed Douglas Sweeney, 15, of Taylor Township, on Eureka Rd. in Romulus Township Saturday.

Sheriff's deputies said the driver of the car agreed to give himself up after his car's license number was traced to Ohio.

Other weekend deaths included:

James Visco, 24, of Dearborn, when his motorcycle ran off Sumpter Rd., in Sumpter Township, Wayne County, Sunday.

Barbara Allen, 14, Saginaw when her bicycle was struck by a vehicle on Michigan Avenue in Saginaw Township Saturday.

2 Motorcyclists Hurt by Spills

Two Grosse Pointe Farms motorcyclists were injured Saturday afternoon when they lost control of their vehicles on the M24 entrance near southbound I-75 in Pontiac Township.

Listed in satisfactory condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital are Richard A. Keyes, 21, and Dale J. Bondie, 18.

Keyes received leg lacerations and multiple injuries, while Bondie sustained a broken leg, according to hospital officials.

Sheriff's deputies said the motorcyclists drove off the road onto the median.

Diseased Fleas Are Imported to 'Bug' Rabbits to Death

By SCIENCE SERVICE

SYDNEY, Australia — Australian scientists will soon be bugging rabbits to death—they hope. Fleas have been imported from Spain by the Federal Government's Council for Scientific and Industrial Research Organization's division of animal genetics for a new attack on the resurging rabbit problem.

Scientists plan to use the fleas as carriers of the rabbit disease myxomatosis—if and when quarantine officials are satisfied that they will not endanger other animals.

The Spanish fleas breed only on rabbits. They are a variant of the European rabbit flea, which has been the main spreader of myxomatosis in Europe.

The Spanish variety has been selected because it should adapt quickly to Australia's similar climatic conditions. Scientists believe the fleas should be more effective in spreading the disease than mosquitoes, which so far have been the chief carriers in Australia.

Whereas the mosquito-borne disease is spread only if there are mosquitoes in a rabbit-infested area, the fleas, according to Government scientists, would be always with the rabbits. They jump from rabbit to rabbit.

SPREAD QUICKLY

If introduced to a rabbit population already partly infected with myxomatosis they should quickly spread it through the whole population.

In the case of rabbits that have grown immune to some strains of myxomatosis, the fleas could be infected with more virulent strains and then introduced to do their damage.

Emphysema, a condition in which the exhalation of air from the lungs is obstructed, appears to be increasing. It was once thought to be a special hazard of glassblowers and players of wind instruments but we now know that such blowing does not damage the lungs.

The cause instead is irritation of the lungs by our increasingly polluted air and especially by cigarette smoking.

The victim in time becomes disabled because of the interference with the normal functioning of his lungs.

Although many drugs and other forms of treatment have been used to relieve this condition, the first essential is to give up smoking.

BENEFICIAL DRUGS

Drugs that dilate the bronchial tubes such as racemic epinephrine hydrochloride (Vaponefrin) and isoproterenol (Isuprel) are beneficial, especially when their use is combined with postural drainage (lying

It Seems to Me . . .

Death of Jules Dubois a Blow to Freedom

Our hemisphere has lost one of its greatest figures in the unrelenting battle for Freedom of the Press. And remember: that doesn't mean a private Freedom for newspapers.

It's YOUR Freedom.

DUBOIS

For the past 15 years, this energetic and dynamic newspaperman fought valiantly and successfully for "your right to know." He has been thrown in jail by infuriated dictators who were all-powerful in their own countries. He has been ordered out of hot spots when supreme rulers discovered him and The Tribune aligned in absolute opposition to their personal plans, for secret intrigue and supreme command.

Through it all, JULES DUBOIS never faltered and never lost courage. His news dispatches were clear analyses of current situations and he let the chips fall where they may.

No one—but no one—bluffed him or his newspaper out of a single word of truthful and necessary criticism when machinations were afoot. He was Chairman of the Freedom of the Press committee of the Inter American Press Association for most of its existence and was a heartening and inspiring example to his colleagues in two dozen nations.

Within the past month he was signally honored by the Golden Pen of Freedom in Stockholm, a presentation of consequence and importance, made by Prince BERTIL. And—ironic as it seems—another gold medal would have been presented to him in October from our own I.A.P.A. in just recognition of his superlative achievements.

The world has lost one of its courageous and intelligent fighters for the freedom to know. Shattering censorship's fetters is God's will and the struggle will continue forever. But an heroic and fearless leader has been struck from the upper echelon. All of us can stand silent in respect and deference to a challenging figure.

Hearty Approval . . .

In spite of current chaos, many, many times good things come to pass in this tumultuous era. Frequently fine recognition is bestowed upon worthy and deserving citizens.

President Johnson has nominated Judge Wade H. McCree for the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals. Currently he is a Federal District Judge for Eastern Michigan.

MC CREE

Lawyers say he possesses a fine legal mind and a well-balanced judicial temperament. I have no personal knowledge of that but I have enjoyed firsthand observations of his gentlemanly conduct, backed by his poised and friendly consideration for those around him. You would never see this man of probity and distinctions in petty demonstrations anywhere.

His unchallenged aim in life is to preserve the peace and integrity of our nation. As a personal friend I cheer mightily for a quick confirmation. Never before in this country have all phases of legal procedures needed common sense, judicial balance and just old-fashioned courage as much as they do today.

Wade H. McCree is thrice blessed on all counts.

And In Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

BARBARA STRIESAND played in Chicago's Soldier Field which seats 120,000 and the attendance was 11,000. . . . RICHARD PERRY's book on polar bears says to stand still if one chases you. Man's scent doesn't intrigue him and he will sniff and leave. (But suppose he doesn't know this?) . . . BERT PARKS will MC the upcoming Miss America contest for the 12th time. . . . Overheard: "Mebbie they should call it 'The Bill of Riots.'" . . . JANE FONDA is suing Playboy for printing those undraped pictures of her.

Trusted scouts advise me Deborah McDermott deserves mention as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . Overheard: "My kid has been so many There's too much hate and terror along the streets. . . . The honey-mooning Pat Nugents may visit Interlochen Music Camp when they return.

Did you know Pontiac Motor Division's BOB EMEKICK was a holy terror in the line of pro football many seasons ago? . . . There's just one TV set in existence that measures four inches and has a one inch screen. It took six months to build. . . . When Congress discussed the $750,000 mansion for the VP, they figured popular donations would pour in. To date, the total is a package of Confederate bills and $4.00 in cash. . . . He Must Wonder Why He Ever Took It Up!

David Lawrence Says:

Halt Political Contributions

WASHINGTON—Maybe the time has come to prohibit all financial contributions to the campaigns of candidates for public office or to political organizations, and to forbid any substantial sums to be expended by a candidate out of his own pocket.

This is not a new idea but LAWRENCE, one which, because of recent events, is again being discussed.

During the present session of Congress, innuendoes have frequently been uttered with respect to the propriety of the so-called "President's Club" to which individuals—including heads of companies—contribute $1,000 or more for the privilege of attending special political functions at which the president is scheduled to be present.

In fact, it was charged in Congress a few days ago that a contractor and his family had donated $25,000 to the "President's Club" and that the contributor's firm would become the beneficiary of a piece of pending legislation involving a public project.

The House voted it down.

CREATES SUSPICION
Such an incident arouses suspicion, although, as one House member said, it still may be only a "coincidence."

The embarrassment, however, arises just the same and may be unfair not only to the contributor but to the candidate who, when elected, must deal with matters that could affect any constituent.

If the Congress would appropriate $60 million a year to be put in an election fund, this would cover the expense of all campaigns, including primaries, for federal, state and local office.

This is a small sum to spend out of the more than $100 billion appropriated each year by the federal government for a variety of items.

Congress has set a maximum figure of $5,000 for representatives.

representatives and $25,000 for senators as the amounts which they themselves can receive or spend in a campaign for election.

There are proposals to increase these figures and also the limit of $5,000 a year which individuals can contribute to a candidate or political committee.

The argument is that, with the advent of television and the high cost of campaigning, more realistic sums should be authorized.

But this doesn't reach the real problem, as the biggest sums of money spent in campaigns are collected and spent by organizations which are not identified with either of the two major political parties.

It wouldn't cost the taxpayer much to bear the expense of political campaigning, and the money could be appropriated for each state on a voter registration basis and allocated to regularly established political organizations outside as well as inside the major parties.

Maybe some day this will be adopted as the only sure way to prevent elections from being bought by vested interests.

Bob Considine Says:

'Unpopular' Committee Keeps Rolling Along

NEW YORK—Nobody ever liked the House Un-American Activities Committee, except the people.

For proof of that, please note that Congressmen may come and go and reflect every shade of political faith and purpose.

But when it comes time to appropriate money to keep the most exoriated of its committees going, they always come up with the money for fear that there will be a terrible howl of indignation from the constituency.

It was a grudging $25,000 that brought the committee to life three decades ago.

Today, it is a grudging $425,000 which is supporting its present lease on life.

The people still get excited and must be thrown out of its sessions. Its members sometimes make speeches that parody Broadway on democratic processes.

UNCERTAIN PRODUCT

Every president since FDR has grown to the committee but like Old Man River it just keeps rolling along.

The House committee deals in an uncertain sort of product short of blowing up the city of Washington. What is an un-American act?

Richard Nixon tied his political wagon to the committee's star and rode it to within a split hair's breadth of the presidency.

Then their dilemma began. The ordinary course of procedure would have meant interrogation with full respect of the prisoner's rights and a reasonably swift buildup of the due process of law to which the suspect and the public are both entitled.

Law enforcement officers are aware that the apportionment "strike while the iron is hot" has a special meaning in justice. The time to establish a case or prove innocence is while facts are fresh in everyone's mind.

It cannot "try" any person or organization, nor can it pass sentence or even return an indictment.

It cannot force a witness to answer. Testimony heard before it cannot be used subsequently in a legal court action.

It cannot force the concerned department of the government to accept its advice or findings.

To President Truman it was a "red herring." To others it has been a kind of Ft. Knox of patriotism. Fish or fowl, it goes its way year in and year out, indifferent to taunts, impervious to haymakers.

Voice of the People:

'Viet Nam War Bolsters Anti-Reds Everywhere'

The U.S. is attempting to "nip communism in the bud" in Viet Nam—an opportunity which has not been presented in the U.S.S.R. and other countries mentioned in the editorial question.

Viet Nam has become a symbol of strength and determination of opposing ideologies. We are indeed combating the forces of communism in all countries by maintaining a courageous battle that defends and defines our present views toward communism and aggression.

It is not fair to say the U.S. is "doing nothing" to thwart communism in all other countries of major consequence. I take India and Brazil as my examples.

Believes 4-H Beef Cattle Awards Not Fair

The 4-H Council should review the Beef Cattle awards of the past two years. If I am correct, these awards have gone to exhibitors whose fathers run commercial beef-producing enterprises in the County. A boy whose father backs him with all the equipment of a commercial enterprise or farm certainly has an unfair advantage over the boy who obtains an animal or two for home care.

I know one young man who has been well up in the race but has been unable to overcome this handicap of a lack of sufficient animals from which to pick a potential winner.

The purpose of this contest is to show what the young people can do on their own and reward them for their hard work. I am sure that some of this year's exhibitors have had their hopes and zeal destroyed by this repeated example of unfairness.

A Loyal Beale Fan Defends John Lennon

I read your editorial about the Beatles and the author should look at himself before accusing John Lennon of stupidity. John's remark was taken out of context. He was talking about the sad state of religion in England, and the lack of contact between Christianity and young people.

I have never heard of any TV stations banning the Beatles' records. Some radio stations did, but most lifted their ban after John apologized.

The editorial talks about a "sacriligious declaration." If repeating what many high church officials have said is sacriligious, then maybe we should forget about the whole idea of Christianity. Maybe our country has. John said that the modern interpretation of the Bible ruins religion and he felt that religion was becoming too worldly. I agree with him. I'm only 16, but I stopped going to church three years ago. We were awarded prizes for attendance and studied simple little books that were meant for seven or eight year olds. When we were 12, these books attempted to "interpret" the Bible. Now I read the Bible by myself.

The author of the editorial should be more careful about his use of words. Calling people names in the newspaper can only lead to trouble.

SUZANNE VAN CONANT
ROCHESTER

(Editor's Note: Suzanne, one of the glories of America is the fact we can think differently. The editorial was manifestly wrong when it said "TV stations" instead of "radio." But it was absolutely correct in the quotation and you mustn't be fooled by the flood of "explanations." Don't give up your church. It will help you with your Bible reading.)

Question and Answer

I'd like to know why an insurance company can cancel car insurance without first notifying the policy holder.

CAR OWNER

REPLY

Ted Bertrand, Asst. Chief of Policyholders Service Bureau in Lansing, says that in cases of cancellation, insurance companies are required by law to give 10 days written notice, sent to the policy holder's last known address. For non-renewals, there is no such legal requirement, but most companies give 45 days notice that the policy will not be renewed. At the present time, there is no appeal for policyholders whose insurance is canceled. It is now in committee which would provide for such appeal.

Erosion of Rights

The San Diego Union

All responsible people can applaud the recent efficiency of the police of Chicago.

And many people will commiserate with the department over the legal handcuffs it is wearing as a result of U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

Professionalism of the Chicago Police Department in identifying and apprehending a suspect in the brutal killing of eight nuns was exemplary. Within hours of the crime police had identified a prime suspect, published an artist's sketch of his likeness and had him in custody with aid from an alert physician.

Then their dilemma began. The ordinary course of procedure would have meant interrogation with full respect of the prisoner's rights and a reasonably swift buildup of the due process of law to which the suspect and the public are both entitled.

Law enforcement officers are aware that the apportionment "strike while the iron is hot" has a special meaning in justice. The time to establish a case or prove innocence is while facts are fresh in everyone's mind.

It is significant also that 75 to 80 per cent of the convictions for serious crimes are based on voluntary confessions, many of which result from solid police work beforehand.

Recent liberalization of laws by the Supreme Court has changed the procedure for the worse. Not only has it crippled police in the routines of interrogation as a detective, but the Supreme Court also has made policemen overly cautious and wary in all their actions.

A landmark instance occurred two years ago when a murderer who confessed on three occasions to killing his wife was freed largely because he was not brought before a magistrate for 26 hours.

We know the man is guilty, but we sit here, blind, deaf and dumb. . . . Felons will sleep better tonight. . . . District Court Judge George L. Hart said in Washington after the ruling establishing freedom.

The eyes of the nation turn to Chicago where the police have been walking on tiptoes around a suspect of a crime that has shocked people around the world. In six days the police have not had an opportunity to question the suspect fully, although the city's leading public defender has offered his services for the defense. In the meantime, the iron coils.

The Chicago case is another example of how Supreme Court decisions are limiting effectiveness of the police and a portent of things to expect in the future of law enforcement.

No responsible person would seek a denial of the rights of an individual as guaranteed in the Constitution. However, nothing in the Constitution that denies the inalienable rights of the society at large either.

Society's rights are being continually eroded.

Troops Sadly Learn... 'Aint Nobody Here but Us Chickens'

By GEORGE McARTHUR
BINH TUY PROVINCE
South Viet Nam (AP) — The daily operational reports from combat companies included this item:
"Located small Viet Cong campsite. Also 12 chickens."
The chickens were practically all there was to show for a major U.S. land, sea and air operation.

They represented the minute-by-minute misery of thousands of men thrashing through dank jungles for days on end.

They represented the bitter disappointment of commanders, 5,000 men, would be caught in trying to pin down the elusive pincers.
Viet Cong. And they demonstrated why almost everyone in Viet Nam predicts the war will be long.
CLASSIC PLAN
The planning was classic: The veteran U.S. 173d Airborne would push some 1,500 men down through the jungles of two provinces. A crack U.S. Marine landing force of equal size would come across the beaches from the south.
Intelligence said perhaps two

A veteran of two Jima rocket ship, two destroyers and the heavy cruiser St. Paul threw shells into the jungle. Jets from the carrier Oriskany were overhead. Two landing ships disgorged armored amphibious tanks and landing craft. Helicopters from the Iwo Jima flew men into blocking positions.
JUNGLE AN ENEMY
Within an hour these trapings of modern war were left behind, and the Marines were waist deep in vile swamps. The enemy was no longer just the Viet Cong; it was the dank, tangled jungle.

It was a little Normandy: A

Within two days — without meeting a single Viet Cong — about 20 men collapsed from the heat. Four men were wounded by an accidental ricochet.

Back on the clean command ship Iowa Jima, 12 miles and a whole world away, Col. Brennan waited in disgust as each company radio report came in with the same words: No contact.

"We'll be back," he said. "We'll be better, and we'll be back."

Camera Angles

Don't Skimp on Film

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

BOB ZWERZ, global explorer, picture-taking professional sportsman, editor and lecturer, sums up his photo-journalistic experiences with this advice for amateur photographers: "Simplify and know your equipment; follow the action through the camera viewfinder and don't skip on film!"

These basic rules for action photography can result in a story-telling pictorial record of outdoor vacation activities like a hunting or fishing trip, a sports tournament, a field day, picnic or hike and boating activities.

"It doesn't require special photographic talent or unusual camera tricks to capture action as it happens," Bob pointed out. "Just remember to use the camera as the action takes place and let the pictures tell the story."

"A photo-journalist covering a sporting event hasn't time to be an artist with a camera — he's too busy shooting pictures. The amateur, on the other hand, is likely to be watching the action with his camera hanging from his shoulder or in his lap. By the time he senses a picture-worthy instant and gets the camera to his eye, the peak of the action is past."

"So for pro results, do as the pros do — follow the action through the lens, not over it. A camera becomes part of his face. When I'm on assignment, the only time the camera leaves my eye is when I'm reloading film or switching from one camera to another."

For the record, Bob covers most assignments with two 35mm cameras around his neck — one loaded with black-and-white film, the other with color. He favors the 35mm single lens reflex as the most versatile camera for outdoor shooting because he finds the focusing fast and easy and "you can actually watch the action in your viewfinder."

"It's important to simplify and know one's equipment because it eliminates uncertainty when shooting. An amateur should practice handling his camera so that all operations from loading film to making last-second exposure adjustment become automatic and fumble free."

Bob's assignments, many of them to remote primitive areas, enable him to judge which accessory equipment could be most useful when space and weight are vital factors.

Besides his camera's normal 50mm lens, he chooses two Soligor lenses. One is a wide-angle 35mm lens for close quarters; the other a 135mm telephoto. The latter he considers the best "compromise" lens because it can be used to make distortion-free portraits and it's a basic nature lens for photographing animals, birds or people from a distance without scaring them.

Two other items he recommends for amateurs are a lightweight electronic flash and a small tripod. "You often need flash as a 'fill-in' light in shaded areas or when there is back-light hitting the subject," he said. "And a tripod is very handy but you can always improvise. A tree stump, an automobile hood or a wall will steady the camera and eliminate hand-held movement in low-light situations."

Sometimes you may have to recreate action. If you miss the instant a fish is caught and hauled out of the water, have your subject drop the fish back in the water, swish around, work up a spray and come up again.

"You should also tell the whole story, not part of it. For instance, a picture of the fish itself or of the fishermen merely holding the rod would leave the viewer with a question. Use a wide-angle lens if necessary but tell a complete story in a picture."

On the matter of shooting generously, Bob's advice is hardly new. A vacation trip or a special event represents a large investment in time, money and equipment and film is comparatively a minor item.

Wedding Near for Veep's Son

Saturday Nuptials
Set in Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The "very excited and a little nervous" bride-to-be of Robert Humphrey says she and the vice president's son will be living on a tight budget, and haven't decided how many children they'd like.

Miss Donna Erickson, 21, of Hampton, Minn., an attractive blonde, and young Humphrey, son of Vice President and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey, held a news conference Sunday.

The couple was asked how large a family they planned. They didn't have any definite plans, Miss Erickson said.

"Now and then we have thought about it," Humphrey said. "I suppose we should be thinking about it."

WEDDING DATE

They will be married at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Olaf's Catholic Church.

President and Mrs. Johnson have been invited but have not announced whether they will attend.

Miss Erickson said she was very excited about the wedding, which was postponed from July 9 when she was hospitalized for several days in June with pneumonia.

Young Humphrey said the couple met in 1964 at a fraternity-sorority dance at Mankato, Minn., State College, where both were students. Miss Erickson graduated in June, Humphrey, who is majoring in business administration, is a senior.

BEGAN DATING

It wasn't "love at first sight," Miss Erickson said of their first meeting. They began dating a few months later.

Because of the bout with pneumonia, Miss Erickson decided not to teach elementary school this year as previously planned.

She may take some graduate courses at Mankato State.

As students, the young couple said, they probably will live on a tight budget.

GARDEN STROLL — Robert Humphrey, son of Vice President and Mrs. Humphrey, sips coffee yesterday while he and his bride-to-be, 21-year-old Donna Erickson, stroll in the garden of Robert's sister's home in suburban Minneapolis. State GOP's Turn to Yell at Confab Next Weekend

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan Republicans will get their chance to whoop it up next weekend as they gather for their fall convention in Detroit just a week after the Democratic hoopla in Grand Rapids.

U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., is slated to make the keynote address Saturday, but GOP State Chairman Kelly M. Peterson said the convention has been "streamlined and modernized to do away with tiring, long-winded speeches."

Airplane, Boat Miss Collision; Pilot Unhappy

MOUNT STORM, W.Va. (U) — A collision between a boat and a plane was avoided, but Blaine Lawson of Cleveland, Ohio, still isn't too happy.

Lawson was about to take off in his seaplane from the Stony River near here Sunday when he turned sharply to avoid hitting a boat.

The result was a damaged wing and a lost pontoon. Lawson said he would have to truck the plane out to have it repaired. No injuries were reported.

Gov. George Romney is also scheduled to address the 1,500 delegates and some 2,000 other party faithful to wrap up the session.

"We have just one job to do," Mrs. Peterson said today, and it is "to adopt a party platform and to pick the best qualified nominees for a number of important public offices."

Up for grabs will be nominations for lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, and two each for the supreme court, state board of education, and the governing bodies of the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, and Wayne State University.

SURE OF RENOMINATION

Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken is assured of renomination; as are MSU trustee Frank Merriam of Deckerville and Wayne State Governor Norman O. Stockmeyer of Wayne.

All the other posts for which Republicans will nominate candidates are currently filled by Democrats.

The convention's platform committee, headed by Alfred O. LaPorte of Standish, is scheduled to meet in Detroit Wednesday to finish the final draft for submission to the convention Saturday.

Russia Ups Military Aid to Two Areas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Russians are stepping up their military aid operations in two of the world's potential hot spots — the Middle East and the new African nations.

Johnson administration sources report that the Soviet program is becoming increasingly costly but apparently is bearing fruit.

Moscow has exhausted the stocks of obsolescent arms from which it supplied earlier requests, thus is now delivering more and more relatively new equipment.

Examples include the MIG21 jet fighters recently sent Algeria and the SU7 fighter-bombers promised Iraq, the first such fighter-bombers to be given any non-Communist country.

Soviet leaders plainly consider the increasing cost of the arms aid justified in eroding Western influence, influencing strategic countries, countering Red China's propaganda campaign, and disrupting traditional patterns of trade.

Satellite Will Track Animals

Nimbus 3 Scheduled to Plot Migrations

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Biologists may not have the stamina to swim behind whales, romp through African jungles chasing elephants or steam around frigid Arctic regions after polar bears. But they have found a friend to do it for them — an orbiting satellite.

Stalking animals will become one of many chores for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's versatile Nimbus weather satellites, starting with Nimbus 3 to be launched late next year.

Biologists and conservationists want to know more about migratory habits of beasts to prevent animal species from becoming extinct and help them learn what secret migratory sense steers animals to destinations hundreds of miles away. They want answers to questions like:

How do migrating sea turtles find Ascension Island? Where do certain animals go which disappear for months at a time? Do animals navigate by the sun, stars or perhaps magnetic waves?

NAVIGATION SYSTEM

The navigation system used by whales or sea turtles could be used to steer submarines. Whatever guides ducks and geese southward in winter and north in summer may be useful to aircraft. The caribou's system may aid guidance methods for land vehicles.

Biologists working with the Smithsonian Institution plan to attach special electronic packages to large land animals when Nimbus 3 orbits the globe. The devices are to beam signals that will permit the satellite to plot the animals' location at least twice daily to an accuracy of 1 mile.

FDA to Study Food Animal Drug Hazards

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is going to study the possible harmful effects to man of antibiotics used on food-producing animals.

FDA commissioner Dr. James L. Goddard said Sunday the 16 antibiotics to be studied have been used for years. But, he said, "some question about their hazards for man have been receiving our renewed attention."

The drugs to be studied are used as additives to livestock feed. Goddard said they are intended to promote rapid animal growth and treat diseases or injuries. Two of the antibiotics are used to preserve the freshness of some foods.

According to the FDA, the presence of penicillin residues in meat is a "serious public health hazard."

Goddard said "antibiotics recently certified for safety and effectiveness have been accompanied by data about their persistence in the meat, milk and eggs of animals" for which they are used.

MORE INFORMATION

He said manufacturers would be asked for more information about the drugs before they are approved for continued veterinary use.

Goddard also said some antibiotics registered by the Agriculture Department under the federal laws "can conceivably reach and be hazardous to man."

The FDA said one of the hazards involved would be the transfer of immunity to antibiotics from bacteria contained in food to man. Another danger would be that persons allergic to a drug such as penicillin could have a serious reaction if they ate a food containing the antibiotic.

Workman Killed

PORT HURON (AP) — Construction worker Dale Shelton, 37, of Hudson died Sunday when a blade broke on a power hand saw he was using. The blade struck him in the forehead as he worked with a road crew on a St. Clair County road about a half mile west of Port Huron.

CYNTHIA ANNE KYES

Lauds Final Concert, Meadow Brook Festival

By RICHARD MORSE

Saturday evening was the last concert of the Meadow Brook Music Festival Series for 1966. It was a memorable night for the audience which overflowed almost every available inch of ground around the pavilion.

The program opened with Symphony No. 6 by Carl Nielsen. Nielsen, a major Danish composer, was one of the most original composers of the early 20th century.

This symphony, his last, opens with a "Tempo Gliso." The music is a happy blend of Old World and 20th century. A feeling of lightness pervades, in spite of the use of a full orchestra.

The Detroit Symphony which brought the best out of the music, proved it fully deserves its growing reputation as one of the finest of the major orchestras.

The second movement, a "Humoresque" charmed the audience with its clever attempt to create "Modern" music. It was followed by a complete change of pace, a brilliantly written "Proposta Seria" or serious proposal.

THE FINALE

The Finale, a Theme and Variations, shows the various idiosyncrasies of the instruments. It includes a waltz which the composer uses as an unusual ending to an unusual work. The second work of the evening was the long-awaited composition by the eminent Roger Sessions. Sessions arranged his operatic score of "Montezuma" as a Suite for orchestra especially for this performance. As such it received its world premiere at this concert.

Sixteen Ehrling did a magnificent job with the intricate score. Written in 1964 as an opera, it shows the masterful touch of a highly original, complex and greatly talented composer. His works show a great technical challenge.

His output as a composer has necessarily been meager because of this. He makes no concession to his audience. On the contrary his music puts extraordinary demands on the listener and the interpreter.

The Suite for the opera "Montezuma" may well become an important addition to the Symphony Orchestra's repertoire. The stimulating evening closed with "Le Sacre Du Printemps" by Igor Stravinsky. Although first performed in 1913, this master work is as new, exciting, barbaric and earthy as if written tomorrow!

Its changing rhythms, dazzling orchestration, dissonance and primitive appeal are unparalleled in music literature. The orchestra gave a superb performance.

The audience called the conductor back to the podium time after time and gave him and the Detroit musicians a ten-minute standing ovation.

Two Couples Repeat Their Nuptial Vows

Barbara Alice Olds and David Bruce Colando exchanged vows in the First Congregational Church on Saturday, the 28th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean H. Olds of Pioneer Drive.

The James Reeds of Lapeer also observed their 51st wedding anniversary on their granddaughter's wedding day. A bouffant illusion veil complemented the bride's Empire gown of white silk organza and alencon lace. For the evening rite before Rev. Malcolm Burton and the church reception, she carried white roses, ivy and Stephanotis.

Attending their sister were Marcia Ann Olds, honor maid, and Mrs. Robert Stroh, with the other bridesmaids, Rose Marie Tripp and Linda Gren.

James Colando was best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Carl P. Colandos of Mohawk Road. Thomas Colando, Michael White, Robert Stroh and Dean H. Olds Jr. ushered. The couple are seniors at Eastern Michigan University.

Schadel-Bronoe

Karen Lee Bronoe and Robert Bruce Schadel, who were wed Saturday in All Saints Episcopal Church, later greeted guests in the Elks Temple.

Their parents are the Robinson L. Bronoe of Pioneer Drive and the Richard G. Schadels of Lapeer.

PEARLS

Pearl-crested Alencon lace on white silk organza fashioned the bride's gown and train worn with pearl tiara and illusion veil.

Her bouquet held yellow roses, gladiolus, Stephanotis and a white orchid.

Attendants were Joan Grabek, honor maid; Mrs. James Kot, Flint; Mrs. Donald Schram, Lansing; Mrs. Robert Pomeroy, and Andrea Hautala of Jackson. The Putnam twins, Sandra and Suzanne, were their cousin's flower girls.

With Richard G. Schadel Jr. of Napoleon, his brother's best man, were ushers Thomas Conner, Lapeer; Louis Fletcher, Joliet, Ill.; Merritt Lutz, Minneapolis, and Kenneth Bronoe.

The couple, who are alumni of Michigan State University, will reside at Loon Lake after a northern wedding trip.

The 12th annual exhibit of table settings and flower arrangements is to be staged a month earlier than usual, Sept. 21-23, in conjunction with the formal opening of the re-appointed galleries of Charles W. Warren and Company in Detroit.

CHANGES

The pattern of changing times will be felt in the "Form and Fashion" theme of the presentation, according to Mrs. Robert C. Palmer, director of District 1 and chairman of this year's show.

Tables will remain placed in definite settings and the prescribed napery, giving poise to fine china, silver and crystal, will be chosen to achieve elegance.

Participation by exhibitors has necessarily been by invitation. A tea from 2 until 5 p.m. on the opening day will honor exhibitors and garden club members.

Mrs. John F. Hering of Warren's is again coordinating the show.

Among those serving on the exhibition committee are Mrs. Donald B. Smith, president of the State Federation of Garden Clubs; Mrs. Byron B. Phillips, secretary, and Mrs. Raymond J. Hodgson, treasurer.

Boy Is Hypochondriac

Fear Guides His Life

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-503: Tom T., aged 17, is a high school senior.

"But, Dr. Crane," his elderly aunt informed me, "Tom must be what you call a hypochondriac."

He lives with me and attends high school in our village.

"But he worries about his health all the time."

"And he goes to doctors for every little complaint."

"He takes four different kinds of pills each morning at breakfast, yet he is big and strong and I think doesn't need any such medicine."

"What makes a young person become such a 'Worry Wart' about his health?"

THE ANSWER is often one word, namely "Fear."

As a synonym you might also include "Emotional insecurity."

When I investigated Tom's case further, I found that his father had deserted his mother when Tom was 2 years old. She had wandered around for several years, trying to keep Tom and also hold jobs of various unskilled sorts.

Then she remarried. Her new husband didn't care for Tom, so she shuttled Tom off to his aunt.

His mother then had 5 more children by her second husband.

She lived about 10 miles out in the country from the village where Tom was attending high school.

One Sunday she wrote Tom and invited him to come out for Sunday dinner.

Tom was delighted, for he had long felt that he was a boy without a family.

So he dressed in his best clothes.

He even bought a box of candy to take out to his half brothers and half sisters.

Then he borrowed a motorcycle from a high school classmate, to ride out to the farm.

But when he arrived, you can imagine his consternation. The house was locked. Nobody was home.

The family had apparently gone away, maybe forgetting all about the special invitation to Tom to have dinner there.

Dejected, Tom rode the motorcycle back to town. He was ashamed to tell his aunt about what had occurred.

BACKGROUND

But this brief glimpse into Tom's background will show you one of the basic reasons why Tom worries and feels insecure.

For when you think nobody cares about you and you are all alone in this world, then you grow unduly scared concerning your health.

Many spinster school teachers and bachelors, as well as oldsters who have lost their mates by death, will also become fearful about their health.

"Suppose I should drop over with a heart attack," they often tell us doctors.

"Nobody would notice my absence till Monday morning when I didn't show up for work."

"Why, I could lie on the floor in pain and suffer or die without a friend in the house to help me or even hold my hand!"

So don't sneer at all the "Worry Warts" you meet or feel disdainful of the hypochondriacs who take pills incessantly!

MRS. PHILLIP B. LOOMIS

MRS. DAVID E. MORGAN

John Ryans United in Ceremonies

A candlelight reception and dinner-dance Saturday in the CAI Building followed the marriage of Nancy Lee Redmond to John Elwood Ryan in the Waterford Community Church.

The Donald Redmonds, Fortress Road, and the W. K. Ryans, Andersonville Road, are parents of the couple who left for a trip to western Michigan and Chicago.

A bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace accented the bride's Empire gown of white silk organza with chapel train, worn with French illusion veil. She carried gardenias, Stephanotis and gypsophila.

Lynn Krebs of Grand Rapids was honor maid with bridesmaid, Jan Bamberger, Grose Pointe; Mary Phillips, Mt. Clemens; Mrs. Artie Leo, Southfield, and junior maid, Lynelle Redmond.

Julie Smith was flower girl and Robert Ryan of Romeo, ring-bearer.

With best man, Douglas Stranahan were the bridegroom's brothers Dale, Jerry, Richard and Billie, as groomsmen. Fred Finkbeiner and Barron Redmond of Redford were ushers at the candlelight ceremony performed by Rev. Robert Winne.

MRS. JOHN ELWOOD RYAN

Nancy Lee Redmond, daughter of the Donald Redmonds of Fortress Road and John Elwood Ryan, son of the W. K. Ryans of Andersonville Road were wed Saturday in the Waterford Community Church.

Robert Balls Are United

Pvt. and Mrs. Robert Bruce Ball (Linda Kay Kugler) left for a wedding-trip to Canada after their vows and reception Friday in the Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church.

Miniature yellow rosebuds centered a bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley for the daughter of the Ernest L. Kuglers of Slocum Drive, Pontiac Township.

With her chapel-length gown of white delustered satin and Chantilly lace she wore illusion veil with seed pearl taria.

Sharon Taylor was honor maid with Rose Kugler, her sister's bridesmaid.

Michael and Douglas Ball were best man and usher for their brother. They are the sons of the Douglas M. Balls of Greenwood Street, Avon Township. Henry Stormer and Herbert Pinner completed the usher list.

Pvt. Ball is stationed at Fort Sill, Okla.

MRS. R. B. BALL

Newlyweds Honeymoon

Bermuda-bound newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. David Earl Morgan (Anne Elizabeth Priestley) greeted guests in Devon Gables following Saturday vows in Central Methodist Church.

Rev. Elmer J. Snyder of the Covert Methodist Church performed the rite for the daughter of the Allen E. Priestleys of Edgefield Drive, and the son of Earl L. Morgan of Detroit and the late Mrs. Morgan.

With her Blanche-designed Empire gown of ivory peau de sole the bride wore a circular illusion mantilla bordered with hand-corded Alencon lace.

HEIRLOOM

A white orchid atop an heirloom Bible covered with satin and lace from her mother's wedding gown centered the bride's crescent bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Eve Megery of Tenafly, N.J. and Mainz, Germany, was honor maid. With the Priestley twins, Jane and Jean, their sister's bridesmaids were Lynn Green, and Andrea Carlens of Grose Pointe, flower girl.

With best man Frederick Rutherford of Detroit, were ushers Lyle Ahrens, Walnut, Ill.; Robert Curby, Ann Arbor; Milton Gilbert, Livingston; Robert Hill, Utica, and William Beattie of Taylor, Timothy Floyd was the acolyte.

The couple are alumni of Adrian College and he is in graduate study at the University of Michigan.

Loomis-Mabe

The Rev. Philip Benjamin Loomis of Ortonville and his bride, the former Donna Elizabeth Mabe left for a mountain tour after their marriage, Saturday, in the Gospel Light Baptist Church, Walkertown, N.C.

Her parents, the Clarence M. Mabe, hosted a reception in their Walkertown home following the rite performed by Rev. Bobby Roberson.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. R. B. Loomis, Allen Park and the late Mr. Loomis. Alencon lace highlighted the bride's gown and train of white silk organza over taffeta and formed a disc for her illusion veil.

BIBLE BOUQUET

An orchid and daisies covered her white Bible.

Attendants were honor maid Jane Adams, Bealeau Creek, N.C.; Mrs. C. M. Mabe Jr., and Mrs. Bob Willard, both of Kernersville, N.C., and Mrs. Larry Deakins, Allen Park.

With Danny Diehl of Waukegan, Ill. were the ushers

Clarence M. Mabe Jr., Larry Deakins and Charles Loomis, Greenville, S.C.

The newlyweds are graduates of Bob Jones University where he also earned his master's degree.

Service Groups Meet and Plan

Plans for a Sept. 8 picnic for members of the Navy Mothers Club were discussed at a recent meeting held in the Naval Center.

Mrs. Martha Pike will host the event in her Silver Hill Road home.

A Tag Day sale is also planned by the group for Sept. 24. Proceeds will be used for patients at veteran's hospitals.

A report on the national convention being held in New York City this week was the highlight of a recent meeting of Veterans of Foreign Wars, Waterland 1008 Auxiliary recently.

Visitors at the meeting, held in the Legion hall, were Mrs. Chell Morse, Mrs. Robert Almas, Mrs. George Pappas and Mrs. Dixie White.

Northern Trip For Straubs After Nuptials

The C. Charles Straubs (Connie Lee Becker of Alice Avenue) left for a trip to Mackinaw City after their recent marriage and reception in the Oakland Park Methodist Church.

Their parents are Rev. and Mrs. Reginald B. Becker of Bath, and the Reid Straubs of Indianwood Road, Orion Township.

Rev. James Deeg who officiated was assisted by the bride's father.

Her gown of white bridal satin with bodice of French lace swept into a cathedral-length Watteau train. She donned an illusion veil and carried white roses and carnations.

Attendants included maid of honor Janet Herman and Patricia Parker, both of Jackson, and Roma Straub.

David Gallmeyer was best man with ushers Jeffrey Straub, Steven Hall and Daryl Nichols.

MRS. B. J. CHUINARD

Trip to Pocono Area for These Newlyweds

Off on a trip to the Pocono Mountains are the Bernard Joseph Chuinards (Judith Ann Slabinski) who were wed Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Church.

The bridegroom, son of the Arthur A. Chuinards of Chicago had Thomas P. Murphy of Chicago for best man. Ushers were Frank McAlenean of Chicago; Martin Barr, Oxford; Mark Smith, Thomas Fugitt, John Samulow and James Slabinski.

LONG VEIL

A floor-length veil of silk illusion complemented the bride's gown and train of white silk organza applied with Alencon lace.

For the high nuptial Mass offered by Rev. Frederick Kletther, she held white cymbidium orchids, ivy and Stephanotis on a prayer book.

With Katherine Slabinski, her sister's maid of honor were Peggy Ulrey, Royal Oak; Mary Ann Henricks, Carmel, Ind.; Maria Borg and junior maid, Cathy Wood of Chicago.

Kimberly Slabinski and Patrick Chuinard Jr. of Minneapolis were flower girl and ring-bearer.

Pair United in Marriage on Saturday

A reception in the Rose Kneale Room of All Saints Episcopal Church on Saturday followed the marriage of Stephanie Ann Hardenburg to James Kay Kimmel of East Columbia Avenue.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Carmen E. Hardenburg of Spokane Drive, Clarence Hardenburg of Durham Drive, Mrs. Gladys Kimmel, East Columbia Street, and George Kimmel of Rochester.

EMPRESS GOWN
 Re-embroidered Alencon lace and ivory silk organza fashioned the bride's Empress gown and pleated sweep train. Three tiers of illusion veiling fell from her Juliet cap of matching lace.

For the vows before Rev. C. George Widdfield she held Stephanotis and ivy with a white orchid.

Nancy Nicholise was honor maid, joining bridesmaids Linda Fought, Mrs. Kurt Hardenburg, Joyce Livingstone and Michele Morrow.

With William Mueller, best man, were the ushers, Terry Chase, Kurt Hardenburg, Spec. 4 Kenneth Kimmel of Fort Hood, Texas, and Thomas Nichols.

The couple left for a northern wedding-trip and are enrolled at Western Michigan University for fall term.

Should Older Couple Pay Off Mortgage?

By MARY FEELEY
 Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

My husband and I are trying to figure out a situation, tax-wise, which would give us the most advantage when we file our return for 1966.

We recently purchased a little home on which there is still a $6,000 mortgage. We had intended to pay cash for a house, after selling our home in Michigan earlier this year.

But because this is an old loan and carries only 4 1/2 per cent interest, we decided instead to just pay the existing mortgage and put our money in bank savings certificates which pay 5 per cent.

We also thought that in case we might want to resell, it would be better to leave the mortgage on this new home.

However, my husband and I, who are in our 50s, love this little house and now plan to stay here permanently. We are wondering if we would be money ahead in the long run to pay off the mortgage now (in September the loan will be 10 years old and can be paid off without penalty). The mortgage has 20 years yet to go.

We have so far invested only about a quarter of the money we received from the sale of the Michigan home in this second house. Would it be to our advantage, taxwise to have more of that money reinvested in a home?

Mrs. H.V.W., Phoenix, Arizona

Dear Mrs. W.: Profits made on the sale of the Michigan home will be taxable, come next year provided that this "little house" was not more expensive than the one you sold, and from what

Save This Thread

DEAR POLLY — When taking out the hem in a readymade dress I have found that if you pick the threads until you find the right end it will all unravel easily. Wrap this thread around a piece of cardboard or empty spool as you unravel it, and use it to put the hem back in.

You are assured of having the proper color thread without having to look for it. There is usually more than needed so it can be saved for future hem changes or repairs. — MARY

GIRLS—If you slightly dampen this thread as you rewind it there will be fewer annoying wrinkles to make the thread knot as you reweave it. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY—To clean your potato peeler, crumple some aluminum foil into a ball large enough to protect your fingers. Dip this into your water and cleanser and work it back and forth. This will clean and shine the peeler and also seems to sharpen it a bit. — M.E.P.

DEAR POLLY — To avoid getting splinters in your fingers when using steel wool, cut a hollow rubber ball in half and then put the steel wool pads in one hollow half. Bear down as hard as you please — there'll be no splinters and the steel wool seems to last longer, too. — ALICE

DEAR POLLY—In our neighborhood we have a "share the ironing day" which is simply getting together with a neighbor, your ironing board and iron, clothes and hangers.

Two girls are at one house and each week we switch around and find this is a fine way to get the tedious job of ironing done pleasantly plus a time to chat and share a cup of coffee with a special friend.

If you are worried about tearing fragile organza curtains when they are taken off the rods for laundering, simply put one of those tapered pencil erasers on the end of the rod.

The curtain will come off easily with no snags or pulls in the material and then the eraser can be moved to the next rod. — CAROLE

While your Bank Savings Certificate yield 5 per cent, these will not be a hedge against inflation. They are short-range investments. But when they come due, you could think about applying them to lower the mortgage on this second home, since it can be paid off or reduced any time from 10 to 20 years without penalty.

The major point to keep in mind is that flexibility of your finances is all-important. You don't tell me what amount of money you have on hand. You don't want to strip yourself of emergency cash in order to pay off that mortgage.

I suggest that if you have any funds coming in, put them into stocks which yield 4 per cent or more. The first $100 dividends on these investments are not taxable.

Mantilla Worn by this Bride for Nuptials

Wearing white silk organza over peau de soie with a silk illusion mantilla, Nancy Elizabeth Clifford became Mrs. James Milton Dawson, Saturday, in Our Lady of Refuge Catholic Church.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. William G. Clifford of Wenonah Drive and the late Mr. Clifford, designed and made her entire ensemble appliqued with hand-beaded Alencon lace.

Her bouquet held miniature white roses and ivy.

Margaret M. Dawson was honor maid with bridesmaids Amanda Malone, Sandra Losey and Marie Pearson.

The bridegroom, son of the Charles M. Dawsons of Sylvan Lake had Charles Dean for his best man, with William Ferguson, Charles Opie and James Blackstock as ushers.

Dems Face Tough Task in Overriding Romney Veto

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Writer

LANSING — In theory, it doesn't sound very tough—pick up six extra votes in the Senate, 18 in the House and pass a law whether the governor likes it or not.

But not since 1951 has the Legislature succeeded in overriding a gubernatorial veto despite the fact that in most of the intervening years, the political party opposing the governor has controlled the Legislature.

Nevertheless, the Legislature is expected to try again this week for an override. The major target is a bill which would give all unemployed workers financial benefits during their first week off the job.

Now, only workers who get a new job within 13 weeks get the first week's benefits—and then, not right away.

LABOR DEPT. REFORM

Majority Democrats may also try to overturn Republican Gov. George Romney's veto of a bill reorganizing the State Labor Department.

Veto and veto-override provisions are one example of the checks and balances written into constitutions in the United States.

The veto is the governor's chance to reject what he considers an unwarranted law passed by the Legislature. He must act within 14 days of the time the law is presented to him, however, so he cannot defeat a law merely by stalling.

A governor could reject everything an opposing Legislature passed, but it doesn't work this way in practice.

LESS THAN 4 PCT.
Romney, for example, has vetoed 51, or less than 4 percent, of the more than 1,300 bills sent to him since he became governor in 1963.

His predecessor, Democrat John Swainson, rejected 27 of 511 bills passed by a Republican Legislature.

The check on the governor is the Legislature's power to override, or cancel, the veto by a two-thirds vote in each house. Thus, while it normally takes 20 votes in the Senate and 56 in the House to pass a bill, it takes 26 and 74 votes, respectively, to override.

Currently, Democrats have to pick up support from three Senate Republicans and one House Republican to override, provided their own ranks stay firm.

Incidentally, you're still feeling the effects of that 1951 override against then-Gov. G. Mennen Williams. It was a 1½-cent rise in the gasoline tax.

Arms Pact: So Close Yet So Far

GENEVA (UPI) — Another year of disarmament negotiations now ends with East and West still so close and yet so far from new agreements.

Negotiators from the 17 nations at the disarmament conference end this year's session on Aug. 25. They return empty-handed to the United Nations General Assembly.

The East-West deadlock on major issues remained as unbreakable as ever during this fourth year of negotiations.

Yet agreement, at least on the surface, was tantalizingly and frustratingly close.

The major issues were the urgent need to stop further spread of nuclear weapons and a comprehensive nuclear test ban.

POLITICAL DECISION

In both cases final agreement required and will always require major political decisions in Washington and Moscow. And neither government feels able to make these decisions now.

For example, the Soviets blocked agreement on a non-proliferation treaty by insisting that West Germany have no part in NATO nuclear planning—a transparently unreasonable demand.

Moscow, however, is still unable to rid itself of its morbid obsession with Germany.

Also, of course, the Viet Nam war put the Soviets in an awkward spot.

Everyone recognized Russia's problem.

STICKING POINT

On banning underground nuclear tests, the sticking point was as always the question of on-site inspections to prevent cheating.

It is conceded that President Johnson would have difficulties in persuading congress to accept an inspectionless ban even if he took the major decision to try.

Ike's College Sparks Community

SENECA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — This village in New York's Finger Lakes section, attuned to the hum of industry, is keenly awaiting the benefits of higher education.

Within a year, Seneca Falls will be a college town. The first wave of a 1,500-student complement will be attending a shiny new institution named for former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower College, a projected four-year, coeducational liberal arts school, will begin taking shape in September when construction starts on five buildings.

The prospect of an operating college—with an anticipated $3-million annual boost to the area economy—has stirred activity by the village and its residents.

STREET PROGRAM

Streets and intersections are being widened to cope with increasing traffic. New traffic control systems are planned. Real estate developers completed three apartment projects within the last year. Villagers are sharing in a campaign for funds to help the college get started.

The college thus far has received $1.5 million in pledges and $5.2 million in federal grants and low-interest loans. College President John C. Rosenkrans predicts $2.5 million will be raised in a national campaign pegged to President and Mrs. Eisenhower's golden wedding anniversary.

Rosenkrans, a Seneca Falls insurance broker before his appointment to head the college, said construction of 50 buildings on the 215-acre campus overlooking Lake Cayuga will be scheduled over a 10-year period.

Admittedly inexperienced in higher education, Rosenkrans is depending upon a staff of trained administrators to operate the college. The staff will include Dr. Earl J. McGrath, former U.S. commissioner of education and a former chancellor of the University of Kansas; Dr. W. Robert Bokelman, former chief of the business administration section of the U.S. Office of Education; and Joseph D. Coffee, former assistant to the president of Columbia University.

McGrath has been named chancellor; Bokelman and Coffee, vice presidents.

The Board of Trustees is headed by Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Members include James C. Hagerly, Eisenhower's White House press secretary and now an executive of the American Broadcasting Co., and Dr. Kevin McCann, former president of Defiance College who was a speech writer for Eisenhower.

ABITIBI ON THE MOVE IN MICHIGAN

New Head Office Established in Birmingham

THE CUNNINGHAM BUILDING

In 1957 Abitibi Corporation built one of the nation's largest and most modern hardboard mills at Alpena, Michigan. Since that time the plant in Alpena has doubled its capacity, and additional manufacturing facilities have been acquired in Chicago, Illinois and Cucamonga, California. Abitibi is now one of the country's leading producers of panel products for home and industry.

This steady growth and continued high demand for Abitibi products has led to the opening of our new, modern corporate office facilities in Birmingham—at 1400 N. Woodward. The consolidation of accounting, finance, sales and order processing will allow us to better serve our growing list of customers who serve the residential, commercial and industrial markets.

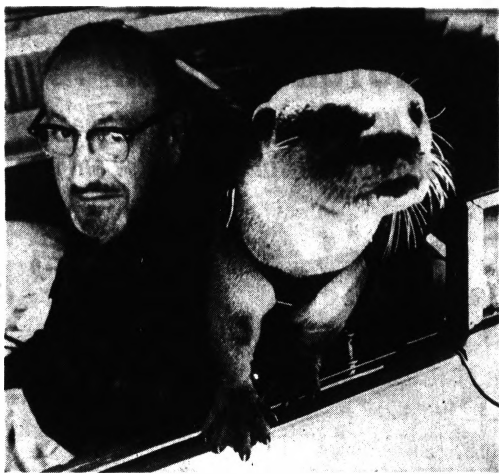

Abitibi Corporation is a subsidiary of Abitibi Paper Company Ltd., Toronto, Canada—one of the world's leading producers of newsprint, fine and printing papers and other forest products.

OLLIE THE OTTER—This is Ollie, a Eurasian otter, owned by Dr. Richard J. Czajkowski (shown above) of Seattle. Ollie is very independent, and, although the doctor went to considerable effort to get Ollie into the U.S. from Amsterdam, he admits, "There are times I would like to murder him."

Ollie Is Playful

Otter Is Both Fun, Headache

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) —with a closed television circuit, though there are times I like to murder him, I'm very fond of Ollie."

One camera went out of commission temporarily a few weeks ago. Ollie unscrewed the lens and threw it into the swimming pool.

Ollie likes to throw things into the swimming pool. "I went out to clean the pool the other morning," said Dr. Czajkowski, "and as I was bending over Ollie sneaked up from behind and shoved me in."

TV SYSTEM
His closed-circuit television system enables him to watch Ollie. Ollie has a fine time this summer while Dr. Czajkowski is with a swimming pool. He watches the animal's activities to get Ollie, and now that I have kept escaping and tormenting through two cameras hooked up to him I want to watch him. Even neighborhood housewives.

New Heart Drug Developed by Russian Medical Scientists

By Science Service
MOSCOW — A new drug for dilating heart vessels has been developed at the Institute of Pharmacology and Chemistry of the USSR Academy of Medical Sciences. Called chloracine, it was obtained by changing the structure of the phenothiazine molecule.

Within two or three minutes, chloracine reportedly stopped spasms of coronary vessels and sharply intensified blood supply to the heart almost without effect on the blood pressure. The drug's effects last for several hours, and appear to normalize the heart rhythm as well as dilate the blood vessels.

Court Forum Will Be Held

Reorganization Plan Is Topic of Meeting

An Oakland County open forum on the proposed reorganization of the Michigan Court system will be held Aug. 30 at the courthouse.

The 1 p.m. meeting will be conducted by two Oakland County legislators, Sen. Sander M. Levin, D-Berkeley, and Rep. Daniel Cooper, D-Oak Park.

"We believe in the vital improvement of communication between legislators and local government," Levin and Cooper said, "and, therefore, we want to get a sounding now on the local level regarding the court reorganization."

Levin is a member of the executive committee of the Court Reorganization Committee appointed last year, jointly, by the legislature, the governor and the State Bar Association.

The committee is headed by Sen. Basil W. Brown of Detroit, Senate Judiciary chairman, and Rep. William Boos of Saginaw, Judiciary Committee. Since Boos is not seeking reelection, Cooper will most likely play a major role next year when the court reorganization is formally considered by the legislature.

GM Documentary to Cover Safety

General Motors will present "Destination Safety," a one-hour TV documentary examining traffic safety, Sept. 9 at 10 p.m. on WJBK-TV, Channel 2, CBS.

The program, which will not be interrupted by commercials, will include interviews with leading traffic authorities, visits to organizations working in safety research, and incidents in law enforcement as they actually happen.

In Chamcook, N.B. The pair held a closed one-hour conference and then came outdoors to meet the press.

Good Data Sent by Pioneer 7, Say Scientists

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (UPI) — America's Pioneer 7 satellite, designed to provide tips for future space travelers, was providing "good data" today as it continued to soar around the sun, according to Ames Research Center scientists.

The scientists said the 16-pound vehicle, launched from Cape Kennedy Wednesday, was 84,400 million miles from the sun and about 474,100 miles from the Earth in a stabilized orbital path.

All six experiments being performed by the satellite were "working fine," they said.

Pioneer 7 was loaded with equipment to analyze solar winds and possible hazards to future spacecraft and to study the magnetic fields of the Earth and sun.

More Travel Seen for LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — And there still is the cruel reality that some men still believe in force and try to impose their will on others by aggression.

Pearson expressed the hope that "the guns of Viet Nam and the guns everywhere may soon cease to fire; that discussion, negotiation and agreement, the processes which FDR, the captain of Campobello, so passionately believed and so skillfully practiced, these healing processes may soon replace the fighting and killing."

Future travel plans have not been announced, but there was speculation the chief executive might be on the road the next two weekends.

The President capped his five-state tour with an address Sunday on Canadian soil. He said there is a real limit to power because the United States has the means of unlimited destruction "but we do not have the power alone to make peace."

He declared: "Only when those who promote aggression agree to reason will the world know again the blessings of peace."

MEETS PEARSON

The President's address followed a meeting with Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson at which the two leaders discussed the Viet Nam war and other matters.

Johnson flew to Canada after a "nonpolitical" weekend slump through upper New York and New England.

The President and Pearson dedicated a visitor's pavilion now under construction on Campobello Island, New Brunswick, where President Franklin D. Roosevelt had a summer home which still stands in the middle of a 10-acre international park.

AT HIS SIDE

With Pearson at his side, Johnson said: "No man loved peace more than Franklin Roosevelt. It was in the marrow of his soul and I never saw him more griefed than when reports came from the War Department of American casualties in a major battle."

"But he led this nation courageously in combat — not for war's sake, but because he knew that beyond the war lay the larger hopes of man."

"The history of mankind is the history of conflict and agony and of wars and rumors of war."

The Beatles' Secret Kept Too Well

NEW YORK (AP) — Managers of the Beatles made great efforts to keep the time of their arrival in New York today a secret.

They were more successful than they ever expected — only nine girls were on hand to welcome the mop-haired singers when they arrived by chartered plane at La Guardia Airport at 3:30 a.m.

Twenty policemen were on hand to handle the crowd that had been expected, despite the secrecy.

More than 100 screaming girls, some of whom had waited as long as 12 hours, greeted the quartet when it arrived by limousine at the Warwick Hotel in midtown Manhattan at 4:15 a.m. The fact they would stay at the hotel had been made public.

The Beatles will give their final concert of the tour Tuesday night at Shea Stadium, home of the baseball Mets.

British Unionists Sizzle Over Wage Freeze

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's controversial wage freeze proposal seemed to have reached the point of no return last night when the powerful TUC's affiliates planning to vote for the labor federation's $31,000-member union of Shipbuilders and Allied Workers' executive committee voted to oppose the standstill.

NY Giants Prevail, 17-7, at Yale Bowl

Lions Lack Offensive Drive in Ivy League Exhibition

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
NEW HAVEN, Conn. — The de-Morrallized Detroit Lions went Ivy League yesterday.

They played in Yale's ancient Ivy League Bowl and lost a 17-7 decision to Earl Morrall and the New York Giants.

Even Ivy League fans, who must face up to the fact that their brand of football must be behind the Big Ten, Southwest, Pacific Coast, Southeast, Big Eight and probably other sectors, walked away shaking their heads.

To show what a poor offensive exhibition it was, the Lions had 17 yards rushing and 47 passing in the first half, and finished with 49 rushing and 94 passing for the game.

What hurt even more was the fact that Morrall went all the way and engineered the Giants' victory against his old teammates with a highly impressive performance.

He completed 14 of 20 passes for 185 yards and set up all of the New York scoring with passes, including a scrambling 10-yard touchdown toss to Steve Thurlow.

The Lions had 4 minutes and 30 seconds of effective offensive football. This is the amount of time they consumed in ball control after taking the opening kickoff, and in 15 plays covering 75 yards they took the lead with Milt Plum hitting Pat Studstill on a 5-yard pass.

Three passes to Gail Cogdill and a couple key penalties on the Giants helped sustain the drive.

The Giants held the ball for most of the remaining six minutes of the quarter and as the period came to a close, soccer-kicker Pete Gogolak (the AFL's Buffalo Bills) booted a 37-yard field goal to make it 7-3.

Homeown Eli hero Bill Mercein did most of the ball carrying and Morrall's passes to Aaron Thomas and Joe Morrison kept the drive moving.

Early in the second quarter the Lions were victims of a foolish mistake that turned out to be the key break of the game. Ernie Coy's punt from his own 48 was taken by deep man Johnny Robinson on the Lions' 18. A Lion, however, was detected holding and instead of Detroit having possession, the penalty gave New York the ball on the Detroit 38.

From here Morrall guided the Giants to paydirt. He hit Morrison with a 19-yard pass and then a 5-yard touchdown pass. The TD however was nullified for illegal motion and the ball moved back to the 10.

On the next play, the former Michigan State ace was trapped, scrambled around until he spotted Thurlow for the 10-yard touchdown toss.

There was nothing left in the Lions' offense for the remainder of the game. They reached the Giants' 36-yard line once in the second half for their deepest penetration.

The other New York touchdown came in the opening minute of the fourth quarter. The drive started on the 20 in the third period. With Mercein picking up short yardage and Morrall mixing in his passes, the quarter ended on the one-foot line.

Morrall tried to sneak over twice and was stopped by the Lions' defensive wall, but then he handed to Mercein who hit the left side for the touchdown.

The remaining 14 minutes of the game were filled with penalties, fumbles and punts.

Karl Sweetan tried to get the Lions' offense going in the 4th quarter but had no more luck than Plum.

The Lions now stand 6-2-1 in exhibition play and the Giants have a 3-0 record.

Local Pro Reigns as State's Golf King

Bone Retains Michigan Open Title at Linden

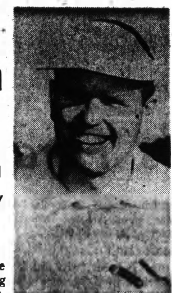

Gene Shoots 291 for One-Shot Victory in 72-Hole Tourney

From Our News Wires
LINDEN — Pontiac's Gene Bone has reinforced his standing as the King of Michigan golfers. In a come-from-behind performance yesterday, Bone retained his Michigan Open crown and wound up with a sweep of the state's two major golf titles — PGA and Open.

Bone won the PGA title earlier in the summer at Bob O'Link Golf Club, and, after being disqualified and then reinstated in the Michigan Open tournament, he came on to wrap up the title by one stroke at Spring Meadows Country Club.

Bone shot 70-74-73-291, three over par, and came from two strokes off the lead in Sunday's 36-hole finish to edge Ted Kroil, Cass Jawor and Jim Picard.

The 35-year-old Pontiac native staggered in, however, bogeying the last two holes. But his leading rival also had trouble solving the small, tricky greens.

REPEATS — Gene Bone of Pontiac, pro at Bay Pointe, yesterday won the Michigan Open golf championship for the second straight year. He posted a 72-hole score of 291.

Change in Scenery Makes Wilson Sharp

DETROIT (AP) — Earl Wilson can't pinpoint the reason for his pitching success with the Tigers but thinks it might be good for a player to get traded every so often.

"I had a little more incentive when I was traded here by Boston," Wilson said Sunday after picking up his sixth straight victory in the Tigers' 8-4 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles.

"I still think it's easier to pitch in Boston than here," Wilson said. "Maybe it's been my control, though. When you have your control, you can fool around and set up a batter a little better. I think the batters are taking more pitches on me, which also helps."

Wilson, who gave up three extra-base hits in the Baltimore first inning, walked two. He's walked only 26 men in 106 innings with the Tigers.

POWER DISPLAY
Seven Tigers runs came as a result of home runs. The last two were scored without benefit of a hit.

Al Kaline hit a two-run homer in the first inning to tie the score and Jim Northrup's two-run blast in the third was the first of four off loser Wally Bunker. Second of six Orioles hurlers.

Wilson homered in the fourth inning and Dick McAuliffe and Norm Cash added solo shots in the same frame to pad the Detroit lead.

Frank Robinson, who brought in the second Baltimore run with a sacrifice fly, hit a two-run homer in the fifth.

Three walks, a passed ball and Don Wert's sacrifice fly gave the Tigers the game's final runs in the seventh.

"It's a good thing the Orioles have a 12 1/2-game lead," said Detroit manager Frank Sciff. "They'd be in tough shape if the race were close."

Staff was referring to the fact that the Orioles suffered injuries to Boog Powell and Dave Johnson Saturday and three pitchers were less than effective Sunday.

Starter Mike Drabowsky was hit on the collarbone by a Northrup shot in the first inning. Drabowsky disclosed no fracture, but Drabowsky might miss his next turn.

Bunker continues to be bothered by a sore arm, and Steve Barber left the game after pitching to only two men in the seventh, walking one of them.

IT GOT AWAY — The ball slips from the grasp of New York Giants' quarterback Earl Morrall (11) after he was belted by Detroit's linebacker Mike Lucci (53) during the first quarter of their exhibition game yesterday in New Haven, Conn. Giants' Chuck Mercein recovered the ball. New York took the annual Albie Booth Memorial game, first quarter of their exhibition game yesterday.

Morrall Enjoys Win Over Detroit

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — In the hot, sweaty locker room near the Yale Bowl, the New York Giants' coach Albie Sherman broke through the writers gathered around Earl Morrall, patting him on the back and whispering something in Morrall's ear.

"What did he say, Earl?" "I don't know, there's too much noise, but I know he was happy and said something nice, he always does," Morrall replied.

The former Lions' discard was aglow over the Giants' 17-7 victory he had just engineered. "That's the first time I've gone all the way in an exhibition game here," he said, "and now I'm over."

He was referring to his first game last year with the Giants in Cleveland where the Lions defeated him 24-20.

"Sure I wanted more than anything to beat the Lions, but not for personal reasons. We were 2-0 and we knew we were up against one of the best de-lenses in the league, so it was a test to see how we could get our offense moving.

"We've got a lot of kids on this team and to do our offensive line, and to do well against a defense like Detroit's would certainly boost our morale," he added.

"My old friend Darris McCord, and this young Larry Hand really made it tough for me," Morrall noted, "I was just lucky to shake loose a couple times."

"Yeah," I told Darris after the game, "I had last week Sammy Williams tried to tear me up and now him."

Williams, who played the other defensive end post for the Lions with McCord, joined the Atlanta Falcons just last week after reconsidering his retirement.

In the game against New York, Williams sneaked the quarterback for losses five times.

"C'mon, Sam, lay off — what are you trying to do to me," Morrall told Williams.

"Like heck, Earl," Williams replied. "I've only been in camp four days and I've got to win a job."

Morrall and Williams were roommates on road games with the Lions.

"Well, Sammy may have had a reason for trying to tear my head off. Why were you trying to do it?" Morrall asked McCord after the game.

"Just for old time sake," McCord laughed.

In a brief ceremony, the Giants presented the game ball to Morrall.

Despite the defeat, the Lions game ball also went to a former Michigan State, Jerry Bush, the former Pontiac Central gridder who had another outstanding performance at the defensive tackle spot.

Five Players Share First in City Medal Qualifying

Former state amateur champion Lloyd Syron of Pontiac Country Club carded a one-under par 68 yesterday to share the lead with four other players in the Men's Medal Play qualifying Saturday at the Municipal Golf Course.

Syron put together rounds of 34 and 35 for his 68. The other four were recorded by Truman Hammett (34-34), Gene Harry (33-35), Ken McClintock (33-35) and Bill Pembroke (34-34).

Ray Allen and Gary Balliet came in with even-par 69s and Mike Murphy fired a 75.

In all, 33 players fired 70 or better over the 5,689-yard course to qualify for the 36-hole finals next Saturday.

The 33 will join all former champions plus the low five scorers from the '65 tournament in the finals.

Returning to defend his title will be Paul Bada, who'll be gunning for his fifth championship in the city tourney.

Make 3 Bids at Nationals

BROOKLINE, Mass. (U) — The Australians invade the lawns of Longwood Cricket Club today with at least three teams fully capable of capturing the U.S. National Doubles Championship.

Their No. 1 team, Owen Davidson and Bill Bowers, knocked off the top U.S. pair of Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., and Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, Sunday in the finals of the Hall of Fame Tournament at Newport, R.I.

Their No. 2 team, Tony Roche and John Newcombe, is seeded third in the national doubles, which got under way Sunday.

Their No. 1 team, Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle is the defending champion. Emerson and Stolle are favored to retain the title.

Calgary, Alta. (AP) — Maurice of Guilford, Ont., captured the Canadian Professional Golfers Association Championship by three strokes with a four-under-par 67 Saturday for a 54-hole total of 206. Norman won $4,000 and the Seagram Shield.

204 Leads Meet
CARMONY, Ala. (AP) — The men's 204-pound class of the National Amateur Championship was held at the Municipal Golf Course in Birmingham, Ala., Sunday.

Tommy Hammel, 20-21, led the way with a 68-71-139. He was followed by Gene Harty, 20-21, with a 69-71-140. Ray Allen, 20-21, was third with a 70-71-141. Mike Murphy, 20-21, was fourth with a 71-72-143. Bill Pembroke, 20-21, was fifth with a 72-73-145.

Memory Spurs Goller to Title at Hartford

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A eight-incher which he tapped in three-foot putt that didn't drop easily.

Wall's final round included 15 pars and three birdies on the par-71 Westfield layout. His key throughout the tournament showed only two bogeys, both in the third round when he carded a 69 and was tied with Ellis at 188-13 under par.

Wall, who blasted the Westfield Country Club course with rounds of 65-64-69-68 to win the $20,000 first prize Sunday, had the same tournament in his pocket in 1962 when he missed that three footer on the last hole.

Bob Goulby already had his shoes off in the locker room that Sunday four years ago when he was told that due to Wall's miss, they would have a playoff for the title. Goulby won the tournament on the seventh extra hole.

"It was a little easier than four years ago," Wall said Sunday after his finish at 188-under par, two strokes ahead of Wes Ellis Jr.

Ellis bogeyed the next-to-last hole to go two strokes behind as Wall was looking over a downhill 12-foot putt on the final hole.

"I saw that Wes had taken a bogey, and I just lagged the putt," Wall said. It left him an 188-13.

Rain Restricts Class A Game

Teamsters 614 and Booth Homes last night managed only three and a half innings of their first nine-inning contest for the men's city recreation baseball championship at Jayces Park.

After three scoreless innings, the Teamsters tallied two times in the top of the fourth. Rain then stopped the game as Booth Homes came to bat.

Play will resume at 7:30 p.m. today at that point. Only the completion of last night's game will be attempted. The second of the best-of-three series has been delayed until 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Ed Spahrman of Booth's and the Teamsters' Tom Walters, a pair of left handers, were the moundsmen when play was stopped Sunday.

GARY PLAYER'S GOLF CLASS:

Tackles, QB Are Sought by Michigan

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Coach Bump Elliott begins his search for some needed help at tackle and the development of a quarterback when Michigan begins fall football practice Thursday.

The Wolverines will hold their annual photographers day Wednesday, then start twice-a-day sessions Thursday through Sept. 1 when classes start.

Michigan opens the season at home Sept. 17 against Oregon State, marking the first meeting between the two teams since the Wolverines took the 1965 Rose Bowl encounter, 34-7.

Three new assistant coaches will be working with Elliott for the first time. They are Don James (defensive backs), Y.C. McNease (linebackers and defensive ends) and George Mans (offensive ends).

Hank Fonde remains as backfield coach and Tony Elison as turns for his third year as offensive line mentor. Dennis Fitzgerald has been switched from the freshman squad to take over interior defensive line men.

Bill Dodd has replaced Fitzgerald.

MAY SWITCH

Dick Vidmer, a junior under study to Wally Gabler, is the only letterman available at quarterback. Elliott may decide, however, to switch Rick Volk from defense to that spot. Junior John Thomas is the other candidate.

Paul Johnson, who played 361 minutes at guard and tackle, is the only defensive tackle returning.

But the Wolverines should be strong in the backfield if Jim Detwiler has recovered from knee surgery. Carl Ward and fullback Dave Fisher round out the backfield with Ernie Sharpe acting as No. 1 reserve.

Captain Jack Clancy, who caught 52 passes for 762 yards last year to establish new U-M marks, heads a good group of ends which includes Tom Pullen, Stan Kemp, Roger Rosema and Clayt Whitliffe.

Koufax Stops Cards, 4-1

Sore-Arm Sandy Gets No. 20

By The Associated Press

When Sandy Koufax gets a shot of cortisone, his left elbow feels better and National League batters feel worse.

Koufax, whose arthritic elbow forced him out of a game just four days before, transferred the pain to St. Louis Sunday as he recorded his 20th victory of the season in Los Angeles' 4-1 triumph over the Cardinals.

The 30-year-old southpaw was pitching against Cincinnati last night when the pain in his elbow was so great that he had to leave the game in the fifth inning.

He received a shot of cortisone that night and two days later was on the sidelines throwing. After the workout, he said: "I'll pitch Sunday."

That he did. He stopped the Cardinals on six hits, only three after the first inning when the Cardinals scored their run, struck out 10 and achieved the third 20-game season of his career.

Elsewhere in the National League, Pittsburgh held a one percentage point lead over San Francisco after whipping Chicago 8-1. The Giants downed Atlanta 9-4. New York swept Philadelphia 6-5 and 5-1 and Houston trampled Cincinnati 11-0.

FELT GOOD

"I just wasn't making the pitches in the first inning," said Koufax, who won 25 games in 1965 and 26 last year.

"But by the third inning I felt good. The elbow felt much better than I expected. I began to tire a bit in the latter innings, you always get tired, but I had enough stuff."

Asked if he might avoid early inning trouble by warming up longer to loosen his elbow, Koufax said:

"No matter how hard or how long you marm up, it just isn't the same as pitching to a batter. When you get out there on the mound, you just throw harder. There's no way you can push yourself to the limit when you're throwing to your own catcher."

Koufax gave up a run in the first inning on three singles, the last by Curt Flood, but the Dodgers rallied for their four runs in the first three innings. John Kennedy drove in two with a single and a sacrifice fly while Ron Fairly and Jim Lefebvre each single pitched a two-hitter.

Boh Vaele pitched a two-hitter and received support from Pittsburgh's 18-hit attack. Jesse Gonder, Willie Stargell and Manny Mota each lashed four hits with Gonder driving in three runs. Gonder and Roberto Clemente homered while Billy Williams connected for Chicago.

Atlanta took a 4-2 lead against San Francisco, but the Giants rallied for four runs in the sixth and three more in the ninth, the latter all coming on Jim Hart's homer. Jesus Alou and Hal Lanier each singled across a run in the sixth while Tito Fuentes and Len Gabrielson brought in the other two with sacrifice flies.

The Mets achieved their winningest season ever with a sweep of the Phillies. Jim Hickman's two-run homer in the eighth inning gave them the opening-game victory, No. 54. The pinch-hit blow capped a three-run rally that overcame Johnny Callison's three-run homer.

Tug McGraw pitched a two-hitter in victory No. 55. He received support from two-run doubles by Larry Elliott in the sixth and Jerry Grote in the ninth.

Dave Giusti not only pitched a six-hitter against Cincinnati, but he also powered Houston's attack by driving in six runs with bases-loaded doubles in the fourth and in the fifth.

Frank's Best, Say Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Earl Wilson and Bill Monbouquette of the Detroit Tigers agreed Monday that Baltimore's Frank Tompa is the best hitter they've ever seen.

"You can't get away with anything against that man," Wilson said. Monbouquette, discussing Wilson's latest triumph with his former teammate at Boston, nodded agreement.

"There are other real good hitters around but you can make a mistake once in a while and get away with it. He hit a hanging slider off me for the homer. That's four homers this year so I know what I'm talking about. I didn't see Ted Williams until late in his career. Robinson's the best."

in the runs batted in department. The three entered the series with 288 RBIs, with Powell topping the league with 96.

The Tigers need only 4,337 fans to top the million mark in attendance for the 23rd time and for the 19th time in the last 22 years.

Al Kaline told Skiff he wanted to play Sunday despite the fact that his finger continued to bother him as a result of being hit by a pitch Friday night.

"He said O. K. and promised I'd be out of there when our lead got big enough," Kaline said.

Mickey Stanley played the final two innings.

Manager Frank Skiff felt that one of the reasons the Tigers were able to take two-of-three from the Orioles was the fact that the pitchers were able to get the Big Three out.

"The boys pitched the Robinson's great," Skiff said. He could just as well have included Boog Powell, although the giant first baseman didn't play Sunday.

Powell had one RBI with a home run Saturday and Frank Robinson had three Sunday. Brooks Robinson was shut out.

Pupil Needs Arithmetic Help

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: My son, a third-grader, is basically a well-adjusted, bright student. He excels in art and English and is excellent in reading and writing.

He is, however, having difficulty with arithmetic. His test papers have been mostly failing. DR. NASON with very careless mistakes. His teacher says he doesn't apply himself and doesn't think.

How do you get a boy to apply himself and concentrate? My son is a perfectionist with all his work and play—except arithmetic.

I asked his teacher last term to send work home so that I might help him, but she did not believe in homework. I can't help him on my own as the system is different from mine. He is entering the fourth grade this fall without completely grasping third-grade arithmetic.

Any suggestions would be greatly appreciated.

S.L., Port Monmouth, N.J.

Answer: Two things are necessary in programs for the improvement of your son's work in arithmetic.

First, he must grasp the ideas as they are presented in the classroom.

Since he lacks a background of precise knowledge of arithmetic, I suggest that someone talk over the vocabulary and ideas with him ahead of the time they are presented in class.

This person can do much to help him review the specific concepts he must have in mind for a complete grasp of each day's new work.

Secondly, you must secure his cooperation in a plan to strive for complete understanding rather than being satisfied with just enough information to get by.

Dear Dr. Nason: We have a son who will graduate from high school in June 1967. He still has a reading problem.

He was taught sight reading in the first grade and was successful at it.

We moved, so he entered a different school for the second grade.

This school had taught phonics in the first grade, about which our son knew nothing.

He repeated the third grade because of his lack of ability to read.

At present his marks in all subjects are good but he has avoided the study of a foreign language. Are three colleges that do not require a foreign language?

G.C., Jamesville, N.Y.

Answer: Consult your local library for this information. You should search through the requirements of various colleges until you find those not requiring foreign language.

Among the books which carry this information are: Guide to Colleges by Gene R. Hawes, New American Library, N.Y.; American Universities and Colleges, edited by Mary Irwin. Also the College Handbook—College Entrance Examination Board.

Dear Dr. Nason:

My 17-year-old son returns to high school this fall as a senior. He seems to have at least an average amount of talent in commercial art and hopes to major in that subject in college.

We would like to locate a small midwestern college with a strong art department.

My son is consistently a "B" student in all his prepared subjects, but in athletics, art and auditorium technician work he gets "A" grades.

E.L., Salt Lake

Answer: Your son should take the initiative in the selection of the college to which he will apply for admission.

He should get started on this immediately. He can find information about colleges at the public library or from his school counselor. His art teacher is in the best position of anyone to help him select the college which will match his ability and interest.

JEERING SPECTATORS—A policeman with nightstick in hand stands between civil rights marchers and a jeering crowd of youths on Chicago's far southeast side yesterday. Some carry signs with swastikas and the words "white power."

Marchers Jeered, Pelted in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Jeers, (ors) were kept away by rain. Evergreen Park demonstrators and bottles crashed near youths then ran to alleys where police pursuit was often futile.

Two white men refused to obey a police order to clear the sidewalk. This resulted in a brief battle between police and marchers. Nine persons were arrested, including the two bel-ligerents, who were clubbed to their knees by police.

At Evergreen Park, a south-western suburb, the Rev. James Bevel led a protest by 250 civil rights advocates. A third group of 250 trudged through drenched streets in Chicago Heights, a community south of Chicago. No one came out into the rain to jeer them and few watched.

Police said 30 persons were arrested at the East Side and exploded at the feet of police.

As the auto caravan of demonstrators arrived for the march in Evergreen Park, white youths hurled stones and smashed one windshield, injuring both occupants of the car.

In the East Side march, police skirmished continually with youths who tossed missiles into the path of the marchers. The

Aide Denies FDR Romance

Former Adviser Says Story Is 'Ridiculous'

NEW YORK (AP) — Raymond Moley, a close adviser to President Franklin D. Roosevelt in the early days of the New Deal, says it is "utterly ridiculous" to say there was a secret romance between Roosevelt and Lucy Mercer Rutherford, Mrs. Roosevelt's social secretary for a time.

Moley, onetime assistant secretary of state and organizer of FDR's "brain trust" and now a contributing editor and columnist of Newsweek magazine, writes of the reported romance in the Aug. 29 issue of the magazine.

Moley wrote that he "was on with the president from 1932 to Washington gossip, and 'I never heard of Mrs. Rutherford until two weeks ago.'"

RELATED IN BOOK

The reported romance is related in a new book, "The Time Between the Wars," by Jonathan Daniels, a White House aide to FDR and now editor of the Raleigh (N.C.) News and Observer, wrote that a romance between Roosevelt and Mrs. Rutherford almost broke up FDR's marriage early in his career.

Daniels wrote that the romance began in 1913 and that although the relationship supposedly ended in 1919, Roosevelt never completely severed the ties. He said Mrs. Rutherford was with Roosevelt at Warm Springs, Ga., on the day he died in 1945.

Lucy Mercer married Winthrop Rutherford, a wealthy New Yorker, in 1920. She was widowed in 1944 and died in 1948.

Two Men Killed as Tank Truck Crushes Auto

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A tank truck loaded with 46,000 pounds of phosphoric acid turned over Sunday, crushing a passing automobile and killing two of the three men inside.

Police said the tank truck attempted to make a turn at 40 to 50 miles per hour. The tank section almost flattened the automobile, they said.

Sam Samone Lauro, 48, and Emil Edward Bender, 51, both of Tampa, were killed. A passenger in the car, Paul E. Busse, 35, of Jacksonville, was hospitalized in serious condition.

TRUCKER CHARGED

Driver of the truck, Gerald Parker Smith, 26, of Tampa, was not injured. He was charged with reckless driving. Some of the acid spilled on to the street but was quickly cleaned up.

People in the News

Cupid will become computerized in a midtown Manhattan park if New York Parks Commissioner Thomas P. F. Hoving has his way.

Hoving said yesterday he is negotiating with an established dating service to install the electronic matchmaking system in Bryant Park, a small island of grass and trees behind the main public library, 42nd Street and Fifth Avenue.

Hoving said it is part of the plan to upgrade the park, which has established a curfew and now discourages loitering. Men and women would use the dating service to help find congenial dates or mates as the case may be.

However, said Hoving: "The city will not be responsible for the looks of the date, the activities of the date, or anything that happens thereafter."

Diapered Miss Goes for Crawl in New York

Alisa Katal, diaper-clad, presented quite a sight crawling up Union Road, in Spring Valley, N.Y.

Police found 2-year-old Alisa yesterday and held her until Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Katal arrived.

Rainier, Grace Go Swimming . . . Unexpectedly

Princess Grace of Monaco and her husband, Prince Rainier, fell into the sea yesterday off Porto Cervo, Sardinia, while watching a boat race from a small sailboat.

The American-born princess and the prince were toppled into the water when a sudden gust of wind caught their sail and sharply tipped the craft.

Laughing and splashing, they swam to another boat, climbed aboard and continued watching the race.

Luck of the Draw? Dems Don't Have It

Lewis County Democrats are hoping they have more luck in New York's November election than they had at their annual picnic yesterday.

Nearly 200 of the party faithful and an invited guest held tickets for a door prize.

The guest had the winning number. He was Charles Shaver—Lewis County Republican chairman.

Lots of people have single track minds. If they want to win at bridge they would do well to check whether or their trick is the right one.

South led the first trick with the king of diamonds. West could see no reason to shift to another suit.

After all his partner's play of the spot might have been a counter. South had been careful to drop the eight and hold back the deuce. So West played a second diamond and South rattled off the rest of the tricks.

He led a club to dummy's ace and ruffed a club with a high trump. Note that he held back another deuce this time. Then he led his deuce of hearts to dummy's seven and ruffed an other club.

A second trump lead went to dummy's ace and the ruff of a third club dropped East's king and set up dummy's queen. Now South ruffed his last trump and discarded his queen of spades on the queen of clubs.

West commented on how lucky South had been to hold two valuable deuces. We feel that West was even luckier in that West kept his mind on that single trick.

If West had really stopped to think at trick two he would have realized that East could not hold the ace of diamonds. South's follow-up Blackwood five trump bid guaranteed that his side held all the aces.

Then West could have shifted to a trump and South would have had one entry short in setting up that queen of clubs.

In that case North would have been upset. He might point out that South could take the first diamond and be sure of his contract as long as clubs broke 4-3 and trumps 2-1.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., (AP)—State police arrested two men and a woman on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Saturday night and charged them with possession of drug devices, violation of the cosmetics act and violation of the uniform firearms act.

The three, all from out of state, were identified by state police as Karl A. Ellison, 30, of New York; Samuel Walker, 38, of Detroit; and Mrs. Gail Reynolds, 27, of Detroit.

State police said the three had an argument and Mrs. Reynolds lew Walker's car. She was picked up by a truck driver, who notified the police. Walker and Ellison were arrested about eight miles east of the Ohio state line.

1,000 Meet Today at Student Confab

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — More than 1,000 student leaders from across the country meet today at the University of Illinois at the 19th annual congress of the National Student Association.

Scheduled speakers included Stokely Carmichael, head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, and Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers.

The voting question, U.S. policy in Viet Nam and the draft were expected to dominate the sessions.

Romney Says Arts Link Nations

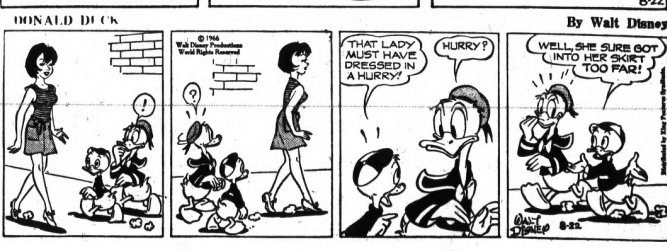

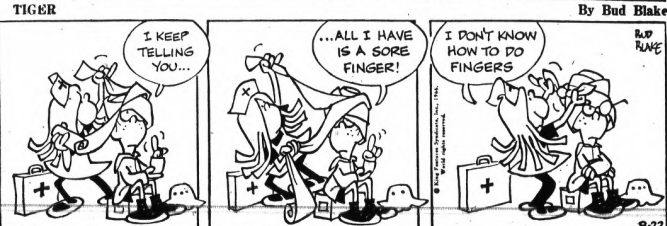

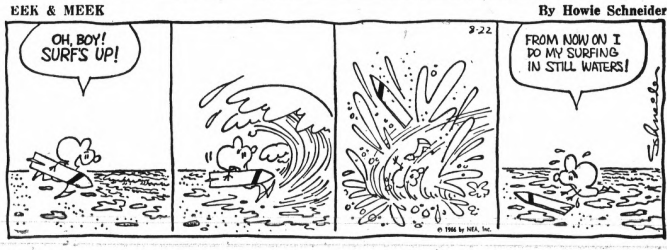

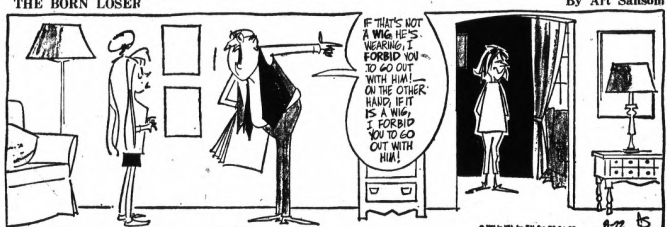

INTERLOCHEN (AP) — Gov. George Romney told nearly 4,000 delegates to the International Society for Music Education convention at Interlochen Saturday that the type of understanding that prevails in the arts can better bridge the gap that separates men and nations than the most carefully worded treaty.

The governor also presented $2,000 to the National Music Camp for foreign student scholarships. The money was given by sponsors of a world preview of the 1966 Michigan Week which brought 20 foreign visitors to various points of interest in the state.

Computer Aiding Study on Clinic Waiting Time

By Science Service

CHICAGO — Something is finally being done about the long waiting time of outpatients in hospitals and clinics—a digital computer has been put to work on the problem. Some 10 hours of waiting time per patient could be saved if the patients were punctual, reported two Yale University researchers who simulated an entire outpatient clinic on an electronic computer to find out.

By creating and varying the schedule of each "doctor" in the "clinic," the investigators were able to evaluate the effects of different kinds of delays.

Doctors' late arrivals also have a distinct bearing on the problem of patient queues. When the doctor in one study arrived an hour late, patient waiting time increased by almost 20% hours a day.

The patient load, the number of walk-ins without appointments, early arrivals and other factors all affect the waiting time.

OLD SYSTEM

It is only recently that appointment systems have been set up and even today, the researchers pointed out, vestiges of the old "first in, first out" method of determining the order in which patients were seen, are found.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

America now has four times as many widows, or 8,815,000 to 2,125,000.

Each day of the year, about 4,500 U. S. schoolchildren start smoking.

At a Little Rock, Ark., zoo, pigs have been taught to guard the home, fetch and carry and even retrieve game birds shot in the field. But when a burglar is surprised in our home we want an animal around that can do more than merely grunt at him reproachfully.

Depending on your viewpoint, you will be either delighted or dismayed to learn our fast-growing population now includes 22 million teen-agers.

QUOTES

Quotable notables: "Character is made by what you stand for; reputation by what you fall for" — Alexander Woolcott.

Now read and ponder this, all you young, long-haired beatniks: Dermatologists have found that overhanging hair on your forehead helps concentrate bacteria and — here's the real jolt — can make your acne worse. Yep, that's right — acne!

Still time to live; retirement is by no means the end of the road for a man, although many men feel that way. At 65, mortality tables show, a man can look forward to nearly 13 more years of watching sunrises and sunsets, and listening to his wife.

Did you fail to swat a couple of houseflies early last April? If they and all their offspring had survived, the entire earth by the end of this month would be covered a foot deep in houseflies.

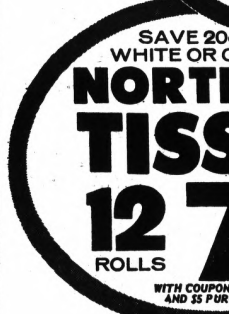

Quite from our contemporaries: Catholic Digest magazine reports on the lot who, while touring a farm, saw a colt. "Look, Daddy!" he exclaimed. "A foreign horse!" History lesson: What U.S.

president first campaigned in a foreign language? In 1880 James A. Garfield, who had studied Latin, Greek and German in college, often spoke to German immigrant groups in their native tongue.

Don't admit this to your son, but if he's a bad speller it may be your fault. Scientists have found that word fluency is one of the mental abilities most influenced by heredity. Of course, you can always say your kid takes after his mother's side of the family.

Mama's and Papa's Happy Even Though They're Rich

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — A year ago they were penniless and happy on the beach in the Virgin Islands. This year they are apt to earn a million dollars, yet they manage to remain happy.

They call themselves the Mama's and the Papa's, though none of them is THOMAS They look odd, but they sound good, as demonstrated by their biggest hit record, "Monday, Monday." Their melodious, harmonic quality is like a breath of smogless air amid today's cacophony.

I finally caught up with the Mama's and the Papa's at NBC Studios where they were taking part in a Rodgers and Hart special for ABC, which rents the opposing network's color facilities. Since I am no good at four-way interviews, I chose John Phillips, the apparent spokesman of the M's and the P's.

He is towering and lean, with hair, mustache and goatee that makes him look like a young Robert Louis Stevenson.

'COMMUNAL LIFE'

"Last year I was in the music business in New York going to see a folk group," he said. "I got fed up with the commercial grind and quit. With 10 friends I went to the Virgin Islands, where we lived a communal life in a public park on the beach. Their idyllic existence came to an end as their money ran out, and they came to Hollywood to produce some records."

The first one, "California Dreamin'" was released Dec. 21 and was an immediate hit. Such are the logistics of the music world that they found themselves earning more money in one night than any of them had seen in their young lifetimes — their usual fee is $10,000 per performance.

"We just got our first record royalty check today," Phillips said. "This was just for records sales from December to May and doesn't include money from performances or sheet music (he writes many of the songs). It came to over $200,000."

Who are the Mama's and the Papa's?

There is Papa John, 25, born at Parris Island, S.C.; he attended two years of Annapolis before cutting out for the music world. Cass Elliott, 22, from Baltimore, Md., a girl of Kate Smithian proportions, Dennis Doherty, 24, Halifax, N.S., a motorcyclist with Prince Valiant hair, Michelle Gilliam, 22, Long Beach, Calif., petite and lovely, she recently returned to the group after reconciling with John, her sometime husband.

HELL'S ANGELS

Where did they get the name for the act? Phillips reported it stemmed from their life in the Virgin Islands where they played mamas and papas. It was also inspired by terminology of the Hell's Angels, the social club of motorcyclists.

As for the apostrophes, Phillips explained: "It started as a typographical error. Attempts to correct it ended in confusion. Now we accept it as meaning the music belongs to the Mamas and the Papas."

"That's the way we feel. It's our music, and we sing it because we like it. We'll continue as long as it remains fun, but we won't do anything we don't want to do. That's why we turned down the Ed Sullivan show. Every new record set goes on the Ed Sullivan show. We refuse to follow the pattern."

Also Helping Johnson's

Pat Nugent in Command of His House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Patrick J. Nugent seems to be in command of his own house — and he is helping Lyndon Johnson's on the side.

Nugent, as the only Johnson family man present among the ladies at a wedding Sunday night, was kept hopping taking care of them all.

He was a groomsmen, and wife Luci, 19, was a bridesmaid in the wedding of Patsy Derby to Burnell Chaney. Patsy is a cousin of Mrs. Johnson's from York, Ala.

Nugent was one of the first arrivals at the church. Looking fit and handsome in white tie and tails, he paced the church steps looking for arrivals, chatted with friends and waved to 200 spectators across the street.

LUCI APPEARS

Luci arrived with other bridesmaids. He hustled her inside, had a few words, then returned to the steps.

He greeted Mrs. Johnson warmly, and put an arm around Lynda, 22, patting her gently. They whispered. He took them pains.

inside, saw them seated and checked last-minute arrangements.

Afterward, he coaxed Luci to smile for pictures, urged her to hurry to a waiting limousine, then all but pushed her in when she hesitated. He saw that the first lady and Lynda were safely in cars before he, too, joined the procession.

Luci and her husband walked down the aisle together at this wedding. They were married two weeks ago, and since they returned from their Bahamas honeymoon four days ago, Luci has been a bridesmaid twice.

The Nugents plan to move into their Austin, Tex., duplex apartment later this week.

Nixon will be the guest speaker at a regular weekly luncheon of the Senate Republican Policy Committee tomorrow and is also expected to meet with his House counterpart.

Although he has supported President Johnson's firm stand on Viet Nam, Nixon doubtless will be asked to assess the war as an issue in the fall congressional and gubernatorial campaigns.

Two Rocket Launches Set During Week

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — America's two mightiest rockets are scheduled for launch this week to orbit eight military communications satellites and hurl an unmanned Apollo spaceship three-quarters of the way around the world.

First up is the Air Force's triple-barreled Titan 3C on Wednesday.

It will attempt to string the eight radio relay stations in near stationary orbits high over the equator.

On Thursday, a powerful Saturn 1 is scheduled to send the 44,000-pound Apollo on a 93-minute hop to a Pacific Ocean recovery fleet to clear the way for the launch of astronauts Virgil Grissom, Edward White and Roger Chaffin in a similar ship as early as Nov. 17.

It will be the third flight for the "uprated" Saturn 1, and the second suborbital test for the forerunner of America's moonship.

LITTLE LACKING
All the spacecraft is lacking for the mission are three pilots, the couches and a few instruments.

The 17,325-mile shot will test all of Apollo's systems and will put the craft's heat shield through a hotter-than-normal, roller-coaster ride back into earth's atmosphere.

Disarmament Outlook Mixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The disarmament issue is heading back to the United Nations with both good and poor prospects for East-West accord this fall.

U.S. officials rate the outlook good for a proposed treaty to preserve outer space for peaceful use.

But they see poor prospects for U.S.-Soviet agreement this year on a pact to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Both items are slated for consideration at the United Nations after the General Assembly swings into its fall session next month.

The world body already has approved the idea of banning weapons from space, in a resolution passed in 1963. This summer a U.N. legal subcommittee has been working at Geneva on language for a formal treaty.

If final working for a space treaty is agreed on at the United Nations, Washington authorities expect the document will be sent to the capitals of the world for ratification according to usual procedures. In the United States, this means approval by the Senate.

The proposal to curb the use of atomic weapons, which has No. 1 priority on the U.S. disarmament list — has run into a U.S.-Soviet stalemate at another Geneva parley, the roller-coaster ride back into earth's atmosphere.

4 of 5 Struck Airlines to Be Back to Normal Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Four of five major airlines which were struck by machinists expected to be flying normal schedules today.

Some 1,600 American tourists stranded in Europe began streaming home aboard transatlantic flights. Trans World's first overseas flight brought 145 passengers to Kennedy Airport from Shannon Airport in Ireland.

The four lines — Trans World, United, Eastern and National — more than 50 per cent of its service has been restored but did not expect full service until midweek when Seattle-Honolulu flights will resume.

Northeast, the fifth line involved in the 4-day strike were not crowded over the weekend, with many persons flying with "good loads."

Domestic flights generally were not crowded over the weekend, with many persons flying with "good loads."

National Airlines reported, however, "better than 80 per cent" business, adding that its New York to Florida jets were flying with "good loads."

Engineer Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Sigmund Cohen, 67, former freeway engineer for the City of Detroit, died Sunday. He was chief engineer at the time of his death for Transportation and Land Use Study, a metropolitan planning group.

Dr. John Z. Bowers, president of the Josiah Macy Jr. Foundation, New York, questioned apparent discrimination against women in this country who could fill the need especially for pediatricians and for doctors of child and adolescent psychiatry.

Only 9.1 per cent of medical school enrollment in the U.S. is female as opposed to an estimated 35 per cent in India, 30 per cent in Malaysia, 25 per cent in Thailand, 20 per cent in Germany, 20 per cent in the Netherlands, 15 per cent in Australia and 2.5 per cent in Israel.

Chile has 20 per cent women physicians and Brazil 15 per cent.

Arthritis Cure a Hoax—U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Southern House member and the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) are working together to stop what they consider a cruel and dangerous hoax on arthritis sufferers lured to Mexico in search of relief.

The case involves a doctor in Piedras Negras, Mexico, who is reported to have prescribed a controversial drug not readily obtainable in the United States.

The FDA blames at least six deaths and another six serious afflictions in Texas and Louisiana on the drug.

Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., became interested when constituents complained that the substance was unavailable in the United States.

After investigating the matter through medical scientists, Passman shifted his efforts to warning his constituents.

SOME EFFECT

The drug, variously known as dimethyl phazalone sulfamide, dipyrone, novagin, phalgin and narane, has a definite therapeutic effect on arthritis.

But despite miraculous cures or arrests of arthritis in some cases, the drug has serious and sometimes fatal side effects. Chief among these is the destruction of white blood cells, resulting in severe illness or death.

At 70, Old Dance Pro Raft Took New Dances in Stride

By EARL WILSON

LONDON — George Raft, handsomely white-haired and 70 years old, but looking hardly 55, unlimbered his dancing legs here for the first time in a decade and tried out the newest young people's dance. I'm glad to report that he can keep up with the kids of today.

"I can still shake—I don't know whether I can still dance," George said, doing the "Jelly Belly" with bellydancer Nai Bonet at a party he gave at George Raft's Colony Club.

He'll be back in NY soon, then to Hollywood, then to Hong Kong for a cameo spot in a movie, "Five Golden Dragons," then a short holiday, then back to swinging London.

"I was the first to do the rumba," Raft

Wilson said.

"I called it the Brazilian Samba. They barred it in America

... too suggestive!"

"I did the Charleston on Broadway 15 years. At Texas

Gulshan's, Ted Lewis' Parody Club, with Ben Bernie at the Palace, I was supposedly the fastest dancer living ... 50 miles a minute. We had a dance called the Natchez to 'Jada' and one called the 'Wet Rag.'"

George has remained in great shape because he has never had a drink and he has always thought himself as an athlete.

"I was a fighter and a ballplayer," George said. "I didn't drink because I thought athletes didn't drink."

He laughed. "Later I found out different. I used to take a case of beer to the players between games to double headers."

Cuban Communists Revamp Unions

HAVANA (AP) — The Communist Party is reorganizing the Cuban Workers' Confederation in a move designed to give the party greater control over the individual worker and his production.

Efforts to restructure the countrywide labor union apparatus come to a climax with a national labor congress starting Thursday.

Party bosses have decided to supplant many so-called "professional labor leaders" and bureaucrats long entrenched in the country's labor movement.

They will be replaced with new union local governing boards. He adds that the idea behind the conference, the first since 1961, is that "the existing class, having conquered political power, is now struggling to ward consolidation and strength in the construction of socialism and Communism."

To this purpose, he said, it is necessary to restructure the labor movement and its union apparatus at all levels, "sweeping from its ranks those elements which have not been capable of interpreting the signs of the times."

The number of unions will be chopped from 24 to 14 to consolidate their activities. Emphasis is being placed on the Communist system of emulation — the competition among individuals or groups of workers for higher production.

One directive says emulation "has to surge from the bottom up, but with the 'orientation of the party, the local union group and administration, for there is no need to wait for it to develop spontaneously."

Receiving equal emphasis is the division of labor forces in factories, construction projects, farm work and elsewhere into small brigades headed by one or two men directly responsible to the party.

Production, working hours, "volunteer" labor and work habits are thus more easily controlled.

County Males Are 1,897 Tons Too Fat

(Special to The Press)
NEW YORK — For Oakland County's male population to get down to what doctors call "desirable weight," they would have to take off about 1,897 tons.

Local women would have to do some shedding too, but not to the same degree. Most of them, in fact, are somewhat lighter than their mothers were at their age.

As to the average man, he is nearly six pounds heavier than his father was at the same age. For the 120,000 males locally over age 25, this increase amounts to 1,196,000 pounds.

Recent surveys and studies by various agencies, including the Public Health Service and the American Medical Association, have produced figures on a national basis to show the present-day weight of men and women in each height and age category.

Their findings are based on special physical examinations given to thousands of adults in all parts of the country.

119 POUNDS

They show that the average male in the United States over age 25, currently weighs 168 pounds but that he should be down to 149 pounds for optimum health.

For the male population of Oakland County as a whole, in that age bracket, assuming they are overweight to the same extent as men elsewhere, it represents an excess of 3,794,000 pounds, or 1,897 tons.

Among women, age 25 or over, the average is found to be 145 pounds, as compared with a recommended weight of 131 pounds.

Those who are in the younger group, 18 to 24, now average 129 pounds, the surveys show, or about 10 pounds more than the doctors think they should.

What to do about it? To eat or not to eat, that is the question.

Cutting down on the food intake is considered the best means of reducing. Exercise, however, is an important adjunct, according to the American Dietetic Association.

It has prepared a table to show the amount of physical activity that is necessary to dissipate the calories contained in various foods.

To burn up the 350 calories in a hamburger sandwich, for example, would require 67 minutes of walking, 43 minutes of bicycle riding, or 31 minutes of swimming.

An ice cream soda, which has 255 calories, would take 49 minutes of walking, 31 of bicycling, or 23 of swimming.

UAW Will Fight Big 3 Rejection

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union gives every indication it is not taking as final the Big Three auto makers' rejection of contract reopening to give wage boosts to skilled workers.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler are apprehensive as they shift into high gear on 1967 models, despite labor contracts which run until September of next year.

Meany Wins Labor Dispute

Controversy Centers on Policy Institute

CHICAGO (AP)—A family fuss in the AFL-CIO was thrashed out behind closed doors yesterday with the forces of President George Meany emerging victorious.

At issue was the American Institute for Free Labor Development, which has been the subject of some critical articles since Victor Reuther charged at a United Auto Workers convention in May that, in effect, it is a tool of the U.S. government.

Reuther is a brother of Walter Reuther, president of the UAW, and is director of the UAW's International Department.

The Reuthers and Meany long have been at odds, particularly over international matters.

Meany told newsmen after a closed meeting of the 28-member AFL-CIO Executive Council that the council adopted a resolution saying it "commends the AFLD in carrying out the policies of the AFL-CIO in the international field."

The resolution added that the council "rejects out of hand the campaign of vilification that has been conducted against the AFLD."

The institute, supported primarily by AFL-CIO funds, is active in the formation of trade unions, particularly in Latin America, and in the training of union leaders from other countries.

Asked what charges had been made against the AFLD, Meany said it has been accused of fomenting revolutions in Latin America, of being a training school for company unions, of being an arm of the State Department, of carrying out U.S. foreign policy and of being an agent of the CIA.

Asked what prompted the charges, Meany replied, "does the Daily Worker need prompting?" The Worker is a publication of the U.S. Communist party.

The vote on the resolution supporting AFLD was 23-2 in favor.

U.S. Plans to Train GI Rejects

Dem Caucuses Shun I-696 Bill

LANSING (AP)—House and Senate Democratic caucuses decided yesterday against considering legislation of the I-696 freeway routing controversy.

Each caucus opposed Gov. George Romney's request to put the matter up for consideration at this week's legislative session, and Democrats rejected on the Senate floor a Republican attempt to win approval for consideration.

Romney wanted the Legislature to establish an arbitration board composed of himself and the State Highway Commission to decide on a route for the 18.1-mile stretch of freeway through Oakland and Macomb counties.

Highway planners have been unable to get all affected communities to agree on one routing.

State law gives communities veto power over routes through their areas.

Construction of the freeway has been delayed because of the lengthy route hassle.

Romney warned yesterday that $140 million in federal funds could be lost by further impasse.

Sen. John McCauley, D-Wyandotte argued that setting up an arbitration board would take away cities' home rule powers.

Republican leader Sen. Emil Lockwood, St. Louis, countered that 48 states "don't allow one city to stand in the way of progress."

Cong Mine Sinks Vessel; 7 Yanks Die

SAIGON (AP)—A Communist mine explosion ripped today into the American freighter Baton Rouge Victory, laden with war supplies for the fighting forces in Viet Nam, and sank her to main deck level in the Saigon River 22 miles southeast of this city.

Seven of the 45 American crewmen were killed and another suffered a fractured arm as water flooded the ship's engine room from a gaping hole in the port side. The Baton Rouge Victory grounded beside the south bank, where salvage crews quickly started work under guard.

As a security precaution the Vietnamese navy temporarily closed the channel, one of the two main channels of the river between Saigon and the South China Sea, though the ship was off to one side.

Guerrilla-infested mangrove swamps line the river there.

South Vietnamese troops worked ashore, and U.S. patrol boats and helicopter gun crews kept watch over the river as a salvage ship and four tugs worked to transship the supplies and rig the Baton Rouge Victory for refloating.

Piggins Grand Jury Indicts 8 for Contempt

DETROIT (UPI)—Eight alleged crime syndicate officials were indicted on contempt charges today by a grand jury investigating alleged police and political payoffs.

Circuit Court Judge Edward S. Piggins, sitting as a one-man grand jury, ordered the eight men arrested for refusing to answer questions ranging from whether they gave campaign contributions to political candidates to their age and address.

Piggins said he could not disclose whether the eight also refused to answer questions about alleged payoffs to Detroit policemen.

Piggins previously has indicated 18 Detroit policemen, the sheriff and undersheriff of Wayne County, an alleged crime syndicate official and his associate in a Detroit "Greektown" restaurant, four labor union officers and several other persons.

The eight indicted today, all from the Detroit area, were Moses Joseph, 57; Matthew Mike Rubino, 55; Peter Licavoli, 64; Vito Giaccone, 43; Michael Polizi, 42; Dominic Peter (Fats) Corrado, 36; George Mosey Massu, 59; and James Tamer, 54.

Crops are beginning to thrive and cooler water in area lakes promises to improve the angling action which is usually slow during the hot "dog days" of mid-August.

The average thermometer reading between now and Sept. 1 will range from highs of 84 to lows of 60; while average temperatures from Sept. 1-15 will shift to highs of 76 and lows of 53.

The cool spell is a welcome relief to farmers whose crops wilted during the hot, dry summer months.

Program Would Use Facilities of Defense Dept. — McNamara

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara disclosed today Pentagon plans to accept for military training in the next 10 months 40,000 men ordinarily disqualified because of education and health reasons.

He said the number would increase to 100,000 in the next fiscal year and in succeeding years.

The men would undergo intensive training using facilities of the Defense Department — "the largest single educational complex in the world has ever known" — to become "fully satisfactory soldiers," McNamara said in a speech prepared for delivery to the convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Aides in Washington described the training effort as unique and said men taken into the program will, like draftees and enlistees, be under military authority of the services.

Pentagon spokesmen said 85 per cent or more of such trainees are expected to qualify for military duty. Those who do not qualify "will not be retained" in the service.

McNamara told of the program in a speech that otherwise touched more on the war on poverty than the war in Viet Nam.

The Pentagon chief declared at one point, however, the United States has kept its commitments from South Viet Nam to Berlin "and will continue to do so until reasonable settlements are achieved."

He offered no hope an end to the war is forthcoming.

Holly Board OKS Pact for Teachers

HOLLY — The board of education last night unanimously ratified a two-year teacher contract with the Holly Education Association.

The action completed the agreement since the HEA members had agreed to endorse the pact last Saturday morning.

Tentative settlement between the two sides had been reached on Aug. 12 at the conclusion of an eight-hour bargaining session.

Details of the agreement have been withheld since then, pending final ratification by the board and the HEA membership.

John Rose, spokesman for the teacher group said that approximately 80 per cent of the HEA membership voted to approve the contract.

SIGNIFICANT RAISES

Terms of the new accord include a salary schedule that grants the teachers significant raises, but, said Schools Supt. Russell D. Haddon, stays within the system's approved budget.

Salaries range from $5,800 starting pay for teachers with bachelor's degrees to a maximum of $9,850 after 10 years. Salaries for teachers with master's degrees start at $6,050 and scale up to $9,050 in 10 steps.

In addition, teachers with 25 years experience in the school system will receive an extra $100 per year for their 25th through 30th year.

IMMEDIATE INCREASES

Haddon said that immediate raises for teachers in the school system last year will range from $545 to about $1,800.

The superintendent noted that the contract includes a provision that teachers will not engage in or encourage strike action for the length of the contract.

Jerry Glenn, president of the HEA, said he was "very happy" with the settlement and believed it was a good contract.

The present salary schedule includes a starting salary of $5,300 with a maximum of $7,500 after 10 years for teachers with bachelor's degrees.

Teachers with master's degrees now receive a starting salary of $5,600 with a maximum of $8,100 after 10 years.

Utica Unveils School Plans

Dec. Vote Backed for Extensive Expansion

UTICA — An extensive building program, which could prove to be one of the largest in the school district's history, was recommended to the board of education last night.

The Citizens Study Committee, which has been studying the school district's needs since last March, recommended that a bond issue to pay for the building program be submitted to voters in December.

The bond issue, for which no amount was set, would cover construction of six elementary schools, two junior high schools and the addition of a swimming pool at the new Adlai Stevenson High School.

Also included in the recommendations were a reduction in class loads, more specialists in art and physical education, research centers at all schools, a full-time librarian in each school, more attractive salary schedules for teachers, construction of an administration building and warehouse, an improved vocational program at the high school and the setting aside money for future sites.

Schools Supt. Philip E. Runkel said that if all the recommendations were included, the bond issue "could well prove to be one of the largest the district has ever had."

NOT LARGE

He pointed out it would not constitute a large tax increase to residents because of the school bond loan fund which permits districts to borrow money from the state if they levy seven mills for debt retirement.

Utica presently levies 6.80 mills for debt retirement.

The Study Committee also recommended that a further study be made of the operating costs of the proposed program and that a recommendation be made in the spring on increased operating millage.

The board members will study the recommendations in detail before making any decisions, according to Runkel.

In other action last night, the board was informed that four new elementary schools, which are to open this fall, will not be ready in time for the opening of school.

Runkel said that students from the four schools will have to attend nearby schools on a half-day basis until their schools are ready, probably within two or three weeks.

The only exception would be Rose Kidd Elementary School which won't be ready until the second semester. Pupils from that school will attend the new Swartzkopf school when it is completed within a month.

SIDEWALK ARTISTS — Paintings, water colors, oils, ceramics and drawings will be exhibited in a sidewalk art show to be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday on South Broadway at Atwater in Lake Orion. Artists Mrs. Hans Herzog (left) of 494 Hauxwell,

In Walled Lake

Schools Will Open on Sept. 8

WALLED LAKE — School will open Sept. 8 for all Walled Lake students, with a full day of classes scheduled for all but kindergarten students.

Half of the morning and afternoon kindergarten sessions will attend class Sept. 8 and the other half will meet Sept. 9.

Morning classes will meet from 8:35 to 10 a.m. and the afternoon classes will meet from 1:30 to 2:55 p.m. The regular kindergarten schedule will begin Sept. 12.

All students new to the district should register before Sept. 8. Elementary school principals are in their offices now and will accept registrations.

Elementary principals will be in their offices beginning Aug. 22.

PHYSICAL EXAM

Kindergarten students who missed last spring's registration should be registered before the opening of school. Kindergarten youngsters must have a physical examination and the re-registers Sept. 6 and 7.

Teacher Contract Tentatively OK'd

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Negotiating teams for the board of education and the West Bloomfield Education Association have reached tentative agreement on a teacher contract for the coming school year.

The settlement came at 3:45 a.m. Saturday at the conclusion of a 10-hour negotiating session presided over by Daniel Gallagher, a member of the Michigan Labor Relations Board.

It was the second marathon session within a week for the two sides which had met on Wednesday of last week in a 10 1/2-hour session.

Final wording of the contract was agreed upon yesterday by James Maker, president of the WBEA, and School Supt. Dr. Leif A. Hougren.

Maker said the settlement will remain tentative at least until Friday when the teachers will meet at West Bloomfield High School to vote on ratification.

'COMPLETELY SATISFIED'

Details of the contract terms will not be revealed until they have won final approval from the teachers.

Maker said he was "completely satisfied" with the accord and that he was confident the teachers would accept it.

Hougren described it as "fair and equitable." The board, he said, probably would not meet to ratify it before the end of the month.

The settlement puts to rest a dispute between the two sides that began early last March.

The teachers had threatened not to return to school this fall without a master contract.

Negotiations had stalled about three weeks ago, prompting the WBEA to seek mediation from the Michigan Labor Relations Board.

Representatives of the Michigan Education Association have also been in attendance at the meetings for several weeks.

In Clarenceville

New Students Can Register

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The board of education is urging all students new to the Clarenceville district to enroll this week and next.

The school will be open and counselors will be present to assist the new students from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Students planning schedule changes should also make an appointment during the registration days.

The board points out that the term "new student" does not refer to students coming over from the Clarenceville Junior High School.

The high school will open for classes on Sept. 7 for one-half day. The regular full day schedule will begin the following day.

Parish Fete Set

ORTONVILLE — St. Anne's Parish will host its annual roast beef dinner Sunday at the Parish Hall on M-15. The dinner will be held from noon to 6 p.m.

Rochester Affirms Denial of Information Booth Bid

ROCHESTER — The Village Council last night stuck by its decision to refuse permission to the Rochester Area Human Relations Council to set up information booths on village streets.

More than 40 members of the Human Relations Council protested the refusal last night but village councilmen felt they would be opening the way to other requests if they granted permission.

Mrs. Hugo Swan, president of the Human Relations Council, quoted councilmen as saying education should be carried on "in the halls of learning rather than on village streets."

"We feel our purpose is education," she said, "and we tried to stress this to the village council."

ATTORNEY GENERAL

"Even the attorney general has said that agencies such as ours should be encouraged."

The Human Relations Council wants to use the booths to distribute literature such as a summary of a study of the relationship of race and property values, Civil Rights Commission literature on equal housing, the Council's brochures and fair housing bumper stickers.

Two weeks ago village authorities denied the Council permission to set up two booths on Main Street near Fourth.

"This is a state highway and we couldn't grant permission," said Village Manager William Sinclair.

CHANGED REQUEST

The Council then changed its request to booths on Fourth, which was also denied.

Fair Housing Days, which had been scheduled for last Friday and Saturday, were postponed by the Human Relations Council in the hopes that the village council would reconsider its request.

Mrs. Swan said that the board of directors will have to meet to decide on future action.

His Message Didn't Hit Home

WEST PLAINS, Mo. (P) — Orville Branch was careful to caution his neighbors to tie up their dogs because he was setting traps for foxes that were feasting on his ducks.

On Branch's first trip over his trap lines he found his own two house in the traps. He had forgotten to tie them up.

End Window Problems Now Outdated Troublesome House Windows Can Be Replaced Easily With Nu-Sash

Unique New Replacement Units, Installed At Low-Cost, Gives Home New Life & Look

Old window is unsightly, hard to wash, is difficult to open, lets in wind, dust, dirt. Nu-Sash replacement window opens easy seals tightly, lifts out for cleaning.

Troublesome, outdated, rattling, hard-to-wash house windows is a costly problem to homeowners who want to modernize. However, a handsome new product now provides an easy, inexpensive solution to a problem so common to area residents.

The product — Nu-Sash — is an aluminum unit specifically designed to replace old worn-out house windows. The low cost, including installation, is approximately 40% less than any other methods of renovating old windows.

There is no costly remodeling or construction work when you convert to Nu-Sash. Inside plaster and woodwork is never disturbed. The unique and sturdy installation process is one of the main reasons Nu-Sash are so economical. The average window can be converted in minutes.

Savings in heating bills will pay for a Nu-Sash conversion. Although low in cost, Nu-Sash windows are packed with outstanding features unmatched by any other window. These features greatly reduce housework, eliminate maintenance, and add eye-appeal. For example:

Stretching and straining on ladders is completely eliminated since Nu-Sash lift out for easy cleaning. Painting, puttying, and almost all other maintenance is completely eliminated since Nu-Sash are constructed entirely of aluminum and rigid vinyl.

Nu-Sash are so sturdy that test results show the window superior to standards set by FHA for new home construction requirements. The window comes in models that replace most all types of windows. Picture windows are available. A heavy duty model is available for schools, factories, apartments, and buildings.

As an important and permanent addition to the home, Nu-Sash qualify for low interest home improvement loans. The Nu-Sash window has appeared in recent editions of Better Homes and Gardens magazines. The product was awarded the guarantee seal of that publication. Details and drawings and cost estimates of Nu-Sash are available upon request. Colleges Must Cooperate, Says Romney

MARQUETTE (AP) — A balanced state system of higher education no longer can be achieved "through the random clash of higher education forces in legislative lobbies," Gov. George Romney told educators yesterday.

A program "geared to the future . . . can only be achieved through the cooperation of universities with a competent and enlightened planning agency at the state level," he said in remarks prepared for delivery at the meeting of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education at Northern Michigan University.

Michigan, he said, is in transition from one system to the other. The 1963 State Constitution called for overall coordination by the State Board of Education, while leaving the state's 10 tax-supported colleges and universities autonomous.

The board has been in operation about two years, Romney said, adding that "it is still not possible to judge whether it will be fully effective." Much of the developments of institutions still depends on lobbying.

The results of the free-wheeling system "have been remarkably good," Romney said — but state education went through a period of depression about 1960.

DEPRESSION TIME

It was against the background of this depression, with construction at a standstill, academic talent leaving, public confidence at a low ebb and an oncoming enrollment boom unprepared for, that the Constitutional Convention called for coordinated planning.

The convention also voted to retain autonomy for the schools — one of the factors that accounted for the good that came out of the free-wheeling system, he said, because of the aggression and dynamism of the school leaders.

ARRESTED BY POLICE—Allen Sugarman, 28, is shown at a New York City police station last night after his arrest for allegedly trying to sell a plainclothesman a quart of the drug LSD. An officer holds the bottle containing the liquid, which police said would bring $145,000 on the illicit market. Sugarman, who claims to be a former college teacher, is from Springfield, Mass.

Man Is Seized With LSD

NEW YORK (AP) — Police overpowered a self-described college teacher and seized LSD, a crime in New York. Violation of the weapons law and felonious assault.

Under arrest was Allen Sugarman, 28, of Springfield, Mass., who detectives said threatened to shoot them when they identified themselves as police.

Sugarman claimed to be a graduate of the University of Melbourne, Australia, and a teacher of history and English there.

According to detectives, Sugarman's arrest followed a tip that he was supplying large quantities of LSD for sale in Greenwich Village and midtown Manhattan. A purchase was arranged and police said they had handed over $10,000 to him when he allegedly pulled a gun.

The total amount of LSD seized was one quart, enough for 40,000 doses, each selling at $3.50, police said Monday after the arrest.

Money Is Key in Staying on Job—Rusk

NEW YORK (AP) — Dean Rusk said that when he runs out of money he'll have to quit his job as secretary of state. Look magazine reported Monday.

"I'm living off my salary. I don't have anything else. The savings that I had are long since absorbed on the job," Rusk was quoted as saying.

"That makes a difference to the kids," he continued. "You can't do some things. Like many other fathers, I have two youngsters in college this fall."

"When the balance gets zero, I'll have to quit. It's as simple as that." He didn't give any indication when that might be.

Rusk gets $35,000 a year as secretary of state. As head of the Rockefeller Foundation he earned an estimated $50,000 to $75,000.

The magazine also quoted Rusk as saying he hoped that publicity was given a statement he made during the Cuban missile crisis: "We're eyeball to eyeball, and I think the other fellow just blinked."

"I was always sorry that leaked out," Rusk was quoted as saying.

Cadillac Calls Truck & Coach Boss

A shift in command of several General Motors Corp. divisions takes the head of the local Truck & Coach Division to a similar post with Cadillac.

CALVIN J. WERNER, rounding out his seventh year as boss of the South Boulevard plant, set an enviable record for product development and sales volume. Indeed, Truck & Coach recently announced that its 1966 model year sales set all-time records for the division.

WERNER

Despite his dedication to his responsibilities as a vice president of the Corporation and general manager of one of its three Pontiac operations, Mr. Werner found time to take an active interest in civic affairs, and last year served as general chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Though the new assignment does not remove him from the general area, his friendly presence on the local scene will be a loss to the community.

Successing Mr. WERNER as head of Truck & Coach is MARTIN J. CASERIO, a GM vice president and, prior to his transfer, general manager of the AC Spark Plug Division.

In bidding adieux to the departing general manager of the local Division we offer a warm welcome to its incoming head.

Greed Killed U.S. 'Guideposts'

WASHINGTON — America is today experiencing the ill-effects of a "managed economy" that isn't being well-managed.

There's a serious question, whether any administration or the many councils of advisers surrounding it can prescribe a remedy.

For what is being ignored is the basic truth epitomized once by a prominent LAWRENCE clergyman who said: "there's enough in the world for everybody's need but not enough for everybody's greed."

every industry, if not every business, is different.

The President's advisory committee on labor and management policy made this point in a formal report a few days ago which said in part: "We also believe that it is impractical if not impossible to translate the goals reflected in the guideposts into formulae for application to every particular price or wage decision."

EQUITABLE APPLICATION
"We believe that in a free society any policy to achieve price stability will be acceptable and effective only if it bears equitably on all forms of incomes."

Voluntary restraints might have succeeded if the administration itself had not by its inaction condoned irresponsibility and let the "guideline" doctrine be nullified by selfish groups.

They have insisted that they are entitled to all that the traffic will bear, but too often the traffic lights are ignored.

Gallo Brothers Slip Up and Do Something Right

NEW YORK — Lo, the poor Gallo.

The sinister brothers of that name, rated high on the Brooklyn Crime Parade for years, recently did the borough a real good turn.

They called on one of the mobs of punks CONSIDINE engaged in last month's race rioting and either persuaded or ordered its leaders to cool, knock it off. See?

The leaders, who probably look up to the Gallos as the average kids revered Mickey Mantle or George Hamilton, cooled.

The rioting ended and the Gallos went back to whatever it is they do which causes the police to be chasing them most of the time.

They may have expected the keys to the city for a job well done. Instead, they got keys identical letters from harassed youth leaders — who in turn have been asked to resign for accepting the services of hoodlums.

GRAND JURY
Now the Gallos have been served with subpoenas to appear before a Brooklyn grand jury today to explain why they turned square.

Apparently, any abrupt change like that on the part of Gallos involves the hazy, crime statistics computer off its trolley. Can't have things like that happening. It was bad enough losing the Dodgers.

Consequently, things may go hard with the Gallos for going soft. It probably won't do them one bit of good to plead guilty of doing something nice for the city.

Language Exchange Bespeaks Canadian Unity

The Canadian government plans to send a number of high-ranking civil servants on a foreign exchange program this fall. During the course of a year, the officials will take language courses and absorb the local culture in order to gain better understanding of the people they are visiting.

None of them, however, will set foot outside the Country.

English-speaking officials will go to Montreal or Quebec, where French is the language of 84 per cent of the inhabitants. French-speaking civil servants will go to strongly Anglicized Toronto.

The novel exchange is part of a long-term program to make Canada a truly bilingual nation, at least on the governmental level.

"While language difference isn't a practical problem because most French-Canadians can speak English, it is a highly moral matter," said JOHN E. HOBSON, director of the newly formed Secretariat on Bilingualism. "The French-Canadians have a right to be heard by their government in their own tongue."

It is hoped that the bilingualism program will go far toward convincing all Canadians, whichever side their ancestors were on when Wolfe defeated Montcalm on the Plains of Abraham, that Canada is and ought to remain one country.

Johnson Wary of Bobby's Steps

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Probably no president in history wished more for public approval than President Johnson. So it should be no surprise if he makes changes in the way he handles his job.

Polls indicate Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York is gaining strength as a possible contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1968.

This must be a shock to Johnson. Kennedy had been considered a good presidential bet in 1972. But speculation about 1968 hardly went beyond thinking Johnson might want him as No. 2 man on his ticket, instead of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

There's a wide gap, and a cool one, between Johnson and Kennedy.

Since his election in 1964, the senator, brother of the late President John F. Kennedy, has kept himself steadily in the public eye with speeches, statements and colorful trips, like the one to South Africa.

BLUNTLY CRITICAL

He has differed with the Johnson administration repeatedly, and at times has been bluntly critical, thus setting himself apart from close links with the President and creating a picture of himself as a sort of independent spirit to whom Democrats could turn for leadership whenever they wanted to.

This is hardly a new experience for Johnson with the Kennedy family.

In the late 1950s, it was the tireless Johnson, chained to his job, who, as the Senate's Democratic leader, steered the legislative programs through Congress under Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Sen. John F. Kennedy in those years spent a lot of time building up support around the country for his presidential candidacy in 1960. It paid off: Kennedy got the nomination, Johnson got the vice presidential spot.

NO STRONG POINTS

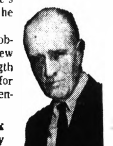

Ease and timing in public relations — or, rather, public appearances — are not Johnson's strongest points.

He was bound to lose some popular support as a result of the American role in the Vietnam war: the casualties, the cost, the uncertainty about where it leads.

Yet, for months earlier this year, he let his critics in and out of Congress practically monopolize the public mind with their fault-finding while he contented himself with more or less scattered statements.

He probably would have done himself good if he had chosen to meet his critics head-on with a lengthy, detailed explanation to the nation on television. He has been reluctant to make the most possible use of televised news conferences.

Johnson's whole political life and training had been spent in a manner which is the opposite of public relations.

Liberal Administration Worries Area Resident

Our children will have to pay $250 taxes each year just on our federal debt. If the debt keeps increasing at its present rate, this will soon go up to $500 a year.

Our gold reserve is getting smaller. If foreign countries turned their dollars back for gold, it would take all the gold we have. And our children would still owe $15.7 billion.

Our liberal administration is turning Communists, killers and radicals loose on the public. Now they want to take our guns away so we can't defend ourselves. Honest people will abide by the laws, and the dishonest will always find ways of getting guns.

In some liberal circles it is proposed that all young people shall spend two years in service to the government. Hitler and most other dictators have had their youth groups. This always happens where the government runs the people, instead of the people running the government.

'Equality and Acceptance Is the Answer'

You recently printed an article from a Chicago paper about the protest marches and the white reaction. I would like to see something that would show the other side. I think you are pretty fair and I agree substantially with your editorial page. But hate exists and until it is brought to the surface and people see how bad and horrid it is there never will be equality for any group.

This false pride in being better than another is uncalculated, here in America. If we would let the Negro be treated equally and accepted, there would be no problem. A few may marry the boy next door, but very few, and if we accepted each on his own merit and held no prejudicial feelings, they could be accepted also and their children wouldn't suffer.

God made us different to teach us to get along and love all men as equals.

I sympathize with visitors who cannot always find a space or who must be detained inside.

I feel hospital employees should be treated the same as those who work at City Hall. All are City employees. Free parking for one group and not the other is discriminatory.

A Caustic Comment on Our Legal System

I see in England where the men who shot the three policemen are in custody and being held without bail. Now if that were here, a fellow police officer would have to step over his fatally-wounded buddy and advise the hood of his rights, escort him gently off to jail, only to have him let out on personal bond by one of our judges who would tell the hood, even though he pleads guilty, that he shouldn't jump to conclusions because he is entitled to a jury trial.

All of this is going on while the granddaddy of them all is honeymooning (?) with his youngster.

Officials Optimistic on Orbiter's Success

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Lunar Orbiter's high-resolution camera continues to transmit blurry pictures of the moon but a U.S. space agency spokesman is optimistic.

Monday the balky camera sent a sneaky picture of ground along the moon's equator, where astronauts hope to find a smooth landing spot later in the decade.

The spokesman said: "The high-resolution shutter seems to be firing off at random from a spurious signal. But the law of averages says we should get some clear shots taken at just the right time."

"It's likely we'll have close to 100 per cent success on the mission."

ONE YARD ACROSS

Space agency spokesmen said they hoped the high-resolution system would produce photos clearly showing craters and ridges as small as one yard across.

TURTLES

QUESTION: What is the difference between a turtle, a tortoise and a terrapin?

ANSWER: Generally speaking, reptiles of the order "Chelonian" which have hard shells outside their bodies, are all spoken of as turtles.

This is an ancient group of animals that existed during the time of the dinosaurs.

They have survived to today while the dinosaurs are long extinct. The hard shell has evidently been very effective.

Some turtles are usually spoken of as tortoises and terrapins. An expert on reptiles has divided the chelonians this way: tortoises, those which live strictly on land; turtles, the ones which live partly or entirely in water, including sea water; terrapins, the hard-shelled fresh water kind which have a definite market value for food.

Under tortoises, we illustrate the giant tortoise of the Galapagos Islands, which can weigh 250 pounds and live, according to some reports, up to 400 years; and (right) the gopher tortoise, a related species of the southern U.S.A., but much smaller.

The familiar spotted turtle represents a number of turtles which live in or near fresh water.

The young one below him is the kind which are often sold for pets — the young of the American slider, a common species. The handsome diamond back terrapin, (lower right) is prized for food.

FOR YOU TO DO: ★ ★ ★ The turtles, except the big snapping turtle, which can bite viciously, are harmless animals; many species of which make good pets. Get to know them better.

A Breakthrough

New Diving System Pays

NEW YORK (UPI) — Many Baltimore has made a break-through.

The division is earning substantial revenue during the past year with its cachalot sustained deep diving system, according to Larry Somers, Westinghouse ocean engineer.

Now the undersea division of Westinghouse Electric Corp. at Westinghouse has rented out the cachalot equipment for $80,000 a month for two important emergency jobs — one at Smith Mountain Dam, Va., for a repair project deep underwater on the power dam's outlet grates and the other for closing the wells and recovering a huge offshore drilling platform of Gulf Oil Corp. wrecked by a hurricane in the Gulf of Mexico.

"This demonstrates beyond all doubt the commercial practicality of oceanographic projects to enable divers to live for periods of as long as a week under deep water conditions and to work at depths of 200 to 650 feet for four hours a day or more," Somers said.

AMOUR DAY
Somers said Westinghouse ocean engineers believe the cachalot system, named for the sperm whale, can be built for safe use at depths of perhaps 1,500 feet and that it ultimately may enable divers to put in almost an eight-hour working day in the depths.

By contrast, a scuba diver or a "hard hat" diver with old-fashioned equipment can work only a few minutes on each dive at depths of 200 feet and must go through decompression after every dive.

The cachalot consists of two chambers.

In the larger one divers live to observe collagen and other for a week at a time under atmospheric conditions stimulating bone. Electron micrographs of fossil bones of a deer-like animal kept on the surface.

The smaller submersible chamber is lowered by a crane into the water.

Desert Bone Retains Cells, and Collagen

By Science Service
LONDON — An 80-million-year-old dinosaur bone has been found in the Gobi Desert of Southern Mongolia with preserved collagen fiber and cells.

Studies of ground sections of bone under the electron microscope by three Polish scientists revealed that preservation of substances similar to that in fresh bone tissue was probably due to a "border barrier," which separated them from the rest of the bone.

Collagen, the sticky protein substance in connective tissue around joints, has been found in mummified human remains several thousand years old, and in mastodon bones preserved under permafrost conditions. Bone fragments after glacier preservation have been reported to have all the appearances of fresh bone.

It is only recently that studies on Pleistocene bones have demonstrated that it is also possible to observe collagen and other for a week at a time under atmospheric conditions stimulating bone. Electron micrographs of fossil bones of a deer-like animal kept on the surface.

The smaller submersible chamber is lowered by a crane into the water.

Kremlin Still Hiding Secrets of Khrushchev Ouster

/EDITOR'S NOTE—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's fall from power and into the obscurity of an unpersuaded world—and Khrushchev as well. The following dispatch by a veteran UPI Moscow correspondent gives another insight into the workings of the Communist hierarchy.

By HENRY SHAPIRO
MOSCOW (UPI) — At midnight Oct. 15, 1964, the Kremlin joined an unsuspecting world with the dramatic report that Communist Party chief and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev had "resigned."

Many foreign governments were puzzled and securities went tumbling on the world's stock exchanges as Khrushchev's successors, without further explanation, claimed the change of guard was due to their former leader's "advanced age and deterioration of health."

To this day Soviet citizens and foreign Kremlin watchers remain intrigued at the secrecy of the plan — which must have been under consideration for some time before its execution — for the political liquidation of the world's most powerful ruler.

It may forever remain a secret how that secret was kept, not only from the outside world but from Khrushchev himself.

That Khrushchev was no less surprised than anybody else, with the exception of the handful of his associates in the party presidium, is attested by the eminent Frenchmen, the last foreigners to see the former Soviet premier in office.

LOOKED HEALTHY

Khrushchev was a picture of good health, cheer and self-confidence on the morning of Oct. 14 when he was visited by Gaston Palewski, French minister of science, and Philippe Baudet, ambassador to Moscow, Baudet told UPI.

The Frenchmen had been invited to lunch with Khrushchev at his retreat in the village of Pitsunda on the Black Sea coast in the Sochi area.

But in the morning of that day the French visitors were notified that the lunch had been canceled and they were requested to call earlier before noon.

By that time Khrushchev's fate had been sealed because, as is now known, the presidium met Oct. 15, in his absence, and decided to remove him.

So blissfully ignorant of what was happening in Moscow and so cocksure of his position did Khrushchev appear to be, according to Baudet, that he engaged the Frenchmen in a full length conversation on world and Franco-Soviet problems.

He even talked about Gen. Charles de Gaulle's planned visit to Moscow which was to take place almost two years later. Soon after the Frenchmen left him, he boarded a special plane for Moscow and went directly to a meeting of the presidium to hear himself bitterly attacked by his former friends.

"If that is how you feel and I see you are all against me," Khrushchev shouted, "you can have my resignation!" He rushed home and wrote out his resignation by hand, probably half expecting that it would be turned down.

The forms had been observed, to all according to the rules of Communist discipline, Khrushchev was now formally ousted to become this country's first genuine unpersoon.

He was, in effect, condemned to be inactive and silent forever.

De Gaulle Trip Spurs Peace Parley Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today French President Charles de Gaulle's scheduled visit to Cambodia might produce some first steps toward Viet Nam peace negotiations.

Mansfield said in an interview that de Gaulle's discussions with Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian chief of state, are certain to include possible means of ending the war.

The French leader is scheduled to arrive in Cambodia Aug. 30.

"These discussions well might produce some tentative steps toward negotiations," he said. He added that while de Gaulle has criticized the U.S. course in Viet Nam, he believes the French president would do what he can to end the fighting.

Mansfield noted that de Gaulle is maintaining communications with Hanoi and recently has stepped up the ranking of the French commercial mission there.

"I think Hanoi would be likely to give its attention to any suggestions that de Gaulle might make," he said.

Mansfield, who has conferred several times with Sihanouk on visits to Cambodia, said that after de Gaulle's visit the prince may be more amenable to visit by U.S. roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

Sihanouk postponed a proposed visit by Harriman next month because of the U.S. bombing of a village which the prince claims is in Cambodian territory.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS
In other developments yesterday:

• Former White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said that if President John F. Kennedy were still alive, he probably would be running the Viet Nam war much as President Johnson has.

The pace of the war stepped up in 1964, a year after Kennedy died. But Salinger said "we must consider it in the light of his commitment to an American presence there in Viet Nam. The commitment was clear."

• Sen. Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii, advocated the bombing of Haiphong harbor to halt the flow of munitions into North Viet Nam.

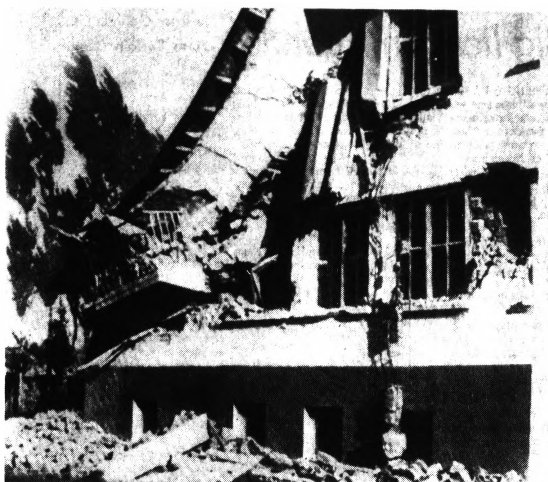

He said if that measure had been taken 1½ years ago — when the Republicans advocated such a move — "probably the conflict would have been ended."

In the interview, Mansfield said he fears the internal upheaval in Communist China — which appears to have installed Defense Minister Lin Biao as second man to Mao Tse-tung — will result in a hardening of anti-American policies.

"It is not usual for the Communists to put a military man in this position," he said.

"It points in the direction of a step up in China's military forces and a hardening of the policy of hatred toward the United States."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a Foreign Relations Committee member, said in a separate interview, however, he doesn't believe that China is nearly as responsible for keeping the Vietnamese fighting going as the Soviet Union.

Service for All Urged by Ike

1-Year Military Duty
Plan of Ex-President

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has urged the adoption of one year of universal military training to provide a broad manpower base for the U.S. defense system.

Writing in the current issue of Readers' Digest, Eisenhower said that in addition his plan would eliminate unfairness in the Selective Service System, help reduce juvenile delinquency and stimulate pride in country.

The former president said the various suggestions being made by Congress, a presidential panel and other agencies are palliatives that do not meet the problem.

"Under the system that I envision, every young male American, no matter what his status in life or his plans for the future, would spend 49 weeks — one year minus three weeks vacation — in military training," Eisenhower said.

"Only the barest minimum of exemptions would be permitted: obvious mental incompetents, those with some drastic physical defect, perhaps a few extreme hardship cases."

OPTION

Youths entering the service would be given the option of enlisting immediately in the regular forces.

If this produced insufficient volunteers, the government could draft additional men by means of a lottery, he suggested.

The call-up age should be 18, he said, since that is a natural break between high school and the start of college.

Nothing New on Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — America's first bright, clear close-ups of the moon's mysterious far side shows pretty much what was expected—nothing new.

Two good, sharply focused pictures transmitted to earth yesterday by the Lunar Orbiter spacecraft just show more lumps and craters — a carbon copy, almost, of the familiar near side.

Orbiter, an 850-pound American slumberbug locked in orbit around the moon, took the two shots late Friday and early Saturday, processed them in a small on-board laboratory, then radioed them back for scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here.

The pictures show much more detail than photos sent back in 1959 by the Soviet Luna 3, scientists said, although spokesmen for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration didn't interpret the new shots immediately.

First received was the high-resolution photo — showing an area about 75 by 100 miles — taken by the spacecraft's ailing close-up camera.

It was centered on a point about 150 degrees west longitude and 5 degrees south latitude.

The other photo, taken in the same general area, covered about 50 by 220 miles.

U.S. Planes Continue to Hit N. Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American fighter-bombers continued their daily pounding of Communist supply and transport facilities in North Viet Nam yesterday, the U.S. military command reported today. Rail yards and oil depots were among the principal targets.

Giant Air Force B52s from Guam bombed two targets in the south — a suspected Viet Cong division headquarters near the Cambodian border and about 65 miles northwest of Saigon and a North Vietnamese troop concentration area two miles south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

Ground fighting in South Viet Nam remained at a low ebb. Only light and scattered contact with Communist forces was reported.

In the city of Qui Nhon, near Saigon, a terrorist threw a grenade today at a military jeep, and four U.S. servicemen were wounded, none seriously. A Vietnamese woman passerby also was wounded. The terrorist escaped.

Navy pilots from the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt struck a rail yard just outside the city of Thanh Hoa in North Viet Nam and reported the area was engulfed in flames and a thick column of black smoke rose to 8,000 feet as they departed.

LINES CUT

They destroyed 10 railroad tank cars and two storage buildings and cut rail lines in three places, a spokesman said.

Air Force planes hit a supply area at Dong Hoi on the coast about 50 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

Pilots said they saw four large secondary explosions, an indication that ammunition or fuel stores had been hit.

Weekend raids on the north coast of North Viet Nam by Air Force RF-4C Phantom II reconnaissance planes was going down 30 miles northwest of Dong Hoi.

CREWMAN RESCUED

One crewman was rescued by a Navy helicopter but the other was listed as missing.

It was the 34th U.S. plane reported lost over North Viet Nam since the air war over the north began two years ago.

Harmony Grows for State Dems

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Solidarity was growing in Michigan Democratic ranks today, following the party's weekend nomination convention.

The gathering of more than 2,000 Democrats provided a platform for the first public display of party harmony since the Aug. 2 U.S. Senate primary election battle between ex-Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Detroit Mayor John B. Griffin.

The party also united behind President Johnson's Viet Nam policies although it recognized that "there are differences of opinion on this subject within the party."

And most candidates were nominated without a floor fight after a leadership caucus.

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry's Big Three indicate they will turn down today a United Auto Workers request that labor contracts be reopened to grant immediate raises to skilled workers.

General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. planned to give their answers to the union this afternoon.

The three biggest car makers hinted during the weekend that they would reject the UAW's request to reopen contracts to talk over wage demands of nearly 100,000 skilled tradesmen. The union asked for a reply by today.

In last-minute news releases, the firms said their 700,000 production workers will get automatic pay hikes totaling $58 million two weeks from now.

Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford, said reopening of the contract would be "inadvisable," and added: "There is a contract and I think they ought to live with it."

Besides the upcoming pay hike, provided for by the contract, the union and industry officials have agreed workers may get an additional one or two cents hourly through cost-of-living escalators in the pact.

Furthermore, the firms said, hourly rated employees will get added hospital-medical benefits Sept. 5.

WAGE INCREASE
The UAW wants the labor pacts reopened — they don't expire until Sept. 6, 1967 — to give skilled workers an immediate wage increase of at least 50 cents hourly.

The skilled tradesmen said they are underpaid for their work in auto plants in comparison with wages for similar skills elsewhere.

The tradesmen said tool and die makers in auto plants receive $3.97 an hour but they cited wages of $4.62 hourly for carpenters and $5.39 hourly for electricians in the Detroit area.

There were indications the 600,000 unskilled and semiskilled production workers would ask for the right to bargain over new wages if contracts were reopened.

New Temblors Rock Turkey; Toll at 2,300

ERZURUM, Turkey (AP) — Two new earth shocks today struck rubble towns of eastern Turkey, where the government launched a massive campaign to light hunger and disease among thousands of refugees from last week's killer earthquake.

The new temblors caused little damage and no casualties to add to the toll from Friday's disastrous quake — 2,300 bodies counted, with estimates 3,000 may have died. But the shocks spread fear and panic among the people, many sleeping in the open.

Relief crews ministered to 2,300 injured and the thousands left homeless. Others dug through the ruins of homes in towns and villages looking for more victims.

Health officials were afraid a cholera epidemic might spread the border in Iraq might spread north to Turkey.

For the peasants, the main fear was not disease but a recurrence of the major quake. Both small quakes came before dawn this morning and followed after shocks Saturday and Sunday.

OPEN FIELDS

The peasants slept in the open fields, under cone-shaped tents or wrapped in thick blankets.

Health Minister Edip Somangolu ordered mass inoculations against typhoid and told local health officials to add chlorine to drinking water.

Bodies uncovered from debris were being buried as soon as possible, often even before identification.

Fulton Lewis Jr., 63, Dies of Heart Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Broadcaster and columnist Fulton Lewis Jr., a voice of conservative American thinking for three decades, is dead of a heart attack at 63.

He died early yesterday in a Washington hospital, where he had undergone surgery for pancreatitis two months ago.

In recent years he had two daily newscasts on the Mutual Broadcasting System and wrote a syndicated column, "Washington Reports," which appeared in more than 200 newspapers across the country.

Lewis once said he felt he was the man who spoke for the small town businessman, "Mr. Average Listener," who had a home in the suburbs, a mortgage and children.

He had stated his personal and professional credo this way: "The public has no idea of the gyping it is taking, of how often the wool is pulled over its eyes. This is very serious business, the people are supposed to be running the show, actually they are often being duped."

"I am dedicated to change that."

Lewis began his radio work in 1937 after serving as a reporter and later as city editor of the old Washington Herald.

Legislature to Return; Detroit School Aid Big Item on Agenda

LANSING (AP) — The legislature returns this week to see if there's extra money available for Detroit schools and to pick up some political ammunition for November.

The Detroit school question could turn the session beginning today into a city-versus-suburb battle.

Detroit school officials say they are $12 million short of the money needed for their 1966-67 budget. The state has already showed them where to find $4.5 million.

Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, school officials and some city legislators say the state treasury could part with a few million dollars without significantly hurting the surplus.

Clubs Raided in London Hunt

LONDON (AP) — Armed police raided London stripclubs early today searching for Harry Roberts, the third man wanted in the slaying of three policemen.

Plainclothes men with revolvers in their belts swept through four basement clubs in the Soho district.

Scotland Yard — now in the 10th day of a massive manhunt for the scar-faced fugitive — ordered the raids after a girl telephoned this tip: "Roberts is hiding out in rooms in Soho and is mingling with audiences at the late-night strip shows."

Hundreds of men watching the shows were checked and questioned. No trace was found of the 36-year-old quarry.

ESTRANGED WIFE
Roberts' estranged wife, Margaret, is a professional stripper. She now lives in the north of England.

In other parts of Soho, detectives raided the apartments of call girls. Again they drew a blank.

THREE GUNS
Roberts, described by the yard as "vicious and dangerous," is reported to have three guns and plenty of ammunition.

Two men, John Duddy and John Edward Wines, are behind bars charged with murdering the three policemen who were shot down in a quiet suburban street.

The majority report, which did not make these demands, called on Democrats to "join President Johnson in supporting all efforts for an early and honorable negotiated settlement."

Said Hart: "I would not recommend adoption of this majority report if I did not believe that there is not a man or woman in the United States more dedicated to and sincerely interested in peace than the President."

Sheriff Slain; Suspect Held Hour-Long Gunfight Also Wounds Deputy

MORGANTOWN, N.C. (UPI) — Burke County Sheriff David Oaks was shot to death late yesterday and one of his deputies was wounded during an hour-long gunbattle in a small cotton mill town near here.

Police from four surrounding counties, searching through the night for the assailant, reported early today the had caught a suspect who was routed from a wooded area with tear gas.

Burke coroner and acting sheriff Dr. John Reese identified the suspect as Boyce C. Livert, 65, of the Henry River community.

Reese said the 44-year-old Oaks, a father of four, was dead on arrival at Valdese Hospital where Deputy Joe Burns was treated for superficial wounds of the arm.

Burns had gone to Henry River to serve a warrant on Livert, who two unidentified men charged had threatened to shoot them, Reese said.

REFUSAL WARRANT
The officer alleged Livert refused to accept the warrant, then from inside his home fired several rifle blasts at Burns.

Reese said a woman fled from the rear of the house and joined Burns in an attempt to persuade Livert to surrender. Burns was wounded as he reached from behind a tree to pull the unidentified woman to safety.

The deputy radioed for help and Oaks drove 40 miles to the scene, where in the gunfire, he was shot three times, officers reported.

The suspect fled through the rear of his home to a wooded area, where police tracked him for about five hours before capturing him Reese said.

Plan Begun to Train 1,000 Heads of Poor
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Citizens Crusade Against Poverty says it is immediately beginning a $4-million program to train 1,000 leaders among the poor in organizing techniques, knowledge of the relevant anti-poverty programs and commitment to the democratic process of change.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the privately financed crusade, said the program "will enable the poor, with the help of their self-chosen leaders, to build a broad responsible partnership with the rest of the community."

Reuther is president of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers Union.

He said yesterday that the Ford Foundation is making an initial grant of $475,000 for the self-help program.

Those named to take the training will come from grass-roots organizations of the poor among all minorities groups.

North Viet Nam claimed today that transport and communications systems throughout the country had been improved and expanded, despite U.S. air attacks. A broadcast by the official Viet Nam News Agency said also that "the time for repairs, is being continuously reduced."

'COMMUNICATIONS INTACT'
"In the main, the communications lines remain open in spite of fierce bombings and strafings by U.S. aircraft," it said.

In ground action, U.S. Marines fought three patrol actions with Communist troops in northern provinces near Chu Lai and Da Nang and reported 14 enemy dead.

Units of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division reported killing seven North Vietnamese soldiers in a skirmish 37 miles southwest of Pleiku Saturday. American casualties were described as light.

South Vietnamese government troops fought for small battles near Saigon Saturday. In the heaviest action, they killed 19 Viet Cong and captured 20 miles southwest of the city.

Atlantic Sailor, 72, Rushed to Hospital
NEW YORK (AP) — A Coast Guard cutter sped today toward Argentina, N.H., to hospitalize Capt. William Willis, 72, who had been attempting to sail his 11-foot boat solo to England.

A doctor aboard the cutter Ingham, which reached the frail craft Sunday night far out in the foggy Atlantic, diagnosed Willis' ailment as a strangulated hernia — as the sailor had thought when he reported to a passing freighter he was ailing.

The cutter was expected to reach Argentina at 8:30 a.m. EDT Tuesday.

Willis, who sailed the South Pacific alone, left here two months ago today in the Little One — named for his wife, Tess — bound for Plymouth, England.

TAKEN ABOARD
Willis and the tiny craft were taken aboard the Ingham.

The Ingham, on a routine trip from Norfolk, Va., to Newfoundland, was directed to Willis when about 150 miles from his given position, 850 miles east of New York and 330 miles south of Cape Race, Nfld.

The cutter had been contacted by the American freighter Sapphire Glades which spotted Willis and was told he was ill.

The sailboat skipper refused to go aboard the freighter, which was en route to Holland, saying he preferred to wait for the Coast Guard.

HONORARY MASTER
Willis was given honorary master's papers by the Coast Guard just before leaving on the voyage.

According to a doctor at Backman Downtown Hospital, Willis is in "serious trouble." If his self-diagnosis was correct, the doctor said Willis could be in danger of dying from blood poisoning, or the hernia could become gangrenous.

Willis' boat would have been

Yank Beatnik Is Alps Hero
Rescues German Pair From Certain Death

CHAMONIZ, France (UPI) — A bearded American known as the beatnik of the mountains' inched slowly to safety today with the two young Germans plucked from certain death in the Alps yesterday.

Gary Memming, 24, of Pasadena, Calif., heading an international team of rescuers, was making a cautious descent of the sheer west face of the 12,388-foot Aiguille du Dr. accompanied by the two Germans.

The bearded American reported black ice and frozen snow were making the descent extremely dangerous but said he hoped to rendezvous with a helicopter at the base of the Aiguille du Dr. by nightfall.

The rescue party plucked Heinz Ramich, 23, and Hermann Mueller, 25, from a ledge two-thirds of the way up the mountain yesterday.

The two were stranded on the mountainside Wednesday when they lost their ropes and could not go up or down.

LARGEST RESCUE
The recovery yesterday brought to an end the largest rescue operation ever launched in the French Alps.

More than 50 of France's top climbers and mountain guides took part in the operation, coordinated here by the French army's mountain training school.

The rescue effort was marred by the death of a German climber, one of several friends of the stranded pair who had been trying to reach the two by a different route.

Williams, recuperating in a Detroit hospital from an operation, sent a telegram urging the delegates "to go forward as a united party."

Delegates overwhelmingly rejected a Viet Nam resolution that U.S. Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., characterized as "critical of the administration."

His remarks against the doves' resolution were met with a standing ovation and were followed immediately by a show of hands vote which observers estimated at 4-to-1 in favor of a noncritical resolution.

Delegates from Wayne and Washtenaw counties led the fight for a resolution calling for escalation of the war, directed by the United States from Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's goals of invading North Viet Nam, reopening of the Geneva Convention and including the National Liberation front in a

Chase Results in Crash, Injury to Pontiac Man
A 33-year-old Pontiac man is in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with facial lacerations received when his car struck a utility pole Saturday afternoon, climaxing a high-speed chase.

According to police, Tommy Williams of 396 Perry was chasing Robert Kelly, 28, of 189 Rarburn when Williams' car went out of control and hit the pole.

Kelly told police that Williams had chased him from 431 Perry. Kelly said Williams fired three shots at him from a 22-caliber automatic.

The 3 p.m. crash occurred at South Paddock and South Jessie.

Suburb Officer Killed in Chase
DEARBORN HEIGHTS (AP) — One Dearborn Heights patrolman was killed and another injured today during an early-morning auto chase through three Detroit suburbs.

Fellow officers identified the dead patrolman as Robert Dowd and the injured man as Barry Creagh, both 26, and resident of Wayne County General Hospital. Dowd was married and the father of two sons.

Police later arrested Billie James Miles, 22, of Garden City and identified him as the driver of the car. Dowd and Creagh were chasing Miles was stopped when his car and another collided in nearby Dearborn, police said.

The scout car which Creagh was driving apparently skidded on a wet Dearborn Heights street and hit a tree, police said.

The pursuit began after Garden City police reported seeing Miles driving recklessly.

Low bid for the Hunter and Eton elevated tanks is $6,747. The other two submitted are for $9,000 and $12,979.

City engineers had ruled that painting of the Hunter tank on Sunday would be allowed to avoid the possibility of paint spray drifting on parked cars.

Cleaning of both tanks on Sundays and painting of the Eton tank on Sundays, however, was disallowed by the engineers.

In the past, the city permitted work on Sundays only when it was considered justifiable.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Mrs. George J. Huebner Jr., 275 Guilford, announced today that she is a candidate for the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan.

A 1956 graduate of the university, Mrs. Huebner received her degree in advertising copy for Maxon, Inc., Detroit.

Her community activities include being advanced gifts chairman for the Women's Division of the United Fund and serving on the Scholarship Committee at Oakland University.

She has been a substitute teacher in the Bloomfield Hills School District and is a sustaining member of the Junior League of Birmingham.

Two Detroit men, suspected of being the bandits in the July 6 holdup of Fox & Hounds Inn, 1560 N. Woodward, will be examined today in Justice Court 1, Bloomfield Hills.

Police Chief Walter Sluter said the men, James Ingram, 20, and James A. July, 18, will be formally charged with armed robbery before Justice of the Peace Jack Baldwin.

The two are presently being held in Oakland County Jail.

RESPIRATORY STIMULANTS

Respiratory stimulants—amphophylline is probably the best because it also acts as a bronchial dilator — have a limited value since they must be injected into the vein and the effect does not last long.

Another important part of the treatment of emphysema is getting rid of any chronic low grade infection that may have taken up quarters in the weakened lungs. This is best accomplished by the use of antibiotics.

The restlessness that often accompanies emphysema is best treated by improving the ventilation of the lungs as already outlined.

Sedatives, sleeping pills and the like should be avoided because they depress the respiratory center of the brain.

The use of oxygen and breathing exercises will be dealt with in the next column.

Diseased Fleas Are Imported to 'Bug' Rabbits to Death

By SCIENCE SERVICE

SYDNEY, Australia — Australian scientists will soon be bugging rabbits to death—they hope. Fleas have been imported from Spain by the Federal Government's Council for Scientific and Industrial Research Organization's division of animal genetics for a new attack on the resurging rabbit problem.

Scientists plan to use the fleas as carriers of the rabbit disease myxomatosis—if and when quarantine officials are satisfied that they will not endanger other animals.

The Spanish fleas breed only on rabbits. They are a variant of the European rabbit flea, which has been the main spreader of myxomatosis in Europe.

The Spanish variety has been selected because it should adapt quickly to Australia's similar climatic conditions. Scientists believe the fleas should be more effective in spreading the disease than mosquitoes, which so far have been the chief carriers in Australia.

Whereas the mosquito-borne disease is spread only if there are mosquitoes in a rabbit-infested area, the fleas, according to Government scientists, would be always with the rabbits. They jump from rabbit to rabbit.

SPREAD QUICKLY

If introduced to a rabbit population already partly infected with myxomatosis they should quickly spread it through the whole population.

In the case of rabbits that have grown immune to some strains of myxomatosis, the fleas could be infected with more virulent strains and then introduced to do their damage.

It Seems to Me . . .

Death of Jules Dubois a Blow to Freedom

Our hemisphere has lost one of its greatest figures in the unrelenting battle for Freedom of the Press. And remember: that doesn't mean a private Freedom for newspapers. It's YOUR Freedom.

JULES DUBOIS, Central and South American correspondent for The Chicago Tribune, died unexpectedly in Bogota—on assignment.

DUBOIS

For the past 15 years, this energetic and dynamic newspaperman fought valiantly and successfully for "your right to know." He has been thrown in jail by infuriated dictators who were all-powerful in their own countries. He has been ordered out of hot spots when supreme rulers discovered him and The Tribune aligned in absolute opposition to their personal plans for secret intrigue and supreme command.

Through it all, JULES DUBOIS never faltered and never lost courage. His news dispatches were clear analyses of current situations and he let the chips fall where they may.

No one—but no one—bluffed him or his newspaper out of a single word of truthful and necessary criticism when machinations were afoot. He was Chairman of the Freedom of the Press committee of the Inter American Press Association for most of its existence and was a heartening and inspiring example to his colleagues in two dozen nations.

Within the past month he was signally honored by the Golden Pen of Freedom in Stockholm, a presentation of consequence and importance, made by Prince BERTIL. And—ironic as it seems—another gold medal would have been presented to him in October from our own I.A.P.A. in just recognition of his supertative achievements.

The world has lost one of its courageous and intelligent fighters for the freedom to know. Shattering censorship's fetters is God's will and the struggle will continue forever. But an heroic and fearless leader has been struck from the upper echelon. All of us can stand silent in respect and deference to a challenging figure.

Hearty Approval . . .

In spite of current chaos, many, many times good things come to pass in this tumultuous era. Frequently fine recognition is bestowed upon worthy and deserving citizens.

President Johnson has nominated Judge Wade H. McCree for the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals. Currently he is a Federal District Judge for Eastern Michigan.

MC CREE

Lawyers say he possesses a fine legal mind and a well-balanced judicial temperament. I have no personal knowledge of that but I have enjoyed firsthand observations of his gentlemanly conduct, backed by his poised and friendly consideration for those around him. You would never see this man of probity and distinctions in petty demonstrations anywhere.

His unchallenged aim in life is to preserve the peace and integrity of our nation. As a personal friend I cheer mightily for a quick confirmation. Never before in this country have all phases of legal procedure needed common sense, judicial balance and just old-fashioned courage as much as they do today.

Wade H. McCree is thrice blessed on all counts.

And In Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

BARRA STRIESAND played in Chicago's Soldiers Field which seats 120,000 and the attendance was 11,000. . . . RICHARD PERRY's book on polar bears says to stand still if one chases you. He Must Wonder Why He Ever Took It Up!

David Lawrence Says:

Halt Political Contributions

WASHINGTON—Maybe the time has come when the United States should put a stop to the financial contributions to the campaigns of candidates for public office or to political organizations, and to forbid all sums to be expended by a candidate out of his own pocket.

This is not a new idea but one which, because of recent events, is again being discussed.

During the present session of Congress, innocuous have frequently been uttered with respect to the propriety of the so-called "President's Club" to which individuals—including heads of companies—contribute $1,000 or more for the privilege of attending special political functions at which the president is scheduled to be present.

In fact, it was charged in Congress a few days ago that a contractor and his family had donated $25,000 to the "President's Club" and that the contributor's firm would become the beneficiary of a piece of pending legislation involving a public project.

The House voted it down. CREATES SUSPICION

Such an incident arouses suspicion, although, as one House member said, it still may be only a "coincidence."

The embarrassment, however, arises just the same and may be unfair not only to the contributor but to the candidate who, when elected, must deal with matters that could affect any constituent.

If the Congress would appropriate $50 million a year to be put in an election fund, this would cover the expense of all campaigns, including primaries, for federal, state and local office.

representatives and $25,000 for senators as the amounts which they themselves can receive or spend in a campaign for election.

There are proposals to increase these figures and also the limit of $5,000 a year which individuals can contribute to a candidate or political committee.

The argument is that, with the advent of television and the high cost of campaigning, more realistic sums should be authorized.

But this doesn't reach the real problem, as the biggest sums of money spent in campaigns are collected and spent by organizations which are not identified with either of the two major political parties.

It wouldn't cost the taxpayer much to bear the expense of political campaigning, and the money could be appropriated for each state on a voter registration basis and allocated to regularly established political organizations outside as well as inside the major parties.

Maybe some day this will be adopted as the only sure way to prevent elections from being bought by vested interests.

Bob Considine Says:

'Unpopular' Committee Keeps Rolling Along

NEW YORK — Nobody ever liked the House Un-American Activities Committee, except the people.

For proof of that, please note that Congress may come and go and reflect every shade of political faith and purpose.

But when it comes time to appropriate money to keep the most exoriated of its committees going, they always come up with the money for fear that there will be a terrible roar of indignation from the constituency.

It was a grudging $25,000 that brought the committee to life three decades ago.

Today, it is a grudging $425,000 which is supporting its present lease on life.

The people still get excited and must be thrown out of its sessions. Its members sometimes make speeches that parody Broadway on democratic processes.

UNCERTAIN PRODUCT

Every president since FDR has grumbled at the committee but like Old Man River it just keeps rolling along.

The House committee deals in an uncertain sort of product short of blowing up the city of Washington. What is an un-American act?

Richard Nixon lied his political wagon to the committee's star and rode it to within a split hair's breadth of the presidency.

Alger Hiss plunged all the way from presidency of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace to prison because of the committee.

POWERS LIMITED

There have been so many charges and countercharges involving the committee that people tend to forget what it can and cannot do.

It cannot "try" any person or organization, nor can it pass sentence or even return an indictment.

It cannot force a witness to answer. Testimony heard before it cannot be used subsequently in a legal court action.

It cannot force the concerned department of the government to accept its advice or findings.

To President Truman it was a "red herring." To others it has been a kind of Ft. Knox of patriotism. Fish or fowl, it goes its way year in and year out, indifferent to taunts, impervious to haymakers.

THE SUN DIEGO UNION

All responsible people can applaud the recent efficiency of the police of Chicago.

And many people will commiserate with the department over the legal headache it is wearing as a result of U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

Professionalism of the Chicago Police Department in identifying and apprehending a suspect in the brutal killing of eight nurses was exemplary.

Within hours of the crime police had identified a prime suspect, published an artist's sketch of his likeness and had him in custody with aid from an alert physician.

Then their dilemma began. The ordinary course of procedure would have meant interrogation with full respect of the prisoner's rights and a reasonably swift buildup of the due process of law to which the suspect and the public are both entitled.

Law enforcement officers are aware that the aphorism "strike while the iron is hot" has a special meaning in justice. The time to establish a case or prove innocence is while facts are fresh in everyone's mind.

Voice of the People:

'Viet Nam War Bolsters Anti-Reds Everywhere'

The U.S. is attempting to "nip communism in the bud" in Viet Nam—an opportunity which has not been presented in the U.S.S.R. and other countries mentioned in the editorial question.

Viet Nam has become a symbol of strength and determination of opposing ideologies. We are indeed combating the forces of communism in all countries by maintaining a courageous battle that defends and defines our present views toward communism and aggression.

It is not fair to say the U.S. is "doing nothing" to thwart communism in all other countries of major consequence. I take India and Brazil as my examples.

Believes 4-H Beef Cattle Awards Not Fair

The 4-H Council should review the Beef Cattle awards of the past two years. If I am correct, these awards have gone to exhibitors whose fathers run commercial beef-producing enterprises in the County. A boy whose father owns him all the equipment of a commercial enterprise or farm certainly has an unfair advantage over the boy who obtains an animal or two from home care.

I know one young man who has been well up in the race but has been unable to overcome this handicap of a lack of sufficient animals from which to pick a potential winner.

The purpose of this contest is to show what the young people can do on their own and reward them for their hard work. I am sure that some of this year's exhibitors have had their hopes and zeal destroyed by this repeated example of unfairness.

DEAN B. WILHELM
FENTON

A Loyal Beatle Fan Defends John Lennon

I read your editorial about the Beatles and the author should look at himself before accusing John Lennon of stupidity. John's remark was taken out of context. He was talking about the sad state of religion in England, and the lack of contact between Christianity and young people.

I have never heard of any TV stations banning the Beatles' records. Some radio stations did, but most lifted their ban after John apologized.

The editorial talks about a "sacrilegious declaration." If repeating what many high church officials have said is sacrilegious, then maybe we should target about the whole idea of Christianity. Maybe our country has John said that the modern interpretation of the Bible ruins religion and he felt that religion was becoming too worldly. I agree with him. I'm only 16, but I stopped going to church three years ago. We were awarded prizes for attendance and studied simple little books that were meant for seven or eight year olds, when we were 13. These books attempted to "interpret" the Bible. Now I read the Bible by myself.

The author of the editorial should be more careful about his use of words. Calling people names in the newspaper can only lead to trouble.

SUZANNE VAN CONANT
ROCHESTER

(Editor's Note: Suzanne, one of the glories of America is the fact we can think differently. The editorial was manifestly wrong when it said "TV stations" instead of "radio." But it was absolutely correct in the quotation and you mustn't be fooled by the flood of "explanations." Don't give up your church. It will help you with your Bible reading.)

Question and Answer

I'd like to know why an insurance company can cancel our insurance without first notifying the policy holder.

CAR OWNER

REPLY

Ted Bertrand, Asst. Chief of Policyholders Service Bureau in Lansing, says that in cases of cancellation, insurance companies are required by law to give 10 days written notice, sent to the policy holder's last known address. For non-renewals, there is no such legal requirement, but most companies give 45 days notice that the policy will not be renewed. At the present time, there is no appeal for policyholders whose insurance is cancelled. Legislation is now in committee which would provide for such appeal.

Erosion of Rights

THE SUN DIEGO UNION

All responsible people can applaud the recent efficiency of the police of Chicago.

And many people will commiserate with the department over the legal headache it is wearing as a result of U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

Professionalism of the Chicago Police Department in identifying and apprehending a suspect in the brutal killing of eight nurses was exemplary.

Within hours of the crime police had identified a prime suspect, published an artist's sketch of his likeness and had him in custody with aid from an alert physician.

Then their dilemma began. The ordinary course of procedure would have meant interrogation with full respect of the prisoner's rights and a reasonably swift buildup of the due process of law to which the suspect and the public are both entitled.

Law enforcement officers are aware that the aphorism "strike while the iron is hot" has a special meaning in justice. The time to establish a case or prove innocence is while facts are fresh in everyone's mind.

It is significant also that 75 to 80 per cent of the convictions for serious crimes are based on voluntary confessions, many of which result from solid police work beforehand.

Recent constitutional laws by the Supreme Court has changed the procedure for the worse. Not only has it crippled police in the routines of interrogation and searching, but the Supreme Court also has made policemen overly cautious and wary in all their actions.

A landmark instance occurred two years when a murderer who confessed on three occasions to killing his wife was freed largely because he was not brought before a magistrate for 26 hours.

"We know the man is guilty . . . but we sit here, here, deaf and dumb . . . Felons will sleep better tonight," District Court Judge George L. Hart said in Washington after the ruling establishing freedom.

Not eyes of the nation turn to Chicago where the police have been walking on tiptoes around a suspect of a crime that has shocked people around the world. In six days the police have not had an opportunity to question the suspect fully, although the city's leading public defender has offered his services for defense. In the meantime, the iron coils.

The Chicago case is another example of how Supreme Court decisions are limiting effectiveness of the police and eroding of citizens' rights in the future of law enforcement.

No responsible person would seek a denial of the rights of an individual as guaranteed in the Constitution. However, there is nothing in the Constitution that denies the inalienable rights of the society at large either.

Society's rights are being continually eroded.

Ollie Is Playful

Otter Is Both Fun, Headache

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Ever been pushed into a swimming pool by an otter?

Dr. Richard J. Czajkowski has. It's one of the hazards of owning an otter you've raised from a bottle baby — and even taught to swim.

Dr. Czajkowski, director of the King County Blood Bank, acquired the otter, named Ollie, as a cub from an animal dealer in Amsterdam last March.

Ollie, a Eurasian otter, now is 18 months old and 27 pounds of muscle and mischief.

Dr. Czajkowski — pronounced like Tchaikovsky — keeps Ollie in a tightly fenced back yard with a swimming pool. He watches the animal's activities through two cameras hooked up with a closed television circuit.

One camera went out of commission temporarily a few weeks ago. Ollie unscrewed the lens and threw it into the swimming pool.

Ollie likes to throw things into the swimming pool. "I went out to clean the pool the other morning," said Dr. Czajkowski, "and as I was bending over Ollie sneaked up from behind and shoved me in."

His closed-circuit television system enables him to watch Ollie on his living room screen.

Ollie has a fine time this summer while Dr. Czajkowski recuperates from an illness. He kept escaping and tormenting neighborhood housewives.

though there are times I like to murder him, I'm very fond of Ollie."

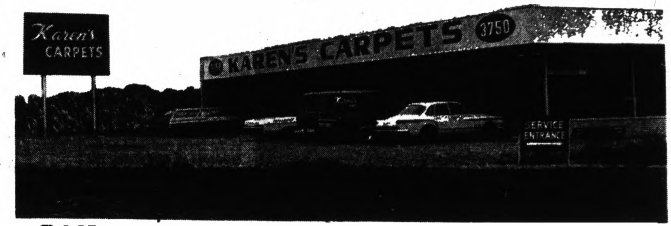

The doctor had to get the otter abroad because American otters are protected.

Dr. Czajkowski, a widower, also has a tame skunk, the latest of eight or nine he has kept as pets in recent years.

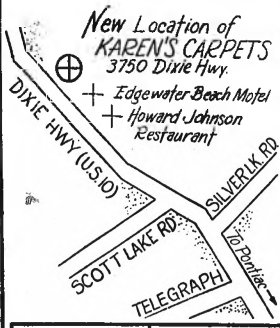

"Ollie and the skunk," he said, "don't get along at all. Ollie wants to play, and the skunk wants no part of it. Skunks are more reserved than otters."

Ollie had a fine time this summer while Dr. Czajkowski recuperates from an illness. He kept escaping and tormenting neighborhood housewives.

New Heart Drug Developed by Russian Medical Scientists

By Science Service
MOSCOW — A new drug for dilating heart vessels has been developed at the Institute of Pharmacology and Chemistry of the USSR Academy of Medical Sciences.

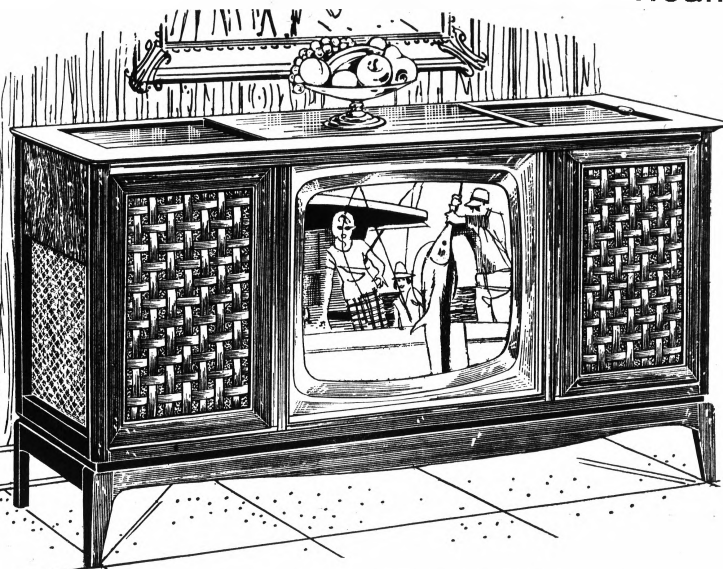

Called chloracisne, it was obtained by changing the structure of the phenothiazine molecule.

Within two or three minutes, chloracisne reportedly stopped spasms of coronary vessels and sharply intensified blood supply to the heart almost without effect on the blood pressure. The drug's effects last for several hours, and appear to normalize the heart rhythm as well as dilate the blood vessels.

Frank's Best, Say Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Earl Wilson in the runs batted in department. The three entered the series with 288 RBIs, with Powell topping the league with 96.

The Tigers need only 4,337 fans to top the million mark in attendance for the 23rd time and for the 19th time in the last 22 years.

Al Kaline told Skaff he wanted to play Sunday despite the fact that his finger continued to bother him as a result of being hit by a pitch Friday night.

"He said O. K. and promised 'I'd be out of there when our lead got big enough,'" Kaline said.

Mickey Stanley played the final two innings.

Tackles, QB Are Sought by Michigan

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Coach Bump Elliott begins his search for some needed help at tackle and the development of a quarterback when Michigan begins fall football practice Thursday.

The Wolverines will hold their annual photographers day Wednesday, then start twice-a-day sessions Thursday through Sept. 1 when classes start.

Michigan opens the season at home Sept. 17 against Oregon State, marking the first meeting between the two teams since the Wolverines took the 1965 Rose Bowl encounter, 34-7.

Three new assistant coaches will be working with Elliott for the first time. They are Don James (defensive backs), Y.C. McNease (linebackers and defensive ends) and George Mans (offensive ends).

Hank Fonde remains as backfield coach and Tony Mison returns for his third year as offensive line mentor. Dennis Fitzgerald has been switched from the freshman squad to take over interior defensive line.

Bill Dodd has replaced Fitzgerald.

Dick Vidmer, a junior understudy to Wally Gabler, is the only letterman available at quarterback. Elliott may decide, however, to switch Rick Volk from defense to that spot. Junior John Thomas is the other candidate.

Paul Johnson, who played 261 minutes at guard and tackle, is the only defensive tackle returning. But the Wolverines should be strong in the backfield if Jim Detweiler has recovered from knee surgery. Carl Ward and fullback Dave Fisher round out the backfield with Ernie Sharpe acting as No. 1 reserve.

Captain Jack Clancy, who caught 52 passes for 762 yards last year to establish new U-M marks, heads a good group of ends which includes Tom Pullen, Stan Kemp, Roger Rosema and Clay Wilshire.

Koufax Stops Cards, 4-1

Sore-Arm Sandy Gets No. 20

By The Associated Press
When Sandy Koufax gets a shot of cortisone, his left elbow feels better and National League batters feel worse.

Koufax, whose arthritic elbow forced him out of a game just four days before, transferred the pain to St. Louis Sunday as he recorded his 20th victory of the season in Los Angeles' 4-1 triumph over the Cardinals.

The 30-year-old southpaw was pitching against Cincinnati last Wednesday night when the pain in his elbow was so great that he had to leave the game in the fifth inning.

He received a shot of cortisone that night and two days later was on the sidelines throwing. After the workout, he said: "I'll pitch Sunday."

Vet, Newcomer Share Honors in Publinx Play

A veteran and a newcomer carded five-under-par 65 at Highland Hills Golf Club yesterday to share the top spot in the Michigan Publinx Golf Association handicap tournament.

Terry Hoy, 25, a member of the sales distribution staff at GMC Truck & Coach, came in with a 35-34 while Ray Clements, 45, of Royal Oak fired a 35-32.

Cycling Race Finishes

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Francisco Velasco of Portugal won the Cycling Tour of Portugal Sunday, finishing the 2,949 kilometers in 64 hours, 38 minutes 36 seconds.

That he did. He stopped the Cardinals on six hits, only three after the first inning when the Cardinals scored their run. He struck out 10 and achieved the third 20-game season of his career.

Elsewhere in the National League, Pittsburgh held a one percentage point lead over San Francisco after whipping Chicago 8-1. The Giants downed Atlanta 9-4. New York swept Philadelphia 6-5 and 5-1 and Houston trampled Cincinnati 11-0.

FELT GOOD

"I just wasn't making the pitches in the first inning," said Koufax, who won 25 games in 1965 and 26 last year.

"But by the third inning I felt good. The elbow felt much better than I expected. I began to tire a bit in the latter innings — you always get tired, but I had enough stuff."

Asked if he might avoid early-inning trouble by warming up longer to loosen his elbow, Koufax said:

"No matter how hard or how long you warm up, it just isn't the same as pitching to a batter. When you get out there on the mound, you just throw harder. There's no way you can push yourself to the limit when you're throwing to your own catcher."

Koufax gave up a run in the first inning on three singles, the last by Curt Flood, but the Dodgers rallied for their four runs in the first three innings. John Kennedy drove in two with a single and a sacrifice fly while Ron Fairly and Jim Lefebvre each singled in a run.

Bob Veale pitched a two-hitter and received support from Pittsburgh's 18-hit attack. Jesse Gonder, Willie Stargell and Manny Mota each lashed four hits with Gonder driving in three runs. Gonder and Roberto Clemente homered while Billy fourth and in the fifth.

Tug McGraw pitched a two-hitter in victory No. 55. He received support from two-run doubles by Larry Elliot in the sixth and Jerry Grote in the ninth.

Dave Giusti not only pitched a six-hitter against Cincinnati, but he also powered Houston's attack by driving in six runs with bases-loaded doubles in the fourth and in the fifth.
