Armed Guatemalan Exiles May Launch Revolt Today

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Armed Guatemalan exiles were reported massing along their jittery homeland's frontier with Honduras amid indications today may be D-day for a revolt against President Jacob Arbenz Guzman's Communist-influenced regime.

The belief stemmed in part from Guatemalan Ambassador Amadeo Chinchilla, who said he had received reports that resistance forces would launch a rebellion today.

Reports from censorship-blanketed Guatemala said authorities there were readying a massive public demonstration today.

Ostensibly this was to show solid support for the government, but observers here also interpreted it as a possible move to mobilize pro-Arbenz forces in case of a revolt.

Dispatches from Guatemala said 100,000 laborers were expected to parade through the streets of Guatemala City.

Here in the Honduran capital, armed khaki-clad men—apparently recruits for the exile resistance movement directed from here by Carlos Castillo Armas — continued to leave the city, presumably for the border.

A two-engine transport plane with drawn curtains airlifted a dozen men out of Tegucigalpa last night. The group carried side arms and lugged a radio and several wooden crates aboard.

Earlier reports said an armed boat pulled out of the Honduran port of La Ceiba and headed for Guatemala. Informants said it was moving into position for a

Blood Program to Be Retained

County Red Cross to Continue This Service Despite Deficit

The executive committee of Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross has decided to keep the blood program even though next year's budget now shows a $10,000 deficit.

The committee made its decision Wednesday at its final meeting of the current fiscal year.

A pared down $78,922-budget was adopted by the executive committee. Budget committeemen, headed by Harry Rendell of Royal Oak, have cut $3,000 from next year's home service program, $500 from motor service and $250 from service to veterans to lower the budget deficit from $14,000 to $10,000.

The Red Cross hopes that the three United Funds—Pontiac area, Detroit, and Oakland County—may help balance the budget.

Dr. E. W. Bauer of Hazel Park, chairman of the county Red Cross blood program, sent the committee a statement saying he felt the executive committee had been wise in telling the public about the budget problem.

"I think," he said, "the public realizes now that donated blood is free only to the person who gets it — that it costs real hard money for the Red Cross to receive, store and distribute it."

Dr. Bauer admitted that announcing the budget problem about a month ago seemed to cause a few setbacks in volunteer and donor recruitment, but he thought the committee's decision to continue the program would bring the situation back to normal.

The Red Cross blood problem arose when the U. S. Defense Department said it needed no more blood and inferred it would stop putting money into the program.

The National Red Cross, since the program is no longer nationwide, feels it is no longer justified in spending national funds on it, and has told local communities it will gradually withdraw all money support over the next five years. Thus the blood program that cost the county Red Cross $18,000 this year, will cost it $26,600 next year.

Dems Demand That Ike Decide About Charges

3 Committee Members Want Quick Rulings on Perjury, FBI Paper

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats on the McCarthy-Army investigating subcommittee today called for the Eisenhower administration to consider quickly whether there should be criminal prosecutions as a result of the hearings—for perjury or misuses of a secret document.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) speaking for the Democrats, said there should also be a fast decision as to whether there is need for an "immediate house cleaning" on the staff of the McCarthy Investigations subcommittee.

McClellan held a news conference after the subcommittee met behind closed doors to discuss the problem of preparing reports on the hearings. The meeting reached no decisions.

Sens. Symington (Mo) and Jackson (Wash), the other two Democratic members, met reporters with McClellan and said they concurred in his views.

McClellan said he feels the wind-up of the hearings leaves two "immediate" problems for the executive branch of the government to consider:

1. A Justice Department inquiry to determine "if perjury has been committed" in the sharply contradictory testimony.

2. The probability of a crime having been committed in connection with the 2¼-page "document" which came into controversy in the hearings.

Sen. McCarthy produced this paper, first identifying it as a letter from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to Army intelligence. The subcommittee checked with Hoover and was advised it was not a letter by him but did contain excerpts from a lengthier FBI re

Chicago Stockyards' 5-Story Plant Burns

CHICAGO (AP)—A roaring fire attacked a two-section, five-story brick plant in Chicago's vast stockyards today.

The flames flared up in an Armour & Co. animal food plant in an area bounded by Bishop, Laflin, 43rd and 44th Streets on the west side of the yards area.

An Armour spokesman reported shortly before 9 a.m. (EST) that the fire "seems pretty well under control."

Anthony J. Mullaney, assistant fire commissioner, estimated the damage at "more than half a million dollars."

He said the cause of the fire had not been determined.

Three large hydrogen tanks near the animal food plant were emptied. So was a pipeline linked to them.

No deaths or injuries were reported.

Build 5 Millionth Pontiac Car

Pontiac has produced its five millionth car, Robert M. Critchfield, GM vice president and general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division announced today.

The first Pontiac came off the line in 1926. The five millionth is a Star Chief Custom Catalina. Of the 5,000,000 cars between these two, 70 per cent are still in operation, Pontiac executives report.

The production rate of Pontiac has increased steadily over its 28-year history. The first production year of 1926 saw 134,257 Pontiacs built and in April, 1935 the one millionth car was produced with the two millionth car following in November of 1940 — five years later.

Due to the interruption of commercial production during World War II and the controls that followed, the three millionth Pontiac was not completed until March of 1949.

The upswing in production after the war, however, resulted in the four millionth Pontiac rolling off the line in August of 1951, just two and a half years after the third million.

Commenting on the improvement in the rate of production over the past 28 years, Mr. Critchfield said: "We have gradually increased our production facilities as the popularity of the Pontiac has grown. Traditionally, among the high volume producers in the industry, Pontiacs are now assembled in seven GM plants throughout the country in addition to our main plant here in Pontiac.

"Our employment currently is slightly over 17,000 and last year Pontiac Motor payroll was $85,704,008. We now have several plant additions under construction as part of the General Motors billion dollar expansion program.

"It took 28 years to build our first 5,000,000 cars, Pontiac's increasing popularity and the ever expanding automobile market should roll the next 5,000,000 Pontiacs off the assembly line in considerably less than half that time."

NO. 5,000,000 OFF THE LINE — Five million Pontiac automobiles in 28 years is the production record at Pontiac Motor Division. Robert M. Critchfield, left, general manager of the division congratulates Buel E. Starr, general manufacturing manager, as the five millionth unit leaves the assembly line today.

Space Needed for Mentally Ill

Dr. Ivan LaCore Tells Local Club of Crowded State Hospitals

Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, told Pontiac Rotarians yesterday that Michigan's mental hospitals are 22 per cent overcrowded.

He said there are 31,000 patients in the hospitals now and 1,200 awaiting admittance.

In his talk at Hotel Waldron, Dr. LaCore also cited national figures to show the need for more facilities to care for the mentally ill.

About 1,500,000 persons are suffering from mental illnesses today, Dr. LaCore said, and there are about 700,000 in hospitals.

He said some 250,000 new patients are admitted annually. About 97 per cent are placed in public institutions, with state hospitals alone supplying 82 per cent of the bed space.

"We need another 300,000 beds in the nation immediately to relieve the aggravated overcrowdedness," Dr. LaCore said.

As for Pontiac State Hospital, the superintendent said the fine reputation of the hospital attracts a great number of graduate students seeking to advance their education.

"It is one of the few hospitals in the country with a resident

325 Get Pontiac High Diplomas

Speaker Expresses Faith in Present-Day Graduates

By GOLDIE STAMAS

Dr. Gail E. Densmore, speaking last night at Pontiac High School Commencement exercises, expressed great faith in the courage and integrity of today's youth.

More than two thousand friends and relatives and approximately 325 June graduates heard the address entitled "Ceiling Unlimited."

"The present generation," Dr. Densmore said, "is better than the preceding one, contrary to popular opinion." He stated that on school campuses throughout the country, young people were expressing a complete awareness of their obligations as responsible citizens.

"They are learning the great need for religion, and delving deeper into the philosophy of life which is the very pattern of all existence."

Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Board of Education, presided over the program which opened with the PHS Band presentation of the Processional by Savino. The band is directed by Dale C. Harris.

The Rev. James W. Deeg, pastor of the Oakland Park Methodist Church, offered the invocation.

The band presented excerpts from Oklahoma by Rodgers, followed by brief remarks from senior class president H. Russel Holland II.

Dr. Densmore's main address preceded the presentation of the March from Victory at Sea by Rodgers.

John Thors Jr., principal of Pontiac High School, awarded the special honors and class awards.

Diplomas were granted by Frank J. DuFrain, superintendent of public schools.

The Recessional University Grand March by Goldman closed the program.

Cooler Weather Will End Today

Temperatures Near 90, High Humidity Forecast for Weekend

After a two - day respite from sweltering temperatures, the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts more hot and muggy weather Saturday and Sunday.

Cooler air streaming into Michigan from northern New England kept the temperature down to 82 degrees yesterday and dropped it into the 60s this morning.

But a sticky high of from 86 to 90 degrees is forecast for Saturday. Afternoon thundershowers and similar temperatures are due Sunday.

Falling to 66 degrees at 8 a.m. today, the mercury rose slowly throughout the morning and reached 74 at 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac.

Before bowing out, the cooler weather is expected to sink the mercury to a 64 to 68 degree low tonight.

A freak high pressure center, traveling southwest instead of eastward, pulled the cooler air into the Pontiac area. Another cold front, moving toward Michigan from the Northern Plains is being warmed up by hot air from the Gulf of Mexico and is not likely to cool off the weekend.

The cooler weather yesterday checked a 10-day heat wave that pushed the mercury past 90 on four days. One daily record high was established and the temperature rose to 88 degrees or higher on each day.

Showers Sunday afternoon and again in midweek are predicted by the weather bureau. About .02 of an inch of rain fell in the Pontiac area yesterday.

Hindu Held in Kenya for Aiding Mau Mau

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Kenya's British government charged an Asian for the first time today with violating the colony's anti-Mau Mau emergency law. Conviction under the act could carry a death sentence.

The prisoner is a Hindu photographer, Thakorbhai Mangaldas Patel of Nairobi. He was alleged to have supplied 129 Africans, including known terrorists, with photographs faked to appear as if the Labor Department had issued them for employment cards.

Patel was charged with intending to "further the objects of terrorism."

Seeley Receives Term in Prison

Mrs. Ley Sentenced at Same Time for Role in Road Frauds

MUSKEGON (AP) — G. Palmer Seeley and Mrs. Lois Porter Moon Ley were sentenced to prison today by Circuit Judge Noel P. Fox for conspiracy to defraud the state in highway land deals.

Seeley, 53, who was fired as head of the Highway Department's Grand Rapids right-of-way division, was given a 2½ to 5 year term.

Mrs. Ley, 47-year-old Muskegon real estate dealer, was given a 1½ to 5 year term. The judge also recommended revocation of her real estate licenses.

Both had pleaded guilty of the charges which developed from an investigation of alleged irregularities in right-of-way deals.

Judge Fox called the activities of Seeley and Mrs. Ley "raw naked greed on a rampage."

He said they were blinded by the attraction of apparently easy money and carried out a "coolly calculated, carefully executed plan to defraud individual home and property owners as well as the state."

In explaining the heavier term imposed on Seeley, Judge Fox said:

"Mr. Seeley occupied a fiduciary (trustworthy) position to the State of Michigan which he breached."

The judge noted that Seeley was paid $6,217.56 for handling for the state expenditures as high as a quarter to half million dollars a year.

"Prudence dictates a re-examination of the salary schedules and job content, from a responsibility standpoint, of the state land buyer position classification," he said.

Jap Politician Honored

TOKYO (AP) — Ninety-four-year-old Yukio Ozaki, dean of Japan's politicians and who gave the famous cherry trees to Washington, got a million-yen award today in recognition of more than 50 years of service in Japan's Parliament.

The award is worth about $2,500.

Air Force Men Seen Marching in POW Column

Gen. O'Daniel Flies to Central Viet Nam for Investigation

HANOI, Indochina (UP)—The United States announced officially today that Communist Indochinese rebels had captured five Americans and sent Maj. Gen. John W. (Iron Mike) O'Daniel flying to the scene to investigate their seizure.

The Americans were Air Force technicians engaged in servicing French planes in Indochina. Their capture first was reported without official confirmation Thursday from Hong Kong.

An American Embassy spokesman in Saigon said the men left their camp at Tourane in central Viet Nam without permission and went to a nearby beach where they were seen clad in shorts and shooting firearms into the sea.

O'Daniel, chief of the U. S. military mission in Indochina, took off from Saigon for Tourane Air Base, where the captured men were stationed, in an effort to find out how the Reds seized the men.

The Americans were reported by authorities in Saigon to have been seized by the Communists near the Tourane base.

Later an Indochina farmer loyal to the government said he saw the Americans marching south in a column of French Senegalese prisoners guarded closely by Communist soldiers.

The farmer said he watched the men get out of an automobile on the beach and shoot their carbines into the waves before taking a dip.

The U. S. Embassy in Saigon refused to release any of the captured men's names or home addresses until relatives have been notified.

McGuire Leads in National Open

Unknown From Kansas Fires One Under Par 69 in Second Round

SPRINGFIELD, N.J.—Blond Gene Littler, 1953 National Amateur champion now turned pro, added a one-under-par 69 today to a first round 70 to zip into the National Open 36-hole lead with a 139 total.

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (INS) — Paul McGuire, 25-year-old Wichita, Kans., "unknown," fired a one-under-par 69 in the second round of the National Open golf championship today to take the lead among early 36-hole finishers with a 147 total.

Today's 34-35 round by McGuire —who had a shaky 78 Thursday—made him only the second man to break par on the rugged 7,027-yard Baltusrol course.

Amateur Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., who was the first-round leader with a 69 Thursday, was a late starter today.

Defending champion Ben Hogan, seeking his fifth championship in seven years, had an outgoing 36 this morning which, coupled with yesterday's 71, left him two over par through 27 holes.

Patton was the only player to break par on yesterday's first round. Hogan trailed Ted Kroll, Bob Toski and Gene Littler, who had par 70s.

Other second round scores:

Paul McGuire, Wichita, Kans. 78-69—147.

Eldon Briggs, Saginaw, Mich. 83-79—162.

Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill. 72-71—143.

James S. Johnson, Northville, Mich. 82-78—160.

Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif. 70-69—139.

Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla. 72-71—143.

Recreation Board Decides to Re-examine Program for Birmingham Children

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Looking ahead, the Recreation Board decided last night to completely re-examine its program and asked City Recreation Director Frank Whitney to offer recommendations over a long-term study of the current program.

The development of capital improvements will be included in the study of Birmingham's recreational needs, which will be carried on through special meetings.

Child population has doubled here since the present board's organization seven years ago, Mrs. William Jackson, chairman, said. The board hopes to complete its study before budget talks come up next spring.

As was decided last year, a committee to determine the best use of the cabin at city - owned Springdale Park for the next year was set up, with William Spence, board member, as chairman.

Spence will work with members of the Lions Club youth committee, which helped supervise children's activities at the cabin last year.

Assistant City Manager Jack Walker told the board that bids last week for construction of four tennis courts at Eton Park will be awarded at Monday's City Commission meeting.

Other organizations may dissolve during the summer months but the American Assn. of University Women is just plunging into the work involved for its 27th annual book sale.

Plans were formulated for the sale to be held Oct. 17-23 at the local Detroit Edison office, at a recent luncheon held at the home of Mrs. M. W. Milligan, general chairman of the affair.

As in the past, proceeds will be used for scholarship funds and educational grants for the community, with unsold books given to state hospitals and children's homes.

Storage depots have already been set up for the summer months and pick-up service will be provided for books, games, records, magazines and patterns. Anyone wishing to donate items may call Mrs. A. H. Copeland or Mrs. A. M. Browne.

Stevenson Quips in Birmingham

"St. Adlai' Talks to 75 'Volunteer Democrats' at Lawn Party

BIRMINGHAM — Introduced as "St. Adlai" at a lawn party at the Birmingham home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Goldstein yesterday, former presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson quipped, "Filled with champagne and shrimp, I hardly feel like a saint."

Speaking briefly to the 75 Volunteer Democrats who were guests,

(See related picture on page 21 and another story, page 29.)

Stevenson urged the group to work for the party, saying:

"It is only through party organization that you will get the results that you want.

"Election of a Democratic Congress is imperative, as is an enlarging of the state Democratic administration," he continued.

Answering his own question of why this was so imperative, he said, "The Republican party, as it is presently constituted, is incapable of governing the country."

With a Democratic House and Senate, he concluded, "the executive will fare infinitely better.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Central Committee chairman, accompanied Stevenson on his hour's visit to Birmingham.

The visit was part of a one-day tour of Michigan.

A spokesman for the Volunteer Democrats said the group, known as Volunteers for Stevenson during the 1952 presidential campaign, has about 600 members, mostly in Wayne County.

Michigan Democrats, faced with contests for two key posts in the Aug. 3 primary, were careful to avoid incidents among rival candidates in their party.

Patrick McNamara, rival of former Sen. Blair Moody for the Democratic nomination to oppose U. S. Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich), refused an invitation to accompany Stevenson on his tour.

"I'm no gate crasher," McNamara said.

McNamara, a Detroit school board member and former city councilman, has contended Gov. Williams and party machinery are against his candidacy and favor Moody.

Moody jumped into the junketing Stevenson party, accompanied him in Lansing, Davison and Detroit. He skipped only the garden party here.

Moody also took the opportunity to stand with Stevenson in a reception line for 3,000 Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe Democrats in Detroit's sweltering Masonic Temple. MacNamara only attended the Detroit function, refused the reception line chance.

FORGOT TO DUCK — The viaduct at Orchard Lake road and Cass avenue claimed another victim yesterday, a truck driver unfamiliar with the low clearance. Wrigley's driver Bob Lahmon of Detroit crushed the top of his semi when he tried to pass through it. "They told me to take this route when I left," he said, "but I guess someone was wrong." A warning sign on the approach to the underpass had not been seen by the driver.

port to the Army on security problems at Ft. Monmouth, N.J.

The document was never made public because Atty. Gen. Brownell ruled it made "unauthorized use" of secret material, and that to release it would be contrary to the national interest.

McCarthy said he got the paper from an Army intelligence officer. He declined to disclose his name.

Arguments cropped up repeatedly in the hearings as to whether McCarthy could properly receive such a paper. McCarthy contended he had every right to it as chairman of the Senate's Government Operations Committee and head of the Permanent Investigations subcommittee.

McClellan said the Investigations subcommittee which McCarthy heads, should decide quickly:

1. What to do about two members of its staff who, he said, have not received clearance requested from the Defense Department to handle secret documents.

2. What to do about "threats that have been made by members of the staff—I will say alleged threats—in an attempt to intimidate members of the committee, which conducted the hearings.

McClellan cited a flareup between Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel of the Investigations subcommittee, and Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the subcommittee's Democratic members, in which Kennedy contends that Cohn threatened to "get" Sen. Jackson. McClellan said this was among the things he had in mind in charging attempted intimidation "but is by no means all inclusive" of the charge.

Cohn denies he told Kennedy he would "get" Jackson. Cohn said he told Kennedy at the end of a hearing that he would "get to" a question raised by Jackson when the next hearing was held.

McClellan said he personally had received a message—not in writing—which he considers "unrepeatable."

"I sent it back to the sender," he said declining to give the sender's name.

Chairman Mundt (R-SD) told reporters the closed door meeting of the subcommittee was given over to a discussion of problems involved in getting out a report.

He said it was impossible to fix a target date for issuance of a report, but that all the subcommittee members agreed they hoped to finish the task before Congress adjourns.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) was absent from the meeting and set a request that "no specific matters be entertained or disposed of" until another meeting could be held next week.

In view of this, Mundt said, no motions were made and no votes taken.

Mundt said he doubted any recommendations on individual members of the regular (McCarthy) staff would be made before the group issues a report.

He said, however, that this of course would not prevent a motion from being offered, and voted on, at any meeting of the regular subcommittee to fire a staff employe.

The seven senators who investigated the McCarthy-Army row could only make recommendations to the regular subcommittee, he said, adding that it had no power in itself to fire or hire staff employes.

The membership of the two groups is identical, except that Sen. Dworsak (R-Idaho) is not a member of the regular subcommittee. He was appointed only to take McCarthy's place in the probe of the McCarthy-Army controversy.

Mundt announced another meeting of the group will be held Monday when its special counsel, Ray H. Jenkins, returns from his home in Knoxville, Tenn.

He said the subcommittee will see then if Jenkins "can be prevailed upon" to put together a synopsis of the issues in controversy, outlining the pertinent testimony and the "pros and cons" on the principal points in controversy.

If Jenkins cannot stay on to do this, Mundt said, other members of the subcommittee's special staff will be asked to do so.

After a synopsis of the mass of conflicting testimony has been prepared, Mundt said, the investigating group "will sit around and discuss the issues one by one" in an effort to see how much agreement can be reached.

McClellan said that "in all probability" there will be more than one report, but he added he felt "there is an area in which I am sure we can unanimously agree."

Cranbrook Names Five New Trustees

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Five new names appear on the roster of the operating boards of Brookside School Cranbrook, Cranbrook Academy of Art and Cranbrook Institute of Science, since recent annual meetings.

Robert Wardrop, Dr. W. Lloyd Kemp and Mrs. Maxwell E. Fead were elected to the board of trustees of Brookside, succeeding Edward E. Wilson, Dr. Fritz Redl and Frederick G. Weed, under the institution's automatic retirement plan.

Raymond T. Perring and Theodore O. Yntema are new members of the board of trustees of the art academy. Re-elected officers are Henry S. Booth, chairman; Marc T. Patten, vice chairman; Michael Gorman, treasurer; and Arthur B. Wittliff, secretary and assistant treasurer.

A trustee of Cranbrook Institute of Science since 1945, Robert H. Merrill submitted his resignation at the meeting which re-elected its present board: L. James Bulkley, chairman; Dr. Lee R. Dice, vice chairman; Dr. Harvey M. Merker, secretary and Fred L. Black, treasurer. Wittliff was appointed assistant secretary and assistant treasurer.

TOKYO (INS) — Officials of the Spanish Embassy said tonight that Spanish ambassador to Japan Francisco J. del Castillo died at 7:30 p.m. in the Tokyo Army Hospital.

Police Chief Banks Resigns as of June 11

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The June 11 resignation of Police Chief I. C. Banks because of "too much interference from the city manager," was made known yesterday. He had been with the department 26 years.

City Manager Elmer Kephart, who is completing his 24th year with the city, said he would rather not comment on the matter.

City Commissioner Harry J. Klingler, who also serves as police and fire commissioner, said Banks had indicated for some time that he was planning to resign. Klingler said the resignation was accepted with reluctance.

Kephart said he will serve as acting chief until a new one is appointed, probably at the July 13 commission meeting.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Laura Marshall

Funeral service for Mrs. Laura Marshall, 37, of 58 Chapman St., will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Trinity Baptist Church. The Rev. Richard H. Dixon Jr., her pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Plans have been changed and the body will not be taken to her home tonight but will remain at the Frank Carruthers Funeral Home.

Mrs. Marshall died Tuesday in Pontiac General Hospital.

Bonnie Sue Persons

Prayer service was held today in Waterford Center Cemetery for Bonnie Sue Persons, infant daughter of George E. and Nellie McDonald Persons of 10275 Pontiac Lake Rd. Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of Central Methodist Church, officiated.

The baby died shortly after birth Thursday in Pontiac General Hospital.

Besides her parents she is survived by two sisters, Sharon Ann and Cindy Lou, at home.

Mrs. Darwin Kirby

Mrs. Darwin (Fay Grace) Kirby, 68, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Vivian Stevens of 645 Joslyn Ave., at 12:45 this morning. She had been ill several months.

Born Nov. 12, 1885, in Dalton, Ga., she came to Pontiac to live six years ago from Milford.

Besides Mrs. Stevens she is survived by a son Vern of New Orleans, La.

Funeral service will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. from the Sparks-Griffin Chapel. Burial will follow in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Man, 29, Dies; Order Autopsy

Louis McConnell Hit by Car on Wednesday, Left Hospital

Louis M. McConnell, 29, of 273 N. Saginaw St., who was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for injuries suffered Wednesday when struck by an auto, died Thursday afternoon after returning to the hospital.

Driver of the auto, Elmer A. Quine, 67, of 88 Osceola Dr., who told Pontiac Police he struck the pedestrian while rounding a curve in front of 75 Clark St., is scheduled to make a statement to Oakland County prosecutor's office today.

McConnell, according to the Pontiac Police, refused to remain in the hospital for further treatment Wednesday. He returned Thursday suffering from a "severe headache" after which he died. An autopsy has been ordered.

Patrolman James L. Ockerman quoted Quine as saying his vision was obscured by a parked car when McConnell was struck. Stanley J. Tillson, 49, of 230 N. Saginaw St., crossing the street with McConnell, told police the incident occurred in mid-block.

McConnell, employed as a press operator with the Dixie Tool and Machine Co., Waterford Township, came here from Franklin, N. C., seven weeks ago. He is survived by an 18-month-old son and his wife.

Fall Off Slide Hurts Head

Three-year-old William Betzing is reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital where he is being treated for possible head injuries suffered during a fall from a children's slide in the Webster School playground Wednesday evening.

GEORGE M. WATSON

Boys' Club Elects New President

George M. Watson, Pontiac Motor Division personnel director, was elected president of the Pontiac Boys' Club this week by the club's board of directors. He succeeds Abe Lapides, who held that office for the past two years.

Watson, active in Kiwanis, United Fund, Red Cross, Junior Achievement, and past president of the Chamber of Commerce, has been a member of the Boys' Club board for the past three years.

Other board members named to office are, Addison K. Oakley, first vice president; Ralph T. Norvell, second vice president; Dean Beier, secretary and Dawson Baer, treasurer.

William the Conqueror, king of England, died in Rouen, capital of Normandy in 1087.

Fishing Fathers Catch Trout, Rod and Reel

RANGELY, Maine (AP)—The two padres were quietly fishing in Mooselookmeguntic lake when a two-pound trout struck the lure of Fr. Francis Reigh of New York City.

Fr. Theodore Shulz of Peekskill, N.Y., helped boat the fish with a net, then continued hauling—bringing in a two pound salmon, attached to a rod and line snatched from the hand of another fisherman several days ago, entangled in Fr. Reigh's tackle.

The fish story was vouched for today by Ronald Turmenne, camp owner.

Hold 2 Men Charged With Breaking, Entering

Two men charged with breaking into the Featherston Hardware Store at Ortonville were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday by Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib.

Joseph F. Hodges, 23, of 963 Beaver Ct., Lake Orion, and Louis Vanitvelt, 24, of Cleveland, are accused of taking three rifles from the store May 8.

They were unable to furnish $5,000 bond each, and are in Oakland County Jail awaiting arraignment in circuit court June 21.

Ouster Moves Go in Freezer

Rules Group Will Bury 2 Requests to Remove Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The second attempt in a week to oust Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) from his committee chairmanships seemed destined today to join its companion in a freezer in the Senate Rules Committee.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), rules Committee chairman, made plain he expects to see no action on the matter when he voiced "doubt" that time remains for it this session of Congress.

It is unlikely the committee would even hold hearings, he added in an interview, because the group has plenty of other work ahead before the adjournment target date of July 31.

Jenner's apparent lack of enthusiasm for the McCarthy-ouster moves matched that of Senate leaders, both Republicans and Democrats, who yesterday saw to it that a resolution offered by Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) was shunted off to the Rules Committee.

Last Friday Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), offered a motion likewise sent later to the rules group. While the Flanders move differed in wording from Lehman's, both would have the effect—if passed—of stripping McCarthy of his chairmanships of the Senate Government Operations Committee and its permanent investigations subcommittee.

Senate Republican leader Knowland of California termed Flanders' action "mistaken" and declared bringing the issue to the Senate floor at this time would impede action on President Eisenhower's legislative program.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas is reported to have passed word to his colleagues to keep hands off this "Republican problem." The Democratic chiefs were said to fear that if they took sides against McCarthy they might be setting a precedent which would be turned against one of their own party members at a future date.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1954

Right Man for the Job

Gov. Williams' choice of Vernon J. Brown to fill a vacancy on the Civil Service Commission is an excellent one.

Barred by the Constitution from naming a Democrat, the Governor wisely turned to the veteran Republican to complete the term of Lester Moll, which expires Dec. 31. Certainly no one in Michigan knows more about State government than the retired Mason publisher.

Mr. Brown will take to his new post the wisdom born of his 80 years and his nearly half century of experience in various State offices. Since 1929 he has served five terms in the House, three terms as auditor-general and one as lieutenant governor. He lost his 1946 bid for the gubernatorial nomination to the late Kim Sigler.

If anyone can improve relations between the independent commission controlling 25,000 State employes and the Legislature, we believe it is Vernon J. Brown.

Driver Training Pays

Any remaining doubt as to the value of high school automobile driving courses should vanish in the light of a report just issued by the American Automobile Association.

The more than 330,000 students who received complete driver training courses during the school year just ended, compiled an impressive group safety record.

Surveys show that the trained drivers were involved in only half as many accidents as the untrained ones. That the average $34 cost of instruction per student is a good investment is proved by figures. It is estimated that these trained drivers avoided property damage accidents which would have cost $42,600,000 last year.

AAA estimate that in the same period these courses have been the means of preventing 15,000 traffic injuries and 425 highway deaths. Moreover, eight insurance companies are giving dollars and cents recognition to the safety record of trained high school drivers by reducing their premiums.

Driver training courses now are offered by 6,500 high schools, about 25 per cent of the country's total. Two States, California and North Dakota have enacted laws making driver courses compulsory.

The AAA report shows results so favorable as to suggest that eventually such instruction will be available to all high school students.

A Black Day for Reds

A year ago the free world was thrilling to the heroism displayed by East German workers in their protest riots against working conditions in Communist Germany.

While Russia and its satellite governments are anxious to forget the anniversary of that first uprising in East Berlin, West Germany celebrates June 17 as a new federal holiday.

The first outbreak began at an East Berlin luxury apartment project. On June 20 the Reds admitted that there had been riots in 12 cities which blanket East Germany.

Later it was learned that on June 17 riots had broken out in seven Polish cities. About the same time Prague admitted that the regime was trying to cope with widespread passive resistance. In Hungary the Communist party had to be reorganized.

In the rioting more than 2,000,000 East Germans defied their Communist masters. Of these 16 were reported killed in East Berlin and more than 110 wounded. On July 2 a West German newspaper reported that 18 Russian soldiers had been executed for refusing to fire on East German workers storming a Magdeburg jail.

Russian armed forces quickly regained control of the situation. On July 10 the elimination of Beria was announced in Moscow. Two days later martial law was lifted in East Germany and on July 15, East German Minister of Justice Fechner, a Beria man, was removed from office.

Nonetheless the uprisings must have taught the Kremlin a lesson aptly described by Chancellor Adenauer. "With weapons one can knock down an unarmed, defenseless people," he said in honoring the riot dead. "But the will, the firm resolve not to yield cannot be torn from their hearts."

Nellie Fitch

Mrs. Nellie Fitch was one of those rare spirits who, having judged a cause worthy, gave it unselfish and ceaseless devotion.

A native of Windsor and long time resident of Pontiac, she was one of the most ardent workers for the Oakland County Animal Welfare Society. Besides her outstanding interest in animals, Mrs. Fitch was active in the work of the First Presbyterian Church.

Her death is a reminder that some of the finest memorials are not those left in stone. Her life stands as an inspiring example of loyal, unselfish service.

U. S. Would Be Hypocritical in Adding 'Under God' to Pledge of Allegiance

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Let's try to be sensible for a minute or two. It is an historical fact that George Washington, who is called, "The Father of His Country," signed his name to the following proposition: "The Government of The United States is not in any sense founded on the Christian religion."

Today we see every department of the government honeycombed with injustice and trickery. Ninety-five per cent of the people think far more of a dollar bill than they do of God or Jesus Christ!

Therefore, to add the words, "Under God," to the Pledge of Allegiance is the lowest and most contemptible brand of hypocrisy imaginable.

I'd rather say, "My Country right or wrong, but still my Country." It's the only one I have; it's the one I'd fight for, even if wrong, which it is, but I'd be honest and loyal with my eyes open!

This nation is the opposite of a Christian nation in nearly everything they have been doing since McKinley's and Teddy Roosevelt's times.

Lincoln Band, Library Receives Alumni Gifts

From the 25th Anniversary Committee of Lincoln Junior High, our thanks to the Press for the excellent coverage of the May 15 event. The cost of the pageant and reception came mainly from two sources—advertisements and donations from former students. At this time, suggestions were made that, if possible, some gift should be given to the school.

We would like the people of Pontiac to know that, in the name of the alumni, gifts of money have been given to the school library and to the band uniform fund. We feel certain that this action will meet with everyone's approval since these are essentials from which all students derive benefit, either directly or indirectly.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Patients Can Regain Emotional Control by Gradual Steps That Grow Each Day

Norma was an emotional infant. She had to be nursed along through the crawling stage before she could stand on her two feet as a confident adult. That is an important point to remember in dealing with members of your family who are nervous breakdown patients. They can build up emotional control by taking slightly bigger steps each day.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-335: Norma B., aged 32, has a boy in second grade.

"But, Dr. Crane, I am a hindrance instead of a help to him," she tearfully informed me over the telephone.

"For I have been afraid to leave my home alone. I have a complex that makes me think I'll die if I walk off the front porch.

"So I have never even walked down to the corner drugstore with my son in all his life, except on week-ends when my husband gets home and accompanies me.

"Last night my boy asked me why he couldn't be like other kids whose mothers take them out for a walk or to the movies.

"Oh, Dr. Crane, I feel so unhappy that I am failing my child!"

As a child of 10, Norma had been assaulted in a vacant lot, and had ultimately become a victim of this fear of being outdoors without an adult.

But I want to show you fearful folks how to rebuild your emotions. Over the telephone, I ordered her to take her boy a half block down the street to the drugstore and sit at the table while he ate a soda.

"Oh, I can't do it!" she exclaimed and grew hysterical. "I'll die, for my heart pounds so hard I will choke."

"You'll not die," I said, "but I'll not waste time on you unless you follow orders. Either you go to the drugstore today or you don't talk to me on the phone again."

She cried and pleaded, but I was adamant. Finally she grew desperate and said she'd try if I'd let her telephone me as soon as she got back home, to which I agreed.

Some 30 minutes later my phone rang and it was Norma. She was so breathless that she couldn't speak in whole sentences, but she was exultant.

"For the first time in my son's lifetime, I have walked down the street with him," she added.

Then I told her that the next day I wanted her to walk with him for 2 blocks and then come right back home.

Again she grew hysterical. Next day she called just before she attempted this 2-block destination. I gave her another pep talk, and on my promise that she could telephone back as soon as she had returned, she finally made the venture.

She called me and reported she had won. So I added 2 more city blocks for the third day, etc.

In another week, she was actually walking to the nearby beach of Lake Michigan and taking picnic sandwiches for her son.

And in two months, she took the train downtown to my office. I mention Norma's case, for it typifies the disruption of emotional confidence in many patients.

They must rebuild their assurance by gradual steps that grow bigger from day to day. But they meanwhile need an adult with psychic prestige to lean upon as a crutch.

Ultimately, Norma no longer needed me as a crutch. She had rebuilt her assurance and conquered her fear. But you patients must do the work for we doctors can't cure you. We prescribe but you must follow orders.

GOP Senators Disturbed Over Flanders' Tactics

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Many Republican members of the Senate are very much disturbed over the action of one of their number, Sen. Flanders of Vermont, in introducing a resolution calling for the removal of Sen. McCarthy, Republican, from the chairmanship of the Committee on Government Operations unless he subjects himself to examination on his personal affairs and finances.

Everybody knows that a committee chairmanship is a matter for the Republican Policy Committee or party conference to take up, and it is most unusual for any senator to ignore his own party and start a controversy on his own involving the retention or selection of a committee chairman.

Sen. Flanders never consulted the party leaders about it, though the issue, if pressed, would block the whole legislative program of the Republican administration at this session of Congress.

Everybody knows that, despite all the talk about how the Republican party has allegedly been undermined by Sen. McCarthy, there is no more effective way to embarrass and undermine the Republican party than to raise an issue which can only be decided by votes of the Democratic party in the Senate, which obviously would wish to take advantage of the controversy to further its own political objectives.

Sen. Flanders comes from a school of thought which has been arguing that no man should be punished for his views or his opinions and that no man should be tried except by due process of law and in accordance with the Bill of Rights.

The charges now leveled against the Wisconsin senator for public trial by the Senate itself are those which only the law enforcement agency of the executive branch is empowered to try.

Only last October Attorney General Brownell wrote to Sen. Jenner, Republican, chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, that the report of the committee headed by Sen. Hennings, Democrat, of Missouri, concerning Sen. McCarthy's personal affairs "has been carefully reviewed by the criminal division of the department of justice as to possible offenses within the department's jurisdiction" and that "the report fails to show the commission of any such offenses."

Brownell added that "the Department of Justice does not intend to present any of the matters touched on in the report to a grand jury or to undertake further investigation thereof."

As for income-tax charges, still technically under investigation, everybody knows that, if the Truman administration's Bureau of Internal Revenue could have found a basis for prosecution, it would have done so.

But, with all the pious talk about, that congressional committees shouldn't try criminal cases and how prosecution is solely a function of other parts of the government, the resolution of Sen. Flanders which would coerce Sen. McCarthy into answering questions about his personal affairs under threat of a loss of his committee chairmanship is a step unprecedented in legislative history.

Leading Republicans are criticizing Sen. Flanders for playing the game of the Democrats in trying to start another television-show hearing even before the other one had been concluded.

It is certainly unnatural for the customarily dignified Vermont senator to walk before the television cameras and get publicity for his letter and resolution as he did the other day before releasing the letter.

This might have been a McCarthy tactic, but few people expected it from the venerable senator from Vermont.

That's why so many of the colleagues of Sen. Flanders — whose sincerity and integrity are unquestioned — are puzzled. They wonder who in the "left wing" or in the New Deal camp has been misleading him.

Most pointed of all, moreover, is the comment that, if there were anything of substance in the charges against Sen. McCarthy concerning his personal affairs, the proper procedure would have been to introduce a resolution for expulsion.

For, if the charges are true, the Wisconsin senator should be punished far more than by the loss only of his committee chairmanship. A resolution to expel, however, requires a two-thirds vote, which it would never get in the present Senate, whereas a resolution to remove a chairman from a committee requires only a majority vote. To succeed, such a motion would need aid from Democratic senators.

That is why the leading Republicans are disturbed over the tactics of Sen. Flanders and why, in view of the innuendoes of a personal nature in the Vermont senator's recent speeches, they wonder if, after all the furor about "McCarthyism," some of the people on the opposing side now aren't adopting unwittingly the same sort of tactics which they have previously denounced.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
International News Service

Bar committee of Kansas City rips up the tracks over the return of vaudeville via the public trial.

It objects to the ordeal by television and the trial by newsreels. It sounds as familiar as a creak in an old shoe.

Believe it or the marching Ripleys, that squawk was registered in stack of impartial conjecture on November 1, 1937.

Seventeen years ago the bar committee of Kansas City dropped a whizzer in the suggestion box. In a well - weathered memorandum it stated the judiciary had become fascinated with publicity, the jury was envious of the defendant's importance and the mouth - pieces on both sides were going wide-screen on double - takes.

To be either frank or earnest we didn't remember television that long hence. But a Kansas City reader sent in one of my own columns for that date commenting on the legal kibitzing.

The K. C. barristers sure predicted more accurately than a gypsy queen throwing three strikes with the crystal ball. Seventeen years ago it had the Army - McCarthy hipperdrome down to a T. This month it crossed it.

They said we should hark rearwards to the jury system promulgated by Alfred the Great of England. Alf hand - picked twelve localites familiar with the details. His system was the imported Frankish inquest. Like Alf's gimmick the Franks relied on bright blue-eyed neighbors testifying under oath.

The routine picked up some fancy hemstitching with the introduction of the compurgator. Who served as a character witness in the olden time when a character witness had a character of his own.

Wheat Consumed in Its Natural State Is Richest Food Source of Vitamin B

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

You all know that I bend backward to avoid suggesting symptoms or diseases for people to worry about.

Accustomed to dealing with morbid subjects, I can stomach a good deal, but sometimes I wonder how people without such training and experience take some of the clinical lectures delivered by "medical" column conductors.

Happily, if you should decide that any of the symptoms I offer today fit your case you won't get the willies, because right along with the symptoms I supply the test with which you can determine for yourself whether you have North American beriberi.

Early manifestations of occidental beriberi are dyspepsia, "pins and needles" in the extremities, fatigue, breathlessness on moderate exertion, palpitation, slight swelling around the ankles, calf muscles painful when squeezed, skin insensitive to pinpricks on area of the legs;

Also absent kick reaction to tapping tendon below knee cap, squatting on heels painful and patient may be unable to rise by leg power alone (has to use hands too), weakness and sometimes cramps in the legs, legs tend to give out on walking a mile or more, burning sensations around the soles, numbness over top of foot and around the ankle, in some instances burning, numbness and weakness in hands (weakened grip).

In any case it can do no harm to try the therapeutic test and find out whether these manifestations are beriberi. The test consists in eating an optimal daily ration of vitamin B complex as a supplement to your diet for not less than six weeks.

Optimal daily ration means two or three times as much as nutrition authorities consider essential to maintain good nutrition.

If you notice unmistakable improvement toward the termination of the test, keep on supplementing your diet for a year or more.

Meanwhile get the lead out—bestir yourself to improve your everyday diet. Particularly take whatever steps may be necessary to restore the staff of life to your diet—I mean replace most, or if possible all the refined white flour in your diet with plain wheat.

You'll find ways and means in the pamphlet Wheat to Eat, available on written request if your provide stamped self-addressed envelope.

Refined white flour is practically devoid of vitamins and adding a dash of this or that synthetic vitamin doesn't take away the curse of refinement. Wheat consumed as God gave it to us is the richest food source of vitamin B.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Woman's Tales Help Children

Story Technique Uses Symbols of Good, Bad; Curbs Delinquency

CHICAGO (INS) — Sociologists and movie producers are studying the story-telling technique of an Evanston, Ill., woman as a possible way of combatting juvenile delinquency.

Mrs. Marjorie M. Maddock has been spinning her tales of adventure since 1949 to child wards of the Cook County (Chicago) Juvenile Court — and with surprising effectiveness.

She does not preach. But her stories bring the same results with children that a well-presented sermon does with adults.

She uses the idea of the old medieval morality plays, bring it up to date so it will appeal to modern boys and girls.

From there, she weaves a story of action and suspense around characters who stand for good and bad qualities, and throws in a hero with whom the listeners can identity themselves.

The result is that the children talk about her stories and forget their troubles.

Mrs. Maddock's technique won the praise of Dr. William F. Byron, professor of sociology at Northwestern University. Dr. Byron said her presentation "is charming" and added:

"I believe her formula should be used on a larger scale. The late Arthur J. Audy, superintendent of the juvenile home, thought her stories were highly effective."

Other sociologists are studying her plan, and film producers are known to be weighing the possibilities of developing a movie on the subject.

Mrs. Maddock said she has been giving serious thought to the juvenile delinquency problem since 1940, when she became aroused at (1) figures indicating that the ratio of crimes by minors had reached a new high; (2) the prominence of crime stories in comic books that most children who become delinquent remain delinquent even after being sent to "reform schools."

Shortly before Christmas of 1949, she discussed the matter with Circuit Judge Robert J. Dunne, who then presided over the juvenile court, and he asked her to tell stories at the home.

Mrs. Maddock said she knew she was heading in the right direction when the juvenile home superintendent told her the children were talking about her stories and the characters in them.

Her only reward has been the happiness she has brought to the lost children. She recalled a recent incident when a small Negro girl interrupted one of her stories and said:

"Story-teller Miss, I'm not afraid now to see the judge. This morning Faith shined the lamp of Trust in my eyes."

That, Mrs. Maddock said, is ample compensation for her work.

Cups Awarded to Two Students

Richard Murphy and Beverly Watts Honored at Roosevelt High

KEEGO HARBOR — Most Representative Student cups were presented to Beverly Watts and Richard Murphy during the commencement program at Roosevelt High School Wednesday night.

The annual awards are made on the basis of the students' social, moral and physical qualifications.

BEVERLY Beverly delivered the valedictory address in the commencement program. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Watts of 1924 Cass Lake Rd., she was this year's DAR Good Citizen Pilgrim. She also won the Student Council High School Citizenship Award.

Beverly will enroll at Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti next fall on a scholarship.

RICHARD

Richard is an all A junior at Roosevelt and recipient of the Scholarship Award this year. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kern Murphy of 3054 Summers Rd.

Delegate Appointed

AVON TOWNSHIP—Mrs. Lance Nutter, a teacher in the Avondale School District, will be the Stiles Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn. delegate to the organization's conservation training school at Higgins Lake this summer.

Solons, Brownell Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) —Republican Senate leaders invited Atty. Gen. Brownell to a closed-door conference today and some Senators said the purpose was to iron out some friction over federal appointments.

Paik Resignation Final

SEOUL (AP) — President Syngman Rhee today accepted the resignation of Prime Minister Paik Too Chin and recommended abolition of the post.

"WE WON'T NEED THESE ANYMORE"—Three high school students mark the end of the school year today by discarding papers and other school material for which they have no need in the coming summer vacation days. Left to right are Patricia Ronan, 162 E. Iroquois Rd.; Donald Hardy, 15 S. Edith St.; and Betty Lou Apigian, 303 Prospect St.

Foul Play Possible in Boy's 'Drowning'

A search for the body of Ernest Lacasse, 16, of Harper Woods, missing since Sunday night and presumed drowned in Stoney Lake near Oxford, was intensified today.

Sheriff Clare L. Hubbell said new divers will push the search of the lake bottom today. If, after the lake is fully screened and the body not recovered, Hubbell said, the Oakland County Sheriff's Posse will comb neighboring fields and woods.

Authorities are not overlooking the possibility that the cause of Lacasse's disappearance may not be accidental. A missing person report filed in Detroit Thursday by the boy's family was followed by a teletyped discription and a notation that Lacasse had been threatened by youths at the lake several days ago after a fight.

Lacasse was last seen by an unidentified witness who said he was entering the lake in his swimming suit. The boy's clothes were left in the car of his brother, Cyril, of Detroit.

Woman Suffers Cuts as Two Cars Collide

Miss Elsa H. Leece, 24, of 3488 Loon Lake Shore, Drayton Plains, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for chin cuts after her car collided with another at Telegraph Rd. and Garland Ave., Thursday night.

Rev. Paul C. Heenan, 61, of Mount Clemens, who heads the St. Peters Church there, told police that he was waiting in a northbound lane on Telegraph to turn left onto Garland when Miss Leece's car, also traveling north, failed to stop and the two collided.

Permits Include School Additions

Construction Is Started at 4 Sites in Waterford Township

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Building permits issued here for the first half of June included four for new additions to four Waterford Township schools at a valuation of $230,585.

Construction at Jayno Adams, Waterford Center, Williams Lake and Four Towns schools got underway early this month.

Other permits issued for the first week of June brought the total valuation of permits for the week up to $511,024.

They included permits for 25 homes, estimated at $211,000; 13 for remodeling and repairs at $14,172; seven for garages at $5,300; six for garage and breezeway combinations at $5,967; two for commercial buildings, a store and a gas station at $39,000; one for moving a house at $2,500; and one for remodeling a commercial building at $2,500.

The number of permits issued for the week of June 7-12 showed a drop. Thirty-four were written up compared to 59 for the previous week.

Many Retailers Hopeful for '54

Survey Shows About 50 Per Cent Expecting Good Summer Sales

Nearly half of 112 retailers questioned in a survey of 54 major general retail markets expected sales this summer to average 5 to 10 per cent higher than the 1953 season.

Another 36 per cent expected sales at least to meet last summer's.

Almost 90 per cent of the merchants queried either will increase or maintain their summer advertising budgets this year.

This forecast was reflected in a survey just completed by the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

The Bureau said 25 per cent of the retailers checked plan to expand their advertising outlays about 10 per cent for June, July and August over last year.

The retailers unanimously selected daily newspapers as their first choice in advertising their goods. They will invest from 85 to 100 per cent of their summer advertising budgets in newspaper ads.

The retailers agreed that keener competition will require more aggressive promotion and merchandizing programs.

Almost half of the canvassed retailers plan to stock traditionally best-selling summer items heavier this year than last year. More than half plan to push summer goods longer and delay clearances until late July or early August.

Jaycee Chief Names Committee Chairmen

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Chairmen for seven standing committees were named by Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce President Charles Pappas today.

Heading the ways and means committee will be Vern Burris, while Philip Nelson will be in charge of the membership group.

Other chairmen and their committees are: Gene Shaw, house; Gerald Lewis, program; Robert Wheeler, recreation; Jack McCaffrey, awards, and John Chase, youth activities.

Lewis is already drawing up plans for a family picnic and general meeting July 18.

The Jaycees are also planning to sponsor a golf tournament, it was announced.

Kathern Havens Elected Head of Past Matrons

DRYDEN — Meeting at the home of Mrs. Nellie Youngs in Capac this week, the Past Matrons Club elected new officers.

Heading the slate is President Kathern Havens. Other officers are Frances Gaylor, vice president; Janey Hanna, secretary, and Carole Avery, treasurer.

Donna Stenzel, Merlin Eineder Exchange Vows

IMLAY CITY — Donna Marie Stenzel became the bride of Marlin J. Eineder in a ceremony Saturday night in First Congregational Church here.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stenzel. Merlin's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Eineder.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of white satin with a net and lace bolero trimmed with rhine stones and a shoulder-length veil. Her flowers were white carnations and pink roses.

Serving as bridesmaid was Martha Bade, wearing a gown of pink silk and also carrying white carnations and pink roses.

Best man for the bridegroom was Mitchell Cojanau.

A reception was held in Hunters Creek Hall following the ceremony. The newlyweds will make their home in Imlay City.

County Deaths

Mrs. Ola E. Carey

She was a life-time Oakland County resident.

Mrs. Anna Croft

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Funeral service for Mrs. Anna Croft, 94, of Southfield Township, will be held Saturday at 3 p.m. at the Ross B. Northrop Funeral Home, Detroit, with burial in Southfield Cemetery.

A charter member of the Calvary Methodist Church of Redford, Mrs. Croft died Thursday at the home of a granddaughter, Mrs. Mae Bell Knowlton, in Detroit.

Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Henry Cort; two grandsons, Oscar Nelson and Drayton Cort; another granddaughter, Mrs. Hazel Place, and 12 great - grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Force China Businesses to Work for Commies

HONG KONG (AP) — Chinese Communists are forcing Shanghai business men to operate their own businesses for the benefit of the Reds, says a Hong Kong trade paper. Here's how the paper says they do it:

They accuse a firm of tax defaults, profiteering or exploiting. The bill is bigger than the company can pay and the plant is declared a public-private enterprise. The management is forced to work with Communist cadres until, as the paper puts it, the Reds "learn the difference between hay and a bull's foot."

Further pressure comes from the Red control of markets. So far this year, 13 of the biggest Shanghai factories have become public-private. Most of them had been crippled by tax claims, fines and lack of markets. Now they are prosperous with a flood of government orders the paper says.

Driver Steals Truck; Reverses Self Into Jail

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP)—When a man driving a truck saw policeman C. G. Fowler, he threw the truck into reverse and backed up a full city block.

The peculiar action led to investigation. The truck was stolen. Fowler arrested the driver.

Outline Budgets to United Fund

Visiting Nurse Assn. and the Urban League Requests '55 Money

Budget hearings that will help determine this fall's Pontiac Area United Fund campaign goal got under way Thursday night at Hotel Waldron.

Pontiac Visiting Nurse Assn. and Urban League of Pontiac proposed budgets for 1955 to one of three budget panels, headed by Robert M. Glenn.

Panel members were Max E. Kerth, Otis Lawrence, Mrs. Adolph Magnus, Gelston V. James F. Spence, William L. Treanor and Harold Doremus.

Each of the three budget panels, made up of local people, will examine a half-dozen or so budget requests, study details, and suggest action to the United Fund administrative committee.

Speaking for the Visiting Nurses Thursday were Mrs. Stuart Whitfield, finance committee chairman; Mrs. Arthur Young, member of the board of sirectors, and Miss Mary Pauli, executive director.

Presenting Urban League needs were Dr. Robert R. Turpin, finance committee chairman; Mrs. Edwin B. Clark, committeeman; Mrs. John D. Monroe, leqgue president, and Everett C. Spurlock, executive director.

Ban Hard Candy

MUNCIE, Ind. (UP) — No more "hard" candy is allowed in the county jail here. One piece was found to contain part of a hacksaw blade.

Leslie Burgess, Katherine Ferrett Exchange Vows

IMLAY CITY — Katherine Ann Ferrett and Leslie H. Burgess exchanged marriage vows here Saturday afternoon in a ceremony at the Congregational parsonage.

Katherine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ferrett. Leslie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Burgess of Almont.

The bride was dressed in a gown of white nylon marquisette with satin ribbon trimming. She also wore an orchid corsage.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ferrett, a brother of the bride and a sister of the bridegroom. As matron of honor Mrs. Ferrett wore a pink Swiss organdy dress and a corsage of pink carnations.

Certify Results of School Vote

Members of Board Hold Special Meeting to Act on Election

Pontiac Board of Education Thursday afternoon certified its election workers' count of ballots cast in Monday's school election.

The board met at school offices, 40 Patterson St., for the special late afternoon session.

J. C. Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, was authorized to close a deal for 13 acres of land on Lake Street at the Pontiac, Oxford and Northern Railroad. The board earlier voted $8,000 to pay for the land and agreed to lease 29 acres next to it for five years.

Pontiac City was granted a request for a 43-foot strip of land along the new high school site at Perry street and Arlene avenue to use for a sanitary sewer along Arlene.

Certified elections results put Mrs. Harry E. (Lola B.) King, incumbent, and Dr. Walter L. Godsell on the board and set up a 10-year school tax increase to help pay operating and building costs.

The tax program lets the Pontiac school system levy school taxes 6.25 mills over the 15-mill limit from 1955 through 1957 and 8.75 mills over the limit from 1958-1964. Net increase to the taxpayer is only some 4.25 mills ($4.25 on each $1,000 worth of property, as assedded) as two voted taxes expire, one this year and one in 1957.

Pontiac voters also okayed a county - wide program for educating handicapped youngsters and a special half-mill tax to pay for it.

Dr. Godsell will take his seat on the school board when it meets for an organization session shortly after July 1 — start of the school system's financial year.

Education Board Names Officers

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Kern Murphy was elected president of the West Bloomfield Township Board of Education Wednesday night.

Named vice president was Edwin Dreyer, while Mrs. Charles Leaf will serve as secretary. Other officers are John C. Hall, treasurer, and Richard McClurg, trustee.

In other action, the board renewed the contracts of Robert Pfeuffer and Mrs. Ruth MacDuff and canvassed the votes of Monday's school election.

Clarks 'Belong' After Purchase of Pair of Shorts

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) —Gen. Mark W. Clark, former supreme United Nations commander in the Far East, was made to feel perfectly at home soon after assuming the presidency of The Citadel here.

On a stroll about the city, he passed a store and the shopkeeper called out: "Hello, General, how are you getting along?"

"Fine, thank you." Clark replied.

"Just wanted you to know," the shopkeeper said, "that your wife was in here a few minutes ago and bought you a pair of shorts. If they don't fit, just bring them back."

"That," Clark said later, "convinced me that we had arrived." Mrs. Clark added that "That's never happened to us before."

Done the Easy Way

EL CERRITO, Calif. (AP)—A hugh rock slid down a hillside and blocked a street. Three contractors failed to break it up by using gasses in drilling holes, sledges and wedges and dry ice. The fourth contractor dropped a big steel ball on it and cracked it to pieces.

Trailer Factory Opens Officially

Sen. Ferguson to Attend Celebration Saturday Morning

Trailer dealers from all over the United States and Canada are expected to attend the grand opening today through Sunday, of the new Pontiac Coach Co. factory on Williams Lake road near U.S.10 in Waterford Township, according to Gail McDaniel, assistant sales manager.

The factory termed the biggest, newest, and most modern trailer factory in the world, by McDaniel, was started one year ago. It is 1,140 feet long, 220 feet wide and has a 200-foot office on the front of the building.

In an 8-hour day the factory is capable of turning out up to 40 coaches, McDaniel said.

Sen. Homer Ferguson will attend the grand opening Saturday morning. He will arrive tonight at Willow Run Airport and drive to Pontiac from Detroit Saturday morning. After visiting the factory between 11 a.m. and noon, Ferguson will continue on to the Williams Shooting School in Davison, to address some 400 youngsters.

The Pontiac Coach Co. was founded in 1947 by the present owner, Les Hutchison, and had an output of one trailer daily. Until recently the company has been located at 4615 Dixie Hwy., Drayton Plains. The move to the new plant was completed in March, McDaniel said.

Royal Oak Lawyer Heads County Bar

Gilbert Davis of Royal Oak was elected president of Oakland County Bar Assn. Wednesday night to replace outgoing president Roscoe Martin of Rochester.

The group gathered at Sylvan Glen Country Club on Rochester road for its annual meeting and Edward Fallon and Archie Leonard of Pontiac were both named to the association's board of directors.

Davis is also president of South Oakland County Bar Assn. and this is the first time since the two organizations were founded that one man has been elected president of both groups.

K. W. Bradley to Aid United Fund Director, Head Community Chest

Karl W. Bradley, 32, of Detroit is the new assistant director of Pontiac Area United Fund and managing director of Pontiac Community Chest.

William B. Hartman, president of the United Fund board of trustees, announced Bradley will start work here Monday. He replaces Jerry Shroder, who is now assistant director of Flint's Council of Social Agencies.

Born in New York City, Bradley is a graduate of Trinity College, Conn., with a master's degree in social work from University of Michigan.

He is a veteran of World War II, and he served as a Detroit Department of Public Welfare case worker from 1948-1952, helping reorganize the department's Bureau of Social Service.

He has been a Wayne County Probate Court juvenile probation officer for a year and a half, recently doing special research on juvenile delinquency.

Bradley, who lives with his wife, Alice, at 1605 Collingwood, Detroit, plans to move to Pontiac soon.

psychologist training program where doctors who have interned can practice the actual care of mental patients under expert guidance.

Of the 21 doctors at the hospital, eight are certified by the American Board of Psychiatry. There are also about 500 nurses among the 852 hospital employes.

A short time ago the hospital began accepting children for treatment and Dr. LaCore said there are now 37 in the hospital.

"Of that number the majority are behavior problems and have come to us because of broken homes or other factor which has prompted a mental breakdown."

"At Pontiac State we discharge 48 per cent of all patients within a year after admittance. The figure would go as high as 60 per cent if we didn't have to accept mental cases arising from senility."

"The sick person is usually ill only in one phase of his mind and after the doctors have outlined his malady and the probable course toward cure, the therapists apply the doctor's recomendations."

To further impress his audience with the gravity of the mental illness problem, Dr. LaCore told the men that the number of persons in mental hospitals each year almost equals the number of persons graduating from the nation's colleges and universities.

Col. Rodolfo Mendoza, former chief of the Guatemalan air force, who fled here last week to take part in Castillo Armas' movement, was interviewed over the exiles' secret radio last night. This indicated he might already be near the border.

Castillo Armas, however, was still at his headquarters in Tegucigalpa yesterday. In a rallying call from there, he said his forces "will not cease our victorious fight until we eradicate communism and expell Arbenz and his followers from the sacred soil of Guatemala."

Geneva Awaits Mendes-France

New French Premier Expected to Take Over Indochina Talks

GENEVA (AP)—French sources expressed belief today that France's new premier, Pierre Mendes-France, will fly to Geneva Monday to take part in the Indochina peace talks.

These sources said Mendes-France is expected to take over the post of foreign minister himself in the new Cabinet and give his full personal attention to the Indochina problem. He has promised to resign unless an Indochina settlement has been reached by July 20.

Most diplomats here were reluctant to comment on the French National Assembly's approval of Mendes-France.

British sources said that, in view of his statements on the Far Eastern fighting, chances of a settlement might be increased by his approval as premier. Some other delegations expressed private views, however, that a dift might develop among the Western powers if Mendes-France made concessions which the United States would not agree to.

Addressing the National Assembly in Paris yesterday, Mendes-France advanced no concrete peace proposals. Instead he said (1) his government will continue with the Geneva talks; (2) France will not get out of the Far East and (3) he will take all measures "necessary" for peace. This latter was construed in Paris as a willingness to enter direct negotiations with Ho Chi Minh, the Communist Vietminh leader.

The Indochina peace talks continued today but prospects of progress awaited the maing of the new French Cabinet and further clarification of the new Communist proposals.

Western delegates hoped to find out at the secret conference session this afternoon more about the meaning of the points advanced Wednesday by Red China's Chou En-lai.

U.S. sources, after a careful study of Chou's remarks, indicated their delegations felt there was little or nothing new in them. They were said to call for (1) a simultaneous cease-fire, (2) negotiations between the opposing military commands both here and in Indochina, and (3) a ban on movement of troops and arms into Indochina.

France in More Trouble: Nehru Tells Her, 'Get Out'

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

France is facing more trouble in its colonial empire.

The demand of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru that France give up its four tiny settlements along the coast of southern India could develop into a crisis.

If there is one thing France does not need right now, it is a new crisis. It is plagued by a cabinet crisis in France itself and by crises in Indochina, Tunisia and Morocco.

Nehru's demand for the four settlements — Pondicherry, Karikal, Yanam and Mahe — is getting increasingly insistent.

Ever since India attained its independence in 1947, Nehru has been trying to get hold of the four French settlements and Portugal's colony of Goa, the only other foreign foothold in his country.

Nehru is an India - for - the-Indians and Asia - for - the Asians man. He wants to see the end of Western "colonialism" not only in India but in all of Asia and, for that matter, in Africa too.

The situation in the French settlements has been getting more explosive for several months.

There have been serious riots, some led by Communists from India. Pro - Indian groups have attempted to take over control by force.

In the latest development, Nehru protested to the French government yesterday that French "troops" had been landed in Pondicherry. He demanded that they be withdrawn.

Paris retorted that the "troops" were 50 policemen, landed to help maintain order.

France has offered to determine the future of the four settlements by referendum, under proper safeguards. But the negotiations seem to be getting nowhere.

The four settlements are by no means indispensable to France. They were occupied, as footholds on the Indian sub-continent, when bold navigators were planting the flags of their countries round the world. But they are France's, and Nehru's attempt to get them is another painful pinprick.

Pondicherry is on the tropical east coast. It is 115 square miles in area and has 222,500 people. France first took possession of it in 1683.

It changed hands several times among the French, British and Dutch, before France last got it in 1816. It is a good port — one of the reasons it was first occupied.

Karikal is on the east coast south of Pondicherry. Its area is 53 square miles, its population 70,000. France got it first in 1739 and last in 1816.

Mahe is on the west coast. Its area is 22.85 square miles and its population 18,000. France first got it in 1725 and has had it, the last time, since 1817.

Yanam, north of Pondicherry, is but 5½ square miles in area, with 6,000 people. Only last Sunday, pro-Indians tried to take it over by force.

AF Shifts Bombers to SAC Jurisdiction

TOKYO (AP) — The Air Force today shifted its heavy bombers in the Far East to the Strategic Air Command — carries of atomic weapons — and said the big planes would be moved from Japan to Guam.

The Air Force said a wing of four-engine B50s would be flown to Guam for training.

B29s of the Far East Air Forces now based in Japan will be flown to Guam and put under control of SAC, the Air Force said. Actual transfer of the B29s now at Yokota Air Base near here will begin soon.

Eventually, SAC will replace the B29s with B50s and other aircraft. The Superforts which dropped the atom bombs on Japan and bombed North Korea for 37 months are headed for retirement.

Pay Raise for Nurses Pays Off—13 Seek Jobs

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Worcester City Council hiked city hospital nurses' pay from $52 to $60 a week — and it paid off.

Yesterday, a day after the boost, 13 nurses applied for jobs and were accepted. The hospital still could use 24 more nurses, the council said.

Ex-Wife of Detroit Lion Will Marry Film Actor

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Tom Tully and Mrs. Mildred Johnson of Salt Lake City, who obtained a marriage license yesterday, plan to be married Sunday. Mrs. Johnson is the former wife of Jack Johnson, Detroit Lions football player. Tully said this will be his third marriage. He gave his age as 45 and Mrs. Johnson said she is 37.

PREPARES FOR ARTS AND CRAFTS — Miss Thelma Bourne, summer playground arts and crafts director, breaks out some equipment in preparation for the Monday starting date. A large amount of supplies is needed including 250 pounds of plaster of paris, 200 pounds of wheat paste and 85 reams of paper.

City's Summer Recreation Gets Under Way Monday

More than 6,000 boys and girls 7 through 16 years old are expected to participate in the first week of the 1954 Pontiac summer playground program beginning Monday.

"Some 22 playgrounds will offer a varied program running through Aug. 13," according to Leonard T. Buzz, superintendent of recreation for the City Parks and Recreation Department which sponsors the annual playground activity.

"Planning for the summer's fun begins in January and continues through late August," Buzz said. Activities slated for this year include arts and crafts, dramatics, music, puppetry, games, jacks, softball, kickball, movies and hopscotch.

Others are hikes, picnics, field trips, pet shows, a fishing contest, horseshoes and a zoo trip.

"A highly trained staff of 54 persons, representing almost 300 years of experience and background in recreation and education, will supervise the program," Buzz explained.

Hours are from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Mondays plus 9 a.m. till noon and 1 p.m. till 5 on Tuesday through Friday at the following schools:

Bailey, Bagley, Baldwin, Central, Crofoot, Emerson, LeBaron, Lincoln, Longfellow, Malkin, McCarroll, McConnell, Owen, Wilson, Jefferson, Webster, Wever and Washington.

Lakeside Homes Community Center and playground will open from 9 a.m. until dark Monday through Friday.

Times at other locations include: Oriole Field, 4 p.m. to dark on Monday through Thursday; Oakland Park, 5 p.m. to 10 Monday through Friday and 1 p.m. to 10 on weekends and holidays; Murphy Park, 5 p.m. to dark Monday through Friday and 1 p.m. to dark on weekends and holidays.

The eight-week program will cost $19,395 for salaries and over $800 for supplies and equipment, said Buzz.

The steering committee which plans the overall setup is composed of Buzz, Mrs. Jean James, music supervisor; Miss Thelma Bourne, arts and crafts supervisor; Mrs. Hazel Holmes, dramatics; Ray White, playground director at Wilson School, and Miss Joan Yenor, playground director at Wever School.

MUSIC SUPERVISOR — Mrs. Jean James, program music supervisor, prepares percussion instruments for use by one of the playground bands. Music, dramatics and puppetry provide the program with a cultural balance.

AF Announces New State Base

Benzie County Chosen as Site for Interceptor Jet Field

WASHINGTON (UP) — A long-awaited Air Force announcement said today Northern Michigan's proposed $8,635,000 jet air base will be located in Benzie County about 20 miles southwest of Traverse City.

The announcement pin-pointed the locations of the Michigan base and three others for the first time. Cadillac and several other Michigan localities had been competing for the base.

Rep. Ruth Thomson (R-Mich) said she believed the new base "will benefit the entire area."

"This location is perfectly satisfactory to me," she said.

In announcing the specific location for the four Midwest sites late Tuesday, the Air Force said it was governed by "operational suitability, community support and economical development of the site."

The three other sites announced by the Air Force are 10 to 15 miles northwest of Grand Forks, N. D.; 10 to 15 miles northwest of Minot, N. D., and 15 miles north of Glasgow, Mont.

The Air Force announcement described the Michigan base only as the "Traverse City - Benzie County site, approximately 20 miles southwest of Traverse City."

Thursday's announcement leaves the San Diego, Calif., area base as the only one for which the exact site has not been chosen.

The Benzie County site will be located roughly two miles from Honor and only eight miles from the Interlochen National Music Camp.

The camp's founder, Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, vigorously opposed the Benzie County site.

Don't Waste Years by Being Someone Else

By MAURICE ZOLOTOW

Maurice Zolotow has written extensively on the Broadway scene and on the foibles of its characters. Among his books are "No People Like Show People," "Never Whistle in a Dressing Room," and "It Takes All Kinds."

One of the barely noticed tragedies of human existence is the way in which we waste our years in activities which do not bring us satisfaction.

We lose ourselves in a multitude of things which bore us, irritate us, frustrate us, even terrify us.

Why do we go to such great effort, spend so much time and money and energy, in accomplishing something we do not want to accomplish?

Often it is because we fear social ridicule. We hold such a low opinion of ourselves that we fear we will not be loved and admired unless we go through certain motions. If we don't read this month's best seller, we will be considered illiterate. If we don't play 18 holes of golf on Sunday we are socially backward.

We do many things we don't really want to do because we desire to project a certain image of ourselves to the world at large. Thorstein Veblen defined this impulse as that of "conspicuous consumption."

A man really can't afford to spend $6,500 for a silverblu mink coat for his wife but gets into debt in order to live up to some imaginary standard of behavior. Or he loathes whisky, but chokes down six highballs at a party because that indicates he is sophisticated.

But human satisfaction usually comes through expressing one's own self. This is not easy. We find it hard to discover what our own selves really are.

There are two methods which have worked for me. The first is: Learn to be alone now and then and do absolutely nothing except wonder about the meaning of your life.

There is so much emphasis nowaway from the chatter of friends "getting along with people" and "winning friends" that we have forgotten the importance of solitude. The most important friend any of us has to win is himself. When we enter a church with a sincere urge to examine ourselves, we accomplish this.

We can also accomplish it on a psychoanalyst's couch or while on a country road. The trick is to plunge into yourself — to break away from the heatter of friends and the cackle of the television set.

The second point is to remember that your body doesn't speak English. It can't be fooled by words. If you learn to watch bodily changes carefully, you will soon find out whether you really wanted to give that dinner party for 12 last week.

A splitting headache, indigestion, heart palpitations, a constriction in the chest, a backache. Do any of these suddenly occur in the middle of something you are doing—something supposedly pleasurable or important? If so, your body has given you a red light. You are probably trying to prove something instead of expressing your own true self.

Once you've freed yourself from the slavery of proving something all the time, you can start living for yourself. By chopping many things out of your day, you have left a vacuum.

Into this vacuum there will rush the activities in which your personality can really express itself. And you may find a deep satisfaction in living that you have never experienced before.

FFA Members Get Awards in Marshall

MARSHALL (UP)—Gold awards were presented here today to 75 America chapters at Hastings, Caro and East Jordan for promoting soil and water conservation.

The awards followed a Barry-Calhoun County tour ending with a noon banquet in Marshall.

Gold awards were captured by Steve Hayden, president of the East Jordan FFA; President Francis Silvernail, of the Caro FFA, and President Charles Williams, of the Hastings FFA.

Chapters in Scottville, Mayville, and Centerville won silver awards while bronze awards went to chapters in Alanson, Hartland, and Middleville.

U. of M. Scholarship Goes to Oxford Pupil

ANN ARBOR — Jay McCaughna of 1700 Barr Rd., Oxford, will receive one of three Horace H. Rackham scholarships to attend the University of Michigan next fall.

The scholarships are given to freshmen men who have shown citizenship, scholastic ability and promise of leadership.

They are renewable for four years if high scholarship is maintained.

Pontiac District Scouts Plan Indian Pow-wow

About 300 Pontiac Boy Scouts and Explorers will hold the largest pow-pow and camporee in the district's history Saturday.

Highlight of the day-long event at Camp Agawam on the Clarkston-Orion road, will be an Indian pageant by Troop 244. The Heoka Wacipi Boy Scout Indian dancers from Detroit are also scheduled to perform.

Prior to the show, Ovis Gidcumb, past chairman of the Pontiac District will judge troop gateways and individual Indian costumes. Donald Newman will conduct a court of honor for presentation of scout badges.

Other activities will include Indian games and athletic competition, swimming, a special program for Explorer Scouts, archery, Indian demonstrations and a meeting of leaders to plan the district program for next year.

Open to the public, the events are scheduled to begin at 6:30.

Heading the affair are District Chairman John A. Riley and Vice-chairman William DeGrace is program director.

Doctors Refuse to Cite Smoking

Chest Physicians Won't Single Out Cigarettes as Cancer Cause

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The American College of Chest Physicians refused yesterday to single out cigarette smoking as a suspected cause of lung cancer.

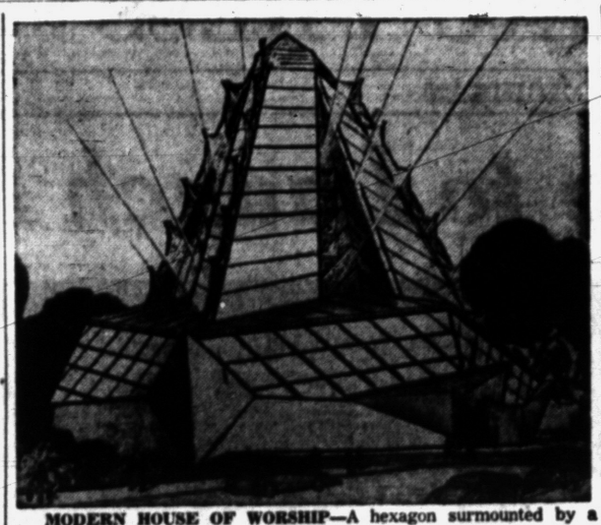

After two hours of lively debate the organization adopted a resolution saying further work must be done before "any single agent or agents can be definitely implicated."

A move to go on record as naming cigarette smoking as a possible suspect was made by Dr. Richard Overholt of Brookline, Mass., a surgeon at Tufts College Medical School.

Speaking for the majority and the noncommittal resolution, Dr. Alvis E. Greer, of Houston, president of the college, said too many other things are in the picture to warrant a specific pronouncement about cigarettes. Among them he named smog, chimney smoke, auto fumes and air polluted by population concentrations.

Dr. G.W.H. Schepers, director of the Saranac Laboratory at Saranac Lake, N.Y., reported lung cancer is virtually nonexistent in the Negroes of South Africa although they are smokers and are subject to other kinds of malignancy.

Dr. Evarts Graham, St. Louis surgeon, renewed his contention that the case against cigarette smoking is a strong one although absolute proof is lacking.

MODERN HOUSE OF WORSHIP—A hexagon surmounted by a triangle is the basic structural design for the new American Synagogue to be erected in Elkins Park, Pa. The building's main colors will be green and blue. The projections along the ridges are lamps, replicas of the "Menorah," the candelabrum in the tabernacle. Dominating the exterior will be the giant ark of the covenant which holds the torah.

Animal life in Arizona's Grand canyon of the Colorado includes about 180 species of birds, 60 kinds of mammals, 25 reptiles and five amphibians.

Michigan Airman Unhurt in Crash

MONTEREY, Calif. (UP) — Airman Eugene O. Jarmin of Hastings, Mich., was one of three Navy men rescued from the Pacific Ocean after their Douglas Skyraider plane crashed into the water Thursday.

The others rescued were Lt. Irving C. Menefee, San Diego, Calif., the pilot, and Lt. (JG) Kenneth E. Pirk, Boulder, Colo. None of the three was hurt.

The plane developed engine trouble and crashed five miles off the California coast. The men were picked up by a fishing vessel about five minutes after the plane sank. A Navy helicopter then took the men off the fishing boat and returned them to the carrier USS Yorktown, anchored in Monterey Bay.

Prosecutor Resigns

LUDINGTON (UP) — Vernon R. Keiser resigned Thursday as Mason County Prosecutor. Circuit Judge Max E. Neal said Keiser's assistant, William Stapleton, will serve as acting prosecutor until a permanent successor is named.

Senator Puzzled at Inconsistency

Smathers Fails to See Outlook of Colleagues on Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla) said today he did not see how senators "with any consistency" could support all the cuts in the omnibus tax revision bill and still oppose an increase in the national debt limit.

The 44-year-old senator, the newest member of the tax-writing Senate Finance Committee, said in an interview he believed this question should be settled before the Senate starts its floor debate on the 875-page revenue measure.

Administration and Senate Republican leaders so far have bypassed the debt-limit issue in asking for all possible speed on the tax bill.

The Finance Committee may report out the measure when it meets behind closed doors today. It is expected to make no significant changes in the version tentatively approved a week ago after six weeks of secret voting.

The bill would cut a variety of taxes by about $1,400,000,000 in its first year of operation, although this would be partly offset by a one-year extension of the 52 per cent corporation tax rate to yield an extra $1,200,000,000. The rate would drop to 47 per cent without the extension. The bill's estimated revenue loss would be higher in succeeding years.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the Finance Committee says he has heard nothing recently from Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey on the debt limit. However, other Treasury officials have said the Senate will have to approve a substantial boost in the ceiling before this Congress ends. The national debt now is hovering just below the 275-billion-dollar legal limit.

Last year President Eisenhower asked for a 15-billion-dollar hike to 290 billion. The House complied, but the Senate Finance Committee declined to go along and still has the House bill before it.

Sweden Letting Reds Enter for Conference

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The foreign office said today Sweden has granted entry permits to about 250 delegates from Communist countries to a Red-sponsored "meeting for easing international tension."

It opens here tomorrow for five days. Newsmen will not be admitted.

Among top Reds granted entry permits were Ilya Ehrenburg, the Soviet writer and propagandist; Kuo Mo-jo of Red China; Alexander Korneichuk of the Soviet Ukraine; former Deputy Premier Zdenek Fierlinger of Czechoslovakia; Oscar Lange, former Polish U.N. delegate.

'Kidnaping' Dad Freed by Judge

Michigan Man Tried to 'Steal' Son From School in Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) — Judge Willie Proulx dismissed kidnaping charges Thurday against a Michigan man and five others who tried to take the American's 7-year-old son from a school here.

The accused men were Lionel DeBellefueille, 32, of Lincoln Park, Mich.; Sylvio Belanger of Detroit, and four Montrealers, including a private detective.

They were charged with taking DeBellefeuille's son Richard from his school on June 9. Police grabbed them before they left the scene.

The boy had been living in Montreal for the past five years with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson. Recently a local appeal court set aside adoption proceedings instituted by the Andersons. DeBellefeuille now has a habeas corpus suit underway in Superior Court here, seeking to regain custody of his son.

In dismissing the charge against the father and his associates, Judge Proulx said that in view of the dismissal of the Andersons' adoption suit, there was no evidence of any illegal action by DeBellefeuille.

The judge returned the child to the Andersons, however, pending outcome of the father's habeas corpus suit.

Roundup Nabs 2,000 Wetbacks

Illegal Immigrants Sent Back Across Border to Mexico

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—The roundup of wetbacks swung into its second day today with the first day's catch of more than 2,000 illegal immigrants termed "very successful."

Heralded for a week, "Operation Wetback" had 740 men checking farms and ranches, industrial areas, rail yards and bus stations for the job-seeking Mexican laborers who entered the United States unlawfully.

Seven planes scouted Southern California mountain and desert trails, spotting men on the move and radioing jeep and car crews. The drive extended as far north as Sacramento, where State Employment Director William A. Burkett said:

"Our participation with the federal authorities in this drive against illegal aliens will have beneficial results in securing employment for persons who are now jobless and drawing unemployment insurance."

Herman R. Landon, Los Angeles district immigration director, said the operation was "much more successful than spectacular."

He said many wetbacks, advised of the impending drive by advance publicity, had scurried back across the border.

"That made our job easier. If there hadn't been this publicity we'd have taken between 4,000 and 5,000 without question."

Ten days ago it was estimated there were about 70,000 illegal aliens in California.

Little Russians' Rubles Ignored; Big Stir Results

MOSCOW (AP)—For want of a ruble, the Soviet state savings banks have had their knuckles rapped by Izvestia.

The Soviet government's official newspaper told the story of a schoolboy who had four rubles—a dollar at the official exchange rate. He wanted to open a savings account so some day he could buy a home aquarium.

No thanks, said the bank. Minimum deposit, five rubles.

The kid blew his four rubles on ice cream.

Bank workers, Izvestia grumbled "are too used to dealing with big depositors." The paper added:

"The state savings banks must attract small deposits and learn themselves to count not only in tens of rubles but also in kopech (¼ cent) coins. It is necessary to raise up children in the spirit of thrift."

Thai Security Up Before U. N.

Russia Expected to Veto Plan to Probe Threats to Siam's Safety

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—The 10 Western Security Council members will vote today, in full anticipation of a Soviet veto, for an impartial probe of the Communist Vietminh threat to Thailand's security.

The Thai government has indicated that the expected Russian veto will be countered in the near future with a formal request to have the U.N. Assembly called into session.

The 60 delegations of the Assembly can override a veto by a two-thirds majority vote.

Russia, the 11th member of the Security Council, strongly opposes sending any U.N. military group to Indochina or adjoining countries. Only a startling reversal of policy by the Kremlin could give council clearance to the "peace patrol" resolution.

The council session is the third to consider Thailand's proposal that a three-to-five nation team investigate her fears that Communist attacks on neighboring Camgodia, Laos and Viet Nam menace Thai security.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., has outlined briefly U. S. support for Thailand's resolution, as have five other council members. French Ambassador Henri Hoppenot has yet to speak.

Soviet Delegate S. I. Tasrapkin may precede the vote with a final statement of Russia's position and renew his previous charge that the United States is seeking through council action to wreck the Geneva Conference.

Hospital Board to Meet Union

Sets June 24 to Confer on Ways to Work Out Employes' Grievances

Pontiac General Hospital Board of trustees last night tenatively scheduled a June 24 meeting to confer with union groups which have criticized methods of settling hospital employes' grievances.

Mrs. Edna Roush, board secretary, was directed to arrange the meeting with representatives of the Oakland County CIO Council and Local 100, Government and Civic Employes Organizing Committee, CIO.

A CIO resolution claims "unsettled employe grievances are piling up at Pontiac General because the present working agreement is not functioning properly."

Trustees have replied that a working agreement was set up in 1953 to handle grievances, and this should be adhered to until it is possible to determine its adequacy.

Trustee approval was given to a health service program for employes. Included are pre-employment physical exam and chest xray, periodic examinations, and a sick-care clinic.

First aid will be offered for conditions which interfere with an employe's ability to work, and medical clearances will be required when an employe leaves the hospital because of illness, and returns after illness.

The board was informed that the Hospital's Woman's Auxiliary may sponsor a musical revue in the fall. The auxiliary's final decision will be made later this month. Approval was given to proceed with plans.

One of two lots of the Seminole Hills subdivision which the trustees favored purchasing for future expansion purposes has been acquired.

The lots are on the west side of Seminole street, near W. Huron. The second lot has been sold recently, and is not available.

Trailer Company Fined

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—A fine of $3,019 was imposed on the Fruehauf Trailer Co. Thursday on a charge that one of its trucks was carrying a 40,000-pound overload. The driver, Donald Lewsky of Detroit, said he was hauling 88,190 pounds of lead ballast to test the truck's capacity.

The bearings for propeller shafts of many ships are made of hard, tropical wood.

Wave Leaves School With Highest Grades

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Ens. Robin L. Quigley, one of 21 girls graduated today from the Wave Officers' Indoctrination School, received an academic mark of 96.9—highest in the school's 5-year history.

Heightening her elation was the surprise arrival last night from England of her father, Maj. Patrick A. Quigley, U.S. Air Force, now stationed overseas.

City Manager Leaving

ST. CLAIR SHORES (AP)—Adrian A. Lingemann, assistant city manager and assessor here, will become acting city manager when J. D. Baughman leaves next month to become city manager of Joplin, Mo.

Damage at $500,000 in Vet Hospital Fire

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Fire that routed more than 2,000 patients from their beds in 13 buildings at Fort Roots Veterans Hospital Monday night did estimated damage of more than $500,000.

E. L. Wilbur, assistant manager of the hospital, said it would cost "roughly" $450,000 to replace the occupational therapy building, which was destroyed, and would cost about $150,000 to replace machinery lost in the blaze.

There were no injuries. The building was used only during the day for occupational therapy shops.

Conservationists Study Fishing

Club Members Suggest Opening All Counties to Sunday Hunting

PETOSKEY (AP) — Michigan United Conservation Club members today turned to studies of Michigan fishing problems and prepared for the annual election Saturday.

Delegates went on record as favoring and urging the Legislature to:

1—Open all counties in Michigan to Sunday hunting, this would affect 13 southern counties now closed.

2—Hire 75 additional conservation officers which will cost about $450,000 a year.

3—Require a license for fishing Great Lakes waters and require wives to have a fishing license.

4—Re-open the lower tier of counties to fishing through the ice by non-residents.

5—Adopt a uniform gun law on county, state and national levels and adopt the National Rifle Assn. hunter safety course for young hunters.

6—Ban use of buckshot or rimfire .22 caliber rifles in the taking of big game.

7—Prohibit indiscriminate use of herbicides in the control of roadside vegetation.

8—Establish a board to which persons losing hunting licenses for wounding or killing another human could appeal, providing the mishap was accidental and did not involve recklessness, carelessness or negligence or did not happen when a law was being violated.

9—Make it a felony or high misdemeanor to steal or poison a dog.

Swimmer, 13, Drowns

PORT HURON (AP)—Dale Roder, 13, drowned Thursday while swimming in Mill Creek, 15 miles west of Port Huron.

Queen Elizabeth Avoids Accident Riding Horseback

LONDON (AP)—The London Star reported Queen Elizabeth II narrowly escaped serious injury today while riding horseback on the Ascot race course.

The Queen, on a swiftly galloping horse, ducked her head in the nick of time to avoid running into a telephone wire stretched across the course at head level, the Star said.

A shout from Elizabeth's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, who was on another fast horse just ahead, warned her of the danger.

The Queen reined in and ducked under the wire, a cable connecting a starting gate with a telephone truck.

The Queen and duke cantered on to a spot on the track where the Earl of Roseberry and a small group were waiting for her.

"We were nearly all decapitated," Elizabeth said.

Then she laughed and made light of the incident.

The riding party included the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester—the Queen's uncle and aunt—and the Duke and Duchess of Beaufort.

McCarthy 'Invited' to Soo's Centennial

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The exposition committee is still awaiting a reply from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) to its invitation for him to attend the Soo Locks centennial next year.

The day before the hearings ended in Washington, the committee sent McCarthy this telegram:

"Please make a strong effort to keep hearings alive and bring them to the Soo in 1955. Our Soo Locks Centennial is, of course, the main reason. But your hearings are news no matter the season. Please inform all cast to grow beards or be fined. A Van Dyke is permissible but not the Bolshevik kind. We promise top billing your major attraction."

Australia's Uranium Will Be Discussed

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Australia announced today the chairman of her Atomic Energy Commission will leave Sydney tomorrow to talk with U.S. and Canadian officials about this nation's new Rum Jungle Uranium field.

The government announcement said commission chairman Jack Stevens would go on to London later for discussions with British authorities on the application of atomic energy to industry.

All the present output of the rich Rum Jungle field, near Darwin, now goes to Britain and the United States.

Montana has more than 20 million acres of forest land which comprise more than one-fifth the state's total area.

Reporter Unravels Mystery of Onassis

Becomes Involved in Ship Deal, Buys Out Monte Carlo

By JOACHIM JOESTEN
New York Herald Tribune News Service
Last in Series

Aristotle Socrates Onassis' really big time began when he went into shipping. That was an inevitable development. All Greeks with money to invest take to shipping, like the duck takes to water, only faster.

It's a 3,000 - year - old tradition which Greek expatriates, as well as those still in the homeland, have kept firmly alive.

Onassis' first major venture in shipping dates from the darkest days of the depression.

In 1931, a fleet of ocean - going freighters belonging to a Canadian steamship company were put up for sale at Montreal.

Onassis, whose newly acquired fortune had not been touched by the slump, picked up six of them for $120,000 — about one per cent of the original cost!

His seafaring instincts now were aroused and the tobacco business no longer could hold him. With his unfailing sense of business opportunity, he realized that the future of shipping lay not in dry cargoes, but in oil. So he became the first Greek shipowner to go into the tanker business.

By the time World War II broke out, he already had in operation a few tankers as well as many freighters of varying size and age.

Part of his fleet was bottled up in the Baltic by the outbreak of hostilities, but the remainder he put to good use for the Allies at the then prevailing high freight rates.

When the war was over, he stood out among a group of similarly successful operators in New York and London as the richest and most enterprising of the lot.

One of his countrymen, and more or less friendly competitors, was Stavros G. Livanos, boss of S. Livanos & Co., Inc., New York, who is 62 now.

The Livanos family is one of the oldest and most influential Greek shipping concerns in this country. It was a big outfit when A. S. Onassis was still peddling leaf tobacco in Buenos Aires.

But the young fellow's daring and success in business appealed to Livanos, and Onassis soon met the older man's striking 17-year-old daughter, Athina. A whirlwind courtship ensued and the two were married in December 1946.

Stavros Niarchos, another Greek shipowner, now 46, took old man Livanos' second daughter, Eugenie, to the altar, thus forging the third link in the biggest maritime clan the world has ever seen.

Together, the three Greeks at present control a larger fleet than any but the five or six biggest seafaring nations operate under their flags!

Onassis was asked how he, his brother-in-law and his father-in-law were getting along with each other.

He grinned broadly:

"We're all trying to cut each other's throats. But every now and then we all gather around a family table and act civilized — on account of the ladies!"

Competition, he explained, was always "sharp" in this field, even where close family bonds existed. Currently this competition finds its most dramatic expression in a fantastic race between Onassis and Niarchos, each trying to outstrip the other in bigger and faster super-tankers.

"Ari" threw the first punch, when he launched the 45,000-ton Tina Onassis on July 25, 1953, at the Howaldtswerke, Germany's second - largest operating shipyard (Onassis, in 1952, tried to buy the yard, but the Germans, at the last moment, refused to sell).

Then, on Feb. 9, 1954, Niarchos replied with the World Glory, built by Bethlehem Steel at Quincy, Mass. The World Glory is only a trifle bigger than the Tina Onassis, but she can take 800,000 gallons of oil more than her competitor.

Now it's Onassis turn again, with the "King Ibn Saud I," which with her 47,000 tons, will be the biggest commercial vessel afloat —for a while.

For, already Niarchos is getting set for the haymaker: two titanic tankers, whose specifications have not yet been revealed beyond a statement that they will exceed World Glory "by a fair margin"; they are being built by Vickers-Armstrong in England. Meanwhile Onassis has a few more of the big babies coming in Germany.

In this race of the young giants, Livanos runs a poor third. He is still sticking primarily to the dry - cargo business, with just a couple of mere 29,250-ton tankers recently built for him by Bethlehem Steel.

Managing an ever - expanding fleet that plies the world's oceans under enough flags for a young United Nations is enough to occupy even the talents of Aristotle Onassis but in addition to these — for him — routine concerns he currently is facing another problem.

This springs from a federal indictment returned last Oct. 13 charging conspiracy to defraud the government in ship deals involving $18,000,000 made in the years following World War II.

The deals took place when United States law forbade the sale of surplus ships abroad.

It is agreed on all sides that in order to get possession of some of these ships, Onassis and others formed corporations in which a majority of the stock was held by Americans, but most or all of the money was put up by aliens.

The issue is more simply stated than settled, however, and the case is not expected to be ready for trial in less than a year (a closely similar case against Onassis' brother-in-law, Stavros Niarchos, has just been settled out of court).

While his equanimity seems undisturbed by the pending legal matter, Onassis occasionally gives the impression of having second thoughts about the wisdom of a more recent deal, his buying of the bank at Monte Carlo.

It was this move which sparked the interest of the world's newspapers and magazines and turned the spotlight on the publicity - shy financier.

Actually, Onassis never wanted to buy the bank, i.e. the world-famous Casino. All he wanted was to rent some office space conveniently near his chateau at Antibes, on the French Riviera.

The Winter Sporting Club, long vacant, looked like a good prospect; it belonged to the Casino. Onassis politely asked the directors to rent the place; they refused.

So he bought the Casino, the club and the rest of Monte Carlo that went with it, and threw the directors out.

Bike Riders Hurt Running Stop Sign

Two small Pontiac boys learned the consequences of reckless driving and failure to have a license for their bike Wednesday.

Roger Cook, 7, 927 N. Perry St., and Gary Harris, 7, 881 N. Perry, were treated for minor bruises and cuts at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after they ran a stop sign at Ivy and Nelson Sts. and collided with a car.

Witnesses and the driver, John E. Baxter, 19, of 571 Third St., said the boys, riding double, were weaving from side to side when they ran the sign. Pontiac Police confiscated the bicycle, owned by Cook, when they found it had no license.

Contact lenses were developed in Germany.

Judge Orders Boy, 16, to Get Long Curls Cut

BALTIMORE (AP) — The "drape-style" haircut of 16-year-old John Powell was transformed by court order yesterday into a crew cut similar to the one adorning the head of the officer who arrested him.

Patrolman Joseph Engle picked up young Powell to ask him what he was doing on a fire escape in the early morning hours.

When Powell appeared in court, Magistrate Reuben Caplan was too fascinated with the long temple locks which ended in ducktails at the back of the head to even hear the case.

"You look like a wild man," commented the judge. He told young Powell to get his hair cut "like Patrolman Engle's" and return.

When he returned, the judge inspected the job, then dismissed Powell.

Returns From Glacier

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Everest conqueror Sir Edmund Hillary, who last month was reported stricken with pneumonia on a remote Himalayan glacier, returned to civilization here yesterday. He appeared hale and hearty.

'Official' Segregation Awaited by Kentucky

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The State Board of Education has postponed any ban on segregation in Kentucky's public schools and instructed schools to operate through the next school year with the races divided.

The board said in a statement yesterday that it took the action because the U.S. Supreme Court has yet to issue final decrees on how and when its action banning segregation in the nation's public schools should be carried out.

The Columbia River is 1400 miles in length.

Make Card for Dad's Day

Wednesday we talked about an ashtray that you could make for Dad on his day, but how about making a card, too? You can buy nice cards at many stores, but if you make a card you can make it personal and even include a hobby.

I am sure you have your gift to Dad ready for this Sunday, but you will need a card to give with it. Cards can be made to fit your Dad, since you can make them yourself.

You will need some plain paper, either white or in a color, some cutouts, and a jar of paste. You may make your card in any size, but fold it in two. This makes an inside part where you can write a message.

The two cards shown will give you some idea of design. The letters may be cut from an advertisement or be lettered by you. Paste pictures which tell about one of Dad's hobbies. Make these in bright colors!

In the card on the left there is a fish cut out and pasted on, which would be fine if Dad likes to fish. Perhaps you would want to use a picture of golf clubs, gardening tools or a diving board.

Mrs. Silk Bakes Quick Bar Cookies

Homemaker Gives Family Recipe for Chinese Chews

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Bar cookies are even quicker than drop cookies. Mrs. Edward Silk contributes a family recipe for a different bar cookie, Chinese Chews. She says they keep very well.

Mrs. Silk adds that if you will flour the knife before cutting the cookies, you will never have trouble with the cookies sticking.

Mrs. Silk does a great deal of sewing for her three daughters and her three grandchildren. For years she has been on the council of the Fleur de Lis organization at her church. She also belongs to Guild 11, the guild that sponsors the annual Antique Show.

CHINESE CHEWS
By Mrs. Edward Silk

1 cup dates
¾ cup brown sugar
⅔ cup flour
1½ tablespoons milk
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup coconut
½ cup walnuts
1 egg
1 teaspoon baking powder

Beat egg well with milk. Blend all the other ingredients into this mixture. Pour into greased pan. Bake in 325-degree oven until brown. Cut into bars while hot, using a floured knife.

About one-half the yearly egg production in the U. S. is laid from March thru June.

Worker's Humming Is Annoying

Others in the Office Ask How to Break Girl's Bad Habit

By EMILY POST

An annoying situation is described in the following letter: "There is a girl working in our office who hums continually all day long. It's not actually a tune but more like a low moan. She apparently doesn't realize that her voice carries and is disturbing all of those around her.

"She is a very sensitive person and we do not know how to go about telling her about this without offending her. Have you any suggestions?"

Answer: Whichever one of you knows her best could very easily say light-heartedly, "Look here, Mary dear, I'm sure you don't realize it, but your humming is heard more than you know and is really disturbing to several who have sharp hearing."

Dear Mrs. Post: I am chairman of a nominating committee for our organization and will have to announce the new candidates for office at our next meeting.

Do I present the members as Mrs. Anne Smith or Mrs. John Smith, or just Anne Smith. If the member is unmarried, do I say Miss Mary Jones or just Mary Jones?

Answer: You present a married member as Mrs. John Smith. You present an unmarried woman as Miss Mary Jones.

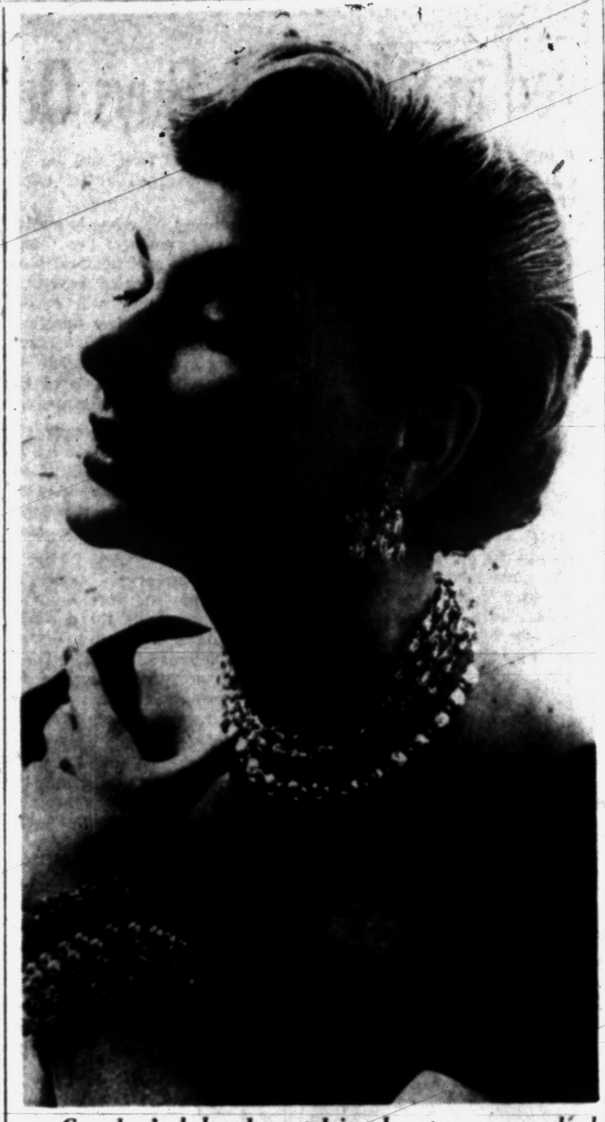

Dear Mrs. Post: Is there anything incorrect in our exchanging dances with friends who are not in our party? I say there is no harm in this as long as they are people we know, but certain others feel dancing should be confined to one's own group.

Answer: You might very well dance briefly with a friend or two not in your party. But you certainly should not do this if your doing so could be spoiling the pleasure of anyone at your own table.

Bra-Slip Is Cool

Among the various types of lingerie you can buy this summer, probably none will prove more comfortable and figure-flattering than a strapless bra-slip in cool cotton or dacron. Look for one that has regular bra cup sizes, fits smoothly across diaphragm.

Grandma's beloved crystal jewelry stages a comeback as one firm teams the clear, dainty bead with pearls for wear this summer and all year 'round. The multi-faceted crystal beads, strung on chains of finely wrought gold metal, are used in a multiple-strand choker and bracelet and showerdrop earrings.

IF large bosom—

Above-bosom loose pleats emphasize the large bust, but the well darted shirtwaist with narrow self belt, minimize.

Mrs. L. B.—As the bride's mother choose lace, shirtwaist styling, wide decollete with draped sleeves to flatter large upper arm. The fullness at hemline, too, will balance your top-heavy, figure. In fact, avoid the narrow hemline at all times.

Let Cut Flowers Stand in Hot Water

Before arranging cut flowers allow them to stand for a couple of hours in hot water (bathtub temperature) with a piece of paper wrapped around the blossoms.

The paper prevents rapid air movement away from the flowers and reduces loss of water. Hot water moves easier and faster in the stems than does cold.

Nylon Jersey Dainty

Perfect for partying on summer and fall evenings are black nylon jersey dresses. Featuring low-dipped backs and dainty tucks, they are among the most exciting late-day fashions to come forth.

Forest fires consume 14 per cent of the wood growth in southern forests each year, exceeding the total amount which is cut for pulpwood.

Mom Fears for Dancing Daughter

But Girl Can Build Successful Career With Real Talent

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"My daughter wants to be a dancer," a mother writes me. "She is 12 and has been studying dancing and ballet practically ever since she could walk.

"She has always loved it; in fact, we have to force her to pay attention to her other studies because dancing is all she can think of.

"But now we are beginning to get worried, because dancing is a terrible career. The chances of getting to the top are nil, everybody says.

"Doris won't hear of anything else, though, and the teacher does say she has great talent.

"But what kind of life will she have? What kind of people will she meet? And how can she hope to make a living at it?"

First of all, if Doris loves dancing that much she will never succeed in any other career. So don't think, as you might be tempted to, that if you could talk her into studying to be a secretary, for instance, she would have "security."

She will hate it so that she will never do it well, and thus never have security or be a success. Moreover, such a forced career would probably permanently embitter her and ruin her whole personality.

Second, any career is a good career for the right person. You don't have to worry about the odds or the average potentials when the girl has real talent.

Odds and averages are for the average person entering a field. The truly gifted make their own odds.

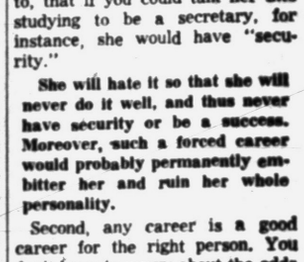

Since she has been at it for years and her teacher considers her outstanding, Doris will make her own way.

Third, she will meet all kinds of people in any career. Most dancers live more sensible lives than most secretaries. A dancer must watch her health and practice great self-discipline.

Fourth, I suggest that you read the wonderful book by George Balanchine called "Complete Stories of the Great Ballets."

It has an excellent chapter on "Careers in Ballet" but more than that, it will give you great information and insight into the field, which will reassure you and also make you better able to understand Doris's love for it.

EASY REDUCING

science now helps you take off your fat while you eat the foods you choose

Do you like sweets, cake, butter, gravy, potatoes? Have you tried one thing after another to reduce, spent dollar after dollar for pills and tablets and in spite of everything you've tried you're still too fat? Well, be as skeptical as you like, but NOW, right NOW, there's a wonderful new kind of capsule that helps you take off pounds and inches of ugly fat safely, quickly, and so much easier you hardly know what's happening. You don't suffer starvation dieting, hunger, you take no drugs, you don't exercise. In fact, you don't even diet one bit more than you want to, because you automatically eat less and here's why . . .

counteracts hunger

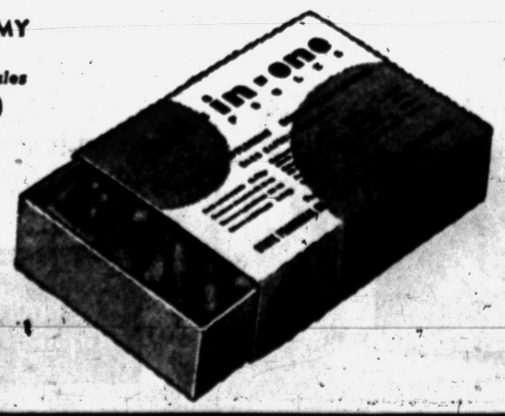

Just recently a well known scientist perfected a new tiny capsule that combines not one but ALL THE RECOGNIZED proven aids to reducing. It combines the vitamins and minerals often lost when cutting off fattening foods containing these needed vitamins and minerals. It combines the vegetable cellulose that has no calories yet expands when it absorbs water thereby helping give the feeling of a full contented stomach. In fact these tiny capsules are so packed with vitamins and minerals, protein and non-caloric filling food, they actually equal and exceed many a meal.

fat goes first

You'll be surprised at the fat you lose the first week, the inches that disappear the first month. No hunger, no strict dieting, no drugs, no exercise. And the cost is absolutely nothing unless you grow more slim, more youthful looking, more active and enjoy better health.

Make Card for Dad's Day

Wednesday we talked about an ashtray that you could make for Dad on his day, but how about making a card, too? You can buy nice cards at many stores, but if you make a card you can make it personal and even include a hobby.

I am sure you have your gift to Dad ready for this Sunday, but you will need a card to give with it. Cards can be made to fit your Dad, since you can make them yourself.

You will need some plain paper, either white or in a color, some cutouts, and a jar of paste. You may make your card in any size, but fold it in two. This makes an inside part where you can write a message.

The two cards shown will give you some idea of design. The letters may be cut from an advertisement or be lettered by you. Paste pictures which tell about one of Dad's hobbies. Make these in bright colors!

In the card on the left there is a fish cut out and pasted on, which would be fine if Dad likes to fish. Perhaps you would want to use a picture of golf clubs, gardening tools or a diving board.

Mrs. Silk Bakes Quick Bar Cookies

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Bar cookies are even quicker than drop cookies. Mrs. Edward Silk contributes a family recipe for a different bar cookie, Chinese Chews. She says they keep very well.

Mrs. Silk adds that if you will flour the knife before cutting the cookies, you will never have trouble with the cookies sticking.

Mrs. Silk does a great deal of sewing for her three daughters and her three grandchildren. For years she has been on the council of the Fleur de Lis organization at her church. She also belongs to Guild 11, the guild that sponsors the annual Antique Show.

CHINESE CHEWS
By Mrs. Edward Silk

1 cup dates
¾ cup brown sugar
⅔ cup flour
1½ tablespoons milk
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup coconut
½ cup walnuts
1 egg
1 teaspoon baking powder

Beat egg well with milk. Blend all the other ingredients into this mixture. Pour into greased pan. Bake in 325-degree oven until brown. Cut into bars while hot, using a floured knife.

About one-half the yearly egg production in the U. S. is laid from March thru June.

Tip for Decorators

One way to achieve an interesting color scheme in a living room is to make a large painting the focal point and then borrow your decorating colors from it.

Worker's Humming Is Annoying

Others in the Office Ask How to Break Girl's Bad Habit

By EMILY POST

An annoying situation is described in the following letter: "There is a girl working in our office who hums continually all day long. It's not actually a tune but more like a low moan. She apparently doesn't realize that her voice carries and is disturbing all of those around her.

"She is a very sensitive person and we do not know how to go about telling her about this without offending her. Have you any suggestions?"

Answer: Whichever one of you knows her best could very easily say light-heartedly, "Look here, Mary dear, I'm sure you don't realize it, but your humming is heard more than you know and is really disturbing to several who have sharp hearing."

Dear Mrs. Post: I am chairman of a nominating committee for our organization and will have to announce the new candidates for office at our next meeting.

Do I present the members as Mrs. Anne Smith or Mrs. John Smith, or just Anne Smith. If the member is unmarried, do I say Miss Mary Jones or just Mary Jones?

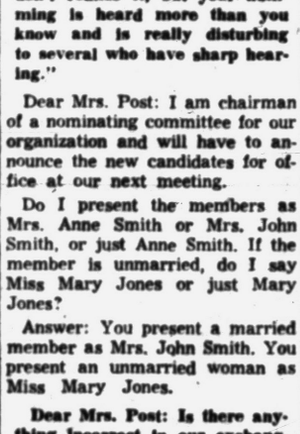

Answer: You present a married member as Mrs. John Smith. You present an unmarried woman as Miss Mary Jones.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is there anything incorrect in our exchanging dances with friends who are not in our party? I say there is no harm in this as long as they are people we know, but certain others feel dancing should be confined to one's own group.

Answer: You might very well dance briefly with a friend or two not in your party. But you certainly should not do this if your doing so could be spoiling the pleasure of anyone at your own table.

new safe All-in-One Capsule Discovery for

science now helps you take off your fat while you eat the foods you choose

Do you like sweets, cake, butter, gravy, potatoes? Have you tried one thing after another to reduce, spent dollar after dollar for pills and tablets and in spite of everything you've tried you're still too fat? Well, be as skeptical as you like, but NOW, right NOW, there's a wonderful new kind of capsule that helps you take off pounds and inches of ugly fat safely, quickly, and so much easier you hardly know what's happening. You don't suffer starvation dieting, hunger, you take no drugs, you don't exercise. In fact, you don't even diet one bit more than you want to, because you automatically eat less and here's why . . .

Just recently a well known scientist perfected a new tiny capsule that combines not one but ALL THE RECOGNIZED proven aids to reducing. It combines the vitamins and minerals often lost when cutting off fattening foods containing these needed vitamins and minerals. It combines the vegetable cellulose that has no calories yet expands when it absorbs water thereby helping give the feeling of a full contented stomach. In fact these tiny capsules are so packed with vitamins and minerals, protein and non-caloric filling food, they actually equal and exceed many a meal.

fat goes first

You'll be surprised at the fat you lose the first week, the inches that disappear the first month. No hunger, no strict dieting, no drugs, no exercise. And the cost is absolutely nothing unless you grow more slim, more youthful looking, more active and enjoy better health.

Mother Unsure of Her Own Value Cannot Trust Teenage Daughter

Girl Can Slow Down Too Ardent Beau

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've had two dates with Jim, and already he has made quite a few advances. I like him a lot and he's ideal husband material.

"But what can I do to sort of limit his love-making and yet keep dating him? Would you advise talking it over with him, or what?"

How is a boy to know how a girl feels about things unless she tells him? How is he to understand her sense of dignity and her deep-seated sentimental nature unless she explains herself.

Your new friendship with Jim is off to a fast start. His aggressively masculine mind sees nothing wrong in showing you at once how very much attracted to you he is. From his point of view, there's nothing to talk about. He wants to show you.

You can tell him quietly but happily that you don't have to be shown so soon in the game. Reasonableness in your attitude will help you put your point across. So first of all, line up your reasons. And that means analyzing your reactions.

How do you feel about him? How do you react to his nearness? How do you balance the physical against the sentimental elements in your relationship?

Put into words to yourself your evaluation of your own disposition, your reactions to his, and your hopes for the future of your friendship. Talk the thing out in detail with yourself. Understanding yourself will make it that much easier to make him understand you.

And save your ammunition to be dealt out piecemeal on successive occasions. Don't confront him with a carefully rehearsed speech that will take the wind out of his sails.

But by clue after clue let him assemble the puzzle that is your angle on things. That's not a cold rebuff, but a gentle holding-him-off while he gets better acquainted with you.

You can convince him, meanwhile, that there's more to your relationship than just the physical attraction you feel for each other. You can persuade him that one side of your relationship shouldn't be rushed to the detriment of the others.

You can't very well allow liberties on one date and refuse them the next. That would utterly confuse him.

You can't follow his lead eagerly on several occasions, then abruptly draw a line and insist on setting your own pace. He wouldn't understand. But you can gradually make him see how you feel, and why.

Has Wrong Sex Attitude

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Before Mrs. T.'s PTA meetings, child training experts often appear to extol the virtue of "trusting" the young. Deeply impressed by their reasonableness, Mrs. T. vows to remember to trust her children.

But two days later, when her older daughter comes home 30 minutes late from a date, Mrs. T. forgets her good intentions.

She cannot show trusting interest in what has happened to her. And her suspicions burst out in angry warnings of the evils that befall girls who make themselves "cheap" to boys.

This is because Mrs. T.'s reason is developed and her feelings are not. So they do not cooperate.

Her feelings have not grown one inch from her own vulnerable young evenings when she came home to warnings about "cheap" girls.

Somehow they convinced her that she had nothing to offer boys but sex. Having accepted this limitation of her value, she can't help imposing the same dreadful limitation upon Amy.

So, instead of exhorting Mrs. T. to "trust" her child, I want to beg her to consider herself and, for the sake of her own self-interest, to do something about these retarded feelings of hers.

For her idea of herself as a woman who has nothing to offer men but sex accounts for much of her dissatisfaction with her life. She has no suspicion whatever that she has grown up, married and borne children under its pernicious influence.

Yet this very morning her terror of losing sexual appeal for Mr. T. drove her to ask him hostile questions about his luncheon companions the previous day.

She's persuaded herself to accept Mr. T. as a husband who has nothing to offer but his ability to pay the bills. Whereas, of course, she also feels she has nothing to offer.

If Mrs. T. saw how her life is motivated by her bad sexual training's limitation of her, she would be flooded with joy and relief. In the release that would come to her, she might find the strength to seek and find her husband's understanding.

Out of that release, trust for Amy would flow from her in spontaneous gratitude.

As she reached out to her own man as a whole person, sure of her total value, she would not doubt that Amy could make her total value appreciated by the boy friend.

Do's, Don'ts for Applying Wallpaper

By HUBBARD COBB

People can and do become upset over all sorts of things. One of the most upsetting events is to decide you want to do something and then find out at the last minute it can't be done.

To help prevent this sort of thing occurring when you want to wallpaper a wall, we have pulled together a few facts on just what wallpaper can be applied over and what it can't.

Wallpaper can be applied over old wallpaper or oil paint provided that the old paper or paint is securely fastened to the wall.

It should not be applied over water thinned paints or over calcimine. The water in the paste might soften up the paint and cause all sorts of trouble.

Wallpaper can be applied over plaster walls and plasterboard just as long as they are solid and free from cracks or seams.

Wallpaper can also be applied over plywood walls but the plywood should first be covered with a lightweight felt. This is necessary to prevent the water in the wallpaper paste raising the wood grain in the plywood which might give the paper a rough sort of texture.

You can apply wallpaper over insulating board but it should not be applied over the seams because it eventually will crack along this point.

The usual treatment is to paper each panel of insulating board and then use decorative strips of molding over the joints. This can produce a very nice overall effect.

Never apply wallpaper directly over mansonry such as brick or concrete for should the masonry become damp either through leakage or through condensation you are going to be in for a lot of troubles.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Memory Gardens Soothe Spirit on Hot, Sticky Day

Handy to have on tap and almost as good as air-conditioning on a hot, sticky day is a memory garden.

This is the sweetest-smelling week of the whole year in one of my favorite such retreats. There a little path runs through white birch trees past a tiny tool house covered with pink and white climbing roses. On the hill in back are banks of white and yellow honeysuckle nearly 20 feet high.

MISS McBRIDE

Grapes are in bloom on an arbor nearby and the combined fragrance of grape, roses and honeysuckle beats anything I've ever known except maybe the scent of a field of white clover mingled with the smell of the honeysuckle that covered the porch I sat on entertaining beaux the summer I was 18.

Another enchanted June garden I knew, right in the heart of the city, was taken by the flower-loving owner everywhere she went. She moved lilacs and crab apple trees from one city to another by truck and made the truckmen telephone regularly so she could be sure the plants were doing all right on the journey.

Most distinguished inhabitants of this garden were some lilies that have been handed down in the family since the Crusades and have traveled all over the world. There were also deep purple petunias, roses from down South, sweet williams, a border of nasturtiums, raspberry bushes, pansies and a lot of blue and white iris.

I remember Frances' Connecticut spring garden with special affection because it was there I sat one spring day for an hour and a half trying to see a purple tulip bud open.

During the weekend all the dwarf irises popped out and the fragile lady tulip. There were strawberries in blossom and creeping veronica like a microscopic seashell with half the petals half blue, half white.

I crushed sweet fern underfoot and sniffed happily, admired the faint silver trickle of a small stream, and explored the small cave at the top of the rocks. Phoebes called from the hill, and there were fat gold and black bumblebees and yellow golden butterflies dancing lazily in the caressing breeze.

Seems as if a person with plenty of fragrant, remembered gardens in his head could never be really lonely.

Wisconsin's state parks and forests were visited by five million people last year.

Reflecting Signs Newest, Safest Aid to Drivers

There may be "nothing new under the sun," but there is certainly something new under the moon. It's the new type of reflectorized red stop sign that is going up over the country.

I have seen a lot of these red stop signs in my recent motoring trips and have been impressed by the greater nighttime visibility which they afford.

Road tests indicate that even on the darkest night they can be seen at relatively long distances with even low beam headlights.

These red stop signs are made of reflectorized sheeting which utilizes the approaching car's own lights as a source of illumination.

At present, nine states have officially adopted red stop signs as their standard for the entire state, replacing the older yellow, non-refecting signs.

These states are South Dakota, Washington, Florida, Oregon, Louisiana, Indiana, Connecticut, Ohio, and Wyoming. Such cities as Chicago, New York, Baltimore, Tulsa, San Antonio, New Orleans and El Paso have also adopted them.

The significance of these new signs is evident. If motorists cannot see signs in time, they do not stop for them.

According to the National Safety Council's figures on accidents, collisions between two motor vehicles at intersections account for 11 per cent of all traffic fatalities, and for 43 per cent of all accidents in cities.

Florida tests prove that only from 15 to 20 per cent of all motorists came to a full stop for the old-style yellow and black signs, but that observance jumped to between 50 and 60 per cent when red signs glowed.

It is estimate there are 30,000 U. S. milk distributing companies and 35,000 plants for the processing of milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products.

Your Souvenirs Often Furnished by Nature—Free

Souvenir collecting is probably as old as travel itself. For centuries, Explorers and tourists have delighted in bringing back mementos from far places—some of them valuable, some at least useful, but many destined for the attic and eventually the trash can.

A good rule to follow in choosing suvenirs is to buy articles that are native to each vacation area — Indian jewelry in the Southwest, homespun fabric in the Smokey Mountains, tooled leather in Texas, woodenware in New England, ceramics in Ohio and California.

Not all souvenir collecting costs money. Some of the best things—such as interesting driftwood, decorative grasses, and countless other mementos are furnished free by Mother Nature.

If you find interesting recipes that are typical of the part of the country you're visiting, jot them down and take them home.

Some regional dishes call for ingredients that can only be obtained locally. So much the better. Buy the ingredients on your trip, and after you get home you can entertain dinner guests with truly distinctive dishes.

Many gardeners use their trips to collect plants indigenous to their vacation regions. Some may be found growing wild. Others can be bought inexpensively at nurseries.

Thus the traveler not only adds to his garden, but also enjoys a personal souvenir to remind him of his trip in succeeding years.

Dorothy Hayes and Peter S. Hoffman Are Married

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BIRMINGHAM — At a pretty wedding Thursday evening at 7:30 in the Bushnell Congregational Church in Detroit, Dorothy Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hayes of Lathrup boulevard, became the bride of Peter Stroh Hoffman. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Hoffman of Aspen, Colo., who formerly lived in Birmingham.

The bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The heart-shaped neckline distinguished the fitted bodice, and the full skirt fell in a circular train. A lace Juliet cap held a fingertip veil and she carried gardenias and stephanotis.

Charlotte Bergman of Montclair, N. J., was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Lyn Conner of Wheeling, W. Va., Margaret Hamm of St. Catherines, Vt., and Suzanne Jarvis of Birmingham.

They all wore waltz-length frocks of aqua silk organdy fashioned with inserted shirred self-material and very full skirts. Their flowers were white and yellow daisies.

William Wolf of Detroit was best man. Ushers were Richard Austin, "Hap" Rosborough and Robert Walmsley.

A reception was given at Botsford Inn.

For the wedding trip to Banff and Lake Louise the bride wore a biege linen suit with white accessories.

They will stop off to see the senior Hoffmans on their way back to Detroit where they will live until fall when they will go to Hanover, Vt.

Rev. Ryan Addresses Graduates

Eastern Junior Has Commencement

"The streets of life are just as beautiful as you make them," said the Rev. Herbert Ryan in his talk before the graduation class of Eastern Junior High School Thursday morning.

Benn Johnson introduced the speaker and the speech of appreciation was delivered by Joy Notch. Pat Clark gave the welcoming address.

"The ABC's of our days at Eastern" was given by Larry Barton as he reviewed the class activities over the past three years.

Recognition of the outstanding graduates was given by Tom Conley.

Francis Staley, principal, extended his congratulations, giving the students a three-fold formula to aid them in future success. He suggested the development of a real desire for knowledge; the expending of an untiring effort in all undertakings and he urged students to lend themselves to worthwhile service.

A class gift was presented by Charlene Sund and accepted for the school by Richard Elsholz.

The 9A ensemble directed by Connie Kolb and the 9A boys glee club presented vocal selections. A "Farewell to Eastern" was given by Henrietta Neidrick and the program concluded with the entire audience joining in Eastern's loyalty song, "Maroon and Gray."

SHELDON GILBERT

At the recent graduation exercises at Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, Shelden Gene Gilbert, son of the Jack Gilberts of South Marshall street, received a bachelor of science degree in pharmacy.

James Pappins to Make Their Home in Wayne

Planning to reside at Wayne are Mr. and Mrs. James F. Pappin who were married Saturday at Ascension Lutheran Church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Garver. The bride, the former Jeannine Barbara Moran, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Moran of Keego Harbor and Pontiac. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Pappin of Greenville.

For the ceremony the bride wore a gown of tulle over taffeta with a fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

The new Mrs. Pappin, a graduate of Alma College, will teach in Wayne in the fall. James is a student at the University of Michigan Medical School.

Shower Given for Marja Wesp

Marja Wesp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wesp of West Rundell street, was honored at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening at the Rowley street home of Mrs. Curtis Wilborne. Jane Dorrough assisted the hostess.

Senate Passes $29 Billion Bill

Defense Appropriations Measure Now Goes to Conference Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Working against a July 1 money deadline, the Senate was over its biggest hurdle today with approval of a $29,216,584,486 appropriation for the nation's defense during the fiscal year starting next month.

The annual money bill for the Army, Navy, Air Force and Defense Department went through on a voice vote late yesterday after the 50-38 defeat of a Democratic drive to give the Army another 350 million dollars. The Democratic move was aimed at preventing a planned cutback of two Army divisions.

The bill now goes to a Senate-House conference committee to iron out a number of differences between the Senate and House-passed versions.

The defense measure is by far the largest, moneywise, of the yearly appropriations bills Congress must vote to run the government. Of the 29 billion dollars okayed by the Senate, approximately 11 billions are earmarked for the Air Force, 10 billions for the Navy, 7½ billions for the Army, and the remainder for the Defense Department and related activities.

The total is nearly a billion dollars below President Eisenhower's request and more than five billions below what Congress okayed last year.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), who led the bill through debate, said in an interview today two amendments adopted on the Senate floor are likely to get a going over in Senate-House conference.

One of these, authored by Sen. Byrd (D-Va), boosted the Senate bill's total 355 million dollars by adding that much in Defense Department-controlled foreign credits not previously included in the dollar figure. That brought the Senate's total to about a half billion dollars above the House amount.

Another amendment, offered by Sen. Williams (R-Del) with strong support of Southerners, would bar award of defense contracts as a means of relieving unemployment in hard-hit areas.

Idaho and Montana are separated by the Continental divide which also extends through parts of Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico.

Bob Considine Says:

Don't Bet on Snead to Win Open, 'Time's' Hexed Him

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show . . .

Who won the Army-McCarthy smearings? There is bound to be a dispute over the winner's identity for weeks to come. The eventual report will hardly give the answer.

No individual involved was demolished. The President still has supreme confidence in Army Secretary Stevens. McCarthy followers are more positive than ever that he is a knight in simonized armor. We will not know how much the GOP was hurt, if at all, until November.

History, I suspect will regard the whole thing as not a complete waste. A few million Americans who had forgotten or never knew that the U. S. government is composed of three equal and jealously independent branches — the executive, legislative and judicial—certainly now know it. It has been an instructive period, too. Millions who thought they knew the meaning of "point of order" are no longer certain.

This is as good a time as any to try to "lay off" any bets you might have on Sam Snead to win the U. S. Open. Time magazine has put him on the cover of its current edition. The magazine has hexed countless athletes by anchoring them on the cover. Recently, apparently with no more bipeds to conquer, Time put Native Dancer's face on front. The beast immediately came down with a "bruised digital cushion with a secondary inflammation of the bursae between the coffin bone and the navicular bone."

As of now, Snead has more chance of being struck by a 30-ton meteorite than he has of winning the Open.

The Eisenhower administration's foreign aid program is bigger than Mr. Truman's, which in turn was bigger than Mr. Roosevelt's. The Republicans, once a repository of isolationism, delivered $6,400,000,000 in goods, services and transfers of cash to foreign countries in 1953 — about 25 per cent more than Truman's last year.

Koreans are in desperate need of the $10,000,000 and 600 freight car loads of materials and equipment now being raised by the American-Korean Foundation for the following stunning reasons:

1. — In the course of the Korean War, more than 500,000 homes were destroyed and another half million damaged.

2. — More than 2,000,000 Koreans were killed by bullets, bombs, exposure or disease.

3. — Some 9,000,000 were made homeless or forced into the roads.

4. — Of the nation's hospitals, 80 per cent were ruined.

5.—More than 100,000 children lost both parents.

A buck goes further in Korea than any other place on earth these days. Even a deductible buck. The foundation's headquarters — 270 Park Ave., NYC.

U. of M. Prof Defeats Soviet Chess Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—Donald Byrne, a 24-year-old University of Michigan instructor, chalked up America's first victory in the Soviet-U.S. chess tournament by beating the champion of Russia.

He defeated Yuri Auerbach in 59 moves.

Byrne's brother Robert, 26, fought a losing battle with Alexander Kotov at a neighboring table in a banquet room at the Hotel Roosevelt.

The Russians are far ahead in points, 6-2. In the eight first-round games, they won five, drew two and lost one.

The next round starts tomorrow night.

General Motors Fires Flint Man

Says Committeeman Incited Plant Workers to Attack Zarichny

FLINT (INS) — General Motors Corporation announced yesterday it has fired a CIO-United Auto Workers committeeman who incited Chevrolet employes to banish a fellow worker alleged to have engaged in Communist activities.

The committeeman, Harold Green, also has been suspended from his union duties with Chevrolet local 659.

Green's discharge followed a demonstration Wednesday at the Chevrolet engine plane in Flint when a mob of angry workers surrounded 27-year-old James Zarichny, beat him and forced him to leave the grounds.

Zarichny was expelled from Michigan State College in 1948, several months after he had been convicted of contempt of the state senate for refusing to tell a senate investigating committee whether he was a member of the Communist party.

Robert Carter, UAW regional director said Green admitted passing out leaflets and in other ways encouraging the workers to rise up against Zarichny.

Russia and Iran Sign Big Barter Contract

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Russia and Iran have signed a new barter agreement sharply stepping up Soviet shipments of industrial equipment and durable goods.

In the new pact — effective May 1, 1954, through March 31, 1955—Russia pledges to send 68 million rials worth of agricultural machinery to Iran, plus 20 million rials worth of electrical equipment. Iran will send fish, lead and tin, ore, skins and other products.

In last year's pact the total such shipment reached only 32 million rials. The rial's official rate is 32.5 to the dollar.

Ol' Girl Does Dance, Everybody Arrested

BALTIMORE (AP)—A flying squad of 19 policemen early today raided the Oasis night club, Baltimore's most famous night spot to out-of-towners, and arrested everyone in the place, including the orchestra and patrons.

Lt. Joseph Byrne, vice squad chief, said he acted on complaints there were nude women in some of the acts. "We found them," he said.

Police used a patrol wagon shuttle service to haul an estimated 200 persons to central police station.

As she climbed in the wagon, one blonde entertainer said in a complaining voice: "Why, it was just a little ole girl doin' a little ole dance."

West Berlin Is Quiet on Riot Anniversary

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin got through the first anniversary of the June 17 anti-Communist workers rebellion in East Germany without a major incident, police noted with satisfaction today.

One outburst of hot tempers left three injured at the Western sectors' rally called to commemorate the uprising in the East. The crowd pummeled six Communist hecklers who were rescued by flying squads of police.

City authorities said only three of the six needed hospital treatment. Then they were sent home. Thirty men were held briefly for questioning, scolded and also released.

There were no incidents on the East-West frontier. East Berlin's Communist party newspaper, Neues Deutschland, boasted that the East Zone population "worked harder than ever to increase production" in an effort to erase the memory of the date.

Mrs. Robinson Jr. to File for Support

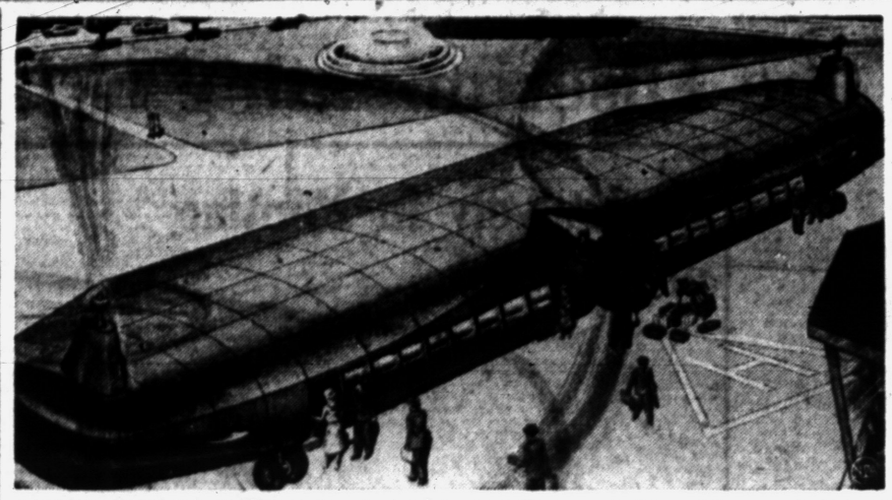

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An attorney for Mrs. Edward G. Robinson Jr. says she will file a separate maintenance suit today against the son of the actor.

He said the former Frances Chisholm, 23, will ask "a reasonable amount of support" for herself and their 10-month-old daughter. Her husband is 21.

The couple met as students at a New York drama school. Their 1952 Tijuana marriage led to the actor's stopping his son's $70-a-week allowance. The elder Robinson gave his son a new car two months later.

Atty. S. S. Hahn said the actor and his wife have done all they could to save their son's marriage and hope there may be a reconciliation.

"FLYING HARMONICA"—This designer's sketch, looking like a giant harmonica, shows Bell Aircraft Corporation's projected "flying wing" helicopter, now in preliminary design stages at the firm's Fort Worth, Tex., plant. The craft, a straight, flat wing, with just a bit of a nose, represents an entirely new concept of rotor-wing craft. The wing has a rotor mounted on each tip. It has two piston engines, convertible to gas turbines, either one of which can fly the wing adequately. Thickness of the wing permits completely retractable landing gear and interior placement of engines without external nacelles. All passengers will have front-facing seats with forward view. The Bell wing's speed has not been announced, except that it will exceed that of the latest model helicopters. Early models are expected to carry 20 to 50 passengers.

Deputies Wonder Who Belongs to Hypo Needles

Oakland County sheriff's deputies, it appears, have recovered some property taken in a breakin, but they have no breakin which corresponds to the stolen goods.

Deputies Stephen Hubbell and William Smith were called to South boulevard near Adams road by the parents of three Avon Township youths who found 300 to 400 hypodermic needles alongside the road as they returned from swimming.

Assisted by Troy Township Police the deputies gathered up the needles and are holding them now at the Oakland County Jail until someone comes up with the breakin.

Other law agencies in the state have joined the search for the missing breakin, believed to be a drug store or medical supply house.

Is Red Paper Writer Eligible for Council?

DETROIT (AP) — The candidacy of William Allan for a City Council post has created a tough legal problem.

Allan, correspondent for the Communist Daily Worker, has been convicted of violating the Smith Act by conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government by force and violence. He now is free on bond pending an appeal.

Michigan's Trucks Act bars subversives from running for office. But the constitutionality of that act now is before the courts.

So the City Election Commission has asked for legal advice as to whether Allan's name can be placed on the ballot.

$8 Room Bill Nothing; but the Phone Bill Hurts

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (AP)—Two guests at the Senator Hotel checked out by a rear window yesterday.

Their default of payment of the $8 room bill didn't bother Night Manager William Holved very much.

It was the unpaid $55 bill for a 1,000-mile overseas telephone call to Nassau in the British West Indies that rankled, he told police.

Cold Ham Turns Into Store Money, Cash Into Steak

OMAHA (AP) — Mrs. Joseph O. Hebenstreit was thinking of a boiled ham sandwich when she opened a meat package from her grocery store.

What she found in the package was the store's bank deposit.

How the bundle of checks and $31 cash got wrapped up as boiled ham nobody knows — but anyway Mrs. Hebenstreit ate steak instead of boiled ham. The grocer gave her two choice steaks

O-JIB-WA BITTERS DID IT AGAIN

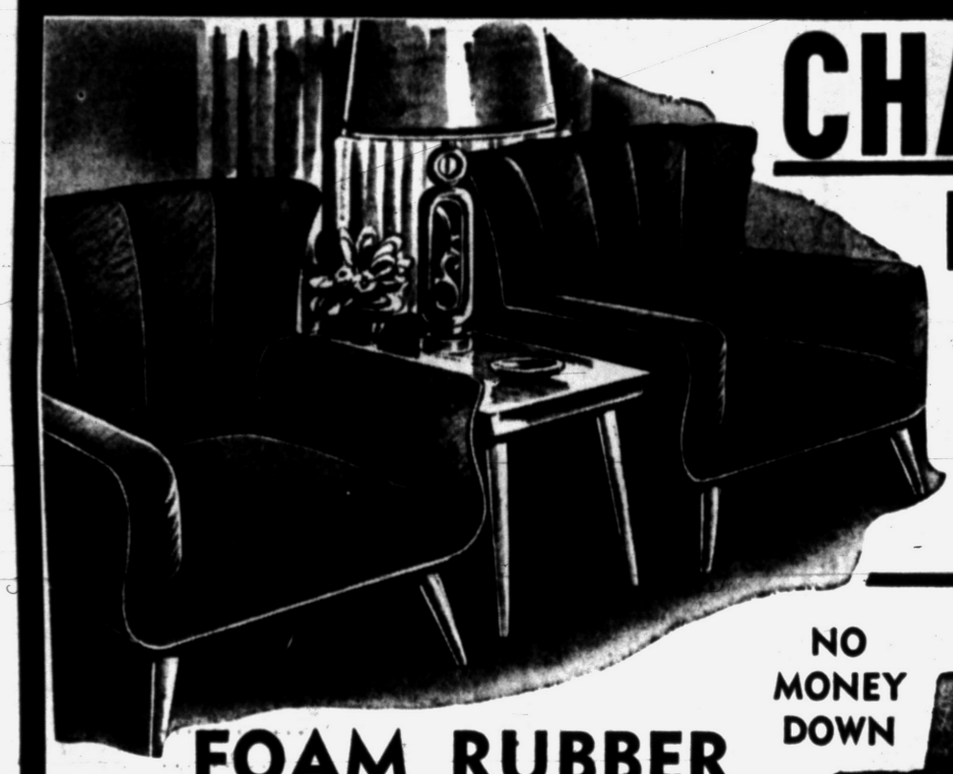

DID WHAT? Brought results to a sufferer of rheumatism and arthritis when everything else had failed. The following statement of Mr. L. C. MacLangs, 407 Sinclair Ave. N.E., Grand Rapids, is typical of the thousands received by us in our 40 years as Michigan's leading medicine.

L. C. MacLangs

"Until 18 months ago, I had always enjoyed good health. Then one morning, I woke up suffering from rheumatism and arthritis which seemed to have struck me overnight. It was mostly in my hips, legs and right shoulder, and it's hard to realize the terrible pains I suffered. It was all but impossible to get up or down the stairs, and I could get around only with the use of a cane. Often my muscles seemed to freeze up and I couldn't take a step without stumbling. My hip would also catch and every move I made was with intense pain. I had poor circulation too, and my toes would cramp up and I couldn't even move my ankles. Besides all this, my right shoulder hurt pretty bad, and you can't imagine the motions I went through in lifting my arm to shave. After 6 months of trying this and that, and about everything, without results, I decided to give O-JIB-WA BITTERS a chance. My two daughters who are nurses, were sure amazed when in a month, I was greatly improved, and now I am as good as ever thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS. It is certainly a great medicine, and I still take it once in awhile for a tonic. Because it helped me after everything else I tried failed, I have told many people about O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and they also report good results."

STARLET DUE HERE — Ruth Hampton, Hollywood starlet featured in "Johnny Dark," film coming to the Strand Theater next week, will be at the big rodeo being held in Wisner Stadium this weekend. Miss Hampton will award the rodeo prizes to be given at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at the Elks-sponsored event.

Film Starlet Ruth Hampton in Pontiac This Weekend

Starlet Ruth Hampton is coming to Pontiac this weekend for two special reasons.

First, she's been asked to award prizes at the big Elks-sponsored Rodeo being held Friday through Sunday at Wisner Stadium. And secondly, she'll be here in connection with her role in the Universal-International picture "Johnny Dark," scheduled to open Saturday, June 26 at the Strand Theater.

Miss Hampton, a runner-up in the Miss Universe Pageant staged in Long Beach in 1952! has been winning beauty contests since she was a year old. She has amassed a total of 40 such titles, or the largest number ever awarded an American beauty.

Before signing a long term contract with U-I Studios she was a Conover model and a cover girl.

Miss Hampton will give the Rodeo awards at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. 62 Another star to be present at the big show will be Lash laRue, TV and movie star who is currently in the film "Black Horse Canyon."

The Rodeo, sponsored by Pontiac Elks Lodge 810, offers five shows. The first one will be at 8:15 Friday, with Saturday and Sunday matines starting at 2:30 p.m. There will also be shows at 8:15 Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Tom Gillotte, Pontiac attorney is general chairman for the event and Dick Ryan is in charge of publicity. Tickets are on sale at Griff's Grill.

Thieves Take Time While Robbing Pair

BOSTON (AP)—Four masked gunmen invaded a Brighton district apartment last night, bound a husband and wife, enjoyed the Marciano-Charles fight on radio, ate a snack, drank liquor and then carted off almost $10,000 worth of antiques and silverware.

While the four gunmen had the run of the apartment for some three hours, Alex Levkoff, 40, his wife, Selma, 36, lay gagged and bound with belts, drapery cords and sheets.

The Levkoffs said the men warned them they would get shot if they made any moves.

French Group Against European Army Treaty

PARIS (AP)—The national defense committee of the French Assembly adopted a report today disapproving the European army treaty. The vote was 29-13. Among those voting against EDC were four Socialist deputies, who risked party discipline.

The unfavorable report was presented by Gen. Pierre Koenig, a member of the Social Republican party, made up of followers of Gen. Charles DeGaulle.

2 Mail Deliveries Daily 'Dead Issue'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Charles E. Puskar, secretary of the National Assn. of postmasters, says two daily mail deliveries in residential areas is a "dead issue."

Puskar, postmaster at Imperial, Pa., made the statement in an interview here yesterday while attending the annual meeting of the Missouri chapter of the postmasters association.

"Postmasters have received very, very few requests for twice-a-day deliveries," Puskar said, "after patrons found they get as good service from once-a-day delivery."

Old State Law Brings Warning to Rag Sellers

LANSING (UP)—Rags caused an inter-state squabble this week.

State marketing enforcement officials said today the Northwestern Wiping Company of Duluth, Minn., has been warned it is violating a 108-year-old Michigan law by selling wiping rags in Michigan by the gross weight instead of net weight.

Miles A. Nelson, chief ot the State Marketing Enforcement Division, said Michigan garage owners have been getting the short end of a 32-pound difference resulting from the difference in standards.

Divorces Allan Jones After 18 Wedded Years

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Irene Hervey divorced singer Allan Jones yesterday after 18 years of marriage.

She sobbed after testifying their separation last April in San Francisco "was a real shock to me" and: "He told me he didn't love me any more and that he wanted to live his own life and live alone."

Plague of Moths Alerts Residents

Voracious Eaters Strip Leaves as Caterpillars, Emerge Late in July

By HANS H. HAUGARD
Assistant County Ag. Agent

The publicity given recently to the Gypsy moth infestation in the East Lansing area has awakened the public to the damage that can be caused by this destructive insect. Oakland County residents should be on the lookout for this destroyer.

Shade, fruit, and woodland trees are stripped of their leaves during June and July by the small, flattened, pale-brown caterpillars with long tufts of stiff brown and yellow hairs projecting from the sides of their body.

The caterpillars are about two inches long when full grown. They can easily be distinguished from the ordinary tent caterpillar by their peculiar markings.

The caterpillar is pale-brown — the color of chamois skin — and has spots of blue and red. These spots or tubercles are arranged in two rows down the back. The first five paris are blue followed by six pairs of red.

The young caterpillars are voracious feeders. They destroy practically all kinds of foliage including evergreens. These worms become adult during the first half of July and spin a very loose light cocoon on the trunk of the tree and other nearby objects.

Within the cocoon they change to a dark-brown pupal stage. The moths begin to emerge during the latter part of July. The males are dark-brown in color with small bodies and are strong fliers.

The female moth is light-buff in color with irregular dark markings on the wings. She is a very heavy-bodied insect and is only able to flutter along the ground and cannot travel through the air by sustained flight.

After mating the female lays her eggs on the underside of stones, on buildings, on trunks of trees, or anywhere that offers some protection. When the larvae hatch they are very light and are equipped with hollow hairs, thus they are wind-blown for miles.

An infestation of this injurious insect could cost millions. Be on the lookout and report any found either to the parks and recreation commission, district forester, conservation officer, or extension agent.

This Week's Garden Tips for the Area

Spray hollyhocks and delphinium with sulphur or Bordeaux mixture on a definite schedule to prevent fungus invasions.

For a steady supply of vegetables, make second plantings of beets, carrots, bush beans, and for a larger harvest, tomato vines and pepper plants may still be transplanted into the garden.

Dahlias can still be planted—and put stakes in at the same time as the tubers.

Even if the garden does look messy as the foliage of the spring bulbs dies down, resist the temptation to cut the leaves until they are brown and dead.

The bulbs benefit from a feeding of bonemeal or a balanced garden fertilizer. Annuals can and should be planted over the bulbs in the beds.

Take some seeds of plants you like — but don't expect them to reproduce true to the parent's color. It is fun to superintend the growth of a plant from seed to harvest, but if it is special color and variety you seek, only purchased seeds can guarantee a desired effect.

Farm Editor Appointed Class C Bank Director

FARM EDIOTIR

C. S. Young, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, has announced the appointment of J. Stuart Russell, farm editor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune as a Class C director of the bank.

Russell will fill an unexpired term ending Dec. 31, 1956.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—Which kind of cabbage is recommended for the novice home gardener?

A—The soft - headed green type is best for the novice. One of the best is Golden Acre.

Q—Our peonies, planted three years ago, again fail to show flower buds. What causes this?

A—It may be caused by planting the roots too deeply. Setting the crowns an inch and a half to two inches deep is the accepted practice. Peonies planted in the shade seldom produce flowers.

Q—How often should daffodil bulbs be dug up and replanted?

A—When planted in an enriched, well - drained soil one need not disturb daffodil clumps for 10 years. We know of plantings in gravelly soil that have not been touched for 30 years.

Q—Does heavy cutting of blooms on old lilacs have any effect upon the health of the shrubs?

A—No. Cutting acts as pruning will. It encourages new growth.

Q—With limited space for vegetables what kinds can be planted with some assurance of success?

A—Short rows of lettuce, green beans, beets and carrots; a half dozen staked tomato plants, three peppers, miniature corn in three rows, two feet apart, with hills a foot apart in the rows; and midget cucumber and Uconn squash, which is a bush type.

Q—Will the addition of rusty nails to the soil about our roses make the reds more brilliant in color?

A—Probably not, since the health of the plant is the governing factor.

When should we stop cutting asparagus, and when should fertilizer be applied?

A—An eight - week cutting season is recommended for asparagus. Fertilize in midsummer with a complete fertilizer, using four pounds for each 100 square feet of bed.

Commercial Garden Plots in County Pay Big Money

By JOE HAAS

Commercial gardening in Oakland County is big business. In volume it undoubtedly exceeds a million dollars a year. It likewise gives employment to a great many people.

It runs from the hundreds of residents who have plots of less than an acre, and raise vegetables for the corner grocery, doing all of the work themselves, to tracts of 50 acres or more, operated with specialized machinery.

JOE HAAS

The smaller commercial gardens are quite generally a man and wife proposition. In fact one of these growers jokingly tells me that he never plants more than his wife can weed. Another opined that his spouse always was a better kneeler than himself.

Raising vegetables is a never ending battle with weeds and insects. Through modern cultivation methods, the growers now are waging combat on the weeds, with less back breaking work than in the past. Better facilities for keeping the weed seeds out of the ground also help a lot.

But there isn't a vegetable that grows that doesn't have an insect that thrives on it, and will destroy it if not halted in its voracious appetite. Even the onions, horseradish and peppers that bring tears to the human eyes are doted upon by insects that evidently have no tear glands.

Some of these pests are hard to fight. They are not like the potato bug that comes out into the open, even to laying its eggs where they can easily be destroyed, and the bug itself easily falling a victim to applications of Paris green or other poisons for the purpose.

The corn borer and tomato worm work in the interior of the plant stalk or otherwise, and cannot be detected until their victim begins to die, or its product is rendered useless. Spraying and otherwise fighting these pests form a large part of the gardener's daily work.

Besides the locally owned stores, the chains and supermarkets, also appreciate the value of fresh home-grown vegetables, the growers of which rarely have any trouble in finding a market for their product.

As the general farmer finds it more profitable to sell his acreage for industrial or residential purposes, many smaller intermingling tracts are being used for market gardening. This is especially true in the southeastern part of Oakland County, where the nearness of the metropolitan market supplies a quick outlet for what is raised.

Conspicuous among the larger commercial gardeners in the county is August Copenhagen, on Dequindre road in Troy Township. With the assistance of his family and other workers, he is making 60 acres yield a production probably not matched by any other agricultural enterprise in the county.

Despite the Michigan winters, his farm grows three crops of vegetables on the same ground every year. The first crop of onions, radishes, carrots, cabbage and other vegetables has already been converted into cash.

The second crop already is started on the same ground. That will have assumed its growth the latter part of next month, be harvested, and another crop started. That rich dark loam, which is enhanced by fertilizer, never gets a rest on the Copenhagen farm when the ground is not frozen.

On this farm, most everything is done by machinery. The crops are taken from the ground by machines, are washed in specially constructed machines, which do it as well as it could be done by hand, and are tied in bundles by a machine that does a better job than any human — and about five times as fast.

On the Copenhagen farm, and many others in the same area, rhubarb is considered to be a "reverse" crop. Its biggest production is during the winter when everything for the growing of other crops is frozen up.

The rhubarb plants are started out of doors during the summer. When freezing weather comes they are moved into specially constructed houses which are heated to the proper temperature. There the beautiful and tasteful pink and red stalks of rhubarb, which you buy in your grocery in the winter, grow.

It is not generally known that a small area on the Oakland and Macomb County line is the largest producer of rhubarb in the nation. Yet it goes out in carload lots.

The total production from Oakland County gardens is one of the largest items in its agricultural activity. It is the aggregate, running up from the individual effort to the mass output on the Copenhagen farm, where an ordinary day sees the setting out of 50,000 cabbage plants.

Local Insect Population Up

Chemicals Help Control Growing Bug Menace in Gardens

By WILLIAM AHO
Parks and Recreation Dept.

In the Pontiac area there has been a decided increase in the insect population. Examples of these are the aphids, juniper, webworm, sawflies, and juniper scale.

By the use of chemicals these insects can be controlled.

Aphids belong to the homoptera order of insects which transmit virus diseases of plants. When aphids feed on the juices of plants they give off honeydew which is rich in plant sugars.

Ants and flies feed on this substance and motorists complain about getting it on their cars. Most of these plant lice or aphids can be controlled by using 40 per cent nicotine sulfate in the correct proportions with soap and water. The soap in the solution tends to act as a spreader.

The juniper webworm is a small brown larva ½ inch in length that feed on the needles of junipers. The moth emerges in late spring and lays its eggs.

It is believed that there is only one generation in this area.

The webworm, webs the needles and tips of the juniper together and feeds on the surface of the needles. This causes the webbed portion of the evergreen to turn brown and die. The control for juniper webworm is arsenate of lead.

Sawflies in Pontiac have infected jack pine, Colorado blue spruce and Norway spruce. Currant and gooseberry bushes are also attacked by the currantworm which is one of the most common sawflies.

The larvae of several sawflies feed on the needles of pine. They are sometimes called false caterpillars because they look like hairless caterpillars. When full grown they're close to one inch in length and may be greenish or yellowish in color.

The larvae of the sawflies complete their growth in four to six weeks and spin cocoons as they enter the soil. The adults look like wasps and lay their eggs on the pine needles in slits.

To control sawflies spray with arsenate of lead while the larvae are young. If only a few larvae are found they may be hand picked.

Junipers infected with juniper scale have a grayish, yellowish appearance. The needles die as a result of this sucking scale insect.

In early June, it should be sprayed with one pound of 15 per cent parathion wettable powder for every 50 gallons of water. Spray again in August for the second generation.

The University club of New York City is believed to be the oldest organization of its kind functioning in the U. S. It was founded in 1865.

Stevenson Optimistic About Agricultural Economy

Adlai Addresses 1,500 at Davison

Democratic Party Head Sees Need to Improve Farm Price Props

—By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

DAVISON—Adlai Stevenson expressed confidence in the long-range "economy of American agriculture" at a farm meeting near here Thursday afternoon.

The titular head of the Democratic party was the principal speaker at a box lunch rally held at the Le Roy Lang farm, just outside Davison, attended by 1,500 persons.

"I have complete confidence in the long-term economy of American agriculture," Stevenson said.

"I think we can improve the system of price supports which we had under the Democratic administration," the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate continued.

"But I don't think the steps being taken now are exactly in the right direction."

Stevenson added:

"The problem isn't to get into office. The problem is to administer wisely when we are in office."

Stevenson addressed the outdoor crowd in his shirtsleeves and slipped on sunglasses when the sun came out from behind the over cast.

He called the meeting, held in 80 degree temperatures, "one of the most pleasant I have ever attended. I'm not running for anything and I don't want any votes."

Stevenson echoed Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who preceded him to the speaker's stand, in calling for an understanding between farmers and city folk so policies of mutual benefit can be worked out.

Williams said:

"It is vitally important for the people on farms and the people in cities to understand there is a mutual inter-dependence (in the economy) so we can write policies in Michigan and national policies that will be right for all."

"If the farmer is in difficulty, then all of Main street is in trouble," Williams said.

Williams likened the city worker's unemployment compensation to the farm price supports given his country brother.

Former Senator Blair Moody, who is seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination in August, also was a member of the party, but did not speak.

Williams was introduced by Neil Staebler, Democratic state central committee chairman. Other speakers included James Barkey, Genessee County Democratic chairman; Ray Anderson of Mesick, a member of the Michigan Agricultural Commission, and Mrs. Carl Brodbeck of Lake Odessa, a farm housewife.

Guernsey Cow Produces 10,707 Pounds of Milk

A registered Guernsey cow, Willeda Farms Lenore, owned by William F. Pioch of Milford, put 10,707 pounds of milk and 645 pounds of butter fat into the country's breadbasket last year.

This production represents approximately 5,117 quarts of high-quality milk.

Lenore, a junior three-year-old, was milked twice daily during the 365-day test.

Ortonville Farmer to Use 'Poli' for Naming Cattle

Norbert R. Poli of Ortonville, has been given the exclusive use of the named "Poli," as a herd name in registering his Holstein-Friesian cattle.

This prefix name is granted and will be recorded by The Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America. Over 1,400 prefixes were reserved for breeders in 1953.

Gardeners Don't Take Vacations

At Least Not Until They Arrange With Friends to Tend Plants

This is the time of the year when the vacation bug nibbles at most of us — gardeners or not.

Maps are strewn about the living room floor and the family argues whether it will be the shore, lakes, mountains or a tour.

No matter who wins, one certainty always is with the gardener —the garden stays home.

You can send the pooch to the kennel, board the parakeet or canary with a feather - loving friend, or place the pet turtle with little Johnny next door. But with your garden started and growing, all of its greens and blooms and vegetables go relentlessly on and on and on.

The grass keeps growing on the lawn, the flowers keep blooming, the corn gets ready for picking, the tomatoes tomato — and you are in Yellowstone Park!

Then you have the problem of house plants which would dry out and wither indoors untended. Even a week or 10 days, instead of the usual two or three weeks away brings all sorts of garden problems.

If you are well stocked with cash, you can have the nurseryman do the chores. This, however, cuts heavily into vacation funds.

You can call on the neighbor gardener for assistance. You can hope your vacation schedules don't coincide — and then, perhaps you can make a deal:

"I'll mow your lawn, pick your flowers, fruit and vegetables, spray, weed and water while you are away, if you'll do the same for me."

As for house plants, most of them you can put outdoors in either shade or sun spots as the nature of the plant determines. Dig the pots into the ground to preserve moisture. Sudden summer winds won't knock them over.

But before going on a vacation trek, give the garden a good soaking. Don't just use a hose spray, but employ a garden seeper, soaking to about six-inch depth.

Then mulch all around plantings, both to preserve the moisture content and to keep sun and wind from drying out the soil, and to keep the weeds down. Mulch with peat moss, grass clippings, or other mulching material.

Ask the neighbor to turn the seeper on once a week as weather conditions warrant, and to move it about the garden as needed.

Fuel Oil Trucks Spray Fertilizer During Summer

Fuel oil delivery trucks, a common sight on residential streets during the winter, now may be seen spraying liquid fertilizer on lawns and gardens during the spring and summer months.

This fertilizer trade is easily adapted to an oil distribution set-up, since it uses the same equipment and personnel and requires little additional storage space.

Conversion of fuel oil trucks to fertilizer distribution is relatively simple and inexpensive, and drivers are trained in how to apply the fertilizer.

More important from the oil jobbers' point of view is the additional source of income the fertilizer business represents, both to himself and to his employes, during the normally slow spring and summer seasons.

Pioneered by a St. Louis oil heat jobber, the idea is being tried out by many other jobbers in all sections of the country.

The Battle of Jutland is memorable as being the only occasion throughout World War I on which the rival battle fleets met. It left the British fleet undisputed master of the German fleet up to the day of the latter's surrender.

TV to Take Viewers on Dairy Farm Tour

Some 16,000,000 consumers will have an opportunity to see how a modern dairy farm operates next Tuesday when one of the nation's top dairy farms will be spotlighted on the U.S. Steel Hour (Channel 7).

Viewers will be taken on a tour of the William Oakes farm in Greencastle, Pa.

Recommended by bulk milk firms as one of the best equipped among the top five per cent of the country's one million dairy farms, the 200-acre Oakes farm uses the bulk milk handling system and a loose housing barn where cattle are kept without stanchions.

Acquit Lebron on Five Counts

Jurors Convict Woman on Charges of Assault in House Chamber

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lolita Lebron, convicted with three men for wounding five congressmen but facing a lighter sentence, swore today she will continue to fight for Puerto Rican independence.

"What I thought was the end may be the beginning," she replied from her cell to written questions from newsmen.

"If all my blood had spilled I would have splashed away decadence and inertia . . . I hope no more of my people will have to die. My country is going to be free."

The slight, 34-year-old brunette, much of the fire apparently gone out of her when the two-week trial ended yesterday, was acquitted of five charges of intent to kill. She had been found guilty Wednesday of five counts of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Her three fellow members of the radical Nationalist party of Puerto Rico—Rafael Cancel Miranda, 25, Andres Figueroa Cordero, 29, and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28—were convicted Wednesday on all 10 counts.

Thus they face possible maximum penalties of 75 years in prison apiece, including concurrent sentences for intent to kill and assault with a dangerous weapon. Mrs. Lebron, convicted only on the latter charge, could get no more than 50 years in prison.

Wounded in the House shootings were Representatives Alvin H. Bentley (R-Mich), Clifford Davis (D-Tenn), George Fallon (D-Md), Ben F. Jensen (R-Iowa) and Kenneth Roberts (D-Ala).

While waiting for the verdict, Mrs. Lebron said she hoped the jury would find her "guilty as they found the boys."

The U. S. supreme court has ruled that a trademark is private property and may not be exploited for profit without the consent of the owner.

Saddened Gentlemen Must Learn That It Is Later Than They Think

By BILLY ROSE

Up in Mt. Kisco a couple of Sundays ago, my guests got to gabbing about embarrassing experiences.

Deems Taylor, composer, author and leprochaun emeritus, told the following one on himself . . .

BILLY ROSE

It seems that a few years ago, when Deems was approaching 60, it began to dawn on him that he was no longer 20 and that the pretty girls of his acquaintance were aware of it.

What bothered him most was the fact that his eyes were no longer what they had been. Without his horn-rimmed glasses, as Deems puts it, he could hardly tell Lana Turner from Sophie Tucker.

At a fancy garden party one afternoon, Deems was introduced to an attractive young lady who treated him as if he were a refugee from an old folks' home. The composer slipped him horn-rims into his pocket and set out to impress the girl.

"I'm not feeling up to snuff," he said. "I shot 36 holes yesterday."

"Thirty-six holes of what?" said the girl. "Croquet?"

Miffed, and determined to teach the beauteous brat a lesson, Deems reached into his bag of tricks and pulled out an old one.

When nobody was looking, he stuck a pin in a tree. Then, later, while he and the young lady were strolling about 50 feet from the tree, he stopped and said, "That's funny. I wonder who went and stuck a pin in that tree?"

The girl, of course, couldn't see the pin and was duly impressed. Deems suggested they walk over to the tree so she could see he wasn't pulling a fast one.

The trick worked beautifully — that is, until they were a few feet from the tree when Deems tripped over a wheelbarrow and fell flat on his face.

When Deems had finished, a vaudevillian whom I shall identify only at Phil told of an even more embarrassing experience.

One morning last month Phil got up at 10 o'clock as usual and went into the kitchen to get himself some coffee. As he went by the living room, he saw his wife and 19-year-old daughter inside.

They were both dressed in their Sunday-go-to-meetin' clothes, and one of his daughter's girl friends was standing around with a bunch of flowers in her arms.

"What's going on?" the vaudevillian asked.

His wife, giggling like crazy, said nothing was going on.

Phil wasn't satisfied with this answer, but it was all the answer he got, and by the time he had finished his coffee the women had gone.

That night, when he dropped into Lindy's for a sandwich, a booking agent came up to his table.

"Congratulations," said the agent.

"Congratulations on what?" said the vaudevillian.

"On your daughter's marriage," said the agent. "What else?"

Forgetting his sandwich, Phil started out for home. "This is a fine howdy-do," he said to himself. "For 19 years a guy knocks himself out giving his wife and kid everything they want, and then they up and pull a stunt like this."

When he got home his missus was already in bed.

"I hear tell," said the vaudevillian, "that our one and only daughter got married today. How come when I asked you this morning what was going on you said nothing was going on?"

"I wanted to tell you," said his wife, "but there wasn't enough room in the car."

Marciano, Charles Re-Match in Fall Possibility

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—"He gave me a helluva fight. He deserves a return if he wants it."

Thus spoke heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano today following his thrilling, come-from-behind 15-round decision over game, undaunted Ezzard Charles in a savage scrap in Yankee Stadium last night.

"I want him again," snarled the battered, unfazed 32-year-old Charles. "I thought I won. I think I came closer to knocking him out than he did me. The next time it will be different."

The lean Cincinnati Cobra, who failed for the second time in an attempt to become the first ex-champion to regain the prized heavyweight crown, may get his chance in September.

"Charles is entitled to the return," said Al Weill, manager of the all-conquering Brockton Bruiser. "It was a great show and a great fight. If Rocky's cut comes out okay, I'd say a September fight with Charles in New York is a great possibility.

"If not Charles," continued Weill, "maybe that Englishman — Don Cockell—or maybe the winner of the Hurricane Jackson-Nino Valdes fight (they meet in Madison Square Garden July 14) if they put on an exciting fight. Say, wasn't that a great scrap?"

It was that, and more. Practically every one of the 47,585 paying customers who contributed to a gross gate of $543,092 left the ball park raving about the slam-bang brawl, one of the outstanding heavyweight tussles in years.

"It was as tough as my first fight with (Jersey Joe) Walcott, maybe tougher," said the 29-year-old unbeaten Marciano who went 15 rounds for the first time in his career. It was only the sixth time Rocky had to win by votes of the officials and one of the very few in which he failed to floor his opponent. He swept his other 40 by knockouts.

For four rounds it was all Charles as the 185 pound ex-champion boxed beautifully. Then the 187¼ pound Rocky, bleeding profusely from a wide, inch and a quarter gash over his left eye, came on.

The muscular, bull-dozing champion almost put Ezzy away in the sixth, kept driving to go ahead slightly by the tenth, and then almost stowed away Charles several times in the later rounds, especially the last when he battered the swollen-faced, hands-down challenger all over the ring.

* * *

The officials' votes brought no protests except from the Charles camp. Referee Ruby Goldstein had it 8-5-2; Judge Harold Barnes 8-6-1 and Judge Arthur Aidala 9-5-1. The Associated Press score-card had Rocky far in front, 10-4-1, giving the champion every round from the fifth on with the exception of the seventh. That round was called even.

Navy Heavy Favorite in Collegiate Regatta

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Eleven crews put the finishing touches on their training today for the 52nd annual regatta of the Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. and 10 of them wondered if any boat could end Navy's string of 28 straight victories.

Coach Rusty Callow's Midshipmen, 1952 Olympic champions and winners of the last two IRA regattas on nearby Lake Onondaga, are heavy favorites to make it three in a row in the country's greatest rowing event.

If anyone is to stop Navy's eight, it appeared as if the University of Washington Huskies might halt the Middies' long string.

"We won't give up until we pass the finish line," said Al Ulbrickson, Washington coach who once was tutored by Callow.

However, because of the loss of Harlan Thomas, his No. 7 oar, Ulbrickson said "we're not as strong as when we left Seattle." Thomas suffered a muscle spasm on the trip east, and will be replaced by Keith Riely from the jayvee shell.

* * *

All 11 coaches were polled by newsmen, and nine including Callow picked Navy. Ulbrickson chose his Huskies, while another coach said it was a tossup between Navy and Washington.

Three Former Champs Gain in Western

Berg, Jameson, Suggs Joined by Betty Hicks in Waukegan Test

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—Three former champions and another veteran pro seeking her first triumph in the tournament teed off today in the semifinals of the Women's Western Golf Open.

Patty Berg, winner in 1951, 1948, 1943 and 1941, faced Betty Jameson, who captured the crown in 1942 and was runner-up in 1952.

Betty Hicks, chasing her first Western Open crown, squared off against Louise Suggs, leading money-winner on the distaff circuit this season.

Miss Suggs trounced Patty 6 and 5 in the 1953 finals at her hometown, Atlanta, and also won the title in 1949, 1947 and 1946. She and Patty are trying to become the first five-time winner of the meet in a 25-year history.

The 18-hole semifinals will begin at 1:30 p.m. EST.

Miss Berg, who won the qualifying medal with a 5-under-par 70 to smash the Glen Flora Country Club women's record, continued her par-busting yesterday in defeating Mrs. Paul Dye Jr., Indianapolis amateur, 6 and 5 in the quarterfinals.

Miss Jameson, the veteran Texan, was deadly with her wedge shots and one-putted the last five greens of her match for a 6 and 5 decision over Betsy Rawls.

Miss Suggs was extended to the 18th green before eliminating Beverly Hanson 1-up with a winning par 3.

BATTLE OF THE BRUISE — A solid right by Rocky Marciano turns the face of Ezzard Charles into a mass of quivering jelly in the 11th round of the heavyweight title bout in Yankee Stadium in New York Thursday night. Rocky retained his crown in a bruising 15-round encounter.

Stout-Hearted Display

Courageous Ezzard Charles Probably Realized His Greatest Hour in Defeat

NEW YORK (AP)—Ezzard Charles has joined the impressive list of those former heavyweight champions who tried to win back the title and found the burden too great, but none who watched the Cincinnati Negro take the terrible beating he did from Rocky Marciano last night will forget the stout-hearted display he gave.

In defeat, Charles probably knew his greatest hour. Never again will anyone in his right mind suggest that the man who plays the bass fiddle has no stomach for fighting.

Marciano, who has a burning ambition to be accepted as a great champion, probably made some progress toward that goal. He didn't win by a knockout, as it had been widely expected that he would, but he might have done something even more impressive in demonstrating that he could give a beating to a man of Charles' skill over the full 15-rounds.

If Rocky isn't great, he is a wonderful competitor. For the last 11 rounds he fought under the handicap of a cut over his left eye that streamed blood off and on and soaked both fighters. There is no man in sight now to stand against him.

There can be little question of which man took the greater punishment. Charles did, by far. Though Marciano shed the more blood, he never once gave any evidence of being hurt.

Charles, on the other hand, appeared very lucky to finish three or four rounds after Rocky first tagged him in the sixth with a left hook to the button and changed the entire aspect of the battle. Up to that time, it should be remarked the duel had been practically a one-way street for Ezzard.

Roy Campanella Regains Catcher's Lead in NL

CHICAGO (AP)—Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers was back in first place today in the National League's balloting for starting catcher in the All Star baseball game in Cleveland July 13.

In the All Star baseball poll, which opened a week ago, Campanella regained the lead from Forrest (Smokey) Burgess of the Philadelphia Phillies in the balloting race to name 16 starting players in the interleague classic.

Waterford, Huron Valley Legion 9s Battle to Tie

Waterford and Huron Valley Boys Culb entries in the American Legion 18th District baseball league battled 7 innings to a 4-4 tie on the Waterford High School diamond Thursday.

The host team erased a 4-0 lead by scoring once in the 4th frame and coming mack with a 3-run cluster in the 5th.

Jerry Kruskie tossed a 3-hitter for Waterford, with Huron Valley's Vorheis getting all three safeties. Two walks, an error, a passed ball and Vorheis single brought in two Boys Club runs in the 2nd.

Another error, a walk and Vorheis' double sent in two more in the 4th, thereafter Kruskie, who fanned 12, shut the door.

Waterford got one back in the 4th on a 2-base error and Jerry Harnack's single and drove out starter Dave Huber in the 5th on an error, Dave Latta's bunt single, a passed ball and singles by Bob O'Neill and Leroy Nicholas.

Jim Huber, who relieved his brother for Huron Valley, struck out six in the 3 frames he worked. Harnack and Latta each had two hits for Waterford. Play resumes Sunday with the feature game sending Birmingham's Reds to Berkley. Both are unbeaten.

Don Dohoney Added to All-Star Lineup

CHICAGO (AP)—Don Dohoney, 210 pound Michigan State end, has been added to the roster of the college All Stars who will meet the Detroit Lions of the National Football League in Soldier Field Aug. 13.

Addition of Dohoney to the collegians' squad yesterday for the 21st annual game gives All Star Coach Jim Tatum of Maryland one of the nation's outstanding ends. Dohoney's vicious tackling and superb blocking were important factors in Michigan State's 28-20 Rose Bowl triumph over UCLA New Year's Day.

Ben Hogan's Secret of Success Lies in Combining Physical, Mental Phases With Terrific Ambition

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—Ben Hogan's "Secret of Success" in the golf swing that produces so steadily really, isn't any secret. In my opinion it is a terrific amount of long hard work intelligently done.

Years ago Hogan searched for the right way of swinging. He discovered that if he swung the club a certain way he got what he wanted. So he practiced along those lines, hour after hour, week after week, year after year, until it became almost a mechanical thing.

I have never seen a golfer that had Ben Hogan's unlimited ambition, his keen desire and capacity for work nor more intelligence back of this work and practice.

This has lead to control of direction that has never been equalled before. This is why, after looking at Baltusrol's narrow fairway, guarded by rough, most of the experts picked Hogan to win.

When many of the Open competitors glimpsed those narrow lanes leading from almost every tee on the course, they felt a tendency to steer the ball. You can't steer a golf ball accurately.

Hogan's concentration from the tee sets on a definite spot. It may be the middle or right of the fairway, or to the left, wherever he has a better shot to the green.

That's one reason Hogan came to Baltusrol so early. He knew the course like an open book when he stepped to the first tee Thursday. No one knows how hard Hogan worked to cure a hook. It took some time but he worked it out.

A fade rarely gets you into the trouble a hook or a pull does. Sammy Snead has one of the finest swings I've ever seen in golf. It never seems to be forced or pressed. It is entirely natural. But Sam's driving is not as consistently straight as Hogan's.

Hogan's National Golf Day round is proof enough of how spectacularly Ben has developed his game. A 64 over this tough course is beyond believing. He missed slightly on two or three shots. He could have been around in 62 or 63. This is incredible.

* * *

Ben's secret of golf success is a brilliant combination of the physical and the mental, plus a terrific ambition and capacity for an unbelievable amount of work.

Many AAU Records in Peril

ST.LOUIS (AP)—About half a dozen meet records stand in danger tonight as more than 400 of the nation's best — including seven Olympic champions — move into action in the 66th annual national AAU track and field championships.

The 21-event meet, which runs tonight and tomorrow night at the St.Louis Public School Stadium, climaxes the outdoor track season.

Only three defending champions, including Kansas' Wes Santee, will be missing from the field.

With Santee out because of Marine summer camp training, Luxembourg's Josy Barthel who won the 1,500 meter event at the Olympics, figures to be the favorite in the 25-man mile field. Santee holds the AAU mile standard of 4:07.6 set at Dayton, Ohio, last year.

The New York Athletic Club is the defending champion of the meet.

Southern California's Ernie Shelton, who has cleared the bar at 6 foot 10 inches within the past week, expects to try for the elusive seven-foot high jump mark.

Mal Whitfield's 1:51.5 half-mile AAU record may be topped tonight along with Parry O'Brien's 57 foot 11¼ inch shot put mark. Other records that may fall include Walt Davis' 6 foot 11½ inch high jump mark; Steve Seymour's 248 foot 10 inch javelin throw; J. W. Mashburn's 440-yard mark of :47.1, and Fortune Gordien's 183 foot 9¼ inch discus heave.

O'Brien, 1952 Olympic champ of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, holds the world shot put mark with a toss of 60 feet 10 inches.

Davis and Charlie Capozzoli, three-mile winner, are the other two defending champions who will be missing from the meet with Santee.

Other gold medal Olympic champions entered include Horace Ashenfelter, defending two-mile steeplechase champion; former Illinois U. star Bob Richards in the pole vault; Lindy Remigino in the 100-meter dash; Andy Stanfield in the 200-meter event, and Whitfield, the 800-meter titlist.

Oxford Horse Seeks to Become Winningest Mare in Racing

Sickle's Image makes her 1st bid of the season tomorrow to become the racing world's richest money - winning mare.

Last year's "mare of the year," Sickle's Image is the favorite in 11 starters of the $10,000 Rose Leaves feature, at the Michigan Racing Assn. track.

The Rose Leaves is the richest local stakes for fillies and mares. Sickle's Image needs barely $70,000 to pass Bewitch for the money record for mares. Bewitch earned $462,605 in her lifetime of racing. Sickle's Image has earned $394,460.

Sickle's Image is a Michigan bred horse, owned by Clarence Hartwick of Oxford.

The feature event will be televised by Channel 4 (WWJ-TV) in the Detroit area. Sen. Ferguson will present the winning award.

Chisox Lead Majors for Base Stealing

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox are dominating the major leagues in the stolen base department today. The hustling White Sox have produced 40 thefts to lead both circuits, with the St.Louis Cardinals the National League pace-setters with 28 steals. Chicago stole three bases—by Jim Rivera, Nellie Fox and Cass Michaels—in yesterday's victory over the Athletics.

Remember?

He's been around baseball for a long time. Though his career began in 1919, young and old alike should be familiar with him. Identification of this, the 2nd in the "Do You Remember" series will be found on the final sport page.

2 Holes-in-One Scored by Area Golfers Thursday

A Birmingham golfer scored a hole-in-one Thursday and another was fired at an Oakland County private club.

Nick Stock, 19610 Middlesex, Birmingham, got his ace on the 170-yard 9th hole at Rammler Golf Club and scored an 88 for the round. Phil Johnson, a Detroiter, used a 4-wood to sink his tee shot on the 202-yard 16th hole at Franklin Hills. His score was 81.

A 'First' for Brown

Mordecia (Three - Fingered) Brown was the first pitcher in the major leagues to hurl four consecutive shutouts. He got them in 1908.

CHIPS IN WINNING ROUND — Billy Joe Patton chips onto 7th green on the Baltusrol course during the 1st round of the National Open golf championship yesterday. The amateur from Morganton, N. C., shot an amazing 69, 1-under-par, to take the lead. He is the 1st amateur to lead the 1st round in the Open since Bobby Jones accomplished the same feat a quarter of a century ago at Winged Foot at Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Lightweights in Boxing Spotlight

Ring Scene Shifts From Heavies as Zulueta, Gonzalves Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightweight contenders Orlando Zulueta of Cuba and Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif., are rated even for their 10-round television bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

In the fuss over last night's heavyweight title bout between Charles, the lightweights have been completely neglected. Nevertheless more people probably will see them mix than the heavyweights. Tonight's 10 p.m., EDT (9 p.m., EST) scrap will be a telecast coast to coast (NBC).

The 25-year-old Zulueta is the second ranking contender and Gonsalves is ranked third. The winner may get a shot at the victor of the lightweight title fight between champion Paddy DeMarco and Jimmy Carter.

Wins Horse Show Events

Lou Wilson of Birmingham won two events yesterday in the junior competition opening the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club's 43rd annual horse show. Wilson, riding Tinka, placed 1st in the working hunters and hunting seat.

Toronto Says Lions 'Tampered' With McCants

DETROIT (UP) — The Detroit front office pooh-poohed claims by the Toronto Argonauts today that the Lions "stole" defensive end Howard McCants from the Canadian professional football fold.

McCants, of River Rouge, Mich., signed a 1954 Detroit contract two days ago. He was the Lions' No. 4 draft choice on the National Football League lists earlier this year.

"McCants is a Lion and has been since Wednesday by contract, or last January by verbal agreement said Detroit general manager Nick Kerbawy.

However, coach Frank Clair of the Argonauts said the 6-8 McCants had signed to play in the Canadian League before the Lions got to him. Clair said it was "a definite case of tampering" on the part of the Lions.

Kuenn Passes Chico Carrasquel in AL Poll

CHICAGO (UP) — Detroit's Harvey Kuenn edged ahead of Chicago's Chico Carrasquel today in the annual poll of fans to select starting lineups for the July 13 all-star baseball game.

Kuenn now has 9,616 votes for the American League shortstop post compared with Carrasquel's 8,449. The poll ends July 3.

All-Senior Team Named for Inter-Lakes League

Eleven players, all seniors, were named to the Inter-Lakes Conference all-star baseball team recently by coaches of the league's six schools.

Berkley's championship placed only two players, while runnerup Waterford landed three. Southfield and Walled Lake also placed two men each, while Farmington and Van Dyke placed one.

Tom McCormick, Southfield's pitching star, concluded a brilliant record in the Inter-Lakes by making the baseball honor team for the 3rd straight time. He scored a "grand slam" this season by also gaining a 1st team all-star berth in both football and basketball.

Other repeaters from last year's team are Berkley pitcher Dick Radatz and Waterford infielder Bill Wood. Walled Lake's Don Williams added baseball honors to those he gained in basketball last season.

The team:

C—Bill Burmeister (WL). P—Tom McCormick (S), Dick Radatz (B) and Barry Fell (W). 1B—Don Williams (WL). 2B—Bill Wood (W). SS—Steve Ryeson (W). 3B—Bob Markham (F). OF—Art Grimes (VD), Jim Johnson (B) and Bob Sherwin (S).

Keith's 4-Hitter Beats Dixie Nine

Harlan (Fat) Keith pitched Dick & Wes Sports to a 5-1 Waterford Township Softball League victory over Dixie Recreation Thursday night on a 4-hitter.

Keith fanned 9 and walked three, hurling shutout ball after the 1st inning.

Sports club got three runs in the 1st on an error and Gordon Nelson's single and that was enough, although two more markers were added in the 3rd. Nelson had two hits for the winners.

Williams Lake won a Little League game from Drayton Drug, 5-4.

Maddock, an OCBC member, is considered the leading 135 class driver in the eastern half of the United States.

OCBC Holding 38th Annual Regatta for This Weekend

Oakland County Boat Club will hold its 38th annual regatta this weekend on Sylvan Lake.

The 2-day affair is expected to attract more than 100 inboard and outboard racers from throughout Michigan and the midwest.

Ten heats for outboards ranging from 15 to 60 horsepower will get under way at 1 p.m. Saturday and will climax in a "free-for-all" race at 4:20 p.m.

A regatta ball will be held Saturday evening at the club.

The big inboards take over on Sunday, starting at 1 p.m. Events for hydroplanes ranging in size from 48 to 266 cubic inches will be held. A 40-minute water skiing exhibition is scheduled for 2:40 p. m.

Prizes and trophies will be awarded at 5:30 Sunday afternoon.

OCBC regatta chairmen are Dick Rankin, Leon Bigger and Gary Schroeder. Joe Nolan is club commodore.

Lingo Direct Wins Feature at Northville

Northville Downs reported an increase in attendance and a drop in pari-mutuel take last night as the suburban track opened its 1954 harness racing meet.

A total of 5,792 fans wagered $217,191 last night compared with an attendance of 5,550 and a pari-mutuel handle of $240,107 in 1953.

Lingo Direct, owned and driven by Lou N. Meggitt, of Clyde, Ohio, won the featured AA trot on the nine race program. The 14-year-old gelding paid $21.40 on a $2 win ticket.

Young Anglers Collaborate in Landing Pike

When a 9-year-old girl hooked a 18-inch pike on Scotch Lake first of the week, a young friend proved a handy aide. The two combined to land the nearly three-pound fish.

Penny Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jenkins, 6650 Scotch Lake road, was fishing from a dock at her parents' home. Twelve-year-old Don Feys, a neighbor, was also fishing. Don dropped his own rod when the pike struck, and went to Penny's aid.

Examination of the fish disclosed that it had a small dry fly and piece of leader in its mouth. Apparently the pike had struck the fly and then broke the leader in its escape.

Watrous, McMasters Share Top with Babbish, O'Brien

By H. GUY MOATS

When a new medal card for the Pine Lake Country Club Invitational Best-Ball golf tournament was turned in Thursday afternoon, few, if any of the event's sponsors could have guessed that before the day was done that the record qualifying score was going to be "twins."

Early in the afternoon one of the younger teams, Tom Watrous, son of the veteran Oakland Hills professional, and Bob McMasters, University of Michigan star shotmaker, got together for a record 38-31—69.

When they made the turn it didn't look like Tom and Bob were going to hit the jackpot. But they added a brilliant 31 to their not-so-hot first nine 38 fo ra new medal count.

Now they're rated as one of the teams to beat in the next three days of firing.

Late in the afternoon, after a shower that soaked a score of teams out of the course, Bob Babbish and Bill O'Brien from Oakland Hills closed out their tour with another 69. But they fashioned their card along more conventional lines — a first nine 36 and 33 on the back layout. The figures are three under par for the Pine Lake 36-36-72 card.

Highest card for the championship flight, that went into action in match play at 11 a.m. today, was a 76. And that place was determined only by a playoff between eight teams.

Tom Lowery and Harry Martin, of Birmingham Country Club won the spot on the second extra hole of the playoff. On the first hole five of the eight teams dropped out. Lowery and Martin was the only pair to negotiate the short second in par (three). Other two teams took bogie fours and were eliminated.

Two 71s were carded. Blaine Eynon and Pat Sawyer, first champions of the Invitational five years ago, fired 35-36-71.

George Hain and Bob Billig of Plum Hollow had the other 71. Their card read exactly the same as the Eynon, Sawyer total. John Griffin and Joe Watson of Country Club of Lansing carded a 72, alone. There were three 73s, four 74s, two 75s, and a 76.

Bob Whiting and Tom Draper, the 1954 champions, did not have to qualify and made up the top flight's 16 teams, automatically.

Six other flights were set up from the record field of 123 teams. One hundred twelve were listed for action today. Match play got under way at 8 a.m. today with lower flights teeing off progressively until 11 a.m. when the Championship flight goes into action. The defending titlists tangle with Randy Ahern and Don Dawson.

Eynon and Sawyer drew Ray Burgin and Tom Newell at 11:05. Watrous and McMasters face Pine Lake's Bill Nettle and Red Runs' Bill Pettibone at 11:10 a.m. Ray Conlon and B. Chisholm, Detroit CC, meet Art Thorner and Jack Nederlander in the bottom of the upper bracket.

Lower bracket of the championship flight pits Bob Babbish and Bill O'Brien (co-medalists) against Ralph Ellstrom and Dave McHarg, Birmingham and Dearborn CC, in the first at 11:25 a.m. Other lower bracket matches are, in order; Griffin and Watson vs Bob Holland of Western Golf Club and Fred Gagnier of Bloomfield Hills; Hain and Billig vs Ernie Cole and Bob Nonamaker of Gowanie; and Dick Whiting (Red Run) and Tony Skover of Meadowbrook vs Lowery and Martin.

Co-medalist cards:

Prep Squad Played Half With 12 Men

WASHINGTON, Ga. (AP) — John Connell, coach of the football team at St. Joseph's prep school, offers this one to end all 12-man football stories.

The Washington squad arrived late in Augusta, Ga., for a game with Mt. St. Joseph's and the players ran right from their cars to the field. Fred Whitehead, a first string guard and tackle, assumed he would start as usual and lined up for the kickoff.

Connell had decided to start another boy and to put Whitehead in later. But when he looked around for Fred—couldn't find him. Connell didn't realize where he was until the teams trotted off the field at the half—with no one noticing St. Joseph's had played the entire half with 12 players.

The Augusta team finally won, 7-0, and Connell equipped:

"With only 11 men on the field we could hardly be expected to hold them."

Bill Tuttle Had Big Day for Williamsport

DETROIT (AP)—Bill Tuttle, rookie outfielder with the Detroit Tigers, has little difficulty recalling his best day as a minor leaguer.

He was playing for Williamsport, Pa., of the Eastern League. In a double header against Schenectady he had seven hits in seven times at bat. In the first game he smacked a homer, triple, double and a single. In the second game he made three hits including a grand slam homer.

Long Time Between Kills

BUCKHANNON, W. Va. (AP)—It's been a long time between buffalo kills around these parts. But maybe the hunters soon will change their tunes. The state received a pair of elk and a pair of buffalo from the overstocked Wichita Refuge in Oklahoma.

The width of a football field is always the same 53 1/3 yards. The length is 100 yards.

REGULAR WEAVE: Vertical (warp) and horizontal (filling) yarns all have the same direction of twist. Where they interlace in the weave of the cloth, the yarns "mesh" into each other, creating a close, tightly constructed fabric.

BENGALINE WEAVE: All filling yarns have the same twist... but warp yarns are left and right twist alternately. Instead of meshing, the threads stand off from each other, adding extra "breathing spaces" for a cooler, ventilated fabric.

AIR-CONDITIONER that weighs only 46 ounces!

... that's your summer suit of DIXIE WEAVE BENGALINE! Some 2,600 pores ventilate every inch, letting cool air in, body heat out. And by reversing the twist in certain threads, even more "breathing spaces" are created where the yarns interlace! For a bonus of good looks this same weave creates a handsome ribbed fabric, which in turn, minimizes the effect of wrinkles, helps wrinkle recovery. Special warm weather construction matches the lightweight fabric. In the newest tall-and-trim styling.

Patton Surprise Leader in National Open

Amateur Posts Only Under-Par Round of Day

Fires Spectacular 69 to Relegate Pro Stars to Background

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., June 18 (AP)—Whoever said tournament golf needed some new faces didn't reckon with the squarish, smiling face of William J. Patton—who prefers to be called Billy Joe—the thin countenance of Bob Toski, the serious, blue-eyed look of Gene Littler or the broad-browed head of Al Mengert.

These four, hardly more than numbers on the program to most of the huge opening day crowd at Baltusrol, were right up at the top of the list as the 54th National Open golf championship went into its second day. The faces that drew the crowds—Ben Hogan and Sam Snead—had to be content with more or less secondary roles.

Patton, the 32-year-old Morganton, N. C., lumberman who probably gets more fun out of golf than any other tournament player, breathed new life into an already-tense tournament when he fired an opening round of 32-37—69 yesterday.

That was the only time tough old Baltusrol's tournament par of 34-36—70 was beaten yesterday and Billy Joe had the time of his life doing it as he slugged and scrambled his way around the 7,027 yard lower course.

It was virtually a duplication of Patton's performance in the Masters last April, when he scared the daylights out of the top pros and delighted the crowds with his carefree attitude and his tremendous wallops.

One stroke behind Patton came Littler, the 1953 amateur champion who won't be 24—nor eligible to win money in PGA tournaments—until July; Toski, 27, the leading money winner of the pro circuit, and the 34-year-old Ted Kroll, No. 4 on the money list.

Incidentally, both Patton and Toski won their places in the tournament in sectional qualifying playoffs.

Defending champion Hogan and Ed Furgol, an experienced tournament player, were tied at 71 with 25-year-old Mengert, a pro less than two years.

Snead, still suffering from a painful stiff neck and hitting some of his long shots badly, wound up in the 72 bracket with a flock of others, including three former champions, Lew Worsham, Lloyd Mangrum and Cary Middlecoff.

It still was anybody's tournament and when someone asked Hogan if he'd settle for three more 71's, Ben grimly replied:

"I wouldn't settle for anything. I'm here to play. That's my business."

Hogan was scheduled to be the early starter in today's second round, going out at 10:32 a.m. (EDT). Snead, switching places with the defending champion, drew the 2:08 p.m. starting time while Patton was behind him at 2:40.

After today's round, the field, whittled to 159 by three withdrawals yesterday, will be cut to the low 50 and ties for the final 36 holes Saturday.

Nine Races Slated on Motorcycle Card

Nine motorcycle racing events are on the Pontiac M-59 Speedway program tonight with time trials at 7:30 p.m. and the 1st race at 8:30.

Thunderbird Motorcycle Club is putting on the show, with the entries including Ernie Beckman, Leo Anthony and Jerry Bradfield.

On Sunday, the 2nd annual state championship 50-lap race for modified stocks highlights a lengthened racing program. Many of the area's outstanding drivers are expected to compete as well as the leading drivers in the Land O'Lakes Racing Association.

Sunday's time trials are at 5:30 p.m. with the 1st race at 7 o'clock.

Realty Girls' Nine Outhit But Still Extends Streak

Two girls' league games and a pair of men's exhibitions comprised last night's softball action at the city's two diamonds.

Giles Realty was outhit 14-9, but bunched its safeties to defeat Shaw's Jewelry 12-8 and extend its unbeaten streak to four games in girls' play.

General Motors retained its 2nd-place standing by dumping Gingellville 9-4 behind the combined 1-hit pitching of Marge Liddy and Gerry Bender.

Shaw's Jewelers split a men's exhibition doubleheader. Jewelers bowed to Birmingham Riteway 5-2 in the opener and blanked Moose 12-0 in the 2nd game. Birmingham pounded Shaw's Glen "Wimpy" Johnson for seven hits, including two extra-base blows. Clell "Mutt" Morse scatted five singles in the nightcap.

Driveway Accident Kills Daughter of Pro Cager

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Sandra Ellen Share, 14-months-old daughter of pro basketball star Charley Share, was killed last night by her father's automobile in the driveway of the family home. Share had washed the car and was driving it into the garage. The little girl had come out of the house unnoticed and was run over by a rear wheel.

ACTUAL DRIVING TESTS SHOW CHEVROLET'S H.P. IS HIGHEST OF ALL 3 LOW-PRICED CARS!

It's a FACT!

CHEVROLET NOW DELIVERS 10 to 15 MORE HORSEPOWER!

CHEVROLET
Get the FACTS
and you'll get a Chevrolet!

Horsepower	Driving tests show Chevrolet's "Blue Flame 125" delivers a full 125 H.P. That's 10 to 15 more ROAD H.P. than Car B or Car C delivers!
Mileage	In city and highway road tests, Chevrolet delivers up to 12.3% more gas mileage than Car B—up to 31% more than Car C.
Price	Price comparison figures show Chevrolet costs up to $145 less than Car B—up to $225 less than Car C.
Upkeep	Official auto service figures show Chevrolet maintenance is easier, takes less time. Less time means less cost.
Trade-in	Official national used-car figures show Chevrolet depreciates less-per-year than Car B or Car C.
Getaway	Traffic tests show Chevrolet breaks away up to 18.9% faster than Car B—up to 24.6% faster than Car C.
Weight	Weight charts show Chevrolet is the heaviest, widest car in its field—up to 200 pounds heavier! It's more solid, more durable, more comfortable.
Automatic Features	Comparison shows Chevrolet's Powerglide and Power Steering, Brakes, Windows, Seat cost less than Car B's or Car C's automatic features.
Popularity	Auto registration figures show over 2 million more Chevrolets licensed than Car B—over 5 million more than Car C.

While other cars talk "highest horsepower" in the showroom, CHEVROLET delivers in the showdown!

When comparing power, the most accurate measure is ROAD-TESTED power, not factory-rated power . . . DELIVERED power, not paper power! In actual city and country driving tests, the Chevrolet Blue Flame 125 engine DELIVERS at least 10 more horsepower than Car B, and at least 15 more than Car C.

More DELIVERED horsepower means more immediate response to the throttle, quicker getaway in traffic, faster passing on highways. And with more power, Chevrolet gives more economy . . . lower delivered price, lower upkeep, lower gas consumption. More reasons why more people drive Chevrolets than any other car, at any price!

Chisox, Yankees Open Important Series Tonight

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Chicago White Sox intend to be pennant contenders they better figure some way to beat the New York Yankees in the four-game set starting tonight.

The Yanks won't be back in Chicago until July 27 and by that time it may be too late. In fact, the way Cleveland has been going, it just might be too late for either the Yankees or the White Sox.

This is especially true since the Indians figure to fatten up on the hapless Boston Red Sox while Chicago and New York are tangling with each other.

So far, Paul Richards hasn't had much luck in keeping his "go-go" Sox going against the Yankees. They won their first game with the Yankees this season, then lost six in a row before salvaging the finale of the four-game series in New York last weekend.

Virgil Trucks baffled the Yanks 8-0 in that one and Richards is going to fire him right back tonight. Casey Stengel says he's chosen to gamble on Harry Byrd, the big righthander acquired from Philadelphia who has been considerably short of phenomenal since joining New York.

All three of the contenders won yesterday. Cleveland ran its winning streak to 8 games with a 6-4 triumph over Washington. The White Sox outlasted Philadelphia 6-4 and New York breezed over Baltimore 9-2. Boston lost its ninth game in its last 10 starts, 2-1 to Detroit.

In the National League the New York Giants pulled two games in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers by shading Cincinnati 2-1. Brooklyn lost to Milwaukee 6-4. Philadelphia and St. Louis played the longest game of the season—15 innings—before the Phils won 3-2 with Robin Roberts going all the way. Chicago was rained out at Pittsburgh.

Cleveland jumped away to a three-run lead in the first inning against the Senators as Frank Shea walked two men and hit one. Vic Wertz doubled and Wally Westlake singled.

Gus Zernial, who has been feuding with Manager Eddie Joost of the Athletics, came off the bench to deliver a three-run pinch hit homer at Chicago. His blast followed a bases-empty homer by Bill Wilson. But the A's were trailing by six runs by the time they found the range and they couldn't catch up.

The Giants beat the Redlegs without a hit. They got two singles, an hour apart, but their two runs came on a pair of walks, two errors and a force play. Art Fowler lost the decision to Johnny Antonelli.

Jim Wilson of the Braves, a no-hit winner his last time out, ran his string of hitless innings to 10 and scoreless innings to 24 before the Dodgers broke into the scoring column.

Jackie Robinson tied a modern National League record for long hits with two home runs and two doubles. Duke Snider hit a two-run homer. For Milwaukee, Hank Aaron, Eddie Mathews and Danny O'Connell hit home runs off Johnny Podres.

Roberts scored the winning run in the marathon at Philadelphia. He opened the 15th by walking, moved to second on a sacrifice, to third on an infield grounder and scored on a single by Del Ennis.

The Philadelphia righthander didn't walk a man in the 15 innings. He struck out seven and gave up 10 hits.

Roach's 'gill tipped the scales at one pound 10 ounces, measured 11½ inches in length and 12¼ inches in girth. He landed the fish on a private lake near Milford.

Rocky's Mother Did Not Listen to Fight

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — Mrs. Lena Marchegiano observed her usual custom of not listening to the radio last night as her son, Rocky Marciano, successfully defended his world's heavyweight championship in New York. Mrs. Marchegiano prayed for her son at St. Patrick's church before Rocky's fight with Ezzard Charles at Yankee Stadium and then spent the evening with her sister, Mrs. Lucy Parziale.

"I'm very happy," is all she'd say when she learned of her son's victory. Then added she gets too excited if she listens.

Zuverink Gets 3rd Win From Bosox, 2-1

DETROIT (UP)—George Zuverink gained his 3rd victory without registering a strikeout or a walk Thursday as the Detroit tigers edged the Boston Red Sox 2-1.

The Holland, Mich., right-hander scattered seven hits over the distance and laid down a sacrifice bunt to help bring home the winning run. The Tigers got to Tom Brewer for eight hits and both runs in the eight innings he worked for Boston to hand him his 4th loss against two wins.

Detroit gave Zuverink a one-run lead in the bottom of the third inning. With two out, Harvey Kuenn lined a single to center, stole 2nd and kept on going to 3rd when Del Wilber threw the ball into center field trying to cut off the steal. Kuenn trotted home when Jim Delsing singled.

The Red Sox tied it up with their lone run in the top of the 5th. Milt Bolling, who s i n g l e d, advanced to 2nd on a sacrifice and came home on Jim Piersall's double to right field.

The deadlock was short-lived however, as the Tigers came back to grab the lead again in the bottom of the same inning. After Frank Bolling singled Zuverink laid down his bunt. Both runners were safe when Harry Agganis threw late to 2nd.

Kuenn and Fred Hatfield came through with successive singles to send Bolling across the plate after Zuverink was picked off 1st.

Zuverink, who now has a 3-2 mound record, got some brilliant defensive help in the 1st inning from outfielders Bill Tuttle and Al Kaline.

With one out and two Red Sox aboard, Wilber sent one of Zuverink's pitches sailing on a line into center. But Tuttle sprinted after the ball and dragged it down with a perfectly-timed leap. The 3,285 Briggs Stadium fans still were talking about that one when Kaline charged Agganis' lined hit to right field and cut down Piersall at the plate with a bulls-eye throw to end the inning.

Tigers host Philadelphia at Briggs Stadium tonight with Detroit's Billy Hoeft scheduled to shoot for his 4th victory.

GMC Finally Halts Oliver Winning Streak

Bishop Relieves Kratt to Retire Last Five Men in a Row

General Motors finally put an end to Oliver Buick's City Class A Baseball League undefeated string, 4-3, yesterday afternoon.

Loss was the 1st in six starts for the youthful Buick club, comprised largely of recent high school graduates.

Oliver held a 3-2 lead going into the final frame, but GMC came up with two runs on a pair of hits, two errors and a walk in the 7th to win.

Herm Bishop came in to relief GM starter Jack Kratt with one out and three runs across in the 6th. Bishop gave up one more hit, a double by Paul Fournier, and then retired the next five men in a row to earn the victory.

Al Barkeley and Dave Zittel paced General Motors' 9-hit attack with two safeties each.

"You try living under the same roof with him when the Dodgers have just blown one to the Cubs!"

Today's Identity

A fine 2nd baseman in his playing days, principally with the Washington Senators, today's personality probably is even better known as a veteran manager in the American League. Shown as he appeared in 1934, he now bosses his old club, the Senators. He is Stanley (Bucky) Harris.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

PITCHING—Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phillies, pitched the longest game of the season, 15 innings, in beating St. Louis 3-2.

BATTING — Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodgers, tied the modern National League record for long hits with two home runs and two doubles against Milwaukee as the Dodgers lost 6-4.

Record Broadbill Taken by Woman

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Mrs. Lou Marron Brielle, N. J., caught a 773-pound Broadbill Swordfish off Iquique, Chile, last Friday, she told friends by telephone from Miami. If Mrs. Marron's catch is approved, it will become a world record for women. The present mark is 759 pounds, by Mrs. D. A. Allison, also near Iquique.

Mrs. Marron caught her fish on a 24-thread line. She and her husband, Brielle oilman and famous fisherman, head the University of Miami (Fla.) Pacific Billfish Expedition.

Mickey Mantle is said to have a blind spot to chest high pitches.

Tigers Reported Ready to Sign Yewcic for $35,000

By GEORGE WEEKS

EAST LANSING (UP) — Tom Yewcic, Michigan State college and baseball star, was reported today "about to sign" with the Detroit Tigers as a $35,000-plus bonus player.

Yewcic, most sought after of Michigan State's Big Ten baseball champions, has already turned down a $35,000 bid by the Tigers but is reported to still favor the Detroit club, reliable sources said today.

The hard-hitting catcher said he has conferred with representatives of all major league clubs and will meet again with officials of both Chicago clubs "to talk terms" before making a final decision.

Whoever Jewcic signs with, he is expected to become the highest paid graduate of the MSC diamond in the school's history.

Yewcic, voted the most valuable player in the NCAA college world series this spring, is one of five Spartan players "dickering" with major league clubs, Spartan coach John Kobs said.

Challenger's Relatives Take Loss in Stride

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two aged radio listeners, saying little but paying close attention, took it in stride tonight when Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati was beaten by Rocky Marciano in his effort to regain the world's heavyweight boxing championship.

They were Mrs. Maude Foster, Charles' 69-year-old grandmother who reared the ex-champ, and Mrs. Bell Russell, his 95-year-old great-grandmother.

When the fight ended and the decision was announced, Mrs. Foster said, "well, I'm glad it's over. He put up a good fight."

Stevens Refuses Party Invitation

Says No Army Man Should Attend Mundt's Gathering

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens, looking back on the long and bitter days of his dispute with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), voiced confidence today that "the integrity of the Army no longer is at stake."

He also made it plain he intends to decline an invitation to an after-the-hearings cocktail party to be given Monday by Sen. Mundt (R-SD) for participants on both sides —and expects no Army personnel will attend.

Mundt presided over the 36-day hearings, which ended in Washington yesterday.

Stevens, here for a four-day meeting of top Defense Department and armed forces officials, also told newsmen:

* * *

1. "I am absolutely confident that there will be no abuse of Army personnel, in or out of uniform," who appear from now on before McCarthy's Communist - hunting subcommittee. One of the background issues in the row with the senator was Stevens' contention that a general who appeared before McCarthy had been abused.

2. He has no intention "whatsoever" of resigning, but proposes to serve as long as he is of "service to the country."

3. "I feel that the integrity of the Army was at stake. We've been through that now. It must be abundantly clear to everyone that the Army is just as interested and active in ridding itself of subversives as anyone else in the United States."

* * *

In expressing confidence there would be no abuse of Army personnel before the McCarthy or any other committee, Stevens said there would be cooperation, that "from the start of my term of office I have consistently cooperated with all members (of Congress) and committees and I intend to continue that policy."

Secretary of Defense Wilson, who called this meeting of high military and defense officials, expressed his own views about combatting communism in a chat with reporters last night.

He said he thought free men could and must counter communism "without subscribing to some of the things we would finally be willing to fight to avoid." Communism, he said, is a serious matter but "we don't want to back down on our own concept of free society."

Two Teenagers Hurt in Crash at Corner

Two teenagers were injured Wednesday when the cars in which they were riding collided at Paddock and Whittemore Sts.

Treated at Pontiac General Hospital were Miss Joan Colebrook, 19, of 1920 Opdyke Rd., and Robert Moran, 18, of 1076 Bangor, Keego Harbor. Both suffered head injuries.

Miss Colebrooke one of the motorists, said Gerald M. Hall, 18, of 3575 Cass Elizabeth Lake Rd., the other driver, failed to stop for a sign at the intersection.

Editor Alarmed at Censorship

Says Libraries, Schools Afraid to Buy Books of Controversial Nature

ANN ARBOR (AP) — An eastern newspaper editor says a "climate of conformity" has made libraries and universities "afraid to buy books that might offend the sensibilities of a 'McCarthyite'."

Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford (Conn.) Courant, made the statement yesterday at a Communications Media Institute sponsored by the University of Michigan Law School.

Brucker called the situation a "silent censorship," self-imposed by book publishers. He said it has had a "frightening effect."

He said that over the years there has been a trend toward factual reporting. Today's reporting is not perfect, he said, but it gives the public a reasonably balanced and accurate view of what is going on in the world.

Certain types of censorship were defended by Dr. Hugh M. Flick, New York state's movie censor. He said censorship is a "dirty word" to some people, but when properly used is "fundamentally democratic."

Dr. Flick said that some crime movies might result in "education to violence" even though they may not be a direct cause of juvenile delinquency.

Warren E. Baker, general counsel of the Federal Communications Commission, said the FCC "may be concerned" with regulation to prevent abuses if the practice self-regulation.

A spokesman for the motion picture industry, John A. Vizzard, said the industry polices itself so well that it does not need help from government censors.

Tot Found Asleep Upstairs as 200 Search Swamp

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Nearly 200 perspiring searchers last night combed bush and swamp for Holly Chase.

The 2-year-old girl had disappeared during a game of hide-and-seek. Seventy-five policemen, 30 firemen and 25 Boy Scouts joined neighbors in the search.

The firemen tackled a nearby swamp, laying down a board walk as they progressed. The cops manned searchlights.

Finally, 14-year-old Gail Fitzgerald recalled that Holly was accustomed to playing in a neighbor's house, and went there to investigate. She found her sleeping in an upstairs closet where the youngster had hidden 3½ hours earlier.

Feet Rest on 'Speedwalk' but Plans Move Speedily

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

By International News Service

They can roll up the red carpet forever at de luxe trains and planes if only they'll substitute a brand new invention made of rubber and fabric, called a "speedwalk."

Anybody who ever trudged what seems like miles of concrete slabs, ramps and passageways from ticket office to train, from waiting room to plane, even from entrance gate to bleacher seat—any of those foot weary souls, I'm sure, would gladly make the swap, too.

The "speedwalk" was developed by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and recently installed on a long sloped concrete ramp known as "cardiac alley" to the kicking commuters who used the Erie Station of the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad.

It's really a conveyor belt for passengers, a moving sidewalk, a horizontal escalator, capable of carrying 11,000 persons per hour, three abreast, at about half their normal speed and 10 times their normal cheerfulness.

The one at Cardiac Alley moves over a thousand steel rollers and its belt is 460 feet long, but the specifications are variable, to fit any like situation.

And soon will fit many. "Plans are under way," says Goodyear's president, E. J. Thomas, "or under consideration, for the installation of similar passenger conveyors in other railway terminals, airports, large shopping centers and elsewhere."

Millions of wage-earning commuters around all our big cities would get a real lift, as you can see, out of any such mileage magic, and so would millions of housevives who love the brand new shopping centers springing up like edible mushrooms all over the land.

Love them, that is, until they start that three-block trek back across the parking lot on a good hot day, loaded down with groceries.

And how about a speedwalk running, say, from Chicago's lakefront parking lot right to the Loop? Or installed at the Brookfield Zoo in Illinois or the one in San Diego?

I've never been lucky enough to be in Cleveland's baseball stadium, but I hear it has more ramps than runs on a free-hitting day. Nearly all vast places like ball parks, rose bowls, orange bowls and cotton bowls could do with a little surface transportation for the paying customers.

And I'm told many of them soon will. This new travel gimmick seems like a hot idea, too, to travel experts here from France, England, Canada — it's on the march wherever you turn.

Even the shuttle subway between Times Square and Grand Central Terminal in New York — the champion pain in the bottleneck of all time — even that's to be replaced soon with the world's first subway speedwalk. "Construction," says Col. Sidney H. Bingham of the New York Transit Authority, "will begin next September."

And if it can work for the maniac crushes you've seen in a hundred movies, it's a cinch to work in the great open spaces of local shopping centers and travel terminals.

Just thinking ahead at half my normal speed, I'm already moving on a cloud.

Traffic Accidents Cause Two Deaths

DETROIT (INS)—One man was killed in traffic last night and another died from injuries received in a traffic accident last December.

The dead are Edgar Barnett, 49 and Frank Baran, 66, both of Detroit.

Barnett was hit at Seven Mile and Beech, Redford Township. Witnesses said Barnett ran across Seven Mile road into the path of an oncoming car.

Baran died in Receiving Hospital from injuries suffered last Dec. 26 in an accident at Michigan and Junction. Witnesses said that he had stepped into the path of an auto.

In his message to Congress in 1823, President Monroe announced that the United States would remain neutral in the political affairs of Europe and that there was to be no colonization and no intervention by European countries in the Americas.

MIDGET REO FOUND — Joyce Gamrath, 17, of Dearborn, Mich., towers over a 1906 midget Reo and its midget driver, Jack Alongi of Detroit. The small auto was found to be in workable condition after a wide search had located the vehicle in Altoona, Pa., where it was stored in a garage. The late Ransom E. Olds built the car for display purposes.

Wilson Suggests Plan to Shorten Future Hearings

QUANTICO, Va. (INS)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson facetiously has offered a plan to shorten such hearings as that of the Army-McCarthy feud—let all participants go without shaves or haircuts.

Wilson, at the Quantico Marine Base for the opening of a conference of high defense and security officials, humorously told newsmen that he thought the Army-McCarthy hearings could have been concluded earlier by his plan—never advocated "Because I thought I would be misunderstood."

With tongue in cheek Wilson explained: "I had the idea that all participants agree that, until it was over, none would shave or have his hair cut."

In the television era, Wilson thought, it would get results because "nature would assert itself and there would be a human effort to come clean and look respectable."

More than 22,000 women 15 years and older are killed annually in the United States because of accidents, four out of five of them in traffic accidents.

Girl Bitten, Clawed by Protective Feline

Tumbling into a carton containing a mother cat and her new kitten, six-year-old Karen Flynn suffered serious bites and scratches in Birmingham Wednesday when the cat's mother instinct caused it to attack the child, according to Birmingham police.

Karen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Flynn of 3611 Big Beaver Rd., Troy Township, was treated for seven bites on her left arm and shoulder, two severe head bites and severe scratches on her face, back, chest and neck.

She was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Myron B. Freeman, 932 Ridgedale, Birmingham, and had discovered the felines in a neighbor's garage when the mishap occurred.

She was treated by a Birmingham physician. Doctors had to wait until the Flynns returned from out of town today before beginning the rabies treatments.

Star's Divorce Trial Near End

Barker Asking for Half of Movie Star's Wealth as Settlement

BURBANK, Calif. (UP) — The divorce trial of handsome Jess Barker, seeking half of Susan Hayward's wealth, may end today.

Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker presumably will take the case under advisement for time to study the testimony.

Barker, in contesting his movie queen wife's action, contends he is entitled to half their community property. Attorneys stipulated that Miss Hayward's assets total $293,319 plus a million-dollar film contract paying her $5,000 a week.

An accountant, Miss Elva McGuire, testified yesterday that in 1951 Barker earned $318.75 while Miss Hayward grossed $163,692.05, and in 1952 Barker earned $346.50 and Miss Hayward, $210,376.50. Barker testified he has earned $1,500 in the last 18 months and his bank account totals $5,000.

Miss Hayward already has offered him $100,000, payable in the form of alimony over a 10-year period. He spurned that offer although his counsel said the figure would be acceptable in a lump sum as community property.

The mathematical testimony followed testimony by Barker that Miss Hayward once put out a lighted cigarette by rubbing it in his eye. He declined to elaborate other than to say the incident climaxed an argument.

Barker also denied that he held his wife's head under water as charged earlier by the actress.

"I merely dropped her in the pool," he stated.

A dramatic moment in the trial came when Hahn asked the actor if he were still in love with his wife. He looked straight at his wife, who cast her eyes downward, and replied: "Yes".

Armstrongs Rate High as Mr. and Mrs. U. S. A.

BAKER, Ill. (UP) — Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Armstrong are among the few in the nation with the initials of U. S. A. Armstrong, 85, says:

"My father was Don Armstrong and he was a great admirer of Gen. U. S. Grant. But while I have the same first name as the general and late president—Ulysses—my middle name is not Simson, as his was. It is Stinson, so the full name is Ulysses Stinson Armstrong."

William Holden in Hong Kong for Paramount

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — William Holden is on a cruise around the world for Paramount to demonstrate Vistavision. Today he's in Hong Kong.

One person who has been in touch with Bill is Richard English. That's because Bill has formed Toluca productions, his own production company, and his first picture will be an original by Dick called "Viva Americano." The time is 1867, when some of the Confederates moved to Brazil rather than face carpet bag rule. The South American Government will help, since the picture will show how Brazil aided the U. S. A.

Dick spent a lot of time in South America when he went there to write a series of articles for one of the national magazines.

P. S.; Brenda Marshall (Mrs. Holden) joins Bill in a few weeks in Italy.

"Ben Hur" will be made in the Todd-Ao process after "Oklahoma!" is finished. While Nicholas Schenck was here, his brother Joseph showed him some new tests for "Oklahoma!" in this process he was greatly impressed. Meanwhile, Joe is at his MGM office practically every day.

Oscar Hammerstein returned from New York, and the latest casting for "Oklahoma!" (with his approval, of course) is James Whitmore as paw, Ado Annie's father. Ado Annie, as you know, is Gloria Grahame.

I've heard a lot of stories about the Fuller brush man. But this one is a switch in technique.

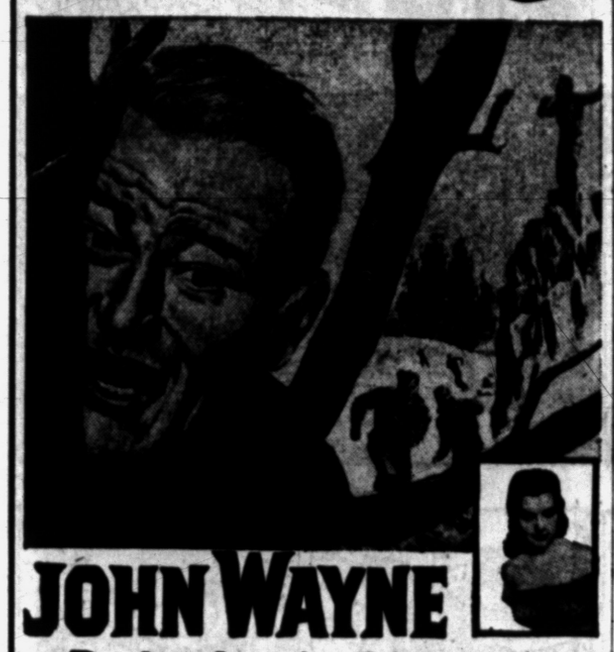

The Fuller brush representative who covers the district where bandman Ted Fio Rito lives told him about a girl down the street with a gorgeous voice. Someone is always telling Ted something like this and it went in one ear and out the other.

On the next visit, Mr. Brush brought along a tape recording of the gal down the block. Result—22-year-old Charlene Campbell, as lovely to look at as she sounds, is just about to become a vocalist in the Fio Rito band—thanks to the brush man who wouldn't take "no" for an answer.

Strikes Occur Less Often as Jobs Become Scarcer

(Editor's Note: An uneasy quiet prevails on the labor scene today. But major contract negotiations in the offing give promise of fireworks ahead. As big unions and management prepare to get together, Norman Walker, a veteran of labor coverage for The Associated Press, examines the whole labor picture and tells what to expect in the last of four articles.)

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Now that jobs are scarcer, are workers less willing to strike?

With strike idleness for the first four months of this year running at a postwar low, the answer appears to be yes.

But to say that workers are less willing to strike doesn't mean they won't if they think the issues important. Just last month an AFL union settled a strike that had gone on for 10 months at a Norwalk, Conn., hat factory. The issue was job security.

That single walkout cost the union, a small one, nearly two million dollars in strike benefits. The workers themselves lost an estimated four million dollars in wages.

Last year was a relatively peaceful one in labor relations. Strike idleness amounted to less than half what it was in 1952.

Yet it was generally overlooked that the number of strikes last year was more than 5,000—nearly a record, although the walkouts were generally small ones that didn't last very long.

So far this year both the number of strikes and resulting idleness are running at the lowest point since World War II.

This seeming reluctance of workers to engage in strikes these days is probably due mainly to the business situation—a realization that employers don't have as many dollars to spend for wage increases as they once had.

Recent plant surveys, however, have strongly indicated that while workers support union objectives they also sympathize with their employers' problems.

These studies show that most workers have "dual loyalty"—that is, while they may be ardent union members, they also have a considerable respect and allegiance for the boss.

It was found that even foremen, who are supposed to represent management in small groups of workers, and union stewards, who represent the union in such worker groups, are loyal to both company and union.

This "dual loyalty" was found even in cases where individual company officers or union leaders were unpopular.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, in analyzing these research findings recently, said "they have definitely disproved the Marxian philosophy of class conflict."

"As long as the company and the union do not represent conflicting forces and try to pull the worker in different directions," Mitchell said, "the workers can be 'loyal' to both and well disposed toward each.

"When there is a conflict between them, however, the employe must choose which allegiance shall motivate his action in the particular situation and circumstances. He must choose between company and union.

"It is to the advantage, therefore, of employer, union, employe and public not to have any conflict, so that the worker can feel a favorable and friendly identification with both his company and union."

Late last year the CIO United Auto Workers struck military airplane producing plants at the North American Aviation Co. at Columbus, Ohio, and Los Angeles. The strike, which lasted two months, was ultimately settled pretty much on the company's terms. The experience apparently didn't sit too well with some of the workers. Many quit the union.

To help build back membership, the union has put the Columbus local under an "administrator," meaning that it is now run by the union's national headquarters.

The union started an extraordinary organizing drive at North American's Los Angeles plants with initiation fees waived and a grand prize of (A) a new automobile or (B) an all-expense-paid trip for two to Hawaii, plus luggage and clothes, for the member enrolling the most new members.

Thus, in these days when workers have some degree of loyalty to both, the union and the employer are handling their relationships with workers more carefully.

Atomic Electricity

PITTSBURGH (INS) — The first civilian atomic power plant, being developed by Westinghouse, will generate at least 60,000 kilowatts of electricity, or enough power to supply the electrical needs of a city with a population of about 100,000.

Feed Grains Hold Steady

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat and soybeans eased slightly while feed grains held steady in routine dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Weather was favorable throughout much of Kansas for harvesting the new wheat crop and traders were expecting fairly large receipts of cash wheat at terminals Monday. The Midwest continued to experience corn growing weather and the 5-day forecast promised more of the same.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/8 to 5/8 lower, July $1.89½, corn unchanged to ¼ lower, July $1.56⅝, oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, July 73, rye unchanged to ¼ lower, July $1.99¼, soybeans ¼ to 3¼ lower, July $3.84¾ and lard 15 to 28 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $15.37.

Business Briefs

NEW YORK (INS) — F. W. Dodge Corp. announced that construction contracts awarded in the first five months of 1954 in the 37 states east of the Rockies totaled $7,500,000,000. This was a new record for the period, topping the 1953 level by 11 per cent and the previous peak set in 1951 by 2 per cent. May awards amounted to $1,900,000,000, a gain of 20 per cent over the same month a year ago.

NEW YORK (INS) — The American Newspaper Publishers Association estimated total U. S. newsprint consumption in the first five months of 1954 at 2,560,584 tons. This compared with 2,575,267 tons in the same period last year.

J. P. Stevens & Co. announced today the formation of an automotive fabrics division with headquarters in Royal Oak. G. A. Brown, named general manager of the division, formerly handled Goodall Sanford Automotive Fabric sales.

Stock Prices Stalling Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was quietly mixed today with a few individual issues standing out.

With only a few exceptions, price changes in either direction were very small.

The static nature of prices was matched by small volume. Business was at a slower pace than yesterday's 1,810,000 shares.

Leaning lower were the rubbers, distillers, railroads, and chemicals. Tending higher were steels, farm implements, aircrafts, building materials, and electrical equipments.

Montgomery Ward was in demand at a fractionally higher price. St. Joseph Lead, up a fraction yesterday, gained around a point today.

General Electric, the top of the most active list the past two days, opened on 3,000 shares up ⅛ at 43 and then held steady. Deep Rock Oil fell between 2 and 3 points in mild activity. Canadian Pacific Railroad was higher and quite active at times.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR MANY friends and neighbors for their kindness shown us during our recent bereavement. Special thanks to the Rev. Dickerson for his comforting works and to the Voorheis Funera. Home. Mr. Thomas Humphries and family.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR husband and father, Leroy E. Holly, who passed away June 18, 1952.
It is lonesome here without you,
And sad and weary the way;
Life has not been the same
Since you were called away.
Sadly missed by his wife Gladys and son Donald and family.

Walter Emcees Summer Show

Is Author of Perennial The Man on the Flying Trapeze and Others

NEW YORK — Walter O'Keefe, veteran songwriter, vaudeville star and television and radio comedian, takes over as host of television's Two for the Money for the summer months, starting July 3.

O'Keefe was born in Hartford, Conn., and attended school there until he was 12, when he went to England to complete his education.

World War I interrupted his education, however, and he returned to America, enrolled at a preparatory school, then Notre Dame.

He worked his way through college. One of several jobs was in the office of a South Bend newspaper.

Walter took part in several of the college musical shows and became a major attraction of the glee club. After graduation he decided against a stage career and became advertising manager of the Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

Later he formed his own ad agency, was quite successful until he was temporarily bedridden with infantile paralysis.

Hollywood soon beckoned. He collaborated with Bobby Dolan on the lyrics for Ina Claire's picture, "The Awful Truth."

In 1930, O'Keefe had his first real radio experience, broadcasting with Paul Whiteman from Los Angeles. One of the boys in the singing group — Whiteman's Rhythm Boys—was Bing Crosby.

After a season on the coast Walter returned to Gallant's in New York and introduced a song he wrote which has become a perennial favorite — "The Man on the Flying Trapeze."

A short while later he co-starred with Bea Lillie and Ernest Truex in The Third Little Show. During the run of this show he guest-starred on top network variety shows, was so successful he was signed as emcee of a coast-to-coast program.

O'Keefe then entered another phase of show business, vaudeville. He toured the nation's leading theaters from east to west. He later returned to radio, headed several top shows.

On television, he's appeared on a number of programs, including a host stint on television's Two for the Money last summer.

O'Keefe has more than a score of songs to his credit, among them "Ever Since the Movies Learned to Talk," written for Eddie Cantor in "Whoopee"; "I Love Love," and "Always a Bridesmaid."

Refugee Says Reds Will Punish His Wife

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—A Polish tanker captain granted political asylum by Nationalist China said today his wife and two daughters in Poland will be punished cruelly for his defection.

"They will be thrown out of our flat; my wife won't be able to get a job and maybe will be imprisoned; my two daughters will be expelled from school," Capt. Leonard Masowski told a news conference.

Masowski and 11 other officers and crewmen aboard the 8,207-ton tanker Praca, seized last October by a Nationalist gunboat east of Formosa, were granted political asylum yesterday.

The skipper said a dispute with the political officer aboard the Praca would have meant 10 years in prison for him had he returned to Poland. And the other 11 refugees would have been jailed because they are his friends.

The political officer and 17 other crewmen are to be repatriated to Poland by the International Red Cross.

Superstitious? Beware Eclipse of June 30th

ANN ARBOR — If you are the superstitious type, here is a checklist you should be prepared to observe during the forthcoming solar eclipse of June 30th.

These and many other "facts" will be broadcast on a special documentary radio program prepared by the University of Michigan Broadcasting Service for statewide airing:

1. The American Indian thought that if a woman looked at the eclipse, she would give birth to a child with a deformity.

2. An Eskimo idea is that household utensils should be turned upside down so they will not catch the unclean essence which falls during an eclipse.

3. One from England is that a person should never undertake any business of importance during an eclipse.

4. Any food in the house during an eclipse must be thrown away, and all earthen vessels must be broken it has been believed in India.

5. In China it has been thought that one should make all the noise possible to frighten away the celestial dragon that is eating the sun.

6. Make doubly sure of all the above, because June 30th is a Wednesday and, according to the ancient Thuringians, an eclipse on Wednesday is especially dreadful.

These are a few of the folk-legends which will be dramatized on the U-M broadcast. The history and the science of solar eclipses also will be treated on the half-hour program which will be heard throughout the state.

Coast Guard Continues Search for 2 at Straits

ST. IGNACE (INS)—The Coast Guard was to resume dragging operations today for two brothers feared drowned last night in the Straits of Mackinac.

The boat of Charles Gamble, 30, and his brother, George, 28, both of St. Ignace, was found overturned three miles east of Mackinac Island.

The United States produced 14,700,000 tons of steel for its auto industry in 1953.

Witness Unable to Pick Kidnaper

Man Who Paid Ransom Says He Can't Identify Wife's Abductor

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A wealthy Phoenix industrialist, who earlier pointed out a man he said he saw when he paid $75,000 ransom, yesterday testified "I don't know" when asked to identify him as his wife's kidnaper.

Herbert Smith gave the testimony at the preliminary hearing for Daniel J. Marsin, 41, when asked by defense attorneys to say if Marsin was the kidnaper.

On Wednesday, under grilling by prosecuting attorneys, Smith testified "that is the man," in pointing out Marsin as the one he saw when he paid the ransom later recovered.

Smith's wife, Evelyn Ann, both before and during the hearing, has said Marsin was her abductor. Marsin, unemployed Phoenix welder, has denied a kidnaping charge.

Judge Al J. Flood will decide perhaps today if Marsin will be held over for trial in superior court. The state rested its case yesterday.

Meanwhile, bond on the defendant was reduced from $50,000 to $10,000.

Gleason's Alimony to Be 14.5 Per Cent

NEW YORK (AP)—Television star Jackie Gleason has signed an agreement giving his wife a separation, custody of their two children and 14½ per cent of his gross salary in alimony.

Terms of the agreement between Jackie and his wife Genevieve were announced yesterday in a written statement which corrected a previous report that the alimony figure would be 15 per cent.

Gleason earned $336,000 last year. If his earnings continue on that scale, the payments will amount to nearly $50,000 a year.

Gleason claims he retained only $63,000 after taxes in 1953.

The Gleasons were married in 1936.

Five Little Ducklings Worth $6,000 to Him

SEAFORD, N. Y. (AP)—Homebuilder Louis Hirsch passed out cigars yesterday in celebration of the hatchin of five little ducklings—an event which meant he could now get back to work.

He said he plans to have a bulldozer and crew back on the job Monday, resuming a ground-clearing job that for 25 days has been held up to permit a nesting wild Mallard duck to hatch her brood.

Hirsch said he figures the delay in the construction job, involving the erection of 49 new homes, has cost him about $6,000.

"It was worth it, though," he said.

Hal Boyle Says:

Frenchmen Unconcerned Over Fate of Government

PARIS (AP)—A man stepped into the hotel lounge and said quietly:

"The government has just fallen."

Perhaps there was frenzied excitement in French political circles over Premier Laniel's downfall, but the collapse of France's 19th postwar government created less stir in the hotel lounge than if a patron had risen and accidentally upset an ashtray.

The barman looked up impassively at the news, then bent down and finished mixing his drink without the slightest exchange of expression. It was as if he were an American League fan, and someone had just remarked a game in the National League had been rained out.

The American tourists in the lounge, including a number of former war correspondents, began talking animatedly about what the new government crisis meant. A few Frenchmen present listened curiously to the conversation. None volunteered a comment.

None said Laniel was a bum and deserved to topple. None protested he was a hero. None said he was a good man trying to carry out a bad program or a bad man stuck with a good program.

They had—or so it seemed to me—the half-bored, half-amused indifference of a group of Broadway characters at a night club casually eavesdropping on a table of Texans talking about how much Dallas needed a good hard rain.

A waiter came by. I ordered a drink and asked, "have you heard the government has just fallen?"

"Yes."

"You don't seem at all surprised."

"No."

"You don't seem very concerned either. Doesn't it worry you that another French government has fallen?"

"Why should it?" he shrugged. "I worry about what concerns me. I take care of myself first—then the other fellow."

"Is that the way most Frenchmen feel?"

"I would say yes."

"Have most Frenchmen always felt that way?"

"Perhaps not," he said, after a moment of reflection. "But it is the way they have felt since the last war."

"Who would you like to see run the government of France—General De Gaulle?"

"No, not DeGaulle," he said. "But it is a matter of little moment to me. They are all out for the money. Me, I take care of myself first, too."

* * *

Later I asked an assistant manager of the hotel the same questions. He had much the same attitude as the waiter—that the governmen of France was hardly his personal problem, and he had his own life to worry about.

* * *

When I asked him what he thought of present French political leaders, he said—very seriously:

"They are all too small. France needs a stronger man."

"How about DeGaulle?"

"DeGaulle?" He looked pained. "No, not DeGaulle. It is not necessary to be a general to be strong. France needs a strong man like Clemenceau—yes, another Clemenceau. But one does not meet many Clemenceaus in a lifetime, isn't it so?"

Out in the streets the normal traffic of Paris pulsed. The flower girls were peddling blooms as usual. The fruit stalls were busy. The only knots of people I saw were waiting for the bus to take them on the long voyage home, and they studied their newspapers in silence.

Along the Seine the season's first fishermen were patiently tossing lines into the stream, philosophically hoping to snare one of those overgrown minnows which is about all you ordinarily ever see anyone catch in the Seine.

The dropping lines made small ripples in the water. And, for all a guy from out of town could tell, that is about all the fall of France's 19th postwar government did. It made a ripple on the commonplace. No more.

In the tidal times we live in, it would have been more encouraging to have seen something bigger than a ripple. There have been times in France's past when the fall of a government stirred waves of purpose throughout the world.

Cadillac

He's Ten Years Younger Today!

Here's a man who has just taken ten years off his age—insofar as his spirits and mental outlook are concerned.

He's going for his first ride in his first Cadillac—and he's a happy, happy man—with his hopes in the sky and his heart singing a song it hasn't recalled for a decade.

He's having an experience which we can't tell you about. You have to live it yourself—at the wheel of that first Cadillac—in order to evaluate it.

You know how it goes. You work and you worry and plan and hope. The years go by—and, bit by bit, you get things done. The insurance creeps up where you want it—the mortgage on the home goes into the fire—there's that nest-egg against the future and the college fund is in the bank.

And then, one day, you feel there's no further need for resisting—so you order the Cadillac—and wait for the happy news—"It's here!"

Your ride home will live in your memory forever. You've put the cap sheaf on your world of dreams.

Of course, this great sense of personal well-being is only the first thrill that comes with your Cadillac.

There's its magnificent performance—its marvelous balance and roadability—and its rare comfort and safety and handling ease. Every hour at the wheel is a privilege—and every journey is a wonderful memory.

Is the time about right for you to step up to a Cadillac?

If so—please come in and see us. The longer we're in business, the happier we are when we deliver a man his first Cadillac.

We'll be waiting to welcome you—anytime.
