City Hospital Rates Boosted to Cut Deficit

Board Also Authorizes Monthly Audit as Aid in Controlling Costs

Room rates at Pontiac General Hospital were boosted to $20 a day by the Board of Trustees last night, as they met to seek further means to pull the hospital out of the red.

The hospital can expect to make an additional $70,000 with the plan, which is designed to cut an estimated $222,000 year end deficit.

The $2 increase, approved unanimously by the eight trustees who attended a special meeting, moved rates for all semi-private rooms and wards from $18 to $20.

Harold B. Euler, acting hospital director, said the hike would take effect immediately and last through the end of the year. "At that time," Euler said, "the board will review the rate structure to see if the increase should remain."

Trustees also approved a monthly "spot check" of hospital accounting procedures by an outside certified public accountant, upon the suggestion of James Clarkson, trustee.

DECISION UNANIMOUS

The board went behind closed doors to discuss the room rate increase and the proposed audit, and then returned in open session to approve both measures unanimously.

Clarkson said he called for the monthly audit in order "to keep all employes on their toes." He denied there was any hint of financial mismanagement which necessitated the monthly checks.

"This will be just another tool of management," Clarkson said. "I want to know if our people are just reporting the figures they want us to know. You know figures can be twisted around in many ways."

Trustees assigned Clarkson, chairman of the board's Finance Committee, the task of finding prospective firms for this job.

"They will be directly responsible to the board and report right to us," the chairman said. The proposal would cost the hospital around $1,800 annually, he said.

Presently, bookkeeping at the hospital is checked in a yearly audit. The hospital also has the services of Louis Swatzburg, comptroller appointed in 1956, available.

The increase in room rates, which was turned down two weeks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lightning bolts killed at least seven persons last night in storms which struck various sections of the nation.

Five lives were lost in central California as unaccustomed flashes shot from thunderheads. Two persons were injured.

And in South Carolina, six Ft. Jackson soldiers on a field expedition were struck by lightning. Five were hospitalized and one returned to duty.

The California storms set dozens of grass and timber fires. Most were brought under control by nightfall.

Joey Kennedy, 14, Patrick Jones, 12, and Stephen Jones, 10, were struck and killed when they took shelter under a tree during a thunderstorm near Vacaville, 60 miles northeast of San Francisco.

Dave Bergquist, 43, was killed while operating a grader near Auburn, 124 miles northeast of San Francisco.

Two peach pickers—Louis Leyva, 40, and Elasco Hernandez, 20 — were burned near Merced, 130 miles southeast of San Francisco. Leyva had his clothing and shoes burned off and Hernandez was paralyzed from the waist down.

Norfolk General Hospital ran on a small emergency generator for over an hour and only key points in the hospital had electrical service.

Lightning shattered the steeple of the First Baptist Church spraying broken slate into the street. Heavy rains caused minor flooding in many areas.

In Lubbock, Tex., at least one death was blamed on the weather as violent thunderstorms dumped up to 5 inches of rain on scattered sections of west Texas yesterday.

Outlook Is Cloudy, Possible Showers

Partly cloudy with little temperature change is the weather outlook for Pontiac tonight and tomorrow. Tonight's low will be near 60 with westerly winds 6-12 miles an hour.

Britain Intends to Seek Summit Around Aug. 11

Macmillan Expected to Put Proposal Bluntly to Khrushchev

From Our News Wires

LONDON — Britain, in close cooperation with the United States, intends to propose a firm date "on or about Aug. 11" for a summit meeting of the United Nations Security Council in New York, diplomatic sources said tonight.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was expected to ask Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev bluntly whether or not he accepts the offer of a top-level Security Council session on Middle East problems.

The British offer probably will be dispatched to Moscow by Friday in reply to Khrushchev's latest summit note, which challenged the West to name any time and place to meet him.

In Washington, President Eisenhower conferred with Secretary of State Dulles today about getting off a speedy note to Khrushchev on bitterly disputed plans for a Middle East summit conference.

The new Eisenhower letter may suggest a date in the next few days for a U. N. Security Council meeting to work out arrangements and a date for a summit session.

Officials said Eisenhower was certain to insist the meeting be held entirely within the regular procedures of the Council.

Dulles went to the White House shortly before noon, about four hours after he returned from the meeting of the Baghdad Pact powers at London.

SENDS ANGRY NOTE

The Soviet leader's message was an angry denunciation of the President's determination to keep the proposed summit meeting in regular U. N. Security Council channels.

Khrushchev accused Eisenhower of deliberately confusing negotiations for a summit session in order to delay its start. He also accused the President by implication of having sent Dulles to the London Baghdad Pact meeting to plot fresh acts of aggression in the Middle East.

Khrushchev said he would prefer a summit session in Geneva outside the U. N.

Some officials said the Khrushchev letter was remarkably insulting for one head of a great power to send another. But they agreed Eisenhower's message of July 25 had been pretty tough in tone also.

Dulles was reportedly struck by the fact that at the end of Krushchev's letter he said he "would like to receive a clear answer when the U.S.A. is prepared to take part in the conference of heads of government of the five powers."

What the United States is prepared to take part in is not primarily a five-power conference but an 11-nation meeting of the Security Council.

However, officials here and Western diplomats at the United Nations have emphasized from the first that if the government heads were actually prepared to engage in serious and constructive talks about the Middle East they could

Confer on Baghdad Pact Support

AP Wirephoto

HUDDLE IN LONDON — U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles confers with U.S. Ambassador to Britain, John Hay Whitney (left) in London Monday, before returning to Washington. They were attending Baghdad Pact conference, Dulles as an observer. The U.S. agreed to cooperate with member nations of pact in their security and defense.

Declaration Makes U.S. Baghdad Pact 'Partner'

From Our News Wires

LONDON—Authoritative sources said today the United States has become "a full partner" in the Baghdad Pact without signing the treaty aimed at keeping Russia out of the Middle East.

They said this was accomplished at yesterday's opening session of the Baghdad conference when Secretary of State John Foster Dulles signed a joint declaration with pact members Britain, Turkey, Iran and Pakistan, pledging support of their security and defense.

The pact members met again today without Dulles. He left for Washington by plane last night. Ambassador John Hay Whitney will represent him.

In Washington, Dulles said today that his diplomatic talks in London strengthened the confidence and morale of Turkey, Iran and Pakistan to meet any new Middle East threat.

Dulles made this remark at the airport as he returned from a weekend flying visit to Britain and West Germany.

Dulles attended, as an observer, the London meetings of the Baghdad Pact powers.

IRAQ STATUS UNCERTAIN

He said the alliance is still called "the Baghdad Pact" even though there is no certainty regarding the status of Iraq, from whose capital the pact takes its name.

★ ★ ★

Iraq was one of the founding members but its new revolutionary government, leaning in some degree toward the Arab nationalism of President Nasser's United Arab Republic, was not represented at London.

One of the problems still confronting the alliance is recognition of Iraq by member states. Iraq is expected to be pulled out of the pact by the revolutionary leaders who overthrew the Baghdad regime of King Faisal July 14.

Dulles signed the declaration after two transatlantic telephone conversations with President Eisenhower. Authoritative sources said the President had made a number of "constructive suggestions" for changes in the declaration as finally approved.

The declaration recalled that the first article of the 1955 Baghdad Treaty provided for cooperation among signatories for security and defense.

The declaration reaffirmed determination of all "to maintain their collective security and to resist aggression, direct or indirect."

It concluded by stressing that the United States, in the interest of world peace and pursuant to present congressional authorization, agrees to cooperate with the nations making this declaration for their security and defense, and will promptly enter into agreements designed to give effect to this cooperation.

★ ★ ★

Sources said the United States signed the declaration and promised stepped up military and economic aid to Turkey, Pakistan and Iran to give a "psychological boost" to the alliance and thus make up for Iraq's expected defection.

Only 1 Survives Maine Tragedy

8 Killed in Crash of AF Jet

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP) — A B52 jet bomber crashed today three miles south of Loring Air Force Base, killing eight men. The craft was on a routine training mission.

The big plane was approaching the airfield with a ceiling of only 400 feet. It was raining at the time. The bomber crashed in a field three miles from the Maine-New Brunswick border.

There was only one survivor—Maj. Moody E. Deaton, of Dennison, Tex., an instructor pilot. He was taken to the base hospital where his condition was described as good.

The plane was attached to the 42nd Bomber Wing.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The cause of the crash was not determined, an Air Force spokesman said.

Residents in the area said the plane barely missed the farm home of Carl Ireland. They said wreckage was scattered over a 20 acre area. Some of it caught fire.

B52 bombers are equipped to carry nuclear weapons. They cost an estimated eight million dollars.

Angered Cabinet Moves to Boycott Presidential Election Thursday

From Our News Wires

BEIRUT, Lebanon — A rebel assassination bomb just missed Premier Sami Solh today and the angered cabinet promptly moved to call off Thursday's presidential election.

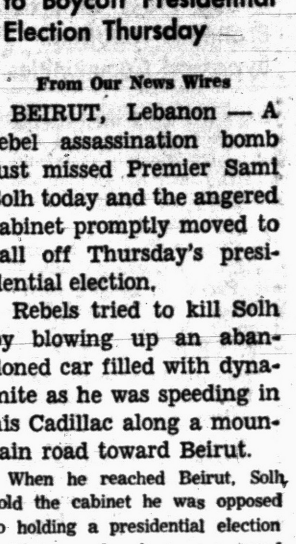

Rebels tried to kill Solh by blowing up an abandoned car filled with dynamite as he was speeding in his Cadillac along a mountain road toward Beirut.

When he reached Beirut, Solh told the cabinet he was opposed to holding a presidential election until law and order was restored in Beirut.

The cabinet promptly voted to boycott Thursday's scheduled voting unless army chief of staff Maj. Gen. Fuad Shehab, the top presidential candidate, mops up rebel pockets in the capital beforehand.

Shortly after Solh spoke to the cabinet the heaviest daylight firing in weeks broke out around government headquarters, the post office building and the main square. Pedestrians and motorists scrambled for cover.

Investigators Charge Goldfine in Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators today recommended contempt of Congress proceedings against Bernard Goldfine, gift-giving friend of presidential assistant Sherman Adams.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) said the investigating subcommittee's recommendation would be submitted soon as possible to its parent, the House Commerce Committee.

If endorsed by the full committee, the contempt citation would go to the House.

And, if approved by the House, it would go to the U.S. district attorney for handling as a criminal case.

The contempt accusation is based on Goldfine's refusal to answer some two dozen questions concerning his financial dealings with Boston real estate companies of which he is majority owner.

First Returns Favor Faubus 100 Per Cent

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A fairly heavy early vote was reported today as Arkansas decided whether to nominate Gov. Orval Faubus to a third term.

The first returns came from the Mount Olive community near Melbourne in north Arkansas. Fourteen persons voted for Faubus. His opponents received no votes.

Faubus, hoping that his stand in the integration crisis would reap a landslide victory, faced two opponents in the Democratic preferential primary.

Some 300,000 of the half a million eligible voters were expected to cast ballots, including possibly 50,000 of the 60,000 eligible Negroes.

Should Faubus not win a majority today, he will face the runner-up in a runoff second primary Aug. 12.

The two candidates opposing the controversial incumbent—Chris Finkbeiner, 37-year-old Little Rock meat packing company executive, and Lee Ward, 51, of Paragould, Ark., a state court judge — both conceded Faubus an excellent chance to lead the preferential ticket. But they pinned their hopes on forcing the governor into a runoff.

Both Ward and Finkbeiner have strongly criticized Faubus' action last September when the governor prevented nine Negro children from entering Little Rock Central High School by placing a cordon of National Guardsmen around the school.

Back Ike on Mideast Talk

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three senators urged the Eisenhower administration today to stick to its demand that any over-all Middle East settlement be attempted only through the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

They expressed the opinion in separate interviews that it would be a mistake to agree to the five-power conference outside the U.N., as suggested by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

However, Mansfield, a U.N. delegate-nominee, said the United States should go part of the way by agreeing to a Security Council meeting in Geneva.

Khrushchev, noting that French Premier Charles de Gaulle has urged a meeting in Europe away from the publicity glare of the U.N. said he was ready to meet in Moscow, Geneva, Vienna, Paris or any other place.

Mansfield said the U. N. Security Council could meet in Geneva "in the cool and detached atmosphere that De Gaulle desires and that I think is needed.

"This would be away from the glare of publicity in New York and it would not involve the security problems that might be encountered on any visit of Khrushchev there."

But Mansfield said he is against agreeing to Khrushchev's proposal for a conference of the United States, Britain, France, The Soviet Union and India outside of U.N. auspices.

Humphrey, a former U.N. delegate, said Khrushchev had "laid himself wide open" by proposing a conference of this nature.

"We ought to get busy telling the smaller nations that what Khrushchev wants to do is to have five big nations sit down and carve up the world," he said. "We should stick to our demand that the Security Council set the rules for any summit meeting, with the smaller nations participating in that action."

Humphrey said he believes the meeting ought to be held in New York but would raise no objections if a decision were made to transfer it to Paris or Geneva.

Capehart said the matter of a Middle East settlement "belongs in the Security Council and if the Russians are unwilling to go there we should tell them there will be no meeting outside."

To Eye Effects of New Roads

Group Plans to Probe Economic Situation in Bypassed Communities

LANSING (AP)—Economic effects of planned superhighways which will bypass Michigan communities will come under the scrutiny of the Michigan Good Roads Federation.

J. Carl McMonagle, federation president, announced yesterday that Frank W. Suggitt, head of Michigan State University's Department of Resource Development, will direct the study.

"Attempts by highway administrators to alleviate congested conditions by rerouting highways to outlying areas, or bypassing municipalities, have brought cries of distress from local businessmen and civic organizations in some instances," McMonagle said.

McMonagle said the study will focus on communities already bypassed by expressways to determine what the economic effects have been. Effects of other highway improvements also will be studied, he said.

Under plans laid out by Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, some 900 miles of four-lane divided highways will lace Michigan within the next decade. Many will bypass communities now situated on major trunklines.

Pole-Bound Blimp Held in Thick Fog

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP) — The "Flying Sausage" was bogged down in pea soup fog today, but its crew hoped to have it high and dry in the sky again soon.

The 343-foot Navy exploration blimp, carrying a crew of 14 and a group of International Geophysical Year scientists, is bound for the ice island known as T-3, a floating weather station in the Arctic Ocean.

If the expedition is a success, the SPG-2 blimp will be the first Navy airship to fly over the North Pole.

But the Flying Sausage has been dogged by bad weather since it took off from South Weymouth, Mass., Sunday night on what was to have been the first leg of a flight to Churchill, Man.

The blimp first headed toward the Hudson River, to follow the Hudson Valley north to Canada.

But the blimp hit rough weather and a temperature inversion which caused the helium to expand.

With fuel running low and some helium escaping, the blimp was sent to the Naval Air Station here.

Instead of approving the increase July 15, trustees instructed Euler to make additional personnel cuts which would amount to a saving of $50,000.

Back in June, the board agreed to major reductions in personnel and pay cuts of employes. The latter failed when the union of employes repeatedly balked at the plan.

Euler announced last night so far only 10 more employes had been placed on the "release list" as part of the added personnel cut proposal. "This is not producing enough of the sought-after savings fast enough," he said.

He said he didn't think more could be discharged without hampering patient care. Around 75 have been released to date.

Another move taken by the trustees, aimed at bringing in more revenue to a depleted treasury, was to boost emergency room charges to $5 from the present $3 for days and $5 for nights.

An additional $10,000 might be forthcoming as the result of this move, trustees learned.

The new charge, effective immediately, is a minimum charge and does not cover service costs Euler said.

Somewhat of a lesser step was taken when trustees decided to taken when trustees decided to remove one service person who in the past has served during coffee breaks. The reduction is part of the additional 10 persons cut recently, the acting director said.

Board Chairman Willis M. Brewer named a seven-member committee of trustees, headed by himself and William P. Babcock, to screen some 12 applications for a new director.

Area Marines Training at Grosse Ile Station

Currently participating in two weeks of active duty for training at the Naval Air Station, Grosse Ile, are Pontiac area Marine Air Reservists.

The annual duty is designed to supplement their one weekend a month duty with training in the latest equipment. The entire Marine Air Reserve program was created with the plan of keeping Marine Reservists as a well-trained force-in-readiness.

Sharpening their teamwork and tactics at Gross Ile now are members of Attack Squadron 222. August 10 Marine Air Control Squadron 19 and Attack Squadron 231 will begin duty at the base.

Primary mission of the "Flying Leathernecks" is to provide air support to the Fleet Marine Force. The reservists report to Grosse Ile to study, train and take refresher courses in all fields of Marine aviation.

Codename for the widespread summer training program of the Marine reservists this year is "Operation Brace," which is of special significance with the Marine force now deployed in Lebanon.

During the training period, the part-time Marines engage in night flying, bombing, gunnery, and aircraft maintenance problems.

Engineer Was Head of Heat Treating Firm Which He Founded

Rowland H. Starr, 58, of 7385 Old Mill Rd., Birmingham, founder and president of the Starr Heat Treating Co., Detroit, died yesterday at William Beaumont Hospital after a short illness.

Prior to starting his company in 1942, he was employed in the engineering department of Studebaker Corp. for 15 years. He was a graduate of the Detroit Institute of Technology.

Mr. Starr was a member of the First Presbyterian Church. He also was active as a Mason, being past master of University Lodge 482, F&AM; a member of King Cyrus Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of Detroit; past commander of Old Guard of Detroit; Commandery 1, Knights Templar; past wise master, Michigan Sovereign Consistory, and a member of Moslem Temple Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

He was also a member of the Detroit Athletic Club, Noontide Club, Detroit Golf Club, Rotary Club, Northeast Kiwanis Club and the American Society of Metals. Mr. Starr was on the Board of Directors of the Salvation Army in Detroit and a trustee of the Presbyterian Synod of Michigan.

Surviving are his wife, Cretal A.; three sons, Rowland E., Frank J. and Charles R., all of Birmingham, and a sister.

Service will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday at the First Presbyterian Church with burial in Acacia Park Cemetery.

The body will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. until 1 p.m. Thursday.

meet as a committee of the U.N. Security Council.

If the committee included India's Prime Minister Nehru this would seem to satisfy the requirement of Khrushchev for a five-power conference. It would also fulfill the specifications of Macmillan and Eisenhower for a conference within the U.S. Security Council.

Officials said Eisenhoewr and Dulles are still thinking as they were late last week in terms of a summit session at New York around Aug. 11 or 12.

Some authorities felt Eisenhower should counter Khrushchev's blast by announcing he will show up for a high-level Security Council meeting, whether or not the Soviet leader shows up.

They recalled that the Soviet Union threatened to boycott the current Geneva technical talks on disarmament, but changed its mind when American officials went to the meeting despite last-minute Soviet objections.

The White House foreshadowed Eisenhower's attitude when it announced that there was no change in the President's proposal for keeping the meeting within the U.N. despite Khrushchev's newest blast.

The Day in Birmingham

Police Department Wins Traffic Safety Award

BIRMINGHAM — "The monotony of this occasion is something we can enjoy and view with pride," Mayor Carl Ingraham of Birmingham said last night as he presented a traffic safety award to Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley and Lt. Lyle Service in behalf of the International Assn. of Chiefs of Police.

This is the third consecutive year the award was won by the Birmingham Department. It was presented to the local department for its outstanding record in traffic safety, based on its driver education and law enforcement program.

Ingraham said the department should be commended for its continued efforts in making Birmingham streets among the safest in the nation.

"Too often we reach the top and then relax," he said, "Promotion of traffic safety is a permanent job."

Assistant City Manager Robert Kenning last night asked for more time to prepare a report on the Manor road sewer.

A complete survey and report should be made, he said, because this is an area problem.

An open ditch in the Birmingham Forest Hills subdivision was brought to attention of city commissioners last night.

It is a health menace because of sanitary sewage in the open ditch and other obnoxious materials, particularly bad along Shepardbush road, the Property Owners Assn. charged.

Commissioners approved the appropriation of an additional $740 for shrubs in Shain Park. The 55 plants will include two species of Japanese yew, firethorn and white birch.

An appropriation of $600 was approved last week for a sprinkler system in the park.

Unsightly trees and shrubs have been removed. The slab walk that bisected the park has been taken up and will be used to pave the center mall. New plantings will be made in the area, according to Charles Gale, city forester.

Supervised playground activities, riflery, golf and junior sports will end Friday, Robert Girardin, recreation director, said today.

The last Day Camp trip from playgrounds to Springdale Park will take place Thursday.

Girardin stressed that this does not mean the end of summer recreation. Park facilities and swimming instructions and other activities will continue to be available, he said.

Several Birmingham youngsters will take part in the Junior Olympics at Belle Isle Thursday, Girardin said. Tryouts will be held at Pierce Field in Birmingham tomorrow.

Capt. Charles L. Tabor, of Mount Clemens, Mich., and Monticello, Ill., was killed after bailing out over Anchor Bay at a low altitude. A base spokesman said Tabor's parachute didn't open fully.

The 35-year-old Korean veteran and father of three had requested an emergency landing when his jet fighter caught fire. The request was granted and the field was cleared.

But Tabor, apparently afraid the burning plane might crash in a populated area near the base, instead decided to head the fighter out over the water.

Tabor, who held the Air Medal with one oak leaf cluster, was pulled from the bay by a fisherman from a nearby boat, but died on the way to the base.

tion a split second longer, Solh would have been blown to bits.

The dead included a policeman on a motorcycle, three gendarmes, and four persons in a car just ahead of Solh.

The heavy firing in Beirut occurred around the main government building, in Capital Square near the post office, and in the Zerif quarter near The Associated Press office. Security forces fired guns from armored cars in reply to rebel small arms and automatic rifle fire. Dynamite explosions were heard.

An American-style car, thought to be a taxicab, had been parked there three days, with a rock under a wheel.

As the Solh procession approached, a policeman stepped forward and ordered the green car to be pulled to the side of the road and permit the Solh car to go ahead. At that moment the explosion occurred, knocking the motorcycle and the green car far down the slope.

A prime minister is a Moslem by custom in this half-Christian, half-Moslem nation and a president a Christian. Reasons for the attack on Solh were not immediately clear since most rebel animosity in the nearly three months of rebellion has been against President Chamoun.

Parliament Speaker Adel Osseyran told The Associated Press there is general agreement among all parties that the army commander, Gen. Fuad Shehab, will be elected to succeed pro-Western President Camille Chamoun.

Osseyran said Shehab would get a virtually unanimous vote when Parliament meets to elect a president Thursday.

Shehab has been mentioned as a candidate, but until now censors had eliminated such mention of him in dispatches from Beirut.

A leading member of the national front, which opposes Chamoun, likewise said: "It appears settled. Most of us have already said we are willing to support Shehab. It looks as if he will be president."

If the rebels and the government supporters do unite behind Shehab, he may be able to end the 81-day-old rebellion of anti-Chamoun forces who opposed the president's Western leanings and reported ambitions for a second term. An end to the rebellion presumably would result in the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Lebanon.

The man, between 35 and 40 years old and armed with what was called a "Wyatt Earp-type" long barreled revolver, spent only two minutes in the bank before driving off in a stolen blue 1952 Ford. The car was found abandoned shortly afterwards nine blocks from the bank.

The man took $13,000 from Mrs. Joyce Rockwell's cage and then stuffed $22,340 more from the window of Mrs. Geraldine Schmier, 34, Flint, into the flour sack he carried and ran out.

Mrs. Rockwell, 33, of nearby Swartz Creek, told police and the FBI that the man was a "gentleman to us all. He was polite but firm." She was one of the three women tellers in the bank during the holdup. Manager Andrew Weir, 35, Flint, was at lunch.

Mrs. Rockwell said the gunman wore a tan shirt, a tie, beige pants and a blue work handkerchief covered the lower part of his face. The handkerchief fell from his face at one point and Mrs. Rockwell said he swore and jerked it back into position.

Mrs. Marion Bricker, 26, of suburban Flushing, was the other teller at the bank office. There were no customers in the bank at the time, although Mrs. Rockwell attempted to signal a customer outside who had just left and was told to "get your hand down."

The car the gunman used for the holdup was reported stolen in Flint a week ago.

Wife Gone 31 Years, Judge Grants Divorce

DETROIT (UPI) — "She will never come back to me," said Detroiter Walter Ellison yesterday in asking Circuit Judge Joseph A. Sullivan for a divorce.

43 U.S. Airmen Held in Iraq

HABBANIYAH, Iraq (UPI) — Forty-three U.S. airmen who came here to teach Iraqis to handle MIG-killing Sabrejets have been held in "protective custody" on this British-built airbase since the July 14 coup, it was announced today.

Lt. Col. Paul Goodwin, of (Williams Field) Chandler, Ariz., said there have been no casualties among the Americans and no serious incidents. In fact, they are living the life of Riley—and so are some 1,100 Britons, airmen and their families, who also are confined to the base.

Iraqi guards cordoning the sprawling airfield 55 miles west of Baghdad have barred the approaches to "unauthorized persons" who might have wished to molest the Westerners.

"We're lucky," Goodwin said. "We have two swimming pools, 20 or 30 tennis courts, movies and a gymnasium . . . The men have plenty of amusement to keep them out of trouble."

Certainly none of the captive Americans visible today showed any signs of nervousness about their plight—although S-Sgts. Donald M. Jackson, of Newark, N. J. and John Mitchell, of Leslie, W. Va., had their problems.

They had got hold of a fine, ripe watermelon, and they were fending off attempts by other Americans to cut in on their prize.

A-2C. Charles Harris, of Lewisburg, W. Va., sat on the sunny veranda of a British-built barrack clad only in shorts.

"I'm getting a little more tan," he said.

The desert surrounding the 70 million dollar Habbaniyah Base is as desolate as a landscape on the moon, but the living quarters adjoining the field itself are beautified by carefully-tended gardens and tree-shaded streets.

Amply-equipped service clubs are available to the five U.S. officers and 38 enlisted men—transferred here from U.S. bases in France and West Germany—who were caught by the Iraqi uprising. Goodwin said the Americans will remain here until they are ordered out.

Army Reveals Elvis Won't See Another Leave

MEMPHIS (AP) — Sorry, girls, but it'll probably be a long time before you see Elvis Presley again.

The Army plans to send the rock 'n' roll idol directly to Germany—with no leave time en route.

The Memphis Press-Scimitar learned the disquieting news today in a telephone chat with a public information officer at Ft. Hood, Tex., where Elvis now is stationed.

Lt. Col. Marjorie Schulten, a WAC officer, told the newspaper:

"The program which Pvt. Presley is training under does not provide for leave time off upon completion. He'll be o r ders for his next assignment the day he completes his training—probably the 3rst week in September."

The Memphis singer is undergoing 14 weeks of advanced armor training at Ft. Hood. He entered the Army last March.

Seized Barracks Next to National Palace

Report Haiti Rebel Band Wiped Out

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —A band of exiled army officers seized barracks next to the National Palace early today but the rebels were reported wiped out in a swift government counterattack.

The band, believed to number no more than six, landed by launch under cover of darkness, commandeered trucks and seized the yellow stucco Caserne Dessalines back of the palace shortly after midnight.

The band captured 50 soldiers after a brief clash in which the army said three soldiers and an artillery officer were killed.

Government forces counterattacked, liberated the soldiers, then killed the last holdout rebel in a burst of gun fire, the army reported.

Radio Port-au-Prince said the rebels were supporters of former President Paul Magloire, now in exile in the United States. It also said two Americans were in the rebel group.

Shooting broke out shortly after midnight.

A succession of radio announcers over the only station in operation this morning urged the people to arm themselves and go to the palace to defend President Francois Duvallier. The radio also summoned all soldiers to the palace.

The situation was extremely confused and no one seemed to know what was going on. Among the armed civilians in the streets was the underminister of commerce, Lucien Chauvet. Coatless, Chauvet carried an automatic carbine of U. S. manufacture. He was with a group similarly armed.

A newspaper reporter asked Chauvet what was happening. "I don't know yet," he replied.

Palace sources expressed the opinion the rebellion was led by two former army captains who have been in exile in Miami, Alix Pasquet and Phillip Dominique.

They were regarded as supporters of Magloire, who was overthrown by a general strike in December 1956 after serving as president six years.

The radio said rebels also had seized the army barracks at St. Marc, about 100 miles north of Port-au-Prince. St. Marc is a small port city with a highway leading into the interior.

U. S. Ambassador Gerald Drew warned American residents here to keep off the streets.

Although the radio said "the enemy has two Americans with them," there was no identification by name.

President Duvallier has held office for the past nine months. During that period he has survived three conspiracies against his government.

Jules Blanchet, Haitian minister of state without portfolio, said Drew has been "going too far in our internal affairs."

Blanchet said his government will ask the U.S. State Department this week to recall other members of the diplomatic staff in Haiti in addition to Drew. He indicated that Drew and the other U.S. officials had openly supported Dejoie.

Last Boat Docks Tonight

Frisco Ferries Bow Out

By BUD SPRUNGER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ferryboat service—once as much a part of San Francisco as fog, cable cars and the smell of roasting coffee—ends tonight when the San Leandro delivers its last train passengers.

The Southern Pacific road's boat is the last of what was once the largest fleet of ferries in the world, a company flotilla that numbered 43. SP's fleet and others in San Francisco Bay were doomed by three big bridges.

On hand when the aging San Leandro arrives at the ornate Ferry Building from the Oakland train mole will be a small army of nostalgic bay buffs, many of them former commuters who have long since been chased off boats that ran from many points across the bay. They have been watching the ferry lines disappear for almost 20 years and this is the absolute end.

SP, which hung on the longest, finally convinced the Interstate Commerce Commission and the California Public Utilities Commission that the cost was too high.

After 89 years of SP ferries, train passengers now will be put aboard buses in the East Bay and transported across the San Francisco Oakland Bay bridge into the city.

In the past, tourists got their first view of the city and its hills from the deck and the landing was a noisy affair with fog horns, yelling deck hands and raucous sea gulls.

In 1930, the peak year, the SP alone ran 43 white boats and in that year carried 40,211,535 passengers and 6,117,186 automobiles. That was before the depression and the Bay, Golden Gate and Richmond-San Rafael bridges.

Although it had the largest fleet, SP was not alone. Among the other firms was the Key system, which operated the two biggest and finest boats, the Peralta and the Yerba Buena.

Key, primarily an East Bay trolley and bus service, ran passenger boats exclusively from its own mole to the ferry building. The Yerba Buena and the Peralta, built in 1927, were huge, orange, turbo-electric, steel boats — each with a good restaurant, a bank of bootblacks, a huge newsstand and a few claw-type gambling machines.

Key started in 1903 and quit in 1939 when the Bay Bridge was completed. The Peralta was towed north to Puget Sound, streamlined and renamed. The Yerba Buena hung on longer as government property. Renamed the Ernie Pyle, she hauled soldiers from San Francisco to Camp Stoneham until 1954.

Most of the boats carried commuters.

Despite fog and crowding, there never was a serious collision from the time John Reed started the first boat to Sausalito in 1826.

End Garbage and Trash Worries

ENJOY...A CLEANER HEALTHIER HOME

Go Modern with Gas!

Dispose of garbage and trash automatically without going outdoors to a smelly, unsanitary garbage can or trash burner.

Now, for a few cents a day, you can get rid of that unsightly garbage can with its flies and vermin.

Today's automatic gas incinerators consume garbage, papers, trash...anything except metal or glass, quickly, safely and economically without the slightest trace of smoke or odor.

The new smokeless, odorless gas incinerators are designed to meet the stiff requirements set by the American Gas Association. By meeting these standards the incinerators are completely acceptable in communities which restrict the use of conventional burners.

Ask your Gas Appliance Dealer to tell you more about automatic incinerators. The low cost will surprise you!

Hal Boyle Says:

Can Still Make a Million Bucks in Laughs

"People say 'Cut out the comedy,'" he remarked. "But don't believe them. There's a million dollars in it if you can make enough people laugh.

"In what other business can you make a million dollars—and carry your inventory in your head?"

Youngman, celebrating his 25th year as a one-man gag factory, has long been known in the trade as one willing to help a talented young beginner find his way around.

What does it take to get started as a comedian today?

"It was tougher in the old days," he said. "The main thing you had to have was a willingness to starve while you hung around comics who worked—and learned how they did it.

"Now nobody wants to starve anymore, not even beginners.

"The thing you need most today is wealthy parents, or a do-it-yourself comedy kit consisting of $50,000 in the bank.

"You start out by telling jokes until you become the life of any party you attend. Then someone will tell you, 'You're a riot. You ought to be on the stage.'

"After that you go to a diction school and learn to talk with your mouth full of marbles. Each day you drop one marble. When you've lost all your marbles, you'll be a comic.

"Then you take your $50,000 out of the bank and spend it buying fresh jokes, costumes, building a number of routines, and finding an agent. By the time you've spent the $50,000 you should be working — or else you'll never laugh again."

Henny has an unfair advantage over most comedians. He was born in Brooklyn. But he insists he became a comic in self-defense.

"I was a fiddler in a dance band, and a lousy one," he admitted. "The couples used to make comments on my playing as they danced by, and I started to wisecrack back. Things just went on from there. I used my bow less and less — and my mouth more."

Henny is what is known as a standup comedian. They have one of the toughest jobs in show business—to go out cold on a stage, without props or plot, and make an audience of strangers laugh, whether they want to or not. This is an art which even Jackie Gleason, one of the most astute situation comedians of his day, has never quite mastered.

"There are very few bombshell or boff comedians around now—such as Milton Berle, Red Skelton and Bob Hope," said Henny.

"It's a new age of comedy—the age of charm. The tiptoe comedians have taken over. They have crew cuts and the little-boy appeal.

"They are lightweight charmers and they get light laughs. They don't have to be hilariously funny—just charming and pleasant. The audience loves them, so anything they say is funny."

Youngman isn't bitter about the change. Just philosophical. He feels there will always be room for a few rapid-fire old - timers such as himself.

Henny has noted one other major change in recent years.

"Men used to be the biggest hecklers in night clubs," he said. "Now it's the women.

★ ★ ★

"I suppose it's a reaction against being held back for so many years. But when a group of them go into a night club they want to be heard — they want everyone to know they are there, and spending a few bucks."

"Some women bring happiness wherever they go. But you bring happiness whenever you go.

"If Moses had seen you, there'd have been another commandment.

"But you have to be careful in squelching women," said Henny. "You try to kid them, not murder them.

"They might have a big escort along."

3-Year-Old Swallows Two Screwdrivers

EMER, N. J. (AP)—Three-year-old Ronald Seeman wasn't at all excited about swallowing two miniature screwdrivers.

He toddled up to his father last night and told him about it. The father, very much impressed, rushed his son to a Philadelphia hospital where doctors put the boy under observation.

Lady Molly Divorcing Her Errant Knight, 66

That cleared the way for Mrs. Hitchcock and Sir John Huggins to wed. They've been waiting in an apartment somewhere in Hampshire for the happy day.

Neither of the lovers defended the divorce actions. Lady Huggins named Mrs. Hitchcock as co-respondent and Hitchcock named Sir John, who is the grandfather of three.

Lady Molly, 50, announced June 30 that she had traced Sir John and Mrs. Hitchcock to a hotel in Rapallo, Italy. She said if he would come back she would forgive him, and expressed the belief he would do so because "he is getting a little old for that sort of thing."

Sir John came back, all right, but not to Lady Molly. Arriving at London Airport with Mrs. Hitchcock on his arm, he told reporters they were in love and planned to marry as soon as their mates divorced them.

The divorce decrees become final in six months.

Sir John and Lady Molly, who were married 29 years ago, have three married daughters, one of whom has three children.

Mr. Maitrott died unexpectedly yesterday at his office, following a heart attack. He was the owner of the Sinclair Station on West Fifth street and was a member of the First Congregational Church in Rochester and the Rochester Lions Club.

A Lions Club memorial service will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the funeral home.

Deaths Elsewhere

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brig. Gen. Joseph W. Beacham, 84, veteran of the Spanish-American War, Phillipine campaign and World War I who coached the West Point football team in 1911 when President Eisenhower was a cadet player, died yesterday. When the President met the general during a visit in 1953, he asked, "Oh, brother, are you as tough as you used to be?" Beacham was born in Brooklyn.

★ ★ ★

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Levant, 60, brother of Oscar Levapt, the pianist who became a television personality, died yesterday. Dr. Levant, a surgeon, suffered a heart attack while he was performing surgery in Montefiore Hospital.

★ ★ ★

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Luzerne A. Blue, 61, a first baseman with the Detroit Tigers in 1921-26 and subsequently a player with the old St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox, died yesterday. He had been ill with arthritis.

128 Millions for State Roads

Michigan's share of Federal funds for road building will be 128 million, according to announcement Sunday by Secretary of Commerce SINCLAIR WEEKS.

★ ★ ★

These funds will be for use during the fiscal year of 1960, which begins next July 1. The total Federal aid for road building is 3.4 billion, which is the largest apportionment ever made.

According to the Weeks announcement the funds were being allocated 11 months in advance so that states might make plans ahead of time to help insure an uninterrupted road building program.

It is interesting to note that several states, including California, Ohio, New York, Illinois, Texas and Pennsylvania, all received more Federal money than Michigan. Apparently these other states had a stronger road lobby or showed greater need in order to top Michigan in the road money allotment.

Oakland County, being the second largest in the state, should certainly share in proportion to size and population in this 128 million. With today's congested highways, plus the future growth for this area, it would be foolhardy to think that Oakland County's share would be anything other than first or second.

★ ★ ★

Our needs are by far the greatest with one exception—Wayne County. Present and future growth in this area is tremendous. We need roads in the worst sort of a way and it is up to the Oakland County Road Commission to see that we get our just share.

★ ★ ★

For the second largest county in the state to settle for anything less would be jeopardizing our future growth and not playing fair with the Oakland County taxpayers.

Iven Kincheloe's Death Big Loss to Everyone

This nation loses a valuable airman in the untimely death of Captain IVEN C. KINCHELOE. He was scheduled to become our first Outer Space Man.

★ ★ ★

Captain Kincheloe had been flying our faster fighter planes for some time and currently holds the world's record of 126,000 feet. He was slated to test the new X-15 when it was built and this wisp of a ship was designed to fly 4,000 miles an hour — twice as fast as man has ever gone before. Heroes like this die in the interests of science and contribute to the progress of civilization and the advancement of mankind.

★ ★ ★

And yet we recognize quickly that this is probably scant recompense to a young wife who lives at home with a 19 month old son and who is preparing for a second child. A void exists here that a hero's medals and wide acclaim cannot counter balance.

★ ★ ★

Michigan and the middle west had an especial interest in the great air-man as he hailed from our sector and attended Purdue. He has made great contributions to the world's progress. We hail a great man who died a hero's death.

World's Largest Sub to Be Launched Soon

Triton, the world's largest submarine and one of the first to use two nuclear reactors, will be launched in August at Groton, Conn. The ship is being built by General Dynamics Corporation, Electric Boat Division.

The radar picket submarine Triton, designed for long endurance duty as a fleet early warning station, is 447 feet long and has a surface displacement of 5,900 tons.

This is more than one hundred feet longer than any of the three currently operating atomic submersibles. For a comparison of size, if the Triton were placed on end, it would be as tall as a 35 story building.

Prior to this time the largest previous submarine was the Japanese plane-carrying submersible, I-400, a 400 foot, 5,222 ton ship built in 1943. Of the U.S. submarines, Triton succeeds the Argonaut of 1928 as the largest. The Argonaut was 381 feet long.

Of the 22 nuclear submarines thus far authorized for construction, the Triton is the lone radar picket ship.

★ ★ ★

The addition of this new ship to the United States Navy fleet should serve notice that our fleet is one of the most modern in the world today.

Into the Really Wild Blue Yonder

Reds Favor U.S. Passport Ruling

WASHINGTON — Will Congress do anything about legislation to control the issuance of passports? The Communists hope not, as they could build up a more effective apparatus inside the United States if Congress did nothing about the problem.

LAWRENCE

For the President recently was deprived of a vital part of the discretionary power he has always had, since the foundation of the republic, in conducting the foreign relations of this country.

By a five-to-four ruling, the Supreme Court decided that the government cannot, through passport control, interfere with the movement of Communist spies and Communist agents who may wish to travel back and forth and deliver military secrets to the enemy.

For decades past the Executive branch of the government here has had the power to decide who shall or shall not leave the United States to travel in countries which are unfriendly or hostile to America.

But now the Supreme Court says, in effect, that no such power exists and hints broadly that, even if Congress passes a law specifying the conditions under which passports may be denied, this may conflict with what the court construes to be a constitutional "right to travel" anywhere on the globe.

The justices put an unprecedented emphasis on individualism. They say, in effect, that the rights of the majority of the American citizens may be put in jeopardy in order to uphold the rights of individuals irrespective of loyalty questions.

For several days after the decision, there was some criticism of it in Congressional quarters, but now the indignation is mounting and it is significant that President Eisenhower, for the first time in his administraton, has specifically asked Congress to enact a law reversing a Supreme Court decision.

The State Department has hitherto believed that denial of passports to Communists is in line with the intent of Congress as expressed in the Internal Security Act of 1950, and that it is within the Executive authority because of the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, which authorizes the Executive branch of the government to control the departure of American citizens through the handling of passports.

The Department of Justice and the Department of State have drafted a bill designed to supply the necessary authority to deny passports to communists.

It is assumed that American citizens, when traveling abroad, might arrange for the flow of cash and information and assist in the taking of steps to promote the Communist conspiracy inside the United States.

The State Department is not asking that the Executive branch be given the power to control the entrance or departure of American citizens in peacetime, but simply to deal with a problem when there is a national emergency or when the national interests of the United States might be jeopardized.

City's Centennial

Time to Begin to Prepare if We're to Celebrate It

Teenage: When children question answers.

First suggested in this column a couple of years ago, the idea of properly celebrating Pontiac's centennial immediately was favored by a great many, including several city officials.

The Date is 1961.

Advance notice was given in order to allow plenty of time for the preparations. Other cities have made the occasion a program for a series of events covering a month or two.

It was on March 15, 1861, that Pontiac became a city, with a population of about 3,900, by special act of the Michigan legislature. It then shook off the village status which it had carried since it was incorporated as such on March 20, 1837, under one of the initial acts of Michigan's first legislature, that being the year that our state was admitted to the union.

Have you any ideas as to how we should celebrate our centennial? This column will be glad to receive them. Our sister city of Flint did it in a big way a few years ago, but were somewhat handicapped because their advance preparation was hurried.

Dedication of our new city library seems to be in line for about that time. Let's set that date right now, for the exact anniversary, March 15, 1961.

A letter bearing a Rochester postmark, with the signature,

"Much Freckled, but Proud of It," says, "I'm growing a new crop especially for your contest." It's in a feminine hand.

Space limitations do not allow verbal orchids for any birthday under the 80th, or wedding anniversary under the 50th.

An inquiry comes as to what we know about

The Boss Stage Line.

It was the only scheduled means of transportation on the Saginaw Trail, now the Dixie Highway, in Pontiac's early days. The stages were drawn by horses, Detroit to Pontiac being a full day's trip, here to Flint another, and Flint to Saginaw another.

The Country Parson

"With men and apples it's pretty hard to polish the outside if they're rotten on the inside."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Use Salt Within Reason, Increase in Hot Weather

DR. BRADY

A person exposed to great heat needs extra salt — ideally a good pinch, perhaps five grains, with every drink of water or other beverage. This prevents heat cramps, heat exhaustion, sunstroke. It makes cold water or other beverage more refreshing. With the extra salt it is a good idea to take some extra sugar.

A person doing hard manual work in a hot environment probably loses considerable vitamin B1 as well as salt and water, in profuse sweating, so he should take a good ration of vitamin B1 every day. Sweat evaporates so rapidly in the very dry atmosphere in New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada and Southern California that one may not realize how freely he is sweating, losing salt and water, and so fail to observe these precautions.

The most noticeable effect of taking too much salt is flabbiness of all body tissues — muscles, heart and artery muscle, skin, mucous membranes, particularly lining of the breathing passages, nose, sinuses.

To the best of my understanding — as a student of health — salt-free or salt-poor diet is only of limited value if the patient has habitually taken too much salt in or on food, and is actually harmful if the patient has not had that habit. Therefore if I had hypertension or high blood pressure I would not follow a salt-free diet for more than a week or two. I think it is absurd and a little cruel to keep any patient on a salt-free diet indefinitely.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

"Since you recommended castor oil for warts, we have used it with great success. Two members of the family have taken moles off the skin by daily application of castor oil." (B. R. W.)

Answer — Anyway it can do no harm to try.

"Would like your comment on wheat germ oil. It is recommended for . . . what is its value?" (M. K. N.)

Answer — In my opinion its value is less than the value of wheat germ in nutrition, and wheat germ is less valuable than wheat. Wheat germ oil is the richest source of vitamin E. If you are very credulous it may seem reasonable that vitamin E somehow works magic, or that wheat germ oil will cure this or that, or that wheat germ will produce a result that the plain wheat from which it comes will not produce. Use plain wheat in your everyday diet and you will get every benefit you can get from vitamin E, wheat germ oil or wheat germ.

Explains First Aid for Heart Attack

Everybody may have a heart attack, so scrapbook this case. And be sure you know how to render "first aid" to your own heart via the deep breathing strategy below. And don't think your doctor is spoofing when he prescribes 6 weeks of bed rest for a serious attack. See the vital reason why, as outlined below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Y-374: Henry D., aged 52, is the heart attack victim mentioned yesterday.

★ ★ ★

DR. CRANE

If you ever suffer a heart attack, or even imagine you are having one, by all means lie down, for this places less of a load on your heart.

Then indulge in rapid, forced deep breathing, for this strategy will quickly increase your available oxygen for that laboring heart.

During the attack itself, your heart needs rest, plus oxygen. We medics administer bottled oxygen or place you in an oxygen room at the hospital.

But you can give your own heart a richer supply of oxygen, wherever you lie, just by this rapid, deep breathing.

The pain of a heart attack is due to lack of oxygen, so you can often reduce the heart pain just by your deep breathing. It may tip the scales between life vs. death during those vital few minutes till the doctor arrives.

HEART REPAIRS

In a typical heart attack, there is a plugging of a little branch of a coronary artery.

★ ★ ★

If the affected area is very small, the patient may just feel sick all at once and break out with a cold sweat. He usually thinks he has a stomach upset or an attack of indigestion.

If the affected area on the heart wall is larger, say the size of a dime, he may gasp for aid and feel a knife-like pain, although he may still be conscious.

So the fact a patient retains consciousness suggests he has a better chance of recovery, for it indicates a smaller area of muscle that is affected.

Doctors then urge bed rest for as much as 6 weeks. For that strangled area of the heart muscle dies and begins to dissolve.

About the 10th to 14th days, it is a weak spot on the wall of the heart which may split open and cause instant death.

★ ★ ★

If you ever filled a paper bag with water, you know that the paper soon gets wet and then bursts.

Well, that's comparable to the heart at the 10th to 14th days.

Any extra strain, as by walking or trying to go upstairs, may raise the blood pressure just enough to cause sudden death from a rupture of this weak spot on the heart wall.

But as the affected spot dies and dissolves, it is steadily being replaced by tiny fibers of scar tissue. They are tough and after about a month, they have formed a scar to fill the entire area of the dead heart muscle fibers.

At the end of 6 weeks of bed rest, therefore, your heart is fully repaired. It is as good as before the attack. It will not burst because of effort as might have occurred at the 14th day.

And that former heart attack is water over the dam. It can't harm you any more, so don't be a victim of a lifelong dread of past events.

It is possible, of course, that lightning can strike twice, so you might have another attack. In fact, some patients suffer several heart attacks and survive.

But don't think your doctor is exaggerating when he urges bed rest of six weeks duration for the severe heart attack patient. It's just good horse sense.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Expresses Deep Gratitude for Help Available Here

I should have written this long ago. I've been alone for over two years to raise three children and it gets mihgty rough being two parents. However, if it had to happen, I'm glad I live here, because the State of Michigan, Oakland County and City of Pontiac have done much to lift the load.

The State grants me A.D.C., enabling me to stay home with my babies. Crippled Children's Society gets necessary special shoes for the baby and St. Joseph clinic takes wonderful care of all of us.

The County gives medicine when necessary, and when I can't make ends meet, County Welfare boosts me over the hump. The sweetest visiting nurse comes now and then to see if everything is o.k. The Salvation Army, Exchange Club and other organizations which operate in that way, send us to camp for one carefree week each summer. We've just returned and I feel I can pick up the load once more with renewed strength and determination.

We've been adopted by a Birmingham Scout Troop which made Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter unforgettable. My children came home from Elks Carnival free day with stars in their eyes. Never had they had so many rides at one time. A year or so ago, the Metropolitan Club was most kind and generous at Christmas.

★ ★ ★

I'm not writing to brag because I've had so much "for nothing," but to express my deepest gratitude that these things are possible. As soon as I can, I'll go to work and make room for someone else, but right now when my babies aren't very old, I really thank everyone — case workers, clubs and all that God uses to help His children when necessary.

To Replace Pilot Killed in Jet Crash

He's Named for First Space Trip

★ ★ ★

Sometime within the next two years, if everything goes according to schedule, Air Force Capt. Robert M. White will be piloting the X15 higher than man has ever flown.

The Air Force predicts the research plane now under construction will have an altitude potential of 100 miles.

It wasn't until last weekend, when his good friend Capt. Iven C. Kincheloe was killed in a jet crash, that White knew he would be replacing Kincheloe as the No. 1 man in the highly secret X15 program.

★ ★ ★

Prior to that, he had been Kincheloe's "backup pilot."

How does he feel about his new status?

"I'd feel fine about it if it had come about in any other way. As an individual Kinch cannot be replaced. He was an entity in himself."

How did he get started in aviation?

"When World War II began, I was 17 and I decided I wanted to fly."

Tanned and trim, White has a handsome combination of blue eyes and brown hair that makes him look younger than his 34 years.

His natural poise is backed up by experience — 4,200 hours as a pilot, including 52 combat missions in World War II and Korea.

★ ★ ★

It was during the Korean War that White made application for the flight test center at Edwards Air Force Base, his station the past four years.

What about making hazardous, space-age flights on a captain's pay?

"I guess it's just our orientation. It's sometimes taken lightly, but those of us in the service feel we have a responsibility to the American people. We like our work. It's a matter of contentment."

★ ★ ★

White said he works 9 to 10 hours a day — six days a week sometimes — and spends much of his spare time reading technical manuals. Does his family object to this schedule?

"I'm blessed with a very patient wife."

White married the former Doris Allan of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., 10 years ago in his native New York City. They have two youngsters.

White, interviewed after a secret conference here on the X15 program, said the space aircraft will be carried aloft under the wing of a B52 bomber piloted by Capt. Charles Bock of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Somewhere in the lower stratosphere over Utah, Capt. Bock will release the X15 and White will fire the rocket plane's powerful engine. It's anticipated he may hit 4,000 m.p.h. in his missile-like climb.

Italian Premier Talks on Mideast With Ike

Fanfani is reported ready to stress a combined European-American aid program as a means of easing the Middle East crisis. He has no single spectacular plan to unveil, aides said, but is eager to win American backing for the objective.

Vice President Nixon, in welcoming him last night, noted that he came at a very important time in the efforts of free nations to help countries maintain independence in the face of outside threats.

'Man in the Street' Gives Opinion on Rochester Incorporation Issue

Voters in the village of Rochester and a three-square mile adjoining area in Avon Township will go to the polls Tuesday to decide whether they want to be incorporated as a city.

Most of the Village Council has gone on record as favoring incorporation while township officials, many village merchants and National Twist Drill & Tool Co., the area's largest employer, have made it known they are opposed to it.

The people, however, will make the decision.

To see how they feel about becoming a city, the Pontiac Press took a sampling of opinion from the "man in the street" yesterday afternoon in downtown Rochester. This is what we found:

WEBBER

Charles A. Webber, owner and operator of Webber Cleaners, 404 Main Street, is against incorporation at this time.

"I feel the proposed boundaries should have included more of the areas south and east of the village to take in Detroit Broach & Co. and the Parke Davis and Co.," said Webber, a Rochester businessman for the past 31 years.

He also believed increased taxes levied by the city would tend to keep new businesses and industry from locating there.

Miss Joanna Spilak of 102 Cloverport St. and a shop employe at Twist Drill said:

MISS SPILAK

"I think becoming a city would destroy the small town, village atmosphere which many of us want. I don't think we are ready for incorporation yet."

She has lived in Rochester for 16 years.

Mrs. Catherine Benson of 406½ Main St., who operates a book store at the same address, is for the proposed city.

"Rochester is a growing community and eventually will become a city," she said. "If it doesn't incorporate now, it would lose its identity if Avon Township decides to incorporate."

Mrs. Benson doesn't believe there is a tax issue involved. "You get what you pay for," she said.

MRS. BENSON

"A city form of government could better handle the problems of a growing area," she believed.

Eighteen-year-old Mollie Eberle, who graduated from Rochester Community High School in June and who is employed as a hardware store clerk in the village, said:

"I like Rochester as it is. I plan to stay here and I wouldn't want it to become city."

MISS EBERLE

Glenn Witsoe of 336 Glendale Ave. Rochester, is opposed to the city because "taxes are high enough already." A tool and die maker at GMC Truck and Coach Division, Pontiac, he owns his home and has two sons in college and another in high school.

"I can't see any way the city would benefit me. The village can't take care of its population now the way it should. How could it service a larger area?" he asked.

WITSOE

Several other persons questioned felt they couldn't vote on the incorporation because they weren't property owners in the township or village.

All qualified voters, whether property owners or not, are entitled to their say in the election. To be eligible to cast a ballot, they must live either in the village or the township area proposed for incorporation.

Milford Family Takes 8 of 22 Awards

Black and White Cattle Show Held Here

The Carlos Long family, 2875 Sleeth Rd., Milford, walked off with eight of the 22 awards given at the annual County Black and White Show Saturday at the 4-H Fair Grounds in Pontiac.

The show, sponsored by the Oakland County Holstein Breeders Assn., was judged by O.F. Foster of Clarkston, Holstein breeder and former manager of the nationally famous Lakefield herd, according to Jay Poffenberger, county agricultural agent.

Long won the Get-of-Sire class trophy for his three offspring from the same sire. The award was presented by Mrs. Laura Turner, owner of Devon Acres, Oxford. Long also took the award for the best females from the same farm presented by the Van Hoosen farms of Rochester and the junior bull calf class award.

Douglas Long, his son, won trophies for the best senior heifer calf, 4-year-old cow and the 4-H Showmanship Junior Boy award. Janet Long, a daughter, won the senior girl 4-H Showmanship Award and Brenda Long, another daughter, won the Junior Girl Showmanship honor.

CHAMPION AWARDS

Keith Middleton's herd of Lake Orion won in the Produce of Dame class, which is made up of two offspring of the same cow. Middleton received a plaque from Pine Row Farms of Rochester.

The Senior Boy 4-H Showmanship Award was won by Bill Middleton of Lake Orion.

To Study Bids for Fire Truck

Waterford Committee Appointed to Replace 17-Year-Old Vehicle

A committee was appointed by the Waterford Township board last night to study bids for purchase of a new fire truck to replace the 17-year-old model at station No. 2.

A representative from each of the three fire stations in the township, Fire Chief Edward Smith, and a board member form the committee and will submit recommendations at next week's regular meeting.

The lowest bid of $15,672 was from the Firemasters Corporawith the Peter Pusch Company, a close second with a $16,000 bid. Separate bids were opened for the chassis and fire hose and these were also referred to the committee for recommendation.

In other business, Mark Stewart and Mrs. Donald Adams were at the meeting representing the Drayton Plains businessmen requesting the blacktopping of the township-owned parking lot behind Dixie highway stores.

The board accepted the offer of the businessmen to pay half of the $10,000 for blacktopping to be done on the 1½ acre plat which was deeded to the township six years ago.

A resident, A. T. Anderson, 4050 Cass-Elizabeth Lake Rd., was present protesting the fill-dirt operation of the Baden Excavating Company near the Anderson home.

He said that the company is cutting into the soil leaving a high bank. "This could become a serious problem in the case of a flash flood because the road is so low at that spot," he told the board.

The township attorney advised Anderson that there was nothing the board could do about the problem as the area has been zoned commercial.

★ ★ ★

The township board accepted the preliminary road plat of the Rainbow Lake Subdivision No. 1 located between Dixie highway and Rainbow Lake. Albert Pauly and William Hartman are the local developers of the new 27 lot subdivision.

Lifeguard Tries Swim Across Lake Michigan

CHICAGO (UPI) — Lifeguard Joe Griffith, 30, today dived into choppy Lake Michigan waters in his second try to be the first man to swim across the lake.

He appeared optimistic. "If the breaks go right, I'll make it," he said.

About 30 persons, including Bill Bachrach, 79, who trained famed swimmer Johnny Weismueller, saw Griffith kiss his wife Phyllis, and then plunge into the water.

Griffith will follow a 36¾ mile route from Chicago to Michigan City, Ind. This is the same route the young lifeguard followed last August when he was forced to give up because of eight-to-ten foot high waves after swimming nearly twenty miles.

Avondale Teacher Wins Scholarship

AVONDALE—Walter Pesauento, an industrial arts teacher at Avondale High School, was one of 70 state school teachers awarded all-expense scholarships from the Automobile Club of Michigan to attend the 30th Driver Education Institute at University of Michigan Aug. 4-15.

Satisfactory completion of the two-week session, featuring both classroom and behind-the-wheel instruction, will qualify teachers as driver-training instructors for state secondary schools.

The institutes, sponsored twice each year by the University, the State Department of Public Instruction and Auto Club, have graduated more than 2,000 driver instructors since the course was initiated in 1939.

Michigan Man Killed in Alaska

Tragedy Ends Venture on Rugged Slopes of 18,000-Ft. Mountain

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Four young mountain climbers set out to scale the rugged slopes of 18,000-foot Mt. St. Elias, but only three came back.

Leo Slaggie, 22, Albany, Calif., arrived here yesterday for treatment of frostbite and told how 23-year-old David Tolland of Grand Rapids, Mich., was killed when snow piled high by a blizzard collapsed their tent.

Ray D'Arcy of Boston and Ritner Walling of Philadelphia dug away the snow but not quickly enough to save Tolland, who suffocated.

The climbers made their way over rugged terrain to the fishing village of Yakutat 70 miles away —a trip that took them eight days. There, Slaggie was picked up by a Coast Guard plane.

Means War, Town Tells U.S. Army

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The town of Guilderland has declared war on the Army. The brass won't loan the town a spare bridge.

The battleground is a spot on Normanskill Creek, where a bridge crumpled June 8 when a heavy civilian truck rumbled across.

Town officials asked the Army for a Bailey bridge as a temporary replacement. It keeps several at a big supply depot in the town.

Guardsmen have been fording the creek to reach the range. With the road barred, they would be forced to climb the barricades or trespass on private property.

Target practice is Sunday. Town officials say the next move is up to the Army.

Rescue 49 From Sinking of Japanese Freighter

The 7,613-ton vessel ran aground Sunday 45 miles east of the southern tip of Formosa. It listed to the starboard and the holds took water. It sank before a salvage tug could reach the scene from Hong Kong.

Watchdog a Criminal

OGDEN, Utah (AP)— City Dog Pound Master Jay Hebert showed police where a screen door had been ripped out and a door damaged. Officers rounded up four-footed suspects from the pound and pinned the crime on a watchdog with flecks of paint on its lips and teeth.

Boy Describes Voyage

Swept Through Sewer

CLEVELAND (AP) — What's it like to be swept along for more than four miles by a wave of rain water in a dark storm sewer?

Here's how Terry McGuire, 13, one of four boys swept into the sewer, described the experience:

"We were playing at this great big opening in the ground, like a tunnel. We went in and walked a little way. Then we heard this water rushing down. We tried to get out, and the water just carried us down.

"I was sliding along in the water. I was sitting down like, and the water was up to my waist. Boy, it was really dark. I could see a manhole above me only once in a while.

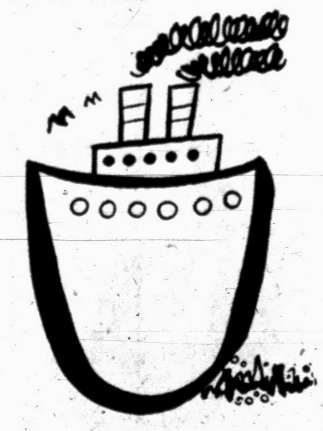

"My friends got ahead of me and the water started getting higher. It gradually was coming up to my chest. I was just about ready to give up. Then I saw this big opening like. The water slowed up. When I got to the big opening I was able to stand up and walk out.

"I was definitely scared. I was praying. I said the Act of Contrition, the whole thing."

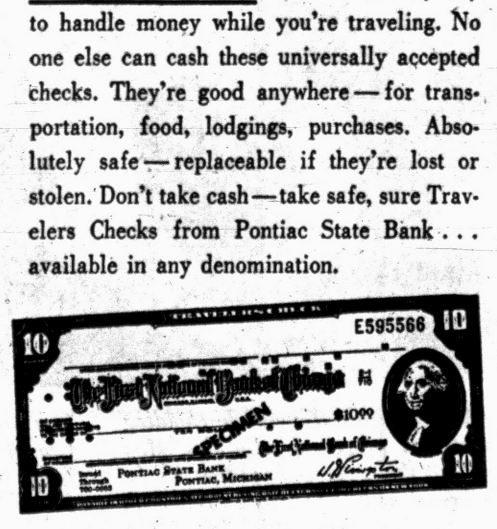

Two of the boys, Fred Davis and Kevin McInerney, both 13, managed to cling to a ladder leading to a manhole cover about halfway along the route. Fred's brother Thomas, 14, and the McGuire boy made the full trip.

Khrushchev Must Be Well-Guarded Here

NEW YORK — If Khrushchev comes can springfields be far behind? The question is not so much whether a shot might be taken at him but how many and from what directions. The best security minds of the U.S., Britain and the Soviet Union are now at work figuring ways and means of reducing that terrible probability to a meagre possibility.

The architects of the U.N. buildings in New York devised half a dozen ways for VIP's to enter and leave without brushing through a crowd. If this would indicate the builders' faithlessness in the efficacy of the organization whose store they were putting up, well, sue them.

The real problem of the security men will be to protect their man to and from his job not once he is in his chair. A helicopter would simplify matters if Khrushchev uses the country place the Russians own.

But, if he makes it to New York, Khrushchev's travels about the area will be much more extensive than the commuting bit, and a lot of it is sure to involve rides through crowded streets, walks through hotel lobbies and reception lines and all the other muscular rituals which have come to be associated with peace-making since the old fashioned handshake, or peace pipe, went out of fashion.

Any security cop will tell you that there is no guarantee against crackpots or schemers with real or imagined beefs of a murderous bent. A White House Secret Service man once put it this way: "There's only one thing we really can do about people like that, and that's to guarantee that whoever tries it will be dead a second after he lets go."

Few men in public life want the kind of guard their governments provide. Calvin Coolidge used to try to hide from his Secret Service followers, like a mischievous child. FDR gave Mike Reilly and others at the White House a hard time, now and then, wholly unconcerned by the memory that a crazy bloke named Zangara was shooting at him when he killed Anton Cermak.

Eisenhower gets restless and impatient when told such things as when he must leave the White House, by which streets he will be taken to this or that point, what time he will arrive and so forth.

For days before even a simple trip to the ball park in Washington, White House Secret Service men ride through the chosen streets (measuring mileage and time) and go over the ballpark and its rafters with a fine-tooth comb.

When the President placed the Congressional Medals of Honor on the coffins of the Unknown Soldiers of World War II and Korea last Memorial Day — in one of the world's most peaceful settings — Secret Service men stood like sentinels on the parapet of the Arlington amphitheater.

On the ground that World War III might result, and with it a possible end to millions of lives in the first few hours of such an unthinkable conflict, if something happens to Khrushchev in this country, we are prepared to take even more precautions in his behalf than in the case of the President or any other dignitary who ever visited the nation. Common sense requires it.

If he comes, he gives the secret police of all concerned nations a headache, the man's personality and ham-quotient being what it is. His rides in an open car through the streets of Geneva at the last summit conference forced the White House to get the President out of his old bullet-proof Cadillac limousine (which he had used during the war) and send him on a planned shopping tour through a toy shop.

"I don't see anything in here my grandchildren would like," Ike kept grumbling, annoyed by having to offset the good publicity the Russians had gotten by showing themselves to the burghers. Jim Hagerty's man coughed loudly and said, "Right this way, Mr. President," and led him into the store and out of earshot of the reporters.

Mr. K., a remarkable propagandist, will want to shoot the works if he comes, to prove he's not an ogre. His guards, consequently, will have to sweat out the job of working the shoots.

Cranbrook Has Arrived Musically

Finest Artists Perform at Summer Concerts

By MAX E. SIMON

The director of Cranbrook Gardens Summer Music Festival is an untiring champion of the cause of fine music. He is determined that such music shall be heard by as wide an audience as possible.

It was Olefsky who approached officials at Cranbrook with the idea of an annual summer music festival. The brilliant cellist of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, who has been responsible for both the programing and the scheduling of artists, has made the Cranbrook series, now in its second year, one of recognized national importance.

Olefsky's programs are well-balanced, with compositions performed from the baroque, classical and contemporary periods. "We're not interested in performing works only of the well known composers," Olefsky says. "This is immaterial.

"It's up to the artists and audiences to decide whether the music is great."

All the artists in the Cranbrook series have been American born and trained. They have gained fame through national and international musical competition. Olefsky himself bested Van Cliburn for the Michaels Music Award in 1953 in Chicago.

Olefsky hopes that next year the Cranbrook series will be both improved and longer. This year's festival consists of four programs.

OTHERS FEATURED

Last Sunday's concert featured, in addition to Olefsky, Gordon Staples, violinist, and Ruth Meckler, pianist.

Miss Meckler, a pupil at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia and a student of the world-famous concert artist Rudolf Serkin, opened the program with a performance of sections of the Bach Partita No. 6. Her musicianship and interpretation are of the highest quality and there is no doubt that Miss Meckler is destined for greatness on the concert stage. Her performance received a prolonged ovation from the large audience, and shouts of "bravo."

Prior to intermission, she accompanied Staples in the Beethoven Sonata No. 1, and Olefsky in portions of the "Suite Italienne" by Stravinsky.

The highlight of the concert, however, was a performance of the Tchaikovsky Trio in A Minor. The performance which this powerful, indeed overwhelming masterwork received, could not easily be surpassed. The insight which the artists poured into the work and the blending of instruments was equal to any which the greatest of artists could achieve.

PROBLEMS TO SOLVE

A few problems in connection with the festival are still to be ironed out. Although the surroundings are unquestionably conducive to fine chamber music, the programs should be transferred next year to the Greek theater, which is better acoustically and which could seat the audience.

Few seats are available at the terrace behind Cranbrook House, and many elderly concert-goers have the choice of developing a backache by sprawling on the lawn or standing throughout the program. The concerts should be held in the evening so that the sun would not broil the listeners and the music would not overlap dinner hours. The programs now begin at 4:30 p.m.

Two other problems face Cranbrook officials. First of all, they must stop the concerts from going to the dogs. Throughout the performance Sunday, a huge German Shepherd strolled about the area occasionally wandering on stage, distracting both the audience and the artists. Secondly, the terrace should not be allowed to become a playground for children during the concerts.

★ ★ ★

It was announced that Cranbrook musical festival performances are being recorded and will shortly be released for national distribution.

Keep Gloves Clean

Pastel gloves, whether fabric or leather, are pretty and feminine. But if they're to serve their purpose they must be spanking clean. This means a washing after such wearing.

Officers Installed by Club

They are: Mrs. Duncan McVean, president; Mrs. Lula Luby, vice president; Agnes Hilton, recording secretary; Mrs. John E. Carhart, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Alice Sibley, treasurer; Mrs. Bessie Brown, friendship chairman; Mrs. William Kreklow, tea chairman; Mrs. Frank MacGregor, membership chairman, Mrs. Frederick C. Ziem, program.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Kreklow and Mrs. Edith Tick. George F. Taylor, chief assistant Oakland County prosecutor, showed movies and spoke to the group about his recent European trip.

Guests were Mrs. Etta Hibler, Mrs. Rose Chase of Bloomfield, N. J., and Mrs. Charles A. Sparks.

Mrs. Earl Martin Back From Trip

Mrs. Earl Martin of Mohawk road has returned from a visit with her daughter's family, the Dan Driscolls of Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Driscoll and her three sons, David, John and Peter, are now here with Mrs. Martin. Last week they all vacationed at Mackinaw City.

Mrs. Driscoll has been honored at several luncheons and picnics.

Men, of Course

Who Started Chemise?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Men shouldn't complain so much about chemise styles for women—it was a couple of men who started the thing in the first place.

Most of the responsibility rests with the mysterious Spaniard who some call the "world's greatest designer"—Cristobal Balenciaga of Paris, who created the first "laundry bag" dress back in 1955.

The other man to blame—or bless—is New York dress manufacturer Larry Aldrich, who spent two years convincing buyers this was THE new style.

The result of the Balenciaga-Aldrich efforts are important: The best predictions are that you will be wearing the unfitted silhouettes for the next 5 to 10 years.

Mind you, it's the "unfitted" silhouette you'll wear—not the "sack." The "sack dress" as we've seen it is dead.

Tracing the history of the new style is a little like checking a family tree—some of the sprigs are misleading. But fashion experts agree that whatever you call it—sack, chemise, bag, shift or "unfitted" — the loose silhouette was launched by Balenciaga in January 1955.

Villain Is Tension

If Insomnia Cure Works, Use It

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The number of sleeping pills sold each year testifies to the fact that insomnia is widespread. Whenever I read about this, a sea of heads tossing on pillows appears in my imagination.

Millions of words have been written about sleeplessness and victims have been advised to do everything from taking mild exercise to drinking warm milk. Then there is the time-honored routine of counting imaginary sheep as they jump over an imaginary fence. Just be sure to get sheep that have insomnia or they may go to sleep on you!

The newer thought is that insomnia is mostly psychological, although sleeping equipment which is uncomfortable can keep one awake. However, the reason you have trouble getting to sleep is more apt to be mental or emotional. If you take the problems of the day, or frustrations, to bed with you, if you jump from a rushed day right into bed, with no intervening lull, you are asking for trouble.

The important thing is to soothe the emotions and be at peace mentally. How to do this? What works for one person does just the opposite for another. Just try many of the procedures suggested until you discover the one which pleases you. It does not matter whether or not there is any scientific reason for its success. So long as you think it works for you, it will.

Soft music is relaxing and sleep-inducing to many folks. The theory of mild exercise or of lying on the bed and consciously relaxing all of one's muscles, brings splendid results to many. If the body is completely relaxed, it is difficult to be tense emotionally.

READING

Some find that reading in bed or even a game of bridge after dinner sends them snoring. However, if the game or the book is too exciting either may have the opposite effect. A bedtime snack is helpful to others.

Repetitive, rhythmic sound is lulling. We all know this because of our experience with the soothing sound of the drip, drip, of rain on the roof, or the pounding of the waves on a beach. There are several gadgets on the market which have similar sound effects.

One important thing to remember—worrying about not getting to sleep will keep you awake. Turn on the light and read for a while and don't give a hang or feel guilty about it.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow: Some facts and fallacies about sleep, among them the fact that you insomniacs get more sleep than you think you do.

'Howdy, Stranger!'—Abby

All Boils Down to One Thing

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Will you please explain something? WHAT is a stranger? My wife and I are grown adults (61 and 63) and we often go to a night-club where there's dancing. Men stag it there. I don't dance every dance but my wife would like to.

ABBY

"When a perfect stranger comes over to our table and asks her to dance she introduces herself and then he introduces himself and asks me if she can dance with him and I am forced to say yes, go ahead. I say she is dancing with perfect strangers, but she says when a friendly gentleman introduces himself he is not a stranger. Now is my wife dancing with strangers or isn't she? Thank you kindly."

NO DANCER

DEAR NO: Your wife is dancing with strangers. They may be courteous strangers and they may be friendly strangers, but they are still strangers.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My blood boiled when I read that letter from the man who said he didn't know why the modern woman made such a howling fuss over a natural little thing like having a baby. Then he had the nerve to compare us with dogs and cats who crawl into a corner and don't bother anybody with their suffering! Men act big and brave, but very few of them could stand the ordeal of giving birth to a child. That is why God, in His wisdom, assigned the noble task to women."

MOTHER OF TEN

"DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 24 and refuses to work. She thinks she's got pure royal blood in her or something. She doesn't lift a finger to help me with the housecleaning or cooking. When the food is on the table she comes to the table. When she's through eating she goes in and looks at TV. Can you help me do something with this lazy creature?"

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: If you allow her to lounge around like "royalty" you are as much to blame as she. Tell her to get off her paid vacation. If she's healthy, she can find a job.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I hope when you read this you won't think I am a silly school girl. My problem is I am in love with a married man and he is in love with me. I am 22 and he is 26 and so is his wife. She won't give him a divorce and she is costing him $25 a week. She won't leave him alone although they live apart. She waits outside his rooming house to talk to him and follows him everywhere he goes trying to get him back. How can I get her to leave him alone?"

IN LOVE WITH HIM

DEAR IN: Why don't you leave him alone? If this man is annoyed by his wife let him do somethng about it. In the meantime, until a man is divorced, he is married. A woman cannot be blamed for trying to save her marriage.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: A friend of ours invited my husband and me to her home for dinner. My mother is visiting me from out of town and this friend knows my mother is visiting me, but she didn't include her in the invitation. I told this friend I couldn't accept because I didn't want to leave my mother. My husband thinks I am wrong and that we should have accepted the invitation. I'd appreciate your opinion."

MRS. N. L. K.

DEAR MRS. K.: Your husband is wrong. One never leaves a house guest behind. If your friend didn't have the good manners to include your mother, she has a lot to learn.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO GREEN EYES: Neck is something which you won't get into trouble up to if you don't stick it out.

Two Cups of Raspberries Make Two Chiffon Pies

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Two cups of fresh raspberries or two packages of frozen ones will make a large molded dessert or two chiffon pies. If you have just one cup or box of the berries, make half the recipe, using the remaining gelatin for another dessert. Use any kind of a crust.

Mrs. R. Lynn Johnson of Green Lake is today's cook. She uses this recipe often, she says. Membership in the Countryside Association and the Green Lake Women's Club keep her pleasantly occupied. Gardening and supervising the activities of two young daughters are home activities.

RASPBERRY CHIFFON PIE
By Mrs. R. Lynn Johnson

2 cups fresh raspberries or 2 packages frozen berries
½ cup sugar (if fresh berries are used)
1 package raspberry gelatin
1 cup boiling water
½ cup cold water
½ cup evaporated milk
¼ cup sugar
2 pie shells

Add sugar to fresh berries and let stand. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water and chill until thick and syrupy.

Pour evaporated milk into ice cube tray and let chill in freezer section until crystals form around edges. Whip a whipping cream. A little lemon juice will make it thicker. Add sugar.

Fold into chilled gelatin mixture, add sugared berries and pour into crust. Chill until serving time. Makes two pies.

★ ★ ★

If you wish to use the whole recipe at once, line a 9x13-inch pan with a graham cracker crust mixture. Pour in the prepared gelatin and let chill. Serve in squares, garnish with whipped cream.

Upchurches Hosts for Reunion

Linda Ball, Roy Olson Jr. Wed in Christ Church

Linda Ball and Roy C. Olson Jr., were married Monday evening at Christ Church Cranbrook in a chancel ceremony for relatives and close friends.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Ball of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Olson of Sand Point, Long Island, N. Y.

WORE HEIRLOOM VEIL

The bride's gown was of white Italian silk featuring a scoop neckline and short sleeves, and she wore the heirloom lace veil worn by her mother at her wedding. She carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley.

★ ★ ★

Maid of honor was the bride's cousin, Jacquelin Perry of New Canaan, Conn. Bridesmaid was Ann Hamner, another cousin of the bride from Birmingham.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

Peter Newkirk of Long Island, N. Y., was best man. Ushers were Frederick Ball, the bride's brother, and Peter Barker of Lynchburg, Va., another of the bride's cousins.

C. Theron VanDusen and Malcolm W. Welty, both of Birmingham, were senior ushers.

★ ★ ★

After the reception held at the Ball home on Shirley drive, the couple left for a motor trip to the Olson home in Long Island. They will leave from there for Caracas, Venezuela, where the bridegroom will work.

★ ★ ★

The bride was graduated from Randolph-Macon College, Lynchburg, Va. and was a guide at the United Nations, New York, last year. Her husband is a graduate of Princeton University.

Pat Sedroski Honor Guest at 2 Showers

Mrs. Donald Sturdevant was hostess for the first affair Tuesday at her Crescent road home. Anna Louise Roebke was hostess Friday at her Drayton Plains home for the other shower.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Victor F. Sedroski of Drayton Plains and Leonard C. Roebke of Drayton Plains.

Wash Crepe Soles to Retain Suction

To retain good suction and buoyancy, the crepe should be washed from time to time. Use a well-lathered brush to remove clogging dirt, then rinse with a damp cloth and wipe dry.

26 County Republicans on August 5 Ballot

Battles Loom in 5 Legislative Districts

Republicans will be fighting Republicans a week from today as a field of 13 legislative hopefuls must be narrowed down to six nominees to go on the fall ballot.

Only Mrs. Paul (Hope) Gorman is sure of a place on the November ballot. She is unopposed for the District 2 GOP nomination.

It's a different story in the other five Oakland County districts in the State House of Representatives. There are two candidates bidding for Districts 1, 3 and 6, while there are three each in the District 4 and 5 battle.

For the past session of the Legislature, Districts 2 and 6 have been occupied by Democrats, while the other four have been Republican. Only three legislative incumbents — two GOP and one Democrat — are back in the race this year.

DISTRICT 1

Lloyd L. Anderson

Six years Waterford Township supervisor, Anderson, 50, seeks to hold on to the largest area-wise of the Oakland House seats. He was first elected back in November of 1956 after completing six years (1951-1957) on the Board of Supervisors.

Anderson, of 3769 Lincolnshire Rd., has been a member of the Board of Supervisors Economic Development Committee.

Since May of this year, the incumbent legislator has been devoting his off-session time supervising the distribution of surplus food and the operation of the new work relief program of the county Welfare Dept.

Born in Lapeer, Anderson is married and the father of two boys and one girl.

Anthony Renne

Four years ago Renne decided to lay aside his law books for the time being and seek the Republican nomination as State Senator from Oakland County. He was unsuccessful then and returned to his law practice in Pontiac.

Four years later, Renne, 44, of 3740 Aquarina St., Drayton Plains, is attempting to upset Anderson's plans for re-election.

A sergeant in the Marine Corps from 1942 through 1946, the GOP candidate for District 1 is known for his many associations with veterans groups. He is presently commander of the Oakland County Council of Veterans.

Besides his private law business, Renne has been engaged as attorney for Novi Township.

DISTRICT 3

Farrell E. Roberts

Roberts, like Anderson, the two Republican incumbent legislators, hopes to be back in Lansing when 70th Legislature convenes next January. This would signal the start of his second two-year term as District 3 representative.

Roberts, 36-year-old lawyer born in Salt Lake City, was elected to his freshman term in November of 1956. Up until then he had put in a year as an assistant county prosecutor and a partner in a Keego Harbor law firm.

He is a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve after serving aboard mine sweepers in World War II and a destroyer in the Far East during the Koren conflict.

Robert L. Mott

Mott, 45, an investment securities broker in Detroit, is tossing his hat into the political scramble this year for the first time. His target is the District 3 seat and incumbent Roberts.

He has been with the securities firm since October of last year. From 1934 through to that time, Mott was associated with an insurance company as a salesman.

Mott lives at 2343 E. Maple Ave. Birmingham. He attended Royal Oak High School, and has taken adult courses in insurance and finance.

He has a son in the Signal Corps in Germany and three other children, two girls and a boy, living at home.

DISTRICT 4

Allen C. Ingle

Ingle is going after his first political office since he was elected Justice of the Peace in Farmington in 1951. He is vying with another attorney and the mayor of Berkley for this incumbent-free race for the District 4 GOP selection.

Ingle too is an attorney, practicing since 1950. He is 37 and lives with his wife and two children at 21934 Tulane St., Farmington.

He is past president of the Michigan Justices of the Peace Assn. and served as first president of the Oakland County Judicial Assn.

The candidate received his law degree from the Detroit College of Law in 1949.

Donald N. McPherson

The name McPherson might be a new one in state political circles, but it's not in Berkley.

With this name goes the present title of mayor of Berkley. Scotland-born McPherson, 48, besides being elected mayor of that city a year ago April, served in the same capacity from 1951 through 1955.

The GOP candidate, who is a manufacturer's representative, also put in time on the Board of Supervisors from 1937-1941. He has been a Berkley councilman for periods of 1947-1951 and 1955-57.

Married, and the father of two daughters and a young son, McPherson lives at 4021 Kenmore Rd., Berkley.

Ralph S. Moore Jr.

The third candidate for the District 4 seat, made vacant when Rep. Theodore F. Hughes did not seek re-election, is a 34-year-old attorney practicing out of Detroit and Berkley.

Moore, who lives down the street from primary foe McPherson at 4239 Kenmore Rd., was an assistant prosecutor for Oakland County two years ago.

He received 11 battle stars as a gunner in the Air Force in the European theater during World War II.

His education background lists the University of Michigan and the Detroit College of Law. He received his law degree from the latter in 1950.

DISTRICT 5

William Hayward

Born July 5, 1906, Hayward has been associated with a Birmingham insurance firm as secretary and manager since 1947.

His political career embraces 17 years as either a Royal Oak City commissioner, or mayor. Hayward is now serving as a commissioner.

He lives at 1839 Sycamore St., Royal Oak, the city of which he has been a resident for 38 years. He is married and the father of four children.

Wallace R. Hummon

The youngest member of the 1958 Republican slate is Hummon, Royal Oak attorney. Hummon, of 1215 McLean St., Royal Oak, will be 27 in November.

He holds a degree from Wheaton College in Illinois (1953) and a law degree from Wayne State University in 1956.

Hummon is seeking his first nomination to a political office. Aside from his law practice, the candidate teaches government courses in the Ferndale adult education system.

After his graduation from Wheaton in 1953, Hummon worked as a manufacturer's representative. He is presently attached to the Export Division of Chrysler Corp. in the field of overseas personnel policies and foreign labor laws and regulations.

Brakie J. Orr

Orr is another attorney bidding for political office. He is 39 and lives with his wife and son at 427 Dewey St., Royal Oak.

He has been in the law business in Pontiac since July 9, 1951. Prior to this time, he has entered the Army Field Artillery as a private and was discharged 57 months later as a major. He saw combat in the European theater during the Second World War.

Orr is past exalted ruler and honorary life member of Royal Oak Elks Lodge 1523.

He graduated from Royal Oak High School in 1935 and from the University of Detroit Law School in 1951.

DISTRICT 6

(Includes Royal Oak Township, Ferndale, Hazel Park, and Madison Heights.)

Mrs. Dorothy M. Rowley

A former newspaper editor in Hazel Park, and now a secretary, is the second woman to join with masculine political hopefuls this election year.

Mrs. Rowley, 48, of 337 E. Jarvis St., Hazel Park, was in the newspaper business as editor from 1946 through last year. She has also been a teacher and librarian.

The mother of a married daughter, Mrs. Rowley also served a member and secretary of the Hazel Park Planning Commission. She is past president of the Business and Professional Women's Club in that city.

Mrs. Rowley has also been a Republican precinct delegate the past 12 years to county coventions.

Bruce P. Wheeler

Wheeler, 59, of 161 Withington Ave., Ferndale, is the only defeated candidate from the 1956 legislative elections back this year to do battle. He is trying again for the same District 6 seat in Lansing.

He won the nomination two years ago on the Republican ticket in the primary, but lost out to Rep. Walter T. McMahon in the November balloting. Wheeler ran also in 1954.

Once the owner of a furniture store, Wheeler now engages in the business of a auctioneer and appraiser. He is married.

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD

THOMAS F. McGUIRE

Broomfield, McGuire Seek Congressional Nomination

William S. Broomfield will be seeking the nomination to his sophomore term in Congress representing Oakland County next Tuesday against Thomas F. McGuire, for awhile Broomfield's opponent two years ago.

Thirty-six-year-old Broomfield is hoping to enter his 11th year in political office and his second two-year term as the county's lone representative in Washington.

After his graduation in 1940 from Royal Oak High School, Broomfield entered the insurance business in that city. Eight years later he was elected to his first of three terms in the House of Representatives in Lansing.

The Republican candidate for Congress became the youngest speaker pro-tem of the House in 1953. The year following, Broomfield moved up a notch in state politics when he was elected to represent Oakland County's 12th District in the Senate.

After two years in the Senate, Broomfield, of 1116 S. Lafayette St., won the county's Congressional seat vacated by George A. Dondero. During his freshman term he was a member of the Public Works Committee, and subcommittees on Rivers and Harbors and Federal Buildings.

Married in 1951, Broomfield is the father of three daughters.

Soon after he announced he was a GOP candidate for Congress in 1956, McGuire withdrew from the race in favor of George N. Higgins, Ferndale auto dealer whom Broomfield defeated by 1,500 votes for the nomination.

McGuire is an industrial engineer and management consultant in Oak Park. He is 54 years old and resides with his wife at 8832 Woodside Park Dr.

McGuire, who in 1948 tried for Michigan's 16th Congressional post, and previously served as assistant deputy administrator for the National Recovery Act for three years, and supervised operations for the State Employment Service for four Southeastern Michigan counties for two years.

He has also been a representative of the U.S. Department of Labor and U.S. Renegotiation Board.

The GOP candidate also spent three years in Washington in liaison between the White House and Congress on the measures which included social security, wage and hours law, War Production Board, and the Office of Price Administration.

10 GOP Officeholders Seeking Ballot Places

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Ten Republican officeholders in Oakland County are ready to do battle in next Tuesday's primary election in a bid to keep the incumbent ranks intact on the November ballot.

There are some differences from two years ago already, however.

Major difference is the absence of Lynn D. Allen, county clerk for 25 years and considered by many as the stalwart of the GOP party in Oakland County. Allen died May 31.

Also, the office of county clerk is gone. A merger move by the Board of Supervisors last month narrowed the number of elective county offices down to six with the joining of the clerk and register of deeds positions.

Missing from the ranks this year also will be two incumbent GOP legislators — Theodore F. Hughes from District 4 and Donald A. Brown from District 5.

Hughes, Berkley attorney, had made plans to bid for the GOP nomination for clerk just days before the clerk-register merger took place. He later withdrew.

Brown, 33-year-old Royal Oak attorney and once an assistant county prosecutor, has set his sights on a higher political office this year. He is the unopposed Republican candidate for lieutenant governor along with gubernatorial hopeful Paul D. Bagwell.

Reps. Lloyd L. Anderson (District 1) and Farrell E. Roberts (District 3) are both seeking re-election. Districts 2 and 6 have been occupied by Democrats.

There are a total of 26 Republican candidates trying for nomination to 14 offices representing the county. Four are unopposed. These include Mrs. Hope Gorman for District 2, and incumbents Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor, Frank W. Irons, sheriff, and Ralph A. Main, surveyer.

Besides selecting their party nominee for these 14 offices, voters Tuesday will nominate candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and United States Senator from Michigan.

In addition, voters from each precinct in the county will chose delegates they wish to represent them at August county political conventions.

Making repeat bids from the primary battle two years ago are four Republicans. They are Thomas F. McGuire, Congress, Richard D. Kuhn, State Senate, Roy M. West, clerk-register, and Bruce P. Wheeler, District 6.

Joining Mrs. Gorman as the only woman to seek political office this year from either party is Mrs. Dorothy M. Rowley, former Hazel Park newspaper editor seeking the District 6 nomination against Wheeler.

Something new has been added this year also in the race for county treasurer. Not since 1935 has Treasurer Charles A. Sparks had opposition for the Republican nomination.

Opposing Sparks, who is after his 14th consecutive two-year term, is Louis G. Barry, presently Sylvan Lake city manager and formerly Waterford Township clerk.

The race for the county's 18th Congressional seat in Washington brings together William S. Broomfield, Royal Oak incumbent, and McGuire. McGuire, of Oak Park, pulled out of the 1956 primary in favor of fellow Republican George N. Higgins, of Ferndale.

Kuhn, Pontiac automatic car wash owner, lost out in a pre-primary attempt to have the State Supreme Court keep his incumbent opponent L. Harvey Lodge from having "State Senator" printing under his name on the primary ballot.

Kuhn argued the designation means approximately 25 per cent of the votes for the incumbent.

RICHARD D. KUHN

Lodge, Kuhn Battle for Place on Ballot

Two former political foes — Sen. L. Harvey Lodge and Richard D. Kuhn—are pitted against each other again in the race next Tuesday for the Republican nomination to the State Senate representing Oakland County.

Sen. Lodge, 55, of 6610 Longworth St., Waterford Township, is after his second two-year term in the Senate. He was Pontiac's GOP representative in the State House of Representatives, 1947-48.

Between this time and when he was elected to the Senate in 1956, Lodge maintained a private law practice in Pontiac. He has been an attorney since 1930.

Sen. Lodge served on several committees during his first two years in the Senate. Among them were committees on elections, waste in government, and county home rule.

He is past president of the Michigan Children's Aid Society and the Lincoln Republican Club of Oakland County.

Twenty-eight-year-old Kuhn is no newcomer to the Senate race. This is the Pontiac car wash owner's fourth attempt. He previously lost out in primary bids in 1952-54-56.

Kuhn, of 205 Gateway Dr., Waterford Township, failed last month in a move to the Michigan Supreme Court to have Sen. Lodge prohibited from having the "State Senator" designation on the Aug. 5 ballot.

The 1956 graduate of the Detroit College of Law was a special appointee of Arthur Summerfield, to the 1952 Republican convention. Kuhn also served as a pageboy in the U.S. House of Representatives for three years.

He served also as chairman once for the Central Oakland Planning Council for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

District 2 Covered

3 County Incumbents Opposed

Register of Deeds Daniel T. Murphy Jr. is opposed by Roy M. West, Treasurer Charles A. Sparks by Louis G. Barry, and Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry is up against Arthur C. Becker.

Murphy, 34-year-old Republican, is bidding for the newly-created clerk-register post in the county. Murphy was appointed register in May of 1956 upon the death of former register Orrin McQuaid.

Prior to that, Murphy, of 344 W. Iroquois Rd., was deputy county clerk from 1946 through 1952, and in sales promotion and personnel relations for a Pontiac builders supply firm.

★ ★ ★

Married and the father of four, the incumbent register is an official of the Clinton Valley Council of Boy Scouts. Murphy has served as chairman for local United Fund campaigns.

Murphy's opposition for the clerk-register nomination comes from Roy M. West, who lost to Murphy by some 3,700 votes for the register nomination in 1956.

West, 37, of 2796 Griffith Ave., Berkley, has been for the past eight years court officer for that city. He has been a resident of Berkley for 17 years.

★ ★ ★

The World War II veteran is married and the father of three children.

He is a member of the Berkley I.O.O.F., American Legion and a vice president in the Berkley Lions Club.

Louis G. Barry, 37, of 4136 Silverbirch Dr., Waterford Township, serves as Sparks' first primary opponent since 1935. Barry, brother of the drain commissioner, is presently Sylvan Lake city manager.

From 1951 until 1957, he was clerk and acting supervisor for Waterford Township.

The wounded World War II veteran and prisoner of war is married and the father of two children. He is past director and vice president of the Michigan Townships' Assn.

The bidder for the treasurer nomination on the GOP ticket graduated from St. Michael's High School in 1939, and from Michigan State University 10 years later.

Sparks, with the death of former county clerk Lynn D. Allen, has become the oldest elected county official in length of service. This year's bid marks Sparks' try for his 14th consecutive term.

The incumbent took the oath as treasurer first on Jan. 1, 1933. Up to that time, he was associated with the old Oakland Motor Car Co. for five years, four years as a car salesman in Pontiac, and also a real estate and insurance salesman in the city.

He is a life member and past exalted ruler of Pontiac Elks Lodge 810. He is also past president of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club and State Association of County Treasurers.

A 40-year-old Detroit printer by trade and resident of Southfield, provides the competition for Drain Commissioner Barry.

Arthur C. Becker, of 25275 Kildare St., filed last month as a Republican seeking that party's nomination as drain commissioner. The Detroit-born candidate works with his father in a printing business.

A bachelor, he joined the service in 1941 and served with the Rangers. He won five battle stars and was wounded several times. Becker also served as acting warrant officer at Hilo, Hawaii.

He is past vice commander of VFW Post 9906.

Becker's opponent, incumbent Barry, is vying for a second two-year term as commissioner. He is 35 and lives at 7050 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

Before his election to drain commissioner two years ago, Barry was a car salesman in Pontiac and Birmingham.

He is a member of the American Society for Public Administration, National Association of County Officials, and on the advisory committee of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

The incumbent commissioner served as a sergeant in the Air Force in the Chemical Warfare Division.

Absentee Deadline Near

Saturday at 2 p.m. is the deadline for applying for absentee ballots for Tuesday's primary election, according to Oakland County Clerk Florence J. Allen.

Ballots are available in city, township or village offices, but not at the county clerk's office.

4 Republicans Unopposed

Four Republicans—three incumbents and a first-time political office seeker—are assured a place on the November ballot, since they are unopposed in the Aug. 5 primary.

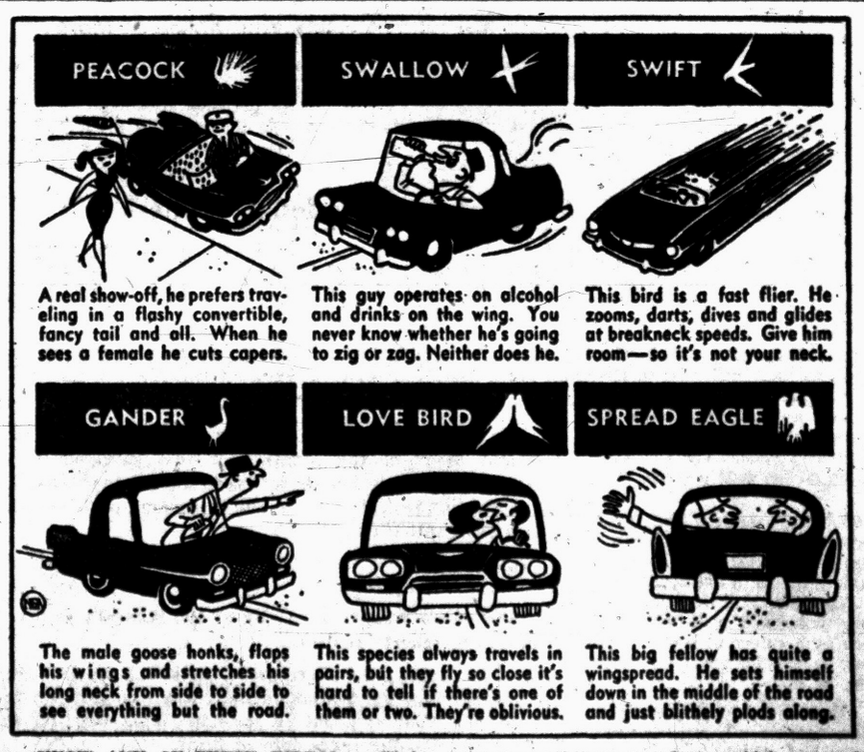

Unopposed are:

Frederick C. Ziem, 42, of 74 Mohawk Rd., Oakland County prosecutor trying for his fourth two-year term in that office. Admitted to the bar in 1941, Ziem has been with the prosecutor's office since 1947.

Frank W. Irons, former Berkley police chief, is out for his third term as county sheriff. He is 59 years old and makes his home at the county jail, 104 Wayne St. He is past president of the Southeastern Michigan Police Chiefs Assn.

Ralph A. Main, for almost six years county drain commissioner, is seeking his second term as county surveyor. Main, 54, of 1819 Fairview St., Birmingham, is a former commissioner and mayor of that city.

Mrs. Paul (Hope) Gorman, 53, of 144 N. Genesee Ave., is unopposed in the GOP nomination for Pontiac's seat in the State Legislature. Mrs. Gorman, who is making her first bid for office, is past president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

KNOW ANY OF THESE BIRDS? — Bird watchers can put away their field books and glasses when it comes to the varieties sketched above. Though they're like nothing ever seen in nature, each is easily recognizable. All of us have observed them—too often—on highways and streets. The description under each species was provided by the Ohio Agricultural Extension Service, which made the odd ornithological survey in observance of National Farm Safety Week.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Bob Shuley, 12-year-old sharpshooter who shatters the clay birds with more accuracy than this writer would have in trying to hit the side of a barn, could be a top candidate for honors as "skeet shooter of the year."

The youngster from Roselle, Ill., who is now competing with his dad, Al, in the National Skeet Championships at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, raised a lot of eyebrows a month ago in the Blue Grass Skeet Championships at Louisville, Kentucky.

Competing against the best shooters in the nation, Bobby broke 100 straight in the all-gauge championships and then went into a shootoff against some others, including his dad.

He continued his deadeye shooting and broke 250 straight for the title. "This was remarkable," said Jimmy Robinson, skeet expert from Sports Afield. "Bobby even beat Ed Scherer, who had the best record ever in 1957 with a 99.70 average," said Robinson.

Bob's father Al, who has been skeet shooting for only four years and made the All-America team in 1956 gave us a background on Bob's skeet development.

"I love the outdoors and I always took Bobby with me hunting. He would sit on my shoulders, put his feet in my jacket pockets and be the lookout for any rabbits.

"We belong to a Sportsmen's Club near Chicago, where you can shoot live ducks, and when Bobby started skeet shooting at the age of nine I took him to the club."

"As I sat in the clubhouse I agreed to let Bob go out and shoot ducks. A little later I found he had shot 96 ducks. I was amazed, what could I do with all those ducks, besides we had to pay for each duck shot," said the dad.

"We gave the ducks to a local hospital but this shooting spree sure cost me a lot of money. Some of the club members were amazed when they watched Bob shoot three ducks with three rapid consecutive shots," he added.

Now Bob is shooting clay birds and in the Illinois shoot last year he took seven trophies including two in the men's .410 and 20 gauge championships. He took the state overall title.

His entry at OCSC this week is his first in the National Skeet Shoot and he started off in good company yesterday by finishing in 5th place in the Champion of Champions event.

"Bobby is probably the best in sub-junior ranks in the country," said Robinson whose All-America selections are considered the most authoritative in the land.

"It's almost certain he will be the captain of the junior All-America team this year," added Robinson.

Three College Coaches Take Slap at Pro Draft

★ ★ ★

The three bowl-winning college coaches expressed the same low opinion of legislation designed to relieve professional team sports of many antitrust law restriction.

That group called for testimony today from Harold E. Fellows, president of the National Assn. of Broadcasters, and C. Leo De Orsey, recently resigned director of the Washington Senators baseball club.

The coaches hit the draft line harder than any witnesses since hearings began on the measure before a similar House subcommittee last summer.

"Very unfair," each said of the system by which the National Football League teams acquire exclusive bargaining rights with designated college players.

They disagreed with NFL Commissioner Bert Bell, who contended that the league would collapse without a draft to equalize the strength of all 12 pro teams. They questioned whether one club could tie up all the good players.

Wilkinson reclared he would recommend pro football only to men of superior skill . . . "A Sammy Baugh, a Sid Luckman or a Doak Walker." It might also help those with a definite goal, such as a career in law or medicine, to pay for advanced education, he said.

"Beyond that," Wilkinson testified, "anyone who plays is making a bad mistake."

Wilkinson, who is president of the American College Football Coaches Assn., said a collegian's only leverage in bargaining with NFL clubs is the possibility he may play Canadian football.

All three insisted that equalization through the draft is a fallacy, that pro scouts can never be sure they've picked the right players to shore up weaknesses and that there's little to choose among hundreds of graduating collegians.

Of the exemption bill, Daugherty foresaw "a dangerous trend." Wyatt said he found no reason why sports should be "any different from any other business." Wilkinson said he "could not imagine Congress granting any group that special privilege—no group should be above the law."

Russians Closing In on American Sports Leadership

'Our Greatest Day'—Soviet Coach

U. S. Track Men Score Victory in Close Meet

Red Women Athletes Give Russia Win on Total Points

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians are closing in, surely and speedily, on American leadership in sports. And even a controversial ruling and a debatable scoring system can't make it appear otherwise.

In the first United States vs. Soviet Union track and field meet, which ended last night, the Soviets outscored the American 172 points to 170; their women athletes defeated the American women 63-43 and, most important of all, the American men could only defeat the Russian men 126 to 109.

"This was the greatest day in Soviet track and field history," said the Russian men's coach, Gavriel Korobkov.

"Who would have thought we could beat the American pole vaulters, that we could finish one-two in the high jump and javelin? Or who would have thought a Soviet sprinter would finish second in the 200 meters, that another would be second in the broad jump and that we would set a world hop-step-jump record? It was a wonderful showing."

As the U.S. team packed to go on to meets in Warsaw, Budapest and Athens, the American women could look back with considerable pride on their performances here. So could some of the men. Unquestionably the greatest feat of the two day meet was Rafer Johnson's world record score of 8,302 points in the decathlon, wiping out his own accepted record and the unofficial 8,013 points made by his Russian rival, Vasily Kuznetsov.

The only things that rankled a bit were the Russian system of lumping together the scores of men's and women's competition and the disqualification of Gordon McKenzie in the 10,000 meters.

There was no real bitterness, just some discontent, among U.S. coaches and officials over the Russian scoring.

Daniel J. Ferris, Amateur Athletic Union official in charge of the U.S. teams, said he had a letter from the Soviets promising to count the meet officially as two dual meets — men vs. men and women vs. women. He said the Russians had intended for home consumption to add the points together but they were not supposed to have used this scoring system exclusively.

Girl Athletes Surprise Russians

Coach of U.S. Girls Pleased by Victory

MOSCOW (AP) — American women athletes, lightly regarded by virtually everyone but their coach, Ed Temple, proved the biggest surprise of the first United States vs. Russia dual track meet.

They won four of the ten events and set two American records.

Said Temple: "I thought we'd do even better, but I'm satisfied."

"I'm truly proud of all of them," Temple said. "And I'm not just saying that to make the others feel good. This was strictly a team effort. These girls have been training togther for three weeks, working hard to help one another, not merely themselves.

"Earlene Brown is a good example. You may ask how she outdid herself. Well, I'll tell you. We ran her around for two weeks at Montclair State (NJ) (the team's U. S. training camp) and since we arrived here.

Tigers 'Slosh' to 5-4 Victory

Winning Tally Walked Across in 9th Inning

Downpour Halts Contest for Over Hour Before Kiely Walks Maxwell

DETROIT (AP) — It took quite a bit of doing on the part of the umpires and some pretty shaky pitching by Boston's Leo Kiely, but the Detroit Tigers finally sloshed through the rain with a 5-4 verdict.

Yesterday's triumph at Briggs Stadium broke a mild losing streak that had reached only two. Everybody knows the Tigers can do better than that and it's likely they would have, had it not been for Leo Kiely.

The Red Sox southpaw walked in the winning run after sitting on the bench or an hour and nine minutes.

Manager Mike Higgins had a few choice words for plate umpire Nestor Chylak and base umpire Charley Berry but they were drowned out, along with most everything at the stadium.

Higgins thought it was too wet to finish the game after the biggest downpour of the season, that came in the Tiger half of the ninth inning. Higgins also thought Berry had signalled for time before Chylak got around to suspending play.

Berry explained that he really didn't call time — that he was merely waving his hands frantically to signal the plate umpire that rain was coming — and coming fast. Chylak failed to see Berry's signal and hesitated so long that the ground crew could not cover the entire infield.

The Tigers went into their half of the ninth with the score tied 4-4. Gus Zernial got a pinch single to lead off and Milt Bolling ran for him. Frank Bolling bunted him to second.

Billy Martin grounded to shortstop Don Buddin, whose quick throw to Pete Runnels at second got Milt Bolling off the bag. Martin, safe at first, promptly stole second on a play that brought loud protests from the Boston infield.

The count was 3-0 on Harvey Kuenn when time finally was called. When play was resumed more than an hour later, Kiely finished walking Kuenn. Al Kaline, who had four hits for the long afternoon, dribbled a single down the third base line, loading the bases. Kiely worked the count to 3-2 on Charlie Maxwell before walking in the decisive run.

LL 'Star Teams Begin Playoffs

Little League All Star units throughout this area get down to the serious business of deciding a district champion starting tomorrow when they begin a four-day playoff battle at Birmingham's Eton Park.

The teams will make up the field battling for a chance to move on into regional competition. The group will include a trio of host teams in the Birmingham Federals, Nationals and Americans. Others entered are Walled Lake, Novi, Milford, Fenton, Farmington, Lathrup and the two Southfield teams — the Nationals and Americans.

Walled Lake and Novi received the break in the draw and will not play until Thursday's 2nd round. They open that session in a 1:30 contest.

Wednesday's opening day schedule will call for 5 p. m. contests matching Fenton against Milford, Farmington vs. Birmingham Federals and Birmingham Americans vs. Lathrup.

The Fenton-Milford victor will meet the Southfield Americans, the Birmingham Nationals play the Federal-Farmington victor and the Southfield National tangle with the Lathrup-Birmingham American winner in Thursday 5 p. m. tussles.

Funniest Congressional Witness

Humor 'Laurels' to Duffy

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), the chairman and "straight man" of the senate anti-trust subcommittee, awarded the comedy laurels to Daugherty on the basis of his testimony yesterday on a bill to exempt professional sports from anti-trust laws.

"You caused us more merriment than Mr. Stengel," Kefauver told Daugherty.

"I'm afraid I can't claim any of Mr. Stengel's ability, senator," Daugherty replied.

It is his policy, Daugherty said, to install in Michigan State classrooms a few 200-pound halfbacks who can run the length of the field in about 10 seconds. That way, he explained, "the coaching takes care of itself."

★ ★ ★

He also gave the subcommittee a hilarious dissertation on the art of "dummy-holding" which he described as an essential part of football training.

Giants Now in First Place Tie in NL

Rigney Proud of 'Those Kids'

By United Press International

Bill Rigney loves kids, especially those San Francisco youngsters of his who may surprise the "old man" by getting him named the "manager of the year."

"Ain't those kids of mine terrific?" Rigney beamed with obvious pride after they swept a twi-night twin-bill from the Phillies last night to move into a virtual first-place tie with Milwaukee, only one percentage point off the pace.

Rigney, who was down in sixth place 14½ games off the pace a year ago today, had ample reason to be proud of his young players last night.

In the opener, 19-year-old southpaw Mike McCormick beat the Phils, 3-2, for his eighth victory of the season against only two defeats. Then 20-year-old Orlando Cepeda singled home what proved to be the winning run in a 2-1 nightcap triumph.

Cepeda collected three of the Giants' six hits off Jack Meyer, who suffered the loss despite striking out 12 batters. The deciding run off Meyer came in the sixth inning when 24-year-old Willie Kirkland doubled and came home on Cepeda's single. Ruben Gomez, a "greybeard" of 31, hurled a four hitter for his sixth victory of the campaign and his first since May 25.

All other national league clubs were idle.

The New York Yankees stretched their American League lead to 15 games again when they bombarded five Kansas City pitchers for 16 hits in a 14-7 victory.

Mickey Mantle slammed his 27th and 28th homers and Gil McDougald entered into the spirit of the occasion by rapping his ninth and 10th home runs. Bob Cerv of the A's also hit two, his 27th and 28th, and Hal Smith belted his third of the season.

A three-run homer by Sherm Lollar and a key triple by Nellie Fox were the big blows in Chicago's 6-5 victory over Washington.

Bud's Coaching Price Too High

CHICAGO (AP) — Walter Wolfner, owner of the Chicago Cardinals, said Monday night Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson once showed some interest in a coaching job with the professional football club —but his price was too high.

Wolfner said the Sooners' coach asked 25 per cent of the Cardinals' stock and an understanding that the club move to Houston. Wolfner balked.

Net Meet Enters 2nd Round Play

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Earl Bucholz, top-seeded entry from St. Louis, blasted his first round opponent Andrew Gilmore of Rockville Centre, N. Y., 6-1, 6-2 in the National Junior and Boys tennis championships at Kalamazoo College yesterday.

Second-seeded Chuck McKinley of St. Lous won two matches to reach the second round despite a delay of four hours because of rain.

Late Rallies Bring Church League Wins

Three of four games played Monday in the Avondale Church Softball league were won by last-frame rallies.

Leading Avondale United Presbyterians edged Lake Orion RLDS 16-15, with a 6-run blast after trailing 15-10.

Nike Battery defeated Stone Baptists with a 6th inning grand slammer and another run for a 11-6 win. Macurek of Nike hit the 4-run homer, his 2nd of the game.

Pontiac RLDS edged Elmwood Methodists 14-13, after Elmwood got 7 runs in the 6th to tie the count. Winning run was the result of an error that let 40-plus Fred Root score from second.

Biekirch Wins 3-Way Shootoff for NSSA Event

Alex Kerr Is Victor in .410 Test; Eleven Champs Named

By H. GUY MOATS

That was demonstrated yesterday, when the elements conspired to interrupt, but not to really halt the first day's championship tests in the 21st annual (now world) National Skeet Shooting Association shoot. The nation's top skeet competition completed its scheduled sub-small-gauge and Champion of Champions events yesterday, moves today to the small-gauge championships and sub-junior and junior women's events.

Coveted C. of C. honor was snatched by a newcomer to national prominence. Bob Biekirch of Rochester, N. Y. a shooter of some 10 years standing, won the 100 target event by outlasting two others in a shootoff. Alns Borsum of Baldwin, Mich., and sports equipment dealer Lew Gordon of Texarkana, Ark. tied at 100 straight with Biekirch. Gordon dropped out on the 2nd round and Borsum on the 3rd shootoff round.

The title is Biekirch's 1st national crown, and he takes possession of the handsome Bob Canfield Memorial trophy for the ensuing year. Fourth place went to Ed Calhoun, Salisbury, Md. with 99. Fifth place was a knot between 12-year-old Bob Shuley of Roseville, Ill., and C. A. McDowell of Shreveport, La., who tied at 99 and will decide today how to settle for the place.

Steady-going Alex Kerr of Beverly Hills, Calif. is the new open .410 champion. Alex, a veteran of the nationals for many a year, had it all alone, laying in the little gun for an excellent 98, with Hollywood real estate man, Ben DiIorio the runnerup at 96. Alex and Ben then teamed up for 194 to capture the two-man team title for the .410.

In other divisions of the sub-small event, tanned Kit Denning of Ruxton, Md., engineered a surprise win over the defending woman small gauge titlist, Judy Allen. Kit fired 91, Judy 90. Runnerup, however, in the .410 was Betty Myers of Westover, Mass., with 90. Kit has been shooting for three years, but this was her first effort with the little .410, and her first national crown.

Other champions included:

Junior sub-small-gauge—Miner Cliett of Childersburg, Ala. who retained his 1957 title, but dropped his champion of champions crown. Miner, was runnerup, also, in Class A. Eddie Brown, 13, of Birmingham was runnerup with 90 in the junior event.

Class champions were:

AA—Ken Sedlecky of Baldwin, Mich., who has outgrown the junior division this year, with 96; 2, Miner Cliett, 95; 3, Ed Calhoun, 95, 4, Hockley, 95.

A—Hugh Garland, Montreal, Que., 95; 2, Bill Callahan, Solvay, N. Y., 94; 3, Phil DiPietro, Runnymede, N. J., 94; 4, M. Sgt. Henry Shaw, Ft. Sam Houston, Texas.

B—Ted Hannaford, Highland Park, 90; 2, Ray Strickland, Birmingham, Ala., 90; 3, Mrs. Betty Myers, Westover, Mass.; Ron Kelly, Detroit, 90.

C—Mel Wantz, Muskegon, 90; 2, Mrs. Igor Pezas, Greenwich, Conn., 88; 3, H. Nostworthy, Ontario, 86; 4, Ben Heath, Charlotteville, N. C., 85.

Two-man team — Kerr and DiIorio, 194; 2, W. H. Rogers, Atherton, Calif., Andy Laird, Stockton, Calif., 93-92-185; 3, Bob Thiefels, Pontiac, Larry Smith, Birmingham, 90-92-182; 4, Joe Frost Sr., Joe Jr., San Antonio, 90-92-182.

Thiefels (AA) 90; Smith, Birmingham (AA) 90; Marion Shields, Grand Rapids (A) 84; Alns Borsum, Baldwin (AA) 92; Floyd Gilmore, Wyandotte (AA) 85; Howard Confer, Detroit (AA) 89; Chesley Crites, Detroit (AA) 83; F. A. Rose, Ferndale, (C) 82; Chuck Leatherman, Detroit (A) 83; D. J. Shields, Grand Rapids (B) 87.

Sam Schmidt, Royal Oak (A) 87; Ben Schwab, Bay City (C) 72; Jim Ashmore, Ferndale (C) 78; Leland Brown, Birmingham (C) 85; Dave Nyman, G. Pte. (AA) 82; Florence Schmidt, Center Line (A) 84; Fred Farah, Flint (B) 79; Ken Sedlecky (AA) 95; Bill Brown, Birmingham (AA) 89; Eddie Brown (AA) 91; W. T. Ellis, Mt. Clemens (B) 87.

BACK IN BUSINESS — Little Eddie Brown, still the smallest of shooters in the NSSA world skeet championships at OCSC, Waterford, is back in business after a bout with illness. Eddie shot a runnerup 90 to Miner Cliett's 95 in sub-small-gauge junior event, Monday. Today he goes after more honors in the small small-gauge event (28 gauge).

Kuhn's, Indians Win in Midget Contests

Boy's Club and Big Eagles of the American League and Kuhn's Auto Wash and the Indians of the National League scored victories yesterday in midget league play.

Tom Zink struck out eight batters in relief as the Boy's Club whipped B&B, 6-4 and the Big Eagles dumped the Aces, 9-5.

Dave Phelts was the winner as Kuhn's nipped Harless, 7-6 and after scoring 20 runs in three innings the Indians took the game from Joslyn Food.

John Rowan, Ex-Tiger, Dies at Age of 72

DETROIT (AP)—Oldtime baseball player John A. Rowan died yesterday in his room at a downtown Detroit hotel. He was 72.

Rowan began his major league pitching career with the Detroit Tigers in 1906. Before retiring in 1914, he hurled for Philadelphia and Cincinnati in the National League.

Funeral services for Rowan, a native of New Castle, Pa., will be held tomorrow.

Diamond Dust

By CHUCK ABAIR

This week will wrap up the regular season schedules for most of the area's baseball and softball teams with many looking forward now to the annual post-season playoffs which will keep the two diamond sports in the limelight through part of August.

Pontiac and Waterford Township recreation officials are spending long hours these days working out final plans for the many playoffs to be held among their own leagues plus some state-level games slated for this sector.

This city's Class A and B baseball leagues continue on until Aug. 7 and 13, respectively, before concluding regular schedules. One other loop certain to continue play later than Friday will be the American League in softball at Waterford which also has Aug. 13 as a final schedule date.

Oakland County's Babe Ruth teams have already concluded their "pressure" games. All were eliminated despite good showings as defending state champion Northwest Detroit took district honors. Michigan's eight top teams will battle Friday through Sunday at Ypsilanti for the state crown.

Area Little Leaguers are in the spotlight this week with 10-team playoffs set for Birmingham's Eton Park. Southfield has a team in the Pony playoffs this week and will have the district entry in the Junior Legion games at Clawson next month.

Pontiac American and Softball league playoffs will start Aug. 3. Class D baseball playoffs will involve three "white" teams and one from blue loop. Midget, Widget and Class F games will be arranged to determine city champions.

Waterford softball director Bob Brown plans to start his National League playoffs Aug. 4 and finish the 13th while the AL playoffs will not be able to get under way until Aug. 18 or 19. The Class D state tourney will be held at Drayton Plains Aug. 14 to 17.

Brown has decided to give the junior league champion a shot at the big boys. That loop or playoff winner will compete with the men. His Little League finishes Aug. 5. An "A" tourney will be held for the top five teams and the others will play in a "B" event.

Los Mayos, Aztecas Win Weekend Tilts

Los Mayos and Aztecas, Pontiac's Latin-American Baseball league representatives, won weekend games against loop opponents.

Mayos defeated Flint 5-4 after spotting their opponents three early runs. Dick Goldsworthy's homer in the 6th tied the count, but Flint went ahead again. T. J. Martinez then blasted a two-run homer to win.

Lions Fear 'Jinx'

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

George Wilson, head coach of the Detroit Lions, already has one dislike and one fear as he looks into the future of the National Football League World Champions working out at Cranbrook.

He dislikes the idea of being put into the favorite's role for repeating as Western Division champs, and he fears the recent era of downfalls which have struck teams following championship seasons.

"I hope they're right," said Wilson, "but remember what has happened to other teams the past several seasons."

He refers to the 1954 Lions who won the division title and finished last in 1955, and the Bears who won it in 1956 and were in the cellar in 1957, and the Los Angeles Rams, the champs in 1955 and the cellar team in 1956.

Wilson was emphatic after the 1957 season that he was ready to move out the "old blood" and start moving "new blood" onto the squad.

Most of the veterans like Bobby Layne, Lou Creekmur, Bob Miller, Charley Ane all reported to camp at Cranbrook in better condition than they did for the 1957 training season.

Rookies have been getting a close look by the coaches and Wilson may make his first cut by Friday. "We haven't much time before the All-Star game," said Wilson, "we've got to get our squad down to workable size."

Yesterday, veteran linebacker Joe Schmidt came to terms after a 4-day holdout. He signed after a 90-minute conference with Edwin J. Anderson, Lion's general manager.

Two rookies, Bob Reinhart of California and Ed Garver of Capitol University were released by the Cleveland Browns . . . J. D. Kimmel is undecided whether he will play with the Packers. He was obtained from Washington and he has accepted a scholarship for graduate study in engineering at Rice Institute.

City Softball Title at Stake

City league softball was rained out last night, and none of the washed-out games in National or American divisions will be replayed, league officials said today.

However, the Birmingham-Shaw Jewelers contest will take place tonight at North Side field, at 8:30 O'clock. This is the big one, and if Shaw's win they will wrap up the city title as AA champions and will represent the city in the state major tourney. State meet is Aug. 22-24 at Allen Park.

Should Birmingham win tonight, a 2nd game will be played Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at Beaudette.

Hazel Park Raceway Names Season Officials

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "I'm in a Slump!"

DIAGNOSIS: Timing Off.

TREATMENT: Golfing slumps come to us all. You may be playing well up to your standard one day; and the next time out, your score may soar 10 or more strokes higher. What happens is that you probably lose your timing.

The way to get your timing back is to go to the practice tee and hit short shots—chips and pitches—until you feel you can time a full swing properly. Hitting a few dozen of these soft and easy shots is a surprisingly effective way to cure a slump.

I was interested to dear the other day that Rogers Hornsby, one of baseball's greatest hitters an dbatting coaches, makes his pupils practice bunting a lot. He says it helps their timing for the full swing.

Let me say—here and now—that Hornsby's baseball advice is just as appropriate for golf. Practice "bunting" some of your golf shots and you'll soon be hitting your full shots squarer and straighter.

Red Jets in China Score Two 'Kills'

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Communist MIGs shot down two Nationalist Chinese F84 Thunderjet fighter planes over the Formosa Strait today.

Rear Adm. Liu Hoh-tu, a spokesman for the National Defense Ministry, said the Communist planes attacked when the Thunderjets were on a routine patrol over East Tungshan Island, about 60 miles south of Quemoy.

Both pilots bailed out and one was rescued. A search for the other was being made.

Middies Moan Over the Heat in Maryland

"It wasn't this hot," said one of the 260 midshipmen who arrived at the Academy yesterday in 88-degree weather after duty with the 6th Fleet in landing operations of the Marines in Lebanon.

They conceded the mercury went higher in the Mediterranean but said the humidity here "makes the difference."

Gary Crosby Jumps Out of Army Into Movie Role

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Gary Crosby, a chunky, blond replica of his famous father Bing, is back from the Army to launch his own career—and doing right nicely.

Without even a breather, he jumped out of Army khaki into a cadet's uniform. He plays a student soldier who has a spree in New Orleans, along with Pat Boone, Tommy Sands and Richard Sargent. The picture: "Mardi Gras."

In addition he has TV guest spots, a record contract with Verve, talk of more movies and the chance to play Las Vegas.

Well, not really. Bing has laughingly called his eldest son a "bundle of bitterness." There's no doubt that Gary, 24, is a serious young man, though he has a ready wit and, like his father before him, sings snatches of songs between scenes.

Perhaps his seriousness is the normal veteran's anxiety to make a go of it after returning from the service. Also, it appears Army life did not agree with him.

"That's HIS story," Gary retorted. "He's never been in the service. He doesn't know what it's like."

The lad readily admitted he is no walking recruiting poster. He blames service life for physical troubles he is now enduring. For one thing, a bad stomach.

"Now I'm down to 178, about as far as I can go," he said. "I'm big-boned and heavy-muscled and I get weak if I weigh any less. Diet? Nope. I didn't need to. I just don't eat much since the Army. Bad stomach."

He said he also developed a neuro-convulsive condition for which he takes treatment. But he denied reports he consults a psychiatrist.

"The doctor I go to is also a psychologist or something like that," he said, "but he's no headshrinker."

Was the Army tougher because he was a Crosby?

"No comment," he said rather grimly, but he added, "Poor Elvis!"

Learn to Say 'No' Firmly

Telephone Sales Scheme Calls for Careful Checkup

(This is one in series of articles prepared by the Michigan Retailers Association in an effort to better educate the buying public of Michigan in improving their buying habits. The Pontiac Press is cooperating with MRA by bringing this series to you.)

The ring of a telephone most always brings a feeling of anticipation—"who can this be?", "what will they want?"—and we usually never know until we answer. Did you ever try NOT answering a ringing telephone? If you are like most of us, you can't resist long before picking up the receiver. Because of this natural urge to answer the phone, we become vulnerable to "telephone gimmicks."

Solicitors like to use the phone for appeals for donations, to sell merchandise, to sell tickets to shows, dances, banquets, sporting events, and a miscellaneous assortment of events. Many of these solicitors are calling for very worthwhile events, organizations or firms. The rest of them usually represent border-line groups or temporary organizations and are under the direction of professional promoters working on a high pressure basis.

For this last reason, you must "Learn to Say 'No' Over the Telephone."

Under certain circumstances it is easier to accede to a telephone request than it is to listen to or combat the personal sales talk. By merely listening to a solicitor's story, a vicious and annoying practice is encouraged. You have absolutely no means of knowing from a telephone conversation who is on the other end of the line—whether it be a bona fide appeal or sale, or whether you are being trapped by an out-and-out racket.

BEWARE FLATTERY

Regardless of a smooth voice, flattering words, or high pressure sales methods used by solicitors, you can not possibly make an accurate appraisal of the person you are talking to or the project that he is representing by telephone. Quite often, these campaigns will use a sexy-talking girl to call on male prospects, or a flattery-offering man for housewives.

★ ★ ★

For the purpose of saving your time and the prevent the possibility of you being victimized by unworthy or fraudulent activities, we suggest the following procedure to be used in dealing with all telephone solicitations.

1. Adopt a fixed and unalterable policy of never making a contribution to charity, of never purchasing tickets or charity advertising, and of never buying merchandise in response to a telephone appeal.

2. Cut a solicitor's conversation short with an emphatic statement to "put it in writing," or if the subject is of particular interest, suggest a personal interview for the purpose of presenting printed or written matter which may be retained for reference purposes.

★ ★ ★

3. Give consideration only to those appeals which are fully and frankly presented in writing. Legitimate and worthwhile organizations and firms are usually willing and anxious to make a full and complete disclosure in writing of their aims, objectives, direction, merchandise and management. If a solicitor can't give you anything in writing then you can safely assume that his campaign or merchandise isn't worth contributing to or buying.

★ ★ ★

4. After being called by a solicitor, call your local Chamber of Commerce or Police Department and give them details of the solicitation. If the calling is legitimate, they will tell you, and if it isn't, you may prevent many others from being "taken" by this "telephone gimmick."

Laos, on Alert Status, Censors Newspapers

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Foreign newspapers were placed under censorship today after a tense weekend during which an alert was ordered for the police and army of this little Asian kingdom.

★ ★ ★

The alert was ordered Saturday amid rumors that successors to the Communist-held Pathet Lao rebels might attempt a coup because they were forced out of the government last week. Former Premier Souvanna Phouma is expected to form another government without the leftist Neo Lao Haksat party.

★ ★ ★

An army officer said the alert also was ordered in an effort to recover some army weapons and ammunition reportedly sold illegally to the public and smuggled into neighboring Thailand.

Austrian Chancellor Ends Moscow Visit

MOSCOW (AP)—Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab left Moscow today after a one-week visit during which he won a 50 per cent reduction in oil reparations to the Soviet Union.

Cows bothered by flies will produce 3.5 pounds less milk in one day than those protected, according to Purdue University studies.

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF

THE STOLEN CAR

Twentieth of a series

By DONALD J. SOBOL

The entire month of May had been rainless in Hicks county, but during the first week of June rain fell every day, ruining Haledjian's vacation and causing him to welcome the diversion promised by Sheriff Monahan.

"Smiling Charlie — that's Charlie Wilson — is an old friend of mine," said the sheriff. "I hate to bust in and accuse an old friend of selling stolen automobiles."

"Do you really believe I can tell if the car is stolen simply by posing as a customer?"

"Look," interrupted the youth who sat beside Haledjian in the sheriff's car. "It's my convertible Charlie's showing. It was stolen five days ago. I don't care what the motor number reads, or the papers. He could have changed them. Arrest him!"

The sheriff and Haledjian entered the used car dealer's tiny office. "Not an official visit, Charlie," said the sheriff. "My friend is interested in the green convertible."

"I [illegible] you had the convertible on the lot before the boy's car was stolen," remarked [illegible] jian.

"Sure. I had this car two weeks. The last clear day before the big rains a fellow named Simpson brought it in."

"Have you road tested the car since then?"

"In this weather? Lord, I ain't had any customers!"

Haledjian took the keys and with the sheriff examined the car. He slipped behind the wheel and started the engine.

Sheriff Monahan heard the motor turn over — and then the other noise. He walked straight for the office and put Smiling Charlie under arrest for selling a stolen automobile.

WHAT NOISE DID THE SHERIFF HEAR THAT WRECKED THE DEALER'S STORY?

Sheriff Monahan heard swish-click, swish-click, swish-click. The boy claimed the car was stolen "five days ago," or during the rain; Smiling Charlie obviously lied in stating the car had been purchased from Simpson two weeks ago, or during the month-long rainless spell.

Recover Four Bodies of W. W. II Airmen

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — The bodies of four World War II U. S. airmen have been found in the wreckage of their planes in the New Britain jungle by the Australian air force.

* * *

The wreckage of a P38 Lockheed Lightning fighter was found nearly buried in 14 feet of soft soil with one body in the wreckage, Wing Cmdr. Keith Rundle of the Amberley Air Force Base reported today.

* * *

Within 12 miles, the Australians found a B25 Martin Mitchell bomber and a Navy Grumman Wildcat fighter which had been shot down. Three bodies were found in the Mitchell. There were no bodies in the Grumman.

Indigestion Kills Fish

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Indigestion may have killed a big Mackinaw trout found dead on the shore of Middle Piney Lake in Wyoming. Game and Fish Department officials said the stomach of the 26-pound fish contained a large ball of fish line, several large lead sinkers, three spinners, one minnow hook, two regular hooks, one swivel and several bones.

Army Signal Corps to Use Infrared Rays

WASHINGTON — The Army Signal Corps is developing a process of transmitting messages by infrared rays as a near-foolproof method of sending messages on the battlefield.

Since the very narrow infra-red transmission beam is invisible, an enemy would have to have a properly designed and tuned infrared detector even to know messages were being sent. Then the beam must be physically interrupted to stop it.

Wire and radio messages are fed into the transmitter and the receiver can be hooked into a radio transmitter, loud-speaker, or phone line.

He's Through Waiting

DETROIT (AP)—Walter Ellison was granted a divorce after telling the judge he was satisfied his wife "will never come back." Ellison said his wife Sykey left him after two years of marriage — in 1927.

Wins Jet Pilot Helmet

He Puts Wager on Rain

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP) — Citizens of this southwestern Pennsylvania community usually don't pay too much attention to rain.

* * *

But today was different because there is a belief that it always —well almost always—rains in Waynesburg on July 29.

* * *

Each year, Atty. John Daily, head of Waynesburg's Rain Day Club, wagers a hat that it will rain. This year he put up a tricornered Revolutionary War hat against a jet pilot helmet put up by Maj. Donald Johnston, commander of the 147th Squadron of the Pennsylvania Air National Guard.

* * *

At 12:10 a.m. a steady rain began falling—marking the 73rd time in 82 years that rain has fallen on Waynesburg on July 29. Daily had won his helmet.

Grain Futures Steady to Firm

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain future prices were steady to firm today in early dealings on the Board of Trade with wheat leading the advance on gains running well over a cent a bushel.

Dealers said there appeared to be a good accumulation of overnight buying orders through commission houses which could have been lifting of wedges.

Trade was slow near the end of the first hour with wheat 1⅛ to 1½ cents a bushel higher, September 1.86¼; corn ¼ to ⅝ higher, September 1.28⅝; oats ⅜ to 1 cent higher, September 63⅝; rye ⅝ to 1¼ higher, September 1.27¾; soybeans ⅜ higher to ⅛ lower, September $2.28½; lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $12.55.

Wheat receipts in Chicago yesterday were the heaviest in nine years but private advices from the Southwest also indicate that grain there is being placed under government loan at a record rate.

Wheat arrivals by truck and barge here totaled almost 1½ million bushels in addition to 953 cars. Of the rail receipts, 432 cars were for commercial dealers. A large volume of the wheat, however, was consigned directly to mills and elevators.

Stock Market Prices Mixed

Key issues showed gains or losses going from fractions to about a point.

Turnover was heavy at the opening. The ticker tape ran late for a total of 7 minutes, and was two minutes behind transactions at worst.

Chrysler was active and up a sizable fraction in a resumption of yesterday's strong advance. General Motors and U.S. Steel, whose directors announce second quarter finances late today, were firm.

Steels tilted narrowly to the upside. Rails were mixed. Motors edged higher. Oils and chemicals were mixed.

Small gains were made by Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, International Paper and United Air Lines. Fractional losses were taken by U.S. Rubber, United Aircraft and International Nickel.

Opening blocks included: Chrysler up ⅜ at 51⅝ on 2,500; General Motors up ⅛ at 43⅝ on 2,500; and U.S. Steel unchanged at 70 on 1,500.

Pleads Guilty of Contributing to Delinquency

A Pontiac housewife, originally charged with child neglect in leavlocked in a sport car in 90 degree ing her three-year-old daughter heat, pleaded guilty this morning to a reduced charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Mrs. Jack Vess, 24, appeared before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer G. Dieterle this morning to face charges stemming from her leaving her daughter, Jan, locked in a small foreign car for three hours and 15 minutes at Miracle Mile Shopping Center while she shopped June 30.

Mrs. Vess, of 500 Kuhn St., had a 90-day sentence in the Oakland County Jail suspended, but was placed on a one-year probation and will have to pay $100 in costs.

"Under the present set of circumstances, we felt it proper to allow for a reduction in the charge since the cruelty was not one of wilfull, malicious intent.

The child, with only panties on, was reportedly suffering from a heat rash when released from the car. Clerks from nearby stores had aided her by passing glasses of water and wet towels through the auto's window vents.

Explorer Reveals Vital Data

Although in orbit only three days, the heaviest and most important U. S. satellite already has confirmed the existence of the killer rays at an altitude of 600 miles above the earth.

★ ★ ★

Dr. James Van Allen of Iowa State University, who directed the development and assembly of the satellite's complex instruments, said the data to date looks very satisfactory and interesting.

Explorer IV, which is expected to whirl around the globe for the next five years, records radiation energy and intensity on four counters and relays the messages on two radios which are expected to last for two months.

Threatening to Strike at Harvester Plants

CHICAGO (AP) — A strike of 36,000 members of the United Auto Workers Union at International Harvester plants "is very possible" at Midnight Thursday, says Arthur D. Shy, assistant director of UAW's Harvester department.

Shy made the statement yesterday as bargaining for new wage terms began. The present contract, which covers UAW employes at 38 Harvester plants expires Thursday.

UAW has asked a profit-sharing plan be instituted and Harvester officials have countered with a proposal for a six cents an hour raise, or 2½ per cent, whichever is greater. Harvester also seeks to abandon a cost-of-living escalator clause and maintain living cost differentials at their present levels.

He Pulls Out of Race Because of Low Pay

CADILLAC (AP)—Wexford County's lone candidate for prosecutor withdrew yesterday from the Aug. 5 Republican primary because he said the office doesn't pay enough.

The name of James Harrington, the incumbent, will be on the ballot but he said he is out of the race. He has a law practice in Cadillac.

Short in Refrigerator Causes Waterford Fire

A short in a refrigerator was responsible for a fire at 8 p. m. last night at a restaurant owned by Joyce Gosney, 3172 W. Huron St., Waterford Township.

Firemen said damage was $800 to the building and contents.

42 Car Dealers Indicted on Price Setting Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty-two car dealers in the Washington area faced charges today of conspiring to jack up the price of new cars in violation of antitrust laws.

Indictments returned yesterday by a federal grand jury also accused the dealers of collusion in setting artificially high prices for parts and repairs.

The indictments were the first returned in a Justice Department probe of car pricing practices. Other grand juries are investigating the car markets in New York, San Francisco, Cleveland and Detroit.

Indicted here were the area's 17 franchised Ford dealers, the 14 Chevrolet dealers and the 11 Oldsmobile dealers. In addition, the Ford Motor Co. and the Greater Washington Chevrolet Dealers Assn. cooperative were charged with joining the conspiracy to fix prices to the detriment of open competition.

The basic charge was that each of the three groups of dealers conspired to set minimum prices "substantially in excess" of those recommended by manufacturers.

The charges were denied by several of the dealers and by the Ford Motor Co.

The dealers said the only agreement ever entered into was one setting up a suggested asking price for cars. The asking price, they said, was never the selling price because of varying trade-in allowances and discounts.

Delays Setting Strike Deadline

UAW Executive Board Expected to Fix Date at Aug. 8 Meeting

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union has postponed for a week an Executive Board meeting that is expected to set a strike deadline for its contract talks with the auto industry.

The announcement came as the UAW resumed its talks today with Ford, Chrysler and General Motors after recessing Thursday.

The meeting was originally scheduled for Friday but the union said it was set back to Aug. 8 because a meeting of the union's national General Motors, Ford and Chrysler councils had to be delayed.

The UAW said it wanted to hold the national councils' meeting on the day after the executive meeting—adding weight to the belief a strike deadline would be set by the Executive Board and ratified by the national councils.

To Air Hospital Lease Proposal

City to Hear Trustees' Report Opposing Offer to Rent Pontiac General

What Pontiac General Hospital trustees think about Paul A. Kern Jr.'s proposal to take over the city hospital, is expected to be aired in a letter to the City Commission tonight.

Trustees last night approved a two-page report to the commission in which they list six reasons why they believe Kern's proposal "is not timely and that he could not guarantee existing standards."

City commissioners, acting on a 16-point agenda, will hear a request from former commissioner Dr. Roy V. Cooley Jr. to rezone four lots on South Boulevard at Motor street from residential to personal service district.

Scheduled also tonight are cost estimates from the city engineer for constructing curb and gutters on Longfellow avenue from University to the railroad, and sanitary sewers on Lounsbury avenue and Montcalm street.

There are several other routine matters pertaining to the city's capital improvement program up for action.

After two weeks provisional approval commissioners will decide finally on a dance hall application of James H. Johnson at 195 South Blvd.

2 Groups Praised by Police Official

Waterford Township Police Chief Millard Pender today praised work done by the Michigan Aqua Squadron and the West Bloomfield Boy's Club who worked with police and sheriff's deputies in recovering a drowning victim on Maceday Lake yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The victim, Shelby D. Grissom, 17 of Knoblick, Ky., drowned while swimming with friends Sunday night. His body was recovered at noon yesterday.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy skin diver Bill Jackson, was forced to leave the scene early Monday morning because of a perforated ear drum he received diving deep in the lake.

Eight members of the volunteer aqua squadron and boys club went on working and found Grissom's body near the raft more than 100 feet down. Pender also praised Waterford Township firemen for their assistance throughout the 12-hour search.

Captured Felon Held in Holdup at Flint

Robert Kelley, 28, the Southern Michigan Prison escapee captured near Pontiac Saturday night waived examination on an armed robbery charge in a Flint court yesterday.

Kelley was held in the Flint City Jail under $5,000 bond. He is accused of holding up a Flint gas station Saturday and taking $45.

He was serving a 7½ to 15 year term for robbing the same gas station in 1956. Kelley led police on a wild chase across the state after escaping from a prison farm near Jackson Friday night. He also faces kidnaping and prison escape charges.

2nd Childhood Coming

BUFFALO, Wyo. (AP)— Lake Bugbee, Wyoming rancher, says his second childhood is coming rather late in life. Several weeks ago his friends noticed he was growing a new crop of hair on his previously bald head. Then he discovered a new tooth emerging through his lower gum. Bugbee is 98.

Pontiac Store Reports Theft of Power Mowers

Reported missing was $247.20 worth of merchandise. Oliver said thieves escaped with one power lawn mower valued at $182.60 and two others worth $64.60 each.

Water Diversion Chances Better

Chicago Claims Need for More Water From Lake Michigan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prospects for White House approval of a bill to increase Chicago's diversion of Lake Michigan water appeared brighter today as a Senate subcommittee continued hearings on the measure.

But a new Canadian note to the State Department did not specifically oppose the bill. It said, however, Canada should maintain a steady flow of water at three points on the Great Lakes system. The note was made public yesterday at the opening hearing of a Senate Public Works Subcommittee.

Chicago now is limited to 1,500 cubic feet a second from the lake. Under terms of the bill passed last year by the House, it temporarily would increase diversion to 2,500 cubic feet.

The city contends the additional water is needed to provide its metropolitan area with improved treatment of sewage and to improve navigation facilities on the Illinois Waterway, which connects Lake Michigan with the Mississippi River.

The proposal was assailed at yesterday's hearing by spokesmen from other Great Lakes states, who contended that additional diversion would be harmful to their states and would set a dangerous precedent.

Detroit Policemen Plead Guilty of Bank Robbery

DETROIT (AP) — Former Detroit policemen James R. Burke, 33, and David R. Tapp, 26, changed their pleas to guilty yesterday in the robbery of several Detroit area banks of nearly $100,000.

Burke and Tapp previously pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court June 18, then changed their pleas to innocent.

Burke is charged with nine bank robberies and Tapp with six. In the latest action, both pleaded guilty to all counts before U.S. District Judge Theodore Levin.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF HAZEL L. Frazier, who passed away July 29, 1954.
Do not ask me if I miss her,
For there's such a vacant place,
No! I think I hear her footsteps
Or I see her smiling face.
For she left me broken hearted
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they so little know the sorrow
That is in my heart concealed.
The Husband, Son & Daughters.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JERRY R. Emeigh, who passed away July 29, 1953. Deeply missed by his wife, Ellen S. Emeigh and family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF BABY Brenda Melanie Stuckey, who passed away 3 yrs. ago today.
Sweet little flower of heavenly birth,
She was too fair to bloom on earth.
Sadly missed by father, mother & sister.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY parents Margaret and Nick Schabitz.
Not dead to us who loved them
Not lost but gone before,
They live with us in memory
And shall forever more.
Helene and Jack MacDonald.

PARKING IDEA — This unorthodox parking idea along an Illinois highway carried with it a huge slice of luck. Four young people, including three girls, escaped with minor injuries when their car went out of control near Woodstock, Ill. ## Says Iraqi Army Supports U.A.R.

Arab Military Leader Tells Troops on Israeli Front of 'New Allies'

CAIRO (AP)—The United Arab Republic's military commander says the Iraqi army is cooperating with the U.A.R. army to strengthen Arab nationalism.

Field Marshal Abdel Hamik Amer made the statement yesterday to U.A.R. troops on the Israeli frontier after a training exercise with live ammunition.

"The 1952 Egyptian revolution (that overthrew King Farouk) was the spark from which came the flame of Arab nationalism," Amer said. "Now our responsibilities are increased, but we will shoulder them.

Thousands Preach End Draws Nigh

NEW YORK (AP)—Thousands of Jehovah's Witnesses go from house to house today to tell New Yorkers that the end of the world, as they know it, may be at hand.

The canvass was called for yesterday by Nathan H. Knorr, president of the Watch Tower and Tract Society, which is the Jehovah's Witnesses legal name.

Knorr told 151,003 Witnesses, packed into Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds, that all the signs of Jehovah "portend that we are standing at the threshold of a peaceable, happy and lifegiving new world."

"This is the grandest news," he said, "although it means that we are living at the end of this worry-filled, problem-racked, insane, loveless old world."

A night session last night attracted 133,283 persons to the two ball parks.

Sputnik Carrier to Cross Michigan on Three Days

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The orbiting rocket carrier of Sputnik III will be visible in Michigan during the early morning hours of the next three days, says the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory.

It will be visible to Lower Michigan at about 4:45 a.m. Tuesday, about 4:54 a.m. Wednesday, between 4 and 3:13 a.m. Thursday and again between 4:54 and 4:57 a.m. Thursday.

Upper Peninsula viewers should be able to sight the rocket carrier between 12; 1:20 and 1:30 a.m. Tuesday and about 1:30 a.m. Thursday.

She Gives Interviews, but Who Wants 'Em?

By EARL WILSON

I learned (exclusively, of COURSE!) that Marilyn Monroe's now studying the ukelele assiduously. She twangs the uke in her next picture, in which she plays a prohibition era Chicago band singer. Marilyn relaxed from her uke lessons the other night to go to dinner in a group that included Montgomery Clift. He, as everybody knows, is devoted to Libby Holman. Marilyn told one character that she would be glad to give interviews.

WILSON

"The only thing is," she reportedly said, "I won't talk about my marriage, my home life or my past." With the prettiest smile this side of Brigitte Bardot, she added, "That doesn't leave much, does it?"

I never saw Sammy Davis Jr. so great as he was in his new show. Friends say Sammy has set, as his goal, becoming as great an entertainer as Al Jolson. And with all his talents, he can do it if anybody of our generation can.

Eddie Fisher seems to be gaining maturity nowadays—he's no little boy singer in a GI uniform any more. Checking up, I found out why. On Aug. 8 he will be 30 years old. Eddie, who would probably like some cigars for a birthday present, is entitled to smoke them now—he recently hit oil in a deal in Texas.

Amber the Cat Flies to Korea

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Amber the cat flies to Korea today to take care of the rats around a Methodist mission in Seoul.

Mrs. Norma Elrod, Amber's mistress, outlined the big job ahead. "We don't have many cats in Korea but we do have rats, big ones."

Mrs. Elrod and her husband, the Rev. J. McRee Elrod, have operated the mission more than a year. The rats have been a knotty problem, she said, because of a cat shortage.

The cat shortage occurred, she said, after the Army spread rat poison during the Korean War. "It killed most of the cats," Mrs. Elrod said.

Elfrida's Conqueror Loses Out on '21'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Robert Leicester, who dethroned all-time television quiz moneywinner Elfrida Von Nardroff, was deposed last night as TV's current quiz king.

Leicester, the assistant director of a private New York City high school, lost $10,000 of his earnings in the process, but still took home $43,500.

Leicester, making his seventh appearance on NBC'S "Twenty-One," lost out when he was unable to identify Jesse Jones as the chairman of the Federal Reconstruction Finance Corporation during former President Franklin Roosevelt's first administration.

Fame, Riches Nothing New

Perry Como's Gag Man Actually Enjoys Life Despite Grumbling

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—For all the struggling hordes of TV writers trying to crack the bigtime, a few are important, successful and rich, reasonably happy, and the greatest of these is Goodman Ace.

Goodie is no newcomer to the ordinary luxuries of show business and all of the comforts accruing to a man who makes $9,000 a week for fabricating Perry Como's 60 minutes of smiles. He's had them all for years.

★ ★ ★

At Kansas City Junior College, where he studied journalism, Ace contributed a column called "The Dyspeptic" to the school weekly, cynical in tone, as was the custom in the early Nathan-Mencken era.

Some friends say he has grown more dyspeptic since that early election of an official mood, but that isn't quite so. He can turn on the comedy dyspepsia whenever he chooses, as he can turn on the literary charm, or whatever mood the situation or guest star suggests.

For 12 years Ace infuriated producers and performers but always delighted his readers with barbed and witty criticism as he reviewed plays, movies, vaudeville shows.

In the 20s when radio was starting, the paper assigned Goodie to a "Question & Answer" broadcast in which he answered queries about starts in showbiz, to which he added reviews of pictures and plays.

Jane's quips went from Goodie's typewriter into the common comedy usage of the era: "Familiarity breeds attempt;" "I work my head to the bone," and it grew to huge popularity five nights a week.

Goodie wrote, produced and directed every one of his shows and pioneered the family situation series which has done so well.

In 1945, Ace decided to try writing exclusively, for other stars.

He spent two years in the luxurious Salt Mines as Milton Berle's chief sense of humor, helping get Uncle Miltie back into the top ten after he'd slipped into the second 50.

Three years ago he took on the first of the hour-long Perry Como shows, and has signed on for his fourth season coming up in the fall.

Margaret O'Brien $152,459 Richer Coming of Age

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Onetime child star Margaret O'Brien, now 21, has been given legal control of her $152,459.92 savings.

★ ★ ★

The money has been administered by her mother Mrs. Gladys O'Brien, who submitted her final accounting of guardianship yesterday to the Superior Court.

★ ★ ★

Miss O'Brien, a veteran of 14 years as an actress, was earning $150,000 a year not long after her first role — the reading of the Gettysburg Address in a government short with Jimmy Cagney during World War II.

Actress Losing No. 4 as Hubby Walks Out

The actress, formerly married to cowboy actor Hoot Gibson, then to producer Harry Joe Brown, and later to Navy Lt. Howard Barney said Hubby No. 4, John Hollingsworth Morse, television director, left her a month ago.

There are two things a wife can't keep — a secret and a budget . . . The trouble with the car of tomorrow is that it's being driven over the highways of yesterday by the driver of today . . . A small town's a place where a person with a private phone is considered anti-social.—Earl Wilson.

Sid Caesar Says Two's Too Many

LONDON (AP) — Sid Caesar complained last night there's no room in Britain for two Sid Caesars.

The American television comic charged British comedian Dickie Henderson was not only using his material but also was imitating his personality.

★ ★ ★

Caesar, doing a 13-show series for the British Broadcasting Corp. said he had complained to the rival Associated Rediffusion Network, which features Henderson in a weekly program.

★ ★ ★

"I have seen my lawyers about it," said Caesar. "The movements and expressions in the Henderson show are identical to mine. It doesn't seem ethical to me to copy another man's personality."

★ ★ ★

Between shows at the Prince of Wales Theater, Henderson admitted he had studied Caesar's work "but that was because I wanted to keep as far as possible from his interpretation."

"We're absolutely different types of comics," Henderson asserted. "He pulls faces for which I have the greatest admiration. I'm funny, but I'm no good at pulling faces."

TV Announcers No Longer Wear Dinner Jackets

LONDON (AP)—A decision by the British Broadcasting Corp. to let television announcers wear business suits instead of dinner jackets on night programs was denounced by a British style expert today as "bad manners and a retrograde step."

★ ★ ★

John Taylor, editor of Tailor and Cutter commented: "If a man is being looked at by millions he should be sartorially correct. The BBC . . . should continue to set an example by doing the right thing visually."

★ ★ ★

"We are moving with the times," said a BBC spokesman. "This is part of our new informal approach."

Said announcer Michael Aspel: "There used to be a communal dinner jacket which we announcers passed around."

Lonesome Gal Awarded $2,000 From Networks

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The girl who claims the title of radio's original Lonesome Gal has been awarded $2,000 by a federal court to cheer her lonely hours.

★ ★ ★

Jean King Rousseau was awarded the sum yesterday as damages in her 11-million-dollar suit against the Radio Corp. of America, two radio-TV networks and various other corporations and individuals.

She said another singer supplanted her after she spent 10 years making her trademark famous through radio appearances.

Summit Proposal Doomed Before Birth

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The summit meeting, which now looks dead, was a mixed-up mess before it had a chance to start. This is an explanation of how it was shot before it was born.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev on July 19 called for a summit meeting to restore stability to the Middle East. This was after American and British troops moved into Lebanon and Jordan at the request of the heads of those governments.

He called the American-British action a threat to world peace. He suggested the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and India take part in the meeting. The place? He proposed Geneva, Washington, anywhere.

By thus putting the Soviet Union in the role of peacemaker, he gave the Soviets a propaganda advantage. The West couldn't ignore it.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan agreed to the meeting July 22 but suggested it be held in the United Nations Security Council in New York. And he made a very important point:

He suggested that the big powers should not—as is usual in the Council—vote on the problems discussed, but rather that they try to reach agreement without voting.

(The United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union—but not India—are permanent members of the Council. They have regular delegates sitting in for them. If a summit meeting was held in the Council the delegates would just turn their seats over to the heads of their governments.)

It was widely reported the Eisenhower administration wanted no part of a summit meeting but was pushed into reluctant agreement by the British. President Eisenhower wrote a very angry letter to Khrushchev. But, in effect, he appeared to agree without saying so flatly to a summit meeting in the Council.

But French Prime Minister Charles de Gaulle didn't go along with Macmillan and Eisenhower. He thought the big powers' delegates in the Council should continue to try to reach some agreement on the Middle East, with a summit conference held elsewhere if it were needed.

On July 23 Khrushchev shot back a fast acceptance of the Eisenhower - Macmillan proposals, agreed to go to New York, and agreed with Macmillan that the meeting should try to reach agreements without voting.

He even suggested the heads of government might be able to get things done in an unofficial way. Which might mean: they could sit in public in the Council for a while but do their real arguing and agreeing behind closed doors.

But he again proposed that India sit in and that the Arab states should take part in the discussion. Under the Council rules any U. N. member not on the Council can ask to be heard in any discussion involving its area.

Therefore, as De Gaulle later pointed out, if the Arabs could talk before the Council on the Middle East, Israel, Turkey, Iran and others would have the same right.

If the discussion went further than the Middle East, other nations would want to be heard. In short, as he said, this would no longer be just a summit meeting. In fact, it could turn into a free for all.

On July 25 Eisenhower wrote Khrushchev another letter. He added something which he hadn't mentioned before. He said any summit meeting in the Security Council should be governed by rules of the Council.

Presumably this meant voting, which was just the opposite of what Macmillan and Khrushchev had talked of. Eisenhower went further; before there was a summit meeting in the Council, he said, the big powers' delegates there should work out arrangements for the conference.

Macmillan went along with Eisenhower—to the extent of saying the delegates should make the summit arrangements. But De Gaulle still wouldn't go along. He suggested a summit meeting limited to the big powers somehwere in Europe.

Khrushchev accused Eisenhower and Macmillan—with their proposal that the delegates arrange the meeting—of trying to stall off any summit meeting at all. He said those same delegates have been unable to agree on what to do about the Middle East.

★ ★ ★

The White House said Eisenhower still sticks to his idea about having the meeting in the Security Council the way he proposed. That about wraps it up.

Vanderbilt Mansion Reopens in Newport

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — The Breakers, Cornelius Vanderbilt's fabulous 70-room "summer cottage" is once again open to the public. The mansion, which overlooks world-famous Cliff Walk, is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the summer.

The Breakers is under the auspices of the Preservation Society of Newport County. Proceeds from admissions are used by the society to further restoration projects of Newport's colonial-built houses.
