SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — A mystery radio station claiming to be in Hanoi is telling young men of North Vietnam not to fight in the South and urging the people to oppose Red China and follow the Soviet Union.

"Mao Tse-tung is a madman and wants world war — look to Russia," said a recent broadcast.

Among others, South Vietnamese rangers heard this particular hour-long program in Vietnamese in a farming area near My Tho, in the Mekong River Delta about 50 miles southwest of Saigon.

U.S. officials in Saigon said today they do not know anything about the broadcasts.

There was speculation, however, that they are supersecret U.S.-sponsored psychological warfare programs.

Vietnamese rangers on a military operation listened to the broadcast on transistor radios. A ranger interpreter said they could hear it every day from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m.

The program opened with a nostalgic Vietnamese folk song.

"This is a radio broadcast from Hanoi," an announcer said. "This information is from Vietnamese political groups in the movement to win and preserve freedom."

A man calling himself "Guom Thieng Ai Quoc" — The Sacred Sword of Patriotism — and a woman read news stories and editorials.

Near the end of the hour the announcer delivered several minutes of what were described as coded orders to special teams in the jungles and other remote spots and even in Hanoi that were too dangerous to reach otherwise.

Hoffa a Step Closer to Prison Cell Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — James R. Hoffa, head of the nation's largest labor union, found himself yet another step closer to a prison cell today.

There appears to be little his lawyers can do aside from delaying briefly the day Hoffa goes to prison. But even behind bars, Hoffa was expected to retain control of his union, the 1.7 million member International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Hoffa lost an appeal yesterday to the U.S. Supreme Court, which upheld a 1964 conviction by a federal court of jury tampering.

Unless the high court decides to reconsider the case, which seems highly unlikely, Hoffa will begin serving an eight-year sentence in a federal penitentiary within the next six weeks.

The 53-year-old Teamster chief has 25 days to file a formal petition with the court asking for reconsideration, but the last-ditch effort is considered merely as a delaying tactic since the court rarely ever grants such requests.

In 1964 Hoffa was convicted in a Chattanooga, Tenn., federal court on charges that he tried to rig a Nashville, Tenn., jury while he was on trial for conspiracy in 1962.

He Is Able to Sit in Chair 25 Minutes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has recovered enough from yesterday's gallbladder operation to get out of bed this morning and sit in a chair for 25 minutes, his doctors reported.

Brig. Gen. Philip W. Mallory, commanding general of Walter Reed Army Hospital, told reporters shortly after 11 a.m.:

"I have just come from Gen. Eisenhower's suite and I am very happy to report that he continues to make very satisfactory progress."

"He has been up (out of bed) this morning and sat up in a chair for 25 minutes."

"He is back in bed now and is responding in all this very normally and just the way we want it."

Crashes of AF Jets Leave Three Dead

By the Associated Press
Three Air Force planes were involved in crashes that have left three crewmen dead and one missing, today.

Two of the planes — F101 jet fighters — collided over the Atlantic off Long Island early today. Three crewmen were rescued by helicopter and search operations were under way for a fourth man, the Coast Guard said.

The three rescued crewmen were in good condition.

Meanwhile, one body was recovered and nine Navy men were missing after the crash of a helicopter early yesterday 34 miles off the California coast. The craft was destined for the assault ship Tripoli.

There were no signs of survivors, although some debris has been sighted.

Funds, Airport on Agenda for City Tonight

A proposed $9.2-million budget and Oakland County's revised offer for purchase of Pontiac Municipal Airport are the top items for consideration tonight by the City Commission.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren is scheduled to present the proposed budget for 1967. The commission will set a date for a public hearing.

The third plane — a B58 bomber — crashed last night near Stanford, Ky., killing all three of its crewmen.

A witness to the crash said he saw the body of the pilot descending, his parachute partially open. He said the body was afire and that he and some neighbors extinguished the flames.

The bomber, from the 365th Bomber Wing at Bunker Hill Air Force Base, Ind., was reportedly on a routine practice bombing mission.

ROUTINE MISSION

The jet fighters that collided over the Atlantic were flying out of Suffolk County Air Force Base in Westhampton, N.Y. They had taken off on a routine training mission 35 minutes before the crash.

Air Force spokesmen said

Separate Accidents Kill 3 Men in Area

Three Pontiac area men lost their lives in separate traffic accidents late yesterday and early today, one of them when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car.

Dead are Thomas A. Bishop, 43, of 53267 Villa Circle, Utica; Russell Linebaugh, 56, of 2515 Mann, Waterford Township; and William J. Cox, 75, of 1937 Woodland, Sylvan Lake.

Bishop was killed almost instantly when his car ran off Parkdale Road in Avon Township and hit a tree about 12:25 a.m. today, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Deputies said there were no skid marks and said they found no swerving tracks to indicate the victim had attempted to avoid the tree.

Bishop was alone when the accident occurred about one-half mile east of Miller.

Linebaugh was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital after his car collided head-on with another automobile on Clintonville Road in Waterford Township.

SECOND CAR

Township police said the driver of the second car, Larry B. Irwin, 16, son of Willie Irwin of 3325 Genoa, Independence Township, was passing another car when he collided with the Linebaugh's vehicle.

The Irwin youth is listed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General. Police said the accident occurred south of Detroit Street about 4:45 p.m.

'Surgery Can't Cure Ruby'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The physician in charge of Jack Ruby's treatment said today Ruby's cancer has developed too far to be cured by surgery.

Dr. Jack Barnett said the only hope for a cure will lie in chemotherapy, which is treatment by drugs. He ruled out radiological treatment because of the widespread cancer.

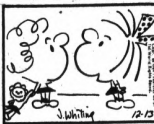

Barnett is associate professor of internal medicine at Southwestern Medical School, a few steps from Parkland Hospital where Ruby was taken Friday from his jail cell.

The physician also disclosed at a morning news conference that another tumor was found yesterday in the pleura — the lining of the chest. He said it was the same sort of cancer found Saturday in a lymph node in Ruby's neck.

Ruby, 55, is the nondrinking, nonsmoking onetime nightclub operator who killed Lee Harvey Oswald, later identified by the Warren Commission as President John F. Kennedy's assassin.

"It is incurable by surgery," the doctor said. "Surgery might be used for benefit, but not for a cure."

County Studies Cycle 'Problem'

(First of Two Parts)
By DAVID J. COOK

Except for a handful of hardy practitioners, the thousands of motorcyclists in Oakland County have packed away their two-wheeled vehicles until spring.

Adventure and daring as many of them are, cyclists for the most part are unwilling to face the bitter winds and treacherous roads of a Michigan winter.

With the predictable return of motorcycles in the warming months of April and May, however, law enforcement and traffic officers will once again face what proved to be a serious highway safety problem in 1966.

It was in May of this year that accident figures first gave Oakland County sheriff's deputies an indication of the coming trend in motorcycle mishaps.

Eleven accidents were reported in that month, more than the total of the previous four months.

The first Pontiac area fatality occurred May 25, when 16-year-old Gerald Olson of Farmington Township died in a motorcycle-pickup truck collision.

Three more deaths were reported in June, four in July, two in August, and one in September.

With one fatality recorded in South Oakland County early in 1966, the summer death surge pushed the motorcycle toll to 12.

As of today, that figure represents about one-tenth of the number to die in automobile- and truck-related mishaps in the county.

The proportion — about 8 percent — is far above the ratio of registered motorcycles to registered cars, trucks and buses combined.

Most expert opinion — ranging from doctors to the deputies and troopers called to the scene of fatal accidents — suggests that the primary factor in the high motorcycle death rate is the almost complete lack of protection afforded drivers and passengers.

"I'm not so sure motorcyclists drive much differently than other people," commented one officer. "It's just that when a cycle piles up, anybody on it keeps going until a tree or car or something else stops them."

Cong Answer U.S. Air Raid

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. B52 Stratoforters unloaded a cascade of bombs on an enemy base close to Saigon today, and the Vietcong retaliated with an outbreak of grenade throwing in the capital and near it.

Although more than 1,000 South Vietnamese troops pushed a search-and-destroy mission in the Mekong Delta 106 miles south of Saigon, ground fighting across the country dwindled and only light skirmishes were reported.

Divers Ready to Probe Hulk in Lake Huron

HARBOR BEACH (AP) — Divers prepared today to investigate the bulk of a ship believed to be that of the sunken ore carrier Daniel J. Morrell.

The bulk, about 26 miles off Harbor Beach, was found a few days after the Morrell sank in Lake Huron storm Nov. 29. Dennis Hale, only survivor of the Morrell's 26-man crew, said the bulk is in the area in which the Morrell sank.

The three skin divers have been hired by Bethlehem Steel Corp., owner of the Morrell. Authorities said a salvage crew from Ontario was standing by to aid, but was not expected to set up salvage operations.

A Harbor Beach Coast Guard spokesman said the divers would probably begin operations today if weather permits.

Workers, Bell Sign Contract

LANSING (AP) — The Communications Workers of America have ratified a contract with Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

The contract is virtually the same as one that was rejected in a statewide ballot less than two months ago. The agreement was approved by a 3-1 margin. Eighty per cent of the state's 17,000 members rallied in their votes.

In Detroit, Dan Smith, vice president of personnel for Michigan Bell, said:

"Although the agreement will result in added wage costs of about $10 million a year, we will try through continued efficiency and technological improvements to keep rates at their present levels."

The Weather

Full U.S. Weather Bureau Report
PONTIAC AND VICINITY — Variable cloudiness with a slight moderating trend today, tonight and Wednesday. High today 30 to 37. Low tonight 17 to 24. Winds variable to 15 miles today and tonight. Thursday outlook: Partly cloudy and not much change in temperature.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain is in the weather picture tonight for the mid-Atlantic states, changing to snow in the Appalachians. Rain is also expected along the northern Pacific Coast, turning to snow in the northern Rockies and Plains. It will be milder in the Midwest and the Northeast states.

U.S. planes Monday had their busiest day over North Vietnam in weeks, flying 30 bombing missions or 300 to 350 individual strikes. This was still well below the average of 150 missions down daily before the monsoon storms moved north.

In one of the missions two all-weather Navy Intruders from the carrier Kitty Hawk struck only five miles from Haiphong, North Vietnam's main port. The jet bombers made radar precision runs on a missile assembly installation, and one of the pilots said the explosions "looked like flashbulbs in the night."

REPEAT RAIDS

The B52 raid hammered at a Viet Cong base camp and storage area 30 miles north of Saigon, repeating raids last week in the same area aimed at striking out the lairs from which the Vietcong launch terror attacks against the capital.

The closest B52 raid to Saigon was staged last March 28, when the eight-engine bombers hit 18 miles southeast of the city.

Syria Warns West on Iraq Oil Holdings

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Damascus radio threatened Monday night that Iraq will take over the Iraqi oil industry unless the Western-owned companies now producing the oil submit to Syrian demands for increased transit royalties.

The Syrian threat was not confirmed by Iraq officials in Baghdad, and there was no immediate comment from the Iraq Petroleum Co., one of Western Europe's major oil suppliers.

The Syrian government radio said the company's suspension of pipeline deliveries to its Syrian terminal at Banias Monday "will last only for a short period, after which the oil will be freed from imperialist domination to become purely Arab oil springing from Arab soil and running over Arab soil."

The broadcast added, however, the IPC's "rash attitude toward Syria would only lead to such consequences," and indication that the threat would be lifted if the company paid up.

The broadcast also said that the Iraqis, "after 40 years of experience, have become able

Pupils Unhurt in Bus Crash

Twenty-six children on their way home escaped serious injury yesterday when their school bus collided head-on with a car on East Snell in Oakland Township.

According to Oakland County sheriff's deputies, the bus driver, Betsy O. Parlin, 31, of 991 Dewey, was unable to avoid hitting the car driven west on Snell by Orbin E. Shaw, 53, of Highland Park.

Sheriff's deputies said Shaw's car crossed the center line just before the vehicles collided about 3:35 p.m.

Eight persons were wounded when a terrorist threw a grenade in another terrorist office on the outskirts of Saigon. Among those wounded was the hamlet chief.

Bribery Try Denied in Cheyz Trial

Three terrorist attacks in and around Saigon were reported. One terrorist threw a grenade at four national policemen patrolling in a car in Cholon, the Chinese section of the capital. Three policemen were wounded.

Another grenade was thrown in a hamlet headquarters on the edge of Saigon wounding a Vietnamese policeman and four civilians.

A witness testified under cross-examination today that he never gave or promised any money to White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz in connection with a proposed rezoning.

Richard Hanson admitted during questioning this morning by Cheyz's attorney, Joseph Louisell, that he had once offered Cheyz $1,000 of $5,000 he was to get for promotional work.

The money was for political expenses, he said.

Cheyz is on trial in Circuit Court on charges of conspiracy to bribe and bribery brought against him last April by Oakland County Grand Juror Philip Pratt.

Hanson was named a coconspirator, but not charged because he was granted immunity by Pratt.

Cheyz allegedly intended to use his influence to have a 10-acre parcel owned by Mrs. Estella Dawson, a 68-year-old widow, rezoned from agricultural to residential.

BUILDING PROJECT

Mrs. Dawson planned to build an apartment project on the site located on Ormond Road near Brookfield in the township.

According to Hanson, Cheyz did not ask for the $1,000 and the money was never mentioned again.

Hanson said he offered the money because he felt an obligation to Cheyz, partly for getting him his job as a public relations man with the Waterford Township consulting-engineering firm of Johnson & Anderson, Inc.

"I thought nothing was wrong then with the offer, but as things turned out, yes," he said.

"I couldn't recall," Hanson was unable to recall when he first began to think there was something wrong.

Asked by Louisell if he had requested $1,000 in advance from Mrs. Dawson so he could pay Cheyz, Hanson answered, "No."

"It was because I didn't trust Mrs. Dawson," Hanson said that he had intended to use the money for advertising and the preparing of brochures for the proposed apartments, but with the exception of two meetings and several phone conversations with Mrs. Dawson, he had done no actual work, he said.

In Battle Creek Fire

3 Young Brothers Asphyxiated

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Three young brothers were asphyxiated by superheated air as they tried to escape a fire that swept through their two-story home in Battle Creek late Monday night.

The children were removed by two policemen who entered the house with fire fighters. One fireman suffered minor injuries when he fell down a flight of stairs.

Chief Burrows said it was the worst death toll he had seen in a fire in Battle Creek in his 37 years with the department.

Police said the children's mother, Dorilyn Grant, 27, pregnant with her fourth child, was visiting neighbors nearby when the fire broke out. Her husband was at his job at the Custer Job Corps Center near Battle Creek.

Burrows said the cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Commission Considers Citizens Traffic Group

BIRMINGHAM — A mounting number of traffic problems has prompted the City Commission to give serious consideration to the formation of a citizens' traffic advisory group.

The citizens committee was proposed by Commissioner Ruth McNamee during a lengthy discussion last night about the east leg of the city's perimeter road.

Commissioner Carl Ingraham proposed the idea for the city's eastern road. Commissioners rejected the idea until they review all of the objections at the informal gathering.

The state highway department controls Hunter and has only agreed to Hunter as the east leg if the city modifies its plans, and pays the estimated $100,000 for the cost of the improvements.

"We could spend all our time on these questions," said Roberts.

An informal meeting was scheduled by the commission for the first week in January to discuss the eastern route of the ring road.

Troy Defends Police Hirings

'Pirating' Allegation Denied by City Aide

TROY — Good working conditions and the greater possibility of advancement are cited by city officials here as reasons they've been able to hire a number of experienced police officers from other departments.

The allegation by anyone of "pirating" such officers is denied by Patrick Hynes, Troy assistant city manager.

Cause of the controversy has been Troy's hiring of five new officers in the last three months, four of them from Birmingham and one from Detroit.

"We advertise in the papers, but we do not send letters to personnel at other departments," said Hynes.

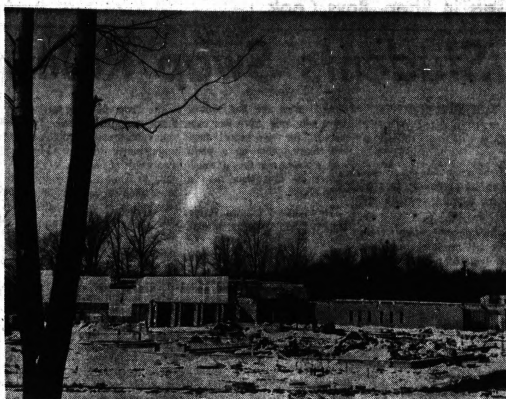

"Some of our people here have been in receipt of such letters from other cities, but we do not feel this is right," he continued.

Hynes attributes the tremendous potential for growth in the Troy department as one of the big incentives to employees of other fully-staffed police bureaus.

He said, "We have 26 men on the payroll now, and within ten years we can expect to have 150 officers. The chance for advancement therefore becomes much better in a place like Troy."

The city's Civil Service Commission board was to meet this week to pass acceptance on two other officers, again one of them an experienced man.

Hynes confirmed the fact that Birmingham pays its officers $8 a year more than does Troy.

New Bloomfield Hills High School Under Construction

In Bloomfield Hills

School Building Zooms

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — New construction dotting the school district's landscape gives evidence to the district's attempts to stay one jump ahead of increasing enrollment.

The new buildings are part of an $11-million bond issue approved by voters last April. Some were started with funds from an earlier bond issue.

Three new schools in various stages of progress are expected to be ready by the time school opens next fall. The first portion of the district's second high school is now under construction at Lahser near Long Lake.

When the first section housing 600 pupils is completed next summer, an addition to house 600 more students will be started immediately. A second addition is also planned for the future.

Also, currently under construction are a junior high school, an elementary school and a bus garage.

Other construction planned for the future includes five new elementary schools and a swimming pool at the present high school.

Schools Supt. Eugene Johnson estimates that the district's present enrollment of 8,000 pupils will jump to at least 12,000 in the next five years.

2 Sports OK'd in Clarkston

CLARKSTON — The addition of interscholastic wrestling and skiing to the Clarkston High School athletic program was approved last night by the board of education.

A competitive schedule for both sports will soon be under way.

According to Supt. of Schools Dr. L. P. Greene, the two sports will be self-supporting within the system's athletic program.

In other business, the board accepted a bid of $4,305 from Anchor Fence Division of Pontiac for about 700 feet of 8-foot-high fencing to enclose the system's new bus parking lot.

Total cost of the parking lot project, including the fencing, is $4,190. Due for completion in February, the lot is located immediately south of the high school. Workers are now in the process of grading the 21,000-square-foot lot.

To HOLD 50 BUSES School officials said the lot will be able to accommodate up to 50 buses. Eventually a new garage will be built on the site.

Also last night, the board accepted a low bid of $2,722 submitted by Pontiac Tractor and Equipment Co. for purchase of a tractor, equipped with snow-removing and lawn equipment.

Six firms submitted bids, which ranged as high as $5,594. Discussed with township officials last night was the feasibility of connecting the proposed new junior high school (North Sahabaw) at Maybee and Pine Knob roads, with the existing Goodrich Farms Subdivision water supply system.

It is one of three township water supply systems. The school is earmarked for completion by the fall of 1968.

"You save money by converting to Nu-Sash!"

Nu-Sash is a window specifically designed to replace old, drafty, out-of-date house windows at amazing new low cost.

Old, loose fitting, rattling, out-of-date house windows — the major cause of cold, drafty, breezy rooms and sooty inside window sills — are a thing of the past since Nu-Sash. Homeowners everywhere are finding that by converting to Nu-Sash aluminum replacement windows, complete and maximum comfort is gained without major remodeling and other unnecessary and costly home improvement projects.

Nu-Sash is a window specifically designed to replace old, out-of-date windows. Furthermore, the Nu-Sash window is fully tested and proved by one of the greatest testing laboratories in the building products field.

One of the greatest features of Nu-Sash is that the window is installed without touching inside plaster and woodwork. This means no dusty and dirty installation work. Expert workmen remove the old sash and track, insert new aluminum jam liners and tracks, then custom fit Nu-Sash securely into place. Complete installation, which is included in the new low cost of Nu-Sash, is done fast, safely and expertly — never stick or bind.

Savings in heating bills will pay for a Nu-Sash conversion. Many more time and money saving features in Nu-Sash are gained since the anodized aluminum unit never needs paint, putty, caulking and other yearly household work and maintenance.

Nu-Sash qualify for low-cost interest home improvement loans. The window is rated superior to standards set up by FHA for new construction requirements.

The Nu-Sash window recently appeared in issues of the Better Homes & Gardens magazine. It was awarded the guarantee seal of that publication. For additional free literature on Nu-Sash, mail the coupon below. Price samples are also available upon request.

Charter Vote Slated Jan. 24 in Rochester

By JEAN SAILE
ROCHESTER — Voters of this small village east of Pontiac will cast ballots Jan. 24 to accept or reject a just-drafted city charter.

The election date was set last night with the presentation by James Hill, chairman of the nine-man charter commission, of the tentatively state-approved charter.

Would-be councilmen for the proposed city have just 17 days — until Dec. 20 — to file their nominating petitions for a seat on the proposed seven-member council.

A public hearing on the charter was slated for 7:30 p.m. next Monday in the municipal offices.

At the January vote the seven councilmen will be chosen to implement the new charter. If the charter is accepted they will take office at the first meeting after the election.

IF TURNED DOWN
If the charter is turned down, the election of the councilmen running at that time will be nullified and the village will move on into its annual spring election in March, according to manager William Sinclair.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions for the council is Dec. 20. The deadline for registration to vote is Dec. 27, according to Clerk Maxine Ross.

Hill said the charter had been returned from the state attorney general's office with three recommended corrections and that these had been made.

He said the charter is now back in Lansing with the assurance that Gov. George Romney will give his approval.

WHEELS IN MOTION
The wheels were hurriedly put into motion for the election. The council has been consistently faced with the knowledge that only incorporation can guarantee the small town's immunity from having to participate in the expensive Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor program, entered into by Avon Township.

Another complication was added within the last two weeks as residents of the township began petitions to incorporate the remainder of Avon Township.

The move was made, according to spokesmen, not so much to achieve actual incorporation of the remainder of the township as to buy two years' time in which residents of both Rochester and Avon might consider incorporating as one unit.

Village observers feel that while similar suggested propositions have gone to defeat in the past, the raising of the issue at this time can be a good seed as to be prime conditions for a favorable village incorporation vote.

INITIAL VOTE
The initial vote for incorporation was held last September.

In other business the council accepted an amended con-

County Farmers to Meet Thursday

An Oakland County convention to fill vacancies on the County Agricultural and Conservation Committee has been called for Thursday. A county chairman will be elected.

The committee has charge of the administration of such farm-action programs as the Agricultural Conservation Program, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, the National Wool program, commodity price-support loans, and storage facility loans.

An election to name delegates to the convention was conducted last Tuesday.

Break-In Nets Jewelry, TV Set

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — An undetermined amount of expensive jewelry and a television set were taken yesterday from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Wichowski, 7094 Stonebrook, while the family was at work.

Township police said the home was broken into through a service door sometime between 9 and 9 p.m.

tract with Federal urban renewal authorities, which while taking in the general rising costs of construction, also allows an additional $18,975 for relocation of families from the urban renewal area.

A four-man committee to rule on rent supplements for displaced persons was given tentative approval. Named to the committee were Arthur L. Keyes, a banker; Dr. Alvin Gursin, a dentist; Neil Hartwig, a realtor; and Charles Rufenacht, a social worker.

The bid for moving one of the houses from the East Third renewal area to a new location on Lounsbury was awarded to Coetz House Moving for the sum of $5,385.

HOPES TO SELL
George Wilhelm, Rochester renewal director, said the village could hope to sell the house for at least $3,400 later and thereby provide low-cost housing for an elderly retired couple being moved out of the renewal area.

Charles Rosemergy was re-appointed to the Rochester Zoning Board of Appeals for a three-year term.

A public hearing to rezoned land on Romeo from residential to commercial led to the council's approval, despite objections stated by nearby residents.

The land will be used as a building site for a carpet outlet for White's Village Square, according to Calvin White, owner. He still must face the Zoning Board of Appeals for waiver of certain restrictions, made necessary by the topography of the site, according to village officials.

APPOINTED
Councilman Samuel Howlett was appointed the council delegate to meet with representatives of the Junior Woman's Club, the Lions Club and the Senior Citizens' Club at 1 p.m. Thursday to hear George Cherry of Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity discuss the establishment of a drop-in center for senior citizens.

The Junior Woman's Club said it had rented the Avon Pavilion on a once-weekly basis beginning Feb. 7 as a center.

Hot Criticism Follows Fire That Levelled Bruce Home

BRUCE TOWNSHIP — Minutes' to report to the scene. One neighbor said a scout car had been dispatched to the house before a second call from neighbors brought out the fire department.

The police log lists another call 10 minutes after the first in a call for more men.

OTHER QUESTIONS
Antiquated equipment and understaffing of the Romeo Department were questions raised by witnesses, including Rochester Councilman Roy Redman, who as a volunteer fireman, made an informal report at last night's Rochester council meeting.

The Romeo Fire Department was called at either 9:25 or 10:25 a.m. — the figure reported is blurred on the police log.

TIME OF CALL
Chief Walter Werth contends his department was not called in time to save the house since it was unoccupied when the blaze broke out.

Neighbors agreed the department would have had some chance of housing the blaze had the call been turned in sooner.

However, they charged that it took the department "a good 25

Students Swap Roles

By JANICE KLOUSER
WALLED LAKE — Eighth grade boys learning to cook and sew and loving every minute of it?

Girls learning how to fix a dripping faucet or repair a lamp cord?

Unlikely as it may seem these are the latest and possibly the most popular innovations at Clifford Smart Junior High School.

In a departure from the usual home economics class for girls and shop class for boys, the junior high girls are spending the last 10 weeks of the school semester in a shop class and the boys in home economics.

Judging from the comments the boys and girls seem to enjoy their new roles.

IT'S A BALL
"It's a ball," said one girl, struggling with a leaky faucet. "Much better than home ec."

And down the hall, young boys who look more like candidates for the school football team, whip up a pizza and contend they'd much rather do that than take a shop class.

The reversed classes started this year and were an immediate hit.

More than 80 boys and girls signed up but the number had to be limited to 80.

The first 10 weeks of school, the girls took the usual home making and boys took shop.

They switched for the last 10 weeks.

Results Upheld by Recounts

Recounts conducted yesterday in Groveland and Oxford townships failed to upset the outcome of challenged contests in the Nov. 8 general election.

Three additional votes were received, however, by Donald J. Carter who had petitioned for the recount in Groveland where he lost the race for township supervisor to Republican incumbent Earl B. Rhinevaull.

The recount revealed that Rhinevaull won by a 18-vote margin, rather than the 13 he had initially been credited. The final tally was 226 to 228.

In Oxford Township, the Oakland County Board of Canvassers uncovered no discrepancies in the 889 to 855 vote that defeated a proposal to sell liquor by the glass.

The canvassing board was to conduct a recount today in Pontiac Township, where Mont D. Bodman has questioned the vote that failed to gain him a seat on the board of trustees.

Bodman, 310 Auburn, lost his bid for township trustee by five votes.

Union Chosen by Custodians

MILFORD — Huron Valley School District custodians unanimously chose the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, as their bargaining representative last week.

The 22 employees petitioned the board of education last month for a vote to elect a representative.

'Aroused Citizenry Key to Cleaner Air'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young articulate people who have decided that they need not and will not tolerate this assault on their senses."

Mrs. B. Brand Konheim of New York, president of Citizens for Clean Air, Inc., made her suggestion in one of several dozen papers presented at panel sessions of the National Conference on Air Pollution.

Other suggestions aimed at speeding action on control included a system of effluent fees to be imposed on polluters by the federal government, tighter regulations and stiffer penalties for violators of state enforcement rules, granting industry tax incentives and limiting travel of motor vehicles into heavily contaminated urban areas.

NECESSARY STEP

He said such criteria are a necessary first step in setting uniform emission standards without which he said pollution cannot be controlled.

He said more than 7,000 U.S. communities have a smog problem. "There is really no way to accurately judge just how much property damage occurs, but it is substantial. Estimates vary greatly, ranging upwards from $10 billion a year."

Mrs. Konheim said, "I would like to look almost exclusively at air pollution as an esthetic problem, for I believe that no aspect of dirty air so motivates public anger as its assault on the senses. The American public has reached a new threshold of awareness of its environment."

MOTIVATION

"Esthetic considerations, however, are rarely the factors which motivate the experts, the engineers, and the professional control officials. But they are what motivates the citizens. "The fight for cleaner air is not being led by asthmatics, or the victims of emphysema, or by those people of marginal health who first feel the effects of pollution," she continued. "It is being led by healthy."

Pollution Control Plans Hit City

As water pollution increasingly emerges as a major threat to one of the Nation's prime resources, numerous concepts for dealing with it are being formulated.

Inevitably opinions differ as to the scope of antipollution projects—whether they should envision large-scale regional authorities or more limited approaches along individual municipal lines.

Currently Pontiac, whose $6 million plant provides adequate sewage treatment, is in the middle of two concepts for pollution abatement in the Clinton River which meanders 200 miles across Oakland and Macomb counties.

On one hand is the Detroit-sponsored six-county plan that would in effect route all sewage affecting the river to Detroit for treatment—the cost of which to be assessed against the communities involved.

The alternative is a more limited solution to the problem. Under a state law, passed in 1965, a Drainage District is created upon the petitions of affected communities. The governing board for the drainage district is made up of the drain commissioners from each of the affected counties and a representative of the State Dept. of Agriculture. Such action was recently taken at a hearing in Mount Clemens.

Caught between the six-county sanitation concept now being pushed by Detroit, and provisions of the 1965 law that would arbitrarily draw Pontiac into the new entity, the City stands to lose regardless of which plan becomes reality.

Since participation in either would entail direct and indirect costs, Pontiac, with ample pollution-control plant, would find itself assuming proportionate cost of upgrading sewage treatment of communities whose facilities have not kept pace with requirements.

Women Increasingly in the Driver's Seat

Here's an item of possible interest to men:

By 1970, half of all drivers in the United States will be women!

Before you take to the hills, gentlemen, remember that there already are 38 million women behind the wheel, against—and the word is used purely by coincidence — 58 million male drivers.

The number of women drivers has doubled since 1952, due to more suburbs, more two-car families, more unmarried career women and more people, period.

Auto manufacturers are so convinced the Little Woman often casts the deciding vote in choosing the family car that they are paying closer and closer attention to her preferences in color and styling, and are offering such lady-lures as suspended accelerator pedals (to meet the high heel problem), facial tissue dispensers and "his" and "her" ashtrays.

Traffic authorities seem to agree that women are driving more safely and more expertly day by day. And most men are accepting the fact that the woman driver is here to stay, even if not in one lane.

There will probably always remain, however, the occasional cynic who insists that when a woman sticks out her hand in traffic, it means only one thing—that the window is down.

(That's only a quote, ladies, and does NOT necessarily reflect the views of this newspaper.)

Advice to Government 'Physician Heal Thyself'

The public has been conditioned to expect a Federal tax increase, and it has been urged to curb its spending as a means of holding down prices. Government officials should recommend the same medicine for themselves. Government spending and debt create inflation and depreciate our money.

Editorials in newspapers across the land comment more and more on the failure of Congress to curb its own spending, while asking the people to be frugal.

Only the people can control the spenders, who will not control themselves. In the elections last month, public concern over the expanding cost and power of government may well have been one of the significant messages that came from the polling booths.

Politics in a Searching Stage

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — This is one of those strange moments in American political history, a kind of bewildered searching, and maybe wishing.

Events of the past few days illustrate it. One was out in Colorado where Idaho's Gov. Robert E. Smylie milled around at the Republican governors' conference, making a prediction about President Johnson.

Smylie could hardly have been smiling since he was defeated in Idaho's Aug. 2 primary election, but he predicted Johnson would not be a candidate for reelection in 1968.

He thinks Johnson's health and what he called the "mood of discontent" in the country may persuade the President not to try for a second term.

POPULARITY DWINDLES
Smylie could be right. For a man who has been soaked, bathed and massaged in politics, Johnson for many months has seen his popularity in the public opinion polls going steadily down without doing much to offset it.

But the Republicans are in no enviable position themselves and Smylie's prediction about Johnson may be no more than a wistful wish that Johnson, the most adroit, nimble, and powerful obstacle on the Republican road to the presidency, would please step aside by the time of the next election.

The Colorado conference of the Republican Governors Association which Smylie attended was hardly more than a lot of polite palaver, a kind of board of inspection, where the Republicans looked one another over to see who might be a good presidential prospect.

News stories out of the conference told how Michigan's Gov. George Romney "thundered." While Romney still insists he hasn't decided about running in 1968, he certainly acts like a man trying to line up support.

SENT AS HANDICAP
But this thundering — which some may interpret later as dogmatic — manner may turn into one of his severest handicaps, particularly if he does not produce more ideas than he has so far.

But, while all this was going on in Colorado, something else was happening in Wisconsin where Ray C. Bliss, the chairman of the Republican National Committee, didn't sound too cheerful.

There he was telling the GOP that while there is little room among Democrats for new ideas, with the party faithful standing in line for room at the top, the Republican party has been eroding at the bottom for years, finding it ever more difficult to discover people willing to run for office.

Grand Illusion

David Lawrence Says:

Soviet, China War Role Evident

WASHINGTON — Many people in America unfortunately continue to harbor the illusion that the United States is at war just with North Vietnam and that this is incidental to a "civil war" between two segments of a small country in Southeast Asia.

As a consequence, organizations like the National Council of Churches and other groups keep on urging that the U.S. call a halt to the bombing even without any agreement in advance from the other side that it, too, will observe a cessation of fighting for the length of the truce.

But the tragic facts which every now and then come to the surface show clearly that the United States is, in effect, at war with the Soviet Union as well as Red China and that, without the consent of Peking or Moscow, there will be no ending of the war in Vietnam.

Thus, for example, the United Press International transmitted a dispatch from Saigon yesterday which reads as follows:

"Russia has supplied Hanoi with 100 new MIG jet fighters, more than double the size of Communist North Vietnam's air force, it was disclosed today."

Only two days ago, moreover, Roy D. Kohler, who recently returned from 4½ years service as U.S. Ambassador in Moscow to become deputy undersecretary of state, revealed that the Kremlin is more interested in weakening Western unity than in finding an accommodation with the West.

NET EFFECT

The net effect of Kohler's speech is to confirm what has long been suspected — that much of the talk about a Soviet negotiation to bring a truce or peace agreement of some kind to the end of the war is at present meaningless.

Instead of hints of closer trade relations between the U.S. and the Communist bloc in eastern Europe, it would seem more logical to be hearing demands in Congress for a trade embargo.

Under existing circumstances, it is difficult to see how there can be any disarmament agreements or any let-up in America's military preparations.

Indeed, Congress will be faced in its next session with the big question as to whether it will provide large sums of money for an antimissile defense.

All this would have been unnecessary if democratic regimes were in power in both Peking and Moscow. The Vietnam war is primarily part of a larger struggle in which Communist imperialism is fighting against democracy by continuously furnishing arms and ammunition to prolong the Vietnam war.

Lonely GIs in S. Viet Not Forgotten by USO

SAIGON — The lonely plight of thousands of servicemen in Vietnam will be partly alleviated during the coming holidays by the USO.

Mrs. Patricia Krause and Sam Anderson, respectively the public information and executive director of the USO CONSIDINE operation in Vietnam, today filled in with the facts of life of that great organization. Some of the facts are poignant warnings.

For example, USO channels mail to servicemen whose families and friends are so wrapped up in themselves that they seldom, even never, write to the men and boys fighting in the alien rice paddies.

Where does the mail come from?

Well, it comes addressed to servicemen in general. It comes by the sackful, thanks to good-hearted people the recipients never heard of or will probably ever meet.

Answers to Letter on Behavior of Teens

Some adults have written about Negro teen-agers who use vulgar language and wander downtown after school and bother things in stores. If the school would provide buses near the school they wouldn't have to go downtown to catch city buses.

These students learn the language from their parents. How many parents send their children to church? How many make their children study? I urge the teen-agers of Central district to try to improve.

TRUDY HERRING
EASTERN JUNIOR HIGH

I do not excuse the behavior of students from Pontiac Central but I do not think the burden for the so-called good name of the Negro race should be placed on their young shoulders. Older men like Lee Harvey Oswald or Richard Speck did not hurt the image of the white race.

If all concerned citizens are going to protest student behavior on buses, let them protest the students themselves and not the race.

CATHA L. HORNE

The color of a person's skin is not what determines his reaction to a troublesome situation. Today, violence, rioting, sit-ins, demonstrations and marches are used as a means of expressing opinions. The sad part about the Central bus situation is that the persons involved cannot see that they are making bad matters worse. Students who show no respect for elderly persons do not show a bad reflection on their race but on their parents.

For a short while we had a bad bus situation at Pontiac Northern. We had a meeting including students, representatives from the Board of Education and the bus company, school officials and parents. We looked on the situation as one that both white and Negro could work together to solve. If people would try to solve their problems as they confront them and stop classing them the fault of one race we would have a school system that all could be proud of.

'Our Space Program Is Waste of Money'

Our space program is the biggest, quickest and most popular way to waste money ever conceived. Two of our most renowned scientists resigned as director of space each having served a very short time. Only a politician type of scientist will persist in this expenditure of over $20 billion for a fruitless program.

We probably can land on the moon, but for what purpose? This is a popular, spectacular dud with no future except more spending. The astronaut does not as much walking in space as a ball rotated at the end of a string. Surely we have more practical and profitable ways to spend our money and energy.

Questions Police Taking Part-Time Jobs

Detroit has questioned the police department about working extra jobs at J. L. Hudson Company. I question the Pontiac and Waterford Police Departments working part-time jobs.

When a person pays taxes for police protection, he should get some protection. Taxpayers should not have to furnish badges and uniforms for policemen to get part-time jobs in which the uniforms are essential.

Now that all the bad things have been told about Dr. Sulzberger, I would like to recite a few of the good things he did. He served his country in World War II as a captain in the medical corps. He adopted three children when they were babies, for he never had children of his own. He operated on our daughter and saved her life.

HOSPITAL BARRICADE — Staff members of the Interfaith Hospital of Queens in Jamaica, N.Y., stand behind a wire fence erected yesterday to prevent city marshals from entering and evicting the 87 patients for nonpayment of rent.

Conversation Far-Ranging on NY Banquet Circuit

NEW YORK (AP) — Cigars in their hands and plates of scorned petits fours at their elbows, the men listen and the talk turns to President Johnson's chances for reelection, improving relations with the French, the Supreme Court.

The scene is New York's banquet circuit where dinner and opinion, politics and fund raising, run parallel courses almost every night of the week.

Former Sen. Barry Goldwater, former presidential assistant Theodore Sorensen, Alabama Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers and General of the Army Omar N. Bradley made up the speakers' schedule Monday night at lectures in three Manhattan hotels within a quarter-mile of each other.

'IN SERIOUS DANGER'

Sorensen, addressing a Democratic club, said President Johnson's reelection in 1968 is "in serious danger" and that the party cannot count a single "safe state" in the Union.

Coldwater, like Bradley, receiving a freedom award from the Order of Lafayette, said: "If there's one thing in this world today we need, it is a rejuvenation of the friendship that has historically dwelled between the French and ourselves."

Flowers, who has opposed segregation in his home state, told a lawyers' group that the Supreme Court, although not perfect "for the last 200 years has sustained us in greatness and saved us from folly."

Sorensen said Johnson would be in difficulty because "we have to assume today that outgoing Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace will run as a third-party candidate and carry most if not all of the Southern states with a campaign of race baiting, hate mongering and demagoguery."

But he added, "I still think we can win in 1968."

County Is Studying the Cycle Problem

ber of injuries in motorcycle accidents, but in the nature of the injuries themselves.

85 PCT. INJURED

Of 80 persons involved in motorcycle accidents covered this summer by Oakland County sheriff's deputies, 76 — about 85 per cent — suffered injuries.

More than half of these required medical treatment, ranging from emergency room attention to hospitalization for as long as four months.

Victims seen at Pontiac General, St. Joseph Mercy, and Pontiac Osteopathic hospitals evidenced an almost predictable range of injuries:

- Severe head injuries, including skull fractures, concussions and lacerations;
- "Extremity" fractures, notably broken legs and broken arms;
- Internal injuries, particularly pelvic fractures.

FAILURE TO YIELD

Of 70 cycle mishaps in the May-August period, deputies on 12 occasions said the accidents were caused by cars and trucks who "failed to yield" the right-of-way to motorcycles.

The resultant collisions — not surprisingly — almost inevitably left the cyclist injured and the other driver relatively unscathed.

In twice as many instances, however, the accident cause was listed as "excessive speed" or "not having the vehicle under control" on the part of the motorcyclist.

Frequently, these were one-vehicle accidents, in which a motorcyclist skidded off gravel or dirt roads and kept sliding until cycle and driver smashed into trees or culverts.

SAFETY HELMETS

Hopefully, an act passed in the last session of the 1966 Michigan Legislature will have a remedial effect on both the number and severity of motorcycle accidents.

Sometimes around the middle of January, a statute will make it mandatory for motorcyclists to wear approved safety helmets.

Police feel that wearing of helmets — particularly white or fluorescent types — will sharply increase visibility of motorcyclists.

"We could notice the difference while on patrol," a deputy said. "A cyclist with a helmet can be seen nearly as far away as a car."

SUCCESS ELSEWHERE

Doctors, too, are hopeful that strong protective headgear will save lives.

In support of this viewpoint is the experience of New Zealand some 10 years ago.

Fatalities in motorcycle accidents in that country dropped by some 75 per cent when a law was instituted forcing cyclists to wear helmets.

(The story of a young motorcyclist who collided with a car, but escaped to live, he mentions a coma after 43 days and is now making plans to return to high school.)

Laser Device Could Reduce Car Dangers

DETROIT (AP) — A new laser device that could reduce the danger of automobile accidents has been announced by the Radio Corporation of America.

The light emitting device — termed a solid state injection laser — marks the introduction of vastly improved techniques for attaining automobile safety, said John Farese, RCA vice president of electronic components and devices. He explained:

"In an automobile collision warning system, the device could help eliminate accidents caused by unexpected stops and turnpike fatigue.

"The laser transmitter unit would be mounted on the front of a car. Invisible infrared signals reflected from the car ahead would indicate the relative speed and closing rates of the laser-equipped car and the one ahead.

CLOSING RATE

"If the laser system determines that the closing rate is too rapid for safety, it could activate an audible signal or flashing light on the dashboard to alert the driver. If the driver fails to respond to these signals, the car's brakes could be applied automatically."

Rent-Shy Hospital Staff Fences In Patients

NEW YORK (AP) — A neurosurgeon has barricaded the entrance of his private hospital to prevent eviction of welfare patients for nonpayment of rent by the nonprofit institution to a savings and loan association. Doctors, nurses and other staff members manned a 10-foot-high chicken-wire fence blocking the entrance to the Interfaith Hospital in Jamaica, Queens, Monday to prevent a city marshal from entering. The marshal made no attempt to break the barricade, and there were no incidents.

The neurosurgeon, Dr. Thomas W. Matthews, 42, who is also executive director of the Interfaith Health Association, said the 140-bed hospital now has 87 patients.

"We will call on every supporter to come to our assistance," said Matthews. "We are determined we will not be moved."

HUMAN FENCE

Another hospital spokesman said, "After the wire fence, there is a human barricade."

Delegations from civil rights groups were at the scene carrying signs which said: "We shall not be moved."

The neighborhood also came to the hospital's support. A butcher sent free meat. One store contributed blankets. Other individuals sent gifts.

A spokesman for the Flushing

Federal Savings and Loan Association said a court order for eviction had been obtained, but no action would be taken pending a meeting of the association's board of directors. The association acquired the four-story building through foreclosure on a real estate company. Matthews said the hospital had no funds because 70 of the city has not paid for them. Patients are welfare patients yet.

Recognition Red Price for Opening Wall

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist East Germany today demanded diplomatic recognition as the price for opening the Berlin Wall for family reunions over the Christmas holidays.

The demand dashed the slim hopes still held that German families split by the wall might be able to meet again this Christmas as they did the last three Christmases.

The West steadfastly has refused to sign any new wall pass agreement that would grant the Soviet zone state recognition.

The East-West deadlock meant the wall would remain closed for Berliners over the holidays as it is the rest of the year.

The East German position on holiday passes was outlined today by Gerhard Kegel, foreign office official with the rank of minister, in a commentary in the East Berlin newspaper Berliner Zeitung.

Murphy Good Bet for Fund Job

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — California Sen. George Murphy appears headed for the GOP job that helped make Barry Goldwater famous — hunting votes and money for Republican Senate campaigners.

Goldwater, who served four years as chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, said he thinks Murphy, 64, should get the post.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, who holds it now, said the Californian apparently has the votes to take over when GOP senators fill the position in January.

Morton is leaving the post to prepare his own reelection campaign. Goldwater plans a Senate race for the Arizona seat now held by Sen. Carl Hayden, a Democrat.

Murphy leans toward conservatism; Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, who also wants the job, is among the Senate's more liberal Republicans.

State's Legislators-Elect Get Capitol Orientation

LANSING (AP) — Most of Michigan's new legislators-elect got advice Monday on how to deal with fellow lawmakers, their parties and the press.

The 40 or so newcomers to Lansing attended the start of a two-day "orientation conference" sponsored by the Legislative Service Bureau. They heard from Capitol reporters, legislative leaders and the vice chairmen of the major political parties.

The reporters, naturally, told them to cooperate with the press.

"There's only one rule, gentlemen, that will work over the long haul," said Bud Vestal of Booth Newspapers' Lansing bureau. "Tell the truth and shame the devil."

LAST WORD

"Try as little as possible to double-cross the members of the press," advised Charles Larson, city editor of the Lansing State Journal and a six-year veteran of the legislative beat.

"The members of the press have the last say," Larson warned, "and if you try to double-cross them, they have ways of cutting you up."

Newsmen will never be completely satisfied with legislators, no matter what they do, Vestal said. "We feel that we, too, serve the best interests of the public, but we are not elected officials and our interests are not the same as yours."

"We don't give a damn about your private life ... as long as you stay out of municipal court," Vestal told the fledgling legislators.

"But if you get on the police blotter, you're going to get on the front page, and if we try to keep you off, we'll lose our jobs—or we should."

Opinions Varied on Drafting of Women

Big Majority of Males Are Opposed to Scheme

BILLIE S. FARNUM

Like the first sign of a beard, or the first solo trip with the family automobile, the coming of the draft notice is part of growing up for most able-bodied young men in America.

The young woman's turn may be coming.

Lt. Gen. Lewis Hershey, national Selective Service director said last week that he was in favor of drafting women "whenever we need them."

Later in the week, in testimony before the national conference on the draft in Chicago, anthropologist Margaret Mead suggested a universal draft pool for national service that would include both men and women.

How does the male population of the Pontiac area feel about the prospect of conscription of women?

FAVORED BY FARNUM

In an opinion survey, 11 men expressed negative reactions, while two were in favor of the idea. Dr. John Tirrell, president of Oakland Community College, felt he could not comment on the issue without studying the matter.

In favor is Congressman Billie S. Farnum, D-19th District, who said the matter might be viewed in an "equal rights-equal responsibilities" perspective.

"There should be no discrimination," he said, "by race, sex, creed or any such criteria, when it comes to meeting the responsibilities which each citizen of this country has."

However, Isadore Goode, chairman of Pontiac draft board 65, stated that drafting women is not a good idea.

"DON'T BELONG"

"Women don't belong in that kind of service," he said. "There's a place and time for men and then a place and time for women. It's a possibility, but I don't think it'll ever come about."

Chancellor D. B. Varner of Oakland University did not completely discount the idea, but commented that he was "a little less than enthusiastic about it."

He added that he was not enthusiastic about a universal draft for men, either, and women should be conscripted "only if there is a very obvious need for them."

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac Schools, was also hesitant to pass judgment, saying simply that "the idea doesn't appeal to me at the present time."

Waterford Schools Supt. Dr. Don O. Tatroe suggested that the element of necessity was the primary factor in the question, but that volunteer service was a better answer.

"The voluntary way is the best way. The Peace Corps is a good example of a demanding, often tough job that can be made attractive enough to draw volunteers," he said.

William J. Coatsworth, commander of the Cook-Nelson Post No. 20 of the American Legion, Pontiac, expressed doubts as to the practicality of drafting women.

"We'd get into a lot of unforeseen problems," he said. "The idea of women in service, WACS WAVES and so on, is all right and volunteers should be encouraged, but I don't believe we should draft them."

STUDENTS QUERIED

A sampling of seven male college and high school students produced only one opinion favoring female conscription.

Three Oakland University students, Len Bullard of Independence Township, Michael Zachary of Southfield and Jerry Wilgas of Mount Clemens were all opposed, but for varying reasons.

"Definitely no," said Bullard, questioning what effect such a move would have on the feminine image. "Women just aren't meant to fight."

Zachary stated that "a woman's place is in the home," allowing, however, that volunteer service was "all right."

"DRAFT RIDICULOUS"

Wilgas described himself as a conscientious objector, labeling the draft in its entirety as "ridiculous."

A fourth OU student, Larry Friedman of Oak Park, said he was in favor of the idea "so long as they aren't fighting." He pointed out that such a move would "relieve a lot of guys from desk jobs and things like that."

All three Pontiac Central High School students were opposed to the idea.

Bill Gaukler, 17, of 1095 Voorhes said that drafting women would "have a bad effect on their families."

DOUBTS NEED

Robert Smith, 18, of 19 Gillespie expressed doubt that enough of a need existed to warrant conscription of women.

"If they want to go, they should just go," said Tomas Villalreal, 17, of 719 Hollister.

"I don't think it's possible to start drafting them, though. Too many men would object."

Some Ladies Say 'Yes' While Others Say 'No'

Draft women? It's not a completely new idea. The Amazons who were women warriors of the Greeks were an especially fierce group of females who waged war and made slaves of the men they captured.

In more modern times, Israel drafts its women who serve side by side with men in defense of the country.

But in America this idea has not been considered seriously.

Reaction to Lt. Gen. Lewis Hershey's suggestion of drafting women and anthropologist Margaret Mead's approval of a universal draft for all young people is varied.

OPPOSES IDEA

Mrs. Elly Peterson, state chairman of the Republican party, has definite ideas about the subject:

"Being a strong believer in the equality of women, I believe that there are many jobs women can do in the armed forces."

"I was overseas 22 months as a hospital secretary in the 28th station hospital in England, France and Germany and worked closely with the British women in the armed forces before going to France. They were fantastic."

"I have always been in favor of a universal draft which not only gives valuable training to all, but is the only truly equal system. It would give a greater pride to the service."

"If each individual gave six months of service to the country, it would strengthen the country and be of inestimable value to the young people. Some kind of service from all would be the greatest thing for the nation."

NOT SO SURE

Mrs. Esther Ashton, director of nursing at Pontiac General Hospital, is not so sure. She was asked specifically about nurses being drafted.

"What are we supposed to do at home for nurses?"

"You know, we keep talking about equality all the time. We feel women should have equal jobs and equal opportunity; then perhaps they should be drafted."

THUMBS DOWN

But Norma Clark, a coed from Royal Oak put thumbs down on the idea.

"I just don't believe in drafting women. There isn't any reason for it at all."

Cynthia Sable of Warren wouldn't mind too much. "It's unnecessary right now, but if it comes to that — why not? I think it's okay."

other important skills that women have that are useful to the armed forces."

Mrs. Dorothy Olson, Waterford Township supervisor, given too much thought to the subject since it would not affect her in any way. She is in agreement with Margaret Mead's idea of universal service to the nation for all young people.

MRS. DOROTHY OLSON

Mrs. D. Richard Veazey, 2361 Mid Pine, was a WAVE for 18 months during World War II. She was stationed at North Island, San Diego, Calif., as a universal service to the nation for all young people.

MORAL ISSUE

Nancy Wilgas of Mount Clemens, the fourth coed interviewed, brought up the moral issue of any draft.

"If drafting men isn't moral and I don't believe it is, then drafting women isn't either. If indentured slavery is permissible, then drafting women is just as permissible."

And finally from Mary Kelly, long-time worker at Oakland Oakland County Selective Service board No. 67.

"No comment! I have an opinion but it's not for publication."

U.S. Women Rare in Vietnam

NEW YORK (NEA) — Of the more than 350,000 Americans assigned to war duty in Vietnam today, less than .0006 per cent are women.

This naturally is cause for some consternation, especially among the majority.

But in many cases the men aren't lamenting the lack of feminine companionship. They want more women but for strictly professional reasons. Says one returning Viet veteran:

"I got so damn sick of walking into military offices and seeing several dozen hulking soldiers sitting in steno-graphers' chairs, typing letters and spilling ink eradicator on their jungle fatigues."

Says another: "Maybe women shouldn't be carrying M16 rifles. But there are many war jobs they could do . . . and spring deskridden foot soldiers at the same time."

AREN'T DOING SHARE

The point seems to be that women in the armed services—WACS, WAVES, WAFs and Marines—aren't doing their share in Vietnam; or, rather, aren't being asked to do it. Statistics support this conclusion. The Women's Army Corps has 10,000 enlisted members in uniform this year but only 25 to 27 of them are presently serving in the war zone. The ratios are even skimpier for the other services.

On the other hand, there is nothing to indicate that the girls aren't willing. Indeed, a lady lieutenant stationed at Ft. McClellan, Ala., insists: "Most of the girls that I know in the WACs would go to Saigon tomorrow, if they were asked."

Would she?

"Most certainly."

And would she fight?

"That's not a WAC's job."

Actually, the prospect of women in war shouldn't be startling. They've always participated in U.S. confrontations. At times, in fact, and despite not formal request, they've even spilled blood in combat, as witness the early Indian wars.

Further, it's conceivable they could fight again. "We know that other nations use their women in battle," says the Ft. McClellan officer. "But usually it is because they are forced to defend their own soil."

"Now, if the Vietnam thing ever expanded into a global affair, and we in this country were attacked in our homes . . . well, then I'm sure that WACs and other women would pick up arms and meet the enemy just like the men."

Short of such an emergency, however, the WACs offer their country only logistical and administrative services. In a normal three-year hitch they learn military manner, physical education, job specialties and even "hup, two, three, four," but little else in common with traditional Army duty.

MOTHERS IN HOME

And they lose their stripes or brass if they become pregnant. Policy is that mothers should be in the home and it's rigidly enforced.

But none of these differences explains the anemic numbers of WACs in Southeast Asia. And many of the ladies complain about it.

"I think we should be there in force," says one. "I think that 500 to 1,000 more women could contribute a great deal to the war effort."

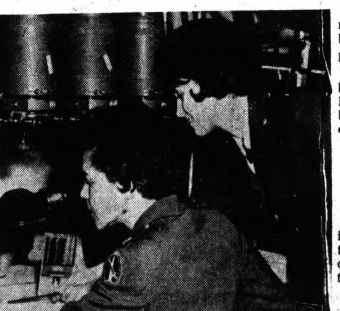

A LOT OF TROOPERS IN VIETNAM

Especially the 99,9995 per cent who are men.

WET GUINEA PIGS—American soldiers of C Company, 4th Battalion, 9th Infantry, 25th Division, walk through pouring rain to their base camp at Ben Luc, 20 miles south of Saigon on the northern edge of South Vietnam's Mekong river delta. The troops at Ben Luc are virtually guinea pigs, evaluating the delta conditions before large numbers of Americans move in.

Request Leads to $310 Holdup

A Pontiac plant worker told city police he was robbed of $310 early today by a man who asked to borrow a snow scraper from him, then drew a gun on the victim.

Lester Pittman, 49, of 438 Harper said he was sitting in his automobile on South Boulevard near Tex waiting to start work at GMC Truck & Coach Division when the robber walked up to his car.

Pittman said the man asked for a snow scraper, then pulled out a revolver and jumped into Pittman's car.

The victim said he was forced to drive to a nearby dead end where the gunman took the money and then fled on foot.

GLEN R. FITZGERALD

Appointment Announced at GMC Truck

The appointment of Glen R. Fitzgerald to the position of assistant chief engineer — administrative for GMC Truck and Coach Division has been announced by Chief Engineer Harold O. Flynn.

Prior to his present appointment, Fitzgerald served as works manager of Rochester Products Division in Rochester, N.Y.

A native of Flint, Fitzgerald joined General Motors in 1924 as a student of General Motors Institute. He graduated in industrial engineering in 1938 and joined AC Spark Plug Division on a full-time basis.

In 1953, Fitzgerald was named director of the Process Development Section of the General Motors Manufacturing Staff, a post he held until February of 1957 when he returned to AC as chief engineer. Later that year he was promoted to director of engineering and equipment sales. He continued in that capacity until 1963 when he was transferred to Rochester Products as works manager.

He and his wife, Mary Louise, have four children. They are in the process of moving to the Pontiac area.

Stick to the Facts on ITA, Pioneer of Method Warns

The revolutionary Initial Teaching Alphabet (ITA) probably can help children learn to read better — but not necessarily earlier, one of the pioneers in use of the method warned area teachers at an Oakland Schools dinner last night.

Mr. John Downing, who has been studying England's ITA program since it was introduced there five years ago, cautioned educators and the public against the "misleading" and "harmful" advertising claims used to sell one ITA series in the United States.

"Your goal is not to see how many children you can have jump through the hoop by the end of first grade," Downing told an audience of more than 120 educators at the Pontiac Elks Temple.

"We should be careful not to desert the three main values of ITA," he said.

Through use of the ITA, children can be better equipped for self-discovery in reading and creativity in writing, he said. The third value is encouragement of the right attitudes toward reading for pleasure and enjoyment.

"DELIGHTFUL" After a tour of Rochester schools which use the 44-symbol simplified alphabet in teaching reading, Downing said he was "delighted by what I saw today."

"Schools in this area are making a really important contribution to use of the ITA in America," he said.

Downing praised Rochester teachers for their "relaxed attitude." They are not working under pressure to claim early achievement at the expense of educational values, he said.

150 CLASSROOMS The Rochester classrooms visited by Downing are among some 150 in Oakland County in which ITA is used.

It is ridiculous to expect youngsters to transfer to traditional orthography after only one year of ITA, Downing said.

Using statistics from his research in England, the speaker indicated the transfer probably will be most successful after the third grade.

"The child should be fluent in ITA first," he said. "The bottom 25 per cent of the population will not get benefit from ITA unless it is continued beyond the third year."

"SERIOUS CAUSE" Downing said his research led him to believe that "traditional orthography is a serious cause of difficulty in reading."

After the first year, there is a dramatic difference in the reading progress of children trained under the two systems, he said.

His statistics indicate reading

WOMEN'S SECTION

If People Talk, They're Jealous --Go, Have a Wonderful Time

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I guess we are never too old to need advice. I am a 68-year-old widow who for the last two years has been keeping company with a 73-year-old widower. He has invited me to attend a Shriners' convention with him in Hawaii in January.

He has a good friend about his age who has a lady friend about my age. The two boys said they could room together and we two girls could room together. Does ABBY this sound all right to you, Abby? Or do you think people will talk? UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: This sounds perfectly all right to me. And if people talk, they're just jealous.

DEAR ABBY: You probably won't believe this, but I am 15 years old and need a bra, but my mother won't buy me one. She says I don't really need one. She makes me wear a T-shirt like my brothers. Abby, I tried on my girlfriend's bra and it was a 36-B and it fit me.

I hate to go to gym because if the other girls see my T-shirt they will make fun of me, so I say I have a headache or a stomachache and I skip as many gym classes as I can.

I have missed so much gym I might not get a credit. Please help me, Miss Abby, I can't talk to my mother. NEEDS A BRA
DEAR NEEDS: Go to your gym teacher, dear, and tell her the truth. If it's difficult to "find the words" — show her this column. She'll understand. I'll bet your problem will be solved within two weeks.

If it isn't, write again, and I will write a letter to your mother.

American Association of Retired Persons, Pontiac chapter No. 7, noon, Pontiac Motor Union Hall on Joslyn Avenue. Annual Christmas party with co-operative dinner and gift exchange.

Pontiac chapter, National Secretaries Association, 6:30 p.m., Pagoda Inn, Troy. Guest speaker at the annual Christmas dinner and program will be Janet Odell, Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press, on "Looking Ahead to the Holidays."

Newcomers Club, 8 p.m., Orchard Lake home of Mrs. Paul Thams. Co-hostesses will be Mesdames Alfred W. Bickley, William Motzny and William Emerson. Annual Christmas party.

DEAR ABBY: Some women complain that they don't get to go to the Christmas parties given by their husbands' companies. My problem is just the opposite.

Our company puts on a big Christmas party for the employees. There are always about 200 people there, husbands and wives. It is a very respectable party with a fine dinner at the best hotel, and they even have an orchestra and entertainment. Everyone looks forward to it.

My wife refuses to go. She says she doesn't know the people, she is not thirsty, and she'd only be bored. I am afraid I don't show up my boss and co-workers will be insulted. Should I go alone? What should I tell the others? Last year I went alone and said my wife was sick. EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: If you feel that your boss and co-workers would be "insulted" by your absence — go alone. And if anyone asks where your wife is, say she's "sick." (She is, in a way.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NO SAINT" IN LONG ISLAND: I'll say you're not. Your letter reminded me of the prayer St. Augustine addressed to heaven when he was a young man: "O, Lord, make me chaste — but not yet."

Troubled? Write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Office Party for Jay Shop Is Special

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Women's Editor This is the season for Christmas parties, the season when bosses entertain the workers.

The early evening party in the Jay Shop at Pontiac State Hospital Monday evening might have been termed an office party. If so, it was a first.

The Jay Shop is the sheltered workshop begun under the sponsorship of area Jaycees last March.

Selected patients work up to six hours a day at jobs awarded the shop by outside industry. For instance, all Kroger coupons from the Toledo stores are sorted here.

GOOD ATTENDANCE

Nearly all of the 30 workers attended the dessert party, hosted by the board of directors of the project. Punch, ice cream, coffee and homemade fruit cake, cookies, candy and nuts were served.

Keith Leak who is a twice-weekly volunteer in the Jay Shop accompanied the group on his guitar for carol singing.

All the guests had to go home at 9 p.m. There would be no parties after the party and no headaches today.

But management and a special kind of labor had met in a social situation that was one more step on the road back to normalcy for the latter.

Fireside Togs Are Modeled

The women of Green Lake and their guests spent a festive afternoon Monday, when the Green Lake Women's Club sponsored a Holiday "Candlelight and Wine" luncheon show.

Cocktail and fireside fashions were presented by Lisbeth's of Birmingham. Orchard styles were by Nicholas of Orchard Lake.

Chairman of the luncheon was Mrs. Harry Gervais, assisted by Mrs. Richard Elwood, Mrs. Carl Nakkula, Mrs. William Schenck and Mrs. Thomas Stevens.

The following club members were among the models: Mrs. George Sawyer, Mrs. Otis Walton, Mrs. William Dowley, Mrs. Robert Stewart, Mrs. E. C. Ledbetter, Mrs. William Thies, Mrs. John Shuler, Mrs. William Murray, Mrs. Peter Forsyth and Mrs. William Casper.

Parliamentarians Schedule Meeting for Wednesday

A regular demonstration meeting of the Parliamentary Study Club will take place Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. in the First Federal Savings of Oakland Building.

Mrs. Eugene Perko will be leader with Mrs. Charles Crawford as sponsor.

The program will encompass: "Question of Privilege," "To Make A Special Order," "To Postpone Indefinitely," "The Withdrawal of a Motion," "Division of the Question," and "Points of Order."

'First Family' Prepares for Holiday Entertaining

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Lynda Bird Johnson had fire in her eye.

"I'm not married, and I'm not at Treasure Island with Mr. Hamilton," she announced emphatically Monday night at a White House reception for all women members of Washington's press corps.

She looked stunning in a "hot pink" dress. She also looked besieged.

The White House press office had spent a busy day denying rumors that Lynda had married movie actor George Hamilton at the LBJ ranch in Texas secretly, or that she planned to marry him secretly next weekend at Treasure Island, off San Francisco.

AT THE RANCH

Hamilton is in Europe for a picture. His mother said Monday in Munich, that her son would spend Christmas at the LBJ ranch.

"I don't know when Mr. Hamilton is coming home," said Lynda, irritation creeping into her voice. "I read he was going to London on Dec. 17."

She was asked how she liked "all this interest in your romance?"

"I don't like it," Lynda snapped. "It doesn't give me any room to..."

At that moment, her mother, an anxious look crossing her face, appeared at her side and said, "Lynda, let's go have our picture taken."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Christmas at 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue: the whiff of cedar, flow of tiny white bulbs, reflections of popcorn garlands in a mirror, a chandelier laced with holly, banquet tables crested with pine.

It's the White House ready for Christmas entertaining. Reporters were given a special preview Monday.

Decorations center around a fat 20-foot high balsam fir which towers to the ceiling of the Blue Room.

Gingerbread cookies — some plastic, some real — candied fruit, toy soldiers and straw snowflakes hang from its boughs.

On every mantle, there is pine and holly, and gold, silver or blue or red bulbs. Doors sprout chains of cedar. Red and white roses and carnations fill spare tabletops.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson added at least three new touches to the traditional White House decorations: a 13-foot-high, gold-colored papier mache creche in the East Room, a mirror decorated with felt symbols of the 12-days of Christmas and a wreath made of flowers from 50 states.

This is the first floor of the executive mansion.

Upstairs, in the first family's living quarters, there are also decorations. The Johnsons plan to have a scotch pine decorated with popcorn and cranberry strings.

Outside, there are wreaths, lights on trees, chains of cedar woven around lighting fixtures. The national Christmas tree which the President will light Thursday night stands in a park area across the street from the back yard of the White House.

Sorority Unit Will Celebrate Yule Holidays

Mrs. John Malcomson of Brookridge Road, West Bloomfield Township will open her home on Thursday to the Kappa Alpha Theta alumnae of Birmingham for the Christmas dinner-party. Mrs. Harold Scheweppe and Mrs. Leslie Slaughter are co-chairmen.

On Dec. 21, Thetas and their husbands will have dinner at the Camp Oakland Girls' Ranch. Wrapped gifts will be presented to the girls as a part of the group's local philanthropic project.

Come for Visit

Former Pontiac residents, Mr. and Mrs. Calus Gordon of Harrisville spent a few days as guests of the Albert E. Kohns of Sylvan Lake last week.

Mrs. Kohn's cousins, the Victor Hamiltons of Toronto, also visited them en route to Florida.

Oversized bangles, fluted and brilliantly polished are worn too to the wrist and shown with a matching domed earring. Napier styles these as provocatively as the new fashions with which they will be worn.

Trijari's "Star Flight," a magnificent flexible collar with rhinestones close to the throat and feather-like shoots of color cascading from it is the height of jeweled elegance. Tremendously chic are the button earrings and the newly fashionable flexible bracelet. "Star Flight" is particularly lovely in canary tones.

Trijari's Cheetah pin appears to have movement. The attitude of the Cheetah looks as if it might be about to spring. The creature's markings may be had in black enamel on gold-toned background or pseudo platinum markings. The earrings are matching buttons.

Bride Wears White Satin for Vows

Sandra Lee Gabert chose a chapel-length gown of white slipper satin for her recent marriage to Daniel Wayne Mosher, in the First Presbyterian Church.

A pearl encrusted headpiece held her illusion veil and she carried cascading miniature white carnations and pink rosebuds.

MRS. D. W. MOSHIER

The newlyweds' parents who reside in Avon Township are the Jack Goodchilds of Hartline Street and the Clare Moshers of Donley Street.

Mrs. Anthony G. Wodek was matron of honor at the evening rite and Kelly Ann Mark, flower girl.

With Donald Moshier, best man, were David Beebe and James Moshier as ushers.

After the reception in Stemmer's Hall, Rochester, the couple left for a wedding trip in northern Michigan.

State Gal Is Winner of Book

By ELIZABETH L. POST of the Emily Post Institute

The following letter has been chosen as the most interesting one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to Miss Lavinia Brown of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Dear Mrs. Post: While ill for some weeks I received a vast number of get-well cards. I was touched that so many friends thought of me, but I can't help my feeling of disappointment that so few contained a personal note, even one line.

If one could only realize how much even the shortest personal note added to cards enhances them in the eyes of the receiver, more people would take the extra time and trouble to write something beneath the printed message.

I have always felt a personal note was a necessity, and that failure to do so was a breach of etiquette. Am I wrong?

Dear Miss Brown: Your letter concerns a subject about which I feel very strongly. YES — a personal note should be added to a sympathy card, a congratulatory card, a thank you card, a get-well card, or almost any other.

An exception is the Christmas card sent to those whom you see frequently.

As you say, a mere sentence is enough. "We miss you — hope you'll be well soon," "Best of luck to you both," "We'll be waiting to hear all about your trip," and so on, are simple phrases which add that much-appreciated personal touch.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper etiquette for a girl to write a letter to her boyfriend if she has had a fight and it is her own fault and she wants to make up with him? Sheila

Dear Sheila: This is another of those "exceptions to the rule." A girl ordinarily wouldn't write a boy first, but in a case like this, don't stand on ceremony.

Dinner Party Ends Round of Showers

The Vern L. Kilbys of Grosse Pointe Woods will host the rehearsal dinner for their son, Leonard, of Cleveland Heights, Ohio and his fiancée, Marjorie Lynn Helfrich, Friday, at Fox and Hounds Inn.

Mrs. Clifford Kirkwood of Elizabeth Lake Road and Mrs. Fred Roselle were first to honor the bride-elect at an evening shower. Mrs. Minor E. White of Orangelawn Avenue and Mrs. Donald Kleindl also gave an evening shower in the White home.

'Round-the-clock showers followed recent luncheons in the Birmingham home of Mrs. Leonard Quart, and at Orchard Lake with Mrs. Fred Fuller as hostess.

Mrs. Joseph Versical and Mrs. Louis Talleroie gave a dinner and shower at the former's home in Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Herbert Schomberg of Breaker Drive gave the final shower with Mrs. Robert Schenck and Mrs. Harold Shaver as cohostesses.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mrs. Wayne T. Helfrich of Point Street, Commerce Township and the late Mr. Helfrich.

Mop Up Streaks

As soon as you have finished mopping linoleum, place several thicknesses of paper toweling in your mop and go over it again. This removes all streaks and hastens drying. This, don't stand on ceremony.

Holidays Are a Kitten Hazard

NEW YORK (UPI) — Milan J. Greer almost sounds as though he's descended from Scrooge.

While that carol is stuffing ears with a tuneless edict to "Deck the halls with boughs of holly," Greer is shouting — don't, don't, don't.

His attitude toward holly stems from the fact that he's a cat man. And his campaign to stamp out holly aims to keep 100,000 kittens and cats from killing themselves as a result of holiday festivities.

Holly berries are toxic and kill cats when the felines give into a Yule temptation to sample them.

Greer also lists among holiday traps for cats such things as philodendron, rhododendron, house ivy, mistletoe berries, artificial snow, tinsel, string, ribbon, doll nipples, fool, wool and yarn, pipe cleaner's, angel's hair and small toy parts.

HOLIDAY HAZARDS

Green reports on the holiday hazards for felines in "Pet Fair." He's the magazine's cat specialist, proprietor of a cat shop — "Fabulous Felines," and contributor to cat sections of encyclopedias, including the "Britannica."

"It has been my prediction through the years that, in the two weeks following Christmas, some 100,000 kittens and cats die as a result of the holiday festivities," he said.

"Alarming? Certainly—and unnecessary. Most of the tragedy is caused, first, by ignorance or carelessness in choosing a kitten for a gift, and secondly, by a lack of awareness that there are many commonplace situations which can prove fatal to a kitten."

Things like angel's hair, small toy parts, tinsel and string cause fatal blockages. Pine needles, broken ornaments, broken flash bulbs, brittle bones from Christmas turkey and small sharp toy parts perforate cats internally.

His advice on how to avoid the tragedies in catdom:

- Keep these items out of a cat's reach.
- Keep your cat out of the Christmas tree.

CHECK EMPTIES

- Check all empty boxes and tissue paper before throwing them into the incinerator, or putting them out for collection. Your kitten might be curled up inside.

- Kittens have a penchant for the most comfortable seat in the house. Spare your Christmas kitten from a crushing death. Look before you sit down.

- If you're buying a cat for a friend, Greer says it's good to match the personality of the kitten to that of the person who will be receiving it.

Get Truth in Open About Relationship

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE:

My older sister and I have younger one who is shortly getting married. She is having a big formal wedding with seven attendants, but we have neither been invited to the ceremony and reception nor to stand up with her.

People ask us if we have bought our bridal party dresses and we don't know what to say.

We are so hurt and upset and don't know how to deal with this treatment...

ANSWER: Why don't you ask this sister why she's so carefully cut you out of her wedding arrangements?

It's more than probable she'll tell you she can't stand you.

The chances are she's just nervous enough about snubbing you (along with the usual bridal jitters) to tell you the truth—that she doesn't like you.

Which should be just fine so far as you are concerned. Told the truth by your sister, you'll be free to know that you are just as disinterested in maintaining relationship with her as she is with you.

What upsets us in these situations is not always the other person's dislike of us but our own uncertainty about their feeling.

We don't know whether she's kicked us in the teeth out of a temporary irritation at us—or whether she wants to be finally done with us. We don't know if the kick has been given us because she's disappointed in her wedding presents, is developing the flu or if she has really come to the conclusion that she wants us out of her life.

We can confuse the worry over this uncertainty with what you call "hurt." We tend to imagine that we're suffering from our sister's snub when we're really suffering from unsureness of her feeling toward us.

Under such circumstances,

it's not a bad idea to so arrange matters that she is compelled to tell us how she feels.

Some people, particularly psychanalysts, are marvelously quick at perceiving how someone else feels toward them.

That's not because they know so much about the someone else but because they know so much about themselves.

They're wise to all the tricks

by which their own hostilities try to disguise themselves as "nicer" feelings. So when they come up against hostility in the someone else, they recognize it through its disguises very quickly.

But we can't expect ourselves to be so fast. We're so scared of our own dislike of our sister that we can't quickly register her dislike of us. Which is why we have to so organize matters that she has to come up with the truth and get us out of the hook of obligation to love someone who can't stand us.

became known as the greatest woman painter of animals.

Court OKs Limited Government Informer Use

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — In careful language the Supreme Court has sanctioned limited government use of informers and undercover agents to combat crime.

That, in sum, is the essence of the court's actions Monday in upholding the convictions of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, former union lawyer Z.T. Osborn Jr. and a small-time narcotics peddler.

But the justices moved cautiously as they endorsed, in special circumstances, government gambits that some of them found displeasing.

Hoffa, Osborn and Duke Lee Lewis of Boston all claimed they had been tricked by the government: Hoffa by a paid Justice Department informer recruited from union ranks, Osborn through a tape recorder strapped to the back of a man he thought was working for him and Lewis by a federal agent posing as a marijuana customer.

SENTENCE AFFIRMED

But their claims did not cause the court to reverse their convictions. Hoffa's eight-year prison sentence for jury tampering was affirmed 6 to 1, Osborn's bribery conviction was upheld 8 to 1 and, in the third decision, Lewis' narcotics conviction was affirmed 8 to 1.

The right of privacy, even against government intrusion, is protected by the prohibition the Fourth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution puts on "unreasonable searches and seizures."

However, the high court has taken varying views on whether it is an insurmountable bar against government action.

Thirty-six years ago the court ruled wiretapping, in itself, was not unconstitutional.

IN RECENT YEARS

In recent years the court has appeared to lean toward a tightening of Fourth Amendment rights. For instance, it held in 1961 that use of a microphone hammered into a wall by government officers to eavesdrop was a violation of the Constitution.

Yet, in 1963, the court sustained an attempted bribery conviction even though the defendant did not know the government agent he was trying to bribe was carrying a hidden miniature electronic recorder.

Monday the court found in the circumstances of the three cases before it sufficient reason to tip the scales in favor of what Chief Justice Earl Warren called "official deception in order to gather evidence for criminal prosecutions."

Justice Potter Stewart, in the controlling opinion in the Hoffa case, took pains to point out that government informers Edward Grady Partin, a fellow Teamster, did not enter Hoffa's jury but two years later was convicted in Chattanooga on jury tampering charges.

Partin reported back to the government that Hoffa was relying on the security of a hotel room; he was relying on his misplaced confidence that Hoffa would not reveal his wrongdoing.

Secret government informers, said Stewart, are not any less bound by constitutional restrictions than are other government agents. But, he added significantly, "the use of secret informers is not per se unconstitutional."

Two Seaholm Girls Share DAR Award

By HOLLY ALFS

The vote for the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Award at Seaholm High School ended in a tie.

For the first time, teachers and students agreed that seniors Janice Poplack and Claudia Torn should share the honor.

Janice was chairman of J-Hop last year, a member of Student Congress, and voted into the National Honor Society.

This year, she is secretary of the senior class, costumes committee chairman for Field Day and chairman of YFU.

Claudia Horn has also proven herself a leader.

She was Field Day chairman in her sophomore year and mid such an outstanding job that she was reelected this year as chairman for the seniors. She is a varsity cheerleader and a member of Student Congress.

Clarkston Club Has Toy Drive

By LINDA HEATH

The true Christmas spirit shines at Clarkston High School, as the Medics Club sponsors a Christmas toy drive for the new children's wing at the Pontiac State Hospital.

The drive runs from yesterday through Dec. 23.

Contribution boxes are located at the Clarkston Post Office, the Clarkston Community Center, and other local stores.

CLUB OFFICERS

The club is under the direction of faculty adviser Bonnie Bant. Nancy Milligan is president, Carol Taylor secretary and Cassie Jacobs treasurer.

CHS also boasts a newly organized all team this year. With faculty adviser Larry Walters as coach, and Russell Cockerill as assistant coach, the team includes both a girls' and boys' division with ten members in each.

The first meet will be Jan. 5 with Flint Holy Redeemer.

WKHS Dinner for Thespians

By JUDY FRANCIS

Waterford Kettering High School's dramatics club will initiate new Thespian members at a dinner Monday.

The dinner is for members of the dramatics club and their parents.

Students will provide food for the 6:30 p.m. dinner. A special program will follow.

Members wishing to sign up can go to room 202 to check on what to bring.

The WKHS debate team has had a good season so far with two more debates coming up. Tomorrow, they meet Rochester at Kettering and the following Monday, West Bloomfield.

Another win was recorded for the speech department as Kathy Essiambee placed second in the Voice of Democracy contest. Other area high schools competed in this contest where students must write their own speeches. WKHS teachers will have their chance to "act up" during the tryouts for the faculty play this week.

"Wonderful Town" was selected. Based on the story, "My Sister Eileen," it will be produced by teacher Duke Chaffee. Patty Looman of the faculty will direct.

CHILDREN'S STOCKINGS

The Girls Athletic Association is busy making Christmas stockings of red and green felt for children at the Children's Home.

Once made, these stockings will be filled with fruit, candy and nuts and a small present for each child.

Busy decorating the lobbies for Christmas are Kettering's art students.

Geometrical designs made of colorful tissue, tissue paper, and colored paper are placed on large ceiling tiles and put on the ceilings of the main lobby and library lobby.

Future Teachers at Kettering are having a caroling party Dec. 23 at Mary Lou Marino's house. The party will start at 7:30 p.m. as members wander through the subdivision singing Christmas carols.

Cookies, hot chocolate and candy will be served at Marino's house afterward.

Children's Village Gets PCH Gifts

By CHRIS BLAKENEY

Each year, students at Pontiac Central High put themselves into the Christmas spirit by contributing gifts to the Oakland County Children's Village. Collections are being made this week in the home rooms. Students may give presents, money, or canned goods.

All presents must be appropriate for children between 1-18 years of age, must be wrapped and must be labeled according to the age and sex of the recipient.

To go along with the students' gifts, the Student Council has added a portable television set.

A theme of a department store has been chosen by the Dolphins, girls' synchronized swimming team, for the annual water show.

At the senior tryouts Thursday, Pat Machiela and Molly Sellman were chosen as soloists. A duet will be composed of Judy Slade and Martha Forman.

There will be two trios: one, Sonya Hutchison, Nancy Gately, and Ann Dunlap, and the other, Peggy O'Neill, Sandy Norton, and Christine Blakeney.

Five members attended a clinic at Central Michigan University Saturday and learned new stunts and float formations to bring back to the club.

Tryouts for the spring musical, "Superman," begin tomorrow and will continue until Friday.

Drama and vocal music teachers, Arnold Bernstein and A. Michael Dempsey, will be aided by last year's drama coach, Stuart Packard, and choreographer, Carole Beckett.

The senior class held its first meeting Friday. Discussion is under way on a class-sponsored dance and possibilities for the senior trip.

Cranbrook Sets English Feast

By RICHARD BOSLEY

As Christmas vacation approaches, Cranbrook School is not only preparing for end-of-term examinations but also for the traditional Christmas Pageant.

This annual event takes place on the last evening before Christmas vacation begins.

The pageant itself is no ordinary show but rather a replica of an Old English feast complete with boar's head, plum pudding and a yule log.

It is performed by the Cranbrook Glee Club for the 10th, 11th and 12th grades, faculty members and their wives, and honored guests of the headmaster.

Everyone attended the pageant in former years when the school was small, but this is no longer possible.

All the guests, wearing dark suits or black ties, gather in the Page Hall Common Room before the pageant and await the court jester, who is dressed in cap and motley with a fool's bauble, to bid them to feast with the words "Salve! Salve!" which is Latin for welcome.

Many of the speeches and songs are authentic and were spoken or sung hundreds of years ago.

SONG AND STORY

After the guests are seated, Christmas carols are sung, Biblical passages concerning the nativity are read by the Rev. Robert Darwall, school chaplain, and a creche scene is enacted by the Glee Club.

Following this, the herald announces the jester, who again makes a short speech before the first course is served.

Then the Glee Club forms the ancient procession of the Boar's head, singing traditional songs: "The boar's head as I understand, is the fairest dish in all the land; caput apri deferto, redens laudes domine."

The serving of the main course, the singing of carols, and the processions of the plum pudding and the yule log follow in order.

Finally, the Mummings' play of St. George and the Dragon is played between the tables in the dining hall. Several seventh and eighth graders, dressed in costumes, act as St. George, the Dragon, the Prince, the Doctor, the Giant, and the Saracen.

HARD AT WORK — Decorating the cafeteria for the Milford High School Christmas dance, "Imagery in Icicles," are (from left) Donna Raglin of 10436 Elizabeth Lake, White Lake Township, and Dale Billington of 3175 Jackson and Joe Mills of 3831 Woodland, both of Highland Township. It will be held Saturday from 8 to 11 p.m.

A good guesser would have no trouble with this six diamond contract. He would play a cou-trumps, possi- bly fool around with the top spades and hearts and eventually lead the jack of clubs from dummy.

Or he might just win the first at all. If South failed to drop heart in dummy, draw two rounds of trumps and lead that same jack of clubs in order to get East's reaction to this quick play.

He would let the jack ride to West's ace and collect the slam and rubber bonuses. A good bridge player would not have to make the diamond play.

He would take a good look at his ten of spades and see that it was a possible winner. Then he would win the heart lead in dummy, draw the same trumps, cash dummy's king of spades, come to his own hand with the heart king, discard one of dummy's clubs on the ace of spades and ruff a third spade in dummy.

East would have had to drop one spade honor on the ace and the other on the third spade lead. Then South would come to his own hand with a trump lead and discard another one of dummy's clubs on the ten of spades.

He would have been lucky to get that spade break. The chance of finding queen-jack doubleton or queen-jack-small was only about 7 per cent but investors have been getting rich for years on less than 7 per cent and this chance involved no risk at all. If South failed to drop the queen and jack of spades he could still try the club play.

3 Arraigned in Jailbreak Try

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Three prisoners who attempted to escape from the Macomb County Jail were arraigned in Mount Clemens Justice Court Monday.

Johnny Ray Prince, Larry Golembieski and Dennis Burger were charged with attempted jailbreak, assault with intent to commit murder and assault with a deadly weapon.

Prince, who has pleaded guilty to a second-degree murder charge, stood mute. Golembieski and Burger pleaded guilty. Bond was set at $30,000 for each.

The three are in solitary confinement following Sunday's attempted jailbreak.

Aiken: Widen Medicare Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George D. Aiken, D-Vt., plans to propose legislation to liberalize benefits under the government's Medicare plan when Congress convenes next month.

"The mounting costs of medical care for old people living on low or fixed incomes must be squarely faced by Congress," he said yesterday.

"There is too much fine print in the existing law, and too many inequities." Among his proposals were ones to extend Medicare drug coverage to prescriptions for old people, whether or not associated with hospital confinement; lower the age requirement to 62 for women; and eliminate deductible and co-insurance features, waiting periods and enrollment deadlines from the plan.

Missouri Tigers Claw Shorter Titans, 94-82

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Ron Coleman popped in 28 points, mostly on his patented jump shot, for the Missouri Tigers in a 94-82 basketball victory over Detroit Monday night.

Coleman got plenty of help with Tom Johnson hitting 15 points, Gene Jones 14, Dave Bennett and Booker Brown each 13.

Brown, 7-foot sophomore, also took 13. Larry Salei topped Detroit's scoring with 20 points. Jerry Swartzlager added 16. Bruce Rodman and Ralph Brisker each scored 15.

Coleman pulled ahead midway in the first half and had a 48-39 advantage by halftime. Detroit came within four points twice in the second half, at 57-53 and 59-55, before Missouri moved away to leads of 8 to 10 points the rest of the way.

Coleman sank all eight of his free throws and 10 of his 22 field shots.

The Tigers hit 38 of 85 field shots for 44.7 per cent, Detroit 29 of 83 for 34.8 per cent. Missouri led in rebounds 50-49.

What was so great about Alexander?

In the 4th century B.C. in the northern Egyptian city bearing his name, Alexander of Macedon founded a storehouse for wisdom, art and skills from the past. It attracted scholars from the whole western world and while called a library, it was actually one of the world's first universities.

This contribution alone earns Alexander his title, "the Great."

Today, few of us can found a college, but most of us, through our gifts, can keep one going. This, too, is a great thing.

Give to the college of your choice.

No. 1 Ranked UCLA Bruins Get Week Off

Most of Top College Teams Have Contests of Importance

By the Associated Press
There is no threat this week to UCLA's standing as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press' major-college basketball poll because the powerful Bruins are not scheduled. Second-ranked Texas Western and fourth-rated Kentucky, though, seem to have difficult tasks ahead.

Texas Western meets fifth-ranked New Mexico Friday while Kentucky faces sixth-ranked North Carolina Tuesday.

UCLA was a unanimous choice in the latest poll based on games through last Saturday. The Bruins were placed in the top position by all 38 selectors on the national panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Bruins, 3-0, defeated Duke twice last week, 88-54 Friday and 107-87 Saturday. The No. 1 team does not play again until Dec. 22 when it takes on Colorado State.

Texas Western, 5-0, held second place after defeating East Texas, Pan American and Southern Methodist.

MOVED UP
Louisville switched places with Kentucky, the Cardinals moving to third and the Wildcats slipping to fourth. Louisville beat Southwestern Louisiana and Southern Illinois while Kentucky lost to Illinois in overtime and came back to down Northwestern.

New Mexico, winner over Loyola of Los Angeles and Texas Tech, advanced one place to fifth.

Michigan State, 4-0 including victories last week over South Dakota and Wichita State, is the only new team in the rankings. The Spartans replaced Duke, which has lost three of four games.

Houston, only member of the Top Ten to play Monday night, shrugged off four technical fouls and buried visiting St. Mary's, Calif., 96-74 for its fifth victory in six starts.

In other major games, Mike Nordholt set an Alabama single-game record with 50 points as the 4-1 Crimson Tide ripped Southern Mississippi 103-69, avenging their only setback of the young season; unbeaten Mississippi State wrecked Stanford 96-65 behind Dave Williams' 30 points for victory No. 5 and Chicago Loyola belted Baldwin-Wallace 105-80 for a 4-0 mark.

Opinions Vary on PGA Trail

NEW YORK (AP)—Like the fictional Jack Spratt and his contrary spouse, the country's two pro golf champions have different tastes about the tour.

U.S. Open king Bill Casper wants more fat. Al Geiberger, the PGA titleholder, wants more lean.

"I could play 15 months of the year if there were that many," said Casper, the Mormon with the buffalo meat diet who beat Arnie Palmer in a playoff for the Open at San Francisco.

"I feel as good today as I did when the season started last January. My prescription would be, 'Bring on more tournaments.'"

Geiberger, the bean-pole who nibbles on peanut butter sandwiches for nourishment around the course, said he thinks the tour is too long. He'd like two months, or more, of enforced rest.

THREE WEEKS

"We started in January and we have just finished our last major tournament — the PGA team matches in Florida," he said.

That means in about three more weeks we'll be hitting the road again. That's too much. I think we should have November and December, and maybe a big part of January, free of any tournaments at all."

Arnold Palmer, who teamed with Jack Nicklaus to win the $50,000 first prize last week-end at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., has argued for years for a streamlined tournament schedule of about 25 events. Now the $4 million program runs to around 40.

Nobody is making the golfers play in all the tournaments, or most of them, but it's necessary to keep pace in money winnings and Ryder Cup points, two important measures of success.

All the golfers are happy that prize money is continuing to escalate, with $200,000-plus tournaments moving the $100,000 classics into second class category.

"I don't know when the bonanza will end," Casper said. "As long as people want to see the golfers and promoters put

ACQUIRE OWN CUE—No. 4 guide in choosing a cue is a comfortable "feel."

A good idea is to acquire a cue of your own, if possible. I have learned that persons owning and using a private cue have improved their playing potential 10 per cent psychologically. They tend to bear down a little harder.

A big assist is furnished by one's pride in this situation.

ALL-AMERICA

Casper, Geiberger and Palmer were among the eight leading pros honored at a banquet here Monday night as Golf Magazine's 1966 All-America team. Some of the honorees — including Gene Littler, who is undergoing an operation on his left hand, and Julius Boros, who reported an ailing neck, couldn't be here in person to receive their plaques.

The All-America team included Jack Nicklaus, driver; Palmer, long irons; Casper, putter; Geiberger, fairway woods; Littler, short irons; Boros, sand wedge; Doug Sanders, middle irons, and Gay Brewer, Jr., pitching wedge.

NHL Point Gap Grows Wider

Mikita Has 15-Point Bulge Over Ullman

NEW YORK (AP)—Slick Stan Mikita, the Chicago Black Hawks' diminutive center, is opening a wide gap in the National Hockey League scoring race.

Mikita, with one goal and five assists last week, shows 12-36-38 for the season and a 15-point bulge over Detroit's Norm Ullman and New York's Phil Goyette, who share second place.

Ken Wharram, Mikita's right wing on Chicago's Scooter Line, shares the goal scoring lead at 13 with two Rangers, Rod Gilbert and Donnie Marshall.

Wharram, Gilbert and Montreal's Bobby Rousseau are tied for fourth place with 22 points while Marshall shares seventh place with Dennis Hull of Chicago and Wayne Connelly of Boston. Dave Keon of Toronto is 10th with 20 points.

Ed Giacomin, New York's sophomore goalie, leads the league with a 2.32 goals against average and three shutouts. Reg Fleming with 78 minutes and the Rangers with 281 minutes lead the league in penalties.

CONVICTED SLAYER ATTACKED — Max Ward, sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying of Dow Wilson, Painters Union leader, is carried to an ambulance after having been attacked in a San Francisco courtroom yesterday by Wilson's son, Scott (right). Ward suffered facial wounds when his glasses were broken. Ward had just been sentenced in Superior Court when Wilson leaped from the audience and attacked him.

Missouri Senator in Charge

Hearing on Bugging Is on Tap

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wretap flap between Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover will move into the arena of a Senate hearing next year.

Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., announced the scheduling Monday night. Long, who has been investigating invasions of privacy by wiretappers and electronic snoopers since February 1965, stepped into the Kennedy-Hoover dispute minutes after his return to New York from a month-long visit to Greece.

At issue is who — Hoover or Kennedy — is telling the truth about who authorized the wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping which has jeopardized a host of federal prosecutions.

BAKER CASE

One of those cases on the endangered list involves Bobby Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats and a friend of President Johnson.

As for the two principals in the dispute, both Kennedy, a New York Democrat, and Hoover were practicing the silence-is-golden routine Monday night. In entering the dispute, Long said, "Now that some of the principal participants have opened up these matters, we feel that an on-the-record airing is necessary."

Long is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on administrative practices and procedures. The committee staff has already drawn five proposed laws, one of which Long has said he will submit to Congress early in the next session.

The Kennedy-Hoover quarrel opened last Saturday with the release of a letter from Hoover to Rep. H.R. Gross, R-Iowa.

In this letter Hoover asserted Kennedy knew about the wiretapping and electronic surveillance activities of the FBI and attached a memorandum signed by Kennedy purporting to show this.

Further, Hoover said that during Kennedy's 1961-64 tenure as attorney general, these activities had increased with Kennedy's approval.

Kennedy said maybe he was supposed to know about these activities, but he didn't and certainly he had never authorized them.

Part of 'M' Faculty Mildly Slaps University's Policies

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The College of Literature, Science and Arts faculty mildly slapped the hand of the University of Michigan administration Monday night for the university's ban on student sit-ins and its cooperation with the House Un-American Activities Committee last summer.

A resolution charging the administration with "less responsibility and less fidelity to the Democratic process than the university community had every right to expect" was forwarded U. of M. President Harlan Hatcher and the Board of Regents.

Last summer, the university, under subpoena, turned over to HUAC a list of 65 students in three left-wing campus organizations. In September, the university banned sit-ins which interfered with its operations.

The Student Government Council broke off relations with the university because the ban was not rescinded. The faculty resolution was "a mild way of saying we don't like what you did on HUAC and the sit-in ban," said William Haber, dean of the college.

The Treaty of Lateran, in 1929, recognized Vatican City as an independent state.

Plunge Injures Writer's Son

NEW YORK (AP)—Shane O'Neill, 48, son of the late playwright Eugene O'Neill, was reported in critical condition today after jumping from a second-floor window of a Manhattan station house.

O'Neill had been brought to the police station after his arrest last Sunday night on the lower East Side for possession of drugs and marijuana.

Police said he leaped from the window early Monday morning and was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

O'Neill of Point Pleasant, N.J., is the brother of Oona O'Neill, wife of Charles Chaplin.

Fire Is Linked to Vandalism

WINDSOR (AP)—Police suspect youthful vandals of starting a fire which Monday did an estimated $100,000 damage to St. Angela's School in Windsor.

Police said papers had been ignited in the office of the school principal.

They found a smashed window in one corner of the school. "Someone pretty small" entered the building through the window, police theorized.

Court Won't Hear Appeal; GM to Compensate 4,798

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court declined yesterday to review a Michigan Supreme Court decision that unemployment compensation benefits must be paid to 4,798 workers at two General Motors plants in Flint.

The majority reasoned that no labor dispute existed at the Flint plants though workers there might benefit from terms of a settlement settling the strike at the Ohio plant.

GENERAL MOTORS CORP., in an appeal to the high court, asked the payments be enjoined and questioned the constitutionality of the Michigan Employment Security Act, under which they were ordered.

The Supreme Court said in a one-sentence ruling that "The appeal is dismissed for want of a substantial federal question." The effect is to leave the Michigan Supreme Court decision standing.

The dispute stems from a 1957 strike at the Mansfield, Ohio, Fisher Body stamping plant of General Motors.

The 4,798 workers, employed at the Buick Motor Division car assembly plant and a Fisher Body division assembly plant in Flint, were put out of work.

ENTITLED TO BENEFITS
A referee for the Michigan Employment Security Commission ruled the workers at the Flint plants were entitled to the unemployment compensation benefits on the ground they were not directly involved in the dispute.

The commission's appeal board confirmed the finding, but the Ingham County Circuit Court said the workers were "directly involved" in the dispute and said they were not qualified for the benefits.

Last June, the Michigan Supreme Court ruled the workers were not directly involved in the dispute.

Long Search for Son Ends in Courtroom

CHICAGO (UPI)—Cold legality finished Chester and Dora Fronczak's search for a son yesterday.

In 1964, the Fronczaks were rejecting the birth of their son, Paul Joseph. The boy turned to grief and bewildered shock in a few hours.

A woman dressed in a nurse's uniform walked into the Fronczaks' room at Michael Reese Hospital. The doctor wanted to examine the infant, the woman said, taking the 1-day-old boy from his mother's arms.

The woman disappeared, taking Paul Joseph with her.

Nationwide appeals were made. Every founding boy was examined and tested, each of them raising the hope that he would be the missing child. Each time the hope was dashed.

10,000 TESTED
Almost 10,000 children were given medical tests. All but one failed them.

A boy was found abandoned in Newark, N.J., on July 2, 1965. After preliminary tests the Fronczaks left their modest South Side Chicago home and traveled to New Jersey.

They came home with a boy—their son, they felt sure.

"He's our baby," said Dora Fronczak when they took custody of the child and began adoption proceedings.

Medical experts said there was no way to know positively if the child was, in fact, the stolen Paul Joseph. But a mother's heart was sure.

Yesterday, Judge James E. Murphy signed the final adoption decree.

The Fronczaks have a son.

Chicago Prisoners to Send Yule Cards

CHICAGO (AP)—Inmates at the House of Correction—Chicago's city jail—will be allowed to send Christmas cards this year, for the first time, since the jail opened 114 years ago.

The inmates printed about 2,000 cards, which bear a picture of a wreath and a lantern, with a greeting printed on them.

Acting Supt. C. William Ruddle said Monday the cards carry no indication that they were printed in a jail.

Junior Editors Quiz on LEAVES
SPRING

QUESTION: Why do the leaves of trees fall?
ANSWER: In the summer, the leaves of the broad-leaf trees are very busy making plant food. But it would not be possible for them to keep on doing this during the severe northern winters.

So, when fall comes in the north, a group of corky cells grows across the bottom of the leaf stem, shutting off the leaf from the tree.

The green chlorophyll, used in making plant food, disappears, revealing chemical pigments underneath which blaze out in the wonderful fall colors. The leaf withers and drops off.

But the tree has prepared for the future; a little bud has grown in the crotch just above the point to which the leaf stem was attached.

With the warm spring days, the bud comes to life. It opens, and a fresh new leaf is on its way.

In warmer, more southern climates, the leaves do not have to fall in this way.

The leaves of southern trees grow old and drop off every now and then, as do the leaves of the needle-leaf evergreens. The leaves are constantly appearing; as a result, such trees remain green.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you live in the north, look for next season's buds, as Jerry is doing. If in the south, look for old leaves which have fallen.

His Fate Waited

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Samuel Davis was struck by a car at a Salem intersection a month ago and was taken to a hospital. He was released Dec. 1.
As he stepped from the same corner Monday night, Davis, 67, was hit by another car and killed.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Billy and Santa travel across the seas in a turtle boat. They visit three fabulous islands before they come to the Island of Jewels.

CHAPTER EIGHT

The Rosanna Ruby

The turtle boat landed on the shores of the Island. Santa and Billy stepped out into a garden of jewels.

Emerald trees and diamond bushes and opal flowers bordered the walks of the garden.

Sapphires and turquoise glittered in the grass. The precious stones sparkled in the sunlight and tinkled softly in the breeze.

A beautiful pixie came to meet them. She wore a pearl diadem on her head and a jade locket hung from her throat.

"Welcome," said the pixie. "I hope you like our garden."

MUST HURRY

"It is beautiful," said Santa. "But we do not have time to enjoy it."

He told her how Billy must say Goko the Pixie because Goko had captured the Fairy Goko and the moon and vowed to capture Santa and rule all of Fairyland.

The pixie was very disturbed because this meant the giant would rule the Isle of Jewels, too. "What can I do?" she moaned.

Santa asked if she would give Billy the Rosanna Ruby. The pixie led them to the ruby grove and pointed to a brilliant stone.

SOLVE PROBLEM

"This is the fairest jewel on the isle," she said. "I would gladly give it to you but it can only be plucked from its branch unless Billy can solve a problem."

"What problem?" asked Billy eagerly.

"An arithmetic problem," said the pixie.

Billy sighed. Of all school subjects, arithmetic had been the one he hated most. He had never done his lessons at all.

BORING ITEM

He never believed a giant fighter would need arithmetic and spelling and boring things like that.

"What is the problem?" asked Santa.

The pixie said, "Billy has 24 apple pies. Billy eats thirteen. I eat one. You eat two. What is Billy left with?"

Billy got a stick and drew numbers in the dirt. He added and subtracted and crossed things out.

CHEWS TONGUE

He screwed up his face and chewed on his tongue and oh how he wished he had paid attention at school.

Suddenly, he had an answer. He cried, "If I had 24 apple pies and I ate thirteen and you ate one and Santa ate two, I would be left with a stomach ache!"

The pixie held her sides and doubled up with laughter.

"That's not the answer I had in mind but it will do!" she said and she plucked the ruby from his branch.

PRESENTS JEWEL

She placed the stone in Billy's hands and said, "May this jewel help you slay the wicked giant!"

Then Billy and Santa climbed back into the turtle's upside down shell and sailed back across the sea to the land of the Harp Witch.

The witch had not been idle while they were gone. She had made a necklace out of the hairs from her own head woven with the webs of a hundred black widow spiders and the wool of catenals.

She took the Rosanna Ruby and placed it carefully in the center of the band.

The Harp Witch had finished the magic necklace.

It blazed with such flaming beauty it was certain the giant would not be able to resist it.

"But the band is so small," said Billy. "How will it fit around the giant's neck?"

The witch said the necklace would expand or shrink to fit any size and Billy must be careful not to wear it himself or it would work its magic on him.

Billy put it away in his pocket and Santa said he was ready to go fight Goko the giant.

But the witch said, "What about all the other giants? Goko's brothers and his cousins and his nephews? They all live together in Goko's castle."

"What about them?" quavered Billy.

"You must destroy them all," cried the witch.

Jackie to Reduce in '67-- Work, Not Pounds, That Is

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Jackie Gleason flashed the warning to CBS from Miami Beach that he wants to work most next season — maybe 20 shows instead of 30. So CBS' Bob Milford flew to Florida to give Jackie anything he wants except possibly the new CBS Bldg. "Black Rock," which Bill Paley would sort of like to keep.

Heard at Charlie Bates' Saloon: "Nobody nose what Barbara Streisand will call her baby" . . . Sammy Davis: "Sinatra's giving Mia (for Christmas) Mexico" . . . Jack E. Leonard was heckling Darryl Zanuck at Dan's: "You and your skiing in Switzerland! How about coming out and ice-skating in Central Park?"

Carol Channing's reported all tuckered out from her "Hello, Dolly!" tour — and taking oxygen backstage and a few helpful pushes from her husband, Charles Lowe, to get her out there every night. But her fat checks every week attest to her popularity with the audiences and with the IRS.

Joe Cronin revived the ancient shortstop's vs. first baseman argument, and the shortstop's contention: "Playsmen should pay their way in" . . . Gina Lombardi, after attending a dinner party at the Preston Leons, went back into Beth Israel hospital for more stomach tests. Jack Valenti, who was to have been her escort, excused himself and returned to the coast.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

EX-USA Senator Keating, now Judge Keating, was in a group of celebrities giving autographs. Somebody asked for his and said, "By the way, who are you?" He replied, "My name is Bobby Kennedy" . . . Mrs. Howard Teichman's receiving gift cards for her unique album! . . . Sidney Kingsley's wearing a "Paris creation"; a dark beige cardigan with a sleeveless jacket over it, by Jacques Esterli of Paris.

Rex Harrison took his son Carey to Arthur, and frugged with pretty Brooke Holmes, daughter of a friend. (Also at the disco: Michael Caine with Camilla Sparv) . . . Mito Farrow turned down a hefty offer to lend her name to a line of cosmetics . . . Birdland! reopen, a discotheque called The Turntable . . . The Allen (Candid Camera) Funtz named the baby Juliet.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A woman at the H'wood Beachcombers snapped at her husband, "If you can spend all that money on taxes, why can't you afford to buy me a mink coat?"

EARL'S PEARLS: A lot of people would like to do the same thing this New Year's Eve they did last New Year's Eve — if they could remember what it was.

Al Gottlieb suspects we're in for a cold winter—he just saw a squirrel burying a bottle of scotch . . . That's earl, brother. (The Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

Recreation Dept. Pact OK'd Through June 30

The recreation department decided not to take steps to end the agreement between the Waterford Township Board and board of education which has been in effect since Jan. 1.

The agreement can be terminated within 60 days on notice of either board, and it was considered a possibility that this might happen.

The main bone of contention is that the recreation department, which is operated under the auspices of community school services, has lost some of its identity.

Nonetheless, the Township Board agreed to give the existing program a chance at least through the recreation department's June 30 budgetary period.

EQUAL CONTRIBUTION
The Township Board and board of education contribute an equal amount to the department's annual operating expenses.

In other business last night, the Township Board requested that the State Department of Conservation hold a public hearing to inquire into the need for watercraft controls on Pontiac Lake.

The action stemmed from residents' complaints to the White Lake Township Board about public safety on the lake. Most of the lake lies in White Lake Township, but part of it is in Waterford Township.

SINGLE ORDINANCE
Steps will be taken to draw up a single traffic ordinance for Oakland Community College's Highland Lakes campus and schools of the Waterford Township district so speed limits and other regulations are consistent for both systems.

The college had requested the township's assistance in regulating traffic conditions on the campus.

In still other business, the board rejected a request by Richard Scribner of Savoy Lanes for permission to sell liquor on the bowling alley concourse on New Year's Eve.

Also last night, first notices were read on three zoning requests.

SLATED FOR ACTION
Slated for action at next Monday night's Township Board meeting are requests to rezone from:

Single-family residential (R-1A) to local business (C-1) property on Williams Lake Road between Norris and Ardeth for a beauty shop.

C-1 and commercial recreation (RA-2) to seven-family residential (R-1B) property on Cass-Elizabeth near Robinson.

The rezoning request for the beauty shop was recommended for denial by both the Waterford Township Planning Commission and Oakland County Coordinating, Planning and Zoning Committee.

FAVORABLE REACTION
The other proposal met with favorable reaction by township planners and the county committee.

Placed on the board's Feb. 6 agenda was a request to rezone from single-family residential (R-1A) to C-1 property on Walton Boulevard near Clintonville Road for 10 retail shops.

The request previously was recommended for approval by township planners and the county committee.

However, it is contingent on the State Water Resources Commission's acceptance of a sewage disposal plan for the development.

Following last night's meeting, the board continued negotiations with Waterford Township Professional Fire Fighters, Local 1335, toward a 1967 contract for firemen.

Airtight-Device Law Proposed

Restrictions Designed to Protect Children

By a 6-0 vote last night, the Waterford Township Board introduced an ordinance designed to safeguard children by imposing restrictions on abandoned refrigerators, iceboxes and other devices with airtight doors and attached locks.

Prepared by Township Attorney Paul M. Mandel, the ordinance, if adopted at a future meeting of the board, will enable township officials to bring charges against violators.

Persons convicted of the misdemeanor could be fined as much as $100 and sentenced to 90 days in jail or both.

The ordinance would impose restrictions on abandoned and unattended refrigerators and iceboxes inside and outside buildings.

Responsibility for upholding the ordinance would be placed on landowners and other individuals.

MAJOR PROVISIONS
Major provisions of the proposed ordinance are:

- Any individual who knowingly leaves outside of any building in a place accessible to children any abandoned, unattended, or discarded icebox, refrigerator, deep freezer or other device with an airtight door of a kind and size sufficient to permit the entrapment and suffocation of a child, without first removing the snap lock or other locking device, shall be guilty of a violation of the ordinance.

- A landowner, likewise, is in violation of the ordinance if he allows this to happen.

- Any individual desiring to keep the aforementioned devices, who does not desire to remove the snap lock, shall at all times keep these containers in a building to which all entrances are securely locked and inaccessible to children.

The board had directed Mandel to draw up the ordinance following complaints by township residents.

Copter Crash Kills Pilot, 44

DOWAGIAC (UPI)—A small helicopter, partly homemade, crashed near the airport yesterday, killing its pilot, Orville Walter Brown, 44, Benton Harbor.

Authorities said the craft, called a gyrocopter by its operators, began to fall apart 500 feet in the air and fell into a field.

Brown and several friends partly built the copter, a small device with no closed cockpit, and flew it apparently as a hobby.

Strike Goes On

GARDEN CITY (AP)—Strikers at Mid-States Metal Product Inc., voted today to continue their walkout. The workers charge the company with unfair labor practices in stalling efforts to name new collective bargaining agents. The strike is entering its second week.

Irving didn't. Or so he thought. Next thing he knew, his next-door neighbor put up a fancy one designed by Whitehall Metal Studios. Beautiful. Aluminum. Carefree. (And not too expensive) Now Irving is sulking. Calling his neighbors snobs. But Irving is only human. The Blintz order is going through the Whitehall Metal Studios plant now. The $7.50 model. Naturally.
