Romney Seeking U.S. Funds

ADC-U Plan Gets a Clean Bill of Health

Governor Assured New Proposal Meets Federal Standards

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney is going to the legislature with a revised plan to qualify Michigan for federal ADC-U funds. He has been given prior assurance the plan complies with federal standards.

Fred Steininger, director of the Bureau of Family Services of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, says the proposal "does not contain any element that would prevent implementation in accordance with federal requirements."

His telegram refers specifically to the eligibility provisions of the new ADC-U plan—the same section on which Michigan stubbed its toe in 1963.

Last year's bill had limited ADC-U eligibility to persons who had been eligible for state unemployment compensation since 1958, a provision HEW officials labeled "discriminatory."

Romney charged the federal agency with being "arbitrary and capricious" and discriminating against Michigan.

★ ★ ★

PROVISION ABOLISHED

In order to meet federal standards, the 1963 definition of an unemployed parent is abolished. The new definition includes the following:

—No eligible parent can be engaged in gainful work for more than 32 hours in a two-week period.

—The parent must maintain registration with the Michigan Employment Service, and must seek and accept work if it is available.

★ ★ ★

—The parent cannot have been fired for misconduct nor have quit his job voluntarily.

RETRAINING

Romney said the new bill "provides for retraining through vocational and educational programs of other state agencies and departments, and assures maximum use of the state's help in finding a new job."

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has proposed a six-point welfare program to increase Michigan's share of federal funds by $13.6 million, ease the burden on local government and cost the state nothing more.

In a special message to the legislature, Romney called yesterday for adoption of the plan that, he said, would bring an added $13.6 million in U.S. welfare aid to Michigan.

Some $7 million of this would be used to expand participation in programs of federal aid to dependent children of unemployed, ADC-U, medical care to aged, aid to the blind and aid to the disabled.

Romney said Michigan's local units of government — which finance direct relief chiefly through the property tax — would realize a $6.6-million saving.

★ ★ ★

In some cases state expenditures would rise and in others they would fall, but Romney said there would be no overall change in the amount spent on welfare from state funds.

SOLVE PROBLEMS

"Implementing the recommendations in this message will do much to solve the critical problems of the unemployed, the elderly, the disabled, the blind and the poor," said the governor.

The key to the program, he said, is taking greater advantage of existing federal social welfare programs.

"While we may be philosophically uncertain as to the extension and addition of new federal programs, we should not hesitate to make effective use of those. . .already established and operating," he said.

★ ★ ★

Mainstay of Romney's plan was a proposal to revise the 1963 law which sought to qualify Michigan for ADC-U funds.

★ ★ ★

The governor said his new ADC-U plan already has been approved by an official of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which had blocked acceptance of the 1963 law on grounds it was "discriminatory."

Romney said the total cost of his six-point welfare program would be $71.2 million per year, compared to a present cost of $64.2 million.

While state costs, he said, would not increase, local direct relief expenses would drop from $11.2 million to $4.6 million, and federal funds would rise from $28 million to $41.6 million.

★ ★ ★

Romney also asked the legislature to cut from 1½ mills to one mill the required maximum Detroit property tax levy for direct relief, and to consider a plan to make local welfare administration more efficient.

MILLAGE DROP

The Detroit millage reduction is necessary, the governor said, to enable the city to realize savings from the changes in other programs.

The state would assume a larger portion of direct relief costs in Detroit, using money saved in the shift of federal programs.

To emphasize his point that Michigan should take a more active part in federal programs, Romney included with his written message a graph comparing all the states on various programs as of June 1963.

He said it proved Michigan is "paying twice" for many of its welfare programs.

Man of Year Selected

Dr. Don O. Tatroe last night was named Outstanding Young Man of the Year by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Also honored at the annual Jaycees Bosses' Night Banquet at Airway Lanes was Max Adams, manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, who was named Boss of the Year.

Tatroe, who is superintendent of Waterford Township Schools, was cited for outstanding work in behalf of the school system as well as his civic and church activities.

★ ★

The 35-year-old educator organized a citizens advisory committee on school needs last winter which paved the way to passage of a $6.25-million school building program.

DROPOUT PLAN

His work in the development of a program for potential high school dropouts also was singled out.

Tatroe, who became superintendent of schools last Jan. 28, joined the Jaycees a month later. He served as chairman of the Jaycee-sponsored Junior Miss Pageant last month.

Married, Tatroe lives at 3268 Angelus and has four children.

A committee of judges comprised of Dr. John F. Naz, Eldon Greer and Rev. Walter Teeuwissen Jr. selected the award winner from 17 contestants.

FAMILY EVACUATED — U.S. Army Spec. 4 Marion B. Harris of Harlingen, Tex., takes his wife and baby to a plane at the Panama Canal Zone airfield, where they, along with other U.S. dependents, were airlifted yesterday to the United States.

Panama, U.S. Will Renew Ties

PANAMA (AP) — The United States and Panama agreed today to reestablish diplomatic relations "as quickly as possible" and to open discussions 30 days after resumption of relations on all issues between the two countries.

★ ★ ★

The agreement, reached at 1:10 a.m., did not specifically mention the treaty giving the United States control of the Panama Canal Zone, which Panama wants revised.

Its language made clear this would be among the issues to be discussed.

Panamanian President Roberto Chiari's press officer, Fabian Velarde, said his government would wait awhile, perhaps a week, "to let things cool off" before resuming relations with the United States.

He said Panama then would ask a third government to advise Washington of the desire to restore relations, which Chiari broke off at the height of the crisis last weekend.

★ ★ ★

The intermediary is expected to be Costa Rica, which was named to handle Panama's affairs in Washington during the break.

REACH AGREEMENT

The agreement was reached by Edwin M. Martin, President Johnson's special envoy, and Panamanian Foreign Minister Galileo Solis, meeting with the peace committee of the Organization of American States. Martin, Solis and the OAS group had been negotiating since Sunday night.

Panama is not expected to call on the United States to get out of the Canal Zone, which cuts the strategic Central American country in half. Solis has made clear that Panama is not interested in running the canal.

He stressed, however, that his government will seek to reduce the boundaries of the zone, which is 10 miles wide and extends 36 miles from the Caribbean to the Pacific.

Snow Flurries, Slight Warmup Due Tomorrow

Scattered snow flurries may be expected late tomorrow afternoon with temperatures a little warmer, the high near 34.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts fair weather with a low of 18 tonight.

For the next five days, temperatures will average 2 to 4 degrees below the normal high of 33 and normal low of 16 to 21.

South to southwest winds will continue at 8 to 15 miles per hour.

Ten was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 27 by 2 p.m.

Pontiac Sales at New Highs

Marks Keep Falling for Most Companies

For the tenth consecutive 10-day period since the introduction of current models, Pontiac Motor Division sales were at an all-time high.

Frank V. Bridge, Pontiac general sales manager, said 15,785 Pontiacs and Tempests were sold Jan. 1-10, surpassing by 11 per cent the previous record of 14,126 set in the same period a year ago.

The Oldsmobile Division of General Motors also reported record sales of 13,780 for the 10-day period, an increase of 8 per cent over the prior 1956 record.

Chevrolet car sales, however, were down for the period — 49,287, compared with 55,311 for the first 10 days of 1963. Truck sales reached 11,683 compared to 10,723 last year.

ALL-TIME HIGH

Ford Division of the Ford Motor Co. set an all-time record for sales of cars and trucks for the 10-day period.

Ford car sales were 38,144, up more than 2,500 units over last year, and truck sales 9,315, up nearly 700 units. The sale of Thunderbirds increased 60 per cent.

Lincoln-Mercury's 10-day figures were reported to be the best since 1955.

★ ★ ★

The division said it retailed 7,875 cars for the first 10 days of this month, a 5 per cent increase over the same period last year.

SLIGHTLY HIGHER

Chrysler Corp. said it sold 18,877 new cars as against 18,046 for the same period in 1963.

The company reported its sales of Plymouth cars were 11,612, a 4 per cent increase.

Court Affirms Conviction of Billie Estes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed today the swindling conviction and eight-year prison sentence for Billie Sol Estes.

The former West Texas farm financier has 15 days to seek a rehearing from the three-man court.

The tribunal is the highest court which can consider appeals of criminal convictions in Texas.

★ ★ ★

The convictions stem from eight counts of felony theft in indictments handed down in 1962 in Estes' former headquarters, Pecos, Tex.

The indictments came four weeks after federal officers suddenly arrested Estes, toppling his multimillion dollar financial structure.

Italian Leader: Unite Europe

Backs Alliance in Speech to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Antonio Segni of Italy, addressing a joint session of the U.S. Congress today, urged the nations of Western Europe to unite.

"We must, as soon as possible, create the Atlantic partnership; and therefore create, within the Atlantic alliance, a united Europe," the Italian leader said.

"If Europe wants to be strengthened . . . it must also unite politically: a divided Europe would rapidly become anachronistic and outdated."

Segni started the second day of his official visit to President Johnson by inviting a score of congressmen of Italian descent to breakfast at Blair House, the government guest mansion where he is quartered.

Then he crossed the Potomac River to Arlington National Cemetery to lay wreaths on the grave of President John F. Kennedy and on the Tomb of the Unknowns.

SOLEMN PLEDGE

His speech at the Capitol, a firm and solemn pledge to work for European unity, was devoted mainly to the Atlantic alliance.

He hailed the alliance as "the best safeguard of peace" and wholeheartedly endorsed Kennedy's thesis, spelled out in the late president's Philadelphia speech in July 1962, in which Kennedy championed an Atlantic partnership of equals with two main pillars: America and a united Europe.

EXPRESSES GRATITUDE — Mrs. John F. Kennedy yesterday broadcast public thanks for the condolences from a world that shared her grief when her husband was slain. She said she has received nearly 800,000 messages.

Tearful Mrs. Kennedy Thanks Nation, World

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy told the nation of her grief and of the comfort she gained from the thousands of messages after her husband's assassination.

"Whenever I can bear to, I read them," she said, her eyes shining with tears, then murmured: "All his bright light gone from the world."

The former first lady expressed the thanks of herself and her children for the 800,000 messages of tribute and condolence in a statement broadcast on radio and television yesterday from the office of her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Clad in black and sitting before a blazing fireplace, Mrs. Kennedy said the "knowledge of the affection in which my husband was held by all of you has sustained me, and the warmth of these tributes is something I shall never forget."

In a voice so low it was barely audible to those around her, the late president's 34-year-old widow declared that "all of you who have written to me know how much we all loved him and that he returned that love in full measure."

★ ★ ★

She said it is her greatest wish to acknowledge all the letters, even though "it will take a long time."

TO BE TREASURED

Mrs. Kennedy declared that "each and every message is to be treasured not only for my children but so that future generations will know how much our country and people in other nations thought of him."

The letters thus will be placed eventually, she said, in the Kennedy library to be erected in Boston — a library which she hopes will become "a living center of study of the times in which he lived."

After delivering her statement, Mrs. Kennedy moved toward a cluster of reporters she remembered from White House days who scattered to make way.

Mrs. Kennedy, smiling, said: "Don't run away! I just want to say hello."

★ ★ ★

Among a sampling of the messages Mrs. Kennedy received was a cablegram from Warsaw, Poland, which said simply: "We weep with you."

Truck Pact or Strike?

JAMES R. HOFFA

CHICAGO (UPI) — This may be the day Teamsters President James R. Hoffa signs his first national trucking contract — or calls a nationwide strike.

There were varying indications from both sides as to which might happen.

"They are very close to agreement," a Teamsters spokesman said late yesterday.

★ ★ ★

However, a trucking negotiator said the Teamsters had rejected industry's money offer. He indicated further meetings with the union would continue.

FURTHER MEETINGS

C. G. Zwingle, chairman of the negotiating committee of Trucking Employers, Inc., said the undisclosed money offer was "equitable and fair." He said he would report the developments to the executive policy committee, then contact the union for further meetings.

★ ★ ★

"We have bargained for several months on a collective bargaining agreement which affects the entire United States," Zwingle said, "and have been able to reach agreement on the form of the contract, most of the provisions of the master agreement, as well as many of the various supplemental area agreements."

★ ★ ★

Hoffa said one week ago that he would call a strike against six nationwide trucking firms if a national agreement was not reached by today. He repeated the threat yesterday.

Judge to Lead Project Unit

Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt yesterday was elected to head up a new Oakland County chapter to support Project HOPE.

Judge Pratt was elected by 30 citizens at a dinner meeting at the Kingsley Inn.

Former Congressman Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso was host.

★ ★ ★

Bentley heads up a pilot endeavor to set up the first statewide organization for HOPE.

OTHERS ESTABLISHED

He said other chapters have already been established in seven Michigan cities and communities.

Now on its third voyage since 1960, the S. S. Hope visits underdeveloped countries with the primary task of training medical and nursing personnel there.

Bentley said the training, of course, involves treatment. The former Congressman told of HOPE's impact.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Harold A. Furlong, 35 S. Johnson, said a Project HOPE chapter in Oakland County three years ago raised $5,000 to support the hospital vessel.

ANNUAL BUDGET

Bentley said the project has an annual budget of $5 million. The U.S. government contributes $1 million for the actual operation of the S. S. Hope. The rest comes from public donations.

Pratt, the new chairman, told the citizens group that he would check into how other chapters operate before making plans for the local unit.

Ideas Worth Plenty

Suggestions for making work easier and safer or improving plant operations are worth more than ever at Pontiac Motor Division. Just ask Arthur R. Ripley of Independence Township.

Shortly after General Manager E. M. Estes announced that the maximum award had been increased, Ripley, 31, of 6729 Amy turned in a suggestion that won him the first $6,000 top prize.

Ripley is a senior clerk in the product engineering department. His idea was to reroute the heater water hose, which subsequently resulted in a considerable saving.

★ ★ ★

In presenting Ripley with U.S. Savings Bonds, Estes said, "The suggestion plan has helped hundreds of our men and women to develop their ingenuity and initiative.

OUTSTANDING AID

"Their ideas have made an outstanding contribution toward improving tools, production methods and processes, equipment and office procedures."

Since the start of the GM suggestion plan, more than five million have been submitted and 1.2 million have been adopted. Awards have totaled more than $53 million.

Ripley has submitted 13 suggestions since he joined the division in 1956. This is his first to be adopted.

Ripley and his wife have a 3-year-old daughter.

FARRELL E. ROBERTS

To Seek Seat in U.S. House

Roberts Now Senator for Oakland County

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, announced today that he will be a candidate for the U.S. Congress from the new 19th District this year.

Roberts, currently in his second term in the Senate after two terms in the state House of Representatives, said he will seek the GOP nomination.

The district includes Pontiac, the northern and western parts of Oakland County and all of Livingston County.

★ ★ ★

"The new 19th District will be one of the most complex in the state," Roberts said. "It has industry, agriculture and fast-growing suburban areas."

'PRIOR EXPERIENCE'

"The district should be represented by someone with prior legislative experience," he said.

Roberts, who once was thought more likely to run for the new state appellate court than for Congress, said he was "bothered by" Congress' "sit-down strike" this year.

He said he was interested especially in mental health legislation on the national level and in foreign affairs.

The senator said he had originally preferred running for Congress, but had been disposed toward the appellate court as more conducive to family life.

FAIL TO ESTABLISH

The State Legislature, however, failed to set up the appellate court last month.

Oakland University Development Director James Dickerson and Pontiac attorney Richard D. Kuhn also have announced their candidacies for the GOP nomination in the 19th District.

Both had expected Roberts not to run for Congress.

Lawyer Takes Oswald Case

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A New York lawyer has agreed to represent Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, and will try to prove him innocent, Oswald's mother said Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Marguerite Oswald told reporters that attorney Mark Lane would appear for her dead son before the special presidential commission investigating the assassination.

★ ★ ★

Lane several weeks ago submitted a lengthy brief to the commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, stating that Oswald should be defended.

Mrs. Oswald contends her son is innocent, or acted with others if guilty. Evidence released by government agencies has indicated Oswald acted alone.

★ ★ ★

She complained she has not been permitted to see her son's widow, Marina Oswald, who is under Secret Service protection and is represented by a lawyer and a business agent.

Oswald, 24, was charged with the Nov. 22 assassination of Kennedy, the fatal shooting of Dallas policeman J. D. Tippit and the attempted murder of Texas Gov. John Connally, who was riding in a car with Kennedy.

Search Finds Flier's Body

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP) —The body of a second flier from an Air Force B52 which crashed near here Monday was found on an icecapped mountain today, leaving one of the five crewmen still unaccounted for.

Two crew members had been found alive earlier and another had perished on the blizzard-swept slope near the scene of the wreckage.

The second body recovered was identified as Maj. Robert L. Payne of Tulsa, Okla., 41-year-old navigator of the plane carrying two nuclear weapons.

Baker Holdings, Finances Will Soon Be Made Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators say they will make public a record of Robert G. Baker's financial worth and holdings, but may not go into his income tax returns.

Nor will the Senate Rules Committee ask Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., to testify about his business dealings with the former Senate aide, said Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C.

★ ★ ★

"We don't need him — we're not investigating senators," Jordan told newsmen Tuesday.

The committee was told Monday that Baker and Scott I. Peek, former administrative assistant to Smathers, had an interest with the senator in a real estate venture in Florida.

SMATHERS' POSITION

Smathers said in a statement later he had sold Baker and Peek a one-eighth interest each in his share in the venture because they were young men raising families. Aides of the senator said the land is in Orange County near Maitland, Fla.

The committee is investigating whether Baker, who resigned Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, engaged in outside activities that conflicted with his official duties, or involved other improprieties.

The next hearing of the committee is tentatively set for a week from today.

Government auditors on loan to the committee are expected to testify about financial statements Baker has filed, listing stock holdings, bank accounts, real estate and other claimed assets as well as loans he has obtained, and other liabilities.

MARYLAND MOTEL

The committee also plans to round out testimony taken at a public hearing last month about his investment in a million-dollar motel at Ocean City, Md.

Jordan told newsmen after Tuesday's hearings that the committee has not yet obtained copies of Baker's income tax returns and may not despite an executive order by President Johnson giving it authority to examine them.

The committee's special counsel, L. P. McLendon, said evidence linked Baker to two Las Vegas, Nev., men and an aircraft company official in borrowing $175,000 in March, 1962, to buy some Oklahoma bank stock.

★ ★ ★

McLendon listed the hotel operators as B. B. Sigelbaum and Edward Levinson. He said he didn't know if their hotels have gambling casinos. Also identified by McLendon as associated in the venture was Fred Black Jr., an official of North American Aviation Corp.

CLUB OWNER

Sources in Las Vegas identified Levinson as president of the Fremont Hotel and the Horseshoe Club. The Fremont was described as the downtown area's biggest hotel and gambling casino. The Horseshoe is also a hotel-casino. Sigelbaum's son Lester was listed as owning a 3 per cent share of the Fremont.

★ ★ ★

The Las Vegas sources said B. B. Sigelbaum was reported to live with his wife in Miami Beach, Fla., and said there was no record in Las Vegas that he was an operator of gambling facilities.

★ ★ ★

Eugene A. Hancock, a friend of Baker and president of Automatic Vending Service, Inc., of Miami, Fla., testified that he had never heard of the loan.

Commission OK's First Radar Unit

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — In a move to curb traffic problems on Vaughan and Opdyke, the Bloomfield Hills City Commission last night authorized purchase of the community's first radar unit.

The $1,295 unit will be put in use throughout the city in about two weeks, but efforts will be concentrated on Vaughan and Opdyke, according to Public Safety Director Robert J. Stadler.

Stadler issued a warning today to persons driving pickup trucks on either of the roads.

Even if they are not bearing commercial licenses, Stadler said, the vehicles are still considered to be trucks.

Bloomfield Hills police will begin a crackdown today, issuing tickets to all pickup truck drivers on the two roads who are not making deliveries, Stadler said.

Cyprus Peace Sought in Talks

LONDON (UPI) — Feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriots went to a London peace conference today to seek a permanent solution to the strife on their island, where more than 200 persons have been killed in communal fighting.

Representatives of Britain, Greece, Turkey and the government of Cyprus itself also participated under the chairmanship of Duncan Sandys, Britain's secretary of commonwealth relations.

The conference was called to settle a conflict between Greek and Turkish Cypriots over the political and constitutional future of the Mediterranean island.

★ ★ ★

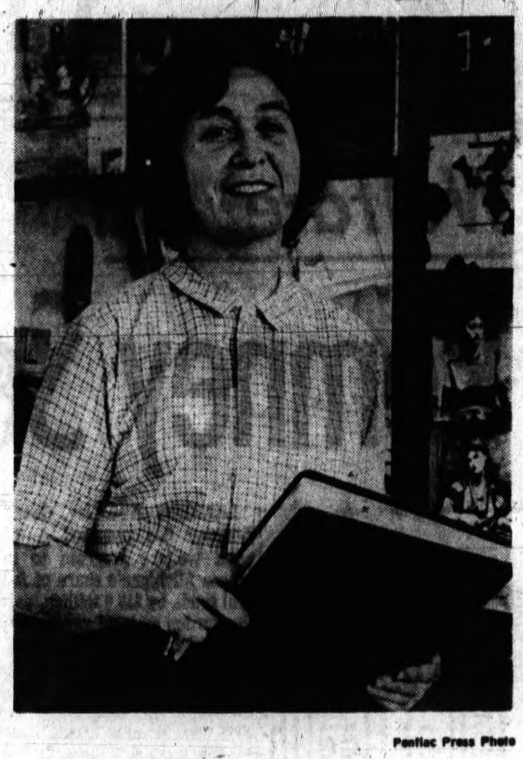

The British government airlifted 2,000 troops to the island last month to establish a buffer zone and guard an uneasy truce, but Britain has served notice it will not keep its forces on Cyprus indefinitely.

CHANCES SLIM

Chances for an early solution appeared slim. In the past two days, advance consultations between Britain, Greece and Turkey indicated a desire to restrain extreme demands by Cypriot leaders.

But the decision lies ultimately with the Cypriots, and their positions have very little common ground.

Britain, Greece and Turkey have guaranteed the independence of Cyprus and its constitution by treaty. But Greek Cypriots charge the constituion in effect gives the minority Turkish community on the island a veto over the decisions of Archbishop Makarios, the president of Cyprus.

Birmingham Area News

Secretary at Art Center Has Tough Assignment

BIRMINGHAM — The new executive secretary of the Bloomfield Art Association couldn't have picked a better — or more hectic — time to arrive.

Undergoing a real "trial by ordeal," Mrs. Bernard Rapoport has spent her first week on the new job enrolling students for winter classes at the Birmingham Art Center.

Sitting before a large ledger on her desk, she has answered the telephone, checked inquiries, made notations and, in short, done all that is necessary to fill the 41 classes offered by the BAA under its newly expanded program.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rapoport brings to the task a tenacious spirit.

HAS TWO DEGREES

A 1938 graduate of Simmons College in Boston with a bachelor's degree in English, Mrs. Rapoport returned to her studies to earn another bachelor's degree — this one in sociology at the University of Toledo — in 1961.

She did this in the midst of rearing three children, John, now 19, Carol, 17, and Sarah, 12.

The family moved from Toledo to 31456 Sleepy Hollow, Beverly Hills, last September. Dr. Rapoport is an internist and cardiologist.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rapoport last year taught sociology at Toledo Hospital's school of nursing.

WILLING TO LEARN

She frankly admits she hasn't had much experience in art, but is willing to learn. She plans to attend the special art appreciation lecture course at the BAA this term.

"But mainly I'm here to help the volunteers, who do most of the work," she commented. "I just staff the office."

She's there from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays.

★ ★ ★

The active wife, mother and career woman, who claims she'll "drop anything to play tennis," also is interested in the League of Women Voters.

★ ★ ★

However, for awhile she'll be kept busy learning her new duties, meeting new people and familiarizing herself with a new form of cultural expression.

The winter film and lecture program of the Bloomfield Art Association will begin Friday night with a film entitled "Artist's Proof."

The film, which surveys the history of printmaking, brings to the screen the prints of old masters and shows modern artists at work.

John Davis of the Left Bank Gallery in Flint will discuss and demonstrate printmaking. The program starts at 8:30 p.m. at the Birmingham Art Center, 1516 S. Cranbrook.

★ ★ ★

Next on the schedule will be a performance by the Bennington College dance group Feb. 13.

Mrs. Edward Olson

Service for Mrs. Edward (Alice R.) Olson, 90, of 932 Ridgedale, Birmingham, will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will follow in Evergreen Cemetery, Detroit.

Mrs. Olson died yesterday after a lengthy illness.

Surviving are two sons, Leonard W. and Warren T., both of Birmingham, five grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

What Will Prosecutor Do?

Aides Want to Know Taylor's Plans

By JIM DYGERT

Though the boss is in Florida, some in the Oakland County prosecutor's office can't seem to relax.

Strange as it may seem, they're even anxious for Republican Prosecutor George F. Taylor to come back.

That's because they're itching to know Taylor's political plans for 1964, which they expect him to reveal soon after he gets back from his vacation next week.

★ ★ ★

The suspense is most tense among Taylor's three senior assistant prosecutors. They may go after Taylor's job if Taylor, who is 67, decides not to keep it.

RESOUNDING CLASH

In the offing is a resounding clash of political ambitions among three men who have worked closely together for several years—amiable, red-haired Robert L. Templin; tight-lipped, efficient Jerome K. Barry; and the glib, exuberant William E. Lang.

Though it's no secret that they are interested if Taylor declines to seek reelection, only Lang openly discusses his possible candidacy. The other two are more hesitant.

"Let's see what George says when he gets back," is all Templin or Barry will say.

★ ★ ★

The anxiety is apparently more over the manner in which Taylor will leave the prosecutor's post he has held since 1959 than over whether he will actually leave it. And the manner could be a decisive factor in determining the identity of his successor.

ALMOST CERTAIN

Taylor is almost certain not to seek reelection. He has said he may retire from politics entirely. If not, however, he indicated he would run for Congress or a judicial post.

Talk is buzzing among county Republicans that Taylor may resign before his present term ends in a maneuver to insure that the man he prefers would succeed him.

If so, that would indicate his choice to be Templin, who denies, however, that Taylor has assured him support.

★ ★ ★

By resigning, Taylor would leave his post to be filled by the county's seven Circuit judges, a situation that would favor Templin.

FORMER REPUBLICANS

Five of the judges, as former Republicans, could be expected to follow the GOP's recommendation, which surely would be Templin, who has been by far the most active of the three in party affairs.

On the other hand, if Taylor were to serve out his term, his successor would be chosen in the first instance by voters, a situation that Barry probably would prefer.

His brother, County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry, has made the Barry name well known.

★ ★ ★

Of course, Templin, if appointed, would still have to face election and possibly opposition from Barry and Lang this year to keep the post. But he would have the advantage of incumbency.

CHIEF ASSISTANT

Taylor has said he would like his chief assistant, Robert Long, to succeed him. But Long has told him he has no desire for elective office and Taylor will try only to insure that his successor retains Long as chief assistant.

★ ★ ★

While the boys are waiting for Taylor's move, there's something else for them to ponder.

Two other familiar faces, according to reliable sources, may also be in the race—Richard F. Condit of Southfield and Donald A. Brown of Royal Oak, both former assistant county prosecutors.

Host of Troubles

Ghana Is Stumbling Along Road to Marxism

By KENNETH L. WHITING

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Along the road to Marxism, the country led by Kwame Nkrumah is running into a host of troubles.

★ ★ ★

Repeated attempts to kill "The Redeemer" help build up an atmosphere of crisis. So do the lists of political prisoners. The nation's balance sheet is in the red, too.

Thousands of extra police have been on emergency duty in the capital since an assassin tried to kill Nkrumah with a bomb in August 1962. Cars and trucks entering Accra are searched at roadblocks.

ANOTHER TRY

The government reported another attempt on Nkrumah two weeks ago. The removal of Police Commissioner Erasmus Madjitey and eight other senior officers followed. Government-controlled newspapers called for a cleanup of police, the civil service and the judiciary.

An opposition member said in Parliament last year that there were more than 1,000 political prisoners in the country. No one in the benches of the ruling Convention People's party denied it. The latest attack on Nkrumah has added to the number behind bars.

★ ★ ★

"Kwame Nkrumah is to Africa today what Lenin meant to the Soviet Union in 1917," Defense Minister Kofi Baako has told reporters.

The dynamic son of a village goldsmith wields virtually dictaterial powers over 7 million countrymen. The ruling party promotes militant socialism. Much domestic conflict seems to have resulted from opposition to it by intellectuals, businessmen and conservative tribal elements.

BEING REVAMPED

The Kwame Nkrumah Institute for Economics and Politics has been renamed Kwame Nkrumah Ideological Institute. It apparently is being revamped to train party cadres under one-party rule.

The economy, sailing smoothly just six months ago, has sprung a leak.

Prices rose 20 per cent in 18 months. Wage ceilings have allowed no pay increases for two years. There have been brief shortages in Accra of such commodities as flour and sugar.

The $700-million nest egg Ghana inherited from England on gaining independence in 1957 is down to $140 million.

"About everything that could go wrong has gone wrong," says one businessman in this West African capital.

Like most developing countries, Ghana zealously pushed industrialization financed chiefly with short-term loans. About $378 million is committed to industrial and developmental projects. This sum mounts steadily. It costs $56 million in hard currency each year to service the debt.

★ ★ ★

A capital investment act enacted last year improved the investment climate during the summer. Late in 1963, however, a new tax law wiped out many of these gains.

★ ★ ★

Foreign firms are guaranteed against arbitrary expropriation, but now must pay $1.83 on every $2.80 they want to take out of the country.

INDIRECT TAXATION

Everyone who earns more than $30.80 monthly is taxed. For the first time, self-employed petty traders are being tapped through a licensing arrangement that amounts to indirect taxation.

For several years the government counted on a balanced budget but it came up with a $126-million deficit last year. This year the $403-million budget looks for a $70-million deficit right from the start, despite new revenue from higher taxes.

The current budget includes $364,000 for statues of Nkrumah.

His Cup Runneth Over

That's Really Firewater!

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An experiment in aging whisky went over with a bang, but police advise against it.

Officers said Emory A. Blackwell, 57, was visiting his brother's apartment Tuesday and decided to test an idea for aging whisky.

They said he placed a container filled with whisky in a lard can containing water and placed the can on a stove.

★ ★ ★

Police said the water evidently boiled out of the can and the whisky exploded.

★ ★ ★

The brother, Leland R. Blackwell, 43, was hospitalized with first-degree burns. Emory Blackwell was charged with being drunk and disorderly conduct.

Israel Navy Halts Lebanese Schooner

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—The newspaper Jerusalem Post said Tuesday an Israeli navy torpedo boat seized a 150-ton Lebanese schooner on charges of entering Israeli territorial waters near Haifa.

An Israeli army spokesman declined comment on the report.

However, Italian newsmen and photographers aboard the Italian navy transport Vesuvio, anchored in Haifa Bay, said they made a film of the Lebanese schooner's detention.

Rodents are a hardy offshoot of an early form of primate from which man developed, a zoologist believes.

For Utica Schools

Bond, Mill Vote Saturday

UTICA — Students in the Utica School District will be carrying a special "note" home to their parents today — a newsletter telling why the district needs $7.5 million in bonds plus operational funds from a 4-mill tax levy.

Other activity in the 11th-hour portion of the campaign is being carried out by the Citizens School Advisory Committee.

Committee members are working toward a goal of contacting all residents in the district to explain why voters should approve the two proposals on the ballot Saturday.

In the door - to - door presentations, workers are explaining that 70 new elementary classrooms will be built from the funds made available if the issues pass.

NEW SCHOOLS

Three new elementary schools will be built, each containing 20 rooms, and a 10-room supplementary wing will be added to the Switzer school.

Using a theme of "Vote Yes for Youth,' members of the citizen's committee are adding telephone solicitation to their activities during the closing week of the campaign.

The two proposals, if okayed by voters, will provide funds sufficient for the district until 1966, according to Schools Supt. Fred Atkinson.

HIGH SCHOOL

A new high school with a capacity for 1,800 students is also planned by the school board.

Atkinson said that regardless of outcome of the vote, some students will have to attend the half-day session next year.

Should the proposals be passed, construction could not be completed in time to accommodate the present overload, the superintendent exxplained.

★ ★ ★

"If we don't do something now, we may never be able to catch up," Atkinson said.

5-YEAR LEVY

The requested 4 mills would be levied for five years. After two years, the board will have to reevaluate millage requirements, according to the superintendent.

A 5-mill levy voted in two years ago will run out in 1966.

Last June, voters here rejected a request for $5.3 million in bonds and a 7.5-mill levy.

★ ★ ★

Two months later, residents turned thumbs down on a request for a $3.5-million bond issue and a 3.5-mill tax hike.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Rochester Building Plans Grow

ROCHESTER — Headway is being made in plans for the proposed commercial and multiple housing development on the Mill Pond property on East University.

The engineer's proposed layout for the 20-acre development has been presented to the council along with information that the design of the buildings is now being completed.

The developer, Donald E. White of Drayton Plains, said he plans to meet with the council as soon as the plans are further along.

The layout shows a group of eight multiple housing units facing an eight-store shopping center.

In front will be parking areas for about 350 cars and at the west end bordering Paint Creek will be a professional building.

The Kieft Engineering Co. of Clarkston drew up the plans.

The council has authorized village engineers to draft certain specifications to conform with local ordinances and to meet certain standards deemed necessary before the plans are finally approved.

★ ★ ★

Among the recommendations will be one to straighten the road alignment to Elizabeth Street and be certain the bridge over Paint Creek and minimum flow area of the stream meet village requirements.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the council has authorized village attorney Arthur Cox to draw up a contract under which the Avon Playhouse Corp. will be allowed to tap into the Stony Creek Park sewer line for its proposed theater.

The 250-seat playhouse is planned for construction on Washington Road, northeast of the village limits.

The council proposes to allow the tap under certain conditions such as waiving the fee in lieu of taxes, payment of construction and attendant costs to be met by the corporation and periodic review of the contract.

The contract is to be presented for council consideration at its next meeting.

Fire Sweeps Offices of Avon Twp. Firm

AVON TOWNSHIP — Fire swept through the farmhouse headquarters of R & C Robertson Corp. on Tienken early today, causing an estimated $25,000 damages to the structure and home-building equipment inside.

Valuable electric saws, planers, jointers, intercom systems and other equipment cascaded through the flaming floors of the three-story house as more than 20 volunteers of the Rochester Fire Department fought to extinguish the blaze.

Chief Lyle O. Buchanan said contents were valued at about $15,000. He estimated damage to the house at $10,000.

★ ★ ★

The fire started at the front of the house, known to area residents as the old "Tienken Farmhouse." Cause of the blaze is yet undetermined.

SPOTS FLAMES

Harold Kiekbush of 1470 Tienken first spotted the blaze and alerted the fire department shortly after midnight.

Buchanan said when they arrived the old building was practically an inferno, in part due to the age of the home and the sawdust and wood furnishings inside.

Buchanan said illumination from the fire could be seen from the heart of Rochester, a mile and half away.

★ ★ ★

R & C Robertson Corp. used the building to prepare parts of the prefabricated homes they build for the Tienken Manor Estates.

ONE WALL LEFT

As the last of the firemen left the scene shortly after dawn, only the back wall of the house remained standing and embers smouldered in the basement.

"The wind was in our favor," Buchanan said, explaining how the volunteers were able to save an adjoining garage and two barns near the house.

★ ★ ★

He said the availability of fire hydrants was also a major factor in limiting the fire to the farmhouse.

Gardeners Set Area Meeting

Rochester Club Host to Annual Convention

ROCHESTER — The Men's Garden Club of Rochester is making plans to be host of the annual convention of the Central Great Lakes Region at Oakland University next summer.

Some 250 people from 28 men's garden clubs in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan are expected to attend the three-day event, Aug. 14-16.

The convention will be discussed at the January board meeting of the Region Sunday in Wauseon, Ohio, which Tim Cochran, past president of the Rochester club, will attend.

★ ★ ★

Cochran will be installed as region president at that time.

NEXT MEETING

The next meeting of the local club is set for Tuesday at the home of Thomas Kruger, 6009 DeGuise.

Speaker at the 8 p.m. session will be Edmund Boell, head of the orchid department of the Belle Isle Greenhouse, Detroit Parks and Recreation Dept.

Serving as officers of the club during 1964 are George A. Marquart, president; Donald J. Edwards, vice president; Raymond Johnson, corresponding secretary; Lawrence DeLater, recording secretary; and Maynard Remer, treasurer.

Church to Seat New Officers

UNION LAKE — George Luenberger will be installed as chairman of the board of Mandon Lake Community Church Sunday night.

Others taking office in the 7:30 p.m. ceremony will include Mrs. Edwin LeGault, clerk; Mrs. Jack Hughson, treasurer; and Kenneth Thibo, building chairman.

A reception in the church parlor will follow.

Eggs in One Basket

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — By putting all your eggs in heavy, airtight plastic bags, say Washington State University scientists, you may improve their hatch-out rate sharply.

SANDRA L. MEADE

The engagement of Sandra L. Meade to Lawrence J. Rakowski has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Grace S. Meade of 536 N. Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Rakowski of 600 Decker, Walled Lake. No wedding date has been set.

Troy Pupils May Study Tobacco

TROY—Students in the upper elementary and secondary grades of Troy's schools may soon study the effects of tobacco in addition to readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic.

Prodded by a letter from the PTA Council, Troy's Board of Education last night agreed to investigate the council's request to increase teaching of the effect of tobacco on health.

Asst. Schools Supt. Boyd Larson said today the administration will contact the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association to see if it offers a teaching program.

★ ★ ★

"If we don't find anything there, we'll write up a program of our own," he added.

EARLY GRADES

Boyd pointed out that although nothing is definite yet, the topic would probably be presented as early as the fifth and sixth grades.

It would also be taught in the junior and senior high school.

In other action last night, the board appointed Trustee Donald Richards as its delegate to the Troy Chamber of Commerce, which is currently being reactivated.

Altar Society Seats New Officers of Group

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Joseph F. Slanga recently was installed as president of the altar society of St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Other new officers are Mrs. Charles Eaton, vice president; Mrs. Joseph Zelnis, secretary; and Mrs. Clifford D. Alderson, treasurer.

Way Cleared for Apartments

Settle Suit Blocking Farmington Building

FARMINGTON — Settlement of a Circuit Court suit yesterday cleared the way for construction here of an apartment building planned to contain 117 efficiency apartments.

Attorneys for the builder, the city and residents who brought the court action to block the development reached agreement in Judge William J. Beer's court.

The builders agreed to provide traffic controls and build a green-belt buffer between the building and nearby residences.

★ ★ ★

Residents of Sherwood Avenue had sought an injunction to invalidate the city's rezoning of some four acres north of Sherwood from single-family residential to multiple-dwelling at the request of the builder.

SAID ILLEGAL

The residents claimed the rezoning was illegal. They said the apartments would constitute a nuisance damaging them with air pollution from incinerators, excessive noise and traffic dangers. They also charged the value of their homes would be lowered.

Troy Board Names Aide as Principal

TROY — Joseph Bechard, assistant principal of Troy High School, was appointed by the board of education last night to take over as principal of the school next year.

Bechard, 35 and a father of five, will replace Principal Roudaulph C. Smith, who is resigning to take a teaching position.

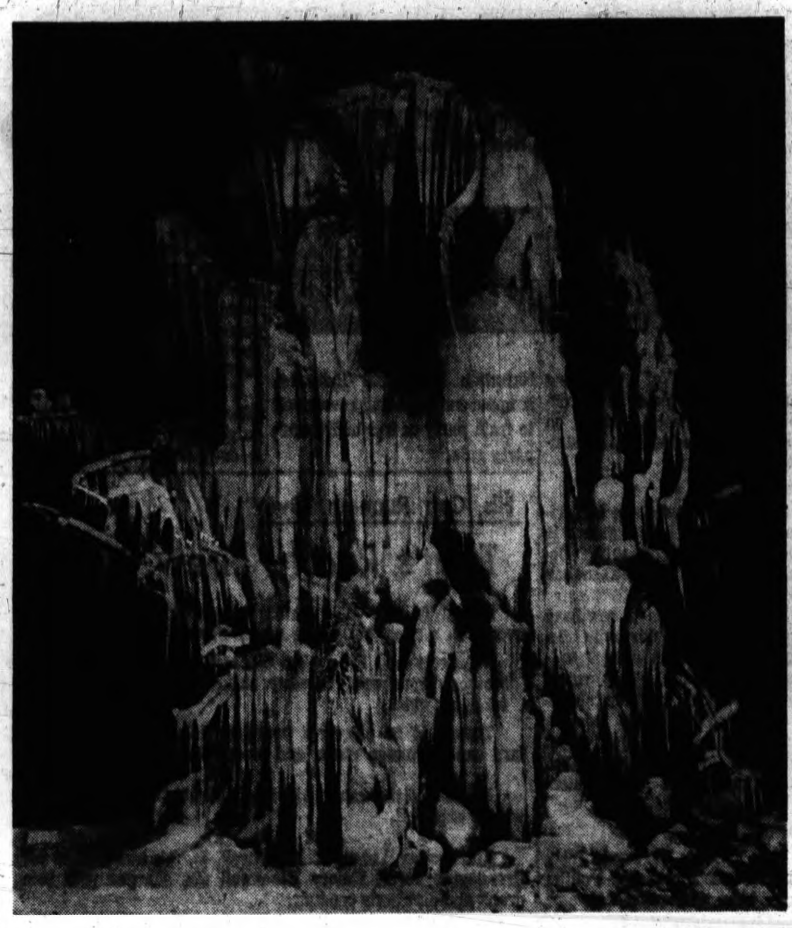

The new principal has been with the Troy system since 1951. He was appointed assistant principal in 1959 and for three years served as head football coach.

★ ★ ★

A 1950 graduate of Michigan State University, Bechard later received a master's degree from Wayne State University.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Press Photo

FROZEN FANTASY — It takes only a bit of imagination to convert this clump of ice-covered tree branches into the Snow Queen's castle, a frozen waterfall or a group of skiers who missed a turn. John Lundgren, owner of the Pontiac Lake Motel on Highland Road in White Lake Township, took advantage of the uncomfortably low temperatures to create the 15-foot structure, to the delight of those passing the motel in their comfortably warm autos.

Dedication Services Slated for Avon Church's Chapel

AVON TOWNSHIP — Fulfilling five years of planning and effort, the congregation of University Presbyterian Church will dedicate their new chapel Sunday afternoon.

The service will begin at 4 p.m. with the dedication sermon being delivered by Rev. Bertram deHeus Atwood, pastor of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The $100,000 chapel is the first unit of an ultimate grouping of four buildings for worship and education. The tower of the new chapel has been tucked away among the tall pines and oaks on an 18-acre site on Adams, south of Walton.

★ ★ ★

Organized in 1958, the congregation has been meeting for the past six years in Lawnridge Hall, a former home that lies adjacent to the new chapel. Lawnridge will continue in use for Sunday school, office and meeting purposes.

CHAPEL SEATING

The chapel seats 180 people around three sides of a raised chancel supporting the pulpit and a white marble communion table.

From the skylit peak of the 40-foot ceiling, a Celtic cross hangs suspended above the chancel.

Behind the chancel, the choir is grouped around the Alfred G. Wilson Memorial Organ.

A narthex, designed as a gathering place for the congregation following each service, is surrounded by a choir room, kitchenette and lounge area, with the main entrance flanked by abstract cathedral-glass screens to the west.

ACOUSTICALLY CONNECTED

This room also seats an additional 80 worshipers, connected visually and acoustically to the nave.

Warm - colored, textured brick and naturally finished woods throughout the interior and exterior surfaces of the structure were selected to blend with the character of the surrounding wooded hillsides.

Bond Boosters Plan to Rally

South Lyon Group Seeks High School

SOUTH LYON — With 10 days to go before a $1,424,000 bond issue election, the Bond Boosters have planned a large-scale rally in the South Lyon High School gymnasium tonight.

The bond issue is being sought to finance construction of a 650-student high school for the 1965-66 school year and immediate additions to the present high school.

School board members representatives of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach of Birmingham, architects for the proposed projects, have been invited to speak at the 8 p.m. rally.

★ ★ ★

The Bond Boosters, a citizens' group, also has circulated newsletters in support of the issue.

REQUEST VETOED

District voters last June turned down a request for an 800-student high school to be built on a 32-acre site on the northwest corner of Nine Mile and Pontiac Trail.

The $1,548,000 bond issue required for this undertaking was rejected by a 2-3 margin. However, the school board did purchase the site.

During the summer months, the school board held special work sessions, winding up with a 4-3 split.

To Reactivate Citizens' Unit

WALLED LAKE — Facing a predicted elementary classroom shortage in September 1965, the Walled Lake Board of Education has moved to reactivate a citizens' study committee.

The committee, with about 60 members, was disbanded after approval of the last bond issue here in October 1962.

The $2.1 million-issue financed construction of Keith Elementary School, a district service center and renovations and additions to two elementary schools, Walled Lake Junior High School and the senior high school.

★ ★ ★

Schools Supt. Clifford H. Smart suggested that the citizens' committee study sites as well as building needs.

★ ★ ★

Except for a seven - room addition to Keith School, future building probably will involve new areas, he said.

The board will ask for a report from the committee by the end of this school year.

BELL-RINGING HOBBY — A rare Venetian glass bell, held by Mrs. Leo Beaman, has a clearer tone than most metal bells and could well be a museum piece. For the last ten years this avid bell-collecting hobbiest has accumulated almost 800 bells from all over the world. Each one has a historical tale behind it.

Woman Bell Collector

Hobby Has a Familiar Ring

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Perky little Mrs. Leo Beaman of Bloomfield Township has a real "bell-ringer" of a hobby. Her neat ranch home on Thurber is filled with almost 800 old bells of every description from all parts of the world.

Most of the bells are neatly shelved in glass cases in the "bell room" at the rear of the house, but the most beautiful ones stand on the white fireplace mantle like exquisite jewels.

They are made of red, blue, green and amber glass—so thin it's a wonder how they withstand the force of their round glass clappers.

★ ★ ★

FIREHALL BELL

Out on the screened-in porch wall a big firehall bell clangs next to an old streetcar bell when the clapper is pulled down. In the corner is an old-fashioned schoolhouse bell brought home from a dismantled school in Pennsylvania.

The interesting part of this rare collection is that no two bells have the same tone.

How did this genial lady acquire so many bells?

Ten years ago she became intereseted in a friend's hobby of bell collecting and this started treks to antique shows, auction sales and subscribing to many antique magazines.

★ ★ ★

The brass standard holds pipe-like tubes and when tapped with a soft hammer, each tube produces separate notes of the musical scale.

"Did you know that all of the music ever produced in the world comes from just these seven notes and their relations?" queried the enthusiastic collector.

One shelf in the bell room is filled with solid brass figurines, another with hand-carved wooden bells from the Bali Islands and still another is loaded with antique bell-ringing toys.

★ ★ ★

Amusing bells include a wind-up turtle. Touch his tail or head and a bell rings. The same thing happens when you touch the yellow beak of a wise old owl.

COCONUT BELLS

There are coconut bells from Puerto Rico made by blind children in a little mission there. Bells made of bone from Cambodia and baked lava bells all tinkle out their individual sound.

Town crier bells used as a warning in case of an emergency in the past; hand-carved Russian dinner bells; old Catholic Mass bells and the metal Hemony Brothers bells from Holland dated 1669 are only a part of this rare old collection.

The most interesting part of this unusual hobby is that every bell has its own particular history. The stories are enjoyable and fascinating especially to the retired school teacher who collects them.

Draft Romney Chief Quits Chairmanship

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Nephew of suburban Wayne said Tuesday he is resigning as national campaign chairman of the "Draft Romney for President" movement.

The 29-year-old insurance executive told newsmen he made the decision because the chairman of the movement, George A. Zimmerman of Dallas, Tex., wants the "Romney Volunteers" organization to handle the campaign.

★ ★ ★

Nephew and Zimmerman are among those trying to drum up support for Michigan Gov. George W. Romney as a Republican presidential candidate. Romney has insisted he is not a candidate, but said last week that he would accept a GOP draft.

The Romney Volunteers were organized in 1962 when Romney campaigned for the governorship.

HAVE THE MEANS

Nephew said the volunteers "have Romney's confidence, they have exxperience and they have money."

"If they'll take on the job, we'll work with them. If they don't, I'll keep working for Romney in any capacity I can."

★ ★ ★

Nephew said he would continue his activities in Michigan to induce Romney to accept a draft. He added that the job is made difficult because there has been no recognition from the governor of the group's efforts.

"I've never talked with Mr. Romney," Nephew said. "That's one of the practical reasons I've decided to quit as national campaign manager."

THE BANDWAGON

He also said that he will continue with the Romney "bandwagon," a 13-foot house trailer hauled by volunteers in their cars. Nephew hopes to keep the bandwagon rolling to San Francisco, site of the GOP national convention in July.

The trailer has been parked in Detroit since the death of the late President Kennedy.

The number of American workers protected against income loss as a result of off-the-job illness or injury has reached the record high of 44,902,000.

Rockefeller Confidence on Upswing

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, heading for another campaign swing in New Hampshire, says things are looking up in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I am making very good progress," he told a news conference Tuesday. "I feel I can take New Hampshire."

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller previously had agreed he was the underdog in New Hampshire to Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona. They are the only announced contenders in the New Hampshire presidential-preference primary, which will be held March 10.

8 COMMUNITIES

Rockefeller will visit eight New Hampshire communities in a 12-hour tour through the southwestern part of the Granite State Thursday.

The governor also told the news conference that "the situation on the West Coast is looking good, both in Oregon and California."

He has announced plans to enter primaries in those states on May 15 and June 2, respectively.

Enthusiastic Pontiac Voters Say 'Yes' to Charter Change

Befitting the importance of the issue, Pontiac went to the polls en masse on Monday.

★ ★ ★

By a resounding margin of nearly 3-to-1, voters approved a charter amendment providing for a more equitable, citywide election of city commissioners —although nomination of candidates would still be by districts.

★ ★ ★

Discounting a last-minute, misleading handbill for exactly what it was, a huge margin said "yes." The total vote was more than 12,000 — double what city officials expected. Pontiac was aroused.

★ ★ ★

Full credit is due the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce for the gratifying outcome of the election. Headed by Louis Schimmel Jr., a committee had carried on a several months' canvass to obtain required petitionary signatures. And with the election date set, the organization of young businessmen waged a continuous, hard-hitting but fair campaign looking to the betterment of their city's administration.

★ ★ ★

The voters deserve great credit, also. For a special election, they really turned out. City Commissioners MILTON R. HENRY, WINFORD E. BOTTOM, LOY LEDFORD, DICK KIRBY and ROBERT LANDRY had opposed the charter change proposed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as a unit.

★ ★ ★

After a very capable city manager was summarily dismissed because he wouldn't discharge a chief of police who refused to bow before the commission, the Jaycees set out in earnest to try and correct Pontiac's deficiencies. They circulated petitions and secured more than 11,000 signatures from men and women who wanted a fairer election system.

The vote Monday was a vindication of their activities and a blue ribbon triumph. The young men battled valiantly, encouraged by some city groups, including this newspaper, which believed in their program—and weren't afraid to say so.

★ ★ ★

The same commissioners are still eligible to run again in April, for the new plan doesn't bar any of them. They simply will be facing a vote by the entire City. Who should fear that? When you make decisions for the whole community, you should be answerable to the same voters.

★ ★ ★

With the election in the background, the entire City can unite again on whatever programs seem best for all the citizens. Both sides have just one objective: honestly serving the bulk of the people.

That comes first.

★ ★ ★

Monday's verdict is official and the residents have spoken unmistakably. The Jaycees have given us the instrumentality for better government. How and to what extent it is used in the primary and general elections ahead will be up to the citizenry once more—as it should be.

Staebler Backed by County Dems

By JIM DYGERT

It's been clear enough that Oakland County is Neil Staebler country as far as Democrats are concerned.

But what may not be so clear, however, are all the reasons why most Democrats in the county are solidly behind the congressman-at-large who, so far, is the only announced candidate for governor of Michigan in 1964.

News Analysis

Top ranking Democrats locally have long been convinced that Staebler represents the party's best chance of recapturing the governorship.

★ ★ ★

They think John B. Swainson, having lost once to Republican George Romney in 1962, would probably lose again.

UNDERLYING POSITIONS

But this is only part of it, the surface part. Underneath are the positions that local party moguls hold in the delicate issue of labor's role in the party.

They are among Democratic liberals outside of labor union circles who feared that union forces, principally of the UAW, would rally behind Swainson in an attempt to win full control of the party organization.

They were happier than they would admit publicly when Swainson said Dec. 23 that he would not be a candidate this year.

★ ★ ★

County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin and Deputy Chairman James M. McNeely, had worked hard behind the scenes with others in the state to keep Swainson out of the race.

Levin and McNeely were among those who felt the man to stymie labor was Staebler, the Ann Arbor businessman and former state party boss who masterminded the party's rise to power in Michigan under former Gov. G. Mennen Williams. They helped build up steam for his candidacy.

★ ★ ★

The strategy apparently was to confront Swainson with the prospect of hollow victory even if he won a gubernatorial primary against Staebler, to make it plain he couldn't escape political death no matter what happened.

NO HOLDS BARRED

No doubt was left that the battle would bar no holds. The union issue would be fought openly, in full public view. As in nuclear war, only ruins would be left for the victor, and the real winner would be the Republican party.

It was a serious enough matter to ask top Democrats in Washington for help.

When Swainson said he would not run, he gave medical reasons connected to the loss of his legs in World War II combat and his reliance on artificial legs.

But most observers are convinced there must have been other reasons, too, since so many high-ranking Democrats were trying so hard to create other reasons.

Perhaps Washington came to the rescue. No great surprise would result if Swainson were to receive a federal appointment, maybe even an ambassadorship, within the next few months.

Singer's Red Contacts Civil Rights Handicap

On his recent return to the United States, PAUL ROBESON disclosed that he has been part of the civil rights movement in the United States all his life — and intends to continue his involvement.

★ ★ ★

Robeson left the United States in 1958. He sang in the Soviet Union from time to time and was made an honorary professor of the Moscow State Conservatory of Music. At a Moscow concert, a master of ceremonies called him communism's "great and good friend." Five years before, the singer had received the $25,000 Stalin (now Lenin) Peace Prize.

★ ★ ★

Although the great Negro Basso and All-America football player was reported to have signed a passport affidavit stating he had never been a member of the Communist Party, his history of strong and eager comradeship with the Reds makes him a dubious champion indeed for a race whose most militant advocates can rarely be accused of subversive aims.

Let's See If The Next One's Any Better!

David Lawrence Says:

Are Election Promises Coercion?

WASHINGTON — All presidential and congressional candidates had better watch out. The Supreme Court of the United States, by a unanimous decision, has now ruled that to make any promises of financial benefits to the prospective voters could be construed as a form of "coercion."

LAWRENCE

★ ★ ★

The highest court, in a case just handed down, was dealing with an election in a plant where the workers were trying to decide whether to designate a labor union as their bargaining representative.

★ ★ ★

The employer in the weeks preceding the election conferred certain benefits unconditionally and stated that they were of a permanent nature. The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals had ruled that this was a proper procedure, but the Supreme Court held otherwise.

This means that, no matter what the employer says during a pending election, his words can be construed as an interference with the right of the workers to vote as they please.

This sweeping decision takes away from the employer any right he might previously have thought he had to express himself freely under the First Amendment of the Constitution and to tell his employes frankly why he believed they would be better off without a union.

★ ★ ★

In this particular case, the employer wrote a letter to employes in March 1959, just before the election was to be held, giving a detailed statement of the benefits granted by the company since 1949 and an estimate of the monetary value of such benefits to the employes.

WHAT EFFECT

Now that the Supreme Court has ruled that the promise to confer benefits is not only an attempt to influence the result of an election but is a form of coercion, it will be interesting to note what the effect will be on political campaigns in the future.

The Federal Corrupt Practices Act governing elections for the presidency and for Congress specifically defines "coercion by means of relief appropriations." It says:

"Whoever uses any part of any appropriation made by Congress for work relief, relief, or for increasing employment by providing loans and grants for public-works projects, or exercises or administers any authority conferred by any appropriation act for the purpose of interfering with, restraining, or coercing any individual in the exercise of his right to vote at any election, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both."

★ ★ ★

Again and again, candidates for public office have promised that they could "do more for" a given state or district than some other candidate.

During the incumbency of many administrations, bills have been passed bestowing direct benefits on constituents in certain areas, and a political flavor has often surrounded the passage of such laws.

Scarcely a year goes by that legislation isn't proposed or enacted which confers a financial benefit on the voters of a particular state or community.

Members of Congress can, of course, champion the enactment of statutes that are beneficial only to particular groups of voters.

★ ★ ★

But the new Supreme Court decision can be cited to argue that to mention the passage of such beneficial legislation in relation to a political campaign in a state or district now is a form of "coercion."

Bob Considine Says:

Colonialism in Panama? U.S. Has Acted That Way

NEW YORK — A fast look around the world:

The truth can hurt, particularly if it is hurled from the Kremlin. But there's an element of validity in the jubilant Soviet claim that the U. S. has always acted in Panama pretty much like some of the colonial powers we have been blasting for years.

CONSIDINE

The method by which we brought the place into being in the first place still does not bear too much scrutiny: In fact, it can be condoned only by the essential need for a waterway through the Isthmus.

Theodore Roosevelt, enraged by what he thought was the improper demands of Colombia, which then owned the Isthmus area, supported revolutionists with whom an early form of our CIA had made a deal. They were successful.

The U. S. swiftly recognized the new Panamanian government and sent a warship to scare away the troop scow Colombia sent to put down the uprising.

Some of that hardness has surrounded the Canal Zone ever since. Many of the civilian Americans there are second and even third generation Zone people—as isolated from the realities of the surrounding terrain as rich Latin Americans are of the favellos and murky slums a half mile from their mansions.

★ ★ ★

The Panamanian has never been given equal job opportunities, has always in effect been kept away from the quality folks by steel wire.

SOVEREIGN STATE

Not until three years ago was the Panamanian flag allowed to fly as high as the Stars and Stripes though Panama is a sovereign state and we their guests — "in perpetuity" is true — but their guests.

With a great wheeze of relief, the U. S. Senate has been able to defeat a proposal that it makes sense when it talks.

The move was defeated by the Southern bloc because had it passed it would have deprived some of the Dixie stalwarts of their constitutional right to read aloud the Washington phone book in the course of keeping the Negro a second-class citizen.

With its precious rights sustained, including the right to be wrong, the Senate advances to the rear after a stirring pyrhhic victory.

Teen-Ager Blames Adults for Juvenile Delinquency

I am a bobby-soxer. I suppose I have been called a juvenile delinquent. Therefore, I feel justified in discussing delinquency.

As adults you are our leaders, our examples and our inspiration—for good or bad. We should have standards to rule our lives. But by what and whom do we receive these standards? You give us no God, no belief nor faith in anything. So we set our standards by your divorce, crime, greed, prejudice, lust. And these are the very things you condemn in us and why now you have good reason to look and weep.

You talk big—"Juvenile delinquency must be wiped out." "We'll build parks." "We'll have teen-age canteens." But your actions talk louder. You make movies that contaminate mature minds and show them to us. You serve us drinks when we want them because money is first with you. You write books of immorality, then proclaim them best sellers. You sell us magazines which are filled with vulgarity and lust.

You edit newspapers that play up vices. You preach about "war hero returns to marry Miss ———, authoress and mother of his child." You agree with a designer whose moronic mind has thought of a new way to immodesty and vice. You put on stage plays that are filled with smut. You tell jokes on the radio, the stage and movies and wherever you can that ridicule women, marriage, motherhood and all decent things kids once believed in.

And we hear you, adults, wives, mothers, husbands, fathers, leaders laugh at these things. We hear you and we'll follow you and you'll lament over us and go on talking big but acting bigger.

I congratulate the Junior Chamber of Commerce and The Pontiac Press for having the courage to speak out in public on the charter revision. Many other "civic" organizations were so scared they'd lose $18 in trade they were absolutely speechless. I'm glad my entire community isn't so weak-kneed.

Rushed Proposal

The New York Times

The House has a bill to provide some $30 million in public funds to establish a national cultural center as a memorial to President Kennedy.

Like so many other indiscriminate tributes, this proposal has been rushed through the Senate out of a sense of grief, irrespective of its meaning or its appropriateness. While John F. Kennedy was a highly cultured and civilized man, his interest in the arts was only one of many. Congress would do well to consider whether this is the best way to honor his memory. We doubt that it is and at least we think more time should pass before an irrevocable decision is made.

★ ★ ★

Representative William B. Widnall of New Jersey raised some extremely pertinent questions on this subject in the appendix to the Congressional Record which members of the House would do well to read. There is no need for the haste which is now being shown — haste that makes one wonder whether Mr. Widnall is not right in asking if this particular memorial concept may not be a mere face-saver "for an otherwise faltering project" unable to raise the required funds through public subscription.

★ ★ ★

The National Cultural Center should stand on its own merits. The proposal to finance it now in important part through public money is a complete reversal of the original plan, which was that the Federal Government would provide only the site.

Furthermore, the government is pledging to provide annual operating funds to keep the project solvent — because a Presidential memorial cannot go bankrupt. In addition, the provision for a loan of $15.4 million for construction of parking facilities is, as Mr. Widnall says, tantamount to putting "a first mortgage on a Presidential memorial for the first time in our history."

These are valid objections, and Mr. Widnall raises many others. Together they strongly suggest that the Congress which has yet to provide a memorial to Franklin D. Roosevelt, is being too hasty in deciding on the national memorial for John F. Kennedy. There is no need for haste or waste, which are so inconsistent with the President's character, particularly with his sense of fitness and his intellectual deliberation.

Unique Contest

The Spokesman Review (Wash.)

With Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller developing their strength for the New Hampshire presidential preference primary more attention is paid to the unique primary race in Oregon.

★ ★ ★

The state's contest is different from any other in the Union. No well-known presidential possibility can stay out of it. Under the 1957 Oregon law the secretary of state there is directed to list the names of candidates generally advocated for president and vice president on the ballot. Candidates can also be entered by petitions signed by 1,000 registered voters.

★ ★ ★

The peculiarity of the Oregon entry, however, is that a presidential prospect can get his name off the ballot only by filing a signed statement denying that he is seeking the office.

★ ★ ★

The May 15 race in Oregon comes late in the season for presidential preference primaries. It will provide a good index to popularity of numerous Republicans now being mentioned for the presidency, and various Democrats being considered for the vice presidential nomination on that ticket. "Favorite sons" may be included.

★ ★ ★

Actually, few if any possible candidates will really file for a place on the ballot. They will all be hooked into the contests, whether they like it or not.

Claims Fraud in Fund Plan

Mackie Says Romney After Road Money

LANSING (AP) — Highway Commissioner John Mackie Tuesday termed as "a fraud on motorists" what he called an apparent move by Gov. George Romney to divert highway funds to state police.

"There are many indications Gov. Romney intends to divert the motorists' highway taxes to buy more state police," said Mackie.

★ ★ ★

"And he is trying to tie our increased freeway mileage to traffic accidents in other places to justify the raid," Mackie said. "A move like this is a fraud on the motorist.

'DIVERTS TAXES'

"It takes the motorists' taxes away from improving our streets and highways—one of the most important direct traffic safety measures," he said.

Mackie, who recently abandoned a freeway "service patrol" plan when he met opposition from Romney, said recent statements from Romney's office "attempt to connect the need for more state police troopers to our increased freeway mileage.

★ ★ ★

"This is absurd," he said. "The freeways are the safest highways on which anyone can travel. You don't need more police for traffic safety reasons on highways which already are the safest in Michigan.

"Less than 7 per cent of traffic fatalities last year happened on limited access highways," Mackie said.

He said an "honest traffic safety program" would concentrate on compulsory vehicle inspection, tougher drunken driving laws "and more—not less—new and improved highways."

Area School Official Plans to Take Leave

Dr. Chandos Reid, assistant superintendent for instructional services in the Waterford Township School System, will take 18 months leave of absence Feb. 1.

Dr. Reid and her husband, Dr. Theodore Rice, a professor at Wayne State University, will collaborate in writing two books on education during the 18-month period.

Philadelphian Ousted for Wild Indian Dances

PUBELO, Colo. (AP)—In some places, William J. Young complained, the Indian war dance is an honored form of art.

Not so in Pueblo—at least not as Young does it.

He was arrested by police who said he created disturbances by staging Indian war dances at a number of taverns.

★ ★ ★

Young told Magistrate John F. McGrath he has some Indian blood. He said he also had a train ticket to return him to Philadelphia.

★ ★ ★

The judge told Young, 30, to use his ticket. Police said today he did.

Training Set for Botulism Research

CINCINNATI (AP) — Because of recent outbreaks of botulism, a five-day laboratory training course for research workers will be held Jan. 16-21 at the Robert A. Taft Sanitary Engineering Center here.

The course will provide advance training to laboratory specialists in the identification and isolation of the causative organisms and the botulinal toxins in foods.

★ ★ ★

A three-day symposium on botulism—a form of food poisoning that often is fatal—is under way in Cincinnati, being conducted by the U.S. Public Health Service division of environmental engineering and food protection.

THE TREATMENT

"Most medical texts start off by saying that the treatment of botulism is unsatisfactory," said Dr. Roderick Murray, moderator of a panel discussion Tuesday.

"This may be so," he said, "but it is by no means impossible." Dr. Murray is director of the division of biologics standards of the National Institutes of Health.

Botulism caused 14 deaths in the United States last year out of 46 known cases reported. Four of the deaths occurred in Michigan.

Experts noted that of the 46 cases, 22 got antitoxin for the poisoning and of these, only two died. Of the other 14 deaths, 12 got no antitoxin.

★ ★ ★

The rarity of incidents of botulism also works against treatment, officials said. It was Type E botulism, a form found primarily in fish, that caused the major outbreak last year.

Italian-German Team Claims Peak Conquest

ORTISEI, Italy (AP) — An Italian-German team of two climbers claim the first winter conquest of the treacherous south wall of 11,028-foot Marmolada peak in the eastern Alps.

Vincenzo Malziner, 25, and Peter Haag, 26, a University of Stuttgart student, returned to Ortisei Tuesday night and said the temperature fell only a few degrees below freezing during their nights on the mountain.

George Chakiris Isn't Anxious to Marry

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If all of Hollywood's eligible bachelors share the sentiments of George Chakiris, it looks like a forlorn Leap Year for America's man-seeking maidens.

BOYLE

"I wouldn't want to spend all my life unmarried, but right now I'm looking for a wife—I'm not even going steady," said the handsome young actor, who has been No. 1 matrimonial target since he won an Oscar two years ago.

"I haven't met anyone yet I want to marry," he said.

★ ★ ★

"Marriage is too serious a thing. It isn't something you just happen to be in the mood for. It's something you have to be sure about, and I don't want to make a mistake."

It isn't that Chakiris, who recently returned from England after completing his sixth film, hasn't given the possibility deep consideration. At 29, he has thought a great deal about marriage—and divorce.

NO NOVELTY

"Let's face it—life is not a novelty. It's too precious to fool around with. You can't take it lightly," he said.

"It is very difficult for two people to live a long life together harmoniously. I don't mean just being amiable to each other. I want more than amiability in marriage.

★ ★ ★

"I also feel that for a marriage to be truly successful—not just a nice arrangement—it has to be the most important thing in the life of both persons. If anything else becomes more important, even a career, the marriage will falter in meaning."

Although he has a quick sense of humor, Chakiris is a sensitive, self-questioning man who is less impressed than his fans with his relatively quick rise to stardom. He wants to succeed as a many-faceted performer—a singer, a dancer, an actor.

ONE OF SEVEN

He is one of seven children, and his father—Chakiris is of Greek descent — had a hard time making a living for them by operating a restaurant, running a small produce firm, and driving a laundry truck.

"My parents were not strict or stubborn. They only wanted their children to be happy," he said.

DIDN'T OPPOSE

"They never opposed my ambition to go into show business, or said they thought it was foolish. I think they were indirectly proud of it. They helped me. But I'm sure they would have done the same thing no matter what I had wanted to be."

Chakiris is well aware of the quicksand perils of the entertainment world, and how they can cause one to lose his values.

★ ★ ★

"Things are always changing in this business," he said. "You're dealing fundamentally with fickleness."

Success doesn't seem likely to spoil George Chakiris. He is one young actor who doesn't depend on his press clippings to tell him who he really is.

Prefab Units Ready for Skopje School

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Keys for 25 prefabricated houses for use by the Skopje University, whose buildings were destroyed in last year's earthquake, were handed over Tuesday by U.S. officials.

★ ★ ★

The houses, comprising one-tenth of the new buildings being provided by the United States in the shattered town, have been built near the new university.

A U.S. Army unit has completed 74 per cent of the work on other buildings.

Denmark Board Plans Antismoking Drive

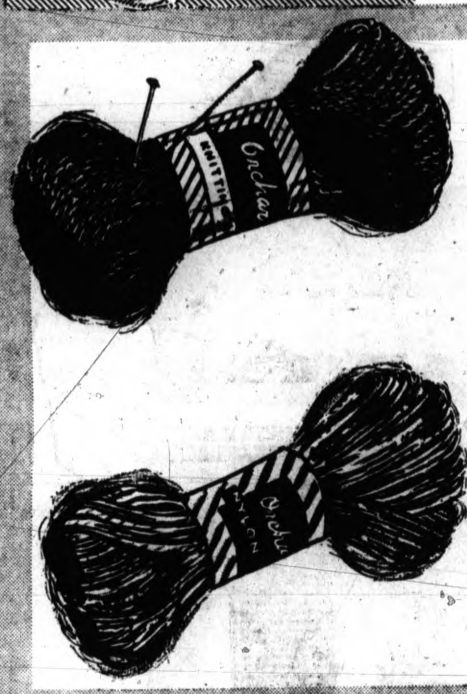

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — The government health Board said Tuesday it is planning a shock campaign in schools and youth clubs to get teen-agers to quit smoking.

Dr. Juel Henningsen, head of a special anticigarette campaign commission, said the board will not shy away from showing X-ray films and movies of human lungs destroyed by cancer.

Chester Alan Arthur took the oath of office as President at his residence, 123 Lexington Ave., New York City, on Sept. 20, 1888 at 2 a.m. after the death of President Garfield.

More Than a Casual Trip

Why Is Castro Visiting at the Kremlin?

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Fidel Castro's sudden appearance in Moscow inevitably has led to speculation that his visit is connected with the United States-Panama crisis and the means to exploit it for Communism.

NEWSOM

But it could well be that other reasons dictated the trip and that Panama will come into the talks only as an added starter.

It may be recalled that Castro's last visit to Moscow, in April, also came as a surprise and then, as now, came shortly after agreement on Soviet-Cuban trade for the coming year.

On Soviet objective was to assure Castro's loyalty in the quarrel with Red China.

Another was to discourage Castro's ambitoin for quick industrialization of his island at the expense of agriculture.

From the Soviet standpoint, the visit was only partially successful.

In August, Castro announced that sugar cane and cattle raising will be "the Pillars of our economy until 1970," indicating that he had agreed to Soviet demands that he integrate his economy with the Communist bloc.

★ ★ ★

So far as Khrushchev's quarrel with Red China was concerned, Castro has continued to practice a peculiar neutrality which recognized dependence on the Soviet Union on the one hand but more frequently sounded the Red Chinese hardline than the Khrushchev policy of co-existence.

LOSING DEAL

From the beginning, trade with Cuba has been a losing proposition for the Soviets.

Their 1962 agreement called for an exchange totalling $750 million but actually came to only a little more than $500 million.

Cuba is committed to sell the Soviet Union and the Communist bloc countries 4,860,000 tons of sugar annually through 1965.

She failed to meet her 1962 quota and fell short by at least half of the agreed amount in 1963.

NEEDED CASH

In addition, as a price for Castro's loyalty, the Russians reportedly agreed in December, 1962, to permit Castro to divert a million tons of sugar to the world market in order to raise desperately needed foreign exchange.

Meanwhile, the Russians are believed to be pouring $1 million per day into Cuba, contributing even more to an ever-growing deficit.

The sugar deal is unstatisfactory both to Castro and to the Russians. First, the Russians have not been getting it.

★ ★ ★

Second, what they do get they pay for at the rate of six cent a pound. This makes it also unsatisfactory to Castro who could get more than 10 cents for it on the world market.

BOTH ANXIOUS

Both the Soviet Union and Castro are anxious that the United States raise its embargo on Cuban trade.

This would be one good reason for Khrushchev to discourage Castro from taking full advantage of the Panama crisis.

Another would be Khrushchev's own desire that nothing interfere either with his U.S. wheat deal or his desire for continued improvement in his own relations with the United States.

Between themselves, Castro and Khrushchev have plenty to discuss, including sugar and Castro's continued refusal to sign the partial nuclear test ban treaty.

This is the line of reasoning which would explain Castro's absence from the Cuban radio at this particular time of crisis.

Penn State 'High School'

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) —Pennsylvania State University was designated as the "Farmer's High School of Pennsylvania" when it was chartered in 1855, although it was a college from the beginning.

The high school designation was chosen, according to Penn State historian W. F. Dunaway, "because of a feeling that farmers would be prejudiced against the word 'college' as being a place where boys contracted evil habits."

In 1862, Penn State became The Agricultural College of Pennsylvania; in 1874, The Pennsylvania State College and in 1953, The Pennsylvania State University.

Bee Booms Alfalfa Crop

SEATTLE (AP) — A small native insect called the alkali bee gets credit for the booming alfalfa seed industry of the Pacific Northwest.

In 10 years, certified seed production has increased from practically nothing to 17 million pounds.

And such seed brings from 25 to 45 cents a pound. Alfalfa will produce seed without help, but the alkali bee triples or quintuples yields.

★ ★ ★

And man has given the bee an assist by creating suitable, damp nesting sites for it.

Ex-Sheriff Expires

COTTER, Iowa (AP) — Everett Peck, 63, sheriff of Eaton County, Mich., from 1947 to 1956, died at his home here Tuesday of a heart attack.

Indonesia, which has been buying two thirds of the world's cloves to scent the cigarettes manufactured there, is starting its own clove groves.

Area Man Is Named to National Board

W. Russell Kelly, 928 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills, a vice president of the Michigan Chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, has been named to the board of governors of the national organization.

He was one of 12 officers of the Michigan chapter to be elected to the national board H. J. McLaurin, board chairman of the Michigan ARF, was reelected as national vice president.

Austrian Artists Perform for Two Pontiac Groups

Two of the Pontiac area cultural programs have artists from Austria scheduled next week.

The world famous Vienna Choir Boys will perform Monday at 8:15 p.m. at Pontiac Northern High School as the fourth attraction of the Oakland University Concert Series.

The organization has been famous for 465 years, having been founded by Emperor Maximilian I in 1498. The boys were required to sing daily Mass with the court orchestra in Vienna.

The original choir contained 62 boys. Twenty are in the tour group. Their average age is 12. Hadyn, Mozart, and Schubert received their early training as members of the group.

REORGANIZED

Following World War II, Fr. Joseph Schmidt reorganized the choir, which is now situated in the Augarten Palace.

A complete college program has been set up and the boys are given an all-round rigorous education. When their voices change they are secured jobs in other fields.

Their repertoire includes a wide variety of song forms as well as costumed opera numbers. They have been touring America since 1931.

COUNCIL TO MEET

The Oakland University Community Arts Council, sponsor of the program, will hold its annual meeting Sunday from 4 to 5 p.m. at the University's Oakland Center.

Officers for the coming year will be elected and plans for the new series discussed. All members are invited to attend.

TOWN HALL

Baroness Maria von Trapp, whose life filled Broadway with the "Sound of Music," will speak at Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall at 10:30 a.m. Jan. 22 at the Huron Theatre.

The Rodgers and Hammerstein musical tells the story of her earlier life. As Maria, a novitiate in Austria, she was sent by the abbey to the Salzburg household of a World War I naval hero, widower Baron Georg von Trapp, as governess for his seven children.

★ ★ ★

After the Baron had married her, they openly defied the Nazi occupation forces by fleeing Austria. They left all their ancestral wealth behind them.

CHORAL GROUP

Starting afresh, Baroness von Trapp, the family priest, and the ten Trapp children became the Trapp Family Singers.

★ ★ ★

The group toured for twenty years, winning acclaim in more than 2000 concerts all over the United States, South America, Europe, Australia, and New Zealand.

WENT TO ISLANDS

After the group dissipated, the baroness accepted a special invitation of the Papal Delate for the South Pacific Islands.

★ ★ ★

Her year's experience in this part of the world is the subject of her talk which will be followed by a celebrity luncheon at Devon Gables.

Tickets for the 1964-65 Town Hall series will be on sale at the theater before and after the program.

Women Sell Underwear

Men Don't Know Sizes

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a man past the the age of love problems, but here is another problem.

ABBY

Each time I go downtown to shop for underwear, I find it very embarrassing to be confronted with females in the men's underwear department.

I cannot figure out why department stores put female clerks in that department. I am sure no lady would care to have a man wait on HER in the ladies' underwear department.

I have walked out of more department stores without buying anything for that reason. Please answer this if you can.

NO SALE

DEAR NO: The reason women clerks are placed in the men's underwear department is because approximately 90 per cent (it's a guess, but I'll bet it's a good one) of all the men's underwear sold in department stores is sold TO women for men.

★ ★ ★

Most men couldn't tell you the size of their shorts, socks or pajamas. If I'm wrong, send me your size and I'll shop for you.

DEAR ABBY: I need an answer as soon as possible. My husband is a truck driver and he does most of his work out of town.

★ ★ ★

His mother called and told me he had a girl friend. She said someone had told her, but she couldn't tell me who.

She also made me promise that if I told my husband about it I would keep her name out of it. If I ask my husband, should I tell him who told me?

★ ★ ★

He has always been so good to me and I never had reason to doubt his loyalty. I am so upset I can't treat him as I should. What should I do?

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: Tell your mother-in-law that as far as you are concerned, your husband is lily white, and unless she can come up with names, dates and pictures you aren't interested in second-hand reports. Then forget it.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press for Abby's new booklet, "How To Write Letters for all Occasions."

JOYCE HARLAN

July vows are planned by Joyce Harlan, daughter of the C. A. Harlans of Birmingham and John Scott, son of the G. Walter Scotts of Dearborn. Both are alumni of University of Michigan. Mr. Scott is a graduate student at Cornell University.

Great Books Club to Hold Meeting

The Waterford Great Books group will discuss Shakespeare's great tragedy, Hamlet, Friday at 8 p.m. in the CAI library.

Kay Rector, leader will be assisted by Mrs. Arnold Simson.

Authors' advocate will be Mrs. K. B. Valentine.

Newcomers are invited to attend.

Women's

Thank You Should Be Spelled Out

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My niece was married in another city, and because of ill health I was unable to travel the distance to the wedding.

However, I did send her a very nice wedding present. In return I received a printed thank-you card merely signed with her name.

I was very hurt over this and think the least she could have done was to write a personal note.

★ ★ ★

Other members of my family tell me that such a thank-you card is now accepted as proper.

They say that in my day brides did not go to business and had plenty of time to sit down and write personal notes but most brides of today not only keep house but hold down jobs as well and have little time for this outdated courtesy and that the thank-you card is in keeping with modern etiquette. Is this true?

★ ★ ★

A: Nothing could be further from the truth. It is still an absolute must for a bride to write, in her own handwriting, a thank-you note for each present she receives.

If this courtesy is outdated, so also should be the custom of sending wedding presents.

Q: Every so often I meet a young woman I know on my way to the subway and I never know whether or not I am supposed to pay her carfare. Would it be cheap not to do so?

★ ★ ★

A: You are not expected to pay her fare. She should have her fare, or token, ready and pay it herself.

See Folk Art at Gallery Exhibition

An exhibition of folk art will open Jan. 21 in Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries and continue through Feb. 16.

Pieces in the show have been assembled by Alexander Girard who has traveled extensively throughout the world both as a collector and a leader in the movement to awaken interest in folk art.

★ ★ ★

Included are rare antique embroidered tapestries from Crete; contemporary textiles from Greece and Poland; primitive wood toys; ceramic sculptures.

Other items are colored camel leather puppets from Turkey; sheepskin rugs; tin lanterns; old brass - studded leather chests from Morocco and delicate ceramic toys from England.

Like the art of children, folk art expresses the craftsman's spontaneous enjoyment of form, color and texture.

JUST FOR FUN

Not intended to be a cerebral matter, these subjects offer, as Girard says, "simple delight and they should be accepted in that spirit."

★ ★ ★

The Galleries are open every day except Mondays from 2 to 5 p.m. There is an admission.

Folk art films photographed and produced by Charles Eames in Mexico and India, will be shown each open day at 3 p.m.

★ ★ ★

All folk art on display is from the Herman Miller Shop in Birmingham and is for sale, with Cranbrook Academy of Art benefitting from the proceeds.

Local Pianist Plays at Tuesday Musicale

By CHRISTINE GAENSBAUER

The guest artist on the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale program Tuesday aroused more than ordinary interest. He is the second generation musician in a well known Pontiac musical family.

David Wilson, pianist, is the son of Charles Wilson, teacher, pianist and organist and choir director at the First Congregational Church.

David played with impressive maturity three interesting and contrasting piano works.

These were a portion of the Beethoven Sonata in A flat (Opus 110); one of the Debussy "Images"; and the excellent but unfamiliar Sonata I by Charles Ives.

★ ★ ★

The playing of the opening bars of the Allegro movement of the Beethoven indicated immediately good technique, plus great assurance and control.

You knew he was "on top of the music" but more than that, you knew he was a sensitive musician and a pianist who felt the inner expressiveness of what he played.

The Debussy selection was the second of three "images" and had the mystical, ethereal quality suggested by the title.

MODERN

Ives is considered by some to be the outstanding composer of the 20th century. The First Sonata, written between 1902 and 1910, has many traditional aspects. But because of its many dissonances and unusual rhythms it sounds very modern to most people.

David made of this a technically sure and musically enjoyable experience and introduced us to a work we would like to know better.

FINE FUTURE

He is a young artist who should have a fine career in his chosen field.

Sharing the program with him were three winners of the Tuesday Musicale Scholarships for 1963. Beverly Patton, Ann Peterson and Donna Roth.

Each of these young musicians demonstrated fine musicianship, excellent training and diligent work in the one or two numbers they played.

Serving on the social committee were Mrs. O. R. Briney and Mrs. Ralph O. Allen, chairman and cochairman, assisted by Mrs. B. A. Benson, Mrs. Claude F. Shoup and Mrs. Everett Harris.

Mrs. Alfred J. Du Bouck and Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler presided at the tea table.

Karen Peterson Wed in Detroit

The Robert M. Petersons of Winkleman Drive announce the marriage of their daughter Karen Agnes to Robert James Devlin Jr., in St. Dominic's Church, Detroit.

Nancy Rinke and Paul Devlin attended the couple at the recent ceremony.

The bridegroom, son of the senior Devlins of Detroit, was graduated from Oakland University and is working on his master's degree at Wayne State University.

There's a wonderful look in hair styling this winter, based on a practical, yet pretty cut called The Crescent, being featured at the Elizabeth Arden Salon. These two views show the sides combed forward, bangs brushed just to brow level and a variation of The Crescent achieved by dividing the hair into horizontal sections and brushing each section under until a beautifully sculptured impression is created.

Take the Trip; It'll Be Well Worth It

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Here's the story . . . please give me the ending. I am a widow, aged 66, in reasonably good health. I have a monthly pension of $107.40. This takes care of rent, food, hospitalization, clothes. Birthdays, holidays, and an occasional bit of sewing take care of extras. I have $10,000 in a savings account.

MARY FEELEY

The $64 question is really a $2,000 question. My sister-in-law, also a widow, has suggested we take a trip to Europe next summer. She has been there several times before.

Her mode of living has always been on a grander style than mine, but that wouldn't matter as far as being fellow travelers. We are quite compatible. It's taking that $2,000 from the savings account!

What do you think?

M. L., Chicago

★ ★ ★

Dear M. L.: Start packing.

As long as you've proved you can live on your pension of $107.40 a month, plus birthday and holiday gifts, you really know how to get every penny's worth out of a dollar! Two thousand dollars' worth of pleasure ought to last you a lifetime! You'll still have your pension, hospitalization — and an $8,000 cushion. Bon voyage!

Dear Miss Feeley: My husband is 53 and I am 44 years old. We were blessed with a little girl last year. She was a complete surprise, weighed only three pounds, is a lovable, beautiful baby, and we are very proud of her.

I also have a married daughter who lives out of town, and wonderful 13-year-old boy.

This is my problem. Would we be foolish to buy a small house at our age? I feel so cooped up in an apartment with this baby. We do not have much in savings but feel we could do in the money department. My husband's takehome pay is $560 a month.

We pay $75 for the apartment we now live in. My daughter thinks we should buy a place and give our new little daughter more freedom.

I always wanted to take in children and give them a home, but I never could because my apartment is too small. This has always been a dream of mine as I love children and have a lot of love to give them.

I just wonder, could we do it now?

Mrs. T. E. A., Brooklyn

Dear Mrs. A.: I hate to introduce a note of caution, when you have such a happy reason for wanting that home. But here I go with a few chilling facts. If you feel you can cut them down to your size, I'll be the first to cheer you on.

To begin with, the "small" house you speak of certainly can't be too small, with your present household and the larger one you hope to have. The house should not cost more than $20,000 and preferably less.

A $12,000 mortgage for 25 years at 5½ per cent would cost about $74 a month. A 20-year mortgage about $82.55. Remember to add on taxes, insurance, and heat. These might well put another $75 onto the cost of shelter.

Most lenders look askance at a mortgage lasting beyond the breadwinner's retirement age unless there are extenuating circumstances — such as an independent income. But assuming you can leap this hurdle, you really should have from $6,000 to $8,000 in savings now, for a down payment — which I gather you don't have.

★ ★ ★

As for taking children into your home on a foster care basis, why not now — if you can swing the house. At your age wisdom and tolerance are no doubt part of the mental equipment you bring to the job of raising children.

Added to love, they're bountiful qualifications. But I suggest that it wouldn't be wise to plan on any portion of foster care finances as helping in the purchase of a house. Such arrangement can vary from $78 to $93 a month, depending on age of the child and the particular agency you deal with.

★ ★ ★

Sometimes, however, an unusual set of circumstances can make a dream come true. So don't write off your fine plan for your house and your household too quickly. Just keep your eyes open for an unusual opportunity and be ready to grab it.

(You can write Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. She will answer in her column questions of widest interest.)

Polly's Pointers

Where Boys Are

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — When I leave a note for my girls I write it on the mirror with that well-known cake of cleanser that dries to a powdery film. However, when I leave one for the boys, I leave it in the icebox.

I find it much easier to send gifts to my children and grandchildren in big flat envelopes than having to hunt a box, wrap and tie it.

I usually try to buy socks, ties, tee shirts, hose, blouses and things that fold flat.—MRS. J. F. T.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY—My 6-year-old has an inexpensive electric clock in his room. Near it I placed a broken clock that has the face and hands intact.

SET TIME

The hands of the broken clock can be set at the time he is to leave for school, finish chores or be ready for any activity. He can compare the two clocks and see how much time he has.

I always allow enough time so he will not feel rushed yet not too much to encourage dawdling. I tell him what time the broken clock is set for and this brings an added bonus as soon as he learns to read the clock face and tell time.—MRS. J. R. O.

DEAR POLLY—When repotting large vining plants, I found a very satisfactory totem pole can be made by cutting chicken wire into a piece approximately 15 by 22 inches and rolling it into the proper size.

★ ★ ★

Fill it with either peat moss, pine needles or leaves and pack firmly. Partly bury this pole beside the vine and secure the vines to it with plastic-covered wire from fruit or vegetable bags. I water my plants through this channel.—MRS. C. C. B.

MEND SHEETS

DEAR POLLY — When the corners of contour sheets rip and don't stay stogether after mending, insert a small triangular piece of white cotton jersey, such as the good parts from a man or boy's worn tee shirt.

★ ★ ★

This adds needed material and the jersey stretches enough to fit snugly over the corners of the mattress.—MRS. A. E. H.

Gray Lady Service had its beginning in 1918, when a group of volunteers began serving patients at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★

At first they worked only as hostesses and in recreation activities. But when the sick and injured returned from the European battlefields, the volunteers began to give more personal service.

NAMED BY PATIENTS

When the gray dress was adopted as the official uniform, patients affectionately called the volunteers, "Gray Ladies."

★ ★ ★

Training for Gray Ladies is open to men and women and young people who are willing to:

- Help people without regard to racial, religious, political or other affiliations.
- Give at least the minimum number of hours of yearly service required by the chapter.
- Accept a minimum of 12 hours of training, a ten-hour practice period, and any further preparation required to do the job well.
- Observe Red Cross and hospital regulations and accept direction in fulfilling assignments.
- Furnish, at her own expense, a physician's statement of a recent physical examination indicating ability to perform the required duties.
- Purchase a Gray Lady uniform and wear it correctly.

Gray Lady services at Seminole Hills will include friendly visiting, simple craft programs, hobby projects and recreational activities.

Reading to patients, and transportation to the physical medicine and rehabilitation department will also be part of the job.

★ ★ ★

Some of the ways in which senior citizens may participate in activities through Red Cross are sewing and knitting in the nursing home.

CALL RED CROSS

Applications may be obtained at the American Red Cross, Franklin Boulevard, or information may be secured by calling the Red Cross.

Interviews will be conducted Jan. 22, 23 and 24.

Mayor to Speak

Mayor Robert Landry will speak at the 7:30 p.m. Thursday meeting of the Wilson School PTA.

29 Scheduled Space Shots Should Make '64 a Banner Year

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Cape Kennedy's launching pads are bulging with rockets, primed to ignite what could be a banner year in space for the United States.

Three are scheduled for launching during the last 10 days of January. They are the Relay 2 communications satellite, Jan. 21; the first two-stage test firing of Saturn 1, believed to be the world's mightiest rocket, Jan. 27; and the planned flight of the Ranger 6 spacecraft to snap closeup television pictures of the moon, Jan. 30.

A Titan 2 rocket is being groomed for the first flight in this nation's next man-in-space program, Project Gemini. The launching in March will attempt to hurl a dummy model of the two-man spacecraft into orbit. Two other unmanned launchings are scheduled before the first astronaut orbital mission, set for November.

These are among 29 space shots scheduled from Cape Kennedy in 1964—an average of one every 12 days as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration pushes toward a goal of a manned lunar landing late in the decade.

* * *

This compares with only 10 space launchings here in 1963. Significantly, all 10 firings were successful.

World leadership in booster power will be on the line when the Saturn 1 lifts off. President Johnson reportedly is considering a trip here for the launching and at the same time to dedicate the John F. Kennedy space center, renamed for the late president. There also is speculation that Mrs. Kennedy, widow of the president, will be here.

Saturn 1, generating 1.5 million pounds of thrust in the first stage and burning powerful liquid hydrogen in the second, will attempt to hurl into orbit a 37,700-pound payload in a test of the rocket's orbital insertion characteristics.

Largest Soviet satellite to date weighed 14,292 pounds.

Failure Clinic Started for Smokers Who Couldn't Kick Habit

By MARVIN R. PIKE

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — New hope rose today for 120 persons who tried to give up smoking but didn't. The group, including me, will get another chance.

Roswell Park Memorial Institute, New York State's cancer-research center, plans to conduct "failure clinics" for the 120, 40 per cent of the 300 persons who enrolled in the smoking-withdrawal clinics.

My group of volunteers—60 in all—undertook the experiment early in September. We were told by Dr. Charles A. Ross, the clinic director that the clinic would be a success if one-third of us had not returned to smoking at the end of six months.

After four months, 60 per cent can call themselves non-smokers. I dropped by the wayside after 2½ months.

I feel I had the will power to keep going. But hunger and lack of sleep proved my downfall.

My stomach cried for food. I did not eat between meals but apparently ate more at dinner. My waist line bulged.

I always was one to sleep until the alarm clock sounded. Minus cigarettes, I found myself awakening sometimes three hours ahead of my normal getting-up time.

Besides, when the pressure of work was on, I wanted a cigarette. I fought the desire day after day until, finally, I decided I could not stand the pangs of hunger and wanted a good night's sleep.

Ross heartened the dropouts Tuesday by disclosing Roswell Park's intention to inaugurate "failure clinics." He said they would be for those volunteers who failed and still wanted to quit smoking.

The experiment involved use of drugs prepared by Roswell Park's doctors. We took, daily, for two weeks, two tablets of lobeline, a nicotine substitute, and one appetite-depressant pill. In addition, we were fortified with lozenges containing lobeline which we could take whenever the urge to smoke arose.

Not all of us, however, had the real medication. About 50 per cent were given fake pills.

This is where psychology was to play a part.

★ ★ ★

With me, the pills and the psychology worked—for a time. Now it's back to the "failure clinic."

Ground Lamb Nice With Rice

January's a blustery month. It's also, for many, a month of restoring "battered budgets." Meal planning becomes a master plan for boosting morale as well as saving pennies . . . a difficult situation.

Ground lamb provides a different taste and good basis for hearty casseroles. Canned gravies (particularly canned mushroom gravy with the lamb) join the meat for an exciting combination. A zip of garlic and herbs, the spark of canned red tomatoes, and the rice in this Lamb and Mushroom Supper will provide you and the family with a taste lift.

A salad of avocado and oranges is a tangy complement to the dish. Even cupcakes take on a new perkiness when scooped out and filled with an instant pudding mix.

Lamb and Mushroom Supper

1 pound ground lamb
½ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 clove garlic, minced
1 can (10½ ounces) mushroom gravy
1 cup cooked tomatoes
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon rosemary, crushed
3 cups cooked rice

In skillet, cook lamb, onion, green pepper, and garlic until meat is browned and vegetables are tender; pour off fat. Stir in remaining ingredients except rice. Line the bottom and sides of a greased 1½-quart casserole with rice. Pour in meat mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Peanuts Are Easily Salted at Home

Peanuts are in plentiful supply as you may have guessed from the full bins on display at local grocery stores. You can find peanuts already shelled, salted, and in almost any form imaginable, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service.

But for a special treat — try roasting and salting your own freshly shelled peanuts. It's easy!

First, suggests U.S. Department of Agriculture home economists, spread the shelled peanuts in one layer in a shallow pan and heat at 300 degrees for 30 to 45 minutes. The time depends on the size of the nuts and how brown you want them.

Stir the nuts often as they heat. Check the brownness occasionally by removing the skins from a few.

For plain salted nuts, cool the roasted peanuts, then slip off the skins by pressing between thumb and forefinger. Place skinned nuts in shallow fry pan, add butter or margarine (1 teaspoon per cup of peanuts), and place over low heat.

Shake or stir constantly until nuts are well-coated and warm. Spread on absorbent paper and sprinkle with salt.

★ ★

For "redskins," add butter or margarine immediately after removing from the oven, then follow the above directions.

Peanuts bought roasted in the shell can also be warmed in butter and home-salted as above.

Breakfasts Woo Reluctant Eater

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

As the winter's cold deepens, there is more need and more desire for hearty hot breakfasts.

If a good nourishing meal is on the table when the family is dressed, there will be fewer excuses for not eating. Sometimes all that is necessary is a little advance planning on mother's part.

★ ★ ★

Here is a different waffle breakfast that doesn't take much extra time. It's fruit, meat and bread all in one dish.

Pork Patties With Orange Slices

1 pound pure pork sausage meat
2 oranges
½ cup dark corn syrup
8 waffles

Shape sausage into 8 patties. Pan-fry according to directions on package. Remove patties. Pour off drippings.

Cut ends off oranges and save. Cut remaining oranges into 8 slices, ½ inch thick. Pour corn syrup into skillet. Add juice squeezed from end pieces of oranges. Simmer orange slices in syrup 10 minutes.

Top waffles with orange slices and pork sausage patties. Serve with syrup from pan. Makes 4 servings.

If pancakes tempt your family more (or you don't own a waffle iron!), beat up a batch of cardamom flavored pancakes. You need only a hint of this herb usually found in cookies or yeast bread.

Cardamom-Pecan Pancakes

Make 2-cup recipe for pancakes as directed on buttermilk pancake package — except add ½ teaspoon powdered cardamom and ½ cup finely chopped pecans to batter. Serve 2 or 3 pancakes, stacked together with Cardamom-Maple Syrup. Makes 6 to 9 servings.

Cardamon-Maple Syrup: Heat 1 cup maple-flavored syrup with ⅛ teaspoon powdered cardamom and 1 tablespoon butter.

Orange twists will have to be made the day before unless you really like to get up early. You might do what we often do — make sweet rolls to serve for dinner dessert and next morning's breakfast too.

Try these for a luncheon sometime too.

ORANGE TWISTS

1 package active dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
1 cup mlik, scalded
⅓ cup butter or margarine, melted
⅓ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
4 to 4½ cups sifted flour
1 egg
1 cup enriched white cornmeal
Orange Frosting Filling

Springle yeast over water; stir to dissolve. Stir together the scalded milk, butter, sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm.

Stir in 1 cup of the flour and the egg; add dissolved yeast and cornmeal. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough.

Turn out on a lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth; knead until satiny, about 10 minutes. Shape dough into a ball; place in a greased bowl and turn to grease top. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch down dough; cover; let rest 10 minutes. Roll half of dough into a 12 by 8 inch rectangle. Spread with half of Orange Frosting Filling.

Cut into 12 1-inch wide strips; fold each strip in half so filling is covered; strips will now be 4 inches long. Hold each end of strip and twist tightly in opposite directions. Seal ends firmly.

Place about 1½ inches apart on greased cookie sheets. Repeat with second half of dough. Cover twists; let rise in a warm place until double in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven about 15 minutes. Makes 2 dozen.

ORANGE FROSTING FILLING

¼ cup butter or margarine, soft
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
Grated rind of 1 orange

Gradually and thoroughly beat the confectioners sugar and orange rind into the soft butter; continue to beat if necessary until fluffy.

Bake Fresh Cabbage

Cut a medium size head of cabbage into 6 or 8 wedges; arrange in a casserole; sprinkle with a chopped medium onion, a chopped apple and ½ teaspoon celery seed, salt and pepper. Add ½ cup hot water or stock; cover and bake in moderate oven until tender. Top with buttered crumbs and finish off under broiler.

Stuffed Dills Are Attractive

Tangy dill pickle rings filled with liverwurst make inexpensive dors d'oeuvres. Cut ends from 16 dill pickles. Using vegetable peeler, remove pickle centers.

Blend ¼ pound liverwurst, 1 tablespoon chili sauce and a dash dry mustard. With the aid of a paring knife, stuff mixture into pickles. Chill.

Cut each pickle into about 12 slices. Makes about 16 dozen hors d'oeuvres.

Stuffed Prune Snack

For after-school snacks, plump prunes by placing them in a strainer over hot water. Stuff each prune with a nutmeat and roll in superfine sugar.

Smoking Report Hasn't Panicked N. Carolina Tobacco Town

(EDITOR'S NOTE — To smoke or not to smoke is a question bothering Americans today. What do smokers in a leading cigarette manufacturing city think about it?)

By REESE HART

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—"I love cigarettes—and if they killed me I'll die happy," said Mary Hornback, who has smoked them for 25 years.

Alfred H. Grissom, a shoe shop employe, as equally emphatic: "I don't intend to stop smoking as long as I can buy a cigarette."

★ ★ ★

These were among reactions in this tobacco metropolis to a federal health report branding cigarettes as a health hazard.

"Asinine," said one smoker "a smear on the tobacco industry," said another.

MADE A FORTUNE

Nineteen per cent of the nation's cigarettes are manufactured in Durham, home of Duke University, whose founder, Benjamin N. Duke, made a fortune from tobacco.

"Tobacco is our No. 1 industry," said Mayor R. W. Grabarek. "I'm not alarmed about the future of tobacco. Actually, the cigarette manufacturers in the past have been alerted by various reports which associated tobacco smoking with certain diseases. In spite of these reports, the fact remains that sales have increased each successive year."

Royce Jeffries, office manager for a roofing company, said of the government report: "I think it's asinine. I've been smoking about 25 years—an average of a pack a day. I don't plan to quit. My question is, what causes lung cancer in people who don't smoke?"

Joe Pate, operator of a pipe shop, said: "I'll keep right on smoking until the doctor tells me to quit. Three members of my family died from cancer and none of them smoked."

HASN'T QUIT

Policeman T. E. Ferguson, a smoker for 15 years, said: "I haven't quit smoking but I might slacken a little. I don't believe the report will have a material effect on cigarette sales."

★ ★ ★

B. B. Lacock, a shoe shop operator, said he quit smoking about 20 years ago, "but, if I were a smoker, I wouldn't be worried. I think the government should get the facts straight."

Anne Daniels, a Chamber of Commerce employe, said she thinks that in the long run the government report will have little effect on tobacco sales, and added, "I don't intend to stop smoking."

Alta Nixon, a tobacco company employe, said "I don't plan to stop smoking. That's my bread and butter."

FRIGHTENED

But one Durham resident said the report frightened him.

"I had been smoking two or more packs a day," said H. K. Hobson, a real estate broker. "I've smoked only two cigarettes since Saturday, but I've about worn out my shirt pocket reaching for cigarettes that aren't there."

Approximately 64 per cent of the country's work force uses automobiles getting to and from their jobs, either individually or in car pools.

Bulgaria, Cuba Trade

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Communist-ruled Bulgaria will step up its trade with Cuba by 60 per cent in 1964, Radio Sofia reported Tuesday. It said Bulgaria would export mostly machinery and chemicals to Cuba in exchange for sugar and cigars.

Congress Is Blasted by Senator

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Congressmen "too small for their jobs," obstructive procedures and the seniority system have made a failure of Congress, says Sen. Thomas J. Dodd.

★ ★ ★

The Connecticut Democrat, who last year was critical of the Senate's Democratic leadership, said Tuesday night that if Congress does not improve, "then we have labored in vain for two centuries and the torch of free government has flickered and gone out in our hands."

Many congressmen are able and dedicated but "some others are too small for their jobs, too lacking in statesmanship and competence, too immersed in parochial interests and petty prerogatives and sadly berift of a genuine sense of national interest," Dodd said in a speech to a group of printing executives.

TOO MUCH POWER

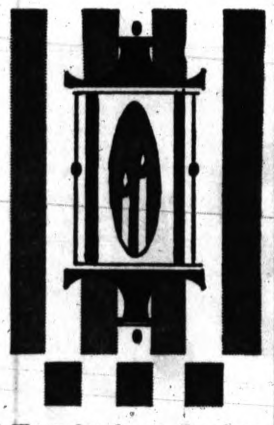

"The seniority system gives a preponderance of power to men who represent narrow interests. These men are not concerned with the great problems of the most complex, industrialized parts of the nation," said Dodd.

★ ★ ★

Two others arrested with Reavis are awaiting examination in Pontiac Municipal Court.

Heavy Snow in Italy

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Heavy snow and fog in Northern Italy snarled transportation today, causing more than 100 highway accidents and three deaths.

2 Imprisoned for Assault

Two teen-agers were sent to the state prison at Jackson for 6½ years yesterday for their assault with intent to rape a 43-year-old Detroit woman in Springfield Township last July.

John Thurman, 17, of 60 N. Shirley and Dennis C. Hyde, 18, of 172 Hurondale, White Lake Township, were given the prison terms by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

They were convicted Dec. 12 by a jury after a five-day trial before Judge Ziem. They were originally charged with raping the woman, but the jury decided on the lesser charge.

★ ★ ★

Hyde was sentenced to a year in jail last month for aggravated assault in an Oct. 16 fight at a Pontiac drive-in restaurant.

He also was awaiting arraignment on a charge of assault to do great bodily harm in a Nov. 18 fight at a Waterford drive-in.

Thurman was on probation for a 1963 auto theft conviction.

Waterford Adds Members to Police, Fire Divisions

Waterford Township's fire and police departments have begun adding new personnel authorized in the 1964 township budget approved last fall.

The fire department already has three new men in uniform with two more slated to start Monday. Six new men were authorized.

One new police officer has been hired to date. Three more are sought to meet the designated quota.

★ ★ ★

New firemen already on the job are James B. Hall, 23, of 65 Preston; James Carter, 26, of 668 Joyceil; and Robert Fuller, 29, of 3218 Signet.

START MONDAY

Scheduled to join the fire department Monday are Joseph R. Fish, 25, of 1109 Joangay and George R. Howard Jr., 30, of 5906 Lochleven.

Terry Hal Cranston, 29, of 3689 Mark began duties on the police force this week. He was the only appointee of six who took the police department civil service examination.

A new examination will be held to fill the three additional police openings. Next Wednesday is deadline for filing application for the exam.

Another examination also will be held to fill the remaining fire department vacancy.

ELIGIBILITY LIST

The three new firemen already at work were drawn from an eligibility list. The two who will start Monday were successful in a recent examination.

Voting Strength to Be Assessed by County Dems

Oakland County Democrats last night decided on a stepped up three-month campaign to locate and organize Democratic voting strength in the county for the 1964 election campaigns.

Members of the party's county executive committee announced that the annual Sen. Phil Hart dinner, usually held in February, would be delayed until April this year to permit the drive to be completed first.

Deputy County Democratic Chairman James M. McNeely said that some 120 of the county's 340 precincts have already been canvassed for Democratic voters.

★ ★ ★

The current drive will be aimed at completing the job, he said. Volunteers are doing the work through telephoning.

Pontiac City Affairs

Ask JFK Name on Park

The City Commission was asked last night to change the name of Oakland Park to John F. Kennedy Park.

The request came from the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council in a resolution pointing out that Kennedy spoke at Oakland Park on Labor Day 1960.

Commissioners indicated they would take the request under consideration at an informal meeting Thursday.

★ ★ ★

In other business on last night's brief agenda, action was deferred on a right-of-way agreement for the Clinton River Drain until legal and engineering descriptions could be certified in the agreement.

The delay won't affect construction, said city officials.

Commissioners also agreed to cut about $4,000 off the cost of a new community recreation center on Wessen at Walnut.

The cost reduction comes from a change in design of filtering facilities for the swimming pool.

It won't affect operation of the pool, said City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling.

★ ★ ★

Final approval was given an SDM license, food permit and dance permit requested by Paul I. Spadafore in conjunction with his existing tavern at 856 Oakland.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners voted 6-1 to approve the license and permits. Voting against the move was Commissioner William H. Taylor.

Bitter Cold Belts Nation in Wake of Worst Storm

NEW YORK (AP) — Bitter cold added woe to misery today as the eastern half of the nation continued to dig out of its worst snowstorm of the winter.

Thousands of motorists and others were stranded, and more than 140 deaths were blamed on the blizzard-like onslaught.

New York City sanitation men, 8,000 strong, were bolstered by 3,000 extras hired at $2 an hour to shovel snow from streets.

Manhattan's Great White Way was just that.

CROP-KILLER

In the South, Florida citrus growers readied heaters for the lowest temperatures — 23 in Jacksonville and 42 in Miami Beach — since the crop-killing freeze 13 months ago.

Temperatures plummeted elsewhere also—to 11 below zero early today in Albany, N.Y. Biting winds made it seem even colder.

★ ★ ★

In New York City, police and a doctor teamed up Monday to bring an emergency supply of blood to day-old Lisa Cavaluzzo in a Queens hospital. Lisa, needing a complete replacement of blood, got it in time although a police car broke down in the snow trying to deliver it.

The doctor's car also gave up, miles from the hospital. A police car, which took him the rest of the way, bogged down in snow for 15 minutes before delivering him to make the transfusion.

Lisa was in satisfactory condition today.

ANOTHER VICTIM

But another New York City child became a victim of the snow. He was Scott Rubenstein, 5. Police think he tunneled into a snowbank, which collapsed and trapped him.

Elsewhere in the East and Midwest:

Scores died from overexertion or exposure as they shoveled snow, tried to dig out stuck autos or trudged through the deep expanse of white.

Commission Reconvenes on Thursday

It only took 20 minutes to get through the City Commission agenda last night, but this week's meeting wasn't as short as it seemed.

In fact, it isn't over yet.

It was merely adjourned to Thursday at 6 p.m. when commissioners will convene at City Hall to canvass the vote in Monday's special election.

★ ★ ★

Then they'll officially end this week's meeting and off they'll go to an informal session on their present No. 1 problem — the 1964 city budget.

A public hearing is slated on the budget at next week's commission meeting.

Opera, Hootenanny Honor Italy Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson served Italian opera and American hootenanny at his first official White House state dinner for Italian President Antonio Segni.

As his VIP guests left the snowy driveways of the White House toward midnight, the President returned to his office with some of his advisers, saying he had to "go back to the coal mine." Problems involving the cirsis in Panama still faced him.

Mrs. Johnson whispered in the President's ear just before he left. She told him not to make it another late night, Johnson revealed to reporters with a smile.

The Johnsons had invited 138 guests, including many prominent Italian - Americans, to their first formal state dinner. It featured filet of beef and a mocha mousse dessert, served on Truman china at 11 small tables in the big state dining room.

AMONG GUESTS

Among the guests were composer Gian - Carlo Menotti and labor leaders George Meany and David Dubinsky.

In honoring Segni, the Johnsons gave their party a blend of Italian and American music.

Baritone Robert Merrill of the Metropolitan Opera was applauded warmly as he sang selections from the operas of Verdi and Rossini.

★ ★ ★

Then, nine lively young folksingers — the New Christy Minstrels — took over the east room stage, with a guitar and banjo, and virtually rocked the crystal with "Cotton Picker," "Last Farewell," and "Saints Train."

TIME OUT

Sixteen - year - old Lucy Baines Johnson, took time out from studying for Egnlish, math and Spanish exams, donned a black velvet long evening gown and took a front-row aisle seat next to Secretary of State Dean Rusk to watch the after-dinner show.

She said she's used to hootenannies in a more easy-going fashion. But despite the formal atmosphere, she called the show "just marvelous" and went up to tell the singers "I loved it."

The only noticeable difference about the pattern of entertainment of the Johnsons compared to the Kennedys is less champagne.

★ ★ ★

The Kennedys always served champagne along with after-dinner coffee and cordials in the formal parlors. But there was no champagne there last night.

BROUGHT BACK

Last night's dinner brought the "hostess - with - the -mostest" Perle Mesta back to the White House. The former ambassador to Luxembourg, appointed to that post by President Harry S. Truman, had been noticeably absent from White House official parties during the Kennedy administration.

★ ★ ★

She had backed Johnson for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960. When Kennedy became the candidate, she switched allegiance and announced she was backing Republican Richard M. Nixon.

Three Issues Stall Buick

Unionist Says Strike Could End Today

FLINT (AP)—The president of United Auto Workers Local 599 said today he is optimistic that a settlement can be reached this afternoon in the seven-day-old strike at General Motors Corp.'s largest Buick plant.

★ ★ ★

Jack Wagner said only three issues remained to be settled following a 17-hour overnight bargaining session between union and management negotiators.

★ ★ ★

Negotiations were scheduled to resume at 1 p.m.

The strike began last Wednesday when 15,000 union production workers walked off the job in a dispute over production standards.

An additional 4,000 non-striking workers were laid off here at the Fisher Body plant, which supplies Buick bodies, and 200 were idled at GM's AC Sparkplug Division.

27 ISSUES

A total of 27 issues were resolved during the overnight session, all of them dealing with production standards — The amount of work an employe must do in a day.

Agreement was reached in submeetings rather than at one big bargaining table, spokesmen said.

It was agreed to break up the session and resume later today before the full bargaining committee to work out technical language.

Wagner said that if a settlement is reached, the union will decide on a time for a ratification vote.

Repeal of Stock Options Rejected by Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—An attempt by a Tennessee senator to repeal the stock option privilege for corporation executives was rejected 10 to 6 by the Senate Finance Committee Tuesday.

But, Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said he'll fight the stock option plan in the Senate. Gore said a report on recent stock option gains of Chrysler executives gave him important ammunition for a battle he says he'll win.

The report, Gore said, stated seven top executives of Chrysler received benefits totaling $3,891,811 from the option plans, somewhat more than their salaries and bonuses which totaled $3,863,963 in the six-year period from 1958 to 1963.

"This stock option privilege," Gore said, "is a tax abuse which is growing. It is detrimental to the interests of the stockholders of the company involved and it is unfair to all other taxpayers."

Gore said he feels Chrysler took unusual advantage of stock options. But, he emphasized he was not charging the Chrysler officials with violating any law and was not saying their company is alone in the practice.

★ ★ ★

A Securities and Exchange Commission report had revealed the stock options taken by major auto company executives. The option benefits, the report said, came from the difference between the price executives paid for the stock at the time an option was exercised and the market value at the same time.

Defenders of the stock option privilege have argued the system is a proper incentive for executives to make unusual efforts on behalf of their companies.

SHOULD BE TAXED

Gore, however, asserts stock option gains are compensation which should be taxed at normal income rates.

Stock options give executives the right to buy a certain number of shares of stock at less than the market price on the day the option is granted.

Cats Dig TV, but Only Till Novelty Gone

SURREY, England (AP) — All cats like the warmth of the television set, but their reaction to the programs isn't quite so enthusiastic, a British cat expert reports after a recent study.

Mrs. Nerea de Clifford observed 200 cats of all types, from pedigree to mongrel, as they watched the TV screen and came to these conclusions:

Nearly all enjoyed watching a picture flicker, and a high proportion obviously enjoyed certain orchestral passages.

★ ★ ★

Most of them reacted to sudden, quick movements, especially to ballet sequences "possibly likening them to the flight of birds or the creep of a mouse." But the cats generally weren't interested in TV once the novelty wore off.

★ ★ ★

Unsatisfactory driving records caused the following to be ordered off the road:

Ronald L. Goldworthy, 795 Lyle; Richard W. Hutchinson, 2001 Knollwood; John E. Miekle, 631 Judson; and James C. Delauter, 1250 Cass Lake, Waterford Township.

Ordered to show proof of fiancial jurgments against them were:

★ ★ ★

Each year about 12,000 children are born with spina bifida, a neurological disorder caused by failure of the backbone to close properly.

Junior Editors Quiz on FAMILY NAMES

QUESTION: How did people begin to use family names?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The first use of last names which we know of was about 4,815 years ago when the Chinese emperor Fushi is supposed to have commanded his people to adopt them.

In ancient Rome, there was but one name at first. Later, two more were adopted; for example, Caesar's full name was "Gaius Julius Caesar." But after the fall of the Roman Empire, single names were used again.

In the Middle Ages, highly born people began to use family names to distinguish themselves from commoners—but the populace soon adopted the same practice.

Some family names came from occupations as in our picture, when Big John the blacksmith became John Smith.

Other last names came from places, such as the Hill family living near a conspicuous hill and so on. Many family names derived from the father's given or Christian name.

A son of John might be called Johnson or Jackson and his family continue this name.

As village towns became larger, the village tax recorder might add some description to a man's first name—there might be a number of Williams, and he might write down one as "William, the small," and this might be the beginning of a family name Small.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: It would be interesting if you could find out something about the origin of your own last name.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Mass Test for Syphilis Is Not Feasible

Q — You said in one of your answers that there was an increase in syphilis in teen-agers. Why don't they require all high school students to have a blood test?

And food handlers, too, so they won't give it to someone else.

Is there any way to tell if someone has syphilis without a blood test?

A — Because syphilis is transmitted by such contact as kissing or sexual intercourse and not through food or eating utensils, there would be no point in singling out food handlers for blood testing.

All public health agencies are interested in case finding but mass blood testing of teen-agers or any other group is not as effective as finding those who have had intimate contact with known cases.

A physician making a physical examination of a person with early syphilis may find lesions that strongly suggest syphilis, but he should confirm his suspicions with a blood test or other laboratory findings.

Q — Is syphilis in the late stages curable?

★ ★ ★

A — In late syphilis, which may affect the bones, heart, brain and other organs, tissues that are destroyed cannot be repaired.

But the process can be stopped to prevent further damage.

Some form of penicillin is usually used. The earlier the treatment is applied the better the results.

Q—A doctor told me 28 years ago I had syphilis although I was not tested for it until 15 years later. At that time the tests were negative. Could I be infected now?

★ ★ ★

A — No responsible doctor would make a diagnosis of syphilis without confirming laboratory tests.

You do not say what treatment you took, but it is unlikely that your doctor would have cured you with his methods.

Penicillin was not available in those days and, although cure was possible, the treatment was long and tedious.

Fortunately, most doctors are careful and painstaking and practice the best medicine consistent with the times.

Since your tests show that you don't have syphilis now, there is a better than average chance that you did not have it 28 years ago.

The initial lesion, the chancre, is not painful and does not itch.

Q — When I was overseas I had 40 shots of penicillin for syphilis and was pronounced cured but my blood test still comes back positive. What is the reason and what should I do?

★ ★ ★

A—Yours is a relatively common but troublesome problem. If you had 40 injections of penicillin and were pronounced cured (most cures require much less penicillin), it is safe to say you were cured. In a few persons a cure fails to cause a return of a negative blood test. With this fact established, your best course is to stop worrying as long as you don't expose yourself to reinfection.

Important Mekong Delta Operation

Viet Nam Troops Plan to Hold Line Against Reds in Hamlets

TAN AN, South Viet Nam (AP)—The South Viet Nam government moved a significant part of its war machine into four small hamlets near Tan An today in a move aimed at proving the line can be against Communist guerrillas.

Three battalions of paratroopers — half of South Viet Nam's available airborne strength—shouldered the main burden. The idea is to secure the core of Long An province, 30 miles south of Saigon, and start driving back the Communists by saturating the area.

Senior American military officers in Saigon declined to discuss details of the operation. But other officials said the Long An operation was "probably the most important tactical effort to date" to halt Viet Cong progress in the Mekong River Delta.

★ ★ ★

No enemy resistance to the saturation maneuver was expected and none was encountered. The idea is to secure a central base area and work outward.

Earlier large-scale clearing operations have failed, U.S. officials believe, because government forces attempted to begin in Communist-dominated areas.

Top-level planning has gone into the new project for several weeks, and U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge paid a surprise visit to the area yesterday.

A team of psychological warfare agents also moved into the hamlets in an attempt to dispel growing feelings of defeatism reported in the rural population of Long An.

"We're pulling out all the stops on this Long An operation," an American adviser said, "and we're going to win it. We've got to win it."

Meanwhile, Communist guerrilla guns downed a B26 fighter-bomber 40 miles north of Saigon last night, killing the two Americans aboard and a Vietnamese observer.

★ ★ ★

An American military spokesman said the plane was a bombing run when an observation plane saw it catch fire and crash. Medical evacuation helicopters were forced back by heavy gunfire, but the recovery operation was renewed this morning.

★ ★ ★

The two casualties brought to 94 the number of Americans killed through enemy action. In all, 168 Americans have died.

Candidates Woo New Hampshire--Every 4 Years

By GORDON A. GLOVER

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Every four years at this time, the voters of New Hampshire become especially dear to those Americans who want to be president of the United States.

★ ★ ★

The Granite State has only four electoral votes. So why all the attention?

It's because New Hampshire holds the first presidential preference primary in the nation. The election always takes place on Town Meeting Day. This year, it's March 10.

MAJOR CAMPAIGNS

So far, the major campaigning has been by the two announced candidates for the Republican nomination—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona. Both have toured the state, speaking and shaking hands.

The ballot offers voters two opportunities to express preference for candidates for president and vice president.

★ ★ ★

On one side, the citizens vote for slates of delegates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

On the other, they mark their preferences for presidential and vice presidential nominees.

ONLY BY PARTIES

Registered Republicans can vote only on that party's ballots. Registered Democrats get only the ballot for their party.

All a candidate needs to be listed on the presidential preference side of the ballot are two petitions bearing 50 signatures each—one from each of the state's congressional districts.

★ ★ ★

Consent of the candidate is not required to file petitions. But he has 10 days to withdraw his name after being notified by the secretary of state that the nominating papers have been filed.

Space is provided for voters to write in their choice for president or vice president. Vice President Richard M. Nixon received more than 26,000 write-in votes in 1956, when a movement was afoot to dump him as President Dwight D. Eisenhower's running mate.

ARE LISTED

Candidates for delegates to the nominating conventions are listed on the ballot as pledged to a specific presidential candidate, as favorable to one, or as uncommitted.

Pledged delegates need the approval of their candidates before they can get on the ballot. They are bound by law to stick by their candidate until he releases them.

★ ★ ★

Delegates running favorable to a presidential candidate are committed only to vote for him in the first round at the nominating convention.

Uncommitted delegate candidates go to the conventions as free agents.

New Hampshire will have 14 votes at the Republican National Convention and 15 at the Democratic convention this year.

On the presidential preference side of the GOP ballot, Goldwater and Rockefeller are expected to have opposition only from Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine. Her supporters are gathering signatures on nominating petitions.

President Johnson apparently will be unopposed on the Democratic ballot.

However, in the scramble to win places as convention delegates, there are supporters of a number of other potential candidates. Among the Republicans, would-be delegates support Rockefeller, Goldwater, Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam.

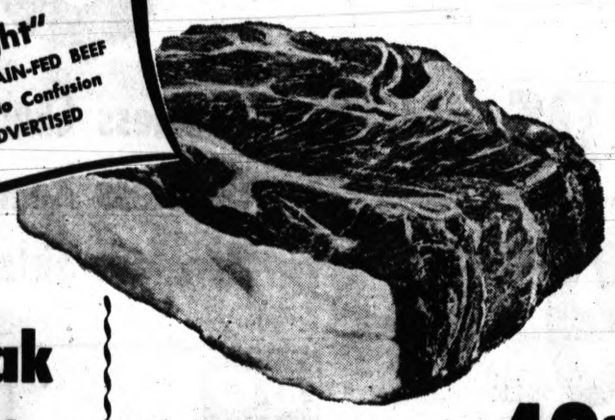

So far, no one is backing Nixon, the 1960 candidate, or Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, often mentioned as a dark horse.

Negroes Will Press for More Concessions During 1964

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—"More in '64," describes the outlook for the civil rights movement which last year picked up great momentum with widespread mass demonstrations.

This slogan of Edwin C. Berry, executive director of Chicago's Urban League, carries both the hope of civil rights leaders for more changes and the resolve for more demonstrations, unless the changes come.

★ ★ ★

Indications of what will happen came from Associated Press interviews of about 30 white and Negro leaders in nearly 20 cities, North and South.

THE OUTLOOK

The outlook for 1964:

1. A pickup in demonstrations, but they will not likely reach the 1963 proportions.

"Civil rights activities will increase in numerous places anytime after the first week of February," said Floyd McKissick of Raleigh, N.C., a Congress of Racial Equality official.

"I am confident we will see resumption of demonstrations in many communities across the South and the nation," said Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

2. Trend toward negotiation, conciliation.

A trend toward concession to avert demonstrations has risen since racial troubles reached a peak last summer in Birmingham, Ala., said King. It has not spread into Mississippi and many parts of Alabama, King said.

MAKE CONCESSIONS

Mayor Malcolm Maclean of Savannah, Ga. agreed that businessmen and officials generally preferred to head off street marches or other protests by making concessions.

Reaction to the civil rights movement has brought changes in employment practices, said Ed Marciniak of Chicago, chairman of the Mayor's Commission on Human Relations.

★ ★ ★

"During 1963 employment opportunities in white collar, technical and professional jobs formerly closed to nonwhites multiplied beyond expectations Marciniak said. "This pace will continue during 1964."

Concessions have reduced the need or threat of demonstrations in a number of cities.

WILLING TO TALK

"We've found more willingness by some city officials to at least sit down and talk," said the Rev. Doyle J. Thomas, the NAACP president in Danville, W. Va., scene of street marches last summer.

Mayor Julian R. Stinson of Danville said he believed there would be a slackening of demonstrations in the city, but "the threat of demonstrations remains if they can get outside financial help."

In Tallahassee, Fla., the Rev. C. K. Steele, an NAACP leader, said: "We have the feeling demonstrations won't be necessary. There are signs of change for the better."

3. Growing emphasis on better jobs.

As the obvious racial barriers fall, the civil rights drive shifts its point of attack to economic improvement of the Negro.

ST. LOUIS JOBS

In St. Louis, employment opportunities were given as the basic racial problem by Robert Curtis, CORE chairman, who is pushing for more Negro workers at a bank. He said he expects demonstrations to be stepped up, hitting a peak next Marciniak said. "This pace will Boycotts, or selective buying campaigns, have been effective in many areas where Negroes sought better jobs.

★ ★ ★

In New Orleans, the Rev. A. L. Davis, an integration leader, said a selective buying campaign would be stepped up.

"It has been on for six months and is producing results," he said. Several Negroes have been hired by a soft drink firm as a result of the boycott, Davis said.

UPGRADE LEADERS

In Atlanta, the threat of boycotting was enough to upgrade many Negro workers and raise their income by about $500,000 last year, integration leaders said.

Boycotts and demonstrations will continue in Philadelphia, said Cecil B. Moore, NAACP chapter president.

★ ★ ★

4. Voter registration.

With national elections coming up, voting strength will get more attention.

In Florida, plans are to raise Negro voter registration by about 80,000. Robert Saunders, NAACP secretary in Tampa, said: "We feel the Negro vote will be a telling factor in both the primary and general elections."

VOTER DRIVES

Dr. R. A. Hawkins, a Negro dentist in Charlotte, N.C., said voter drives would get the main emphasis in some areas, depending on the situation.

In Mecklenburg County (Charlotte) Hawkins said, "20,000 more Negroes on the voter books this year can do more in one day in the ballot box than we could do in 10 years in the streets."

★ ★ ★

5. Civil Rights Legislation.

A big drive will be made by civil rights groups to get administration measures through Congress.

"If there is no civil rights bill approved, then it means a possible upheaval," said Andrew Freeman, executive secretary of the Urban League in Philadelphia.

The Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth of Cincinnati, who heads the Birmingham integration movement, said: "We are in a state of hopefully waiting to see what Congress will do."

Britain's Teens Split Into Rockers, Mods

Mods And Rockers Square Off In A London Ballet

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON — (NEA) — British teen-agers, after months of upheaval, are now split into rival factions known as the Mods and the Rockers.

A Mod (for Modern) is usually a clean-cut type, immaculately dressed, and a pacemaker of teen-age fashion.

A Rocker, on the other hand, is nothing more than a glorified beatnik and is now considered in advance circles to be square.

★ ★ ★

According to the Mods, the Rockers cling to their black leather as a symbol of virility and confuse scruffiness with character.

NO DIFFERENCE

But Rockers sneer at Mods as being effeminate, claim that the outsider can't tell the difference between Mod boys and Mod girls.

So far the feuding between the two factions has not resulted in open warfare, but it has been made the subject of a ballet now being presented here by the Western Theatre Ballet.

The ballet is the work of Peter Darrell, a 32-year-old choreographer, who spent weeks in London pubs studying the habits and dress of Britain's young.

The split among British teenagers, according to Darrell, has nothing to do with geography, family background, education or accent, which are the things that traditionally divide in this country.

MORE SUBTLE

"It is much more subtle than that," says the young choreographer. "It has to do, for example, with attitudes toward America and toward soap and water."

The Rockers, Darrell claims, look to America for their inspiration, but to the America of the early 1950s. "It takes up to 10 years for an American craze to cross the Atlantic," he explains.

The Rockers are still wearing the black leather jackets and riding the souped-up motorbikes which Marlon Brando featured in his film, "The Wild Ones."

★ ★ ★

"Significantly," says Darrell, "this film has never been shown publicly in this country. The censors were afraid that it would have a bad influence on the young."

OPEN REVOLT

The Mods, on the other hand, are in open revolt against everything American. Their heroes are The Beatles, a quartet of guitar-twanging pop singers who hail from Liverpool, England.

As for the soap and water, the Rockers largely ignore it, while the Mods have a healthy regard for same.

"The male Mods are the real peacocks," says Darrell. "They wear foam rubber jackets without lapels, chin-high shirt collars and high-heeled boots.

★ ★ ★

The dedicated Mod girls wear long, flowing hairstyles, ankle-length gray street skirts, frilly blouses and round-toed shoes.

OWN DANCES

The Mods even have their own dances, which are known by such names as the Mash, the Turkey, the Fish and the Hitchhike.

"You can't keep up with them," Darrell complains, "because they start a new dance craze each week."

★ ★ ★

In the current Mod-Rocker hassle, the smart money here is on the Mods. Some even predict that Mod fashions will catch on, and that in another six months even bowler-hatted gentlemen will wear Cuban heels.

State Tops Record in Vehicle Titles

LANSING (AP)—The number of motor vehicle titles issued last year hit a new high of $1,886,615, reports the secretary of state's office.

The total was more than 140,000 higher than the previous record of 1,740,739 set in 1962.

The biggest percentage of hike was in new vehicles, where the 1963 total was 549,772, some 50,000 more than in the previous year. More than one million titles were issued for transfers and used vehicles compared to 941,251 during 1952.

Surgical Tool Being Made by State Firm

SAGINAW (AP)—A Saginaw firm has begun producing the cutting portion of a new bone surgery instrument designed to save time and trouble for the surgeon and reduce trauma for the patient.

Severance Tool Industries Inc. said Dr. Robert M. Hall a Pittsburgh dental surgeon, developed the new instrument.

★ ★ ★

Company officials said the instrument is designed to cut operating time in half and to eliminate surgeon fatigue and patient trauma which accompanies operations performed with conventional hand instruments or heavy electrically powered saws and drills.

They quoted Dr. Hall as saying the instrument cuts through bone "like a knife through soft butter."

The instrument is to be introduced Saturday at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons in Chicago.

A fire in 1851 destroyed all but 20,000 of the 55,000 volumes which were then contained in the Library of Congress.

Michiganders Smoking Less

LANSING (AP) — Fewer packs of cigarettes were sold in Michigan in fiscal 1963 than in 1962, the State Revenue Department reports, although cigarette tax collections jumped $17 million because of a higher rate.

Such taxes produced $68.5 million for the state treasury during the 1962-63 fiscal year ending June 30, 1963, the department said.

The collections resulted from sales of just over one billion packages. The total was down 7.2 million from the previous year, however.

The legislature in 1962 hiked the tax from five to seven cents a pack as part of a package of "nuisance taxes" passed after a bid for a statewide income tax had failed.

County to Act on Legislative Proposals

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will be asked Friday to endorse a series of legislative bills and amendments being sought by the Supervisors Inter-County Committee.

Several would alter social welfare legislation. The proposed changes would ease the financial burden of counties by requiring the state to increase its share of welfare costs.

The committee, comprising several supervisors from six counties in the Detroit metropolitan area, claims the changes are necessary because:

● "While the cost of various programs administered by the county continue to increase, the financial ability of the county has not risen proportionately.

* * *

● "Is some instances the state . . . has decreased its support of these programs."

MATCHING FUNDS

If the bills pass, instead of paying 30 per cent of welfare costs the state would revert back to a 50-50 matching fund formula with the counties.

This means the state would match every dollar a county pays into welfare programs, thus assuming half the cost.

The formula was changed in 1939.

The committee also is seeking to have state aid for tuberculosis patients hiked from $4 a day to 50 per cent of the average cost, which is about $18 a day.

* * *

In another bill, the committee is proposing state reimbursement for hospitalization of mentally ill persons awaiting admission to state hospitals.

WATER SAFETY

The board of supervisors also will be asked to endorse the committee's proposed amendments to the Waterford Control and Safety Act and probate court fees, as well as an amendment which would permit sheriffs to reside elsewhere than in the county jail.

The watercraft act would be amended to make it unlawful for anyone under the age of 14 to operate a motor boat of more than 7½ horsepower unless accompanied by an adult.

Other proposed amendments would make it illegal to litter waterways, tow water skiers before 10 a.m. or after 7 p.m., operate a motor boat without a muffler or use noisemakers other than those required for safe navigation.

* * *

Probate court fees would be increased as follows: From $3 to $5 for a secret marriage, from $4 to $25 for a name change, and from $1 to $10 for the care and custody of redemption money in connection with land contracts.

LEGISLATIVE UNIT

The board of supervisors' endorsement of these bills and amendments is being recommended by its legislative committee.

* * *

The legislative committee is making no recommendation to endorse the supervisors inter-county committee's proposed county home rule act, having agreed to wait for a proposal being prepared by a governor's study committee instead.

Electron beams, similar, but much more powerful than those in a TV picture tube, are being used in the development of a high-precision, cutting, drilling and welding tool for industry.

New Ruling Issued in Race Trial

LANSING (AP)—An amended order designed to clear a Detroit Recorder's Court judge of racial bias in a civil rights trial was issued Tuesday by the Michigan Supreme Court.

The amended order cited "judicial error" as its reason for having earlier declared a mistrial in the case of 17 persons involved in a picketing demonstration in Detroit.

* * *

The first order had merely said the mistrial was declared and the case should be remanded for prompt trial before a Recorder's judge other than John P. O'Hara, who heard the original case.

The amended version said O'Hara had committed judicial error by refusing "to permit a separate record to be made on matters desired to be available for appeal" and "refusing to permit counsel to make motions to the court."

DEMONSTRATING

The 17 persons were arrested on misdemeanor charges while demonstrating at the headquarters of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

The case was still in the jury-selection stage last Friday when the high court ruled the mistrial, acting on complaint of attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Arab Star Has Plan for Living

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Egyptian actor Omar Sharif and his movie star wife, Faten Hamama, have a design for living. That is, if you can call it living when a married couple resides 7,000 miles apart.

THOMAS

The situation: Omar is the sleekly handsome star of Egyptian films who scored an international hit and an Academy nomination, as Peter O'Toole's desert buddy in "Lawrence of Arabia." In so doing, he priced himself out of the Arabic market.

Miss Hamama remains in Cairo to care for their 7-year-old son and her Cairo career.

"She has been in films for 24 years—ever since she was 7," explained Sharif. "She enjoys that life, and it would be wrong to ask her to leave.

RETURN IMPOSSIBLE

"On the other hand, it would be impossible for me to return to films in Egypt. I've already had one good picture in the international market, and I've just made another—'Behold a Pale Horse' with Gregory Peck and Anthony Quinn. Now it is important for me to make one more good picture, and I would like to make it in Hollywood.

* * *

"I think I will be able to, because I have my choice of a number of good scripts. Picking the right one is the only problem; it is difficult to make a choice after working with such good directors as David Lean and Fred Zinnemann.

"If I can get this third good movie, then I will be able to spend more time in Cairo. But in the meantime my wife and I will have to live in different parts of the world."

It wasn't so bad when he was working in Europe, he said. Then his wife could join him for a month or so. But Cairo to California is more of a jump.

Holdup With Humor

DETROIT (AP) — A bandit took $1,800 from a teller at a branch of the Detroit Bank & Trust Co. Tuesday after showing a note which said "This is a holdup. The life you save may be your own." Police said he apparently was the same man who held up another branch of the same bank with an identical note Dec. 30.

No Ban in Denver, Says Cigar Smoker

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Elvin Caldwell, chairman of health and hospitals for the Denver City Council, said Tuesday that there's no chance for an anti-smoking ordinance in this city.

"I'm a born cigar smoker myself," Caldwell said.

State to Open Bids

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department will open bids Feb. 5 on construction projects costing more than $8.3 million. Major projects will include the 3.7-mile M14—or Ann Arbor Northbelt—Freeway, and more than 15 miles of modernization on M66 between Ionia and Stanton in Ionia and Montcalm counties.

Gov. Wallace Pleased With His Tour of the West

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace is completing an eight-day swing through the West apparently pleased with his reception. Here is a review of his major themes and the manner in which he was received on six university campuses.)

By PAUL WELLS

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Everywhere he went on his five-state invasion of the West to preach the gospel of states' rights, the intense governor found overflow crowds. They left him flushed with a feeling of success.

George Corley Wallace Jr., 44, a farm boy who became governor of Alabama and an evangel of the South, spoke at six university campuses. ("We had about 50 invitations but these were all we could accept.")

★ ★ ★

The crowds, mostly students, listened courteously and with interest, though with obvious occasional disagreement. There were some boos.

★ ★ ★

Civil rights groups picketed wherever Wallace appeared. The demonstrations were orderly and peaceful. The governor called his Western reception "courteous and friendly."

KEEP FIGHTING

Wallace made it plain he'll continue to battle what he calls the dangerous Goliath of a federal government grasping for totalitarian power.

The majority of the people apparently disagree, but that makes no difference to him. He thinks the world has gone ahead too fast and it, not the South, is out of touch with reality.

★ ★ ★

Fighting is not new to him. Nearly 30 years ago he was amateur bantamweight boxing champion of his state. In World War II he was a B29 bomber flight engineer. Last year he resisted integration of the University of Alabama to a point just short of violence.

Wallace carried his crusade into the West in a state-owned plane, justifying its use by trying to lure new industry to Alabama.

HAS OFFERS

"We've already lined up two branch plants for our state out of six industrial conferences," he said.

But the main purpose of his eight-day swing was "to bring the message."

He kept hammering away at two main themes:

—The civil rights bill pending in Congress is a "federal power grab" which will usurp state and local government, and personal property rights.

—The world has been given a distorted picture of the South and its racial problems.

ENTER PRIMARIES

He indicated he may enter the primaries in Oregon, California, Ohio, Illinois, Maryland and New Hampshire "so we can talk about some of the real issues involved."

"I know I can't win," he said, "but it will give me a chance to let the people know what's going on—let them know the dangers they face from the encroachments of their own government."

★ ★ ★

Wallace said he will support unpledged presidential electors and the South, "tired of being kicked around" by both major political parties, will support the one that "promises the least kicking."

He began his tour Jan. 7 with a speech on the Colorado State University campus at Fort Collins. There he said the United States is feeling "the internal upheavals" other nations experienced before they were taken over by the Communists.

WENT TO DENVER

The next night he told an audience of 3,000 at the University of Denver that Abraham Lincoln would have been picketed for his views Negroes should not vote, serve on juries or hold public office. There was applause 23 times and a few hisses. Outside 200 pickets patrolled in 15-degree weather.

Thursday night at the University of Arizona in Tucson he critized the civil rights bill and accused news media of giving a slanted view of the racial situation in the South. The crowd of 2,500 clapped about 20 times, jeered 15.

★ ★ ★

Moving to Los Angeles, he repeated his attack on the civil rights bill before an overflow turnout of 1,700 UCLA students Friday and said the South was the victim of intolerance over the attitudes of its people. There were pickets and scattering of hisses.

★ ★ ★

More than 8,900 students and others jammed the University of Oregon basketball fieldhouse in Eugene Monday night, as Wallace repeated the things he said elsewhere on his tour. He was heartened by cheers when he proclaimed the Confederate flag would fly again. Two dozen members of the Congress of Racial Equality picketed the building.

SAME RECEPTION

It was much the same here Tuesday on the University of Washington campus. About two dozen pickets from a college civil rights group turned out as Wallace held a news conference and spoke later to an overflow audience of 2,000. Everything was orderly.

Wallace throughout maintained an air of calm reasonableness.

★ ★ ★

Oregon's Republican Gov. Albert D. Rosellini said their busy schedules would not allow them to meet the Alabama governor. Wallace said "I understand some of these things."

But anger was barely below the surface when at his news conference here Wallace noted that in 1954 the ratio of Negro to white pupils in Washington, D.C., schools was only 1-in-4 and last year was nearly 9-out-of-10.

WHAT HAPPENED?

"What has happened in the capital's forced integration is that these same government officials who are trying to take over my school system have fled to Virginia and Maryland, or put their children in private schools," he said.

"I resent that!"

★ ★ ★

He said cities such as Washington, Philadelphia, Chicago, New York, Detroit and San Francisco have far more serious racial problems than Alabama, "yet the left wingers and liberals don't beat the drums much about that."

Asked who he would prefer as the next president, Wallace hesitated a moment.

"Well, some people have said they'd like to have me there. So I just guess I'd have to say, "George C. Wallace."

Former Zanzibar Leaders to Die, Rebels Announce

ZANZIBAR (UPI)—The rebel government of this island nation announced that four officials of the deposed regime would be executed today.

There were unconfirmed reports one other man would be burned in public.

The leftists who toppled British-backed Sultan Seyyid Abdulla Bin Khalifa last weekend announced over the rebel-controlled government radio that two of the government officials would be hanged.

★ ★ ★

The radio said two others would be executed by undisclosed means.

MAN TO BURN

The unconfirmed report said a fifth man, Ilek Salim, identified as a supporter of the Sultan's regime, would be burned to death.

The rebels said former finance minister Sheikh Juma Aley and his assistant, Rashid Hamadi, would be hanged for the part they played in banning the left-wing Umma Party 10 days ago.

The Umma Party was one of the spearheads of the coup that overthrew the Sultan only 34 days after Britain granted Zanzibar independence.

★ ★ ★

All other members of the ousted government were sentenced to 15 years in prison, the radio said.

QUIET NOW

Zanzibar was quiet after heavy fighting in the first stages of the coup.

But reports from neighboring Dar-es-Salaam, Tanganyika, said there was more fighting and looting last night.

Other reports reaching Dar-es-Salaam said Cubans played roles in the Zanzibar coup.

★ ★ ★

Refugees taken from the island yesterday by the U.S. destroyer Manley said on reaching this neighboring nation that a Cuban was in charge of a rebel stronghold in a cable office, two Cubans in battle dress were seen in the streets, and at least two Cubans headed sections of the rebel army.

WELL-PLANNED

U.S. Information Officer Stuart Lillicoe, one of the 54 Americans reaching here, called the takeover by "Field Marshal" John Okello and leftist political leaders "a well-planned and executed coup."

He said he was told the rebel in charge of the insurgents' post in the cable office was heard to speak Spanish.

Lillicoe did not identify him as a Cuban, but said:

★ ★ ★

"He was obviously not a Zanzabari, but he could have been a North American. He spoke no Swahili but did speak English."

AFRICAN MAJORITY

Swahili is the language of many African tribesmen.

The revolt appeared to be backed by Zanzibar's African majority, which had been ruled before and after independence by an Arab-dominated government.

★ ★ ★

Reports from the island said about 80 persons have been killed and 500 injured since the rebels seized police barracks and communications centers Sunday morning to begin the coup.

The 33-year old Sultan escaped on his yacht and Tanganyika offered him political asylum. Kenya yesterday ordered the yacht to leave its port of Mombasa.

Forfeit Bond of Woman Who Conked Adlai

DALLAS (AP)—A Dallas woman accused of striking U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson with a placard here last October has forfeited a $25 bond for failure to appear and answer court charges.

Corporation Court Judge Charles Wells ordered the forfeiture yesterday for Mrs. Cora Fredrickson.

The woman was cited under an ordinance dealing with crowd behavior following the placard incident. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations, was struck as he left a U.N. Day rally at Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Fredrickson said she did not mean to hit Stevenson.

It's a Law: Bees Are Livestock; Drop That Frying Pan

(Editor's Note—In the state of Washington it's illegal to carry a toy pistol and in California you're breaking the law if you bet on an election. The following dispatch, last of a three-part series, explores some of the strange and unique laws still on the statute books)

By BARNEY SEIBERT
United Press International

Americans pride themselves on being rugged individualists and during the 187 years of their history as a nation they've produced some mighty individualistic laws.

The nation's talent for producing unique and sometimes bizarre laws in its various states and cities is one of the despairs of purists who dream of a uniform legal code.

Most of the odd laws date from the 19th and even the 18th century. But legislative bodies still manage to add a few periodically.

★ ★ ★

For example, in 1963, Washington's legislature made it a crime to transport ladybugs out of the state. Seems someone had been bugnapping them and shipping them to California.

TOY PISTOLS

In the same session, the state's lawmakers derailed an attempt to repeal Washington's ban on carrying toy pistols.

In 1962, New Jersey became the first state to require licensing of municipal planners.

Racing horses within a quarter mile of a church or school, or selling soft drinks near a church or school, is unlawful in Arkansas.

★ ★ ★

In Louisiana it is practically impossible to disinherit a parent or a child, no matter how a will reads.

CLASSIC EXAMPLES

Classic example of unique laws are Delaware's whipping post and Texas' right to divide itself into as many as four states.

But few outside Illinois know about that state's proportional representation, which provides for cumulative voting for the lower house of the state legislature and allows a single voter to cast as many as three votes.

In Arizona a $100 license is required for efforts to modify or control the weather.

Florida allows notary publics to perform marriages under an 1860 law.

California's agricultural code officially classifies bees as livestock. Another California law makes it a crime to bet on the outcome of an election.

Mississippi has the nation's highest paid sheriffs under a state law which designates them as tax collectors and allows them a percentage of all taxes collected. Some sheriffs earn as much as $100,000 a year.

A newly adopted Mississippi law allows disqualification of a voter on moral grounds.

★ ★ ★

Everyone knows Nevada is the only state in the nation to permit all types of gambling. Less known is South Dakota's law permitting betting at horse and dog race tracks despite a prohibition in the state's constitution.

WRITE THEM ALL

Oregon's Presidential Primary Act requires its secretary of state to place on the ballot the names of all persons he thinks might be contenders for presidential nominations of the major parties.

Michigan still authorizes one-man grand juries despite a decade-long drive to repeal the law.

In Montana, liquor sale on Sunday is against the law, but the act creating the state's liquor control board allows it.

It's also illegal in Montana to carry a frying pan on the open range with the intent of using it to obliterate livestock brands.

Even if you have bacon and beans in the skillet, you're in trouble if there's cow or horse hair on the bottom.

Two of the grand old odd laws went off the books in the past two years.

In 1962, South Carolina repealed its ban on charging extra fares on trains for crossing bridges on Sunday.

And in 1963, Georgia repealed its law allowing farmers to buy fireworks to scare crows out of the corn field.

$100,000 Damage in Fremont Blaze

FREMONT (AP) — A main street fire estimated to have caused a loss of $100,000 swept four adjoining stores Tuesday night.

No one was hurt. The origin of the blaze was not determined immediately.

★ ★ ★

The early evening fire destroyed the Hedder hardware store and Hedder furnace sales office, Bauman jewelry store, and the Sherman sport shop.

The average salary of an office worker in the United States is $80, an increase of $3 over the $77 average in 1962.

Despite the worldwide population explosion, the United States birth rate has dropped to its lowest point since 1846.

Little Guards Lead Captains to Big Victory

Capacity Crowd Sees Kettering Boost Mark to 6-0

DICK MILLER
What Is it, a Bird?

RICK PANKEY
Bah, It's Me Skipper

By FLETCHER SPEARS

A pair of small guards with quick hands provided the scoring punch Tuesday evening as Kettering turned back a visiting Waterford Township quintet, 78-62.

★ ★ ★

Rick Pankey (5-7) and Earl Hook (5-8) used their ball-hawking talents to keep the Skippers off balance and tossed in 20 points each to lead the scoring attack.

The basketball win was the sixth in a row for the Captains (6-0) and it upped their lead to 250-0 in the battle with Waterford for the All Sports Trophy.

FULL HOUSE

More than 1,000 persons packed the Captain gymnasium for the contest. School officials closed the gate at 6:50 p.m., turning away an estimeted 200 grumbling fans.

The loss was the Skippers fifth in succession and left them with a 1-5 season mark.

The Captains couldn't find the range in the opening quarter and trailed at the end of the stanza, 19-14.

TAKE LEAD

But Bob Bogert, a 6-0 senior forward, hit a hot streak in the second frame, scoring nine points as Kettering rallied to take a 33-28 halftime lead.

Hook and Pankey took over in the second half and stole the ball time-after-time from the jittery Skippers.

Held to a single bucket during the first half, Hook came back with 18 points in the closing half to share scoring honors with Pankey.

Pankey's 20 markers upped his season total to 91 for an average of 15.1 a game.

★ ★ ★

Bogert finished with 17 points and hauled in 13 rebounds. Jim Nyberg tossed in 13.

The Skippers had a balanced scoring attack led by Dick Miller's 17 points. Trailing Miller were Rick Russ (12), Tom Somers (11) and Rick Ziem (11).

★ ★ ★

Ziem's 11 points pushed his season total to 103, leaving him among the Oakland County scoring leaders with an average of 17.1 for six contests.

Foul Line Trips Northern

By JERE CRAIG

High school basketball courts come in various sizes and degrees of lighting, but the standard 15 feet from basket to foul line beat Pontiac Northern Tuesday night.

In a game plagued with fouling, the Huskies came out second best, 83-75, at Detroit Catholic Central.

Catholic Central, not as good as the squad that lost by 14 points to the Huskies in the state regional basketball tournament last March at PNH, boosted its record to 6-2 with 27 of 36 at the charity stripe.

Northern, also not as good but with the potential to be better than its regional champion, connected on 19 of 37. The eight-point difference was the margin in the game.

PNH now has a 4-3 log with all losses coming in a row. The Huskies now return home for six consecutive games after playing six of their first seven in the visitors' role.

Both teams were charged with 26 personal fouls in last night's contest and each connected on 28 field goals. The appropriately nicknamed Shamrocks proved that form has little bearing on whether the ball goes through the hoop.

Not only the missed foul shots but also the personal fouls hurt the visiting Huskies more.

HOLD LEAD

PNH led most of the first half and its biggest deficit in the third period was six points. This came after big Dave Sudbury fouled out and just before Roger Hayward left via the same route.

Sudbury hit 12 points and was effective on the backboards in his best varsity performance, indicating he may be able to fill the shoes of injured Dick DeWeese.

Hayward took less shots than any other time this season but hit well on those he did take, having four buckets when he left at the start of the fourth period.

The 6-3 junior center had his highest output last season against Catholic Central in the state playoffs and paradoxically, last night's total was his lowest this year.

His shooting and size under the backboards were badly needed in the final session as the winners began breaking up the PNH set plays with their superior height.

Only several traveling violations against Catholic Central kept Northern in the contest.

★ ★ ★

The next Northern game is Friday against Waterford.

OL St. Mary Scores Loop Victory, 75-64

Orchard Lake St. Mary and Farmington Our Lady battled on even terms for three periods before the Eaglets pulled away in the final two minutes to gain a 75-64 cage victory.

★ ★ ★

It was 12-12 after one period and 31-31 at halftime. The third quarter read 48-48 and the score was tied three times in the final period before John Stolnicki hit to make it 50-57 and Orchard Lake went in front to stay.

The Eaglets led 20-14 for their widest margin in the first half and just as the half ended Myles Kearney hit the tying basket for Our Lady.

The visitors from Farmington started strong in the third quarter, taking a 42-36 lead, but St. Mary came back with Frank Rompel hitting four points to tie it 48-48.

PULL AWAY

There were two and a half minutes left and Stolnicki and Rompel each found the range. The Eaglets outscored Our Lady 16-8 in this period of time.

Rompel finished with 21 to lead four players in double figures. Stolnicki had 19, Connie Krogulecki had 18 and Ken Kwilosz had 10.

For Farmington OL, Bob Hart hit 19, Myles Kearney 14 and Rick Goyt 13.

Orchard Lake is now 3-3 in the Parochial league standing in 4th place, while Farmington Our Lady's record in the loop is 4-4. The Eaglets shot 43 per cent with 30 of 69 shots compared to 23 per cent for the visitors.

Players Hesitate to Play

East Wins NBA Battle

BOSTON (AP)—It was advertised as the night of the 14th annual National Basketball Association All-Star game.

But it may have been the night the NBA came painfully close to collapsing.

★ ★ ★

Game time Tuesday night was 9 p.m., EST. Television cameras for a national audience were ready. A full house was settling back at Boston Garden, waiting for the 20 best players in the league to begin action for the East and West teams. The spotlights were about to go on.

There was only one flaw. The players had decided they were going to walk out—leaving the cameras, the audience, the fans and the spotlights—if the league didn't call a meeting of the Board of Governors.

RIGHT NOW

They wanted a pension plan. And, apparently, they wanted it, or at least solid assurance of it, right then and there.

"The players told me at 8:55, five minutes before game-time, that they would go through with the game," said J. Walter Kennedy, league president.

Until that moment, Kennedy said, the game was in doubt.

The East squad, led by Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson and Boston's Sam Jones, went on to win 111-107 and register its ninth victory in 14 games.

But the game seemed anticlimactical after what had been taking place in a dressing room 50 feet from the court.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy told newsmen at the hastily - called conference just out of sight of the fans—and just as the game got underway—that he had just met with All-Star Tom Heinsohn of Boston, President of the NBA Players Association, earlier Tuesday and discussed the proposed pension plan.

★ ★ ★

He assured Heinsohn, he said, that the plan would be acted on either Feb. 18-19, at the NBA Board of Governors meeting, of on May 1, when all the club owners would be present at the league's annual meeting.

He said he thought the matter had been taken care of. But at 6 p.m. Heinsohn and Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks came to his hotel room and demaded an immediate Board of Governors meeting.

This was impossible, Kennedy told them. But he agreed to contact all the owners who were in Boston for the game and get assurances from them that they would act on the pension plan either next month or May 1.

That was that and the game—a good one—went on after a 10-minute delay. The East built up an 18-point lead in the third period, then had to hang on as the West, led by Jerry West of Los Angeles, Wilt Chamberlain of San Francisco and Pettit, rallied and closed the margin to four points on three occasions.

★ ★ ★

Robertson was the game's high scorer and Most Valuable Player with 26 points, 14 rebounds and eight assists. Wilt and Pettit each had 19 points. Jones got 16 and West 17. Bill Russell of Boston outrebounded Chamberlain 21 to 20.

Kimball Pads Lead in EML

Royal Oak Kimball dimmed Birmingham Seaholm's thoughts for Eastern Michigan League basketball honors last night and took the top spot of the loop with a 54-47 victory.

The Maples, who started the season strong with a victory over defending champion Ferndale, are now 3-3 in the EML perching in 5th place.

Ferndale handed Hazel Park its second straight loss, 66-56 to move into a three-way tie for second place as East Detroit whipped Roseville, 73-49.

Seaholm led only after the first period 14-11 and then Kimball moved ahead 29-23 at halftime and never fell behind, even though the Maples won the field goal and rebounding battle.

CHARITY LINE

It was at the free throw line where Kimball made 24 of 33 which spelled the difference.

"We threw the ball away too often," said Seaholm coach Lew Parry, "and they took advantage of our mistakes."

★ ★ ★

All five starters accounted for all of the scoring for Ferndale as the Eagles led 33-27 at halftime and never fell behind.

Bruce Rodwan, one of the top scorers in the county, led the winners with 20 points, followed by Lee Palmer with 17, George Morey with 13, Bob Fillarceau 12. Bloodworth accounted for the last four points.

Jim Boreland had 21 and John Canine had 14 for Hazel Park which is now 4-2 in the league after sitting on top with a 4-0 mark.

★ ★ ★

After a 41-23 halftime lead and a strong third period, East Detroit's victory was never in doubt against winless Roseville.

Dick Williamson's 16, Glenn Bratt's 15 and Gary Geister's 13 paced the winning attack. Roseville failed to get a player in double figures as Dick Drager connected with nine.

Imlay Breaks Capac's String in 'Record Time'

Any successful venture requires a measure of hard work, and Imlay City's basketball quintet followed this route in attaining a bit of cage glory Tuesday evening with a 'little overtime.'

The Spartans locked horns with Capac and the teams battled through a record five overtimes with Imlay coming out on top, 70-67.

The win snapped a regular season winning streak of 53 games for Capac, leaving the Chiefs with a season mark of 5-1.

The Spartans had the game in hand during regulation time, but Capac's Ken Adamski was fouled as the buzzer sounded the end of the game.

PRESSURE TOSSES

Imlay was leading 51-49 as Adamski stepped to the charity line. A miss would have given the Spartans the victory, but Adamski canned both to send the game into overtime.

The teams traded buckets in the first four extra sessions and Capac grabbed a two-point lead in the fifth overtime, 67-65, on a basket by John Scheuer.

Imlay knotted the score again as Dale Goodrich tossed in two free throws.

The Spartans moved ahead by two points on a basket by Ed Lomerson and iced the game on a free throw by Warren VanPutten.

VanPutten's single point brought to a close one of the longest games in Michigan high school play — 47 minutes — nearly a game and a half.

★ ★ ★

Lomerson turned out to be the scoring star of the game. He finished with 29 points, 15 of them coming during the last 'six' periods.

John Scheuer paced the Capac attack with 25 markers.

Finley Fights Jury of AL Club Bosses

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles O. Finley, who has huffed and puffed and threatened to blow the American League down, will take his case before a jury that apparently already has reached its verdict.

★ ★ ★

The case—basically a simple question of whether Finley can move his Kansas City Athletics to Louisville—has grown from a baseball argument into a political football.

Here's the starting line-up for Thursday's meeting:

Judge—Joe Cronin, American League president.

Jury—The American League club owners.

POLITICAL MOVES

Interested parties—Top political figures from three states, Missouri, Kansas and Kentucky, including U.S. Senators Stuart Symington, D-Mo.; James Pearson, R-Kan., and Thurston Morton, R-Ky.

Cronin called the meeting in New York after Finley, involved in an argument with Kansas City civic officials over terms for use of Municipal Stadium, announced he had signed a contract to shift the A's franchise to Louisville for 1964 and 1965.

The jury need cast only three negative votes to prohibit Finley from moving. An Associated Press survey showed, earlier in the battle, that at least five clubs—New York, Boston, Baltimore, Chicago and Detroit—were opposed.

Baltimore President Lee MacPhail and Detroit owner John Fetzer made public statements Tuesday.

Asked what would happen when Finley requests to move the A's, MacPhail said:

"I don't think he'll get one vote."

MacPhail said that "at no time was Finley encouraged to think the league would approve a transfer of the A's from Kansas City. The majority of us are against moving the A's."

DETROITER SPEAKS

Fetzer said he thought Finley's chances of getting his way were "less than 1,000 to one." Fetzer went on to say that Finley's moves had been unorthodox and "there is a streak of irresponsibility involved here which precludes normal judgment."

Then Fetzer declared:

"There are precepts in the by-laws of the American League constitution which state that the league may take over any franchise which is not being operated according to that constitution. I think those precepts may apply in this case."

Despite the obvious sentiment against his move, Finley has remained adamant. He has said the American League will not take away the franchise and he has issued this challenge:

"If the league pulls the rug out from beneath me, the league is going with me. The league is as involved in this as I am. This isn't all but I'm saving some things to spring at the meeting."

Dan Drca led the Chieftains in scoring with 11 points and Mike Kowalski tossed in nine.

Court Rules Judgment Excessive for Butts

ATLANTA (AP) — Former Georgia athletic director Wallace Butts says he will be guided by his attorneys' recommendation that he accept a $2.6 million cut in his libel judgment against the Saturday Evening Post.

"We have recommended that he accept it," said attorney William H. Schroeder Jr. Tuesday night, "and we are certain he will take our recommendation."

"I will be guided by my attorneys," Butts said in Athens. "I have no further comment to make. It is my understanding that we have 20 days to make the decision."

TOO MUCH

A federal judge ruled Tuesday that the award of $3.06 million by a jury to Butts was grossly excessive. However, U. S. Dist. Judge Lewis R. Morgan held that the magazine-libeled Butts in charging that he and Coach Paul Bryant of Alabama conspired to fix the 1962 Georgia-Alabama football game, won by Alabama 35-0.

The jury gave Butts $3 million punitive damages and $60,000 general damages. He had sued for $5 million in each category.

★ ★ ★

Morgan, who presided at the trial, ruled that Curtis Publishing Co., publishers of the Post, would get a new trial unless Butts filed in writing within 20 days an agreement to forego punitive damages above $400,000. The judge did not alter the general damages.

Willborn B. Cody, chief counsel for Curtis, said he would appeal the ruling even if Butts agrees to the reduced judgment.

Schroeder and Allen Lockerman, another Butts attorney, said they felt the decision was an affirmation of Butts' vindication of the charges in the Post article of March 23, 1963, called, The Story of a College Football Fix.

The article said Butts fed pregame data on the Georgia football team to Bryant, that they rigged and fixed the game, and that both were corrupt.

"We told Wally we felt it was an affirmation to his innocence" Schroeder said. "Anyway the big loser in this case will be the Internal Revenue Service, because 91 per cent of the $3 million would have gone to the federal government."

Morgan denied a Curtis motion for reversal of the verdict and a new trial. Curtis had contended the verdict was excessive and that the judge erred in ruling out certain evidence.

Mat Streaks Snapped

Two individual winning steaks were snapped Tuesday evening as Kettering's wrestling team downed Cranbrook, 30-12.

Kettering's Don Gray, undefeated for the season going into the match, dropped a decision to Lance Leithauser in the 127-pound division.

Cranbrook's Tom Barlow, entering the meet with a similar mark, lost to Bob McGregor in the 180-pound class.

In other matches, Royal Oak Kimball won its sixth of the season by downing Fordson, 37-9, and Detroit Thurston pinned a 42-4 defeat on Fitzgerald.

Kettering won eight of 12 events in running its season record to 4-2-1. Cranbrook is 3-2.

Four of Kimball's matmen extended their undefeated strings in the easy win — Joel Mann (103), Ron Neumann (120), Lace Uhley (154) and heavyweight Cragi Irwin.

Howie Young Bows to NHL Decision

CHICAGO (AP)—Howie Young bowed his hot-tempered head and humbly said he was both glad and sorry over his latest penalty—a five-day suspension.

The verdict was handed down Tuesday by Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League and was considered a light sentence in some quarters.

★ ★ ★

Having already been sidelined three games since a spitting-swearing outburst in Toronto Jan. 4, the Chicago Black Hawk defenseman will be elgible to play Sunday night after completing his retroactive sentence.

"I'm glad the whole thing is all over and I'm sorry I caused so much trouble," said Young after hearing the decision. There had been rumors that Young might have been suspended for the remainder of the season or possibly for life.

HECKLING CHARGED

However, Campbell held a preliminary hearing in Chicago last Saturday and Jim Norris, owner of the Black Hawks, came to Young's defense claiming his player was unjustly heckled.

The whole thing started in the game in Toronto a week ago last Saturday. Young received a minor penalty for holding and a major penalty for elbowing. While in the penalty box he was accused of using obscene language and of spitting.

★ ★ ★

The accusations were made in an official protest filed with the league by Stafford Smythe, president of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Young was suspended immediately by Campbell but only later was it learned that Smythe was among those heckling the 26-year-old bad boy of hockey whom the Hawks acquired last summer from Detroit in a trade involving goalie Roger Crozier.

★ ★ ★

Campbell's action of suspending Young even before a hearing was unprecedented and at the time Young felt he was being railroaded because of his behavior history which included a record 273 minutes in penalties last season.

Lake Orion Baptist, First Church of the Brethren and the Pontiac Ministers posted victories as the YMCA Church Men's Basketball League started its final half Monday night.

First Church also surpassed 80 points in winning, 81-41, over Pilgrim Holiness. A 23-point effort by Roger Beadle led the winners.

Royal Oak Swimmers Split Meets

Five swimming marks toppled Tuesday evening as Royal Oak Kimball splashed to a 64-41 triumph over Fordson.

The Knights won six of the 11 events in raising their season record to 7-1.

★ ★ ★

City rival Dondero however could not match the Fitzgerald team's depth and lost 58-47, despite winning six firsts.

Tom Hunt of Dondero was a double winner in the individual medley and the backstroke. His medley time of 2:17.9 was a varsity record.

Dave Pohlonski of Fordson toured the 200-yard freestyle in 2:01.3 and came back with a 4:18.5 mark in winning the 400-yard event.

Cricket Is Automated

SYDNEY, Australia — (NEA) — Automation finally has caught up with cricket.

The playing fields of England, Australia and other countries where the cricket game is played may never be the same since an American company (AMF) has developed an automatic bowling machine.

The machine is capable of bowling fast, medium or slow balls. Star batsmen of the Australian Test Match team found it gave them a good workout.

The contrivance can be adapted to baseball use.

Record Entry Vies for Press Trophy in Kennel Show

A record 602 dogs will parade before the judges at the Pontiac Retail store Sunday with the top selection earning The Pontiac Press Best - in - Show trophy.

★ ★ ★

This number far exceeds any entry for the indoor or outside shows arranged each year by the Pontiac Kennel Club.

In addition, there will be 26 more canines competing for obedience honors in the American Kennel Club sanctioned event. The show will be unbenched, which means the dogs can be taken from the arena when eliminated from competition.

Poodles top the entry list with 58.

The judging gets under way at 9 a.m. in four rings, three on the first level and one in the basement. The show probably won't conclude until after 6 p.m.

UNUSUAL BREEDS

Some unusual breeds are entered, but because there is only one of each, some may not make an appearance. These include a Shih Tzu, Lhasa Apso and Bouvier des Flanders.

★ ★ ★

The judges are Elbert E. Vary, Sterling, Ill.; Maurice L. Baker, Mirror Lake, Minn.; Joseph Faigel, Detroit; Robert E. Noltie, Toledo; and J. Lynn Welsh, Long Grove, Ill.

The popular junior showmanship is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Youngsters are judged on their ability to handle dogs. The work of the dog is not supposed to count in the judging.

This will be followed by the group judging and then the Best-in-Show.

Kent Lake 'Opened' to Cut Winter Kill

Kent Lake, rated one of the top fishing waters in Oakland County, will be a "wide open" lake for the remainder of this year.

★ ★ ★

It is listed among 37 high "die-off" lakes in the state that have been opened to year-round hook and line angling for taking fish of any size or kind during 1964.

The Conservation Department reported, however, that creel limits will remain in force on these lakes.

Judah Lake, north of Pontiac, is the only other county lake included in the list.

Dave Ladlow, manager of Kensington Park where Kent Lake is located, south of Milford, was surprised to learn of the new designation.

"This is the first I heard of it," he told The Press yesterday. "We have had a phenomenon each winter at the lake that the scientists are still trying to unravel.

FIRST ICE

"But it comes with the first ice on only one part of the lake. At the spot on the west side, when the ice gets an inch or so thick, we always have a die-off of bluegills and crappies."

This is only a temporary die-off, he pointed out, and once the ice gets thicker it ceases to be a problem.

"The die-off is caused by a lack of oxygen," said Ladlow. "The scientists know this, but they can't determine why so little ice would cause the trouble."

"Otherwise, I can't say we have had any real die-off problem."

Judah Lake is shallow and thick ice often makes it impossible for sufficient light to penetrate for the normal production of oxygen in the water.

★ ★ ★

The department's move to liberalize fishing is aimed at letting anglers harvest fish which otherwise would probably be wasted through heavy mortality during the winter and hot weather months.

During these times of the year, the lakes' oxygen supplies frequently plunge to extremely low levels, causing fish to suffocate.

The northern Lower Peninsula's list of waters takes in: Twin lakes, Grand Traverse County; Blanche, Walkup and Pettit lakes, Newaygo County; Gilbert lake, Oceana County; Backus (Mud) lake, Roscommon County; and Long and Twin lakes, Wexford county.

BOWLING

Topping the bowling news in recent days is the 214 triplicate bowled by Ray Bishop in the Friday Morning Pontiac Motor League at 300 Bowl.

The highest triplicate reported this year in the county, the 642 series was completed when Bishop struck out in the 10th frame of his last game.

Other high scores in the league were 247 by Phil Frank (620) and 232's by Chuck Beach and Chuck McGee.

Action last Friday at "300" included a 223 by Frank Halsema in the Twilight loop, a 226 by 14-year-old Dennis Stewart in the 300 Guys and Dolls, Bud Collins' 208 in the Fisher Body Trio's, and a 266 by John Hendry in the other Guys and Dolls League.

★ ★ ★

The Goodfellows reported a 255-207—635 performance by Ken Flowers and 236-611 by Fred Earhart; the Royal Bowlerettes had a 234 by Daphne Yenna; and the Ladies All Star loop credited Pat DeLongchamp with 259—582 totals and Dotty Chambers with 214-213—621 scores.

Virginia Brancheau recently hit 245 in the Ins & Outers bowling at "300" while the Thursday Nite Mixed recorded a 236 by Russ Bowker. That day Sue Wisenberg hit 222 in the Pontiac Teachers circuit.

The Board of Education Men's League had a 218 by Dick Rohe last Thursday; and Bill Dick bowled 258-210—618 in the GMC Federal League.

Another triplicate last week saw Viola Roise in the Huron Bowl Ladies Matinee roll a 154 trio.

At Airway Lanes the Queens' loop posted 209—594 top scores for Phyllis Stein last week. Thursday Peg Carter rolled 223—555 and Karens' Carpets team scored 892—2492 totals.

★ ★ ★

The Airway Ten Pinners reported about twice as many good series as normal led by Joyce O'Brien's 480. Freda Southard converted the 3-7-10 and 6-7 splits in the Airway Keglerettes circuit Thursday night; and Wednesday Betzi Waisanen had 207—589 in the Airway First League.

Second Wins for Rec. 5s

Three city recreation basketball teams won their second straight games last night in action at Madison and Lincoln Junior high schools.

★ ★ ★

In National League action at Madison, Town & Country edged Messiah Baptist Church, 74-69, and Wilson's All Stars slipped by Beckers, 57-53.

Both winners boosted their record to 2-0 and remained tied for the league lead.

In Class D play at Lincoln, Victor Paint took its second and first place by topping Neopolitan Club, 59-55. New Hope Baptist Church squared its mark at 1 - 1 by drubbing Auburn Heights Boys Club, 77-56.

Last period rallies decided three of the four games played. Wilson's overcome a four-point deficit, Victor Paint snapped a tie and New Hope extended a three-point edge.

★ ★ ★

Town & Country relied on late foul shooting to stave off Messiah after taking a 37-36 halftime lead.

There will be two Waterford Township recreation games at Pierce JHS tonight, while the city recreation leagues will play two games each at Lincoln JHS and Pontiac Northern.

Lamphere Wins Over Oak Park 5

After a slow first half, Lamphere came back from an 18-17 deficit at intermission to score a 46-41 victory over Oak Park last night.

John Stevens with 13 and Bill Bartolone led the winners while Ralph Mayer had 10 for Oak Park. Stevens' bucket midway in the third quarter put Lamphere ahead to stay, 28-27.

3,917 Birds Observed; County Lake Survey Set

Pontiac Audubon Club members counted 3,917 birds during the late December one-day observation near Lake Orion, final tabulation revealed today.

An area 15 miles in diameter was covered by 25 members. They observed 36 species inside the circle and six more outside.

Interesting species seen were Yellow-bellied Sapsucker, Red-breasted Nuthatch, Hermit Thrush, Northern Shrike and White-crowned Sparrow.

Outside the circle Long-eared and Short-eared Owls, Belted Kingfisher, Towhee and Snow Bunting were reported.

Summer birds staying for the winter were Robin, Meadow lark, Mourning Dove, Flicker, Cowbird, Goldfinch and Song Sparrow.

SEEK REPORTS

Interesting reports from feeding stations are still welcomed. The club's next meeting is tonight at 7:30 p. m. at All Saints Episcopal Church.

Eight Oakland County lakes and ponds are scheduled for winter mapping by the Conservation Department.

On the department list of 30 some waters to be surveyed are Crystal, Holdridge, Algoe, Lower Pettibone, Lower Alderman and Moss lakes. Included are Fenton trout ponds number one and two.

To guide future fish management work, a mapping crew will plot bottom contours, lake outlines and depths, and shoreline features.

Eventually, the maps resulting from this work, will be reproduced and made available to fishermen and lake frontage owners.

Fishing on area lakes has been slow.

Albert Lighthall, 1153 Coshocton, caught a six-pound pike Monday morning on Cass Lake with a tipup. The fish measured 31 inches.

Rabbits continue to be very spotty.

George Vernot of Pontiac and Milton Sweigert of Oxford took nine last Saturday while hunting near Oxford. They used beagles.

Deer Continue Moving About Despite Snow

Winter continued to be good to Northern Michigan's deer herd and whitetails were showing it during the first two weeks of 1964.

Throughout their northern range, the animals appeared to be in first-rate condition because they have been able to range in better food areas longer than usual during the cold-weather season.

★ ★ ★

Generally, whitetails were still not tightly yarded in their wintering swampland areas when the new year arrived.

Dog Demonstration Set for Tomorrow

The first of three dog training demonstrations will be tomorrow night at Whitfield school on Orchard Lake Road at 8 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Persons interested in entering dogs in the classes are urged to leave them home demonstration night.

Additional information can be obtained from Reg Armstrong (Whitfield), FE 2-7749; Len Schell (Walled Lake), EM 3-6149; and the Waterford recreation department (CAI), OR 4-0376.

Bow Class Scheduled

The city parks and recreation Department's winter archer program will start Jan. 22, at the Straight Arrow Archery range, 78 N. Paddock.

The sessions will continue Jan. 29, Feb. 5, 12, 19, 26 and March 4, 11.

Classes are open to boys and girls eight years old and over. Adults, if accompanied by a youth, can participate. All equipment is provided.

Olen and Wendell Banks will be the instructors and registration will be taken the first night. The classes will be each night at 5:30, 6:30, 7:30 and 8:30.

Eight-Point Loss Aids Battle in Keg League

Co-leader Drewry's dropped eight points last week to tighten the battle for first place in the Huron Bowl Wednesday Night "A" League.

Ten Pin Barber Shop pulled the upset that dumped the losers into a tie with Wolverine Entertainers. Drewry's Don Myers had a 236 game for the night's top single line.

The fourth-place 300 Bowl squad had a 632 by Mo Yarnold for the night's best series.

Commission to Review Special Study

Michigan's Conservation Commission will continue its review of recommendations of the Governor's study committee when it meets Thursday and Friday at the Inn America, East Lansing.

★ ★ ★

The commission is scheduled to work out a report for the governor, explaining how and when it plans to implement suggestions for streamlining the state's natural resource management programs.

Also, the commission will list legislative changes which will be needed to put the committee's proposals into effect.

A sale of state salt mining rights is recommended in Wayne County, involving about 50 acres which lie under the Detroit Industrial Expressway.

★ ★ ★

Waiting consideration are trapping regulations which call for a generally conservative season on beaver and otter in the Upper and Northern Lower peninsulas this spring.

A liberalized take of beaver is projected for the southern Lower Peninsula.

Fish Division Boss Retiring

Albert B. Cook, chief of the Conservation Department's fish division, has announced he will retire Feb. 22, almost 35 years to the day since he began his career in fisheries work.

Cook joined the department as field superintendent of the fish division early in 1929.

His first duties centered upon development and expansion of fish hatcheries, and he was instrumental in putting the department's program of fingerling plantings into gear.

★ ★ ★

A life-long resident of Shiawassee County, he was named assistant chief of the fish division in 1945 upon his return from the Pacific Theater. He rose to lieutenant colonel and served on General MacArthur's headquarters staff during the final months of World War II.

He moved up as head of the division in July, 1959, succeeding Fred A. Westerman.

Trading Is Rapid

Market Edges Toward Highs

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged toward new highs early this afternoon in continued rapid trading.

Half a dozen or more key issues including AT&T, IBM, New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad traded at 1963-64 highs. The market averages approached historic peaks or exceeded them.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .7 at noon at 290.3, above the closing record established yesterday. The Dow Jones industrial average was off .13, at 774.36 at noon, falling back from a small morning gain.

A majority of the advances were fractional and many groups displayed an uneven pattern. Volume was running at a speedier pace than yesterday which was the busiest session of the year.

MORE SPEED DUE

Many market experts felt that the New Year rally was due to pick up speed again after a short interruption. They cited no particular news but believe the internal condition of the market is stronger than it appeared earlier.

★ ★ ★

Cigarette and cigar issues, which have attracted attention all week, were generally lower. Lorillard and Reynolds Tobacco were off around a point and Liggett and Myers, American Tobacco, Philip Morris and U.S. Tobacco were all down smaller amounts. General Cigar was an exception, picking up nearly a point.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in fairly active dealings. Syntex opened late, up 7 on a 20,600 share block. Later trading was halted with the price up about 12½. Philips Electronics was ahead 3 before trading was stopped temporarily.

★ ★ ★

Bond prices were unchanged to lower in morning trading.

Diagnosis of Trouble in Learning Needed

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

Not until John had finished high school did anyone diagnose his difficulty in learning.

DR. NASON

It wasn't very complicated. John's trouble was connected with reading, and had started in the third grade.

During the next nine years of school, more than 30 teachers, a series of principals, vice principals, counselors and school psychologists failed to pinpoint his trouble.

I have known many students whose handicaps have gone undetected for years in the same manner as John's. Among them, an 11th grade boy whose handwriting was still at the third-grade lvel; a college girl who had not learned the multiplication tables — hundreds of students with lesser shortcomings.

★ ★ ★

In fact, surveys of college students reveal that most of them have learning difficulties. The most frequent wish expressed by these students was that more attention had been given to their learning techniques.

COUNSELING LACK

Where do the schools fail all these people? The answer lies somewhere in counseling procedures. Students' learning problems must be given more thorough consideration.

The schools need diagnosticians!

To help a student, school counselors must diagnose the students' difficulties and substitute correct procedures. It is not a simple matter of telling the student what to do.

Before he can adopt a new learning technique a student must not only be convinced the benefit which the change will bring—he must feel he can succeed with it.

The success of modern medicine is greatly due to the physician's skill in making careful diagnoses.

Education must follow the same pattern.

Counselors must have more training and experience as diagnosticians of learning difficulties.

The procedures are time consuming but rewarding. Someone should talk to the student about his study habits for each subject. What is his procedure for studying the next day's assignment?

What does he think about in class? What does his notebook contain? What do his test papers show regarding his thought processes? What are his memory schemes? Is his skill in handwriting adequate?

In such a detailed approach the weak points in learning procedures become evident to one trained in detecting them.

Although the diagnosis may indicate several improvements are needed, the chances of success are better when the student concentrates on a limited number of changes.

As new procedures bring success, the student is willing to expand his efforts and try other innovations.

★ ★ ★

Counselors may find it difficult to give this much time to an individual student. However, each time they do, they have one less "problem child" to think about—they have helped one more student to greater success!

By OSWALD JACOBY

While there are no such words as "never" and "always" in a bridge expert's vocabulary he does use many a "hardly ever" or "almost always."

JACOBY

One place where the expert stands firm is that when he opens with one on a 5-3-3-2 hand with less than 15 points in high cards, naming five card suit, he does not rebid if his partner's response is one no-trump.

South had never learned this simple fact of bridge life, so when North responded one no-trump to his opening spade bid South was in two spades as soon as the bid came back to him.

Nothing really serious like a disaster happened. West opened the jack of hearts. East played the six and South won with the king. South played ace-king and another spade.

West took the third spade with the jack and continued hearts. Eventually, the defense collected two spades, two hearts, one diamond and one club for a 50-point profit.

Had South just passed at one no-trump East would probably have opened his fourth best diamond and North would have wound up making two no-trump.

A heart lead would have given North one more trick while a spade opening might have held him to one, but no defense could possibly have beaten him so that all South's rebid had cost him was the difference between a plus and a minus score.

Incidentally, it is possible to set up the East-West hands so that two spades will make and one no trump will go down.

Thus South's rebid to two spades might have been a winner. This time it was a losing bid, and year in and year out such rebids will be losers.

♥♣CARD Sense♠♦

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
4 ♠	Pass	4 N.T.	Pass
5 ♦	Pass	5 N.T.	Pass

You, South, hold:
♠ A K Q J 9 7 3 2 ♥ 2 ♦ 3 ♣ 8 6 4
What do you do?

A—Bid six diamonds. Your partner is perfectly capable of playing you for an eight card spade suit and going to seven if that is all he needs from you.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of passing, West bids five hearts over your four spades. North doubles. What do you do?

Refuse Piles Burned to End Air Pollution

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) research on the elimination of air pollution by burning piles of refuse from coal cleaning plants is a major project in the Department of Mineral Preparation at Pennsylvania State University.

The refuse piles, which may bulk up to 20 million tons, cannot be extinguished once they are burning and may burn for 30 to 50 years, creating health and welfare hazards.

An estimated 140 such piles are afire in Pennsylvania coal regions; across the nation, there are about 450. There also are thousands of piles that have not yet ignited and are potential dangers.

The nonpoisonous black snake seizes its prey by the mouth and presses it to the ground. It is not a constrictor.

'Welfare Deals Weaken U.S.'

GOP State Chairman Raps Dem Programs

GROSSE POINTE FARMS (AP) — An excessive welfare philosophy practiced by Democratic officials "is spreading an infection of indolence among the people of this nation," State Republican Chairman Arthur Elliott Jr. said Tuesday night.

Elliott appeared as a lecturer at the Fries Auditorium at Grosse Pointe Farms.

"Three decades of new dealism, fair dealism and new frontierism has weakened citizen capacity for enterprise, initiative and creativity—three elements needed to maintain flourishing societies, Elliott said.

HAD MERIT

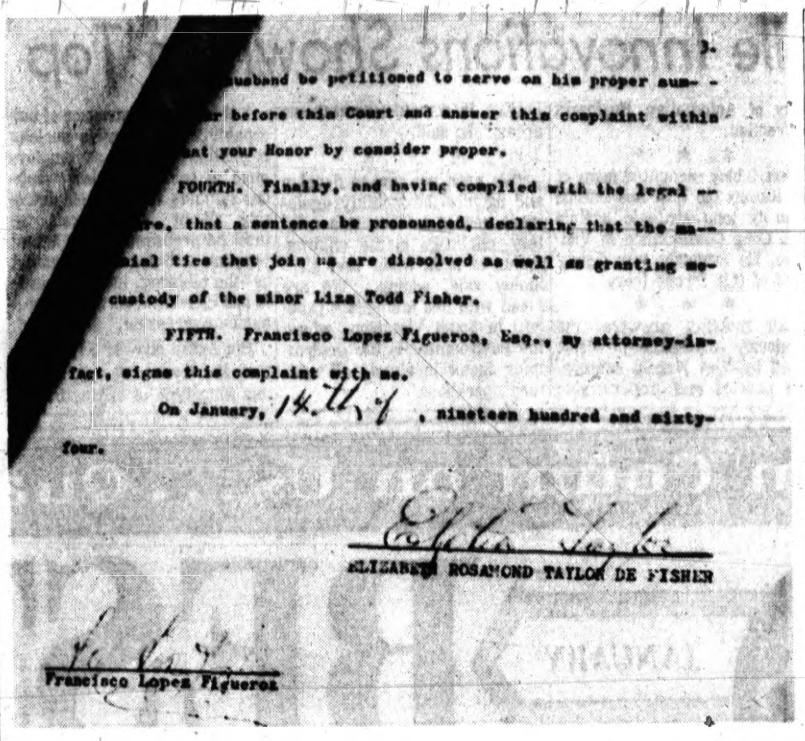

New deal programs had merit at their outset, he said, but they long ago outlived their usefulness.

"Today," Elliott added, "Democrats use the welfare-subsidy-handout techniques for the sole purpose of controlling votes of organized blocs and thus keeping control of public offices."

Elliott said the Republican Party has become "the symbol of spirit of progress" in Michigan.

The party gained public confidence, he said, when it led the campaign to rewrite and modernize the state constitution.

The 1963 legislature, under the influence of Gov. Romney, he said, "produced a record unmatched in the last decade."

DIVORCE PETITION — This is the final page of a Mexican divorce petition which Elizabeth Taylor filed against singer Eddie Fisher in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, yesterday. Miss Taylor charged that Fisher "abandoned" her home more than a year ago without starting divorce proceedings of his own.

Liz Files for Divorce; Marriage Snag Seen

PUERTO VALLARTA, Mexico (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor's suit to divorce Eddie Fisher "surely will not be settled" in time for her to marry Richard Burton in Mexico, one of her attorneys said today.

Miss Taylor filed for divorce in Puerto Vallarta Tuesday, charging that Fisher "abandoned our legal domicile more than a year ago and we have lived separated since without his having started any action to dissolve our marriage."

★ ★ ★

Burton must leave Puerto Vallarta by Jan. 23 for Toronto to begin rehearsing a stage production of "Hamlet."

Antonio Valenzuela, one of her attorneys, said the divorce "surely will not be settled before Mr. Burton's departure."

21 DAYS

Judge Arcadio Estrada, with whom the suit was filed, gave Fisher 21 days to reply. Valenzuela said he would fly to Mexico Ctiy today with the papers calling on Fisher to reply and airmail them to another lawyer for Miss Taylor, Milton Rudin of Los Angeles. Rudin is to deliver them to the Clark County, Nev., sheriff's office for delivery to Fisher, who is filling a singing engagement in Las Vegas.

Fisher had no comment on his wife's action, although he said Monday he was not "creating any difficulties" for Miss Taylor. Fisher's lawyer in New York, Louis Nizer, also would not comment.

★ ★ ★

Miss Taylor and Burton, secluded in the cliffside home they have shared in Puerto Vallarta since September, refused to talk to newsmen.

Miss Taylor's suit said she and Fisher had no community property to dispose of "because we never acquired any." But Rudin said in Los Angeles negotiations still were in progress to settle division of her profits from the movie "Cleopatra."

★ ★ ★

Miss Taylor and Fisher formed a joint Swiss firm to handle her 10 per cent cut of the film's gross. There are estimates that her share will run between $2 million and $7 million.

In her suit Miss Taylor asked custody of her daughter by the late Mike Todd, Liza, whom Fisher legally adopted.

Stalin Impersonator Sees Hoodlum Role a Challenge

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—New Yorkers are being urged to do a good turn for Peter Falk.

If they run into him around Broadway, they are asked, please go up to the guy and tell him he's the world's biggest heel . . . It'll give him confidence.

WILSON

He's in training to play Stalin and he's not sure he's bad enough. He needs reassuring.

Peter's worked his way up in hoodlums, from minor hoods to the hoodlums' hoodlum, Stalin, and it's got him as nervous as a hood going to the chair.

"It's the hardest thing I ever tried to do," Peter said with a frown and a sad head-wagging as he brooded over a cup of coffee as Sardi's. His collar was open. He'd been rehearsing Paddy Chayefsky's forthcoming show, "The Passion of Josef D."

"Stalin murdered millions . . . if he had to kill 5 million people, O. K. . . . he was the most ruthless tyrant in world's history . . . by comparison, Hitler was a clown . . . Any way, that's how Paddy sees him.

"Actors playing historical giants usually come out thin by comparison. I include myself. I played Napoleon, U. S. Grant, Castro, Stendahl, and a local boy, Abe Reles.

"All actors seem thin by comparison except Liz Taylor as 'Cleopatra.' She didn't seem too thin!"

★ ★ ★

Falk thinks he knows a little about Stalin, inasmuch as he made a movie in the U.S.S.R. last summer—he even hustled three Russian icons on the Russian black market and now has them at his Hollywood home.

"Their black market guys come right up to you on the street and ask in English if you want to do business. They come to your room. They put a pillow over the phone. They make an appointment to deliver the stuff under some bridge.

"I asked one guy, 'What about the police?' He said, 'I handle them with a pay-off' . . . Sort of like a capitalist country where money's important," concluded Peter Falk.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Duke Ellington, opening at Basin Street East with the Ahmad Jamal trio, came on stage and said, "You've heard the wonderful Ahmad Jamal. Now I would like you to meet our piano player." He then turned to the vacant piano bench . . . walked over and began playing.

Peter Lawford put on a complete waiter's outfit and served food and drinks to customers at Jilly's the other A.M. for laughs, when he arrived with Judy Garland after visiting daughter Lisa at the hospital. Judy, informed that there is a "Save the Judy Garland Program Committee" which is collecting petitions, exclaimed, "Get a lot of them quick! I'm with them!" . . . Sybil Burton and Roddy MacDowall showed the Rex Harrisons a new dance, The Magillah, at Trude Heller's.

Cash, Jewels Taken From LA Executive

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police have disclosed that burglars took $112,000 in cash and jewels last Friday from the home of Norman Chandler, chairman and president of the Times-Mirror Co.

Sgt. Dale Dennis said Tuesday the loot was taken from two second-floor dressing rooms while Chandler and his wife were sleeping nearby.

Arabs Appear in Agreement

No Signs of Strife in Summit Conference

CAIRO (AP) — The Arab summit conference pushed toward its final hours today without visible disagreements.

Expectations grew that the leaders would arrive at some sort of challenge to Israel's impending Jordan River Project.

The leaders began the third day of talks with another secret session. Each was accompanied by only one senior adviser.

★ ★ ★

King Hassan II of Morocco was absent. He flew home today, leaving Foreign Minister, Mohammed Godera to act for him.

HE MUST LEAVE

The Moroccan King had previously informed other leaders he must depart today.

There were indications the Arabs were reaching agreement on their own water scheme to counter Israel's plan to divert part of the Jordan waters for irrigation of the Negev Desert.

The Arabs have been talking about cutting off the Jordan headwaters, which Israel says it will oppose with force.

★ ★ ★

Since the conference began Monday, not a ripple of disharmony has been heard.

AGREEMENT

Signs of concord continued to flow from the leaders today.

The United Arab Republic announced it would return three Jordanian air force planes flown here by five defectors last year.

Jordan in turn announced that the fliers, condemned to death in absentia, had been amnestied and could return home as free men.

★ ★ ★

These and other agreements have been reached in bilateral talks among the leaders.

Conference sources said there were at least 20 such discussions yesterday and more this morning before the secret conference sessions resumed.

Fighters of Toll on Big Mac Span to Incorporate

LANSING (AP)—A group seeking to make the Mackinac Bridge toll-free and turn it over to the federal government has filed papers as a non-profit corporation.

★ ★ ★

Articles of incorporation for the "Crusade for a Toll-Free Mackinac Bridge" were filed today with the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission by Albin Neller, a Lansing attorney.

★ ★ ★

The group's stated purpose is "a public relations campaign and-or legislative action" to have the tolls lifted from the bridge and to "bring about payment and-or retirement" of bonds.

The group seeks to have the bridge made a part of the federal inter-state highway system.

Car-Truck Collision Fatal to Detroit Man

DETROIT (AP) — A car collided with a fuel oil truck here Tuesday, killing one man and injuring another and spilling 1,100 gallons of oil into the street.

Joseph Anstett, 50, of Detroit was killed when the car in which he was riding struck the truck. Abraham Mukalla, 43, of Detroit, received head and chest injuries.

Police Horses Sick in San Francisco Park

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—For the first time in the history of Golden Gate Park—now around 75 years—not a single mounted policeman patrolled there today.

No horses. All 27 have pneumonia, but Dr. William Mottran, city veterinarian, said he expects them all to recover.

Few nations are more densely populated than Haiti.

Boy to Lose Heart Sac in Surgery

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Billy Tom, 6, is about to lose part of his heart to a national Jewish hospital surgeon.

When he does, the bright-eyed little Eskimo boy will be able to look forward to a fairly normal existence.

The surgery will be done to relieve a viselike pressure that threatens to stop his heartbeat. Preoperation tests still are being made on the boy.

★ ★ ★

Billy, who hails from the Alaskan village of Newtok, became ill with tuberculosis last June. Fluid carrying the disease germs accumulated around his heart.

REMOVE SAC

Part of the pericardial sac in the heart will be removed in the operation, and this will drain away the tubercular fluid, a doctor said.

★ ★ ★

"After it's done," he said, "Billy should be able to live quite normally."

In 1960 the median age of farm people was 29.6 years, almost identical with that of the total population, 29.5.

Army Mobile Innovations Shown to Top Engineers

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT—The Army Tuesday gave 23,000 of the nation's top engineers a peek at some of the latest innovations it has developed to better handle any future brush-fire wars.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Gen. Alden K. Sibley, commanding general of the Army Mobility Command in Detroit, was the main speaker at "Army Aviation Day" at the Society of Automotive Engineers convention.

★ ★ ★

Gen. Sibley recounted many of the lessons the U.S. has learned from its long struggle against Viet Cong Communists in Viet-Nam. He formerly was deputy chief of U.S. forces there.

★ ★ ★

"Air mobility answered the previously impossible problems posed by Viet Nam's swamps, rice paddies and impenetrable jungles in remote mountainous areas," he said.

"We must act now to develop and acquire the mobility equipment needed to face this military challenge in the environments of land, water and air," Sibley said, adding, "We are faced with this immediate problem in South Viet Nam where the environment is the determining factor in almost all military operations.

"Although maintenance of our capability for massive nuclear retaliation as well as employment of tactical nuclear weapons remains essential for deterring all-out nuclear war, we must be prepared for the actual war that is being fought against us—the nibbling, limited, guerilla and conventional war of Communist aggression," Sibley said.

The Army showed SAE members the Ryan "Fleep", a flexible wing type of "flying truck" designed to operate out of rugged, unimproved areas in logistic support of combat troops; the XV4 a "Hummingbird" plane which can fly sideways or hover motionless above the ground, then dart away at speeds up to 500 miles an hour; and the Curtis Wright X19 tilt prop aircraft for vertical takeoff and landing.

★ ★ ★

Discussion of the V-STOL aspects of Army mobility took up a major portion of the day. The Army reported on several such planes which are in the development stage.

Basically, they were developed for use on very short landing fields. One type requires only a 300-foot long landing field to get airborne

Both the Hummingbird and the General Electric-Ryan Aeronautical SV5 A Verifan will be ready soon for Army operational trails. Both provide vertical takeoff by directing a stream of air downward from an opening in the lower side of the wing.

Bankers Honor Bootblack

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Grazio J. Pasquarello — "Joe" to his friends — has been a bootblack for 54 years.

He is semiretired now, working only in the mornings. He still charges only 20 cents a shine and accepts no tips from his 35 or so customers, all bankers.

Today, the bankers will show their appreciation. They'll present a silver water pitcher to the 78-year-old bootblack.

★ ★ ★

After the presentation, Joe will be back at the same old stand. He said he is deeply appreciative, but today is "just another day" — and another $7.00 or so.

Man of Year Selected

Dr. Don O. Tatroe last night was named Outstanding Young Man of the Year by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Also honored at the annual Jaycees Bosses' Night Banquet at Airway Lanes was Max Adams, manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, who was named Boss of the Year.

Tatroe, who is superintendent of Waterford Township Schools, was cited for outstanding work in behalf of the school system as well as his civic and church activities.

The 35-year-old educator organized a citizens advisory committee on school needs last winter which paved the way to passage of a $6.25-million school building program.

DROPOUT PLAN

His work in the development of a program for potential high school dropouts also was singled out.

Tatroe, who became superintendent of schools last Jan. 28, joined the Jaycees a month later. He served as chairman of the Jaycee-sponsored Junior Miss Pageant last month.

Married, Tatroe lives at 3268 Angelus and has four children.

EXPRESSES GRATITUDE — Mrs. John F. Kennedy yesterday broadcast public thanks for the condolences from a world that shared her grief when her husband was slain. She said she has received nearly 800,000 messages.

Tearful Mrs. Kennedy Thanks Nation, World

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy told the nation of her grief and of the comfort she gained from the thousands of messages after her husband's assassination.

"Whenever I can bear to, I read them," she said, her eyes shining with tears, then murmured: "All his bright light gone from the world."

The former first lady expressed the thanks of herself and her children for the 800,000 messages of tribute and condolence in a statement broadcast on radio and television yesterday from the office of her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Clad in black and sitting before a blazing fireplace, Mrs. Kennedy said the "knowledge of the affection in which my husband was held by all of you has sustained me, and the warmth of these tributes is something I shall never forget."

In a voice so low it was barely audible to those around her, the late president's 34-year-old widow declared that "all of you who have written to me know how much we all loved him and that he returned that love in full measure."

★ ★ ★

She said it is her greatest wish to acknowledge all the letters, even though "it will take a long time."

TO BE TREASURED

Mrs. Kennedy declared that "each and every message is to be treasured not only for my children but so that future generations will know how much our country and people in other nations thought of him."

The letters thus will be placed eventually, she said, in the Kennedy library to be erected in Boston — a library which she hopes will become "a living center of study of the times in which he lived."

After delivering her statement, Mrs. Kennedy moved toward a cluster of reporters she remembered from White House days who scattered to make way.

Mrs. Kennedy, smiling, said: "Don't run away! I just want to say hello."

★ ★ ★

Among a sampling of the messages Mrs. Kennedy received was a cablegram from Warsaw, Poland, which said simply: "We weep with you."

Pontiac Sales at New Highs

Marks Keep Falling for Most Companies

For the tenth consecutive 10-day period since the introduction of current models, Pontiac Motor Division sales were at an all-time high.

Frank V. Bridge, Pontiac general sales manager, said 15,785 Pontiacs and Tempests were sold Jan. 1-10, surpassing by 11 per cent the previous record of 14,126 set in the same period a year ago.

The Oldsmobile Division of General Motors also reported record sales of 13,780 for the 10-day period, an increase of 8 per cent over the prior 1956 record.

★ ★

Chevrolet car sales, however, were down for the period — 49,287, compared with 55,311 for the first 10 days of 1963. Truck sales reached 11,683 compared to 10,723 last year.

ALL-TIME HIGH

Ford Division of the Ford Motor Co. set an all-time record for sales of cars and trucks for the 10-day period.

Ford car sales were 38,144, up more than 2,500 units over last year, and truck sales 9,315, up nearly 700 units. The sale of Thunderbirds increased 60 per cent.

Lincoln-Mercury's 10-day figures were reported to be the best since 1955.

★ ★ ★

The division said it retailed 7,875 cars for the first 10 days of this month, a 5 per cent increase over the same period last year.

SLIGHTLY HIGHER

Chrysler Corp. said it sold 18,877 new cars as against 18,046 for the same period in 1963.

The company reported its sales of Plymouth cars were 11,612, a 4 per cent increase.

Revised ADC-U Plan Meets Federal Standards

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney is going to the legislature with a revised plan to qualify Michigan for federal ADC-U funds. He has been given prior assurance the plan complies with federal standards.

Fred Steininger, director of the Bureau of Family Services of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, says the proposal "does not contain any element that would prevent implementation in accordance with federal requirements."

His telegram refers specifically to the eligibility provisions of the new ADC-U plan—the same section on which Michigan stubbed its toe in 1963.

Last year's bill had limited ADC-U eligibility to persons who had been eligible for state unemployment compensation since 1958, a provision HEW officials labeled "discriminatory."

Romney charged the federal agency with being "arbitrary and capricious" and discriminating against Michigan.

★ ★ ★

He announced in December, however, he would propose amended legislation this year.

PROVISION ABOLISHED

In order to meet federal standards, the 1963 definition of an unemployed parent is abolished. The new definition includes the following:

—No eligible parent can be engaged in gainful work for more than 32 hours in a two-week period.

—The parent must maintain registration with the Michigan Employment Service, and must seek and accept work if it is available.

RETRAINING

Romney said the new bill "provides for retraining through vocational and educational programs of other state agencies and departments, and assures maximum use of the state's help in finding a new job.

"Such a definition would include those who should be included by virtue of unemployment through no fault of their own, and exclude those who would malinger, refuse training, or use the program as a way of life," he said.

Romney said the new plan's eligibility definition would qualify an estimated 5,800 families, or 33,000 needy parents and children, for ADC-U funds.

Flies Plane Into School in Suicide

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — A former mental patient ignored police rifle fire and the pleas of the man who taught him to fly and crashed his private plane into a classroom building at Oklahoma Baptist University yesterday.

The pilot, Robert Lawson, 43, Inola, Okla., was killed when the rented single-engine plane ripped a gaping hole in the side of Shawnee Hall and burst into flames.

Lawson had warned by radio he would crash into the administration building. But since he left the campus several years ago, administrative offices had been moved to Thurmond Hall.

★ ★ ★

Officers evacuated Thurmond Hall, but scores of students were taking final examinations in Shawnee Hall. No one else was injured.

SON IS STUDENT

Lawson's son, Mike, 21, is a student at the college. His former wife, Vashti, is a junior high school teacher here.

Police fired high-powered rifles at the plane as it winged low over the Student Union and angled past a flag pole on its fatal run. An autopsy later showed no bullet wounds in Lawson's body.

Fred Reese, Shawnee airport manager who taught Lawson to fly when Lawson was a student here 24 years ago, said he tried by radio to talk Lawson out of making his suicide flight.

★ ★ ★

"He felt this entire world was against him," Reese said.

Lawson — who was classified as psychotic by doctors at Central State Hospital three years ago—rented the airplane at Tulsa late Tuesday morning.

Bob Bass, the college's athletic director, watched the fatal plunge from about 150 yards away.

"He angled over the Student Union and then gave it the throttle," Bass said.

FAMILY EVACUATED — U.S. Army Spec. 4 Marion B. Harris of Harlingen, Tex., takes his wife and baby to a plane at the Panama Canal Zone airfield, where they, along with other U.S. dependents, were airlifted yesterday to the United States.

Panama, U.S. Agree to Resume Relations

PANAMA (AP) — The United States and Panama agreed today to reestablish diplomatic relations "as quickly as possible" and to open discussions 30 days after resumption of relations on all issues between the two countries.

The agreement, reached at 1:10 a.m., did not specifically mention the treaty giving the United States control of the Panama Canal Zone, which Panama wants revised.

Its language made clear this would be among the issues to be discussed.

Panamanian President Roberto Chiari's press officer, Fabian Velarde, said his government would wait awhile, perhaps a week, "to let things cool off" before resuming relations with the United States.

He said Panama then would ask a third government to advise Washington of the desire to restore relations, which Chiari broke off at the height of the crisis last weekend.

★ ★ ★

The intermediary is expected to be Costa Rica, which was named to handle Panama's affairs in Washington during the break.

REACH AGREEMENT

The agreement was reached by Edwin M. Martin, President Johnson's special envoy, and Panamanian Foreign Minister Galileo Solis, meeting with the peace committee of the Organization of American States. Martin, Solis and the OAS group had been negotiating since Sunday night.

Panama is not expected to call on the United States to get out of the Canal Zone, which cuts the strategic Central American country in half. Solis has made clear that Panama is not interested in running the canal.

He stressed, however, that his government will seek to reduce the boundaries of the zone, which is 10 miles wide and extends 36 miles from the Caribbean to the Pacific.

Panama also is expected to seek an increase in the $1.9 million the United States pays annually for the use of the canal and greater opportunities for advancement for Panamanians in the Canal Zone Company.

Quiet prevailed along the Canal Zone borders where 21 Panamanians and three U.S. soldiers were killed last weekend.

Wives and children of U.S. military and civilian personnel who were driven from homes on Panamanian territory by the violence began to leave for the United States. About 900 were expected to leave.

Romney Plan Would Bring $13.6 Million

Lighter Welfare Load Seen at Local Level in Six-Point Package

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has proposed a six-point welfare program to increase Michigan's share of federal funds by $13.6 million, ease the burden on local government and cost the state nothing more.

In a special message to the legislature, Romney called yesterday for adoption of the plan that, he said, would bring an added $13.6 million in U.S. welfare aid to Michigan.

Some $7 million of this would be used to expand participation in programs of federal aid to dependent children of unemployed ADS-U, medical care to aged, aid to the blind and aid to the disabled.

Romney said Michigan's local units of government — which finance direct relief chiefly through the property tax — would realize a $6.6 million saving.

★ ★ ★

In some cases state expenditures would rise and in others they would fall, but Romney said there would be no over-all change in the amount spent on welfare from state funds.

SOLVE PROBLEMS

"Implementing the recommendations in this message will do much to solve the critical problems of the unemployed, the elderly, the disabled, the blind and the poor," said the governor.

The key to the program, he said, is taking greater advantage of existing federal social welfare programs.

"While we may be philosophically uncertain as to the extension and addition of new federal programs, we should not hesitate to make effective use of those. . .already established and operating," he said.

Mainstay of Romney's plan was a proposal to revise the Truck Pact or Strike?

JAMES R. HOFFA

CHICAGO (UPI) — This may be the day Teamsters President James R. Hoffa signs his first national trucking contract — or calls a nationwide strike.

There were varying indications from both sides as to which might happen.

"They are very close to agreement," a Teamsters spokesman said late yesterday.

★ ★ ★

However, a trucking negotiator said the Teamsters had rejected industry's money offer. He indicated further meetings with the union would continue.

FURTHER MEETINGS

C. G. Zwingle, chairman of the negotiating committee of Trucking Employers, Inc., said the undisclosed money offer was "equitable and fair." He said he would report the developments to the executive policy committee, then contact the union for further meetings.

★ ★ ★

"We have bargained for several months on a collective bargaining agreement which affects the entire United States," Zwingle said, "and have been able to reach agreement on the form of the contract, most of the provisions of the master agreement, as well as many of the various supplemental area agreements."

★ ★ ★

Hoffa said one week ago that he would call a strike against six nationwide trucking firms if a national agreement was not reached by today. He repeated the threat yesterday.

MAKE DV Project Unit

Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt yesterday was elected to head up a new Oakland County chapter to support Project HOPE.

Judge Pratt was elected by 30 citizens at a dinner meeting at the Kingsley Inn.

Former Congressman Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso was host.

★ ★ ★

Bentley heads up a pilot endeavor to set up the first statewide organization for HOPE.

OTHERS ESTABLISHED

He said other chapters have already been established in seven Michigan cities and communities.

Now on its third voyage since 1960, the S. S. Hope visits underdeveloped countries with the primary task of training medical and nursing personnel there.

Bentley said the training, of course, involves treatment. The former Congressman told of HOPE's impact.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Harold A. Furlong, 35 S. Johnson, said a Project HOPE chapter in Oakland County three years ago raised $5,000 to support the hospital vessel.

ANNUAL BUDGET

Bentley said the project has an annual budget of $5 million. The U.S. government contributes $1 million for the actual operation of the S. S. Hope. The rest comes from public donations.

Pratt, the new chairman, told the citizens group that he would check into how other chapters operate before making plans for the local unit.

Ideas Worth Plenty

Suggestions for making work easier and safer or improving plant operations are worth more than ever at Pontiac Motor Division. Just ask Arthur R. Ripley of Independence Township.

Shortly after General Manager E. M. Estes announced that the maximum award had been increased, Ripley, 31, of 6729 Amy turned in a suggestion that won him the first $6,000 top prize.

Ripley is a senior clerk in the product engineering department. His idea was to reroute the heater water hose, which subsequently resulted in a considerable saving.

★ ★ ★

In presenting Ripley with U.S. Savings Bonds, Estes said, "The suggestion plan has helped hundreds of our men and women to develop their ingenuity and initiative.

OUTSTANDING AID

"Their ideas have made an outstanding contribution toward improving tools, production methods and processes, equipment and office procedures."

Since the start of the GM suggestion plan, more than five million have been submitted and 1.2 million have been adopted. Awards have totaled more than $53 million.

Ripley has submitted 13 suggestions since he joined the division in 1956. This is his first to be adopted.

Ripley and his wife have a 3-year-old daughter.

FARRELL E. ROBERTS

To Seek Seat in U.S. House

Roberts Now Senator for Oakland County

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, announced today that he will be a candidate for the U.S. Congress from the new 19th District this year.

Roberts, currently in his second term in the Senate after two terms in the state House of Representatives, said he will seek the GOP nomination.

The district includes Pontiac, the northern and western parts of Oakland County and all of Livingston County.

★ ★ ★

"The new 19th District will be one of the most complex in the state," Roberts said. "It has industry, agriculture and fast-growing suburban areas."

'PRIOR EXPERIENCE'

"The district should be represented by someone with prior legislative experience," he said.

Roberts, who once was thought more likely to run for the new state appellate court than for Congress, said he was "bothered by" Congress' "sit-down strike" this year.

He said he was interested especially in mental health legislation on the national level and in foreign affairs.

The senator said he had originally preferred running for Congress, but had been disposed toward the appellate court as more conducive to family life.

FAIL TO ESTABLISH

The State Legislature, however, failed to set up the appellate court last month.

Oakland University Development Director James Dickerson and Pontiac attorney Richard D. Kuhn also have announced their candidacies for the GOP nomination in the 19th District.

Both had expected Roberts not to run for Congress.

Lawyer Takes Oswald Case

Attorney to Defend Accused JFK Killer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A New York lawyer has agreed to represent Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, and will try to prove him innocent, Oswald's mother said Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Marguerite Oswald told reporters that attorney Mark Lane would appear for her dead son before the special presidential commission investigating the assassination.

Lane several weeks ago submitted a lengthy brief to the commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, stating that Oswald should be defended.

HER CLAIMS

Mrs. Oswald contends her son is innocent, or acted with others if guilty. Evidence released by government agencies has indicated Oswald acted alone.

The mother said Lane visited her in Fort Worth over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

She complained she has not been permitted to see her son's widow, Marina Oswald, who is under Secret Service protection and is represented by a lawyer and a business agent.

Oswald, 24, was charged with the Nov. 22 assassination of Kennedy, the fatal shooting of Dallas policeman J. D. Tippit and the attempted murder of Texas Gov. John Connally, who was riding in a car with Kennedy.

WAS KILLED

Oswald was shot as officers prepared to transfer him to the county jail. Jack Ruby, Dallas night club operator, is charged with the slaying which occurred before a national television audience.

Mrs. Oswald said she offered to pay Lane when she is able. The gray-haired woman, 56, is a practical nurse. She was fired from her job after the assassination.

★ ★ ★

She said Lane agreed to "take the case without even any future fee."

Baker Holdings, Finances Will Soon Be Made Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators say they will make public a record of Robert G. Baker's financial worth and holdings, but may not go into his income tax returns.

Nor will the Senate Rules Committee ask Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., to testify about his business dealings with the former Senate aide, said Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C.

★ ★ ★

"We don't need him — we're not investigating senators," Jordan told newsmen Tuesday.

The committee was told Monday that Baker and Scott I. Peek, former administrative assistant to Smathers, had an interest with the senator in a real estate venture in Florida.

SMATHERS' POSITION

Smathers said in a statement later he had sold Baker and Peek a one-eighth interest each in his share in the venture because they were young men raising families. Aides of the senator said the land is in Orange County near Maitland, Fla.

The committee is investigating whether Baker, who resigned Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, engaged in outside activities that conflicted with his official duties, or involved other improprieties.

★ ★ ★

The next hearing of the committee is tentatively set for a week from today.

Government auditors on loan to the committee are expected to testify about financial statements Baker has filed, listing stock holdings, bank accounts, real estate and other claimed assets as well as loans he has obtained, and other liabilities.

MARYLAND MOTEI

The committee also plans to round out testimony taken at a public hearing last month about his investment in a million-dollar motel at Ocean City, Md.

Jordan told newsmen after Tuesday's hearings that the committee has not yet obtained copies of Baker's income tax returns and may not despite an executive order by President Johnson giving it authority to examine them.

The committee's special counsel, L. P. McLendon, said evidence linked Baker to two Las Vegas, Nev., men and an aircraft company official in borrowing $175,000 in March, 1962, to buy some Oklahoma bank stock.

McLendon listed the hotel operators as B. B. Sigelbaum and Edward Levinson. He said he didn't know if their hotels have gambling casinos. Also identified by McLendon as associated in the venture was Fred Black Jr., an official of North American Aviation Corp.

CLUB OWNER

Sources in Las Vegas identified Levinson as president of the Fremont Hotel and the Horseshoe Club. The Fremont was described as the downtown area's biggest hotel and gambling casino. The Horseshoe is also a hotel-casino. Sigelbaum's son Lester was listed as owning a 3 per cent share of the Fremont.

The Las Vegas sources said B. B. Sigelbaum was reported to live with his wife in Miami Beach, Fla., and said there was no record in Las Vegas that he was an operator of gambling facilities.

★ ★ ★

Eugene A. Hancock, a friend of Baker and president of Automatic Vending Service, Inc., of Miami, Fla., testified that he had never heard of the loan.

Commission OK's First Radar Unit

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — In a move to curb traffic problems on Vaughan and Opdyke, the Bloomfield Hills City Commission last night authorized purchase of the community's first radar unit.

The $1,295 unit will be put in use throughout the city in about two weeks, but efforts will be concentrated on Vaughan and Opdyke, according to Public Safety Director Robert J. Stadler.

Stadler issued a warning today to persons driving pickup trucks on either of the roads.

Even if they are not bearing commercial licenses, Stadler said, the vehicles are still considered to be trucks.

Bloomfield Hills police will begin a crackdown today, issuing tickets to all pickup truck drivers on the two roads who are not making deliveries, Stadler said.

Romney Eyes More U.S. Aid

1963 law which sought to qualify Michigan for ADC-U funds.

★ ★ ★

The governor said his new ADC-U plan already has been approved by an official of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which had blocked acceptance of the 1963 law on grounds it was "discriminatory."

Romney said the total cost of his six-point welfare program would be $71.2 million per year, compared to a present cost of $64.2 million.

While state costs, he said, would not increase, local direct relief expenses would drop from $11.2 million to $4.6 million, and federal funds would rise from $28 million to $41.6 million.

★ ★ ★

Romney also asked the legislature to cut from 1½ mills to one mill the required maximum Detroit property tax levy for direct relief, and to consider a plan to make local welfare administration more efficient.

MILLAGE DROP

The Detroit millage reduction is necessary, the governor said, to enable the city to realize savings from the changes in other programs.

The state would assume a larger portion of direct relief costs in Detroit, using money saved in the shift of federal programs.

To emphasize his point that Michigan should take a more active part in federal programs, Romney included with his written message a graph comparing all the states on various programs as of June 1963.

He said it proved Michigan is "paying twice" for many of its welfare programs.

ENTERS ART WORLD—Mrs. Bernard Rapoport, a newcomer to the area, is being initiated into the whirl of activity at the Birmingham Art Center. The new executive secretary of the Bloomfield Art Association began her job in time to enroll students into the 41 winter classes being offered at the center.

Birmingham Area News

Secretary at Art Center Has Tough Assignment

BIRMINGHAM — The new executive secretary of the Bloomfield Art Association couldn't have picked a better — or more hectic — time to arrive.

Undergoing a real "trial by ordeal," Mrs. Bernard Rapoport has spent her first week on the new job enrolling students for winter classes at the Birmingham Art Center.

Sitting before a large ledger on her desk, she has answered the telephone, checked inquiries, made notations and, in short, done all that is necessary to fill the 41 classes offered by the BAA under its newly expanded program.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rapoport brings to the task a tenacious spirit.

HAS TWO DEGREES

A 1938 graduate of Simmons College in Boston with a bachelor's degree in English, Mrs. Rapoport returned to her studies to earn another bachelor's degree — this one in sociology at the University of Toledo — in 1961.

She did this in the midst of rearing three children, John, now 19, Carol, 17, and Sarah, 12.

The family moved from Toledo to 31456 Sleepy Hollow, Beverly Hills, last September. Dr. Rapoport is an internist and cardiologist.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rapoport last year taught sociology at Toledo Hospital's school of nursing.

WILLING TO LEARN

She frankly admits she hasn't had much experience in art, but is willing to learn. She plans to attend the special art appreciation lecture course at the BAA this term.

"But mainly I'm here to help the volunteers, who do most of the work," she commented. "I just staff the office."

She's there from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays.

★ ★ ★

The active wife, mother and career woman, who claims she'll "drop anything to play tennis," also is interested in the League of Women Voters.

★ ★ ★

PROGRAM STARTS

The winter film and lecture program of the Bloomfield Art Association will begin Friday night with a film entitled "Artist's Proof."

The film, which surveys the history of printmaking, brings to the screen the prints of old masters and shows modern artists at work.

John Davis of the Lee Bank Gallery in Flint will discuss and demonstrate printmaking. The program starts at 8:30 p.m. at the Birmingham Art Center, 1516 S. Cranbrook.

★ ★ ★

Next on the schedule will be a performance by the Bennington College dance group Feb. 13.

Mrs. Edward Olson

Service for Mrs. Edward (Alice R.) Oslon, 90, of 932 Ridgedale, Birmingham, will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will follow in Evergreen Cemetery, Detroit.

Mrs. Olson died yesterday after a lengthy illness.

Surviving are two sons, Leonard W. and Warren T., both of Birmingham, five grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

What Will Prosecutor Do?

Aides Want to Know Taylor's Plans

By JIM DYGERT

Though the boss is in Florida, some in the Oakland County prosecutor's office can't seem to relax.

Strange as it may seem, they're even anxious for Republican Prosecutor George F. Taylor to come back.

That's because they're itching to know Taylor's political plans for 1964, which they expect him to reveal soon after he gets back from his vacation next week.

★ ★ ★

The suspense is most tense among Taylor's three senior assistant prosecutors. They may go after Taylor's job if Taylor, who is 67, decides not to keep it.

RESOUNDING CLASH

In the offing is a resounding clash of political ambitions among three men who have worked closely together for several years—amiable, red-haired Robert L. Templin; tight-lipped, efficient Jerome K. Barry; and the glib, exuberant William E. Lang.

Though it's no secret that they are interested if Taylor declines to seek reelection, only Lang openly discusses his possible candidacy. The other two are more hesitant.

"Let's see what George says when he gets back," is all Templin or Barry will say.

★ ★ ★

The anxiety is apparently more over the manner in which Taylor will leave the prosecutor's post he has held since 1959 than over whether he will actually leave it. And the manner could be a decisive factor in determining the identity of his successor.

ALMOST CERTAIN

Taylor is almost certain not to seek reelection. He has said he may retire from politics entirely. If not, however, he indicated he would run for Congress or a judicial post.

Talk is buzzing among county Republicans that Taylor may resign before his present term ends in a maneuver to insure that the man he prefers would succeed him.

If so, that would indicate his choice to be Templin, who denies, however, that Taylor has assured him support.

★ ★ ★

By resigning, Taylor would leave his post to be filled by the county's seven Circuit judges, a situation that would favor Templin.

FORMER REPUBLICANS

Five of the judges, as former Republicans, could be expected to follow the GOP's recommendation, which surely would be Templin, who has been by far the most active of the three in party affairs.

On the other hand, if Taylor were to serve out his term, his successor would be chosen in the first instance by voters, a situation that Barry probably would prefer.

His brother, County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry, has made the Barry name well known.

★ ★ ★

Of course, Templin, if appointed, would still have to face election and possibly opposition from Barry and Lang this year to keep the post. But he would have the advantage of incumbency.

CHIEF ASSISTANT

Taylor has said he would like his chief assistant, Robert Long, to succeed him. But Long has told him he has no desire for elective office and Taylor will try only to insure that his successor retains Long as chief assistant.

★ ★ ★

While the boys are waiting for Taylor's move, there's something else for them to ponder.

Two other familiar faces, according to reliable sources, may also be in the race—Richard F. Condit of Southfield and Donald A. Brown of Royal Oak, both former assistant county prosecutors.

Ground Lamb Nice With Rice

January's a blustery month. It's also, for many, a month of restoring "battered budgets." Meal planning becomes a master plan for boosting morale as well as saving pennies . . . a difficult situation.

Ground lamb provides a different taste and good basis for hearty casseroles. Canned gravies (particularly canned mushroom gravy with the lamb) join the meat for an exciting combination. A zip of garlic and herbs, the spark of canned red tomatoes, and the rice in this Lamb and Mushroom Supper will provide you and the family with a taste lift.

A salad of avocado and oranges is a tangy complement to the dish. Even cupcakes take on a new perkiness when scooped out and filled with an instant pudding mix.

Lamb and Mushroom Supper

1 pound ground lamb
½ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 clove garlic, minced
1 can (10½ ounces) mushroom gravy
1 cup cooked tomatoes
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon rosemary, crushed
3 cups cooked rice

In skillet, cook lamb, onion, green pepper, and garlic until meat is browned and vegetables are tender; pour off fat. Stir in remaining ingredients except rice. Line the bottom and sides of a greased 1½-quart casserole with rice. Pour in meat mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Peanuts Are Easily Salted at Home

Peanuts are in plentiful supply as you may have guessed from the full bins on display at local grocery stores. You can find peanuts already shelled, salted, and in almost any form imaginable, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service.

But for a special treat — try roasting and salting your own freshly shelled peanuts. It's easy!

First, suggests U.S. Department of Agriculture home economists, spread the shelled peanuts in one layer in a shallow pan and heat at 300 degrees for 30 to 45 minutes. The time depends on the size of the nuts and how brown you want them.

Stir the nuts often as they heat. Check the brownness occasionally by removing the skins from a few.

For plain salted nuts, cool the roasted peanuts, then slip off the skins by pressing between thumb and forefinger. Place skinned nuts in shallow fry pan, add butter or margarine (1 teaspoon per cup of peanuts), and place over low heat.

Shake or stir constantly until nuts are well-coated and warm. Spread on absorbent paper and sprinkle with salt.

★ ★

For "redskins," add butter or margarine immediately after removing from the oven, then follow the above directions.

Peanuts bought roasted in the shell can also be warmed in butter and home-salted as above.

Breakfasts Woo Reluctant Eater

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

As the winter's cold deepens, there is more need and more desire for hearty hot breakfasts.

If a good nourishing meal is on the table when the family is dressed, there will be fewer excuses for not eating. Sometimes all that is necessary is a little advance planning on mother's part.

★ ★ ★

Here is a different waffle breakfast that doesn't take much extra time. It's fruit, meat and bread all in one dish.

Pork Patties With Orange Slices

1 pound pure pork sausage meat
2 oranges
½ cup dark corn syrup
8 waffles

Shape sausage into 8 patties. Pan-fry according to directions on package. Remove patties. Pour off drippings.

Cut ends off oranges and save. Cut remaining oranges into 8 slices, ½ inch thick. Pour corn syrup into skillet. Add juice squeezed from end pieces of oranges. Simmer orange slices in syrup 10 minutes.

Top waffles with orange slices and pork sausage patties. Serve with syrup from pan. Makes 4 servings.

If pancakes tempt your family more (or you don't own a waffle iron!), beat up a batch of cardamom flavored pancakes. You need only a hint of this herb usually found in cookies or yeast bread.

Cardamom-Pecan Pancakes

Make 2-cup recipe for pancakes as directed on buttermilk pancake package — except add ½ teaspoon powdered cardamom and ½ cup finely chopped pecans to batter. Serve 2 or 3 pancakes, stacked together with Cardamom-Maple Syrup. Makes 6 to 9 servings.

Cardamon-Maple Syrup: Heat 1 cup maple-flavored syrup with ⅛ teaspoon powdered cardamom and 1 tablespoon butter.

Orange twists will have to be made the day before unless you really like to get up early. You might do what we often do — make sweet rolls to serve for dinner dessert and next morning's breakfast too.

Try these for a luncheon sometime too.

ORANGE TWISTS

1 package active dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
1 cup mlik, scalded
⅓ cup butter or margarine, melted
⅓ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
4 to 4½ cups sifted flour
1 egg
1 cup enriched white cornmeal
Orange Frosting Filling

Springle yeast over water; stir to dissolve. Stir together the scalded milk, butter, sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm.

Stir in 1 cup of the flour and the egg; add dissolved yeast and cornmeal. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough.

Turn out on a lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth; knead until satiny, about 10 minutes. Shape dough into a ball; place in a greased bowl and turn to grease top. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch down dough; cover; let rest 10 minutes. Roll half of dough into a 12 by 8 inch rectangle. Spread with half of Orange Frosting Filling.

Cut into 12 1-inch wide strips; fold each strip in half so filling is covered; strips will now be 4 inches long. Hold each end of strip and twist tightly in opposite directions. Seal ends firmly.

Place about 1½ inches apart on greased cookie sheets. Repeat with second half of dough. Cover twists; let rise in a warm place until double in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven about 15 minutes. Makes 2 dozen.

ORANGE FROSTING FILLING

¼ cup butter or margarine, soft
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
Grated rind of 1 orange

Gradually and thoroughly beat the confectioners sugar and orange rind into the soft butter; continue to beat if necessary until fluffy.

Bake Fresh Cabbage

Cut a medium size head of cabbage into 6 or 8 wedges; arrange in a casserole; sprinkle with a chopped medium onion, a chopped apple and ½ teaspoon celery seed, salt and pepper. Add ½ cup hot water or stock; cover and bake in moderate oven until tender. Top with buttered crumbs and finish off under broiler.

Stuffed Dills Are Attractive

Tangy dill pickle rings filled with liverwurst make inexpensive dors d'oeuvres. Cut ends from 16 dill pickles. Using vegetable peeler, remove pickle centers.

Blend ¼ pound liverwurst, 1 tablespoon chili sauce and a dash dry mustard. With the aid of a paring knife, stuff mixture into pickles. Chill.

Cut each pickle into about 12 slices. Makes about 16 dozen hors d'oeuvres.

Stuffed Prune Snack

For after-school snacks, plump prunes by placing them in a strainer over hot water. Stuff each prune with a nutmeat and roll in superfine sugar.

Trading Uneven

Gains Outnumber Mart Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — Small gains outnumbered losses in an uneven stock market early today. Trading continued at a fairly rapid pace following Tuesday's busiest day of the year.

Steel and chemical groups displayed a slightly higher tone but most other major groups were irregular.

★ ★ ★

Trading in cigarette and cigar issues was relatively light and prices were mixed.

Changes of most key issues were measured in fractions.

Motor stocks were irregular with Ford and Chrysler up a little, GM unchanged and American Motors off a minimum fraction. New car sales in early January were reported down from a year earlier based on preliminary figures.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday the Associated Press 60-stock average advanced .6 to a record 289.6.

American Stock Exchange prices were unchanged to a little higher in spots at the start. Up fractions were Aurora Plastics, Aerojet General and Brown. Rayette lost a little. Kawecki Chemical, Kaiser Industries and Data Control were unchanged.
