County Would Be Hard-Hit by State Tax Plan

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Industrial counties like Oakland would be dealt a hard blow financially by the proposed state tax reorganization plan, William J. Emerson, chairman of the Tax Allocation Board, warned yesterday.

Emerson made a surprise visit to a meeting of the Ways and Means Committee of the Board of Supervisors to tell about the danger of a provision of the proposal to eliminate taxing of tangible personal property.

He urged the county officials to become the leaders in a move to oppose this section of the plan.

A loss of upwards of five million dollars in revenue to the county could be expected under it, according to Charles A. Sparks, county treasurer.

Emerson said, "This proposal would be just as damaging to townships and school districts as to the county."

The Citizens' Advisory Committee of the Michigan Tax Study has recommended that all tangible personal property other than inventories be exempt from taxation.

The committee said it believed that the taxing of factory equipment and machinery "is a more serious deterrent to industrial expansion in the state than any other." Therefore, it has asked tax exemption of such property.

★ ★ ★

Realizing just how this plan might bite into county receipts, a committee consisting of Norman R. Barnard, corporation counsel, Robert E. Lilly, secretary of the Board of Auditors, and Emerson was appointed to look into what has become known as the Conlin tax report.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton) is the godfather of the proposed program to overhaul the state's tax system. Presently the program is being drafted into bill form to present to the 1959 session of the Legislature.

It unquestionably will be the number one issue in Lansing, observers point out.

The reason for the suggested exemption of personal property is contained in one of the committee's "guideposts."

In it the committee says "that taxes that bear little or no relation to the volume or profitability of business, and taxes that, in effect, impose direct penalties upon expansion and improvements of industrial facilities should be minimized."

But the program has a recommendation which is aimed to offset the expected loss to counties, municipalities, township and school districts. The committee says this loss would total some $120 million statewide.

"But only in such highly industrial areas such as Oakland, Wayne and other counties," Emerson said. "Rural areas would hardly feel the pinch."

The committee's reimbursement plan would return to the areas affected the amount of its actual 1958 levy on the property exempted, but for the first year only.

★ ★ ★

The committee does not make it clear what happens in subsequent years. It does suggest, however, that a study be made to find a solution to compensate for the loss in property tax bases.

"This 1958 tax now being collected could be the last," Emerson said.

Those who have looked into the Conlin report say the suggested state income tax—the major facet of the plan—probably will provide the revenue so that the state could make this one-year reimbursement.

"The effect of this whole thing is the centralization of government in Lansing," declared Emerson. "It is also designed that the bulk of the revenue be raised from centers of wealth like Oakland and other counties."

Gripped by a cold wave since the Thanksgiving weekend, the Pontiac area is faced with even colder temperatures.

From a low of 3 above zero last night, the mercury will dip tonight to from zero to 5 below, the Weather Bureau predicted.

And that's not all. The icy temperatures are going to to be with us for at least another five days, according to the weather predicters.

The high temperature today should range somewhere between 14-20. Thursday will be slightly warmer with a high of from 18 to 24.

Winds will be westerly at 10 to 15 m.p.h. today becoming light and variable tonight. Temperatures for the next five days are expected to average 10 to 15 degrees below the normal high of 36 and normal low of 24.

The thermometer plunged to one below at Detroit Metropolitan Airport, headquarters for the U.S. Weather Bureau in southeastern Michigan.

But the coldest spots in the state were Pellston and Sault Ste. Marie with overnight lows of 12 below.

The sub-zero temperatures have sounded the death knell for shipping in the upper Great Lakes. Only a handful of vessels are still operating in the Soo Locks area.

The Coast Guard base at Sault Ste. Marie said a few hardy skippers are making final upbound passages through the locks despite an early freezeup in Lake Superior.

Three ships were tied up in the lower St. Marys River this morning waiting for an escort from the ice-breaking cutter Mesquite which has been smashing ice fields since last weekend.

BLAST DAMAGE — A fireman searches the ruins of the Fountain of the World cult building at Chatsworth, Calif. after an explosion which demolition experts said was caused by a bomb early today.

Barefoot Mystic Among Victims in California

'Fountain of the World' Building Wrecked by Blast and Flames

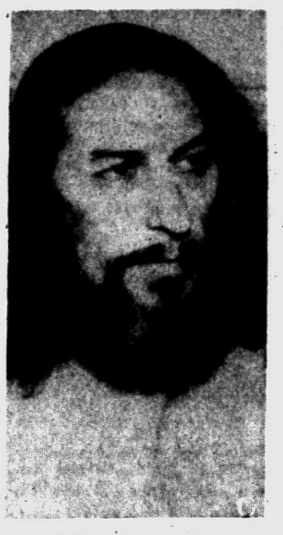

CHATSWORTH, Calif. (AP)—A bomb blew up headquarters of the Fountain of the World religious cult today, killing at least six persons.

Six bodies were recovered. Two persons are missing.

One body was identified as 11-month-old Elwin J. Shanafelt, one of 14 children asleep in the building.

The cult leader, Krishna Venta, bearded, barefoot mystic in flowing robes who frequently led his similarly garbed followers to aid in earthquake, fire or flood disasters, was tentatively identified as one who perished.

Police and sheriff's officers of Los Angeles and neighboring Ventura County believe the infernal device that blasted in darkness about 2 a.m. was brought to the headquarters in a canvas bag by a man.

Survivors told officers they saw and heard a stranger, carrying such a bag, arguing with two members of the cult only five minutes before the explosion.

★ ★ ★

The FBI entered the case, offering its investigation and laboratory facilities to local authorities. Venta has called himself the Master of the WKFL Fountain of the World. The initials stand for the aims of the sect—Wisdom, Knowledge, Faith and Love.

PORTRAYED CHRIST

He has described himself as having a "lifelong dedication to God." Each Easter it has been the practice of the cult to portray a Crucifixion scene, with Venta in the role of Christ. This year Venta was out of the state at the time and did not take his usual role.

4 Airmen, 2 Babies Die as Plane Rams Houses

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A crippled Navy tanker plane loaded with tons of fuel went out of control just short of its home airstrip here Tuesday and plowed with a flaming roar through two homes. The four crewmen and two infants in one of the homes perished.

The twin-engine North American AJ2, just seconds away from the runway at the Norfolk Naval Air Station, clipped tree tops and the roof of a house and sheared through a trailer truck before it smashed into the two homes.

The Navy said preliminary investigation indicated the pilot tried to wreck in a swamp near the two homes.

James H. Miller, who works at the air station, said:

"I saw the plane when it was at least a half a mile away. At that time it was between 150 and 250 feet high and making a normal approach . . . I noticed as it came closer that the degree of bank of the wings became greater.

"Before the degree reached 90 degrees, I knew a crash was imminent. The plane was not smoking and the engine didn't sputter."

★ ★ ★

One of the two homes smashed by the plane was unoccupied. In the other were Mrs. Joseph E. Tondora, wife of a Navy lieutenant, and two children, Joseph Jr., 14 months, and Michalene, two weeks old. Barbara, 10, was in school.

The nose section of the tanker ripped into the Tondora home. The infants burned to death. Mrs. Tondora was burned.

The dead crewmen were Lt Cmdr. George Wilson, 38, of Norfolk, pilot; Ens. Fred M. Clancy III, 20, co-pilot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Clancy Jr., Kissimmee, Fla.; Airman Patrick F. Toomey, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Toomey, Durham, N. C., and Aviation Mechanic 3.C. John E. Delaney, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy J. Delaney, Chelsea, Mass.

Commissioners Split on Vice

Some Back Eastman Cleanup, Others Say Situation Overplayed

Pontiac's vice conditions produced varied reactions by City Commissioners at last night's meeting as about 75 persons showed up from the area in which Friday's mammoth raid centered.

Gathering for the first time since Public Safety Director George D. Eastman announced a crackdown on vice, commissioners had these comments:

"I'm 100 per cent behind the new Public Safety Director," said Commissioner Floyd P. Miles. "I hope he makes Pontiac the cleanest city in the country."

★ ★ ★

"I personally think Pontiac is far from being a city of vice," said Commissioner William W. Donaldson. "The newspapers have been blasting the city's good name."

'NO WORSE THAN OTHERS'

Commissioner Robert A. Landry felt the same as Donaldson.

"This town is no worse than any other of comparable size with similar industry, auto plants and transient workers," he said.

Commissioner John A. Dugan called for a report from Eastman on the publicity his crackdown policy received.

"I want to know why statements like that have been given out by a public official," Dugan said. "I be-

Ike Declares Berlin Must Be Protected

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that the United States and its Allies have a right and duty to protect the freedom of West Berlin and they do not intend to abandon the city or its people.

The President told his news conference he failed to find anything particularly new in the latest suggestions about the Berlin situation from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) relayed the Khrushchev ideas to Eisenhower. The President declined to discuss them in detail, but it was learned elsewhere that Khrushchev mainly said he would welcome constructive suggestions from the West for ending Berlin's occupation.

On another aspect of Humphrey's eight-hour talk with Khrushchev, on which Eisenhower received a first hand report from the senator, Eisenhower confirmed that Khrushchev had claimed a compact, five-megaton nuclear bomb and an 8,700-mile missile.

But he indicated he was not especially impressed by this specific information nor did he see any reason to change U.S. estimates of Soviet military power—which have long assumed the ability to do massive damage to this country.

Khrushchev claimed the Soviet Union has so many nuclear weapons it may soon begin dismantling some of them.

The news conference also dealt with these other matters:

Slays In-Laws, Then Kills Self

Despondent Man Also Critically Shoots His Wife's Nephew

WINDSOR (AP) — A 41-year-old factory worker, apparently despondent over an estrangement with his wife, killed her parents, critically wounded her nephew and then took his own life in suburban Riverside Tuesday, according to police.

Riverside Police Chief Bryce Monaghan believes the triple shooting was premeditated. This belief arose after Monaghan questioned the nephew, Robert White, 27, in a Windsor hospital last night.

White remains in critical condition at Windsor's Metropolitan hospital, where authorities held little hope for his survival.

White said Theodore Mowry shot Harold Thompson, 70, and his wife Alice, 68. Their bodies were found in the kitchen of their home.

Mowry's body was found in a shed at the rear of the house. Beside him lay a new .30-30 caliber deer rifle, the gun that apparently took all three lives.

★ ★ ★

According to White, Mowry came to the Thompson home shortly before noon, knocked at the door and was met by White, who ordered him away when he demanded to see his wife.

Mowry then shot White in the abdomen with a gun he had been holding behind his back. White ran for the telephone and Mowry followed him into the house, opening fire on his parents-in-law.

He then put the barrel of the rifle into his mouth, pulled the trigger and slumped to the floor, White said.

Report High Demand for New Pontiacs

By HAROLD A. FITZGERALD
Publisher, Pontiac Press

"Pontiac automobiles are receiving wonderful acceptance all across the country," said General Manager S. E. Knudsen to The Pontiac Press. "The new models have now been out long enough to give us an accurate yardstick. The days of conversation are gone and it's the actual purchase now that counts.

"We built 29,000 cars in November and yet we finished the month with 30,296 unfilled orders. A year ago at this same date, we had unfilled orders of only 11,736, so you can see what fine strides the Division has made.

"We are building 1,500 cars a day and would like to think that we can maintain this pace for the next six months, but of course, a large part of this depends upon the national economy and Pontiac doesn't control that.

★ ★ ★

"In December and January our present schedules call for 38,000 which is a big step up over a year ago. Veteran dealers who have been with us for years report that the public pronounces this the 'best looking car on the road'," Knudsen smiled. "We quite agree. Also, dealers say general recognition and acceptance are the greatest of all time. Even those buying other cars for personal reasons admit privately that the 1959 Pontiac is about the hottest thing on the road.

"Sometimes automobiles find greater popularity in certain areas or sections, but I'm happy to report that this 1959 Pontiac is selling all over the Nation.

"In fact," said Knudsen, "we discover to our own great satisfaction that we are selling more Pontiacs to General Motors people than we ever have in history. These are among the smartest buyers in the country for they spend their lives observing automobiles in both looks and performance. And Pontiac is hitting and maintaining a new level of popularity within these ranks.

"We were running around 1,100 cars a day in November and although we've stepped this up to 1,500, from the indications at hand we felt that employment will be steadier locally. That is one of our objectives. We want to give our people as constant work as we can provide. We are constantly trying to eliminate the top peaks and low valleys. Unfortunately, we can't make people buy automobiles in 12 equal monthly divisions throughout the year, but we are struggling to stabilize employment as much as possible.

★ ★ ★

"The strike we had here just as we were swinging into production cut down our earlier activities and hampered our general employment schedule, but we are swinging back into an orderly course again. Local people can rest assured, that we are destined to take a liberal share of whatever business there is. Our own economists say the haul directly ahead looks promising with no particularly dark clouds in the sky.

★ ★ ★

"The Catalina series is the leader and is accounting for slightly over half of our total sales. Our lowest price car is so close to the 'low priced three' that we are attracting new buyers. The Vista model of all series combined is running about 40 per cent of our total.

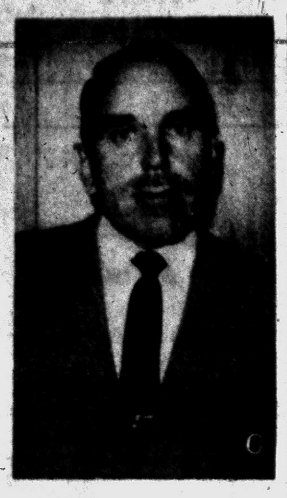

★ ★ ★

"Our economy motor is attracting attention. All current Pontiac engines have this feature and I think it is safe to say that the 1959 Pontiac cars will deliver close to 2 miles more per gallon of gas than any predecessors. That economy run across the nation averaging 21.7 miles is an astounding achievement and routine gas was used from state to state.

★ ★ ★

"I am happy at the local acceptance, too. Remember, you aren't going to provide work in your own hometown unless you buy the local car. We are one of the biggest local customers of all businesses in the area. For example, we pay more than three million dollars a year to Consumers Power Company here in Pontiac. We buy steadily from many local suppliers and our employes buy of local merchants. The tax bill we pay every year is enormous. You help yourself when you help us — and get the best automobile there is to boot!"

Guinea Will Be 103rd Nation

Total of States Changes When French Territory Wins Independence

WASHINGTON — When French Guinea's independence receives international recognition, the West African banana-growing land will become the world's 103rd nation, the National Geographic Society says.

★ ★ ★

The French territory recently rejected the Constitution of Premier Charles de Gaulle. In consequence the French government informed Sekou Toure, head of the Guinea Government, that Guinea was separated from the other territories of French West Africa and could expect no more French assistance, either administrative or financial.

★ ★ ★

Confirmation of Guinea's independence would bring the total number of independent states back to a previous level. The world reached the 103-mark in 1957 following the admission of Ghana and the Federation of Malaya, but the total slipped when Syria and Egypt joined to form the United Arab Republic.

Oregon-size French Guinea nestles between Portuguese Guinea and Sierra Leone, a British colony, on Africa's west coast. Guinea's interior extends southward to touch the Republic of Liberia.

$300,000 Loan OK'd to Pay County Bills

The Ways and Means Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved the borrowing of $300,000 from county drain assessment funds to meet year-end bills.

But Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors, said the loan was only a "safety first" move, and believed the money could be returned untouched if a number of municipalities would remit their 1958 county taxes sooner than usual.

Moore said Pontiac, Royal Oak, Birmingham and Ferndale had been asked to do this.

The committee heard a report from Moore that the county had a balance of $433,042 in cash to date, and that two December payrolls amounting to $261,500 would trim this account to $171,542.

A record-heavy number of county residents on social welfare have been making a big dent in local funds this year.

The Ways and Means Committee decided to transfer $250,000 from other county funds to meet this load from last month. November welfare costs totaled $230,857.

This last transfer—there was $744,019 borrowed during the first 10 months of the year—brings to $994,019 the amount the county has had to take from other sources to meet the welfare load.

Figuring a need to borrow another $250,000 to take care of December welfare bills, Moore said welfare costs alone would cause a deficit of $1,244,019 for the year.

Moore still expressed confidence that all these borrowed funds would be restored.

Taking into account overdrafts for county hospitalization and in the operation of the Children's Home, Moore said that the county most likely will close out its books with a deficit of close to $1.5 million.

The Social Welfare Dept. reported that there are 3,166 families in the county, as of Dec. 1, relying on welfare subsistence. With the department's estimate of 4.4 persons in a family, this would mean about 13,930 persons on welfare.

The department gave comparable figures for this time last year. There were 1,655 families (4.7 persons per family) or 7,778 persons on welfare.

BASIL B. KIMBALL

Kimball Retires End of Month

Pontiac Executive Quits After Nearly 41 Years With GM Division

Basil B. Kimball, assistant to Pontiac Motor Division's general sales manager, will retire on Dec. 31 after nearly 41 years with the company, it was announced by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager.

A native of Pontiac, where he has always been active in civic affairs, Kimball has long been associated with Pontiac advertising. Possessor of one of the longest service records in Pontiac Motor Division history, Kimball first started with the division in April of 1917 in accounting.

Two years later he was named assistant advertising manager, a position which he held until 1947 when he became advertising manager. For the past year he has been handling special sales assignments.

★ ★ ★

Born in Pontiac on Jan. 3, 1897, Kimball attended Pontiac High School and the U.S. Military Academy at West Point prior to joining Pontiac Motor Division, which was then known as the Oakland Motor Car Company.

Kimball resides with his wife, the former Miss Evelyn Linda Duff, at 6845 Lahser Rd., Bloomfield Township. They have three children, six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

12 More Inches of Snow Bury Oswego Deeper

By United Press International

A blinding storm dumped another 12 inches of snow today on Oswego, N. Y., already virtually paralyzed by a five foot blanket, but some relief was promised for the snow in Oswego and across the nation from biting cold.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Syracuse, N. Y., said an end to Oswego's seemingly endless snow was finally in sight. The forecasters said about six more inches could be expcted today and "then it should be all over with."

The worst storm in Oswego's history cut visibility to near zero with sharp gusts of wind piling the snow into deep drifts. The city's 23,000 residents have been virtually cut off from the outside world since Sunday. Schools, factories, and most businesses remained closed for the third straight day.

Police and Red Cross teams, using skis and snowshoes, delivered food to many snowbound residents, many trapped in their homes, despite scores of plows thrown into the battle against the towering snow mounds.

A state of emergency, proclaimed Monday by Mayor Vincent Corsall remained in effect and unauthorized pedestrians were ordered to remain off the streets.

★ ★ ★

In Indiana, thousands of children remained home because of the cold weather, which closed school.

At Ames, Iowa, a shortage of heating gas threatened to close some buildings on the campus of Iowa State College.

In the central states, temperatures began a slow rise after plunging below zero in most areas, and weathermen predicted the mercury would go up to around 16 above today in the Chicago area.

Enjoying the cold, however, was a herd of 15 reindeer which rested at Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo en route to Washington, D. C., as a gift to President Eisenhower from the people of Alaska. Officials at the zoo said the animals probably didn't find it cold enough, they were "unsociable, even downright beastly."

On the west coast, residents of the Los Angeles area braced for a third day of fog and smog. The fog-smog blanket yesterday slowed traffic and was blamed for a 12-car accident on the San Bernardino freeway.

'Mosaics for Everyone' Topic of Sisters' Talk

BIRMINGHAM — Sisters Magdalene Mary and Mary Corita from the art department of Immaculate Heart College in Los Angeles will be in Birmingham Friday to speak on "Mosaics for Everyone."

Two programs are scheduled under the sponsorship of the Bloomfield Art Assn. The first will be a special talk in the Birmingham YMCA for upper grade students in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area. At 7:30 p.m. the sisters will speak at a public program in the Birmingham High School auditorium which will be followed by a question and answer period and slides on mosaics.

They will show that mosaics can be made from things no more glamorous than an old bottle.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance from Grinnell's Music Store on West Maple Ave.

Bloomfield Hills Police Capt. Walter Sluiter said a complaint had been signed by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. against two Detroit boys who reportedly damaged an outdoor telephone booth near the Bloomfield Barbeque.

Daniel J. O'Lughlin, 19, implicated Lawrence Manning, 18, when questioned by police. He said they had called a girl friend and afterwards proceeded to wreck the interior of the booth as well as damage the phone.

Sluiter said another youth, Lawrence E. McCasey of 1947 Haynes St. had been released on a $100 bond after dumping rubbish on a street. He said that McCasey in shoveling metal scraps off the back end of his truck had knocked the license plate from the bracket which led to his arrest.

Shoes Soon May Lose That Pointed Look

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — It is with a great deal of pleasure, and a twinge of relief in our big toes, that we report the sharply pointed women's shoe is on its way out of fashion.

This is the latest word from the top authority, and we give it our full support. From the arches up.

It was always an idiotic fashion for our money—what money was left after paying off our chiropodist for corn removal. The idea of watching my leather toes precede my natural toes by a half-inch always made me feel like some spear-footed demon.

"It will take some time, of course, like all fashion changes," said David Evins, the top (in price and artistry) shoe designer around, "but the rapier toe is starting the decline.

"The reason is very simple. When a fashion reaches the point of distortion, it must go. The pointed toe began its career as a long lean look which was very graceful, and boy, did it help the shoe business. But the shoemakers got carried away . . .

"Now, shoes look more like weapons than fashion items. The point has become pointless, so to speak, and must round off again. It will take time, and I don't mean that it will be really round, like the old 'baby doll' look. But shoes will be shoes again, and feet will look like feet instead of death-dealers."

Now, if we can only get rid of the spike heels, which invariably snag the carpets, get caught in escalator treads and break in two at embarrassing moments, pedal life will be really sensible again.

Asked about the possibilities of shedding this slim excuse for support, this hellish heel, Evins sighed.

"Give a woman an inch and she'll try to take a style," he said. "No dice. The high thin heel is here to stay indefinitely."

"Cue Magazine, after a survey of 2,500 male readers on what they want for Christmas, concludes that men are more cultured than women think.

Even if they are men in the "who have everything" bracket, they have no interest in receiving gadgetry of the gold-toothpick, mink bottle-opener, vermouth-spray-martini-maker type. They also are diffident about money-clips unless attached to the appropriate accessory: Hard cash.

What approximately 1,062 of the 2,500, or 42.5 per cent, wanted were subscriptions or memberships to concert and opera series, memberships to art museums, or gift certificates from book and record shops.

Another 40 per cent wanted their favorite brand of liquor. A few expressed interest in cologne and after-shave lotions. A small three per cent of the more practical fun lovers requested paid-up New Year's Eve reservations at the nightclub of their selection, and the really imaginative one per cent wanted a one-way ticket around the world.

For the woman who has everything, Saks Fifth Avenue has the answer. In their "Stag Club," where men can shop for ladies under the influence of free martinis, the store offers an extra-deluxe gift wrapping service this year.

It is a box covered with red velvet, on which stands a gilt paper choir of toy chorus boys. Inside, there is a lining of golden paper and tissue, and a hidden music box which plays a carol as the cover is lifted. The cost of the box, empty: $100.

It is an elegant way to give—to the woman who has everything—nothing.

JEREMY CHRISTMAS — A Yuletide Story — BY WALT SCOTT

Flees 'Different World'

Sends Self Back to Prison

DALLAS (AP) — A man who spent 34 of his 53 years in prison is sending himself back because of asthma and because the world is different "from the one I knew when I went in."

"It's a different world that I found when released from the one I knew when I went in," Pete McKenzie told a newsman Tuesday night. "People talk too much and it's hard to trust anybody.

★ ★ ★

"Besides, in Huntsville they keep you in a cell. Under the terms of my parole, I could not leave Tennessee to get treatment for my asthma, and my condition got worse.

If the prison doctors can't help his asthma, McKenzie said, "I can die there."

He was convicted of murdering a San Antonio, Tex., detective, Sam Street, in 1923 and sentenced to death. That was later commuted to life and he became a prison trusty.

★ ★ ★

During the 1930's, McKenzie was credited with saving the life of a guard. Under a conditional pardon given him in September of 1957, he was never to return to Texas and had to live with a brother in Shelby County (Memphis), Tenn.

★ ★ ★

Coughing constantly and bleeding from the mouth, he told a newsman Tuesday night he was on his way to Austin, Tex., to ask Gov. Price Daniel to return him to prison.

★ ★ ★

McKenzie called Dallas News police reporter Harry McCormick to tell him his story while between planes in Dallas.

Whip Psychology Fails, Wife Wins Divorce

DETROIT (AP) — When her husband wasn't using his home-made whip on her, he left it hanging on the kitchen wall for psychological effect, testified Mrs. Lura Pajewski in a divorce petition.

★ ★ ★

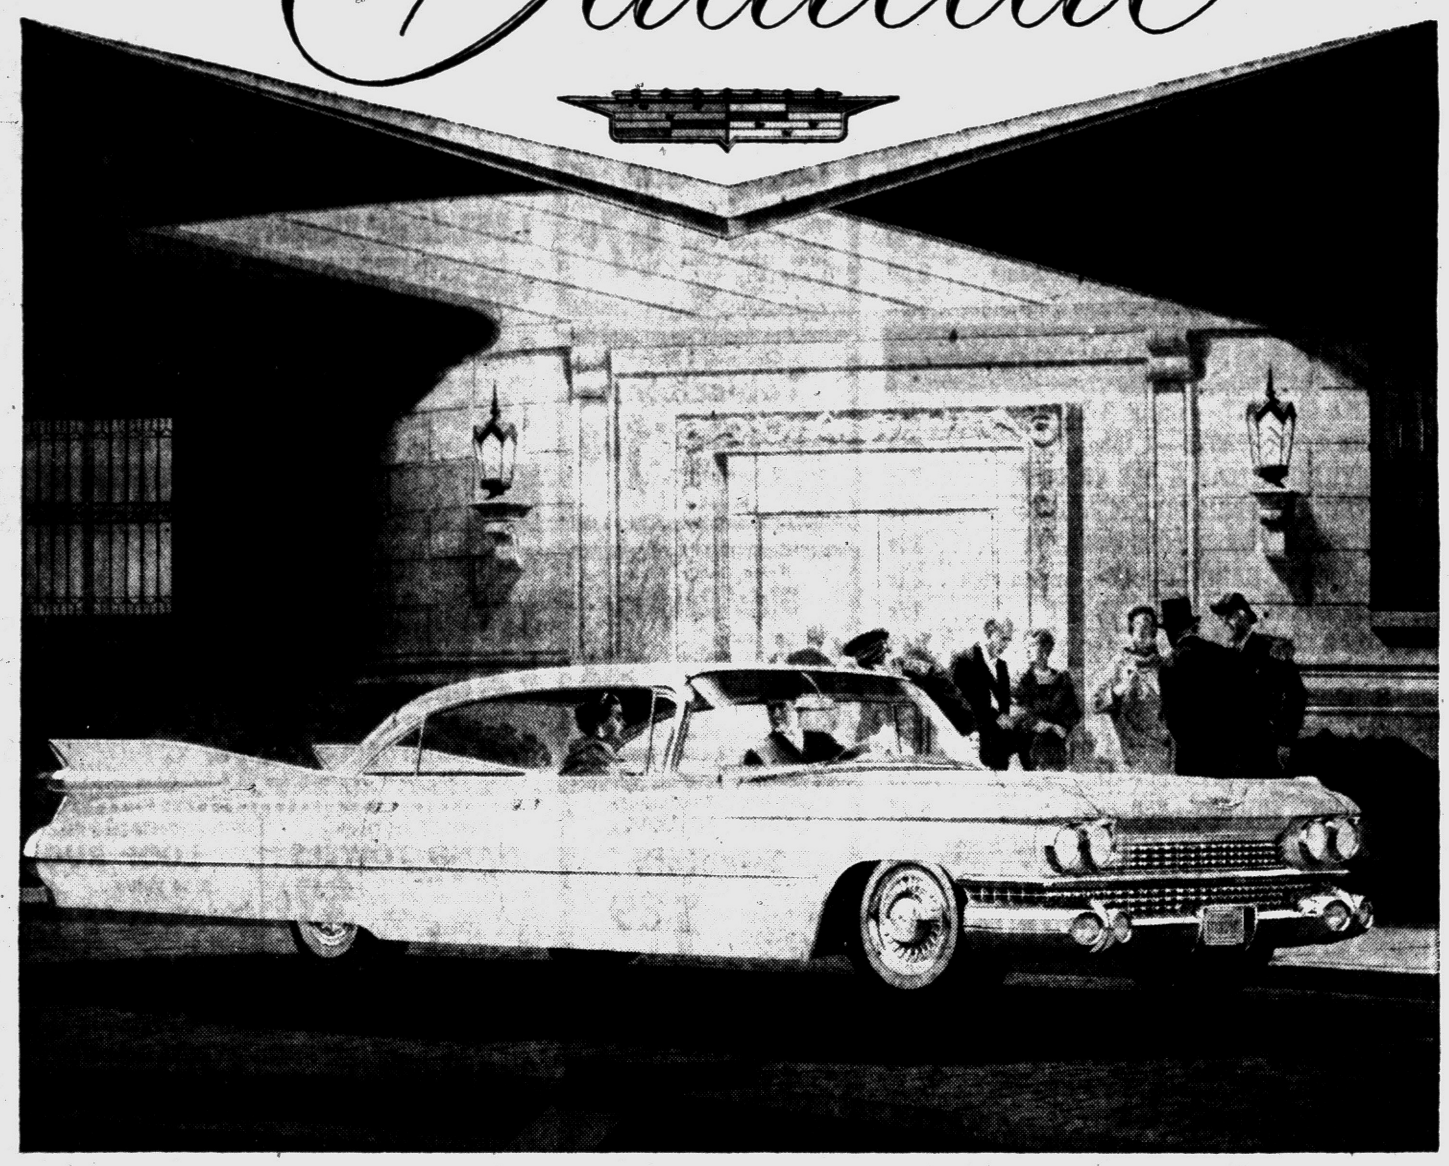

She said he had majored in psychology in college and wanted her to "come up to his level of education."

The divorce was granted.

Rifles Shoot Pictures

FORT ORD, Cal. — American infantrymen now are training with rifles that shoot film instead of bullets. A 35-mm. camera mounted on the rifle records "hits" on low-flying aircraft. When the rifleman squeezes the trigger on his target, the camera takes a picture. Scientists then analyze the film for hits.

lieve this city is an average city, no better and no worse."

Both Donaldson and Landry advised a "wait and see" attitude before judging Eastman's vice supression policy.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston reserved comment, except for the statement: "The question of Friday's raid is now before the courts. It will be up to the judges to decide whether the police were right or not."

DOESN'T WANT HASTE

City Manager Walter K. Willman cautioned against hasty reactions. "We've got to give Mr. Eastman a fair trial," he said.

The manager recalled that the Public Administration Service study of the Police Department recommended that a Public Safety Director be hired "to strengthen and solidify the department.

"Eastman was far and away the outstanding candidate for the job," he reminded commissioners.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry, in whose district Friday's numbers racket raid centered, demanded the new public safety director's ouster. He said he would make a formal motion to that effect next Tuesday night.

Six persons complained to the commission about the raid. Several maintained their civil rights were violated, a woman said policemen treated her unfairly and used vulgar language, and a man threatened a damage suit because his front door was broken down, and his home searched, although he was not arrested.

Ike Declares Berlin Must Be Protected

at anyone. This was in comment on former President Truman's remark Monday that Eisenhower has been mad at him since the 1952 campaign. Truman further said: "I don't give a damn."

Bristling, Eisenhower said he always—before, during and after the war—had made known his admiration and respect for Marshall. He said Marshall is one of the men he calls great.

The President added that if anyone says he ever stood still while any man, in his presence, reviled Gen. Marshall, it just is not true.

DEMOCRATS—Commenting on the legislative program recommended by the Democratic Advisory Council, Eisenhower wondered how the opposition party expects to raise enough tax money to pay for such a program.

ECONOMIC AID — Eisenhower made no specific reply when asked whether he will call for more economic assistance to underdeveloped nations. But he remarked that if the free world is to get unity, we cannot abandon or ignore nations which need help.

Such aid, Eisenhower added, is not just Christian charity or Red Cross help, but is in the best interest of the United States.

POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY—Replying to a question, Eisenhower said he knows of no justification for anyone's saying he is moving more in a conservative direction since the November elections.

He added that he set forth his political philosophy in speeches before he ever became president.

Current Hassle Recalls How Germany Split

"How Berlin got that way" is a rather timely subject to reconstruct. Actually it is necessary to go back to September, 1944, three months after the Allied Forces landed in Normandy.

Like any well-executed military campaign, plans for administering Germany after its surrender were made well in advance.

They were drawn up by the European Advisory Commission, and covered Berlin as well as the Reich, of which it was the capital. Our American representative on the E.A.C. was JOHN G. WINANT. He acted only on instructions from the State Department after the War Department approved them.

★ ★ ★

American-Soviet-British joint occupation zone for greater Berlin, with a separate sector for each of the three powers was set up. By November the E.A.C. agreed on an allied Control Council to administer Germany as a whole. The Yalta Conference in February, 1945, approved this plan with one exception: bringing France in, making four powers.

Direct access to Berlin was not spelled out. This was explained because of the difficulty in knowing what access lines would be available. These details were to be worked out by the military leaders.

In June, 1945, General CLAY, acting for General EISENHOWER, and Marshal ZHUKOV, whose troops occupied Berlin, agreed that the Western powers should use a highway, a rail line and two air corridors (made three in November) into the city.

The Russians made oral agreements, but nothing written regarding control on the access routes. At the Potsdam conference in 1945 Berlin was not mentioned specifically. Before Russia's attempts to blockade Berlin in 1948, the Allied Control Council was abandoned as hopeless.

★ ★ ★

By 1949 the Allied airlift won over the Russian blockade, and the city was divided into West and East Berlin, each going its own way.

In looking back, certainly our big mistake was in holding off and not occupying Berlin first. Playing the part of a gentleman with Russia is useless.

High Accident Rate Increasing Premiums

Ever increasing personal injury lawsuits arising from automobile accidents are clogging trial and appeal courts.

The Association of Casualty and Surety Companies points out that steeply rising jury awards are burdening motorists with huge increases in premium costs. Much of the thinking back of excessive claims and awards is that insurance companies are rich and can afford to pay.

★ ★ ★

But, says the Association, as in all businesses, costs are charged to customers and in this instance they are the policyholders who pay the premiums out of which awards come. Rates are determined by the number of accidents caused by cars owned in the area and on a fair settlement of claims arising out of those accidents. If claims and costs increase, higher premiums must follow.

The Association stresses the obvious fact that if juries grant excessive awards based on sympathy, they are giving away policyholders' money. In Cook County, Illinois, for instance, the average jury award increased 304 per cent between 1947 and 1957.

The place to start reducing deaths and accidents, and incidentally insurance rates, is on our streets and highways. December with its icy streets and hurrying crowds is the most dangerous month of the year. Safety and courtesy rules must be observed by all drivers and pedestrians if we are to keep accident rates down.

Too many movies are made to appeal to the kind of people who eat popcorn in movie theaters.

The Man About Town

Winter Resorts

Pontiac Area Now Taking Advantage of What It Has

Man in' the moon: A jovial character who now seems to laugh even more.

Making an early start, this winter finds Oakland County's natural advantages for cold weather sports being developed more than ever before. In at least a dozen places skiing is under way.

Those with snow making equipment find conditions quite ideal, as these machines work best when the mercury drops under 25 degrees and have a fair supply of natural snow.

At Mount Holly, 17 miles up the Dixie Highway from Pontiac, the crowds are gathering. Over 400 were on skis there Sunday. Last winter the participants there exceeded those at any other ski resort among the 150 or more in Michigan, on some days running into the thousands. On some Sundays the crowds reached 10,000.

Promotion of the sport among teenagers is being strongly advanced at some of the local resorts. They have special days for high school students, and give them a greatly reduced price, both on the skiing and instruction.

The outdoor winter sports activity, which has enveloped the entire nation, is responsible for advancing land values on some properties in Oakland County, hitherto listed as liabilities, to what corresponds to business frontage.

It is pointed out that our county is the nearest to around three million people of any such terrain in the entire nation.

"Our wisest animals: in fact, wiser than many humans," writes

At the height of their season, if you feel that you might be interested in raising Christmas trees, you can get full information by writing to the

Among the last hunters out of the northwoods was

Pete Leverman

Working at a gas station in Waterford,

Rodney Phelps

tells me that trucks loaded with Christmas trees are passing on the Dixie Highway at the rate of about one every three minutes.

"—I'm Just Running Away From Them"

David Lawrence Asks:

GOP Needs Unity Starting at Top

WASHINGTON—What the Republican administration needs more than anything else nowadays is some serious deliberation on how to maintain unity within its own ranks—starting with the cabinet itself.

LAWRENCE

For unless the top men of the administration have a clear idea of what alienates large segments of Republican voters, the 1960 election might as well be written off as a hopeless proposition for the Republican Party.

Three instances of lack of teamwork and of understanding of public sentiment can be cited. They involve Attorney General William P. Rogers, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Arthur Flemming, and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell—all able and honorable men.

The attorney general made a speech the other day which aroused the ire of many northern Republicans. He may not have intended it as a threat of governmental blackmail, but it hardly behooves the head of the Department of Justice—which is charged only with law enforcement—to be issuing veiled warnings that the national government might withhold certain "favors" such as the location or expansion of federal facilities, from areas where there are "community tensions resulting from racial prejudices." The department is supposed to win its cases in court, not on the stump.

Secretary Flemming may not have intended it that way, but his hint, in a public statement last week on federal aid for schools, that such aid might be withheld in a way to influence the outcome of the "integration" controversy did not make a good impression on those Republicans in the North and West who do not believe the taxpayers' money should be manipulated arbitrarily by any administration.

They believe the sole criterion should be the purposes set forth in the legislation passed by Congress, which specifies the nature of any federal subsidies or grants to be made to schools, public and private.

The announcement said that the U.S. Office of Education "will consider each application for such loans on its merits," and then went on to say flatly, even without a hearing, that the private schools at Little Rock "would not be likely to meet the conditions indicated above which are required for a sound loan."

Last but not least is the spectacle of a Secretary of Labor defying the principle laid down by the President and Vice President when they told the voters of California that "right to work" laws constitute a "local" issue and that the Eisenhower administration would take no part either way.

Whenever the top men in a party set a strategy, it might be assumed that all members of the cabinet would follow it.

But, in speeches in Minnesota during the recent campaign, Mr. Mitchell publicly denounced as "phony" the "right to work" laws of the states. These are the laws that prohibit compulsory unionization and protect the civil rights of the worker.

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield last week made an excellent speech in New York City before the National Association of Manufacturers which pleased the conservatives. He warned against a labor-bossed Congress in January. But the question is: Did he speak for the administration?

The Republican Party needs some kind of unity at the top. It can hardly win any "left wing" votes, as these are on the Democratic Party side nowadays anyway.

So, it might be asked, what is the sense of alienating the anti-radical and conservative votes? The answer heard often is that "they have nowhere else to go." Sometimes they don't go anywhere—they just stay at home, and the Republican Party in 1960 will need every Republican voter it can persuade to go to the polls.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness. — Hebrews 3:8.

★ ★ ★

The heart of a good man is the sanctuary of God in this world.—Mme. Necker.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Any Kind of Milk Gives Youth-Preserving Factors

"I have read many times in your column that milk is essential in the diet — not less than 1½ pints (three glasses) daily — of every child, youth or adult. You say it maintains good nutrition and vite and preserves the characteristics of youth.

DR. BRADY

"But answer me this — how can one tell which milk to buy? Some kinds of milk give my baby diarrhea. Other kinds are so packed with vitamins, minerals, etc., that one can't help being confused and troubled. (N. G. W., Wisconsin.)"

When I say every child, youth or adult should consume at least three glasses (1½ pints) of milk every day I mean any of the following kinds or grades of milk:

1. Nondescript milk, which must be scalded (heated to boiling point for a few seconds) to make it safe for infant, growing child or invalid.

2. Pasteurized milk, milk which has been heated up to 155 degrees F. and kept at that temperature for at least 20 minutes, usually half an hour, then allowed to cool. Such par-boiling destroys any disease germs in the milk. Pasteurized milk is safe for any one to drink.

3. Grade A Raw milk from tuberculin tested cows.

4. Certified milk.

Certified Milk was formerly the premium milk. It was produced and handled under the best possible conditions and it was worth considerably more than any other kind or grade of market milk.

But the dairy interests killed Certified Milk, in my judgment, by imposing on producers of the milk the requirement to par-boil (pasteurize) it, just as though it were nondescript milk of the lowest marketable grade. After that I could see no reason for preferring so-called Certified Milk to any other milk.

Just the same I still plump for milk as the cheapest and best HEALTH FOOD for children and adults. Undoctored milk, if you please. Pure, clean natural milk, not homogenized, vitaminized, fortified, metallized or otherwise "processed" milk.

Any kind of milk — whole, skim, separator milk, buttermilk, evaporated milk, Bulgarian milk, Acidophilus milk, dried milk powder, scalded, pasteurized, homogenized — is a good food source of the two nutritional factors which are generally most needed for preservation of the characteristics of youth.

The Country Parson

"I guess we want God to give us the kind of wisdom and understanding that can come only through suffering—but to protect us from the suffering."

Voice of the People

Added Strike Information Eases Reader's Irritation

No one was more disgusted than I when my home milk delivery didn't show up. But a driver friend told me the dairy can and does sell at varying prices, often to the supermarket for five or six cents cheaper than to milkmen.

★ ★ ★

On top of that, the dairy is now exerting pressure on drivers to buy their routes and truck, with no guarantee the dairy will continue to sell to the driver at a reasonable price compared to supermarkets.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the job has become obsolete, but I don't blame drivers for forcing this issue before having to invest their cash in a business that may be knocked out from under them next year. Is there any comment on this from the dairies or drivers?

Not So Sore Now

'They've No Right to Use Our Money'

Williams and Hart made big speeches to the union members and told them what was what. Then I suppose the union officials took Mr. Hart and Mr. Williams off in some corner and told them what was what.

This makes a very bad joke out of the free government which Mr. Lincoln told us to have. We don't have government "for the people," but we have government for the union bosses who use our money to pay the election bills of their stooges. I didn't vote for Hart and Williams and I'm like the other union man who wrote to the newspaper and said he wanted his money back, even if it was only three or four bucks.

★ ★ ★

If union officials used our dough for big gyms on the east side and for playgrounds and city improvements, why we would not care, but what right have they to cuddle up to the Democrats and use our money in campaigns? The Democrats have all sold out and it looks like we're in a big mess.

I Cannot Sign

'We Got Numbers; Now for the Rest'

Now that we've surrounded the numbers racket boys and girls, how about rounding up the prostitutes, the bootleggers, the dope peddlers, the street walkers and other misfits that Richard Evans listed? There must be hundreds more plying their lowly trades. This can't much more than be the first of a dozen raids against different kinds of law breakers.

L. S.

Complains of Type in Telephone Book

The one responsible for the so-called improvement of the new telephone directory must have 20-20 vision and didn't give much thought to people with lesser visions. I've never seen such a mess, especially in the yellow pages. The new information is all right, but they could have used the same size print as in the old book.

And to top it all off, December appears on the front cover with a small "d." When I went to school the teacher would consider a proper noun misspelled if we began it with a small letter, even though the spelling is correct. Then you wonder why kids today don't know how to spell.

Squint Eye—

Wants to Squelch Abbreviation

There should be a campaign against using "Xmas" for Christmas. This abbreviation is not solemn enough to suit the occasion and it is bad taste. "Christmas" is a beautiful word and should be spelled out.

Wiley

(Editor's Note: Pontiac Press policy states that 'Xmas' is never to be used in headlines or stories which appear in this paper.)

Readers Complain of Sunday Hours

It's really a shame that some stores need business and money so badly they find it necessary to stay open on Sunday for the so-called convenience of Christmas shoppers.

Perhaps we should all pitch in and give them special Christmas baskets. It's quite obvious they don't know the real meaning of Christmas.

Wondering

One of the Commandments is to keep the Sabbath holy. I ask you ministers to prevail upon your people not to buy on Sunday. The employes should be home with their families on that, of all days. These greedy merchants don't care. Aren't six days and nights enough?

Artists Must Know Business, Too

Jerry is trying a 1,000 to 1 shot when he could easily produce art that is far more salable on the current American market. He needs money for food and room rent, so he should focus on "dynamic" art instead of the "static" variety. Take a lesson from the shrewd Michelangelo, as explained below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-387: Jerry K., age 22, is an aspiring artist.

"Dr. Crane, I specialize in making metallic masks of a person's face," he began, as I took him to lunch recently. "How about letting me transfer your features into a copper reproduction? It won't cost more than $800 and you can keep it on your mantel."

DR. CRANE

WOMAN'S DIAGNOSIS

"Dr. Crane, you're sure no prize winner yourself," a plump Akron, Ohio, woman once wrote to me, and she repeated that charge three times on the first page.

★ ★ ★

So you folks can realize that I am not a good prospect for an $800 metallic death mask of my face and head.

I doubt if Mrs. Crane would even want it, for we have so much bric-a-brac around our house that it would be just another dust catcher.

This field of sculpture is not especially attractive to most Americans and the price of $800 would obviously rule out the great majority.

So Jerry is limiting his capacity to earn a livelihood, for he is gambling on a 1,000 to 1 shot when he could study other forms of art for which he would find an easier market.

★ ★ ★

A great artist must be like Michelangelo and have a keen business head as well as a shrewd sense of advertising values.

Remember, Michelangelo buried one of his works of art because all the art critics of his day were so snooty they minimized current artists and said nothing was any good except what had been produced by the "Old Masters," long since dead.

So Michelangelo tricked them into pronouncing his work great, after it had been "discovered" by an excavating party, directed by Michelangelo.

★ ★ ★

Nowadays, it would be far more profitable for Jerry to learn how to make cartoons for the newspapers, or draw accurate pen sketches of people.

MONEY IN ART

Any artist who can thus caricature a person or even sketch a face that is recognizable, can go into a restaurant broke and still rate a big meal.

For he can make a cartoon of the owner and swap his drawing for a dinner in almost any dining place in America.

So artists, like authors, should not aspire to a costly single production but concentrate at the start on quick output for which there is a ready market.

For example, a lot of would-be writers also spend years producing a lengthy novel. It doesn't sell, for it is usually amateurish.

The author has meanwhile wasted several years in non-productive writing on a 1,000 to 1 shot gamble.

If he'd have tried short short stories, he could have written 25 or 50 of them during the same years he devoted to his big novel.

Or he could have entered literally hundreds of prize contests and won many cash prizes with the same hours of work and study.

So try the "shotgun" prescription if you are a beginner in art or literature. Why try to hit a flying duck with a rifle when you can use a shotgun?

The more shots you can discharge per unit of time, the greater your chance of landing the duck, or an art sale, magazine check or a contest prize.

★ ★ ★

Art markets also change with the years. Color film and 3-D cameras are now making it very tough for the oldtime forms of art.

Get hep, therefore, and imitate Walt Disney instead of Raphael and Titian.

Metallic masks and oil paintings of people are static. The 20th century demands dynamic art, which tells stories and conveys dramatic conflict.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c in coin to help defray printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

LOG LOOKOUT—A unique "house" fashioned from a single spruce log provides an impressive point of interest near Mentesano, Wash. The log, 36 feet in circumference, comes from a 400-year-old tree in the Olympic National Forest in Washington. The log's interior has been hollowed out and the inside room is used as a distribution center for tourist literature. Here Daniel Wing, 9, of Union, Wash. sits on the steps. UPI Photo

All-Out Search Fails to Turn Up Fugitive

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A man being chased by police after he abandoned a stolen car tripped over a coil of rope on a dock and went into the water of the Elizabeth River. Police enlisted the help of the Coast Guard, Shore Patrol and Fire Department. Search by land and sea failed to disclose the fugitive.

★ ★ ★

He was arrested the next day when a taxi driver reported a dripping wet man in the bus station. He had clung to the underside of the dock all night.

Golf Courses Hit Peak

NEW YORK — There were 5,686 golf courses in operation in the United States on April 1, a post-war peak. At that time there were 267 new courses under construction compared with 255 on April 1 the year before.

The temperature of the healthy adult human body averages between 98.4 and 98.6 degrees fahrenheit.

French Assembly Opens Today

Bourbon Palace Stirs With Life

PARIS (UPI) — The Bourbon palace, stately home of French national assemblies throbs with life again today after six months of silence.

The engraved presidential bell which rang the death of the Fourth Republic's assembly last June 2 is back in place.

Assembled in an orderly line, the Republican guards stand ready to thunder through the palace corridors at the opening of the first meeting of the Fifth Republic's new assembly at 3 p. m. sharp.

Six months ago the guards, who are chosen among the bravest veterans of French wars and are commanded by a general, manned the Bourbon palace walls.

★ ★ ★

An army-backed revolt raced across Algeria, Corsica and several French garrison towns. Mobs rampaged through Paris shouting "De Gaulle to Power" and the panicky assembly deputies heard rumors that Gen. Jacques Massu's paratroopers in Algeria were ready to drop on Paris and sweep the Fourth Republic's chamber into the Seine.

But those eventful days were only a memory for most Frenchmen today. And the ghost of the defunct republic is haunting the "windowless house."

French voters returned to the new chamber only a quarter of the former deputies, but some of the old quarrels are back. An unwritten law of French politics says that it is easier to make a revolution than to change the nation's deep-rooted habits.

The palace, a product of Louis XV neo-Greek architecture, has been thoroughly scrubbed, washed and painted.

Here and there, a piece of wiring lies on the floor. The electricians did not quite catch up with the times, and it will be only next year before "push button" votes replace the traditional vote by paper ballots.

Old timers who survived last week's elections guide newcomers with paternal benevolence through the first motions each deputy must accomplish: a session at the assembly photographer's for the official yearbook called "Trombinoscope," (nose gallery), delivery of an assembly card, a tricolor sash with a golden fringe and a heavy enameled buttonhole insignia nicknamed "the barometer."

On top of that a pass for a free railroad, subway and bus ride.

Technically, the first session is concerned only with the election of the assembly president, vice presidents and other officers.

But the elections promise to be a hotly-disputed battle. The Communists, whose complement shrank from 150 to 10 may stage a rumpus against "the thieves of our seats" — meaning the 192 deputies of the neo-Gaulist union for the New Republic (UNR) of Information Minister Jacques Soustelle.

Canon Felix Kir, 83, the silver-maned rightwinger who will preside over the assembly's first session by virtue of his seniority, is ready to handle the meeting with a firm hand.

The Catholic prelate from Dijon whose energy is proverbial is at his best in assembly disputes. He wears the aura of a resistance fighter who survived with eight rifle bullets in his body after being left for dead by a Nazi firing squad.

The assembly has no rules yet. So Kir and 12 leaders of major parties decided that until new ones were worked out the Fourth Republic's regulations will be used "unless they run counter to the new constitution and decrees."

If no candidate receives an absolute majority of the votes cast on the first or second ballot, the man with the largest votes will become assembly president on the third ballot.

Officially, there is only one party candidate. The UNR is plugging for election of former Defense Minister Jacques Chabandelmas.

Bob Considine Says:

Hilton Builds Hotels as Freedom Symbols

NEW YORK — Conrad Hilton groped briefly for the words that would sum up his unique position in the international hotel world.

"Maybe I could put it this way: The world needs an inn," the big gray-topped fellow said as he speared at his fast luncheon. "That need is more imperative, I think, than the world's various troubles.

"There's always going to be some kind of trouble in the world. There has been since the first fellow threw a rock. If we were going to wait for all the world's troubles to subside, we'd never get around to opening a hotel."

He had just returned from troubled West Berlin where the Berlin Hiltor now rises like a symbol of hope for West Berliners and a reminder to the people of East Berlin that their masters are defrauding them.

The Berlin Hilton is the third of the company's European hotels, preceded by the Castellana Hilton and the Istanbul Hilton. Each is a towering success. The hotel in Istanbul (with its 12-language switchboard) has been 100 per cent occupied every day since it was opened more than two years ago.

PERCENTAGE PLAN

Hilton doesn't own these pleasure domes. His outfit operates them, supplying know-how and other services for a fixed percentage of the gross. The owners are local business men, banks, unions.

The backers of the Berlin Hilton are secured by the West Berlin Senate and the Bonn government. A similar arrangement will apply in the building of the Amsterdam Hilton and Rotterdam Hilton—the Dutch government will lend its encouragement. This is the financial setup of the Nile Hilton, which opens in Cairo in February.

"There's generally antagonism against us when the subject of a new hotel is broached in a foreign country," Hilton shrugged. "But actually we help hotel business wherever we go, for the simple reason that our place attracts more people to that city than we can handle.

"We help business and employment, too. More than 95 per cent of all employes at our places overseas are natives, trained in our ways of hygiene and our method of running things.

"Cesar Ritz conceived of the hotel as being the retreat of the rich and the pampered. He made his lobbies small, to keep the crowds from coming in from the street. Life centered not in public rooms but upstairs, away from things. He lavished loving individual care on those fortunate enough to find a room in his place.

'GOOD TO MIX'

"We have a different philosophy on the matter of spaciousness. We think the mingling of peoples does good, not harm, particularly in today's world. Relieves tensions. It is more important, to our way of thinking, than to have a man brushing you every place you go."

Hilton International is a big money-maker. It does not lose money, to be sure, but obscure hotels in the company's domestic chain make more with less fuss and certainly fewer feathers. It is the boss's pet, and excellent young officials such as John Houser, who has left the company, have made the operation into a spirited American business crusade.

"There's no imperialistic side to this operation," Hilton said. "It's business, of course, but it's also an earnest way of saying we mean well toward all peoples.

In Istanbul the Turks have a fine custom. They give you a cup of their coffee and say, 'Drink this with me and it will commit you to 30 years of friendship.' I like that. It reflects what we're trying to do.

Hilton went international almost by accident. He was among the few innkeepers who deigned to answer a form letter sent by the Puerto Rico Development Corporation after the close of World War II. Hilton speaks Spanish fluently. He larded his reply with Spanish terms and won the assignment to operate what became the Caribe Hilton.

His empire now reaches as far south as the El Panama, on the Isthmus, north to the huge Queen Elizabeth in Montreal, east to the Bosphorus. The contracts for the Baghdad and the Tokyo Hiltons have been signed.

Work has started on the Rome Hilton, after Communists barred the way for four years. The London Hilton awaits a pending act of Parliament.

"Where do you go from there?" I asked him.

He took a hearty swig of his iced tea. "To every major capital, to every major city in the world," he said firmly. He will leave Space to his sons.

The Land of Green Ginger is the name of a street in the port of Hull. It gets its name from the fact that in the 16th Century the preserve known as green ginger, produced from ginger and lemon juice, was made in that neighborhood. "Land" is an old word for lane or courtyard.

Heavy Fog Blankets Coast for 2nd Day

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Fog-shrouded Southern California from Santa Barbara to San Diego yesterday, snarling land, sea and air travel for the second day in a row.

Traffic was reduced to a crawl in the populous Los Angeles Basin and all law enforcement agencies were out in force to help untangle bumper-locked motorists.

The fog was especially heavy in the San Fernando and San Gabriel Valleys where police reported they hardly could see across the street from their stations. Motorists groped along busy streets, hugging tail lights of those ahead of them or by watching curb lines.

A choking layer of smog accompanied the fog blanket. A smog alert was sounded in the late afternoon when the ozone concentration reached the first stage level of .50 part ozone per million parts of air.

Ike Visits 3 Friends at Walter Reed Hospital

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower visited three friends Monday who are patients at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

He spent 15 to 20 minutes with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, recovering from an intestinal inflammation that sent him to the hospital Friday.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower also visited Lt. Gen. Floyd Parks (USA, retired), and Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, commanding officer of the hospital.

Heaton, who served as a surgeon for both Eisenhower and Dulles, has a stomach ulcer.

First radio network began operation in 1926.

Big Sheep Dog Meets Each Train for 5½ Years

FORT BENTON, Mont. — Old Shep, a big sheep dog, arrived in Fort Benton one day in August, 1936. The same day, a coffin was put aboard the afternoon Great Northern train for shipment to the East. A little later, station employes noticed the disconsolate dog sitting beside the tracks.

For 5½ years he met every train that came through town, walking the full length of it and sniffing the air, then settling down to wait for the next one. When he died January 14, 1942, stores closed, schools were dismissed, and a minister read a eulogy.

The Rio Grande River is about 1,800 miles long.

Patagonia—Large Feet

BUENOS AIRES—Patagonia is named for the large feet (patagones) of the Indians who long held sway over this arid, wind-swept plateau land of southern Argentina. Patagonia occupies one fourth of Argentina and is devoted chiefly to sheep raising.

Accidents to farm residents take about 12,800 lives a year, according to the National Safety Council. More than 1,000,000 farm residents are injured in accidents each year.

Federal Grand Jury Indicts Goldfine on 18 Counts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Industrialist Bernard Goldfine was indicted by a federal grand jury today on 18 counts of contempt of Congress.

The charges were based on Goldfine's refusal to answer 18 questions—all involving transactions of the Boston Port Development Co.—at House hearings last July on his troubles with federal regulatory agencies and his friendship with Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams.

The indictment charges that Goldfine "unlawfully refused to answer . . . pertinent questions."

Goldfine told the House Legislative Oversight Committee the questions concerned the "internal affairs" of a private company and were therefore outside the committee's powers of inquiry.

Today's indictment was the second legal action involving Goldfine in two days. A U.S. Court of Appeals in Boston yesterday denied Goldfine's appeal from a lower court order that he turn over certain financial records to U.S. tax investigators.

A truck bearing the records, involving five Goldfine textile firms, took them to the Boston Internal Revenue Service yesterday afternoon.

House investigators said Goldfine had borrowed money from Boston Port Development Co., a real estate firm in which he was majority stockholders, over a period of eight years. It said that during this time the company failed to file required reports to the Securities & Exchange Commission (SEC).

Committee counsel Robert W. Lishman said such reports "would have revealed this situation to other stockholders or the public," and that the committee had a right to find out whether SEC regulations needed strengthening or whether "improper pressure" was involved in the SEC's lack of action.

The House voted 369-8 last August to cite the New England industrialist for contempt for balking at 22 questions.

Prosecutors said the number was reduced to 18 because of legal technicalities in the way in which four of the questions were asked at the hearings.

Goldfine is to be arraigned in federal courts here Friday.

Judge John J. Sirica set bond at $1,000.

If convicted, Goldfine could be sentenced up to one year in prison and fined up to $1,000 for each count in the indictment on which he is found guilty.

Goldfine's lawyers in their fight against the contempt citation, told the subcommittee in a statement "it is the subcommittee's curiosity about Mr. Goldfine himself which has been thwarted, not (its) desire to learn whether regulatory agencies have been properly fulfilling their functions."

★ ★ ★

They said Goldfiine had cooperated with the committee in all other respects. Just before the House was to vote on the citation Goldfine sent letters to 400 Congressmen pleading his case.

It was learned that the Goldfine case was presented to the grand jury yesterday afternoon and the panel voted for the indictment only a few hours later.

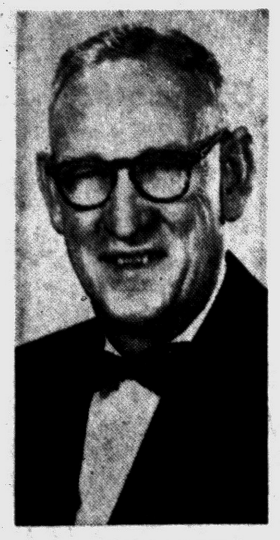

Before the House voted on citing Goldfine last August, Subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) told its members:

"The question before us today is: Is the Congress to let an individual who was obviously getting away with illegal acts tell the Congress of the United States, 'I am going to give you what I want you to have and that's all."

★ ★ ★

In mentioning "illegal acts," Harris was referring to Goldfine's troubles with two government agencies—the Federal Trade Commission, which had accused him of violating the Wool Labeling Act, and the SEC, which had charged him with failing to file required financial reports.

It was during his troubles with these two agencies that Goldfine had paid hotel bills for Adams. Adams admitted accepting this largesse from Goldfine as well as the loan of an oriental rug and material for a vicuna coat.

Rule on Zoning to Take Effect

Washington Township Works on Final Details Regarding Gravel Pits

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts indicated today he would resist efforts of a self-styled liberal block to curb the power of the House Rules Committee.

In an interview from his home in North Attleboro, Martin predicted that the new Congress will keep the present ratio of 8 Democrats and 4 Republicans on the potent rules group. He said he expects no change despite heavy Democratic gains in the November election.

★ ★ ★

Martin said there has been "an understanding" between the Republican and the Democratic House leadership that the 8-4 lineup would not be altered.

It was not changed when Republicans were in control of the House in the 80th and the 83rd Congresses, although the Republicans, of course, then had 8 members to the Democrats' 4.

★ ★ ★

The rules committee normally determines what legislation the House may consider. It has shelved many major bills approved by other House committees.

The committee is headed by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va) who, with Rep. William Colmer (D-Miss) and the four Republican members, has been able to sidetrack bills backed by more liberal groups.

Wants to Give Advice 'on Everything'

America Needs Me, Says Poet Frost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Take it from Robert Frost: what America needs is Robert Frost.

It's got him, in a sense: he's a highly eminent poet, a saltily genial old (84) New Englander from San Francisco, and for seven months he has been "consultant in poetry in English to the Library of Congress."

All this and four Pulitzer prizes are not enough for Frost.

"I want to be consulted on everything," he told a news conference Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

He said the White House has consulted him (on poetry only, though) and the Supreme Court has, too (about what he didn't say) and of the three branches of government only Congress has deprived itself of his counsel.

"I don't want to run for office," he said, "but I want to be a statesman."

And he broadly hinted that if some senator wanted to retire and let him take over for a few months he could solve with a poet's insight all sorts of problems which baffle mere politicians.

★ ★ ★

Sherman Adams, for example. He thinks well of Adams, vicuna coats or no vicuna coats, because the onetime White House aide understands poetry, Frost says, and several times, while in office, appealed for his advice.

Then there's that little matter of school integration: nothing to it, Frost said — just give all the kids examinations and let 'em into high school when they understand readin' and writin' and 'rithmetic.

That's the way the white-haired poet talks — down to earth and with nary a shred of false modesty.

He is, he said at one point, the greatest authority on education "up and down the scale" that you can find anywhere.

He could wish, he said at other points, that some recent presidents had more book learnin' — or at least more that stayed with them. He wouldn't give full marks to any president since Theodore Roosevelt.

How come Frost, born in California, has lived most of his life in New England?

★ ★ ★

Well, he said, the present Chief Justice of the United States, then Gov. Earl Warren of California, asked him that once and his answer was that he was carried away from the west coast as a child—screaming.

And probably chuckling, too.

Student Protests U. of M. Policy by Life in Tent

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Hilliard J. Goldman, the coolest student at the University of Michigan, has a new roommate—Jack Frost.

As the temperature dropped to near zero, Goldman shunned the comforting warmth of dormitory life to move into a pup tent in protest against the university and conformity in general.

★ ★ ★

Goldman sleeps in a heavily padded sleeping bag. He said it, and insulation provided by newspapers and dry leaves on the ground, keep him snug.

He has continued his life as a shivering recluse for more than a week. He bicycles to class each morning and studies at the library each night.

"I'm protesting the mothering attitude of the university," said Goldman, a 21-year-old senior from Detroit. "I've been almost self-sustaining for over a year and I wanted to see if I could do it with my home.

★ ★ ★

"By showing that I can, I may stop some of the authorities who try to hedge students in — lectures who try to weed out all who try to restrict free speech and officials who have made too many stringent requirements in housing regulations. Everybody was trying to direct me.

"I've got nothing against society, I'm looking for some sort of philosophy, maybe the cold air will help me. It certainly hasn't hurt."

9 Hunters Miss Rabbit, Bring Down Dog Instead

WAKENDA, Mo. (AP) — Conservation agent John Madden tells of this recent hunting incident:

Nine hunters fired at a rabbit as it was flushed by their dog.

The rabbit wasn't hit. The dog was wounded.

Bridges Fights for New Bride

1864 Nevada Statute Bans Marriages of Caucasians, Orientals

RENO (AP) — Harry Bridges, the 58-year-old West Coast longshore leader, goes to court today to fight for his right to marry a petite Japanese-American secretary with whom he eloped Monday night.

Bridges late Tuesday was granted an alternate writ of mandate which ordered Washoe County Clerk Harry K. Brown to show cause why Bridges and Miss Noriko Sawada, 32, should not be given a marriage license.

★ ★ ★

Brown declined — it was the third refusal during the day — because of the 94-year-old Nevada statute banning marriages of Caucasians to Orientals or Ethiopians. The statute was patterned after a California law which, in 1948, was held unconstitutional.

Brown and the other principals were to appear before District Judge Taylor Wines today on the show cause order. A ruling against the county clerk would permit issuance of a license and, in effect, hold the Nevada law unconstitutional.

The couple slipped away from San Francisco secretly.

★ ★ ★

The twice-married Bridges registered at the Mapes Hotel as Mr. and Mrs. H. Bridges, 150 Golden Gate Ave., San Francisco. It is the address of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union Headquarters. Bridges is ILWU president.

Word of the elopement leaked out. Reporters telephoned the Bridges' room and knocked on his door, but received no response.

The newsmen slipped notes under the door, suggesting a meeting in the hotel lobby. This resulted in Bridges asking them into the room and intimating — without exactly saying so — that he and Miss Sawada, a top legal secretary, were married.

When reporters inquired if he was familiar with Nevada's 1864 inter-racial marriage ban, Bridges said he didn't know specifically but "it won't bother us." Later, after lunch with City Attorney Samuel Francovich, Bridges decided to see a judge.

★ ★ ★

After a conference with Wines, Bridges and Miss Sawada first applied for a marriage license with Clerk Viola Given. It was refused. Then they went to County Clerk Brown and again were refused.

Bridges, affable and smiling when talking to newsmen in the morning, wore a haggard, harried look at day's end.

Had the couple been married in California there would have been the usual 3-day wait for blood test results in addition to wiping out any elopment surprise.

New 4-Jet Bomber to Make Test Flight

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—The supersonic B58 Hustler bomber takes a special test flight today over peninsular Florida from the Gulf of Mexico and out over the Atlantic Ocean.

Although the four-jet bomber is to fly in the vicinity of Cape Canaveral, there was no indication that the flight had any connection with the missile program.

The type of test was not disclosed in advance. An Air Force spokesman said that it was "a mission of vital importance to our national defense effort."

A three-man crew from the Convair plant at Ft. Worth, Tex., is to fly the plane.

Alabama Fights on Negro Vote

Federal Courts Threaten Action Over State Discrimination at Polls

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — An explosive new test of strength between the state and federal governments—unequaled since Little Rock—boiled up in Alabama today over the issue of Negro voting.

State and county officials who defied the U.S. Civil Rights Commission's first attempt to investigate complaints of racial discrimination stood their ground in the face of threatened federal court action.

The Justice Department in Washington, acting at the commission's request, started proceedings Tuesday to ask for a court order to compel voter registration officials to produce their records and answer questions about the conduct of their offices.

U.S. District Atty. Hartwell Davis in Montgomery said a short time later his office was "working on" a petition to be filed with District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. but declined to say when the action might be taken.

Refusal to obey a federal court order, if Johnson issues one, could bring jail sentences for contempt.

In the two-day hearing, which came to an abrupt halt Tuesday, six voter registrars refused to be questioned about registration of voters.

The commission was equally unsuccessful in getting access to the registration files it had subpoenaed in six counties. In one fashion or another they had all been turned over to local authorities.

Alabama Atty. Gen. John Patterson, who directed the massive resistance, denounced the hearing as an unwarranted invasion of states rights.

Atlanta Pastor Takes Stand

Says Negro Student Barred From College on Orders by Regents

ATLANTA (AP)—The registrar and late president of Georgia State College said they were acting on orders of the state board of regents when they refused admission to Negroes, an Atlanta minister testified Tuesday.

The Rev. Samuel W. Williams, pastor of Friendship Baptist Church and professor of philosophy at Morehouse College, was on the witness stand when federal Judge Boyd Sloan recessed until today a hearing on a civil suit filed by three Negro women seeking admission to all-white GSC.

★ ★ ★

Williams said he was with one of the plaintiffs, Mrs. Barbara Hunt, when she appeared before Registrar J. D. Blair.

The minister said Blair and the late Dr. George M. Sparks, who was president of GSC in 1956 when the applications were submitted, told the Negroes they couldn't accept the applications because they were "under orders of the board."

Four board members testified Monday that the board had no segregation policy.

The state claims the suit is not an honest effort by the three to enter the Atlanta-based school, but is spurious litigation financed by the NAACP. All three plaintiffs have denied the charge.

Under cross examination, Mrs. Myra Elliott Dinsmore said she understood she and her fellow plaintiffs were receiving assistance from the NAACP in the form of lawyers' fees.

Man Discovers Honesty Not a Waste of Time

DALLAS (AP) — Jack McDonald, ill and out of work, found a purse. It contained $41, two wrist watches, eight bus tokens and its owner's address.

McDonald borrowed some money to pay the fare and rode the bus to the owner's house to return the purse and its contents intact.

He received $10 as a reward.

13 Blazes Hit Family; Fire Chief Puzzled

PARIS, Ky. (AP) — A more superstitious man would leave home.

Charles Johnson had 13 minor fires in his home in three days.

Johnson, his wife, a daughter-in-law, nine children and a grandchild live there. Total: 13.

★ ★ ★

None of the fires was extensive. But the family says it's out of bed covers and the children don't have enough clothing left to go to school.

After the first few fires, one member of the family stayed awake at all times to watch, but it didn't stop the blazes. County Fire Chief Walter Ishmael started an investigation after the 13th.

23 Million Hospitalized

CHICAGO—The nation's hospitals cared for nearly 23,000,000 patients in 1957, an increase of 900,000 over the year before. The hospitals employed an average of 107 personnel for every 100 patients.

It's Office Swapping Time

Congressmen in Spin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The biggest move in a decade on Capitol Hill started its tortuous course this week.

It's new office assignments, for which first choice goes to members with the most seniority.

The 82 new representatives and 15 new senators get what's left after the incumbents make their choice.

The problem is getting everybody moved—sometimes several times—before Congress convenes Jan. 7. It's like a game of musical chairs. And the Senate could go through it again a month later. A new Senate office building is expected to be ready then.

"We work New Year's Day—well, we just work night and day and somehow all the moves are made." A Emmanuel Ridgell, superintendent of the two House office buildings, said in an interview.

"It always works out."

★ ★ ★

They said about the same thing in the Senate Rules Administration Committee, which handles office assignments. Until the new Senate office building is ready, most of the new senators are taking over the offices being vacated by their predecessors.

The House has 62 re-elected members moving to new offices, seven moving over to the Senate and 82 new mmbers moving in.

It's the biggest turnover since 1948. As Ridgell recalled, there were more than 100 new members and 84 re-elected members moving their offices that yar.

Shooting Preserve Oild

LONDON — Game laws of ancient Greece and Rome established the principle of a shooting preserve, but the term itself was probably first used in a 1536 decree by England's Henry VIII closing in an area in what is now metropolitan London for the shooting of pheasants, partridges, and herons.

Millions for Heart Study

NEW YORK — The largest sum alloted to cardiovascular studies by the American Heart Association in 10 years—about $8,000,000—will be spent to support scientific studies of heart and blood-vessel diseases during the 1958-59 fiscal year.

Labor to Form 3rd Party If It's Necessary--Meany

NEW YORK (AP) — George Meany says the American labor movement will form its own political party "if we have to do that to lick the people who want to drag us back to the past."

The AFL-CIO president said Tuesday that organized labor would form a third political party with reluctance. But, he declared:

"Labor is going to be just as political as it has to be to win its objectives."

★ ★ ★

Meany's remarks were greetd enthusiastically by the 2,842 delegates at a constitutional convention of the newly merged New York State AFL-CIO.

"If labor has to go further than it can through its committee on political education to make America a better place in which to work and live, to make America the leader of the democracies of the world, we will take the next step if it is forced upon us," Meany said.

He said he would prefer to have labor involved only with employer relations.

★ ★ ★

As for businessmen taking a greater part in politics, Meany asserted:

"My advice to the business community, and I mean this seriously: they had better just send their money and stay the hell out themselves.

"You see, they've got the money, but we've got the people. And in a contest between money and people, there is no doubt of the result."

★ ★ ★

The union president said labor faces a challenge from those who would attack its programs as socialistic. The National Assn. of Manufacturers, Meany said, opposed as socialistic every achievement by the trade labor movement in the last 75 years.

He quoted Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield as telling the NAM that legislation may be needed to curb union political activity.

Meany referred to Summerfield as "a little ward heeler from Detroit."

Souls Protect Children

JUNEAU, Alaska—The souls of the dead reincarnate themselves in newborn babies, according to the beliefs of some Eskimos. Thus, they reason, these "spirits" protect the growing children from harm and a parent should not punish a small child because the spirit might resent the interference. They believe that when the child grows old enough to take care of himself the spirit departs.

Pontiac City Affairs

Heating Code Given OK, Jail Bond Revisions Eyed

City commissioners last night adopted a heating code for the benefit of Pontiac heating contractors who maintain they have to have a code here to get contracts elsewhere.

The code, Pontiac's first, provides for licensing, inspection and fees in the same way as do the city's plumbing and electrical codes.

Adopted was an ordinance modeled after Detroit's code, which has been put into effect in many Oakland County communities.

One of its provisions is that outside contractors not licensed under codes with equally strict provisions must pay high license fees if they seek to do work in Pontiac.

Pontiac contractors said other communities have this same provision, and that was why a Pontiac code was an economic necessity for them.

The code, which takes effect in 10 days, covers safety factors in the installation of oil and gas heating fixtures and sets up an examining board, an appeal board and inspection fees ranging from $3 to $10 a job.

Commissioners, in other busines prepared to amend the city's new jail bond ordinance, which allows persons arrested on weekends to post bonds to assure their appearance in Municipal Court for Monday arraignment.

City Attorney William A. Ewart reported that the Oakland County Medical Society and coroner's office had taken a dim view of one of the law's provisions. It let prisoners seek a medical examination from a deputy coroner to prove they were not drunk and were physically able to leave jail.

Ewart said physicians refused to make the examinations, fearing damage suits if prisoners certified as phyically fit later injured themselves or others.

★ ★ ★

Ewart said the jail bond law has not been put into effect yet, because the health examination provision had proved unworkable. A substitute provision will be considered at the commission's next informal meeting, Dec. 18.

Steps were taken to rezone property on Columbia avenue north of the Pontiac Motor Division plant to make way for a proposed beer distributor's warehouse.

On the Planning Commission's recommendation, an ordinance to rezone the property from Residential to Commercial 1 was ordered and a hearing to vacate an alley scheduled for Jan. 13.

Held up, however, for further study was a move to vacate a portion of Ann Arbor avenue, which runs through the northern part of the warehouse site. There is still a question about the status of water and sewer lines along the street, said City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn.

The parcel in question is composed of nine lots lying north of Columbia and along the western border of the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern Railroad.

No objections were raised at public hearings on assessment rolls for sidewalks on both side of Orchard Lake avenue, Telegraph to the city limits; and the north side of Madison avenue, Perry to Arlene.

★ ★ ★

Assessment rolls for five other projects were confirmed. They covered a sanitary sewer on the north side of Montcalm street, Wing to Portland; sidewalks on the south side of Linda Vista drive, Joslyn to Vernon, and on the east side of East boulevard north of Michigan avenue; and grading and graveling on Monticello avenue, Orlando to Hollywood, and on Tallahasee avenue, Inglewood to Sarasota.

On recommendation of the Police Department, commissioners refused to approve a junk-gathering license for Felix Hooks, 418 Harvey St. Sgt. Walter Baerwolf said Hooks was illegally using his yard as a junk yard.

This Man Knows Value of Original 'Pnntiac' Auto

Somebody Goofed!

More attentive passersby on Pierce street, in front of the Henry Dahlquist Sales Co. in Birmingham, are noticing something mighty odd about a 1958 Pontiac parked there.

Henry K. Dahlquist, 854 Henrietta Rd., Birmingham, owner of the company, bought his Pontiac new six months ago. But the nameplate on the front of the car says he got a "Pnntiac."

In answer to a letter Dahlquis sent to Semon E. Knudsen, general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division, the owner of the "Pnntiac" was told the firm would gladly change the name for him. But Dahlquist doesn't intend ever to part with his original "Pnntiac."

"I wouldn't have it changed for the world," Dahlquist said. "Even James Melton (famed opera singer) hasn't sucb a rarity in his collection o fautomobiles."

Expressway Collision Kills U. of M. Student

DETROIT (AP) — Bernt S. H. Chou, 35, of Riverside, Ont., a graduate student at the University of Michigan Engineering School, was killed today when his auto collided with a truck on the Willow Run expressway.

Michigan State police said Chou was alone and en route to the university when his car struck broadside a flatbed truck which was being driven back onto the high way after making a stop at a gas station.

The truck driver, Stanley Carlisle of Spring Arbor, Mich., was uninjured. Police detained him pending taking of a formal statement on the accident.

The accident scene was just inside the Wayne County side of the Wayne County-Washtenaw County line.

Sherman Adams Sells Memoirs

Report $100,000 Paid by Harpers to Publish Former Aide's Book

NEW YORK (UPI) — The publishing firm of Harper Brothers Co. announced it would sign a contract soon for publication of former Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams' memoirs.

Life magazine said it had made a firm offer for serialization rights but had concluded no agreement with Adams.

The Boston Globe reported that Adams would receive $100,000 for his story.

Adams was disclosed yesterday to be working on his memoirs, which the Globe said would deal mainly with inside details of White House activities.

He resigned in September after being linked with Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine in congressional "influence" investigations. He has spent most of his time since at his Lincoln, N.H., home.

The Globe said he has been working diligently on his book. About six chapters, in addition to a rough outline, were said to have been completed. Only one chapter will deal with the Goldfine affairs.

Adams met last week in New York with Cass Canfield, Harpers publisher, and senior editor Evan Thomas to discuss the manuscript.

Adams was reported to have wanted the book to be published after the 1960 elections, but this proposal was rejected. He agreed to a publishing date some time next year.

Deny New Trial on Caribou Inn Condemnation

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer today denied a new trial to the owners of Clarkston's Caribou Inn who claimed the condemnation of the property was a "conspiracy to steal."

Judge Beer, who said he found the $20,000 compensation for the property "meager," added that he found the award "within the range of the testimony given."

A jury of Clarkston residents in June declared there was a necessity for off-street parking on the land where the ancient and fire-damaged landmark stands, and set the award.

The village of Clarkston had filed its condemnation suit to acquire the 132-by-186-foot parcel for a parking lot, but the owners continued to hold out for more money than the village offered.

★ ★ ★

Owner Ernest A. Felice, of Waterford Township, instructed his attorney to ask for a new trial and set aside the condemnation jury's verdict. The village asked that the verdict be confirmed, which Judge Beer did today.

Eying Early Settlement of 8-City Paper Strike

LANSING (AP)—Negotiations were to be resumed at 10 a.m. today in an effort to end a strike by printers that has halted publication of nine Booth Newspapers, Inc., dailies in eight outstate Michigan cities.

★ ★ ★

Management and union spokesmen were hopeful of an early settlement.

Pontiac Drivers Hurt When 3 Cars Pile Up

A three-car pileup on M-59 at Crescent Lake road, Waterford Township, Tuesday resulted in injuries to Pontiac area drivers.

According to Oakland County sheriff's deputies, autos driven by Fred Moutoux, 40, of Brighton, and Martha Anne LaMonte, 62, of 1792 Lockwood St., Milford, were stopped on M-59 waiting for a red signal light.

Another auto driven by Jill B. Johnston, 18, of 5735 Dwight St., smashed into the LaMonte auto from behind, creating a chain reaction pileup.

The Johnston girl, who was treated for minor injuries at Pontiac General Hospital and released, told deputies her brakes failed. She was not held.

Mrs. LaMonte suffered back, knee, and chest injuries. She was listed in satisfactory condition at Joseph Mercy Hospital today.

Pair to Be Tried on Burglary Charge

Two Pontiac men were bound over to circuit court yesterday after waiving examination on a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan set bond for the pair at $100 each.

They are Joseph Molina, 19, of 259 Raeburn St., and Shannon McGregor, 20, of 780 Melrose St.

They are accused of breaking into the L. H. Cole Fuel Co. offices, 392 S. Sanford St., Dec. 1. They admitted breaking into six other buildings in the past few weeks, according to police.

Traffic Bureau Switch to City Court OK'd

City comissioners last night fullfilled the second major recommendation of the Pubic Administration Service report on the Pontiac Police Department.

They authorized transfer of the Traffic Violations Bureau from the police to the Municipal Court, effective Jan. 1.

The PAS report had recommended the switch, saying that police who issue traffic tickets should not control collection of fines on them afterward.

★ ★ ★

"The executive functions of government should be kept separate from the judicial," the report said.

As far as the general public is concerned, the routine of the new violations bureau will appear to be much the same as in the past.

★ ★ ★

However, rules and regulations for the bureau are now controlled by the city's two municipal judges. They also control the fines, and have indicated there will be no change in the city's fine schedule.

NEW PROVISION

There will be a cashier's cage on the first floor of the Public Safety Building, where fines on undisputed tickets can be paid. Offices on the second floor will house records of tickets, fines and warrants.

★ ★ ★

One new provision is the appointment of a referee for the violations bureau. He will advise persons who wish to dispute tickets and schedule court appearances for them. It is expected that the judges will appoint Leo MacDonald, Municipal Court clerk, to this job.

Under the new setup, all fines collected will continue to be turned over to the city treasury every day. All tickets issued to police will bear serial numbers and will have to be reguarly accountable as a safeguard against "ticket fixing."

★ ★ ★

According to City Manager Walter K. Willman, commissioners were faced with three major recommendations when they opened up the PAS report last spring.

The first recomendation they accomplished was the hiring of a public safety director to reorganize the police department and boost morale.

Still unsettled is what to do about the third recommendation — repeal of the State Civil Service provisions under which Pontiac voters placed the police department in 1957.

ACT 'CONFUSED'

The PAS called the civil service act "confused and unworkable" and recommended that the city drop it.

This is considered the most ticklish of the three recommendations, since a public vote would be necessary to repeal civil service. So far, commissioners have had no serious discussions about it.

To Discuss Liberal Arts Program

Experts to Meet at MSUO

Five experts will meet with Michigan State University officials Saturday to offer their advice on a liberal arts program for the new Michigan State University Oakland.

★ ★ ★

The panelists are Sarah Gibson Blanding, president of Vassar College; Henry Steele Commager, professor of history and American studies at Amherst College (Mass.); Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University; Henry R. Luce, editor-in-chief of Time, Inc.; and Ralph W. Tyler, director of the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences at Stanford, Calif.

★ ★ ★

Meeting at Meadow Brook Hall on the MSUO campus, the experts will be confronted with this central question:

"With your experience and knowledge in the field of educational matters, and given a clean slate upon which to write, how would you go about developing a program which will insure that the students at this new institution are, in fact, liberally educated regardless of the field of specialization?"

The meeting will be the fourth in a series to help plan courses for the new university which will open its doors to the first freshman class in September, 1959.

Seminars already have been held in the fields of engineering, education and business administration.

Every Christmas

One gift means more than any other. It stands out under the Christmas tree . . . is still useful months later.

But this year you can give your child a gift that will always be remembered . . . and useful for life.

It's the gift of Better Grades in School.

Fantastic? Impossible? No. It's simple.

Leading educators agree that students who know how to type learn more, actually do better work in school . . . and get better grades. So you teach your child touch-typing.

What's more, he can learn at home . . . through a recorded 10-day touch-typing course, developed by the country's leading author of typing instruction, Dr. John L. Rowe of the University of North Dakota and by Norman Saksvig, world's champion typist.

Actually, this can be a gift to the whole family, for the 10-day course is perfect for adults, too. Typing helps a man get ahead faster in his career and helps homemakers with their household bookkeeping and letter writing. Typing's value for every member of the family, has always been far greater than its cost, even if each person pays as much as $150.00 to learn from a typing school.

But this course is free.

Free, without a penny extra charge, when you buy any new Smith-Corona portable typewriter. Most models are only $5.00 down with up to 24 months to pay the balance.

Stop in this week and see our full selection of the world's first and fastest portables, the Smith-Corona, with all the features an expert demands, all the conveniences a beginner requires.

U.S. Reducing Formosa Force

Easing of Threat Leads to Pullouts by Air and Naval Units

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The United States is reducing both its air and naval forces in the Formosa area now that the Communist threat to the offshore islands has lessened.

The U.S. command refused to say which units are going but pointed out they could return quickly if needed.

A U.S. spokesman said those departing could leave because of what he called the improved defense capability of Nationalist armed forces, mainly because of new weapons supplied by Washington, as well as because of the comparative lull in in the Communist bombardment of the Quemoy Islands.

All was peaceful today on the islands near the Chinese Communist mainland as Red gunners withheld artillery fire. They have not shelled the islands on even-numbered days for more than a month.

In accordance with their self-imposed rule, however, the Communists hurled 4,063 shells at the islands Tuesday, an odd-number day. One 90-minute period during which 2,431 shells hit was the heaviest bombardment in more than a month.

Nationalist gunners returned the fire. Their new weapons include 8-inch howitzers and 155 mm. rifles. These and smaller arms are counted on by U.S. military advisers to enable the Nationalists to hold the offshore islands.

★ ★ ★

The huge, nuclear-armed U.S. 7th Fleet already had been reduced slightly from the buildup that followed the beginning of the Communist bombardment last Aug. 23. U.S. spokesmen emphasized that the fleet could be assembled swiftly if needed in any new emergency.

The U.S. Air Force has a number of squadrons in Japan, Korea, Okinawa and the Philippines which have been assigned to Formosa for brief familiarization visits in the past and could return quickly.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Overenthusiasm Kills Bounty for Skunk Tails

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Marin County's abundant raccoons and skunks can thank sharpshooting small fry for saving their tails.

The board of supervisors decided Tuesday young hunters were shattering too many windows with small bore rifle fire. The board canceled a $1 bounty offered three weeks ago for the animals' tails.

TEA-TIME GIVES these young ladies a breather during busy holiday engagements. Scaled-down version of Samsonite folding furniture has scuff-proof vinyl, sturdy tubular steel frame to take all playtime buffeting.

Family Bathroom Suddenly Gushes Fresh Cement

BRENHAM, Tex. (AP) — Paul Kasprowicz, 5, told his mother the commode was "shooting up like a volcano."

★ ★ ★

She went and looked, then phoned City Engineer B. P. Greenwade, that wet cement was pouring out of the bathroom fixture.

Meanwhile, workers forcing cement into a Santa Fe railroad dump couldn't understand why so much mix was needed.

★ ★ ★

Once everyone got together, they found the pressure behind the cement had broken a sewer line and then backed up the line into the nearby Kasprowicz house.

Crews worked long and late trying to get the sewer line cleared before the concrete hardened.

'Birdbrain' Fights Battle on Frisco Cable Car

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Policeman Thomas Childs watched last night as a cable car gripman carefully set his brakes at the top of Nob Hill and then swung on his conductor.

Childs said that passengers told him gripman Leon Stimler, 27, was angry because conductor Percy Lackner, 29, had called him a birdbrain.

No charge was filed immediately. Lackner suffered a black eye.

New Senators Are Moderates

Leader of Dem Party, Johnson, Expects Little Trouble in Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—A look at the record indicates Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, won't have such a tough time as might be expected next year in keeping a check-rein on the newly elected Senate Democrats.

★ ★ ★

There are 15 of them. Not one of them can be called wild-eyed. Almost all are moderate in their views. A majority of them—eight of the 15—were members of the House this year or in the recent past.

In the House they worked pretty quietly under the leadership of Speaker Sam Rayburn, boss of the House Democrats. Rayburn, like Johnson, is a Texan. Both men are moderates, are close friends, work closely together.

★ ★ ★

So, for a majority of the 15 new Senate Democrats, moving from the House is like exchanging Rayburn for Johnson.

The three Republicans who won Senate seats this year for the first time were all members of the House this year. They are Kenneth Keating, New York; Hugh Scott, Pennsylvania; and Winston L. Prouty, Vermont.

Johnson, who recently outlined a 12-point program for the Senate in 1959, omitted any mention of action on civil rights. On this point he may have trouble with some of the new men.

They may gang up with the present band of liberals in the Senate — like Democrats Paul Douglas (Ill) and Hubert Humphrey (Minn), and Republicans Jacob Javits (NY) and Clifford Case (NJ)—to smash the present Senate rule on filibusters.

★ ★ ★

Under the present rule Southern Democrats can pretty well block legislation on civil rights, if they want to, with unlimited debate. Changing the rule to make it easier to cut off filibusters would also make it easier to get civil rights bills through.

Numbers by the Tuesday Musicale Chorus and selections for the flute were featured at the annual Christmas program of the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale, held Tuesday afternoon at Grace Lutheran Church.

Diet for Teenagers

Multiply Results by Clubbing Together

By RUTH WEST

It's been done before, by adults and teenagers, all over the country, and with astonishing success.

Perhaps you've read about TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly), the club founded in Milwaukee by a group of overweights.

Their united battle against individual overweight was so successful that other groups affiliated themselves, and TOPS membership throughout the country has now risen to 10,000!

There's a lot of sizzle in this idea of group dieting. For one thing, it's hard for most people, especially young, energetic, gregarious people, to resist the snob appeal of a club. By its very nature, not everyone can belong.

★ ★ ★

Call your club the Weight-Watching Society, the Slim Jims, the Century Club (because you'll all be 100 per cent fit) or the Marching and Munching Club. It doesn't matter what you call it, so long as every member is serious about losing weight, and has a whale of a good time at every meeting.

★ ★ ★

Boys might like to use the idea of a training camp as a theme for their club. Then prize fighters' exercises would be the order of the day, with everyone jumping rope, running laps around the block, doing pushups.

Girls might prefer doing ballet exercises to music, bending from the waist, swinging arms, and performing high kicks.

SQUARE DANCE

A mixed club could be the best solution because of its social advantages—square dancing is a fine substitute for roadwork or bar exercises.

★ ★ ★

However you organize your club, you'll find that bringing your friends into your program will make it easier to stick to. Sharing troubles makes them lighter. Knowing there are others in your boat gives you courage to ask questions and get answers.

Finally, competition sometimes does wonders in getting a person down to brass tacks.

HOW TO START

Here are the general procedures other groups have followed in setting up their clubs:

1. Pick a leader, either one of your own group whom you elect, or possibly an athletic coach, or friendly nurse, or gym teacher. Or doesn't someone have a doctor-father (or uncle or brother)?

2. First, visit the doctor—this should be required for every member. Get his pitch.

3. Have everybody sign up for a certain number of sessions (12 or 16) to meet once a week.

★ ★ ★

4. Keep a file card on each member.

5. Have a weighing-in session each time, and keep a progress report.

★ ★ ★

6. Take exercise together: swimming, bowling, skating, dancing. Plan for bad weather: plan on indoor as well as outdoor exercise.

7. Plan meals you'll all have: school lunches, menus for progressive parties at night, perhaps breakfasts.

8. Invent new "Slim-Jim" recipes. Give a prize for the best-tasting, lowest-calorie version of an old fattening favorite.

9. Exchange think-yourself-thin ideas, dodges; also recipes, menus, all kinds of helpful suggestions.

10. Have Confession Sessions: everyone sit with pad and pencil and write out the answers to such soul-searching questions as "What makes me overeat?", "What sent me off on last week's eating binges?", "Why do I especially crave munching at night?"

FUN ACTIVITIES

Here are some fun activities the group can try:

1. The blindfold test. Everybody has a pencil and piece of paper. Everybody closes his eyes (honestly, now) and draws a full-figure sketch of himself or herself at present weight. Then repeat, sketching the way you plan to look. Eyes still closed, please. Now repeat with your eyes open.

If you have any sort of permanent meeting place (somebody's rumpus room?) you might even do a bulletin board or wall labeled The Shape of Things to Come.

2. Games. You know the ones your buddies like. Pick out those that are practical for the amount of space you have and for your family's various occupations. And pick the ones that are the most energetic.

3. Exercises. These can be enjoyable if you have records playing and don't have to do them alone. You can get exercise suggestions from your gym teacher, from the Y, or from books.

★ ★ ★

4. Square dances. Easy, with a few records on the subject, and great for bouncing ounces.

5. Hikes or field trips. A good way to get some of your geology or science work done, too.

Old Tune Crops Up Annually

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I belong to a widespread group of wives whose husbands will soon be going to their annual office Christmas parties. We dread the experience because many of us have worked in offices and have gone to office parties. We know the fallacy of the excuse that they create good will among the employes. On the contrary, putting business associations on a social basis not only defeats its purpose of making better office harmony, but it disrupts the harmony at home at a time when it should be at its very best. We believe many of the husbands go because they feel they have to.

"If the bosses really want to create good will why don't they have a party to which the married employes could bring thir wives (or husbands)? We're asking you to champion the idea."

Answer: If the last day at the office is turned into a holiday and the party is held in what are usually office hours, then it is not at all necessary to invite either husbands or wives. But if the party is given elsewhere, and especially if in the evening, then I do think that husbands and wives should be invited. In neither case should anyone be encouraged to drink too much.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When inviting several women friends to lunch with me in a restaurant, do I, as hostess, remain standing until my guests are seated? Also, do I tell them where to sit, or do they sit wherever they please?"

Answer: You tell them where to sit and then as they sit down you do so too.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A relative's wife is in a sanatorium and won't be able to come to my wedding. That is sure. But I'm not sure whether to include her name just the same on the invitations sent to him and his grown daughter who lives at home."

Answer: If I were you, I would include her name.

Alpha Xi Delta to Bring Gifts for TB Patients

Winners at Bridge

Mrs. David Utley and Mrs. Melvin Smail were first place winners at the Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club meeting Monday night at Elks Temple. Winning second place were Ericson Lewis and John Kraus.

Add lemon juice and curry powder to mayonnaise and serve with a fresh pear salad.

Upside Down Serving Shows Glaze on Meat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Here is a new way of making a glazed ham loaf. With sweet potatoes, peas and a tossed salad, it will make a good meal.

★ ★ ★

Today's cook is Mrs. Wallace Edwards. She is an active worker in her church; her latest stint was being co-chairman of the church bazaar. She and her husband like to take their family camping—in warmer weather, let us add.

UPSIDE-DOWN HAM LOAF
By Mrs. Wallace Edwards

- ¾ pound ham, ground with
- 1½ pounds ground beef
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup bread crumbs
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk

Mix all ingredients lightly. Make into a loaf. Put ½ cup brown sugar and 1 teaspoon whole cloves in the bottom of the pan. Place loaf on top. Bake 1¼ hours at 375 degrees. Invert to serve. Makes six servings.

Myrna Wilson, John Lee Speak Marriage Vows

Myrna Lee Wilson and John Thomas Lee were married Saturday evening at United Presbyterian Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Wilson of Drayton Plains and Mr. and Mrs. George E. Lee of East Sheffield street.

★ ★ ★

The bride wore an embroidered silk organza gown featuring a scalloped neckline and basque waistline. The bouffant skirt was floor length and she carried a cascade bouquet of roses and carnations.

ATTEND BRIDE

Marlene Shell of Drayton Plains was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Judy Wilson, of Drayton Plains and the bride's sister, Marsha Wilson. They were dressed in peacock-blue waltz-length dresses with cap sleeves and carried semi cascades of red roses and pink carnations.

★ ★ ★

Lynwood Wilson, the bride's brother, was best man. Ushers were Robert E. Lee and Charles Lee, the bridegroom's brothers; Rodney Wilson, another of the bride's brothers; and Richard Dickinson of Waterford.

A reception was held in the church parlors.

Before leaving for a honeymoon to the Upper Peninsula, the bride changed to a blue wool dress and a white rose corsage.

Mrs. Wilson wore a beige lace dress with brown accessories and Mrs. Lee was dressed in a blue knit suit with black and white accessories. Both had corsages of roses and carnations.

Dear Abby . . .

A 'Linguist' at 8, but Words Have Shock-Effect on Grandpa

"DEAR ABBY: Our grandson is the smartest 8-year-old anybody has ever seen but the dirty words he uses would simply knock your hat off! We thought at first he didn't know what he was saying, but he uses all the words in the right places and it's a shame for one and all to hear. My husband refuses to let the child in our house and this is causing a big problem because we love our son and his wife dearly.

ABBY

"We love our grandson, too, but my husband feels we must teach him a lesson. The child's parents say he picked it up at school and they were advised by their pediatrician to ignore it. Are they right or is my husband?" NANA

DEAR NANA: Your husband should do a little growing up himself and ignore this scheme to get attention. The child is simply using these words because he enjoys the excitement it creates. When he discovers he can no longer shock and upset his listeners, he'll give up.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My mother passed away three months ago after a lingering illness. I know it will be a very sad Christmas for us, but my question is this: Should I send out Christmas cards this year?" MRS. A.

DEAR MRS. A: Certainly. Your own sadness should not prevent you from wishing your friends a happy holiday.

"DEAR ABBY: I am a woman of 65, look 45 and feel 25! I am twice married. Lost one husband in the first world war and one in the divorce court. I'm keeping company with a bachelor who is 50. He's bald and looks older. He wants to marry me but there is a doubt in my mind.

"He's so tight he cuts his own hair (I do the back). He drives a sedan that is so old and funny looking that people turn around and laugh. I had to hide his hat so he'd buy a new one. He keeps talking about having a family but I can't help him there. Do you think if I married him I could change him?" GEN

DEAR GEN: Take him as he is, or leave him alone. If you attempt to remold this bachelor, instead of looking 45 and feeling 25—you'll look 85 and feel 130!

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and have been dating since I was 12. I just started going steady with a real dreamy guy. He is 16 and a real doll. On our second date I let him kiss me and, Abby, this fellow doesn't know how to kiss! I can't come right out and tell him that he doesn't know how to kiss a girl, can I? What do you think I should do? Pretend I don't know how to kiss either or tell him he could use a few lessons?" DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Don't tell this boy that he needs kissing lessons unless you want to tell him where you got all your experience. Take your time and be patient. You'll be amazed how quickly he'll learn.

★ ★ ★

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

★ ★ ★

If you want a collection of Abby's best letters and answers in one book, ask your bookdealer to get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

ONE HOUR TO PARTY TIME

The holiday rush is on . . . we offer these tips on getting ready for a party in one hour! First, layout everything you are going to put on . . . from undies to jewelry. Brush or polish your shoes. Let the water run in the tub while you tuck a few pin curls in place. Cover your curls with a shower cap even though you are going to relax in a tub, it will protect it from dampness and steam. Allow 15 minutes for bath time. Use cologne lavishly (in the same scent as your perfume). Don your undies and brush out your hair.

Chances are you'll put your dress on before your make-up . . . so cover your shoulders with a cape or cotton towel. Allow another precious 15 minutes for a careful make-up job and when complete touch it lightly with a moist wash cloth to "set" the job to last. Now . . . give a last minute touch to your curls and put on your jewelry. (No more than three pieces) and slip into your party shoes. Have fun.

Bomber Crashes in Oklahoma

One Survivor Found, 3 Dead, 4 Presumed to Be Missing

ALTUS, Okla. (AP) — A Strategic Air Command stratofortress trailing long fingers of flame crashed six miles north of here early today. One survivor was found.

The eight-jet bomber, on a training mission from Altus Air Force Base, reportedly had eight crewmen aboard. The bodies of three were found on the frozen ground amid the wreckage in an open field.

Witnesses said the plane, the Air Force's largest, circled low over Altus and seemed to be making an attempt to get to the base, a few miles to the east. The police department reported receiving numerous telephone calls from residents asking if the craft was having engine trouble.

The survivor, unconscious, was found a quarter of a mile from the main wreckage. His parachute was open, but it was not known if he had jumped.

★ ★ ★

The survivor and the three bodies were taken to the SAC base, located in extreme southwestern Oklahoma 14 miles from the north Texas border.

Deputy sheriff Kenneth Spears said the plane carried only ammunition. The Air Force has said stratoortresses can carry hydrogen bombs.

Col. C. H. Davidson of the base said the plane has a normal complement of five, but carries more on training missions.

★ ★ ★

"There wasn't much left," Spears said in describing the wreckage. "The pieces of the plane covered almost a square mile. It hit about a half mile or so from the nearest farm house."

HER OWN FIRE ESCAPE — Wilda Hyman, 9, of Independence, Mo., holds the 60-foot length of rope she brought to her second-floor classroom to serve as her personal fire escape. Her mother, Mrs. W. F. Movie Contract Won by Miss United States

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Miss United States in this year's Miss Universe pageant has a new film contract—and a new name.

Eurlyne Howell, 19, runner-up for the Miss Universe title, will receive $300 weekly from Warner Bros. Her salary could increase by options to a high of $1,200 a week in seven years.

Miss Howell said for movies she will use Arlene instead of Eurlyne.

U.S. Trying to Collect Taxes From Chaplin

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A suit to collect $1,242,532 in income taxes from comedian Charles Chaplin is scheduled in U.S. Tax Court next month.

R. E. Maiden, counsel for the Internal Revenue Service, said Tuesday there is a possibility of an agreement before the trial, tentatively set for Jan. 8.

Main issue is whether Chaplin, a native of England, now living in Switzerland, is entitled to claim status as a nonresident alien, not subject to income taxes, prior to April 10, 1953.

Chaplin moved to Switzerland rights in 1953. The government contends he was a resident alien until that time.

Toledo Coal Shipping Off 4 Million Tons

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Coal shipments from Toledo Harbor this year are off nearly 4 million tons from last year, the U.S. Corps of Engineers reports.

Lake boats brought 2,825,272 tons of iron ore to Toledo through last month, down from 4,116,871 tons in the 1957 period.

Grain shipments were 198,579 tons, up from 196,181 tons in the first 11 months last year.

U. of M. Faculty Senate Votes to Bar Sorority

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan Faculty Senate agrees wtih the Student Council that Sigma Kappa Sorority should lose University recognition because of its membership policies.

The Faculty Senate voted Monday to recommend that the Board of Regents affirm the Student Council's decision on grounds that Sigma Kappa's discrimination in membership "is contrary to the U-M's educational policy and does not serve the best interests of the University."

Frank Ruggles of Milford Is 'Dairyman of Year'

Press Gives Trophy at Commerce Dinner

"Dairyman of the Year" in the Oakland County area is Frank Ruggles, owner of Locust Breeze Farm, 5561 Cooley Lake Rd., Milford.

He was presented with the Pontiac Press Trophy at the annual dairy banquet held last night at the Masonic Hall in Commerce before more than 100 county area dairymen and their families.

The award is presented each year to the owner of the Holstein dairy herd judged best by Oakland County Dairy Herd Improvement Assn. managers. Presentation was made by Richard Hanson, county editor of The Pontiac Press.

Among the factors considered in deciding the "Dairyman of the Year" competition are milk and butterfat production records, improvements made in livestock housing, breeding and feeding, and farm management practices.

Ruggles has a herd of 24 registered Holsteins and has been farming in the county since 1925. He was raised on the same farm where he is now living when it belonged to his father, now deceased. The Ruggles family was among the early pioneers in the Milford area, and at least three generations have been located here, Ruggles said.

He is currently a member of the Farm Bureau and was director of Oakland County Soil Conservation District from 1947 until 1953.

Ruggles's record was a 1958 average of 12,880 pounds of milk and 478 pounds of butterfat.

Four other dairy farms received honorable mention during the award ceremonies. They were Devon Acres, in Oxford, owned by Lee Hunt; Carlton Crawford's farm, Vale Royal, in Milford; Deforest Thompson's farm in South Lyon, and Charles Coe & Son's farm, also in South Lyon.

Following the honors program Clinton Meadows, associate professor of dairying at Michigan State University was introduced by Toastmaster James Reid, director of DHIA No. 4. Meadows spoke on the future of dairy farming. He noted that the main stumbling block to improving herds even further was the lack of records kept by the farmers. "Book keeping is becoming ever more important to the efficient operation of a dairy farm," he said.

Further entertainment of the evening included a solo skit by Janet Long who portrayed a family on one of their apparently rare "outings." She was roundly applauded for her clever presentation of the comedy which was enacted without stage props.

The fried chicken supper was prepared and served by members of the Commerce Order of the Eastern Star.

Almont OKs Sewer Construction Plan

ALMONT — The Almont Village Council has okayed the purchase of sewer tile and fittings to begin the construction of sanitary sewers along East St. Clair street.

★ ★ ★

Heavy equipment is now breaking ground at a point where the latest installation on East St. Clair street turned north to form an interceptor line for the Northeast Subdivision. The $30,000 estimate on the work includes construction of a pumping station at the extreme east end of the line, to enable service to homes and contemplated expansion along the outskirts of Almont.

★ ★ ★

Another decision made by the village council was to drill a new test well on the Community Projects, Inc., property near the school. It is hoped that project will provide the water system with a new and better source of supply.

Berkley Man Held in Robbery

Walter Budry Denies Pistol-Whipping Clerk at Piggy Bank Cleaners

BERKLEY — Police are holding Walter H. Budry, 25, of 3665 Oakshire Rd. for investigation of armed robbery in the pistol-whipping yesterday afternoon of a clerk at the Piggy Bank Cleaners, 2829 Coolidge Highway.

The clerk, Mrs. Marguerite Baker, 37, of 2130 Highland St. in Ferndale is reported to be in fair condition today at William Beaumont Hospital with multiple lacerations of the scalp.

Mrs. Baker said she was alone when a man entered and after asking for his clothing and threatening to kill her he beat the woman with a pistol. She said he then dragged her to the back room, where he tied her hands with twine.

Her screams attracted the attention of Walter Knopka who operates a real estate office two doors down from the cleaners. Knopka ran into the store and grabbed the assailant's wrist as he was leaving. The man got away but Knopka was able to obtain the license number of his car and furnished a description to Berkley police.

Budry was arrested a few hours later by Novi police when he appeared at a general maintenance shop of the Walled Lake Amusement Park with blood on one hand and on his shirt-sleeve.

Budry has denied the pistol-whipping but has admitted throwing a pistol from his car somewhere in the Walled Lake area. Police are searching for the weapon, and are also checking with State Police to find if Budry has any criminal record.

Budry is a free-lance photographer and works as a bottler for Brown Creamery of Royal Oak.

Romeo Woman Is Killed by Car

ROMEO — A sixty-six-year-old Romeo woman was fatally injured at 6 p.m. yesterday when she was hit by a car seconds after stepping off a bus in front of her sister's home at 67091 S. Van Dyke, a half mile south of here.

Miss Clara Mitchell died about two hours later in St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens. She suffered from shock, compound fractures of both legs and internal injuries.

Miss Mitchell and her sister, Mrs. Robert Campbell, with whom she made her home, were returning from a shopping trip when the accident occurred.

Driver of the car was Frederick Falk, 19, 16615 E. 30-Mile Rd., Romeo.

Falk told Romeo State Police he didn't see the women until he was just 40 feet from them. They were standing in the middle of the road, he said, and Mrs. Campbell went back to the east shoulder and Miss Mitchell started across in front of his car.

Falk said he applied his brakes too late to avoid hitting her, police reported. There were skid marks of 135 feet at the scene and the body was carried about 95 feet.

The driver was to make a statement today in the Macomb County Prosecutor's office.

Martin Says Liberal Block Won't Alter House Committee Ratio

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP — The new Washington Township interim zoning ordinance, adopted Oct. 12, is scheduled to go into active effect this weekend, R. Eugene Inwood, township supervisor, told board members last night.

Final details of administration, particularly applying to gravel pits, are being worked out now, Peter G. Horler, township attorney reported.

New township zoning board administrator Ralph Sheldon will have charge of enforcing the ordinance and will explain it to gravel pit owners at a meeting he plans to schedule in the very near future.

Sheldon, who is also Washington fire chief, reported that the department made 37 runs during the year which ended Dec. 2. Compensation received by the 26 members of the department for fighting fires and training amounted to $2,287 this year, he said.

The fire chief asked the board to consider an addition to the present fire hall to house a new tanker the department hopes to acquire.

This move, Sheldon said, will put the fire department one step closer to becoming an all inclusive township emergency unit "if that should be the will of the people."

Bloomfield High Gets Fallout Measure Kits

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — West Bloomfield High School recently received a radiological monitoring kit from the United States Office of Civilian Defense. This was one of 239 such kits that were distributed to qualifying high schools in the state of Michigan.

The kits contain the necessary monitoring devices and materials to aid high school science teachers in training students in the proper indentification and amounts of radioactive fallout that might be in the area as a result of the explosion of a nuclear weapon, and to train them in the methods of detection and handling of radioactive materials.

In connection with this program, Warren Dolsen, high school science teacher, spent Nov. 3 and 4 at the University of Michigan attending a regional Instructors Institute in radiological monitoring.

The course included lectures and films on the effects of nuclear weapons, principles of radioactive decay, dose and dose-rate calculations, medical aspects of nuclear radiation, plotting radioactive fallout, use and care of monitoring instruments, and a tour of the nuclear reactor and Phoenix Memorial Laboratories.

★ ★ ★

The Civilian Defense radiological monitoring course is not new to the area, as it was given by Dolsen to a class of local Civilian Defense volunteers and was included in the school's chemistry classes last year.

It is believed that West Bloomfield High School was one of the first high schools in the nation to include this as a part of the regular chemistry curriculum.

A few of the students who have taken this course will take part in a forthcoming Civilian Defense drill and will at that time get practice in monitoring personnel and supplies.

Need Equipment

Boys Get Space

WEST BLOOMFIELD—The West Bloomfield Boys Club is planning to open a new games room in the clubhouse at Roosevelt Elementary School in Keego Harbor as soon as the group can get some more equipment.

Carl Misfeldt, director, has announced that contributions can be mailed to the club addressed to Box 703, Keego Harbor. The older boys in the club are particularly anxious to procure a pool table.

The additional room is big enough to contain a pingpong table and two pool tables. Plans also call for two hockey-game tables, Misfeldt said.

The clubhouse is located behind the school in a frame building formerly used in teaching manual crafts.

There are approximately 330 boys in the club, ranging in age from 10 to 18 years. Presently, the members are playing basketball in an open boys club league, working on woodcrafts and looking forward to playing hockey on Dollar Lake as soon as the ice is considered safe enough.

With the new addition, the Boys' Club will have two games rooms. The new one will be used by boys from 15 to 18 years of age, leaving the present room to the younger members.

Misfeldt said he believed that "things would run more smoothly in this manner, with less conflict due to a wide variation in age."

Visitors are welcome to drop in and see the club in operation, Misfeldt said. It is open Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Grand Blanc Man Wins Corn Contest in County

Winner of the Oakland County Senior Corn Contest is Harold Mitchell of Grand Blanc, it was announced by Jay Poffenberger, county extension agent, Agriculture.

Mitchell achieved a yield of 131.5 bushels per acre to place first in the countywide annual competition. In second place was Robert Ousnamer of Orion township with a yield of 129.7 bushels per acre.

Mitchell planted Michigan 480 corn the last part of April and used a 6-24-12 fertilizer at planting time and side dressed with nitrogen. His plant count at harvest time was 16,400 plants per acre.

Ousnamer used a 12-12-12 fertilizer on his Michigan 570 corn at planting time and plowed down 12 tons of manure.

For the third highest yield recorded in the county Stuart Braid of Lake Orion used a 5-20-20 fertilizer at planting time on his Funk G-6 corn with a nitrogen side dressing. He achieved a yield of 120.6 bushels per acre.

Of the 22 entries in the contest, ten planters grew over 100 bushels per acre.

The cost of producing the corn varied more than 30 cents a bushel between the various farms.

One of the outstanding points of the contest, was the fact that all of the farms having the six highest yields either used a nitrogen side dressing or plowed down extra nitrogen, County Agent Poffenberger said.

Awards of 1958 season's contest certificates will be given to the three farms with the highest yields, and to all farms raising over a 100 bushels per acre, at the annual Oakland County Soil Conservation District banquet in January.

Counties Measure White Gold

State Pays Off in Cash for Heaviest Snowfall

LANSING (AP)—This recent heavy snowfall may be a headache to householders and motorists. But it's a bonanza of white gold to the counties that get the most of it.

The state pays off in cash to the counties with the deepest snow measurement, helping with the cost of the removal from county roads.

Twenty-two counties shared in a kitty of $545,021 this year. The payments are based on a complicated formula for 70 or more inches of snowfall multiplied by county road mileage.

Next year's payment will be based on the current fall. So they have rulers out, watching the flakes pile up, in the north country.

Marquette County was tops with $101,728 from the current payment. Houghton was next with $100,020.

Surprisingly, Chippewa County, in the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula, received only $46.45. Chippewa recorded only 70.04 inches last year.

But Van Buren County, in the southwestern fruit belt, was given $38,875 for a freak heavy fall last winter.

Lake County, which has received upwards to $100,000 in past years, wasn't even on the list in this accounting.

Reassuringly for Detroit area residents, highways sources couldn't remember Wayne or Oakland counties ever being in line for payments.

Other counties with 70 or more inches and eligible for the cash included:

Alger, Allegan, Antrim, Baraga, Benzie, Gogebic, Grand Traverse, Iron, Kalkaska, Keweenaw, Luce, Manistee, Muskegon, Oceana, Ontonagon, Otsego, Ottawa and Schoolcraft.

Delivery Drivers Strike New York Papers Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Circulation of major New York City daily newspapers was disrupted today by a strike of deliverers—their second in two days. The papers planned over-the-counter sales.

★ ★ ★

The deliverymen struck nine papers late Tuesday night after voting to reject a tentative settlement of a contract dispute with the Publishers Assn. of New York City.

★ ★ ★

The agreement, reached Monday morning after all-night negotiations, ended an eight-hour walkout by the truck drivers, but was subject to union membership ratification.

Seek Fishing Boat Lost Off Isle Royale

HOUGHTON (AP) — A fishing boat with six men and two women aboard was sought by the coast guard today off Isle Royal in frigid Lake Superior.

The cutter Woodrush, out of Duluth, Minn., was dispatched from here to search for the fishing boat last night.

The Coast Guard said the fishing craft was named the Jefferies, but it was uncertain of its home port. Some sources speculated it was out of Grand Marais, Minn.

The search was centered off Isle Royale's Malowne Bay.

Lansing-East Lansing 108-Unit Motel Planned

LANSING (AP) — The owner of the Frandor Shopping Center here has announced plans for construction of a 108-unit motel between Lansing and East Lansing.

Francis J. Corr said a leasing agreement has been signed with Holiday Inns of America, Icn., for the million dollar project at the shopping center.

He said it was planned to begin construction in January and finish in time for summer business.

Jerry Lewis Buying Interest in Night Club

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Comedian Jerry Lewis is negotiating to acquire a half interest in the KoKo Club, a fashionable night spot here.

Barrie Chose to Make Movie With Bing Crosby

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — A youthful caller at my home, Barrie Chase, brought color into a dull day. She told me that she was hoping to get a part with director Frank Tashlin in "Say One For Me" with Bing Crosby, Debbie Reynolds and Bob Wagner. The very next day information came that Barrie had been given the role and will do a dance as well as act for 20th Century-Fox.

The Fred Astaire spectacular did much for Barrie in bringing her before the public. She will do his next spectacular, but Fred isn't of a mind to do more than one of these shows a year.

Barrie, who has the longest hair and wears it in a pony tail, told me that she wants to cut it and save the hair for a chignon.

Jill St. John flew east on the same plane with Bob Evans and since they are both alumni of 20th Century-Fox, Bob politely escorted Jill in New York town, including dinners at the Harwyn Club, El Morocco and "21" and a new play or two.

But Jill's real "heart," Lance Reventlow, arrived in the big town Tuesday—and that will end the dates with Bob where Jill is concerned. Lance is on cloud 9 since he won the speed race in Nassau and he was all over TV being interviewed with a big beam on his face.

Barbara Hutton, Lance's mother, is expected in New York from Europe very soon and you can bet that young Reventlow will arrange a meeting for his mother to meet his best girl.

★ ★ ★

Just before Tony Perkins took off for New York to spend Christmas with his mother he said that he's writing a three-act play revolving around the year and a half he spent as a licensed baby sitter during his college days in Florida. Tony's experiences in this department were climaxed when he became the favorite guardian of a great Dane.

He's going to work on the play following his trip to Australia early in January where he'll make "On the Beach" for Stanley Kramer. How that lad has changed since he first came to town and was his own press agent.

Father Guilty in Child Killings

Murdered 4 of His 5 Youngsters Sleeping at Home Near Sparta

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Orland D. McMillan, 43, who murdered four of his five children as they slept in their home near Sparta last Sept. 23, has been found guilty of second degree murder.

Circuit Judge Leonard D. Verdier ruled that McMillan was guilty of second degree murder yesterday following an all-day hearing.

McMillan pleaded guilty to an open charge of murder Nov. 21 and Verdier ordered a hearing before determining the degree of murder.

No date was set for sentencing pending a pre-sentence investigation. McMillan could be sentenced to any number of years up to life in prison.

McMillan, a 5-foot-4-inch, 135-pound unemployed factory worker, was specifically charged with the murder of seven-year-old Ronald. He also shotgunned to death three others — Bonnie Jane, 6; Richard, 22 months, and Michele Yvonne, 10 months.

McMillan's fifth child, Orland B. 8, survived because he "played dead" after his father broke the stock of one gun over his head and then missed him when he fired a second shotgun at hime.

McMillan told police he killed his children because he was angered at his wife for filing for separation and obtaining a court order forcing him to leave the house.

Detroiter Pleads Guilty of Taking Stolen Goods

DETROIT (AP) — Ray O. Williams, Detroit antique dealer, pleaded guilty yesterday to receiving and concealing a collection of 300 watches valued at $25,000.

The watches were stolen from a Michigan State University museum.

Recorder's Judge Paul E. Kraue et Dec. 30 for sentencing Williams, 56. Police said they found the watches in a wall of Williams' garage.

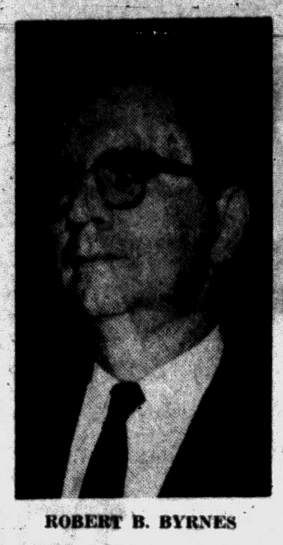

The theft last July has been confessed by Philip W. VanZandt, 22, a former Michigan State student.

Van Zandt faces trial in Eaton County for the theft of a gun collection.

GOP to Tighten Senate Control

Favor Dems to Gain House Control for First Time in Twenty Years

LANSING (AP) — There were signs today that if Democrats succeed in organizing the deadlocked house, majority Republicans in the Senate will clamp on tighter committee controls there.

The possibility was discussed yesterday at a pre-session GOP Senate Caucus. The new Legislature organizes Jan. 14.

The GOP Senators deferred any decision, apparently to await the outcome of a stalemate in the house where Republicans house .where Republicans.etaota and Democrats each came out of the Nov. 4 election with 55 members-elect.

At the moment, the odds seem to favor Democrats in their bid to wrest away house control after 20 continuous years of Republican dominance.

As now organized, most senate standing committees have four Republicans and two Democrats — an arrangement set up two years ago. Before that, the GOP held a 4 to 1 strangle hold.

The change, instituted in Januard 1957, followed Democratic protests that the committee ratio was unfair in not corresponding to overall Republican-Democratic numerical proportion and meant almost automatic death for Democratic proposals.

In 1959-60, the Republican Senate edge over Democrats will be 22 to 12.

There was some talk of hiring a GOP senate press agent for better communication with the public. Action was put off.

Average American family uses 500 per cent more frozen peas and about 5 per cent more canned peas now than before World War II.

Moore Solid Favorite to Retain Title

Ancient Archie Battles Durelle in Scheduled 15

Jack Sharkey Referee of Tonight's TV Bout for World Crown

MONTREAL (AP)—Jack Sharkey will referee the Archie Moore-Yvon Durelle light heavyweight title fight tonight and the general feeling here is that his main job will be to count ten.

There is hardly a soul in this frigid French-Canadian metropolis who believes this expected punching party at The Forum will end in anything but a knockout. And that goes for the gladiators. Most people are agreed, too, that the bells will toll for Yvon.

Archie, making the seventh defense of his 175-pound division crown, remained a solid 14-5 favorite to whip the 29-year-old fighting fisherman from Baie Ste. Ann, N.B.

Durelle, a dock-fighting type with a minimum of finesse, said "One of us will go by the 11th or 12th round. I'm going to win or they're going to carry me out."

If they don't lug him out on his shield, it will go down as one of the great upsets in fistic annals. Moore, who will celebrate his 42nd, 45th or 49th birthday anniversary three days from now, has a big edge on Yvon in everything but the calendar.

Archie, pointing to Virgil Akins' recent backfiring prediction, won't put himself out on any limb in a flat prophecy. But he has given the impression that he expects to own the all-time knockout record all by himself when the evening is over. Right now he and the late Young Stribling are tied for the kayo mark at 126.

If the fight should go the 15-round limit, the scoring will be handed by three judges. Sharkey, the former world heavyweight champion from Boston who was selected for his job last night, will not score the fight. The judges will be announced at ringside tonight by the Montreal Athletic Commission.

Promoter Eddie Quinn predicts some 11,000 to 13,000 fans will pay from $100,000 to $125,000 for Canada's and Montreal's first world championship contest since then lightweight champion Jimmy Carter stopped Canadian Armand Savoie five years ago.

The bout, starting at 10 p.m., EST will be telecast nationally by the ABC network.

Holly and Oxford snapped losing streaks with impressive victories over area rivals while West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills were also finishing on the winning side in local basketball play last night.

Holly defeated Clarkston for the 1st time in seven years by a 55-51 count. Oxford's 60-55 win over Avondale was a big one for Wildcat followers since OHS had gone 26 straight contests without a triumph. Both Holly and Oxford won from the foul line.

West Bloomfield had to come from behind to nip Clawson 46-45 as did Bloomfield Hills in outscoring Oak Park 49-41.

The Holly-Clarkston affair was not a Wayne-Oakland contest but served as a good preview of what to expect when the loop wars start.

Clarkston, which made one more field goal, was in the thick of things all the way and held the scoring edge in the final period in a vain attempt to pull it out.

Big George McDaniel, 6-6, made the difference. He rang up 29 points to spark the Broncos to their initial triumph against one loss under new skipper Leroy Decker. John Parks tallied 23 as Clarkston's record dropped to 1-1.

Oxford made three less field goals in winning a foul shooting battle in which a total of 79 free tosses were taken. Featuring 11-for-13 by Doug Stott, the Wildcats converted 26 of 44 to Avondale's 15-for-35.

★ ★ ★

Stott led four home team boys with 21 digits while also starring as a rebounder and defensive player. Gary Acker caged 18 for Avondale, making its 1958-59 debut. It was the 1st win for Ted Gawry as head coach.

West Bloomfield matched last year's feat of trailing Clawson most of the way and then winning. The Lakers went ahead for the 1st time with six minutes left and then took the lead for good with 4½ to play.

John Lucadam and Barry Johnson combined for 10 of the victors' 12 points in the last quarter comeback. Lucadam, hitting on long jump shots, caged 17 but Newt Acton of Clawson took game honors with 18. It was the opener for West Bloomfield. Clawson is now 1-1.

Bloomfield Hills got a scare in gaining its 2nd straight verdict. The Barons appeared to be breezing along when Oak Park came up with a 19-9 3rd period edge to take the lead by one. The Barons then turned on the steam again to pull away again.

Doug Danziger hit 13, Bob Barrett and John Dixon 12 apiece to handle most of the Bloomfield attack. Mike Detmer scored 11 and Paul Christensen as Oak Park dropped its 3rd decision in four outings. Christensen was the big gun in the Parkers' big 3rd canto when he hit four successive long set shots.

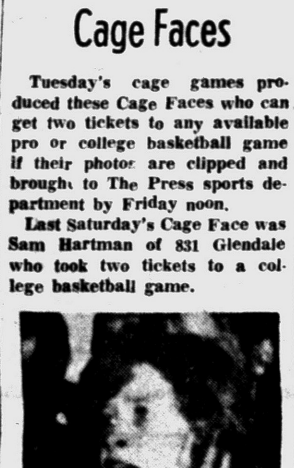

Cage Faces

Tuesday's cage games produced these Cage Faces who can get two tickets to any available pro or college basketball game if their photos are clipped and brought to The Press sports department by Friday noon.

Last Saturday's Cage Face was Sam Hartman of 831 Glendale who took two tickets to a college basketball game.

Last Second Bucket Wins for Imlay City

Imlay City overcame Marysville's lead through most of the game to score a 65-64 victory last night. It was Imlay's 32nd straight regular season win in three years.

Jim Ward picked up a wild Marysville pass in the final six seconds and dribbled in to score the game winning bucket.

Bill Sutton hit 25 for the losers, while Gordon Hoeksema had 18, John Legeman 16 and Ward 14 for Imlay.

Class C All-State Team

DETROIT (AP) — A massive line that averages 208 pounds from tackle to tackle highlights the Associated Press Class C All-State football team announced today.

Dominic Orlando, center from Detroit St. Catherine, is the heaviest man on the AP club at 220 pounds. A senior who played first string center for three years, Orlando is a top college prospect.

★ ★ ★

Both the tackles scale over 200 pounds. They are Allen Schau of Galien, a 217-pounder and described as the best lineman in west Michigan; and Ken Wojan, a 210-pounder who anchored Charlevoix's strong club.

The ends are Jim Ostrander of Almont and Jerry Renfer of Addison. Renfer is one of two juniors selected to the 18th annual honor team, selected by AP sports writers after ballots were sent to every high school coach in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Ostrander was a near-unanimous choice as practically every coach who saw him voted for the 6-feet-2 flanker who scales 195 pounds.

Paul Dietzel of LSU Voted Coach of Year

NEW YORK — Paul Dietzel, who in four years as head coach built Louisiana State's first all-winning football team in 50 years, was named today as "Coach of the Year" by his fellow members of the American Football Coaches' Assn.

The 34-year-old Dietzel scored the greatest sweep in the 24-year history of the award, made by the Scripps-Howard newspapers.

Of 618 members of the association who voted in the annual poll, 495 named Dietzel first, second and third. Nearest to him in the balloting was Forest Evashevski of Iowa's Big Ten champion team, who received only 58 votes for first place, compared to 312 for Dietzel.

A total of 74 coaches figured in the Coach of the Year balloting, behind Dietzel and Evashevski in the final tabulation were Phil Dickens, Indiana, with 52 first place votes; Ben Martin, Air Force, 48; Ara Parseghian, Northwestern, 38; Earl Blaik, Army, 20; Pete Elliott, California, 17, and Abe Martin, Texas Christian, 11.

Northern Cagers Can't Keep Pace With Pointe

By BILL CORNWELL

GROSSE POINTE — The most exciting thing that happened to the Pontiac Northern basketball team last night occurred on the way home from Grosse Pointe.

As the chartered Northern bus wended its way north on Woodward Avenue, a passing motorist hailed down the driver and informed him that the vehicle was on fire.

Everyone aboard believed him as smoke began pouring through the bus so head coach Dick Hall and his cagers calmly filed out the exit.

A small fire had started underneath the rear of the bus. It was quickly extinguished, no damage was done and the Northern delegation resumed its trip home unharmed.

★ ★ ★

That, my friends, was the greatest thrill generated for the entire company in a basketball evening which saw the Northern cagers absorb a merciful 67-39 licking from strong Grosse Pointe on the latter's court.

Merciful is the correct word, too, despite the lopsidedness of the final score. Except for the merciful qualities shown by Grosse Pointe coach Howard MacAdam, the margin of difference would have gone considerably higher.

It was the 3rd straight defeat in as many tries for Pontiac's new high school and the 2nd victory in two starts for the Pointe.

★ ★ ★

There were 15 players in varsity uniform for the Pointe yesterday, all of them saw action and 13 of them entered the scoring column. The scoring was so well spread that only two of them hit double figures.

MacAdam's starting unit of Remington Purdy, Ron Schram, Larry Bruzzese, Jim Howard and Lars Anderson played the first 10 minutes, then rode the bench the rest of the night.

There is not much to be said about this contest and very little that anyone could say. The Huskies were plainly outclassed by a superior team. Grosse Point piled up a 25-9 first quarter lead and the issue was never in doubt.

★ ★ ★

Northern's Bruce Norton took individual scoring honors with 12 points. Bruzzese and Purdy were tops for the Blue Devils with 11 and 10, respectively.

Hughes Paces 77-75 Win

Area Cager Titan Hero

DETROIT — Larry Hughes, former Walled Lake High basketball ace who was the outstanding player on The Pontiac Press All-County cage team two years ago, took the hero's role for the U. of D. quintet last night.

Hughes, a 6-3 sophomore forward, hit three crucial points and took the key rebound in the last second to help the Titans to a 77-75 victory over Canisius.

The Walled Lake ace did not start the game but he finished with 13 points for the night.

The Titans ran away to a 40-26 halftime lead, but in the third period Canisius found the range with six straight field goals and outscored the Titans 25-7 to grab a 51-47 lead.

Hughes tied the score twice with key baskets, then with the score tied 71-71, he sunk one free throw and a moment later two more to give the Titans a 74-71 lead.

Canisius made it 74-73 and John Belholovek made it 77-73 on a threepointer, being fouled while scoring.

With 20 seconds to play Canisius made it 77-75 and then Hughes grabbed an offensive rebound which kept Canisius from getting the ball in the waning moments.

Graham in Line for Grid Post

U-D Says Otto's Interested

DETROIT (AP) — Otto Graham, former Cleveland Browns quarterback and one-time great signal caller for Northwestern of the Big Ten, is in line for head football coach at the University of Detroit.

The U. of D., which is in the market for a top-notch coach after its recent dismissal of Wally Fromhart, was paid a visit by Graham yesterday.

Actually, Graham met with members of the Gus Dorais Memorial Foundation. The foundation is an alumni group which works for the university in the name of, its late, famed coach Dorais.

Andy Karkas, foundation president, said Graham was interested in the coaching job and is expected to apply for it.

"I believe Graham will submit a formal application if we can iron out some details," Farkas said. "We are not close on salary discussion now, but neither are we impossibly far apart. His request is within reason."

Farkas said they discussed contract terms and the matter of assistant coaches as well as salary.

'M' Coach Not Fretting About NCAA Proposal

ANN ARBOR — Don Canham, coach of Michigan's internationally flavored track team, isn't fretting about a proposal to bar aliens from NCAA meets.

"I don't think it has a chance of going through the NCAA," said Canham, whose four best performers reside abroad.

Big Ten coaches have mapped a recommendation that would keep foreign students out of NCAA track and field championships. They still would be permitted to compete within their conferences.

The Big Ten's policy makers were to study the plan at their winter meeting starting today in Chicago with the idea of passing it along to the NCAA.

Canham said approval by the national group would not force a change in his recruiting methods.

Big Ten Eyes Alien Recruiting

Foreign Track Athletes Target of Policy Makers

Study Idea of Barring Aliens From Competing in NCAA Meets

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Ten policy makers will study a far-reaching recommendation that aliens be barred from NCAA track and field championships when the Western Conference begins its annual winter meeting here tomorrow.

The recommendation, mapped by conference track coaches, will be channeled to the NCAA convention in Cincinnati next month.

★ ★ ★

If adopted, many schools and scores of foreign athletes would be affected. They could compete conference-wise, but not in the NCAA cross country and track and field championship meets. The coaches also would like to see the AAU adopt such a policy in the U.S.

★ ★ ★

"It has gotten to be a joke the way some coaches are going out and recruiting overseas," Charles (Rut) Walter, Northwestern track coach and member of the staff for 29 years, told the Associated Press.

"We no longer have national championships—they are international. Some schools actually are recruiting as much in foreign countries as they are here. It's gotten so we are training boys who will come back and beat us in the Olympics.

"And don't think the other countries are not being irritated by our recruiting. They are burning up about it.

★ ★ ★

"It used to be that an occasional boy could come to this country on his own, or as an exchange student, and attend school. That was fine. But this hard-nosed rushing deal is all wrong and the majority of coaches in this country think so."

Walter said that among the schools who campaign the most for alien track athletes are Arizona State, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Houston, Michigan, Illinois and Michigan State.

★ ★ ★

Among those enrolled at the University of Houston, for instance, are John Macy, 28-year-old Polish refugee, and Australian Al Lawrence. They finished first and second, respectively, last Saturday in the National AAU Senior 10,000-meter cross country championship in Chicago as representatives of the University of Houston Track Club. Others students on the team included another Australian and two Canadians.

★ ★ ★

In the 1958 NCAA track championships, Ron Delaney of Ireland (Villanova student) won the half mile and mile titles and Australian Alex Henderson (Arizona State) took the two-mile crown.

Long Night For New Coach Parry

Maples Win Opener

It was a long night for Lew Parry as head coach of Birmingham for the first time last night, but it turned out to be all worthwhile as his Maples eked out a 45-44 triumph over Royal Oak Dondero.

Southfield bowed to powerful Livonia Bentley 67-56, Fitzgerald came from behind with 40 seconds remaining to nip Royal Oak Kimball 37-36 and Berkley walloped Hazel Park 60-39 in other action.

Marv Gallop, a transfer from Ferndale, made an auspicious start in Birmingham spangles. He not only made a jump shot from 10 feet out to clinch the hard-fought tussle as time ran out, but he also led both teams in scoring with 17.

Birmingham had led most of the way after Dondero hit on the 1st basket of the game only to fall behind when Royal Oak scoring ace Mike Joyce flipped in two foul shots with just 10 seconds left on the clock. Gallop then hit quickly and the losers never got another shot.

★ ★ ★

The Maples had led by 7, 5, and 4 at the quarters before almost losing their grip. Joyce had 14 in defeat. Dondero is now 1-1.

Southfield's loss was also its 1st after an opening victory last week. The Bluejays made a good showing but were no match for Ron Eveland & Co.

Bob Filar canned 15 and Ron Gillespie 12 in the losing cause as Eveland swished in 26. Southfield held the scoring edge in the final half but could not come near overcoming a 38-21 halftime deficit.

Fitzgerald had tied the count but was never ahead of Kimball until those waning seconds when a free throw by John Morgan broke a tie and completed the scoring.

Kimball, which lost its 2nd straight, started out with a 9-0 lead but went downhill steadily from then on despite a 15-point showing by Mike Harris. John Masengale hooped 17 for Fitzgerald.

Berkley, defending Inter-Lakes champ, may be developing into another powerhouse. The Bears have now scored 109 points and allowed only 71 in two successes.

A 31-13 1st half lead made last night's win an easy one as nine of 14 players used had a hand in the point-getting. Dave Burris sparked the group with 18, while Bob Ross added 13. Ken Bradley hit 15 for Hazel Park.

Central Matmen Whip Skippers

The Pontiac Central wrestlers trounced Waterford 39-13 in the 1st match of the year for both teams at Waterford last night.

Pontiac raced to a quick 16-0 lead by sweeping the 1st four weight events but saw its lead dwindle to 21-13 before three straight pins and a decision wrapped it up.

Bob Kiser, John Wibley, Gary Cox, Neal Smith, Sam Wiscombe and Duke Relyea all had PCH pins in Steve Szabo's 1st triumph as head coach. Don Morgan and Mike Hubbell scored pins for the losers.

The summary:
95—Kiser pinned Jim Mulanix.
103—Jim Thompson (P) defeated Rick Sherman, 4-3.
112—Fred Jackson (P) decisioned Dave Sherman, 3-0.

165—Wiscombe pinned Bob Akerley.
177—Relyea pinned Carl Koehler.
Heavy—Willie Duncan (P) defeated Bob Black, 3-1.

Walled Lake Matmen Fall

Walled Lake's wrestling team dropped a 27-21 decision to Livonia Bentley last night at Walled Lake. Walled Lake victories were scored by Mike Cosgrove, 112-pound class, and Tom Balkwell, 120, both decisions, and Marty Richardson, 154, Jim Rourke, 175, and Jim Teddy, heavyweight division, all pins. The Vikings forfeited to Bentley in the 95-pound weight.

Kingston Swamps NB

North Branch high cagers visted Kingston, last night, for their opening contest of the season, and were swamped, 80-54. Victory was Kingston's 3rd straight.

Six players hit in double figures, including North Branch's Mickey Ribner with 21, Friskey with 12, and Frank Gnandt's 20, Czecki's 18, Lanway's 17 and Rossman's 14 for winners.

Shrine in Second Win

Royal Oak Shrine was pushed to the limit for the 2nd time in as many starts but again came out on the long end of a four-point decision last night. The final was 44-40 over St. Theresa with Ron Bishop topping the scoring with 11 points.

Runaways Feature Waterford Openers

Waterford Township Recreation basketball league opened its season last night at Isaac Crary School, with a pair of runaway victories.

Both tilts were in Class A.

Lytell-Colegrove crushed Roccos 66-31, led by Chuck Gillis, former Skipper, with 24 points. Joe Humphrey added 13 to the winning total.

Drayton Drug thumped Johnson and Anderson 51-27 in the other opener. Bob Pickett's 16 total was the only one in double figures.

Contests weer marred by many personals, 45 being called in the last game alone. Three games are set for Thursday night.

The gift that towers above them all—

Learn Fundamentals in Tuesday's Inaugural Class

School Ski Hopefuls Begin Study

Oakland county's first ski school for pupils of high schools in this area swung into action Tuesday afternoon on Grampian Mt. ski resort's snowy slopes. This first group instruction, of a winter's-long program was attended by an estimated 100 boys and girls from the two Class A schools in Pontiac and from Waterford Township High School.

Northern High's delegation included about 50 and a similar group represented Central. Waterford sent 30 enthusiastic youngsters along with Dave Freeman of the facufty, himself an "old time" top ski jumper of high repute.

In the absence of pro Gerry Monod, who was attending a conference of ski resort professionals at Boyne Mt. Lodge, Hal McInnes took over the preliminary instruction.

The school hopefuls, enrolled in the area's first regular school-approved skiing course, which will run through the winter, learned about how to use the equipment for this thrilling sport. They were shown how to wear ski boots, how to carry their skis, how to fix the bindings that fasten boots to the skis.

They learned how to manipulate the "boards" in walking and sliding, and the proper balance of the body.

Altogether in the words of Freeman, who thinks the program is a fine thing, "the youngsters will be getting something of real value, in coordination, confidence and the thrill of action."

Freeman said his group "had been asking for this sort of thing for a long time." He was pleased at the special rates set up for the course, and plans for the study of the sport.

Each group — in some cases several schools will be combined in a single group — will have one afternoon a week at Grampian. There are 12 schools enrolled, and it is expected the total enrollment of young skiers will reach around 1,000.

More Doe Seasons Loom for Hunters Next Fall

ALL OUTDOORS (UPI) — "We may have more 'doe' seasons next year," said Harry D. Ruhl today.

The chief of the game division of the conservation department said, "We have been a little chicken about the concurrent any-deer seasons this past year."

He said 1958 was a good year for deer hunting and because it was, 1959 may be even better. There was a big question mark, however, in Ruhl's 1959 hunting forecast.

"The weather has a lot to do with the regulations we will set up in August," he cautioned.

"Up until that very last minute before regulations are made, we check a great number of things to determine what will be hunted and where."

As of today, he said, our deer herd is in good shape. But a severe winter could kill off thousands of deer and the regulations in 1959 woulld have to be conservative.

"We have the Lower Peninsula about covered," the game expert said, "but if the weather is mild as it has been in the past two years we will probably have more anterless deer hunting in the U. P."

What else is being done for the herd?

Ruhl said one of the most helpful things for deer is proper wood cutting. Cutting timber on a small scale in a heavy deer area is of little value, he said.

"With large-scale cutting on this basis, it does the deer a lot of good."

Solunar Tables

Pontiac area sportsmen may find timely aid in determining the best time for hunting and fishing in good cover, or waters, by consulting the solunar table, below. Table was devised especially for this area by John Alden Knight, noted outdoorsman.

Cranbrook Quintet Nips Kennedy, 59-57

Cranbrook won its second game in three starts by defeating Kennedy School of Windsor, 59-57, led by Jim Williams' 22 points.

It was 33-33 at halftime, but in the closing seconds Kennedy held a one point lead. Dave Collen then hit a field goal and John Dudley sunk a charity toss to clinch it for Cranbrook.

Dudley finished with 12 points, Tom Bray with nine and Collen with 7.

Boyne Mountain Reports 5 Feet of Snow in Spots

BOYNE FALLS (UPI) — One of the midwest's top ski resorts reports that it has as much as 60 inches of snow in some areas of the resort.

★ ★ ★

Officials of Boyne Mountain Lodge said more than 30 inches of natural snow have accumulated while some areas of the ski center have an additional 30 inches of artificial snow.

"We have the most outstanding ski conditions we've had in the 11 years Boyne Mountain lodge has been in operation," an official of the resort said.

★ ★ ★

This year's skiing season at Boyne Mountain opened a month earlier than a year ago and unless there is an unseasonable thaw, this season may be one of the longest in history of the ski industry in Michigan, officials said.

Telescopes Aid Game Wardens

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin game wardens hope to put the bead on more fish and game law violators this year.

The state conservation department is equipping them with telescopes. With these, the wardens claim, they can read license plate numbers on a violator's car more than a mile away.

Pheasants Kill Rabbits

A fact that may surprise many conservationists is that ring-necked pheasants have been known to kill young rabbits.

Little Stories About Outdoors

If there is one universal game animal, that one certainly is good old King Cottontail, or some of his close relatives. There are favorite small game species in Dixie, in New England, the Midwest and on the great plains. "But every place" declares Dr. J. P. Linduska, director of wildlife management for a national arms firm, "it's the cottontail.

"For this is the one game species that can claim total ubiquity in its distribution.

Linduska says it's an established fact that King Cottontail occurs in every state of the Union. He's certainly one of the favorite targets for Michigan hunters, and fall and early winter he provides many a day of exhilarating sport for thousands of sportsmen and their dogs. National figure for the yearly take of rabbits is around 30 million.

The 92,500 (estimated) deer harvest in Michigan this year is reported to be the highest since 1953, when 99,500 animals were taken. Last year's bag was 79,435. Actual total kill figures await return of cards from hunters for antlerless deer.

Along with gearshifts, automatic trolling gadgets and many other refinements, outboard motor manufacturers have added a "built-in" bottle opener! It symbolizes a new regard for the special needs of fishermen, the motor-maker says.

Winner of the recent Ingham County Kennel Club's show bore an unusually apropos moniker, in view of the fact the weather at the time of the exhibition was blowy, snowy and chilly.

The best-in-show?

Our old friend of the show ring, Varden's Frosty Snowman, a placid, white bulldog that has been seen in Pontiac Kennel Club competition this year, and probably will show again in the January show here. Dr. Edward M. Varden of Detroit is the owner.

During the recent deer hunting season, a hunter from Romeo downed a deer, but when he reached his trophy discovered it was like no other deer he'd ever seen. Conservation officers said it was a Japanese sika buck, probably a fugitive from some private preserve. He was allowed to keep it. The buck, about the same size as the Michigan whitetail, wore a shaggy mane.

One Buck Taken in Cusino Hunt

LANSING — One buck fawn has been killed and 27 deer "sightings" reported during the first two days of the annual hunt inside the mile-square Cusino station enclosure.

Each year, the conservation department must hold this special hunt to reduce the deer herd inside the enclosure. The deer are always reluctant participants, so it's invariably a tough job cutting the herd down to proper size.

The other deer inside the fenced area — seven known bucks, eight does and seven remaining fawns —have so far eluded the hunters.

Meeting Tonight

Members of the Pontiac chapter of the Michigan Audubon Society will convene, Wednesday at the Adah Shelley library on the north side. Any one interested in the outdoors is invited.

Wine Tasting Game for Stay-Home Hobbyist

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI) — Leon D. Adams is pushing a new parlor game — wine-testing.

He recommends it as an ideal year-round, all-weather pastime that can be made to fit almost any pocketbook.

Any number can play — 1 or 100. A participant does not have to leave his easy chair—although he can go so far as to raise his own grapes and age his own brand of wine, if he wants to.

Adams, co-founder and former secretary of the California Wine Institute, has written a new book titled "The Commonsense Book of Wine," in which he emphasizes that wine is for everybody, not just gourmets, and the best wine is the wine an individual likes best.

★ ★ ★

"Wine to me is primarily a hobby," Adams told a group of food editors at a wine-tasting party. "It is a hobby I would like very much to recommend to others. Compared with gardening or something like that, wine involves only elbow-bending and therefore is much easier than back-bending.

"It has advantages over stamp collecting, too. At least wine tastes a great deal better than stamps."

In his book, Adams said a wine hobbyist can make a hit with his friends by giving wine-tasting parties instead of cocktail parties. These, he said, offer unusual entertainment and add to the knowledge of wines.

The names of the wines to be tasted are hidden from the guests. Then the tasters start sipping. They rate the wines by type, in order of preference and whether they are domestic or foreign. Then the bottles are unveiled and practically everyone finds he has made a few bad guesses.

"I sometimes switch native and foreign wines between bottles," Adams said, "to observe how tastes are conditioned by labels."

★ ★ ★

There are many other activities for wine hobbyists, Adams said.

A wine enthusiast who also is a "do-it-yourself" expert can build himself a fine wine cellar and then buy a selection of wines to serve and taste.

He can give elegant dinner parties, complete with wine menus bearing the names of guests. And he can learn to cook with wine, which to Adams means mainly using at least a little wine in every dish calling for the addition of water.

Adams has found that just learning to taste wines can be a hobby in itself. The taster learns to sip a wine just so, carefully roll it on his tongue and bask in the bouquet of a fine vintage.

Then there are banquets organized by wine hobbyists and featuring gourmet dishes and a different wine with each course. For travelers, there are wine tours of the world's great vineyard areas. Photography and painting blend with vineyard travel, while gourmet libraries of books and menus provide hours of enjoyment for the stay-at-home wine hobbyist.

If all this is not enough, Adams has other suggestions.

"You can go all the way and make your own wine," he said.

But after tasting some samples of home-made wine, he declined to recommend the recipes.

"If you want a completely absorbing hobby," Adams said, "do as George Washington did at Mount Vernon, Nicholas Longworth at Cincinnati, and Ambassador James D. Zellerbach at Sonoma (Calif.), and many other famous Americans have done, and as many are still doing today.

"That is, plant your own vineyard. If you have both the patience to wait through long years and the finances to support an unprofitable endeavor you someday can serve your friends from bottles bearing your own name on the labels."

The answer to speeding and drunken driving can be given in a sentence . . . Everybody thinks up new schemes making it easier to borrow money. What H. G. Diefenbach would like is a scheme for an easier way to pay it back. —Earl Wilson.

Soybean Prices Remain Steady

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean prices were firm but the grains were steady to easier in slow early activity today on the Board of Trade.

There were no commercial influences of consequence in any of the pits, traders said. They indicated that some of the soybean demand could have been reinstatement of positions liquidated yesterday when prices were on the decline under rather broad selling.

A few brokers expressed belief that recent low soybean prices have driven huge amounts into government loan, probably cutting heavily into stocks that might otherwise be in commercial positions later.

Prices had firmed up somewhat near the end of the first hour with the grains mostly on the plus side. Wheat was ⅝ cent a bushel lower to ⅝ higher, December $1.95¼; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, December old type contract $1.15⅛; oats ⅛ to ¼ higher, December 66; rye ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December $1.30⅜; soybeans ⅛ to ¾ higher, January $2.15⅝.

Upjohn's Stock to Sell at $45

Sign Agreements for Underwriting Sale of 2.4 Million Shares

NEW YORK (AP) — Underwriting agreements were signed today for the first public offering of common stock of Upjohn Co., of Kalamazoo, Mich., one of the nation's leading drug manufacturers.

A secondary offering of 2,410,000 shares is expected to go on the market tomorrow after clearance by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The word in Wall Street is that shares will be priced at $45. That would give the block a value of nearly 108½ million dollars.

Contracts were signed at the offices of Morgan Stanley & Co. for a nationwide syndicate of 241 investment banking firms. The sale is being made for 55 stockholders who will retain 9,866,705 of the more than 14 million outstanding shares.

★ ★ ★

Upjohn, a closely held family firm specializing in proprietary drugs, was founded in 1886 with a capitalization of $60,000. Last year sales were $128,083,000, up from $113,590,000 in 1956. Net income in 1957 was $17,359,000 equal to $1.23 a share after a recent split.

★ ★ ★

Upjohn intends to pay dividends on a quarterly basis. For many years dividends were paid monthly and in 1958 disbursements were four cents a share a month, plus a yearend extra of eight cents, adjusted to terms of the recent split.

A dividend of 16 cents a share has been declared for payment Feb. 3 to holders of record Jan. 19.

Upjohn has been accepted for listing next month on the New York Stock Exchange.

Rye will grow on soil too poor for wheat and it will also withstand drought and severe heat.

Dow Criticized in Benzine Deal

Buying of Reds 'Biting Hand That Feeds,' Says Oil Executive

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An oil company executive says Dow Chemical Co.'s purchase of benzine from Soviet Russia is a "classic example of biting the hand that feeds."

Walter S. Hallahan, president of Plymouth Oil Co., expressed his view in a letter to Dow made public yesterday.

A spokesman at Dow headquarters in Midland, Mich., said the company had no immediate comment.

Dow's benzine contract with Soviet Russia was made public Saturday. Dow has purchased 54 million gallons of benzine for a reported 13½ million dollars.

Benzine is derived from either coal or oil. Dow's purchase price reportedly was 7 cents a gallon, cheaper than American prices.

Hallahan wrote as follows in his letter to Dow:

"While I realize that in these days of narrow profit margin there is an economic necessity for seeking to obtain products at the lowest available price, I cannot overlook the fact that, aside from ideological factors, practically all of the revenues of your subsidiary, Dowell Incorporated, come from the petroleum industry.

In the light of that fact, this would seem to be a classic example of biting the hand that feeds. Frankly, it has been hard for us here who have been customers of Dowell to reconcile this situation."

JAMES C. CONNELL

Rackets Group Mentions Judge

Connell Link to Gift of Silver Wine Buckets by McClellan

CLEVELAND (AP) — Soft-spoken U.S. District Judge James C. Connell, whose name was introduced into a Senate Rackets Committee hearing, will have no part of the committee investigation.

He made it clear that he will not appear before the committee as suggested by its head, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark).

★ ★ ★

Connell's name came up during testimony in Washington Tuesday and was linked by McClellan with gift silver champagne buckets distributed in 1955 by Ohio Teamsters Union officials in whose favor Connell recently ruled.

"I know nothing of any such gift," the judge said, "except I never received it."

"Neither was it ever offered to me or even suggested that I might accept a gift from the Teamsters or any other union," he added bitterly.

★ ★ ★

Criticism by committee members of a court ruling Connell made sustaining Teamsters officials in a dispute with court-appointed monitors brought a sharp rejoinder from Connell, a Republican appointed to the federal bench in 1954.

"The rulings of the courts are not subject to review by any legislative body," he said and added:

"There is no exception in any court. The whole matter is up to the U.S. District Court of Appeals in Cincinnati. The judges of that court are the ones who decide whether I was right or wrong.

★ ★ ★

"I wrote a 35-page opinion in that case. The whole issue hinges on the language in the consent decree on the powers of the monitors.

"That decree says they can make recommendations and nothing more."

French Rock Crusher

ARIS — A quarry in Lorraine claims to have the world's largest rock crusher. It was built by a French firm and can take in stone blocks weighing up to 10 tons and, according to the type of rock and final size desired, can turn out between 1,200 and 2,500 tons of crushed stone an hour. The jaw type crusher has an opening about 80 feet by 60 feet.

Primer Lays Down Law for U.S. Representatives

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new primer for representatives gets right down to business—it says they get paid $22,500 per year at monthly rates beginning Jan. 3, 1959.

That's the third paragraph. The first one says they will assemble at noon Wednesday, Jan. 7, 1959. The second one says they will file their credentials with the clerk of the House before Dec. 15, 1958.

★ ★ ★

The primer, entitled "Information for Representatives-elect," is prepared for each new Congress by the clerk. The edition for the upcoming Congress has just gone out to all 436 members-elect.

It tells a congressman how much he can expect on Capitol Hill — $1,200 per session for stationery, 6,000 minutes per 2-year term over the long distance telephone at government expense; 40,000 words by telegram.

★ ★ ★

This coming year a representative gets $400 instead of $300 a year for air mail and special delivery stamps. That's because Congress raised the postal rates last summer. On regular letter, they get free mail privileges on official correspondence not exceeding 4 ounces in weight.

Allowances also include:

Twenty cents a mile for one round trip home each session.

Up to $1,200 a year for office space back home.

Up to $2,300 for electrical and mechanical equipment in the office the government furnishes him in Washington.

A basic rate of $17,500 a year for office hire.

And a pocket size directory with pictures of his colleagues.

Professor Tells Why Mona Lisa Had That Smile

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — A British physician said Mona Lisa in the famous painting is smiling because she is pregnant.

"The smile is the expression of her pregnant state," Dr. Kenneth D. Keele of Middlesex, England, said during a lecture at the Yale School of Medicine where he is a visiting professor.

Leonard da Vinci was interested in anatomical studies of pregnancy during the period he painted Mona Lisa, Keele said.

WASHINGTON (AP)— Unemployment remained virtually unchanged in November instead of rising seasonally as expected.

Unemployment by Census Bureau count, rose 28,000 to 3,833,000.

This is considered so small a change as to be within the scope of statistical error. In other words, the figure might have changed just as much the other way. The joint Commerce-Labor Department announcement said it represented virtually no change.

The factory work week averaged 39.9 hours or two hours longer in November than in October. This was due to a sharp increase in auto industry overtime and in the end of a number of labor strikes.

★ ★ ★

The longer work week along with some new pay raises pushed factory worker earnings up $1.62 a week to a new high of $86.58. This is $3.66 higher than a year ago. Increases were shown by every industry group.

The new government jobs report reflected a generally improving national economy. The drop in employment was accounted for chiefly by seasonal curtailment of farm activity.

★ ★ ★

The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment fell to 5.9 per cent in November, a 10 month low. At the low point in economic activity last spring and again in late summer, this rate had been as high as 7½ per cent.

Strike Idles Third of Chrysler Workers

DETROIT (AP) — Fully a third of Chrysler Corp. automotive factory manpower was idle today because of a work rates dispute at the Detroit Dodge Main plant.

More than 26,000 men were off the job on the ninth day of the strike of 7,000 United Auto Workers Union members at the key Dodge operation.

The company laid off 6,500 more men Tuesday at Detroit area plants and in Delaware and Indiana, blaming parts shortages or other complications from the Dodge Main dispute.

New layoffs came as negotiators failed in another attempt to settle the dispute. Negotiations were recessed until today.

The UAW charged an unfair production speedup when its men walked out Dec. 2 at Dodge Main. The company denied it was being unfair.

Chrysler has said Detroit area layoffs may reach 50,000 if the strike is not settled.

Pontiac General Turns In Budget

Commission to Study Hospital Board Plan for 1959 Operation

Pontiac General Hospital's proposed 1959 budget was turned over to the City Commission for study last night by Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

"It should be considered more as a yardstick or guide rather than an inflexible commitment," said Euler, with reference to the $45,420 deficit which the budget predicts.

Euler said the hospital's financial picture may brighten next year if the expansion program gets going again and there are favorable adjustments in service contracts and county welfare rates.

He did not mention the hospital board's recent decision to seek a city subsidy to make up for losses incurred through unpaid emergency bills.

Mayor Phillip E. Rowston accepted the budget with thanks, noting that it was the first time it had been turned in before Dec. 31 "in a long, long time."

The hospital board never did adopt a 1958 budget, because the financial picture kept changing as the fortunes of the building program fluctuated.

Pontiac law requires the Commission to give the hospital budget routine study, but does not allow it to challenge it. Rowston said he expects formal approval of the budget shortly.

Atlanta Bomb Jury Meets Again Today

ATLANTA (AP) — With nearly 21 hours of deliberation already behind them, a Supreior Court jury today will try again to decide the fate of George Bright, accused of dynamiting an Atlanta synogogue.

Judge Durwood C. Pye allowed the pane to retire to its hotel quarters earlier than usual Tuesday night after jurors sent out word they needed rest after two long days of fruitless deliberations.

Bright and four other Atlanta area men are charged with bombing the Jewish Temple Oct. 12. The blast caused extensive damage but no one was hurt.

The others — Kenneth Chester Griffin, Wallace Allen and Richard and Robert Bowling — have been released on bond.

Offer Made to Buy Whittier Hotel

DETROIT (AP) — Stahl Real Estate Co. of New York has made an offer to buy the 850-room Whittier Hotel here. Stockholders will meet Jan. 20 to consider the proposal.

The Whittier has an estimated replacement value of seven million dollars.

Stanley Stahl, president of the real estate firm, told newsmen: "We have arrived at a deal, subject to approval of stockholders." He declined to name the price.

Stock control of the Whittier, off the Detroit River on the east side, is held by the estate of the late Detroit financier, George Kolowich.

The Leonard School PTA will sponsor a "Winter Cabaret" featuring square and round dancing between 8:30 p.m. and 12:30 p.m. Saturday in the all-purpose room of the school.

★ ★ ★

Robert Edgett is general chairman of the event. Refreshments will be served. Proceeds will be used for school projects.

The Green Elementary School PTA will hold its regular meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the school, at which time the children will present their Christmas program to parents and teachers.

The kindergarten youngsters will join in singing "Frosty the Snowman," first graders will sing "The Night Before Christmas." Fourth graders will present a skit titled "The Living Christmas Tree" and fifth and sixth graders will also present a skit on a family trimming their tree on Christmas eve.

Proceeds of the fair held Saturday will be considered at the meeting.

Man Struck by Auto Is in Fair Condition

An Orion Township man was reported in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital this morning after suffering head injuries when struck by a car in front of his home Tuesday.

Jackie Lane, 20, of 4180 Clarkston Dd., told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he was walking along the road shoulder when struck from behind by a westbound auto driven by O. F. Foster, 64, of 970 Baldwin Rd., Clarkston.

Foster told deputies another auto in front of him obscured his vision. He was not held.

17 Face Penalty on Hunting Ban

Charged With Selling Wildfowl Snagged in Harsens Island Area

DETROIT (UPI) — Seventeen persons faced sentencing in federal court today on charges of market hunting of wildfowl in the Harsens Island area.

They were to appear before federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman at noon. The maximum penalty for illegal slaughter of wildfowl is six months in jail and a $500 fine on each count. Up to five counts have been filed against some of the defendants.

State Police, conservation officers and federal agents arrested 18 persons in a series of pre-dawn raids in the Harsens Island area Sept. 5. The raids were part of a three-state crackdown against market hunters.

Three others were arrested later, but charges against four persons were dropped. One other man, Gene Johnson of Algonac, is still sought.

John M. Chase, assistant U.S. attorney, said Johnson apparently fled to California after the mass arrests.

Chase said raids in Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin came after investigators for the Interior Department's sports, fisheries and wildlife service bought more than 5,000 ducks and geese from market hunters in the tri-state area. He said 450 of the birds were bought in Michigan.

Bernard Wills Estate

DETROIT (UPI) — Bertram J. Bernard, a brother of the late lawyer Edward Barnard, willed two-thirds of his estate to his widow, Blanche; the remainder to a son, Bertram J. Jr. when he died Nov. 29, Bertram Sr. left an estimated $11,000 estate. He was to have shared equally in Edward's million and a half dollar estate, now whittled to $350,000 by claims and income tax deficiencies.

She's Still Tops After 31 Years

TV Star's Big Appeal Based on Old-Fashioned Word—Glamor

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — There never has been a door "ever popular" Loretta Young was too bashful to open. Even as a silent movie day kiddie actress when she had to stand on tiptoe to reach the latch. Which perhaps explains her confident, graceful entrance — she likes to call it a "swirl" — through that door at the opening of her weekly NBC-TV show.

It also explains Loretta Young's 31st year of enduring success as an actress who still clings to the "Hollywood glamor" spurned today by a new generation of feminine stars. Loretta wouldn't be caught anywhere in a pair of slacks, last year's gown or even, I suspect, last night's party hat.

Impeccable grooming is her trademark — it's been said she dons a hunting outfit when she sets mouse traps — and impeccable photography is part of her secret.

Her TV show demands the constant, meticulous services of her one and only cameraman, Norbert Brodine. With Brodine, Loretta shares her TV success.

"I love," she says, "to look like he makes me look on the screen."

In other Hollywood days, Norma Shearer, Constance Bennett, Jean Harlow and Margaret Sullavan said the same thing about Brodine, a magician with lights and shadows.

But though Brodine may help open the door marked "Glamour" to Loretta, she comes through the door all by herself with those huge, blue-gray eyes sparkling in a "swirl" of taste and dignity. And whether playing hostess, Japanese fisherman's wife or Egyptian queen, Loretta's acting explains every week why there is an Oscar, two Emmys and a big assortment of other awards lettered with her name.

She's a pro. She's also a ham — and she admits it.

"Let's face it," she told me. "I'm a ham. I'm happiest when the cameras are rolling—and the cameras roll all the time in television. To an actress who is a ham that alone is reason enough for me to love television madly."

That Loretta loves home screen acting is obvious. After a career of starring in 87 movies from 1927 to 1953, she probably could spend the rest of her life just clipping coupons. But since opening the door of TV for herself, she has starred to date, in 122 half hour telefilms and appeared as the door-opening hostess on 209.

Even a serious illness in 1955, during which she missed 18 full shows, didn't stop her. She came back for more, is still going strong now in her sixth year and shrugs off retirement rumors with the comment:

"The idea hasn't entered my head and I don't think it ever will."

Since opening those first studio doors as a kiddie actress in a movie starring Fanny Ward, the Gretchen Young of Salt Lake City who became Loretta Young of Hollywood has opened ingenue doors, sultry siren doors and maturing actress doors.

She's opened, and slammed shut, a pair of marriage doors.

She's opened, and slammed shut, doors on her private life.

She's opened career doors for others with unfailing judgment.

Among the leading men Loretta picked for herself during the 1953-'55 years of "The Loretta Young Show" were three fellows now starring on TV shows of their own. But when they appeared opposite Loretta, TV fans hardly knew the names of Hugh O'Brian (Wyatt Earp); George Nader (Ellery Queen) and Jock Mahoney (the Range Rider and this year's Yancy Derringer).

The plots of Loretta's dramatic shows have been called "sudsy," which means the John's Other Wife type of sentimental, tearful soap opera. This too is a door she doesn't mind opening.

She loves sentiment, believes millions of other people do, and laughs:

"It may be soap opera but it's GOOD soap opera."

It may be corny, too, but she insists corn goes right well with sentiment.

The Young lady's age?

She admits to 45. Guesses go as high as 52.

It's one door she isn't opening.

About three-fourths of all the fiber consumed in the U.S. is cotton, with wool and the synthetics accounting for most of the remainder in addition to some others.

LADY WHO OPENS DOORS — The star of 'The Loretta Young Show,' seen on NBC-TV Sundays at 9 p.m., shows how even a simple and inexpensive combination of blouse and skirt can be alluringly feminine when the wearer remembers to buy clothes with easy lines and colors which never compete with the wearer but set her off flatteringly.

It Took a Lot of Doing, but They Finally Did It

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I thought I would tell you a little pleasantry that pretty actress Luba Malina played on her husband's mother.

WILSON

"She has two daughters-in-law who love her," Luba smiled the other night. "Even if she cares so much more for her sons than she does for us. You see, we not only love her, we understand her.

"She's always talking about 'My Mike' and 'My Eddie' and 'Mike, sweetheart darling' that everybody loves so much. When we ask her, doesn't anybody ever say nice things about her daughters-in-law, she says 'NO!'"

Luba, the wife of brilliant lawyer Mike Sulzberger Jr., said that she and real estate broker Ed Sulzberger's wife, Maye, finally conspired against her.

"Her birthday was coming," explained Luba.

"We thought of some nice present . . .

"She's always showing faded pictures of 'My Mike' and 'My Eddie' and telling how wonderful they are—which they are. Still, one time, on a very hot night in the country, before airconditioning, Mike got up, knotted the curtains to let air in the bedroom and forgot to unknot them.

"The next time we saw Rena, she was very cold to me.

"Finally she screamed, 'How would you like it if I came into your house and tied your gorgeous drapes into knots?'

"Mike spoke up and said 'Mother, Luba didn't do that. I did.'

"Rena had been really boiling at me. But she mellowed completely, broke into an enormous smile, and said, 'Mike darling, sweetheart, you shouldn't have done that, honey.'

"When we traveled in Europe together," Luba continued, "Mother was always saying 'Mike, sweetheart, that bag is too heavy for you—let Luba carry it!'

★ ★ ★

"Anyway," Luba shaid, "her birthday came. Maye and I were very conscious of Rena always opening up that charm bracelet and saying 'Look at the pictures of my gorgeous boys. Aren't they darling?'

So we bought her a beautiful locket—and inside of it we put three pictures of me and three of Maye—profile, full-face and there-quarters, so she can see us in all directions. We got one so pretty that she's CERTAIN to want to wear it."

Luba said her mother-in-law was flabbergasted and then laughed. "I hope it doesn't choke me," she said. "It's so pretty, though, that maybe I won't have to open it."

Camouflage Worked

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (UPI)—To camouflage their mission, detectives Wilbur Burge and James Fitzgerald arrived at the scene of a gambling raid aboard a city bus. This completely fooled the lookouts, who permitted them into the barbershap back room where they made their arrests.

Hawaii Has Its Elves

HONOLULU—According to stories handed down from one generation to another, the Menehunes—the elves or fairies of Hawaiian legend—were a race of little people who accomplished prodigious feats b ythe light of the moon. Overnight they would build huge stone walls, irrigation ditches, and enclosures for fish ponds, then disappear into the mountains. They were shy and easily frightened away.
