Local UF Drive Hits 94 Per Cent of Original Goal

Frank S. Lyndall Says Contributions Are Over $493,000 So Far

A landslide of solicitor reports turned in yesterday brought the Pontiac Area United Fund to 94 per cent of its $525,823 goal, early reports from today's UF luncheon indicated.

Over $493,000 has been contributed, Campaign Manager Frank S. Lyndall told volunteer workers who assembled at noon in the Elks Temple.

"At this point we have collected $25,000 more than at the same point last year," Lyndall stated.

"When all reports from solicitors are in, we stand a chance of reaching the highest amount (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)"

Commission OKs Five-City Fire Protection Pact

Pontiac last night became the third of five cities to sign a mutual fire fighting assistance pact designed to provide aid in emergencies.

City commissioners voted unanimously to come under the agreement with Birmingham, Royal Oak, Hazel Park and Ferndale; Birmingham and Royal Oak have already signed the legal agreement.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the cities have been exchanging men and equipment for a number of years, but the written agreement was deemed necessary for "tighter control for Civil Defense purposes."

Each city must send a minimum of one truck and four men when aid is requested, Willman said. However, the men and equipment may be recalled at any time by the chief of the city from which they come.

The pact officially goes into effect when all five cities have signed the document.

Light Frost Hits Pontiac Area Today

A light frost hit the Pontiac area this morning as the mercury dropped to 32 degrees, but the U.S. Weather Bureau says it will be warmer tonight and tomorrow.

The forecast is for partly cloudy skies with a low of 36-38 tonight, high Thursday 55-60.

In downtown Pontiac yesterday, temperatures ranged from a low of 33 to a high of 50 shortly after noon. Today the mercury stood at 32 degrees until after 8 o'clock, but rose to 49 by 1 p.m.

Union OK of Wage Boost Guarantees A-Production

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—America's atomic-hydrogen weapons production has been steadied for at least a year—after seven months of chain-reacting labor unrest—with final approval of a package wage boost for 9,000 atomic workers.

Ratification by CIO and AFL unions representing 9,000 workers here and at Paducah, Ky., virtually ends for a year the recurring threat of crippling production strikes, hanging over both places since wage talks first collapsed last April 15.

The package deal provides (1) a 6-cent hourly increase retroactive to April 15; (2) a 4-cent increase effective Jan. 15, 1955; and (3) an improved holiday schedule.

It jumps together two wage re-openers—provided for each nine months in the union contracts—and is a compromise between a CIO demand of 15 cents and management offer of 6 cents.

About 1,000 CIO workers represented by the United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers at Paducah were last to ratify the proposal, by a 60 per cent margin in meetings there yesterday. Some 2,500 CIO workers here

Mossedegh Aide Executed in Iran

Hossein Fatemi, Once Foreign Minister, Killed by Firing Squad Today

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Former Foreign Minister Hossein Fatemi, firebrand of Mohammed Mossadegh's government, died before an army firing squad at dawn today for his part in the 1953 plot to unseat the Shah.

Fatemi was convicted and sentenced by a military court a month ago. An appeal to Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi failed.

Tehran's military governor, Gen. Teimour Bakhtiari, said Fatemi walked without trembling to the stake, where he was blindfolded and bound. He said "May God protect you" just before four volleys from the four-man firing squad crumpled him.

Another witness said Fatemi at the stake shouted, "This is Britain's work! The British are murdering me!"

Gen. Fazollah Zahedi, the present premier, overthrew Mossadegh Aug. 19, 1953, after the Shah had fled the country, but in the confusion Fatemi escaped.

Mackinac Bridge Delayed Only Slightly by Weather

DETROIT (AP)—Foundation work on the 80-million-dollar Mackinac bridge is proceeding only slightly behind schedule despite some of the worst weather for outdoor construction in years.

That was reported yesterday by Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the bridge authority, as the group met in Detroit to hear the project engineer's third quarterly report on construction progress.

"Three of the six main foundations on which the great suspension span of the bridge will be built have been completed," Brown said. "Work on the other three should be finished by Dec. 15, meeting our 1954 construction aims."

"These six foundations," he added, "constitute the hardest part of the entire project."

Charles A. Richardson, of Merritt-Chapman & Scott, foundation contractors for the bridge, said his men have been setting records in pouring concrete since Oct. 13.

Before that date, he said, heavy rains and high winds lashed the Straits area much of the time, cutting operations to 60 per cent of normal and hampering delivery of materials.

"We'll remain on the job until the ice drives us out of the Straits or materials cannot be delivered," Richardson said. "Construction is now far enough advanced so that there is no longer any danger to the cofferdams or caissons now in place."

One of the big caissons required 132,000 tons of concrete, and another 120,000 tons. This was poured at the average rate of 4,000 tons a day, since Oct. 13, which Richardson believes is a record for placement of underwater concrete on bridge construction.

Four of the main piers will rise 10 feet from the water; the two others will be 13 feet below the surface.

The bridge authority said that it had spent nine million dollars up to Nov. 1, not including bond discounts and interests. About eight million dollars of the total went for construction.

Prohibitionist Is a Wet on Local Option Issue

ORLEANS, Mass. (AP)—It's a week since the election, but election officials are still muttering about one ballot they counted.

This citizen voted a straight Prohibition party ticket when it came to the candidates. But when he came to the local option liquor questions—he voted straight wet.

City Manager Walter K. Willman questioned the importance of fast election returns when the problem of voting machines for Pontiac was brought up at last night's city commission meeting.

"I wonder how important it is to have the results an hour after polls close when you've been arguing over the election for three months," he said.

Commissioner Harcourt S. Patterson raised the question after pointing to an editorial in the Pontiac Press calling for a gradual conversion to mechanized voting.

Willman told Patterson the machines cost $1,250, with additional expenses being entailed in moving, storing, setting up and maintaining the devices.

Sheppard Once Offered Help by Psychiatrist

Bay Village Mayor Tells of Visit to Sam's Home Morning After Murder

CLEVELAND (AP)—The tired mayor of suburban Bay Village goes back on the stand today to finish his story about a psychiatrist who offered his services in the Sheppard murder case.

The trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, 31-year-old osteopath, adjourned on a note of mystery during testimony yesterday by Mayor J. Spencer Houk.

As the afternoon wore toward a close, Mayor Houk began to tell of Dr. Sheppard and his brother, Dr. Stephen Sheppard, coming to his City Hall offices and relating that a psychiatrist had volunteered his services in the case.

Then Defense Counsel William J. Corrigan suddenly hurried over to confer with Common Asst. County Prosecutor John J. Mahon, directing the state's case, followed him.

A few moments later, Judge Blythin adjourned the session and a little flurry of excitement developed.

Who was the psychiatrist? How did he figure in the case? Why did the judge suddenly adjourn the session?

No one was talking for the record, but those in a position to know indicated the psychiatrist had approached the Sheppards with a murder theory.

A prosecution source said authorities took no stock of the theory. The psychiatrist's name was not mentioned.

Dr. Sheppard is accused of killing his wife Marilyn, 31, in the bedroom of their Bay Village home last July 4. He insists that a bushy-haired intruder committed the crime.

Mayor Houk and his wife were the first persons summoned to Dr. Sheppard's home after the murder.

Scientists Face Food Problem

Burden of Supplying the World's Needs to Fall on U.S., Canada

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—World scientists face a tremendous task to feed a global population expected to double from its present 2.4 billion persons within the next 50 years and to hit 6½ billions within the next century.

But the job can and will be done, Stanley Andrews, East Lansing, Mich., executive director of the National Project in Agricultural Communications, told the American Society of Agronomy at its annual meeting, continuing here today.

Andrews said the burden of the feeding job will fall on the United States and Canada, and, to a lesser extent, Argentina and Australia, the only nations with anything resembling a general food supply over and above internal needs.

The world's tropical and cool climate areas, on the other hand, are those where food shortages are bound to develop, Andrews said.

He added that this constituted the main challenge of the soil scientist—getting the so-called podsol and lateric soils in those underfed lands to produce.

Watkins Leads Off Debate as Censure Action Starts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate gets down to business today on the issue of rebuking Sen. McCarthy with the Wisconsin Republican himself predicting "I will be censured."

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) was ready to lead off debate with a speech urging his colleagues to support the recommendation by his special six-man committee that McCarthy be censured for his attitude toward a Senate elections subcommittee and his treatment of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker.

McCarthy assailed the Watkins committee as the "unwitting handmaiden of the Communist party."

McCarthy also described himself in a speech prepared for Senate delivery today but released late yesterday, as "the symbol of resistance to subversion" and declared that "the nation's fate is in some respects tied" to his own.

As for the censure charges contained in a revised resolution offered by the Watkins committee, McCarthy said they are "even more ridiculous" than the committee's critical report on its investigation of his activities.

"It is even less in line with the facts than the report was," he told newsmen in advance of the Senate session.

While his friends still were seeking a compromise that might avoid a later showdown vote, McCarthy said he thinks the censure resolution will be approved.

Any such verdict, he said, will "mean that the Communist party has achieved a major victory."

GOP Overrides Dems' Attempt to Block Signing

Contract Now Faces Major Vote on Waiving 30-Day Wait

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee today defeated a Democratic attempt to block immediate signing of the Dixon-Yates contract.

The committee acted shortly after President Eisenhower said at his news conference he still favored the controversial proposal.

The vote was 10-8 along strict party lines. The 10 Republicans on the committee voted to table a resolution by Sen. Pastore (D-R.I.).

Pastore's resolution would have called on the Atomic Energy Commission not to sign the contract to feed private power into Tennessee Valley Authority lines.

After the vote the committee decided to resume immediately its public hearings on the contract.

Pastore's resolution, amended before the vote was taken, would have told the AEC to delay signing the agreement until the committee "shall have had a further opportunity to study the question" after the convening of the 84th Congress.

Congress meets again next January.

Asked if the vote gave a clue to the probable result of another vote on whether to waive a 30-day layover period required by law, the committee chairman, Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) said:

"It has every indication of that eventual outcome."

But Cole told reporters the party-line vote might not necessarily be duplicated when the committee eventually considers an administration request to give an immediate go-ahead for the contract.

"It is conceivable that the view of some members might change," Cole said.

Rep. Hollifield (D-Calif.) a leading opponent of the proposal, said he did not believe today's vote was in effect a vote on the question of waiving the layover period.

Eisenhower a short time before had said no better way has been offered to provide power to areas needing it.

The President told his news conference, in commenting on criticism of the proposed contract in Congress, that if there is anything political in the situation, someone is making it that way.

He added that any political aspects which may have developed are not of his choosing.

The President discussed the power proposal in the wake of a Democratic prediction that it may get "a quiet burial" when the 84th Congress convenes in January.

Control of Congress is scheduled to shift from the Republicans to the Democrats at that time.

A reporter asked Eisenhower specifically whether he had changed his mind about wanting the Dixon-Yates contract approved.

The agreement, accepted but not actually signed, provides for funneling private power into lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority to replace electricity TVA furnishes to atomic plants.

Eisenhower replied he has not changed his mind because of what he called this simple reason—that no better contract has been offered.

The President said that until a better way of handling the situation is offered, he has got to stick to the present proposal.

Dr. H. W. Odum Expires at 70

Noted Teacher, Author, Sociologist Dies After Helping to Build South

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—Dr. Howard Washington Odum, a Georgia farm boy who lent his scholarly mind to the rebuilding of the South, died here Sunday.

Dr. Odum, recognized as the South's foremost sociologist, died at age 70 at the University of North Carolina's Memorial Hospital. Retiring as professor of sociology at the university only a few months ago, he had been ill since September.

Odum, born on a farm near Bethlehem, Ga., through years of fact-finding showed Southerners the way to a new economy. Many Southern leaders credit him as one of the leaders in laying the foundation for the new South.

Author of many books, his most notable work was "Southern Regions of the United States," which many said did as much to arouse the South economically as "Uncle Tom's Cabin" did sociologically in the North years before.

His writings emphasized facts which left no facet of Southern life untouched. He talked soil, climate, race relations, sharecropping, hookworm and men, and said the region was potentially the nation's richest. And he exhorted teachers to make their school centers of research in local problems.

Michigan Beet Quota Boosted

Corrected Story Shows State's Acreage Higher While U.S. Total Is Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Controls that will cut the nation's sugar beet planting by 10 per cent next year were clamped on by the Agriculture Department last week.

But Michigan, one of the top producing states, however, got an allotment of 4,005 acres more than was planted to sugar beets in 1954.

The allotment for Michigan next year is 81,420 acres, compared with 77,415 planted to sugar beets this year, when there were no restrictions.

Controls last prevailed on sugar beet acreage in 1941.

(Editor's Note: This is an Associated Press correction of a statement appearing in the Pontiac Press Saturday, Nov. 6.)

Acting under a sugar control law, the agriculture department will allot 850,000 acres on a national basis compared with 944,000 planted this year when there were no restrictions.

Growers must comply with allotments in order to be eligible for subsidy payments authorized by law.

The domestic beet producing area is allotted an annual marketing quota of 1,800,000 tons of sugar. Production this year is indicated to be about 200,000 tons more than the quota. Hence the restrictions were set up for the next year.

Similar limitations have been ordered for the sugar cane producing areas of Louisiana and Florida.
