KEEP ALERT AND LIVE.—Having in some manner survived the great November massacre, these two birds are keeping a sharp eye for occupational hazards incident to the Christmas season. If they can get by for another ten days or so they have a good chance of wishing each other a happy New Year and enjoying it for another eleven months, at least.

Slippery Streets Adding to Subway Strike Woes

NEW YORK (INS)—Snow and ice-glazed streets threw new burdens on New York's strike-crippled subways today as the walkout entered its fourth day with improved service reported.

Transit officials said they were gaining ground in stubborn efforts to break the back of the motormen's walkout and that service was "vastly" better than yesterday.

Service improved Wednesday on all three lines serving four of New York's five boroughs, but the bitter dose of winter served up today could turn an uphill battle toward normalcy into a major retreat.

Slippery streets, caused by snow and a day-long rain which froze, slowed traffic and forced hundreds of thousands of straphangers back underground to the already overloaded subways.

New York City Transit Authority Chairman Charles L. Patterson said the back-to-work movement by six striking unions—headed by the vital Motormen's Benevolent Association—was "fairly well indicated."

"We will see a big improvement in service Thursday," Patterson emphasized last night.

But an MBA official retorted: "That's the kind of statement they've made for three days."

The official, who asked his name not be revealed, declared the strike was "still on" and would continue until the MBA won its demands that it—not the huge Transport Workers Union—represent motormen.

"We'll carry on, they can take us (to jail) one at a time," he maintained. "We'll just keep going."

A fifth MBA officer may learn today whether he will join his president and three other officials in jail for violation of a no-strike injunction.

Supreme Court Justice Francis X. Conlon was expected to give his decision on MBA Executive Secretary Frank Zelano about noon. Zelano claimed the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination in refusing to answer questions at a hearing yesterday about his part in the walkout.

The TA still held off on its threat to fire 300 striking motormen who had been notified by telegram Tuesday they would be dismissed unless they showed up for afternoon shifts that day.

Nineteen of the strikers heeded the telegrams, and 21 new yard motormen were appointed, freeing experienced engineers to take out passenger runs.

SANTA'S IN TOWN—More than 250 county crippled children shared the annual Christmas party sponsored by the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children with Santa Claus yesterday. Ministers Begin Arriving in Paris for NATO Meet

Ike Leaving Tomorrow for 3-Day Conference Starting Monday

WASHINGTON (UP)—West European foreign ministers began arriving in Paris today to set the stage for the NATO summit conference next week.

President Eisenhower will fly to Paris tomorrow for the three-day NATO meeting opening Monday.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty arrived in Paris last night and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles leaves this afternoon.

Meanwhile as a precaution the president's social decks have been cleared for anything the President might want to do.

Tentative preparations have been made for all sorts of dinners and meetings. A dinner of supreme headquarters' officers, originally scheduled Sunday night, has been canceled but Gen. Lauris Norstad could gather senior officers at a quiet dinner at his home if the President desires.

The best-informed guess is that the President wants a quiet weekend.

The curtain raiser on the crowded diplomatic bill is a two-day session of foreign ministers from Council of Europe nations. The council, whose aim is to achieve greater unity of its 15 members, will convene tomorrow.

Overlapping this meeting, the seven ministers whose countries are members of the Western European Union will meet Saturday and Sunday.

The NATO heads of government meet Monday through Wednesday. On Thursday the six nations of the new European Common Market and Atomic Agency Euratom will get together.

A Clawson man died of injuries received when his car skidded off an icy road in Southfield Township early yesterday morning.

Clifton G. Allen, 47, was found by police face down in the snow on 13-mile road near Fairfax.

Southfield Township Police said Allen was thrown 31 feet from his car after it hit a tree on the right side of the road.

There were 166 feet of skid marks which led the police to believe he was going about 60 miles an hour when he lost control.

Allen died shortly after admittance to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Army's Satellite Said to Resemble Celestial Hot Dog

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Army has disclosed that its scientific earth satellite will be shaped something like a celestial "hot dog."

The Army cylinder to be rocketed into space in February or April will be more than a third heavier than the Navy's fully instrumented "moon." It is 6 feet 8 inches long and averages only six inches in diameter.

An official Army announcement yesterday said the projected satellite—closely resembling a long artillery shell—weighs 29.7 pounds, including approximately 10 pounds of instruments for counting and measuring cosmic rays and sending radio "beep-beep" signals to the ground.

The Navy moon, a 26-inch sphere, weighs 21½ pounds, including 10½ pounds of instruments.

5 Men Grilled in Grocer Death

Detroit Police Wonder Whether Killing Meant Robbery or Assault

DETROIT (INS)—Police were questioning five men today in the fatal shooting of a 58-year-old Detroit grocer.

Paul Nehra of 1386 E. Jefferson was shot to death last night in his store at 4405 John R.

Insp. Edward Reilly said there was no robbery and the motive for the shooting may have been from something other than a holdup attempt.

Police said they were checking a description of the killer given to them by Mrs. Maggie Sharp, 42, who was near the store when a man rushed out and ran into her. Mrs. Sharp said the man fled without saying anything. She went to the store where she saw Nehra standing behind the meat counter, just before he collapsed. She called police.

The store's manager, Leon E. Smith, 41, Detroit, told police he asked the wounded man if it "was a holdup" and Nehra weakly gasped either "no" or "oh."

Nehra passed out shortly thereafter and died on the way to Receiving Hospital.

Reilly said a loaded automatic pistol was found near Nehra who may have reached for the gun and was shot. Reilly stated:

"It may have been a bungled holdup attempt, or it may have been plain assault. We are investigating a report that Nehra had an argument last week with a customer who threatened to 'get him'."

Baron had been guarding the store for three months when the robbery attempt occurred.

Residents in County Glimpse Red Moon

Several Oakland County residents braved frigid pre-dawn temperatures today to glimpse Russia's Sputnik II as it coursed through the northwest sky.

Many other early-risers may have sighted the satellite and not known what it was.

The persistence of William Duckwitz, 7468 Sweetbriar Rd., Orchard Lake, was rewarded this morning at 5:57 a.m. This was the third morning he had sought the satellite in the skies, but each morning it was too cloudy out when it passed.

BRIGHT AS STAR
Duckwitz reports the man-made moon was about as bright as the brightest star in the handle of the Big Dipper as he watched it during the three or four minutes it was visible.

There wasn't much difference in viewing the Sputnik through the naked eye or the binoculars, according to Duckwitz.

Duckwitz was particularly interested in sighting Russia's second moon since he had located it on his short wave radio set when it was first launched. He also heard Sputnik I and tape-recorded its beep October 7.

DIDN'T BELIEVE
"I didn't believe anything like that anyway, about being able to see such things with the naked eye. If others did, I'd never see it anyway. I felt kind of funny when Mrs. Eloise Gallagher, of 335 Glen-garry Rd., Walled Lake.

"This morning, about 5:58 a.m., just like the article in The Pontiac Press said yesterday." (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Advisers Report to Supervisors' Welfare Committee:

County Mental Aid Legally Limited

Legal complications apparently limit the extent to which the county can provide emergency facilities for the mentally ill.

So the county's legal advisers have said to the Board of Supervisors' Welfare Committee which is preparing to recommend that some sort of temporary housing be found to ease the problem.

The way that legal advisers see the problem, special legislation, such as was passed for Wayne County General Hospital at Eloise, would be needed if the county decided to undertake an ambitious program of treatment.

Under existing laws, the county could do little more than find a more hospital-like place than Oakland County Jail in which to detain dangerously ill persons.

Except in the case of Wayne county, the state has reserved for itself the exclusive right to provide treatment for persons judged insane.

Unless the law is changed, this apparently would throw cold water on proposals that the county provide emergency treatment for patients not yet committed to a state institution, or for those committed but not yet admitted.

Each type of patient offers the county varying problems.

A mentally ill person, who has not yet been declared insane in Probate Court, still retains his constitutional rights. Therefore, it is illegal to force treatment on him against his will.

If dangerous, this type of patient can be placed in protective custody for up to 48 hours. But even when taken into custody, he cannot be forced to undergo treatment.

At the end of the 48 hours, the patient must be released.

The law says it is legal to house this type of patient 48 hours at

AFL-CIO Set to Oust Bakery, Laundry Bodies

But Distillery Workers Agree to the Removal of Corrupt Leaders

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (INS)—The AFL-CIO was expected to oust the Bakery Workers and Laundry Workers unions today on grounds of domination by corrupt leaders.

The controversial case involving the 144,000-member Bakery Union was to be taken up by the AFL-CIO Executive Council prior to the scheduled adjournment of the federation's convention.

Advance forecasts were that not only would the union be expelled but a rival union would be chartered.

Meanwhile, the convention was expected to approve overwhelmingly an appeals committee decision recommending ouster of the 72,000-member Laundry Workers Union for failure to comply with cleanup demands.

On the other hand, AFL-CIO officials said the 35,000-member Distillery Workers Union had agreed to demands for removal of allegedly corrupt leaders and that a move for expulsion would be dropped.

The convention voted nearly 7 to 1 Monday to oust the Bakery Workers Union by March 15 unless its president, James G. Cross of Washington, showed a willingness to comply with a housecleaning ultimatum issued by the council in October.

AFL-CIO officials said the cross-dominated controlling faction had refused to make any concessions. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Defense Takes Over Today in Hoffa Trial

NEW YORK (UP)—The defense takes over today in the wiretap conspiracy trial of Teamster president-elect James R. Hoffa and two others.

The prosecution rested yesterday in the case against Hoffa; Owen B. Brennan, president of Detroit Teamsters, local 337; and Bernard Spindel, professional wiretapper.

The trio have admitted using listening devices to overhear conversations in 1953 of union agents and employees, but deny they resorted to wiretapping. The government contends they did tap phones illegally to find out what union subordinates were telling Senate racketeers.

The case is being heard in federal court before a jury and Judge Frederick VanPelt Bryan.

Before resting its case, the government's final witness was Gerhard Behrendt, sales manager of the Sonocraft Corp. here.

Behrendt testified that he sold equipment to Spindel in June, 1953, and shipped it to Hoffa in Detroit "air express," rush.

Behrendt said Spindel told him at the time he "had a big job in Detroit where he had to wire up the building."

County Resident Dies in Hospital

Orrin P. Huntoon Was Funeral Home Director in Pontiac 46 Years

Orrin P. Huntoon, local funeral home director for more than 46 years, died at 4:55 yesterday afternoon in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital of a heart ailment. He had been ill about a year.

A life long resident of Oakland County, he was born in Orion Township to William P. and Della Hoyt Huntoon on Aug. 31, 1887. He attended Waterford Township and Pontiac High Schools.

Mr. Huntoon, 70, entered the funeral home business with his father on leaving school in 1903. He started the undertaking business here in 1911 with E. J. Kelly and continued it after Mr. Kelly's retirement in 1916.

In 1926, Mr. Huntoon converted the former residence of C. V. Taylor at 79 Oakland Ave. into a funeral home. His first motorized ambulance was purchased in 1912. Prior to that all funerals and emergencies were served by horse-drawn vehicles.

A member of First Baptist Church, he also belongs to the downtown Kiwanis Club, Knights of Pythias, Pontiac Lodge F&AM No. 21, Pontiac High Twelve Club and the Odd Fellows Lodge.

He was a member of National Selected Morticians, Knight Templar, Fellowship Class of his church and of the Board of Directors of the Pontiac Credit Bureau.

Mr. Huntoon of 9784 Crosby Lake Rd. leaves his wife, Helene; three sons, Orrin P. Huntoon Jr. of Pontiac, Clifford C. of Waterford Township and Stephen of Clarkston; three sisters, Mrs. May Hall of Pontiac, Mrs. Percy King of Waterford and Mrs. Herbert Coryvill of Detroit.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Saturday from the First Baptist Church with his pastor, Dr. H. H. Savage, officiating. Burial will be in Otawa Park Cemetery. Mr. Huntoon's body is at the Huntoon Funeral Home.

AFL-CIO Prepares to Oust Two Unions and that from their viewpoint ouster seemed inevitable. CHARTER EXPECTED

Federation President George Meany said the union would be expelled before the convention adjourned unless the Cross group indicated a willingness to comply with the AFL-CIO order.

A "Committee to Preserve Integrity" in the union, representing 109 locals with 58,000 members, planned to ask for and was expected to get a charter from the AFL-CIO.

As the convention neared its final stages, word was passed around that the leaders of the Distillery Workers who were under fire had agreed to resign, the union would submit to AFL-CIO operation during a cleanup period, and new officers would be chosen by secret ballot.

If the expectations are fulfilled, the AFL-CIO convention will come out a little better than was expected so far as unions charged with corruption were concerned. It expelled the 1,500,000-member Teamsters Union, largest in the nation, and the Bakery Workers and Laundry Workers were in line on — three in all. But every Workers and the 4,000-member United Textile Workers are escaping ouster.

BACK IN FAVOR

The textile group — not to be confused with the old CIO Textile Workers Union of America — was restored to good standing yesterday after a new regime in the union had assured federation leaders of full compliance with a clean-up directive.

Before adjourning, the convention decided to approve an ethical practice code adopted by the federation's Executive Council. But it probably will accuse the Senate Rackets Committee of being one-sided in its investigation of improper practices in management and labor.

day, it was visible and I saw it," she exclaimed. The satellite was travelling from the northwest to the southeast. It was "egg-shaped" and had sort of a little tail," she added. It went through the middle of the Big Dipper to the last star in the handle and it was a whitish blue light, according to Mrs. Gallagher, who saw the moon from the back door of her home on Wolverine Lake.

GOT UP EARLY

William Pascher, 3530 Gregory Rd., Gillingham, got up an hour earlier than usual this morning to try to find the satellite as it raced through the sky. His mission was accomplished.

"It passed overhead the exact time that the article in the Press said it would. The Big Dipper was up-side-down. I was watching so closely, I began imagining every star was moving."

"Then I turned my head to watch my neighbor back out of the driveway and when I looked back, I saw it for about 10 seconds," Pascher said.

MOON BRIGHT

The moon was as bright and white as a star but its light was steady as opposed to a star's twinkling, according to Pascher.

"My wife, son and I saw that Russian Sputnik this morning," reports Clyde H. McPherson, 4391 Louella St., Drayton Plains. His son is Samuel McPherson, of 5807 Dwight St., Waterford Township.

"It looked just like a brilliant star but it was rapidly travelling across the sky instead of down like a falling star so I know that was it," he said.

McPherson said he sighted Sputnik I about a week following its launching but it had an "orange white vapor trail on it," he said. The one this morning didn't.

"I'm going to watch again tomorrow morning but this time I'm going to use binoculars to see what else I can find," McPherson added.

Sen Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today President Eisenhower faces the job in Paris of making NATO into a "going concern" instead of "a symbol of defense."

Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader and a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, returned from a European survey with the stated conviction that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is disintegrating.

Recreation Board to Aid Skating on Quarton Lake

BIRMINGHAM — Bowling to public opinion, the Birmingham Recreation Board has announced it will participate in a program for skating on Quarton Lake this winter.

Charles W. Gale, forestry and parks superintendent, said there will be no direct supervision at the lake. His department, however, will maintain a skating area and inspect the ice daily.

When conditions are unsafe, the area will be posted and the City Hall switchboard operator will be informed.

The ice should be safe within two or three weeks if this weather continues, Gale said.

Skating areas will be scraped and resurfaced when necessary by machines used at the Eton artificial rink, he said.

Current checks during the summer located these sections where skating will be safest, Gale said. By maintaining these areas it is hoped skaters will be kept from the danger spots.

For emergency use, a telephone line is being installed. It will be connected directly with police headquarters.

Postmaster Roland Reese announced special post office hours for the handling of Christmas mail. Today, Saturday and Dec. 21, hours will be from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Tomorrow and Dec. 16-20.

Sewage Plant Report to Come in February

City officials probably will have to wait until February to learn if a second sewage treatment plant will be built in Pontiac, Milton P. Adams, executive secretary of the Michigan Water Resources Commission, said this morning.

Adams said some delays have been experienced in preparation of a report based on tests taken recently of the Clinton River.

These tests were ordered by the commission in June to determine whether the city still needs an auxiliary plant. The order followed a defeat in May by Pontiac voters of a bond issue to finance the plant.

Crops Hit; Alligator-in-Ice Tells Story Freeze Strikes Florida

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The worst freeze in a decade struck Florida last night and today, bringing damage to its farms and groves.

Lows in the 20s were reported in several areas. The Weather Bureau forecast for tonight was for temperatures of 22 to 25 in the northern interior, and 32 to 36 in the southern interior.

CROPS DAMAGED

The truck growing and strawberry area at Plant City was hard hit. What was left of the winter vegetable crop appeared wiped out and the strawberry crop was damaged.

Smudge pots and wood fires were common in the citrus groves.

Some vegetable growers covered plants, or flooded fields, to protect young shoots. Other growers pulled up young plants, to set them out again later.

The cold wave was sudden. In Miami the temperature was 65 when the cold wave hit, dropped seven degrees in five minutes and hit a low of 40.

There was a gusty wind, sometimes reaching a velocity of 40 miles an hour.

ALLIGATOR FROZEN

At Lakeland, Mrs. Madelon McLeod bedded down her pet alligator for the night. She placed a covering over the reptile's tub of water, thinking that would ward off the cold.

Today she awoke to inspect the alligator's tub to find the water frozen solid and the creature dead — frozen stiff.

The Tampa Motor Club reported its switchboard lit up like a Christmas tree with members calling in to report frozen radiators.

long waiting list for admission to a state hospital — could voluntarily submit to emergency treatment by the state, either at a public or private institution.

On a voluntary basis, this type patient could be continuously housed in a county facility until admission to a state hospital. But the law, as it now reads, says the county could not provide treatment.

It is this legal complication that apparently snags a suggestion by the Oakland County Medical Society's Mental Health Committee. The committee has guaranteed that is the county provides a hospital, it will provide a professional staff for emergency treatment. Without special legislation, this proposal seems doomed, according to the legal experts.

Danes Plan Marine Lab

COPENHAGEN — At Elsinore, about 25 miles north of Copenhagen, the University of Copenhagen is establishing a marine biological institute. This will complete a chain of four such laboratories, under the general sponsorship of the four Scandinavian governments, providing for ecological studies of aquatic organisms in almost every type of environment, from fresh water to open ocean.

Free Rides for Calling

DES MOINES (AP) — Members of the "honor class" for alcoholics in the Des Moines Municipal Court are going to be available on New Year's Eve to drive home anyone who thinks he's had enough to drink.

2 Million Use Parkway

MIAMI — In its first six months operation Florida's new Sunshine State Parkway was used by more than 2,000,000 cars which traveled more than 100,000,000 vehicle miles, with only two fatal accidents.

One resulted from a blow out, the other from an improper turn. The parkway bypasses all cities and towns from Fort Pierce to Miami. It is five or six miles west of U.S. 1 and parallels that highway.

Liquor Revenue Up

WASHINGTON — The Federal Government collected $3,085,327,000 from various taxes and duties on alcoholic beverages in 1956, an increase of $232,777,000, or 8.2 per cent, over the 1955 revenue.

Liquor Tax Has Gains

WASHINGTON — Alcoholic beverages produced $920,658,533 in tax and license revenue for the 48 states and the District of Columbia in 1956, a rise of $77,708,948 over the 1955 figure.

Peril of Fallout Eyed by AEC

Order Sharply Reduces Permissible Amount of Radiation Exposure

WASHINGTON (INS)—An Atomic Energy Commission order drastically reducing permissible radiation exposure was interpreted today as an official admission that "fallout" danger is greater than previously thought.

The ruling, handed down late yesterday, limits to one-third of the previous maximums the amount of radioactivity to which AEC workers and the general public may be exposed as a result of industrial operations by the commission or by private nuclear power plants.

No mention was made of peacetime atomic tests or wartime radioactivity, but similar considerations would apply to the protection of the public from the creeping effects of wind-borne radiation in an all-out nuclear conflict.

An AEC spokesman said, however, that peacetime weapon testing at the present rate will add only a small percentage to the worldwide radiation total of natural radiation.

The commission's order was the first change since 1948 in the maximum permissible dosage for AEC workers. The level for the public, under a policy adopted in 1954, was reduced to one-tenth of the new maximum for the approximately 100,000 atomic workers.

In addition, the commission imposed special restrictions on certain types of radioactivity which "tend to concentrate near the gonads" or to circulate in the blood stream, because these endanger the hereditary genes.

The effect of the order was to greatly tighten the health and safety standards which must be observed by private atomic power plants, some of which are now under construction.

A spokesman said the commission's own operations will be only slightly affected, because more than 99 per cent of its employees are already receiving less than one-third the present maximum exposure.

In the commission's favor, the ruling contains a clause permitting an employee to be exposed for one year to the present maximum — 15 "roentgens" — providing his average for a period of years is only a third of that amount.

The ruling accepted recommendations of the National Academy of Sciences and the National Committee of Radiation Protection headed by Lauriston Taylor of the Bureau of Standards.

These recommendations are that no person during the first 30 years of his life should be exposed to more than twice the amount of radioactivity he would normally sustain from nature.

As Part of NATO Defenses

2 Nations Accept Missiles

PARIS (INS)—Turkey and Belgium announced acceptance this week of American guided missiles as part of their defenses within the NATO Alliance.

Turkey disclosed that U. S. "Nike" and "Honest John" guided missiles will be sent to her from the United States, and Turkish officers will go to the United States to learn how to use the weapons.

Belgium announced acceptance of the Nike, the first guided missile to enter service in that country. Brussels said a number of Belgian air force men and technicians already are undergoing special training in the United States.

In Paris French informants said that the United States offered all NATO governments Nikes and Honest Johns. Agence France Presse quoted authoritative informants as saying that France has not yet decided on a reply to the American offer.

The missiles concerned are non-atomic tactical ones of short range.

not to be confused with intermediate range ballistic missiles which the United States has developed and for which it would like to establish bases in Europe among NATO members.

The Nike is an Army-developed anti-aircraft missile which Army officials say is a match for any plane. The Honest John is a ground-to-ground rocket missile for use against land aggressors.

Size of Christmas Tree Should Fix Bulb Number

A few suggestions on how to achieve effective Christmas tree lighting this year have been made by Detroit Edison home service adviser, Jean Hardy.

Whether families prefer to light their trees with a single color or with a variety, it is suggested that they gauge the number of light bulbs by the size of the tree.

A recommended guide is 35 lights for a four foot tree, 56 for a tree of five feet and 77 lights for a giant six foot tree.

"Those trees having a variety of colored lights can be made even more spectacular by using twice as many blue and green light bulbs as other colors," according to Miss Hardy.

In planning your Christmas tree an early check of bulbs, strings and extension cords is suggested.

Strings and extension cords should be examined for good condition with no breaks, frays or cracked sockets.

For outdoor lighting of trees and other decorations, only cords and bulbs of a special waterproof type, connected to waterproof outlets, are recommended.

Will Raise Minimum Marrying Age to 15 for Women

Mississippi Dooms Child Bride Era

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The era of the child bride will end in Mississippi next July 1.

For decades, the nation has been shocked by the marriages in Mississippi of girls as young as 10 or 11, often to men old enough to be their grandfathers.

Like others escaping the strict law of states as far away as Illinois or New York, they were married in the neon-lit "marriage mills" just inside the Mississippi state line.

The Legislature yesterday replaced Mississippi's lax marriage law with one about as strict as any. It requires a blood test to prove the couple does not have syphilis, a three-day waiting period, and sets minimum ages of 15 for women and 17 for men.

Publicity about child brides this year probably helped pass the bill. Present laws set no minimum age for marrying.

Mary Lou Lawson, 14-year-old Zelma, Mo., schoolgirl, was married at Hernando last Oct. 3 to a 76-year-old great-grandfather, John G. Tatro of Sturdivant, Mo. "I'd rather be an old man's darling than a young man's slave," said Mary Lou.

The "marrying business" is a big thing in border counties, especially those on federal highways.

Last year, Mississippi's 66,223 marriage licenses were topped only by Nevada. Of those 66,223, more than 64 per cent went to out-of-state residents and 46 per cent went to teen-agers.

Almost every important state organization, from the PTA, Farm Bureau and medical association to the League of Women Voters, supported the bill.

Bossie Doing Efficient Job

Milk Production Rises Despite Drop in Number of Nation's Cows

WASHINGTON (INS) — Bossie is doing a lot to bail dairy farmers out of the cost-price squeeze, but the Agriculture Department thinks she can do a good deal more.

The average American dairy cow has steadily increased her efficiency ever since the department started keeping accurate records in 1934. Average output has climbed in that time from 4,000 pounds annually to 6,150 pounds this year.

Bossie's efficiency as a milk machine has meant that the actual number of cows in the nation's barns and pastures has been gradually dropping while milk production sets new records each month.

With plenty of good quality feed available at bargain rates, the department's "dairy situation" reports that milk output will likely continue at record levels through 1958.

A pound of milk will buy one and six-tenths pounds of feed this fall, the report says. That is the best ratio since 1910.

Cheap feed may temporarily ease the drive toward better cows, but Agriculture Department dairy expert J. Frank Kendrick believes that within another 20 years Bossie will have to produce another 2,000 pounds a year to keep up with the population — provided the size of dairy herds doesn't take a sudden spurt upwards.

He states that each additional thousand pounds of output per cow will be difficult to add, but points to the success of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association as evidence that it can be done.

He notes that the 1,500,000 dairy cows in association herds each produce almost 10,000 pounds a year — more than half again as much as the national average.

Kendrick states that there may be a limit to the efficiency of cows — well below the 30,000 pounds that pampered Holsteins have produced in a year — but says that the limit is far from being reached.

A small reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Cook of 444 South Ridge Rd.

The bridegroom is stationed at Patuxent River, Md. He is the son of Mrs. Edward Missitz of Howell and the late Edward Missitz.

CHAMPION LAMB — Darrel Gocharour, 12, of Litchfield, with his champion Southdown lamb at the Detroit Junior Livestock Show at State Fair Grounds. Darrel also had the top pen of three lambs.

4-H Winners Earn $4,500 for 3 Champion Animals

DETROIT — Three young Michigan farmers shared a total of $4,500 for 1,331 prize pounds of meat on the hoof following bidding at the 4-H junior livestock auction at the State Fairgrounds yesterday.

Prices ranging from $5 a pound for lamb to $2.20 for pork were paid to the owners of grand champions in the annual 4-H junior livestock show which reached the end of a three-day run.

The richest at the end of the day was 18-year-old Carol Payne, a Michigan State coed from Gallien, whose 1,005-pound Black Angus "Honeycomb" was the show's grand champion steer.

Buyers for Wrigley's Stores Inc. paid the young exhibitor $3,500, or $3.50 a pound for her entry.

Darrel Gocharour, 12, of Litchfield collected $505 from Feldman Bros., a Detroit meat packing firm, for his 101-pound grand champion lamb.

Thirteen-year-old George Good of Lansing received $495 from Wrigley's for his grand champion hog.

The current market price for top-quality livestock is 26-27 cents a pound for steers, 22-23 cents for lambs and 18-19 cents for hogs.

The auction climaxed a show in which 400 Michigan 4-H youths entered exhibits.

Among the winners were Marlene Gnepper, 13, of Leonard and Linda and Arthur Severance of Cass City, ages 13 and 17.

Marlene won top prize for Hampshire-Oxford lambs, a pen of three. The latter pair took honors in the Shropshire Breed classification, pen of three.

Ivy League' Bandit Robs Berkley Dairy

BERKLEY — The Brickley Dairy Co., at 3714 12-Mile Rd., was held up at 9 p.m. yesterday by a man wearing sunglasses and an Ivy League cap. He took $129 in cash.

A 23-year-old clerk said she was walking to the back of the store with empty milk bottles when the man walked up behind her and told it was a stickup.

He had his hand in his pocket as though he had a gun, she said. There was no one else in the store at the time.

After scooping $114 from the open safe and $15 from the cash register, the bandit locked the clerk in the cooler.

He apparently had locked the front door of the store when he entered. A regular customer had found it locked and went to an appliance store next door when he became suspicious. He and Gene Kelley, proprietor Kelley's Appliance Store, entered through the back door of the dairy and found the clerk in the cooler.

She had been there only about 15 minutes.

Men Shoppers Wait Till Last

Choose Gifts Quickly, Pick Personal Things: Need Hint From Wife!

NEW YORK (NEA)—There are two types of male Christmas shoppers. Those who haven't the vaguest idea what they want to buy. And those who know exactly what they want.

And neither rain, nor sleet, nor snow will keep them from doing their Christmas shopping on Christmas Eve.

"It breaks my heart to see men shopping a day or two before Christmas," sniffs a personal shopper for a large department store.

"But one consolation," she adds having composed herself: "They generally make up their minds quickly. A man will stride into a store decked in Yuletide glitter and often buy the first thing he sees."

"They see something and say, 'Yes, that's it!'"

"But women will see something they like . . . and then want to see 10 other items to make sure they are getting what they really want."

What does the average man buy as a Christmas gift? Generally something personal. They buy handbags and especially enjoy giving lovely housecoats and negligees.

With a wife yearning for a whiff of the latest Paris perfume, her husband usually doesn't take the hint. They seem to feel it is an ordinary gift to give.

"A pair of expensive gloves also makes an ideal gift, but few men think to purchase them," Santa's little helper continues.

And, men, don't forget the housewares and home furnishings departments in that spirit to beat Santa down the chimney. Many housewives would appreciate a nice gift for the home.

With this advice our shopper burst into a peppy carol: "And so, with a flick of the billfold male shoppers are off and away, to come back as surely another day . . . before Christmas."

Give Living Fir Plenty of Water

If you get a living Christmas tree this year, do remember that like any house plant it requires plenty of water. Otherwise you might as well, or better, have a cut tree.

A secret of making a living tree worthwhile is to plant it as soon after Christmas as possible. Common among the living trees are Norway spruce, Scotch pine and balsam fir. They grow large and should not be used as foundation plantings.

In setting them out, select a well drained site, dig a pit considerably larger than the earth ball, and tamp in plenty of good top soil mixed with peat moss or compost.

Natural Explanations for Star Magi Followed

In the mysteries of the heavens lie three possible explanations from modern astronomers for the dazzling Star of Bethlehem. The Bible says the Star appeared suddenly and led the Magi to the manger in Bethlehem.

If the Star was not supernatural, it might be explained by any one of three natural stellar events. The three are all possible explanations produced in years of study by astronomers considering the Christmas story.

One, it might have been a supernova. Suddenly a faint or even invisible star explodes in force equal to billions of atom bombs. The exploding star glows brilliantly for a time, then slowly dies down to its former insignificance or less.

Two, it might have been a comet, a speeding visitor from outer space.

Three, it could have been an unusual conjunction or apparent nearness of two or even three planets, which shone brilliantly for a time, and which seemingly moved across the skies.

PLENTY DEBATE
Historically, astronomers have produced arguments for and against each of these possibilities.

New-born stars and supernovae are not uncommon among the billions upon billions of stars in the universe.

They appear suddenly to our vision, when the light from the cosmic explosion reaches earth, and could be interpreted as a new and entirely strange and meaningful star. But a supernova would be relatively fixed in the background of stars, not move as readily or rapidly as the Star of Bethlehem moved.

A new and brilliant comet, brighter than the Arend-Roland comet of last spring, could have been the Bethlehem Star.

But such comets are generally seen widely over the world, not merely in one quarter or area.

The arrival of a new comet probably would have been recorded by astronomers of the day somewhere in the world. Too, comets generally are popularly thought to be omens of disaster rather than of joyous events.

TRIPLE DISPLAY?
Perhaps, say the astronomers, the Star could have been a conjunction of the planets Jupiter and Saturn as they passed one another in our skies.

Even Mars, the red planet, could have joined them at the time of the birth of Christ in a close configuration for a brilliant triple display and seemingly new phenomenon.

Knowledge and concepts of astronomy in times long past, and some beliefs then in astrology, all complicate efforts fully to explain the Star of Bethlehem as natural or supernatural.

30 Million Homes to Show Outdoor Lights This Yule

CHICAGO (INS) — This Christmas is bound to be bright — outdoors as well as indoors.

According to Albert V. Sadacca, an outdoor lighting expert, more than 30 million American homes will be lighted with outdoor electric displays for the Yuletide season.

Sadacca, head of a firm manufacturing decorative lighting equipment in Chicago, says outdoor living during balmy weather is responsible for his prediction of brightly lighted Christmas decorations this year. He said:

"More homes than ever before are equipped with outdoor electrical outlets, thanks to the trend for barbecues and patio parties."

Besides doorway trimmings, Sadacca recommends a new hospitality idea for the Yuletide season; illuminating exterior stair-pavements.

ways to guide guests merrily inside safely because of wintry twining together evergreen onto a hand-rail."

TRIPLE DISPLAY?

Perhaps, say the astronomers, the Star could have been a conjunction of the planets Jupiter and Saturn as they passed one another in our skies.

Even Mars, the red planet, could have joined them at the time of the birth of Christ in a close configuration for a brilliant triple display and seemingly new phenomenon.

Knowledge and concepts of astronomy in times long past, and some beliefs then in astrology, all complicate efforts fully to explain the Star of Bethlehem as natural or supernatural.

COOKING habits will perk up. Hostess has electric fry pan and 10-cup coffeemaker in kitchen.

30 Million Homes to Show Outdoor Lights This Yule

CHICAGO (INS) — This Christmas is bound to be bright — outdoors as well as indoors.

According to Albert V. Sadacca, an outdoor lighting expert, more than 30 million American homes will be lighted with outdoor electric displays for the Yuletide season.

Sadacca, head of a firm manufacturing decorative lighting equipment in Chicago, says outdoor living during balmy weather is responsible for his prediction of brightly lighted Christmas decorations this year. He said:

"More homes than ever before are equipped with outdoor electrical outlets, thanks to the trend for barbecues and patio parties."

Besides doorway trimmings, Sadacca recommends a new hospitality idea for the Yuletide season: illuminating exterior stair-pavements.

Canned Peaches a Boon to Weight Watchers

Canned cling peaches from California are abundant and economical now. Even weight-watchers can enjoy them. Ann Williams-Heller, nutritionist and expert on healthful reducing, reports that two large peach halves with one tablespoon of their rich juice contain less than 100 calories.

She suggests these two recipes for the man or woman on a weight reduction diet:

Quick 'n' Easy Broiled Dinner

Using 1½ pounds lean ground beef, form 6 patties, about 2 inches in diameter, ½-inch thick; broil to desired degree of doneness; season to taste with salt and pepper.

Drain 12 canned cling peach halves; place, cut side up, on broiler rack; fill each peach half with ½ tablespoon tomato catsup; sprinkle with paprika and broil for about 5 minutes or until slightly browned.

Divide 1 large bunch crisp watercress on 6 serving plates; place 1 hamburger and 2 broiled peach baskets on bed of greens; serve at once. One serving—about 200 calories.

Buttermilk Peach Sherbet

Drain 6 medium canned cling peach halves; mash with fork or in electric blender; blend with 1½ cups buttermilk, the grated rind of 1 lemon, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and a pinch of salt.

Put mixture in refrigerator ice cube tray; freeze until almost solid. Whip with rotary beater until light; put back in ice cube tray, and freeze until set. To serve, unmold and dust with cinnamon to taste. One serving—about 75 calories. Recipe makes 6 servings.

Follow Rules for Good Beef

Standing rib roast of beef oven-cooked until richly browned on the outside, pink and juicy within is a meat that makes an occasion of any meal at which it is served. To cook standing rib roast of beef follow these directions:

1. Order enough meat to allow 1½ to 2 pounds per serving. Make sure however that you order a roast of at least four pounds in weight or a piece two ribs thick. A smaller piece is better when broiled.

2. For a more attractive roast have short ribs removed for use in a later meal. For easier carving have the backbone loosened from the ribs. After cooking the backbone may be removed before carving.

3. Wipe meat with a damp cloth and season with salt and pepper. Insert meat thermometer through fat into the center of the lean.

4. Place roast fat side up in a shallow open roasting pan. A pan with low sides allows the roast to cook more evenly than a deep roaster. No rack is required as the bones will hold the roast up out of the drippings. Basting during cooking is not necessary as the fat melts during cooking and drips down over the lean meat keeping it moist.

5. Roast at a constant temperature of 325 degrees according to this schedule:

ROASTING TIME TABLE FOR STANDING RIB ROAST OF BEEF
Internal Temperature	Minutes	Per Pound
Rare	140° F.	22-24
Medium	160° F.	26-28
Well-done	170° F.	33-35

When the meat has cooked to the preferred degree of doneness remove it from the oven and allow it to stand in a warm place 15 to 20 minutes for easier carving.

BEEF RIB ROAST — Standing rib roast of beef, oven cooked until richly browned on the outside, pink and juicy within, is a meat cut that makes an occasion of any meal at which it is served. To achieve the same results, roast the meat at a temperature of 325 degrees F. to an internal temperature of 160 degrees F.

CHRISTMAS PEAR DESSERT — For a simple dessert after some of the rich holiday food serve these Christmas Pear Trees. Fresh pears are frosted with cream cheese, then decorated to look like miniature Yule trees. Listen to your guests oh and ah.

Serve a Yule Dessert With Pear Appeal

The time is early in the morning of St. Lucia's Day—December 13th. The place is Sweden, or for that matter, wherever there are Swedish people. And Lucia? She's the lovely maiden who, even today, wears a flowing white gown and a crown of candles and greens. It's her duty to wake her family early on St. Lucia Day and, happily, serve steaming coffee and fresh buns called Lussekake. It's all part of a colorful, age-old custom that officially begins the Christmas season in Sweden.

Of course, Lussekake is just as traditional as the holiday itself—right down to the precious saffron and the wonderful double S-shape. Here's the perfect complement for early-morning coffee — not too sweet, not too heavy, and flavorful enough to wake you up for seconds. The Swedish people also believe that the coffee on this morning must be the very best of the whole year—fragrant, full-bodied and steaming hot.

Lussekake
2 tablespoons boiling water
¼ teaspoon crumbled saffron threads
1 pkg. active dry yeast
¼ cup warm water (110 degrees)
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk, scalded
¾ to 4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 egg, well beaten
Pour boiling water on saffron and let stand. Add yeast to ¼ cup

Rich Cream Soup Made With Powder

Christmas time — a clear winter's night — the voices of carolers in the air — and what better to greet the carolers at the end of the evening than a tureen of steaming soup.

Here is a "party soup" that is perfect for such occasions. It's a hearty combination that will really stick to the ribs, a flavorful blending of frozen oyster stew and frozen cream of shrimp soup. What gives the soup a special richness is a gourmet touch and it's so simple to use.

Just add instant powdered cream to point up the full, rich flavor of the shrimp and oyster combination and you'll provide an ideal finish to a festive evening. This simple combination is as follows:

Instant Cream Party Soup
Combine one 10-ounce can frozen oyster stew with one 10-ounce can frozen cream of shrimp soup with two cans water. Add 4 tablespoons instant powdered cream. Heat until soup is melted, then bring to a boil. Makes 5 cups.

The Most Important thing about baking

It's the BALANCE of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven... That's the story of Clabber Girl's balanced double action... Better Baking everytime!

BALANCED double-action means Better Baking!

Chocolate Milk Sparks Eggnog

Traditional Yule Drink Provides New, Exciting Flavor Treat

Since eggnog is the traditional drink during the Christmas holidays, eggnog has and will be on a good many holiday buffet tables.

This year, however, spark this traditional beverage with a new exciting flavor. Make it a chocolate milk eggnog with bottles or cartons of chocolate milk.

The chocolate milk story doesn't end there. Milk has a flair and a flavor for fashion. Joseph Love has blended chocolate milk, the color, into a good many dresses and has come up with a holiday collection of chocolate milk brown dresses for little girls.

CHOCOLATE MILK EGGNOG

(Makes about 7 cups)
3 eggs, separated
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 quart bottled or cartoned chocolate milk
1 teaspoon rum extract or vanilla
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Nutmeg

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Add sugar and blend. Add chocolate milk and rum extract or vanilla and mix well. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold egg whites and cream into chocolate milk mixture. Serve topped with nutmeg.

Broil Cinnamon Toast for Kaffee Klatsch

Invite the neighbors in for impromptu mid-morning coffee and quickly put a pan of broiled cinnamon toast in the oven for a surprise. Cut slices of enriched bread into 1-inch strips. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar mixture — ¼ cup sugar and ¼ teaspoon cinnamon. Place on baking sheet and broil until browned on top, about 2 minutes. Turn and brown on other side.

LUSSEKAKE — There's Lucia's beautiful crown and there's her tray — ready and waiting for her to start the Christmas season with coffee-in-bed for all the family. This traditional Swedish custom takes place yearly on St. Lucia's Day, December 13.

Bake Fresh Lussekake for St. Lucia's Day

When holiday foods begin to taste uniformly rich, and appetites are lagging behind at every serving, it's time to introduce a delightful new treat to your Christmas table... a free beautiful in holiday trim, yet kind to even a calorie-conscious menu. A delicate tint of green, a subtle dash of mint, and under it all the juicy perfection of a ripe fresh pear.

To ripen the pears to eating perfection, leave at room temperature until the fruit yields to a gentle pressure, then refrigerate. Juicy, tender, and cold, each forkful will revive and refresh... a complement to any festive menu, a compliment to your thoughtfulness.

Although the recipe calls for creme de menthe, this might be replaced with a drop or two of mint flavoring and a drop of green coloring to give it a delicate hue.

Pear Christmas Trees
4 ripe juicy Bosc, Comice or Anjou pears
1 8-oz. package cream cheese
1 tablespoon milk or cream
2 tablespoons creme de menthe
½ cup flaked coconut
Silver dragees
Select ripe pears which have tapering necks resembling tree shape. Remove peel if desired. Soften cream cheese with a fork or spoon and combine with cream or milk and creme de menthe until of a spreading consistency. Spread pears with cheese mixture and sprinkle with coconut. Stud with silver dragees and top with silver star on tip of toothpick, replacing the stem of the pear. To make star top, moisten two silver stars and place back to back on tip of toothpick.

Plan Your Dining Area With Care

Let Use of Room Be Major Guide to What Is Bought

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

When you plan a dining area, take into account how you'll use it. Let that be a guide to what you buy.

Of course any dining area must be convenient to the kitchen.

Storage pieces should provide for the storing of table linens, flatware and some serving pieces and china. Modern, moderately priced dining-room furniture gives us a good selection of versatile pieces. Young homemakers can start with a buffet, then add a hutch top later for more storage space.

What kind of a table should you pick? Clues to your answer may be found in these factors: how many will regularly be dining at it, how often you entertain, and how you would like to use it between meals.

If yours is a family of five or six, for example, you'd probably favor a table that can be set to accommodate them without adding extra leaves. If you entertain often, you should consider extension tables that can open up to seat eight or 10. Some families regularly eat in a kitchen dining area. For them, provisions for more formal dining are needed only occasionally.

If space is a problem, narrow drop-leaf tables may offer a better solution than a stationary large one.

Round dining tables have mushroomed in many furniture collections. With a diameter of about 40 inches, a round table can seat four comfortably to dine. More can gather around it for games. Most of those I've seen extend to seat quite a few on occasion.

Square extension tables also double as game tables.

If you don't have an extra desk or if the one you have is overcrowded, the dining table is a time-honored substitute.

Giving new fashion to this use are beautiful portable leather "desks" which are equipped with blotter and compartments for stationery or letters. These, in a lovely range of colors, can be stored in full view with their contents well concealed.

Although matching chairs are usually chosen to team up with the dining table, this is not an inflexible rule. This is especially true with tables that follow the soft, simple lines of contemporary design and are finished in the warm, natural wood tones. One decorator tells me that he often likes to use black lacquered chairs as a contrast to lighter woods.

Missile Battalion. Here he presents Irving Steinman, president of the USO, with a certificate of appreciation for USO services.

Cleanse Towels Without Washer

Do you have super-size Turkish towels or bath sheets to wash and no washing machine. One practical apartment dweller just folds the large bath sheets back and forth several folds, and lets the sheets soak for a couple of hours. Then she squeezes the lather through them, rinses, and hangs the towels to dry. They come out clean, and fluff up nicely with a brisk shaking.

Advice to Hostess

If guests seem happy doing what they are doing, a good hostess lets them alone. For instance, she doesn't break up a lively discussion to suggest bridge, or insist on persons who are comfortably relaxed going out to look at her garden.

Prompt Washing Removes Stains

To remove perspiration stains from washable cottons, wash the stained area as soon as possible in warm soap or detergent suds.

If the fabric has become discolored, try sponging it with a little vinegar and water solution which may help to restore the original color.

Rinse thoroughly. Then launder the entire garment in clean suds, rinse, and hang to dry.

Ankle-High Boots Stylish, Practical

Ankle-high chukka boots are fashionable as well as a practical sportswear accessory, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

Made in both smooth leathers and in rugged suedes, these boots come in two and three-eyelet styles and others fasten with straps. The most popular models carry either a plain toe or a moccasin-type front.

Masculine Reader Insists That Women Are Strange

He's Puzzled by Devious Workings of the Feminine Mind

By RUTH MILLETT

"Women are strange creatures," writes a man who reads this column.

"How can they so quickly become attached to anything new that they immediately discard the old, reliable, steadfast article the new item replaces?"

"Why do they pride themselves on being able to understand a man and see through another woman?"

"Isn't it strange the way a group of tired housewives is suddenly rejuvenated when mention is made of Marilyn Monroe, and how each and every one of them gets a ready-to-fight gleam in her eyes?"

"How can a woman who can't remember that her husband likes his bacon well done make him feel like such a chump if he forgets her birthday or their wedding anniversary?"

"How does a woman have the nerve to come home so dead tired from a day of shopping or bridge playing that she simply has to be taken out to dinner? She just isn't up to cooking a meal for her husband who has spent the day earning a living for the family."

"Why does a middle-aged housewife look with such a suspicious eye on the young thing with a naturally shapely figure, when the wife is spending her husband's hard-earned money in reducing salons, trying her best to get back her own youthful figure?"

"How can a wife talk for an hour to any woman who calls her on the telephone, and then find so little to say when her husband is on the other end of the line?"

"Why does a woman spend the days of courtship telling a man he is right about everything and all of the years of their married life trying to prove he's wrong?"

Blender Built to Clean Itself

Did you know that your electric blender is practically self-cleaning?

Simply fill the container half way with hot soap or detergent suds and let it whirl briefly to loosen clinging food.

Then merely rinse and dry. Wipe the base with a sudsy cloth, followed by a dry cloth.

Don't Neglect Stained Linen

You can't let stains set in tablecloth and napkins, and expect them to wash out easily next time you need the linens. Keep that in mind after your holiday dinner this year.

Most food stains will come out easily, provided you tackle them immediately after the meal. Consult your stain removal chart, give individual stains the treatment recommended, and then wash the linens in hot soap or detergent suds.

This sort of care will keep them looking lovely for years to come.

Suede Processed for Easy Cleaning

Suede, once one of the most perishable of leathers, is now treated so that it can be easily dry-cleaned — even washed. The American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear advises. The new processes in finishing sueded also make them water resistant and help them to shed dust and dirt.

New Coats Copy Military Clothing

In their sportswear, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, Americans have adapted some of the coats used by the British armed forces.

One is the toggle-fastened parka coat used by both the Royal Navy and the Merchant Navy at sea in colder weather. The other is the British Army officer's "short warm." Versions of this model are rapidly gaining in popularity with suburbanites and sportsmen.

Shower Fetes Connie Redman

Bride-elect Connie Redman, whose marriage to Marvin Groat will be an event of Dec. 21, was honored Tuesday evening with a miscellaneous shower given in the Seminole avenue home of Marjorie Richards. Mrs. Charles Gavette was cohostess for the event.

Among the guests were Mrs. Ovid Redman, Mrs. Glenn Ward, Marylou Hoban, Suzanne Redman, Mrs. Don Hirsch, Mrs. J. A. Braddock, Mrs. Keith Bearden, Mrs. Bruce Reh, Sde Barks, Jani Robertoy, Mrs. E. C. Richards, Mrs. Paul Ardene and Mrs. Pete Lewis.

Miss Redman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ovid Redman of Putnam avenue, and her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Chamberlain of East Ypsilanti avenue.

Behind-Scenes Work Popularizes Fashions

LEONARD JOSEPH

MARJORIE CARNE

WILLIAM MAXFIELD

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, Pontiac Press

Ever wonder who's behind the scenes of California's wonderful fashion industry? Or who coordinates a program of fashion showings for the nation's press?

It takes people well versed in fashion and business. William Maxfield is executive director of the California Fashion Creators, an organization serving more than 375 apparel manufacturers of women, men and children's clothing.

Marjorie Carne is fashion coordinator of this organization, the second largest fashion industry in the country doing business upwards of 500 million dollars each year.

ENVIALE POSITION
Miss Carne has probably one of the most enviable positions open to fashion-minded women today. But it takes much more than interest to handle a job such as this. Knowing fashion and styling are just part of the requirements.

Miss Carne must keep abreast of fashion trends and be able to write snappy, interesting trend stories. She visits each designer and manufacturer of California apparel, writes about their collections and arranges for photographs of the clothing.

Each year Miss Carne stages the annual Cherry Blossom Festival fashion show in the nation's capital, and last year she traveled to Europe to give a fashion showing on the French Riviera.

When the fashion press arrives in Los Angeles, they are guided by Miss Carne and Magdalene Maskel who arranges newsreel and syndicate coverage of California fashions. And along with Boss Maxfield, they plan wonderful dinner parties, television shows and trips to movie stars' homes for the working press.

EVEN THE WEATHER

San Francisco Fashion Creators, also members of this unique organization, can boast of their executive director, Leonard Joseph.

Manufacturers and designers say he even controls the weather in San Francisco — and not even a Texan can boast more than Joseph when it comes to talking about the city with the Golden Gate Bridge.

These people are proud of their city, their state and, most of all, their fashions. And they want to tell the world about them.

the gift that gets her warmest welcome!

Treated Hair Cannot Grow Back

Creams can never increase the production of hair because hair gets its nourishment from the bloodstream only.

growth of hair. He replied, "Creams can never increase the production of hair because hair gets its nourishment from the bloodstream only."

Short Nighties Fine for Patient

A wonderful way to perk up the morale of a woman hospital patient is to give her a supply of shortie nighties to replace the traditional tie-in-back bed gowns made of coarse cotton.

Long-sleeved, high-necked models with dainty embroidery and lace trim can be found in a variety of wash-wear blends.

They are appropriate for the prop-up stage of bed living, and can be easily swished through warm soap or detergent suds after each wearing.

"It is possible that the massage which goes along with the cream may have some influence. Any form of outside stimulation may have this effect if the woman has a tendency in this direction."

He then gave me one example of this. A woman he knew had taken a long motorcycle trip and had acquired a whole crop of new, superfluous hair because of the stimulation of the wind on the hair.

Tomorrow: "Situation and Parents' Opinion Rule 'Babysitting Clothes'."

A pearl bib is about all a girl needs to turn a plain black wool sheath into a raging fashion success.

Use Plastic Brush With Dishwasher

To help your automatic dishwasher perform efficiently, "sweep" loose food particles from dishes and tableware — especially forks — with a well-lathered plastic dishwasher brush.

Keep the brush hygienically clean by washing it immediately in hot soap or detergent suds; rinse under hot running water, and hang to dry.
