Gemini 12 Spacemen Photograph Eclipse

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (U)—Shielding their eyes against the sun's glare, the Gemini 12 astronauts chased the moon across South America today and snapped photographs of one of nature's most spectacular sights: a solar eclipse.

For 10 minutes as their space ship raced across the skies, James A. Lovell Jr. and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. were busy cameramen, recording the steady movement of the new moon as it slipped across the face of the sun.

For seven or eight seconds the sun was in rare total eclipse and the Gemini 12 pictures may give man his most revealing look at this phenomenon and perhaps answer some scientific riddles.

Before speeding out over the Atlantic, Lovell and Aldrin pitched the spacecraft nose down in an apparently unsuccessful effort to photograph the giant 52-mile-wide shadow of the moon as it slid across Peru, Bolivia, Brazil and Argentina.

"We hit the eclipse right on the money," Lovell reported. "But we were unsuccessful in picking up the shadow."

TOO FAR AWAY

"Roger," answered mission control, "we figured it would be a long way off."

The eclipse over, Gemini 12 sped on toward another important task. At 11:29 a.m. Aldrin was to open his hatch for a 2-hour 20-minute work session, the first of three he plans outside the craft during the flight in hopes of learning man's physical limitations in weightless space.

To obtain the eclipse photos, Lovell and Aldrin had to steer Gemini 12 to a precise spot above the Pacific Ocean just off the coast of Peru.

Yanks Suffer 5-Plane Loss Over N. Viet

1 Pilot Is Rescued;
3 Copters Shot Down
in Ground Operation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (P)—Communist anti-aircraft fire shot down five U.S. planes during raids over North Viet Nam yesterday in one of the heaviest days of American losses of the war.

U. S. headquarters, reporting this today, said the pilot of one plane was rescued, but the six others aboard the other four aircraft are missing.

Headquarters also announced that three American helicopters were shot down yesterday while supporting ground operations near the Plei Djereng Special Forces camp in the highlands close to the Cambodian border.

In ground action, the Viet Cong unleashed heavy mortar attacks last night and today on three American command posts in the Tay Ninh sector, where fighting has flared for the last nine days.

In two attacks, the Communists sent 75 to 80 rounds of mortar fire into the adjoining camps of the U. S. 25th Infantry Division and the 196th Light Infantry Brigade, located four miles west of Tay Ninh City.

COMMAND POST

In another attack early today, the Viet Cong unloaded another mortar bombardment on the 1st Infantry Division command post 17 miles east of Tay Ninh near Dau Tieng.

Saigon headquarters said 70 rounds were fired, but reports from the 1st Division scene said about 200 hit the area.

U. S. headquarters said American casualties were light in all the attacks, revising an earlier announcement which said U. S. forces suffered moderate casualties in one of the shellings.

Damage to equipment, mostly helicopters, was described as light also.

WAR ZONE C

Also in the Tay Ninh fighting, ranging 60 to 65 miles northeast of Saigon in War Zone C, U. S. ground forces reported killing 14 Viet Cong yesterday and finding 14 more bodies.

This brought to 928 the number of Viet Cong officially reported killed during Operation Attleboro.

Alaska Vote in Doubt for Governor

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Gov. William A. Egan, saying the "picture has taken a dramatic turn," last night ordered the state patrol to guard all ballots from Tuesday's general election in Alaska.

"There is more than a hope that the present administration will remain in Juneau," said Egan, who last Wednesday conceded defeat to his Republican opponent, Walter J. Hickel, millionaire Anchorage hotelman.

Egan, Democratic chief executive since Alaska gained statehood in 1959, called for the police guard as unofficial returns from remote districts continued to close the gap between the two men.

With 383 of Alaska's 398 precincts reported, Hickel led Egan 30,996 to 29,771 today.

Egan said he understood there are about 3,750 absentee ballots that he counted Wednesday at the state's four district election offices in Nome, Fairbanks, Anchorage and Juneau.

The official state canvass of other ballots starts the same day.

"I am confident we will pick up several hundred votes," Egan said, "and I am hopeful that the work of the bipartisan canvassing board will put us over the top."

The governor said the police guard would be maintained until the official ballot count is completed.

He said he has invited Republicans to provide watchers at district election offices when the ballots are counted by official canvassing board members. Hickel, long active in Republican party affairs, made his first bid for office this year. He was out of the state today and could not be reached immediately for comment.

A LITTLE LEVITY—Astronauts James Lovell Jr. (left) and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. were tags as they entered Gemini 12 prior to their successful launch at Cape Kennedy yesterday afternoon. They wore the tags spelling out "The" and "End" until they entered the capsule. It was only the beginning for them, however, and today the pair are continuing complicated maneuvers.

May Drop Try to Rap U.S.

VC Gas Stymies Reds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Word that the Communists have used nonlethal gas in Viet Nam may scuttle Soviet bloc efforts in the United Nations to condemn the United States for chemical warfare.

The Reds made no mention of a report the Viet Cong had lobbed tear-gas type grenades at U. S. troops when they brought up the issue of bacteriological warfare yesterday in the General Assembly's main political committee.

Hungary's Ambassador Karoly Csotard, who introduced the resolution, charged that U. S. use of gases and chemicals in Viet Nam was "on the fringe of genocide."

William C. Foster, chief U. S. disarmament negotiator, said Red allegations that the United States was using any kind of poison gas in Viet Nam were "absolutely without foundation."

Foster did not mention the reported Viet Cong gas attack either, but he emphasized that he would deal with the Communist charges in detail later in the debate.

This roused speculation that the United States would give a full airing to the reported Communist switch to gas warfare.

A U. S. spokesman said American troops had also found a cache of gas grenades among enemy arms and ammunition spotted in abandoned tunnels Thursday. He said they were not of U. S. manufacture.

The gas in the grenades was described as nonpoisonous, but the disclosure could ruin the propaganda effect of the Soviet bloc resolution.

Csotard claimed that nonlethal gases can also take lives by increasing the incidence of disease.

He added that the chemical effects of nonlethal gases aggravate eye and stomach disorders, cause bronchitis and increase the effect of tropical diseases.

S. Viet Rangers Attack Green Beret Club

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Vietnamese rangers today assaulted a U. S. Special Forces building at Hon Quan, 70 miles north of Saigon, and two Americans were wounded, reliable sources said.

Temper flared, informants said, after trouble had been building up between allied military men in the area over several days.

These sources said the rangers used two armored personnel carriers to knock down part of a wall at the recreation club used by the members of the Green Beret team stationed at Hon Quan, then fired into the building with automatic weapons.

No other details were immediately available. The U. S. military command in Saigon said it had no information on the incident.

About 70 Americans are stationed in the Hon Quan rubber plantation country north of Saigon.

There are some 35 Special Forces men, 35 U. S. Air Force men personnel and about eight civilians.

Troops of the U. S. 1st Division normally are based in the area, but were moved a few days ago to join Operation Attleboro in Tay Ninh Province.

There have been reports of friction between some Vietnamese rangers and American troops in the region in the past few weeks.

One account said an American soldier had been killed in a club there recently, and that a Vietnamese soldier had been beaten up in retaliation.

Weather in a Rut--Rain or Snow

There's a chance of a little rain or snow flurries but no important changes in the weather over the weekend. Temperatures will continue on the chilly side.

Here is the official U. S. Weather Bureau forecast:

TODAY—Variable cloudiness with chance of brief showers or possibly snow flurries.

High 36 to 42. Partly cloudy and colder tonight. Low 22 to 30.

Southwest winds at 8 to 15 miles per hour becoming west to northwesterly 12 to 18 miles this afternoon and diminishing tonight.

SUNDAY—Partly cloudy with little temperature change. MONDAY—Partly sunny with otherwise little change.

A BRIGHTER KETTERING — Mrs. Virginia Ross of the Waterford Township Board of Education and Waterford Kettering High School's head football coach, James Larkin, inspect Kettering's new $30,000 football field lights which were used for the first time last night as the Captains defeated archival WTHS, 26-7.

AF Probes 2nd Crash of Radar Picket Plane

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (P)—A crack team of Air Force investigators began a probe today of the second crash in 16 months of a radar picket plane in the Atlantic.

The search resumed at dawn for the 19 men who were aboard the giant Constellation when it went down early yesterday 125 miles southeast of Nantucket Island.

Col. James Lyle, commander of the 551st Early Warning and Control Wing to which the plane was attached, said of the search, "I have hope. Until I receive word that there is no hope, I won't give up."

All but one of the men aboard were married and their families included 40 children.

The plane was an EC121H, one of the fleet of modified Lockheed Constellations that have been on picket patrols for over 10 years high over the Atlantic. They are part of the nation's radar defense network.

The aircraft commander was Maj. Robert A. Baird, 44, of Payson, Utah, father of eight children and a Mormon Church leader in the Cape Cod area in his off-duty hours.

The New Bedford fishing boat Stephen R. reported seeing the plane flying low in fog and rain squalls, bank steeply to the right, and plunging cartwheeling into the water with a fiery explosion at 1:30 a.m. The boat reported seeing no parachutes.

No distress call was received from the aircraft.

The Stephen R. and another New Bedford fishing boat, Terra Nova, picked up some of the debris.

Merit System's Trial Is Over

Program to Continue With Voters' Blessing

One of the two proposals approved Tuesday by Oakland County voters already was in effect on a trial basis while the other won't be activated fully until next year.

The merit system, or civil service program for county employees, was approved by nearly a 2 to 1 margin in the election.

In effect on a trial basis since last April when it was approved by the County Board of Supervisors, the merit system will be continued as a formal county personnel program that has the blessings of the voters.

Purpose of the merit system is to assure that selection, remuneration and treatment of county employees is based on merit.

Specified in the system are competitive examinations for employee prospects and an appeals procedure for county personnel who feel they were disciplined or discharged without sufficient reason.

SEEN AS ASSET

County personnel director John Wilbur views the merit system, drafted by the personnel policies committee of the County Board of Supervisors, as a definite asset in employee recruitment, due to the job protection factor.

The other county-wide election issue was for establishment of a network of some 15 to 20 county parks through a five-year tax levy of a quarter-mill.

This proposal was authorized by a narrow margin, 52,233 to 87,739.

The 10-member parks and recreation commission, established by the board of supervisors, is expected to meet before the end of this month to begin planning the park development program.

Though tax funds will not be available until next year, work can proceed immediately on a search for suitable park sites.

U.S. Eying Red China's Inner Struggle

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are closely watching the outcome of what now appears to be a bitter struggle within Communist China's hierarchy.

State Department authorities say it is evident that strong opposition has developed to the policies of Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

For months there has been an internal questioning of Mao's extensive, and there was no foreign policy, a debate on military policy and disagreements much disagreement, that the party Central Committee was unable to reach a consensus.

According to this view, Mao then created the Red Guard to stir up the so-called great cultural revolution and at the same time provide a shakedown in the leadership.

Official sources here take the view that opposition elements within the Chinese Communist party have been strong enough

PROPOSED EXPANSION OF TELEGRAPH RD. (U.S. 24) S. CITY LIMITS OF BINGHAM FARMS N. TO ORCHARD LAKE RD., OAKLAND CO.

Birmingham Area News

Maple-Telegraph Plan Protested at Hearing

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Plans to narrow the intersection at Maple and Telegraph drive were protested at a public hearing at Bloomfield Hills School Thursday night.

Several protests from persons attending a State Highway Department hearing at Bloomfield Hills School Thursday night.

FUNDS SAVED — "We have saved more than $14 million in the past few months for the State Highway Department in requiring commercial, office and multiple developments to maintain the 204-foot-width right of way," he said.

The hearing was held to explain plans to widen Telegraph from the southern limits of Bingham Farms north to Orchard Lake Road, a distance of about 8.4 miles.

Engineering plans call for increasing the width of Telegraph right-of-way from 150 to 204 feet, with the exception of the Maple intersection, which would be increased to only 160 feet.

Highway Department officials said the Maple and Long Lake intersections were scheduled for work in 1967 but that no timetable had been set for the remainder.

At the hearing, Township Supervisor Homer Case pointed out the Maple-Telegraph intersection is a dangerous one and that it should be made wider rather than narrower.

"What is money compared to saving a life," he asked?

He pointed out that the intersection is recognized as "one of the most dangerous in the state."

Case said he and other members of the community will continue to fight the proposed plan as it stands.

Supervisors Take Three Ballots to Fill Road Commission Post

It required three ballots Thursday for the Oakland County Board of Supervisors to fill a vacancy on the County Road Commission sought by three candidates.

Elected to the six-year term was Paul McGovern, 43, of 18360 Chelton, Beverly Hills. The commissioner post is an $11,000-a-year job.

He will succeed the present commissioner, chairman, Robert O. Fell, who sought reappointment but lost to McGovern in a 46 to 24 third-ballot tally.

McGovern received 37 votes to 34 for Fell on the first ballot. County Corporation Counsel Robert P. Allen ruled that a majority vote of 34 from the 68-member board of supervisors was needed for a decision even though a number of supervisors were absent.

Some supervisors called for adjournment after the first ballot. This would have required the supervisors to schedule a special December meeting.

CONTINUATION — Joseph Forbes, supervisor from Oak Park and the man who nominated McGovern from the floor, then pleaded for a continuation of the vote.

The vote was extended to 42 to 26 on the second ballot and then went to 46 to 24 on the third.

Besides the two candidates trying in the balloting, Lloyd L. Anderson also filed an application for the vacancy.

He was not nominated from the floor, however, and therefore was not included in the balloting.

POST REDUCTION — Prior to balloting, a resolution was introduced by Homer Case, supervisor from Bloomfield Township, calling for reduction of the position to part time at the same $3,500 remuneration specified for the part-time County Board of Auditors position.

A vote on the proposed

LBJ Settles Down for Quiet Weekend

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson promised to have a quiet weekend at his Texas ranch after a flurry of conferences with key advisers on topics ranging from the new budget and his State of the Union message to reports on possible peace moves.

His latest visitor Friday was arriving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, back from an 11-day tour with hopes "something may come" of forthcoming British-Soviet talks on Viet Nam.

Harriman termed a scheduled Nov. 21-23 meeting of British Foreign Secretary George Brown and Soviet leaders "the most promising" of initiatives many nations are undertaking in an effort to launch peace moves.

The British and Russians are co-chairmen of the 1954 Geneva

Robber Indicted in 2nd Holdup

A Pontiac man, now serving a 15-year prison term for a robbery in Bloomfield Township, was one of two men indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury for a holdup in Warren, Ohio.

Charged by a grand jury in Cleveland with the $88,621 robbery of the Union Savings Trust Co. were Raulo Nicholson, 32, formerly of 175 Victory, and Ernest Holt, 33, of Cleveland.

Nicholson is in the federal penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind., on a conviction of robbing the Pontiac State Bank branch at 970 W. Long Lake on Dec. 17, 1965.

He and Holt are accused of robbing the Warren savings company on Sept. 2, 1965.

Nicholson was captured within five minutes after the Pontiac State Bank robbery. Police found $21,256 taken in the robbery in his car.

Doctors at Meadville City Hospital in Pennsylvania said today Mrs. Kistler was coming out of the shock of the news.

Residents Back Gas Threat Ends in Homer

HOMER (AP) — The residents of this little community were back in their homes today, assured by experts that the threat of deadly phosgene gas had ended.

But at least a few still glanced nervously at two black railroad tank cars sticking out of the charred, block-long heap of what used to be part of a New York Central train.

A train wreck Friday morning, which caused a spectacular explosion and fire and threatened to convert two carloads of vinyl chloride into nauseating and potentially fatal phosgene brought evacuation of most of Homer's 1,600 residents. No injuries were reported.

City Woman Is Swindled Out of $500

A 54-year-old Pontiac woman told city police yesterday she was swindled out of $500 which she gave to two other women to invest for her.

Myrtle Gordon of 510 Arthur said she was paying a bill in a store when she became engaged in conversation with a woman who told her she had $2,800 in her purse.

Another woman offered to invest the $2,800. The Gordon woman was told she too could invest her money and get much more in return. She agreed.

The women then took a taxicab to the victim's house where she got $375 and a $125 check.

After returning to the bank building, the victim gave the money and check to the pair to invest for her and took a taxicab home.

Plastic Eyed for Pipes

The Waterford Township Board Monday night will consider an amendment to the township water supply system ordinance which would allow the use of a money-saving polyethylene plastic tubing for connections from water mains to households.

The amendment was previously introduced by the board at its Sept. 26 meeting.

Use of the plastic tubing in communities was okayed by the state health department and state plumbing board last June.

Township Utilities Manager Kenneth Squiers said plastic tubing is about one-third less expensive than copper piping, which often is difficult to obtain.

Squiers estimates the township will use 15,000 to 20,000 feet of plastic tubing next year.

In other business Monday, the board will discuss suggested traffic regulations for Oakland Community College's Highland Lakes Campus district.

College officials and nearby residents reportedly are anxious to make driving safer in the immediate area.

Road Mishaps in City Fewer Last Month

Traffic accidents in Pontiac showed a decline last month compared to September, according to Pontiac Police Department figures.

A total of 110 mishaps was reported for October, nine less than the September count of 119.

The city's first traffic fatality since July, however, boosted the death toll for 1966 to nine. With no deaths recorded yet this month, the 1966 count is six short of the 15 reported last year.

The number of injuries in October dropped along with the accident figure. A total of 187 persons were injured last month as against 203 in October 1965.

A breakdown of the injury figures showed that 80, or about 42 per cent of the total 187 were injured by drivers, passengers and pedestrians between 15 and 24 years old.

The worst accident corner in the city for October was the intersection of East Boulevard and Auburn Avenue.

Seven mishaps occurred there, compared to six at the corner of Joslyn Avenue and Montclair Street.

German Rivals Seek Backing

BONN, Germany (AP) — Two main rivals in the race for West German chancellor — Christian Democrat Kurt Georg Kiesinger and Socialist Willy Brandt — plunged into a weekend of intensive political maneuvering last week. But there were indications the government crisis would last another 10 days or longer.

Leaders of the Free Democrats, a small party that has swung either the Christian Democrats or the Socialists into majority control of Parliament, left town to prepare for elections in the state of Bavaria. The result there could vitally affect their bargaining position.

Former City Man Aide to Romney

Former Pontiac resident Richard E. Whitmer, 26, has been transferred from the State Department of Commerce to Gov. William G. Milliken's staff.

Whitmer, son of Pontiac Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, is a 1958 graduate of Pontiac High School and holds a bachelor's degree from Western Michigan University.

He had served as an executive, assistant to State Commerce Director Robert J. McIntosh since January, shortly after earning his law degree from the University of Michigan.

Proposals Get Farm Unit OK

FAST LANSING (AP)—Trade with Communist bloc nations, food for the world's hungry, more migrant labor, and keeping the U.S. Supreme Court out of the legislative areas were among resolutions approved—some with reservations—by the Michigan Farm Bureau Friday.

At its annual convention, the 55,000-member organization passed state resolutions calling for amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act — or passage of a new one — that would make such insurance practical for farmers; for property tax exemptions on seasonal labor housing that is used rent-free and which serves no other purpose; and commending the Legislature for postponing the effect of the state minimum wage law.

The Legislature delayed its effect on piecework harvest laborers until it could determine the relationship between piecework pay scales and the hourly minimum required in the law.

National-issue resolutions will be passed on to the national Farm Bureau for action at its convention in Las Vegas next month.

Women Find Selves in New Center

By JEANNE NELSON

Oakland University's Continuum Center for Women, now a year old, is a refreshing change in a world filled with fantastical emphasis on youthfulness.

Streamlined, both functionally and structurally, it can take its place with justifiable pride in the ranks of the few other such programs in the nation.

The element that seems to set it apart is its flexibility. This is confirmed by its success in combining the enthusiasm of youth and the disenchantment of age and still managing to come up with some rather exciting answers to maturity.

If fact and truth about maturity would be yours, you will find realistic answers in the Center's testing and counseling program, "Investigation Into Identity."

But there are a few questions you should ask yourself before your enthusiasm for this quest wanes.

CAN YOU CHANGE?

Are you, for instance, ready to let loose of familiar and comfortable fantasies about yourself and others? Are you willing to chip away at an elaborate facade that has taken years to build?

Will you be able to face the death of certain ideologies carried over from childhood? In fact, can you bear the knowledge of discovering "YOU?"

The program, now in its second year, consists of a battery of tests in the areas of academics, personality, values, aptitudes, and interests, both academically and vocationally.

The tests are taken twice weekly in four consecutive weeks. Following this, there is an on campus group discussion period lasting two hours.

Next comes consultation with a psychologist who explains the meaning of the test evaluations individually and makes recommendations.

From these, the advisers in employment, volunteering and education are able to assist in a realistic and practical manner.

For the center which helps women discover their talents, interests and aptitudes completes the cycle with real solutions.

Naturally, there are some women who come with unrealistic notions about themselves and their abilities. But even this kind of disappointment is tempered by the proof that there are certain areas in which they can qualify, even excel.

Most of the women entering the program approach it with at least some degree of anxiety. The thing they must remember here is that they are "not on trial."

The center, a bustling area most of the time, has somehow managed to keep the feeling of informality always present. Perhaps the always filled coffee pot has something to do with it or the willingness of the staff to talk, advise and just listen, has much to do with it.

Will you look at that! Another success story unfolds at the Continuum Center for Women, Oakland University. Looking mighty pleased with the follow up report on one registrant's record are

Washington Honeymoon Follows Rite

Vows were taken by Loretta Yvonne Bonneau and Airman Basic Robert James Hempton, today in St. Benedict's Catholic Church. Reception followed in Robunda Country Inn.

The Raymond J. Bonneau, Cass-Elizabeth Lake Road and the Doyle O. Hempton, Allen Lake Drive, White Lake Township, are parents of the couple.

Imported candlelight English lace over satin fashioned an Empire gown and cathedral train for the bride who also chose a bouffant veil was of silk illusion.

Her cascade bouquet held Phalaenopsis orchids and Stephanotis.

With Sherry Leach, maid of honor, were bridesmaids Margaret Longe, Janice Abel and Helen Sloat. Mary Bonneau attended her cousin as junior maid and Debbie Liske was flower girl.

Attending their brother were Bruce A. Hempton, best man, and Laurence Hempton who seated guests along with Michael Dunkel and Dale Alsop. Randy Bonneau was junior usher.

The newlyweds' eastern honeymoon will include a visit to Washington.

Men's Night is Planned for Tuesday

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

The yearly men's night planned by the University of Michigan Alumnae in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area takes place on Tuesday, at 6:30 p.m. at the Village Woman's Club. Chairman of the event is Mrs. G. T. Christiansen assisted by Mrs. L. E. Quinn and Mrs. G. H. Pitts who will accept reservations.

There will be an interesting program by Richard L. Cutler, U. of M. vice president, who will be introduced by William H. Baldwin. Mr. Cutler who is in charge of student affairs was formerly professor of physiology at the University of California.

Among those who have made reservations are: Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Stetson, the James Fulbrights, the Robert Wyatts, the John Thornhills, the John Coles and Dr. and Mrs. Dwight Ensign.

A tremendous crowd turned out Thursday evening to welcome back the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and its conductor Slatan Erhling after several weeks of guest appearances in the east.

Appearing with the orchestra was the eminent Russian pianist Emil Gilels. Among local symphony supporters present were the LeRoy W. Dahlbergs, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Lewis, the Martin Butzels, the Edwin Andersons, and Mrs. Harold Warman.

In a group were Mesdames Frederick Erb, William L. Kemp, Walter Gehrike, and Caron E. Dalton. Mrs. Dalton had just returned from South Bend, Ind., where she visited the Richard Robertsons.

Sheila Bird Wears Velvet Bridal Gown

Reception in Orchard Lake Country Club followed the marriage of Sheila Hamilton Bird to Norman Oscar Norgren of Shepherd, today in the Birmingham Unitarian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Reilly Bird of Snowshoe Circle and the Oscar W. Norgrens of Roscommon are parents of the newlyweds.

White chiffon velvet fashioned the bride's floor-length gown with velvet roses accenting the oval neckline. Velvet petals formed a cap for her elbow-length illusion veil.

For the morning rite, she carried miniature white Fuji chrysanthemums encircling a white orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Clifton Patton with Sara Rix and the bridegroom's sister Jane, as bridesmaids.

On the esquire side were Terry Patterson, best man, and the ushers Alger Butts and the bride's brother Michael of Washington, D.C.

Party Chairman Is Mrs. Almas

Mrs. Dorothy Almas was named chairman for the Christmas party of the 'City of Pontiac' Auxiliary to Post 1370, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Friday in the V.F.W. Hall.

Boxes will be mailed to members' sons and daughters in the Armed Forces. Mrs. Joseph Pedrego Jr. is chairman of this project.

Test Score on Hostess Know-How

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Many of us are not sure just exactly what is the right thing to do when we are entertaining. Test your score as a charming hostess by giving yourself five points for each question to which you answer "yes."

Sixty to 75 rates you as an expert entertainer; 40 to 45 as average, and if you score below 40, run right to the nearest bookstore for a copy of "Etiquette."

When you have a dinner party, do you try to invite couples who are not all in the same "group"?

Do you urge your guests to start eating before everyone is served?

Do you and your husband go to the door to greet every guest?

Do you offer caffeine-free coffee as well as regular coffee after dinner?

When you hire a waitress for the evening, do you insist that she serve the lady guest of honor first?

Do you refuse to allow your guests to wash the dishes?

When you invite friends by telephone, do you tell them what sort of an occasion it will be so that they will know how formally to dress?

If you have no help, do you plan your menu so that most of the meal can be prepared in advance?

When giving a buffet dinner, do you have a seat available for every guest?

Whether you smoke or not, do you have plenty of ash trays and cigarettes in evidence?

Do you make sure that none of your guests is ever left without someone to talk to?

Do you urge your guests to stay a little longer when they mention that it's getting late?

Do you have plenty of guest towels, fresh soap, and tissues in the bathroom that the guests will use?

Do you empty ash trays and remove used glasses from the living room (or see that a maid does it) while your guests are dining?

How and when to introduce people puzzles many. The booklet "Introductions" gives helpful information on see that a maid does it) while your guests are dining?

Others Profit by Your Knack of Sympathetic Listening

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is people who tell me their troubles and ask for advice. Everyone I know has come to me of some sort of money troubles, neighborhood troubles, children troubles, husband, sex, household, and every other kind of trouble, until I've had it to the teeth.

These people are my friends and relatives, so I can't very well avoid them or they'd be hurt. I am glad if I can help, but it's gotten to the point where my husband comes home, takes one look at me and says, "Well, what happened now — and to whom?"

I have my problems, too, but I don't burden anyone else with them. Well, I guess it's gone full-circle and now I'm telling YOU my troubles. What is your advice?

TIRE D OF TROUBLES

DEAR TIRE D: Look at it this way, most people who tell their troubles to others don't want advice—they just want someone to listen to them.

A sympathetic ear provides therapy for the troubled one, so consider yourself blessed to be able to perform that useful service.

DEAR ABBY: I told this lady that I wasn't the marrying kind on our first date, but she said she didn't have anything going for her at the moment and was only out for a good time, so I could hardly run her off.

Well, one thing led to another and now I can't get rid of her. She hangs around where I work, bringing me hot lunches every day. And when the quitting-time whistle blows, there she is out in front with her car all shined up, waiting to give me a lift home.

But she doesn't take me to MY home, she takes me to HER'S, where she has supper all cooked and waiting. Then she lets me relax while she just plays the guitar and sings love songs in my ear. Should I weaken?

OVER FORTY

DEAR OVER: How old is the car?

DEAR ABBY: Every once in a while you permit a reader to air his pet peeve in your column. May I?

Nothing makes me angrier than to pay good money for a sitter to care for our children, so I can go out without them, only to find that we are pestered for a whole evening by the children of parents who are too tight to hire a sitter. Thank you.

Their Donation Is Commended

A letter thanking the Rho Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority was read during the Thursday evening meeting of the group. In the letter, Mrs. Dorothy Wood, directors of Community Relations and Volunteer Services thanked the chapter for furnishing a room at Pontiac General Hospital.

A discussion of the Alpha Teacher Education Program was led by Mrs. E. Cleo Wiley and Mrs. Melvin Boersma.

Nicki Ross models "Squaws," a lime crepe beret with Hiawatha plait in turquoise pom-poms during London's Mayfair milliner Edward Mann's spring of 1967 collection showing. Mann called his collection "Oddballs."

Secretaries are Advised

The Pontioack Chapter of the National Secretaries Association, International gathered at Sylvan Glen in Troy Wednesday. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Garland Woody and Mrs. Laverne Adair.

A talk was given by Wayne Yeager on insurance and the types available today. A discussion period followed in which the women learned what type insurance suits their careers the best.

The chapter which will be the Host Chapter for the GIMAC CFS Awards dinner at the Statler Hotel in Detroit made plans for the event.

Rose Mary King was the guest of the evening.

Hats Defy Explanation

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (H) — Are Princess Margaret's royal ears cold?

If they aren't, why has she been wearing a series of kooky, head-hugging hats?

With no explanations — royalty doesn't explain — she has made a series of public appearances in the oddest looking hats of her hat-wearing career.

They had one thing in common — they sheltered her ears. Early in October, she attended a London art exhibition in a Spanish style hat that covered the ears.

A week later, she appeared in Poole, County Dorset, in a black and white head-hugger; starlets could not see so much as a tip of the royal ear.

WITH EAR MUFFS

Nov. 1, she generated comment by fashion writers in London when she appeared in public with a fur-trimmed hat that supported ear muffs and tied with ribbons under her pretty chin.

Last Tuesday, on her way to bleak Scotland, she wore the strangest looking lid yet — a hat that resembled a football players helmet studded with nails.

One fashion writer commented: "The nailheads give the effect of the whole thing having been hammered together and result in the sort of hard and uncompromising line most women would probably not favor."

It could be the weather. It's fairly mippy, but not so nippy that thousands of other English women have clapped on earmuffs.

ODDBALL OF YEAR?

In any case, hatmaker Edward Mann has named Princess Margaret the winner of the title "Best hatted Oddball for 1966." He said he took this action because of the princess' original personality and sense of humor toward fashion.

Of late, Princess Margaret of Britain has been keeping her ears tightly under wraps in a series of the oddest-looking hats of her hat-wearing career. Among them are a yellow and black pixie-style hat worn at London Airport last month, left; a white leather helmet with gold studs center worn in Edinburgh, Scotland this week and a white feathered creation worn last July at St. James' Palace.
