Speeches Over, It's Up to Local Voters Now

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Candidates have spoken and now it's the voters turn to have their say as they prepare to turn out in Oakland and 82 other counties for tomorrow's statewide election.

Polls at Oakland County's 295 precincts will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Those still in line at closing time are assured a vote.

County voters will select a representative to Congress, a state senator, six state representatives, and a prosecutor, sheriff, clerk-register of deeds, treasurer, drain commissioner, and surveyor.

In addition, Oakland voters will join with the rest of the state to select a governor, lieutenant governor, four members of the State Administrative Board, and a U. S. senator for six years.

Whether Michigan's Constitution should be revised by calling a convention, a question which faces Michigan voters automatically every 16 years, will be before them again tomorrow.

Some 15 communities in Oakland County will have special issues on their ballots.

Sunny skies and temperatures which might reach as high as 62 are forecast.

If this holds true, the number of voters in the county might reach 160,000, according to Mrs. Florence J. Allen, county clerk. She said latest registration figures from townships and cities show some 296,000 persons eligible to cast their ballot tomorrow.

Pontiac City Clerk Ada R. Evans said there are 38,619 registered voters in the city.

Two years ago, the ranks of voters were swelled by the customary larger turnout for presidential elections, and 253,432 county voters went to the polls. In the last off-year election, that in 1954, total voters numbered 152,262.

Mrs. Allen urged all voters who could possibly vote early in the day to do so, so as to allow more room at the polls in the evening for all-day workers.

As the 30 county candidates made their last-minute plugs for votes, both the Republican and Democratic county chairmen predicted victories for their parties.

"We expect to have victory without any question from the Congressional candidate on down to surveyor," declared Arthur G. Elliott Jr., GOP chairman from Pleasant Ridge.

Elliott predicted the Republican victory margin this year to surpass that of 1956, and said that he and other party workers had found that many so-called independent voters "were very much disenchanted with the whole Democratic administration" in the state.

United Fund Totals $252,354 Passing Midpoint in Drive

The Pontiac Area United Fund today reported the campaign has collected $252,354 or 50.4 per cent of its goal, as it moves past the halfway point in time.

This year's Tenth Anniversary Appeal kicked off on the evening of Oct. 20, and is scheduled to run until Nov. 11.

Philip J. Monaghan, campaign chairman, today urged the more than 4,500 United Fund solicitors to re-check their lists and see that every call is made.

"We need every contribution we can get and it's going to take an all-out effort to obtain them," Monaghan said.

"With fewer potential contributors, the surest way to insure the success of the drive is to have each wage earner adopt the giving yardstick as a pledge guide."

The yardstick refers to the suggested giving scales developed by the UF after an intensive study of actual giving records during the past nine years.

The scales relate an individual's pledge to his income. For instance, it's suggested that a man earning $215 each month pledge 60 cents a month. Those with annual incomes of $20,000 are asked to contribute $20.76 per month.

The lion's share of the $252,354 thus far audited at campaign headquarters was represented by the $115,000 General Motors firm gift. This gift covers Pontiac Motor Division, GMC Truck & Coach Division and the Fisher Body Division; however, it does not include employe contributions from the three plants.

The giant Industrial Division, which traditionally has represented about 60 per cent of the total amount raised by the annual Fund drives, is again leading the Commercial and Women's Divisions in total collections, with $165,000 already recorded. The GM firm gift, of course, is included in this total.

Semon E. Knudsen, Industrial Division chairman, attributed the fine early showing of his division to the civic-minded efforts of both management and labor united in the common cause of giving once for all.

The Commercial Division under the dual chairmanship of Judge Clark J. Adams and Berkley Voss has reached $69,865.45 or 39 per cent of its $179,371 quota.

Flint Man Dies in Dixie Crash

Rams Car Into Truck in Groveland Township; Area Woman Killed

Despite the gallant rescue attempt of a passing motorist, a Flint man died this morning when his auto rammed the rear of a semi-trailer truck and burst into flames on U.S. 10, according to Flint State Police.

William Lyle Howe, 51, of 2213 Detroit St., was alone in his auto, going north on U.S. 10 near Oakhill Rd., Groveland Township, shortly before 1 a.m. when he struck the rear of a truck.

Howe's car burst into flames, said police, but a passing motorist, Burlin Schneck, of Flint, leaped from his car and pulled Howe from the front seat of his blazing auto.

The truck driver, Robert Corchik, 36, of Portage, Pa., was uninjured.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Dees, 35, of 20793 Glendoldge St., Royal Oak Township, died at William Beaumont Hospital Friday night after the car she was riding in collided with another, according to township police.

The driver of the car, Mrs. Gladys Adams, 25, of 20741 Glenlodge, and Mrs. Dees were both thrown from the auto by the impact, police said. Mrs. Adams was treated for minor injuries and released, it was reported.

The driver of the other car, James Huby Jr., 29, of Detroit, was uninjured. Police said the Adams car apparently ran a stop sign at Cloverdale and Mendota streets. A statement will be taken from both drivers at the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office today.

Election Troubles Fall on Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The Cuban government today planned to demand special protection for Cuban airliners and passengers in the United States as the result of rebel seizure of a plane which crashed and killed 17 persons.

The three survivors said four Cuban rebels commandeered the big Viscount turboprop airliner Saturday night on a flight from Miami to Varadero Beach, 87 miles east of Havana.

The wreckage was spotted Sunday in shallow waters of the Bay of Nipe near Preston, in rebel-infested Oriente Province.

The Cubana Airline said Fidel Castro rebels seized the plane to make headlines for their movement on the eve of the Cuban national election today but they caused it to crash when they forced the pilot to attempt a landing in darkness on an airstrip that was too small.

Those killed were the four gunmen, the four Cuban crew members, three other Cubans and six naturalized Americans born in Cuba.

The three survivors, who were injured, included another naturalized American and two Cubans.

The plane was the second seized in flight since Oct. 21. On that date, an authoritative source said, two rebels among the passengers seized a DC3 with 12 other persons aboard on a domestic flight from Cayo Mambi to Mao Bay.

A spokesman for the Cuban Foreign Ministry said as a result of the capture of the four-engine Viscount Saturday, the Cuban government "will ask of the United States the due protection in American airports of all Cuban airplanes, their crews and passengers."

He did not say what his government expects the U.S. government to do. But he claimed that on "several occasions" Cuban planes had been attacked at the Miami airport.

It was understood that a note asking the protection would be handed U.S. Ambassador Earl Smith today.

A spokesman for the rebels denied in Washington that the Fidel Castro movement had anything to do with the crash. He said individuals acting on their own were responsible.

But the three survivors—Osiris Martinez, a naturalized American who is a newsprint plant engineer, a Cuban woman and a 14-year-old Cuban boy—gave airline and government investigators this account:

CUBA CHOOSES TODAY — As the Cuban political campaign reached its climax with the election today, this Havana lad found he had to share his favorite tree with posters of two of the leading presidential candidates and several aspirants for representatives posts in the Havana province. Havana was plastered with similar posters.

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Cubans risked rebel threats of being shot as they voted today for a new president and congress.

Voting was light in the first few hours after the polls opened at 8 a.m. but voting in Cuban elections usually does not really get underway until afternoon.

A cry of fraud came from rebel leader Fidel Castro even before the first ballot was cast. The rebels, who have warned Cubans to boycott the election at the risk of being slain, charged in a broadcast the results have already been prepared in army barracks.

President Fulgencio Batista has always had the backing of the Cuban Army.

The voting took place under the shadow of guns. The nation's 34,000-strong armed forces were mobilized, held in barracks but ready to move quickly in the event of a rebel uprising.

Clusters of police armed with automatic pistols, rifles and truncheons guarded the nation's 8,521 precincts. Police roped off streets around polling stations to prevent any hit-and-run attacks by rebels in fast cars.

No reports of disorder in Havana were heard in the early hours.

In the easternmost Oriente, the center of the revolution, rebels intensified shooting attacks on highway and rail transport. There were some clashes with government troops.

Castro's rebels threatened to shoot any of the 10,000 candidates on sight and warned all who voted that they also risked their lives. They have killed five candidates, including four running for Congress.

They have attacked polling places, destroyed registrations and warned that the election would be bloody in all six provinces.

The government in turn warned that voting is obligatory for all men and women over 21.

Governor Seen as Presidential Prospect in '60

From Our Wire Services

The eyes of the nation will be on Michigan tomorrow when an expected 2,250,000 voters decide whether to grant an unprecedented sixth term to Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

At stake will be the governorship, a U.S. Senate seat, 18 congressional posts, make up of the 144-member legislature, five state administrative board jobs, a constitutional convention proposal and hundreds of local offices and issues.

Nationally, Michigan shares top billing with California, New York and a handful of other states where presidential possibilities and key issues have been spotlighted.

Williams, 47, needs an impressive victory over hard-campaigning Paul D. Bagwell, 45, Michigan State University professor-administrator, to boost his chances for a crack at the presidency in 1960.

Another widely significant race is the second term bid of senior Sen. Charles E. Potter, 42, the last Republican to hold a major state office in Michigan. He is challenged by Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, 45.

FEUDING DIES DOWN

Michigan's political hostilities died down today as rival Democrats and Republicans shifted their emphasis to pleas for a big turnout in tomorrow's general election.

Both sides were uneasy at prospects that close to 1,500,000 of the state's nearly 3,600,000 qualified voters will not bother to go to the polls despite the

Special Issues on Ballot

By PETE LOCHBILER

Special issues face Pontiac and Waterford Township voters at the polls tomorrow.

In Pontiac, property owners and their spouses will vote on the proposed $3,300,000 bond issue to expand sewage treatment facilities. A three-fifths majority is necessary for passage.

In Waterford, all voters will be eligible to ballot on a proposal to add two trustees to the township board. A simple majority will carry the issue.

Voters in both communities are faced with the constitutional convention question. To be balloted on throughout the state, the proposed convention must win a majority of all votes cast in order to take place.

The general obligation bond issue would raise funds to build a new Pontiac treatment plant on the Opdyke-Auburn road site, expand the present plant at Mt. Clemens St. and Featherstone Rd., and tie the two together.

Pontiac property owners turned down a bond issue for the same purpose in May last year.

REGISTER AT POLLS

Property owners and their spouses must register as such when they arrive at the polls, in order to qualify as electors on the issue. Only those who are registered will receive the special ballots.

The Waterford issue comes about as a result of a new law passed by the Legislature this year. It requires a township of 5,000 or more in population to place the question on the ballot this election.

At present, the township board is comprised of two trustees, the supervisor, clerk and treasurer. The latter three positions are full time, but trustees serve only part-time.

A majority of the total vote cast tomorrow is necessary in order for the constitutional convention to take place. Voters can ballot for the convention or against it, but if they ignore the issue they are, in effect, voting against it.

Alaska Could Be New Barometer for Elections

By The Associated Press

Starting in 1960, Alaska could replace Maine as the barometer state by having its congressional-governor elections earlier than any other state. Maine used to vote two months ahead of the rest of the nation, but that practice ended last Sept. 8. Hereafter, Maine voters will ballot in November like the rest of the nation.

Alaska's constitution provides for biennial elections on the second Tuesday of October in even-numbered years starting with 1960. But the Legislature is empowered to change that provision. This year's Alaska elections will be held Nov. 25.

Ford Economist Predicts Peak Year

DETROIT (AP) — A Ford Motor Co. economist today forecast an all-time high in production for the United States in 1959.

Starkl W. Edmunds, manager of Ford's Economic Studies Department, made the prediction in a panel discussion at the University of Michigan's conference on the economic outlook.

He said the principal forces in the new expansion will be an end to inventory liquidation, rising consumer and government expenditures and an improvement in residential construction.

Passenger car sales may total as much as two billion dollars in retail value in 1959, he said.

Fair, Warmer Here Tonight, Tomorrow

Fair and warmer is the weatherman's welcome forecast for Pontiac and vicinity tonight and tomorrow.

The low tonight will be 36 degrees. Tomorrow's high will be near 60 with light variable winds expected.

In an extended weather outlook the U.S. Weather Bureau has predicted that temperatures in this area will average about five degrees above the normal 52 high and normal 36 low for the next five days. Minor day-to-day changes in temperature are expected through Saturday with little or no precipitation.

The lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 34. At 2 p.m. the mercury registered 56.

Six Major Airlines Sign Pact Sharing Strike Woes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Major U.S. airlines have signed a pact to share the financial burden of a strike affecting any of them.

One of the lines, Capital, has been hit by a 19-day strike of mechanics.

Another, Eastern, faces a threat by its mechanics to strike at midnight.

Other lines signing the pact were American, Trans World, United and Pan American. They invited additional airlines to join.

It will be filed today with the Civil Aeronautics Board. Airline officials said board approval was not required.

The agreement calls for giving a strike-idled airline the extra net passenger and freight revenue realized by those carriers still operating.

Eastern is locked in a contract dispute with the International Assn. of Machinists. The issues are the same as those in the strike at Capital.

CAPITAL MAY SETTLE

Four other airlines — National, Northeast, Northwest and TWA—have similar disputes but they face no immediate strike threats.

The Capital strike seemed on the way to settlement. The machinists union agreed to put the company's latest offer to a vote of the strikers.

The work stoppage will continue pending the outcome of the vote Thursday or Friday.

Capital's offer calls for a 30-cent hourly pay boost now and an 8-cent increase next Oct. 1. Capital's top-rated mechanics now average $2.54 an hour.

Half of the 30-cent raise would be retroactive. Capital's proposal also includes improved seniority, sick leave and holiday pay benefits, and new severance pay allowances.

The announced purpose of the mutual aid pact is "to counteract the effects of excessive labor demands which result in shutting down a vital segment of the nation's transportation system."

Birmingham Youth, 17, Has Brain Operation After Scrimmage

Harry Klimushyn Jr., 17, president of Birmingham High School's senior class, underwent brain surgery last night at Grace Hospital in Detroit to remove a blood clot caused by an injury received during a sandlot football game yesterday afternoon.

Doctors at the hospital termed the operation a success. The youth was still on the critical list this morning, however.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klimushyn of 31555 Eastlady Dr., Beverly Hills.

Young Klimushyn, who is 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs 135 pounds, was hurt when he tried to tackle a youth weighing about 200 pounds. He was playing with some friends at Detroit's Pershing High School.

The boy's father said his son had been barred from his high school's varsity football team because of his small size.

"He always had plenty of speed and heart, but no weight," the father said. "He had made four touchdowns already when he tried to tackle this 200-pounder."

The youths were not wearing protective football equipment during the game.

Michigan Election Attracts Interest Across Nation

importance of impending ballot decisions.

Robert M. Montgomery, state elections director, estimated that 2,250,000 ballots will be cast. Some observers fear his forecast was a little high.

The local issues, along with a prediction of good weather, fanned hopes that activity at the polls will be brisker than generally expected.

In 1956, a presidential year, 3,080,000 votes were cast. The 1954 total fell just short of 2,200,000.

All 18 incumbent congressmen — 12 Republicans and 6 Democrats — are up for re-election, with some Republicans locked in tight races. All 144 legislative seats will be filled again. Democrats have made it a prime campaign objective to break a 20-year hold by Republicans on the state House of Representatives.

Tonight, Bagwell was booked for a half-hour closing campaign statement on a statewide television network, coupled with a go-to-the-polls plea.

Williams, Hart and other Democratic statewide candidates plan to share 15 minutes of statewide television time in a combined campaign summary and go-to-the-polls appeal.

Following his custom of former years, Williams, shooting for a history-making sixth term, said he would keep on handshaking at factory gates in the Detroit area even after the polls open Tuesday morning.

Democrats now occupy all six state administrative board offices to be filled tomorrow, and in 1956 Auditor General Frank S. Szymanski, bringing up the rear on the Democratic state ticket, won by 261,000 fewer votes than Williams.

Thus, if Republicans fail to knock off Williams but substantially cut down his margin of 293,000 two years ago, they well might upset one or more Democratic incumbents.

Republicans opposing them are John V. Clements, L'anse insurance man, and Jason L. Honigman, Detroit lawyer.

Much of the election interest centers on a man who is not even on the ballot — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers and the personification of labor influence in Michigan politics. He is a bogeyman flashed by both Bagwell and Potter.

Williams' political partnership with Reuther and big labor is blamed for the "unhealthy business climate" that has been the main issue raised by Bagwell. Williams blames the "Republican recession" for Michigan's woes.

Potter's contention that Hart is the captive candidate of "Reutherism" has been countered by attacks on Potter's record by Hart, who he claims is bossed by big business.

GOP National Chief Meade Alcorn says "The Michigan elections will determine whether Walter Reuther's influence in state and national politics shall be strengthened, held in check or weakened." Paul M. Butler says Michigan has borne "the brunt of this second Eisenhower-Nixon recession in four years."

Republicans say it is significant that Williams, because of charges his administration is anti-business and union-influenced, has had to wage a defensive campaign for the first time since elected.

But the eve of the election finds Democrats continuing to predict a victory for their entire state ticket despite a surge of Republican confidence late in the campaign.

Democratic party leaders predict Williams will win by at least the 290,000 plurality he had in 1956. Some of them admit privately that the Williams' margin would have to be about 200,000 to bring victory for the entire ticket, including Hart.

Williams has spent much of his time campaigning for election of a Democratic House in the legislature. Democrats would have to pick up seven seats to do it.

Republicans, who have controlled the legislature, have a 61-49 edge in the House and safe 23-11 margin in the Senate.

All voters turning out tomorrow will have a hand in deciding whether a convention will be called to revise Michigan's 50-year-old constitution.

The proposal must receive a majority of the highest number of votes cast tomorrow—not just a majority of those voting on the proposal itself.

Liquor-by-the-glass proposals face voters in East Lansing, Plymouth, De Witt and other communities.

other passengers, just before it took off at 5 p.m. Saturday for the 45-minute flight to the north coastal resort of Varadero Beach.

Just before reaching the resort, the four men drew guns, invaded Capt. Ruskin Medano's cabin and ordered him to fly 400 miles farther to the airstrip near the United Fruit Co. port at Preston.

The men threw off outer clothing revealing their rebel uniforms and told the captain, "This will be in all the newspapers of the world, for no one has ever tried to kidnap an airplane of such size and importance."

When the pilot argued that the airstrip was too small, the gunmen prodded him with their guns and said, "You will land."

In the darkness, however, Medano missed the airstrip by about two miles and plunged into the shallow bay.

Nearby residents saved the survivors, took them to Preston Hospital and searched for bodies. The U. S. Embassy flew an embassy representative to the scene to investigate.

The survivor Martinez had gone to Miami to bring back his wife and three children. They died in the crash.

Presley, a jeep driver, rented the entire third floor of a hotel for the hoedown in the Bad Nauheim Hotel. He leaves on maneuvers today.

Absent from the party was the singer's 16-year-old German girlfriend, Margit Buergin, who looks like a German junior edition of France's Brigitte Bardot.

Presley left off playing and singing long enough to tell reporters he liked Margit "very much" and that she likes him — a statement seconded by the blonde fraulein in an interview at nearby Frankfurt.

She said Elvis calls her "little puppy."

Presley was reluctant to break off the party.

It was not difficult to locate the hotel. The sounds of Elvis' rock 'n' roll singing and guitar playing wafted down to the sidewalk where a group of Germans stood and stared upward.

By the sound of things, the hotel was really jumping. From the reception desk the rock 'n' roll rhythms were louder. And on the third floor landing the clink of glasses could be heard distinctly.

"No interviews today," he said. But after a while Elvis came to investigate and confessed he liked his steady fraulein friend who was, however, not at the party.

Elvis was on duty until 3:30 p.m., so the party didn't get underway until late in the afternoon.

But the atmosphere warmed up fast.

At one point Presley's father, Vernon Presley, who is living here with his son, emerged from his room, opened the door of the room where the party was in progress and called in:

"Elvis, maybe you better play a little quieter."

workers continue to pace the Commercial Division with 95 per cent of their quota already audited at Fund headquarters.

The Women's Division, including the areas of Pontiac, Waterford and Lake Angelus, has turned in 84.1 per cent of its quota. Mrs. Donald E. White and her three chairmen Mrs. Noel Buckner, Pontiac; Mrs. Robert Giroux, Waterford and Mrs. J. S. Tuttle, Lake Angelus, all believe that the division will surpass its $20,790 goal sometime next week.

Solicitors in every area still have calls to make, according to Mrs. White.

The residential solicitors in both Pontiac and Lake Angelus have already surpassed their quotas.

Mrs. Buckner reported this morning that three of her four Pontiac area chairmen have either reached or surpassed their quotas. They are Mrs. Roderick Taylor, area I, 124 per cent of quota; Mrs. Meyer Simon, area II, 100 per cent of quota and Mrs. Glen V. Hartung, area IV, 118 per cent of quota.

"These women and the hundreds of workers under them have done an exceptionally fine job, and I'm proud to state that they surpassed their quotas on time," said Mrs. Buckner.

Mrs. Giroux's four Waterford area chairmen are still shy of their quotas, but 15 district chairmen in Waterford have exceeded their quotas.

"Our workers were a little slower getting started this year, but I'm sure we'll surpass our goal," stated Mrs. Giroux.

Latest reports peg Waterford at $5,289.75 or 78.3 per cent of its $6,744 goal.

Gives $1,000 to Rebuild Bombed Synagogue

NEW YORK (AP)—Michigan television executive James Gerity Jr. has donated $1,000 for rebuilding the bombed-out Hebrew Benevolent Congregation at Atlanta, Ga. The gift was announced yesterday by the Committee on Religion in American Life.

Nixon Winds Up Alaskan Tour

Plugs for Ike, Jabs at Truman as He Hurries Through 49th State

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Vice President Nixon hurried through this vast territory, which will soon become the 49th state, with plugs for the Eisenhower administration, jabs at former President Truman and some cheerful words for the Republican party.

The vice president again reported that his cross-continent swing has revealed a late surge for the Republican party. He said here that Republicans have a good chance of ousting Democratic governors in the states of Iowa, Kansas, Oregon, New York and Rhode Island. But he would make no specific forecasts on the House and Senate races.

Republican statehouse chances don't appear as strong in Ohio, Maryland and his home state of California, he said.

Nixon praised Eisenhower's policies as ones which had kept the nation out of war without slowing the expanding economy.

And after hearing a news broadcast which quoted Truman as saying the Eisenhower administration had made a mess of foreign policy, Nixon said: "Mr. Truman should be an expert on making a mess of things—when we took over the administration we were at war."

The vice president, now near the end of his grueling campaign tour, took a break in the pre-election pace Sunday. With his wife Pat and two daughters, Julie, 10, and Patricia, 12, he went sightseeing at Anchorage. The family visited a Russian Orthodox Church in the Indian village of Eklutna and Julie lost her shoes while walking through the adjoining, century-old cemetery.

AP Writer Bouman Dies in London at 85

LONDON (AP)—John A. Bouman, writer and reporter whose career reached far back into the history of the Associated Press, died here today. He was 85.

Bouman, born in Holland and to the end a Dutch citizen, entered AP foreign service in 1915, and covered World War I from bases in the Netherlands and London.

He had his hand and pencil in just about every European news event between the great wars.

On his retirement from the AP in 1939 he came to London to live with his family which had established many associations with the United States.

He was never able, completely, to accept the typewriter. He wrote his precise stories with a pencil, and typed them out later if there was time. If there wasn't, telegraphers did the best they could.

Population of the U. S. increased six times between 1850 and 1950—from 23 million to more than 151 million.

The Day in Birmingham

Predict Heavy Balloting in Tomorrow's Election

BIRMINGHAM — Clerks in Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township predicted heavy balloting in tomorrow's general election.

A record number of absentee ballots were issued by the deadline Saturday in the township, with 300 out of a total of 9,500 registered voters.

Clerk Anne Birrell said the majority of these were requested by businessmen, but many also went to college students and vacationers.

In Birmingham, there were 14,011 registered voters, more than 350 of whom will have voted by absentee ballots.

Bloomfield Hills, which lays claim to the largest per-voter absentee vote, issued 90. The city has 1,431 registered voters.

The Non-Partisan League of Women Voters has distributed its customary "Voters Guide," giving pertinent data on all candidates and the constitutional convention proposal.

An item of wide community interest coming before the Birmingham City Commission tonight will be the possible replacement of the 15-figure Nativity scene displayed each Christmas in Shain Park.

The present display was given to the city by the Catholic Parish Council 18 years ago.

City Manager L. R. Gare said the purchase of chip-proof molded rubber figures would cost $100 less than the repair of the old ones.

The new set would be a little more than half life-size. Gare said a new shelter is being built by the city's Forestry Dept.

In other business, commissioners will consider a request from the Chamber of Commerce for free parking on two city lots Dec. 8, which is "Men's Night," in Birmingham stores.

The chamber said it would pay the city $25 to cover parking lot fees.

Gordon L. Bailey

Service for Gordon L. Bailey, 62, of 188 S. Park St., Pontiac, a former Birmingham businessman, will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery under auspices of Birmingham Lodge 44, F & AM.

Mr. Bailey died in his sleep of a heart attack Saturday night at his home.

He formerly operated the Smoke Shop in the old Detroit United Railroad Station, Birmingham, and was in the real estate business here. Mr. Bailey recently had been employed as an inspector at Pontiac Motor Division.

He served during World War I with the 328th Field Artillery, and besides the Birmingham Masonic Lodge was a member of Scottish Rite Bodies, Saladin Temple, AAONMS; Shrine Club of Pontiac, and was past president of Charles Edwards Post, American Legion, Birmingham.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. John Sparks of Yellow Springs, Ohio; a sister, Mrs. Marguerite Jackson of Pontiac; a brother Manley of Birmingham and three grandchildren.

Miss Carrie E. Bassett

Service for Miss Carrie E. Bassett, 76, of 1011 Kennesaw Ave., Birmingham, was held this afternoon at Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery.

Miss Bassett died Saturday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a long illness. She was a member of the First Baptist Church and the Birmingham Business Women's Club.

Similar Birds' Songs Reveal Big Difference

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI) — The call of a bird is much more significant than most people think, according to Cornell University scientists.

Ornithologists had long wondered why two groups of birds, seemingly similar, never interbred. After a series of tests with a complex machine called an audiospectrograph, the scientists found marked differences in the songs of the two birds.

The ornithologists concluded that the birds stayed away from one another because they didn't "speak the same language."

11 Persons Die in State Traffic

Weekend Toll Claims Lives of Five Children, Including Baby

By The Associated Press

A baby run over by her mother's car and four other children were among 11 persons killed in weekend Michigan traffic.

In addition, a Flint man was killed at 12:55 a.m. today when his car hit a truck near Pontiac. The Associated Press weekend traffic fatality count begins at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Sunday.

A halloween trick-or-treater — a 9-year-old Saginaw boy — was among children who died in traffic accidents.

At Stockbridge, a five-month-old girl fell from the family car and was killed under the wheels as her mother jumped out to see if the child was hurt.

William Howe, 51, of Flint, was killed today when his car rammed the rear of a semi trailer truck on U.S.10 near Pontiac.

David E. Thompson, 9, of Saginaw was struck and killed by an auto Friday night. Police said he was on a halloween trick-or-treat errand when he dashed into the path of the car.

Armanda L. Elliott, 5 months, was killed at her home near Stockbridge Saturday when she fell out of the family auto and it rolled over her as she lay in the driveway.

Walter Hofacker, 5, of Plainwell, was killed Saturday when he darted into the path of a neighbor's car.

Edward E. Bassett, 7, of Kimball Township in St. Clair County, was killed Saturday when he ran into the side of a car near Port Huron.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dees, 35, of Detroit was fatally injured in a Friday night collision in Royal Oak Township. She died in a hospital Saturday.

Mrs. Ruth Conway, 54, of Stockbridge, was killed Saturday when she ran off Centerline road about seven miles west of Stockbridge and struck a tree.

Glenn W. Sexton, 60, of Detroit, died Sunday of injuries suffered Saturday when hit by a car while walking in Detroit.

Donna F. Abraham, 14, of Wayne, was killed Saturday night in a two-car collision in Wayne.

Matthew Felenchak, 70, of Zilwaukee, a Saginaw suburb, was was struck by a car while walking down a street near his home.

Percy J. Udell, 50, of Evart, was killed Sunday when his bicycle was struck from the rear on U.S. 10, seven miles east of Reed City. State Police of the Reed City post said the driver, Arnold Minix, 43, of Leslie, was held for investigation of manslaughter.

Henry Frank Strantz, 47, of Mishawaka, Ind., was killed Sunday night when his car went off a Cass County road and struck a tree in Volinia Township about eight miles east of Dowagiac. Sheriff's men said Strantz, alone in the car, apparently had been on a fishing trip.

Waterford Will Open Bids on Bond Issue

Sealed bids for a $35,000 bond issue for an extension of a water main from Lincolnshire avenue to the Venice-of-the-Lakes subdivision will be opened when the Waterford Township board meets at 8 a.m. tonight.

Extending the pipe line one mile south on Cass Lake road to the 100 residents of the subdivision will solve one of the township's biggest water problems, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

The present 40-year-old system is antiquated and has been condemned by the State Health Department, Seeterlin said. Each user will pay a small connection charge after the pipeline has been installed, it is planned.

In other business, a representative of the Drayton Plains merchants is expected to discuss newest plans for blacktopping a one-acre area back of stores on Dixie Highway, for off-street parking.

For several months the board and the merchants have been discussing plans for a lot.

Italy Premier Rejects Russian Complaint

"Soviet Russia has no right whatsoever to interfere in Italy's internal affairs, and matters pertaining to national defense are strictly internal affairs," a spokesman for the Premier said.

"Foreign intervention in any way must be indignantly rejected."

The Soviet note, handed to the Italian ambassador in Moscow Saturday, had been expected since the announcement in September that the United States and Italy had agreed to set up launching bases in Italy for intermediate range ballistic missiles as part of the North Atlantic Alliance's defense chain.

Liquor Ration Move by Khrushchev Stupid

You can often find an international giggle in some of the machinations of our friends and foes. Russia claims the spotlight at the moment.

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV declares his Russian puppets will henceforth be allowed one (1) shot of vodka at a time. "There'll be no seconds," says he.

Nikita, we wonder if you are even vaguely aware of how silly you are making yourself. That first drink in many Russian grog shops is measured in a bucket and ought to suffice for all but the most hardened gentry.

And further, NIKITA, ole kid, think of yourself and your personal example. Two of the most reliable newspapermen in the United States told of your technique for interviews with American newspapermen who ask you embarrassing questions.

You answer the easy questions willingly, cheerfully and with a show of reckless abandon. Then, Comrad KHRUSHCHEV, you resort to your time honored defense. "Let's have a drink," you cry impulsively, when the going gets tough. And both of you have a drink. When that particular issue is sufficiently clouded, the interview begins anew, and at the first sign of another rough question, you propose a drink that rapidly blossoms into reality.

One of these men was sufficiently warned in advance to be as cagey as possible and quaff the minimum, but you yourself never slipped the clutch or missed a trick. And when the interview was completed, you, NIKITA, were no example for your fellow countrymen.

And you, sir, preach sobriety.

States Band Together to Fight Water Steal

Representatives from six states, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania, recently met in Detroit to continue the battle against Chicago's 32 year old fight for more Great Lakes water.

Michigan's Atty. Gen. PAUL L. ADAMS reports that a petition signed by all six states is to be filed in the U. S. Supreme Court seeking a permanent injunction against the diversion. Chicago uses Lake Michigan water for sewage treatment and then empties it into the Illinois Sanitary Canal which drains into the Mississippi River system and thence to the Gulf of Mexico.

A strongly supported bill to permit this diversion died with Senate adjournment last August due principally to a threat of a filibuster by Dem. Sen. PROXMIRE of Wisconsin. Chicago now diverts 1,500 cubic feet of water a second for navigational purposes and another 1,800 feet a second for water and sewage treatment.

Opponents rightly contend that it would hamper Great Lakes shipping as well as Niagara and St. Lawrence power development. For every 1,000 cubic feet of water a second diverted the depth of the connecting channels drops one inch a year and every inch causes a loss of $4 million in cargo shipping alone. The measure ignored completely Canada's interest in the Great Lakes basin as well as that of all other lake states.

If Chicago is permitted to take this water, connecting channels, ports and harbors must be deepened at a tremendous cost. Resort areas will be injured or even ruined by low water on beaches and shorelines.

Atty. Gen. ADAMS says that Chicago would be compelled to return to Lake Michigan the millions of gallons of water it takes for domestic use. There is no reason why that city should not return the water as is done by other communities.

Michigan's Senators POTTER and MCNAMARA have strenuously opposed this water steal which Republican Senator WILEY of Wisconsin has characterized as "special interest legislation at its worst."

The Man About Town

About 'Landslides'

Their Prediction Is Quite Akin to Football 'Experts'

Freedom: What, if you appreciate, you'll show it tomorrow.

A little checking back through our files and memory for three quarters of a century shows that predicted political landslides are largely a matter of propaganda. They have failed to materialize as often as they came true.

It is a matter of common knowledge that one of the current parties decided several months ago on a "landslide" campaign. This was done on the theory that many people still have that immature intellect with an urge to follow the crowd. So the prime effort has been to make them believe that party has the crowd.

Oakland County never has had a landslide that wasn't occasioned by the popularity or unpopularity of the individual candidates. Nobody with any sense of the ways of political propaganda is looking for any other kind tomorrow.

Overly generous in her praise is

With tomorrow's free-for-all off their minds, the United Fund slogan, should get more thought and results from our people.

Word comes to me that our Baldwin road champion anglers, are home from Venezuela, where they won the International Marlin Tournament. They already have a houseful of trophies.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bass

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Douglas of 4680 Dow Ridge, some being nearly a foot long.

Barber shop singers from all over Michigan will center on the Pontiac area Nov. 29, when the Fenton-Holly chapter will stage at the Fenton Community House. It will bring on a parade of state champions for the past several years.

A cock pheasant and his harem of around a half dozen inhabit the underbrush and weeds on Cass Ave., near the Wisner Stadium. According to who lives near there, the cock keeps out of sight since Oct. 20, although his crow is frequently heard.

Personal Message for YOU

David Lawrence Says:

Aid to Private Schools May Fall

WASHINGTON — What is the "law of the land" about governmental aid to private schools in the form of a tax exemption?

LAWRENCE

Out in California tomorrow the people are voting on an amendment to the state constitution which would remove the tax exemption from the property of all private schools below the collegiate level.

Since the bulk of these institutions are Catholic, a bitter fight alleging religious persecution has ensued. Most Protestant and Jewish groups are assailing the proposal.

While the state would collect an additional four million dollars in taxes, it could cost the California taxpayers as a whole about 118 million dollars a year more to operate similar facilities.

Would the California provision be a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Federal Constitution which says that no state shall take any action that denies anyone the "equal protection of the laws"?

So long as there are other nonprofit institutions, such as hospitals or private colleges, which are to remain exempt from property taxes in California, it will naturally be contended that the proposed state prohibition is an arbitrary classification for tax purposes as well as a discrimination against certain private educational institutions.

Coincidentally, last week while President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon were taking particular pains to deny publicly any approval of the California proposal in the face of misrepresentations of their attitude, reported during the political campaign, the tax-exemption issue was being raised at the federal level in Washington.

This happened in connection with the operation of private schools by religious groups in Virginia and Arkansas.

Last Wednesday a United Press International dispatch appeared in the press telling of information obtained at the U. S. Internal Revenue Service which indicated that because children formerly in public schools were receiving instruction in classes being conducted on church property, the churches in question might be deprived of their federal tax exemption.

On Friday last United Press International sent out the following dispatch dated Arlington, Va.:

"A segregationist group has charged that federal tax officials subjected southern church leaders to 'propaganda, intimidation and coercion' by pointing out that churches used for schools could lose tax-exempt status.

"The Arlington chapter of defenders of state sovereignty and individual liberties demanded that the Internal Revenue Service identify the head of any IRS department which has any such tax denial exemption 'under active consideration.'

"IRS officials said Wednesday that churches might be risking their tax status under certain circumstances if they provide space for private classes in communities where public schools are closed to thwart integration. The officials commented in response to a reporter's questions.

"They said the issue had been raised informally, but they emphasized that no such case had been brought before them officially for a ruling."

Has the federal government any right because it grants property or bestows a tax exemption to dictate what shall be taught or who shall be admitted to a religious school or any other private school?

If it does, then the federal government by using the threat of a withdrawal of the tax exemption could tell a trade association or a labor union how they shall choose their members.

The Supreme Court of the State of Wisconsin recently upheld the right of a labor union to bar Negroes from membership and so did a federal district judge in a similar case at Cleveland.

Girard College—a private institution in Philadelphia which receives a federal tax exemption—still is segregated and its right to continue segregated was upheld this year by a ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Country Parson

"Some folks like to brag about how foolish they used to be—trying to convey the idea it's all in the past tense."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Bad Effects of Smoking Due to Carbon Monoxide

In my opinion the ill effects of smoking are due mainly to the carbon monoxide in tobacco smoke.

DR. BRADY

The nicotine in tobacco is destroyed by combustion. Even if any of it is present in tobacco smoke, it can't be of such serious import as physicians, chemists and health authorities of the 19th century imagined it was. If nicotine were such deadly poison as the old timers imagined, the batter with a cheekful would never get to first base.

Mind, now, children, I'm not saying tobacco or nicotine is harmless. I merely say that the old timers' assumptions, which are still current in medical literature, are difficult to swallow.

Various chemical analyses of tobacco smoke show that a small amount of CO (carbon monoxide) is present in every puff. It takes only a small amount of CO in the air one breathes to produce unpleasant or dangerous effects. Thus, breathing air which contains one part of CO per thousand (one-tenth of one per cent) will cause tightness across forehead, headache, throbstantly as a chain smoker,

Slightly higher concentration of carbon monoxide, say two parts per thousand, will cause powerlessness, nausea, dizziness, vomiting, collapse, syncope . . .

There seems to be very little scientific evidence that moderate smoking does an adult any harm. Moderate smoking, I say.

Any smoking at all is excessive if the smoker has not yet attained full growth and development — which most persons attain beween the ages of 22 and 25 years.

One who smokes while working or pretending to work, in the course of a meal or shortly before a meal, or anywhere that smoking may be offensive to other persons in the room, or consmokes excessively, excessively.

Maybe I'm biased about it, but I get the impression from medical literature that pipe smoking is less likely to damage health than either cigarette or cigar smoking. Perhaps because few pipe smokers inhale as do cigarette and cigar smokers.

Cigarette smokers, especially feminine smokers, are least considerate of the sensibilities of nonsmokers around them. Also they are apt to cover up damage to carpets, drapes, upholstery, furniture, or linen so they can make their getaway without offering to pay for it.

After some years of more or less crapulous smoking I discovered a way to get more enjoyment out of smoking than I had ever had before—smoking only after dinner in the evening if I'm at home or at work, and smoking only after lunch if I'm not at work. Try my system.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Blames Man for Wife's Drinking

Evelyn's case is becoming all too common in modern America. And her husband is partly to blame for he made no sincere effort to stabilize his home by living according to marital Hoyle. You can't play bridge or baseball, unless you abide by the established rules. So why think you can violate them in marriage?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Z-361: Evelyn Q., aged 37, is a very neat housekeeper.

"She also does a good job of looking after our three boys," her husband admitted.

"But about once per month she will go to a tavern in the afternoon, leaving our youngest boy with a baby sitter.

DR. CRANE

"Then she drinks till she is almost inebriated. And if I criticize her for her behavior, she gets sore and starts a feud.

"Last week she said a girl friend called her and suggested they go to a tavern.

"But I checked with the girl friend, and she said she hadn't even seen Evelyn that day.

"This isn't the first time I have caught my wife in a lie. And while I was in the Army, she ran of' with another man for a few weeks.

"She denied it, but even her own relatives exposed her, for they have always liked me.

"Dr. Crane, why does an otherwise good wife seek a tavern every few weeks and get drunk?"

When a man has been drinking and then violates some law, he usually offers the lame excuse:

"I was drunk and didn't know what I was doing."

By the same token, when a woman has a good home and children to rear, but she still craves a clandestine affair, she often seeks an anesthetic for her conscience.

Liquor is a convenient anesthetic which doesn't require a doctor's prescription. So women who frequent taverns often do so to obtain an alibi for romantic affairs.

"I'm afraid you are right, Dr. Crane," Evelyn's husband admitted, "for last month I caught her with another man after one of her drinking sprees."

STUPID HUSBANDS

"Do you belong to church?" I asked, and he sheepishly admitted that he used to, but that he and his wife had not attended much since their marriage.

"She doesn't like my church," he added.

"Then why not let her pick one?" I countered, "for your three youngsters deserve to get some religious idealism implanted by Sunday School teachers.

"You are cheating your own kids by letting them grow up as pagans. And you aren't helping insure your wife's faithfulness, either.

"For if she were active in the Women's Society of any church, she wouldn't be likely to go on a binge every month.

"Nor would you need worry so much about finding her in some other man's room at a downtown hotel.

"You have admitted that you order drinks and have abetted her liquor habit. And you have not helped stabilize your home or insure your youngsters a church training.

"So what do you expect? We Marriage Counselors can't perform miracles and guarantee happy marriage when you supposedly intelligent adults deliberately flaunt the very ABC's of sound marital conduct.

"But send your wife to my office and I'll try to get her on the right track, but only on condition you get on the beam yourself and operate your home according to the approved code."

That code means you must become active together in the same church. You must cut out liquor and ally yourselves with the sober elements in society, like Sunday School, Boy Scouts, YMCA, etc., for you can't be on God's side and also serve mammon, says the Scripture.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Outcome Shows We Were Wrong'

Before we voted out the 18th Amendment it was argued the government collects tax on the sale of liquor and it would go a long way to support the government. Now that we've had a chance to see, the answer is that the amount is negligent compared to the 18-20 billion the nation pays out annually to fight crime caused by use of liquor.

Add Their Ideas on Higgins Reversal

In answer to the political ad by Mr. McColl, this editorial spelled just one thing: Sour grapes. Mr. Higgins stated he started Mr. Broomfield on his political career and recognized his honesty and sincerity. Why would Mr. Higgins condemn him for trying to be "all things to all men for too long?"

Perhaps we're too naive, but we've always felt all political office holders should strive to represent all the people, all the time, not a select few.

What has caused Mr. Higgins' judgment of character to reverse so completely? Could this possibly be due to his defeat two years ago at the hands of the person he's now so ready to condemn? A man whose loyalty changes so readily with the fortunes of political battle certainly no longer warrants anyone's confidence in his judgments, certainly not to the point of voting for Mr. Hudson solely on the basis of Mr. Higgins' endorsement.

'I Guess Ignorance Really Is Bliss'

Ignorance evidently is bliss for Happily Married Couple. It must be nice to be so informed on a subject that you can't possibly learn anything from anyone else. Happily Married Couple didn't prove anything by staying home, but plenty of other happily married couples went and enjoyed hearing what Dr. Crane had to say. Could it be that couple is not so much happy as resigned and afraid to hear another person's views?

Supports Proposal for Artificial Rink

I was happy to read in The Press that the need for an artificial ice rink in the City of Pontiac has been brought to the attention of our City Commissioners.

I've been supporting the artificial rink in Birmingham for the few years it has been in existence and had hopes that Pontiac would one day have one like it.

Our city could certainly stand a few civic projects such as this one to make it more attractive to our youth who will be our future population.

Explains Reason for Party Placement

I wish to make further explanation of the man who, at the voter's information booth on Saginaw street, challenged the non-partisan policy of the League of Women voters because it placed first information about the Democratic candidate.

I explained that the order of party placement was determined by the vote for the secretary of state the previous election.

Since then I've learned this rule is part of the Michigan election laws and ballots are arranged in the same way.

Disaster on Horizon for Party With Ouster of 26-Year Leader

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) —The Danish Communist party today appeared to have invited wholesale desertions and disaster at the polls with the ouster of its colorful Titoist chairman, Aksel Larsen.

Larsen led the party for 26 years and supported it for 40 years. He resigned his chairmanship yesterday after Moscow-line members at The Party Congress excluded 10 of his supporters from the Executive Committee and pushed through a resolution accusing him of trying to swing the party from socialism.

The vote on the resolution was 200-12.

The party then elected as chairman 30-year-old Knud Jespersen, the only trade union leader who had sided against Larsen in the Congress.

Easily the best speaker in Parliament, his personal popularity mounted with his disapproval of the Soviet suppression of the Hungarian revolution and the Kremlin freeze against Yugoslavia.

The Communists polled 72,000 votes in last year's election, a postwar low. If they lose another 12,000 votes, they would be wiped out of Parliament.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Dogs Don't Climb Trees, So Garage Invader Is Bear

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — When Harry Wulff saw a big, black creature scamper from his garage, he thought it was a dog.

But when the animal started climbing a tree, Wulff knew it was a bear. He called police and the zoo.

The bear made it to the roof of Wulff's house, where he outwitted his pursuers for several hours.

Several hundred spectators crowded the residential neighborhood to watch the chase. Police and zoo workers carried rifles and shotguns.

Finally a zoo worker, John Anderson, lassoed the bear, which was hauled off to a new home at the zoo. Zoo officials said the animal had not escaped from there. They and police were at a loss to explain how the 400-pounder had found its way into Wulff's garage.

Finds Body of Boy, 7, Missing for 18 Days

POMPTON LAKES, N.J. (AP) —The body of 7-year-old Paul Grochowicz has been found in the Ramapo River, ending an 18-day search involving thousand of persons.

William Horvey of Jackson Heights, N.Y., found the body Sunday as he was walking along the river bank in a cold, drizzling rain. It was only 500 feet from the Grochowicz home.

Apparently the youngster fell in and drowned not long after he told his mother he was going to bicycle all the way to Tacoma, Wash., to see his grandmother, whom he greatly missed.

That was Oct. 16 and it touched off a mammouth search.

The Grochowicz family moved here only two months ago and Paul was disappointed that his grandparents were not coming east for Christmas.

His grandmother said in Tacoma that the Grochowicz family planned to return there for the funeral.

"This is where Paul wanted to be and this is where the family plans to make its permanent home," she said.

Rich Candidates Wait for Voters

Harriman, Rockefeller Busy Shaking Hands Right Down Line

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) —Handshaking to the last, Gov. Averell Harriman and Nelson A. Rockefeller—rich men turned politicans —place their hopes in the hands of an expected 5½ million New York voters Tuesday.

Republican Rockefeller, 50 and ruggedly handsome, appeared to have the edge over the 66-year-old Democrat in their battle for election as governor. The campaign generally has been a personality contest devoid of solid issue.

A Rockefeller victory — in the face of a predicted nationwide swing to the Democrats—would boost him into serious contention with Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the GOP presidential nomination in 1960. It would ruin Harriman's White House hopes.

The Democrats appeared likely to gain the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by Republican Irving M. Ives.

A potential outpouring of votes from home town New York City loomed as sufficient to put over Democrat Frank S. Hogan, the popular district attorney from Manhattan. Most political analysts believe only a whopping Rockefeller victory could pull veteran Rep. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester into the Senate.

New York Republicans are expected to hold their comfortable margin in Congress, now 27-16, and fat bulges in both houses of the State Legislature. At best, the Democrats could pick up a couple of seats in the House and a scattered few in the Legislature.

Harriman and Rockefeller, equally vigorous campaigners, have traveled to every section of the state, shaken thousands of hands and made hundreds of speeches in their quests for the governorship.

Last spring, Harriman was considered a cinch to win a second, four-year lease on the executive mansion. The veteran New Deal and Fair Deal diplomat and Cabinet officer had gained a strong following after beating Ives by a bare 11,125 votes in 1954.

Then came Rockefeller. The wavy-haired grandson of billionaire John D. Rockefeller stormed to the GOP nomination in August and then took out after Harriman's lead.

In his first try for elective office, Rockefeller has proved to be an effective campaigner.

Drums to Earn College Degree

Nigerian Seeks Ph.D., Supports Wife, Son by Pure African Music

NEW YORK (UPI) — A young Nigerian is working his way through college by showing Americans what pure African drumming should sound like.

Babatunde, who aspires to serve in Nigeria's diplomatic service after independence is granted by Britain in April 1960, is preparing his Ph.D. thesis in public administration at New York University. He's paying his way and supporting a wife and year-old son by teaching and performing pure African dancing and music.

ON SCHOLARSHIP

Babatunde—whose name means "the father who has died has returned in my person"—came to this country in 1950 on a scholarship and studied business administration at Morehouse College, Atlanta.

His classmates encouraged him to entertain at parties by playing his drums and he quickly became a campus favorite.

Although night club offers come in regularly, Babatunde spurns them. "They all want me to commercialize my playing, color it with jazz or Latin influences. They don't need me for that. I only agreed to play at the Music Hall when they agreed to orchestrate my native songs just as they are—without coloring them for theater audiences."

Despite his apparent success in show business, Babatunde is eager to embark on his career in Nigeria's diplomatic service. Like Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana before him, Babatunde is president of the All-Africa Students Union of the Americas.

"I idolize Nkrumah and his philosophy of African solidarity," said Babatunde, "but I do not feel I must be prime minister of my country to contribute what I can to it."

Lists Questions for Study

Steel Union Might Favor Porcupine Park Mining

IRONWOOD (AP) — The United Steel Workers Union says that under certain conditions it would favor development of mining operations in the Porcupine Mountains State Park of Upper Michigan.

The union, which represents iron and copper miners in Upper Michigan, entered the heated controversy over the fate of the park with a statement issued here Saturday.

The statement said the question of copper mining in the park "is a public problem and before this property is given away, we believe a thorough study of all the facts and circumstances must be made."

The union listed four questions it said should be answered before a decision is made:

1 — Is development required in the national interest now that copper is in surplus supply?

2 — Will the park be protected and preserved as a natural wilderness?

3 — How will people employed in the mines be treated and will Michigan people be employed or will workers be imported?

4 — When will mining operations start if exploration is permitted?

The union concluded by saying: "If satisfactory and proper answers are forthcoming, we most certainly would be in favor of permitting development."

Bear Creek Mining Co. of Salt Lake City, Utah, a subsidiary of Kennecott Copper, has proposed to lease a portion of the park that lies along Lake Superior for copper exploration. The State Conservation Department is making a study of the proposal.

Blame Grasshopper for Careless Driving

Further Reform Need Suggested

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has suggested there will be a need for another attic-to-cellar exploration of the rambling federal structure, patterned after the two massive Hoover Commission reports of 1949 and 1955.

If a new reorganization commission is created along the lines of the two headed by former President Herbert Hoover, you can bet that something like the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report also will be revived. The committee, active for years, disbanded last week.

Although strictly unofficial, voluntary and privately supported, the Citizens Committee was to a large degree the agency which made the Hoover reports a real force for federal reform instead of just a multi-million-word commentary on the flaws and foibles of government.

The Citizens Committee was a lobby and a pretty successful one.

In Washington, bright ideas don't become laws automatically, even if the ideas result from years of work by bipartisan commissions under distinguished leadership. They often are received with polite applause and shelved as soon as nobody is looking.

Hoover knew that. From the outset he gave quiet support to the formation of a pressure group that would start needling, wheedling and goading the office holders and lawmakers as soon as his commission's recommendations were issued in 1949.

In the nine years that followed the committee has played the gadfly role.

It didn't win all its battles, by any means. The Pentagon still is not really unified. Dozens of civilian bureaus and offices which the commission said should not report directly to the White House still do. Duplicating agencies still compete in such costly and far-flung federal activities as building dams, providing medical and hospital services, and gathering intelligence vital to the national security.

New York Garages to Up Big Car Rates

NEW YORK (AP) — Owners of longer and wider 1959 cars will be charged 15 to 30 per cent more to park them in some city garages.

The decision to boost rates for larger cars was reached at a meeting of the executive board of the Metropolitan Garage Board of Trade.

The board said a lower rate of increase will apply to regular customers, while transients will pay the higher rate.

Monthly rates now range from $22 to $50.

Helen Hayes' Son Weds Promising Young Actress

SOLEBURY, Pa. (AP)—James Gordon MacArthur, son of actress Helen Hayes, and Joyce Collins Bulifant, a promising young actress, were married Sunday.

About 150 guests filled Trinity Episcopal Chapel for the brief ceremony and then went to a reception at the bride's home in nearby Pipersville.

Many people waited outside the chapel in rain and cold for a glimpse of the 20-year-olds and Miss Hayes, who now is appearing in a Broadway play.

Think You Have Troubles? Try These for Tears

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Roberts were sitting in church when a latecomer dashed in and shouted their house was on fire.

About 50 persons, half the congregation, dashed out, sped half a mile to the scene and helped remove most of the furnishings from the house.

But, in the process, the couple:

1. Remembered their fire insurance had just lapsed.
2. Lost $100 hidden under a rug.
3. Found out Mrs. Roberts had lost her purse in the confusion. It contained about $18.

MICHIGAN MAN RECEIVES MUTUAL OF OMAHA BILLIONTH DOLLAR PAYMENT

Earl F. McMunn, with his wife Marilyn and son Bryan, receives his monthly income protection benefit from V. J. Skutt, President of Mutual of Omaha. This payment put Mutual of Omaha over the billion dollar mark in benefits paid to policyowners. Mutual of Omaha will observe its 50th Anniversary on March 5, 1959.

Earl F. McMunn's monthly cash benefit on October 23rd took Mutual of Omaha over the billion-dollar mark in benefits paid to its policyowners.

Mutual of Omaha thus becomes the first insurance company in history to pay out $1,000,000,000.00 in health and accident benefits in its first fifty years!

Earl lives on a 300 acre farm near Jasper, and receives Mutual of Omaha income protection every month because of a tractor accident he had last March. Mutual of Omaha has paid Earl cash on three other occasions. The 22 year-old farmer has been a Mutual of Omaha policyowner since March, 1956.

Like millions of Mutual of Omaha policyowners, Earl thinks the monthly benefits are fine, because "you don't have to be hospitalized to collect . . . It covers being sick at home." The experience of this young family shows it definitely PAYS to be protected by Mutual of Omaha. Protect your family with one of the new Golden Opportunity Plans recently developed by Mutual of Omaha.

OUT OF 50 YEARS EXPERIENCE COMES NEW LOW-COST GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY HEALTH INSURANCE PLAN

HOSPITAL INSURANCE — Longer, stronger protection that can pay you cash for as many as 500 days of hospitalization for illness or accident.

SURGICAL INSURANCE — Reliable protection for every member of your family.

INCOME PROTECTION INSURANCE — Monthly cash paid direct to you for total disability from covered accident or sickness which confines you to home or hospital . . . EVEN FOR LIFE!

Offering Free Tickets to Losers in Election

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Conductor Maurice Abravanel is offering free tickets to all candidates beaten in Tuesday's Utah elections. The tickets are to Wednesday night's concert of the Utah Symphony Orchestra.

"This is the best way, I feel, to bring solace to the losers," says the maestro. "Music has the power to soothe even the deepest emotional wounds."

Abravanel says winners can come too, "but they'll be expected to pay."

Asian Nations Need More Help

Colombo Plan Experts Cite Need for Quick Aid in South, Southeast

SEATTLE (AP) — Progress is being made in South and Southeast Asia but more needs to be done quickly to help bolster newly independent governments faced with staggering economic and political problems.

This was the consensus of Colombo Plan economic experts today as they began the third week of a month long, closed door inquiry into the economic ills of 650 million Asians.

The report of these experts will be turned over next week to a full-dress ministerial meeting of the Colombo Plan Consultative Committee. President Eisenhower is scheduled to address the group a week from today.

In the opinion of key delegation leaders and observers from such organizations as the World Bank, the Colombo Plan area will continue to need assistance for another three decades even though progress towards industrial development has been made during the past five years.

These sources said, "More needs to be done quickly. The past year was a bad one."

The U. S. recession is being blamed for some of the economic headaches. The recession caused a tumble in the price of rubber and tin which sorely hit such countries as Malaya and Indonesia.

Bad weather conditions during the monsoon season also hit the area, particularly India, Pakistan, Indonesia and the Philippines. It caused a rice crop that was far below normal.

Jet Airliner Flies to Paris, 6 Hrs., 10 Min.

BOSTON (AP)— A four-jet Pan American Airways Boeing 707 flew nonstop from Boston to Paris Sunday in 6 hours and 3 minutes, a record for the hop.

The plane, with a normal cruising speed of 575 miles an hour, carried 111 persons and crew. Capt. William Moss Jr. of Huntington, N.Y., was at the controls.

The previous Boston-Paris record — 8 hours and 55 minutes — was set in 1951.

British Civilian, 71, Killed by Terrorists

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—EOKA Gunmen shot and killed a 71-year-old British civilian in Nicosia today.

The Briton, Charles Woods, was standing on a street corner waiting for a friend to drive him to work. He was shot four times in the back.

Woods had lived on the island for over 30 years. He was the accountant for Nicosia's only English club.

He was the 18th Britisher killed since Oct. 1, when the Greek Cypriot underground, seeking to unite the island with Greece, launched its new anti-British offensive. Of the 18, seven were civilians.

Liquor Store Functions as Bank Out West

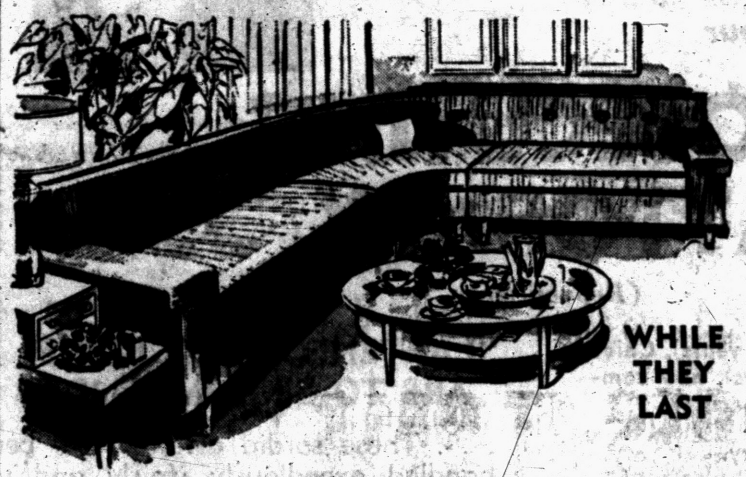

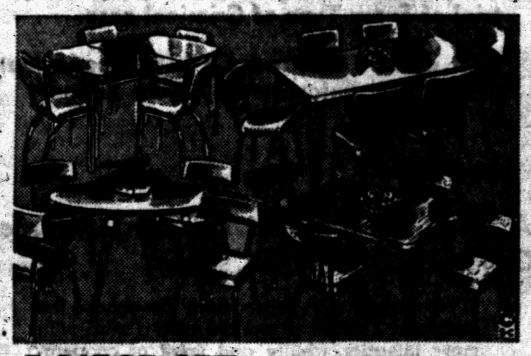

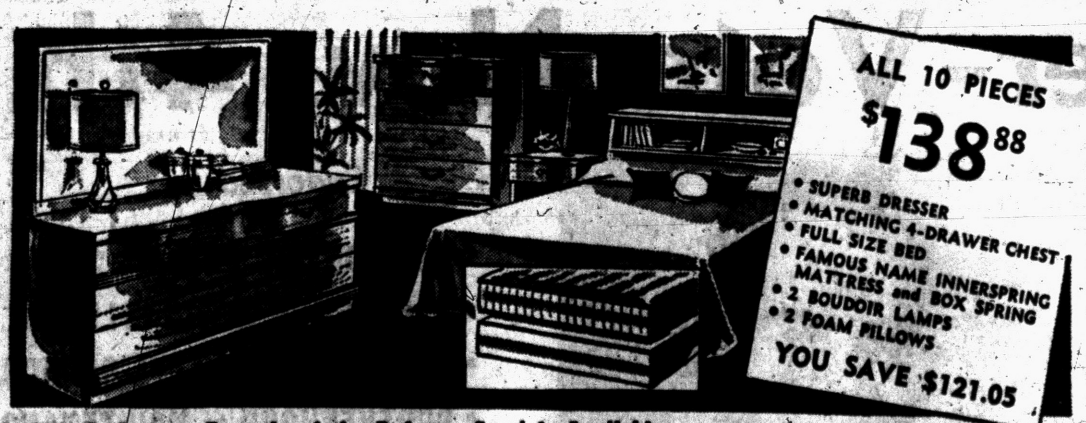

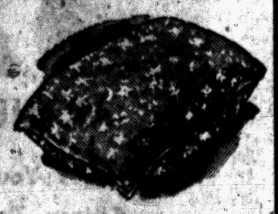

PIERRE, S. D. (UPI) — State Comptroller John C. Penne ruled that the municipal liquor store at Eagle Butte, S. D., was "giving banking service" to the community after an audit revealed it had cashed $2,295 worth of checks—including $715 worth of bad ones.

Town officials said one reason for this was the presence of a large construction crew in Eagle Butte. Another was the fact that there isn't a single bank in the community.

Mother's Social Security

Children Entitled to Benefits

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

Like a lot of young people with children, Sarah and Phil Mills couldn't make it on his pay check alone. So, several years ago Sarah got a job clerking in a grocery store.

Although she would have preferred being home with the kids, she didn't mind working too much. Phil's mother looked after the children and was good to them. And, Phil had promised Sarah she could quit work as soon as he started making $100 a week.

Phil was now near the $100 mark and Sarah was really looking forward to quitting. Then, one Saturday night about 10, just after the store closed, she was in a car accident.

The manager of the store was taking her home, as he always did when she worked late, and a tire blew out. The car swerved and rolled over. Sarah was badly cut by glass and had some internal injuries.

She died the next day in the hospital.

She had no insurance. Phil had always felt it was more important to have insurance on his life. He didn't think about Social Security until a friend mentioned it about six weeks after the accident.

That night, he wrote a letter to the Social Security office in his city. He would have taken time to visit the office, but he didn't figure it was worth it. He probably didn't have anything coming and was only writing because his friend had suggested it.

The letter started the Social Security's wheels moving.

In a few weeks, he was told the children could collect Social Security monthly payments until they reached 18 or married, whichever came first; that he could collect a lump sum death payment. The payments would be based on Sarah's two years of work in the grocery store.

The payments to the children would be $70 a month until Kathleen, the oldest, reached 18, and then they would drop to $42 a month. After Phil Jr., reached 18, they would stop altogether. The lump sum payment would be $168.

Phil was amazed. He'd never heard anything about children being entitled to Social Security payments if their mother died—even if she did work.

"Why are they eligible?" he asked the Social Security office.

He was told the children would get the payments under a provision of the Social Security law which says:

A mother who has been working for at least 18 months during the three years just before her death and who has been paying into Social Security is presumed to be supporting her children. Thus, they're her dependents. As dependents, the children are eligible to Social Security.

The lump sum is paid to a surviving widower if he was living in the same household with his wife when she died. The requirement to receive it is that his wife worked in a job covered by the Social Security law for at least 18 of the last 36 months before her death.

In fact, he was told, these are only two types of payments made to survivors of deceased workers. Payments may also go to widows taking care of minor children, widows 62 or over, widowers at 65 and parents.

2nd Quintuplet Becomes Mom; Annette Has Boy

MONTREAL (AP)—Two of the Dionne quintuplets now are mothers. Annette, Mrs. Germain Allard, gave birth Sunday to a boy weighing 8 pounds 1 ounce.

The 24-year-old mother and her son were reported doing well at a suburban hospital. The father, a finance company official who also is 24, said they had discussed naming the baby Francois but hadn't decided finally.

Annette and Allard were married Oct. 12, 1957. Her sister Cecile, Mrs. Philippe Langlois, had a boy Sept. 15. Another sister, Marie, also is married. The unmarried quintuplet, Yvonne, is a nurse, and the fifth sister, Emilie, died four years ago.

Fish Elude Contest

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP) — Twenty-four spear fishermen showed up to take part in a statewide underwater fishing contest on chilly Long Island Sound. No fish were caught, so the 24 divided the $650 in prizes.

Danny Thomas Sees Dream Come True

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Comedian Danny Thomas took part in the ground breaking for the two-million-dollar St. Jude Hospital Sunday by wielding a symbolic three-section shovel.

The three sections, pieced together to make the shovel's handle, were symbolic of the three faiths represented at the dedication ceremony—Jewish, Catholic and Protestant.

Thomas originated the idea for the hospital, which will provide research and treatment for childhood diseases, and spearheaded a campaign to raise construction funds.

Memphis was chosen as the site of the hospital by the late Samuel Cardinal Stritch, who headed the St. Jude Foundation.

1,500 Negroes Agree: Faubus Valuable Foe

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — About 1,500 Negroes thundered agreement Sunday when a high official of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People called Gov. Orval E. Faubus a valuable enemy.

"I trust he stays healthy and active, coming out on the odd-numbered days with new plans to replace those which did not work on the even-numbered days," said Roy Wilkins of New York, NAACP executive secretary.

Wilkins addressed his organization's 14th annual state convention.

"Victory is near at hand," he said in a speech launching a statewide NAACP membership drive.

Wilkins urged Little Rock Negroes to stand fast in their fight for integrated schools, and rejected any suggestion that they open private schools of their own.

"I know it is hard to watch some of the white students getting some little education while your own high school students are shut out of school by your governor," said Wilkins.

Wilkins promised new, undisclosed legal moves in the Little Rock dispute. He predicted that soon "sober people" would demand that the closed schools be reopened.

Heiress Tries to Kill Self; Now Critical

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The heiress wife of singer Allan Jones was in serious condition today after what police described as a suicide attempt.

Mary Florsheim Picking Jones, heiress to a shoe fortune, took an overdose of sleeping pills after an argument with her husband, police reported.

She and Jones were married in Las Vegas, Nev., last December on the day he was divorced from his wife of more than 20 years, actress Irene Hervey.

Mrs. Jones, 38, was found unconscious in her bed by her daughter Ellen Picking. She was taken to UCLA Medical Center.

Married Sunday afternoon in St. George Greek Orthodox Church were Martha Savas and Kenneth R. Davis. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Savas and Mr. and Mrs. Ross V. Davis.

Martha Savas Becomes Bride of Kenneth Davis

Martha Savas and Kenneth R. Davis were married Sunday afternoon at St. George Greek Orthodox Church. The Rev. Achilles Siagris performed the ceremony before 250 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Savas of Myrtle street and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross V. Davis of Eddy street.

IN TAFFETA AND LACE

An Italian taffeta gown with modified Sabrina neckline accented with appliques of French Alencon lace was selected by the bride. The bouffant skirt formed a train with a center back panel. Her fingertip veil of French silk illusion was held by a crown embroidered with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly roses, pink sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Rouni Savas was maid of honor, with bridesmaids Mrs. Samuel Savas, Martha Savas, Moushola Athanas, and flower girl Constance Pantelides.

The attendants were dressed in copen blue iridescent taffeta gowns with rounded necklines. Bows accented the hemlines of the full skirts. Their cascade bouquets were pink and copen blue carnations.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Alex Capsalis, the bridegroom's godfather, was best man. Ushers were Nick Forrest of Baseline, Peter Antos, Joseph Puretas and Sam Gabriel. Lazo Nicholas was ringbearer.

A dinner reception was held at the VFW Hall. Before the couple left for a honeymoon to Upper Michigan, the bride changed to a peach colored jersey dress with black accessories. The couple will live on Edgeorge street.

Miss Strait was named president; Beverly Patton, vice president; Susan Stranahan, treasurer; and Judy Eames, secretary. Allan Benson was appointed program chairman.

Piano solos were played by William Strait, Allan Benson, Sally Wilson, Miss Patton, Miss Strait, Anne Pierce, Ann Thomas, Marty Stewart, Rose Anne Mariucci, Betsy Agree, Mary Steward and Judy Eames.

Can't Fix Wrecked Lives in 20 Minutes —Abby

Pastor's Prescription Calls for Gospel, Gumption and God

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: As a minister I am sometimes disturbed by the number of people who come to me and expect me to do something in 20 minutes (equal to adjusting a carburetor) that will solve all their personal and family problems. I think your readers should realize that all ministers have some knowledge of elementary psychology, but the minister's prescription is the Gospel he preaches.

ABBY

"Which means anything he prescribes is going to call for "guts" on the part of the person taking it, and that one ingredient in the prescription will be worshiping God regularly, at least once a week, for the rest of your life. Yours truly, ANOTHER MINISTER."

DEAR MINISTER: Thank you for your fine letter and may I add a quote from a minister friend of mine? "The help a minister gives will not be a bed to lie on . . . it will be a sword to fight with."

"DEAR ABBY: I am a truck driver and I know truck drivers are not considered perfect gentlemen by the general public, but I don't know of one who would not jump up to give an expectant mother his seat on the bus. A very good friend of mine who is now a truck driver, but at one time drove a bus, told me this story:

"He said one day the bus he was driving was very crowded and he stopped to pick up a lady who was very pregnant. He didn't make a move to start the bus, but waited for someone to stand up and offer her a seat. Nobody made a move to get up, so this bus driver finally got up and said, 'Here, Lady, take my seat.' He got out of the bus and sat down on the grass adjoining the sidewalk.

"Finally some man figured out that they weren't going any place so he got up and offered her his seat. I think this should be standard procedure for all bus drivers. It's not up to us to judge whether pregnant women should be home or not."

"DEAR ABBY: I have two children by my first marriage and my husband never lets me forget it. His mother lives with us and my husband says that he accepted MY children and I have to accept HIS mother. My children are out all day and go to bed early, but his mother breathes down my neck all day and sits up with us until we go to bed.

"You can't put a mother-in-law to bed! She butts into every conversation, has no friends of her own and makes me miserable. Everything she cooks we either have to choke down or throw out. Please tell me what to do before I end up in a sanitarium." HAD IT.

DEAR HAD: When a man marries a woman with children, he knows the children go with Mamma (sort of a "package deal.") But a man's mother is not usually "packaged" with the man. Unless you agreed before your marriage to "accept" his mother on a live-in basis, you have every right to ask for a new deal.

"DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who thinks she is clean because the brass pipes under her sink are polished, but you should hear the language she uses! Her kitchen sink is cleaner than her mouth by a far sight. Don't you think that cleanliness should start with a person's own mouth? Your opinion in the paper would be appreciated. Thank you." "CLEAN MOUTH, DIRTY SINK."

DEAR CLEAN MOUTH: A clean mouth is far more important than a clean sink, but it shouldn't be necessary to choose between the two.

Sharon Moore Elected to Head Scherzo Group

Sharon Moore was elected president when the Scherzo Group of the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale met Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Eugene Moore.

Also named to office were David Swain, vice president and telephone chairman; Pamela Baker, secretary; and Norma Hofmeister, treasurer.

Mrs. John Baker was cohostess. Mrs. Erwin Hofmeister is counselor of the group.

Available as Social Secretary

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Mrs. Ernst F. Kern of Ridgewood road, Bloomfield Hills, has announced she may be contacted as social secretary after Nov. 1 for Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills areas.

She will follow the late Miss Sara Burnham ("Aunt Sadie") who launched debuts, weddings and parties in Detroit and Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Kern is the former Janet Bragaw, daughter of Mrs. Richard Bragaw of Detroit and the late Mr. Bragaw and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kern. She was graduated from Liggett School and Radcliffe College, and is a member of the Junior League.

She is the mother of Ernst F. Kern Jr., a sophomore at Dartmouth College; Katherine, who attends Bloomfield Country Day and Otto, in the first grade at Vaughan School.

With several other mothers, Mrs. Kern helped organize the Cotillion Club for 10th, 11th and 12th graders of Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills. The group meets at five dances during the season at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

The annual concert is being presented by vocal students from Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern High Schools.

GUEST CONDUCTOR

Guest conductor will be Dr. John D. Raymond of Lafayette College, Easton, Pa.

Dr. Raymond has had three rehearsals on nine selections with the vocalists, Sunday afternoon and today.

A special feature of the concert will be the choirs from two schools joining voices in four numbers.

"O, Clap Your Hands," by Ralph Vaughn Williams will be accompanied by a guest instrumental ensemble. Players are Harold Jones, Maurice Pelton and William Robertson, trumpets; Jay William Young, James Morris, and Lyn Hollis, trombone; Raymond A. Young, tuba; John Cummins, cymbals; and Michael Pierce, tympani.

In another number, "Dream," by Hawley Aides, a special string bass and snare drum accompaniment will be handled by guest artists Kenneth K. Hamilton, string bass, and Frank Merwin, drums.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

This flannelette sleeping suit, in the latest trapeze style, has elasticized anklets and wristlets to insure a comfortable sleep. The polka-dotted outfit is accented with angel lace and ribbon insertions and is guaranteed washable. It may be purchased locally and is also available as a nightgown.

Doris Ann Ball Marries in Las Vegas Ceremony

Honeymooning in Las Vegas, Nev., are Mr. and Mrs. Robert William Jefferis who were married Friday afternoon in Las Vegas. The Rev. Neville Tinker performed the ceremony.

The bride, the former Doris Ann Ball, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Ball of South Eastway drive. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mildred C. Jefferis of Portland, Ore., and the late Mr. Jefferis.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. William L. Monk of Burbank, Calif.

For her going-away outfit, the new Mrs. Jefferis wore a teal blue knit dress with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in Los Angeles.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Missouri and affiliated with Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity.

Exception to Rule Is OK

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I had a date with a boy the other evening. He took me to the theater and afterwards we went to a hotel to dance and have something to eat. I removed my hat as I noticed no one else was wearing hats and laid it on the chair beside me.

"My boy friend accidentally tipped over his coffee cup and the coffee spilled all over my hat, which incidentally was brand new. He, of course, felt terrible about this and has offered to pay for it. Would it be proper for me to accept payment for this?"

Answer: As he has offered to replace the hat he ruined, you may properly allow him to do so. If he were offering to buy you a hat as a present you would of course have to refuse it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is to be married next month. There will be a rehearsal dinner at my house the night before the wedding. I would like to know if the ring bearer and flower girl should be included in this dinner. Also, the young woman who is to be the maid of honor is engaged, and I would like to know if it is obligatory to ask her fiance to this dinner?"

Answer: The ring bearer and flower girl are surely much too young to be included at an evening party. The maid of honor's fiance should be invited.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In filling in the names of the parents on birth announcements, how are they correctly written? Should it be Mary and John, Mary and John Brown, or Mr. and Mrs. John Brown? Would the signatures vary according to how well we know the people to whom the announcements are being sent?

Answer: To intimate friends you merely sign Mary and John, to others you sign Mary and John Brown. To sign Mr. and Mrs. would be bad form.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My brother-in-law, an attorney, was just recently made a municipal judge. Is it an iron-bound rule that all personal mail my husband and I send him be addressed Judge Henry Brown instead of Mr. Henry Brown? We sent him a birthday card the other day and addressed it to Mr. Henry Brown. Shortly after we received a note of admonishment from his wife for having addressed him in this way. Were we wrong?"

Answer: Yes, you should have addressed him as Judge instead of Mr., especially as a newly made judge is apt to be very proud of his title.

100 Attend Wesleyan District Meet

About 100 members and guests of Flint District Wesleyan Service Guilds met at Central Methodist Church Sunday afternoon.

Guest speaker was Mrs. E. P. Donald of Mt. Pleasant who spoke on "Understanding Others' Cultures." Others participating were Helen Kinney, Flint District Wesleyan Service Guild secretary, Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks who sang the solo, "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way," and Mrs. James Leitch of Owosso.

Mrs. Archie Hunt, historian will present a sketch of the rise and tide of the club. Refreshments will be served, and the public is welcome.

Charm Chats

Empire Theme

by Rowena Wilson

As fashion goes, so goes the coiffure. With fashion dedicated currently to the Empire theme — the era notable not only for the exploits of Napoleon, but also for beautiful women whose clothes and hairdos were the ultimate in charm—adaptations of Empire coiffures were inevitable. The newer hairdos are modern day versions of the styles worn by the leading beauties of that day.

No matter what the current hair fashions may be, to be attractive your crowning glory must be in top condition. We provide treatments to restore it to A-1 condition. No Joke for Hollywood Producers

Stork Takes New Stars Fast as They Orbit

(Who will be the feminine movie stars of tomorrow? Hollywood is grooming a sparkling lot of new talent. This is the second article of a series.)

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — There has been a little joke around town this season that as fast as 20th Century-Fox Impresario Buddy Adler puts his pretty new stars in orbit, the stork takes 'em out!

It's almost too true to be funny. At the present time four of the most valuable of 20th's stars-to-be are also mothers-to-be. Tuning up for lullabies are:

Joanne Woodward (Mrs. Paul Newman)
Lee Remick (Mrs. William Colleran)
Hope Lange (Mrs. Don Murray)
Jayne Mansfield (Mrs. Mickey Hargitay)

And May Britt, the studio's new glamor charmer from Sweden, just recently denied she and her wealthy husband, Ed Gregson, are "expecting."

Of all the new personalities, Joanne Woodward is the most advanced into stardom. And even Joanne with her newfound happiness in her career and marriage and approaching motherhood, admits she, too, has from time to time been under the care of a psychiatrist!

A typical southern girl, product of Thomasville, Ga., Joanne has loved the theater "ever since I started breathing." Although she does not come from a theatrical family, Joanne never knew a conscious moment when she wasn't pointing for the stage.

While still in high school she came under the tutelage of Robert MacLane, the South's well esteemed high school drama coach. Her next step, with the encouragement of her father, was the neighborhood playhouse dramatic school in New York, and before her second year was completed Joanne was playing featured roles on TV with Robert Montgomery.

She caught the eye of Josh Logan, who gave her the role of understudy to the pretty sister in "Picnic." Joanne performed the role 50 times on Broadway, enough to attract the attention of film scouts.

Career-wise, Joanne has had few problems. Hers has been a steady march forward.

UNLUCKY AT LOVE

But her private life became "all tangled up" when she met a charming young actor, also in "Picnic," and fell deeply in love with him. His name was Paul Newman; he was married and a father.

More because she wanted to break away from New York and what she believed at the time to be a hopeless love, Joanne accepted a bid to come to Hollywood for an unimportant picture. She didn't set the world on fire—and returned to New York. Then, to her surprise, Hollywood paged her again.

The amazingly adept performance in "Three Faces of Eve" won her the Academy Award.

In January of this year Joanne was married in Las Vegas to Paul. Her studio has subsequently starred her in "No Down Payment," "The Long Hot Summer" and "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys"—so all her dreams have come true.

Lee Remick also hails from the television and eastern theatrical world. Such gentlemen of the theater as directors Elia Kazan and Martin Ritt predict a brilliant dramatic future for the talented Bostonian.

In August of 1957 Lee married TV director William Colleran, and in December of this year they will welcome their first child.

Blonde and serenely beautiful Hope Lange is an enthusiastic Hollywood "Mrs." Both she and her talented young actor husband, Don Murray, have found happiness and fame in movietown.

They were married in Beverly Hills right in the middle of making "Bus Stop" in which Don was leading man to Marilyn Monroe and Hope appeared in a supporting role.

That was in April of '56 and already their happy home has been blessed by the arrival of a son, Christopher Paton Murray with (they hope) a "Miss" Murray on the way.

Hope has registered vividly as a young actress to be reckoned with in "Peyton Place" and particularly in "The Young Lions." Don, too, has surged starward very fast.

HAS BEAUTY, RICHES

Dina Merrill, one of the most beautiful and certainly the richest of the star aspirants, is also one of the happiest!

Born with a couple of solid gold spoons in her mouth (her mother is the former Mrs. Merriweather Post now Mrs. Herbert May, and her father Edward Hutton), and married into another social and financial dynasty (her husband is Stanley Rumbough Jr.), the beautiful Dina need never have turned her hand to conquer the social world of two continents.

"I originally wanted to be a broadjumper or a trapeze artist," laughs this charming blonde.

Her family applauded Dina's small girl performances in school plays "and were amused when I kept on acting all over the place at home," she says. She learned later they were sure little "Deeny" would outgrow the theater phase.

Her best movie roles have been in "Desk Set" with Katharine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy, "A Nice Little Bank That Should Be Robbed," and she is now costarring with Gilbert Roland in Havana in "Mr. Pharaoh and the Cleopatra."

As for Jayne Mansfield, she's far and away the most "movie starish" of the happy new crop in Hollywood. A sensational looking girl, Jayne seems to have moved into the niche once occupied with equal sensationalism by another platinum blonde, Jean Harlow.

Jayne has been kidded about appearing at supermarket openings, hot dog stands, lemonade socials—anything for publicity.

She is a quiet, soft-spoken girl, devoted to her parents, her small daughter by a previous marriage, Janie Marie, and to her present husband, father-to-be Mickey Hargitay.

But, as Jayne once laughed, "I can't afford to be too wholesome, it isn't my stock in trade."

Have Fun at Your Own Fete

WESTFIELD, Mass. (UPI)—Enjoying your own party is as much an art as seeing that guests have fun, says the president of a firm which relies on parties for sales. She has found these tips helpful:

So you won't be upset by unexpected guests—or those who failed to R.S.V.P.—allow about 10 per cent leeway in food.

Tell in your invitation when you expect guests to arrive and leave. They can plan on baby sitters, and you can plan ample refreshments.

Arrange the party schedule beforehand so you know exactly what to do, then relax.

Don't clean house the day of the party. Frantic last-minute cleaning only leaves you tired and grouchy.

Don't introduce every newcomer after the first few persons have arrived. Leave that to the guests.

Invite a congenial group, but don't omit someone because a few guests don't get along with him. A comedian once said there should be someone at a party that everybody hates, just to keep things interesting.

Pearls in India

In France It's Rouged Knees as Beauty Trick

PARIS (UPI) — Women in France rouge their knees a bit. The women of India make their complexions glow with pearls. Japanese women have the secret of dieting. South Americans know all about "siestas."

These are some of the beauty facts picked up by a beauty expert who spends six months a year traveling around the world.

"The latest in France," she said, "is to rouge your knees. Actually this beauty trick is very old, goes back to antique Rome. But with the short skirts girls in France use it again to give a rosy shimmer and and 'dimples' to showing kneecaps."

In England, she says, women have become more conscious of fashions, "royal" beauty and hair-styles.

"Women all over the world can take the fair, lovely complexions of English females as an example," said the expert. "For them it is a 'natural,' due to the damp climate. But today hydrating beauty products, supplying moisture to the skin, bring the famed English complexion within reach of women all over the world."

This beauty expert found that Italian women know best how to look beautiful in the bright Southern sunshine. They have devised the "pale look"—a natural, pale complexion and light lipstick to contrast with their dark eyes and hair.

"Turkish women hold the beauty secret with perfume," she continued. "They massage the skin with it after a Turkish bath while the pores are still open. For hours after, the epidermis exhales the scent.

"Dark-haired but because of the tropical heat often sallow skinned, Indian women use jewelry to give their complexions the glow of beauty. There is nothing better than a pearl necklace to lend an irridescent and delicate shimmer to your face. Diamonds will add sparkle to your eyes and colored stones will give you a touch of Oriental splendor.

"Japanese women," she continued her tour of beauty, "have extraordinary figures. You know why?

"Their normal food is as good as a diet. They eat much fish which gives iodine, much vegetables for vitamins. And they always eat rice.

"In South American, beautiful women do like anybody else in hot climates. They take a 'siesta.' This period of rest in the middle of the day is a precious beauty aid. Lie down, stretch out and relax, even if it's only for 15 minutes in the middle of the day. It will double your energy.

"There is one way to beauty," the authority concluded, "which works always, everywhere and any time: Be in love.

It Will Pass

Occasional Blue Day Hits Everyone

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

That old devil, The Blues, settles down on all of us once in a while, and "settles down" are the right words! When we feel this way we are sunk by a feeling of boredom with an accompanying inertia. Depression presses down on us like a heavy fog.

Even the gayest, most optimistic folks have these blue days. In such cases the blues may seem even more devastating because of the great contrast to the usual mood.

The best advice I can give you is to accept such days as a natural part of life and brace yourself to endure them just as you would a toothache, consoled by the knowledge that they, like the ache, will pass. Take it easy! We cannot always live on the mountaintop.

NOT PERMANENT

Of course we can try some sedatives just as we would for any ache but it seems to me that the important thing is to remember that you will not always feel that way, and thank heaven for it!

Physical exercise is a wonderful help in clearing the air. If you like a sport, call some friend and have a game or simply force yourself to take a long walk.

Sometimes, if you can make yourself begin an interesting book, that helps. One long-quoted therapy is to "lose yourself" in work. However I find that it is very hard to give myself the necessary push when in this state of apathy.

That old devil, The Blues, settles down on all of us once in a while.

Unless it happens too often, having the blues is just one of those uncomfortable experiences which go along with living and is nothing to worry about. However, if you feel this way frequently, it is imperative that you have a physical examination to see if the source of your depression comes from some physical condition.

If you find that you are sound in this category, then you would be wise to investigate your habits of life and thought. For instance, simply shortchanging yourself on sleep habitually can make the world look glum. Perhaps you are a victim of chronic worrying which keeps you in a depressed state.

You may find that you have unhealthy emotional or mental attitudes. You may be harboring grievances, or you may have become sensitive or may cling to the past. You may not have enough interests. You may not have adjusted to unchangeable circumstances. A negative rather than a positive approach to life may be the trouble.

Whatever it is, ferret out the reason if you are blue on many days, but if you suffer from only an occasional dreary day just relax and take it.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Individual Happiness," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 65. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Reader Says Let Hubby Snore — At Least He's Home."

Aids More Than Figure

Your diet can be a positive factor in beauty in ways other than aiding you to shed pounds and thus gain a trim figure.

It can give you glowing skin and beautiful hair, strong fingernails and steady nerves, clear eyes and lots of energy.

Poor diet will give you the reverse of all of these.

Why? Because the foods you should eat each day contain vitamins essential to beauty. You've heard this many times. But did you know that a lack of vitamin A can cause poor skin and dull hair? That a lack of vitamin B means shaky nerves and that not enough protein is responsible for many cases of fatigue?

It's as simple and direct as that.

The skin that you most likely think of as old (dry, wrinkled and sagging) is in reality skin that has been neglected. In other words, you need not have such skin if you give yours proper care.

This sounds like a large statement but it's true. If your skin has proper care from the inside (sound diet) and from the outside (regular creaming to restore moisture) you can stave off wrinkles almost indefinitely.

A woman of 50 who has dry and sagging skin is the woman who neglected to eat the right things, to exercise in fresh air and to cream her skin faithfully.

And even at 50, regular use of a night cream containing vitamins can work wonders.

Women see physicians more often than men do, especially at the ages of 15 through 44. During childhood, however, boys receive more medical care than girls.

What Are They Doing to Our Husbands?

By RUTH MILLETT

What in heaven's name are the women's magazines trying to do to the American husband?

They've fostered the idea of "togetherness" to the point where a wife thinks her husband is a heel if he reads the evening paper while she does the dinner dishes alone.

They've played up Papa as chef with such enthusiasm that all over the country big strong men are presiding over backyard barbecues, dressed in big aprons and white caps, while Mama leans back in a lawn chair and complains that smoke gets in her eyes.

Now, the latest copy of a leading women's magazine, in listing ways in which its readers can make their marriages more exciting, offers these suggestions for husbands:

"Don't think you always have to keep your chin up. Cry a little—she'll love mothering you." In other words, acting like a man isn't really worth the trouble.

"Grow a beard." Is the beard to cry into or is it to make sure that Papa looks like a member of the beat generation?

"Kiss your wife in public." You know, Pop, like the girls do when they greet each other for lunch in town.

"Take her to Paris for the weekend. Fly now—pay later." Why be a dull, hard-working clod when you could make Mama's life gay, gay, gay?

Aren't those ideas something? Of course, Papa isn't likely to stumble over them, since they appear in a publication directed toward women.

But Mama will read them and unless she has been married long enough to have better sense she may take them to heart and start yearning for the kind of unpredictable husband who any day might grow a beard, burst into tears, kiss her on Main Street, or say, "To heck with the payment on the house; let's fly to Paris for the weekend."

Perfume Your Accessory Box

To give your accessories an accent of fragrance, spray the container or box in which they're kept rather than spraying the item itself.

For instance, in the case of gloves, spray the inside of your glove box with your fragrance. Every fiber of your gloves will hold the right amount of scent. In this way you will not be tempted to spray the beautiful glove surfaces which will cause them to pick up soil more easily and often stain the leather or fabric.

To Elect Officers

Officers for the coming year will be elected at the meeting of the Oakland County Citizens Committee for Pontiac State Hospital, to be held at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the staff auditorium of the hospital.

Treat to Snacks

It's a good idea to have children's snacks ready for them when they come home from school. If sandwich, crackers, fruit or usual fare is at hand, they will not interrupt you in the event you are busy with other chores or entertaining guests in the afternoon.

Strapless dresses aren't responsible for as much trouble as strapless woodsheds.

Don't Even Heat Oven for Oatmeal Cookies

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Although the goblins are gone for another year, you will still be making cookies. Perhaps you will like to try Mrs. George Hodge's recipe for unbaked cookies.

Mrs. Hodge who lives in Rochester has three children of her own and cares for some others. Bowling is her favorite leisure time activity.

NO BAKE COOKIES
By Mrs. George Hodge

2 cups sugar
4 tablespoons cocoa
½ cup margarine
½ cup milk
3 cups oatmeal
½ cup peanut butter
1 teaspoon vanilla

Put sugar, cocoa, margarine and milk in a sauce pan. Bring to a boil and boil for one minute. Add rest of ingredients and mix thoroughly. Spoon onto waxed paper and let stand until firm. They will harden fast.

Corduroy for Moms in Waiting

Because it offers a "fifth season" in fashion and because it is lightweight, inexpensive and available in beautiful colors, it has a high rating.

This year, the relaxed lines of the new silhouettes have been easily translated into maternity clothes so that they offer lots of fashion news. The flattery of the blouson, the Chanel jacket and the flared top have all been translated into separates for maternity wear.

Most of these are mix-and-match and thus are done in both solid dark colors and lively prints for maximum effectiveness.

There are two schools of thought about maternity clothes. One is that the best idea is to buy the best you can afford. (This is generally a good plan to follow in buying all clothes.) Of course, this may mean that you have fewer clothes and thus tire of them more quickly.

The other idea is to buy inexpensive clothes and as many of them as you possibly can. (They may not give good service.)

Corduroy seems to offer a happy medium. It is relatively inexpensive, enough so to permit an adequate wardrobe, and so sturdy that it will take lots of hard wear.

Here's New Trick to Hold Barrette

To keep a little girls barrette from slipping off her hair, glue a tiny bit of sponge rubber to the inside of her barrette.

This will hold it in place and you will be pleased with the neater appearance of her hair.

Very Versatile

Anything from a pair of overalls to a glamorous evening gown looks good in printed corduroy this season. And both are equally sudsable by hand or machine.

Baby Talk May Be Tenderness Displayed

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

When John's father was a small boy, his mother called his hands his "bannies."

One day she was visiting his wife and son when John got a splinter in his palm. She removed it, put a medicated adhesive bandage over the wound saying, "Now your banny will feel good and comfy again."

Lter after he'd retired to his nap, her daughter-in-law said stiffly, "Mother Payne, I iwsh you wouldn't talk baby talk to John. We don't believe in it. We are teaching him to use the correct words for all parts of his body, not baby-talk ones."

Today many parents share this scorn of baby talk to little children. As soonas a small boy or girl can speak, he is taught the scientific adult words for all portions of his anatomy as well as for the functions.

To hear them mouthing these clinical terms always reminds me of Charles Kingsley's Tom-Toddies—those poor little children whose parents stuffed their heads with so much grownup information that their heads turned into turnips, and burst like popguns.

Where did modern parents get their scorn of baby talk?

Well, many of the experts who write their child training books are passionate disciples of a school of psychology which regards tenderness as "goal-inhibited sexuality."

As baby talk to a little child is an expression of tenderness, I expect it comes under the same suspicion these people feel toward tenderness.

It seems a pity to me. For when we use some easily pronounced, baby word for some part of John's body or its function, we are meeting him on his own level of development. In warm and spontaneous understanding, we are accepting his two-year-old experience of his body and its uses as different from our adult experience of ours.

If this is "inhibited sexuality" in us, let's just put up with it.

Whatever tenderness is, little children sorely need it. In a world that continually badgers them to be old before their time, they can use tenderness expressed by any kind of talk.

Heaven knows where we'll all end if nobody ever dares to speak in the other fellow's terms.

Rob City Store of Safes, $1,015

$920 in Liquor, Goods Also Taken in Break-In at Dunseith Pharmacy

Two safes containing a total of $1,015 were stolen Saturday night from Dunseith's Pharmacy, 555 N. Perry St.

The burglary was reported to Pontiac police Sunday morning by William J. Dunseith of 1124 Crooks Rd., Avon Township, owner of the pharmacy.

Also taken by the burglars were 13 cases of liquor valued at $720, 80 cartons of cigarettes, $200 in checks, 10 cigarette lighters, and an undetermined amount of change from two unlocked cash registers.

A metal cabinet containing narcotics was forced open by the intruders. Several vials had been removed and placed in a cardboard box, but were left behind.

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Mack Sennett, one-time king of the movies who luxuriated in mansions with gold bathtubs, lives today in a gasoline station on bustling Hollywood boulevard—in near poverty.

More powerful in his day than Cecil B. DeMille, Sam Goldwyn and Jesse Lasky combined, Sennett spends his time feeding pigeons.

He can see famed Grauman's Chinese theater from his room. On premiere nights the klieg lights are visible. Cheers from the crowds are clearly heard.

But Mack Sennett has other things on his mind—his friends the pigeons, and dreams of a comeback.

Cheery and hopeful at 78, Sennett sat in the lobby of the apartment building (primarily a haven for elderly women) and explained, "I'd invite you up to my suite, but the afternoon sun gets terribly warm on the balcony."

PLAYS A GAME

There is no balcony.

He was dressed in a shiny, bespoted brown suit. His necktie was splattered with food, but Sennett's eyes were alert and merry.

Gallantly, Sennett plays a game harking back to yesteryear when he was a titan, discoverer of W. C. Fields, Bing Crosby, Charlie Chaplin and the father of the Keystone Kops.

Occasionally a TV bigwig with a long memory will place him in a bit part. But it is known that anything he might earn over $6,000 a year goes to the government for back taxes.

Undaunted by his circumstances, the graying oldster is a soft touch for former employes looking for a handout. They put the bite on him mercilessly, knowing full well he's pinched himself, and in failing health.

"Right now I'm working on a remake of 'Molly-O.' It starred Mabel Normand in the 20's," he said.

And that is Sennett's dream.

He deeply loved the sprightly little actress, and regrets never having married her. He is alone and without a family.

KNOW NOTHING

"I'm trying to get Joanne Woodward and Richard Egan to star in the picture with Leo McCarey producing and directing."

Neither the stars nor McCarey knew anything of the plans.

"Trouble is Universal-International has a property titled 'Kathy O' and I've gone to the Producer's Guild to make a formal complaint about it," Sennett added.

The man who made millions laugh with his two-reel comedies pushed his sweat-stained hat back on his head and recalled the day when Hollywood was a collection of orange groves and palm trees.

"That was back in 1912," he said with a smile. "Not long after that I had my own studio and people fought to get into my pictures.

In those days I had homes in Westmoreland Park and at the beach. They were happy times. Here," he said. "Here is a list of some of my stars."

Sennett drew a sheaf of yellowed paper from his coat. It contained the names of Carole Lombard, Harry Langdon, Gloria Swanson, Lloyd Hamilton and others who reached the heights.

"Some day they're going to make a picture of my life," he went on. "It will be a story about comedy and laughs. I always trusted myself on picking talent."

The old man paused. Then, his eyes sparkling, he suggested, "Why don't we make this a story for a magazine? It could be titled 'A 14-Minute Interview with Mack Sennett.' I don't know about you, but I could use the money."

He hoisted himself heavily from his chair. "Must get back to work. Have a lot of work to do upstairs."

EXCITING EVENT

He marched proudly to the lobby desk and addressed a matronly clerk. "That was a United Press International reporter," he announced. "He's going to write a story about me—maybe for a magazine, too."

This was an exciting event to a man who 30 years ago was the most important mogul in movieland.

Half an hour later Sennett threw open the window of his room and the pigeons collected for their afternoon feeding. Some even flew inside.

No Hope for 25 Men Still Missing in Mine

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (AP) — Rescue workers kept digging today in the Cumberland No. 2 coal mine but there was no real hope for any of the 25 men still missing.

Three more bodies were brought out Sunday night, bringing the total recovered to 49. One hundred miners were rescued, the last seven on Saturday after 8½ days deep underground in a small debris-enclosed pocket.

The 174 miners were caught in an underground earth shift Oct. 23 which jammed the shaft at various points with rock and rubble and loosed poison gas.

Cumberland No. 2 was Springhill's last operating mine, the Cumberland No. 4 colliery having been sealed after an explosion two years ago that killed 39 men. Sentiment is strong in the town of 7,000 against resuming operations in the No. 2 shaft.

British Women Can Lose Panties at Any Moment

LONDON (UPI) — Thousands of British women are in mortal danger of losing their panties at any moment, the tabloid Sunday Pictorial warned yesterday.

It said a big manufacturer of women's panties had admitted his firm was gluing the elastic waistbands together instead of sewing them and that the glue sometimes gives way after repeated washing and ironing.

The Pictorial said the Countess of Haddington was one of the first victims and that anyone could be the next. It happened when she was opening an exhibition at Edinburgh a week ago, it said.

But it had good news for the future. The firm is now sewing the elastic together, it said.

Lighted Burner Causes $4,600 Waterford Fire

A lighted burner on an electric stove, left on while the owners were away, was responsible for a $4,600 fire in Waterford Township yesterday.

Firemen, who battled the fire for more than 3½ hours, said the blaze started about 10 a.m. in the kitchen of the Leon Adams $9,500 frame home, 1193 Coshockton Ave. A neighbor reported the fire.

Oats and barley can be grown farther north than wheat.

Charlotte Farmer Kills Wife, Then Self

CHARLOTTE (UP)— A farmer and his wife were found shot to death in their rural home near here yesterday in what Coroner M. Donald Burkhead described as a murder and suicide.

The victims were Kenneth Betz, 43, and his wife, Irene, 51.

Sheriff Elwin Smith said Betz apparently shot his wife with a 12 gauge shotgun and then turned the weapon on himself.

The double shooting was discovered when a party of hunters went to the back door seeking permission to hunt on the farm. The hunters, Harold Smith, Kenneth Knight and Hal Noble, all of Lansing, saw Mrs. Betz's body on the kitchen floor. Betz' body was found in the living room, the shotgun in his hands.

Mrs. Betz worked at a factory in Lansing about 12 miles from the couple's home. Smith said a suitcase packed with the woman's clothes was found near her body.

Pontiac Woman Freed of Homicide Charge

A Pontiac woman charged with the auto death of a 71-year-old pedestrian has been fred by Detroit Traffic Judge George T. Murphy.

Charges of negligent homicide against Wanda De Potty, 33, of 1077 Durant Ave. were dismissed following examination, because the prosecution failed to produce any eyewitnesses to the accident, Judge Murphy said.

She had been accusd by police in the death of William N. Young of Highland Park, who was struck Oct. 1 as he crossed Woodward Ave. at Adams.

3 Generations Join YWCA

By RICHARD SAUNDERS

When Judy, 15, first joined the Y-Teen Club at her school, she wasn't exactly walking into a new and different experience.

The fact of the matter was that Pontiac's YWCA, a United Fund agency, had played a big part in her family for many years.

Judy, through her Y-Teen Club was engaging in leisure time activities which would prove of great value to her in later years.

She was making friends, having fun at social events, working with others on various school and community service projects, and getting an opportunity to see and hear occasional speakers of public interest.

Judy was reaping the benefits of learning leadership and character building traits in her leisure time. This is the principal aim of the YWCA, while offering enjoyable and interesting diversions to women and girls of all ages in their "off hours."

Judy was well primed on the value of this organization. Her mother had been a mmber for many years. In fact, she became a member before she was married and participated in various night classes.

The "Y" is even credited with playing cupid in this case. Judy's parents first met at a USO event. After her marriage, Judy's mom continued her "Y" activities, using the organization's convenient nursery facilities during daytime events after Judy came along.

Now she is a member of the adult group and spends most of her time working on committees and volunteering for supervisory services on such projects as recreational nights for convalescing young adult patients from Pontiac State Hospital.

Naturally, the picture wouldn't be complete without a third generation member of the "Y." The whole family got its start from Judy's grandmother, who is now a "Golden Age" member.

The Golden Age classification is for women 65 years old and up. At the present time, the local YWCA has members of this group ranging up to 93 years old.

"Granny," as Judy calls her, has it easy. Everything is done for her now. She attends luncheons and various programs twice a month, and if she has a transportation problem, the YWCA staff sees to it that she is picked up and driven home.

Judy's family is but one instance where an entire family has profited by YWCA services. These are women who don't just "sit around" in their spare time.

The Pontiac YWCA, through United Fund contributions, is constantly striving to offer women of all ages an opportunity to get out make friends, and improve themselves while enjoying their leisure time.

Voters Advised Notices in Error

Walled Lake Won't Have Any Changes in Poll Locations

WALLED LAKE — Voters in the Walled Lake School District who received notices from junior high school students about changes in polling places for tomorrow's general election have been advised to disregard them, according to Principal Murray Adams.

Through an error, the polling places listed were confused in some cases with precincts for school elections.

According to information from the West Bloomfield Township office, no changes in precincts have been made in the township in several years. Residents will continue to vote where they have in the past.

Harry Helvey, Commerce Township clerk, said some changes had been made in his township during the past year, but that in all cases the registered voters were informed by mail prior to the primary.

These include all voters in Wolverine Lake Village who now belong to precinct 2 and vote at 2806 Fisher St., the Commerce Township office.

The other change was that some voters in precinct 4 were switched to precinct 5. Both of the precincts are at Union Lake Elementary School as in the past.

West Bloomfield Township residents in precinct 4 will continue to vote at Green Lake Fire Station.

Sees His Plane Take Off, Fly, Land—Empty

HARMONY, Minn. (AP) — "It flew so beautifully," said a student pilot who watched his runaway airplane take off without him and circle gracefully for 45 minutes Sunday.

The adventurous little plane came down rightside-up in a cornfield, flipped once, and then bounced into an upright position again, although heavily damaged.

Planning a short pleasure cruise, Neil Haugerud had faced the 85-horsepower Aeronca Chief up a slight grade on the John Hammervold farm, where the Fillmore Flying Club maintains a landing strip. The 28-year-old insurance man gave the propellor a tug.

"But instead of idling like it should have," the awed Haugerud explained, "it revved up to full throttle immediately and jumped ahead. I tried to get to the door but the plane went past me. It took off almost immediately."

Haugerud scurried to the Richard Johnson farm to telephone the air tower at Rochester, Minn., asking that the Civil Aeronautics Administration be notified a pilotless plane was aloft. Highway patrolmen were notified.

The plane, meanwhile, was climbing in broad circles. It reached an estimated 5,000-foot altitude. On the ground, Haugerud and the Johnsons stared in amazement.

"Then something must have happened," said Haugerud, "because the flight pattern changed and the plane started spiraling down in the same kind of circles that it made going up."

The descent took 10 to 15 minutes. The two-place ship came down on the Orland Brokken farm, more than a half mile from any house.

Haugerud doesn't know what caused the plane to take off by itself.

"Maybe the throttle was pushed forward," he said. "Or maybe something in the carburetor was stuck. I don't know."

ROBERTA E. PALMER

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Roberta E. Palmer of 432 W. Brown St., Birmingham, to Daniel Timmreck. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Bruce Clink of Yale. Her fiance is the son of Paul J. Timmreck of 1150 E. Avon Rd., Rochester, and the late Mrs. Timmreck. A May wedding is being planned.

State Traffic Deaths Down for October

LANSING (AP) — Michigan last month posted its best highway traffic safety record for October in 25 years, including the World War II period when travel was restricted.

State Police reported today that fatalities last month totaled 96, down 32 per cent from the 142 count for October 1955. The figure is subject to upward revision by delayed deaths.

It was the sixth month of 1958 in which fewer than 100 persons met death on the highways.

The favorable October record padded the lead being built over last year in the drive to cut fatalities. In the first 10 months of 1958, State Police reported 1,050 killed, or 196 fewer than in the corresponding 1957 period.

Orion Township Hall to House CD Office

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Orion Township - Lake Orion Office of Civil Defense will be located in the township hall, 571 South Broadway St., after Nov. 4.

Richard McNeil, director, announced that several pamphlets on phases of family defense are available to the public. He also asked that all registration cards be turned in to the office so the files will be complete.

Mrs. Harold Fox is in charge of the office, which will be open each Tuesday from 2 to 4 p.m. and Fridays from 7 to 9 p.m. Mrs. James Fitch and Mrs. Martin Carlson will be her assistants.

Expect Heavy Voting at Farmington Polls

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Heavy balloting is expected tomorrow in Farmington Township, Clerk Floyd A. Cairns said today.

This has been attributed to two controversial incorporation proposals, which have stirred up more voter interest than any issue since the race track plan on the April 1956 ballot, according to Cairns.

He pointed out that 9,485 voters registered for this election, compared to 8,800 for the August primary.

Few persons appear to be disinterested or astride the fence. They are decidedly for or against the incorporations.

One proposal would incorporate the city of Farmington Woods and the other would create the city of Clarenceville. Approval of both would take in more than half the present township area.

Few of the advantages or disadvantages of incorporation have been overlooked during the campaign, and rarely have residents been better informed on a local political issue.

Two citizens' committees have been going at it hammer and tongs, pointing out the pros and cons. The Township Board hired two Wayne State University professors to study and summerize the issues in a "descriptive and analytical" report.

The proposed city of Clarenceville, with an area of 4.1 square miles, has a population of about 8,540. Farmington Woods, which is 14.5 square miles, has an estimated 9,820 population.

Bigger Union Hoffa's Aim

Says McClellan Group, Laws, Courts Will Not Stop Teamsters

PITTSBURGH (AP) — James R. Hoffa, president of the 1,600,000-member Teamsters Union—largest single labor union in the nation—says it will grow to 4½ million members under his leadership.

"We will not be stopped by the McClellan Committee, laws or the courts; we will move forward," Hoffa told the 30th anniversary dinner of Teamsters Local 211 last night.

Hoffa said the union's membership will be swelled by bringing unorganized transportation workers everywhere into the Teamsters.

He sniped at leaders of the AFL-CIO, which ousted the Teamsters about a year ago, by saying "They have forgotten where they came from."

Earlier in Toledo, Ohio, Hoffa told mambers of a Teamster local that Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, is interested in getting the title of "Mr. Labor" when "in reality he doesn't represent labor at all."

Hoffa said the UAW "sold out its locals by not supporting them in recent negotiations with the automobile manufacturers."

Hoffa's accusations were in answer to those made by Reuther in Cincinnati Friday. The UAW chief was quoted as saying Hoffa "has a price tag" and "he's for sale."

Skid Accident Injures UAW Local President

Andy Wilson, president of GMC Truck & Coach Division UAW Local 594, was injured when his car rolled over yesterday morning on a side road near U.S. 16 in Webberville.

Wilson, 47, of 1098 Boston St., Waterford Township, is in satisfactory condition with possible back injuries in McPherson Hospital, Howell. His son, Kelly, 16, was with him but was not injured.

Police said Wilson's car skidded on wet pavement.

Want TV Loud? Others Mumble? Check Your Ears

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you like to have the television set turned up a little louder than anyone else in the room, you may be one of the 15 million Americans who suffer from faulty hearing.

Other clues listed by the Hearing Aid Industry Conference to indicate whether or not your hearing is normal include:

Do you habitually turn one side of your head toward a speaker? Do people seem to be mumbling more often than they used to? Do you fail to hear a big improvement when listening to hi-fi?

Do you often ask people to repeat what they said? Ever bothered by a "ringing" in your ears? Do you have trouble hearing at the movies or at church? Do you occasionally have trouble locating the source of a sound?

A yes answer to some of these questions means you ought to have your hearing checked by a physician.

Plenty of Fish on Menu

TOKYO — Daily fish consumption in Japan is 102 grams. This compares with 14 grams for the United States and 36 for England.

Italy Requires Italian Names

Ruling of 1939 Forbids Any Foreign Moniker on Birth Certificate

ROME (UPI) — Genghis Khan may not be the name you would choose for your new-born son, but shopkeeper Giorgio Garbini liked the sound of it and put it on the birth certificate.

But Garbini was in for a surprise. At the registry office he was informed:

"Under article 72 of the state civil code, it is forbidden to bestow on babies in Italy foreign or foreign-sounding names."

Garbini refused to accept defeat. He took the issue to a high court.

But the law is explicit. Even the proposal of making Genghis Khan a second name after Paolo was denied.

This law came into effect July 9, 1939 and is still valid despite the fall of Benito Mussolini. The then dictator approved the law because immediately after the 1915-18 war many Italian babies were given English and Russian names, including such as Trotzky, Stalin and Lenin.

CHANGES DIFFICULT

Parents and the bearers of these names later desperately tried to have them changed, but the red-tape involved made it an almost impossible undertaking.

"When we are presented with names such as Ivan or Mirka, we simply alter them to Ivano or Mirca," he explained. "It saves a lot of trouble."

Officials at the La Spezia registry office, where Garbini registered his son's birth, simply cancelled out Genghis Khan and the name now stands as Paolo Garbini.

Most officials believe the law is a good one, only it must be known how to interpret it. Names such as Olga, Libia and Cinthis, though not strictly Italian names, are near enough in sound to get by.

One foreign name, however, is common throughout Italy and can be still bestowed on babies if desired. The name is Walter. This name was popular in the Trento-Alto Adige region under Austria. When Italy occupied the region it was forced to recognize it as legal, for in no way can it be Italianized.

Record Soybean Crop?

WASHINGTON — The number of acres planted to soybeans in the United States is approaching another record — 24,000,000 compared with 21,800,000 last year. Farm Department experts say this indicates a 460,000,000 bushel crop for 1958, maybe larger.

Two Lads Held by Court Lead Normal Life of U.S.; Parents Return to Russia

LAKE VILLA, Ill. (UPI—Two young brothers once embroiled in what threatened to become an international dispute are getting all the love and care possible for a normal American upbringing — while their parents live half a world away in the Soviet Union.

The lads are Richard Kozmin, 11, and George, 9. They and their younger brothers—Paul 8, and Peter, 1½—are in the United States by order of a Chicago Family Court which rejected their parents' attempt to whisk them away behind the Irion Curtain.

Paul and Peter are in foster homes, but Richard and George are living here at the Central Baptists Children's home in the rolling countryside of northeastern Illinois.

Mrs. Robert Hansen, a tall, slender brunette who with her husband acts as "houseparent" to the two Kozmins and eight other boys, said:

"We simply want them to learn to live with themselves—to have table manners, to get along with their friends, to control their tempers, to read—and to believe in God."

Their parents, George and Nabejda Kozmin, came to the U.S. in 1950 from a Russian labor camp by way of a German displaced persons center where the three older boys were born.

The need for making one adjustment after another broke the parents. They suffered mental collapses and were sent to a state hospital.

On their release, the Kozmins decided to return to Russia and sued for custody of the children.

But the older boys told Family Court Judge John F. Clayton Jr. at a dramatic hearing in Chicago that they wanted to remain in the U.S. Clayton decided it would not be wise to hand them over to their parents "at this time."

PARENTS LEAVE

So George and Nabejda Kozmin left for Russia—alone—on June 11, 1957.

Since then, young Richard and George have heard from thier parents only once. Not long after returning to the Soviet Union, the father telephoned.

But the call was not successful, Mrs. Hansen said. Kozmin speaks hardly any English. The boys do not understand Russian.

This reporter was not permitted to talk to the boys during a visit to their home. But it is obvious that they are getting every possible chance to lead normal lives.

The stucco cottage on which they live is on a 30-acre estate 50 miles from Chicago. The grounds overlook Deep Lake, where the children boat. Heavily laden apple trees tempt junior merchants with an ambition to set up roadside stands.

Richard is a calm, deliberate boy, an avid reader, sometimes more interested in the book at hand than in school assignments. He is keenly interested in science.

George, less studious, must work harder than his brother to learn his lessons.

State Labor Mediators Receive 6,609 Cases

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan State Labor Mediation Board received 6,609 cases and closed 5,071 in the 12-month period that ended June 30, Chairman Allan D. Chisholm said today.

Chisholm said the case load was the heaviest in the 20-year history of the board. But, he said, the number of work stoppages approached an all time low.

Strike Vote Postponed, Too Many Men Turn Out

DETROIT (AP) — A scheduled strike vote by two United Auto Workers locals was postponed for one week yesterday because too many members turned out to vote.

Spokesmen for Locals 155 and 157 estimated 2,000 members were unable to enter a union hall which has a capacity of 1,500. The locals' total membership is 8,000.

The local members are employed in jobbing shops covered by a master contract of the Automotive Tool and Die Assn.

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS ROMAIN

Rochester Couple Wed

ROCHESTER — Upon return from their honeymoon in northern Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Romain will make their home in Rochester. The couple was united in marriage by the Rev. Edward G. Baumgartner at St. Andrew's Catholic Church in Rochester.

The former Gail Sharleen Butler, the bride is the daughter of Mrs. Clifford V. Markgraf of 325 Red Oak St. and Mr. Raymond Butler, also of Rochester.

Maid of honor was Sarah Jane Cooper. Pat Wheeler and Darlene Butler, the bride's sister-in-law, were bridesmaids. Junior bridesmaid was the bride's cousin, Sue Matche.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his brother-in-law, Earl Slopowski. Ushers were Gayle Nelson, Dan Butler, brother of the bride, and Ricky Romain, the bridegroom's brother.

The wedding breakfast was served at Sylvan Glen Country Club. An evening reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Utica.

2 Boys Shot to Death; State Hunting Toll—5

ST. IGNACE (AP) — The gunshot fatality count in Michigan's small game hunting season stood at five today with the weekend deaths of two boys in separate hunting accidents.

Russel McCabe Jr., 12, of Pickford, was shot in the back of the head yesterday while hunting on a relative's farm near St. Ignace. State Police said the boy was shot by his father, Russel McCabe Sr., 54, who had mistaken him for some kind of game.

Walter G. Tesner, 15, was killed Saturday while pheasant hunting with two friends on his family's farm near Mount Clemens. Deputies said Walter was shot accidentally by Roy Winbigler, 14.

PACK 'EM NOW — To be assured your loved ones overseas will have a merrier Christmas by receiving their holiday packages in time, now is the time to get them in the mail, according to Robert C. Miller, acting postmaster. Above is a sketch of the mailing regulations for most overseas' destinations. Some localities have different requirements for size, weight and content of packages so check with the post office.

Overseas Holiday Parcels Must Be Mailed by Nov. 4

Now is the time to mail Christmas packages to the boys away from home who are overseas, according to Acting Postmaster Robert C. Miller.

He urged the public to begin planning Christmas mailings now so that they will be ready to be mailed by Nov. 20, the final date of assurance of arrival by Christmas.

Noting that the Post Office Department each year is unable to deliver or return about half a million parcels including the many lost at Christmastime because of poor packaging or addressing, he suggests several steps mailers could take to protect themselves against loss.

1. Check and revise mailing lists.

2. Type or hand-print gummed mailing labels and fill them out now and save time later.

3. Use complete addresses. Don't abbreviate. Include delivery zone number.

4. Make a list of mailing needs and start buying good quality mailing materials—strong cord and heavy wrapping paper.

5. Get at least some Christmas parcels in the mails soon with a notation that they are not to be opened until Christmas. This will minimize mailing problems during the holiday rush.

6. Plan to use insurance on all parcels. He added that insurance fees and parcel post rates were not affected by the recent postal rate changes.

The term "Armed Forces overseas" includes personnel of the Armed Forces, members of their families and authorized United States civilians employed overseas, who received their mail through an APO number, Miller explained.

Boxes sent abroad should contain sufficient cushioning material so that the contents will be tightly packed to prevent rattling or loosening of articles in the package.

A slip showing a list of contents and addressee should be enclosed in every box or package.

Matches, lighter fluid and foods subject to spoilage are prohibitive articles which cannot be sent overseas. Cigarettes, other tobacco products and coffee are also prohibited in parcels addressed to certain military areas, so Miller advised prospective mailers to first check with the post office on anything on which there is doubt.

The deadline for cards and letters sent abroad is Dec. 1 through 10.

St. Fred Muffs Title Chance; St. Mike Wins

By BILL CORNWELL

St. Frederick's dream of an outright Suburban Catholic League football championship became a nightmare Sunday afternoon at Ives Field in Highland Park.

A fighting, determined St. Benedict team which refused to be awed by St. Fred's impressive league record knocked the Rams' hopes for an undisputed SCL crown into a cocked hat with a Frank Merriwell comeback.

The Ravens, 14 points behind at the end of the 1st quarter, bounced back with a vengeance to stun St. Fred, 27-21, in a point-a-minute thriller to throw the parochial race into a three-way scramble for the title.

St. Ben scored its 4th and winning touchdown with only three minutes left in the game, then battled tenaciously to protect it as the Rams butted their way to the enemy 10-yard stripe where the clock ran out to kill their last chance.

The Rams entered yesterday's game with a 5-0 loop record, hotly pursued by both St. Ben and St. Michael which were tied for 2nd place at 4-1.

St. Fred's loss to St. Ben combined with St. Mike's victory throws the three teams into a 1st place deadlock, all with 5-1 marks. Each school will be a top-heavy favorite to win next Sunday's conference finale and create a triple tie for the SCL title.

Jack Lyon, St. Fred's great fullback who ran like a mad bull yesterday, tallied all three touchdowns, but his herculean efforts could not offset St. Ben's balanced attack as quarterback Art Massucci and halfback Dan Donar each hit pay dirt twice.

The way this wide-open, hard-hitting struggle began, it looked as though the Rams would stage a runaway. They raced to a pair of touchdowns before the Ravens had time to catch their breath.

St. Fred drove to a touchdown from the opening kickoff. The push spanned 60 yards and Lyon swept around left end for the final 26. Chuck Deschaine place-kicked the 1st of his three perfect conversions.

The Rams held for downs on their own 31-yard line, then covered 69 yards in eight plays for their 2nd TD. Lyon zipped 18 yards around the right side for the tally after scooting 39 yards five plays earlier. Deschaine converted.

Then the ball started bouncing the other direction. The Ravens received the ensuing kickoff and drove 50 yards to score. A penalty from the St. Fred nine to the one put the Rams against the wall and Massucci sneaked across. Fullback Mark Storen booted the extra point.

St. Ben tried an onside kickoff and the Rams fumbled with the Ravens taking control on the St. Fred 32. It was a costly fumble. The Ravens capitalized on their good fortune and eight plays later Massucci again sneaked over from the one. Storen converted and it was 14-14 at half-time.

The Rams seized a 21-14 lead midway through the 3rd period when Lyon broke through the left side and outraced the St. Ben secondary for a 49-yard scoring play. Deschaine kicked the extra point.

St. Ben rebounded immediately as Donar returned the following kickoff 85 yards for a TD. Storen's kick for the tying point was wide to the left and the Rams clung to a 21-20 lead.

A punt by Tom Derocher which went only one yard from scrimmage after sailing out of bounds on the St. Ben 43 paved the way for the winning TD.

With the aid of a 28-yard pass completion from Massucci to halfback Ed Everhart, the Ravens reached the St. Fred two from where Donar skirted right end for the score. Storen's boot was perfect and that was that.

Time was against them, but the Rams went down fighting. With Lyon carrying the brunt of the offense, they took the kickoff and marched from their own 39 to the St. Ben 10 before the clock expired.

TD: St. Fred — Lyon 3 (26, 18, 49, runs); St. Ben — Massucci 2 (1, 1, plunges), Donar 2 (85, kickoff return, 3, run).

Northwestern, picked with Indiana for the Big Ten cellar, now rests in second place with a 3-1 record, the only loss being to Iowa. Sophomore quarterback Dick Thornton passed for two touchdowns and scored once and added all three points for the Wildcats.

EVY'S DAY, TOO—Iowa coach Forest Evashevski of Iowa finally had "his" day at Ann Arbor. The Hawkeyes defeated the Wolverines and Evashevski got a ride on the shoulders of his players. The score was 37-14.

The Air Force Academy, which is still unbeaten and has only a 13-13 tie with Iowa to mar its football record, is pushing 217-pound senior tackle Brock Strom of Ironwood, Mich., for All-America honors.

Art Greenwald, Rochester fight manager of Saginaw's welterweight Mickey Crawford, has obtained the services of veteran trainer Charley Goldman for his fighter.

Iowa coach Forest Evashevski said Saturday his current team is stronger offensively than the Hawkeye Rose Bowl team of 1956 but weaker on defense. A definite weakness against passing was evident in the victory over Michigan as the Wolverines went 147 yards through the air.

The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today the signing of two young right-handed pitchers. Mike Costagliola, 18, of Jackson Heights, N. Y., and Tom Haake, 20, of Germantown, Ill., have been assigned to Pirate farm clubs.

Canadian footballer Ronnie Howell will join either the New York Rangers or Buffalo of the American Hockey League following the grid season. Ron is the younger brother of Ranger defenseman Harry Howell.

Lions Return to 'Charitable' Ways

Controversial Pitchout Ends Detroit Rally

Y. A. Tittle Comes Off Bench to Guide 49ers to 24-21 Win

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Detroit Lions, after a short taste of victory, have returned to their charitable ways.

San Francisco tried hard to give yesterday's game to the Lions but they just wouldn't have it and fell 24-21.

The play that proved the turning point is a familiar one to Detroit followers. It's a pitchout within the enemy five that flies out of reach of the intended halfback.

Bobby Layne was roundly criticized for calling such a play in Green Bay several weeks ago and the next day he wasn't on the team. It's doubtful anything like that will happen to Tobin Rote, however. He's the only healthy quarterback left.

Rote had about his worst day as a pro and there was nothing coach George Wilson could do but leave him in there since Earl Morrall's shoulder was hurt a week ago at Los Angeles.

The Lions held a 21-17 lead at the time of the big gift. It happened on the third play of the third period. Gil Mains had hopped on a fumbled handoff on the 49er 26 to set up the drive. Detroit had it second and goal from the three when Rote swung out to his left and pitched out to Hopalong Cassady.

The pitchout had the height that many of Rote's aerials lacked all day. The only trouble was, it sailed way over Cassady's head and Matt Hazeltine pounced on it to kill the threat that would have put the game out of reach.

From that "second life," the 49ers snapped back with Y. A. Tittle coming in for the first time early in the last quarter to direct a triumphal 71-yard touchdown drive in five plays.

The 49ers' "old pro," out the last two weeks because of an injury, piloted the march with precision as he hit Hugh McElhenny with strikes of 34 and 33 yards, the latter one going for the touchdown with McElhenny turning in a sparkling piece of broken field running to slide away from most of the Lion team.

There was a faint glimmer of hope in the Lion camp when Joe Schmidt picked off his second interception of the day with 4:30 to play but the Lions couldn't push it over as an offside penalty killed them after Gene Gedman had raced 25 yards to the one only to have it called back.

All three Lion touchdowns came on breaks. Yale Lary intercepted John Brodie's pass on the first play of the game and Rote went in from the three to cap the 37-yard drive.

San Francisco, on explosive running by rookie Jim Pace from Michigan and veteran Joe (the Jet) Perry, rebounded with 17 points in the second period.

Pace went 34 yards on a reverse to set up the first with Brodie passing to Clyde Conner from the four and Perry blasted 61 yards to set up Gordie Soltau's 13-yard field goal.

Perry then went 73 yards on another trap play for a touchdown. He gained a total of 174 yards, only four fewer than in the previous five games.

Detroit rallied with 14 in the third period after Schmidt and Mains combined to cover McElhenny's fumble on the 13 and Schmidt's interception set up Rote's 17-yarder to Jim Doran.

Rote completed only nine of 26 passes for 41 yards — the worst Lion total in recent history while San Francisco had 177 on passes and 234 on the ground.

SPORTS

PRECIOUS YARDAGE — Gene Gedman (26) of the Detroit Lions picks up some valuable yardage against the San Francisco 49ers yesterday with Matt Hazeltine (55) and Bill Herchman (72) moving in on him. Gedman later had a 25 yard run to the one yard line nullified to kill a Lions' scoring chance. The 49ers won, 24-21.

Colts Murder Green Bay, 56-0

Giants End Browns' Streak

By United Press International

"Stop booing poor old Charley and bring on those Baltimore Colts."

That was the New York Giants' slogan today as they gloated over a 21-17 Sunday triumph that snapped Cleveland's five-game winning streak and left them only a game behind the Browns in the National Football League's eastern division.

Next Sunday the Giants entertain the league's only remaining undefeated team, the galloping Colts who crushed the Green Bay Packers 56-0, Baltimore, aided by the Rams' 41-35 victory over the Chicago Bears before 100,474 at Los Angeles, took a two-game lead in the Western Division.

Who's "poor old Charley?" That's Charley Conerly, 37 going on 38, the grey-haired Mississippi cotton farmer and ex-Marine who has played quarterback for the Giants for 11 years. The fans booed Charley at the Polo Grounds, they boo him now at Yankee Stadium, and 78,404 stunned Clevelanders felt like giving him a record razzing yesterday in their big Municipal Stadium.

Because it was old Charley, hammered and pounded as he has been for so many years by Cleveland's aggressive defenders, who fired the three scoring passes that handed the Browns their first 1958 defeat. The Giants, 10-point underdogs and playing without all-league halfback Frank Gifford, kept the Browns from taking a three-game lead and breaking the eastern race wide open.

Bobby Layne's two touchdown passes paced the Steelers to a 24-16 victory over the Washington Redskins at Pittsburgh, and Norm Van Brocklin's one-yard toss to Dick Bielski with 17 seconds to play gave the Philadelphia Eagles a 21-21 tie with the Cardinals at Chicago.

But Conerly produced Sunday's key NFL story as a record six-game attendance of 326,431 shot the pro league toward a crowd mark for the seventh straight year. Sunday's Bears-Rams crowd was the second largest individual throng in league history, topped only by the 102,368 attendance for the 1957 Rams-Forty-Niners game at Los Angeles.

With Don Heinrich, New York's other quarterback, sidelined with an ankle injury, Conerly had to go all the way. And things looked bright for the Browns when Ken Konz stole one of "poor old Charley's" passes and raced 46 yards to give them a 17-7 halftime lead.

Two minutes before that, Jim Brown, the league's top rusher and scorer, raced 58 yards to score. But it was a different story in the second half when the New York defense kept the Browns from crossing their own 40.

Conerly, who had fired a 39-yard scoring pass to Bob Schnelker in the second quarter, climaxed a 77-yard third period drive with a 15-yard touchdown heave to Alex Webster. The Giants then got to keep the ball when their punter, Don Chandler, was roughed by Paul Wiggin and Conerly threw 10 yards to Webster for the winning touchdown early in the final period.

Conerly's three touchdown passes gave him a total of 140, moved him ahead of Sid Luckman of the Bears (139) and left him second only to Sammy Baugh of the Redskins (187) among NFL touchdown tossers.

Brown, who averaged 163 rushing yards in his first five games, was "held" to 113 in 13 tries while Mel Triplett of the Giants gained 116. Brown now has 928, only 218 short of Steve Van Buren's season record of 1,146.

The New York defense probably faces a stiffer task next Sunday in a Baltimore Club that has averaged 39 points a game.

The Colts owe a vote of thanks to the Rams in general and Jon Arnett in particular for helping them boost their lead to two games. Tom Wilson scored three times for the Rams but it was Arnett who really wrecked the Bears. Jon rushed for 90 yards, gained 118 on punt returns and 71 on passes and was described as "one of the greatest of all time in football" by coach George Halas of the Bears.

Dalrymple Top Meet Qualifier

ATLANTA (AP) — John Dalrymple of St. Clair Shores, Mich., fired a 2-over-par 74 Sunday to lead players qualifying for the $25,000 Atlanta Open Golf Tournament which starts Wednesday.

The 31-year-old professional had a 36 on the front nine and a 38 coming in over the rugged 7,004-yard Cherokee Town and Country Club course.

A field of 123 will tee off in the first round Wednesday. The 72-hole event ends Sunday. There will be no play Saturday to avoid conflict with the Clemson-Georgia Tech football game.

Placing second to Dalrymple were professionals Tom Talkington, Ypsilanti, Mich., with a 38-37—75, and Jerry Magee of Toronto, Canada, with a 39-36—75.

European Fighters Heavy Challengers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The National Boxing Assn., today, for the first time in modern ring history, designated two Europeans as the No. 1 and No. 2 challengers for the world heavyweight crown.

Ingemar Johansson of Sweden was listed as top contender for champion Floyd Patterson's crown. Brian London of England was ranked No. 2.

Henry Cooper, English heavyweight who recently decision Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., No. 3 on the current list, was named the October boxer of the month by the NBA ratings committee. Gustave Scholz, German middleweight who stopped Charles Humez of France for the European title, was given honorable mention.

Lost in the Fog

You Got the Ball? Nope!

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP)—The Oak Bay Drakes and Navy played a football game Saturday—they think.

A thick fog covered the Royal Athletic Park. Players appeared and disappeared from view of the stands, and from each other.

One of Navy's halfbacks said he kept waiting and listening for a play to come toward his area.

Once he heard footsteps. Out of the fog came an opponent. "You got the ball?" he asked. "Nope," said the opponent, and they sauntered off looking for the game.

After three quarters, Navy led 13-3. Then someone made a startling discovery. Somebody had made off with the goal posts.

Play was suspended for the day. Officials said they would reschedule the fourth quarter for a later date.

Early Tallies Give Shamrocks 20-7 Victory

By H. GUY MOATS

Scoring twice in the first period after taking advantage of a St. Clement fumble, and then stopping the Crusaders on the one-yard stripe, St. Michael gridders Sunday afternoon hung on to their 13-point lead to win, 20-7.

Yesterday's victory was the fifth for the Shamrocks, who now share the Suburban Catholic League top spot with St. Frederick and St. Benedict. North Siders have lost one game, to St. Frederick, but upset the Ravens, who broke the Rams' string yesterday.

On the second play of the game Crusaders' Bob Fortin fumbled when big Gary Sonnenberg hit him at the 40-yard marker. Pat Campbell recovered and the Shamrocks were on their way to a TD. Eight plays later Carl Gange, who did a grand job all afternoon, drove over from the one.

Crusaders roared back with a drive that took them to the Shamrock 17, but lost the scoring chance when halted by a stiffening St. Michael defense.

Shamrocks rolled again, with Gange, Tom Dabbs and Bill Flanigan lugging the leather, down to the St. Clement 16. Mike Flynn fired a pass to Chuck Steinhelper who stepped over for the TD. Gange kicked the PAT.

Crusaders collected their lone tally in the 2nd session while holding Mikes scoreless. The TD was the result of the encounter's most spectacular run. Crusaders got the ball on a recovered Shamrock fumble on the 35. On the 2nd play Ken Oberliesen, Clement ace and game's outstanding player, broke through the Shamrock line, eluded several tacklers, and outraced defenders to cross the goal line. Bob Fortin ran for the PAT.

The 3rd period witnessed the top dramatic incident. Visitors had driven to Shamrocks' one yard stripe, from their own 34 where a recovered St. Michael fumble gave them the ball. With a first down on the seven, Fortin and Oberliesen rammed to the one. On the 4th down, Oberliesen skirted left end, and was almost over when thrown back by Paul Pruente and Jim Zugras. That was the last scoring threat for Crusaders.

Shamrocks put over the insurance marker in the last three minutes of the game. Tom Dabbs fired a perfect toss to Ron Call on the 42, and Call raced down the sidelines, aided by three fine blocks, for the final TD. Zugras passed to Steinhelper for the PAT.

Shamrocks have one game left, at RO St. Mary, the coming weekend. They may have paid dearly for their victory yesterday, however, with Campbell suffering a possible jaw fracture late in the game; Joe Gallardo and Mike Flynn suffering injured hands and Zugras a leg injury. All four were treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

"We were glad to win that one," said coach Jim Niebauer. "St. Clement was a real tough outfit, and I took a big breath when we stopped them in the 3rd period. If they'd got that one we would have been really in trouble."

Wings Nip Ranger Cousins, 2-1

Verdict Decided Early on Goals by Howe, Burns

Win at New York 3rd Straight for Detroit Over Broadway Boys

NEW YORK (UPI)—As long as they keep the Rangers in the league, the Detroit Red Wings won't have to worry about a National Hockey League playoff berth and Gordie Howe will keep scoring goals.

The Wings won their third in as many starts from the Rangers last night to break even on their two-game weekend swing to the East.

Howe fired his fourth goal of the season in a first period power play and rookie Charlie Burns netted the other in the Wings' 2-1 victory last night. The "Boston jinx" prevailed Saturday as the Bruins won 3-1.

Howe whistled a 25-footer past Gump Worsley during a power play for a 1-0 first period lead and Burns banked the winner off Worsley's head at 3:56 of the middle period. All four of Howe's goals have come against the Broadway Blues.

Burns, standing outside the crease, lifted a rebound that hit Worlsey on the head and bounced into the cage.

Lou Fontinato lashed a long drive from just inside the blue line to cut Detroit's margin to one goal at 9:10 of the final period but the Wings gave goalie Terry Sawchuk all the protection he needed to blank the Rangers the rest of the way.

Sawchuk had a total of 38 stops to only 25 for Worsley.

Someone Just Goofed

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Missouri's cross country team beat Nebraska by one point here Saturday 27-28.

An earlier erroneous report, originating with the Nebraska athletic department, had Nebraska winning.

"We goofed," explained a university spokesman.

Passing Show by Knox Fails to Help 'Argos'

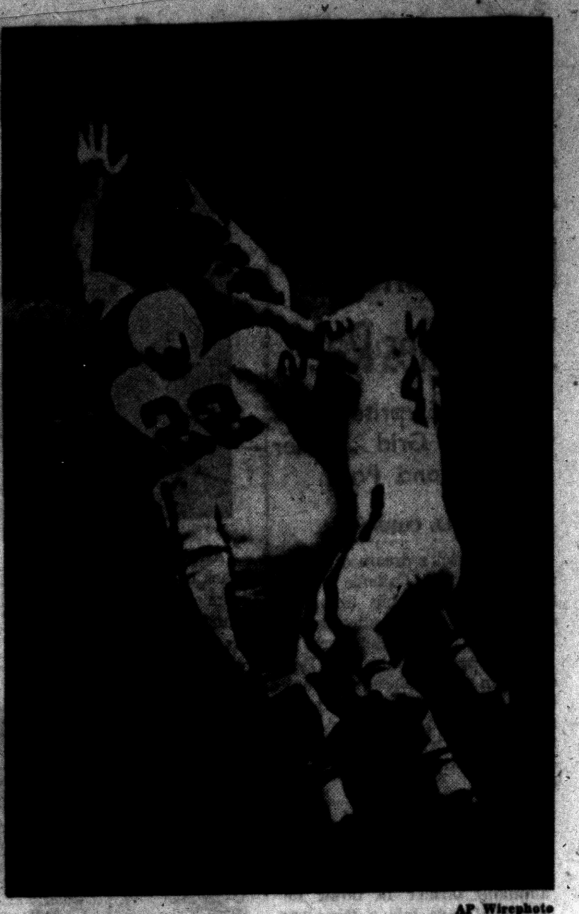

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jack Hill and Johnny Bright, a couple of U.S. backfield aces, got the records they were after in Canadian pro football over the weekend. But Ronnie Knox' attempt to rally the Toronto Argonauts into the Big Four Union playoffs failed despite another passing show from the talented, but controversial former UCLA star.

Hill, versatile halfback from Utah State, set a season scoring record of 145 points for the Western Interprovincial Union, adding 16 for the Saskatchewan Roughriders. Bright, former fullback star at Drake, gained 104 yards for the Edmonton Eskimos and with 1,707 yards broke the season rushing record of 1,679 yards he set a year ago.

St. Rita Stops Eaglets

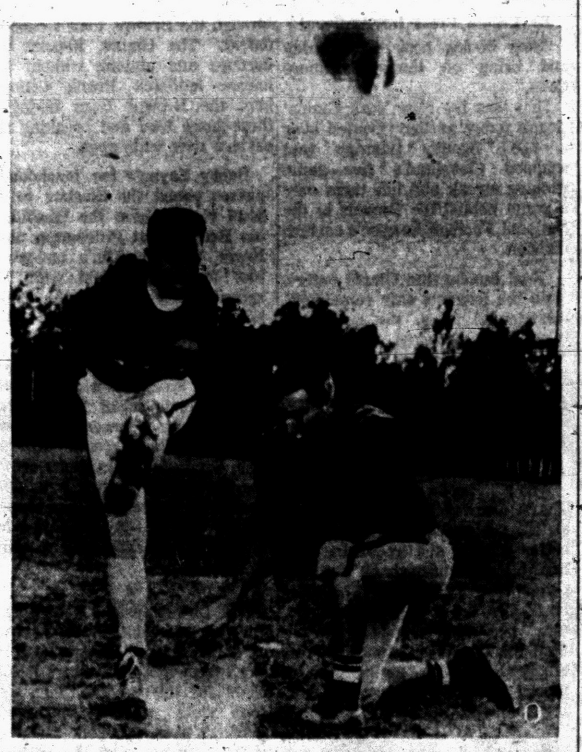

Orchard Lake St. Mary's gridders ran into a tough opponent, Sunday, on the suburban club's field and bowed to St. Rita 13-0.

The Irish grabbed a quick tally on the 2nd play after the opening kickoff. Bill Oliver scrambled over from the one after the Ritas had rushed 51 yards in 10 plays. Jim Galante booted the extra point, and that was the game, as far as Eaglets were concerned.

St. Mary threatened only once going to the Irish 12 in the first period after a 75-yard drive. A fumble lost the scoring chance.

Ritas scored the 2nd time in the 3rd period on a pass interception by Jerry Woitak followed by a 10-play drive with Ed Sloan going in from the one.

In another SCL game Sunday St. James defeated St. Mary (RO) 25-6. OLS (Farmington) lost to AA St. Thomas 53-0.

Major Post-Season Invitations Pending

Bowl Picture Moves Into Focus

By United Press International

There's many a pitfall ahead but the New Year's Day bowl picture appears today to be rapidly coming into focus.

Iowa, Louisiana State, Oklahoma and Oregon State gained the inside track for various "automatic bids" Saturday and it also seems that Syracuse, Mississippi, Clemson and North Carolina are in line for lucrative Jan. 1 invitations. Toss in the Southwest Conference champion and rugged Pittsburgh and here's a long-range look at the possible pairings in five major bowls:

Gator Bowl: Pittsburgh (4-2-1) vs. North Carolina (5-2-0)

Iowa, the nation's No. 1 team, took a firm grip on the Big Ten lead with a 37-14 triumph over Michigan Saturday while Oregon State took over the Pacific Coast Conference lead with a 14-8 decision over California. Northwestern, 21-0 winner over Ohio State in Saturday's biggest upset, is still a strong challenger in Big Ten but has lost one game and has three tough ones to go. Iowa, unbeaten, has weak Indiana and strong Ohio State left.

Louisiana State's 14-0 victory over Mississippi left the Tigers, one of the two remaining unbeaten and untied major powers in the country, the No. 1 team in the Southeastern Conference and virtually a sure thing for the Sugar Bowl. Syracuse moved into strong contention for the berth opposite LSU with its 16-13 win over Pittsburgh. Syracuse also must be considered a contender for a Cotton Bowl bid opposite the Southwest Conference champion.

Oklahoma practically clinched the Big Eight title and an Orange Bowl bid by whipping previously unbeaten and untied Colorado 23-7. Clemson should clinch an Orange Bowl bid next week by beating North Carolina State.

Mississippi, beaten but far from disgraced in the South's "Game of the Year," is a good bet to go to the Cotton Bowl. Rice and Texas Christian, each 3-0 in conference play, may resolve the Southwest Conference title on Nov. 22. Pittsburgh, beaten twice and tied once but nevertheless one of the country's top-line powers, probably would take a Gator Bowl bid opposite North Carolina, which scored a 21-7 victory over Tennessee on Saturday.

LSU's Saturday night victory, before a record crowd of 68,000 at Baton Rouge, La., was achieved by a rock-ribbed defense and two breaks. Warren Rabb scored for the Tigers in the second period after a recovered fumble set them up at the 21 and Durell Matherne tallied in the fourth period after a blocked punt was recovered on the 32. Mississippi had a first down on LSU's one-yard line in the second period but center Max Fugler made all four tackles as the Tigers staged a spectacular goal-line stand.

Rutgers, which beat Delaware 37-20, is the only other major undefeated and untied team in the country. LSU plays Duke next Saturday night while Rutgers faces Lafayette.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

I've heard a lot of arguments about the importance of the fingers outside the finger holes in a bowling ball. For a three-hole ball as shown in today's illustration, they are the index and little fingers.

Many bowlers believe these fingers and their position are very important to their games. Not in my opinion!

I think the position of these outside fingers is an unimportant detail and should not consciously concern a bowler. If you ask me where these fingers should be, I say pick up your ball and take a normal grip. If your fingers are comfortable, they're in the right position.

The outside fingers don't supply any life or turn to the ball as it's released. All they do is balance the ball in your hand. They can't hurt your game unless they're in a cramped or uncomfortable position.

With all the important details bowling has, don't worry about such a minor and unimportant thing as the position of the outside fingers.

Shrine Edges Pats on 4th Period TD

Trailing to the final period, after Detroit St. Patrick had scored a first period TD, but failed to make the PAT, Royal Oak Shrine yesterday took a 7-6 win with three minutes left of the game. Dick Whitney made the equalizing TD, and Pat McLaughlin got the winning point on a pass.

Victory was the fifth against a single loss for Shrine, which ends its season next Sunday at Mt. Carmel, Wyandotte.

MSU Near Cellar; 'M' Is Close Behind

Spartan Point Total Is Worst in Conference

Michigan State Has Only 25 Points in 4 Big 10 Games

EAST LANSING — Michigan State's once-highly touted offensive machine is actually now the worst in the Big Ten. Saturday's 9-7 defeat at the hands of Wisconsin was the third straight Big Ten loss for the Spartans and it gave MSU a total of only 25 points in four league contests.

Despite the nosedive heading toward the Big Ten cellar MSU coach Duffy Daugherty called Saturday's game, "our best of the season."

Until the third period TD, the Spartans had gone 135 minutes without scoring and it took a spectacular catch by end Sammy Williams of a pass by Mike Panitch, to end the drought.

"A few breaks the last few weeks would have changed the results," said Daugherty.

One of the breaks Daugherty didn't get was in the second half when Dean Look took off on an 80-yard punt return and made a beautiful touchdown run until a clipping penalty nullified it.

The Spartans, long among the top offensive units in the Big Ten, could not gain consistently. MSU gained 130 yards on the ground to 203 for the Badgers and 75 passing compared to 93 for the winners.

Dale Hackbart, whom Daugherty called one of the "best to face Michigan State this season," quarterbacked, ran and passed Wisconsin to the victory.

He flipped a 36-yard pass to Dave Kocourek to set up the TD and then scored himself from the two. John Hobb kicked his first field goal of the season from the 12 and it turned out to be the margin of victory.

"I was worried at the half," Badger coach Milt Bruhn said. He referred to the identical 9-0 lead at halftime he had against Iowa before losing, 20-9.

Wisconsin must meet Northwestern, Illinois and Minnesota in its final three games and win them all, while Iowa must lose at least once and tie for a Badger Rose Bowl trip.

The Spartans have two conference games left, Saturday at Indiana and then at Minnesota. Even a pair of victories would bring the record to 2-3-1, State's second poorest since joining the Big Ten.

In the first season under Daugherty, MSU was 1-5 with the lone win in 1954 coming over Indiana.

WOLVERINE TD — Darrell Harper (41) of Royal Oak takes a pass from Michigan quarterback Pob Ptacek and goes into the end zone head first to score the first Wolverine touchdown against Iowa. End Gary Prahst blocks out Willie Fleming of Iowa on the play.

Explosive Iowa 37-14 Winners After Close One

Hawkeyes Pull Away in 4th; Ptacek, Harper Stars in Defeat

By CHUCK ABAIR

ANN ARBOR — A perfect example of how a final score can fail to tell the true story of a football game occurred Saturday when Iowa took a big step towards the Big Ten title and snapped a long jinx by defeating Michigan 37-14.

The unbeaten Hawkeyes, who had not won here since 1924, did not actually break the contest open until midway in the last quarter when speedster Bob Jeter scored his 2nd touchdown.

Although it was his 3rd defeat in six games, Michigan Skipper Bennie Oosterbaan was pleased with his team's showing. "We were up and ready. It was an exciting game except for that final score," was his comment.

He lauded his charges for overcoming a 14-0 deficit to gain a tie on touchdowns by hard-working Bob Ptacek and Royal Oak's Darrell Harper.

Oosterbaan and Iowa boss Forest Evashevski agreed Michigan's failure to score after reaching the enemy 6 early in the 4th period was a big turning point. 'M' might have tied it again or even gone ahead by going the rest of the way. Instead, the victors took over and went 94 yards in seven plays to wrap up the decision.

Reserve quarterback Stan Noskin's 3rd period fumble which gave Iowa its 3rd touchdown was the most damaging Wolverine play of the day.

Oosterbaan called Iowa "the most explosive team we have met this year." He had good reason. Three of the Hawk TDs were on plays covering over 60 yards.

Hamtramck sophomore Willie Fleming tallied two of them on a 72-yard punt return and a 61-yard dash from scrimmage. Ray Jauch's 2nd period scamper covered 74 yards.

"They say good things come to those who wait but I was beginning to wonder if I was going to live that long," Evashevski told writers indicating the anxious moments he had until his boys finally pulled away.

He stressed his team's better speed and greater depth as important factors. "This is the fastest backfield I have had in six years at Iowa," Evy added.

Overlooked in the shadow of those long runs was another standout showing by Iowa quarterback Randy Duncan, a strong All-America candidate. He completed seven of 15 aerials despite some excellent defensive work by the losers and handled the ball well.

Ptacek, Harper, Gene Sisinyak and Gary Prahst were all around stars for Michigan as the Maize and Blue played the favorites on even terms except for those breakaway runs until the fatal final 8 minutes.

Walled Lake's John Walker saw spot duty at fullback. He almost went for a score in the closing minutes on a trap play. "Somebody tripped me up from the side," stated the disappointed sophomore.

Michigan tries again Saturday for its 2nd loop triumph as host to Illinois. Iowa will put a four-game victory streak on the line at Minnesota.

Soph. Quarterback Pride of Northwestern

Thornton, a product of Taft High School in Chicago, led Northwestern to a 21-0 victory over Ohio State Saturday. He has been a big factor in Northwestern's drive to a 5-1 season record and a 3-1-0 record in Big Ten play which is good for second place.

All this for a team which didn't win a single game last year.

Thornton passed for two touchdowns against Ohio State, scored another, kicked one extra point and added two more points with a pass.

Thornton's explanation for the Ohio State victory was: "We wanted to win it so bad that it didn't make any difference who we were playing. Maybe it was because Ohio State beat us so badly last year (47-6). Maybe because it was they were such big favorites. But we had the desire and determination."

Coach Ara Parseghian said: "They simply wanted to win and this was even a bigger victory than that over Michigan (55-24). We broke the game wide open against Michigan in the second quarter and after that it was easy. But this game meant we were under pressure and we won under pressure."

Parseghian said his club didn't pull off anything new against Ohio State.

"We had no special plans for Bob White but he couldn't make the yardage when they needed it because our guys wouldn't let him."

Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes said: "My vote for Coach of the Year goes to Parseghian. Northwestern outsped us, outplayed us, outcoached us and outfought us."

'M' Attendance Also Tumbling

Average About 10,000 Lower Per Game Than 1957 Crowds

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Michigan's atendance is tumbling the same as the Wolverines are on the gridiron.

The Wolverines and top-ranked Hawkeyes drew 68,566 Saturday making the season average for four games about 74,000—10,000 lower than last season's average. Last year more than 90,000 fans turned out for the Iowa game.

And the outlook isn't bright. On the next two Saturdays Michigan hosts Illinois and Indiana, neither a top drawing team.

The big loss was the Michigan State game which was played at East Lansing this year.

Ticket manager Don Weir can look forward to next year, however, when the Wolverines host both Michigan State and Ohio State —always sellouts—and Wisconsin, Northwestern, Missouri and the present Pacific Coast Conference leader, Oregon State.

Oregon State and Syracuse will start a four-game football series in 1961. The first game is scheduled for Corvallis, Ore.

Nebraska Coach Hung in Effigy

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—University of Nebraska Coach Bill Jennings, after his football team lost 31-0 to Missouri Saturday, was hanged in effigy on the campus.

A dummy, identified as Jennings by a sign, was hanged from a tree near the Coliseum, scene of Nebraska's homecoming loss in the Big Eight Conference to Missouri.

The dummy was cut down shortly after it was raised by another group of students.

Brief Letdown Hurts Detroit

Marquette Turns Lost Cause in 14-14 Tie Against Titans

DETROIT (AP) — A fumble, a brief letdown and — bang — a football victory is out of reach and gone.

The University of Detroit Titans learned that lesson Saturday from a fighting Marquette team that turned a lost cause into a 14-14 tie in the fourth quarter.

Marquette, trailing 14-0 with only ten minutes remaining in the game, stormed 60 yards in 10 plays for a touchdown, got a two-point conversion and cut the Detroit lead to six points.

Then, only moments later, Detroit's Ray Davis bobbled the ball while trying to punt on fourth down. He grabbed up the ball and tried to run. He got nowhere.

Marquette took over on its own 45 and marched the 55 yards to the goal in seven plays, scoring the typing touchdown with 90 seconds remaining in the game. Ernest Safran's kick, which could have won the game, went wide.

Detroit got both its touchdowns in the second quarter, the first on a 15-yard pass from quarterback Bob Lusky to fullback Jerry Leszczynski after Grady Alderman recovered a Marquette fumble on the 18, and the second on Bruce Maher's four-yard run at the end of a 51-yard drive.

Same Story for Cranes—Soccer Win, Grid Loss

It was the same old story for Cranbrook last Saturday in Inter-State League football and soccer competition. The gridders lost and the booters won in homecoming festivities at Cranbrook.

University School of Cleveland furnished the opposition and the Ohio football squad scored once in each quarter for a 26-0 victory. The Cranes are now winless in six games.

Charles Hubbard of Pontiac, Tito Cortella with two and John Plew were Cranbrook's goal-getters as the Cranes defeated University School, 4-3, for their 7th soccer win in eight starts.

Hope and Central Near Loop Titles

By The Associated Press

Hope College, the last of Michigan's unbeaten and untied college football teams, and Central Michigan College are a step closer to the championships of their respective conferences.

Jerry Herp and Duane Voskuil scored two touchdowns apiece in leading the Dutchmen to a team record in point production.

The victory was Hope's fifth in MIAA play this season and the sixth overall. It cinched a tie for the MIAA crown for the Dutchmen.

Olivet hasn't won in 29 outings, a losing string that reaches back to the 1955 season. Now Olivet has been outscored 222-20 in seven losing games this season.

Once-beaten Central Michigan rolled over Eastern Illinois 27-8 in an Interstate Conference game. Walt Beach ran 74 yards for a score that set off a three-touchdown rally in the fourth quarter and led the Chippewas to their fourth conference victory without a loss.

Central Michigan, beaten only by Louisville in eight games this season, had to come from behind twice to trim Eastern Illinois, which is winless in five conference games.

Eastern Michigan got above the .500 mark in the conference with a 15-7 decision over Northern Illinois. Bryan Dunn and Al Day scored touchdowns and Dave Longridge kicked a 15-yard field goal for Eastern. It was Eastern Michigan's third conference victory against two losses.

Hillsdale and Albion, the two teams with a chance of tying Hope for the MIAA championship, won their games handily. Both now are 4-1 in MIAA standings.

Hillsdale trampled winless Kalamazoo 24-0 with halfback Don Eugenio scoring one touchdown and passing for another.

Albion, which meets Hope next week, turned back Alma 25-14. Don VanGilder led the way, gaining 95 yards in 24 carries and scoring two touchdowns for the winners.

Western Michigan University got its second victory against three losses in the Mid-America Conference with a 21-14 triumph over Ohio University.

Lovell Coleman, the leading college football scorer in Michigan, got one touchdown, running his season scoring to 88 points. He gained 121 yards rushing and lifted his season total to 953 yards in 133 carries.

Michigan Tech's Huskies turned a pair of pass interceptions into touchdowns and beat Winona State of Minnesota 26-6 in a Northern States conference game. Wayne Caltrider raced 60 yards with an intercepted pass for one Michigan Tech touchdown and Jim Bovard returned an interception 39 yards for another score. Bob Plater plunged two yards and Clay Willman passed 38 yards to Jerry Carpenter for the Huskies' other touchdowns.

In non-conference games, Northern Michigan trampled Wayne State 39-0 with Dick Allen scoring two touchdowns and Adrian defeated Ferris Institute 27-7 with Jim Koresky plunging for two touchdowns.

Bruins Stretch Streak to Five

Take 2 Weekend Wins to Move Within One Point of Canadiens

By The Associated Press

The Boston Bruins have moved into a threatening second place back of the Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League as the result of two weekend victories which extended their unbeaten streak to five games.

While the Bruins were defeating Detroit 3-1 on Saturday and then shutting out the cellar dwelling Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0 last night the Canadiens dropped their only game by a 4-2 margin to the Chicago Black Hawks Saturday. The results left the Bruins trailing the Canadiens by only one point.

The Wings, who came back Sunday with a 2-1 decision over the New York Rangers, strengthened their hold on third as the Hawks moved into fourth place. The Rangers also lost to Toronto, 4-3, Saturday and now have dropped three straight.

A pair of second period goals and stellar net minding by goalie Don Simmons produced the Bruins triumph over Toronto last night. Simmons turned aside 30 Toronto shots in posting his first shutout. The goals came off the sticks of Real Chevrefils and Jerry Toppazzini within a space of 39 seconds late in the middle period.

Pistons Trip Warriors Paced by 'Hot' Yardley

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—George Yardley is making motions like he'll break his own National Basketball Association scoring record of 2,001 points in a season. "The Bird" netted 33 points in leading the Dettroit Pistons to a 107-91 victory over Philadelphia last night.

Yardley, held to nine points in the first half as the Pistons took advantage of a Warrior cold spell for a slim 50-47 intermisssion lead, bagged eight straight shots at one point in the second half as he scored 24 points.

The Warriors scored only 15 points in the first period while Detroit raced out to a 27-15 lead. Philadelphia got hot in a hurry, scoring 32 in the second quarter but the Warriors couldn't match Yardley's pace in the final half.

Gene Shue contributed 22 points to the Piston victory and backcourt mate Dick McGuire had 19. Paul Arizin was high for the Warriors with 19.

It gave the Pistons a split for the weekend. They lost Saturday night in Boston, 112-98 after scoring only 13 points in the second period.

Here's Sneaky Preview of New Fashions

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — I have just returned from what is known, among name-droppers and ham-raisers, as a "sneak preview" of next spring's high fashions.

I cannot report fully on the show, nor even tell the name of designer—except to mention that his best friends called the collection tres magnifique. A sneak previewer is supposed to sit on her fashion news (which isn't easy, especially if the news is shoulderlines) until January, then presumably the danger of the designs' being copied has passed.

However, perhaps it is within the bounds of proper sneakiness to reveal a few facts about the coming trends. I will hide them in language that only the layman can understand, so that what I have seen today at a thousand dollars a throw cannot possibly be identically copied for $8.75.

Here, girls, is the 1959 spring look:

TIME TO MOVE OUT — White-booted legs braced, this protective feline glares at the camera as she moves some very personal property to safer regions. Owner Mrs. Cecile K. Beamer of Astoria, Ore., calls the air "sppacecats." Anyway, the little one is getting in some flight time.

1. Give me another hot fudge sundae, Joe. Who'll notice?

2. How about getting a Chevy this year, darling? The rear is so coordinated with my neckline.

3. Don't call me Josephine. Call me Baby Doll.

4. It's the first time in 11 years he's noticed my ankles!

5. So I remind you of kitchen curtains, eh? Well at these prices they're the French cafe type.

6. Just because I float, don't call me a witch.

7. I am not either trying to imitate Jane Russell. This is a simple, casual suit.

8. All right, so I look like I'm panting. It's chic, isn't it?

9. I'll tell you in what way she's a square—look at her feet!

10. At the end of the day, around cocktail time, I am as the sunset.

11. I didn't nudge him. It was my inadvertent sleeve.

12. Like the rest of us, fashion certainly has its ups and downs.

14. It is not a sign of the expectant; it is a sign of the expensive.

15. For the first time I can see what a shocking thing it is to say, "She hasn't got all her buttons."

16. Oh, John, it's like wanting a candy bar cause you can't have it. You never liked to dance cheek-to-cheek before!

17. They say it couldn't be done, but you see? It stays up.

A girl looking for a husband has to know how to play tennis, golf, piano and dumb . . . Today's successful statesman seems to be a man who has an infinite capacity for taking planes. —Earl Wilson

Woman Nearly Itches To Death

Few Die of Diabetes

CHICAGO—Medical experts say very few diabetics die as a direct result of their disease, most of them succumbing to its complications. Heading the mortality list is heart disease, which accounts for about 50 per cent of all deaths among diabetics. Vascular lesions of the central nervous system rank second with about 13 per cent. Only 1.2 per cent of the diabetics dies as a result of diabetic coma.

Jet Travel Too Fast for Mind to Adjust

NEW YORK—Or is it London or Houston?—(AP)—As planes get faster and the world gets smaller the experts ought now to do something for the mind of man as he's rushed between continents.

It is one thing to increase speed with jets and reduce vibration and noise and otherwise make the physical man comfortable. It is another thing to make the sudden mental transition between distant points comfortable.

After a lot of long-distance flying I find I need from three hours to two days to catch up with myself. It takes my numed brain that long to figure out where it is.

You can fly me from Paris to New York between lunch and dinner but actually all you are delivering in New York is my body. My soul is still in Paris. What I need is a kind of mental decompression chamber to make the adjustment.

Which leads me to the fancy geographic name - dropping I intended here all along. In the last three weeks this has happened to me:

I flew from New York to Houston, from Houston to Miami, from Miami to New York. Then several days later I set out with a group of press pioneers on Pan American's inaugural jet flight to Paris.

We took off on a Monday about 7:30 p.m. and five hours later, when I normally would be watching the Jack Paar show on TV at home, I found myself in Santa Maria, in The Azores. There, for the first time, I discovered that one of the 107 passengers aboard was a guy I went to school with 20 years ago in Missouri.

Three hours later, when we should have been sleeping, we found ourselves in Paris where people were awakening. Wednesday I left Paris at 10 p.m. and one hour five minutes later arrived in London at 10:05 p.m. London time.

In London I met a guy I used to know in Hackensack, N. J., who was tired of commuting every day by bus from Hackensack to New York. So he got himself a job abroad and now is very British and wears a bowler and lives at No. 1 Lover's Walk in Fichley and commutes every day to downtown London by bus.

The next day I was back in Paris and the day after that, at 1 p.m., we took off for New York. In no time at all, we had passed over the English Channel, over Prestwick, Scotland, and were approaching Keflavik, Iceland, and the pilot was saying, "we'll have a slight hold over in Iceland because of traffic ahead of us." It must have been a big week for conventions in Iceland.

Less than three hours later we were still drinking champagne and looking down at the timeless glaciers and endless ice cap of Greenland. Four drinks later we were coming into New York.

Confusing? You'll never know how confusing. I found myself trying to tip the porter in New York with franc notes. Going through a bridge toll gate, I found myself handing my passport to the man in the booth. At home, at dinner, I made the horrible mistake of asking my wife — who had not made the trip to Europe—to pass the champagne and she said, rather testily, "what champagne, Buster?"

The next day, going to the office in Manhattan, I passed a friend, nodded casually, said, "Hi Ed," and kept on going until I suddenly realized this man lives in Miami not New York. After lunch I met a guy named Lloyd and gave him a big greeting and asked when he got in from his home in London. Lloyd didn't take to this kindly. It seems he is a native New Yorker and works in the building next to mine and I had simply met him on the trip to London.

How to solve this confusion?

One way would be for the transatlantic airline to supply orientation lecturers. Twenty minutes before returning to New York, the lecturer could ease us through the transition with a little talk: "We are now approaching New York, which is in the United States. You are now returning to your homes, to your mortgages, to the kids dental braces and other monthly bills, to the leaves to be raked,

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43¢.

'SONG OF SWITZERLAND'

The wonderland of the Swiss Alps is always a sure-fire subject for filmed travelogues. One seems transplanted, as if by a magic wand into this Alpine paradise, reliving its centuries of colorful history in the costumes and pageantry of the ages coupled with a trip through modern Switzerland with its lovely cities and lakes, its quaint colorful mountain towns, folk-festivals, orchestras, dances and yoedelers.

From the snow and ice-ol Alpine glaciers to the warmth of sunny Italian lakes, every minute of this Colorlogue is filled with unforgetable beauty and "reel" entertainment.

The author produced over 65 theatrical color films for Education Films, Paramount and 20th Century-Fox. Mr. Nagel was co-producer of the epic film "JABU" which won an academy award.

Bob Considine Says:

Pope's Brother Shuns His Own Red Wine

SOTTO IL MONTE, Italy — The Pope's kid brother, 75-year-old Saverio Roncalli, gave me a bottle of red wine today.

"I do not drink the wine I make or that of any other maker," the gentle work-creased farmer said as he led us into the damp and fragrant wine cellar of a farm house that fairly seethed with relatives of John XXIII.

"I have no wish for the wine," Saverio said as he stepped up to a musty old cask taller than himself.

He picked up a random bottle which once contained a tonic of some forgotten flavor and grasping the hose and spigot that protruded from the great barrel he tried to squirt the gushing wine into the bottle's neck.

The beautiful red from venerable vineyards that the Pope had known and perhaps had even worked in the long ago sprayed here and there. But Saverio did not seem to care.

A woman of the numerous household scurried down the steps with a green plastic funnel, and now the wine fed tranquilly into the bottle.

"To think that this wine will go to America, to New York," he said, with his closest approach to enthusiasm, "it is a great honor."

It is rare that the wine of the Roncallis is bottled at the source of supply. A few bottles always have been sent off to the most famous of the Roncallis, even when he was in Paris as nuncio and could have the great wines of France.

Normally, the Roncallis sell it by the barrel and it may appear in many different caraffes and under varied labels. It is a robust, a muscular red, as the educated winos might say. It is also the chief product of a farm the Pope loves and which takes care of so many of his kinsfolks.

But the Roncallis are not wealthy nor even comfortably fixed by many standards.

The Pope's widowed sister Asunta, who has four children and lives in a worker's apartment in Sesto San Giovanni, has said she cannot attend her brother's coronation in the Vatican unless her old-age pension check for $20 comes through in time.

Twenty other members are attending as guests of a committee here in Sotto Il Monte.

It was time to say farewell to my friend Saverio, whose dress for the occasion was a collarless shirt, neatly striped morning pants and slippers with wooden soles. A Filipino priest named Michael Mayor asked for a picture of the two of us, holding the wine bottle, but Saverio shook his head sadly.

"It would not look good to my brother if he saw it," the fine man said. He looked at the bottle reflectively and added with the barest breath of a sigh, "I do not smoke and I do not drink the wine, yet I became old just the same."

Costs of College Continue to Rise

Two-Thirds of Males Take Part-Time Jobs; Many Borrow Cash

NEW YORK (UPI)—If proof is needed that college students, like their parents, sometimes run short of cash, witness the business being done at Western Union offices conveniently located near a college campus.

"Dear Dad. Send Cash," is one of the more agonized messages that go out.

According to the best information among educators, the financial headache for parents and their children at college will become worse instead of better in the foreseeable future.

A generation ago, a year at college usually cost between $860 and $1,000. Today, many families set the cost at closer to $3,000. This September, Yale University's all-inclusive freshman fee will be $2,150, an all-time high.

Because the financial factor is so important in higher education, many colleges, banks and private organizations have set up installment plans and loan facilities.

More than two-thirds of the two million young men now in college are helping to ease the burden by taking part-time jobs, and the average male earns $486 a year. The summer employment average is $389 and the weekly income, on a yearly average, comes to $15.55.

TAKE ON ALL JOBS

What sort of jobs do they take? Anything and everything. They may wait on tables, become hospital orderlies, baby-sitters, library clerks, free-lance typists, chauffeurs, retail store clerks, ushers or concessionaries during the sports season, newspaper representatives, choir singers.

And since job possibilities have become scarcer, in general, in recent months, college boys are going into business for themselves. A simple method is to become a door-to-door salesman.

Perhaps more important than the money is the experience of getting along with people in a business. Advice to young men who want to go to college but can't afford it is simple. Don't work your way. Sell your way through.

2 Fascist Laws Control Italians

Rural Workers Barred From Moving to Cities Under Leftover Rules

ROME (UPI) — Italy, long battling for the free movement of manpower throughout Europe, still bars its own countryfolk from moving to its own cities.

To be listed as a new resident in a city of more than 25,000, you must have a job there. And to have a job, you must be listed as a resident.

That is the gist of two still-valid Fascist laws virtually outlawing all internal migration. Like other Fascist restrictions, they have been retained by Democratic Italy out of fear for the reactions of "privileged" workers in the cities who feel an influx of labor from the countryside could depress wages.

A Christian Democratic member of Parliament and a Rome court have now started a battle against the restriction, which former President Luigi Einaudi once described as "nefarious" and in conflict with the postwar Italian constitution.

The court struck the first blow at the laws in an almost unnoticed ruling last June ordering the city of Rome to register Baldassare D'Avino, 34, an unemployed Neapolitan, as a resident of the capital.

The court ruled the two laws could not affect the constitutional right of every citizen to "move around and sojourn freely in any part of the nation's territory, except for limitations laid down by law in a general way for reasons of health or security."

Although not binding for other courts, the ruling—which also ordered the city to pay court costs—set a vital precedent for possible suits by other persons wanting to take up residence in a big city.

Meanwhile, Christian Democratic deputy Renato Quintieri has drawn up a bill which would grant legal residence in a city to anyone who lives there habitually.

Now, though, thousands of poor laborers from southern and central Italy are still living in huts on the outskirts of Rome. They do not qualify for social assistance or city housing projects and are forced to accept whatever terms their employers want to impose on them because they cannot be registered with the Labor Office.

About 10 per cent of U. S. farms produce more than 50 per cent of the country's commercial farm products.

Times Haven't Changed a Bit

Traffic, Smog, Noise and High Rent Plagued Ancient Romans

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—So you think traffic, the cost of living, smog and noise are modern complaints of a high-pressure, mechanized society.

Like fun. According to Dr. Edward O'Neil, head of the University of Southern California classics department, Romans were worrying about the same things 1,800 years ago.

About traffic—"Hurry as we may, we are hemmed in by a surging crowd in front and a dense throng of people pressing in from the rear. One man digs his elbow into me, another a pole; one bangs my head with a plant, another with a wine-cask . . . You can be considered foolish and thoughtless about a sudden end, if you go out to dinner without your will made."

About the cost of living—"People whose poverty stands in their way find it hard to rise, but at Rome the attempt is still harder. Here you must pay a big rent for a miserable house . . . In Rome, everyone dresses above his means. . . . This is a common fault: We all live in a state of pretentious poverty. In short, everything at Rome has its own special price!"

About smog: "See how the smoke rises from the crowd which hurries for the daily dole."

About noise: "Most of the sick here die from sleeplessness . . . For what sleep do rented lodgings allow? . . . The passing of wagons in the narrow, winding streets and in the conversations of the drivers standing around make sleep impossible."

Man Brutally Beaten Defending His Wife

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — The cost of defending his wife ran high for Leonard Shephard of Albuquergue.

When two men in a car insulted Mrs. Shephard, the Albuquerque man went to admonish them. He was struck with a bottle, one man grabbed his arms and closed the window on them, and the car dragged him two blocks while they continued striking him with a bottle. They released him in front of City Hall, firing a shot at him as they sped away.

He Offers Public Notice of a Happy Marriage

DANVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Montelle L. Davis inserted this advertisement in the classified section of the Danville Republican on his 20th wedding anniversary:

"I will be responsible for all the obligations of my wife, Vivian Davis. During 20 years of marriage she has given me great happiness, comfort, counsel and two fine children. As we begin our 21st year, I am proud to assume any and all her wishes."

Hollywood Headlines

Joe E. Brown's Comedy Brought Back to Screen

By BOB THOMAS

Joe is playing the wacky role of a Roaring Twenties multimillionaire in "Some Like It Hot." He has one scene in which he does a tango with Jack Lemmon, masquerading as a girl, and the setsiders say it's a riot.

So why hasn't Joe been doing film comedy? This is his first one since before World War II; his last picture was the "Show Boat" remake (1951) in which he played a serious role. (You can't count his brief appearance in "Around the World in 80 Days.")

Joe has no explanation, except perhaps for the gradual decline of the belly laugh kind of comedy he was famous for.

"It seems a shame they don't make that kind of picture any more," he remarked. "But it's hard nowadays. There are too many taboos. You can't use any accent or national characteristic or people will complain. You can't make fun of lawyers or doctors or any line of work or they will complain. There's hardly anything you can have fun with today."

The entertainment field is losing the knack for slapstick, he lamented, adding that what few attempts are made are misdirected.

"They don't lay the groundwork for slapstick, and that's a mistake," he remarked. "When I was making pictures at Warners, we would spend the first four reels setting up the character and winning sympathy for him. Then you could do anything you wanted with him."

Though he has done few films in recent years, Joe has been far from inactive. He has broadcast baseball commentary in New York. He has toured for five years in "Harvey" through the U.S., England and Australia. He has played summer stock, been a TV quizmaster, done TV commercials and guest shots, made lecture tours.

Poetic Justice

STERLING, Colo. (AP) — Robert Roberts won't be criticizing his wife's driving in the future. Mrs. Roberts, driving the family car, collided with another car in the alley near the Roberts home. Roberts was miffed about it all until he, too, collided with a car at exactly the same spot two days later.

Ike Might Lose Senate Support

Republican Solons May Throw Over President if Dems Gain

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower may face a sharp decline in day-by-day support among Senate Republicans if Democrats make expected inroads into GOP strength in Tuesday's voting.

Already substantially outnumbered among holdover GOP members, the "Modern Republicans" Eisenhower has plugged in the past seem likely to add few recruits to their ranks.

Of five GOP senatorial candidates who are given better than an even chance of winning, only Rep. Winston L. Prouty of Vermont is listed as a thick-and-thin supporter of Eisenhower's programs. The others are Senators John J. Williams of Delaware, Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, William Langer of North Dakota and John W. Bricker of Ohio.

Among a dozen other Republican senatorial candidates who are given a nearly even chance to survive a predicted Democratic tide, only a couple stick out as all-out Eisenhower backers. They are Representatives Kenneth B. Keating in New York and Hugh Scott in Pennsylvania.

Senate GOP members are expected in January to elect Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, the present party whip, as their new floor leader.

While Dirksen has been at some pains since 1952 to identify himself as a supporter of Eisenhower, he was a bitter opponent of Eisenhower's nomination in the battle with the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Most of his associates think Dirksen will listen as much to the Senate GOP regulars as he does to the President. This promises little, if any improvement, in White House relations with the Senate leadership.

Report Moslems Rebel in Red China

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists have put down two Moslem rebellions this year in northwest China.

Official Communist news reports received in Hong Kong said the revolts were sparked April 4 and June 1 by the top Chinese Moslem leader, Ma Chen Wu, vice chairman of the Chinese Islamic Assn. and a member of the National Committee of the Communist party.

The reports said Ma "is now under arrest having confessed after 10 days interrogation to engineering armed revolts in which several hundred counterrevolutionaries took part.

"Ma confessed trying to upset 'the Islamic Democratic party' to found an Islamic republic in the Ningsia area."

Revenge Plot Backfires

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Cafe manager Wallace Holland, angered at the sight of a nonluncher's car in his lot, pushed it into the middle of a street, then called police to complain that a car was parked improperly. Police more or less agreed. They charged Holland with improperly parking the car there.

The conference starts in Geneva next week.

The Western plan stresses that the military experts and scientists should first concentrate on studying weapons capability and preventive measures.

Only later would the great powers tackle disputed political issues, such as where and how zones of inspection should be created.

The Western approach appears to be the exact opposite of that charted by the Soviet Union. The negotiations, therefore, will start off with the same dim chances for success as the current East-West talks on ending nuclear weapons testing.

The surprise-attack negotiations aim to prevent the opportunity for any big power to organize and launch in complete secrecy a surprise military blow designed to achieve victory in the first hours of war. Both the Soviet Union and the United States in past years have accepted the validity of this idea.

The Western experts say this requires first of all an analysis of the capacity which the great powers will have over the next few years in intercontinental missiles, manned bombers, submarine-launched rockets and similar devices capable of surprise atomic bombardment of another country.

If military scientists could agree on the destructive potential of the great powers, according to the Western view, they should then be able successfully to analyze the problems of preventing the mass destruction weapons from being used with surprise. They would design a system of ground and aerial inspection teams which in theory, at least, would keep tabs on military developments on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The Soviet approach to this problem is that the experts should tackle at the outset questions of specific zones such as a Communist-proposed inspection and nuclear-free zone in Eastern Europe.

The United States and its allies are prepared to argue that such political matters should be delayed until a second conference.

S-P Introduces 'Lark' Series

Hoping to Get Bigger Share of Market With New Smaller Car

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Studebaker-Packard's new line of smaller cars will offer six-cylinder or V-8 engines and with automatic, overdrive or conventional transmission.

The car with which Studebaker Packard hopes to gain a bigger and profitable slice of the automobile market, is the Lark series. It will be produced in two and four-door sedans, two-door hardtop and station wagon models.

Dealer showing of the series is scheduled for Nov. 14.

Besides the Lark series Studebaker-Packard also is producing its Silver Hawk series for 1959. The Packard series has been discontinued.

The Lark series has a 108½-inch wheelbase and 175-inch overall length for sedan and hardtops. The station wagon models measure 113 inches in wheelbase and 184½ inches in overall length.

A grille similar to that on the Silver Hawk series features the front styling of the Lark. The grille is flanked by combination parking-directional lights and air scoops. A single stainless steel molding sweeps back from above the headlights along the sides of the car and continues around the rear.

Snow and Rain Bluster Across Eastern States

By The Associated Press

Snow, rain and strong winds dampened and chilled sections of the Northeast today as cool air spread across broad areas in the Eastern third of the country.

The snowfall was confined mostly to higher elevations in central and northeast Pennsylvania and southeast New York state. The rain belt extended from the lower Great Lakes region and upper Ohio Valley eastward into most of the mid and north Atlantic coastal area.

Blustery northerly winds up to 37 m.p.h. whipped the New York City area during the night in a rainstorm. Rainfall in most of the Eastern states was light except for a few spots in eastern Pennsylvania. More than 2 inches of rain doused Harrisburg in 24 hours. Moderate to heavy snow fell from the Altoona, Pa., area northward into the Elmira-Binghamton, N.Y., region.

60c a Share on Goodyear

NEW YORK (AP)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. today declared the regular quarterly dividend of 60 cents a share on common stock, payable Dec. 15 to holders of record Nov. 14, and a year end 2 per cent stock dividend, payable Dec. 19 to holders of record Nov. 14. The company paid a similar stock dividend last December.

Off for Maneuvers

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—Thirty ships of the U.S. Navy 2nd Fleet leave Atlantic Seaboard ports today through Nov. 12 for operation Lantflex 2-58, a three-week exercise in the Western Atlantic.

Business and Finance

Grain Demand Hikes Contracts

CHICAGO (AP)—A broad demand for grain futures sent prices of most contracts well ahead today in early dealings on the board of trade.

Wheat, rye and soybeans were bid up about a cent a bushel or more within the first few minutes of trading. A higher oil market was credited with the demand of soybeans while wheat was strengthened on a report that large flour business was expected to be transacted.

All corn contracts also moved to the plus side after an irregular opening but dealers said that grain was affected somewhat by the bullishness in other pits.

Trade was almost at a standstill near the end of the first hour with wheat ⅛ to ⅞ cent a bushel higher, Dec. $1.94; corn ⅝ to ⅝ higher, Dec. old type contract $1.10¾; oats ⅛ to ⅝ higher, Dec. 64¾; rye 1 to 1¼ higher, Dec. $1.32; soybeans 1⅝ to 1⅞ higher, Nov. $2.12⅛.

Equipment Co. Plans Michigan City Plant

BUCHANAN (AP) — An official of the Clark Equipment Co. says the firm plans to build a new plant in Michigan City, Ind., for its Brown Trailer Division.

The project, which is expected to cost about one million dollars, will be located on a 72-acre site along U.S. 20, according to the official, who declined to be quoted by name.

Official announcement of the plan probably will be made following a meeting of company executives next Friday.

Last Local Strike Ends at GM in New York

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The last local strike against General Motors Corp. ended yesterday when workers at the Delco Appliance Division here ratified a new local contract.

Approval by the International Union of Electrical Workers ended the final local walkout in a nationwide strike which began against GM Oct. 2.

The United Auto Workers settled final local grievances with GM last week.

Market Uneven in Busy Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was uneven in fairly active early trading today.

Gains and losses of key stocks went from fractions to about a point.

Trading was heavy at the opening. The ticker tape lagged for a period of five minutes. Once a string of fairly big opening blocks was cleared, turnover subsided to a moderate pace.

American Motors and Studebaker-Packard continued active and were on the upside. Checker Motors continued to recover and moved ahead about a point. Raytheon was clipped for a loss of more than a point.

General Dynamics and Kennecott were about a point to the good. Small gains were posted for Republic Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Woolworth, Martin Co., Philco, Phelps Dodge, Celanese, Illinois Central, Lorillard, Johns-Manville and Pan American World Airways.

City Commission to Meet Tonight Due to Election

Because tomorrow is election day, this week's city commission meeting will take place tonight instead of Tuesday.

A report is expected from City Manager Walter K. Willman on what the city intends to do about proposed parking meters on Seminole street and Oneida road.

Provision for the meters was included in plans for the proposed $225,000 Pontiac General Hospital parking lot between Seminole and Johnson avenue.

Oneida and Seminole street residents protested the idea last week. Willman said then he would study locating the meters elsewhere.

The city has laid plans for an extra 75 street meters as a financial cushion for the 214-stall parking lot. If they are ever installed—and Willman said their installation is not definite — they would be located in part on Seminole and Oneida, according to present plans.

Commissioners, in other business, will be asked to approve cost estimates for two sidewalk projects to benefit school children. One sidewalk would be on the north side of Madison avenue, Arlene to Perry, near Northern High School. The other would be on the south side of Linda Vista drive, Joslyn to Vernon, near Mark Twain School.

Sleet and Snow Closes Schools in Connecticut

LITCHFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Public schools were ordered closed today as the first heavy snow and sleet storms of the season struck this town in the foothills of the Berkshire Mountains.

The storm started about 5:30 a.m.

Police said town roads were coated with sleet causing several minor automobile accidents.

Police at the Canaan barracks, several miles to the north of Litchfield, reported occasional snow and sleet mixed with rain. The same conditions were reported at the U.S. Weather Bureau at Bradley Field, Windsor Locks.

For Rome Coronation

President Sends Mitchell

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—A U.S. delegation headed by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell is expected here today to represent President Eisenhower at tomorrow's coronation of Pope John XXIII.

Many other top-level delegations from the Western world arrived during the past weekend along with thousands of Italian pilgrims who swarmed into Rome from all parts of the Peninsula.

Some half-million persons are expected to crowd into St. Peter's Square at midday tomorrow to watch Pope John receive the triple crown of the papacy.

Only 20,000 persons hold tickets to space inside St. Peter's Basilica for the solemn pontifical mass that will precede the ceremony, but the actual coronation will take place outside on the central balcony of the Basilica.

The ceremony has no special significance since Pope John ascended the throne of St. Peter during last week's secret conclave when the other cardinals of the church elected him and he announced in Latin "Accepto," (I accept).

The Pope retired to the privacy of his own white-walled chapel today to recite the three traditional masses of All Souls Day "for all departed faithful."

The religious day was marked today because Nov. 2, the usual date for the commemoration, fell on a Sunday when no funeral masses are permitted.

The new ponriff also was expected to continue his audiences with the cardinals who elected him last Tuesday.

Many of the princes of the church are scheduled to leave for home immediately after the coronation and Pope John is known to want their views on church problems before they depart.

Meanwhile, scores of Vatican workmen put finishing touches to ornate trappings of the Basilica, where thousands of candles and electric lights and tens of thousands of flowers on the Basilica's 169 altars will welcome the new Pope.

Two Girls Hit by Rifle Bullets in Oakland

Two shooting complaints were recorded by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Sunday afternoon, both concerning gunshot wounds to area girls.

A Berkley girl, Joann David, 17, of 1276 Dorothea St., was treated for a .22 caliber bullet wound in the back of her right shoulder at Avon Center Hospital and sent home.

She told deputies that she was walking along railroad tracks with three friends at Yates Cider Mill, Avon Township, when she suddenly felt a sharp pain in her back.

Several teenagers were reported shooting at tin cans in the area prior to the accident, but deputies failed to find them after the mishap.

A Pontiac girl was accidentally shot with a .22 caliber rifle by her brother during an outing in a wooded area at South Blvd. and Opdyke Rd. Sunday.

Diana Scribner, 11, of 126 Mark St., was walking through the woods with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Scribner, and brother, Fred Jr.

The boy was reportedly aiming at a rabbit running from a clump of bushes and swung his gun so as to accidentally bring his sister between him and the rabbit just as he shot, deputies said.

She was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for a flesh wound of the thigh and released.

No 'Ghost' Raid Halloween on Moonshine Still

While traditional witches hovered around boiling cauldrons Halloween night and area children did their share of the yearly "raiding" of area homes, State Police and federal authorities staged a raid of another kind on two men brewing a mixture of their own near Milford.

Brighton Post state troopers released information yesterday telling of a Halloween night raid on an illegal moonshine still in a Milford Township shack.

Arrested at the one-story wood frame dwelling at 2275 Childs Lake Rd., were Detroiters Charles Faulks, 36, of 55 Hazelwood St., and Robert Tate, 45, of 6109 Seminole St.

Both were charged with illegal manufacture of distilled spirits and taken to Detroit for arraignment before a Federal Court judge.

Troopers and federal agents had been planning the raid for several weeks, police said. Among equipment confiscated was a 250-gallon still. The men had been brewing their moonshine and bottling it in gallon jugs, then transporting it to Detroit, said officers.

The actual bulk of their business has not yet been fully determined, police reported. They said that the men had been operating for a "considerable amount of time" but that the entire setup was a "relatively small" one in comparison with the average illegal stills uncovered by raids.

Red Guns Pouring Down Heavy Fire on Quemoys

TAIPEI (AP)—Communist guns poured shells on the Quemoys today in the heaviest bombardment in nearly two months.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said 36,431 shells fell on the offshore islands between noon and 6 p.m. and then dwindled to sporadic peppering fire. That was the highest shell count since Sept. 11.

The firing included 9,500 rounds on the little Tan islets, which are far more vulnerable to invasion than Quemoy and Little Quemoy. It was the hardest shelling those little dots of land had taken since the offshore island scrapping began Aug. 23. Nationalist defenders on the Tans live entirely underground.

For the first time, Peiping radio gave a report on the number of rounds fired. It said 12,000 shells were aimed at the offshore islands between noon and 4 p.m.

The broadcast also announced that it had beamed the following broadcast Sunday to the shelled regions:

"Military and civilian compatriots on Quemoy Islands, please pay attention.

"Today, Nov. 2, is an even date. We have not fired a single shell and you have got supplies.

"Tomorrow, Nov. 3, is an odd date; you must not come out in any circumstances."

Then today's broadcast added: "Today is an odd date. Up to 4 p.m., the People's Liberation army units on the Fukien front fired a dozen thousand and more rounds on the Quemoy Islands, vigorously bombarding military targets in these places."

State Airman Held in Killing

Holland Youth to Claim Self-Defense in Slaying of Charleston Man

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — An 18-year-old airman from Michigan is being held for investigation in the bludgeon slaying at Charleston of a chemical company executive.

Police identified the prisoner, held without charge, as an airman, John Joseph Mahon, a native of Holland, Mich., who is stationed at the Charleston Air Force Base.

The body was nude, lying on a living room couch. A brass candlestick lay on his folded arms, and police said it was the death weapon. An autopsy showed he was struck nine times and suffered three skull fractures.

Mahon, who enlisted in the Air Force in January and was transferred here in May, made no direct statements. His lawyer said "The youth's actions were completely justifiable and in self defense. A complete statement will be given at the proper time."

Dobbins had attended a Halloween party, leaving it early Saturday. A cleaning woman found the body.

Shoot 'Em Ups Not Overdone?

Still Room for More, Says Actor-Executive of Zane Grey Theater

HOLLYWOOD—For a fellow who made only one Western movie—"Stations West" — during his entire screen career (and that covers some 25 years), Dick Powell really knows his oats—and his cowboys.

Today, as president of Four Star Films, Inc., Powell is busy on the TV production range, riding herd on four Western series.

With his partners, Charles Boyer and David Niven, he has the popular CBS television network's "Dick Powell's Zane Grey Theater" in his stable, along with the year-old "Trackdown" and two new shows—"Wanted—Dead or Alive," with Steve McQueen, and "The Rifleman," with Chuck Conners.

Powell doesn't think the market is flooded for good Westerns.

"Success depends on the series, how it's handled, and who is in it," he says. "On television we haven't come close to the percentage of Western stories done by the movies.

"Actually, the Western has been the backbone of the movie industry since 1903, when they made 'The Great Train Robbery.' I see no reason why it shouldn't be the backbone of the television industry.

"It's the best possible escape material — and it's Americana right down to its boots.

"Casting is the important thing," he says, "and that's just a guessing game. You never know who is going to be just right for a lead. "Robert Culp, our 'Trackdown' star, trained on Broadway as a 'method actor,' doing all kinds of roles, including some in Shakespeare, but he's great as Texas Ranger Hoby Gilman.

DICK POWELL

"And Steve McQueen is also from Broadway—in fact, he took over for Ben Gazzara in the play 'A Hatful of Rain'—and the part of the dope addict in that couldn't be farther from the part he plays in 'Wanted—Dead or Alive'—but I think Steve will hit it as a Western star just as big as Bob Culp."

Although Powell is billed as an executive, he still doesn't have a strictly office-type job. He must star in three "Zane Grey Theater" episodes a year, as well as do the weekly host spots for the series.

Being president of Four Star Films, Inc., and the host, and sometimes star of his own TV series, doesn't occupy all of the indefatigable Powell's time. In addition, he has a contract with 20th Century-Fox Studios to produce and direct seven pictures in 10 years.

As far as future plans go, the one-time crooner would like to eliminate acting from his schedule completely. As he says, "I get tired of holding my stomach in for the camera."

Big Solar Furnace Nears Nuclear Heat

NATICK, Mass. (UPI) — The nation's biggest solar furnace, now operating here, is capable of intensifying ordinary sunshine into temperatures approximating those generated by a nuclear blast.

Site of the furnace is the Headquarters Quartermaster Research & Engineering Command Center. It is used for laboratory testing of materials designed to protect soldiers against the thermal effects of nuclear and other weapons.

The furnace is expected to produce temperatures near 5,000 degrees Fahrenheit by sharply concentrating the heat derived from the sun.

Gun-Firing Police Chase Car Down Sidewalks

NEW ORLEANS (AP) —Three men led gun-firing policemen on a high-speed automobile chase through courtyards and down sidewalks of a housing project yesterday.

Officers said a car driven by Dave White, 36, of Detroit, Mich., whipped through the St. Bernard housing project at speeds as high as 75 miles an hour.

White was booked for six traffic violations.

His companions, identified as Nathaniel Jackson, 18, of Detroit, and Luther Bonnafon, New Orleans, were booked on vagrancy charges.

Singer to Wed Eddie Fisher's TV Conductor

The marriage will be her first and Bregman's second. Bregman, conductor for the Eddie Fisher television show, was divorced last year from Gloria Haley, daughter of comedian Jack Haley. They have a 6-year-old son.

Miss Alberghetti, a Roman Catholic, said she had received church approval for the marriage.

Bregman, who is Jewish, said he does not intend to embrace Catholicism but has promised to rear any children of the planned union in that faith.

No date has been set for the wedding.

2 Little Brothers Die in Refrigerator

DETROIT (AP) — Two young half-brothers were trapped and suffocated Saturday in a refrigerator in the basement of their grandparents' home. The victims were Jackie Curtis, 7, and 3-year-old Kennith Curtis.

The mother, Mrs. Eileen Curtis, 25, was at work at the time. Police found the bodies after the boys had been reported missing.

BOY AND HIS DOG — Muscular dystrophy victim, John Albignano Jr., 7, of Franklin Square, Long Island, N. Y., hugs his new pet, a German shepherd. Granddaughter of the late Rin Tin Tin, the dog was given the boy by comedian Jerry Lewis, who heard of the disappearance of John's first dog.

Offers for 'Dotty' Roles Weary Alec Guinness

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — What a surprise I had — shaking hands with a short, soft-voiced, balding man in bedroom slippers, Alec Guinness—who agreed with Frank Sinatra that movie-makers "make pictures not when they're topical but when they're typical."

WILSON

"Right now everybody wants me to play another dotty" — (that means "unbalanced") — "leftenant colonel," sighed the British Oscar winner who did that so brilliantly in "River Kwai."

"The moneybags always say 'Let's follow the formula and make another picture exactly like the last one' — and they lose their shirts. Now we're in the middle of the horror cycle and I hope they all do lose their shirts!"

Here, seeing plays and helping promote "The Horse's Mouth," for which he wrote the scenario, he'd like to do a Broadway play himself.

"I'm sure the producers here will come up with wonderful scripts," he said. "What they'll come up with is another story about a dotty leftenant colonel!"

During Ike's visit, Security agents were stationed even in the Astor men's room — and one, who couldn't tip his mitt, was forced to accept $18 in tips! . . . At the plush new Playbill theater hangout, everybody was tittering about one columnist who's caricatured right alongside a garbage can.

One of Our Town's shapeliest newcomers, Sue White, from Phoenix, helped decorate the Newspaper Reporters Ass'n Ball Saturday along with stars Buddy Hackett, Dorothy Donegan, etc. . . .

Harry Hershfield relates that a clergyman didn't tip a waiter who told him, "It's the custom to give waiters something." The clergyman, appreciative, said, "Then I'd like to give you something. Do you drink?" The waiter said he did. "Then kneel," said the clergyman, "and I'll give you the pledge."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN

Carol Haney's estranged husband Larry Blyden flew back from Europe to see her work in "Flower Drum Song," and it looks like Togethersville . . . Julie London's friends say the reason she isn't marrying Bobby Troup just yet is very simple: $18,000-a-year alimony from Jack Webb . . .

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bill Hayes doesn't have to sing for a living; he can always get rich handling the towel concession for Brigitte Bardot's movies . . . That's earl, brother.

9-Foot Alligator Directs Traffic in Everglades

EVERGLADES NATIONAL PARK, Fla. (UPI)—Gus is a nine-foot alligator who apparently thinks he's a traffic cop.

Almost daily, Gus waddles out of Taylor slough and takes a station in the middle of the road near the Royal Palm station in the Everglades National Park.

When Gus raises his head, traffic comes to a quick stop. But he hasn't learned yet how to wave the vehicles on.

"He means well and he's a real friendly fellow," said Chief Ranger Ruben Hart. "Only trouble is that a lot of people who see him don't know that."

Hart said the 'gator may have learned his antics from a pond mate, Old George, an even bigger reptile who bellows when the naturalists give nature talks at the edge of the pond.

Old George, said Hart, frequently comes out of the water to join the audience. The sociable saurian once frightened the dignity out of a group of touring Washington officials.

Notes 98.7 Pct. Register for Election Tuesday

At least 98.7 per cent or 788 of the 798 eligible members of the Pontiac Education Assn. have registered for the general election Tuesday, according to Dr. Phillip Proud, assistant superintendent.

He added that only 10 members had not registered in cooperation with the association's voter registration project.

Suez Canal Orders Tugs

PORT SAID, Egypt—Suez Canal authorities have placed an order with a shipyard in Rotterdam, The Netherlands, for two tugs that will be the world's most powerful. The 150-foot tugs, to be used for towing vessels in the canal, will have a capacity of about 6,400 horsepower each.

Says Witnesses Hide From Kasper Trial

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Some of the people subpoenaed as witnesses for John Kasper in his trial on charges of inciting to riot are hiding out, a deputy criminal court clerk says.

Kasper goes on trial today before Criminal Court Judge Homer Weimar. The charges grew out of demonstrations against desegregation of public schools here last fall.

Deputy Court Clerk John W. Allardice said that officers had contacted most of the 225 witnesses subpoenaed by Kasper, but he added, "Some of these people are in hiding, I think. In fact, I know of one man who I'm sure is hiding."

Kasper, the self-styled race agitator, has served a term in federal prison for contempt of Knoxville federal court for his part in demonstrations accompanying school desegregation in Clinton two years ago.

If convicted, the New Jersey native faces a maximum sentence of 11 months, 29 days and a fine of $1,000.

Dulles Not Slowed by Cancer Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Foster Dulles, the nation's first jet-propelled secretary of state, observes today the second anniversary of his cancer operation. He apparently has no major aches or pains to discourage him from new travels.

Within the next few days, he is expected to undergo his semiannual physical checkup. His work-and-travel schedule, including his recent round trip by jet plane to Rome and Formosa, gives no indication of any physical weakening.

Today, at 70, Dulles has seemingly bounced back as vigorous as ever, astonishing friends and critics alike.

Further, he gives every sign of enthusiastically staying on the job during the remaining two years of the Eisenhower administration—barring any sudden collapse of his health.

One of his aides says that Dulles, undismayed by criticism, if anything, is working away full blast at a pace even more furious than his preoperation schedule.

He still maintains a seven-day-a-week schedule, checking in to his fifth-floor office at 8:30 a. m. He usually leaves after 7 p. m., with only a 30-minute break for lunch, usually an apple and a cup of tea.

On Saturdays and Sundays he works at home, keeping one of his secretaries busy with her notebook and electric typewriter in an upstairs room.

A clue to his future plans, said an aide, is that Dulles is confidently planning two more far-reaching diplomatic trips overseas.

This will add thousands of miles to the record-breaking 531,142 total he's recorded since taking office nearly six years ago.

Expecting Large California Vote

Strife-Torn Campaign Fires Up Interest in Tomorrow's Election

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A strife-torn campaign has fired up prospects for an extra-heavy vote Tuesday to decide whether California will go Democratic or stick with its Republicans.

Republican Sen. William F. Knowland declared his strenuous last week of campaigning, topped by a 20-hour telethon, has set off "a gigantic tidal wave of victory."

Rosenthal predicted Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown would defeat Knowland by a million votes in the gubernatorial race; Rep. Clair Engle would topple Gov. Goodwin J. Knight for U.S. senator by 600,000; and the Democrats would gain three congressmen for sure, maybe four.

The Brown-Knowland battle, the Knight-Knowland squabbling and organized labor's all-out war against a "right-to-work" initiative prompted revised estimates of a state vote of close to 80 per cent.

That would mean a record nonpresidential election turnout of about 5,300,000 of the 6,742,421 voters. Democrats outnumber Republicans by 1,199,000, their highest margin yet in California.

Knowland and other Republicans staked their hopes on the tendency of Californians to ignore party lines in general elections. The senator anchored his own chances to his pounding on labor abuses and his support of Proposition 18, the "right-to-work" initiative which would outlaw the union shop.

Democrats are confident their persistent "Vote Democratic" appeal will pay off this time. In the primary, the Democratic ticket of mostly political unknowns bested GOP incumbents in the two-party popular vote.

Knowland, with no party opponent, staged a minimum campaign in the primary. Since then, he has put on a tremendous personal drive that even had him out ringing doorbells.

He said today he sees a rising momentum in his favor as shown by "a deluge of new contributions, phone calls from new supporters, encouraging messages and victory-pitch enthusiasm of my campaigners."

Brown said he is confident Californians will make "a decision for decency and moderation and progressiveness in public affairs."

Daniel T. MURPHY, Jr.

COUNTY OFFICIAL SAVES TAXPAYERS MONEY

When the voter goes to the polls he will find the title of County Clerk-Register of Deeds as one listing. This merger was made by the Board of Supervisors because our incumbent Register of Deeds, Mr. Murphy, developed a program of microfilming records which allows a substantial savings annually in operating costs. It is planned that this method of recording documents and corresponding savings can be extended to the vital statistics and court records of the clerk's office as well. It is also logical and economical that the program would best be administered by the existing personnel under Mr. Murphy. Mr. Murphy's previous experience includes five years of public service as a deputy county clerk. With these excellent qualifications and experience we highly recommend to the voters of Oakland County Mr. Daniel T. Murphy, Jr. for County Clerk-Register of Deeds.
